REGINA, Sask. (UPI)—The first of an expected 10,000 persons from all parts of Saskatchewan streamed into town today for a rally called to protest the province's medicare plan.

Automobiles, buses, trains and farm trucks started bringing crowds early this morning.

The number was being swelled hour by hour as motorcades arrived from scattered parts of this Socialist-governed province.

Some cities and towns in outlying areas took on the atmosphere of a civic holiday as businesses closed down to allow their employees to attend the late afternoon demonstration organized by a provincial "Keep Our Doctors" (KOD) committee.

Two smaller rallies were held here last month, before the medicare act went into force July 1 and prompted a doctors' strike. Both drew about 500 persons, police estimated.

A growing fear that violence might erupt during the rally increased the atmosphere of tension last night in this troubled wheat province where a doctors' strike has left residents without normal medical service.

The doctors, rebelling against the new medical law which went into effect 11 days ago, were hoping the demonstration would induce the socialist government of Premier Woodrow Lloyd to suspend the controversial plan.

But prospects for an imminent solution to the crisis remained slim and as final preparations were being made for the rally, Lloyd's government was accused of trying to intimidate the "Keep Our Doctors" (KOD) committee, the planning force behind the protest.

The government and labor bosses are trying to scare us off, declared Rodney Thomson, a key spokesman for the KOD committee.

Straley Gets Pay, Pension; Gives City Sign-Off Paper

The final curtain came down last night on one of the longest running and most controversial dramas in Pontiac's history.

In the City Commission chamber where much of the epic was played over the past five years, City officials and former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley reached a settlement by a 4-1 vote.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr.

Straley walked away with $12,357.80 in back pay and a $115.22 per month pension in his pocket.

The Commission walked away with a signed statement releasing the city and its officials "from any and all liability" in connection with Straley's removal as chief.

The final settlement was sealed in a resolution which, in part, praised the former chief.

U. S.-Soviet Talk Set Up by Rusk

Exploratory Discussion to Continue Search for Formula on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today set up a new U.S.-Soviet exploratory talk in the long search for a Berlin settlement formula. He made a date to see Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin late Thursday.

Agreement on the new meeting, which Rusk initiated, became known in the wake of a new public proposal by Premier Nikita Khrushchev for withdrawal of U.S. British and French forces from West Berlin and their substitution by allied and Communist small-nation troops under the United Nations flag.

NOT DUE TO SPEECH

But State Department officials said that the discussion set for 3 p.m. EST Thursday was not suggested by Rusk because of the Khrushchev speech.

It was rather that the Kennedy administration believes it is important to maintain regular U.S.-Soviet contact on the Berlin dispute. The State Department had already issued a statement Tuesday branding Khrushchev's troop proposal as unacceptable.

Dictator Franco Names His Heir

Reform Predicted as Top Officer Picked, Cabinet Shuffled

MADRID (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco has designated Spain's highest ranking soldier as his official successor and shuffled his Cabinet in a predicted prelude to political and economic reform.

Many experts here described the move as directed toward an early restoration of the monarchy in Spain.

By naming Capt. Gen. Augustin Maza Granados, 66, as vice president, the 80-year-old chief of state cleared up the long pending question of who will succeed him if he dies.

Munoz Granados has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish civil war.

CLOSE ASSOCIATE

A close associate of Franco in his 25 years of rule, Munoz Granados commanded the Spanish Blue Division that fought alongside Nazi German troops on the Russian front in World War II.

Francisco's decree appointing Munoz Granados will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

It added he will be charged with the coordination of the national defense departments and will carry out those functions he is expressly ordered to perform by the president of the government, whom he will replace in case of vacancy, absence or illness.

Seven new ministers were named in the first Cabinet change Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

The changes, which had been expected, were regarded as based on Franco's desire to strengthen the council of ministers and not revealing from any side.

Army, navy and air ministries were changed, as were industry, labor, education and information.

One government observer said, "It looks like the monarchists, the church and the army all came out substantially ahead at the expense of the right-wing Falangists. All in all, it looks like the change by Franco is political as well as economic."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to block out of President Kennedy's last revision bill the withholding system of dividends and interest.

"COMING THROUGH NICELY"—The image of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson appears on an NBC monitor screen in the RCA building in New York City last night in relay of a live television broadcast from the new Telstar satellite. Johnson was talking to Frederick R. Kappel, board chairman of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., who was in Andover, Me. The vice president, in Washington, responded "You're coming through nicely," when asked by Kappel "How do you hear me?"

Reports on NASA JFK Praises Space Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hailed today recent U.S. space accomplishments and said they have laid a substantial foundation for greater future success.

His message was broadcast before the country's latest space venture—the orbital satellite of the Telstar satellite to pave the way for trans-Atlantic live television.

President urged that an independent presidential commission study the problems of scientific manpower. He said NASA has had so much to spend it has been on two amendments.

The NASA report was forwarded to Kennedy by the agency's chief, James E. Webb, who spoke also of mounting accomplishments since June 1961.

The Senate is getting set to vote on a new $3,802,345,250 space authorization measure.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., alluded to Senate passage by voice vote Tuesday with only a handful of senators present, but Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., forced a delay by asking for a record vote on two amendments.

U.S., France, Britain Receive Transmissions From 3,000-Mile Height

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's three television networks announced today that an effort will be made tonight to receive a French television transmission in this country by way of the Telstar satellite at 6 p.m. Pontiac time.

From Our News Wire

NEW YORK — Telstar, in triumphant baptism Tuesday night, sent television pictures spanning the Atlantic to France and England, as well as into U.S. homes.

The new satellite relayed a telephone call from Maine to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Washington as loud and clear as the best of local calls.

Then for an encore, the versatile Telstar—only a yard wide — simultaneously transmitted news stories at a 1,000-word-a-minute clip, relayed photographs and phone calls with perfect aplomb from a 3,000-mile height in space.

Remarkably clear television pictures were received in France, and were to be relayed by tape into French homes today.

French television officials planned to beam a return program to the United States late tonight or early Thursday.

Courthouse Rides Along With Progress

CENTER OF JUSTICE — Located in the geographic heart of Michigan's second largest county, the Oakland County Courthouse (center) is the core of judicial activity for nearly 700,000 persons. Five Circuit Courtrooms, the county prosecutors office, the clerk-registrar's office and numerous other county operations are headquartered in this gleaming, six-story white-faced marble structure. This aerial view is one in a series taken by pilot-photographer Homer C. Tinney to show highlights of progress in the Pontiac area. Symbolizing modern-day construction progress, the courthouse is joined at the left by a narrow four-level courthouse wing into which scores of county employees will move their offices in October. Adjacent to the wing, ground breaking has started for a $631,812 auditorium, and a new parking lot is being constructed to serve employees of the wing. Other structures — and more people — are expected to follow as this County Service Center area near Telegraph Road and Oakland Avenue booms into a bustling community astride the border of a revitalized city—Pontiac.

Businesses Set for Cut in Tax

Depreciation Guides on Equipment to Take Effect Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The business community will get a billion-dollar tax cut Thursday when the Treasury puts into effect liberalized guidelines for the depreciation of investments in plant and equipment.

The new guides, the product of efforts which began during the Eisenhower administration and were accelerated a year ago, will be announced tonight.

In essence, they will reduce the length of time during which businesses can claim tax deductions to cover their capital investments. The guides now in force were established 20 years ago and have long been considered obsolete.

Under the old system, businesses had to decide the useful life of each individual type of equipment or property in figuring annual depreciation deductions.

The new system will lay down an average useful life for all kinds of plant and equipment used in each industry.

This should spare businessmen considerable bookkeeping and make it easier for the Internal Revenue Service to administer the tax laws.

Dissident Leader Hailed in Algeria

ALGIERS — Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella, flanked by officers of the National Liberation Army, entered western Algeria today and received acclaim from thousands of shouting Algerians.

Ben Bella then set out on what apparently is intended as a procession of popular triumph toward Algiers to the discomfort of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda.

Talks between Ben Bella and Ben Khedda's emissaries in an effort to settle Algeria's leadership crisis collapsed in Rabat, Morocco, early today.

Ben Bella first entered his birthplace of Marnia, a town of about 10,000 miles east of the Moroccan border.

Construction Company Employee Dies After Bloomfield Mishap

A Clawson construction company employee was fatally injured yesterday in Bloomfield Township when a 3-foot ditch caved in.

Larry O'Quin, 43, died of chest injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital an hour and half after the accident occurred at 1:30 p.m.

O'Quin, who came to Bloomfield from Garrett, Ky., to work for the Dano Construction Co., was the father of six children, ranging from 21 months to 21 years.

O'Quin, who lives in Wayne, was bricking a manhole for a sewer to serve the Bloomfield Surf Club on Square Lake Road when a Grand Truck Western Railroad train passed nearby and apparently set up vibrations that caused the ditch, according to Bloomfield Township police.

several prominent out-of-province labor bosses, including Canadian Labor Congress Vice President Len Wallace, happen to be in Regina at this time and are making false allegations and statements with regard to possible violence at the KOD rally tomorrow," Thomson said.

Earlier last night Lloyd told television audience he hoped there would be no outbreaks of violence at the rally.

The premier also said the government would not be "in-fused" by the demonstration and suggested that supporters of the Medicare plan might stage a similar rally.

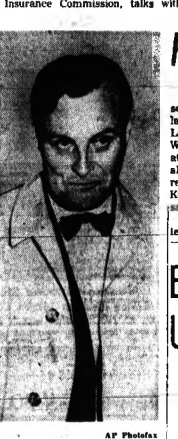

In anticipation of today's large crowds, the grounds surrounding the legislative buildings have been cordoned off. Lloyd said the move was not made as a security measure, but to prevent the area from being "congested with cars."

There was no estimate of how many people would be in the cauldrons when they arrived in the capital, but Thomson said his best estimate is "more than 12 cities and towns" had agreed to close down today so that employees could attend the rally.

Almost overshadowed by the rally preparations was the arrival of nine doctors from Great Britain early today.

The British physicians, who have accepted work under the Medicare plan, will lessen the burden carried by overworked doctors ever since the strike began.

So far a total of 28 doctors—20 from Britain, two from the United States and four Canadians from other provinces—have arrived in Saskatchewan to help.

E. Germans Try U. S. Student

BERLIN (AP) — Robert Mann, an American university student, in Communist-ruled East Berlin today.

Mann, 19, is charged with violating an East German law which carries a penalty of from one to 15 years hard labor for anyone "luring" people from the Red-ruled state to the West.

Pale but composed, Mann appeared in court with Uwe Sturberg, 25, an East Berliner, Sturberg's role in the trial was not made known.

After Mann and Sturberg had given their identifications, the judges announced that "for state security reasons, the public is excluded from the trial."

LEFT COURTROOM

The student's father, Charles Mann of Sepulveda, Calif., Frank Meenan, a U.S. mission official from West Berlin and three West German reporters filed out of the courtroom.

Wearing a dark tweed jacket and slacks, Robert Mann answered the judge's questions on his identity cheerily but somewhat nervously. His face showed the pangs of almost six months of confinement. He was arrested in East Berlin last Jan. 22.

Mann's East Berlin attorney, Wolfgang Vogel, tried vainly to obtain court permission for a meeting between father and son.

"Such a meeting may be granted only if the presence of an interpreter can be arranged. I don't have any interpreters," said the judge. "All interpreters are in Moscow for the disarmament and peace congress. That is much more important."

The judge said the trial may be over today. If it isn't, he said the trial would be continued later, but not Thursday since he had other business to attend to.

Bloomfield Twp. Edict on Zoning Starts July 19

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Township's new zoning ordinance will go into effect July 19. The Township Board last night adopted the 100-page ordinance following a public meeting attended by some 200 residents at the Township Hall.

Township Clerk Delores Little said the ordinance was prepared by the planning board and will become effective immediately upon publication.

A major inclusion in the new ordinance is the classification of commercial property into six categories.

The old ordinance had only a commercial classification and did not restrict specific establishments to certain areas.

The new ordinance designates certain areas for business, office, research and manufacturing.

The addition of a buffer zone between residential and commercial property also has been included in the new ordinance.

This will allow a transitional area between the two zones," according to Mrs. Little.

"The buffer area, with its multiple dwellings or offices, will be a shield rather than a distinct change."

The Senate bill would authorize $2,740,515,550 for the fiscal year which began July 1 and $1,000,000,000 for projects started in the preceding 12 months.

Approval of the bill would send back to the House for consideration of numerous Senate changes. Actual funds must be provided later in a separate appropriation.

Chinese Hold Positions Don't Attack; 2nd Note of Protest Sent Nehru

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Communist Chinese troops encircling an Indian border outpost today held their positions but did not attack, Indian officials said.

At the same time, Communist China sent its second protest note today, charging India with border intrusions along the disputed frontier.

The New China News Agency said the note was sent yesterday. India, it charged, has set up new military strong points in China's Sinking region and another in Tibet as a prelude to "armed invasion."

for the great event of instant-on television from around, with the brief reward coming after 1 a.m.

The success brought dreams of global television closer to reality. Americans might see the 1964 Olympics from Japan on television sets in their homes, and viewers in California, India, on the other side of the globe from New York, may watch the 1964-65 World's Fair, scientists believed.

IN THREE YEARS

Technicians said 20 to 25 satellites orbiting the earth as the Telstar is doing today would be sufficient to establish a global network. They speculated that this could be expected within three years.

Telstar's first feat were a prodigious demonstration of things to come in a future worldwide satellite communications system to meet mounting demands for telephone, news, business, and television circuits spanning oceans and continents.

Praising this joint venture of private industry and government, American Telephone & Telegraph Co. footed the entire $4 million cost of building, launching and tracking Telstar — Nevian Nissen, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, remarked:

"Now we have increased opportunity to increase the flow of information among all nations, to augment the walls of ignorance and prejudice and to use mass communications helpfully to avoid mass destruction."

Telstar was designed and built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Only for 12 to 15 minutes on some of its orbits each day will Telstar be in line of sight vision between Europe and the United States to permit television exchange.

But one plan calls for launching a series of 30 to 50 similar repeater satellites, so that one or more always would be in position for relay of television, telephone calls, photo or story and message transmission.

Romney to Visit National Guard Training Camp

Former automaker George Romney, Republican gubernatorial candidate, called his visit to Camp Grayling "nonpolitical." The other visitors took a special interest in nearly 800 men of the nine Lansing-based guard units of the 48th Infantry.

Infantry units from Grand Rapids, Iowa, Greenville and Big Rapids were training on a 10-mile line northeast of Grayling with tanks from units in the southwestern part of Michigan.

"I further acknowledge that no other promises or inducements have been made to me relative to this release," it continues.

However, Straley's agreement to take no further action would automatically become void if the proceedings, for any reason, were nullified or set aside.

Likewise, the resolution gives the Commission power to take further action in the matter if the settlement is nullified before it becomes effective.

Now all that Straley must do is apply for his pension with the City Retirement Board of Trustees. Approval of this body is automatic providing the applicant legally qualifies for a pension.

The agreement was opposed by Taylor, who said the settlement "was certainly inevitable after the election last April 16 when 26,000 registered voters in Pontiac decided to let the 'other guy' vote."

Taylor said the settlement was made over warnings from city officials and civic leaders that to reopen the Straley matter would create trouble for the city.

Summing up the remarks of the other six commissioners, Harriott said he thought "Mr. Taylor has accomplished what he wanted to. He apparently wants to keep this issue alive."

Ribicoff Proposing 'Illogical' School Tax Deduction

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — You can temporarily take a man out of politics, but you can't take the "politician" out of the man for long.

Abraham Ribicoff, after functioning in reasonably bipartisan fashion for the past 18 months as personal secretary of health, education and welfare, is now talking serious politics as he prepares to bow out of the Cabinet Friday.

The former governor who needs to capture the Democratic senatorial nomination in Connecticut obviously knows where the votes are counted in his native state.

Using the broad forum of his Cabinet office, he has therefore proposed that parents who send their children to private schools should receive a deduction on their federal income tax.

Since most private schools are Catholic ones, and since the Connecticut population is 62 per cent Catholic, Ribicoff seems to be making a rather obvious bid for church support in his campaign.

DECEPTIVE

On the face of it, Ribicoff's proposal sounds deceptively fair. He argues that business as persons who send their children to private schools are "lifting a burden from the shoulders of all taxpayers," they should get a tax deduction to compensate.

In a recent speech he put it this way: "These parents pay taxes to support the public schools of their communities. They also pay private school tuition."

"The simplest way to remove also some part of this public burden is to allow parents a tax credit from their income tax payments."

Very little additional thought is required to realize that if each parent deserves a tax credit for not sending public schools, then taxpayers who send their children are entitled to a tax deduction.

Oscar Levant Is Treated for Chest Congestion

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A spokesman says Oscar Levant, 51, hospitalized since last Thursday, is being treated for chest congestion.

Attendants at Mt. Sinai Hospital refused earlier to discuss the nature of the pianist's illness.

Levant has been in semiretirement since his appearance four years ago at a television talent-interviewer.

Ribicoff reasoning the children's families should be entitled to additional credits, because no youngsters of theirs are using the public sidewalks, parks and playgrounds, or requiring health and police protection.

To carry the illogical Ribicoff proposal a step further, wealthy citizens who post private guards at the entrance to their estates, or purchase fire extinguishers for their residences should pay less taxes than others, because they are less apt to require the services of police and firemen.

The great leveling process of democratic America has been its public school system, and as one of the 13 original colonies, Connecticut established free public schools in 1652. By 1850 it had made attendance at elementary schools compulsory.

Any parent can still send his children to school free of charge in America, or he can send them to private or parochial schools if he prefers. That is his prerogative.

If the government begins providing tax deductions for all who do not use public schools, however, then in effect those who do use them are being penalized, and the schools are no longer free.

The so-called "public" schools of England such as Eton, Rugby and Harrow are actually private schools, steeped in class consciousness and attended by the sons of the privileged.

A liberal Democrat, Ribicoff would be among the last to suggest that federal tax credits be given Southern segregationists who transfer their children to private schools to avoid integration. Yet this would be an immediate result of his plan.

That is why it is dangerous for an election-minded politician to bid for votes by appealing to one segment of the population. The ones who are accidentally benefited may not be his constituents.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rev. Dr. Paul L. G. R. of Minneapolis, was elected president yesterday of the Board of World Missions of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America.

The board oversees the work of the 3.3-million-member church in North America, Asia and Africa. Other board officers named were Rev. Constantine Tread, of Detroit, vice president; Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Kidd, of Philadelphia, secretary; and John V. Lindholm, of New York, treasurer.

Rev. Dr. Earl S. Erb, of New York, was elected to a six-year term as executive secretary of the board.

Loses Finger in Mishap

GRAYLING (AP) — SP-5 Joseph Cramer, 36, of Grind Rapids, a bank teller, lost his ring finger yesterday when his wedding ring caught on the side of a troop transport truck as he jumped from the tailgate. Michigan National Guard authorities said it was the first serious injury of the current two-week training period.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many years of false teeth have suffered due to embarrassment because they have dropped, slipped or wobbled as just the wrong time to do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just smile a little FASTER, the advance (new) method of fitting your false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not hurt. Change "false teeth" at drug counters everywhere.

SUMMER SCHOOL CRAMMING—In order for dentist-turned-teacher Dr. Max Mallon to keep one step ahead of his Rochester High School advanced biology students, he must do a lot of studying. The dentist turned to an early leave-teaching—after an eye injury ended his dental career.

Dentistry to Teaching

Changes Profession

Teaching a group of advanced biology high school students is far harder than extracting teeth. Dr. Max Mallon of Rochester, N.Y., found that out the hard way.

With the exception of a stint in the Army, Dr. Mallon practiced dentistry in Detroit for 25 years. Then an injury to his right eye which he had received in World War II caused him to lose the sight of that eye. His dental career ended.

But Dr. Mallon remembered a dream. Early in life he had wanted to become a teacher. Why not now? Certainly his specialized education at the University of Michigan could be put to use. He could become a science instructor.

His goal in sight, Dr. Mallon went back to school — a last brush-up at Wayne State University. Then a couple years of teaching at the university.

Finally, three years ago he went home and school.

U.S. Judges Turn Down 2 Teachers' Request to Affect State Candidates

PORT HURON (AP) — Federal judges yesterday rejected an "extraordinary remedy" request by two political science teachers that all Michigan congressmen be elected at large.

The Henry Ford Community College teachers, Donald Calkins and Carl Jacobs, had charged in their suit that Michigan's districting "denies the equal protection guarantee" that all Michigan congressmen be elected at large.

Calkins called the 15-district setup established in 1961 a "top-sided and grotesque farce." A 19th Congress seat, created this year for Michigan, will be filled on an at-large election basis.

The teachers had asked that all 19 representatives be elected at large in the coming elections, and until the state is reapportioned in accordance with the 1960 federal census.

Judge Clifford O'Sullivan of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati and federal judges Talbot Smith and Stephen Roth heard the case.

O'Sullivan said the teachers were asking "an extraordinary remedy, and one which this court is unwilling to indulge upon such short notice and without full study."

The teachers said they would appeal to the Supreme Court, but said this appeal would have no effect on the coming election because of the time required to process the appeal.

Meany Claims Reds Causing U. N. Crisis

BERLIN (UPI) — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, charged yesterday that Russia "has plunged the United Nations into a serious crisis."

Meany, in a speech to the Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICFTU), said the United Nations "faces the danger of either being completely unimpacted or becoming a tool of the Soviet Union in the Cold War."

He said colonialism remains a key issue in the United Nations and the free trade union movement "will continue to press in the U.N., as elsewhere, for the right of self-determination and independence for all colonial peoples in Europe, as well as Africa and Asia."

Jimmy Does It Again—Charges Are Dropped

JAMES RIDDLE HOFFA had a date in court. Pretty generally he has known how to take care of himself in such situations and this was no exception. To make life easier for the Teamster Union boss, the Federal Government Monday dropped the criminal assault charges and now JIMMY can continue on his merry way.

In July 1957, for example, he was acquitted on a charge of bribery after former heavyweight champion Joe Louis shook his hand and sat with him in front of a jury which had eight Negro members.

The charge HOFFA faced in a District of Columbia court must have seemed something like the good old days, a refreshingly simple charge of assault, rather than bribery or wire-tapping, or the like.

The charge was a tussle where he is supposed to have beaten up SAM BARON, an aide, at union headquarters. BARON claims to have turned down offers of union advancement if he would only drop the charges. He has asked and is getting police protection.

Hoffa is not a showoff when it comes to everyday living. Unlike some union leaders, where $25 shirts, $15 neckties and $100 hats are a part of the daily uniform, this is not so with Hoffa.

Unlike his predecessor, DAVE BECK, he does not live in a $100 thousand plus house. JIMMY wears average price suits, most any tie, regular shoes and white socks. When Fortune magazine did a piece on him some months ago, it reported this personal bit of information.

As might be expected, JIMMY explains his dress characteristically, "I don't need to impress anybody."

But JIMMY does have a yen for respectability. He does some lecturing at universities like our own MSU where he appeared recently. He has also lectured at Harvard — which must be considered a plus, even if it doesn't necessarily cut any ice with some of Harvard's highly placed alumni in Washington.

Saskatchewan Doctors Fear State Control

This Saskatchewan situation still bumps along dismally without any perceptible movements towards a settlement.

Practically a whole continent—including the balance of Canada and the United States — will volunteer quick replies with a variety of answers. Perhaps the whole thing can be well summed up in the comments of The Montreal Star, one of the continent's great newspapers. The Star says that it "agrees in principle with the doctors, but it declines to go along with their tactics."

This answer covers the beliefs of a majority of the Canadian newspapers and of more citizens than any single summation. "The law is the law," said The Liberal Star, "and defiance of it is wrong." Many people who are completely sympathetic with the doctors regret their current step and it has hurt their general standing in the Province and elsewhere.

The people are the actual sufferers.

The physicians there say they don't want to be paid by the Province as they fear this will lead directly to state control of their entire profession. This is an understandable anxiety and will find widespread acceptance in Saskatchewan, the balance of Canada and on this side of the border.

In commenting on the current dilemma, The National Observer says:

"The Saskatchewan plan is government insurance against the cost of medical care. It is designed to be financed by taxes and individual premiums and will cost an estimated $21,000,000 a year. This amount would come from increases in income, corporation, and sales taxes which went into effect at the beginning of this year and an annual premium of $12 for an individual and $24 for a family. The first premium would be collected later this year.

"The plan covers practically all medical and surgical services, maternity services, care of new-born babies, specialized services, anaesthesia, X-ray, laboratory and other diagnostic procedures, and preventive medical services."

The committee representing the doctors assert services will be restored as soon as the Government assures them the current legislation will be withdrawn while the Government sits down "to discuss ways and means of introducing programs of insurance rather than programs of control of the doctors themselves."

Threw Sunday Pitch on Sunday Drive

BY HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

The demolition of Hotel Chapman brings back nostalgic memories to MAT's old friend

Ben Gates former City Commissioner and a bit of a world traveler. Prior to 1910, he lived in Rochester and his Sunday fling consisted of driving the future Mrs. G. to Pontiac for dinner at the hotel—the Hodges House—paying three cents toll (five cents round trip) at the gate on Auburn Avenue at East Boulevard.

Asked how long it took to horse-and-buggy the round trip, he said about four hours . . . but added slyly, the dog, that under the circumstances there was no great need for hurry. He couldn't remember how much the special Sunday dinners were, but he was sure they were much less than a dollar.

Oh, well, as the fella said: easy come, easy go.

After late Citizen's frontal attack on the frightful housekeeping around the abandoned courthouse at Saginaw and Huron, the MAT took a rander at it. . . It's not as bad as I. C. alleged — it's worse! . . . and here's Exhibit A.

Paraphrasing an old saw applicable to the county: Out of mind, what a sight!

Celebrating its 50th anniversary is Pontiac Shrine No. 22, order of White Shrine of Jerusalem. The local area charter numbers 300, said its Worthy High Priestess

Mrs. Marquis Sartell of 1234 Atkinson, who pointed out that its objective, most praiseworthy, is giving aid to those who for one reason or another are unable to obtain it elsewhere.

One of the sources of the welfare fund is the one penny per week contributed by each member. Not a large-sounding amount, "in true, but real evidence of the efficacy of the old axiom: Take care of the pennies, and the dollars will take care of themselves."

"He's Got Long Ears and He's Stubborn as a Mule!"

David Lawrence Says:

Red Chinese Are in Deep Trouble

GENEVA—The Communist delegation from Peiping which is attending a 14-member conference here on the Laos problem is worried, mainly about the possibility of an invasion of Red China.

The truth is that Red China is in deep trouble. This could erupt into revolution this year or next—in fact, any day now.

High British officials believe that the build-up of the Red army on the coast opposite Formosa, supposedly to ward off a Nationalist invasion, is, in fact, a mobilization against an expected uprising on the mainland itself.

For a population estimated at 700 million persons cannot be kept in subjugation when nearly every person is hungry.

The most interesting phase of it is the way the Red China government has tried to placate the 6 million-man army. First, the soldiers were told there was no famine. They themselves were well fed. But, when letters came from their families telling of the widespread hunger, the army became restless.

So the Communist authorities decided to let them bring their wives and children to the various points where the army units are stationed. This means the Communists are feeding nearly 18 million persons in order to keep the army satisfied.

But even this is not enough, as all the Chinese have relatives back home who keep writing about the terrible conditions that prevail in the interior.

The significance of all this is that the Communist teachings have been proved false. So long as the Communist regime provided prosperity and a better way of life for the Chinese people, many persons, particularly the younger generation, believed in the new ideology.

Now, however, that communism has failed to bring even the necessities of life, the government faces a dangerous uprising which could be the signal for Chiang Kai-shek's army to move to the mainland. When the psychological moment for the revolution arrives, the Red Chinese army may be expected to turn against the government and welcome with open arms the Nationalist troops from Formosa.

AGRICULTURAL CORE

The whole Communist program in Red China was centered on agricultural production for the people of the cities, where workers were to be the core of new industries.

Pecans in the rural areas were kept under tight control.

The farm system began to fail in 1950, and now the malignancy has reached into the whole internal life of the country like a growing cancer.

Hunger, however, is only part of the dilemma. Lack of food production has wrecked Red China's export capabilities.

This, together with the departure of Soviet technicians, crippled industry. Then came a coal shortage, due to the failure of the under-miners to produce.

But this isn't all. People have been forced out of the cities, and, of course, they can't be fed in the country. There is a scarcity not only of food but of jobs.

The Red China government could, to be sure, go back to the private system of farm management, under which the peasant knows his efforts will be turned into profits for himself.

To return to this now, the Communists would have to abandon a basic tenet of their philosophy. They would also have to put more emphasis on light industry. All this means a turn away from communism.

Will the Communists make a complete reversal? If they do, they are bound to have dissensions among their leaders. One side or the other would begin to woo the military. Revolution or civil war would then ensue.

What should American policy be in the meantime? Certainly it would be a mistake to send relief supplies to any Communist regime in China, even if the regime asked for such aid. Such help as might be given would tend to postpone the day of an uprising by the Chinese people.

The best policy for America is to keep hands off and let nature take its course inside Red China.

Smiles

Most couples who are married live happily ever after having children.

The best thing in the world to hide old children behind is a phrase of smile.

Dr. William Brady Says:

By All Means Go Boating, but Take All Precautions

Pleasure boating has become enormously and justifiably popular in recent years. Countless numbers of us spend afterwork hours, weekends and holidays on lakes and at sea.

For the protection of the vast army of pleasure boaters, authorities at the University of Rochester have provided the following tips for avoiding exposure to some of the serious health hazards to which amateur boaters may be exposed.

Do not use a blow torch to burn off old paint. The vaporization of mercury and arsenical compounds may result in the inhalation of fumes that can produce discomfort and even fatal poisoning.

Exercise great care in handling kerosene. Remember that it is flammable and may be ignited by a spark from a cigarette or pipe. In addition, inhalation of fumes may cause dizziness and irritation of the kidneys.

If the motor's tuned up in the boathouse before launching, make sure that the area is well ventilated. Inhalation of carbon monoxide may produce dizziness, blurred vision, loss of consciousness or death.

Even when the boat is afloat, carbon monoxide poisoning may occur under which circumstances the danger is increased since the victim may fall out of the boat and drown.

Use care in cleaning out sledge with solvents containing naphtha or naphtha derivatives. When vaporized these chemicals are capable of producing a state similar to that of acute alcoholism.

When using "me" (methyl ethyl ketone) as a hardening agent in the coating or repair of a boat, be careful to avoid skin contacts.

The Country Person

There is in the present House no parallel save one: This, too, is an awkward chamber. This, too, is a difficult House not by intention but because of a series of happenstances.

It is hard to handle simply because its sole mandate came from the same, and still recent, election which only barely put Mr. Kennedy into office.

The House has proceeded from where it sits, as though the election, by its nature, reflected the mood of the country. The President's manifest gain in public favor has not been translated into a comparable gain within the House. The Congressional elections next November conceivably could transform all this; but not for the here and now.

It is a contentious House because the loss of its great patriarchal leader, Speaker Sam Rayburn, has left an odd difference in power. The new Speaker, John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, has not done a bad job. All the same, in inheriting Rayburn's official place in the large chamber surrounding the House floor, he has not inherited the immense personal influence of Rayburn.

Thus, the position comes to this: McCormack's House of Representatives was a furious critic because it knew what it wanted and how to get it—which was most of all to get a good deal out of Hoover's neck. The present House is a fractious critic precisely because it does not know where it wants to go—and certainly does not know how to get there.

Not a Southerner

Malachi McQueen

Until you've lived as a Negro, don't judge. I'm a happy black man.

Malachi McQueen

I was outraged to read the letter from "Not a Southerner" which said that in giving every person a fair chance, the white race has been down on the Negro since before the Civil War. Negroes have fewer opportunities at a real good job than white people. How would you like it if one morning you went to school and there was a mob of angry people waiting to burn you?

You had better read further before saying anything about a racial equality.

'Does Little League Teach Sportsmanship Like This?'

Upon reading a letter about unfair practice in Little League games, I watched the ump call a boy safe on the team opposing the Pirates when the child was out.

The Pirates' coach asked the ump to explain and was ordered out of the game. If this is the way the president of this league plans on teaching my son good sportsmanship, I want no part of it. The Pirates' coach has a swell bunch of boys. They never said one word in protest, but walked off with the coach. This is good sportsmanship.

Continue Debate on Racial Equality

In answer to the letter concerning Negro advancement, you stated "It's the Negroes who are putting their own house in better order before they demand too much equality." Your Bible states "For God so loved the world . . . that he loved only a few prominent white leaders. That verse means we are to be a people loved by God and undivided. Heaven will not be segregated."

We have our degree of illegitimacy, but what are you doing about your vast number? While illegitimacy far exceeds that of the Negro, read your newspapers and you'll realize that they're asleep — little white tots trying their luck in manslaughter attempts, your teenagers tearing the ears of an embosoming, the unpromising careers of your doctors who perform abortions.

Have not mentioned your dog addicts, pocket-picking friends, nor your printers of illegal materials. You aren't a Southerner — you're worse.

Student, Pontiac Business Institute

"Not a Southerner" hasn't been any place and is rather ill minded to think he's so Godly he can run up Negroes and whites. No race is better than the other; people are like cars — under the paint job they're all alike.

Why do you feel Negroes need so much money? There are just as many white tramps as Negro. There aren't enough jobs to go around, and not working produces anger. Whites need $5 to $10 a week. Just the same, the white illegitimate children, would be just as many if the cops didn't overlook white people's ways.

U.S. Court Post Awaits Last OK

Muskegon Judge Fox's Name Goes to Senate in District Bench Bid WASHINGTON (U)—Only Senate confirmation stands between Muskegon Circuit Court Judge Noel Fox and assignment to the bench of the U.S. District Court, western Michigan district.

President Kennedy made public yesterday his selection of Fox, 61, to fill the vacancy at the Grand Rapids post caused by the retirement of Judge Raymond Starr Aug. 15.

The lifetime judgeship pays $22,500 a year.

Sen. Patrick McNamara announced Kennedy's division, and said Fox's name will go to the Senate this week.

Fox last August won support of Sens. McNamara and Philip Hart, D-Mich., but their recommendation lay for months in the Justice Department without action.

It was reported that the American Bar Association expressed concern about Fox's heart condition. Fox suffered two heart attacks since 1957, but extensive physical examinations in February found him in good health.

Fox was born in Kalamazoo, was graduated from St. Mary's High in Muskegon in 1929 and from the Marquette University Law School, Milwaukee, in 1933.

At his home in Muskegon, Fox said Kennedy's action was no surprise, but said he would withhold comment until after Senate confirmation.

Booze Buyers Rushed to Beat 4 Pct. Tax Hike

LANSING (AP)—A rush to buy liquor during the last week of June—to beat a 4 per cent tax increase—is reported by the State Liquor Control Commission.

"Those who would buy single bottles ordered a case, and those who would ordinarily buy a case ordered from five to 10," said George J. Burke, manager of the control commission.

"It was not a business of the retailers stocking up," said Burke. "Customers were coming in to buy so they could duck the tax increase."

In 1961 the case sales of all liquor for the last week in June were 43,595. This year they were 50,692, more than double.

Has Resided in Danish Brewery for 31 Years

Noted Physicist Lives in a 'Mansion of Honour'

By BOB CONSIDINE

COPENHAGEN — Prof. Niels Bohr, Nobel prize winner and a prominent physicist, who developed the atomic bomb, lives in a brewery. On him, it's becoming.

For the past 31 years the distinguished scientist and his wife have occupied the "Mansion of Honour" within the grounds of the Carlsberg Beer Plant.

Upon his death, the mansion will be assigned to another Dane who has been international scientist. Bohr explained Prof. Niels Bohr, the physicist, an occupant of the estate.

The unusual legacy was left by J. C. Jacobsen, under whose leadership the brewery he named for his son became world famous.

HEADED BY PROFESSORS

It is administered by the Carlsberg Foundation, headed by five professors chosen by and from the members of the Royal Danish Academy of Science and Letters. The "Mansion of Honour" was Jacobsen's hereditary palace.

Carlsberg and Tuborg, the other top Danish beer, have an arrangement which might raise eyebrows in the States.

Management agreed years ago that they would not compete in the usual sense of the word. They agreed not to compete jointly against the local beers of Denmark, and thus do not advertise in areas where lesser beers have gained acceptance.

In foreign advertising the two companies consult on how much shall be spent. And where.

They also keep each other in formal when new equipment, expansion, and otherwise enjoy a meagerness all but unique in the jungle of today's trade.

Dick Nixon told us here the other day that he had received about 150,000 letters after his defeat in the presidential election of 1960.

"It took three or four months, but we answered every one of them," he said.

EXCITING READING

As every traveler knows, some of the greatest adventures in reading can be found in English translations of inexpensive travel books printed abroad.

Browsing through some materials, while waiting in this spotless capital in old Sao Caravello, I came across an Italian tract entitled "Frascati." This passage is found everywhere.

"In 63 A.D. a great earthquake almost completely destroyed the town. Perhaps two years after that, they started to rebuild it.

The temple of Isis, it is thought, was the first to be restored as tell us the marble inscription found on the door as she was at that time the most favored goddess in the city's religion and therefore this building is certainly one of the most ancient in F."

BE PREPARED

Incidentally, speaking of Italy, the American husband who takes wife and/or teen age daughter to Rome must be prepared to have the local swains look upon them in a manner that would be considered highly insulting at home.

The Roman has a considerable history of being. "All ancient Rome seemed involved in credence," a guide at Frascati told on the other day in what passed for a shock tone. He was hustling some photographic pictures on the side.

From Willy Breinholt's pamphlet, "Scandinavian-That's Us!" comes this:

"The Swedish girls are called dicker and are the cutest in the world... the Norwegian girls are called jenter and are the cutest in the world... the Danish girls are called piger and are the cutest in the world.

"When a Dane has downed three drinks he starts singing, after six he speaks fluent English. When he has had nine, he doesn't want any more.

"Should you urge him, however, he will always agree to have just one more. When he has had 12 he will draw you into a corner and tell you in mildly scandalized tones how hard they hit the bottle in Sweden and Norway."

That's the first time I ever knew Tools Sher was Danish.

'Politics Will Set the Course for Metropolis of the Future'

SEATTLE (UPI) — A cloudy future was predicted today for the metropolis by a University of Michigan expert on local governments.

Prof. Arthur W. Bromage, chairman of the department of political science, said that the future of metropolitan government will be set by "decades of pragmatic process in muddling through to specific solutions, rather than any programmatic approach which appeals to specialists.

As a result, he told the 27th annual Institute of Government, sponsored by the University at Washington, politics will be the major factors in determining the destiny of the nation's and the world's expanding metropolises.

He blamed this on vested interests, constituencies, recourses to action either overt or covert, and the fact that there are "always two or more sides to public issues."

"Even for these and other reasons, no one expects that many of our metropolitan areas will, in the near future, have federated supergovernments with a neat division of aspects of functions between the upper-tier council and the on-going local units," he noted.

Years ago, Bromage explained, was one reason for the metropolis' gloomy outlook for the future. And, he added, in most jurisdictions, "metropolitan leaders are lacking."

"The concept of the relatively independent city has a firm hold on American imagination," he said in explaining the difficulty in uniting the metropolitan areas.

However, Bromage predicted that "single or multifunctional metropolitan authorities to execute administrative and inescapable tasks—such as water and sewage systems, parks, transportation—seem sure to spread.

"Because we are likely to drift toward more and more authorities rather than supergovernments, the design of political representation for these authorities is vital," Bromage said.

Commandos, small military raiding units, were first used by the Boers in the South African War.

How Nice of You to Drop By; When Must You Go?

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks by weekend guests from the city that annoy suburban hosts and hostesses:

"Boy, are we glad to get here! When you said you lived at the edge of nowhere, we thought you were kidding."

"The trouble with drinking martinis in the country is that, when they run out of vermouth, you're never quite sure they don't go on to DDT."

"Obviously they can't live this way on what he earns. She must have money of her own."

"No I don't play golf, Malcolm—but don't mind about me."

"They say that between driving her husband to and from the station, chauffeuring her kids to and from school, and slaving over a hot bridge table all afternoon, she hardly has time left except to take a nap now and then."

SORRY WE'RE LATE

"Sorry we're late to dinner, folks. We missed the turnout at Quagmire Hills, and had to double back after we reached Huckleberry Heights."

"Is it a barn they converted into a house—or was it the other way around?"

"You mean we came all this way just to play charades?"

"No, Ella and I don't like our stalls copied outdoors over charcoal, Malcolm. But don't mind about us."

"Gee, Malcolm, the view from your picture window is really breath-taking. I'll bet on a clear day you can see your neighbor's picture window."

WOULD CHILDREN MIND?

"Would the children mind too much if we switched to 'Perry

Mason'?" Charlie says he can't sleep without it."

"Ella's cousin and her husband dropped into town unexpectedly. We should have phoned you, but I know that with all the space you have out here, you wouldn't mind if we just brought them along."

"Oh, just bunk us down, anywhere—just so it has cross-ventilation, a view of the bay, and the birds won't wake up Charlie too early."

"Gee, Melanie, we'd love nothing more than to join you and Malcolm in a game of badminton, but neither Charlie and I are any good at sports. But don't mind us!"

"Hm—m-m-m. Saturday night. Wonder what's going on in the city?"

"Suburban living must agree with you, folks. You sure have gained a lot of—I mean, you both look so healthy."

"A LITTLE GREEN SPACE"

"They came all the way out here to get a little green space, and I'll bet they can clip this lawn with a pair of scissors."

"Oh, no, Ella isn't particular. Just pour her a bit of aqua vita, stirred in with cola and a touch of persimmon juice at the top."

"Such an interesting party. Have you met any of these people before?"

"It isn't that they're in hospitable. But they do serve caviar like their son fires bee-bees."

"Well, thanks for driving me and Ella in, Malcolm—good health to you and Melanie and yours—sorry we stayed so late we missed the last train home—oh, by the way, we forgot to tell you: Our kids can stay a little longer if you like."

"Just say when—now?"

L. G. Balfour Co. Faces FTC Hearing

BOSTON (AP)—Details of the financial setup of L. G. Balfour Co., of Attleboro, Mass., have been submitted to a Federal Trade Commission hearing on monopoly charges against the firm.

The FTC hearing continued today with top management officials scheduled to testify.

The witnesses listed are David J. Nelson of Burr, Waterman & Auld Co., of Detroit, and Victor Todd, production manager of the Balfour firm.

David Carpenter, Balfour comptroller, also was expected to return to the stand.

Carpenter testified yesterday that Balfour's estimated 1961 sales to national collegiate fraternities and sororities totaled $1 million.

He said sales of official fraternal jewelry accounted for an estimated $2.5 million of the total.

A process for removing radioactive strontium 90 from milk is in the pilot-plant stage.

Rules Tougher for Hot-Air Balloon Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP)—Starting Aug. 7, anyone who wants a rating as a hot-air balloon pilot will have to demonstrate his ability to handle such craft in solo flight.

The Federal Aviation Agency said so Tuesday.

Heretofore, candidates for free certificate limited to hot air balloons had only to meet certain requirements as to age, character, citizenship, education and physical condition.

They did not have to demonstrate aeronautical knowledge, experience or skill. The government could afford to be liberal on this score because all hot-air balloon flights were short ones.

New rules were required because recent improvements make longer flights possible, the FAA said.

Persons who currently hold hot-air balloon pilot certificates are unaffected by the new rule.

2 Crash-Land Plane in Field; Neither Hurt

LANSING (AP)—Two Iowa men crash-landed their single engine plane here yesterday and escaped unhurt.

D. C. Foley and James Horton, both of Ames, Iowa, "belly-flopped" on a grass field at Capital City Airport when they were unable to operate their landing gear.

The emergency landing snapped the propeller and damaged the flaps on the plane. The men were en route to a conference at neighboring East Lansing.

State to Study Accidents on Stretch of U. S. 127

JACKSON (AP)—The State Highway Department says it will make a study of accidents on an 11-mile stretch of U. S. 127 south of Jackson.

The study was prompted by recent fatal accidents on the highway. Proposals for traffic betterment will be presented to planners before the end of the month, the department said.

Could Add, Subtract From Earth's Pull

Studies Back Theory on Gravity-Like Fields

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scientists add engineers report on gravity, Venus, and a system for talking to machines.

GRAVITY THEORY
New studies substantiate a theory that a rotating body, such as the earth or sun, can generate gravity-like fields, a scientist reports.

Christened "spinetic" fields, they can in principle produce gravitational fields which, in turn, could be used to add to or subtract from the gravitational pull of the earth, says F. T. Fraser, a senior scientist at General Precision, Inc., Pleasantville, N.Y.

But don't look for this to produce artificial devices to counteract the earth's gravity—the effects are too small.

The theory can qualitatively account for many effects which, so far, are explainable only through the highly complicated general theory of relativity of Einstein, Fraser adds.

While it is known that a light beam is bent when it passes near a star, there should also be a very small additional bending due to the rotation of the star, Fraser says.

The theory, he adds, can also show that even an ideal spacecraft always pointing in the direction in which it is initially set, should change its heading if transported through a gravitational field.

VENUS SECRETS
This summer, scientists hope two space probes will unveil some secrets of Venus, a sister planet hidden under a dense mantle of gas.

The probes will be aimed to fly close to Venus and will be equipped to carry out a variety of experiments, says Robert Wyckoff of Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Astronautics magazine.

It is hoped the probes will radio back data on Venus' temperature, whether the planet has any magnetic fields or radiation belts, and the density of tiny meteorites between Earth and Venus. Closer to the sun than the Earth, Venus also offers an interesting chance to measure the "solar wind" or gusts of gases which apparently are shot out from the sun.

PARKING TIMER
Instead of putting nickels or pennies into parking meters, you may one day use a kind of parking card or stamp invented by Felix D. Kolben of Chicago. It's a colored card which can be placed inside the windshield.

When you park you would rip a piece of adhesive from the card, and let air into the chemically coated dark green card. The resulting chemical reaction would turn the card to a pale yellow or white color, visible just about an hour, or other stated time.

Kolben, whose idea was developed technically by the Armour Research Foundation's Dr. L. F. Birtz, says the cards would be less expensive than parking meters.

fers, would end the search for proper change, and besides it "time" was left on the card, you might use it for additional parking elsewhere rather than leaving unexpired time on a meter.

MACHINE TALK
Why not talk to a machine, giving it instructions. Instead of pushing buttons or flipping levers to make it work?

This method might be used not only to give instructions to computers, but perhaps passenger elevators, machine tools, or automated industrial production lines.

Studying this idea, Dr. Harry W. Merkle of Case Institute of Technology developed a technique for turning human speech into numbers or digits which can be all obeying man's master voice.

Eludes Nicaragua Police Disguised as Woman

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (U)—Disguised as a woman, Carlos Telleria, a young opponent of President Luis Somoza, eluded police yesterday and took political asylum in the Venezuelan embassy.

Telleria was sought by security police who suspected him of taking part in an abortive invasion attempt from Costa Rica by anti-government elements.

Hefty Price Tags Dominate Evening Fashions

Jackie Kennedy's favorite, the sleeveless "nothing" sheath becomes something dazzling done all over in gold beads with extra ribbons of gold beads around the neck, arms and hemline. The cocktail dress was a part of designer Larry Aldrich's fall collection shown at one of the New York Couture Group's semiannual press week shows.

An eye opener at the show opening the New York Couture Group's semiannual fashion press week was this ball gown by Roxanne of Samuel Winston. The pink, rose and silver printed brocade is cut low in front. A rhinestone pinned to the sash bow in front adds more glitter.

By GAY FAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Opulence by the acre and price tags to stagger the average budget dominate fall and winter fashions for evening.

Opulence takes off in three directions — in the plethora of fur trim, in the lushness of fabrics themselves, or in the addition of jeweling which certainly must be keeping a lot of seamstresses in jobs sewing on bugle beads, jet, seed pearls or other iridescence.

As for price tags, certainly the woman can shop around and find a handsome evening dress within her budget. But if she wants to splurge on a grand occasion gown, the price tag can go as high as $3,000 for a floor-length formal, jeweled, encrusted from neckline to hem.

3 REASONS THEY'RE HIGH
Herbert Sonheim, a manufacturer whose price tags left this reporter less aghast than some of the other gossamer heard in the New York garment industry, explained there are three reasons for some of the fantastic prices.

One is the customer's desire for luxury fabrics. The second is the workmanship which goes into the fabric itself — some of the jeweled materials cost $25, $35 and $40 per yard because of the handwork involved.

And third, the workmanship in the garment itself.

Sonheim said manufacturers no longer just stitch pieces of fabric together; even since the days of the late Christian Dior, designer, clothes like works of architecture have been constructed.

A jeweled dress, for instance, is built from the inside, layer by layer.

There may be as many as four — the outside "skin" of jewels, in turn set on a base of crepe, in turn lined, and finally lined again with a layer of marquisette.

AN OILMAN'S RANSOM

The result in fall and winter collections is an oilman's ransom of luxury.

Members of the New York Couture group of dress manufacturers showed their collections this week to visiting reporters: jeweled gowns, cut velvet thick as upholstery, satins, crinkly matelasses and metallics with the shimmer of the supposed mermaid.

The surprise entry in the formal wear field, though, is wool. Not everyone's gotten around to it yet — but as they say in baseball, it's all next year.

Such pace setters as Bill Blass, chief designer at Maurice Rentner's used lacy, thick mohair for bare-topped evening dresses.

So did James Galanos, the Californian who traditionally opens each new season's collection in New York.

His bare-topped formals in wool were columblike in shape. And late day dresses combined wool jacket over satin skirts.

DOMINANT SILHOUETTE

One silhouette dominates all others in formal wear, probably as a result of Mrs. John F. Kennedy's fashion influence.

It's the slim cut dress. What ever happened to the debutante ball gown with yards of skirt?

Rentner, one of the manufacturers to show collections yesterday, is one of several using men's worn fabrics and men's wear styling for the girls.

Fabrics for day included diagonal and herringbone weaves, plaids and checks, flannel and camel's hair borrowed from the boys.

Borrowed also: knickers, converted into hip-length femininity by their flowing fabrics and overskirts, and vests.

Vests were fancied up for evening wear with such combinations as a gold metallic vest coupled with a pale green wool theater suit.

FULL FUR THEME

In the use of fur, perhaps no other firm in the couture group made it such a complete theme as did Marquise.

This firm's chief designer, Philippe Tournay, used fur to hem coats, to line suits, to make a jacket color-keyed to a dress, to collar coats, even to line raincoats.

In one instance, one fur lining got three overcoats — one of dupion for rainy days, one of tweed for just plain days, and finally, a glossy black for evening.

Once reserved for spring, this floral print is banished for gold for night life this fall. This brown and gold metallic brocade printed sheath by Edward Abbot features a low slit neckline. It was previewed by fashion writers in New York attending programs sponsored by the New York Couture Group.

Abby Says: Teach Him

He Must Learn Kindness

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend has been overseas for two years. I just got a letter from him telling me he'll arrive home July 28. We plan to marry as soon as he gets a job.

He told me not to tell his mother when he's arriving as he wants me to meet him alone, and he'll see his mother the next day and tell her he just got home.

His mother has been counseling the days until his return, too, and I feel bad that she won't have the pleasure of knowing he's coming home. Should I tell her?

HIS GIRLFRIEND
DEAR GIRLFRIEND: Write and tell him to write his mother so you can both meet him. And bear in mind, a man rarely treats his wife any better than he treats his mother.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is, how do you say no to a guy you've been saying yes to for two years?

CINDY
DEAR CINDY: The same way you say no to anybody else. Only louder!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is not easy to answer, but I certainly wish you would help me. How does a respectable woman meet a decent man? (Object — matrimony.)

I refuse to cheapen myself by going to bars alone and I don't want to get mixed up with any Loosely Hairs clubs. I am getting tired of people asking me how come a nice woman like me isn't married.

READY, WILLING AND LONESOME

DEAR R. W. AND L.: Because your question is such a popular one I am going to try to help you and millions of other lonely people.

I am inviting my readers (men and women) to write and tell me how they met their one and only. I'll print some of the more interesting letters in the hope they will be of some assistance.

Wed Sunday in St. Demetrious Greek Orthodox Church, Saginaw, were Rena Katherine Andros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Andros, Saginaw, to Michael Pantel, son of the Paul Pantels of East Pike Street.

Marry in Saginaw

Rena Katherine Andros exchanged vows with Michael Pantel before Rev. Father Gregory Ekonomou Sunday afternoon in St. Demetrious Greek Orthodox Church, Saginaw. An evening reception for some 500 guests in the Hotel Bancroft followed the wedding dinner.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Andros of Saginaw and the Paul Pantels of East Pike Street.

The bride gown of white pearly de sole featured Alencon lace yolkline on the wide fitted midriff and bell skirt of unpressed pleats styled with chapel train. Her veil of illusion fell from a short hat of lace and she carried white orchids and roses.

Mrs. Mitchell Savas of Ann Arbor, matron of honor at her brother's wedding, wore sea mist silk organza over tulle and carried pink roses and feathered carnations.

In identical dresses were bridesmaids Theopis Christou, Clarkson, and Loula Koufalis, Flint, cousins of the bride couple and Violetta Hondros, Lansing. Their bouquets were pink roses and aquamarine feathered carnations.

Flower girls were Karen Bayekdan, Farmington and Michele Savas.

Mitchell Savas stood as best man, George Andros and Gus Pantel, brothers of the bride couple, were ushers. Sam Pantel, Syracuse, N.Y., the bridegroom's cousin, served as best man.

This Woman Did

Conquer That Fear!

By DR. GEORGE W. CHANE

CASE: M43: Myrtle Barker is a very charming woman who writes for an Indianapolis newspaper.

In her childhood, she was stricken with polio so she now uses a wheel chair most of the time.

Some friends brought her to the big Presbyterian church where I was speaking on Sunday night, and we had a nice chat afterward.

But I had previously heard her virtues praised by several Indianapolis folks.

And I had read some of her columns in the newspaper. She writes with professional skill and artistry. She is a decided credit to the field of journalism.

I wish to salute Myrtle Barker for resolutely fighting to be economically self-sufficient, since all too many people take advantage of even minor ailments.

She doesn't. She asks no favors and competes on a par with other newspaper writers and more than holds her own.

This spirit is what made America great. It is the opposite of that negative attitude so often shown by "worry warts" and hypochondriacs, who subconsciously hunt for some medical excuse that will alibi their sloth or cowardice.

NON-SUBSCRIBER

Although I didn't have a long visit with her, I feel sure Myrtle definitely would NOT subscribe to the weak-kneed pink motto that "It's better to be lied than dead."

Incidentally, you may have heard the clever definition of a "pink" or "pinkie."

"He's too yellow to be red."

"That is a parallel of the old definition of a conservative as one who is 'Too fat to run and too cowardly to fight!'"

"But Myrtle must have an unusual amount of courage," you may say.

And she does. But everybody can develop courage for it is an acquired habit, just like playing the piano.

The coward is afraid, as all of us are at the start. But the brave man refuses to admit it, so he makes himself go through the motions of a courageous person.

And ultimately those motions become habitual.

Actually, nobody can be brave who isn't afraid at heart, for by definition courage involves the conquest of fear.

Sometimes people do things that look very courageous but they didn't even know there was any danger in what they were doing.

"Fools walk in where angels fear to tread," describes this type of ignorant behavior that looks brave.

So remind your children that everybody is afraid at the start. But if you talk yourself into a semblance of courage and repeat the process, you can actually change your cowardly self into a brave self.

Peter was a coward and thrice denied Christ. But later, when he had his fear of death, he faced all sorts of torture without flinching.

So widen your perspective by religion and conquer your fear of death early in life. Then you will be a truly free human being the rest of your time here on earth.

See tomorrow's followup regarding fear of death.

Delicate and dainty are these frocks by Nannette for babies. The pastel frock (left) combines dacron, cotton and nylon batiste. The high shirred yoke is trimmed with embroidery and banded in ruffled lace. Lace also frills the Peter Pan collar and puff sleeves and the dress's own shirred bonnet. Ensembles also appeal to the very young like this high yoked yellow petticoat cotton coat with raglan sleeves (right) and its own white dress, a sleeveless no-iron cotton with tender embroidery embellishing the bodice.

October rows are planned by Joanne C. McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. McLain of Redwood Drive, and Lyle D. Clifford, of Detroit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clifford of Grey, Iowa.

A fall wedding is planned by Ileana Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Wilson of Preston Avenue, and Carl H. Buckner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Buckner of Gordon Avenue.

Don't Believe Childhood Fantasies

Adult Guilt Can Punish Young Innocents

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

The year that she was 8 years old, nice ladies were buzzing excitedly over a book about what its author called "white slavery."

It contained extremely sensational descriptions of the methods by which wicked men were said to be luring, abducting and dragging young girls into lives of prostitution.

Mothers darkly warned little girls again of the mysterious perils involved in "speaking to strangers."

In parks, during recess, behind bushes on suburban lawns, the warnings with their delicious suggestion of female desirability were repeated to other little girls.

(I myself learned about the "white slavery" book from the daughter of my respectable music teacher.)

So one day the 8-year-old child of this column told a classmate that she read it.

She told the tale because she was a lonely little girl—and so grateful to have been invited to the classmate's home for Saturday lunch that she tried to insure her new friend's continuing admiration by a display of an enviable experience.

But her social triumph was short-lived. Soon after she left, her hostess suffered an attack of bad conscience. Seeking out her mother, she reported that Virginia Peterson knew all about the innards of prostitution.

Recalling her 8-year-old attempt to consolidate a friend, Miss Virginia Peterson said to me, "My classmate's mother telephoned my mother."

I had asked her to see me because this distinguished writer and critic's best seller, "A Matter of Life and Death," is not just autobiography. It is the profoundly sensitive and moving story of the process of estrangement as it takes place between a parent and child.

Now, pouring my tea, the woman who has written so well of the pain suffered as a result of estrangement from her mother, said:

"This experience of my childhood does not appear in my book. I have only remembered it because you asked me if I was often punished for doing what I hadn't done. I was. Do you take cream?"

I said "No," but she gave it to me anyway. Neither of us noticed because we were both engaged in the recollection she was sharing with me.

"That day, when I got home," she told me, "I melted into a house of ice. I was sent to my room and given an hour. The first reason for my many days."

I was not asked if I had really read the book. I was not asked why I had said my classmate said it. I was asked nothing!

"My mother punished me without telling me how I had offended. I accepted the punishment without asking her if I had offended. Only years later could I put two and two together—and see I had been outcast for reading a book I hadn't read."

In courts of law an accused child is presumed to be innocent until he is proven guilty. But in homes—nice ones, too—an accused child is often so aggressively presumed to be guilty that he forgets he is innocent.

Camelia Joyce Sellers Marries Howard W. Wright in Ortonville

Tiffany baskets of white gladioli and pompons graced the chancel of Ortonville Baptist Church for the Saturday vows of Camelia Joyce Sellers to Howard W. Wright.

Rev. Perry Dryden performed, received guests in the church parlors.

White silk organza for the bride, featured a modified Sabrina neckline of lace above a beauteous bodice. Her devoted sister of lace fell into a chapel train.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was held by a floral caplet. A white orchid and roses rested on her small white Bible.

ATTEND BRIDE
Mrs. Robert Hillier of Flint was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Judy Palsman and Marie Massey, both of Ortonville, and the bridegroom's sister Sharon.

They wore chiffon dresses of identical styling in blue, yellow, mint green and pink, respectively, and carried matching carnations in natural wicker baskets.

Cheryl Sellers, her sister's junior attendant, wore pink tulleffed nylon sheer and their sister Candace was flower girl.

Best man was Gary Tong, Inlay City, Michigan, and Gwyn Bird of Holly, ushered with the bride's brother Daniel Sellers. William Wright was his brother's junior usher and Richard Lass, Millington, ring-bearer.

Pink rosebuds accented Mrs. Sellers' dress of champagne silk and a turquoise silk sheath dress with lace bodice for the mother of the bridegroom.

The couple will reside in Pontiac.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

This week's winner of Tailor Triz pressing boards are Mrs. Mildred Bradenberg, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Eleanor Ives, Orlando, Fla.

Sew Simple is awarding two Tailor Triz pressing boards this week because both suggestions were received the same day and it was one of the most original ideas yet! If you dislike strapless bras, you'll love this idea.

When making summer dresses with spaghetti straps, make an extra set of straps and attach to your strapless bra. Then tie the straps together at the shoulder with an extra piece of spaghetti strap. Not only will this look neat and be more comfortable, but saved that "Will it or won't it" feeling you get in a strapless bra.

MAKE SHORTS

"Dear Eunice Farmer: Is it possible to cut off boy's khaki trousers for Bermuda shorts, or are the shorts cut differently?" Mrs. C. M. Dear Mrs. C. M.

I have checked carefully to see if they are the same styling and find they are. I have been doing this with my teen-age son's khakis for years. Usually they get too small in the waist, this is an excellent idea for getting additional wear out of khakis that are too good to discard. Be sure to cut them long enough to allow an ample hem, the finished length should be just above the knees. If your son is fuzzy about made-overs, let this be our secret. They'll look like new and he'll never know. Good luck!

COMMON FAULT

"Please explain what is causing a pleat to form across the front of my slacks, just above the crotch, when I'm walking." Mrs. L. OM Dear Mrs. L. OM

This seems to be one of the most common faults in the shorts or slacks most women make. This is caused by the "crotch" seam being too long. I have found that unless you have a pair of shorts that fit you, which you can measure and use as a guide, it is best to cut the crotch seam higher (as illustrated).

If you cut the back and front crotch seam about 1" higher, it will usually be high enough for most women.

If it is cut too high, you can always lower the cutting line, but if it is cut too low, there is nothing you can do to bring it up without changing the length of your shorts and slacks.

Index your Sew Simple columns so you can find just the one you need at a moment's notice. You can use a card system such as a recipe file, or a loose-leaf binder.

It is best to group them under such titles as sleeves, fitting, collars, etc. Cut the items apart and keep only the ones you will need in the future. Saving all the Sew Simple columns won't do any good if you can't find the one you are looking for.

GOOD IDEA

Another good idea for summer would be to oil your sewing machine. Many of us forget that this needs to be done often. Try to clean any lint out of the bobbin case and, using your instruction book, find the places that must be oiled.

Carefully wipe any excess oil and keep the presser foot DOWN on a blotter or piece of fabric so that the oil can drip down on it.

After oiling your machine, it is best to stitch on a scrap of fabric before stitching on your garment, just in case it would spot. Your machine will run like a dream after taking a little care of it. Don't forget to change to a new needle.

If anyone has any good ideas what to do with maternity jackets, please send them to me. I have had so many requests for these ideas. Perhaps you can win a Tailor Triz pressing board with your idea.

Please send your questions and suggestions to Sew Simple in care of the Pontiac Press.

Many Women Share This Antiambition

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
"Have you an Anti-Ambition?" asks the cover of a woman's fashion magazine and so, of course, I looked inside to find out just what an antiambition is.

An antiambition, according to the writer of the magazine article is "something which one is not ambitious enough to work for," but presumably something one still likes to think about.

If that's what an antiambition is, I've got one and I dare say it is one that is shared by a lot of women.

I want women's skirt lengths to stay put. That's my anti-ambition. And I don't much care whether the headline stays near the knees or near the ankles, just so that it doesn't keep moving up and down.

Every time a new season rolls around and I drag out the clothes left from the year before, I know without trying them on that the headline is going to have to be changed.

It's an income job, moving a hem up or down an inch or less, and yet if you leave it "as is," it is sure to look dowdy the year after a dress was bought.

Granted that women might get tired of wearing the same hem length forever, why couldn't the designers get together and say: "We'll leave skirts at knee length until we decide to lower them all the way to the ankles" instead of adding to or taking off half inches at a time?

But, of course, nothing will ever come of this antiambition of mine because what woman can buck the problem of the ever-changing hemline alone? And what do dress designers actually care about women? Not enough, surely, to relieve them of the tedious chore of forever taking their hemlines up half an inch or letting them down two.

Simplify Everything

Homemaker, Keep Cool!

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Simplified housekeeping can make a big difference in how you weather the heat, and there are so many ways to simplify it. For instance, why not use paper napkins exclusively, even when entertaining?

You can do this if you entertain more informally than usual. There are many really attractive paper napkins and disposable plates for buffet suppers and outdoor eating. And speaking of outdoor eating, this is not only pleasant, but is a relief to the woman in the home because her husband becomes the chef at these times. This is special fun on week ends.

CASSEROLES

Casserole dishes are wonderful for the evening meal when it is hot. These can be prepared in the morning before the temperature rises, and put in the refrigerator until you wish to heat them up at night.

Those who have deep freezers would be wise to use them even more than usual during summer months. You can freeze sandwiches, chicken and meat, cakes and cookies, lots of these at one time, and then more or less forget food for a while.

This saves working over the hot stove every day, and also is helpful because one usually has many guests during the good old summertime. The children do, too.

A hot weather hint: Use paper napkins to help simplify summer serving. And why not eliminate all possible laundry work?

Remember that there are paper towels today which are really luxurious. They are absorbent and beautiful. Why not eliminate all possible laundry work?

SLIMMING

High-calorie foods are heating as well as fattening. Cold sliced meat and fowl, and sea food, fresh fruits, green salads and garden vegetables are slimming and do not require constant and lengthy preparation.

Summer is a fine time to slim down!

If you would like to have my calorie chart, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fill Pots, Pans

Instead of soaking aluminum utensils in used dishwasher, fill each one with clean suds and wait until food has loosened enough to wash off.

Kennedy Pressing Dem Leaders for Action in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is prodding Democratic leaders to get the legislative wheels turning in a party-controlled Congress engulfed in a quagmire of protocol and political bickering.

The President is reported soundly by a new note of urgency and strategy conferences disclose how deep some of his major proposals have sunk in the gumbo of inaction that has marked what Republicans are calling a do-nothing session.

JFK MAY ACT

There are indications that Kennedy himself may seek to mediate a Senate-House dispute over their handling which has prevented final action on any of the regular money bills.

Hinting at this, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said Tuesday that some drastic measures had better be taken to end a stalemate in which he said Democrats are digging their political graves.

"Every week that this goes on, you can count off a few more Democrats in the November election," he said. "The Republicans will make hay with this."

The Republicans already were busy cutting their hay.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said that "it is doubtful if any session of Congress in the history of the republic ever spent so much time accompanying so little."

He and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana agreed in a statement that "most of the blame belongs to the Kennedy administration."

Regardless of who had to shoulder the responsibility, only a handful of major bills have become law in the more than six months of the session.

MEASURES PASSED

Included in these are measures authorizing $13 billion in military purchases, expansion of the Peace Corps, $2 billion additional in loans to the International Monetary Fund, a $425-million job retraining program, an increase in the debt limit to $308 billion and an extension of corporation and excise taxes.

As Kennedy's lieutenants surveyed the field, they saw plenty of trouble ahead.

One bright note they detected was the seeming lack of organized Senate opposition to the President's House-passed international trade program. The Senate Finance Committee is delaying work on it until July 18. Opposition could solidify before it reaches the Senate itself in mid-August.

This means that Kennedy's beleaguered tax revision bill, also passed by the House, will be sidetracked in committee until the trade measure is disposed of.

On the other hand, Kennedy seemed to be making some progress by personal appeals to House members to relax the Senate-voted ban in the foreign aid program against any but surplus food assistance to Communist countries like Poland and Yugoslavia.

LOAN SIDE-TRACKED

Put aside in the House for the time being is the Senate-approved proposal for a $100-million loan to the United Nations.

Humphrey said Kennedy is pressing for quick action on a Senate-approved public works program, a youth employment bill on which neither house has acted and a compromise farm bill.

The fractious House killed the administration farm bill passed by the Senate. Humphrey predicted it will be revived in a form to provide for extension of voluntary wheat and feed grains programs. Halleck said he wouldn't vote for the substitute but conceded some Republicans would support it.

After it acts on the measure the Senate will face a demagogic filibuster by opponents before it can act on the administration's program for a 50-50 public and industry-owned communications satellite system approved by the House.

Republicans then plan to release two ticklish civil rights issues in the Senate on the $5.3 billion bill carrying funds for the Welfare and Labor departments. Their amendments would ban federal grants for segregated hospitals or for segregated schools in districts crowded because of federal installations.

A House-passed bill to increase postal rates is making tortuous progress through a Senate committee.

The administration's program for higher education aid is still in troubled waters.

Florida Hotel Will Integrate

Action to Only Affect Such Groups as Ball Teams, Veterans Units

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — A Clearwater hotel will integrate its facilities on a group basis to provide service to baseball teams and such organizations as veterans groups where the percentage of Negro members is small.

Ed C. Leach, president of the Jack Tar Hotel chain, including one in Lansing, Mich., told a news conference yesterday that the Jack Tar Harrison will not be integrated on an individual basis.

The hotel had served in past years as quarters for the Philadelphia Phillies baseball club in spring training. But last spring the major league team moved from the hotel when Negro players were refused service.

Leach said he would integrate the hotel on the group basis if the City of Clearwater approved the plan. He said he had met with city leaders and all had voiced approval of the plan.

Leach said the Philadelphia team had been contacted and its officials said the team would return to Clearwater under such a provision.

Ferris Institute 'Forced' to Raise Fees $45 a Year

BIG RAPIDS — A tuition increase of $15 per quarter was announced yesterday by Ferris Institute.

The board will place resident tuition charges at $335 for the three-term school year instead of $310 charged previously. Fees for nonresident students increase from $400 a year to $575. Action was taken "with regret."

ance and regret" Monday by the Ferris Board of Control. U.S. District Court Senior Judge Raymond W. Starr, board chairman, said: "We had no alternative left other than to refuse to take the additional students who are being turned away."

Ferris anticipates a full enrollment of 4,200 students, nearly 600 more than in the current year.

July Space Show to Star Venus, Saturn, Jupiter

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Three far-off planets will be visible during the July evening hours.

Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan astronomer, said Venus will be bright in the sky for a couple of hours after the sun has gone down.

Saturn rises around 10 p. m. in the southeast and is the brightest star in the constellation of Capricorn.

Prof. Losh said Jupiter also will rise in the southeast about an hour after Saturn. It attracts attention in the later night sky just as Venus does in the twilight and early evening.

Don't Be Misled by Pollen Count Allergic Advised

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Persons with allergies should not be misled by the daily "pollen count," a University of Michigan health specialist said today.

Dr. James A. McLean said the pollen count is usually 24 hours late and is not quantitatively accurate and is only one gauge of how bad your symptoms may be. McLean, associate professor of internal medicine, said while the pollen count can be a helpful index for the doctor, it can't be relied upon completely by the patient.

McLean said the pollen count, taken alone, doesn't give the patient a complete picture of his symptoms.

Forms Dip in 2 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The number of forms in Ohio dropped about 10,000 from 1959 to 1961, with a decrease of 400,000 acres in the farmland, Ohio State University economists report.

Bathyscaphe Hits Mud Bottom in 23,430-Foot Dip

TOKYO — The French Navy's bathyscaphe Archimede found a soft mud bottom without rock in a 23,430-foot dive in the virtually unknown Japan Deep July 8. It also found a variety of deep sea life.

The French embassy reported today on the results of the dive, second of a series to be made in the Japan Deep and the Kurile Kanishka Trench by a joint French-Japanese scientific team.

The Archimede's dive was 138 miles northeast of Onagawa on the northern side of Ojika Peninsula. Its first dive, a 15,740-foot plunge May 22, was in the same area. Neither dive was a record.

Honor Student Leads Busy, Sightless Life

MARQUETTE — An average day in the life of college freshman Robert Sikila would include several trips across the tree-lined Northern Michigan College campus here to attend classes, an occasional stop at the student center, maybe a little practice on the guitar, and perhaps a piano-tuning assignment.

After dinner he'll join in a "bull session" with fellow residents of Gries Hall. Then he'll study with one of several readers assigned to him.

"Nothing unusual or dramatic," says Sikila, who is from Mass in "just another day on the campus."

For any other student, it might be "just another day." But Sikila, an honor student, said, somewhat, has been blind since he was 3 years old.

Self-assured and happily engaged in campus life, Sikila doesn't consider his blindness a handicap. Actually, he doesn't remember ever having had the use of his eyes, and he has accepted sightlessness as part of his physical make-up.

He takes all of his class notes in braille, uses a typewriter and signs his name longhand. He has memorized campus routes and the locations of classrooms, and he is keenly aware of objects and people, perhaps more so than many sighted students.

Fellow students read assignments to him, and after a few months of practice he has mastered this learning technique to the extent that he holds a scholastic index of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0.

Sikila carries an average academic schedule of five subjects and thoroughly enjoys college life. He makes friends easily and remembers people with uncanny accuracy.

Before entering college last fall, Sikila attended the school for the Blind in Lansing. He received all of his early education there, except for the seventh and eighth grades, which he spent in public schools near Mass.

It was at the School for the Blind where he learned to play tuba and became a member of the school band.

Like many students at Northern, Sikila has a part-time job. He tunes pianos, an avocation which provides him with extra spending money for clothes and entertainment. In addition to his other accomplishments, he is a ham radio operator.

Enrolled in the social service curriculum, Sikila looks forward to a career in teaching or psychiatric social work.

Communist Party Ups Membership in Japan

TOKYO — Japan's Communist party has 30,000 members, double the number of three years ago, the government's Public Security Agency said in a special report yesterday.

The Communists have made a survey of U. S. military bases in Japan and are trying to get information on U. S. and Japanese military operations for their campaign against "American imperialism," the report added.

Urges Senators to Battle Cut

Swainson Seeks to Put Training Program Back at Proposed Strength

LANSING — Gov. Swainson urged Michigan's two U. S. senators today to work for reinstatement of $50 million cut from the $100 million appropriation for the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The cut by the Senate Appropriations Committee would put a big crimp in the state's plans to take advantage of the program, the governor told Sens. Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart.

The money will be used to train unemployed workers for skilled jobs in which there are vacancies. The cut would reduce Michigan's proposed share from $5.2 million to $2.8 million.

"Michigan is prepared to take full advantage of the Manpower Development and Training program," Swainson said.

"We had 14 courses, involving 415 trainees at a cost of $66,000 approved by Washington for immediate operation once the appropriation is made."

"In addition, we have in preparation 50 courses that would involve 2,700 trainees at a cost of $5.3 million."

"These can be developed and placed into operation within 30 to 60 days."

Reds Release Anglers

TOKYO — The Soviet Union yesterday released 31 Japanese fishermen, 19 of whom it detained May 16 on charges of violating Russian waters and 12 rescued from rough seas June 10.

Singer Jeffries, Stripper Storm Plan Divorce

HOLLYWOOD — Night club singer Herb Jeffries and stripper Miss Storm plan to end their three-year marriage, a spokesman said today.

P. Basil Lambert, attorney for Mrs. Jeffries, told a newsmagazine: "Yes, it's true. Miss Storm went to a hotel and asked a husband to move out of the house."

"I have talked to Jeffries and he says there will be no contest. We don't know yet whether it will be a California or a Juarez (Mexico) divorce."

Jeffries and Miss Storm were married in San Francisco in May 1959. The decision to part reportedly was reached when Miss Storm returned to Hollywood from an engagement in Denver.

$565,000 Bond Issue OK'd for Southfield Drain

A $565,000 bond issue to finance construction of a storm drain on the west side of Southfield Road in Southfield was approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission at Lansing.

The mile and a quarter long drain from Eight Mile Road to west of Nine Mile Road is expected to be placed under construction by the Oakland County Drain Commission in about six weeks, shortly after the bonds have been sold.

Completion is scheduled nine months after commencement of the project, according to Daniel Barry, county drain commissioner.

Milford to Get Bluish Water

Manager Says Lines to Be Flushed Out With Crystal Chemical

MILFORD — Residents who at one time were upset by the disagreeable taste of "red water" may soon become slightly perturbed when their water turns blue.

But there'll really be nothing to worry about, said Village Manager Donald G. Weidner.

Beginning Monday and for the next five or six weeks, water lines will be flushed with a blue crystal chemical that will cause water to become a light shade of blue for a short time.

Weidner said highly diluted solution of copper sulfate will be poured into water lines and then pumped out through hydrants under extreme water and air pressure.

The process will clean out residue that has accumulated in the pipes over a 30-year period, said Weidner.

The treatment will boost the power of polyphosphate that has been added to the water supply since July 1961, to overcome the red water problem caused by rust in the lines.

The village manager said that the water lines will be flushed out one section at a time and that it probably will be done each evening after 10 p.m.

OXFORD — Sharon Ann Souders wore a gown of white peau de soie embellished with Alencon lace for her Saturday marriage to William Erskine in Immanuel Congregational Church here.

The lace bodice featured long pointed sleeves and round neckline trimmed with rhinestones. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train.

A flower cap held her finger-tips well, and she carried a bouquet of white Stephanotis and pale pink sweetheart roses.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar for the double-ring candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Anthony A. Nelson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Souders of 32 Moyers Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Erskine of 5555 Metamora Road, Metamora, are the bridegroom's parents.

Sharon De Lano was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Erskine, sister of the bridegroom, and Sandra Clark.

Robert Erskine Jr. served his brother as best man. Another brother, Edward Erskine, ushered for the bride's brothers-in-law, William Phillips and Leland Laine, and her brother, Samuel Souders.

A reception in the church parlors followed the nuptials. The newlyweds will reside in Oxford.

MARTHA L. MCCROON

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCroon, 1164 Wabasso Road, Walled Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter Martha Louise to Jack A. Keller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Keller Sr. of Grange Pointe and Phoenix, Ariz. A July 28 wedding is being planned.

The total cost of the project will be $1,021,000, he said. The bond issue, to be retired over 30 years, will cover the City of Southfield's share of the cost.

STATE TO PAY THIRD

The County Road Commission has agreed to contribute $15,000 to the project, while the state will pay 37.5 per cent and the county the remaining 5.7 per cent of the total cost.

Once completed, the Southfield Road drain will be connected to the Eight Mile Drain. The storm flow will be carried into the Detroit drainage system from there.

Most of the Southfield drain will be constructed of underground concrete pipes 3 feet in diameter. The rest will be open cut.

It will replace an older drain where it has become inadequate to carry off storm water.

Construction is not expected to necessitate closing of Southfield Road to traffic, according to county engineers.

The city will finance its share of the bond issue by an ad valorem tax, or a general assessment on all properties in the area.

According to City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery, the drain will serve not only the immediate area but also will channel water from more northerly sections of the city.

The tax will undoubtedly be spread on the December tax roll, the clerk said.

The dog was light grey or dirty white in color and wore a red collar and two dog tags, according to Mrs. Vannini, who canvassed the area for the dog in vain.

If the dog is located and found not to have rabies, Linda will be spared the painful shots.

Unit Slates Seminar

WALLED LAKE — The Flint District of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will hold an educational seminar tomorrow at the Walled Lake Methodist Church.

The families live in the Echo Valley subdivision, which borders the Northville School District on the north.

Wayne and Washtenaw county school board members, as well as those from Oakland, will air the proposal since areas of the Northville School District lie in all three counties.

If the three county school boards approve the separation it would mean a loss to the Novi School District of about $15,000 annually in local taxes and state aid.

The parents became alarmed over the education of their children after the defeat of additional operating millage in April.

Since then another millage proposal was approved but parents indicated they would continue to seek the separation because the funds would not provide for an improved curriculum program.

Dog That Bit Rochester Girl Is Being Sought

ROCHESTER — Seven-year-old Linda Vannini hopes the dog that bit her on the leg June 26 will be found soon.

If not, she will have to take a series of painful rabies shots.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vannini, 22 Windsor St., Linda was bitten by a small Scotch terrier while visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guido Guidotti, at 45720 Dequindre Road, Shelby Township, in the Auburn Road-Dequindre Road area.

The dog was light grey or dirty white in color and wore a red collar and two dog tags, according to Mrs. Vannini, who canvassed the area for the dog in vain.

If the dog is located and found not to have rabies, Linda will be spared the painful shots.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, Janet Madine Long and Gary McDowell, exchanged their wedding vows recently in the Milford Methodist Church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. G. Carlos Long, 2888 Sleeth Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McDowell, 2436 Richmond St., Pontiac Township.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie featuring a scalloped neckline and three-quarter length sleeves trimmed with Chantilly lace, and a chapel train.

An accordion-pleated headpiece held her hair in a veil of silk illusion, and she carried a nosegay of white chrysanthemums and red roses.

Joyce Rose was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Susanne McFarlane, Mary Stuart and Joanne Goodsell with Brenda Long and Rita McDowell attending as junior bridesmaids.

Serving as best man was Douglas Long, brother of the bride. The guests were seated by Gary Oak, William Kath and Howard Hinkle.

Admits BeatingEx-Croswell Man Says
Didn't Know Former Area Man Dead

A former Croswell man is awaiting arraignment in Sanilac County Circuit Court after admitting to a murder charge in the death of a former Rochester police dispatcher near Deckerville last Thursday.

Isaac G. Heacock, 42, of Tampa,
Fla., has admitted beating Lee E.
Shaw, 48, a muscular dystrophy victim, and then throwing him down a flight of stairs at his home, according to Sanilac County Sheriff Quincy Hoffman.

Hoffman said a pathologist's report indicated Shaw, the father of eight children, died of strangulation early on the day of July 8.

Later that day Heacock surrendered himself to Detroit police for questioning.

At that time he told police that he wanted to know if they were looking for him because of the fight he admitted he had with Shaw. He denied, however, knowing that Shaw was dead.

Heacock told police, according to Sheriff Hoffman, that the fight started after Shaw discovered him and Shaw's wife Ellen, 42, outside in a parked car.

According to Hoffman, Mrs. Heacock did not call police for help until 8 a.m., more than three hours after the fight took place.

Heacock hitchhiked to Detroit after leaving the house, Hoffman said.

If You Have House to Trade, It's Yours

Want Venice Villa?

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK — How would you like to stay for a month, rent-free, at an estate in California — with the keys to a cabin nearby in the Sierra Nevada?
Or a Manhattan penthouse, equipped with two maids?
Or possibly you'd prefer a hacienda in Mexico, with two servants, a limousine and a swimming pool?

Mrs. G. "Even motels are so costly now. Then David got this great idea, and we started in business. We haven't had a vacation in three years. It's a 24-hour-a-day job, 13 months a year. But I must say, we live a beautiful vacation life."

Among the 328 "offerings" currently in VEC's swap list are homes of people from many professions in most parts of the country.

Oddly enough, there are more homes available in California and New York than anywhere else. "They must be the most eager travelers," and some of them are fabulous. "Like we have a university professor in the South with many acres and servants' quarters and several cars . . . and then there's a whole island off Maine."

But most of "our people," Mrs. Ostroff said, are folks "looking just for a change of scene, nothing fancy, a clean and adequate place to live in a part of the country they haven't seen. All they want are responsible people who are willing to move into the" clean, adequate house which they call home."

"They're nice, family people who just want to see something new — or visit relatives in other parts of the country — without having to pay exorbitant rents."

WATER LAWS
"And at the same time, they want to be sure that a nice family is moving into their own place, that their laws will be watered, in some cases that the family pet will be fed."

Ostroff's plan started on a small scale, but is now a boom operation. In 1953, with the help of an overseas airline, they will begin an international house-swap plan.

They also are deep into a "youth exchange program," whereby youngsters will visit homes in foreign countries during summer vacations, and then play host to foreign children who want to come to the U. S. the following year.

Once they convince the whole world to swap homes, perhaps the Ostroffs themselves can get away lustily. "If anybody wants a brownstone in Brooklyn . . ."

That is the only catch in an otherwise peachy plan for home-swapping called the Vacation Exchange Club. You can't have everything — unless you have everything to offer in exchange.

Mrs. Betty Ostroff, who formed the VEC in 1961, insists that you CAN have the best, and most reasonable, vacation of your life, however, if you are willing to be realistic. Her "club" works this way.

If you have a family and you live, say in Texas, you may be able to trade — temporarily — your Texas home with another family in another section of the country you want to visit.

You write the Vacation Exchange Club, 354 Fifth Avenue, and pay the dues ($5 the first year, $3 annually thereafter), and receive a long list of "offerings" from people who are willing to swap homes of similar size and value. Then you write to these other club members and make your own arrangements.

"LOOKED IMPOSSIBLE!"
It all began when Mrs. Ostroff and her husband, David (a Brooklyn high school teacher and piano teacher) were looking for a place to vacation, inexpensively, with their young son.

"It looked impossible," says

New Queen's Gallery to Open This Month

LONDON (UPI)—A solid gold hot dog from Chicago will go on display at Buckingham Palace later this month.

Keeping it company will be Rembrandt, a priceless diamond and a queen's ransom of other art treasures and clipped knickknacks from Britain's royal storerooms.

The occasion will be the formal opening of the Queen's gallery, the new art gallery built in the ruins of a Buckingham Palace chapel that was hit during World War II by the Nazi bombs.

The hostess will be Queen Elizabeth II and the guests the people

British—and world—art lovers are expected to come in numbers to see these masterpieces.

But many more average Britons who think a Van Dyck is a cigar are expected to troop through the gallery just to get a look at the exotic treasures the queen has picked up on her world-wide tours.

A huge gong hangs from one wall, supported by elephant tusks she got from Kenya. Multi-faceted diamonds glitter in a well-protected case. She has a wau canoe from Fiji, Indian leather head-dresses from Canada and exquisite jewel-studded jade models from India.

U.S. DOCTORS IN ALGERIA — Dr. Wynn A. Saymann of Chicago, a member of the U.S. medical mission in Algeria, examines a Moslem child held by its mother at Beni Messous Hospital near Algiers yesterday. With Dr. Saymann are Algerian doctor, Dr. Rahar Abbas, and another Chicagoan, Dr. Nels Strandford (right). The American medical unit is helping out after European doctors left during last days of French rule.

Reds Will Push Berlin Proposal

Western Observers See Troop-Replacement Plan Raised Again

MOSCOW (UPI) — Western observers said today they expect the Soviet Union to push Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for replacement of allied troops in Berlin despite initial Western rejection.

The observers believed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko would raise the matter with Secretary of State Dean Rusk when they meet in Geneva for the signing of the accord on Laos.

Foreign ministers of the 16 Laos conference participants are expected in Geneva next week. It was considered likely also that the Soviet ambassador in Washington, Anatoly Dobrynin, would try to win acceptance of the proposal when he holds the next round of Berlin exploratory talks.

with Rusk. The two men are expected to meet again soon.

K's PROPOSAL

On his proposal made yesterday Khrushchev called for replacement of the U.S., British and French garrisons in West Berlin with a United Nations - supervised force made up of troops from Norway and Denmark or Belgium and Holland on the one hand and Poland and Czechoslovakia on the other.

Poland and Czechoslovakia are members of the Communist Warsaw pact military alliance. The other countries belong to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Official and unofficial sources in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn rejected the proposal as another Soviet attempt to get the Western allies out of the divided city.

The West holds that western garrisons are in Berlin under wartime agreements and their presence is not negotiable. Khrushchev adhered to the usual Soviet practice of excluding Soviet-controlled East Berlin from his proposal.

Refute Soviet Claim of Atom Pioneering

GENEVA (UPI) — American scientists took issue yesterday with a Soviet claim that Russians first suggested the experiments which resulted in the recent successful isolation in the United States of the hitherto unseen atomic particle, the neutron.

The Russian scientists said Americans at Brookhaven National Laboratory carried out experimental methods first outlined by Prof. Bruno Pontecorvo of the Soviet Dubna Institute for High Energy Physics at a meeting in Kiev in 1950.

American scientists denied the Russian claim.

They said U.S. physicists had been present at the Kiev conference but the Brookhaven experiments were based on a method suggested and published independently by Americans.

The Norwegian Medical Association, which now has a membership of some 4,000 physicians, is celebrating its 75th anniversary this year.

Hot Dogs Call for Lots of Iced Coffee

In summer, the less fuss, the better, even when you're entertaining. The only way to stay cool and calm is to minimize the work and keep the refreshments on the frosty side.

Take, for instance, this tall pitcher of iced coffee, coolly waiting for a halfdozen to begin. You don't even have to get out a coffee-pot to make it. This is the instant variety—prepared by the pitcherful. If you follow the simple directions below, you can "brew" enough for six big glasses at a time.

Instant Iced Coffee

6 level measuring tablespoons instant coffee powder
4 measuring cups water
Plenty of ice
Measure the instant coffee powder into a pitcher and add 1 cup warm water. Stir to dissolve coffee. Add 3 cups cold water and stir. Chill the beverage with plenty of ice. Four 6-ounce glasses, making sure that each contains its generous share of ice.

You can, of course, make excellent iced coffee with regular coffee and coffee ice cubes. Brew a little extra coffee at breakfast, cool it, then pour the cooled coffee into your refrigerator ice tray. Turn the temperature control high for quick freezing.

At serving time, brew regular strength coffee and pour it over the coffee cubes. The melting ice will add flavor instead of diluting the drink.

Serving Tips

There are two other pointers to remember when serving iced coffee. If you use cream, get the best you can find. It makes a big difference in the flavor of iced coffee.

For a sweetening, use a simple sugar syrup which goes into solution immediately. To make the syrup, stir and boil equal quantities of sugar and water for seven minutes. Cool, then store in the refrigerator. It keeps indefinitely.

With iced coffee, you need very little further refreshment. Vanilla Fudge Sandwiches are fine, easily made by spreading fudge frosting between vanilla wafers. You'll find these dainty sandwich-cookies and tall, tingling glasses of iced coffee are exactly what you need to refresh you on a warm summer afternoon.

Avocados and Beets Make Unusual Salad

Cold borch is an appetizing warm-weather treat. It receives the glancing treatment in "Molded Avocado-Borch Salad"—chilled individual gelatin molds or a large ring mold featuring sliced avocado and shivering beets and served with a sour cream-dill pickle sauce. If you prefer the ring mold, fill it with potato or macaroni salad and you'll have graciously complete meal. It would be ideal when you're entertaining smorgasbord-style.

Summer avocados from California are now arriving in local markets. The fruit has the same unique flavor goodness found in smooth-skinned winter avocados but most summer avocados have completely different-looking skins—purplish-black and pebbled.
To test them for eating-ripeness, cup them between your hands; if they yield to firm but gentle pressure, they're ready to serve. Or if a toothpick slides easily into the stem end of a summer avocado, it's eating-ripe.
Molded Avocado-Borch Salad
1 envelope plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
3 cans (1 lb.) shivering beets
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup garlic vinegar
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 California avocado
1/4 cup finely-chopped dill pickle
Soften gelatin in cold water.
Pour beets and liquid into saucepan. Heat to simmering; add gelatin and stir gently until gelatin is dissolved. Add sugar and vinegar. Cool until gelatin begins to thicken, 5-10 min.
Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Slice avocado and mix carefully into beets. Spoon into 8 individual molds or a 4-cup ring mold. Chill until firm.
To serve, unmold salad. Combine sour cream and pickle and top each serving with a spoonful, or spoon mixture into center of ring mold.
Makes 6 servings.

New Kitchen Will Be Delightful Eventually

BY JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Want to hear about my new kitchen? It's both the family room preparation center and the only kitchen I have. I've been dreaming over it for six months. Reality sometimes shatters dreams. At the time this is written, the brothers in the double ovens won't work and one side of the sink leaks. Still, I have hopes. We've given up country living and have moved back to the city. The house we bought was built back in the Twenties, and I'm sure the kitchen was the original model. The owners from whom we bought filed the room—calling too. So it will never need painting, and cleaning should be easy. But I can't hang anything on the walls.

There wasn't a thing wrong with the range or the refrigerator. I had in the old house, except that they were 21 years old. A new built-in range, stacked ovens and a large refrigerator seemed in order. Now I can just look to the right buttons, turn the right knobs and manipulate all the gadgets. I'll be in business. Once in college we had a fair-

Our class wanted to serve waffles at the snack bar. That was fine, but when we plugged in half a dozen waffle irons, no big deal. The fuse in the breaker, much to the janitor's disgust.

CONTROL PANEL

That won't happen in my kitchen, even if I plug in the coffee grinder, the blender, the mixer, the ice crusher, the electric skillet and the waffle iron all at once. I have what is called a Control Panel.

Powered by a 220 line, it takes care of any appliances without interfering with the regular wiring. It even has a time clock I can set for remote control cooking. This also I must leave to me.

By the time you read this I hope to have all the books on the Fridge Board, the cupboard in order and the counter cleared for action. In contrast to the 12 x 17 kitchen I've used for 11 years, I now have one about 6 x 10. It means more efficiency on my part, both in storing items and in working.

Meals have been a bit on the skimpy side during the moving process. When everything is in order, I think I'll try something like Blueberry Streusel Coffee Cake to surprise the Better Half and the Teenager.

BLUEBERRY STREUSEL COFFEE CAKE

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
2½ cups sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1½ cup salad oil
1 egg, beaten
1 cup well-drained blueberries fresh, canned or thawed frozen

Streusel Topping

1-3 cup sugar
¼ cup sifted enriched flour
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash salt
2½ teaspoon salad oil

Combine all ingredients and mix well.

In family arguments, much can be said for both sides—and, unfortunately, it always is. "As I understand it," writes Burton Hills, "adolescence is when a boy notices that a girl notices that he is noticing her." —Earl Wilson.

See blueberries over batter. Sprinkle Streusel Topping evenly over blueberries. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 40 to 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted comes out clean.

Ceramic Tile Is Ideal Surface in Dining Area

The demand of space-age Americans for gracious dining space is resulting in the return of the dining room. This is reflected by the fact that the market for formal dining furniture is greater than it has been for years.

Gracious dining is an important part of gracious living, and a warm dining room, helps to offset the hectic pace of pressures of modern life. Thoughtful architects are creating dining rooms that combine warmth and permanency by using materials such as ceramic tile on walls and floors.

Ceramic tile—the same material used so extensively in bathrooms and kitchens—now comes in such a wide variety of shapes, and shades that it can easily set the decorative style for the entire room.

Families without separate dining rooms are setting up areas in which they can turn their backs on television and relax over dinner. This accounts for the increased popularity of dining room furniture.

Whenever it's used, ceramic tile is the preferred surfacing material. That's because, unlike substitute materials, it can't be burned, scratched or stained. In addition, its low maintenance means that in the long run it's more economical than other materials.

Keep Your Home Safe

NEW YORK (UPI) — Home owners should combine a household safety check with their annual cleanup, building experts advise. If you have a hand box, it's best to make sure it has a fire of nails and glass. Check play equipment for defective parts.

Doctor Says Stay Young Until Just Before Death
OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—The time to start growing old is one minute before you die," Dr. Lawrence K. Kinsell, chief of Oakland's Institute for Metabolic Research, said in a report to the American Academy of General Practice. He assured his fellow doctors he was not being the least bit facetious.

Accepts Duke Position

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Vice President and General Counsel Wright Tisdale of Dearborn, Mich., has accepted the chairmanship of the Duke University Board of Trustees' Presidential Selection Committee. The committee is seeking a successor to University President Dr. Deryn Hart, who is nearing retirement. The schism is a large monogoose found throughout Africa and in southern Spain. It lives largely on rats, mice and birds and is often domesticated.

2 AF Officers Die in Crash at Omaha

OMAHA (AP)—Two Air Force officers were killed yesterday when their T-33 jet trainer crashed and burned about 2,000 feet from the runway as it was taking off on a routine training flight from Offutt Air Force Base.

The Civil War was the last in which generals personally led the troops into action.

Clara Lapses Back Into Her Secluded Life

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A wave, a faint smile from the cupid's-bow lips, and Clara Bow lapsed back into the secluded life that she has enveloped her for a dozen years. She emerged Monday to attend the funeral of Rex Bell, whom she married in 1937.

When both were screen stars. After the services, she returned to the small home in West Los Angeles where she has lived quietly for the last seven years.

"Clara always had trouble sleeping," recalls her longtime leading man and still friend, Richard Arlen.

THOMAS

"After Clara quit, I used to go to the ranch she and Rex had in Nevada. Rex had built a sound-proof room for her to sleep in, but that still didn't help."

NO SLEEP

Clara, who had been the symbol of flaming youth in the 1920s, returned shortly after her marriage to Rex Bell for a couple of hours at Fox in the early 1930s, but she wasn't happy. She returned once and for all to Nevada to be with Mrs. Rex Bell and mother of their two sons.

But sleep still eluded her, and the resulting inroads on her emotional health. Bell attributed her inability to the high-strung decade when she was the nation's "It Girl."

THOMAS

"Mentally she is fine and dancing," Bell told me eight years ago. "But she has had emotional dis-

8-Year-Old Enjoys His College Course

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Henry Rich, an 8-year-old fourth grader, is taking a college freshman chemistry course at North Carolina State College this summer.

But, he says, "I'm going through all the (elementary) grades because I don't want to miss anything."

The crew-cut, blond Raleigh youngster, who began reading when he was two, is taking a course designed for freshmen who plan to be chemists. Most of his classmates are 18 and 19 years old.

DOING QUITE WELL

"He is doing really quite well, indeed, surprisingly well," said Dr. A. F. Coots, his instructor. "In fact, one of our biggest surprises has been that he has been able to all through our hour and a half lectures without getting bored."

Henry, a bundle of energy, said he enjoys college.

The youngster, who can read as fast as his elementary school's reading machine (350 words a minute), admitted he found the third grade a little dull last winter. And his classmates always came to him for help, creating something of a problem for him.

O. N. Rich, Henry's father, is a cabinetmaker who graduated from N.C. State.

One of Henry's four classmates at N.C. State gave this reaction to going to college with an 8-year-old:

Cite Traffic Officer for His Jaywalking

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 40-year-old Canadian traffic officer, attending a safety conference here, was struck by an automobile while jaywalking near the city's busiest intersection.

James Mason of Winnipeg, Man., was listed in fair condition Tuesday at Grant Hospital. Mason, cited by police for jaywalking, is a hearing officer on traffic violations in Winnipeg. He was in Columbus to attend a conference of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

'Defender of Liberties,' Lawyer, Professor Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Royal Wilbur France, 78, a corporation lawyer and economics professor whose interest in civil liberties led him to become defense counsel to Communists and others on the political left, died Tuesday. He had undergone a heart operation a week ago. Dr. France had been a professor of economics at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla. for 25 years and also had served as executive secretary of the National Lawyers Guild. He was born in Louisville, N.Y.

Master to Give Redistrict Plan

Ex-Wisconsin Justice to Submit Proposal No Matter What He Finds

MADISON, Wis. (U.P.)—A federal court's special master investigating the alignment of Wisconsin's congressional and legislative districts says he will submit a reapportionment plan no matter what his findings on the constitutionality of existing boundaries.

Former State Supreme Court Justice Emmett Wingert, named to the special master's assignment last week, told of his plan yesterday after his first hearing in the state's reapportionment conflict. He also announced a second hearing for Friday.

"Even though I might find there is no existing constitutional violation (in the present boundaries)," Wingert said, "I might be reversed by the court."

In order to avoid any delay, he said he would submit a reapportionment plan with his findings.

The suit to force reapportionment in time for the 1962 elections was brought by Democratic Atty. Gen. John Reynolds after the legislature failed to comply with the state constitution bill during the regular session last year.

The lawmakers are now gathered in special session with the Republican majority in both the Senate and Assembly battling with Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson over redistricting.

Woman Knocks Husband's Auto in Train's Path

EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP)—The George Millers were driving from Stiles South, N.J., to California. He drove one car, she followed in another.

Miller started to cross a railroad crossing in Effingham Tuesday, saw the warning gates drop and jammed on the brakes.

Mrs. Miller could not stop in time and smashed into the rear of her husband's car, which bounced forward in front of the oncoming locomotive with enough momentum to almost clear the tracks. Only the back of the car was grazed by the train.

The Millers took time out to recover from a bad case of the shakes, then headed west again—further apart.

Different Gift for Wife? Give Concrete Driveway

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U.P.)—Speaking of the annual in gifts: Shortly before Christmas, a man named Damon Williams—a man with a firm belief in the value of advertising—painted this sign on the back of his truck:

"Give her a concrete driveway for Christmas."

Reapportionment Bill Is Approved by Alabama Solons

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. John Patterson was ready to sign into law today the first statutory reapportionment bill in the history of Alabama that would reorganize representation within present membership of the legislature.

The House approved the final version of the historic bill, 55-41 yesterday after an emotional debate in which opponents of the measure declared it would lead to the election of Negroes to the Senate and House.

The House adjourned before Speaker Virgil Ashworth and Lt. Gov. Albert Boutwell could sign the bill—a procedure that must take place in the presence of the lawmakers.

This measure governor must wait until after 1 p.m. when both chambers convene before he officially can receive the measure.

Await Decision on Scholle Case

Court Ruling Could Be Given Any Day, Lansing Officials Say

LANSING (UPI)—A decision on the constitutionality of the present State Senate districts could be handed down by the Michigan Supreme Court any day, court officials said today.

The seven justices considering the suit filed by State AFL-CIO chief August Scholle were due to confer on the case today.

Scholle gained support from Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley last week when arguments were presented in the case.

Both Scholle and Kelley said the 1952 state constitution amendment which set the present district violated the "equal protection" guarantee in the federal constitution.

ASKS AT-LARGE VOTE: Scholle wanted the high court to order reapportionment of the Senate by the legislature or call off the scheduled Aug. 7 primary election for the Senate if this was not done.

Kelley asked the court to order an at-large Senate election if the legislature fails to reapportion the upper chamber according to the court directive.

Three members of the Michigan Senate, joined as parties defendant in the suit, contended the 1952 Senate amendment should be allowed to stand.

The high court was asked the same question by Scholle nearly three years ago, but it declined to consider the validity of the constitutional amendment on grounds it did not have jurisdiction.

Scholle's suit was thrown back to the court here two months ago by the U.S. Supreme Court in an action similar to that in a Tennessee challenge to the legislative apportionment. The U.S. high court said the state tribunal did have jurisdiction.

'Pledge' Manuscript in College Library

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UPI)—The original manuscript of "The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag" is in the University of Rochester library.

The author, Francis Bellamy, a Rochester alumnus, wrote the pledge in 1892 in honor of the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America and the establishment of Columbus Day, Oct. 12, as a national holiday.

Although the pledge of allegiance became a national tradition soon after it was written, it was not recognized officially by Congress until 1945.

Chinese Dinners Popular for Calorie-Counters

FLEMINGTON, N. J. (U.P.)—In the heart of a rich farming area noted for its corn, wheat and oats, William Wing raises such unlikely crops as Chinese cabbage, Oriental melons, lo bok, bok choy, kohlrabi and Chinese radishes.

The American-born Wing thinks the fact that 10 per cent of all Chinese foods are vegetables is one reason Chinese food has been gaining in popularity.

"Today, there is a Chinese restaurant for every other that you see. The food is especially popular among people who are calorie conscious."

While supplying vegetables to leading Chinese restaurants in New York and Philadelphia, Wing has some advice for housewives who like to try their hand at cooking Chinese food: "Please don't overcook them or the flavor will be lost."

A gallop is a spirited dance of German origin. It was introduced into Paris in 1829 and became a favorite dance during the Victorian era.

Hormone for Plants Triggers Blossoms

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A plant hormone that can make the cocklebur bloom out of season and which may be the trigger for blossoming many varieties of plants, was described at the annual meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Darwin L. Mayfield, of Long Beach State College, said availability of the hormone—named florigen—may allow growers to time production of plants and prevent flowering in crops grown solely for their leaves or stalks.

The California scientist said the hormone has been concentrated from an extract of the cocklebur plant.

His Own Worst Enemy

DILLINGHAM, Alaska (UPI)—Joseph Delonuk, on trial in Magistrate's Court for drunkenness, was asked by the judge if the charge against him were true.

"I don't know," Delonuk replied. "It was passed out." He was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

Urges Papa Bear Tell Baby Bear Bedtime Stories

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Wonder why you're not getting a good night's sleep?

Perhaps the trouble is failure to relax, says Dr. J. Earl Smith, St. Louis health director.

Smith urges bedtime stories as a relaxing habit for both children and parents—the latter, of course, to tell the stories and get sleepy themselves.

A relaxing bedtime story-telling period is important for children stimulated by outdoor play in the spring and summer months, the doctor said.

"Old familiar stories are more relaxing for small children than new exciting ones," Dr. Smith adds.

For the sake of good health, the doctor said, parents should share the period of relaxation with their offspring.

Lower Food Bills by Studying Ads

NEW YORK (UPI)—For lower food bills, look over food advertisements regularly, read the labels to find how many ounces you need.

This advice from Ruth Amidon, extension food nutritionist at the New York State College, is coupled with a caution to avoid looking down your nose at "one cent off on a 25-cent item."

Quiz All-Star Strategy; Stars Should Play--Houk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Second guessers were questioning Manager Ralph Houk's early removal of his starting players in the American League All-Star game, but the National League manager wondered today whether he would employ the same tactics in the second mid-summer meeting in Chicago's Wrigley Field, Monday, July 30.

Houk's questioned strategy took place in the seventh inning Tuesday when he took Roger Maris, along with three others, out of the lineup and replaced last year's home run king with Chicago's Jim Landis, in center field. As a result, Landis, a left-handed pitcher, came to bat in the eighth with a man on base and two out. A Maris home run would have tied the game. Landis struck out.

CHANCE TO PLAY

"I thought six innings was about right for Maris," Houk explained in the loser's dressing room later. "I wanted everybody to play. After all, this is an all-star game. They were picked from their clubs and I think they should have the opportunity to play."

More Authority for Ump—He's Town Marshal

PARADISE VALLEY, Ariz. (AP)—John B. (Jocko) Conlan, veteran National League umpire, was sworn in Tuesday as this desert community's first town marshal.

Although he has the title and badge, Jocko will have no patrol car or gun.

As marshal of this wealthy community of 4,000 to 5,000 residents between Phoenix and Scottsdale, Jocko is expected to have little need for sidearms. An umpire since 1936, Conlan joined the majors in 1941 and has worked six World Series and five All-Star games.

Now right in the middle of his busy season, Jocko said he'd like to let his duties as marshal slide to let him return home in October.

Palmer Top Winner of PGA Tour Money

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—The list of top money winners released by the Professional Golfers' Association shows that the first 10 have won a total of $37,375 this year. And the list's slant—$70,231 has gone to Arnold Palmer.

The record for individual money earned in PGA tournaments was set by Palmer in 1959 at $75,362. Second on the list is Gene Littler with $56,586. Third is Bill Casper Jr. with $45,458 and fourth is Jack Nicklaus, $44,688. And the list's top money winner, Gary Player, is fifth with $28,513, followed by Bob Nichols, $28,375, Phil Rodgers, $28,091.

Tennis Federation Talks About Open Tournaments

PARIS (AP) — Open tournaments, that old buzzword in tennis circles, takes center court today at a meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation.

The meeting could result in professional and amateur tournaments in such ballroom tournaments as Wimbledon and the French Championships as early as next year.

Big question: How will the Soviet Union vote?

The ILTF is constructed along the lines of a sports United Nations. Several of the more than 70 nations represented are from behind the Iron Curtain.

If the Soviet Union, along with her satellites, votes for open tournaments, the motion has a good chance of being approved.

DEPENDS ON REIDS

The Soviets frequently criticize "professionalism" in sports of capitalist countries but they have athletes sent to competition against pros as they did in Chile in the recent world soccer championship.

Edward A. Turville, president of the United States Lawn Tennis

Association, said there is another big question: Whether the open tournament motion needs a simple majority or a two-thirds majority to carry.

A motion by the federation's management committee would go to professional tournaments open to professionals next year for an experimental two-year period.

MAXIMUM PRIZE

Under the proposal, a country could petition to hold an open tournament with a top cash prize of not more than 1,000 British pounds (about $2,800).

"I don't know whether open tournaments would be good for the game or not," said Turville, St. Petersburg, Fla., attorney.

"But I'm for trying the experiment to see if it works or not," Turville added that the United States association is sharply divided on the question of mixing pros and amateurs.

British and French lead the battle for open tournaments. The opposition is headed by tennis wealthy Australia and Italy.

Attending the meeting with Turville are these USLTA officials: William Kelliege, La Jolla, Calif.; Harold Leibin, New York; James Dickey, Newark, N.J.; and William Chisholm, Philadelphia.

Minoso, Freese Face Different Outlooks

By MIKE RATHET
By The Associated Press

Two National League sluggers—Minnie Minoso of perennially hopeful St. Louis and Gene Freese of Cincinnati's declining championship—face completely opposite outlooks today as the major leagues prepare to lift the curtain on part two of the 1962 baseball season.

Minoso has made a successful recovery from a skull fracture and wrist injury, and is expected to return to the line-up shortly. But the reports on Freese, who became a major spring training casualty when he shattered his right ankle, have been anything but encouraging.

The 26-year-old third baseman, a vital cog in the Reds' drive to the 1961 pennant, is off crutches and can walk, but is unable to run well enough for Manager Fred Hutchinson to be optimistic about his chances of returning in the immediate future.

Third man in the Reds' power lineup is Fred Robinson and Vada Pinson. Freese hit .277 last season with 36 homers and 112 runs batted in. When he fractured his right ankle, hopes were high that he big hit would be back in the batting order sometime in June.

BACK SOMETIME

Now it's July and the only official word on Freese's return comes from the team physician, who says merely:

"Freese will be back before the end of the season."

Minoso, however, is only one step away from getting the go-ahead. A physical exam early next week will determine his fitness to return to active duty for the first time since May 11 when he was slammed into a concrete wall chasing a fly ball and suffered the skull fracture and wrist injury.

Minoso was hitting only .194 before he was hurt, but had been hampered by a rib injury. His recuperation is expected to prolong single to left center in the sixth, and closed the game with a catch of Luis Aparicio's smash to the fence in deep right center.

Musial, who watched Drysdale and Marichal of the Nationals and Jim Bunning and Pascual of the American League, came off the bench in the sixth and slashed a pinch hit single to ignite a two-run rally.

It was the 20th hit in the 22nd All-Star game for the great St. Louis Cardinal, who before the game had visited President Kennedy's box behind the American League dugout and chatted with the country's No. 1 citizen for a few minutes.

Wills, sent in to run for Musial, gave the American League's first taste of his famed speed by stealing second, then scored the first run of the game on Dick Groat's single. Groat advanced to second on Roberto Clemente's third hit, a single to left, reached third on Mays' fly in deep center and scored on Orlando Cepeda's infield out.

Wills was not through. The Dodger speed king who has stolen 40 bases this season, dropped a Texas League single into left off Cleveland's Dick Donovan in the eighth. When Jim Davenport singled to left, Wills tore around second, Calavito, playing left field, threw behind Wills to second base, but Maury had picked up speed and continued on to third. Second baseman Bobby Richardson threw to Brooks Robinson came a fraction of a second too late to nip the diving runner.

Still Wills was not finished. When Felipe Alou batted out to Leon Wagner along the right field line, Wills tagged up and scored, sliding in under catcher John Romano's tag.

Marichal, San Francisco's right-handed ace, was the winner. He succeeded Drysdale, who gave up one hit in the first three runnings, and permitted only a walk in the next two innings.

The loss was charged to Pascual, who allowed four hits and two runs in his three-inning stint.

AN EARFUL — Casey Stengel, National League coach, gave some instructions to shortstop Dick Groat who reached first base on a sixth inning single in yesterday's All-Star game.

FOUND DEAD — Tommy Milton, 68, first man to win the Indianapolis 500-mile race twice, was found shot to death yesterday at his home near Mt. Clemens.

Barling was one kind of an early alone, that will be no such one-sided race when the 11th edition of the Motor City Open begins a four-day stand Thursday at plush Knollwood Country Club.

New fees and narrowed fairways promise stiffer competition for the touring pros. The relatively "unductored" Meadowbrook offered three years ago.

Heading the PGA delegation at the Maple Road course are Buck Open champion Bill Collins, and Billy Casper and two of the younger stars of the circuit, Bobby Nichols and Jack Cupit.

Collins' victory at Warwick Hills last Sunday was his first in more than two years.

If his unpredictable back all-nighter decides to leave him in a daze, at least for the next few days, the long-hitting veteran will be a definite title threat.

Casper, the personal title choice of host pro Mac McElmurry, is enjoying one of many great seasons on the tour. He is currently the 2nd leading money winner and owns three victories this year.

Nichols, one of the most promising youngsters on the circuit, has been playing badly since his first-place finish in the U.S. Open. But the 26-year-old Nichols is due for a revival.

Cupit won the Western Open crown two weeks ago at Medinah and must always be considered a title threat.

Two Poutie golfers—Bill (Buster) Brubaker, competing as a non-PGA pro, and Michigan Amateur champ Mike Anderson—were among the starting field of 144 pros and 10 amateurs.

The 72-hole tournament runs tomorrow through Sunday with the field being cut to the low 60 plus ties at the halfway mark Friday night. Knockwood will measure 6,879 yards with a par of 36-35-71.

A $3,500 preliminary pro-am event featuring 50 pros and 150 amateurs was on the docket to open the week-end with a total prize of $25,000 at stake for the pros and $1,000 in merchandise prizes for the "Simon-pures."

Mike Souchak Won 1959 Test by Nine Shots

11th Tournament Starts Four-Day Run Tomorrow at Knollwood C. C.

By BILL CORNWELL.

The last time the Motor City Open golf tournament was played, muscular Mike Souchak ran away from a star-studded field to win easily.

That was in 1959 at Meadowbrook. Triggered by a second-round 63, Souchak coasted home for a nine-stroke victory margin.

Balliet's Long Putt Wins
Publinx Match Play Spot

(Special to The Pontiac Press)
BUFFALO, N.Y. — Tom Balliet of Pontiac, Mich., sank a charging 40-putt on the 18th green and then dropped another lengthy putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff to qualify for today's opening round of match play in the 37th annual U.S. Amateur Public Links golf tournament at Sheridan Park Golf Club.

Balliet's spectacular putt on the 18th gave him a 75 and a 36 hole total of 157, which dead-ended him with eight other players and necessitated a playoff for seven places.

Two other Pontiac golfers, Charlie Barker and Wally Smith, failed to survive the cut. Barker failed with 159 and Smith lost out with 163.

Six other Michigan players joined Balliet in match play today.

Detroit's Lee Gohs paced Michigan's qualifying efforts with 148. He was followed by John Kurach of Detroit, who totaled 149; Bill Curtis of Farmington, 153; Jack Fitch, Troy, 154; Doug Wilson, Ypsilanti, 154; Val Bleech, Flint, 155; and Balliet, 157.

Pete Baker of Royal Oak and Bob Gyselsack of Detroit also failed to make the cut. Baker totaled 171 and Gyselsack missed with 169.

George Archer of San Francisco took medal honors in the qualifying session with a 36-hole score of 145. The 25-year-old Archer, who stands 6-foot-5, carded a 72 Tuesday over the par 35-36-71 Sheridan Park course which measures 6,697 yards.

Defending National Publinx champion Dick Stiles of Wichita placed 12th among the 64 match play qualifiers with a 150 total.

Detroit (AP) — Two men who belong to both the state fair grounds development commission and the U.S. Olympic Association meet Friday to discuss inviting the 1968 Olympics here.

Lucas Unsure About NBA Play

THE WINNERS—These National League All-Stars paced the 31 victory over the American League yesterday. They are (left to right) Willie Mays of the Giants who dragged down two long drives by Roger Maris, Juan Marchal of San Francisco who was the winning pitcher, Dick Groat of the Pirates who drove in the first run and Stan Musial of the Cardinals who started the two-run sixth inning rally with a pinch single.

Loss of Pipers Means ABL Is Now DissolvedOhio State Cage Star
May Ask New Contract
With Cleveland

NEW YORK (AP)—The big tide in the National Basketball Association today was the news that Jerry Lucas, the newest entrant in the league?

"I spoke with him Monday," said George Steinbrenner, principal stockholder of the Pipers, "and he agreed to play in the NBA. We are working out details now so he can continue his education."

"I think Jerry realizes now there is not much difference between the 20 games in the NBA and the 72 he would have played in the American Basketball League."

NO AGREEMENT
But Lucas, who is attending summer sessions at Ohio State, said:

"We haven't come to any agreement. I really don't know what I'm going to do. I just don't have a contract to play in the NBA."

He added that if he does decide to play in the NBA, he will want a raise over his two-year, $60,000 contract.

It appears obvious that the Pipers, champions of the ABL, would not have been taken in Tuesday as the team that in the NBA if they could not promise that Lucas would play for them.

Lucas previously had objected to the long NBA season and gave it as one of his main reasons for casting his lot with the ABL.

LEAGUE FOLDS
The Pipers move sounded the death knell for the ABL, which was in business just one season. There was talk of getting started again in 1963-64, but that is a long way ahead.

ABL attorney Allan Bloch conceded that the Pipers' entry into the NBA, plus San Francisco's withdrawal from the ABL, had sealed the folding league.

"But," he added, "we hope to resume in 1963-64 if conditions are favorable."

As for the fate of the rest of the ABL players, owner Lenny Litman of the Pittsburgh Renegades said his understanding was that they would become free agents and be permitted to sign with NBA teams.

The Pipers reportedly had to fork over $200,000 to the NBA for the franchise, plus another $100,000 performance bond. Presumably, the Cincinnati Royals would get the biggest chunk of the $300,000 to solve their shortage of 13 players to the 15-man roster.

SHARMAN TABBED
Steinbrenner said he was inviting George McKoon, owner of the San Francisco franchise, to Krueger, owner of Kansas City, and some other ABL owners to join him as co-owners of the Pipers.

Bill Sharman, who jumped the NBA champion Boston Celtics for the Los Angeles club of the ABL, appeared to have the inside track for the coaching job.

SAM IN HAND — Spectators press around Sam Snead as he blasts out of a trap yesterday in the second qualifying round of the British Open at Troon, Scotland. Snead fired a 74 for the round to give him a 143 score in the qualifying test.

TROON, Scotland (AP) — The 1962 British Open Championship, one of the real prizes of golf, began today in an atmosphere suggesting it was a match between the United States and Australia.

With the ever dangerous qualifying rounds behind them, the big betters of modern golf took on Old Troon's 7,045 yard, par 72 layout in search of glory which only they get out of it. First prize is only $3,500 but as defending champion Arnold Palmer of La Trobe, Pa., said:

"You can break even on expenses but the point is this is a matter of prestige. That is why I come here, and my wife and I also enjoy the trip."

DEFENDING CHAMP
Palmer led a contingent of eight Americans into the championship as a 2-1 favorite to retain the crown he won last year at Birkdale in England. But he knew full well he had to contend with Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif., who qualified with 142 against Palmer's 143; old Sam Snead; U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and Gene Littler, the San Diego, Calif., star who won the U.S. Open a year ago.

Palmer and his American buddies were also looking over their shoulders at the Australians.

They were Ken Nagle, who won the 1960 title at St. Andrews, beating Palmer by one shot; Bruce Devlin, who as an amateur was the key to Australia's defeat of the United States in the Eisenhower Cup play at St. Andrews in 1959; and the reliable Peter Thomson, four times British Open king.

Nagle served notice in the qualifying rounds he is to be reckoned with by breaking the Loggenger record course with a 65 and tackling on a 76 at Troon for 141.

The ever-shrewd Thomson just coasted around in 70-72-143 which was a good as Palmer. Devlin posted 72-68-140.

Perhaps one of the most dangerous of all was Gary Player of South Africa. He settled for 71-76-147 in the qualifying.

After today's 18 holes and Thursday's repeat, the field of 119 qualifiers will be reduced to the low 50. They go the final 36 hole route Friday.

Until now Troon has been gentle with sunshine and a breeze from inland. Despite that, the original huge field wilted and scores ailed.

Bishop's Relief Job Stops 'A' Leaders

Front-running Huron-Airway took it on the chin in Class A City League baseball activity last night, thanks to a masterful job of relief pitching by aceless Herman Bishop.

Bishop strolled to the mound in the 4th inning and held the loop leaders in check the rest of the way as Talbott Lumber eied out a 4-3 triumph at Jaycee Park.

Talbott was nursing a 2-2 lead in the 4th when Bishop took the hill with only one run out and the bases loaded. Bishop struck out rival pitcher Larry Demerick and caused Phil Kabaia to fly out to stop the threat.

Huron-Airway got to Bishop for its first run in the 5th when John Fleiser scored a home run over the left field fence.

The Lumbermen tried to give the game away in the 7th as three errors and Chuck Johnson's single produced two runs. But Bishop kept serving his "junk" and pitched over the poor support, fanning Demerick for the 2nd time to end the game.

Demerick pitched a four-hitter for Huron-Airway and fanned 11. Bud Hancock started on the hill for Talbott. Bishop's 6th-inning single also accounted for Talbott's eventual winning margin.

Huron-Airway swings into action again tonight at Jaycee

Par, clashing with Don Nicholson at 8 o'clock.

Nel Roberts went a perfect 2-for-2, including a home run, as Pontiac Central downed the West-side Kiwanis, 5-3, in Class D Junior loop play yesterday. Bob Farms hurled a four-hitter for PCH.

On the Class E front, the Aztec Juniors trounced Cass Lake, 10-4; the Pontiac Optimists trimmed Pontiac Marist, 3-3; McDonald's Drive-In lost to 300 Bowl, 8-2; Pontiac Boys Club lashed single runs in the 6th and 7th to whip the Pontiac Tigers, 12-9; and Weinberger Homes garnered a 9-7 decision over the Moose.

In Class F activity, Mike Short-champ Jr. homered to feature the Cubs' 7-4 victory over Auburn Heights Boys Club. It was the first defeat for league-leading Auburn Heights.

Jim Burton hurled a two-hit shutout and Rod Cook homered as the Little Falcons routed the Giants, 16-0.

There was quite a bit of slug-ging in the Wildcat leagues yesterday.

Pepal Reynolds whacked three home runs to lead the Bluecoats to a 14-11 victory over St. Mike P.P.O.A. outscored the Baldwin Hustlers, 9-7.

Donnie Goodwin struck out 12 of 24 batters as the Rebels whipped the Cincinnati Royals would get the biggest chunk of the $300,000 to solve their shortage of 13 players to the 15-man roster.

GIANT PITCHERS ISSUED 11 WALKS while bowing to Baldwin Hustlers, 9-7.

Thirty-four of the 98 regular season games in the National Football League were decided by seven points or less during the 1961 season.

As Coach, He Wanted Good Training Rules

Stagg Always Sought Better Things

(Second in a series of four stories on Amos Alonzo Stagg, football's grand old man, who celebrates his 100th birthday Thursday, Aug. 16.)

BY JACK STEVENSON
STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—In his century of living, Amos Alonzo Stagg always looked ahead. He coached football 70 years, advancing as the game advanced and helping mould the character of thousands who went on to become leaders in their various endeavors.

Stagg always felt the year at hand should be better than those before. His University of Chicago squad dubbed him "the old man" before he reached 40. It has been his title for more than half a century, but players throughout his career addressed him respectfully as Mr. Stagg.

He prohibited his players smoking. Their respect for him continued so strong after graduation that on occasion ex-players were seen snuffing out cigarettes in the palm of their hand so he wouldn't notice.

SOUND METHODS

Wayne Hardin, successful coach at Navy, says, "I played for Mr. Stagg in 1944 and 1946 at College of the Pacific and he was 40 years young."

"He used to demonstrate the things he wanted done. The techniques he used then are sound today."

"Most people have someone to look up to or idolize and I am sure the recipients are very worthy. Such is the case with Amos Alonzo Stagg and me."

"He is a man almost unbelievable in this day and age. He does not drink, smoke or chew. He does not use profanity (with the exception of 'heck' and 'double jackass,' which he called you when you continually did something wrong.)"

"A tremendous memory which has been proved to me over and over again by not only recalling games and plays, but players down through half a century—which is truly remarkable."

very humble and extremely honest man."

Hardin feels the romance of Mr. Stagg, who will have his 100th birthday on Thursday, Aug. 16, and Mrs. Stella Stagg should be one of the great love stories of our time.

Young Amos Alonzo met Stella Robertson shortly after she arrived in 1882 at the University of Chicago, where he had just been appointed coach and athletic director.

SCRAPPY GIB!

She smiles in recalling, "I was drawn to him because we had fun together." One of his first recollections of her was of a "scrappy girl who could play basketball under men's rules."

They spent their honeymoon in 1894 chaperoned by the Chicago football squad en route by train to the west coast for two games with Stanford. The teams divided that early series.

Stagg never believed in recruiting football players. He coached the material available and left small men could in most instances play as effectively as large men. He devised open attacks to nullify size advantages.

One of Stagg's most famous players was 145-pound quarterback Walter Eckersall who helped engineer the 2-0 upset victory over Fighting Yell's point-a-minute Michigan team in 1895.

Forty-one years later, Stagg coached another small quarterback—Eddie LeBaron at University of the Pacific, who this fall starts his 10th season in the professional ranks.

"At 84, Stagg was full of school spirit and often led the team in school songs," LeBaron recalls. He smiles remembering the day when players were milling about a hotel lobby in Chicago.

Stagg walked in and blasted on a whistle to signal departure. He took a group of elderly ladies some few minutes to regain their composure.

"Even in those days, Stagg still was coming up with innovations for both his offense and defense," LeBaron says.

In addition to rearing three children, Mrs. Stagg helped her husband in his job and in keeping records and dates.

Hardin recalls: "One day at practice we noticed Mrs. Stagg had been sitting on a log beside the field taking notes. We were all curious. So I was elected to ask her why she had been taking these notes all week."

"She said, 'Young man, I'm just deciding whether you start Saturday or not.'"

Conquers Back Nine for Trans-Miss Medal

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Richard S. Norville mastered the back nine of the Old Watson Country Club course for the second straight day Tuesday and earned the medal in the 50th annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

The Oklahoma City player had a 33 Tuesday, one under par, on the back nine and a 34 Monday. In the two days of qualifying, he shot 70-74-144.

Match play begins this morning among the low 63 scorers and defending champion Herb Durham of Dallas, who did not have to qualify.

Dupas Thinks He'll Whip Griffith

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—His confidence may not be shared by too many people, but there is one person who firmly believes that Ralph Dupas of New Orleans will take the world-welterweight title away from Emile Griffith of New York Friday night.

The man? Ralph Dupas.

"Griffith at this time doesn't have the necessary experience to beat me," said the No. 1 challenger in the 147-pound division. The 25-year-old Dupas seemed dead serious. He is no popoff.

"In due time he might whip me. He might even become a great fighter, but not yet," said the product of the New Orleans French quarter.

RING VETERAN

Dupas has been around a long time. He started boxing at 14, fighting about his age. He is proud that he has been a ranked boxer in most of his professional years.

"Answer me this," he demanded. "Why is Griffith an 11-5 favorite? The champion is not always the best fighter. He hasn't fought better fighters than I have, that's for sure. I can't see it."

Having answered his own question, Dupas took another tangent.

"Why am I asked how I feel about fighting Griffith after his fight with Benny Pare?"

Dupas referred to the match between Griffith and Pare in New York last March 24 which resulted in fatal injuries to Pare. Since this particular question had not even come up, there was no response. But Dupas continued:

"I'm not Benny Pare. Griffith isn't going to hurt me. I've fought better fighters than either Pare or Griffith. And in all respect to Pare, he was well, —he was not a good fighter when he boxed Griffith. . . .

MASTER BOXER

Dupas has scored but 15 knockouts in his career. Of this he said:

"As long as I'm winning I don't care if I knock a guy out. I could name at least 30 I could have stopped if I had wanted to. But I'm behind, sure, I'll go for a knockout."

After 115 fights, Dupas is virtually unmarked.

He is an angry young man. He feels he has been by-passed too many years on too many occasions for title shots.

"Where am I? Still knocking on the door. All my life I have been knocking on the door. This time I'm going to knock it down," Dupas concluded.

Five 'Seeds' Missing

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The upset-riddled Western Amateur Tennis Tournament went into the third round today lacking five seeded players, including top-ranked Allan Fox of Los Angeles.

Andy Lloyd of Shreveport, La., No. 1 on Tulane's team, but unseeded in the Western, came from behind in both sets Tuesday and beat Fox 8-6, 6-4. Lloyd takes on Dave Reed of Glendale, Calif., today.

WEEKEND SUCCESS — Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Liston, 1932 Ward Road, caught a thrush of muskies last weekend at Lake St. Clair. Shown are nine of the 14 muskies taken by

It's Easier to Reach Alaska, Yukon

Ever have the urge to take a summer camping trip into British Columbia, the Yukon or Alaska, but feel two or three weeks of vacation would not be enough time? "We were gone 16 days," said Harvey Johns head of plant protection at General Motors Truck and Coach, "and we fished in the Yukon and Alaska nine days."

Johns, who lives in Lake Orion, was joined by Pontiac police chief Joseph Kora, city fire chief James White and mortician Donald Johns (no relation) at Pontiac.

They left Pontiac early in June and reached Whitehorse, capital of the Yukon Territory three and a half days later. They spent seven days fishing and hunting in the Marsh Lake area then drove to Haines, Alaska, for two days of salmon fishing on the Pacific.

They used a GMC Wolverine camper on the 5,000-mile round trip. It was a nonstop trip going and returning. Two would share the driving while the others slept in the camper. Then would change places.

ported. "I also recommend a shield for the oil pan."

The quartet reported good campsites along the Alaskan Highway and in the Yukon. All are free. There is no electricity. "It is daylight about 20 hours each day," said Harvey, "so electricity is really needed."

The four fishermen crossed into Ontario at Dawson Creek, B.C. From there it was 800 miles to Marsh Lake Lodge south of Whitehorse.

HUNTED BEAR

Harvey Johns spent his time fishing Otter Falls for rainbow and grayling while the other three hunted bear under the direction of Mike Nolan, operator of the lodge.

"The lake was still covered with ice when we arrived," Harvey said, "so I fished the falls. I caught a few grayling and rainbow to eat, but nothing to brag about."

A high wind broke up the ice enough to allow fishing on the lake. They caught Arctic char on muskies and salmon up to 10 pounds.

The bear hunters saw black, grizzly and brown bears, but failed to get a shot. They bypassed the black, the grizzly had two cubs and they couldn't get within shooting range of the brownies.

From Whitehorse they drove to Haines where a disial fishing boat was chartered.

"We could get a boat because the king salmon run was on and commercial fishermen can't use boats," Harvey said. "Two weeks later we wouldn't have been able to find a boat because the sock-eyes run would have been under way and all nets in the area are put to use."

In five hours, five king salmon were landed. Harvey Johns took the largest, a 40 pounder.

"One of the Indian guides told me before we left that your Michigan tackle will never hold a king's

DRAW HELPED

"If the reel didn't have a star I wouldn't have been in trouble. I don't know how long it took to land the fish, it's the largest I've ever caught, but it was quite a while."

Chief White helped an Indian boy land a 31-pounder. The other three salmon ranged from 10 to 15 pounds.

Nonresident fishing licenses are $2 each in the Yukon. No license was needed to fish the Pacific for salmon.

"Dolly Varden and rainbows can be caught all summer around Haines and Skagway," Harvey pointed out. "Kids fishing with cane poles from the cannery dock at Haines had over 100 dolly varden's up to 10 pounds the day we were there."

The territory is open to fishing with or without a guide. For $12 or $15 fishermen can obtain the services of a "very good guide," according to Johns.

PAVE HIGHWAYS

The roads from Pontiac to Dawson Creek, start of the Alaskan Highway, were all paved," Harvey Johns pointed out. "The Alaskan stretch was paved in places but is mostly gravel."

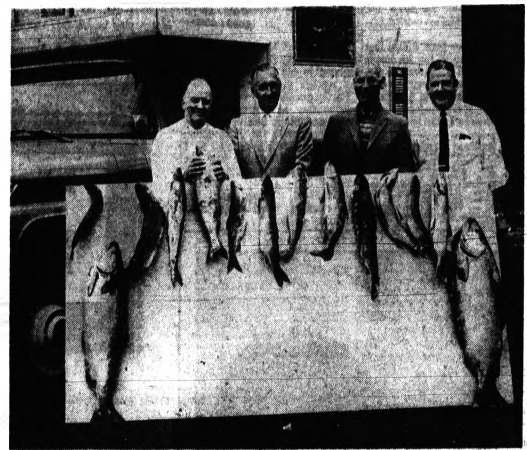

"It is a good gravel road, but the quality of gravel is poor. The Canadian army has charge of the highway and hires private citizens to maintain it. The road is graded every day."

He said, however, that large rocks in the gravel cause a problem.

"If you can drive over the gravel stretches without getting a broken window from stones thrown up by other cars, you are very lucky. The windshield on the camper came through alright, but some side windows were damaged. Two headlights were broken, also."

He recommended equipping the car, station wagon or camper with a fuel tank shield of metal, screens over the headlights and grill, overvoltage tube-type fuses, at least six-ply.

"There are no facilities for the route we followed," he re-

Basic Seasons Are Announced

Rail, Gallinule Dates Unchanged; Regulations on Migratory Fowl

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Fish and Wildlife Service today announced basic seasons and bag and possession limits for the 1962-63 hunting of mourning doves, white-winged doves, band-tailed pigeons, rail, gallinules, wild snipe and woodcock.

The service also set basic hunting dates and regulations for acorn, elder, and old-squaw ducks in open coastal waters of the north coast, and for waterfowl, mallards and little brown cranes in Alaska.

State game departments may select their own hunting seasons within the limits set by the Fish and Wildlife Service.

With the exception of mourning doves, bag regulations are unchanged from last year.

For doves, states are permitted to select a three-way split in the 1962-63 hunting season, within specified outside limits, the service also decreed a reduction in bag limits of mourning doves in the central management area from 10 to 5, and in possession, from 15 daily and 24 in possession.

OTHER DATES

The framework of outside hunting dates for most of the game birds is Sept. 1 to Jan. 15. For acorn, elder and old-squaw ducks the outside dates are Oct. 1 through Jan. 8.

In Alaska, the hunting dates for most species are Sept. 1 through Jan. 8. For little brown cranes the outside dates are Sept. 1 through Sept. 30.

Production Outlook of Ducks Not Bright

This year's outlook on duck production is anything but bright in Canada and the northern United States where severe droughts have held the upper hand for several years, according to the Department of the Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service.

Survey teams covering nesting grounds in the prairie pothole country of North America — the continent's primary "duck factory" — report the breeding population to be smaller than any year since the federal agency began its summer waterfowl studies in 1951.

One glimmer of hope in this year's picture comes from the improvement of habitat in the Dakotas and Minnesota. However, this area's promise of increased production is not expected to make up for shortfalls in the southern portions of Canada's prairie provinces.

Aerial surveys in southern Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba point to a 37 per cent drop in breeding population of those areas. Mallard ducks are 12 per cent below last year and pintails are down 28 per cent.

In years of sufficient rainfall, 50 and 80 per cent of the continent's total duck production, the

English Channel Swim Goes 3 Fathoms Down

DEAL, England (AP) — Fred Baldasare of Cape Canaveral, Fla., battling still tides which at times held him to a standstill, was reported to have reached the English shore at Pegwell Bay today, the first person to swim the English Channel under water.

A traveler that accompanied him in the swim from Cape Gris Nez, France, hoisted the Stars and Stripes at 7:15 a.m. This signified to shore watchers that the 38-year-old Baldasare had touched down.

Boat Gasoline Tax Boost Seen

Plan to Use New Funds for Purchase of Land in Federal Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A two-cent a gallon boost in federal taxes on gasoline for boats, with the money to be channeled into purchase of new sites for recreation, has won approval of the House Ways & Means committee.

This marked the first step toward enactment of an administration program under which user fees and the gasoline tax would help pay for a sharp increase in the federal purchase of land for most growing public demand for outdoor recreation facilities.

The legislation's chances for passage this year brightened when the administration last month justified a provision which had aroused a storm of protest. The detailed provisions would have levied a tax of 55 a year on pleasure boats of 14 feet, with higher taxes imposed on longer boats.

The proposed hike in gasoline taxes has stirred little controversy. It would merely repeal the boat-owners' present right to claim a refund of two cents of the present four-cent federal tax on gasoline.

Boat owners have been claiming only a small portion of the $12 to $15 million in annual tax refunds to which they are entitled.

As a result, most of this revenue has been going into the highway trust fund which finances road-building. Under the committee-approved administration plan all of this 2-cent a gallon tax will go into a new land conservation fund.

Board Members to Be Elected by Lakeland Club

Fifteen directors will be elected by the Lakeland Conservation League at its July meeting tonight at Chief Pontiac American Legion Post on Lake Oakland. The session begins at 8 o'clock.

Five of the league's first board members will serve one year, five will serve two years, and five for three years. The 15 directors and the executive officers will compose the board.

Clyde T. Smith is president; Charles W. Gale, first vice-president; Robert L. Cole, second vice-president; Ray W. Lippert, treasurer; and Ray Harrington, secretary.

"Further discussion on the Conservation Department's intended use of the Drayton Plains fish hatchery also is scheduled at this meeting," Smith said. "We also intend to map our fish projects early and will begin laying our plans

FIRST LEADER — Holding first place in the First Big Fish Derby's rainbow division is this two-pound, five-ounce fish caught Saturday night at Elizabeth Lake by Lloyd Stale, 29 S. Ascut, Pontiac. The 17 1/2-inch fish is the first trout entered in the contest.

Dog Training Can Resume on July 15

Beginning July 15, dogs may be trained between sunrise and sunset. The date marks the end of a closed season which began in April to protect young game animals and nesting birds.

The sunset limitation will be lifted Aug. 15 until the opening of the raccoon season to permit night training.

No firearms other than pistols or revolvers with blank cartridges may be used while training dogs. If the firearm is other than a blank cartridge pistol or revolver, a permit to carry is required.

The Conservation Department reminds owners or trainers that dogs found running deer may be killed by any officer of the law.

Vending Machines Success at Hatchery

Twenty-one dollars worth of fish food in penny and nickel machines is a lot of fish food, but that's what visitors tossed in the trout at the hatchery at Grayling last weekend.

To accommodate tourists who like to watch fish jump, splash and scramble, the Conservation Department installed vending machines at the hatchery on a trial basis which apparently met with a triple success — for the tourists, the fish, the hatchery caretakers.

Nutritionally correct pellets are dispensed by the machines in one and five-cent lots.

Hunting Regulations Before Commission

Hunting regulations for 1962 will highlight action of the Conservation Commission at its meeting in the Masonic Temple in Alpena Thursday and Friday.

Commissioners will also consider land matters, mineral leases, timber sales and other subjects of more or less routine nature.

The first day's session is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. This is an informal meeting to provide individuals or groups opportunities to discuss mutual-interest matters with the Commission. Friday's formal meeting will begin at 9 a.m.

Saddle Club Schedules Horse Show on Sunday

The fourth annual Horseshoe Saddle Club horse show will be Sunday at Crooks Road and South Boulevard.

There will be 22 events including action, pleasure, jumping and parade classes. There will be junior and senior divisions with trophies and other awards.

Dogs from Leader Dog School in Rochester will be demonstrated. Part of the proceeds will go to Leader Dog Building Fund.

Obedience Match Set

The Canine-Ettes second all-breed obedience fun match will be Sunday at the VFW hall on Seven Mile Road, west of Grand River, beginning at 1 p.m.

There will be five regular classes and graduate for dogs. Trainers will be presented through four places.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your day so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times.

For a Bootlegger's Son the Job's Pretty Good

By KARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Tom Poston—who likes to say that his father was a great Ohio chemist "who likes to say that his father was a great Ohio chemist"—is taking over Hal March's role in "Come Blow Your Horn" for a couple of months... which will send all of us delving again into his crazy life story.

"Oh, Dad was a very smart fellow—he never did time," brags Tom.

Tom'll be playing a young Jewish guy—about-town while Hal March vacations. I asked Tom, backstage at the Brooks Atkinson Theater, whether he's Jewish.

"Just enough to get this job," he said. (He starts July 16.)

Tom and his mother allegedly had an argument about where he was born. "It was Columbus," Tom insisted to his mother. "Would I lie to you? I was there!"

Actually, he was born there; his father, later a food chemist, was doing a little "cellar chemistry" there, changing towns very fast. Tom, who also studied chemistry at Bethany College, W.Va., thought all this "chemistry" entitled him to play Prohibition Agent Moe Smith in the forthcoming comedy, "Izzy and Moe" (just now retitled "Nowhere to Go But Up").

"But they told me I was born in the wrong town for the part," Tom says. "You have to be a New Yorker. They told me July 4 they didn't want me—I learned on Independence Day that I was free."

A photograph of Richard Burton yawning most impolitely while sitting beside Liz Taylor has just been published in France under the heading: "The Hero Is Very Tired." An American who saw the picture commented, "They look like they've been married for years."

Basil Rathbone, according to Vincent Price, fellow horror-film actor, "is so British, he writes with an accent." Anyway, when Price, who has a son just graduated from college, recently became father of a daughter, he got a letter from Rathbone, which merely said, "Dear Old Boy, How very clever of you... Basil."

Bircher Calls De Gaulle Red

Robert Welch Attacks French President for 'Selling Out' Algeria

TYLER, Tex. (AP)—Robert Welch, founder of the right-wing John Birch Society, told about 1,000 East-Texas residents Tuesday that President Charles de Gaulle of France is a Communist.

He charged De Gaulle sold out Algeria and France to the Communists by backing Algerian rebels in their fight for independence from France.

In a speech sponsored by John Birch societies in Tyler, Welch also said that by 1972 the United States can be in the clutches of a Communist tyranny.

"I do not say these things will actually happen, but present trends indicate they will," he said.

WHO IS DE GAULLE?

De Gaulle has been anathema to the French Communist party and the object of frequent attacks from the Kremlin. He founded the RFP party—French People's Rally—in 1947 as a counter to leftist trends.

He was brought back to power by Europeans in Algeria supported by military leaders, who thought he could bring truce between Moslem and European communities and crush the militant Moslem nationalists.

Almost from the moment he came to power, French public opinion swung behind his program of holding France's coast firmly of France-Algeria in a bloody war.

He and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer recently reached new accord on armistice that promised to furnish a barrier to communism in Europe.

U.S. State Authorities to Protect All Interests in Woodbury Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Federal and state authorities, working together in legal moves on a $110,000 corn shortage at a Woodbury grain elevator, today promised the interests of all parties concerned will be fully protected.

The pledge came from U.S. Attorney George Hill and State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

They agreed that holders of warehouse receipts are entitled under federal law to their pro rata share of corn in warehouses.

The two issued a joint statement saying the state and federal units will be assigned to work with the U.S. Department of Justice and the state director of agriculture on the legal action.

TO END RECEIVERSHIP

A temporary state receivership will be dissolved.

The statement said Kelley yesterday joined the federal government as party plaintiff. A federal court named temporary receivers for the firm.

The Woodbury Grain Co. elevator reportedly is short about 97,000 bushels of corn, some of it stored by the Commodity Credit Corp., a price-support agency.

U.S. Asks Souvanna to Visit Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has invited Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier of Laos, to visit Washington after the signing of the Geneva accords on Laos, informed source said today.

Barring last-minute hitches, the accords are expected to be signed at the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos soon, possibly next week.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that the accords will be signed in Laos.

One possibility, sources said, was that Souvanna, head of the new Laos coalition government, would visit Washington on his way home from the Geneva talks, but officials said no definite arrangements had been made.

Hart Submits Broadly Revised Dunes Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., submits today a broadly revised bill to set up a 77,000-acre Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in Michigan.

The new bill is believed to appeal to private property owners who voiced a storm of protest against the original bill a year ago.

At the heart of the latest Sleeping Bear bill are provisions completely wiping out, under certain conditions, the federal government's right to condemn and thus take over private property.

The federal right of condemnation would be suspended under several circumstances.

—When local governments zone private property in accordance with national park objectives.

—When individual home owners agree—in the absence of zoning—to keep their property free of unsightly uses or undesirable commercial uses.

—Within some 2,700 acres of inland lakeshore residential areas on Platte, Little Traverse and Glen lakes.

—In the case of new or existing commercial uses compatible with the purpose of the lakeshore. Such uses include motels, rental cottages, farms, Christmas tree farms, marinas, orchards, camps and art-and-craft studios.

The boundaries of the park in Leelanau and Benzie counties—including South Manitou Island—remain unchanged.

It is estimated the federal government would spend $21.5 million in Michigan in the first 25 years of the park's existence for land acquisition and capital improvements.

1.2 MILLION TOURISTS
Hart estimates 1.2 million tourists would spend about $11 million a year in the park area.

The revised bill also provides for:

—Continuation of hunting and fishing within the park area under the laws of Michigan.

—Barring the secretary of the interior for 35 years from developing any additional public use on public access areas within the specified inland lakeshore residential areas.

—Acquisition of lands owned by Michigan only with the state's consent.

—Retention of homes by their owners up to 35 years even after voluntary agreement to sell the property to the federal government.

Local zoning ordinances, under the bill, would be approved by the secretary of the interior if they prohibited commercial and industrial uses except those approved by the department, and if they preserved and developed the area through common acreage, frontage and setback requirements.

Hart does not expect consideration of the new bill by congressional committees this year.

He told a news conference yesterday he won't ask for hearings until 1963 but wanted to make the bill public for possible further revision.

big houses and that property owners would be "picked off, one by one."

The 2,700 inland lakeshore acres could go as high as 3,000 if a lakeshore advisory committee decided more room was needed for adjustment of boundaries and hardship cases.

The weather observatory site to prevent it from being carried Mount Washington in New Hampshire away by the hurricane force winds above is bolted down to solid rock that sweep the mountain top.

Churchill Sees Film From Bed

Has Comfortable Night Despite Thrombosis in His Bad Leg

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill watched movies from his hospital sickbed Tuesday night and called this morning for the London papers to check the racing news.

HE'S COMFORTABLE:

The 87-year-old wartime prime minister, whose recovery from a thigh bone fracture has been complicated by a blood clot in the leg, spent a comfortable night, MHI diex Hospital officials said.

Churchill was propped up with pillows in his bed to watch the special hour-long movie show.

"It's all part of the treatment," said a spokesman for a film company which arranged the program. "He's an ardent fan so we sent him a batch of films. The operator will go to the hospital at a moment's notice whenever Sir Winston wants a show."

Hospital officials said Churchill was especially interested in the morning newspapers because his home Novitice was to run at Salisbury later in the day.

The blood clot condition, or thrombosis, was disclosed for the first time in Tuesday's medical bulletin and indicated that it had been present with the phlebitis he has been suffering since Saturday. Phlebitis is a more general term covering inflammation of a vein.

A hospital spokesman said doctors were giving Churchill injections, presumably of anticoagulant drugs, to reduce the painful swelling in his leg.

Williams' Play Cheered at World Premiere in Italy

SPOLETO, Italy (AP)—American playwright Tennessee Williams' newest offering, "The Milk Train Doesn't Stop Here Anymore," had its world premiere Tuesday night at Spoleto's Two Worlds Festival.

The audience, mostly Americans, gave the play a cordial reception, with waves of applause at the intermissions and final curtain.

The play deals with the tangled life of an American widow, married six times and now living in a villa on the Amalfi coast dictating her memoirs to a young secretary.

Appearing in the play were Hermione Baddeley, Paul Roebbing, Mildred Pugliese, Nicky Nancetti and William Chapman.

Because of a nationwide newspaper strike there were no Italian press reviews.

CAPT. GEN. FRANCO

Reform Predicted as Top Officer Picked, Cabinet Shuffled

MADRID (AP)—Gen. Francisco Franco has designated Spain's highest ranking soldier as his official successor and shuffled his Cabinet in a predicted prelude to political and economic reform.

Many experts here described the move as directed toward an early restoration of the monarchy in Spain.

By naming Capt. Gen. Augustin Maza Granados, 64, as vice president, the 69-year-old chief of state cleared up the long-pending question of who will succeed him if he dies.

Munoz Granados has been chairman of the high military staff since 1957. Before that he was army minister for six years. He was secretary-general of the Falange party in 1939, and was an outstanding officer during the Spanish civil war.

CLOSE ASSOCIATE

A close associate of Franco in his 25 years of rule, Munoz Granados commanded the Spanish Blue Division that fought alongside Nazi German troops on the Russian front in World War II.

Franco's decree appointing Munoz Granados will continue to act as general commander of the high staff.

It added he will be charged with the coordination of the national defense departments and will carry out those functions he is expressly ordered by the president to perform in the government, which he will replace in case of vacancy, absence or illness.

Seven new ministers were named in the first Cabinet change Franco had made since Feb. 25, 1957.

The changes, which had been expected, were regarded as based on Franco's desire to strengthen the council of ministers and not resulting from any crisis.

Army, navy and air ministries were changed, as were industry, labor, education and information.

One government observer said, "It looks like the monarchists, the church and the army all came out substantially ahead at the expense of the right-wing Falangists. All in all, it looks like the change to Franco is political as well as economic."

Thousands Travel to Regina

Rally to Protest Medicare

REGINA, Sask. (UPI)—Thousands of citizens, traveling in motorcades from all parts of the province, were due to arrive here today to join in a mammoth protest rally against Saskatchewan's medicare plan.

A growing fear that violence might erupt during the rally increased the atmosphere of tension last night in this troubled town where province-wide doctors' strike has left residents without normal medical service.

The doctors, rebelling against the new medical law which went into effect 11 days ago, were hopeful the demonstration would induce the provincial government of Premier Woodrow Lloyd to suspend the controversial plan.

But prospects for an imminent solution to the crisis remained slim and as final preparations were being made for the rally, Lloyd's government was accused of trying to intimidate the "Keep Our Doctors" (KOD) committee, the planning force behind the protest.

The government and labor bosses are trying to scare off, declared Rodney Thomson, a key spokesman for the KOD committee.

"We find it very strange that several prominent out-of-province labor bosses, including Canadian Labor Congress Vice President Les Wallace, happen to be in Regina at this time and are making false allegations and statements with regard to the KOD rally tomorrow," Thomson said.

Earlier last night Lloyd told a television audience he hoped there would be no outbreak of violence at the rally.

The premier also said the government would not be "influenced" by the demonstration and suggested that supporters of the medicare plan might stage a similar rally.

In anticipation of today's large crowds, the grounds surrounding the legislative buildings have been leveled off. Lloyd said the move was not made as a security measure, but to prevent the area from being "congested with cars."

There was no estimate of how many persons would be in the crowd.

cavalades when they arrived in the capital, but Thomson said business establishments in "more than 12 cities and towns" had agreed to close down today so that employees could attend the rally.

Almost overshadowed by the rally preparations was the arrival of So far a total of 26 doctors (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

JFK Lauds Space Efforts in Reporting on NASA

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hailed today recent U.S. space accomplishments and said they have laid a substantial foundation for greater future successes.

Kennedy made the comment in sending Congress a report on the activities of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration from October 1960 through June 1961.

Since that period, Kennedy said, NASA, in cooperation with other agencies of the government, "has made substantial strides toward meeting our new and more ambitious aerospace and space goals."

This message was written before the country's latest spectacular space venture—the orbiting Tuesday of the Telesat satellite to pave the way for ocean-spanning live television.

The NASA report was forwarded to Kennedy by the agency's chief, James E. Webb, who spoke also of mounting accomplishments.

SET FOR VOTE

The Senate is getting set to vote on a new $1,802,315.26 space authorization measure.

Sen. Robert S. Kerr, D-Okla., almost won Senate passage by voice vote Tuesday with only a handful of senators present, but Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., moved a delay by asking for a record vote on two amendments.

Proxmire argued that an independent presidential commission study the problems of scientific manpower. He said NASA "has had so much to spend in the area of rockets and missiles" that it has neglected the study of scientific manpower.

VICE PRES. JOHNSON

"COMING THROUGH NICELY"—The image of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson appeared on an NBC monitor screen in the RCA building in New York City last night in relay of a live television broadcast from the new Telesat satellite. Johnson was talking to Frederick R. Kappel, board chairman of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., who was at Andrews, Me. The vice president, in Washington, responded "You're coming through nicely," when asked by Kappel "How do you hear him?"

Straley Gets Pay, Pension; Gives City Sign-Off Paper

The final curtain came down last night on one of the longest running and most controversial dramas in Pontiac's history.

In the City Commission chamber where much of the epic was played over the past five years, city officials and former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley reached a settlement.

Commissioners approved the settlement by a 6-1 vote. The lone dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner William H. Taylor.

Straley, 56, now in the real estate business locally, was fired in June 1960.

Straley was paid for the 318 days and they were credited to his service record, thus making him eligible for a pension under the City Charter.

This settlement is the final and conclusive disposition of a legal controversy of several years' duration between myself and the City Commission.

Straley will actually take home about $1,800 after deductions for taxes and pension payments.

Satellite Relays Telephone Call 3,000 Miles Up

U. S. Chatterbox Brings Voice, Eyes and Ears to All the World

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — Telesat, in triumphant baptism Tuesday night, sent television pictures spanning the Atlantic to France and England, as well as into U. S. homes.

The new satellite relayed a telephone call from Maine to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson in Washington last night and clear as the best of local calls.

Then for an encore, the versatile Telesat—only a yard wide—transmitted news stories at a 1,000-word-a-minute clip, relayed photographs and phone calls with perfect aplomb from a 3,000-mile height to space.

Remarkably clear television pictures were received in France, and were to be relayed by tape into French homes today.

French television officials planned to beam a return program to the United States late tonight on early Thursday French time, which is six hours ahead of New York in Eastern Standard Time.

MONTAND TO SING

A Paris dispatch said this would include a song by Yves Montand, several views of Paris, and a message from Jacques Marette, French communications minister.

In Britain, film and fleeting pictures were picked up as Telesat received, amplified and retransmitted the program beamed into space from a powerful horn antenna in the little town of Andover, Maine.

The first direct view of space opened with a view of the American flag flapping in the breeze.

British viewers stayed up late for the great event of instantaneous television from abroad, with a brief reward coming after 1 a.m.

The success brought dreams of global television closer to reality. Americans might see the 1964 Olympics from Japan on worldwide sets in their homes and viewers in Calcutta, India, on the other side of the globe from New York, may watch the 1964 World's Fair, scientists believed.

IN THREE YEARS

Technicians said 20 to 25 satellites orbiting the earth as Telesat is doing today would be sufficient to establish a global network. They speculated that this could be expected within three years.

Telesat's first feats were a prodigious demonstration of things to come in a future worldwide satellite communications system to meet mounting demands for telephone, news, business, and television circuits spanning oceans and continents.

Praising this joint venture of private industry and government, American Telephone & Telegraph Co. listed the entire $4 million cost of building, launching and tracking Telesat — Newton Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, re-emphasized.

"Now we have increased opportunity to increase the flow of information among all nations, to surround the walls of ignorance and prejudice and to use mass communications hopefully to avoid mass destruction."

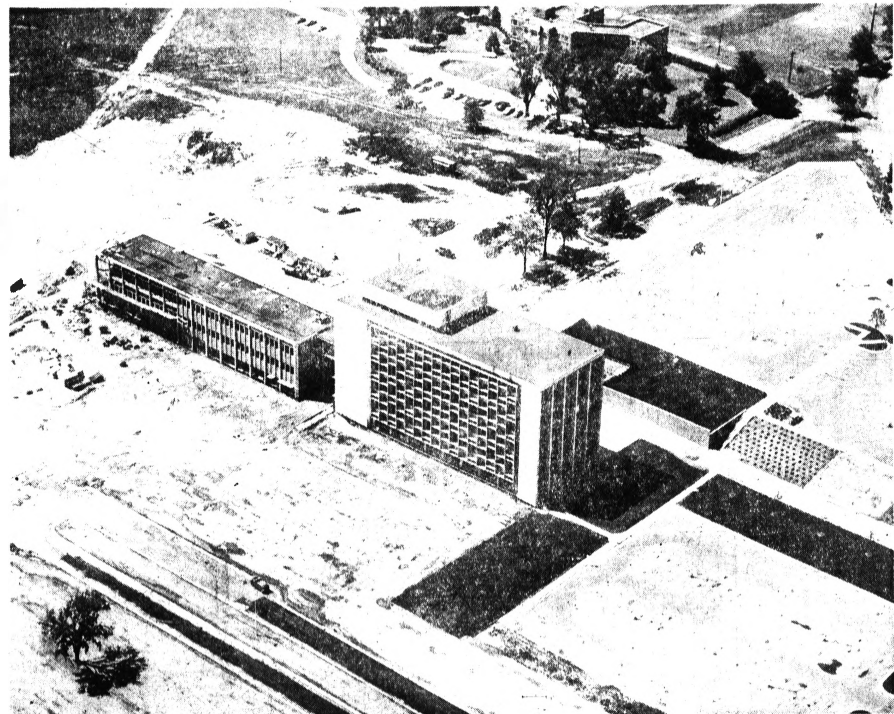

Telesat was designed and built by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Only for 12 to 15 minutes on some of its circuits each day will Telesat be in line of sight vision between Europe and Maine to permit television exchange.

But one plan calls for launching a series of 30 to 50 similar peopete satellites, so that one or more always would be in position to relay of television, telephone calls, photo or story and message transmission.

Ultimately, the instantaneous, continuous circuit might be provided by three satellites, orbiting 25,000 miles high so they appear to remain stationary over the same spot on earth. Each satellite's task is first to provide the capability, and help determine what problems still lie ahead.

Courthouse Rides Along With Progress

CENTER OF JUSTICE — Located in the geographic heart of Michigan's second largest county, the Oakland County Courthouse is the center of the County Prosecutor's office, the clerk-registrar's office and numerous other county operations are headquartered in this gleaming, six-story white-facaded structure. This aerial view is one in a series taken by photo-photographer Homer C. Tinnely to show highlights of progress in the Pontiac area. Symbolizing modern-day construction progress, the courthouse is joined at the left by a narrow four-level courthouse wing into which scores of county employees will move their offices in October. Adjacent to the wing, ground breaking has started for a $31,812 auditorium, and a new parking lot is being constructed to serve employees of the wing. Other structures — and more people — are expected to follow as this County Service Center area near Telegraph Road and Oakland Ave. booms into a bustling community astride the border of a revitalized city—Pontiac.

Algeria Nervous at Talk Collapse

ALGIERS (AP) — A collapse of talks to heal a leadership split in the new Algerian nation and prospects of a showdown between President Ben Youssef Ben Khedda and Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella produced signs of nervousness here today.

Apparently backed by the bulk of the 65,000-man National Army of Liberation, Ben Bella planned a triumphant advance into western Algeria from Rabat, Morocco, where talks with Ben Khedda's emissaries broke down early today.

A vanguard of 2,000 troops of the liberation army, with Soviet-built artillery, was moving to Ours, in western Algeria, the nation's second largest city. A big victory parade was planned in advance of Ben Bella's arrival there tomorrow, apparently to demonstrate his popularity.

Construction Company Employee Dies After Bloomfield Mishap

A Clawson construction company employee was fatally injured yesterday in Bloomfield Township when a 9-foot ditch caved in.

Larry O'Quin, 43, died of chest injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital an hour and half after the accident occurred at 1:30 p.m.

O'Quin, who came to Michigan from Garrett, Ky., to work for the Dene Construction Co., was the father of nine children, ranging from 22 months to 22 years.

O'Quin, who lives in Wayne, was bricking a manhole for a sewer to serve the Bloomfield Surf Club on Square Lake Road when a Grand Trunk Western Railroad train passed nearby and apparently set up vibrations that caused the slide, according to Bloomfield Township police.

A fellow worker, Arnold Peterson, 33, of Berkeley, dug with his hand to free O'Quin's head so he could breathe.

Peterson, the brother of Gordon Peterson, owner of the construction company, had just got out of the excavation to get more material when the slides collapsed.

O'Quin had worked for the Clawson firm during about four years. It was the first fatal accident for the eight-year-old construction firm, a spokesman said.

India Protest China Invasion

Nehru Warns He Will Hold Peiping to Blame for Any War

NEW DELHI (AP) — India accused Red China Tuesday night of a new aggressive thrust into the Indian soil in Ladakh and warned Peiping it will be held wholly responsible if a shooting war results.

Prime minister Nehru from his vacation spot in Pabligan, Kashmir, dictated the final contents of a protest note handed to the Communist Chinese embassy here.

The note charged nearly 400 Chinese soldiers penetrated the Galwan Valley in the China-Ladakh border area Tuesday and encircled the Indian military post there.

A note last Sunday from Peiping to the Indian government charged that the Indians had established a post in the Galwan area and encircled a Chinese post in the lower reaches of the Shyok River.

An Indian reply said the Chinese were nowhere in the valley when they sent the note and added that they had no business to be there.

The new Indian note said Communist China's Prime Minister Chou En-lai, acknowledged as having arrived in Szechwan to help.

"I came because Szechwan needs doctors," said Dr. S. Sen, one of the new arrivals. "It's not for me to judge who is right in this situation because we have only a vague idea of what is going on."

However, another doctor who has been living in this province for seven years left yesterday for Champaign, Ill., where he plans to set up his practice.

Dr. J. M. Laidlaw, who left behind a $42,000 home here, said, "I'm leaving because I'm afraid of the government and the fact they do not keep their promises."

A government announcement yesterday that veteran British socialist and parliamentary Lord Taylor was on his way to Regina to act as a "consultant" in the dispute met with a cool reception from the doctors.

Dr. H. D. Dulchavich, president of the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, told newsmen there could be no question of "mediation" until the government first suspended the medical act.

He will be charged today with driving under the influence of liquor, according to police. His passenger, William Zell, 24, of 1322 Laska Road, walked Laska already has been charged with disorderly conduct and is in the County Jail.

HE' ANOTHER CAR
The one-and-a-half-mile chase began on Maple Road when Paulman Wilford Hook saw Sutherland's car turn from Pontiac Trail at high speed.

Just east of Welch Road Sutherland attempted to pass another car, hit it and lost control. The driver of the other car, Dr. J. M. Laidlaw, 36, of Gross Pointe, was not injured.

Police said that when Sutherland lost control of his car he skidded more than 300 feet, rolled over and smashed into the fire. Then the engine burst into flames.

Zell was thrown clear on impact but Sutherland was knocked unconscious and was pulled from the auto by Hook before flames engulfed the car.

Bloomfield Twp. Edict on Zoning Starts July 19

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Township's new zoning ordinance will go into effect July 19.

The Township Board last night adopted the 100-page ordinance following a public meeting attended by some 200 residents at the Town Hall.

Township Clerk Dolores Little said the completely revised document, which took three years to prepare by the planning board will become effective immediately upon publication.

A major inclusion in the new ordinance is the classification of commercial property into six categories.

The new ordinance designates certain areas for business, office, research and manufacturing.

The addition of a buffer zone between residential and commercial property also has been included in the new ordinance.

"This will allow a transitional area between the two zones," according to Mrs. Little.

"The buffer area, with its multiple dwellings or offices, will allow a gradual transition from one type of land use to another."

There will be an increased enforcement of the two types of violations that have caused most of the accidents, the police chief said.

Last month 38 of the 53 accidents reported were blamed on following too closely and failure to yield the right of way.

Mosley reported, however, that during last month accidents and personal injuries were reduced over the preceding month and June, 1961.

Mosley reported, however, that during last month accidents and personal injuries were reduced over the preceding month and June, 1961.

There will be an increased enforcement of the two types of violations that have caused most of the accidents, the police chief said.

Bloomfield Twp. Edict on Zoning Starts July 19

BIRMINGHAM — Bloomfield Township's new zoning ordinance will go into effect July 19.

The Township Board last night adopted the 100-page ordinance following a public meeting attended by some 200 residents at the Town Hall.

Township Clerk Dolores Little said the completely revised document, which took three years to prepare by the planning board will become effective immediately upon publication.

A major inclusion in the new ordinance is the classification of commercial property into six categories.

The new ordinance designates certain areas for business, office, research and manufacturing.

The addition of a buffer zone between residential and commercial property also has been included in the new ordinance.

"This will allow a transitional area between the two zones," according to Mrs. Little.

"The buffer area, with its multiple dwellings or offices, will allow a gradual transition from one type of land use to another."

There will be an increased enforcement of the two types of violations that have caused most of the accidents, the police chief said.

Bids for Church Vote

Ribicoff Proposing 'Illogical' School Tax Deduction

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—You can temporarily take a man out of politics, but you can't take the "politician" out of the man for long.

Abraham Ribicoff, after functioning in reasonably bipartisan fashion for the past 18 months as secretary of health, education and welfare, is now talking serious politics as he prepares to bow out of the Cabinet Friday.

The former governor who seems to capture the Democratic senatorial nomination in Connecticut obviously knows where the votes are counted in his native state.

Using the broad forum of his cabinet office, he has therefore proposed that parents who send their children to private schools should receive a deduction on their federal income tax.

He is not alone in his proposal. A number of other Democrats are making a rather obvious bid for church support in his campaign.

On the face of it, Ribicoff's proposal seems deceptively fair. He argues that inasmuch as parents who send their children to private schools are "lifting a burden from the shoulders of all taxpayers," they should get a tax deduction to compensate.

In a recent speech he put it this way: "These parents pay taxes to support the public schools of their communities. They also pay private school tuition."

"The simplest way to recognize some part of this public saving is to allow parents a tax credit from their income tax payments."

Missions Officers Named by Lutherans

NEW YORK (AP) — Rev. Dr. Paul L. Graf, of Minneapolis, was elected president yesterday of the Board of World Missions of the newly merged Lutheran Church in America.

The board oversees the work of the 35-million-member church in South America, Asia and Africa. Other board officers named were Rev. Constantine Trued, of Detroit, vice president; Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Kild, of Philadelphia, secretary; and John V. Lindholm, of New York, treasurer.

Rev. Dr. Earl S. Erb, of New York, was elected to a six-year term as executive secretary of the board.

Loses Finger in Mishap

GRAYLING (AP) — SP-5 Joseph Cramer, 28, of Grand Rapids, a bank teller, lost his ring finger yesterday when his wedding ring caught on the side of a troop transport truck as he jumped from the tailgate. Michigan National Guard authorities said it was the first serious injury of the current two-week training period.

SUMMER SCHOOL GRAMMING—In order for dentist-turned-teacher Dr. Max Mallon to keep one step ahead of his Rochester High School advanced biology students, he must do a lot of studying. The dentist turned to an early love—teaching—after an eye injury ended his dental career.

Dentistry to Teaching

Changes Profession

Teaching a group of advanced biology high school students is a lot harder than extracting teeth. Ask the man who's done both. Dr. Max Mallon of Rochester.

With the exception of a stint in the Army, Dr. Mallon practiced dentistry in Detroit for 25 years. Then an injury to his right eye which he had received in World War II caused him to lose the sight of that eye. His dental career ended.

But Dr. Mallon remembered a dream. Early in life he had wanted to become a teacher.

Why not now? Certainly his specialized education at the University of Michigan could be put to good use. He could become a science instructor.

His goal in sight, Dr. Mallon went back to school — a fast brush-up at Wayne State University. Then a couple years of teaching at the university.

Nix Suggestion to Vote at Large

U.S. Judges Turn Down 2 Teachers' Request to Affect State Candidates

PORT HURON (AP) — Federal judges yesterday rejected as "an extraordinary remedy" a request by two political science teachers that all Michigan congressmen be elected at large.

The Henry Ford Community College teachers, Donald Callina and Carl Jacobs, had charged in their suit that Michigan's districting "denies the equal protection guarantee."

Callina called the 18-district setup established in 1901 a "top-sidled and grotesque farce." A 19th Congress seat, created this year for Michigan, will be filled on an at-large election basis.

The teachers had asked that all 19 representatives be elected at large in the coming elections, and until the state is reapportioned in accordance with the 1960 federal census.

Judge Clifford O'Sullivan of the 6th Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati and federal judges Talbot Smith and Stephen Roth heard the case.

O'Sullivan said the teachers were asking "an extraordinary remedy, and one which this court is unwilling to indulge upon such short notice and without full study."

The teachers said they would appeal to the Supreme Court, but said this appeal would have no effect on the coming election because of the time required to process the appeal.

Meany Claims Reds Causing U.N. Crisis

BERLIN (UPI) — George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, charged yesterday that Russia "has plunged the United Nations into a serious crisis."

Meany, in a speech to the Congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions (ICTU), said the United Nations "faces the danger of either being completely incapacitated or becoming a tool of the Soviet Union in the Cold War."

He said colonialism remains a key issue in the United Nations and the free trade union movement "will continue to press in the U.N., as elsewhere, for the right of self-determination and independence for all colonial peoples in Europe, as well as Africa and Asia."

$565,000 Bond Issue
OK'd for Southfield Drain

A $565,000 bond issue to finance construction of a storm drain on the west side of Southfield Road in Southfield was approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission at Lansing.

The mile and a quarter long drain from Eight Mile Road to north of Nine Mile Road is expected to be placed under construction by the Oakland County Drain Commission in about six weeks, shortly after the bonds have been sold.

Completion is scheduled nine months after commencement of the project, according to Daniel Barry, county drain commissioner.

MRS. WILLIAM ERSKINE

OXFORD — Sharon Ann Souders was a gown of white tulle and lace, embellished with Alencon lace for her Saturday marriage to William Erskine in Immanuel Congregational Church here.

The lace bodice featured long pointed sleeves and round neckline trimmed with rhinestones. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train.

A flower cap held her fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of white Stephanotis and pale pink sweethearts roses.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar for the double-ring candlelight ceremony performed by Rev. Anthony A. Nelson.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Souders of 32 Moyers Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Erskine of 5555 Metamora Road, Metamora, are the bridegroom's parents.

Sharon De Lano was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Diane Erskine, sister of the bridegroom, and Sandra Clark.

Robert Erskine Jr. served his brother as best man. Another brother, Edward Erskine, ushered with the bride's brothers-in-law, William Phillips and Leland Lawrence, and her brother, Samuel Souders.

A reception in the church parlors followed the nuptials. The newlyweds will reside in Oxford.

Manager Says Lines to Be Flushed Out With Crystal Chemical

MILFORD — Residents who at one time were upset by the disagreeable taste of "red water" soon become slightly perturbed when their water turns blue. But there'll really be nothing to worry about, said Village Manager Donald G. Weidner.

Beginning Monday and for the next five or six weeks water lines will be flushed with a blue crystal chemical that will cause water to become a light shade of blue for a short time.

Weidner said highly diluted solution of copper sulfate will be poured into water lines and then pumped out through hydrants under extreme water and air pressure.

The process will clean out residue that has accumulated in the pipes over a 30-year period, said Weidner.

The treatment will boost the power of polyphosphate that has been added to the water supply since July 1961, to overcome the red water problem caused by rust in the lines.

The village manager said that the water lines will be flushed out one section at a time and that it probably will be done each evening after 10 p.m.

AREA NEWS

STATE TO PAY THIRD

The County Road Commission has agreed to contribute $15,000 to the project, while the state will pay 27.6 per cent and the county the remaining 5.7 per cent of the total cost.

Once completed, the Southfield Road drain will be connected to the Eight Mile Drain. The storm flow will be carried into the Detroit drainage system from there.

Most of the Southfield drain will be constructed of underground concrete pipes 8 feet in diameter. The road will be open cut.

It will replace an older drain where it has become inadequate to carry off storm water.

Construction is not expected to necessitate closing of Southfield Road to traffic, according to county engineers.

The city will finance its share of the bond issue by an ad valorem tax, or a general assessment on all properties in the area.

According to City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery, the drain will serve not only the immediate area but also will channel water from more northerly sections of the city.

The tax will undoubtedly be spread on the December tax roll, the clerk said.

Hearing to Air School Split

Parents Petition to Join Portion of Novi District to Northville

NOVI — A public hearing on the proposed separation of a portion of the Novi School District to join Northville School System will be held tomorrow at the Oakland County Board of Education office.

The parents of 50 children have petitioned for the separation because they feel Novi cannot provide the proper education.

The families live in the Echo Valley subdivision, which borders the Northville School District on the north.

Wayne and Washtenaw county school board members, as well as those from Oakland, will air the proposal since areas of the Northville School District lie in all three counties.

If the three county school boards approve the separation it would mean a loss to the Novi School District of about $15,000 annually in local taxes and state aid.

The parents became alarmed over the education of their children after the defeat of additional operating millage in April.

Since then another millage proposal was approved but parents indicated they would continue to seek the separation because the funds would not provide for an improved curriculum program.

Dog That Bit Rochester Girl Is Being Sought

ROCHESTER — Seven-year-old Linda Vannini hopes the dog that bit her on the leg June 26 will be found soon.

If not, she will have to take a series of painful rabies shots.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vannini, 250 Windsor St., Linda was bitten by a small Scotch terrier while visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guido Guidotti, at 45720 Dequindre Road, Shelby Township, in the Auburn Road-Dequindre Road area.

The dog was light grey or dirty white in color and wore a red collar and two dog tags, according to Mrs. Vannini, who canvassed the area for the dog in vain.

If the dog is located and found not to have rabies, Linda will be spared the painful shots.

Profit Taking Continues

Stocks Slip but Only Moderately

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in moderate trading early today.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

American Telephone continued to demand trading about a point in further response to the successful launching of its Telstar communications satellite.

For the rest of the listing was generally a matter of continuing the profit taking that began soon after yesterday's vigorous first hour when the market leaped ahead on news that margin requirements had been cut to 50 percent from 70 percent.

An earlier tone prevailed among steel, motor, rail, oil, chemical, aerospace issues, tobacco and the various "growth" stocks.

Losses exceeding a point were shown by Polaroid, Xerox, and Laticrete.

Eastman Kodak dropped about 2, Johnson & Johnson a fraction more than 2, and Reynolds Tobacco more than a point.

IBM, after losing more than a point at the start, erased the loss and moved to a fractional net gain.

Ford and General Motors eased, Chrysler dropped a fraction, and Studebaker held firm.

Fractional gains were shown by Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, and Westinghouse Electric.

Losses of close to a point were taken by Standard Oil of Indiana, Sears, Roebuck, and Du Pont.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Simca was off more than a point. Moderate losers included Aerojet-General, Synetics, Pennington "A," and Occidental Petroleum. A bit higher were Universal Controls, Anken Chemical, Gulf American Land, and Technicolor.

Bond Prices Up Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Corporate and government bond prices moved slightly higher in moderately active opening trading today.

Biggest gainers among treasury issues were the intermediates, some advancing as much as 6/32.

Bills were a shade higher and long unchanged.

Gains by corporates were mostly in fractions, with industrials showing the greatest strength. Sears

Do Pont Stockholders Want to Offer Public $80 Million of Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group of major Du Pont stockholders asked federal authorization today to offer the public about $80 million of General Motors stock distributed to them yesterday.

The 1,691,034 shares of GM stock to be offered was part of 21 million shares which E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co. transferred to its stockholders under the terms of an antitrust decree.

And by the same token, he'll make more paying out 50 cents on the dollar than he could have by putting in 70 cents as he would be required to before the Federal Reserve Board lowered margins from 70 percent to 50 percent.

Of course, it prices should take a further tumble, the optimistic margin trader would be out of luck—he might have to sell or put up more cash, or even lose the cash he'd already paid.

And many individual brokerage firms impose even stricter margin rules than the minimum set by Fed and the exchanges.

Many brokerage houses require credit ratings before allowing new traders to set up margin accounts. Also, many won't permit margin trading in the lowest priced stocks.

And most will call for more cash well before the stock's price has fallen below the cut-off level the Federal Reserve enforces.

Brokers say most margin accounts are active ones. That is, credit is most often used by in-and-out traders who frequently use a small amount of inactive accounts by stock investors on a margin basis.

Most of the investor type trading the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Business Notes

Two Oakland County men have been appointed to new positions with the Chrysler Corp. styling staff, according to E. P. Enell, vice president and director of styling.

Richard P. Baird, 29, of Highland Circle, Bloomfield Township, has been named chief stylist on the corporate styling staff.

Donald F. Kopke, 30, of Northfield Ave., Oak Park, has been appointed chief stylist of the Plymouth-Vault Division.

Baird, the former chief stylist for Plymouth-Vault, will be responsible for coordinating activities of exterior and interior styling and engineering development.

Kopke succeeds Baird as head of new styling concepts for Plymouth-Vault.

The pressure in style was directly related to the crop report which brokers said was bearish. However, the figures for soybeans were viewed as bullish compared with some trade expectations.

Big Rock Point's N-Reactor Ready for Sept. 1 Premiere

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big Rock Point nuclear power reactor is expected to be ready for operation by Sept. 1, an official of the Bechtel Corp. said yesterday.

The official, John W. Merriman, told an Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) hearing yesterday that the reactor is expected to be ready for operation by Sept. 1, an official of the Bechtel Corp. said yesterday.

The license would permit loading of fuel, operation of the reactor at 50,000 kilowatts and the performance of first phase of 45-year program and development program.

Merriman said it would take about three months for the reactor to build up to 50,000 kilowatts. Eventually, the high density boiling water reactor is expected to operate at 75,000 electrical kilowatts.

Merriman is manager of engineering for the Washington office of Bechtel, prime contractor for the reactor.

Robert E. Kottner of Jackson, Mich., is in charge of the reactor's design.
