6,000 Called Back to Work at Pontiac Motor

Herman Kierdorf Guilty of Possessing Silencer

"It's practically like a life sentence to me," said the 68-year-old ex-convict after a Circuit Court jury of nine women and three men handed down the "guilty as charged" verdict at 11:45.

Judge Clark J. Adams referred the case to the Probation Dept., for pre-sentence investigation. He set sentencing for Nov. 3 at 1:30.

It took the jurors only 29 minutes to return with their verdict which could result in a prison sentence of five years and a $2,500 fine for Kierdorf, uncle of human torch victim Frank Kierdorf.

Eric E. Zisman, one of the two attorneys for Herman Kierdorf, asked that the jury be polled after the verdict was given by jury foreman Walter Street, retired Royal Oak Ford Motor Co. supervisor.

Each juror responded "yes" when Judge Adams' court clerk, Walter H. Meinberg, asked, "Was that, and is that your verdict?"

Kierdorf was sullen as he listened t othe answers. He was seated between Zisman and his other attorney, William F. Dohany.

Zisman said he would petition for a new trial—"which undoubtedly will be denied"—and then appeal the case to the Michigan Supreme Court.

Madison Heights Police Chief Robert E. Richardson took Kierdorf to the county jail as his attorneys and bondsman, Carmen Mitchell, readied a new $15,000 bond set by the judge.

The previous bond, on which

National Airing for Fired-Up Ike

Blasts Away at Dems From Chicago Tonight on Radio, TV

From Our Wire Services

CHICAGO — President Eisenhower today prepared to try his new slam-bang technique of attacking the Democrats on a nationwide radio and television audience from the heart of the Midwest.

Republican contributors were so pleased by Eisenhower's hard-punching speech in Los Angeles earlier this week that they put up funds to finance a national radio and TV hookup of his address at 8:30 p.m., CDT (8:30 p.m. Pontiac time).

Police estimated about 1,500 persons were waiting to catch a glimpse of the President outside the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel and about 500 persons crowded inside the hotel lobby.

The President appeared in good spirits as he alighted from his car, took off his hat and waved at the crowd and then took an elevator to the presidential suite.

After catching up on his sleep and rest at the hotel, he planned a full day of political activity before climaxing his 5,300-mile campaign swing in the International Amphitheater tonight before an audience of party workers.

Eisenhower's broadcast from Chicago originally was scheduled as a 15-state Midwest regional affair. However, the reaction to his speech in Los Angeles, where he called the Democrats "left-wing radicals" at-

Human Relations Speaker Draws Record Audience

AUDITORIUM FILLED EARLY — The "standing room only" sign went out early last night as some 2,300 persons jammed every nook and corner of Pontiac Central High School to hear the popular and noted psychologist Dr. George W. Crane speak on "Sex Problems in Marriage." School officials said the turnout was "one of the biggest crowds in the history of Pontiac Central." Besides the main auditorium, people were packed into 14 other classrooms, study halls and gymnasiums.

Overflow Crowd Jams School to Hear Dr. Crane on Marriage

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL Jr.

"Young married couples have enough cookbooks to satisfy gastric appetites, but not enough recipes for good marital relationships," Dr. George W. Crane told one of the largest crowds in the history of Pontiac Central High School last night.

The huge gathering, estimated at around 2,300, heard the noted psychologist and marriage counselor lecture on the different problems of matrimony and how they could be solved.

The Pontiac Press sponsored his evening "Sex Problems in Marriage" lecture, and an afternoon lecture to high school students.

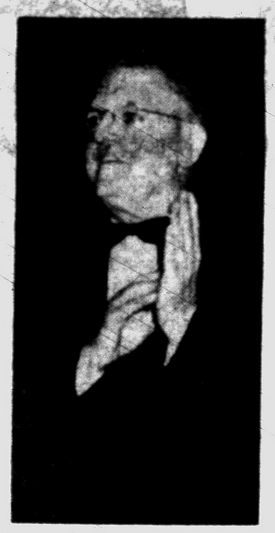

One of the major reasons 'so many marriages of young couples soon end up on the rocks, Dr. Crane said, is that there is a scarcity of marital relationship courses in schools.

"We're just behind the times in showing people how to stay happy in marriage," the speaker, whose column appears daily in The Press, said.

Seats at the high school were at a premium as those who couldn't get seats in the main auditorium jammed 14 different classrooms, study halls and gymnasiums. A public address system carried Dr. Crane's message into the rooms.

Following an hour lecture, the 57-year-old author and columnist answered as many questions as time permitted. The audience submitted some 135. The crowd applauded loudly when Dr. Crane asked if they wanted more questions answered.

DR. CRANE
While speaking last night.

Husbands and wives too often hide themselves from facing the psychological facts of marriage, he said. "Even though these are cold facts and often hard to take, they must be faced to bring happiness," he explained.

Dr. Crane, who holds degrees as Doctor of Medicine and Philosophy, criticised the Kinsey report for portraying women as "passionate creatures."

"The erotic appetite of man is even greater," he asserted.

Before he entered the auditorium stage, Dr. Crane went from room to room to speak briefly and hold an audience participation stunt to demonstrate the old saying that "actions speak louder than words."

The speaker, who makes his home in Chicago, kept his audience chuckling, relating several samples of the millions of letters he receives from young and old alike.

Dr. Crane, who is recognized as one of America's most outstanding psychologists, cited statistics which illustrated that 20 per cent of families sooner or later end up in divorce court.

"Another 20 per cent are psychologically divorced even though they continue to live under the same roof," he added.

One reason is, Dr. Crane said, "that the sins of omission of wives cause more unhappy marriages than the sins of commission."

Some of these omissions tend to tear down the husband's ego, and he then turns around and attempts to destroy the ego of his wife, he said. Children often feel the brunt of such an unhappy arrangement, Dr. Crane further explained.

Husbands, because of what the speaker termed a "medical specimen complex," tend to lose the 100 per cent devotion to their wives after their first child is born. Drinking is often resorted to to cover up for the weakening of affection, the doctor commented.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Crane, who received his college training at Yale and Northwestern Universities, addressed many of his remarks to those couples over 45 years old.

He cautioned wives in this category "not to drop dead" when their mates bring home flowers once in a while. "He's only trying to revive some of the courtship ardor," he said.

He warned against impotence on

1,000 Still Out Until Settlement at Fisher Body

Without Auto Bodies, Plant Will Shut Again Monday or Tuesday

Approximately 6,000 UAW workers at Pontiac Motor Division were to report to work tomorrow in the wake of last night's ratification of a new, three-year local contract, ending 20 days of strike.

But another 1,000 assembly and refinishing workers were to remain idle, the company said, as long as Fisher Body Division remains on strike.

At Fisher Body, upon which the Pontiac plant is dependent for automobile bodies, negotiations were continuing today with no break in sight.

However, a Pontiac official warned that without delivery of bodies, the Pontiac plant would shut down operations again by next Monday or Tuesday.

Pontiac Motor local 653 approved the new pact by a vote of 1,599 to 106.

As a result, the company ordered some skilled and unskilled workers back to work today to prepare plants for production tomorrow.

All other UAW workers are to return tomorrow, with the exception of employes in the big assembly and refinishing plants, Nos. 8 and 16.

Although assembly lines will remain temporarily shut down, parts fabricating will swing into production for the four out of six Pontiac-Oldsmobile-Buick assembly plants that have settled strikes recently, said George Watson, Pontiac Motor personnel director.

The local pact covered both seniority and wage agreements, supplementing the national GM agreement which won local approval last week.

A breakdown of yesterday's vote had 1,093 production workers balloting for the agreement and 49 against it. Skilled workers also approved by a vote of 506 to 57.

★ ★ ★

Company officials, huddled this morning over the problem of how soon production lines can be back in operation, were not immediately available for comment on the strike settlement.

Planes Collide; 30 Die in Crash

All Lost Aboard Liner, Jet Pilot Jumps Out Over Italy

ANZIO, Italy (AP)—A British airliner and an Italian military jet collided four miles above Italy today, killing all 30 aboard the passenger plane.

Wreckage of the British European Airways four engine turboprop plane was scattered for more than a mile near this famous World War II battlefield 30 miles south of Rome.

The military plane exploded in the air. Seconds before that the Italian pilot parachuted, landing in the Mediterranean. A fishing boat picked him up. He was taken to a hospital in grave condition.

The airliner's dead included Jane Buckingham, London model involved in a romance in which

The prince, 27-year-old Shiv of Palitana, is in Naples and Miss Buckingham, 22, was presumably en route there to try to patch things up.

The BEA Viscount airliner was on a flight from London to Naples and Malta. The collision

Use of Aluminum, Fiberglas Cuts Weight

GMCT Plans New Highway Transports

A new concept for highway tractors, making them the lightest and safest of any in their field, was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Two new models have been developed by the division in a large-scale truck engineering program.

1—Stabilized air ride;
2—Independent front wheel suspension;
3—Fabricated frames;
4—Aluminum tilt cabs.

One of the two new models goes into production next month, while the other will be on the assembly lines here after the first of the year.

The GMC's are powered by the two-cycle super-economy Diesel engines that have been setting new economy and performance standards in the GMC D860 model highway tractors in major fleets throughout the nation.

"These forthcoming models are the first results of an extensive engineering program to apply all the progressive new ideas of GMC Truck & Coach, and General Motors toward advancement of truck design," Monaghan said.

Both GMC units are only 48 inches from bumper to back of cab and their lightweight aluminum construction is made possible by using a new type of air suspension to absorb the road punishment previously taken by heavy steel cabs.

Their ready-for-the-road weights are so low that truck operators will be able to carry from 699 to 2,097 pounds more payload than with comparable competitive models.

Important new safe driving advantages are inherent in the independent front wheel suspension, another significant advance in truck design that departs from the conventional front axle with leaf springs.

Air suspension systems for both front and rear have been redesigned into a single convolution type of air cylinder, eliminating the need for an additional air reservoir as previously provided by a tubular axle. The front suspension is rated at 11,000 lbs.

GMC's new tilt cab feature allows tilting of the cab forward manually because the cab weight is counterbalanced by torsion bar type springs.

Aluminum is used throughout the cab framing, heavily reinforced pressed floor, welded and riveted exterior roof and back panels, and door assemblies.

WELL! WELL! — An exponent of an earlier form of transportation inspects the very latest in highway equipment as a new GMC Truck & Coach Division DLR-8000 highway tractor and trailer is parked in front of The Plaza in New York City during the General Motors Motorama. First of GMCT's new models is to go into production next month; another after Jan. 1.

Miracle Mile Plans Birthday Fireworks

A gala fireworks display tomorrow evening will herald the opening of the Miracle Mile Shopping Center's first anniversary celebration. The shopping center is located at Telegraph and Square Lake roads, Bloomfield Township.

The fireworks exhibit will be held from 6:45 to 7:15 p.m. and will be the first of many special programs as the center enters its second year of business.

Next week the Miracle Mile stores will hold special one-cent sales at which patrons will be able to buy various items for a penny with the purchase of other merchandise.

At present, there are 50 stores and services available in the project. When completed, the project is expected to house 107 stores and two five-story office buildings.

Car Hits Girl, 11, Crying in Street Over Dying Dog

A grief-stricken Pontiac schoolgirl dashed out into the street last night to help a dying dog and was hit by a passing car.

Eleven-year-old Cecilia Joy Neiger, 11, of 813 Blaine Ave., was on her way to a grocery store for her mother when the animal was struck on Oakland avenue near Monticello avenue.

The horrified child raced to the dog's side and was weeping over its body when she was hit by a car driven by Noble J. Hall, 31, of 3302 Gilchrist Ct., Waterford Township.

Hall told Pontiac police he saw the girl in the street, but was unable to stop in time.

Cecilia, a fifth grade student at Wisner school, is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Neiger, 813 Blaine Ave. She was treated for abrasions to her body at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Police were unable to locate the owner of the dead pet.

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

Michigan's top political candidates continued hard-hitting campaign visits yesterday as Republican Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson wound up a two-day swing through the state in support of administration farm policies.

At Fowlerville, some 300 farmers huddled in the corner of a windswept fairgrounds grandstand while Benson milked a cow and talked politics. They applauded for both the milking and the talk.

Benson urged election of a Republican Congress. He said it would mean peace, prosperity, encouragement of free enterprise, integrity in government, fiscal responsibility and a firm policy against communism.

Gov. Williams and his Republican rival Paul D. Bagwell blasted away at favorite targets last night. Bagwell, in Muskegon, said "a few political bosses" are attempting to buy the election.

Bagwell said as much as a million dollars in union dues "will be spent to elect Democrats on Nov. 4."

Bagwell also said requests went out to all local unions "to turn over their entire Citizenship Fund for election activity in the next two weeks."

"The full force of the political bias of labor union politicians is about to be felt in the Michigan election," he said.

about the new pact and saw in it the possibility of "labor peace for the next three years."

"We feel the agreement is a workable one and justifiable from the point of view of the union," Beach said.

"We want to get the strike settled," said a Fisher Body spokesman, who declined further comment, however, for fear of upsetting negotiations which resumed at 9:30 a.m. today.

But Gerald W. Kehoe, president of Fisher Local 596, blamed the delay in settlement on management who, he said, "are trying to cancel a seniority agreement which has been in effect for 20 years."

"This is the first time in 20 years we've been deadlocked because of demands of management," said Kehoe.

Also on the bargaining table are local grievances and the wage agreement. Fisher Body approved the national GM agreement Saturday.

Strikes began at Pontiac Motor, Fisher Body and the GMC Truck & Coach Division Oct. 2, the date of the national GM strike deadline. Although the national settlement came later that day, strikes here continued over local issues. GMC Truck & Coach went back to work a week ago under terms of a new, three-year agreement.

made by a few political bosses to buy an election," Bagwell said, "we are witnessing it in Michigan right now."

Williams, in Temperance, repeated his assertion the GOP controlled Legislature "is the real roadblock to progress in Michigan."

Williams said instead of having a good record, Republicans were "spending their time smearing Michigan because their only chance lies in diverting attention from their record both in Washington and in Lansing."

"The only way to guarantee that Michigan enacts modern legislation for modern needs," the Governor said, "is to put more Democrats in the Michigan Legislature."

He said the record showed Republicans have refused to improve the school aid formula to meet rising costs and have cut back funds for the economic development department and the tourist council.

Sen. Charles E. Potter, seeking re-election over Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, told audiences in Bay and Arenac counties his rival was ready to join in Washington with advocates of public spending that would make the WPA (Works Progress Administration) of the 1930s "look like a backyard do-it-yourself project."

He charged today his opponent "wants Michigan to be half slave and half free."

Potter, in a speech in Jackson, accused Hart of unleashing "a torrent of double talk on civil rights to disguise the weakness of his position."

Hart, invading traditionally Republican territory in Kalamazoo, said his rival (Potter) is distinguished most by an undistinguished record in Congress.

That, he said, is one big reason he doesn't talk much about Potter. He says he prefers to discuss national problems and what he considers the failure and broken promises of the Eisenower administration.

Hart is speechmaking his way through the same Republican stronghold of Southern Michigan covered last week by Gov. Williams. He shook hands with 1,000 workers at five plants in Kalamazoo yesterday and paid quick visits to Moose, Knights of Columbus and Veterans of Foreign Wars lodges.

the part of either or both spouses in this older marriage category. "This is only a state of mind. And remember there is no deadline in marital relationships."

The lecturer also touched on what he called the greatest American sport these days — "jumping."

"You get up in the morning and immediately jump to the conclusion you have cancer or something else just because you might not be feeling up to par."

"You jump in to see your family doctor, and even though he gives up a clean bill of health, you don't believe him and go and see a second doctor," Dr. Crane pointed out.

On the subject of children, he urged parents "to bend over backwards" in setting good examples for them. He said children are more inclined to start drinking when they see their mothers and fathers indulging, despite verbal warnings against drinking.

tempting to dominate the country by "demagogic excess" was quickly communicated to the White House.

His speech tonight still was in the process of preparation today by Dr. Malcolm Moos, the chief White House speech writer, and Bryce N. Harlow, another presidential speech specialist.

Moos is generally regarded as being responsible for the new sharp punchy tone of the President's political phrases.

Yesterday the President centered his fire on corruption in union leadership, and in what he called an unmistakable trend toward federal interference in state and local affairs.

"Your Republican Party," he said, "has always opposed arbitrary, federalized control."

On labor, he declared that "corrupt labor bosses who have betrayed their trust" pose "a grave danger to all Americans."

Citizens League Picks Favorites

The League, which calls itself a "non-partisan organization for the promotion of better understanding of the problems of citizenship and their solution," disclosed its preferences for the various positions in the league "Bulletin."

In the races for state representative, the league preferred incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson (Rep.) over Odin H. Johnson, (Dem.), District 1; Arthur J. No preference was expressed for the office of county treasurer between incumbent Charles A. Sparks (Rep.) and William K. Benson (Dem.).

Incumbent Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry (Rep.) was preferred over Wallace E. Rice (Dem.) The League did not interview the candidates for county surveyor, Robert J. Lowney (Dem.) and Ralph A. Main (Rep.), and did not issue any report on this office.

The League also urged county voters to support the holding of a Michigan constitutional convention.

Torchlighters Ball Set Friday

The employes of Oakland County are sponsoring the dance, and all proceeds will go to this year's 10th anniversary Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

"Live While You Give," will be the theme for the 8 to 12 p.m. dance with the public invited.

The music will be supplied by the Pontiac Federation of Musicians, who will donate their pay for the evening to the Fund. Roy Hess, secretary-treasurer of the Federation will lead the band.

John Witherup, county personnel director, developed the idea for the dance. Witherup is in charge of the solicitation of county government employes during this year's three week UF drive which kicked off yesterday.

"The Torchlighters Ball presents a little different approach to giving, and if it succeeds it might develop into an annual social function for the community," stated Witherup.

The selection of Miss Oakland County Employe for October will serve as an added feature at the dance. She will reign as queen for the balance of the month, and honorary "Miss Torchy" for the evening.

Tickets, at $1.50 per person, can be purchased at the court house, Saginaw and Huron streets; the county office building at Saginaw and Lafayette streets and the county jail.

Rome's Ciampino airfield reported weather in the area was clear.

The shattered British plane crashed into an Italian artillery testing ground and only about 200 yards from an explosives dump.

Cosimo Baggialemani, 33, of nearby Nettuno, who was picking mushrooms, said he heard an explosion.

Looking up, he saw flames and then bits of wreckage fell around him.

One wing was about 600 feet from the smashed part of the fuselage. Part of the tail was 1,000 feet away.

Witnesses said the military plane continued its flight for a second after the collision, then nosed over as the pilot, Capt. Giovanni Savorelli, bailed out.

Crash crews were rushed from Rome's Ciampino airfield to this small fishing port where British and U. S. troops landed in World War II.

This was the latest in a series of crashes involving commercial and military planes.

Six Die as C47 Crashes, Burns

AF Plane Rams Peak in Pennsylvania on Way From Texas to Olmsted

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — An Air Force C47 crashed and exploded on a 970-foot mountain three miles south of Harrisburg today, killing six Air Force personnel.

★ ★ ★

The twin-engine craft crashed into the densely wooded mountain top and dug through trees for about 150 feet before it flipped over and began to burn.

★ ★ ★

Rescue crews from Olmsted Field, the destination of the craft, spent almost two hours getting the blaze under control and recovering the bodies. All of the bodies were burned in the crash.

Lt. Col. Rudolf Stewart, Olmsted Field engineering officer, said the craft was en route to Olmsted from Tarrant AFB, Fort Worth, Tex. and had stopped at Youngstown Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Stewart said the plane apparently had swept into the mountain, only a few miles from Olmsted Field at Middletown, as it emerged from a low overcast.

Find Kierdorf Guilty of Having Silencer

Kierdorf was free, in the same amount, was automatically cancelled with the guilty verdict.

In Judge Adams' basement courtroom when the decision came was Leaun Harrelson, Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 president, who was once questioned in the still unsolved Kierdorf burning.

He chatted awhile with Kierdorf, once business agent for Detroit Teamsters Joint Council 43, in the corner of the courtroom.

Harrelson said he was there to talk to Dohany about damage allegedly being done to the local's building on Telegraph road by a storm sewer construction project.

Jurors reached their verdict on a second ballot, one said. The first one was 11 to 1 for conviction.

The silencer which could send Kierdorf back to prison for a third time in his lifetime was taken by Chief Richardson from a neighbor's home of Kierdorf's in Madison Heights.

The day was Aug. 4 and not too many hours after Frank Kierdorf, a Flint Teamster organizer, stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with critical burns from head to foot.

Zisman and Dohany argued during the four-day trial that the silencer, a 10½-inch homemade gadget made of plumber's pipe, was a muffler for a power lawn mower.

The Day in Birmingham

AAUW 5-Day Book Sale Ready to Open Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Monday will mark the opening of the 31st annual book sale sponsored by Birmingham Chapter of the American Association of University Women.

The sale will take place in the Detroit Edison office on Merrill street. Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., except Monday and Thursday when closing time is 9 p.m. It will continue through Friday.

Mrs. Warner L. Stowell, chairman, said representatives of 55 hospitals, libraries, schools and children's homes again will be able to make purchases at no expense. For the past 10 years, a local businessman has picked up the tab for these sales.

The AAUW this year has sent a special invitation to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, to buy books for patients' book carts.

Mrs. Stowell predicts the demand for children's books again will far exceed the supply. She said a bookmobile will tour the city Friday and Saturday, making collections. She particularly stressed that books and magazines for children are needed.

Present indications are that 25,000 books will be sold during the five-day sale, according to Mrs. Stowell.

Dr. Richard Featherstone, administrative assistant of the Birmingham School District, headed a recent bargain hunt at the Federal Surplus Property Section at Jackson.

Material to be used in shop courses and the athletic program include saws, micrometers, dial indicators, goggles, plastic hammers, telescopes and a regulation U. S. parachute.

Henry J. Gunter

Requiem Mass will be conducted for Henry J. Gunter, 66, of 1065 Greentree Rd., Birmingham, at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Hugo of the Hills Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Gunter died yesterday at the Veterans Hospital in Iron Mountain. His body will be brought tomorrow to Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., where the Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday.

Mr. Gunter formerly owned a chain of meat markets in Detroit. He was a veteran of World War I, a member of St. Anthony's Church, the Lions Club and the VFW, all at Gwinn.

Surviving are his wife; Crystal; four daughters, Mrs. Frank Noftz and Mrs. Robert Strye, both of Birmingham, Mrs. Glen Campbell of Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Lee Golomvisky of Warren; two sisters, a brother and nine grandchildren.

The pilot and owner of the plane, Charles S. Wolf, 31, a Detroit businessman, was reported as "greatly improved" and in fair condition at Highland Park General Hospital. Yesterday, Morgan and Wolf were reported in serious condition.

Thomas S. Murphy, supervising inspector for the Detroit office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said this morning that he was investigating the crash but that all conclusions and findings would have to be released through the Washington office after he reported to them within a month.

Wolf had received landing clearance at the City Airport when his engine died. The trio was returning from a weekend hunting trip near Port Sanilac.

Noted Psychologist, Dr. Crane States:

Work Laws Causing Delinquency

Laws which prohibit some high school students from working part time after school are partially to blame for leading kids into trouble, noted psychologist Dr. George W. Crane said yesterday.

Dr. Crane, whose column, "Case Records of a Psychologist," appears daily in The Pontiac Press, was interviewed on the subject of juvenile delinquency following a talk to Pontiac Central High School seniors and other area high school students.

"I think the trend nowadays of blaming delinquency on parents often is a case of buck-passing," the doctor said.

"The pendulum has been swinging in this direction lately and I don't think the shoe always fits the foot. Children at 16 have the brain power to distinguish between right and wrong, but some of them, especially the boys, consider it a mark of social esteem to break the laws," he elaborated.

He criticized the availability of idle hours which, he said, teenagers seem to have a lot of. One reason for this, Dr. Crane said, is that they are not employed in the part-time jobs in groceries, filling stations, department stores that used to be the custom years ago.

Certain child labor laws prohibit employers from hiring the many who earnestly seek after-school work, he explained.

Dr. Crane said the four questions most often asked of him by teenagers are: (1) Is going steady right? (2) How to win friends (3) How to carry on a conversation, and (4) What to study for in school.

Going steady has its advantages and disadvantages for young girls, he said. Major advantage is the convenience of always having a date for a football game, movie or dance.

Biggest disadvantage, the doctor cited, is that the girl receives a narrow understanding of the opposite sex.

"When you go shopping for a bargain you don't just examine one brand of goods, you study several," Dr. Crane used as an example.

Seniors yesterday afternoon learned from the doctor that when they pick an adult to copy, they should strive to imitate those grownups with good habits. The title of his speech was "Be A Good Ape."

He stressed the physical and financial disadvantages of smoking and drinking.

★ ★ ★

His afternoon lecture in the Central High auditorium stressed the importance of finishing high school and attending college. Dr. Crane told of the worth of a college degree and how many employers require it as a prerequisite for employment.

The 950 students gave Dr. Crane a rousing ovation at the conclusion of his lecture.

Back on the subject of juvenile delinquency, Dr. Crane said the ideal way to raise children, that of having the mother at home most of the time, is not always "feasible" in today's economic setup.

Besides those legally divorced husbands and wives with children, there is another 40 per cent of families who are living under a "psychological atmosphere" of divorce.

"From this percentage," the columnist said, "comes a large share of our teenage criminals."

Is the often-heard criticism that television "shoot 'em up" shows are giving kids criminal ideas correct, Dr. Crane was asked.

"Television is like the proverbial two-edged sword," he answered. "It's not all bad and not all good."

'Shiv Is Mine!' Sobs Girl

Model, Actress Fight Over Indian Prince

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP) — An auburn-haired model is disputing much-married actress Eva Bartok's claim to the hand of wealthy young Indian Prince Shiv.

"Shiv is mine," Jane Buckingham said Tuesday night. "I won't let her take him away from me."

Eva's press agent announced Monday the 29-year-old actress was "unofficially engaged" to the 27-year-old prince from Palitana.

As Jane fumed and cried for reporters, Eva and the Marquis of Milford Haven—who friends say had planned to become her husband No. 5—squabbled like an old married couple on the doorstep of a glittering society party. Also attending the party were Frank Sinatra and beautiful American-born Lady Beatty, for whom the London papers have been predicting wedding bells.

Jane proclaimed that Shiv "loves me and I love him. And that Eva Bartok is going to find out pretty soon."

★ ★ ★

"I won't let her take him away from me. I won't, I won't. I've always wanted to marry him," she declared amid sobs.

Jane and the prince have been dating since they met July 31. They talked of marriage, Jane said—until Eva came along 11 days ago.

Jane was interviewed in pedestrian Paddington. Eva and the marquis were partying at Lady Northampton's in fashionable Kensington. The prince was speeding toward Naples to see his father, the 58-year-old Maharaja Shree Sir Bahadursinhji Thakor Saheb, reportedly to ask permission to marry Eva.

Eva drove up to Lady Northampton's with Milford Haven in her brand new $14,000 Rolls Royce. The marquis looked angry.

As the Hungarian-born actress fiddled with her car keys, he snapped: "What on earth are you doing? Do you want to be besieged?

Then, as they reached the cream front door, he turned on his heel and shouted to newsmen: "There's no engagement."

★ ★ ★

Eva's eyes flashed angrily. "You shouldn't say things like that, darling," she whispered.

Snapped back the marquis: "Well, it's true, isn't it? What do I know about an official engagement? Are you engaged or not?"

Eva had no time to reply before being ushered inside.

As they left the party two hours later, Milford Haven turned on sightseers clustered outside and barked: "What are you morons looking at? Can't you leave the girl alone?"

★ ★ ★

They drove off together toward the white-walled cottage in nearby Kingston where Eva lives with the year-old daughter whose father she has never named publicly. On the way the marquis jumped out and took a cab to his club.

Liz Loses Out on Top Award Due to Gossip

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor has romanced herself out of the "Star of the Year" award of the Theater Owners of America, the Miami News said today.

Instead, Deborah Kerr will receive the trophy and scroll at a banquet Saturday night.

The selection of the recently widowed Miss Taylor for her role in Tennessee Williams' "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" had appeared to be a cinch until reports of a romance between her and singer Eddie Fisher, husband of Debbie Reynolds.

The News said "the movie industry is at the mercy of public opinion and to award Miss Taylor the honor at a time like this was out of the question. Her name was pigeon-holed and Miss Kerr received the call."

★ ★ ★

Fragment of Plane Sighted in Pacific

★ ★ ★

The Navy said today the sighting was 285 miles west-northwest of Guam. The Gen. Patrick, a military sea transport service ship en route to Guam from Manila, headed for the area.

★ ★ ★

As the search continued, the Navy disclosed for the first time that smoke flares had been seen in the area Sunday. The plane vanished Saturday.

New York will lead in the total vote with 5,350,000, the survey revealed, followed by California with 5,050,000. Pennsylvania is expected to be third with 4 million ballots cast. Illinois and Ohio were tied for fourth with 3,450,000 votes each in the AP survey.

Haggling Delays Roads Our Area Needs Badly

Highway construction is a slow process at best. We should bear this in mind when haggling by various agencies and groups continues to delay final authorization for new highways.

★ ★ ★

Due to necessity, the general program is further slowed by the amount of coordination required by the Interstate System. The rule in the past has been that highways included in the current program will be built by the individual states, according to standards agreed upon by the Bureau of Public Roads.

★ ★ ★

This is sound reasoning, but it should be remembered that each delay is putting off that much longer the time before you are able to drive on it.

We need highways now, not ten years hence.

It has been estimated that on the average 21 months elapse between authorization of funds for a specific portion of the Interstate System and the start of construction.

The actual building of the highway takes another two years average, which makes a total of four years before the road is ready to use.

Taking into consideration these time lags, it is easy to understand why some of the proposed highways for Oakland County and the rest of the state are far from being a reality.

New highways and roads have been the focal point of considerable discussion for the past several years without too much action. It's the constant bickering over location, etc., that still leaves much to be desired in our county and state highway program.

★ ★ ★

Everyone has a lobby for his particular road, but by and large we are still driving on archaic highways far behind other sections of the country.

De Gaulle's Orders End Algerian Unrest

Premier DE GAULLE has taken a firm hand in dealing with the Army and French colonists in Algeria.

Ever since the army brought on the crisis in France which resulted in DE GAULLE's rise to power, there has been the big question of whether DE GAULLE or the army would be boss in Algeria.

DE GAULLE now has ordered the military, which had been the backbone of the so-called Committees of Public Safety, to get out of politics. "The time has come," said DE GAULLE, "for the military to stop taking part in any organization which has a political character . . . I order them to withdraw without delay."

The army yielded reluctantly and a scheduled strike protesting the Premier's policies has collapsed. The strike was supported by student organizations and French colonists who are holding out for integration of Algeria with France.

A second De Gaulle order provides that Moslems representing all opinions, even independence from France, be permitted to campaign openly. This should mean completely free elections set for November 23rd. Moslems are assured two-thirds representation in the National Assembly.

★ ★ ★

By these orders DE GAULLE challenged the extremists in the military and the colonists as well. They also are appeals to the rebel National Liberation Front to use the ballot instead of guns. The fact that independence was granted Guinea immediately and that an autonomous Madagascar Republic within the French Community was recognized, is proof that DE GAULLE means what he says. Not even the Communists can call him a Fascist and his most bitter opponent, former Premier MENDES-FRANCE, welcomes the orders as evidence that DE GAULLE doesn't seek to be a dictator.

★ ★ ★

Premier DE GAULLE's firm control and wise decisions in Algeria are heartening to France's Allies.

How We Voted

Oakland County Results in the Election of 1956

Summer: What's lingering in the lap of autumn.

Voice of the People

'Shortage of Funds Means Aid May Come Too Late'

Those who attended the United Fund kickoff program were favored with one of the most sincere humanitarian appeals to help your neighbor in need that I have ever heard. That appeal was made by John Hirlinger of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

In his talk Mr. Hirlinger described the tremendous good that has been accomplished in the community by the various UF agencies. He emphasized, however, that due to the lack of sufficient funds, pleas for assistance could not always be answered in time to prevent extreme suffering, and sometimes irreparable damage to families and individuals. Unable to render this urgently needed assistance, concerned agencies were forced to look on helplessly. Except for lack of adequate facilities, many of those tragedies could have been prevented.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Hirlinger urged everyone who can possibly do so to give their full support to this year's Torch Drive. Care enough to give enough.

'Does Potter Know Who Opponent Is?'

Do your boy Charlie Potter a favor and tell him it's Phil Hart, not Walter Reuther, he's running against for senator.

You also might tell him to discuss the issues of the election and not personalities only. Not that it's going to make any difference anyway, but the people might have fonder memories of him after he's gone.

'It'll Be Pleasure to Pay Dues Again'

I sure wish the people who write complaining about Mr. Reuther and the union would move someplace else. Then maybe some of us who have been laid off for most of the year could go back to work. It would be a privilege to pay those union dues again.

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Recent Talk Best of Career

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower made the best political speech of his career at Los Angeles this week. It was a great speech because for the first time he outlined clearly the difference between the radicals and the conservatives in America today.

LAWRENCE

If Eisenhower could have stressed this theme earlier in his administration, it would have prevented much of the factionalism that has weakened his party. But the significant thing is that the President has definitely accepted the path of sound economics and sound fiscal policy as well as firmness in international affairs as basic Republicanism.

He has also supplemented what Vice President Nixon has been saying—that peace cannot be assured by any policies of surrender and that the way to deal with communism is to stand up to it instead of retreating under its pressures.

"Let's consider a significant fact," said the President. "The Democrat Party is not one—but two political parties with the same name. They unite only once every two years—to wage political campaigns.

"At one extreme is a wing whose campaigns were largely settled in southern primaries held weeks ago. At the other extreme is the stronger wing, dominated by political radicals. The campaigns of this wing are still going on.

"These self-styled liberals are the ones who really challenge sane, sound, forward-looking government in the United States. It is against the spread of their radical influence that we are waging this campaign."

The President didn't touch on the issue of compulsory unionization, but he did blast away at labor union racketeering and blamed the Democrats for failing to put through strong enough legislation to cope with corruption in unions.

The President minced no words in inveighing against federal control and socialization of industry. He said the radical Democrats are the ones who try to vest more and more authority in the federal government and "who turn to federal power even where private power can do the job—to governmental housing where private housing can meet the need—to federal domination of agriculture rather than trusting to the initiative and freedom of the farmer—to federal development of nuclear power where private development will best serve the interests of the United States."

As Eisenhower sketched his conception of the two rival wings in the Democratic Party, he concluded with this statement; "One is spendthrift—the other conservative. In short, our opposition can offer America only deadlocked government—government that wages war on itself."

★ ★ ★

The President obviously is endeavoring to woo conservative Republicans back to the fold. His speech is the kind they like to hear. Some will remain skeptical, wondering if the precepts will be fulfilled in future policies.

The chances are they will be. For it is apparent that Eisenhower is himself somewhat disillusioned by "modern Republicanism," if by this is meant an imitation of the New Deal and the Fair Deal in their spending habits that disregard the cost to the taxpayer.

The President has a good chance to reunite the factions in his party in the next two years. Irrespective of the outcome of the present congressional campaign, Eisenhower has blazed the trail for the 1960 contest.

He has cast his die on the side of truly liberal and progressive doctrine which means sound conservatism as opposed to radicalism and socialism.

Man is the crowning of history and the realization of poetry, the free and living bond which unites all nature to that God who created it for Himself.—F. Godet.

Record Midterm Vote Possible Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official and unofficial estimates today placed the nation's eligible voters for the Nov. 4 elections at 76,145,600. This is a record for a midterm election.

Despite scattered reports of voter apathy, the same sources estimated the probable total vote in the 48 states at 48,131,226, including the 284,226 already officially recorded for Senate candidates in Maine Sept. 8. This also would be the highest for any non-presidential year.

The Associated Press tabulation is based on estimates gathered from state officials, party chairmen and in a few instances from veteran political writers.

It showed a gain of 1,266,454 qualified voters over the record established in the last midterm election in 1954. However, it is about four million under the total of eligibles for the 1956 presidential election.

The estimated vote represents an increase of 3,683,730 over the previous midterm highest vote in 1954. That total of 44,447,496 was reached by adding the top vote in each state whether for senator, governor or combined House vote.

The 1954 official vote for representatives was 42,582,927, including 22,366,386 for Democratic candidates and 20,016,809 for Republicans. The remainder went to independent and small party candidates. The largest presidential vote was more than 62 million in 1956.

The estimate of 76,145,600 eligibles for this year compares with a Census Bureau estimate of 104,600,000 "potential" voters for the coming election (civilians 21 years of age and over; 18 and over in Georgia and Kentucky). The potential vote has gained 4,377,000 over 1954.

Twenty-seven states show gains over 1954 in the estimated number of persons who have registered, paid poll taxes, or otherwise have met state voting requirements for the elections Nov. 4. The biggest gains are in California, 867,000, and Iowa and North Carolina, 200,000 each.

Nine states have qualified fewer voters than in 1954, although in some instances election officials said their estimates four years ago were too high. The nine states: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee and West Virginia.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Low Blood Sugar Acts as Spur to Appetite

The blood of a healthy person contains from 80 to 120 milligrams of sugar per 100 cubic centimeters of blood—approximately 1½ grains of sugar in 3½ fluid ounces of blood — before breakfast in the morning. After breakfast and for the rest of the day the sugar level is higher, about 140 milligrams.

DR. BRADY

Remember, these figures apply to health.

The appetite, or sense of hunger, in normal persons is controlled to a considerable degree by the blood sugar level.

Obesity, excessive bulk, oversize (weight doesn't matter so much), when all the conventional hokum about glandular disturbances has been iterated, is the result of eating too much carbohydrate (sugars and starches), protein and fat — the food materials named in the order of their convertibility into sugar.

All the carbohydrate in the diet is changed to sugar in the digestive process. More than half of the protein (lean meat, egg white, cheese and the nitrogenous material in vegetables such as peas and beans and that in nuts and peanuts); and only a tenth of the fats and oils in the diet is converted into sugar.

When the blood sugar level is low, appetite goes up; when the blood sugar level is high, the two-helping or three-helping appetite is satisfied with a single helping.

SOME SWEETS ADVISABLE

And so, eating or drinking something containing no more than two level teaspoonfuls of sugar (a level teaspoon of sugar yields about 18 calories) half an hour before a meal will prevent blood sugar level from getting too low, and appetite or craving for food from getting ravenous with consequent wolfing of far more than 36 calories to appease it.

This works only when blood sugar level is really low. This being a health, not a medical column, I shall say only this about the manifestations of low blood sugar (doctors call the state hypoglycemia): one of the mildest of them is the extreme and unreasonable hunger already described, accompanied with noticeable irritability, impatience and anxiety.

At a party where the liquor lapper-uppers keep dinner waiting too long, a person with low blood sugar may hold out comfortably with a soft drink (most varieties of "pop" contain a heaping teaspoonful of sugar to the glass), but must beware of anything alcoholic.

The Country Parson

"Some of today's churches serve so many meals you can't tell them from restaurants—except that everybody waits till grace is said before they start eating."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Most People Are Honest, Kind

Mrs. Small's helpfulness to these stranded mountain folks from Kentucky is another evidence of human kindness. But do you think people are more honest or more thoughtful? Debate this point and use the "Compliment Club" as a helpful church project to harness your kindly motives.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 351: Hazel Small, aged 58, is the motherly person who operates the roadside restaurant mentioned yesterday.

★ ★ ★

During the heat of the summer, she found a Kentucky car stalled in the driveway in front of her eating place when she came to work one morning.

DR. CRANE

It contained an elderly couple plus three other adults and a child.

When her son Lee arrived, she asked him to find out what was wrong. Lee reported that the automobile had broken down and the occupants were unable to finance the garage repair bill that would run about $85.

Later in the day, the elderly man came into Mrs. Small's restaurant and asked if he could try to telephone to Kentucky to some of his relatives.

He made several futile phone calls but got no reply. Meanwhile, the Kentucky folks bought hamburgers and soda pop.

They stayed out under a big Sycamore tree beside the restaurant sleeping there all night. And for three days they parked beside Mrs. Small's restaurant.

Finally, Mrs. Small called the elderly man inside and asked him if she could be of any help.

He said he had a paycheck due him, totalling about $150 but would be required to get it in person, and he lacked money to take a bus to Kentucky after it.

So Mrs. Small found that the bus fare would run to $9, so she volunteered to lend him $15. The extra money was for meals en route.

Then this man's wife came in and said she hated to impose on Mrs. Small but she couldn't stand sleeping outside any longer and would Mrs. Small lend her bus fare, too, to get back home.

HIGHWAY KINDNESS

Well, Mrs. Small not only added the extra money to send both of them on a bus, but she asked a truck driver to take this couple to Crawfordsville, 8 miles east, where they could get on the bus.

Meanwhile, the other occupants of the stalled car were out of money, so Mrs. Small staked them to over $13 worth of hamburgers and soda pop.

★ ★ ★

But in a couple of days, back came the elderly Kentuckian. He paid Mrs. Small in full for the money she had lent him, plus the $13 worth of food his children and grandchild had eaten.

The car was soon overhauled at the nearby garage, and the Kentuckians were on their way.

The elderly Kentuckian expressed gratitude to Mrs. Small and vowed if she ever came to the bluegrass state, she should look him up.

"We are poor people," he added, "but we shall try to show you that we appreciate your kindness to us strangers when we felt we were in a strange land."

Mrs. Small's kindness was doubly valuable because the elderly couple had lived in the Kentucky mountains all their lives and this was their first trip away from home.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane," Mrs. Small added, "don't you find that most people are kind and honest?"

Yes, but I think they are even more honest than they are thoughtful. You may thus recall that only ONE out of ten lepers whom Jesus had healed from a sure death, ever returned to say "Thank you, Master."

It isn't lack of honesty that rates so low among us modern folks as failure to pay deserved compliments to our family and friends.

★ ★ ★

So send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Then get a group launched upon this fascinating experiment in Christian psychology. It helps you harness your kindness.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Sees Dems Split

Economy Rise to Sweep Republicans In – Nixon

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Vice President Nixon is betting the Republicans will win in November because he believes the current quarter of the year will be 'economically "the best in American history."

Nixon did a lot of talking about foreign policy Tuesday, in political forays into Delaware and Maryland. He even divided the Democrats into "moderates" who support President Eisenhower's international policies and the "radicals" who don't.

But the most hopeful note in the vice president's speeches was pegged to his assertion that the economy is moving up—and with it the prospects of Republican victories in some Senate and House races despaired of previously.

Nixon pointed up the significance of an economic upturn with a declaration in a speech in Baltimore Tuesday night that "this campaign will be won or lost in the last two weeks. This is the time when our opponents have made their move and have lost."

Nixon, campaigning today in Connecticut, Vermont and Rhode Island before appearances Thursday in New York, is looking to the Midwest to provide the upset victories he believes may save some Republican and Senate House seats that generally have been marked as lost.

"Republican chances in the farm belt look better than at any time since 1952," he said. "It is not so much what the administration has done for the farmer but the fact that farm prices have gone up."

★ ★ ★

Nixon said he thinks President Eisenhower's campaigning has provided a tonic needed by Republicans to get them going full blast. But he said other Republicans must follow through on the President's efforts.

"We can't sit back and let the big boy do it alone," he said.

Values of Farm Lands Expected to Rise More

WASHINGTON — Federal forecasters expect the market value of farm real estate to advance 4 to 6 per cent this year.

The nation's farm land was officially estimated to be worth 114.7 billion dollars last November and is likely to top 120 billion in value by 1959, the experts figure.

Adlai States Russia Doesn't Want War

CHICAGO (AP)—The Soviet Union does not want war, says Adlai E. Stevenson, who several weeks ago returned from a visit to the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

"But Russians do evidence a fear of being ringed around with American bases and they suffer a sad ignorance of the West," Stevenson told a meeting of the Inland Daily Press Assn. Tuesday.

The twice-defeated Democratic candidate for president also said that even after 40 years of hostile propaganda there is no "hate America" psychosis among the masses in the Soviet Union.

Stevenson told the newspaper executives not to be fooled by reports of a rift between Red China and the Soviet Union.

He said the Soviet Union may be concerned about the growth and development of her Communist partner, but that nothing he saw or heard indicated any crack in solidarity.

Shall We Rewrite Michigan's Constitution?

Our Basic Law Amended 63 Times Since 1908

(Third in a series of 10 articles on constitutional conventions)

By ARTHUR W. BROMAGE
Professor of Political Science
University of Michigan

There are three ways to change Michigan's constitution:

1. The Legislature may submit amendments for ratification by the voters;

2. The people themselves may initiate an amendment and put it on the ballot; or

3. A constitutional convention may be called, and it may propose either general revision or amendment.

It is this third proposition that will appear on the November ballot.

Why call a convention if the constitution can be changed two other ways? The objective of a convention is to review the document as a whole with an eye to major modernization.

There is no point in holding a convention just to tinker with existing provisions. Details may be improved by the other two methods. What conventions can do, and have, stands forth from the record of past performance.

Michigan has had three constitutions. The first, dating from 1835, was confined to essentials. It created a strong governor and left wide discretion to the Legislature.

The governor and the lieutenant governor were the only elected executive officers. The governor could appoint minor executive officers, judges of the Supreme Court and county prosecutors.

At the middle of the last century, a convention was called and drafted a constitution about twice as long. It won approval at the polls in 1850.

The governor's power to appoint was curbed and many administrative posts were made elective, as they remain today. The election of all judges became the rule. Detailed restrictions, especially on fiscal policy and debt, were thrown around the Legislature.

Michigan's third constitutional convention, in 1907-1908, framed the document now in use. In addition to retaining much of the 1850 constitution, it extended the Jacksonian idea in providing for the election of certain administrative officers and judges. Restrictions on the Legislature were increased. A new feature was added: Home rule for cities and villages.

Home rule means the power to frame their own charters.

Although the 1908 constitution remains the core of Michigan's fundamental law today, it has been amended 63 times and 56 other proposed amendments have been rejected by the voters.

By a series of amendments, the state has, for example, established a civil service system, set up nonpartisan election of judges, limited the property tax, provided for the distribution of the sales tax to local governments and school districts, and fixed the present apportionment of the Legislature.

★ ★ ★

It is this 50-year-old much-amended constitution of 1908 which will be re-examined if the voters Nov. 4 call a constitutional convention.

Equals Round Trip to Moon

Dulles Logs 522,226 Miles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles arrived in Formosa yesterday for talks with President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China he had logged more than enough air miles during his six years in office for a round trip to the moon.

The unofficial total for America's jet-age foreign minister when his plane touched down at Taipei, Formosa, read approximately 522,226 miles of air travel since January, 1953.

Of this 447,553 has been abroad and 74,673 within the United States.

America's traveling 70-year-old statesman, who is called an unguided missile by his enemies and a dynamic peacemaker by his friends, chalked up another first on this trip when he flew over the north polar region in an alll-jet transport on the England-Alaska leg of his flight from Rome, Italy, to Taipei.

Dulles, who made a speedy and apparently complete recovery from a major abdominal operation for cancer in November, 1956, has shown no sign he intends to let either advancing age or infirmity dull his zest for roaring off into the wild blue yonder when he feels an international crisis demands his attention.

When he returns to Washington from his current trip he will have logged about 70,000 miles during the first 10 months of 1958 with a possibility of more before the end of the year.

A state department tabulation showed the secretary, before taking off on his current trip, had amassed a foreign mileage total in six years of 432,853 miles. Air Force officials said an unofficial estimate of his trip to Rome, England, Alaska and Taipei would add something in the neighborhood of 14,700 miles, bringing the foreign travel to about 447,553. His domestic total pushes this up to 522,226.

The secretary's wanderings since January, 1953, have taken him to 45 countries, many of them more than once. This is his second trip this year to Formosa. He also was there in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

Dulles' absence from Washington makes little difference to his top aides who receive almost as large a stream of messages and memoranda from him as when he is seated in his fifth-floor office in Washington.

The secretary defends his wide travels on the ground that personal diplomacy is more effective than long-range communication. He also has confided he enjoys the flight periods for calm, reflective thinking that is difficult when in an office besieged by callers.

★ ★ ★

Under Dulles, unlike previous state department administrators, policy begins at the top and flows down. Thus he does not miss the absence of a staff for guidance when abroad.

★ ★ ★

Dulles, in his work-day at home or abroad, gives no evidence he is ready to compromise with the advancing years. Arising at 6:30 a.m. he eats a hearty breakfast, goes through a gruelling day which would floor many a younger man and works into the evening. He usually retires about 10 o'clock when possible but many times official functions and courtesies keep him up until midnight.

Plan Marker Lights to Serve 25 Years

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (UPI) — A new exit marker has been developed for aircraft which can provide uninterrupted light for up to 25 years—without an external power source.

The new markers, according to the U.S. Radium Corp., are made of glass tubes which are coated internally with a special phosphor and filled with tritium.

The tritium excites the phosphor, which then emits light. The best of the markers, according to the firm, are visible at 100 feet or more in the dark.

Frederika Shuns Spotlight on Visit to U.S.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Queen Frederika of Greece, possibly the most unpompous ruler in history (a tipsy senator once called her the "cutest little queenie I ever saw") has arrived in the United States.

It is an unofficial visit. And perhaps a good thing, too.

"The Queen," it was reported to us today, "has had to pack her own clothes for the first time on an extended trip. She gave her personal maid a vacation."

Unaccustomed as she is to private packing, her harried highness may well have forgotten the royal plastic toothbrush, not to mention her mad-money purse containing the wherewithal for her favorite American indulgence: Drugstore variety double-chocolate sodas.

Frederika is such a delightful woman that it is a pity more Americans won't meet her. But this time, in contrast to her "state visit" in 1953, the informal (she's been called "Freddie," even "Fried Egg") and little (5-foot-3) highness is strictly a tourist.

She wants to show her daughter, Sophia, 21, and son, Crown Prince Constantine, Duke of Sparta, 20, what America is like. They will visit only Washington, New York, Boston and California. And except for a few formal social affairs, they will be visiting only friends.

★ ★ ★

It is likely that many residents of the cities she visits will catch a glimpse of the Queen in stores and on streets. And—if she is greeted with the anonymity she hopes for—these citizens will not be able to distinguish her from a suburban housewife.

HUNTS FOR BARGAINS

She loves to browse through Athens shops for bargains in clothing and palace-hold furnishings.

The 41-year-old Queen drives around the Greek capital in a sports car. An American Army sergeant, who used to wave to the "cute moppet" whenever she passed him in her scarlet MG, was distressed to learn she was the Queen. When Frederika heard about it, she said, "Relax, sergeant, and let's get back to our old waving basis."

★ ★ ★

Always on a budget, she used to make over old clothes. Even now, she worries about the money she must spend for clothes and has to haggle a bit with Greek-born Paris designer Jean Desses who makes her wardrobe. Frederika had exactly $5,700 to spend on her royal robes for the last U.S. visit. She had to borrow a fur coat for the wintertime trip.

Living in a palace hasn't dulled the Queen's domestic spirit. She still cooks dinner frequently.

Ruth Hagy, the attractive brain who presides over TV's "College News Conference," is currently in Athens. Couple of days ago she ran into an old friend, Mary Caralou, grand mistress of the Greek court. Ruth writes us that Frederika has refused literally hundreds of invitations for this American trip.

The reason: "She does not wish to take advantage of American hospitality and seem to use it for propaganda."

How like the Queen, that statement.

I met Frederika nine years ago at an Athens reception, before she had come here, and this is what she said she wanted from our country:

"I want to see America. I want to meet a movie star. And I want to taste a—what do you call them—chocolate soda . . ."

ROYAL VISITORS ARRIVE. — Queen Frederika of Greece, flanked by two of her children, has a smile and a wave for greeters on her arrival in New York aboard the French liner Ile de France for an unofficial six-weeks visit to the United States. With the 41-year-old queen are Crown Prince Constantine, 18, and Princess Sophie, 20.

Russian Cattle Gain in Production of Milk

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI) — Russia is crossing western bulls with Russian cows and producing cattle better than any she had before, according to Dr. William A. Hagan, dean of Cornell University's Veterinary College who spent 34 days studying the Soviet livestock industry.

In general, he found U.S. cattle far superior to Russia's but said that the Soviets are gaining rapidly. At present the average Russian cow produces 4,000 pounds of milk annually. This figure is much higher than it was 10 years ago, but the average U.S. cow produces 6,000 pounds of milk a year.

Wayne Confers Degrees

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University has awarded honorary degrees to four engineers—Arthur B. Bronwell, president of Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Massachusetts; Mervin J. Kelly, president of Bell Telephone laboratories; Chad Joseph Raseman of the Brookhaven National Laboratory, and Karl E. Schmidt, vice president of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

"Guy" has long been a part of American slang. The word is the French name for a man who leads a group or a community.

Staten Island Boy, 8, to Continue Psychiatric Treatment in Utah

NEW YORK (UPI) — Melvin Dean Nimer Jr., 8, who "confessed" and then recanted the fatal stabbing of his parents, will go to Utah to live with his grandparents and continue psychiatric treatment begun here in Bellevue Hospital.

Harris B. Steinberg, attorney for the tow-headed, freckle-faced lad, said a report from Bellevue physicians indicated that Melvin "is suffering from an emotional disturbance that requires continuing close psychiatric supervision." Steinberg said psychiatric tests showed that Melvin may have had a "personality disorder" prior to his parents' slaying in their Staten Island home Sept. 2.

"The required care has been arranged for by his family and will be provided by physicians in Utah," Steinberg said.

Melvin will be returned to Orem, Utah, his parents' hometown and the residence of his grandparents, Mrs. E. E. Nimer and D. E. Park. He lived in the Mormon community for several years and has school friends there — and his grandfather's horses, which he hopes to learn to ride.

The youth has been under voluntary psychiatric examination at Bellevue for six weeks. He was held as a material witness in "John Doe" homicide proceedings after his parents' murders, but was freed Sept. 23. No one ever has been arrested in connection with the slayings.

Melvin at first told police his parents were stabbed by a man in a white mask who had tried to choke him as he lay in bed. His description tallied with the description given by Dr. Melvin D. Nimer and his wife, Lou Jean, both 31, as they were dying —"prowler . . . mask" and "a hood . . . a man as tall as my husband."

But later, Melvin told police he killed his parents with a kitchen knife out of resentment for their strictness, washed the knife clean and put it back in a drawer. An analysis of all the knives in the house failed to turn up a trace of blood. There was no blood on Melvin either. He did have slight bruises on his neck, however.

Actually, the king-size hoops are antenna tubings for a unique long-distance radio system developed by International Telephone and Telegraph Laboratories at Nutley, N. J. Navy Operates Reactor Designed to Power Big Surface Vessels

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A large ship reactor designed to prove the effectiveness of atomic propulsion for a cruiser and an aircraft carrier went into operation Tuesday at the nearby National Reactor Testing Station.

Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, chief of the Navy's nuclear program, was present when the reactor sustained a chain reaction.

Rickover said he feels the large ship reactor will prove as revolutionary as the atomic submarine.

"We may find new, undreamed of uses for big surface ships. These are things that must be tried out before we can fully assess their value," he said.

The prototype power plant is a huge hull with two atomic reactors driving a single shaft. It was designed for two nuclear-powered ships now under construction —the guided missile cruiser Long Beach and the aircraft carrier Enterprise.

Sen. Henry Dworshak (R-Idaho) a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, said surface ships powered by the atom could eliminate tankers and big fueling installations ashore.

★ ★ ★

The prototype power plant was designed and developed by Westinghouse Electric Corp. In cooperation with the AEC. The Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. built the simulated hull and the installed nuclear and machinery plant components under a subcontract with Westinghouse.

Capistrano Watches, Waits

Swallows Due to Leave

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—For the 181st time of record, the swallows of Mission San Juan Capistrano are due to leave their summer home Thursday.

Legend has it that these North American swallows quit their nests in the mission Oct. 23, the day of St. Juan, and return March 19, St. Joseph's Day.

There may be variations either way, depending upon the weather and the leaders' inclinations. If the wing commander has a hangover or spots storm clouds to the south, he could keep the swallow squadron around a day or so.

This sort of heresy is frowned on in these quarters, however. The target days are held by some of the devout to be inviolate. They point out that San Juan and St. Joseph's Day are feast days and that for reasons beyond the ken of mortal man the swallows use these days for their migrations from and to this historic mission, founded in 1776 by Father Junipero Serra.

There will be special masses and pageantry Thursday in the mission. Catholic schoolchildren will parade in monks' custumes and in Spanish dress to the tuneful accompaniment of mariachis. The mission bells in the Sacred Garden will toll later in observance of the death of St. John Capistrano, from whom the mission gets its name. He was born in 1386 in the village of Capistrano, Abruzzi, Italy, died Oct. 23, 1456, after the Battle of Belgrade.

With the tolling of the bells, the graceful swallows, among the very best fliers in space, are due to be off for Central and South America, where the winter feeding is better. The old will show the young the way. They are believed to fly mostly over water, without stop. They have been observed as far south as Patagonia.

Spring calls them back to this picturesque mission village. It is here the swallows build their nests and raise their families.

Cubans Asked Again to Free 2 Americans

HAVANA (AP)—For the second time in four months, the U.S. Consulate in Santiago today sought the release of Americans kidnaped by rebels in eastern Cuba.

The American Embassy in Havana said Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith had instructed Consul Park Wollam "to take a firm position in his contact with the rebels."

Two Americans and seven Cubans were abducted from a Texaco refinery near Santiago Monday and taken to rebel hide-outs in the jungled mountains. The rebels told the Texaco manager they would be returned shortly, the embassy said.

The Americans are Charles R. Bennett, 35, the refinery supervisor of maintenance and construction, whose wife and year-old son live in Santiago; and Kenneth H. Drewes, 40, of Joliet, Ill., machine shop foreman, whose wife also lives in Santiago.

It was not immediately learned whether the kidnapings were ordered by rebel leader Fidel Castro, who has been waging guerrilla warfare against President Fulgencio Batista for the last two years from jungle camps in the Sierra Maestra Mountains west of Santiago.

Clingman's Dome and Clingman's Peak, two mountains in North Carolina, were both named after Gen. Thomas Lanier Clingman, an explorer who served in the Confederate Army and the U.S. Senate.

It's new in a way no car has ever been new before. Beautifully new—from grille to rear deck. Sensibly new—from its wide-stance stability to its visibility. And new in important engineering refinements it brings for the first time to the low-price field.

High-Compression V8's give a choice of standard 283-cubic-inch V8 and seven others,* including 348-cubic-inch engines with compression ratios all the way to 11 to 1.

Engine Cooling Coves, housing new parking and directional lights, circulate an extra stream of cooling air under Chevy's hood.

Easy-Ratio Steering is the next thing to power steering for ease and maneuverability. Overall ratio is now 28 to 1.

New Areas of Visibility provide up to 50 percent more seeing area. Windows are larger on most models and the new Vista-Panoramic windshield curves back to let you see traffic lights and other overhead objects. There's Safety Plate Glass all around, of course.

Comfort Tailored Interiors, with door upholstery extending snug to the windows, invite you to travel in tasteful elegance.

New Hi-Thrift Six gets up to 10 percent more miles a gallon, gives more zip at normal speeds.

More Head Room—up to 1½ inches—adds to your comfort in the stylish new Chevrolet.

Wide-Stance Stability — a result of the '59 Chevrolet's wider tread and lower center of gravity—brings you a new road-hugging feel.

High Road Clearance helps take you over the roughest roads. Approach angle has been increased for clearing inclines.

Superior Rear Suspension, with lateral control bar, improves handling and ride. You'll feel the difference on any road!

New Safety-Master Brakes last up to 66% longer. They're bigger, better cooled for safer, surer stopping.

Put Mrs. on Inside Envelope

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our company is giving a large dinner for one of the executives who is retiring in several months. Invitations are to be sent to business friends with whom he has been associated these many years. We would like also to include their wives. Herein lies our problem:

"We do not know the home addresses of many of those being invited, and it would be a tremendous task to look them all up. We were wondering if it would be proper to address these invitations to Mr. and Mrs. and send them to the business address?"

Answer: It would be quite all right, under the circumstances, to send the invitations to the business address. However, I would suggest addressing the outside envelope to Mr. John Jones followed by his business address and then write Mr. and Mrs. Jones on the inside envelope indicating that his wife is invited too.

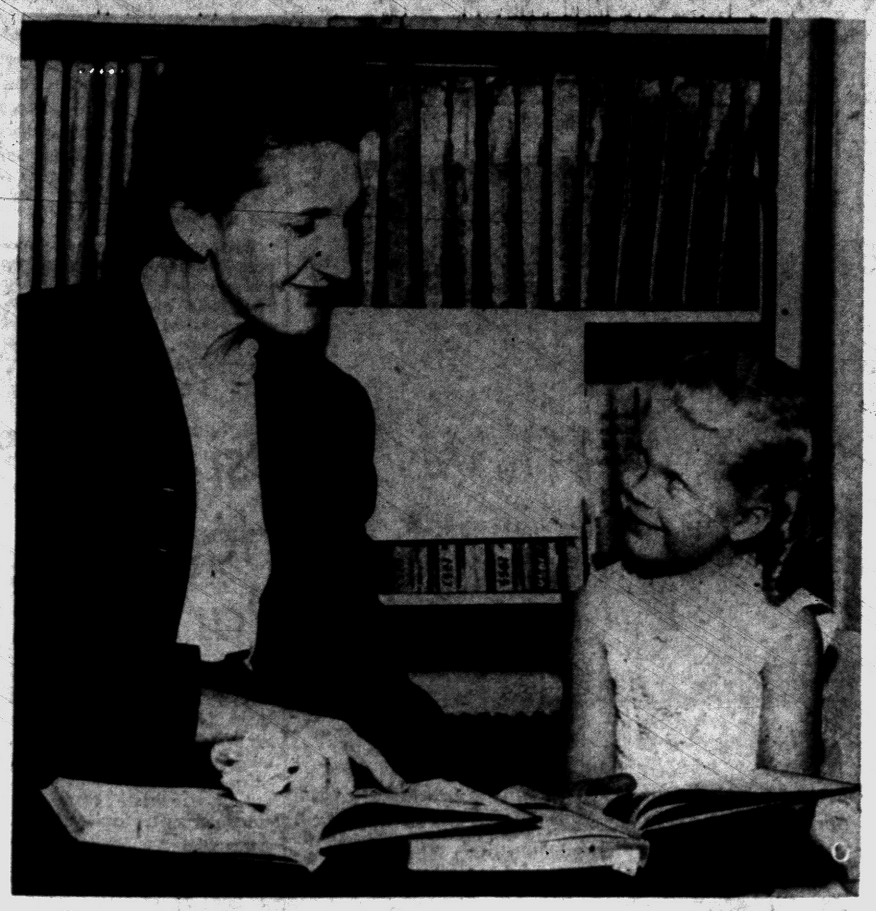

"Dear Mrs. Post: The proper use of "my husband" bothers me. I'm not sure when to call him "John" and when to say "my husband." Will you please advise me?"

Answer: The name of safety is "my husband," because with the exception of two circumstances it can't be wrong. To personal friends you naturally talk of him as "John." Also rather better when speaking to general businessmen or tradesmen, or to those who work for you, speak of him as "Mr. Brown."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a birthday card from a friend this morning and enclosed in the card was a single handerchief (a very pretty one). I would like to know if it is necessary to write and thank her for it."

Answer: One should always thank the donor of a gift whether it be valuable or simple.

Sponsored by the Elementary Library Department of the Pontiac Public Schools, the annual Book Fair is being held today and Thursday in Crofoot School multi-purpose room. Here Mrs. Orville Gauthier, director of elementary school libraries, discusses encyclopedias with Joan Blaylock.

Children's Book Fair Opens in Local School

The Annual Book Fair, sponsored by the Elementary Library Department of the Pontiac Public Schools, opened today in Crofoot School multi-purpose room. More than 1,000 books for children are on display.

Student representatives from each Pontiac school are assisting librarians to select books for their schools.

Endorsed by the local PTA, the exhibit is designed to acquaint the public with the close relationship between modern educational objectives and good library service and to familiarize parents with the best books for their children.

Teachers find that good readers are usually good students. A good library at school and at home assists the student in gathering facts and evaluating material, an important step in the process of thinking and learning.

Children are reading more today than the children of past generations and more books are available for children on all subjects from Mother Goose to scientifically accurate material on space. All books are attractively designed and easy to read.

Michael LaLone and Brenda Hill are listening to a story by Mrs. Cyril Davis, elementary school librarian, as part of the Book Fair program held at Crofoot School.

Club Features Travelogue at Men's Night

Program chairman was Mrs. Fred Gottschalk, and Mrs. Earl Hoskins was dinner chairman.

Assisting were Mrs. J. V. Teeters, Mrs. Phillip Worth, Mrs. F. J. Ziem, Mrs. E. Oscar Teng, Mrs. Sol Ringler, Mrs. Phillip Aspinwall, Mrs. William Kreklow, Mrs. William Pfeiffer, Mrs. Maxwell Lucas and Mrs. Irving Zuehlke.

Plans to Marry Ex-Pontiac Man

Dr. and Mrs. Norman G. Sloane of Philadelphia, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail Elaine, to Michael Jay Rosenberg of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rosenberg of Miami Beach, Fla., formerly of West Iroquois road.

Miss Sloane, a junior at University of Pennsylvania is a member of Sigma Delta Tau Sorority. Her fiance was graduated from the University of Michigan last June, majoring in political science. He is a member of Pi Lambda Phi Fraternity.

Fashion Hint

Rose prints seem to be in fashion all year around now. For autumn and winter, they're darker. These dark rose prints show up in pretty overblouses for wear now and later.

"Wow—these pictures are really terrific," says John Rotsel as he looks over one of the many beautiful and interesting books displayed at the annual book fair.

No Fuss Proves to Be Plenty of Bother

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: We play bridge with our next door neighbors, and for an evening snack we agreed not to fuss—just to serve coffee and doughnuts. That is what I served. When we went to her house she served chicken salad sandwiches and coffee and brownies. The next time at my house I served coffee and doughnuts.

ABBY

"When it was her turn again she served ham sandwiches, fruit salad, coffee and ice cream. I told my husband I did not care if she served porterhouse steak, I am only going to have coffee and doughnuts. And they don't have any more money than we do. Please tell me if I am doing right?"

PLAIN PEOPLE

DEAR PLAIN: If you agreed to serve only coffee and doughnuts, serve coffee and doughnuts.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is about religion. My father won't let me accept a date with a boy who is not of my own faith. I am only 16 years old, Abby, but I think I have pretty good sense. I wouldn't turn away from my own religion for any boy, but how can I convince my father that just because I have a few dates with a boy of a different faith it doesn't mean I am going to marry him?" VOTED DOWN

DEAR VOTED: As long as you feel strongly about your own religion, why tempt the Fates and complicate your life? Do yourself a favor and confine your dates to boys you could marry should Cupid's dart prematurely find your heart.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband works as night electrician at a hospital. A few months ago a woman who works in the laundry started to do his wash for him so he wouldn't have to bring it home for me to do it. I told my sister about it and she said, "No woman is doing a man's wash just because she likes to wash." I got mad and said I thought it was very nice of her to do it.

"I asked a few other friends what they thought about it and they changed the subject. My husband is 44 and most women at the hospital are much younger than he is so they wouldn't go for a man his age. He told me so. Should I make him bring his wash home or not?" WONDERING

"DEAR WONDERING: A married man (age 44) should not give a co-worker the shirt off his back—even if she offers to launder it for him. Quit asking your friends and relatives what they think about it and short-circuit the connection between your hubby and the laundry lady—pronto!

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I don't object half as much to the woman who, when shopping for a dress, will let me show her every dress in the place and then say, 'That isn't what I had in mind,' as the woman who wears a size 42, tries a dress on without a girdle and says, 'It doesn't do a thing for me.'" ELLEN B. (25 years experience)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Since sales people are airing their complaints, may I add mine? How about the woman who will come into the drapery department spend hours of your time while you help her match colors, compare, explain and educate and then she will leave—undecided. She returns the next day with her lady friend and I go through the same routine all over again. They leave—undecided. The next week she will bring her husband in. This makes THREE times I must go through the same routine. She leaves with my name and sales number on a card—still undecided. Then one day I come back from lunch and find out that the lady was back and bought the first thing I showed her — from somebody else."

Luncheon Held by Beth Jacob Sisterhood

Mrs. Leo Goldberg was guest speaker at the annual luncheon meeting of Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob, held Tuesday at the temple.

Mrs. Goldberg spoke about her recent trip to Moscow. She made the trip to Russia with her husband, Dr. Leo Goldberg, chairman of the Department of Astronomy at University of Michigan, who was chairman of the American delegation to the International Astronomy Union held at Moscow this summer. The group had been invited by the Russian government to participate in the exchange of scientific findings and the discussion of mutual problems.

Wives of the scientists were organized into sightseeing groups which toured the city and they and their husbands were received by top political leaders of the Kremlin, Mrs. Goldberg said.

Despite the luxurious treatment the astronomers received, the group noticed the grimness of the country and its people. Luxuries have been done away with by the government in order to pay for the advancement of science and technology of the country, Mrs. Goldberg said.

Beauty Hint

Chipped nail polish is unsightly and seems inevitable. Quite often a simple trick solves the problem. Try this. After polish is applied, run the ball of the thumb around the edge of the nail. The small rim created will be polish free and make chances less for chipping.

Mrs. Joe Benson was chairman of a party given Friday afternoon, and Mrs. George Tuson and Mrs. William Fox were chairmen for the Saturday luncheon.

Chairmen of the ball held Saturday evening were Mrs. Edward O'Brien and Mrs. William Winters. Mrs. Gene Russell and Mrs. William Deuman were chairmen of the Sunday banquet.

Square Dance Set

Moms and Dads Club of St. Vincent de Paul Church is sponsoring a square and round dance from 8 to 12 p.m. Oct. 25 at the Parish Hall. The public is invited.

Fashion Hint

If you find you've trouble in wearing pointed-toe shoes with comfort, here's a trick to try: Buy them a width wider than you usually do. These shoes are made on such a narrow last that you can probably take a wider width with ease.

The black velvet stole is back in fashion favor. Lined in white or red, it's ideal cover-up for autumn evenings.

There Are Rules for Mental Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

While attending the World Federation for Mental Health in Vienna, Austria, I had the pleasure of visiting with the distinguished Doctor George S. Stevenson, Treasurer of the Federation, National and International Consultant, National Association for Mental Health, New York City.

This question of mental health and emotional stability is important to all of us. It is important because of the tragedy of real mental derangement to the victim and his family and also because many of these cases could have been avoided had the pressures not been building up, without help, for so long before the breakdown. Sometimes the tensions are too great if an individual does not know how to handle them.

Mental health is also crucial to every man and woman because we could all improve our outlook for a more constructive and happier daily life. It is of paramount importance in the question of health.

It is now well-known that many illnesses and physical disabilities come from frustrations, tensions and worries. One can almost believe that it would be impossible for the truly happy person, the one without any strains and stresses, to become ill.

But of course that state is imposible for anyone who cares about anything or anybody. However, it is not so much our problems which get us as the manner in which we meet them, adjust to them or handle them. Everyone has problems!

I told Doctor Stevenson that of course I know there is no simple formula for mental health but asked him if he could give me any leads to pass on to you. Here are some of them.

Don't get in a rut. In other words expand your horizons, your interests. Otherwise boredom will get you, and when that happens you may be in danger of emotional and physical disturbances.

Work within your capacity. I think that Doctor Stevenson meant that we should not push ourselves beyond our physical or mental capabilities. Some persons set their sights too high and this leads to frustration, dissatisfaction and fatigue.

Next he mentioned the cultural differences of people. He did not elaborate on this in detail but I am sure that one thing he meant was that we are apt to get caught up in our environment and forget that it may not be natural to us or best for us in all of its parts. We just take the whole thing for granted.

Doctor Stevenson mentioned the fact that most people need some characteristics of cultures and societies other than the one they find themselves in. He mentioned the Mexican "La Manana" or tomorrow. This phrase is a reflection of the relaxed manner in which the Mexicans live. It really means: "I won't do it today but will do it tomorrow." It may mean that it will never be done!

I am convinced that many women become caught in the trap of constant activity and responsibility, and men, too, when they really would not choose it and could avoid at least some of it. Some persons require more time alone, and a slower pace for best emotional and mental health.

Last, the maintenance of health is essential because our physical condition has an impact on our emotional conditions.

Married Saturday evening at First Baptist Church were Rosemary Ann Jilbert and William J. Keys. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. Douglas Jilbert and Mr. and Mrs. John Keys.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM J. KEYS

Rosemary Jilbert Is Wed in First Baptist Ceremony

First Baptist Church was the scene of the Saturday evening wedding of Rosemary Jilbert and William J. Keys. The Rev. William Hakes officiated at the ceremony before 350 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. Douglas Jilbert of Judson street and Mr. and Mrs. John Keys of Londonderry, North Ireland.

The bride's gown featured a fitted bodice of taffeta and lace, with bateau neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins, and long lace sleeves tapered to points at the wrist. The bouffant floor-length skirt of taffeta had lace insets at the hem, and formed a chapel train.

A headpiece of sequins and pearls held her silk illusion fingertip veil and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a chapel bouquet of white roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Glenn Simpson was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Marge Bartles, Evelyn Beeson and Janet Henderson.

All wore ballerina gowns of antique satin with bateau necklines and cummerbunds forming bows. The matron of honor was dressed in autumn brown and the bridesmaids in old rose. All carried semi cascade bouquets of pink cymbidium orchids.

The bride changed to a peacock-blue princess style dress with navy and white accessories and the white rose from her bridal bouquet for a honeymoon to Washington D.C., following a reception held in the church parlors. The couple will live on Mary Day avenue.

Mrs. Jilbert wore a gold sheath dress with bronze accessories and a bronze cymbidium orchid corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Keys dressed in a jade green silk shantung dress with green matching accessories. Her corsage was green cymbidium orchids.

Keep It Light for Making-Up During Daytime

MR. and MRS. R. R. MacINTOSH

Following a honeymoon to Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robert MacIntosh will make their home on Charlotte street.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Fenlon of Edison street and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. MacIntosh of Valencia drive.

The bride's gown featured a bateau neckline with a scalloped illusion yoke edged in seed pearls. The long sleeves ended in points and the flared skirt formed a chapel length train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a crown of organza accented with sequins and pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Hasse was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ella Powers, Marsha Borer, Jane Kerchoff and Linda MacIntosh, the bridegroom's sister. Their ballerina length gowns were of chiffon with cowl necklines and bouffant skirts. The matron of honor's dress was toast colored and the bridesmaids were of champagne color.

Married Saturday morning were Janet Frances Fenlon and Richard Robert MacIntosh. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Fenlon and Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. MacIntosh.

Korean Beads Provide a New Jewelry Idea

Count on this new necklace for a different idea in jewelry. An industrial design team is making abacus beads into necklaces and bracelets.

The beads, which come from Korea, are in white, black, natural wood and bright colors.

The abacus is a device for counting in which beads are moved up and down parallel wires or bamboo sticks set in a frame.

It dates back to the 6th Century, B.C. in China, and spread to Korea, where the industry flourished until the 20th Century.

Survive 3½ Days on Crippled Boat in Atlantic

BRIGANTINE, N.J. (AP) — Three Brooklyn, N.Y., fishermen have come through 3½ days in the storm-tossed north Atlantic with a crippled boat and a lot of praying.

At 2 a.m. Saturday they found they could not start their engine. A spare battery and generator didn't help.

Winds hit gale force, and waves 15 to 20 feet high thundered in and beat down on the deck. They fixed some sail to the 32-foot mast. It was ripped away by the angry storm.

"All of us prayed every inch of the way," said Arthur Holzer, a crew member. "It was a miracle that we made it."

Capt James Degruiccio said that in 25 years of seamanship he could not remember a worse experience.

Only one thing apparently escaped a total drenching from the sea—it was a small bible carried by crew member Walter Haas, 26. He kept it in his pants pocket during the ordeal.

Czech Reds Sentence 'Uncooperative' Builders

VIENNA (AP) — Communist Czechoslovakia has sent 12 contractors and associates to prison for illegally making the equivalent of $1,400,000 on public construction jobs.

Prague radio said today a court in the capital sentenced the group to terms ranging from 10 months to 15 years. They were accused of forging bills, pocketing illegal commissions and evading taxes.

59 Per Cent of Men Are Addicts

Research Eyes Pajama Users

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifty-nine per cent of America's menfolk sleep in pajamas.

What—if anything—the remaining 41 per cent wear in bed is a subject resolutely shunned by Miss Trienah Meyers and her colleagues in the Marketing Development Branch of the Agriculture Department's Marketing Research Division.

★ ★ ★

"All I can say is that we didn't ask," Miss Meyers said with a resigned sort of sigh.

Miss Meyers was in charge of a recently-completed government study on men's preferences for various fabrics in a number of standard clothing items.

For some items, like Bermuda shorts, the government investigators sought detailed information on when, where, and how often the garments were worn. For pajamas, however, Miss Meyers said the questionnaire was restricted to queries about ownership and fabric.

The survey showed that the more education and income a man has, the more likely he is to wear pajamas.

RISES WITH INCOME

Only 47 per cent of all men with education limited to grammar school reported wearing pajamas, compared with a 75 per cent pajama score for college graduates. Low-income groups reported a 48 per cent pajama record compared with 65 per cent for high-income men.

★ ★ ★

And what about those non-pajama men? The government doesn't know anything about their sleeping habits and Miss Meyers hinted strongly the Agriculture Department doesn't intend to look into the subject.

"Probably some of them sleep in some kind of underclothing," speculated Scott Hunter, another Department marketing specialist. "Perhaps there are still some night shirts around," he added.

And there are some men—to the regret of the clothing industry—who probably sleep in nothing at all, Hunter agreed.

The clothing makers for whose benefit the survey was made will be more interested in the fact that in cities of one million population and over, 71 per cent of all men wear pajamas. In small towns of 2,500 and under, the percentage dwindles to 45.

★ ★ ★

About 97 per cent of all men who wear pajamas prefer cotton, the survey indicated. It showed also that four per cent of the single men and five per cent of the widowers and divorced men who had any pajamas at all reported owning at least one pair made out of wool.

Transistor in Pin Head

WASHINGTON — Government scientists, working in a laboratory where one motto is, "if you can see it, it's too big," have developed a new method of manufacturing transistors. By using photolithographic techniques they have made transistors so tiny they can be fitted to the head of a pin. The feat was accomplished at the Army's Diamond Ordnance Fuze Laboratory, Washington.

Elderly, Conservative, Italian Likely Choice as Next Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A conviction is growing in Rome that the next Pope will come from the ranks of the elderly, conservative Italian members of the College of Cardinals.

Almost all the members of the College now are here or nearby, and they are in a position to engage in a steady exchange of ideas before they begin voting Saturday on a successor to Pius XII.

There is little doubt that among them there will be cautious soundings of opinion on what sort of man the 262nd pontiff should be.

More and more, talk is heard among qualified observers of a "transition pope." Such a man would continue the policies of Pius XII but would be unlikely to introduce any startling precedents.

Fifty-two of the Church's 54 princes probably will be taking part in the conclave. Their combined age totals 3,795 years and their average age is 73. Most are over 70, and in this conclave youth — relative youth — may work against a candidate.

IDEA STRANGE

This is particularly true if the Church actually is in quest of a transition period.

The idea that there is a possibility of a non-Italian pontiff apparently fascinates Italians. There has been no non-Italian Pope for 436 years. But the chances now seem against electing one.

Most mentioned as a non-Italian "papabile" — possibility for election as Pope — has been Gregory Peter XV Cardinal Agagianian, patriarch of Cilicia of the Armenians. But, as the ages of Cardinals go, he is young — only 63.

Youth, too, could react against the choice of the man some believe Pius XII had favored as his successor. Only 52, Giuseppe Cardinal Siri, Archbishop of Genoa, could have a long reign as pontiff.

But in comparison with the other cardinals, he could hardly be considered conservative.

His record is such as to indicate he probably would be an innovator. And at his age, he hardly could be considered a transition pope.

LIKELY AGE 65-75

The age of man finally chosen, say many observers here, likely will be between 65 and 75, or perhaps older.

Among cardinals in this category are Giacomo Lercaro, 66, archbishop of Bologna; Alfredo Ottaviani, 67, pro-secretary of the Consistorial Congregation; Ernesto Ruffini, 70, archbishop of Palermo; and Valerio Valeri, prefect of the Congregation for the Religious Orders.

Of the 52 cardinals expected to participate, only the Chinese, Thomas Tien, exiled archbishop of Peiping, had not yet arrived in Italy. Two cardinals, Alojzije Stepinac of Yugoslavia and Josef Mindszenty of Hungary, are not expected to be able to attend.

FOR THE NEW POPE — Papal hatter A. Berbiconi puts the finishing touches on the new hat he has made for the Pope who will be elected by the College of Cardinals.

Plane Takes Off Just Before Writ Staying Alien's Ouster Comes

Schleicht, 54, identified as an active Communist by the Immigration Department, was put on a Pan American plane for Europe at 2:14 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Detroit Metropolitan Airport officials said they received a telephone call one minute later that U.S. District Judge Clifford O'Sullivan had signed a writ of habeas corpus that would have stayed the deportation.

Court officials said the writ was worthless the instant the plane left the ground.

Immigration spokesmen said Schleicht, a housepainter, was sent to his native Coblenz in West Germany.

The U.S. Supreme Court last week refused to change a 1952 court order for Schleicht's departure.

Schleicht was ordered deported under a law bearing on alien Communists. He had lived in America for 25 years without becoming a citizen.

AF Pilots Wipe Out Drone With Missiles

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP) — Two scores on the same drone target highlighted yesterday's competition in the Air Force's sixth annual weapons test.

The double hit was made by the 482nd Squadron based at Seymour-Johnson AFB, N.C.

Says Chemicals Offer Temporary Cancer Relief

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Chemical treatment can bring temporary relief to some cancer patients, a University of Michigan chemist said today.

But Dr. Robert C. Elderfield told the university's annual pharmacy lectures that a chemotherapeutic cure for the killer disease still is an unreached goal of researchers.

Detroiter Being Held for 1st Degree Murder

DETROIT (AP) — Lloyd Hurst, 20, was held without bond today on a first degree murder charge in the fatal shooting of Sammy Hobbs, 19.

Police said Hurst admitted shooting Hobbs with his grandfather's gun at his estranged wife Mona's apartment in Wyandotte yesterday. He broke into the apartment, interrupting a party.

The young man said he objected to Mona's keeping company with other men. He and Mona had been married less than a year, and he had sought a divorce. They have an infant son.

Mona told police she and Sammy were "just friends."

Hurst's examination was set for Oct. 30 in Municipal Court.

UAW Claims No Hoffa Allies

Statement Says Boss of Teamsters Finds It Difficult to Tell Truth

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union declared in a statement today that Teamster boss James R. Hoffa has no friends among UAW boss Walter P. Reuther's International Executive Board.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said in an Atlantic City speech Monday that friends in both the AFL-CIO and UAW headquarters kept him informed of "top secret developments" there. Hoffa did not elaborate in his speech to a meeting of the Eastern Conference of Teamsters.

He blamed Teamster expulsion by the AFL-CIO to refusal of Teamster leaders to conform to what he said where political aspirations of some AFL-CIO chiefs. He named no one.

The UAW said in its statement today:

★ ★ ★

"James Hoffa's accusation that the UAW International Executive Board is divided in its attitude toward the leadership of the Teamsters Union is nonsense. The UAW board voted unanimously to support the expulsion of the Teamsters and other corrupt unions from the AFL-CIO and, as delegates to the AFL-CIO convention, they so voted when the question came before the convention.

★ ★ ★

"Mr. Hoffa has the same difficulty in telling the truth in his public pronouncements and press releases as he and his Fifth Amendment colleagues had in telling the truth before the (Senate) McClellan (Labor-Management Rackets) Committee."

Seek New Trial in Police Suit

Pontiac Moves Monday to Return Promotion Case to Court

As a step towards making a State Supreme Court appeal, the city will move Monday for a new trial in the suit whereby three Pontiac policemen won promotions on grounds that civil service was violated.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said that the motion would be based on six arguments:

(1) That the higher ranks in the police department are already overstaffed; (2) that a new organization chart eliminates the contested positions; (3) that because of this, the city shouldn't be forced to make promotions; (4) that all the legal steps leading up to promotions had not been taken by the city; (5) that the Public Administration Service report should have been allowed as evidence in the suit; and (6) that the great weight of evidence favored the city's position in the case.

★ ★ ★

The hearing will be before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, who last month ordered City Manager Walter K. Willman to make the promotions. He ruled that Willman had announced positions were vacant, requested civil service tests, then refused to make promotions once the tests were passed.

Missionaries' Women Carry On

Visit Slayers in Jungle

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Less than three years after five U.S. missionaries were slain in a similar effort, the widow and the sister of two of them have succeeded in living among the fierce Auca indians of Ecuador's Amazon jungles.

This was revealed yesterday by Marjorie Saint, also a widow of one of the slain missionaries. She said that Betty Elliot, 32, and her sister-in-law, Rachel Saint, 40, with Mrs. Elliot's 4-year-old daughter Valery, have spent the last 14 days among the Aucas in the eastern Ecuador jungle.

Marjorie Saint is the widow of Nathaniel Saint. He and James Elliott, Edward McCully, Peter Fleming and Roger Youdarian were killed by the Aucas in January 1956 while trying to win their friendship.

Rachel Saint, a member of the University of Oklahoma Linguistic Institute, Mrs. Elliot and Valery left for the Auca village near the missionary outpost of Arajuno last Oct. 6 and arrived there two days later, Mrs. Saint told reporters.

They were accompanied by Dayuma, an Auca woman who had abandoned the tribe 13 years ago, and six Aucan women and their three children who had come to the missionary outpost on a peace mission. The trip was undertaken by the American women after the Aucas had repeatedly shown signs of friendship toward the missionaries' efforts.

The group was led into the jungle by six Quichua Indians, serving as guides, who returned later with the first word that the American women had been received in friendly fashion by the Aucas.

Drop Kidnap Charge in Child Elopement

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A kidnaping charge against the Rev. G. W. Rollins, accused of taking a 12-year-old mountain girl to Georgia in a vain attempt to marry her, was dismissed yesterday.

But Sevier County Judge Ray Reagan held the 33-year-old Baptist preacher to the grand jury on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Rollins' bond was set at $500.

Frieda Ogle, who observed her 12th birthday yesterday, told Reagan she went willingly with Rollins to Georgia last Friday to get married. But she said some of her ardor for the minister had cooled after the weekend trip.

Earl Ogle Jr., father of the girl, testified the couple's intended nuptials did not have parental consent. Ogle swore out the warrant charging Rollins with kidnaping, but agreed to its dismissal and substitution of the lesser charge.

Negotiations Resume in Airlines Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Mediation Board resumes today its efforts to settle a week-old strike of Capital Airlines mechanics which has halted service on the nation's fifth largest airline.

A morning meeting was arranged between officials of the airline and of the striking local of the International Assn. of Machinists.

The international union announced meantime it had authorized similar strikes against Eastern and Northwest Airlines, but no date has yet been set for walkouts on those lines.

The union is seeking wage, pension and other contract improvements beyond those recommended by a presidential fact-finding board. The board recommended a 9 per cent wage increase.

Capital has offered a 10 per cent raise, amounting to between 25 and 30 cents an hour. The union wants a raise of more than 40 cents an hour. Capital's mechanics now receive a top rate of $2.54 an hour.

Voting District of Eisenhower Held in Doubt

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Will the congressman representing President Eisenhower's home district be a Republican again?

The outcome is in doubt, and observers view the battle in Pennsylvania's 19th Dist. as so close it could be decided by a handful of votes.

★ ★ ★

There is no decided edge for either the Republican incumbent, Rep. S. Walter Stauffer, 70, or his Democratic opponent, James M. Quigley.

Quigley, 40, an attorney, has challenged Stauffer three times and won once—in 1954 by 2,500 votes. Two years ago Stauffer unseated Quigley by 11,000 as Eisenhower won the Keystone State's electoral votes in a landslide.

The district, embracing Adams, York and Cumberland counties, is predominantly rural. But it is dotted with some industrial towns, York being the largest.

Gov. George Leader, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, also is a resident of the district. He raises chickens in York County when he's not running the state government.

★ ★ ★

Quigley, after his 1956 defeat, returned to Washington as an aide to U.S. Sen. Joseph Clark (D-Pa). He resigned that post shortly before he won his party's nomination at the last primary.

★ ★ ★

Observers have searched for some sign of voter preference. Only one has appeared. The Democrats have taken a registration lead for the first time in over a decade.

PONTIAC AREA telephone lines

by RAY STORM, District Manager

TODAY'S CHILDREN LEARN about the value of the telephone almost before they can walk. Here's a story of a six-year-old daughter who knew exactly what to do when she heard a man trying to break into the house. She ran to the phone and got the police. The fact that the intruder turned out to be her father (he had lost his keys) takes nothing away from her prompt action in a crisis.

DO YOU BELONG to a club or organization? If you do, you can appreciate the problem of finding interesting, informative programs and still stay within a group's budget. In addition to the many films available, our trained speakers would be glad to provide you with lecture demonstrations that range in subjects from the Solar Battery to "Tomorrow's Magic in Communications." If you are interested, tell your program chairman. Or better yet, just call our Customer Relations Department on FEderal 5-1100. Arrangements will be made for a program tailored to your needs and for any type of audience.

A SMALL BOY called the Information Operator to ask for a local number. After she had supplied it, the operator suggested to the small boy that he would find it in the telephone directory. "I know," he agreed, "but I can't do that 'cause I'm standing on the directory to reach the telephone."

DO YOU HAVE TROUBLE reaching your phone? Do you sometimes find yourself upstairs when it rings downstairs? Did you know that you can save yourself and family any amount of rushing about? And very inexpensively, too. All you need is a bedroom extension phone. More and more people are discovering the wonderful convenience and extra fun of having extension phones. Orators Provide Only Excitement

Present Election Campaign Dull and Unmemorable in Most Cases

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is not going to be one of the most memorable political campaigns. If there's any excitement, it comes from the orators.

In this campaign there have been the usual exaggertion, the usual gas, some stumbling, and a division within the parties.

Most unusual feature: the Eisenhower administration's apparent uncertainty on what strategy to use.

In the field of exaggeration: former President Truman's crack that some of Eisenhower's advisers—"the big boys"—apparently "deliberately planned to bring this recession about."

In the gas field: the long-overworked Republican cry that a Democratic victory meant socialism. Republicans have been crying that for more than two decades.

But when they had a chance—after President Eisenhower's first victory — to try to wipe out New and Fair Deal legislation, they embraced most of it and expanded on it.

Some examples of divisions within the parties:

1. Truman took a stand against partisan attacks in the field of foreign policy right after his former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, made foreign policy a major issue. A whole swarm of Democrats followed Acheson, not Truman.

2. There's division between the conservative and more liberal Republicans and even between Republican candidates in one state. For example, take California's Gov. Goodwin Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland.

3. Truman and the Democratic national chairman, Paul Butler, not unaware of the big Northern Negro and liberal vote, castigated some of their own party, Southern Democratic supporters of public school segregation.

4. Dulles and Eisenhower seemed unsure what to do about letting foreign policy get into the campaign. At first they were in agreement with Truman on keeping it out. Dulles, in fact, said he agreed with Truman.

He even rebuked Vice President Nixon for tearing into the Democrats' handling of foreign affairs when they were in charge. Eisenhower seemed to rebuke him too. The President said: "I realize that when someone makes a charge, another individual is going to reply. I deplore that."

But Nixon wouldn't shut up or backtrack. News surveys indicated the Republicans were in for a real beating in the November elections. While Eisenhower sat at home with an above-the-strife attitude, Nixon was out campaigning hard.

It was he who was providing the campaign leadership, not Eisenhower. He made it plain he wouldn't stop talking on foreign policy. This could have meant a split between him and Eisenhower.

Faced with this prospect, both Eisenhower and Dulles melted, switched around and gave Nixon a go-ahead.

If Eisenhower gave the appearance of being uncertain what strategy to use, he brought it on himself. On Oct. 6 he called Republican leaders to the White House to "combat complacency and apathy" among Republican voters.

After leaving Eisenhower, the leaders issued a blazing statement full of political cliches, attacking the Democrats. Because they did this right after leaving the President, some people interpreted it as meaning he blessed the statement.

It seems he didn't. On Oct. 15, asked at a news conference if he approved, Eisenhower replied: "It was not my statement, it was theirs, and I think politicians do love to make things very positive."

A few days later he started out on the campaign trail himself, landed in California, and with the help of some speech writers, made his own blazing attack on the Democrats.

Whether at this late date in the campaign anything any of the politicians say can swing a vote is, for them, only a hope and a guess. But anyone who's been around a few years has heard it all before.

But SS Changes Important

Some Rules Are Small

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

A number of recent changes in the requirements to get Social Security are small—but important.

The changes involve eligibility for payments for the use of a retired worker; the lump sum death payment paid on the death of a worker; payments for an adopted child of a retired worker; payments for a widow or widower of a deceased worker and retroactive disability payments for a disabled worker.

Take them separately—

Wife's payments: Now, a woman 62 or over who marries a retired worker getting payments can immediately get payments as the retired worker's dependent. Those eligible must apply

Before, a woman marrying a retired worker getting payments couldn't get payments as a dependent until three years after the marriage.

Lump Sum Death Payment: Now, for a widow of a deceased worker to get the lump sum payment, she must have: (A) been living in the same household with her husband when he died or (B) paid his funeral expenses. The widower of a deceased woman must now meet the same requirements.

Before, a widow or widower could get the death payment only if he or she was: (A) living with the deceased worker when he died or (B) receiving support from the deceased before he died.

The death payment now ranges between $90 and $255, the exact amount depending on the average monthly earnings on which the deceased worker paid Social Security tax before he died. After Jan. 1, the range will be $99 to $255.

Adopted Child's Payments: Now, an adopted child can get payments if his father is getting retirement payments—no matter when he was adopted.

Before, an adopted child wasn't eligible for payments until three years after adoption. The payments must be applied for.

Widow or Widower Payments: Now, a widow or widower can continue to get payments based on a deceased worker's Social Security record if he or she marries a person also receiving payments based on a deceased worker's record.

Before, remarriage automatically stopped a widow's or widower's payments if they were based on a deceased worker's record. Payments stopped in the past because of this may now be resumed, but they must be applied for.

Disability Payments: Now, a disabled worker who meets the requirements for disability payments may collect back payments for 12 months if he fails to ask for payments when they're due him.

Any disabled person who applied for payments after December, 1957, and who was found eligible for them will automatically get any back payments now due him. He need not apply for them.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Man Wrestles Grizzly Bear, Hurts His Hand

★ ★ ★

Glasgow said he was watching a grizzy cub through binoculars when the mother grizzly came crashing through the trees toward him. The bear was on him before he could escape.

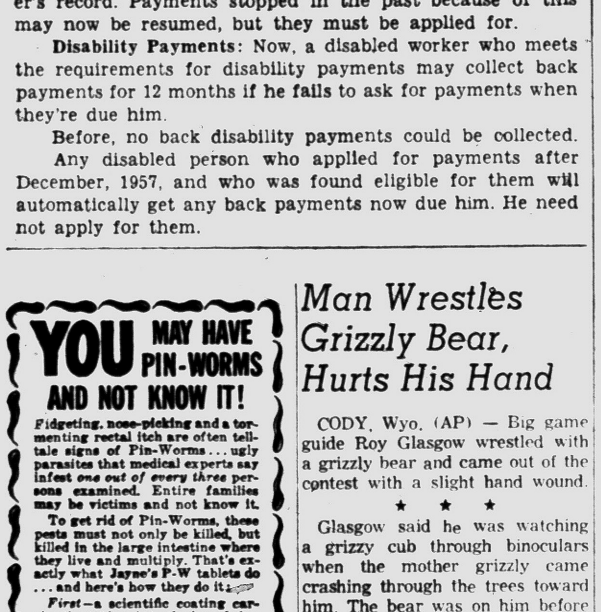

★ ★ ★

She wrestled him to the ground. When the bear started biting at his legs, protected by heavy leather chaps, he jammed his binoculars in its mouth.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly the cub squeeled and ran off. The mother bear forgot Glasgow and took off after the cub.

Glasgow's hand was scratched. The binoculars were ruined.

Hal Boyle Says:

Argentina Beef Tough, Cheap, but Juicy

In Argentina nobody seems to care so much what a tourist thinks of the country's politics. The big question is, "How do you like our beef?"

Most Amricans, accustomed to meat aged longer, find the steaks juicy but a bit on the tough side. But Buenos Aires is paradise to a real meat eater with good molars.

The steers are more outgiving than those in the United States. The steak portions come in big chunks.

And the price is about a third of what it would be back home. For $2 you can get a complete dinner consisting of a huge steak, potato, salad, wine, dessert and coffee.

The South American population is growing at a tremendous rate, and the continent also is spurting industrially.

A foreigner, living in Rio de Janeiro, observed: "Brazil is going to end up one of the biggest political busts in history—or one of the greatest countries in the world. The possibilities here are infinite, but the people here want Brazil for the Brazilians. They want to end up owning their own country."

Another observer, in Argentina, said: "I don't know any country where a young man could come with $100,000 and become a millionaire faster."

Getting that first $100,000, however, seems to be a pretty hard problem in South America—as it is on every other continent.

The ordinary tourist to South America says: "Everybody down here seems to be either very rich or very poor. The middle class doesn't seem to be very strong. Look at all the slums."

The slums are only too evident. The slums in the United States are now largely big blocks of tenements. In countries such as Brazil, the slums are still individual huts.

But in Sao Paulo, one of the world's fastest growing cities and often described as the Chicago of South America, a guide claimed proudly: "We are building a new home here every 12 minutes."

The office building skyline in the heart of the city seems to be growing as rapidly as resurgent Manhattan.

A strolling American in Brazil or Argentina runs into little obvious "Yankee-go-home" kind of antagonism. The people are courteous and polite to the stranger and helpful in small emergencies.

"The kind of foreigners they tend to dislike are those who come here, live entirely in their own groups, and after 20 years in the country still haven't taken the trouble to learn the language," one U.S. citizen stationed in South America said.

City Editor Replaces Gorman in Flint

A veteran of 31 years with the Journal, Curry started as a part-time reporter and served as automobile editor before his appointment as city editor in 1939.

A native of Finley, N. D., Curry started in the newspaper business in 1920 as publisher of a weekly newspaper at Finley and came to Flint in 1926

Quaint Almanac Advises Ready for Winter Get

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—It's going to be a wonderful bad winter, said the sages in the idiom of this famed Conestoga wagon country.

It's all down in crafty black and white in the new John Baer's Almanac for 1959, out today for its 134th year as a sheet anchor of agriculture and a sturdy survivor of quaint Americana.

Baer's Almanac treats the reader to weather lore, cooking recipes, jokes and puns, gems of wisdom from the old masters, folk tales, little poems and tips on animal husbandry. It offers an engaging change of pace, foxy twists, and a mixing of old-fashioned advice with occasional concessions to modernity.

Backing up its forecast of a winter of snowstorms and cold waves, the almanac notes exultantly that it foretold the snow of last March, "the worst in the memory of living men." That storm immobilized a vast chunk of the nation for days and brought back pioneer rigors.

Then, in a by no means subtle switch, the almanac quotes an aphorism by Benjamin Franklin: "Be not disturbed about trifles, or at accidents common or unavoidable."

The Almanac's favorite seer, Abner Americanus, who might have lived in 1849, or any other year, has the first and last word. His vast sagacity is invoked once more, in these samplings of his ethics:

State Worker's Pay Up but Taxes Higher

DETROIT (AP) — The Citizens Research Council says the average Michigan worker is earning 84 per cent more than he did in 1948, but is paying 119 per cent more in state taxes.

In a survey released yesterday, the council said state taxes amounted to 3.9 cents on each dollar of personal income.

The survey, an analysis of 10 years of state financing, said the allegation that Michigan revenues and expenditures aren't keeping pace with population growth and inflation is false.

Making allowances for population growth and the decline of purchasing power of the dollar, the report said total state revenues have increased 35 per cent in the last 10 years.

In the 10 year period, the state spent 33 million dollars more than it took in.

The Citizens Research Council has been surveying Michigan's tax structure and making recommendations for revision of certain tax laws.

19 Injured as Train Switched Into Freight

METHUEN, Mass. (AP) — A track switch opened by vandals or saboteurs sent a Boston & Maine Railroad train hurtling into two standing freight cars late Tuesday night.

A spokesman for the railroad and Methuen Police Chief Cyril Feugill both said the two-car Budd liner passenger train had swerved onto a side track when it came to a switch opened in an act of vandalism or sabotage.

The train hit the two empty freight cars, then came to rest at a tilt against a grain shed.

State Office Aspirant Visits Oakland County

Raymond A. Plank moved into Oakland County yesterday as part of his statewide campaign for election on the Republican ticket to the office of Secretary of State.

In the afternoon, Plank met with Mrs. Dorothy M. Rowley in her Hazel Park home. Mrs. Rowley is the GOP candidate for District 6 state representative.

Lowest birth rate in the U.S. in recent years was 18.4 per thousand in 1933. It rose to 26.6 per thousand in 1947 which was a record.

Plan Halloween in Waterford

A cooperative plan for Waterford Township Halloween activities, will be put into effect by civic clubs and the recreation department Oct. 31, according to Recreation Director Thomas Belton.

Included in the plans is a recommended time of from 6 to 7 p.m. for trick or treats, and parties for elementary and junior high school-aged boys and girls immediately following the door-to-door visits.

By setting a specific time, neighborhood homes can be prepared for visitors, by turning on their porch lights, Belton said.

"This plan seemed to work very well last year, with many parents expressing appreciation for the announcement and a coordinated time," he added.

★ ★ ★

Parties will be conducted in various areas in the township from 7 to 8 p.m. The Drayton Plains School party is being sponsored by the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club; Donelson, by the Junior Chamber of Commerce; and Stringham School, by the Waterford Township Fire Department.

★ ★ ★

Parties at the Williams Lake school will be sponsored by the Lion's Club, and all junior high boys and girls will meet at the Drayton Ball Park for a bonfire, refreshments and contests, under the lights. The Recreation Department is sponsoring the teenagers' festivities.

Scout Training Started Life Work

Oscar Schultz is a good provider for his wife and three children. They live a happy, close-knit family life and are a credit to their community.

One reason for this is that Oscar is earning a living doing something he is interested in and enjoys. His work as an electrician is more profitable because of this.

There was a time, years ago, when Oscar had no interests, no goals. He was an average student in grade school, but lacked incentive and drive.

The luckiest day of his life came when his parents and several buddies at school talked him into joining the Cub Scout Pack at his school.

For awhile, Oscar thought all he'd be doing would amount to learning "rules" from a manual and rubbing sticks together to start a fire.

Suddenly, he realized that even at the bottom of the ladder as a Cub, there were several activities which he "took to" easily.

One of these was electricity. He was fasincated by simple electrical badgets like electro-magnets and crystal set radios, and took great pride in finding how easily he could make these items himself.

This was the birth of his interest in what is now his trade. It might never have come to him, or might have developed as late as his senior year in high school.

Scouting gave him the opportunity early. By the time his fellow-electricians were studying the basics of electronics, Oscar was in advanced techniques.

This experience is being relived every day by scouts in the Oakland County area.

The Pontiac scout office, representing the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America, a United Fund supported agency, can point to many instances in which scouting has helped boys find themselves while serving their communities.

MODERN SCOUTS AT WORK — These Boy Scouts from Troop No. 15, all have important duties. These boys are mixing up a batch of mortar for a small bridge at Bald Mountain Recreation Area. The bridge site was surveyed and laid out by older scouts with engineering training. These lads are interested in construction engineering and by the time they are at the blueprint stage, they'll have a solid background for understanding the problems of bridge construction.

Artificial Ice Skating Rink Proposed for Civic Center

A municipal skating rink was proposed to City Commissioners last night by former Pontiac Mayor Arthur J. Law.

Law visualized a rink for $50,000 or less in the civic center area, "something like the Rockefeller Center rink, although not so grandiose, of course."

Noting that natural rinks are usable only a handful of days, Law pointed out that an artificial rink could be in use hundreds of days, benefitting the city's youth in particular, but many adults too."

The former mayor asked that a skating rink be considered in the 1959 budget, now under preparation.

Commissioners, in other business, heard Asst. City Manager Robert A. Stierer announce that 10,000 pamphlets, urging a "yes" vote on the sewage treatment plant bond issue Nov. 4, were near completion.

2 PROPOSALS WIN

Commissioners are considering distributing a portion of them in neighborhood, door-to-door campaigns.

Two proposals won approval at public hearings last night. One calls for sidewalks on the west side of East boulevard north of Michigan avenue. The other calls for rezoning of three vacant lots on the northeast corner of South boulevard from residential 1 to personal service.

A public hearing was scheduled for next week on intention to install sidewalk on the east side of Stirling avenue, Madison to Baltimore. Cost estimates place the assessed cost at $1,672; city cost, $1,789; cost for a 50-foot lot, $100.

Confirmed were assessment rolls covering construction of sidewalks on the north side of Baltimore avenue, Stirling to Melrose; and both sides of Robinwood avenue, Baltimore to Perry.

A junk collection license was granted to Pontiac Waste Material Co., 139 Branch St., after Commissioner Milton R. Henry, who once opposed it, agreed that a junk yard there "seems to be a legal, non-conforming use of the land."

For the benefit of downtown shoppers, Commissioner William W. Donaldson proposed that maintenance funds be used to improve the catch basin at the northeast corner of Saginaw and Huron streets, in time to prevent slush accumulation this winter.

MESSAGE OF THANKS

A message of thanks was sent to the Pontiac Optimist Club for the park shelter at Optimist Park. "This is the first gesture of this magnitude made on the part of any Pontiac service club," said Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, in whose district the new shelter is located.

This Friday was proclaimed United Nations Day in Pontiac by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, who called upon citizens to support "this international forum that constantly seeks to improve collective security and settle disputes peacefully."

New schools cost from $13,000 to $50,000 per classroom to build, depending largely upon location.

Test Tube May Hold Secret

Scientific Creation Next?

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Science may be getting close to producing rudimentary life in a test tube, the Smithsonian Institution said today.

"The way seems open, following recent revolutionary chemical developments, to the actual laboratory synthesis of a structure having most of the properties of a living agent," said the institution.

It did so in summarizing an article by Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, director of the virus laboratory of the University of California, in the Smithsonian's annual report.

Stanley has described remarkable recent progress in breaking down the barriers between nonliving molecules and living organisms, the Smithsonian Digest said.

"The remaining essential step, he says, seems to be synthesis of one of the chemically highly complicated nucleic acids which forms an essential component of viruses and genes, the unit of heredity. This may be close at hand," the article said.

The government research agency said Stanley pictures a kind of "ladder of life" as being constituted as follows:

(1) Nucleic acids; (2) viruses, which incorporated nucleic acids; (3) single-celled living things, such as bacteria and protozoa; and finally (4) multicelled organisms comprising all higher forms of life.

"The barriers between these have broken down one after another in the last few years," said the Smithsonian, adding:

"This progress seems to have culminated very recently, Dr. Stanley says, in a demonstration by Dr. H. Fraenkel-Conrat at the University of California that one of the nucleic acids may have all the essential properties of a gene or of a group of genes. Already proteins, building stones of life, have been produced from amino acids."

This finding, said the Smithsonian Digest, "nearly completes the connection" between nonliving material and that which is undoubtedly living.

"The remaining step," it said, "seems to be the synthesis of this nucleic acid out of its constituent parts . . . just as proteins have been synthesized from amino acids.

Ex-Hungary Dictator Reported Near Death

VIENNA (AP)—The independent Vienna newspaper Die Presse reported today that Matyas Rakosi, Stalinist dictator of Hungary until 1956, is dying in a Russian sanatorium.

Quoting diplomatic sources, the paper said his doctors have given up hope for Rakosi, 66, who reportedly suffered a heart attack recently after a long period of failing health.

Rakosi was ousted from the post of Hungarian party first secretary with Moscow's consent four months before the Hungarian revolt. He went to the Soviet Union for medical treatment and has never returned.

Officer Takes Motive to Grave

New York Policeman Who Killed 4 in Bar Dies Without Answer

NEW YORK (AP) — Policeman James McDermott will carry to his grave the final, definite answer to the question: Why did he shoot to death four helpless patrons in a Broadway bar?

The 34-year-old patrolman died Tuesday in Roosevelt Hospital, shortly after Mrs. Virginia McDermott, his wife and mother of their four children, had left the bedside in hysterics. A priest had administered the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church.

McDermott had lain near death since early Sunday when fellow policemen gunned him down as he fled from the Pic-a-Rib Restaurant, the scene of his murderous outburst.

In critical condition with five bullet wounds, he was unable to speak coherently at any time after his capture.

Capt. Patrick McCormack, heading the investigation, said, "so far as McDermott is concerned, this is the end of the case."

★ ★ ★

McCormack added, however, that police will continue to check any possible connection between McDermott and the men he killed while off duty.

Police have learned that McDermott knew three of his victims—Edmund Leahy, 50; Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55; and Lawrence Davion, 63. Leahy was a convicted loan shark. The other two had minor police records.

The fourth victim, Eugene Cronin, 60, of Jersey City, N.J., apparently was a stranger to McDermott.

Lou Olman, owner of the bar, has told police that McDermott was barred from the restaurant about six months ago because he acted boisterously. The patrolman did not return after then until his fatal appearance Sunday, Olman said.

But Expects 4th Quarter Profit

Ford Drops $16 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. lost $16,200,000 in the first nine months of this year but it expects to make a substantial profit in the final quarter of 1958.

The nine-months loss so far this year, equal to 30 cents a share, compares with a $229,500,000 profit in the January-September period of 1957. That was equal to $4.22 a share.

In its statement, the company reported a loss of $17,300,000 for the first six months. It had net earnings of $22,700,000 in the year's first three months.

The year's loss to date is attributed by the company to a sharp decline in car sales. Factory sales in this year's nine-month period amounted to $2,682,900,000 compared with $4,419,200,000 in the same 1957 period.

The company reported production of 1959 model vehicles now is proceeding at an accelerated pace. It added:

"If these schedules are realized in actual production and sales, the company will earn a substantial profit in the fourth quarter."

General Motors and Chrysler have not yet issued their financial reports for the January-September period. For the first six months of this year GM reported income of $334,000,000 or $1.17 a share. In the like 1957 period it had net of $481,000,000 or $1.71 a share.

Chrysler had a $25,200,000 loss in the first of this year contrasted with earnings of $89,700,000 in like 1957.

Lathrup Youth Dies in Hospital

Struck Down by Auto While Crossing Street With Playmate

A 10 year old Lathrup boy died early this morning in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, from injuries he received yesterday afternoon after he and his friend were struck down by an auto as they ran across a street between parked cars.

Dead following a brain concussion and a fractured right leg is Jay K. Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shoemaker of 26559 Meadowood Rd.

His buddy, Curtis Osborne, 10, of 2598 Buckingham Rd., Birmingham, remained in the hospital today in satisfactory condition with contusions and a possible skull fracture.

According to Lathrup police Lt. Thomas Tellefsen, the auto which the boys ran into was driven by Mrs. Carol LeJuste, 36, of 15130 Minock St., Detroit. She was not held.

The accident occurred on Southfield road near the 11 Mile road intersection about 4:20 p.m.

Deer Smashes Car Near Rochester, Dies

ROCHESTER — A wild deer, which jumped a fence near the intersection of Parkdale road and Dequindre, about 4:30 p.m. yesterday, caused an estimated $200 in damages to the car of Jack Jentzen, 23, of 409 W. Second St.

Jentzen said he was driving south on Dequindre when the six-point, 200-pound buck dashed into the path of his auto.

Storm Lashes Carolina Coast, Moves Inland

CAPE HATTERAS, N. C. (AP) — A vicious northeaster with a one-two punch—hurricane force winds and driving rains — was due to move inland today after leaving its mark on coastal residents.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the storm, which lashed the coast for more than 24 hours with damaging results, probably would cross the Wilmington area south of here.

However, much of its wind punch should be lost and inland residents probably will escape with a heavy drenching, the bureau said.

Generally cool weather prevailed across most of the western two thirds of the country today, as a warming trend developed in the East.

Rain and some snow hit sections of the mid-continent, while heavy rain and strong winds hammered areas along the East Coast.

Male Expert Criticizes Little Woman's Cooking

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — The average American woman knows little about selecting food and preparing meals, according to culinary expert George L. Wanzel.

She shows poor taste in picking out meats and vegetables, Wanzel told members of the Tennessee Restaurant Assn., and uses too much hard fat in cooking.

"By the time she learns to be a really good cook," he said, "her husband has attained business success and they can afford to eat out."

'Repestrians' Ignore Sign

CHICAGO (UPI) — Workers replaced a sign yesterday at an intersection that read "Pepestrians Please Cross Boulevard." The sign had been up four months before anyone noticed the misspelled word.

British authoress Hannah More wrote a book in 1799 with the title of "Strictures on the Modern System of Female Education." It sold more than two million copies in its first year, and it was re-published in 20 editions.

Hike Enrollment at Little Rock

Private School Takes Registrations of Juniors, but Sessions Lag

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — After running into early registration difficulties at its new all-white high school, the Little Rock Private School Corp. planned to start expanding enrollment today.

W. C. Brashears, superintendent, said junior students will sign up. Sophomores will register Thursday.

There are no teachers or facilities for juniors and sophomores. The school building, a former orphanage, isn't large enough to handle three grades, and only 14 teachers have been hired.

Seniors, who expected to start their studies Tuesday, were dismissed two hours after reporting because of what school officials called a registration mixup.

Many students were confused about courses, Brashears said. The seniors were told classes would begin today.

Brashears said that about 240 seniors had signed up since registration began Monday.

Before Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools in an anti-integration move last month, Negro and white enrollment totaled 3,698. At least 600 white and Negro students have transferred out of the school district and several hundred more are attending privately operated church schools.

The Private School Corp., backed by Faubus, handles white students only. So far, Negroes have no private school facilities.

Faubus said at a news conference that it wasn't intended for the corporation to operate on public donations for an indefinite period. At present, the only income is derived from such contributions. The governor hinted that a plan to support the corporation would be worked out in a few months. He said it was possible the 1959 Legislature, which meets in January, might take some action.

Asked if he had any plans for solving the federal-state integration deadlock, Faubus told his questioner: "I don't anticipate anything at the moment to solve what you term the deadlock. We don't think it's a deadlock."

He added that he had no plans at present to reopen the closed schools.

State Tourists' Release Sought

U.S. Demands Freedom of Ann Arbor Man Held in Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has demanded immediate release of an Ann Arbor, Mich., man seized by Soviet soldiers while driving through East Germany.

The state department said the American, George S. Milroy, 30, has been turned over to East German police by Soviet authorities after being arrested last Friday.

Milroy was arrested near Neustrelitz, 70 miles north of Berlin, by Soviet military personnel, apparently on charges of "taking unauthorized pictures."

The state department has protested formally against his detention and is pressing for his release.

State department officials said Milroy had an East German visa for travel in the Soviet zone en route from Denmark to West Berlin.

Milroy apparently is innocent of the charges against him, state department officials said. They said they understood he asked a Soviet soldier for permission to photograph a statue of Stalin in Neustrelitz but decided not to snap the picture after the soldier declined to answer his request.

The men own their trucks and work for the Dutch Maid Co., on a commission basis. They make home deliveries.

$1 Church Contribution Suddenly Worth $3,401

SEATTLE (AP) — An unknown parishioner made a record-breaking contribution to the St. Francis of Assisi Church in suburban Seahurst last Sunday.

It was a dollar bill. But it turned out to be the "lucky" one in a local newspaper contest.

He'll Be 10 Next Month

Prince Charles a 'Little Man'

LONDON (UPI)—On the threshold of age 10, which he'll reach on Nov. 14, the Prince of Wales and next king of England is a sturdy, handsome boy with a bit of a swagger but no nonsense about him.

And a little man he has proved himself, even at the cost of a bruise or two, and moments of crushed pride.

Prince Charlie — or Charles as his parents always call him— is in fact pretty much a normal little boy for his age with perhaps one exception: he already understands, and has accepted, his royal responsibilities.

It is as a schoolboy that the Prince best emerges in any assessment of what sort of child he is.

When Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip decided to send the little princeling to Cheam, the private school he attends, many Britons thought it wouldn't work. "There's too big a difference," they said, "between the comforts of the Palace and the discipline at a prep school."

But life at Cheam suits Charles fine. It is not the easiest school for a high-spirited lad. A 300-year-old, tradition-soaked institution that sprawls over 65 acres of pine-covered hills in Hampshire, it concentrates on building character and self-reliance as much as it stresses scholarship and sports.

The boys at Cheam, about 90 of them, all between 8 and 13 years of age, live an austere life. They all sleep on straw mattresses placed over boards. They all wash with cold water, share wash basins and baths. They all are permitted to spend the sum of 35 cents a week on candies, stationery, stamps, etc.

★ ★ ★

Charles, a husky lad about 4 ft. 7 in. tall, with bright blue eyes, a Windsor-pink complexion and light brown hair that never stops tumbling down over his forehead, lives by these rules and requirements.

The only thing he has at Cheam that the other boys don't is a ubiquitous-but-unseen special detective from Scotland Yard keeping an eye on him. The detective sleeps at the school.

The 35-cent weekly allowance is a sore point with Charles, as it is with the other youngsters. His appeals to Mummy and Daddy for a raise always get the same response: "You'll have to manage like the other boys do."

It was the deeply-felt desire to raise the heir to England's throne as an "ordinary" boy that led the royal couple to send Charles to a prep school. Explained Prince Philip shortly before Charles trotted off to Cheam in August, 1957: "He's got to learn to rub shoulders with people. The sooner he gets used to it, the better."

Charles is used to it now. The past year has changed him from a worried-looking, shy child to a high-spirited, mischievous youngster.

Prince Philip, himself a Cheam boy some 30 years ago, told a friend, "Charles soon found out nobody was going to defer to his title anyway so he's become a jolly good scrapper."

This happened when Charles and another boy stepped outside for a spot of wrestling. Their chosen arena was a garden behind some thornbushes, well out of sight of the headmaster's window. During the fight, Charles cut a hand on a thorn. After he reported to the school matron for first aid, the matron reported the injury to Headmaster Peter Beck, in accordance with her duties. Charles was summoned to Beck's office.

The misdemeanor didn't call for a caning but Charles received what the Cheam lads know as "a wigging." This might be recognized by servicemen the world over as "a chewing out."

Another scrap occurred when Charles unknowingly violated the old school tradition that advises youngsters to refrain from starring in classroom recitations and save their best efforts for the athletic field.

After Charles happened to answer all the questions in geography class one day, his resentful classmates asked him to chat with them at a secluded spot.

"Well, I do know about Malta," Charles protested when he arrived, his complexion taking on a redder hue. "I've been there. Several times. In our ship."

Although he spoke the truth, it was the wrong time and place.

"Bighead!" shouted the Chief Inquisitor. With that, the other boys carried out the time-honored custom of "shrinking his nut." They stretched Charles out on the grass and took turns sitting on his head. And when the treatment ended, Charles had to get up and say he was sorry.

Perhaps recalling his father's words about learning to rub shoulders with people, Charles accepted this treatment without a tear or tattle.

He learned that this "nut shrinking" episode helped draw him closer to the other boys, the sons of doctors, soldiers, clergymen, bankers, lawyers and the like. For Cheam, like other English prep schools, no longer caters exclusively to the upper class. The reason is that the upper class cannot always afford the $795-a-year fee for tuition and board.

★ ★ ★

A further sign that Charles is accepted as one of the boys is the fact that he now partakes of the fun and scrambles that often enliven dormitory life after "lights out." Sometimes, too, there is a forbidden feast on the dorm floor, when a boy carefully turns on a flashlight and they all sit around eating up a carefully-accumulated hoard of candy and cakes.

The heir to Britain's throne demonstrated his triumph over shyness in a spontaneous fashion last August when he attended the famous Crowes Regatta.

Prince Philip finished fourth in the yacht race and, upon seeing Charles, was greeted with the question: "Why did you lose the race?" The awkward silence that followed delighted the child still more.

On campus, Charles still is ribbed about a comment he made many months ago. When asked how he liked school, Charles replied in his high-pitched, clear voice, "I like it all right. But I do miss my Whisky."

He's still explaining that Whisky is the name of his pet terrier back at Buckingham Palace.

Boy Faces Heart Operation Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — Young Klaus Kaemmerer, his mother by his side and some 500 American soldier buddies rooting for him in Germany, was ready today to have his deformed heart repaired.

The 5-year-old curly-headed German boy and his attractive young mother were reunited at Johns Hopkins Hospital late Tuesday.

Today, Klaus goes under the skilled knife of Dr. Alfred Blalock, surgeon-father of the "blue baby" operation Klaus needs. Dr. Blalock will attempt to repair a congenital defect in the youngster's heart.

When Mrs. Sigrid Kaemmerer entered the hospital after her arrival by plane, Klaus was busy playing with blocks. He said nothing at first, just looked. But a smile of recognition slowly formed. It widened into a broad grin as his mother took him in her arms.

Mrs. Kaemmerer will stay in the hospital near her son without cost.

★ ★ ★

The Kaemmerers have three other children in Germany and little money. A trip to this country would have been unthinkable without help. But they had plenty of help.

The men of the United States 3rd Missile Battalion, 71st Artillery, stationed in Karlsruhe, have been the family's benefactors.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Samuel E. Pinkard, who is assigned to the 71st, met Mrs. Kaemmerer when she changed planes in New York. He flew on to Baltimore with her and helped her get settled at the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Pinkard will stay here as long as he is needed. But soon he must get back to Germany—by Nov. 1 at the latest. For that is the day ground will be broken for a new orphanage to house 81 other German youngsters adopted by the battalion. The missilemen raised the money for that too.

House That Jack Built Makes Way for Motel

Built in 1871 by Jacob Heatherington, the mansion got its name from the likeness of a mule named Jack carved on its keystone. It was his tribute to a faithful mule which helped him earn his fortune in coal mining and, later, to build the mansion.

Aurora Mayor Fails to See Eisenhower

CHICAGO (AP) — Paul Egan, the controversial mayor of nearby Aurora, was rebuffed twice in attempts to reach President Eisenhower after his arrival Tuesday night at Midway Airport from San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

Egan, who has been feuding with the Aurora Police Department for several weeks, was barred by Secret Service agents and police from entering the airport gate. They told Egan he did not have an official badge.

★ ★ ★

Egan tried to explain he wanted to see the President on a matter of importance, reportedly a request for Army protection in Aurora because the city's Police Department refuses to heed his edict that it is fired.

★ ★ ★

Later Egan appeared at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel before the President arrived. Howard Pierson, deputy chief of detective, spotted him in the crowd and asked him to sit in a police car. Egan sat there until Eisenhower arrived and went to his suite. Then he left.

Enrollment Sets Record

Form County Committee Opposing Nuclear Tests

A committee to halt hydrogen and atomic bomb tests by international control has been formed in Oakland County.

Dr. Morris Goodman of Oak Park is temporary chairman of the new organization called the Oakland County Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy. The group will affiliate with the national committee.

The non-partisan group intends to interview candidates for Congress on their opinion of the issue as their first project.

J. C. Penney Layaway Department Popular With Many

A perfect record for handling customers layaway packages came to an end this fall when Penney's lay-away department lost a package.

"It can happen" admits Mrs. Ida Robbins, 409 Scott Lake, in charge of the laywaway department at Penney's Miracle Mile store, "but we have a system that makes it just about impossible."

Mrs. Robbins explained that every layaway ticket and package is accounted for, and that every package is filed in such a way that it can be located in less thn 60 seconds.

Since several hundred packages may come in and go out on a busy day, her job demands speed as well as accuracy.

Layaway is a popular service with Penney customers, who may select merchandise at any time, set a payment schedule that is personally convenient, and enjoy the satisfaction of being dept-free.

There is no charge, and the customer who changes her mind always receives a complete refund. "And they do," says Mrs. Robbins, "Everyday."

Mrs. Robbins says her job is exacting, but mostly pleasant, especially the part dealing with customers. People were patient when the store first opened, and she was new at her job.

Now she knows many of them by name, and enjoys serving them efficiently. Her main problem now is the occasional layaway ticket that is hard to read.

The "lost layaway" mishap occurred on Mrs. Robbin's day off, but she maintains that her department functions whether she is on duty or not. Her assistants are Miss Jean Cotter, Miss Doris Burgin, and Mrs. Marion Defoe.

★ ★ ★

In addition to layaway, gift wrapping, parcel checking, and "lost and found" are located at the layaway department.

★ ★ ★

What about that missing layaway package? It was found, after a search of the building, in the alteration room, and restored to the proper bin in the layaway section.

Penney's Miracle Mile store is now enlarging the storage area for Christmas layaways, to make room for toys, and other bulky gifts that will be "hidden" until the Christmas tree is up.

Later a separate gift wrapping service will be set up to handle the holiday rush.

TO SEE AGAIN — A model wears a pair of new tri-optic lenses, designed for the partially blind, which were publicly demonstrated for the first time in Buffalo, N. Y., recently. Upper sector of the lens magnifies up to 300 per cent for distance vision; center gives normal side vision; and lower sector magnifies up to 2,000 per cent for reading and close work. The unique lens, it is claimed, will enable as many as half of the nation's 500,000 partially blind to regain youthful sight.

Fewer People Getting Married in United States

Some government officials have attributed the decline largely to the recession but there has been no increase in marriages comparable to the recent upturn in business and industry.

There were an estimated 153,000 marriages during August, the Public Health Service reported today. That was a drop of 7.8 per cent from the 166,000 in August 1957.

The August marriage rate this year was 10.4 per 1,000 population, down 9.6 per cent from the rate of 11½ during the 1957 month.

For the year 1958 through August there were 960,000 marriages, compared with 1,027,000 last year, for a rate of 8.3 as compared with 9.1. The 1958 total was 6½ per cent less than that for 1957 and the rate was down 8.8 per cent.

Births also continued to decline during August. There were 367,000 this year, compared with the August record of 377,000 reached in 1957 and 1958, a drop of 2.7 per cent.

The birth rate dropped 4.2 per cent, from 26 per 1,000 in August 1957 to 24.9 this year.

The first eight months of 1958 there were 2,757,000 births, compared with 2,797,000 in 1957, or a drop of 1.4 per cent. The rate was down from 24.8 to 24, a decrease of 3.2 per cent.

W. T. Grant Motto--How Much Can We Give Customers

In a recent interview, W. T. Grant, founder of the chain of over 360 stores which bear his name, summed up the secret of his success in the great American art of selling: "Not how much can we get—but how much can we give our customers."

Grant, now Chairman of the Board of Directors for the national chain, said that this basic philosophy set the policy of his first store in Lynn, Massachusetts in 1906, and has been the guiding principle in the company's growth through the years. Grant asserted that this is the policy of the Miracle Mile Store.

Building team work and a "family feeling" within an organization is also a great boom to success, said Grant. He is more than willing to give credit to the 13 or 14 girls, who he says, "made business possible in that first store in Lynn, Massachusetts."

Without their help and enthusiasm, he declares, he never would have been able to attain the customer loyalty which brought about the expansion of that store into the present coast-to-coast chain.

In the beginning, Grant worked closely with the salespeople, managed the store, and did all the buying. Much of his merchandise was women's apparel, and he says, "I'd really get the dickens from the girls if I bought the wrong thing."

Grant's value-giving policy soon became famous, and people began asking him to establish stores in other communities. His second store was opened in Waterbury, Conn., in 1908, followed shortly by another in Bridgeport, Connecticut, and — one-by-one — store-after-store—until today they reach from Maine to California.

With the growth of the chain came changes in the items sold in the stores. The famous variety and women's wear lines were broadened, and men's and boys wear, infants' and children's wear, home furnishings and housewears were added. Today Grant Stores carry practically everything for the home and family.

People Legally Blind Rating 20/200 Vision

NEW YORK — People having a visual-acuity rating of 20-200 or less with everyday glasses—that is, those persons who can't see at any greater distance than 20 feet what normal vision sees at 200 feet—are legally blind, according to the Better Vision Institute.

About 75 per cent of these people have some sight, however, and about 77 per cent of this partially blind group can be substantially helped by special lenses and devices, the institute says.

Ford Grants U. of M. Half Million Dollars

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Ford Foundation has announced grants totaling more than a half million dollars to the University of Michigan.

The largest sum, $350,000, will be used for a study on economic and social factors on aging. The foundation allocated $195,000 for a national study on family income and $24,000 for analysis of research and experimental programs in youth development, including juvenile delinquency.

Wayne Weekend Set

DETROIT (UP) — Wayne State University's semi-annual seminar weekend for faculty and students will be held at Clear Lake Camp near Battle Creek the weekend of Oct. 31.

Tax Becomes Issue Even to Lawyers

LANSING (UP)—Michigan lawyers are wrangling among themselves about the tax status of their new state bar building.

In fact, they may make a legal case out of it.

Benjamin Watson of Lansing presented a resolution to the Ingham County Bar Assn. opposing efforts of the State Bar Association to make the new building here exempt from city and county taxes.

Watson termed the proposal "ill advised" and said he thought it was bad public relations for the lawyers to ask for tax exemption on their building.

Other members of the county bar association objected and the proposal was held over for two weeks.

Grant Employes Receive Low Cost Insurance Plan

Typical of a modern business trend of providing employe benefits is the low cost life insurance protection offered employes of the new W. T. Grant Company store, at Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

★ ★ ★

"It seems strange that it took business so long to realize that the happiest employe is one with peace of mind," stated Edward Staley, president of the Grant Company.

"I am proud that Grants took steps many years ago to provide adequate insurance coverage for its employes—and pays a major portion of the cost for this coverage," he continued.

Realizing the family financial problems that might accompany the death of an employe, the Grant Company — through a group insurance program — has made it possible for all employes after a year of regular employment to obtain policies without a medical examination if application is made promptly.

The amount of the coverage — ranging from $1,500 to $50,000 — is based on the individual's annual earnings.

The Company pays the entire cost of insurance for those earning less than $3,000 a year and a portion of the cost for those earnings are in excess of this figure. Payments on policies are handled through convenient payroll deductions.

Unlike many company insurance programs, Grant company policies are convertible. If an employe leaves the company, he may convert his insurance to any individual life policy.

"The best employe is one who can look forward with confidence to the future — because his future is protected. Grants employe's life insurance plan is one of the many company benefits we offer our 'family'," said Staley.

Mail Christmas Gifts Overseas by Nov. 20

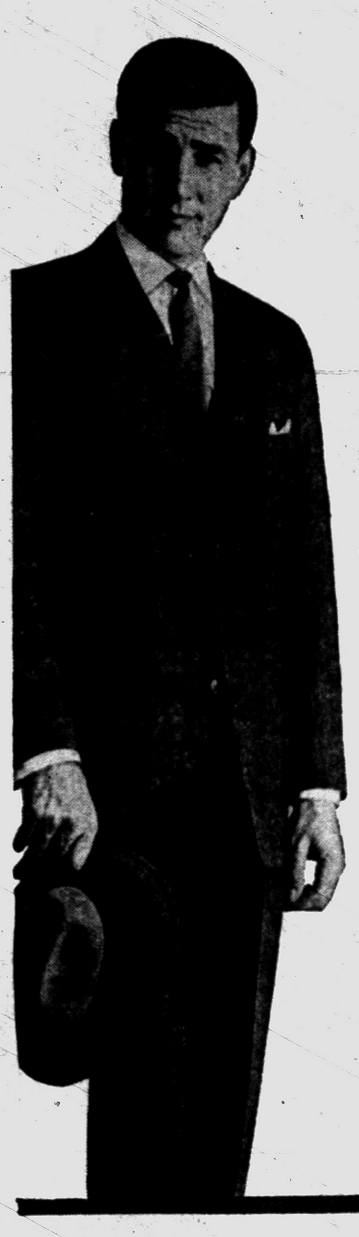

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Families of servicemen overseas should do their Christmas gift mailing by Nov. 20 to assure delivery at foreign posts by Dec. 25.

A Defense department statement also urged that packages be securely wrapped in cartons of wood, metal, or double faced corrugated fiber board.

One-Stop Shopping Available at W. T. Grant Store

Behind the variety store items to be seen at the front of the Grants Miracle Mile store, local shoppers will find a complete one-stop shopping center, according to William F. MacDonald, manager.

As in all Grant stores across the country, the small variety item will be located at the front of the store for quick pick-up. "But don't stop there," said MacDonald "Whatever you need for yourself, your family or your home, you'll find in our vast assortments.

"You'll find a complete family apparel store; a complete dry goods store and a complete home-hardware store," he added.

To house this streamlined merchandising operation, the new Grants was specially designed to bring Pontiac shoppers the fastest, easiest shopping they've ever known.

Departments have been arranged to coordinate related types of merchandise. Shoppers won't have to look all over the store to find the items they want. Vari-colored pastel walls help segregate merchandise lines and also provide a colorful shopping background.

Specially designed "shop-at-a-glance" counters will hold every Grant item within easy reach for quick selection of leisurely inspection. Merchandise will be shown under day-bright conditions by the newest in fluorescent lighting.

"Nothing has been omitted to make Grants the most pleasant place to shop and save," concludes MacDonald.

Battle on Water 'Must Continue'

Adams Claims Lakes States Can't Ease Fight Against Chicago Steal

DETROIT (AP) — Great Lakes states must continue fighting Chicago to keep the city from increasing its "water steal," Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said yesterday.

Concerted legal action by the group, he said, prevented Chicago from diverting an additional 1,000 cubic feet of water a second. But he warned that Chicago will continue to try to divert Great Lakes water.

This water diversion, Adams said, lowers lake levels, mars beaches, injures fish spawning beds and cuts the amount of shipping tonnage that can be carried through shallow connecting waters.

At present, Adams said, Chicago is diverting 1,500 cubic feet of water per second for maintenance of navigation in its sanitary canal and 1,800 cubic feet per second for domestic pumpage.

Adams maintained this domestic pumpage should be returned to the Great Lakes after use instead of being diverted into the canal.

This 1,800 cubic feet per second, Adams said, is the equivalent of the average flow of water in the Grand River at Ionia and the Muskegon River at Muskegon, more than the average flow of the Tittabawassee at Midland and would fill Houghton Lake four times with an average 15 foot depth in one year.

Benjamin Franklin was the first postmaster of the United States.

Live Polio Vaccine Called More Lasting

STOCKHOLM—Inoculations with live polio vaccine seem to have a more lasting effect than with Salk vaccine, Swedish experts say. They predict that the polio vaccine of the future will be a combination of live and dead vaccine.

The head of the virus institute of Stockholm's famed Caroline Institute, Sven Gard, has inoculated infants with live, debilitated virus and the treatment has proved perfectly harmless. The effect was ascertained by measuring the number of antibodies formed in the blood.

Ike's Aides Predict Record Production

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower's top economic advisers reported today that the nation's production of goods and services bounced back three-fourths of the way from the recession low during the third quarter of the year.

Top government economists now believe that national output will reach an all-time record annual rate of 450 billion dollars in the last three months of 1958.

The President's council of economic advisers reported that gross national product (GNP) — which includes all goods and services — reached an annual rate of 440 billion dollars in the July-August-September period. This was nearly 15 billion dollars higher than the recession low hit in the first quarter.

Americans had a total of 87 and a half billion dollars in the bank at the end of 1957, a seven-billion-dollar increase in savings during the year.

J. C. Penney's Ready to Grow

Store Designed for Expansion

Continued growth in Oakland County and the Pontiac area is expected by the J C. Penney Co. Their Miracle Mile store, now in it's second year, is designed so that an 85 foot addition to the building can be built when needed.

The planned expansion would increase this space by 15,300 square feet, enough space for a fair sized store in itself.

★ ★ ★

Sergeant Guilty in Abuse Case

'I Still Think I Was Right,' Says Sovie After Court Martial

FT. JACKSON, S. C. (AP) — A Purple Heart Army sergeant, convicted of maltreating recruits, says, "I still think I was right. Everyone of those trainees who testified was a problem child."

M. Sgt. George Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was convicted by a general court-martial board Tuesday of five of seven specific charges of assault and battery and recruit maltreatment.

★ ★ ★

He received a relatively light sentence—reduction one grade to sergeant first class and forefeiture of $75 a month of his pay for six months. Maximum penalty could have been 4½ years imprisonment, dishonorable discharge and forefeiture of all allowances and pay.

Sovie said he hoped his next assignment would be with a combat unit. He holds a Bronze Star for action in Korea.

He was convicted of having a trainee dipped head first into a mess hall grease trap, striking and kicking other trainees, forcing two traines to eat dollar bills, and requiring other recruits to hold heavy footlockers over their heads for up to 20 minutes.

The board of officers and sergeants acquitted him of kicking one recruit and of forcing six others to go through a footlocker drill.

Two other general courts-martial are planned in maltreatment cases. Sgt. 1.C. Charles Noman, 28, Empire, Ala., is expected to face one sometime this week.

Latr 1st. Lt. Gerald Whatley, Bridgeton, N.J., will go before a general court-martial on charges of neglect of duty and actions unbecoming an officer.

BLUE GRASS, Iowa (UPI) — Mayor Hans Stoffers said he is determined to make sure motorists "see" it when they drive through" this small town. He authorized purchase yesterday of a 1953 station wagon to chase speeders.

LINKED WITH CROONER — Britain's Lady Beatty, squired about London for the past two days by singer Frank Sinatra, is making headlines in the British capital. London newspapers suggest the 36-year-old American-born beauty will become Frankie's bride.

Animals Steal Time of East Lansing Police

EAST LANSING (AP) — Police Chief Charles Pegg was wondering if he is running a police force or a conservation department.

During the past few days his men have released an opossum caught in a fence, captured an itinerant fox and released a baby owl trapped in a garage.

Officers also buried a large dead cow and picked up two dead dogs.

Probe Asked in Arrest of State Man Abroad

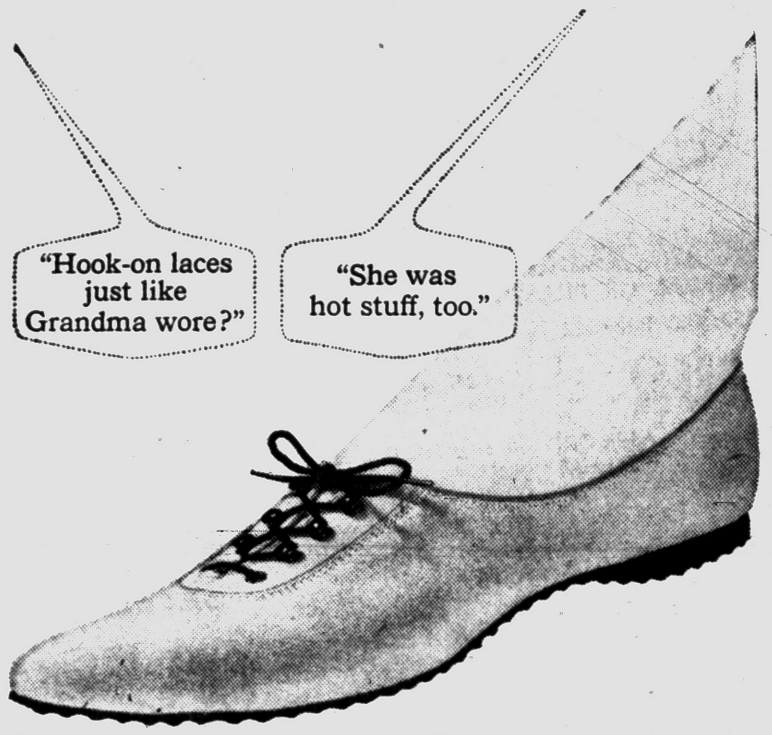

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Rep. George Meader (R-Mich) has asked the State Department to launch an investigation into the arrest of an Ann Arbor man in East Berlin.

Meader said George S. Milroy, 30, was arrested Saturday while vacationing in Germany. Milroy's father, Claude, said the State Department informed him East German police had arrested his son for taking pictures.

The British North American Act (which was the beginning of Canada) in 1867 united Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Count 4 Polio Cases

DETROIT (AP)—Four new polio cases were reported in Detroit Tuesday bringing the city's epidemic case load this year to 602 with 19 deaths. Wayne county, outside Detroit, recorded two new cases for a total of 186, with one death.

Miracle Mile Drawing From Surrounding Area

As they start their second year, merchants in the Miracle Mile continue to be gratified at the amount of trade drawn from areas to the south, east, and west of Pontiac.

Credit and other records indicate that Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Warren, Troy, Clawson, Rochester, Romeo, Farmington, Walled Lake, Milford are all heavily represented, with considerable number from Detroit, Berkley, Ferndale, and Dearborn.

Judge Orders 5 Sons to Support Mother, 69

DETROIT (UPI) — Probate Judge William J. Cody has ordered five of Mrs. Antoinette La Rosa's six sons "to support your widowed mother."

Mrs. La Rosa, 69, had been receiving only $82 a month from the county and $5 a month from one son, Jasper. Judge Cody ordered the other sons to each pay from $10 to $40 toward their mother's support. A sixth son who is unemployed was excused.

Sleepy Driver Chooses Busy Street for Nap

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Judge Vernon D. Hitchings Jr. doesn't doubt the wisdom of pulling off the road and taking a nap if a driver is sleepy. But he fined a motorist $10 here when officers testified the car was parked in the middle of a busy intersection.

'Bird Cage' Signals Vanishing in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The last of San Francisco's "bird cage" traffic signals will disappear this year.

City Traffic Engineer Ross Shoaf says the clanging, flashing stop-and-go signals have outlived their usefulness.

To many San Franciscans, the quaint signals are as much a part of the city as the cable cars. They were first installed in the early 1920's and hailed as the most advanced in the country.

There are only a handful of the original 219 still in operation. Shoaf says these will be a thing of the past by the end of the year.

"They just aren't flexible enough," Shoaf explains. "And occasionally they show green or red in both directions."

Both Bomarcs Away in 13 Seconds

2 Interceptor Missiles Launched in Succession

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Two Bomarc interceptor missiles, remotely controlled from 1,500 miles away, have been launched in rapid fire succession for the first time at the Cape.

In 13 seconds Tuesday, both of the sleek Boeing missiles blazed aloft in search of two unmanned B17 bomber targets over the Atlantic.

The missiles roared into action after buttons were pressed at a huge digital computer in Kingston, N.Y., part of the brains of the SAGE air defense system.

The Air Force did not announce the results of the test although the launchings appeared to be perfect. The missiles usually are set to veer off just before striking the drones.

The Bomarc, which has a range of about 250 miles, is powered by a liquid propellant booster rocket on takeoff and two 10,000-pound-thrust ramjet engines that push the missile to three times the speed of sound for sustained flight.

The mission of the double test was to prove the Bomarc's multiple launching capacity within one SAGE firing system.

SAGE is the recently established network of radar stations and electronic computers that will defend the nation against enemy air attack, and provide immediate data for retaliation. It stands for Semi-Automatic Ground Environment.

After the drones were sighted by a radar antenna at the Cape, the data was relayed to a huge computer large enough to cover A WAS CONVERted to firing figtwo acres in Kingston. There the data was converted to firing figures and fed into the computer.

Then a technician pressed a button and the missiles streaked aloft from the Cape. The Bomarcs were prepared for launching by Air Force crews.

Chiefs Must Face 3 Top 'A' Teams in 4 Weeks

PCH Meets 4th Rated Flint Northern Friday

Other Ranked Area Teams in Crucial Games

Top League Contests for St. Freds, Oxford, Birmingham, Rochester

By BILL CORNWELL

Flint Northern, currently the state's 4th ranked high school football team, invades Pontiac this Friday night to highlight an all star parade of Oakland area prep attractions.

Coach Andy McDonald's Vikings, off and running after a sluggish start, collide with Pontiac Central on the Wisner Stadium turf at 8 o'clock in a Saginaw Valley Conference game.

Northern dropped a 12-6 decision to Grosse Pte. in its 1958 season opener, but has been working up a full head of steam even since with lopsided triumphs over Grand Rapids Catholic Central, Saginaw and Muskegon.

Now definite contenders for the Saginaw Valley crown, as they usually are, the Vikings are not expected to suffer any letdown or show any mercy against the Chiefs, winners of four games in five starts.

Northern will be the first of three of Michigan's top-rated teams to face coach Jesse MacLeay's Chiefs in the remaining four contests on their schedule.

Non-league Melvindale follows Northern into Wisner Stadium, then PCH meets Bay City (No. 1) on the road and Flint Central (No. 2) here in SVC struggles to round out the season.

The Eastern Michigan and Oakland B leagues have the most at stake in county area battles this week.

★ ★ ★

Avondale, expected to finish somewhere near the Oakland B cellar but at the moment making a surprising bid for the championship, visits Lake Orion and Clawson troops into Troy in the feature dogfights.

The Yellow Jackets are presently leading the loop with a 2-0 record, but Clawson is right behind with two wins and a tie and Troy remains in the running with a 1-1 mark. Defending champion Orion, the big flop of the campaign, is out of contention but could be a nasty spoiler for Avondale.

Birmingham, rated Michigan's 9th Class A team, plays host to dangerous East Detroit in the spotlighted Eastern Michigan contest. The Maples are undefeated in three conference games and they have a showdown with pre-season favorite Port Huron coming on the heels of the East Detroit scrap.

Rochester, expected to enjoy a winning season but finding rough going with only one victory in four tries, invades a lion's den at Lapeer for a Tri-County League fight with the 12th ranked Panthers, unbeaten in five contests.

Oxford, waging a winning campaign for the first time in quite a spell, has its chances for a South Central Conference title on the line at home against a capable Millington 11. Oxford has won three out of five outings.

Farmington, Oakland County's only remaining undefeated-untied aggregation and voted No. 11 in the state, seeks its 6th win at Berkley in an Inter-Lakes tilt. Waterford at Southfield and Walled Lake at Van Dyke complete the I-L program.

Suburban Catholic League honors are calling to St. Frederick Sunday afternoon when the front-running Rams visit Royal Oak St. Mary. Runner-up St. Michael, still holding hopes for a share of the crown, meets troublesome Orchard Lake St. Mary on the latter's gridiron.

Unbeaten Northville, No. 7 in Class B and with the Wayne-Oakland title almost in the bag, entertains a Brighton squad which could be a threat to the Mustangs' bid for their 3rd crown in a row. Rounding out Friday's W-O card will be Bloomfield Hills at Holly, Clarkston at 2nd place West Bloomfield and Milford at Clarenceville.

Major League Caliber Control

Great Japanese Hurler Amazes Ex-Card Stanky

TOKYO (AP) — Eddie Stanky, former St. Louis Cardinals' manager, said today he was amazed at Japanese pitcher Kazuhisa Inao's "major league caliber control" in hurling the Nishitetsu Lions' to their third Japan world series victory Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Informed that Inao, 21, not oply pitched the sixth and seventh games but appeared in four others for a 4-2 record, Stanky said with surprise "unbelievable, . .he has remarkable durability and control."

Stanky noted that Inao didn't seem to show any fatigue after the seventh and deciding game and was "very much relaxed" when he stepped up to receive his many awards during the closing ceremony.

"He looked to me as if he could pitch another nine innings," Stanky observed.

★ ★ ★

Inao, 21, playing his third year in Japanese professional baseball, set five new series records including rewriting his own.

Among them are:

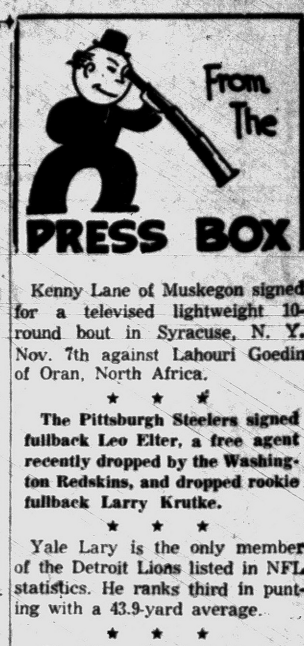

1. Hurling 26 scoreless innings.
2. Winning four games in a Japan "world" series.
3. Pitching 18 innings without yielding a base on balls.
4. Striking out 32 batters.
5. Jacking up his victories in the Japan world series to nine—he pitched three wins in the 1957 series and two in the 1956.

Inao who loves to sleep has been dubbed the "superman with an iron arm" by Japanese sports writers.

7TH BEST — According to National Collegiate rushing statistics, Bruce Maher of the University of Detroit ranks 7th in that department. He was 4th last week but dropped when he turned passer last week. He will face Leon Burton, ex-Flint Northern gridder, another top runner in the nation this week in the Arizona State game.

Kenny Lane of Muskegon signed for a televised lightweight 10-round bout in Syracuse, N. Y. Nov. 7th against Lahouri Goedin of Oran, North Africa.

★ ★ ★

The Pittsburgh Steelers signed fullback Leo Elter, a free agent recently dropped by the Washington Redskins, and dropped rookie fullback Larry Krutke.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

No TV Change by Lions in '58

Telecast Policy Stays the Same for This Year

Survey Will Be Taken to Check Penetration of Blackout Area

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Lions president Edwin J. Anderson said today there would be no change in the club's television policies this season.

Anderson was asked about the TV programing because of a survey now being taken to determine the "penetration" into Detroit by telecasts originating in Lansing and Flint.

The survey was being conducted by the Opinion Research Bureau "to find out how deep a penetration these telecasts of home games have made."

Anderson said, "We can't get excited about it (outstate TV broadcasting of the games) — especially when there are 55,000 fans turning out for our home games." He added:

"I can definitely state that there will be no change in the Lions' television plans this year — if ever."

Football clubs are allowed to "black out" TV areas 75 miles from the stadium in which the home game is being played. Lansing and Flint are more than 75 miles from Briggs Stadium.

National Football League commissioner Bert Bell, speaking from Philadelphia, said that Anderson would be allowed to enforce tighter TV restrictions if he could prove that telecasts from Lansing and Flint were hurting Lion attendance.

★ ★ ★

If the Lions keep slumping and Lansing and Flint telecasts continue to penetrate the blackout area, next year's season ticket sales could be affected.

Chippewas Pace State College Scoring

By The Associated Press

The Chippewas, leading the state's college teams with a perfect record after six games, have yielded an average of better than 15 points per game.

Top team in the state on both offense and defense is once-defeated Albion. Coach Morley Fraser's Britons, loser only to Hillsdale in five starts, have averaged 29.2 points per game—and has yielded a total of only 20 points—an average of only four per opponent.

Olivet, Western Michigan and Michigan have shown the leakiest defenses—Olivet yielding 26.8 points per game, the Broncos letting their foes in for a 26.6 average per game and Michigan close behind with a 26.5 defensive average.

Central Michigan came up a notch in this week's National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics rankings. The Chips now are fifth in the small college ratings, headed by Northeast Oklahoma, and the Michigan power would be interested in a bowl bid if Bill Kelly's crew can get by Louisville this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Western's Lovell Coleman retained his scoring lead—both for the nation and the state—by streaking to three touchdowns last Saturday against Washington of St Louis.

★ ★ ★

He has scored 76 points—10 more than Hope's Ron Bekius, who outdid Coleman last weekend. Bekius scored four touchdowns on runs of 1, 7, 20 and 26 yards against Adrian while Coleman was going on TD runs of 1, 5 and 27 against Washington.

Third in state scoring is Walt Beach of Central Michigan, who tallied twice last Saturday against Northern Illinois. He was a total of 54 points.

Coleman and Bekius have played five games, Beach six.

Here's the way the state's college teams have fared:

TEAM	W	L	T	Pts.	Opp. Pts.

Farmington Has Spotless Record

Falcons Only Unbeaten Prep Squad in County With 5-0 Mark

Farmington's football team is in a class by itself this week after last Friday's 14-7 conquest of Walled Lake in their Inter-Lakes conference showdown at Farmington.

The high-scoring Falcons now are the only remaining undefeated-untied high school squad in Oakland County with five victories in as many tries.

They have scored a total of 142 points while yielding a stingy 40. Jack Hayes' gridders will be heavily favored to whip Berkley, Van Dyke and Clarenceville in their final three outings, win the Inter-Lakes championship and complete a perfect 8-0 slate.

Walled Lake's setback dropped the Vikings from the unbeaten-untied ranks. Other previously unbeaten Oakland schools taking it on the chin during the weekend were West Bloomfield and the three Royal Oak outfits—Dondero, Kimball and Shrine.

Northville, well on the way to its 3rd straight Wayne-Oakland crown following a 27-26 win over Keego is one of three county area 11s with clean 5-0 marks. The others are Lapeer and Brown City. Armada, another area stronghold, was knocked from the undefeated ranks by Almont.

2 Top Runners in Nation to Meet in Detroit Game

DETROIT (AP — Two of the top runners in college football, both of them products of Michigan high schools, will meet here Saturday when the University of Detroit takes on Arizona State of Tempe.

U. of D.'s Bruce Maher, a graduate of the University High School, has gained 362 yards on 83 carries in five games—a rushing average of 4.4.

On the other side, Arizona State's Leon Burton, a graduate of Flint Northern High School, has gained 330 yards on 67 carries—an average of 4.9 yards per carry.

No newcomer to pass receiving, he turned thrower for the fourth pass of his college career and connected for a touchdown. He scored two touchdowns himself on pass receptions.

In total offense he has accounted for 676 of the 1,346 yards the Titans have gained in three victories and two losses this season.

Burton has picked up where he left off last year when he led the nation's major college backs in rushing and scoring—1,126 yards and 16 touchdowns.

Not only a runner, he has caught four passes for a total of 96 yards in Arizona State's five games.

In scoring, Maher and Burton are even, each with five touchdowns so far this season.

Although only 3-2 in the won-lost column, the Sun Devils will bring to the Titans' homecoming the nation's No. 10 offense and 13th-ranked rushing attack. They have averaged better than 350 yards total offense per game, including a 246-yard rushing average.

UCLA Lineman Honored in Last College Game

By The Associated Press

Bill Leeka, UCLA tackle, played his last college football game Saturday. He did such a bangup job against Washington that he was named today the Lineman of the Week.

Leeka, a 6-0, 202-pounder, was one of six UCLA seniors who closed out their half-season of eligibility because of Pacific Coast Conference penalties. Leeka an dhis mates bowed out in style as UCLA surprised by beating the Huskies 20-0 for their first PCC triumph.

Rams to Protest Rulings?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Football writer Maxwell Stiles of the Mirror News said Tuesday the Los Angeles Rams will protest the officiating in last Sunday's Los Angeles-Chicago Bears game.

Stiles wrote that no public acknowledgement of this is being made "and it is doubtful if any reaction by National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell's office will be released to the press."

Rams officials declined to affirm or deny that they plan such a protest.

The story continues: "However, something may be done quietly and effectively to clear up what nearly every club in the NFL recognizes as a sorry situation in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

"The Rams are not alone in their feeling that no visiting team can get a square deal from officials in Wrigley Field, where George Halas (owner of the Bears) directs traffic and is seen every game wigwagging suggestions to the arbiters on how penalties should be called."

Eagles' Roster Reduced to 33

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles last night announced the release of two players on waivers, cutting their roster to 33.

Simerson, a Purdue graduate, was in his second year with the Eagles. Narcelli, who played his college ball at Fordham, joined the club this year after finishing military service.

Grand Rapids Golfer Whipped by Medalist

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Sixteen survivors moved into the second round of the North and South Seniors golf tournament today after a first round marked by handsome upper bracket victories for medalist Thomas Robbins of Pinehurst and venerable Chick Evans.

There was also a series of tight lower bracket scrambles.

Robbins, whose three under par 69 gave him the medal Monday, romped past P. J. Farley of Grand Rapids, Mich., 6 and 5, in his first match play test over the wind - swept, rain-soaked No. 2 course of the country club.

Young Basketball Coach

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—Rudy Finderson, who graduated last June from Brandeis, greets candidates for the University's 1958-59 basketball team today as one of the nation's youngest head coaches.

A native of Cliffside Park, N.J., the 21-year-old Finderson was named head basketball coach of Brandeis yesterday, succeeding Harry Stein, who moved up to director of physical education and intramural activities.

Birmingham Ranked 9th

Bay City Top Prep Team

Bay City Central is Michigan's number one high school football team on both wire service polls this week.

The Wolves, who have only a 13-13 tie with Flint Central, were unanimous selection in the AP rankings, with Flint Central in second place in both polls.

Another Saginaw Valley school, Flint Northern moved up in the ratings after whipping Muskegon 41-6 last weekend. Farmington was mentioned in AP selections as was Lapeer sporting 5-0 marks.

Birmingham showed up in the ratings with a 20-13 victory over Hazel Park. Birmingham's only loss in five games was a 25-13 decision to Royal Oak Dondero.

★ ★ ★

Both Royal Oak teams, Dondero and Kimball, dropped out of the top ten — Dondero losing 7-6 to Wyandotte and Kimball bowing 12-0 to Grand Rapids South. Dondero and Kimball were tied for eighth place.

Lineups Shuffle in Scrimmages of U. of M. Camp

Oosterbaan Gets Silent Vote of Confidence by Alumni at Movies

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Jim Byers has come back just when the Michigan football team needs him most.

His mere presence has given the Wolverines a spiritual uplift. The chunky fullback had been counted out after a knee operation, much like Michigan is now after its 55-24 embarassment at Northwestern.

"Byers is ready for work," said coach Bennie Oosterbaan." I don't know if he can play Saturday, but it's good to see him out."

Byers ran through signal drills yesterday for the first time since his early September injury. He had been practicing on his own and this was his initial workout with his teammates.

Oosterbaan sent his players through a rare mid-week contact type scrimmage yesterday. It was the first since the season opened.

Quarterback Bob Ptacek missed the drill. He was to test his injured ankle today. Oosterbaan held out hope that Ptacek would be able to play in Saturday's battle for the Little Brown Jug.

It appears Michigan will be faster than its opponent for once.

Oosterbaan also has received a silent vote of confidence. A large group of Ann Arbor alumni assembled yesterday to view movies of the Northwestern game. There wasn't a peep of blame for the coaching staff.

Major Hoople Sez: Minnesota Over 'M'

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Feared by Stagg

Haw! The gifted should never jest about deficiencies of others. But the short memories displayed by football coaches and historians this tangy autumn amuses me.

The lonely end is the topic wherever pigskin lovers gather. They bow and huzzah for Col. Earl Blaik's West Point innovation.

Hak-kaff! True students of the sport recall the very day I sprung it on a bewildered gridiron world. To show their love for the sport, they have bombarded me with letters and telegrams of congratulations. It seems the rumor has spread that I gave this intricate play to Army in the interests of national defense.

Egad! I have been too pressed by business to aid the coaching profession. So I must confess that Colonel Blaik showed remarkable initiative in digging through the musty archives and resurrecting my deceptive formation.

It is too bad the late Percy Haughton, Harvard's great coach, is not alive to console those bested by this maneuver. Zounds! For many years the Hoople lonely end had him in the depths of despair. Fair Harvard could not cope with the ingenious formation.

It is, my many followers point out, a veritable monument to my gridiron genius. But, as I am quick to tell you, Hoople never really has departed from the football scene. My forecast excites the nation.

And this week, amidst the riot of color at stadia about the nation, upsets of unbelievable magnitude shall rock the land. Minnesota, tormented by rivals, will rise to heights unknown since Nagurski in battering Michigan to a 21-6 defeat!

And there is a stirring victory on tap for Alabama, which will turn back Mississippi State, 28-15.

It's Homecoming Game at Champaign and Host Team in Good Shape

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois team is expected to be in high spirits and a perfect frame of mind for its homecoming battle against Michigan State, but coach Ray Eliot is worried.

Illinois finally scored a victory when it beat Minnesota last week after losing its first three games, but Eliot told his squad it'll have to play better ball to beat Michigan State.

"You did a fine job against Minnesota," Eliot said, "that was a good line. But you're going to see lines that are that good or better and better backfields in the five games ahead."

End coach Steve Sucic who has scouted the Spartans all season said Duffy Daugherty's team is "explosive" adding, "They look like they can go all the way on every play."

★ ★ ★

"They haven't played the football they are capable of playing," said Sucic, "and that's what worries me. Purdue outplayed Michigan State last Saturday and I'm afraid the Spartans will come back strong."

Sucic said the Spartans have some outstanding players in end Sam Williams, halfback Dean Look, tackle Francis O'Brien and guard Ellison Kelly. He also expressed respect for halfback Art Johnson and tackle Palmer Pyle who have playing despite injuries.

When informed Daugherty demoted seven of his starters, Eliot said the Spartans can make such moves because of their tremendous depth.

"They're fast and strong and can never be underestimated."

Despite its loss to Purdue and a tie at the hands of Michigan, Michigan State is expected to take the field a three or four point favorite.

Illinois lost to UCLA 18-14, Duke 15-13 and Ohio State 19-13 before tripping up Minnesota, 20-8.

The Illini will be banking heavily on the passing of Bob Hickey. Hickey, who had been injured, came off the bench in the last half and nearly passed Illinois to an upset victory over Ohio State.

Last Saturday he teamed up with end Rich Kreitling to help whip the Gophers. Hickey tossed touchdown passes of 66 and 83 yards to Kreitling against the Gophers.

★ ★ ★

Except for end Ron Hill, Illinois expects to be in excellent physical condition for the Michigan State encounter. Hill's injured left knee was placed in a cast Tuesday and he probably will be out of action for the rest of the season.

Aussie Official Warns Kramer to Watch Step

MELBOURNE (AP) — A ranking Australian tennis official Tuesday night warned professional promoter Jack Kramer that he might be prevented from staging his pro matches anywhere in Australia.

★ ★ ★

The official, Victorian Lawn Tennis Assn. President R. M. Vroland, was commenting on reports that Kramer was planning matches in Melbourne and Sydney outside official tennis venues.

★ ★ ★

Vroland said Kramer had objected to granting free admission to members of the Victorian, New South Wales and Western Australian Lawn Tennis Associations in return for the right to rent their courts for his matches.

Busch, Lyon and Lucadam Pace County

No Change in Scoring Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

Heading into the 2nd half of the prep football season Ed Busch of Birmingham still holds a one touchdown lead over St. Fred's defending point champion Jack Lyon.

Busch was sidelined by an injury after scoring against Hazel Park last Friday but Lyon, playing the role of decoy most of the day, was also held to one by St. Mike. Their totals now are 60 and 54.

The biggest gainer this week was Lyon's running mate Tom Derocher. Two TDs Sunday vaulted the senior halfback from a tie for 10th to 4th as six of the previous top nine point-getters were blanked. Derocher now has 42. Former 2nd placer Dick Stokes of Troy is 4th.

Three touchdown games for Keego's Jack Newton and Cliff Solberg of Southfield Friday vaulted the pair into the top group. Newton's addition makes the Lakers the only school with three players having 30 or more points.

Busch, Lucadam, Harvey Chapman of Farmington, Phil Isbell of Birmingham, Tom Morey and Mike Crane of Ferndale are the only county players who have scored in every game. All Isbell's points are on P.A.T. conversions while Crane has just one touchdown.

Dan Donar of Highland Park St. Benedict continues to roll along as the county area leader. He moved ahead of Busch Sunday by scoring 13 points for a total of 61.

Brown City ace Bob Fisher now has 52. Donar's newest threat is Frank Hartway of Almont. Frank scored three times to take over 3rd with 43. Ron Irish of Brown City moved up to 4th. Barry Falter of Memphis and St. Ben boy Ed Eberhart joined the area top ten by scoring three times apiece. John McKillen of Lapeer also tallied three Friday but missed the first ten.

U.S., Mexican Horsemen Close Gap on Leaders

HARRISBURG (AP) — The United States and Mexico closed in on the leading West German team Tuesday with victories in the two international jumping events at the 13th Pennsylvania National Horse Show.

Vicky Mariles, 16-year-old daughter of Brig. Gen. Humberto Mariles, rode Chihuahua II to victory in the afternoon event with a faultless ride in 36.9 seconds.

Miss Mariles, who did not compete at night, and her brother, Humberto Jr., 18, tied for the individual championship lead when he won second place in the night event.

12 Teams Register for City Basketball

A dozen teams were represented at City Hall last night in the first organizational meeting of men's City League basketball sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

Competition will be held in classes A, B and C for the 1958-59 season. Registered in Class A are the defending champion Lakeside Royals, Knights of Columbus, CIO Local 594, Shaw's Jewelers and one other unsponsored team.

Walled Lake and Glens are "B" entries while Class C includes the Vikings, Police, Lakeside, Birmingham and one unnamed club.

Other teams wishing to enter the City Basketball League should call John Streit at the Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7131. Practice periods will begin early in November with league play starting December 1.

Heap Big Warriors

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Jack George and Paul Arizin combined for 45 points Tuesday night and led the Philadelphia Warriors to a 126-102 National Basketball Assn. exhibition basketball victory over Syracuse.

11th Frame

By CHUCK ABAIR

Recent performances by Ron Rothbarth and Frances Austreng have given local bowlers plenty to shoot at during the coming months.

Both Ron's 299 game and a 238 by Frances could stand up all season despite the abundance of talented bowlers in this sector.

Rothbarth, who is better known in local golfing circles, heads the Montcalm Centre team in the Huron Classic. He has a 218 average for seven weeks.

Frances Austreng accomplished her feat in the St. Benedict Mixed League. On her way to bettering 200 for a series.

It will be interesting to see what happens along this line from now on.

Ed Haglund had held early men's single game high with 279. A stubborn 4 pin in the 8th frame prevented him from going all the way to a perfect game as he followed with four straight strikes. Ed was later topped by a 288 and then a 289.

With so many bowlers going so well so early, there is a fear of possible letdown when tournament time comes around during the last half of the keg year. Time will tell.

MEN NOTES

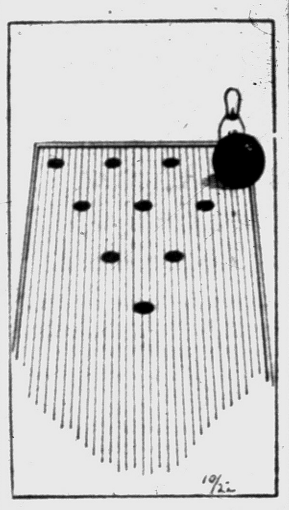

George Cousins, a 14-year-old Farmington boy, recently hit 300 at Nor-West Lanes there. He is in his 2nd year at the game and also has rolled 267 and 216 scores. Stan Musial and Herb Score are among the latest sports figures to enter the bowling business.

Sylvan Lanes is the newest Pontiac area establishment in operation. Many others have added numerous improvements. . . Entry blanks already out for the South Central signals at Albion next spring.

Neva Shain of the strong Ladies All Star league picked up one of the best splits this term getting the 4-7-6-9-10 . . . Milwaukee's Dennis Wright scored series of 815 and 802. . . One of the biggest area leagues goes under the name First Nighters. Sixteen teams are included. Several others have 12.

Strikes and Spares

By Joe Wilman

The most difficult single-pin spare for any right-handed bowler is the 10-pin, shown in the drawing today. Yet, you can turn this one in regularly if you apply a few basic rules.

A straight ball bowler will want his ball to follow a straight line from his release point to the pin. A hook ball bowler must allow room for his ball to move out near the right gutter and then hook back a bit before it strikes the pin.

This shot is so tough for the average right-hander that I always recommend plenty of practice on it. Shooting against nothing but the 10-pin for a couple of dozen times should help build up your confidence when you're faced with it in a game.

Tigers Acquire Strike-Out Ace

DETROIT (AP) — A former college pitcher who became a strike-out ace in the minor leagues was purchased today by the Detroit Tigers.

He is Pete Burnside, 28, a left-hander who helped pitch the Phoenix Giants to the Pacific Coast League championship last season with 112 strike-outs in 131 innings. In college he pitched for Dartmouth.

Burnside had an 11-7 record with Phoenix, He spent the early season with the San Francisco Giants of the National League.

At Dallas of the Texas League in 1955 Burnside struck out 235 men in earning an 18-11 record. In 1957 at Minneapolis of the American Assn. he fanned 114 batters in 101 innings.

Hershey Defenseman Called Up by Wings

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings have called up defenseman Jack Hendrickson from Hershey (Pa.) in the American Hockey League.

Hendrickson, a 21-year-old former Edmonton regular, is rated one of the top players in the Red Wing farm system. He will be available for Thursday night's game against Boston and will make the road trip Saturday to Toronto.

Three Flint, Mich., products have earned All-America football honors at Michigan State. They are halfbacks Lynn Chandnois and LeRoy Bolden and tackle Don Coleman.

Many Ohio Boys at Northwestern

Wildcat Recruiting Pays Off

Unbeaten and suddenly ranked No. 8 nationally after crushing Michigan 55-24, Northwestern has made one of the Big Ten's most dramatic comebacks.

The Wildcats did not win a game last year and failed to take a conference decision since 1956 until they trimmed Minnesota, then humbled Michigan on successive Saturdays.

The man behind the rags-to-riches move is 35-year-old Ara Parseghian, an intent, dynamic coach who turned out undefeated teams at Miami of Ohio before coming to Northwestern three years ago.

Ohio remains lush recruiting ground for Parseghian, who does it so matter-of-factly that even Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes has not openly accused him of poaching. Six of his starters listed for the pivotal homecoming clash at Iowa Saturday are from the Buckeye State.

These include two of the finest halfbacks in the Big Ten, Ron Burton of Springfield and conference sprint champion Willmer Fowler of Mansfield. The others are sophomore Mike Stock of Barberton at fullback, tackles Gene Gossage of Wadsworth and Andy Cvercko of Campbell, and end Doug Asad of Fairview Park.

Sixteen sophomores are on the first three teams, four of them on the No. 1 unit. Topping this group is quarterback Dick Thornton of Chicago, who punts, runs and passes.

"Thornton has the Northwestern team in the palm of his hand with his remarkable poise and ability," says Forest Evashevski of Iowa. "He is the best sophomore in the Big Ten without a doubt."

Recruiting, however, doesn't come too easy for the imaginative Parseghian.

"We went after linemen last year and have a good freshman team of them," he says. "But we didn't get all that we wanted. If you don't think it's hard to get players after an 0-9 record, just try it.

★ ★ ★

"We have 25 or 30 athletic scholarships available — fewer than other Big Ten schools. We are forced to use them to go after the blue chip athletes. We can't go after the so-called average guy — and, in so many cases, it is these average players who turn up at state supported schools and mature into fine football players. It is very difficult to get 11 players out of 35 who can make the Big Ten grade."

★ ★ ★

With a blend of eager sophomores and tested veterans, Northwestern has become well-knit. Helping tremendously is improved reserve strength, especially at end and tackle spots.

★ ★ ★

"We're still worried about depth but we are better off than I thought we would be," said Parseghian. "And we've been very fortunate in avoiding injuries to key men. This, plus a great desire, probably had done more for us than anything.

"When we went into spring practices, my greatest worry was how to overcome a defeatist complex. To my surprise, there was none."

★ ★ ★

"We forgot all about 1957. Our sophomores helped a lot in getting rid of any defeatist complex. Give them a lot of credit."

WILDCATS ON MARCH — Northwestern head coach Ara Parseghian, who has now guided the Wildcats to four straight victories, including last week's romp over Michigan, prepares for Iowa Saturday by working with his quarterback Dick Thornton. Both Northwestern and Iowa are unbeaten in the Big Ten race.

Detroit Beats Royals, Boston Defeats Hawks in Stokes Benefit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Boston Celtics and the Detroit Pistons turned in victories Tuesday night in a benefit National Basketball Assn. exhibition doubleheader here that netted $10,121.40 to help pay hospital and medical bills of Maurice Stokes.

★ ★ ★

The Celtics edged out the NBA champion St. Louis Hawks in the opener 108-106 as K.C. Jones scored 15 points in the last quarter. In the second game Detroit blew an 11-point lead in the last quarter but rallied to whip the rookie-studded Cincinnati Royals, 108-103.

★ ★ ★

Stokes, star rebounder for the Royals, never has been more than partly conscious since he was stricken with a brain disease last March.

State's Water Resources Up for Discussion

200 Representatives Hear Reports on Fish, Recreation, Forestry

LANSING (AP) — Water resources and water management problems, growing every year in Michigan's water wonderland, will come under study at a two-day session of the Michigan Natural Resources Council that began Tuesday.

Main session is scheduled today when some 200 representatives of 30 groups around the state will meet for an all-day session on water problems. Delegates represent local clubs, federal, state and commercial agencies, metropolitan authorities and colleges and universities.

Six study committees will make reports on land, water, minerals, recreation, fish and wildlife and forestry. Those making the reports are R. G. Hill of the state soil conservation committee, land; Norman Billings of the state water resources commission, water; Arthur T. Wilcox of the Michigan Forestry and Parks Assn., recreation; William Daoust, state conservation department, minerals; Justice Leonard, department of conservation, fish and wildlife, and Kenneth Davis, University of Michigan, forestry.

Pine Stump Area Set Aside for Forest 'Museum'

LANSING — The state conservation commission approved two moves at its recent meeting which commemorate Michigan's once mighty stands of white pine.

A pine stump preserve was dedicated at the former townsite of Deward, northwest of Frederic, and a nature study area of virgin timber and grassland on Bois Blanc Island was set aside as a museum piece of the forests now gone.

The pine stump preserve contains many white pine stumps five feet in diameter, attesting to the tall timber that once thrived in this state.

Good Hunter, Too

With Pat Taylor and Merle Taylor of Walled Lake (Bob lives in Commerce), he downed a 38-inch-long rooster near Bad Axe Monday, and his entry shares the current long bird lead for The Press contest. All three got their limits.

Many Weaving Materials

American Indians used many kinds of material for weaving. The inner bark of cedar, grasses, corn husks, cattail stems, spruce bark and willow shoots were included. One of the best, still used, is the innerbark of the basswood tree.

Pontiac Press Photo

ONE FOR TWO! — Two hunters with but a single thought — in this case the albino pheasant they display — collaborated in downing the unusual specimen, on opening day. Barry Adams (left) of 78 E. Rutgers, "kicked the bird up" while the pair hunted on Baldwin road. Both Adams and Bill Wyant, 111 Mary Day, were surprised to see the white bird go up. Both recovered, fired at the same instant, and both connected. "Guess this is an unusual way to bag an unusual bird," Adams remarked. Bird was a 2-pound 10-ouncer, 28-inches long.

Pontiac Press Photos

Plenty Birds, Fewer Limits

By JACK PATTERSON

Perhaps because it was Monday, opening day of the pheasant season saw far fewer hunters than normal for an "opener," but these hunters found more than a normal number of birds to shoot at. In the highly favored Thumb area, most hunters interviewed had had the opportunity to fill a bag limit by noon. Having the opportunity and filling, however, are two different propositions in this business of pheasant hunting.

PATTERSON

Poor shooting, resulting in birds missed, or in birds winged, downed and lost, got most of the blame for less than limit bags. Hunters who relied overmuch on their dogs' ability to find birds were handicapped by dry cover and poor scenting conditions, but retrievers paid their way in recovering wounded birds that would otherwise have been lost.

Even in the birdiest areas there were some hunters who had difficulty finding birds, or who found lots of hens but few roosters. They were not victims of bad luck. They were hunting where the hens were and not where the roosters were.

By the 10 o'clock opening hour, most roosters had high-tailed it out of feeding fields into heavier cover loafing areas, while hens remained to feed most of the day. Thus it was that mid-day hunters who spent their time in feeding cover found it possible to draw a blank. Heavy-cover hunters had little difficulty in locating roosters aplenty.

Lest this be charged off to idle speculation, note the following example. In an area that had not been hunted, and where there had been nothing to change birds' normal habits, five roosters were put up in 100 yards along a small, hawthorn-bordered creek. A short time later, a six-man drive through an adjacent cornfield turned up a slew of hens, one rooster.

After the first day, when early morning shooting is allowed, feeding fields will produce up until 8 o'clock or so, but the midday rule of hunting the loafing cover still applies. There comes a time in the afternoon when roosters return to feeding fields, and again this is not a matter of guess-work.

When the roosters begin moving out of the heavy stuff to resume feeding they very conveniently crow a bit, to let everybody know about it, and that's the time to hit the feed patches.

Hunters Told to Be Careful

'Whooper' Heads South

The crane was sighted south of Quincy a few days ago and was identified by Arch Mehrhoff of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Mehrhoff notified wildlife officials to the south to do all they can to provide safe passage for the crane on the remaining legs of its flight from Canada.

The entire whooping crane population is reported to be only 35 and conservation people don't want them to go the way of the dodo.

'Century Farm' Is Good Hunting Spot

The hunters, all of whom got their limits, were George Bond, 1980 Thorndale, Union Lake; Don Bond of Walled Lake and Earl Black of Union Lake. They saw four deer also in the area.

Squirrels Get Best of It

West Virginia Hunters Victims of Mishaps

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The squirrel season opened recently but the hunters seemed to be getting the worst of the deal.

Take Lawrence Taylor, for instance, who went hunting in the woods near his home at Reed. He tripped and fell into a seven-foot gully, suffering possible fractured ribs.

Timmy Tillis and Edward Shamblin of Bancroft wanted to get an early start. So they went into the woods before dawn. Wrapping themselves in fodder, with their guns beside them, they fell asleep in the middle of a road while awaiting for daylight.

★ ★ ★

Burl Burgess said the front wheels of his jeep were already over the pile in the road when he heard anguished yells.

One guy didn't even make it to the woods. Miles Crum of Huntington was on his way to a favorite hunting spot when a truck rammed his car and broke Crum's nose.

The aim of hunters was traditionally poor. Homer Crucenberry, 70, of Corrine, was hospitalized with shotgun wounds when his companion mistook him for a squirrel.

49 Short Hairs in National Test

When entries closed first of the week, there were 49 dogs on the list for the national tests for the German Short Hair Pointer National Field Trial Assn. It had been expected that 50 would run.

Dr. Clark Lemley of Detroit is in charge of plans for the three-day running that starts Friday morning, concludes Sunday. It takes place over the rolling Highland Recreation area and any one that likes to see fine field dogs in action is invited to witness the event.

Judges include Joe Stetson of New York, Lawrence McRathy of Burbank, Calif., and Roy Hiller of Michigan.

Many of the finest dogs of the breed, from many sections of the country, are among the entries.

Solunar Tables

Both hunters and fishermen are finding the solunar tables, published in these columns each week, valuable aids to picking the best times for their sport. Following periods cover the ensuing week. Major periods of activity last from one and a half to several hours, minor periods shorter. Tables were prepared by noted outdoorsman John Alden Knight.

Park Permits Total 132,481

Campers Set New Marks

LANSING—With the year's end still nearly three months away, Michigan campers have already posted a bulky new record for use of state parks during 1958.

★ ★ ★

To date this year, 132,481 permits have been issued for park camping, a healthy 16.2 per cent above the 1957 level. The highest previous year on record was 1957, when a total of 116,119 permits were issued.

Day use attendance, however, continues to run close to last year's mark, which is down from the record year of 1955 when nearly 18,000,000 visitors entered state parks.

★ ★ ★

To date, 16,017,000 persons have used parks this year, while 16,019,000 had used the parks to this date last year.

Little Stories of Outdoors

Surprisingly, despite the tremendous thrill of seeing his first wild moose in its own habitat, Russ Pierce, 512 Rochester Rd., Oxford, didn't experience any "buck" fever" on a recent trip to the Chapleau district of Ontario. Pierce was with a party of four, downed his bull with two shots and will soon display the huge head and rack (spread of 42 inches). The animal weighed 1,600 pounds, was 14 feet long, stood 10 feet at the shoulders. It was a prime bull, wore a splendid black mane and hide.

"When I first saw the bull," Pierce reported, "I was astonished at its huge size. A man could walk under its front legs. It was the only moose the party saw. I dropped it with one shot, used another later to be sure."

Others in the party were Alton Orr Sr. and Alton Jr., of Romeo and Bill Ferguson of Pontiac. Mrs. Pierce "went along for the ride."

Beginning of the pheasant season, Monday, also marked the end of a brief lifetime for two young bucks on U.S. 10, on the Oakland-Livingston-Genesee county line. A small button-buck and a little spike frightened out of the brush by gunfire, leaped into the highway and crashed into passing automobiles. The deer will be turned over to state institutions, Conservation Officer Harold Stoll, at Fenton, says.

★ ★ ★

Most outdoors enthusiasts in Michigan probably are opposed to the institution of mining in the Porcupine Mt. Park, but the majority of them aren't as vocal as they should be. The park, one of the largest primeval state parks in the world, should be maintained, unspoiled, as it now is, for future generations to enjoy. Park areas, particularly this kind, are few and once violated by industrial operations, speedily lose their appeal.

Sounds like a western story, but the state now is issuing "grazing rights" for turkeys, in the Allegan state forest. The permits were sought by private breeders, but the lands being used will still be open to the public. — MOATS

Minnesota, 1958 Big Ten baseball champion, was led in hitting by Jack McCartan. The third baseman hit .405 in 12 league games.

New Hunting Area Held Up by Legal Work

LANSING—Chances are the 11,000-acre Porter Ranch property in Missaukee and Roscommon counties will not be a public hunting ground this fall.

The conservation commission approved purchase of the area in June, but final transfer of title is not expected until late December. There is an outside possibility that the transaction may be completed before opening of the firearm deer season, but hunters should not pin hopes on this.

Cost of the property is $175,000. If approved as a Pittman-Robertson project, the federal government will pay three-fourths of the amount.

Lucky Hunters

They're lucky, these Oakland County bird hunters who have connected with potable fowl since the opening day of the pheasant season.

★ ★ ★

Like the two Pontiac boys, Barry Adams and Bill Wyant who got one bird with two shots — one each by the hunters, but both fired at the same instant. And to make the incident the more unusual, the rooster was an albino.

Another albino was reported by Philip Toth, 273 Rambler Dr., Pontiac. Toth's bird was all white, he says. It was bagged near Owosso Monday, while Toth was hunting with Lisle and Tom Karr and Dick Jewell, all from his Pontiac neighborhood. They took their limits.

Toth said he downed one big bird (a four-pounder) that went into the cold box (cut up) before the hunter knew it would have been the current leader in The Press' pheasant derby! This hunter did a bang-up job, too, with the geese, taking a 10-pounder near Holly on Tuesday, while standing on a hilltop.

★ ★ ★

Wayne Francisco, Walled Lake schoolman, also got a 3-pounder, at Owosso, hit another with two loads of No. 4s, but the bird just whirled and kept going.

Using his boxer dog as a pointer, Homer Fults, 192 Lakeside, Pontiac, downed a 3½-pounder, 37 inches long at Rochester. His brother-in-law, Ray Ballard, also got a bird.

The black mamba, probably the most deadly of all African snakes, is credited with the speed of a galloping horse.

Pontiac Press Photo

THRILLER — Taking the 1,600-pound moose which once possessed the huge head, and palmate horns, above, gave Russell Pierce of Oxford his greatest hunting thrill, he reports. Moose was Pierce's first, and the trip to Ontario his first after the big game animal.

State Fish Planting Tops Total for 1957

Fish planted in Michigan lakes and streams during the first nine months of this year totaled 4,484,966. For the same period in 1957 the figure was 2,453,862.

Walleyes led the list this year with 2,100,000. Legal-size trout numbered 1,566,041. The fish were planted in public access waters and came from Conservation department hatcheries.

Many were planted in Oakland County lakes and streams.

12 Boats Running in Opening Heats

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)— A dozen boats were assured of positions in the first heats of the third annual Sahara Cup races for unlimited hydroplanes today. And a 13th was trying to get in the act.

Two fields of six boats each were drawn last night for the opening heats but no one knew at the start of today's program on Lake Mead whether that's the way the heats actually would be run.

It all depended on Fascination, a boat owned by Bob Gilliam of Seattle and driven by Dick Short. Officials decided that Fascination would be allowed to try to qualify for the heats as the first order of today's business. If she made it, they said, the fields for the first heats would have to be re-drawn.

This is because no more than six boats may race in any one heat. The plan was to run two heats of four boats each and one of five if Fascination qualified.

Second: Miss U.S. I, Miss Burien, Miss Spokane, Restless II, Thriftway Too, Miss Pay 'n Save.

Two more heats will be run tomorrow and the 30-mile final event will follow. The field for the final will be the top pointmakers in the heats.

To Dedicate New Community Hospital on Friday

Hart to Deliver Major Address

Dr. Burley Will Officiate in Ribbon-Cutting Rite at Outstanding Facility

ROMEO — Michigan's Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart will deliver the keynote address Friday afternoon at the dedication of the new 30-bed Community Hospital, located on Van Dyke between Romeo and Almont, Charles D. Ferguson, chairman of the Dedication Day program, announced today.

Another highlight of the ceremonies will be the ribbon-cutting rite to be performed by Michigan's oldest practicing physician, Dr. David H. Burley, 95, of Almont. He turned the first shovel of dirt at the ground-breaking ceremonies in June 1957.

Other features of the program, scheduled to start at 2 p.m., will be the flag-raising ceremony by veterans' organizations and presentation of the key by Leo J. Hosman, officer of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Detroit architectural firm which designed and supervised the building of the hospital.

The new medical facility has been termed "an outstanding example of a hospital its size in the United States."

A short resume of the Community Hospital's history will be given by trustee James H. Hough of Romeo, chairman of the building committee. He will describe how the idea of the need for such a facility was born more than five years ago and was subsequently endorsed and subscribed to by the residents of the 12 communities it will serve.

Thomas K. Richards of Almont, Community Hospital Foundation president, will invite visitors to inspect the building after the ceremonies or at other specified times during the Dedication Day weekend. Guides will be on hand to conduct tours from 2 to 6 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and from 3 to 6 p.m. Sunday, Richards said.

Officers, who were elected last week to staff the new hospital, will be introduced. They are Dr. G. Clare Bishop of Almont, chief of staff; Dr. William L. Martin of Romeo, vice chief of staff; Dr. Frank T. Moran of Romeo, secretary and treasurer, and Drs. Dorothy L. Leith of Imlay City and Walter F. Strempek of Romeo, members-at-large.

Another announcement to be made is that the hospital has been granted participation in the Blue Cross program retroactive to Oct. 1.

Bids will be taken four days after the dedication on a 16- to 18-bed addition following the request for a $91,696 federal grant by the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction. Total cost of the 48-bed hospital was estimated at $715,235.

It will serve communities located in adjacent parts of Lapeer, St. Clair, Macomb and Oakland Counties. The actual opening date will be announced within the next few weeks, Richards said.

Independence Residents Protest Gravel Pit Ban

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—A group of residents of the Oakhill and Dartmouth road area presented a petition to the Independence Township Board at its meeting last night, protesting the Board's action to stop operation of sand and gravel pits here.

56 SIGN PETITION

Signed by 56 persons, the petition asked the Board to take steps to rezone the northern half of Oakhill-Dartmouth area (Section 2) to permit the gravel pits to continue to mine.

The area presently is zoned for agricultural use.

A bill of complaint, signed by Supervisor Duane Hursfal, charging that the gravel pits are in violation of the township zoning code, already has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court against Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coulter.

They own the property at which the Salem Sand and Gravel Co., operated by Emil Raski, is mining.

Raski stated at the meeting last night that he had made several applications to the Zoning Board for permission to operate his pit, but each time was turned down.

Coulter said he also had applied for permits and twice was denied them.

Arthur Miles Jr. of 9575 Cornell Rd., who circulated the petition, claimed residents feel the sand and gravel industry is needed in the township.

Hursfal said, "The matter is now in the hands of the court and it is up to it to decide what is to be done."

Slate Dedication of New Church

St. Cornelius Parish in Dryden to Be Visited by Auxiliary Bishop

DRYDEN — Dedication of the new St. Cornelius Church in Dryden will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

An auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Detroit will perform the dedication. The Rev. Father Michael Kundrat, Detroit, will preach the sermon.

In a statement to detectives, Beckstrom said he paid $5 two weeks ago to a "Skid Row bum" for a wallet containing phony identification papers.

Report Steel Supply May Become Short

NEW YORK (AP) — Iron Age, national metal working weekly, today said the steel market comeback is nearing a critical point with the possibility supplies of sheet and strip "will become tight as a drum."

"A lot depends," the publication said, "on how well the new cars go over with the public. Should the auto companies step up their buying, flat-rolled products would be harder to come by.

"A midwest mill actually was relieved when General Motors Corp. asked that steel deliveries be held up for two weeks due to scattered strikes over local issues."

The magazine said, "Signs are growing that some steel users already are ordering farther ahead as a hedge against a tighter market next year."

Doctors Winning Battle to Save 'Smallest' Baby

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A team of doctors and nurses has won a fight for the life of a baby claimed to be the smallest ever to survive.

Teresa Toner, nicknamed Penny, weighed only 1 pound 6 ounces when she was born 14 weeks prematurely at a Downpatrick hospital Sept. 11.

She was rushed to the Royal Maternity Hospital in Belfast and placed in an incubator. She has been there ever since.

Today the baby weighs almost two pounds, is 13½ inches long, and has a head circumference of 9¼ inches. Doctors hope she'll be home for Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Penny is the seventh premature child born to Mrs. Rosaleen Toner, 32, wife of a postman. Twins Joseph and Mary Elizabeth, born two months early, now are 3. Four other babies died after birth.

Balloon Satellite Could Be Next

U.S. May Try to Orbit Sphere of Aluminum Foil and Plastic Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — An inflated balloon of aluminum foil and plastic film may be the next United States satellite to go into orbit around the earth.

Such a sphere is to be included in the next Army satellite firing attempt, expected in the near future at Cape Canaveral, Fla. It is to be sent aloft in a modified Jupiter-C rocket and inflated automatically with nitrogen hundreds of miles above the earth.

Similar balloons have been fired aloft—with no attempt to put them into orbit—from the Wallops Island, Va., experiment station now operated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The final stage of a slightly modified Jupiter-C will be a three-foot cylindrical case carrying the compressed balloon and a two-channel radio transmitter for tracking purposes.

Extra height will be sought through a small solid fuel rocket in the nose of the case. Shortly after that rocket fires, the balloon is to be ejected from the case and inflated from an attached nitrogen bottle.

If all goes well, both the case and the balloon will go into orbit.

The balloon will not have any instruments aboard, but scientists hope to learn something through visual observation of it.

A dead person may vote, legally, if he mails an absentee ballot and then dies before election day.

Hollywood Headlines

Gene Tierney to Make Comeback on Television

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — There's more real drama in the comeback story of lovely Gene Tierney than any Hollywood writer could put into fiction. The pleasant surprise is the news to her many friends and countless fans that Gene will resume her career after an absence of four years, in Ibsen's classic, "The Doll's House." This was the very story on which Gene had begun production for the General Electric TV show as the first of their series in 1954. She was forced to abandon it when she became ill.

Now, four years later, Gene has again been asked to star for the G.E. Theater as Ibsen's "Nora" and she is thrilled at the chance. We'll be applauding her. She returns here the first week in December for the filming at Revenue Productions for producer, Harry Tugend.

I often feel that Ernie Kovacs is an acquired taste. I've acquired it, and apparently so has Columbia studio. They have signed Ernie on a long term contract.

It all happened after "Bell, Book and Candle." Now Columbia will put him in another comedy, "The Wackiest Ship in the Navy," which Arthur Sheekman is preparing for Freddie Kohlmar. This is an original magazine story of several years ago, and it gives Ernie the same kind of zany nonsense for which he has become famous.

Well, you might as well keep your head up and look at the moon. That's what Universal-International is doing with their heartwarming comedy, "Bon Voyage," which they bought some time ago from Random House.

They want Bing Crosby for this delightful story by Marrijane and Joseph Hayes, the tales of a family on board a ship on their vacation. The scenes won't be shot until spring, and will be made on an ocean liner.

I had heard that Jane Wyman had been sent the script. They've already sent it to Bing, and he might just do it.

★ ★ ★

Cary Grant and Betsy Drake, after announcing their separation, went out of town, but not together. However, they did meet at Palm Springs.

Betsy has been offered the role of the girl in "Man of the House," a TV series.

Next Attraction! "From Here to Eternity"

From One Mother of Quads to Another:

'I Wish Her the Best of Luck'

DETROIT (UPI)—Mrs. Chester Ullman, who gave birth to four identical girls early this month, missed by only one day in predicting when another set of quadruplets would be born.

★ ★ ★

"When I had my girls the doctors told me quadruplets are only born once in every 750,000 births," 40-year-old Mrs. Ullman said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"I told him 'There'll probably be another set born next week'."

Mrs. Ullman, wife of a Detroit carpenter, gave birth to Marion, Martha, Catherine and Helen within 14 minutes of each other Oct. 12.

Mrs. Edward G. Englehart, wife of a $65-a-week street-sweeping machine driver in Richmond, Va., gave birth yesterday to two girls and two boys.

★ ★ ★

While Mrs. Ullman didn't have any particular advice for the newest mother of quadruplets, Mrs. Seifert of Sleepy Eye, Minn., who has four eight-year-olds, had some definite advice.

Get help from a neighbor, Mrs. Seifert urged. In some ways, she said, there are no more problems with four infants than with one, but the extra work comes at feeding and washing times.

The newest quadruplets' father, Englehart, said he would move the family from its present three-bedroom home to a larger house. But, Mrs. Seifert had an alternative plan.

★ ★ ★

Build a wing onto the present house and use it as a nursery, Mrs. Seifert said.

★ ★ ★

Both Mrs. Ullman and Mrs. Seifert warned of the eagle eye of the press and its readers.

Mrs. Seifert said thousands of the curious flocked to her Minnesota home to view her quadruplets.

Mrs. Ullman said newsmen spent a great deal of time at the hospital during the identical quads' first days. "But, things have quieted down now," she said.

The nation's attention had been directed to Detroit and Mrs. Ullman's quadruplets, but the cheerful mother, who has two other children — Charles, 2, and Louise, 1, — relinquished the honor of being the country's latest mother of four-at-a-time with a smile.

★ ★ ★

"I wish her (Mrs. Englehart) the best of luck with her children," Mrs. Ullman said. "I certainly hope she does as well physically as I have done."

Publicity Stunt Pays Off for Jobless Man

DETROIT (AP)—Charles Hamilton, who pushed a huge sandwich sign through the downtown Detroit area Monday in search of a job, went to work today.

Hamilton, 37, father of a 4-year-old boy, and unemployed except for odd jobs for over a year, will operate a drilling machine at a machine shop.

Hamilton said he was swamped with responses to his sign which read "First Class All-Around Man Wants Job-?" He received 18 offers, including one at a Ford Motor Co. plant, and a scheduled appearance on a national TV news show.

Now Hamilton says he's worried about how to thank all of the people who offered him jobs.

Several million bushels of potatoes are lost each year as a result of sprout growth during storage.

County Guards Vote Records

Macon Whites Refuse to Surrender Control of Elections

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP) — The Civil Rights Commission's failure to gain access to county voter records may touch off a legal struggle which could forecast effectiveness of the federal agency in the South.

Implications are strong that a state's right to governmental privacy as well as racial discrimination will be prime factors in any federal action over Macon County's closely guarded registration files.

White supremacy will not be surrendered easily in Macon County, where racial strife long has been commonplace, these observers say. And Atty. Gen. John Patterson, Democratic nominee and thus assured of the next governorship in this Democratic stronghold of the Deep South, has solidly blessed efforts to maintain white reign.

Negroes outnumber white residents about 6-1 in the county, home of famed Tuskegee Institute. At the polls, however, white voters rule by a 2-1 margin and sew up all county and city government posts.

Defiance of any possible change in this pattern came to the fore Monday when county voter registration officials refused to turn over their records to two of the commission's agents from Washington.

Indications that a showdown may be brewing came Tuesday night in a telephone interview between the Montgomery Advertiser and A. H. Rosenfeld, director of the commission's Office of Complaints, Information and Surveys.

"The commission will have to consider some sort of action when it meets in Washington Thursday," Rosenfeld said, "but I don't have the slightest idea what the action will be."

'59 British Cars Show Glamor

Continental Styling, Use of American Color Pep Up New Models

LONDON (AP) — Continental styling and American color have put the old zing back into British autos.

New '59 models, previewed at the London Motor Show yesterday, show a tendency to return to the sleek, imaginative sports designs that made favorites of English cars before and right after World War II.

The Austin A40 also has better performance and more room inside than previous models.

A Swiss designer has turned out the sleek new 100 mph Alvis Park Ward in the more expensive class. This one costs 2,000 pounds ($5,600) and up.

Then there is the Rolls—8,326 pounds ($23,312).

It comes in a coupe model with everything that has made Rolls-Royce the name it is in automobiles — including a gadget that raises the chassis to ease travel on bumpy roads.

Corn, Soybeans Attract Buyers

CHICAGO (AP) — Corn and soybeans attracted buyers in early transactions on the board of trade today, but wheat futures declined mostly, following yesterday's downturn.

★ ★ ★

Wet weather over the corn and soybean belt apparently was responsible for the higher trend of those futures. There was no special news of importance to the grain trade.

Liquidation and back spreading, along with scattered commission house selling, was believed behind the downturn in wheat. Tired longs were credited with selling the nearby December wheat contracts.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ¾ lower, Dec. $1.93⅜; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, old style Dec. $1.10¾; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, Dec. 64¼; rye ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, Dec. $1.28½; and soybeans ⅛ to ½ higher, Nov. $2.13¼.

Local Labor Dispute Settled at Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. today reported settlement of a local labor dispute that had idled 1,000 at a Detroit parts plant Tuesday. General Motors continued to increase the tempo of its production with six more local agreements.

The Chrysler settlement put the company back into full operation. The one-day strike of United Auto Workers was to protest job assignments.

GM announced settlements at six more plants, bringing to 229,384 the number of workers ready to return to their jobs at 97 plants. In normal operation, GM has about 275,000 UAW employes at 126 plants.

Shut down completely by local issue strikes after a national agreement with the UAW Oct. 2, GM only last Monday resumed production of 1959 model cars.

GM said it also had reached a local agreement covering 6,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers at the Delco plant at Dayton, Ohio. This brings to 21,000 the number of GM's 25,000 IUE employes ready to return to work with new local agreements.

Gains, Losses Evenly Divided

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed with gains and losses about evenly divided early today.

Some large blocks dotted the tape in the first 15 minutes, but no definite trend was established. The ticker ran two minutes behind floor transactions for a short period.

Among larger opening blocks were Mohasco Industries, up ⅛ at 11¼ on 10,000 shares on a good earnings report; Wyandotte Worsted, up ⅛ at 11 on 4,000 shares on a published report it might merge with Studebaker-Packard; and American Motors, up ¼ at 28⅝ on 2,500 shares.

The aircraft issues showed a firm tone with Martin, Boeing and General Dynamics ahead. Steels and motors generally were lower, as were most oils. The tobacco stocks ran up small gains while most rails were down fractionally.

★ ★ ★

Hospital Workers' Vote Favors Holding 2 Jobs

Results in the Pontiac General Hospital balloting on the two-job question were announced today.

Of 503 employes voting, 219 thought it fair for an employe to hold another full-time outside job; 129 thought it unfair and 150 had no opinion.

Results of the advisory ballot will be considered by the hospital board at its next meeting, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator. The board has tentatively opposed outside jobs, but the union has supported them if they do not interfer with hospital work.

TIME'S UP, MR. SPEAKER — Demonstrating how political candidates will be limited to 10 minutes per question when they face public quizzing in Pontiac are Clyle Haskill (right), president of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Richard Hanson, chairman of the Jaycee-sponsored "Public Forum" scheduled for Friday at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater at Madison Junior High School. The timer's red light will mean 'stop' for both Democrats and Republicans alike.

No Cement Monopoly on Road Construction

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The Portland cement monopoly on new arterial highway construction in Michigan has been broken, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

He said the department's five-year program of highway construction would be divided between 786 miles for Portland cement and 192 miles for asphaltic concrete.

"From an engineering standpoint," Mackie said, "our staff committee is in complete agreement that an efficient roadway can be designed and constructed with either type of surface."

'The Red Sell' Poses Clincher

Newsman Smuggles Loaned Footage From Hong Kong Distributor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gathering motion picture film in all parts of the world for the CBS prize-winning TV documentary program, "The Twentieth Century," consists in large part of just plain, hard research, but the task can take on a real cloak-and-dagger aspect now and then.

Burton (Bud) Benjamin, producer of the late Sunday afternoon program, which begins its second season Oct. 26, and Isaac Kleinerman, associate producer, have revealed some of their problems and coups.

One of the more intriguing episodes involved getting some footage in the Far East for "The Red Sell," a two-part examination of the Communist propaganda machine that will be aired Oct. 26 and Nov. 2.

Peter Kalischer, CBS correspondent assigned to contribute material from Southeast Asia, found that Chinese Communist newsreel films were available in Hong Kong on a brief rental basis. He arranged to rent some film for 24 hours, dealing with a go-between, naturally, rather than the Communist distributor.

The idea was to screen the film and make a print of any part that seemed useful. But Kalischer did not dare trust the job to a Hong Kong laboratory for fear the distributor would hear of it and interfere.

★ ★ ★

Wade Bingham, a CBS cameraman in the Far East, had a friend with a film laboratory in Manila. Arrangements were made by phone to use the lab overnight, and Bingham took off with the film on a 6:30 p.m. plane. He and his friend worked in the lab until 5:30 the next morning. Bingham caught the 9 a.m. plane back to Hong Kong, and the original film was returned to its Communist distributor by 4 that afternoon.

★ ★ ★

This Far East film will be in the Nov. 2 part of "The Red Sell," which is subtitled "Report from the Targets."

Benjamin was in Finland a few months ago to look at thousands of feet of film for "The Russo-Finnish War," the No. 16 program. It was a time of government crisis there, with the possibility of a cabinet change, and Benjamin got nervous, remembering what had happened to him in Italy the previous season.

On that occasion he failed to get a desirable batch of film out of the country because, in a lull between cabinets, there was no one with the authority to release the footage.

So, Benjamin packed up cans and cans of the Finnish footage and left the country as quickly as possible, declaring the film as excess baggage. The overweight charges made by the airline were ruinous, but "The Twentieth Century" was assured of some never-before-seen sequences.

RED PROPAGANDA — This man is operating a radio off the Chinese coast aboard a junk which has no electricity. But the Red Chinese have come up with an oil lantern which generates enough electricity to power the radio. In this manner Radio Peiping can reach the ears (and minds) of millions of Chinese living without electricity. It is one of the Communist propaganda methods which will be seen in "The Red Sell" on TV next Sunday.

Anybody Want to Buy Earl's Song—Cheap?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'll do anything for my readers—so my son Slugger and I decided to write a song to show you how it's done.

WILSON

"I'll get Perry or Dinah or Frank or Patti to record it," I told Slug. "They all love me."

"Sssshurre they do!" replied Slug. "A minor point, Daddy, what's 'our song' to be about? You know—the words?"

"We want romance: moon, croon, spoon, June," I told Slug.

"Daddy," exclaimed Slug. "Today's songs use words like 'goon' instead of croon. Teenagers want a beat, a new sound, violence!"

That hurt!

Then I happened to meet Leonard Whitcup, the ASCAP composer, and he said he'd help. He sat with Slug and me in our apartment for an hour. All we did was break one of the antique chairs.

We three then wrote it and decided that on Oscar night in Hollywood we'll let Frank Sinatra sing it or we might even settle for Pat Boone. And so we've got a song—have we got a song!—and the same as millions of other Americans, we're going to sell it.

Oh, Perry, FRANKIE, DI-NAH, PATTI, WHERE YOU GOIN' SO FAST? WHAT'S YOUR HURRY? HEY, WAIT, W-A-I-T! (I guess they didn't hear me).

Runaway Boys Take Brother, 7, Almost Home

Back home and soon sound asleep in his own bed was Edward Bleske Jr. 7. As police continued the search for his brothers, David, 13, and William, 10, Edward told how they had spent Monday night.

★ ★ ★

"We took a long walk in the country," he said. "We walked past a church and over a long bridge. We built a fire. There were lots of bears there. They came up close and watched us. We got out our prayer books, and the bears went away. We slept under some leaves."

One night out was plenty for Edward, and he got home when his brothers took him within sight of the house, showed him the way, then left again.

There was one more bit of excitement for the 7-year-old when he was taken on a ride in a police car past several parks in the hope of showing officers where the trio had spent the night. Edward was unable to be any more specific so he was taken home, fed, bathed and tucked into bed.

★ ★ ★

The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bleske Sr., who have 11 children. David is the oldest, and the youngest is an infant daughter. The father is a truck driver. The gentle-mannered family lives in an immaculately clean home on the second floor of a two-family building in an older residential section.

Slate Lie Tests in Patient Death

State Police Report Variances in Testimony at Coldwater

LANSING (AP) — State Police said today that lie detector tests will be given witnesses questioned in the controversial death of a patient at the Coldwater State Home and Training School.

Joseph A. Childs, State Police commissioner, said the tests were being made at the request of Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), chairman of a legislative committee investigating the death.

Phillips has contended that Joseph Kibilowski, 45, of Bronson, a mental patient at the hospital, died as a result of mistreatment at the hands of employes of the institution.

Childs said the investigation had uncovered nothing yet to warrant criminal investigation. He said the two detectives assigned to the case would be consulted before the lie dectector tests were made.

Phillips said the variances in testimony centered around how Kibilowski was handled when bundled into a station wagon and how well he could walk without assistance. He has contended the patient was thrown into the car "like a sack of potatoes."

The legislator added there was "nothing political" in the investigation and that Democrat members of his committee were among the most critical of the case.

Estimate Steel Output

DETROIT (AP)— Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, says Detroit area steel mills are scheduled to operate at 76 per cent of capacity this week. Their total production is expected to be 108,300 tons of steel.

FEPC Wants Office in Flint, Grand Rapids

LANSING (AP)— New offices in Flint and Grand Rapids have been set as major goals for next year by the State Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The commission said its budget request to the department of administration will ask for completely-staffed offices in the two outstate cities.

John G. Feild, executive director, said there has been a steady increase in the number of claims coming from the two major regional population centers.

At its meeting yesterday, the commission reported that more than one half its claims — or 52 per cent — involve hiring. The next largest category, only 25 per cent, came from persons who felt their firing was because of race, creed or religion, he said.

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Frank E. Myrs has been elected to the committee that administers the American Society of Tool Engineers Research Fund. Dr. Myers is associate director of Argonne National Laboratory at Lemont, Ill.

Rocket Expert Claims:

Radiation Deadly in Space

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first space man must cruise within 600 miles of the earth or zoom more than 2,000 miles up to escape a layer of deadly cosmic radiation, a noted rocket scientist said today.

Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency presented those estimates in a speech prepared for a convention of the Association of the U.S. Army.

Above 600 miles, he said, radiation is up to 10,000 times greater than it is nearer the earth, and this area can be penetrated only for limited periods.

The German-born scientist based his estimates on radio reports from the Army's Explorer satellites, none of which exceeded 2,000 miles in orbital height.

He made no mention of this month's Air Force moon rocket, shot to a height of nearly 80,000 miles. Preliminary information from that shot indicates the radiation may increase in intensity to a height of 5,000 or 6,000 miles and begin to diminish about 10,000 miles above the earth. A State University of Iowa scientist said, however, these reports were premature.

Dr. Stuhlinger said that, based on analyses of reports from the American satellites, the radiation belt may peter out at about 2,000 miles altitude. He said that if this is proven true, a space man could journey through the forbidden zone if he spent no more than an hour or so in the area.

★ ★ ★

Among other discoveries made by analyzing the messages from the Explorers, Dr. Stuhlinger noted the presence of nearly twice as much air in lower space as had been believed. He said the density of the air at around 200 miles altitude was not only about 40 per cent greater than was anticipated but also that it built up into enormous air mountains which change constantly due to changes in sun radiation.

★ ★ ★

Reports from the Explorers have also indicated, he said, that the earth is apparently one half to 1 per cent less curved than previously thought; that tiny meteorite particles found in space offer no hazard to human orbiting; and that "man can easily control the temperature in a space vehicle to that range desired for human existence in comfort."

Credit Manager Admits Murder

Says He Killed Bookie With Hammer, Stuffing Body in Trunk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a credit office manager has admitted the hammer killing of a bookmaker whose body was found stuffed in the trunk of his own car.

Officers said Clifford Rue had slashed his throat in a jail cell suicide attempt Tuesday night and then admitted he had killed Maurice (Goldy) Goldsworth in a quarrel over a $4,200 gambling debt.

When questioned, Rue, 34, at first told police he last had seen Goldsworth Thursday night after paying him the $4,200. Then Tuesday night he broke down and admitted killing Goldsworth with the hammer when the bookie demanded full payment, later shooting him with Goldsworth's gun.

An autopsy showed there were four bullet wounds in Goldsworth's body but that none would have been fatal. Death was caused by multiple fractures of the skull.

Rue's pretty brunette wife, Wendy, 30, visited him after he had made his statement.

"I'll stick with him all the way," she said. "I think he just has to come out clean on this."

Rail-Romping Steer Dropped by 21st Bullet

DETROIT (AP) — Three Detroit policemen were ready to admit today the life of a cowboy might not be all TV's westerns imply.

Williams fired 10 times. The steer ran on. Styers fired six shots. The steer continued its break for freedom. Chall fird five shots. The steer dropped dead on the 21st shot.

Tough for War Maneuvers

Boisterous Winds Sweep Embattled Formosa Strait

Nature adds its own hazards in this channel between the southeast China coast and the island of Formosa where Red and Nationalist Chinese have carried on a running duel for the last decade.

ON TYPHOON PATH

Formosa Strait lies in the Pacific's earthquake and typhoon belt, says the National Geographic Society. The typhoon season proper comes between May and October, but the big blows—Pacific counterparts of Atlantic hurricanes — have struck in nearly every month of the year.

Strong gales also are prevalent in the strait, especially from October to March. During World War II, the United States Navy warned navigators that October's mean wind velocity is 69.1 miles per hour.

Formosa Strait is a sizable body of water, about 250 miles long and 75 miles wide at its narrowest. It is a strategic sea lane of the Orient, linking the East China and South China Seas. To the south are the Philippines and Indonesia; on the north, Korea and Manchuria.

The strait's western waters wash Red China along a jagged shore line studded with peninsulas and islands. Among the many offshore islands are the Nationalist Matsus and Quemoys which have drawn world attention as targets of Communist attack.

Heavily fortified Quemoy is the chief island of the Quemoy cluster that stands within five or six miles of the mainland in the central part of the strait. The islands block the harbor of the Communists' shipping and distribution center, Amoy. In turn their supplies and equipment are forced to run the Reds' artillery blockade.

FISHING, TRADING COAST

Opposite big Formosa Island, the bulging China coast unrolls a series of narrow plains hemmed in by high, rugged mountains. Since the mountains hamper inland travel and separate many shore communities, the region's densely settled people have looked to the sea for livelihood.

Their busy seaports, Amoy and Foochow, have long been known to the West. With Canton, Shanghai, and Ninghsien, they were the original treaty ports through which China opened trade with the world in the mid-19th century.

On the Formosa side of the strait, the fertile, cultivated plains of the Nationalists' island stronghold rise in terraced foothills toward a mountainous interior. In contrast are the flat and bleak Pescadores, a 64-island group scattered near by in the channel's southern reaches.

Handcapped in farming by poor soil and lack of rivers, more than half of the 83,000 Pescadoreans make full-time jobs of fishing the rich neighboring waters. The islands' name comes from the Portuguese word for fishermen.

The Pescadores' value, however, lies not in their economy, but in strategic location as sites for military bases and stepping stones between Formosa and the mainland.

Scourge of the islands for garrisoned soldiers and civilians alike is the wind that sweeps relentlessly through Formosa Strait. Gales bring stinging dust and violent downpour by turn. Farmers must protect their meager crops and stunted trees by coral and stone windbreaks.

Women working in the fields shield their faces from wind and sun by towels and scarves. They wear glovelike sleeves from wrist to elbow, and some wrap their legs in spiral puttees.

Benson's Stepmother Dies at 66 in Italy

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Mrs. Clara Marie Danielson Benson, 66, stepmother of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, died in Florence, Italy, Monday night, relatives here learned yesterday.

The report said Mrs. Benson died of bronchial pneumonia. She had been touring in Italy.

3 Atomic Test Shots Slated Today in Nevada

The Atomic Energy Commission said it hoped to fire three atomic devices from balloons before sundown. One of the shots had been postponed eight times previously and the other two at least once.

Discover Dynamite Hidden Near Temple

ATLANTA (AP) — A dynamite cache has been found in a patch of weeds 10 miles from the Atlanta synagogue which was bombed Oct. 12.

A hearing was scheduled for today in Fulton Superior Court for five men indicted last week on chargs of bombing the Jewish house of worship. Lawyers for the men are seeking their release on bond.

FBI demolition experts who examined the explosives found by a farmer in nearby Chamblee Tuesday said 20 sticks of dynamite had been saturated and were exuding a liquid believed to be nitroglycerin.

Officers launched an inquiry to determine if the dynamite, fuses, caps and wires had anything to do with the temple bombing. The material could have been rigged and exploded in seconds, police said.

★ ★ ★

Aussie Researchers Find 3 New Drugs

MELBOURNE, Australia—Three drugs discovered by a research team at Melbourne University have recently been given approved names and officially included in the English language.

Tropigline, a spasm-breaking drug useful in certain cases of paraplegia and in some cases of spasticity of children; proskine, an anti-travel-sickness drug that balances the fluid in the central ear and generally combats nausea; and tactrine, an anti-paralysis drug that leads to control of relaxed muscle conditions.

Middle age is the time of life when your idea of getting ahead is just to stay even . . . One of the best ways for a girl to catch a man (says Gene Sperry) is to keep her trap shut. —Earl Wilson.
