Invitation to U.S. May Go to Nikita Is Latest Rumor

From Our News Wires

GENEVA — Western sources reported today that Soviet Premier Nikita Krushchev may receive an invitation in the next few days to visit the United States.

Khrushchev was said to have already indicated he would accept any such invitation.

It was learned that the Western Allies here already have been informed of the possibility that President Eisenhower might invite Khrushchev to pay an early visit, possibly this fall.

In Washington, nine governors just back from Russia told Eisenhower today they believed an exchange of visits by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and the President would help relax Cold War tensions.

Florida's Gov. Leroy Collins, acting as spokesman for the group said the President did not commit himself on the idea.

Collins said the governors told Eisenhower that there was "a strong feeling of friendliness toward the President as a person" in the Soviet Union and that Eisenhower would find, if he went there, "tremendous warmth of welcome."

IN MID-SEPTEMBER

The visit may prove to be a preliminary to a full summit conference later this year with British and French participation. It could be linked with a trip of the Soviet leader to the United Nations General Assembly opening in New York in Mid-September.

Though reported uneasy about the prospect of bilateral Soviet-American "contrasts," the United States' — Allies—notably Britain and France — were understood to be amenable to the move.

They were not expected to raise any objections as long as it was understood that such a visit would not be designed for any formal negotiations between the United States and Russia.

It was believed that Khrushchev visit to the United States would broadly follow the pattern of Nixon's current tour of Russia.

It would therefore be primarily a "look-see' operation with no formal negotiations on any of the major Cold War issues.

In current dealings West Germany today urged the United States to stand firm against any pressure to make concessions to the Russians in the final days of the Big Four foreign ministers conference, reliable informants said.

The plea was made directly to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter by Heinrich von Brentano, West German foreign minister, at an hours conference, these sources added.

West Germany fears a diplomatic trap may be sprung by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko before the conference ends or recesses Wednesday.

FEAR CONCESSION

The Germans believe Gromyko may offer a concession in Soviet demands that the Western garrisons get out of Berlin, then use this to pry concessions from the West

Nixon to Reply to Red Hecklers

Will Speak to Soviets on TV Saturday Night, Report to U.S. Later

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Vice President M. Nixon returned today from a flying Siberian-Ural trip and promised to answer Soviet hecklers in a televised speech to the Soviet people Saturday night.

Nixon also is expected to give a nationwide television report to the American people after he stops off in Poland for a three-day visit.

He called off all appointments at the American Embassy tonight as well as most of tomorrow. At Moscow airport, Nixon in effect urged the Russians to hear and see his address.

SVERDLOVSK, Soviet Union (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is not going to stop off in Geneva to pick up Secretary of State Christian A. Herter on his way back to the United States.

When asked about speculation that Nixon would do so, press spokesman Herbert G. Klein replied with an emphatic "No."

Talking into a microphone, he said:

"When I speak tomorrow night at 8 o'clock I will discuss and answer some of the questions I got during the trip. I will also give my impressions of the Soviet economy, the managers, workers and people."

Nixon called his fast - moving, five-day trip outside Moscow "very interesting." The Russian people, he said, are very friendly to Americans even as the people of the United States are toward the people of the U.S.S.R.

"I found a common interest in finding ways to peace," he said. "I heard on every side the word 'mir druzhba'—peace and friendship."

★ ★ ★

Nixon, accompanied by his wife and his 30-member official party, flew into the Soviet capital aboard a Russian TU104 jet. It whisked him in two hours from the Ural industrial city of Sverdlovsk, 850 miles away.

SEEMS TIRED

During the flight, he dictated part of his address to a secretary. He arranged to spend six hours drafting it further tonight.

Inferno Rages Over Ferndale Block

FACTORY DESTROYED — A quarter-million dollar fire at Ferndale early today destroyed a factory after an explosion in an oil line leading to a casting machine. The General Die Casting Co. was a total loss despite efforts of firemen. Sixty-five workmen were idled by the blaze. Tottering front and real walls of the plant had to be torn down by firemen once the flames were extinguished. The company supplies equipment for the automobile industry. Read story on Page 12.

Find Youth Alive in Grand Canyon

In Good Condition After 6-Day Ordeal; Two Companions Perished

GRAND CANYON, Ariz (AP)—Sheriff Cecil Richardson said John Manson Owens III, 16, of Savannah, Ga., was found alive today in the Grand Canyon. He had been missing six days and presumed dead.

The boy's condition was listed as good.

Owens hiked into the canyon last Friday with two companions. A search for the three was started Saturday after tourists on the south rim reported hearing calls for help from deep in the gorge.

The bodies of his companions —the Rev. Eugene A. Gavigan, 30, and Walter J. Mahany Jr., 16, both of Savannah—were recovered during the first three days of the search.

Richardson said the youth was found in Hans Canyno, about 10 miles upstream from the area in which the bodies of his friends were found.

He was flown to Grand Canyon, a resort community on the Canyon's osuth rim, in an Air Force helicopter.

Only a few hours earlier, a National Park Service spokesman said hope of finding him alive had been abandoned.

"We're now looking for a body," said A. Lynn Coffin, chief of the park rangers.

The rangers had combed the area in the eastern part of the canyon in temperatures ranging as high as 125 degrees looking for the youth.

The trio went into the canyon a week ago after telling tourists at the Desert View viewpoint at the eastern end of the canyno they intended to visit an abandoned silver mine.

House Committee Cash Cut Jolt to State Highway Plans

State Highway Comissioner John C. Mackie today charged Congress with dealing a crippling blow to Michigan's 1¼ billion dollar, five-year highway program.

Among the projects affected is a 44-mile expressway link through Oakland County.

He accused Congress of welching on a deal in its proposed cutback in federal funds which, if it goes through, would seriously affect Mackie's road building program.

The Oakland County expressway, 44 miles of relocated U.S. 10 from the south to a connection with the Fenton-Clio Expressway, is a major segment in the 1,000-mile program.

"The department was stunned and dejected by the federal highway bill reported out of the House Ways and Means Committee," said Mackie.

At Washington Today, Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Mich), only Michigan member of the House Public Works Committee, wired Mackie that he was "as disappointed as you are" in the Ways and Means Committee's recommendation.

Broomfield said his committee would review the Ways and Means recomendation before the appropriation bill went to the House floor and "perhaps we can do something about it."

The bill reduces highway aid to Michigan 141 million dollars in 1960, 1961 and 1962. The sum originally called for, according to Mackie, was $278,600,000. The cut would reduce the total to $136,800,000.

"The cut amounts to a break of faith by Congress," said Mackie. "We have been desperately gearing our engineering, right of faith by Congress," said toward a record 1960 construction year.

"We are in our third year of the program now and on schedule. Michigan would be far out in front in highways. It seems incredible that the long hours of urgent labor may have been spent in vain."

The basis of Mackie's "break in faith" charge is the allocation of Congress with various state highway departments when the 1956 Federal Highway Bill was passed and the federal gas

Suspect Getting Truth Serum

Agrees to Take Test as Police Still Probe Murder of Doctor

The man who said he found Dr. W. Carleton Warrick in his office moments shortly after the 71-year-old physician was shot twice by a gunman was to take a truth serum test sometime today.

The man, Lloyd J. Tunnell, 53, of 1755 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, is in custody for investigation of murder.

Tunnell was arrested Monday night. Lie detector tests Tuesday and Wednesday at the Redford State Police Post proved inconclusive.

Tunnell, a patient of Dr. Warrick, admitted after the first test that he lied when he told police he did not leave the physician's office from the time he found the doctor until police arrived.

He at first balked at taking the truth serum test, but finally agreed to submit late yesterday. Arrangements have not yet been completed.

Tunnell told police he found the doctor staggering about his office when he went in Friday night for treatment of a back ailment.

"I'll do anything to clear myself," Tunnell was quoted as saying by police.

Dr. Warrick died Saturday evening at Pontiac General Hospital.

Meanwhile, Internal Revenue agents visited Dr. Warrick's office yesterday and photostated the psysician's records.

Police said the revenue agents indicated something was "unusual," but did not elaborate.

Hunger Striker Sees Light, Feasts on Eggs

Hills, 23, ate his first food in nine days in breaking a fast with which he tried to dramatize his resistance to a child support court order.

Besides the eggs and beans, Hills had bread and coffee, in giving in to the arguments of turnkey Theodore Kentros. The turnkey has played a role of counselor to the young father at the Washtenaw County Jail.

News Flash

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of a Colorado oil company said today the firm put up $50,000 to buy 100,000 shares of stock for Frank Leahy last year which the ex-Notre Dame football coach later resold for $150,000.

John O. Maberry of Denver, president of Hamilton Oil & Gas Corp., told a Securities and Exchange Commission hearing examiner the company arranged the stock sale to finance Leahy's move to Denver to assume a directorship in the company.

Local Officials Upset; Costs May Go Way Up

By PETE LOCHBILER

LANSING — Pontiac is going to have to expand its sewage treatment plant, probably at a higher cost than anyone anticipated.

★ ★ ★

After hearing testimony that Clinton River pollution is a health menace and a public nuisance because of the inadequacies of Pontiac's 40-year-old treatment plant, the Water Resources Commission yesterday called for an order to force Pontiac to expand its facilities.

★ ★ ★

But the State Health Department demanded a new set of construction plans, probably calling for a more ambitious treatment program than Pontiac officials had proposed in the past.

"We are going to have to rescind our approval of the city's existing plans," said Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner.

Following yesterday's hearing, a State Health Department engineer told the Water Resources Commission that the Pontiac problem is probably twice as bad as originally reported last year.

The news came as a jolt to city officials, who up to today expressed confidence that the state would continue to approve the city's plans for $3,300,000 improvements to abate pollution.

How much more money the city may have to spend as a result of the State Health Department's decision was a matter of conjecture.

But the city may have to begin again, almost from scratch, with an engineering survey of its sewage treatment setup, Dr. Heustis said.

The Water Resources Commission staff is expected to have the order ready within a few days. Under terms of the order, the city will be given until Dec. 31, 1961 to have more facilities in operation, or face court action.

According to a time-table set by the Water Resourses Commission, Pontiac will have until Dec. 1 to win approval of expansion plans by the State Health Department and July 1, 1960 to award construction contracts.

The Water Resources Commission is empowered to seek a Circuit Court writ if either of the two interim deadlines are not met.

Armed with a Circuit Court order, city officials could issue general obligation bonds to finance the expansion without first going to voters for approval.

Pontiac voters turned down bond issues three times in the past three years.

The Water Resources Commission aired the charges against Pontiac during an hour-long hearing in which City Manager Walter K. Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart appeared in behalf of the city.

Two sanitary engineers for the Water Resources Co.nmission, Edwin S. Shannon and Robert J. Couchaine, gave testimony based on a study of the river which they said was made last summer.

Shannon said the pollution extends almost to Rochester. He said

BULLETIN

A young convict sentenced in Oakland County Circuit Court to life imprisonment for murder escaped today from the Michigan State Prison at Marquette.

Prison officials said Mike Gisondi, 29, smuggled himself outside the prison walls by hiding under a load of garbage being taken from the prison and forced the trusty truck driver to stop.

Gisondi and Harold Hummell were convicted of shooting Joseph and Vitoes Binokurow in a Hazel Park tavern.

Weatherman Promises Relief From the Heat

The weatherman has promised hot and wilted Pontiac residents some respite from muggy high temperatures.

Fair, a little cooler, and less humid is the forecast for tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will be near 65. Tomorrow the mercury is expected to reach 85 degrees.

Pleasant temperatures are forecast for the northwest half of the state tomorrow with a warming trend beginning Sunday and spreading over the entire area Monday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 66. At 1 p.m. the thermometer reading was 84.

Huge Bronze Figure of Christ Resting on Indian River Cross

INDIAN RIVER—Marshall Fredericks, nationally acclaimed sculptor who lives in Birmingham, watched intently today as his gigantic figure of Christ was raised and secured to its waiting cross at this little Northern Michigan resort town.

He directed the raising of the 30-foot figure, believed to be the largest statue of Christ in the world, as hundreds of spectators looked on tensely for a slip that could send four years of work crashing to earth.

After four hours the statue was bolted into place. And now a giant crucifix of bronze and wood, weighing 18 tons and rising 60 feet into the sky, is standing on a hill overlooking a Roman Catholic shrine.

The four-ton figure of Christ was lifted from the ground by a huge crane, carried gently upward to the face of the 56-foot redwood cross and bolted securely into place.

Anxious workmen stood quietly as the steel cables at the end of the crane's 100-foot boom grew taut. Motors, laboring to the limit of their four-ton capacity, whined. Slowly the reclining figure began to rise on its steel frame.

At 30 feet, workmen detached the supporting frame and the gigantic figure, held up now by hooks attached to rubber-coated cables wrapped around the chest, moved into an erect position and began the ascension to the cross on the hill.

Commissioned by the Grand Rapids Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church, the figure is entirely of bronze three-eighths to one-half inches thick and bolted together in sections. Fredericks says it is the largest of its kind in the world.

"I wanted to eliminate the suffering and agony for the observer, and give the face an expression of great peace and strength," the sculptor said.

The towering figure also lacks the spear wounds inflicted in Christ's side after his death on the cross. Fredericks explained that he has tried to portray Christ as he looked just before death "when he had reached the highest pinnacle of his existence on earth."

"A figure of Christ is always hard for the artist," Fred-

Business Taxes Take Spotlight

Senate Action Stalled Until Monday; Williams Standing By

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP) — Bipartisan dickering over business taxes took the legislative spotlight today with final Senate action stalled until Monday on the latest Republican use tax increase package.

Gov. Williams stood by, willing if necessary to cancel plans to attend the 51st Governors Conference in Puerto Rico where he will head a 13-state tax and revenue panel.

The new round of bargaining started spontaneously late yesterday. Williams, Sen. Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo, top GOP tax strategist, and other participants kept lips tightly buttoned after a 90-minute huddle.

Although none confirmed it, discussions obviously centered on business activities tax revisions, now the negotiating area crucial to a final tax settlement after seven months' political warfare.

Democrats wanted a two per cent surtax on corporation profits, as approved last week by the House, worth 44 million dollars.

Morris wanted a bare minimum increase in the BAT base rate of 6½ mills, with other changes limiting any boost in net yield to nine million dollars or less.

The makings of true compromise were there.

Without some yielding on his part, Morris faced defections among GOP followers that could dissolve the Republican Senate's long-held position of strength.

House Democratic leaders, in an uneasy coalition dependent on House Republicans, likewise knew Senate drive probably rested on a middleground solution.

Meantime, most lawmakers cocked an eye on the Capitol doings from home where they were playing a kind of authorized hookey.

House members scattered yesterday when a procedural snag foiled the aim of majority GOP senators to ram through their four per cent use tax package, reckoned by its framers as worth 116 millions in fiscal 1959-60.

Stripped from it were proposals to jump the tax on drug prescriptions from 1½ to four per cent and to take away an exemption on the first $50 of sales allowed retailers for their monthly reporting chore.

★ ★ ★

The two features, together worth two million dollars a year, were abandoned by Republicans yesterday in the face of fast rising opposition.

Doctors Rush Serum to Poisoned Family

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Doctors gathered more than one million units of serum today for five members of an east Idaho farm family fighting botulism food poisoning. A sixth member has died.

Three survivers are in iron lungs. They are Kenneth Nelson, 45, his wife, Naomi, 41, and their daughter, Wanda, 15. Another daughter, Martha, 4, and Nelson's mother, Mrs. Aaron Gruwell, are in less serious condition.

Mrs. Gruwell's husband, a 74-year-old farmer, died early Thursday. A doctor said death apparently resulted from botulism poisoning — a toxin found in some preserved foods. The family ate some home-canned beets Tuesday.

REV. CARL W. NELSON

Heart Ailment Takes Pastor

Rev. Carl Nelson Dies; Served at St. John's Lutheran Church

The Rev. Carl W. Nelson, 47, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church for nearly 13 years, died yesterday afternoon at Pontiac General Hospital. He had been ill with a heart ailment for several weeks.

He was a past president of the Pontiac Pastors' Assn. and a member of Pontiac Advisory Council.

During his pastorate here, he worked with the relocation committee and congregation of his church in purchasing 33 acres of land on Pontiac road east of Opdyke road for a new church. Plans are presently being drawn for its construction.

He was born in Creston, Iowa.

After graduating from Augustana College in Rock Island, Ill. with a B.A. degree in 1939, he received his B.D. degree from theological seminary in 1943 with highest honors.

The Rev. Mr. Nelson was ordained into the ministry of the Augustana synod of the Lutheran Church in Calvary Lutheran Church in Minneapolis.

He began his ministry as pastor of Nazareth Lutheran Church in Wilcox, Pa., where he served until coming to Pontiac in January 1947.

The Rev. Nelson has also served as president of the Wilcox district of Lutheran churches, was a member of the executive board of the Home for the Aged at Jamestown, N. Y., district chairman of Lutheran World action for the Wilcox district, and was pastoral advisor of the Wilcox District Luther League.

Surviving are his wife, Daisy; his mother, Mrs. Carl A. Nelson of Creston; a daughter, Helen at home; a brother, the Rev. Y. E. Nelson of Kansas City, and two sisters, Miss Eleanor Nelson of Creston and Mrs. Nick Karrall of Denver, Colo.

His body will be at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home until noon Monday when it will be taken to the St. John Lutheran Church for service at 2 p.m.

Dr. O. V. Anderson, conference president of Augustana Evangelical Lutheran Church of Chicago, and the Rev. Ruben E. Norling, Detroit District president, will officiate.

State Forcing City to Care for Sewage

the bottom of the Clinton is lined with sludge which slips through the existing treatment plant either partially disinfected, or wholly in some cases.

Because the untreated sewage consumes natural oxygen in the stream, fish and plant life are virtually non-existent in the river as far as eight miles distant from the plant. Shannon testified.

Couchaine said he tested the river below the plant on Aug. 20, 1958 and discovered that 3,800 of oxygen-consuming materials were discharged into the river during the 24-hour period.

He said the polluting materials continued to eat up more and more oxygen in the stream as it flowed away from Pontiac until at a point 4.5 miles east of the plant, the amount of oxygen in the river was only 10 per cent.

"During a drought when the water level is down, the amount of oxygen there would probably be zero," Couchaine said.

★ ★ ★

He said that above the plant, the oxygen content was 70 per cent. Below the plant, this level was not reached again until the river reached Rochester, he said.

Couchaine said that the oxygen level has to be 45 per cent to support plant and fish life.

He testified that the Pontiac plant would have to trim the amount of oxygen consuming materials dumped into the stream to 1,300 pounds a day in order to reach the 45 per cent level.

Maurice Richmond, State Health Department engineer for the Clinton River basin, told the Commission after the hearing that the Aug. 20, 1958 tests were misleading.

Richmond said that Pontiac nowadays is putting an average 8,000 pounds of oxygen consuming materials into the river, more than twice the amount reported to the Water Resources Commission before the hearing.

Richmond emphasized during the hearing that the existing plant, although antiquated, was being operated as efficiently as possible.

After the facts had been presented, the city put up virtually no defense.

'We admit nothing and deny nothing," said Willman.

He pointed out that some pollution in the Clinton comes from Waterford Township and Bloomfield Township storm drains feeding into the waters on Pontiac's west side.

Lynn F. Baldwin, chairman of the Commission, said this part of the pollution problem would be handled separately.

The case against Pontiac was prepared by Loring F. Oeming, chief engineer for the Commission pollution abatement division, and presented by Jerome Maslowski of the Attorney General's staff.

Maslowski summed up the city's problem:

"Pontiac simply does not have a big enough sewage treatment plant to take care of all its sewage. What the city needs is a bigger plant."

The United States purchased Florida from Spain in 1819 for five million dollars.

It Isn't Principle but Interest

EAST LANSING (AP) — It isn't the principle of the thing—it's the interest.

That was the complaint of Michigan State University officials today as they had to borrow to meet the July faculty payroll due Friday.

Philip J. May, MSU comptroller, went to the Michigan National Bank for a $1,500,000 loan to make up money lacking for the $2,600,000 monthly payroll. Failure of the state to meet a $2,322,480 support installment due this month forced the borrowing.

The 90 day note, secured by anticipated fall term student fees, will cost MSU $11,250 in interest.

"The interest payment eats up the salary we could be paying to fill a full professor position on the faculty," May said.

MSU had to borrow $1,400,000 to meet a payroll the first of the year. Interest on the December loan ran to $21,000 before the university was in condition to make a repayment in June.

"We haven't seen anybody offering to pick up the interest payment," May said. "It doesn't seem fair to penalize the university financially because the board of trustees has the authority to borrow where the state does not."

"We feel as I know you do that this is the most hopeful use of the atom. We all look to the time where we will be devoting our efforts to this opening of great new vistas rather than the production of atomic weapons."

At the same time, Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who helped create the first American nuclear-powered submarine, invited the director of the Soviet atomic power plant here and his staff to visit America and "see our atomic inspirations."

"A quick visit" would be "helpful and show there is no inherent or real suspicion," Rickover said.

Project Director Nikolai Kugushev said he was grateful for the invitation and that he would make the trip if his work permitted.

Mackie Sees Xway Hit by Cash Cut tax increased from 1½ cents to three cents.

Mackie reported he has already scheduled the spending of 84 million dollars in federal money on roads in 1960. The Oakland County project is slated to be under contract by 1962.

If the pared down financing plan is approved, Michigan would be allowed only $58,600,000 for 1960 instead of the $96,700,000 as promised.

"The action amounts to penalizing states that have moved with speed to build their roads," said Mackie.

Mackie had secured the "consent from all Oakland County municipalities to expressway alignments through their cities, with the exception of Southfield.

Southfield's City Council has taken under study the proposed leg through its boundaries of the 11½ Mile road project.

Oakland County homeowners whose properties are slated for condemnation are particularly fearful of this latest development.

Mackie reported to these people previously that they would not be paid for at least two years.

One such homeowner declared this meant she and others were "rooted to their condemned property for two years with no alternative.

"No one will buy knowing its condemned," the spokesman said, "and we can't move to another place until we get the money for this one."

The homeowners fear the cutback, if enacted, would also mean an "indefinite delay" in condemnation procedings resulting in "captive home ownership of condemned property."

Other projects that would be slowed or indefinitely delayed by the cutback, acording to Mackie, are:

About 115 miles of Detroit-Muskegon Expressway in Livingston, Muskegon counties.

Some 47 miles of relocation of U.S. 25 extending the Ford Expressway through Macomb and St. Clair counties to Port Huton.

Statistics released this week by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission show Bloomfield Township standing 10th among area communities in number of dwelling permits issued in the first half of 1959.

The township's total through the month of June was 259 permits for new housing with a high point of 64 reached in March.

Birmingham issued 61 housing permits, more than half of them during April. In Bloomfield Hills, 15 permits were issued during the same period.

Knights of Columbus Chapter 3869 of Birmingham will install new officers at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Council Chambers, 275 Frank St., Birmingham.

According to Chancellor George W. Williams, 19 officers will be installed. State Treasurer John A. Fisher will be a guest at the ceremonies.

The Rev. Raymond A. Fenner has returned from vacation and will resume his ministry Sunday at the Congregational Church of Birmingham.

His topic will be "Wherever You Are, God Is."

Swimming Lake Michigan

De Gaulle, Dag Parley

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle and Dag Hammerskjold met today for a private conference. The U.N. secretary general declined as usual to indicate the subject of their meeting, but the Algerian war undoubtedly was discussed.

Traffic Killing More

CHICAGO (UPI) — The 1959 traffic death rate is running 5 per cent above last year, the National Safety Council said today. A total of 17,090 persons died on the nations highways during the first six months of this year, the council said. The 1958 six-month toll was 16,280.

At least one member has health insurance in about 73 per cent of all American families.

Owosso Man Killed

'Gift' Gets Him Time

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — A 42-year-old pharmacist was sentenced to 20 years in prison yesterday for mailing a bomb wrapped as a Christmas present to a former girl friend.

Bronze Figure of Christ On Indian River Cross

ericks said. "I wondered if I had the right to symbolize him in bronze. I felt I wasn't worthy."

Following the figure's arrival early in the week, crowds began collecting daily to watch final preparations by Fredericks and his three assistants.

"Some just stand and watch. Others take pictures and once in a while someone reaches out and touches a hand or foot. They seem to take comfort in the contact," Fredericks said.

The figure looks down from the top of a steep, grassy hill overlooking a shrine and rows of wooden pews. The cross is of solid California redwood, weighs 14 tons and is the largest wooden cross in the world, says the Rev. Charles F. Decker, the shrine pastor.

The figure is attached to the cross by 13 bronze bolts, 30 inches long and two inches thick. The difficult task of matching the bolt holes in the figure with the cross was the most exacting phase of today's raising.

Funds for the figure were contributed by more than 10,000 persons who visited the shrine since its founding in 1946 by the late Most Rev. Francis Haas, then bishop of the Grand Rapids Diocese. The cross was erected five years ago through a donation by an anonymous Indiana businessman.

The site of the cross is identified in signs only as "Catholic Shrine" but Father Decker says the diocese hopes to name it for Kateri Tekakwitha, famed "Lilly of the Mohawks," if she is canonized.

The shrine, visited by thousands of persons a year, is located near the corner of U.S.-27 and M-68, south of this Cheboygan County community.

Sculptor Fredericks, whose main studio is in Royal Oak, spent four years in creating his figure of Christ. He fashioned two scale models before making the huge figure. The casting was done in Norway.

Can Sue Bartenders Who Let Patrons Get Soused

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A judge warned bartenders and liquor salesmen today that irate wives, parents and victims of "drunkniks" could bring lawsuits against them.

A convention on prevention of alcoholism also brought these gloomy words for folks who imbibe the hard stuff:

—There is nothing safe a drinking motorist can take which will fool a police breath test.

There is one bright note. The number of women drinkers has dropped 8 per cent since the end of World War II.

"Increasingly women are deciding it's not worth the price to keep up with the hard-pouring Jonses," Dr. Andrew C. Ivy of the University of Illinois told the Fourth Annual Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism.

Judge Henry F. Todd of the Nashville, Tenn., General Sessions Court told the meeting that more law suits were going to be filed against bartenders and liquor salesmen when their customers who are soused or habitual drunks cause damage.

"Bartenders may have to learn the hard way that they have more responsibility than just pouring drinks and listening to the troubles of the drunknik chinning himself at the bar," Todd said. "The bartender may find himself telling his troubles to a judge who may not be such a good listener."

He said a woman could sue anyone she could prove responsible for her husband's alcoholism. Parents, he added, could collect damages from person's selling liquor to their minor children. Patrons injured by a drunk could seek liability payments from a bar, Todd said.

Owosso to Get New Post Office in 1960

OWOSSO (AP) — Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) said today that Postmaster General Summerfield has announced the government has taken final steps to acquire property for a proposed new post office.

The building will be located in downtown Owosso two blocks northwest of the present post office.

The new post office will be built by private enterprise and leased to the government on a long term lease. Construction is expected to start by spring of 1960 and be completed by fall of that year.

Owosso to Be Removed From Extra Labor List

OWOSSO (AP) — Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) said today he had been advised by labor secretary James Mitchell that Owoso will be removed from the substantial labor surplus area classification as of July 31.

Latest government figures show less than 6 per cent of Owosso's 17,000 man labor force now idle, Bentley said.

Automobile registrations went from 55,906,000 to 57,000,000 during 1958; truck registrations from 10,989,000 to 11,200,000 and buses from 268,000 to 270,000.

Dems Play His Speech on Housing

Senators Hear Taft Voice

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats played back the recorded voice of Sen. Robert A. Taft today to help them decide what to do about President Eisenhower's veto of their housing bill.

"Mr. Republican" died six years ago today.

A recording of one of the final speeches by the late GOP senator from Ohio was scheduled to climax the seventh and final day of hearings by the Senate housing subcommittee.

The recording, to be played in advance of wrap-up testimony by Federal Housing Commissioner Norman P. Mason, was made when Taft addressed the National Housing Conference in Washington on May 12, 1953. He died of cancer two months later.

Taft, then Senate Republican leader, told in his speech of his long-standing support for federally-subsidized public housing for low-income families who otherwise would be consigned to slums.

Playing of the recording was requested by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa) and agreed to by subcommittee chairman John Sparkman (D-Ala) after the speech was recalled by a housing conference spokesman who testified yesterday.

Queen Wants People to Get a Good Look

TRENTON, N. S. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II arrived in this foggy maritime provinces city today and insisted on riding in an open car so the local people could get a better look at her.

The Queen also had ordered her plane to take off from Charlottetown, P. E. I., Airport as soon as she got there so Nova Scotians would not be kept waiting for her here. Officials were going to delay the takeoff time an hour because of fog.

Bay City Native Is Arrested in Kidnaping

BAY CITY (AP) — I. W. Basner, 23, wanted in Abilene, Tex. on a charge of aggravated assualt and kidnaping, was arrested here today as he stepped off a bus.

Police said they met the bus on an anonymous tip Basner would be aboard.

Basner, a native of Bay City who had been living at an Abilene trailer court since April, is accused in Aexas of aggravated assault upon a Negro woman and the kidnaping of a man who said he was forced at gunpoint to drive Basner 40 miles.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Katherine Holman, wife of a Negro airman at Dyess Air Force Base, told Abilene Police she lost her way Tuesday while trying to find the entrance to the base. A new arrival in Abilene, she said she asked Basner's help and that, on the pretext of guiding her, he directed her to a country lane and assaulted her.

Air Reservists Indiana Bound

More Than 100 County Men Will Participate in Training Stint

More than 100 of Oakland County's Air Force reservists converged on Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, this morning to fly to summer camp at Bakalar Air Force Base, near Columbus, Ind.

Running the show is the unit's commander, Col. James H. McPartlin, 40, of 3930 W. Orchard Hill Rd., Birmingham.

More than 650 of the 700 members are making the flight to the site of their annual two-week active training period.

In announcing plans, Col. McPartlin said, "There'll be a big difference this year. The wing will be completely independent for the first time."

"This means it will be entirely self-supporting and take over full operation of the base at Bakalar, from kitchen to aircraft tower," he explained.

In previous encampments all support functions were handled by the base to which it was assigned.

Flying training plans call for 12 over water flights of at least 800 miles, 11 aerial supply missions including troop and equipment drops, and an undetermined number of cargo hauling missions.

The reservists began their exodus at 10 a.m. when the first of 16 of the wing's C119 Fairchild Flying Boxcars took off. Col. McPartlin piloted one of the huge planes.

The men are due back Aug. 15.

The reservists come from every part of Oakland County with Pontiac men numbering 28; Royal Oak, 17; Birmingham, 15; Rochester, 9; Hazel Park and Madison Heights, 7; Bloomfield Hills, 4, and Ferndale, 3.

Other communities represented by reservists are Clarkston, Clawson, Drayton Plains, Farmington, Berkley, Huntington Woods, Lake Orion, Milford, Oxford, Ortonville, Troy and Waterford Township.

Gives Farmers Tips on Raising Hogs

ST. PAUL (UPI) — "Sorting early, allowing plenty of time for loading, using wet sand bedding and loading one or two less hogs can mean an extra three dollars per head on summer marketed hogs" according to M. W. DeHoogh, regional manager of Livestock Conservation Inc.

Removing grain slats for better ventilation and providing a covered top for the truck will also ensure better prices for the animals, DeHoogh said, because the farmer will have less shrinkage and improve the appearance of his animals.

Take Note, Husbands

HONOLULU (AP) — Bob Krauss, columnist for the Honolulu Advertiser, conducting a kissing survey, came up with the report that the average wife in Hawaii gets kissed nine times a day by her husband.

Krauss wrote that one 55-year-old Honolulu housewife, married for 32 years, claims that her husband kisses her 150 times a day.

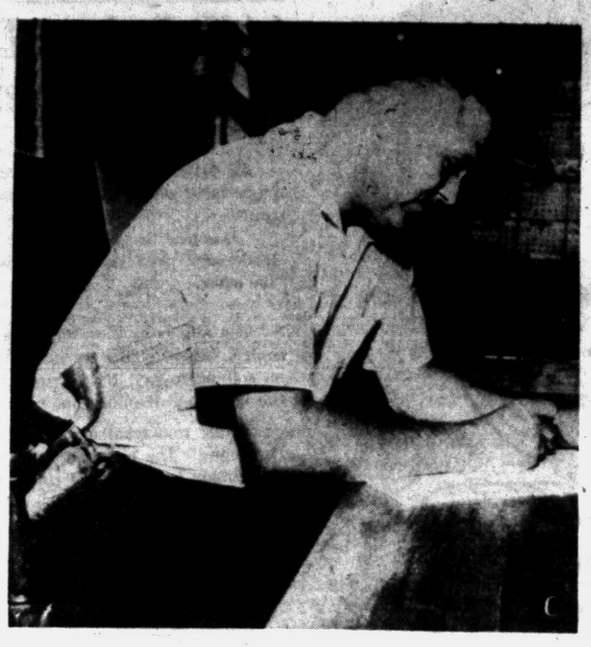

"This would probably be an all time record but, since she didn't sign her name, I didn't include her in the averages."

Car Takes Quick Dip

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Berquist couldn't understand why his wife and child, who had been watching him water ski from his auto on the beach, suddenly joined him in the water and were waving frantically. Then he noticed the car was underwater. The baby had loosened the hand brake. Both were rescued.

JUDGE HAS NO FRIENDS — Gunned down in a recent election, Traffic Judge Robert W. (Bob) Laster packs two western-style pistols as he holds court in Little Rock. A strong segregationist and former member of the Little Rock School Board, Judge Laster explains his action following his crushing defeat at the polls: "If a man doesn't have any more friends than I do, he is entitled to wear two pistols."

Outdoor Living Is New Craze

Camps Jam Canada

Alberta alone has 200 provincial camps, most of them built within the past two years. Ontario has developed nearly 100 major camping areas — some handling 3,000 tourists a night —since 1953.

The outdoor living craze has out-paced even these facilities. In some Ontario park areas, the overflow of weekend tents stretches for miles along the highway.

The fad has boosted inter-provincial travel by families touring from camp to camp. This will increase when the Trans-Canada Highway, with camping parks every 100 miles, is completed.

Canadians are taking their equipment to the United States, too. A Nova Scotia family recently drove to Texas and back, camping out each night along the way. They covered 6,000 miles.

The main attraction in camping is economy. For less than $300 a family of five can buy enough gear to vacation under the stars for years.

Department stores in major cities report sales of outdoor equipment have been jumping about 50 per cent a year for the past four years. A Montreal store manager says most of the buyers are young couples with two or three children.

To encourage camping, Canada's provinces are fixing up attractive forest sites with drinking water, fireplaces, toilets and bathhouses with hot water.

The federal government gave camping a boost 18 months ago by offering to pay half the cost of parks built on the Trans-Canada Highway. Already 145 camping grounds and picnic sites are

State chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer and national committeeman John B. Martin said the wins show the GOP program is beginning to take hold with the people and should encourage Republicans to work harder for victory in 1960.

"There is distinct voter dissatisfaction with the spenders and with inflationary programs advanced by the Democrats," the two party leaders said.

"People are turning to the financial responsibility and economic program of President Eisenhower which provides for real, not artificial, prosperity."

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. Howard Phelps and Mrs. Larry Laurence; and a son, Charles M. Young, all of Lake Orion; seven grandchildren; four great-grandchildren, and a brother, Almon Wilson of Rochester.

Appeals Verdict for Recklessness in Motorboat

A Garden City man, sentenced by West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle for reckless operation of a motor boat, has appealed the conviction to Oakland County Circuit Court.

Stanley Rynicki, 43, was found guilty of the charge Tuesday and fined $85 plus $15 court costs and was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail by Justice Dieterle.

He has been freed on bond of $200 pending his appeal.

Arraigned July 7, Rynicki stood mute to a charge that he had buzzed a swimming raft on Upper Straits Lake July 4, washing two persons into the water.

Rynicki was also involved in a boat collision later that night which resulted in serious injury to two men.

Hold Albion Woman for Probe of Murder

MARSHALL (UPI)—Mrs. Patricia Stallworth, 19, Albion, was held for investigation of murder today in the fatal stabbing of her husband, George, 26.

Stallworth died yesterday at Sheldon Memorial Hospital of wounds received early Sunday morning in an argument with his wife.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stallworth told Calhoun County officials she picked up a paring knife during the argument but didn't intend to stab her husband. She said she jabbed the knife at him when he came toward her but didn't realize he was injured until he showed her the wound.

It Is Our Area's Biggest Get Together

The annual Oakland County 4-H Club Fair is the one occasion of the year when the rural and city folks mingle in a big way.

It gives each a better understanding and keener appreciation of the other. It is an outstanding fostering of the good neighbor policy.

This year's fair opens August 11 on the permanent grounds out Perry Street, near the city limits. Very few such fairs have their own grounds.

It now is favored with a four-lane traffic approach which at the time of the 1958 fair was under construction and caused some inconvenience. It is located directly on one of our state's great highways.

This annual event, probably the largest of its kind in Michigan, is primarily an exposition of what is being done by the young farmers of our area. They've been planting, hoeing, weeding, grooming, perspiring.

This not only includes agriculture, but also gets into the arts and crafts in a big way. Juvenile handiwork reigns supreme.

Livestock, poultry, pets and other features arranged by the rising generation, that is to continue the work of feeding and clothing the rest of us, are displayed in characteristic samples to show us what they are doing. The permanent buildings and added tents are quite ideal.

In the language of the street, it is the annual opportunity of a large and very necessary segment of our population to "strut their stuff."

There is no admission charge, and liberal parking spaces. The nominal charge on the latter goes toward defraying the expenses of the fair, which has grown from a very humble start to big business.

Whether you are an urban or rural resident, there's plenty for you to see at the fair, the former to marvel at what our young farmers are doing, and the latter to gain a greater pride in it.

With the selection of the fair's king and queen, The Pontiac Press freckle contest, and other features on the opening night, there follows a five-day program that should make you want to go more than once.

Japan's Premier Kishi on Goodwill Mission

His trip follows his government's announcement that the question of a revised security pact with the United States will not be brought up officially until the next regular session of the Diet. For the time being the Premier is abroad in the interests of his country and far removed from the noisy opposition of domestic Left Wingers.

The Japanese complain that they are not being treated as equals and that the world is not willing to let bygones be bygones as has been done in the case of West Germany. They feel, perhaps with reason, that Japan is "the orphan of Asia," is disliked by its neighbors (barred from immigration to Australia) and ignored by the West.

★ ★ ★

The rapid industrialization of Japan and the vastly improved quality of its goods have caused concern to manufacturers in Western countries with much higher wage standards. To avoid tariff quotas, the Japanese have voluntarily reduced exports. However, in the past five years real wages there have risen 20 per cent. Japan is the most democratic country in Asia and has the highest literacy rate.

★ ★ ★

It is to be hoped that Premier Kishi's talks with Western statesmen will iron out some of his country's difficulties and that in the months ahead he can bring home to his countrymen the importance of Japan's rearmament and defense relationship with the United States. Whether they like it or not the Japanese are in the cold war too.

Freckles Contest

Occurs on Opening Night of Oakland 4-H Fair

4-H Fair: Where you can meet your friends—and make new ones.

With a $50 U. S. savings bond as the prize, given by The Pontiac Press, this column's freckle contest takes place at the Oakland County 4-H Club Fair on Tuesday, August 11, at eight o'clock.

It will follow the selection of the fair's king and queen, and will be in charge of the selection of the champ being made by competent judges.

There is no entry charge, and the contest is open to both boys and girls of 18 years or under. All that is necessary is to be present and volunteer when entries are called for from the crowd.

Judy Fay Blaylock

of Lake Orion, who won out in a field of 34 contestants. Her photograph went on a national hookup, and was run in papers all over the country.

This year's champ not only gets the $50 prize, but will be accorded the same publicity. Every live-wire freckle faced youngster is invited and urged to enter the contest. And did you ever see a freckle faced youngster that wasn't a live wire?

The Blueprint Looked So Good, Too

David Lawrence Says:

Steel Settlement Must Be Voluntary

WASHINGTON — Do the American people want a regulated economy—with the government fixing wages and prices?

David J. McDonald, head of the Steelworkers Union, unwittingly comes close to saying, "yes." This would be one step removed from Socialism. He declares that the government "cannot help but get involved" in the steel strike and adds: "We have always welcomed the involvement of government."

LAWRENCE

As for the steel companies, they recognize the possibility, too, but are vehemently opposed to it, believing that free enterprise thrives under a free system of bargaining. Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp., has just announced:

"Whatever the length of the strike, and whatever the eventual outcome of the negotiations—as long as they are voluntary—we in United States Steel do not intend to raise the general level of our steel prices in the foreseeable future."

Blough said also that his company intended to adhere to that pledge "in the absence of an involuntary settlement mandated by some public body or authority."

This, of course, refers to government pressure or mandate of law.

Naturally, labor union leaders in the past have counted on their political influence in government to give them what they want. They are counting today on help from members of Congress to bring pressure on the White House to intervene and force a settlement of the steel strike in their favor.

WANTS EFFICIENCY

The promise by the steel industry not to raise prices is a wise move. It doesn't mean the door is closed to any wage increase. It means, conversely, that whatever wage rise is given can be absorbed without a price increase. It means, of course, that the industry wants the working rules in existing contracts revised to make savings and accomplish greater efficiency.

Much has been said by the union spokesmen in the last few days about the size of the profits which steel companies now are revealed to have earned in the first six months of this year.

The argument from the union side is that wages can be increased because of such profits. But this is exactly how inflationary spirals begin. The erroneous assumption is that a rate of profits continues indefinitely.

Unfortunately for the steel companies, if they suffer a reverse, union labor will not share in the losses. Wages are almost never reduced. Profits are looked upon by the labor unions as having been earned by their members.

It seems to be forgotten that the stockholders' and creditors' money, which makes possible new and remodeled plants with up-to-date equipment, is usually responsible for the increased profits. Dividends and interest are wages, too.

BUYING HEAVY

But, in this instance, it was the fear of a steel strike, which became widespread more than a year ago, that gave the steel companies twice as many orders as they would normally have had for the same period.

Naturally, if you do two years' business in one, profits go up for that period. But if wage rates are to be based on such an artificial situation, what is to happen when orders decline and buyers begin to cut down inventories as soon as they are assured of a steady supply after the strike is ended?

The unions contribute none of the management skill or energy, none of the sales ability, none of the technical knowledge that makes a big industrial company function successfully.

Dr. William Brady Says:

You Can't Get Necessary Vitamins From Daily Diet

Notwithstanding the autocratic assurances of some doctors who should know better, that you get all the vitamins and minerals you need from a well balanced or varied diet, whatever that may mean, most Americans show signs of malnutrition, manifest in the condition of skin, hair, nails, eyes, teeth or gums, and in functional disorders of all sorts.

BRADY

The child who consumes less than a quart of milk daily (four glasses) or the adult who consumes less than 1½ pints of milk daily (three glasses)—whole milk, skim milk, buttermilk or the equivalent in evaporated milk or dry milk powder—is likely to have "an unhealthy condition of the skin." Those who consume their quart or 1½ pints a day show "an increase in the bloom of their cheeks and the sleekness of their skins." People who take little or no milk generally have a poor complexion.

It is the vitamin B2, formerly called vitamin G, now known as riboflavin, in milk that promotes the health of the skin. While milk is the richest food source of riboflavin, cheese of any kind but particularly yellow cheese, plain wheat, liver, dried beans, beet tops, broccoli, almonds, pecans and peanuts are also good sources of riboflavin.

There was a large grain of truth in the conception of "milk-fed beauty", but of course only ridiculous hokum in the idea of a milk bath. One must be child-minded indeed to believe the application of food, nutritive material, nourishment, vitamins, magic hormones or other substances to the skin can or will have any effect on health or beauty. Child-minded customers spend millions upon millions annually trying to prove it isn't so.

In the pamphlet YOUNG FOLKS AND OLD FOLKS, available FREE if you provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I recommend an adequate daily ration of calcium, vitamin D, riboflavin and iodin for poor growth of nails, resulting in brittleness, ridging, pitting or cracking. Please remember this won't give you normal new nails in a week. It takes from four to five months to grow a nail.

For years I have been questioning the value of individual testimonials, because one never knows whether A. J. Coincidence may not have been involved. But so many followers have assured me that THE IODIN RATION (for the pamphlet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope) has improved the condition of their hair, that I am constrained to believe they are right.

Some of them declare that their graying hair has regained its original color. Some find their hair has regained the life and sleekness it had when they were younger, and now and then one avers—and why would a lady lie about this?—that it has restored the natural wave or curl which her hair had lost in recent years. I promise nothing. I merely say the iodin ration can do no harm if you wish to try it—and you haven't tried it until you have taken it daily for at least three months.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'All Labor Dispute News Lacks Underlying Cause'

All the news and remarks regarding the steel strike and any other major labor dispute lack one element — the real underlying dispute or cause.

We now have a struggle between "management" and "union leadership" with each trying to strengthen its position in relation to the other.

The managing hierarchy has got itself into a position of power and control, whereby the owners, the majority of stockholders, have little or nothing to say. Union leadership has arrived at a similar place for the individual member has no control over the leaders' activities.

Both management and labor have gotten "too big for their breeches." The situation has been brought about by the extension of ownership to millions of stockholders and the growth of industry-wide unions with concentrated power in top leaders. In both cases, leaders are appointed by a small minority of either stockholders or union members.

If all the facts were presented to the stockholders and union members and a free vote allowed, a resounding "No Strike" would echo throughout the land.

Exchange of Visitors May Dispell Illusions

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — A look-see is a good eye-opener.

The exchange visits of Americans and Soviets—particularly officials—may have no immediate, visible results. Long - range, the thinking of both governments should be clarified and affected.

The Soviet Union's two deputy premiers, Frol R. Kozlov and Anastas I. Mikoyan, came this year to the United States where there is no broad discontent except perhaps on the racial issue. They looked around, and found a degree of prosperity the Soviets can only dream of.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon has visited the U.S.S.R. and—so far as American news reports from there indicate—found hordes of cheerful, hardworking Soviet citizens who showed no broad discontent with their government or their way of life.

Most Soviet citizens now alive never knew any other government or way of life, and life is getting better for them in material things.

In both cases what the officials saw should affect the thinking of their governments, particularly wishful thinking. And what the officials found can be multiplied many times by what the non-official visitors see in both countries.

The late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who shaped American foreign policy, seemed taken with the idea a number of times that if this country could keep up its "containment" policy long enough the Soviet edifice might topple.

He even went so far one time as to tell a congressional committee the Soviet system was on the point of collapsing. President Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty later had to explain Dulles didn't really mean collapsing.

Yet this attitude of Dulles, who never got a look around the Soviet Union raises a question: what would his thinking, and perhaps even some aspects of his foreign policy, have been if he had gotten an inside look?

Dulles, like Soviet leaders who are convinced capitalistic societies will eventually collapse, was a victim of his own wishful thinking. He and they wanted to believe that they were seeing what they wanted to see.

President Eisenhower is known to feel that are appreciable pressures within the Soviet Union which might persuade the Kremlin to accept a tension easing agreement.

That makes sense and is a long way from envisioning a Soviet collapse.

It is reasonable to believe that the more the Soviets learn about the material advantages of the people in the non-communist countries, the more they will want the same, and the more the pressure on their masters to meet their desires.

It's also reasonable to believe that as more Soviet citizens are educated they will feel an increased right to assert themselves in the conduct of a government which affects them. Travel is a part of their education.

The exchange visits which bring more and more Soviet citizens to this country — where they get a close-up view of what personal freedom means—should be a force shaping attitudes when they return home.

But again it would be wishful thinking to believe that Soviet citizens would want or would accept everything they see in America.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Ignorance Complicates Childbirth

Mildred is smart, for when a wife understands the simple mechanics of childbirth, she suffers comparatively little pain. For in her mind she can then understand what is occurring and follow the baby's progress intelligently. Modern doctors are trying to inform expectant mothers, as shown below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I feel nervous," she began, "for I don't know what to expect.

★ ★ ★

"And I am sure thousands of other wives are just like me, so could you give us a brief explanation, in simple language?"

PREGNANCY FACTS

Uncertainty is the cause of much unnecessary pain, for when a young wife can visualize in her own mind exactly what is taking place, she keeps interested in results and doesn't feel as much pain.

DR. CRANE

But when she is totally in the dark as regards the mechanics of childbirth, she has nothing to focus upon but pain, so it looms larger.

From the fifth month onward, the baby moves its hands and legs in the mother's womb, but during the last month, it usually has such a heavy head that the head then sinks down into the mother's pelvis.

This head then acts like a snow plow when labor begins, for it pushes the soft tissues aside to clear the way for the baby's body to follow.

The birth canal is curved somewhat like an "elbow" in a stovepipe. The baby's head thus pushes against the base of the mother's spine until it finally makes the turn.

With the first baby, labor usually averages from 15 to 18 hours, for the firstborn paves the way for the next baby. The total birth time of the second baby is reduced to about six hours less than the firstborn's.

CHILDBIRTH FACTS

When labor begins the muscular womb builds up a brief wave of contraction which reaches a climax; then subsides.

It may be 10 minutes before the next wave ensues, so take advantage of this lull and rest or doze off, if you expectant mothers are sleepy.

Then another contraction will occur. Ultimately, the time between them will grow less and less till they are coming every 3 or 4 minutes.

The purpose of these intermittent contractions is to push the baby's head along the birth canal by very slow degrees.

Moving the head too fast might rupture a blood vessel and produce a spastic infant, so don't try to hasten things till your doctor instructs you to do so.

In short, don't hold your breath and push hard. Just relax your abdominal wall and let the womb inside do the actual pushing until the doctor finally tells you to hold your breath and add that additional pressure.

★ ★ ★

When you are in labor, it is well to clear the lower bowel and bladder of their contents, since this leaves more room for the baby's head to move downward.

That's why the nurse gives the mother an enema and urges her to void urine.

At the hospital, the doctor makes an early rectal examination with his index finger so he can feel through the wall of the rectum and detect how widely dilated the neck of the womb has become.

This indicates about how long it will be before the baby's head can squeeze through. And the reason for a rectal examination instead of the vaginal, is to avoid introducing any possible bacteria into the birth canal.

★ ★ ★

After the baby's head is born, the shoulders and trunk easily slide out. Then it may be another 15 to 30 minutes before the afterbirth (placenta) tears loose from the womb and is pushed out.

Hal Boyle Says:

Where Is Old-Fashioned Grandpa Now?

By HAL BOYLE

As a child I felt vaguely cheated by life because I had never known a grandpa.

One of my grandfathers was dead. The other dwelt all alone in faraway Ireland. Once he sent a photo of himself. It showed a man smoking a pipe as he sat on the doorstep of his small farm home.

BOYLE

Ever since then I have thought of him as Father Time. As a small boy, after being punished, I used to lie awake for hours at night wishing he were near so I could tell him my troubles.

In my mind's eye he was like the grandfather pictured sometimes on the cheap colored calendars the neighborhood grocer gave away free in good years.

Grandpa was quite a sentimental figure on those calendars, and I suppose there were still millions like him in real life.

★ ★ ★

It was Grandpa who stood as a kindly shield between a little boy and the rest of the adult world. It was Grandpa who took the boy fishing or gave him his first real knife.

★ ★ ★

It was Grandpa who always remembered to stop off at the ice cream parlor on the way to the postoffice to get the mail. It was Grandpa who knew how to rig a kite and always had an extra dime in his pocket for the Saturday movie.

★ ★ ★

Best of all, Grandpa never seemed so eternally busy with his own problems. That made him different from all other grownups. He always had time to pause to listen to a small boy's woes and answer his wondering questions, and tell strange and fascinating tales of how the world had been when he had been a small boy, too, ages and ages ago.

Whatever happened to that old-fashioned grandpa? If he still survives, he must be hiding in the small towns. You sure don't see him very often in the big city.

The big-city grandpa has gone big time.

Time itself, as a matter of fact, is just another ugly four-letter word to the new-type grandpa. He is the life of every party, and out to prove he is just as young as he ever was.

A grandchild who makes the mistake of calling him "Gramps" is lucky if he isn't rewarded by a quick kick in the stomach. Grandpa doesn't like to be reminded of his age in public.

Grandpa wears a sport shirt instead of a cane. You don't find him hanging around a park playing checkers with old cronies. His game is gin rummy.

Grandpa cares more for an afternoon nip than an afternoon nap. He is less interested in a tip on how to cure rheumatism than he is in a tip on the stock market or what horse looks good in the third race at Jamaica.

Does Grandpa love to baby-sit his grandchildren? Are you kidding? By day he is too busy taking hormone shots at the doctor's or chip shots on the golf course. At night he and Grandma are too busy doing the cha-cha.

Who keeps the night clubs going? It's foxy old Grandpa. Look at the dance floor of any good night club. For every teen-age lad you'll see five sprightly grandpas. Only Grandpa can foot the tariff.

I used to envy the kids who had an old-fashioned grandpa. Not any more. I've got a new ambition. Now I just want to become a modern-type grandpa myself — and really start living.

Hawaii Scores Record in First State Election

Some Before-Wedding Anxiety Normal

Brides Who Flee Aren't Normal

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

But the memory of the "bride who had everything"—and couldn't bear it — is troubling. Like an ill wind in the orange blossoms.

These are urgent, violent, disturbing times among young American people. They are times when it often is more popular to be neurotic and individual than to be a conformist to the social system.

Gay Hart has been looked upon, not so much as an inconceivable ill young woman, as a romantic heroine. Is it so inconceivable that a rash of other young brides, bolstered by the heady sensationalism of her story, might similarly flee from the altar — rather than go through with the wedding, which traditionally is both the most longed-for and feared, experience in a girl's life?

"If they do flee — if their anxiety is beyond their ability to tolerate it — they are not normal," said Dr. Lester E. Shapiro, F.A.P.A., M.D., Adelphia College psychiatrist. "They are either ill, or caught in abnormally pressured crises, as severe as those in wartime which caused battle fatigue.

"I wouldn't care to discuss the case of Miss Hart, because I do not know the medical facts of the case. You can't feel somebody else's toothache.

"But every bride, and every groom, has anxiety shortly before the wedding. The depth of the anxiety is dependent on the specific individual. But I think it is safe to say that the man or woman is not normal if either they LACK anxiety altogether, or if they cannot tolerate it."

The anxieties come from many sources, according to the psychiatrist, but some principal worries every bride may expect are: (1) dread of leaving parental guidance and shelter; (2) Fear, conscious or unconscious, of new responsibility; (3) resentment of housework drudgery; (4) nervous suspicion they may have chosen the wrong man, and (5) either fear, repugnance or foreboding of sex.

"How can you expect a young girl, who has been told that sex is taboo — and sometimes even a dirty word — to adjust to society's seying to her, 'all right, now you've been blessed — go right ahead'?"

The groom should have anxieties too, but often they are not as overpowering as the bride's for three reasons. First, society has kidded for centuries about the "ball and chain" aspect of marriage, so a man can feel free to talk lightly about his worries with his friends. Second, marriage is a girl's "fulfillment" in life; traditionally, it is not necessarily a man's. Most important, perhaps, men frequently have much more knowledge of, and experience with, sex before marriage and society has given him the stamp of approval and assurance.

"Our culture says that the man is the stronger partner," says Dr. Shapiro, "and therefore he isn't the one who's going to be dependent on somebody the rest of their wedded lives. So it's the woman who feels she's taking the bigger chance."

If a bride's anxieties become too strong, the normal course for her to take is to talk out her fears with her fiancee, with her family doctor, parents, minister or friends.

The abnormal course? To let them build up a barrier against reality — for her own self-protection of her body. Dr. Shapiro's advice to bridal couples who have cause to be this greatly disturbed.

★ ★ ★

"Talk it out with someone qualified to help, and with one another. If that doesn't clear away the severe anxieties, have the courage to postpone — or cancel — the wedding."

Dems Sponsor Pro-Union Bill

House to Get Measure Calling for Financial Reports Only

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 40 House Democrats organized today to back a labor bill favorable to unions.

★ ★ ★

They met at the invitation of Rep. John F. Shelley (D-Calif) as leaders announced the House will begin debate Tuesday on labor controls legislation.

Shelley said 43 House Democrats, at a breakfast meeting, had agreed to oppose both the bill drafted by the House Labor Committee and a tougher administration-backed substitute sponsored by Reps. Phil M. Landrum (D-Ga) and Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich).

★ ★ ★

Shelley said the group will back a substitute of its own which he called "a real tough financial reporting and disclosure bill, with all the other stuff out of it."

★ ★ ★

By this Shelley meant a bill stripped of a "bill of rights" for union members and amendments to the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, including bans against second boycott, "hot cargo" contracts and organizational picketing.

★ ★ ★

It appeared that the Labor Committee bill will come to the floor without the endorsement of a majority of the committee.

Nixon Does His Best to Answer Them

Russians Are Full of Questions

SVERDLOVSK, Soviet Union (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been exchanging "mir drujbas" with Soviet citizens for eight days now, and Americans and Russians have learned new things about each other.

"Mir drujba" means "peace and friendship." It is one of the few Russian phrases Nixon learned before he left and uses whenever he talks here. It seems to delight the Soviets.

Everyone with the Nixon party, including the large corps of American newspaper representatives, considers himself a goodwill ambassador or at least bound to answer questions.

Lack of time and interpreters often makes it hard to chat with men, women and children who come up in the crowds. But it is getting done.

"Why don't more Americans come here? Send more American workers. We'll put them up," said a smiling worker in overalls at a hydroelectric plant in Novosibirsk, in the heart of Siberia.

But Novosibirsk is a city closed to foreigners most of the time.

Not far away, high up on a dam over the Ob River, a group of Soviet men and women workers surrounded two newspapermen, demanding to know why the United States didn't stop atomic weapon testing.

A 20-year-old girl, graduate of a technological institute who spoke English although she has never been out of remote Novosibirsk, was searching for American magazines to read. A New Yorker was all anyone had on hand. She got it, with promises correspondents would mail more magazines from home.

But a U.S. Embassy aid said you couldn't be sure she'd get them.

Nixon began to announce publicly that the President's brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, was along and introduced him to people in city halls and factories.

In Leningrad and Novosibirsk, Nixon attended the ballet. Leningrad is a city with a cultural past linked with the splendor of the czars. Novosibirsk is a frontier in the Soviet industrial plan, a city only 50 years old where about half of the homes are log huts.

But in each, a huge opera house dominates the scene, and ballet is performed with professional and technical skill that in large measure matches Moscow's Bolshoi or the stage effects of Broadway.

The Russians who come to see Nixon are quick to respond to humorous situations.

At Sverdlovsk airport the vice president chatted with people standing near the fence. Learning that one pretty 16-year-old dark haired girl could speak English, he suggested with a smile that she "practice on me." The girl blushed shyly.

"I don't know Russian, but I say it," Nixon coaxed, trying out a Russian phrase. People around were smiling as a translator filled them in.

Nixon saw the girl was getting very embarrassed, and he moved off with a good-by and a wave. As he turned his back, the girl called "good-by" in perfect English. Russians and Americans around burst into laughter.

Wild Chase Nets Jewel Thief

Discovered in Kitchen of Financier's Home; Caught With Loot

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP) — A widely known jewel thief was arrested Thursday after he was discovered in the home of financier Alexander Guterma.

Police said Hamilton Channell, 70, was captured after 100-mile-an-hour chase.

Guterma's wife returned to her estate home here and found Channell in her kitchen. Thinking quickly, she asked if he were a real estate man. He said yes. They chatted a while, then he left.

As the man drove away, Mrs. Guterma called Greenwich police. They chased Channell down the Merritt Parkway, over the New York state line. New York police pursued him along the Hutchinson River Parkway.

In West Harrison, N.Y., a policeman spotted Channel driving slowly. When he was arrested, police said, he had $1,800 in cash and diamond jewelry. He tried to throw some of the gems away.

Channell was held in Westchester County Jail at White Plains for arraignment as a fugitive from Connecticut justice. He has been arrested 40 times during several decades.

Lands at Idlewild After Engine Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — A Pan American Airways plane en route from Boston to Bermuda made a safe landing at Idlewild Airport after developing engine trouble.

The plane carried 19 passengers and a crew of 7, including the pilot, Capt. Edward W. Kinsley Jr. of Pound Ridge, N. Y.

Little Grocer Manages to Catch Tall Thief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The tall thief took long strides but the little grocer caught him.

Shin Sakamoto, who is less than 5 feet tall, said 6-foot-6 Willy Butler reached into Sakamoto's cash register and grabbed some bills.

Police found $27 hidden in a nearby men's room where Sakamoto cornered Butler. Butler, 30, was booked on suspicion of robbery.

Two Red Koreans Hanged at Seoul

SEOUL (AP) — Cho Bong Am, former Communist and twice unsuccessful candidate against President Syngman Rhee, was hanged today for working for the North Korean Communists.

The government announced that Cho's accomplice, Yang Myung-san, was hanged Wednesday.

Cho, a 60-year-old politician, was acquitted in Seoul District Court of violating the national security and espionage laws, but the Seoul Court of Appeals reversed the verdict. The Supreme Court upheld the coviction in February and Thursday rejected his petition for a retrial.

Yang confessed that he worked as a liaison agent between the Communists and Cho.

Clothes Going to Dogs

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Even dirty clothes are going to the dogs these days. An employe of a laundry heard strange noises in a bundle of dirty clothes. Inside was a Chihuahua dog, which didn't want a washing.

Auto Industry Records Its Third Best July

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry recorded the third best July in its history this year despite the steel strike and an early beginning of the model changeovers, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

The statistical agency said models changeovers cut a little deeper into the industry's output this week, cutting it from 124,446 last week to 122,147 this week. The industry turned out 62,846 cars in the same week a year ago.

But the industry still built 551,200 cars and 114,228 trucks during July, Ward's said. At the rate the industry produced during the first seven months of the year, it will turn out 6,135,000 cars and trucks during 1959.

Find, Use Model Ship

MANTOLOKING, N.J. (UP) — An 18-foot long model of a Viking ship is being used as a billboard carrier in the yacht basin here.

The hand-carved model is believed to be 150 years old.

The first two Americans stars of opera were both born in 1842. Clara Louise Kellogg was born in Sumterville, S.C., and Anna Louise Cary was born in Kennebec County, Maine. After brilliant operatic careers, both retired to Connecticut.

Two thirds of South Carolina—10,732,000 acres — are planted with trees. Most are pine and cypress.

Auto Parts Supplier Folds After 35 Years

DETROIT (UP)—Metal Moulding Corp., a parts supplier to the automotive industry for more than 35 years, announced today it is ceasing operations Aug. 31.

Clarence P. Chamberlin, president and founder, said the company is no longer able to operate on a competitive basis. About 275 employes will lose their jobs.

Metal Moulding makes grills, stampings and other decorative trim. Its peak employment was more than 700. It said its annual sales volume has fallen from a peak of 11½ million to less than 6 million dollars. Last year it had its first operating loss.

Coronary Trouble Fatal to Australian Journalist

MELBOURNE, Australia (UP) —Sir Harold Campbell, 66, editor of the Age and one of Australia's best known journalists, died unexpectedly today of a coronary occlusion.

Campbell held the Age editorship for two decades, was a director of the Australian Associated Press and a member of the Australian delegation to the United Nations in San Francisco in 1945 and Lake Success in 1949. He was knighted two years ago.

State Job to Boston Firm

WASHINGTON (UP) — Army engineers today notified Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) that their Detroit ofice is awarding a $1,783,502 contract this afternoon to the Boston Construction Co., Boston, Mass., for contruction of a hospital at the Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda, Mich.

11 Stay in Hospital After Train Wreck

MENOMINE, Wis. (UPI)—Eleven persons still were hospitalized today with injuries received when a speeding passenger train derailed at the edge of a 100-foot cliff.

At least 100 persons were injured in all, many of them children returning home from summer camps. Forty-seven persons were taken to Menomine Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bertha Risskin, 78, Chicago, was in critical condition. She received only bruises in the accident but suffered a heart attack on the way to the Menominie hospital.

Seven cars of the 11-car train left the tracks and three of them slid halfway down a 100-foot cliff before coming to rest against a clump of trees.

Some crew members said they felt a bump just before the accident. Motorists driving on a highway which parallels the tracks said the rails seemed to slide out from under the train.

There was speculation a rail might have snapped from the heat, causing the accident.

The diesel locomotive units and three cars remained on the tracks. They continued on to Chicago and arrived early today, unloading a weary but thankful group of passengers.

Drinking Your Meals? What's Eating You?

By LELORD KORDEL
Installment Seventeen

Dick Elliot was a Madison avenue veteran who had learned all the angles. We were having luncheon together to celebrate his promotion. He was the new vice president of his company.

He finished his second double martini, lit a cigarette, and looked around for the waiter.

"Don't you think we'd better order lunch?" I suggested.

"Hey, we're celebrating!" he said. "We can eat any time — if we get around to it. Sometimes I never quite make it."

"What about breakfast?" I asked. "Do you eat a good breakfast to make up for skipping lunch?"

"Sure." He laughed. "A real husky breakfast. Coffee and cigarettes."

By the time our food was set before us his face was beaded with perspiration, and he was doubled over with pain.

"Sorry," he mumbled, "but you'd better get me out of here. This pain . . . it's awful . . . like a white-hot coal searing my stomach. What do you think—?"

I didn't have to think. I knew. Dick was having his first real ulcer pain. His celebration ended with a trip to the hospital.

Dick had become one of the sixteen million Americans — about one in every ten — who succumb to emotional pressure. What can we do to stop this inner gastric distress, compounded by the multiplying complexities of modern living in both business and home?

Just what is a peptic ulcer? It's an open lesion, or sore, on the wall of the stomach, left after erosion of the stomach lining. This erosion is caused by the presence of an over supply of hydrochloric acid in the gastric juice over a period of time.

The acid irritates the lining and produces some erosion. Then the digestive juices begin to digest the affected area of the stomach, making a larger and larger crater. It isn't only what you eat that causes a stomach ulcer—it's what "eats you," as well!

Madison avenue doesn't have a monopoly on the duodenum-scarred veterans of the hydrocloric acid war. We find them among lawyers, brokers, bus drivers teachers, actors, and sandhogs. No occupation offers immunity. Only among primitive peoples and in the mentally defective, are ulcers almost unknown.

ULCERS NOT BORN

By eliminating the causes, about 85 per cent of all ulcer sufferers can prevent further ulcers and treat the ones they already have. The other 15 per cent, including those who won't follow the rules for better living and those who fail to respond to treatment, require surgery. Ulcers are definitely made, not born.

Fatigue, anxiety, and emotional strain are apt to precipitate the attacks. The man who drives himself needlessly and worries endlessly may become the anxiety-ulcer victim.

Unless he changes his high-tension routine to a more tranquilizing one, he may end up with a hemorrhaging ulcer.

So much depends on what the patient himself does that I must emphasize his role in the treatment and prevention of ulcers. Prevention is the best cure. You cannot cure peptic ulcers until you find a way to prevent their recurrence.

Eliminate as completely as possible any conflicts, social maladjustments, or frustrations—even a nagging wife.

I don't mean that you should eliminate your wife—only her nagging! By any reasonable—or, if necessary, unreasonable—method. Blow your top if you must. In fact, that would benefit your ulcer.

The next time I saw Dick he was home from the hospital, feeling sorry for himself and worrying over his illness.

"What am I going to do now?" he asked. "Be an invalid for the rest of my life?"

FRAME OF MIND

"The first thing to do," I said, "is to change your frame of mind. An uncomplicated ulcer can start healing in a matter of weeks—but only under favorable conditions. You may have to replan and regulate your life. You must have calm and freedom from stress."

"That's a big order," Dick said. "Where do I start?"

"Right where you are," I said. "Quit worrying about your ulcer. Stop being so fiercely competitive. Avoid overwork and tension as much as possible.

"Malnutrition," I said, "often accompanies a nervous, high-strung disposition such as yours, Dick. Start eating regular, nourishing meals — instead of drinking them. You can't substitute alcohol and coffee for food, as you often do, without suffering from ulcers, nervous disorders, vitamin and mineral deficiencies, and other illnesses."

"All right," said Dick. "So I mustn't drink, and I must eat. But what? A monotonous milk and cream and boiled-egg diet?"

"Not any more," I said. "The old-fashioned ulcer diet did more harm than good. You need the complete protein foods to neutralize the excess stomach acid and speed up healing.

"I recommended broiled steaks, chops, and eggs. You're probably deficient in blood serum protein; most peptic-ulcer patients are."

"So I must eat regularly and cultivate peace of mind, said Dick. "Anything else?"

"Yes," I said. "Stop being so doggedly ambitious. Eat adequately and rest enough to avoid the fatigue which causes you to lose control of the secretion of gastric juices. Be sure that the acid doesn't pour into your stomach with no food there to neutralize it.

"Keep milk and crackers handy to ease the worst of the ulcer 'hunger pains.' Have a jar of skim milk powder in your bedroom and office. It dissolves instantly in water, tastes like fresh milk — and will forestall a painful attack."

"Powdered skim milk," said Dick. "I'll make a note to buy it by the case—" He grinned. "—the way I used to by Scotch."

Grandmother Is State Legislator

She's Always in House

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Lucille H. McCollough (D - Dearborn), lawmaker, housewife and grandmother, is proud of her attendance record in the Legislature.

In her five years in the House, she hasn't missed a single session. Today was no exception, she said, even though there was nothing to do.

All but a handful of House members took off for home yesterday after learning the Senate wouldn't act on a tax program before Saturday. The House couldn't get Senate approval of a resolution for a weekend adjournment, however, so sessions were scheduled for today and Monday though no business was to be transacted.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R - Buchanan) acknowledged he would preside over a practically empty chamber and adjourn minutes after he calls the session to order.

"It's going to cost me hotel rent and money for meals, and all for nothing, but I can't let my record go," Mrs. McCollough said. "One of my campaign slogans is '100 per cent attendance.'"

Nehru Dissolves Communist Area

★ ★ ★

President Rajendra Prasad signed the proclamation Thursday dissolving the Communist ministry. The official announcement was delayed until after delivery of the order to Chief Minister E. M. S. Nambudiripad in Trivandrum, capital of the South Indian state.

★ ★ ★

Under the proclamation executive power in the state was taken over by Prasad—actually by Nehru—and legislative power by the federal Parliament.

Southfield Holds Up Xway

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie is having a bumpy ride with the city of Southfield.

The rough political road between Mackie and the green light to complete his first five-year program for 1,000 miles of expressway throughout the state is a mere 1.8 miles through Southfield's boundaries.

The city hesitates to give its consent.

The total project cost is one and a quarter billion dollars, due to be under contract by 1962.

Mackie, it was revealed, recently met with Southfield officials ir his ninth attempt to secure a vote of consent to the alignment of the 11½ Mile road expressway which would be located within the city limits.

He was accompanied by his executive assistant Irving Rubin.

REPORT DUE AUG. 10

The city's expressway committee listened and then told the commissioner and his assistant it would submit a report of its findings to the Southfield Council on Aug. 10.

City Manager Robert J. McNutt said he council would "reach some sort of decision at that meeting."

Said Mackie, "We have secured the approval of all municipalities necessary for all of the projects in the Detroit metropolitan area except for 1.8 miles along 11½ Mile road from Inkster road to Telegraph road in Southfield."

Rubin conceded that a "no consent" could delay the program, now in its third year "and on schedule."

'COMING THROUGH!'

"But," he said, "other cities have told us we're not coming through. We are coming through!"

McNutt said the council does not want to approve anything west of Telegraph road until it knows what the route is east of Telegraph.

"They have said the road can go any place between 10 and 11 Mile roads east of Telegraph," said McNutt, "They can't tell us precisely because they haven't finished their studies.

WANT TO KNOW

"They have urged us and pleaded with us to vote consent. We won't until we know what we are consenting to."

The approach from Greenfield road to Telegraph road is part of the Highway Department's second five-year program, the plans of which are not yet completely specific.

"The problem is unique with consenting to."

Southfield," said McNutt. "We are the only city sitting in a position where both the first and second five-year programs affect us."

McNutt said Southfield's planning commission has recommended utilization of 14 Mile road (not in the city), "but the Highway Department said it was not suitable."

Neighbors Plan Shower to Offset Loss of Home

LEONARD — In an effort to help members of the John Schirmer family re-establish their home which was gutted by fire July 9 their neighbors and friends will sponsor a miscellaneous shower at Rowland Hall here at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The Schirmers were on vacation when the fire broke out destroying most of the family's possessions. Since the conflagration residents of this community have been trying to collect enough furniture and other household articles to help the family get a new start.

Addison Fire Chief Edward Porter is urging all local residents and others interested in the Schirmers' plight, to attend the shower. He said money also will be accepted.

Refreshments will be served.

The Schirmers have six young children, Mrs. Schirmer's mother and brother living with them at the time of the fire. Only the brother was home when the fire broke out. He escaped when the barking of the family's pet dog woke him up.

Orion Methodist Vacation School to Open Monday

LAKE ORION—Vacation Church School at the Lake Orion Methodist Church will be in session Monday through Friday for two weeks beginning August 3 and continuing through Aug. 14.

The school is open to children from kindergarten through high school age, and transportation will be furnished for those who need it, Codirectors Mrs. Rex Curtis and Mrs. Robert Johnson said today.

The program will consist of Bible stories, songs, handicraft and games. The groups also will work on the missionary project of sending books to needy children in other parts of the country.

The church is located at 206 Flint St.

Victim Remains Unconscious

3 Days After Head-On Crash, Rochester Man Still Critical

MADISON HEIGHTS — A Rochester man remains unconscious today, three days after he suffered severe injuries in a head-on auto collision on Stephenson highway here.

Emil C. Siegler, 62, of 813 First St., Rochester, is still listed in critical condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

The driver of the other car, Gerald R. Nichols, 21, of 157 Roth St., Clarkston, told Madison Heights police he doesn't know how the accident happened.

An eye-witness reported that Nichols was weaving in and out of traffic and had forced four or five cars off the road before slamming into Siegler's car, according to Police Lt. Joseph Landino. He would not reveal the witnesses name.

Blast Destroys Ferndale Plant

Triggers 6-Alarm Fire; Damage Is Estimated at Quarter-Million

An explosion triggered a quarter of a million-dollar fire this morning at a die casting factory in Ferndale.

Firemen from Ferndale, Royal Oak and Hazel Park struggled for four hours before subduing the inferno that raged over a city block area.

They were able to confine the flames to the plant, but the block-long masonry building was gutted and its contents are a total loss.

A burst in a hydraulic fuel line is blamed for causing the explosion that blew the roof off the General Die Casting Co. building at 1956 Burdett St. Flames spread rapidly.

Tottering front and rear walls of the plant had to be torn down by firemen once the flames were extinguished.

Men were working in the factory when the blast and fire occurred. No one was hurt. But 65 workers were without jobs today.

Joseph Boza, a foreman, said he tried to put out the blaze with an extinguisher but a spurt of oil hit a hot melting pot and sent flames racing through the plant.

Where You From, Bird?

By LEE WINBORN

AVON TOWNSHIP—Where you from, bird? No. 839 AU 59 F.H.C. wasn't talking.

He evidently doesn't want to admit he's lost—most embarrassing for a homing pigeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon J. Pike of 2960 Crooks Rd. found the bewildered bird, exhausted and spent, in their front yard after returning from a shopping trip yesterday afternoon.

"It seemed all tired out," Pike said. He told how he approached the pigeon gingerly so as not to frighten it away.

He noticed that the bird had a metal band on its right leg. The pigeon made no attempt to fly away when the Avon man leaned down to pick it up.

"It seems very tame. I wonder if it isn't somebody's pet," Pike said.

He added, "We'll feed it and let it get rested up. Then if no one claims it, I'm sure it can find its way home."

★ ★ ★

The bird is cocoa brown in color with white-tipped wings. The feathers around its neck are almost iridescent changing to shades of green and lavendar as the sun hits them.

While Mr. and Mrs. Pike speculated about where the bird might have come from, it sat calmly in Pike's lap, cradled gently in his hands.

The pigeon seemed interested in the conversation, turning its head from side to side as it followed the sound of the voices.

The Pikes planned to borrow a large bird cage and buy some seed while they have the pigeon as their guest.

"If no one claims it in a couple of days, we'll turn it loose," they said. "It's a smart bird. It will know the way home."

Court to Decide Township Gravel Pit Controversies

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — Members of the Washington Township Board will have a busy day in court on Aug. 10. They are involved in two separate actions, both concerning gravel pit operations within the township.

The Board now is seeking an injunction against the Western Contracting Co. charging that it is violating a section of the present zoning ordinace.

The bill of complaint alleges that the gravel company is loading trucks and trailers on Sunday and holidays, and at other times prohibited by the hours section of the ordinance.

It further states that this condition causes dirt, dust, noise and added traffic hazards constituting "a public nuisance to adjacent property owners and to the health, welfare and safety."

The company had been given 10 days earlier this month to comply with the rules set forth in the ordinance. The court action then was initiated when the stop-order failed to bring the desired results, Supervisor R. Eugene Inwood said.

The township is also the defendant in a related suit brought by a Washington couple who have charged officials with laxity in enforcing the zoning ordinance.

The plaintiff's, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fettig, claim that "lack of enforcement has resulted in chaotic conditions throughout the western portion of the township, endangering the public health, safety and welfare of all inhabitants."

Co-defendents including Zoning Administrator Ralph Sheldon, the supervisor and the township Board, both collectively and individually.

The Fettigs have asked the court to issue a writ of mandamus to require action in the matter of zoning law enforcement.

The stop-order against Western Contracting Co. was initiated in accordance with an understanding reached in Macomb County Circuit Court June 29.

Attorneys for both sides agreed to allow the township to proceed with action against one of the pit operators said to be violating the ordinance before the court case was resumed.

Those present at the joint meeting of the VFW Dads and the auxiliary to receive their bars were:

★ ★ ★

For 15 years, Joan Ayers, Teresa Beagle, Grace Hilyard, Georgina LaPine, Frances Miller, Evelyn Reimer and Nonda Robertson; and for 10 years, Doris Lake, auxiliary president.

The next meeting of the Dads and the auxiliary is scheduled for Aug. 11 at the Lawrence A. Sims Post on Loon Lake road.

Loses Fingertips in Freak Accident

HADLEY TOWNSHIP — A 13-year-old Flint boy lost the tips of two fingers in a freak accident yesterday at the Metamora State Recreation Area.

David Lake was trying to be helpful by lifting the bumper of a car which had been caught over the tip of one of the posts lining the parking area.

His fingers were severed as he and several other boys attempted to raise the bumper. He was rushed to Lapeer County General Hospital for treatment by Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kuta, of 330 E. German St., Flint. He was a member of a swimming party taken to the state park by a neighbor.

SO SOON? — Doomed to the butcher's block, Amelia the cow is reluctant to leave her green pastures. Roast beef will be the main course served at the "Summer Festival" being sponsored by St. Anne Catholic Church in Ortonville this weekend, reports William McFeely, general chairman of the event, shown trying to entice Amelia. Poor Amelia.

Students to Dance Under Spotlights of Various Hues

WALLED LAKE — Pupils attending dances at the Walled Lake Senior High school this fall will discover that something new has been added. This is a bonus from a party that they did not attend.

When bills were paid following the party which parents provided for last year's seniors following June commencement, a party attended by more than two hundred members of the graduating class, there was money left over from the contributions which the parents had made.

To return or distribute these funds would have been impossible since many contributions came in with no names attached and some were even received the night of the party. So the committee of which Mrs. Frank Roemer of Westacres was chairman sought a gift which would be useful to future classes.

The committee will purchase spotlights on stands with colored gelatines permitting various lighting effects. In the past, groups wishing to decorate the gym with soft lights have had to drive miles to rent or borrow such equipment. They also can be used by the dramatic club in their productions, according to Mrs. Roemer.

Nearly 85 per cent of all births in the U.S. are to women 18 to 34 years old.

Three-Day Program

Festival Opens Tonight

ORTONVILLE — The one big money-raising event sponsored annually by St. Anne Catholic Church here is the "Summer Festival" which opens this evening at McFeely's Resort on M15 just south of the village.

The three-day program will feature swimming, a carnival and a roast beef dinner on Sunday. Members of the Altar Society will prepare and serve the meal.

All activities will take place at the resort except the dinner which will be served from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday at Brandon High School on Varsity drive.

The program starts at 6 p.m. today and lasts until 9 p.m. It will reopen at 1 p.m. tomorrow and continue to midnight. On Sunday the hours will be from noon to about 10 p.m.

Sign Papers to Buy Land for Civic Center

SOUTHFIELD — Final papers were signed yesterday by city officials here in the purchase of a 106-acre tract of land on Evergreen road between 10 and 11-Mile roads.

The land will be used to build a civic center.

Owners of the land, James and Mary Thompson of 25360 Evergreen Rd., have agreed to part with it for $477,000.

A downpayment of $100,000 plus $10,000 on a two-year option for an additional 60 acres has already been paid by the city.

Michigan Grain Stocks Greater Than '57 or '58

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan total stocks of grain as of this month are greater than for corresponding times for either 1958 or 1957, the federal-state crop reporting service said today.

Total off-farm and on-farm stocks of wheat were about 2,688,000 bushels, 54 per cent higher than a year ago, and rye, at 124,000 bushels was up 81 per cent from July of 1958.

Oxford Woman Is Acting Postmaster

OXFORD — Mrs. Donald Awrey has been named acting postmaster here to succeed M. G. Dunlap, whose retirement becomes effective today.

Dunlap, who is 70 years old today, has been postmaster here for the past 15 years.

His successor started at the Post Office in Oxford as a substitute 33 years ago and later became a registered clerk. She took over as assistant postmaster in October, 1956.

Mrs. Awrey, who lives at 46 Pontiac St., will serve as acting postmaster until examinations for a permanent replacement are called, she said today.

Arabs Approve Meeting

CAIRO (UPI)—The Arab League Council yesterday officially approved plans for an Arab foreign ministers meeting Sept. 1 at Casablanca and decided that the Palestine problem would be "one of the most important questions."

BUILDS 'FLOWER TREE' — Mrs. Stella Flowers, 3032 Moss St., Keego Harbor, has converted this old hay rake she found in a junk yard into a handsome garden ornament. She saw a similar "flower tree" in Indiana, and decided to have one of her own. Ten colored pails were welded on to the rake and filled with petunias, verbenias and various vines. Many people have made admiring comments about her ornament, says Mrs. Flowers.

Keep Your Garden Green With Water

Water is expensive, but a nickel still buys enough water to protect a plant worth much more — if the water is applied at the right time and in the right amount.

Plants need occasional showers even when their roots are moist. They will also look better and grow better if you keep dust and grime off their leaves. A hard, sharp spray is useful for controlling redspiders and other pests. Repeat daily until no new webs are formed on the leaves.

Most plants wilt, or droop, or give some other signal when they need water. However, evergreens don't have this ability. to be sure your evergreens get enough moisture, water them when nearby shrubs give evidence of need.

Wasteful run-off of water can be controlled by making a basin around young trees, evergreens, and shrubbery growing in lawn areas. Mulching will also cut water requirements by at least a third — enough to pay for itself several times in a hot, dry summer.

PLAN AHEAD—Nowhere is that old adage, "look before you leap," more true than in the gardening world, for if you want to insure the success of your garden, you will need to plan ahead. The owners of this garden made allowances for the stone slab walk which enhances the beauty of the area immensely. With lights, a nighttime walk through your garden allows friends to see the beauty of your flowers in a new and different fashion.

Future Gardener Free From Work, Says Scientist

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — A research biologist predicts that within the next 10 years, there will be lawns that need no mowing and dwarf trees that produce abundant crops of normal fruit.

"It may take one year or it may take 10," said Dr. James A. Lockhart, research fellow in biology at the California Institute of Technology.

"But it's just a matter of time until an anti-gibberellin is developed that will make this possible."

Dr. Lockhart described anti-gibberellin as a hormone-like substance that suppresses the growth of the plant without affecting its ability to yield normal crops.

Doses of the substance could double the height of plants, increase leaf size and crop output, and keep plants healthy in hot weather, he said.

Best Results From Fall Feeding

Spring fertilization results in soft, lush growth which is more readily attacked by both Helminthosporium and Septoria leaf spots, as well as foot rot disease.

Normally, excessive nitrogen is not available to grass plants in spring because in nature, nitrogen becomes available only when bacteria break down organic matter, releasing nitrogen from the protein.

For this reason, a fertilizer which releases too much nitrogen early produces an unnatural type of growth, more susceptible to disease.

The ideal feeding program for lawns would supply more nitrogen in early Fall and late Fall, with just enough absorbed in the clay and humus particles in the soil to produce normal growth in Spring, plus some long-lasting nitrogen which would remain relatively unavailable until the following Summer.

In the new mixed ureaforms, the types which combine both ureaform resins and other sources of nitrogen, the home gardener has just such a material today.

APPLY IN AUGUST

Here it is important to know the difference between spring and fall growth of grasses. During periods with short days, reduced light intensity and when light tends toward the red end of the spectrum instead of the blue, the growth of roots is favored at the expense of the tops.

This means that the fall-fed lawn goes into winter with a strong root system, an important factor in lawn health. When the main fertilizer application is made in spring, however, and the fall feeding omitted, tops soon outgrow roots, creating a situation where disease can quickly weaken the turf.

There are two possible ways to handle this problem. The simplest is to use a mixture ureaform fertilizer in August, which will leave enough of a residue for normal growth in Spring, while at the same time building the root system in late Summer and Fall. This one application need not be repeated until the following August.

The other method would be a light feeding with a mixed chemical fertilizer in August, to help build the root system, plus a second application in October, the latter to carry over winter and feed in early Spring.

Old-time British practices called for the application of organic fertilizers in late Fall, on the theory that these "broke-down" during the Winter.

Modern research has shown that the application of dried sheep manure, a sewerage sludge or similar organic plant foods in Fall tend to build up the snow mould fungus organism, thus causing more harm than they do good. If organic fertilizers are used, it is important to apply an all-purpose fungicide to control the snow mould organism.

Hundreds of Jap Beetles Trapped in This Area

The largest number of Japanese beetles trapped in the state in years have been captured in the metropolitan Detroit area within the past fortnight, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division. The total was 1,583 and most of them came from a limited area.

The Japanese beetles are highly destructive to all types of vegetation, feeding on 250 or more types of plants. Slightly larger than a fly, it has a metallic appearing bronze body and a metallic green head. Under its wing coverings it has three white dots on each side of its body.

In order to detect the presence of the pest, representatives of the State Department of Agriculture have placed 12,000 traps in the state, mainly along the southern boundaries of the state and near transportation centers. The beetle is a hitch-hiker and finds his way into Michigan on railroad cars, trucks, buses and cars.

Japanese beetle traps are often seen in parks and on private property. They are bright yellow with cone and fins and are supported by a metal rod stuck into the ground. The trap is baited with a non-poisonous aromatic substance which lures Japanese beetles for a distance of 1,000 feet.

The purpose of the traps is to determine the presence of the insect. Then adjacent areas are soil treated with chemicals that destroy the grubs in the ground where they live for 10 months before they emerge. In this state the normal time of emergence is July.

NEVER QUARANTINED

Because of its control and eradication program Michigan has never been quarantined for Japanese beetle. Department of Agriculture officials point out that only by constant work can spread of infestation be checked. In heavily infested areas in the east and some places in the middle west as many as 1,000 Japanese beetles have been counted on a single hybrid tea rose bush or fruit plant.

Booklet Tells What to Do About Moisture

If your house is bothered with moisture problems, it is probably because it lacks adequate breathing space. Many homes do not have enough ventilation to provide for vapor and moisture to escape and it becomes trapped inside and goes to work marring and depreciating many interior surfaces.

How you can avoid such a menace, or remedy a moisture problem, is explained in the booklet Menace of Moisture which is issued by the aNtional Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. For a free copy of this booklet send your name, address and request to the National Paint, Varnish nad Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington 5, D. C.

Poison Ivy Plant Is Stubborn Foe on Home Ground

The buyer of a newly purchased lot, whether in the city, suburbs or truly rural area, may find he has a beautiful but unwelcome guest that's tougher to dislodge than a visiting relative — poison ivy. This plant, a national pest, sneers at all efforts to get rid of it without a long and arduous battle.

Tree experts advise a coarse of action, with the emphasis on caution in tangling with the pest. Poison ivy will grow almost anywhere — climbing trees or growing along the ground, sometimes sending up shoots that look like miniature trees.

Among the more objectionable growths are vinelike types that clamber up tree trunks. Cutting the stems will kill the aerial portions of the vine but unfortunately won't kill the roots.

Pulling up the vines by the roots will eliminate the pest but only at considerable risk to the irate home owner. And dislodging the unwelcome guest during Winter months after leaves have fallen is likewise hazardous since the stems themselves can transmit the poison.

Experts advise a strictly chemical warfare with this rugged plant adversary. Taboo is all contact with the plant no matter how well protected the embattled home owner may be. Recommended is repeated dosages of a herbicide such as amizol, applied to the leaves.

USE CAUTION

But extreme caution is urged to keep the herbicide off the ground where it might be absorbed by the roots of nearby valued plants. In the case of large applications, only the professional arborist who is thoroughly familiar with the use of these chemical materials and the dangers inherent in their misuse should be employed.

Lays Claim on Table

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign Minister Subandrio said today that his government will not press for the U.N. Assembly to discuss Indonesia's claim to West Irian—Dutch New Guinea—at its session this fall. He said that under the present composition of the United Nations, "We could not expect to achieve the required two-thirds majority for a satisfactory resolution."

Treesitter Needed by Vacationers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N.Y. — Most recent addition to the roster of household helpers is the treesitter.

One of the national tree surgery companies suggests that vacationing families take on temporary aid to make sure the trees and shrubs receive food and water while the regular custodians are away.

As a matter of fact, anyone who plants a large garden of vegetables and flowers and who cultivates more than a basic minimum of grass and trees should stay home and tend his crops during the peak growing months — which in this section extends through September.

There is plenty of work to be done, from picking ripe fruit on schedule to applying a side feeding to the chrysanthemums at exactly the right time to obtain the finest bloom. There's always watering and spraying.

SEED-SAVING IS FUN

Those who would have mass plantings of annuals in carefully chosen colors and shades should make certain that seed heads are never allowed to form and drop or volunteer plants permitted to survive.

One of the traditional bits of advice to gardeners is to cut withering blooms of perennial phlox, so that new plants of unwanted or inferior shades do not crowd out the established plants. This is certainly true when one has, for instance, a background planting of white phlox or of pale pink.

Unless one is careful, the second generation is likely to turn out to be a rather coarse magenta.

However, one of the prettiest plants I have in my garden is a volunteer — a delicate shade of pink, the child, I suppose, of a white phlox and a deep pink.

My California poppies, which bloom over a satisfying long season, are descendants from a few plants sowed years ago and whose seed I scatter each year in new areas where I want them to grow.

I have portulaca — single, double and in all colors — popping up along edges everywhere. My forget-me-not, also from my own seed, each spring makes a blue and pink carpet under the blooming bulbs.

MARIGOLD UNSATISFACTORY

So, I have found, are cosmos, snapdragon and even calendula. And, of course, the hybrids among the petunias, columbine, snaps and other form sterile seed. Seed-saving as a sort of side hobby is fun.

But for sure-fire, guaranteed results, the best bet is fresh seed purchased from a reputable seed house.

The resulting flowers may not be as glorious as the colored illustrations on the packets, but generally speaking, they are bigger, better and stronger than home-grown.

Also, you know what the colors will be — in advance.

If you do want to save some of your own seed, allow the seed heads to dry on the plant. Then choose seed from the best blooms. Collect them and keep them over the winter in marked containers.

Russians Flocking to U.S. Exhibition in Moscow Despite Howls of Press

MOSCOW (UPI)—A barrage of criticism by the Soviet press has not dampened the average Russian's enthusiasm for the U.S. exhibition here, which gives him an unprecedented chance to satisfy his curiosity about the American way of life, it was reported today.

Guides at the exhibition, which is drawing more thn 50,000 visitors a day, said the Russians overlook no opportunity to ask pointed, personal and sometimes skeptical questions.

Officials said the initial "bugs" in operation of the exhibition have been pretty well ironed out. They estimated that everything will be running smoothly within a few days.

One key problem, the clouds of dust kicked up by visitors' feet from crumbling, Russian-laid concrete floors in exhibition buildings, appears to have been pretty well licked by coating the floors in the geodesic dome building with asphalt.

It may still be necessary, however, to repeat the treatment on the floor of the glass pavilion.

DISTANT OFFERS

Exhibition Director Harold McClellan said yesterday that offers of help in hardening the concrete had been received from as far away as Sacramento, but that he believed the asphalt was all that was needed.

(In New York, a representative of the American firm that designed the buildings said the Russians "goofed" by using inferior concrete to floor them.

("We have reports on the best Russian concrete, and that concrete would not dust," said Kent Attridge, New York office director of Welton Becket and Associates.)

The IBM experts running the Ramac computer — the "answer machine" that tells Russians about American life—said the visitors' questions mostly concerned wages and conveniences available to the American people.

★ ★ ★

"They want to know how many washing machines and automobiles the average family has," said public relations man Tom Mechling. "They ask what the wage of a waitress, steelworker or Negro in the South is, who can own a car like the ones they've seen, and how about unemployment and rents."

Guides elsewhere in the exhibition told the same story.

"They ask the most personal kind of questions—how much I make, how much my father makes and how much my apartment costs," said Al Donnelly, 38, of Oakland, Calif.

"Of course, many are skeptical and some openly believe we are lying. But by and large they go away thinking."

All over the exhibition, Russians are feeling textures and sizing up machines, mentally comparing them with similar Soviet products.

"That's just what we want them to do," one official said.

Resorts Group Hits Proposed Hotel Tax

BAY CITY (AP)—A Michigan tourist promotion agency has complained that proposed elimination of sales tax exemptions on hotels and motel rooms "would have a discouraging effect on the state's 650 million dollar a year tourist industry."

The East Michigan Tourist Assn. —representing 400 motels, resorts and hotels in the central and northeastern part of the state—registered its complaint in telegrams to legislative taxation committee chairmen.

Frank Davis, secretary-manager of the group, said, "The effort to collect a tax on the use of tourist accommodations would be out of proportion to the estimates of revenue the tax would produce."

Republican Senators have proposed the levy as part of their latest tax package. They estimate it would net the state about four million dollars a year.

Selling Blood to Free Convict After 16 Years?

DETROIT (UPI) — A convict who sold his blood to finance a new trial has freedom in sight.

James Lynch, a 52-year-old Jackson Prison inmate, pleaded guilty of second degree murder yesterday at his second trial in the shooting of a tavern owner.

Lynch, who has served 16 years of a life sentence, will be eligible for parole in three and a half months under his new sentence.

For 16 years, Lynch sold his blood for $5 a pint to raise money to buy a transcript of his trial and pay the expenses of bringing a witness to Detroit.

Last May, Circuit Judge Carl Weideman granted the new trial on grounds Lynch was found guilty "as charged" instead of on a specific degree of murder.

House Wants Missile Check

Military Construction Bill Passes; Includes Rockets Funds Control

United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Thursday approved a compromise $1,225,475,150 military construction bill that would give Congress a double check on growing U.S. outlays for missiles, airplanes and warships.

The measure, approved by voice vote, also endorsed the Defense Department's new "master" air defense plan, designed to settle an army-air force row over their Nike-Hercules and Bomarc anti-aircraft missiles.

The bill was cut almost 10 per cent below the $1,356,290,000 President Eisenhower originally requested for military construction in the current fiscal year. It compared with $1,252,608,000 originally voted by the House and $1,211,480,000 by the Senate.

The Senate now must act on the measure. It merely authorizes the new outlays in separate legislation to provide the actual cash now is before the House Appropriations Committee.

The effect is to give the House and Senate Armed Services Committees a chance to review the spending plans before the actual money requests go to the appropriations committees of the two Houses.

House members of the conference committee which drew up the compromise bill said they "cannot over-emphasize" their concern over the huge amounts of money being spent for planes and missiles.

Women 'Mother' Resort Town

By MARY PRIME

EAST HAMPYON, N. Y. (UPI)—A fashionable ocean resort town with a New England flavor has been tied to women's apron strings for 64 years —and loves it.

Since 1895, women from 18 to 90 years have mothered East Hampton, N. Y., through the town's strongest civic force —the Ladies' Village Improvement Society, founded to preserve historical landmarks and beauty and to work for the general welfare.

★ ★ ★

In the early days, the ladies fought for good roads and hired men with sprinkling carts to wet the dusty lanes in summer. Women put up the first street lights—kerosene lamps — and agitated for village parks.

Later, they erected the first community Christmas trees. They planted roses around the railroad station and painted it white — the first white station on Long Island.

THEY WERE PIONEERS

"They were pioneers — and still are," said Jeannette Edwards Rattray, newspaper editor and author who has been a member of the L.V.I.S. since 1926.

"Sometimes men think they're a nuisance, but in general, the men follow where the women lead," Mrs. Rattray added.

Today, the L.V.I.S. — 450-members strong, including year-round and summer resients — doctors sick trees, maintains parks and village greens, helps correct drainage and erosion problems, feeds ducks in local ponds and helps maintain a nature trail. It preserves historical sites, the library and guild hall, gives funds to the town's four churches, the neighborhood house, animal shelter and nearby hospital. It contributes to a high-school scholarship fund and an exchange student program, and sponsors a scholarship. Organizations such as the Girl Scouts also can petition for funds.

In addition, the L.V.I.S. presents "chewy" subjects for study — parking facilities, school problems, taxes, said Mrs. Ellery S. James, president. She is a grandmother and handsome, dynamic woman who has been a member since 1918.

FAIR EARNS MONEY

Money for these projects is obtained mainly through a one-day fund-raising event, the L.V.I.S. Fair, which will be held July 31. The fair, started 61 years ago, runs from morning until midnight. This year it will include a fashion show, ranging from the latest styles to costumes worn before 1900; a playland; professional puppet show; and fortune tellers.

Booths will include aprons, cakes, books, mystery packages, flowers and a "country store." Lunch, tea and a barbeque dinner will be available. There will be square dancing and a musical program of old songs. Sightseers can take the "cook's tour" of showplace homes.

On August 12, the group will sponsor a world movie premier of George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," starring Burt Lancaster and Laurence Olivier.

From April 1 to Nov. 15, the L.V.I.S. also runs the Bargain Box, a shop of second-hand items from luggage to clothing.

Profits from these projects reflect the diligence of the members. Last year, earnings from the fair and movie premier totaled $24,489. Most of the money is spent on care and planting of trees, and staffing a tree expert, Mrs. James explained in an interview. A reserve fund of $2,000 was held last year to treat Dutch elm disease and for repairs in case of a hurricane.

Example: she received a call recently, complaining about barefooted shoppers in the supermarket. Result: soon the chamber of commerce will post signs requesting "shoed" feet "for safety and sanitation."

Several Showers Honor Bloomfield Bride-to-Be

Miss Woolson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Thurber Woolson of Bloomfield Hills and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Molotky of Birmingham. The wedding will take place at Kirk in the Hills.

Karen Manley, maid of honor started festivities on July 9 with an "Around the Clock" shower and dessert. On July 15, Dorothy Jones had a bathroom shower.

Mrs. Fred Finkenauer Jr., and Mrs. Edward Henning honored the bride-elect at a luncheon and shower. Guests were a group of Mrs. Woolson's friends who are part of her church circle from Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church. The circle was formed as a Bride's Circle 27 years ago.

Mrs. Edmund Pratt entertained at a luncheon and bridge party July 25 at Sylvan Glen Golf Club and Mrs. Warren Pease Jr. honored the bride at a dessert and linen shower.

Tomorrow Mrs. L. Irving Woolson, one of the bride's aunts, will entertain Miss Woolson and another bride-to-be, Adele Youel. Miss Youel is marrying Mrs. Woolson's nephew Russell N. Chappell Sept. 5.

Mrs. Sam T. Keller is giving a luncheon and personal shower for Miss Woolson Aug. 7 at Grosse Pointe Yacht Club.

Miss Woolson and her mother will entertain the bridal attendants at a tea Aug. 11 at their home. The rehearsal dinner will be given by the bridegroom's family.

Abby Says: Go to Another State

He's Not Interested in Wedding if Blood Test Is Requirement

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old woman and my sweetheart is 75. He has asked me to marry him. I was his housekeeper for nine years. He is a very nervous man and he told me that if he had to take a blood test at his age he would just as soon forget about the wedding. If the law insists on a blood test I am afraid he will back out on me. Do you think we need one?

ABBY

DEAR OLDSTERS: Call your clergyman (or the justice of the peace) and ask if a blood test is required in your state. If it is, find out which state nearest to you does not require one. (Maybe you can needle him into a little trip.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After returning home from a party, my gentleman friend came into my apartment for a little snack. He had worked all day and was very tired. After having a bite to eat, he flopped on my sofa and in a few minutes he was sound asleep.

I let him sleep for about an hour, then I shook him and told him to get up and go home.

He was very angry and hurt. He said I should have thrown a blanket over him and let him sleep.

I told him I lived in an apartment and didn't want to give my neighbors anything to talk about. He thinks because we plan to be married one of these days, I am childish. I would like your opinion.

TRUDY

DEAR TRUDY: You were wise. A woman's reputation is like the authenticity of an oil painting. Once it is questioned —it is never quite the same.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Before our baby was born my husband told his father if it was a boy we'd name it after him (Charles) and not knowing this I told my father I would name it after him (Herman). Well, it was a boy and I was in a predicament so we named the baby "Charles Herman." My parents live out of town. When they come here they call the baby "Herman." They think that's his first name, but it's his middle name. Naturally my husband's folks call the baby "Charlie." I feel so cheap about this I could die. The baby is still an infant but when he gets old enough to answer to his name, won't this confuse him?

NANCY

DEAR NANCY: I hope by the time the baby can answer to his name you will have gathered the courage to tell your folks that the baby's MIDDLE name is "Herman." Name the next one "Herman" (or Hermine). Better check it out with your husband before you make any more promises.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a wonderful guy but he has one bad fault. He always has his nose in a book, magazine or newspaper. Do you think he is happy with his home life? I sometimes think he is bored. He says he loves me, but he doesn't act like it. Please answer this.

DEPRESSED

DEAR DEPRESSED: Why don't YOU read? Select the items in this newspaper that will make good conversation (don't forget the sports section) and strike up a lively conversation with your husband about it.

When a person reads in the presence of another, he is usually doing it in self-defense. Give him something more interesting to do, and he'll read YOU — loud and clear.

Mrs. Grundy Still Frowns on This Trip

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: A very good friend of mine is driving to the West Coast on business. Before I knew of his going, I made plans to fly to the Coast to visit relatives for several weeks. We will be going about the same time and he suggested that I cancel my plane reservation and drive with him.

"I would like to do this very much as it would not only save me plane fare but would also give me an opportunity of seeing more of the country, but neither of us want to do anything that would taint our good names. Would the laws of propriety sanction our traveling this distance together?"

Answer: Without a chaperon, I am sorry to say that you two alone would certainly risk criticism.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is to be married very soon now. I think we have everything under control but there is one detail about which my wife still bothers. It is the matter of seating the guests in the church. You have said the family and friends of the bride sit on one side of the church and the family and friends of the groom on the other.

"In our case our relatives are few and our friends live at too far a distance to come, whereas, the bridegroom's guest list is very long. Do you think it would look better to seat some of his friends on our side, or is this suggestion out of order?"

Answer: Your suggestion is entirely correct. Your family would occupy as many pews as they require, and the groom's friends would then be given all of those left over. In this way many of them would be given better seats than they could have had otherwise.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When encountering an acquaintance in a restaurant who is apparently dining alone, is it proper to ask her if I may join her, or must this suggestion come from her?"

Answer: The invitation should come from her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to explain the reason for having to refuse an invitation?"

Answer: To a very intimate friend you would naturally say: "I'm sorry, but I am lunching with Jane" or, "We are going to the Browns." To someone you know only slightly, you say regretfully, "I'm so sorry, I have an engagement for that day."

Burls Invite Guests Out for a Luau

Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Burl of Pontiac Trail and Mr. and Mrs. Jay McDale of Highmeadow drive were hosts to several guests at an Hawaiian Luau July 25 at the Burls home in Walled Lake.

★ ★ ★

Upon entering the back yard guests were in a South Sea Island atmophere with carnation leis, Hawaiian music, palm trees, flowers, fruits and a pig roast. Fried chicken, roast corn, baked salmon and tossed salad completed the menu.

★ ★ ★

The traditional Hawaiian hula was performed by Ritsuko Eby, a former student of the University of Tokyo where she studied music and interpretive dancing.

Dior Raises Hemlines for Purpose

By GAY PAULEY

Several designers and manufacturers in the nation's garment center observed, that:

— They already are deep in shipments of their fall and winter orders and skirts are 16 and 17 inches from the floor.

— The vagaries of the hemline are getting to be a tiresome business for manufacturer and consumer alike;

— What Dior does in Paris doesn't mean what every other designer will do in America.

"This hem up and down is giving me a big pain," said Pauline Trigere, who is French-born but says she wouldn't be caught in Paris "this time of the year." The designer, twice winner of the American Fashion Critics award, said her collections never are influenced by Paris.

"My bet is that women will wear them (hems) where they darn well want to anyway. There's been so much about skirts that I think it's kind of a bore. Up and down, up and down."

The House of Dior hoisted skirts to the knee and above in its custom collection shown fashion reporters yesterday; other Paris designers have lowered them. Last year, at this same time, it was Dior's chief designer Yves St. Laurent who also did the opposite—while other couturiers were raising hems, he hauled them down to mid-calf.

Tom Mallo, suit designer for the David Crystal firm here, said he thought St. Laurent's tack had good reason. "He is saying that he doesn't want hemlines any longer," said Mallo, who trained in Paris. "If Dior didn't halt the downward trend, which all Paris seems to be doing, we would have an extreme — long, long skirts. St. Laurent makes his point with the exaggerated shortness."

Sue Condon, designer for 10 years for Cadillac Dress Corp., a volume house, said that "All Paris is doing is confusing the consumer. The woman doesn't know what length to buy. But I can't see very many women going for a skirt which shows the knee. Even the best legs don't look good in that length."

Costellos Plan Hawaiian Luau for Saturday

The Pine Lake home of Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Costello will be the scene of an Hawaiian luau Saturday evening given by their son, Russell T. Costello Jr.

★ ★ ★

Guests will assemble at the home of Milton J. Strong of Orchard Lake for cocktails and then travel by boat to the Costello home where they will be greeted by the Costello grandchildren who will distribute leis.

The dinner will feature foods typical of the islands.

Among those attending will be Sharon Wolf of Lathrup Village and her houseguest, Michelle Loyer, of Quimper, France, with Richard Sheridan of Detroit; Mary Jane Rauen of Grosse Pointe and Ralph King of Dearborn; Carol Fox and Stuart Bower, both of Bloomfield Hills; Mary Measel of Grosse Pointe and William Fritts of Redford. Milton Strong's guest is Nancy Cole of Flint.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Jean Tweit, bride-elect of Charles F. Bosley was honored at a bridal shower Tuesday evening given by Mrs. Lyle Schreiber at her home on West End street.

Miss Tweit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph T. Tweit of East Mansfield street will be married Sept. 12. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jerome Bosley of Birmingham.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Tweit, Mrs. Bosley, Mrs. R. K. Carr, Mrs. William Stasiuk, Mrs. Fay Magner, Mrs. E. E. Alexander, Mrs. J. N. Cooper, Mrs. Hazel Barnes, Mrs. R. R. Jones and Mrs. Edwin B. Jackson.

Others attending were Mrs. Elmer Fangboner, Mrs. M. J. Ettinger, Mrs. Hoyt Joyner, Mrs. Von Bandy, Mrs. John E. Hardy, Ruth Ann Bandy, Andrea Roberts, Mrs. M. E. Winchester, Mrs. T. W. Bosley and Mrs. Donald Jauss.

Mrs. Gordon Gives Luncheon

Entertains Mrs. Sellers and Her Guest

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Mrs. Steele R. Sellers and her house guest Mrs. Robert Vickers of Baltimore, Md., were entertained at a luncheon Thursday by Mrs. John F. Gordon.

Others among those who have entertained for them are Mrs. Everett E. Wells, Mrs. Rawson Valle and Mrs. Charles L'Hommedieu.

Mrs. Gordon's luncheon guest list included Mrs. L'Hommedieu and her daughter, Mrs. Steele L. Sellers, Mrs. Langley Smart of Rochester and Mrs. Alan Chapel of St. Clair.

Mrs. Spencer D. Hopkins, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. Harold R. Chapel, Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford, Mrs. Lee Durham and Mrs. Everett E. Wells of Birmingham and Bloomfield were also present.

★ ★ ★

A "brunch" will be given Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Collins at their home on Larchlea road in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. D. Peterson. The Petersons plan to move to Fox Chapel, Pa.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. James N. Nelson is giving a luncheon today in her Lafayette Plaisance apartment, Detroit, for Mrs. Clyde Thompson of Oklahoma City. Mrs. Thompson and her two children are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Mosby of Shirley drive.

★ ★ ★

Newcomers to the Tottenham road neighborhood in Bloomfield Village were welcomed with a Sunday breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Beardon. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. Paul T. Lahti, formerly of Fairfax road, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Emmett Judge who moved from Buckingham road.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Judd will motor to Missoula, Mont. at the end of August to pick up their daughters at Lost Trail Camp, near the city. The family will drive on to California for a visit to Disneyland.

Have You Tried This?

Crabmeat and Cheese Co-Star in Hot Dip

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Want something different to serve as a dip at your next party? Try this crabmeat recipe which has become very popular in Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Jim Couzens shared the recipe with us. She was less generous with information about herself. However, we know she has six children; we're sure they take up the majority of her time.

HOT CRAB DIP
By Mrs. Jim Couzens

3 packages (8 oz.) cream cheese
3 cans crabmeat
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup white wine
1 teaspoon confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon onion juice or minced onion
Seasoning salt

Soften cream cheese in a double boiler. Add other ingredients. Mix well and heat thoroughly. Serve from a chafing dish. ¼

Any leftover dip may be frozen.

Sea Rose

4-pc. place setting $26.75
6-pc. place setting $38.75

a new pattern in solid silver by Gorham. A truly fine example of art in sterling, it is an exquisite and symbolic interpretation of the beauty of the rose - the mystery of the sea. The sculptured rose motif is, too, a matchmate for many china and crystal designs.

Parents Are Afraid of Moral Uncertainty

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

George won't wear his new flannel pants to a birthday party lest they expose him to ridicule of his friends. So we've taken him to the store to exchange them for pants that will meet their approval.

Now, before catching our bus, we're absorbing an ice cream soda to restore our sense of life's sweetness and smoothness.

"I want more chocolate syrup on my sundae," George says.

"No, dear," we say. "It's rich enough with all those nuts. You don't want to upset your stomach."

"It won't upset my stomach," George retorts. And shoving his sundae away mutters, "I'm not going to finish that old ice cream without more syrup."

We do not say, "All right. I've just about finished my soda, too." Instead our "No" is already in process of reversal.

We are thinking, "Maybe the child is right. Maybe more syrup won't upset his stomach." And unable to stand the uncertainty involved with the possibility of being wrong about George's stomach, we say, "Could we have more syrup on this sundae, please?"

We are not aware of this fear. So all our youngsters have to do to get us to back down from a "No" is to challenge its rightness. We have all kinds of excuses to explain our uneasiness with discipline decisions.

CAN'T STAND NO

In the end, they all boil down to one: safety is absolute rightness. The danger involved is the possibility that our "No" is wrong is the one thing we "security" worshiping Americans just can't stand.

We are going to have to learn to stand it.

Because the old safety provided by the belief in absolute rightness that enabled our grandparents to deliver firm discipline blew up at Hiroshima. What with cold wars and hydrogen warheads, it will be a long, long time before we can recover it. So we'd better relinquish the fiction of absolute rightness to leaders of the Soviet Union and stop wanting a thing that only exists in the imaginations of babies and fanatics.

If we do, we can recover our ability to deliver firm discipline on a new realistic basis. We can accept moral uncertainty as a fact with which man has always had to live — and bravely stand by our "No" in spite of its limited rightness.

To Attend ADK Meet in Miami

Mrs. E. Cleo Wiley of Otter avenue and Wilma Webb of Cass Lake avenue are leaving Saturday to attend the first international convention of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority in Miami Beach, Fla. Mrs. Wiley is state president of the group and Miss Webb is president of Rho chapter. After the convention they will take a cruise to Nassau.

Michigan Alpha Delta Kappa is sending around 35 delegates to the convention which opens Aug. 9. Rho, Zeta and Epsilon chapters in Pontiac will be represented. At present the sorority has a membership of around 13,000 with approximately 550 chapters.

By installing 2 Canadian chapters in 1958, Michigan ADK made the sorority an international one. Alaska and Hawaii chapters were added this year.

Future Bride Feted at Home of Mrs. Allen

Ruth Ann Bandy, bride-elect of Robert O. Joyner, was honored at a bridal shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Allen on Oliver street. Mrs. Hugh Parks and Mrs. Don Jauss served as hostesses for the affair.

Miss Bandy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Von Bandy of Lowell street, will be married Aug. 15 at Bethany Baptist Church to Robert O. Joyner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Joyner, of Osceola drive.

Guests attending were Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. Joyner, Mrs. Robert Carr, Mrs. Paul Benson, Linda Schellenberg, Mrs. Edward Bradow, Jean Tweit and Mrs. C. H. Baynes.

Others were Mrs. Daniel McDonald, Mrs. Floyd Parks, Mrs. David Summers, Mrs. Leo MacDonald, Mrs. James Deeg, Mrs. Thomas Robb and Mrs. Charles Parks.

If you are whole or half heartedly in the middle of a late spring cleaning, you may be cleaning your walls. Remember washing wallpapers are washable. But you can prevent streaks or stains by washing walls from the floor up. If you start at the top and wash down, the dribbles are hard to suds away.

Give Pink, Blue Shower

Mrs. Ford E. White of Ascot road was honored at a pink and blue shower Tuesday evening at the Fenmore street home of Mrs. Edmund Cox. Cohostesses were Mrs. Claud Edwards and Mrs. John E. Cox.

Guests were Mrs. Clifford B. LaFaber, Mrs. O. W. Roeser, Mrs. Eva Amann, Mrs. George Crissman, Mrs. Maude Bartles, Mrs. Oville Edwards, Charlotte, Lamphere, Mrs. Thomas A. Carter, Audrey Carter, Mrs. Robert Edwards and Mrs. Donald Bartles.

Others were Mrs. Lois Brown, Mrs. Conway Lewis, Mrs. William Walrath, Mrs. Gordon Grubb, Mrs. William Amann, Mrs. Clabe Edwards, Mrs. Paul Hawkins, Mrs. Richard Newlon, Mrs. Lewis Ingram, and Jean Ingram.

Concluding the guest list were Mrs. Nina Finch, Donna Rae Edwards, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. Olive White, Jane Ann Cox, Mrs. Jack White, Mrs. Ralph Grubb, Jeromey Edwards, Mrs. Dale Patenaude Marjorie Bartles and Mrs. Ruth Briggs.

Family Has Picnic for Birthday Party

They included Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Prevette, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Prevette Jr., Judy's parents, and her brother, Robert, and sister, Joanne; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Prevette and children, John Jr., Richard, David and Pamela of Smithfield, N.C. and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Elliot and their children, Phillip, James, Ruth Ann and Steven of Clarkston.

Use warm water for sprinkling clothes. It dampens garments more quickly and evenly than cold water.

Celebrate Birthday at Picnic-Party

The ninth birthday of Janet Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elva Reynolds of Shimmons road, was celebrated at a picnic-party held at Bald Mountain Recreation Area Tuesday. Hostesses at the affair were Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. A. O. Kelly of Shimmons road.

Guests were Janet Furr, Nancy Tripp, Linda Kelly, Kay Pfister, Barbara Vincil, Sande and Stephanie Garriott, and Janet's three sisters, Betty, Lois, and Carol Reynolds.

The youngsters were served watermelon and spent the afternoon playing games.

No Weight Gain

Develop Hips With Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "Is there any way to add an inch or so to the hips without gaining any other place?"

A. The only way to increase this measurement without gaining weight is to develop the hip muscles with exercise.

Q. "Is there any special food or medicine or anything that will make a person grow? My relatives are all average height and above. I am 15 years old and only 5 feet tall."

A. There is nothing I know of which you can do to become taller, except to improve posture. Unless you have just about perfect posture you can add an inch or so by improvement in this department. Keep your spine stretched to its full length by holding your back straight. You may not have yet reached your full height. Folks sometimes become taller after your age.

Q. "The pores on my nose are very large. Cleansing daily has been in vain. My friends told me to wash my face with hot cloths to shrink the pores and then to splash cold water over it. Still no results. These are very noticeable. Can you help me?"

A. Your friends probably thought of this routine because it stimulates circulation. The heat opens the pores rather than shrinks them. Try using a complexion brush when you wash your face. Use it gently with a rotary motion. After rinsing the face thoroughly, cold water will be helpful. Also apply an astringent. A skin specialist would be able to prescribe a lotion which would be shrinking, too.

Q. "I am a teenager who goes to school five days a week and works afternoons of the other two days. Since I am busy all week I can't get a good tan. Is there an artificial way to get a tan without lying in the sunshine? I lose my tan quickly and if I do not get out into the sun continuously I lose it."

A. I do not know how you can do this unless you lie under a sunlamp regularly. However, there are suntan make-ups you can use when you wish to have that smart summer tan for some special occasion.

Families See Couple Wed in Evening Services

Before members of their immediate families, Mrs. Natalie K. Marsh of Illinois avenue and Daniel Ralph Veasey of East Iroquois road were married Thursday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Dr. William Marbach officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. Marsh is the widow of Frank H. Marsh.

Following the service a dinner was held at Hotel Waldron. The couple will leave Saturday for a wedding trip to New England, Quebec and the St. Lawrence Seaway. They will make their home on Illinois avenue when they return.

Guests at the service and dinner were Dione Veaey and Mr. and Mrs. D. Richard Veazey and Jane Marsh of Pontiac. Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marsh and daughter Sue of Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marsh of Rochelle, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knapp of Ann Arbor.

Fur to Trim Girls' Coats

Mom won't be the only woman in the family to wear fur this fall. Back-to-school and dressy coats for little girls are trimmed with fur — fake and real. Sports coats are trimmed with casual furs like raccoon.

One manufacturer has designed a fur shirt — a bulky sweater of panda-like pile with ribbed turtle neck and cuffs. Fur hats and handbags are shown to give cloth coats an elegant touch. Milliner John Frederics has done a line of furry chapeaux in beige and caramel lapin.

Day-to-day sheath to wear with or without elegant overskirt. Ultra-easy—choose cotton, crepe or linen for dress; lace or net for overskirt. Tomorrow's pattern: Misses' fashion.

'Oh Lord, I Need More Suntan'

Pioneer Stewardesses Don Shorts

By GAY PAULEY

The first airline stewardess to don Bermudas as an official uniform dropped by our office today to announce that shorts are more comfortable than suits aloft and she hasn't been pinched yet by an ardent male.

The stewardess is Miss Carolyn Cameron, a native of Douglaston, New Brunswick, Canada, and cute enough to stop traffic anywhere. She has been a stewardess for Eagle Airways for 10 months; a wearer of the new shorts uniform for two weeks.

"The first flight (from Bermuda to Nassau) was the hardest," said the freckle-faced, 110-pound stewardess. "One look at my knees and I thought, 'oh Lord, I need more suntan'."

Not all of Eagle's stewardesses have converted, or being converted although the airline hopes for eventual conformity.

When the airways first announced the proposed change, a howl of protest went up from stewardesses and crew alike. But the airlines president, Harold L. Graham Jr., insisted that the Bermudas were typical of apparel in the sub-tropical isle and, since Bermuda was the company base, the shorts were altogether fitting.

Pilots and other crewmen's protests have won to date—they still are flying the New York - Baltimore - Washington - Bermuda - Nassau runs in standard blues with long pants.

BALK AT FIRST

Carolyn said the stewardesses at first said absolutely not—they didn't feel nature intended them showing their gams to the traveling public. They also complained that they have enough trouble juggling trays, feeding babies, mixing martinis and adjusting seat belts without having the possible extra chore of fending off overly friendly male passengers.

And, some just thought shorts were not dignified apparel.

Friendly persuasion so far has gotten most of the girls into the new uniform; but one stoutly holds out on grounds she just isn't built for shorts.

★ ★ ★

A company spokesman said any holdouts probably will be transferred to "behind-the-counter" jobs, although this decision is not definite.

Cash Crisis Publicity Hurts

Bonds Cost State More

LANSING (UPI) — State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said Michigan had to pay about two million dollars more for a 50-million-dollar highway bond yesterday because of "lousy publicity" about its fiscal woes.

"We paid through the nose," Brown said after a New York syndicate sold the bond at an interest rate of 4.28.

The rate on the bond issue, which will be used to help finance 858 miles of construction, was the highest ever paid by Michigan for highway bonds.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the rate "clearly reflected recent adverse national publicity about the state's cash crisis."

★ ★ ★

"I estimate," Mackie said, "based on the bond index, we paid .25 to .3 per cent more in interest than we would have if the state's general fund crisis had been solved, even though highway bonds are guaranteed by constitutionally earmarked gas and weight taxes which are in no way related to the shortage of money in the state's general fund."

Matador Out of Danger After Valencia Goring

MADRID (AP) — Matador Luis Miguel Dominguin, gored in the Valencia Arena Thursday, is reported out of danger. His doctor said the gash is more painful than dangerous.

With Little Sleep, No Laundry

Pat, Dick Appear Well-Dressed

By ALINE MOSBY

SVERDLOVSK, U.S.S.R. (UPI) —The Richard Nixons are still managing to look fresh, well-dressed and pleasant in the interior of Russia despite little sleep and no quick laundry service.

Their schedule is grueling — jet plane into a city, straight from the airport to factory tours, and running from banquet to ballet.

But Vice President Nixon's well-tailored suits, of grayish blue or brown for day and dark blue for night, look as neat as a magazine ad.

Mrs. Nixon also is a good advertisement for United States as she steps from the airplane, usually in a printed silk dress, or a silk suit, a small hat and black bag and shoes.

At night she appears in a black cocktail suit or brightly colored dress, even though, as in Novosibirsk, she had only 20 minutes to change for the ballet.

"After touring 54 countries, I've learned to pack our clothes so they don't wrinkle," she explained.

NO TRAVEL IRON

"I always buy non-crushable clothes. I didn't even bring a travel iron with me. And at night I wash out my stockings and lingerie."

In addition to being treated to Russian hospitality, the Nixons are being almost smothered with another local custom — at least four meals a day.

The famous Russian caviar shows up on the menu at nearly every meal, including breakfast. The Nixons also have sampled beef stroganoff and fresh tomatoes and cucumbers, the most common fresh vegetables available in the Soviet Union.

SHE'S NOT HUNGRY

On nearly every factory or institute visit there is the usual spread on a table in the director's office — Russian candy, oranges, apples, soft drinks and mineral water.

"But I'm hardly eating anything," Mrs. Nixon said. "I don't get hungry on trips like this."

Californian Nixon said he was happy to discover "very good' fresh orange juice for his morning breakfast in Siberia.

"Even in California you often get frozen orange juice in a restaurant," he said.

GOOD AD FOR U. S. — Mrs. Richard (Patricia) Nixon, wife of the vice president, clasps a gift bouquet presented to her at one of the Russian airports. She has been souvenir shopping, and is now traveling with the vice president who is inspecting mines and factories in Siberia. In spite of no facilities and a most hurried schedule, she always manages to look fresh and well-dressed. She carries no travel iron with her, but says she has learned how to pack clothes so they will not be wrinkled.

Foreign Car Sales Are Up

Volkswagen Leads All Others for 1st 5 Months of This Year

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's Automotive reports said today that 232,232 imported cars were registered in the United States during the first five months of 1959. This compared with 128,331 in the first five months of last year.

Ward's figures showed Volkswagen with 42,316 registrations, which represent actual sales to consumers, and Renault second with 30,265. Other makes in the top 10 in order were the English Ford, Opel, Simca, Fiat, Hillman, Triumph, Vauxhall and Volvo. These 10 represented 75.2 per cent of the import sales.

The trade paper also estimated total world production of automobiles for the first half of 1959 reached 5,672,000 of which it said the United States produced 58 per cent. Last year for the first time the U.S. share of the world total slipped below half, at 49 per cent.

Ward's said West Germany was the second largest producer during the first six months closely followed by England and France.

Says Norwegian Girl Might Marry Rockefeller's Son

OSLO, Norway (UPI) —An Oslo newspaper said today that a Norwegian girl has been asked to be a witness at the wedding of Steven Rockefeller and the Norwegian girl he met while she was a maid in the Rockefeller home.

But there still has been no confirmation of reports that the 23-year-old son of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Anne-Marie Rasmussen are planning to be married.

"We are just good friends," the newspaper "Aftenposte" quoted Rockefeller as saying when asked about marriage plans. He has been visiting the Rasmussen family in Soegne after finishing his military service.

Aftenposte said an unidentified Norwegian girl in nearby Kristiansand claimed she has received an invitation to the wedding and was asked to be a witness.

Another Oslo newspaper, "Verdens Gang," said yesterday that the couple even has set the date; some time in mid-August.

Neither report could be confirmed.

His Fine No Puzzle

PASSAIC, N. J. (UPI) — Joseph Sauro Jr., charged with tearing up a speeding ticket, was ordered to fit the pieces back together again in magistrate Joseph Teich's court. Sauro completed that jig-saw puzzle. Teich then fined him $80 and suspended his license for 90 days.

21 Years, $50,000 Per Man

Heavy Sentences Await 8 Convicted 'Gamblers'

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Twelve weary jurors Thursday night convicted eight alleged gamblers of conspiracy, excise tax evasion and failure to register as a gambling syndicate.

Maximum penalties would be 21 years in prison sentences and $50,000 in fines for each man. U.S. Dist. Judge Cale J. Holder ordered a pre-sentence investigation and set sentencing for Sept. 10.

The defendants retained their composure as they heard the verdicts. Their attorneys did not indicate whether the convictions would be appealed, although one said "that's a very good possibility."

The eight are Leo Shaffer, 59, and Jules Horwick, 55, both of Chicago; Philip Share, 55, and Irwin Gordon, 42, both of Las Vegas, Nev.; James Tamer, 47, Miami; Joseph Jacobs, 64, and Charles L. (Buck) Sumner, 72, both of Indianapolis, and Edgar M. Wyatt, 61, Terre Haute.

They remained free under $10,000 bond each. Don Tabbert, U.S. district attorney, asked that bonds be increased to $25,000 for Share, Gordon, Shaffer, Horwick and Tamer "because of their past criminal convictions" Judge Holder denied the request.

The jury convicted the defendants on all five counts against them. They were charged with conspiring to attempt to evade the 10 per cent tax on receipts as a wagering syndicate, with attempted evasion in each of three months, and of failure to register with the Internal Revenue Service as a gambling syndicate.

The jurors deliberated only 3½ hours. The courtroom was nearly empty when they sent word that they were ready to report.

The 12 jurors and four alternates, all married men, had been under strict guard since June 24. Their only contact with their families was a nightly telephone call.

They heard four solid weeks of testimony, seven hours of closing arguments and 5½ hours of instructions, the latter extended by a final defense objection.

The defendants did not take the stand, and the defense called no witnesses.

The charges were based on 10 weeks of operation in a downtown office here in the fall of 1957. Internal Revenue Service agents raided the headquarters Nov. 29, 1957.

Public Schools at Dallas Told: Plan Integration

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A federal judge Thursday refused to order integration of Dallas public schools this fall but he told the school board to "put your house in order" for integration which he said will surely come.

"You are going to integrate your schools. The question is when," said 82-year-old Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

The hearing was held on a petition filed by attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People asking for immediate integration. During testimony, however, they indicated they would be willing to wait until 1960.

Chrysler of Canada Buys Land Tract Near Toronto

WINDSOR (AP)—Ron W. Todgham President of Chrysler of Canada today announced that the company has purchased a large tract of land in the metropolitan Toronto area.

The property, he said, will be held for development at some future date.

It comprises more than 29 acres of land located close to highways 400 and 401 on Dixon road in Etobicoke Township.

Jane Fonda Is Latest Second Generation Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP — She's a trim young beauty with golden hair and familiar eyes. When you hear her name, you realize where you have seen those eyes before.

THOMAS

She's Jane Fonda, 21-year-old daughter of Henry and latest of the second generation of movie names to seek fame in Hollywood. She appears to be off to a better start than most. She has the star-role like this would have had years of training. They would have done stock plays and television and other movies. I haven't had that. I have to make good in a hurry—or else."

★ ★ ★

She'll have plenty of moral support. Two other godfathers are Jimmy Stewart and John Swope, producer - husband of Dorothy McGuire.

"Not much help, because he has been gone a lot in recent years," she said. "But I've gotten some good advice."

She had no great acting yen, she said, though she had appeared with her father in a couple of productions.

She did some fashion modeling after leaving school, then decided she wanted to try being an actress. "Dad didn't urge me on; I don't think any sensible parent seeks an entertainment career for his children these days," she said. 'But he didn't discourage me, either."

★ ★ ★

The future? She has a picture-a-year deal with Logan, but she seeks more activity than that. She cites the advice of another godfather, Swope: "the main thing about learning to act is to keep at it."

Reformatory Inmate Slugs John Kasper

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Warden Eugene Goodwyn has confirmed that racist John Kasper, serving a contempt of court sentence, was slugged in the fact by a Negro inmate at the Federal Reformatory here.

Goodwyn said the incident occurred last Saturday "without apparent provocation."

He said Kasper's head was slightly bruised and he was treated. "We will take disciplinary action against the man," Goodwyn said. "As far as we can see, Kasper didn't provoke the argument."

Marion Javits Gets Walk-On Part in Movie

NEW YORK (AP) — Marion Javits, pretty brunette wife of Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), says she is going to Hollywood Sunday to appear in a movie.

Mrs. Javits, in her early 30s and the mother of three children, said:

"It's a walk-on part. I'm not exactly launching a career, but I am looking forward to it. I've always had a hankering to do something in the theater."

★ ★ ★

Prior to marrying Javits in 1947, Mrs. Javits studied drama and was a production assistant for two Broadway shows which folded.

Mrs. Javits said she would play the secretary to the head of the FBI in Columbia's "Who Was That Lady?"

Tired Formosa Pidgeon Gets Preferential Trip

The bird dropped on the deck of the Royal Interocean Line ship Pjinegara, July 14. Crewmen found a leg band showing its home was in Formosa.

Thinks Castro Enemy Snatched in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The wife of Rafael del Pino, bitter enemy of Fidel Castro, said today he may have been shanghaied from Florida to cuba, where he faces a possible death sentence for counter-revolutionary activities.

"It was not like my husband to leave in the middle of the night, saying he would return in a few hours, then fly voluntarily to Cuba," said Mrs. Delys del Pino.

She noted Havana radio reports that another person was in the plane with Del Pino when it landed in a Cuban ambush Saturday and was set afire by machinegun bullets. Del Pino was wounded and captured.

The second man, she said, may have kidnaped her husband to deliver him to Castro. Vague reports from Cuba said the second man in the plane escaped, along with three anti-Castro leaders whom Del Pino was trying to get out of the country.

Del Pino rented the plane at Fort Lauderdale Friday and parked it at Miami's Tamiami Airport until the takeoff late that night. The airport control tower was closed at the time and the plane's takeoff was not observed.

Mrs. Del Pino has appealed to the U.S. State Department to help her husband. Both are American citizens.

Must Talk to Politically Apathetic

Direct Contact Stirs Voters

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The only effective way to get an indifferent voter to the polls is to call on him in person or make an appeal by telephone, a University of Michigan political scientist reported Thursday.

Prof. Samuel Eldersveld based this conclusion on studies made by his political science classes in Ann Arbor during 1952, 1953, 1954 and this year.

Some 500 registered voters who had not voted in a local election for seven years were divided into six different groups and asked to vote.

No contact at all was made with a control group. Six per cent of them voted. But with other groups, personal contact by university students brought out 25 per cent; sonal contact by telephone brought brought out 29 per cent, and personal cohtact by telephone brought out 24 per cent.

Out of a group contacted by three mailings, listing only information, eight per cent voted. Out of another group, contacted by three mailings, including both information and strongly worded moral appeals to vote, 12 per cent voted.

"These findings suggest you can get the apathetic out to vote," Eldersveld said. "But the only effective ways to do it are in person or by telephone. Literature may serve other kinds of purposes, but we shouldn't kid ourselves into thinking it will activate people and get them to turn out at the polls."

Eldersveld said a random sample of Wayne County (Detroit) residents showed 38 per cent got most of their political information from television, 38 per cent from newspapers and nine per cent from radio.

The survey showed, Eldersveld said, that television is terribly important in reaching the lower economic groups, the less formally educated, and lower prestige occupational classes of people in political campaigns.

Crying Mental Cruelty, Actor Divorces Wife

Good News Exciting, Celebrates Wrong Way

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —Ralph Hamilton, 40, rushed into a telephone booth to call his wife with the good news—the property they had wanted to buy was now available.

On-the-Spot Inquiry Seen in Saigon Aid Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) said today he may propose an on-the-spot inquiry to get all the facts in a controversy over the foreign aid program in Viet Nam.

Mansfield is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee which recalled American aid officials for further questioning today about administration of the program.

He asked the officials to return with a full answer to charges of irregularities in the award of a steel contract in that Southeast Asian republic.

The charges were made by Scripps-Howard writer Albert M. Colegrove, whose series of articles written from Saigon touched off the hearings.

Mansfield said he may suggest to the full Foreign Relations Committee that it send an investigator of its own to Saigon, or ask its foreign policy study group to contract for a special nongovernmental study.

Colegrove told the committee Thursday that Frank Gonder, an American business man representing Bethlehem Steel, claimed he lost out in the bidding for a steel bridge contract with Viet Nam although his bid per ton was below that of the winner. The award went to the Eurasia Corp., a firm with Belgian supply sources, Colegrove said.

"Gonder is prepared to testify under oath that a confidential informant told him two weeks before the sealed bids were opened who would get the contract," Colegrove testified.

"He is further prepared to testify that at formal bid openings at which some 58 bids were examined, there was no bid from the Eurasia Corp., opened or announced."

The chairman asked the State Department for "a full and complete statement either admitting or denying" the Gonder charges.

★ ★ ★

Foreign aid officials entered a general denial of Colegrove's charges Thursday.

MSU Has to Borrow to Meet Its Payroll

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State University had to borrow against anticipated student fees to meet its $1,500,000 payroll today.

It was another in a series of fiscal juggling steps the state has had to take in its most pressing obligations during six months of cash crisis.

MSU, the University of Michigan, and Wayne State University are due 10 million dollars from the state.

Wants FBI In on Arson Flight

House Group Would Make Fleeing Bombing, Fire Federal Offense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee voted Thursday to make it a federal crime for a person to cross a state line to escape prosecution for bombing or setting fire to any type of property.

The committee, meeting in closed session, wrote this provision into the Eisenhower administration's civil rights bill now under committee consideration.

At the same time, the committee beat down repeated attempts to water down a provision to provide school facilities for children of military personnel in any state that closes its public schools to avoid racial integration.

With these decisions, the committee postponed further consideration of the civil rights bill until next Tuesday.

The bombing provision was approved overwhelmingly. It was substituted for a narrower administration proposal that Congress make it a federal crime to flee over a state line after bombing a church or school.

As now written, the provision would permit the FBI to arrest a fugitive who fled a state after bombing or setting fire to any type of building or vehicle, specifically including private homes, churches, synagogues and religious and educational institutions, either public or private.

2 Unions Plan Strategy Covering 3 Industries

DETROIT (UPI)— The aircraft, missile and related electronics industries may have to face a joint team of the United Auto Workers Union and the International Assn. of Machinists in future contract bargaining sessions.

More than 450 delegates representing the two unions meet Wednesday in Kansas City to map strategy for next year's bargaining talks. The unions claim to represent about 600,000 aircraft and missile workers.

Sewage Job Too, Too

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI)—Louis N. Drahgon quit after working one week for the Bureau of Sanitary Sewers. His boss wrote on his brief employment record: "Tried, but just couldn't work with sewage."

Britain Readies for Leap in Space . . . in Own Way

WASHINGTON (NEA) —Britain is getting ready to take a new leap into space—in a way all its own.

Her Majesty's government has sent a team of top-flight scientists to the U.S. to see if British research instruments can't hitchhike their way into space aboard American satellites.

Wry, mustached, balding Prof. H. S. W. Masey, the nuclear physicist who'll spark Britain's space program, is head of the group.

He makes it clear in friendly, warm tones that Britain's idea of space science and America's are entirely different.

Massey is clearly unimpressed with the whole American obsession of putting a man into space. He doesn't say this directly. In fact he praises U.S. space work highly. But he makes it quite clear he doesn't think man-in-space is very important, comparatively.

Neither, apparently, do Her Majesty's Armed Forces think the prospect of putting a man out 200 or 400 miles has a great deal of military significance.

Massey and his British colleagues think rather the thing do do is send more and more instruments into space in experiments that may last a decade or more, to learn a few "basic" things.

They want to know what the stars look like when you look at them above the atmosphere. They want to develop two new kinds of astronomy to watch the stars from space—X-ray astronomy and ultra-violet astronomy.

They want to see how much energy there is in the sun's rays before the rays dissipate themselves in the atmosphere.

They want to mesure accurately how hot it is up on the fringes of space.

They want to measure how much change there is in the amount of ozone at different times and places in the sky. Ozone is a form of oxygen one and a half times as dense as the usual kind.

These are some of the dozen or so proposals Massey has in his brief case.

Not Boston Common!!

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts Parking Authority has seized about one-third of Boston Common by eminent domain and will break ground Aug. 15 for a 2,000 car garage. The move changed title to the history-hallowed ground for the first time since December 1634 when it was purchased by the town fathers for 30 pounds.

Oil Wildcatter Dies at 90 Years

Michael Late Benedum Made, Lost Fortunes, Ended With Empire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Michael Late Benedum, fabulous oil wildcatter who earned about 100 million dollars in his 90 years, died Thursday at his Pittsburgh home.

"The tired old heart stopped beating," was how a business associate described Benedum's death.

The colorful king of the oil prospectors had an unmatchable career that extended back almost to the start of the oil business in the United States. The 100th anniversary of the industry will be marked Aug. 17 in Tutusville, Pa.

He celebrated his 90th birthday July 16. At that time the balding, bespectacled Benedum said. "I am not afraid of death because I have not been afraid of life."

Mike Benedum probably discovered more oil than any other man in history. Starting with almost nothing he made and lost several fortunes before he was 50, then went on to amass an oil empire that embraced almost a score of companies.

The Belgian Congo in Africa produces an estimated 60 per cent of the free world's supply of uranium, reports the National Georgraphic Society.

Lary Has Become Tiger 'Thinking Man' Pitcher

Ten summers ago, back in 1949, a thin little kid was just one of a couple hundred youngsters taking part in the Junior Olympics being held at Wisner Stadium.

There was no one there specially to cheer for him in the hurdles, broad jump or football toss because track was just another sport carrying very little interest as far as the Jones family was concerned.

When the results of the Olympics were printed the next day, one little paragraph at the end of the story reported, "a flashy little sprinter named Hayes Jones of Crofoot school wiped out the mark for the class C 50-yard dash with a time of :6.8."

From 1950 through 1952, the power of the Junior Olympics was Washington Junior High School with such future Pontiac Central stars as Willie DeWalt, Alonzo Harris, Robert Williams and Alex Barge on the team with Jones.

Hayes never could be considered spectacular in his early track years. His achievements were mostly second and thirds in the hurdles, broad jump, high jump and dashes.

It wasn't until his junior year in high school that he suddenly moved into the limelight at PCH and in the state meets.

"We never followed track, and Hayes was so small we never thought he would even make the team when he started high school," said Mrs. Jesse Jones.

"In fact there was a $16 pair of track shoes he wanted, but we decided against it and got him a cheaper pair," she added in explaining the point that track was of little interest to the Jones household.

Hayes finished his final two years of high school with a blaze of glory, putting his name all over the state record books. He set his goal for making the Olympic team in his senior year and now is almost certain of realizing that dream when the U. S. team goes to Rome next year.

"We just know he will make the Olympic team," said Jesse Jones, Hayes' dad, "that is something he wants more than anything else."

★ ★ ★

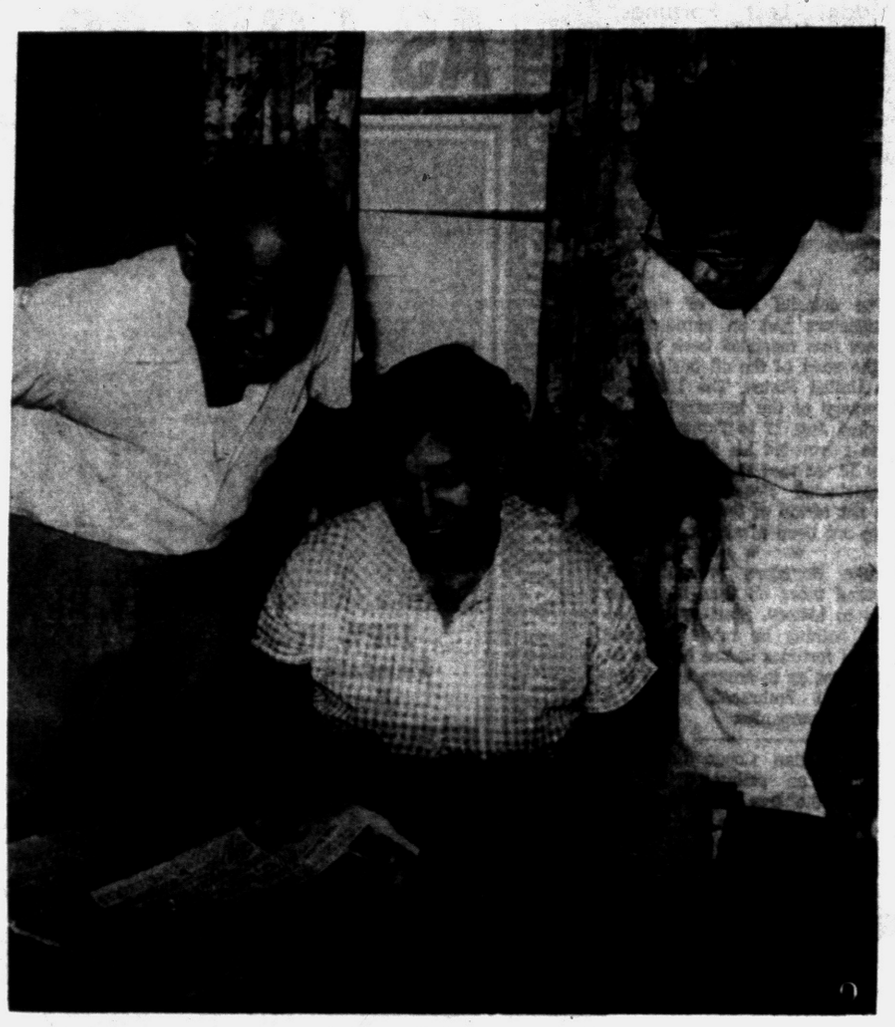

"We never watched Hayes in track until the state meet in his junior year when it was at Ann Arbor," said Mrs. Jones, "and now we never miss any story about track and we get to see him every chance we get."

Last week when Hayes won the 110-meter hurdles against the Russians in Philadelphia, his brother Alfred, a Navy man stationed in New London, Conn., was there to cheer him to victory.

When Hayes set the Michigan high school records in the high hurdles and broad jump, he pleaded for his parents to go to Ann Arbor to watch him. They did and he put on his greatest high school performance.

This was when Hayes got his $16 track shoes.

"We won't get to Rome to see him, but he knows we'll be with him and he'll win for us just as he did at Ann Arbor," Mrs. Jones finished.

Beavers Seek Damages, TV Cash

$1,800,000 Is Asked in Major Loop Suit

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Baseball's major leagues are a monopoly, the Portland Beavers said yesterday in a U.S. District Court suit that asked, among other things, $1,800,000 damages, a chunk of television money and the breakup of the major's farm system.

The suit well might have been averted, said an official of Portland's minor league club, if the majors had been willing to sit down and talk things over seriously.

But now, as the Beavers are faced with dwindling attendance, the suit represents the club's ultimate hope for survival, another official said.

In addition to the damages sought, the suit asked the courts to revamp the structure of the majors and whittle their power. Through the suit ran the contention that the majors have violated federal anti-trust laws.

The damages were sought, the suit said, because the ways in which the majors acquired players and televised their games had brought loss of income.

Things could be straightened out, the suit said, if the courts would enjoin the majors from trying to monopolize baseball and order them to sell every minor league club they own.

In addition, the suit said no major league team should be allowed to own or control more than 40 players.

Unfair competition from televised major league games also should be enjoined, and the majors should be forbidden to exercise arbitrary authority in expanding the leagues, the suit said.

The defendants included Commissioner Ford Frick, both leagues, their presidents and all 16 major league teams, including the Kansas City Athletics with whom Portland has a working agreement.

In New York, Frick commented: "It looks as if it is another one of those suits like the one filed by Frank Lawrence of Portsmouth, Va., which was tossed out of court."

Arch Kingsley, Portland's president, disagreed and said: "The Portsmouth case was one of breach of contract. Ours is under the anti-trust laws charging monopoly and unfair competition. It is altogether different."

Righthander Wins 13th Game Beating Orioles

All Bengals in Lineup Hit Safely in Gaining 11-2 Verdict

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Lary has become a thinking man's pitcher.

The Detroit Tiger righthander won his 13th game yesterday, turning back the Baltimore Orioles 11-2 with a seven-hitter. Lary has lost seven.

The 28-year-old Alabaman, who has worked more innings than any other pitcher on the staff over the last four seasons, figures it was about time he became a thinking pitcher.

"I figured if I hadn't learned anything about pitching in all the time I've been in the Major Leagues," said Lary, "I might as well pack up and go back down home.

"So I've been trying to think, as well as throw. I'm being more careful, trying to stay ahead of the hitters and make them hit the pitch I want them to hit. You fool around and get behind the hitters, and they end up hitting just about whatever they want to hit — because the pitcher has to come in there with something pretty nice."

Lary's thinking is paying off. For five seasons now no one has disputed that he has enough natural equipment and enough grit to be a big winner. But silly mistakes have cost him many a ball game.

Not only does Lary have a 13-7 record, but he has walked only 30 batters in 165 innings.

"That has helped a lot," he explained. "I'm not going around and putting runners all over the bases. And when you work ahead of a hitter, I think it gives a pitcher a lot more confidence."

His teammates supported him with 15 base hits yesterday against four Baltimore pitchers. The loser was Billy O'Dell, who was rocked for four runs in the first three innings. Ernie Johnson, Jack Fisher and ex-Tiger Billy Hoeft finished up.

★ ★ ★

Every man in the Detroit lineup hit safely. Al Kaline, Charlie Maxwell, Red Wilson, Ted Lepcio and Coot Veal collected two hits. Kaline smashed his 17th home run and Lepcio and Veal each drove across three runs in one of the club's biggest offenses of the season.

★ ★ ★

Lary, who walked no one and struck out two, kept alive his chances for winning 20 games and practically assured that he is headed for his finest season since he won 21 games in 1956. Lary was 16-15 last season.

Life-Time Ban Is First in 11 Years

Minor Leaguer to Make Appeal of Fix Charges

Chattanooga Players Involved in Gambling Rapped by Trautman

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Weeks of rumors that gamblers were trying to put the "fix" on Southern Assn. baseball games crystalized yesterday when Chattanooga's top slugger Jess Levan, was banished from the game for life.

★ ★ ★

It was the first life-time suspension handed a minor leaguer in 11 years and evoked memories of the 1919 Black Sox scandal which plunged baseball to its lowest depths.

Trautman said the last suspension was handed out against a Carolina League player in 1948, but refused to identify the player.

One other Chattanooga player, Waldo Gonzalez, drew a one-year suspension. Three more Chattanoogans and one Mobile player had their knuckles rapped for not reporting gambler propositions earlier.

Levan, a first baseman and 13-year veteran of the minors, protested, "I've never accepted a bribe or a fix—there has never been a bribe or a fix."

But the highest man in organized baseball, Commissioner Ford Frick said, "It looks as if they had them dead to rights."

Levan said he would appeal the suspension, handed down in Columbus, Ohio, by George M. Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The 33-year-old player was not too sure how to go about it. "I'll have to contact my lawyer. I feel my punishment is too severe," he said.

Trautman said Levan and Gonzalez could appeal to the national association's executive committee in writing within 30 days, then to Frick if the committee upheld Trautman.

Trautman's 1,500-word statement on his findings said no proof was obtained that the game was "thrown."

★ ★ ★

But the sharply-worded statement put players and managers on notice that "if professional baseball is to continue to enjoy the confidence of the public, every player must constantly be alert to the gambling evil and must cooperate with the proper authorities by reporting incidents of this kind immediately."

★ ★ ★

Trautman directed each club president to "assemble his players, read this decision to them and notify them that any such failure in the future will be dealt with very severly."

A's Roll to 3rd Spot; Tribe's Slump Ended

By The Associated Press

Where do the Kansas City A's go from here? They've pulled off an incredible jump from the cellar to third place with an 11-game streak, longest in the American League in five years, but can they crack the exclusive, two-club "first division"?

The A's, making their run in just 11 days, moved past Baltimore into third by whipping Washington 4-1 last night. But they still trail Chicago's first place White Sox by 8½ games and second place Cleveland by 7½ after making up 3 games on the leaders.

The White Sox kept their tough post-All Star Game pace with a 3-1 victory over New York, plunking the world champion Yankees 10½ games behind as Early Wynn (14-6) became the AL's top winner. It was the Sox' 15th victory in 20 games since the All-Star break, when they were second, two games behind Cleveland.

Southpaw Bud Daley, after missing his regular turn because of a leg injury, blanked the Nats on six hits for six innings, then needed Tom Sturdivant's neat relief for a 12-6 record. That ties the Kansas City record for most victories in one season set by Art Ditmar in 1955 and tied by Ned Garver last year.

Sturdivant came on in the seventh with one run in, the bases loaded and one out. The big righthander struck out Roy Sievers and then ended the inning by retiring Jim Lemon, another of the Senators' sluggers, on a fly. Sturdivant finished with a hitless 2 2-3 inning job, giving Daley a victory over every club in the league.

Wynn put away his 263rd victory, tops among active major leaguers, with a six-hitter. He walked only one, struck out nine and lost a shutout on an unearned run in the fourth inning. Al Smith drove in the tying run for the White Sox and added another in the eighth after Sherm Lollar's double and a single by Billy Goodman beat rookie Eli Grba (1-2) in the seventh.

Cleveland ended its slump at two games when Minoso's third single cracked a 3-3 tie in the ninth against losing reliever Mike Fornieles (1-2). Minnie had given starter Mudcat Grant a 3-0 lead with two singles, but Frank Malzone's 14th home run tied it in the sixth and left the victory for reliever Larry Locke (2-1).

Wide Margins for Waterford Winners

Margins of victory in Waterford Recreation Softball League contests, last night, were wide.

Lotus Lakers dumped Eagles 13-9, and Lakeland Pharmacy defeated Dobski's 8-4. Both were in Class C, National Division.

A five-run, 5th inning blast that cracked a 6-6 tie, won for the Lotus Lake crew. Eagles came back for three counters in the 6th but couldn't make up the difference. Tom Quisemberry and Don Vachon hit run-scoring doubles in the big 5th, and Vachon added another two-bagger in the 2-run 7th.

Bob Almas won for Lakers in relief, replacing Stan Barker in the 5th. Jerry Caldwell was loser.

Pharmacy bagged three tallies in the 2nd for a 3-0 lead, never was headed by Dobski's. Roland Jakel was winner and Denny McConkey the losing hurler.

Annual City Playoffs Start Sunday

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's annual playoffs for the City Championship and the right to compete in the State Tournament, will start Sunday, August 2 and the finals will be held on Sunday, August 9 at Jaycee Park. The reason for the selection of Sunday is to give the loyal fans and parents an opportunity to again see the stars of tomorrow play.

The playoffs terminate a most successful season for the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Baseball program. A total of 68 junior teams started the season with 63 finishing, the other 5 forfeiting out with 3 the last week. This makes a total of over 1,000 boys playing baseball in addition to the 120 adults.

In selecting the teams for the playoffs, a method was devised to give all divisions a chance to participate. In Class "D" the top four teams, in Class "E" with a morning and evening league, the top 2 teams in the evening league and top team in the morning league were automatically in, while the 3rd place team in the evening and 2nd place in the morning will play a crucial game for the 4th spot.

All playoffs are conducted on a 4-team, 2-game knockout, bracket system of play.

In Class "F" with 4 different leagues, it was a little more complicated, with the best teams bracketed in the No. 1 league. The top 2 teams stood by while the 3rd place and the leaders in the other leagues played a one-game knockout for the other 2 spots.

In the Widgets the top 2 teams in the American League stand by while the 3rd and 4th in the American League will play the top 2 teams in the National League for the 3rd and 4th spot in the bracket.

★ ★ ★

Poiac will host the State District Tournament in Class "F," "E" and "D." At the present time 7 teams are registered in Class "F," 6 in Class "E" and 4 in Class "D." The tournament will be held August 11 and 12 with the winners going to Jackson August 17.

★ ★ ★

In Class "A," Pontiac drew Jackson in the Labor Day Tournament at Battle Creek, while the Class "B" winners will compete in the Class "B" Tournament in Detroit Labor Day weekend.

Simmons Will Finish Year at Phils' Farm

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies said Thursday pitcher Curt Simmons has requested he be allowed to finish the 1959 season with Williamsport in the Eastern League.

★ ★ ★

Carpenter said he telephoned Simmons Thursday and asked if the left-hander wanted to come back to the Phillies.

★ ★ ★

"Simmons said he would prefer to remain at Williamsport because he felt he could get the work necessary to regain his winning form," Carpenter said. The club owner said he granted the request.

Simmons, who was operated on for bone chips in his pitching elbow last April, was sent to the Class A Eastern League club July 22 on 24-hour option.

Finsterwald's Golf Tip:

Start All in One Piece

PGA Champion

The hips, hands, club and shoulders start back at once. The closer you can come to starting everything together, the easier it is to keep everything timed together throughout the swing.

Come as close as you can to having a one-piece swing.

If you start with the clubhead first, everything must follow the clubhead all the way around.

If the body and hands start first, you'll get a lash at the top of the swing. Waggle the club in the same line that you expect to carry the club through the entire swing.

Any change seems unnatural, whether the golfer switches from wrong to right or the other way round.

Burkemo in 9-Way Tie for PGA Lead

Franklin Hills Pro Carves 69 in First Round

Casper, Souchak With Top Players Sharing Lead at Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Nine Michigan golfers, led by Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, still are in the running after yesterday's first round of play in the National PGA golf championship.

Burkemo, a former PGA champ, carved out a one-under-par 69 with rounds of 35-34 to tie for the lead with eight others.

Not far off the first-round pace with 72s are Gene Bone of Pontiac and Paul Segerlund of Grosse Pointe. Chick Harbert of Northville is close behind with a 73.

Five strokes back of the early leaders is Bob Gajda of Bloomfield Hills. Bringing up the tail end of Michigan's entries are John Barnum of Belmont with a 75, Bill Markham of Saginaw and Tom Talkington of Ypsilanti withh 76s and Mike Dietz of Paw Paw at 77.

Bill Casper Jr., the round young man from California who won the National Open last month, and Mike Souchak, former Duke University football star, set the pace early on a sunny, pleasant afternoon. Then one after another, the top performers bid to pass them.

All seven caught up, but none went ahead as the three finishing holes at Minnneapolis, made harder by a cooling north wind, dished out a full share of sorrow and frustration.

It probably was the first time that so many have tied for the lead in a tournament of this importance, and almost certainly the first time so many have been within range of the lead. Advance predictions were that any one of two dozen players could win. After the first round, it was nearer three dozen who still had good chances.

Tied with Casper and Souchak were Gene Littler and Jerry Barber, two other members of golfs touring brigade; Burkemo, and an occasional great tournament round; Jackson Bradley, a greying 37-year-old club pro from Houston; Mike Krak, 31, who operates a resort course at Morgantown, W. Va.; Chuck Klein, 42-year-old driving range owner from San Antonio, Tex., and Dick Hart, a 23-year-old assistant pro from Hinsdale, Ill.

Such big time performers as Art Wall Jr., the year's leading money winner; Jack Burke, a former PGA champ; Ken Venturi and Billy Maxwell were among a big group with even par 70s.

Dow Finsterwald, the defending champion; Sam Snead, who has won the PGA title at match play three times; ex-champions Doug Ford and Lionel Hebert, and Bob Rosburg, runner-up in this year's Open, were clustered with a lot of others at 71.

Williams, O'Brien on All-Star Team

Line coaches Lou Saban and Dick Stanfel named these defensive players: Sam Williams, Michigan State end; Ken Beck, Texas A&M tackle; Mac Lewis, 310-pound Iowa tackle; Ellison Kelly, MSU linebacker; John Guzik, Pitt guard, and Bob Reifsnyder, Navy tackle.

On offense, the standouts so far are John Wooten, 240-pound Colorado guard; Francis O'Brien, MSU tackle; Dan James, 275-pound Ohio State center; Jack Schafrath, Ohio State guard, who also is being used on defense; Mike Rabold, Indiana guard-tackle and Gene Selawski, Purdue tackle.

Milford Babe Ruth Team Is Eliminated

The Birmingham Satellites qualified for the semifinals of the Area No. 1 Babe Ruth district tournament yesterday by ousting Milford, 9-6.

Milford was guilty of nine errors while McPartlin got the win for Birmingham.

The Satellites will meet the Birmingham Pioneers Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

Little Ex-Boxer Dies

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bob Mucha, 68, who fought as a middleweight under the name of Bob Moha, died of a heart attack Thursday.

Although only 5-4 Mucha fought some of the best fighters in the business from 1910 to 1922. He took on such men as Harry Greb, Billy Papke, Billy Miske, and Ted Jamieson. He fought Papke when the latter was the 160 pound king and had to come in over the weight limit.

40 Canoes in Race

20 2-Year-Olds in Arlington's Rich Futurity

By The Associated Press

Arlington Park presents a modern version of the charge of the light brigade Saturday when 20 two-year olds, give or take one or two, break from the starting gate in the 30th running of the Arlington Futurity.

★ ★ ★

The condition books says the 6-furlong dash is worth $100,000 in added money. But if all the owners carry out their announced intentions of being represented, there'll be in excess of $200,000 for distribution among the first four horses to cross the finish line. Only the Garden State Stakes for 2-year olds is richer.

On the basis of 20 starters, the Futurity will net the winner approximately $149,000 with $30,000 for second, $20,000 for third and $10,000 for fourth.

Top-Seed McKinley Moves to 4th Round

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Top-seeded Chuck McKinley of St. Louis rallied in the last two sets Thursday to defeat unranked Bobby Siska of San Francisco in the third round of junior singles in the National Junior boys tennis championships a Kalamazoo College. The scores were 5-7, 6-0, 8-6.

★ ★ ★

Earlier McKinley had beaten Joseph Brown of Pittsburgh, 6-1, 6-4. Siska had eliminated Bill Banta of Houston, Tex., 6-0, 6-3. All junior singles matches had been postponed Tuesday and Wednesday be cause of rain.

★ ★ ★

Second-seeded Bill Bond of La Jolla, Calif., advanced to the fourth round with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Hugh Lynch of Bethesda, Md. He had beaten Jerry Levin of Cincinnati, 6-2, 6-1, in the second round.

Grid TV Slate Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Tradftional and intersectional rivalries involving the nation's top teams make up the fancy college football television fare for this fall.

★ ★ ★

The National Broadcasting Co. announced a 10-date schedule Thursday which Tom Gallery, NBC sports director, calls "the strongest in the eight years I've been here."

★ ★ ★

The program kicks off Sept. 19 with the national champion, Louisiana State, playing Rice at Baton Rouge, La. Army, Oklahoma, the Air Force Academy and Syracuse are other top teams of 1958 who will perform for the armchair quarterbacks.

★ ★ ★

The card offers 11 games on 10 dates—a split network on one of the Saturdays — and includes games in all eight of the national collegiate (NCAA) districts.

★ ★ ★

The intersectional battle between California and Texas on Saturday Oct. 3 will be offered as a frosting for a World Series baseball game which will precede it.

The colorful Army-Navy game again highlights the program. It is scheduled Nov. 28, the week before the final TV attraction involving UCLA and Syracuse at Los Angeles.

Two dates—Oct. 24 and Nov. 21—were held open for Big Ten games to be decided on the basis of the conference race at the time. The split program Nov. 7 offers Boston College vs. Pittsburgh for the East, Missouri vs. Air Force, for the West.

The schedule:
Sept. 19 — Louisiana State vs. Rice at Baton Rouge, La.
Sept. 26—Northwestern vs. Oklahoma at Evanston, Ill.
Oct. 3—Texas vs California at Austin, Tex.
Oct. 17—Michigan State vs. Notre Dame at East Lansing, Mich.
Oct. 24—Big Ten game (to be selected)
Nov. 7—(split network)—Boston College vs. Pittsburgh at Boston, Mass. (East); Missouri vs. Air Force Academy at Columbia, Mo. (West).
Nov. 21—Big Ten game (to be selected).
Thursday, Nov. 26 (Thanksgiving)—Duke vs. North Carolina at Durham, N.C.
Nov. 28—Army vs. Navy at Phil delphia, Pa.
Dec. 5 — UCLA vs. Syracuse at Los Angeles.

Wings, Hershey in Exhibition

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings will meet the Hershey Bears in their only pre-season exhibition game at Olympia Stadium on Sunday, Oct. 4.

★ ★ ★

The Bears were champions of the American Hockey League for the past two seasons. The face-off will be at 7 p.m. in accordance with the Red Wings' new policy of earlier startin, times this year.

College Cagers Sign

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)— Bob Boozer, Kansas State All - America basketball player, and four other highly regarded collegians have been signed by the Peoria Cats of the National Industrial Basketball League, it was announced Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Club Presents Many Activities

OCSC to Open Doors to Public for Program of Racing, Shooting

Oakland County Sportsman's Club will swing open its doors to the public Sunday when it presents its annual August Festival.

★ ★ ★

The Festival, which is presented once a year to acquaint local people with the various activities taking place at OCSC, will include archer, pistol and rifle shooting, sports car racing and featured bicycle racing.

Marksmen from the different archery and pistol shooting groups will be available to aid beginners.

Prizes will be awarded to beginners competing in the various events with pony rides for the children and an old fashion corn roast.

Festival chairman Robert Gubbins announced it was the first time the public would be offered the opportunity to ride and race in the sports cars.

Mike Kollins of Detroit, builder of the 1959 Dusenberg valued at $70,000, will also be on hand to give rides in his machine.

In addition to the sports car events, the Oakland County Sportsman's Racing Club will present bicycle racing and go-cart racing, two highly popular European racing events.

★ ★ ★

The bicycle racers will use the Waterford Hills course which is 1½ miles up and down the hilly layout.

★ ★ ★

Go-cart racing is an adult sport similar to the quarter-midgets. One of the top go-cart racers in the country, Bill Jones who recently set a record on the East coast by going 47 mph in the bodiless, chain-saw engine carts, will be at the Festival.

★ ★ ★

Two State Archers Win National Honor

★ ★ ★

Final aggregate winner in the men's instinctive division was Clark Heinrich, Richmond, who paced the tourney from the start. His total was 2799.

★ ★ ★

Cleo Roberson, Samaria, piled up a total of 2621 points for first place aggregate in the women's free style division.

★ ★ ★

Logan KO's Ezzard

BOISE, Idaho (AP)— Unbeaten George Logan of Boise knocked out aging former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round bout last night.

Logan, 197, stopped Charles for good in 1.50 of the eighth with a left and right cross. Charles weighed 190. It was Logan's 13th victory in 14 pro fights.

NEW GIANT — George Shaw took his turn quarterbacking in the New York Giants' football training camp at Winooski Park, Vt., yesterday after he was obtained from the Baltimore Colts. Shaw was unhappy as understudy to John Unitas at Baltimore and asked to be traded.

Competition Healthy for Lions' QB Post

Today Official Camp Opening for Veterans

Reichow Wants Chance to Battle Rote and Morrall for Job

Tobin Rote is the Detroit Lions' No. 1 quarterback. Earl Morrall thinks he should be. And Jerry Reichow thinks he could be, if given the opportunity.

★ ★ ★

An unhealthy situation? Not on you life, says coach George Wilson. In fact, he'd welcome a similar situation at every position.

There were reports that having no No. 1 quarterback last year, and alternating Rote with Bobby Layne, caused some friction. It may have in some quarters, but not between the two Texans.

The Lions traded Layne and Rote had an off year. No team in the National Football League goes very far without good quarterbacking, unless the other components are overwhelmingly strong.

"We think we'll get good quarterbacking this year," said Wilson. "Rote will be more familiar with our system and so will Morrall."

Wilson believes there are at least three good reasons why a player wants to have a good year. First, the rookie wants to prove himself. The veteran wants to establish himself as a front-line player who can command a sizable salary.

Then, after that, a player generally is getting into an off-season business and he wants to have a good year to help his outside business activities.

All three of the Lions' quarterback candidates fit into one or the other of those lines.

"I think we have real incentive at that position," said Wilson. "Rote is making his home in Detroit all year around and has just started out in his own business. So has Morrall—and Reichow is anxious to show that he can play quarterback as well as end."

Competition between rookies and veterans has proved to be a healthy thing over the years. The Lions also like what they have seen of the battles between veteran and veteran.

★ ★ ★

The Lions placed the "official" tag on camp opening today and six players were unsigned.

Drills for all players formally got under way at 9:30 a.m.

Still unsigned were linemen Gene Cronin, Stan Campbell, Gil Mains and Darris McCord. The backs outside the fold were Gene Gedman and Yale Lary.

Rote and linebacker Bob Long signed yesterday and tackle Charlie Ane agreed to terms.

Wilson said unsigned players could work out with the club. Previously they sat on the sidelines.

Bears Put 11 'Fatmen' at One Table

See New Pro Loop in 12 Days

DALLAS (AP)— Lamar Hunt, wealthy young ex-Southern Methodist University reserve football player, is the man behind the proposed new professional league.

He's quite positive it will be officially organized within 12 days to two weeks. He's also positive it will not take "leftovers" of the National Football League, the already established big league of professional football.

Hunt, 26-year-old son of oil millionaire H. L. Hunt, revealed his connection with the new league when he returned to Dallas yesterday after talks with National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell.

He said the new league, which Bell had given his blessing, would announce details of its operation, including cities and franchise owners, when organization was complete.

Hunt would not name the cities involved at this time or whether the league would begin operations with six or eight teams.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

★ ★ ★

None of the players is extremely overweight, but Coach George Halas decided on a special low calory diet to whip the fellows into shape in a hurry.

★ ★ ★

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles, hurting on pass defense last year, are giving a thorough look-see to three rookies who show wide range and maneuverability in the secondary.

★ ★ ★

The three who caught the eye of Coach Buck Shaw are Gene Johnson of Cincinnati, Severn Hayes of Montana and Joe Gattuso of Navy. All 11 were effective in a lengthy pass-pattern drill against veteran ends Tommy McDonald and Ken McAfee.

Both Ringo and Forester are seven-year veterans in the National League and held the same posts last year. Ringo will be the offensive captain and Forester will act on defense.

★ ★ ★

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)— The Chicago Cardinals' offense is being bolstered by tackle Ken Panfil, 260-pound veteran obtained in the deal that sent Ollie Matson to the Los Angeles Rams.

Panfil is getting raves in the Cards' training camp for his ability to protect the passer and his offensive blocking.

Cardinal coaches say Panfil's blocking should result in an improved offense.

★ ★ ★

MORAGA, Calif. (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers lost a rookie prospect Thursday and called in another for a look-see Friday.

Wally Bavaro from Holy Cross, the National Football Leaguers' sixth draft choice, quit because the ankke he broke in school last year was too weak to take the strain.

He may return next year.

Burney McQueen, 6-3, 200 pound offensive end from North Carolina A&T, had passed up the 49ers for a fling with Edmonton. But the Canadian club released him. 49er coach Red Hickey allowed his request for a trial.

MANGLED MARLIN — The big marlin estimated to have weighed more than 800 pounds, taken at Honolulu, Hawaii, off Diamond Head by Henry Peterson Jr. of New Jersey, lost a lot of weight due to attacks by sharks. Discovery of the shark attack was made when the fish was landed after more than 7 hours fight. It weighed 712 pounds, anyway.

Playoffs Monday

'B' Loop Schedule Ends

Jerry Pointer struck out 13 batters in pitching Griff's Grill to a 3-0 victory over Nicholie in a Class B city league game yesterday.

It was a well pitched game on both sides as Pointer allowed only four hits and Griff's collected just six off loser Al Levy.

Bob Reves had two hits for the winners and Garry Orr got two for the losers.

The rest of the "B" schedule has been canceled and the playoffs will start Monday with PIB meeting Talbot. The second game will be Wednesday and the third on Thursday if necessary with the winner meeting Griff's, the season champion, on Monday, Aug. 9th.

In Class D competition yesterday, West Bloomfield rapped Nicholie Insurance, 8-3 with pitcher Jim Gerhard giving up only two hits and striking out nine batters.

★ ★ ★

In Class E games, Pontiac Boys Club romped over J&R, 14-1 and Lake Orion lost to Johnson's 11-5.

Pete Vasquez pitched a two hitter for the Boys Club and got hitting from Ed Wasik, Mike Marcum and Bob Goff. J&R had only two hits including George Taylor's double.

Johnson's Market got six hits including triples by Roger Smith and Dennis Thankston. Thankston also doubled.

Sno Bol Wins in Playoff

State Hospital will meet Griff's Grill tonight to determine 4th place in the International Softball league of city loop play.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

In other softball action last night, Sno Bol won its American League playoff game in the American League by defeating Stadium Inn, 2-0.

★ ★ ★

Jake Mazur was handed the loss as Fat Keith gave Stadium only two hits. A triple by Bud Thomason and a pair of singles by Marshall Rose led the Sno Bol attack with runs in the 2nd and 4th innings.

★ ★ ★

Big Bear whipped Buttercup Drive In, 9-2 and Arro Realty edged Wrights, 3-2, in National League games.

★ ★ ★

Art Weiss struck out 11 Wright batters as Bud Hayward, Gerry Christophenson and Ed Shipp each got two hits.

Detroit Roller Skater Wins Two Mile Race

Gohs crossed the finish line in 6:19 only a few strides ahead of John Drewry of Manasquan, N. J.

★ ★ ★

The ladies' relay mile event was won by a Wichita, Kan., squad composed of Linda Stewitz, Delsia Storey, Barbara Solter and Jody Fehring.

Southfield Beaten, 11-4

It was Southfield's first loss in the two-game knockout and this morning Southfield was meeting Grand Rapids.

San Francisco Back in First Place

Giants Give Rivals 'Willies'

Willie Mays. Willie Kirkland. And now — Willie McCovey.

McCovey, a 21-year-old rookie came up from Phoenix and slammed two triples and two singles off Robin Roberts yssterday in a sensational major league debut with San Francisco. His performance sparked the Giants to a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia and snapped a four-game Giant losing streak.

"I've never seen anyone break into the big leagues and hit the ball like that," chuckled Giant Manager Bill Rigney. He has been pleading for just one of the slumping Giants to start hitting.

In the fourth, the Mobile, Ala., Negro crashed a Roberts high fast ball to the centerfield scoreboard for a triple and scored the Giants' second run on an error at the plate.

On his fourth time up in the seventh, he ripped an outside fast ball for a triple to score Mays who had doubled.

McCovey handled three pop flies expertly and was on the end of a double play.

Orlando Cepeda was shifted from first to third to make room for McCovey. Third sacker Jim Davenport was benched.

Pittsburgh cleared the way for the Giants by beating Los Angeles 5-4 in 12 innings, sikdding the Dodgers to third. Milwaukee took over second place with a 6-2 decision over the Chicago Cubs, hammering four home runs as Warren Spahn gained his 260th victory.

St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 1-0 with Bob Gibson blanking the Reds on eight hits in his first major league start.

A one-out single by Ray Mejias, following a single by Dick Groat and Bill Virdon's double, won it for the Pirates, who blew 3-0 and 4-3 leads. Benny Daniels (6-6) was the winner in relief. Mejias also homered for the Bucs, against Dodger starter Johnny Podres. Stan Williams (4-4) was the loser.

The Braves moved .003 percentage points ahead of the Dodgers and within .003 of the Giants by handing left-hander Art Ceccarelli his first defeat in five decisions. Consecutive homers by Felix Mantilla, and Hank Aaron clinched it in the third. Johnny Logan and Andy Pafko finished the home run job for the Braves.

Spahn (14-10) beat the Cubs a third time this year, walking none and striking out four. He allowed five hits, one Bobby Thompson's ninth home run.

Gibson, 23, a right-hander just up from Omaha, struck out two and walked three. Jim O'Toole (2-5) was the loser, giving up the Cards' run in the second inning on Ken Boyer's double and a single by Joe Cunningham.

Mexico Enters 225

CHICAGO (UP)—Mexico Thursday entered 225 athletes in the upcoming Pan-American Games. The Mexican squad is second in size to the United States' among 16 nations officially entered so far.

★ ★ ★

Mexico's athletes will compete in 25 sports in the games which run Aug. 27 through Sept. 7 in Chicago. The United States entered 408 athletes in all 27 sports.

Former Big Ten Champ Moves Up in Mat Test

EAST LANSING (UPI)—A three-time Big-Ten champion and a 50-year-old San Francisco veterinarian last night came back from afternoon defeats to win in the second round of tryouts for the United States Pan-American games in wrestling.

Mike Rodrigues, conference winner in 1955, 1956 and 1957 while at the University of Michigan, decisioned former Olympic wrestler Frank Bettucci of the New York Athletic club in the best match so far.

Dr. M. A. Northrup, a member of both previous Pan-American teams and champion in 1955, decisioned Dave Newland, Portland, Ore.

The matches continue through Saturday when a round-robin among the top three in each of eight weights will determine the team that will go to the games at Chicago Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

147.5—Veryl Long, Army.
191—Tim Woodin, Michigan State University.

Two youngsters, in contrast with the ageless Northrup, also showed up well in the meet. Dave Behrman, Dowagiac, Mich., an 18-year-old freshman at Michigan State, pinned Richard Brunmann, Cincinnati, in 8:10.

Two Benefit Games at DP on Saturday

Two softball games will be played at Drayton Plains Saturday, at 7 and 8:30 p.m. as a benefit for injured Snobol player, Jerry Hesse.

★ ★ ★

Veteran Checks In

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (UP)—Fullback Howie Ferguson, a six-year veteran in the National Football League, checked into the Pittsburgh Steeler camp Thursday after having X-rays taken of a shoulder he injured last season.

Ferguson was acquired a few days ago from the Green Bay Packers in exchange for a future draft choice. He underwent an operation in the off season for torn ligaments.

Olympic Champ Injured

NEW YORK (UP) —Glenn Davis, Olympic champion in the 400-meter hurdles in 1956, withdrew from the U.S. Pan - American Games team Thursday because of a chronic back ailment. The former Ohio State runner was unable to compete against the Russians at Philadelphia July 18-19 for the same reason.

Pirates Blank Shaw Club, 7-0

Larry Demrick Holds 'A' Foes to 3-Hit Total in Fine Job

A fine, 3-hit pitching performance highlighted the city Class A baseball league encounter, last night, with Pirates' Larry Demrick blanking Shaw's Jewelers, 7-0.

The Pirate moundsman walked only two opponents, both in the 6th frame, was given flawless support by his mates. Walt Honchell and Jim Schiebner banged doubles off Demrick for two of the three hits he allowed. Larry collected a double on his own, to help along his victory, to open the 3-run 7th session. To make it stick, he retired the final Shaw side on three straight strikeouts.

Dick Cloonan was nicked for 11 blows, but was also hurt by his team's shaky support (6 errors).

Pass Millions of Dollars in Taxes

State Legislatures Fight Red Ink

patch based on a survey of actions taken this year by state legislatures, now mostly adjourned. It shows that in most states the trend in budgets and taxes was higher and higher.)

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State legislatures, now mostly adjourned, rang up millions of dollars in new taxes this year to fight red-ink spending for record-high budgets.

In almost all of the 46 states which held legislative sessions this year lawmakers either have already approved or still must approve budgets as high for their state as the federal budget is on the national level.

In some states, legislators found that economic growth or recovery from the 1958 recession would provide enough tax take to cover the increased drain on state finances.

But in most others, the only unhappy solution was to hike taxes. Some tried new tax gimmicks, but most simply raised income taxes, sales or excise taxes on liquor, beer and tobacco.

New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina and Utah joined the federal government and about a dozen other states which impose withholding taxes on paychecks to help insure collection of income taxes. Idaho levied a $10 head tax on each income tax return filed.

Colorado, Maine and Utah put a tax on hotel and motel bills. Nebraska levied a new tax on parimutuel betting. The heretofore dry state of Oklahoma legalized liquor, and the legislature promptly taxed it $2.40 a gallon to yield an estimated $3,500,000 a year.

Cigarette smokers were a favored target in the search for new revenue. California, which had no cigarette tax, got a levy of 3 cents a package when the legislature approved 222 million of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 256 million dollar tax program.

Of 11 other states which increased cigarette taxes this year, Iowa and Wyoming went to four cents a pack; Idaho, New York, Ohio, South Carolina and South Dakota to 5 cents; Minnesota 5½; Pennsylvania and Washington, 6; and Vermont 7 cents. According to the tobacco institute, 25 states now collect ciagrette taxes of 5 cents or more per package on top of the 8-cent federal tax.

In Minnesota, the legislature boldly approved a slight increase in the beer tax, which had been untouchable for 25 years. Although it balked at a withholding tax, it also raised taxes on personal and corporate income, liquor, cigarettes and other tax sources as part of a 45 million dollar tax package.

Besides California with its 222 million dollars of new taxes; states with six-figure tax increase packages this year included: Ohio, 275 million dollars; New York, 273 million; Illinois, 135 million and Washington, 112 million dollars.

In the crisis-ridden state of Michigan, the legislature appears to be moving toward a sales tax increase from 3 to 4 or 5 per cent, with an execption for food if it goes to 5. Action along this line would kill off Gov. G. Mennen Williams' proposal for a new state income tax as part of his 140 million dollar tax plan.

In Pennsylvania, Gov. David L. Lawrence's request for a 200 million dollar tax increase has been snarled in the legislature since March. The legislature has raised the 3 per cent sales tax to 3½ and may try to break the present deadlock by lifting it to 4 per cent and extending it to items now exempt.

The Washington state legislature raised the sales tax from 3 1/3 to 4 per cent and increased other levies, too. Although they controlled the legislature, the Democrats failed to muster the necessary two-thirds vote to get a referendum on a constitutional amendment to authorize an income tax.

After the recent rash of state gasoline tax increases, fewer states reached for the motorist this year. Among those which did were New York with a gas tax increase from 4 to 6 cents a gallon, Ohio from 5 to 7 and New Hampshire and West Virginia from 6 to 7. Proposed gas tax increases are still pending in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Several governors presumed to have national political ambitions as candidates or kingmakers had to wrestle with record-breaking budgets and sizeable tax programs this year. Beside Brown and Williams on the Democratic side, they included Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and William G. Stratton of Illinois and Democratic Gov. Michael V. Disalle of Ohio.

A democratic exception was Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, who found increased revenue from present tax laws enough to finance a record budget.

Another was Gov. George Docking of Kansas, who recommended a small reduction from last year's budget and cutting the sales tax from 2½ to 2 per cent. The GOP legislature refused to make the tax reduction and made some increases in the docking budget but left it still $2,500,000 below the total for last year.

In California, where the legislature concentrated on upper bracket taxpayers in voting an income tax increase, Democratic members liked to compare their plan with what they called Rockefeller's "Soak the Poor" income tax schedule.

In an order delaying new state construction in Illinois, Stratton had Michigan in mind when he said his administration was "not going to wake up some morning and find we can't meet our payrolls."

Stock Market Creeps, Shuffles

Aircrafts, after yesterday's brisk advance, edged ahead for small gains. Some steels, tobaccos, coppers and drugs also poked ahead modestly.

Confirm Postmaster Nominations in Area

President Eisenhower's nominations for postmasters in Holly and Bloomfield Hills have been confirmed by Senate, it was announced today.

Robert W. Fagan, 36, will take the postmaster's position at Holly. He has been acting postmaster since Sept. 30, 1958. Previously, he was part owner-operator of Holly Tractor Sales.

Acting postmaster in Bloomfield Hills since May 15, Herbert J. Dyble, 50, will assume the position of postmaster.

He was regional executive overseas manager for both the General Motors Corp. and Harry Ferguson Inc. before assuming his duties at the Bloomfield Post Office. He had been assigned in the West Indies, and Central South America.

Sale of Reducing Pill, 'RX-120' Halted by Court

WARSHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers announced the government today obtained a court order to halt interstate sales of a reducing tablet called "RX-120" because of alleged false and misleading claims for the product.

The action in the Federal District Court at New York City was taken at the request of the Food and Drug Administration. The temporary restraining order was directed against the distributor of the tablets, Wilson-Williams Co., Inc., of Tuckahoe, N.Y., and its president, Jack Elliott.

About three-fourths of U. S grazing lands, or roughly 750 million acres, are located in 17 of the Western and Great Plains states.

Doctors Charge for Phone Calls

CHICAGO (AP) — The American Medical Assn. reported today that some physicians are charging patients $1 for each telephone call.

The AMA said physicians experimenting with the telephone charge say the idea is to discourage unnecessary inquiries and also provide additional income.

In Chicago, some patients said they were charged $2 when the original inquiry involved a telephone call by the physician to a pharmacy for a prescription.

2 Face Life in Prison for Murder in Holdup

DETROIT (AP) — Peter Klavinger, 20, and Seymour Berman, 22, both of Detroit, were sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday for the murder of a credit union manager in a holdup last December.

They were convicted by a jury July 16 of first degree murder in the slaying of Claude A. Richards in an unsuccessful holdup of the Plymouth Employes Federal Credit Union. Richards struggled with Berman and was shot. Klavinger was the lookout man.

Soybean Futures Strong Today

CHICAGO (AP)— Soybean futures were strong and all the grains except rye were steady to firm today in draggy early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans ran up a cent a bushel or more on all contracts within the first several minutes but offerings to sell became more liberal at the higher prices. This commodity has been up and down all week without setting any apparent trend either way.

Williamses, Aides to Use Guard Plane

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, an ex-naval air combat intelligence officer, appeared today to have won at least part of his skirmish over free use of a National Guard plane.

Williams told Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy he will board a National Guard C-47 today with his wife and three aides "whose presence is needful to me" at the 51st annual governor's conference in Puerto Rico.

The World War II lieutenant commander told McElroy he made his command decision "after careful examination of ANG regulation 76-6."

But Williams office said "a bit of sabotage" by Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich.) succeeded in bumping Williams' personal speech writer and two wives of staff members off the guard plane.

The flap developed yesterday when Bentley suggested to McElroy the governor would have "unauthorized personnel" aboard the craft.

"It is apparent that the raising of this question at this time is done with political intent," Williams said yesterday.

T. AUSTIN SAUNDERS

'60 State Week Chief Named

General Phone Head of Muskegon Takes Post for Next Year

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A native of Missouri who heads one of Michigan's biggest utilities today was named state chairman of 1960 Michigan week.

T. Austin Saunders, 52, of Muskegon, president of General Telephone Co. of Michigan, was chosen to be his adopted state's No. 1 booster during the next 10 months as he directs planning for the seventh annual observance of Michigan Week May 15-21.

His appointment was announced by Edward J. Hekman, Grand Rapids industrialist who is chairman of the organizing committee for next year's week-long celebration.

Hekman said members of his committee looked all over outstate Michigan in their search for the 1960 state chairman and "we were immensely pleased that Saunders accepted the job."

Saunders, who served as regional chairman for central western Michigan's 13 counties during the 1959 Michigan Week observance, said he will start immediately to name committees for next year.

His first task will be to appoint nine regional chairmen who will direct the activities of 5,000 persons who will be on county and community committees throughout the state.

Submit New Health Plan

Blue Cross Contracts to Provide Individual Coverage for Oldsters

LANSING (AP)— A new health care plan for oldsters has been submitted by the Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield for approval by the state insurance commission.

Monthly cost of the combined hospital and medical-surgical benefits will be $8.47 — $5.23 for hospital and $3.24 for medical-surgical coverage.

The hospital plan provides 30 days of ward care, renewable each time the person has been out of the hospital at less three months, on a share-the-cost basis.

The member's share of the cost for each hospital admission is 20 per cent of the first $500 with a minimum payment of $25 and a maximum of $100.

In-hospital medical care under the medical-surgical plan is limited to 30 days, renewable each time the member has been out of the hospital three months.

If the subscriber has an income of less than $2,500, the fee will be accepted as full payment for surgery, in-hospital medical care, anesthesia and emergency first aid.

Frank Blackford, state insurance commissioner, indicated the plan will be approved pending a review of the rate schedule.

Business Notes

Donald C. Smith, owner of the First National Credit Bureau which has 22 branches, including offices in the Pontiac State Bank Building, has announced that common stock of the corporation has been split.

Divided 10 shares to 1, the stock has been placed on the "over the counter" market where it is now actively traded. Smith reports that the first five months of 1959 were the best in the company's 27 years.

Carl's Service Station Has Grand Opening

News in Brief

A total of $110 was taken from vending machines and an estimated $100 from a cash register by burglars who broke into Jay's Bar, 54 Auburn Rd., Avon Township, early this morning, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

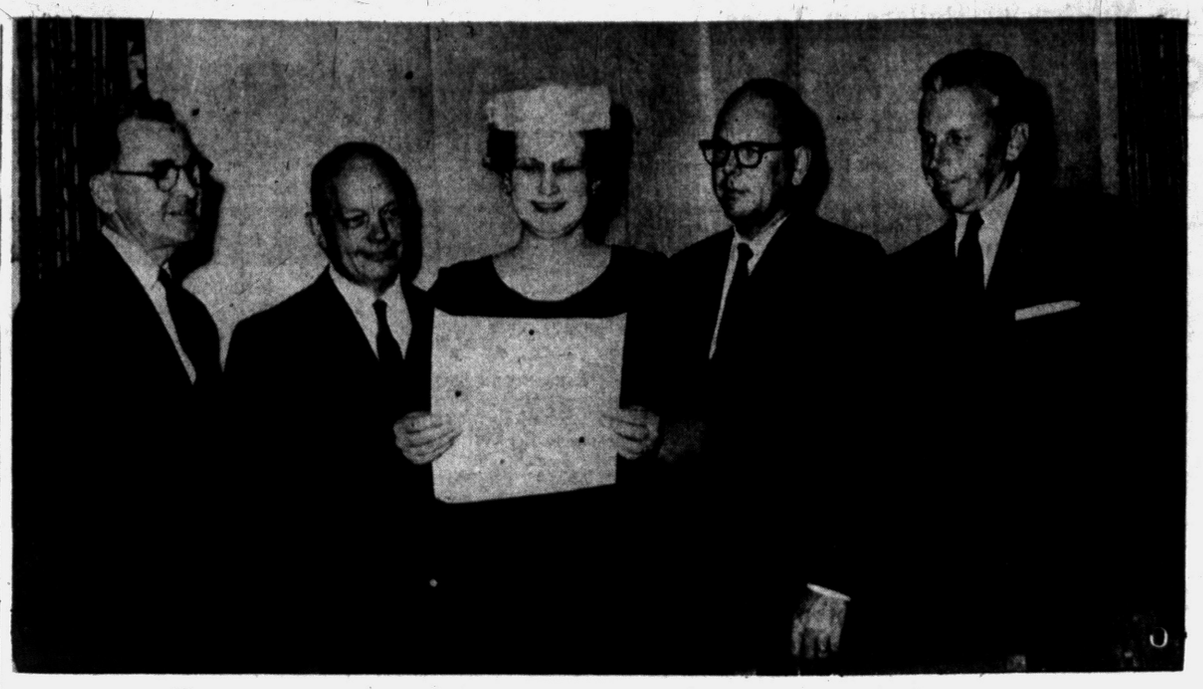

An estimated $50 damage to aluminum siding was caused by vandals who threw stones at a house under construction at 480 Briarvale St., Pontiac Township, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Boat License Bill to Governor

Calls for $2 Fee Every Three Years, Extends to Great Lakes Vessels

LANSING (AP) — A bill setting up a new registration system for the more than 300,000 privately owned motorboats in Michigan headed toward Gov. Williams' office today for signing.

It cleared the Legislature yesterday after agreement on an amendment channeling registration fees to the state's general fund for annual distribution. The House wanted a special fund created.

Approval by the Governor would put the new system into effect immediately. New registration numbers, all in Michigan starting with the letters "MC," would be assigned all motorboats, inboard and outboard alike.

Boat owners would pay a $2 registration fee every three years. Those registered under the present system would not pay their next fee until 1962.

Failure to comply with the new system, set forth in the Bonner Act passed by Congress last year, would have turned control over to the U.S. Coast Guard. A March 1, 1960, deadline has been set.

Courteous Thief Leaves a Note of Appreciation

KEWADIN, Mich. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays said today a courteous burglar who broke into their cottage near this Antrim County community while they were vacationing left a thank you note.

The couple said they found this thoughtful note when they returned:

"We thank you for the services of your house. We were starving so we helped ourselves and we had to borrow a jacket."

The note was signed: "Your friend, X X X X X."

Hays said that in addition to the jacket, the burglar "borrowed" seven hand towels, a watch, a radio, eggs, bacon, beans and other articles of food.

Peace in Huntington as Justice Resumes

The War of Huntington Woods has ceased—at least temporarily.

Sniping between Justice of the Peace James Renfrew and other city officials ended yesterday in the chambers of Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Renfrew who closed his court last week in a dispute with Huntington Woods officials agreed to reopen it.

Judge Beer, who as acting presiding judge of Oakland County Circuit Court has supervisory power over Renfrew's court, said agreement was reached in his chambers at a meeting attended by Renfrew, Fred L. Yockey, city manager of Huntington Woods, and James S. Thorburn, city attorney.

Renfrew dropped his demand for a key to City Hall, Yockey said.

The angry judge had indefinitely "adjourned" his court last week, charging that city officials failed to provide him with office space, stationery, and a key to the City Hall.

"All they offered me was room in the basement," the judge said.

Renfrew had accused police of collecting fines illegally and advised residents not to pay tickets at the violations bureau.

Renfrew was mum on the point yesterday. Yockey, who insists the violations bureau is legal said, "We're operating as in the past."

However, one thing was certain. Justice had returned to Huntington Woods.

★ ★ ★

OK Truck Use by New York Central in State

LANSING (AP) — The New York Central railroad has been granted authority by the state public service commission to operate a restricted truck common carrier service in Michigan.

The railroad sought unrestricted truck service paralleing its lines. This would have permitted it free choice of whether to ship by rail or truck.

The commission held, however, that this would invade the domain of the truckers. The restricted license allows the railroad to ship by truck any freight that was or will be also carried by rail.

Freuhauf Trailer Earns 6 Million in 6 Months

DETROIT (AP) — Fruehauf Trailer Co. Thursday reported net earnings of $6,048,882 equal to 90 cents a share for the six months ending June 30.

The company reported a net loss of $448,861 for the same period of 1958. Sales volume this January to June period was up 29 per cent over 1958 at $124,289,073 against last year's comparable period total of $95,978,031.

Reds Order Free Press Under Glass

The exhibition had planned to present a variety of American newspapers on open stands so that Soviet visitors could leaf through the pages and examine the contents. But the Russians insisted that the papers be displayed from the relative isolation of plexiglass cases.

They also insisted that the display be held inside one of the main exhibition halls at Sokolniki Park rather than outside on the fair grounds, as American officials wanted.

The display was being held up while the plexiglass cases were prepared.

An exhibition official said the newspapers, like books on display, were being carefully screened to weed out any items that the Soviets might find offensive.

Zimmer Facing 'Manslaughter'

Prosecution Expected; Forced Wife Into Car, Crackup Kills Her

A 20-year-old father of two today faced prosecution on a manslaughter charge, arising out of his forcing his wife into a car, then smashing into another auto.

Also in the hospital were two occupants of the other car, Robert Q. Naylor, 33, of 180 Fulton St., the driver, and James T. Goff, 29, of 273 Cedardale St., a passenger. Both suffered chest injuries.

Zimmer told police he went to his wife's home at 226 S. Parke. He admitted he had been drinking.

They argued over divorce plans she was to start Thursday and he pulled her into the car, Zimmer said.

Witnesses told police the car was traveling 70 to 90 miles an hour before the crash.

Zimmer admitted he failed to see a stop sign at the intersection of Judson and Paddock streets, police said.

★ ★ ★

The couple had been married for three years, and separated two months ago.

The children are Delbert, 19 months, and Paula, 4 months.

Buick to Complete '59 Car Production

FLINT (AP) — The Buick Division of General Motors said today it will complete production of 1959 models at the end of next week.

Assembly operations will end Thursday at Flint and Atlanta and on Friday at the six other Buick-Oldsmobile - Pontiac assembly plants.

Buick ended production on June 30 last year with 241,908 cars. It said its 1959 model run will total 284,089 cars.

The nearest of all the stars is now estimated to be about 25,000,000 miles from the earth.

Seismograph Will Radio Back Data

To Land Device on Moon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Space Agency today disclosed plans to send a seismograph to the moon in five or six years to see what it is made of and how its crust is behaving.

The agency is ordering other rocket-borne instruments to check lunar radioactivity and measure the density of charged gas particles in the neighborhood of the moon.

These projects were disclosed in a list of contracts, totaling nearly 16 million dollars, awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in June.

One of the contracts, for $390,000, went to General Electric Co. for study of a new engine idea which may hasten the day of rockets with millions of pounds of thrust. Another will finance a system for using plants to provide oxygen for space travelers.

★ ★ ★

The lunar seismograph will be jointly developed by Columbia University and the California Institute of Technology. Each received a $130,000 contract for the first year's work. The total cost may run around a million dollars.

★ ★ ★

By means of reverse rockets, the seismograph would be gently deposited on the moon in a so-called soft landing which NASA said it may attempt, if everything goes as planned, "within five to six years."

The seismograph is expected to be a rugged instrument weighing 10 to 20 pounds. What it learns about the structure of the moon and its quake activity, if any, will be reported to earth by radio.

Steel Union President Hinting for U.S. Help?

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — The head of the steel union has indicated it would welcome increased federal participation in efforts to settle the nationwide steel industry strike.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, says: "In view of the size and complexity of the steel industry, I don't see how the government can help but become involved in something as important as a steel strike."

McDonald's remark, made at a news conference Thursday, was interpreted in some quarters as an expression of hope that the government would intervene directly in the 17-day-old strike.

Federal activity so far has been limited mostly to two things:

1. The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, headed by Joseph F. Finnegan, has been working daily in efforts to bring about a settlement.

★ ★ ★

2. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has been serving as a fact-finder for President Eisenhower and keeping him apprised of developments in the strike and its effects.

Eisenhower at his news conference Wednesday reiterated that he did not plan to intervene in the dispute.

The government appeared to be heading toward possible legislation to prevent recurrence of the steel strikes which have shut down the nation's production six times since the end of World War II.

There was speculation the massive fact-finding undertaken by Mitchell might produce a proposal for a separate law dealing with labor-management relations in the steel industry, as the Railway Labor Act now deals with disputes involving railroads and airlines.

But such legislation, at which Mitchell hinted in a Washington statement yesterday, could have no more than indirect bearing on settlement of the present steel strike.

Finnegan was to meet here today with representatives of the striking United Steelworkers of America (USW).

He scheduled a joint meeting of union and industry negotiators for Monday. Their first joint meeting since the strike began, July 14, broke up quickly last Monday. Finnegan held out no particular hopes for the next one, but said "you can't settle anything without talking."

DIVORCEE WEEPS — Carole Tregoff, of West Covina, Calif., pretty red-haired divorcee and paramour of a prominent surgeon, puts her head on her manacled wrist and breaks into tears after her arraignment yesterday on charges that she helped him murder his wife. She was accused of being 'an active participant' in the slaying of Mrs. Barbara Finch. Earlier, at the preliminary hearing of Dr. Bernard Finch, she admitted love for, and intimacies with, the surgeon. Photographer Richard Oliver of the Los Angeles Times made this dramatic picture.

Penn Blue Law Ends

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A new state law modifying the Sunday curfew to get rid of suspended baseball games was signed Thursday by Gov. David L. Lawrence.

The measure, which takes effect immediately, changes the present law which forces suspension of any game still in progress at 6 p.m., EST, on Sunday. The law now allows any game started before 6 p.m., EST. to be finished.

The Association of American Railroads estimates it will cost up to 20 million dollars to keep the nation's tracks clear of snow and ice this winter.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HAZEL L. FRAZIER, who passed away July 29, 1954.
Do not ask me if I miss her,
For there's such a vacant place,
Oft' I think I hear her footsteps,
Or I see her smiling face.
For she left me broken-hearted.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they so little know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Daughter & family.

Doctor Charged in Wife's Slaying

Death Threatens Romance

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP) — The threat of the gas chamber looms over the romance of Dr. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff, lovers in a triangle shattered by death.

The prosecution announced Thursday it will seek the death penalty for the 41-year-old crew-cut surgeon — but not for his shapely 22-year-old sweetheart.

The wealthy surgeon's stormy, four - day preliminary hearing ended with an extraordinary denunciation of Finch by Municipal Judge Albert H. Miller. The 75-year-old jurist noted he had been a friend of the defendant and his father, a prominent West Covina optometrist for many years.

But Miller denied him bail and said: "I cannot let my personal feelings enter."

He ordered Finch held for Superior Court trial and set arraignment for Aug. 17 at nearby Pomona.

During his 28-minute summation, the judge indicated his belief that Finch and Miss Tregoff drove to West Covina from Las Vegas with the intent of murdering Mrs. Finch. After the shooting the lovers returned separately to the Nevada city, where Finch was arrested.

He branded as unbelievable Miss Tregoff's testimony that the pair made the trip to discuss the possibility of an out - of - court divorce settlement with Mrs. Finch.

Pieces of Body Caught on Train

Victim Identified as Detroiter but Engineer Unaware of Trouble

DETROIT (AP)—Parts of a human body were found on a diesel engine after the New York Central Railroad's Twilight Limited arrived in Detroit last night.

Police said the victim was Michael Silaghi, 61, of Detroit. Identification was made through a thumb print.

Michigan Bell Pays $7 Million Property Tax

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today made a nearly seven million dollar state property tax payment — the biggest in the firm's history.

A $6,659,679 check was delivered to the state revenue commissioner's office. The money is earmarked for state primary school funds.

A similar amount will be paid the state at the end of the year, bringing Michigan Bell's property tax payment for the year to slightly less than 14 million dollars. The payment will be about $1,400,000 above last year.

Wanting to Get Away? Try This Little Island

By EARL WILSON

ORANJESTAD, Aruba—What! You've never heard of Aruba?

★ ★ ★

It's Shangri-la . . . with slot machines. It seems that some Chicago, Miami and Las Vegas gents built a $5,000,000 hotel and casino, called the Aruba Caribbean, down here on a breeze-bathed island only 15 miles north of Venezuela. And whom did they engage to sing at the opening but the dear that made Milwaukee famous—Hildegarde?

WILSON

"It sounds like a desert island," I remarked to the Beautiful Wife when I got the invitation. "Be a nice place to get away from it all."

We were barely off the plane after the 6-hour hop when we saw a pretty New York gal who used to be a hostess on the $64,000 Question TV show, named Doris Wiss, who now does TV commercials.

"What are you doing here?" we asked in astonishment.

"It's quite common," she insisted.

★ ★ ★

"This island will never again be the same," Morris Lapidus said in a speech at the opening.

DORIS

How true! The 50,000 residents of this 20-mile-long speck in the Dutch West Indies who have depended on the Lago oil refinery which is part of the Standard Oil of New Jersey are now going to be catering to North and South American tourists anxious to gamble.

Yes, it is a good place to get away from it all, and there's no such beautiful and constant weather, probably, in the world.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Modesty is the feeling that others will discover how wonderful you are."

Congress Steps Into TV Quiz

Probers Curious About Report That Contestants Coached in Advance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to do some quizzing of its own to see if television quiz programs have been rigged.

Both House and Senate investigators say they're curious about findings of a recent New York grand jury investigation into whether contestants on some of the shows were coached in advance.

The grand jury findings have not been made public.

★ ★ ★

Several of the TV quiz shows that had been offering big cash rewards went off the air last year ago after charges were made that contestants on some of the shows were fed the answers before show time.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D-Wash) said Thursday he had asked New York officials for the grand jury findings. Magnuson is chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee which has jurisdiction over communication matters. His group has been making a general study of TV operations.

Within a few hours, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) said his House Legislature oversight subcommittee plans to go to New York Monday to try to get permission to inspect the grand jury findings.

Harris stressed his group was not making accusations of fraud in the quiz show situation. "We are merely investigating, with care and thoroughness, information which has come to our attention," he said.

"The subcommittee will exercise extreme care so that innocent persons will not be exposed to public ridicule or castigation."

Claim Cheboygan Prize

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Guenter Berken of Cleveland have arrived in Cheboygan to claim the prize they won at the Cheboygan County booth last March in a Cleveland sports show. It is a week's free vacation in Cheboygan County. They are spending two days in Mackinaw City, two in Cheboygan, two in Indian River and one in Wolverine.

Senate Act Dramatizes Top Profits

LANSING (AP)—A senator who once was a labor union organizer stirred a fuss in the Senate yesterday by parading down the center aisle with a placard dramatizing the Democratic argument for a corporation profits tax.

After some Republican-Democratic squabbling, Sen. Stanley Novak (D-Detroit) was directed to surrender the placard to Charles Williams, an assistant sergeant-at-arms, who carried it out of the chamber.

"There must be some decorum in the Senate," ruled Sen. Stanley F. Rozycki (D-Hamtramck), presiding at the time yesterday.

The issue was tossed into Rozycki's lap by Sen. Charles O. Feenstra (R-Grand Rapids) during debate on the Republican 116 million dollar use (sales) tax package.

Novak, who entered the Senate from the rear, was half way up the aisle to his seat near the front when Feenstra jumped to his feet in protest, interrupting a speech by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland.

Novak, supported by Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic floor leader, sputtered back but was ruled out of order. Geerlings refused to yield the floor.

The placard, about two feet square and affixed to a six-foot length of dowel rod with scotch tape, bore this hastily lettered legend:

"Record corporation profits (first half of 1959) — General Motors 590 million dollars—U.S. Steel 254 millions—for 285 millions—Chrysler 58 millions."

Novak took part in a 1937 sit-down strike as a Chrysler Corp. employe, was an assistant business agent for the Boilermakers union and later worked as a UAW-CIO organizer.

"This was nothing more than some of my facts," he told newsmen later. "I have a right to use a chart or a blackboard to illustrate my point.

"I never carried a picket sign in my life," he added.

Gas Leak Halts Traffic

LIBERTY, N. Y. (AP) — More than a thousand persons were back in their homes today after being hastily evacuated when a propane gas leak occurred in a storage tank. Highway traffic through the community was stopped and electric and gas facilities near the affected section were cut off until the tank was repaired.

Orders Review of Arms Policy

Ike Would Reopen Talks With Reds, Try Again for Disarmament

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has ordered a broad review of U.S. disarmament policy in another move emphasizing his most cherished goal — to reach an agreement with Russia on reduction of armaments.

★ ★ ★

The President is known to believe that Soviet public opinion may be strong enough to persuade the Kremlin leaders eventually to join in some pact for relieving the world's heavy arms burden.

The White House announced yesterday that Eisenhower had approved the selection of Charles A. Coolidge, a Boston attorney, to carry out the review of disarmament policy and bring it up to date.

Such a review is designed to prepare the groundwork for eventual re-opening of disarmament negotiations with the Soviet Union. They were broken off almost two years ago.

The President has told friends that the one thing he would like to accomplish most of all before leaving office is to win some agreement with Russia which would reduce tension and bring about a reduction of armaments.

He believes such an agreement is possible but is not prepared to say it is probable. It is possible, he feels, because of considerable pressures within the Soviet Union which might persuade the Kremlin to accept an agreement.

The President believes that the Kremlin has to pay attention to public opinion among its own people. In addition, he feels there is a growing desire among the Soviet people for a higher standard of living and for more consumer goods as well as a reduction in international tension.

Such goals could be achieved in the Soviet Union, economists estimate, only with a reduction in the amount of Russia's total production that is devoted to military purposes.

Nuclear Carrier Funds Included

Study Unit Works Out Compromise Bill for Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds for the start of a second big nuclear aircraft carrier have been included in a bill providing just under 40 billion dollars for U.S. armed forces this fiscal year.

The compromise bill worked out Thursday by Senate - House conferees still needs final House and Senate approval. It adds up to about the total President Eisenhower asked—39¼ billion dollars in new funds plus transfer authority of more than 400 million previously voted by Congress.

The measure carries an extra 45 million dollars to increase the Marine Corps to 200,000 men. The administration proposed a 175,000-man ceiling. An additional 170 million was provided to hold Army Reserves at 300,000 men and the Army National Guard at 400,000—10 per cent above the total asked by the Pentagon.

The Senate had voted 380 million dollars for the full cost of the nuclear carrier. The House provided no funds for it. The conferees agreed on 35 million to start the vessel which will take about four years to build.

Symington Tops All in 1960 Poll

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) topped Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) in a presidential reference poll of Ohio Democratic county officials announced today by Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio).

★ ★ ★

Of 95 Democratic county chairmen and secretaries who answered questionnaires sent them, Young said Symington is the first choice of 40 for the party's 1960 presidential nomination, compared to 33 for Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Nine picked Adlai E. Stevenson and eight chose Senate Democratic leader Lydon B. Johnson, of Texas. Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey got three votes, Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California two, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan one and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) none.

Symington also led in second choices with 27, Kennedy had 21, Johnson 11, Stevenson and Meyner eight each, Humphrey five and Brown and Williams none. Johnson topped the third choices with 17 to Kennedy's 13, Stevenson's 12 and Symington's nine.

Squash Bill to Control TV Tower Height

LANSING (AP) — A move to bring the height of radio and television towers under state control has been squashed by the legislature following protests by the Michigan Assn. of Broadcasters.

The House yesterday went along with the Senate amendment to eliminate the towers from the so-called "tall structures act."

Under the original measure, power to approve plans for erecting towers or other tall structures near airports would have been vested in the state aeronautics department.

The amendment limits this authority to buildings. The only ones which might be affected lie south of an east-west line running from Muskegon to Saginaw.

Like Father, Like Son

AMSTERDAM, N. Y. (AP) — Patrolman John C. Conrad's retirement today ends a 129-year association between his family and the city's police department. He joined the force 20 years ago, following his father and grandfather.

London's Oh Boy Show Not Dead, Just Wounded

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oh Boy, an entry on the ABC-TV summer schedule, is an imported product — a rock 'n' roll show milled in London. It is perhaps the cruelest punishment inflicted upon America by England since the burning of Washington.

EWALD

Oh Boy is not, of course, a live show, but it is not precisely dead either. What it is, is kind of apparitions shot severely wounded. Its visual portions look a little like a series of through a dirty cheesecloth by a defective Brownie camera during a prolonged eclipse. It seems to me quite possible that major segments of the show were dredged from a moat.

Its sound is something else. Its sound — if that is the word for it — makes Oh Boy's video look like the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel.

After listening last night for a half hour to the mouthings of some of its performers I'm convinced the sound track is dubbed each week into one of the more obscure Berber dialects. By Rumanian-speaking Eskimos. With Finno-Ugric accents. Under the influence of scotch. The liquor, that is.

SHORT SHOTS: Emcee Mike Wallace seemed to have his hands full with mystery guest Sam Levene on NBC-TV's Who Pays? Last night.

Levene, not quite housebroke, refused to stop talking out of turn and Wallace had to shush him on at least three occasions . . .

Eartha Kitt turned up on two shows last night — Who Pays and NBC-TV's Masquerade Party. Incidentally, the heat must be getting to me—I almost enjoyed Masquerade Party last night.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: One of the shows set for the new NBC-TV Tuesday night Ford series is a drama based on the activities of the Mafia. Also confirmed as Ford entries are Tony Curtis in "The Russ Colombo Story," James Stewart in "Cindy's Fella" and a Cyd Charisse musical revue.

Jimmy Durante will check in as star of "Give My Regards to Broadway," a musical special set for Dec. 6 on NBC-TV . . . Ed Sullivan will open his fall CBS-TV season with an icecapades show . . . Marge and Gower Champion will appear in the second Sid Caesar CBS-TV special in January, not Caesar's Oct. 21 special as incorrectly itemed here two days ago.

Sales Higher in '59

ALMA (AP) — Leonard Refineries Inc. reported net sales of $12,680,000 with earnings of $281,000 for the three months ending June 30. This compares with net sales of $12,191,000 and earnings of $283,000 for the same period a year ago.

There are about 10,000 eating places in New York City exclusive of refreshment stands.

Drought Losses Mounting

European Crops Dry Up

LONDON (AP) — West Europe has just come through a crop-killing drought, its worst in decades.

Farmers have lost tens of millions of dollars through the cut in food production from stunted plants and dried out pastures.

Britain, Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Denmark all were hit by the drought, which started in some areas three months ago.

In France and Italy, which also have sweltered, the worst effects of the drought have been avoided, and crops generally are around average.

GERMANY — Official outlook for the harvest of almost all kinds of crops ranged from bad to worse. In north Germany, the Schleswig-Holstein grain harvest was expected to be 40 per cent to 80 per cent below average. Only the hardy wheat crop looked anything like a success.

★ ★ ★

DENMARK—Experts have estimated the drought will cost the farming industry 600 million kroner—$85,400,000—in lost production. The grain harvest is estimated at 3,800,000 tons—660,000 tons down from last year.

★ ★ ★

HOLLAND—Some cereal crop yields were expected to be down 20 per cent. Hay production was cut by a half. But wheat survived the dry days well.

★ ★ ★

BRITAIN—Spring - sown barley crops grew thinly in the dry soil, but generally the country came out of the drought better than the others. Farmers harvested up to a month earlier than usual. Luxuriant hay crops for winter feeding were reaped weeks ago, and the wheat and autumn-sown barley riped thick and fast in the sun. The potato crop was smaller.

Rain during the week rejuvenated brown pastures throughout Britain, gave a lift to crops, and lessened the risk of fires that have destroyed hundreds of acres of grain crops.

But if the drought brought heavy losses for some farmers, it brought wealth to crowded tourist towns and resorts. They enjoyed the sunniest summer since World War II.

Tow Away Ban Signs Carted Off by Police

NEW YORK (UPI) —Police admitted sheepishly yesterday that "tow away zone" signs on midtown no-parking streets are only good to "intimidate the timid."

The city closed down its impounding yards, and stopped towing cars away from no-parking zones a year ago to save money.

Atlas Nose Cone, Found in Ocean, Aids Scientists

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Atlas intercontinental missile, which will boost the first American into orbit around the earth, also is helping pave the way for manned space flight.

The laboratory was disclosed Thursday when the recovered cone was unveiled for reporters. The cone, fired July 21, is the largest ever brought back from space by this country. The 12,000-degree heat it encountered on reentry turned it charcoal black. The cone was recovered off Ascension Island, 5,500 miles down the Atlantic missile range.

The number of cars in an average freight train has been mounting. In 1926 there was an average of 46 freight cars per train. Today it is about 70 cars per train.

Appeals Conviction, Death Sentence

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Attorneys for a young Negro today were handling an appeal to the State Supreme Court of his conviction and death sentence for raping a socially prominent white woman.

Dewey Aaron, 23-year-old Negro truck driver and father of three, was found guilty last night by an all-white jury which took two hours and seven minutes to find Aaron guilty of rape, a capital crime in Alabama. The jury recommended the death sentence.

The rape victim, Mrs. Maurine Peacock, 31, a registered nurse and member of a socially prominent family, identified Aaron Wednesday by his clothes and voice as her assailant.

Aaron was expressionless as Judge Eugene Carter read the verdict and sentenced Aaron to death in the electric chair. The case under Alabama law is automatically appealed to the State Supreme Court.
