Claims Letter to PWs Full of Red Propaganda

British May Quit Suez Zone

English Claimed Near Settlement With Egyptians

Cairo Official Reports Nations Have Reached General Agreement

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — A high Egyptian official said today that Egypt and Britain "have reached agreement in principle" providing for the evacuation of the strategic British Suez base within 18 months.

The informant said the last major hurdle was overcome when Britain accepted Egypt's demand that the huge base become available to Britain and the west in the future only "in case of attack on or war against one of the Arab states."

These would include the eight members of the Arab League: Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Yemen and Libya.

The source said minor points still to be threshed out were the periods during which the British experts are to remain in the base.

He said Britain wants some of her experts to stay in the Suez area, training the Egyptians to operate the base, for seven years, while Egypt insisted they remain for six years only.

The informant gave the following outline of the points agreed upon:

1. Britain troops — estimated to number 80,000—will evacuate the base within a period of 18 months from the signing of the agreement.

2. Four thousand British experts will remain in the base for three years following the 18-month period. They will be under the command of the Egyptian Army commander in chief, who will be assisted by a British adviser.

3. Britain will not remove any equipment from or dismantle any installation in the base during the whole period in which the experts remain.

Points of disagreement were listed as:

1. Britain wants to keep 3,000 experts for 2½ years after the three-year period already agreed upon, making a total period of continued British presence of seven years.

Egypt wants "a few hundred experts only" to remain in the base after the three-year period for an additional 1½ years only, a total occupation period of six years.

2. Britain wants her experts to wear uniforms. Egypt insists they must wear civilian clothes.

The informant warned that this last point, however, could jeopardize the whole outcome of the present talks if Britain insists that her experts remain in uniform.

Big Reward Brings 500 Dogs—All Wrong

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—W. C. Boosman offered a $15 reward for the return of his pointer dog, Queenie, but the amount mistakenly was published as $1,500.

Calls poured in at his home.

"I bet I looked at 500 dogs," Boosman said. "People brought dogs to my house. Others called me to their houses to see dogs."

Boosman didn't have to pay. He found Queenie himself last night.

Find Wrecked C47 in Which Four Perished

U. S. AF Plane Hit Peak in Pyrenees, Crewmen Died in Flames

PERPIGNAN, France (AP) — A searching party reported finding the wreckage of a U. S. Air Force C47 in the Pyrenees Mountains near Nyer today and said the four crew members had been burned to death.

The big two-engined plane, on a training flight from England to Spain, last reported in Saturday night and rescue parties had been working on two separate reports of the sighting of wreckage.

The search party which found the wreckage was made up of residents of the village of Olette. They said the C47 had hit a 7,296-foot peak called Cimbeils and exploded. The plane was consumed by fire and the bodies of the crewmen were badly burned.

A French amateur pilot said yesterday he had sighted a mass of glittering metal on a 3,750-foot peak in the eastern Pyrenees. The pilot said that because of poor visibility he was unable to establish positively that what he saw was the missing craft.

Later, U. S. air force officials in Britain released a report that the C47 had been found in the Pyrennes. No details were given and there was no immediate confirmation.

Gendarmes and national security police beat their way through thick forests trying to reach the peak where the metal was spotted. Heavy fog last night impeded the search.

The missing plane was based at Burtonwood, England, and was en route to Madrid, Spain.

U. S. Air Force officials at Wiesbaden, Germany, said one of their planes sent to look for the C47, an amphibious FA16, had made an emergency landing on the Rhine River near Strasbourg, France. The eight crewmen escaped injury.

Cache of Silver Found in Field

Was Hidden in Bushes; McLeod Charged With Holdup in July

Silver totalling $608.50 was found in two sacks hidden in bushes at Squirrel Rd. and South Blvd. this morning, apparently left there by Bruce McLeod after he robbed a Detroit market Friday night. The money was found by Capt. Frank Van Atta, of the Oakland County Sheriff's department, and Lieut. Dudley Arnold and Sgt. Edward Sash, of the Detroit police department.

McLeod had $3,975.16 in his pockets when shot near Three Oaks Saturday and $1,075 was found in his room here.

DETROIT (AP)—A 23-year-old bandit, killed by state police Saturday near Niles after a crime spree, today was identified as the man who took $10,996 from a Highland Park supermarket last July 11.

Cacciapalle identified McLeod's body at Niles.

During the night McLeod kidnaped two motorists, disarmed two officers, and stole three cars.

McLeod was shot to death while attempting to escape police Saturday morning near Three Oaks.

Victim of Gunman Tells of Wild Ride Across State

Charles Schreiber, of 82 Wall St., thanks "some quirk of a strange mind" for freeing him from the custody of Bruce McLeod shortly before McLeod was killed in a gun battle with state troopers near Niles Saturday.

Schreiber was being forced at gun point to drive McLeod, of 370 Whittemore St., to Chicago after McLeod had held up a Detroit market about 10:30 p. m. Friday; disarmed a Bloomfield Township policeman who investigated his parked car at Squirrel Rd. and South Blvd., and kidnaped Schreiber at 1:30 a. m. Saturday.

"When we got out east of Jackson he let me call my wife," said Schreiber. "Why, I'll never know, but it may have saved my life."

McLeod let Schreiber call from a diner while he drank a cup of coffee. Mrs. Schreiber said she and her husband had visited the same diner on vacation and she as able to tell police exactly where the spot was.

A statewide alarm went out. As the kidnaper and his victim approached Cassopolis, a Cass County sheriff's deputy, Fred Gardner, overtook them.

Schreiber stopped. The deputy said, "Are you Schreiber?" "Yes," was the answer.

McLeod then slid behind Schreiber and, using him as a shield, made the deputy drop his gun. McLeod grabbed the weapon and ordered Schreiber to "take off fast." He sped away leaving the bandit holding two guns on Gardner.

McLeod rode a short distance with the deputy, then forced him to stop another car driven by Roy Clemens of Niles.

Major Leagues Eye Move West

Both Seek to Be First to Bring Baseball to Pacific Coast

NEW YORK (AP) — The American and National Leagues jockeyed for position today in what shaped up as a race to bring major league baseball to the Pacific Coast.

The American League called a meeting tonight to debate anew on moving the Browns from St. Louis. The National League was reported to be in a secret session considering the possibility of expanding to 10 teams.

Baseball men believe if both Los Angeles and San Francisco can be added to one league it would simplify schedule and transportation problems

The National League would seem to have the inside track at Los Angeles where Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, owns the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League as well as the ball park.

Neutral Board Quickly Denies U. N. Charge

Anti-Commie Chinese Shocked at Unfairness of Commission Action

PANMUNJON (AP)—The U. N. Command charged today a Korean Repatriation Commission document circulated among war prisoners who renounced communism was Red-slanted.

Brig. Gen. A. L. Hamblen, chief of the U. N. Command repatriation group, cited a letter he said the commission distributed to the 22,600 unrepatriated POWs Saturday.

He said the Allies were not told of the letter before it was handed out.

An Allied spokesman told newsmen the letter was clearly of Chinese Communist origin and immediately was recognized by "shocked" anti-Red Chinese POWs as propaganda aimed at persuading them to go home.

However, the commission spokesman declared:

"As far as the commission is concerned, they have not indulged in propaganda for any side."

The spokesman added that the letter was broadcast as well as circulated among the prisoners as "a joint effort . . . prepared by a subcommittee of the commission and all nations on the commission were represented."

None of the warring nations is on the commission.

The spokesman added that the message was "completely in accord with the terms of reference" of the armistice and that it was translated under supervision of all five nations represented on the neutral commission.

It specified that prisoners will be required "absolutely, by necessity" to attend interviews by representatives of their old sides—requirement the Allies have opposed.

The U. N. Command had urged that attendance at interviews — expected to start Thursday — be voluntary, to prevent the Reds from coercing anti-Communist prisoners to change their decisions against going home.

Release of the letter indicated that the commission may have ruled against the Allies on this point.

Announcement of rules governing the interviews has been expected momentarily since Satur-

Predict Ike Will Request Millions for Use in Spain

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration will ask Congress for new millions in military and economic aid for Spain to follow up the Spanish bases agreement signed Saturday, officials predicted today.

They privately estimated that about half a billion dollars will be spent in the next few years to supply America's new western defense partner with arms and economic help.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), an influential member of both the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committees, sounded a warning, however.

He said he was against the extension of any more economic aid to anyone and predicted that a proposal calling for this would meet strong opposition in Congress.

There is need for continuing military assistance under the foreign aid program, Russell said, but the time has come to end direct economic aid.

Although "glad to know" the Spanish bases agreement finally had been reached, the Georgia senator said he hoped Spain had been told economic assistance would be limited to what Congress approved.

In the pact signed in Madrid after 17 months of negotiation, Spain agreed to permit U. S. use of certain air and naval bases. In return, this country promised to supply Spain with an indefinite amount of economic and military assistance and to finance the necessary construction and improvements of the bases.

Of the $500,000,000 in aid expected to be earmarked for Spain over the next few years, $226,000,000 already has been approved by Congress in anticipation of the base deal.

Expect Administration to Ask Congress to Give Allies Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration probably will ask Congress next year for authority to give America's allies some secret atomic information as an aid to the Western defense buildup.

Administration officials are reported to feel that development of the defense of Western Europe requires disclosure of more information.

The whole question has been under study and debate in the government since before the Eisenhower administration took over in January.

The decision probably rests primarily with the Joint Chiefs of Staff, but it involves participation of the White House, State Department and Atomic Energy Commission in varying degrees.

Informed officials said four possible lines of action are open, but they indicated that the one most likely to be agreed upon is positive action by Congress to authorize disclosure.

Here are the major possibilities:

1. A ruling by Atty. Gen. Brownell—assuming he so regarded the law—that present wording of the Atomic Energy Act against disclosure of data on the manufacture and the use of atomic weapons does not prohibit giving essential facts on weapons' effects and operations to Allied governments.

2. Revision of the law to strike out the ban against giving information on utilization of weapons to friendly governments. The administration could then assert there was no bar in the law to prevent informing the governments. This is criticized by various policy makers as a back door approach and one which would not wholly clear the question of authority.

3. Revision of the act by a positive declaration that the President may disclose some atomic information to Allied governments when he deems it essential to the national security to do so. Informants said this probably is the course which will be adopted as a proposal.

4. A series of far-reaching amendments to the law to authorize the release not only of weapons information but also of some atomic weapons themselves. This course has some urgent advocates but even its strongest adherents do not hold much hope of its adoption as an administration proposal.

The United States is now shipping tactical weapons of atomic capability to Europe. Last week the first units of 280 mm. guns sailed for Europe. This giant cannon was developed to fire atomic shells as well as conventional ones.

Under present law and policy, officials said, they can be used in Europe only by American units assigned to the international command. Some officials argue that from a military point of view it would be desirable to let Allied European military forces have some weapons of their own under controlled conditions.

Against this, however, stands the argument of the greater risk of loss of secrets to Russia, and the knowledge that the United States would be losing some of the control it now has over nuclear weapons.

As far as information is concerned, Allied headquarters in Europe announced last April that groups of Allied officers would be given atomic information necessary for military planning and operations. But responsible informants here said such information as can be provided to them—essentially information which has been publicly released—is not adequate for strategic planning and for training purposes.

Under certain conditions, this government may provide nonweapons atomic information to friendly nations, and it was learned over the weekend that it may furnish Belgium with technical help toward developing an atomic power plant for industrial uses.

Victim of Kidnaper Tells of Wild Ride

shot by two state troopers west of Niles.

Schreiber, a Pontiac pressman, described the night as "the wildest in my life — even worse than the bombings I went through in England during World War II."

He said McLeod appeared, gun in hand, as he was putting his car in the garage. "I need your car," the fugitive said, "I'm desperate . . . I've got to get to Chicago — quick."

(Schreiber's home, at 82 Wall St., is about three and a half blocks from McLeod's home at 370 Whittemore. The Whittemore street address was incorrectly reported as 270 in Saturday's account of the events.)

Schreiber said he left the garage doors open, hoping his wife would notice the missing car, but she didn't.

Schreiber tried to drive at a high speed and attract police attention. "Don't do that," McLeod warned, "or I'll shoot."

They stopped for gas near the outskirts of Jackson, but Schreiber found no opportunity to signal the attendant. They were heading west on M-60 when he recalled the diner where he and his wife had eaten.

"I've got to call my wife," Schreiber said, "She'll call police and report me missing if she doesn't know where I am."

McLeod agreed, a mistake which ended the 23-year-old ex-convict's 10-hour flight.

Schreiber returned to Niles today to attend a Berrien County coroner's inquest into McLeod's death.

Williams Won't File Driver Complaint

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. Williams today indicated he would not file a complaint against the driver of a car which collided with his car at a Detroit intersection early Sunday.

The governor was shaken up in the accident. Police said Williams "appeared dazed" following a crash with a car driven by Arealous Officer, 26, of Detroit.

State Police Trooper John R. Piants of the East Lansing Post said the governor's car had virtually cleared the intersection when the accident occurred.

Officers said he was driving across the intersection on a green light.

Charges POW Letter Was Red-Slanted

day. An official source said the commission has decided to leave up to each side whether "explanations" are made to prisoners in groups or individually.

Although Gen. Hamblen's protest was addressed to Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayyta, Indian chairman of the five-national repatriation commission, it did not specifically accuse India or any other member of responsiblity for distributing the letter.

The others are Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czehoslovakia.

Col. K. K. Hansen, a member of Hamblen's staff, said "great bales (of the letters) were distributed in every Chinese compound." He said some "shocked" anti-Red POWs immediately destroyed their copies, which were written in Chinese and printed on Chinese rice paper.

Hamblen's written protest declared:

"While we are not aware of the language in which it originally was prepared, a careful analysis of the Chinese version has been made; and it appears that the overall influence is unmistakably one of emphasis on the desirability of repatriation and on the assumption that the prisoners of war actually favor such repatriation rather than on the principle of free choice, of which the entire spirit of the terms of reference is based."

Hamblen said the letter "does not deviate materially from the literal wording of the armistice agreement . . . yet it definitely disregards the clear spirit thereof."

Hamblen added he assumed the unsigned letter was issued by the neutral commission because it began, "This is the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission speaking to you."

The letter to the POWs continued:

"The reason you are here is to assure you of your freedom to exercise your right to be repatriated. We came here to save you, to protect you from any form of coercion."

Col. Hansen told newsmen the repatriation commission and the Indian custodial force was not here "to save anyone."

He pointed out that in one paragraph the document referred to the prisoners' homeland as "the country to which you belong." He said there was nothing in the repatriation agreement which says the prisoners belonged to anyone.

* * *

The letter to the prisoners, referring to explanations, said "you are all absolutely, by necessity, required to attend."

Hansen said the Allied command knows nothing of this requirement.

The document distributed to the prisoners also said:

"Many among you, after they expressed their desire to be repatriated to their home, were immediately released from our custody and have already been repatriated."

Hansen pointed out that at the time the letter was distributed only 35 of some 22,600 prisoners had "changed their minds" and asked to be returned to communism.

"This certainly is not "many," Hansen said.

Ousted Seamen Challenge AFL

Longshoremen Promise Strikes to Block Raid Attempts

NEW YORK (AP) — The orphaned International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) today defied the AFL to raid its ranks, threatening to refuse to work ships manned by AFL seamen.

The ILA, expelled from the AFL for failure to comply satisfactorily with an order to rid itself of corruption, prepared to counter organizing efforts of a new rival union, the International Longshoremen's Association, AFL (ILA-AFL).

While the dispute between the two unions boiled, the ILA was scheduled to meet with federal mediators to talk over a current contract dispute with the New York Shipping Association. The contract expires Wednesday midnight, and the ILA reportedly is anxious to come to terms.

In the tense waterfront situation, all available New York City Police — including motorcycle and mounted units — were marshalled today to augment regular dock details in Manhattan, Brooklyn and Staten Island.

Yesterday ILA officials held two meetings to study the threat from the ILA-AFL and the status of the contract talks.

Out of the meetings came word that the leadership of ILA President Joseph P. Ryan was secure, at least for the present.

The ILA's threat not to work ships manned by members of the AFL Seafarers International Union (SIU) came in a statement after a meeting of the ILA's 45-man strategy committee.

Top Court to Decide Husbands' Tax Case

A Detroit lawyer has asked the United States Supreme Court to decide whether seven Michigan husbands are obliged to pay an additional $50,000 taxes on incomes earned by their wives.

One of the husbands is Wallace O. Leonard, former president of the Wilson Foundry and Machine Co., now living in California.

The U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled the husbands must pay the extra tax on earnings from three companies formed by their wives in 1946. Attorney John M. Hudson appealed the decision.

The women bought surplus army truck engines and resold them on the civilian market. Each filed a tax return separate from her husband.

The husbands admitted supplying the knowledge necessary to operate the businesses, which, they said, gave their wives opportunity to earn independent incomes.

Spiritual Health Cranbrook Topic

Bishop Emrich Preaches at Christ Church 25th Anniversary Service

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan, preached the anniversary sermon Sunday at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Sunday's Festival of Dedication marked the 25th anniversary of the consecration of the church.

Bishop Emrich used a phrase from the general confession of the church as the basis for his sermon—"There is no health in us."

"Health is wholeness," the Bishop said, "and Christian faith can help create the needs of that wholeness.

"A good material basis is conducive to wholeness as is learning which, gives one the 'know how' to create a whole mind.

"The Christian faith also gives to life a great meaning, taking one away from a bubble that will burst," he said. In this connection he quoted Christ as saying to the woman who touched the hem of his garment, "Thy faith hath made thee whole."

The bishop stated that there is no completion in this world alone and Christian faith frees us from the illusion that there can be.

The last point the bishop made was that wholeness is not natural to us, but is given to us by faith and is an undeserved gift from God.

License and Traffic Changes to Be Urged of the chamber, said a committee composed of himself, Loren D. Anderson and Donald Hildebrandt will take up the issues with Straley.

Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the safety committee, said the tests would measure time reaction, depth of perception, visual acuity and color blindness.

The Denver system, he explained is one which halts all traffic at an intersection for three-minutes, allowing pedestrians to cross in any direction.

Haskill said that Judge Watts has accepted an invitation for the October meeting to take up the new license system. Watts, who has fostered the idea with others in Michigan for several years, recently told the committee the new form can be used intrastate in showing the driver's past motoring record and convictions.

The committee, which promoted the city's traffic school and other traffic educational programs, said the testing equipment has been made available to them with experienced operators. The committee also is revising the traffic school film program to include color slides and additional instructions.

States to Gain Control--Benson

Says His Department Is Trying to Cut Federal Sway Over Program

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today his department was reorganizing to give the states more control of the nation's farm program.

In a talk prepared for delivery at the annual four-day convention of the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Directors of Agriculture, Benson emphasized the administration's goal of shifting federal activities in agriculture to state and local interests.

"We have no desire to build empires in the Department of Agriculture," he declared. "It is possible through individual and group action to solve many problems and achieve objectives locally, with a minimum of federal assistance and control.

"We want farmers to produce for a free market rather than for a federal bounty."

Benson said the present "readjustment" in agriculture was "severe" because it had been delayed by previous administration.

Benson said the past 20 years has resulted in the federal end of federal-state relationships growing out of proportion. Now he said, the "balance is about to shift."

MOVEABLE FRAME PROVIDES FOR EASY ADJUSTMENT OF BED

It is much easier to whip through the morning chores if the beds slide easily over the floor.

One of today's favorite beds, the headboard bed, may be hard to move because it sits on the floor on six legs attached to the box-spring.

But you van buy a frae to make it movable, a frame that adds not an inch to the bed's length or width.

This frame can be attached to any headboard. It makes the headboard movable as well as the mattress and spring.

It floats the headboard legs slightly above the floor. The weight of the bed is evenly distributed and the frame legs on casters fit underneath where they can't be bumped into.

You can change one headboard for another with ease, and it is even possible to convert a twin bed to a double bed, or a double bed to a twin bed and use the same frame because the frame is adjustable to any bed size from single to double.

WHAT SAY?—Apparently President Eisenhower wants Wayne E. Richards to repeat a statement as the newly elected commander-in-chief of the VFW visits the Chief Executive at the White House. Richards asked President Eisenhower to make "an immediate and thorough review" of the number of Air Force wings needed to safeguard the nation.

Brownell Visits Warren Secretly

Belief Growing That California Governor Is to Get Vinson Post

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Belief that Republican Gov. Earl Warren is headed for a federal post — most likely the Supreme Court—grew today after a secret conference with a visitor identified as Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

What they talked about was not disclosed. But plainly President Eisenhower's patronage counselor would not have flown here to trade notes about the World Series with California's 63-year-old lawyer-governor.

In Washington, it was reported that Warren's appointment to the Supreme Court is awaiting formal recommendation to the White House by Brownell.

The attorney general has been a principal adviser to Eisenhower in the appointment field, with special interest in the judiciary.

Warren, who campaigned nationally for Eisenhower last fall, long has been regarded certain of a high federal appointment. There was talk that he might go to the Supreme Court even before the recent death of Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson.

The governor practiced law briefly before he got into public service 34 years ago.

But he served 17 years as district attorney of Alameda County (Oakland) and state attorney general.

Brownell flew in secretly. McClellan Air Force base said only that class A1 VIP . . . very important person . . . arrived aboard an Air Force plane at 8 a. m. and left three hours later. Instructions went out not to identify him.

Girl, 6, Becomes Housewife When Mom Vanishes

Keith said his young sister took over the household chores when it became apparent their mother would be gone longer than expected. He said she fixed sandwiches for their meals and they had milk and dry cereal for breakfast.

Patsy told officers she could make pancakes too, "but I couldn't find any pancake flour."

The children said their mother, Mrs. Edna May Seley, left them Thursday night, promising to return shortly with a present. "I'll bet the reason she was gone so long is that she is just taking her time finding something nice to buy for us," said Patsy.

When Friday morning rolled around and the mother still had not returned, the children said they fixed breakfast and trooped off to school.

Patsy confided everything had gone fine except at night when she became frightened.

"We left the lights on all night and I had my eyes open just a little bit last night," she said.

Patsy had only one problem, and that alerted the neighbors to their plight. She said she had to go to Juveile officer aid te mot–½hhs a neighbor's home to get her hair combed.

Juvenile officers said the mother returned to Tulsa yesterday but the children were not returned to her custody pending investigation.

Republicans Reject Plan to Screen Candidates

LANSING (UP) — Proposals for a pre-primary party convention in 1954 to "screen" candidates for state elective office were unanimously rejected Saturday at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee.

Bridge Builders Get New Design

HOUSTON, Tex. (INS) — A Houston engineer has designed a new type bridge which he believes could change bridge designs all over the world.

The bridge, designed for quick construction with light materials, was developed for oil firms and heavy construction outfits working in undeveloped areas.

It has been tested in a 120-foot crossing of the Tatamal irrigation canal in Mexico, and is now being used for the new 618-foot international bridge across the Rio Grande south of Weslaco.

Kefauver Questions Commerce Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) asked Secretary of Commerce Weeks yesterday to explain why his department refused to permit one of its experts to go to Cuba to help in developing newsprint from sugar cane waste.

There was no immediate comment from Weeks.

Kefauverl in a letter which he made public, said he had learned that the Commerce Department delayed action for two months on Cuba's request to borrow Jesse Friedman, an expert on bagasse (sugar cane waste), and finally refused, although Cuba had agreed to pay all expenses.

The senator asked Weeks whether the matter washandled by "any dollar-a-year men . . . . who worked for paper companies" or by "any regular Commerce Department officials previously employed by paper companies."

Solon Opposes U. S. Sales Tax

Ferguson Says He Has Never Heard It OK'd by Responsible Republican

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) says he has never heard a "responsible" Republican come out for a national sales tax and would vote against it if such a proposal ever comes before Congress.

The Michigan senator appeared on a television show, American Forum of the Air, Sunday along with Sen. Rusell B. Long (D-La) to debate whether the Republicans had kept their 1952 campaign promises.

Ferguson contended they had and pointed to the Korear truce, cuts in spending, government reorganization and tax cuts promised for next year. He also said the Eisenhower administration had tried to clean out "the mess in Washington.'

Long said he believes southern senators would support an anti-lynching bill and a measure to abolish the poll tax if the Eisenhower administration should send them to Congress.

The Louisiana Democrat said the government is still in debt, the excess profits tax has been extended, living costs have hit record highs for three months in a row and farmers have failed to receive full parity prices.

Ferguson charged the Democrats have blocked the administration's plans to weed out holdover policy-making officials.

Long said Republicans wanted to cripple the civil service system and that Democrats refused to go along.

Loan Repayments Slow, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reminded Congress today that less than one-third of the eventual payment due from World War II lend-lease beneficiaries had been paid by the end of calendar 1952.

While lend-lease settlement agreements call for ultimate payment to the United States of $1,574,534,330, plus interest, debtor governments had paid only $429,020,540 by last Dec. 31.

The President also said in a routine report—required by law but all of it old news—that the United States had been unable to reach lend-lease settlement agreements with Soviet Russia, Poland, Nationalist China and Peru — and that Bolivia and Ecuador still owed sums under separate aid accounts.

During the year, Paraguay completed the final payment of its obligations, and that only a few nations have yet to come to terms.

Texas Newspaperman Dies of Heart Attack

HOUSTON (AP) — William Harold (Kewpie) Young, 48, veteran staff writer of the Houston Post and president of the Press Club of Houston, died of heart disease last night.

Young, a native Texan, worked on several Texas newspapers and as an Associated Press editor in Dallas, Kansas City and Detroit before joining the Post.

Ticket Quiz Planned by District Attorney

DETROIT (AP) — U. S. District Attorney Fred W. Kaess plans an investigation into the purchase of airline tickets in Windsor by Detroiters to avoid the 15 per cent federal transportation tax.

Kaess said he would confer today with airline representatives.

The district attorney said one airline official estimated that the number of U. S. tax evaders going to Windsor to begin flights has increased as much as 500 per cent in recent months.

Such practice was widespread several years ago, but slackened when Canada required passengers to sign certificates swearing they used "public transportation" to Windsor.

After Canadian authorities held "public transportation" to mean a bus or train, some avoided the law technically by purchasing train tickets. Canadian law later was changed to abolish the requirement of sworn certificates.

The U. S. tax on a one-way airline ticket to the west coat amounts to as much as $19.50.

City's Progress Will Be Topic of Panel Discussion

"Pontiac on Parade"—a panel discussion of the city's progress in the past three years — will highlight Pontiac Education Association's next meeting Oct. 22.

The teachers and principals will meet for dinner at Pontiac High School.

Panelists will include Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman; Robert St. Clair, manager, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce; Frank J. DuFrain, superintendent, Pontiac Public Schools; Louis H. Schimmel, member, Pontiac Board of Education; and the Rev. George L. Garver.

Vernell Duffy of Pontiac High School, social chairman, was chairman for the picnic. Henry Elling led community singing, accompanied by Connie Kolb. Enar West called square dances.

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Hans Fritzsche, silken-voiced radio chief in Adolph Hitler's propaganda ministry, died in Cologne Hospital last night.

He was 53.

Fritzsche was one of three top Nazis acquitted at the Nuernberg war crimes trials. The others were Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's financial expert, and diplomat Franz Von Papen.

A German court convicted Fritzsche of being a major Nazi offender in 1947 and sentenced him to serve nine years at hard labor. He was released from a labor camp Sept. 25, 1950, for "good behavior."

Find Broadway Actor Hanged in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Hugh Rennie, 50, who has appeared in a number of Broadway shows, was found hanged in his Manhattan apartment last night. Police said it was an apparent suicide.

In notes addressed to his wife and other members of his family, Rennie wrote that he was in "a terrible mess" and unable to go on.

Broadway shows in which he had roles included, "You Can't Take It With You," "Craig's Wife," "Goodbye Again," "Gramercy Ghost" and "Edwina Black."

Commies Free Michigan Bishop From Red Jail

HONG KONG (AP) — The Most Rev. Robert Kowalski, a 68-year-old Roman Catholic bishop, hobbled across the border from Red China this weekend, free after 28 months in a Communist jail on spy charges.

He said the Reds put him on public trial Aug. 22 and he was sentenced to be banished from China forever. He said they gave him a "psychological softening up" for six days before freeing him.

Bishop Kowalski, who had been in China since 1926, was denounced by the Communists in June 1951, on charges that he, his deputy and four Franciscan brothers caused the death of 16,000 children since 1929.

The missionaries operated a receiving station for abandoned children in Wuchang, a Yangtze River port in Hupeh province. Most of the children they took in were abandoned waifs who were starved or disease-ridden and many died despite treatment.

Indian Officer Hints Troops May Pull Out

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Gen. Maharaja Rajendras Inhji, commander in chief of the Indian Army, indicated today India may pull her troops out of Korea if the political conference called for by the armistice is not held.

Explaining to newsmen that "We are not expected to stay in Korea forever," the general quickly added that "We have taken on a commitment in Korea and we must see it through." he described India's job as "to be fair."

Indian troops are guarding war prisoners who do not want to return to their home countries.

The envoy, former Finance Minister Hayato Ikeda, is expected to ask for greater American aid to speed Japanese defenses against potential Communist aggression.

Akihito at Jackson Hole, Has Western Holiday

The 19-year-old prince, on a tour of the U. S., is spending a few days at the John D. Rockefeller Jr. ranch in Wyoming's Jackson Hole country.

The prince is slated to leave Jackson tomorrow for Salt Lake City. He will conclude his U. S. tour at San Francisco, sailing Oct. 7 for Honolulu and Japan.

Bait Dealer Attempts to Breed 2-Tailed Worms

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Alderman Ed Skinner, a local worm dealer, is attempting to breed two-tailed worms which, he says, "may revolutionize the industry."

He says he has developed two so far.

"If I can start some specimens like this breeding I believe it will create a big demand among fishermen," he says. "With two tails wriggling in the water, fish are bound to be attracted and rise quicker to the bait."

Rhee Assails U. S. Proposal

New York Times Says South Korean President Criticizes Peace Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said South Korean President Syngman Rhee assailed today a proposal on the future of Korea "that was reported to have been prepared by the United States for introduction at the Korean Peace conference."

Rhee, the story said, also was sharply critical of the Allies "for planning a solution of the Korean question without consulting first with the South Korean government"

Rhee's attitude was reported in a Seoul dispatch to the Times from Greg MacGregor.

The story added:

Britain, Canada and France were said to be supporting the U. S. proposal. Among its provisions is a call for the neutralization and unification of North and South Korea and the withdrawal of all foreign troops.

Also provided are mutual safeguards against aggression between the Soviet Union and Communist China on one side and the Republic of Korea on the other.

Rhee was quoted as saying in an interview:

"We cannot take seriously any proposal for the neutralization of Korea so long as we have powerful aggressor nations which are left unpunished and unconverted from their violent ways.

"Even if all members of the United Nations should guarantee our neutrality, we would not accept that status since so many nations are undecided on whether to stand on the Communist or democratic side, whereas the whole Soviet bloc is armed to the teeth for aggressive warfare."

The Times dispatch said Rhee "was most forceful in restating a position that has prevailed since the truce talks began at Kaesong in 1951," and he emphasized that his goal of national independence and unity had never changed.

Three Persons Hurt in 3-Car Collision

Three persons were injured in a three-car accident yesterday in Walton road one half mile west of Livernois road, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies Thurman Sauvage and Melvin Glover.

A car driven by Harold Huffman, 39, of 451 Livernois Rd. was attempting to pass when it collided with an oncoming vehicle, bounced off it and hit another car.

Mrs. Verna Pennanen, 33, of 733 Lounsbury, Rochester, a passenger in the second vehicle driven by Donald Pixley, 24, of 400 W. Fifth St., Rochester was treated for bruises.

William Well, 37, of Alpena, driver of the third car, was unhurt, deputies said.

Report Trieste Settlement Talk

Tito Fails to Discuss Yugoslav-Italian Dispute in Speech

RUMA, Yugoslavia (AP)—Speculation rose today that diplomatic overtures are underway to settle the bitter feud between Italy and Yugoslavia over control of Trieste.

Such surmises were boomed by President Tito's pointed failure to mention the seven-year-old quarrel in a speech here yesterday which advance reports said would deal with international affairs and the disputed territory at the head of the Adriatic.

Instead Tito concentrated on domestic issues and did not mention Trieste. Some observers thought the Yugoslav leader might be anxious not to upset anything being done undercover to ease the tension surrounding Trieste.

Tito proposed this disposition of Trieste in a recent speech after Italy voiced alarm at rumors that the Yugoslavs might formally annex the part of the territory Yugoslavia has occupied since World War II.

Pinching Stolen Shoes Trip Up Fleeing Bandit

WHITMAN, Mass. (AP)—A Concord Reformatory parolee lost a race with police yesterday and blamed it on a pair of tight new shoes.

"If I had my old shoes on, you never would have caught me," Albert Yesonis told arresting officers.

In his car police found 22 other pairs of new shoes they said were stolen in a break in a Middleboro shoe store.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.® The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. ®Trade Mark

Plan Saving Billions

The Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report has reviewed progress on streamlining the Government and found much reason for satisfaction.

So far 72 per cent of the recommendations made by the bipartisan Hoover Commission in 1949 have been adopted. To date Congress has approved 39 Presidential reorganization plans. Of these 29 were submitted by former President Truman and 10 by President Eisenhower.

Congress disapproved 11 plans submitted by Mr. Truman. Notable among these was that which would have ended Senate confirmation of postmasters.

Besides the 39 Presidential plans, Congress enacted 58 public laws attributable to recommendations of the Hoover Commission.

Many other recommendations were adopted by administrative action. Of the 273 specific recommendations, 196 or 72 per cent have been adopted and now are in effect.

This progress report serves the purpose of translating into dollars the savings made possible by the work of the Hoover Commission. The eventual total will be $4 billion a year when all the recommendations so far adopted have been fully applied.

Many Indebted to Her

Removal from Pontiac to Farmington of the Sister Kenny polio center is a reminder of the unique personal contribution made by Dr. Ethel Calhoun to the war on this dread disease.

Throughout the 10 years the center was located in Oakland County's Contagious Hospital, Dr. Calhoun was its medical director. For the first few years she received no salary. Yet she worked tirelessly in the interests of the patients both day and night.

Sister Kenny personally recognized her as one of the outstanding American physicians using the Kenny method of treating polio. In addition Dr. Calhoun has won commendation from many other sources.

It is good to know that she will continue her work in the expanded center at Children's Hospital. With her go the good wishes not only of the community but of the many patients who have benefited from her unselfish dedication to their welfare.

Nightmare in Poland

There is much of vital interest to Americans in Dr. Marek Korowicz's story of why he broke away from Poland's U.N. delegation to seek political asylum in the United States.

A bachelor of 50, and a professor of international law at Cracow University, he told that story to the House Un-American Activities Committee and by radio to his homeland.

Before the committee he threw new light on the value of both Radio Free Europe and the Voice of America. They are heard by "millions and millions of Poles," he said, and are a "real sanctuary for the oppressed peoples."

In further testimony he discouraged any idea of the possibility of a successful Polish revolution. The Russians have troops throughout the country and it is his opinion that if there were an uprising "the Poles would be drowned in blood."

While he discounted the probability of war soon because the Russians don't think "the time is ripe," he warned that world conquest by 1970 still is on their timetable.

As a happy escapee from Red tyranny Dr. Korowicz is in a position enjoyed by few of the 200 Russian and satellite diplomats who have sought asylum in the West since 1945. He has no near relatives back in Poland against whom the regime can take reprisals.

Dr. Korowicz told the committee the Polish delegation is a mere extension of the Soviet delegation and therefore can't represent the Polish people. That is why he said "I knew it was only in the United States that I could serve to the fullest extent the interest of Poland."

Here is fresh warning against taking Russian peace talk seriously and against letting down our guard.

A New Yorker asked the court to stop the people who live in the apartment over him from shooting firecrackers at night. He said the noise kept him from relaxing enough to go to sleep. He's probably the nervous type.

According to a psychologist, "Married men are just as responsive to women's charms as single men are." Psychologists learn a lot of things the rest of us have known all along.

"Do you ever have the strange feeling that you don't exist?" asks a psychologist. Well, yes, occasionally — when we're trying to attract the attention of a waitress.

The area is a game preserve and no hunting or trapping is allowed at any season. Many animals have become so accustomed to their unmolested surroundings that they show no fear of humans.

The natural comradeship of a child and his dog is one of the trademarks of the American way of life.

The seven point objectives of National Dog Week are:

A good home for every dog.

Elimination of stray dogs from the streets.

Better informed dog owners.

Teach consideration of dogs and all animals.

Secure fair laws for dogs and their owners.

Present Business Readjustment Period Quite Healthy in Its Deliberate Movement

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Economic historians, looking back on the year 1953, will probably call it the beginning of a period of "readjustment."

For the word "recession" doesn't accurately describe what has happened already nor what is likely to happen in the coming months.

The change going on at present — indeed, it began months ago — is not general as happens in a "recession" when nearly every industry is affected and when it is possible to measure declines on a broad percentage basis.

There are, for example, industries — like textiles — which have already gone through their painful period of readjustment and emerged on the upward trend.

The chances are the readjustment will affect different industries at diferent times — not all of them at the same time.

This particular change-over — if it really has a parallel at all — resembles more closely than anything else the readjustment that showed up early in 1921 and took about 18 months to complete.

It was the first economic readjustment of major imprtance following the close of World War I.

It looks now as if 1953, for instance, based on total business activity, will turn out to be the highest year in our history, and the estimates are that the year 1954 will come out as the second best year.

This means that 1954 will be better than 1951 or 1952 — both of which were high years. At the bottom of the decline toward the end of 1954, it is expected that business activity may touch the 1952 level.

The decline in total business activity as between this year and next is expected to be around 9 per cent. Measured by the output of industry alone, there will be a smaller dip than any previous downward curve — smaller even than the downturn in 1949.

Perhaps the best illustration of this point is a story told by Benjamin Fairless, president of the U. S. Steel Corporation, in a speech before the Economic Club of Detroit a week ago.

He told of a restaurant owner who was complaining that business had fallen off whereupon the customer remarked that he noticed that a dozen or more people were being turned away that very noon hour. To this the restaurant proprietor replied: "Oh, but a year ago I was turning away three times that many."

Plainly the backlog of orders in many an industry is down but this is only one of the many signs that demand and supply are adjusting themselves to normal procedures.

As long as prices are going up and there's a chance of shortages due to government buying in a war emergency, the temptation of the manufacturer is to stock up his inventory and tie up cash that should be used in other directions or conserved.

The other extreme happens too, as inventories tend to be reduced too much after supply is abundant. Then plant strikes or transportation tie-ups or international emergencies make the buyer wish he had kept up his inventories.

During a period of "readjustment" resourcefulness is stimulated and efficiency on the cost side becomes imperative. Inducements begin to be made by sellers to bring about an increased volume of sales for industry — just now beginning — toward the absorption of some freight delivery charges at certain mills so as to meet competition.

This reduces the net cost to fabricators without disturbing the general price structure but it is a significant form of inducement to increase sales.

There can be no doubt that a peak has been reached in the operation of many phases of our national economy. Thus wage levels have for a time at least hit the top.

Labor-union strategists now will think more about the possible effects of unemployment on their members than about more wage boosts which tend to force manufacturing costs so high as to cause demand to fall off still more.

This would mean reduced production and employment because of a lessened demand caused by price resistance.

Where obsolete plants are being abandoned or overtime is being eliminated the readjustment is already in full swing.

Many workers have so accustomed themselves to the idea that their time-and-a-half pay for overtime work is permanent that they will have to adjust their household spending accordingly.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Tells Teens to Do More Talking, Less Kissing

Bernice wants some specific advice on "petting." She says teachers and parents warn girls not to go too far. But she wants to know what is the dividing line. So paste this Case Record in your scrapbook. It analyzes the motives behind kisses.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-301: Bernice T., aged 18, is engaged to be married.

"Dr. Crane, I have gone with several different boys, but now I am engaged and plan to be married in a few months.

"But my big problem is how far to let my fiance go in his love making. This was always a dilemma for me even before I became engaged.

"Teachers and parents tell us not to go too far. But just where do you draw the line? We young people who come from good homes would like more specific advice.

"Is it proper to kiss a boy goodnight, even if you aren't engaged? And after you become engaged, then what is 'too far'?"

Kisses are much like whiskey in their effect. The more you consume, the dizzier you are and the less sensible. Your judgment becomes clouded.

Soon you may be so intoxicated that you act like a fool. And when you sober up next morning, you may have venereal disease, a guilty conscience and pregnancy staring you in the face.

It is doubly difficult to use good judgment when you mix liquor with heavy petting. So by all means, never take a drink. Taverns are the chief source of delinquency, rape and unhappiness.

"But I never drink," Bernice protests, "so what advice have you for me?"

Beware of boys who try to use girls to inflate their own vanity. They show their excessive desire for kisses, not so much because they are attracted to you, but because they want to boast about their conquests. They count kisses, as Indians used scalps, as a badge of their supposed manhood.

Such men are gluttons regarding kisses, just as they become gluttons with liquor.

The more kiss-crazy a boy is, the greater inferiority complex he suffers. So he is trying to inflate his ego by the sheer number of your kisses.

But you girls can feed his vanity by verbal compliments and do an even better job than by your kisses.

For a kiss itself is not sweet or tasty in its own right, despite the comments of poets!

Men seek your kisses in order to feel big. For when you surrender your lips, it makes them the conqueror. It is conquest that makes your lips appealing to boys.

But a smart girl can fully inflate the pride of her escort by the "Compliment Club" plan, even without a single kiss.

Many of the most popular girls seldom kiss any of their boy friends. For the more you girls kiss, the more stupid you are at conversation and Applied Psychology.

Instead, learn how to carry on interesting conversation. Keep up gay, bantering repartee interspersed with many compliments for your escort.

And keep him talking. Ask him questions. For a man cannot answer queries and meanwhile grow very passionate.

Every girl could prevent rape if she'd not grow scared and silent.

You can't "emote" and cerebrate (think) at the same time. Answering questions and carrying on dialogue makes a man think. So it checks his ardor.

A goodnight kiss to a steady boy friend, is not abnormal. But don't let yourself be a human guinea pig for a guy with "Roman hands." And never confuse an engagement ring with a wedding band! Engagements often are broken.

Just A Smile

Queer Dog

"What breed is your dog?" he asked the little old lady.

"I don't know," she said. "My brother sent it to me from Africa."

"Well," said the salesman, hesitatingly, "it's the queerest dog I've ever seen."

The old lady nodded in agreement and said: "You should have seen it before I cut its mane off."

Dr. Brady Says Smokers Should Worry About Anoxia, Not Over Nicotine Effect

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Whatever effect smoking has upon blood pressure is a highly technical question upon which the physiologists and laboratory research investigators seem forever at odds.

So far as popular ideas of high blood pressure and low blood pressure may be concerned it is of little moment.

The question which should concern every smoker is, in my opinion, what effect anoxia has upon capillary circulation.

For it is in the capillaries that the vital interchange of oxygen and carbon dioxide between blood and cell of the tissues and organs takes place.

Anoxia (want of oxygen in the cells and tissues of the body) due to gassing with carbon monoxide in the smoke is the harmful factor of smoking, in my opinion, and I believe nicotine has nothing to do with the ill effects of smoking.

If nicotine were actually as poisonous as the old timers and many current medical authorities would have us believe, a chew of substantial size would lay a man low before he could spit, for an ordinary chew contains two or three times as much nicotine as the old timers considered "lethal."

By capillaries I mean the spaces between tissue cells through which the blood oozes like water through a sponge.

Do not confuse the capillaries with arterioles, the finest blood vessels, many so fine that they are scarcely visible except under the microscope, but all having walls the same as the larger arteries and veins have.

Nobody has ever isolated a capillary vessel for the simple reason that there are no such vessels. You can't very well isolate an empty space, can you Professor?

The blood oozing through the capillaries is under pressure, else it wouldn't seep through, but just stagnate.

This capillary pressure depends in part on the contraction or relaxation of the walls of the arterioles (smallest arteries conveying blood to the capillaries).

In some individuals excessive smoking causes a kind of spasmodic contraction of the arterioles and hence the delivery of less than the normal amount of blood to the capillaries.

The victim notices cold fingers or toes or hands or feet.

This is a timely warning, not to smoke less but to stop smoking for at least four months and see whether it is still possible for vital cells already destroyed or irreparably damaged by anoxia to be regenerated or replaced by new cells.

Don't deceive yourself about getting the nicotine out of your system. That takes a few hours, if there is any nicotine in your system.

But regenerating nerve cells damaged or destroyed by anoxia due to the carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke takes months, if it is still possible, months of absolute abstinence from smoking.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

Reed Credits GOP for Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) says Republicans can take credit for the 10 per cent cut in individual income taxes due Jan. 1, even though the reduction was voted by a Democratic-controlled Congress.

Reed, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, issued Saturday night a reply to a statement by the top Democrat on the committe, Rep. Jere Cooper of Tennessee. Cooper had said the GOP was trying to claim credit, even though the tax cut was provided in a 1951 law passed when Democrats were in control.

"Completely fantastic," Reed replied. He insisted the reduction would go into effect "only because the Republican party has been successful in slashing billions of dollars from the throwaway spending program of President Truman.'

Alabama Joins Fight on Tidelands Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alabama has followed Arkansas, but with a different complaint, in asking the Supreme Court to rule unconstitutional the 1953 law giving coastal states title to offshore submerged oil lands.

In a suit filed Saturday, Alabama contended its fishermen will not be able to operate in the Gulf of Mexico areas to which Texas, Florida and Louisiana hold title without paying those states license fees.

The states, the Alabama suit said, plan such regulations under the "tidelands" legislation.

Alabama also used Arkansas' argument that the billions of dollars in offshore land resources, chiefly oil, belong to all the states, not just to those on the coast.

Poser Confused After Gun Battle

Ex-Convict Shot in Fight With Police Can't Recall Impersonating Officer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An ex-convict who posed as an Army investigator and set off a running gun battle in the City Hall when police questioned him claimed last night he remembered nothing of events leading to the shooting.

Detective Capt. Eugene Bernath said the man, critically wounded in the fray Saturday, is Frederick J. Byrnes, 45, formerly of Minneapolis and Los Angeles.

From his bed in the psychiatric ward at General Hospital, Byrnes told police, "I have no recollection of what happened." He told Bernath he had been drinking Saturday afternoon and didn't recall anything up to the point where "people were shooting at me."

Bernath said Byrnes has a long police record, having served time once in San Quentin Prison for impersonating an Army officer. It was a similar impersonation which brought the shooting here Saturday night, after police had determined his credentials as an Army investigator were fake.

Detectives fired about 20 shots at the man as he raced through a hallway and out into the street, with three shots striking him. He fired seven times at the officers, but all missed. He was captured after a car in which he tried to flee had a flat tire.

Officers said he could offer no reason for the impersonation.

West Increases Chinese Trade

But Stassen Reports Boost Is in Nonstrategic Commerce

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Operations Chief Harold E. Stassen reports the West is clamping down on war goods shipments to Iron Curtain countries but is boosting its nonstrategic trade with the Reds.

In a 96-page report to Congress yesterday, he estimated that free world shipments to Red China of nonstrategic goods—that is, those not aiding her war potential—would total 375 million dollars this year. He weighed this against a 257 million dollar total last year.

But he emphasized:

"The strategic embargo was being increased in the first half of 1953, not relaxed. The increase was in nonstrategic goods.

"The main reason for it seems to be the changed attitude of the Chinese Communists, who had dropped their reluctance to deal with the West and were placing more and bigger orders for the kind of goods that the free governments would have been willing to ship all along."

Stassen's report covered global enforcement of strategic trade controls during the first half of the year under the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Act (the Battle Act).

It made clear that, although the United States bars all U. S. trade with Communist China, it does not object to nonstrategic trade with the Chinese Reds on the part of its allies.

In a letter accompanying the report, Stassen struck out at critics of this policy. He branded as "completely untrue" any contentions that America's allies are sending military supplies to the Soviet bloc.

"To try to force a stoppage of all East-West commerce would be precisely the wrong way to assure peace in the world," he said.

"Such a stoppage would be impossible in the present climate, and even if it were possible, it would not conform with the economic and political facts of life in Europe.

"Western European countries depend more heavily on foreign trade than does the United States. In order to live, they must trade."

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has been one of the most vocal critics of Allied trade with Iron Curtain countries.

In statements and speeches—his latest dealing with the topic was in Washington Saturday when he called it "trafficking in blood money"—McCarthy has called for an end to U. S. aid to countries which carry on commerce with Communist countries.

Chest Contributions Aid Democracy, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cause of democarcy is furthered, President Eisenhower said yesterday, when Americans contribute to the Community Chest.

"The true slogan of a true democracy is not 'Let the government do it,'" he said. "The true slogan is, 'Let's do it ourselves.'"

The President spoke in a message recorded and filmed for use by all the major radio and television networks to mark the opening of "United Community Campaigns" for funds in some 1,700 towns and cities in the United States and Canada.

The aggregate goal: 280 million dollars.

The cornerstone of the South Carolina State House in Columbia was laid in 1851. Work was suspended when Sherman's army destroyed Columbia, Feb. 17, 1865. Work was resumed in 1888, but suspended again in 1891, and the building was not completed until 1907.

Civil Case Increase Overloads Courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A shortage of judges and an overload of new civil cases are blamed in a report as the chief causes of critically congested dockets in many federal courts.

The report was made public over the weekend by Director Henry P. Chandler of the Administrative Office of the U. S. Courts.

The situation, Chandler said, means 'reparation for wrongs delayed. . . unjust settlements. . . legal rights left in doubt because the courts have not been able to reach the questions involved. . ."

He said civil cases in U. S. district courts increased almost 25 per cent in the last two years. He listed as badly overloaded the U. S. Circuit Courts in New Orleans and San Francisco.

Hitch-Hiking Escapee Gets Ride Back to Jail

VERSAILLES, Ky. (AP) — Hitch-hiking Gilbert Chapman's thumb got four helping hands in a hurry yesterday—much to his chagrin.

Chapman broke out of the city jail. Five hours later, striking out for Owenton, he lifted his thumb at an approaching car.

The car's occupants, Police Chief Robert Y. Brown and Patrolman Joe Conway, obliged, and the befuddled hitchhiker was en route back to the pokey.

Nine Athletes Asking MHSAA to Modify Ineligibility Ruling

LANSING (UP)—Nine of the ten high school athletes declared ineligible this summer for accepting merchandise prizes, appeared at a rehearing today to ask for modification of their penalty because of extenuating circumstances.

The rehearing was held by Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, who under state law has final jurisdiction over high school athletics.

William Le Mire, Jr., of Escanaba High School, and David Hirm of Escanaba St. Joseph High School, testified that they accepted two pairs of socks and a sport shirt as prizes in an amateur golf tournament but that they did not intend any rule violation.

They said they had been informed by the sponsor of the tournament that it was being conducted in accordance with the rule of the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

The boys said that if they had any idea they were trading the prizes for their athletic eligibility in their senior year they never would have accepted them.

Dr. Taylor said that he would call six Hastings boys to testify in their application for reinstatement. Hastings school officials said they, too, would make a formal reinstatement application. The Hastings youths were declared ineligible for a year for accepting $2.41 "reject" fishing rods from the sponsors of a softball team this summer.

Farouk's Estate Is Confiscated

Egypt Settles Some Claims but Refuses to Pay Personal Ones

CAIRO, Egypt (UP) — Egypt closed the books today on former King Farouk's properties in the country. The government announced completion of a lengthy confiscation process and said it wasn't going to pay off any more of his old debts.

"If any body wants to lodge a claim against Farouk, he'll have to sue Farouk directly," minister of national guidance Salah Salem told newsmen.

The government officials said all outstanding claims against the exiled King's holdings here will now be "considered null and void."

Among the unsettled claims is that of New York Jeweler Harry Winston, who is suing for more than one million dollars allegedly owed by Farouk for diamonds.

Other claims include those of Farouk's sisters, who allege that he grabed some of their property.

Winston's case is due to be heard on Oct. 1 by a Cairo court, but the tribunal is expected to declare itself incompetent.

The estate in Egypt has been estimated at between five and ten million pounds ($14,400,000 to $28,800,000). Government departments had lodged claims for around three and a half million pounds in taxes and duties and private claimants sought more than two million pounds.

Lost Cat Obeys Mistress After 'Phone Scolding

TONKAWA, Okla. (UP) — George the cat was lost.

And the Siamese tom was telling everyone in no uncertain terms that he didn't like the situation. He arched his back and gritted his teeth at all passersby, frightening many.

Mrs. Donald Perkins finally recognized George and called his mistress, Mrs. Roy Powell. She lured the fuming feline to the phone and Mrs. Powell's voice cracked from the receiver:

"Now listen here, Goerge, don't be so mad just because you went downtown and got lost. You be a good boy and let Mrs. Perkins take you home."

George became as gentle as a contented cow.

"Of course he understands English," Mrs. Powell explained later. "We haven't neglected his education all these years. He almost speaks the language."

Planned Flexible Policy

Slash in U.S. Interest Rate Is Advance, No Retreat

WASHINGTON (UP) — Treasury officials insisted Saturday that their decision to cut the interest rates on some government borrowing is part and parcel of the administration's sound money policy and nothing else.

The decision looked like a retreat since the government has been offering higher interest rates since the Republicans took over in January.

But the treasury said this isn't so. Spokesmen said the lower interest rate — the precise size of the cut was not revealed — will affect only U. S. savings notes which are bought mostly by corporations and others who pay high taxes.

They said the "sound, honest money" program calls for borrowing at whatever rate of interest is necessary to meet competition from other borrowers such as states and cities.

When the competition eases up as in the case of savings notes, they said it is perfectly logical to cut the interest rate.

The planned cut, said the treasury, "shows we have a flexible interest rate policy" rather than the so-called "hard" money policy that critics say makes it difficult and more expensive to borrow needed cash.

Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich) called the action "manipulation—the most dangerous thing I ever heard of, and it's going to raise Cain with investors and with industry."

But Chairman Eugene D. Millikin (R-Colo) of the Senate Finance Committee said the change is "nothing but a realistic adjustment to the market facts" — the fact it is not necessary to pay as much now for certain types of borrowing as it was a few months ago.

In keeping with the times, treasury officials have frequently used a golf expression to show their intention to offer high or low interest rates on money lent to the government, depending on conditions. The expression: "We play them as they lie."

The treasury discouraged speculation that this latest shift means further rate reductions in future borrowing.

In this action, the treasury halted sales of savings notes at their old rates of interest and announced a new series will be placed on sale next Thursday, at reduced rates which were not disclosed.

The rate since the increase on May 15 has been 2.47 per cent if the notes are held for their full life span of three years. They may be turned in anytime after four months, however, for a lower interest payment.

QUAKERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A low-flying 43-year-old plane crashed into a field a short distance from 300 spectators yesterday at the 50th anniversary of the first flight from Quakertown Municipal Airport.

The 1910 Curtis Pusher, piloted by Paul Anderson of nearby Langhorne, consisted of a skeleton fuselage from single wing to tail section and a forward seat platform for Anderson.

Laborite Asks Churchill Quit

Ailing Prime Minister Called On to Resign or Lead Country

MARGATE, England (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, fiery leader of the opposition Labor party's left wing, wants recently ailing Prime Minister Churchill to get on with his country's business or get out of office.

Bevan, who apparently has reached a truce for the present with his more moderate Laborite colleagues, trained his guns on the aging Conservative Prime Minister as the Labor party opened its annual conference.

Churchill recently took an enforced rest from his official duties on doctors' orders. He is currently vacationing on the French Riviera ater having taken up the reins of government again. He is expected to return to London Wednesday.

As 3,000 Labor delegates cheered, Bevan at a party meeting yesterday paid homage to Churchill's call last May for high level Big Three talks with Russia, but added:

"We think it is a disaster that the initiative started last May has not been followed up. And we say that the future of the human race cannot be jeopardized because the British Prime Minister is sick and that if Churchill is unable to do his duty, he should resign.

"We say, therefore, to the Conservative party that if you cannot get leaders who are capable of leading this country in the counsels of the world, clear out."

Relative Is Jailed in Attorney's Death

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP)—A preliminary hearing for State Rep. Guy Thackston, jailed without bond on a murder charge after his brother-in-law died yesterday of bullet wounds, has been tentatively set for Thursday.

The lawmaker's brother-in-law, Atty. A. A. Adams Jr., 57, was shot in the abdomen Thursday in his office at the climax of an argument with Thackston. Adams' secretary and a client were witnesses to the shooting.

Thackston, who had been free since Thursday on $10,000 bond, said, "The business matter we were discussing was of long standing," and he added, "It was a clash of personalities. It was one of those cases where you go further than you ever think you would."

Favors Union Man as Labor Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) says he thinks the next secretary of labor should be a union man provided he "is not dedicated to the destruction of the Taft-Hartley Act."

Goldwater, a member of the Senate Labor Committee, praised Martin P. Durkin, the resigned secretary, who is a Democrat and head of the AFL Plumbers Union, as a man of integrity.

But the senator, in a CBS television interview yesterday, said Durkin was committed against the Taft-Hartley Act and found it hard to be "fair" in his dealings with the Republican administration.

Durkin has said he quit because President Eisenhower reneged on a promise to seek congressional approval of a set of proposed changes in the labor relations law.

Florida Governor Shows Progress Against Illness

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Dan McCarty is showing improvement in his bout with pneumonia but is still on the critical list in a hospital here.

Attending physicians reported late last night that the 41-year-old governor's condition was less critical than on Saturday when he ran a temperature of 99.2 and his heart action became irregular.

At last report, McCarty's temperature was normal and his heart rhythm had become steady again. He is still under the oxygen tent in which he was placed Sept. 22.

Christian Education Week

Says Children Must Learn Basic Religious Principles

By PAUL H. DOUGLAS
U.S. Senator

The history of civilizations clearly shows that a society which worships only material success and satisfactions is doomed to degeneration by its inner weaknesses.

The lives of individuals just as clearly reveal the same truth. The fullest and finest attainment of human nobility is impossible without a keen appreciation of basic moral and spiritual values and a faith in the unseen power that sustains and gives meaning to all of life.

DOUGLAS

Yet in America today, despite enormous gains and accomplishments, we seem to fall far short of an adequate appreciation of these principles.

The adults of the future, no less than those of the present, need to understand these truths. Children will themselves have richer lives with healthier companionships as they learn to cherish brotherhood, justice, and service to their fellows, and as they grow in their awareness of the presence and sustaining power of God. Such children will likewise make better persons and more effective citizens when they reach maturity.

If these convictions are correct, then we need to give much more attention than we do to religious education which seeks to impart these truths to children. Educational, and particularly religious, institutions have this primary duty. But family and community, by their practices in many aspects of human relations, can also exalt or disparage these values in the eyes of young people.

The cause of freedom and of brotherhood among all peoples, dangerously challenged by evil tyrannies abroad and by secular and materialistic forces at home, needs the fortification of more effective religious education. I hope this week may remind us all of our obligations for this important work.

Until the atomic era, uranium was merely a byproduct of radium and vanadium mines, useful for coloring glass, pottery, and artificial teeth.

THE FINE CAR

at half the fine car price

Duplicating America's costliest cars, feature after feature, Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

A FEW MINUTES on the telephone calling the dealers who sell America's finest cars will reveal there are at least eleven models among four makes with price tags over $4,000! In fact, dealers in one make will take an order for a beauty costing $7,000.

Now the interesting thing is that in feature after feature the Ford car duplicates each one of these fine cars, and for less than half the fine car price!

To be specific:

If you will look under the hood of the most expensive cars—even the one for $7,000—what do you find?

A V-8 Engine!
Well, the Ford car has a V-8, too. In fact, it has had V-8 power since 1932, and since that time Ford has built more V-8's—by millions—than all other manufacturers combined. And there's no other builder in Ford's price range that's seen fit to offer one yet!

Another point—though Ford's Strato-Star V-8 turns out a tidy 110 horsepower, it's not the number alone that counts. It's the kind of power you get out of the engine—through the transmission—that tells the story. And, what you get out of the Ford V-8 with any of the three transmission options we offer—Fordomatic, Overdrive and Conventional—is written in letters of "go" wherever there is a road.

But the engine, as fine as it is, is only one of many things that make a fine car fine.

There are the controls, the comfort refinements—all the things that make a car more than a piece of machinery—rather a part of you!

Automatic shifting, for example. All the fine cars offer it in one form or another because it's one of the things that make a fine car fine. But if you've never driven a Ford with Fordomatic you've missed one of the finer things of life. This amazing transmission not only does away with clutching and shifting forever—it gives you exactly the amount of power you want, when you want it—automatically. And, without delay. Some so-called automatics still require a clutch pedal and take their own sweet time to get you going. Not so with Fordomatic. In train with either the V-8 or Six, Fordomatic says "yes" when you say "go."

Fine car power steering, too. The big, heavy costly cars offer it for the same reason they offer power brakes. It's a man-sized job for a 120 pound woman to handle a car weighing two tons or more without it—especially when parking. Our "Master-Guide" power steering has two distinct benefits.

First, it gives a hydraulic power assist right down at the wheels and just enough to take out the work. You don't relinquish one particle of control—rather your control is more complete and far easier.

Second, being hydraulic, "Master-Guide" power steering absorbs those fatiguing steering wheel tremors caused by ruts and roads in bad repair. Incidentally, this is a great safety advantage, because the car is so much easier to control in the case of a tire blow-out or hitting a soft shoulder unexpectedly. And road wander due to a cross wind is something you can forget about. And you don't pay a fine car price for "Master-Guide."

But there is another fine car feature—the Ford ride. Books have been written on the subject of riding quality in an automobile, but the payoff comes on the pavement—or lack of it! Many people associate a comfortable ride with excess weight, but it's not weight alone that makes for comfort. If it were, those big five-ton trucks which you see every day would be the most comfortable vehicles on the road.

Without being technical we can tell you that what's been done with the suspension and springing system gives the Ford a softer ride, a smoother ride than many cars which tip the scales at better than an added half ton. What's more, Ford engineers have found out how to cut front end road shock up to 80%—something many of the others haven't! Even roads you'd avoid entirely in many cars become not just passable—but passable in comfort. And, when you round a curve, you do it on the level—one of the advantages of another fine car feature—Ford's wide front tread.

And speaking of ride, we'd also like to point out that all seats—front and rear—in a Ford are cushioned in foam rubber, and at no extra cost.

What about room? Here's an interesting point. If you've felt that only a costly car offered enough room, you just ought to sit down in a Ford even if you're out-size and six feet four! The so-called big car is bigger on the outside, to be sure, but unless you buy a limousine with those little jump seats, it's not one passenger bigger inside.

Every standard Ford model carries six—with the exception of the Business Coupe, and of course, the Country Sedan and Country Squire which carry eight—with ease. And, as for "baggage room"—Ford trunk compartments measure better than 26 cubic feet. That's a full suitcase larger than most cars on the road today!

Visibility is another fine car Ford feature. We say Ford cars offer "full-circle" visibility because they all have huge, curved one-piece windshields and a huge rear window to match . . . plus side windows that mean every passenger gets room with a view! You will enjoy the extra safety of full-circle visibility every mile you drive—the absence of "blind spots" made possible by the large glass areas and narrower corner posts.

How beautiful is a Ford? A great English poet, John Keats, once wrote "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty"—well, he could have been writing about our car for its beauty comes from honest, clean lines in every dimension. In fact, we think most people agree—even our competitors—that the appearance of a Ford Car leaves very little to be desired. It is "at home" wherever it goes and it goes everywhere.

So there you have it—the features and reasons that make a fine car fine as far as control, good looks and comfort are concerned.

But what about Ford quality? Does it too match the fine car? Is the sheet metal of the body panels as thick? Is the finish as good? How about the trim and things like that? Well, as far as we can determine, the sheet metal is identical in thickness in practically all instances. As to finish—we believe Ford's baked-on enamel has no equal in any car. Ford upholstery fabrics and trim are less costly, to be sure, but they're less delicate, too, and if anything, more durable.

How then is it possible to give you this fine car at half the fine car price?

Part of the answer lies in Ford manufacturing skills and knowledge as evidenced by the V-8 engine. Part of it comes from the ever increasing numbers of cars Ford produces and the economies they make possible. And, part of it comes from Ford's willingness to give greater values than might be expected in cars selling in Ford's price range. That's the Ford idea.

Summing up. All these things add up to a fact that a prudent man cannot overlook. Ford Cars are not only worth more when you buy—but also worth more when you sell, as proved by the prices Ford used cars bring in the used car markets throughout the country.

Absent-Minded Motorist Drives Truck Into River

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Gilbert Martin, 50, drove his truck off a ferry dock yesterday while the ferry was across the river.

He was fished out of the water by a nearby boatman after climbing out the truck window as it sank. He told police later:

"I knew the river was there but I just wasn't paying attention. The first thing I thought about the river, I was in it."

Officials Hate to Get Up to Judge Rooster Crows

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—A contest to see which of the many roosters entered in the New Mexico State Fair poultry show can crow the loudest has run into difficulty.

Fair officials can't agree on a definite time for the event.

The citified officials don't relish the idea of getting up at 4 a.m. to judge the contest.

To Women With Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Russell Scores Economic Help

Supports 'Reasonable' U. S. Military Aid, but Opposes Civil Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said today he will support "reasonable" foreign military aid requests in the next Congress but wants this country to get out of the economic assistance field.

The Georgia Democrat, unofficial leader of a Southern Democratic bloc in the Senate, said in an interview he wants military aid limited to those countries which show concretely the ability and willingness to help rearm themselves.

"I have a strong feeling, and I am sure it is shared by many of my colleagues, that we ought to get out of the field of giving economic aid to foreign countries," Russell said.

His views on this score coincided largely with opinions voiced previously by Senators Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, and Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic chieftain.

Russell, a member of the Senate Appropriations and Armed Services committees, said it will be up to the Foreign Operations Administration to lay before Congress proof that each nation for which it asks aid is doing its full share toward rearmament.

"We can't afford to assume the responsibility for rearming any country, no matter how vital that country is to Western defenses," Russell said. "We must have concrete evidence that the individual country concerned is putting forth its full efforts in its own behalf."

Russell said he is interested in learning how much the United States is putting up in a proposed billion-dollar outlay for the manufacture of ammunition in Western Europe. North Atlantic Treaty Organization headquarters announced this program last Friday, but the amount of the U. S. contribution was not divulged.

"It would certainly be carrying things too far for us to pay the total cost of manufacturing ammunition abroad," Russell said.

"Instead of entering this kind of a program, where we buy the ammunition they make and then give it back to them, it would be wise to encourage our allies to make their own ammunition.

"They have the manpower and materials to do it and we have been furnishing them the machines."

"Four more Kaisers in our family!"

Every year's a Kaiser year for the Neeleys, all owners of new '53 Kaisers. Successful dairy farmers, 3 owned Kaisers before... the fourth just switched to Kaiser.

"Finest cars made!" say the Neeleys. Father and three sons have just bought four new '53 Kaisers.

Perhaps you associate Kaiser's suave styling with great city fashion centers, where it has won more international style prizes than any other American car—14 in all.

But many of Kaiser's 730,000 delighted owners are to be found in the farm areas, like the Neeleys of Iowa, as well as in the cities. And for good reason.

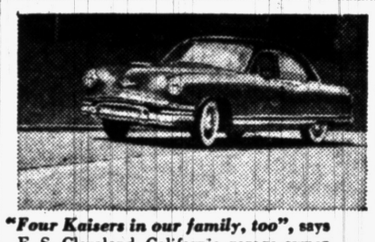
Kaiser dependability—A farmer knows the Kaiser won't let him down. Its waterproof ignition and automatic engine warm-up are on the job in foulest weather. Its oversize clutch and bridge-braced body withstand years of heaviest usage.

Kaiser comfort—Country miles bring out the best in a Kaiser. It is roomier than three of the most expensive cars. Its airplane-type springs and lowest center of gravity make the Kaiser ride as smooth as the Neeleys' creamery butter.

Kaiser economy—In city or country, you can enjoy Kaiser's unmatched luxury at less than small-car costs! 28.8 miles-a-gallon economy at 30 m.p.h. proved by a "Motor Trend" road test! See your Kaiser dealer and get the facts.

3 transmissions—Standard, Overdrive or Hydra-Matic*, plus Kaiser's new, lower-priced Power Steering

*optional at extra cost



"Four Kaisers in our family, too", says E. S. Cleveland, California garage owner. "For economy of operation and performance, they can't be matched. No question about it, they're the best engineered car."

9 Kaisers—929,000 miles! That's the record of Louis Prante, Cody, Wyoming, wholesale newspaper dealer, who has been driving Kaisers 325 miles daily since May, 1947, without major repairs.

Special deal if you trade this month!

Cash in on Kaiser's dynamic new $62 million expansion program by trading for a new Kaiser this month. Your Kaiser dealer is backing this program with extra-special trade-ins. See him today, and save!

Listen to "Lowell Thomas and the News" Monday through Friday, CBS network. Sponsored by your Kaiser dealer.

Western Washington Hit by High Winds

SEATTLE (AP) — A storm with winds up to 51 miles per hour lashed most of western Washington last night, toppling telephone lines and trees and swamping two fishing boats.

The Nada went down near the mouth of the Elwha River on the Olympic Peninsula. Her owner, Tom Brathun, the only man aboard was taken off safely. Lester A. Fairbrother, Port Angeles, was taken off his salmon troller when it foundered near the Swiftsure Lightship, at the entrance to Puget Sound.

In Seattle, city light officials ordered every available man back on the job to repair downed poles and wires. Whole sections of the city were blacked out when winds ripped down a number of 4,400-volt feeder lines.

Jet Pilots Begin Contest in Gunnery Accuracy

TOKYO (AP) — Crack jet jockeys from Korea, Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines buzzed their swift planes off Johnson Air Force Base at 30 minute intervals today in the opening round of the annual Far East Air Forces gunnery meet.

Eleven teams, including one Marine unit, are competing. Each team has five pilots and their aircraft.

Eight gunnery missions — four air-to-air and four air-to-ground strafing runs — will determine the winner. The meet ends Sunday.

The U.S. army operates coffee roasting plants at Chicago, Seattle and Atlanta.

Libyan Premier Quits, Seeks Medical Treatment

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Premier Mahmound Muntasser Bey has submitted his resignation to King Idriss I.

The king left yesterday for Tunis en route to Switzerland for medical treatment. Officials said he would not announce his decision on the resignation until his return. Muntasser Bey will remain in office meanwhile.

Collector Grants Stay, Ran Out of Licenses

ST. LOUIS (AP)—City License Collector Josph T. Hayden has given up temporarily on his drive against owners of vending machines who don't have city licenses.

The collector's office ran out of the licenses Saturday.

Will Tell Story of Star Plays

Programs Planned for 15 Minutes Preceding Daily Events

NEW YORK — For the first time in World Series history, participating ballplayers will appear on television immediately before each game to give the fans the inside story on outstanding plays of the previous day, as seen from the diamond itself.

A safety razor company, sponsoring coverage of the annual baseball classic on NBC-TV for the seventh consecutive year, also will sponsor a 15-minute pre-game program on which Frank Frisch, ex-major league player and manager, will serve as host.

This second straight meeting of the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers will start at Yankee Stadium on Wednesday, Sept. 30.

The Frisch program is scheduled for 12:45 p. m., EST, on weekdays, and 1:45 p. m. on Sunday. Game time is 1:05 p. m., EST on weekdays and 2:05 p. m., EST on Sunday, if the Series goes beyond four games.

Frisch will interview both Yankees and Dodger players who, before taking their positions on the field, will explain to televiewers how the game-winning catch was made the day before, or what sort of pitch was powdered for the winning run.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick will appear as guest on the opening program.

Casey Stengel and Chuck Dressen, managers of the Yanks and Dodgers, respectively, also are scheduled to appear during the Series games.

Frisch, who in college days earned the nickname of the "Fordham Flash," was a brilliant major league performer.

In 1919 he joined John McGraw's New York Giants without minor league experience and became one of the most spectacular players of that era. When his playing days were over he had a lifetime batting average of .318.

When he fell out with McGraw, the fiery second baseman went to St. Louis, where he eventually became manager.

Frisch led the famous Gas House Gang to a pennant and World Series championship in 1934 and kept the Cards in the first division three out of the next five years. Since then he has managed Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs.

The World Series will also be heard on radio over the Mutual Broadcasting Co. (CKLW).

Caller Threatens Radulovich Brother

DETROIT (AP) — Police were alerted today for a caller who threatened the life of Sam Radulovich, whose brother Milo, is an Air Force reservist facing possible expulsion from the service as "a security risk."

Radulovich reported the call yesterday. He told officers the telephone voice told him: "I'm going to get all you Commies."

Milo faces an Air Force hearing at Selfridge Field tomorrow The Air Force said that his father read "a radical newspaper" and his sister took part in "picket line activities."

The loyalty of Milo, a young University of Michigan senior meteorology student, is not questioned.

Despite pleas of Radulovich for an open hearing, the Air Force says it will be held in secrecy, with the press and public barred.

Sam Radulovich said the caller telephoned him six or eight times with threats and insults.

Pirate Banner Raised Over Church in London

LONDON (AP)—A gentle autumn breeze over townthown Londaon ruffled a skull and crossbones pirate banner early today over old St. Giles-in-the-Field church.

The flag was lashed to the spire. Workmen had left a ladder up after repairing to roof.

Officials couldn't say who raised the flag. Or why.

Students Refuse to Wear Gowns While Eating

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—Thirty Princeton University graduate students are putting up a fight for democracy and the un-soupy sleeve.

The recalcitrant 30 are refusing to wear academic gowns to dinner. The Graduate School revived a tradition of wearing the gowns to dinner.

But the rebels say the gowns are uncomfortable and that the long, flowing sleeves have a tendency to drag through soup, mashed potatoes and other edibles. They also charge that a poll of the Graduate School's students last spring showed they were opposed to the gowns 2-1.

Hugh Stott Taylor, dean of the Graduate College, says he will not budge from the rule.

Taylor said the gowns are "aesthetically pleasing."

As for democracy, he said, "Some things aren't decided by vote. For example, women aren't allowed in the dining hall but I am sure if it were put to a student vote they would all be for it."

Graham Draws Crowd of 25,000

Evangelist May Hold Future Meetings in Big Briggs Stadium

DETROIT (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, who first introduced his crusade for "old-time religion" here seven years ago, was well on the way today toward another triumphant revival.

The young preacher drew an opening day attendance record Sunday when more than 11,000 jammed a specially-constructed "tabernacle" at the Michigan State Fairgrounds and another 14,000 crowded park benches to hear his "fire and brimstone" sermon.

Members of a special committee formed for Graham's month-long crusade here were overjoyed at Sunday's turnout. They began looking for a place large enough to hold 100,000 persons. A spokesman said negotiations were started for reserving Briggs Stadium.

Briggs Stadium, home of the Detroit Tigers, holds an estimated 54,000 fans for sports events, but temporary seats erected on the playing field could boost the capacity to as many as 100,000.

Graham attracted 70,000 persons to the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., six weeks ago at the height of his crusade there. The opening day attendance at Dallas was only 7,000.

"The crowd out there," Graham said in reference to the fairgrounds turnout, "is indicative of the spiritual hunger of the people today."

In his sermon, Graham said, "We have listened to the psychologists, the scientists and Dr. Kinsey. Now let's listen to what God says."

Expect Osteopaths to Reply to Doctors

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan osteopaths are expected to answer today the Michigan State Medical Society's resolution that called for permission for medical doctors to teach in osteopathic schools.

The State Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons opens its 55th annual convention here today. They probably will consider the four-point resolution sent to the American Medical Association by the medical doctors

The resolution, calling for state medical societies to decide the relationship between medical doctors and osteopaths, was adopted by the State Medical Society at its convention here last week.

Dr. Allan A. Eggleston of Montreal, Que., president of the American Osteopathic Association, will head the slate of speakers at tomorrow's session. The meeting ends Wednesday.

Pitching Horseshoes

'Jinx' Who Has Graduated Turns 'Jink' Cum Laude

By BILLY ROSE

Last night I stopped in at Jake's Cheese and Pinochle Parlor on East 11th Street. As per usual, my two favorite tinhorns were on hand — Yonkel the Jink and Willie the Zeppelin.

No, kind reader, I'm not making up these names just to hear myself write. Willie is a well-known gambler on the East Side and is nicknamed "the Zeppelin" because of the bag of helium under his belt. As for Yonkel, he's known as the Jink because he's the hard-luckiest guy south of Union Square.

BILLY ROSE

(A Jink, perhaps I'd better explain, is a jinx who has graduated — a minister of misfortune who, by his mere presence, can take the aces out of a pinochle deck and cause thoroughbred horses to run backwards.)

As per usual, as I was saying, my two favorite tinhorns were on hand, but as per unusual these chumbuddies weren't talking to each other.

"What goes?" I said to Yonkel. "I thought Willie was a friend of yours."

"Friend, pfght!" said the Jink. "Leave me tell ya w'at sorda friont he is—"

I wish I could tell you the story in Yonkel's own words, but I'm afraid his reeling rhetoric would bust up the linotypes. Here's the gist minus most of the gibberish.

Last week Willie showed up at Yonk's rooming house with such a tale of woe that the Jink began to fear for his title.

In one brief afternoon, the following calamities had befallen him: (a) The Zep's wife had taken his one good suit to the cleaners and, an hour later, she and the cleaner had left for an undisclosed hideaway in the Poconos. (b) Willie had set out after them in a U-Drive-It car, and at the Holland Tunnel had knocked a fender off the official limousine of the Police Commissioner. (c) In the aforementioned suit there was a spicy letter from his wife's blonde cousin. The Zep knew that if his wife ever read it, she'd come back and hit him over the head with the blonde.

That evening while Yonkel was playing pinochle at Jake's, a kibitzer happened to look out the window. "Hey," he yelled, pointing to the building across the street. "There's a guy up onna ledge. Looks like he's gonna jump."

"Wait we should finish out the hand," said Yonkel.

"I tink it's da Zeppelin," said the kibitzer.

When the hand was over, the East Side sportsmen strolled outside.

"'At's Willie, awright," said Yonkel. "We betta phone a cops."

"Why waste ya dime?" said one of the players. "Da Zep aint' got a noive ta jump."

"Betcha eight-ta-fife he drops," said the Jink.

"Putcha money where yo mout' is," said the player.

A feeling of heady confidence came over Yonkel as he reached for his wallet. Only he knew of the three-ply tragedy in Willie's life.

"Take all a mazoo ya wanna bet," said the Jink.

An hour later 11th Street looked like a well-populated piece of flypaper. The police had blockaded both ends of it and firemen were running around with nets and ladders. By this time, Yonkel had wagered every dollar of cash and credit he could muster.

"Hey, Zep!" he shouted to the man on the ledge. "It's me, da Yonk! Ya godda go tru wid it! It's a matta a honah!"

"Climb back inna winda!" countered one of the gamblers. "Ya got a rich an' prosp'rous life ahedda ya!"

"I'm bettin' on ya," hollered the Jink. "Don' be a quittuh! One toid goes fer da funeral!"

Willie stayed on the ledge until midnight, then meekly went to the window and let the cops haul him in. Several rumors immediately got going about his change of heart.

Some said a cop had talked to him about his poor old mother while rattling a pair of dice in the background. Others said that Worm Donovan, the well-known tout, had offered him a sure horse in the fifth at Aqueduct the next day.

The explanation generally believed, however, was that the cops had located the cleaner and persuaded him to wire a firm promise that he would keep Willie's wife, no matter what.

I'll let the Jink take it from there. . . .

"Fer tree days doctahs at Bellevue shine a light in Willie's eyes an' tap 'is legs wit hammehs. Fin'ly, dey figga, ain't no cure fer a guy what bets hosses an' lets 'im go. An' could ja imagine! When he comes back ta Jake's, dey treats 'im lika grade-A hero insteada da bum he is. Day even give 'im a cut a da bets dey win. Needless ta menchun, I ain't spoke to da rat sinct."

"What's your beef?" I said to Yonkel. "All the Zep did was prove you're still the champion jink of the East Side."

"'At's beside a pernt," said the Jink. "When a frient's bettin' on ya, oney a rat wud welch on his own suicide."

Winner of the fourth annual "Pooch Party" Saturday was 11-year-old Karen Oxley of 81 N. Ardmore St. whose two-year-old cocker spaniel "Tippy" walked off with two first prizes in addition to the award as "best all-around dog."

Sponsored jointly by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department the dog show was held at Oakland Park as a climax to local observance of National Dog Week.

The contest was designed to permit local dog owners to show what their pets could do regardless of breed or pedigree.

Benson Orders Probe Into Beef

Wants Investigation of Farm Prices Versus Retail Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson has ordered an investigatin to find out whether there is a "widening of the spread between prices farmers receive for their cattle and the cost of these at retail."

"Farmers of America are entitled to know if there is truth to the charge that margins are excessive," Benson said Saturday night in announcing he had instructed department experts to make a study and report quickly to him.

Benson said he had heard, from members of Congress and others, that there is a growing spread between the price the farmer gets and the price the housewife pays for beef.

In Chicago, the American Meat Institute said:

"Some critics unfortunately have clouded the facts by comparing prices paid for low grade cattle and cows with the retail price of choice steak cut from top quality, finished grain-fed steers. Such mixed-up reasoning is like comparing prices of wild field daisies with cultivated hot house orchids."

Benson noted that the government's latest cost of living index reflected a 6 per cent jump in the price of beef and veal from July to August, and he said it came at a time of abundant supplies and generally low cattle prices.

"I fully realize the price paid by the consumer for beef is a composite of many costs," Benson said. "It is made up of what the producer, the market man, the transportation man, the laboring man, the processor and the retailer receive for all their services.

"The purpose of the study is to endeavor to develop objective data on what the current margins actually are and so far as possible to learn their relations to recent changes in cattle prices."

Top Aide to Hoover

Publicity-Shy C. A. Tolson Is America's No. 2 G-Man

WASHINGTON (UP) — Ask any American schoolboy to name the head of the FBI, and he'll snap out the answer quickly: J. Edgar Hoover.

But ask the same schoolboy or even Washington's know-it-alls to name the No. 2 G-man, and chances are they won't know. The man in question likes it that way.

He is Clayde A. Tolson, 53, Missouri-born bachelor who has been Hoover's top aide for years. Since 1947, he has borne the title of associate director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Although a constant companion of his famous boss, Tolson has deliberately managed to avoid publicity and public notice. Retiring and reserved by nature, he prefers to remain in the background.

Yet he is one of the busiest and most active men in the government. As the FBI's top executive officer, he supervises the day-to-day nation-wide activities of the G-men and serves as chairman of the FBI executives conference which submits major policy recommendations for Hoover's personal consideration.

Tolson first entered the government service as a war department clerk in 1918 — three years after he was graduated from Laredo (Mo.) High School.

Two years later, he was made confidential secretary to the Secretary of War. He served as confidential secretary to Secretaries Newton D. Baker, John W. Weeks and Dwight F. Davis for eight years while attending George Washington University at night.

While in law school, Tolson met Hoover who had been appointed FBI director only a few years previously. Each impressed the other. Their mutual respect decided Tolson's fate. In 1928, he became an FBI special agent.

He first was assigned to the FBI's Boston office, then was tranferred to Washington headquarters where he was promoted to inspector in 1929 and to assistant FBI director in 1930.

Visitors Inspect Animal Shelter

Almost 100 See Building and New Ambulance at Open House Sunday

Almost a hundred visitors inspected Oakland County Animal Shelter and Oakland County Animal Welfare Society's new "animal ambulance" during an open house Sunday.

Dr. Frank R. Bates, county animal welfare director, Mrs. Marion LeFaive, Animal Welfare Society president and several society trustees greeted guests at the shelter at 1200 W. Walton Blvd.

The shelter, now owned by the county, has been painted, fitted with several new cages and repaired. The Animal Welfare Society's new "ambulance" features a station wagon body on a truck chassis.

Sundell still operated from the animal shelter, FEderal 2-8262, working side by side with county employes.

Mrs. Helen G. Ferguson, humane director for the Animal Welfare Society, commented that the society is very gratefull to the county for its "wonderful cooperation."

Russians Appoint 'Official to Germany

BERLIN (AP)—Vladimir Semyenov, Soviet high commissioner in East Germany, has been appointed ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to the East German government, the Soviet Zone News Agency ADN announced today.

ADN said that the appointment was made by the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet in Moscow.

At the same time, Semyenov will remain in office as high commissioner, the Moscow dispatch said.

The appointment carries out another Kremlin promise made in the agreement last month in Moscow between the Soviet and East German governments.

WCTU Blasts Hannah

EVANSTONE, Ill. (AP)—The president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union said today Dr. John A. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense, was "talking through his brass hat" when he said liquor interests were "using" the WCTU in opposing liquor sales in the Army.

Hannah charged recently that liquor dealers were using the temperance group to oppose the new Army policy of selling liquor by bottle or glass at officer and non-commissioned officer messes and clubs.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, president of the WCTU, said in a statement: "The liquor retail associations, according to their own statements, are opposing the order because the military services are doing the selling and their members are not making a profit out of it . . . The WCTU is fighting the sale of the stuff in the Army or anywhere else."

Work Resumed by Expressmen

Detroit AFL Unionists End Week-Long Strike Against Agency

DETROIT (UP) — Workers on strike against the Railway Express Agency ended their week-long walkout today and returned to their jobs.

H. P. Dunlap, vice president of the company's central department, said, however, an embargo on inbound shipments probably cannot be lifted until Wednesday.

He said also that it will be a "day or so" before trucks can make pickups, but shipments brought to express offices will "still be accepted."

Members of Lodge 2075, AFL Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, voted last Saturday to end the strike with the provision the company would negotiate demands for a 30-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Richard J. Kowalski, chairman of the lodge's protective committee, said the company and union will start negotiations in New York Oct. 6.

Navy Jet Set to Try for Air Speed Record

THERMAL, Calif. (AP) —The Navy plans to try again today for a new world air speed record of at least 745 miles an hour.

The attempt was thwarted on two successive days. Saturday it was turbulent winds and dust at Edwards Air Force Base and yesterday a troublesome fuel gauge caused postponement at the desert course along the Salton Sea near here.

Lt. Comdr. James B. Verdin, 35, Navy test pilot, and Douglas Aircraft Co. Engineers believe, however, that the needle-nosed, triangle-winged F4D Skyray jet interceptor is ready for today.

After yesterday's attempt was postponed repairs were made to the fuel gauge. Verdin then took the plane over the course twice in non-record passes presumably at more than 700 miles an hour. Times were not announced for these runs.

3 Burn to Death in Cab-Car Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Three persons burned to death last night in an automobile which caught fire after a collision with a taxicab on the South Side.

Police said victims were burned beyond immediate identification. One was believed to be Edward Sidebotham, 18-year-old high school student, whose stepfather told police Edward had borrowed the car.

The cab driver and passenger received minor injuries. The rear of the cab was damaged by the flames.

Death Cancels Outing

KEEGO HARBOR — Business and Professional Club members here announced today that their planned trip to see "Cinerama" in Detroit has been canceled due to the death of Mrs. Carolyn Hunt, a member who was killed in an auto accident Friday. The group will meet at C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home.

Indicates Philippines as Uranium Source

MANILA (AP) — A Philippines agriculture department spokesman said today a two-month survey of possible uranium deposits in the Philippines "has yielded positive indications."

The spokesman said the survey was undertaken by two members of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission assisted by Philippines Mining and geological experts.

He refused to elaborate except to say the survey revealed "indications of radio active materials usable for atomic energy."

Makes Malenkov Sad

Moscow Women Glad to Spend Week's Wages on One Pair U.S. Hose

(This is the first in a series of five articles on the high cost of living in Soviet Russia by Associated Press correspondent Tom Whitney. Whitney, who spent nine years behind the Iron Curtain as a member of the U.S. diplomatic corps and later with the Moscow AP Staff, is back in the United States and for the first time is able to write freely about the vexing economic problems of the Russian people.)

By TOM WHITNEY

LONDON (AP) — When Moscow women get the chance they don't mind paying almost a week's wages for a pair of American nylons of the latest design.

There is a black market in the stockings, and well-informed persons in Moscow told me that a pair of black-heel and black-seam nylons could be bought there for around 150 rubles. That's the equivalent of $37.50 at the official rate.

Moscow women buy Soviet-made kapron stockings at 30-40 rubles a pair. These are an artificial sheer stocking and not bad looking —but evidently not good enough.

Russian women have the same instincts as women elsewhere. They want prettier stockings and underwear, more stylish dresses —anything, to make themselves more beautiful. The quality of the Russian-made goods has improved in recent years, but the style and cut still are poor.

So when Russian women have an opportunity to buy Western things they rush for the chance. The news passes around that a certain store will have Polish or Czechoslovak dress materials in new patterns, or Czechoslovak women's shoes in new styles. Great lines of women form outside the store long before it opens to get first choice or at least something before it is sold out.

Even Premier Malenkov has been forced to discuss this situation. He told the Supreme Soviet recently:

"To the shame of Soviet industrial workers the consumer frequently prefers to acquire goods of foreign origin only because they have a better design."

There is a famous institution known a sthe "commission store." These stores—and there are many of them in Moscow—will accept from any individual clothes or other merchandise which the latter desires to sell. The stores charge about 7 per cent for their services. They are always crowded. One can see in them quite often foreign-made goods, perhaps brought to the Soviet Union by Russians who have been abroad. The prices for these goods are particularly high, reflecting the premium value of goods with Western style and finish.

A woman's mouton coat worth $200 in the United States was on sale in one store for 3,800 rubles. This is the equivalent at the official Soviet exchange rate of $950. Expressed another way, it is equal to six months earnings of the average Russian worker. Other prices:

Nylon nightgown—250 rubles.

Jersey woolen dress—450 rubles.

The government has not made as much progress in supplying stylish clothing as it has made in providing durable goods. If he has the money, a Muscovite now can buy automobiles, television sets, radios, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric refrigerators, motorcycles, electric fans, irons and other electric appliances, high grade cameras, sewing machines, even tape recording machines.

The quantities of such durable goods are infinitesimal compared to the market in the United States, but for Moscow this is new.

How good are these Russian-produced goods? Do they work? I can to some extent speak from experience.

The Russians make four different models of passenger cars. My impression is that all are fairly well-made. I know most about the "Pobeda" used by most Russian taxi drivers. This is a four-cylinder car, about the same size as many British-made small cars. The retail price is 16,000 rubles (about two years' pay for a worker). Its top speed ordinarily is around 70 miles an hour. Its double shock absorbers are useful on Russian roads. It seems to be durable, but the interior work is shoddy.

I estimate that not more than 10,000 "Pobedas" are produced in a year. Total production of passenger cars in the U.S.S.R. is probably not over 30,000 units annually.

I owned a small television set assembled in Moscow from parts made in East Germany. It frequently went out of order and after two years of use I had to buy a new viewing tube. The screen was 3½ by 5 inches. The price was 1,275 rubles ($318.75).

My Russian - made vacuum cleaner cost 430 rubles. It was not so powerful as an American cleaner of similar size but was a considerable improvment on the first postwar Russian vacuum cleaners.

I owned an electric refrigerator for over three years. It had about 2½ cubic feet capacity, and used an electric heating element as its refrigerating mechanism. It took a long time to freeze 10 ice cubes. Its price now: 680 rubles.

* * *

The Russians now make two miniature cameras both reputed to be very good. They ought to be since the Russians moved one of the best German lens works to Russia, with some of the German technicians. One costs about 430 rubles.

Gold Cargo Under Water 101 Years

Quartet Prepares to Dive for Lake Erie Treasure

PORT DOVER, Ont. (UP)—Sunken treasure, including thousands of dollars in gold, spurred preparations today for a perilous hunt on the floor of Lake Erie where the steamer Atlantic went down 101 years ago in one of the Great Lakes' worst catastrophes.

Two Americans and two Canadians hope to raise a reported $338,000 in gold coin and dust before cold weather sets in by employing modern salvage techniques on the wreck 200 feet below the surface.

The vessel collided with another ship a few miles off Long Point near here and sunk with a loss of 300 lives on Aug. 20, 1852.

Two professional divers, Jack C. Holzer, 30, and Roland B. Smith, 32, of Buffalo, and Jack Maythem, a marine engineer, and Harry Gamble, a shipyard operator, both of Port Dover, will divide the expected treasure after the Canadian government takes its cut.

Holzer is the only diver to stand on the decks of the old ship since it went down. He made the descent a few weeks ago and is believed to hold an unofficial depth record for Lake Erie.

"I went alone. It was rather foolish because if anything had happened there was no one to come to my aid," he said. "It took three passes before I landed on the deck. It's icy cold and pitch black at that depth but the deck felt solid and she was standing upright."

Difficulties of the operation were described as nearly "insurmountable" by Smith, a World War II Navy diver.

"You can't see, the decks are littered with cables and debris and you're restricted in how long you can stay down," Smith said.

The major problem of finding where the treasure is located aboard the 267-foot vessel was solved by construction of a four-ton diving bell by Gamble and Maythem.

"We'll be able to stay down looking all day," Holzer said. "Once we pinpoint the captain's cabin—where we hope the treasure is—we can dive directly to it in regular equipment."

Far East Look in New Dresses

PARIS (INS) — Want to look "mysterious?"

French designer Hubert De Givenchy has a new collection of dresses intended to give women that mysterious, Far East look.

He uses Mandarin coats with heavily padded shoulders and sleeves, skintight dresses and wide belts patterned after the Japanese Obi sash.

De Givenchy's hemlines, however, are neither up or down, but neutral as the Korean truce line.

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My daughter is a great mimic and she unconsciously takes on boys' mannerisms which certainly don't enhance her appeal, to my way of thinking.

"Perhaps you can help me convey to my daughter that womanliness is to be strived for. I'd appreciate your help."

It might help to point out to your daughter that boys are attracted to girls not because of their similarities, but their differences. Their very opposite-ness is what is mysterious and appealing.

Mannerisms and attitudes that are too easy to understand rob a girl of her allure for the boys she'd like to impress.

It might help to point out to her that though boys and girls are of opposite sexes, they possess the same qualities in greater or lesser quantities.

Boys have no monopoly on being powerfully strong. Girls have their own reserves of energy and strength. Gentleness is not exclusively reserved for the girls. A rough and tough he-man kind of boy can be miraculously tender and gentle with his sick puppy.

It's just that some qualities are predominate in each half of the population. When a boy apes the predomination characteristics of the other half, he's considered a sissy. Masculinity is equally unbecoming to a girl.

From boys we expect robust aggressiveness, for instance. In girls it looks like pushing, boldness, and insensitive disregard for others. A proud display of muscles is manly. It makes a girl a Big Bertha, a "powerful Katinka."

Her skill at sports is not brute strength—it's agility, dexterity, speed, coordination. A raucous bellow, a booming voice, rough and rowdy horseplay can pass with boys as male animal spirits. Girls who follow through, are considered loud, cheap, coarse.

You might point out to your daughter that some of the boys' mannerisms you object to are ok for them, but unbecoming to her And if she must mimic others' tricks, she'd be smarter to pick up tricks that would make her a prettier picture.

A spick and span, immaculate neatness would be worth her energy. So would a low-pitched voice and a laugh that stays within bounds on the scale. Pulling in the edges of her gestures would show an interest in being ladylike.

No sprawling in chairs with knees akimbo—feet tucked under out of the way when not being used—hands active or quietly in repose—no nervous picking at things—no loose hands or arms beating the air. Such control of her sound and motion would be highly becoming.

She may be equally good at the things the boys are good at. It's up to her to choose between being a bad copy of a boy or being an attractive design of her own making.

A day on the town calls for that casual but dressed-up look, the fashion right sweater and skirt. She wears a classic slipover of lilac pink with an asphalt gray flannel skirt. The "man who pays" wears a smartly tailored sports jacket in wool tweed with an "autumn leaf" brown jacket.

Should Surpass Articles That Are Sold in Stores

By ANNE HEYWOOD

The woman who wants to market a product at home—whether in the clothing line, the food line or whatever—has to face a few harsh facts.

First of all, you hear only the miracle stories, the one woman in 10,000 who has achieved tremendous success.

For each one of these you hear about, I could tell you of hundreds and hundreds who break their hearts and their bank accounts in some futile and ill-fated venture.

On top of all the usual problems involved—finance, labor merchandising, distribution and advertising—there is the key factor which so few women consider.

This is that your homemade product must be so unique that it compensates for the trouble the customer faces in buying it.

Adorable children's dresses that are just adorable children's dresses you make at home are not going to be able to compete with those sold in stores.

On the other hand, if you specialize in dresses for little girls who are overweight, or too tall you have a good fighting chance. You have the unique feature that makes it worth the consumer's trouble.

If food is your product to sell, it must be very much tastier and more appealing than another in the market.

Or it must have some romantic legend about it, such as coming from an old recipe from the moors of Scotland, or it must have a specialized dietary angle such as some of the health foods packaged at home.

"I make a wonderful salad dressing," one woman will tell me, "and I want your help in marketing it at home."

It turns out to be a very nice dressing, slightly better than some—but only slightly—because of its choice and expensive ingredients

To make it commercially, at any profit at all, she will have to charge a fortune for it. No one will pay that price except terrific gourmets.

And terrific gourmets almost invariably make their own fabulous salad dressing, and wouldn't be caught dead buying a readymade one.

In short, that woman would lose out entirely on her salad dressing venture.

But another woman, has, for example, a special reducers' salad dressing. She worked it out when she herself was on a diet. It is low in calories, inexpensive and perfectly delicious.

She has a good chance—if all the myriad business and financial details are properly handled.

If you plan to make a product at home, ask yourself one very stern question and answer it honestly:

Is your product so very unusual, so appealing, so unique, that lots of people will really beat a path to your door?

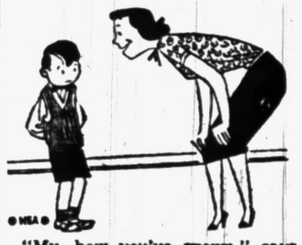
Manners MAKE FRIENDS



"My, how you've grown," says the adult to the child. And the child looks embarrassed. Well, why shouldn't he? What answer can he make to that remark?

If you want to get on with a child, say something to him that gives him a chance to respond—instead of just feeling silly.

HAVE YOU TRIED
WONDER BREAD LATELY?
Made With Even Better Quality Protein Flour To Give You A Better Loaf Of Bread

Surveys Show 1 Out Of 2 Children Fail To Get The Recommended Amounts Of Food-Energy For Normal Weight And Growth Gains.

The Bread That Helps Build Strong Bodies 8 Ways!

Children Go For Wonder Bread Because Doubly Fresh

An average boy of 10 should gain about 6 pounds in one year.
Which is at the rate of ½ pound per month; or less than 2 ounces each week.
But any time your child fails to gain puts her or him that far behind.

Why Lack of Food-Energy Causes Weight and Growth Loss

Carbohydrate and fat supply food-energy. Protein supplies the "building blocks" of growth.
Now Nature cannot use carbohydrate and fat alone for growth, but it can use protein for energy.
Thus, when your child fails to get enough carbohydrate and fat food-energy, Nature uses the protein for food-energy instead of growth.
The result: Your child's growth is stunted.

Wonder Bread Helps Your Child Grow Bigger and Stronger 8 Ways

A well-balanced diet calls for meat, milk, eggs, fruit and both yellow and green-leafed vegetables. And carbohydrate food for energy. Like Wonder Bread.
Because not only does Wonder Bread supply food-energy but protein. Study the chart and see how Wonder Bread helps build bigger and stronger bodies 8 ways.
To encourage your child to eat a well-balanced diet and 8 slices of Wonder Bread each day, show him or her this ad. Because it shows how any boy or girl can grow bigger and stronger 8 ways—which is what they want to excel in their favorite sports.

The announcement of their daughter Cynthia Margaret's engagement to Bengt Wallgren was made Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Martin B. Rice of Birmingham. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Carl A. Wallgren of Gothenberg, Sweden.

Press Gives Suggestions for Brides

Members of the Pontiac Press Women's Department have prepared several suggestions for prospective brides in order to assure them of a complete and timely wedding story.

As an aid to prompt, accurate and complete information, wedding forms will be mailed upon request, as well as to those who have announced their engagements in the Pontiac Press.

The wedding blank should be returned at least two days before the wedding as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories.

Those received more than three days after a wedding will not carry details of reception, bridal costumes, etc.

Because of limited space, brides-to-be may submit only one picture (either engagement or wedding) if they are to be married within two months of the engagement announcement.

While it is not always possible to provide the picture with the wedding information, brides are asked to note that the picture cannot be used unless it is ready for publication by the third day after the wedding.

Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, as colored or sepia pictures will not reproduce well.

Mother's Helper Proves That Cuddling Will Succeed When Psychology Fails

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A young friend of mine had a job last summer as mother's helper for a small girl, aged 2½.

She telephoned one evening, anxiously. I could hear her gulp. "It's like this," she said.

"Mrs. Barnard is awfully hot on psychology with Babsy. She's a darling—Babsy, I mean. But for the last two weeks, she just yells her head off at bedtime.

"Mrs. Barnard says it's because she sent her to her room for crossing the road without me. She said that by using the bedroom to punish Babsy, she's associated it with rejection. So we've been trying to dissassociate the room . . .

"What do you think of that?' my young friend demanded.

'Go on,' I said.

"OK," she said, "Anyway, we haven't got very far. With the disassociation, I mean. The minute I put Babsy's light out tonight, she began to shriek. Mrs. Barnard said, 'Jill, go in and take down her crib bars, so they won't give her a feeling of alienation.' Is that the right word?"

"I guess so," I said. "How did it work?"

"It didn't," Jill told me. "I even helped her put all her animals to bed and yawned for each one to induce a sympathetic reaction. Is that the right term?'

"Go on," I said. 'for goodness' sake, it doesn't matter."

"Well," she said. "It didn't do any good either. So when she just went on shrieking, what do you think I did?"

The voice laughed in delight. "I told Mrs. Barnard that I was busting all the rules. She didn't mind because she had people for dinner and just said, 'Go ahead—just get her quiet.' So I went into our room and took Babsy over to my bed.

"Oh, I guess it was 15 minutes that I just cuddled her. She's a darling. Did I tell you? She has a nonexistent animal named . . ."

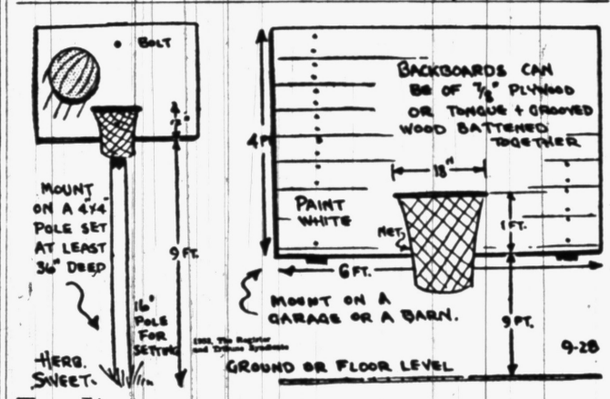
"You did tell me," I reminded her.

The voice laughed in joy again. "Then I started to whisper in her ear. I told her she was the best girl in America, England, France and Germany.

"I said, 'I love you. Mummy and Daddy love you, too. We don't want you to go to bed because we're tired of you, but because we all love the happy way you are in the morning. I want you to go to sleep now because I can't wait for you to jump on my stomach tomorrow morning and say, "Jilly, wake up! Here's me!"'

Then, mingling awe and triumph, the voice announced, "She was asleep in five minutes! Pretty good, huh?"

"So good, darling, that I'm going to write about it,' I said.



Try It

Practice Your Basketball

Do you have a basketball basket in your yard? It is fun to have one which is put up in a permanent place where you can practice shooting baskets at any time of the year.

Too, basketball practice is fun if you are just by yourself or if you have several people taking turns.

The backboard which I have shown in the drawing is drawn by official measurements. It is best if it is made from tongue and groove wood, but it will hold together if made from plywood.

The important thing to remember when using plywood is that when it stands outdoors it must be painted well.

Use tongue and grooved wood and batten it together so that it will be strong, or use seven-eighths-inch plywood. The finished board should be 4 feet high and six feet wide. Give this a good coat of white paint.

The basket should be hung so that the rim of the basket is 1 foot above the bottom of the board and the rim should be 18 inches across.

Bolt this to a 16 foot pole. Three feet of this should be underground, then measure 9 feet up the pole and have the bottom of the backboard here. This will leave 4 feet to go behind the board. Practice makes perfect!

IF larger woman—

Mrs. L. W.—Yoke details in square or tuxedo effect. Smooth and curly furs. Persian lamb is a favored fur trimming. Smooth and boucle fabrics in black or gray-blue. Most of the coats have collars, sleeves are often cuffless and bracelet length.

Slacks for Evening

For evenings-at-home, tapered trousers in brilliant color and texture are in style. For sports, impeccably tailored slacks of flannel, tweed or broadcloth. A fleece shirt with checked wool slacks for the outdoor department.

The largest glacier in Colorado, the mile-square Arapaho ice sheet, is the water reservoir for the city of Boulder, which owns exclusive rights to the ice.

Rotate Wardrobe Even in Buying

NEW YORK (INS) — Women should borrow the rule of the "rotating wardrobe" from men.

A suggested system for a high-level "rotating wardrobe" plan: concentrate on a coat and a day dress one year, a suit and a party dress the next. Alternate your choice with black or neutrals one year, colors the next.

"A well chosen garment should be expected to last five years at least. "By rotating the types and coloring, every woman should be able to have in good 'working order every winter one dark and one colored coat, one dark and one colored suit, one basic dark dress and a colored day dress, a dark and a bright or light party dress."

Coddle your face with a foamy sponge to apply your powder. Don't let rubbing and pulling with a rough puff widen your pores. Pat on your powder with a sponge once and you'll forget there is another way to apply powder.

Male Guest Won't Allow Hostess to Pay for Dinner

By EMILY POST

A widow writes me: "Ever since my husband's death I find myself faced with a problem. I live in a one-room apartment and cannot entertain very well at home. However, I do try to repay my social obligations by inviting my hosts to dinner in a restaurant.

"The other evening I invited a couple to dine with me but when it came time to pay the check the husband refused to let me pay it on the grounds that no gentleman ever allows a lady to accept the check.

"I was very much embarrassed over this as I had asked them to be my guests, but rather than make a scene I let him pay the check. Will you please tell me if I should have insisted upon paying the check?

"Also, will you please tell me how to avoid running into this same situation?"

Answer: Because you couldn't possibly make a scene, you were quite right to let him pay the check and, having done so, say nothing more than thank you.

In the future you can, however, avoid this situation by ordering your dinner ahead of time and paying for it then so that no check is presented.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am engaged to a widower who has two teen-aged daughters. I am 35 and have never been married. My fiance and I do not agree on a point of propriety and would like you to settle the problem.

He feels that it would be perfectly acceptable for me to remain overnight or spend a weekend at his house in the country, with his daughters acting as chaperons. I do not feel that this would be right. May I please have your opinion?

Answer: Personally I think his daughters are sufficient chaperons. But remember, there are very unkind gossips in this world who make much out of nothing and it is certainly wise to avoid all possibility of criticism.

Dear Mrs. Post: The father of one of the girls in our office just died and we would like to send a floral piece. I am in charge of sending the flowers and am not at all sure to whom they should be sent. Should they be sent to the family or to the deceased person?

Answer: They are sent to "the funeral of John Smith" and a card is included with a few words of sympathy from the donors.

Men Using More Lounging Clothes

NEW YORK (INS)—Men must be staying home more these days.

David Rapport, men's fashion designer for Damon, reports the biggest demand for men's stay-at-home clothes since the days of the Victorian smoking jacket.

Rappaport says there's quite a difference between the quilted Victorian jackets, and the light woolens, silks and cottons used for men's lounging clothes today.

He pointed to new at-home shirts cut like sport shirts, with narrowed collars featuring either short or round points, deep armholes, narrow sleeve cuffs, and long, overstitched side vents to make it easier to reach into slacks side pockets.

Short Negligees

The short, or dress, length is the one most in demand now for negligees and robes. Women of all ages, from teeners to grandmothers, like this length and wear it.

Iowan Fixes Tangy 'Nibbles' to Team With Cold Drinks

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

As a change from the usual peanuts or potato chips served with cocktails, try these "nibbles."

Mrs. T. R. Spratt of Monroe, Iowa, a recent Pontiac visitor, sent us this recipe for cocktail mix.

Mrs. Spratt divides her time between her job as business manager for a veterinarian and social life in her small town. By letter and frequent visits she keeps abreast of the activities of her two grandchildren.

COCKTAIL MIX NIBBLES

By Mrs. T. R. Spratt

1 package ready-to-eat oat cereal
1 package whole wheat bits
1 package rice bits
1 pound peanuts or any other nuts (more if desired)
1 can tiny pretzel bits
1 pound margarine or butter
1 tablespoon celery salt
1 tablespoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
3½ tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Pour melted butter and seasonings over cereals and nuts. Bake in a 250-degree oven about two hours, stirring every half hour. This makes a large amount; store leftovers in tightly closed jars or cans. Serve with any cold drink.

New Protector-Doll Lets Bottles Bounce

A new gadget that makes baby's bottle bounce instead of breaking when dropped on the floor should interest mothers. It's an inflatable doll made of Vinylite plastic which is both a plaything and a bottle rest for baby, and a cushion to keep the bottle from shattering.

Slide a warm bottle of milk into the deflated doll, inflate it into a colorful plastic doll, and you don't have to worry when baby throws the bottle out of the cirb. It costs $1.29.

Marjorie Grafe Speaks Vows in Detroit Church

Saturday evening in the Lutheran Church of the Epiphany, Detroit, Marjorie Anne Grafe became the bride of George Charles Barnier.

The William C. Grafes of Turtle Lake Farms, Bloomfield Hills, are the bride's parents and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. George C. Barnier of Detroit and the late Mr. Barnier.

For the 7:30 o'clock ceremony, Marjorie chose a gown of nylon tulle over white satin. The full skirt featured a lace panel and chapel train, and the bodice of Chantilly lace was fashioned with long sleeves.

A lace cap of sequins and seed pearls held her two-tier veil of illusion net, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums and ivy.

Mrs. William C. Grafe Jr. was matron of honor for her sister-in-law in a floor-length gown of delphinium blue iridescent taffeta. Yellow chrysanthemums arranged in a colonial style formed her bouquet.

After a motor trip to Arizona and New Mexico, the young couple will reside in Dearborn.

Cites Statement by Chiropractor

State Leader Calls for Jury Quiz, Says Exam Questions Were Sold

DETROIT (AP) — An unnamed chiropactic school graduate, described as "a plant" in an investigation, was reported to have signed a statement yesterday that he had received a set of Michigan basic Science exam questions for $600.

Clair W. O'Dell, Wyandotte chiropracter and president of the Michigan Academy of Chiropractic, Inc., took possession of the three-page statement that he said was made by a student investigating for the academy.

O'Dell said that the academy began its own investigation May 18 after a Detroit man reported that he had bought exam questions. Friday O'Dell asked Ingham Circuit Court for a one-man grand jury investigation into the charges.

Eight specific points were charged in the Circuit Court petition.

"We feel that a one-man grand jury investigation is the only way to bring the extent of this corruption to light," O'Dell said.

Singer Traubel Makes Trouble for Mr. Bing

NEW YORK (AP)—Eminent Wagnerian soprano Helen Traubel today put her budding career as a night club singer ahead of Metropolitan Opera roles. Her viewpoint:

"To assert that art can be found in the Metropolitan Opera House but not in a night club is rank snobbery that underrates both the taste of the American public and the talent of its composers."

Miss Traubel, successor to Kirsten Flagstad as the Met's leading Wagnerian soprano, refused yesterday to renew her Met contract in a dispute with Rudolf Bing, general manager of the opera, who had suggested she refrain from cabaret appearances in the New York City area while singing at the Met.

A spokesman for Miss Traubel disclosed the dispute yesterday, releasing an exchange of letters between her and Bing. The opera general manager immediately said the release of the correspondence was in "bad taste."

These were the important points in the letters:

Bing, on Sept. 25, wrote Miss Traubel concerning her contract, which had been offered some time previously and had not been returned. It was for the coming season, opening next month.

He noted that there had been "reports that you are now appearing in a night club, which makes me wonder whether you would perhaps, for the time being, rather not appear at the Metropolitan, as I could so well understand a feeling that these two activities do not really seem to mix well."

"Perhaps you would prefer," he added, "to give the Metropolitan a 'miss' for a year or so until you may possibly feel that you want again to change back to the more serious aspects of your art."

Bing concluded his letter with a request that Miss Traubel not appear in a New York area night club before and during the coming Met season and for at least one month afterward.

Miss Traubel, who recently made her night club debut at the Chez Paree in Chicago, wrote her reply yesterday, saying she could not sign the contract and adding:

"Artistic dignity is not a matter of where one sings . . .

"America has produced a wealth of fine, popular music—music written by Americans, sung by Americans, loved by Americans. . . . I think the time has come for American artists to recognize that American folk music is as much their province as Wagner, Beethoven and Verdi."

Two Teenagers Held in Slaying

Man Beaten and Kicked for Refusing Cigarettes to Street Boys

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two teenaged boys are being held on murder charges today in what homicide detectives say was the brutal beating and kicking to death of a 52-year-old father of six who refused to give them a cigarette.

In addition, four other boys are being held as material witnesses and on assault and battery charges.

The victim was David Jenkins, a janitor.

In custody as material witnesses and being held for court on the assault and battery charges are: Robert Neely, 14, James F. Needham, 16, James E. Ford, 16, all of Pittsburgh, and Cyril B. Holmes, 17, Midland, Pa.

Detectives Louis Hamel and Martin Corcoran said this is what happened:

Frank Stevens, 41, a barber who rooms at the Jenkins residence, was attacked by a gang of boys late Saturday night. He broke away and told his landlord what had happened.

Jenkins went to a nearby corner, saw two boys loitering there and asked them if they had helped beat Stevens. They said they hadn't. They asked Jenkins for a cigarette but he refused.

The detectives said Abersold, who tified as Hindley and Abersold, pounced on Jenkins and began hammering at his face and body. He ran into the middle of the street and fell. He was dead on arrival at a hospital.

The officers said an autopsy disclosed Jenkins died of a hemorrhage at the base of the brain.

The detectives said Abersold, wh had a three-quarter-inch cleat on the tip of his left shoe, said he kicked Jenkins, declaring:

"We were scared because he had a stick. We didn't want to do nothin', just hit and run."

The detectives said three newsboys who witnessed the attack declared Jenkins did not have a stick.

John Payne, Socialite Leave for Honeymoon

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A honeymoon in northern California and Idaho is planned by actor John Payne and Mrs. Alexandra Crowell Curtis, who were married yesterday.

It was the second marriage for the socialite bride and the third for Payne. She formerly was the wife of actor Alan Curtis. Payne's former wives are actresses Anne Shirley and Gloria De Haven.

Will Tell of Desire to Stick With U.S. to Fight Communism

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A picture of the underdeveloped countries of Southeast Asia trying to improve the conditions of their people in the face of Communist imperialism was readied today for the U. N. Asembly by a Philippine spokesman.

Joaquin M. Elizalde, the islands' foreign secretary, was slated to emphasize in an assembly speech that because of his country's long friendship with the United States, the Philippines intends to stick with America in combating the spread of communism.

Aides said Elizalde wrote his speech several weeks ago before the Philippines announced its candidacy for a seat in the Security Council on the grounds that Southeast Asia otherwise would not be represented during the next two years.

The United States previously had announced its support for Turkey to fill the seat now held by Greece. Russia is backing Poland.

Although Turkey has expressed confidence she has enough votes to win the three-cornered race, a Philippines spokesman said his delegation hopes to swing a lot of votes from the 20 Latin-American countries.

The Philippines already have the solid support of the Asian-Arab bloc of which she is a member.

The Philippines delegates sent letters over the weekend to the Latin-American countries, pointing out that the Asian-Arab bloc has always given its votes to the Spanish-speaking countries' candidate in the past. In an added touch, the letters went on in Spanish to point up the link between their own Spanish-speaking nation and those of the American hemisphere.

German Girl and Taylor Not Engaged

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Can't you merely have a friendship in Hollywood?" asks German beauty Ursula Thiess, who has been rumored on the verge of marrying Robert Taylor for the past year.

The rumors have been fanned into a flame now that Taylor is back from making a movie in England. But the Hamburg-born actress assures that they have no plans to wed.

"We have never discussed marriage," she said. "Both of us have certain problems to work out before we marry again, and the chances are that we won't. After you have been married once and divorced, as we have, you are generally more careful about the next time."

Miss Thiess (pronounced Teece) was married to a German film director and has two children; Taylor's former wife is Barbara Stanwyck.

A newcomer to Hollywood, the German gal can't understand the attempts of the press to chart her romantic future.

"It mystifies me," she sighed. "Columnists call up and ask 'I hear you and Bob are getting married.' I tell them it's news to me, and they claim my friends have told them it's true. I can't understand that because I never discuss such things with my friends.

"After I spend 15 minutes explaining why we are not getting married, the columnists say, 'Okay, but call me first when you do it.' "

She is astounded by reports that she is a European siren who broke up the Taylor-Stanwyck marriage. Truth: she was still a photographer's model in Munich when the alliance dissolved. She also read that she chased Bob all the way to England recently. Truth: she never left the country.

"Or else they make Bob seem the heavy because he won't marry me," she added. "But we're not interested in marriage at this time."

Miss Thiess, a dark-haired charmer with a Dresden-doll face and a mellow voice, admitted that she added fuel to the rumors by dating no one else but Taylor. She had no dates during his five-month absence and says she didn't mind it at all.

"There's no one whose company I like as well," she remarked. They started dating a year and a half ago after meeting at a party. What do they do? "Stay at home and talk, watch TV, go out occasionally for dinner. I like to cook and he likes to eat."

After two years with Howard Hughes, the actress is finally making her first Hollywood movie. It is "The Kiss and the Sword" with Robert Stack.

During her period of service, she has made one picture in India, "Monsoon." But most of her time has been spent taking dramatic lessons from coach Florence Enright.

Ursula arrived in Hollywood without being able to speak a word of English. She now talks with scarcely an accent.

Like many Hughes performers —Jane Russell, Faith Domergue, Jack Beutel, etc — Miss Thiess has had long periods of inactivity. How does she like that?

"Not so well," she replied. "Jane Russell signed with Hughes when she was 19; She could afford to wait a few years without making pictures. But I'm 29. I may be an old bag before I get a chance to show what I can do."

One thing she is happy about: she recently received a quota number and will file for American citizenship. She'll also be able to bring her children here.

Rebels Reject Peace Feelers

Indochinese Red Radio Turns Down France's Bid to End War

SAIGON, Indochina (AP) — The Indochinese rebel radio today rejected French suggestions of a negotiated peace to end the seven-year war in Indochina.

French Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs Maurice Schumann told the United Nations Friday that France is willing to negotiate with Russia and Communist China for an end to the Indochina conflict.

Radio Nambo, which speaks for the Communist Vietminh command in South Viet Nam, said in reply that "all Utopian hope for an illusory peace must be ruled out."

"Actually," it continued, "the enemy is preparing to strike us even harder. That is why we should fight him with more vigor until he is totally defeated."

The broadcast ended by citing the words of Vietminh leader Ho Chi Minh: "We are for peace but we understand perfectly that without the victory of our resistance, we cannot achieve it. Only unity and real independence can bring us this peace."

Biggie Pleased at Ponies' Job Against Hawks

State Grabs 21-7 Win in First Start in Big Ten Schedule

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — In the dressing room, after his 21-7 football victory over Iowa, Michigan State coach Biggie Munn had the satisfied smile of a man who has gambled on the ponies and won.

Billy Wells, 176-pound halfback from Menominee, made two of the touchdowns and was awarded the game ball. Jimmy Ellis (178 pounds) from Saginaw accounted for the other score.

For Ellis, accustomed to scoring as a safety specialist, it was the first touchdown as an offensive player in his college career. He's now regarded as the fifth man in the Michigan State backfield.

Last year, Wells led on total offense with 599 yards, even topping the more publicized Don McAuliffe. But there was a question of how some of the lightweights — Wells especially — would do on defense. The answer was — terrific.

Munn showed his confidence in his ponies by starting them as a unit. Tommy Yewcic (183 pounds) was at quarterback, with Wells and Leroy Bolden of Flint (167 pounds) at the halves, and Evan Slonac (176 pounds) at full back.

Ellis, who accounted for most of the distance, made the second score, after a 27-yard drive.

The defense was effective, as proven by statistics showing that Iowa outrushed Michigan State 164 yards to 127.

But in the passing game, Michigan State netted 141 yards to 56 for Iowa.

The play that put the score in the record books was a pass—a throw from Yewcic that went half the distance of the field to Wells — all alone in front of the goal line.

Ram Eleven Bows, 14-6

St. Frederick High School's football team began its offensive a quarter too late Sunday afternoon and dropped a 14-6 decision to Highland Park St. Benedict in the first Suburban Catholic League game here.

Rams found themselves on the short end of a 14-0 score early in the second quarter. Thereafter, they dominated the play, but were able to score only once.

Art Massucci's Ravens took the lead in the first five minutes of play when Jim Fitzpatrick hit end Paul Jordan with a 20-yard touchdown pass. In the first minute of the second period, the same combination teamed up on a 15-yard play, stopped on the one.

Ram line stiffened for one play, but Fitzpatrick hit Jordan again from the five-yard line for the second tally. Shortly after, St. Fred's Tom Monroe, was trapped in the end zone for the safety by St. Benedict's.

Late in the second period, Rams put on a 55-yard drive, featured by a 45-yard pass play from Monroe to Don Cox. Cox was stopped on the one-foot line, but Monroe scored on a quarterback sneak.

In other SCL action, Orchard Lake St. Mary's highly-regarded Eaglets were upset by St. Rita, 13-6. Royal Oak St. Mary downed St. James, 6-0, in a Friday game.

St. Rita got the seven points needed to win in the first quarter at Hazel Park Sunday. Jim Dailey went 40 yards to cap a 84-yard drive in seven plays. Pat Monette kicked the point.

Orchard Lake scored in the second period on a 76-yard pass play. Tom Kalasz hit Gene Stasialowicz with a 32-yard pass and the receiver went 44 yards for the TD.

St. Rita recovered a St. Mary fumble on the Eaglets' 47 to set up the second touchdown in the second quarter. Eight plays brought the ball to the two and Daily scored. Second half was scoreless.

St. Fred's are on the road next Sunday against St. Rita, while St. Michael's will entertain RO St. Mary in Wisner Stadium. OL St. Mary plays Thursday at Boys Republic, Inkster.

Chips Still Celebrating Victory Over Broncos' 11

By the Associated Press

Chippewas won one of their sweetest football victories Saturday. It was a 21-0 triumph over Western Michigan and was Central's first win over the Kalamazoo Broncos since 1945.

It also was the seventh win in a row for the Chips, who closed out 1952 with five straight and then whipped Iowa State Teachers 33-20 in their season-opener.

Kalamazoo College was blanked by Wheaton, Ill., 33-0 Saturday night and dazzled by the broken field running of Wheaton halfback Dave Burnham, who scores three of Wheaton's TD's, one of them on an 80-yard punt return.

Albion's Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association champions fell to a powerful running game by Wabash College at Crawfordsville, Inds., 27-18.

Michigan Tech scored once in each of the last three periods on its home field at Houghton Saturday to defeat Northland of Ashland, Wis., 18-0.

Lou Baldacci, Michigan quarterback — the first sophomore to quarterback the Wolverines since 1938 proved a fine passer and smashing linebacker in a 50-0 rout of Washington.

Earl Byrne, Princeton wingback—scored all three Tiger touchdowns on passes in 20-14 win over Lafayette.

Don Ellis, Texas A&M quarterback — passed for both touchdowns as Aggies came from behind to tie Houston 14-14.

Record Run Gives Fair Racing Crown

Joy Fair of Pontiac toured the Pontiac M-59 Speedway in record time for 50 laps Sunday afternoon to win the Land-O-Lakes Racing Association club hardtop championship.

Fair out-distanced Dick Dewey of Pontiac and Chuck Partello of Rochester in 17 minutes, 30.26 seconds for the 12½-mile run on the quarter-mile oval.

A total of 42 cars participated in the day's races. Jack Conley won the 15-lap semi-final and Windiate Park's Phil Ragatz won the Australian pursuit.

Berlien, Zannoth Win Sunday Races in WLYA

Berlien's Ramblin' Rascal took first in the lightning class. Zannoth's Seaweed was first in the thistle class. This race proved to be one of the best of the entire season.

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A 19-year-old Western Michigan college outfielder has signed a contract with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Sophomore Bill Stuifbergen, who was an all-state football and basketball player at Kalamazoo Central High School, signed yesterday. He will report to the Ottawa Club in the International League next year.

Huskies Provide Little Opposition for Michigan 11

Oosterbaan Is Satisfied as His Squad Runs Up Count of 50-0

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A satisfied football coach is as rare as an unbiased alumnus. And Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan was no exception today, despite the 50-0 victory over Washington with which his talented Wolverines opened their 1953 campaign Saturday.

1. Louis Baldacci, untried sophomore came through with flying colors directing the Michigan team with poise and imagination:

2. Michigan offense proved highly dangerous, averaging 6.3 yards per play and 53 rushing attempts and 21 pass tries;

3. Wolverine defense was better than expected, throttling Washington to a total of 133 yards, and only once in the game allowing the Huskies inside the Michigan 25-yard line.

Granting all these points, the Michigan coach still said: "It was no test."

Ten backs helped to compile a fat rushing total of 337 yards, with sub fullback Bob Hurley's 81 yards as tops. Nine backs got into the passing act, four of them completing their throws.

Halfbacks Ted Kress and Tony Branoff slashed at the tackles and ends to get things moving. After Branoff scored the first of eight touchdowns on a seven yard pitchout play the Michigan defense forced the issue.

In the second half, Michigan scored three more on the hapless Huskies.

Only once did the Pacific coast visitors appear close to a score. Halfback Bobby Dunn's 70-yard punt return to the Michigan 24 set the stage. But Michigan defenses stopped the drive cold on the nine yard line.

The Wolverines, however, showed a weakness in the conversion department, missing six of the point after touchdown tries.

Oosterbaan also took some satisfaction in the "second string" touchdown parade. Scores were made by Hurley, fullback Dave Hill, halfback Ed Hickey. Baldacci on a pass from Kress.

Michigan is host next Saturday to a Tulane team that lost a 16-14 heartbreaker to Georgia Saturday.

Record 'Handle' Is Reported at Jackson

JACKSON (AP)—A record breaking mutuels betting of $116,245 placed by the largest crowd in the tracks history, marked the end of the first week of a 36-night harness season at Jackson Raceway.

The previous high was $112,302 on June 7, 1952.

Sweikert Is Victor in 'Hoosier Hundred' Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Wrecking his automobile at Syracuse Sept. 12 had no noticeable effect on Bob Sweikert's nerve in the "Hoosier Hundred" and he looks like the man to beat in the last two AAA 100-milers of the season, Oct. 25 at Sacramento and Nov. 11 at Phoenix.

Sweikert led from the first lap against hair raising challenges by Manuel Ayulo and won the Saturday race at the Indiana State Fairgrounds. The victory was worth $6,951.

Former Tribesmen Help Tigers Close Season With Victory at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — A couple of Cleveland Indian tradees did this to their former teammates in the final Detroit Tiger game of the season yesterday:

2. Kept the American League batting crown just out of third baseman Al Rosen's reach.

3. Led Detroit to a 7-3 win over the Indians, clinching sixth place in the American League standings for the Tigers.

Al Aber and Ray Boone were the two trouble makers for the Indians. Boone slammed out his 26th home run of the season in the first inning to give Aber a two-run margin to work on.

Aber let Rosen slam out three hits in five times at bat, but the Indian third sacker just couldn't catch Washington first baseman Mickey Vernon's .337 average.

His last chance came in the ninth inning and he got the count to 3-2, but then hit a slow bounder to Jerry Priddy who was playing third and ended up with a .336 average.

Bob Feller was aiming for his 250th major league win, but he took his seventh defeat of the season instead. He went as far as the seventh inning and was responsible for all Tiger runs. Art Houtteman, former Tiger, finished up for the Indians.

Another record was set: Larry Doby, Indian centerfielder, struck out three times, bringing his season total to 121 and breaking the American League record of 120 set by Gus Williams of the 1914 St. Louis Brown.

Irish 11 Turns Breaks Into Win Over Sooners

Leahy Well Pleased

By FRANK LEAHY

After one hundred and 20 minutes of football I am thoroughly convinced that Oklahoma and Notre Dame are two of the most evenly matched teams ever to meet on the gridiron.

It was our good fortune to have edged out Bud Wilkinson's fine team Saturday, but we have nothing but sincere respect and admiration for this great coach and his fine team.

Our most fortunate break was in that none of our players were injured seriously enough to keep them out of the lineup for any period of time.

Although many of the lads who were playing "both ways" for the first time made their share of mistakes. It was heartening to see Ralph Guglielmi intercept a pass and Joe Heap catch two men from behind as these two lads made their first appearance on defense.

Line play of both teams was quite good for such an early date in the season. In fact, there were many more fumbles than should be the case for either team, and I believe much of this can be attributed to hard tackling.

Our first two touchdowns were scored within five plays after Oklahoma fumbles had been recovered by Jim Schrader and Don Penza. The third six pointer came one play and forty-one yards after Guglielmi had intercepted a Sooner pass, while the final marker came six plays following a fumble recovery by Penza and Paul Matz.

Other top flight encounters of the day saw the co-favorites in the Big Ten, Michigan State and Ohio State, enhance their stature by recording wins over Iowa and Indiana.

In the southeast, co-favorites Georgia Tech and Florida battled to a scoreless tie. Mighty Michigan made known the fact that Michigan State will have to go some to claim the Wolverine state title as they handed Washington a most convincing defeat.

Major Crowds Show Decrease

Drop of 239,899 Is Revealed at End of Season, Sunday

NEW YORK (AP)—Major League baseball attendance fell off for the fifth straight year although there was an increase in the National League thanks to the record turnout at Milwaukee.

Records show that after the season's final games yesterday, the 16 clubs drew a total of 1,393,145, a drop of 239,899 from the 1952 attendance of 14,633,044.

National League's figures were boosted over a million by Milwauke, which drew 1,826,397 for a new league record and more than a million and a half over the Braves' attendance last year at Boston. Only the champion Dodgers, in addition to the Braves, showed an increase over 1952. Brooklyn was up more than 70,000.

Edmonton Gains 2-2 Tie With Parent Wings

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Detroit Red Wings headed home today to complete training at Olympia stadium for defense of their fifth National Hockey League championship.

Wings, however, carried with them a 2-2 tie which their Western League farm hands from Edmonton, Alta., managed here last night.

Still the Red Wings could boast that in five exhibition games they hadn't been beaten. They whipped Edmonton twice and won 1 and tied 1 with the Chicago Black Hawks of the NHL.

Detroit jumped off to a 2-0 lead last night on goals by Metro Prystai and Glen Skov. Len Haley got one for Edmonton in the second period and Earl (Ching) Johnson blasted one in at 18:57 of the final period to make it 2-2.

Such Crust Captures Imperial Cup Feature

NEW MARTINSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — Bill Cantrell of Louisville, Ky., famed as an auto racer at the Indianapolis Speedway, won the gold cup at the New Martinsville Speed Boat Regatta here Sunday.

Cantrell piloted Such Crust V to win both heats of the Imperial Gold Cup running at an average speed of 89.048 miles per hour — a slow time forced by poor running conditions.

A persistent jinx returned to beset the favorite again as Slo-Mo-Shun V, sister ship of the world's fastest speedboat, threw an oil filter and failed to complete even the first lap of the championship heat.

Mt. Clemens Ruled Out

Writer Bemoans Fragile Build of Thoroughbreds; Unlike Other Animals, Horses Not Built for Trade

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—A year or two ago we had Hill Gail and Windy City II running. Windy City II ran away from Hill Gail twice, and then broke down.

Hill Gail won the Santa Anita Derby and later the Kentucky Derby. Then Hill Gail broke down and has been little good since. Dark Star won the Kentucky Derby this year and was leading Native Dancer in the Preakness. At this point Dark Star breaks down. Out for life. Mark-Ye-Well is the money winner of 1952 around Los Angeles. Mark-Ye-Well breaks down.

Native Dancer is the big horse of many years. He doesn't complete his three-year-old career. He's out for the rest of the year. Ben Jones and Calumet pay the cost to have 19 horses competing at Belmont, then have to cancel the lot. Apparently not one was in tip-top shape.

A thoroughbred's main business, of course, is to run. But he is the worst-built animal for his trade ever known. A lion, tiger, gorilla, elephant or leopard is built for his way of living.

Why couldn't a horse have been built the same way? He has 1,000 or 1,100 pounds of animal meat placed upon ankles or hoofs that should belong to some dainty lady debutante.

Practically everything about a thoroughbred is arranged by nature for sudden demolition or a long haul with a veterinary.

A thoroughbred is about as beautiful a creature as any. It has a bear, gorilla, elephant, perhaps a lion, beaten for looks. Also it might be mentioned that most thoroughbreds are dead game. The best ones will run on three legs. They will give all they have to give. The are everything but sound and strong.

* * *

You breathe on a thoroughbred and he immediately gets tuberculosis or a bad cough. Barns are full of sick or crippled horses. Experts keep busy firing them or maneuvering their osselets into position.

Even Tom Fool was laid up most of his three-year-old career. He's now a tough campaigner, but like the others he yielded to the thoroughbred's weakness.

On a general average, if you can get half time out of any horse you can figure yourself lucky. The only exception we know was Exterminator, Old Bones, who in his seventh year was winning races under 138 pounds.

Vernon, Furillo Eke Out Major Batting Crowns

Mickey Nips Al Rosen, Idle Dodger Shades Al Schoendienst

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK (AP) — Washington's Mickey Vernon and Carl Furillo of the Dodgers were breathing a bit easier today after winning the 1953 major league batting titles on the final day of the season.

Vernon, who also won the championship in 1946, had to stave off a late drive by Al Rosen of the Indians to capture the American crown with a .337 average. Rosen finished a point behind at 336.

The resurgent Red Bird wound up with a .342 mark. He had two hits in four trips yesterday.

Rosen, who ended the season with a 20-game hitting streak, came within a step of shading Vernon. The Cleveland third baseman collected three hits in his first four at bats against Detroit Sunday.

In his last trip, Rosen appeared to beat out a slow infield grounder, but he was called out for failing to touch first base.

As it turned out, this deprived him of the batting championship. If Rosen had been credited with a hit his average would have been .33722 and it would have topped Vernon's .33717.

Vernon, meanwhile, aided his own cause by delivering two hits in four trips against the A's.

Rosen just missed batting's triple crown, for he led the league in both home runs, with 43, and runs batted in, with 135. He would have been the seventh player to accomplish the triple crown feat.

Eddie Mathews of the Braves garnered National League home run laurels with 47 and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella paced the RBI department with 142.

Furillo, Woodling to Be Ready for World Series

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Carl Furillo of Brooklyn and Gene Woodling of the New York Yankees, injured World Series outfield regulars, expect to be ready for the opening game Wednesday at Yankee Stadium.

Furillo took batting practice Saturday night at Philadelphia for the first time since he broke a finger in a fist fight with Leo Durocher Sept. 6.

"I'll be ready," he said. "It hurt a little, but not much. I was favoring my hand a little but I've got time to get set. I'll be okay. Don't worry about me."

Furillo used a sponge in the sensitive portion of his left hand while he swung at the toses of Erv Palica and Joe Black. He had to confine himself to pepper practice yesterday because a threat of rain eliminated the regular batting drill.

Although benched for three weeks, Furillo won the league batting title with .344 as a late surge by Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals fell two points short.

The Dodgers were scheduled to work out at Yankee Stadium this afternoon following a morning practice session by the Yanks.

Woodling has played since he hurt his left hand by banging into the railing while making a catch. But his hand is swollen and sensitive, making it painful to grip a bat. Gene worked out yesterday before the Yanks' final game using a sponge taped to his bat. He hit the ball hard.

Loss of Woodling would be a stiff blow to the Yanks. He is a fine outfielder, expert at judging a ball in the tricky left field shadows at the stadium. He wound up with a .306 batting average, tops on the club. If the hand forces him out of the lineup, his replacement will be Irv Noren, a .267 hitter.

Carl Erskine (20-6) of the Dodgers and Allie Reynolds (13-7) of the Yanks were regarded as a sure bet for the starting assignments in the opener.

Browns, Rams, Colts Victors

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK, (AP)—Last year at this time no one thought much of the Detroit Lions' chances of winning the National Football League championship. Here and there, the words "dark horse" crept into the conversation, but that was as far as any expert would commit himself.

Things are different today, though. Even before the league season opened yesterday, the Lions were tabbed as the choices to win the Western Conference title and go on to battle Cleveland, the perennial Eastern Conference leader for the crown.

The Lions have been coming along slowly over a period of four years and now seem to have reached their peak. They opened with a convincing 38-21 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, as tough a bunch of blokes as there are in the league.

In the other games, Cleveland defeated the Green Bay Packers 27-0; Los Angeles whipped the New York Giants 21-7; Baltimore edged the Chicago Bears 13-9; Washington turned back the Chicago Cardinals 24-13, and the San Francisco 49ers slugged the Philadelphia Eagles 31-21.

Otto Graham, as expected, led Cleveland to its triumph over the Packers by completing 18 of 24 passes. Baltimore beat the Bears in their first league game since taking over the Dallas franchise at the end of last season. Bert Rechinchar, on his first field goal attempt in the league, set a record of 56 yards. He also scored a touchdown.

Washington scored 17 points in the last quarter to lick the Cardinals. The Chicago outfit dug its own grave by permitting the Redskins to pick up two fumbles and convert them into touchdowns.

The tight defense of Steve Owen's New York outfit held the Rams' to a 7-0 halftime lead. But in the last half, Norm Van Brocklin fired a pair of touchdowns passes to break the game open.

For real action, the San Francisco-Philadelphia game was the one to see. A free-for-all started in the last quarter and it took a squad of cops to restore order. No one knew how the fight started, but when it was over Charley Powell of the 49ers and Bob Walston of the Eagles were tossed out. Y. A. Tittle tossed three touchdown passes and scored once himself.

MSC-Minnesota Contest Only Big Ten Counter

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State will get into the Big Ten's deeper water Saturday, meeting Minnesota at Minneapolis in the only conference game.

Spartans made their debut in Big Ten football competition a success last week with a 21-7 triumph over the Iowa Hawkeyes.

Minnesota, figured for a first division berth in pre-season rankings, may be more troublesome, especially after losing its opener at Southern California 17-7.

Michigan State will be favored to defeat the Gophers, run its winning streak to 26 games and become the first Big Ten team to register two league victories this season.

Other games pit conference teams against intersectional or traditional rivals. Purdue, tumbled 14-7 by Missouri, will entertain Notre Dame's fighting Irish, who opened with an impressive 28-21 decision at Oklahoma.

Northwestern, buoyed by a 35-0 shellacking of weak Iowa State, is host to Army. Illinois, scoring twice in the last quarter to tie Nebraska 21-21, is host to Stanford.

Ohio State, a top-ranking title favorite which crushed Indiana 36-12, takes on California at Berkley. Michigan, groomed for a title contending role by smashing Washington 50-0, is host to Tulane.

Phillies Will Trade Waitkus

Even Bigger Problem Is Jim Konstanty, Who Wants to Go

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —Philadelphia Phillies have decided to trade first baseman Eddie Waitkus for jumping the club and also are considering relief pitcher Jim Konstanty's startling demand for a trade.

"We'll trade Waitkus this winter," owner Bob Carpenter said. "We won't give his contract away, but we'll trade him if we can get a decent deal for him."

The unprecictable first baseman was suspended from the club Sunday for leaving the team in New York last weekend without asking permission.

Waitkus, who spent most of the year on the bench since the Phils acquired Earl Torgeson, admitted he "made a mistake" by leaving the club without permission to visit his father and said the club was "perfectly justified" in suspending him.

A bigger problem on the front office desk was the request of bespectacled Konstanty to be traded to another club.

Konstanty, who broke a league record for pitching appearances during the Phils' 1950 pennant winning season, said his request followed a dispute with manager Steve O'Neill over his request for more work on the mound.

Latham Is Stopped in Top Bout on Amvets' Program

Jay Latham of Pontiac was stopped by Flint's Henry Williams in a bristling feature bout of the Bemis-Olsen Amvets boxing show for Flint Tornado Relief at the Pontiac Armory Saturday night.

Six other bouts rounded out the card.

Pontiac welterweight Dick Goyette gained the decision over Mickey McCarty of Flint; Dick Gidcumb, Pontiac 127-pounder was the winner over George Murphy of Flint; Bob Sykes gained the nod over Dave Runyan in a 135-pound bout. Both boys are from Pontiac.

Pete Romeo won from Ernie Bradford in another all-Pontiac bout at 165 pounds; Larry Lamphere of Pontiac stopped Bob Howel of Flint in the third round of their 140-pound bout; and Eddie Bridges stopped Bill Cataline of Flint in the third round of their 135-pounder.

Virgil Roberts was matchmaker for the affair. Bill Strange was timekeeper, Bobby Watson of Detroit, referee and seconds were Speedy Johnson, Boris Bisogna, Ray Monette, Gordon Meadows and Dick LaForge.

CASE—Out of a Crouch.

CURE—Increase Push-Away—If you feel comfortable bowling out of a crouch, whether using three or four steps, concentrate on a long push-away to get swing, as illustrated.

Note that the arm is fully extended. In this way alone will the

Lowry Captures Archery Crown in OCSC Shoot

In Sunday's broadhead archery championships, shot over the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club course, Jack Lowrey outdistanced the field with a free-style score of 335 (for all classes of competition).

Theobell Payne's 135 topped the women shooters.

The OCSC Archery club plans a winter, indoor league season, starting in January, and the club's annual banquet, with presentation of season's awards the feature, is set for Nov. 7.

Approximately 25 archers took part in Sunday's event.

Many of the club archers today had completed plans for participation in the state's archery deer season, starting Oct. 1.

Depth Pays Off With Wins for Some, Causes a Few Upsets

NEW YORK (AP) — The new substitution rule which has thrown some schools for a loss so far in this young college football season has been turned into an effective scoring weapon by others.

Teams like Notre Dame, Michigan State, Ohio State, Southern Cal. and UCLA have been taking advantage of their combination of depth and talent to show how successful near 60-minute ball players can be.

Frank Leahy's fighting Irish got by one of the toughest hurdles by defeating Oklahoma 28-21 last week end. Notre Dame employed its first team for 55 minutes.

Michigan State defeated Iowa 21-7 and Ohio State ran over Indiana 36-12 in opening Big 10 victories brought about by the superior manpower and finesse with which they appear to have licked the one platoon problem.

UCLA stopped Kansas 19-7 and USC downed Minnesota 17-7 with the same system on the west coast.

For other teams limited substitutions has meant an equalizing factor. If you don't believe it take a look at Amherst's 7-6 triumph over Brown.

Weather was a major factor in Georgia Tech's scoreless draw with Florida which stopped a Tech winning skeen at 18 games but did not halt an unbeaten string which now is at 28.

However, highly-rated teams like Tennessee which lost to Mississippi State 26-0, Alabama and Navy which wound up in ties with Louisiana State (7-7) and William and Mary (6-6) respectively and Villanova which took a 41-12 pounding from Texas are finding it tough to convert platoon specialists to the new game.

Centers unaccustomed to passing the ball back 12 to 15 yards to a kicker and backs who are new to the art of blocking on a punt would seem to account for the many blocked kicks over the weekend.

Blocked punts played important parts in the USC, UCLA, Notre Dame, Mississippi State and Texas victories. They also helped Missouri upset Purdue 14-7, Clemson tie Boston College 14-14 and Michigan pulverize Washington 50-0.

Passing of Penn's Ed Gramigna was one of the keys to the 13-7 Quaker victory over Vanderbilt while Texas A&M's Don Ellis threw a pair of scoring passes for a 14-14 tie with Houston.

Flag Races Easy but Individual Titles Difficult

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Baseball 1953 produced a pair of short-priced pennant winners and a host of long-shot individual champions.

The New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers so clearly outclassed their opposition that a 10-year-old child who couldn't pick the winners by early June should have been chastised.

The Yanks, winning a record-breaking fifth straight crown, led for all but nine days of the season. They finished 8½ games ahead of the Cleveland Indians.

Brooklyn clinched its second successive flag, unique in Dodger history, on Sept. 12, earliest date in league history. The Dodgers ended 13 games in front of the surprising Milwaukee Braves.

But the individual winners, particularly the batting champions, rarely figured in preseason calculations.

Carl Furillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who during the winter gambled his major league career on a delicate eye operation to improve his vision, won the National League batting title with an excellent .344 average. A year ago he hit a weak .243.

And in the American League Mickey Vernon of Washington, whose 1946 batting crown was viewed by many as more luck than skill, jumped from .251 last season to .337, one point ahead of Al Rosen of Cleveland. It was the first time since 1946 that Vernon has hit over .300.

Rosen won both the homer and runs-batted-in crowns in the American League. He hit 43 home runs, 15 more than last year, and drove home 145 runs.

Roy Campanella of the Dodgers broke almost every record available for a catcher, both offensively and defensively. His 142 runs batted in gave him the National League title.

In the pitching department the most impressive winners were Warren Spahn of the Braves, who won 23 while losing only 7, and Bob Porterfield of Washington with a 22-10 record. Robin Roberts won more than 20 games for the fourth straight year, finishing with a 23-16 mark after a rough final six weeks. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn and rookie Harvey Haddix of St. Louis were the National League's other 20-20-game winners. In the American, Bob Lemon of Ceveland, Virgil Trucks of Chicago and Mel Parnell of Boston hit the 20-game circle. Lemon won 21.

An 8-2 final-day triumph over Philadelphia enabled the Dodgers to break an all-time Brooklyn club record with 105 victories. The Yankees, who had figured to win 100, missed by one when they bowed 2-1 to Boston.

In other last-day games Detroit beat Cleveland 7-3, Chicago edged the St. Louis Browns 2-1 in 11 innings and Philadelphia whipped the Senators 9-2. In the National League Milwaukee defeated Cincinnati 8-2, Chicago shaded the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 and Pittsburgh whipped the Giants 6-4.

Haney Will Manage Bucs Again in 1954

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fred Haney, who had one of the most difficult jobs in baseball the past season, will manage the Pittsburgh Pirates again next year.

General Manager Branch Rickey handed the 55-year-old ex-Pacific Coast League pilot another one-year contract last night. Terms were figured to be around $35,000.

The Rickey-Haney agreement came just a few hours after the Pirates had beaten the New York Giants 6-4 to give them 50 victories in a season which included 104 defeats.

Quarter-Million Hunters Are Expected to Turn Out for Thursday's Opening

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

The call of whistling wings, scampering wild feet and the bright Michigan October by now is almost too strong to bear for nearly a quarter million expected to start hunting next Thursday.

State's first major hunting seasons open on Oct. 1, at 6 a.m. for bow and arrow deer hunting and upland small game in the north, and at noon for waterfowl.

Majority of the hunters will be in the northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula to start the season on ruffed grouse, sharptailed grouse, prairie chicken, rabbits and hares.

Hunting along with these thousands on the northern uplands will be the select few who go after woodcock. And this year, for the first time in many years, jacksnipe hunting will be permitted, starting, too, on Oct. 1.

Jacksnipe shooting, however, is limited, ending Oct. 15.

Opening-day upland hunters are going to be hampered by too-heavy foliage again this year. Leaves have not even started to fall to any degree in the Upper Peninsula, much less the northern Lower Peninsula.

But the leaves are turning color. Their gaudy hues will at least partly make up for the advantage they give the game.

Archers, who can begin hunting deer anywhere in the state on the big day, will find the leaves as much a disadvantage as the bird hunters. They will find, however, just about as much game as last year except for a strip across the Lower Peninsula. This strip, lying roughly between M-20 and M-55, was a little over-shot by gunners during last year's any-deer season in the northern Lower Peninsula.

Strip has been closed to all but buck hunting in the coming gun deer season.

Second biggest wave of hunters is expected to open the season on ducks, geese and other waterfowl. They are expected to total nearly 100,000.

Biggest change in the waterfowl season this year is an hour's extension of hunting every day. Closing hour has been set back from one hour before sunset to sunset. This alone probably will mean an increased take of both ducks and geese.

Walker Shares Honors as Motor City 11 Tops Steelers, 38-21

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—One of the biggest "steals" in pro football history took place three years ago. That's when the Detroit Lions acquired Bobby Layne from the New York Bulldogs for a player named Camp Wilson.

The Bulldogs and Wilson, as you may know, have since vanished from the scene. Indeed, the Bulldogs—who had neither bark nor bite—lasted only one year in the National Football League.

But Layne, who learned to throw a football in Texas, still is going strong and, if anything, seems to get better each season.

Lions opened their season Sunday and it was Layne who led them to a convincing 38-21 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pounder quarterback—said to be "too fat" in training—completed 16 passes in 34 attempts for 364 yards. He completely outpassed and outclassed the Steeler's heralded JVIM Finks, who completed two fewer passes — 14—but gained only 178 yards with them.

Layne hit end Leon Hart (43 yards) and halfback Bob Hoernschmeyer (19 yards) with touchdown strikes and set up two others.

In three seasons with Detroit Layne has tossed 63 touchdown passes.

Sharing honors with Layne Sunday was Doak Walker, the elusive halfback, who scored 14 points on a touchdown catch, five extra points and a 40-yard field goal.

Also scoring for the Lions were two rookies—fullback Lewis Carpenter, who raced 73 yards with an intercepted pass, and Gene Gedman, a speedy halfback who slammed across from one-foot out.

Gedman scored after Layne's passes set it up and Walker kicked a field goal before a Layne-Hart TD pass.

Elbie Nickel of the Steelers took touchdown passes from Jim Finks and ex-UD star Ted Marchibroda. Ray Mathews fell on a fumble in the Lion end zone for the Pittsburghers other tally.

Before the two veterans went through their qualifying paces for Casey Stengel the other day, we had regarded the series as close to a tossup, with the Yankees holding perhaps a slight edge. Now it is our unbiased view that the Bombers should be 3-2 or even longer to win.

The Super Chief and Easy Ed are virtually certain to start the first two games at Yankee Stadium. Reynolds will be seen another time or two if the playoff should go the limit, possibly in relief.

Less than a month ago Reynolds had been one of the season's outstanding flops. Hampered by a series of ailments, the pride of Oklahoma had been unable to win with any consistency. It wasn't until last Sept. 2 that Stengel and his pitching coach, Jim Turner, began thinking seriously of their World Series problems and realized they would badly need Allie as a starter.

Reynolds agreed to try. Since then, making four starts, he has pitched 36 innings in which he has yielded six earned runs and struck out. 31.

Conjecture about Lopat's role in the series arose when the chubby southpaw with the mystifying assortment of "nothing" pitches was struck on the instep by a batted ball less than a fortnight ago. He was on crutches at first and still was limping painfully a week ago.

But then, the day after Reynolds had passed his final exam, Lopat strolled out and notched his 16th win of the year in a similar seven-inning stint against the A's.

AL Spurns Baltimore Bid; Browns May Go to Coast

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — The impoverished St. Louis Browns, denied permission to transfer to Baltimore, are still in St. Louis today but the club appears headed for the West Coast by 1955.

Vice President Del Webb of the New York Yankees, leader in yesterday's successful fight against Baltimore — that city's second rebuff in six months—is prepared to lead the way westward with Los Angeles the preferred spot.

Webb was one of four American League club owners who told Brownie President Bill Veeck that for the time being he must stay in St. Louis, where he lost upwards of three-quarters of a million dollars in 2½ seasons.

The vote was four in favor of moving to Baltimore and four against. The Browns thus fell two short of the necessary two-thirds majority. A breakdown of the secret ballot was not announced but it was learned that Philadelphia, Boston and Cleveland sided with New York against the move.

The league's decision proved a crushing blow for both Veeck and the Baltimore delegation.

Webb and Vice President Calvin Griffith of Washington said Veeck announced at the meeting he would sell the Browns to a St. Louis syndicate seeking the club, but Veeck denied this.

Later, after he had discussed the matter with his associates, Veeck appeared even more bitter than ever.

"They're trying to squeeze me out of baseball. I'll decide what to do by tomorrow morning. I may do something that could be called regrettable."

Veeck declined to disclose his plans but Rudy Schaeffer, general manager of the Browns, said:

"The next step could be a law suit. We may bring a two million dollar suit against the league for the stock that has been subscribed by the people of Baltimore and damages for commitments made."

Webb championed the bid of a Los Angeles group headed by Mayor Norris Poulson. This delegation put up a cash offer of 2½ million dollars for the franchise and said up to six million could be raised within 10 days.

Yawkey Boosts Boudreau's Pay for '54 Season

BOSTON (AP) — Lou Boudreau, major leagues' second youngest manager at 36, has been rewarded with a new two-year contract for having his Boston Red Sox finish in fourth place in the American League with 84 victories and 69 defeats.

Boudreau announced that he had signed through the 1955 season in New York yesterday after his youthful team finished its season by defeating the pennant-winning Yankees, 2-1.

Admitting he was given a salary boost by owner Tom Yawkey, Boudreau advised writers:

"You fellows have been too high in your estimates of my salary. It is not as high as $60,000."

Louis Flies Home to Be With Ailing Mother

DETROIT (UP)—Joe Louis, ex-heavyweight boxing champion, flew here from Boston early today to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Lillie Barrow Brooks, 69, who is critically ill.

The former champ visited his mother briefly at Woman's Hospital. She was admitted to the hospital Friday night for treatment of a heart ailment.

Tigers' Bonus Baby Tops Majors' Hitting

DETROIT (AP)—Hittingest man in the major leagues wasn't Mickey Vernon of Washington or Carl Furillo of Brooklyn who won the batting championship. He was shortstop Harvey Kuenn of the Detroit Tigers, playing his first full season in big time baseball.

Kuenn, a 22-year-old "bonus baby" signed off the University of Wisconsin campus, collected 209 hits, four more than either Vernon or Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies, who led the National League. Kuenn went to bat 679 times, compared to Vernon's 608 trips and Furillo's 479, and ended up with a .308 average. Vernon had .337 and Furillo .344.

Hal Boyle Says:

Miracle Drug Prescribed: Try Loafing, Plain Loafing,

NEW YORK (AP)—Loafing, the oldest and finest of the arts, is now being medically prescribed as a way to stay healthy.

So if you get sick it may be your own fault through failure to employ this easily available miracle drug.

Two specialists told the Michigan Medical Society this week Americans need to slow down, that a 15-minute pause in the day's duties would help curb heart disease and mental disturbances.

"Why, just plain, old-fashioned loafing has become a lost art," commented one.

Before we go deeper into how to live longer by loafing, let us examine why this life-prolonging, health-enriching art was lost from our culture.

Well, the common man is usually blamed for everything. But in this case he has a clear alibi.

He has always had a sneaking suspicion the old theory about hard work never hurting anybody was false as the whiskers on a department store Santa Claus. And improvising as best he could, he has done his best to keep the art of loafing from dying out altogether.

You can't blame the government either. Nobody could fairly accuse the politicians of having lost the art of loafing. Some have even made a heart-warming attempt to turn it into a science.

The real guilty party is probably, a last-century, how-to-get-ahead writer named Horatio Alger. He made loafing disreputable.

He misled his ambitious young countrymen by writing books with such lurid titles as, "Sink or Swim," "Strive and Succeed"!

Soon everybody was trying to outstrive everybody else. To stay respectable you had to do your loafing in secret. And secret loafing is like secret drinking—more of a problem than a pleasure.

There is no doubt that many who followed Alger's "Sweat and Get" doctrine became rich and successful men. They still do.

They also often leave rich and successful widows who can afford to marry and support a charming loafer.

But Horatio Alger never wrote these happy endings to his fables. He couldn't stand to see a loafer get the rewards of honest leisure.

It never occurred to him that he was an ulcer merchant. He never realized all work and no play may make Jack a lot of jack—but also can make him sick and unhappy, and kill him in his prime.

Doctors also used to regard idleness as un-American, and sought success by the Alger formula.

Soon the overworked doctors were treating each other for the same diseases as their overworked patients — and keeling over at the same untimely age.

Now the smart physicians are beginning to take their own new prescriptions. They are learning when to put down a hot stethoscope and pick up a cool golf club.

But reforms come slowly. The go-getter is still afraid to loaf except on medical advice.

His goal now is to work so hard he will get so sick that a doctor has to warn him to start loafing or he'll never get well enough to begin working himself to death again.

His conscience won't let him relax until the doc tells him, "Okay, take it easy — or else those banjo string nerves of yours will go out of tune forever."

We'll never revive the lost art of plain, old-fashioned loafing that way.

Nor can we restore it by any measly 15-minute daily rest period, as advocated by the two doctors at the Michigan medical confab. If loafing does help avoid heart trouble and mental upsets, why stop at a 15-minute dose? That is like saying:

"Quick—hurry up and loaf."

Why, even a woman can't work up a good sulk in 15 minutes. The wonderful thing about loafing is you can't hurry it without destroying its medicinal effects.

Anybody who thinks he can get any real loafing done in 15 minutes probably also would be willing to try to row the liner Queen Mary to Europe using only a chicken feather as an oar.

You may be able to learn to play the piano in 15 minutes a day, but if you want to become an artist at loafing you've got to buckle down and give it the best years of your life.

(Tomorrow: How to become a successful loafer)

Wheat Firm, Others Slow

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat had a quite firm tone on the Board of Trade today but the rest of the market was not able to make as much progress as the bread cereal.

At the start the nearby corn and soybeans contracts showed considerable easiness, although they recovered later in line with the firm tone of wheat. Initial selling was based on large receipts of cash soybeans, totaling 424 cars, and moderately heavy receipts of cash corn, totaling 326 cars.

Protest Red Jet Encroachment

Allied Command Lodges Complaint That 2 Planes Flew Over Neutral Zone

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Allied Command protested today that two Communist jets flew across the neutral zone into South Korea Sept. 20 in violation of the armistice.

The protest was lodged at the meeting of the joint secretariat of the military armistice commission.

Capt. B. M. Coleman, secretary for the U. N. side, identified the jets only as "single-engine." They probably were Migs, the only single-engine Communist jets seen in Korea.

Coleman said the jets flew "from the north" over the line near Munsan, the Allied truce headquarters site in western Korea, and then turned southwest, apparently out to sea off the west coast.

Coleman expressed regret that three Allied jets had flown over the demarcation line Sept. 1 and four other Allied jets crossed the line Sept. 4. He denied a Red charge that two more jets crossed on Sept. 4.

Car Jewelry Includes Pot to Make Java

If you become bored on the highway or vexed at city traffic, you can brew a cup of coffee on the dashboard.

A new gadget plugs into a socket about the size of that of a cigarette lighter. Turn it on and in seven minutes a soft whistle signals to you that the water is boiling.

The coffee-maker comes in sizes ranging from one to four cups. You can stow it in the glove compartment when not in use.

Called Auto-Mix, it's made by a firm in Cologne, West Germany.

Car shields sporting your monogram are designed for use on the front doors, in case you want to adorn the family chariot with a personal touch. The small shields feature both the driver's initials and the insignia of the car manufacturer.

Finished in 18 karat gold, coated with lacquer for protection, the shields have an adhesive backing which allows them to be pressed on the doors. When you sell the car, you can peel off the shield without affecting the paint.

In Memoriam 1

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Blanche A. Bell, who passed away 1 year ago September 26.

Our lips need not speak when our hearts mourn sincerely,

KINSEY DID IT! SO DO WE

We dare to reveal the most intimate secrets from the past lives of these young lovelies . . .

Milly Mercury
Born in 1951 and married to one affectionate owner until just last week. She is shiny black, has four doors, with very low mileage. Where else can you get a companion like this for the low, low price we'll be glad to tell you about.

Fanny Ford
She's had some hard knocks in her years of traveling around, but she looks like a million and has lots of life left. Her marriage license doesn't cost much. Drop in and see us.

Marilyn Mercury

Lulu Lincoln
This gal's name is a perfect fit. She has been around since 1952, living a life of ease, and would give many happy miles to her new owner—that could be YOU. Why not?

Hildy Hudson
Very faithful to her first love, she was well treated, led a sheltered life. Since her owner has a new car she will do her best to be as good as she was when new in 1950.

Sal Studebaker
This red-head is as peaceful and quiet as you'd ever want. Let her be your "gal Sal"—We'll arrange the details.

Charlotte Chevy
This kid is always dressed in blue, blows her top occasionally (but only at your command). She is a great summer sport, but warm and cozy in the winter too. We'd like you to meet her.

The above is just a brief survey, there's more. Drop in at our lot, anyday; we are open 'til 9 every night, and we'll be glad to introduce you to the many other beauties on the lot.
