Poll Shows Adults Split on Drag Strip Supported by Teens

Oakland County law enforcement and court officials are not the only ones in dispute over the establishment of a drag strip in the Pontiac area for teenagers to race their cars.

Citizens of Pontiac are also divided in their opinions on whether an area should be set up for drag racing under proper supervision.

This was revealed yesterday in a random sampling of public opinion by The Pontiac Press. Eight persons were questioned on the issue — four teenagers and four adults.

Unanimously, the youngsters felt that a legalized drag strip would be a fine thing for teenagers. The adults, however, were less enthusiastic about the proposal. Two declared themselves in favor of the strip and the others opposed it.

Jack Larson, 19, of 830 Robinwood called the proposed drag strip a "good deal." He pointed out that teenagers would be racing against time, not against each other. A student at Michigan State University, Larson said that he'd watch such races, but that he would not be a participant.

LARSON

Fifteen-year old Bonnie Lee, 387 Linda Vista Dr., said that she'd like to see a drag strip under proper guidance because it "would stop kids from roaring down the middle of city streets in their hotrods."

BONNIE LEE

"All of the boys at school want such a program," she said. "And there's really no reason that I can think of why they shouldn't have it if it's safe and guided by the proper authorities.

A jig operator in Pontiac, Frank Brown, 20, said that if a strip were set up and maintained it would "stop teenagers from dragging their cars on Woodward, which endangers the lives of other people."

BROWN

He stressed that before it was approved the community should make sure that the strip was under proper supervision.

October 28 Vote Set for Hospital

Up to Property Owners to Decide on Equipping, Furnishing New Wing

Pontiac property owners will go to the polls Oct. 28 to try again to equip and furnish the addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

City commissioners last night approved the date, but were stymied in trying to determine whether the $950,000 general obligation bond issue would mean a tax increase.

Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6) moved to postpone a decision on this until City Manager Walter K. Willman could be consulted. Fellow commissioners agreed.

They did okay the issuance of $950,000 worth of full faith and credit bonds at an interest rate "to be determined at competitive bidding, but not to exceed six per cent per annum."

Commissioners earlier this month concurred with the hospital Board of Trustees that a second bond vote was the only answer to finishing the four million dollar wing.

Voters last May turned thumbs down on a $1,850,000 hospital vote.

TRIMMED DOWN

The proposed issue has been trimmed down to provide just "bare necessities" for the addition, trustees point out.

Puzzling commissioners last evening was the question, posed by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, whether to use an unlevied half mill, which would mean a 50 cents per $1,000 tax increase, or to chop off the half mill from the annual 3½ mills allocated for capital improvement work in Pontiac.

The unlevied half mill was approved by voters during a 1954 $3,000,000 hospital construction bond issue. If levied now, officials say, voter approval would not be needed.

This would result in boosting the city's present tax rate of $13.70 per thousand of assessed valuation to $14.20.

Miles said the October vote would stand the best chance to pass if no tax increase was involved.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans estimated there are 15,000 property owners in Pontiac. It will take three-fifths of the votes cast to pass the issue.

Ship Collision Sinks Steamer; 94 Are Missing

U.S. Freighter Captain Questioned in Uruguay River Disaster

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The captain and crew of an American freighter were questioned today in an effort to determine the cause of a collision that sank an Argentine steamer and left 94 persons missing.

All the missing were among the 247 persons aboard the river steamer City of Buenos Aires. No one aboard the freighter Mormacsurf, owned by the Moore-McCormack lines of New York, was injured.

Only slight hope was held that some of the missing might have reached safety after the river boat went down Tuesday night in the Uruguay River 78 miles north of Buenos Aires.

Argentine officials said Capt. Kenneth J. Sommers of Marin County, Calif., and other crew members of the Mormacsurf were "being detained incommunicado."

They stressed that such procedure was normal to give authorities the opportunity to take testimony.

The 7,890-ton Mormacsurf—loaded with grain and canned meat—steamed into Buenos Aires harbor yesterday, a 15-foot section of her prow bent 45 degrees to starboard by the collision.

The 3,754-ton City of Buenos Aires, owned by the Dodero Steamship Line, for years had been shuttling passengers and cargo between Buenos Aires and Montevideo.

Many passengers were in bed or preparing to retire when the two vessels crunched together shortly before midnight. The river boat went down before lifeboats could be launched.

A government communique said 153 persons—66 crewmen and 87 passengers — were rescued from the river steamer. Survivors said many of those lost were old people and children who could not swim.

CAPTAIN REPORTED SHOT

Among those listed as missing was Silverio Brizuela, 53, captain of the City of Buenos Aires.

Local newspapers reported the captain shot himself in the head while standing on the bridge a few moments after the collision, but there was no confirmation.

Three agencies said he shot himself and went down with his ship, while a fourth said he killed himself after being rescued from the river.

One surviving passenger said he saw Brizuela fire a bullet into his head while standing on the bridge of the ship. Another said he saw the captain directing rescue operations with a revolver in his hand.

Authorities, who at first announced no one had been killed in the collision, later refused to give any estimate of casualties.

Survivors told newsmen there must have been casualties because the ferry had more than 200 persons aboard and went down within ten minutes of the collision near the mouth of the river.

Rescue operations took place in a thick fog and biting cold temperatures.

Over 500 Pay Tribute to Pontiac Motor, GM

More than 500 persons turned out to pay tribute to Pontiac Motor Division and its parent, General Motors Corp. at a reception staged last night by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Assembled at the Elks Temple were city and county officials and leaders from all phases of the community's economic and social life, honoring the division on its 50th anniversary.

In a brief program, half-way through the reception, general chairman of the affair, Harold A. Fitzgerald, introduced the chief guests and paid tribute to Pontiac Moton as the mainstay of the city's prosperity.

Louis C. Goad, GM executive vice president, spoke briefly. Goad was substituting for Harlow H. Curtice, GM president, who was unable to attend due to illness.

Goad said that General Motors was fully aware of the mutuality of interests between the city of Pontiac and the corporation. He assured his listeners that GM would never abandon its stake in Pontiac.

Goad added GM wanted to be a good citizen of Pontiac and take its full share in all civic developments.

Pontiac Motor Division general manager S. E. Knudsen received a scroll of appreciation from the City of Pontiac and also spoke briefly.

Fitzgerald also introduced Ormund E. Hunt, GM director; James E. Goodman, general manager of GM's Fisher Body Division; Carl W. Moyer, Fisher Body general factory manager for Michigan; Thomas F. Weithorn, manager of Fisher Body in Pontiac; and Thomas Wilson, general manufacturing manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Another Pontiac Man Hurt as Car Hits Tree on M60 Near Niles

One Pontiac man was killed and another injured yesterday as their car skidded on wet pavement, hitting a tree near Niles.

Ernest Johnson, 31, of 379 Howard McNeill St., the driver, was killed when the car left M60, about three miles west of Niles. Johnson was pinned behind the wheel and could not be removed from the car until a wrecker had pried it from the tree.

His companion, and owner of the car, Anthony Grimaldi, 52, of 21 Lexington Pl., was rushed to Pawating Hospital in Niles with a concussion and shoulder injuries. He was listed in fair condition by a hospital spokesman today.

Also passengers were Grimaldi's two children, Richard, 13, and Virginia, 15. They were uninjured. Johnson's body has been taken to the Pifer Funeral Home, in Niles.

DETROIT (AP) — More than half-a-million persons are expected to turn out Friday to watch a three-mile parade wind through the heart of Detroit to signal the opening of the Michigan State Fair. The 110-unit parade will feature 21 bands, 19 floats, 10 units of prancing horses and seven marching groups. The marchers will be met at the state fairgrounds by Gov. Williams who will cut a ribbon to officially open the 108th annual fair.

Thurmond Edgy After 15 Hours on Senate Floor

Glares at Democratic Leader Johnson; Calls for Stop to Whispering

WASHINGTON (AP) — William Proxmire, 41-year-old Wisconsin Democrat, was sworn into office as United States senator at 1:12 p.m., today. The oath was administered by Vice President Nixon.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) apparently got his second wind and definitely developed an edgy temper today as he continued his one-man filibuster against the civil rights bill.

He chalked up 15 hours at 11:54 a.m.

Indicating he was not about to quit, Thurmond promised he would "discuss at some length" the protections he said South Carolina voters get under state laws. He proceeded to do just that.

The flashes of temper appeared as other senators conferred, in wispers, on the floor.

At one point Thurmond called for order in the chamber when a clerk whispered something to Sen. Yarborough (D-Tex), who was presiding at the time.

Thurmond stopped and glared pointedly another time at Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) as they held a whispered consultation with a committee clerk.

There were glares from time to time for other whisperers.

Thurmond kept his talk going in the face of word from Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, that it was all futile.

KNOWLAND FRESH

Knowland, looking fresh in contrast to the obvious wear on Thurmond, appeared in the chamber at 6.30 a.m. to tell the South Carolinian he couldn't win, that there will be no adjournment of Congress until there is civil rights action, and that Thurmond was inviting rules changes making it easier to break up long talk.

Then, after the brief interruption, Knowland went to the White House, for breakfast with President Eisenhower while Thurmond kept going.

After the White House session Knowland said he had told Eisenhower Congress still might be able to adjourn tonight despite Thurmond.

Knowland said his report was the first word Eisenhower had received that the Senate had been going all night.

The Republican leader said there were indications Thurmond's operation was "a purely isolated and solo filibuster."

FIRST SINCE 1953

It was the first time the Senate had stayed in round-the-clock session since 1953. The day's regular sitting started at 10 a.m. so that a 24-hour run was guaranteed when Thurmond went past that time and into his 14th hour.

The last all-night sitting in 1953 featured a 22-hour and 26-minute speech by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) against the tidelands bill. Morse set an unofficial Senate record for marathon talk.

PARIS (INS) — A high French official has given a 20th century twist to Queen Marie-Antoinette's famous saying: "If they have no bread, let them eat cake."

Under-secretary for agriculture Pierre de Felice has told housewives complaining that beef was priced beyond their reach: "If you can't buy steak, have ham and eggs."

Barnyard products are the few commodities not affected by the recent general rise in French prices.

Tighe Signed for '58 as Tigers Manager

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Tighe today was signed to manage the Detroit Tigers again in 1958.

General Manager John J. McHale said owners of the Detroit Baseball Co. were "pleased" with Tighe's work this season, his first as a major league manager.

Tighe, a veteran of the Tiger system, replaced Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris after the 1956 campaign.

The Tigers currently are in fourth place in the American League. McHale said he believes the Tigers can finish in the first division this year.

"Who was the first man?" his father asked. "Adam," the boy replied.

"And the first lady?" he was asked. "Mamie Eisenhower," said Mitchell.

Careless Swimmers Die! Check Water Safety Rules

By DICK SAUNDERS

Careless swimming is the major factor of the 21 drownings in Oakland County lakes since Memorial Day, a study of the causes shows.

Twelve of the 21 victims had been swimming, four died from boating accidents, and one was a water skier. The remainder was classified as miscellaneous—most of these victims were small children that fell off docks or wandered into shallow water.

As the total grows with thousands using Oakland County's 423 lakes, it becomes more obvious that safe swimming rules are being left behind with the swimmers' street clothes.

Law enforcement officials are as disgusted as they are worried. Ten of the 12 swimmers who drowned were old enough to know the elementary safety rules.

Children have to be reminded about water safety, but once you're 15 or older, common sense should point out dangerous practices, they feel.

For example, if you ever swim

Man Seeks $10,565 for Single Toothpick

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit man is seeking $10,565 for a toothpick.

James L. Goudreau of Detroit filed a damage suit for that amount in Ingham County Circuit Court yesterday, declaring a Lansing hotel was negligent last January in serving him a hamburg which contained a toothpick.

Goodreau claimed the toothpick became lodged in his throat and he "became sick, sore, disordered and suffered grievous pains, injury, medical expenses and loss of earnings from employment to the total damage of $10,565."

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Confidential defense witness Albert de Stefano, speaking about stories printed in the scandal magazine said: "Anything that makes you chuckle either inwardly or outwardly, cannot be obscene."

Confidential Trial Thrown Into Tizzy

Judge Orders Definition of 'Bedroom Story'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Bedroom stories" about Corinne Calvet, Dorothy Dandridge, Frank Sinatra and Alan Dale have thrown the Confidential magazine libel trial into a tizzy.

Famous names continued to fall like rain as the sensation-packed case moved toward its end.

The prosecutor and a defense witness got into a lively squabble yesterday afternoon over the question: What is a "bedroom story"?

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi was trying to establish that Confidential filled its pages with material which he said was on a level with "washroom stories" in obscenity.

"Has the magazine always had as many bedroom stories as it does now?" Ritzi asked Albert De Stefano, Confidential's legal adviser.

'I DON'T KNOW'

"What do you mean?" De Stefano inquired. "I don't know what a bedroom story is."

"Stories' like the ones about Sinatra, Dale, Dandridge — that's supposed to have happened somewhere else, in the woods—and the Calvet stories," Ritzi said.

De Stefano stuck to his contention he didn't know what Ritzi meant.

Judge Herbert V. Walker called the usual recess until Friday morning and told Ritzi:

"I'll give you until then to decide on a definition."

The day's name-dropping reached its height with another mention of movie producer Mike Todd.

Todd came into the testimony Monday as having confirmed a story for Confidential. The producer exploded in New York that he once spoke to a Confidential writer, but only to persuade him to omit certain information.

TODD ONLY HELPED

Not so, De Stefano testified yesterday. He claimed Todd not only helped with the story but supplied photos of himself and a tag line for the article, which was called "How Mike Todd Made a Chump Out of a Movie Mogul."

"He (Todd) thought the publicity would help him," De Stefano declared.

The article, somewhat less spicy than usual for Confidential, told how Todd helped a broke actress by asking a movie boss if she could be borrowed for a play. The tycoon hastily put her under contract. Then Todd announced he had called off the play.

Todd could not be reached in New York yesterday for further comment.

Did June Allyson have a romance with Alan Ladd?

That question was brought up by the defense in attempting to support its case for the article, "How Long Can Dick Powell Take It?" The defense introduced gossip columns and a fan magazine article which alleged Miss Allyson was carrying on with Ladd while both were married to others.

Powell, speaking for himself and his wife, June Allyson, told newsmen from his home that he had

Trial Concluded for Milton Henry

Judge Will Announce Decision September 12 on Assault, Battery

The trial of Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry concluded today, with Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum announcing he would hand down his decision Sept. 12.

Henry, 38, of 34 Crawford St., is charged with assault and battery against Patrolman Clarence Smith, when the officer attempted to impound the attorney's car July 23.

The prosecution's last witness, Sgt. Eugene Hendren, testified, over Henry's objection, that two years ago he heard the defendant challenge a witness in a trial to meet him outside the court.

Henry said the testimony was immaterial. Assistant City Attorney Sherwin A. Birnkrant said he introduced the testimony "to show Henry's general frame of mind and attitude toward the law and its officers." McCallum withheld his ruling on the objection.

Summing up the prosecution, Birnkrant said testimony given during the four-day trial showed the "defendant's thoughts were on anything but defending his property when he assaulted the officer."

Henry, acting as his own attorney, said the entire issue at stake in the trial was not the assault and battery charge, but rather one "of the rights of citizens to be secure in their persons and property against unlawful searches and seizures."

He further stated that the police acted unlawfully in impounding his car, in that the ordinance covering the act is unconstitutional.

Flint Driver Held in Traffic Fatality

Manslaughter Charge Against Harold Frye in Death of Mrs. Schultz

Harold B. Frye, 35, of 1483 W. Julia St., Flint, was bound over to circuit court following examination yesterday on a charge of manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Richard Schultz, 28, of 9510 Portage Trail, White Lake Township.

She was the driver of a car which, police said, collided head-on with the Frye car July 15 at Airport Road and Northrup street, in Waterford Township.

Five passengers in the Schultz car were injured.

Frye and a passenger, Clarence E. Strong, 36, of 1298 Rex. St., Flint, were also injured.

Frye had demanded examination, with the date set for Aug. 15. The examination was postponed to yesterday because of his physical condition.

He was released on $300 bond.

Eight witnesses testified for the prosecution at the examination.

Trial date has been set for Sept. 10.

Cheboygan Ends Lease

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The City of Cheboygan has repossessed a three-story factory building on which it gave Great Lakes Garment Co. a 30-year lease in 1941 at $1 a year. The company stopped production two years ago. The city said the lease was terminated because the firm did not continue to meet its agreement to maintain a $50,000 a year payroll.

The first three U. S. patent examiners were listed on the records as Thomas Jefferson, Henry Knox and Edmond Randolph, the office records show.

MORE TROUBLE FOR BECK — Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union, consults his watch at a meeting in Los Angeles Wednesday of the union's executive board. Not long afterwards a federal grand jury in Seattle indicted him on seven counts of evading $184,000 in income tax and accused his son and four associates of conspiracy to aid in the evasion.

New Tax Tangle for Beck; Teamsters Answer Blunt

The burly, retiring boss of the nation's largest union was indicted by a federal grand jury in Tacoma yesterday for allegedly cheating the government out of $184,000 in taxes on 1951, 1952 and 1953 income.

The grand jury said Beck's taxable income in those years was $420,000 and not $165,665 which Beck reported.

The indictment citing tax evasion was the second against Beck in four months. He was indicted last May on charges of evading $56,420 in federal taxes on 1950 income.

Named with Beck yesterday were his son, Dave Beck Jr., and four others. They were accused of conspiring with Beck Senior to conceal the Teamster head's true income.

Besides the two Becks, those named were:

Norman Gessert, general organizer for the Teamsters; Fred Verschueren Sr., the union's auditor; Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, and his son, Shelton Shefferman.

Beck, in Los Angeles for an executive board meeting of Teamsters officials, kissed off the latest indictment as "nothing." He asserted: "It doesn't mean a thing. I have just joined that army of Americans who have been indicted. I most certainly am not guilty."

Federal Judge John C. Bowen set Sept. 12 as the date for arraignment and a plea of the defendants, who will be free on bail.

In Los Angeles, leaders of the scandal-ridden Teamsters Union apparently have drafted a tough reply to the AFL-CIO's corruption charges.

SEND BLUNT ANSWER

Beck hinted last night at the end of a three-day executive board policy meeting that the AFL-CIO was going to get a blunt and unyielding answer from the Teamsters.

Members of the executive board have been summoned to appear in person at a meeting of the AFL-CIO ethical practices committee in Washington on Sept. 4-5.

The executive board's reported tough reply to the AFL-CIO was interpreted in labor circles as a victory for vice president James R. Hoffa, who is Beck's heir apparent.

Hoffa leads a Teamster faction which has declared that it has no intention of knuckling under to the AFL-CIO top command, even though it means expulsion from the AFL-CIO.

Hoffa has said that if the Teamsters have to go it alone as an independent union, that's the way it will have to be. They intend to take no dictation from the AFL-CIO.

His only avowed rival for the presidency at the Teamsters national convention in Miami next month, vice president Thomas L. Hickey of New York, favored a conciliatory reply to the AFL-CIO. He was opposed to doing anything to cause the Teamsters to be driven out of the parent labor organization.

Hickey, who is given little chance of defeating the dynamic Hoffa for the presidency, yesterday accused Hoffa of "muscling" into my territory, promoting hoodlum-dominated "paper" locals in New York, "to add to his power."

Hickey promised that some "badly needed reforms" would be made if he is elected.

Canadian Dollar Sinks

NEW YORK (AP)—The Canadian dollar, which soared to record heights last week, dropped back yesterday to its lowest level since June 24.

Foreign exchange dealers quoted the Canadian dollar at $1.04⅞ in terms of the U. S. dollar, off ⅛ of a cent from yesterday's close. The Dominion dollar has been slipping steadily since it reached an historic high of $1.06⅛ on Aug. 20.

Traders attributed the decline in part to the fact that rumors of possible devaluation of some European currencies had failed to materialize.

High Wrigley Post Given Area Man

Herman Friedman, 19610 Warwick, Birmingham, has been named general operations manager of the Wrigley Division of ACF-Wrigley Stores Inc.

One of three divisional heads under general manager Samuel Frankel, he will be in charge of all phases of the Wrigley operation with the exception of sales and finance.

Department heads of warehousing, personnel, planning, research, construction, engineering and maintenance will report to Friedman.

Friedman joined the organization as a meat buyer in 1942, when the chain consisted of seven Wrigley stores. Mergers and construction have upped the total of stores to 99.

Prior to his appointment, Friedman was meat department director of the Wrigley Stores.

Friends of Area Library Prepare Drive, Program

BIRMINGHAM—The Friends of the Baldwin Public Library of Birmingham are looking forward to one of their most successful seasons for 1957-58.

Plans for increasing the membership of this organization are now under way, under the direction of Richard Hanne, president; Jeanne Lloyd, librarian; and Sylvia Parker, chairman of the membership committee.

A recent meeting of the membership committee furthered plans to interest residents of the Birmingham area in this organization.

Mailings already have been sent to former members, and it is planned to contact a number of additional people in Birmingham and the surrounding area.

Announcement was made by Edgar Dare, program chairman, that the speaker for the first program would be Carleton Smith, now in Europe, and who, in the course or his travels, has made two trips behind the Iron Curtain and met with Stalin, Kruschev, Malenkov and Shepilov.

Persons interested in joining the Friends of the Baldwin Public Library can contact Miss Parker through the Library, or at 763 North Woodward.

Linn Smith, Birmingham architect, has been appointed to the Building Code Board of Appeals for a five-year term.

Smith replaces Clarence W. Blenman, whose resignation was accepted by commissioners this week.

Blenman said he would continue on the Zoning Board of Appeals but gave business reasons for his resignation from the other post.

With the recently-granted permission for the use of Shain Park, the Birmingham Society of Women Painters is going along with plans for its annual exhibit and sale Sept. 7, from 9 to 5.

Mrs. James C. Allen, chairman, said there would be oils, water colors, drawings, and etchings for sale.

Peter Smith and Cyrus R. Osborn Jr., sons of two of the society members, will provide music during the sale.

A former resident of Birmingham, John Frederick, 72, died yesterday in Blodgett Hospital, Grand Rapids.

A native of Sanilac County and a retired barber, Mr. Frederick moved to Reed City 10 years ago. His only survivor is a brother, Charles W., of Birmingham.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Saturday from the Manley-Bailey Funeral Home. The Rev. Harry O. Martin, D.D., of the First Methodist Church will officiate.

Hit-and-Run Victim Now Recovering

Little Michael Cassidy, the 23-month-old boy who was seriously injured when struck by a hit-and-run driver Tuesday is reported in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Flies 15,500 M.P.H. to 620-Mile Height

Reds Describe Missile

MOSCOW (INS) — A Soviet scientist has described Russia's intercontinental ballistic missile as a weapon that can reach a height of 620 miles, fly at 15,500 miles per hour and deliver a hydrogen bomb warhead virtually on the nose of any target on earth.

G. I. Pokrowski, a major general of engineers and professor and doctor of technical science, described the missile, that Russia says was fired successfully a few days ago, in an article published yesterday in the Soviet Air Force and Navy newspapers.

Pokrowski said the missile can fly a distance of many thousands of miles and hit a target within a radius of 12 miles.

Examination Set for Waterford Man

An examination has been set for 1:30 p.m. today for James A. McEvers, 24, of 860 Glendale Ave., Waterford Township, who is charged with manslaughter in the death of Henry E. McCurry, 42, of 4975 Inkster Rd., Bloomfield Township.

The men were involved in a two-car accident June 20 on Highland Road near Woodstock Drive.

McEvers was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Donald Adams July 30 and demanded examination. He was released on $500 personal bond.

Signs A-Fund Bill

Truck Drivers Hold Best Safety Record

The truck driver is a very special type. He is misunderstood by his fellow men. The man next door thinks the pilot of the big Diesel truck is a bully. He certainly has a frightening amount of speed, power and size.

Statistics prove that he is the safest driver in the world. The average motorist drives 10,000 miles a year. The average truck driver does 60,000 miles. His accident rate is 1.5 per 100,000 miles. To equal this record, the average motorist could have no more than two accidents in 13 years.

Is he considerate? If he thinks it safe for you to pass, he will blink his left arrow light on and off and keep his headlights on. His rear wheel sanding device helps on icy roads.

If he meets you on a dangerous road or one with a speed trap, he will snap his front parking lights on and off as a warning. If you pass a truck, he will usually blink his front lights to indicate when you can return to the right-hand lane.

He stops regularly and gets out. He keeps his cab lights dim to avoid a hypnotic glare.

Soupbones Stew at U. of M. to Make Teeth, Shinbones

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A cauldron of steaming soupbones at the University of Michigan may someday provide you with a working set of teeth or a brand new shinbone.

Three U-M dentists are cooking soupbones in a specially prepared concoction to remove protein, fat and other organic substances, leaving only a material called inorganic bone matrix.

They have used this matrix to reform chins and fill tooth defects in more than 20 oral surgery patients.

The soupbones — usually from beef — are cooked at 118 degrees centigrade in a solution of ethylenediamine to rid them of the unwanted organic materials.

The dentists then graft the inorganic matrix to impacted teeth, cell tumors and root canals, filling in openings and stimulating the healing process.

ABSORBS MATRIX

Eventually, explain Drs. James R. Hayward, Emmet R. Costich and James K. Avery, normal bone absorbs the matrix and replaces it. They believe inorganic matrix may be used for all types of bone grafting.

In the next year, the three dentists plan to test the inorganic substance with antibiotics and other drugs to determine its lasting action.

There are several other advantages to using matrix for healing and grafting, say the dentists.

It has an extremely fine cell structure which enables blood to flow freely from injuries and clot quickly. The dentists believe it can be used in powdered form for treatment of flesh and skin wounds.

DEVELOPED AT MIT

Credit for the actual cooking-process development of the inorganic matrix goes to J. B. Williams and J. W. Irvine of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

They published their findings three years ago. The Naval Medical Research Institute at Bethesda, Md., also has received considerable results with use of matrix in oral surgery, say the Michigan dentists.

41 U.S. Youths Get RED Carpet

New Yorker Reports Free Rein of Peiping, 'Wonderful' Service

NEW YORK (INS) — Communist China is giving 41 touring American youths the Red, red carpet treatment.

One of the youths, Ed Hochman, said the Chinese have provided complete valet service.

"And the best of all," he added, "is the wonderful free room service and cold beer 24 hours a day."

Hochman, who comes from New York, gave his report on the youths' reception in the capital of Peiping on a direct broadcast from the capital.

He is one of the youths who went to Red China, despite warnings of the U.S. State Department, after the Moscow Youth Festival.

He said Communist officials have given Americans free rein to tour the Peiping area without restriction.

Limousines and buses, he said, were placed at the disposal of the group and they "ferry any number . . . to any attraction of their choice."

Hochman said that at every meal "at every table there is a constant stream of waiters bring eight or 10 courses of Chinese delicacies."

He described a typical meal as consisting of "liqueur, roast duck, ham with bamboo shoots, roast chicken giblets, pepper steaks, melon soup, two kinds of fried fish, all types of exotic vegetables, right down to coffee, cigarettes and brandy."

Traffic Officers Seeking Your Number

If you're a member of that small, careless, lawless and hopeless minority whose idea of a good time on a holiday weekend is to step heavily on the gas, our traffic officers are looking for you.

They'd like to find you before you find your victims.

You may not think so, but they're also out to protect you.

They want to have you corralled and hog-tied before you have an opportunity to put on your smart aleck casualty display, to the sorrow of others — including your own family.

Never before did the Pontiac area have such a large number of traffic officers on duty as will be guarding the public safety over the coming weekend.

They'll do their duty.

Will you do yours?

Tuesday's paper will tell.

To be sure, the needle-in-the-haystack stands out like a sore thumb as compared to the quarry they seek to foil in his death-dealing doings that border on the lunatic fringe.

Statistics show that holiday casualties in our area are less than one in one hundred thousand among the cars on our highways. But our officers are after that menace with a fine tooth comb.

If your accelerator is in better shape than your brakes, if you're heavier in the foot than in the head, and if you think this is the time to cut loose, both from sane driving and horse sense, then you'd better watch your step-on-it—or stay at home.

No effort will be spared to catch the killer before he kills.

Decade of Migration

During the past ten years, says the Population Reference Bureau, 50 million people left their homelands voluntarily or otherwise.

After World War II about 20 million fled into Western Europe. Peoples of Germanic origin were pushed out of Poland and Slavs took their places. Russians, in turn, poured into the eastern lands of Soviet satellite countries.

In Asia 20 million have migrated, 17 million of these were Moslems, Hindus and Sikhs who changed places when India was divided. Arabs have fled from Israel and thousands have had to flee from Red regimes in China, North Viet Nam and North Korea.

More than seven million have left Europe for overseas homes. Italy accounted for 900,000, Germany and Poland 450,000 each and the British Isles 800,000. Sizable migrations also have taken place in this hemisphere. Some 450,000 Puerto Ricans have come to this country and 65,000 British West Indians have gone to England.

Huge migrations are not entirely the result of wars. Oppression, increasing population and the natural desire for improved economic conditions have played their part. New shifts are under way in such countries as Asia, Africa and South America.

This mass movement of people, unprecedented in history, the Bureau says:

"Emphasizes again the urgent need for Worldwide recognition of the grave and growing problems generated by the world's unprecedented rate of population growth. Migration from overpopulated areas can offer only temporary relief from population pressure, at best, unless birth rates in these areas are reduced to balance low or falling death rates."

"THERE is some sentiment for nominating HAROLD STASSEN as candidate for the Presidency in 1960," says a news commentator. In this respect, though, doubtless some 99.9 per cent of the voters are highly unsentimental.

The Man About Town

Domesticated Deer

Animals Becoming Real Tame in the Pontiac Area

Appreciation: What we're all trying to show that we realize what our factories have done for Pontiac.

The deer population of the Pontiac area is not only increasing, but also is getting domesticated. A newly born fawn was found ten weeks ago by on his farm at 490 Hadley Road. It is being reared by the family, and now refuses to leave, and mingles with the cows. It answers to the name of "Bambi," and comes to the house when called—and often when it isn't. If not admitted at once, it stands upright with its front hooves on the screen.

"Bambi" has the ravenous appetite of the usual healthy and rapidly growing child, consuming several bottles of milk daily, besides all kinds of vegetables, dotting on canteloupes and toast, but the latter must be well buttered. It graciously begs for most everything on the family table, but in spite of its other feeding still expects to be fed from a bottle three times daily.

A post card drifts in from Bethlehem, Pa., sent by

who writes, "The more I see of this town, the more I wonder how it got its name."

September McCall's Magazine carries the story,

"My Guardian Angel,"

from the pen of the blind author,

Hellen Tullis,

who now travels confidently everywhere with a leader dog, graduated from our neighboring Rochester school.

Appearing on a TV program the other day, the voice of

of Lake Orion, was so realistic that the the family dog, sleeping in another room, woke up, barked, ran to the set, gazed at the screen, and tried to get behind it.

Bats, those winged animal harbingers of the night, seem to be on the increase, as we've had several inquiries about a method for getting rid of them. In the home of of Huron Gardens, one flew down the fireplace chimney, scattering ashes and soot all over the place. The family cat was so badly frightened that it tried to hide in the goldfish bowl—at least, it tipped it over; and the parakeet hasn't spoken since. When a door was opened, the bat flew out into the night.

It's Easy . . . for a Kangaroo

GOP Is Lost Until 1964 Elections

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Economic disaffection is a very hard thing for the party in power to combat in any election, but it's even harder in an off-year and off-season contest of a local nature.

The Wisconsin victory of a Democrat for the United States Senate for the first time since 1932 did not come as a surprise to this correspondent or to anyone else here who had been realistically appraising the trends in national politics in the last few months. Nor will the election of a Democratic Congress in 1958 and a Democratic President in 1960 come as a surprise.

For the Republicans today have a divided party and they don't enjoy the benefit of such unswerving support for the party on election day as the Democrats.

Wisconsin's election of a Democrat was really more of an anti-Republican demonstration than a vote of confidence in the senator-elect, William Proxmire. For Wisconsin is a normally Republican state and when the Republicans in the farm areas fail to come out to vote, it must be because of indifference to a Republican administration in Washington.

Politically speaking, these are not "good times" for the incumbent administration. The economic discontent of large groups is substantial. It stems from low farm prices, and yet high costs of the things the farmers must buy. Inflation is squeezing the city dweller, too, as the cost of living keeps going up. Also, "tight money" is slowing down lots of businesses.

The average voter has grown accustomed to placing the blame for his troubles on the party in power. He understands very little about the complexities of the federal budget but knows his taxes are high and reads a lot about governmental spending.

RESENTMENT VOTE

Then there's the so-called "resentment" vote. Friends and supporters of the late Senator McCarthy were alienated by the Eisenhower administration's direct slaps at the Wisconsin senator when he fought vigorously, even though at times clumsily, against communism.

Mistakes were made by the Republican side in other respects, too. Thus Congressman Glenn Davis should have been the Republican nominee. The Republican conference of state leaders should have endorsed him. He lost the primary because he was not favored by the Eisenhower administration.

Also, in the ill-fated primary, several Republican contenders together polled nearly twice as many votes as Kohler did. The campaign strategists, moreover, billed Kohler as an "Eisenhower Republican" which, of course, offended the McCarthy faction. While an ardent supporter of McCarthy ran as an independent in Tuesday's election, this was not a factor in the actual result but it did emphasize the failure of the Republicans to heal their internal wounds.

The Republicans cannot win Congress in 1958 or the Presidency in 1960 with their present dissension. Having listened to Eastern mentors who keep saying that "Modern Republicanism" is the way to win elections—when, in fact, it is a very effective way to promote disunity and encourage conservative Republicans to stay at home on election day—the national managers of the Republican Party will have to discontinue giving the impression that it is some kind of sin to oppose radicalism, as well as so-called "liberalism" and the other isms of which the Democrats are more practiced exponents than are the "Modern Republicans."

Senator Knowland of California is quite right in pulling away from the Washington scene. He can't get the 1960 nomination because he isn't regarded as an "Eisenhower Republican." There probably will be a pull-back, however, in 1964 from the policies of state socialism which the Democrats will re-introduce when they come into power.

The next Republican chance for victory will probably be in 1964 with a party composed largely of conservatives and non-radicals and disillusioned Democrats.

For, as inflation goes unchecked, Federal budgets of the astronomical kind—in the eighty and ninety billion dollar class—are not far distant and will certainly emerge when the Democrats win the 1960 presidential contest.

The Country Parson

"People like to think they're doing something about their problems — which is why they honk their horns to make the light turn green."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol Is Big Business in American Life Today

Last October I submitted to parents a questionnaire asking whether they kept beer, wine or liquor in the home, whether they indulge in highballs etc., regularly or on occasions and whether they would approve if teacher, pastor, physician, coach or relative asked their children to pledge total abstinence.

DR. BRADY

Over 50 per cent of the replies received said no, no and yes, respectively; but 30 per cent said yes, they keep beer, wine and/or liquor in the house for their own use and for serving friends.

About 15 per cent said they'd regard it as an impertinence if any one othehr than themselves asked their children to take the pledge. Some of these added their belief that if a boy or girl is going to drink he or she will do so regardless of any pledge.

The questionnaire gave numerous correspondents an opportunity to reproach me for smoking. Some of them also disapproved of my endorsement of tea and coffee as benificent beverages. They did not mention my fondness for ice water. But they chose to ignore an important point, namely, that I believe and teach that tea, coffee or tobacco is invariably harmful to growing children and children are not full grown until they are 22 to 25 years old.

DISAPPOINTING

The result of the questionaire was a great disappointment. First, there was but one answer from a physician, who, it is pleasant to say urged me to keep pounding away. There were a dozen from pastors who applauded and as many from pastors who wished they could speak out as freely . . . . mind, now, I don't blame them a bit—I'm sure I'd be as cowardly if I were a pastor.

And that reminds me, alcohol now ranks with steel and food as Big Business, and neither the clergy nor the educators nor the physicians can survive if they do not get along with Big Business.

In today's issue of a popular magazine no less than 9¼ pages are devoted to alcoholic beverages and liquor—pages carefully interspersed with this and that, of course. Such an exhibit makes one wonder how many millions of Americans get their living from alcoholic beverages and liquor and how many billions of American capital are invested in alcohol.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Tells Wives How to Hold Husband

Jerry and Mary are now engaged. But Mary is afraid! She suspects other women. But the greatest threat to every wife's happiness is the woman who looks back at her whenever she glances into her mirror! Wives lose their mates by their own sins of omission, so send for the booklet below and get hep to reality.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-376: Jerry J., aged 36, is a very popular traffic policeman.

"Dr. Crane, we are engaged to be married," his finacee informed me.

She is a school teacher named Mary, aged 32.

DR. CRANE

"But I feel rather jealous of Jerry, because he has so many girl friends who stop to chat with him.

"I am a rather shy, quiet type, and I wonder how I could stand being tied down at home when I knew Jerry was surrounded all day by admiring women."

WHAT WIVES DON'T KNOW

One of the great causes for unhappy marriage, is the fact that wives still don't know the psychology of the normal male.

So face the following candid truths and adjust to them. First of all, this is a man's world, so a fellow is seldom forced to get married.

When he actually does propose and then places a wedding ring on your finger, it means something ultra special.

For men rarely propose actual marriage to more than one woman, unless death or divorce frees them for a second wedding attempt.

The very fact that Jerry has already proposed to Mary, indicates that she far outshines all other women whom he meets in his daily work.

And that same reassurance should buoy up the morale of all you wives.

Furthermore, a man will stay devoted to his wife, if she continues to inflate his ego with smiles and compliments and kisses.

Wrinkles and old age and even a fairly well upholstered equator will not break a husband's devotion to such a wife.

WIFE'S WORST FOE

For the worst enemy that every wife faces, is not younger sirens or designing co-workers of her husband.

No, your greatest foe is the woman who stares back at you whenever you look into the mirror, It is yourself;

Other girls don't win your husband away from you.

No, you drive him away, usually by your sins of omission; Most women don't even know what are the common sins of omission, so they grow indignant and berate their husband for being 100 per cent at fault when divorce threatens.

That's not only untrue but a grave injustice to the average American husband.

So get hep to the facts. You know God Almighty created man and woman with greatly differing appetites at the dinner table.

A wife can get along happily on 2,500 calories of victuals but her mate usually demands 3,500. So she feeds him more, without complaint.

In fact, she buys cook books to entice him to eat 5,000 calories worth of delicacies.

But God also made man to require far more erotic calories than woman. And most wives soon learn that fact.

But what do they do about it?

Do they try to learn additional techniques from this column or from reputable marriage books, by which to satiate that husband's greater erotic hunger?

And do they ever think of urging their husbands to even greater erotic consumption?

Alas, most of them do not. They usually act indifferent or as if they begrudge their husbands such affection.

Indeed, they often try to feign themselves into semi-invalidism to keep their mates at arm's length.

Then they feel very aggrieved if their husbands, in anger or disgust, finally turn to other women. What do such wives expect?

If they failed to offer their mates enough food at the dinner table, wouldn't such men turn to other cooks, via patronizing downtown restaurants?

So send for my booklet "Sex Differences in Marriage," enclosing stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It helps banish such jealousy as Mary shows today.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Married Women's Jobs Should Go to Family Men'

Why don't GM and CIO make a survey of all women working in plants who are married and have a husband or son working in plants and supporting the home? Then they should give those women's jobs to young men who have wives and small children to support. A woman's place is in the home doing her own work, not beating a man out of a living for his family.

You see what a young man did: he clubbed a young girl almost to death for money and hanged himself. So wake up, GM and CIO.

Let's Get Women Out of Shops

Answers Question of Mixed Marriage

In regards to the recent plea for advice on mixed marriages; if two people presently will not be married because of religious differences, this apparently means they are both agreed it's wrong. What can happen in the future to make it right? Why seek an excuse to justify what is obviously wrong even to the couple involved?

Christian

Praises Service in City Stores

People can say all they want about Pontiac's downtown businesses, but I'll say one thing for them. When you go into a store here, the clerks don't stand there and stare at you for 10 or 15 minutes before they decide to help you, the way they do in a lot of those out-of-town shopping centers.

Shopper

'How Can Parent Teach Children?'

How can a parent keep his children decent and teach them to respect laws and stay out of trouble? You keep them home, allow them to go only to the grocery store, and then neighbor children come into your yard and start fights. You call their parents and ask them nicely to make their children behave. They refuse, get mad and always blame yours.

Then these small children get in with a gang of older boys and call other children dirty names and catch them in the street, trying to beat them up. When you call the police for protection before your children get hurt badly, the police believe the boys who are always in trouble and tell you to teach your boy to act like a gentleman and there won't be any trouble. They say the older boy didn't hurt your boy, so they don't see any reason to call them.

How can we make our boys understand such a situation? How can we stop juvenile delinquents, when some of the police have that attitude? I guess a boy just has to be bad to get along anymore.

Or Should Teenager Be Taught by Parents?

High School Driver-Training Courses Said Best Way to Learn to Handle Car

(If teenagers are to be allowed to drive, they must first learn to operate an automobile. There are many opinions on how it should be done. This problem is discussed today in the third of four articles on teenage driving.)

By IRWIN SAFCHIK
INS Staff Writer

When a teenager should be allowed to drive is only part of the vexing problem facing parents and all who strive to make the highways safe. Who should teach them to drive is another vital question.

Their fathers? "No!" says Prof. Amos E. Neyhart, consultant on road training for the American Automobile Association and administrative head of the Institute of Public Safety at Pennsylvania State College.

Parental driving instruction, he contends, is "murder." Neyhart points out that too many parents themselves have bad driving habits and even those who don't simply are not equipped to be teachers.

He cites figures to show that, in Pennsylvania for example, "home-trained youngsters were involved in three times as many traffic accidents and violations as those who learned about cars and driving in high school."

Neyhart is a pioneer in the field of high school driver education. Under his guidance, the Penn State College high school was the first to conduct a regular course in the subject. That was more than 13 years ago.

PROGRAM HAS GROWN

Since then, the program has bloomed magnificently. In the 1936-37 school year it trained 450 young drivers. In the 1955-56 school year 10,280 of the nation's 19,886 public high schools—or 51.7 per cent—were teaching 923,830 of the nation's 1,652,816 high school students—or 55.9 per cent—how to drive.

Not all of them receive behind-the-wheel training, but all are learning at least the fundamentals of good driving through classroom instructions.

And, in Springfield, Mo., the city's high schools are offering road experience right in the classroom—through the use of "drivotrainers," units containing all the mechanical contrivances of the automobile which the student manipulates while watching filmed traffic situations on a screen.

As of last Jan. 1, seven states—California, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Maine, Michigan and Pennsylvania—were providing financial assistance to the driver training program, and many more were considering the advisability of following suit.

The AAA says the program has saved 2,814 lives, prevented 98,490 injuries and averted 298 million, 810 thousand dollars in economic losses since it began.

These savings, the AAA says, "are computed on the assumption, justified by numerous studies, that students who take a driver education course have only half as many accidents for the first five years of driving as untrained drivers in the same age group."

Junior Editors Quiz on NEWSPAPERS

QUESTION: What was the first newspaper?

ANSWER: The first known newspaper was the "Tsing Pao," a court journal published in Peking, China. It started about 500 A.D. and was continued until 1935. Before the invention of type, it was produced from carved blocks of wood.

In Europe, the forerunners of printed newspapers were written newsletters. They were sent out regularly by Roman scribes to businessmen and politicians in distant cities to keep them informed of happenings in Rome.

In 1450, Johann Gutenberg, a German printer, invented a printing press that used movable type — a separate block for each letter — and revolutionized the printing industry. The invention made printing easier, but it was not until 1609 that the first regularly-published newspaper appeared in Europe. This was the Strasburg "Relation" in 1609.

The first newspaper published in the American colonies was "Publick Occurences," issued in Boston in 1690. In the United States today there are about 1,800 daily and 10,000 weekly and semi-weekly papers.

FOR YOU TO DO: Visit your local newspaper and learn all the intricate things that go into printing a paper.

Spencer Tracy's Son Divorced for Cruelty

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. John Tracy has testified that her husband, son of actor Spencer Tracy, treated her as a servant and repulsed her after the birth of their son.

"If I put my arm around him, he would say 'let me alone,'" Mrs. Tracy, 23, said at the opening of her divorce trial. She charged mental cruelty.

Her husband of five years agreed to relinquish custody of their son, Joseph Spencer, 2, with the provision that he retain certain visitation rights. He also withdrew his cross-complaint for divorce.

Tracy, deaf since infancy, asked the court to fix the amount of child support. He said his income is limited to trust fund payments and gifts of from $75 to $100 a week from his father.

The oldest limestone quarry still operating in this country was opened at Limerock, R.I., in 1643.

Smog Could Become a Laughing Matter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Smog is no laughing matter, but a physicist from Cleveland says it could be.

Dr. Ray W. Johnson of the Case School of Applied Technology said yesterday that nitrogen passes unchanged through internal combustion engines. This could be changed by adding a catalyst, such as a bit of spongy platinum placed on a spark plug. Then, he said, "the engine would produce nitric oxide — the laughing gas once used by dentists."

"Of course," he acknowledged, "this wouldn't eliminate the lead and carbon monoxide. We's still get our poison, but at least we'd die laughing.

100 Under Leckonby

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Last spring Lehigh's golf team marked its 100th victory on the links since Bill Lechonby took over as coach. In 10 years, his golf teams won 100, lost 21 and tied 3 matches.

Continual Jam Session Breaks Up Marriage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The actress-daughter of comedian Jack Haley was divorced by her husband, composer-arranger Buddy Bregman.

She testified their home-life was one continual jam session.

Gloria Haley, 27, told Superior Court "the house was filled with musicians who stayed late," causing neighbors to complain. She said that Bregman, also 27, stayed out late and that there had been "other women" since they were wed in 1950.

She was awarded $1,000 monthly alimony for 10 years and $250 monthly support for their son, Barry, 5.

An hour later he will serve as master of ceremonies at the coronation in Memorial Stadium. During the proceedings he will crown Carol Hall of Mt. Clemens queen of the 1957 festival.

Turns Blueberry Hobby Into 30-Ton Business

Stephen J. Herban, owner of a blueberry plantation in Hamlin Township, Mason County, estimates the 34,000 fruit-bearing bushes on his 33 acres will produce about 30 tons of the luscious berries this season.

Herban turned to farming on a small scale in 1925 when a breakdown in health forced him to retire from his chosen career in the Christian ministry.

He purchased his present land in the late 1940's and started clearing it with a hand ax. By 1950 Herban had cleared enough land to transplant 500 blueberry plants. The original bushes now have grown to a height of six feet and more.

The entire Herban tract presently includes 120 acres, with six to eight acres being cleared and planted each year. Each acre supports 1,000 blueberry bushes which start bearing when they are two years old.

Herban says, if properly cared for and barring natural disaster, the bushes may continue to bear for 100 years or more.

He credits his wife with much of the success of the Herban plantation. "We raise our own plants from cuttings in nursery rows," Herban says, adding that his wife has helped him since the start of the blueberry venture.

Herban says his son Earl left a successful career in aeronautical engineering to return home and grow blueberries. "I am stepping out to let him be the boss," Herban adds.

Pickers on the Herban plantation are recruited mostly from among local residents. They make from $6 to $10 a day, based on the number of seven-pound pails filled.

Winter Barley Planting Time Soon to Arrive

Fall planting will soon be here. It's an important time for farmers around the county, especially for those who are growing more winter barley.

Here are a few tips for improving the yield of barley which farmers may use as a feed crop. Most important is area adaptability. The best winter barley will be grown in the southern areas of Michigan.

The most popular varieties are Hudson, Kenbar, and Wong. The Hudson variety is generally the best because of its better winter survival, high yield and test weight. Farmers should not hesitate to use good seed.

Certified seed should be planted at least every other year to avoid smut losses. It is emphasized that the planting time is highly important.

Planted in the middle two weeks of September, winter barley is less susceptible to the virus disease "yellow dwarf." And, finally, a soil test is always the best recommendation for fertilizer.

A yield of 50 bushels per acre is not too much to expect after measures are taken to improve yield.

Dems to Attack GOP Foreign Policy in '58 Elections

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) said today Democrats are going to run against Secretary of State Dulles in next year's battle for control of Congress.

Smathers, who heads the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said he is convinced criticism of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policies helped Democrat William Proxmire win an upset victory in Tuesday's special Senate election in Wisconsin.

Proxmire defeated Republican Walter J. Kohler, a former governor, who ran as a strong supporter of President Eisenhower.

"The Republicans ran against Dean Acheson when he was secretary of state," Smathers said. "Secretary Dulles represents this administration's uncertain foreign policies and he is a legitimate target for attack in the campaign."

Smathers spoke in an interview as Proxmire waited to be sworn in as the first Democratic senator elected from Wisconsin since 1932. Proxmire was elected to fill out the unexpired term of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, a Republican.

Proxmire flew into Washington last night, expecting to be seated in the Senate promptly. But Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California blocked the attempt, saying the ceremony would have to await receipt of official word from Wisconsin Gov. Vernon W. Thomson that the 41-year-old Proxmire had been elected.

This set off a loud argument between Knowland and Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. But Knowland's objection under the unanimous consent rule postponed the action.

Meanwhile, in a separate interview, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) agreed with Smathers that foreign policy is likely to be one of the prime political issues in 1958.

"I think there are three fronts on which we ought to hit the Republicans hard — foreign policy failures, their lack of a farm program and their tight money policy that is pinching the small business man, the laboring man and the farmer," Humphrey said.

Proxmire, in an airport news conference here last night, said "I campaigned strictly on the Democratic record in Congress. So my success was both a rejection of the Eisenhower administration and an affirmation of the Democratic program."

Smathers said he agrees with Proxmire's estimate that the defeat of Kohler represented a protest against Eisenhower and his policies.

"I don't think there is any question Eisenhower's popularity as president is diminishing rapidly," Smathers said. "He is still personally popular but people are getting disenchanted with him as president."

Proxmire plans to run next year for a full six-year term. His will be one of 12 Democratic Senate seats at stake, along with 20 Republican seats.

Meanwhile, Republicans assigned a wide variety of reasons for the defeat of Kohler.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he thinks a Republican candidate who offered the voters a "sharper choice" between candidates than Kohler did might have fared better. Both Proxmire and Kohler classed themselves as liberals.

"I don't think the Wisconsin election is particularly significant with regard to 1958," Mundt said. "But I do think it demonstrated that the sharper the choice you make for the voters between the Republican and the Democratic candidate the more Republicans you attract to the polls."

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) blamed Kohler's defeat on what he said were "so-called Republicans" who "have been beating the brains out of the Republican party every day in the year."

"They have convinced a lot of people not to vote Republican," he said.

However, Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) said it would be a false conclusion to believe that a reactionary or an isolationist could have run a better race than Kohler.

The Senate spat over seating Proxmire came after Johnson complained heatedly that Gov. Thomson was holding up the ceremony by failing to send a telegram to the Senate.

Just as heatedly, Knowland shot back that Thomson had not been asked to send the telegram until about 6 p.m. last night.

Public Warned Against Chain Letter Schemes

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Post Office Department reported today a "renewal of chain letter schemes" and warned participators they are subject to criminal prosecution.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield noted that the courts have held the letters to be "frauds and lotteries," and pointed out that this applies also to "savings bond clubs", which attempt to "cloak themselves in respectability."

U. S. Calls It Practical, Workable

West Offers 10-Point Disarmament Plan

LONDON (INS) — The Western powers today formally presented to the Soviet Union a detailed proposal that the United States called "a practical, workable plan for a start on world disarmament."

The 10-point proposal was submitted at the United Nations disarmament subcommittee by the U. S., Britain, Canada and France and also bears the approval of the other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries.

While virtually every portion of the draft proposal had been previously presented in subcommittee meetings and made public, this was the first time they were all listed together on paper.

The major provisions are these:

1. A year after the disarmament treaty became effective Russia and the United States would cut their forces to 2,500,000 men each and France and Britain to 750,000 men each.

They would also reduce armaments, placing discarded weapons in storage depots under international control. The levels of the armed forces of other states would be determined later.

Further cuts in forces could occur as a result of later negotiations and if political conditions were right and the first-step disarmament arrangement had worked.

2. Military expenditures would be subject to examination by the proposed international control organization as a means of verifying cuts in the conventional forces and armaments.

3. The agreeing countries would use nuclear weapons only in "a situation of individual or collective self-defense" against armed attack.

4. Future production of fissionable material "will be used at home or abroad, under international supervision, exclusively for non-weapons purposes, including stockpiling." Cutting off the manufacture of such materials for weapons would become effective one month after an international inspection system to check on it had been completed.

In this connection, the plan proposed that each country pledge "not to transfer out of its control any nuclear weapons or to accept transfer" of such weapons except for purposes of self-defense.

5. Testing of nuclear weapons would be suspended for 12 months, with a renewal of 12 months—a total of two years—provided that adequate inspection systems are set up and that satisfactory progress is made under the agreement toward halting all atomic production for weapons.

6. Rockets capable of soaring above the earth's atmosphere into outer space would be brought under control with a provision stating:

"All parties to the convention agree that within three months after the entry into effect of the convention they will cooperate in the establishment of a technical committee to study the design of an inspection system which would make it possible to assure that the sending of objects through outer space will be exclusively for peaceful and scientific purposes."

7. Provisions would be made to cut the danger of surprise attack by setting up inspection zones, with aerial and ground inspection systems, covering vast areas of western and soviet bloc territory. The details had previously been spelled out by Secretary of State Dulles in a proposal in London Aug. 2. The Soviets have already rejected the plan in part and taken the position that they disliked the whole idea.

8. All the pledges for arms cutbacks and measures to end the atomic race, according to the Western proposal, would be meaningless unless there was also full agreement on the "operation of an effective international control and inspection system."

The proposal calls for an international control organization and for various types of inspection machinery and would commit the participating countries to cooperate "freely" with the inspectors to make certain that the disarmament pledges were honored.

Like the U. N. Security Council, under which it would operate, the control organization would have an executive board in which powers—presently unspecified—would have a veto right on "important decisions."

9. The board of control would be empowered to study ways of regulating armament exports and imports.

10. Any country could withdraw from the treaty by giving written notice if there was a major violation by some other country or if another country impaired the effectiveness of the disarmament system in some way.

11. Russia was told that it would have to negotiate on the Western proposals as parts of a single plan and could not accept any one of them apart from the others.

Greater Threat of Milk Strike

DFCA Sets Sept. 15 as Demand Deadline for Detroit Creameries

ROMEO — Threat of a possible milk strike looms greater today if demands of the Dairy Farmers' Cooperative Association of Michigan are not met by Sept. 15.

DFCA officers said yesterday they are considering strike action if Detroit creameries fail to meet their demand of $6 per hundredweight for Class 1 (drinking) milk. Current price now in effect is $5.

The Co-op continues to present a united front despite an undercurrent of hostility between organizational director Homer Martin and Secretary Sam Ballo.

"The Co-op represents 75 per cent of the dairy farmers shipping into the Detroit milkshed," Martin said, "and we feel the strike will be effective."

A letter has been sent to all Detroit dairies listing DFCA demands. Any settlement will be reviewed by the Co-op's strike committee, headed by Martin, and ratified by the membership.

DFCA leaders said farmers needed more money now "because prices have gone up and farm machinery costs are due to rise 10 per cent Oct. 1."

Martin squelched the suggestion that labor was needed to promote a successful strike. "There are no labor leaders nor combinations with an organized labor union in our action," he said.

DFCA has set up three strike headquarters — at New Hudson, Imlay City and Carson City. Directors claim membership in 27 counties and have slated a general meeting at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the high school at Elsie for a progress report on strike plans.

Economy to Close 7 Air Installations

WASHINGTON (INS) —The Air Force announced today it will close seven installations in the next three years in a move to tailor expenses to the Pentagon economy drive.

Officials said that 32,000 civilian workers will be reassigned to other jobs, if possible.

The Air Force also disclosed that units now operating at the McGhee-Tyson airport in Tennessee and the Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport will be inactivated.

To be closed in the current fiscal year are the storage station at Reading, Pa., with 80 employes, the Wendover Air Force Base in Utah, 41 workers, and the Foster Air Force Base in Texas, 406 employes.

The timetable for the remaining two years includes:

Fiscal 1959: Philadelphia storage station, 30 workers; Savannah storage station, 267, and Ardmore Air Force Base in Oklahoma, 268.

Fiscal 1960: Chele Air Force depot in Maywood, Calif., 2,150 workers.

SICK CALL AT NAM THA HOSPITAL finds Dr. Dooley handing out pills and sage advice to Laos natives. "The witch doctors do incantations; I give penicillin," he says.

Witch Doctors an Unofficial Part of Tom Dooley's Medical Staff

By DON DUNHAM
(Third in Series)

SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA)—The witch doctors of Nam Tha are an unofficial part of Dr. Thomas A. Dooley's staff. But Tom Dooley doubts that the American Medical Association would object.

Dr. Dooley believes that he accomplishes more by working with the witch doctors than by fighting them. He helps them save face, builds up their prestige at the same time he works his medical wonders.

In this manner, Dr. Dooley, who is a Roman Catholic, has convinced the witch doctors that they should bring their patients to him while there is still enough life in them to be saved.

The doctor from St. Louis, Mo., does something else that is a little unorthodox. He indulges in "fee-splitting," a practice which is frowned upon by medical societies in the U.S. The "fees," of course, come from grateful patients. They are Tom Dooley's only pay.

Eggs, fruit, poultry, hand-woven cloth, pieces and hair ornaments are among the offerings. All of these he splits 50-50 with the witch doctors.

DRUMS MADDENING

The witch doctors—each village hereabouts has at least one—beat on drums until an American is ready to go mad.

"They do incantations; I give penicillin," Dr. Dooley says.

They also burn incense, make offerings of rice to their good spirits, rub ashes on the patient's stomach, put an ash line on the forehead of a newborn baby and blow good spirits into the ears of women patients.

For anemia, they have the patient drink baboon blood. A fracture is treated by wrapping leaves around it and building a mash of bamboo splints around that. That treatment is better than most of their medicine, which is usually a wholesale, all-purpose cure-all made of cow dung, tobacco juice and other "miracle" substances.

While I was eating breakfast one morning with Dr. Dooley, I witnessed an example of his "fee-splitting" technique.

A woman came in who had a very bad lip cancer which had spread to her face. Dr. Dooley had removed it in his first surgery here and only a slight scar is observable today.

COCONUTS AS FEE

In appreciation, she and her husband had trudged for two hours through a driving rain to bring Dr. Dooley two coconuts. He sent one of them to his colleagues, the witch doctors.

The Laos have a name for any unexplained illness or death. It is "grippe atomique." And they are very positive about it. It has caused many deaths, they think. Thus our testing of atom bombs in the South Pacific brings only fear and some anger to these peaceful, happy and land-locked people.

At the hospital sick call I sat beside Dr. Dooley and we discussed each patient, the symptoms, the diagnosis and the treatment. He can talk pretty good Lao, medicine-wise. But all of these eight tribes speak a language, not understood by others. That's the reason for interpreters. Then the first patient came in.

The patient, a youth of about 25, had had his left arm amputated. Dr. Dooley said he was injured in a fall from a water buffalo.

He had a bad compound fracture of the elbow. He stuck with the witch doctor too long and the strange "healing paste" had produced gas gangrene and there was nothing to do but amputate. The stump is beautifully healed.

A lad about four came in. I had seen him yesterday while walking with Dr. Dooley. He had massive hypoproteinuria, a severe case of malnutrition. When he stopped nursing he no longer got proper food. He had enough but it was not balanced.

STEADY STREAM

Use of mercurials had helped him and Dr. Dooley was able to order that treatment stopped. He is being fed an all-purpose high protein food provided by "Food for Millions," another American program, at a cost of 31 cents a meal.

After that came a steady stream of patients, with a variety of diseases. Dr. Dooley treated them quickly, efficiently. Cholera, cancer and leprosy cases fill the beds in his hospital's wards.

There is always another patient to treat.

When a girl starts learning about the birds and the bees, it's time for her to start watching out for the wolves. —Earl Wilson.

People Who Make Decision for Christ Have a Nebulous, Wonderful Feeling

(This is the last of four articles summing up the Billy Graham New York Crusade, which ends this weekend, and showing how it has affected some New Yorkers.)

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — What manner of men and women are these who, sometimes trembling and oftentimes calm, walk forward in Madison Square Garden—under the urgent pleading of Billy Graham—and make "Decisions for Christ"?

University professors and hoodlums, movie stars and dowagers, all races and all creeds have moved to the foot of the fair-haired evangelist, and declared themselves ready to glorify a very real God, and do battle with a most literal Satan.

Have they anything in common at the moment of decision? Billy Graham says yes.

"If I restrained myself (from preaching)," he offers eagerly, "I would burst from sheer pressure."

He thinks it is something of that feeling that inspires the decision-makers.

The decision-makers can't put it any more specifically, "Suddenly the feeling comes over you and you know—you just know—that it is now or never, that God is calling you," is a typical way they have of describing it.

TROUBLES LIFTED

"You've always had troubles, and suddenly they are lifted from you," is another.

Miss Myrtle Tower is in her thirties, as attractive as she is efficient, a program director for a New York radio station. It is a hectic job and, until Billy Graham put God in her heart, she had pains in her elsewhere areas.

"I no longer drink, fight, flare up or swear (though I never did that much anyway)," said Myrtle, pepping up a dim office with her eyes. "I still smoke, but one of the ministers on the (Graham) team tells me that is not of major importance. The bad habits and the old annoyances are lifted from you."

Miss Tower made her "decision" last May, speaks of it deliciously and statistically, as a sentimental woman might recall a wedding date. "Two months, one week and one day ago," she says. "And suddenly the world is different."

The feeling of being a "new-born Christian," she says, is "like something of yourself has been taken away and something stronger has been added."

SOMETHING STRONGER

At the moment of decision, "you realize there is something stronger than yourself. Suddenly you feel the spirit moving you, and you feel you might never have another chance.

"Right at that moment, you have to accept Christ. You can't fight it."

Billy Graham, with his "spiritual babies", assures them that if they confess their sins, God wipes them off—and they are clean and new as infants.

The danger of many decision makers is a temptation to glorify Billy Graham, make him a dominant figure in their new lives. "I made that mistake at first, I admit," she confesses, "tending to put Graham and the team in front of my mind—with God just behind. But they straightened me around."

It is this attitude on the part of some of his "babies" that concerns Graham most. He has a constant fear of taking too much off the spotlight away from the almighty . . . "If you want to wreck my ministry," he tells his followers humbly, "just credit me with what is happening. This is God's doing. I am only a voice."

ENDURABILITY QUESTIONED

Ministers and priests and rabbis are in sharp discord on the endurability, theology, and eventual benefit to the world of the Billy Graham crusade.

In New York, about 1,500 of the 2,000 churches were "behind" the crusade. The Catholic Church in New York "unofficially" banned its members from attending Graham rallies.

Dr. Julius Mark, chief rabbi of Temple Emanu-El, New York's largest synagogue, said: "Of course, to me as a rabbi, the entire method used by Graham is foreign. We Jews do not require people to—quote—be born again—unquote—to practice religion satisfactorily.

"But I think Graham is an earnest, sincere and zealous minister and it appears evident that when thousands come to hear him, they are not altogether satisfied with their own churches. However, if Graham's religion makes these people permanently better people, it can't be wrong . . . the question is, does it make them permanently better people?"

That is a question which, at this point at least, is unanswerable. As Graham himself says, "The moment a person makes a decision for Christ, the devil suffers a tremendous defeat. He is mad as 'hops' now. From now on, he is going to tempt you and try to lead you to sin . . . "

The most widely-heard evangelist in world history prays solemnly and sincerely that Satan won't win many of his new-born back.

Small Hike Due in Water Rates

All Property Owners in Waterford Township District 1 Affected

All property owners in the vicinity of water system No. 1 in Waterford Township can expect an increase in water rates soon, according to clerk James Seeterlin.

Because the present township water rates are so unusually low compared to surrounding areas, it is impossible to acquire credit from bonding companies for expansion or improvements, Seeterlin said.

"There are no township funds available for emergencies in case any of the operating wells were to go dry," he said. "and the water-table is getting lower all the time," he added.

At the present time, there are three wells supplying nine subdivisions in the number one water system. Rain water that formerly sank into the land naturally, is now being carried off to the rivers by pavements and storm sewer drainage.

The subdivisions affected are Sylvan Shores, Huron Gardens, Donelson Park, Cherokee Hills, Jeffry Manor, Lincoln Heights, Loraine Manor, Coleman and Friedman and the Elizabeth Lake Estates.

Only customers connected to these wells will be affected by the water tax rate increase, Seeterlin said.

The three wells are now capable of pumping 2,750 gallons per minute, and the two adjoining elevated storage tanks are not sufficient to supply water during the peak demands, according to township officials.

A new plan is being worked out whereby the minimum rates will be raised slightly, for residents who use a small amount of water.

Those accustomed to using large amounts, will be charged accordingly.

VA Home Loans Rise

DETROIT (AP)—The Veterans Administration at Detroit says it received 904 home loan applications in July, compared to 834 in June. Lloyd H. Jameson, VA regional office manager, said "loan activity during July reversed the general downward trend which began earlier this year."

Ike Notes Reds Attack, Claims

Voices Disappointment of Allies Over Soviet Attitude on Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP)—The text of President Eisenhower's statement on Russian missile claims and disarmament attacks is as follows:

It is deeply disappointing to all true lovers of peace that the Soivet Union should have already attacked, with such scornful words, the proposals which Canada, France, the United Kingdom and the United States are putting forward at the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee in LONDON—It is noteworthy that this attack coincides with the boastful statement by the Soviet Union that they have made advances in the development in means for bringing mass destruction to any part of the world.

The Western powers at London are completing their presentation of a rounded and interdependent first-stage proposal which, among other things, would, on a supervised and safeguarded basis:

(a) Provide a measure of protection against massive surprise attack;

(b) Suspend for two years the further testing of nuclear weapons;

(c) Seek that outer space shall be used only for peaceful, not military, purposes;

(d) Provide a date after which no fissionable material will be produced for weapons purposes and existing nuclear weapons stockpiles will begin to be reduced by transfers for peaceful purposes;

(e) Begin a reduction of armed forces and armaments.

It would be tragic if these important first-stage proposals, fraught with such significance for the peace of the world, were rejected by the Soviet Union even before they could have been seriously studied and before the Western presentation is complete.

Such a Soviet attitude would condemn humanity to an indefinite future of immeasurable danger.

So far as the United States is concerned, we shall never renounce our efforts to find ways and means to save mankind from that danger and to establish a just and lasting peace.

U.S. Gives Poland Better Trade Status

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has given Communist Poland a new and favorable trade status, nearly equal to that of any of this nation's allies.

The Commerce Department yesterday announced relaxed rules which will permit Poland to get such strategically valuable U. S. goods as industrial machinery, steel mill products, machine tools, electrical machinery and vehicles.

The loosening of export restrictions was promised last June when the two countries signed an agreement loaning Poland nearly 49 million dollars, to be used to purchase U. S. agricultural products and mining machinery.

Another four million dollars worth of aid was promised, contingent on congressional approval of a congressional approval of a surplus bill. That measure has been enacted.

The agreement stemmed from events in Poland last fall, when the Poles asserted a degree of independence from Moscow control.

First Crucible Steel

NEW YORK—In 1832 the Garrard brothers became the first American to produce steel commercially by the crucbile method. Made in limited quantities, this steel was used in the earliest American reapers and steel plows.

Senators Dig for Answers on Air Force Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators called an assistant secretary of defense for questioning today as to who shipped 44 million dollars worth of unneeded spare parts to Far North air bases.

The Investigations subcommittee summoned Asst. Secretary Perkins McGuire to discuss the supply shipments, and called a warrant officer, Benny Wilks, to tell about the reported burial of $30,000 worth of surplus materiel.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), heard some confusing testimony yesterday in its efforts to learn how much the government lost in surplus supplies at the northern bases, who is to blame, and whether the problem could develop again.

In a report to the subcommittee, the Pentagon acknowledged military responsibility.

But questioning by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), a former secretary of the Air Force, brought testimony that perhaps it was just a foulup resulting from the rapid changing of plans in the rush to activate the nine bases in Greenland, Newfoundland and Labrador during the Korean War.

Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, who headed the Northeast Air Command, and other military witnesses testified part of the problem stemmed from youthful, inexperienced servicemen untrained in handling inventories.

Barcus called the supply problems a logical sequel to the rapid turnover of Air Force manpower. Maj. Gen. John D. Ryan, materiel director for the Strategic Air Command, said he agreed with Symington and Barcus that this was a big factor.

The military witnesses said rapid shifts were made in the type of warplane stationed at the bases, and that as each type was declared obsolete the parts kept in stock for its repair became obsolete and useless except for scrap.

How much this amounted to was never stated, nor did anyone estimate how much it would have cost to return the parts to this country.

The Pentagon statement said it has recovered some 20 million dollars worth of excess parts from the nine bases, and will recover more.

Japan Will Add 23,700 Men to Armed Forces

KOBE, Japan (AP)—Japan's top defense official said today the government plans to add 23,700 men to the armed forces before march 1959. This would bring the total to 220,850 men.

State Minister Juichi Tsushima, director of the self-defense board, said the air force would be increased from 409 planes to 970 and the navy from 100,846 tons to 178,846.

Wheat Yield Report Viewed

Says Genesee Gives More Than Any Other Type Per Acre

Yield reports from Hubert Brown, farm crops authority at Michigan State University, have been released to assist farmers in deciding what variety of wheat to plant this year.

Genesee has yielded one to two more bushels per acre than any other variety for the last seven years, Brown says. Of the three soft winter wheats certified in Michigan, Cornell 595 has the stiffest straw. Both Genesee and Cornell 595 are more resistant to loose smut than Yorkwin.

These soft white wheats are bringing a premium over soft red wheats such as Seneca. Brown suggests that farmers grow the wheat which is common in their locality, either red or white. Mixing them in an area leads to difficulties in handling, both for the farmer and the elevator.

Certified seed should be used because it is clean, pure in variety, uniform in size, free from noxious weeds and rye, and usually is treated for smut. If farmers use seed that is not certified, it should be cleaned, graded and treated for stinking smut with panogen or ceresan.

Another very important factor is time of planting. The fly free date in Oakland County is Sept. 16.

Planting before the fly free date can result in as high as 70 per cent loss. Rate of seed planted should be six to seven picks, Brown says.

Hitchhiker's Ride Lasts Only About 50 Yards

BORDENTOWN, N.J. (AP) — It was a short ride for Leonard J. Noble, 19, a soldier stationed at Ft. Dix, who thumbed a ride from Michael J. McCarthy, 21.

Police said the two drove about 50 yards when their car collided with another vehicle. Noble and three others were slightly injured.

Water Usage Doubles

CHICAGO — United States water consumption has been doubling every 25 years since 1900. Total use by 1975 will be about one third of the daily supply, water-use experts calculate.

Hal Boyle Says:

Natalie Wood Faces Hurdle--Growing Up

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Natalie Wood, the darling of the bobby sox set, is approaching one of the younger generation's greatest crossroads — in less than a year she'll be 20.

The gal's ready. She feels it's about time people quit calling her "the teen-ager's teen-ager."

Natalie, who has played in some 30 films since she was 4, became the Sarah Bernhardt of the juvenile fans by appearing with the late James Dean in "Rebel without a Cause."

She now is taking the biggest step of her career in the title role of "Marjorie Morningstar," a dramatization of Herman Wouk's best-selling novel.

"It shows the transition of a naive, wide-eyed girl into mature woman with a real understanding of life," said Natalie, who feels that, in a way, the same thing is happening to her.

The outdoor scenes of the movie are now being shot at Scaroon Manor here, the famous Adirondacks resort. To 800 curious guests, however, the filming of Marjorie Moringstar's adventures are less gripping than the real life boy-meets-girl drama, "Will Bob win Natalie?"

Bob is Robert J. Wagner, a tall handsome young actor who seems to be making an all-out campaign to make Miss Wood Mrs. Wagner.

Wagner, who isn't in the film, haunts the set all day and is definitely in the picture as soon as the cameras cease grinding. After work he and Natalie, who is chaperoned by her mother and young sister, Lana, are as close as two holes in a Swiss cheese.

The sudden demands of stardom have left Natalie a bit tense and she sometimes finds it hard to sleep.

I hate big boring parties with people talking about nothing," she said. "I am realizing more and more how rare privacy is. It's harder and harder for R.J."—as she calls Bob—'and me to be alone.

"And I know the problem will be worse."

Shoe Output Dips Slightly

ST. LOUIS—For the first five months of 1957, shoe production totaled about 258,853,000 pairs—1.3 per cent fewer than in the like period of 1956, but the second largest total for the five months in the industry's history.

Will Family Be in Hot Water?

Surveys Show Supply Faces Toughest Test During School Months

Has your family been in enough hot water lately? Back-to-school days bring the perennial morning race between dad and the youngsters for bathroom facilities.

The family's hot water supply, often adequate for summer, meets its severest test now. Dad uses his customary three gallons shaving, then climbs into the shower and lets 15 gallons of the steamy stuff boil down the drain.

Young ladies, surveys show, consume as much as 20 gallons in a single tubbing.

Younger brothers, though they room with a minimum of 10 gallons used.

In three-quarters of an hour, three members of the family have consumed 48 gallons of hot water. Pre-school youngsters will run up faces. With a new baby, mother a total of 7.5 gallons of hot water for a day's washing of hands and will use three gallons in baby's bath. Mother might use five gallons more to wash her hair and another six in preparing meals.

After each meal, the dishes, pots and pans will be washed in an average of six gallons. If it's wash day another 22 gallons will swish and swirl with each load of soiled clothes.

All in all, an average family of four will use approximately 1,900 gallons of hot water a month or 63 gallons a day.

If all the children in the family are girls, the family will use an additional 10 per cent.

'Day' TV Screen Made by Navy Research Lab

WASHINGTON—The Naval Research Laboratory has developed a daylight television screen that is said to permit good viewing even in a brightly lighted room.

Phosphor on the TV viewing tube is deposited as a thin transparent film instead of the opaque powders used in conventional tubes. This is said to cause sunlight to go through the film and be absorbed in the tube's darkened interioir instead of being reflected, as in powder-phosphor tubes.

Rebellion Heads for Anniversary

Algerian Revolt's Main Leader Is Being Held in Paris Jail

PARIS (AP)—The Algerian rebellion grinds toward its third anniversary with one of its main sparks in a Paris jail.

Mohammed ben Bella is in Sante prison but still is able to keep his hand in maneuverings of the revolt.

A militant revolutionary, Ben Bella came to the top with a gun—first as a noncommissioned officer in the French army, then as a postal robber, jail breaker, and finally as a top activist behind the reign of terror against French rule.

The French have put nearly a half million men in the field against the North African rebels. coups by both sides, the rebellion has settled into a stalemate.

The fight is locked around one word: independence. The rebels refuse to listen to any French nuances of the word. The French refuse to entertain the thought of outright independence.

"You will kill a million Algerians, perhaps two million," Ben Bella says to the French, "but we will win independence in the end."

Ben Bella was arrested with four of his lieutenants last October. They had just been royally received by the Sultan of Morocco and were winging toward Tunis. The French pilot of the Moroccan plane was asked by authorities in Algiers to land there after assuring Ben Bella that the lights below were those of Tunis.

Under a charge of treason, Ben Bella lives in a plainly furnished prison apartment, reading books on politics and history and writing letters.

There are no early prospects of a trial for Ben Bella. Even if he were convicted, the guillotine would wait indefinitely because of the violent reaction his execution would cause in Algeria and the free Arab world.

Ben Bella's ultimate fate is tied with the outcome of the rebellion. If the pattern of Tunisia and Morocco is followed in Algeria, Ben Bella—like Habib Bourguiba and King Mohammed V—may one day ride in triumph through the streets of his homeland.

Girl, 11, Removes Fangs of Snake From Hand

HUGHES SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Frances Marks, 11, was playing near a stock pond yesterday when a water moccasin struck and embedded its fangs in her hand.

Unable to get her hand loose, the girl used a pocket knife with which she had been playing to cut the reptile's fangs from her hand.

Hospital attendants later removed her from the critical list.

Reckless Motorboat Drivers Heed Waterford Crack-down

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

The police crackdown on reckless motorboat drivers is beginning to show some effects in Waterford Township, according to Police Captain Millard Pender.

Heedless disregard for people swimming along shore lines, by skiers and other water hot-rodders, has resulted in hundreds of complaints from lake residents.

Since the beginning of an organized campaign by State Police, the Sheriff's Department and Waterford Township police, accidents, as well as complaints have been reduced, Pender said.

Officer Jack Hart, hired to handle lake complaints, reports that property owners throughout the are have pledged their fullest support in maintaining order on the lakes.

COOPERATION FINE

Hart said, "The cooperation that lake residents have given us is astounding. Speedboats are available at a moment's notice, from various points on most all of the lakes, to catch up with law violators."

The 24-year-old Navy veteran was with the Pontiac police department before coming to Waterford Township.

A new system is being worked out to handle lake complaints, whereby a complaint from the police station is radioed to the police car, Hart said.

The officer then drives to the point at the lake nearest the offender, where a designated power boat awaits to carry the officer out onto the lake.

"We need more volunteers with speedboats to establish complete coverage for each lake," he added.

So far, only warnings have been issued to reckless operators of motorboats and most of the time, that is enough. However, tickets can be issued to violators by any state conservation or police officer.

A fine up to $100 or 90 days in jail can be given if the boat operator is found guilty.

With heavy lake traffic becoming almost as big as the traffic jams on the highways, officers have been given a new report-form for all types of water accidents and drownings, which is almost identical to that of the highway accident form.

"BEWARE, WATER HOT-RODDERS" — That's the warning being posted by Officer Jack Hart of the Waterford Township police department. Warning signs have been posted at every boat landing site and beach in the township, in an effort to cut down accidents.

10 Lepers Killed, 21 Hurt in Korean Village Fight

SEOUL (AP) — Ten lepers were killed and another 21 seriously injured last night in a fight with a group of villagers near Samchonpo, 50 miles west of Pusan.

The villagers had demanded that the lepers move out of a settlement near the village. Police said a fight broke out when the lepers refused to move.

Chaplain Headed to Keep Promise to Marry Scout

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A chaplain at Maxwell Air Force Base leaves today for Portland, Ore., to keep a promise he made as a Boy Scout leader seven years ago.

Serving as an assistant scoutmaster at Pasadena, Calif., in 1950, Chaplain Frederick J. Ellis Jr. told Scout Michael Glass:

"When you find the right girl, Mike, and want to be married, just give me a call. I'll come and perform the ceremony no matter where I'm stationed."

Glass and Miss Cauleen Coleman, daughter of an Air Force colonel in Portland, plan to marry Saturday. Ellis plans to keep his promise.

School Board Ruling Nearly OKs Hot Foot

DAYTON, Ohio, (AP)—The Kettering school board almost made it legal to give Fairmont High School students a "hot foot".

But Mrs. Dorothy Milby, a board member, caught a typographical error in the clerk's minutes just in time. The official minutes authorized a vending company to "provide a hot foot by vending machines as needed at the new Fairmont High School."

Mrs. Milby said: "We intend to provide hot food."

Mental Hospital Follows Threat

Man Calls Perry Como Warning of Disaster to His 3 Children

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — A salesman who threatened the lives of singer Perry Como's three children has been sent to a mental hospital.

Joseph Tito, 32, of New York City's Astoria section, was seized yesterday after he made a threatening telephone call to Como's home at Sands Point on Long Island.

Arraigned in District Court, Tito told a woman judge he was designating her to replace Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Judge Kathleen M. Kane, ordered Tito taken to Pilgrim State Hospital at Brentwood, N.Y., for mental examination.

Como's wife, Roselle, said Tito phoned her at home about 5:30 a.m. She quoted the caller as saying:

"Tell Perry to get David (11 years old), Terry (10) and Ronnie (17) and meet me here in New York immediately or they will not live to see the sun come up."

Mrs. Como said she kept talking to the man, meanwhile getting other members of the household to notify police.

The call was found to have come from a phone booth near a tavern in Astoria.

Mrs. Como said the caller's voice seemed to be that of a man named "Joe," who occasionally came to the Como home to sell religious candles. Detectives traced Tito through a Mamaroneck, N.Y., candle firm for which he worked.

Police said Tito admitted making the phone call "to protect the kids from flying missiles."

Absolve Six Women Convicted as Witches

BOSTON (AP)—The State of Massachusetts has wiped from the books the convictions of six women unjustly accused of being witches 265 years ago.

Gov. Foster Furcolo signed a legislative resolve clearing Ann Pudeator, Bridget Bishop, Susanne Martin, Alice Parker, Margaret Scott and Milmot Reed.

All had been convicted in a colonial court and hanged during the 17th century witchcraft hysteria in Salem.

Good Food Planning Now Means Carefree Holiday

Is it possible to have a Labor Day week-end with no labor? Well almost, if you shop for foods with this in mind, states the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

PRODUCE

Let the words "homegrown" and "finger foods" be your guides when selecting fruits and vegetables that require little labor.

Fresh desserts, salads or fruit cups are ready in minutes when you choose peaches, melons, pears and other locally grown fruits.

If you intend to can or freeze Red Haven peaches the harvest time is almost over. Fairhavens are at the peak of supply and Hale Haven picking will start in this locality this week-end.

A bushel of peaches weighing 48 pounds will yield from 16 to 24 quarts canned or frozen. If freezing peaches, use ascorbic acid to keep them from turning dark in the freezer. Follow directions for making the sugar syrup, and add the ascorbic acid after the syrup is cooled.

Approximately 23 per cent of the nation's cantaloupe is sold in August, with the best homegrown supplies expected to last until the middle of September.

If the cantaloupe you buy is not at the best stage of ripeness, keep it at room temperature (preferably about 70 degrees) until the background color is slightly golden. When ripe, store it in the refrigerator to keep it from getting overripe. A large plastic bag, foil or a casserole with a lid is a good way to store it. These keep the aroma of the cantaloupe from mixing with other foods in the refrigerator.

Tomatoes, cucumbers, celery, salad greens, peppers, carrots and radishes are "finger foods" worth considering. An attractive tray can be arranged in minutes. A tossed salad takes about the same time.

MEATS

Several meats will be specially priced this week, but what could be easier to serve than cold cuts or canned meats?

If you are making decisions about what kind of ham to buy, it will pay to figure how many servings per pound each kind gives. Canned ham will serve 3 to 4 persons per pound depending upon how you cut it. Whole ham will serve 3, halves will serve 2½ and portions will yield 2 to 2½ servings per pound.

Proper care for meats is more important in summer. Sliced cold cuts will keep from 2 to 6 days in the refrigerator depending upon whether they are a dry or moist type. Some canned meats need no refrigeration; some do. Labels are your guide, or ask your butcher. Most canned hams do require refrigeration. Refrigerate cured whole hams and use within 10 days for the best quality; use ham halves or portions within 7 days.

EGGS & DAIRY

No day, including holidays, is complete without milk. For the most refreshing flavor keep it icy cold, clean and covered in the refrigerator. Never let milk sit outside the refrigerator, for light destroys part of its food value. Pour what you need, and store it immediately.

Budapest Records 40,000 Prostitutes

VIENNA (AP) — Post-revolution Budapest, a city of 1½ millions, has 40,000 known prostitutes.

The Budapest Council President, Laszlo Mikis, told the newspaper Esti Hirlap that 40,000 women are registered as prostitutes in the records of the Budapest morals police. He suspected many more are working secretly.

Mikis said a big drive against prostitution is under way in the Hungarian capital but added that "it is a most difficult problem." Women arrested now are jailed or sent to work camps and after they have served their terms they are put into factory jobs and kept on parole.

What's Being Done to Keep Elderly Fit

(Ray Henry has asked a group of specialists of the Public Health Service, the government's chief health agency, to tell some of the things being done to keep people healthy and happy when they get old. This is the sixth of a series.)

DR. S. D. POMRINSE
Chief, Health of the Aged-Chronic Disease Program, U.S. Public Health Service

A common sight in most any community today is the mother carrying her baby or pusing a stroller with the tot to the local well-baby clinic for a regular physical check-up.

These well-baby clinics in the many years of their existence have become widely used, accepted and very effective agencies for keeping our young citizens healthy.

In Nashoba, Mass., they have pulled a switch on this program. There, this approach is being applied to the oldsters of the community.

The result has been that in this small New England community a "Well - Oldster Conference" has been recently organized as an experiment. This clinic gives complete examinations without charge for people over 65 who consider themselves healthy. Those who are found to need care are referred to their private physician.

This is just one example of what a community can do to meet the growing challenge to public health that we face with our constantly increasing older population. There are now 15 million Americans who are 65 or over. It is estimated that by 1970 this number will grow to 19 million.

MAINTAIN GOOD HEALTH

Since chronic illness strikes more tellingly at these older citizens there is need for urgent action not only to restore the health of those who suffer the ravages of long term sickness, but also to maintian the health of the well persons and so prevent overtaxing available resources for care of our aged.

In St. Petersburg, Fla., the Board of Health, the Dairy Council and the utility company sponsor classes offering older persons information on how to meet their food needs and to encourage them to maintain and improve their health habits.

These are but a couple of examples of effective ways to keep the well-oldsters well and to prevent the development of long-term disabilities and illness.

Other approaches that are being used in various sections of the country include the development of day centers for recreation, supervised workshop activities, health education and social case work services.

Another facet of the problem of keeping our older citizens fit that needs attention and action is restoring those already ill in our institutions and communities to maximum physical health and function.

FOR EXAMPLE

To illustrate what can be done, we have the District of Columbia General Hospital at which two-thirds of their patients receiving restorative services returned to the community capable of caring for themselves.

At the Allegheny County Home in Pennsylvania, the proportion of patients who reached the point of being able to take care of themselves after restorative services turned out as follows: arthritics, 60 per cent; amputees, 70 per cent; hip fractures, 60 per cent and stroke cases, 40 per cent.

Provision of these services in communities throughout the country will greatly alleviate the burdens now carried by many families and communities in caring for the aged. Resources of meeting this challenge to our nation's health exist practically everywhere. They must be put to use if we are to succeed.

Building Your Own Weather Station Easy

Everyone is interested in the weather. Youngsters especially find the field of meteorology intriguing. Actually, building a weather station is fairly simple.

A few basic instruments, an outdoor shelter to house them, and an elementary book on weather forecasting are all you need to start.

To obtain a true air sample, a shelter should be louvered on all four sides, with a double wooded roof and base. Leave an air space between wooded planking and top roof.

Provide large air vents in the bottom and place the box five feet off the ground, over grass, with a hinged front door. Paint the shelter first with heat-reflecting aluminum paint topped with several coats of white.

Basic instruments are: Maximum-minimum thermometer, a sling psychrometer that measures humidity; a rain gauge to measure rainfall; a wind-director indicator and a barometer.

Dramatize Dresses With Sewing Tricks

This is the time to give your wardrobe a lift. You can dramatize a basic sheath skirt in your closet, or one you sew yourself, with attractive accessories.

Fashion experts suggest a Tahitian touch, so popular now, in a draped sarong sash. Select a dashing paisley silk or one of the new printed corduroys. You need 1¼ yards, 54 inches wide.

Piece together a strip of the fabric 2½ yards long by 20 inches wide. Cut ends diagonally, finish edges with a rolled hem, quickly and easily done on your sewing machine.

A harem overskirt requires four yards of chiffon or other fabric. If

Poll Shows Adults Split on Drag Strip

Johnson St., said that "she's never heard of anyone getting hurt on a drag strip, and that it would be safer to have hot-rodders race there than on public roads.

JUDIE

"If they really want to race their cars, then I think they should be given the chance to do so. It's not against the law, as far as I know," she said.

Adults, however, were not so completely in agreement on this issue.

Miss Virginia Hess, 3345 Meinrad, said that "she's not much for car racing." Miss Hess, who lived in Birmingham, Alabama, until she moved here a year ago, told of a "hotrod club" that had been formed in the Southern city.

MISS HESS

"I guess the teenagers liked the name 'hotrod'," she said, "but they didn't do much racing.

"The club was really a 'Good Samaritan' type of organization that would help motorists in trouble, and it really gained a fine name throughout the community. Something of this type would be a lot better than a racing organization."

George Roberts, 3738 Gregory Rd., said that it was "all wrong."

Roberts said that teenagers don't "know how to drive. They'd go out in their cars after racing on the drag strip and do the same thing on the highways."

ROBERTS

He said that instead of concentrating on drag strips, racing and speed, "the youngsters should worry more about safe driving and observance of traffic laws."

Dissenting from this view was Kenneth Hoskins of 21 N. Paddock St., who supported a drag strip because "it would get this high-speed stuff out of the systems of teenagers."

HOLKINS

"There's no safer place for them to do this sort of thing," Hoskins said, "and it's certainly better than having these youngsters doing it out on the city streets."

The same view was taken by a Fisher Body worker, John Maxwell of 33 E. Yale St., who said, "Youngsters like to build up these hotrods. They should certainly be given a place to try them out."

MAXWELL

Maxwell said that teenagers should be commended for taking up hotrodding as a hobby because it keeps them out of trouble.

"Under the right sort of supervision, it would be a fine thing," he asserted.

The establishment of a hotrod drag strip has been publicly criticized by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The Oakland County Timing Assn. is pushing for the establishment of a drag strip in the local area. The association will meet at 8:00 p.m. tonight on the fifth floor of the Oakland County Jail to discuss charges by Straley and Moore that drag racing is "dangerous."

The teenagers will also vote on a proposed constitution drawn up by the Bylaws Committee.

All interested hotrodders and their parents were invited to attend the meeting by Bill Martin, 21, of 1704 Crescent Lake Rd., Waterford Township. Martin is president of the association.

Floyd R. Pratt Suffers Fatal Heart Attack Today

Floyd R. Pratt, 75, of 4755 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, suffered a heart attack this morning at the corner of Lawrence and Saginaw streets, in front of the Community National Bank Building.

Pontiac police and firemen rushed him to Pontiac General Hospital where he was pronounced dead by deputy coroner Dr. H. L. Riggs of coronary thrombosis. Pratt lived with his wife, Lulu, at the Elizabeth Lake road address.

Gets Long Probation

DETROIT (INS)—Thomas R. Zurawski, 18, of Detroit, has been placed on two years' probation for stealing an outboard motor and then advertising it for sale.

ANNIVERSARY SMILES — Joining the more than 500 attending the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce reception marking Pontiac Motor Division golden anniversary were (from left) Fred Poole, of F. J. They were among a host of civic leaders on hand to greet top General Motors and Pontiac Division officials last night.

Filibuster Waged Against Rights Bill

was so low he could not be heard in the press and public galleries.

However, about 9:30 a.m. his voice gained strength as he began re-reading a statement he made to the Senate Tuesday night in a vain effort to have the bill sent to the Judiciary Committee after it had been passed by the House.

Thurmond was helped by two aides who sat near him during the night and handed him papers to read. They were Alex McCullough, his administrative assistant, and Harry S. Dent, a legislative assistant.

CAN'T BLOCK ACTION

Knowland first told the South Carolina senator he will not be able to block Senate action by long talk. Knowland said there will be no resolution for final adjournment of this session of Congress "until we have completed work on the pending legislation—which is the civil rights bill."

Thurmond said his speech was designed to "call to the attention of the Senate and the people of the nation that this is a dangerous bill."

Thurmond spoke to an almost deserted chamber as the night wore on. When he rose to speak at 9 p.m., there were some 15 senators on hand.

After midnight, this number had dropped to three or so. The galleries emptied.

Several other Southern senators had spoken during the long session that began at 10 a.m. yesterday. Virtually to a man, they voiced their unyielding opposition to the civil rights bill which passed the House in compromise form.

LACK STRENGTH

All conceded they lacked the numerical strength to talk the legislation to death.

Before Thurmond's unexpected speech began, a number of Dixie senators had made plans to place their views on the record at a session expected to start today at 10 a.m.

State Auto Club Gets 500,000th Active Member

The Automobile Club of Michigan established itself as one of the largest member organizations in the state today with the signing of its 500,000th active member.

The half million mark was set as the 1957 membership goal and represents an increase of 23,000 members in eight months.

Mitchell A. Calbi, 222 Linden Rd., was named as the newest active member of the Pontiac branch club. His honorary membership number of 500,014 is a tribute to the Pontiac club, which was the 14th unit to join the state organization.

The Pontiac club is a direct descendant of the Oakland County Automobile Club, which merged its 1,463 members with the Auto Club of Michigan in 1927.

The branch club now serves nearly 20,000 members and is building a $125,000 office.

Carelessness Fatal to Many Swimmers

in an unguarded area or swim alone, you are gambling with your life, according to authorities.

Should a swimmer ever run into trouble, he is in a much better position if he has a friend nearby—in the water—not a fully clothed friend standing on the beach.

A man drowned in Lake Oakland last month while swimming alone. Nobody knew exactly how he went down. Friends might have been able to save him had he not been alone, but they didn't even miss him until 9 that night.

Tests showed he went down at about 4 p.m.

If a swimmer wades out into an unguarded swimming area, or an area unknown to him, he is really flirting with possible death. He may fall off an unexpected drop-off or become tangled in weeds.

On July 15th, a 15-year-old boy drowned diving into dangerous waters. The youth dived from a breakwater into swirling waters under a waterfall, and was held there by currents until hours later.

A swimmer must always be sensible in judging his own ability and never try to do more than he is able to handle, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy William Jackson, a skin-diver.

This sounds silly, but it is amazing how many people drown who can't swim at all and have waded into trouble, he added.

Earlier this summer an 18-year-old boy drowned because he was playing with friends on a log in deep water and couldn't swim. He fell from the log and pulled his friends under each time they tried to save him.

QUIT IF TIRED

There is always the swimmer who swims with a group of friends, but tries too hard to keep up with the bunch or to show off.

He is the person you read about who became "tired" and just couldn't make it to the raft, or back to shore. Sometimes his friends help him, but often they can't get there in time.

A Detroit boy almost drowned last June on Dixie Lake, in Springfield Township, after discovering his ability was not equal to his desire.

While swimming to a raft, he saw it was too far and he was tiring. He turned wearily back to shore, but floundered and called for help. Luckily, someone dived in and recovered his body in time, doubled over on the bottom of the lake.

More often, people do not consider their health before splashing into the water. Some should not go swimming or even wading.

A 68-year-old man drowned in a crowded area at the Pontiac Lake Beach during July. Deputies said the man must have had a heart attack or fainting spell, since there were many people near him who could have heard calls for help.

Those who have any heart condition should refrain from swimming and anyone who has ever experienced epilepsy should definitely stay away from the water, law enforcement officials say.

KNOW DEPTH

Always know the depth of the water you jump or dive into is another safety rule. Diving into water too shallow can result in your being knocked unconscious or breaking your neck.

Never go swimming after dark. The bodies of two boys, who it is believed went for a midnight swim in Walled Lake last week, were found the following day about 100 yards from shore.

No one knows exactly what happened to them, but it is believed that one called for help and pulled the other under in his rescue attempt.

If you ever do need help, don't get panicy when it arrives. Remember, whoever swims to you is there to save you. Be sure to let him, experts say.

Observance of these elementary safety rules and use of common sense would help cut the drowning toll in the county lakes this year, officials felt.

'Bedroom Story' Definition Ordered

no comment on the testimony of De Stefano concerning the story. Alan Ladd's wife Sue Carol, likewise reached at her home, said she was speaking for her husband in denying that either she or Ladd had seen or heard from Miss Allyson following completion of a film in which Ladd and Miss Allyson appeared several years ago.

Francesca De Scaffa, whose name has flitted in and out of the record during 12 days of testimony, was in it again yesterday. De Stefano identified her as the source of stories concerning Robert Mitchum and Miss Calvet.

"Miss Calvet said on a TV interview that the story flattered her," De Stefano added. "It confirmed her reputation as a sexy French actress."

In Mexico City an Interior Ministry official said Miss De Scaffa left her hideout in a suburb there Tuesday, hidden in the trunk of a Jaguar car with California license plates driven by a friend, then flew to a northwestern border city, using an assumed name.

The ministry official said she probably left for the United States, planning to go to New York where, he was informed, a wealthy friend had retained a law firm to defend her. She is under indictment in the Confidential case.

Mexican police previously had given Miss De Scaffa until Friday to leave the country but had required her to obtain exit papers. Her tourist permit expired Aug. 8. She left behind her mother, her clothes and her jewels.

De Stefano testified that Confidential agreed to settle a suit brought by singer Dorothy Dandridge although he was convinced that the "kiss-and-tell" band leader who provided a story on her was truthful.

Among the arguments for settlement: "Miss Dandridge is a consummate actress; she'll come into court, shed a few tears and the jury won't believe our witness," said De Stefano.

She was given $10,000 and promise of an apology. Now Confidential has reneged on the apology and wants its money back on the claim that Miss Dandridge "acted in bad faith" by announcing the magazine had admitted the story was untrue, De Stefano said.

Birmingham Couple Injured in Crash

State police of the Saginaw Post said today that Harold Hitchcock, 48, of Birmingham, and his wife, Ida, 44, were in critical condition in a Saginaw hospital following a head-on crash there last night which killed three persons.

Harry Fields, 22, of Saginaw died this morning. His wife, Mary, 21, and Floyd Patterson, 24, also of Saginaw, were killed in the crash.

Frustrated Painter Waits to Be 'Discovered'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There are two basic types of painters in the world today: The well-paid, contented ones (they do houses), and the underpaid, frustrated ones (they work on canvas).

Anne Beach is one of the best, getting the least, feeling the most, of the latter.

"I am tired to death," she said today, "of paintings in which the grim reaper is embracing a yellow rooster, with the caption 'Death of a Gainsborough Lady.'

"And abstract! People like it because of its colors, and pretend to understand what the artist was thinking. But most artists paint most abstracts with tongue in cheek. If you ask me, maybe tongue on canvas too!"

Miss Beach, a beauty better known to her husband as Mrs. Walter Gustafson, is not really as disgusted as all that, since actually her husband makes enough to keep her in brushes, frames and chicken every Sunday. But it's the principle of the thing, and this day she just feels like speaking out for the good of her soul and those of thousands of other slaves to a good north light and a bad financial slump.

HAVE TO BE A NAME

"The trouble, as everybody knows, is that you've got to be a 'name' before anyone will pay you enough money to make your work profitable. To be a 'name,' you have to have an art gallery or a patron behind you. To have a gallery behind you, it is usually necessary to have money, as well as talent and connections.

"To get a patron behind you—you ought to live in Paris or Florence.

"American artists have as much or more talent than European artists, but patrons think it's chic to 'discover' an unknown artist in Paris. Somehow nobody ever even attempts to impress the neighbors with an unsung genius from Battle Creek, Mich."

Anne began painting in the family cellar at the age of 15 and has carried on, winning prizes frequently and selling oils occasionally, for the past 20. At this stage in her career, she figures she is about in the same financial position as an average-to-good horseplayer.

"Recognizing you can't come out ahead, you feel gratified that you have had all this pleasure and it hasn't cost you too much," she explains.

Her favorite technique is painting portraits of rumpled waifs she spies in midtown Manhattan—"I like pathetic little urchins, and I don't care at all for overly fed little girls in nail polish"—yet she'd rather not be "classified" as a portrait artist.

MUST SPECIALIZE

That's another thing about painting. Everybody's supposed to be a specialist, paint everything in the same style, and make a name that way. Some people, say, paint socks all their life, and with the same technique, until finally they are acknowledged as the foremost sock painters of the day.

"Oh, occasionally, when they have made the grade they become daring and add a garter—or hang their sock on a stool—but that's only when they've got it made and can afford to be chancy."

An artist shouldn't have to be so stylized. "You should paint what the subject and the mood suggests, and then when a feeling comes upon you that says 'stop!' you should stop. When other people look at it and feel like dancing in the streets, maybe the painting is all right. Maybe it's good. But if you, yourself, don't feel that dancing in the streets is in order, you can throw it in the fireplace—as I have done sometimes.

"An artist can always use that extra heat that comes from a disappointing painting."

Bureau Drawers Require First Aid

Sticking bureau drawers and loose wooden drawer pulls are petty annoyances in a home.

It takes only a few minutes to fix a loose drawer pull. Remove the pull. Fill the screw hole with plastic wood. Replace the pull while the plastic wood is still soft. Let harden over night.

A bureau drawer that sticks usually swells in damp weather. Wait for a dry spell. Then seal the wood against moisture by giving all unpainted surfaces two coats of shellac. Rub paraffin on runners and their tracks before replacing drawer.

If drawer is particularly balky, you can reduce friction by sanding first. Rub marks will show where sanding is required.

Ginning Began in 1880's

Isabella First Woman

WASHINGTON — The first identifiable woman ever to appear on a United States postage stamp was Spanish Queen Isabella, in 1893.

New Zealand observed the 100th anniversary of constitutional government five years ago, in June, 1952.

Will Edsel's Vertical Grille Spark a Trend?

NEW YORK (INS)—The brothers Ford are betting what used to be called a king's ransom on the first new American car in the lifetime of most of the young people who are now driving. The Edsel, named for the boys' revered father, the man who talked HIS father into stopping production on the archaic model T, was unveiled here at the Waldorf the other day, and the various models make a pretty sensational sight: Their radiator grilles stand up straight.

It's been so long since we've had an upright radiator grille lurking about the American highway scene that the young will have to be told that once upon a time that vertical job was the only kind around.

The motor of the car of our boyhood was encased in a tin box placed in front of the driver and his windshield for two reasons: 1) That's where the horse used toobe, and 2) It needed air for breathing.

The best way for it to get air, the primitive car designers decided, was directly. They put a nice upright grille in front of it, laced with the cooling pipes for the engine water, and that was that. Worked real nice. I'm sure the idea will work on the Edsel, too, though that car arrives at a stage in car design when horses under 20 years of age will unquestionably shy at the sight of such an innovation.

The invention of chrome changed car design as much as anything else, one supposes. The makers fell so heavily for it that they had to find new places on the car to stick it. They hit upon the front end for reasons best known to themselves and their metallic muses.

The upright grille in front of the motor fan had been getting taller and taller as the years went on. The ideal design to copy, it seemed, was the classic Rolls Royce grille, with slenderizing overtones. But chrome came and it had to be spread. Suddenly the designers dropped Rolls Royce like a hot rivet and embraced Joe E. Brown. The grille spread out into a huge, bright and sometimes horrible grin that spread across the bottom of the hood from fender to fender, and in time has licked around the edges.

Now the upright is back. Will it start a trend, as Cadillac did when it first sprouted Harley Earle's embryo fins shortly after the war? Who knows? If Edsel catches the public's fancy, there will be a certain amount of aping. There always is, in that curious and enthralling business.

But there is a colossal fear of abrupt change in Detroit, and this has been so since the manufacturers began to sell style in addition to basic transportation. The great cliche of the town is "evolution, not revolution."

The fins, for example, once accepted, must grow gradually with each year's changes until something else comes along. The cigarette ashtrays are streamlined a bit more each year, not all at once. That would be too much of a shock to chain smokers. The industry has never stopped pointing to Chrysler's early plunge into streamlining—the Airflyte of 20 years ago—as a prime example of the pitfalls of even intelligent departure from the norm. Detroit believes with determination that Joe Car Buyer wants to stay a bit out in front of the Joneses, but not so far in front that he'll have trouble when he turns in the heap on a new model.

I think old Henry Kaiser's people in the design department classed up the industry considerably—though now the car is gone for want of buyers. Raymond Loewy's droop-snoot Studebaker, four or five years after the war, was a classic design, and thoroughly sensible in its horsepower—which was mild by today's ratings. But the people wanted something else.

The brothers Ford are taking an exciting gamble, and they would appear to have something good going for them.

The thought behind the gamble was maybe best expressed by a fellow from the home office who said to us, "There was a gap in our line between the Mercury and Lincoln. We were stranding Ford buyers who couldn't make the leap, financially. We were educating them for our competitors, and they were doing a beautiful job with them. Now we'll try to keep them."

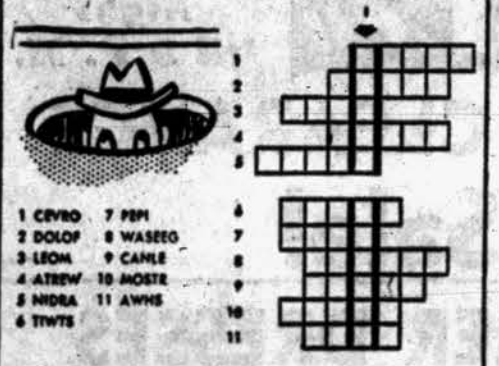

An upright grille brings back a lot of fond memories in this particular car buff, who started out with an Overland and once dreamed of owning a Reo Flying Cloud. Never made it.

Our Market Master Is a Lady

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When you shop for vegetables, fruit, eggs or flowers at the Oakland County Market, you may not be conscious of the work it takes to make the place run smoothly. Market Master—or general overseer of the huge building out on Pontiac Lake road is Mrs. Pauline Harding. We're not sure, but we have an idea that feminine market masters may be a rare species.

Mrs. Harding (in private life the wife of Alfred and the mother of Mary) is a tall gray - haired woman with a warm outgoing personality. She has held her job for the past two years, ever since the first summer the Market occupied its new quarters.

For years Mrs. Harding has been interested in gardening, in wild flowers and in nature study. She and her husband have grown strawberries on a large scale for nearly twenty years. She is a Nature Consultant for the local Girl Scout Council.

This position of Market Master came to her out of a clear sky and at first Mrs. Harding thought she was being kidded. But once convinced of the seriousness of the proposal, she jumped at the chance, landed on both feet and has spent the time since having a thoroughly delightful time. In fact, she has so much fun that she feels she really isn't working.

Twice a week at seven in the morning and once a week at two in the afternoon Mrs. Harding opens the building. Her first job is to go around as the various producers set up their stalls and get the prices for the day.

Many people call in to check on them, also on what produce is available. If some product is not in that day Mrs. Harding tries to run down a source of supply.

Most of the producers rent their stalls by the year, but a few come in on a daily basis. Mrs. Harding must determine what stalls are available. She also does some checking of produce in order to see that the high standards set by the Market are adhered to.

Mrs. Harding is a trouble shooter, acting as mediator between producers and between customers and producers. She's an exterminator; bad produce has no place in a public market and she acts as watch dog. On this subject Mrs. Harding has a suggestion for the buying public.

She wishes that people with legitimate complaints would report any bad produce to her. She says ninety-eight per cent of the producers sell high grade merchandise and are more than willing to make good any mistakes. It is part of her job to help the market have good public relations; the general public can help too.

Among other things we learned about the market is that all baked goods brought in for sale must come from kitchens that have been inspected and licensed by the Board of Health.

When a person enjoys his job, he generally does it well. Mrs. Harding makes friends with all those she contacts in the course of her work. She considers herself a public servant whose first obligation is to the public. That she has a pleasant time carrying out her obligation is a sort of bonus.

Cake Mix Adds Lemon Flavor

Want to hear about some brand-new cookies that can be made in two jerks of a curly lamb's tail? Here they are: Lemon Coconut Cookies, crisp and chewy at the same time, and the perfect snack to serve with coffee when you have callers.

The secret of making these quick-as-a-wink lemon cookies is a bit of a surprise — they're made with cake mix! There's coconut in them, too, which provides their delicious chewiness.

Lemon Coconut Cookies

1 package instant lemon flake cake mix
2 tablespoons water
1 egg, unbeaten
¼ cup softened butter or margarine
½ cup flaked coconut

Spoon about half the cake mix into mixing bowl. Add water, egg, and butter or margarine. Blend well. Add remaining mix and beat until smooth. Stir in coconut. Drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, about 12 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Chinese Chicken Soup Hearty and Nourishing

Won Ton Soup, hearty and exotic in flavor, is a wonderful luncheon main dish, a delightful beginning to lunch or dinner. Start with 2 cans (14½ fluid ounces each) chicken broth; heat to boiling in a large pan. Add ¼ pound of lean pork (thinly sliced), 1 cup thinly sliced mushrooms, 1 cup sliced Chinese cabbage, ½ cup uncooked broad noodles, ¼ cup chopped celery, and 1½ teaspoons soy sauce. Cook together at a low boil for 10 to 15 minutes, or until noodles are tender.

At serving time, cut ¼ pound cooked smoked ham into thin strips and place them in the bottom of a soup tureen or individual bowls. Then pour the soup on top. Makes 6 generous and heart - warming servings.

Give New Taste to Meat Kabobs With Liver

Looking for something different to grill over the coals on the Labor Day outdoor meal? Then try this recipe and serve an exotically flavored relish with it.

Liver and Canadian Bacon Kebobs

Two tablespoons salad oil
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon rosemary
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
1 pound beef liver, cut in 1-inch cubes
¾ pound Canadian bacon or cooked ham, cut in 1-inch cubes
12 parboiled small white onions.

Combine oil, lemon juice, rosemary, salt and kitchen bouquet in a mixing bowl. Add liver cubes and toss until thoroughly coated. Allow to stand for 10 minutes at room temperatures. Thread liver, bacon and onions on skewers and broil over moderate heat until done, about 15 minutes. Brush once during cooking with oil and lemon juice combination. Makes six servings.

Apple-Pickle Relish

One-half cup canned applesauce, ½ cup drained pickle relish, ¼ teaspoon powdered ginger.

Summer Squash Is Fixed With Sour Cream

Summer squash of any variety becomes festive when dressed with sour cream sauce. To prepare the succulent, tender squashes, scrub them thoroughly and cut into strips or bite-size pieces, without paring. Pan-fry in a small amount of butter until fork tender.

Meanwhile blend 2 tablespoons flour into a little sour cream to make a paste. Then add enough more cream to make about two cups. A little flour helps prevent cream from becoming watery. Stir sour cream into squash and simmer about 5 minutes longer.

South of the Border Pie Seasoned With Spice

Atmosphereic as well as appetizing fare for a summer buffet supper is this zestful Mexican Meat Pie—an interesting combination of diced ham, beef, tomatoes and onions, seasoned and spiced in an authentic Mexican manner.

Easy as pie to prepare, you simply brown the onions and meats, then add remaining ingredients and turn mixture into a greased casserole. If you wish, diced pork or veal may be substituted for the beef. Before baking, top with a ayer of oven-toasted rice cereal, and bake for about 30 minutts.

For accompaniments, serve a casserole of colorful Mexican corn, green salad, hot rolls and plenty of coffee.

Mexican Meat Pie

2 tablespoons shortening
1½ cups chopped onions
1½ cups diced ham
1½ cups diced pork, veal or beef
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups oven-roasted rice cereal
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ bay leaf
½ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
3 whole cloves
½ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon pepper

Heat shortening in heavy frying pan; add onions and meats. Cook, stirring frequently until lightly browned. Add flour and mix well. Stir in remaining ingredients except rice cereal. Turn into greased 1½ quart casserole or baking pan. Sprinkle with cereal. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 30 minutes. Yield: 6 servings.

Suggest Many Uses for Pickle Juice

Leftover pickle juice has too much good flavor to be dumped inelegantly down the drain when the pickles are gone. Some of the dishes in which you use vinegar are even better when spicky pickle liquid is substituted.

Home economists recommend that you save the tangy juice for use in quick relishes such as sliced cucumber and onion rings or in preparing spiced beets.

Eggplant Helps a Stew

The combination of eggplant and lamb is strictly continental — so if you're simmering lamb stew for supper, give diced eggplant a chance to show off in place of carrots and onions. Don't forget to season it well with salt, pepper, and crumbled oregano leaves. Better make enough for seconds, too.

VANILLA CITRUS NECTAR — Even weight watchers can drink second rounds of this delicious sugarless summer cooler made with fresh citrus fruit juices and chopped mint leaves. Pure Vanilla extract is the element which brings out the natural sweetness of the fruits' flavors so that no added sugar is required.

Vanilla in Fruit Drinks Can Cut Calorie Content

Because most fruit ades, ice cream sodas, malted milks and soft drinks are deceptively light to the taste and slide down so quick and easy we tend to forget that many of them are loaded with calories. On a hot day we're likely to toss off goodly quantities of them with no more qualms of calorie-conscience than we have in drinking ice water.

But actually the sweet, creamy-type coolers pile up a calorie count of from 300 to 400 (at least one-third the average feminine weight watcher's daily allowance), while lemon or orangade can top 100 and cola drinks count between 75 and 80 calories a drink.

All this isn't to say we should skip the coolers this summer, but just a preface to a new idea. There's a flavor trick that will save you some mighty valuable calories while you slake the thirst these days. By simply adding some pure vanilla extract to the fresh fruit nectars, punches and ades you stir up this season, it is possible to forget the sugar and still arrive at a very tasty beverage.

Here's how vanilla's calorie-cutting talent works. Pure vanilla brings out the natural sweetness of the fresh fruits to such an extent that when two tablespoons of the pure extract are added to four servings (six ounces each) of such mixed fruit nectars as Vanilla Minted Citrus Nectar, the result is so sweetly satisfying that no sugar is required. Thus each portion, which with sugar would ordinarily count at least 53 calories, totals only 41 calories.

Minted Vanilla Citrus Nectar

2 teaspoons chopped fresh mint leaves
1 cup cold water
¼ cup fresh grapefruit juice
1 cup fresh orange juice
2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

Combine mint leaves and water. Bring to boiling point. Steep 5 minutes. Cool. Stir in grapefruit and orange juices and pure vanilla extract. Serve over ice. Yield: 4 six-ounce servings.

Total calories — 164.

Jellied Cold Cuts Given New Interest to Menus

If cold cuts are favorites at your home during hot weather, but you're tired of "plattering" and "sandwiching" these nutritious meats, serve them jellied for a change. The ready-to-eat meats are excellent choices for hot dishes and cold ones, too.

Dice a stack of sliced cold cuts and blend the diced meat into a savory gelatin mixture, and you'll have a main dish that's bound to evoke requests for more from your guests. Best of all, the entree may be whipped up in the cool of the morning — or the day before service, if you like — to keep the brow of a harried hostess cool through an entertaining gamut.

To round out the menu that features a jellied cold cut ring, add hot soup, some crusty bread, and fresh berries with a topping of sour cream for dessert. Coffee or tea — hot or cold — is the beverage to serve with the meal.

Though this recipe for jellied cold cuts uses bologna and pickle and pimento loaf, almost any of the other popular cold cuts would be as useful. Salami, made with just the right amount of garlic, will tease and then please palates. Liver sausage — everybody's favorite — is an excellent choice for a large group where taste preferences are not known. Ham sausage, jellied in the following manner, is bound to please the most discriminating diners. Or choose your own particular favorite cold cut for this easily-prepared recipe:

Jellied Cold Cuts

2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin
1½ cups boiling water
2 cups cold water
½ pound pickle and pimiento loaf, sliced
3 cups diced bologna (about 21 slices)
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped green pepper (1 medium)
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon prepared horse-radish

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water. Cool slightly, then pour half-inch deep layer into a 6-cup ring mold. Arrange 6 slices of the pickle and pimiento loaf in bottom of mold, and chill until firm. Mix remaining ingredients (using remaining pickle and pimiento loaf, which has been diced) and carefully spoon over congealed gelatin. Chill until firm. Serve on salad greens with garnish or radish roses and ripe olives. Use horse-radish flavored whipped cream or sour cream with chopped chives as dressing, if you like. 6 servings.

JELLIED COLD CUTS — Diced and sliced cold cuts are molded with lemon gelatin to make this main dish salad. Add a dressing of horseradish flavored whipped cream, and a garnish of radish roses and ripe olives, if you like. Almost any of the more than 100 varieties of cold cuts available may be used in this salad.

Hamburgers Cook in Spicy Sauce

Indoor Barbecued Hamburgers

1 pound ground chuck beef
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt
Pepper
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons catchup
¼ cup chili sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Make 4 patties of the beef. Melt butter in skillet (9 or 10 inches) until very hot. Brown beef patties in hot butter on both sides, sprinkling with salt and pepper to taste. Meanwhile in a small bowl mix together the water, catchup, chili sauce and Worcestershire sauce. Pour into skillet. Continue to cook over low heat until sauce is hot and meat patties are at desired doneness. Serve over toast.

Start With Citrus Juice

Did you indulge yourself on vacation and thus put on weight? Here's a low-calorie French dressing to help you. Combine in a pint jar 1 6-ounce can undiluted grapefruit juice concentrate, ½ cup tomato catsup and ¼ cup salad oil. Shake until blended. Store in refrigerator.

Add a tablespoon of lemon juice, leaf to the water in which you a teaspoon of salt and a small bay cook shrimp.

BLUEBERRY BREAD — All the blue is not in the sky. Some of it has been captured in this quick bread. Huge, sweet blueberries, with their soft powdery bloom still on them, are added to a baking powder bread recipe. Orange rind gives added goodness.

Canned Foods Blend Into Dish

Be good to yourself . . . and to your guests. Entertain the informal "little supper" way. Feature one really memorable main dish, such as this quick 'n' easy Chicken Italienne. (What sheer simplicity . . . cans of spaghetti and boned chicken a'tingle with onion and herb seasoning.) Add a crisp green and well-dressed salad, a fragrant hot bread, a chilled fruit dessert, and lots of coffee.

Be sure the silver is shining, lay out linen napkins, light the candles. This "little supper" menu is designed to enhance your reputation as skillful cook and successful hostess. From start to finish, it's simple to prepare . . . and delicious!

Chicken Italienne

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
½ teaspoon oregano
1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken
2 cans (15½ ounces each) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese

Cook onion and oregano in melted butter. Add chicken and spaghetti. Heat thoroughly. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (For buffet service, keep hot in chafing dish over alcohol lamp or candle warmer.)

Garlic Muffins

Split English muffins in half. Toast until lightly browned. Spread with butter flavored with garlic. Sprinkle lightly with grated Parmesan cheese. Place under broiler until golden.

CHICKEN ITALIENNE — The "little supper" is an excellent way to entertain close friends. Chicken Italienne is the superb hot dish featured here. And it's merely combined from cans of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese plus a can of boned chicken.

Ginger Spices Pear Salad

A double-duty dish is Ginger Pear Salad. It's pretty enough for frilly females, substantial enough for the man in your life, and the party taste and look will tickle the youngsters.

Ginger Pear Salad

1 package lime gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup pear syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
⅛ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
3-oz. package cream cheese
1 tablespoon milk
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
¼ cup chopped nuts
6 pear halves
1 cup halved seedless grapes

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add pear syrup, vinegar, ginger and salt. Chill. Soften cream cheese with milk; add pimiento and nuts. Fill center of each pear with cheese mixture. Pour about ½-inch lime gelatin in bottom of 1½-quart fancy round mold and allow to jell.

Arrange pear halves, cut side down, over bottom of mold. Add grapes to remaining gelatin and pour over pears. Chill until firm. Unmold on curly endive and top with salad dressing. Yield: Six servings.

Meat Prices Stay Steady

The government economists expect meat prices to stay about the same. The price of pork probably will go down when the big supplies come to market in the fall and winter, but for the year, they should average about the same as in 1956.

Turn Frozen Ade Into Pie Filling

Light and tangy dessert.

Lemonade Pie

4 eggs (separated)
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sugar
1 can (6 ounces) frozen lemonade concentrate
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup heavy cream (whipped)
20 two-inch vanilla wafers

Beat egg yolks, salt and sugar together. Add lemonade concentrate and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Soften gelatin in water; add to egg yolk mixture and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold egg whites and whipped cream into lemonade mixture. Meanwhile, line bottom and sides of buttered 9-inch pie plate with wafers. Turn lemonade mixture into pie plate over cookies. Chill until firm.

Broil Fish With Onions for Low Calorie Treat

When they diet, the article says, these women follow some current fad to the detriment of their health. Their daughters follow in their footsteps. For "next to adult women, teen-aged girls are the worst eaters, nutritionwise."

"Generally speaking," the magazine advises would-be dieters, "your best bet in the way of a weight-reduction plan is the diet high in protein."

The National Fisheries Institute has called attention to this lack of good sense in dieting and the very real need for eating protein foods because plentiful and inexpensive fish fillets are not only high in proteins, minerals and vitamins, but easy to prepare in all sorts of delicious ways, like this Onion-Broiled Fillets, making dieting a pleasant chore.

Onion-Broiled Fillets

1 package frozen fish fillets
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon paprika
4 onion slices
Sliced stuffed olives

Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf. Cut into 4 even pieces. Mix together lemon juice, salad oil, salt, pepper and paprika. Place onion slices and fish pieces, skin side down, in preheated broiler. Brush with lemon sauce.

Broil 2 inches from source of heat until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 6 to 10 minutes. Baste often with sauce. Serve fish topped with onion slices and garnish with stuffed olive slices. Makes four servings.

Hearty Loaf Is Inexpensive

Whether it's off to school with cheese in the lunch box or home for lunch or supper, cheddar cheese is a favorite.

Here's a quick and delicious cheese dish that's sure to make a hit . . . just try it!

Olive and Cheese Noodle Loaf

3 cups bread noodles, broken
1 quart boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
¾ cups evaporated milk
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley or parsley flakes
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ pound (1 cup) process or cheddar cheese, shredded
⅔ cup chopped ripe olives

Cook noodles until tender in boiling water to which 1 teaspoon salt has been added. Drain and rinse. Beat eggs. Add milk, seasonings, cheese, olives and noodles. Mix well; pour into a well greased pound loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until set, about 1 hour. Serve with tomato sauce.

Makes 6 servings. Cost per serving, 13 cents.

Michigan Blueberries Dot Loaf of Quick Bread

The giant cultivated blueberries from the plantations of Michigan are here to stay—until late September. Right now is the time to enjoy them!

From the 4,000 acres of sturdy, healthy blueberry bushes, where close to 500 members of the Michigan Blueberry Growers Association grow the famous Great Lakes Blueberries, this glamour fruit is coming to market daily, fresh, plump and flavorful, all the soft powdery bloom protected by the cellophane "window" on the familiar pint boxes. Packed right on the edge of the fields immediately upon picking, there are no sticks, no twigs—just the clean beautiful blues. These blueberries are good from top to bottom of the box.

Due in large part to the precooling process which these berries undergo at Grand Junction, Mich., they are exceptionally fine in flavor and quality. A huge receiving and shipping plant includes thousands of feet of refrigerated rooms, where the fruit is precooled before shipping, all the fresh flavor, all the soft bloom preserved.

Blueberry Bread

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 cup cultivated blueberries
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
2 eggs
1¼ cups milk

Sift first five ingredients together. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives. Stir in blueberries and orange rind. Beat eggs and milk together. Add to flour mixture and beat well. Turn into a greased loaf pan 9x5x3 and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for about 50 minutes or until golden brown. Turn out on rack and let cool before slicing.

Delicious Sundae Makes Full Use of Fresh Peaches

Hot Peach Sundae

2 cups crushed peeled pitted ripe peaches
½ cup sugar
¼ cup orange juice
Salt
2 teaspoons lemon juice
Vanilla ice cream

Mix crushed peaches, sugar and orange juice together in a saucepan (about 2 quarts). Bring to a rapid boil. Simmer, uncovered, about 15 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in a dash of salt and the lemon juice.

If peaches were very juicy, sauce will not be thick. Makes 1½ to 2 cups. Serve hot over vanilla ice cream.

You'll need 6 to 8 medium-sized peaches to make the amount of crushed fruit called for. To peel the peaches, cover with boiling water and allow to stand off heat for a few minutes; plunge into cold water and strip off skin.

Brown Puffs in Deep Fat

Brown and gold are Nature's own colors and we respond to them in foods quite as happily as out of doors. Foods with crisp brown jackets do much to relieve the pallor of other foods on a plate and when these same foods have a golden corn heart and are in the easy-do class, what more is needed? Oh yes, a fork.

Curry Corn Puffs

1 cup mashed potatoes
1 can (12 or 16 ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
1 small onion, minced
2 eggs
½ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon MSG
1 teaspoon curry powder
Fat, for frying

Mix together potato, corn and onion. Add eggs; beat well. Blend flour, baking powder, salt, MSG and curry; stir into potato-corn mixture. Drop by spoonfuls into hot shallow or deep fat; cook until brown, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve hot. Makes 12 to 15 puffs.

Butter curlers are available in many department stores. To use, lightly draw the gadget across a quarter-pound print of butter, then chill the butter curls before serving.

Eggplant Need Not Be Fried

The eggplant (colorful cousin of the nutritious potato) is native to India, where it has grown since the meals of remote antiquity. The Arabs relished its subtle flavor and wholesomeness long before the British traders, in the 17th century, brought it to England under the name "guinea squash." It seems to have acquired this dubbing because its early varieties were small and egg-shaped. With scientific cultivation since then the plant has increased in size, quality and importance and will be in increasing supply as the season progresses.

Eggplant With Sour Cream

1 large eggplant
½-inch boiling water in saucepan
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
½ cup sour cream
Paprika for garnish
Fresh parsley for garnish

Peel eggplant and cut into ½-inch slices and then into cubes. Place in a saucepan with boiling water and 1 teaspoon of the salt. Cook, covered, 4 to 5 minutes or until cubes are tender but still retain their shape. Drain.

Add remaining salt, ground black pepper, onion, butter or margarine and sour cream. Cook, do not boil, only until cream is hot. Garnish with paprika and parsley. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Sensitive Peaches Hate to Be Pinched

If a peach could "talk back," some shoppers would be embarrassed. Pinching is no help to picking a good peach, reminds the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Pinching does bruise a peach, causing it to turn brown and start decay soon after.

Every time a peach is bruised it is ruined for some other customer, and naturally prices must cover the retailer's loss. The retailer's loss is your loss too.

Why not let your eyes be your ally when selecting a peach? A peach should be firm with a background color that is creamy white to a deep golden yellow, depending upon variety. A day or two at room temperature will fully ripen a peach, then pop it into the refrigerator to chill before eating.

Take a longer look when selecting a peach, but "no pinching, please."

Cold Cheese Fills Omelet

Cream-style cottage cheese makes an interesting filling for a French-style omelet because there's interesting cold and hot contrast. Add salt and lots of freshly-ground pepper to the cheese before using.

Peppers Should Be Firm and Crisp

Few foods can boast of better pepper-upper ability than crisp green peppers. Flavorwise, colorwise, and healthwise, they have what it takes.

And how can you be sure you are buying quality? Look for peppers that are firm, crisp and thick-fleshed suggests the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. The immature peppers are soft, thin-fleshed and pale. The best green peppers are well shaped with a bright shiny surface that sparkles of freshness. If peppers are shriveled or soft, this tells you they are old.

Green peppers will keep crisp and fresh for several days if you store them in the refrigerator. Keep them dry in a covered container.

Olive Oil Does Things That Are Good to Fish

In Spain as in this country trout fishing is a favorite sport with men and a favorite way of cooking the incomparable fresh-caught trout is to dust it lightly with flour, then fry quickly in olive oil. The olive oil helps to keep the flesh white and succulent while the skin becomes crisp and golden. After taking the fish from the pan, add a fistful of minced parsley, cook about 1 minute, then pour fried parsley and the oil over the fish. Serve with lemon wedges.

If the fish is to be cooked over an open grill, first marinate it in olive oil for an hour, then as the fish cooks over the glowing coals, brush with more oil. Add a squeeze of lemon juice, a sprinkle of salt, and you have a dish fit for the boss. (This treatment works the same magic with any other fresh fish.)

Reduce Calories in Classic Soup With Buttermilk

A weight-watcher's way to make the cold beet soup that has become so popular.

Cold Beet Soup

1 can (1 pound) sliced beets
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed bouillon
2 cups buttermilk
½ cup water
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon white pepper
½ teaspoon onion powder
Finely diced cucumber

Drain beets; reserve ½ cup of the slices for another use. Cut remaining sliced beets into thin strips; mix with beet juice, undiluted bouillon, buttermilk, water, sugar, lemon juice, salt, pepper, onion powder.

Refrigerate in covered container for several hours or overnight to chill thoroughly and blend flavors. Makes 5½ cups. Serve with a generous amount of finely diced cucumber.

Note: The classic recipe for this soup calls for sour cream but this substitution of buttermilk cuts calories.

Streamline Chicken Dish

This marvelous dish normally takes hours to prepare; but with the help of a can of boned chicken fricassee, you'll be off to a flying start. Combine the fricassee (14-ounce can) with ½ cup shredded process cheese, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup diced pimiento, and ¼ teaspoon curry powder. Heat well and serve on a large platter with cooked broccoli arranged around it. This makes enough for 4 delicious servings.

Canvas Covers Protect Luggage

$6 Covers Cost of Two Sew-It-Yourself Cases Made of Cotton Duck

The old cartoon of the roped-tied suitcase is no joke. Protect bright new leather or plastic luggage by sewing some lightweight canvas covers. These will protect against scatching, scarring and mildew.

Two canvas covers, one for a pullman-size case, the other for a weekend bag, can be sewn for less than $6. Nine-ounce cotton duck, 31 inches wide, is used.

Cover for large case 26x16x 8½: Cut two pieces of fabric 27x16 inches on the straight of the material for sides.

Cut two pieces of fabric 27x10 inches for top and bottom edges and two pieces 16x10 inches for side edges.

Alternating the long and short pieces of fabric, stitch together in long strip. Measure from edge of case to the near edge of its handle. Mark off length to be top border of cover and start at that point to cut an opening 1¼ inches wide and 5½ inches long.

Stitch a facing around this opening, trim seams, press and whip facing to wrong side of material. Top-stitch around the outside edge of the opening. This opening is for the luggage handle.

Sew unstitched end of the strip of fabric together. This forms a rectangular piece for the border of your cover. Cut this rectangular strip lengthwise, forming two rectangular pieces 5 inches wide.

Pin zippers to the inside edges (same edge as the one with the handle opening) of each strip of material. Stitch together the edges on the bottom of the covet where the zippers do not meet. Stitch in zippers and turn seams under.

Sew cotton furniture cording around the outside edges of the rectangular border just completed. Attach sides of the cover to the cording.

No Need for Monotony in Dressing Your Salad

Bleu cheese dressing is an old favorite for tossed salads. It's simple when you add ¼ cup crumbled Bleu cheese to 1 cup salad dressing or French dressing.

A Thousand Island dressing fan? Try it with one cup salad dressing, ¼ cup chili sauce, 2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives, 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper, 1 tablespoon minced onion and 1 chopped hard-cooked egg.

Frozen raspberries, made into a sauce, are delicious served over peaches (fresh, frozen or canned).

CRUNCHY POTATO BAKE — Potato-fixing can be a many-sided thing. Here is a three way idea to supplement protein requirements with a baked potato that is dressed up. Cheese, cereal and nonfat dry milk are the answers.

Baked Potatoes Fortified With Cereal and Cheese

It doesn't matter whether Sir Walter Raleigh or Governor Lane claims distinction as the importer of the potato to America—for hundreds of years, it has been a vegetable of high repute. Its everlasting benefits have been recognized through the ages.

Potato preparation can become a "many-sided thing," so much so that you can find a new serving idea for any meal seven days a week. Here is a three-way serving suggestion for fresh, left-over, or the new instant-type potatoes.

Whipped instant nonfat dry milk gives potatoes a light, fluffy taste-tempting characteristic that makes them so good. Cheese and cereal crumbs give crunchiness that contrasts with the smoothness of the potato, whether baked as puffs or croquettes, stuffed in potato shells or baked in a casserole.

High in protein from instant nonfat dry milk, eggs and cheese, any of these potato fixes can be an entree for brunch or supper.

Crunchy Potato Bake

⅓ cup instant nonfat dry milk
⅓ cup water
2 cups mashed potatoes
¼ cup finely chopped onion
1 egg, well-beaten
1 teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne pepper
1 cup cornflakes
⅓ cup Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons melted butter

Whip instant nonfat dry milk and water until thick and smooth. Mix in potatoes, chopped onion, egg, salt and pepper. Beat until light and fluffy. Place mixture in greased 8x8x2 inch baking dish or 1½ quart casserole. Mix cornflakes, Parmesan cheese and butter. Spread over top. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Variation: This same recipe can be used in preparing stuffed baked potatoes or potato puffs.

New Textbooks Make Three R's Easier to Learn

The three R's, and maybe the hickory stick, will be back in school this fall.

Educators and parents think it's about time to teach Johnny to read well and to start him on his way to figuring his income taxes. And new, colorful texts will make lessons more enjoyable.

A St. Louis reading clinic reveals that many reading deficiencies were corrected when youngsters learned to spell.

Spelling should be taught, according to one publisher, through training the ear to discriminate between sounds and to use symbols to illustrate letters and their initial sounds. In this way pupils will learn to build other words.

New spelling workbooks by Webster are based on the sound-symbol relationship. Phonetics will play an important part, Johnson says.

In teaching mathematics, new math books use cartoons, color and illustrations.

The basic idea is to teach mathematics as an understanding of quanitity. To do this, workbooks go from concrete examples to abstract ones.

Schools are urged to interest more students in algebra and higher mathematics to fill the demand for more persons in science and engineering.

Heat the Dressing First

To embellish a pork roast, add a side dish of chilled cucumbers, sliced as thinly as the knife will allow, and marinated in a spicy French dressing. Heat the dressing first with a tablespoon mixed pickling spice tied in a cheesecloth bag. Cool and pour over cucumbers. The longer they stand, the better they taste.

Fix Peaches for Nibbling

Fill the cavities of fresh peach halves with a combination of cream and Bleu cheese. Chill. Cut halves into quarters to serve to between-meal nibblers.

'Hand' Is Code Word in Choosing Melons

Picking the best cantaloupe is easy if you keep the word 'hand' in mind, relates the MSU Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

H is for a melon heavy for its size. A is for fragrant aroma. N is for a well netted melon. D is for a melon with a depression at the stem end. If the melon has a depressed scar where it joined the vine, that means the cantaloupe was allowed to remain on the vine until practically ripe.

Think of the word 'hand' and choose a better cantaloupe every time.

Layer Fruit and Crumbs for Parfait

For a special event such as a birthday or an anniversary serve a surprise dessert like Blueberry Delight. It's luscious blueberry sauce layered with rich shortbread cookie crumbs for the best parfait you ever ate.

Blueberry Delight

½ cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
3 cups blueberries, slightly crushed
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon
18 shortbread cookies, coarsely crumbled

Mix together sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Combine blueberries, lemon juice and rind; stir into sugar mixture, blending well. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear: cool.

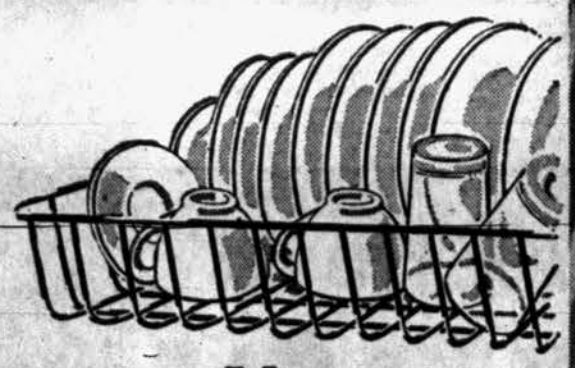

Alternate layers of blueberry mixture and crumbs in 6 parfait glasses. Top with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

Olive Oil Soothes Acidity

With ripe tomatoes now in abundance, try sprinkling tomato slices with dried tarragon, cover with Spanish olive oil and let marinate for an hour or more before serving. Salt to taste at the table. The olive oil brings out the full tomato flavor and soothes the acidity.

State Fruits, Vegetables Now at Peak of Flavor

The peak of the homegrown season is the best time to enjoy finest flavor of Michigan's fruits and vegetables. If you have plans for storing blueberries, peaches, tomatoes, corn, cucumbers or beans, this is a good time to invest in this project.

If you have no plans for storage include them on the weekly market list for tops in good eating.

Have you noticed that some stores are packaging peaches in several sizes to suit the size of your family? Pick two, three or five pound packages, or buy them by the bushel. At 10 to 15 cents a pound you'll agree peaches are tops in fruit value.

Let your eyes be an ally when selecting peaches. Fine quality peaches have no blemishes and have a fresh appearance. Don't judge the nature of peaches by the attractive blush. The background color and firmness are the best guides. Both the Red Haven and Fair Haven, which are in the market now, are golden yellow with red cheeks.

Firm peaches can be kept coverected in the refrigerator for a short while. If you happen to get a few unripe peaches, keep them at room temperature to mature.

AVOID PINCHING

Take a long look when selecting peaches, but no pinching please. Even a slight pinch bruises, causing soft dark spots. This spoils them for the next customer. Naturally, prices must cover the retailer's loss, and this loss becomes yours every time you pinch a peach.

Michigan cantaloupe will be found in the markets for the next month. They add much in color, flavor and texture yet are very low in calories.

The greenish areas you now see on many California oranges have nothing to do with ripeness or flavor. Re-greening is very common at this time of year.

CAN TOMATOES

From now until mid-September is an ideal time to can tomatoes. A bushel will weigh 48 pounds and make between 15 to 20 quarts canned. Since tomatoes crush so easily, you may want to buy in half bushel or 14-pound baskets. If you pick your own, take small size containers to avoid bruising and splitting.

Field ripened tomatoes have twice as much vitamin C as fall and winter greenhouse tomatoes. During the homegrown season, half the day's supply of vitamin C is supplied by one medium-size ripe tomato.

Few foods can boast better pepper-upper ability than crisp green peppers. Flavorwise, colorwise and healthwise they have what it takes. Quantity and quality is at the peak in August.

To be sure of buying quality, look for peppers that are firm, crisp and thick-fleshed. Immature peppers are soft, thin-fleshed and pale. The best green peppers are well shaped with bright shiny surface that sparkle with freshness. If peppers are shriveled or soft, they are old.

POULTRY IN LIMELIGHT

Poultry continues in the protein limelight. Compare prices and consider the number of servings per pound when checking turkey, fryers, stewers, duck, roasting chicken or cornish game hens. Consider the variety needed to keep your family's appetite high.

Frozen fish fillets may be the choice needed to keep within the food budget this week. Cod, ocean perch and haddock top the econo-list.

Ever add grated carrots to potato salad? Gives pleasant color, especially when diced green pepper or parsley accompany the carrots.

Won't Pay for Meal So He Can Go to Jail

HONOLULU (AP)—Noel K. Kaai has found a fool-proof method for getting into jail—where he says he feels at hom.

The 56 - year - old unemployed laborer was released from a one-month term for refusing to pay for a meal he ate at a restaurant.

Kaai walked straight to the Star Cafe and ordered freely from the menu. When the bill arrived, he announced he had no money.

The proprietor offered to accept his hat for security while he went to get some money. Kaai firmly declined, and added he wouldn't move until the proprietor called for a police officer.

Kaai drew 60 days.

Several others are going from here to attend the wedding in Alamo Heights Methodist Church, and Philip's grandfather, Bruce Bort of Chicago, will fly down early next week.

Mr. and Mrs. LeMessurier will give the rehearsal dinner Sept. 6.

Among dinners and patio parties given by Miss Robertson's friends will be a "brunch" the morning of the wedding which Lev Pritchard and his mother, Mrs. J. R. Davis, will give in their San Antonio home. Mr. Pritchard will be an usher.

Golden Agers Look Back but Keep Eye on Future

Many of Pontiac's "golden" aged women are very grateful to Mrs. J. A. Rammes who organized the group known as the Golden Age Club at the YWCA in 1948.

Since its organization, the 90 members have met each month at the "Y" for companionship and to help with community projects. Regardless of their 70-plus age, the group numbers many who are still active.

Mrs. J. A. Rammes (center) who organized the Golden Age Club in 1948, is photographed with two of the members, Mrs. I. A. Woodard (left) and Mrs. Carrie Heath, both charter members.

JOINS SWIMMERS

Mrs. H. M. Learned, who just retired from the board of directors of the YWCA, was chairman of World Fellowship, and another "golden ager," Mrs. William Holthusen, joined the swimming classes and the oil painting classes last year at the "Y."

Members enjoy their gatherings so much that many others have asked for membership. To accommodate this waiting list, the group plans a second organization.

GROWS STEADILY

The growth of the membership was steadily increasing when Mrs. Phillip Vierlech took over chairmanship in 1951. They had over 60 members when three years later Mrs. Harold B. Euler became chairman. In February of 1956 Mrs. Rammes headed the group again.

During the early years meetings were highlighted by displays of interesting hobbies of the members and special treasures were found among them. Mrs. S. A. Kessell prized a leaf from a Bible used on the Mayflower; Mrs. Belle Harmer had a handmade corset boned with wood, and Mrs. Otto Sasche owned a Chantilly lace shawl from France.

PRESENTS PICTURE

Last year's highlight was the presentation of a picture of Christ to the YWCA from the club. This was purchased with pennies donated by the women over a period of several months. The picture was unveiled by Mrs. Rose Doig and accepted by Mrs. Audrey Stimpert, president of the YWCA.

Summer meetings are in the form of picnics held at homes opened for the occasion. Some of the hostesses include Mrs. J. L. VanWagoner, Mrs. F. L. Haushalter, Mrs. Basil Kimball, Mrs. Jack Rothberg, Mrs. Donald B. Hogue, Mrs. Karl Schultz and Mrs. Edmund Windeler.

When the members aren't holding a special program they swap recipes, recall past experiences and celebrate birthdays.

Volunteer of Month

Mrs. Rammes Cited

The Central Volunteer Bureau of the Pontiac United Fund has chosen Mrs. J. A. Rammes as Volunteer of the Month.

She was cited for her work with the Golden Age group of the YWCA which she organized in 1948.

Object of the group was to help give incentive for these older women and to allow each member to participate according to her individual needs.

SENDS CARDS

Mrs. Rammes sends birthday cards and all occasion cards to each of the 90 members of the club, and sees that each one observing a birthday is given a corsage. Mrs. Rammes says, "It is all the pay I need to see the joy this brings to these deserving members."

While on vacations and trips Mrs. Rammes sends cards to the members, and if anyone is ill she is always on hand. The real reward for Mrs. Rammes is the devotion of the members.

CHURCH WORKER

Besides her work with this group, Mrs. Rammes is a very active member of the First Congregational Church and the United Church Women of Pontiac.

Would-Be Scientists Learn, Earn

Army Lab Finds Student Program Pays Both Ways

By ANNETTE DAVIS

WASHINGTON — In a campus-like setting in northwest Washington, 115 science students from 60 colleges and universities are getting a chance to put their book learning to practical, paying use.

At the Diamond Ordnance Fuze Laboratories, an Army research center for electronic devices, the students get a taste of working in a government laboratory, and—equally important — the government gets a chance to evaluate their possibilities as future scientists.

RECRUITS SCIENTISTS

The lab's summer student aid program is one of several in Washington to encourage young people in science careers and to recruit budding scientists for government projects.

Miss Priscilla Edson, a junior in mathematics at Duke University, had a summer job renting apartments before she heard of the program. Now she is working on a mathematical analysis of optical properties of film deposits.

The students receive a starting salary of $225 a month. They are recruited, under Civil Service regulations, from colleges and universities across the country. A few are taken directly from high school.

For most, it's their first chance to put academic knowledge to practical use. However, some of the trainees, like David M. Freifelder, a Ph.D. candidate in physics at the University of Chicago, are spending a second summer in Washington.

FREEDOM TO WORK

David, whose home is Waukegan, Ill., told me he likes the freedom at Diamond to do independent research. This summer he is working on a device to replace a tube in a fuze. He says it will cost 1/75th the amount of the present device used by the government.

The supervisor, Dr. Charles H. Klute, had this to say about the student program: "It not only supports the students financially, but the work here will advance them professionally. When they go to look for a job, they can say they've had experience."

Volunteer Training to Begin

The first meeting of the American Red Cross Gray Lady Training Class will begin Sept. 10 at 1:30 p.m. at the American Red Cross Chapter House on Franklin boulevard.

Classes, trained by Mrs. W. C. Sproull, chairman of Oakland County Gray Ladies, will be held at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Anyone over 21 years of age may volunteer.

Patient in Hospital

Mrs. Lula Ogden of South Johnson avenue is convalescing following surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

ANNA TREVINO

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trevino of Waterly street announce the engagement of their daughter, Anna, to Howard Charles Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taft Hart of Hood road. An Oct. 9 wedding has been planned by the couple.

Girls' Club Has Dinner, Program

D. B. Girls Club of Detroit Broach and Machine Company, Rochester, has only recently been organized. The club's main purpose is to promote good will among employes by social contacts outside the office. Therefore, every month the group plans a different activity.

For the August "outing" a dinner at Devon Gables, followed by an evening at a Will-O-Way theater performance took place Wednesday. Vice president and general manager, H. R. Conner, sponsored the August activity.

The September committee is working with J. M. Finally, vice president in charge of manufacturing, on plans for an open house. Both men are helping the club with ventures in charitable activities.

Teen-Agers Favor Labor Unions but Think Them Often at Fault

By EUGENE GILBERT

President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Teenagers are overwhelmingly in favor of the American labor movement, yet about half of them think that in friction between labor and management it is the unions that are usually at fault.

In a nationwide survey of teen-aged opinions of labor and management, we learned that youth is highly in favor of the ideals and principles of labor but highly critical of some of its practices.

At least 93 per cent of the boys and 92 per cent of the girls answered a resounding yes when asked if labor unions were necessary.

"They create good working conditions and help in making fair wages," says Bobbie Blocker of Pompano Beach, Fla.

"They represent the people and are part and parcel of democratic government," says Edythe Krampe of College Point, N.J.

The slim minority, 6 per cent of the boys and 7 per cent of the girls, had an entirely different impression:

"Labor unions are trying to drive management out of business," insists 16-year-old Lee Johnson of Indianapolis, Ind.

SOME RESERVATIONS

Labor's popularity dropped a bit when teen-agers were asked whether they themselves would join a union if working. Eighty per cent of the boys and 75 per cent of the girls said they would.

But 19 per cent of the boys and 24 per cent of the girls said flatly they would not. The rest had no opinion.

After voting solidly in favor of the labor movement as an ideal, many teen-agers had reservations and outright changes of opinion about labor as it is practiced.

Did they think labor unions were managed honestly, indifferently or badly and corruptly?

About 55 per cent of the boys and 48 per cent of the girls answered that they thought most unions were managed honestly. But 30 per cent of the boys and 39 per cent of the girls held the opinion that most unions were badly and corruptly managed.

About 12 per cent of both boys and girls thought they were indifferently managed. Few had no opinions on this question.

Labor also lost considerable ground among young people on the question which side was usually at fault in friction between labor and management.

Here, 47 per cent of the boys and 57 per cent of the girls blamed labor; 24 per cent of the boys and 18 per cent of the girls blamed management, and 27 per cent of the boys and 24 per cent of the girls blamed both.

BOYS PRO-UNION

It is interesting to note that throughout this survey boys tended to be much stronger unionists than girls.

Both questions elicited strong comments from the future working class in America.

"All that stuff in the papers couldn't be a coincidence," answered 15 year-old Dale Rogers of Seattle, "Some awfully dirty goings-on must be in those unions."

"Union officials get their hands on too much money," observed another teen-ager, who declined to give his name. "It can't be good for them. They have got to turn corrupt even if they start out on the up and up."

"I'm a strong disbeliever in unions," admitted 17-year-old Dennis Sloan of Chicago, Ill. "We would be better off without them if they can't be honest."

Similarly, young Ted Eland of Winfield, Iowa, found unions "unfair to the workers—the bosses roll in all the money."

But others thought that the entire labor movement had been unfairly stigmatized by recent scandalous disclosures in some unions.

"Maybe one or two are bad and get in the newspapers," said Mary Jo Small of Midland, Tex., "but most are completely honest, I am certain."

A high school junior in New York City insisted that "no monkey business goes on in most unions. My dad is a union member for 20 years and nothing shady goes on."

"People pay too much attention to the supposed frauds written up in newspapers," complained 15-year-old Kenny Clark also of Midland. "Unions are no different from business.

Some are successful, others are not. People only notice the unsuccessful ones."

Some doubted that corruption could take place on a large scale in a big union. "If crooked officials got into a union, someone would be sure to find out," said a Detroit pony-tailer. "There are too many people involved," insisted another.

Many young labor enthusiasts, however, said they saw the need for a "house cleaning" and offered suggestions along those lines.

Married Saturday evening were Theresa Miller and James Norman Joyce. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Miller of State avenue, and the Ernest Joyces are parents of the bridegroom.

MR. and MRS. JAMES N. JOYCE

Pair Spends Honeymoon in Northern Michigan

On a northern Michigan trip are Mr. and Mrs. James Norman Joyce. Before the Saturday evening wedding in Donelson Baptist Church the bride was Theresa Irene Miller. An uncle of the bride, the Rev. Henry Green, performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Miller of State Avenue and the late Mr. Miller, and the Ernest Joyces of Hickory Lane are parents of the bridegroom.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle over satin and net. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and short sleeves trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. A crown of seed pearls held a finger tip veil and the bride carried a cascade arrangement of colonial roses centered with a white orchid.

Serving at matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Terreault of Commerce. She wore a French blue ballerina-length dress of crystal-ette with a matching headpiece of seed pearls and veil. Patricia Elkins, Mrs. Edward Strine of Clarkston and Mrs. Thomas Miller Jr. were the attendants. Their gowns were styled like the honor attendant's in Cotillion blue.

As best man was Robert Terreault of Commerce, and the guests were seated by Richard Miller, Jerry Moriarty, Charles Joyce and James Miller.

For a reception in the Knights of Pythias Hall Mrs. Miller chose a blue lace dress with white accessories and an orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Before leaving on a trip the new Mrs. Joyce had changed to a gray suit and white accessories with the orchid from her bridal corsage.

Wife Needs Hubby's Help to Ward Off Widowhood

She'll Tackle Budget, Pare Calories, but Man's Job Is to Obey Health Rules

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to middle-aged men:

Judging from my mail, an increasing number of wives are worrying about the health of their husbands. To put it bluntly, these wives don't want to be widows.

But anxious as they are to look after your health there are some things they can't keep you from doing.

Your wife can see that your meals are well balanced and easy on calories. But she can't keep you from raiding the icebox at night.

Your wife can cut down on her demands so that the budget isn't a constant worry to you. But she can't keep you from being extravagant in such matters as having to drive the latest model car.

Your wife can limit the number of nights the two of you go out each week so that you can get plenty of rest. But she can't keep you from bringing your business worries home with you.

Your wife can encourage you to get away from it all whenever you get the chance. But she can't keep you from turning a hunting or fishing trip into an endurance contest that brings you home exhausted.

Your wife can urge you to drive carefully, but there's not much she can do if you are the kind who likes to brag about how fast your car will go.

Your wife may be able to talk you into getting regular physical checkups. But she can't make you take your doctor's advice about slowing down, losing 15 pounds or easing up on smoking.

Your wife doesn't want to be a widow. But she can only avoid it with your help.

Acquire Tan Slowly

A sun bather who builds a golden tan will be the envy of her friends. Most overdo themselves in sun worship. As a result, they turn lobster red or near-black. Acquire a tan gradually. Begin with five minutes the first day and add a few minutes to exposure time each day.

Massage, Brushing Also Important

Health Affects Appearance of Hair

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lucky is the woman who has a luxuriant head of hair. This boosts beauty tremendously. This characteristic often seems to run in families although this is not always the case. One child may have moderate to thin hair while another has heavy hair.

Many women worry about thin hair and write to know what to do about it. First look to your general health! Your hair is a living, growing part of your body. As such, it is affected by the food you eat, the exercise you take and the thoughts you think. We all know that after times of strain and worry or following an illness the hair often falls out or becomes dull and lifeless.

Be especially careful about your diet. Be sure that it gives you a high intake in vitamin B complex. It might even be wise to reinforce your menus with vitamin B complex capsules. Ask your physician about this. Also try to form good health habits. Avoid strain and relax more.

Local stimulation is also helpful. Massage your scalp and brush your hair daily — using the proper technique. There are all kinds of motions which are called "brushing" or "massaging."

Even in good beauty salons you seldom find that they brush hair correctly. Usually the brush is just whipped across the top of the head a few times. This provides no stimulation for the scalp, and therein lies the value of brushing.

This is the way it should be done. Turn the bristles of the brush toward the scalp. As you sweep the brush toward the ends of the hair turn the bristles toward the ceiling. This will pull the hair gently.

When you massage the scalp spread the fingers over the head and rotate the hands, keeping the fingers in the same spot. Change the position of the hands until the entire scalp has been covered.

Brushing and massaging the scalp take little time but will bring you much improvement if you indulge in them daily.

Of course a permanent helps a lot if you have thin hair just as liquid sprays are a great aid if your hair is very fine. Sprays give it body and help hold it in place.

When you massage your scalp, spread the fingers over the head and rotate the hands, keeping the fingers in the same spot.

Bon Voyage Gifts Bring a Problem

Death Cancels Trip; Should Presents Be Returned?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My father's sudden death canceled my European trip. I received quite a number of going-away presents from friends, which I still have. I would like to know if these gifts should be returned to the givers?"

Answer: Under ordinary circumstances you would keep them in the hope of going on a journey in the not too distant future. On the other hand, if any of these gifts are valuable and returnable to stores, you might offer to give these back.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it just as much a man's responsibility to return dinner invitations as a woman's? It seems most men take these invitations for granted and seldom return them."

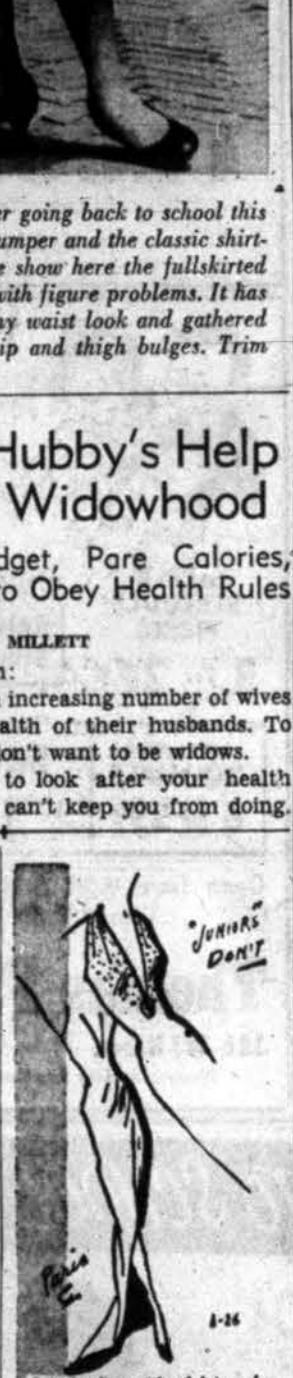

Answer: A man who has his own establishment or his family is in a position to let him give parties at home, or who has the means to invite his friends to dine in a restaurant, does usually make some return. But since the typical young man is not in this position, no one really expects anything more of him than to make himself agreeable and help make the dinner party a success.

It is true, however, that a few flowers sent now and again by way of return to a hostess is always pleasing.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I thought it was required to take a hostess a present when going to stay a weekend or longer. Someone told me that it is not at all, and quotes you. Is this true?"

Answer: People love to give presents even when there is small excuse, and certainly there is no objection to taking one to a hostess if you would like to. On the other hand, there is no rule of etiquette requiring the taking or not taking of a gift. It is a question to be decided by your own personal impulse and circumstances.

Cleanliness and good manners are valuable assets when job hunting.

Split hemlines with a fabric underlay and overblouse yes, but knee-high slash and plunging V cut to the waistline is hardly junior stuff.

Wax Floor Less Often, Says Expert

Scrub, Coat Kitchen Once in Six Weeks Otherwise Wipe Up

CHICAGO (INS)—You may be waxing your kitchen floor too often.

Some women wash their floors as often as once or twice a week, but a spokesman for the hard surface floor covering industry said this frequency is just wasted time and effort.

O. W. Fenn Jr., an official with a vinyl floor covering firm, said such products need thorough washing and waxing only a few times a year.

"Even with heavy traffic and children underfoot, kitchen floors should be washed and rewaxed no oftener than once every six weeks," he said.

To protect the kitchen floor and keep it spotless, Fenn said women can get by most days with just whisking off the dust and dirt particles with a soft hair brush or dust mop. This is to keep particles from getting ground in and scratching the surface.

In washing the floor, Fenn recommends that women use a mild soap and lukewarm water solution; dry the floor thoroughly and then wax it with a water-based liquid wax, not paste.

Between this wash-and-wax down, women can wipe off stains with a damp, soapless cloth and buff the wax coating with a soft, clean mop or cloth.

The trick is to keep the coat of wax thin. "Otherwise," Fenn cautioned, "The wax beneath the surface stays soft, catches dirt and will hardly protect at all. And heavy coats of wax tend to become discolored."

To keep linoleum kitchen counter tops, Fenn recommended that women wax them regularly with a paste wax, buffing thoroughly, and keep them sparkling with a damp sponge.

Dinner Is Planned at Parish Hall

Mrs. Gardner Merithew of Montcalm street opened her home to St. Monica Unit of St. Michael's Parish Tuesday evening. Plans were completed for St. Michael's annual dinner to be held Sept. 15 at the Parish Hall.

Refreshments were served to 24. Mrs. Roy Tatham of Lake Orion will be hostess for the September meeting.

Bride-Elect Feted

Mrs. Jerry Webster and Mrs. William C. Webster entertained for Jane Webster, whose marriage to Robert Kuklinski will be an event of Oct. 5. The Sunday afternoon tea and kitchen shower was held at the Pontiac drive home of the Andrew Lindseys.

Christian Temple was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Ruby Marlene Edwards and Kenneth Christopherson. Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Edwards are the bride's parents, and the Chris Christophersons are parents of the bridegroom.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH CHRISTOPHERSON

Couple Is Married in Church Ceremony

Ruby Marlene Edwards became the bride of Kenneth Christopherson Saturday evening in Christian Temple. The Rev. Mrs. Rose Davis of Calvery Missionary performed the ceremony before 200 witnesses.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles L. Edwards of South Jesse street are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Christopherson of S. East Boulevard.

The bride chose a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and net over satin with a Sabrina neckline accented with iridescent sequins. She wore a fingertip veil secured by a crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. The bride carried a white Bible with a white orchid surrounded by rosebuds.

Jacqueline Johnson, as maid of honor, wore a blue taffeta ballerina-length gown featuring a pink cummerbund. She carried an arrangement of pink and blue carnations. Mrs. Kenneth Nickols, Candice Luekenback and Carol Edwards, a sister of the bride, served as the attendants.

They were gowned in pink dresses fashioned like that of the honor attendant's. Flower girl, Kathy Benscoter of Waterford, wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor, and she carried a basket of rose petals.

A brother of the bridegroom, Edward Hansen of Gaylord, served as the best man. Seating the guests were Bud Sabourin Jr., James Wiggins of Waterford and Boyd Buerge of Reed City. Rocky Sabourin served as the ringbearer.

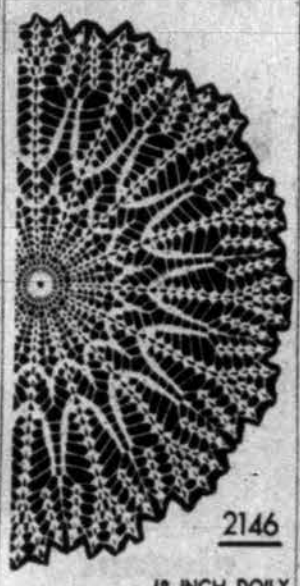

For a reception held in the church parlors the bride's mother wore a turquoise lace dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink glamellias. Mrs. Christopherson chose a blue lace dress with white accessories and a pink glamellia corsage.

For a trip to Niagara Falls and northern Michigan the new Mrs. Christopherson changed to a white sheath dress with blue accessories. The couple will live on North Perry street.

Older Folks Should Cut Calories

Nutrition experts are lowering the boom on American eating habits, with particular emphasis on the deits of older people. In fact, according to Roberta Hershey, nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, some people wouldn't be so much "older" if they only ate the right kinds of food.

One of the main targets under attack is Nutrition Enemy No. One—the calorie. The calorie may be small, but it's mighty—especially when it's found in large numbers, which is usually the case in American diets.

Miss Hershey points out that it can be a particular problem to older people because of their long established eating habits.

If you live alone, you may have found that you tend to eat leftovers rather than to prepare three square meals a day. Meals for one need to be planned since snack-type foods are apt to cause trouble. So often you may catch yourself munching on a cookie, a piece of candy, a few potato chips or a piece of cake.

You can cut down on calories without making life miserable. One of the ways Miss Hershey suggests, is to eat more than three meals a day. Eat five meals if you want to—just remember that a "meal" may consist of a glass of skimmed milk or a small glass of fruit juice.

SNACK ON FRUIT

You don't need to give up snacking either. The important thing is to snack on foods which give you nutrients rather than calories—a glass of fruit juice, an apple or a carrot.

As you become less active, your need for energy food decreases; many rich foods and desserts will be taboo. Remember, however, that the need for other nutrients remains the same and you can't slight milk, meat, eggs, whole grains, fruits and vegetables.

Be sure that the breads you do eat are made with enriched flour.

Don't let the calorie get the best of you—you'll be healthier, look younger and live longer.

Take the cap and stopper off your vacuum insulated bottle when you put it away after washing. This will keep it sweet smelling. Moisture and trapped dead air can build up if it is left closed.

So You'd Like to Write a Novel...!

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Every time a teenage girl, a harassed mother of four, or a sweet little old grandmother, sells a first novel and gets a write-up in the magazines, I shudder. Invariably it means that hundreds of other women will roll up their sleeves and let the cooking and housework go.

"If she can do it, so can I!" they'll mutter and they'll write me for pointers on selling the first thing you write!

NO ACCIDENT

Actually, the teenage girl who sells her first novel is either inordinately gifted, extremely lucky or both. And the others are not only gifted and lucky, but have most likely been working their heads off at typewriters from the day they were born.

They may not say so or admit it. Somehow, when you finally reach the top, the years of work are forgotten. You find yourself stringing along with the legend that you just fell into it. The "first" book is often in reality the dozenth. It's just the first one that anybody would buy.

IT TAKES TALENT

Writing is wonderful, but it takes a certain amount of talent, just as painting, decorating, singing or engineering do. Also, it takes more work than most people are willing to put into it.

Most successful writers are people who began telling or writing stories or poetry long before their teens and have pretty much kept it up all their lives. By the time they "arrive" they've put in thousands of man-hours.

If you find yourself wishing you could write, and yet you have not been at it all your life, one of the following things is probably true:

1. You lack prestige, recognition, a feeling of accomplishment and you think having your name in print would do the trick.
2. You need extra money, but you can't leave home. Writing is something you can do just anywhere.
3. You've bottled up a lot of sadness and would like to be able to unload it, without having to tell anyone.

NOT YOUR DISH

If any of these strike home, it's a sign that writing is probably not your dish. However, something else is! Each of us has some basic talent, some real interest. If we express that, we get the recognition, accomplishment, money and happiness we deserve.

If you're having trouble finding yours, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my "Pointers to Your Basic Interest." If, on the other hand, you really are working at writing and serious about it, I'll send you my list of good books in the field.

By lunch time, the ice cream will be the right consistency for eating.

Racial Integration Gains in Border States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As public schools prepared for opening of the fourth year since the U.S. Supreme Court's historic ruling against racial segregation, it was apparent that the integration movement was beginning to spread.

Despite the fact that more school systems are involved, however, the actual number of Negro students actually going to school with white perscons is still very small.

With five of Virginia's 128 school districts under federal court order to integrate, a breakdown in racial barriers in the Old Dominion's schools may come during the current school year.

North Carolina dropped from the total segregation list a few weeks ago when school boards in Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro assigned Negroes to previously all-white schools. However, there have been protests from white groups and court appeals are pending.

Integrationists scored their biggest victory this year in Tennessee, where Nashville school officials began a citywide desegregation movement at the first-grade level.

Limited integration is scheduled to start in the three largest cities in Aarkansas, Little Rock, Fort Smith and North Little Rock. The number of integrated school districts in the state will jump from three to eight.

Only in Texas was there a backward movement reported in integration plans. Port Arthur and Galveston had been scheduled to start gradual integration this fall but the move was canceled because of a new state law requiring a local option referendum on the question.

The Southern Education Reporting Service says of the 9,051 school districts in the 17 Southern and border states, 3,008 have prospective Negro pupils. Of this number, 684 have begun or completed desegregation.

In the District of Columbia, ordered to integrate immediately after the Supreme Court's decision May 17, 1954, and in the border states of Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland, Oklahoma and West Virginia, integration has continued to move forward with only a handful of school districts holding out.

All was peaceful Tuesday at Nashville when 126 Negro children registered for classes with about 2,000 white 6-year-olds. The Negro first-graders eligible for integrated classes represented less than a tenth of the estimated enrollment of their age group. The remainder will attend all-Negro schools nearer their residences.

Nashville is the first large city south of Louisville, Ky., and the third in Tennessee to integrate its schools. The federally operated high school at Oak Ridge was desegregated two years ago and the state-supported Clinton High School admitted Negro pupils last year.

In North Carolina, where official sentiment still is anti-integration, 12 Negro children were given a go-ahead to attend previously all-white schools under a pupil assignment plan.

Acting almost simultaneously on July 23, the school boards of Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro admitted five, one and six Negro students, respectively.

A group of 21 parents of white children have obtained a court order directing Charlotte school officials to show cause why they should not be restrained from admitting the Negroes.

North Carolina's school assignment law has been upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court as being "not unconstitutional on its face." However, some state officials have pointed out that a small amount of integration is necessary to prevent a court order calling for total desegregation.

'Utilize Natural Charms,' Expert Urges Teen Set

A fashion authority and consultant urges teenagers to make the most of their natural charms.

She says, "Keep the look of youth, alert, fresh, clean. Wash your face with soap and water. The look of youth is the clean-scrubbed look. Stand up straight and tall and pick up your feet. Don't let them drag as if you were an old, old woman."

"Wear feminine clothes. Nothing becomes a girl so much as looking like a girl. Fix shoe heels, replace worn straps and laces. And wear anklets for sports, stockings for all other occasions . . . straighten the stocking seams!

"For extra feminine touches use a delicate fresh young perfume," she says, "and wear clean white gloves. Cultivate the quiet voice. You can be heard and it will be pleasant to listen to you."

Teenagers are warned not to detract from their young charms. She says "Don't overdo make-up or wear pants and pedal pushers for all occasions. Girls should look different from boys.

"Don't use extreme hair styles. What looks good on a movie heroine will not necessarily look good on you. Young hands should not end in red claws, either."

On wearing tight clothes, she points out a good figure doesn't need exaggeration and a poor one suffers from it. And black is not for the teenager.

Women Work, Too

Working women are making more news and money, too. They now account for one-fifth of the country's total wages and salaries. Three out of every 10 married women work outside the home.

Boulevard Elms to Be Saved

City officals last night quelled fears of Franklin boulevard residents that many trees would have to be removed on their street to make room for the West Huron street sanitary relief sewer.

"There will be no wholesale slaughter of the trees," City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn assured city commissioners. "We will try and save all we can, but some might have to go."

Mayor William W. Donaldson sought the assurance because he said "rumors" were spreading in the neighborhood that most of old Elms would be lost to the project.

Brought before the commission last evening was a letter from S. E. Knudsen, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, thanking the city for its participation in the Aug. 19 anniversary parade saluting the 50th birthday of the industry.

A low bid of $6,777 from Edward R. White of Berkley was accepted by commissioners for construction of six sidewalk projects in the city. City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to draft an agreement.

A request from Carmine Donato to transfer ownership of a 1957 package beer and wine license from Carl Leone at 438 W. Huron St. was approved.

Also granted was a request from Peter Perna at 118 Baldwin Ave. to drop Frank Perna as a partner on a 1957 package beer and wine license.

District 4 Commissioner Floyd P. Miles offered as a public necessity the graveling of Livingston avenue from Blaine to Stanley. Allen A. Saltz, representing a Detroit building firm owning lots in the area, asked for the work "to comply with the city building code."

HONOR MCNEILL

Hearing no objections during a public hearing, commissioners okayed changing the name of Dix street between Warner and Hess streets to Howard McNeill, in honor of the former city commissioner.

Nine public hearings were scheduled for Sept. 10 for certain public works project slated for Pontiac.

The commission deferred action until that time on two engineer estimates covering street and sewer improvements on Arlene avenue pending the recovery of Commissioner John A. Dugan, in whose district the work falls.

A virus bug has temporarily sidelined both Dugan and City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Commissioner Miles offered a resolution commemorating the civic contributions of the late Rev. Leland L. Marion, pastor of the Christian Temple, 505 Auburn Ave. It was passed.

2½-Pound Baby Born to Youngest Mother, 9

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — The University of Arkansas Medical Center reported the birth of a 2½ pound baby to a 9-year-old girl — the youngest mother in department records.

The baby boy was about two months premature, but doctors said he has a reasonable chance of survival. The delivery was described as normal.

Dr. Eva Dodge, who delivered the baby, said the mother's birth date was verified as March 1948.

Crash Kills Detroiter

PEMBROKE, Ont. (AP)—Thomas M. Quinn, 16, of Detroit, died here Wednesday of injuries he suffered when his car ran out of control, struck a tree and ran 40 feet down an embankment. Police said Quinn apparently was headed for his family's cottage on nearby Alumette Island when the crash occurred.

Study Priority for Flu Vaccine

Health Officers Urge Plan to Assure All Areas Fair Supply

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's state health officers have recommended that Asian flu vaccine be administered on a priority basis to assure maintenance of essential community services in event of epidemics.

The Assn. of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States asked the U.S. surgeon general yesterday to recommend that physicians give priority to three groups:

(1) Doctors and other medical and health workers, (2) individuals "necessary to maintain other basic community services," and (3) persons with tuberculosis and those with other special medical problems.

The association did not spell out who should be listed in priority group No. 2. It said that group might vary from one locality to another.

The health officers suggested that federal, state and local governments establish advisory committees to consider which occupations are necessary to keep community services functioning.

The association ended a two-day conference yesterday, calling on the Public Health Service for a discussion of plans for combatting possible widespread outbreaks of the flu this fall and winter.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed yesterday the military services have increased their vaccine order to more than seven million doses to provide two shots per person, compared with the single dose planned for civilians.

Kiwanis Hears Latest Plans for MSU Branch

Two Michigan State University adminstrators discussed that institution's role in Oakland County at a noon luncheon Wednesday of the North Pontiac Kiwanis Club.

Dr. Thomas H. Hamilton, vice president in charge of academic affairs, and Philip May, vice president in charge of finance, centered their remarks around the branch which MSU will establish in Oakland County.

The branch school will be at the Alfred G. Wilson Meadow Brook estate, donated to the university last spring.

Dr. Hamilton told the 125 luncheon guests that classes should begin at the branch school in the fall of 1959. He also emphasized that the school will operate on a commuter basis, with no dormitories planned in the initial stages.

The university presently is conducting a survey to determine higher educational needs of Oakland and Macomb county residents.

Following his talk, Dr. Hamilton joined May in a 15-minute question and answer session with the guests.

Missouri Joins Speed Fixing

But 70 M.P.H. Maximum Will Rank as Highest in the Nation

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Missouri today joined the parade of states instituting fixed speed limits as a means of combatting carnage on the highways.

The limits, which went into effect at midnight, were:

Divided U. S. Highways, 70 m.p.h. day and night; undivided U. S. highways, 70 day, 65 night; other roads, 65 day, 60 night; and in unposted towns, 45 at all times.

Missouri's first attempt to set legal speed limits was born in conflict and confusion on the closing day of the state legislature's session last May.

Opponents derided it as a driver's nightmare and a lawyer's paradise.

The 70 mile an hour maximum is the same as in adjacent Kansas and the highest in the nation. Most states have speed limits in the 50-60 range. In Massachusetts they go down to 40.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol, predicted the new law will be hard to enforce. He feels 70 miles an hour is too fast on some Missouri highways.

Highway accidents took 1,132 lives in Missouri last year.

Until now, Missouri has relied on a law requiring drivers to keep within a careful and prudent speed.

Waggoner expressed fear that the high limits in the new law will induce drivers to go faster than they ought on Missouri's hills and curves.

He also fears prosecutors will be reluctant to prosecute and judges reluctant to convict unless drivers exceed the stated limits.

Lights Didn't Cause Sterility, Army Says

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Army insists there is no scientific basis for claims that GIs were made sterile during a wartime experiment with highpowered searchlights designed to blind the enemy.

A two month investigation led yesterday to official rejection of a charge by several former soldiers that the top secret tests at the Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds and Ft. Knox, Ky., caused sterility or deformed offspring.

The Army said: "There is no evidence to indicate that the lights could affect the procreative powers of persons exposed to them."

Nearly 3,000 men were involved in the tests, which included the maintenance and operation of 497 tanks each equipped with searchlights.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

And now we sit and wait to see how Buddy Parker does as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

"I've one thought only, and that is to win," was Parker's statement after he accepted the five-year contract.

We wish him luck, because if ever a city needed such optimism it is Pittsburgh.

The Pirates have been trying to be a baseball threat since 1927, the last time they won the pennant.

The Steelers have yet to even come close to a championship since the inception of professional football.

Maybe Parker is the messiah for the Steel City. We hope so. But don't bet on it.

Pittsburgh has some of the most rabid fans in the world. They have had nothing to cheer about. If ever the Pirates were to win the pennant, the Cathedral of Learning would probably be moved out of Schenley Park.

If the Steelers should ever win the NFL championship, the open-hearth furnaces would probably run out of crews to stoker the coals.

What better winning record could Parker have asked for than his six years in Detroit? Maybe with only Art Rooney to deal the cards, Buddy may feel he has the upper hand.

This writer however feels there is a big disappointment ahead. We feel the trouble with the Steelers is Rooney.

Just as memo to the Pittsburgh Steelers — don't hold "Meet the Steelers" banquets.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

A note has come to this desk from Ray Eliot at the University of Illinois with a word of thanks for Pontiac area folks who have contributed to the Mac Wenskunas fund. Four parentless youngsters appreciate your thoughtfulness.

The West Side Drive-In theater in Oak Park, hoping to be the first to hold a live telecast of a championship boxing match is anxiously waiting to find out whether Sugar Ray Robinson will go through with his fight with Carmen Basilio September 23rd . . . With all the talk about drag strip racing going on, why hasn't someone investigated the possibility of using or expanding on the facilites at the Pontiac Speedway? . . .

Playing with teammates Carl Karilivacz and Jack Christiansen, Yale Lary fired a double eagle at Oakland Hills yesterday by sending his second shot 220 yards into the cup. He used a number three wood and it happened on the 451-yard 8th hole. He carded an 84 for the round.

4 HANDS, NO BALL — Here's one that gets away when New York Giant pitcher Curt Barclay (left) and second baseman Danny O'Connell do a dance while the ball drops between them. The pitcher tried to make a one hand catch, but O'Connell ultimately had to retrieve the ball and hold a Milwaukee runner on third. New York still won, 12-6.

Preserves 5-4 Win for Yanks

Turley Slams Door on Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bullet Bob Turley, once a strong but wild strikeout artist who fired away and hoped for the best, finally has become a pitcher, a poised and powerful ace who has slammed the door on the Chicago White Sox in their big bid to overhaul New York's Yankees.

The big righthander has proved himself virtually over-night in the past 2½ months of his sixth major league season—just when he Yankees, hurtin' with pitching injuries, needed him most.

In that time, he's won nine of 11 and has become the major league leader with a 2.41 earned run average.

And in the past two nights, with the champs' bullpen spent, he's come on in relief and nailed victories with dramatic strikeouts that have changed a three-game showdown into a mow-down.

It was Turley who fanned Minnie Minoso with the bases loaded in the eighth for a 12-6 triumph in Tuesday's opener. Last night, working with the tying run on third and the winning run on second, Turley sent a called third strike past Sammy Esposito in the ninth for a 5-4 victory that put the Yanks 5½ games ahead of the second-place Sox.

In the other AL games, Boston was held to only two hits by Jim Bunning and Billy Hoeft, but one was Ted Williams' 33rd home run that defeated Detroit 1-0. Baltimore walloped Cleveland 19-6, regaining fifth from the Tribe. Washington defeated Kansas City 3-2.

Turley, who won 17 for the Yankees in 1955 after leaving Baltimore with Don Larsen in a winter trade, had a whooping 5.05 ERA and an 8-4 record last season—two disappointments that led to a no-windup style.

The change paid off. The 27-year-old fast-baller, no longer just a thrower, who twice led the league in bases on balls, has permitted an average of but 4.2 walks and 5.8 hits a game.

He relieved in the sixth last night after the Sox had tagged Larsen for a run that cut New Yorks lead to 4-2. The Yankees had smashed a 1-0 Sox edge in the fourth with the first of a pair of two-run frames against 17-game winner Billy Pierce, who lost his 10th.

Earl Torgeson rapped a two-run homer off Turley in the seventh after Hank Bauer's homer had given him the big edge in the top of the frame. Larry Doby's one-out single, a walk and an infield out set up the payoff whammy on Sammy that saved Larsen's eighth victory.

Williams' 33rd Enough to Hand Bunning Defeat

Pitching Performance Wasted; 3rd Place Hope Slowly Dwindles

DETROIT (AP) — It took Ted Williams just one mighty swing of the bat to prove once again what everyone else has known for a long time; that he still is baseball's greatest hitter.

The Boston Red Sox thumper didn't lift the bat off his shoulder in his first two times at bat yesterday against the Detroit Tigers' Jim Bunning. He took his first cut of the day at a 3-2 pitch leading off the seventh inning and it was enough for a 1-0 triumph.

Williams' home run into the upper right centerfield seats was his 33rd of the season and dealt Bunning a heart-breaking defeat. The skinny righthander who had beaten the Red Sox four straight times yielded only two hits. His teammates collected 10 but couldn't score off Frank Sullivan, who picked up his first victory over the Tigers after four reversals.

"This one hurt more than any other defeat of the year," said a solemn Jack Tighe. The Tiger manager said it was "the toughest one to take of all."

Except for the third and fourth innings, the Tigers managed to get at least one runner to base in each inning. Three times the Red Sox turned hard-hit balls into double plays. Another time—in the ninth inning—the Tigers put together three safeties and still were unable to score.

With one out, Ray Boone and Al Kaline singled. But Bill Tuttle, running for Boone, was out trying for third base on a perfect throw from centerfielder Jim Piersall to third baseman Frank Malzone. Charlie Maxwell singled to center and Kaline took third but Johnny Groth's fly to right field ended it.

Bunning struck out seven Boston batters — getting Williams on a called third strike in the fourth inning — but his brilliant effort to get victory no. 16 was wasted. With just one month and 28 games remaining on the schedule, he must get better support if he is to win 20 games.

The Tigers send Duke Maas out to salvage the final game of the series, against Tom Brewer. Yesterday's defeat pushed the fourth-place Tigers three and one-half games behind the Red Sox.

Pavelich Rejects Pact

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings said today that veteran defenseman Marty Pavelich has rejected acontract with a minor league option and plans to retire from hockey.

General manager Jack Adams said Pavelich declined to sign a contract which would have enabled the wings to farm him out, probably to the Edmonton Flyers, if he failed to make the Wings squad this season.

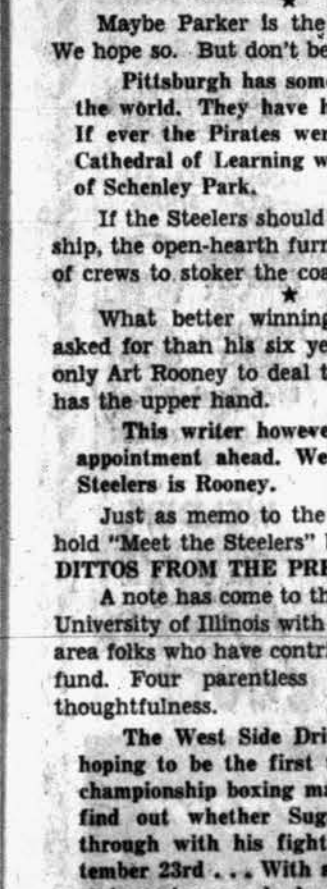

Adams saidtwo other National Hockey League teams recently rejected trade offers which included the 29-year-old Pavelich, defensive stalwart of eight NHL championship teams during his 10 years with the Wings.

Weathered the Storm

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—First-seeded Mary Ann Mitchell, of San Leandro, Calif., weathered a strong challenge by Nancy O'Connell, of Island Park, Ill. yesterday before reaching the fourth round of the 40th annual U.S. Girls grass court tennis championship by 6-3, 8-6.

White Sox Fan Gives Stengel Beer Shower

Casey Laughs It Off After Being Struck in Face With Suds

CHICAGO (AP)—An overly playful, but irate, White Sox fan tossed a container of beer in the face of Casey Stengel, New York Yankee manager, as he walked into the dugout in last night's game.

Stengel was returning to the dugout in the third inning after protesting a play in which Billy Pierce was called safe at second on Luis Aparicio's infield grounder.

Asked about the incident, Stengel said: "Oh, he was the best fellow. I believe he was one of those television fellows selling beer because he certainly gave it to me. Right in the face."

The beer-thrower was evicted from Comiskey Park.

State 9 Still in Race

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Grand Rapids, Mich., has assured itself of at least a tie for seventh place in the National Non-Pro baseball tournament.

The Grand Rapids team ousted Colonial Heights, Va., from the tourney last night, 9-1, to gain its third victory against one defeat in the double-elimination contest and cinch the hold on seventh spot.

Tackle Powerful Kalamazoo Team

Jewelers in State Test at Battle Creek

Shaw's Jewelers invade Battle Creek Friday for the Michigan Amateur Baseball Association tournament and their 1st round opponent is really a dilly.

If the Jewelers could have exercised a voice in the matter, it's reasonably certain they would have preferred to play any one of the other 15 teams in the state tourney besides the one they drew.

They probably would have liked to warm up to the task instead.

But the city Class A champions will get their feet wet in a hurry because their opening foe is the powerful Sutherland Paper Co. team from Kalamazoo.

Shaw's and Sutherland clash tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at Battle Creek's Bailey Stadium.

Sutherland is the perennial Kalamazoo and state champ. The Kazoo nine has won the city crown 18 times in the last 19 years—for some reason it missed in 1947—and the state title seven out of the last eight years. National championships were added in 1949 and 1951.

With this awesome record confronting them, the Jewelers will have to adopt the philosophy of "the harder they come, the harder they fall."

A total of 16 teams will enter the double elimination tourney Friday through Labor Day, with the winner qualifying for the "Amateur World Series" starting Sept. 6.

Shaw's will be forced to rely heavily on its stellar pitching staff of Jerry Taylor, Steve Kebler, Herman Bishop and Les Stone, along with the hitting of Dave (Boots) Krings and Terry Thomas.

Last year's city champion, GMC, took a flawless 26-0 record to Battle Creek for the 1956 state tourney and saw its mound corps suffer a complete collapse. The Jewelers hope that history won't repeat itself.

First Round Games

4 p.m.—Pontiac vs. Kalamazoo, Dearborn vs. Jackson, Detroit vs. Wayne, Lansing vs. Monroe, Saginaw vs. Upper Peninsula, Wyandotte vs. Grand Rapids, and Muskegon vs. Bay City.
8 p.m.—River Rouge vs. Battle Creek.

Ex-Wayne Cage Ace Signed by Pistons

Former Wayne State University basketball star Johnny Kline Wednesday was added to the list of rookie hopefuls seeking to qualify for a berth with the Detroit Pistons.

This will be Kline's first attempt at major league basketball. However, he has spent the past four years as a member of the touring Harlem Globe Trotters team.

Kline was a member of Wayne's great teams of the early '50s, averaging 15.6 points per game in 48 games over three seasons. He sparked the Tartars to the championship in the first Motor City tournament in 1952 and was named the tourney's Most Valuable Player.

Shoemaker and Hartack Battle at Same Track

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie Shoemaker and Willie Hartack are booked at Washington Park again today, and racing fans may see the genesis of a dandy duel between the two through the last quarter of the 1957 racing season.

Shoemaker had four winners yesterday to give him a total of 234 for the year. Hartack had one for a 267 total. Both are far from achieving The Shoe's record of 485 which he set in 1953 but a few more big days and Shoemaker could be breathing right down Hartack's racing neck.

Hartack, no slacker in his own right, has also been known to turn in four winners in one day, which he did early in the meeting at Washington Park. But once Shoemaker gets hot, he usually stays that way. That was the answer in his record breaking year.

Mrs. Ladewig Named Top Keg Star 6th Time

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids today was informed she has been selected "woman bowler of the year" by the Bowling Writers Assn. of America.

It was the sixth time she has gained the honor. She was returned to the top post in her field after a two-year absence. Earlier, Mrs. Ladewig held the Bowling Writers honor five consecutive years.

Currently in Lincoln, Neb., on exhibition tour, Mrs. Ladewig received word of the 1957 choice by telegram from Frank B. Lacy of Albany, Calif., president of the National Bowling Proprietors Assn. of America.

Fight Date Postponed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Promoter Tommy Moyer announced last night the Eddie Machen-Edgardo Romero heavyweight fight originally scheduled for Portland Sept. 12 has been set back until Sept. 26.

Machen, from Redding, Calif., currently is the No. 1 challenger for Floyd Patterson's title.

Cup Race Has Money Woes

DETROIT (AP) — Boats and bills piled up along the Detroit River today as four Seattle powerboats joined nine Detroit-area racers for Saturday's running of the Silver Cup.

"Our financial situation is disturbing," said E. O. Bodkin, race commodore. "We have received only 10 per cent of the money we need."

Cost of sponsoring the races is estimated at $10,000 and, unlike the past two years, the Detroit International Riverama isn't picking up the tab. It folded after last year's festivities to promote boat racing in Detroit.

C. Hascall Bliss, co-chairman of the finance committee, said, "this year we had to request contributions of former contributors and others. We have pleaded that they help generously that we may stage the kind of regatta of which Detroit may be proud."

Seattle this year raised more than $75,000 for its Gold Cup Regatta—$25,000 on an anchorage log boom and the rest by selling seafair buttons and public subscriptions.

The four Seattle boats arrived in Detroit yesterday and set up camp along the river. Trailing behind them were trucks with spare engines, parts and mechanics. Readying for the race are Miss Thriftway, the Gold Cup winner; Shanty, Harmsworth winner; Maverick and Thriftway Too.

The Detroit contingent includes defending champion Miss U.S. II, Miss U.S. I, Gale VI, Short Circuit, What A Pickle, Such Crust III and Miss Wayne.

GRAYLING (INS) — About 30 canoes are expected to take part in the 240-mile nonstop race down the AuSable River from Grayling to Oscoda on Lake Huron starting Saturday.

Record time for the canoe classic is 16 hours and 58 minutes. It was set last year by Tom Gildersleeve and Ralph Sawyer, both of Oscoda. More than $2,000 in prize money will be awarded to the first ten canoes to finish. Top prize is $1,000.

Several Players Thrived After Being Traded

'New' Tiger Faces Have Been Old Names

(This is the second in a series of three articles about the Detroit Tigers—where have they been going in the last six or seven years — where are they heading now — what changes must they make?

By DAVE DILES
AP Sports Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Generally speaking, the only "new faces" on the Detroit Tiger baseball club over the past few seasons have really been old names.

Despite six straight second division teams, there have been few changes. The front office often has purchased or traded for "interim" players — those players who, while not everyday stalwarts — are supposed to give a club depth and bench strength.

The Tigers have traded a number of seasoned performers who have thrived at other locations. Take, for example, the cases of Billy Pierce, Dick Donovan, George Zuverink, Bubba Phillips, George Kell, Ned Garver, Virgil Trucks and Earl Torgeson.

On the other hand, the Tigers recently have had a skimpy batting average on the few major deals they did consummate.

The Detroit club has acquired, and disposed of, a tremendous amount of this so-called "second-line talent" over the past few campaigns.

Why the lack of success?

General manager John J. McHale, asked that question, said the Detroit Tigers were "caught in the middle."

In other words, short on major league talent at the time with little hope that help was coming in the near future. He said he feels there has been, over the recent lean years, "a genuine effort to improve" and that the Tigers have fielded "interesting" baseball teams.

Young players — Kaline, Kuenn, Bolling, Hoeft, House, Bertoia — were "fed" simply because there was no one else to play.

"When they should have been in the minor leagues getting valuable experience for later years," said McHale, "they were in the major leagues — still learning a lot about fundamentals."

In this stage of building, especially at the farm level, the Tigers were concentrating heavily on bonus players. Since baseball imposed restrictions on bonus players, the Tigers have signed Kaline, Miller, Small, Brady, Bertoia, Boros and Thomas. Two managers complained that they were handicapped by bonus players who had to be kept on the Tiger roster.

"We've been against the bonus rule ever since its inception," said McHale. "But it's a long-range program and we were building. So we tried to screen our bonus players carefully."

No one disputes that the Tigers have a great nucleus. While the club has carefully avoided a general housecleaning, why, then, has it for years held onto several players who seldom have given any real indications of becoming solid major league performers?

"You have to get something for them," said McHale. "We've worked for eight or 10 years to get these boys here. We're not going to get panicky. Clubs aren't built on trades. They're built on farm systems and now the Tiger system is much better than most."

2 Fullbacks Out as Lions Wait for Skins

Rookie Don Daly Expected to See Action Saturday

Tom Tracy Recovering From Slight Surgery; Layne at Quarterback

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The depth the Detroit Lions boasted at fullback has suddenly been lost, at least for Saturday night's encounter against the Washington Redskins in Birmingham, Alabama.

Starting fullback John Henry Johnson will not make the trip to Birmingham because of that city's ordinance against integrated athletic contests, and Tom Tracy is a doubtful starter as result of slight surgery earlier this week.

Daly, a 195-pounder from Eastern Kentucky, was the Lions' 17th draft choice in 1955. In 1956 he was named to the All-Marine team while at Camp Lejeune.

Despite the alternate plan of Layne and Tobin Rote at quarterback, coach George Wilson will want to get a better look at rookie Jack Kemp from Occidental who got into the Eagles game to complete one pass of two attempts.

Wilson also plans to give all the other rookies on the squad a chance. The coach, who is after his third victory since taking the reins from Buddy Parker, is finding it difficult to trim the roster.

Two players have to be cut by next Tuesday to bring the squad down to 43.

Washington, with 0-2 mark in pre-season play, cut the Lions down twice last year. One of the wins came in the regular season at Washington.

The 44-man squad leaves by plane Friday morning. An afternoon workout is planned at Legion Field which has a seating capacity of 45,000.

Another Year for Irwin

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Defenseman Ivan Irwin of the Providence Reds has decided to play another season of hockey.

The former New York Ranger had indicated at the end of the last American League campaign he would quit the game, but Irwin said yesterday he would report to the Reds' camp Sept. 15.

GETS 8 YARDS — Sonny Jurgensen (9) of the Philadelphia Eagles picks up eight yards in the second quarter against the Packers before being stopped by Ernest Danjean (64) who got by Eagles' end Bill Stribling (80) to make the tackle. The Packers won the game, 16-13.

Sugar Ray Hikes TV Demands

Another Snag Ties Up Title Match

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson's defense of his middleweight boxing crown against Carmen Basilio at the Yankee Stadium Sept. 23 had hit another snag today and apparently was back in the laps of the New York State Athletic Commission.

The snag, the International Boxing Club said after a day long conference yesterday, was Robinson's alleged demand for an increase in theater television guarantee from $250,000 to $300,000.

The demand, said the IBC in a statement, was made by George Gainford, long associated with Robinson, during a conference between an IBC group headed by Managing Director Harry Markson and Martin Machat, an attorney representing Robinson. President Jim Norris of the IBC still was in the hospital recovering from an attack of food poisoning.

"The discussion had appeared to be progressing satisfactorily toward a conclusion," the IBC statement said. "However, the IBC was advised by George Gainford, who claimed to speak for Robinson, that Robinson has now raised his demands by the way of a theater television guarantee for himself from the $250,000 he requested before the New York State Athletic Commission to $300,000."

An IBC spokesman said efforts to reach Robinson had been futile but the statement said:

"If this (increase of TV guarantee) is confirmed by Robinson, the IBC will bring an action against Robinson for breach of contract and against Teleprompter and its president, Irving Kahn, for inducing breach of contract.

Robinson originally said he would not go ahead with the fight because the IBC had signed a contract for theater television rights with Theater Network Television without his approval. He claimed to have a better offer from Teleprompter.

On Monday, at a stormy hearing, the boxing commission ordered Robinson to fulfill his contract as signed before that body. Robinson at that time said he would meet Basilio if there was no radio or television. Norris collapsed shortly before a conference was scheduled with Robinson and since then the talks have been carried on by his representatives.

Packers Nudge Eagles, 16-13

Green Bay Captures 3rd NFL Exhibition Victory on Cone's Field Goal

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Fred Cone's third field goal propelled the Green Bay Packers to a 16-13 decision over the Philadelphia Eagles last night and their third straight National Football League exhibition game triumph.

A crowd of 17,101 at the eighth annual Midwest Shrine game at Murky County Stadium watched Cone's 37-yard boot break a 13-13 tie in the third quarter and lead to the Eagles' third consecutive loss.

Earlier, in a game highlighted by heads-up defensive play on both sides, Cone kicked field goals of 41 and 38 yards for the Packers' first two scores.

Sam Palumbo, 230-pound linebacker acquired by the Packers from the Cleveland Browns, then lumbered 42 yards for a touchdown on a lateral from Bill Forester, who had recovered a fumble by Dave Rogers.

Wasting no time in the third quarter, the Eagles tied the score at 13-13 within six minutes on two pass interceptions.

PACKERS
Eagles	0	0	13	0—13
Packers	3	10	3	0—16

Eagles scoring — touchdowns: Lusk (46, interception-run), Worden (2, run). Conversion: Walston.
Packers scoring — touchdown: Palumbo (42, run). Field goals — Cone 3 (41, 38, and 37). Conversion: Cone.

Crickets Best Bait

Fishing Still Fairly Good

By H. GUY MOATS

Fall fishing promises to be pretty good for Michigan anglers, most anywhere in the commonwealth, including Oakland county and adjacent areas. The statement also goes for this weekend and the Monday holiday.

Panfish, of course, are the biggest attraction, with bluegills, crappies, calicos all responding well to offerings of night-crawlers, crickets or, in many instances to surface-fished flies and small "bugs." Crickets, fished deep (30 feet) have proved most successful. Bass still are active, taking the usual lures.

Lake Huron fishing is about the same as last weekend. Bass and perch are being taken in Saginaw Bay, the latter in 15-20 feet of water. Anchor Bay in Lake St. Clair is good for perch and smallmouth bass (early in the mornings).

After 20 Years of Pitching

Perry Vaughn Will Retire

Perry Vaughn, star pitcher for First Baptist of the Pontiac Church Softball League, will retire this season after 20 years of hurling in the city.

Vaughn is quitting active pitching to coach the younger hurlers in the Church loop.

While twirling in the City League, Waterford League and Church circuit, Perry amassed a total of 309 victories, including eight no-hit, no-run games.

Most of Vaughn's career was spent in the Church league. During the 1946-47 seasons he won 32 straight games and from July, 1953, through July of this year, he chalked up 57 consecutive triumphs.

Vaughn is expected to start on the mound for First Baptist tonight at North Side Park in the annual battle with league All-Stars. Game time is 8 p.m.

Perry, who lives at 3350 Homestead Drive, Pontiac, has been the winning pitcher for Baptist in the two previous games with the "stars."

Midgets to Race at Fair

DETROIT (AP)—The 100-mile national championship midget auto classic will be run Saturday at the 108th annual Michigan State Fair. More than 400 drivers are expected to compete, including Johnny Parsons who won the 100-mile race at Milwaukee last week.

Yanks Want Maglie, So Do Sox

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees, striving to strengthen their injury-ridded pitching staff for the stretch drive, may be balked for a second time in an effort to obtain Brooklyn's Sal (The Barber) Maglie, one time scourage of the National League.

In 1955, it was the Cleveland Indians who refused to pass on the 40-year-old righthander when he was placed on the waiver list by the New York Giants after pacing the National League club to the 1951 and '54 championships.

This time it is the Chicago White Sox, who trail the Yankees by 4½ games after losing last night 5-4, standing in the road of the American League champions. And it is dollars, more than the $10,000 waiver price, that will decide the issue.

Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the White Sox, said they claimed Maglie the first time he was placed on the waiver list but that the Dodgers withdrew him.

"This time, we let him go through and will bargain for him," Comiskey said.

The Yankees also waived on the Barber the second time around, thus setting up the battle of dollars for a pitcher who hurled a no-hit game against the Philadelphia Phillies last year and compiled a 13-4 record after being obtained from the Indians after the season was well under way.

Under the waiver clause, all clubs in the National League first must waive on Maglie, who is said to be receiving $30,000 for pitching this year. Then all American League clubs, starting with the last-place Senators, also must waive. A club is permitted to withdraw a player's name only once.

"We have made a substantial offer for Maglie and also Virgil Trucks of Kansas City," said Comiskey.

Manager Casey Stengal of the Yankees said he had no knowledge of the efforts to obtain Maglie. And there was no comment from other club officials.

Beyond admitting that the Dodgers had asked waivers on Maglie, the Dodgers would admit nothing.

"I'm not peddling him," said vice president Buzzy Bavasi. "So far as I know there is truth to the story that he'll end up with the Yankees. If the Yankees want him they know where to find me. We'll listen to any kind of an offer."

Bavasi did admit, however, that another American League club, presumably the White Sox, was interested.

Maglie's brief experience in the American League as a member of the Indians wasn't anything to write home about. He had an 0-2 record.

But with the Dodgers last year he was the Maglie of old. In the series he beat the Yanks in the first game and then ran into Don Larsen's perfect game in his next outing. He was knocked out of the box by the Yankees in the '51 series.

Should the Yankees obtain Maglie, it wouldn't be the first time they have dipped into the National League for help late in the season. Starting in 1949 such former National Leaguers as Johnny Mize, Johnny Hopp, Johnny Sain, Ewell Blackwell and Jim Konstanty helped the Yankees in their pennant drives.

Breeding Now Big Business

Shetland Pony Brings $56,000 in Sale

By H. GUY MOATS

Recent spectacular sale of a Shetland pony stallion for $56,000 pin-pointed the fact that breeding of these beautiful little animals has taken a strong upswing in recent years.

It's now a big business, with increasing heavy demands for these fine ponies. That's the word from one of the Pontiac area's present breeders, Herb Allen, Briar Crest Knoll, Farmington. Herb, with Fred Turek, has "been fooling around" for some 20 years with Shetland breeding.

"Shetland breeding is coming back," says Allen, who mentioned the sale of the costliest pony in history of the breed—the stallion C-Jo's Topper—at a Perry, Okla. auction. He was bought by a syndicate of five men.

Allen has 11 ponies, including his herd boss, the 4-year-old Questionmark. There are a number of other pony farms in the area, including the Albert Pony farm at Utica; Clarence Hoard at South Lyon; Mrs. William Kerk at Rochester; Floyd E. Willett of Milford. Their combined herds would total more than 300 ponies.

Some 15-18 years ago the Pelletiers on Commerce road operated one of the really big pony ranches. It sold off 337 Shetlands to Dallas Winslow of Flint when the herd was broken up after 1932.

All area breeders are members of the Michigan Pony club. Some raise the ponies for hobbies, most for sale to a big market, Allen explains. Allen says Shetlands are now 2nd in registrations of all horses for this year, listed 10,000 in 1957 so far.

Dupas Case Packs Punch

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The fight of boxer Ralph Dupas for a birth certificate stating he is white packed more punch today with one opposing witness discredited and another's testimony shaken.

The 21-year-old Dupas is asking civil district court to force the city of New Orleans to issue him the birth certificate. The document is vital since the state athletic commission ruled it would not approve any matches for Dupas, fourth-ranking contender for the title, until he obtains it.

A Louisiana law bans athletic competition between white persons and Negroes.

Martinez Scores Southpaw Upset

BOSTON (AP) — Isidro Martinez today looked hopefully up the featherweight ladder after confounding veteran Harold Gomes on a southpaw switch.

Martinez, who arrived only recently from Panama, won a unanimous 10-round decision over the Providence, R. I. boy last night in a nationally televised bout by changing from orthodox to left-handed style near the end of the third round.

Martinez employed a right jab, straight left and occasional two-fisted flurries to defeat the man who had had 43 professional bouts to his 22. Both are 23 years old.

Mantle Falls 7 Behind Williams

NEW YORK (AP)—Mickey Mantle fell seven points behind pacesetting Ted Williams in the American League batting race last night.

Mickey went hitless in four times at bat against the White Sox' Billy Pierce and his average dropped to .373. Williams had one hit—a homer—in three trips in an afternoon game against Detroit. Williams' blow enabled him to tie Mantle and Washington's Roy Sievers for the home run lead. Each has 3.

Dodgers, Reds Move Up as Braves Lose

Milwaukee lost a half game off its comfortable lead in a 12-6 clobbering by the Giants while the other three places in the National League's 1st division were being juggled around yesterday.

Brooklyn took over the runner-up slot by downing the Cubs 4-3 in 14 innings while Pittsburgh's Ron Kline was blanking St. Louis 2-0 to drop the Cards to 3rd. Cincinnati gained full charge of fourth by beating Philadelphia 6-5.

Milwaukee moves on to Cincinnati Friday possessing a seven-game bulge despite yesterday's blasting. There are no NL games today.

The Braves were never in the battle after the 3rd inning when New York scored eight times for a 9-2 lead. A three-run double by rookie Valmy Thomas was the big blow of the frame.

Another rookie, Curt Barclay, won his 8th. Brave Ed Mathews had the only homer among the 28 hits off seven pitchers. Loser Gene Conley is now 8-7.

A pinch-hit single by Eddie Valo did the job for Brooklyn with reliever Ed Roebuck scattering three singles over the last nine rounds. His 6th triumph moved the Dodgers into 2nd place for the 1st time since July 24. It was the 1st time Roebuck had pitched nine innings in a Major League game. Dale Long homered for the Cubs.

Wally Post belted a two-run home run that capped a six-run 2nd inning which stood up for the Redlegs. Brooks Lawrence was the winner with relief help breaking a six-game losing streak. Curt Simmons, the 1st of five pitchers and the victim of that big Cincinnati 2nd, was the loser, Phil catcher Stan Lopata hit for the circuit.

Savitt Rates High in National FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The National tennis championships get under way at the West Side Tennis Club tomorrow and if stubborn Dick Savitt wins it, the U.S. brass would be in a dilemma, indeed.

This is the shakedown tournament for spots on the Davis Cup squad. Savitt, a big, powerful blaster—the type needed to beat the Australians — has steadfastly refused to play on the Cup squad since he got into a rhubarb with Frank Shields when the latter was non-playing captain a half-dozen years ago.

Savitt has been seeded No. 2 behind Aussie Ashley Cooper. He won the important Eastern title earlier in the season and has been playing more than at any time since he went into the oil business.

If he does win it, the bigwigs are virtually committed to ask him to play on the Davis Cup team. If his past performances can be taken as an indication, his answer will be a big "no."

It is known that Cup captain Billy Talbert, against whom Savitt has nothing, incidentally, is tired of chasing the hard-hitting swinger from East Orange, N.J. Talbert has asked him numerous times if he'd care to make a serious bid for the Cup team.

Each time Savitt has pleaded that the press of business precluded his playing any serious tennis.

Many tennis officials, who obviously don't want to go on record, are quick to point out that if Savitt and Budge Patty had been playing on U.S. Davis Cup teams the past three years, there probably would have been no talk of the Australians being just too good.

They think that Savitt and Patty, who does most of his playing in Europe could have taken good care of Lew Hoad, Ken Rosewall and Co.

Savitt figures to have no trouble against Calvin McCracken of Tenafly, N. J., in his first-round match. Cooper goes against John Brownlow of Cleveland, while Patty, seeded seventh, has as his first-round opponent Lawrence Shaffer of New York.

Sven Davidson of Sweden is seeded third behind Savitt and he drew Charles Masterson of the home club as his No. 1 foe. Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, Neale Fraser of Australia and Ham Richardson of Westfield, N. J., are rated Nos. 4, 5 and 6.

Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., still trying for a spot on the Davis Cup squad, is ranked eighth. He drew Alejandro Olmedo of Peru, a tough customer.

Pontiac Leading Race Qualifiers

1957 Car Betters 117 Miles an Hour at '500' Stock Car Trials

DALINGTON S. C. (AP) — Veteran Cotton Owens of Spartanburg gunned his 1957 Pontiac four times around the Darlington International Raceway at an average of 117.416 miles per hour to win the pole position for Monday's $53,500 southern 500-mile stock car race.

Owens, winner of the February "Speed Week" Grand National at Daytona Beach, Fla., thus led five qualifiers Wednesday as time trials began for some 60 cars expected to get into the big grind before race time.

Bobby Myers of Winston - Salem, N. C., won the No. 2 spot in the front line of five cars by turning in four laps at an average of 117.007 m.p.h. in a 1957 Olds.

Curtis Turner, the wealthy Roanoke, Va., lumberman who won the 1956 race, was third in a 1957 Ford. His time was 116.903 m.p.h. fourth and fifth spots went to Jim Lewallen of High Point, N. C., 115.042 in a Pontiac, and Frank Schneider of Lambertville, N. J., 114.929 in a Chevrolet.

Trout Fans Six for Vancouver in Mound Debut

Ex-Tiger Impressive Working in Relief Against LA

VANCOUVER (AP) — Paul (Dizzy) Trout, former Detroit Tiger pitcher, struck out six batters in 6 2/3 innings Tuesday night in his return to the mound after a retirement of five years.

Trout, who signed a contract a few days ago with the Vancouver Mounties in the Pacific Coast League, was called in as a reliever in the third inning of the Mounties' game with Los Angeles after the Angels had knocked Charlie Beamon out of the box. Although the Angels eventually got to Trout for three runs in the ninth and an 8-5 win, the former Tiger hurler showed he is far from a hasbeen.

"He can still fire with the best of them in baseball," said Vancouver manager Charlie Metro who was a teammate of Trout's in 1943-44.

WEDNESDAY'S FIGHTS
BOSTON—Isidro Martinez, 129½, Panama, outpointed Harold Gomes, 127½, Providence, R. I., 10.

Sally Sharp Ousted in WDGA Tourney

Mrs. Harold (Rylma) Marquardt of Mt. Clemens was in the semifinals of the 1957 Women's District golf championship today after handing Sally Sharp a 5-3 licking at Detroit Golf Club Wednesday.

Miss Sharp, the 21-year-old Michigan State co-ed, couldn't keep up with the steady shooting of Mrs. Marquardt, who was even par after 15 holes in their quarter-final match over the 6,184-yard north course.

In other quarter-final matches yesterday, Mrs. S. E. Gawne eliminated Mrs. John LaBoskey, 1-up in 19 holes; Mrs. Robert Gamble rallied to defeat Helen Grinnell, 2-up, and Mrs. F. L. Thompson ousted Mrs. Clarence B. Tuttle, 5-4.

Mrs. Marquardt meets Mrs. Gawne and Mrs. Gamble faces Mrs. Thompson in today's semi-finals.

Injured Zauchin Out for Rest of Season

The Red Sox have lost one of their first basemen. Norm Zauchin of suburban Royal Oak, for the remainder of the season. Zauchin broke his left wrist sliding into second base in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's game.

He played three more innings until he was struck on the left wrist by one of Harry Byrd's pitches. X-rays disclosed the fracture.

Zauchin, who compiled a .264 batting average in 52 games while sharing first base duties with Dick Gernert and Mickey Vernon, will return to Boston for his family and then come back to Royal Oak.

Author Ernest Gann Lives His Novels in Real Life

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ernest Gann believes he is the highest-earning author in the United States. It's possible he's the happiest, too.

Gann, a broad-faced, handsome man, lives at Pebble Beach, Calif. —some of the time. The rest of the time he's hustling to remote and fascinating parts of the world to gather material for his books.

"My wife and I have been married 24 years, and it has been a very happy marriage he observed. "This may be partly due to the fact that I have been home about four years of the 24."

This sounds like an exaggeration, but there could be some truth in it. During his younger years he was a barnstorming pilot. He appeared in flying circuses and even flew tourists over movie stars' homes at a buck a throw.

Later he became a commercial airline pilot. During this period, his experiences finally started paying off in literary gold. He had written hundreds of stories before finally clicking — in Popular Mechanics magazine. After three children's books about flying, he scored with his first novel, "Island in the Sky."

He wrote "Island in the Sky" from his experiences as a ferry pilot in the North Atlantic during the war. "Fiddler's Green" was the result of his two years in commercial fishing. "The High and Mighty" was a fictionized account of an actual flight during his piloting on the Hawaii - to - California run.

He wanted to write a novel about present-day Hong Kong, so he went there and bought a junk to sail around the Chinese waters. The result was "Soldier of Fortune." Clark Gable starred in the film version.

Gann's latest adventure concerned a square-rigger. The only one he could locate was in Holland, so he gathered a crew, went there and sailed it home to California. Last year, he sailed it to the South Seas and it is now in Hawaii for the filming of "Twilight of the Gods," the novel that resulted from his sailing experience.

His next two books are already planned. He'll go to Denmark for one and is buying a ship to tour the Iceland and Greenland waters for the other. As usual, his wife will stay home. They have three children.

"I don't think a wife should be around her husband's office," he reasoned, admitting that Mrs. Gann is a very understanding woman.

FEPC Orders Probe on Discrimination

DETROIT (AP) —. The Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission today ordered, for the first time since it was established, a public hearing into charges of racial discrimination.

The commission ordered the hearing on complaints by three Detroit Negroes that they had been denied employment by the Checker Cab, Co. of Detroit.

The hearing will be held Sept. 11 in Detroit. The Rev. John F. Finnegan, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, will be the hearing commissioner.

Under the law he can either dismiss the complaint or order the cab company to hire immediately or consider for future employment the three cases.

The commission said the public hearing was ordered after efforts to achieve informal adjustment had failed.

Edward Barnard, attorney for Checker Cab, said the allegations were unfounded. "We have been meeting with FEP Commission and always have cooperated," he said.

The commission was established in October, 1955. Since then, it reported today, it has received 353 complaints, of which 289 have been resolved through informal adjustment. The others still are being investigated.

Easy Street Becomes Creek Road Overnight

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Some residents of nearby North Coventry township awoke this morning to find they no longer live on Easy Street.

Delay Pay Decision

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Commission voted informally Tuesday night to delay until Nov. 1 further discussion of city employes' pay increase demands. Employes said they will ask the State Labor Mediation Board for fact-finding proceedings. City employes received a 2½ per cent pay boost last July 7. Firemen and police seek further raises.

Mystery Writer Craig Rice Dies

Owner of Apartment Tells Police She Fell Hours Before Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mystery writer Craig Rice, 49, whose tough, hard-boiled characters fought and shot their way through 25 books, was found dead in her apartment last night.

She had been in ill health for some time and confined to her bed for a week. Cause of death was not disclosed.

Miss Rice's body was discovered by another mystery writer, R. DeWitt Miller, owner of the apartment building.

He told police she had fallen earlier and complained of a headache. Miller said when he returned from a pharmacy with medicine she had requested he told her she should call a doctor.

Four hours later he found her dead.

Miss Rice, a native of Chicago, took her pen name from names of relatives. She was married five times.

She began writing poetry at 9. At 18 she was writing for Chicago newspapers, and at 19 for radio.

Her best-selling mysteries included "Having Wonderful Crime," "The Sunday Pigeon Murders," "Trial by Fury," "The Lucky Stiff" and under the pen name Daphne Sanders, "To Catch a Thief."

Her husbands were Jack Fallow, Albert Ford Ferguson, Lawrence Lipton, Hank De Mott and John Bishop. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Nancy Atwill, Palos Verdes, Calif., and Iris Adams, Hollywood; and a son, David Ferguson, Los Angeles.

In 1949, Miss Rice was committed to Camarillo State Hospital for chronic alcoholism.

Room Climate Possible Reason for Low Grades

Low grades aren't necessarily the mark of a dull scholar. It may all be a matter of room climate.

Body heat provided by the pupils generates plenty of warmth. Therefore, if the room is warm at the start, it shortly will become over-heated once classes begin.

The effect on the pupils will be lethargy and fatigue.

The best temperature for a schoolroom is 68 degrees, say experts, and there should be fresh, sufficiently moist, air in the room.

Open a window wide for a moment or two several times a day, to let the clean air in. To keep it healthfully moist, place pans of water on a radiator top and keep bowls of green leaves or flowers in the room.

Sweater Standby for Boys, Girls in Every Grade

"Sweater girl" means every girl in school today from kindergarten through college. And sweaters are as much a part of the schoolboy's wardrobe as the girl's.

Fortunately, sweaters are now one of the easiest wardrobe items to care for. Dacron, orlon and nylon sweaters wash in the machine and require no blocking.

As lightweight as they are warm, sweaters of these fabrics are the best choice for practical wear for school and dress-up.

To keep white sweaters white and colors bright wash the white ones separately. Use a heavy-duty detergent and chlorine-type bleach beads in every laundering. Rinse thoroughly. To avoid "pulling," turn the sweaters inside out before laundering.

To dry sweaters without clothespin marks, pull a towel through the sleeves and pin the clothespins on the towel ends that extend beyond the sleeves.

State Highway Unit Hires Negro Pilot

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department has announced it is hiring a Negro pilot who has been job-seeking since his discharge from the Air Force with the rank of captain last May 8.

The pilot, Marion DeWitt Green, 28, of Lansing, father of five children, logged a total of 3,077 hours of flying all types of planes during nine years in the Air Force.

Green came to national attention through an Associated Press story telling of his job-hunting problems.

Green, seeking a flying job with a regularly-scheduled airline, had charged there was a "color barrier" in the air. He had filed complaints of discrimination in employment against several of the major airlines including three complaints to the State Fair Employment Practices Commission against Michigan firms.

John C. Mackie, State Highway commissioner, said the department was arranging for the lease of two planes from the State Aeronautics Department.

These will be used for aerial photography, aerial surveys of traffic conditions and transport of department personnel, Mackie said.

Green will start at a salary of $5,971 a year and his pay can go to $7,621 annually.

Kids Clean Up Ragweed

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The annual ragweed eradication program, scheduled to end Saturday in Grand Traverse and Leelanau Counties, has counted 17 tons of the noxious plant pulled up by 450 children who took part in the project. Workers are scheduled to be theater party guests Sept. 4.

Aquarama to Spend Winter at Cleveland

MUSKEGON (AP) — The "Made in Muskegon" luxury cruise ship Aquarama will winter at Cleveland instead of this West Michigan port, according to word received by harbor officials.

The former ocean-going vessel ends its season Sept. 3 at the Cleveland end of its round trip service from Detroit.

Its operators indicated they saw little advantage in making a two-day run to Muskegon for winter layup in view of a long-term dock facility lease at Cleveland.

The Aquarama was converted at Muskegon from a wartime cargo vessel into a Great Lake luxury cruise ship in a two-year, multi-million dollar dockside project. It ran shakedown cruises from Muskegon in 1956.

City Powerless to Stop Noise

No Ordinance to Force Local Rubber Company to Abate Disturbance

City commissioners learned last night that their hands may be tied in attempting to stop alleged noise and dust coming from the Baldwin Rubber Co., at 366 E. South Blvd.

In a report from Fred T. McDermott, state industrial hygienist for the Michigan Department of Public Health, it was disclosed that since the city had no ordinance regulating industrial noise, the city is almost powerless to do anything.

District 7 Commissioner Gilbert W. Long asked that officials confer again with Milo D. McLintock, company president, to see what steps have been taken to alleviate noise and rubber particles coming from the plant.

"The residents of the area tell me that you can't stand in your back yard and talk to a neighbor when steam is released, which is about every four minutes," Long told fellow commissioners.

The complaints are not new to the commission. They first popped up back in 1955. Last August the company undertook a $30,000 project to eliminate the noises.

McLintock today said this project failed because the steam couldn't be "reclaimed." He said the company was continuing to work on a process of "snuffers" to stop the steam noises.

He added that the flowing of tiny rubber particles from the plant was stopped a year ago.

'Some' Hike Likely in Ford Car Prices

DEARBORN, (INS) — Board Chairman Ernest R. Breech admitted yesterday there probably will be "some" increase in the price of Ford Motor Co.'s 1958 cars.

Breech, speaking at a news conference held by Ford's administrative board, said the company economists believe the over-all economy of the nation in the next six months looks good. He said:

"The economy has slowed down slightly in the last six months but we expect it to pick up."

Company President Henry Ford II estimated U. S. auto sales this year will total approximately six million, revising his previous prediction of 5,800,000 sales.

John S. Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of industrial relations, said company employment currently is the highest in its history, totaling about 202,000 hourly-rated and salaried workers. He said introduction of the Edsel line boosted employment by approximately 15,000.

GI From Utica Among Victims of Alleged Abuse

Alleged mistreatment of a Utica soldier and other members of an infantry training company at Fort Carson, Colo. has resulted in charges against an Army Captain and eight enlisted men.

In the company are Pvt. Bobby Yarber, 21, of Utica and another Michigan man, Pvt. Abraham Abrahams, 21, off Highland Park.

FACE TRIAL

Those charged were former instructors of Company I of the 39th Infantry Regiment. The enlisted men face courts martial on charges of striking trainees with fists and belts, calling men out for physical exercise between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m., forcing them to wear boots tied around their necks, withholding mail as punishment for not buying unit stationery, cursing and drunkenness.

The Captain, John V. Webb, 30, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, was charged with failure to obey regulations and directives and with failure to carry out his responsibilities as commanding officer. He has been transferred to a post not involving command of troops.

The Army said all injuries resulting from the alleged mistreatment were slight.

Stocks Continue Lower Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in moderate early trading today.

Pivotal issues were off from fractions to a point or so. No great selling pressure was apparent.

It was a continuation of the downward trend of yesterday's final hour when the day's advance was clipped by profit-taking and a scarcity of bids.

Aircrafts involved in missile-making were among today's casualties after their rise of the past two days on news of Russia's reported success with an intercontinental missile. Martin Co. was down a major fraction. Boeing and United Aircraft were other losers.

Steels resumed their downward trend of the previous session as fractional losses were posted for U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel.

Among the rails, Baltimore & Ohio was a one-point loser, while New York Central dropped a fraction. Coppers gave ground on further news of lower copper prices. Anaconda and Phelps Dodge declined slightly.

Ford was steady as news came its 1958 models would be higher priced. Chrysler and General Motors eased.

Opening blocks included General Motors off ¼ at 42¼ on 2,000 shares; Boeing off ⅝ at 39½ on 1,000; and Bethlehem Steel unchanged at 44⅜ on 1,000.

Corn Falls Cent as Grains Ease

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains eased on the board of trade today with corn down as much as a cent in early dealings on heavy commission house liquidation.

The trade expects large tenders of September corn tomorrow, the first delivery date, and this brought quite a bit of selling into the market at the opening.

Wheat started a little easier on scattered commission house selling. Trading was light at the outset. Buying of the bread grain was mostly on resting orders. Soybeans were off fractionally on reports of good moisture overnight, particularly in Illinois and Indiana, and forecasts for warmer weather.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ¾ lower, Sept. $2.15¾; corn was ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Sept. $1.22⅜; oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, Sept. 65⅞; rye was ⅛ higher to ⅝ lower, Sept. $1.29¼; soybeans were ½ to 1¼ lower, Sept. $2.40½; and lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, Sept. $12.60.

Schoolcraft Classes to Open Sept. 16-17

Classes in Waterford Township's new Schoolcraft Elementary School, scheduled to begin Sept. 4 and 5, have been delayed to Sept. 16 and 17, according to Supt. William Shunck.

Shunck explained that the delay was due to incompletion of the construction of the building.

However, the building will have been completed long before the scheduled deadline of Oct. 15, he added.

Hoffa Refuses Wallace Offer

Mike Hopes to Line Up Some Hollywood Stars for His Interviews

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—George McGarret, NBC's executive liaison with the Perry Como corporation last year, will produce ABC Radio's new "Oscar Anderson Show" starting Labor Day, 10-11 a.m., first of ABC's "All-live" radio networking. . .

The Anderson show, with 20-piece band, live vocalists, Carole Bennett as the girl vocalist, will originate in the Terrace Room of the Hotel New Yorker five mornings a week. . .

Jimmy Hoffa turned down an appearance on Mike Wallace's show, as did Gen. Douglas MacArthur. . . Jayne Mansfield was willing, Mike said, "but her studio asked for $3,500 and a look at the questions ahead of time. No dice." . . .

Hollywood, Mike said, has been a tough nut to crack and his partner Ted Yates is out there now trying to line up a few stars while quieting any suspicion, pretty rampant right now, that any such appearance might contribute to the scandal magazine threats to open everyone's closets. . .

TEMPLE TREND

If there's to be any "trend" spotted in TV this season it must be Shirley Temple: She'll turn up in a series of her own early movies and as mistress of ceremonies on her own new batch of TV fairy tales.

AFTRA (Radio-TV performers' union) is dead set against pay TV, while the stage actors' union, Actors Equity, another AFL-CIO affiliate, officially is for it. . .

NBC-TV is delighted to announce that the Nat King Cole Show has induced 20,000 letters from viewers—and "in all of these, there has not been one single complaint," NBC says.

David Wayne signed to star in Hitchcock's "Heart-Beat" to be shot mostly in Coney Island, with all New York actors, for NBC's Monday night "Suspicion" series.

Independently researched previews of NBC-TV's hour-long "Wagon Train" (starring Ward Bond and Robert Horton), set to vie with "Disneyland" on ABC and "I Love Lucy" returns on CBS (Wednesdays), have NBC brass ecstatic.

SAMMY STARS

Sammy Davis Jr. stars an hour-long radio interview show for Westinghouse radio stations in September.

Frank Borzage of Hollywood's hierarchy will direct Hildegarde's "International Show" TV series.

Amazing how many daytime Saturday and Sunday TV shows have no sponsor. . .

Smart Gals Keep Up on Social Studies

You may be smart as a whip in your academic courses but you'll fail in certain social studies if you're not firm about good grooming.

Young women might consider adopting these rules:

1. If I am a sheep, I will at least be neatly sheared.
2. I'll keep up my studies so I won't have to do without beauty sleep.
3. I will not go to class or be seen anywhere in pin curls unless they are prettily or amusingly scarfed or capped.
4. Deodorants will have an honored place among my toiletries.
5. My eye make-up will never frighten my date. He'll get a dewy-eyed look instead from just a dab of petroleum jelly on my eyelids and lashes.
6. I'll avoid "bookworm slump" from poor posture while studying.
7. If my nail polish isn't perfect, I'll do without it.

2 Port Huron Men Arrested in Nebraska

McCOOK, Neb. (AP) — McCook police said Leonard Leroy Wojtoznek, 20, and Stanley Don Spencer, 23, Port Huron, Mich., have admitted theft of a car in New York City and then theft of a second car somewhere west of New York which they were driving when arrested here.

They were arrested Tuesday by McCook policeman Leonard Moon, who said he watched the men park their car and then arrested them because they looked suspicious. The men told police they had hitchhiked from Port Huron to New York City.

Both said they had records in Michigan, Wojtoznek for drunk driving and purse snatching, and Spencer for writing bad checks, police reported.

MSU Re-Creates Giant Lizard

Creature Lived in Sea Over Kansas 75 Million Years Ago

EAST LANSING — Museum specialists at Michigan State University are recreating the head of a huge creature which sank beneath a great sea covering Kansas 60 to 75 million years ago.

Neck and skull bones of a mosasaur or giant sea lizard make up the most spectacular of hundreds of specimens obtained for study and display by museum staff members on their six-week expedition to southwestern United States and Mexico this summer.

Remains of the mosasaur, a marine animal related to the dinosaurs, were deposited in a high chalk cliff which now rises some 200 feet above flat plains near Scott City in western Kansas.

"This chalk formation," according to Dr. Rollin H. Baker, museum director and leader of the expedition, "indicates that much of inland America was once a large sea."

The mosasaur bones, discovered earlier this summer by museum staff member Victor H. Hogg, were brought back by expedition members in plastered matrix to be carefully removed from the chalk material deposited around them by the long-departed sea.

The mosasaur, whose huge skull is a reminder of the monster reptiles that once stalked the earth, "will make an important exhibit in the Hall of Evolution being created in our new museum quarters," Dr. Baker said. In life the creature probably measured from 18 to 20 feet in length, he estimates.

Expedition members obtained nearly 2,000 specimens of mammals, birds, reptiles, amphibians and fish during their camping trip through Kansas, Texas, New Mexico and parts of northern Mexico. They made several extended camps in the mountains of Durango, Mexico, and also toured tropical areas west of Mexico City.

Ordinary as Movie Star, Dinah Rates Tops on TV

DINAH SHORE

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — "Dinah, is there anyone fin'ah?"

There's no argument about it on television today with Dinah Shore starting her seventh season Oct. 20 as the star of 24 hour-long shows.

At home, as added proof, she has an Emmy proclaiming her the "Best Female Personality in a Continuing Performance" and the "Woman of the Year" award from the nation's TV critics.

Dinah Shore conquering the visual medium of TV, and making Hollywood's movie makers blush, is the story of the year I'm now spilling for the first time. It's the story of the year because until TV came along Dinah was in the same class with Esther Williams.

"Wet," people said about Esther, "she's a star. Dry she isn't."

"Heard on radio and on records," Hollywood said about Dinah, "she's a star. Seen she isn't."

It was true. And for a girl with Dinah's driving ambition, it was maddening. At the peak of her fame as a radio singer in 1943, Dinah made her film debut in "Thank Your Lucky Stars."

There were other movies. Most of them had one thing in common—they were just mildly successful at the box office. A couple of 'em were real flops.

Hollywood kept trying but it just couldn't capture the personality Dinah finally brought to TV.

"The girl just can't be photographed well," an ace film cameraman once told me. "She's a great singer — the greatest — but something happens when she appears in front of a camera."

After her last film, in 1951, Hollywood said: "She's had it." "Aaron Slick From Punkin' Crick," with comedian Alan Young, was her biggest flop of them all.

But saying, "She's had it," was a misguided guess.

Dinah Shore, "the girl who just can't be photographed well," bloomed on television in 444 15-minute shows. Seen every week on home screens, the sincerity, warmth and charm Hollywood couldn't capture brought Dinah far greater fame than her "unseen" reign as the nation's most popular radio singer and recording artist.

What happened?

Why did Dinah click in front of a TV camera after more or less flopping in front of movie cameras? The answer is simple.

Hollywood make-up artists, directors and writers and producers tried to turn her into something she wasn't.

Television let Dinah be herself. Hollywood movie cameras photographed a phony Dinah Shore.

And last season was HER year with the promise that the new season will be greater.

Dinah was named the Best Dressed Woman in Television by Harper's Bazaar. She clicked with a hit recording, "Chantez, Chantez," her first in a long time. She made a 35-day "good will" tour of the U. S. She made a hit at Las Vegas night clubs.

At the same time the success of her nine hour-long shows, which cued this season's series of 24 in prime Sunday time, was cheered by the show business trade paper, Variety, with the words:

"Dinah's shows have been the standout entry of the TV year."

Court Awards Crash Damages

6 Women's Husbands Died in Air Collision; Settlement $567,000

DETROIT (AP)—Damages totaling $567,000 have been awarded by federal court here to six women whose husbands were among 15 persons killed in the collision of two airliners over the Greater Cincinnati (Ohio) Airport in 1955.

The crash occurred Jan. 12, 1955 when a Trans World Airlines ship and a plane owned by Castleton Inc., collided. Trans World and Castleton, a horse breeding farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Van Lennep, were defendants in the case. Mrs. Van Lennep is the daughter of Horace Dodge.

Largest awards went to Mrs. Dorothy Cohn of Union Heights, Ohio, and Mrs. Sybil C. Leier of Chicago. Mrs. Cohn was awarded $150,000 for the death of her husband Joseph and Mrs. Leier $115,000 for the death of her husband Robert.

Others who received damages were: Mrs. Florence B. Emig, widow of Ralph Z. Emig, Cincinnati, $62,000; Mrs. Ruth H. Rooney, widow of Harry Rooney, Nez Perce County, Idaho, $75,000; Mrs. Bernice Reinwald, widow of Harry C. Reinwald, Chicago, $75,000; and Mrs. Mildred Sobul, widow of Robert Sobul, Columbus, $100,000.

Free Press Is Fine, but What About This?

By EARL WILSON

SALVADOR, Bahia, Brazil — We are for the free press, you understand . . .

However—

We saw this neatly-dressed 10-year-old boy puffing a cigaret through a holder and blowing smoke rings. Right there in the Hotel De Bahia restaurant.

WILSON

"That's the same boy who had all the beer with lunch," our son Slugger said.

"My," we exclaimed, goggly-eyed, "but these South Americans are sophisticated."

This turned out to be a French boy. But Brazilian kids smoke early, openly and brazenly. And the Texas "oil pushers" now overrunning Brazil complain that the housemaids are always smoking up their Havana cigars.

So with some indignation we mentioned this to a local reporter.

"Ten years old," we howled, "is very young to smoke!"

"But," he shrugged, "a New York detective magazine we get here says that in America at 10 they are all smoking marijuana!"

I met up with Raymond Pewitt of Dallas, who's here helping the Brazilian government oil monopoly know how to know how.

Seems like with all these Yankees here I got little time to mention the white-suits-in-the-wintertime, the beautiful girls who serve you coffee, the truly blue bay for which "Bahia" is named.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . IN NEW YORK . . .

Miss America of '58 (who'll be chosen Sept. 7) has already been promised for Steve Allen's Sept. 8 TV'er . . . Frank Sinatra took Lauren Bacall to Joe E. Lewis' "The Joker" party in Las Vegas. Mickey Mantle opened a luxurious motel in Joplin, Mo. . . . Jerry Lewis'll pay the Mello-Larks $6,500 to sing one song on his TV show . . . Ex-boxer Lou Nova's up for the lead in the Wm. Saroyan play—playing an ex-boxer . . . Baron Edmond de Rothschild dated a $60-a-week secretary. The Doris Day musical, "Pajama Game" is expected to be a box office success.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The best way to enjoy Sunday afternoon is to stay home and listen to the traffic reports. That's earl, brother.
