Pontiac 1st-Quarter Car Sales Highest Since '56

Steadily climbing retail sales of Pontiac cars have given the division its best first-quarter period in five years, S. E. Knudsen, general manager and General Motors vice president announced today.

Record sales were reported also by the Chevrolet and Cadillac divisions of G.M. and the American Motors Corp.

Experts said the figures indicated a 7,000,000 sales year was still possible for the auto industry if the companies keep up the record pace.

Pontiac retail sales in March totaled 38,852—an increase of 17 per cent over February when dealer deliveries amounted to 32,204 automobiles.

"First quarter sales for 1960 were 100,871," said Knudsen. "This is a five per cent increase over the same period last year and the best first quarter period since 1956.

PONTIAC STAYS 4TH

"This accomplishment maintains Pontiac's fourth position in the industry and sales leadership of the medium price field.

"With our sales increasing 37 per cent during the last period of March, we are confident that with spring weather our sales will continue to gain."

Chevrolet's total reached more than 439,000 units for the first quarter, compared with the previous first-quarter high of 406,204 cars sold in 1956.

Cadillac reported the greatest first quarter in the division's 58-year history with the sale of 41,105 automobiles. The previous high, set last year, was 39,491.

American Motors Corp. said January-March sales of 100,466 Ramblers this year were second highest of any quarter period in the company's history, topped only by the 116,953 cars sold in the April-June quarter of 1959.

The 1960 first-quarter period was 37 per cent over the previous beginning record period of 1959 when 73,138 Ramblers were sold.

Chrysler Corp. announced passenger car sales for March were 92,708, the highest monthly sales total since August 1957 and a 68 per cent increase over March 1959.

Best since 1957 was Plymouth-DeSoto Division's retail delivery of 112,578 Plymouths and Valiants in this year's first-quarter.

More than 35,200 Dodges and Dodge Darts were sold in March, the highest month for car sales since May 1952. Last year's March total was only 11,892.

Ford Motor Co. said a 9.1 per cent increase over last year and best first-quarter period in three years was realized with the sale of 441,432 Mercurys.

Ford's newest product, the compact Comet, reported 10,441 units delivered from its introduction March 17 through March 31.

The third 10-day period in March was the highest in sales of any 10-day period since introduction of the Lark in 1958 for Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Lassiter Slayers Are Sentenced to Life in Prison

DETROIT (UPI)—Three men who admitted slaying Royal Oak used car dealer Parvin "Bill" Lassiter were sentenced to life in prison today by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid.

The trio — Roy C. Hicks, 38; Richard Jones, 28, and Charles W. Nash, 43, the confessed triggerman—pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of second degree murder earlier this year. Lassiter's attractive wife and her paramour are accused of hiring them to carry out the execution.

Lassiter was shot to death along a private road near Willow Run Airport last April 6 after he returned from a business trip in Arizona.

His ex-model wife, Mrs. Nelle Lassiter, 37, and Gordon Watson, 44, the victim's ex-business partner, are awaiting trial on charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

They are accused of hiring Hicks, Jones and Nash to assassinate Lassiter so they could claim his fortune and continue an illicit romance.

Hicks and Jones were sentenced without recommendation.

But Rashid in sentencing triggerman Nash said "I recommend that you never be paroled."

The judge said "I cannot believe that this man did not know he was the 'carburetor man'"

Traffic in City to Be Studied

Downtown Group Will Pay Big Part of Cost of 'Crash' Program'

The Downtown Development Group has underwritten part of a $3,200 study of traffic circulation and parking problems in downtown Pontiac.

The study will be by the city's planning consultant, David S. Geer of Birmingham, and George W. Barton & Associates, the consultants who prepared the $17,500 city-wide traffic study for the group of downtown business and professional men two years ago.

The group is paying for Barton's work, set at a maximum of $2,800, and the city will pay Geer set at $500.

Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stieter described the study as a "crash program" to better downtown conditions, especially for shoppers who drive to shop.

It will cover traffic circulation, signal timing, turning restrictions, use of curb lanes, use of off-street parking facilities, pedestrian amenities, channelization and pavement marking and possibly new street connections.

Want to Restudy County Needs for Courthouse

Board Committees to Ask Re-Evaluation Prior to Vote on Tax Hike

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked Tuesday to approve a restudy of county government building needs, preliminary to a tax hike proposal to finish the new courthouse.

Three committees of the Board met today and agreed a re-evaluation of a 1953 space allocation study is essential before a proposed 3 million dollar—or possibly more—tax package is submitted to voters.

Supervisors said the study, to be conducted by county consultant Dr. Louis L. Friedland and architects O'Dell Hewlett & Luckenbach of Birmingham, will show how much more money is needed to finish the mammoth project in the County Service Center.

Future courthouse needs, as to office space, over the next 25 years will be the basis of the updated study.

Completion of four additions to the 3 million dollar courthouse tower unit going up now on the Telegraph road site is expected to take a half-mill increase in the county tax rate for the next three years, and possibly four, said David Levinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Besides this needs study, 83 supervisors April 12 will be asked to approve another. This would show what public services—such as title and insurance companies, offices for attorneys, restaurants and such—will be needed nearby the new courthouse.

Levinson's committee kept an eye peeled toward securing a parcel just south of the building project and on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds. The state reportedly is ready to sell.

Plans for this second study are

S.C. Marriage Foiled

Gambi, Andre Flee Hideout

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

DILLON, S.C. — Runaway heiress Gamble Benedict and her Romanian-born lover fled their South Carolina hideaway today under threats from home that "all necessary measures" will be taken to break up her elopement.

Gamble, 19, and boy friend Andre Porumbeanu, 35, got safely to Dillon, S.C., yesterday only to be identified as they applied for a marriage license that would have been effective this afternoon. But at midmorning one of the couple's friends arrived by plane and withdrew the birth certificate Gamble had deposited with Probate Judge Walker Allen. The tall, blond young man flew off with the document at once.

It appeared Gamble and Andre might be headed into another state to launch their wedding formalities once more—this time in secret.

The South Carolina wedding license would have been valid anywhere in this state after a 24-hour wait. Newsmen were pouring in by the dozen. It appeared likely Gamble and Porumbeanu feared the discovery of their license might produce legal moves to halt a South Carolina ceremony.

Last January Mrs. Benedict sent her attorney, Robert Harper, all the way to Paris to bring Gamble home from her first elopement. And she fought the case through the New York courts to have Gamble declared a wayward minor.

Takes 6 of 10 Wisconsin Districts

Kennedy Rolls Over Humphrey

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

A MAN MUST EAT — Digging into food, Sen. Hubert Humphrey stands with smiling Sen. John F. Kennedy while waiting for a Milwaukee television appearance Tuesday. Humphrey had just been told he was 30,000 votes behind winner Kennedy in Wisconsin's presidential primary.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hurdled another high barrier in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination today, winning the Wisconsin primary in a head-on collision with one of his principal rivals.

Immediately, the Massachusetts senator said the election proved his vote-pulling power with non-Catholics, farmers, and labor unions.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in six of Wisconsin's 10 congressional districts and in the battle for the total popular vote.

With 3,437 of 3,446 precincts reported, unofficial tabulations showed Kennedy 475,901; Humphrey 370,411; Nixon 340,218.

This gave Kennedy slightly more than 56 per cent of the Democratic vote.

It also allocated 20 Wisconsin delegate votes in the Democratic National Convention to Kennedy and 10 to Humphrey. Each receives another uncontested half-vote.

Even before the final count was in, the vote broke the previous record, set in 1952, of 1,018,149.

Coming on the heels of his spectacular sweep in New Hampshire last month, this was Kennedy's second straight victory in an important presidential primary.

Wisconsin was not a spectacular triumph for him.

He had said that winning six district races, plus a majority of the popular vote, would constitute a victory for him. "Anything else would be gravy," Kennedy said.

There was no gravy.

But Kennedy said he was delighted with the result. He added, "I never took the view that we could win all 10 districts despite the pollsters. If we end up with 57 per cent of the Democratic vote we will be doing very well."

Humphrey said the election caused him no pain.

"I suppose numerically I'm the defeated candidate," he said, "but if I'm defeated I certainly don't hurt. In light of the predictions made, we have every reason to believe we did well."

The vote for Nixon also was open to interpretation. He had no opposition to stir GOP interest and he did not campaign in Wisconsin.

All 3 See Favorable Indications

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F Kennedy (D-Mass) took a measured—but not decisive—step toward the Democratic presidential nomination by winning Tuesday's Wisconsin Democratic primary.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon favorably surprised some of his closest supporters by his ability to draw a party vote in an unexciting, unopposed Republican primary in which he refused to campaign.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) kept himself politically alive in the Democratic contest. He pointed his future campaign toward a bone-crushing showdown in the May 10 West Virginia primary.

For Kennedy, his evident capture of 20 of Wisconsin's convention votes furnished satisfactory evidence he could command party support in the crucial Midwest as well as in his home New England stamping ground.

But it was not the sweep that Kennedy would have liked. Humphrey ran behind, but respectably so. Humphrey proved he is the champion of the kind of farmers who inhabit the western areas of Wisconsin which adjoin his home state of Minnesota.

'Blabbermouths' or No, State Solons Want That Pay Hike

LANSING (AP) — Michigan seemed set today to step to the top of the national ladder in pay for state legislators.

Her lawmakers shrugged off a prophecy from a colleague that the extra cash might lure a "blabbermouth bunch of gutter rats" to the legislative halls.

The bill that would peg salaries at $7,500—equaled on a yearly basis only by New York—advanced yesterday for a show-down vote in the Senate. The House already has approved the near-50-per-cent hike.

In a confused floor maneuver marked by florid oratory, the Senate overturned its Appropriations Committee. The committee had recommended holding salaries steady at $4,000 a year plus a flat $1,000 expenses.

The "gutter rats" remark came from Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor), a bitter foe of a pay raise. Christman, 72, has announced his retirement from the Legislature after this year.

On the other side of the fence, Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland), a portly lawyer, said garbagemen were paid better. He said the congressman who represents his constituency gets $22,500, has nine secretaries and a government-paid office in Oakland County.

Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit) said salaries now are a "farce" and that people "think we're taking graft because we're paid starvation wages." Blondy is a part-time court bailiff who reportedly cleared $16,000 one year from his process-serving endeavors.

Another opponent, Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), a well-to-do retired farmer, asked if lawmakers shouldn't be willing to "contribute something" for the privilege of being elected.

"I couldn't even run if my kids didn't give me money," chimed in Sen. Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain).

In separate action, some changes were written into a legislator's pension bill introduced to drop the retirement age from 60 to 55 and provide annuities to husbands in the event of death of female lawmakers.

Senators nudged ahead a bill to give $5,000-a-year raises that would put Gov. Williams' successor at $27,500 and successors of the present attorney general, secretary of state, state treasurer and auditor general at $17,500.

On All California Cars

Law to Order Antismog Device

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California, with well over seven million vehicles, is going to require antismog devices on cars throughout the state.

The Legislature made that certain Tuesday night in taking the biggest single step yet against the eye-smarting pall of air pollution.

The heavily rural Senate, faced with a reapportionment drive in smog-irritated Southern California, passed the bill 34-3. A few hours later the big city Assembly concurred in Senate amendments, 57-10.

In Los Angeles, the director of the County Air Pollution District declared the enactment means Southern California will be rid of smog within five or six years.

Who will have to install smog suppressors?

Every new car sold in the state within a year after two or more devices are certified by a state board.

How about used cars and commercial vehicles?

That will be up to each county or air pollution control district. The devices will be required unless excluded by the county or district.

Unless exempted, used cars which change ownership would have to have the devices within one year, used commercial vehicles within two years, and all used cars within three.

How much will the device cost?

Nobody can say for sure yet. Estimates range from $60 to $200. Best guess: $100 to $150.

The bill appropriates $500,000 to a state board within the Department of Public Health. The board will contract with private laboratories to test the suppressors.

Deny 'Collusion' in Roads Debate

Henry Asks If There Is Possibility of It in Inspections

A statement by City Commissioner Milton R. Henry concerning what he termed "the possibility of collusion" between city inspectors and a private contractor last night touched off an explosive clash.

After Commissioner John A. Dugan had suggested that poor ground conditions had caused Bartlett street in his district to break up during the past week, although blacktopped only a few years ago, Henry learned from City Engineer James Carlisle that the same two city inspectors had worked with the city's main blacktopping contractor for several years.

He suggested at this point "the possibility of collusion," and added, "perhaps that company has found it convenient to be the low bidder in Pontiac lately."

Willman, Carlisle and several other commissioners—including Dugan—immediately leaped to the city's defense, expressing confidence in the inspectors and the company.

HIT SNAG

Gambi and Andre had planned a North Carolina marriage when they sneaked out of New York Monday evening by train. But a blood test would have been required necessitating delay, so the couple came here instead.

They had second thoughts again last night. A man who identified himself as a friend of the couple called Judge Allen, who issued the South Carolina license, just before midnight and asked him to go to the courthouse and retrieve the birth certificate. Allen refused to do so.

The call was long-listance but it could not be determined where it came from. Apparently there was further consultation and at 10:30 a.m. a two-seat single-engine plane arrived at the Dillon airstrip bearing the "friend."

He called on Walker and this time got the certificate. The friend flew to an undisclosed destination.

It was learned, meanwhile, that barely 24 hours before the couple boarded their getaway train to Wilmington, Del., en route south, Gambi was stricken with last-minute fears and called off the elopement which originally had been scheduled for tomorrow.

Judge Allen said the boyish-looking Porumbeanu showed him divorce papers that had been translated into English. "I only read far enough to see that it was a divorce," the judge said. "I think it might have been a Mexican one."

★ ★ ★

Officials at Juarez, Mexico, across the border from El Paso, Tex., confirmed that Porumbeanu obtained a divorce there March 15. A civil court secretary said he filed the petition Feb. 18. The secretary said Porumbeanu appeared in person.

★ ★ ★

Commission Finally Adopts Michigan Plumbing Code

City commissioners last night finally adopted the provisions of the State Plumbing Code in a 5-0 vote, with Commissioner Floyd P. Miles abstaining.

Peter L. Hickey, city plumbing inspector, announced he would enforce the code in full — including the prohibition barring property owners from doing major plumbing repairs in homes or buildings they own but do not live in.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would consider hiring one or more additional plumbing inspectors, if necessary, to enforce the code.

Hickey said he needs one more plumbing inspector and another for heating. He said that the added plumbing inspector could be paid out of the new schedule of inspection fees adopted along with the code last night.

Hickey has already said he does not plan to use the new code as a weapon in any crackdown on existing plumbing, but rather as a bulwark against poor plumbing in the future.

The plumbing inspector has freely admitted that during his eight years on the job he has tried, without real legal backing, to enforce state standards here while urging their adoption on the city books.

Only dissension concerning the code came from members of the audience and from Miles, who stressed that he was not opposed to higher standards as such.

He objected, though, to the provision that restricts home owners without a plumber's license to their own homes in making major repairs.

And Miles persisted in earlier arguments that higher standards would be meaningless without adequate enforcement.

NEED MORE MEN?

Commissioners began to discuss whether more inspectors should be hired but were interrupted by City Manager Walter K. Willman, who said:

"It is your job to set the standards and my job to enforce them. Leave the latter question to me."

Five members of the audience expressed views, three for the code and two opposed.

One citizen objected to the fact that Hickey had once denied him a permit to do work in a home he owned, but did not live in.

Two plumbers and a business agent for Local 98 (AFL-CIO) of the Plumber's Union spoke in favor of the code.

During the debate, two contradictory opinions from the attorney general's office—one dated 1951 and the other 1955 — caused confusion concerning the legality of the restriction on work by home owners.

City Attorney William A. Ewart pointed out that the provision was subject to interpretation by the courts, but added that the law, as written, was definitely restrictive.

Passage of the code was considered a victory by those interested in the urban renewal project.

The city has now upped the standards of its housing and plumbing codes and is planning to tackle next a more ambitious electrical code.

Census Chief Up to His Ears in Calls From Local Gripers

"Phone calls," he muttered, "phone calls. People call and say, 'This is an irate citizen.'

"Arrgh . . . I'm irate, too."

Oakland County's "Mr. Bureau of the Census" wishes he were one of those microscopic one-celled animals that multiply simply by dividing every now and then.

Mountains of return envelopes lay on tables waiting to be sorted into cardboard cubicles, census takers rushed in waving maps, telephones jangled and pencil sharpeners did a steady grind.

W. C. Hintz' arms flailed over the stacks of returns like a whirling dirvish.

Most of the calls, he said, are from those who object to the blue form, the sample questionnaire that is to be filled out at every fourth household.

"They want to know, 'Why didn't everybody get one?' and 'Why all the silly questions?'" mimicked Hintz with an expression of great pain.

"The questions serve a purpose. They all are important. The income tax people can't see this stuff. It is all very confidential. We don't know what is in the envelopes and we don't care. No names are involved. Machines compile the data.

"Look," he said, "the answers show up only as black dots on the machine.

"One man called and said, 'I don't want everyone in the country knowing how much I make.' So I explained to him, nobody cares. It's just a statistic to be used in a survey."

As assurance, it was pointed out, census takers are sworn under penalty of $1,000 fine or two years in jail not to divulge confidential information.

It was also mentioned that any person who willfully refuses to answer the official census questions is subject to a maximum fine of $100 or 60 days in jail or both.

"And it's spring," said Hintz with distaste. "We're running a couple of days behind already because of the muddy country roads. Our tentative deadline was April 16, but we won't try to make it up. We can't."

There are approximately 225,000 doors to be knocked on in the county, averaging 15,000 homes a day for some 700 census takers.

"That's it, roughly," sighed the man with the herculean load.

At this point, Hintz looked as if he would much rather be counting nails in a barrel than counting noses in Oakland County.

He had a hardware store in Royal Oak before he became supervisor of the 1960 census here.

Kennedy Tops Humphrey in Wisconsin Election

licans cast ballots for President Eisenhower in a virtually uncontested election. In 1952, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft rolled up 335,000 GOP votes to 262,000 cast for Earl Warren, then governor of California.

MINIMIZES RELIGION

"We carried Janesville, for instance, which is only 12 per cent Catholic. I also believe the people had pretty much made up their minds before the religious issue came up."

The size of the "crossover" ballot, in which Wisconsin Republicans may vote in the Democratic primary, and vice versa, will never be known.

In Sheboygan where Catholic voters constitute 22 per cent of the total, he had 55.5 per cent of the vote. He took 44.3 per cent in Madison which has 22 per cent Catholics, and 48.3 per cent of the vote in Lacrosse where the Catholic vote is 23 per cent.

As for his draw with the farmers, Kennedy pointed to his victory in the 7th District, an agricultural area.

He was a big winner in three of Wisconsin's major industrial areas, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha. The AFL-CIO leadership in the state opposed him and urged union men to support Humphrey.

Both Humphrey and Kennedy took the occasion to comment happily on the vote for Nixon.

"Nixon did come in a wobbly third, just as I predicted," Humphrey said. "This certainly shows it doesn't pay to play tricks with politics."

"I didn't think Nixon would do as badly as he did here," Kennedy said.

But in Washington, GOP National Chairman Thruston Morton saluted the vote for Nixon. He said it was the greatest ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

New Complaint Slaps at Hoffa

Charge Claims Detroit Local Officer Was Kept After Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The latest effort to remove James R. Hoffa as president of the giant Teamsters Union was made yesterday when a new complaint contended Hoffa let a convicted perjurer remain in union office.

Martin F. O'Donoghue, chairman of the court-appointed Teamsters monitor board, filed more charges with U.S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts seeking Hoffas ouster. Hoffa faces an ouster trial before Letts on April 27.

The Teamsters, meanwhile, petitioned Letts to appoint their choice, William E. Bufalino, immediately to a monitor vacancy. Daniel B. Maher, the Union's designated monitor, has quit on grounds of poor health. The Union told Letts it was "literally outrageous" to let the Union monitorship go vacant.

Hoffa and other national officers of the 1,600,000-member Teamsters Union are serving on a provisional basis under the supervising monitors by court decree.

One of the monitors is supposed to be the Union's choice. Bufalino, however, has been criticized by the Senate Rackets Committee.

City Commissioners Are Asked to Be Present at Friday's Conference

City commissioners and City Manager Walter K. Willman have been invited to the conference between the mayor's transportation committee and top officials of National City Lines, Inc.

The meeting, scheduled for 4:30 p.m. Friday, was described as "a possible turning point" by City Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, committee chairman.

"You might as well be there in person to hear all the details first hand," said Miles to his fellow commissioners last night.

Miles said the meeting would begin with a discussion of the company's financial record. An examination of the company's books, paid for by the city, substantiated the company's statement that it made next to no profit here last year, Miles has said.

Any long range solution the committee recommends to the city's transportation troubles would have to go to the City Commission for approval.

As an important side effect to its efforts the committee hopes to bring about an end to the long strike against Pontiac City Lines, Inc., which today entered its fifth month without any indication of a settlement.

Want to Re-Evaluate Needs on Courthouse

the first indications substantiating complaints that the courthouse would be inadequate without these public accommodations.

Opponents of the shift of the courthouse from downtown tried vainly to stress this when supervisors and auditors were making plans for the move some years back.

Levinson said he hoped the tax proposal could go on the August primary ballots.

No outright opposition to this proposal came at this morning's session. Fourteen supervisors attended.

The question how the tax boost might affect the unemployed was raised, however, by Supervisor Sydney Frid of Northville.

When the supervisors will vote on submitting the tax proposal to voters depends on how long the re-evaluation of needs takes. It likely will come in May sometime.

Life Terms for 3 in Lassiter Slaying

in the slaying. "Carburetor man" is a term used by Hicks and Jones in previous court appearances to describe a killer.

"I cannot believe that he did not know why he was going to the airport" to pick up Lassiter the night he was slain, Rashid said.

Nash asked the judge if he was going to "sentence me in this case or on what I have done before." Rashid said, "On this case, but I am going to consider what you have done before."

★ ★ ★

Nash said, "This is a kangaroo court."

Hicks, Jones and Nash are all from Chattanooga, Tenn., and all are former employes of Lassiter.

They originally went on trial for first degree murder in the case, but changed their pleas to guilty of second degree murder when the prosecuting attorney obtained warrants against Mrs. Lassiter and Watson. He charged that Hicks, Jones and Nash were hired killers.

Ladies' Day Thursday

Home Show to Open

The four-day Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Improvement Show will open tomorrow with the doors wide open to the ladies.

Women will be admitted free the first day, and the second will be Men's Day.

The nominal admission charge will be 50 cents, with children under 16 admitted free.

The show will open at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the Pontiac Armory, 57 Water St., and last until 10 p.m.

Friday it will run from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday and Saturday free tickets will be distributed in the downtown area and the shopping centers.

The tickets will be handed out by two pretty models, touring the business districts in a new Pontiac convertible.

Display space has been sold out to provide Pontiac area householders with the biggest, most varied array yet of home ideas, products and materials, said Roger Rummell, chairman.

The annual Home Improvement Show is the means by which Jaycees make most of the money they spend during the year on civic and charitable projects.

Free Parking During Sales April 28-30

Pleased with the free parking experiment last month, the Downtown Merchants Assn. is planning to open up municipal parking lots to free parking again this month for the Downtown Spring Value Days sale, April 28-30.

The association told the City Commission last night it would again be willing to underwrite the cost to the city.

John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said the association plans to incorporate in the upcoming sale a feature that has proved popular during Downtown Harvest Days in the fall.

He said that Oakland County farmers would be invited to display plants and gardening equipment on the downtown sidewalks.

The Day in Birmingham

Kingsley Inn Owner Set to Add 68-Room Hotel

BIRMINGHAM — Plans are being made to construct an elaborate 68-room hotel adjacent to the Kingsley Inn, Nick Takis, owner of the restaurant, said yesterday.

"The project is still being revised and there has been no date set for construction," Takis said.

"All I can say is that I intend to build," he said.

Architect drawings of the hotel have already received the blessing of the Bloomfield Hills Planning Commission.

Takis said the proposed "plush two-story hotel" would be built on the south side of the restaurant.

An auditorium on the lower level, to be used for town hall meetings, is also planned. It would seat 600 to 700 persons, Takis said.

He said the hotel is being planned so an additional 50 rooms could be added at any time they were needed.

An underground tunnel will allow movement from the hotel to the restaurant.

A Troy man, charged with assault and battery when he hit another man in the face with a broken beer bottle, will be arraigned Friday in Birmingham Municipal County.

Police have charged that Bruce Hauswirth, 23, 2567 Crooks Rd., attacked Willard Clemons, 26, of 137 West Elwood, Clawson, Saturday night.

The fight occurred at a gas station on Woodward avenue that had closed for the night.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses told police that the two men were driving in separate cars on Woodward when both pulled into the station and the fight began.

Clemens, who required 30 stitches, was released from William Beaumont Hospital yesterday.

The Bloomfield Republican Women's Club will meet Monday at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. E. T. Hangstefer, 1940 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills.

This is a campaign training program meeting and all women in the Bloomfield area are invited to attend.

The program for the Senior Men's Club Friday will include an address by Charles A. Mentzer, who will discuss "Responsible Government."

Mentzer is executive secretary of the mayor's committee appointed to gather information on the needs of the aged.

Mrs. E. L. Todd

Service for former Birmingham resident Mrs. E. L. (Marion Lee) Todd, 62, of 24488 Roanoke St., Oak Park, will be held 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

★

Mrs. Todd died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, of injuries suffered in a fall a few days earlier.

She is survived by a son, James L. of Detroit.

Pontiac General Income Rises in Third Period

He said that the third accounting period, ending March 26, showed a net income of $8,000.

Excess of income over expenses for the year is $41,923, just under the budget prediction of $42,254, he said.

In comparison, the hospital lost $41,015 during the same period a year ago.

Per diem costs so far this year are running less than last year, he said.

"This is a very encouraging factor," said Euler.

"The reduction is in part due to increased bed capacity, which gives us a larger base of patient days to absorb our costs. So long as occupancy continues at the present high level, our financial picture looks favorable."

Beatnik 'Cave' Opens at Last—With License

Without fanfare but with a city food license, "The Cave of the Ninth Cat" opened last night, sealing its victory over City Commission efforts to prohibit opening of beatnik coffee houses in Pontiac on grounds that they corrupt youthful morals.

The coffee house, 8 S. Perry St., opened minutes after City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced she would issue the food license. It had been approved by all city inspectors concerned.

The City Commission did not pass on the license, although it could have if it wanted to. Commissioners let the matter be handled in a routine manner by city administrators.

City inspectors said they had not yet approved a license for the second beatnik spot proposed in Pontiac — "The Purple Onion" at 286 S. Saginaw St. The management of that place has asked only for an amusement license so far.

India's natural resources are said to be the third richest in the world, although up until recent years they have been little exploited.

U.S. to Launch Rockets From Island of Sardinia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States and Italy will cooperate in racket studies of the upper atmosphere.

The National Aeronautics & Space Administration said it hoped the rockets could be launched next September from a site on the Island of Sardinia.

More than two million persons are employed in the nation's eating places and the industry ranks third in the number of persons who are given steady employment.

90 Million Need Polio Vaccine

April 12 Date Named to Concentrate on Fight Against Disease

WASHINGTON (AP)—Polio vaccine supplies are at a high of 26,400,000 doses although more than 90 million Americans still need to be vaccinated, the public health service said today.

"Every year for the past four years there has been a surplus of vaccine in the spring and winter followed by a shortage in the summer, when the occurrence of polio cases reminds people they should get vaccinated," Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said in a statement.

Monday President Eisenhower called for observance of April 12 as vaccination day against polio. The President noted that April 12 will mark the fifth anniversary of the clearance of polio.

Burney said the public should understand what is involved on production of vaccine and in establishing protection in people, listing the following facts:

"1. The vaccine is most effective if used before polio is prevalent . . .

"2. The vaccine manufacturing process takes about four months; if the demand for vaccine is low now, supplies are likely to be low in the summer, since the present supply may be outdated by then.

"3. It is the third shot, due seven or more months after the first two, that gives the greatest protection. A fourth shot a year after the third adds even greater protection."

Senator Tries but Only Travels in Circle

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis), due in Providence for a speaking date Monday night, traveled a lot but only succeeded in getting back to Washington.

* * *

A roll call in the Senate delayed him so he missed an afternoon plane from Washington.

Proxmire got aboard a plane due in Providence at 8 p.m. but that was delayed an hour by fog in New York.

* * *

The senator stayed aboard, only to be carried to Boston because fog had closed down the Providence field.

Charges Stock Advisers Hailed Michigan Surety

LANSING (UPI)—Attorney General Paul Adams today charged a stock advisory service with misleading the public.

Adams wrote to Securities and Exchange Service, Denver, Colo., which he said advocated stock in Michigan Surety Co., Lansing, as a good risk.

* * *

Adams said the publication recommended that the public purchase Insurance Corp. of America stock. Insurance Corp. is parent company to Michigan Surety, which was found insolvent in Ingham Circuit Court and put under the custodianship of Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford.

The advisory service spoke in glowing terms of the operation of Michigan Surety and said it has "proven to be a profitable organization," Adams said.

Ice cream cone sales in a year in the United States amount to about $25 million.

Loves Those Britishers

DeGaulle Warms Up

LONDON (AP) — In 12 hectic hours, President Charles de Gaulle shattered Britain's image of the French leader as a man icily aloof and rigidly austere.

* * *

The man Britons last saw 16 years ago as the dedicated, unbending hero of the Free French is going out of his way to charm his hosts.

Stepping from his plane to begin a three-day state visit, he waved and saluted everyone, even newsmen.

* * *

To reporters he called: "Bonjour, bonjour. Good morning, good luck to you."

The newsmen raised a cheer.

* * *

As he drove with Queen Elizabeth in an open carriage to Buckingham Palace, De Gaulle waved continually to the lunchtime crowds. The crowds responded warmly with cries of "Vive De Gaulle."

"Well, I never expected that," gasped one surprised Briton.

* * *

Tuesday night, at the magnificent, glittering banquet at Buckingham Palace, De Gaulle paid ringing tributes to the country that sheltered him when Hitler menaced the world.

On the floodlit palace balcony afterwards De Gaulle waved and opened his arms to the cheering, roaring crowd of 100,000. Obviously he was deeply moved by an emotional reception Britain rarely gives a foreign leader.

Pay Tribute to Retiring WMU Prexy

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—Dr. Paul V. Sangren failed to achieve his two original goals in life. But thousands of persons are grateful that he did, and tonight some 500 of them will gather here to pay tribute to Sangren.

* * *

Sangren is retiring June 30 after 24 years as president of Western Michigan University.

Sangren's boyhood ambition was to be a physician. Then in order to help pay his way through medical school, he began teaching. He liked it so well he decided to stick with teaching.

He wanted to be a teacher, not an administrator. But again he was sidetracked. He became superintendent of the Clio School and then superintendent of Zeeland schools.

* * *

Sangren had served only one semester at Zeeland when he was visited by Dr. William McCracken, acting president of Western, who was so impressed that he invited Sangren to become teacher of educational psychology at Western.

* * *

But Sangren's tenure in the classroom was short. He soon became director of the bureau of educational research at Western, then chairman of the education department, then dean of administration. In 1936 he succeeded Dwight B. Waldo as president of the school.

* * *

Sangren, an ardent hunter and fisherman, plans to remain active in retirement, writing and making speeches and serving as a consultant.

FHA May Lower Minimum Payments

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Housing Administrator Norman P. Mason said today that the Federal Housing administration is restudying the possibility of lowering minimum cash payments on houses bought with FHA-backed mortgages.

* * *

Congress last year authorized lower down payments on houses costing $13,500 or more. FHA Chief Julian H. Zimmerman refused last autumn to use the authority. He said that until credit conditions eased it would not stimulate the sale and building of new homes.

* * *

Mason, Zimmerman's boss, indicated that improved availability of home loans in the past two months has led to a second look at lowering the down payments.

Daddy Philip Watches Charles in School Play

LONDON (AP)—Prince Charles, 11-year-old heir to Britain's throne, made his first appearance as an actor Monday night. Charles appeared as an usher in the play "Silence in Court" at the Cheam School, where he is a pupil. His father, Prince Philip, and his sister, Princess Anne, 9, were in the audience.

THE PRINCESS PHONE. It's not very often that we devote a whole column to a single subject, but it's a thrill to introduce to you the beautiful new Princess Phone. It's one of our most exciting new products and we want to tell you all about it!

WHAT'S SO WONDERFUL about the Princess Phone? Everything!

IT'S LITTLE! Small enough to fit easily on top of the narrowest night table (and leave enough room for the alarm clock, too!). The Princess Phone is the most compact telephone you've ever seen.

IT'S LOVELY! Five attractive decorator colors: white, beige, blue, pink, and a brand new color for telephones—turquoise. There's a pretty Princess Phone to go with every color scheme—in every room in your house.

IT LIGHTS! With a dial that glows in the dark so you can find it quickly, the Princess Phone lights up brightly when you lift the receiver.

THE PRINCESS PHONE with its glamorous new features costs only pennies a day after a one-time charge. It goes beautifully

- in the bedroom where the light-up dial is handy
- in the living room by your favorite chair
- in the kitchen to help you run your home
- in a teen-ager's room to give privacy

Order your new Princess Phone soon. Call or visit your telephone business office—or ask the man in the telephone truck.

PARTING SHOT: Here's one way for a husband to make his wife feel like a queen: give her a Princess Phone!

BOOTY FOR BEAUTY? — Lillian Reis, a former chorus girl, was being held today, charged with masterminding a theft that police charged netted her and three men $378,000. The money came from the home of a Pottstown, Pa., coal company president. Miss Reis had purchased the Celebrity Room in Philadelphia for $80,000.

Kohler Strike Six Years Old; Pickets Few

KOHLER, Wis. (AP) — The oldest and one of the most bitter major strikes in the nation marked its sixth anniversary Tuesday in this small Wisconsin community.

Local 833 of the United Automobile Workers Union continues its fight with the Kohler Co. But the sometimes violent dispute now is a strike only in a technical sense.

Employes of the nation's second largest manufacturer of plumbing fixtures enter and leave the plant with complete freedom. Token picketing consists of UAW members in parked cars.

A casual observer finds it difficult to realize that just six years ago the same entrance gates were the scene of angry violence including more than 2,000 persons.

The family-owned Kohler firm shut down for 54 days before a legal ruling was obtained against mass picketing. Then the company resumed production, using non-striking workers recruited from a wide area.

Road to Faith . . . by Oursler

We Kneel, We Bow, We Weep, but We Must Also Try Praying

By WILL OURSLER
Chapter Thirty-One

The hazards of hypocrisy loom ahead on the road to faith for the insincere, for all who falsely assume or pretend holiness.

The road is steep, the turning sharp, the edges sheer, the encircling woods dense and full of deceptive shadows.

* * *

The forest of hypocrisy is a place of snares and traps and shivering naked things that too often are semblances and echoes of ourselves and our deeds and words.

* * *

In each of these naked forms we seem to see representatives of our world, our lives and ourselves. They may appear almost real, but they are not — they are only deceptive shapes made by shadows or lifeless objects given aspects of animation by winds.

* * *

Yes, the forest of sham and hypocrisy is a beguiling place that lures one on, from one shape to the next, one grotesque to another, one sham further until we are lost and run from this one to that, seeking our road.

We can have no faith if we have strayed or are trapped in such a place, or by such ideas. Hypocrisy itself is a corroding force that withers whatever it touches, wherever it takes hold, no matter how good or valuable.

* * *

Here is a twisted thing cast in the shape of a man; big, blustery, an orator on a stump, a politician pleading for a vote. Honesty, integrity, liberalism, conservatism and middle-of-the-roadism, all at once. He talks as if he is for all that is good and against all that is bad.

* * *

Those who know him will say that behind the high-sounding words of the politician is a mess of lies.

Here is the figure of a woman. She is similar to many of the ladies who serve on church committees. Her work and her contributions are needed. But she has given much of her time and effort, enjoying it, because this committee work gives her a power in her little world. Sometimes she rides roughly over the prostrate forms of other ladies of the committee.

Possibly, deep down she wants to believe in a conventional God and wants to be sincere. But she has a weakness for pride and envy and malice, scandal-mongering and does not overcome.

GOES TO CHURCH

A woman with a child. She goes to church regularly, but her child will not play with children of parents who have other religious beliefs.

* * *

A man of the church, who cares more for the money a widow will give than for her grief.

A woman who pretends almost to saintliness. Yet in her heart she hates her husband and with her soft words she seeks to destroy him.

The road winds on through this gallery of twisted figures and we find suddenly that we are looking not at strangers or grotesque shapes, but in some measure at ourselves.

Are we then, too, hypocrites?

The possibility seeps into our awareness.

* * *

We wonder. How many times have we bowed in prayer but have not prayed? How many times have we hated deep inside when we said we loved? How many times do we go through the rituals of kindness and not mean it?

God is not deceived, and faith in Him which does not accept also the proper laws of His universe is meaningless.

There is no map through this dank world of misshapen things. The route exists only in our own minds and hearts. The challenge is within us, whether we can go ahead or not, whether we climb or not.

The answer can be found only within ourselves, and what we really mean about life and about God, and how deeply we strive to put into practice the goodness and love ordained in our religious precepts.

* * *

Our religious belief calls for the honesty to face weaknesses where they exist, to admit them and to seek to grow from that point. Faith that uses fancy words to cover empty meaning is but mockery.

The restoring of the soul comes only with the cleansing of the spirit.

"Thou hypocrite," the mind cries out.

And alone in a church a man kneels and bows his head and weeps. And prays.

Back Home After 'Exile' During K's French Visit

PARIS (UPI) — Nearly 1,000 "Khrushchev exiles" returned to the French mainland Monday after nearly a month's enforced vacation at offshore islands at the expense of the French government.

The "exiles", mostly Hungarians, Yugoslavs and other political refugees from behind the Iron Curtain, were sent to Corsica and Belle Ile, a speck of land in the Atlantic Ocean off the northwest coast of France. They were permitted to return as soon as Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was safely en route home to Moscow.

British Writer Rightly Spanks United States

Probably we deserve it.

Here's the item in question:

"I confess I have sometimes asserted that we in Britain, who once exported some not unworthy traditions abroad, have in recent decades slavishly copied from America many a fashion and custom not so worthy. It appears that the Oxford Union emphatically endorsed this view recently and the Union was trounced for endangering by its voting the present friendly relations between our two countries.

★ ★ ★

"Frankness and truth should not be totally ruled out among tried friends; otherwise friendship is a mere facade. Certainly the introduction of filth into novels is increasing in America and is growing with us. The fashion in dope and drugs and unnecessary drinking in a section of the American public has increased over here undesirable imports from a country whose majority remains basically as sensible and restrained as ours.

★ ★ ★

"I was led by reviewers to read JOHN HERSEY's The War Lover. The blurb declares that it may come to be regarded as the best anti-war novel of our time. It may be so, especially for those who are bored or disgusted with the perpetual repetition of the kind of filth which nasty-minded boys scrawl up on public lavatory walls. But I wonder whether its great merits as a story are enhanced by this tiresome repetition.

★ ★ ★

"No doubt it is realism. No doubt this is the language which American airmen in Britain habitually used in the last war. But its realistic repetition ad nauseam does not increase our respect for American culture, and accordingly does no service to our mutual respect as close friends. And I very much doubt if it adds clarity and continuity to the relation of events."

★ ★ ★

We share this disapproval of literary filth with the British writer. We're no more favorably impressed than he is.

He doesn't need to apologize.

Kassem Action Calms Western Fears for Iraq

With his government precariously balanced between Arab nationalists and Communists, Iraq's Prime Minister KASSEM has been steering a cautiously independent course.

Last July the prime minister ordered the Communist dominated People's Resistance movement to accept army control. He cut the powers of his pro-Communist economics minister, dropped him from the cabinet and refused to license the leading Communist party. Likewise, he has resisted efforts to bring Iraq under the control of the United Arab Republic.

Now Gen. KASSEM has rejected a major Communist plank — the demand that he execute former Premier FADHIL AL-JAMALI, a target of both factions. Instead Dr. JAMALI and his political colleagues have had their sentences commuted to 10 years. Other political prisoners whose crime was Nasserism still are under capital sentence.

Well known and respected in the U.S. as an enlightened spokesman for Iraq and its first delegate to the United Nations, Dr. Jamali's only crime was that of having worked with the West to further the interests of his country.

A further sign that KASSEM is moving away from the Moscow influence appeared recently in an advertisement in the London Times. It offered 200 teaching posts at Baghdad University, the new institution designed by American architects. Technicians of Western oil companies have continued their work throughout the turmoil without interference.

All this seems to indicate that Prime Minister KASSEM feels powerful enough to withstand both pressures. There is now a more hopeful outlook for peaceful development in Iran.

Kiwanis Project Hopes to Improve Citizenship

Kiwanis club members here and across the nation are embarking on an ambitious project—asking thousands of residents to appraise their roles as citizens.

★ ★ ★

Answers to the series of questions will indicate the "Citizenship Quotient" of those interviewed. There will be no comparison by Kiwanis members with scores of other people.

★ ★ ★

The important comparisons will be in the minds of those who answer the questions and measure themselves against what they know others are doing.

★ ★ ★

Kiwanians deserve a pat on the back for starting such a worthwhile job. We just hope enough members of the community take the time to cooperate with the idea, and see if they are carrying a fair share of the citizenship load.

Making Selections

In Baseball Contest. Have You Registered for $250?

April showers: What bring more mud, but you know what else, so don't complain.

Your chance of winning that $250 depends entirely on you. It goes for the nearest correct answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 5, and what will be his batting average?

Every member of your family is eligible to compete. Each entry must be on a separate piece of paper, but all can be enclosed in the same envelope.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 15.

Better attend to this little thing RIGHT NOW, and then you can forget it and anticipate the prize. That's better than forgetting to make your entry and allowing somebody else to cop the bonds. Your favorite player will do his best to win that $250 for you—if you'll do your part.

"Let's Put Out the Fuse First"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Future of Job Lies With Employe

Larry has a very widespread but entirely wrong idea about jobs. He seems to think he will find a position which will have a great future in it and thus make him a huge success. There is no future in ANY job. So Scrapbook this case and send for the "Vocational Guidance" booklet below. It is widely used in schools.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-427: Larry G., aged 23, has been out of college two years.

CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have held five jobs in the two years since I graduated.

"But there was no future in any of them, so I quit again just last week.

"Now I am looking for a position that holds out a future. Have you any suggestions?"

There is no future in ANY job!

Will you high school and college graduates please get hep to that fact?

Instead, the future is always in the worker who holds the job.

Jobs are like the stationary rungs on a ladder. They don't move higher.

But an ambitious climber can use them like stepping stones as a means of rising in the world. Any job can lead to the White House or the presidency of a corporation, if the worker keeps his wits about him and keeps climbing.

So cut out the false notion that there is a "one and only" job for you or that some jobs have a future in them.

Remind yourselves daily that "My future is in me."

Then employ jobs as a means of gaining practical experience, plus as good a pay check as is possible in legitimate fields.

And by "legitimate fields," I mean those in which your efforts add to the greater welfare and happiness of mankind.

INTROVERT TEST

As a rule, if you are a shy, shrinking violet (introvert), you may not like sales work or other "fronting" positions where you must meet the public.

But that doesn't mean you cannot be successful thereat if you have perseverance and ambition.

Some of the most timid men and women have resolutely forced themselves to become sociable. They have deliberately learned to remember names and faces.

They have memorized "canned" sales talks and then prodded themselves to ring door bells as they performed house-to-house selling.

So don't get the wrong notion that you are "born" to be shy and tactless or that you are "born" with a gift of gab. You aren't!

Neither are you "born" a musician or a mathematician or a scientist.

But most people who are introverts haven't enough desire to stay in extrovertive jobs long enough to succeed. Since extroverts hate details, they shun anything that forces them to keep books or perform precise mechanical tasks.

Instead, extroverts like to be with people and talk their way to success, so they tend to pick sales jobs or positions as receptionists, etc.

Do you save grocer's string or discard it? The string saver is more likely to be the introvert.

Do you neatly hang up your clothes at night or toss them on a chair?

Do you adopt new fashions and new slang terms slowly or quickly? Do you squeeze the toothpaste tube from the bottom end or the middle?

For a further list of test items send for the "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents (nonprofit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

In 1830, Joseph Smith organized the Church of Latter-Day Saints, more familiarly known as the Mormon Church, in Fayette, N. Y.

In 1866, veterans of the Union Army organized the Grand Army of the Republic (GAR) in Decatur, Ill.

In 1909, after 23 years of effort, Robert Peary became the first civilized man to reach the North Pole.

In 1917, the United States declared war on Germany.

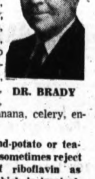
Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Label Riboflavin Sources 'Rabbit Food'

Riboflavin is the vitamin formerly called vitamin G.

Best food sources of riboflavin are whole fresh milk, dried milk, skim milk, evaporated milk, liver, eggs, wheat, fresh or dried peas, spinach, lettuce, cheese, sardines, mackerel, nuts, peanuts, turnip greens, dried alfalfa, broccoli, cauliflower, kale, soya bean, beef, ham, avocado, banana, celery, endive and yeast.



DR. BRADY

Bleary meat-and-potato or tea-and-toast hands sometimes reject food sources of riboflavin as "rabbit food," which is ironical, as we shall see.

Just how much riboflavin (vitamin G, vitamin B2) child or adult requires daily to prevent manifestations of deficiency disease is a matter of opinion, but nutrition authorities generally estimate the minimum daily requirement to be approximately 2 milligrams (one-thirtieth of a grain). This is about twice as much as one gets in 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk daily.

Eye signs are perhaps the earliest signs of ariboflavinosis (the pleasure is mine—it is medicalese for riboflavin deficiency or insufficient daily intake of vitamin B2, vitamin G, riboflavin). The signs are familiar, but usually misinterpreted.

First, slight reddening or injection of blood vessels over the eyeball on either side of the colored part of the eye.

Then burning or itching of the eyes, watering of the eyes, some impairment of vision, and photophobia or sensitiveness to strong light. The meat-and-potato or toast-and-tea hand must learn that man cannot live by calories alone.

The signs described do not invariably indicate ariboflavinosis, but that is their significance in so many cases that the affected individual should give himself or herself benefit of the doubt by (1) broadening the everyday diet to include plenty of milk; and a few of the other-high-riboflavin foods and (2) supplementing the diet with an optimal daily ration (say two or three 5-milligram tablets of riboflavin) for a month. This can do no harm in any circumstance.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, an adequate daily intake of riboflavin (B2, G) is essential for the health of the skin, hair and nails. That schoolgirl complexion is obviously NOT acquired by drinking pop.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Even if we can't get a fellow to treat others fair — I suppose we've made some progress if we cause him to realize he ought to."

Voice of the People

Thinking of Writing Letter? Read These Rules First

A general clarification of the purposes of The Voice of the People is in order from time to time.

Primarily, this column is for general use and the discussion of problems that the community shares alike. We always favor area letters over those that involve "one man" or "one woman." And we take a dim view of personal gripes on trivial matters. Those should be handled personally and directly. The Press and the public aren't involved.

★ ★ ★

When criticism of officials and their actions become personal, writers' names must be printed. It isn't fair to let Clifton Jones attack a police officer personally without identifying himself. Names are always signed as an evidence of good faith but you can use a pen name if the letter doesn't fall in this category.

★ ★ ★

Please don't include the phrase: "I dare you to print this," or "I know you'll be afraid to run this." Either of these practically guarantees the wastebasket as soon as the sentence is reached in reading.

★ ★ ★

We encourage the interchange of ideas. Your thoughts will reach a tremendous forum. The Voice of the People is probably read daily by more than a hundred thousand people. Also, we share an aversion for "name calling" with the rest of the community. Labeling someone "a dope," "a clown," or "a poor sap" doesn't impress people. Try to prove it and let the facts speak for themselves.

★ ★ ★

And we regret to state we can't try and locate junior's lost puppy. We know the little chap's in tears, but the whole area isn't particularly interested, even though it's probably sympathetic.

There is not enough space for poems or letters in poetry form.

★ ★ ★

We edit (and reduce) most of the letters. We edit and reduce practically every news item we receive from The Associated Press and United Press International. We edit and reduce features from NEA, photos by wire and from all sources. We edit local stories freely. Letters simply follow the general rule. The Press buys and pays for several times as much material each day as it uses. We do this to give you a wider selection and a better and more interesting newspaper.

Objects to Sinatra in Soldier Roles

How can people go to the movies to watch that skinny, scrawny, undersized Sinatra play the role of a he-man soldier?

★ ★ ★

When my son and millions of others were in service, he ran around the U. S. whispering silly love songs to 13-year-olds and he's still doing it while my son lies in a tiny grave 8,000 miles from home. I resent having this puny pipsqueak play the part of a he-man.

And now he hires a Fifth Amendment writer to produce his celluloid garbage. A soldier? He isn't even a cheap imitation.

'We Taxpayers Are Taking a Beating'

Our courts dismiss another case because of "inadmissable evidence." What has actually happened doesn't seem to count so much any more. It's just that some law books say to give the people all the best end of everything before the courts. Society and we taxpayers are just getting kicked around—even worse than usual.

'Those Six Terms Meant Big Change'

Maybe de Solvino wasn't in the country when Democrats took over and Williams was elected. Mr. Kelly had just finished his term in office, the books were anything but in the red, and there was a $50 million veterans trust fund. That was what Mr. Kelly a veteran and Republican did for his State.

It took Williams just six terms to change it and put the State in the red and spend the trust fund. Put two and two together, that's all it takes. As for McNamara's hand, Reuther has been conducting that, with McNamara tooting the big horn and Hart playing second fiddle.

'It's No Wonder We Vote Democratic'

Ike has scored another victory in rejection of the Forand Bill. It's the same kind of victory he won when he gave the tideland oil to some Texans to get the Texas vote.

Comments Continue Concerning Beatniks

I don't know what a beatnik is, but can they be as bad for us as beer and liquor? Many well-meaning people are being made slaves to this destroyer. The highest and lowest of society are affected alike. Even some church people say it's all right to drink.

★ ★ ★

America has over five million alcoholics, Michigan has over 80,000. They're people not only sick of body but will be sick of mind if not properly treated. Thousands of broken homes, persons killed on highways, delinquents result from what started to be just a few drinks.

★ ★ ★

Who knows? Maybe the beatnik can teach us a few things, after all.

Deeply Concerned

Other places strive to get rid of beatniks, but we'll take them to our bosom because our poor teen-agers don't have a place to hang out. Sad, isn't it, that young people can't take their friends home to stay off the streets? They've been told, since they were old enough to play with others, to stay out of mama's fine house and keep their grubby, noisy friends away. Let them soil their souls but don't soil the rug. So send them to the beatniks. They'll take care of them and mold them for us—into rebels of society.

'Why Don't Police Patrol the City?'

What's happened to our Pontiac Police foot patrol and patrol cars? Our store was broken into after 9:15 Monday evening by tearing out part of the outside wall. At 9 a.m. Tuesday we found the back doors standing wide open with merchandise, broken glass and lumber strewn all over. These doors had been open for hours. Where were the patrol cars? Alleys back of stores should be patrolled regularly. I request this be done and am sure all our merchants desire it.

Objects to Proposal on April Ballot

Voters should realize the gravity of the proposed issue on the April ballot giving responsibilities for firing the Chief of Police to the City Manager alone. Should this pass and we get a dishonest Manager in the future, he alone could control the City. The Chief would have to obey, right or wrong. With abolishment of Public Safety Director, the Chief's boss is the Manager and can be fired through the Trial Board. If we haven't enough faith in our Manager's ability to present a case to the Trial Board (consisting of leading citizens), we have the wrong manager. Democracy is cumbersome sometimes, but these safeguards are for a reason—to protect you and me.

Dinner to Launch Drive

Want to Raise Funds to Support Bagwells

LANSING (AP) — A "Bagwell family living expense fund" is being set up to help Paul D. Bagwell, a leading possibility for the GOP governor nomination.

The fund was announced by John M. Feikens, former GOP state committee chairman, who called Bagwell the Republicans' "probable candidate."

Bagwell, defeated by Gov. Williams in 1958, is expected to announce for the GOP nomination when he is released from a Lansing hospital where he is recovering from a knee operation.

Feikens, a Bagwell aide in the 1958 campaign, said the fund drive will be kicked off by an April 29 dinner at the Lansing Civic Center. Tickets were to sell for $15 each or $25 a couple.

He said it was hoped to sell approximately 1,000 tickets to net $10,000 after expenses.

Bagwell mortgaged his East Lansing home and went into debt in 1958 to support himself, wife Edith and daughter Judy, Feikens said.

He will have to take a leave without pay from his post as scholarship director at Michigan State University to make the campaign this year.

"We want him to run again," Feikens said. "The only way his family can be provided for during the many months of campaigning ahead is through contributions from some of the many, many people who believe him to be the best choice for governor."

Galveston Approves Open Lunch Counters

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — Less than a century ago, slave ships from Africa sailed into this gulf coast city to unload their human cargoes of black gold.

Today, Negro and white residents of Galveston have begun sitting down side-by-side at lunch counters. There have been no incidents at the latest report.

Galveston is the second Texas city to open its lunch counters to Negroes. The first city was San Antonio, third largest in the state.

Galveston has a metropolitan population of about 129,000. It is located 50 miles south of Houston, where the first sitdown demonstrations in Texas took place March 4, and was followed by several incidents of violence.

Store managers, civic and religious leaders held a conference yesterday and announced the decision to voluntarily drop the color bar. Almost immediately, Negroes began eating at lunch counters in F. W. Woolworth's, Kresge's, Weingarten's supermarket, four Texas drug stores, three the weekend.

Wright drug stores, and several other stores.

There have been two or three sitdown demonstrations, but none in the past 10 days in Galveston.

The action was in sharp contrast to a series of demonstrations in Marshall, Tex., where authorities used fire hoses to break up a crowd of Negro students protesting the arrest of students who tried to get served at three lunch counters.

The Galveston Ministerial Alliance and leaders of the Roman Catholic and Jewish faiths issued a statement following the meeting in support of the integrated eating plan.

Corvair Back on Beam

Harvard Backs Sex Scientist

State Police Accuse Psychiatrist of Buying Obscene Pictures

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — A psychiatrist, accused of importing obscene photographs for exhibition, was backed by Harvard University today in his fight to show his purposes were scientific.

The allegedly pornographic pictures were seized by state police and postal authorities in a raid on Dr. John Speigel's Harvard-Square office laboratory. Authorities said the photographs originated in London and apparently were distributed by a midwestern source.

Spiegel's name was found on a mailing list in Michigan which had been seized by postal authorities.

Spiegel pleaded innocent to the indictments yesterday. His attorney, Thomas Dwyer, was given 10 days to file special pleas by Superior Judge Edward A. Pecce. No trial date was set. Spiegel was freed in personal recognizance.

* * *

The case closely paralleled one involving Indiana University in 1958 when its Institute for Sex Research won a court battle with the U.S. Customs Service. Federal authorities had accused the university department of importing outwardly obscene material.

The institute, which first gained fame with Dr. Alfred Kinsey's sex studies, defended itself on the grounds that the material was used strictly for scientific purposes.

Harvard came quickly to the defense of the professor. In a formal statement, it said: "University authorities have full confidence in Dr. Spiegel. We are satisfied the materials in question were obtained and used for the purpose of professional research.

* * *

"These pictures were used by Dr. Spiegel as part of a major study of the causes of emotional disturbances in the family life of children and adults."

They're Good, Bad and Plentiful

Cash for Committees?

LANSING (UPI)—"There are a few good ones but generally little is accomplished. They report and that's all there is to it."

The speaker was Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) and the topic was interim legislative committees.

In less than three months legislators have introduced requests for about 60 committees and asked for more than $200,000 to run them.

That total will be whittled far down and relatively few committees will be approved but there are indications legislators are finding more and more reason to ask for committees to operate between sessions.

Study committees have been asked to look into higher education, highways, employment, aging, trading stamps, activities of collegiate athletes between seasons, taxation, liquor laws, police brutality and power lawn mowers.

"There is nothing wrong with the system," said Rep. Russell Strange Jr. (R-Clare). "Whether or not a trip to Texas on committee work is a junket depends on the legislators themselves. They can go, learn and get a lot out of it or they can be boobs and do nothing but enjoy a free trip."

★ ★ ★

Committees have so far been approved to look into waste in government, with a budget of $7,500; investigate the highway department on $20,000 and study employment, with an appropriation of $2,500.

Lawmakers also would get to go to Albany, N.Y. for a legislative leaders conference and to Washington for a highways users session. Another trip desired is one to Kansas City for a motor vehicle administrators session.

Budget-conscious lawmakers have trimmed many of the money requests.

A legislative committee to review administration of the crippled and afflicted childrens acts was approved but not until the appropriation for it was shaved from $2,500 to $500.

A highway safety group was also approved, after its budget was trimmed from $10,000 to $2,000.

There was an attempt in the House to give lawmakers up to $6,000 additional year for many hours of committee work between sessions.

The idea was dropped.

Had it succeeded, Hutchinson said, nearly every member of the Legislature would be spending all his time on committees.

"And it wouldn't take long either," he said.

Urges Lower Air Fares for Military Personnel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman James R. Durfee of the Civil Aeronautics Board Monday urged Congress to authorize domestic air lines to carry military personnel on furlough at reduced fares.

Durfee told the Senate Aviation Subcommittee the cut-rate trips would be a justified break for uniformed men and women who have only limited time off.

★ ★ ★

He said that if Congress approves a proposal to permit cut-rate fares for furlough military personnel on flights between the other states and Alaska or Hawaii, the permission should be made general. He offered to submit an amendment to accomplish this.

U. of M. Team Can Treat Cretinism Before Birth

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—First steps toward detecting and preventing cretinism in babies before they are born have been taken by a University of Michigan medical research team.

The procedure looks promising as a means of diagnosing the disease before birth. It also suggests that prenatal treatment is feasible, a leader of the group said.

Dr. Edward A. Carr, who made the report to the American College of Physicians, said development of the method will take time but that it might eventually open the way toward prenatal detection and treatment of other mental defects.

Cretinism is a defect of mentality due to lack of thyroid gland functioning. It is uncommon but Dr. Carr rated it as second only to diabetes as a disease for children.

Two pregnant women have been treated by the Michigan team. Each woman previously had given birth to two cretins. The treatment consisted of giving the women thyroid preparation.

One of the new babies turned out to be normal. The other had no thyroid gland but, at the age of one year showed normal mental and physical development on regularly administered doses of thyroid, Dr. Carr said.

The problem is what to look for in women who might produce cretins. There are two characteristics of the disease. Some cretins have thyroid glands which do not function. Others have no thyroids.

Those with nonfunctioning thyroids are cretins because of genetic defects. One out of every four children born to couples with this genetic defect is likely to be cretin, Dr. Carr reported.

★ ★ ★

The child born without any thyroid gland whatever is a kind of accident and his mother is not necessarily a cretin risk, Dr. Carr said.

To Be Parson, Counsel Others

Wife-Collector Shifts Hobby

★ ★ ★

He plans to open a church in downtown Las Vegas, Nev.—it will specialize in marriage.

Wolfe has married and divorced a dozen women — most of them teen-age girls. He was ordained a minister in the Travelers Rest Baptist Church in downtown Los Angeles last Friday.

★ ★ ★

"My marriages gave me an edge on a lot of people," he reflected Tuesday. "You have to have these experiences to help others.

"I was always looking for something spiritual in my wives."

Wolfe, 46, said he doesn't plan to marry again. He said he will do some marriage counseling.

He already has a charter from the state of Nevada to open the church in Las Vegas. Because marriage is something of a gamble, Wolfe added, his church will be a refuge for losing gamblers. "Those who win can tithe at our church," Wolfe said.

Losers and winners alike won't have much trouble finding the church, he continued, because it will be situated in the heart of the downtown gambling district.

"The Lord must go to the sinners to save them," he explained.

He said he would not preach against gambling because: "In trapping skunks, I always set my traps right at the hole—not a mile away. Besides I believe in letting a man do what he wants to do until he gets ready to quit."

★ ★ ★

Wolfe is proud of the fact that he has remained on the best of terms with all of his ex-wives. In fact, as many as four ex-wives at a time have lived in his hotel.

Will Attend Seminar on Schools

City Teachers to MSU

Four Pontiac elementary school principals will attend a seminar at Michigan State University Thursday and Friday on the subject, "What is a good elementary school?"

They are Warren Abbott, Owen School; John Perdue, Bagley School; Lester Stanley, Hawthorne School; and Thomas Temple, McConnell School.

The Pontiac representatives will join 500 other administrators from elementary schools across the state in an effort to evaluate existing goals and practices within the elementary school.

The program, to be held at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, will consist of problem clinics, general sessions and "town hall meetings."

Keynote speaker will be Dr. Wilbur Yauch, professor of education at Northern Illinois State University, on "How good is your school?" at Thursday night's meeting.

Highlighting Friday's session will be a talk on "Are the American schools fulfilling their responsibilities?" by Dr. George Z. Bereday, professor of comparative education at Teachers College, Columbia University.

★ ★ ★

The problem clinics will tackle such topics as legislative action in Michigan, changes facing the principal and improving elementary school libraries.

Governor Gets Trucking Bill

Measure Would Halt Discrimination Against Michigan Vehicles

LANSING (AP)—A bill designed to end discrimination against Michigan truckers by other states headed for Gov. Williams' desk for signing today.

The measure, which cleared the House yesterday on a 92-2 vote, will set up a more powerful Highway Reciprocity Board.

The board would have the authority to impose special taxes on trucks from other states which imposed taxes on Michigan vehicles that are considered discriminatory.

The Secretary of State's office, which backed the measure, cited Ohio's axle mile tax as an example. Illinois, the office said, tries to boost its truck fee revenue by setting up special rules for out-of-state companies which force them to register some of their vehicles in Illinois.

The new act would also give the board the authority to enter into multi-state agreements which have been widely adopted in the past 10 years.

It follows the old act in setting up a board composed of the Secretary of State, the Highway Commissioner and the chairman of the Public Service Commission.

Queen Confers Barony on Sir Gladwyn Jebb

LONDON (AP) — Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain's ambassador to France, retires from a 36-year foreign service career this month only to enter another branch of government. Queen Elizabeth II today conferred a barony on the 60-year-old diplomat, making him a member of the House of Lords.

OKs Dope Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House adopted by voice vote Monday a resolution asking that a narcotics conference be called to consider such questions as continuing consultation with other governments and ways to bring about better cooperation of federal and state narcotics enforcement agencies in this country.

Detroit Building Up

DETROIT (AP)—The F. W. Dodge Corp. says February contracts for future residential construction in the metropolitan Detroit area amounted to $19,196,000, a 36 per cent increase over February 1959. However, nonresidential construction contracts were $7,860,000, down 2 per cent from February 1959.

Librarians Eye New Standards

Will Meet Thursday to Begin Adoption of Latest Code

Pontiac's elementary school librarians and fifth grade teachers will meet Thursday to begin adoption of the recently published new standards for elementary libraries.

The group will consider the services and materials adequate libraries can provide to improve the teaching process and to increase pupil's understandings, learnings and appreciations.

Twenty-six elementary schools will be represented in the discussion sessions at the Wever School.

The utilization of resource people as a part of library service will be demonstrated at the meeting.

Resource people to attend the session will be headed by Gerald White, coordinator of elementary education.

Library facilities and resource people will be used to show how their services can enhance the teaching program, using social studies units on Latni America as the example on Thursday.

★ ★ ★

County Will Send 51 Into Army in May

Oakland County draft boards will furnish 51 men for induction into the Army during May, according to Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director.

The quota for the state will be 471 men. Another 1,000 registrants will be ordered for pre-induction physical examinations.

Boards 65 and 67 in Pontiac will furnish 21 men while Board 66 in Royal Oak will induct 30 men.

All inductees will be at least 22 years old except for delinquents and volunteers.

South Pounding at Rights Bill

Sen. Ellender Talks On; Russell Sees Measure Passing Eventually

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators opposed to the House-passed civil rights bill kept hammering away today at its key voting rights section despite the heavy odds against them.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-GA), leader of the Dixie forces, discounted talk the Senate was verging on passage of the measure.

He did not, however, rule out the possibility the Senate might complete action and send the bill back to the House by the weekend.

A 14-hour session Tuesday produced only one vote. By a 64-29 tally, the Senate rejected an amendment by Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-NC) to a provision of the bill which would permit federal judges to register Negroes and other minority groups who are victims of discrimination. Ervin's proposal would have required the judges to give advance notice to state officials and let them testify.

A reminder of the Southerners' power to filibuster was given by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) after he moved Tuesday afternoon to strike out the section of the bill providing for federal voting referees.

The 69-year-old senator spoke for seven hours and 40 minutes, except for a 10-minute interruption for a quorum call, before he yielded the floor at midnight and the Senate recessed until 10 a.m. today.

Ellender was still going strong at midnight but, in response to an appeal from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif) agreed to put off the rest of his speech until today.

Holds Up U.S. Action on Development Unit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) Tuesday held up action by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on a bill authorizing U. S. membership in the proposed International Development Assn. (IDA).

★ ★ ★

At Aiken's request, the committee put off for two weeks a vote on the measure. President Eisenhower has proposed it to provide a new billion-dollar agency as an additional source of loans for economic projects in underdeveloped areas.

★ ★ ★

Aiken said the IDA would be a subsidiary of the world bank "and I want to be sure it will not be used to bail out loans of the world bank that turn soft."

State Distributes Intangibles Funds

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Williams and his administrative board dipped into the state's meager general fund Tuesday to pay cities and villages the last installment on 1958-59 intangibles tax collections.

★ ★ ★

The board agreed to give local governments the $4,700,000 remaining of the 9½ million dollars collected and rebated annually from the intangibles levy.

In another sweepout of the general fund, the board also earmarked $11,400,000 as a reserve for payment of a 36 million dollar primary school interest fund payment due May 15 and a 13 million dollar sales tax refund slated for distribution to local governments April 30.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said he anticipated both payments would be made on time.

Brown said state bills will total more than 101 million dollars by the end of May. The year-end general fund deficit as of June 30 has been estimated at 72 millions.

Is She Mine or Myopic?

ATLANTA (UPI) — Eye specialist Dr. Robert H. Thurmond warned men in a talk here yesterday that "when a woman looks intently at a man and her eyes are limpid and the pupils are large, it doesn't necessarily mean she's yearning for him. She is probably nearsighted or myopic."

Steer Clear of Politics, State Appointees Told

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Williams Monday advised Democratic appointees to state boards and commissions to steer clear of "active roles" in the party's primary elections for governor and lieutenant governor.

He also repeated his promise to remain neutral in the campaigns.

★ ★ ★

"It is recognized that appointees, like every other Democrat, will be making choices among the candidates," he said. "All I am urging is that the appointees, because of their position both in government and in party affairs, use prudence and common sense in their activities during the primary election."

Named Munising Mayor

MUNISING (UPI)—Leo R. Garlety was elected mayor of Munising in a municipal election Monday. Garlety outpolled Vernon Foria, 812 to 410.

STORY OF THE PONY EXPRESS

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

Early in 1860, eastern newspapers announced a new letter delivery service to the West. Many would not believe it. Thirteen days from New York to San Francisco! On March 31, letters from Washington and New York were entrained for St. Joseph, Mo., the westernmost terminus of the telegraph.

On the afternoon of April 3, a crowd assembled in St. Joe amid flags and bunting while a brass band entertained. But word was flashed that the messenger carrying the special mail had missed a connection in Detroit. He would be two hours late leaving Hannibal.

The men of the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad were well aware of the urgency. Orders were issued to clear the main track and close all switches. A nervy engineer, Addison Clark, was selected to drive the special train and told to set a record that would last 50 years. Clark covered the 206-mile run in four hours and 51 minutes, averaging over 40 miles per hour, a feat thought impossible.

At St. Joe, the mail was quickly stowed in the cantinas — 49 letters, five telegrams and some special-edition newspapers — all at $5 a half-ounce (later reduced to $1). They were written or printed on tissue paper and wrapped in silskin. Maximum weight for the mail had been set at 20 pounds.

Records divide the honor of being the first Pony Express rider to leave St. Joe between two men, Johnny Frey (or Frye) and Johnson William Richardson, though late evidence seems to favor the latter. At any rate, about 7:00 in the evening, the impatient rider was off to the sound of cheers and cannon shots on the first leg of an adventure that would carry the precious mochila 2,000 miles to the Pacific.

To Stand Up for Defense, Peace and Nixon

Ike Tips His Hand for Campaign Ahead

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has made only a few political speeches so far in 1960 but they were enough to show:

★ ★ ★

1. Critics of his defense program get under his skin.

2. In this election year his main theme will be peace and prosperity.

3. He is going to plug for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Back in late January, in his first political speech of the year, he started banging at the critics—mainly Democratic would-be presidential candidates — of his administration's defense efforts.

THIS NATION STRONG

His answer, repeated again in February and once more Monday night in a speech to Republican women, is that this country is the strongest on earth. He thought the criticism tough enough to require answer at least three times.

But Democratic charges that the American economy has been stunted during his seven years in office also irritate him. He has fought back on that, arguing his administration's aim was to preserve the stability of the dollar.

Monday night he returned to a justification of the way his administration has handled the economy.

This time he returned to an idea which he has used a number of times before — and attributed to Lincoln — that the government should only do what a citizen can't do for himself.

But the Democrats argue in essence that Eisenhower has simply failed to do enough.

As for Nixon: Eisenhower fired his opening gun in support of Nixon's presidential candidacy at a news conference last month. Monday night he expounded on Nixon's virtues as he sees them.

The list of his administration's accomplishments which he reeled off seemed clearly the foundation on which he will campaign this year to get a Republican president elected, with his own record as a base for his successor.

If all the points in the list could be bundled into one sentence they would carry the label peace and prosperity. This was pretty much his main theme in his 1956 campaign for his own re-election.

Red Chinese Drive Them Into Factories

Marxize Buddhist Monks

By ROY ESSOYAN

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Reds have been driving Buddhist monks and nuns out of their monasteries and into factories and fields.

★ ★ ★

The Red aim is two-fold—to shake the pillars of Buddhism in China and augment the county's overworked labor force.

The Communists claim their efforts have been so successful that some monks and nuns have even won the Communist title of "advanced workers" and "model laborers."

There is no way to determine how many monks and nuns have been turned into model Communists, but 11 years of Red brainwashing, persecution and periodic purges have sapped Buddhist influence in China.

The Communists launched a campaign against Buddhism soon after their conquest of the China mainland in 1949. They tore down monasteries, confiscated land, executed uncooperative abbots and forced thousands of monks and nuns to abandon their meek and meditative ways.

Those who resisted were subjected to "socialist education" and "reform through labor."

In 1952 the Communists replaced persecution with indoctrination and for the next five years they concentrated on a program of persuasion.

★ ★ ★

The Communists taught them that "enjoyment without labor, or taking advantage of the fruits of other people's labor" were forbidden.

Buddhism condemns the taking of life in any form. But Shiorb Jaltso, chairman of the Communist-sponsored China Buddhist Assn., ruled at the height of the antipest campaign in China that "the killing of rats and locusts is compatible with our religion."

He added that Buddhists may also kill "any other harmful element such as imperialists and counterrevolutionaries."

Intensive indoctrination of Buddhist leaders throughout China preceded the signing of an agreement in 1958. Under this pact, the Buddhists agreed to "remould their political thinking, take part in labor on the production front and follow the Communist party wholeheartedly."

★ ★ ★

Since then Shirob Jaltso has reported that most Buddhists in China have given up their "parasitic way of life" and have learned to understand that "labor is the creator of the world."

Lincoln Slept Here

CARMI, Ill. (AP) — Ratcliff's Inn, erected in 1828, will be restored by the White County Historical Society to look as it did when Abraham Lincoln stayed there in 1840. The old inn will become a museum.

Mackinac Island Truck Amendment Rejected

LANSING (UPI)—Horseless carriages will stay off Mackinac Island if the state Senate has its way—and it probably will.

★ ★ ★

The Senate has rejected a House amendment which would allow granting of temporary permits for operation of vehicles on the island. The amendment, which was tacked on a bill spelling out the authority of the Mackinac Park Commission to issue licenses for horse-drawn carriages, was aimed at permitting use of trucks for hauling heavy loads.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said he feared the amendment would signal "the beginning of the end" of the Island ban on motor vehicles, except for state operated trucks and emergency vehicles.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Harry Litowich (R-Benton Harbor) said he considered the Mackinac Island carriages to be the "last of the Mohicans."

Four Win Election to Escanaba Council

ESCANABA (UPI)—Wesley Hanson, Jacob Bink and George Rush were elected to four-year terms on the City Council in a municipal election here Monday.

★ ★ ★

Hanson polled 2,268 votes, Bink 1,889 and Rush 1,257. Harold Vanlerberg won a two-year term on the Council with 1,827 votes.

Court to Mull Dixon-Yates

Will Decide Whether Damages Are Payable Over Canceled Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court agred Monday to decide next term whether the government must pay damages to the Dixon-Yates power interests for canceling their contract to supply power to the Tennessee Valley Authority.

In a brief order, the court said it would review a Court of Claims award of $1,857,545 to the Dixon-Yates combine. It will hold oral arguments sometime next term and will follow with a written opinion.

The heart of the case hinged on the validity of the 1954 contract between the power combine and the Atomic Energy Commission to build power facilities for the TVA. The contract was canceled by President Eisenhower in 1955 amid a political uproar.

The Court of Claims ruled, 3 to 2, last July that the contract was valid.

The Justice Department appealed this decision to the high court. The department contended that the activities of New York investment banker Adolphe H. Wenzell, a government consultant during the negotiations, rendered the contract null and void.

The high court's decision to take the case was one of the highlights of an otherwise light "Decision Monday." After handing down its rulings, the court recessed until April 18.

In other actions, the court:

—Rejected the appeal of Samuel Insull, Chicago insurance broker, from the decision of a lower court blocking him from filing a libel suit against the Scripps-Howard Newspapers in Federal Court in Chicago.

—Rejected the claim of the Labor Department that all big dams and reservoirs are covered by the federal wage-hour law. It acted in a case involving the $6,000,000 Mathis Dam in Texas.

—Denied a hearing to men convicted of contempt of court for violating a 1959 court order banning threats and violence during a strike at two cotton mills in Henderson, N. C.

NEW MEAL APPEAL FOR LENT, EASTER, SPRINGTIME!

from famous General Foods Kitchens

Winter's over and we women at General Foods Kitchens are ready for spring with lots of ideas to help you give new appeal to every meal. We've collected a few of them into a column of exciting tips. Each shows you a new way to use one of the wonderful foods you'll get with your Good Eating Spree coupons!

Lenten Ring Mold . . . for creamed fish. Press prepared Minute Spanish Rice Mix into well-greased ring mold. Let stand for about 5 minutes. Then turn out on platter and fill center.

Fruit-flavored Coconut For special Easter cake topping, shake 1 or 2 tablespoons of any flavor Jell-O Gelatin with about 1½ cups of Baker's Angel Flake Coconut in a quart jar. Then sprinkle over cake frosting. Tastes fabulous sprinkled on Jell-O Pudding, too.

Sundae Cake Surprise A springtime dessert treat that's extra-quick to make. Spoon up a serving of your favorite ice cream on a square of any Swans Down cake. Then pour on Log Cabin Syrup for a real maple flavor.

Topping for Tuna Top your favorite creamed tuna with a fluffy layer of Minute Mashed Potatoes and pop it in the oven to brown. Delicious, too, on creamed salmon.

Fruit 'n Pudding is springtime ambrosia! Fix Jell-O Vanilla or Coconut Cream Pudding and Pie Filling and fold in your favorite drained, diced fruit. Chill. Garnish with Dream Whip, and serve for parties or everyday meals.

Peach Lemon Angel Food Prepare Swans Down Lemon Chip Angel Food Cake Mix as directed on package. Bake in ungreased tube pan. Cut into 3 layers. Then fill and top with Dream Whip and sliced peaches. Chill and serve.

Potatoes O'Brien A delicious change for Lent. Chop onions, green pepper and pimento—add to Minute Sliced Potatoes when you fry them. Wonderful with scrambled eggs.

Combining Bazaar, Carnival

A bazaar and carnival, slated for Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., will be sponsored by the Mothers' Club of the Pontiac Boys Club. Looking over some of the sale items are, from left, Mrs. Dick Kirby of North Edith street, Boys Club executive director Cressy Larson of Cherokee road, Mrs. Harold MacKenzie of North Edith street and Mrs. Delbert Hammett of Going street.

The Mothers' Club Group of the Pontiac Boys Club will sponsor a bazaar to be held along with a carnival at the Boys Club on East Pike street, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Completing arrangements with Cressy Larson, executive director of the club, are Mrs. John Dushane, chairman, and her cochairman, Mrs. Dick Kirby. Committee members are Mrs. Harold MacKenzie and Mrs. Delbert Hammett.

Proceeds from the sale of white elephants, fancy linens, candy and snacks, will go to the Boys Club for programs and equipment.

The Mothers' Club Group, organized in 1945 shortly after the Boys Club was formed, met first in Pontiac High School, then at Eastern Junior High School and at the YWCA until the Boys Club was built in 1951.

Its purpose is to help the boys and to aid in the purchase of club equipment. The mothers plan and serve the annual father-son banquet during Boys Club week.

The present membership of 48 includes charter members Mrs. MacKenzie, Mrs. Hammett, Mrs. Ford Snyder, Mrs. Stephen Bone, Mrs. Floyd Halpin and Mrs. Herman Dennis.

Plan Workshop for April 28

Plans were made to invite concert pianist and teacher Maurice Dumesnil to conduct a piano workshop in Pontiac April 28 when the Pontiac Music Guild met at the Utica road home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schmidt.

Amy Hogle moderated a panel discussion, "Planning Study for Piano Students." Panel members were Mrs. William Heitsch, Mrs. Claude Kimler and Mrs. Carl Clifford.

Society Planning to Install Officers

Officers will be installed and new members welcomed when the Women's Society of Christian Service of Aldersgate Methodist Church meets Thursday afternoon at the church.

Assuming officers' duties are Mrs. Cordie Hereim, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Harrison, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Lightcap, secretary; Mrs. Eugene Downs, children's secretary; Mrs. Leighton Street, youth secretary; Mrs. Elmer Miller, secretary of promotion; Mrs. Ronald Carr, secretary of missions; and Mrs. Stanley Campbell, secretary of publications.

Miss Herbert Blom is spiritual life chairman.

The group has postponed election of a president until later in the year.

Speaker for the meeting will be Flint District Officer Mrs. John Garrison.

Mrs. Melvin Norberg, membership chairman, is acting as program chairman.

Planning for Party

Mrs. Richard Schmid, card chairman, is planning a card party following the noon luncheon of the Green Lake Women's Club Monday at the Community House.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Jack Shuler, Mrs. Kenneth Hodges, Mrs. Schmid, Mrs. Edward Henderson and Mrs. Joseph Mahanna.

Dear Abby Says: Don't Worry About It

Some Physician Will Cure Her!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is getting on in years, is causing me much embarrassment. She lives alone and is able to care for herself financially and in every other way. She is as healthy as a horse but her favorite pastime is calling up doctors.

ABBY

She insists on talking to the doctor himself. When she gets him on the phone she'll talk his ear off.

She refuses to go to their offices. She just likes to call them up and talk about herself. She has done this to almost every prominent doctor in town.

(One doctor sent her a bill stating that he had spent more time on the phone with her than he does on the average house call. Who could blame him?) What can I do about this situation? My mother isn't the kind of person you can reason with. EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: There is no need for you to feel personal embarrassment. Almost every doctor has had experience in treating "telephonitis." Let each one handle it in his own way.

DEAR ABBY: I was amused to read in your column that you couldn't understand why grown men permitted themselves to be called Bobby, Jimmy and Billy. Look at Bobby Jones, Jimmy Durante and Billy Graham! And Winston Churchill doesn't mind being called "Winnie" and even you, Miss Van Buren, are called "Dear Abby."

"BUDDY" PAPPAS (Age 64)

DEAR ABBY: I am discontented. I have been married five months. My husband brings home a gallon of wine every night. We have some with supper and then he has some more. Then he stretches himself out on the living room couch and goes to sleep. He sleeps all the night through. I want to know how many women get married to sleep by themselves? I am 50 and he 47. DISCONTENTED

DEAR DISCONTENTED: You need a bigger couch, a smaller jug, or another husband.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO ST. LOUIS SUBURBANITE: The "problem" you wrote of is not your problem. The person who is "different" and does not consider his "difference" a problem, should not be criticized or ridiculed. If he lives happily and peacefully with others—and does them no harm—who are we to sit in judgment because he is unlike ourselves?

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARYAN PIKE (age, 15): Please go home. Your mother is heartbroken. You will not be punished.

★ ★ ★

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-ager Wants To Know," send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Button, Button Whose Got Gold, Jewel Buttons?

Shown was a collection of buttons fashioned from a combination of precious jewels, and ranging in price from $2,300 to $9,000. A gold, emerald, sapphire and pearl combination adds up to that $2,300. A sapphire shaped like a camellia is priced at $9,000, although a smaller version costs $3,000.

All buttons come with pinback, so there is no danger of losing them and so they can double as ornaments on a hat or suit lapel.

Thimble Thumb

(UPI) — Wear a thimble over your thumb when grating vegetables. This protects your thumb and your manicure.

League Sets Thursday for Contacts

The Good Government League has designated Thursday as Neighborhood Contact Day. Members who participate will share a cooperative dinner in the evening.

Mrs. Robert Rood will be chairman for the bake sale Saturday at Miracle Mile Shopping Center. Assisting her will be Mrs. Roy B. Ward and Mrs. Hugh Stimson.

At the regular meeting Monday evening at the American Legion Cook-Nelson Post 20 on Auburn avenue, City Commissioners Floyd P. Miles, John Dugan, Wesley Wood and Commission Candidate James Marshall will each give brief talks followed by discussion.

Women interested in attending this meeting should contact the president, Mrs. Lawrence Kingery of Maurer street.

For Benefit of Camp Oweki

Girls Promenade in Fashion Show

When the Junior High Girls Cabinet of the Campfire Girls needed a fund-raising project for their camp, they succumbed to feminine instinct in the spring and presented a fashion show. The event in cooperation with Waite's Department Store, was held at Lincoln Junior High School.

Popular with the girls and their mothers were the classic fitted coats with detachable collars and pellon lining. A navy blue preschooler edition of this was modeled by Barbara Ballard.

★ ★ ★

Another favorite was a dressy aqua dacron voile, full skirted with shawl collar and lace trim. This was modeled in a girl's size by Geraldine Hollis.

HIT OF THE SHOW

Hit of the show were the coordinates, universally loved by girls. Linda Linn modeled a handsome blue and green plaid, slim skirted ensemble with cropped top. She carried the matching shorts that lend versatility to such an outfit.

Completing the list are Alice Krueger, Beth Stickney, Ginny Linn, Paul Schmuker, Julie Cupp, Susan Harroun, Bill Wasserberger, John Cook and Scott Swain. Mrs. Neil Wasserberger modeled clothes for mothers.

News of Personal Interest

Home after an Hawaiian vacation are Mr. and Mrs. John Selwyn Main of South Pemberton road, Bloomfield Township. They sailed on the Matsonia and returned to San Francisco by jet after three weeks in the islands. While in Honolulu, the Mains stayed at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel. They visited Kauai Island and spent five days at Hana on the Island of Maui.

★ ★ ★

Jane Hoffman, daughter of the Sam Hoffmans of Sylvan Shores drive, Waterford Township, flew by jet to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for spring vacation. She is doing graduate duty at the University of Michigan while working on the nursing staff at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Naomi Griffin of Cooley Lake road and Mrs. Donald White of Waterford are in Washington where they attended the 8th annual Republican Women's Conference in Washington, D.C. Highlights of their stay included a tea with Mrs. Eisenhower and conference addresses by the President, Vice President Nixon and other government officials. Women in politics were honored at a special dinner Tuesday evening.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vidrio of Canterbury drive announce the arrival of a daughter, Judith Ann, March 31, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Win at Bridge

The Pontiac Duplicate Bridge Club met at the Elks Temple Monday evening with eight tables in play.

Winners were George Armstrong and Charles Tucker, both of Milford; Dr. Douglas Campbell and Robert Larson, both of Pontiac; Mrs. Robert McNerney of Birmingham and Ernest Guy of Pontiac; Joseph Nouse of Pontiac and Al Wallace of Detroit.

Powder puffs are inexpensive. Change them frequently, as a soiled puff is unattractive in appearance and can spread skin germs.

Always soak your fingertips in warm soapsuds before starting a manicure. Otherwise, you'll run the risk of breaking and roughening your cuticle.

Chicken and Eggs Come Together in Casserole

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We're still getting recipes from Pontiac area women who attended the Press cooking school. We'd like more. This one today comes from a transplanted southerner, Mrs. Tom Robertson. She brought the recipe with her.

Mrs. Robertson's interests include a Bible study group and quilt-making. Her masterpiece in the quilt line is one symbolic of all the states in the nation.

CHICKEN AND BISCUITS
By Mrs. Tom Robertson

1 large stewing hen
3-4 eggs, hard cooked
2 tablespoons flour
Rich baking powder biscuit dough
¼ cup butter or margarine

Simmer chicken until meat is tender and comes easily from the bones. Cool and refrigerate overnight. Remove meat and cut in good-sized chunks. Skim fat from broth.

Slice eggs into baking dish. Place chicken over eggs and sprinkle with flour. Cover with broth which has had the fat skimmed from it. Add salt and pepper.

Cut biscuits and place on top of chicken. Dot with butter or margarine. Bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees. Lower heat to 350 degrees and continue baking about 30 minutes, or until mixture is bubbly and biscuits are done. Serves 6.

Mrs. Paul Bochnig Shower Honoree

Carolyn White of Pontiac and Margaret Smith of Detroit presided at the tea table.

* * *

Don't Just Sit and Grow Old

Have Fun, Go Bicycling

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Nothing can take the place of specialized exercise, but sports and outdoor exercise have great advantages also.

There are several forms of exercise which can be indulged in at practically any age if they are not overdone. I am thinking of walking, golf, swimming and bicycle riding.

Bicycle riding always has been extremely popular in many countries. In fact, as you know, it is the main mode of transportation in some. In recent years it has gained great popularity in the United States. Bikes are no longer just for children but for their elders, too.

The importance of exercise is being greatly emphasized today by the medical profession. Pedaling is a pleasant way to burn calories, for weight control, and it also builds health. It is not strenuous since you can take it as easy as you wish. It has been recommended as a splendid health exercise by physicians.

BIKE CLUB AT 60

In a number of Florida communities groups of senior citizens become a highly popular form of recreation. One of these clubs has a stringent membership requirement — the applicant must be at least 60 years old.

The British Medical Board has suggested bike riding to preserve youthfulness and health and the Dutch Public Service published a report terminating with the suggestion that bicycle use promotes health at nearly all ages and under nearly all physical conditions.

Exercise helps to dissipate weariness. Dr. Theodore Klumpp, New York specialist, participating on an American Medical Assn. panel, put it this way:

"Fatigue is the greatest obstacle to a happy, useful life. Its best antidote is physical activity when one feels tired;

"Over and over again it has been demonstrated that physical activity at the end of a trying day brings a degree of freshness and renewed energy that nothing else can."

Physicians have recommended bicycling as a splendid health exercise.

Planning Easter Baskets

* * *

Plans were made to fill and distribute Easter baskets for the Oakland County Children's Home. A bake sale at Miracle Mile Shopping Center was set for mid-May.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horsley will open their home for the annual sorority banquet May 14.

Enroll Four in Women of the Moose

Thirty-four members were present when Women of the Moose, Chapter 360, met Monday evening for enrollment. The event was at Moose Hall on Mt. Clemens street.

Mrs. William Lawrence, homemaking chairman for April, introduced Charles Brulay of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. who showed slides of Oakland County.

The class was in honor of Mrs. Cecil Rich. Members enrolled are Mrs. Jerry Hamlin, Mrs. Earl Thurston, Mrs. Lee Coleman and Mrs. John Mann. Sponsoring them were Mrs. John Baxter, Mrs. Lou Shaun and Mrs. Cecil Rich.

A Penny Supper at the Moose Hall April 19 was announced by Mrs. Lawrence. The public is invited.

Committees for the May 11 Mother and Daughter Banquet were named. They are Mrs. George Harshburger, general chairman; Mrs. Ferman Huston, reservations; Mrs. Michael Blahut, decorations and dining room; Mrs. Edward Taylor, programs; Mrs. Floyd Yeaman, prizes; Mrs. Harold Finn, kitchen; and Mrs. Clifford Lynch, mistress of ceremonies.

Many a Shoe for Milady

(UPI)—The woman who slips into something more comfortable at the end of a long day will have an almost unlimited choice of lavishly designed, brilliantly hued slippers and "at home" shoes this spring.

* * *

Pumps, sandals and mules in luxurious leathers are elegantly beaded and jeweled. These and a broad selection of casual slippers in softly smooth, grained and suede leather were shown at the spring preview of Leather Industries of America.

Philatheas Meet at First Baptist

Program chairman was Mrs. Ethel Kennedy. Mrs. I. C. Prevette was hostess. Devotions were given by Mrs. Bessie Bogardus.

Two vocal solos were presented by Mrs. William Hakes. Mrs. Gerald Rapelje spoke on "The Song That Jesus Sang."

There's a Lack of Communication, Americans Report

Misunderstanding Splits U.S., German Teens Abroad

By REINHOLD ENSZ

More than 100 American teen-agers — the sons and daughters of American military men and diplomats — live in a tightly-knit community here, but only a few of them have German friends.

★ ★ ★

"Dating Germans is frowned on by the kids at school," says pretty Carol Willoughby of Muskogee, Okla., a 17-year-old cheerleader at the U. S. Army's high school. "The American teenagers here tend to stick together and have very little to do with German kids. I think it is mostly a matter of ignorance."

Miss Willoughby, whose father is a major, says some Americans arrive with a hostile attitude.

"They come over here," she says, "with the idea that a war is still going on. I have two younger brothers and I know they were expecting the continuance of a war movie when they came."

"Our kids are isolated. Life seems to revolve around the Army movie theater, the PX and the youth club. Prejudice against Germans develops as a result of this isolation.

Miss Weyand points out that foreign students are star attractions at schools in the United States. But here, where there could be daily contacts, there are almost none.

★ ★ ★

"It's a shame our kids don't get out," she says. "As a result, Germans think Americans are snobbish. The Germans are very surprised when they find out that we are ordinary people."

SELDOM LEAVE

Gordon Rankin, 17, of Timonium, Md., another senior at the Army high school, says, "I go out of (the community) very seldom, but I go out more than the others.

"There are more girls than boys at the school here and they get awfully mad if you date a German girl. The American girls pounce on you if you even dance with a German girl. I know of only one student who dates a German girl. He's not exactly looked down upon, but he is kidded about it."

Rankin, whose father is an intelligence officer, says one reason he hesitates to get out of the community is the fact that Germans stare at Americans, especially at the light-colored, flashy clothing the Americans frequently wear.

"It's really embarrassing when you ride on the U-bahn (subway) the way the Germans stare at you," Rankin says. "I know a couple of Germans and I like them. The ones who seek you out are nice, but some of the delinquent types you see on the streets look at you as if they want to stomp you right into the ground."

Howard Salisbury, 16, of Pasadena, Calif., son of the U.S. Army's Berlin command provost marshal, comments, "Some of the American kids tend to think the Germans are beneath them because we are here as occupiers. But when they get to know some Germans they find out that they are just like anybody else."

All agreed that a big factor in keeping German and American teen-agers apart is the different dating customs.

Miss Willoughby comments: "German boys have asked me for dates. I turned them down because I don't know what to expect and I would be completely ill at ease. And I think they would be too."

The lack of contact isn't the fault of the U.S. Army. It has tried in various ways to get the American and German teen-agers together, but met with little response from the Americans.

★ ★ ★

The principal of the high school, David Cook, of Concord, N. C., says, "I suspect that parents have something to do with this isolation. But the Americans aren't completely to blame. Germans sometimes do have a tendency to be rude."

Offer Hint You Need Nothing

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: After ten years of marriage I am expecting my first baby. For the past several months I have been busy making baby things and in addition my friends have given me a stork shower, so I have everything I can possibly use when the baby arrives, and for some time to come.

I have heard indirectly that several of mother's friends are planning another shower for me. I don't wish to appear ungrateful but I don't need anything and would rather they didn't give me this party.

Could I possibly make this wish known without hurting their feelings, or shall I say nothing and then give the baby things to a charitable organization?

Answer: If you really have more than you need, the only thing for you to do is to explain, or have your mother explain, that you appreciate their thought of you but that it would be unfair to have them give you things you really don't need. To give these presents away after they have been given to you, would certainly hurt their feelings.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are divorced and my mother is remarried. I like my stepfather very much but I also love my father. My problem is, who should give me away at my forthcoming marriage. My stepfather has raised me since I was eight and I don't want to hurt him, but my father is still my father and I think it would make him very unhappy not to be given this privilege.

My mother thinks my stepfather should be the one to give me away. Will you please advise me as this has turned into a very touchy subject at home.

Answer: Very definitely your own father takes precedence over your stepfather and he should be the one to give you away. Not to have him do so would be to publicly disown him.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours has recently retired from the medical profession and a discussion arose as to whether or not he is still called Dr., or whether this title is used only for a practicing physician.

Answer: He is called doctor for the rest of his life.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Does an engaged girl's fiance, who is almost a stranger to us, have to be invited with her to our wedding reception? This will be limited just to relatives and a few intimate friends. If I include him it may cause hurt feelings among others. Yet somebody told me it's a strict rule that he be invited everywhere with her.

Answer: If their engagement has been announced, he must very certainly be invited with her. And no one could possibly misunderstand the reason why he was invited.

Europeans Like Our Shopping Centers

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Know what women of Europe and the Orient most envy in the life of the American woman?

Not her clothes. Not even her pushbutton appliances. The American utopia, to the rest of the feminine world, is the modern shopping center.

Women just naturally love to shop, says David Muss; Chicago builder whose firms has built shopping centers all over the country. And the more luxurious the shopping center, the more time the average woman will spend in it and the more she will buy.

* * *

With the growth of the suburban shopping center, family buying habits have changed, says Muss. Nowadays mom doesn't go alone to buy the groceries for the week. Instead she takes the whole family, and the shopping trip becomes a picnic.

* * *

At the modern shopping center they can have dinner in a restaurant, maybe see an art exhibit or motor show, stock up on all the family needs, from school clothes to garden supplies and from drugs to groceries, then wind up the evening with a movie.

"Family one-stop shopping is the new thing," says Muss. "New centers have all categories of shops, plus restaurants, movies, play areas, nurseries —even bowling alleys, in some cases. The idea is to have something to interest every member of the family, and make the family shopping trip fun."

* * *

The current trend, says he, is toward evening shopping; and many shopping centers stay open until 9:30 every night except Saturday. Many are opening later, too, at any hour from 10 to noon. The idea behind this is sound. The weekly shopping trip gives mom a chance to have dinner out, and the whole family to have an evening of recreation.

Dress Form of Plastic; Like Body

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sure to be a hit with women who sew is a new dress form which "gives like the human body, has flexible shoulders and can be stab-pinned.

Mounted on a wood pedestal for the correct height, the form is molded of a patented material, and taped. Its flexibility makes remodeling easier than a rigid form, and garments can be put on and removed without leaving open a side seam or omitting a zipper.

The form is the brainstorm of Mrs. Louise Lowney of West Covina, Calif., who became aware of the need for such an invention while she was a fashion designer and teacher.

Mrs. Lowney makes the forms for business women, teen-agers, housewives, movie stars and dress designers. Some women order the form for their dressmakers' use or to sew for absentee children.

Modeling as Usual

Conquers Cancer Surgery

By GAY PAULEY

It was the story of Irma Austin, a tall brunette of Dallas, Tex., who was a victim of breast cancer. But a lucky Irma Austin, because her surgeons told her they believed they had caught the malignancy in time.

Then, less than six months after two trips through surgery, Irma was modeling clothes with the same carefree grace and flashing smile many of us reporters knew from a decade of covering the Fashion Manufacturers Assn. summer dress and sportswear collections in Dallas.

But, Irma also was warned that medical science wanted five years of nonrecurrence before it would list her as one of the 25,000 women in the nation who each year are cured of breast cancer.

* * *

She also said that she had one reason for talking about her case —she was not seeking sympathy, but trying to show others how important are the early diagnoses and regular checkups.

Irma's case history might be that of many of the 65,000 women, who, the American Cancer Society reports, each year develop a similar malignancy.

She awoke one morning with a swollen left breast, and an aching arm. She went immediately to her physician who gently told her what he thought a more detailed examination would disclose.

Within two weeks, the 41-year-old model, the wife of a Chance Vought Aircraft plant supervisor and the mother of a six-year-old daughter who also models, went through the first surgery for removal of the affected breast. One month later, surgeons performed more radical surgery of the feminine organs as a protective measure.

After surgery, she received cobalt and x-ray treatments, plus injections of radioactive phosphorous into the bloodstream. Her weight had dropped from a normal 127 to 105 pounds.

By this time last year, she had gained again her regular weight and model's measurements of 37-26-36, and again was running her regular classes in charm and dress for teen-agers in several southwestern towns.

What of Irma today?

Well, one of the happiest sights for us visiting reporters when we checked into the Dallas hotel where we were to see 1960 styles was Irma at work.

* * *

She had counted off one year of the five year waiting period. She also had added to her already-busy schedule. It now includes: modeling, charm schools, physical checkups every three months, and regular visits to hospitals where other women have been through similar surgery in the hope that she — by example — can show that adjustment is possible for each individual.

Sometimes, she said, the left arm swells obviously because the surgery was so drastic it impeded circulation.

"When that happens," she said, "I just take my gripper (a rubber ball for squeezing) and start pumping up."

* * *

"The main thing you have to learn," said Irma, "is to forget about yourself."

The Albert August Faulmans of White Lake Township announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Marilyn to Herbert Gene Johnson, son of Mrs. Helen Blacker of Gingell court, and Leo Laverne Johnson of East Tennyson avenue. She attended Central Michigan.

Troy's Sewage Plight Delays School Building

State, County Holding Up OK

Supt. Smith Is Still Hoping Bids Can Be Opened Next Tuesday

By LEE WINBORN

TROY—Badly needed expansion of school facilities in the Troy School District has hit a new snag today due to the city's lack of a sewage disposal system.

The awarding of bids for new school construction scheduled for last night was delayed because the State Department of Public Instruction failed to approve expansion plans in view of the city's sewer plight.

"It's a vicious circle," said Schools Supt. Rex Smith.

The State Department of Public Instruction will not move without approval from the state and county health departments on sewer expansion plans within the City of Troy.

In turn, the two departments will not give their okay until the city adopts a proposed time schedule for construction of sewage disposal facilities.

City officials did pass a resolution to go ahead and make preparations for an internal sewer system in lieu of joining on to the 12-Town Drain which is held up by litigation with Madison Heights.

* * *

This action apparently did not satisfy the two health departments, Smith said; so the whole thing is deadlocked.

In an effort to pave the way for the school expansion program, school officials are planning a meeting later this week with representatives of all the parties involved — the State Dept. of Public Instruction, the Health Department and City Commisioners.

Smith said that the Board of Education hopes that the problem can be ironed out to allow for the awarding of bids next Tuesday night.

The school district electorate passed a $2.3 million bond issue for school expansion last October. In January the sewer problem was aired and school officials drafted a resolution asking for a commitment from the City Commission on the sewer project.

At that time, school board members said that they believed that the health and education of nearly all the 3,500 children in the city's schools would be affected "adversely by any delays in carrying out the school building program."

In an effort to comply with the Board's request the Troy City Commission drafted the resolution to proceed with the city's own sewer system.

In the meantime, the state attorney general will not be hurried in arriving at a decision on the matter of the 12-Town Drain litigation, Smith said, so Troy could consider joining on to that facility to speed the sewer program.

"No reply has been forthcoming either from the City of Warren as to whether that city will accept sewage from Troy," J. L. Lockhart, Troy city clerk, said today.

He agreed with Smith that as a result of sewer program tieup, the Troy Board of Education has been "left out in the cold" with its construction program.

Lapeer Sets May 9 for School Tax Vote

LAPEER — The Lapeer Board of Education has set May 9 for a special election seeking voter approval of three mills for three years to operate the district's schools.

School officials said today that actually only two extra mills will be added to the school tax rolls next December.

Residents of the district already paid one extra mill for operation last December. It was levied for one year after a favorable vote of the electorate last September.

Recently teachers in the district were given a pay boost of four per cent for one year. If the millage vote passes, the raises could be made permanent.

The three mills would raise about $100,000 a year, school administrators stated.

Ousted Police Chief Noel to Appeal

By JIM LONG

SOUTH LYON — Removed from office Monday by the City Council, John Noel, police chief here for 18 years, has announced he will fight the action in Circuit Court.

The decision of the Council will be appealed on the advice of his lawyer, Martin J. Lavan, Noel said.

Council's action Monday night was taken to confirm an earlier decision made at a special meeting. More than 40 persons attended the meeting Monday.

Confirmation was needed because the special meeting was illegal, City Attorney Ralph Keyes said.

CHARGE DENIED

Sinclair charged that Noel was under the influence of alcohol when the two met alone. Noel denied the accusation.

At that time, however, Noel said, he verbally resigned to the mayor in a "fit of tempey" when denied a pay increase and better working conditions.

"A man in uniform should not be under the influence of alcohol," Sinclair said Monday.

"Noel's speech was thick and the door not wide enough," he said in reference to the private meeting.

In a letter to the Council several days after the special meeting, Noel stated:

"The repeated request for a raise and one day off a week resulted in a heated discussion between the mayor and myself.

"The raise had been promised me, to be effective with the start of the fiscal year. I do not feel that my request for one day off a week is an unreasonable one. In my opinion, repeated denials of both these have been unfair, consequently causing me to lose my temper.

"Please be advised that I do not intend to restgn at this time. However, my request for a raise in salary and six-day work week should be open for discussion by the Council, and not be a decision to be made by the mayor alone."

The Council Monday refused to honor the letter withdrawing the verbal resignation to the mayor.

Mayor Sinclair said the "heated discussion as stated in the letter is a blatant untruth."

All but one member of the Council accepted the earlier resignation.

Councilman Claude Tapp, who is on vacation, asked in a letter to the Council that Noel be reinstated.

However, he warned that the "smell of alcohol on Noel's breath" would result in his immediate firing.

"Mayors have come and gone—Noel is still here," Lavan said.

CHIEF CONTESTS OUSTER — South Lyon police chief for 18 years, John Noel, standing, and attorney Martin J. Lavan plan to go to court on Noel's removal by the City Council. The Council's decision was taken following Noel's verbal resignation when denied a pay increase. However, in a letter to the Council, Noel said he did not intend to resign. The Council has refused to accept his withdrawal of the vocal resignation made to Mayor Herbert R. Sinclair.

Free Cooking School in Brandon Grange Hall

ORTONVILLE—A free cooking school will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Brandon Grange Hall.

Miss Jean Hardy, home economist with the Detroit Edison Co., will conduct the school. Women of the grange will assist her.

Independence Twp. UF Board Elected

* * *

A report submitted by Bennett to the board of directors shows a total of $5,820 was raised in the 1959-60 Fund Drive, or 34 per cent over the quota of $5,800 for the Clarkston area.

Chorale to Mix Lenten Offerings in Avon Sunday

AVON TOWNSHIP — Contemporary, classical and romantic music will be blended into a Lenten musical service to be given by the chorale of University Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Featured will be a cantata written by American organist-composer David H. Williams called "On the Passion of Christ." Soloists will be Mrs. Harold Sherman, soprano; Mrs. Walter Spink, contralto; LaVerne Nancarrow, tenor; and Worth Mallory, baritone.

Mrs. Sherman also will sing Henry Purcell's "Evening Hymn."

Care for small children will be provided.

Plan Supper and Movie at Sashabaw Church

CLARKSTON — Members of the Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church will have a cooperative supper today beginning at 6:30 p.m.

* * *

"God of Creation," a 40-minute color-sound film, will be shown afterward. It features explorations into space, taking the individual from the telescope to the microscope in showing time lapse photography of flowers growing and worms changing into butterflies.

Clifford Fish Fry Set

CLIFFORD — The St. Patrick Church Altar Society will sponsor a fish fry Friday at Clifford Community Hall. Serving begins at 5:30 p.m.

Gets Voter OK— No It Doesn't

Troy Officials Announce Bond Issue Approved at Polls; Find Error Later

TROY — Red-faced city officials here yesterday told voters that a $125,000 bond issue for a new public works building actually failed in Monday's election after they had previously announced its passage.

* * *

Officials discovered late yesterday morning that under Troy's home rule charter, a three-fifths majority was needed to carry the issue.

They originally announced that the measure had passed by a vote of 1,358 to 979. This is only a simple majority, however, which is not enough under the charter.

"It looks now like we'll have to go back to the voters again," said City Clerk J. L. Lockhart.

A similar measure failed to pass a year ago.

At a special meeting last night, city commissioners set a meeting with State Highway Dept. representatives for April 13 to discuss the proposed Walter P. Chrysler Expressway.

* * *

Two top streets in the city were approved. They are at Lange and Leetonia streets where they cross Livernois.

Final approval was given for Lake Charnwood subdivision No. 1 which contains about 35 lots.

The five proposals for changes in water department policies and procedures were tabled for further study.

Lapeer Electorate Returns Its Mayor

LAPEER—Yesterday's final tabulation of votes in Lapeer's city election Monday showed 168 votes to re-elect Mayor W. E. Rowden for another three-year term.

* * *

Commissioner George Farrand received 118 votes to remain in office for the next three years, while his running mate, Commissioner James Hurley garnered 160 votes to hold onto his post for the next two years.

* * *

Elmer Knapp was given 31 votes as a write-in candidate in a weak bid to unseat Farrand.

The City of Lapeer has approximately 2,700 registered voters.

Would Bring Detroit Hookup

Farmington to Vote on Water Bond Issue

FARMINGTON—A $250,000 water bond issue that would be used to provide Detroit water to residents here will be placed before voters Monday in a special election.

Should the general obligation bond issue receive approval, it would be used to finance the construction of additional city water mains and a pumping station.

The city would then tap into the 54-inch Detroit main now under construction along 8-Mile road that will serve Farmington Township and Livonia.

* * *

City officials feel that the project could begin by early July if approval is given to sell the bonds.

A year ago, voters in a referendum election were asked what they thought of securing Detroit water at an estimated cost of $250,000. At that time it was approved 698 to 433.

Passage of the bond issue Monday will require three-fifths of the vote in favor of it.

* * *

City Manager Earl Scherffius has stated that the city has a sufficient supply of well water at present with a population of 7,300, but with an ultimate population of 10,000 in three or four years the city supply may be in danger.

Water storage would be no problem, Scherffius said, with the recent completion of a 1,125,000-gallon tank.

Should Farmington hook up to the Detroit main, it would keep its wells and pumping stations in operating condition in case the Detroit system ever failed.

* * *

"There is nothing about our immediate supply which makes it of an emergency nature to get Detroit water," Scherffius said.

* * *

However, more wells would be needed to meet additional population increases, he pointed out.

* * *

Scherffius stated that if the bond proposal is turned down, another well could be drilled at the city park, but additional well sites may be scarce.

Dryden Plans Big Boom Day

Rides for Youngsters, Baton Twirling Test New Next Year

DRYDEN—The Dryden Area Development Assn. today announced plans for a bigger and better "Boom Day" celebration July 4.

* * *

"Not only will the highlights of last year be repeated, but added attractions will make the 1960 event outstanding," said Jay Dittman, association president.

To make up for a lack of entertainment for youngsters last year, a merry-go-round, ferris wheel and several rides will be set up near the center of town.

A new feature this year will be an all-day baton twirling contest sponsored by the National Baton Twirlers Assn. The competition is expected to attract twirlers from all over Michigan as well as Canada.

Majorette corps are being urged to participate in the "Boom Day" parade and compete for a trophy.

* * *

The fireworks display will be bigger and better than ever this year, officials said.

Organizations are urged to contact the planning committee if they are interested in serving food and soft drinks to the large crowds expected to attend the annual event on Independence Day.

Plan Two-Day Rummage Sale at Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Rochester branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. will hold its annual rummage sale Friday and Saturday at the American Legion Hall on W. University drive.

* * *

Merchandise will be on sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

* * *

Proceeds are used to support the organization's scholarship program. Two scholarships currently are being given to Michigan State University Oakland, and the club also is assisting in sending a student representative to "Operation Crossroads, Africa."

* * *

This year the sale again will feature the special "French Room" of unusual articles. Clothing, jewelry, household items and some antiques also will be offered.

Hits 'Buckling' on Aid for Aged

Carey Accuses U. S. of Surrendering to AMA Over Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Union leader James B. Carey accused the Eisenhower administration today of "shameful surrender to the American Medical Assn. and to the insurance companies" on government-sponsored old age health insurance.

He called this "an outright betrayal of the needs of America's 16 million elder citizens."

★ ★ ★

Carey is president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO's Industrial Union Department. His testimony was prepared for a Senate subcommittee on problems of the aged, which artary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming about the administration's position on old age health insurance.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in advance that Flemming would not be ready to spell out any formal administration program in this field.

The administration is studying possible plans for federal-state subsidies for voluntary health insurance through private companies for retired persons unable to meet the full cost of private coverage.

Carey advocated immediate passage of a bill by Rep. Aime J. Forand (D-RI), which would add health insurance to other social security benefits for retired persons covered by that system. It would be financed by higher social security taxes.

Strongly supported by labor organizations, the Forand bill is just as strongly opposed by the American Medical Assn., which calls it an opening wedge for socialized medicine.

Carey contended voluntary health plans are not doing the needed job. More than 60 per cent of persons over 65 have no health coverage of any kind, he said, and much of what is held is not adequate.

Despite defeat of the Forand bill in the House Ways and Means Committee, a group of House Democrats headed by Rep. Thaddeus M. Machrowicz (D-Mich) pledged to continue a fight for it or similar legislation.

Several Republican Senators, fearful that Democrats would gain a political advantage, said they would introduce their own health insurance bill Thursday.

Backers of the Republican Senate bill said they feared it would be too costly for administration approval.

Universalist Church, Unitarians to Join

BOSTON (AP)—Consolidation of the Unitarian and Universalist churches has been approved by a wide margin.

Dr. William B. Rice, chairman of the Unitarian-Universalist Joint Merger Commission, announced Monday a plebiscite completed March 31 showed 91 per cent of Unitarian churches and fellowships and 79 per cent of Universalist societies favored the merger.

Final adoption of the plan will rest with the annual meeting of the American Unitarian Assn. and a special meeting of the General Assembly of the Universalist Church of America, scheduled simultaneously in Boston May 23. The effective date would be May 1961.

Past Is Present: Utah Troops Get Bows and Arrows

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—The Utah National Guard has issued bows and arrows to specially trained archery units.

"Unconventional warfare demands unconventional weapons," says Maj. Gen. Maxwell E. Rich, Utah adjutant general.

The archery units will be trained to drop behind enemy lines to organize guerrilla fighters.

Ex-Grandville Lawyer to Seek House Seat

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Former Grandville City Attorney William S. Wilson has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for state representative from the second Kent district. The seat is held by Rep. Harry T. Emmons (R-Byron Center).

Wilson was endorsed by the Kent Republican forum, a group which plans to sponsor almost an entire slate of legislative candidates from the county to oppose incumbents.

Grand Haven Troopers Move Into New Quarters

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—State Police at Grand Haven moved Monday into a new $80,000 home. Operations were transferred to a newly completed post on U. S. 131, one block inside the south city limits.

The old post two miles north will be used temporarily as State Highway Department offices.

BATTLE OVER FENCES—Mrs. Betty Darnell of Costa Mesa, Calif., and her daughter Toni look over a fence her husband built along their property line. Darnell painted the fence this way because Lott wouldn't let him use a grape stake fence, the cost of which Darnell wouldn't share when Lott built it a year ago along one side of a new fenced-in area of Darnell's. Now Lott is going to build a third fence to screen the polka dots. He says he'll whitewash it, then move away.

David, 21, is taking eight weeks basic training with the 3710th Air National Guard Training Squadron. He will be assigned to an Air National Guard squadron in Van Nuys, Calif., after completion of training.

Low Bid Is $230,520

Award Sewer Contract

The big, 1960 sewer construction contract was awarded by the City Commission last night to Greenfield Construction Co. of Detroit for $230,520.

Most of the work involved centers around a new combined sewer along Columbia avenue from Carlisle avenue to 212 feet west of Cloverlawn.

This trunkline, plus laterals, is designed to serve the Cloverlawn, Cherrylawn, Meadowlawn areas.

A second project, smaller in scope, involves extensive repairs to a 40-year-old, 120-foot section of trunkline on the south side of North Perry street between Gage and Paddock streets.

This older sewer serves Pontiac Motor Division and is in acute need of repairs, according to City Engineer James Carlisle.

City Manager Walter K. Willman noted that Greenfield's bid on the repairs was about $20,000 over the engineer's estimate, but urged the Commission to accept the low bid.

"I don't feel we would get any lower price by readvertising for bids," he said.

The bid was for both projects. The city had estimated the repairs at either $30,000 or $27,300, depending on the amount of work to be done.

Greenfield's bid was $49,071 on the repairs with an alternate of $46,142. The alternate price was accepted.

A total of seven bids was submitted, the highest evidently as a complimentary gesture.

Other bids were Cris Nelson & Son, Inc., $276,328; Fattore Co., Inc. $289,956; Weissman Excavating Co., $301,876; Rocco Ferrera Co., $379,985; T. Marroco Construction Co., $380,338; and Baker Construction Co., $746,491.

Episcopal Monthly Magazine Has Debut

Launching of the new national monthly was authorized by the 1958 general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

"The last real frontier on earth —the soul of man—will be 'the Episcopalian's' area of major exploration," says a prospectus.

"We intend to serve as an instrument of vigorous intra-church conversation," said editor Henry L. McCorkle, 36, Swarthmore, Pa.

Petoskey Re-Elects Mayor, Councilman

Incumbent second ward Councilman Emil Nasson was returned to office and Joseph Kilborn won by 19 votes in the only other contested council race.

Businessman Denies Plot to Murder Judge

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A millionaire industrialist who says he has "an inner urge to help people" feels confident a charge that he hatched a plot to murder a circuit judge will be thrown out of court.

Charles Baird, 51-year-old nephew of the University of Michigan's first athletic director, is accused of offering a convict "a very large sum of money" to kill Washtenaw County Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr.

Judge Breakey granted Baird's first wife, Joan, a divorce in 1952 and twice since then has sent him to jail for failure to make support payments for their three minor children. Baird remarried and has an infant daughter by his second wife.

BEEN IN MEXICO

Baird, owner of the Ann Arbor Grinders Co., returned from Mexico on Sunday where he is financing construction of a 600-foot dam in a tiny remote village.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Ager said Baird offered 32-year-old Kenneth Stratton a sum of money "running into four figures" to assassinate the judge. He contends the offer was made sometime between August and November last year.

Officers believe the initial contact between Stratton and Baird was made last July when both were inmates in the county jail.

Stratton later was convicted of taking forged securities across a state line and is now serving a one-year term in the federal prison in Milan.

* * *

Baird charged that Stratton made a "deal" with authorities by inventing the story of the alleged murder offer, hoping to have his one-year term shortened.

Baird admitted giving the convict $150 as a gift while they were jail inmates, but said it was given out of the "kindness of my heart to a man who I thought needed help."

"I can't figure this out. I befriended him in jail and tried to help him out," he said, and then he kicks me in the teeth.

"I feel no malice toward Judge Breakey and never have," Baird continued. "In fact, I'm grateful to him. He did me a favor when the divorce went through."

Baird is a 1934 graduate of the University of Michigan College of Engineering and is the son of the late James Baird, a New York construction engineer.

His Uncle Charles Baird was the school's first athletic director and has donated several buildings to the university.

Baird, who is well-known in the city for his philanthropy and charitable activities, told newsmen, "When people need help, I feel an inner urge to help."

He labeled the charge against him as "ridiculous" and said he was sure it would be dismissed.

He was released under $15,000 bond and ordered to appear for examination on April 18. An appeal of his divorce case, which was slated for circuit court yesterday, was adjourned until April 19.

Judge Breakey, who has been under police protection since the alleged plot was uncovered two months ago, said he isn't worried about the matter and considers it "more or less an occupational hazard."

Irons Ridicules RO Twp. Law

Says Area Doesn't Ask Assistance Because It Would Hinder Vice

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons was the least surprised county official yesterday when Royal Oak Township officials announced they no longer would seek police help from deputies.

"Of course they don't want me down there, I'd fire the whole bunch of 'em," he said.

"They're a disgrace to police work."

Only a few weeks ago, Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens had appealed to Irons for a crew of deputies to police the township, following a scandal involving the police and fire forces and a dwindling treasury.

Irons said he would be glad to "go in and clean up the situation" if the county would provide funds for more patrol cars and deputies.

Yesterday Dickens told John C. Austin, vice chairman of the County Board of Auditors, that at the annual township meeting last weekend some 100 residents approved cutting the 13-man police force to six men "and going on our own."

"Sure they want to go it on their own," said Irons. "Bringing in outside help would only interfere with vice and corruption in police ranks, and they wouldn't want that."

Tumbling Crane Kills Worker at Novi Plant

A steelworker was killed instantly and another injured when a crane fell from its tracks at the Paragon Construction Co. plant in Novi this morning.

The several tons of machinery landed on Mervyn Faulds, 43, of 24919 Midland Ave., Redford Township, killing him instantly.

Jim Stamper, 28, of 825 Birdsong St., Milford, was injured when brushed by the falling crane. The extent of his injuries has not been determined.

The two men were working on a bridge girder in the plant at 44000 Grand River Ave., when the crane fell.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and the Novi police are investigating the accident.

Board to Meet Earlier

10-Year-Old Hit in Hands

Boy Shot by 'Empty' Gun

Pontiac police today offered a 10-year-old Pontiac boy as evidence that there is no weapon more lethal than an "empty" gun.

* * *

Johnny R. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of 316 E. Wilson St., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital late Tuesday afternoon for bullet wounds of both hands.

He was visiting a chum, Larry Johnson, 12, of 293 W. South Blvd., yesterday.

He walked into the front room, pointed the gun in the general direction of Johnny and said, "What do you think of this?"

The gun went off. A shell barely missed Johnny's body and ripped through both his hands, fracturing several bones.

* * *

Johnny was released from the hospital last night.

Larry said he felt terrible. "I thought the gun was empty. We were just playing," Larry told officers.

5 Per Cent Sales Tax, Income Levy Seen Here

LANSING (AP) — A state official who has watched spending soar 600 per cent in 20 years says a 5 per cent sales tax coupled with a personal income tax may be in store for Michigan.

Frank M. Landers, state budget director, said that is the prospect in five to 10 years if current expenditure trends continue.

* * *

Landers said there's a way, uninviting perhaps to many, to sidestep what he sees as probable ahead. It's for the people to tell the Legislature:

"We don't want any more money spent in schools, hospitals, highways and public health . . . on a Public Service Commission regulating utilities . . . on a Banking Department looking into the integrity of banks and loan companies."

* * *

Landers made his analysis two weeks ago in a little noticed talk at a "truth about Michigan conference" in Grand Rapids. He confirmed to a newsman what he had said there.

Since 1940, the state budget officer said, state expenditures zoomed from an annual level of 186 million dollars to roughly $1,100,000,000 for the current year. This enormous increase planted the seeds of last year's cash crisis, he said.

Retarded Child Study Proposed

Lodge Wants to Know How State Aids Them; Previous Bills Killed

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge has proposed a study of what Michigan is doing for its mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children.

The Republican senator from Oakland County has introduced a resolution into the State Senate asking that a five-member committee be appointed to study this program after the Legislature adjourns.

He asked an appropriation of $2,500 for this purpose.

Lodge found his earlier bills to aid these children killed in committee. A 3 million dollar spending program and priority for curable children in mental hospital admissions died this way.

Lodge insists that the State Mental Health Dept. should concentrate more attention on the presently hospitalized children and those awaiting admission "before they wind up in a criminal or mental institution at great expense to the state later on."

He said estimates show 1,500 emotionally disturbed children are either on waiting lists or receiving improper care in institutions, partly because of mingling with adult patients.

Doctor Thinks Ulcer Is a Must in Young Exec

At least that's the opinion of Dr. H. Marvin Pollard, professor of infernal medicine at the University of Michigan medical school.

* * *

Pollard, an expert on ulcers, took part in a panel discussion at the opening session of the American College of Physicians' 41st annual meeting.

Pollard said the usual ulcer victim is a young man in the early competitive part of his career who lives in the city, smokes heavily, is intelligent and lacks faith in his own ability.

"But if I wanted to hire an associate," Pollard said, "I'd hire a man with an ulcer—he'll really work."

Female Judge Elected to Benton Harbor Bench

BENTON HARBOR (UPI)—Municipal Judge Elizabeth Forhan was elected Monday to fill out the remaining three years of the term of the late Municipal Judge Webster Sterling.

Miss Forhan defeated Edward Yampolski, 1,124-470. She had been appointed to the bench temporarily when Sterling died.

School Budget to Be Presented

Board of Education at Waterford Will Meet Thursday Night

A tentative Waterford Township school budget for 1960-61 will be presented to the Board of Education by Superintendent William Shunck at a special Board meeting tomorrow night.

Members had been given an idea as to last year's expenditures for operation, maintenance and projects in a summarized financial report so they could review next year's needs, he said.

Other business will include a review of plans for an addition and remodeling of the Waterford Village School. Three plans were submitted at last week's special meeting, and further study was needed before action.

* * *

Engineers Johnson & Anderson are expected to present a report on costs for making a survey-study and recommendations for eliminating stagnant water in a hole on the Schoolcraft School property.

* * *

Recommendations for several new teacher contracts will be presented by Shunck. He also will discuss the summer school program.

Ousted Judge Loses Election

Tennessee Voters Nix Comeback Bid of Man Impeached in 1958

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A bid for political comeback by Raulston Schoolfield, impeached Criminal Court judge, fell short in a strongly contested primary race for Democratic nomination to Hamilton County's highest office.

Dave M. Eldridge Jr., 45, a member of the County Council running with both city and county administration support, Tuesday rode a surge of metropolitan votes to victory in the County Judge race.

Tabulation of 70 precincts gave Eldridge 19,610 votes to 15,647 for Schoolfield and 6,987 for County Councilman Philip M. Osborne.

The office of County Judge has wide fiscal powers and pays $15,000 a year.

Schoolfield was removed as a Criminal Court judge by the Tennessee Legislature in 1958 in the wake of criticism by the U.S. Senate Rackets Committee for his handling of cases involving Teamsters Union members.

10 From Area Enlist in Marine Corps

Ten persons from the Pontiac area enlisted in the Marines last month through the Marine Recruiting Substation in Pontiac, local recruiters announced today.

The lone Pontiac recruit was Bonnie G. Milton of 79 Orton St. Others from the area were:

Philip A. Carlton and Philip F. deBeaubien, both of Birmingham; Donald R. Manni, of Auburn Heights; and Curtis T. James, of Waterford Township.

Boyne City Voters Pick Five Under New Charter

BOYNE CITY (UPI) — Five councilmen were elected Monday for varying terms to run Boyne City's government under a new charter which becomes effective later this month.

Elected to three year terms were Arthur Speltz and Lyle Duncan. Dorwin Nelson and Marvin Loeding won two-year terms. Aldwyn Barden won a one-year term.

One of the five will be chosen mayor at an organizational meeting.

2 Traffic Clerks Fired in Detroit

Judge Links Them With Mishandling of Conviction Records

DETROIT (AP) — Two Detroit traffic court clerks who refused to quit the jobs they held for 19 years were fired yesterday.

Andrew Michaels, 48, and Joseph A. Hurst, 51, both said they planned to appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Chief Traffic Court Clerk R. B. Chellis told Michaels and Hurst Monday that they would be fired if they did not resign voluntarily.

Traffic Court Judges John D. Watts and George T. Murphy asked Chellis to deliver the ultimatum. The judges made the request after an investigation in connection with record tampering in the court.

* * *

Both Hurst and Michaels denied any wrongdoing.

Murphy and Watts launched the investigation when they found some convictions records were not being sent to the secretary of state at Lansing. Murphy said Michaels and Hurst were linked to the tampering but declined to reveal details.

Central Teacher Gets Fellowship for Study in East

Elizabeth E. McDonald, 236 Orchard Lake Ave., an English teacher at Pontiac Central High School has been awarded a John Hay Whitney humanities fellowship for a summer session at an eastern college.

She will be one of 44 public school administrators and 80 public high school teachers to participate in the summer institutes.

The sessions will be held from July 1 to July 30 at Bennington College in Vermont and Williams College in Massachusetts.

The fellows will represent 26 states.

Purpose of the summer institutes is to give recognition to the humanities subjects and to provide the opportunity for administrators and teachers interested in new educational developments to exchange ideas and experiences.

Red Cross Busy Taking Care of Flood Evacuees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Red Cross said today it has 10,000 volunteers working day and night to feed, clothe and shelter those evacuated from the flood areas in eight midwestern states.

The national headquarters of Red Cross said 35 disaster specialists are arriving at key flood centers to help 50 already assigned to help local chapters in providing relief.

The Red Cross said it expects the number of persons affected in Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan, South Dakota, Missouri and Kansas to grow from 28,000 to 40,000 as the crest of Mississippi floodwaters moves downstream.

Is Cable Car Deductible?

He Has One-Track Mind

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Roy Puckett's cable car rumbled into court Tuesday, figuratively speaking.

* * *

Puckett wants Uncle Sam to hand back a $5,460 refund on his 1954 income taxes because of the cable car, which Puckett claims is a deductible medical expense.

The refund claim, filed in U.S. District Court and scheduled to be heard April 26, came about in this manner:

In 1954, after Puckett had developed asthma, his doctor advised him not to use the 100 feet of steps and trail which connects Puckett's waterfront home on Puget Sound to a road on the steep bluff above the house.

* * *

Puckett, a Seattle labeling firm operator, installed an electrically powered cable car between his home and the road, at a cost of more than $10,000.

Puckett, asking for the refund, claimed the cable car was a medical expense, that the steep walkway gave him no trouble until he became an asthmatic.

* * *

The Internal Revenue Service claims the cost of the cable car is not deductible because it increases the value of Puckett's 27-year-old home.

Goldwater Sees 2-4 Seat Gain

But Says GOP Cannot Take Control of Senate in 1960 Election

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) predicted that Republicans will gain two to four Senate seats in the 1960 election, but says it is "mathematically impossible" to capture control of the Senate.

★ ★ ★

He spoke as chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee at the eighth annual Republican Women's Conference attended by about 5,000 delegates from 47 states.

Goldwater said the GOP should hold all of the Senate seats it has at stake this year and unseat two to four Democrats.

He said the states in which Republicans have the best chance to defeat incumbent Democrats are Montana, Wyoming, Michigan, West Virginia, Rhode Island and Oregon.

Goldwater said the GOP faces "A 10-year problem" to re-establish Republican strength in the Senate.

Gets First Full Term

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (UPI)—Municipal Judge John Piercey, who was appointed to fill a vacancy last fall, won election to his first full term in a municipal election here Monday. Piercey outpolled Charles Waugh, 2,135 to 1,140.

Architect Answers Questions About Our Cities

Predicts Multifamily Dwelling Emphasis

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Architect George Nelson has some pretty arresting thoughts about the American city of the future.

Question — What do you think the dwelling of the future will be like?

Answer — There's going to be a great deal more emphasis on multifamily dwellings than there has been so far in our history. Our cities are beginning to run out of land.

HOUSES?

Q. — How about space inside the house?

A. — There's going to be less and les space at higher and higher rents.

Q. — How different, or how much the same, will our cities be?

A. — In the last seven thousand years the basic needs of people haven't changed very much. If people need goods, there are going to be stores. Maybe, however, there will be a mail order catalogue and the town will be criss-crossed with pneumatic tube and you'll order everything by pushing buttons, in which case the store will be replaced.

You may eventually be dealing with a warehouse . . . as for the shape of cities, they will be much more open than today. Instead of a town jammed with miles and miles of four-story buildings locked together it would seem more reasonable to expect something on the order of 'towers in parks.'

Q. — How do you see the transportation system in cities in the future?

A. — The whole trend in the getting-around department has been away from mass transportation to individual transportation. It is more efficient to move people in buses or trains, but everybody now insists on taking his own car and driving to work if he possibly can.

We utilize these individual vehicles in an extremely wasteful way.

I would like to imagine that in the city of the future no suburban cars will be allowed, that certainly no cars of the present cruiser dimensions will be allowed because you need these only on express highway.

Imagine a city filled with quiet, small quarter-in-the-slot electric taxis! I say electric because electric cars don't smell and such taxis could be recharged wherever they are parked. Quiet, smelling better, and giving people greater ability to move around inexpensively. What nonsense it is, really, to have one man take up one hundred square feet of road or street space in a vehicle that weighs four thousand pounds to go eight miles.

MONO-RAILS?

Q. — How about mono-rails, big helicopters, and other means of transportation that have been mentioned as possibilities for the future?

★ ★ ★

A. — The mono-rail has a very good future because it doesn't use up any land. You can put a mono-rail down any parkway or express highway without sacrificing a square foot of land. The mono-rail vehicles are very fast, quiet, attractive.

Helicopters? You can take small helicopters now to get from one airport to another. Is there any reason why they won't increase in size and use in the future?

As for subways, they have always baffled and griped me. I've never been able to understand why in a city such as New York, London, Paris, Moscow, Tokyo, they take the people and stuff them into underground tubes to get them from place to place, yet trucks loaded with merchandise ample around in the sun!

I find this a peculiar thing and hope that in the city of the future this silly behavior may be reversed. A sack of potatoes doesn't care how you transport it. Why should people have to go through these dark and noisy tunnels on a nice day while potatoes ride overhead?

One would hope that someday there will be a wise and influential politician who will pull a switch and, from that day on, potatoes and such will go by subway and people will go by truck — or the equivalent thereof — and get themselves a 'coat of tan.

FBI ENTERS CASE — The FBI has begun investigating the death of Arthur Adler, 43, owner of a night club often visited by the bigwigs of Chicago's underworld. Adler's nude body was found in a sewer a week ago after he had been missing since Jan. 20. Adler had testified in grand jury hearings on the underworld.

College Test Deadline

LANSING (UPI)—The deadline for Michigan college students to apply for college qualification tests is April 7, Selective Service headquarters has advised. Test scores are used by local draft boards in considering students for deferment.

UAW to Keep Clamps on Southern Local

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union says it will continue trusteeship over a southern local if the local continues its alleged segregation.

★ ★ ★

The UAW said it had received a letter from Local 552 at Memphis, Tenn., asking that the international lift the trusteeship within 15 days. It said the local wrote that if the trusteeship was not lifted it would ask Senate Rackets Committee to investigate and tell its story throughout the South.

★ ★ ★

Douglas Fraser, a UAW regional director, said "We have told them repeatedly that if the segregation practices end, the trusteeship would be lifted immediately. Until that time, we're sitting tight." The international contends the local's hall has separate drinking fountains and washrooms for white and Negro members.

HELLO, OUT THERE — Dr. Frank D. Drake, 29, associate astronomer of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory at Green Bank, W. Va., is directing a search to hear signals from intelligent life eslewhere in space. He and his associates are using an 85-foot radio telescope.

Ex-Center Line Mayor New Top Executive

Eisle, who was mayor from 1945-54, defeated Councilman Leon A. Garwood, 1,408 to 472.

★ ★ ★

Incumbent Councilman George Valich and Steve Okras defeated two other candidates for the two openings on the City Council and voters approved five amendments to the city charter by a margin of about 4-1.

★ ★ ★

The charter amendments included proposals to change the number of signatures needed to place a name on the ballot from 25 to 100 and one to change the date for the primary election from the first Monday in March to the third in February to conform with state election laws.

MUTED GLEN PLAIDS

in a suit you can wear 12 months of the year

If you like a pattern that is well mannered and well spoken—that doesn't raise its voice to command attention yet carries a natural authority of its own—then we suggest our Muted Glen Plaids as the perfect choice for your new Spring suit.

Rich in character, neat and unobtrusive, our subdued Glen Plaids speak in cultivated accent that appeals to gentlemen of taste. Try on a suit in a year-round mid-weight worsted and see yourself as a man of individuality —completely and confidently separated from the "herd" influence in men's clothing-fashions. Burnished browns, grays and olives in great variety and brimful of value.

Learn Trick of Making Good Gelatin Mold

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When a friend asked us what made gelatin desserts "rubbery" on the bottom, we thought that an article on said desserts might be in order. Since we had recently had lunch with a home economist from one of the larger companies that puts out flavored gelatin, we were just full of information (and a good lunch too.)

★ ★ ★

Rubbery gelatin happens when you don't stir the dissolving gelatin enough to mix it thoroughly with the hot or boiling liquid. Keep stirring until there are no little granules climbing up the side of the bowl and until it is perfectly clear. We use a quart measuring glass, one we can see through. That leaves no doubt.

Instructions on the package always tell whether the liquid should be boiling or just hot. Lukewarm won't do. The second cup of liquid can be cold.

If you are a particular person, you will let your gelatin cool to the slightly thickened stage before adding any fruits or vegetables. Otherwise the added ingredients will rise or sink.

Now, if you want layered fruit gelatin without too much trouble, take advantage of this rising and sinking. Turn your dissolved gelatin into a mold. Add one fruit that sinks, one that rises. Chill until firm. You'll have two fruit layers with clear gelatin in between.

These Fruits Sink

Apricots, canned
Royal Anne cherries, canned
Peaches or pears, canned
Pineapple, canned
Raspberries, canned
Fresh orange sections
Fresh grapes
Prunes, or plums cooked

These Fruits Float

Apple cubes
Banana slices
Fresh grapefruit sections
Fresh peaches or pears
Fresh raspberries
Fresh strawberries
Marshmallows
Broken nutmeats

Never use fresh or frozen pineapple or frozen concentrated fruit blends. They will prevent the gelatin from setting.

If you want to whip gelatin, chill it until it is as thick as honey. Whipped gelatin doubles in volume. To make SNOWS add 1 or 2 unbeaten egg whites for each 3 ounces of gelatin. Whip the two together. BAVARIAN CREAMS are made by folding whipped cream or whipped dessert topping into whipped gelatin.

When you are making layered molds, chill each layer until almost firm before adding the next layer. If the first layer is too firm the layers may slip apart when unmolded. Be sure to use cooled gelatin when making layers.

Here's a pretty, pretty layered fruit mold.

Raspberry-Peach Duo

1 large package (6 ounces) raspberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 package (12 ounces) quick-frozen peaches (not thawed)
1 cup cold water
1 large package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened

Cream Sauce

Dissolve gelatin, sugar, and salt in boiling water. Add lemon juice and rind. Pour 1 cup of the gelatin over the frozen block of peaches; stir to separate fruit. Then pour into a 1½-quart mold. Chill until set but still sticky.

Add cold water to remaining gelatin. Gradually blend with cream cheese. Chill until slightly thickened. Spoon over layer in mold. Chill until firm—6 to 4 hours. Unmold. Serve with Creamy Sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Creamy Sauce

Beat 1 egg until thick and light; add ¼ cup sugar and a dash of salt, beating constantly. Gradually beat in ¼ cup melted butter and 1½ teaspoons vanilla. Combine ½ cup cold milk with 1 envelope dessert topping mix in a small bowl with a narrow bottom. Blend; then beat until mixture stands in soft peaks. Fold into egg mixture. Makes about 2½ cups. (Leftover sauce may be covered and stored in the refrigerator.)

This second recipe has a larger variety of fruit in it. Boiling apple sauce is used for the liquid.

Party Fruit Dessert

2 cups canned apple sauce
1 pkg. lemon flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
¼ cup orange juice
1 cup miniature marshmallows
⅔ cup maraschino cherries, chopped
1 cup diced canned pineapple slices
1 cup sliced bananas
Whipped cream, if desired

Heat apple sauce to boiling point; remove from heat. Add gelatin, stir until dissolved. Add orange rind and juice. Cool. Stir in marshmallows, maraschino cherries, pineapple and bananas; pour into 1 quart mold. Chill until set. Unmold. Serve with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Use Two Hibachis

Pre-cooked frankfurts heat perfectly on Japanese hibachi broilers. If you have two hibachis, heat a cocktail sauce on one, and let your guests broil their own frankfurts on the other.

Perishable Eggs Must Be Cold

Did you know that eggs will age 2 weeks in 48 hours at room temperature, asks Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent for Oakland County.

In using them, quality is reserved when you keep the carton in the refrigerator . . . removing only the number of eggs you are going to be using.

Colored Easter Eggs Date Back to Olden Times

Red eggs — blue eggs — yellow or green — Easter egg gifts in the modern family are a token of tender affection. The giving of eggs as a symbol of the renewal of life and as a gift has been the custom for centuries before the birth of Christ.

Eggs were a natural symbol of nature's awakening and the renewal of life after the passiveness of winter. For centuries in almost all countries, dyed eggs were exchanged as gifts during the spring festival. Eggs, a symbol of fertility in many lands, were easily transferred from pagan lore to Christian customs. During the early Christian era, the red coloring used by heathens as representative of the life force in nature, came to denote the blood Christ shed on the Cross.

The decorating and dyeing of eggs has long been a folk art. There are numerous charming customs in relation to this practice of coloring eggs. In olden days people refrained from eating eggs as well as meat during Lent. On Easter Eve and Easter Day huge trays of eggs, brightly colored and arranged in baskets were taken to church, where they were blessed by the priests. Taken home they were placed in the center of the table and shared with visitors during Easter Week. Now they are a basic Lenten food upon which everyone relies.

In many European countries games in which the opponents knock Easter eggs together, exchange them, play marbles with them, race with them and roll them have long been popular. President Madison (1808-1812) introduced the egg-rolling party at the White House, a custom which has been perpetuated by our presidents up to and including President Eisenhower.

The idea for our American Easter Bunny who traditionally hides the brightly colored Easter eggs originated in Ancient Egypt. Hare means "open" and thus was used as a symbol for the spring festival that opened the new year of life and hope. As the hare was never widely known in the country, the familiar common rabbit became the beloved Easter Bunny.

Vari-colored Eggs and Easter Bunnies unite tradition and loving sentiment to pay tribute to a great day, Easter Sunday, celebrated by families everywhere.

Bread Superstitions

Bread customs have always attracted great interest. In olden days, to pass bread at the table like toasting with wine, was thought to ensure good health and a long life. To drop bread on the floor was a good sign and a wish made when it was picked up was sure to come true. The expression "break bread" began with superstition — once a man "breaks bread" with another, they are friends.

Dress up Noodles With Herbs, Cheese

In the lush, tropical French island of Martinique, in the Caribbean, the natives indulge in uninhibited merrymaking and festivity just before the beginning of the austere 40 days of Lent. The grand parade of their carnival fails on Ash Wednesday, and features bands, noisemakers and a myriad of black and white mourning costumes on men, women and children of all ages.

Such pre-Lenten carnivals are typical of many French, Spanish and Italian lands. And, of course, we have the culmination of Mardi Gras in New Orleans on Shrove Tuesday.

Did you realize that carnival is said to come from the Latin phrase, "to take away meat?" The Lenten days of fasting mean meatless menu planning for many homemakers. Noodles with Herb Cheese Sauce is a marvelous dish to serve this time of year. A mixture of herbs gives it a mysterious and marvelous flavor, and the addition of eggs, salmon or tuna turns it into a hearty meal.

Here's the recipe for the noodle casserole, as developed in a national test kitchen.:

Noodles with Herb Cheese Sauce

Drop 7 or 8-oz. pkg. noodles into 6 cups boiling salted water (4 tsp. salt). Bring back to rapid boil. Cook, stirring constantly, 3 min. Cover with tight-fitting lid, remove from heat and let stand 10 min. Drain. Rinse with hot water; dot with butter.

Mix noodles and Herb Cheese Sauce (recipe below), Pour into ungreased 1½-qt. baking dish. Top with grated cheese. Place under broiler until cheese is melted.

Herb Cheese Sauce

¼ cup butter
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon each thyme, basil, savory, parsley, chives or onions
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 cups milk
2 cups granulated Cheddar cheese

Melt butter over low heat in heavy saucepan. Blend in flour and seasonings. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat. Stir in milk. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Boil 1 min. Remove from heat; blend in cheese, reserving ¼ cup for topping. Stir until cheese is melted. 4 to 6 servings.

Variations

To make the noodles with Herb Cheese Sauce a more complete meal, one of the following may be added:

1. 4 sliced, hard-cooked eggs
2. 7-oz. can salmon, broken in large pieces
3. 6½-oz. can tuna, drained and broken in large pieces

Having trouble caramelizing sugar? It may be because you are trying to melt more than a half cupful at a time.

Sleep 8 Hours—Wake Up Tired?

Discover the Wonderful Blood-Strengthening* Action Of This Women's Iron Tonic!

After a good night's sleep, do you still feel tired out? Often this run-down feeling is due to "Iron-Hungry Blood" (*simple iron deficiency anemia). Then it's needless to suffer such awful weariness.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham Tablets, only iron tonic made especially for women. Rich in iron, Pinkham Tablets start to strengthen your blood within one day! Thus quickly help build rich, red blood . . . to restore strength and energy so you feel fine again fast! If your blood is so starved for iron that you just drag through the day, get Pinkham Tablets from drug stores. See if you don't soon feel like a "new" woman again.

FEMALE AILMENTS—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (Liquid) also brings blessed relief from discomforts of change-of-life, monthly pain.

HER 'SWEETHEART' — Silent film actress Mary Pickford was thrilled to get an autograph from former President Harry S. Truman at a convention of broadcasters in Chicago. Truman said he had long admired Miss Pickford. Truman addressed the Broadcast Pioneers' annual dinner. Miss Pickford is attending the convention as owner of a station in Wichita, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Onassis Agree to Separation

NEW YORK (AP)—A divorce suit by Mrs. Tina Onassis was dropped Tuesday because she has entered into separation agreement with Aristotle Socrates Onassis, multi-millionaire shipping magnate.

Mrs. Onassis had filed the divorce action in state supreme court last Nov. 25. The separation agreement came to light as her lawyer discontinued the divorce suit.

Mrs. Onassis, 29, will share custody of their two children, Alexander, 11, and Christina, 9, but they will live with the mother. She resides at 16 Sutton Pl., in Manhattan.

Mrs. Onassis neither asked nor received alimony or counsel fees, it was disclosed.

Onassis has figured in romance reports with Maria Callas, tempestuous opera star. Both have denied any romance despite the fact they have been seen together often.

Wins in Charlevoix

CHARLEVOIX (UPI)—Miss Annabelle Cunningham was elected city treasurer Monday over Mrs. Ivan Phillips, 484-158, in a sticker contest.

$9 Million Outlay Plan Seeks Fireproof Stairs

LANSING (UPI) — Fireproof stairways in the capitol building would make up $120,000 of a $9,216,297 capital outlay budget for fire protection submitted in detail to the Legislature.

Nearly four million dollars would go to improvements in schools and about two million for mental health facilities.

The fire protection part of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' capital outlay program was delayed because final estimates of the amount needed were not available when the rest of the budget detail went to lawmakers.

Wide Variety on Thursday Agenda

3 Waterford PTAs to Meet

Three Waterford Township Parent-Teacher Assn. meetings have been scheduled for tomorrow night.

"The Curriculum Growth in Waterford Township" is the title Dr. Chandos Reid has selected for her talk at the Williams Lake School, beginning at 8 p.m.

Vocal music will be presented by the Waterford High School Boys' Ensemble, preceded by the election of PTA officers.

An open house will be held at the Stringham School beginning at 7:30 p.m. Teachers will be in their rooms and exhibits of pupils' work will be on display.

A movie, "Roots of Happiness," will be presented. It deals with the mental health program in Oakland County.

A panel including Mrs. Avis Green, Mrs. Dorothy Baringham, Allen Miserez, counselor at Crary Junior High, and Jerome Weiss, visiting teacher, will discuss the movie. Mrs. Marge Miller will be the moderator.

★ ★ ★

There will be an election of officers at 8 p.m. at the Monteith School meeting. The Waterford Township Girls' Choir will present several numbers. Following the program there will be an open house for parent - teacher visitations.

Iran Greets Hussein

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI) — Jordan's King Hussein received a flag-waving reception on his arrival here Monday for a 10-day visit. Hussein was welcomed by the Shah of Iran, the cabinet, members of the diplomatic corps and other officials.

St. Clair Shores Vote Heaviest in Its History

ST. CLAIR SHORES (UPI)—St. Clair Shores recorded its heaviest turnout in a municipal election in history Monday when 8,542 voters, 25 per cent of the eligible voters, elected three councilmen, a municipal judge and approved two proposals on the ballot.

★ ★ ★

Incumbents Harry Blackwell and Frank McFarlin were re-elected to the council along with Joseph Snyder, chairman of the Municipal Planning Commission.

★ ★ ★

Harman Bries won the municipal judgeship by only 55 votes over Frank Lawson, 4,012 to 3,957.

★ ★ ★

Voters approved a one-year extension of a three-mill tax to finance construction of a new police station and voted to put a freeze on the number of liquor licenses in the city at 24.

Mayor Davis Re-Elected to Office in Grand Rapids

In balloting for a member of the Grand Rapids Board of Education, Assac van Kammen defeated Paul Phillips, 20,175 to 17,726.

Name Commissioners in Marquette Election

C. Fred Rydholm gained 2,487 votes; E. K. Carlson, 1,903, and Victor Touminen, 1,683.

The total number of votes cast was 3,559, about 43 per cent of the city's eligible voters.

Elected in Gladstone

Senate Passes Shot Measure

Bill Would Require Proof of Immunization Upon Starting School

LANSING (UP)—The so-called immunization checkpoint bill has become the second elecent in Gov. Williams' 29-point swan-song program to win final legislation passage.

The Senate, by a vote of 27 to 5, approved the proposal for systematic screening of children upon their entry into public, private or parochial school.

Each child would have to give proof of vaccination for polio, tetanus, smallpox, diphtheria and whooping cough or a parents' statement either opposing such vaccination or requesting needed protections.

Health authorities backed the bill as an effective means of combatting a worrisome tendency for public relaxation of barriers thrown up against epidemic diseases.

New Menominee Mayor

MENOMINEE (UPI) — John W. Reindl was elected mayor to succeed retiring Mayor Otto Eickemeyer in a municipal election here Monday. Reindl received 2,482 votes to 887 for Herbert W. Beyersdorf.

Rep. Bentley Against Subsidy for Teachers

DETROIT (UP)—Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) says he favors federal aid for school construction but is opposed to "Democratic bills authorizing federal expenditures for teachers' salaries."

Bentley, the only formally announced candidate for the Michigan GOP nomination for U. S. senator, said Monday night that "in addition to matching funds for new classrooms, I will favor action by Congress to help school districts that have reached their bonding limits."

"It seems to me that this approach is in the best tradition of both Abraham Lincoln and the Republican Party," Bentley told a party meeting here. "We recognise that a problem exists in certain areas which cannot be solved by either the local or the state government."

But, he added, "I do not expect to support any legislation providing for federal assistance in the nature of subsidies to teachers or federal assistance to increase their salary levels."

Elected to Council

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—Harry Wilkow and Robert Kirschman Jr. were elected to the City Council here Monday. A proposal to replace the 20th street bridge failed by a vote of 2,461 to 3,915.

NLRB Cites 6 Firms for Unfair Practices

DETROIT (UP)—The National Labor Relations Board says six Detroit-area plumbing and heating firms violated unfair labor practice laws.

The NLRB said the firms were guilty of an unfair labor practice by having supervisors hold key jobs in Pipefitters Local 636.

The Detroit Assn. of Plumbing Contractors and the Mechanical Contractors Assn. of Detroit were convicted of the same charge.

The three-man board in Washington said it was illegal for the companies to interfere in activities of the local by having supervisors hold office. The board ordered the practice stopped.

The NLRB also ruled that the management association could not negotiate with a Local 636 bargaining committee which included supervisors.

James P. Duffy, a member of the local, filed the charge last year. He claimed that management superintendents and foremen held 10 of the local's 22 offices at various times.

More than 13 million persons live along the Nile river regions in Egypt.

3 Picked in Grandville

GRANDVILLE (UPI) — Grandville voters elected three councilmen Monday. Elected were Merle Ulberg, 626 votes; James Balkema, 619 votes, and Roy Woodrich, 597 votes.

Families Doll Up the Kids for Easter

That's what an Associated Press survey of merchants in 17 major cities indicated today.

The days when the whole family turned out Easter morning with new duds from head to toe are gone, merchants said. Families now tend to buy their clothing throughout the year as the need arises.

"There was a time when Easter was a dress-up must for everybody but that is not true now," said James O'Brien, vice president of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. of Chicago. "The idea now is 'dress up the kids.'"

"Women and children are getting the most from the Easter Spending dollar," said a Columbus, Ohio, store executive.

COATS SELLING

"Ladies' coats are pretty good but dresses and men's suits are not so hot," said a Cleveland retailer.

Merchants are making a big effort to get dad to doll up more on Easter. They're promoting light type fabrics and a wide range of colors.

★ ★ ★

"There are new fashions and trends," a Denver merchant said, "and mom wants him up-to-date with the rest of the family—and the rest of the block."

★ ★ ★

What's selling for Easter?

A big New York buying house, which represents scores of stores across the nation, says it customers report:

Women will be wearing fingertip jacketed "walking suits," polka dot and white dresses and hats blooming with flowers.

Little girls will be turned out in checked coats and suits and frothy organdy and nylon and silk organzas in pastel "Easter egg" tones.

Young men and boys are going in for gold, black or navy wool blazers with contrasting Continental style slacks.

Merchants in most cities report that buying is picking up after a slow start because of terrible weather. Many expect to equal or surpass the record volume of the 1959 Easter season.

In other areas, storekeepers said the prolonged period of cold and snow has taken a permanent toll and sales won't come back to 1959 levels.

Big Mac Traffic Light Due to Late Easter

ST. IGNACE (UPI) — Traffic and revenue on the Mackinac Bridge declined in March but the bridge authority attributed the drop to the fact that Easter was in March last year.

Prentiss M. Brown, bridge authority chairman, said traffic and revenue were up for the first 20 days of March this year but then dropped for the last 10 days "when comparison figures became distorted due to March Easter travel last year and expected Easter travel in April of this year."

Can Present United Front

Three Opera Companies to Join in Mutual Group

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera, the Chicago Lyric Opera and the San Francisco Opera are planning to form an association to provide mutual aid and to present a united front in coping with their problems.

Among the aims are cutting costs, sharing artists and repertory, and popularizing opera.

Rudolf Bing, general manager of the Metropolitan, outlined the project Monday. He had discussed it at a meeting here in February with Kurt Herbert Adler, general director of the San Francisco Opera, and Miss Carol Fox, general manager of the Lyric Opera of Chicago.

★ ★ ★

No date for the start of the association has been set.

Bing spoke of "an extremely dangerous and deteriorating situation with some singers—both European and American—who more and more tend to ignore contractual obligations, and play off one company against another."

The agreement, still informal, provides that a breach of contract at one opera house could be considered a breach of faith at the others, thus barring singers from other companies.

★ ★ ★

The agreement calls for national publicity to be encouraged jointly; scenery and costumes would be exchanged on a rental basis that would allow expansion of repertories; sharing travel fares of artists; and information would be exchanged on contracts, labor problems and tour itineraries.

★ ★ ★

Bing said the association would be open to other American opera companies, Canadian and Latin-American companies might eventually join the project.

The New York City OPera was absent from the discussion.

Arizona leads the nation in production of copper. Near Phoenix are several open pit mines that produce more than $250 million worth of copper ore annually.

Outlook Better for College Grad

Has Better Selection of Jobs and Salaries Than in Past: U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—College graduates looking for jobs as teachers will have a better selection of salaries and opportunities to choose from than ever before, a University of Michigan placement official contends.

Evart Ardis, director of the school's Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information, says the demand for graduates is greater than 1959—one of the best years on record.

Beginning teachers in Michigan can expect higher salaries ranging from $200 to $400 this year, or a gain about equal to that seen last year he said.

Ardis found that in southeastern Michigan, particularly the Detroit area, beginning salaries average $4,800 to $5,000 annually, "depending on the wealth of the community and its desire to have excellent educational programs."

A teacher shortage on the national level has resulted in a continuance of the trend toward more outstate recuiting of teachers, he said.

Last year 36 per cent of U. of M. grads who became teachers took positions outside the state.

Although there is a definite short supply of teachers in all fields, Ardis said, demand is most acute for librarians and teachers in the elementary grades, chemistry, physics and special education.

Cyst Had Made Him a Villain

Army Hero Wants Second Chance

VACAVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — A war hero who ruined a promising Army career asked for another chance Tuesday—and doctors at the state prison hospital here believe he deserves it.

Victor Hungerford, 39, rose from private to major during World War II and won the bronze and silver stars and a Purple Heart during the Korean campaign.

In 1950, he led his platoon on an attack on a Chinese Communist machine gun nest near the Kum River. He was stunned by the concussion of an exploding shell and lay as though dead for eight hours until medics discovered he was alive.

Hungerford was checked, pronounced all right, and returned to his company. But soon he developed headaches, felt strange and occasionally suffered amnesia.

DRANK, STOLE, WENT AWOL

The major was transferred back to his home state of Washington, where he went on a series of drinking sprees and was AWOL. In 1954—after 18 years of service—Hungerford was dishonorably discharged and sentenced to a year in military prison for desertion and larceny.

★ ★ ★

Last year, he was sentenced for passing bad checks in California. Physicians at the Division of Medicine and Surgery at the prison medical facility here became interested in the major.

Dr. Hal Holland, a neurosurgeon, finally determined that Hungerford had a cyst on the left frontal lobe of his brain—probably as the result of the concussion he suffered in combat.

The cyst was removed during a delicate brain operation, and the former hero's personality and physical condition underwent a dramatic change. Headaches disappeared, Hungerford became more relaxed, and his criminal symptoms vanished.

The hospital is sending a complete record of the unusual circumstances to Washington, D.C., suggesting Hungerford's case be reopened with a view toward changing the discharge to honorable, thus restoring his civil rights.

Hungerford said he planned to work as a real estate salesman in Red Bluff, Calif., until some decision was made in his case.

"But I'd like to get back in the Army," he said.

Pardon Hearing Set April 19 for Pecho

LANSING (UPI) — A hearing which could lead to freedom for a Lansing factory worker imprisoned for more than five years on a second degree murder conviction will be held April 19, the parole board said today.

But a move for a new trial was denied in Ingham Circuit Court a few weeks ago. The hearing on a possible pardon is the last hope for immediate freedom for Pecho, who would become eligible for parole from Southern Michigan Prison in another 18 months even if the pardon bid is denied.

Parole Board Chairman Roy Nelson said the board would consider all the evidence including lie detector tests — not admissable in court—in an effort to determine whether Pecho is guilty.

★ ★ ★

But he emphasized the board had no power to either pardon Pecho or leave him in jail. It simply makes a recommendation to Gov. G. Mennen Williams who then must decide what to do.

Next to the United States, France has the most motor vehicles registered. At the beginning of 1959 there were 6,040,086 vehicles registered in France.

State Police to Promote Pair of Detectives

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Det. Sgt. Wallace van Stratt and Det. Charles R. Meyers, both with the State Police headquarters crime laboratory, will be promoted April 24.

★ ★ ★

Van Stratt, commanding officer of the laboratory, will move to detective lieutenant and Meyers becomes a detective sergeant.

Nepal Premier Rejects China's Claim to Everest

KATAMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Premier B. P. Koirala said Monday the Chinese Communists had laid claim to Mount Everest and his Himalayan Kingdom had rejected any encroachment on its traditional territory.

Everest, at 29,002 feet, is the world's highest peak. It lies along the border between Nepal and Tibet and long has been recognized by the world as in Nepalese territory.

Koirala told a news conference Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai put forth the claim during Koirala's recent trip to Peiping to try to straighten out a border dispute with the Red regime.

Koirala said the question of Everest was left unsolved in his talks with Chou but he would take it up again when Chou visited Katmandu on April 26.

"We have not entertained the Chinese demand nor do we intend doing so," Koirala said.

Tigers Lose General Manager, Win Game

DeWitt Takes Ferrell's Spot as Bengal GM

Detroit Gets 12 Runs in 1st Inning, Beats Baltimore, 14-4

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers lost a general manager and won a game yesterday.

After Tiger President Bill De Witt announced he would take over as general manager of the club, the Tigers blasted Baltimore rookie Steve Barber and Wes Stock for 12 runs in the first inning and went on to win, 14-4.

De Witt, in announcing his new position, said Ricky Ferrell would become a special assistant to the president.

Ferrell has served as general manager since January 1959. His new duties will consist largely of scouting and handling player personnel, both major and minor league, it was announced.

"Rick has a 30-year Major League background and I have great respect for his judgment of players," said De Witt. "In his new capacity, he will be of greater value in passing judgment on free agents who have been recommended by our scouts and who are seeking substantial bonuses."

Ferrell has been in the Detroit organization since 1950, and was a coach, scout and farm director before succeeding John McHale as general manager after McHale went to the Milwaukee Braves. His salary will not be changed by the move, De Witt said.

★ ★ ★

The move, not unexpected as De Witt has been taking a more and more active part in the daily operations of the Tigers, makes the Tigers the sixth club in the Major Leagues without a titular general manager.

The Tigers sent 17 batters to the plate in their first big inning against Barber. The barrage included five hits, six walks, one hit batsman and two Baltimore errors.

It was the second big round in four days for the Tigers, who scored 10 times in the third inning against Larry Jackson of the St. Louis Cardinals last Friady.

★ ★ ★

Stock, a righthander already assigned to Miami of the International League, rescued Barber with nine runs across, the bases full and two out in the first. The Tigers emptied the bases with two more singles off Stock and nicked him for bases-empty home runs by Nell Chrisley and Steve Bilko in the third.

Jim Bunning, who had never won an exhibition for the Tigers before this spring, made it four out of five for 1960 with the help of the Tigers' quick takeoff.

The slender righthander gave up just five hits in seven innings, but one was a solo homer by rookie Ron Hansen in the sixth.

★ ★ ★

The outcome squared the records of the two teams in Grapefruit League action, the Tigers at 10-10 and the Orioles at 11-11.

First Top Change in 4 Days

Ohioans Hit 7th in ABC

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The top 10 standings in the open division of the American Bowling Congress tournament got the first new resident in four days as the Cleveland Celery Market of Cleveland, Ohio, rolled a 3,020 series to claim seventh place.

James Blair led the quintet with a 183-228-268—679 series Tuesday night. While Blair was getting stronger, a pair of his teammates were floundering. Joe Rini, who opened with 211 and 214, stumbled to a 144 finale and a 579 series. Dick Collura, off to a good start on 185 and 244, dropped to 135 and a 564 total. Douglas Klares, son of former ABC doubles champion John Klares, shot 599, and Martin Loschiavo anchored with 639.

Celery Market rolled games of 989, 1,066 and 965, hefty shooting for a team which averages 980 in the Cleveland All-Star Traveling League.

The White Tower team, Stamford, Conn., manned by five former titlists whose ABC experience totals 205 years, rolled a 2,483 series.

Harry Steers, 79, contributed 443, as he rolled in his 55th ABC tournament, Hank Marino, named "Bowler of the Half Century" by the Bowling Writers Assn. in 1951, shot a respectable 529. Other totals by that quintet included Leo Faetz 574, Herb Lange 522 and Fred Thoma 415.

Giants Buy Cubs' Dale Long

A's Swap Grim for Kiely

By The Associated Press

The pennant-conscious San Francisco Giants, steeped in frontline talent, but weak on the bench, are doing their best to patch up their shortcomings.

Short on pinch hitters, the Giants Tuesday bolstered their major weakness with the purchase of power-hitter Dale Long from the Chicago Cubs.

It was the second deal in a week for the Giants and the fifth player transaction completed by major league clubs in the last nine with opening day six days away for the National League and less than two weeks off for the American.

The Giants, beaten by St. Louis 9-5 Tuesday as their exhibition record dropped to 10-11, also have strengthened their bench with the trade that brought Jim Marshall from the Boston Red Sox.

Long, a left-handed hitting outfielder-first baseman, as is Marshall, hit .236 for the Cubs last season with 14 home runs and 37 RBI in 110 games. Marshall, for whom the Giants gave up pitcher Al Worthington, compiled a .252 mark in 108 games during the 1959 campaign while hitting 11 homers and accounting for 40 RBI.

In another trade Tuesday, the Kansas City A's swapped pitcher Bob Grim to Cleveland for relief specialist Leo Kiely, who posted a 3-3 mark last year with Boston. Grim was 6-10 with the A's.

The A's meanwhile, boosted their spring record to 13-10 with a 13-5 victory over Washington and the Indians defeated the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers 8-4.

In other games, New York drubbed the Chicago White Sox 9-3, Detroit clubbed Baltimore 14-4, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 7-5, Boston beat the Chicago Cubs 12-9 and Milwaukee turned back Cincinnati 5-3 in a night game.

Daryl Spencer plagued his former San Francisco teammates, homering in the ninth inning for the Cards to break a 4-4 tie and ignite a five-run rally. Ellis Burton, also homered for St. Louis, while Jimmy Davenport, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey connected for the Giants.

Ray Herbert became the first Kansas City pitcher to hurl nine innings and also smacked a grand slam homer in the A's 13-hit attack. Pete Daley and Dick Williams backed Herbert with home runs and the Senators got a pair from Bob Allison.

Vic Power and rookie Walt Bond each drove in two runs in the sixth inning as the Indians came from behind to overhaul the Dodgers by chasing World Series pitching hero Larry Sherry. Sherry homered for Los Angeles as did Duke Snider and John Roseboro, Rocky Colavito hit one for Cleveland.

The Yanks broke it open in the first inning with a four-run outburst, a pair scoring on Mickey Mantle's triple. Al Smith smashed his fifth homer in four games for the White Sox while Bob Richardson numbered a home run among his four hits for New York.

Bob Skinner's three-run circuit shot in the ninth inning broke a six-game losing streak for the Pirates. Pittsburgh's Bob Clemente and the Phils' Ed Bouchee, Frank Herrera and Bobby Del Greco also homered.

Catcher Haywood Sullivan of the Red Sox collected a homer, single and double in an 18-hit offensive. Pitcher Jerry Casale contributed a home run for Boston with Ernie Banks matching it for the Cubs.

SCORES 3 — Big Steve Bilko, Tiger first baseman, hit another homer and scored three runs yesterday as Detroit walloped Baltimore, 14-4, in a Grapefruit League game yesterday in Lakeland, Fla.

JOINS TRIBE—Pitcher Bob Grim became a member of the Cleveland Indians' pitching corps after he was obtained from Kansas City in a trade which sent relief pitcher Leo Kiely to the A's. Both players are 30 years old.

Chiefs, Vikings Favored in Chips' Invitational

Pontiac Central and Flint Northern today were rated the probable top choices for the 9th annual Central Michigan University's Class A Invitational Track and Field Championships. The 12-school meet takes place Friday night at Mt. Pleasant.

Other schools include other Saginaw Valley teams, plus Muskegon, Mt. Pleasant and Traverse City. Arthur Hill, Saginaw High, Lansing Eastern, Bay City's Central and Handy and Flint Central, last year's champion.

Chiefs were four points back of Central Indians last spring, with Vikings a distant third.

Flint Northern has the speed, and depth this year, says PCH coach Dean Wilson. But Chiefs have power in the shot, with Charley Brown (54-5), Jerry Rush (53-1) and Bill Pritchett (54-10½) all in fine form; two or three good (better-than-6-feet) high jumpers in sophomore Bill Lee, Julius Harper, Bob Walker or Charles Kimbrell; ace miler Joe Anderson, rated a good bet to erase the meet's 4:38.7 record for the event. Joe is defending state Class A cross-country champion).

Wilson will announce his team tomorrow, when additional time trials have been completed in today's workout.

Gophers Okay Play in NCAA

Faculty Representative Urges Participation in Postseason Meets

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The University of Minnesota faculty-controlled athletic committee recommended unanimously today that the school vote for continued Big Ten participation in all NCAA championship events.

But it refused to change its historic stand against Big Ten involvement in the Rose Bowl and recommended that the school reaffirm its previous vote against participation in the post-season football game.

Both recommendations will be acted on by the full University of Minnesota senate, also faculty-controlled, April 28. The senate normally approves the recommendations of its committee on intercollegiate athletics.

★ ★ ★

In urging Big Ten participation in NCAA post-season championship events, the committee voted to overturn action of the conference's athletic directors.

Doolittle Quits as Grid Coach at Flint Central

The Saginaw Valley Conference lost one of its most capable football coaches today when Bill Doolittle resigned at Flint Central to accept a more lucrative position in his home town of Mansfield, Ohio.

The 36-year-old Doolittle compiled a sparkling record at Flint in his six years as Central's grid mentor. Under Doolittle's guidance, the Indians posted a 37-14-3 record which included four Saginaw Valley co-championships and four city crowns.

Two of the Valley co-titles came in succession—1958 and 1959. Doolittle replaced Howard Auer when he came to Flint Central. No successor has been named.

Orioles Drop Three, Reduce Roster to 37

Saverine, whose $70,000 bonus contract was the biggest given by the Orioles in 1959, was sent to the Fox Cities team of the Class B Three-I League. Now 19, he starred last year at Bluefield in the all-rookie Class D Appalachian League.

Homeroom Cage Semis in Progress at PNH

Pontiac Northern is in the last stages of its intramural homeroom basketball program.

Tuesday's results were: Library defeated B-15 by 20-15 score, Gib Hoffmon was high point man for the Library with 9 points. Ron Josephs' 16 points helped A-9 to a 30-28 victory over A-11. A championship game between senior homerooms found B-24 winners by a 38-20 score. High point man in the B-31 defeat was Bob Cohoe with 10 points.

NHL Final Series Opens Thursday

Canadiens Favored, 16-5

MONTREAL (AP) —The Montreal Canadiens today were rated a 16-5 choice to win their fifth straight Stanley Cup as they open League final playoff series with the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Forum Thursday night.

The series will be a replay of last year when Montreal won in five games for a record-shattering fourth straight cup.

Montreal Coach Toe Blake refused to be drawn into any talk about personal records in cup play.

"I'm not looking at it that way at all," he said, "This is just another final and it's a team affair as well as it is mine. We set a record when we completed four straight last year and that's all in the past. We're in a new series and we've got to be up to win it."

Toronto Coach Punch Imlach warned that his team has thought of nothing else but taking the coveted cup from its rivals since the Leafs opened training early last fall.

"And we'll beat the Canadiens to complete our schedule," Imlach was quoted as saying.

During the regular season the two clubs met 14 times with the Canadiens winning 10, losing three and tieing one. Montreal outscored the Leafs 51-28.

★ ★ ★

Both Blake and managing director Frank Selke conceded that this year's playoff will be much tougher since Toronto acquired Red Kelly from Detroit during the season. Kelly was a big factor in the Leafs' 4-2 semifinal series victory over the Red Wings.

Montreal hasn't played since eliminating the Chicago Black Hawks last Thursday, sweeping the four-game series.

The two teams will play the second game of their Stanley Cup final here Saturday night with the next two in Toronto.

COUSY UP — Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics is all alone as he breaks through the St. Louis Hawk defense to lay up a shot in the first period of their NBA playoff game at the Boston Gardens last night. Other players are Larry Foust (13) and Si Green (17) both of the Hawks. The Celtics won the game and lead the series, 3-2.

Cousy Returns to Form and Celtics Rip Hawks

BOSTON (AP)—"Cousy's back. That's the story."

Boston's Bill Russell was talking about the great performance of teammate Bob Cousy, who led the Celtics to a vital 127-102 playoff victory over the St. Louis Hawks Tuesday night.

The decision gave Boston a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 series that shifts to St. Louis for the sixth game Thursday night. The seventh game, if necessary, will be in Boston Saturday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Cousy was the key to the decision that gave the defending champions the whip hand in the playoffs. The long-time star had been in one of the worst slumps of his 10-year professional career. He had announced that if he didn't break out of the doldrums he would bench himself for the good of the team.

★ ★ ★

There was no need to.

The Boston Garden crowd of 13,909 gave him a standing ovation when he took a breather midway through the second quarter. By that time he had engineered a drive that broke the game open, giving Boston a 48-30 lead.

St. Louis was only one point back, 25-24, when the big push started. Cousy scored on one of his dazzling layups, worming his way past three defenders. Then he struck on a long, one-hand push shot. Then he set up Tommy Heinsohn for another and Boston was in front to stay. Cousy wound up with 21 points and 10 assists.

★ ★ ★

"I wouldn't say Cousy was the difference," St. Louis Coach Ed Macauley said. "But he's the quarterback. When he's up, the team is up. He gave them the momentum and when a great club like that has momentum they're just hard to stop."

★ ★ ★

"I was up for this one as much as I ever have been," the smiling, relaxed Cousy said. "You know, I have a whole stack of telegrams at home. People expressing their good wishes. And the phone was ringing so much I just quit answering it. And I got a lot of incentive from the way the crowd was cheering me. That makes you feel good.

★ ★ ★

"That first long basket I got helped me a lot, but I'd made up my mind to shoot anyhow. It's ridiculous to get so annoyed after 10 years."

But Cousy had to share a bit of the spotlight with Heinsohn, who pumped in 34 points for scoring honors.

Nixon Returns to Tribe, Glad He's Back Again

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Catcher Russ Nixon has reached an understanding with Cleveland Indians' General Manager Frank Lane and says now he's glad to be back with the Indians after being traded to the Boston Red Sox.

★ ★ ★

"I feel I've sort of grown up as a result of this mess, and I sure am happy to be with this ball club," Nixon said Tuesday after a long talk with Lane.

★ ★ ★

Lane didn't give him the raise he wanted, "but he made me feel I was wanted on the ball club —and that was more important," Nixon said.

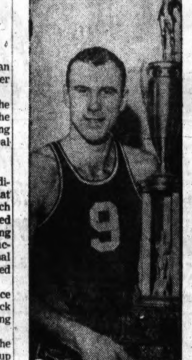
★ ★ ★

Nixon was traded to Boston for catcher Sammy White and Jim Marshall. White retired, voiding the trade, but meanwhile Red Sox General Manager Bucky Harris had given Nixon a $4,000 raise. Nixon lost this when he returned to Cleveland.

Unanimous for Folley

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Zora Folley, a top contender for the heavyweight title, won a unanimous decision Tuesday night over unranked Clarence Williams in a 10-round bout.

Folley weighed 198, Williams 200.



REPEATER — Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks receives the President's Cup to become the only NBA player to win the cup twice. The award is made annually by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. to the most valuable player in the NBA, as chosen in a poll of the league's players.

Need Legislative Action for Olympic Eligibility

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — When John Macy, the Polish refugee, bettered the National Collegiate 5,000-meter record in the Texas Relays it spotlighted a fight to make Macy eligible for the U.S. Olympic team. Macy ran it in 14:25.4—almost 11 seconds under the record.

Macy has to have American citizenship before he can compete and he hasn't enough time to get it in the normal course of events before the Olympics.

Seymour Lieberman, an attorney here who was largely instrumental in Macy coming to the University of Houston, said today he was renewing his efforts to get Congressional action. That's what is necessary in order to clear Macy for the Olympics.

Macy was a Polish Army officer who defected in 1954. He fled to West Germany and worked for the U.S. Army there for 13 months. In 1956 he came to the United States. Lieberman, a former track man who helps in promoting the Meet of Champions, a track and field meet here each June, and Coach Johnny Morriss of the University of Houston saw Macy run in the National AAU in California.

They talked the little Pole into coming to Houston. He couldn't even speak English then but he does it fluently now, has an American wife and in another year will have his college degree in engineering.

U.S. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas got a bill passed in the Senate to clear the way for Macy's citizenship. But it has been hung up in the House.

"They said there that if Macy should be a member of the United States team and win a place in the Olympics the Russians would say that we couldn't develop our athletes," said Lieberman. "They also said there was no law to back it but in 1956 a special bill was passed to make a bicycle rider eligible."

"At the time Macy came to the United States he was ranked 106th in the world as a distance runner," Lieberman said. "So he has been developed over here. There are a half-dozen other athletes in Macy's situation so his case is not an exception."

Want Oriole Ducats? Buy Lots of Grub

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles this year will mix base hits with bread, putouts with pork chops and strikes with strudel.

President Lee McPhail announced Tuesday the American League team has entered a trading stamp agreement with a grocery chain Food Fair.

Under the plan, trading stamps issued to customers of the chain will be redeemable for reserved seat tickets to Oriole games.

Three-fifths of a book of stamps will be worth a $2.25 seat or an equal amount toward a $3 box seat.

McPhail said fans buying tickets for some Oriole games will also receive "bonus" stamps which may be redeemed for tickets to later games.

Palmer Favorite, Souchak Gets Support

Year's Leading Money-Winner a Solid Choice

★ ★ ★

Palmer, the year's leading money-winner with more than $26,000 in earnings, himself places the barrel-chested Souchak at the head of the half-dozen or so whom he regards as players to beat for the title.

★ ★ ★

"I figure the men who are tough on the tour will be toughest here," said the 30-year-old Ligonier, Pa., professional, winner in 1958 and loser by two strokes last year. "I have to go with fellows like Souchak, Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald and Gene Littler."

Bookmakers, who operate illegally in the shadows of the majestic pine trees, have a slightly differing and a more definite view of the outcome of the four-day, 72-hole medal play event over the Augusta National course.

They have made Palmer the solid favorite at 6-1, followed by Venturi, who blew the championship as an amateur in 1956, at 8-1, Cary Middlecoff and three-time winner, Sam Snead, are bracketed at 10-1. Then comes an out-of-shape Ben Hogan and Souchak, 12-1, and Dow Finsterwald and South Africa's Gary Player, 15-1. Other prices range from 20-1 to 100-1.

Player, the young British Open champion, heads the strong foreign delegation which includes Canada Cup individual winner, Stan Leonard of Canada, and leading players from Australia, Spain, Brazil and England.

No foreigner ever has won this event and neither has an amateur. Jackie Nicklaus, the blond, 20-year-old slugger from Columbus, Ohio, who holds the U.S. Amateur crown, and Deane Beman, the British Amateur king from Bethesda, Md., head the simon-pure threat.

The weather ceased to be a factor. The 6,850-yard, par 72 course, drenched by a week of rains, was whipped Monday by strong, biting winds and warmed by a benign sun. The weather man promises clear, cool weather—temperature in the low 70s—for the rest of the week, but indications are the course still will play the heaviest it has in history.

★ ★ ★

This is calculated to help the big hitters—fellows like Palmer, Souchak, Snead, and the giant of them all, George Bayer.

Palmer, who is built like a halfback, has won four of the season's tournaments — three in a row — and improved putting has raised him almost into a class by himself.

★ ★ ★

"It's concentration," Arnold said of his new success. "I'm thinking better."

Indianapolis May See 1-Minute Lap

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., who has been racing in the Indianapolis Memorial Day auto classic since 1946, said Tuesday there is a good chance for the first 1-minute lap around the 2½-mile track this year.

★ ★ ★

The two-time champion of the American big car circuit said a new racing tire will permit higher speed on the turns. A new tread design is the main improvement. Johnny Thomson and Paul Goldsmith tested the new tire on the Speedway for several thousand miles at high speed.

3 Wings Stay in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—While most of the Detroit Red Wing players will be heading back to their native Canada, three players will join manager Jack Adams and coach Sid Abel in Detroit during the off-season.

Gordie Howe, Warren Godfrey and Terry Sawchuk have become permanent residents of Detroit.

Howe will spend the summer with the Hose-Kaline-Carlin Co., Godfrey will be working in his sports store in Northland and Sawchuk will supervise his garbage truck concern before trying the tavern business in May.

Adams, Abel, Howe, Jim Morrison, Marcel Pronovost, Murray Oliver and Lloyd Haddon are planning Florida vacations before heading into summer occupations. Howe and Pronovost have tentative plans to act as commentators on telecasts of some of the Stanley Cup finals before heading south, Howe on the English network and Pronovost on the French.

Gary Aldcorn has an extensive European trip planned for the summer with old teammates and more recent foes Bob Pulford and Billy Harris of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Norm Ullman, Jerry Melnyk, Len Lunde and Len "Comet" Haley all take summer residence in Edmonton, Alta., home of a Red Wing colony. Ullman is a traffic clerk, Melnyk and Lunde work as greenskeepers on a municipal golf course and Haley runs his own construction firm.

Alex Delvecchio and Pete Goegan both reside in Fort William, Ont., where Delvecchio has a sporting goods store and Goegan is a carpenter.

Oliver, who lives in Hamilton, Ont., is also a part-time carpenter, and Haddon, of Sarnia, Ont., plays lacrosse in his home town.

Art Just a Spectator

Wall Plays New Role in Masters Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Art Wall Jr., is about to undergo a new experience—that of being a spectator at a golf tournament. He doesn't say he'll enjoy it.

"I thought maybe I could maneuver it so I could play here," he said. "It wasn't until Friday the doctor told me I'd have to take it easy 10 days more. But when you've waited seven weeks, you can wait one more."

A year ago Wall won the most important title and the biggest purse of his pro golf career when he stormed over the last six holes five strokes under par to beat Cary Middlecoff by a shot. He went on to earn the designation of player of the year and was the leading money winner.

Wall was hospitalized for a kidney ailment just after the Tucson Open in February. Then a knee became infected and was slow in responding to treatment.

"I'm almost 100 per cent okay now," he said. "Last week I thought maybe I could come down here and hit a few shots and maybe I could do all right without much practice. But the doctor said to rest my knee longer so I'm taking no chances. When you spend three weeks in a hospital it makes you think a little."

New Olympic Rule No Problem—Yet

NEW YORK (AP)—There's potential trouble ahead in the selection of the U. S. Olympic track and field squad. The brass isn't worried about it—yet.

A new rule was written into the books for the 1960 Olympics which could cause an uproar among the athletes.

Standards have been set up for every Olympic event. Each country is entitled to one entrant in each event whether he passes the standard or not. But if a country wants to enter the limit of three men in each event, all three must have passed the qualifying standard.

The U. S. traditionally, has selected its team strictly on the basis of man-to-man tryouts. In past years, there have been cries from world record holders who have failed to make it in the tryouts. But the Olympic Track and Field Committee has held firm.

With the new rule, there arises the possibility of three athletes who already have measured up to the standard of their event being beaten in the trials by someone who hasn't even qualified.

What then?

"We'll wait and see," said Pinky Sober, chief of the Olympic Track and Field Committee, today. "We plan a number of meets after the tryouts to keep the team in condition.

"The non qualifying tryout winners would have plenty of chance to meet the standard. Our aim is to select the best team and send a maximum entry."

The committee Tuesday released its first list of men who have equalled or bettered the standards. It contained no surprises.

All told, there are 76 athletes who have equalled or done better than the standard in 12 events. Considering that the season hasn't even started in the East and Midwest, this is about as expected.

Of course, the list is heavy in the events in which the U.S. always has excelled—for example, 17 pole vaulters, 10 shotputters, nine broad jumpers, nine high jumpers and nine 200-meter sprinters already have qualified—and light in the distance events.

Only Ernie Cunliffe of Stanford has qualified at the 800 meters (he did 1:47.6 in the 880-yards last Saturday), but the others are coming along slowly. Tom Murphy of the New York A. C. and Tom Carroll of Yale, to name two, probably could qualify any time they're in the mood.

The women's division, however, is a good cause of alarm. No one has qualified in any event yet. Mrs. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles is almost certain to make it in the shotput and perhaps Margaret Mathews and some of her Tennessee State teammates might make it in the dashes and hurdles. But beyond that, things look tough.

Hayes Jones, Eastern Michigan's splendid hurdler, is one of those yet to make the standard because he hasn't run outdoors this season.

Michigan's Bennie McRae and Southern California's Rex Cawley of Farmington, Mich., were listed as surpassing the 120-yard high hurdles standard.

Water Sports Crowding Him Out

Pity the Poor Fisherman

ALL OUTDOORS, Mich. (UPI) —More and more Michigan fishermen are fleeing to Ontario for their sport because they can't find a place to fish at home or can't find the whoppers with the fins once they do find a place to fish.

Stanley A. Cain, head of the University of Michigan department of conservation, recently warned of the tremendous growth in water sports, water skiing and power boating.

The fight between canoists and trout fishermen on some Michigan streams will look like child's play compared to the problems of fishermen in areas around population centers.

"Today nearly every water surface is crowded with youngsters performing the acrobatic stunts that only yesterday seemed to be the province of the swim-suited beauties in Florida," Dr. Cain pointed out.

Fishermen and these other boating and swimming enthusiasts just can't live in peaceful co-existance.

Michigan has 740 public fishing sites, purchased with money from the fisherman's licenses and tax on his tackle. These sites were originally intended as sport fishermen's boat launching areas.

However, in many parts of the state fishermen complain that "speedboating hotrods" have taken over the launching sites and the water.

Power boat operators and water skiers have just as much right on the water as the fishermen, Dr. Cain said. He suggested either in functions be separated either in space or time.

Vandalism in Parks Cost Taxpayers $$$

LANSING—Vandalism in 38 of Michigan's 56 state parks and recreation areas cost taxpayers $3,219 during 1959, a drop of about 42 per cent from the previous year.

Again suffering the most damage were 16 units in southeastern Michigan where costs approximated $2,350.

Statewide material costs, totaling $1,419, included: Buildings, $768; stoves and tables, $258; gates and fences, $168; signs, $94; miscellaneous, $129; and pumps and wells, $7. Total labor costs were $1,800.

Shirley Pointer of Pontiac was the only 1959 City Women's champion to repeat this year in the tournament which ended Sunday at Bill Kuklinski's Lakewood Lanes.

She failed to match her 1756 of last season but was still tops in all events actual at 1682 featuring a 236 game and 644 series. All three scores were high for the annual event sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association.

Shirley is an executive board member of the group which holds its final open meeting of the season April 24 at Elk Lodge 810.

When the Association hands out the usual long list of awards, eleven teams will get squad prizes. They are St. Benedict's, Walker-dine Service, Banner Linen, Sylvan Lanes and Bud & Lou's, all of Pontiac; Lake Laundry and the Beachcombers of Walled Lake; C. L. Langs Inv. of Waterford; Oxford's Smith Silo Co.; Milton Mobil of Rochester, and the Five Specs of Utica.

Two of the unusual happenings of the event were a 168 triplicate by Marion Andrews and a 143-144-145 combination by Viola Vandewater.

The finish of the big classic and an annual doubles affair at Milford Fairgrounds leaves two local tourneys going. The Howe's Singles started last weekend joining the Elks Mixed Doubles. Plans are in the final stages for the Pontiac Moose meet coming up on the 30th at Huron Bowl.

Local keglers swing back into action at the ABC Thursday and Friday when members of the Hi-Way Collision team compete at Toledo. Don Kirkham is the captain.

PIN NOTES

Gene Keller had a 266 actual for a 317 handicap game in St. Mike's League after totaling only 290 for two games. He is the new leader in race for game trophy. Loop has one of city's tightest battles going for team honors . . . Ray Bluth has done his best bowling in TV matches.

Woolever's Fawns finally regained first in Elks Ladies by hitting 801-2256 . . . Reltered rolled 1204 game in Farmington Classic as Redford Rec had 3224 series. Kerry Reetz led the men with 278-745. Fred Marcella had 269-700, Bill Stobart 710, Bruce Cumming 701, George Williams 278, Ralph Westphal 276, Dick Preston 265 and Fred Bock 257.

Huron Classic has had scores from 115 to 300 and 426 to 721. Al Pietz (203), Jim Tinson (190) and Oz Jewett (171) own triplicates . . . Bill Gerlach fired 646 and Barney Whipp 641 in Lapeer All-Star . . . Latest to throw a bowling ball into a river is Jerry Kaplan. He did it in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. after a 467 series. The 190 kegler bought a new ball and hit 625 and 637 his next times out . . . Friday "B" duel at Dixie Rec is still nip-and-tuck.

Packers List Schedule

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The home schedule of 1960 National Football League games was announced Tuesday by the Green Bay Packers.

★ ★ ★

The schedule:

Sept. 25, Chicago Bears; Oct. 2, Detroit Lions; Oct. 9, Baltimore Colts; Oct. 23, San Francisco 49ers at Milwaukee; Nov. 13, Dallas Cowboys; Nov. 20, Los Angeles Rams at Milwaukee.

Joe Sewell of the Cleveland Indians set a major league record in 1925 when he struck out only four times in 155 games.

Smelt May Not Be Running This Weekend

LANSING (UPI) — "I'd guess from the looks of the weather the smelt won't be running this weekend."

So says a conservation department fish expert who emphasized it was only a guess and the time of the big annual spring smelt run from the Great Lakes into tributary streams can't be predicted with accuracy.

"They generally start in the Lower Peninsula about April 10 and reach a peak about the 15th or 20th," said S. M. Bower.

But the tasty little fish just don't run until they get ready. The water temperature has to be about 42 degrees. Conservation department field men watch for the run to start, but even they don't try to predict the beginning of the run.

High water would interfere with fishing but would not slow up the smelt when they get ready to run, Bower said.

"From all indications there should be a big smelt population in the Great Lakes," Bower said. "We go by the commercial fishing results somewhat but weather conditions have prevented a good winter catch the last two years."

Predictions on the trout season which starts April 30 are even harder to make, Bower said.

"It does appear that there is going to be high water because of heavy runoff," he said. "This would affect the fishing because the streams would be muddy and high, but it shouldn't materially affect trout populations."

A department game expert, Don W. Douglass, said the number of small animals seen dead on Michigan roads is not unusual for spring.

"This is the time of year you can expect to find more movement," Douglass said. "Its partly caused by water and flooding and partly due just to a natural shifting about in spring."

Land Deal Decisions Up

LANSING — Decisions are slated on the Blue Lakes Ranch exchange, the federal trout hatchery in Jordan River Valley, and hunter safety, during the Conservation Commission's April 13-14 meeting in Lansing.

The first two proposals have been held over for several months pending further study and a full commission vote. All seven commissioners are expected to be at this meeting.

The proposed Blue Lakes Ranch exchange involves lands in Thunder Bay River state forest of Montmorency county. Offered to the state are 191 acres in exchange for 240 acres.

In the Jordan River Valley issue, the federal government, through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is seeking a public use deed to 110 acres of state-owned lands in Pigeon River state forest, Antrim county. The lands are sought for development of a million-dollar trout hatchery which would be used as an arm of the lake trout rehabilitation program in the upper Great Lakes.

Commissioners are also scheduled to review a proposed safety training program for hunters-to-be under 17.

Migrating Geese Arrive at Famed Miner Refuge

By The Press Outdoor Editor

The last of the winter's snow is gone (we hope). The heavy ice covering of the area's lakes is disappearing rapidly. In other words, spring is just about ready to bust out all over and not a whit too soon for this commentator, who brought a hefty suntan and some interesting memories of a Florida vacation back to Michigan after a southern jaunt.

Word comes from the Jack Miner bird sanctuary near Windsor, Ont., that the immense spectacle of thousands upon thousands of migrating Canada geese is nearing its peak, always a good sign that spring is near. The movement of the handsome big birds will hit its top mark during the next three weeks, Manley Miner reports.

HERE'S TRIP WORTH WHILE

The internationally-known sanctuary, created out of a dream, and established by hard work and widespread aid from many sources, is well worth a day's visit. Jack Miner, creator of the refuge, and the system of banding the feathered migrants, has been gone many years but the Miner family carries on.

The sanctuary is open every day, except Sunday, and there is no charge. Best time, say the Miners, to view the geese is between late afternoon and dusk. It's something the witness never forgets.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Wilson, manager of the Seney National Wildlife Refuge in Schoolcraft County (Upper Peninsula) tells us the first Canadas of the spring have arrived. Nesting sites on the islands in the refuge pool are being sought out.

Arrival of the big honkers was their latest in the 25 years of the refuge history.

ANGLERS SHOULD NOTE NEW RULES

Conservation men have called the attention of anglers to new legislation that has closed non-trout streams to muskellunge, northern pike and walleyes until April 30.

Ruling did not become effective until a week ago, hence is not included in 1960 fish law digests, distributed to dealers last November.

The change virtually bars fishing for the three fish on all Michigan inland waters, of which this area has a great deal, until opening of the regular trout season. There's also a boost in pike minimum length, from 14 to 20 inches, but the bluegill creel limit has been boosted from 15 to 25.

THREAT TO HUMANITY, TOO

This column's recent comment on pesticides and their threats to American wildlife brings some commendation, and a further warning of possible danger to humanity, from a Press reader.

★ ★ ★

Says Rosa Baird of Clarkston:

"Your article . . . prompted us to call for extra tearsheets. It would be well if more editors were as alert to the pesticide situation.

"However, pesticides are also a threat to people according to William Longgood, in his recent book, "The Poisons in Your Food" (Simons and Schuster). His story is appalling; yet worth reading in that it isn't yet too late to do something about it. This we must believe."

In an area highly touted for its supposedly great fishing, this observer saw several daily "skunks" for party fishing boats out of the Gulf of Mexico ports in the Captiva, Treasure Island string of Florida vacation spots.

For three days straight, not a single worthy specimen was taken, and as a matter of fact the total was ONE fish—a teeney-weensy-little one not a foot long. Boat operators had no answer for the paucity of piscatorial prizes!

Access Rights of Public Get Legal Support

LANSING — A recent opinion of the Attorney General has upheld the public's rights of access over private lands along or in watercourses and streams deeded by the State through sale. Any lake having both an inlet and outlet is considered a watercourse.

According to the opinion, the public, including state employes, may enter or leave over state-deeded lands adjacent to lakes where the inlet and outlet are at opposite ends or sides. Public ingress and egress is also provided over lands lying adjacent to lakes having an inlet and outlet at, or, near one end of the lake.

These rights do not apply to land adjacent to a lake lacking either an inlet or outlet or to islands in such lakes.

Early Payments of Federal Aid

LANSING — Michigan and other states will receive early, partial payments of their 1961-62 federal aid allotments for fish and wildlife restoration programs this year, according to a recent U. S. Department of the Interior news release.

Partial apportionment of Pittman-Robertson and Dingell-Johnson funds will be made about mid-May and some of these monies will be available to states on July 1. These federal allotments are usually made in lump sums, generally in the latter part of October.

This year's advance payments are timed to help states better plan their programs for the next fiscal year. Many states had run short or out of fish and wildlife funds by the onset of the current fiscal year.

States must submit their certifications of paid hunting and fishing license holders for the 1958-59 fiscal year to the government by May 1.

Junior Shooter Beats Seniors

Bill Wolfram's 98-98-91-85 won match trophy as his team's high man (OCSC Rifle and Pistol club). He also won first places in sitting and kneeling stages of the 4-position iron sight gallery match, to help his team defeat the D. R. Wilson Rifle and Pistol club, 178-1730.

The scores—(OCSC club)—Wolfram 98-98-91-86—372; Charles Jacques 100-94-88-74—356; Merrick Guy 97-89-86-78—350; Charles Klann 94-90-84-85—353; Orah Bond 99-85-89-72—345.

Walleye 'Lift' Ready to Start

LANSING — The annual lift of walleyed pike over Newaygo dam on the Muskegon river is slated to begin during this week.

It will mark the thirty-second consecutive spring that the fish have been helped upstream to spawn. Adult walleyes and their young use upstream impounding units as rearing stations for two years before migrating into Lake Michigan. The "lift" will total 10,000 fish.

Honor Shotgunners at OCSC Banquet

Champion shooters from the OCSC winter leagues were honored at the club's recent banquet, when trophies and other awards were presented.

Leonard Oesch, Al Leonard and daughter, Janet, with Bob Kennedy, had a wide margin in the skeet race, while the trap honors were determined by a last day two target win for Jerry DuBois over Homer Coss. Coss had to shoot two extra rounds to beat Keith Rankin for 2nd place. Dave Worster won the junior award, and another trophy as most improved shooter.

Michigan Opens Spring, Summer Vacation Time

Michigan opens its 1960 spring-summer vacation season with more than 40 special events scheduled during April and May throughout the state.

Highlighting the list of vacation favorites are festivals centering around fishing seasons, maple syrup, mushrooms, spring blossoms and tulip time.

Sportsmen will turn their attention to Michigan's streams and lakes for the opening of trout season, April 30; the National Trout Festival at Kalkaska, April 29-30; the Ford River Smelt Jamboree at Escanaba, April 23; and smelt and perch runs near other communities.

Other top travel attractions include maple syrup festivals at Vermontville and Shepherd, April 23; the Twin Cities Blossom Festival at Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, May 1-7; and the angual Tulip Time Festival at Holland, May 11-14.

Copies of the April-May Calendar of Coming Events in Michigan can be obtained from the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing 26.

2-in-1 Season for Archers, Spearsmen

LANSING — A "two-in-one" season on coarse fish will again be open this spring in a number of streams in 80 Michigan counties.

Carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet, dogfish and garpike will be legal targets for archers and spear fishermen from April 1 to May 31 in Lower Peninsula streams designated by the Conservation Department. Above the Straits, the archery-spearing season on noxious fish will run during the month of May.

Lists of streams open to the sport can be obtained from the Department's Lansing office or any of its district field headquarters.

Leonard Selected

LANSING — Dr. Justin W. Leonard, assistant Deputy Director in charge of research for the Conservation Department, has been named president-elect of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters during its recent 62nd annual meeting at the University of Michigan.

Kalkaska Trout Festival April 29-30

See Ideal Opening

KALKASKA — Near summer time temperatures that were rapidly melting the ice and snow in Michigan's Northland forecast ideal opening day stream and lake conditions, according to John Shoemaker, general chairman of the 24th Annual National Trout Festival to be held at Kalkaska, April 29-30.

"We had nothing like the ice and snow conditions this winter that we had the winter before and with temperatures now prevailing you can depend on it that Kalkaska County's 83 lakes and 275 miles of trout streams will be in tip-top shape for the opening day trout fishermen, Saturday, April 30." says Shoemaker.

As a result a banner turnout of anglers with their families from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois as well as from Michigan is expected to be on hand when festivities start Friday morning, April 29, with a parade followed by crowning of the 1960 Trout King.

This year's king is George A. Griffith of Grayling, Michigan Conservation Commissioner and founder and director of TROUT, Unlimited. The 1960 Trout Queen will be selected Friday evening from winners of queen contests in communities throughout northern Michigan. She will be crowned at the Queen's Ball on Saturday evening.

The festival program calls for fishing contests and entertainment for everyone. For reservations write to John Shoemaker, Kalkaska Hotel, Kalkaska, Mich., chairman of the Kalkaska Chamber of Commerce Trout Festival Committee.

Audubons See Rare State Bird Visitor

One of the highlights of Sunday's field trip for the Detroit Audubon Society, at Kensington Metro Park, was the spotting of a red-bellied woodpecker, a rare Michigan bird visitor. It was the first view of this bird for many of the 26 "trippers."

Many signs of spring were noted: Skunk cabbage in bloom, pussy-willows, tree buds, and singing frogs.

The group meets next at Hawthorne School, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. when Gary Wilson will have a program on "Mammals of Oakland County."

Closed Season April 15

LANSING — Michigan's annual "closed season" on dog training will be in effect throughout the state from April 15 to July 15. It is designed to give infant game ist in their early survival. animals and nesting birds an ac-

Top Candidates OK N-Test Ban

Johnson and Symington Offer Partial Support; Others With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The major presidential aspirant — Democratic and Republican—say that if elected they would respect any commitment President Eisenhower may make for a ban on nuclear bomb testing.

★ ★ ★

Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo) made their support of a ban somewhat conditional, but left little doubt that they would go along with it. The other candidates said they would support Eisenhower's action unequivocally.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the only Republican candidate, said through his press secretary: "There is, of course, no question that the vice president would carry out commitments that the President makes at the summit conferences. He has fully participated in discussions on this issue and supports the policy decisions which have been made."

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) started the ball rolling Sunday by disclosing that he has written to President Eisenhower that if elected he would honor any testing agreement Eisenhower made.

★ ★ ★

At their recent meeting, the President and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain agreed to offer to the Soviet Union a short term moratorium on small underground nuclear tests if the Soviet Union agrees to an enforceable treaty banning all other nuclear tests of a size that can be detected.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower noted at the time, however, that he could not commit his successor to an informal moratorium.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn), who was stumping Wisconsin as Kennedy was for today's primary election, remarked that what Eisenhower and Macmillan had agreed on was exactly what he had been proposing all along.

Johnson said he couldn't comment on a moratorium without knowing the "total terms" of an agreement.

Symington said, "in that the President says such an agreement must involve adequate inspection, I would support the moratorium on underground testing of low yield explosions that the President believes advisable."

CALIFORNIA-BOUND — Lee Shifflett spurs his horse to start the re-enactment of the famed Pony Express run from St. Joseph, Mo., Sunday as Mayor Arthur J. Meers (top hat and beard) gives him a send-off slap. The Wathena, Kan., horseman is one of 75 riders to gallop in relay from here to Sacramento, Calif., terminus of the express. Shifflett started the ride at the conclusion of the two-day Pony Express Centennial celebration.

11 Contest for 3 Posts on Council in Frazer

FRAZER (UPI) — Over 70 per cent of the eligible voters turned out here Monday to elect three councilmen in a heated 11-man battle.

★ ★ ★

George Mason was the top vote-getter with 777 ballots, while incumbents Clarence Bennett and Albert van Tomme won re-election with 651 and 757 votes, respectively.

★ ★ ★

The 1,860 votes cast in the election represented about 72 per cent of the eligible voters.

BB Consents to Give Lift to U.S. Bra Firm

PARIS (AP)—Brigitte Bardot has agreed to endorse an American brand of brassiere.

LANSING (UPI) — Perry A. Maynard, assistant attorney general in the criminal division, was recuperating today in St. Lawrence Hospital after surgery to correct an ulcer condition.

Dates Upset So They Slow Up Work

Airport Girls Unhappy

LONDON (AP)—Forty pretty airport receptionists staged a work slowdown Monday, complaining that British European Airways is upsetting their love life.

★

The girls also think their base weekly wage of 8 pounds 12 shillings ($24.08) is pretty meager and that they have to work too hard for it.

"We are the hardest-worked and lowest-paid girls in the company," the pretty blonde declared.

"And conditions are so Victorian. I was once ordered not to show my legs when I was sitting at the passenger-handling desk."

An official of BEA agreed that "there has been some confusion about duty rosters" but said the slowdown so far hasn't even been noticeable.

Joe Kennedy Jr. Was Their Star

Inside Family, Sen. Jack Not Tops

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — People . . . Places . . . Things . . .

Though he has attained much greater fame, Sen. Jack Kennedy remains a kind of runner-up with in his family circle. Joe Jr., first born of the clan and killed in World War II, is the legendary head of the younger Kennedys. Sixteen years have passed since his death but he remains keenly alive in the minds and hearts of the remarkable outfit.

We once asked Joe Sr., to give us, a thumbnail sketch of each member of his brood. He ticked them off one by one, appraising them with mingled pride and analytcal detachment.

He spoke with tenderness about Kathleen, killed in an aircrash in England, and about the obscure daughter who teaches—usually referred to in the mercurial household as "the quiet one."

He made no mention of Joe Jr. "What kind of boy was Joe?" I asked after a decent interval.

The immensely wealthy and composed former ambassador to the court of St. James' suddenly and terribly burst into tears. He was so racked with sobs that he couldn't speak, save to gasp, "I still can't talk about Joe. SHE can."

He pointed to the beautiful mother of the children, Mrs. Kennedy spoke of her first born with wistful control and great calm, while her husband continued to sob.

I felt like a louse for asking the question.

"Joe was our star," Jack said a few days later. "He was bigger than the rest of us, stronger, better looking, smarter, braver, a better athlete. He was the one who would have gone into public life. All I wanted to do was be a reporter.

"Joe, not I, would have been the congressman from our district. Joe would have beaten Henry Cabot Lodge for the Senate in 1952. Joe would have gotten the vice presidential nomination that I missed by a whisker at Chicago in '56."

Jack paused, grinned and added, "and Eisenhower would have belted him out of the box in the election. Right now, Joe would be picking up the threads of his blasted political career."

Recount a Possibility in Crystal Falls

Kolderman Becomes Mayor of Wyoming

WYOMING (UPI) — Mayor Joseph Kolderman won re-election over John Heringa, 3,358 to 1,429, in a municipal election here.

Voters Monday also approved an advisory referendum on fluoridation of the city's water supply by a vote of 2,684 to 1,401.

Appeals Court Rules Census Data Secret

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United States Court of Appeals has ruled the information given census takers is so confidential it cannot even be made available to another government agency.

"The United States has given its word and should be permitted to keep it," the court's unanimous decision upholding the census secrecy clause stated Monday in a case involving a food company.

The court ruled that the Beatrice Foods Co., which had been charged by the Federal Trade Commission with violation of the Clayton Anti-trust Act, did not have to turn over copies of 1954 census reports to the FTC.

Collects $900 for Humiliation; She Was a Baldy

Mrs. O'Hearn had started suit against Dodgson's Beauty Salon in Muskegon for $5,000, charging that a permanent wave treatment she received at the shop in 1950 burned her scalp and caused her to lose her hair.

The humiliation, she said, of being teased about the condition, caused her to burst into tears.

Circuit Judge Henry L. Beers approved the $900 settlement, saying Mrs. O'Hearn now has all her hair back and suffered no permanent injuries.

House Is Facing Influence Fight

Some Members Feel Ex-Officer Curb Bill Doesn't Go Far Enough

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A floor fight faced the House today over attempts by rank-and-file members to set stiff criminal penalties against influence peddling by retired military officers who take jobs with defense contractors.

At issue was a bill approved by the House Armed Services committee that would make it illegal for an officer to take a job selling to the armed forces within two years after the date he sheds his uniform.

Violators would forfeit retirement pay for two years after an offense, and even though retired, they would face a court martial.

Many House members felt this didn't go far enough. Their drive to toughen the legislation was headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La), chairman of an Armed Services Subcommittee which last year held hearings on military influence peddling.

It shaped up as a rare revolt against the powerful chairman of the over-all committee, Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga).

Hebert said he would ask the House to revamp the measure and write into it his subcommittee's recommendation for criminal penalties of fines up to $10,000 and one year in jail for violations.

Paul Douglas' Daughter Awarded $150 a Month

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The daughter of the late actor Paul Douglas has been granted an allowance of $150 a month.

★ ★ ★

Her mother, actress Virginia Field, asked Superior Court to grant Maggie Douglas, 15, a $250-a-month allowance from her father's $111,500 estate. The court granted the lesser sum Monday.

Most of the estate Douglas left to his widow, actress Jan Sterling. He died last Sept. 11.

Chessman Loses Execution Stay Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Caryl Chessman lost another round Tuesday in his 12-year legal battle to escape execution but his attorney said he was hopeful of eventual victory.

The California District Court of Appeal denied without comment a petition by Atty. George T. Davis for a writ of habeas corpus and a stay of the May 2 execution date.

Davis said he would appeal to the California Supreme Court, possibly today, and that he was prepared to carry appeals into the federal courts and to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

★ ★ ★

The petitions rejected Tuesday were essentially the same as those turned down in Marin County Court last week. They held that Chessman was sentenced for crimes that went beyond the original charges against him, and that he has been subjected to cruel and unusual punishment.

State Recalls Underground Railroad

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—One phase of Michigan's colorful past that will receive renewed interest during the centennial years of the Civil War is its underground railroad of the mid-1800s, escape route for fugitive slaves many years before the outbreak of hostilities.

★ ★ ★

Michigan was not a battleground in the war but was active in the abolitionist movement that was one of the factors in the war between the states.

Persons who want to trace the beginnings of the conflict will find historic writings in the libraries and on markers in West Michigan that mark the underground railroad trail.

★ ★ ★

Near Vandalia is a state marker which commemorates this route and pursuit of this story can be carried into many a town along the southern border to Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Marshall, Grand Rapids and on up to Baldwin.

MARSHALL HISTORIC

At Marshall, in Triangle Park is a marker identifying the site of the cabin of Adam Crosswhite whose trail in 1847 brought national attention to the attempt to return him to Kentucky. It was at Marshall, too, that abolitionists forcibly restrained deputies seeking the recapture of escaped slaves.

A reminder of the abolitionist days also is found in Muskegon which holds the grave of Jonathan Walker, "the man with the branded hand," immortalized by the poet John Greenleaf Whittier.

Other reminders of that period are found at Galesburg where its famous native, Gen. William R. Shafter, hero of the Civil War and leader of the American forces in Cuba in the Spanish War, is commemorated; in Kalamazoo's Bronson Park where Abraham Lincoln gave his only Michigan address in 1856 at an early Republican rally and where Michigan Indians assembled in 1840 to be transported beyond the Mississippi.

The grave of B. D. Pritchard, captor of Jefferson Davis, is found at Allegan.

Rockets Carry Instruments

Stations Miles High Will Report Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists have set up a network of weather rocket stations to check atmospheric conditions twice as high as weather balloons can reach.

The weather findings will be transmitted to the International Committee on Space Research. Other stations to be added to the network will be at Tonopah, Nev., Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., and Cape Canaveral, Fla.

More firing stations will be added for daily launchings in all four seasons of the year, an announcement said today.

★ ★ ★

The low cost Loki and Arcas rockets can climb to 40 miles above the earth, carrying instruments to check high speed winds in the upper atmosphere, temperatures and other conditions. Balloons such as the Weather Bureau has been using for 20 years are limited to about 20 miles.

The new network is a joint project of the Air Force, Army Signal Corps, Atomic Energy Commission, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Navy and Weather Bureau.

Buy 2 Battle Creek Insurance Firms

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A New York firm's acquisition of control of Battle Creek's two insurance companies in a multimillion dollar transaction was announced Tuesday.

Control of the Wolverine Insurance Co. and the Federal Life and Casualty Co. was acquired by Channing Corp., a holding and operating company with extensive American and Canadian interests.

The transaction was one of the largest in Battle Creek's business history.

Wolverine Insurance, founded in Lansing, and Federal Life and Casualty, founded in Detroit, have done business in Michigan for a total of 94 years.

Cadillac Sets Record in Sales for Quarter

DETROIT (AP)—Cadillac said Tuesday it set sales records for the months of February, March and for the first quarter of 1960.

General Manager James Roche said Cadillac retail deliveries in the first three months totaled 41,105. The old mark of 39,491 was set last year.

In March the General Motors Division delivered 14,126 cars compared with the previous March high of 13,619 in 1955. February's 13,576 sales represented an all-time high for that month.

Roche said that 5,981 Cadillacs were delivered in the final 10 days of March, highest for any 10-day period in the division's history. The previous record was 5,834 in the final 10 days of August 1950.

Filipino President Asks Probe About His Boner

PLACE YOUR BETS — A croupier takes the wagers of a Burmese mother and her children at a traveling carnival which offers opium dens as well as gaming tables.

Voters also approved a proposal to add fluoride to the Big Rapids city water supply, 987-622.

In the Hills of Burma

Carnival 'Fun' Includes Opium Dens, Gambling

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

TAUNGGYI, Burma (AP) — The little boy puffed on a big green cheroot and challenged, "Get your money down, my friends, get your money down."

The villagers, their mouths red with betel juice and faces glistening under the hissing acetylene lantern, clustered around the table.

"One Kyat on the tiger, a deserving wager," said the boy. "What's this — miserly five pyas for the noble turtle?"

The boy gave the roulette wheel a spin and the gaily-colored animals pictured whirled; a voice demanded, "Come on rabbit." The wheel stopped at a chicken and the boy raked in a pile of kyats.

Burma's last legal gambling, in the hills of the Shan states, has been outlawed, but army authorities admit they'll have trouble cracking down on the scores of little carnivals that tour the hills with gaming tables — and opium dens.

The gypsy-like fairs provide just about the only entertainment available for the Shan villagers.

They also provided a big source of revenue for the Sawbwa chieftains who ruled the state like feudal lords gambling was declared illegal.

PWE IS BIG DRAW.

Chief attraction is the pwe. The wailing, gonging orchestra draws virtually every man, woman and child for miles around, and keeps them there from dusk till dawn.

While the women watch sarong-clad comedians and the glories of ancient Burma on the stage, the men crowd the gambling stalls or smoke a quiet opium pipe.

Most of the games — wheels, cards, dice, dominoes — use animals as symbols. Little pictures of a pig, eel, frog or chicken can mean the difference between meager comfort or extreme poverty for the Shan farmers.

Motors, Steels Push Up Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and steels paced a rallying stock market early this afternoon. Turnover was at the heaviest rate since early March.

★ ★ ★

Gains of fractions to well over a point among key stocks gave the list a good rise on balance.

Profit taking once again afflicted some of the fast-stepping electronics issues which have made big gains recently.

Auto stocks celebrated the unexpectedly big sales increase by popping on big blocks at marked up prices. Steels followed along sympathetically with their best customers, the auto producers.

The market was higher at the start, slipped beneath its best, then came back again close to its peak.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler was up more than a point. Gains at about the 1-point level were held by General Motors, Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard.

Republic Steel advanced about 2, Jones & Laughlin more than a point, U.S. Steel a point. Bethlehem erased a narrow early gain and took a small net loss.

DuPont, a big holder of GM stock, was up about a point. Similar gains were made by Union Carbide and American Cyanamid.

General Foods was ahead a point in light dealings following news of proposals for a 2-for-1 stock split and raised dividend.

★ ★ ★

Universal Oil products spurted about 3 points, later clipping a point from the rise. It responded to news that the California legislature has passed a bill requiring automobiles to use antismog devices. The company manufactures these.

Grain Futures Mixed Toward Weakness

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was mixed but mostly toward weakness today in draggy early transactions on the board of trade.

★ ★ ★

Rye showed some firmness in spots with gains running to major fractions of a cent. Setbacks generally were limited to small fractions.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said prices were guided somewhat by drier weather over much of the Midwest which may permit soon a resumption of grain movements off farms into commercial positions.

May Move M59 to South Blvd.

City planners met with officials of GMC Truck & Coach Division today to discuss a proposal that the M59 trunkline designation on Pontiac's east side be switched from Auburn avenue to South boulevard, main access to the big GM plant.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was attended by City Manager Walter K. Willman, members of his staff, plus David S. Geer, city planning consultant, and Paul Van Roekel, county highway engineer.

Up for airing is the recommendation of James Bates, city planner, that the main east-west trunkline designation be switched to that part of town that most needs it.

This was the opinion put forth two years ago in the Barton Transportation Study.

The study said that a fourth of westbound traffic entering Pontiac from the east goes to the truck and coach plant; a fourth to downtown Pontiac and the rest elsewhere.

The State Highway Department has already indicated a willingness to reconsider trunkline designations in Pontiac as a result of the study.

The Highway Department has several possible new routes before it, all of which take into consideration the interstate expressway contemplated immediately east of Pontiac.

Advance plans for the expressway and the new state trunkline must jibe on the subject of an interchange.

Pushes Paving of Featherstone

Dugan Warns County to 'Quit Stalling' on Gravel Section

Commissioner John A. Dugan last night warned Oakland County officials "to quit stalling" on proposals to pave Featherstone road in the half-mile gravel section between the city limits and Opdyke road.

The warning came as the District 5 commissioner served notice he wanted "cooperation," or else would oppose the county's request for city help in relocating West boulevard around the new courthouse in the Telegraph road service center.

"Before I get very anxious about the county's problems I'd like to see them get anxious about ours," said Dugan, who championed the city's paving of Featherstone to the city limits several years ago.

Hit by the spring thaw, the county section of the road was described last night as "unpassable" because of mud and chuckholes.

Dugan acceded last night to a move to pass the county's request on to the Planning Commission for study.

The relocation in mind would curve West boulevard — a gravel road at present — about 900 feet eastward over county property.

Both the Board of Supervisors and the city must eventually approve the new route.

The city also is being asked to vacate the county portions of the existing West boulevard where additions to the courthouse are planned.

Death Notice

MRS. MATILDA A. BAIE

Mrs. Matilda A. Baie, 79, of 2466 W. Grand Boulevard, Detroit, died of a cerebral hemorrhage at her home yesterday.

A former Pontiac resident, she was a member of First Congregational Church.

Surviving are three sons, Raymond, Maynard and Edward Postal, all of Detroit; six grand children; and seven great-grandchildren.

Service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

LOUIS E. FAIRBROTHER

County Court Clerk Named

Louis Fairbrother Is New Assignment Man; Replaces Smith

New assignment clerk for Oakland County Circuit Court is Louis E. Fairbrother of Pontiac.

He replaces C. Richard Smith who submitted his letter of resignation to the five circuit judges. Smith, who had been on a leave of absence since last July, had been clerk for 10 years.

Fairbrother, 32, of 231 Dick Ave., was named yesterday to succeed Smith by Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Frederick C. Ziem and Stanton G. Dondero.

Confirmation of the appointment must be made by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The new clerk, who had been acting assignment clerk since Smiths departure in July, has been a county employe for nine years.

A 1953 graduate of the University of Detroit Law School, Fairbrother began as a clerk under the late County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, served five years as clerk for the late Judge George B. Hartrick, and nearly a year as clerk for Judge Beer.

Smith asked that his resignation become effective April 15. After starting his county career as Judge Holland's clerk in 1936, Smith wrote his decision to quit "is a very difficult one."

★ ★ ★

He said he wants to devote all his time with his brother farming 120 acres near Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Duties of the assignment clerk consist of setting civil law suits for trial in each of the five courts and notifying attorneys when they are due in court.

Named as Director at GM Tech Center

HALL

Philip J. Monaghan, General Motors Corp. vice president in charge of manufacturing staff, today announced the appointment of Harry D. Hall as director of manufacturing development at the GM Technical Center.

Hall, 32400 Sylvan Lane, Beverly Hills has been chief engineer of development at the center three years. Monaghan announced the appointment of Ronald A. Featherstone to this job.

A graduate of the General Motors Institute, Hall was previously employed in the Terminal Division and as a master mechanic in the New Departure Division.

Williams Shies From Making His Dem Choice

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today Sen John F. Kennedy's "substantial" victory in the Wisconsin primary "against an able opponent" was impressive.

But he declined to jump on the Kennedy bandwagon.

★ ★ ★

"I have not yet made my choice among the several candidates," Williams said.

The governor was asked at a news conference what he thought of a Kennedy-Williams ticket.

"Both are good men," Williams said.

Williams said he did not know when he would make a presidential choice or when the Michigan delegation would decide where to place its 51 convention votes.

Meeting to Shun Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Parke, Davis & Co. will hold its annual stockholders meeting at Ann Arbor April 19. It will be the first time in the pharmaceutical firm's 93-year history that the meeting was not held in Detroit. The firm's new research laboratories at Ann Arbor will be dedicated at the meeting.

Pontiac City Affairs

Biggest Airport Land Deal Approved

The biggest property acquisition planned this year for Pontiac Municipal Airport was approved last night by the City Commission.

Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager, was authorized to complete purchase for $16,275 of a parcel 239 feet long by 257 feet wide, fronting on Williams Lake road at the western end of the field.

The land is needed primarily for clearance of the western air approach to the main east-west runway, said City Manager Walter K. Willman. He said trees would be cleared from the land first, and the home later.

Commissioners also approved the construction contracts which they authorized last week for a small hangar with five offices and space for city storage and a maintenance shop.

★ ★ ★

Referred to City Manager Walter K. Willman for study during other business was a request from the Pioneer Highlands Civic Assn. for stop signs at the corners of James K boulevard and Josephine and Draper streets and at the intersection of Hazel and Tilden streets.

Scheduled for public hearings next Tuesday were assessment rolls prepared for seven blacktopping projects, including Carlisle avenue, Walton to Chicago; Arlene avenue, Madison to Second; Carr street, Mt. Clemens south; Court drive, Mt. Clemens to Grandview; Ivy street, Montcalm to Kennett; Victory drive, Mt. Clemens south; and Roseland drive, Fiddis to Maines.

No objections were raised at hearings on assessment rolls for seven other blacktopping projects, including Colgate avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Carlisle avenue, Columbia to Ann Arbor; New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton; Jefferson avenue, Blaine to Summit; Harriette street, Baldwin to Adelaide; Dellwood avenue, Eardmore to Howland; and Myra avenue, Voorheis to Sylvan.

These projects are now ready for the 1960 neighborhood improvement program.

Three other projects met no objections during hearings on plans to schedule them this year.

Included is a sanitary sewer on the south side of Montcalm street, from Lakeside to 700 feet of Summit, plus curbs and gutters on Mansfield avenue, Fuller to Arlene, and on Arlene avenue, Second to Columbia.

The sewer would serve the Kennett Gardens subdivision.

Grading and graveling are also involved in the Mansfield job.

Declared a public necessity on motion of Commissioner John A. Dugan was a proposal for curbs and gutters on Fuller street, Madison to Beverly.

★ ★ ★

A petition for the project was signed by only 47 per cent of the affected property owners, according to Assessor's Office, but Dugan said that another of the property owners who had signed was not listed yet with the assessor.

Three Move Up at GMC Truck

D. J. LaBelle Takes Post of Assistant Chief Engineer

Appointment of Donald J. LaBelle as assistant chief engineer of the GMC Truck & Coach Division was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

LaBELLE

LaBell, formerly truck engineer in the Engineering department, succeeds Sheldon G. Little who last week was named director of the newly-created product reliability department for GMC Truck & Coach.

Robert E. Field, formerly administrative engineer, succeeds LaBelle as truck engineer while Harold N. Steinbaugh, formerly general supervisor of budgets and planning for the engineering department becomes administrative engineer.

FIELD

LaBelle will report to C. V. Crockett, chief engineer of the division, and will be responsible for truck engine, chassis and body engineering developments. He joined GMC in 1939 after graduation from the University of Detroit School of engineering and was assigned to truck and coach engineering projects.

Field, after graduation from GM institute in 1937, joined the division as a draftsman and held successive posts as layout man, senior checker, drafting group supervisor and assistant chief draftsman before being appointed administrative engineer in 1957.

STEINBAUGH

Steinbaugh, a University of Wisconsin graduate, joined GMC in 1936 as a blueprint clerk, then was promoted to supervisor of technical data in 1945.

Teen-Agers Tell of Police Car

Two Testify of Seeing Souden on Sept 3 at Knight's Home

HOWELL (AP) — Two teen-agers testified yesterday that they saw a state police car parked at Alvin W. Knight's home in Argentine the day state trooper Albert W. Souden disappeared.

Lillian Badgero, 14, and Richard Hawkins, 15, both of Argentine, were prosecution witnesses.

The state is trying to prove that Knight, 44, shot and killed Souden last September and then hid his body. Souden's body was recovered after an intensive search.

The Badgero girl said she saw Knight and Souden together in front of Knight's home on Sept. 3, the day the trooper disappeared. She said she also saw a "blue police car" parked in Knight's drive.

★ ★ ★

She added that shortly afterward she saw the car leave with a trooper at the wheel and Knight in the rear seat, but was unable to say whether Souden was the driver of the car.

The state contends Knight managed to draw a gun on Souden, forced him to drive away and then shot and killed him.

The Hawkins boy said he saw a state police car parked in Knight's drive Sept. 3 and that it was gone shortly afterward. He said he saw Knight later that day and when he asked about the police car he said Knight told him: "They are checking up on an accident I had in Flint."

Three Women Hurt in Two-Car Crash

Three women were injured and taken to Pontiac General Hospital last night as a result of a two-car collision at Opdyke road and W. South boulevard in Pontiac Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Hilda J. Yovich, 59, of 833 South Blvd., a passenger in her car, and Nellie Tietz, 55, of Lapeer, were treated and released.

Mrs. Tietz was riding in the other car driven by Margaret P. Worden, 28, of Lapeer.

Gas Storage Company Elects New Officers

Alphonse H. Aymond Jr. was elected president of the Michigan Gas Storage Co. at a meeting of the board of directors in Jackson Tuesday. He succeeds Dan E. Karn. The company is a subsidiary of Consumers Power Co.

★ ★ ★

Karn is retiring April 30 as president of Consumers. Aymond, now an executive vice president, will become chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Consumers.

★ ★ ★

James H. Campbell, formerly of Pontiac, senior vice president of Consumers who will become president and chief operating officer of the parent company May 1, was elected a vice president of Michigan Gas Storage Co.

Oakland Dems Hold Convention Here Tonight

Politics — Democratic politics — will be in the air tonight in Pontiac when more than 300 Democrats from around Oakland County meet for their presidential year county convention.

Major order of business will be the election of 125 regular and alternate delegates to the May 6-7 State Convention in Grand Rapids. Oakland's delegation will be the largest single delegation there.

State convention delegates elect Michigan's delegates to the July 11 National Convention in Los Angeles. The Democratic presidential nominee will be the product of this convention.

France Orders Fifty Supersonic Bombers

PARIS (UPI) — France has ordered construction of 50 supersonic bombers to transport French nuclear bombs now being developed, the government announced.

The Mirage IV bombers, designed by the French Dassault Co., will fly at twice the speed of sound. Delivery was scheduled to start in three years.

India is the second largest producer of manganese ore in the world and the chief export source is said to be the United States of America.

Colleges and Legislators Biding Time on Mediator

LANSING (UPI)—Both sides appeared today to be willing to compromise in the dispute on hiring of a middleman for higher education's annual budget fight with the Legislature.

Despite protests from legislators, presidents from the nine state colleges and universities said yesterday they would go ahead with hiring of a fact finder.

Dr. Edgar Harden, president of Northern Michigan College and chairman of the Council of State College Presidents, said the council plans to name a permanent director "at the earliest possible date."

This was generally believed to mean as soon as the legislators get out of town.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, denied the council had retreated by not naming its director yesterday as had been expected.

"We're continuing something we started years ago," Hannah said.

It was possible the Legislature would name its own fact finder to review college enrollment figures, coordinate appropriation requests and work out a formula for allocation of funds.

Both sides agree much of the budget squabbling could be avoided if there could be year-around liaison between the Legislature and the schools.

"The council welcomes every opportunity to work closely with the Legislature," Harden said.

Regular 60 Ct. Dividend by Ford Due June 13

DETROIT (AP) — Directors of Ford Motor Co. today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 60 cents a share, payable June 13 to stockholders of record May 13.

The dividend rate is the same as it has been for several quarters. In 1959 the company paid one extra dividend of 60 cents.

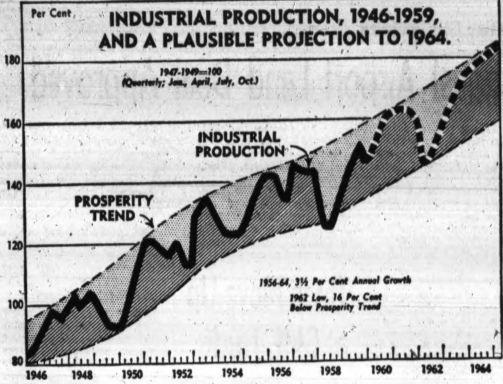
LEVELING OFF — The percentage of union members in the work force began leveling off at about the time employment in service industries grew larger than that in production industries. Service industries generally employ more white collar workers.



RECESSION IN '62? — Shown in graph form above are economist Louis H. Bean's projections of industrial production through 1964. It predicts a prosperity trend in relation to data from 1946 to the present. Bean bases his "plausible" projections on Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production. "If government and business interests will do what is necessary to avoid recession in 1962, says Bean, "I would not mind having my projection turn out to be wrong."

Midwest Still Awash

Rivers Pound at Levees

By The Associated Press

Swollen rivers and streams caused trouble along new fronts, in New England and New York but the situation did not appear serious. The most severe flood in 20 years was forecast along the Connecticut River in New England.

* * *

The major flood fighting was along the Mississippi and Missouri in Illinois and Missouri.

* * *

The most immediate critical area appeared to be along the 50-mile stretch of the Mississippi from Niota, Ill., across from Fort Madison, Iowa, to Quincy, Ill. There was no letup in the patrol along the big river farther south to Cairo, Ill.

Flood danger increased as water spilled over levees at several places and battered hard against weakened dikes at many others along the two rivers.

College and high school students joined farmers and civil defense workers in the fight to hold the levees in Niota. They piled their sands of sandbags atop the levee south of the small community.

Across the river in Missouri, the Mississippi threatened to break through the levee at Gregory Landing. Calls were issued for more volunteers to shore up the weakening wall.

FAMILIES EVACUATED

Thousands of acres of rich farm land have been flooded and hundreds of families evacuated from their homes in Illinois and Missouri in the last week.

* * *

Water spilled over a levee at Clarksville, Mo., Tuesday, inundating 5,000 acres of farm land. A small breach in a levee east of Palmyra, Mo., flooded 800 acres.

The Missouri was expected to crest at 22.5 feet at St. Joseph, Mo., Thursday. 5.5 above flood stage. No flooding was reported in St. Joseph but water covered farm land across the river in Kansas. Heavy flooding on farm land also was reported in the Boonville, Mo., area.

Along the Missouri River, Army engineers said 20,000 acres of farm land were flooded from Omaha City to the mouth north of St. Louis. They said several thousand acres were flooded downriver from St. Louis.

* * *

Potential danger spots were listed near Ste. Genevieve and Cape Girardeau in Missouri and in the Miller City-Olive Branch of extreme southern Illinois, much of which is farm land unprotected by levees.

In the eastern flood zones, hundreds of persons were evacuated in scattered spots of New York and New England.

Major streams reached flood crest stage in New England, causing some minor flooding but Army engineers said the flood control system was reducing flood stages along New England's two big rivers, the Connecticut and Merrimack. They forecast minor flooding along the Connecticut from White River Junction, Vt., to Middletown, Conn.

Seems Almost Impossible

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS (NEA)—On a bright summer's day in Paris, in 1959, with touring Englishmen and Germans mingling with the native Frenchmen, it seems almost impossible that the case of Mathilde Carre could ever have existed.

But then, the case of Mathilde (The Cat) Carre always has been hard to believe, no less so now that it has been revived by a court suit in Germany.

To understand, one must go back 18 years to another Paris—a gray, somber one when the German "tourists" wore jackboots and a scattered few Englishmen worked underground with their French allies.

Mathilde Carre was an attractive, vivacious, green-eyed brunette in her early twenties. She was also a patriot, and when arrested by the Gestapo in 1942, had been sending information to the British via secret radio for a year.

Her chief interrogator was Hugo Bleicher, a Nazi counter-intelligence officer in Paris. To save her skin, Mathilde changed sides. She also became Bleicher's mistress.

The British then became worried over the number of arrests of French patriots and parachuted Maj. Pierre de Vomecourt into France to investigate. De Vomecourt was a resistance leader as well as principal agent in France for British intelligence.

The major was suspected "The Cat's" double life. He was ordered to bring her back to London. Mathilde convinced Bleicher she should go, telling him she would be able to pick up valuable information in London for him.

She and de Vomecourt were picked up on the French coast by a British torpedo boat. Unknown to the allies, units of the German navy were nearby providing protection.

After being wined and dined in London as a heroine, the British arrested Mathilde as a double agent.

* * *

Bleicher had been fooled, but he had won the first round—35 months thanks to "The Cat." More were to follow—including that of de Vomecourt who returned to France and was picked up by the Nazis late in 1942.

* * *

It was de Vomecourt's conduct while under arrest that has led to the damage suit in Germany and the revival of Mathilde's strange story. For in a book, "The Cat," German journalist Count Michael Solitkow accused de Vomecourt of betraying the names of his fellow Resistance leaders to save his life. The major, now 52 and a financial expert, is suing for $35,000 in damages to his honor as an officer.

"He was arrested in 1942 by German counter-espionage. He saved his life by giving the names of 12 of the 13 sub-agents working with him. In exchange, I promised they would not be executed but treated as prisoners of war. I kept my promise."

De Vomecourt admitted:

"What Bleicher says is partly the truth. But I gave him the names of only those agents who had already been betrayed by "The Cat."

Bleicher insisted he knew none of the names until the major revealed them.

"THE CAT" ON TRIAL: The past crops up again.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK THE MANY friends, relatives and neighbors for their countless acts of kindness and their thoughtful prayers during our recent bereavement. We especially want to thank the Rev. Richard Timm, Rev. John Hoar, Rev. James Sheehan, Rev. Fabian Weber and Sister M. Stanislaus.
We also wish to express our appreciation to its faculty, the basketball team and the student body of Lake Orion Junior High School and the faculty and student body of Waterford Twp. High School.
the family of Eugene D. Nickman.

WE WOULD LIKE TO GIVE OUR sincere thanks to all of our friends, neighbors and relatives for all of their visits, beautiful cards, floral pieces and the many different contributions and the very kind attention given to our children since our accident on Feb. 28. Especially to our wonderful doctors and nurses and brothers

Asks Disclosure of Credit Costs

Reserve Board Head Says Regular Agencies Should Enforce Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board Tuesday endorsed the principle of a law requiring full disclosure of credit costs but told Congress the board doesn't want the job of administering and enforcing it.

Chairman William M. Martin suggested instead that the pending bill be reshaped into a criminal statute "to be enforced by regular law enforcement agencies."

His testimony stirred interest in the Senate banking subcommittee studying the proposal to require merchants and lenders to show clearly the true interest charges and other financing costs on a loan or installment purchase.

As the result of another of Martin's suggestions, subcommittee Chairman Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) agreed to call for testimony from officials of some of the states which have such laws in effect.

It might be possible, Martin said, to discover how the states have learned to handle the difficult problems of administering and policing the full-disclosure laws on millions of transactions.

Although the reserve board regulates the total flow of credit, Martin said, it is totally unfamiliar with techniques for policing the trade practices of hundreds of thousands of credit granters.

"Yes, indeed I do, Mr. Chairman," Martin replied when Douglas asked if he approves the general principle of the bill.

He testified that he feels the best method of forcing disclosure of borrowing costs, to protect consumers who do not understand the full charges levied against them, might be to require that the interest be stated as a percentage of the outstanding unpaid balance of the debt.

"Present practices are confusing," Martin said, and went on to relate the various charges, fees and discounts that go into an automobile purchase."

RESTRAINING HER HUSBAND — French star Simone Signoret moves to calm her exuberant husband Yves Montand as he applauds her at a party following the Academy Award presentations in Hollywood Monday. Named best actress, the French star had almost been denied entry into the United States because she once signed the Stockholm Appeal, a Communist-backed plea to end atomic bomb manufacture.

She'd Signed Red A-Ban Appeal

U.S. Almost Barred Simone

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Simone Signoret is an outspoken top French actress who almost wasn't permitted to enter the United States to pick up the Academy Award she won Monday night as best actress of 1959.

Denied a United States visa in 1957, the blonde 39-year-old Simone came to the country last December on a waiver of the immigration provision invoked against her two years earlier.

The provision bars persons who have been members of the Communist Party or affiliated with Communists or other proscribed organizations.

"I was refused a visa because I signed the Stockholm Appeal asking to stop the manufacture of atomic bombs," she said.

"It just happened that Communists also signed the petition."

NOT A HOLLYWOOD FILM

The actress, who won an Oscar for her role as an aging mistress in the film "Room at the Top," (and doesn't mind being called middle-aged) was one of the most controversial Academy Award winners in filmland history—and the first actress to be so honored without ever appearing in a Hollywood film. "Room at the Top" was made by a British company.

Never stopped for an answer to any questions, Simone was asked after receiving her Oscar what she thought about some persons' questioning before the Academy voting was over if she had ever been a Communist.

"What am I supposed to think?" demanded Signoret as she sat beside her husband, entertainer Yves Montand in a limousine. "What did they expect me to do—say I'm sorry, I'm sorry?

"I told them the truth and that was that."

The plumpish actress has no picture assignment lined up immediately but she said she is not at all concerned.

"I like being with my husband rather than doing pictures I don't like to do. I am lucky enough not to be frustrated when I'm not acting."

Simone, who played a wayward wife in her Oscar-winning role, said that one of the qualities she likes in a woman is the love a wife displays for her husband.

She and Montand are close friends of Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller and Simone said she finds Marilyn one of the women she likes.

"Marilyn is clever. She loves her husband . . ."

Decision on Powell Due by Thursday

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal judge says he will decide by Thursday whether to dismiss the remaining income tax evasion charges against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-NY).

The count was dropped after the government conceded it had failed to prove Powell filed a fraudulent joint return for himself and his wife, jazz pianist Hazel Scott, for 1952.

The remaining two counts charge fraud in Powell's preparation of Miss Scott's 1951 return. Miss Scott is not a defendant.

West Germany Plans First Jetliner Soon

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Hamburg Flugzeugbau, a subsidiary of Blohm & Voss Shipyard, said designs of the medium-range, twin-jet aircraft have been completed. Aerodynamic tests are under way and negotiations for financing have begun.

★ ★ ★

The jetliner is to carry 78 passengers at a cruising speed of nearly 600 miles per hour. The size of the plane would make it a competitor for France's Caravelle.

Honor Medal Hero Pension Bill OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee Monday approved a House-passed bill to grant $100 a month pensions to Medal of Honor recipients. The bill limits the pensions to those 62 years of age or over and to honorably discharged servicemen, and provides that any nonservice-connected veterans' pension should be deducted from the $100.

★ ★ ★

There were 314 Medal of Honor winners living last year.

Draft-Stevenson Drive Launched in Maryland

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — A draft-Stevenson campaign has been launched in Maryland by a group of Montgomery County Democrats.

★ ★ ★

Theodore A. Miller, an Orphans Court judge, said Monday the group boosting Adlai E. Stevenson for a third presidential nomination will be known as the Suburban Maryland Draft Stevenson Committee. Montgomery County is a suburban area of Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Miller said the committee was formed "for the purpose of telling Gov. Stevenson and the public that we will take no less than the best."

Map Promoters Strike Snag in Legislature

LANSING (AP)—A developing move in the Legislature to let the State Highway Department resume publication of official highway maps has struck a snag in the Senate.

Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), who triggered the ban imposed in 1958 after the department had published maps for 27 years, hooked an amendment yesterday onto the bill carrying the 1960-61 appropriation for highway purposes.

Appropriating committees in both the House and Senate had backed away from reimposing the ban. If the Senate sticks with Smeekens on a passage vote, the issue will be finally resolved in an interchamber conference.

The 1958 press run of maps totaled about 600,000. The cost was about $35,000.

Waterford Township Faculty Rehearsing

Rehearsals are under way for the sixth annual play by faculty members of the two Waterford Township junior high schools.

This year's production "you Can't Take It With You," which will be presented April 29 and 30 at John D. Pierce Junior High School, is basically a comedy, incidentally a love story, and occasionally sheer farce.

Under the direction of Miss Patricia Hott, 16 teachers and school administrators are "getting into character" portraying the Sycamore family, distinguished for the individualism of its members.

Works Plan to Start

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A million-dollar public works program is expected to get under way in Cheboygan soon. The program includes a $50,000 extension of the Cheboygan River dock; a $200,000 flood control project; a $620,000 public housing project and a $150,000 sewer project.

TV News and Reviews

Hitchcock Drama Good but It Lacks Corpses

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — Alfred Hitchcock, who conducts those Sunday night TV courses in cannibalism, threw his considerable weight behind the more agreeable and pertinent subject of justice last night.

It was a welcome change.

Hitchcock directed, "Incident at a Corner," NBC-TV "Startime" offering, which told the story of 68-year-old James Medwick, a school-crossing guard who was fired immediately after being unjustly and anonymously accused of molesting little girls.

★ ★ ★

They wanted to avoid nasty publicity and the presumed financial repercussions. But Medwick's future son-in-law, played by George Peppard, pressed for a battle to expose the malicious lie for what it was.

"Any man," he said, "old, young, rich or poor, when faced with a lie about himself, has got to get excited." Peppard also argued on the larger issues of individual freedom and security.

He pointed out that nobody could enjoy either if all it took to crush an innocent man was a poison pen letter. Clearly, he was one of those idealistic types, regarded in his community as a boat-rocking, nonconforming troublemaker.

What prevented the play from being more successful was its avoidance of some elements of strict reality. The ending, unfortunately, was much too pat. Ironically, there was a reliance on expediency — through coincidence — which removed some impact from the story.

Still, the play succeeded in an area where earlier this year, playwright Archibald Mac Leish failed. That is, Miss Armstrong devised a more dynamic plot to remind us anew of "the secret of freedom."

Peppard played his part with credibility and fire, as did Vera Miles in the role of his fiancee. Paul Hartman, as Mr. Medwick, let himself get bogged down a few times in displays of superficial folksiness but otherwise handled his part well.

★ ★ ★

Hitchcock's famed flashes of directorial genius were less in evidence than usual. But I guess because he was operating under a severe handicap. No corpses.

★ ★ ★

THE CHANNEL SWIM: The news that Jerry Lewis' next NBC-TV special, on Friday, April 15, will use a filmed sequence with Allan Funt and the "Candid Camera" came as a surprise to Funt, who is under exclusive contract with CBS-TV's "Garry Moore Show."

★ ★ ★

Funt explained that the sequence which Lewis plans to use was made in 1958 and added that Jerry's rights to it have long since expired.

The two performers now are trying to work out a settlement . . .

There's a strong possibility that the Jimmy Durante-Garry Moore comedy collaboration will be revived as a "one-shot" on Moore's Tuesday night show sometime before the season ends.

Academy Award winners Simone Signoret and Charlton Heston have a number of TV dates to keep: On Friday, Miss Signoret will be visited by CBS-TV's "Person to Person." She'll star in "G.E. Theater" drama on Sunday, May 8. Heston will be NBC-TV's "Steve Allen Show" guest star next Monday and Ed Sullivan's guest on CBS-TV Sunday, May 1.

Sahl, the Egghead, Gets $7,500, Packed House

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Mort Sahl, the thinking man's comedian who is still waiting for TV to appreciate him, was late for his opening at the cafe — he was probably busy taking his tie off.

WILSON

He works open-throated and tieless, and in a sweater—and makes me fidget. I don't like to think in a night club.

But he's getting $7,500 a week, and packed houses. Bellylaughs he doesn't get; it's more egghead chuckles. I think he would be brilliant if he didn't assume that everybody is a couch case panting to hear humor about "therapy," However . . .

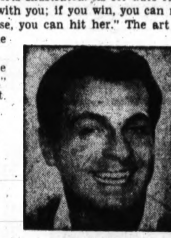
"The Chicago Police Athletic League," he says, once, "is an organization that encourages kids to go along with the cop on their burglaries."

★ ★ ★

He claimed that the Henry Luces are divorcing and that Mrs. Luce will be awarded Sports Illustrated. As for auto racing, "You should have a girl with you; if you win, you can rejoice with her; and if you lose, you can hit her." The art of handling girls, or chicks, he calls "Chickmanship."

"I'm going on with Mike Wallace again—I never learn," he mentions at another point.

I squirm when these new cerebral comedians start offering audiences political opinions . . . even though I'm often on the same side they are. "President Eisenhower is in complete charge of everything," he says, "whenever Vice President Nixon leaves the country."



SAHL

Sahl, a Californian who's often been on the Steve Allen show and has done his own spectacular, also had a few words about the University of Miami. He said one of the big hotels didn't make good, so they converted it into a university—and that the "American Express Credit Cards accepted" sign is still on the college front.

★ ★ ★

We may find that a new school of political satirists is springing up with Sahl as the Big Daddy. Maybe it'll come to pass that to have one political opinion assailed, and to laugh about it, is fashionable, as it is now when you guffaw uproariously as Jack E. Leonard or Don Rickles insults your appearance, your occupation, or your bald head in a night club. Sahl uses as his closing remark, "Are there any groups here I haven't offended?" Come to think of it, I didn't hear him take any slaps at the Audubon Society. That was about all that escaped.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Asked whether he'd heard from Washington about his play "The Best Man" which raps A Nixon type candidate, Gore Vidal shuddered and said "Yes!"

Pat Boone's receptionist turned his old buckskin shoes into flower pots, decorated the office with 'em . . . Former boxing champ Kid Gavilan wants to return to the U.S., but Castro's keeping him in Havana.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A local fellow cut out kissing his kids goodnight. He couldn't stay up that late . . . That's earl, brother.

Icebreaker Cutting Path Through River

By The Associated Press

The Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw was expected to finish ice smashing operations in the St. Marys River today.

The Mackinaw began operations in the river Monday and reported encountering ice up to two feet thick in some spots. The ship was to go to Whitefish Bay Thursday and try to carve a passage through the bay which she could use to escort downbound steamers to the Soo Locks.

Five ore carriers of the Pittsburgh steamship fleet were to meet the Mackinaw in Whitefish Bay. If the operation proves successful, the downbound traffic apparently will be the first through the Soo Locks this season.

Twelve ships upbound from Lake Erie ports toward the Lake Superior ore docks are scheduled to anchor at Detour, at the top of Lake Huron, before trying to pass through the St. Marys River.

The season's first passages through the Straits of Mackinac were made Monday when the freighters Calcite and White and the tanker Pierce made an eastbound trip through the ice. The straits connect Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Army Drafts 18 Men From County Area

Pontiac Draft Boards 65 and 67 inducted 18 Oakland County men into the Army during March, it was announced today.

The Pontiac inductees were:

Government Ignores Them

Political, Church Groups Push for Peace in Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Political, church and business leaders are putting pressure on the Nationalist government to seek a solution to South Africa's racial crisis through negotiations with responsible Negro leaders.

Government officials show no sign of heeding the pleas. Instead they are pressing a police drive to smash the Negro work boycott and have called for quick Senate approval of a bill to outlaw the two leading Negro political organizations, the Pan Africanist Congress and the more moderate African National Congress.

Calls for a softening of the government's tough racial policy came from D. E. Mitchell, leader of the opposition United party in Natal province; the presidents of the Port Elizabeth and Pretoria Chambers of Commerce and 14 Anglican ministers in Cape Province.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell said in a statement his party is standing behind the government until order is restored.

But he added: "Once the crisis is resolved, the government should take steps to give Negroes and other nonwhites (Indians and mulattos) a feeling of security. The government must also re-establish friendly and harmonious relations with other countries."

Mitchell declared Negroes should be allowed to own property, elect their own representatives to Parliament and no longer have to carry identity passes.

Peter Hubert Mosenthal, a textile manufacturer who heads the Port Elizabeth Chamber of Commerce, said in a speech to his group that the Negro population "certainly has legitimate grievances which must be righted—not by intimidation and force but by consultation."

President O. T. Wier of the Pretoria chamber warned that unless the nation modifies its policies, "South Africa will be the outcast of Western civilization."

Stokowski Tells His Decision to Retire in '61

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "Anyone who has children will understand my decision," Leopold Stokowski said in disclosing he will retire as director of the Houston Symphony Orchestra after the 1960-61 season.

Stokowski told a concert audience of his plans at the final performance of the season. He has been under contract here since 1955.

"Purely personal problems make it necessary for me to make this sacrifice," he added.

Stokowski said earlier he will appeal a New York court decision granting custody of two young sons to his former wife, Gloria Vanderbilt Lumet.

House Passes Bill to Admit Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has passed a bill which would admit about 5,000 refugees in European camps to this country during the next 27 months.

★ ★ ★

The measure was passed by voice vote and now goes to the Senate.

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) of the House Immigration Subcommittee predicted relatively few of those eligible actually would enter the United States.

President Eisenhower has asked for legislation doubling present quotas, which limit the entry of immigrants to about 150,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

He also called for special legislation to admit refugees from other parts of the world, not just Europe, as the U. S. contribution to "World Refugee Year," which ends June 30.

Safety Glass Measure Dies in Massachusetts

BOSTON (UPI) — The Massachusetts House has killed a bill which would have required all automobiles to be equipped with safety glass in all windows.

The bill was rejected 68-0 Monday on a standing vote after it was denounced as "trash" by Rep. James H. Kelly (D-Boston). Present law requires safety glass only in windshields.

Kennedy Tops Humphrey in Wisconsin's Primary

Takes 6 of 10 Districts —Nixon Finishes Third

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy hurdled another high barrier in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination today, winning the Wisconsin primary in a head-on collision with one of his principal rivals.

Immediately, the Massachusetts senator said the election proved his vote-pulling power with non-Catholics, farmers, and labor unions.

Kennedy defeated Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota in six of Wisconsin's 10 congressional districts and in the battle for the total popular vote.

With 3,385 of the state's 3,146 precincts reported, the unofficial tabulations showed Kennedy 463,466; Humphrey 363,115; Nixon 334,521.

This gave Kennedy 56 per cent of the Democratic vote.

It also allocated 20 Wisconsin delegate votes in the Democratic National Convention to Kennedy and 10 to Humphrey. Each receives another uncontested half-vote.

VOTE BREAKS RECORD

Even before the final count was in, the vote broke the previous record, set in 1952, of 1,018,149.

Coming on the heels of his spectacular sweep in New Hampshire last month, this was Kennedy's second straight victory in an important presidential primary.

Wisconsin was not a spectacular triumph for him.

He had said that winning six district races, plus a majority of the popular vote, would constitute a victory for him. "Anything else would be gravy," Kennedy said.

There was no gravy.

But Kennedy said he was delighted with the result. He added, "I never took the view that we could win all 10 districts despite the pollsters. If we end up with 57 per cent of the Democratic vote we will be doing very well."

Humphrey said the election caused him no pain.

"I suppose numerically I'm the defeated candidate," he said, "but if I'm defeated I certainly don't hurt. In light of the predictions made, we have every reason to believe we did well."

The vote for Nixon also was open to interpretation. He had no opposition to stir GOP interest and he did not campaign in Wisconsin.

Four years ago, 438,000 Republicans cast ballots for President Eisenhower in a virtually uncontested election. In 1952, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft rolled up 315,000 GOP votes to 262,000 cast for Earl Warren, then governor of California.

MINIMIZES RELIGION

"We carried Janesville, for instance, which is only 12 per cent Catholic. I also believe the people had pretty much made up their minds before the religious issue came up."

The size of the "crossover" ballot, in which Wisconsin Republicans may vote in the Democratic primary, and vice versa, will never be known.

In Sheboygan where Catholic voters constitute 22 per cent of the total, he had 55.5 per cent of the vote. He took 44.3 per cent in Madison which has 22 per cent Catholics, and 48.3 per cent of the

All 3 See Favorable Indications

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) took a measured—but not decisive—step toward the Democratic presidential nomination by winning Tuesday's Wisconsin Democratic primary.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Richard M. Nixon favorably surprised some of his closest supporters by his ability to draw a party vote in an unexciting, unopposed Republican primary in which he refused to campaign.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) kept himself politically alive in the Democratic contest. He pointed his future campaign toward a bone-crushing showdown in the May 10 West Virginia primary. The political ingredients that go into the crucible there may be far different from those in Wisconsin.

For Kennedy, his evident capture of 20 of Wisconsin's convention votes furnished satisfactory evidence he could command party support in the crucial Midwest as well as in his home New England stamping ground.

But it was not the sweep that Kennedy would have liked. Humphrey ran behind, but respectably so. Humphrey proved he is the champion of the kind of farmers who inhabit the western areas of Wisconsin which adjoin his home state of Minnesota.

MANY BRIGHT SPOTS

Kennedy got the industrial First Wisconsin District, a tribute to his apparently superior pull with organized labor. He took the eastern side of Wisconsin where the Roman Catholic vote is strong. He ran well in normally Republican areas.

This division of the spoils did Kennedy no good in his attempts to mute the issue raised by his Catholicism. Instead, it emphasized that he was strongest where the Catholics are most numerous.

It generated the suspicion that Republicans ignored their own primary and crossed over to vote for him as the man they regard as the easiest Democrat to beat in November.

It seemed implicit these issues would continue to plague Kennedy until he tests his strength in nearly solid Protestant territory such as West Virginia.

GET LICENSE — Heiress Gamble Benedict and her ex-chauffeur boy friend Andre Porumbeanu leave the office of Dillon, S. C., Probate Judge Walker E. Allen after applying for a marriage license Tuesday afternoon. They can pick up the license today under South Carolina's 24-hour waiting period.. Meanwhile a Brooklyn magistrate issued a warrant for Miss Benedict's arrest on a wayward minor charge.

Gamble, Andre Try Again to Wed

DILLON, S.C. (AP) — An American heiress and her Romanian-born ex-chauffeur who failed in an effort to wed in Paris last Christmas have come to the Carolina tobacco country seeking to seal their love in marriage.

Gamble Benedict and her dark-haired, smiling sweetheart, Andre Porumbeanu, filed their application for a marriage license Thursday. The license will be available late today under South Carolina's 24-hour whiting period.

In New York, the Benedict family's lawyer said: "This time he will not get away with it. All necessary measures will be taken to effect her return home."

Miss Benedict is charged with being a wayward minor. She already was a ward of the court as an outgrowth of her trip to France last December aboard a small oil tanker with Porumbeanu.

★ ★ ★

The couple took an oath here that they were legally eligible to marriage.

"I read that to them," said Probate Judge Walter E. Allen, who received the application.

"I told them, now you young people have had a lot of publicity and I want you to realize what you're swearing to."

After leaving the courthouse, they disappeared.

Judge Allen said the boyish-looking Porumbeanu showed him divorce papers that had been translated into English. "I only read far enough to see that it was a divorce," the judge said. "I think it might have been a Mexican one."

Officials at Juarez, Mexico, across the border from El Paso, Tex., confirmed that Porumbeanu obtained a divorce there March 15. A civil court secretary said he filed the petition Feb. 18. The secretary said Porumbeanu appeared in person.

Traffic in City to Be Studied

Downtown Group Will Pay Big Part of Cost of 'Crash Program'

The Downtown Development Group has underwritten part of a $3,300 study of traffic circulation and parking problems in downtown Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

The study will be by the city's planning consultant, David S. Geer of Birmingham, and George W. Barton & Associates, the consultants who prepared the $17,500 citywide traffic study for the group of downtown business and professional men two years ago.

The group is paying for Barton's work, set at a maximum of $2,800, and the city will pay Geer set at $500.

Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer described the study as a "crash program" to better downtown conditions, especially for shoppers who drive to shop.

The study will begin in a few days, said City Manager Walter K. Willman, and should be finished in six weeks to two months.

★ ★ ★

It will cover traffic circulation, signal timing, turning restrictions, use of curb lanes, use of off-street parking facilities, pedestrian amenities, channelization and pavement marking and possibly new street connections.

Ignore the Snowfall; Flowers Blooming

Don't let the snow flurries discourage you! Crocuses are in bloom, tulips are several inches through the ground and the weatherman says tomorrow's high will be near 50.

★ ★ ★

Saturday and Sunday will be warmer but Monday will be somewhat cooler. Tonight's low will be a mild 42.

Precipitation for the next five days will total two-tenths of an inch or less with a few light showers tonight and more general showers Saturday or Sunday.

Morning winds at 14 miles an hour southwesterly will shift to northwest late tonight.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 24 degrees. The reading at 1 p.m. was 40.

Pontiac Division Quarterly Sales Highest Since '56

Rest of Industry Also Reporting Top Figures; 7-Million Year Possible

Steadily climbing retail sales of Pontiac cars have given the division its best first-quarter period in five years, S. E. Knudsen, general manager and General Motors vice president announced today.

Record sales were reported also by the Chevrolet and Cadillac divisions of G.M. and the American Motors Corp.

Experts said the figures indicated a 7,000,000 sales year was still possible for the auto industry if the companies keep up the record pace.

Pontiac retail sales in March totaled 38,452—an increase of 17 per cent over February when dealer deliveries amounted to 32,204 automobiles.

"First quarter sales for 1960 were 100,871," said Knudsen. "This is a five per cent increase over the same period last year and the best first quarter period since 1956.

PONTIAC STAYS 4TH

"This accomplishment maintains Pontiac's fourth position in the industry and sales leadership of the medium price field.

"With our sales increasing 37 per cent during the last period of March, we are confident that with spring weather our sales will continue to gain."

★ ★ ★

Chevrolet's total reached more than 439,000 units for the first quarter, compared with the previous first-quarter high of 406,204 cars sold in 1956.

The 1960 figure includes the sale of some 56,000 Corvairs.

Cadillac reported the greatest first quarter in the division's 58-year history with the sale of 41,103 automobiles. The previous high, set last year, was 39,491.

RAMBLERS SELLING

American Motors Corp. said January-March sales of 100,466 Ramblers this year were second highest of any quarter period in the company's history, topped only by the 116,953 cars sold in the April-June quarter of 1959.

The 1960 first-quarter period was 37 per cent over the previous beginning record period of 1949 when 73,138 Ramblers were sold.

Chrysler Corp. announced passenger car sales for March were 92,708, the highest monthly sales total since August 1957 and a 68 per cent increase over March 1959.

Best since 1957 was Plymouth-

LONDON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy became a page one headliner in British newspapers today with his victory in the Wisconsin primary. The British press previously had paid scant attention to the maneuvering for the U.S. presidential nomination.

A MAN MUST EAT — Digging into food, Sen. Hubert Humphrey stands with smiling Sen. John F. Kennedy while waiting for a Milwaukee television appearance Tuesday. Humphrey had just been told he was 30,000 votes behind winner Kennedy in Wisconsin's presidential primary.

'Blabbermouths' or No, State Solons Want That Pay Hike

LANSING (AP) — Michigan seemed set today to step to the top of the national ladder in pay for state legislators.

Her lawmakers shrugged off a prophecy from a colleague that the extra cash might lure a "blabbermouth bunch of gutter rats" to the legislative halls.

The bill that would peg salaries at $7,500—equaled on a yearly basis only by New York—advanced yesterday for a showdown vote in the Senate. The House already has approved the near-50-per-cent hike.

In a confused floor maneuver marked by florid oratory, the Senate overturned its Appropriations Committee. The committee had recommended holding salaries steady at $4,000 a year plus a flat $1,000 expenses.

★ ★ ★

The "gutter rats" remark came from Sen. Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor), a bitter foe of a pay raise. Chrisman, 72, has announced his retirement from the Legislature after this year.

On the other side of the fence, Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland), a portly lawyer, said garbagemen were paid better. He said the congressman who represents his constituency gets $22,500, has nine secretaries and a government-paid office in Oakland County.

Sen. Charles S. Blondy (D-Detroit) said salaries now are a "farce" and that people "think we're taking graft because we're paid starvation wages." Blondy is a part-time court bailiff who reportedly cleared $16,000 one year from his process-serving endeavors.

★ ★ ★

Another opponent, Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), a well-to-do retired farmer, asked if lawmakers shouldn't be winning to "contribute something" for the privilege of being elected.

"I couldn't even run if my kids didn't give me money," chimed in Sen. Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain).

In separate action, some changes were written into a legislator's pension bill introduced to drop the retirement age from 60 to 55 and provide annuities to husbands in the event of death of female lawmakers.

Senators nudged ahead a bill to give $5,000-a-year raises that would put Gov. Williams' successor at $27,500 and successors of the present attorney general, secretary of state, state treasurer and auditor general at $17,500.

Three Get Life Sentences in Slaying of Lassiter

DETROIT (UPI)—Three men who admitted slaying Royal Oak used car dealer Parvin "Bill" Lassiter were sentenced to life in prison today by Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph Rashid.

The trio — Roy C. Hicks, 38; Richard Jones, 28, and Charles W. Nash, 43, the confessed triggerman—pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of second degree murder earlier this year. Lassiter's attractive wife and her paramour are accused of hiring them to carry out the execution.

Lassiter was shot to death along a private road near Willow Run Airport last April 6 after he returned from a business trip in Arizona.

His ex-model wife, Mrs. Nelle Lassiter, 37, and Gordon Watson, 44, the victim's ex-business partner, are awaiting trial on charges of first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

They are accused of hiring Hicks, Jones and Nash to assassinate Lassiter so they could claim his fortune and continue an illicit romance.

Hicks and Jones were sentenced without recommendaion.

But Rashid in sentencing triggerman Nash said "I recommend that you never be paroled."

The judge said "I cannot believe that this man did not know he was the 'carburetor man'"

On All California Cars

Law to Order Antismog Device

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California, with well over seven million vehicles, is going to require antismog devices on cars throughout the state.

The Legislature made that certain Tuesday night in taking the biggest single step yet against the eye-smarting pall of air pollution.

★ ★ ★

The heavily rural Senate, faced with a reapportionment drive in smog-irritated Southern California, passed the bill 34-3. A few hours later the big city Assembly concurred in Senate amendments, 57-10.

In Los Angeles, the director of the County Air Pollution District declared the enactment means Southern California will be rid of smog within five or six years.

★ ★ ★

Who will have to install smog suppressors?

Every new car sold in the state within a year after two or more devices are certified by a state board.

How about used cars and commercial vehicles?

That will be up to each county or air pollution control district. The devices will be required unless excluded by the county or district.

Unless exempted, used cars which change ownership would have to have the devices within one year, used commercial vehicles within two years, and all used cars within three.

How much will the device cost? Nobody can say for sure yet. Estimates range from $60 to $200. Best guess: $100 to $150.

The bill appropriates $500,000 to a state board within the Department of Public Health. The board will contract with private laboratories to test the suppressors.

Beatnik 'Cave' Opens at Last—With License

Without fanfare but with a city food license, "The Cave of the Ninth Cat" opened last night, sealing its victory over City Commission efforts to prohibit opening of beatnik coffee houses in Pontiac on grounds that they corrupt youthful morals.

★ ★ ★

The coffee house, 8 S. Perry St., opened minutes after City Clerk Ada R. Evans announced she would issue the food license. It had been approved by all city inspectors concerned.

The City Commission did not pass on the license, although it could have if it wanted to. Commissioners let the matter be handled in a routine manner by city administrators.

City inspectors said they had not yet approved a license for the second beatnik spot proposed in Pontiac — "The Purple Onion" at 286 S. Saginaw St. The management of that place has asked only for an amusement license so far.

Irons Ridicules RO Twp. Law

Says Area Doesn't Ask Assistance Because It Would Hinder Vice

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons was the least surprised county official yesterday when Royal Oak Township officials announced they no longer would seek police help from deputies.

"Of course they don't want me down there. I'd fire the whole bunch of 'em," he said.

"They're a disgrace to police work."

Only a few weeks ago, Township Supervisor Elwood Dickens had appealed to Irons for a crew of deputies to police the township, following a scandal involving the police and fire forces and a dwindling treasury.

Irons said he would be glad to "go in and clean up the situation" if the county would provide funds for more patrol cars and deputies.

Yesterday Dickens told John C. Austin, vice chairman of the County Board of Auditors, that at the annual township meeting last weekend some 100 residents approved cutting the 13-man police force to six men "and going on our own."

"Sure they want to go it on their own," said Irons. "Bringing in outside help would only interfere with vice and corruption in police ranks, and they wouldn't want that."

Commission Finally Adopts Michigan Plumbing Code

City commissioners last night finally adopted the provisions of the State Plumbing Code in a 5-0 vote, with Commissioner Floyd P. Miles abstaining.

Peter L. Hickey, city plumbing inspector, announced he would enforce the code in full — including the prohibition barring property owners from doing major plumbing repairs in homes or buildings they own but do not live in.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would consider hiring one or more additional plumbing inspectors, if necessary, to enforce the code.

Hickey said he needs one more plumbing inspector and another for heating. He said that the added plumbing inspector could be paid out of the new schedule of inspection fees adopted along with the code last night.

Hickey has already said he does not plan to use the new code as a weapon in any crackdown on existing plumbing, but rather as a bulwark against poor plumbing in the future.

The plumbing inspector has freely admitted that during his eight years on the job he has tried, without real legal backing, to enforce state standards here while urging their adoption on the city books.

Only dissension concerning the code came from members of the audience and from Miles, who stressed that he was not opposed to higher standards as such.

He objected, though, to the provision that restricts home owners without a plumber's license to their own homes in making major repairs.

And Miles persisted in earlier arguments that higher standards would be meaningless without adequate enforcement.

NEED MORE MEN?

Commissioners began to discuss whether more inspectors should be hired but were interrupted by City Manager Walter K. Willman, who said:

"It is your job to set the standards and my job to enforce them. Leave the latter question to me."

Five members of the audience expressed views, three for the code and two opposed.

One citizen objected to the fact that Hickey had once denied him a permit to do work in a home he owned, but did not live in.

Two plumbers and a business agent for Local 98 (AFL-CIO) of the Plumber's Union spoke in favor of the code.

During the debate, two contradictory opinions from the attorney general's office—one dated 1951 and the other 1955—caused confusion concerning the legality of the restriction on work by home owners.

City Attorney William A. Ewart pointed out that the provision was subject to interpretation by the courts, but added that the law, as written, was definitely restrictive.

Passage of the code was considered a victory by those interested in the urban renewal project.

The city has now upped the standards of its housing and plumbing codes and is planning to tackle next a more ambitious electrical code.

THOSE SWINGIN' GATES — This wrought-iron gateway guards the drive leading to Elvis Presley's $100,000 home in Memphis, Tenn. Milford Man to Run for House

James M. Mc Neely, Teacher, Seeks Dem District 3 State Seat

Jumping into what probably will be the only incumbent-free legislative district race in Oakland County this year is James M. Mc Neely, a teacher in the Farmington public school system.

★ ★ ★

McNeely, 29, announced yesterday he would seek the Democratic nomination in the Aug. 2 primary for the District 3 seat in the State House of Representatives.

Incumbent Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican, threw the race wide open when he announced he wouldn't seek re-election.

★ ★ ★

TEACHER IN FARMINGTON

Born in Detroit, Mc Neely has spent six years teaching in Farmington. After five years in two Farmington elementary schools, he is today teacher in a special program for boys.

★ ★ ★

He attended St. Norbert High School in West DePere, Wis., and received his bachelor's degree from St. Norbert College in 1955.

In June of this year, Mc Neely expects to earn his master's degree in psychology from Wayne State University.

Mc Neely's war career includes service as an infantry sergeant in Korea for a year.

★ ★ ★

His many affiliations include the American Federation of Teachers, Michigan Federation of Teachers and National Education Assn. He is a former regional executive secretary of the Michigan Education Assn., and is affiliated with the Farmington Education Assn.

★ ★ ★

Mc Neely said the most important issue in the coming campaign will be "the irresponsible conduct of the Republican Legislature and the need for expanded state concern for local units of government and local school districts."

The Day in Birmingham

Kingsley Inn Owner Set to Add 68-Room Hotel

BIRMINGHAM — Plans are being made to construct an elaborate 68-room hotel adjacent to the Kingsley Inn, Nick Takis owner of the restaurant, said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"The project is still being revised and there has been no date set for construction," Takis said.

"All I can say is that I intend to build," he said.

Architect drawings of the hotel have already received the blessing of the Bloomfield Hills Planning Commission.

Takis said the proposed "plush two-story hotel" would be built on the south side of the restaurant.

An auditorium on the lower level, to be used for town hall meetings, is also planned. It would seat 600 to 700 persons, Takis said.

He said the hotel is being planned so an additional 50 rooms could be added at any time they were needed.

An underground tunnel will allow movement from the hotel to the restaurant.

A Troy man, charged with assault and battery when he hit another man in the face with a broken beer bottle, will be arraigned Friday in Birmingham Municipal County.

Police have charged that Bruce Hauswirth, 23, 2567 Crooks Rd., attacked Willard Clemons, 28, of 137 West Elwood, Clawson, Saturday night.

The fight occurred at a gas station on Woodward avenue that had closed for the night.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses told police that the two men were driving in separate cars on Woodward when both pulled into the station and the fight began.

Clemens, who required 30 stitches, was released from William Beaumont Hospital yesterday.

The Bloomfield Republican Women's Club will meet Monday at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. E. T. Hangstefer, 1940 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills.

This is a campaign training program meeting and all women in the Bloomfield area are invited to attend.

The program for the Senior Men's Club Friday will include an address by Charles A. Mentzer, who will discuss "Responsible Government."

★ ★ ★

Mentzer is executive secretary of the mayor's committee appointed to gather information on the needs of the aged.

Mrs. E. L. Todd

Service for former Birmingham resident Mrs. E. L. (Marion Lee) Todd, 62, of 24488 Roanoke St., Oak Park, will be held 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Acacia Park Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Todd died yesterday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, of injuries suffered in a fall a few days earlier.

She is survived by a son, James L. of Detroit.

Life Terms for 3 in Lassiter Slaying

in the slaying. "Carburetor man" is a term used by Hicks and Jones in previous court appearances to describe a killer.

"I cannot believe that he did not know why he was going to the airport" to pick up Lassiter the night he was slain, Rashid said.

★ ★ ★

Nash asked the judge if he was going to "sentence me in this case or on what I have done before." Rashid said, "On this case, but I am going to consider what you have done before."

★ ★ ★

Nash said, "This is a kangaroo court."

Hicks, Jones and Nash are all from Chattanooga, Tenn., and all are former employes of Lassiter.

★ ★ ★

They originally went on trial for first degree murder in the case, but changed their pleas to guilty of second degree murder when the prosecuting attorney obtained warrants against Mrs. Lassiter and Watson. He charged that Hicks, Jones and Nash were hired killers.

Census Chief Up to His Ears in Calls From Local Gripers

"Phone calls," he muttered, "phone calls. People call and say, 'This is an irate citizen.'

"Arrgh . . . I'm irate, too."

Oakland County's "Mr. Bureau of the Census" wishes he were one of those microscopic one-celled animals that multiply simply by dividing every now and then.

Mountains of return envelopes lay on tables waiting to be sorted into cardboard cubicles, census takers rushed in waving maps, telephones jangled and pencil sharpeners did a steady grind.

W. C. Hintz' arms flailed over the stacks of returns like a whirling dirvish.

Most of the calos, he said, are from those who object to the blue form, the sample questionnaire that is to be filled out at every fourth household.

"They want to know, 'Why didn't everybody get one?' and 'Why all the silly questions?' " mimicked Hintz with an expression of great pain.

★ ★ ★

"The questions serve a purpose. They all are important. The income tax people can't see this stuff. It is all very confidential. We don't know what is in the envelopes and we don't care. No names are involved. Machines compile the data.

★ ★ ★

"Look," he said, "the answers show up only as black dots on the machine.

"One man called and said, 'I don't want everyone in the country knowing how much I make.' So I explained to him, nobody cares, it's just a statistic to be used in a survey."

As assurance, it was pointed out, census takers are sworn under penalty of $1,000 fine or two years in jail not to divulge confidential information.

It was also mentioned that any person who willfully refuses to answer the official census questions is subject to a maximum fine of $100 or 60 days in jail or both.

"And it's spring," said Hintz with distaste. "We're running a couple of days behind already because of the muddy country roads. Our tentative deadline was April 16, but we won't try to make it up. We can't."

There are approximately 225,000 doors to be knocked on in the county, averaging 15,000 homes a day for some 700 census takers.

"That's it, roughly," sighed the man with the herculean load.

★

At this point, Hintz looked as if he would much rather be counting nails in a barrel than counting noses in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

He had a hardware store in Royal Oak before he became supervisor of the 1960 census here.

Kennedy Tops Humphrey in Wisconsin Election

vote in Lacrosse where the Catholic vote is 23 per cent.

★ ★ ★

As for his draw with the farmers, Kennedy pointed to his victory in the 7th District, an agricultural area.

He was a big winner in three of Wisconsin's major industrial areas, Milwaukee, Racine and Kenosha. The AFL-CIO leadership in the state opposed him and urged union men to support Humphrey.

Both Humphrey and Kennedy took the occasion to comment happily on the vote for Nixon.

"Nixon did come in a wobbly third, just as I predicted," Humphrey said. "This certainly shows it doesn't pay to play tricks with politics."

"I didn't think Nixon would do as badly as he did here," Kennedy said.

But in Washington, GOP National Chairman Thruston Morton saluted the vote for Nixon. He said it was the greatest ever given an unopposed candidate in the Wisconsin primary.

Deny 'Collusion' in Roads Debate

Henry Asks If There Is Possibility of It in Inspections

A statement by City Commissioner Milton R. Henry concerning what he termed "the possibility of collusion" between city inspectors and a private contractor last night touched off an explosive clash.

After Commissioner John A. Dugan had suggested that poor ground conditions had caused Bartlett street in his district to break up during the past week, although blacktopped only a few years ago, Henry learned from City Engineer James Carlisle that the same two city inspectors had worked with the city's main blacktopping contractor for several years.

He suggested at this point "the possibility of collusion," and added, "perhaps that company has found it convenient to be the low bidder in Pontiac lately."

Willman, Carlisle and several other commissioners—including Dugan—immediately leaped to the city's defense, expressing confidence in the inspectors and the company.

Pontiac Sales Are Highest Since 1956

More than 35,200 Dodges and Dodge Darts were sold in March, the highest month for car sales since May 1952. Last year's March total was only 11,892.

★ ★ ★

Ford Motor Co. said a 9.1 per cent increase over last year and best first-quarter period in three years was realized with the sale of 41,432 Mercurys.

Ford's newest product, the compact Comet, reported 10,441 units delivered from its introduction March 17 through March 31.

The third 10-day period in March was the highest in sales of any 10-day period since introduction of the Lark in 1958 for Studebaker-Packard Corp.

William E. Jackson Named Rotary Head

Drayton Plains attorney William E. Jackson was elected the president of the Drayton-Waterford Rotary Club at the club's meeting yesterday.

New vice president will be Richard McCarius. Col. Frederick Thompson was re-elected secretary and Gerald Munro was re-elected treasurer.

Free Parking During Sales April 28-30

Pleased with the free parking experiment last month, the Downtown Merchants Assn. is planning to open up municipal parking lots to free parking again this month for the Downtown Spring Value Days sale, April 28-30.

The association told the City Commission last night it would again be willing to underwrite the cost to the city.

John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said the association plans to incorporate in the upcoming sale a feature that has proved popular during Downtown Harvest Days in the fall.

He said that Oakland County farmers would be invited to display plants and gardening equipment on the downtown sidewalks.

Businessman Denies Plot to Murder Judge

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A millionaire industrialist who says he has "an inner urge to help people," feels confident a charge that he hatched a plot to murder a circuit judge will be thrown out of court.

Charles Baird, 51-year-old nephew of the University of Michigan's first athletic director, is accused of offering a convict "a very large sum of money" to kill Washtenaw County Circuit Judge James R. Breakey Jr.

Judge Breakey granted Braid's first wife, Joan, a divorce in 1952 and twice since then has sent him to jail for failure to make support payments for their three minor children. Braid remarried and has an infant daughter by his second wife.

BEEN IN MEXICO

Baird, owner of the Ann Arbor Grinders Co., returned from Mexico on Sunday where he is financing construction of a 600-foot dam in a tiny remote village.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William F. Ager said Baird offered 32-year-old Kenneth Stratton a sum of money "running into four figures" to assassinate the judge. He contends the offer was made sometime between August and November last year.

Officers believe the initial contact between Stratton and Baird was made last July when both were inmates in the county jail.

Stratton later was convicted of taking forged securities across a state line and is now serving a one-year term in the federal prison in Milan.

★ ★ ★

Baird charged that Stratton made a "deal" with authorities by inventing the story of the alleged murder offer, hoping to have his one-year term shortened.

★ ★ ★

Baird admitted giving the convict $150 as a gift while they were jail inmates, but said it was given out of the "kindness of my heart to a man who I thought needed help."

"I can't figure this out. I befriended him in jail and tried to help him out," he said," and then he kicks me in the teeth.

"I feel no malice toward Judge Breakey and never have," Baird continued. "In fact, I'm grateful to him. He did me a favor when the divorce went through."

Baird is a 1934 graduate of the University of Michigan College of Engineering and is the son of the late James Baird, a New York construction engineer.

His Uncle Charles Baird was the school's first athletic director and has donated several buildings to the university.

Baird, who is well known in the city for his philanthropy and charitable activities, told newsmen, "When people need help, I feel an inner urge to help."

He labeled the charge against him as "ridiculous" and said he was sure it would be dismissed.

He was released under $15,000 bond and ordered to appear for examination on April 18. An appeal of his divorce case, which was slated for circuit court yesterday, was adjourned until April 19.

Judge Breakey, who has been under police protection since the alleged plot was uncovered two months ago, said he isn't worrried about the matter and considers it "more or less an occupational hazard."

Ladies' Day Thursday

Home Show to Open

The four-day Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Improvement Show will open tomorrow with the doors wide open to the ladies.

Women will be admitted free the first day, and the second will be Men's Day.

The nominal admission charge will be 50 cents, with children under 16 admitted free.

The show will open at 4 p.m. tomorrow at the Pontiac Armory, 57 Water St., and last until 10 p.m.

Friday it will run from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday and Saturday free tickets will be distributed in the downtown area and the shopping centers.

The tickets will be handed out by two pretty models, touring the business districts in a new Pontiac convertible.

Display space has been sold out to provide Pontiac-area households with the biggest, most varied array yet of home ideas, products and materials, said Roger Rummell, chairman.

★ ★ ★

County Maccabees Name Lake Orion Woman

Mrs. Clarence Arnold of Lake Orion has been elected president of the Oakland County Assn. of the Maccabees with Mrs. William Perry of Oxford named lieutenant commander.

In the 1950 census more than five million urban families in the United States lived in homes that were not modern.

Pontiac General Income Rises in Third Period

He said that the third accounting period, ending March 26, showed a net income of $8,000.

Excess of income over expenses for the year is $41,923, just under the budget prediction of $42,254, he said.

Per diem costs so far this year are running less than last year, he said.

"This is a very encouraging factor," said Euler.

"The reduction is in part due to increased bed capacity, which gives us a larger base of patient days to absorb our costs. So long as occupancy continues at the present high level, our financial picture looks favorable."

Church Group Hears Students' at Gathering

Barbel Sasse and Sherry Fink were guest speakers at the St. John Lutheran ALCW meeting Tuesday night.

Miss Sasse is a student from Germany now at Pontiac Central High School under the auspices of the Michigan Council of Churches. Miss Fink, also a Pontiac Central student, was an exchange student to Sweden in 1959.

Devotions for the meeting were led by Mrs. Wayne Santala with a vocal solo by Mrs. Eugene Danielson.

Mrs. A. M. Haglund, Mrs. Craig Romeo, and Mrs. Adolph Hornblad were hostesses for the affair. Birthdays for March and April were honored.

★ ★ ★

Honor Mrs. Geiger at Stork Shower

Mrs. Ronald Geiger of Dwight avenue was honored at a stork shower Saturday at the home of Mrs. Peter C. Geiger on West Walton boulevard. Mrs. Lawrence Johnson of Ypsilanti was cohostess.

★ ★ ★

Be an eager beaver about brushing and shampooing your hair. Every sudsing puts more lights in it, and every brush stroke adds to its luster.

There's a Lack of Communication, Americans Report

Misunderstanding Splits U.S., German Teens Abroad

By REINHOLD ENSZ

More than 100 American teenagers — the sons and daughters of American military men and diplomats — live in a tightly-knit community here, but only a few of them have German friends.

★ ★ ★

"Dating Germans is frowned on by the kids at school," says pretty Carol Willoughby of Muskogee, Okla., a 17-year-old cheerleader at the U. S. Army's high school. "The American teenagers here tend to stick together and have very little to do with German kids. I think it is mostly a matter of ignorance."

"They come over here," she says, "with the idea that a war is still going on. I have two younger brothers and I know they were expecting the continuance of a war movie when they came."

"Our kids are isolated. Life seems to revolve around the Army movie theater, the PX and the youth club. Prejudice against Germans develops as a result of this isolation.

Miss Weyand points out that foreign students are star attractions at schools in the United States. But here, where there could be daily contacts, there are almost none.

★ ★ ★

"It's a shame our kids don't get out," she says. "As a result, Germans think Americans are snobbish. The Germans are very surprised when they find out that we are ordinary people."

SELDOM LEAVE

Gordon Rankin, 17, of Timonium, Md., another senior at the Army high school, says, "I go out of (the community) very seldom, but I go out more than the others.

"There are more girls than boys at the school here and they get awfully mad if you date a German girl. The American girls pounce on you if you even dance with a German girl. I know of only one student who dates a German girl. He's not exactly looked down upon, but he is kidded about it."

Rankin, whose father is an intelligence officer, says one reason he hesitates to get out of the community is the fact that Germans stare at Americans, especially at the light-colored, flashy clothing the Americans frequently wear.

SHARON JEAN DUKE

A July wedding is planned by Sharon Jean Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack William Duke of Pleasant street, Drayton Plains, and William Hilborn Boadway. Her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Roy Boadway of South Shirley avenue.

"It's really embarrassing when you ride on the U-bahn (subway) the way the Germans stare at you," Rankin says. "I know a couple of Germans and I like them. The ones who seek you out are nice, but some of the delinquent types you see on the streets look at you as if they want to stomp you right into the ground."

Howard Salisbury, 16, of Pasadena, Calif., son of the U.S. Army's Berlin command provost marshal, comments, "Some of the American kids tend to think the Germans are beneath them because we are here as occupiers. But when they get to know some Germans they find out that they are just like anybody else."

All agreed that a big factor in keeping German and American teen-agers apart is the different dating customs.

Miss Willoughby comments: "German boys have asked me for dates. I turned them down because I don't know what to expect and I would be completely ill at ease. And I think they would be too."

The lack of contact isn't the fault of the U.S. Army. It has tried in various ways to get the American and German teen-agers together, but met with little response from the Americans.

★ ★ ★

The principal of the high school, David Cook, of Concord, N. C., says, "I suspect that parents have something to do with this isolation. But the Americans aren't completely to blame. Germans sometimes do have a tendency to be rude."

Two Are Honored at Birthday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Elvis McConnaughhey of Amberwood street Pontiac Township, and Mrs. Guy McConnaughhey honored Mrs. Arthur Tribby and Clifford McConnaughhey at a birthday dinner Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Arriving at the McConnaughhey home with their families were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Chism, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Garris and the Paul Dentons. Others were the Manuel Dentons and son Raymond, Larry Garris, Sue Monroe, Roy Lee Adam and Gene McConnaughhey.

Test Shows Gals Get More Legwork

NEW YORK (UPI)—A test of men and women in all walks of life shows the wife, the secretary and the girl friend walk more miles in an average day than the male.

Promenaders Hold Finale

★ ★ ★

By popular request, a special dance will be added to the season May 7 at the school.

Guests present were Vern Lotse, Elaine Hahnefeld, Mr. and Mrs. George Kish, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shafto, the Reginald Edwards and Mr. and Mrs. John Oakley.

★ ★ ★

Other were the Donald Shaws, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Froede, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Gark, the Edward Chantilers and Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Kintz.

Offer Hint You Need Nothing

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: After ten years of marriage I am expecting my first baby. For the past several months I have been busy making baby things and in addition my friends have given me a stork shower, so I have everything I can possibly use when the baby arrives, and for some time to come.

I have heard indirectly that several of mother's friends are planning another shower for me. I don't wish to appear ungrateful but I don't need anything and would rather they didn't give me this party.

Could I possibly make this wish known without hurting their feelings, or shall I say nothing and then give the baby things to a charitable organization?

Answer: If you really have more than you need, the only thing for you to do is to explain, or have your mother explain, that you appreciate their thought of you but that it would be unfair to have them give you things you really don't need. To give these presents away after they have been given to you, would certainly hurt their feelings.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are divorced and my mother is remarried. I like my stepfather very much but I also love my father. My problem is, who should give me away at my forthcoming marriage. My stepfather has raised me since I was eight and I don't want to hurt him, but my father is still my father and I think it would make him very unhappy not to be given this privilege.

My mother thinks my stepfather should be the one to give me away. Will you please advise me as this has turned into a very touchy subject at home.

Answer: Very definitely your own father takes precedence over your stepfather and he should be the one to give you away. Not to have him do so would be to publicly disown him.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of ours has recently retired from the medical profession and a discussion arose as to whether or not he is still called Dr., or whether this title is used only for a practicing physician.

Answer: He is called doctor for the rest of his life.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: Does an engaged girl's fiance, who is almost a stranger to us, have to be invited with her to our wedding reception? This will be limited just to relatives and a few intimate friends. If I include him it may cause hurt feelings among others. Yet somebody told me it's a strict rule that he be invited everywhere with her.

Answer: If their engagement has been announced, he must very certainly be invited with her. And no one could possibly misunderstand the reason why he was invited.

Europeans Like Our Shopping Centers

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Know what women of Europe and the Orient most envy in the life of the American woman?

Not her clothes. Not even her pushbutton appliances. The American utopia, to the rest of the feminine world, is the modern shopping center.

Women just naturally love to shop, says David Muss, Chicago builder whose firm has built shopping centers all over the country. And the more luxurious the shopping center, the more time the average woman will spend in it and the more she will buy.

* * *

With the growth of the suburban shopping center, family buying habits have changed, says Muss. Nowadays mom doesn't go alone to buy the groceries for the week. Instead she takes the whole family, and the shopping trip becomes a picnic.

* * *

At the modern shopping center they can have dinner in a restaurant, maybe see an art exhibit or motor show, stock up on all the family needs, from school clothes to garden supplies and from drugs to groceries, then wind up the evening with a movie.

"Family one-stop shopping is the new thing," says Muss. "New centers have all categories of shops, plus restaurants, movies, play areas, nurseries —even bowling alleys, in some cases. The idea is to have something to interest every member of the family, and make the family shopping trip fun."

* * *

The current trend, says he, is toward evening shopping, and many shopping centers stay open until 9:30 every night except Saturday. Many are opening later, too, at any hour from 10 to noon. The idea behind this is sound. The weekly shopping trip gives mom a chance to have dinner out, and the whole family to have an evening of recreation.

Dress Form of Plastic; Like Body

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sure to be a hit with women who sew is a new dress form which "gives like the human body, has flexible shoulders and can be stab-pinned.

Mounted on a wood pedestal for the correct height, the form is molded of a patented material, and taped. Its flexibility makes remodeling easier than a rigid form, and garments can be put on and removed without leaving open a side seam or omitting a zipper.

* * *

The form is the brainstorm of Mrs. Louise Lowney of West Covina, Calif., who became aware of the need for such an invention while she was a fashion designer and teacher.

Mrs. Lowney makes the forms for business women, teen-agers, housewives, movie stars and dress designers. Some women order the form for their dressmakers' use or to sew for absentee children.

The young daughter of Mrs. J. D. Moore, of Baton Rouge, La., had just witnessed a concert, and announced with complete confidence that she knew how to play the harp.

"I bet you don't," her brother said.

"Of course I do," she said. "You just sit like this and hold the harp like this."

"Okay, smarty, then what do you do?" the brother asked.

"Then you just start harping," she calmly replied.

Modeling as Usual

Conquers Cancer Surgery

By GAY PAULEY

It was the story of Irma Austin, a tall brunette of Dallas, Tex., who was a victim of breast cancer. But a lucky Irma Austin, because her surgeons told her they believed they had caught the malignancy in time.

Then, less than six months after two trips through surgery, Irma was modeling clothes with the same carefree grace and flasing smile many of us reporters knew from a decade of covering the Fashion Manufacturers Assn. summer dress and sportswear collections in Dallas.

But, Irma also was warned that medical science wanted five years of nonrecurrence before it would list her as one of the 25,000 women in the nation who each year are cured of breast cancer.

* * *

She also said that she had one reason for talking about her case —she was not seeking sympathy, but trying to show others how important are the early diagnoses and regular checkups.

Irma's case history might be that of many of the 65,000 women, who, the American Cancer Society reports, each year develop a similar malignancy.

She awoke one morning with a swollen left breast, and an aching arm. She went immediately to her physician who gently told her what he thought a more detailed examination would disclose.

Within two weeks, the 41-year-old model, the wife of a Chance Vought Aircraft plant supervisor and the mother of a six-year-old daughter who also models, went through the first surgery for removal of the affected breast. One month later, surgeons performed more radical surgery of the feminine organs as a protective measure.

After surgery, she received cobalt and x-ray treatments, plus injections of radioactive phosphorous into the bloodstream. Her weight had dropped from a normal 127 to 105 pounds.

By this time last year, she had gained again her regular weight and model's measurements of 37-26-36, and again was running her regular classes in charm and dress for teen-agers in several southwestern towns.

What of Irma today?

Well, one of the happiest sights for us visiting reporters when we checked into the Dallas hotel where we were to see 1960 styles was Irma at work.

* * *

She had counted off one year of the five year waiting period. She also had added to her already-busy schedule. It now includes: modeling, charm schools, physical checkups every three months, and regular visits to hospitals where other women have been through similar surgery in the hope that she — by example — can show that adjustment is possible for each individual.

Sometimes, she said, the left arm swells obviously because the surgery was so drastic it impeded circulation.

"When that happens," she said, "I just take my gripper (a rubber ball for squeezing) and start pumping up."

* * *

"The main thing you have to learn," said Irma, "is to forget about yourself."

Symington Is Sure Pennsy Backs Him

"I don't think anyone else could make a better vice president," Symington said.

The governor repeatedly has refused to endorse any of the Democratic presidential aspirants, saying Pennsylvania's delegation, which he undoubtedly will head, will go to the Los Angeles convention uncommitted.

Conflict Rages on Cuban Funds

State Dept. Is Seeking More, Foreign Affairs Unit Wants None

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department disclosed plans yesterday for new spending on relations with Cuba — but the request ran head-on into a drive by the House Foreign Affairs Committee to halt aid already planned for the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

The House Appropriations Committee published testimony in which State Department officials asked for $261,000 to continue a U.S.-Cuban student exchange program — and another $200,000 to carry out a new shrimp agreement with Cuba.

The requests were revealed shortly after the foreign affairs group formally chopped $138,500,000 from the authorization for foreign aid and opposed further help for Castro. President Eisenhower had asked $4,175,000,000 in over-all economic and military aid — and the trimming reduced this to $4,038,500,000.

The foreign aid bill faced more slashing on the House floor — and even deeper cuts when Congress acts on the appropriations bill, which actually provides the money for the next fiscal year.

Involved was about 350 million dollars in technical aid earmarked for educational projects. Military aid to Cuba already has been ended.

Nigeria Won't Import Goods From S. Africa

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Nigeria, the biggest country in Africa, Tuesday banned the importation of South African goods "in resentment of the apartheid policy."

★ ★ ★

It was unlikely that the ban would be enforced before the country becomes independent in October.

The Nigerian House of Representatives passed the trade ban motion unanimously.

Until independence, Nigerian government external policy is still under control of the British colonial office.

France Orders Fifty Supersonic Bombers

PARIS (UPI) — France has ordered construction of 50 supersonic bombers to transport French nuclear bombs now being developed, the government announced.

The Mirage IV bombers, designed by the French Dassault Co., will fly at twice the speed of sound. Delivery was scheduled to start in three years.

New Faces on Council

CHEBOYGAN (UPI) — Four new members were elected to the Cheboygan City Council Monday. They are Earn R. Nordman, Samuel Fralick, Jack Van Sickle and Joseph Louisignau.

Colleges and Legislators Biding Time on Mediator

LANSING (UPI)—Both sides appeared today to be willing to compromise in the dispute on hiring of a middleman for higher education's annual budget fight with the Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Despite protests from legislators, presidents from the nine state colleges and universities said yesterday they would go ahead with hiring of a fact finder.

Dr. Edgar Harden, president of Northern Michigan College and chairman of the Council of State College Presidents, said the council plans to name a permanent director "at the earliest possible date."

This was generally believed to mean as soon as the legislators get out of town.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, denied the council had retreated by not naming its director yesterday as had been expected.

"We're continuing something we started years ago," Hannah said.

It was possible the Legislature would name its own fact finder to review college enrollment figures, coordinate appropriation requests and work out a formula for allocation of funds.

Both sides agree much of the budget squabbling could be avoided if there could be year-around liaison between the Legislature and the schools.

"The council welcomes every opportunity to work closely with the Legislature,' Harden said.

Palmer Favorite, Souchak Gets Support

Year's Leading Money-Winner a Solid Choice

★ ★ ★

Palmer, the year's leading money-winner with more than $26,000 in earnings, himself places the barrel-chested Souchak at the head of the half-dozen or so whom he regards as players to beat for the title.

★ ★ ★

"I figure the men who are tough on the tour will be toughest here," said the 30-year-old Ligonier, Pa., professional, winner in 1958 and loser by two strokes last year. "I have to go with fellows like Souchak, Ken Venturi, Dow Finsterwald and Gene Littler."

Bookmakers, who operate illegally in the shadows of the majestic pine trees, have a slightly differing and a more definite view of the outcome of the four-day, 72-hole medal play event over the Augusta National course.

★ ★ ★

They have made Palmer the solid favorite at 6-1, followed by Venturi, who blew the championship as an amateur in 1956, at 8-1. Cary Middlecoff and three-time winner, Sam Snead, are bracketed at 10-1. Then comes an out-of-shape Ben Hogan and Souchak, 12-1, and Dow Finsterwald and South Africa's Gary Player, 15-1. Other prices range from 20-1 to 100-1.

Player, the young British Open champion, heads the strong foreign delegation which includes Canada Cup individual winner, Stan Leonard of Canada, and leading players from Australia, Spain, Brazil and England.

No foreigner ever has won this event and neither has an amateur. Jackie Nicklaus, the blond, 20-year-old slugger from Columbus, Ohio, who holds the U.S. Amateur crown, and Deane Beman, the British Amateur king from Bethesda, Md., head the simon-pure threat.

The weather ceased to be a factor. The 6,850-yard, par 72 course, drenched by a week of rains, was whipped Monday by strong, biting winds and warmed by a benign sun. The weather man promises clear, cool weather—temperature in the low 70s—for the rest of the week, but indications are the course still will play the heaviest it has in history.

★ ★ ★

This is calculated to help the big hitters—fellows like Palmer, Souchak, Snead, and the giant of them all, George Bayer.

Palmer, who is built like a halfback, has won four of the season's tournaments — three in a row — and improved putting has raised him almost into a class by himself.

★ ★ ★

"It's concentration," Arnold said of his new success. "I'm thinking better."

Indianapolis May See 1-Minute Lap

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., who has been racing in the Indianapolis Memorial Day auto classic since 1946, said Tuesday there is a good chance for the first 1-minute lap around the 2½-mile track this year.

★ ★ ★

The two-time champion of the American big car circuit said a new racing tire will permit higher speed on the turns. A new tread design is the main improvement. Johnny Thomson and Paul Goldsmith tested the new tire on the Speedway for several thousand miles at high speed.

★ ★ ★

AP Photofax

Art Just a Spectator

Wall Plays New Role in Masters Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Art Wall Jr., is about to undergo a new experience—that of being a spectator at a golf tournament. He doesn't say he'll enjoy it.

Wall, wearing player's badge No. 1 as last year's winner of the Masters tournament, was a forlorn figure on the terrace in front of the Augusta National clubhouse today as about 90 other players tuned their shots for Thursday's start of the Masters.

★ ★ ★

"I thought maybe I could maneuver it so I could play here," he said. "It wasn't until Friday the doctor told me I'd have to take it easy 10 days more. But when you've waited seven weeks, you can wait one more."

A year ago Wall won the most important title and the biggest purse of his pro golf career when he stormed over the last six holes five strokes under par to beat Cary Middlecoff by a shot. He went on to earn the designation of player of the year and was the leading money winner.

★ ★ ★

Wall was hospitalized for a kidney ailment just after the Tucson Open in February. Then a knee became infected and was slow in responding to treatment.

"I'm almost 100 per cent okay now," he said. "Last week I thought maybe I could come down here and hit a few shots and maybe I could do all right without much practice. But the doctor said to rest my knee longer so I'm taking no chances. When you spend three weeks in a hospital it makes you think a little."

The angular lantern-jawed Pennsylvanian looks as fit as he was last year, when he won four big tournaments and $53,167.

"I'll be able to follow the tournament," he said. "I've already been walking quite a bit and I'm supposed to walk more to strengthen the knee. It's just that if I started hitting shots too soon, I might do someting wrong and have to start all over.

★ ★ ★

"It will be something different being a spectator. I've missed the cuts at a couple of tournaments—who hasn't. But I can't remember when I've watched one all the way."

Howe, Godfrey and Sawchuk

3 Wings Stay in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI)—While most of the Detroit Red Wing players will be heading back to their native Canada, three players will join manager Jack Adams and coach Sid Abel in Detroit during the off-season.

Howe will spend the summer with the Hose-Kaline-Carlin Co., Godfrey will be working in his sports store in Northland and and Sawchuk will supervise his garbage truck concern before trying the tavern business in May.

Adams, Abel, Howe, Jim Morrison, Marcel Pronovost, Murray Oliver and Lloyd Haddon are planning Florida vacations before heading into summer occupations. Howe and Pronovost have tentative plans to act as commentators on telecasts of some of the Stanley Cup finals before heading south, Howe on the English network and Pronovost on the French.

Gary Aldcorn has an extensive European trip planned for the summer with old teammates and more recent foes Bob Pulford and Billy Harris of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Famed Name of McGillicuddy Is Back in Baseball

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) — The famed name of McGillicuddy is back in baseball.

Donald McGillicuddy, 21-year-old great, great nephew of the late Connie Mack, has been signed to a contract with the Springfield, Mass., Giants, farm club of the San Francisco Giants in the Class A Eastern League.

Giant scouts have appraised McGillicuddy as being an unusually bright prospect as a first baseman, currently is with the Marine detachment at the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville, Fla. He received permission from his commanding officer to come here for a tryout, and, after six days, was signed. He is scheduled to be discharged from the Marines April 15.

Si Si Senors

★ ★ ★

Names were submitted by more than 10,000 persons. Senors was suggested by a policewoman, Miss Helen A. Davis.

"Senors symbolizes the history, strength and solidarity of old world California," she said.

★ ★ ★

The Spanish Senors were the first whites in what is now California.

Steels, Motors Spark Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and motors paced a vigorous stock market rally early today. Trading was heavy.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Reports of a sharp increase in March auto sales, which spurred the market late yesterday, gave the list renewed strength. All the auto stocks were bought in large opening blocks.

To Wall Streeters it looked as if it might be the long-awaited "spring rally" which they hoped would be kindled by the kind of news that actually came — a burst of auto sales after a long lag due to bad weather.

General Motors and Chrysler rose more than a point each. Ford, American Motors and Studebaker-Packard were each up about a point.

★ ★ ★

Steels, recently dampened by the lag in steel orders, rose sympathetically with their best customer, the auto industry. U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin jumped more than a point.

Universal Oil products spurted about 2 points on news that the California Legislature passed a bill requiring automobiles to use antismog devices. The company manufacturers these.

General Foods, which voted a 2-for-1 stock split and a raised dividend, responded routinely with a fractional gain in light trading.

Texas Instruments advanced more than 2. Gains of more than a point were socred by Raytheon, DuPont and Baltimore & Ohio.

Republic pictures was unchanged despite favorable dividend news.

★ ★ ★

Up around a point were Union Carbide, American Cyanamid, General Electric, Anaconda and Westinghouse Electric.

★ ★ ★

General Time, in a delayed opening, fell 4½ to 116 on 3,500 shares.

The market was higher at the start with the ticker tape late in the initial rush to buy.

★ ★ ★

Opening blocks included: American Motors, up ½ at 27 on 20,000 shares; Studebaker-Packard (when issued) up ½ at 11¾ on 10,000; Chrysler up 1⅝ at 54¾ on 5,000; Studebaker-Packard regular up ⅝ at 14⅝ on 12,000; and General Motors up ¾ at 46⅞ on 4,000.

LOUIS E. FAIRBROTHER

County Court Clerk Named

Louis Fairbrother Is New Assignment Man; Replaces Smith

New assignment clerk for Oakland County Circuit Court is Louis E. Fairbrother of Pontiac.

He replaces C. Richard Smith who submitted his letter of resignation to the five circuit judges. Smith, who had been on a leave of absence since last July, had been clerk for 10 years.

Fairbrother, 32, of 231 Dick Ave., was named yesterday to succeed Smith by Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, Frederick C. Ziem and Stanton G. Dondero.

Confirmation of the appointment must be made by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The new clerk, who had been acting assignment clerk since Smith's departure in July, has been a county employe for nine years.

A 1953 graduate of the University of Detroit Law School, Fairbrother began as a clerk under the late County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, served five years as clerk for the late Judge George B. Hartrick, and nearly a year as clerk for Judge Beer.

Smith asked that his resignation become effective April 15. After starting his county career as Judge Holland's clerk in 1936, Smith wrote his decision to quit "is a very difficult one."

He said he wants to devote all his time with his brother farming 120 acres near Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Duties of the assignment clerk consist of setting civil law suits for trial in each of the five courts and notifying attorneys when they are due in court.

Board to Meet Earlier

Because of increased business in assessment hearings, approval of real estate plats and other projects, the Waterford Township Board will now meet at 7 p.m. rather than at 7:30 p.m. each Monday night.

10-Year-Old Hit in Hands

Boy Shot by 'Empty' Gun

Pontiac police today offered a 10-year-old Pontiac boy as evidence that there is no weapon more lethal than an "empty" gun.

Johnny R. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson of 316 E. Wilson St., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital late Tuesday afternoon for bullet wounds of both hands.

He was visiting a chum, Larry Johnson, 12, of 293 W. South Blvd., yesterday.

He walked into the front room, pointed the gun in the general direction of Johnny and said, "What do you think of this?"

The gun went off. A shell barely missed Johnny's body and ripped through both his hands, fracturing several bones.

Johnny was released from the hospital last night.

Larry said he felt terrible. "I thought the gun was empty. We were just playing," Larry told officers.

May Move M59 to South Blvd.

City planners met with officials of GMC Truck & Coach Division today to discuss a proposal that the M59 trunkline designation on Pontiac's east side be switched from Auburn avenue to South boulevard, main access to the big GM plant.

The meeting was attended by City Manager Walter K. Willman, members of his staff, plus David S. Geer, city planning consultant, and Paul Van Roekel, county highway engineer.

Up for airing is the recommendation of James Bates, city planner, that the main east-west trunkline designation be switched to that part of town that most needs it.

This was the opinion put forth two years ago in the Barton Transportation Study.

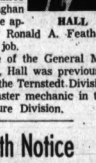
The study said that a fourth of westbound traffic entering Pontiac from the east goes to the truck and coach plant; a fourth to downtown Pontiac and the rest elsewhere.

The State Highway Department has already indicated a willingness to reconsider trunkline designations in Pontiac as a result of the study.

The Highway Department has several possible new routes before it, all of which take into consideration the interstate expressway contemplated immediately east of Pontiac.

Advance plans for the expressway and the new state trunkline must jibe on the subject of an interchange.

Named as Director at GM Tech Center



HALL

Philip J. Monaghan, General Motors Corp. vice president in charge of manufacturing staff, today announced the appointment of Harry D. Hall as director of manufacturing development at the GM Technical Center.

Hall, 32400 Sylvan Lane, Beverly Hills has been chief engineer of manufacturing development at the center three years. Monaghan announced the appointment of Ronald A. Featherstone to this job.

A graduate of the General Motors Institute, Hall was previously employed in the Fernstedt Division and as a master mechanic in the New Departure Division.

Death Notice

MRS. MATILDA A. BAIE

Mrs. Matilda A. Baie, 79, of 2466 W. Grand Boulevard, Detroit, died of a cerebral hemorrhage at her home yesterday.

A former Pontiac resident, she was a member of First Congregational Church.

Surviving are three sons, Raymond, Maynard and Edward Postal, all of Detroit; six grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Service will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

5 Per Cent Sales Tax, Income Levy Seen Here

LANSING (AP) — A state official who has watched spending soar 600 per cent in 20 years says a 5 per cent sales tax coupled with a personal income tax may be in store for Michigan.

Frank M. Landers, state budget director, said that is the prospect in five to 10 years if current expenditure trends continue.

★ ★ ★

Landers said there's a way, uninviting perhaps to many, to sidestep what he sees as probable ahead. It's for the people to tell the Legislature:

"We don't want any more money spent in schools, hospitals, highways and public health . . . on a Public Service Commission regulating utilities . . . on a Banking Department looking into the integrity of banks and loan companies."

★ ★ ★

Landers made his analysis two weeks ago in a little noticed talk at a "truth about Michigan conference" in Grand Rapids. He confirmed to a newsman what he had said there.

Since 1940, the state budget officer said, state expenditures zoomed from an annual level of 186 million dollars to roughly $1,100,000,000 for the current year. This enormous increase planted the seeds of last year's cash crisis, he said.

Three Move Up at GMC Truck

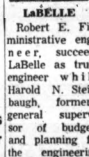
Appointment of Donald J. LaBelle as assistant chief engineer of the GMC Truck & Coach Division was announced today by Calvin J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.



LABELLE

LaBell, formerly truck engineer in the Engineering department, succeeds Sheldon G. Little who last week was named director of the newly-created product reliability department for GMC Truck & Coach.

Robert E. Field, formerly administrative engineer, succeeds LaBelle as truck engineer while Harold N. Steinbaugh, formerly general supervisor of budgets and planning for the engineering department becomes administrative engineer.

FIELD

LaBelle will report to C. V. Crockett, chief engineer of the division, and will be responsible for truck engine, chassis and body engineering developments. He joined GMC in 1939 after graduation from the University of Detroit School of engineering and was assigned to truck and coach engineering projects.

Field, after graduation from GM institute in 1937, joined the division as a draftsman and held successive posts as layout man, senior checker, drafting room supervisor and assistant chief draftsman before being appointed administrative engineer in 1957.

STEINBAUGH

Steinbaugh, a University of Wisconsin graduate, joined GMC in 1936 as a blueprint clerk, then was promoted to supervisor of technical data in 1945.

Castro Charges U.S. Agitation

Claims Cuban Slayers Were Given Shelter in America

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro charged last night that the United States is inciting Cubans to oppose his revolutionary regime.

Castro, addressing "people's militia" units at San Julian Airbase in Pinar del Rio province, charged specifically that Cubans who recently "murdered a soldier and kidnaped his family . . . found shelter there" — obviously referring to the United States.

At the same time, a spokesman for the United Fruit Company confirmed the semiofficial announcement that the Castro regime is taking over another 173,000 acres of U.F.C. farmland.

The spokesman said that now all of the approximately 273,000 acres of Cuban land owned by the United Fruit Company has been or is being seized by the government.

The latest seizure — first announced at the opening Monday night of a big Communist convention here — increased the total of American-owned land taken over by Castro's land reformers to about 843,000 acres, more than a third of the 2,167,500 acres Americans own in Cuba.

Antonio Nunez Jimenez, working boss of Castro's Land Reform Institute (INRA), said in his first annual report that nearly 4 million foreign-owned acres in Cuba eventually will be taken over by the government.

So far as is known, the 20-year bonds with which the government is supposed to pay for the property it seizes have not yet been printed. Some American cattlemen have accepted five-year bonds in payment for ranches taken over by the government.

Tumbling Crane Kills Worker at Novi Plant

A steelworker was killed instantly and another injured when a crane fell from its tracks at the Paragon Construction Co. plant in Novi this morning.

The several tons of machinery landed on Mervyn Faulds, 43, of 24919 Midland Ave., Redford Township, killing him instantly.

Jim Stamper, 28, of 828 Birdsong St., Milford, was injured when brushed by the falling crane; the extent of his injuries has not been determined.

The two men were working on a bridge girder in the plant at 44000 Grand River Ave., when the crane fell.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies and the Novi police are investigating the accident.

Teen-Agers Tell of Police Car

Two Testify of Seeing Souden on Sept 3 at Knight's Home

HOWELL (AP) — Two teen-agers testified yesterday that they saw a state police car parked at Alvin W. Knight's home in Argentine the day state trooper Albert W. Souden disappeared.

★ ★ ★

Lillian Badgero, 14, and Richard Hawkins, 15, both of Argentine, were prosecution witnesses.

The state is trying to prove that Knight, 44, shot and killed Souden last September and then hid his body. Souden's body was recovered after an intensive search.

The Badgero girl said she saw Knight and Souden together in front of Knight's home on Sept. 3, the day the trooper disappeared. She said she also saw a "blue police car" parked in Knight's drive.

★ ★ ★

She added that shortly afterward she saw the car leave with a trooper at the wheel and Knight in the rear seat, but was unable to say whether Souden was the driver of the car.

The state contends Knight managed to draw a gun on Souden, forced him to drive away and then shot and killed him.

The Hawkins boy said he saw a state police car parked in Knight's drive Sept. 3 and that it was gone shortly afterward. He said he saw Knight later that day and when he asked about the police car he said Knight told him: "They are checking up on an accident I had in Flint."

Government Ignores Them

Political, Church Groups Push for Peace in Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Political, church and business leaders are putting pressure on the Nationalist government to seek a solution to South Africa's racial crisis through negotiations with responsible Negro leaders.

Government officials show no sign of heeding the pleas. Instead they are pressing a police drive to smash the Negro work boycott and have called for quick Senate approval of a bill to outlaw the two leading Negro political organizations, the Pan Africanist Congress and the more moderate African National Congress.

Calls for a softening of the government's tough racial policy came from D. E. Mitchell, leader of the opposition United party in Natal province; the presidents of the Port Elizabeth and Pretoria Chambers of Commerce and 14 Anglican ministers in Cape Province.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell said in a statement his party is standing behind the government until order is restored.

But he added: "Once the crisis is resolved, the government should take steps to give Negroes and other nonwhites (Indians and mulattos) a feeling of security. The government must also re-establish friendly and harmonious relations with other countries."

Mitchell declared Negroes should be allowed to own property, elect their own representatives to Parliament and no longer have to carry identity passes.

Peter Hubert Mosenthal, a textile manufacturer who heads the Port Elizabeth Chamber of Commerce, said in a speech to his group that the Negro population "certainly has legitimate grievances which must be righted—not by intimidation and force but by consultation."

President O. T. Wier of the Pretoria chamber warned that unless the nation modifies its policies, "South Africa will be the outcast of Western civilization."

Stokowski Tells His Decision to Retire in '61

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "Anyone who has children will understand my decision," Leopold Stokowski said in disclosing he will retire as director of the Houston Symphony Orchestra after the 1960-61 season.

Stokowski told a concert audience of his plans at the final performance of the season. He has been under contract here since 1955.

"Purely personal problems make it necessary for me to make this sacrifice," he added.

Stokowski said earlier he will appeal a New York court decision granting custody of two young sons to his former wife, Gloria Vanderbilt Lumet.

House Passes Bill to Admit Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has passed a bill which would admit about 5,000 refugees in European camps to this country during the next 27 months.

★ ★ ★

The measure was passed by voice vote and now goes to the Senate.

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) of the House Immigration Subcommittee predicted relatively few of those eligible actually would enter the United States.

President Eisenhower has asked for legislation doubling present quotas, which limit the entry of immigrants to about 150,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

He also called for special legislation to admit refugees from other parts of the world, not just Europe, as the U. S. contribution to "World Refugee Year," which ends June 30.

Safety Glass Measure Dies in Massachusetts

BOSTON (UPI) — The Massachusetts House has killed a bill which would have required all automobiles to be equipped with safety glass in all windows.

The bill was rejected 69-0 Monday on a standing vote after it was denounced as "trash" by Rep. James H. Kelly (D-Boston). Present law requires safety glass only in windshields.
