Ambassador to Spain, Anthony Biddle, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anthony J. Drexel Biddle Jr., a society sportsman who carved himself an illustrious career in diplomacy and the military, died today at the age of 64.

Biddle, ambassador to Spain, had been suffering from lung cancer, but it was announced that a heart attack was the immediate cause of his death at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

President Kennedy and other leaders mourned the passing of the son of a noted Philadelphia family.

Kennedy said:

"As soldier and diplomat in two wars and in times of crisis, he won the affection and admiration of the international community of free men.

"Our deepest sympathy goes to members of his family. The country will remember with pride his service to it."

State Department press officer Francis W. Tully announced the death. He said the heart attack came after Biddle had shown improvement and "good toleration of the radiation treatment he had been receiving."

He was within a month of celebrating his 65th birthday.

Biddle returned here from Madrid Oct. 12 for treatment of cancer after serving six months in Spain.

He had served in a large number of diplomatic posts since 1935 when he began his career as U.S. ambassador to Norway.

In 1937 Biddle was named ambassador to Poland and he accompanied the Polish government when the outbreak of World War II forced it to flee Warsaw.

Later Biddle became interim

Crash This Morning Kills Man, Age 36

A 36-year-old man was killed at 12:30 a.m. today when his car slid sideways another automobile in Farmington Township and went out of control.

Dead on arrival at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia was Carl Humphreys of 21015 Farmington Road, Farmington Township.

Humphreys was attempting a right turn onto Flanders Road from the southbound lane of Farmington Road and apparently crossed the center line while making a wide sweeping movement, according to Farmington Township police.

His car struck another driven by Arthur P. Vock, 43, of 35505 Grand River Avenue, Farmington Township. Vock, who was traveling north on Farmington Road, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a road barricade on M-19 in Sterling Township of Macomb County.

Oswald's Too Clever for Hunters

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP)—Oswald is a deer who loves people.

Hundreds of residents of this Eastern Kentucky area worried themselves sick about Oswald during the four-day open season on deer when hunters stalked the colorful hill country.

They didn't take into account that Oswald was as clever as he is lovable. Oswald defied best strategic retreat to a remote section where there was almost no hunting.

USES BARN

There, said conservation officer Raymond Copley, Oswald has been living in grassy pastures. In bad weather, he makes use of a warm barn provided by Bill Boyd, a farmer in the Call Creek section of Floyd County.

As deer season approached, his friends began to worry. They decided to house him in a barn until it was safe again outside. This time Oswald balked. He wouldn't be caught.

Each of the four nights during the deer season which ended Saturday at sundown, one of Oswald's closest friends, Arnold Workman, checked the stations which register hunters' kills.

Oswald wasn't among the dead. Now he is free again to roam the hill country. The people who love him have stopped worrying until next year.

Builders Return to Work After Weekend Strike

Wages No Issue; Gain 3 Cents for Welfare Fund in Settlement

Construction projects in Pontiac and Oakland County resumed without interruption today after a weekend strike of 40,000 building tradesmen in Southeastern Michigan was settled this morning.

The strike affected about 1,000 workers on construction jobs in the Pontiac area and some 1,300 members of union locals here.

Settlement came at 6 a.m. following 20 hours of continuous negotiations over a dispute involving a health and welfare fund. Wages were not an issue.

Since the tradesmen don't work on weekends, the strike didn't interfere with projects.

The strike would have affected such Pontiac area construction as the addition to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, the administrative wing of the Oakland County Courthouse, dorms and a science-engineering building at Michigan State University Oakland and the new Pontiac Central Fire Station.

ADDS TO FUND

The settlement was announced early today by Stanley Veighe, manager of labor relations for the associated general contractors.

Working with state and federal mediators, negotiators agreed to a new two-year contract providing for a three-cent increase in workers' health and welfare fund, Veighe said.

The increases are effective Nov. 1. Employers' contributions are now 10 cents hourly. The workers had sought a five-cent hourly increase.

On strike members of the Carpenters District Council, Hotel and Portable Engineers Union, Laborers' Union, Reinforced Steelworkers Union, Cement Masons Union and the Bricklayers Union.

Bricklayers and laborers locals in Pontiac have about 650 members each. A Brickley carpenters local boasts 2,200 members.

Ethiopia Demands U.N. Troops Be Told to End Katanga Build-Up

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Ethiopia today demanded a new Security Council directive for United Nations troops in the Congo to end the military build-up in secessionist Katanga and evict foreign mercenaries from that province by force.

Ethiopian Ambassador Tesfaye Gebre-Egzy, who requested the council's first meeting on the Congo since last February at the orders of his emperor, Haile Selassie, told the council that material aid was reaching Moise Tshombe's Katanga Province from countries which have frontiers in common with it. He mentioned specifically Rhodesia.

"We do not put it past those people to start waging war on the United Nations, although we do not have any definite knowledge of that," he said.

The Western powers were expected to oppose demands for new U.N. military action in the Congo, following the unsuccessful effort last summer to eject mercenaries from Katanga and the futile Congo operation against Tshombe's province last month.

Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak was on hand to present his country's side of the case. Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon also sat in on the debate without a vote, as did Justin Bomboko, foreign minister of the Republic of the Congo (Leopoldville).

"We believe the mandate of the United Nations should be clarified and made precise to meet the question of the foreign mercenaries and the new situation in the Congo," Gebre-Egzy said. "The Security Council must examine the situation thoroughly and issue a clear directive to meet the situation caused by the military build-up in Katanga."

LEO, who was shot in the spine as he was standing in front of Mrs. Jones' home, will be paralyzed for life if the gunshot wound does not prove fatal, according to Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor said Mrs. Jones, the mother of three children, will be charged with first-degree murder if Leo dies.

"FIRED 3 TIMES"

Witnesses said Mrs. Jones fired three times at Leo from the doorway of her home. The first two shots went astray but the third caught him in the left side as he turned to run from in front of her home, Taylor said.

A milkman, Donald G. Smith, 31, 129 Mantion St., Clawson, told today Leo and Mrs. Jones shuffled on the sidewalk before she ran into the house to get her gun, a .38-caliber revolver.

Mrs. Jones refused to pay a bill for a new furnace that was three months overdue and she ordered Leo from her home when he threatened to have the furnace removed, according to police.

The fight and shooting followed their argument.

Gets Permanent Post After Serving in Acting Capacity for 17 Months

After 17 months as acting chief, Joseph Koren was today appointed Chief of Pontiac Police.

Koren, 47, was officially named chief of police by City Manager Walter K. Willman. He had been appointed acting chief in June 1960.

In a letter to Koren, Willman said "your work in an acting capacity as chief has convinced me you've earned permanent appointment."

"I know that you appreciate the difficulties of this position, however I feel that in ability and temperament you are well equipped to do a splendid job in the service of this community," Willman said.

Koren is now in his 22nd year with the police department. He is a graduate of Pontiac Central High school and worked at Pontiac Motor Division for seven years before joining the force in 1940.

He was promoted to sergeant in 1951, made lieutenant in 1954 and captain in 1957. He was commander of the traffic and safety bureau and the services bureau before appointed acting chief.

Koren, of 261 S. Cass Lake Road, Waterford Township, was awarded a scholarship for a nine-month course at the Northwestern University Traffic Institute in August 1953.

His appointment as chief is effective Nov. 13.

"Ambassador Krull brought up some thoughts on Germany and Berlin without authorization. He has been recalled to see Chancellor Adenauer and will return (to Bonn) tomorrow," Von Eckhardt said.

The press chief said the West German government has informed Washington, London and Paris of the matter.

U.S., Britain Ask More Talk on N-Test Ban

No Idea Whether Reds Will Accept; Zorin Left Little Chance Last Week

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States and Britain today asked the Soviet Union to return to Geneva Nov. 28 and begin further talks on a nuclear test ban treaty.

The resumption was proposed in similar terms delivered by American and British messengers to the Foreign Office.

There was no immediate information here as to whether the Soviets will accept the offer. Last week the chief Soviet delegate to the United Nations, Valerian A. Zorin, seemed to rule out such a possibility. He said a nuclear test ban treaty must be worked out within the framework of a general disarmament agreement.

The Geneva talks were recessed after the Soviet Union broke the moratorium on nuclear testing Sept. 1. Since then, the Soviets have exploded more than 30 nuclear devices and have indicated they are prepared to go on testing.

The British and the American reminded the Soviets in their notes that a resolution passed by the U.N. General Assembly Nov. 8 called for a resumption of the nuclear test ban talks.

The note also reminded the Soviet Union that the Joint Soviet, British and American communique which announced the recess of the Geneva talks did in fact use the word "recess."

The notes said that if the date Nov. 28 did not suit the Soviet Union, Britain and the United States would be willing to consider another date, but it would have to be dated before the end of the progress report to the United Nations before Dec. 14. The General Assembly resolution called for such a report by that date.

Two Locals Turn Thumbs Down on Chrysler Pact

DETROIT (AP)—Ratification of Chrysler Corp.'s new national contract with the United Auto Workers Union hit a snag Sunday when local union members in the key Twp. 19, Ohio stamping plant and another at Warren voted against accepting either the national pact or local-level agreement.

Chrysler's 60,000 UAW members are represented by 45 different locals. The UAW consistently ruled that if a majority of its membership within a company ratifies a contract then it applies to all.

Strengthened NATO Is Noted by Norstad

PARIS (UPI)—Allied Supreme Commander Gen. Lauris Norstad said today that by Jan. 1, 1962, less than two months away, the effectiveness of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces in Central Europe will have been increased by more than 25 per cent since the beginning of the Berlin crisis.

Earlier, President Kennedy pledged the "best efforts" of the United States to help strengthen the Atlantic alliance and make it "a community of nations, economically, politically and morally above and beyond fear of defeat or desire for conquest."

He did so in a message to the seventh conference of parliament members from 15 NATO countries which opened here this morning.

The message was read by U.S. Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr.

The usefulness of the NATO alliance in the military sphere has been proved. The wisdom of the NATO alliance as a political community has not yet reached its ultimate boundaries," Stahr quoted from the President's message.

PLEDGES BEST EFFORTS
"I pledge, and I know I speak for my fellow citizens in the Congress of the United States, that our best efforts will be applied in the days and years ahead for a community of nations—economically, politically and morally above and beyond fear of defeat or desire for conquest."

Stahr said Kennedy asked him to deliver the message just before he left Washington.

But he criticized some of American's allies for not making as great a defense effort as the United States.

Addressing the conference, Stahr said:

"The American people feel strongly some of the nations could and should do considerably more to strengthen the common defense."

And beyond fear of defeat or desire for conquest, and blessed with a spiritual strength that comes from our common heritage and desire for freedom."

Heart Attack Fatal to Rabaut

Veteran Congressman Was Addressing Guests at Machrowicz Dinner

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, 74, a congressman for a quarter century, collapsed at a testimonial dinner for newly named U.S. District Judge Thaddeus M. Machrowicz.

Rabaut collapsed as he was about to make a speech and died about an hour and a half later after being rushed to St. Francis Hospital.

VETERAN DEMOCRAT

The veteran Democrat, one of Michigan's best known men in Washington who had served since the New Deal era, slumped to the floor at the Knights of Columbus Hall a moment after he began his speech.

Others, including Judge Machrowicz, a former colleague in Congress, rushed to his side. A fire department emergency squad was summoned but failed to revive him.

Rabaut had got only as far in his speech to say "As Dean of the Michigan Democratic delegation in Congress."

Last rites of the Roman Catholic Church were administered by the hospital chaplain. Doctors tried electric shock therapy and opened Rabaut's chest to massage his heart in vain efforts to save him.

Rabaut had suffered from a heart condition in recent years. He appeared at the dinner despite warnings that he might overexert himself.

Gov. John B. Swainson said "I am deeply shocked by the news of Congressman Rabaut's sudden death."

DEDICATED SERVANT

Swainson described Rabaut as "a dedicated public servant who brought dignity, integrity and deep concern for the individual to his task of responsible representation of the 14th District."

He will be sorely missed," Swainson said.

Sen. Philip A. Hart said at Traverse City that Rabaut set a high example in his public and private life and would be "remembered with appreciation."

Hart was at Traverse City for today's hearing on the sleeping Bear Dune National Park proposal.

Donors Visit, Praise MSUO

Contributors to School Indicate Satisfaction With Progress

Donors of scholarships visited Michigan State University Oakland last night to see where their money was going. Spokesmen indicated they were more than satisfied.

Speaking for the donors, L. L. (Tex) Colbert, board chairman of Chrysler of Canada, praised MSUO's "new vision about education" and its intent to produce students with depth and breadth rather than narrow specialists.

More than 200 representatives of donors met with about 100 students who received scholarships. The 200 were guests at homes of 18 faculty members off campus and then met in the MSUO Student Center for dinner.

Freshman Freya Figas of Southfield spoke for the scholarship holders and outlined the ways in which the funds were helping MSUO students.

A scholarship goal of $60,000 was announced for 1962-63 by Mrs. James Matthews, executive secretary of the MSUO Foundation. The goal is equal to funds received last year, according to Loren Pope, assistant to the chancellor.

Toastmaster was Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of the Pontiac Press.

Speakers Are Announced for School Needs Meeting

BIRMINGHAM — Speakers for tonight's town hall meeting on Birmingham school needs were announced today by the board of education.

The 8 p.m. public meeting will be held at the Seashell High School, Lincoln and Cranbrook roads.

Following an opening message by Pell Hollingshead, co-chairman of the Independent Citizens for Birmingham Schools, school board president Kathryn Loomis will review the accomplishments in the school district.

Ross Hanson, board of education trustee, will explain specifically the proposals to be presented to voters in the Nov. 20 election and tell what they mean to each citizen.

The school board next week is seeking approval of a $4,915,000 bond issue for new construction and an operating tax of 11 mills of which would be a continuation of special millage voted in 1957 and expiring this year.

A detailed report on the proposed building program will be given by Bennett Rice, board of education treasurer.

A 15-minute question-and-answer period will follow the presentations of the preceding speakers.

A second question-and-answer period will follow a talk by School Board Trustee George W. Coombe Jr. entitled "Curriculum — Its Vital Role."

Concluding the program will be Dr. Otis M. Dickey, school superintendent. He will discuss the needs and problems related to the professional staff with emphasis on attracting and retaining outstanding teachers.

Birmingham Recreation Director Donald Martin will attend the winter meeting of the Recreation Association of Michigan in East Lansing Dec. 14-15.

Mrs. R. Henry Raube Service for Mrs. R. Henry (A. Lucille) Raube, 64, of 139 N. Woodward Ave., will be 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Entombment will be at the Grace-Lane Cemetery, Grand Rapids.

Mrs. Raube died yesterday at her home following an illness of several weeks.

She had lived in Birmingham for years, coming from Detroit where she had made her home since 1927.

Surviving besides her husband are a son, Dr. Robert P. Raube of Grand Rapids; a brother and two granddaughters.

Mrs. Edwin Colby Service for Mrs. Edwin Colby, 81, of 888 Oakland Ave., will be 1 p.m. Monday at the Manley Butler Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley.

Mrs. Colby died Saturday following a long illness. She had been an area resident 71 years.

Surviving are a son, Edward W. of Birmingham; a sister, Mrs. Samuel McCall of Atlanta; a brother, James B. Fann of Royal Oak and Russell H. Fisher of Birmingham; and two grandchildren.

U.S. Aid Annoys North Viet Nam

Reds Ask ICC to Check on 'Buildup' in Planes for Southern Area

From Our News Wire SAIGON (UPI) — The International Control Commission today received a request from the Communist North Viet Nam regime to investigate the reported buildup of U.S. warplanes and airmen in South Viet Nam.

Basing its complaint on reports by New York newspapers, North Viet Nam asked the ICC to look into the matter.

The United States has had a training unit in South Viet Nam for some time.

See Earlier Story on Page 16

It has been working with the 3,000-man Vietnamese air force, which has an estimated 20 to 30 A-10s, about a dozen operational helicopters and dozens of C-47s.

The U.S. Skyraider single-engine fighter bomber is no longer manufactured in the U.S.

Meanwhile, in Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, South Viet Nam warned the 21-nation Colombo Plan conference today that economic development programs will be of little use to the country unless the Communist threat is overcome.

"My cry of alarm does not mean that I am pessimistic about the future of Southeast Asia," Foreign Minister Van Man of South Viet Nam told the opening of a week-long ministerial meeting of the Colombo Plan members.

"I am only being realistic in drawing your attention to the common danger which is threatening this part of the world and is endangering the work of the Colombo Plan to its very foundation."

Farmington Teen Hospitalized as Car Hits Tree

A 16-year-old Farmington youth was hospitalized yesterday afternoon after the car in which he was riding crashed into a tree in Milford Township.

Reported in satisfactory condition at Bedford Community Hospital is Roland Church of 2164 Alton St. Hospital representatives said he suffered several cuts and bruises, and a concussion.

Church was a passenger in a car driven by Douglas B. Turner, 21, 2189 Alton St. Another passenger, Ronald Erwin, 18, 2136 Colgate St., Farmington, was released after treatment at the hospital.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said their car, headed west on West Maple, went off the road and hit a tree about one-half mile east of South Milford Road.

The UAW also can force local-level agreements, if it desires. It sometimes has. The international executive board must approve any walkout before strikers can draw union benefits.

Williams Urges More Negroes in State Dept.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—College presidents have been asked to urge Negro students to seek jobs in the State Department's foreign service.

G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, told college and university presidents attending the annual meeting of the American Association of Latin Grant Colleges and State Universities the State Department's plea for more Negroes in the foreign service.

There are now only 17 Negro officers in the foreign service," Williams said. "Negro Americans have had the feeling there isn't an opportunity for them in the foreign service. Consequently, they haven't applied and they haven't gotten in."

"Somehow, we must convince these young people there really is an opportunity for them."

Identifying GIs in Fatal Crash

Expect More Evidence Today to Aid Naming 41 Bodies at Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Medical authorities hope to have new evidence today that will help in complete identification of the 77 victims of the crash of a flaming airliner carrying Army recruits.

Doctors at the Medical College of Virginia so far have identified 36 bodies in the temporary morgue. They include 34 of the 74 recruits killed in the crash and two of the three airplane crewmen.

Dr. H. H. Karnitschig, acting chief medical examiner, said Army teams have been gathering additional information from the families of the Army recruits to aid in further identification.

The Imperial Airlines Constellation carrying the recruits to training at Ft. Jackson, S.C., crashed at the edge of Richmond's Byrd Airport Wednesday night. The airplane, with two engines dead and a third faltering, was attempting an emergency landing.

Seconds before the crash the pilot radioed that his third engine was going out and that he could not get his landing gear down.

Edward Slattery, public information officer for the Civil Aeronautics Board, said the CAB had completed its preliminary investigation. The board will conduct a hearing in Richmond in about two weeks.

Minute Men Quit, Say Victims of Plot

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California "Minute Men" were disbanded today but the leader of the guerrilla group claimed it was the victims of a Communist plot.

Robert Deguchi of Narbonne, Mo., ordered the troop disbanded Saturday following the arrest and resignation of the "Minute Men's" California leader, Troy Houghton, also known as Don Alderman.

He was arrested in San Diego, Calif., on charges of failing to register as a sex offender.

"I was completely misled by Houghton," Deguchi said. "I am sure many others were too."

Jazz Respectable, Gets Own Museum

By DAVID ZINMAN

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—The old men of jazz and the joyous ragtime music they spawned here have at last become officially respectable.

About 200 jazz fans—ranging from beatniks to college professors—buddled in a downtown as officials dedicated the New Orleans Jazz Museum Sunday.

WORLD'S FIRST

The museum, which will preserve the history of America's native music, is the world's first, said Mayor Victor Schinnerer.

"Lead for music that came from sportin' houses," an old Negro musician said, "it sure has gotten mighty upcity."

Brief, rain-drenched ceremonies were held in Congo Square where in antebellum days slaves gathered to dance on Sundays.

Then the Eureka brass band led by flowers-decked Pats Houston started parading to the museum, belting out the Dixieland tunes of yesterday.

They played "Saints," "Bourbon Street Parade," and "Didn't He Ramble." A handclapping troupe trailed the band, dancing in the streets.

out shelters and stocking them with chintz and other goodies against that day when crostown traffic will be as unimpeded as it was in "On the Beach."

Well, sir, I'm not a fellow people write to, except an occasional note from the bank about being overdrawn. But that particular piece and its theme, "Are we men or moles?" evoked an avalanche of nearly 20 (sorry, 17) letters. With Charlie Knickerbocker's 20 million readers had dipped a bill into it.

Believe me, most of this flood of correspondents (89.3 per cent, as Dr. Gallup might put it after consulting with a jar of red and white beans) agree that it is disgraceful to see red-blooded, virile, courageous citizens of the greatest and most powerful and most free country in the world burrowing into ugly holes in their gardens and the catacombs in their cellars in fear of momentary attack launched by a phony bum we could lick in a day.

At SHAPE in Versailles the other day an American combat officer with the scars and ribbons of three wars asked me, "What the hell's wrong with our people back there, I mean the ones who are going underground? What do they think we're over here for? We've devoted our lives to learning what to do about the fellow, if he starts something."

LETTER FROM ROSEVILLE. But enough of that. There were dissenting voices. Here's a vigorous one which best expresses the feelings of fellow dissenters. He is J. Gordon Camfield, a businessman who lives in Roseville, Mich. He has been kind enough to write as follows:

"I consider you an idiot after reading Russians aren't going to make me crawl into a hole."

"You, Sokolsky and the (Ed. note: Ahem!) and a few other ordinarily intelligent people have just helped to prove my theory that when a man's vanity or pride is at stake — to hell with realistic appraisal and objective conclusions.

"Because you apparently feel yourself to be braver than the average you evidently feel compelled to lead all the rest, the implied cowards, to what may be mass slaughter. Bravo to you!"

In your confused thinking you fail to offer any alternative for the program which you so sarcastically deride, namely the fallout shelter program. (Ed. note: Wrong, sir. I suggested that we put as much into making ourselves utterly strong as we seem to be putting into saving our individual hides.)

... We have (1) An unprecedented potential calamity; (2) An unprecedented diabolical Communist program; (3) An unprecedented need for reappraisal of values, and (4) An unprecedented mass helplessness, subject to the whims of too few statesmen, many politicians, and assorted and allegedly objective reporters."

We could print some of the "hear! hear!" letters, but there isn't room. Mr. Camfield's letter is earnest and to the point and expresses a point of view which is reflected in many of fiscal and unofficial quarters.

Here in New York, Gov. Rockefeller is a real bug on the subject and sees to be threatening us at bayonet point to rush to the nearest sewer of our choice.

Modern freeways are designed to carry 1,500 vehicles per lane per hour.

Both backbench Tories and Laborites have attacked as a short-term remedy a new government plan for extending service times for draftees and for calling up some reservists.

Critics say the government either must resume the draft system or cut commitments in some areas such as Kenya, Aden or Cyprus. The government does not want to spend money for a permanent increase of its under-size army.

READY TO TALK

A new round of direct French rebel talks on the future of Algeria is expected despite harsh words from the rebels against the treatment of Moslem political prisoners.

Now rebel Premier Youssef Ben Khedda has shown himself willing to discuss the main issues of the Sahara and the future of European settlers of Algeria in a spirit of compromise. But this time the negotiations are likely to be kept behind closed doors, away from the propaganda atmosphere that contributed largely to the collapse of talks last July.

Meanwhile, there is a growing belief that the underground of OAS rightists has missed the boat and that any chance they might have had of topping President Charles De Gaulle has passed.

BREATHING SPELL:

Berlin is expected to remain relatively quiet for the next few weeks, with neither the United States nor the Soviet Union willing to push the situation to a new climax such as the American-Russian tank confrontation in the Friedrichstrasse Oct. 27.

The Americans have ceased sending armed military police patrols into East Berlin or along the Autobahn through East Germany. In return, the Soviet have ended East German police harassment of the American official vehicles on the Autobahn.

STILL TOUGH:

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, soon to visit the United States, is expected to counsel President Kennedy to maintain a tough, unyielding policy on Berlin and German reunification.

This is the one point on which Adenauer and his new coalition partners, the Free Democrats, see eye to eye.

Other aspects of German foreign policy may undergo a change, with establishment of diplomatic relations with Communist satellite countries likely as the most dramatic one.

Despite the cordial atmosphere at the opening of the Brussels talks, officials see rough sledding ahead in the negotiations which have just begun on Britain's entry into the Common Market.

The British will try to defend their system of Commonwealth trade preferences whereas "the six" headed by France say no permanent exceptions can be made.

Ah, Music!—Strange, Fascinating Music!

David Lawrence Says:

Time for Tax Overhaul Is NOW

WASHINGTON — "The time to begin the other day as he proposed that America revise her world trade policies."

But he might also have made this comment about the necessity of doing something right away about the rise in unemployment due to the stagnation of the heavy-goods industries of the United States.

There is also a good deal of gloom in the whole manufacturing industry, where the bulk of the unemployed are to be found.

Will the economic advisers of the "New Frontier" repeat the mistakes made by their fellow "brain trusters" in the New Deal days of the 1930s when unemployment persisted with 9.1 million still unemployed when the United States entered World War II in December 1941?

Today unemployment is running at an indicated figure of 4.9 million for the year, which is larger than the average for any year in the last two decades.

In the 1930s, as now, the heavy-goods industries were neglected. Yet they were then, as they are today, the key to national prosperity.

The political implications of the whole situation, moreover, are becoming more pointed. The President naturally wants a victory for the Democratic party in the 1962 congressional elections. But if unemployment rises, the Democrats will lose ground in Congress.

Also, if the industries of the United States find tariffs and quotas reduced and more foreign goods flowing into this country in competition with American products, there will be an upsurge of protectionist sentiment in the ranks of labor in many urban centers where the Democrats have heretofore had big majorities.

It could mean the loss of a substantial number of seats of Congress, the loss of the House of Representatives itself by the Democrats.

It is interesting to note that the Democratic party in 1962 will have in control of both houses of Congress for a period of eight consecutive years. Can

Yet the inability to put in new plant and modern equipment is costing America many billions of dollars in national growth and in corporate profits, from which the treasury needs funds to meet the higher defense budgets.

It is quite evident that the time to begin to tackle the tax reform problem is now.

But, for some unexplained reason, the problem has been sidetracked, and the next session of Congress now is not expected to touch it but will leave it instead until 1963.

House of Representatives in January 1963 which will respond to the demand of the country for action in the very field which today is producing the largest proportion of our unemployed.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

We Generally Cause Indigestion Ourselves

More often than not, the complaint of "indigestion" or "dyspepsia" is the ailing we give for the results from the abuses we heap on perfectly normal, well-functioning hard-working organs.

When we say we have "dyspepsia," it's like blaming an accident on a bystander for an accident he just happened to see. Since to put the matter bluntly, there are no known consequences of abnormal, deficient or excessive peptic secretion.

Now these statements are not made for the purpose of belittling the possible importance of the various types of bellyache from which so many of us suffer so much of the time.

YOU'RE THE VILLAIN They are made to draw your attention to the obvious fact that, in many instances, you may be the "assailant," not the "victim" of your distress.

If you're willing to admit that possibility, perhaps you may also be willing to read a list of your "crimes" with the idea of "reforming" yourself by correcting or eliminating the offenses you have been committing against yourself.

That is, provided that you have no accompanying manifestations that suggest serious organic disease.

Here, then, is a run-down of some of commonly encountered, self-inflicted digestive "crimes":

Causing irritation of a sensitive stomach by overloading, by cramming in food of inferior quality or food that is hard on the digestive tract.

By seasoning your meal with spices that do to the delicate wall of your stomach what a mustard plaster does to your skin.

By swallowing fried foods some of whose fragments are as soggy as wet soap or as hard as paper.

Owner of Millwork Co. Thankful for Assistance

My recent fire at the Millwork was hard to take, but as a result it re-established my firm in American people. It would be next to impossible for me to personally thank all those that offered assistance. In many instances, it came from total strangers.

The kindness and thoughtfulness of our neighbors is something to behold. Our citizens can't do enough to help when someone is in real trouble. As a result of this experience, and all these kind deeds my present plans are to rebuild in the same location and create as many jobs as possible.

'Should Have Told Reds to Stop Tests'

Eighty-seven nations sent an appeal through the United Nations requesting the Soviet Union to cancel its 50-megaton hydrogen bomb. This appeal was ignored.

How many such humiliations must we undergo before we recognize that the weakness of the U.N. to exercise authority under its present Charter. With a world council backed by a strong police force, the Soviet Union would not have been asked to cancel the explosion — it would have been told.

'Our Country Must Uphold Principles'

Our Democracy can survive only as the principles are upheld. A government without representation is not democracy. Will we follow the principles or let politics rule? Representatives must be by population if we are to retain our democracy. Oakland is growing "fast" and in time the population will shift.

Foreign Diplomat Living Luxuriously

I hope administration officials who favor pouring out millions of taxpayers' money for aid to foreign countries took notice of the high living of this Indian ambassador at the U.N., frolicking in $1,600-a-month apartments. How much is our aid to India and the rest of the foreign deadbeats who live in such splendor, courtesy of the American taxpayer?

Congratulations to Workers, Givers of Area United Fund

Three cheers for us. Our United Fund drive was an unqualified success, and it burst right over the top—bang!—at the Victory luncheon Friday noon.

The goal was $672,500. We beat it by $2,035.

And tardy donations will drift in for the next month. All in all it's an occasion for earnest and heartfelt jubilation. We can congratulate each other. Things as big as this take an all-out, co-ordinated effort from a huge army of serious minded workers.

And then there's the givers. Don't forget them. The biggest army extant couldn't reach the solicitors unless they found an openhearted community that was willing to face its community responsibilities. It's a downright pleasure to work among its cheerful, generous people. They give you a new faith in humanity.

Every community possesses a few stingy tightwads that think only of themselves; but happily, this area is made up of fine, warmhearted people and the occasional Scrooge is marked accordingly.

We're all especially in the debt of Thomas F. Wiethorn, General Chairman. He threw himself into the campaign long before any general work was done at all and laid the groundwork for an especially thoughtful and well calculated campaign. Fund solicitations on the widest and most comprehensive basis of any we've had. And the new spade-work will endure on into the future.

A United Fund is just what

No Records Broken in Current Elections

Current elections are relatively inconclusive.

Both sides won—and lost. The Democrats won the Majority in New York City and they can claim this as a major victory. But who expected to see them lose? The Republicans polled a bigger vote than before and claim they're on the ascendency. This last sounds like an attempt to smile through some political tears.

The Dems also captured the Governorship of New Jersey. This is a major victory and was a hard-fought battle with both camps giving it the full, adult treatment. The Republicans will have to accept both as clouds without a cloud of a silver lining.

The GOP made an unexpected change in Kentucky which the Party of the Donkey can't laugh off. And the Republicans won other minor victories.

The sum total seems to leave little as the basis for sweeping predictions or conclusions. We had a dash of this and a dash of that. The two biggest victories went to the Democratic side.

All in all, viewed from West Huron Street in Pontiac, Michigan, it looks as though the Democrats emerged from the current brush with another scalp or two dangling from their belt. Neither side broke any records.

the name implies. It's support for all the agencies in the entire area. It helps build a cleaner, finer, better place for all of us to live. The average contribution isn't very large but thousands of warm hearts open spontaneously and volunteer, and that's the motivating force that makes the whole movement succeed.

The goal this year was a subject of keen debate and study as 1961 hasn't been a top period, Fund directors were aware of the financial position in which practically all businesses were placed. Many salaried workers didn't feel the setback, but most corporate giving was done on a declining income. The workers also appreciated this fact and dug in with a little something extra all the way along the line. The United Fund staff threw itself wholeheartedly into the campaign and the results were apparent.

The outcome is magnificent. Workers and givers alike can take a bow. The Pontiac Press salutes them with 21 guns and the American flag at the top of the standard.

Sneaking a sunflower seed from their bird feeding board last winter, 12 year old Beveley Hinchman of Lake Orion planted it in a garden corner. She kept the ground in good condition, watered the new plant, and put a stake in the ground to support it. The sunflower has grown to a height of 17 feet, taller than any other reported in the county.

But Who's Going to Pay $500 Million for It?

Administration Unveils Air Safety Plan

By ROBERT J. SERLING
UPI Aviation Editor

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration has unveiled a new air safety plan but left unanswered the question of who will pick up the $500-million price tag.

"Project Beacon," a special presidential task force composed of leading aviation and electronics experts, recommended a new and largely automated Air Traffic Control (ATC) system that would make flying safer and more efficient within the next five years.

The task force said the cost of putting it into operation in the next half-decade would be double the Federal Aviation Agency's current ATC spending program of $250 million over that period.

It did not suggest how the additional amount should be financed, but industry sources said any attempt to make the airlines pay for at least part of it through higher user charges will result in a "bat-tle royal."

The task force plan, some of which could be put into effect almost immediately, calls for:

Automation of ATC centers with general purpose computers taking over processing of flight plans, issuance of clearances, establishing landing sequences and spotting potential collision courses.

Utilizing the radar elements of the air defense system known as SAGE and connecting them electronically with the ATC computers.

—Requiring all aircraft the size of a DC3 or bigger to carry a new type of radio beacon which would flash to radar stations exact altitude and position; this device which should be available in about 18 months, would eliminate much of the communications workload of both pilots and controllers.

The task force rejected previous proposals to use the entire SAGE system for new air traffic control. It said SAGE is far from complete, may be outmoded in a few years, and that it does not cover some of the most heavily-used airways.

Group Wishing Ex-Gen. Walker Were President

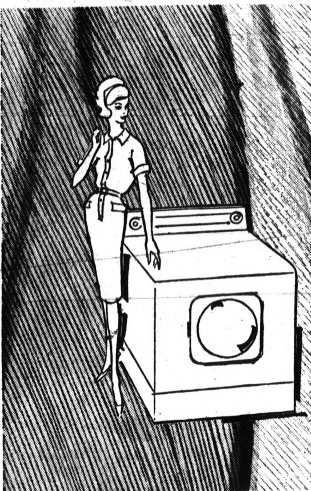

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A committee protesting shipment of United States jet planes to Yugoslavia has started a move to persuade former Gen. Edwin Walker to run for the presidency in 1964.

An official of the national interdenominational convention asked Maj. H. G. Knickerbocker of the U.S. Air Force Reserve to act as an intermediary.

"That would be the finest thing that could happen to this country to have that man in the White House," Knickerbocker said during a multiplicity conference call Saturday.

Walker quit the Army recently to be free to air his views on anti-communism. He was accused by the Army of using John Birch Society material to indoctrinate his troops in Europe.

Salazar 'Wins' Portugal Vote

Government Is Returned to Power in Elections Without Opposition

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's government was swept back into power today through national elections in which there were no opposition candidates.

The government hailed the balancing — in which it said 70 to 80 per cent of the electorate voted — as a rebuke to Salazar's critics who had called for a boycott of the polls.

Interior Minister Alfredo Rodrigues Dos Santos reported a worker was killed and three policemen and a national guard trooper wounded in a clash on election eve in the populous district of Almada.

But the only incidents reported during the election Sunday were minor disturbances at Grandola and Courco.

Salazar's National Union Movement said the turnout of more than a million voters "exceeded all earlier expectations."

"Another milestone in the history of the regime has been marked," it said.

Fifty-nine opposition candidates withdrew their names last week, charging that "no truly free elections are possible in the present political constellation."

Administration candidates were elected to fill 130 seats in parliament, assuring the 73-year-old Salazar another four years of rule. He has controlled Portugal for 33 years.

Newest, Largest AF Bomber Is at Kincheloe

SAULT STE. MARIE, (P) — The Strategic Air Command's newest and largest bomber plane, the 250-ton B52H, is now on hand at Kincheloe Air Force Base.

The huge craft, christened "See City See" in deference to both the American and Canadian Soos, landed here Saturday on a flight from the Wichita, Kans., Boeing Co. plant.

Manned by a crew of six, the 8-jet bomber is the first of 15 each which are to be delivered to Kincheloe and also the K. 8, Sawyer and Wurtsmith Air Force bases.

The bomber's vertical stabilizer on its tail assembly stands four stories high.

Attack Deployed by Irish Leader

Policeman Is Killed, 3 Others Wounded in Ambush; Suspect IRA

JONESBOROUGH, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Irish Republic Premier Sean Lemass Sunday night condemned the machine gun attack that killed a Northern Ireland policeman and wounded three others.

"Every responsible Irishman will be shocked to learn of this terrible affair," said Lemass in Dublin.

"No sane person could think that such murderous activities serve any national purpose. Indeed, it is becoming increasingly impossible to believe that there is not some sinister influence which directs these outbreaks of violence in their manner and their timing so as to do maximum damage to the nation's interest."

Authorities on both sides of the border between the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland were searching for the attackers, believed to be members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

It was the latest of a series of incidents which has kept the border in a ferment over the past week. Police said a post office truck and a police building were blown up by the IRA. Officials said the four policemen were patrolling in a jeep when about six men opened up on them with machine gun fire from ambush.

One of the policemen, W. J. Hunter, died. The three others returned to the fire despite their wounds and the attackers, dressed in black battle clothes and black berets, ran into a wood on the Erie side of the border.

Though the attack occurred in daylight it was some time before the alarm was given and ambulances were sent from Newry.

British Home Secretary R. A. Butler, who has responsibility for Northern Ireland affairs, was notified of the incident.

Hundreds Homeless in Norway Floods

OSLO (UPI)—Severe floods left hundreds homeless and washed out railroad lines and roads in Southern Norway Sunday.

The floods had built up from heavy rains over the past two weeks.

The railroad between Bergen and Oslo was washed out at three points and five highways were closed.

Worst hit areas were Telemark County, 200 miles south of here, and Oppland County, north of here.

No casualties had been reported so far but damage was estimated to run in the millions of dollars.

The 2 to 3 p.m. meetings have been set up during National Retarded Children's Week by the Special Education Parents Unit for the Retarded (SPUR) originated in Valed Lake.

The organization sponsors the Tom Thumb Room for retarded children in Wixom Baptist Church.

The first discussion meeting was to be held from 2 to 3 p.m. today in the home of Mrs. Thomas Shiley, 706 Banks Road, Waterford Township.

Other meetings throughout the week are:

Tuesday—Mrs. Robert Baker, 4782 Halberd Road, Commerce Township.

Wednesday—Mrs. Wallace Newman, 9180 Funston Road, Union Lake.

Thursday—Mrs. Sam Burnley, 3253 North Elder Road, West Bloomfield Township.

Friday—Mrs. Ted Ostrowski, 9006 Gittins Blvd., Commerce Township.

The discussion meetings—coffee hours are being given by friends or members of the SPUR organization, according to Mrs. Ostrowski, public relations chairman.

An open house of the Tom Thumb Room will be held today, Tuesday and Thursday at the church.

Molotov Back Home but to What End?

MOSCOW (U)—Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov disappeared into the secret depths of Soviet society Sunday as if he had been dropped into a well.

Gray and aged, he came from Vienna by train with his gray and aging wife, to face a purge by which the Communist party hopes to wipe out a little more of the memory and a few more of the sins of the Stalin regime.

Unable to Find Cause in Death of Area Woman

An autopsy on a woman whose body was found Saturday in Bloomfield Township has failed to determine the cause of death.

The woman had been identified earlier as a patient who had been missing from the Pontiac State Hospital since Sept. 14.

Dr. Richard Olson, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, said, however, that the examination showed no signs of violence.

He said the body of Clarissa Hill, 43, of Hazel Park had been in a swampy area behind the Miracle Mile Shopping Center for about two months.

Syrians to Vote Dec. 1

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

CAPE CANAVERAL — A chemical leak inside a Mercury space capsule has killed America's last slim chance for rocketing a man into orbit this year.

An acid-like substance called concentrated hydrogen peroxide is dripping away inside the capsule that was to have carried a baby chimpanzee on a three-orbit trip around the earth Tuesday in the last scheduled test before manned flight.

This necessitated removing the two-ton craft from atop the Atlas booster rocket, which is on the launching pad. Inspection, repair and replacement will take at least a week, perhaps as much as two weeks.

Project Mercury scientists are pressing to locate the leak and repair any damage, but the job is expected to take at least a week and more likely 10 days or longer.

Successful completion of the chimpanzee shot this week was almost a must if the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was to have a chance of rocketing a human astronaut into orbit in 1961.

4-WEEK MINIMUM

A minimum of four weeks is required between Mercury capsule launches to qualify all systems. Such a schedule can be met only if all checkouts are perfect, something not yet achieved in preparations for Mercury firings.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (U)—Searchers have found the body of a small squirrel monkey killed in the explosion of an Atlas missile.

The Atlas, with the 14-pound monkey named Goliath in its nose, flew up 20 seconds after it was launched Friday on an intended 5,000-mile test flight.

Large pieces of the wreck were retrieved from the floor of the Atlantic Ocean about 100 yards offshore. Goliath's body, discovered in the tangled debris Sunday, was unmarked except for a spot of blood on the head.

TO DISCUSS PLANS TO BUILD JET IN STATE

LANSING (U)—Gov. Swainson said today he plans to meet with William P. Lear Sr. next month to discuss the possibility of manufacturing a new type of jet plane in Michigan.

Swainson said Lear wrote from his Geneva, Switzerland, headquarters to say that he would be in the United States about Dec. 1 and would like to visit with the governor.

Swainson suggested the meeting earlier in a letter last week.

Lear wrote that he would like to discuss the possibility of erecting "some kind of a joint operation with the University of Michigan" at the Willow Run Airport at Ypsilanti.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observation. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. Korean Leader Visits Chicago

Military Chiefs Stop Marred by Auto Mishap Involving Motorcade

CHICAGO (AP)—Gen. Park Chung-hee, chief of South Korea's military government, stopped in Chicago Sunday night en route to Washington, where he is expected to ask President Kennedy to step up military and economic aid to his government.

Park planned meetings with South Korean students and Mayor Richard J. Daley before continuing to Washington by plane.

His Chicago stopover was marred by a collision involving five cars in a 20-car motorcade bringing him from the airport to a downtown hotel. It resulted in injuries to six Koreans living in the United States and the American husband of a Korean woman. They had greeted Gen. Park at the airport.

None of the official party was involved in the pileup which occurred on an expressway in a light mist.

During an earlier stopover in Seattle, Park said the United States "should play a major role in leading the free world to united action against communism."

The 41-year-old Korean leader said he hopes his 12-day visit will strengthen friendship between his country and the United States. He said he hopes to discuss with U.S. officials a buildup of American economic and military support for South Korea.

And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Casals at the White House Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pablo Casals, the politically conscious 84-year-old cellist, will play at the White House tonight as culture takes another bow on the New Frontier.

The occasion is a formal dinner in honor of Casals' old friend, Gov. Luis Munoz Marin of Puerto Rico, who is no stranger to the arts. Before turning to politics, Munoz was highly regarded as a poet, and also had been an editor, publisher and writer.

By his own choice, Casals, considered by many the world's greatest cellist, will not dine with the guests of President and Mrs. Kennedy. He will be limbering up, preparing for the concert that will be one of his rare appearances in this country.

A native of Spain, Casals once vowed never to play in countries that recognize its dictator, Generalissimo Francisco Franco. The year's presidential campaign, the United States does, and Casals has not been heard in a public concert in this country since 1923.

He occasionally has played for closed audiences, such as in 1958 when he appeared at the annual United Nations Day concert in New York and received a thunderous ovation.

The President extended a personal invitation to Casals to play at tonight's dinner. During last month's visit to the White House, Casals performed excerpts from five Shakespearean dramas.

cellist wrote an open letter in support of Kennedy.

INVITED GUEST

The administration's many gestures to the arts began on Inauguration Day when poet Robert Frost, battling a glaring sun, presented one of his poems.

Since then, Frost and poet-historian Carl Sandburg have called at the White House for chats with the President, and George Balanchine, choreographer of the New York City Ballet, was in for tea with Mrs. Kennedy.

The National Symphony played at a dinner at Mount Vernon, Va., last July in honor of President Ayub Khan of Pakistan. When President Frik Ibrahim Aboud of the Sudan visited the White House last month a cast of seven players from the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Conn., performed excerpts from five Shakespearean dramas.

UNWANTED DEMONSTRATORS — John Anderson (standing far right), assistant manager of a Baltimore restaurant, reads Maryland's trespass ordinance to a group of demonstrators who were among an estimated 300 staging "sit-ins" Saturday in Baltimore restaurants. Kennedy Will Speak at Seattle Thursday

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A squeakless rocking chair and a tradition-laden ceremony will welcome President Kennedy to Seattle Thursday.

Shortly before Kennedy addresses the academic centennial convocation of the University of Washington, a century-old bell will toll 10 times, once for each decade of the school's history.

Thus will Washington, the oldest state-supported institution of higher learning on the Pacific Coast, observe its 100th anniversary.

The White House has announced that Kennedy's speech will be devoted to foreign policy. About 11,000 persons, mostly faculty and students, are expected to jam Edmundson Athletic Pavilion for the convocation.

JOHNSON TO ATTEND Thursday night, Kennedy will speak at a $100-a-plate dinner marking the 50th anniversary in Congress of Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash. Among the diners will be Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The event will kick off a campaign fund drive for Magnuson, who plans to seek a fourth term next year.

Magnuson isn't expected to have opposition in next September's Democratic primary. The only Republican who has expressed interest in opposing him in the election is the Rev. Richard G. Christensen of Edmonds, a Lutheran minister.

Kennedy will spend the night in the Olympic Hotel. When he gets there he'll find a squeakless rocker, carried from Spokane.

The President is due at Seattle's Boeing Field at noon and will be driven to the university in a motor caravan. If there is time, the caravan will detour by the 1962 World's Fair grounds.

The University of Washington closed its doors four times in its early years for lack of students or money or both. Now it has a daytime enrollment of 18,000. Another 10,500 take night and correspondence courses.

Caged Tiger Chews Up Hand of Zoo Attendant

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A caged tiger mangled the right hand and wrist of attendant Robert Dellis, 35, at the San Antonio Zoo Sunday.

The tiger attacked while Dellis was feeding the animals, pulling his hand inside the cage before Dellis could pull free.

Over Bazley's

Of Course, Use Towels for Guests

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me if it is proper when visiting in someone's house, to use the small fancy guest towels the hostess has hanging in the bathroom, to dry one's hands?
A friend and I had a discussion on this and she said that they should not be used; that they are merely for show.

I disagreed and said that such towels were, as the name implied, for the guests' use.
Will you please give us your views on this matter?

A: Guests are most certainly expected to use these towels.
That is why they are there.

Q: I am a school teacher.
My daughter goes to this same school and will be in my class next term. She, of course, always calls me "mother."

I would like to know if it would be proper for her to call me this when she is in my class, or must she call me what the other students do—which is Mrs. Brown.

A: Even though it would be quite understandable for her to call you "mother," it would unavoidably give her a privilege which the others lack. Therefore, it is important that she learn to call you what the others do while in the classroom.

Q: I have a friend who chews gum almost constantly.
This would be all right if she chewed quietly but she has a habit of cracking her gum. It is most annoying and whenever we are out together, people glare at her. I can't understand her doing this as she is a well-brought up person and has good manners.

Would I be out of order to bring this to her attention, and how do I do so without offending?

A: If you are really a good friend of hers, tell her that you have heard people criticize her because of the way she cracks her chewing gum.

Q: My fiancé is from an other state and he knows very few of my relatives and friends and will not have an opportunity to meet them before the wedding. Should I introduce him to the guests while standing in the receiving line, and if so how do I go about this?

A: You introduce him to the guests as they come up to you, saying, "John, this is Aunt Mary," to an acquaintance,
"Mrs. Jones, this is John," or very formally, "Mrs. Smith, may I present my husband."
Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a velope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac

Abby Says Check Report Card

It Depends on Student!

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know if it is possible for a student to do his homework while sitting in front of a television set which is going full blast. Thank you.

STUDENT'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Send me the student's report card and I'll send you my answer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother is a physician. I kept asking my husband to please take our two boys to his brother's office to have them checked over. Lloyd had a bad cough that lasted all summer, and Clyde had a rash on his feet that we couldn't get rid of.

I got tired of waiting so I took the boys to another doctor and paid this doctor in cash. I have yet to hear the end of it. What would you have done, Abby, under the same circumstances?

DOCTOR'S RELATIVE
DEAR RELATIVE: I would have called my husband's brother, made an appointment with him at his office, taken the boys and paid HIM.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my mother has talked to me about the facts of life only once and that was when I was 10.

I would like to talk to her again about this subject because there are many things
I don't understand, but when I mention it she tells me she will talk to me "later," but "later" never comes. If it is a word I want to have explained dealing with sex, she tells me to look it up in the dictionary.
How can I get my mother to tell me things a girl should know?

TOLD NOTHING
DEAR TOLD: Not all mothers know how to tell their children the "facts of life." (It's not their fault—THEIR mothers didn't know how to tell THEM.) Your public library has some excellent books on this subject for girls just your age. Ask your librarian to recommend a few.

To Have A Lovely Wedding,"

You Get It With ExerciseNatural Girdle Is Best

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today let me give you three exercises which are beneficial to women and girls. Women need the strong, natural abdominal girdle with which nature provided them. Sometimes these muscles become stretched and lax like an old, elastic girdle. This may be due to pregnancy, lack of exercise or poor posture. The following exercise will be helpful.

Lie on the floor on your back in a straight line—arms resting on the floor over your head. Raise the arm and the right leg from the floor at the same time. Touch the fingertips of the right hand to the right toes, if possible; if not, come as close as you can. Lower arm and leg to the floor.

This time raise the left arm and leg, touch and lower to the floor. Continue, alternating. Be sure to keep the knees straight throughout the exercise.

Another for the abdomen which is also beautifying to the neckline. Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend both knees up toward the abdomen as you raise your head from the floor. Touch the knees with the nose or come close.

How those pounds do settle on the waist. But you can raise the "settlement" with exercise. Bend as far as you can to the right, and then bend to the left.

Be careful not to bang your nose on your knees. If you are long-legged, this can happen. Return legs and head to the floor. Continue.

The waistline is another spot where those pounds are likely to settle. Try this medicine for them. Stand tall with your feet comfortably separated and your arms at your sides.

Now place your hands on top of your head, keep your elbows extended as you bend as far as you can to the left. Raise the trunk and bend as far as you can to the right. Continue, alternating left and right.

If you would like to start a family exercise project, you may want my "Family Exercise Plan." If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 35. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Bride of Robert Brand

Shirley Lou Lovins Wed

The Columbia Avenue Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening vows of Shirley Lou Lovins of West Stratmore Avenue to Robert L. Brand, of West Longfellow Avenue. Rev. Neal Powers officiated.

With her ballerina-length dress of white Chantilly-type lace over taffeta, styled with square neckline and long sleeves, the bride wore a short veil of silk illusion held by a jeweled tiara. A spray of red rosebuds rested on her white Bible.

Mrs. Mitchell Fox, her sister's matron of honor, appeared in blue chiffon. Barbara Johnson, cousin of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid, wore aqua chiffon. Both carried yellow carnations.

Airman L.C. Kenneth Brand was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the Earl Brands of Meadowlawn Drive.

The Luvern M. Paulsons of West Longfellow Avenue honored her brother and his bride with a reception following the ceremony. After a honeymoon at New Orleans, La., the newlyweds will reside on East Walton Boulevard.

Pink carnations complemented cotton blue silk crepe for Mrs. Lovins and royal blue silk for the mother of the bridegroom.

MRS. ROBERT L. BRAND

Home Opened to Church Unit

Tots Fight Sleep

NEW YORK (UPI)—Going to bed isn't always a snap for tots, says the National Baby Care Council. Small children rarely know when they're tired.

Even when obviously exhausted, many do not recognize that sleep will make them feel better. To them, going to bed means being separated from crowns and fun. Parents who understand this, the Council said, are better able to help baby accept a snooze as a "must."

Must Show Child Strength to Get Trust

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Desk Mrs. Lawrence.

Our 6-year-old boy won't leave the TV to come to meals at night. Sometimes I have to give him supper in the kitchen because he wants to see the end of some show. He is very disobedient about going to bed on time, too. My husband and I wonder if you think it would be a good idea to move the TV set into the dining room so that the boy can look at it while he eats...

ANSWER: Madam, in comparison with you and your husband, your 6-year-old child is a weak and defenseless creature. You possess not only the muscular power to control his TV viewing, but many other controlling powers over his life. You control his food, his clothes, his warmth and shelter, the hours of his play, the toys he loves, his associations with friends.

You are Goliath of power compared to your child — and yet you complain of his insistence on looking at TV instead of eating as though you were the midgots and he were the big, strong giant.

Of course he disobeys you. He doesn't know what's the matter with you. He doesn't know why you don't make it impossible for him to look at TV at mealtime by turning it off.

You scare him.

It is scary to be the child of adults who cannot register their strength. Because your son knows that his strength is a child's, he depends on yours to look after him. When you permit him to do what he knows you believe it is bad for him to do, you frighten him.

He can't trust your strength to keep him safe.

He expresses this fear by disobeying you in the hope of forcing you to assert your power, and so of restoring him peace in his dependence.

He wants to lose his battle over his TV viewing at supper-time because he expects you to know more about what is good for him than he knows.

I sometimes wish that America's parent educators would start an information campaign on the power-TV heroes.

ers we hold over children instead of continuing to exhort us to "love" them.

For it is only when we are sure of the extent to which we control children that we can use the control reasonably. It's when we aren't sure of it that we make bossy roasts that sound like power or the blustering ones that plead for it. And children disgusted with our wishy-washiness, turn from us into defiance — or, as in your case, to the comforting strength of TV heroes.

Four U.S. Jets Active in Saigon

Said to Be Big Help to South Vietnamese; Report Denied

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. Air Force F101 reconnaissance jets are credited by reliable informants with a powerful assist to South Viet Nam as scouts in its war against Red rebels.

South Vietnamese sources say the jets, which have been operating from Saigon's International Airport for three weeks, are flying missions to pinpoint photographically the secret bases, staging areas and movements of the Communist Viet Cong troops.

They said high detailed pictures taken by the jet pilots guide South Vietnamese fighter-bombers in strikes against well-guarded and sometimes almost inaccessible guerrilla installations.

Salon newspapers have been telling of a series of successful raids by government warplanes on Viet Cong bases, buildings and troop units.

TRAINING OPERATION
The United States provided the planes and the U.S. Air Force has built up an extensive supply and training operation for South Vietnamese airmen and ground crews.

See Army Role in Soviet Shake-Up

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

LONDON (AP)—The recently ended 22nd Soviet Communist party congress is regarded by many Western observers as the most significant event in Soviet history since Stalin died.

Every word made public about that meeting is being examined in an effort to guess what the congress may mean with regard to cold war crisis.

HOW FREE IS IT?
Diplomats, in the roles of Kremlinologists, are trying to find hints to answers to questions like: How free an agent is Nikita Khrushchev?

What role has the Soviet military played in the extraordinary drama of the congress?

Do the reports mean more or less danger for the world in situations like the chronic Berlin crisis?

Why did the Soviet Communist party find it necessary to shock the world with a purge?

What is the significance of the incident of the U2 spy plane of May 1960 is believed to have had a large part in Khrushchev's political troubles in advance of the 22nd congress.

The reasoning goes this way: Khrushchev returned from the United States late in 1959 convinced that he had struck a blow for peace. He assured the Soviet people that so long as Dwight D. Eisenhower remained president there would be no world war, no nuclear holocaust.

EMBARRASSING EVENT
A date was fixed for a four-power summit meeting, Paris in mid-May, 1960.

But on May 1, while Soviet officials reviewed a parade of military might, they learned that the U.S. plane had been shot down deep inside Soviet territory.

For the generals this was embarrassing. They probably let Khrushchev know of their annoyance, too.

Khrushchev said it was all the work of the Pentagon and U.S. warmongers, and that probably Eisenhower knew nothing of it. Then Eisenhower took full responsibility for U2 flights, and the fat was in the fire. Khrushchev now had no answer at all to his generals. The summit meeting blew up with a flow of bitter Khrushchev invective poured upon the American president.

POLICY HARDENED
Thereafter, Soviet policy began to harden. Khrushchev was assaulted by the Red Chinese—and the Stalinists of little Albania—to boot—for having suggested that President Eisenhower was a man of peace. Generals in the Soviet Union had an argument against Khrushchev's plans to demobilize 500,000 officers and almost 2 million men from the top-heavy conventional forces.

Khrushchev, steadily more belligerent, put on a spectacle of bellicosity at the United Nations last September. He and President Kennedy met in Vienna in June to size up one another. Probably to the surprise of Khrushchev, he found the young U.S. president in general unyielding.

TROUBLES GROWING
Khrushchev knew what had to be done at the October congress. He was nagging at him, calling him a heretic from Leninist gospel on the ground that he said capitalism could be avoided. Stalinists were saying, "I told you so."

Khrushchev knew what had to be done at the October congress. He would need a noisy crisis outside, with Berlin the logical spot, to deflect some of the world's attention, but he would have to make his all-out bid for the final destruction of Stalinism and the watchful military men. He may now be permitted to act in international politics in his own way for a while, so long as he remains careful. Thus he may be able to sustain a period of relative quiet to permit diplomatic probing in the central Berlin-German crisis.

HAD TO WIN SUPPORT
It had to be a clear victory, a public one. He could get the support of the military by proving in them that he was not at all as soft as he was being pictured. He was the man who ordered the resumption of nuclear tests. He was the man who, ignoring world outcry, gave the order for the explosion first of a 30-megaton bomb, then a 50-megaton device.

He also remained a good political maneuverer. He lost ground in the election of the new and supposedly ruling party Presidium by agreeing to the removal of four members who had been his supporters and protectors.

But in exchange he got a Communist party secretariat slightly weighted in his favor, and he was able to keep his strong influence in spite of a sweeping housecleaning of the party Central Committee.

Some of the diplomats studying the record, Khrushchev looks like a man still beholden to those who supported him, including the watchful military men. He may now be permitted to act in international politics in his own way for a while, so long as he remains careful. Thus he may be able to sustain a period of relative quiet to permit diplomatic probing in the central Berlin-German crisis.

Lions Rebounding in Division Title Race

Take 2nd Place on 45-14 Win Over Cardinals

Thanksgiving Day Game With Packers Looming as Very Crucial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three weeks ago George Wilson dropped into his dressing cubicle after the Detroit Lions suffered another bitter defeat, their third in four home games.

"We still have a chance," the coach muttered wearily.

"I sit before the team that we might lose five games. I feel the same way now. But we have to get help from the other teams to get back in the race."

The Lions — injured, splintered and far out of it then, — are back in the race.

Their 45-14 trouncing of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday brightened their chances for a Western Division title in the National Football League.

There's still a game and a half between the Lions and Green Bay Packers. But the Lions have gained momentum — as in their near miss last year and their world championship of 1957.

In the past three games since they left home, the Lions won twice and tied once.

They vaulted past the Chicago Bears into second place by beating the Cardinals with their highest point total in 23 games.

Lions, 5-3-1, have five games in which to overcome the deficit and catch Green Bay.

Detroit has two things in its favor. One of the remaining games — on Thanksgiving Day — is with the Packers, who edged the Bears 31-25 yesterday.

By then the Packers will be weakened by the loss of NFL scoring leader Paul Hornung, scheduled to report to the Army this week or next.

Jim Ninowski reassured his stragglehold on the quarterback job when Wilson used Earl Morrall on the kickoff team yesterday.

Risking injury to a quarterback — even a second stringer — on kickoffs is seldom done.

Ninowski passed up two touchdowns and set up two others with aerials.

Danny Lewis and Nick Pietrosante got the Lions' long-dormant ground attack going with sparkling running. The Lions gained 372 yards overall — their third straight big output.

In the fourth quarter, Wilson gave his first stringers a rest and Morrall a second backfield of Johnny Olszewski, Kenny Wells and Howard Cassidy got the last two touchdowns. Cassidy, the forgotten Lion of 1961, scored both.

With the defense settling up several scoring opportunities, Jim Martin kicked a 24-yard field goal for the only first quarter score.

Then the Lions got two rapid touchdowns in the second quarter. Ninowski passed 33 yards to Gal Cogdill for one. A pass intercepted by Dick LeBeau set up the other, a 12-yard run by Lewis.

It looked like the Lions were about to blow another big lead when the Cards scored twice before halftime. Sam Echeverry to Sonny Randle and Prentice Gault for the scores.

But in the third quarter Ninowski guided the Lions to two fast touchdowns. His passes to Terry Barr broke the game open.

Ninowski hit Barr with a 48-yarder that advanced the ball to the 15. Lewis then ran 14 yards behind Harley Sewell's block for a touchdown.

Next time Ninowski passed 40 yards to Barr for the touchdown.

LIONS CARD

Clubhouse Attendant Aids Giants' 38-21 Win

Hornung Ruins Bears, 31-28

By The Associated Press

Paul Hornung, Army-bound after another public point performance, may have wrapped up a second straight Western Conference title for the Green Bay Packers while Pete Previte had a hand in forcing a two-way scramble for Eastern honors between New York and Philadelphia.

That's the situation in the National Football League after Sunday's showdown struggles in which Hornung led the Packers to a 31-28 triumph over Chicago and the Giants moved into a first place tie in the eastern sector by upending the defending league champion Eagles 38-21.

And it's Pete Previte — not a player, scout or coach, but one of the Giants' clubhouse attendant — who devised the stunning pass maneuver that gave New York a key touchdown and went a long way toward keeping the Eagles from matching Green Bay's progress toward another title.

With the Giants leading 17-7 late in the second period, coach Allie Sherman decided to give Previte's play, designed to get the team's fastest players downfield under a Y. A. Title pass, a try. Into the game came defensive halfbacks Erich Barnes and Jim Patton.

The Giants talked it over in the huddle, called for Previte's maneuver — titled with simplicity "the play that worked in practice Friday" — and Tittle arched a long one that Barnes grabbed for a 62-yard TD that gave New York an insurmountable lead.

Meanwhile Hornung scored 10 points as the Packers knocked the Bears into third place in the West. Detroit's Lions moved up to second place, a game and a half behind, with a 45-14 wallouping of the St. Louis Cardinals. Cleveland stayed a game behind in the East by beating Washington 17-6.

In other games, Los Angeles stopped the shotgun offense and upset San Francisco 17-7. Minnesota whipped Baltimore 38-20 and Pittsburgh crushed Dallas 37-7.

Quarterback Bart Starr passed for three Green Bay touchdowns on a 34-yard pitch to Hornung, who brought his league-leading scoring total to 130 points by adding an eight-yard scoring run on touchdown passes by Sonny Jurgensen and King Hill.

Tittle, who came to the Giants in a trade as Del Shofner and Barnes, was the big offensive weapon, leading the only deep drive with a 12-yard toss to Kyle Rote. His loss to Barnes on the "Pete Previte Special" came from the spread formation with the quarterback the only deep man in the backfield.

Jimmy Brown tossed a 37-yard touchdown pass to Ray Renfro for a 10-0 lead the Browns never relinquished in handling the winless Redskins' high defeat and 17th in a row over two years. Brown, who picked up 133 yards on the ground, moved into second place on the all-time league rushing list behind Joe Perry with a total of 5,908 in five years. Perry now with Baltimore—has 1,748 in 12 seasons, 11 with San Francisco.

Zeke Bratkowski engineered a 74-yard drive in the final quarter, cracking across himself from a yard out for the clinching touchdown in the Rams' upset of the 49ers.

Fran Tarkenton's 37-yard TD aerial to Dave Middleton in the third quarter and his plunge for a score after Dean Derby's key interception in the final period gave the Vikings their upset over the Colts.

Sub quarterback Rudy Bukich was the standout for the Steelers, connecting with Buddy Dial for touchdowns passes of 73 and 13 yards in an easy victory over the Cowboys.

Royals Win 5th Straight

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals, off to a shaky start, were galloping along in hot pursuit of the Los Angeles Lakers today in the Western Division race of the National Basketball Association.

The Royals whipped the St. Louis Hawks, 136-106, Sunday night for their fifth straight triumph. They now show a 7-4 record in the Lakers' 9-2.

In the only other game of the night, the defending champion Boston Celtics clattered the Chicago Packers, 112-96, running their record to 6-1.

Oscar Robertson and Jack Twyman each scored 31 points to lead the Royals' attack.

The game was close until well into the third quarter. In fact, the lead changed hands 10 times before the Royals were grabbed by one point at the end of the first quarter. Cincinnati began pulling away in the second quarter only to have the Hawks threaten again in the third.

The Packers announced after their game with the Celtics they would protest the decision because Boston Coach Red Auerbach played the Celtics.

Auerbach was fined $200 by league president Maurice Podoloff for his actions during a game in Philadelphia Thursday night. Podoloff also said Auerbach would receive an automatic three-game suspension the next time he was bounced.

It didn't take long. Auerbach got the heave Saturday night in Boston.

Possible Repeat Game for AFL Championship

By The Associated Press

A repeat of last year's American Football League championship game became a stronger possibility today with San Diego already in it and Houston leading the fight for the other berth.

In the case of Houston, however, there still are some obstacles of note, the main one being San Diego itself.

San Diego beat Boston 27-15 Sunday to take over the lead in the Eastern Division. It was the Oilers' fourth straight triumph in a surge that pulled them from the cellar.

San Diego was winning its tenth straight game as it edged Denver 19-16 and the victory snapped up the Western Division championship for the second year. San Diego played in Los Angeles last season, losing to Houston for the championship.

Houston is just one-half game to the good over Boston and New York and the Oilers play the latter at Houston Sunday in the second straight showdown. Boston meets Oakland Friday night and will be expected to win its game.

San Diego plays Dallas at San Diego Sunday and it's quite a let-down. Before the season started Dallas was the favorite and was supposed to sweep through the Western Division ranks. But the Texans have now lost four in a row and are out of the race by 6 1/2 games.

Sunday Dallas took a 30-20 drubbing from Buffalo and enhanced their reputation for being able to lose more games in the last minutes than anybody. Buffalo scored twice on Texas errors in the final five minutes of the game.

Wally Lemm, coach of Houston, is in a most fortunate position—having two quarterbacks who can go in and keep things moving. George Blanda got the Oilers away winging as he passed for a touchdown and kicked two field goals. Then Jack Lee came off the bench to guide the Oilers to the touchdown that nailed down the decision.

Denver led the mighty Chargers 30-0 and the half and an upset appeared in the making. But Jack Kemp fired up and pitched a 91-yard scoring pass to Keith Lincoln. Dick Harris and the Oilers' defense brigade snared an enemy throw and ran it back 30 yards for a touchdown and the Chargers were off.

A Frank Trippuca pass to Al Frazier that covered 87 yards gave Denver the lead once more. Then Kemp wrapped it up with a 65-yard scoring throw to Bob Scarpio.

One other game is on schedule Sunday — Buffalo at Denver. It will mean nothing in the race.

Unbeaten List Down to Three

By The Associated Press

Only three major schools are included in the list of four-year colleges unbeaten and untied in college football, an Associated Press check showed Sunday.

The major teams with perfect marks are Texas and Alabama, 8-0 and Rutgers, 7-0. There are 20 small college teams in the perfect record class.

Colorado as well as Southeastern Louisiana, Arkansas Tech and Otterbein were teams which lost their first game.

Daugherty Hanged in Effigy

Irate Students Shower Wrath on MSU Coach

Duffy Shoulders Blame for Spartan Losses to Gophers, Purdue

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty was hanged in effigy on the Spartan campus over the weekend, following Saturday's 7-6 loss to Purdue at Lafayette.

Spartan followers, the hopes of a national championship and possible Rose Bowl trip dashed by Minnesota and the Boilermakers the past two weeks, plainly were upset. And Duffy has become the scapegoat.

But the smiling Irishman was taking it like a man and Sunday Daugherty shouldered the blame for the twin losses himself.

"I am to blame," the veteran Spartan coach said. "I shouldn't have stuck with the same offensive combinations against Minnesota and Purdue.

"I made the mistake of believing our offensive would perk up Saturday but it didn't. Purdue had us well scouted."

The victory marked a triumphant return for the Boilermaker coach Jack Mollenkopf, who recently recovered from abdominal surgery.

Purdue, hardly counted on to win three games this fall, has now won five out of seven and, oddly enough, is back in the Big Ten title scramble. By whipping Minnesota next week and Indiana the final Saturday, the Boilermakers would end with a 5-1 conference record. Compared with an Ohio State loss to Michigan two weeks from now, a Rose Bowl bid could come to the sophomore-laden Purdue club.

Nineteen-year-old quarterback Ron Dugravio has been the key to Purdue's success this year. It was Dugravio, showing remarkable poise, who connected with sophomore halfback Tom Boris on the 15-yard pass play which produced the tying touchdown against MSU. Skip Ohl then booted the winning extra point.

The Spartans, now 3-2 in the Big Ten, scored first shortly after Dugravio's Don Underwood recovered Boris' fumble on the Purdue 46 in the first period. The Spartans stalled on the Boilermaker 27 but an intercepted Dugravio pass by Purdue's Charley Brown moments later gave MSU the ball on Purdue's 33.

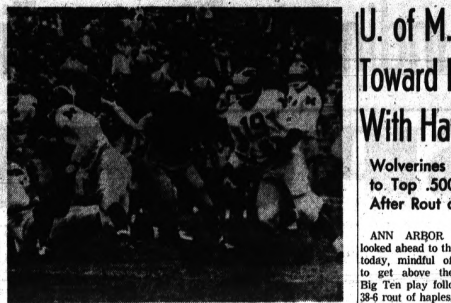

Fullback George Salinas, six man in the drive with gains of six and three yards, burst off right tackle for the final 11 yards on the fourth play of the second period.

Art Brandstadter's extra point attempt was deflected by lanky Purdue end Jack Ewell to set the stage for Purdue's winning score shortly after the second half kick-off.

The Spartans entertain Northwestern this Saturday — and it may be a good feeling to be back in Spartan Stadium.

Flint National Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Flint, Mich. Junior College won the nation's first junior college cross country team championship here Saturday with 75 points.

BOAING RAIMY — Michigan back George Raimy (19) gets good blocking on the way to a 22-yard gain in the last quarter at Illinois Saturday. Paul Raeder (35), John Hostman (37) and Guy Curtis (77) are other Wolverines shown. The "M" boys won easily, 38-6.

College Football Teams Start Bowl Scrambles

By The Associated Press

The annual scramble among college football's elite for post-season bowl assignments was under way in earnest today with fewer than a half dozen squads able to relax.

Texas, riding like a prairie wind toward the national title, is one of the few teams that can afford to relax. Texas is one of the few teams that can afford to relax.

Here, then, is the possible line-up of the bowl games: Sugar-Alabama vs. Louisiana State. Orange-Georgia Tech vs. Colorado. Rose-Minnesota vs. UCLA. Gator-Maryland vs. Arkansas.

The trash of upsets Saturday left just three major teams undefeated and untied—Texas, Alabama and Rutgers. Texas clubbed Baylor, 33-7. Alabama crushed Richmond, 66-0, and Rutgers defeated Delaware, 27-19, for No. 7.

Besides Colorado and Georgia Tech, powerhouse like Michigan State and Missouri, along with California and Oregon were victims of upsets. Purdue edged Michigan State, 7-6, when Don Brumm blocked a conversion attempt. The Air Force Academy, which had lost five of seven games, turned back California, 15-14, and Washington State dropped Oregon, 22-21.

This Saturday, Texas plays Texas Christian, Ohio State, No. 3 in the AP poll last week—and a possible Rose Bowl choice if Minnesota falls—goes against Oregon. Louisiana State has a date with Mississippi State while Minnesota faces dangerous Purdue.

Michigan State tangles with Northwestern. Mississippi will have no security with Tennessee. Colorado will try to snap back against Nevada, and Missouri meets Kansas State.

The Rose Bowl, granddaddy of them all—assuming it doesn't get Alabama—probably will go back to the Big Ten, although it no longer is under any obligation to do so. That might mean Minnesota. The Gophers no doubt, would like to go back to Pasadena in the hopes of making amends for their poor showing against Washington last Jan. 2 UCLA is the favorite for the host spot although it must

U. of M. Looks Toward Battle With Hawkeyes

Wolverines See Chance to Top .500 in Big 10 After Rout of Illini

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan looked ahead to three better Iowa today, mindful of an opportunity to get above the .500 mark in Big Ten play following Saturday's 38-6 rout of hapless Illinois.

The Wolverines, now 2-2 in conference play, face Iowa here Saturday. This contest, like the one in Champaign, has personal meaning for coach Bump Elliott. He was an assistant coach under Iowa's Forest Evashevski before returning to U-M in 1959.

In the battle of the brothers of Champaign, Pete Elliott's Illini hoped to end their agonizing losing streak but instead saw it extended to eight games, an all-time Illinois record.

The Illini had no answer for the powerful Michigan ground game as the Wolverines led 24-0 before Illinois could recover a fumble to set up its only touchdown.

Paul Raeder, filling in at fullback after starter Bill Tuncillott was injured, scored two U-M touchdowns on runs of seven and 11 yards.

Harvey Chapman of Farmington scored on a 19-yard run following a blocked Illinois punt and Dave Glines measured seven yards to George Moe for a touchdown. Sophomore Doug Bickie kicked a 21-yard field goal and five extra points as the Wolverines equaled their previous season's high output of points — 38 against Army.

Michigan, with Raimy and speedy Bennie McRae working the covers almost to perfection, looked virtually at will against the inexperienced and outmanned Illini.

McRae picked up 118 yards and Raimy 64 in the Wolverines' total of 389 yards rushing. The defense measured 110 yards to 110 yards gained — 55 on passing and 55 on the ground.

The victory was Michigan's 30th in the 47-year rivalry with Illinois and the second for Bump Elliott in two encounters with his young brother, Pete.

Stampeding Steers Reach Top in ABL

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Steers moved to the top of the American Basketball League's Western Division Sunday night with a 113-109 victory over the Los Angeles Jets.

The Steers have a 42 record and the Jets dropped to second place in the division with 33.

The Chicago Packers took over third place in the Eastern Division by defeating the Hawaii Chiefs 105-97 in the first game of a doubleheader here. The Packers are 34, two games behind Pittsburgh, Eastern Division leader, and a half game ahead of Washington.

Touch Gridders Play for Title Next Week

Dave Breeding, Bruce Rigby and Steve Goli combined to lead the defending champion Lions Rams team into next Saturday's championship game against the Cooley Blue Devils in the Waterford Township Recreation Department's boys' touch football league.

In action last weekend, Lutes downed Sandburg, 19-6, with Rigby tallying two TDs and Breeding one, and then, in the semi-finals for the league title, Breeding added a pair of six-pointers and Rigby one as Goli passed for three touchdowns in a 24-6 triumph over Buur Vikings.

In other playoff activity, Cooley beat Beaumont Rangers, 34-12, and Buur earlier downed Legett Raiders, 14-0.

Won't Change U.S. Image Abroad

Film Makers Ignore Murrow

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-News Writer
HOLLYWOOD — Edward R. Murrow has come and gone and his mission to Hollywood was considerably less than a smash hit.
The noted news-caster, now director of the United States Information Agency, came to town to tell the film industry that it could do a better job in presenting the image of America abroad.
Murrow had two strikes against him:
1. Film producers don't like to be told what to do and will yell "censorship!" when someone in the government tries. Murrow realized this and even blunted some of the pointed remarks in his prepared speech.
2. Curiously for a onetime newsman, he barred reporters from the dinner with producers. Federal officers reportedly enforced his dictum. His speech was delivered to news offices in a plain envelope amid mystery and turned out to be not the exact speech he delivered. It was not surprising that he got a bad press.
Murrow cited overseas reports: "From India—movies are doing a lot of harm to America." From Latin America—Movies are a terrible influence. From South-east Asia—Movies misrepresent America. We think of American housewives as useless drones always smoking and drinking cocktails."

Producer Eric Johnston arose to deny Murrow's reports categorically and proclaim that American films were doing a splendid job overseas.
"The whole thing was embarrassing," a producer told me afterward. "Nobody seemed to get Murrow's message at all. They didn't want to."
To this observer, it seems a shame that Hollywood continues to neglect its responsibility to present this nation to the world.
A look at the upcoming product shows a large supply of sex—"The Chapman Report," "All Fall Down," "Splendor in the Grass," and morbid psychology—"Sweet Bird of Youth," "Summer and Smoke," "Children's Hour."

The American government will be pictured with "Advice and Consent" and "The Best Man," which display the use of blackmail and corruption by high figures. American fumbling abroad is treated in "Judgment at Nuremberg," "Town without Pity" and "The Ugly American."
Are there any films that show the goodness of America? I don't see any unless you can include a couple of musicals—"Music Man," "State Fair" and "Westward"—How the West Was Won. "The republic is in greater danger now than during the last two years," Ed Murrow said in asking Hollywood's help. He doesn't appear to be getting it.

Test for Retardation Urged for Children

Parents of newborn infants are being urged to participate in a crusade to have their children tested for one cause of mental retardation which can be prevented if detected early enough.
The cause is phenylketonuria (PKU), for which tests can be given by a family doctor when the infant is 3 weeks or a month old, according to the Michigan Association for Retarded Children.
The test and a subsequent diet (if PKU is detected) can prevent brain damage.
The crusade is part of efforts by mental health organizations preceding and during National Retarded Children's Week starting Sunday.
Mexico's coastline is longer than that of the U.S. mainland.

Motor vehicle registration and highways are due to increase travel mileage on the nation's more than 33 per cent by 1965.

Fire Damages Officer's 'Home'

State Trooper's Plans to Move Into House Changed by Blaze

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Romeo State Trooper Charles L. Weber's plans to move next Monday into a house he had rented, were changed unexpectedly yesterday afternoon.

The house, at 728 W. Romeo Road, was damaged extensively by fire.

And all the work Weber had just done the night before scrubbing the walls and floors of the bedrooms — was all for naught.

The fire started when the landlord, Arthur Kettelwell, 68, of Cass City, was laying tile in the living room. He had been heating the tile with a blow torch and left the house to go outside for a minute.

When he returned he found the room ablaze. The tile paste had evidently caught fire, police said.

Kettelwell had to go half a mile to a neighbor's house to call the Romeo Fire Department.

SENT TO FIRE

Meantime the state police post dispatched a car in the vicinity to the scene. And who was the trooper at the wheel? Weber.

He was driving on Rochester Road when he got the call to check a house fire on Romeo Road near Campbell's Corners. Upon reaching the Romeo Road intersection, he debated whether to turn east or west.

He decided to see if the fire was anywhere near his house and turned east.

Despite the fact the blaze had a good start by the time the fire fighters arrived, they confined the major destruction to the living room and kitchen. Most damage was extensive throughout, however.

The damage was estimated at about $3,000 to the one-story frame house and furnishings. The owner said he had insurance.

Transferred to the Romeo post from New Buffalo Oct. 15, Weber, 27, is back home hunting again.

Car Mishap Fatal to Area Girl, 14; Driver Injured

DRYDEN TOWNSHIP — A 14-year-old local girl was killed and her companion injured when their car left General Squires Road, went down an embankment and overturned Saturday night.

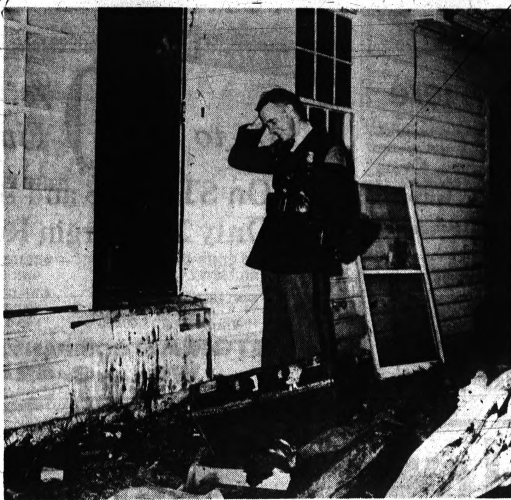

Dead in Carolyn Bush, daughter of Mrs. Cheryl Bush of 408 Crawford Road. She was a passenger in the car driven by John S. Bergeoch, 17, of 8919 Turner Road, Inkley City.

Bergeoch suffered head injuries in the mishap and is listed in fair condition today at the Community Hospital near Almont.

Lapeer County sheriff's deputies said the accident happened near South Mill Road about 9:30 p. m. The two were thrown out of the car when it overturned, deputies said.

There were no witnesses.

"NOW WHAT?" — Romeo State Trooper Charles L. Weber scratches his head after watching fire do extensive damage to the house he was going to move into next Monday. The one-story frame house is at 728 W. Romeo Road in Oakland Township. Damage was estimated at about $3,000.

Council Says OK to Ask Plan Aid

Keego Harbor to Seek Assistance From U.S. for 2-Year Study

KEEGO HARBOR — Approval to apply for planning assistance from the federal government has been given by the City Council here.

The preparation of a master plan will be done by Parkins, Rogers and Associates of Farmdale, the same firm hired by Walled Lake to develop its planning program.

Authorization to proceed with the proposed two-year study, known as the 701 program, will have to come from the federal government, which will pay 75 per cent of the cost. The city would pay the remainder.

Total cost of the plan would be $16,500. The city already has appropriated $3,000 in its budget at its portion of the study.

The City Council approved hiring the planning firm following the recommendation of the city planning commission that the consulting firm be authorized to make the study.

While the plan is being developed, the firm will meet regularly with the City Council and the planning commission. The consultants will act in an advisory capacity on all planning matters so they can be coordinated into the total development plan.

Contracts Let Friday

Start on Expansion at Brandon High

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Bulldozers went to work today on the construction project at Brandon High School after contracts were awarded Friday for the district's $330,000 expansion program.

Bids for the program totaled about $30,000 less than was anticipated, permitting the board of education to include a curtain to open into two others, forming a large audio-visual, television or meeting room.

A $385,000 bond issue to finance the projects at the high school and Belle Ann Elementary School was approved by the district electorate June 12.

Plans include the addition of a library, a board office and 10 new classrooms at the high school. Two of the classrooms will be designed to open into two others, forming a large audio-visual, television or meeting room.

The Belle Ann Elementary School will get a new boiler room, an office, lavatory and three classrooms.

Additions at the high school will house seventh and eighth graders from the 51-year-old junior high which will be sold or razed.

Wallace Construction Co., Farmington, was awarded the contract for the structural work on the projects. The firm's low bid was $194,841.

Other contracts were awarded to King and Co., Pontiac, for mechanical work at $80,731; and to Kossy Co., Dayton, Plains, for electrical work at $35,432.

Building architect is Warren Holmes Co. of Lansing.

MSUO's Shapiro to Begin Series; Will Air Castro

"Fidel Castro's Challenge to the American Teacher" will be the topic Wednesday for the first in a series of in-service lectures presented to the staffs of the Avondale schools.

Dr. Samuel Shapiro, assistant professor of history at Michigan State University, will address the 3 p.m. meeting at the high school.

Shapiro has traveled extensively in both South and Latin America and was imprisoned last Jan. 3 by Castro's regime.

The professor said the greatest challenge to Americans is to understand the scope of Castro's ambitions and the conditions which he is exploiting to achieve his goals.

The in-service staff lecture series is designed to keep teachers posted on current world events and issues of international importance.

Stored Crop Surplus a Boon in Case of War

DETROIT — America's stored crop surplus could assure survival of millions of people in event of a nuclear war, the Michigan Nuclear Society was told Friday.

Dr. A. Geoffrey Norman, University of Michigan biologist, told the society last meeting that food in storage would not be affected by a nuclear fallout and could be made available to survivors.

Joe College Just Not Ready

Moonlight, Not Maturity, Makes Marriages Here

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—A Methodist minister named Rev. Troy M. Strong this week told a group of college students that any man could be happily married to any one of 10,000 women. He pointed out that courtship is "like buying a suit of clothes"—You shop around before making a choice. And then, "You don't fall in love, you grow into it."

We can see the audience reaction now. The college boys settling back in their seats smiling, faintly, as they formed a mental picture of the 8-9 leveler they had best leave some time in before settling down with the girl they had in mind. And the coeds writhing with insecurity as they cast nervous glances at the young men they thought they had in the bag.

Can't help thinking that a number of fraternity pins changed sweaters the night after Rev. Strong's address.

The good minister is undoubtedly right in stating that any of 10,000 women could make a man happy—but I wonder if he was not wasting his breath in espousing his belief to modern American youth at the college age level.

The ability to live happily with any of a number of women comes only with maturity and experience, with complete self-confidence and understanding, and no 18-to-22-year-old can be expected to have all these traits in his back pocket.

Today's college student may be a brilliant thinker and an Atlasian physical specimen, but emotionally he is still working on his primer.

IN LOVE WITH LOVE

Like the girl next door, he listens to American popular music which tells him that you find your true love in the moonlight or across a crowded room, and he is as "in love with love" as she is; he is not ready to see beauty behind a face with acne, much less to live—happily—with any of 10,000 women possessed with any of 1,000,000 faults.

A young man becomes disillusioned and disturbed by female failings that a mature man can understand, forgive, and perhaps even learn to enjoy.

Of course, as Mr. Strong pointed out, if a man takes the time to shop around before making a choice, he has a good chance for marital happiness. But a college boy doesn't have the time, much less the money, it takes to investigate the possibilities of even a fast dozen of the 10,000 women he might eventually be delighted with.

America says a young man should be successful in business and finance, above all else. This means he must "get ahead," and if he spends all his daytimes becoming a young executive, he hasn't the strength to spend all his nighttimes shopping for wives, only to be labeled, for his efforts, a "ladies' man."

So, even if the college boy believes that there may be 10,000 women he could eventually find contentment with, there is little he can do about it.

Society, current custom and his own honorable yearnings force him into early courtship; and when the marriage turns out to be less perfect than he conceived, he can think back wistfully on the minister's advice; but there is nothing he can do except kick himself, get a divorce, become a "foolish forties" playboy, or wall, with some pain, to grow up emotionally.

So hearing Rev. Strong's views may be temporarily intriguing to Joseph College, and temporarily disturbing to his best girl.

Yet in the end, it is no more realistic today than it the past were to have told them that marriages were happier back than maturity.

In the days when couples were mated by parental proclamation...

Many Blue Chips Stay Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market backed away from its best early gains and moved irregularly early this afternoon. Trading was active.

The U.S. government list was slightly easier as the market digested preliminary results of the Treasury's nearly $7 billion November refunding.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange were mixed in quiet dealings, with trading tending to shade higher and

Parents, Counselors Should Advise

Junior High Decisions Can Affect College

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.
Professor of Education
University of Southern California

Colleges are crowded. By the time today's junior high students get there, they may well be bursting at the seams.

The colleges are already tightening their entrance requirements and demanding higher standards. Both requirements and standards are certain to go higher.

The ninth grade student, faced with these decisions that are going to set the pattern for his educational future. Whether he goes to college or not, he must choose a few of the choices. If he is already planning for his future, these decisions will be easier to make.

Human beings need both goals and plans. If they don't know where they're going, they usually drift aimlessly, taking the path of least resistance. Without planning, most students will choose the easiest courses without realizing they are drifting past opportunity. With planning, they can stop drifting, pick up the puzzle and start going somewhere.

Junior high students need long-range plans for their education — goals and plans to guide the plans. Properly chosen, goals and plans may direct the choice of courses which will keep future planning flexible. Lack of goals and plans may lead to the choice of easy courses in place of mathematics, language and physical science, and thereby may depend on the kind of college he chooses. If he is already planning for his future, these decisions will be easier to make.

Properly speaking, planning is a process, not a fixed time. It is an on-going process which is sufficiently flexible to change as the situation changes. Through this kind of planning, one can be prepared to take advantage of opportunities as they arise.

Parents of a junior high student should encourage and help him with his planning. He needs mature thinking, encouragement and support to guide him to sensible and practical decisions. The goals, of course, must be his. But he needs his parents to help him find the way.

Planning should begin with an assessment of the student's strengths and weaknesses. It is logical to build his plans for the future around the skills and abilities that are strongest now. His planning should take into consideration the kind of grades he has been making—and in what subjects. It should consider his physical and mental health and how well he likes school.

School counselors can be very helpful in planning. They have many test results from which to make judgments.

What does his counselor say about his probable success in various types of colleges? Granted that tests are not infallible and that success depends much on the will to

Once the goal is set, the short-range decisions fall into place more easily. If the student has a college goal, and it seems to be within the range of his potential and his present attainment record, planning can become quite specific.

Get college catalogues as a guide for selecting courses that meet the entrance requirements. We can encourage him to give these courses his best effort.

Help him select a college that will be most appropriate for his needs. Colleges vary nearly as much as students. They range from those which admit only "A" students, then weed out half of those, to those which admit "C" students and give them an education appropriate to their needs.

If you want your junior high youngster to get the most from education—and life—help him learn to use this planning process. Help him recognize his greatest strengths and to build his planning around them. Help him to work from strength—not from weakness.

Cocktail Hour OK (but Eat)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The cocktail hour in these tense years is not a time to escape from reality but to live with it, argues Dr. Giorgio Lilli, a veteran researcher in alcohol problems.

The cocktail hour has dangers, but these can be circumvented by understanding and controlling alcohol's effects by the simple remedy of eating while drinking, said Dr. Lilli.

The idea that alcoholic beverages can help in living realistically is neither fantasy nor scientific thinking, he said Sunday at the symposium on alcohol and civilization at the University of California School of Medicine.

The symposium is financed in part by a $25,000 grant from the Wine Advisory Board, an industry-financed state agency.

Dr. Lilli, former medical director of the Yale plan clinic for alcoholism, now is president of the International Center for Psychodietetics of Rome and New York.

He said the benefits of the cocktail hour are relaxation, socialization and a respite from the business day.

Dr. Lilli said the cocktail hour should be a relaxing rest break, a let-down into inefficiency, just as sleep is essential for maintaining efficient performance by mind and body.

THE DANGERS:

The cocktail hour's dangers are created by what Dr. Lilli called modern living's dietary heresies — a hasty breakfast, an irrational lunch preceded by rather than eaten with a drink, and an over-sized dinner.

"During the cocktail hour itself, food should be presented and it should be consumed, whether it be pretzels, crackers and cheese or hors d'oeuvres," Dr. Lilli said. Our research indicates high incidence of unusually low blood sugar values in many uninformed eaters who turn into uninformed drinkers in the late afternoon.

"The effects of alcohol are more pronounced, more sudden and more hazardous when blood sugar values are low," he said.

Plan to Publish New Sunday Newspaper

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Observer, a new Sunday newspaper, will publish its first edition on Feb. 4, 1962, it was announced Sunday.

The Observer will be issued by Dow Jones & Co., publishers of the Wall Street Journal and will have a broad general appeal to "Home and Family," Bernard Kilgore, president of the company said.

Kilgore said the newspaper would not be a Sunday edition of the Wall Street Journal. It will be published initially in the Journal's Washington, D.C., plant and will add to the news in the Eastern and South Atlantic States in addition to carrier delivery in many states.

COMING . . .

RED CHINA '61

BY JOHN STROHM

● BEHIND THESE FACES of China shown in montage is a great, tragic story . . . of Red China's attempted Great Leap Forward which became a Great Leap Backward.

● ONE REPORTER is pre-eminently qualified to tell that story. He is John Strohm, first and only American newspaper reporter to penetrate the Bamboo Curtain in 1958 . . . long-time student of China and Russia . . . noted consultant on economic and agricultural problems . . . globe-girdling reporter for NEA, Reader's Digest and NBC.

● TO OBTAIN this updating of the Red China story Strohm took tape-recorded interviews in depth from a cross section of China—refugees newly escaped from communism . . . he elicited a depth of economic, political and human intelligence rarely achieved in random interviews.

The Great Leap Backward

Noted Reporter John Strohm Will Tell Story of Crisis Inside Communist China

By BOYD LEWIS

Executive Editor, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — John Strohm, globe-girdling correspondent, has gone out to the Bamboo Curtain to study the ferment inside Red China since he toured that country three years ago—the first and to date only accredited U. S. newspaper correspondent admitted to mainland China since the Communists took over.

Under the title "RED CHINA '61," Strohm will soon begin reporting what he found in a series of exclusive dispatches distributed by the Newspaper Enterprise Association to be published in name your paper.

Boyd Lewis

Efforts to get Red China admitted to the United Nations, conflict between Peking and Moscow highlighted at the recent Party Congress in Moscow and the threat of Red aggression in Southeast Asia all lend urgency to Strohm's report. He will touch, among other things, upon these topics: the chances of a revolution against Mao Tse-tung, the chances of a war involving Red China, the breakdown of public morale on the mainland, the threat of famine.

Carrying cameras, tape recorders and notebooks, the long-legged, farm-bred Strohm has been prowling the Chinese frontier at Macao and Hong Kong. Drawing upon his years of study of China and with the aid of skilled interpreters, he has been interviewing in depth a cross section of Chinese who have fled Mao's domain within the last few weeks.

In answer to his knowing questions, soldiers, ex-party straw bosses, teachers, doctors, students, coolies and farmers have talked as they never would have dared on the other side of the Bamboo Curtain. By using a carefully prepared framework of questions, Strohm has been able to elicit social, political and economic intelligence to a depth found surprising by officials in the Orient, who say that refugees have never before been so intensively interviewed.

Strohm also has consulted men whose countries have stationed them on the Red periphery to gather intelligence on conditions on the other side. He has had access to official and semi-official reports on such matters as food production and industrial development. These he has been comparing with his detailed studies of three years ago.

The writer who has been consulted by several administrations in Washington, is renowned as an expert on agriculture and economics. So he brings an unusually sharp viewpoint and valid interpretation to the information which he has obtained from both human and documentary sources.

In dealing with China's relations with Russia, Strohm writes with the background of his extensive travels in Russia, where he was the first American correspondent ever to tour the hinterland. His first visit to China was made prior to World War II.

To get this report, Strohm returned to the "friendly" side of a frontier he crossed from China one rainy day in 1958 to the utter surprise of Hong Kong officials. Strohm had entered Red China through Russia. Only a handful of persons in the U. S. State Department, at the Newspaper Enterprise Association, at the Readers Digest and at his home in Woodstock, Ill., knew he had made it into China and they were keeping extremely quiet until he came out because war clouds were hanging heavily over Matsu and Quemoy.

To this day, Strohm still is the only newspaper reporter on the so-called "accreditation list" of the U. S. State Department who has succeeded in penetrating the Bamboo Curtain. One book and magazine writer, Edgar Snow, made it in the summer of 1960, two years after Strohm. (Snow's book has not been published.)

State Department officials in Washington report there are now 34 organizations on the list of those who would give firsthand coverage to Red China, if their reporters could be admitted. They added that our ambassador in Warsaw, who is in contact with the Red Chinese envoy there, brings up the U. S. request to admit these reporters from time to time.

Peiping never says anything but "no."

Strohm is often asked why he thinks the Red Chinese granted him a visa in 1958. He believes this was due to a combination of factors:

● He made application by cable directly to the Red leader Mao Tse-tung from Moscow and followed up with calls at Chinese embassies in five other cities.

● Peiping officials may have believed from his background as an agricultural publisher that his report would be printed in farm weeklies instead of headlines in newspapers, featured in a mass circulation magazine and televised nationally in color.

● They thought they were putting on a better show in 1958, the year of the so-called Great Leap Forward, than they actually were.

Molotov Back Home but to What End?

MOSCOW (U)—Former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov disappeared into the secret depths of Soviet society Sunday as if he had been dropped into a well.

Gray and aged, he came from Vienna by train with his gray and aging wife, to face a purge by which the Communist party hopes to wipe out a little more of the memory and a few more of the sins of the Stalin regime.

"He came clearly without resistance. Not a public official came to greet him at the train. If he had chosen freedom, he could have remained abroad.

A few plain clothes policemen showed up at the station, but they kept well back of the crowd of Western correspondents who came to question Molotov. The questions were met by the same "nyet" which he had beaten back approaches to East-West agreements after World War II.

"It's a change the subject," said Stalin's longtime associate when asked about his reported expulsion from the party and Premier Khrushchev's denunciation of him at the recent Soviet Communist party congress.

"He had a fine trip," said his wife, Paulina. "Many of the passengers came to our compartment to say 'goodbye and good luck.' Except for the foreign newsmen, only the couple's daughter, Svetlana, and her husband were on hand to greet them. Molotov, now 71, showed no outward concern at the question mark hanging over his future. Seemingly relaxed, he talked with his daughter and son-in-law about their children.

"Now you will be able to go skating with the children," Mrs. Molotov told her husband.

Not a single Soviet correspondent showed up to report Molotov's arrival. Not a line appeared to day in the press about him.

Before he left Vienna, Molotov indicated to Western correspondents that he might have something to say about the charges made against him in the party congress that he had participated in major purges of party officials under Stalin.

Reports came through unofficial channels that expulsion from the party had already been voted by Molotov's party cell. The same reports said he had appealed to the supreme party court, the Control Commission.

Soviet press officials, when asked about Molotov, pretended not to know that he had returned to Moscow.

Two Locals Turn Thumbs Down on Chrysler Pact

DETROIT (U)—Ratification of Chrysler Corp.'s new national contract with the United Auto Workers Union hit a snag Sunday when a local union in the key Twinburg, Ohio stamping plant and another at Warren voted against accepting either the national pact or local-level agreement.

Chrysler's 60,000 UAW members are represented by 45 different locals. The UAW consistently ruled that if a majority of its membership within a company ratifies a contract then it applies to all.

Mother of 3 Admits Firing Shots That Hit Southfield Man

A 45-year-old Pontiac widow who admitted shooting a Southfield man in an argument over a furnace bill Saturday afternoon was to appear in Municipal Court today on a charge of attempted murder.

In critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Albert Leo, Jr., 37, of 28215 Fairfax St., Southfield, who was shot while trying to collect an overdue bill from Mrs. Elizabeth E. The gunshot wound does not prove fatal, according to Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor said Mrs. Jones, the mother of three children, will be charged with first-degree murder if Leo dies.

'FIRED 3 TIMES'

Congo, Katanga in New Crisis; U.N. Talking Action . . . If Any

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The Security Council was summoned into session today to consider giving the United Nations Forces in the Congo more power to head off civil war.

Continued defiance of the Congo's central government by Katanga Province President Moise Tshombe has brought the big African country to a new point of crisis in its brief history as an independent nation.

The General Assembly's main political committee hoped to reach a vote today on two resolutions aimed at reducing the nuclear threat. A vote was delayed Friday when delegations asked for time for consultations on proposed amendments.

One of the resolutions, sponsored by 11 Asian and African nations, would declare the use of nuclear weapons a direct violation of the U.N. Charter, contrary to international law and a crime against civilization.

The other, submitted by 13 African states, would declare the continent of Africa a nuclear free area.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian A. Zorin, this month's president of the 11-member Security Council called the meeting on the Congo

JOSEPH KOREN

Gets Permanent Post After Serving in Acting Capacity for 17 Months

After 17 months as acting chief, Joseph Koren was today appointed Chief of Pontiac Police.

Koren, 47, was officially named chief of police by City Manager Walter K. Willman. He had been appointed acting chief in June 1960.

In a letter to Koren, Willman said "your year in an acting capacity as chief has convinced me you've earned permanent appointment."

22 YEARS ON FORCE

Koren is now in his 22nd year with the police department. He is a graduate of Pontiac Central High School and worked at Pontiac Motor Division for seven years before joining the force in 1939.

He was promoted to sergeant in 1951, made lieutenant in 1953 and captain in 1957. He was commander of the traffic and safety bureau and the services bureau before appointed acting chief.

Koren, of 261 S. Cass Lake Road, Waterford Township, was awarded a scholarship for a nine-month course at the Northwestern University Traffic Institute in August 1959.

His appointment as chief is effective Nov. 13.

Chemical Leak Kills Plan to Orbit Man This Year

CAPE CANAVERAL—A chemical leak inside a Mercury space capsule has killed America's last slim chance for rocketing a man into orbit this year.

An acid-like substance called concentrated hydrogen peroxide is dripping away inside the capsule that was to have carried a baby chimpanzee on a three-orbit trip around the earth Tuesday in the last scheduled test before manned flight.

This necessitated removing the two-ton craft from atop the Atlas booster rocket, which is on the launching pad. Inspection, repair and replacement will take at least a week, perhaps as much as two weeks.

Project Mercury scientists are pressing to locate the leak and repair any damage, but the job is expected to take at least a week and more likely 10 days or longer.

Successful completion of the chimpanzee shot this week was almost a just if the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was to have a chance of rocketing a human astronaut into orbit in 1961.

4-WEEK MINIMUM

A minimum of four weeks is required between Mercury-Atlas launchings to qualify all systems. Such a schedule can be met only if all checkouts are perfect, some thing not yet achieved in preparations for Mercury flights.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Searchers have found the body of a small squirrel monkey killed by the explosion of an Atlas missile. The Atlas, with the 14-pound monkey named Goliath in its nose, blew up 30 seconds after it was launched Friday on an intended 5,000-mile test flight.

Large pieces of the wrecked rocket were recovered from the floor of the Atlantic Ocean about 100 yards offshore. Goliath's body, discovered in the tangled debris shortly after, was unmarked except for a spot of blood on the head.

Oswald's Too Clever for Hunters

PRESTONSBURG, Ky.—Oswald is a deer who loves people.

Hundreds of residents of this Eastern Kentucky area worried themselves sick about Oswald during the four-day open season on deer when hunters stalked the colorful big country.

They didn't take into account that Oswald was as clever as a fox. Oswald deftly beat a strategic retreat to a remote section where there was almost no hunting.

DEER BARN

There, said conservation officer Raymond Copley, Oswald has been living in grassy pastures. In bad weather he makes use of a warm barn provided by Bill Boyd, a farmer in the Call Creek section of Floyd County.

As deer season approached, his friends began to worry. They decided to house him in a barn until it was safe again outside. This time Oswald balked. He wouldn't be caught.

Each of the four nights during the deer season when Oswald was in the United States about Dec. 1 day at sundown, one of Oswald's closest friends, Arnold Workman, checked the stations which register hunters' kills.

Oswald wasn't among the dead. Now he is free again to roam the hill country. The people who love him have stopped worrying until next year.

To Discuss Plans to Build Jet in State

LANSING (U)—Gov. Swainson said today he plans to meet with William P. Lear Sr. next month to discuss the possibility of manufacturing a new type of jet plane in Michigan.

Swainson said Lear wrote from his Geneva, Switzerland, headquarters to say that he would be in the United States about Dec. 1 and would like to visit with the governor.

Swainson suggested the meeting earlier in a letter last week.

Lear wrote that he would like to discuss the possibility of effecting "some kind of a joint operation" with the University of Michigan at the Willow Run Air plant at Ypsilanti.

By The Associated Press

Seven-year-old Nettie Welch faced the world alone today. Her mother and father, two brothers and a sister all died Sunday in one of the worst highway tragedies of the year in Michigan.

The driver of the other car, a young man, also was killed.

His death and those of the Welch family were among 22 reported in weekend auto mishaps in the state.

The Associated Press count of weekend deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Killed in the collision Sunday near St. Louis were: Glenn Welch, 31, of Vestaburg, and his wife Freda, 28, and their sons, Timothy, 2, and Douglas, 9, and a daughter, Cynthia, 6 months.

Edward Gilmartin, 61, of Pinconning, was killed Sunday when struck by a car on U.S. 23 north of Bay City.

George Tyler, 74, of Adrian, was injured fatally Saturday night when hit by a car on a street in Adrian.

Albert Esper, 48, of Dearborn, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a road barricade on M39 in Sterling Township of Macomb County.

ONE SURVIVED—Only twisted wreckage remains of the two cars involved in an accident which killed six people near St. Louis Sunday on M36 Highway. The only survivor of the crash was 7-year-old Nettie Welch of Vestaburg, who lost her entire family in one of the worst highway tragedies of the year in Michigan.

His car struck another driven by Arthur P. Vock, 43, of 34605 Grand River Avenue, Farmington Township. Vock, who was traveling north on Farmington Road, and his wife Maude, 40, his only passenger, were not injured.

Humphreys was the second person killed in an auto accident in the township since Friday. Fatally injured Friday when his car went off an embankment at Middle Belt and Shawnee was Gordon R. Bartel, 32, of Garden City.

Wages No Issue; Welfare Fund Gains 3 Cents

Several Civic Projects Might Have Been Hit if Contract Delayed

Construction projects in Pontiac and Oakland County resumed without interruption today after a week-end strike of 40,000 building tradesmen in Southeastern Michigan was settled this morning.

The strike affected about 1,000 workers on construction jobs in the Pontiac area and some 1,300 members of union locals on the following 20 hours of continuous negotiations over a dispute involving a health and welfare fund. Wages were not an issue.

Since the tradesmen don't work on weekends, the strike which started at 5 p.m. Friday didn't interfere with projects.

The strike would have affected the addition to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, the administrative wing of the Oakland County Courthouse, dorms, and a science-engineering building at Michigan State University Oakland and the new Pontiac Central Fire Station.

ADDS TO FUND

The settlement was announced early today by Stanley Velghey, manager of labor relations for the associated general contractors.

Working with state and federal mediators, negotiators agreed to a new two-year contract providing for a three-percent increase in employer contributions to the workers' health and welfare fund, Velghey said.

The increases are effective Nov. 1.

Employers' contributions are now 10 cents hourly. The workers had sought a fifteen cent hourly increase.

On strike were members of the Carpenters District Council, Hoisting and Portable Equipment Union, Laborer's Union, Reinforced Steelworkers Union, Cement Masons Union and the Bricklayers Union.

Bricklayers and laborers local in Pontiac have about 650 members each. A Berkeley carpenters local boasts 2,200 members.

Construction jobs threatened were in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston, Sanilac and St. Clair counties.

Most of them were housing, commercial or industrial construction projects.

It had been feared that a strike at this time would delay outside work which contractors are rushing to finish before cold weather arrives.

LOUIS C. RABAUT

Veteran Congressman Was Addressing Guests at Macchrovitz Dinner

DETROIT (U) — Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, 74, a congressman for 20 years, collapsed from a fatal heart attack Sunday night at a testimonial dinner for newly named U.S. District Judge Thaddeus M. Macchrovitz.

Rabaut collapsed as he was about to make a speech and died about an hour and a half later after being rushed to St. Francis Hospital.

VETERAN DEMOCRAT

The veteran Democrat, one of Michigan's best known men in Washington who had served since the New Deal era, slumped to the floor at the Knights of Columbus Hall a moment after he began his speech.

Others, including Judge Macchrovitz, a former colleague in Congress, rushed to his side. A fire department emergency signal was summoned but failed to revive him.

Rabaut had got only as far in his speech to say "As Dean of the Michigan Democratic delegation in Congress..."

Last rites of the Roman Catholic hospital chaplain, Doctors tried electric shock therapy and opened Rabaut's chest to massage his heart in vain efforts to save him.

Rabaut had suffered from a heart condition in recent years. He appeared at the dinner despite warnings that he might overexert himself.

Gov. John B. Swainson said, "I am deeply shocked by the news of Congressman Rabaut's sudden death."

DEDICATED SERVANT

Swainson described Rabaut as "a dedicated public servant who brought dignity, integrity and deep concern for the individual to his task of responsible representation of the 14th District."

He will be sorely missed," Swainson said.

Sen. Philip A. Hart said at Traverse City that Rabaut set a "high example" in his public and private life and he will be remembered with appreciation. Hart was at Traverse City for today's opening of the sleeping Bear Dene National Park proposal.

U.S. 'Best' Pledged to Strengthen NATO

PARIS (UPI)—President Kennedy pledged the "best efforts" of the United States today to help strengthen the Atlantic alliance and make it "a community of nations economically, politically, and morally above and beyond fear of defeat or desire for conquest."

He did so in a message to the seventh Conference of Parliament members from 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) countries which opened here this morning.

The message was read by U.S. Secretary of State John F. Stahr.

The usefulness of the NATO alliance in the military sphere has been proved. The wisdom of the NATO alliance as a political community has not yet reached its ultimate boundaries," Stahr quoted from the President's message.

PLEDGES BEST EFFORTS

"I pledge, and I know I speak for my fellow citizens in the Congress of the United States, that our best efforts will be applied in the days and years ahead for a stronger Atlantic community—a community of nations, economically, politically and morally above and beyond fear of defeat or desire for conquest, and blessed with a spiritual strength that comes from our common heritage and desire for freedom."

Stahr said Kennedy asked him to deliver the message just before he left Washington.

He read it to the NATO parliament, which is doing its work in which he said the United States is building up both its nuclear and conventional arms with the aim of making it clear to the Soviets that any kind of armed attack would be defeated.

But he criticized some of America's allies for not making as great an effort as they should.

From Our News Wires

SAIGON (UPI) — The International Control Commission today received a request from the Communist North Viet Nam regime to investigate the reported buildup of U.S. warplanes and airmen in South Viet Nam.

Releasing its complaint on reports by New York newspapers, North Viet Nam asked the ICC to look into the matter.

The United States has had a training unit in South Viet Nam for some time.

Meanwhile, in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, South Viet Nam warned the 21-nation Colombo Plan conference today that economic development programs will be of little use to Southeast Asia unless the Communist threat is overcome.

"My cry of alarm does not mean that I am pessimistic about the future of Southeast Asia," Foreign Minister Vu Van Mau of South Viet Nam told the opening of a week-long ministerial meeting of the Colombo Plan members.

He said only by realistic and realistic action can the common danger which is threatening this part of the world and is endangering the work of the Colombo Plan to its very foundation.

Williams Urges More Negroes in State Dept.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—College presidents have been asked to urge Negro students to seek posts in the State Department's foreign service.

G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, told college and university presidents attending the annual meeting of the American Association of Law Grant Colleges and State Universities the State Department wants to make the foreign service more representative of the American population.

"There are now only 17 Negro officers in the foreign service," Williams said. "Negro-Americans have had the feeling there isn't an opportunity for them in the foreign service. Consequently, they haven't applied and they haven't gotten in."

"Somehow, we must convince these young people there really is an opportunity for them."

Korean Leader Visits Chicago

Military Chief's Stop Marred by Auto Mishap Involving Motorcade

CHICAGO (AP) — Gen. Park Chung-hee, chief of South Korea's military government, stopped in Chicago Sunday night en route to Washington, where he is expected to ask President Kennedy to step up military and economic aid to his government.

Park planned meetings with South Korean students and Mayor Richard J. Daley before continuing to Washington by plane.

His Chicago stopover was marred by a collision involving five cars in a 50-car motorcade bringing him from the airport to a downtown hotel. It resulted in injuries to six Koreans living in the United States and the American husband of a Korean woman. They had greeted Gen. Park at the airport.

None of the official party was involved in the pileup which occurred on an expressway in a light mist.

During an earlier stopover in Seattle, Park said the United States "should play a major role in leading the free world to united action against communism."

The 45-year-old Korean leader said he hopes his 12-day visit will strengthen friendship between his country and the United States. He said he hopes to discuss with U.S. officials a buildup of American economic and military support for South Korea.

Donors Visit, Praise MSUO

Contributors to School Indicate Satisfaction With Progress

Donors of scholarships visited Michigan State University Oakland last night to see where their money was going. Spokesmen indicated they were more than satisfied.

Speaking for the donors, L. L. (Tex) Colbert, board chairman of Chrysler of Canada, praised MSUO's "new vision about education" and its intent to produce students with depth and breadth rather than narrow specialisms.

More than 200 representatives of donors met with about 150 students who received scholarships. The 350 were guests at homes of 15 faculty members off campus and then met in the MSUO Student Center for dinner.

Freshman Freya Figas of Southfield spoke for the scholarship holders and outlined the ways in which the funds were helping MSUO students.

A scholarship goal of $80,000 was announced for 1961-62 by Mrs. June Matthews, executive secretary of the MSUO Foundation. The goal is equal to funds received last year, according to Loren Pope, assistant to the chancellor.

Toastmaster was Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of the Pontiac Press.

6 U.S. Soldiers Die in Helicopter Crash

SEOUL, Korea (UPI)—Six American soldiers were killed today when a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed into a rice paddy near Osan Air Force Base, 30 miles south of here.

An Army announcement said a seventh person also was believed to have been killed in the crash. Only six bodies were recovered immediately.

The twin-rotor, banana-shaped helicopter crashed about three miles west of the U.S. air base while on a routine military passenger flight.

The statesman today will visit Paramount Studios to view shooting of a film. Later in the day, he will visit Marlineland — an aquarium with a show — and make a brief tour of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council.

State Prison Escapee 'Tired,' Turns Self In

WESTFIELD, N.Y. — A farmer who said he was "tired of looking over his shoulder all the time" turned himself in to state police Saturday, claiming he escaped from a Michigan prison farm two years ago.

Police said that Delbert R. Quervold, 54, told them he fled a Jackson, Mich., prison farm in March 1959, where he was serving a five-year term for grand larceny.

He said "to surrender to evil is a bad thing." But he urged tolerance, saying that "the more each party gets excited," the less meeting ground there is.

Congratulations to Workers, Givers of Area United Fund

Three cheers for us. Our United Fund drive was an unqualified success and it burst right over the top—bang!—at the Victory luncheon Friday noon. The goal was $672,500. We beat it by $2,035.

And tardy donations will drift in for the next month. All in all it's an occasion for earnest and heartfelt jubilation. We can congratulate each other. Things as big as this take an all-out, co-ordinated effort from a huge army of serious minded workers.

And then there's the givers. Don't forget them. The biggest army extant couldn't reach the solicitors unless they found an openhearted community that was willing to face its community responsibilities. It's a downright pleasure to work among its cheerful, generous people. They give you a new faith in humanity.

Every community possesses a few stinging tightwads that think only of themselves; but happily, this area is made up of fine, warmhearted people and the occasional Scrooge is marked accordingly.

We're all especially in the debt of Thomas F. Wiethorn, General Chairman. He threw himself into the campaign long before any general work was done at all and laid the groundwork for an especially thoughtful and well calculated campaign. Fund solicitations were on the widest and most comprehensive basis of any we've had. And the new spade-work will endure on into the future.

A United Fund is just what the name implies. It's support for all the agencies in the entire area. It helps build a cleaner, finer, better place for all of us to live. The average contribution isn't very large but thousands of warm hearts open spontaneously and volunteer, and that's the motivating force that makes the whole movement succeed.

The goal this year was a subject of keen debate and study as 1961 hasn't been a top period. Fund directors were aware of the financial position in which practically all businesses were placed. Many salaried workers didn't feel the setback, but most corporate giving was done on a declining income. The workers also appreciated this fact and dug in with a little something extra all the way along the line. The United Fund staff threw itself wholeheartedly into the campaign and the results were apparent.

The outcome is magnificent. Workers and givers alike can take a bow. The Pontiac Press salutes them with 21 guns and the American flag at the top of the standard.

Ah, Music!—Strange Fascinating Music!

Time for Tax Overhaul Is NOW

WASHINGTON — "The time to begin is now," said President Kennedy the other day as he proposed that America revise her world trade policies.

But he might also have made this comment about the necessity of doing something right away about the rise in unemployment due to the stagnation of the heavy-goods industries of the United States.

Why, in a period of population growth and an increase in Gross National Product, has there been a static condition in the heavy-goods industries?

Everyone knows that the only chance for industry to absorb some of the higher labor costs is by labor-saving machinery.

There is also a good deal of gloom in the whole manufacturing segment of the national economy, where the bulk of the unemployed are to be found.

Will the economic advisers of the "New Frontier" repeat the mistakes made by their fellow "brain trusters" in the New Deal days of the 1930s when unemployment persisted, with 9.1 million still unemployed when the entered World War II in December 1941?

Today unemployment is running at an indicated figure of 4.9 million for the year, which is larger than the average for any year in the last two decades.

In the 1930s, as now, the heavy-goods industries were neglected. Yet they were then, as they are today, the key to national prosperity.

The political implications of the whole situation, moreover, are becoming more pointed. The President naturally wants a victory for the Democratic party in the 1962 congressional elections. But if unemployment rises, the Democrats will lose ground in Congress.

Also, if the industries of the United States find tariffs and quotas reduced and more foreign goods flowing into this country in competition with American products, there will be an upsurge of protectionist sentiment.

It could mean the loss of a substantial number of seats and possibly the loss of the House of Representatives itself by the Democrats.

It is interesting to note that the Democratic party in 1962 will have been in control of both houses of Congress for a period of eight consecutive years. Can

Current elections are relatively inconclusive.

Both sides won—and lost.

The Democrats won the Majority in New York City and they can claim this as a major victory. But who expected to see them lose? The Republicans polled a bigger vote than before and claim they're on the ascendancy. This last sounds like an attempt to smile through some political tears.

The Dems also captured the Governorship of New Jersey. This is a major victory and was a hard-fought battle with both camps giving it the full, adult treatment. The Republicans will have to accept both as clouds without much of a silver lining.

The GOP made an unexpected change in Kentucky which the Party of the Donkey can't laugh off. And the Republicans won other minor victories.

The sum total seems to leave little as the basis for sweeping predictions or conclusions. We had a dash of this and a dash of that. The two biggest victories went to the Democratic side.

All in all, viewed from West Huron Street in Pontiac, Michigan, it looks as though the Democrats emerged from the current brush with another scalp or two dangling from their belt. Neither side broke any records.

One Portion of Cwmtyrch Dry, the Other: Oh, So Wet

By HARRY FERGUSON

LONDON (UPI)—Recent events in the Welsh village of Upper Cwmtyrch will bring a twinge of nostalgia to any American old enough to remember prohibition, bathtub gin and this immortal statement made by Will Rogers on a visit to the village: "Tomorrow Americans will stagger to the polls and vote dry."

Upper Cwmtyrch, like Berlin, is a divided town but not for the same reason. Half of it is in the county of Carmarthenshire and half in Breckonshire. A river divides the two halves and the name of the river is — steady, now — Twrch.

Well, Wales has just been through a prohibition referendum to determine whether the saloons can stay open on Sunday. It was one of those local option things which still prevail in some parts of the United States. Each county decides whether it will be wet or dry. Nine counties went wet and eight stayed dry so far as Sunday drinking is concerned.

ON RIVER TWYRCH

Carmarthenshire County went dry and Breckonshire County went wet, and all hell immediately broke loose on the banks of the River Twrch. There are two pubs in Upper Cwmtyrch, one at each end of the main street, about 200 yards apart.

Ideal Summer, who operates the Berrington, might as well be in the middle of the Sahara Desert on Sunday. He is in dry territory. William Evans, who operates the Lamb at the other end of the street, never had it so good, especially on Sunday.

Summer refused to be philosophical or to take the mandate of the electorate lying down. Instead he issued this angry statement:

"This is ridiculous. My pub is now the laughing stock of the village. A stone's throw down the street they will be open on Sunday. And I will have to stand helpless watching my customers heading that way. I won't blame them. Obviously they will go where they can get the service on Sunday."

Evans came out from behind a mountain of shillings and half crowns at the Lamb Sunday and demonstrated true sportsmanship. "It's all a bit of a mix up, I'm lucky, I suppose, being on the right side of the Twrch. But it's hardly fair to the man down the road. It should have been a national poll, not divided into areas."

Dunes Park Bill Urged Expanded

Udall Asks Amendment to Increase Recreation Area to 92,000 Acres

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall recommended Sunday that the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Recreation Area proposal be amended to cover 92,000 acres instead of the 77,000 now proposed.

Udall said he would have the plan include the Sleeping Bear Dunes area in Benzie and Leelanau counties, plus Empire Dunes, Platte Plains, South Manitou Island, North Manitou Island, Sugarloaf Mountain and closely associated inland lakes.

In a report to the Senate Interior Committee, Udall said the area lies within one day's drive of some 20 million people and offers visitors the untrammeled wilderness of a frontier.

However, he said "recreation areas" was not an appropriate name. In the interests of consistency, the area should be called "national seashore" in keeping with a number of pending legislative proposals for preservation of other segments of the nation's shoreline, Udall declared.

His report said the Sleeping Bear Dunes bill introduced by Senators Patrick McNamara, D-Mich., and Philip Hart, D-Mich., would protect continued residential occupancy in the area. But one of the bill's prime objectives is to protect the natural Lake Michigan shoreline from impairment.

Death rate in the U.S. in 1954 was among the lowest on record, estimated at 9.2 per 1,000 persons.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

N.Y. Adds 600 Officers at Peak Crime Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy has deployed more than 600 additional policemen and policewomen to high crime areas of the city during the 4 p.m. to midnight shift when crime is at its peak.

Two score policewomen, in civilian clothes and carrying guns, are doing foot patrol as decoys in sections where sex crimes have been increasing.

Reds Lose Control of Union in Britain

LONDON (AP) — The Communists have lost their grip on the executive committee of Britain's 250,000-member Electrical Trades Union.

The result of weeks of voting by union branches shows there will be only two Communists and nine non-Communists when the committee reforms, at the end of the year. Eight Communists and former members of the Communist party have dominated committee affairs.

The result was announced Sunday by ETU President Frank Faulkes, himself a Communist. Faulkes' presidential term runs to 1964. He said he has no intention of resigning.

Floods Kill 3 Persons, Destroy Homes in Syria

DAMASCUS, Syria, (AP)—Floods following heavy rains killed three persons near Damascus and destroyed 300 homes in Hama, central Syria, reports said Sunday.

Twenty-three persons were reported killed when floods swept down Turkey's southern mountains into the northern Syrian district of Afrin last week.

Over Bazley's

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me if it is proper when visiting in someone's house, to use the small fancy guest towels the hostess has hanging in the bathroom, to dry one's hands? A friend and I had a discussion on this and she said that they should not be used; that they are merely for show.

I disagreed and said that such towels were, as the name implied, for the guests' use. Will you please give us your views on this matter?

A: Guests are most certainly expected to use these towels. That is why they are there.

Q: I am a school teacher. My daughter goes to this same school and will be in my class next term. She, of course, always calls me "mother."

I would like to know if it would be proper for her to call me "mother," or must she call me what the other students do—which is Mrs. Brown.

A: Even though it would be quite understandable for her to call you "mother," it would not be proper for her to do so. It is important that she learn to call you what the others do while in the classroom.

Q: I have a friend who cheats gum almost constantly. This would be all right if she chewed quietly but she has a habit of cracking her gum. It is most annoying and whenever we are out together, people glare at her. I can't understand her doing this as she is a well brought up person and has good manners.

A: Would I be out of order to bring this to her attention, and how do I do so without offending?

Q: If you are really a good friend of hers, tell her that you have heard people criticize her because of the way she cracks her chewing gum.

Q: My fiancé is from another state and he knows very few of my relatives and friends, and will not have an opportunity to meet them before the wedding. Should I introduce him to the guests while standing in the receiving line, and if so how do I go about this?

A: You introduce him to the guests as they come up to you, saying "John, this is Aunt Mary," to an acquaintance, "Mrs. Jones, this is John," or very formally, "Mrs. Smith, may I formally, Mrs. Smith, present my husband."

Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

The Emily Post Institute offers readers booklets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like the booklet on "Wedding Expenses," send 10 cents in coin to cover cost of handling, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

The Pioneer Girls in the Pontiac area have completed plans for the group's rally, a "Pioneer Pal and Gal Get-together" at 7 p.m. Tuesday in First Baptist Church. The girl's mothers also will be guests at the meeting which will

Abby Says Check Report Card

It Depends on Student!

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know if it is possible for a student to do his homework while sitting in front of a television set which is going full blast. Thank you.

STUDENT'S MOTHER: Send me the student's report card and I'll send you my answer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother is a physician. I kept asking my husband to please take our two boys to his brother's office to have them checked over. Lloyd had a bad cough that lasted all summer, and Clyde had a rash on his feet that we couldn't get rid of.

I got tired of waiting so I took the boys to another doctor and paid this doctor in cash. I have yet to hear the end of it. What would you have done, Abby, under the same circumstances?

DOCTOR'S RELATIVE: DEAR RELATIVE: I would have called my husband's brother, made an appointment with HIM at his office, taken the boys and paid HIM.

DEAR ABBY: I am 13 years old and my mother has talked to me about the facts of life only once and that was when I was 10.

I would like to talk to her again about this subject because there are many things I don't understand, but when I mention it she tells me she will talk to me "later," but "later" never comes. If it is a word I want to have explained dealing with sex, she tells me to look it up in the dictionary. How can I get my mother to tell me things a girl should know?

TOLD NOTHING: DEAR TOLD: Not all mothers know how to tell their children the "facts of life." (It's not their fault—THEIR mothers didn't know how to tell THEM.) Your public library has some excellent books on this subject for girls just your age. Ask your librarian to recommend a few.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

Tots Fight Sleep

NEW YORK (UPI)—Going to bed isn't always a snap for tots, says the National Baby Care Council. Small children rarely know when they're tired.

Even when obviously exhausted, many do not recognize that sleep will make them feel better. To them, going to bed means being separated from groupings and fun. Parents who understand this, the Council said, are better able to help baby accept a snooze as a "must."

Bob Gage, head pro at Forest Lake Country Club, won $197 for his 73-hole total on 219 in the $10,000 Mexican National Open golf tournament.

Forest Evanshevsky's football playing family has been ridden by injuries. Forest, Jr., a sophomore quarterback for Michigan, went out on a knee injury. Jim, an Iowa City High player, suffered a brain concussion. John, 10-year-old son of the Iowa athletic director, suffered a fractured arm in a sandlot game.

PBA Tourney Led by Welu

Towering Kegler Tops Field of 24 Finalists in $40,000 Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lanky Billy Welu of St. Louis took the lead Sunday night in the opening nine-game block in the final of the $40,000 Professional Bowlers Association tournament.

Welu posted a 732 score to lead 24 pros who made it to the finals. The final 18 games will be bowled tonight.

The 60's former American Bowling Congress doubles champion finished ninth in the three-day, 30-game qualifying round and knocked over 1,569 pins in the first round.

Morris Oppenheim of Chicago was second with 72.9 points. The point average is based on one point for each 30 pins felled and one for each victory in the head-to-head bowling.

The 24 who reached the final were all that remained of a field of 192 that started the tournament Friday.

Dave Sotlar, 21-year-old from Detroit who led the qualifiers was third was 71.20.

Pistons Come Home For 2-Game Stand

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Pistons, their two-game winning streak broken by St. Louis on Saturday, return home today to prepare for a two-game stand at Convention Arena starting Wednesday.

Coach Dick McGuire's quintet will seek revenge against the Hawks in a rematch here Wednesday night, then meet the Chicago Packers in a Saturday matinee.

The Hawks presented a well-rounded attack, led by their big three of Bob Pettit (27), Clyde Lovellette (23) and Cliff Hagan (22), to hand the Pistons a 132-112 setback Saturday night.

Gene Shue had 22 and Bailey Howell 19 for Detroit, which now owns a 3-7 mark in the NBA's Western Division. The victory boosted the Hawks to a 5-6 mark in their three games.

Newhouse Will Play Table Net Exhibition

Lefly Hall Newhouse, former Detroit Tiger pitching great, will play an exhibition match with Waterford's Alan Ryan, five-time women's state champion, to highlight Thursday night's action in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association at Pontiac Center.

In last week's league action, an impressive win by Adolph Magnus against Steve Brinson was the feature match. Scores were 17-21, 21-19, 21-19. Capt. Barker's team continued to hold 1st place.

Lions Rebounding in Division Title Race

Take 2nd Place on 45-14 Win Over Cardinals

Thanksgiving Day Game With Packers Looming as Very Crucial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three weeks ago George Wilson dropped into his dressing cubicle after the Detroit Lions had suffered another bitter defeat, their third in four home games.

"We still have a chance," the coach muttered wearily.

"I tell the team that every time it might lose five games. I feel the same way now. But we have to get help from the other teams to get back in the race."

The Lions — injured, spiraling and far out of it, then — are back in the race.

Their 45-14 trouncing of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday brightened their chances for a Western Division title in the National Football League.

There's still a game and a half between the Lions and Green Bay Packers. But the Lions have gained momentum — as in their near miss last year and their world championship of 1957.

In the past three games since they left home, the Lions won twice and tied once.

They vaulted past the Chicago Bears in second place by beating the Cardinals with their highest point total in 25 games. The Lions, 5-3-1, have five games in which to overcome the deficit and catch Green Bay.

Detroit has two things in its favor. One of the remaining games — on Thanksgiving Day — is with the Packers, who edged the Bears 31-28 yesterday.

By then the Packers will be weakened by the loss of NFL scoring leader Paul Hornung, scheduled to report to the Army this week or next.

Jim Ninowski resuscitated his stranglehold on the quarterback job when Wilson used Earl Morrall on the kickoff team yesterday.

Ribbing injury to a quarterback even a second stringer — on kickoffs is seldom done.

Ninowski passed up two touchdowns and set up two others with aerials.

Danny Lewis and Nick Pietrosante got the Lions' long-dormant ground attack going with sparkling running. The Lions gained 372 yards overall — their third straight big output.

In the fourth quarter, Wilson gave his first stringers a rest and Morrall and a second backfield of Johnny Olszewski, Kenny Webb and Howard Cassidy got the last two touchdowns. Cassidy, the former Lion of 1961, scored both of them.

With the defense setting up several scoring opportunities, Jim Martin kicked a 24-yard field goal for the only first quarter score.

Then the Lions got two rapid touchdowns in the second quarter. Ninowski passed 33 yards to Gail Coghill for one. A pass interception by Dick LeBeau set up the other, a 12-yard run by Lewis.

It looked like the Lions were about to blow another two before the Cards scored twice before halftime. Sam Echeverry of Sonny Randle and Prentice Gault for the scores.

But in the third quarter Ninowski guided the Lions to two fast touchdowns. His passes to Terry Barr broke the game open. Ninowski hit Barr with a 49-yarder that advanced the ball to the 15. Lewis then ran 14 yards behind Harry Sewell's block for a touchdown.

Next time Ninowski passed 40 yards to Barr for the touchdown.

St. Mike 14-12 Loser to St. James in Final

Shamrocks Fail in Two Threats to Pull it Out

Our Lady Outscores St. Frederick, 46-25; Eagles Romp

BY CHUCK ABRAH

St. Michael blew a 12-0 early lead and then missed two golden opportunities to score in the last quarter to drop a tough 14-12 decision to strong St. James yesterday afternoon at Winder Stadium.

The triumph gave St. James 2nd place with St. Rita whipping St. Benedict to gain a title share with St. Clement in the Suburban Catholic League. St. Mary took 3rd by wallowing Royal Oak St. Mary, 33-12. St. Mike had to settle for 4th.

Our Lady of the Lakes won the free-scoring local dual Saturday night besting St. Frederick, 46-25.

The Shamrocks turned in one of their best showings of the year in defeat although the offense was held pretty well in check in the final half.

Gary Flint's return to running form gave the Big Blue their former punch back. He scored both touchdowns in the 1st quarter. He went 3 to end a 53-yard drive midway through the period after Nick Schiller's fumble recovery and a 42-yard pass from Larry Sonenberg to Charlie Daul set him up. The other was a 53-yard scamper.

The Dales went 51 yards in two plays to break into the point column. Sophomore passer John Molyka hit Bob Werner on a pass for 30 and the TD three flipped to Dick Lederman for a big PAT.

Dick LaPrairie made his 1st of three successive pass interceptions midway in the quarter to halt a Mike threat and start what proved to be the deciding march to victory.

The running of Ray Koteles and a 30-yard Molyka aerial featured a 69-yard excursion. Dick Lederman went the last four and Koteles ran the extra point.

A Shamrock fumble at the visitors' 20 nullified the only scoring threat by either side in the 3rd session. But the home team had the two big chances in the final.

A 20-yard punt return by Jerry Martin and his running paced the losers to a 1st down at the Pontiac 10. Two plays moved the ball to the 7 but a loss and interception ended the chance.

Charitable St. James gave the locals a 2nd chance by trying to gain a 1st down with 4th and two at their own 18. St. Mike took over and moved to a 1st down at the 7 but went up back at the 15.

A steady ground march by the Dales used 4 1/2 minutes before the Shamrocks finally regained possession at their own 38 with 29 seconds to play. Junior Jim Hurron could click only once in four passing attempts and it was all over for another year.

Dana Hutlosky, a good blocker most of the fall, showed why coach Jim Niebauer called for a run for the PAT attempt in the attempt to break a tie by missing two boots. Several critics, including this writer, had questioned the strategy.

The big center had been splitting the uprights in practice yesterday. "We would have tried a field goal in close but I was afraid too after he missed those other kicks," said Niebauer. Our Lady broke an early 7-1 tie to go ahead to stay. George Sharpe ran 65 and 20 for touchdowns and passed 40 to Tom Joswick for another. Bill Sweeney tallied on a 28-yard pass from Wes Borys. Borys, Dave Ottman and Tim Davis added O.L. six pointers.

Jim Sears scored three times for the Rams. Two were passes of 85 and 32 from Charley Dean and the other was a 15-yard dash. John Bie went 6 for the other. Stan Carwood scored twice to pace the Eagles. Jerry Mihal passed to Mark Dzwonkowski and Paul Mazur for two more. Walt Smela guarded the other.

Pontiac 700 Keglers Top State Jamboree

Pontiac's 700 Club bowlers ably demonstrated where the name comes from Sunday afternoon at Huron Bowl, Local Chapter 31, hosting a state-wide Jamboree, swept honors across the board and posted the tourney's top scores as it has done in the two previous meets.

A blazing 710 by 300 Bowl proprietor Joe Puertas was the feature of the afternoon, as the Pontiac chapter's newest member strung games of 241-211-238 for the Jamboree Classic crown. Puertas' series was his first 700; he had previously belonged as an associate member in a bowling alley proprietor role.

Close behind in second place was a Flint bowler Gerry De Pottery with a 703, followed by Monroe Moore at 691. George Cholewicki took fourth with 678, and Flint's Don Pasenich pitched fifth spot with a 672. Malcolm McEwen of Flint was sixth with 660, Lou Koprine seventh at 649, Ron Bartholomew eighth with 647, Norma Keeley ninth on a 640, and Ann Arbor's Mike Apel tenth with 618.

Thirty-one of the tournament's 70 participants were entered in this division, the Classic, open to bowlers of 190 and upwards.

In the Upper Division (185-199) Pontiac's Bill Smith fired a 636 for first place, followed by Jay T. V. Lark gave Paul Parker the wedding gift he wanted most when he beat Kelso in the $100.00 Washington D. C. International race at Laurel Saturday.

The 39-year-old franchise of the boy 4-year old was married last Wednesday and he told everyone who would listen that his coil would give him the perfect wedding present by winning the international.

Jockey Johnny Longden hung up the 553rd victory of his career when he lashed T. V. Lark home by 3/4 length over Kelso in a track record 2:26.1 for the mile and one-half over grass.

Kelso, the American horse of the year in 1959 and ridden by the premier stakes jockey, Eddie Arcaro, seemed a solid combination to the majority of bettors, however. They sent him off the 2-20 favorite with T. V. Lark the ($2.20) second choice.

The former horses never threatened. Venezuela's Prepuclup finished third, 12 lengths back of Kelso, and it was another 10 lengths back to Russia's Zehel. Then came France's Misti, Denmark's Wonderboy, Ireland's Sail Cheek and Russia's Litvich.

Adios Butler Retires After Many Victories

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—There was a note of sadness mingled with eager anticipation around Barn O at Roosevelt Raceway today.

The Butler's farewell to competition was a track victory over Agmat Saturday in the $50,000 National Pacing Derby at Roosevelt. His time of 2:31.3-5 for 1 1/4 miles matched the track record.

Indiana Does a Little Pushing

No Soft Soaping Allowed

NEW YORK (AP)—Monday's for Duke, smugged a pass and ran football half, and be careful of the soft soap: "It was the best game our kids played all year," said Indiana's Phil Dickens. "I just wish I could give them something more to show for it." Indiana pushed powerful Ohio State around a bit before bowing 16-7. No alibis for Wayne Hazen of Navy, whose team was stunned by Duke 30-9. "We got beat by a good team," said Dickens. "It shows what experience, 27 lettersman, can do." Pistol Pete Pedro is still piling up the points at West Texas State.

Three more touchdowns Saturday against Trinity Tex. and now a total of 130 points for the year, the country's high.
