India Criticizes Pakistan for Truce Moves

Says Calling on U. S. to End Fighting Was 'Playing Politics'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India said today it will listen to peace appeals from President Johnson and accused Pakistan of playing politics in asking Washington to end the war on the subcontinent.

"We have already made a positive response to appeals by Johnson and others," a government spokesman said. "But Pakistan now is just engaged in political maneuvering."

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan told a news conference in Rawalpindi "the United States can play a very definite role by telling India and Pakistan she will not stand for this struggle."

Ayub also for the first time showed some flexibility on the question of a plebiscite in the disputed state of Kashmir, saying "It's a matter that can be negotiated." Up to now Pakistan has insisted on a plebiscite in Kashmir within three months.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told the Indian Parliament today that Ayub is only trying to "beguile the world" with his talk of peace.

"The evidence is that Pakistan is intending to continue the war," Shastri said.

He called on the Indian nation to "cheerfully undergo the hardships" necessary to stop what he called Pakistan's "naked aggression."

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant's peace mission failed "through the fault of our own," Shastri said, blaming Pakistan's insistence on a conditional cease-fire.

"Not one of these conditions is acceptable to us," Shastri said.

A comparative lull was reported this morning along the front in most sectors. An Indian defense ministry spokesman said there was fighting in the far north sector of Sialkot but combat had slackened almost everywhere else.

Shastri told Parliament that requested a cease-fire effective at 6:30 p.m. New Delhi time Tuesday and India agreed, but there was no response from Pakistan.

The secretary-general then set 6:30 a.m. New Delhi time yesterday for a cease-fire and Shastri said he again agreed, provided Pakistan also agreed by 9 a.m.

But, Shastri said, Pakistan still has not replied, and "the fight must continue."

UF Boost Is Asked of Industry

Increased corporate gifts to the Pontiac Area United Fund will be asked of 50 industrial firms to help bridge the gap between growing demands for services and required budget hikes.

Plans for the industrial support of the 1965 campaign were outlined yesterday by Thomas A. Wiethorn, Pontiac Fisher Body plant manager and chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Industrial Division.

The industrial Division annually raises about two-thirds of the over-all goal for the 55 agencies supported by the drive.

Local industrial growth and a period of peak employment during the past year were cited by Wiethorn as ideal conditions for a successful campaign.

He cautioned, however, "that these factors do not diminish the need for careful planning and a thorough job on the part of each chairman and solicitor."

33,000 WORKERS
Some 33,000 hourly and salaried employees will be contacted during the course of the drive to pledge one hour's pay per month through payroll deduction.

The industrial Division is composed of two groups, major manufacturers, headed by Alger V. Conner of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant; and 43 smaller manufacturers, headed by Michael Yaskin, also of Fisher Body.

Showers Are Likely Through Saturday

Scattered showers or thunder-showers will come and go today through Saturday.

Cloudy with occasional light rain and not so cool, the low near 57 to 65 is tonight's prediction.

Temperatures will warm up to 75 to 82 tomorrow then become cooler again Saturday.

Morning north to northeast winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become east to southeast at 8 to 18 m.p.h. tonight.

Control Unit Can't Explain Midair Crash of Guard Jets

DETROIT (AP) — Air traffic control officials today were at a loss to explain yesterday's fatal midair collision of two Michigan Air National Guard jets.

One of the two F84 photo reconnaissance jets crashed near Detroit's Metropolitan Airport, killing its pilot. The other, with some five feet of its metal nose clipped off by the impact, limped to a safe emergency landing.

An official at the Willow Run Airport control tower — which has over-all control of Metropolitan and Willow Run — said it would probably be difficult to determine just why the two craft touched tail and nose.

"I don't know how they're going to figure it out," he said. He added he expected the Air National Guard would probably take over any possible inquiry into the crash.

Second Lt. Dale Gaska, 27, of Ann Arbor was killed when his craft plowed into an open field and exploded on impact south-east of the airport.

The other plane was piloted by Capt. Harry M. Heppner III, 30, of Garden City, the spokesman said.

Both craft were on a training mission and had begun to enter the airport landing pattern when the collision occurred, he said.

The nose of Heppner's plane apparently smashed into the tail of Gaska's plane when Gaska cut in front of Heppner during a turn, the spokesman added.

Both planes belonged to the Guard's 127th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing.

Cosmonaut Reveals Soviet Space Plans

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov said today that the Soviet Union plans to place a permanent manned satellite around the earth and try crew exchanges before landing a man on the moon.

Leonov gave no timetable for the program, which differed from American plans. The United States hopes to shoot its Apollo space ship to the moon before 1970.

The Americans also plan a permanent manned satellite that would involve crew exchanges, but U.S. Apollo plans are not dependent on the permanent satellite program.

By holding up their moon shot until permanent stations are established, the Russians would be able to shoot a bigger ship to the moon by assembling it in space. The American three-man Apollo will be fired from earth.

Leonov, the first man to walk in space, indicated his own adventure was a rehearsal for an attempt at exchanging crews. He addressed a special plenary session of the international astronautical congress.

DESCRIBED FLIGHT
The Soviet cosmonaut and his space partner, Pavel Belavie, described their Vostok flight. Leonov said a main goal of his space walk was to test his space suit and the airlock on the spaceship.

Both Belavie and Leonov emphasized that the airlock would play a key role in the transfer of crews between a permanent manned satellite and a spaceship on a flight from which Edward H. White II took a space walk, had no airlock.

Since the Apollo is being launched from earth, its size will be limited by the launching capacity of its Saturn rocket.

HOIST COMPONENTS
If a spaceship for the moon is assembled in space, as the Russians appear to be planning, its components can be hoisted into space in several launches and its size need not be limited to the load capacity of a single rocket.

Leonov said he believes Malaysia's leaders are convinced that if the British withdrew from their bases here "the Americans would come in to protect them."

"And with the American record for picking the most vocal anti-Communists in Southeast Asia, I would be certain that the Malay leadership would use the Americans to preserve their position of control," he said.

Lee said he is convinced powerful Malay extremist politicians would try to use American troops to support Malay communal interests against the local ethnic Chinese.

Lee said this is why Singapore is now rejecting any suggestion that the United States might eventually have to assume British defense commitments in Southeast Asia.

He did not say who made the suggestion.

As proposed by Berman, the morgue would be used in emergency situations when facilities at area hospitals are not available.

Presently, the county uses morgue facilities at several county hospitals but has no county-owned morgue.

Berman, who is out of town until Monday, prepared his recommendation for the health committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors before leaving.

Committee members, at a meeting yesterday, approved the idea after an aide of Dr. Berman's presented the recommendation.

Cyril E. Miller, chairman of the seven-member health committee, said that all four members present at the meeting favored the plan for a county morgue.

COUNTY GROWTH
He said that with the growth of the county, it would eliminate the problem of not being able to find hospital facilities.

A preliminary drawing of the proposed $30,000 building was to be presented today to the building and grounds committee of the board of supervisors.

WASHING (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Sen. George A. Smathers challenged today Sen. J. W. Fulbright's contention that the Johnson administration bungled the Dominican crisis.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Wednesday President Johnson was given "unsound advice" and that fear of a Communist takeover in Santo Domingo was based on misinformation and on "exaggerated estimates of Communist influence."

The Arkansas Democrat said "the danger to American lives was more a pretext than a reason for the massive United States intervention."

He said, "In their panic lest the Dominican Republic become another Cuba, some of our officials seem to have forgotten that virtually all reform movements attract some Communist support."

Challenge Fulbright's Charge of 'Bungling'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Sen. George A. Smathers challenged today Sen. J. W. Fulbright's contention that the Johnson administration bungled the Dominican crisis.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Wednesday President Johnson was given "unsound advice" and that fear of a Communist takeover in Santo Domingo was based on misinformation and on "exaggerated estimates of Communist influence."

The Arkansas Democrat said "the danger to American lives was more a pretext than a reason for the massive United States intervention."

He said, "In their panic lest the Dominican Republic become another Cuba, some of our officials seem to have forgotten that virtually all reform movements attract some Communist support."

Fulbright said Johnson, on the basis of the information and counsel he received, could hardly have acted other than he did. The senator said he had no objection to sending a modest contingent of U.S. troops to Santo Domingo to save American lives, but claimed there was "over action" by the administration in the dispatch of 22,000 men.

JOINT INTERVENTION
In a joint interview Dirksen and Smathers, secretary of the Democratic conference, disagreed with Fulbright's interpretation of the situation. Like Fulbright, they attended a White House meeting the night Johnson made his decision to send in troops.

Dirksen said he agreed with Johnson's decision then "and I agree with it now."

"A good many people had already been killed in Santo Domingo," Dirksen said. "The Communists were building up their strength. The country could have been torn apart. The President had to act."

Smathers said those at the White House meeting were told there were available reports on 58 trained Communists already in the country.

Joint Session Hears Points of New Plan

Includes 3 Pct. Levy for Individuals, Four on Business Places

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney told the Legislature today that "only an income tax can provide the revenue needed for both tax reform and financial responsibility."

He laid a $150-million annual tax increase package before a joint session of the House and Senate and challenged legislators to give priority to "meeting the needs of the people" rather than "perpetuating one's self in office."

The Republican governor's arguments were mostly the same ones he has used all year in an attempt to get the Democratic-controlled legislature to raise revenue he says is needed by mid-1968.

The specific program was hammered out by Romney and a bipartisan group of tax-conscious legislators.

Senate Democrats voted last night to consider the program at the autumn session which began Tuesday. A House caucus decision is expected later today.

The program includes:
• A 3 per cent personal income tax and four per cent corporate and financial institutions' income tax effective Jan. 1, 1968.

• Three cent per pack increase in the cigarette tax, effective Jan. 1, 1968.

• Repeal of the business activities tax.

• General property tax relief of 12 1/2 per cent.

• Sales tax relief via a $15 per person annual credit.

• Increase the tax credit or the intangibles tax from $30 to $100 and repealing the tax from bank shares.

In his major salvo favoring taxes, the governor declared: "There is no conceivable way by which our present tax system can produce the revenues we need through the next two years to meet present state service level per person."

"Only our surplus (now estimated at $135.5 million) stands between Michigan and another financial crisis and loss of reputation that would be inescapable."

He likened the present situation to that of the mid-1950s when state revenue gains averaged nine per cent a year.

FORGOT HISTORY
"We were so prosperous we forgot the past and future," he said. He declared that by mid 1958 the growth rate had dropped to 5 per cent, wiped out the surplus and skidded into a deficit of $21 million in one year.

"The next year the roof cave in."

"Just as the mid-1950's were apparently deceptive to our predecessors," he declared, "so the mid-1960's can be deceptive."

Woman's Punch Fist Fails Motorized Thief

A thief attempted a motorized purse-snatch yesterday, but was foiled by a 62-year-old woman who punched him in the eye.

Minnie Alexander, 240 W. Wilson, told police she was approached near her home by a man with a striped shirt and black pants riding a motor bike.

The man rode up on the sidewalk and grabbed Miss Alexander's purse. With her free hand, she connected with a punch to the thief's eye.

YMCA Gets New Director of Activities

A new director will assume coordination of youth activities at the Young Men's Christian Association Monday. It was announced today.

David L. Lawrence, 28, formerly with the North Hill Branch of the Pittsburgh YMCA, has been named to the position, according to Pontiac YMCA general secretary Ted N. Slosson.

Slosson said Lawrence will assume direction of all youth programs, including advisory work with H-Y and Y-Teen clubs at Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern high schools.

Lawrence succeeds part-time director John McClure, who becomes aquatic director.

Lawrence received a B.S. degree in social science at the YMCA's George Williams College in Chicago. He is married and the father of two.

Storms Kill 26 in Japan

TOKYO (UPI)—Terrestrial rains, floods and landslides triggered by two typhoons have killed 26 persons and destroyed an estimated 400 homes, it was reported today.

The Kyodo news agency said 28 persons also were missing and 63 had been injured.

Japanese officials blamed the storms on Typhoon Virginia and Typhoon Triton.

New British Economic Plan Unveiled

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's Labor government today unveiled its long-awaited national economic plan designed to put the country back on its feet financially and boost production 25 per cent by 1970.

It was estimated that the increase in the country's gross national product under the plan will be more than $22.9 billion by the end of this decade.

The concept to which the government is committed lays down a basis for greater growth and aims to make fuller, more efficient use of manpower and resources. The plan is to build a more vigorous, competitive industry and insure rapid growth of industrial output.

The Labor government called the plan Britain's first attempt to regulate the economy. But Conservative party opposition leader Edward Heath, himself an economic expert, described the project as "the biggest publicity gimmick which the government has so far produced."

The much-heralded plan was described as a determined bid to break out of the "vicious circle" of on-and-off controls which have plagued Britain since the end of World War II. All post-war attempts at economic expansion have resulted in serious balance of payments problems for the country.

The plan will be reviewed periodically to tailor it to changing world economic patterns.

It was prepared by the Department of Economic Affairs, (DEA) under First Secretary of State George Brown in close consultation with industry and the National Economic Development Council (NEDC). The council includes union and management representatives.

All have voiced acceptance of the responsibilities involved in overcoming what the plan calls "obstacles to growth."

The government, involved in every aspect, will frame its policies to help achieve the aims of the plan, it was stated today.

In a foreword, Brown wrote: "Britain has one overriding economic necessity. We must pay our way in the world and to do this we must increase our production."

"We must sell a greater amount overseas and hold steady and even reduce the prices at which we can profitably do this. On our success in achieving this depend all our hopes for maintaining full employment and raising our standards of living."

The government wants to increase production 25 per cent by 1970. The gross national product in 1964 was $91.84 billion.

By 1970, under the plan, this will be increased by $22.96 billion.

The introduction to the plan made plain that the "central challenge" is to correct the balance of payments and repay outstanding debts.

"We must succeed if we are to take our proper place as a great trading nation, with ties with the Commonwealth, with Europe — particularly the countries of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) — and with the United States," it said.

"We must pay our way in an increasingly competitive world in which we have for too long been losing ground steadily to other industrial countries."

"This is a trend we must not allow to continue."

Work on the plan started soon after the Labor government was elected last October and is designed to mesh with the policies on prices and incomes.

Policies were established to cut down government spending abroad, reduce the flow of British capital into foreign investment fields, limit the growth of government spending at home and slice defense spending to relieve pressure on the country's pool of technical manpower.

Rewarding Times Seen by Pioneer Merchant

Joined by 56,000 associates in his nearly 1,700 department stores across the country, JAMES CASE PENNEY today celebrates in New York his 90th birthday. Incidentally, the local Penney store this year observes an anniversary of its own, marking a quarter-century since it appeared on the Pontiac scene.

JAMES CASE PENNEY

One of the Nation's pre-eminent merchants, PENNEY personified to the nth degree the HORATIO ALGER philosophy of work and win.

After an early failure in running a Denver butcher shop convinced him that he was meant to be a "dry goods man," he was employed by a chain establishing Golden Rule stores in Colorado and Wyoming. After being taken into partnership, Penney was given responsibility for opening an outlet in Kemmerer, Wyo.

That venture proved to be the beginning of the J. C. Penney Company when the organization was later incorporated in 1913.

Although the founder is no longer involved in direct management of his retail colossus, he can be seen daily, spry and alert, in his office in the firm's new Manhattan J. C. Penney Building.

As PENNEY has grown older, his interest in the young and opportunities for them has become more intense. At a time when the spirit of initiative and independence seems on the decline among the youth of America, his outlook is significant:

"The chances for success are so much better today than when I was starting out. For a young man or woman with a college education and the right attitude, there is no telling how far he or she can go." Many happy returns, J. C.

Congress Needle Stuck on Foreign Aid Record

Another foreign aid bill—embracing military, economic and technical assistance—has cleared the House. But not without a struggle—seven months of it, in fact. It now heads for the Senate.

This authorization edition of our annual global giveaway carried a $3.36 billion price tag.

The Senate had wanted a two-year program, with the whole concept of U. S. aid abroad to be overhauled and streamlined at the end of that time. Optimists might find in this attitude a grain of hope for eventual legislative sanity in the limitless area of helping those who don't help themselves.

But the House, insisting on a one-year plan, finally got its way—on the promise of taking a longer view the next time around.

In the House Appropriation Committee, the issue got better and faster service. The appropriation bill that emerged sliced but a thin $75 million off the authorization measure—the smallest cut in the aid program's 18-year history.

Yes, Uncle Sam's irrational sucker charade seems destined to play on forevermore.

Although we are not a strident member of Oregon's Democratic Senator Wayne Morse's fan club, we give him an A (for Against) on his stand during Senate debate on the foreign aid bill.

Declined the solon: "The American people are being fleeced and hoodwinked by widespread waste and inefficiency in the aid program."

Sound Last Call for Contest Try

$500 Bond Award Awaits Press Grid Classic Champ

Well, folks, this is positively the last huddle before the Saturday-morning deadline for entries to the Press Annual Football Contest.

But even though yours is a last-minute, race-the-clock exercise, its chance of snagging the $500 U. S. Savings Bond award is just as good as one submitted on the do-it-now plan.

Think of how many grid victories have been pulled out of the fire in the last minute of play. Isn't that enough to heat you up over your chance of doing same?

Nothing could be easier than entering this contest. No box top, no license, no coupon, no "Why I like . . ."—no nothing—is needed to put your entry among the select company of contestants.

Just tuse with the pickpicks, note the clues on the entry form (or facsimile) and start it Pressward. Oh, yes—you'd better read over the rules below to guard against a fumble.

Each year, despite our pleas, many entries land after the deadline and have to be disqualified. "Better late than never," might square you in some situations—like, maybe, showing up at your wedding—but in this case, you can't beat the clock.

1. Everyone is eligible to enter contest, but entries are limited to one for each family member. Employees of The Press and immediate members of their families are ineligible.

2. The contest deadline is noon of Sept. 18.

3. Entries must be on hand at The Press by that time. Even though postmarked earlier, they will be disqualified by late arrival.

4. To facilitate handling, please do not enclose entries in envelopes. Affix them to postal cards or cards of similar size—and address to Football Contest, The Pontiac Press, Box 9, Pontiac. A bonus of another $50 bond will be awarded if the winning entrant fully complies with this request.

Entries may be mailed, or dropped in the newspaper's Huron Street drop box.

5. The decision of Contest Judges will be final on all questions relating to the contest.

He Must Have His Own Time Machine!

David Lawrence Says:

Space Military Aspects Crucial

WASHINGTON — A belated decision — to spend billions for the defense of the United States in "near space" rather than concentrate solely on civilian projects — has at last been reached.

Military men have been arguing for a long time that Russia's primary interest in space development is military. The United States, on the other hand, has been emphasizing scientific research, the lunar exploration and possible discoveries in the planetary field.

But it has begun to dawn on official Washington that, while it may not be as efficient to use nuclear weapons from space as it is from missile bases, there is a distinct opportunity to carry on accurate observation and other military missions from high altitudes.

President Johnson has just approved the building of a manned orbiting laboratory by the military after years of bickering inside the government and continuous expressions of skepticism about the military value of space.

But a closer look at Soviet programs and a satisfactory experiment with two Americans flying around the earth for eight days have opened the eyes of everyone to the military possibilities.

Up to now, more than $12 billion has been set aside for manned space flights to the moon, and it has been planned to spend an additional $10 billion in that direction, together with billions more in other non-military space programs.

EMPHASIS IS CHANGING

But now the emphasis is changing. Although few details have been revealed, it is known that at least five or six major military-satellite programs now are under way. "U. S. News & World Report," in a recent article, said:

"The 'Samos' photo-intelligence satellites have exceeded all expectations, keeping the United States informed about the Soviet missile sites, nuclear progress in Red China and Communist troop movements in both countries."

"They parachute back pictures with 1,000 times the resolution of standard TV images."

"After an uncertain start, 'Midast' infra-red detectors are now able to detect Soviet rocket launches by picking up telltale exhaust gases and translating them into electronic signals."

ELECTRONIC LISTENING

"The 'Ferret' is a version of 'Samos,' equipped for electronic intelligence and communications eavesdropping."

"It is said to be useful for monitoring radar and radio traffic near Russia's major rocket-testing sites, tracking down coded or scrambled transmissions and relaying them to U. S. listening posts."

"What is envisioned now are giant 'national space platforms' at the center of military operations, directing fleets of interceptors and destroyers, rescue and logistic vehicles.

"Each platform would carry 10 to 20 men, stay up for months and possibly years."

There are other plans having to do with possible "futuristic" weapons that might destroy enemy targets from outer space. These are still in the theoretical stage.

But one thing is clear—control of space by a single nation or group of nations would mean an end to any balance of power on earth.

Look Ahead for China to Worsen World Woes

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There are now two wars, which make these days look like the same old bubbling and boiling the world has lived through for 20 years, but future men may consider them simply the end of an era.

The new era begins when Red China finally has a supply of nuclear bombs. It has had its test explosions and now can be considered to be in the process of perfecting its weapons.

The 20 years since World War II have seen a greater transformation in the composition of the world than any similar period in history.

A multitude of new nations came into existence; colonialism all but ended; the development of atomic weapons has made all previous weapons look like matches; man has moved into space; Russian communism and the Western world went through breathless moments in tests of strength; and both sides became mature enough to forsake tensions, at least for a while.

But the maturity was achieved through fear, not philosophy, since both sides have weapons powerful enough to eliminate each other. Through their rival strengths they were compelled to respect each other's power of destruction.

In time, a fully armed China might be expected to feel the same. But at best this can be only a hope, and the indications from Red China now are the opposite.

In these past years, despite its hunger, poverty and machinations, Red China, because of its feeble and old-fashioned weaponry, has had to stand pretty much on the sidelines, growling maledictions but afraid of a showdown in which it would be totally outclassed by the infinitely superior power of the United States and the Soviet Union.

Troubled as these past 20 years have been, they may look like a time of comparative peace when considered against the years ahead. If this sounds ominous, the Red Chinese themselves have given warning.

Earlier this month one of their top officials, Marshal Lin Biao, the defense minister, spelled it out in a statement long enough to fill at least one whole newspaper page.

All he said expressed hunger for war against the West.

Red Terrorism Must Be Halted

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — In 1962, Truong Van Trinh (fictional name) became chief of Ma L. a. Village (eight hamlets) in the coastal province of Binh Thuan.

Trinh was young, chunky and tough. He'd been a lieutenant in the French army. He saved his CROMLEY money, bought a small piece of land and farmed it.

The former village chief had been an old man who didn't do much and therefore was no threat to the Viet Cong. Trinh got out with the people, talked with them about their problems. He asked the U. S. aid men for help in putting in a well and in building schools. He cut down on bribery in the rice business.

Trinh was becoming popular. This bothered the Viet Cong. Besides, their program called for softening up Trinh's village. The only railroad line to Saigon runs through this area. So does Highway No. 1, the major north-south national road. The V.C., then mainly in the mountains here, wanted a path to the sea. The best route runs near Trinh's village.

'Special Speech Courses Aid Education Programs'

We would like to let all taxpayers know that many children with speech difficulties attended special classes at Webster School during the summer in order to help them speak correctly. This was the first summer a special speech course was offered and many of our youths who otherwise couldn't have afforded private tutoring received help. Programs such as this will help our youth take full advantage of the education our schools offer.

Goldberg Optimistic Over 20th U.N. Assembly Expectations

(EDITOR'S NOTE: How does the United States stand on issues before the U.N. General Assembly which resumes business next week under the shadow of two wars? U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg gives his views on these questions and the underlying problems in an exclusive question-and-answer interview with Associated Press Chief Correspondent Max Harshe.)

that between India and Pakistan takes time and patience. The American people must be patient if there are setbacks. Red China is keeping itself out of the United Nations by its attitude of belligerence and there is no evidence of any change for the better.

Goldberg was interviewed in the 11th floor office of the U.S. mission, overlooking U.N. headquarters. He relaxed in his favorite rocking chair, which he prefers to the executive desk chair used by his predecessor, Adlai E. Stevenson.

Asked about the apparent deterioration of U.S.-Soviet relations over Viet Nam, the Dominican Republic and U.N. financing, he said that recent Security Council meetings on the Indian-Pakistani war had produced "a very dramatic example of cooperation and unanimity."

ACTED TOGETHER

And, he said, the United States and the Soviet Union had acted together "without any evidence of cold-war confrontation."

"This serves to reinforce my hope and expectation that, despite all difficulties, we will make progress here at the 20th assembly."

Goldberg, September president of the Security Council, declined to speculate on what steps the 11-nation body would take to follow up the apparent failure of Secretary General U. Thant's peace mission to Rawalpindi and New Delhi.

"I know," he said, "from a long 25 years of experience that a mediator in disputes of much

MEET FRIDAY

The Security Council will meet Friday to consider Thant's report.

Goldberg was asked about the reluctance of the United States to have the council debate the Viet Nam question.

"We have never excluded Security Council consideration of Viet Nam," he said. "Rather, we have consulted with our colleagues at the United Nations here, and it has been a rather general point of view that the nature of the Viet Nam problem is such that a public confrontation would not lead to progress towards a solution."

He said it was a misconception, anyway, to believe that the U.N. Charter provided no ways to resolve disputes except by council debates.

"The charter in its various provisions calls for conciliation, mediation, quiet diplomacy," he said, "and this is what the United Nations is engaged in."

Motorist Wins
on Overtime

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP) — For a year, a Las Vegas motorist refused to pay a $5 fine for five overtime parking tickets placed on his pickup truck in 1964.

Tom McGrath appealed to District Court on grounds the tickets were issued to his pickup truck and not to him.

Acting as his own attorney Wednesday, McGrath contended a carbon copy of records from the lower court proceedings were improper.

Dist. Court Judge Matias Zamora decided that carbon copies were acceptable but that the city had not met a time limit for filing records.

Major Concern of Legislators

Bills Readied on Insurance Problems

LANSING (AP) —Protection of the public against problems with insurance coverage appears to be a major concern of Michigan legislators.

Possible laws to be introduced next year include:

—Non cancellable auto insurance.

—A $15 million state insurance fund to lessen a policyholder's legal and financial problems when his auto insurance company goes broke.

—An "assigned risk pool" for home fire insurance.

—A review board to hear complaints on fire insurance cancellations.

MEET NEEDS

Rep. Albert Kramer, D-Oak Park, chairman of the House Insurance Committee, said he is "trying to formulate a program to meet some of the apparently pressing needs" of policyholders.

These, he said, include refusals and unexplained cancellations of automobile insurance and fire insurance cancellations.

Kramer said it was doubtful that his proposed bills would be considered in the fall session, which opened this week.

Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, said he was working on a series of bills to protect the home owner from current practices of some fire insurance policy writers. Some of his proposed bills paralleled those introduced by Kramer.

The first of the five bills he plans to introduce, Kramer said, would grant the state insurance commissioner rule-making power. Changes in state insurance regulations now must be made by the Legislature.

The second would create a "statewide fund" — which I call the Michigan Deposit Insurance Corporation," he said. "It would be a reinsurance fund to help every public liability carrier — so that never again would an individual be personally responsible for losses he may be legally liable for because his insurance company went broke."

It would be financed by assessments against insurance firms based on the amount of business they wrote in Michigan, he said.

The third bill would require every firm writing automobile insurance in Michigan to offer noncancellable policies — which would, in fact, be cancellable.

for certain pre-stated reasons, such as driving under the influence of alcohol or narcotics and negligent homicide.

The fourth would create a review board to study the "justifiability and validity of protested cancellations," and the fifth would create the assigned-risk pool.

Del Rio's proposals include a review board and as assigned risk pool. They also would require a firm to state its reasons for canceling fire insurance, and would make it a criminal conspiracy for an insurance company to own a subsidiary form which would insure, at a higher rate, persons whose policies were cancelled by the parent firm.

He has complained that some policy holders in his district have had their insurance canceled and been forced to insure with a substandard, higher-rate firm.

Coast Guard Helps Vessel

Steering Gear Lost,
Being Taken to Duluth

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—The crippled Great Lakes freighter Peter A. B. Widener was taken in tow by the Coast Guard Cutter Woodruff this morning and headed for Duluth.

The Widener lost its steering gear Wednesday near the southwest tip of Isle Royale and wallowed in 10-foot waves most of the day.

However, two sister vessels of U. S. Steel's Pittsburgh Fleet stood by and poured oil to calm the waves. Capt. R. A. Phillips, skipper of the 60-foot Widener, had told U. S. steel officials by radio that the vessel was never in any immediate danger.

The two was proceeding at about five miles per hour and was expected in Duluth this morning. The other two ships were escorting the tow.

The Widener was bound for Duluth with a cargo of limestone.

LBJ Reaffirms U.S. Support of United Nations in Pakistan-India Efforts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson restated today strong American support for United Nations efforts to end the India-Pakistan conflict.

In an address prepared for judges and lawyers from 100 countries attending the Washington World Conference on World Peace Through Law, Johnson said: "Central to the hope of world peace through law is the United Nations . . . I hope we can strengthen the United Nations, not simply as a forum for debate but as an arena for the solution of disputes. . . . And my country will fully support the efforts of the secretary-general to bring peace between the great nations of India and Pakistan."

This was the only reference in Johnson's prepared text to the latest Asian conflict. He made no mention of a suggestion

Wednesday by resident Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan that the United States assume a larger role in trying to end fighting over Kashmir.

While the administration has not ruled out possible direct American efforts to promote a Pakistan-India settlement, the immediate response to Ayub's statement was to reaffirm support of U.N. Secretary General U. Thant's mediation attempts — and to gather more information about the private thinking reflected in Ayub's public statement.

Johnson's address, inspired in tone, dealt only fleetingly with specific trouble spots. There was no direct mention of Viet Nam, for instance, although Johnson previously had invited U.N. efforts to promote a settlement there, too.

"There are those who say the rule of law is a fruitless and utopian dream," said Johnson. "It is true that, if it comes, it will come slowly. . . . But to deny the possibility is to deny peace itself."

The home mortgage foreclosure rate last year was 4.59 per 1,000.

Navy Admirals Unhappy With 'Eviction' Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy admirals feel unhappily these days — everybody seems to want to take away their leader's house and give it to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

It's not that the admirals begrudge the vice president an official residence.

They just can't understand why Adm. David L. McDonald should be evicted from the big mansion — "Admiral's House" — where chiefs of naval operations have lived for nearly 40 years.

Some admirals' wives are seething. They note that Senate wives have been prime movers behind the proposals — and that Muriel Humphrey used to be a Senate wife.

WIFE INDIGNANT

Recently, the wife of one Navy high ranker wrote an indignant letter to the Washington Post, demanding: "Why downgrade the military? Is this the proper reward for a job well done?"

Mrs. B. J. Semmes Jr., wife of a vice admiral, declared that "Admiral's House has been a symbol of prestige for the Navy since 1900."

Then she asked: "How do you expect men to volunteer for Viet Nam when we at home constantly tear down all the military traditions of the past?"

Mostly, however, the Navy

brass is holding its tongue publicly.

"McDonald is determined to maintain a dignified silence about the whole thing," one Pentagon official said. But there seems little doubt that the Navy's top four-star admiral and his wife are irked.

BEFORE SENATE UNIT

The proposal to install Humphrey in the old Navy mansion, on Massachusetts Avenue, one of Washington's most fashionable, is before a Senate subcommittee considering other plans as well. Humphrey still lives in the relatively modest suburban home he acquired as a senator.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., has suggested the Navy could find a place for McDonald at any one of several sites in Washington.

"Or, he can pull up a big battleship in the Potomac and live on that if he wants to," said Smathers, a leading proponent of the proposal to give the vice president the Navy mansion.

Admiral's House sits on a gentle rise in a 72-acre tract it shares with the Naval Observatory. It is next door to the British Embassy.

NUMBER OF ROOMS

The number of rooms in Admiral's House is a matter of some dispute. One Navy publication speaks of 33 rooms. But Navy officers insist there are only 14 real rooms; that the rest comprise storage space, heating compartments and the like.

In any event, McDonald and his wife live there alone, served

Fall of Rome Occurs Twice at Ballroom

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The 15-foot Romanesque columns joined by an arch, which graced the stage of a Tampa hotel's ballroom for the coronation of new officers of the Business and Professional Women's Club proved to be insecure. Not once but twice.

The columns were assembled from rather loosely fitting plastic sections.

As a woman page, who was to present a bouquet to one of the new officers, stepped to the platform, she stumbled and reached out to a column for support.

As she screamed, and the audience roared, the columns came tumbling down.

The arch was quickly reassembled and the ceremony continued.

Then, as a newly named officer stepped to the platform, her cavalier-clad male escort bowed low and swept off his high peaked, befeathered hat. The hat hit a column.

And down came the arch once more.

A 25-year-old Japanese of average size is about 4 inches taller than his 5-foot-grandfather.

Beetle-Slicked Road Causes Traffic Pile-Up

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Big, black beetles were blamed for a number of car pileups on an expressway here.

A three-mile stretch of expressway had to be closed until sand could be scattered.

The beetles, apparently forced out of lowlands by heavy rains made the pavement so slick that driving became hazardous.

The Fifth Rose is not on the bottle.

It's in the bottle.

Where it counts.

The Fifth Rose is the great new taste of Four Roses. It's what distillers have been trying to find since they started distilling: it's what Four Roses has found: a way to make whiskey taste good. Not just lighter or smoother or milder, and not blander. But good. Truly good. The kind of whiskey taste you don't just say you like—but you really do like.

(Note: see how reasonable a good-tasting whiskey can be. The fact is, Four Roses doesn't cost any more any more.)

Suggestion: pick up Four Roses in the handsome new bottle. See what's in it for you.

Early Wintry Temperatures, Snow Hit Western States; Alaska, Southern States Warm

By The Associated Press
Wintry weather, with snow, cold and blustery northerly winds, hit areas in Montana today and swept into the western Dakotas and Wyoming.
Temperatures dropped into the 20s across much of Montana and snow measured 18 inches on the 7,000-foot Big Mountain north of White Fish. The Weather Bureau issued freeze warnings and advisories to cattlemen to most of northern Plains and the northern and central Rockies.
The late summer cold and snow damaged crops in much of the state where rains have delayed the grain harvest. Most of the major mountain passes in Montana were snowy and slick for the first time this season.
Logan Pass on Going-to-the-Sun highway in Glacier National Park was closed for a time Wednesday. Also closed was the Cooke City Highway, the Bearlooth Pass road which climbs 10,940 feet en route to Yellowstone National Park.
WET SNOWFALL
Wet snow fell over most of Montana with more than one inch at Helena, and Cut Bank.
In contrast to the freezing temperatures in Montana, fairly mild weather was reported in Alaska. Readings Wednesday included 71 at Fairbanks, located slightly below the Arctic Circle; 61 at Kotzebue, above the Arctic Circle, and 61 at Anchorage.
The mercury again Wednesday soared to above 100 degrees in parts of Texas and Oklahoma, with 106 at Wichita Falls, Tex., a record high for Sept. 15. The day's top mark was 112 at Imperial, Calif. Warm weather prevailed across the southern third of the nation.
In other parts of the nation, severe thunderstorms with heavy rain, hail and strong winds, lashed areas in Missouri and Erie County, Pa. A tornado skipped across rural areas north of Harrisonville, Mo., causing some property damage but no injuries. Wind gusts up to 84 m.p.h. pounded Erie County, disrupting power and telephone service and causing some property damage. Winds of 70 m.p.h. hammered Sedalia and Warrensburg, Mo., and heavy rain and hail pelted Kansas City.
Showers continued in parts of New England, the north central region and in the eastern Gulf of Mexico.
Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 at Butte, Mont., to 87 at Abilene, Tex.
The only diamond mine in the United States is in Murfreesboro, Ark. If you find a diamond under five carats, you may keep it.

School Beginning Ends Short Skirts, Long Hair

NEW YORK (AP) — Those poodles on the barber shop floor are the tears shed by America's youth forced to cut their locks as the price of education.

Boys' Beetle-like tresses grown long with the summer days fell into disfavor with the opening of schools across the country.

Bizarre makeup is being scrubbed from the faces of girls, and some school principals are carrying around rulers to see that beelines don't show too much knees.

AMONG TABOOS
Among the taboos turned up in a nationwide survey by The Associated Press are:

Beetle haircuts, tight pants, short skirts, high heels, metal cleats, culottes, jeans, slacks, shorts, Elvis sideburns, Zulu hair rattling, Diamond Lil make-up bare-midriffs, off-the-shoulder dresses, open backs, sandals and beehive hairdos.

"We're advising a few of our boys we'd appreciate them getting to a barber, but we're not trying to ram it down their throats," said principal Herbert H. Bishop, principal of Manhattan High School in Kansas.

A less casual attitude is taken by the private schools. "I say to him, 'I think you need a haircut,'" he says, "yes, sir," and that's it," said Carl W. Andrews Jr. of Collegiate School in New York.

Principals say styles are a little more conventional this year. OR ELSE

The principal of a Little Rock, Ark., high school grabbed the problem by the forelock. Boys were told to abandon their Beetle cuts or show up for classes with hair ribbons. They got their hair cut.

At Baltimore, Christopher Gwynski, 16, was kept out of Bel Air Junior High School last year because of his Beetle mop. He relented when school opened this year and let barber George Prinslet cut the offending locks.

Seniors at Wenatchee, Wash., set up a shear shop in a parking lot and ran down long-trimmed boys for trimming.

OFFICIAL RULE

After school officials in Fairfax County, Va., ruled that long hair was out, 20 students at Thomas Jefferson High School got haircuts before classes the next day.

Barbers at a shop near the school reported some of the boys cried when their hair was cut off.

But a dozen students picketed the school. One sign read, "Do you have to be bald for an education?" Said another: "At 17.5 who can afford haircuts?" Samuel Bell, 15, cultivated a small growth of hair on his chin and was promptly suspended from Cleveland Heights High School. After three days he shaved it off and returned to class.

ONE LESS

"As far as I'm concerned," said his mother, "it's a case of one more small American freedom being washed down the drain."

Many of the problems of girls' dresses may be taken care of by the boys. Said Steve Seymour, 18, a senior at Raleigh, N.C., "some dresses are kinda dicken-when they come above the knee."

Form Plans Addition

UBLY (AP) — The Bayview Mfg. Co. Wednesday announced plans for a 5,200 square foot addition to its plant here. The addition would create jobs for 40 additional workers. The firm, which manufactures seat belts for the auto industry, now employs 60 men.

Synthetic fiber materials including blends, accounted for approximately 35 per cent of the total piece-goods yardage sold in 1964.

Washington Correspondent

GOP Power Is in States

By E. VAN WAGONER TUFTY WASHINGTON—The strength of the Republican party is difficult to see here in Washington, where the Democratic majorities in the Congress are so overwhelming, but GOP chairman Ray Bliss is quite aware and is trying to make others realize the party's power out in the states.

Republicans have governors not only in 17 states but five of these are big ones, New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Ohio, and it's touch-and-go in California and Illinois, where the electoral vote is also sizable.

The votes of Colorado, Oklahoma, Idaho, Wisconsin, Montana, Washington state, Maine, Kansas, Rhode Island, Oregon, South Dakota, Wyoming plus the Big Five add up to the impressive total of 244 electoral votes, just 66 short of enough to put over a Republican presidential candidate, if each Republican governor could deliver his state. Illinois and California would then swing it.

With the few exceptions Eisenhower and Kennedy, successful candidates to the presidency have traditionally been governors, or arrived via the vice presidential or Cabinet (Hoover) route.

The Senate breeds vice presidents. It also breeds unsuccessful presidential candidates.

Sens. Truman and Johnson became president via the vice presidency and then went on to win on their own.

In the lineup of governors, the Republicans have some who have already been mentioned for the presidency: George Romney of Michigan, William Scranton of Pennsylvania and Nelson Rockefeller of New York, who has taken himself out of the calculations, but no doubt would answer to a genuine draft.

Detroit Senator Asks Community Relations Group

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Basil Brown, D-Detroit, asked Wednesday for creation of a five-member Senate committee to consult with law enforcement agencies on community relations.

Brown suggested that the group function until the regular 1968 session of the Legislature to consult with the governor, law enforcement agencies, the mayors of principal cities, the State Civil Rights Commission and others concerned.

He said the group could "review what plans have been formulated to contain mob action and what is being done to create a climate of understanding, respect, cooperation and assistance in maintaining law and order."

The Door to Higher Education—4

College Application Is Student Responsibility

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a nine-part series designed to advise those planning to attend college. The series is written by John C. Hoy, who is dean of admissions at Wesleyan University in Connecticut.)

By JOHN C. HOY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Applying to college is perhaps the first adult responsibility assumed by young people. It is certainly one of the most important tasks they will ever undertake.

I feel strongly that parents should recognize that the college application is the student's responsibility.

Admissions officers far prefer to correspond directly with the students instead of their parents. Colleges admit students, not parents.

Too frequently, however, a father sends the initial letter on business stationery. It is almost as if he doubts his child's capacity to write a letter worthy of consideration.

I recommend, instead, that routine correspondence from being given to and should be between student and college.

LETTER WELCOME

A letter from parents is, of course, welcome when it describes a particular problem or some condition affecting their child's application.

But, generally I hold with the admissions officer's advice: "The thicker the folder, the thicker the kid."

Thus, the overzealous parent can harm this offering's chance of conducting an important "negotiation" and developing from that experience the qualities of independence that will contribute to eventual academic success.

I am persuaded that the overly-dependent youngster is far more likely to be a candidate for the 50 per cent dropout group

Warren Council Supports Convict

WARREN (AP) — Jack Howard, former Georgia convict who escaped to Michigan and who since has had an exemplary life, has the support of the Warren City Council in his fight against extradition.

The council passed a resolution urging Gov. George Romney not to permit extradition. Howard faces a 10-year sentence for a burglary conviction.

Howard has a hearing Sept. 29. He said he fears for his life if he were returned to Georgia because he witnessed a slaying while in prison. He said other convicts thought he turned in the name of the killer to authorities.

than the young individual with initiative.

CONTACT COUNSELOR

This is not to say that high school students should willingly go it alone in planning a college education. They can and should enlist all the help possible from their secondary school's guidance director or counselor.

The counselor has helped place hundreds of students in college. He truly qualifies as an expert in the entire college placement process. Parents can serve by subtly encouraging the student to make a sincere effort.

But remember the line is thin between parental interest and parental pressure. Conflict with the parent is found to be at the root of the majority of academic and social difficulties suffered by most students.

Beyond being a source of information, the counselor also can assist the students invaluable by objectively appraising their qualifications for various colleges.

TAKE ADVICE

Recommendations against trying one college or another should not be taken amiss. Parents too often misunderstand or feel offended when a counselor advises against a particular college.

The fact is, however, that the counselor's and student's interests are the same. The counselor wants to see students from his school enter colleges and universities where they will succeed.

Most counselors will suggest that students apply to three or four institutions. Most often the colleges recommended vary in terms of entrance requirements.

It will be wise for students to apply to at least one institution where they can be relatively sure of acceptance. It should, of course, be to a college well suited to the applicant's needs.

SET UP PROGRAM

Failure to work out a careful program of college applications too often means failure in entering college. Those who have not chosen wisely in applying to colleges often find that in the warm days of spring, they are out in the cold.

Then they desperately—and too often hopelessly—seek opportunities in institutions at which they would have easily qualified if they had only applied in time.

But regard for proper timing is not to be mistaken as advocacy of overly early college planning. As an admissions officer, I urge early planning; it pays off in most situations in life. But premature planning is of little advantage — and tends to be rather neurotic.

One college president cautions: "Some ruin high school worrying about getting into college." To be specific, the junior year in secondary school is soon enough for actual college planning — assuming, of course, that the student began a college preparatory course in his freshman year.

JUNIOR YEAR BEST

I am dead set against students seeking interviews in the freshman and sophomore years. This puts too much "college" pressure on people before it is sensible for them to worry.

And their "worrying" is not practical for the colleges and universities, either. Before junior year the student just has not compiled the academic and personal evidence needed for an admissions officer to be able to take action.

Jurists Differ on Court Site

LANSING (AP) — The chief judge of the State Court of Appeals is making an appeal himself—for permanent headquarters for his court in the proposed new State Supreme Court Building behind the Capitol.

And Chief Judge T. John Lesinski claims the Supreme Court by a 5-3 vote, has no objection, except that Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas Kavanagh is against the idea.

Kavanagh has said he favors separation of the courts to avoid any possibility of their developing too close a relationship. The Supreme Court, he noted, will be reviewing and passing judgment on decisions of the new appeals court.

"If you're going to put us in an area that is going to be permanent, then you ought to do it with the proper dignity for a court of law," Lesinski said.

Broken Glass Costly

WASHINGTON (AP) — It cost $118,320 to repair broken windows in Washington schools last year — $6,000 more than a year earlier. A total of 26,518 panes were replaced.

Most Officials Say Patriotism No Less Today

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a three-part series.)

By MYRON FEINSLDER
United Press International

For 25 years, J. B. Koch has been a member of the Cleveland County Selective Service Board in the college town of Norman, Okla. He sees a lot of boys. He does not like what he sees now.

"I don't know what has happened to the word 'patriotism,'" says Koch. "But it sure isn't in the vocabulary of today's youth."

Every day he is confronted, he says, with "pampered and overprotected youth who do everything under the sun to get out of being drafted."

He said the father of one threatened to kill him after the Norman board drafted his son.

Another boy got a deferment on the grounds his father needed him on the farm, then married, moved to another town and used the marriage as an excuse for deferment.

That was before President Johnson's executive order eliminated the escape-via-marriage route.

In Georgia, Col. Harry Smith, state draft director, found the same pattern. "I personally have more calls than I've had in two years from people wanting to know if they get back in school, would they have to go. They claim hardship or just any thing."

"This thing has built since the Viet Nam war intensified . . . the thing is this particular war is now unpopular with the people as a whole."

United Press International asked Selective Service officials in a spot check across the country whether they were under increased pressure to grant deferments. Despite all the news of destroyed cards and students halting troop trains, despite the observations of Georgia's Col. Smith and Oklahoma's Koch, most officials said No.

ABOUT THE SAME

"American youngsters aren't much different today from what they were a quarter of a century ago when it comes to patriotism," said Al Clarke, a draft official in Chattanooga, Tenn. with 25 years' experience. "Some boys are a little slow reporting but that's nothing new."

In Louisville, Ky., Leon Seidman, chairman of board 42, said: "These kids don't like to fight somebody else's war. But as far as pressure is concerned, I can honestly say we have received none."

"We have taken them from some of the biggest families in town — the so-called power structure — and never received a telephone call."

In every home town, every young man hears rumors—the son of a legislator whose father pulled strings to get him deferred, the boy who faked a back injury to fail his physical. These rumors, false though they may be, are easily believed by boys who want to believe them.

Then there are the athletes, symbols of muscular attainment, who flunk their physicals because of a weak knee. This news disturbs a lad who never considered himself hefty enough to try out for the high school football team, but is found healthy enough to serve his country.

4 OF 10

Annoying, too, for the boy about to be drafted is the statistic that approximately four out of every 10 men never don a day uniform. Most of those who don't serve fail to meet the military's physical, mental or psychological standards. Others are deferred until they've passed draft age.

All of these factors gnaw at a boy who is about to be drafted. He feels he is being singled out, and he doesn't like it.

(Tomorrow: Can the draft be ended?)

LATEST FASHIONS—Two models wear outfits which will be shown in the Rochester Junior Woman's Club fashion show Sept. 30. Mrs. Hudson Hill, 683 S. Fieldstone, Rochester, wears the new Russian look, a black reversed jersey trimmed with dyed black fox. Sharon Snyder, Miss Oakland University, wears a gown of Kelly green chiffon over taffeta.

Woman's Club Plans Show and Luncheon

ROCHESTER — The Junior Woman's Club will sponsor its 10th annual luncheon and fashion show at noon Sept. 30 at Pine Knob Ski Resort, Independence Township.

Cochairmen of the show are Mrs. Hudson Hill, 683 S. Fieldstone and Mrs. Peter Kuopus, 1310 Crooks.

Sharon Snyder, 6765 Woodbank, Birmingham Miss Oakland University and runner-up in the Miss Michigan contest, will be one of the models in the show.

Other models will be club members Mrs. Donald Bishop, Mrs. Ray Rhoton, Mrs. Richard Jerome, Mrs. Ray deSteiger, Mrs. Mark Blackman, Mrs. Kenneth Hock, and Mrs. Stuart Meyer.

The clothes, ranging from casual sportswear to evening attire, will be furnished by Lisbeth's of Birmingham. Modeling for the show will be Mrs. Fred Wood.

TO CREATE HAIR STYLES

The hair styles will be created by David's of Rochester and makeup will be by Mrs. C. Allen Bartlebaugh of Fashion Two Twenty.

Narrating the fashion show will be June Taylor McGregor.

Tickets are now available through ticket cochairmen Mrs. Harold Alexander, 700 East Gun and Mrs. Norman May and from all club members.

Assisting the chairmen on the show are Mrs. William MacDuff and Mrs. George Fetheroll, programs; Mrs. Dudley Foster and Mrs. Terrence O'Connor, door prizes.

OTHER CHAIRMEN

Others are Mrs. Arthur Warderlow, hair styles; Mrs. Stuart Meyer, publicity; Mrs. Ray Rhoton, makeup; and Mrs. Theodore Cohassey and Mrs. Robert Cavan, models.

The club uses proceeds from the annual fashion show for charitable and civic projects in the community.

Hearing Set on Wolverine Lake Future

WOLVERINE LAKE — A three-member panel will hold a hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday to determine the course of improvements for Wolverine Lake. Convened by County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, the board of determination will meet at the Wolverine Lake Village Hall, 625 Glengary.

The panel will be composed of Monroe M. Osun, Bruce Annett and Laurence H. Pate. Selected by the Wolverine Lake Improvement Association, Osun is a Pontiac businessman and president of the Pontiac School Board, while Annett is a Pontiac realtor and Pate is a member of Pate, Hirm and Bogue, consulting engineers.

The board is to review various proposals to improve the lake and determine the necessity, feasibility and practicability of such improvement.

DISPUTED PROJECTS

Year's Weather Hard on Crops in Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP)—First untimely freezes hit the winter wheat crop, then drought burned up a sizable amount of corn and now the drought-stunted dry bean crop is in frost danger.

It adds up to thousands of dollars for Michigan farmers.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) already has paid an estimated $35,000 to insured farmers who suffered winter wheat losses this year, the FCIC said Wednesday.

"We know that many corn crops are not going to produce anything, and this is awfully early in the season to know that," said Harold E. Willis, FCIC Michigan director.

BEANS BEHIND

The drought also put dry beans two or three weeks behind, and a killing frost before Oct. 1 could mean hundreds of thousands of dollars lost, he added.

"That's what we're really afraid of now," he said.

FCIC insures farmers on a voluntary basis in 22 southern and central Michigan counties. It paid $130,000 for corn losses last year and $8,500 on soybeans, with corn payments expected to be many times higher this year.

Willis said hardest hit corn crops in counties where FCIC has programs are in Ionia, Clinton, Gratiot, Ingham, Shiawassee and Saginaw Counties.

TOTAL LOSSES

In some field the corn, tasseled at knee high, is considered a 100 per cent loss, he said. Lack of rainfall in Central Michigan during the June-July period was the worst in 29 years, the U.S. Weather Bureau has reported.

In Oceana and Mason Counties, FCIC said it will pay more than $50,000 for cherry crop losses caused by a hard freeze the last week in May, hail and strong winds.

Alter Plans for Zoning in Rochester

AVON TOWNSHIP — Plans to rezone the Frankel property on Livernois south of Rochester High School have been revised to include a buffer of single-family residences between Rochdale subdivision and proposed multiple dwellings.

The Township Zoning Board received the revised plans last night and referred them back to the regional planning commission for its meeting of Sept. 28.

The regional planning commission originally recommended denial of the request.

The original request to rezone the 27 acres from general farm to multiple residence met with opposition from residents of Rochdale who made known their objections in a petition to the Township Board last month.

They objected to multiple dwellings backing up to the neighborhood.

FILED OBJECTION

The Township Board filed the objection until it receives a recommendation from the Township Zoning Board.

In other action the Zoning Board set Oct. 20 for a public hearing on rezoning 16.4 acres on Tienken west of Rochester Road from general farm to multiple dwelling.

The property is adjacent to existing apartment buildings.

Lapeer Club to Hold Coin Show Sunday

LAPEER — A coin show featuring more than $1 million worth of coins will be held at the American Legion building Sunday.

Sponsored by the Lapeer Coin Club, the show will run from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Milford Manager Is Now Permanent

MILFORD — J. Stuart Brophy, acting village manager since July, has been appointed to the post on a permanent basis.

Brophy will combine his new job with his duties as village police chief.

In appointing Brophy, the Village Council boosted his salary to $8,000 a year.

Police chief for 10 years, Brophy was named acting village manager when Donald Weidner resigned two months ago.

Farmington's Band to Play at MSU Fete

FARMINGTON — Members of Farmington High School's band will be among nearly 3,000 young musicians from 36 Michigan schools participating in the 11th annual high school band day at Michigan State University Saturday.

St. Andrew's Drive Begins

ROCHESTER — Members of St. Andrew's Church, 231 Walnut, have started a church building fund campaign.

In announcing the campaign, Rev. Edward G. Baumgartner cited the growth of the parish in the last 10 years and pointed out the need for a new church and administration building.

He said ground breaking on a site adjacent to the school and convent is planned for the spring of 1968 or 1969.

Because of changes in the liturgy, no design for the church has been considered. A seating capacity of 1,200 to 1,400 is planned.

The active phase of the campaign will run until Nov. 2 at which time a follow-up committee will be formed to function throughout the 24-month pledge payment period.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN

General chairman of the campaign is Roderick O'Connor of 191 Birch Hill, Oakland Township.

Code Settles Burning Issue

ORCHARD LAKE — An ordinance concerning the issuance of burning permits has been adopted by the City Council.

Persons who plan to clear land by fire, burn grass and weeds or large amounts of rubbish must obtain a burning permit from the City Hall after the code goes into effect Oct. 2.

The ordinance does not restrict the burning of domestic rubbish in safe containers.

OES Initiation Set

CLARKSTON — Joseph C. Bird Chapter 294, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold an initiation at 8 p.m. Monday in the Clarkson Masonic Temple.

Workshop Set on New Math

WALLED LAKE — Initiating new mathematics in all elementary classrooms this year, Walled Lake School System teachers will hold a workshop on the method Thursday.

District elementary pupils will be dismissed at 1 p.m. to allow teachers to attend the session at Decker Elementary School.

The new approach to mathematics will be used in all classrooms this year after being introduced to first and second graders last year.

Youngsters in the fourth grade received some introductory work.

Speakers for the Thursday afternoon session will be Dr. David Wells, director of instruction for Oakland County Schools.

ATTEND MEETINGS

After Wells' address, the 150 teachers will attend group meetings for their various grade levels.

Consultants for the meetings will be Ann Hungerman, student teacher coordinator for the University of Michigan; Robert Scrivens, currently on leave of absence as mathematics coordinator for Waterford Schools; Mrs. Edward Johnson, mathematics consultant for the Walled Lake district; and Dr. Wells.

The school system also has scheduled a special adult education class on new mathematics. Mrs. Johnson will teach the class, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 28 at Walled Lake High School.

Survival, Disaster Training Class Set

OKLAND TOWNSHIP — A 12-week medical-emergency training course will be held at the Township Hall, 4393 Collins, beginning Monday.

The course in survival and disaster training will include basic medical disaster plans, treatment of shock and burns, first aid, artificial respiration and psychological first aid.

Registrations are now being taken by Mrs. Clarence H. Williams, 3530 Ellis Mae.

What Motivates Them?

Book Thieves Never in Most Wanted

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the things I cannot understand about the Federal Bureau of Investigation is that in its periodic listing of America's 10 most-wanted criminals it never includes a book thief.

It appears to me that J. Edgar Hoover is overlooking a public duty here.

Certainly it is a fine thing to catch and bring to justice bank robbers and kidnappers and fellows who have ridden a stolen horse across state lines.

But sometime when the FBI isn't fully occupied in protecting our freedoms and our other properties, I wish it would catch a book thief. I don't want the FBI to bring the culprit to justice. I want the FBI to bring him to me, so I can first punch him in the nose and then give him a fair trial.

I also want to sit him on a feathering stool in a darkened room, flash a spotlight into his startled eyes, and relentlessly grill him as to the nature of his felonies.

Because of my job, I am sent a couple of hundred books a year by publishers. I also buy about 50 a year.

Those I wish to keep I put in a bookcase near my desk. Recognizing, however, there is the requirement for the expression of larceny in every human heart, I put the rest of the books on top of the bookcase.

It is okay with me if those on top are browsed among, borrowed or stolen.

WHAT NEXT?

So what happens? The books I want to refer to are almost invariably stolen. But most of the books I put out to be stolen stay there and stay there and stay there.

In my spare time I try to figure out what motivates book thieves in their choice. Here is what I have found out about them.

If a book has a glossy cover and is priced above $5.95, it invariably disappears. The thief who takes it rather disappoints me, as I think he has greed in his heart rather than literary appetite.

QUALIFICATIONS

If a new book hasn't made the best seller list the week I put it on top of the bookcase, it is undisturbed. If it makes the best seller list the following week, it will disappear immediately.

Self-improvement books such as "How to Make the Most of Your Life" just collect dust. But if it is entitled "How to Win at the Races," it is instantly stolen.

Certain books appear to be thief-proof. These include any book about religion, most books about politicians, and all books about communism.

For example, stop my bookcase now are biographies of John V. Lindsay, Adam Clayton Powell, and one called "Robert Kennedy in New York," which I haven't opened yet but suspect is probably a guide book for tourists.

RESTING IN PEACE

Also resting undisturbed there are books entitled "Culture," "The Decision to Drop the Bomb," and a fascinating history of the Sheraton hotel system, room by room.

A couple of books I put out as test examples also have remained untaken. They are "The New Testament in Modern English" and "How to Read the Bible" by Edgar J. Goodspeed.

Any book dealing with sex, of course, is stolen before my own fingerprints on it cool off.

I have learned only one sure way to fool book thieves. If there is a volume I particularly cherish and wish to keep for future reference, I throw away its dust jacket and cover it with the dust jacket of a book called "The Integrity of the Personality."

JUST ME

Nobody will then come near it but me.

Auxiliaries Join Forces for Benefit

The Tri-County Osteopathic Women's Auxiliaries, comprised of nine auxiliaries from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, are sponsoring a fashion show Friday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

The purpose of the luncheon and fashion show, scheduled for noon, is to raise funds for the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine to be built in Pontiac. It is the first affair of its kind.

Wives of prominent Detroit sports figures will model new fall fashions from Margi Franzel.

Those expected to participate are Mrs. Gary Bergman, Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mrs. Gordie Howe representing the Red Wings. Mrs. Hank Aguirre and Mrs. Al Kaline will represent the Detroit Tigers and Mrs. Maddis McCord and Mrs. Wayne Walker the Detroit Lions.

Pontiac Central High School seniors, Ann Strahl, of West Ironquois Road and Charlet Allhouse, of Blaine Street, are two of 49 students selected from throughout the nation to attend the session.

REPLACES SENIOR YEAR

Replacing students' senior high school year, the unique and comprehensive new program is offered to students rated outstanding performers on orchestral instruments with good secondary school academic and citizenship records. It represents about the equivalent of two college years' work in the music arts.

Her musical affiliations include the Central High orchestra and girls' chorus, All-City and Pontiac Symphony orchestras. She also has been active in Central's Dolphin Club and

Do Change on Flight Says Emily

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me if it is permissible, when taking a long flight, for passengers to change into more comfortable clothes after boarding the plane, or must they remain in their traveling clothes throughout the flight?
A: Women may change into slacks and bedroom slippers during the flight and men are entirely free to remove their jackets, loosen or remove their ties, or change into a sport shirt.

WEARING FLOWERS

Q: I went to a friend's wedding last week and wore a corsage of fresh flowers on my dress. The dress was black and I thought the flowers would brighten it up.

I was criticized for wearing a corsage and was told that only members of the immediate families wore flowers at a wedding. I never heard of this before and would like to know if there is any such rule of etiquette.

A: There is no such rule. Any guest who wishes to do so, may wear flowers.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

YMCA Offers Dance Classes

A ten-week course in beginning ballet and beginning tap dancing will open Friday at the Pontiac YMCA.

The "Y" also will offer "kinderballet" for 3-6 year old girls and boys. Classes are open both to association members and non-members.

Instruction will be on Friday afternoons in the YMCA Youth Department under direction of Mrs. Dolly Dibley of Utica.

Further information may be had by calling the YMCA.

Merry Mixers Meet

Members of the Merry Mixers Square Dance club will gather at 8 p.m. Friday in the CAI Building.

An open house honoring 50 years of marriage for Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wudarckis of Bald Eagle Lake Road, Groveland Township, will be held Sunday from 1-6 p.m. in the couple's home. The pair, wed in Pontiac on Sept. 20, 1915, has four sons: Edward of Fraser and Carl, Norbert and John, all of Ortonville. There are 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The Wudarckis have lived in the area for 36 years.

Years Don't Stop Her

NEW YORK (UPI) — Haze Hotchkiss Wightman was 15 when she won her first tennis title. The year was 1902.

Today, at 78, Wightman can count 44 national titles, two Olympic gold medals, and an international tournament named for her in fabulous career of competition.

She also can count a long list of her students who have gone on to national and international fame in the tennis world.

The great-grandmother, often called the grand Dame of the tennis world, is far from giving up the game, although she said, "I believe it was about last spring, I decided not to play as a team member on a court."

"Oh, I'll still hit the ball with the racket," she said.

STILL TEACHES

"Of course, there's no charge for the lessons," she said. "I'll always be an amateur. I can't imagine playing tennis for money."

But a lot of players do, and Mrs. Wightman wishes monetary reward were considered secondary. "I hope the girls don't expect too much of tennis," she said. "They're lucky to be out there at all."

Mrs. Wightman, widow of George W. Wightman, a Boston attorney, is a tiny (five feet), trim, white-haired woman with bright blue eyes. She came to New York to see the U. S. tennis championships at Forest Hills and to participate in a fashion show of tennis clothes for "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" saluting the 50th anniversary of the nationals.

She modeled a copy of an ankle-length white tennis dress similar to one she wore in the 1910's.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pains-Expeller and was relieved in 10 minutes." says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

DeWitt's Pains-Expeller is a proven formula to relieve pain of backache. Their mild drastic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and flush out irritating bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. If pain persists, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pills often succeed where others fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Limit use to the genuine DeWitt's Pills.

Wife's Anger Is at Herself for Neglecting Housekeeping

Q: Will you please tell me if it is permissible, when taking a long flight, for passengers to change into more comfortable clothes after boarding the plane, or must they remain in their traveling clothes throughout the flight?

A: Women may change into slacks and bedroom slippers during the flight and men are entirely free to remove their jackets, loosen or remove their ties, or change into a sport shirt.

Q: I went to a friend's wedding last week and wore a corsage of fresh flowers on my dress. The dress was black and I thought the flowers would brighten it up.

I was criticized for wearing a corsage and was told that only members of the immediate families wore flowers at a wedding. I never heard of this before and would like to know if there is any such rule of etiquette.

A: There is no such rule. Any guest who wishes to do so, may wear flowers.

DAR Sends Members to Plymouth

Daughters of the American Revolution gathered recently for a district regional meeting at Lofly's Inn, Plymouth. Hostesses were members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter.

Pontiac's General Richardson Chapter was represented by 18 members and a guest. Reports on plans for Constitution Week Friday through Sept. 26 were given by state chairmen and regents from various chapters in attendance.

The group dedicated 1500 acres of Memorial Park Wednesday at Glenmie, Michigan.

Following reports and instructions by all state chairmen, announcement was made of the celebration of DAR's 75th year, "Diamond Jubilee." General Richardson Chapter has designated its 68th anniversary to honor both chapter and national dates in January 1966.

Triplets' Moms Form Triad Club

SEATTLE, Wash. (U) — The Triad Club, an exclusive organization with a charter membership of four women, has been started here for the mothers of triplets. Formed primarily to discuss and lessen the problems of multiple motherhood, the group doesn't plan to be completely clanish. "We'll gladly accept mothers of quads or quintos," concedes Mrs. Gerald Hall, president, who has a trio of two-year-olds. "I'm sure they'd make us all realize how lucky we are to have only three."

Why Grow Old?

JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. I am following the plan of counting carbohydrate grams and holding my daily intake to 60 grams, but I am confused. In one book I have 3 1/2 ounces of broiled chicken is listed as no carbohydrate grams. What if I eat four or five or six ounces of chicken? How many carbohydrate grams is that? If I eat 3 1/2 ounces of chicken at two of my meals is that zero carbohydrate grams or is 7 ounces equal to more than zero?

A. I think that carbohydrate gram counting is confusing to many women. It is not complex, but it is just hard to believe. Since 3 1/2 ounces of chicken has no carbohydrate grams then twice that will not have any either. It's like two times nothing is nothing.

Forget calories if you are counting grams except to remember that you can't stuff yourself all day long on any foods, when following any method, and lose weight. Don't mix the two methods of reduction. If you hold your carbohydrate intake to 60 grams a day you CAN eat many of the foods which were denied you before, and still lose weight.

BEAN COUNT
Q. Someone told me that beans are high in carbohydrate count. I don't believe this. Is it true?

A. It depends on the kind of bean. One cup of green snap beans has 7 carbohydrate grams, while one cup of lima beans has 32 carbohydrate grams. One cup of great northern, navy or red beans, canned — 42 carbohydrate grams.

Q. I can't see how anybody can say that shaving the hairs on the legs doesn't make it grow out coarser. The hairs on my legs are like bristles when they grow out after I shave them.

A. The hairs are naturally tapered at the end. When you cut the hair you cut off the taper. Therefore when they grow back in again the ends are blunt instead of tapered. The hairs do not become coarser.

CIRCULATION CREAM
Q. What is a circulation cream?

A. It is one which stimulates circulation at the skin's surface.

Q. Why do you say to always apply cream before doing facial exercises?

A. Because the skin should be well lubricated and pliable so that the muscle contrac-

Why Can't You Just Be "Careless"?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I am having a very hard time with my 14-year-old girl. Though she continues to take her piano lessons, she no longer practices. Whenever I try to talk about this to her, I get a long string of excuses: she can't practice because her homework is too heavy or somebody has had the television on. The subject has grown so tense that she goes wild if I even mention practicing.

ANSWER: Maybe she's proud — too proud to admit that she hasn't got what it takes to become a serious musician. And she doesn't want to expose herself to you as a disappointing child. Certainly these excuses she gives you for her failure to practice make it sound so.

We, too, turn to excuses when we are disappointed by our own behavior. When we break a promise, lose our tempers or accuse unjustly, we too try to whitewash this disappointing behavior with excuses that will make it acceptable to our pride.

If anyone continues to criticize it, we will go "wild" in our frantic effort to avoid knowing that we can be a disappointing person.

For myself, I've worked out this problem of excuse-making children. Knowing that excuse-making in myself is always my pride's insistence that I mustn't disappoint anyone, I blow up young. When I'm given excuses by the I yell, "Who do you think you are to give me excuses for leaving your coat in the living room? Why do you have to concoct alibis for your carelessness? Why can't you just be what you are — careless — instead of trying to make me believe you're somebody else?"

It usually works. Instead of getting "wild," the young first look sheepish and then begin to laugh with relief at my permission to be what they are. I don't know whether this kind of response to your daughter's excuses would produce for you because I don't know how sure you are that your own excuses derive from pride in faultless, never-disappointing behavior. It would be nice if you were sure. Because it's awfully hard to live with excuse-making people. You can't get at them. It gets lonely for everybody.

TWO WAYS TO GET RID OF IT

1. Get a water conditioner
2. Keep the conditioner at peak iron-removing efficiency with

Diamond Crystal REDOUT*

If you have a modern water conditioner, it collects and removes large quantities of iron from water. But in this high-iron area, your conditioner needs help for the complete removal of iron. Iron causes red staining of your sinks, tubs, toilet bowls, and clothing. Iron certainly does not help your complexion, and it ruins the taste of coffee and tea.

Diamond Crystal developed REDOUT nuggets to help your water conditioner completely remove iron from your home water softener. If you use REDOUT regularly, your softener will always be iron-free and your water conditioner will last longer. Get REDOUT nuggets now and enjoy Diamond Crystal Clear Water.

Couple Repeats Vows in Candlelight Rites

Suzanne Parks and Gary Painter were married in a recent candlelight ceremony at Milford's First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Frank Williams officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Painter, all of Milford, are parents of the newlyweds.

The bride wore a floor-length A-line gown of candlelight peau de soie. Her silk illusion veiling was attached to a Dior bow.

Cream-colored roses centered by an orchid on a white Bible comprised her bouquet.

Attending the bride were Connie Parks, Susan Painter, Diane Padly, Valerie Parrish, Mary Ellen Ely and Kathy Toop.

On the esquire side were Dick Painter, Jim Orndorff, Tom Grack, John McCracken and Roy Parks Jr. Reception, a buffet supper and dance, was at Edgewood Country Club.

The bride was graduated from Michigan State University in August. Her husband is a senior at General Motors Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. George Williams of Henrydale Street, Pontiac Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris to Lynn R. Campbell, son of the Levi A. Campbells of South Francis Avenue.

Church Group Sets Date of Meeting

The women of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church will open the fall season with an evening meeting on Tuesday.

Charles Rutledge, manager of information services for DuPont's Textile Fibers Department, will present his humorous "Mama Show." This revolves around a stageful of antique household equipment pointing up the fact that "your mothers and grandmothers never had it so good."

Dixie Lawyer Must Leave to Find Work

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — An attorney who tried to help solve Americus racial problems has sent his wife and five children to Atlanta because of threats and harassment and is getting out of town himself.

"There's no reason to stay," said attorney Warren Fortson, 37, brother of Georgia's secretary of state, Ben W. Fortson Jr. "My law practice has come to a screeching halt."

The former Marine said Wednesday he knew he was going to have to leave when he advocated formation of a biracial commission during the height of recent racial demonstrations in this south Georgia city.

"It was just like getting into a canoe in the Colorado River," he said. "Once you're committed to the rapids there's nothing you can do but ride them out."

FREEZE CAME

Then, when the demonstrations subsided, Fortson said, "the freeze set in."

His wife, Betty, went to a meeting of the Junior League, he said, and "when she walked in, it was just like she was invisible. Nobody saw her."

Officially, Fortson remained attorney for Sumter County, but he said it was in name only. "The county has hired another firm to do its work. They don't come to me any more."

In addition, the attorney was not reelected as a Sunday School teacher at the First Methodist Church.

NO COMMENT

His pastor, the Rev. Vernard Robertson, declined comment when told Fortson was leaving town. Local officials also refused to comment.

But Russell Thomas Jr., a farmer and businessman who sided with Fortson in proposing a biracial committee, had this to say: "Being run out of town and persecuted is too high a price to pay for having an opinion different from the majority. When you take away one person's freedom and ideas, you take away the democratic process. I didn't think this town would allow this to happen."

Fortson said he thought his troubles really began in May when he represented a Negro boy and girl in a morals case. "It's all right to represent Negroes down here," he said. "But the girl happened to be one who had integrated the schools here. I made a lot of enemies."

GOING SOMEWHERE

The attorney said he was leaving Americus as soon as he closes his law office. "I'm not sure where we will live, whether it will be in Atlanta or someplace else. But I had to get my family out of Americus."

Fortson said telephone threats and harassments were aimed at making existence unhappy for himself and his family but that there had been no direct threats on his life.

His wife said in Atlanta, "It just wasn't worth it any more. It's just like closing a door."

John Paul Jones, father of the United States Navy, established a 13-gun salute for American ships, one gun for each original state.

Shriver Uses Different Approach for Aides in U.S. Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — When you need a man to help create a new government agency, says Surgeon Shriver, you should get a man who already has a job he doesn't want to leave.

You get the man excited about the new program, bring him to Washington, work him 12 to 16 hours a day in a crisis atmosphere, then, after a year or so, let him go back to the easier pace of private business or a college campus.

"With this kind of people, we don't need to worry about them trying to tell us what we want to hear," Shriver says. "We find out right away when something is wrong. They'd quit tomorrow if they thought we were going to stay wrong."

But that approach does make for a heavy personnel turnover at the Office of Economic Opportunity, where Shriver directs President Johnson's antipoverty campaign, just as it did in the Peace Corps which he organized and still heads.

STEADY CHANGE

Six senior officials either have left in recent days or soon will leave. At lower levels, there is a steady change as people go back to their regular jobs.

Congressional and other critics say this turnover is a sign of poor organization, inefficiency, bad morale.

"We had 150 per cent turnover in the first two years of the Peace Corps," says Shriver. "I'd rather have the best man available for the job for a year or so than a less qualified person permanently."

He notes that the Peace Corps, in its early days, also had its critics who said it was a flop.

TOUGH REALIST

Although there is a strong measure of idealism in the programs he administers, Shriver is a tough realist who wants results, not moral victories.

When questioned recently about a political power struggle centering around the antipoverty program in New York, he replied:

"That's life. You can't run the program in a vacuum. You must deal with the realities as they are."

Bill D. Moyers, former deputy Peace Corps director who now is White House press secretary, says Shriver "believes in creative tension, believes progress and tranquility are not good bedfellows."

CHOOSE THE BEST

Like Johnson, Moyers says, Shriver can choose the best from alternative proposals and blend them in with his own ideas.

Staff conferences are a bit like battlefields, insiders say.

One veteran Shriver aide comments: "Shriver delights when the staff is at each other, people shouting at each other. He feels it is a good test of a man under pressure. You get at the real issues, find out how they really feel."

"He often pits one staff member against another to bring into the open conflicting viewpoints."

BOUND TO ADMIRE

Some people are driven away by the crisis atmosphere, the tension and Shriver's super-salesman approach, but most who work with him wind up as staunch admirers.

One who was a skeptic at first, comments: "He is a master at drawing the best out of a staff and has high standards. Shriver is quick to criticize, sparing with praise."

I've never seen anybody, anywhere, who could rouse so much enthusiasm for a job. There is an excitement in working for him."

Shriver keeps in instant touch with his top aides by use of the "buzz bomb."

This is a telephone hookup arranged so that by merely pushing a button he can call any of the top three dozen men at the two departments. When the buzzer sounds, the official knows it is Shriver and drops everything.

NEED HIS OKAY

Nobody is hired at either agency for any responsible job without Shriver's okay. He often helps recruit the new employees. His first assignment in government was as a talent scout in the formation of the administration of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Subordinates often find Shriver may know some details of their jobs better than they do. "He does his homework," says Mary Ann Orlando, Shriver's administrative aide who has been with him since 1948.

He gets up about 6 a.m. During the school year, Shriver spends the early morning hours with his wife, the former Eunice Kennedy, sister of the late president, and their four children.

The workday begins when he steps into his car for the drive in from his home in nearby Maryland. "I get a good 40 minutes work done in the car," Shriver says. The day sometimes ends at midnight or later.

CHANGES OFFICE

Three days a week, Shriver goes to the office of Economic Opportunity. The other two he is at the Peace Corps. Miss Orlando switches with him. Otherwise, there are separate staffs.

"No two days are alike," Miss Orlando says. Normally, a staff conference is held at 9:30 a.m. After that, there is a procession of appointments, meetings, paper work, telephone calls and trips to Capitol Hill.

Stories saying that Shriver is smiling all the time are just not true, Miss Orlando says. "Of course he doesn't smile all the time. Anybody who does is an idiot. He gets tired and irritable just like anyone else."

But she adds that he does have an amazing ability to snap back when he is tired.

HEARTY EFFORT

Shriver, says Miss Orlando, always has "thrown himself into everything. In the past, however, there were always periods when he could relax a bit and recuperate."

"There's been no respite since we came to Washington in 1960. First it was the campaign, then the talent search, then the Peace Corps, and now this. All the time, push, push, push."

State: I-75 Exchange

Must Be Expanded

LANSING (AP) — The I-75 West Road freeway interchange in the village of Woodhaven must be expanded to cope with increased traffic demands, the State Highway Department reports.

Estimated cost of the interchange expansion is $1,062,000. Bids are expected to be taken in 1967.

Lynda Bird Gives $1,500 to School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson is giving an elementary school in Washington the $1,500 she got from Look magazine for an article on her life in the White House.

The money will be used to beautify the school grounds with shrubs and plantings. Boys from one of the city's vocational schools will do the work.

All this begins today when Miss Johnson presents her gift and plants a magnolia tree at a ceremony at the school, the John F. Cook school.

Fruit Pies Will Please Male Taste

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Pie to many men means just one kind — fruit pie. Even with that restriction, you have a wide variety from which to choose. This is the time of year to use fresh fruit for pie. Take nectarines, for example. They make a delicious pie. If you have peaches on hand, but no nectarines, use the peaches for this pie.

Both fruits peel easily if you cover them with boiling water about 30 seconds:
Lattice-Top Nectarine Pie
Unbaked pastry for double-crust 9-inch pie
6 to 8 fresh nectarines
¼ cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Line 9-inch pie plate with half of pastry. Blanch, peel and slice nectarines to make 4 cups. Mix sugar, flour, nutmeg, orange rind and salt. Spoon over fruit; toss lightly to distribute evenly.
Turn mixture into pastry shell. Dot with butter. Roll remaining pastry for top; brush edge of bottom pastry shell with water.

Cut pastry for top into strips; arrange lattice — fashion over fruit. Press edges of pastry together firmly to seal.
Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 45 minutes, or until crust is brown and syrup forms heavy bubbles that do not burst. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.
Peaches were enjoyed by the Chinese as long ago as 2000 years. Their fruit couldn't have been as good as Michigan peaches are today.
Star some in glazed peach tarts and tuck this recipe away for use with frozen fruit next winter.
Raspberry Glace' Peach Tarts
2 cups bliscuit mix
¼ cup soft butter
¼ cup plus 2 tbs. boiling water
2 tablespoons sugar
fresh or frozen (thawed) Michigan peaches (two 12-oz. pkgs.)
Heat oven to 425 degrees (hot).

Blend bliscuit mix and butter in a bowl. Add boiling water and stir vigorously with fork until bowl. Place on baking sheet. Divide into 2 parts and shape two 8½" ovals. Flatten edge; sprinkle each with 1 tablespoon sugar. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. (Make Raspberry Glace' while the tarts are baking).
Cool on baking sheet. Remove carefully into two serving dishes. Top with peaches. Spread with cooled Raspberry Glace'.
Refrigerate until firm, about 2 hours. Cut crosswise into serving pieces. 8 servings.
Raspberry Glace': Simmer 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen raspberries and ¼ cup water for 3 minutes. Blend in a mixture of ¼ cup and ¾ cup water and 2 tablespoons cornstarch. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Cool. Fresh Michigan raspberries may be used (1 cup) but increase sugar to 1 cup.
Success Tip: Flour hands while shaping tart ovals—dough is soft.

Our third fruit pie recipe calls for canned pineapple. You garnish it with fresh mint so it really is a summery pie. With gelatin you always have to use canned pineapple or it won't set.
Pineapple Mint Mallow Pie
1 (1-pound-4-ounce) can crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup miniature marshmallows
¼ cup whipping cream
1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
Drain pineapple. Add mint leaves to syrup; simmer one minute. Soften gelatin in cold water. Strain hot pineapple syrup. Stir in sugar, salt, softened gelatin, pineapple and lemon juice.

Chill until thick, but not firm. Fold in marshmallows and whipped cream. Pile into baked pastry shell. Refrigerate several hours until firm. Garnish with pineapple, fresh mint leaves and an extra puff of whipped cream, if desired. Serves 6 to 8.

Set Safeguards for Smoked Fish

To ensure lovers of smoked fish a wholesome tasty product is the aim of a Michigan Department of Agriculture regulation recently signed by Gov. George Romney and given immediate effect.
The regulation is the result of industry hearings and months of study by a committee of experts. Appointed by the Governor, they drafted guidelines for the smoked fish industry. It covers all phases of the preparation, processing and distribution of smoked fish with emphasis on temperature controls and other consumer protections.

er than 36 degrees. The fish must be smoked so the coldest part remains at not less than 180 degrees for at least 30 minutes. This is done by time and temperature recording devices, records of which must be available to inspectors of the Department's Food Inspection Division.
Following smoking, fish must be cooled to 36 degrees or below with this temperature maintained through all channels of trade. In the case of vacuum packed smoked fish, the product must be sterilized after it is in its container.
Labeling requirements for the consumer are also written into the regulation. They point out how the consumer should handle the product after purchase.

All packaging materials used to hold unopened smoked fish are restricted to one-time use only. Labels must contain a statement of the perishability of the product, the temperature of home storage, and that the product should be eaten within 14 days after the date of smoking.
This regulation is for protection of the consumer, said Food Inspection Division Chief J. L. Littlefield of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.
Dry vermouth may be substituted to advantage. In many recipes calling for dry white wine.

Hamburger Has More Fat in It

How well do Michigan consumers understand the Michigan Meat Law which regulates what can be included in ground meats? According to this law, there is a difference between ground beef and hamburger.
Hamburger is made from fresh ground beef and beef fat only with up to 30 per cent fat.
Ground beef is the same as hamburger, except it contains up to 20 per cent fat.
Can consumers tell the difference between ground beef and hamburger, when it is not labeled?
When asked which of two unmarked samples was hamburger and which was ground beef, 8 out of 4 women could correctly identify the samples. These homemakers also understood the relative cost and relative fat content for both hamburger and ground beef.

Dried Fruits Coated to Prolong Freshness

A new coating process for applying coating materials to nuts and raisins is working on other dried fruits. The coating is odorless, tasteless and transparent. Nuts to which the coating is applied are free from rancidity at room temperatures for more than 14 months.

Name May Differ

Beef brisket is a familiar cut of meat to most cooks, but some of the names applied to the cut may not be, says the American Meat Institute. Depending on what section of the country you live in, beef brisket may be called deckle, bonnet brisket, beef breast, brisket pot-roast, "barbecue" beef brisket or corned beef.

TUNA SPAGHETTI CASSEROLE — Two canned foods, tuna and spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese, are teamed with frozen Italian green beans to produce a delicious

Tuna Spaghetti Casserole. A crisp tossed salad and crusty French bread complete the menu.

Tuna-Spaghetti Casserole Is Interesting

The magic of convenience foods makes it possible for new brides or seasoned cooks to be wizards in the kitchen. Canned and frozen foods can be used to conjure up tasty and attractive meals with little effort.

beans; mound tuna in center. In medium saucepan, mix together remaining ingredients; heat until butter is melted. Pour over tuna and beans.

Cover and bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven 30 minutes. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Barbecue Sauce Has Base of Dressing

Most barbecued meats taste better with a basting sauce — and succulent spareribs even more so! Like franks and hamburgers, spareribs have become traditional barbecue fare but cookout chefs agree it takes the special zest of a basting sauce to bring out their best flavor.

Flavor — along with convenience — is what home economists combined in this recipe for Barbecued Spareribs. The three-ingredient basting sauce depends on bottled garlic-flavored French dressing, soy sauce and brown sugar for flavor and color.

Tuna Spaghetti Casserole
2 cans (15½ ounces each) spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese
2 packages (9 ounces each) frozen Italian green beans, cooked and drained
2 cans (6½ to 7 ounces each) chunk-style tuna, drained
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon basil
¼ teaspoon each: salt, pepper, oregano

In a 2-quart ovenproof dish, arrange spaghetti around sides; then make a ring of green

Garlic-flavored French dressing contains a blend of herbs and spices, chili peppers, tomato paste, minced garlic and celery seed—also lemon juice, oil and vinegar. It both seasons and tenderizes the spareribs as they barbecue, producing a rich, red-brown glaze.

Barbecued Spareribs
½ cup garlic-flavored French dressing
2 tablespoons soy sauce
¼ cup light brown sugar
4 to 5 pounds spareribs, par-boiled

Make Barbecue Sauce: Combine french dressing, soy sauce and brown sugar. Brush spareribs with some of the sauce.

Grill ribs over glowing coals or broil on broiler rack about four inches from heat, turning frequently and brushing with remaining sauce until crisp and well browned, about 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Lemon-Lime Mist
2 envelopes lemon flavored iced tea mix
2 envelopes lime flavored iced tea mix
4½ cups water
1 (1 pint, 13 ounce) bottle club soda, chilled

Make large pitcher or punch bowl, empty envelopes of iced tea mix. Stir in water. Just before serving, add club soda. Serve in tall ice-filled glasses. Makes two quarts.

Cranberry Juice Is Different Frozen

NEW YORK (UPI) — For a really special hot-weather treat for the youngsters, keep a batch of cranberry juice in the freezer. They couldn't be easier to make.

Just fill an ice tray with cranberry juice cocktail, freeze until slushy, add sticks, and return to the freezer until hard. Cut into squares and serve.

Scraps of leftover pie dough make good turnovers when the pastry is rolled, cut into squares and filled with deviled ham.

Barbecue Menus Can Be Meatless

Believe it or not, you can have a meatless barbecue. Tomatoes, corn and zucchini, marinated and then broiled over coals on skewers, make truly delectable outdoor eating.

Vegetable Kabobs
6 medium tomatoes
6 ears corn on cob
3 zucchini
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons water
½ cup salad oil or olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
2 tablespoons steak sauce

2 tablespoons minced onion
Cut tomatoes in quarters, corn in two-inch pieces, zucchini in two-inch slices. Combine remaining ingredients in jar and shake well.

Place sliced vegetables in bowl, pour marinade over. Marinate in refrigerator 2-3 hours. String each vegetable on separate skewer and broil over coals until tender, turning often and basting with marinade. Remove tomatoes after 5-7 minutes, corn after 15 minutes, zucchini after 20 minutes. Serves 6.

If you feel there just has to be some meat in a barbecue, try these beef and vegetable combinations:
Spinach-Beef Patties
1 lb. ground beef
1 egg
1 tablespoon steak sauce
½ cup chopped spinach
1 tablespoon diced onion
1 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper

shape into 6 patties. Grill 3-5 minutes on each side.

Eggplant-Beef Cubes
1-inch beef cubes
1-inch cubes of raw eggplant
1 box cherry tomatoes
½ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons steak sauce
1 garlic clove, minced

Marinate beef and eggplant in mixture of oil, steak sauce and garlic for two hours in refrigerator. String beef, eggplant, tomatoes alternately on skewers, cook over hot coals until meat is browned evenly. (Figure one skewer per person, 3-4 cubes each of beef, eggplant per skewer.)

GLENWOOD PLAZA NORTH PERRY STREET CORNER GLENWOOD

These Three Serving Recipes Will Allow for a Bridegroom's Extra-Big Appetite

Today's bride, though a stranger to the kitchen, has it all over her great, great-grandmother. That pioneer woman had to cook everything that could be shot, caught or trapped — from buffalo to possum. A picture, quite a far cry from Thomas Wolfe's observation, "There is no spectacle on earth more appealing than that of a beautiful woman in the act of cooking dinner for someone she loves."

Instead of bird on the wing and venison on the hoof, today's inexperienced cook can select from frozen and pre-cooked foods; turn out entire meals by turning on an oven.

And to make it simpler than that, here is a convenience food collection of recipes for three servings. Why three servings instead of two? To allow for the groom's big appetite. You see, these meals will turn out so well he will want to eat everything in sight.

Pizza Muffins
¾ pound pork sausage meat
3 sliced large English muffins

¼ cup canned pizza sauce.
6 (1 ounce) slices Mozzarella or Scamorza cheese.
Brown sausage in a skillet, breaking it into small pieces as it browns. Place muffin halves, cut sides up, on a cookie sheet. Spread about 1 tablespoon pizza sauce on each muffin half; top with 2 tablespoons crumbled browned sausage and 1 slice of cheese.

Warm muffins in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for five minutes, or until cheese begins to melt. Serve at once.
Yield: 6 pizza muffins — 2 halves per serving.

Apple Slaw
1 tablespoon butter or margarine.
1 cup (½ inch) toasted bread cubes.
1 tablespoon finely grated Parmesan cheese.

Dressing Is Full of Zip and Cream

An "instant" salad for "instant" success on a warm summer's day — that's the happy prospect when you toss "Lettuce with Cream Dressing." The lettuce is chilled bite-size pieces of crisp western iceberg lettuce.

The dressing is made with sour cream, mayonnaise, grated Cheddar cheese and simple seasonings. Toss dressing with lettuce, and you have a salad of truly refreshing proportions.

When buying iceberg in markets, pick out heads that are firm but not hard, and "give" slightly to finger pressure.

Lettuce with Cream Dressing
1 head western iceberg lettuce
¼ cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup grated Cheddar cheese
2 teaspoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon savory
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cure, rinse and drain lettuce. Place in plastic bag or saran; chill. Tear lettuce into bite-size pieces to make 1 quart.

Mix all remaining ingredients. Toss with lettuce until evenly coated. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

¼ cup chopped unpeeled apple
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons creamy slaw dressing
Melt butter in a large skillet; add toasted bread cubes and stir until all sides are coated with butter. Sprinkle cheese over croutons. Combine cabbage, apple, salt and slaw dressing. At serving time, stir in cheese croutons.

Yield: 3 servings.
Mushrooms in Barbecue Sauce
¾ pound fresh mushrooms

2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
¼ cup barbecue sauce
Slice mushrooms diagonally; place in small aluminum pie pan. Drizzle butter and barbecue sauce over mushrooms. Cover pan closely with foil and cook on grill over hot coals for about twenty minutes.

Yield: 3 servings.

Delicious accompaniment for a soup and salad lunch: baking powder biscuits made with shredded cheddar cheese.

CRISP CUCUMBER PICKLE — Don't let a sugar-free diet stop you from having good pickles. They're surprisingly easy to make with sucaryl solution. You'll welcome these on relish trays when you entertain.

Sucaryl Sweetens Pickles, Cuts High Calorie Count

Before frost robs us of the last of our good garden vegetables, gather in big crisp cabbages, shiny green peppers, crisp glossy cucumbers, red beets and golden onions.

Get out knives and shredders, choppers and bowls, jars and kettles and transform last-from-the-garden vegetables into zesty wintertime treats.

Modern, calorie-minded cooks will prefer to make Cucurbit Pickle by the tantalizing good, yet calorie-streamlined, recipe given here. Instead of sugar, the calorie-free sweetener, sucaryl provides the sweetness.

If you've never "put up" a jar of pickles before in your life, do start now. You'll be surprised at how quick, easy and wonderfully satisfying the job can be.

CRISP CUCUMBER PICKLE (Low-Calorie)
6 ripe, firm cucumbers
¼ cup salt

1½ tablespoons sucaryl solution
¼ cup water
2 cups white vinegar
2 tablespoons mixed pickling spice

Wash and dry cucumbers; cut into strips to fit half-pint jars. Place in large bowl; sprinkle with salt and let stand overnight. Rinse and drain well several times.

Combine sucaryl, water and vinegar in a large kettle; bring to a boil. Add pickling spice tied in a cheesecloth bag. Add cucumbers. Reduce heat; simmer 15 minutes.

Pack cucumbers into hot, sterilized half-pint jars. Heat liquid again to boiling; pour over pickles in jars. Seal at once.

Makes 6 half-pint jars. Each jar contains 34 calories; 1.5 grams protein; trace of fat; 9.5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each jar would contain 131 calories.

Cracked Eggs Not to Be Sold

Further protection against food poisoning is built into a new egg law passed by the legislature that becomes effective 90 days after the legislature adjourns. Under it, sale of cracked or cracked shell eggs becomes unlawful.

A bacterial organism that causes food poisoning, called salmonella, has been traced to cracked or cracked eggs among other sources. It will become illegal to sell this type of egg in stores, food handling establishments, bakeries or other food processors.

Such establishments may only use shell eggs of no lower than Grade B or liquid of frozen eggs that have been processed by a licensed egg breaking plant or other approved source.

There is one exception to the new law. Cracked or cracked eggs may be sold by a producer to a person for his own family use.

The new law will be enforced by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Food Inspection Division.

The division's chief, J. L. Littlefield, says the 1965 law (Act 132) is not intended arbitrarily to remove cracked or cracked eggs from the market, but to protect the consumer from the hazards of food poisoning. Several other states have similar laws.

Elegant Raisin Sauce Will Set Table Aglow

Golden Raisins Flambe is an excellent sauce to flame at the table. Cover 1 cup golden raisins with 1 cup boiling water 5 minutes. Drain; add ¼ teaspoon grated lemon peel, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 3 tablespoons brown sugar and ¼ cup 100-proof brandy. Let stand 1 hour.

To serve, add an additional ¼ cup brandy, bring to boil in chafing dish and ignite. Spoon over 8 servings hard ice cream.

Eggplant, tomatoes, onion and summer squash make a great combination for a vegetable dish.

Female Diet Feeds Thought

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — Entomology is a subject that ordinarily doesn't interest anyone except entomologists. And some of them may have trouble keeping their minds on what they are doing.

But every so often these fellows who spend their time studying insects, come up with something that causes us laymen to sit up and take notice.

One recent development that brought me to the edge of my chair was the report that they have isolated and identified feeding stimulants for female houseflies.

I personally have only a swatter's interest in female houseflies, but this announcement seems to have implications that transcend the insect world. Permit me to elucidate.

According to the Agriculture Department, "Research leading to the identification of the housefly-feeding stimulants began when scientists noticed that adding yeast or casein hydrolysate to a basic diet sharply increased the feeding activity and food intake of female flies."

SUCCESS

Three insect physiologists and a chemist set out to try to find the substances that were causing the appetite upsurge. And they succeeded.

Apparently, the flies are not directly attracted by the feeding stimulants the way that they are by jam sandwiches. But when they run across one it makes them gluttonous.

The agricultural researchers put some on a piece of filter paper and placed it in a cage containing houseflies. It was so powerful that less than a millionth of an ounce caused hundreds of female flies to feed vigorously within a small area.

Now we come to the intriguing part. According to the department, these same substances "had virtually no effect on male houseflies." I hardly need point out what this could mean.

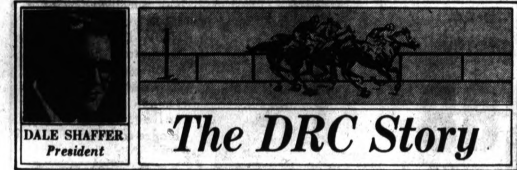

OVERLOOKED POINT

Although the department overlooked this point, it gives rise to hopes that science will eventually be able to isolate and identify feeding stimulants for female housewives.

The obvious place to look for such substances is in casseroles and congealed salads. Housewives feed voraciously on these dishes, which have virtually no effect on their husbands.

Once the feeding stimulants have been identified, they presumably could be removed. All sorts of benefits would then accrue.

It might enable a housewife to go on a diet without starving the rest of the family. Or at any rate maybe she would stop serving casseroles and congealed salads.

The DRC Story

THE MAN WHO COUNTS
CALORIES FOR HORSES

Way Hopton is a Calorie Counter... for other people and for horses.

He worries about everybody's weight but his own.

The lean, six-foot-two Hopton is the Detroit Race Course's Racing Secretary. A vital part of his job is to assign the weights each horse carries in the major stakes.

It is a job which requires a unique knowledge of thoroughbred performances, a skill of blending proving factors with potential, and a touch of luck.

There's a race track adage which says: "Weight brings all horses together." That is what Hopton attempts to do with his assignments in events such as the famed $75,000-added Michigan Mile, to be raced at the DRC Saturday, Sept. 18.

The Mile is Michigan's richest race. It is a Showcase of the Stars.

A year ago, Hopton achieved a Racing Secretary's dream when Tibaldo and Going Abroad finished in a dead heat in The Mile. Going Abroad carried 120 pounds and Tibaldo 112 pounds.

Racing Secretaries and Handicappers point to the late John B. Campbell for the "perfect" assignment of weights in a top stakes event. In the 1944 Carter Handicap, Brownie, Wait A Bit, and Bousset finished in a rare Triple Dead Heat. Brownie carried 115 pounds, Wait A Bit 118 pounds and Bousset 127 pounds.

How important is a POUND in a horse race?

Mighty important. By a Racing Secretary's calculation, a spread of two pounds is equal to one length in a mile race.

Owners and trainers watch the assignment of weights to their horses intently. They argue violently if they feel the weights favor a rival. The weights often determine whether a turf star will start in The Mile or look elsewhere for an engagement.

You may wonder, and with good reason, why The Michigan Mile is raced at a mile and one-eighth. Originally—and hence its name—The Mile was contested at that distance.

Then, it was raced at a mile and one-sixteenth. This year, in response to repeated requests by horsemen, we made the distance a mile and one-eighth. At this time of the year, owners and trainers prefer the longer route for their Handicap stars. They feel it makes for a better race. It enables us to get more big name horses.

Our probable starters Saturday include Malicious, which defeated the great Kelo in the $100,000 Aqueduct Handicap on Labor Day; Pluck, which finished second in the Aqueduct; Take Over, winner of the $113,000 Washington Park Handicap; Pia Star, co-holder of the American record for the mile with a clocking of 1:33-1/5; the California star, Native Diver, winner of six stakes this season; Romm Brother, who won the New Hampshire Sweepstakes in 1964; and old rivals, Going Abroad and Tibaldo. Michigan Mile Week is something special. We have a Stake-A-Day on our racing program.

Our new $3,000,000 Clubhouse is open. It offers facilities for every taste... the beautiful Winner's Circle dining terrace; the picturesque Ye Olde Tired Horse Pub and the colorful French Quarter Lounge, where you can enjoy a quick snack and a refreshing drink.

Why not visit us during Michigan Mile Week and increase your Racing Pleasure! For dining terrace reservations, call GA1-7170.

Six Department Heads Are Named by Romney

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney yesterday announced his first six appointments for new department leaders under the 1965 governmental reorganization.

Romney named Allison Green, 53, the unsuccessful Republican nominee for secretary of state and acting auditor general to the new constitutional office of state treasurer.

Others named were Fredrick E. Davids, State Police commissioner, to continue in the post as director of the new Department of State Police, and Lenton Q. Schultharp of Marshall as director of licensing and regulation.

Robert A. Kimmich, director of the Department of Mental Health, was named to continue in that post under reorganization as Albert E. Hensley, the director of public health, and R. Bernard Houston, director of the Department of Social Welfare was named to become the new director of social services.

The government reorganization act combined about 140 state departments, boards and commissions into 19 principal departments.

"It is essential that we begin the tasks of reorganization now that we have most of the tools," Romney said. "I am hopeful that the legislature will complete the first phase of the operation this fall by providing the salaries needed to get the full effort under way."

Senate confirmation is required for the appointments.

Romney said the appointments will not begin in the new posts until the reorganization is affected under an executive order.

Union Contract OK'd at Tecumseh Products

TECUMSEH (AP)—United Products Workers Union members Wednesday ratified a new three-year contract with Tecumseh Products Co. by a vote of 1,285 to 310. The contract reportedly included a 50-cent hourly wage increase package for maintenance workers and most skilled tradesmen at the refrigeration equipment manufacturing plant.

Too 'Bullheaded' to Bear Stock Exchange Advance?

NEW YORK (AP) — The living room of Maggie Walsh Petersen's pre-revolutionary home may be the site of the New York Stock Exchange some day.

But it won't be without a fight.

Her house in Lower Manhattan stands in the middle of a six-block area where the exchange is planning to build a new trading floor and adjacent 45-story office building.

Mrs. Petersen and other property owners in the area are suing to prevent New York City from using its powers of condemnation to take over the land.

NOT ENOUGH MONEY
"There isn't enough money in the Chase Manhattan Bank," she says proudly, "and David Rockefeller and all his brothers put together haven't enough money to buy this place."

David Rockefeller is president of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

The house that Mrs. Petersen and her husband, Louis, bought in 1963 was built in 1732. It stands three blocks from Fraunces Tavern, where George Washington in 1783 bade farewell to the men who served under him in the American Revolution.

Nearby, the U.S. Congress met in the early days of the nation and the first governors of New York State lived.

URBAN RENEWAL
Last year, the city offered to provide the stock exchange with a new home in the area through the use of urban renewal funds. Then John T. McGrath, former city corporation counsel, and Sol G. Atlas, a real estate developer, sued the city, claiming it had no right to condemn private property for public use. That suit is still pending.

McGrath and Atlas acquired two blocks of the area and sold it to the stock exchange for a new trading floor. Then they tried to buy the adjacent area for the office building. That's where they ran into Mrs. Petersen. She refused to sell.

NEW ATTACK

Last March, McGrath proposed the city revive a long-dormant plan to widen nearby Water Street. This would mean it could condemn any property which lies in the way, including Mrs. Petersen's house.

The suit by Mrs. Petersen seeks to prevent the city from going along with McGrath's request.

"This house," she says, "is part of New York's heritage, and it really belongs to the history of the American people. It should remain right here."

State Money Is Urged for Vets' Facility

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Financial relief for the Michigan veterans facility here, "It is to continue providing care for elderly and infirmed veterans," was urged Wednesday by two area legislators.

Rep. Thomas G. Ford and Sen. Robert VanderLaan, Grand Rapids Republicans, made public letters written to Gov. George Romney and each member of the Legislature.

Ford said the facility now accommodates 789 veterans or dependents in residence. Although it is 80 years old, he said, the state has spent only $562,000 on remodeling or additions in the last decade.

He termed "ridiculous and unrealistic" the lack of expenditure in new construction at the facility which now serves principally as an infirmary.

CAPACITY REACHED
Ford said it is filled to capacity and has an extensive waiting list of eligible persons who have applied for admission. He said the Governor's attention was being called to the matter because the recommended 1966-67 state budget is being prepared.

Back Benefits Paid by Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) —Some $405 million in retroactive benefits is on its way to 30.5 million Social Security beneficiaries.

Mailing of the checks began Wednesday at six Treasury disbursing offices—in New York, Philadelphia, Birmingham, Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco.

The payments represent a 7 per cent increase retroactive to Jan. 1 signed into law July 30.

The U. S. Public Health Service estimates there are approximately 35 million people now living in the U. S. who have been infected at some time with the tubercle bacillus, even though they may not have a clinical case of tuberculosis.

A Junior Editors Quiz About CRABS

QUESTION: Why do crabs walk sideways?

ANSWER: The ancestors of crabs appeared about 400 million years ago. The special way of life they developed was to crawl over the ocean bottom or beach looking for bits of decaying animal or vegetable matter.

Since crabs are tasty little creatures, many animals prey on them. The crab family thus had to develop different ways of protection. Some covered themselves with seaweed; others, like the hermit crab, concealed themselves in empty sea shells.

In our picture, Mike is amused at how fierce and dangerous a crab looks. He realizes that this is mostly bluff, useful for scaring some enemy away. In the bottom picture, Mike puts the crab on the sand to see what will happen.

Almost as if he realizes his bluff hasn't worked, the crab rises on the tips of his legs and scuttles off sideways. This movement is unusual among animals and probably often helps a crab make a getaway.

The crab's legs are related to his body so that they bend inward, making it easier to walk sideways than to the front. Nature is always making odd experiments.

If they work to help the animals survive, she lets her creatures go on using them, so crabs will probably escape by ducking off sideways for thousands of years to come.

FOR YOU TO DO: Study the little wild creatures around you to find the various methods nature has given them that they can survive. You will find some very surprising ones.

Moose on the Loose

Call of Wild Too Much?

EASTON, N. H. (N) — The people are moving out of this small town on the edge of the White Mountains — and the moose are moving in.

Easton's population was never very big and it's getting smaller — down to 75 in 1960, half the number who lived there in 1940.

On the other hand, back in 1940 it was generally believed that moose, the largest of the deer family of animals, had long since departed for even more remote places.

But now a family of moose, mister, missus and their 300 pound calf, have not only taken up residence, but they're joining right in with the people. They've created a traffic problem along Route 116 and at its junction with Route 112 which cuts into the mountains through Kinsman's Notch.

CURIOUS PEOPLE

The trouble is that motorists see the moose and stop to satisfy their curiosity.

No Parole for 50-Year Prisoner

HUTTONSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — William Hollie Griffith, 73, the convict who has spent more than half century behind bars, has again failed to make parole.

The West Virginia Board of Probation and Parole interviewed the former badman Wednesday for the 16th time and then turned down his plea for freedom. The board did not disclose its reasons.

Griffith was sentenced to life in prison in 1915 after killing a law officer during a gun battle. He escaped from the penitentiary six years later and was convicted of killing two more men during three weeks of freedom.

Griffith was given two additional life sentences and spent the next six years in solitary confinement. He then went to work in the prison tailor shop and accumulated more than $26,000 operating the shop.

SHOP CLOSED

State officials ordered Griffith's tailor shop closed in 1959, the year he was transferred to the state's medium security prison here.

Officials at the prison recently spoke in Griffith's behalf, saying they didn't know why he wasn't released years ago. They termed him a "model prisoner."

Griffith felt he had a good chance for parole this year in view of a request by a group of West Virginia businessmen that he be released so he could establish a garment factory in one of the state's depressed areas. "But I don't want that request to have any influence on the board's decision," he said in an interview last month. "If my good record for the past 45 years doesn't merit a parole, then I don't want one."

Choir Member's Voice Stilled by Viet Cong Bullet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A voice from Viet Nam haunts the West Park Methodist Church here.

The mellow voice of a young soloist, Andrew Hinderman, 21, who left the choir to join the Marines, has been stilled by a Viet Cong bullet.

Hinderman's tenor solos no longer will echo through the church, but for his parents, the memory of their son's melodies will linger forever.

"We always told him that God was with him and would see him through the war," the Marine's father, Albert, said. "Now there's only one way we can look at it. We figure it was God's will to take Andrew."

MEMBER OF CHOIR

The father is a longtime member of the choir and his wife has been organist for 27 years. "He (Andrew) sang in the choir with me," Albert said.

Hinderman said his son was able to attend church in Viet Nam just once since his arrival in June. "It sure made me feel good," Andrew wrote.

But then it was back to the war.

"In many letters he told of the boys next to him being shot and two of his buddies being killed when they stepped into booby traps," the father said.

STEPPED ON TRAP

Once Andrew stepped on a spiked Viet Cong booby trap and the barb went into his foot. "They said I will get a Purple Heart. What about that?" he wrote.

"He never seemed to complain, though, and never wrote home finding fault," the father said.

"I don't know how I would stand it if it wasn't for my prayers and my thoughts of home," a letter said.

In his final letter, dated Sept. 10, he wrote, "You don't know how wonderful a sunrise is to me now. It means another night of a possible death has passed." That night he went on patrol and was killed.

State Traffic Deaths Down; Over-All Casualties Up

EAST LANSING (AP) — A State Police Safety and Traffic Bureau. A bureau analysis says all cheerful trend in the over-all traffic casualty figure, says the combined—the number of accidents and the accident cost all will set new highs. Casualties last year were 146,743—2,120 killed and 144,623 injured. There were 294,444 accidents and their estimated cost was $380 million. Through Sept. 14, Michigan traffic deaths numbered 1,307, are ahead.

—91 or six per cent fewer than the same period in 1964. Three of the worst months of the year for traffic fatalities are ahead.

B52s Hit Red Target South of Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52 bombers made their first raid into the Mekong south of Saigon today, striking a suspected Red target 90 miles below the capital, U.S. military authorities said.

The raid over Vinh Binh Province was the 25th reported made by the jets of the Strategic Air Command against targets in Viet Nam.

The other raids have been carried out north of Saigon mostly in Zone D, long a Communist stronghold, and in the Ben Cat area a few miles north of the capital.

On the ground, U.S. and allied troops ran into sniper and mortar fire as they tried to clear the Viet Cong from thick jungle near Ben Cat. Vietnamese paratroopers, joined by U.S., Australian and New Zealand troops have not yet made major contact with the elusive guerrillas, a spokesman said.

LIGHT LOSSES

Australian and New Zealand troops suffered light losses in the jungle probe near Ben Cat, about 30 miles north of Saigon in Binh Duong Province, but no

U.S. casualties were reported, he said.

A U.S. patrol came under Viet Cong fire and ordered the guerrillas out of their underground bunkers. When they refused, a grenade was tossed into one opening. A spokesman said women and children were among the casualties resulting from the grenade explosion.

The area of the joint operation, being cleared to establish a U.S. base, has long been considered a Viet Cong stronghold. U.S. Air Force planes attacked North Viet Nam's Yen Khoai military barracks, 35 miles west-northwest of Hanoi, a spokesman said. U.S. planes hit the same target Sunday and Tuesday.

PLANE CRASH

All 40 persons aboard an Air Viet Nam C47 commercial airliner, including an American, were reported killed when it crashed shortly after takeoff from Quang Ngai airfield, 300 miles north of Saigon.

An Air Viet Nam spokesman said there were 17 men, six women, 14 children and the crew members aboard the plane. Vietnamese sources claimed an 11-day-old operation 13 miles southwest of Da Nang has resulted in 187 Viet Cong killed. U.S. spokesmen said 123 bodies were counted.

Frozen Chicken Parts

Were 'Hot' Goods

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — James Sullivan, 26, was arrested here and charged with possession of stolen property. His mother had telephoned the police. She said she became worried when her son had brought home 180 pounds of frozen chicken parts.

Warning Paid Off

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Louisville policeman Rodney Orlkiese warned his wife to beware of purse snatchers in an area where she waited nightly for a bus to take her home from work.

The warning was worth $15. Before going to work a couple of days later, she gave her husband most of her money.

Waiting for the bus that night, she had her purse stolen. The loss: only a few cents in change.

Wessin May Stay Until Ruling--U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department says Dominican Gen. Elias Wessin will be allowed to stay in the United States pending a final ruling on his status.

The former chief of the Dominican Republic's Air Force, now in Miami, has charged he was forced out of his country by the United States "with a bayonet in my back." He has refused to accept the post of consul general which the new Dominican government offered him.

State Department Press Officer Marshall Wright said yesterday Wessin was in this country "on deferred inspection status." He declined comment on the general's charges about his manner of leaving the Dominican republic.

DFT Is Recognized

as Bargaining Agent

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Board of Education Wednesday recognized the Detroit Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) as collective bargaining agent for the city's 10,000 school teachers.

The federation won an election among Detroit teachers in May, 1964. Recognition by the board merely changed the wording of an agreement between the board and the federation, in effect since shortly after the election.

Stephanopoulos as Next Greek Premier?

ATHENS (U-P) — Informed sources said today Stephanopoulos was practically assured of becoming Greece's next premier-designate.

He was said to be waiting only for King Constantine to summon him to the palace and give him a mandate to form a coalition government.

Stephanopoulos, who backed away from a mandate six weeks ago after his party refused to support him, was not reported certain of winning a parliamentary vote of confidence.

Informed sources said at least ten to twelve deputies believed in ex-Premier George Papandreu's center union would join Stephanopoulos.

With these additions, Stephanopoulos would be assured of more than half of the votes in the 300-member Greek Parliament.

BONN, Germany (AP) — A war crimes complaint against two retired high-ranking North Atlantic Treaty Organization generals has been investigated by the Bonn prosecutor's office.

A spokesman said Wednesday the office had investigated complaints against Gen. Hans Speidel, who commanded the alliance's land forces in Central Europe, and Gen. Hans Heusinger, who was chairman of its military committee in Washington.

The complaint was made by Lorenz Knorr, a leader of the left-leaning German Peace Union, the spokesman said. He would not say what particular crimes the complaint alleged.

In World War II, Heusinger was a lieutenant general in the German army. Speidel's last job in that period was chief of staff to Gen. Erwin Rommel.

dustrialists, a foreign trade ministry official said today.

Antigono Donati, president of the government Institute for Foreign Trade said an Italian trade mission submitted to the government its recommendations after a visit in May to mainland China.

Italy does not recognize the Peking regime. But an Italian trade center opened in Peking on an unofficial basis last February. China opened a similar one in Rome.

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle has served notice that he will continue French efforts to get the European Common Market to include all agricultural commodities.

"We have wished very strongly for the entry of French agriculture into the Common Market," Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte quoted him as saying Wednesday after a cabinet meeting.

The basic requirement for an opening bid is high card strength. You are starting to attack and need ammunition.

The basic requirement for an overcall is playing strength. You need some high cards, otherwise your overcall is pointless, but when you base an overcall on high card points, especially at the two level, you are inviting trouble to pay you a visit.

West could hardly believe his ears when he heard South's two spade call, but this astonishment did not keep him from doubling.

South had no place to run. West took his king and ace of hearts and continued with the queen and another club. East took his ace and king of clubs and shifted to a trump which CANCER (Jun. 21 to Jul. 21): Communication received now should not discourage you. Cycle moving up. Circulation of confidence situation. Deal with groups, agencies. Get backing of those in authority.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 22): Don't go too far ahead. You can't "chase" fortune. Friends may speak of opportunities, urge aggressive action. Be wary. WHAT YOU SEEK IS DUE TO COME TO YOU. Act accordingly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sep. 22): Make concessions. Realize price at this time can be a negative force. Substitute maturity, understanding. Appear especially in dealing with OLDER INDIVIDUALS.

LIBRA (Sep. 23 to Oct. 22): Clear up misunderstandings. Be more direct. Avoid meanings, goals, motives. No time to argue. Be more direct. People tend to go to you. Write about your feelings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): You must revise everything you know. This is a REVISE ATTITUDE. When you contact, new contacts. Move in your favor if you will be observant. Study this.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): The more receptive are the better. Means don't try to twist or turn. The more you know, the more you achieve. Submit. Go with the trend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Tendency now is to become envious. Overcome temptation to be envious. Obtain valid hint from SAGITTARIUS message. If slow down.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): You are in a position to make a statement. Remember resolutions concerning budget. UNDERSTANDING COMMUNISM. You do have to face yourself in the morning.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): Emotional security, domestic relations. Need for revision, change is evident. Outlook here is more optimistic. Be receptive, alert. Change may lead to solution of problems.

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Those indicated to be in better luck are those who are able to cope with problems and are able to take advantage of opportunities.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Transportation, security, domestic relations, city planning, improvement appear to be particularly evident.

West won with the ten. West played ace and four of diamonds became the eighth defensive trick. A third diamond lead allowed West to ruff for the ninth trick and he still was sure of one more trump trick.

South was ready with all sorts of futile talk. He remarked that he had saved a slam. He hadn't. East and West could come close to a slam, but close doesn't count. Then he mentioned the fact that he had 11 high card points.

He was correct about that. One ace, three queens and one jack do count up to 11, but we have pointed out many times, "Points don't take tricks." Cards do!" South had no reason to expect that his side's spades and jacks would take tricks at spades and they didn't.

State Guard's Mobilization at Most a 5-Month Task

LANSING (AP) — Mobilizing Michigan's 10,000-man Army National Guard and sending it abroad would take up to five months, but mobilization isn't likely, the Guard's adjutant general says.

Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke said Wednesday the Guard would have to be boosted to division strength by addition of Army Reserve men, pick up additional equipment and undergo several months' intensive training.

Mobilizing the Guard for federal service is much different than moving its men into a local disaster situation, added Col. Ralph C. Phillips, military plans officer for the adjutant general's office.

"We can have them in a local disaster area within an hour after notification of an alert," said Phillips. "In this situation all we do is report, and pick up a uniform and our equipment and we are ready to go."

Schnipke said Guardsmen ordinarily could expect 30 days' notice before mobilization to get their affairs in order.

Phillips added that in a crisis situation, the men probably could be mobilized within a week.

"It takes reams of paper to transfer the National Guardsmen into federal service," Phillips said.

Schnipke also said Wednesday the Michigan National Guard is filled to its full authorized strength for the first time since the end of World War II.

END OF AUGUST

Although the Guard strength has hovered around 95 to 98 percent for years, "we hit the very top for the first time at the end of August," he said.

Schnipke attributed the rise to the increased draft resulting from a step up in the Viet Nam war. Guardsmen are exempt from the draft.

More Tests Slated for Sealab Dolphin

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — Can a trained dolphin do for a submerged diver what a St. Bernard dog does for a lost mountain climber?

Tuffy, the Sealab 2 project's "educated" dolphin, and two aquanauts planned today to put that question of animal intelligence to the supreme test 205 feet down in the Pacific Ocean.

Aquanauts John Reaves and Ken Conda, in diving gear, were set to plunge to the ocean floor equipped with buzzers to signal their position to Tuffy.

If all goes well, the dolphin, wearing a harness with a cable attached, should respond to the signal, locate the divers in the murky depths and take the cable to them so they can find their way to the surface.

Scientists said a dolphin's underwater vision far exceeds man's 10- to 20-foot undersea limit, and the mammal can descend and ascend much faster than man.

SEAGOING MAILMAN
Experimenters also wanted to learn whether Tuffy could carry messages to and from the diver as a sort of seagoing mailman.

"Our main concern is that he (Tuffy) get used to the sounds in a strange area — boats, motors and laboratory noises — so he can distinguish our underwater signal," said Dr. Sam H. Ridgway, research veterinarian at the Navy Missile Center at Point Mugu, Calif., where Tuffy was trained.

To familiarize Tuffy with the expected sea noises, he was flown here by helicopter Monday from Point Mugu and given two days' special training Tuesday and yesterday.

Rigged with the harness and carrying a "dummy" package, Tuffy yesterday responded alertly to the electric buzzer which called him back to the Sealab 2. Man-in-the-Sea Project mother ship Berke.

PRELIMINARY TESTS
In yesterday's preliminary test, Tuffy worked with an old friend, Navy Capt. George Bond, chief investigator on the project Tuffy went through his paces at the 170 foot level.

In Tuesday's test, Tuffy had time to frolic and made 20 dives to the ocean floor to familiarize himself with the area around Sealab 2, the 290-ton, 57-foot-long aquanauts' home-away-from-home.

Although today's experiment was Tuffy's first major test, he already had achieved widespread public attention. His navy friends refer to him as a "porpoise with a purpose."

The Man-in-the-Sea Project's current phase began Aug. 28, when 10 aquanauts, headed by astronaut M. Scott Carpenter, descended to Sealab 2, resting on a shelf in Scripps Canyon.

Nine of the original 10 aquanauts returned to the surface this week, leaving Carpenter behind with nine new aquanauts. Carpenter was to be the only aquanaut in the 45-day project to spend 30 consecutive and work during prolonged periods underwater.

The purpose of the project is to learn how well man can live and work during prolonged periods underwater.

In addition to their experiments with Tuffy, the aquanauts also erected the world's first underwater weather station and underwent psychological and physical tests.

Wants to Know How She Used 54,000 Gallons

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Eileen Markowski, a housewife, has formally appealed a three-month water bill for $23.89. That's the equivalent, she said, of 54,000 gallons of water.

What's more, Mrs. Markowski said, she lives in a row house with no lawn and during one of the months in question she was visiting in Florida.

A. Zabdell Levy, supervisor of the City Water Bureau's consumer service division, contended the water meters are infallible. While the Board of estimates investigate the woman's complaint, Levy tacked an additional $1.19 late-payment penalty on her bill.

Action Asked on Economy Boost for U.P.

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Russell Helman, D-Dollar Bay, has asked Gov. George Romney to act immediately to take advantage of a new federal law which Helman believes would give the Upper Peninsula economy a strong boost.

"The Economic Development Act provides the machinery for a new federal-state partnership in regional economic action planning," Helman said in a letter to the governor.

Helman urged Romney to take immediate action toward organizing a Great Lakes Regional Commission to work toward economic development of Northern Minnesota, Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

"The upper Great Lakes region has problems of lagging economic growth despite the fact that we presently have tremendous temporary copper and iron construction activity in such areas as White Pine and Marquette," he said.

Small Crowd Gets Thinner and Thinner...

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The crowd wasn't much to begin with — 3,300.

But, by the time Bob Rodgers singled in Willie Smith with the winning run in the bottom of the 14th inning at 12:43 this morning, there were hardly enough fans left in the stands at Chavez Ravine to get up a canasta game.

Rodgers' post-midnight blow caved the California Angels a 2-1 victory over Chicago in the nightcap of an American League doubleheader, after the White Sox took the opening game, 8-1.

It was billed as a (two-night) doubleheader and wound up as a two-night-morning bargain bill.

Junior Teams Need Coaches

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's grade school football program begins this week with a manpower shortage.

That is, there are plenty of players but the department is looking for four men to help with programs at Alcott, Crofoot, Mark Twain and Weaver schools.

The paid volunteers must be able to work with the fifth and sixth grade boys at the schools two afternoons (2:30 p.m.-5:30 p.m.) and Saturday mornings.

Also, the boys will play Thursday night Oct. 21st under the Wisner Stadium lights in the annual Midget All-Star football program.

The tackle program attracts around 900 boys each fall at some 25 city schools.

WDGA Announces Officers for 1966

Mrs. Frank Campsie of Grosse Ile was elected president of the Women's District Golf Association this week at a meeting of the group at Red Run Golf Club.

Other officers elected for the 1966 season were: Helen Grinnell, Detroit Golf Club, first vice president; Mrs. Albert Carnick, Tam O'Shanter, second vice president; Helen Hanley, Oakland Hills, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. David Harper, Plum Hollow, recording secretary; Mrs. W. D. Jordan, Detroit Golf Club, treasurer; and Mrs. Anthony Koustas, Dearborn, handicap chairman.

Bonus Baby Raps 4 Hits

California Loses 8-1, Wins 2-1; Twins Roll

By The Associated Press

Rick Reichardt, baseball's Joe Namath, is nicknamed Jingles. But he's just beginning to ring the bell.

Reichardt, who received the biggest bonus in baseball history when he signed with California for an estimated $200,000 last year, hit the first homer of his major league career Wednesday night and also collected three other hits as the Angels split with Chicago.

The White Sox won the opener 8-1 but the Angels took the nightcap 2-1 in 14 innings.

The four hits lifted Reichardt's batting average to .321 since he was recalled from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, where he continued his spectacular but steady climb without being shoved into the spotlight as much as Namath.

"Sure I get kidded about the money," says Reichardt. "But it's all good natured. Besides Namath relieved the pressure."

GETS KIDDED So what Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, has had to do under a glaring spotlight, Reichardt has been able to do in the relative privacy of the minors.

At Seattle he hit .280 with 13 homers and 63 runs batted in—and with the Angels he's beginning to show signs of the talent that got him $200,000 and the nickname Jingles.

Just as natural, it seems, is the Minnesota Twins head-long rush to the American League pennant. Reeling off their seventh straight victory, the Twins reduced their magic pennant-clinching number to six by edging Kansas City 7-5.

Any combination of Minnesota victories and losses by Baltimore totaling six will bring the Twins their first American League pennant.

Met Stottlemire posted his 18th victory as the New York Yankees defeated Washington 5-3 and Cleveland snapped a four-game losing streak by beating Boston 8-4.

The Indians tied the score 4-4 on Lou Clinton's homer in the seventh inning, then won it with a four-run eighth out on Fred Whitfield's tie-breaking single and a three-run homer by Chuck Hinton.

With Wit, Arm

Comic Aiding Giants

By The Associated Press

Frank Linzy is a funny fellow. And he's helping the San Francisco Giants laugh all the way to the National League pennant.

The laconic rookie from Oklahoma with the snappy wit and the sinkerball to match proved again Wednesday night that he's one of the best relief pitchers in the business when he nailed down the Giants' 13th straight victory — a 3-2 squeaker over the Houston Astros.

Linzy replaced Bob Shaw in the eighth inning with one run in, one man on, none out and the score tied 2-2. He faced only five men, recorded six outs, and finished the night with his sixth victory in a row on Willie McCovey's game-winning single in the ninth.

Willie Mays played a key role — an inevitable development in the Giants' spectacular drive. The Wondrous One singled in the game's first run in the fourth and scored the winner in the ninth, racing to second when his sizzler down the first base line got through Walt Bond for an error, then coming in on McCovey's liner off Bond's glove.

It kept San Francisco a comfortable 3½ games ahead in the race for the flag. The Cincinnati Reds took over second place, beating the New York Mets 2-1 behind Jim Maloney's pitching, while the Dodgers dropped to third with an 8-6 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Also in the NL — Milwaukee snapped its losing string at three games, downing Philadelphia 4-2 with the help of a throwing error by Bobby Wine; and Curt Flood rapped out five hits and drove in five runs as St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 7-3.

Maloney, bringing his record to 19-7, also singled in the deciding run against the Mets as the Reds scored both their runs in the second inning. Four straight singles got the job done — by Deron Johnson, Johnny Edwards, Leo Cardenas and Maloney. Ed Kranepool hit a homer for New York's run.

TAKE LEAD

The Dodgers took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but the Cubs drove Don Drysdale from the mound in the second inning when he was hit in the foot by a line drive off the bat of Ernie Banks. Then they made the most of their errors and singles by Harvey Kuenn and pitcher Dick Ellsworth for three runs and a 5-3 lead in the fifth inning. Tony Cloninger brought his record to 22-9 for the Braves, who scored three runs in the seventh inning. Two came in on Wine's throwing error and Hank Aaron doubled in the third. Wes Covington hit a homer for the Phillies.

Flood doubled in a run in the third inning for the Cardinals, singled home two more in the fourth, smacked a run-producing single in the sixth and singled home another run in a three-run ninth that nailed it against the pirates.

Local Riders Display Skill in Two Rings

Two area female equestrians are continuing to impress riding judges with their talents in separate countries.

Pontiac's Carol Norvell qualified recently for the Canadian National Horse Show in November by winning a CHSA medal class at Galt, Ont.

The 1965 Pontiac Central graduate was riding Lady's Pride, a horse owned by the George Wolfs of Windsor, Ont.

Bloomfield Hills' Crystine Jones will report to Gladstone, N.J., next week for extensive training at the United States Equestrian Team Center.

She qualified last month as one of six young riders (from more than 200 candidates) to make the 10-member squad from which will be chosen the U.S. teams for the Pan American and Olympic games.

Miss Jones, a 1965 Kingswood School - Cranbrook, graduate, could also represent the U.S. this fall in the international horse shows at Washington, D.C., Harrisburg, Pa., New York City and Toronto, Can.

Redskins to Learn Quickly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The dreams of ending a 20-year championship drought stand in a hurry Sunday if their much chance.

Those dreams collide with the reality known as the World Champion Cleveland Browns — poised, powerful and even improved over the 1964 team that clobbered mighty Baltimore in the National Football League's title game last year.

Washington is one of two NFL Eastern Conference teams being classed as legitimate challengers for the division crown. St. Louis is the other.

The last time the Redskins won a division title was in 1945, but D. C. Stadium will be jammed Sunday with a sell-out crowd sensing that this could be the best Redskin team since the glory days of the forties.

The Browns rate a four-point favorite, although they'll open the '66 campaign with two key injuries on their high-powered offensive unit.

STILL OUT
Wide end Paul Warfield still is out of action from an injury suffered in the College All-Star game in August, and his replacement — Clifton McNeil — is doubtful because of strained knee ligaments.

Big Ten Hutchinson or Walter
(The Flea) Roberts will start at the wide end post and he Redskins are expected to concentrate their defensive efforts on flanker Gary Collins and a guy named Jim Brown who plays fullback.

McPeak is making no predictions, but it is no secret he figures the Redskins' title chances could hinge on their performance in the first half of the season. They meet the Browns, Cardinals twice and Colts in four of the first six games.

Jack Shares Pro-Am Prize

Nicklaus Defending
Portland Golf Title

PORTLAND, Ore. (AAP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus was among the leaders Wednesday in a pro-amateur preliminary for the $50,000 Portland Open Golf Tournament.

Nicklaus, golf's leading money winner, shot a three-under-par 69 over the 6,445-yard Portland Golf Club course, where par is 35-72.

While Nicklaus did not disappoint his large gallery following, he only tied for second in the event.

Ron Funseth, playing in his first tournament in two weeks, and George Archer fired 88s to share first prize in the pro-am.

Knotted with Nicklaus were Mike Souchak, Dick Crawford, and Don Messingale.

Arrows Have Good Balance

WANT TO SCORE

"You have to remember that all of these players have a lot of desire — offense and defense — and when they get into the game, they have one thing in mind and that is to get the ball across the goal line," he added.

Game time is 8 p.m. Tickets are on sale at numerous locations in the city. Downtown, they may be obtained at Griff's Grill and Osman's Men Stores.

City Golf Champ Wins

Mrs. C. J. Miller of Novi carded a 43-45 yesterday at Maple Lanes to capture her third win of the season in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association weekly outings.

Mrs. Miller, winner of this year's Pontiac Women's Championship, collected five pars and a birdie. She netted the bird on the par-4 12th hole by canning a 10-foot putt.

Backed Writer's Play

Poker Buddies Gambled, Won

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—When "The Subject Was Roses" opened at the Huntington Hartford Theater this week, there was a special corps of enthusiasts: Frank Gilroy's fellow poker players.

All of them are in show business—writers, actors, directors, producers. They played poker every Wednesday night during the five years Gilroy lived here and worked in the movie and television jungle.

During that time the writer was moonlighting on a play script, turning it out in a realtor's office near his home in the Pacific Palisades. When he couldn't find backers foolish enough to finance the play, Gilroy's poker pals contributed to the kitty.

"Most of them gave me $1,000 without even reading the play and wrote it off as a loss," said the still astounded playwright.

GOOD REASON FOR DOUBT
The poker players had good reason to doubt their investments. "The Subject Was Roses" was Broadway's Cinderella story of the year—and perhaps any year since "Abe's Irish Rose" was an ingenue. Gilroy's struggle to get his play produced was remarkable enough to warrant a book in itself—which indeed he wrote as "About Those Roses."

Even after the play finally opened on Broadway, it seemed destined for quick death. Only the transfusion of another $10,000 to its $50,000 budget and some privations of all concerned allowed it to survive through losing weeks.

Survive it did, with glorious results. Last spring the play was sprinkled with the Drama Critics award, the Tony and the Pulitzer Prize, making it the fifth play to win the triple crown.

3 COMPANIES SOON
"Soon we'll have three companies going," Gilroy reported. "Jack Albertson, Martha Scott and Martin Sheen of the New York cast began a six-month tour here. Chester Morris and Maureen O'Sullivan took over in New York. Dennis O'Keefe and Betty Field will be touring in the east. We've had a lot of interest for a movie deal but haven't made a decision as yet."

Gilroy, 38, is a hard worker with an admitted compulsion to write. He knows the folly of trying to do so in a household of growing youngsters. Wherever he writes—and now it's in Goshen, N.Y.—he rents a bare office which he furnishes with little more than a chair, typewriter and table.

"I'm primarily a morning worker, but I write no set amount of time," he remarked. "The harder it goes, the longer I write, my family knows I've had a bad day if I arrive home late. If the work is going well, I quit early! That's so it will be easy to start the next day."

His advice to the young playwright?
KEEP WRITING
"I've never been asked that," he answered. "The only thing I could say is: Keep writing." Gilroy enjoys a return to his

Hollywood haunts, and for a special reason. "I always arrange my trips so I can arrive on a Wednesday," he admitted. "You know—the poker game."

Construction Begun on Holland Laboratory

HOLLAND (AP)—An immediate start on construction of a $1.3 million process development laboratory was announced today by Parks, Davis & Co. at its chemical plant here.

William G. Melt, company vice president, said the new building of 23,000 square feet will expand and replace a smaller Detroit operation. It is scheduled for completion by next summer and would have a total staff of 20 persons.

Three Kings Day Exciting for NY Puerto Ricans

For families living in one of New York's Puerto Rican communities, Christmas Day takes second place to the area's traditional Three Kings Day celebrated as an all-day festival on January 6.

The morning parade participants may be wearing mittens and galoshes, but the atmosphere is as enthusiastic as it would be on their sunny native island.

The day begins with Sunday school children, 100 strong, parading through the streets wearing cardboard camels 5 feet high, the artistic efforts of the staffs of two neighborhood Episcopal churches.

Heading the procession are the three kings, wearing gold-plated crowns.

Occasionally a horse, borrowed for the occasion, joins the marchers. A parishwide church service follows, and at night, the entire neighborhood gathers for a festival dinner, featuring a huge roast pig.

Families arrive bearing pots of rice, beans, spaghetti and typical Puerto Rican dishes as their share of the festival.

An impromptu musicale is held after dinner, for those who play the guitar or the violin are in great demand as accompanists for group singing.

When the day is over and the horse has been returned, the camels put back into storage, and the cooking pots taken back home, the neighborhood agrees that never has there been such a festival day.

Many Hazards on Road Tour

Highway Network of Romans Covered

LONDON — (NEA) — Politics booby traps, heat and flies are just a few of the hazards encountered in exploring the 53,650 miles of highway which the ancient Romans built in Europe and Africa.

Victor von Hagen, a St. Louis-born archeologist who is heading a four-year Roman road expedition, recently ran into all these obstacles at once in Algeria.

"During the late unpleasantness between France and Algeria, the French mined 500 miles of road, planting every sort of booby trap," von Hagen explains.

"Now the Russians are there removing the mines. They claim that they are doing it for the love of humankind, but God knows what their real purpose is in being in Algeria. The place is swarming with Russian colonists. It's a real James Bond situation."

Because of the Russians, von Hagen decided to skip Algeria for the present and to concentrate on surveying old Roman roads in Tunisia and Libya.

PREPARATION

The American archeologist spent eight years tracing the Inca highway system in Peru as a preparation for his present task of surveying Roman roads from Hadrian's Wall in Scotland to the Black Sea.

Von Hagen feels that the task of surveying ancient Roman highways is an urgent one, as many of them are being destroyed either by new highways or by the ravages of time. He has nothing but admiration for the Roman methods of constructing roads.

"I took an American engineer over the Apennine Way in Italy and he estimated that nowadays it would cost $100,000 a mile to construct such a highway."

The expedition has been guided by a map of the Roman road system which was made in the 4th century A.D. This map, which is 26 feet long and 13 inches wide, shows the entire Roman empire.

Interlochen Academy Is Accredited

Meeting Tomorrow on Saginaw College

LANSING (AP) — Michigan lawmakers will meet in Bay City Friday to inspect sites and "discuss transition problems" for the newly created Saginaw Bay State College.

A special legislative committee, headed by Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, will be joined by members of the capital utility subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, Traxler said.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder-president of the music camp and the academy, announced the accreditation Wednesday. He said the fund campaign would cover proposed expansion, improvements and scholarship endowments. Foundation grants and individual gifts made possible the central unit of the Arts Academy Campus, Dr. Maddy said, but funds now are sought for new dormitories, a campus hospital, drama and art buildings and a performing arts center.

Broken Arm Cancels Performance by Judy

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Judy Garland's scheduled performance in the Greek theater was canceled last night and rescheduled for Sunday on advice of her physician.

The 42-year-old singer fractured her arm in two places Tuesday when she tripped over her pet dog in her Brentwood home. She went on with her show Tuesday night.

Bread, Barber and Tailor Imported by Prince Bernie

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Tony Curtis is living it up here at "the Dorch" in the manner to which he has—and I would enjoy to — become accustomed.

No prince, not even a maharajah or the Aga Khan, dwells more splendidly than Tony Curtis in the Dorch. The illustrious Italian tailor Angelo had just flown in from Rome to fit several new suits on his well-dressed friend.

"Isn't it a wonderful world?" he said. "I used to be so impressed when Mike Romanoff told me he had suits made in Rome. Now I have the Rome tailor come to me, and my barber, and my bread, are flown from Hollywood."

Tony — here filming "Arrivederci, Baby!" with Angela Lansbury and Zsa Zsa Gabor—had been firmly lecturing us about health-food diets, no sugar, no white flour, no dairy products, no cheese, no milk.

"I bore people talking about it, but my diet has helped make me a very happy person. . . . And I exercise. . . . you remember Charles Atlas muscle exercises. Now they call it isometrics. I was embarrassed when I sent away for my Charles Atlas books, and used another name."

Tony, after 40 pictures, says, "You've got to live your own life. If I didn't believe that, I'd never have married a girl 18 years younger than I am."

"Do you think of yourself as an artist, Tony?" I asked. "No, an artist is a guy who stands before an empty canvas, or a writer who sits down with some blank paper, and creates. I'd like to be called a professional actor, although there are a lot of people who wouldn't call me that, I'm sorry to say."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Don Rickles claims the next space capsule will have an extra seat—so Bob Hope can entertain the troops in orbit.

EARL'S PEARLS: People are beginning to take the drought seriously. A diner at Peter's Backyard told the waiter: "I'm feeling faint — get me a glass of water."

One of the "Punchy Girl" dancers arrived at the show in a milk coat, and told Barbara Streisand it was a combat jacket. "Yes, a combat jacket—you don't know how I had to fight to get it." That's earl, brother.

Steel Industry Is Watched to See What Effect Labor Pact Will Have on Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — High administration sources still insist the steel contract negotiated in the shadow of the White House did not exceed government wage guidelines.

Some nongovernment estimates placed the cost higher than the guidelines would provide, leading to speculation of possible price increases.

But White House economists are sticking with their figures and the implication is that President Johnson will be closely watching for any steel price hikes he considers inflationary. A government source said industry negotiators came to the White House hoping for Johnson's tacit approval of higher prices in exchange for boosting its wage offer to end the strike threat.

WASNT GIVEN

But Johnson didn't give it to them, this source said. The industry finally raised its wage offer, agreement was reached Sept. 3 and the contract was signed on Labor Day.

Johnson called the settlement "noninflationary." It was not clear what he might do if the industry imposes general increases.

HOW FIGURED

Here's how the government figures it:

White House guidelines suggest that industry can afford to raise wages 3.2 per cent a year without increasing prices to offset the added labor costs.

This is based on government figures estimating that productivity — the amount a worker produces — increases by 3.2 per cent annually because of improved machinery and industrial efficiency.

Some estimates placed the cost of the steel settlement at about 3.5 per cent a year, but the difference is almost purely one of arithmetic.

It depends on whether the contract is figured as 35 months or 39 months long.

CONTRACT PERIOD

The contract runs from last Sept. 1 to Aug. 1, 1968 — a total of 36 months. But the over-all money package includes the 11.5-cent temporary wage increase negotiated previously in exchange for a four-month strike postponement from May 1 to Sept. 1.

The government now estimates the total cost of the White House settlement at 48 cents an hour for some 400,000 workers over the 39 months.

Previous wages and fringe benefits averaged $4.41 per hour by government estimate — among the highest in the nation.

The total will rise to $4.89 in the final year of the new contract.

The government's 8.5-cent cost estimate over 39 months averages out to an annual increase of 14.7 cents an hour — almost exactly 3.2 per cent a year.

If the four-month temporary strike truce is ignored and the contract figured on a 35-month basis, the annual increase in wages and benefits comes out to 16.8 cents an hour — a little more than 3.5 per cent.

The government contends the four-month interim agreement was part of the contract and must be included in averaging out the cost estimate.

The government arithmetic is slightly complicated because the annual increases are compounded, like a bank compounds interest.

Thus a 3.2 per cent wage increase on top of $4.41 an hour would add 14.1 cents the first year, and bring total wages and fringe benefits to $4.55 hourly.

The second year increase of 3.2 per cent added to $4.55 would be 14.5 cents, making a total of

In the third year, a price of 3.2 per cent of $4.69 would add 15 cents, bringing the total to $4.84.

Prorating the four-month interim agreement by the same annual rate, another 5 cents an hour is added to bring the final total to $4.89 per hour.

A simpler way is to add the government's settlement estimate of 48 cents to previous total wages and fringe benefits of $4.41 — it comes to the same total of $4.89.

India Criticizes Pakistan for Truce Moves

Says Calling on U. S. to End Fighting Was 'Playing Politics'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India said today it will listen to peace appeals from President Johnson and accused Pakistan of playing politics in asking Washington to end the war on the subcontinent.

"We have already made a positive response to appeals by Johnson and others," a government spokesman said. "But Pakistan now is just engaged in political maneuvering."

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan told a news conference in Rawalpindi "the United States should play a very definite role by telling India and Pakistan she will not stand for this struggle."

Ayub also for the first time showed some flexibility on the question of a plebiscite in the disputed state of Kashmir, saying "It's a matter that can be negotiated." Up to now Pakistan has insisted on a plebiscite in Kashmir within three months.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told the Indian Parliament today that Ayub is only trying to "beguile the world" with his talk of peace.

"The evidence is that Pakistan is intending to continue the fight," Shastri said.

He called on the Indian nation to "cheerfully undergo the hardships" necessary to stop what he called Pakistan's "sneaky aggression."

U. N. Secretary-General U. Thant's peace mission failed "through no fault of our own," Shastri said, blaming Pakistan's insistence on a conditional cease-fire.

"Not one of these conditions is acceptable to us," Shastri said.

A comparative lull was reported this morning along the front in most sectors. An Indian defense ministry spokesman said there was fighting in the Jammu sector of Sialkot but combat had slackened almost everywhere else.

Shastri told Parliament Thant requested a cease-fire effective at 6:30 p.m. New Delhi time Tuesday and Indian agreed, but there was no response from Pakistan.

The secretary-general then set 6:30 a.m. New Delhi time yesterday for a cease-fire and Shastri said he again agreed, provided Pakistan also agreed by 9 a.m.

But, Shastri said, Pakistan still has not replied and "the fight must continue."

UNITED FUND PLANNING — Thomas A. Wietorn (center), chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Industrial Division, discusses the 1965 campaign with Mark Blackman (left) of Consumers Power Co. and Robert F. Anderson of the Pontiac Varnish Co.

UF Boost Is Asked of Industry

Increased corporate gifts to the Pontiac Area United Fund will be asked of 50 industrial firms to help bridge the gap between growing demands for service and required budget hikes.

Plans for the industrial support of the 1965 campaign were outlined yesterday by Thomas A. Wietorn, Pontiac Fisher Body plant manager and chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Industrial Division.

The Industrial Division annually raises about two-thirds of the over-all goal for the 55 agencies supported by the drive.

Local industrial growth and a period of peak employment during the past year were cited by Wietorn as ideal conditions for a successful campaign.

He cautioned, however, "that these factors do not diminish the need for careful planning and a thorough job on the part of each chairman and solicitor."

33,000 WORKERS

Some 33,000 hourly and salaried employees will be contacted during the course of the drive to pledge one hour's pay per month through payroll deduction.

The Industrial Division is composed of two groups, major manufacturers, headed by Alger V. Conner of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant; and 43 smaller manufacturers, headed by Michael Yankin, also of Fisher Body.

Firms and chairmen in the major unit are: Consumers Power Co., Philip Hartwick; Pontiac Fisher Body Plant, Edwin A. De Milner; GMC Truck & Coach Division, Tom Wilson; Jig Bushing, John Schutze; Pontiac Motor Division, G. Robert Schaff; Pontiac Varnish Co., Robert F. Anderson; and Universal Oil Seal Co., Ted Pearson Jr.

Showers Are Likely Through Saturday

Scattered showers or thunderstorms will come and go today through Saturday. Cloudy with occasional light rain and not so cool, the low near 57 to 65 is tonight's prediction.

Temperatures will warm up to 73 to 82 tomorrow then become cooler again Saturday.

Morning north to northeast winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will become east to southeast at 8 to 18 m.p.h. tonight.

Forty-seven was the recording at 7 a.m. today. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 54.

Cosmonaut Reveals Soviet Space Plans

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov said today that the Soviet Union plans to place a permanent manned satellite around the earth and try crew exchanges before landing a man on the moon.

Leonov gave no timetable for the program, which differed from American plans. The United States hopes to shoot its Apollo space ship to the moon before 1970.

The Americans also plan a permanent manned satellite that would involve crew exchanges, but U.S. Apollo plans are not dependent on the permanent satellite program.

By holding up their moon shot until permanent stations are established, the Russians would be able to shoot a bigger ship to the moon by assembling it in space. The American three-man Apollo will be fired from earth.

Leonov, the first man to walk in space, indicated his own adventure was a rehearsal for an attempt at exchanging crews. He addressed a special plenary session of the international astronomical congress.

The Soviet cosmonaut and his space partner, Pavel Beliaev, described their Voskhod flight. Leonov said a main goal of his space walk was to test his space suit and the airlock on the spaceship.

Both Beliaev and Leonov emphasized that the airlock would play a key role in the transfer of crews between a permanent manned satellite and a spaceship on a flight from which Edward H. White II took a space walk, had no airlock.

Since the Apollo is being launched from earth, its size will be limited by the launching capacity of its Saturn rocket.

HOIST COMPONENTS
If a spaceship for the moon is assembled in space, as the Russians appear to be planning, its components can be hoisted into space in several launches and its size need not be limited to the load capacity of a single rocket.

Leonov said he believes Malaysia's leaders are convinced that if the British withdrew from their bases here "the Americans would come in to protect them."

"And with the American record for picking the most vocal anti-Communists in Southeast Asia, I would be certain that the Malay leadership would use the Americans to preserve their position of control," he said.

Lee said he is convinced powerful Malay extremist politicians would try to use American troops to support Malay communal interests against the local ethnic Chinese.

Lee said this is why Singapore is now rejecting any suggestion that the United States might eventually have to assume British defense commitments in Southeast Asia.

He did not say who made the suggestion.

SEN. FULBRIGHT

Fulbright Hit for LBJ Blast

Senators Challenge Charge of 'Bungling'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and Democratic Sen. George A. Smathers challenged today Sen. J. W. Fulbright's contention that the Johnson administration bungled the Dominican crisis.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told the Senate Wednesday President Johnson was given "unsound advice" and that fear of a Communist takeover in Santo Domingo was based on misinformation and on "exaggerated estimates of Communist influence."

The Arkansas Democrat said "the danger to American lives was more a pretext than a reason for the massive United States intervention."

He said, "In their panic lest the Dominican Republic become another Cuba, some of our officials seem to have forgotten that virtually all reform movements attract some Communist support."

Fulbright said Johnson, on the basis of the information and counsel he received, could hardly have acted other than he did. The senator said he had no objection to sending a modest contingent of U.S. troops to Santo Domingo to save American lives, but claimed there was "over action" by the administration in the dispatch of 22,000 men.

JOINT INTERVENTION
In a joint interview Dirksen and Smathers, secretary of the Democratic conference, disagreed with Fulbright's interpretation of the situation. Like Fulbright, they attended a White House meeting the night Johnson made his decision to send in troops.

Dirksen said he agreed with Johnson's decision then "and I agree with it now."

"A good many people had already been killed in Santo Domingo," Dirksen said. "The Communists were building up their strength. The country could have been torn apart. The President had to act."

Smathers said those at the White House meeting were told there were available reports on 58 trained Communists already in the country.

Says Revenue Is Needed for State's Future

Legislature Presented Detailed Program to Bring 'Responsibility'

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney told the Legislature today that "only an income tax can provide the revenue needed for both tax reform and financial responsibility."

He laid a $150-million annual tax increase package before a joint session of the House and Senate and challenged legislators to raise revenue he says is needed by mid-1968.

The specific program was hammered out by Romney and a bipartisan group of tax-conscious legislators.

"The Republican governor's arguments were mostly the same ones he has used all year in an attempt to get the Democratic-controlled legislature to raise revenue he says is needed by mid-1968."

Senate Democrats voted last night to consider the program at the autumn session which began Tuesday. A House caucus decision is expected later today.

The program includes:

- A 3 per cent personal income tax and four per cent corporate and financial institutions income tax effective Jan. 1, 1968.

- Three cent per pack increase in the cigarette tax, effective Jan. 1, 1968.

- Repeal of the business activities tax.

- General property tax relief of 2 1/2 per cent.

- Sales tax relief via a $15 per person annual credit.

- Increasing the tax credit on the intangibles tax from $20 to $100 and repealing the tax from bank shares.

In his major salvo favoring taxes, the governor declared:

"There is no conceivable way by which our present tax system can produce the revenues we need through the next two years to meet present state service levels per person."

"Only our surplus (now estimated at $135.5 million) stands between Michigan and another financial crisis and loss of reputation that would be incalculable."

He likened the present situation to that of the mid-1950s, when state revenue gains averaged nine per cent a year.

FORGOT HISTORY
"We were so prosperous we forgot the past and future," he said. He declared that by mid-1958 the growth rate had dropped to 5 per cent, wiped out the surplus and skidded into a deficit of $21 million in one year. "The next year the roof caved in."

"Just as the mid-1950's were apparently deceptive to our predecessors," he declared, "so the mid-1960's can be deceptive to us."

Adult Class Sign-Up Set in Waterford

A private audit yesterday indicated Pontiac Municipal Airport would operate at a $172,000 deficit over the next five years if no improvements are made to present facilities.

Based on results of the audit, Oakland County will renew its offer to pay the city one dollar for the airport.

The door to further negotiations, however, was not entirely closed if the offer is rejected.

The decision to renew the $1 offer, which previously has been rejected by the city, came at a meeting yesterday of a special committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Headed by chairman David Levinson, the committee held a meeting with the Detroit firm of Touche, Ross, Bailey and Smart to prepare the $7,300 audit as a guideline for future airport negotiations.

TO MAKE OFFER
Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, was instructed by the committee to make the offer to the city.

Levinson said he didn't feel it was justified for the county to offer more than the taken $1 in view of the $172,000 projected loss.

If facilities are improved according to the 1963 airport master plan, the report predicts the net loss to reach $1,064,274 during the same period due to heavy expenditures which will not bring in revenue for several years.

Besides the anticipated losses, which Murphy said the city should feel duty-bound to spell out to its taxpayers, another argument will accompany the $1 offer.

AGENCY LETTER
A letter from the Federal Aviation Agency to the auditing firm indicated that airports transferred from one government unit to another generally do not involve "substantial consideration."

The letter was not a part of the audit report.

Despite the new findings, committee members were not unanimous in feeling the taken offer would be accepted.

John L. Carey, supervisor from Springfield Township, and Edward A. Maier, supervisor from Pontiac, both expressed doubts.

NY Guildsmen Strike Times

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Newspaper Guild, demanding job protection against automation and mergers after, struck the New York Times today.

Early editions of afternoon newspapers came out as scheduled, however, as publishers withheld immediate action on their threat to close six other metropolitan dailies.

Negotiators went back into conference after a short recess from an all-night session.

In calling the late-morning meeting, Theodore W. Kheel, special mediator, said:

"Within the next few hours after we resume negotiations, we will reach an agreement. Both sides have a constructive attitude. The area of difference is now less understood."

The AFL-CIO Guild, representing 2,200 Times employees in the newsroom, advertising and commercial departments, and on the building services staff, set up a picket line at 8 a.m. Members of the nine newspaper craft unions did not cross it.

ceptive to us if we are blinded by our present prosperity."

He pointed to his own estimate of growth rates of 6.5 per cent for this year and 4 per cent for the following year, and said that "no recognized economist has made such an unqualified prediction."

"Yet if we do not realize such continued growth, Michigan's financial needs will be even greater than those currently anticipated."

OBJECTIVES
The governor spelled out three objectives for a "minimum program of genuine tax reform:

• End the unfair burden of sales tax on food for poor and low income families.
• Provide relief from high local property taxes.
• Stop penalizing new and low income businesses."

He said the amounts of money needed are too large to be met any way "other than income taxes without adding to the faults of our tax system."

The only other way to "avoid another period of deficit and difficulty," he declared, would be to cut per capita expenditures for education, mental health and other public services.

He derided the pat answers of cutting costs and getting the waste out of government, "saying his administration has done much in this area, but that it "cannot produce savings sufficient to change our basic financial picture."

In an apparent reference to Democrats who favored a graduated income tax rather than a flat rate levy, the governor said, "if further improvements are needed, they can be made later."

CAN'T FORECAST
"But as leaders we cannot expect the people to tell us ahead of time what to do in meeting critical problems such as these."

A graduated levy would require a publicly approved constitutional amendment.

Announce Resignation of 2 Johnson Aides
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today the resignation of two of President Johnson's key assistants — speech writer Richard N. Goodwin and cabinet secretary Horace Busby Jr.

Both will return to private life. Goodwin is joining the staff of the Center for Advanced Studies at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and Busby as a management consultant in Washington.

AWAIT RELIEF — A long line of refugees from Hurricane Betsy wait to file for relief benefits at a temporary Red Cross office in New Orleans yesterday. Hundreds are still homeless although floodwaters from the hurricane have dropped in many areas.

Hunt for Dead Goes On as Floodwaters Recede

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Authorities continued a house-to-house search today for bodies in eastern New Orleans as floodwaters from Hurricane Betsy — which unleashed its fury a week ago — slowly receded.

A similar operation was under way in neighboring St. Bernard parish, where 3 to 4 feet of water remained in some low-lying sections.

Police sealed off a 300-square block area after Dr. Rodney Jung, city health officer, said it was necessary because "conditions have deteriorated to an alarming degree."

A nauseating stench permeated the area, which contained green scum, floating garbage and hundreds of animal carcasses.

NO LATE WORD
Communications with the devastated regions of lower Louisiana Parish, 60 miles down the Mississippi River from New Orleans, remained out and there was no late word on conditions. Earlier, Plaquemines officials said it would take 30-60 days alone to restore fresh water facilities.

Sentenced Youth Escapes, Returns

Marvin Taylor, 17, of 44 Clove escaped from custody at Municipal Court yesterday, but turned himself in to police less than five hours later.

Police said Taylor, held in a detention room after being sentenced to 30 days in the Oakland County Jail for simple larceny, removed a glass partition and fiber board screen on the door, unlocked it and escaped.

Taylor later said he had found a knife behind a heat register in the room and used it to pry the window open.

Of Communist involvement in the Dominican result, Fulbright said there is an important difference between Communist support and Communist control of a political movement.

"It is quite possible to compete with the Communists for influence in a reform movement rather than abandon it to them," he said.

After Being Shot 3 Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Miller, 72, was waiting for the elevator in the lobby of the building when the two men approached — and the nightmare began.

A tall man with the revolver demanded Miller's briefcase, containing the $2,500 payoff for his brother's leather goods firm in the building.

"No," said Miller, firmly. The man shot Miller in the stomach.

"No," Miller repeated, wincing in pain. The man shot Miller in the chest.

"No," repeated Miller, shouting. The man shot Miller in the face.

To Study City Office Space

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Planning for expansion of city office space will get under way here Monday.

Architect Harry M. Davies of Pontiac will hold the first meeting with city commissioners under a new contract approved by them Tuesday.

The exchange is expected to lead the way to a decision on whether the present Municipal Building should be remodeled or a new building for city administrative offices constructed.

Denyes two years ago conducted some preliminary studies on remodeling the existing building and estimated cost of the work at $80,000 to $90,000.

While the project has been dormant since then, commissioners have talked about the possibility of erecting an office building in front of the existing facility and using the older unit for the police and fire departments.

STUDY SESSION
The Monday morning meeting will be the first study session with the architect.

In other action this week, the commission cut back to 30 miles per hour the speed limit on Vaughn, Lone Pine and Kensington roads.

The limit was boosted to 35 miles per hour in June, a move protested by residents of the areas involved.

The posted limit will be 25 miles per hour in front of

Sanity Tests for Assailant

Sanity tests have been ordered for an unemployed factory worker who wounded a Pontiac patrolman during a gun battle last month.

Results of the tests on Obie L. Peoples, 29, of 248 Orchard Lake will be reviewed at a hearing, tentatively scheduled for Oct. 18 at 1:30 p.m.

At that time, Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams will determine if Peoples is mentally competent to stand trial. Adams ordered the tests on the request of Peoples' attorney, Milton Henry.

Peoples is charged with assault with intent to murder and felonious assault.

OFFICER AT HOME

Patrolman Robert Rowland, 40, wounded in the shoulder during the exchange of shots, is recuperating at home. Peoples was slightly injured when a bullet grazed his head.

Police had gone to Peoples' home to answer a family trouble complaint.

Killed in Auto Mishap

RIVER ROUGE (AP) — Frank P. Ierin, 46, of Wyandotte, was killed Wednesday when his car went out of control on rain-slick pavement and crashed into the side of a New York Central Railroad switch engine at a River Rouge crossing.

The shorter of the two holdup men vanished. And finally, the six-foot gunman with the briefcase disappeared him, too.

Miller gave up the pursuit at 17th Street and Fifth Avenue. A block away was a friend, Dr. Joseph Siegel. Ignored by passersby, Miller made his way to Siegel's office where the physician removed a bullet from a shallow wound in the elderly man's abdomen.

TO HOSPITAL
From there Miller went by ambulance to Manhattan General Hospital where his condition Wednesday night, 10 hours after the holdup, was listed as fair.

"He's a small, tough, wiry type," Detective Lt. Walter Stone said of Miller. "He says if they hadn't shot him in the face he could have taken the big one."

But the old man was losing ground in the nighttime crowd.

Vaughn Elementary School, it was noted.

CONTRACT OKAYED

The commission also authorized the signing of a contract with the Oakland County Road Commission for the paving of Eastways next year.

Estimated cost of the project, to be split on a 50-50 basis between the county and the city, is $24,700.

Ditches along the road are to be improved this fall.

BEVERLY HILLS — The first of four fall mission study group meetings will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Beverly Hills Methodist Church.

All persons interested in promoting mission study are invited to attend the sessions, the theme of which is "Mission: the Christian's Calling."

Storms Kill 26 in Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Torrential rains, floods and landslides triggered by two typhoons have killed 26 persons and destroyed an estimated 400 homes, it was reported today.

The Kyodo news agency said 28 persons also were missing and 63 had been injured.

Japanese officials blamed the storms on Typhoon Virginia and Typhoon Trix.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Occasional rain is expected to night from the northern and central Plains to the eastern Lakes; snow will be mixed with the rain in the northern Plains. Showers and thunderstorms are forecast for the Ohio and Tennessee valleys and parts of Texas. It will be much colder from the Rockies to the Plains and the eastern Lakes and New England.

Early Wintry Temperatures, Snow Hit Western States; Alaska, Southern States Warm

By The Associated Press
Wintry weather, with snow, cold and blustery northerly winds, hit areas in Montana today and swept into the western Dakotas and Wyoming.

Temperatures dropped into the 20s across much of Montana and snow measured 18 inches on the 7,000-foot Big Mountain north of White Fish. The Weather Bureau issued freeze warnings and advisories to cattlemen to most of northern Plains and the northern and central Rockies.

The late summer cold and snow damaged crops in much of the state where rains have delayed the grain harvest. Most of the major mountain passes in Montana were snowy and slick for the first time this season.

Logan Pass on Going-to-the-Sun highway in Glacier National Park was closed for a time Wednesday. Also closed was the Cooke City Highway, the Bear-tooth Pass road which climbs 10,940 feet en route to Yellowstone National Park.

WET SNOWFALL

Wet snow fell over most of Montana with more than one inch at Helena, and Cut Bank.

In contrast to the freezing temperatures in Montana, fairly mild weather was reported in Alaska. Readings Wednesday included 71 at Fairbanks, located slightly below the Arctic Circle; 61 at Kotzebue, above the Arctic Circle, and 61 at Anchorage.

The mercury again Wednesday soared to above 100 degrees in parts of Texas and Oklahoma, with 106 at Wichita Falls, Tex., a record high for Sept. 15. The day's top mark was 112 at Imperial, Calif. Warm weather prevailed across the southern third of the nation.

In other parts of the nation, severe thunderstorms with heavy rain, hail and strong winds, lashed areas in Missouri and Erie County, Pa. A tornado skipped across rural areas north of Harrisonville, Mo., causing some property damage but no injuries. Wind gusts up to 84 m.p.h. pounded Erie County, disrupting power and telephone service and causing some property damage. Winds of 70 m.p.h. hammered Sedalia and Warrensburg, Mo., and heavy rain and hail pelted Kansas City.

Showers continued in parts of New England, the north central region and in the eastern Gulf of Mexico.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 22 at Butte, Mont., to 87 at Abilene, Tex.

Year's Weather Hard on Crops in Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP)—First, untimely freezes hit the winter wheat crop, then drought burned up a sizable amount of corn and now the drought-stunted dry bean crop is in frost danger.

It adds up to thousands of dollars for Michigan farmers.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) already has paid an estimated $35,000 to insured farmers who suffered winter wheat losses this year, the FCIC said Wednesday.

"We know that many corn crops are not going to produce anything, and this is awfully early in the season to know that," said Harold E. Willis, FCIC Michigan director.

BEANS BEHIND

The drought also put dry beans two or three weeks behind, and a killing frost before Oct. 1 could mean hundreds of thousands of dollars lost, he added.

"That's what we're really afraid of now," he said.

FCIC insures farmers on a voluntary basis in 22 southern and central Michigan counties. It paid $130,000 for corn losses last year and $8,500 on soybeans, with corn payments expected to be many times higher this year.

Willis said hardest hit corn crops in counties where FCIC has programs are in Ionia, Clinton, Gratiot, Ingham, Shiawassee and Saginaw Counties.

TOTAL LOSSES

In some field the corn, tasseled at knee high, is considered a 100 per cent loss, he said.

Lack of rainfall in Central Michigan during the June-July period was the worst in 20 years, the U.S. Weather Bureau has reported.

In Oceana and Mason Counties, FCIC said it will pay more than $50,000 for cherry crop losses caused by a hard freeze the last week in May, hail and strong winds.

Alter Plans for Zoning in Rochester

AVON TOWNSHIP — Plans to rezone the Frankel property on Livernois south of Rochester High School have been revised to include a buffer of single-family residences between Rochdale subdivision and proposed multiple dwellings.

The Township Zoning Board received the revised plans last night and referred them back to the regional planning commission for its meeting of Sept. 28.

The regional planning commission originally recommended denial of the request.

The original request to rezone the 27 acres from general farm to multiple residence met with opposition from residents of Rochdale who made known their objections in a petition to the Township Board last month.

They objected to multiple dwellings backing up to the neighborhood.

FILED OBJECTION

The Township Board filed the objection until it receives a recommendation from the Township Zoning Board.

In other action the Zoning Board set Oct. 20 for a public hearing on rezoning 16.4 acres on Tienken west of Rochester Road from general farm to multiple dwelling.

The property is adjacent to existing apartment buildings.

Hearing Set on Wolverine Lake Future

WOLVERINE LAKE — A three-member panel will hold a hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday to determine the course of improvements for Wolverine Lake. Convened by County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, the board of determination will meet at the Wolverine Lake Village Hall, 425 Glenway.

The panel will be composed of Monroe M. Osman, Bruce Annett and Laurence H. Pate.

Selected by the Wolverine Lake Improvement Association, Osman is a Pontiac businessman and president of the Pontiac School Board, while Annett is a Pontiac realtor and Pate is a member of Pate, Hite and Bogue, consulting engineers.

The board is to review various proposals to improve the lake and determine the necessity, feasibility and practicability of such improvement.

DISPUTED PROJECTS

St. Andrew's Drive Begins

ROCHESTER — Members of St. Andrew's Church, 231 Walnut, have started a church building fund campaign.

In announcing the campaign, Rev. Edward G. Baumgartner cited the growth of the parish in the last 10 years and pointed out the need for a new church and administration building.

He said ground breaking on a site adjacent to the school and convent is planned for the spring of 1968 or 1969.

Because of changes in the liturgy, no design for the church has been considered. A seating capacity of 1,200 to 1,400 is planned.

The active phase of the campaign will run until Nov. 2 at which time a follow-up committee will be formed to function throughout the 24-month pledge payment period.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN

General chairman of the campaign is Roderick O'Connor of 191 Birch Hill, Oakland Township.

Code Settles Burning Issue

ORCHARD LAKE — An ordinance concerning the issuance of burning permits has been adopted by the City Council.

Persons who plan to clear land by fire, burn grass and weeds or large amounts of rubbish must obtain a burning permit from the City Hall after the code goes into effect Oct. 2.

The ordinance does not restrict the burning of domestic rubbish in safe containers.

OES Initiation Set

CLARKSTON — Joseph C. Byrd Chapter 294, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold an initiation at 8 p.m. Monday in the Charleston Masonic Temple.

Workshop Set on New Math

WALLED LAKE — Initiating new mathematics in all elementary classrooms this year, Walled Lake School System teachers will hold a workshop on the method Thursday.

District elementary pupils will be dismissed at 1 p.m. to allow teachers to attend the session at Decker Elementary School.

The new approach to mathematics will be used in all classrooms this year after being introduced to first and second graders last year.

Youngsters in the fourth grade received some introductory work.

Speakers for the Thursday afternoon session will be Dr. David Wells, director of instruction for Oakland County Schools.

ATTEND MEETINGS

After Wells' address, the 150 teachers will attend group meetings for their various grade levels.

Consultants for the meetings will be Ann Hungerman, student teacher coordinator for the University of Michigan; Robert Scrivens, currently on leave of absence as mathematics coordinator for Waterford Schools; Mrs. Edward Johnson, mathematics consultant for the Walled Lake district; and Dr. Wells.

The school system also has scheduled a special adult education class on new mathematics. Mrs. Johnson will teach the class, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 28 at Walled Lake High School.

Survival, Disaster Training Class Set

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A 10-week medical-emergency training course will be held at the Township Hall, 4393 Collins, beginning Monday.

The course in survival and disaster training will include basic medical disaster plans, treatment of shock and burns, first aid, artificial respiration and psychological first aid.

Registrations are now being taken by Mrs. Clarence H. Williams, 2620 Ella Mae.

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Will you please tell me if it is permissible, when taking a long flight, for passengers to change into more comfortable clothes after boarding the plane, or must they remain in their traveling clothes throughout the flight?
A: Women may change into slacks and bedroom slippers during the flight and men are entirely free to remove their jackets, loosen or remove their ties, or change into a sport shirt.

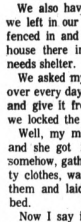

WEARING FLOWERS

Q: I went to a friend's wedding last week and wore a corsage of fresh flowers on my dress. The dress was black and I thought the flowers would brighten it up.
I was criticized for wearing a corsage and was told that only members of the immediate families wore flowers at a wedding. I never heard of this before and would like to know if there is any such rule of etiquette.

A: There is no such rule. Any guest who wishes to do so, may wear flowers.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My wife and I went on a two-week vacation trip. We didn't want to take our three kids because they are all under five and hard to handle, so we left them with my mother, who is a widow and has nothing to do anything.

We also have a dog, which we left in our back yard. It's fenced in and there is a dog house there in case the dog needs shelter.
We asked my mother to run over every day to feed the dog and give it fresh water, then we locked the house up tight. Well, my mother got nosy and she got into the house somehow, gathered all the dirty clothes, washed and ironed them and laid them on the bed.
Now I say if ever my wife had a right to get mad at my mother, it was right then. Our dirty clothes were none of my mother's business.
We only asked her to keep the kids and feed the dog. I was mad at her as my wife. I wish you'd write something about nosy mothers who overdo the domestic bit. Thanks.

"NOSEY'S" SON
DEAR SON: A woman who would care for three hard-to-handle grandchildren under five years of age, and "run over" daily to feed a dog is, in my book, an angel!

Next time HIRE someone to do what your mother did out of the kindness of her heart and you won't have to worry about her "overdoing the domestic bit."

Auxiliaries Join Forces for Benefit

The Tri-County Osteopathic Women's Auxiliaries, comprised of nine auxiliaries from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, are sponsoring a fashion show Friday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.
The purpose of the luncheon and fashion show, scheduled for noon, is to raise funds for the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine to be built in Pontiac. It is the first affair of its kind.

Wives of prominent Detroit sports figures will model new fall fashions from Margi Franzel.

Those expected to participate are Mrs. Gary Bergman, Mrs. Floyd Smith and Mrs. Gordie Howe representing the Red Wings, Mrs. Hank Aguirre and Mrs. Al Kaline will represent the Detroit Tigers and Mrs. Maddy McCord and Mrs. Wayne Walker the Detroit Lions.

YMCA Offers Dance Classes

A ten-week course in beginning ballet and beginning tap dancing will open Friday at the Pontiac YMCA.

The "Y" also will offer "kinderballet" for 3-4 year old girls and boys. Classes are open both to association members and non-members.

Instruction will be on Friday afternoons in the YMCA Youth Department under direction of Mrs. Dolye Dibbey of Utica.

Further information may be had by calling the YMCA.

Merry Mixers Meet

Members of the Merry Mixers Square Dance club will gather at 8 p.m. Friday in the CAI Building.

Years Don't Stop Her

NEW YORK (UPI) — Haze Hotchkiss Wightman was 15 when she won her first tennis title. The year was 1902.

Today, at 78, Mrs. Wightman can count 44 national titles, two Olympic gold medals, and an international tournament named for her in fabulous career of competition.

She also can count a long list of her students who have gone on to national and international fame in the tennis world.

The great-grandmother, often called the grand Dame of the tennis world, is far from giving up the game, although she said, "I believe it was about last spring, I decided not to play as a team member on a court."

"Oh, I'll still hit the ball with the racket," she said.

STILL TEACHES

She also will go on teaching, offering instruction to "about 12" youngsters Monday and Friday afternoons in a big garage on the grounds of her home at Chestnut Hill, Mass., a Boston suburb.

"Of course, there's no charge for the lessons," she said. "I'll always be an amateur. I can't imagine playing tennis for money."

But a lot of players do, and Mrs. Wightman wishes monetary reward were considered secondary. "I hope the girls don't expect too much of tennis," she said. "They're lucky to be out there at all."

Mrs. Wightman, widow of George W. Wightman, a Boston attorney, is a tiny (five feet), trim, white-haired woman with bright blue eyes.

She came to New York to see the U. S. tennis championships at Forest Hills and to participate in a fashion show of tennis clothes for "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow" saluting the 50th anniversary of the nationals.

She modeled a copy of an ankle-length white tennis dress similar to one she wore in the 1910's.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and legs, I found relief in my DeWitt's Pain-Exerter relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

People all over the world are praising the remarkable relief they get with DeWitt's Pains.

DeWitt's Pains act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained fluids and thus relieve bladder pressure which can cause physical distress. If you suffer, see your doctor. DeWitt's Pains often succeed where other fail—quickly relieve minor muscle aches and pains, too. Insist on the genuine DeWitt's Pains.

Over 14 million DeWitt's Pains are sold by druggists day after day. They are the world's most famous and most amazing action!

At Interlochen

Attend Honors Program

Two Pontiac girls entered Interlochen Arts Academy, Interlochen, this week to participate in a 40-week Honors Musician's Program as the famed school.

CHARLET ANN

Pontiac Central High School seniors, Ann Strat, of West Ironquels Road and Charlet Allhouse, of Blaine Street, are two of 49 students selected from throughout the nation to attend the session.

REPLACES SENIOR YEAR

Replacing students' senior high school year, the unique and comprehensive new program is offered to students rated outstanding performers on orchestral instruments with good secondary school academic and citizenship records.

It represents about the equivalent of two college years' work in the music arts. Trained in piano, viola, harp and vocal music, Ann has studied locally with Robert Peterson, Mrs. Margaret Helander and A. Michael Dempsey.

Her musical affiliations include the Central High orchestra and girls' chorus, All-City and Pontiac Symphony orchestras. She also has been active in Central's Dolphin Club and Thespian Society, Pontiac Tuesday Musicals and First Presbyterian Church youth choir.

Both Ann and Charlet have attended Interlochen during previous summers.

Charlet, whose future plans call for enrollment in University of Michigan's school of music, has studied viola since the fifth grade under Robert Peterson.

At Central High she was active in orchestra. She played with the Pontiac Symphony for two years.

The select group of student musicians at the academy will explore all phases of music for this special research project on teaching of the subject.

Young people will be formed into a classic symphony orchestra and provided intensive training in all orchestral instruments, music literature, composition, conducting, vocal directing and music evaluation. In addition to basic high school academic courses,

Town Boycotts Bias Fighter

Dixie Lawyer Must Leave to Find Work

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — An attorney who tried to help solve American racial problems has sent his wife and five children to Atlanta because of threats and harassment and is getting out of town himself.

"There's no reason to stay," said attorney Warren Fortson, 37, brother of Georgia's secretary of state, Ben W. Fortson Jr. "My law practice has come to a screeching halt."

The former Marine said Wednesday he knew he was going to have to leave when he advocated formation of a biracial commission during the height of recent racial demonstrations in this south Georgia city.

"It was just like getting into a canoe in the Colorado River," he said. "Once you're committed to the rapids there's nothing you can do but ride them out."

FREEZE CAME

Then, when the demonstrations subsided, Fortson said, "the freeze set in."

His wife, Betty, went to a meeting of the Junior League, he said, and "when she walked in, it was just like she was invisible. Nobody saw her."

Officially, Fortson remained attorney for Sumter County, but he said it was in name only. "The county has hired another firm to do its work. They don't come to me any more."

In addition, the attorney was not reelected as a Sunday School teacher at the First Methodist Church.

NO COMMENT

His pastor, the Rev. Vernard Robertson, declined comment when told Fortson was leaving town. Local officials also refused to comment.

But Russell Thomas Jr., a farmer and businessman who sided with Fortson in proposing a biracial committee, had this to say: "Being run out of town and persecuted is too high a price to pay for having an opinion different from the majority. When you take away one person's freedom and ideas, you take away the democratic process. I didn't think this town would allow this to happen."

Fortson said he thought his troubles really began in May when he represented a Negro boy and girl in a morals case.

"It's all right to represent Negroes down here," he said. "But the girl happened to be one who had integrated the schools here. I made a lot of enemies."

GOING SOMEWHERE

The attorney said he was leaving Americus as soon as he closes his law office. "I'm not sure where we will live, whether it will be in Atlanta or someplace else. But I had to get my family out of Americus."

Fortson said telephone threats and harassments were aimed at making existence unhappy for himself and his family but that there had been no direct threats on his life.

His wife said in Atlanta, "It just wasn't worth it any more. It's just like closing a door."

Shriver Uses Different Approach for Aides in U.S. Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — When you need a man to help create a new government agency, says Sargent Shriver, you should get a man who already has a job he doesn't want to leave.

You get the man excited about the new program, bring him to Washington, work him 12 to 16 hours a day in a crisis atmosphere, then, after a year or so, let him go back to the easier pace of private business or a college campus.

"With this kind of people, we don't need to worry about them trying to tell us what we want to hear," Shriver says. "We find out right away when something is wrong. They'd quit tomorrow if they thought we were going to stay wrong."

But that approach does make for a heavy personnel turnover at the Office of Economic Opportunity, where Shriver directs President Johnson's antipoverty campaign, just as it did in the Peace Corps which he organized and still heads.

STEADY CHANGE

Six senior officials either have left in recent days or soon will leave. At lower levels, there is a steady change as people go back to their regular jobs.

Congressional and other critics say this turnover is a sign of poor organization, inefficiency, bad morale.

"We had 150 per cent turnover in the first two years of the Peace Corps," says Shriver. "I'd rather have the best man available for the job for a year or so than a less qualified person permanently."

He notes that the Peace Corps, in its early days, also had its critics who said it was a flop.

TOUGH REALIST

Although there is a strong measure of idealism in the programs he administers, Shriver is a tough realist who wants results, not moral victories.

When questioned recently about a political power struggle centering around the antipoverty program in New York, he replied:

"That's life. You can't run the program in a vacuum. You must deal with the realities as they are."

Bill D. Moyers, former deputy Peace Corps director who now is White House press secretary, says Shriver "believes in creative tension, believes progress and tranquility are not good bedfellows."

CHOOSE THE BEST

Like Johnson, Moyers says, Shriver can choose the best from alternative proposals and blend them in with his own ideas.

Staff conferences are a bit like battlefields, insiders say.

One veteran Shriver aide comments: "Shriver delights when the staff is at each other, people shouting at each other. He feels it is a good test of a man under pressure. You get at the real issues, find out how they really feel."

"He often pits one staff member against another to bring into the open conflicting viewpoints."

BOUND TO ADMIRE

Some people are driven away by the crisis atmosphere, the tension and Shriver's super-salesman approach, but most who work with him wind up as staunch admirers.

One, who was a skeptic at first, comments: "He is a master at drawing the best out of a staff and has high standards. Shriver is quick to criticize, sparing with praise."

I've never seen anybody, anywhere, who could rouse so much enthusiasm for a job. There is an excitement in working for him."

Shriver keeps in instant touch with his top aides by use of the "buzz bomb."

This is a telephone hookup arranged so that by merely pushing a button he can call any of the top three dozen men at the two departments. When the buzzer sounds, the official knows it is Shriver and drops everything.

NEED HIS OKAY

Nobody is hired at either agency for any responsible job without Shriver's okay. He often helps recruit the new employees.

His first assignment in government was as a talent scout in the formation of the administration of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Subordinates often find Shriver may know some details of their jobs better than they do. "He does his homework," says Mary Ann Orlando, Shriver's administrative aide who has been with him since 1948.

He gets up about 6 a.m. During the school year, Shriver spends the early morning hours with his wife, the former Eunice Kennedy, sister of the late president, and their four children.

The workday begins when he steps into his car for the drive to his home in nearby Maryland. "I get a good 40 minutes work done in the car," Shriver says. The day sometimes ends at midnight or later.

CHANGES OFFICE

Three days a week, Shriver goes to the office of Economic Opportunity. The other two he is at the Peace Corps, Miss Orlando switches with him. Otherwise, there are separate staffs.

"No two days are alike," Miss Orlando says.

Normally, a staff conference is held at 9:30 a.m. After that, there is a procession of appointments, meetings, paper work, telephone calls and trips to Capitol Hill.

Stories saying that Shriver is smiling all the time are just not true, Miss Orlando says. "Of course he doesn't smile all the time. Anybody who does is an idiot. He gets tired and irritable just like anyone else."

But she adds that he does have an amazing ability to snap back when he is tired.

HEARTY EFFORT

Shriver, says Miss Orlando, always has "thrown himself into everything. In the past, however, there were always periods when he could relax a bit and recuperate."

"There's been no respite since

we came to Washington in 1960. First it was the campaign, then the talent search, then the Peace Corps, and now this. All the time, push, push, push."

Lynda Bird Gives $1,500 to School

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson is giving an elementary school in Washington the $1,500 she got from Look magazine for an article on her life in the White House.

All this begins today when Miss Johnson presents her gift and plants a magnolia tree at a ceremony at the school, the John F. Cook school.

Many Hazards on Road Tour

Highway Network of Romans Covered

LONDON — (NEA) — Politics booby traps, heat and flies are just a few of the hazards encountered in exploring the 53-658 miles of highway which the ancient Romans built in Europe and Africa.

Victor von Hagen, a St. Louis-born archeologist who is heading a four-year Roman road expedition, recently ran into all these obstacles at once in Algeria.

"During the late unpleasantness between France and Algeria, the French mined 500 miles of road, planting every sort of booby trap," Von Hagen explains.

"Now the Russians are removing the mines. They claim that they are doing it for the love of humanity, but God knows what their real purpose is in being in Algeria. The place is swarming with Russian colonists. It's a real James Bond situation."

Because of the Russians, Von Hagen decided to skip Algeria for the present and to concentrate on surveying old Roman roads in Tunisia and Libya.

PREPARATION
 The American archeologist spent eight years tracing the Inca highway system in Peru as a preparation for his present task of surveying Roman roads from Hadrian's Wall in Scotland to the Black Sea.

Von Hagen feels that the task of surveying ancient Roman highways is an urgent one, as many of them are being destroyed either by new highways or by the ravages of time. He has nothing but admiration for the Roman methods of constructing roads.

"I took an American engineer over the Apennine Way in Italy and he estimated that nowadays it would cost $100,000 a mile to construct such a highway."

The expedition has been guided by a map of the Roman road system which was made in the 4th century A.D. This map, which is 25 feet long and 13 inches wide, shows the entire Roman empire.

Interlochen Academy Is Accredited

INTERLOCHEN (AP)—Established in 1963 as an outgrowth of the National Music Camp here, Interlochen Arts Academy has been granted accreditation by the University of Michigan and has launched a $25 million expansion fund campaign.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder-president of the music camp and the academy, announced the accreditation Wednesday. He said the fund campaign would cover proposed expansion, improvements and scholarship endowments. Foundation grants and individual gifts made possible the central unit of the Arts Academy Campus, Dr. Maddy said, but funds now are sought for new dormitories, a campus hospital, drama and art buildings and a performing arts center.

Bread, Barber and Tailor Imported by Prince Bernie

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Tony Curtis is living it up here at "The Dorchester" in the manner to which he has—and I would enjoy to — become accustomed.

WILSON

No prince, not even a maharajah or the Aga Khan, dwells more splendidly than Bernie Schwartz, the self-made princeling from the Bronx. The illustrious Italian tailor Angelo had just flown in from Rome to fit several new suits on his well-dieted frame.

"Isn't it a wonderful world?" he said. "I used to be so impressed when Mike Romanoff told me he had suits made in Rome. Now I have the Rome tailor come to me, and my barber, and my bread, are flown from Hollywood."

Tony — here filming "Arrivederci, Baby!" with Angela Lansbury and Zsa Zsa Gabor — had been firmly lecturing us about health-food diet . . . no sugar, no white flour, no dairy products, no cheese, no milk.

"I bore people talking about it, but my diet has helped make me a very happy person . . . And I exercise . . . you remember Charles Atlas muscle exercises. Now they call it isometrics. I was embarrassed when I sent away for my Charles Atlas books, and used another name."

Tony, after 40 pictures, says, "You've got to live your own life. If I didn't believe that, I'd never have married a girl 18 years younger than I am."

"Do you think of yourself as an artist, Tony?" I asked. "No, an artist is a guy who stands before an empty canvas, or a writer who sits down with some blank paper, and creates. I'd like to be called a professional actor . . . although there are a lot of people who wouldn't call me that, I'm sorry to say."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Don Rickles claims the next space capsule will have an extra seat—so Bob Hope can entertain the troops in orbit.

THE PEARLS: People are beginning to take the drought seriously. A diner at Peter's Backyard told the waiter: "I'm feeling faint — get me half a glass of water."

One of the "Funny Girl" dancers arrived at the show in a mink coat, and told Barbara Streisand it was a combat jacket. "Yes, a combat jacket—you don't know how I had to fight to get it." That's Carl, brother.

Performance by Judy HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Judy Garland's scheduled performance in the Greek theater was canceled last night and rescheduled for Sunday on advice of her physician.

The 42-year-old singer fractured her arm in two places Tuesday when she tripped over her pet dog in her Brentwood home. She went on with her show Tuesday night.
