City Commission Votes Pension for Straley

45 Killed as Jetliner Tears Apart in Sky

$1,382 Yearly, Plus $10,000, OK'd by 6 to 1

Rescinds Resolution of Week Earlier for His Reappointment

In an abrupt reversal, the City Commission last night rescinded an earlier resolution calling for "immediate reappointment" of former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and then granted him a lifetime pension.

Straley also became eligible to receive nearly $10,000 in compensation. The pension would amount to about $1,382 per year.

The City Commission adopted a resolution granting Straley additional service credit and full pay for 181 compensatory days, 48 vacation days and 89 sick leave days.

The resolution was approved by a 6-1 vote. The lone dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. who called the move "a political deal and payoff."

APPROVED RESOLUTION

Voting for the resolution were Mayor Robert Landry, and Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, Loy Ledford, Milton R. Henry, Dick M. Kirby and Charles H. Harmon.

At the request of Louis H. Schimmel, commissioners voted to rescind a resolution passed at last Tuesday's meeting which favored immediate reappointment of Straley by City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The vote was unanimous to reject the previous resolution.

Schimmel, former president of the Pontiac Board of Education and prominent local finance expert, was in a crowd of spectators which jammed the commission chamber for the stormy meeting.

The often heated debate of commissioners was frequently interrupted by applause, laughter, booing and jeers from the audience.

A former Commission rejected Straley's bid for the service credit and compensation in October 1960 by a 4-3 vote.

Three members of that Commission, all of whom had voted against Straley's request, were replaced in the municipal election last month.

Straley claimed he had compensation coming for 181 days that he worked instead of taking off — and 89 accumulated sick leave days.

Both of these were previously defeated because no such compensation is due police personnel who are fired, according to the city's personnel rules, said Stierer.

Straley, in 1960, also claimed 78 days vacation time due him. He was granted only 30 days credit under personnel rules.

All the days involved were accumulated before Straley's firing on June 27, 1960, by former City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Last night's action, in the words of the resolution itself, was "taken to settle and terminate this issue on a fair and just basis."

The resolution stated that the number of days credit is substantiated by police department records and the action is "in the best interests of the city . . . and its citizens . . . to accomplish a final settlement and disposition of this case."

It was offered by Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

The settlement, however, won't be made unless a signed release is submitted by Straley acknowledging "full and complete settlement of his claim."

Straley was unavailable for comment today.

Finish 1st Part of Countdown

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Project Mercury experts today successfully completed the first section of a countdown pointed toward launching Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter into triple orbit of the earth tomorrow.

All systems in the giant Atlas rocket and Aurora 7 capsule were declared in "go" condition. The only cause for possible alarm was a haze of acrid smoke spreading from forest fires about 20 miles west of here and big swamp fires in the Everglades 200 miles south.

Officials were hopeful, however, that this would not be dense enough to prevent Carpenter from taking off on the heavenly path first broken for the United States by John H. Glenn Jr. last Feb. 20.

There was a possibility that even if this smoke did not prevent the blast-off, it might cut the number of orbits by delaying the launch. The sky "must be relatively clear in the launch area so cameras can trace the rocket.

An announcement from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "It is expected that visibility may be improved sufficiently by mid-morning that limited camera capability can be attained."

If the launch is delayed much past 9:30 a.m. the number of orbits would have to be cut from three to two. In order to give recovery teams sufficient daylight to spot the capsule in the ocean. Officials insist on three hours of daylight for this task.

The experts planned to take another reading on the smoke situation before picking up the countdown around midnight.

Carpenter, whose flight has been postponed four times for technical reasons, was reported at the top of his form and eager to go.

Launch time was set for sometime between 7 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Thursday, though a blastoff late in that period would cut the mission to one orbit.

Second Plane May Be Tied to Air Disaster

Find Pieces of Craft Unlike That of 707 at Missouri-Iowa Border

UNIONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A Continental Airlines jet, possibly torn apart by a violent storm, fell to the ground in sections Tuesday night, killing all 45 persons aboard.

Although violent storms raged across southern Iowa during the night, there was speculation today that a second plane may have been involved in the crash. Authorities at Kirksville reported that pieces of a plane which did not seem to be part of the jet had been found.

The only known survivor, rescued from an intact section of the fuselage after an all-night search died in a hospital 90 minutes later.

He was removed from the middle section of the fuselage, which, shorn of its wings and tail section, plunged into a shallow gully about 20 miles from where debris first started spewing from the plane.

Temporary morgues were set up in Unionville, a small community just south of the Iowa line.

The plane was Continental's flight 11 en route from Chicago to Kansas City and Los Angeles with 37 passengers and a crew of 8. It apparently broke up over Centerville, Iowa, about 20 miles north of here.

The fuselage lay undiscovered in a field of clover on a farm tenanted by Terry Bonnell from about 9:40 p.m. when it vanished from a radar surveillance screen.

SCENE OF WRECKAGE — A Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet broke up in the air last night with the fuselage falling in this northeast Missouri farm field just south of the Iowa state line. All 45 persons aboard the flight were killed. One passenger survived for several hours after the crash but died later in a hospital.

4 Supervisors Ousted by City

Commission Rescinds Appointments Made Prior to Election

Pontiac has only three representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors today, and all of them are ex officio members.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission last night approved by a 5-2 vote a resolution terminating the appointments of former Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Wayne Anable, R. C. Cummings and Mrs. Lee Hill.

Their removal is effective immediately. They are the four citizens at large among the seven-member delegation representing Pontiac.

The four were reappointed to one-year terms as supervisors by the Commission April 3, before the municipal election which saw three new commissioners elected.

The April 3 appointments were opposed by Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, Robert A. Landry and Milton R. Henry on grounds that they should be made by the Commission in office for the major part of this year.

The deciding vote then was cast by then-mayor Rowston.

Last night's action rescinded the former resolution. It terminates the authority of the four as supervisors "unless or until the said representatives be reappointed by this commission."

Both Commissioners William H. Taylor Jr. and Charles H. Harmon voted against the measure which was introduced by Henry.

Both charged they had not been told of plans to introduce such a resolution.

"It's obvious there are meetings on the side that two commissioners don't know anything about," Taylor charged. "This is just the beginning of several other moves in the fire that are coming soon. The people should know about these."

He didn't elaborate as Henry cut him off shouting "Now just a damn minute. We're not playing games with this city. We intend to represent the people."

His remarks were met with laughs and jeers from the audience.

Topp Still Sought After TV Plea by His Father

Murder suspect Sheldry W. Topp still was at large today despite a stepped-up search in the Pontiac area and a personal appeal by his father last night over a television station in Milwaukee, Wis.

Alvery Topp of Mount Clemens, father of the 17-year-old Pontiac State Hospital escapee being sought in the Charles A. Davis slaying, appeared on two Milwaukee television news broadcasts last night.

"Go to the nearest police department," pleaded the distraught father. "Don't do any more harm to anyone else. Just turn yourself in to the police."

The youth's father accompanied Milwaukee detectives on a search in the Wisconsin city after arriving there yesterday morning. He was scheduled to return to Mount Clemens today.

A car belonging to Davis, Oakland County's first assistant corporation counsel, was found abandoned in Milwaukee with Topp's fingerprints on it last Thursday. The youth fled Pontiac State Hospital only a few hours before Davis was fatally stabbed early Wednesday.

VIRGIL W. MOURNING

Jet Crash Kills Area Executive

Virgil W. Mourning, 45, of Franklin Is Victim; Also 4 Others in State

A Franklin man who had told his wife that flying never bothered him was one of three Dodge Division officials killed last night in a plane crash near Centerville, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Virgil W. Mourning, 45, 32950 Grimsby Lane, father of two sons and dealer finance manager for Dodge, was en route to Kansas City for a business meeting when the Continental Airlines jetliner he was aboard crashed, killing 45 persons.

Fred P. Herman, 46, of Dearborn, Dodge business management manager, and Roger Welch, 45, of Grosse Pointe, Dodge assistant general sales manager, were also among the victims.

Two other Michigan residents, Jackson industrialist Philip E. Giberson Sr. and stewardess Marilyn I. Bloomquist, 24, of Traverse City, also were killed.

★ ★ ★

Mourning, a Georgia Tech graduate and a World War II army sergeant, joined Dodge in 1956 after nine years as general manager of an auto dealership in East Point, Ga.

★ ★ ★

One of his sons, Virgil T., 21, is a junior at Michigan State University. The other, Ronald L., 17, attends Groves High School in Birmingham.

Mourning's wife, Opal, said today, "My husband liked flying. He has done a lot of it for his company in the last six years. He always said flying never bothered him."

Mourning was a representative in the new business department of Citizens-Southern National Bank, Atlanta, Ga., from 1942 to 1947, and collection manager for Associate Discount Corp. in Atlanta from 1940 to 1942. He was born in Jerseyville, Ill.

Herman, a native of Czechoslovakia, came to Dodge from another auto firm in 1955. He was married and the father of two children.

Welch, an MSU graduate and Air Force captain in World War II, left three children.

Estes Case to Reach 'Pretty Darn High'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official investigative sources said today that evidence in the Billie Sol Estes case points toward persons "pretty darn high up" in Washington under both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations.

The informants, who declined to be identified or to elaborate, told in separate interviews that information has been uncovered indicating bigger names may be involved than any reported so far in the investigation of the indicted financier's alleged influence deals with government officials.

A grimmer probe into a mysterious death a year ago struck sparks in Franklin, Tex., Tuesday.

After a partial autopsy, a medical examiner indicated he believes Henry Marshall, an Agriculture Department agent who investigated Estes farm operations, was murdered.

The Harris County medical examiner, Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, said he felt "strongly at this time that this is not a suicide."

The complete autopsy report, he said, will be available later this week after laboratory tests.

A grand jury ordered a subpoena today for an agriculture department official as it began looking for a motive in Marshall's death.

Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson wired Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and asked that William Elliott, chief of the investigation division of the USDA in Dallas, Tex., be made to appear and bring records of cotton allotments given to Estes.

Marshall, before he was shot last June, had been checking the Estes cotton acreage allotments.

Wilson told newsmen records held by Elliott "may be material to us in determining a motive—either homicide or suicide."

Billie Sol Takes 5th Amendment

Implies Even Telling His Occupation Would Be Incriminating

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes invoked the Fifth Amendment six times today when called to testify in federal court with a meeting of his creditors.

★ ★ ★

Both Estes and his lawyers promised to provide detailed schedules of their assets by June 15.

Estes was on the stand only briefly. He gave his name and address. When asked his occupation, he invoked the Fifth Amendment after his lawyer interrupted the questioning.

Estes also refused to testify on the grounds it might incriminate him when asked the location of his offices, if he had turned over all books and accounts to the receiver, if he had assets that the receiver did not know about, when asked specifically about his list of assets and when asked about his interest in Agriculture, Inc.

★ ★ ★

Allan Poage, counsel for the receiver, argued that for Estes to proceed under Section 11 of the Federal Bankruptcy Act it would be necessary for him to testify as to his assets.

Area Might Get Rain Late Today or Tonight

The weatherman is having a hard time bringing showers to the Pontiac area. This morning he said there's a chance of a thundershower late today or tonight.

Temperatures will drop to near 65 tonight and rise to 76 tomorrow.

Thursday is expected to be mostly fair and cooler, and Friday's forecast is fair and mild. Saturday and Sunday will be warm again, then temperatures will drop a little bringing cooler temperatures Monday.

For the next five days rainfall will measure near .5 of an inch in thundershowers about Sunday.

Morning southeasterly winds at 3 miles per hour will increase to 15 to 25 m.p.h. becoming southwesterly late today.

Sixty was the lowest mercury reading before 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 81 at 2 p.m.

Panels to Hear Budget Requests

Leaders Plan for '63 UF

The Pontiac Area United Fund took the first step last night toward setting its 1962 financial goal.

Budget panel members and leaders of the local UF drive met at a dinner meeting in the Community National Bank to discuss plans for hearing 1963 budget requests of 19 different agencies.

Eighty-eight Pontiac area residents are members of the eight budget panels. They are headed by Henry D. Price, general chairman of the budget steering committee.

Price told the group of its responsibility to meet with representatives of the agencies and hear their requests.

The eight panels, each assigned to handle requests from two or three agencies, makes recommendations to the budget steering committee after hearings are completed.

The committee, in turn, reviews requests and passes its findings to the UF Board of Trustees, which will set the goal in August. Last year's goal was $672,500.

Budget panel hearings are scheduled four nights a week during June. Panel members are appointed by civic and professional groups and community leaders.

Speakers at last night's meeting, besides Price, included Fred V. Haggard, general chairman of the UF campaign, and Karl Bradley, the UF's executive director.

★ ★ ★

The men discussed the potential of this year's drive and explained the purpose of budget hearings and recommendations.

The dinner meeting was sponsored by Community National Bank.

To Relieve Hong Kong Crisis

U.S. May Admit Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is considering emergency action, it was learned today, to admit some Chinese refugees from Hong Kong to the United States.

Officials said that the exact number who might be covered under such action has not been determined but the size of the potential emergency immigration quota may range from 1,000 to several thousand.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy has been deeply concerned about the plight of refugees from Communist China pouring into the British crown colony of Hong Kong, then being returned by the thousands behind the barbed wire barricades because of Hong Kong's overcrowded condition.

Kennedy is expected to discuss the problem and possible lines of action at his news conference. One of his major aims, officials said, is to encourage maximum resettlement of Hong Kong refugees in other countries.

So far the Chinese Nationalist government has said it would take refugees from Hong Kong to the island of Formosa, provided the United States will help provide relief facilities and transportation.

The Nationalist government announced plans today for the resettlement of 50,000 refugees from Red China in East Formosa.

★ ★ ★

The cabinet's newly formed refugee committee also decided to establish a reception center at the southwest port of Kaohsiung for all fugitives from Red China who want to come here from Hong Kong.

It also studied projects to make the refugees self - supporting through road building, transportation, forestry and mining programs.

U.S. officials said they were also greatly pleased with Canada's announcement of readiness to take 100 Chinese families.

State and Justice department officials said that under existing immigration laws the administration —specifically, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy—may determine in an emergency situation that it is in the national interest to admit refugees under parole in spite of ordinary quota barriers.

★ ★ ★

The law normally limits the number of persons who may come in to the United States from many countries. In the case of persons of Chinese origin, the annual quota is 105, officials said.

Repealing Rail-Bus Tax May Be Delayed to Jan. 1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways & Means Committee tentatively approved a bill today that would repeal the 10 per cent tax on railroad and bus travel and lower the tax on airline tickets, effective next Jan. 1.

The airline tax would be halved —from 10 to 5 per cent.

The measure would continue at existing levels for another year $4 billion in temporary wartime taxes now scheduled to expire on July 1.

These levies, imposed during the Korean conflict, affect such consumer items as liquor, beer, new automobiles, cigarettes and auto parts and accessories.

The cutback in transportation taxes will mean a tax saving next year in the neighborhood of $85 million on railroad and bus tickets and $100 million on plane tickets.

The carriers could pass the savings on to customers or seek government approval of higher fares to offset the tax cut.

President Kennedy had recommended that the rail and bus tax be repealed this July 1. He also recommended that the airline ticket tax be cut in half next Jan. 1.

He wanted to offset the revenue loss in part by imposing new taxes on the airline industry.

Except for the six-month delay in repeal of the rail and bus tax and failure to include the proposed new airline industry levies, the committee's bill corresponded exactly with the administration's recommendations.

The administration was reported agreeable to the delay, particularly in view of the big federal budget deficit now in prospect for next fiscal year.

The tentative decision to postpone the cutback was said to have been aimed at averting a congressional fight over the administration's recommendation for the extension of certain temporary Korean War taxes. These taxes are scheduled to be cut back July 1.

In addition, the 10 per cent tax on telephone calls is scheduled for repeal July 1.

House Unit Cuts Latin American Aid 20 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Foreign Affairs Committee voted a 20 per cent cut today in President Kennedy's four-year plan to finance the alliance for progress in Latin America.

★ ★ ★

This action followed Senate Foreign Relations Committee approval yesterday of foreign aid authority totaling $4,662 billion, more than $216 million below the administration's request.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., of the House group said the Latin America aid reduction sponsored by Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., was supported by a majority of the members present, indicating that further modifications could be made before the over-all foreign measure is approved.

★ ★ ★

Morgan said that today's action would set a $600 million annual ceiling on alliance for progress aid over the four-year period.

Michigan Week Kept Alive for Students in Waterford, Pontiac

It's Michigan Week year-'round in Pontiac and Waterford Schools.

That's the report from educators charged with teaching area youth the history, customs and current events of their home state.

Activity is centered mainly in the elementary schools. High schoolers are either preparing for finals or just recovering from them.

Typical of grade school efforts is Waterford's Cooley Lake Elementary School which is presenting a skit, "The Settlement of Michigan," in classes throughout the week and for parents at an 8 p.m. Thursday PTA meeting.

In Pontiac, Hawthorne Elementary School is spreading out its program into next week. A third grade social studies program is to be presented for Education Day tomorrow on American Indians, while the vocal and instrumental music groups will sing and play songs pertaining to Michigan in a program Monday.

STATE-STUDIED

Both Pontiac Supt. Dana P. Whiner and Waterford assistant to the superintendent, Dr. Chandos Reid, pointed out that the state is studied at various points in the curriculum throughout the school year.

At St. Frederick's Parochial School, 70 Whittemore, 11 pupils turned out earlier to present a Michigan Week tableau to fellow students.

The girls clutched sprigs of white pine from the state tree and appleblossom twigs symbolizing the state flower during a flag-raising ceremony of the state emblem.

The state bird, a robin, reportedly hopped about in the vicinity—just out of camera range.

Educators to Discuss Courses in Science

A blue-ribbon array of scientists and educators from the nation's top colleges and other institutions will meet tomorrow at Michigan State University Oakland to develop new kinds of college science courses both for science and nonscience majors.

The gathering is being supported by the National Science Foundation which last fall announced a $28,630 grant for the purpose.

It is the first time such a grant has been made to develop science education for anyone other than the future scientist, according to Dr. Robert Hoopes, assistant to the chancellor for MSUO planning.

Dr. Harry C. Kelly, deputy director of NSF, explains there are three purposes to the three-day workshop:

★ ★ ★

1—To find some solutions to the problem of integrating and developing unity in the teaching of sciences.

2—To help find the role of science in the liberal arts education.

3—To give the NSF some guidance in deciding what activities it should develop in the future.

The conference will be opened at 9 a.m. tomorrow by Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation. Outstanding experts to present papers are:

Mathematician Warren Weaver, vice president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, who will speak on "Science for Everybody" at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Harvard University professor of physics, Gerald Holton, who will talk on "Science in General Education: Some Criteria for Designing and Improving College Programs" at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Tyler, director of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford University, who will present the topic, "The Place of the Behavioral Sciences," at 4 p.m. Thursday.

Zorin Sounds War Warning

Red Says Dispatch of U.S. Troops to Thailand Could Trigger Conflict

GENEVA (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin said today the dispatch of American troops to Thailand "could lead to war — and not a small war, either."

Commenting on a Swedish claim in the 17-nation disarmament conference that advance notification of troop movements could lessen tensions, he said:

"Mr. Kennedy gave us advance notice of the fact that he was sending troops to Thailand. Did that decrease tension? No. It could even lead to an explosion. This could lead to war—and not a small war either. We should not harbor any illusions that advance notification will stop war. Others will send troops."

Earlier, the United States accepted a neutral compromise proposal on procedure in an effort to swing the conference out of an East-West committee deadlock.

But Zorin hedged on whether the Russians would do the same. The neutral proposal, he said, "deserves attention" but has "serious drawbacks."

The committee failed to agree on whether the compromise, drafted by Sweden and India, should be accepted or not.

Storms Diminish Across Midwest

By The Associated Press

Storms diminished across the Midwest today after another outbreak of tornadoes, heavy rain and hail and damaging winds for the second straight day.

Thunderstorms continued far into the night in the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley.

★ ★ ★

A weakening squall line that had set off tornadoes in southern Minnesota and northeastern Kansas was accompanied by severe thunderstorms in northern Missouri, eastern Iowa, southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

Violent thunderstorms raked Iowa, with heaviest damage in eastern sections of the state.

BAD IN MINNESOTA

Twisters which hit several communities in Minnesota knocked out power and telephone lines, unroofed several buildings and toppled trees. The tornadoes were reported in Owatonna, Geneva, Hartland, Grand Meadows and Albert Lea. No injuries were reported.

A tornado damaged two farm houses near Leavenworth, Kan., and touched down briefly in Leavenworth.

Former Police Chief Voted Life Pension

a precedent" but that it "shall constitute an exception to the personnel rules or any existing rule or regulation."

According to City Finance Director Marvin M. Alward, "back pay for the compensatory, vacation and sick leave days would total $12,357.

"With tax and retirement deductions, he would pocket about $9,800 of that. By getting service credit for those days, he would end up with a total of 9 years, 11 months and 7 days service.

★ ★ ★

"To become eligible for a pension (10 years service requirement) he technically needs only 9 years, 10 months. The rules count 10 months of any given year as a full year's service credit," Alward explained.

Taylor blasted the move charging that "there is no question but what the payoff is in the making.

"To suggest altering the personnel rules to make possible this payment to appease a man who couldn't hold the loyalty of a department, is now only appeasing the men who were put on this Commission to accomplish this objective," Taylor asserted.

"It appears to me that the strings on the puppets are being pulled to do the job which they were put in to do. I can't, nor will I have any part in this.

"If Straley is . . . paid off at the expense of taxpayers there'll be a judgment and-or lawsuit. The total cost to the city's taxpayers for this appeasement will be $32,000," he added.

He offered no explanation of the $32,000.

Both Henry and Landry indicated concessions had been made by some commissioners in arriving at last night's resolution.

Henry countered with, "I have no ties to Straley. This isn't an appeasement. It's the ethical thing to do."

He said that alternatives suggested at recent informal meetings were "foreseeably dangerous."

★ ★ ★

Landry called Taylor's charges "somewhat insulting in view of the Straley case record." Pounding the table with his fist, Landry asserted "Let there be no doubt in anyone's mind that this Commission, nobody else, will run this city."

Jetliner Crashes, Killing 45 Aboard operations inspector for the Federal Aviation Agency at Kansas City, viewed the fuselage this morning and said it appeared to have been broken up "by some tremendous force."

"This tremendous force," said Ballard, "might have been a tornado or extremely heavy turbulence."

★ ★ ★

He said the plane apparently broke apart in the air and pieces spread out as they fell.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Hoshner, a member of a Continental Airlines investigation team, said the flight should have been at about 39,000 feet and traveling 500 to 600 miles per hour at the time of the crash.

The inside of the fuselage was a jumble of bodies, seats, luggage and clothing.

Nakano was found half way down on the right side of the intact section, lying with his back against three seats.

When told help had reached him, he was able to respond only feebly. He died in St. Joseph's hospital in Centerville.

The craft, a Boeing 707 piloted by veteran Capt. Fred Gray of Pacific Palisades, Calif., made its last report at 9:15 p.m. from a position 35 miles northeast of Kirksville, Mo.

This was about 120 air miles northeast of Kansas City where it was due to land about 25 minutes later.

The plane then disappeared from the FAA surveillance radar at Kansas City.

About that time, too, Mrs. Carl Jones, wife of the postmaster at Cincinnati, Iowa, saw a bright blue flash in the sky. Others saw it too.

Residents of this farm country disagreed about the sound that followed. Some described it as a popping sound. Others as a loud explosion.

Mrs. Junior Rollins, 35, a farm wife from just north of here, said she heard a large clap, like thunder just after a storm had passed over the area.

Other U.S. 707 Mishap Killed 95

Crash's Boeing's 3rd

NEW YORK (AP) — The crash of a Continental Airlines jet in Missouri today was the second in this country involving loss of life for passengers of a commercial Boeing 707.

★ ★ ★

The first occurred last March 1 when an American Airlines Boeing dived into Jamaica Bay shortly after taking off from Idlewild Airport here, killing all 95 aboard.

A third Boeing 707 crash took place outside the United States when a Sabena Airlines plane fell near Brussels, Belgium, on Feb. 15, 1961. Seventy-three persons died, including 18 American figure skating stars.

Three years ago the Federal Aviation Agency rejected an appeal by Rep. Steven Derounian, R-N.Y., to ground the big planes pending re-examination of their air worthiness.

The congressman made his request after a military 707 crashed at Calverton, N.Y., in August of 1959, on a training flight, killing five crewmen.

★ ★ ★

The agency said that in certifying the plane less than a year before it had found it to be "one of the best engineering products American aviation is capable of producing."

Reveal Art Exhibit Plans, Appointment of Chairman

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for the third National Art Exhibition and the appointment of Lee A. Iacocca as general chairman were announced last night at a dinner at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Ford Division, said the show will be held Oct. 10-25 in the new Knights of Columbus building at 30755 Southfield Road, at 13-Mile Road.

Rev. William B. Davidson of Holy Name Church, which is sponsoring the exhibition, said that some 350 works in painting, sculpture, mosaic, metalcraft, graphics and crafts will be entered in the invitational showing by outstanding American artists.

The purpose of the exhibition, according to Fr. Davidson, is to stimulate public interest in and appreciation of religious art, and to encourage private ownership of religious art objects.

The first exhibition was held in 1939 at the Holy Name Church gymnasium and attracted 6,000 visitors. In 1960, the show moved to a geodesic dome on Lahser Road where 10,000 persons streamed through the prize exhibits.

The establishment of the Rocco DiMarco Memorial Purchase prize of $1,000 was also announced by Fr. Davidson. It will be awarded by the jury to the most outstanding work of art in the exhibition.

The late Mr. DiMarco was an artist who was instrumental in the creation of the exhibition.

The Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual spring Workday for Christ on Saturday.

Residents needing any type of work done can contact the church office.

Money earned will be used for the Fellowship's mission work.

New Secret Satellite Is Launched by U.S.

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force launched another of its secret satellites from this Pacific Coast base today—this one in pre-dawn darkness.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman declined to say anything other than that the unidentified satellite was boosted skyward by a solid propellant Blue Scout rocket, the same type used in past launches.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force in recent months has thrown a shroud of secrecy around its sky-spy satellites Midas and Samos. The spokesman today, however, would not say whether the latest was one of these.

The moon is an average of 238,857 miles from the earth.

Each Nation's Decisions Affect Others

Separated Events Actually Tie in Together

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In the hurly-burly of each day's news it is easy to overlook the interlocking influences of seemingly widely separated events.

Thus, Great Britain's attitude toward Berlin can influence West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's feelings toward Britain's entry into the Common Market as desired both by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government and the United States.

At the moment, the United States and Britain exchange certain information on nuclear projects, a courtesy not afforded France by either nation and a constant source of irritation to Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Last week De Gaulle toured the French boondocks, placing special emphasis on what he expects to be France's new role in the leadership of a third force standing between the Anglo-Saxons of the United States and Britain and the Russians.

PRICE HIGH

The implication was that De Gaulle himself felt little enthusiasm toward Britain's entry into the continent through the Common Market and that his price might be high.

There was speculation that in the forthcoming meeting between De Gaulle and Macmillan, a part of the price might be British agreement to exchange nuclear information with France which presently is involved in the expensive business of developing its own nuclear force.

This in turn would involve revision of the United States' own defensive policies.

On the other hand, British failure to win entry into the Common Market also would upset Washington's plans for an Atlantic Community joined instead of divided by the expanse of water in between.

Such an arrangement would see Britain joined with the six nations of the European economic community and the United States and Canada closely tied in through special trade and other agreements.

★ ★ ★

Taken altogether, the scope of this march of events was worldwide but only indirectly involved in the battle against communism. Against communism each nation was agreed. Each also agreed that a united front against communism remained an essential.

But the arguments were no less intense nor less meaningful to Western solidarity.

On the one hand was Britain's loyalty to the Commonwealth, which gave it cheap food and a low tariff outlet for its manufactured goods. And its special alignment with the United States.

On the other was French and German insistence that Britain sign the treaty of Rome under which the Common Market was established and which would render her special relationship with the Commonwealth impossible.

★ ★ ★

There also was De Gaulle, a "man who belongs to nobody," who last week was proclaiming a "Europe from the Atlantic to the Urals."

De Gaulle spoke from a pinnacle viewpoint of history.

So did Nikita Khrushchev when, confidently foreseeing an Allied split, he predicted, "We will bury you."

Gov. Hughes' Baby Son Taken Off Critical List

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 24-day-old son of New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes and Mrs. Hughes was taken off the critical list yesterday.

The child, baptized Thomas More just before he was taken from St. Francis Hospital in Trenton, has been suffering from a respiratory illness.

U. S. Drops Customs on Hospital Donation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy signed yesterday a bill to exempt from customs duties 120 tons of steel being donated by a Canadian firm to a hospital in Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The steel is being donated for an addition to the Chippewa County War Memorial Hospital by Algoma Steel Corp. Ltd.

The bill's sponsor is Rep. Victor A. Knox, R-Mich. The hospital serves both U.S. and canadian communities.

Studios No Longer 'Play It Safe'

Hollywood's Star Ascending Again

(Editor's Note — This is the first in a series of three articles by NEA film reporter Erskine Johnson exploring the rebirth of the movies.)

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — The year was 1937. Hollywood was young, giddy, rich and frequently idiotic. The mother had come hopefully to the motion picture studio with her gangling child in tow to hear the casting director say:

"She's much too tall for the role."

Crushed, the mother sputtered, "She may be tall for her age but we've held her mind back."

Well, it was probably just a story, but in a way it was a comment on the Hollywood of that time and its product. It was the day of mental retardation of motion pictures.

With no competition from television, bowling alleys or build-your-own-boat kits, the movies were playing it safe and trying to please everyone.

"If a 12-year-old wouldn't understand it, don't film it," movie makers agreed. Booming business through the years of the war seemed to say they were right.

Well, you know what happened. Television appropriated Hollywood's Western heroes, its private eyes, its crime busters — even Lassie. It also appropriated Hollywood's mass audience and masses of money.

But now after a dozen years or so, television has decided to play it safe and please everyone — just as the movies once did.

Simultaneously, Hollywood is witnessing, enjoying and profiting from a rebirth of the movies. A recent survey of the film box office indicates attendance for the first three months of 1962 is running well ahead of that during the same period of 1961. If the trend continues, total box office take for 1962 could set a new record. Last year's total of some $1.5 billion equaled the old wartime height.

For a share of that box office, production companies are risking fantastic investments unheard of in Hollywood's golden years—$25 million for Liz Taylor's "Cleopatra," $18 million for Marlon Brando's "Mutiny on the Bounty," and $5 million for the film rights alone to "My Fair Lady."

What's bringing the mass audience and the mass money back into movies? The key element is a simple one—choice. Hollywood is not offering just a product for the 12-year-old mind.

It is offering adult films for adults — "Sweet Bird of Youth," "The Children's Hour," "The Chapman Report," "Days of Wine and Roses," "The Hustler," "Cape Fear," "Advice and Consent," "Lolita," and many more.

It is offering entertainment for children and all the family—"Music Man," "State Fair," "Jumbo" (the return of the big musical); "El Cid," "The Guns of Navarone," "Captain Sinbad," "The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm," "PT 109" and many others.

Along with the new element of choice, these other factors have revived the movies from their doldrums of the 1950s.

Oldsters, living in memories, never really lost the movie habit. Young postwar married couples sought out in motion pictures, as in books and magazines, more adult, realistic and thought provoking fare.

The young, talented actors, directors and writers of television's early days began making movies.

Movie theaters have changed. Old "downtown" houses have either been remodeled or forced to close by the competition from big screen, modern theaters in attractive suburban surroundings. Drive-ins dot the landscape.

But as more Americans of all ages buy more and more movie tickets, there is a new problem for parents. For the very fact of Hollywood's new variety — its choice of product — demands parental supervision of youngsters' movie-going.

Some of Hollywood's new films are bold and frank; a few, some say, are shocking. Parents have got to accept the fact that neighborhood theaters no longer are "baby sitters" scented by popcorn where children can be parked like automobiles.

The censorship furor that periodically stirs areas around the country is fueled by memories of the good old days when all movies were wholesome.

Wise parents should recognize the facts and accept the duty of keeping their children away from "adult" films just as they keep them away from alcohol and other influences a youngster cannot handle. This thinking is backed by most educators, clergymen and judges.

"Parents," says Superior Court Judge Luther Alverson of Georgia, "are more competent to rear children than the state."

Theater owners can and should give parents help. They can refuse to show the "girlie" type sex films which are being distributed by fast-buck producers, who are not members of the legitimate motion picture industry.

One theater owner who accepts his responsibility is Mason Siler of Newport Beach, Calif. He restricts admission to certain films to the "over 21" group. He warns parents of "Not Recommended for Children" films when they telephone for program information.

Attendance of children and adults at Siler's two theaters has increased 200 per cent.

Danger in Scotty's Flight: Overconfidence

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

CAPE CANAVERAL—The day is somnolent, the air is enervatingly hot, the tension surrounding Scott Carpenter's space shot has been made flabby by delays, and the prevailing mood could be a dangerous one. It is a mood of overconfidence.

The public, the press, even some members of the great team which must launch Carpenter into space, have been lulled into this spirit.

The fact that Lt. Col. John Glenn's triple orbit was a success, and that there was so much thankful celebration following it, made it difficult to conceive that something could go wrong on the second try.

But Glenn's flight proved only one thing, according to Project Mercury spokesman Lt. Col. John (Shorty) Powers.

"All Glenn's flight proved," he said, "was that THE man Glenn could fly three orbits."

You might compare the first orbital launch to a man walking a tightrope. After long training on the ground, he walks his first tightrope and succeeds. It does not mean that his brother could do the same thing on his first attempt.

This is not to imply that Scott Carpenter is any less capable as an astronaut than Glenn is.

But "just because John was successful" does not mean the grave dangers are erased.

"The risks and hazards for Scotty's flight are every bit as imminent as they were when John went up," Powers said. The astronaut's abilities aside, "anytime you are working with 200,000 pounds of liquid oxygen and kerosene, and 10,000-odd items of equipment and hardware," you must face the fact that it "might end up in catastrophe."

He added that men on the space team are, quite naturally, approaching the second three-orbit shot with "a little more confidence." But he has also noted "a little overconfidence."

And he doesn't like it.

To counteract this potentially dangerous spirit, Powers revealed, a simulated orbital mission was planned—the kind of dress rehearsal that (it was hoped) would shock the blockhouse control crew into renewed awareness.

Signals were secretly fixed ahead of time to cause, early in the mock mission, a serious loss of oxygen supply in the capsule.

This brought the crews in control centers "up off the backs of their chairs."

The simulated mission was aborted. "They had to bring him down off the coast of West Africa."

It was a rehearsal for what conceivably could happen—and what the public should be prepared to face, if necessary.

Confidence is comforting.

But preparedness, from everyone, is vital.

"The forgotten man" of the upcoming space shot is astronaut Deke Slayton, who was pulled off the assignment by doctors, and then sent on to Muchea, Australia, as flight controller at the Mercury tracking station there.

Slayton took it in stride.

His comment, according to the Project Mercury spokesman, was:

"Well, I always wanted to go to Australia anyhow."

With each postponement of the space launch, a few more newsmen from papers, TV and radio send for their wives to join them. It has meant a certain amount of reshuffling of roommates.

The motels' policies regarding the cost of extra tenants in a room vary considerably. For instance, radio engineer Harry Curtis discovered that his motel charged $6 a day more for his room with a wife in it; whereas ABC News Director Tom O'Brien's motel demanded only a $2 surcharge for a missus. This caused Curtis to seek a change of motels, protesting:

"My wife is no better than Tom O'Brien's."

All Hail Our State During Michigan Week

We are in the middle of Michigan Week, a period dedicated to improving Michigan, and blowing our own horn about the wonderful place in which we live.

Many people are spending lots of time and money on this enterprise, which began nine years ago. The format has pretty well become standardized, with each day of the week being earmarked for certain activities.

Taking a step backward to evaluate Michigan Week, we find the whole idea is sound and becoming more popular every year.

Too often we of Michigan are so caught up in trying to solve our problems that we fail to give credit to our accomplishments. The tax muddle continues, year after year. We teeter on the brink of financial chaos.

★ ★ ★

The deep split in Lansing shows little sign of healing, and so it goes, day after day and month after month.

But Michigan Week gives citizens greater knowledge and appreciation of the State, expounds her assets and resources for industry, business, education and recreation, and fosters a spirit of cooperation among her communities.

Sunday was Spiritual Foundations Day, when our rich religious background was examined. Monday gave our residents more information about government and its workings, and yesterday hospitality was the theme.

Today our various livelihoods were under study, while tomorrow the subject of education will be paramount. The week will focus on our heritage Friday, and the final note will be one of the State's greatest assets, our youth, on Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Self-examination is oft-delayed but vital if we are to measure our progress. Michigan Week is a grand way of doing it.

Swainson Drops Fight— Now What Happens?

Now that Governor SWAINSON has called it quits and dropped his fight for a state income tax, it would appear that our tax muddle remains the same as a year ago.

Probably some form of a nuisance tax package will be passed. The one big problem facing our State Legislature goes unsolved for another year. Stubbornness has wasted a lot of valuable time.

Practically everyone is agreed that some type of fiscal reform is needed.

Out of the whole sorry tax mess one odd set of circumstances now arises. George Romney seems to be noncommittal on the question of a state income tax. He refuses to say whether or not he believes an income tax is needed.

★ ★ ★

Just a few months ago ROMNEY claimed the SWAINSON tax package was practically the same as the proposals made in 1961 by his Citizens for Michigan which he endorsed.

★ ★ ★

On a national TV show last winter ROMNEY announced his GOP candidacy and at the same time favored the tax reform of the Citizens for Michigan group which included a state income tax.

His unwillingness now to take a stand is confusing and is probably the result of politics. George Romney is not a person to be vague when it comes to speaking out on personal convictions.

★ ★ ★

We would hazard a guess that before long his position on tax reform for the State of Michigan will be made clear. ROMNEY is now in the thick of a hot political battle where timing is all important.

Revives Dispute

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Exploratory talks for a possible merger of Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines foreign routes, plus the Civil Aeronautics Board reopening of temporary certifications for these carriers and the cargo-carrying Seaboard and Western Airlines for North Atlantic operations have revived the idea of having one American flag "chosen instrument" air carrier operating abroad.

★ ★ ★

This is the No. 1 subject of speculation in commercial air transport circles today. It opens a cave of bats that are apt to be flying around and getting in everyone's hair for months or maybe even a few years to come.

Government policy to have competing airlines operate overseas was established in the Truman administration after a major Washington battle at the end of World War II. It ended in the defeat of the chosen instrument concept. International air carriers have been operating under the so-called Bermuda agreement of 1946 since that time.

But a lot of things have changed in the last 16 years. Jets have taken over. Traffic patterns have changed. Seventeen foreign flag airlines now come into New York to compete with American carriers.

And a lot of the chickens of too much competition are coming home to roost, as the proponents of the chosen instrument policy predicted.

BUSINESS DROPPED

The two United States air carriers now are getting about 30 per cent of the North Atlantic passenger traffic. PanAm two-thirds of it, TWA one-third. In 1947 these two airlines had 70 per cent of the business. Foreign airlines, nearly all subsidized by their governments have cut into American traffic heavily, almost forcing the two United States lines to talk merger.

European crew and labor costs are about a third lower than American rates. Fortunately, the International Air Transport Assn., though not a perfect regulatory agency, has fixed rates and prevented price wars. Foreign airlines buck this by fancier service, cut-rate nylons and bourbon.

To meet their own competition, the merger movement has spread to foreign airlines.

British Overseas Airways, Air India and Quantas, the Australia-New Zealand line, have an interchange agreement working.

★ ★ ★

The other major European carriers in the Common Market area have signed an Air Union agreement, not yet put into effect, which would merge operations of Air France, Alitalia, the Dutch KLM, Scandinavian, Swiss Air, Lufthansa of West Germany and Sabena of Belgium.

Air Union might work out advantagiously if it eliminated a lot of duplicated schedules and uneconomic flights with half-filled planes. But Air Union might also give American carriers the toughest competition yet.

So it is no wonder that there is merger talk in the air—even among United States domestic airlines—all but one of which, Continental, now serve one or more foreign terminals. United and Capital have merged successfully.

DISCUSSING MERGER

American and Eastern are in the process of merger. TWA has approval for acquiring Northeast and is discussing merger possibilities with other domestics if it loses foreign rights.

Juan Trippe, Pan American Airway's dynamic founder and the principal advocate of the chosen instrument policy, has met with TWA's President Charles C. Tillinghast Jr. and they have agreed to meet again. But there is a third man involved in Howard Hughes, principal owner of TWA who has warred with Trippe and PanAm before and could do it again.

One interesting sidelight of this big deal is that James M. Landis, former CAB chairman who once bucked Pan-Am's ambitions, is reported acting as "marriage broker."

'How Long Can We Ignore Him?'

David Lawrence Says:

Medicare's Fine Idea, but HOW?

WASHINGTON — Everybody is for medical care for the aged. Republicans and Democrats, critics and advocates of specific legislation alike — all recognize that the sick must be cared for always.

LAWRENCE

The real debate is over what method, what plan, what means of financing shall be adopted. Demagoguery will not help to find the solution.

In President Kennedy's speech on Sunday he said the millionaires would not mind contributing $12 a month to Social Security and that, anyway, "The national government, through the tax laws, already takes care of them, because over 65 they can deduct all their medical expenses."

The President certainly wasn't describing a situation analogous to that which confronts many people. His plan calls for an increase in Social Security taxes—in some cases by as much as 17 per cent. The new tax will apply to 74 million persons under Social Security.

All this is designed to take care of the minority who may get sick in old age and have to go to a hospital or nursing home. The new project, however, doesn't provide payments for doctors' bills, but only hospital costs and nursing care over and above the first $90.

★ ★ ★

Opponents insist that the needy can be taken care of by a direct appropriation by Congress each year without raising the Social Security taxes. The objection of the President to this is that it requires a "means test," or what he called in his Sunday speech a "pauper's oath."

But the fact is that the document signed by the patient would be confidential.

Many persons who "go on relief" have to sign certain papers. They don't seem to mind a "means test." The government could, of course, designate by another name the money to cover the needy. It could be called a "refund" on previously paid taxes.

'WOULD OK REFUND'

Persons who are 65 years of age or over and who now are without means would hardly object to a "refund" of what they have paid before over the years to cover a variety of social welfare programs of the government that didn't benefit them directly.

There's a law on the statute books now to take care of the aged who are sick. It is called the Kerr-Mills bill, passed in 1960. It matches funds put up by the states to care for those who cannot pay their medical bills. It covers doctors and nursing as well as hospital bills. It is in operation in many states.

Funds for hospital bills for the aged can be provided through private insurance or from general taxes and thus avoid another cut in "take home pay" for the workers of America.

★ ★ ★

The average employe realistically considers his "take home pay" as the net amount available to him for current expenses, whether he or she is 21 years old or 60.

The added Social Security tax for medical care for the aged is estimated at $1.6 billion for the first year and would rise to $1.9 billion in five years.

This means that the total "take home pay" of the employe and the profits of corporations will be cut by that amount. For the employer pays half of the extra social security tax increase.

'COULD COST LESS'

A direct appropriation by Congress could eventually mean less expense than the Social Security levy. It could be imposed through the general tax structure on those who could best afford to pay it.

The Administration plan, moreover, doesn't cover everybody. There are, for instance, 9 million persons in the labor force, including the self-employed, who are not covered now by Social Security.

Also, about 3 million individuals already 65 years of age or older are not eligible for Social Security benefits and would receive no medical-care aid under the Kennedy plan.

So it isn't a case of hard-hearted folks opposing medical care for the aged. Everybody is in favor of this benefit. But it is a case of hard-headed financing that will put the least burden on the middle-aged and the young, so many of whom for long years ahead are going to be paying to the government money for some things their families may never need.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

I will extol thee, my God and King, and bless thy name for ever and ever.—Psalms 145:1.

★ ★ ★

He that will not permit his wealth to do any good to others while he is living, prevents it from doing good to himself when he is dead. — C. C. Colton.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Hidden Alcoholic Needs Aid From Family, Friends

In each community and in every doctor's practice, there are a certain number of "hidden alcoholics." Most often, in my experience, the "silent drunk" has enough money to purchase a supply of liquor without too greatly unbalancing the household budget.

★

Spacious living quarters often make it possible for the drunkard to imbibe alcoholic beverages and sleep off their effects without attracting the attention of neighbors, associates or even members of the same household.

I recall, for example, a bank officer, believed to be a total abstainer, who regularly drank a quart of whisky before retiring. His performance was matched by several social leaders and at least one prim school principal whose dependence was on gin.

Despite my familiarity with the problem of the hidden alcoholic, I had no idea of how prevalent the condition is until I read a recent report in the North Carolina Medical Journal.

29 PER CENT

For, after interviewing 100 adult male patients in a search for non-alcoholic control subjects, it was discovered that 29 probably fell into the category of hidden alcoholism.

The men included in this category gave histories of (1) periods of blackout while intoxicated; (2) sneaking and gulping drinks; (3) inability to control their intake of alcoholic beverages; (4) need to take a morning "eye opener;" (5) loss of friends, families or jobs due to drinking or; (6) actual hospitalization on some previous occasion for alcoholism.

Yet none of these patients was admitted to the hospital for any condition related to alcoholism. None had any sign of nutritional deficiency, presumably because they had the means to obtain a balanced diet despite the daily costs of their alcoholic beverages.

Since these "hidden alcoholics" frequently come on evil days, it is a matter of utmost urgency for friends, members of the family and business associates to detect the condition and then persuade the silent drinker to seek help before it is too late.

Continue to Write on Mentally Retarded

Continued neglect of mentally retarded children has resulted in many unfortunate consequences, but recently this neglect has struck a little closer to home.

The superintendent of the Pontiac State Hospital has stated that the boy suspected of killing Charles A. Davis "should have been in a hospital for emotionally disturbed children, if there were one available here."

Because Mr. Davis was the first assistant corporation council for Oakland County, a lifelong resident of Oakland County and a personal friend of many of the members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, it is hoped that the board may now have a second look at what may result from the continued neglect to give proper and early treatment to these children.

Could this death have been avoided if the boy had been given treatment at an early age? Is a new building worth even one life?

I hope the supervisors will postpone their luxurious meeting place and give proper emphasis to the importance of treating these children and perhaps save another violent and needless death.

Mrs. Charles Nasstrom
502 E. Mansfield

Was the issue of the auditorium so urgent the motion could not have been tabled, when it was indicated there was a vital need to explore a program for mentally retarded children, who because of age or inability are excluded from the special education programs in the public schools?

In the over-all picture, time will not be of essence in the matter of some public buildings—but can you recall these wasted waiting years for these children? Never!

'Reading Material Causing Disaster'

New postal rates for magazines were discussed recently and it was stated that 83 per cent of the material sold on newsstands in our country is "nothing but trash and much of it too dirty to get into the mails."

We have government food inspection for what goes into our mouths—how about a little inspection on what is taken into the minds of young and old? History proves that when the literature of a country becomes sordid the country deteriorates. We need to remember that liberty should not be license and that we have a responsibility to clean up this situation and to put good reading into the hands of our young folks.

'Our Foreign Policy Should Be Inspected'

The overseas cost of our foreign policy is in excess of $8 billion a year. Until this is diminished to a nominal sum, our budget will remain unbalanced; our balance of payments will be unfavorable; the flight of gold will continue; we shall have lost the cold war and with it, our liberty.

H. M. P.

'U.S. Debts Keep Going Up, Up, Up'

The public debt ceiling during the last 8 months has been raised $7 billion. Before July the President will ask for an additional $8 billion. If granted, in one year the debt limit will have been increased by $15 billion.

Even these unprecedented measures will not care for impending deficits. The first 9 months of fiscal 1962, the budget deficit was $8.1 billion; for fiscal 1963 it has been estimated at $7 billion.

The taxpayers must be heard before it's too late.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Become a Talented Public Speaker

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-421: Eileen D., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane," she timidly began, "I am in a speech class, but I am so shy that I blush and can hardly open my mouth to say a word.

DR. CRANE

"And my hands tremble so much, I can't read my notes so I will fail the course unless I can grow calm. What can you suggest?"

First, reassure yourself by realizing that everybody suffers from stage fright at the outset.

Even we professionals on the lecture platform are keyed up, too, though we may have spoken before literally thousands of audiences.

To avoid showing your tremor, however, don't hold your notes in one hand. Instead, take hold of the sheet firmly with both hands and then gently pull in opposite directions.

This will stop the rattling of the paper for your music) and though you are still jittery, at least you will not advertise that fact to the audience.

Pick out your speech title, much as a clergyman selects a text for his sermon.

Then try to illustrate it with cases or stories from your local neighborhood or even your school.

If possible, weave in the names of a few members of your audience, but only incidental to something good they have done or said that advances your main idea.

A clergyman at Easter can thus tactfully name a parishioner as:

"Many of us have passed the home of Mrs. Brown. You have seen her beautiful flower beds, with those gorgeous tulips just south of her living room window.

"Well, last fall they were apparently just dried up and dead little bulbs. A visitor from Mars might have considered them lifeless.

"But Mrs. Brown had faith that those dry bulbs would come back to life, so she planted them in that flower garden.

"And today Mrs. Brown's faith and superior knowledge have been gloriously vindicated. So it is with the Christians, etc. etc."

DeWITT WALLACE'S FORMULA

DeWitt Wallace, of "Reader's Digest," has recommended this formula for his writers which is equally adaptable to public speeches:

"Start out with a striking statement (text).

"Illustrate and document it with a few cases, told in narrative fashion.

"Then tie the wheat in the sack with a punchy terminal paragraph."

The greatest orators of America subconsciously use that very same formula for it is the same one that Jesus employed.

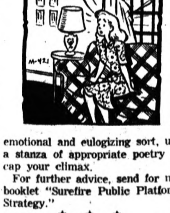

For Christ didn't harangue his audiences with dry, "essay" sermons. No, indeed!

Jesus took a text, such as brotherhood of man, and then illustrated it with stories (parables) as in the case of the Good Samaritan.

If you wish to add scholarly richness to your talk, quote some famous person of history as your opening, especially if such quotation contains the central idea you wish to expand in your speech.

★

You can likewise fade out at the end with another relevant quotation, or, if your talk is of an emotional and eulogizing sort, use a stanza of appropriate poetry to cap your climax.

For further advice, send for my booklet "Surefire Public Platform Strategy."

Probers Report 'Too Much Sex in the Movies'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lawmakers who have probed smut in the mail, violence on television and pornography in the book stalls had their eye today on sex in the movies.

They said there is too much of it and that the morals of youth are being impaired.

There was a fair chance the result might be a formal House study of alleged "obscenity, lewdness, salaciousness and immorality" either in motion pictures or in the advertising for movies.

Clear 2 Policemen in Shooting of Youth

DETROIT (UPI) — Two city policemen who fatally shot a 14-year-old youth were cleared of any criminal action possibilities yesterday by Prosecutor Samuel H. Olsen.

Olsen ruled there was no cause for criminal action against Edward Zupancic and Peter Hall. Olsen said he based his ruling on the testimony of 14 witnesses.

The youth, David Carson, was shot in the back while fleeing from a stolen car. Carson, 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weighing 174, appeared as an adult to the patrolmen, the officers said.

The witnesses said the boy ignored commands of "halt" and warning shots.

Bob Kennedy Barred From Campaign Trail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is one of four cabinet officers who will not be available for political speeches in the congressional elections campaign.

★ ★ ★

The others are Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

This became known today when the Democratic National Committee in its publication "Democrat" said six other cabinet heads "are available for speaking engagements at party functions."

Committee officials said that as a matter of policy heads of the departments of state, treasury, defense and justice do not engage in partisan speech-making.

Marshall Brass Files Final Bankruptcy Paper

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Marshall Brass Co. of Marshall filed a final schedule of liabilities and assets yesterday at U.S. District Court in a bankruptcy proceedings.

U.S. Pressing for Laos Peace

America Is Refusing to Replace Equipment Lost by Royal Forces

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI) — The United States has increased its pressure on the pro-Western government of Premier Prince Boun Oum by refusing to replace military equipment lost to the pro-Communist rebels in northwestern Laos, diplomatic sources said today.

★ ★ ★

American officials were more confident than ever that the next meeting of Laos, three rival princes will see a formation of a coalition government.

Government troops lost artillery, mortars and other weapons when the rebels broke a yearlong cease fire early this month and captured the northwestern provincial capital of Nam Tha.

Refusal of the United States to replace them intensified the already heavy handicap caused by suspension of American economic aid payments several months ago.

Laotian officials have complained about a "new American attitude" but U.S. officials said there has been no change — that the United States merely is carrying through its policy of supporting the formation of a neutral, independent coalition government.

King Savang Vathana returned to his royal capital at Luang Prabang yesterday, opening the way to the first move that should lead to renewed coalition talks.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, who has been designated to try to form the government, was expected to fly there from Burma to see him.

United Air Lines Hits Liquor Sales on Coach Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Air Lines, in a full-page advertisement, yesterday said the sale of liquor on coach flights is objectionable to both passengers and stewardesses.

★ ★ ★

The advertisement, appearing in today's editions of Chicago morning newspapers and in Washington newspapers tomorrow, said United is increasingly concerned "with the trend toward the sale of liquor in coach compartments of jet aircraft."

It said the airline has no objection to serving complimentary before-dinner cocktails in the "spacious, home-like surroundings" of first class compartments.

★ ★ ★

But Patterson said that in coach sections, "the consumption of liquor among people in such close proximity creates an objectionable atmosphere" to many passengers.

Auto Assn. Reports Vacation Trips Higher

WASHINGTON (UPI) — That summer automobile trip may be a little more expensive than you had thought, according to the American Automobile Association (AAA).

★ ★ ★

Average overnight motel and hotel rooms prices have risen 16 per cent in the past five years. Meanwhile, the cost of eating on the road has risen 4 per cent for higher priced meals and 12 per cent for meals in the cheaper category.

Elmer Jenkins, the auto club's national touring director, said a spot survey of hotels and motels in 20 states showed the increases averaged from 8 per cent in Maine to 32 per cent in the state of Washington.

★ ★ ★

The average maximum double rate five years ago was $11.07 compared with $12.89 now, the survey indicated.

Goldberg Honeys Up to Electricians

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You never would have suspected when labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg addressed New York City Local No. 3 of the Electrical Workers Union (EWU) that Local No. 3 was on a par with U.S. Steel in spurning the Kennedy administration policy.

★ ★ ★

The occasion was the local's communion breakfast. All was sweetness and light. No chilling reference by Goldberg to the local's recently won 25-hour week.

No reference, either, to the fact that President Kennedy has condemned this short week contract.

Goldberg did not even wag a finger at the electrical workers.

If his speech before Local No. 3 is a measure of President Kennedy's condemnation of union labor for spurning his policy guidelines, then the President's condemnation doesn't amount to much.

★ ★ ★

Time will tell about that. Not much time, either.

MEANY POLICY

Already AFL-CIO President George Meany is in the headlines with plans for a 35-hour week to supplant the prevailing 40-hour week. These reductions in the work week, effected and proposed, might or might not be offset by reduced labor costs.

The New York electricians have a formula by which the impact on construction costs of less work for the same pay would be more gradual than immediate.

Meany wants a 35-hour work week to provide jobs for the unemployed, but with the same take-home pay. You may be sure that Goldberg's speech before Local No. 3 has been carefully analyzed by AFL-CIO policy makers.

★ ★ ★

If they have interpreted Goldberg's remarks as a green light for a same-pay, shorter work week, it cannot be said that such an interpretation would have to be merely wishful thinking.

The action of one local — even a big one — cannot have on the national economy anything like the impact of a price rise by a basic industrial giant such as U.S. Steel.

The construction industry, however, is basic in the national economy as the steel industry is basic. The tendency in the steel industry was for other companies to follow the price lead of U.S. Steel.

A POWER PLAY

President Kennedy smashed that price trend with a power play the like of which had not been witnessed before in the United States.

It seems reasonable to believe that there will be a tendency among the construction unions to follow the lead of Local No. 3.

Why not? Who would not prefer a 35-hour work week to a 40-hour deal, especially if wages now or ultimately would not be reduced?

Local No. 3's new contract is effective July 1. It represents a 37½ per cent reduction in the work week.

If such a contract became uniform in the construction industry, costs would zoom, not by the full 37½ per cent, perhaps, because there are many other costs in construction.

★ ★ ★

Labor Secretary Goldberg could have made his Local No. 3 speech the occasion of a firm statement of administration price policy as it relates to union labor.

★ ★ ★

The communion breakfast, however, was a warm and pleasant occasion for Secretary Goldberg. He left for some other administration officials the unpleasant duty of speaking frankly to friends.

New Law Aimed at Tree Thieves

Swainson Signs Bill Governing Sale of Christmas Evergreens

LANSING (AP) — Christmas tree thieves are the target of a bill signed into law by Gov. Swainson.

★ ★ ★

The measure requires a bill of sale or proof of ownership by those cutting, removing, transporting or selling Christmas trees, evergreen boughs or other shrubs or vines within the state.

The Department of Agriculture is given the responsibility of enforcement and has the right to inspect vehicles when it is believed the act is being violated.

It does not apply to the sale or transportation of less than three Christmas trees during the month of December.

OTHER MEASURES

Other bills signed by the governor will:

Provide that acceptance of deposits at a school by a bank shall not constitute a branch facility.

Authorize the board of supervisors of counties with a tuberculosis hospital to establish a board of county institutions to maintain and operate the hospital and medical care facilities or county homes.

Give the Conservation Department authority to use revenues received from the sale of forest products from tax-reverted lands anywhere in the state. Previously, the use of such monies was restricted to a few northern counties.

★ ★ ★

Permit any municipality erecting a building to include facilities for rental to any other governmental entity.

UPI Office Closed by Sukarno Order

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — R. E. Stannard Jr., Indonesian manager for United Press International, has been ordered to leave the country.

★ ★ ★

The action follows closing of the U. S. news agency's office here on orders of President Sukarno.

The office must remain closed until further notice, the government said.

The Indonesian news agency PIA, which distributed United Press International reports, has discontinued this.

The presidential order said the action was necessary for the maintenance of law and order.

★ ★ ★

United Press International distributed from Singapore May 14 a report that Sukarno had been assassinated. The report was corrected within an hour, the news agency said.

Put Louisiana and Arkansas on Blacklist

BOSTON (UPI) — The Automobile Legal Association (ALA) today placed Louisiana and Arkansas on its vacation blacklist because of the "reverse freedom rider" programs in those states.

It requested its affiliated automobile clubs throughout the United States and Europe to do the same.

"Vacations should provide both relaxation and education," said Philip C. Thibodeau, ALA general manager, "and it is quite evident that tourists can learn very little in states which traffic in human misery."

He said ALA travel counselors are being instructed to avoid those two states whenever possible on all vacation routings.

Saginaw Has Sad 1951 Income-Tax Tale

By FRANK SZARENSKI
Saginaw News Staff Writer
Written for the AP

SAGINAW — Local income tax legislation is an old and familiar road to Saginaw officials, who made a determined, but unsuccessful, effort in 1951 to impose an income-profits tax.

Under the proposed 1951 tax, Saginaw would have been authorized to levy a penny-on-a-dollar tax for 10 years on all earned income and profits in the city.

Officials conservatively estimated the tax would yield $1.6 million a year, to meet sewage disposal plant debt payments and to finance an $8-million program of new streets, sewers and bridges.

Along with the tax came a promise that the 10-mill ($10 per $1,000 assessed valuation) property tax limit would be reduced to seven mills. The tax reduction was contingent on the levying of the income-profits tax.

Voters approved the tax by a 5-to-3 majority. However, a ruling by the state Supreme Court in 1952 held illegal the ballot procedure relating an income tax to a property tax reduction as bait to the voter for approval of the income-profits tax.

The court did not rule on the constitutionality of the tax.

The Saginaw tax plan was patterned after a 1 per cent levy in Toledo, Ohio.

NAMES COMMITTEE

The first official move in the direction of the suggested Saginaw tax came on Oct. 29, 1945, when the city council was asked by one of its members to appoint a study committee to review improvement needs of the city, to investigate current municipal finances and their potential, and to recommend future financial planning in the light of what Saginaw needed to become a better city.

This group was named by the mayor on Jan. 2, 1946 and called the Citizens Tax Study Committee. It represented the council, business, industry, the CIO and AFL and the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee named a legal advisory subcommittee. This group thought authority for a Saginaw income-profits tax could be obtained through an act of the legislature. Two bills were prepared as enabling legislation for the Saginaw tax.

The unions fought them and so did lobbyists of the Michigan Manufacturers Association, Retail Merchants Association and the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau.

The main theme was that the income-profits tax would be discriminatory. As in Toledo, opposition to the tax found labor union and industrial leaders marching together.

Opponents also said special legislation was not needed because Saginaw had such authority to levy such a tax in its "home rule" city charter.

The union claimed the Saginaw tax proposal would, if adopted, place most of the burden on the wage earner. Lobbyist spokesmen for industry and business thought their clients would suffer the most. The proposed legislation was killed in legislative committee.

In Saginaw, suburban Saginaw area residents who operated businesses or drew their paychecks in the city and thus would have to pay the levy on profit or income earned in Saginaw proper also opposed the tax plan.

After the unsuccessful attempts in 1949 for enabling legislation, the council decided to place the tax question on the November 1950 ballot.

But in September they decided to postpone a vote on the tax issue and conduct a campaign to educate the public in all details of the plan and probable benefits.

The council then set a special election for May 22, 1951. The UAW-CIO, through two of its key officers here, lost a circuit court injunction attempt to prevent the election. Before the vote was taken, the council voted to override former Gov. Williams' disapproval of the proposed amendment to the Saginaw city charter providing for the 1 per cent tax.

* * *

The governor had to approve or disapprove the proposal because of the law requiring his sanction of any proposed change in the charter of a Michigan home rule city.

* * *

The CIO obtained a circuit court order blocking the city's attempt to get final legal answers from the state Supreme Court following the election.

The CIO then filed its own suit challenging the legality of the proposed tax — approved as a charter amendment by Saginaw voters by a 9,030-5,432 margin. The CIO also asked that the city be restrained permanently from levying or collecting the tax.

Circuit Judge Harry D. Boardman of Jackson was assigned to hear the case in November 1951. The following Dec. 27, he ruled that Saginaw lacked the authority to levy a penny-on-a-dollar tax.

The essence of his decision was that existing state law didn't permit Saginaw and other Michigan home rule cities to levy an income-profits tax.

* * *

The city appealed the decision to the state Supreme Court on Jan. 30, 1952, with the subsequent decision which killed the plan because of the dual nature of the question as presented on the ballot.

* * *

On Jan. 11, 1960, councilwoman Audra E. Francis authored a resolution to revive the enactment and levying of such a tax. And on March 21, 1960, councilman Paul H. Wendler moved that consideration of an income-profits tax be started as soon as possible. Both were referred to the council's committee-of-the-whole, where interest gradually waned and the topics eventually were dropped from the committee agenda without action by the council.

Flood Relief Airlift Nears End in Africa

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI)—An emergency air drop of American grain for flood victims in Tanganyika's Rufiji District is entering its final phase.

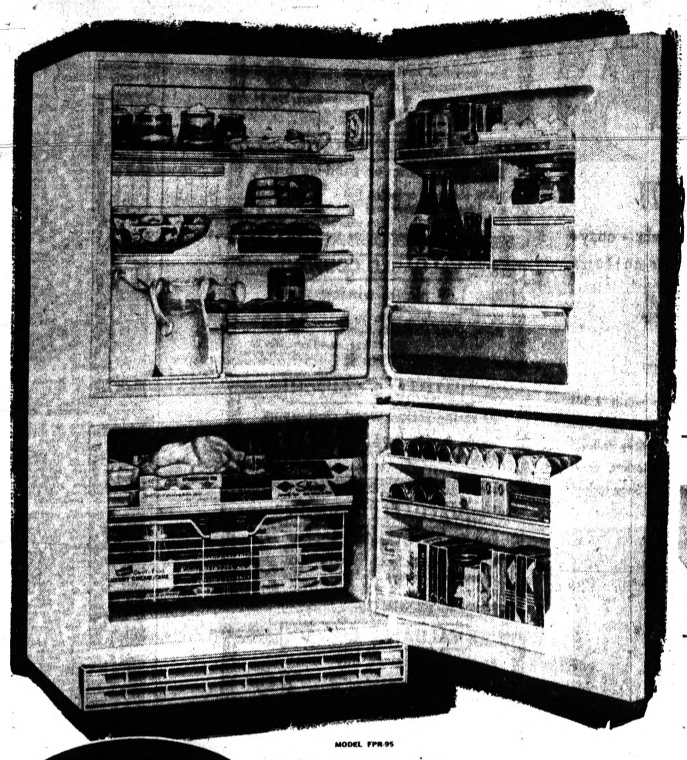

Maj. Edward MacDuffie, commander of the operation, said he expects his crew will have dropped 1,400 tons of famine-relief food by May 30.

The airdrop began two weeks ago. A U.S. Army helicopter has carried in large supplies of medicine and dried milk.

Out of every dollar spent at retail stores in the United States in a given year, about 25 cents goes for the cost and upkeep of an automobile.

Pontiac City Affairs

Two Road Projects Approved

Two agreements with the State Highway Department affecting highway construction in Pontiac have been approved by city commissioners.

★ ★ ★

Resolutions concerning minor amendments to the perimeter road contract and city participation in construction of a left turn loop at Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads, were okayed at last night's meeting.

★ ★ ★

Both agreements came at the request of the highway department, said City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The perimeter road contract, signed last September, will be amended to show agreement between the city and state on several technical points.

These include the widening of Orchard Lake - Auburn Avenue within the perimeter road from 90 to 120 feet and designating turn movements at its intersection with Saginaw Street.

★ ★ ★

Widening will be accomplished on the south side of Orchard Lake and north side of Auburn, thus removing the jog at Saginaw.

Another amendment establishes preliminary arrangements for the new M59 route to follow East Huron Steet extended to the I-75 expressway.

★ ★ ★

Both the Huron and Auburn-Orchard Lake crosstown routes are planned as boulevard - type thoroughfares within the perimeter road. The Huron arrangements are still subject to review at a later date.

CITY TO PAY

"By approving the second request, the city agrees to pay $6,600 toward construction of the proposed turn loop at Telegraph and Pontiac Lake Road," Stierer said.

"The total project cost is estimated by state officials at $49,300. The highway department has slated contract letting for June 13."

★ ★ ★

Roughly the improvement calls for a road on the east side of Telegraph extending north from the intersection and looping westerly to intersect with Telegraph and continue west meeting Pontiac Lake Road.

★ ★ ★

Northbound traffic on Telegraph would use the loop rather than making a left turn to go westerly on Pontiac Lake Road.

The city's share is 25 per cent of the cost of construction east of Telegraph. The easterly portion will cost about $26,600 with the highway department paying $19,800. Pontiac's share will come from gas and weight tax funds already on hand.

★ ★ ★

"The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has agreed to provide right-of-way at the south end of the county service center for the loop and the Oakland County Road Commission will pay the entire cost—$22,900—of construction west of Telegraph," he explained.

TO READY ROLLS

In other business, no objections were voiced at public hearings on the city's intent to construct curbs and gutters on a portion of Emerson Avenue and a storm sewer and curbs and gutters on parts of Beverly Avenue.

★ ★ ★

Special assessment rolls on the three projects were ordered prepared for presentation next Tuesday.

Work will proceed on three other improvement projects since no objections were raised at public hearings on their respective assessment rolls.

These call for recapping and widening parts of Branch and Wessen streets and construction of curbs and gutters on Tennyson Avenue.

★ ★ ★

A request to transfer ownership of an SDM license at 101 State Street from Salvadore Roselli to Irma M. Shivlie was approved by commissioners.

★ ★ ★

Also okayed was a request to transfer ownership of Class C and SDM licenses with an official permit for food at 754-736 Glenwood Avenue from Ernest Valentino to Ivan R. Pace and John F. Strong.

Action on a request to approve transfer of the tavern and SDM license presently located at the Red Lion Cafe, 73-75 S. Saginaw St., was deferred two weeks.

Mitchell L. Bacow, attorney for the owners, appealed to commission move to 72 Auburn Ave. The Red sioners to approve their request to Lion Cafe is currently located in the downtown urban renewal area slated for clearance.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners feel the matter needs more study to determine if suitable parking space exists in the area around 72 Auburn. The site is directly across from the civic center.

Rally to Boycott in Argentina

Angry Deputies Back Call to Abstain From Government Activities

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Tear gassed by police for defying President Jose Maria Guido's edict recessing Argentina's congress, enraged deputies rallied today behind a call from their speaker to boycott the military-backed government.

★ ★ ★

Speaker Olegario Decerra, a member of Guido's own intransigent radical party, instructed legislators last night to "henceforth abstain from attending" all functions and ceremonies sponsored by the executive branch.

Becerra urged the boycott after about 200 armed police had lobbed some 700 tear gas shells in a two-hour skirmish to prevent holdover deputies and those elected in the March 18 elections from conducting an organization meeting in the congress building.

★ ★

Guido on Sunday ordered congress into a year-long recess and suspended political parties as the first step in a purge of Peronists from political life. Congressional leaders denounced the decree as dictatorial and defied it by calling for a rump session yesterday to include the 37 Peronists elected to the chamber of deputies in March.

A few deputies made it inside the building, including some Peronists. Most were forced back by the police.

★ ★ ★

Tear gas shells injured three women in the milling crowd and Hector Gomez Machado, majority leader in the last congress and a polio cripple, was knocked into a gutter.

★ ★ ★

Deputies who managed to fight their way into the house held a "minority" meeting and repudiated Guido's decrees. Those who couldn't get in held a meeting of their own in the newsroom of the newspaper Democracia 15 blocks away. They also repudiated Guido's action.

Commissioners Push IRS Bid

OK Formation of Body to Aid Future Staff and Seek Building Funds

The City Commission took official action last night to back Pontiac's bid for location of an Internal Revenue Service data processing center here.

★ ★ ★

A resolution was approved authorizing Mayor Robert A. Landry to appoint a committee to assist with the training and housing of prospective IRS personnel and study methods to raise funds for construction of a suitable building.

The resolution pledges "full support" of the commission to cooperate "within the legal limits to make available a site location and building for the new data processing center."

★ ★ ★

It expresses appreciation for the interest shown by IRS officials in local sites they surveyed here last week.

WOULD GIVE WAGES

Commissioners have agreed informally to donate a year's wages as commissioners — about $7,000 — to start a campaign to raise money for the estimated $2-million building.

★ ★ ★

The committee to be appointed would swing into action if the IRS decides on Pontiac as the site for the center. Detroit and Port Huron are other current prime contenders.

Grocer Robbed by 2 Youths in White Lake Twp.

Two young bandits escaped with about $150 in cash last night after robbing a grocery store owner at gunpoint at the Hill Top Market, 7505 Highland Road, White Lake Township.

★ ★ ★

John A. Micallef told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he was working in his store about 10 p.m. when two youths came into the store and bought a bag of peanuts. They returned a few minutes later, ordered more peanuts and pulled a gun while his back was turned, Micallef said.

★ ★ ★

One of the youths, armed with a chrome-plated pistol, forced Micaleff to hand over the contents of a cash drawer, he said. They went out a side door and fled on foot, running down Porter Road.

Question: To Feed...or Not to Feed...Chinese

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy reportedly has on his desk —and is debating whether to sign —an executive order to supply surplus grain for starving Red Chinese.

The problem is occupying top policy planners, from Secretary of State Dean Rusk on down. The dilemma is obvious.

Communist China is the most virtiolic and potentially dangerous of our enemies; yet America has traditionally been a humanitarian nation.

The President has publicly said that the United States will consider any direct request from Red China for food.

NO REQUEST YET

The request has not been forthcoming, and is not likely to be, inasmuch as the ruling Communist clique seems far more interested in propaganda than survival of its teeming masses.

The glut of agricultural overproduction in America is equaled only by the glut of hungry humanity in mainland China.

Its population is now nearly a fourth of the total inhabitants of this earth, and is growing at the alarming rate of more than 15 million a year.

The problem has been brought acutely to world attention in recent weeks by the heart-rendering stories of starving Chinese refugees who flee across the borders into British Hong Kong, only to be driven back again by the free world.

A BORDER FENCE

Americans cringe to read that the British are erecting a vast border fence to keep Chinese from fleeing from communism into the crown colony.

It is an embarrassing about-face, after we so violently protested the fence which Communists erected to keep East Berliners from escaping to freedom. This, however, is a matter for the conscience of the entire free world, not just for our British cousins.

Tiny Hong Kong obviously cannot house or feed hundreds of thousands more Chinese.

It is swollen almost to the explosion point by the million and a half refugees it has already generously absorbed.

Most of the nations of the Orient are equally over-populated in relation to their arable land. Russia has vast, underpopulated areas in Siberia that could easily absorb China's hoards, but who are we to point with scorn to the Kremlin's lack of hospitality for its Communist ally?

Our own quota for Chinese immigrants is one hundred a year.

★ ★ ★

There are many good and logical reasons why we should refuse to feed the hungry Chinese. The cruel regime which rules the 690 million unfortunates might well use well-fed troops to overrun all of Asia, and certainly to capture Laos.

If we fed the Chinese populace, Mao Tse-tung could concentrate his attention on armaments, germ warfare, opium and the missiles race.

★ ★ ★

Canada and Australia have been selling Red China their own grain surpluses; and while Chinese starve, their government transships millions of bushels of grain to Red Albania.

Yet do we, in this land of historic plenty, have the right to let millions starve? This is a hungry, hungry world.

We are horrified to read that "famine-stricken villagers in Dahomey, West Africa, are crawling on their hands and knees to towns in search of food."

While some segments of humanity starve, the American taxpayer properly groans at our farm burden. We spend billions each year to pay farmers not to produce food. We pay hundreds of millions of dollars for storage even pretend to know the proper of grains we cannot possibly use, answer.

To feed or not to feed the Chi- Pity President Kennedy! It is nese? This correspondent cannot his decision, not ours.

REACHING FOR FOOD — A Chinese refugee girl climbs on iron pole of barbed wire fence and extends her hand to receive food given by farmer residents on the Hong Kong side of the new border fence. She is one of thousands of refugees fleeing Red China, but stopped by British fence.

Coeds on Increase at Illinois School

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — The coed's happy hunting grounds are getting crowded.

★ ★ ★

Although she still is a minority on the campus, her numbers are on the increase.

At the University of Illinois coeds have pushed the ratio of three men for every woman to two and a half to one.

The girls increased their numbers by 9.32 per cent while men lagged behind with an increase of only 3.37 per cent.

★ ★ ★

There are 16,364 men and 6,695 women enrolled at the university.

Credit Ben Franklin With First Bathtub

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Tile Council of America credits Benjamin Franklin with introducing the first formal bathtub to America.

The council said Ben's tub "was shoe-shaped and made of copper" — a far cry from the ceramic tile step-down tubs the industry is turning out this year.

Africa's Upper Nile is so badly clogged with the lavender water hyacinth that natives can walk on top of the river.

Pays to Inspect Underpinnings of Your House

While his wife is looking over the kitchen and conveniences of a prospective abode, the man-of-the-family can best use his time to check conditions under the house.

Such inspection is easy, if there's a basement, and if not, it shouldn't be beneath his dignity to venture on hands-and-knees into the "crawl space." What he finds there may be worth a thousand times more the trivial laundry bill the inspection might incure.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the condition of the "underpining" has an important effect on nearly all that we want and expect in our homes.

It's a key factor in the safety and permanence of the dwelling. It also has everything to do with the walking comfort of the housewife in the aforementioned kitchen.

An ideal floor structure, the Association says, is a raised platform system of lumber. This uses the resiliency of wood in a series of "shock absorbers" to take a strain off the feet.

LBJ's 'Twin' Reveals the 'Wicked Truth'

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Troy Gatlin, who looks enough like Vice President Lyndon Johnson to be his twin, was dining with his wife in a swank restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Not far away a group of diners eyed him closely, whispering excitedly.

★ ★ ★

As the Gatlins were leaving, a woman member of the group rose, strode up and addressed him as the vice president.

★ ★ ★

"S-ssh," Gatlin said, nodding toward his wife. "The lady with me is NOT MRS. JOHNSON!"

Titov Draws 12,000 With Tokyo Address

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin delivered an uneventful hour-long address today at Waseda University, where leftist students badgered U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy last February.

★ ★ ★

An audience estimated at 12,000 —5,000 more than Kennedy drew —crowded into the big memorial hall to hear the 28-year-old Soviet major describe his April 1961 space flight.

Urban Renewal Plans Wing Way to U.S. Office

The final plans for Pontiac's second urban renewal project, R44, are on their way today to Chicago offices of the Urban Renewal Agency (URA) and Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA). There are hopes that the final stamp of approval by federal officials will come within a month.

A public hearing on the project plans was completed last Thursday. Commissioners last night voted final approval as required by the URA before the final federal okay can be granted.

The estimated $2.8-million project covers 19.6 acres in an area between Saginaw Street and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad main line.

★ ★ ★

After approval by the URA a loan and grant contract can be entered into between the city and federal government to finance the project.

Once the contract is signed, the city can begin to purchase property, clear land, initiate site improvements and sell the cleared land.

★ ★ ★

City officials propose to complete the project in three to five years. Appraisals already have been completed on property marked for acquisition.

TO WRECK 43

There are 45 structures in the R44 area, 43 of which are designated for demolition. Of these, 41 are commercial and two residential.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry last night asked City Manager Robert A. Stierer to make sure the owners of Lewis Furniture Co., one of two buildings not presently slated for clearance, "agree to include their building for acquisition at current appraisal values if clearance of their property becomes necessary at a later date."

The furniture company was left out due to the owners' program to rehabilitate the building on Saginaw at Orchard Lake Avenue in recent years.

The city will pay 25 per cent, or about $461,680 of the net project cost of $1.8 million.

The cost of property acquisition is estimated at $1,700,796 with clearance and improvements estimated to cost $765,142.

Touch of Honey Adds Delight to Apple Dish

A biblical quotation from Proverbs reads, "Eat thou honey, for it is good.". Early-day Englishmen must have really taken this injunction to heart—eating so much of the syrupy food that Britain became known as the Isle of Honey.

Of course, you can't really blame them, because honey tastes so good so many ways—as a spread, in sandwich fillings, pastries, sauces, hot breads, meat and vegetable dishes and numerous desserts.

With honey such a delectable food, you wouldn't think folks would stop to think about what they could do with it besides eat it. However, honey has gained quite a reputation as a healer.

Honey was used as an antiseptic by long-ago dentists of the Inca Empire but your family probably prefer the sweetener for their sweet-tooth instead of a toothache. And, grandmother may have given you a strong dose of tea with honey when the flu-bug struck—but nobody can argue her out of a pet remedy.

However, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says honey is so plentiful there is enough for all your kitchen needs as well as grandma's remedies. Try Honey Apple Crisp soon—an easily prepared dish delicious served with whipped cream and a dash of cinnamon on top.

Honey Apple Crisp

2 cups pared, sliced apples
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
¼ cup liquid honey
¼ cup flour
2 tablespoons brown sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

★ ★ ★

Place apples in a shallow baking dish. Combine the sugar, lemon juice and honey. Spread over apples. Mix the flour, brown sugar and salt. Cut or work in butter or margarine until mixture is crumbly.

Cover apples with flour mixture and bake at 375 degrees F. for 30 to 40 minutes, or until apples are tender and crust brown. Serves 4.

Halibut Are Huge Fish

Halibut is one of the largest species of fish used for food, sometimes weighing over 500 pounds. However, it is usually cut into easily handled cross-section slices called "steaks." Approximately 20 per cent of the halibut sold is fresh, 80 per cent frozen.

VEGETABLE MEDLEY—Tomato Mushroom Macedonia combines canned tomatoes and mushrooms with chopped onion. Topped with crisp toasted croutons, it handsomely answers the family who complains of always having vegetables the same old way.

Don't let that bottle or container of milk stand in the sun! Such exposure lowers the milk's riboflavin content.

Mushrooms and Onions Give Oomph to Tomatoes

"We always have such good vegetables at our house!" Happy is the cook whose vegetable dishes draw such family praise.

This feat may be accomplished in several ways. Herbs and spices used with imagination do wonderful things to many vegetables. Small amounts of chopped onion, green pepper or celery often add that something extra, while mushrooms lend their own special flavor.

Combining some of these ideas, the following recipe for Tomato Mushroom Macedoine goes a long way toward making the family vegetable-happy and bursting with appreciative remarks. Since both tomatoes and mushrooms come from a can, this quick-and-easy is popular with mom, too.

Tomato Mushroom Macedoine

1 can (3 to 4 oz.) mushrooms
1 medium size onion
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine
1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
Seasoned salt

Cook drained mushrooms and chopped onion in butter until lightly browned. Add tomatoes and sugar; heat. Season to taste with seasoned salt. Serve in sauce dishes. Six servings.

Cheese Herb Fingers

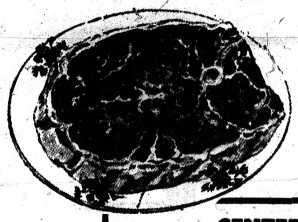

Under broiler toast 12 slices firm white bread on one side. Spread softened butter on untoasted side; sprinkle 3 slices with chopped parsley, 3 with sesame seeds, 3 with snipped chives, and 3 with grated Parmesan cheese. Return to broiler for about one minute or until lightly browned. Cut each slice into 3 strips.

Bethany Baptist Nursery School pupils attend to last minute details in preparing for the open house set for Thursday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. From left to right are Daniel Haden of Miami Road, Gretchen Heine of Draper Avenue, and twins, Sandra and Scott Linn, of Sylvan Shores Drive. The gathering is open to all interested parents and residents of the community.

To 'Show Off' Nursery School

Bethany Nursery School of Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron at Mark streets, will hold open house Thursday 7:30 to 9 p.m. for interested parents and residents of the community.

A special program has been arranged with Jane Werneken, director of the Grosse Pointe University Nursery School, as guest speaker. She will present and narrate "The Nursery School in Action," a motion picture in color.

The staff of the school, Muriel Prowse and Bea Cheney, will answer questions about Bethany's weekday nursery program.

* * *

This open house marks the official beginning of enrollment for the fall semester which begins when public schools open in September.

The school provides an opportunity for preschool children to play together, to acquire good social habits and to develop creative expression under trained leadership.

CAN CALL OFFICE

Parents are invited to enroll children in the school during the open house or by calling the office of Bethany Baptist Church. Youngsters who will be four years old by Dec. 1 will be enrolled in the Monday, Wednesday and Friday program; those who will be 3 by that date will enter the Tuesday-Thursday sessions. Beginning in September, both sessions will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each weekday morning.

* * *

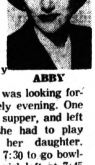

The Bethany Nursery School was started last September through the initiative of Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor, and the Board of Christian Education of the Bethany Baptist Church.

Forget Them, Abby Says

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago I invited five girls, with whom I work to my home for a barbecue supper. They all accepted, and arrived at 6:30 on the dot.

ABBY

I worked hard to prepare everything in advance — with all the trimmings. My house was spotless, and I was looking forward to a lovely evening. One girl bolted her supper, and left at 7, saying she had to play softball with her daughter. Another left at 7:30 to go bowling. The third girl left at 7:45 because she had a date with her fiance. The other two seemed embarrassed.

Knowing they liked to sing, I opened the piano and tried to rescue the evening by playing while they sang. Very red-faced, one said her husband asked her not to stay late, so she left at 8:05, and the other one had to drive her home. My husband said not to let it bother me. Am I overly sensitive?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I have heard of one lemon in an office, but you must work in a grove. Your husband is right. Don't let it bother you. And don't bother to invite them again, either.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a 5-year-old mule named Bertha. She is a devoted animal and very affectionate. She follows me everywhere, nudges and pushes with her head and slobbers on my clothing. This makes my wife very angry. She says that either Bertha goes, or she does. Bertha is my best mule and brings in $635 a year. What should I do?

MONTANA

DEAR MONTANA: Get rid of Bertha. One mule in the family is enough.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have looked in every cook book I could lay my hands on and I cannot find a recipe for plain old-fashioned butterscotch pudding. Doesn't a recipe exist?

Don't tell me to make vanilla pudding and substitute brown sugar for white, because I've tried it and it doesn't work. And don't recommend that packaged powder stuff you add milk to. I want the kind my mother used to make from scratch. Can you help me?

CRAVES BUTTERSCOTCH PUDDING

DEAR CRAVES: You need an old-fashioned cook book and I don't have one. If any of my readers has a recipe for butterscotch pudding (made from scratch) please send it to me as I am itching to help my reader. (And I'd like to try it myself.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What have you got against the cigarrette industry anyway?

C. W.

DEAR C. W.: I have nothing against the cigarette industry. But I have plenty against the big-name athletes who tell our young people how "mild," "satisfying" and refreshing" a cigarette is.

I think we should take up a collection for athletic stars who are so hungry for money that, for a few extra bucks, they will encourage young people to smoke, knowing that it undermines their health.

Cast in 'Bloomingham'

Leading man of the musical comedy "The Bloomingham Newcomers," which will run every evening at the 1962 Birmingham Arts Festival, is Robert Dearth of Bloomfield Hills.

He joins a cast of 60 announced recently after three try-out sessions. His costar is comedienne Mrs. Dean (Winnie) Coffin of Birmingham who delighted audiences at the 1960 "Bloomingham Eccentrics." She is also featured in several popular television series.

Over 100 actors, dancers and singers came from as far as Detroit to try for roles in the sequel to the "Bloomingham Eccentrics."

"The Bloomingham Newcomers" will be shown nightly, June 21-24, in a geodesic dome outside the Birmingham Arts Center, headquarters of the sponsoring Bloomfield Art Association. Both local theater groups, St. Dunstans' Guild and the Birmingham Village Players, are cooperating in producing the musical.

PLAY COUPLE

Mrs. Coffin and Mr. Dearth play a man and wife team in this suburban spoof. The plot centers around the twosome as they become newcomers to "Bloomingham" and its 215 organizations.

Their stage children are Anne d'Hyevre and Jeffrey Gilbert, both of Birmingham. Other lead roles went to John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Matousek and Mrs. Arthur N. Hill.

* * *

L. James Schneider, general chairman of the musical, said "The Bloomingham Newcomers" will be a "real communitywide effort."

* * *

Selections by the three groups will include "Lightly Row" and "Rosa Lee," folksongs; "Allegro from Student Concerto," Seitz; and "Piddlin' Jim," Dallam, all by the elementary string orchestra.

Selections by the intermediate string group will include "Sea Spray, Suite for Strings," McKay; "Rainbow Variations," Gates; and "Song of Jupiter," Handel-Anderson.

The symphony orchestra's numbers will include "Symphony No. 1 (first movement)," Beethoven; "Double Concerto in D Minor (first movement)," Bach; and Mozart's "Violin Concerto in G Major."

Luncheon Held for Group III

Mrs. Herbert Howerth of Lakewood Street, Drayton Plains, was luncheon hostess to members of Child Study Club Group III Tuesday afternoon.

* * *

After hearing annual reports from various committee heads, Mrs. Robert Bego, president, welcomed new members Mrs. Emil Bair, Mrs. William Taylor Jr. and Mrs. Robert Ryeson. Mrs. Fred Zittel Jr. attended as a guest.

* * *

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Walter Godsell, Mrs. Clarke Kimball, Mrs. Harry McGrath, Mrs. Eddie O'Brien and Mrs. Robert Reynnells.

* * *

Installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Kimball. Mrs. Bego will serve next season with Mrs. Bob Rogers, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Shorey, second vice president; Mrs. John Hubbard, recording secretary; Mrs. O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Carl Bird, treasurer; Mrs. Maynard Raye parliamentarian; and Mrs. William Belaney, auditor.

Home Nursing? Wear a Mask

While serving as a home nurse, safeguard the patient from a secondary infection by wearing a gauze mask over your nose and mouth, advises the New York State Department of Health.

* * *

This is because you may be carrying germs which your patient, in his weakened condition, can easily pick up.

Other important precautions are to always wash your hands with soap after removing a used mask, and to launder the masks in hot soap or detergent suds after each wearing.

Members of Pontiac Symphony Orchestra's Women's Association are preparing attractive displays for their second annual geranium sale Friday and Saturday in the Ottawa Drive home of Mrs. Harold B. Euler. Among committee workers for the benefit project are (from left) Mrs. William Furlong, Sylvan Sands Drive, Drayton Plains; general chairman, Mrs. Fred A. Voelker, Voorheis Road; ways and means chairman, Mrs. Fred Coleman, West Iroquois Road; and advance orders chairman, Mrs. J. A. Rummes, Rosedale Street, Sylvan Lake. (See story on page 23)

Cycle Off Unwanted Poundage

ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The career girl who spends her days at the office is inclined to relax on weekends. And at the end of a long dreary winter, she'll find that she's gained unwanted pounds and inches.

Now that mild weather is here, one of the most pleasant ways to get rid of the extra weight is to ride a bike.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that cycling will build big leg muscles. It won't. But it will trim down the figure, stimulate circulation and give you a much-needed dose of fresh air in the bargain.

★ ★ ★

Dress appropriately in flat shoes, pedal pushers or Bermuda shorts. If your hair can take the breeze, so much the better for your scalp. But if you must protect your hairdo, you can wear a pretty scarf over your head.

Like any other form of exercise, bicycle riding will induce perspiration, so choose a deodorant with long - lasting qualities.

One such combines deodorant with antiperspirant. The makers claim that it dries within four seconds, eliminating the chance of staining expensive sports clothes.

★ ★ ★

If your riding technique is rusty, try a few practice runs alone. Then suggest a Sunday bike picnic to your date. If you're well-groomed and attractively dressed, he'll probably suggest the next Sunday outing himself.

Some electric light bulbs for special uses are no larger than a match head.

'Hi-Infidelity'

Sins of Omission Should Be Avoided

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

(Editor's Note—A condensation of Abigail Van Buren's new book "Dear Abby on Marriage" is appearing daily in The Pontiac Press in 24 installments under the serialized title "Hi-Infidelity.")

★ ★ ★

No words, however bitter or spoken in anger, hurt as deeply as those longed-for expressions of reassurance, affection and gratitude that were never spoken.

One can be forgiven for what he has done. But seldom is one forgiven for what he has not done. Or said:

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY:

I know I am not unattractive because, all my life, I have been told that I was beautiful. I have been married to Harry for 12 years, and everyone thinks we are ideally happy. The truth is, I am miserable.

Believe it or not, he has not once told me I looked nice. Nor has he ever, voluntarily said, "I love you." Sometimes I want so desperately to hear those words, I ask him.

Then he accommodates me in a tone so lacking in sincerity that I feel like a beggar. Don't tell me to count my blessings. I have counted them, and I still feel cheated. Why are men such fools? Do other women have this problem? —Marge

I assured Marge that she was not alone. That many women have the same problem. And so do many men. I heard only Marge's side of it. I wonder when she last told Harry that he was the best-looking man at the Club?

Or that she still loved to dance with him. Or that she was proud of him when he won the sales contest. Or simply that she was glad he was her husband.

Don't take your spouse for granted:

DEAR ABBY:

I was recently elected president of our Junior Chamber of Commerce. I don't recall ever having worked as hard at anything as I did in the preparation of my acceptance speech.

I delivered my speech at the installation banquet, which was attended by the full membership, their wives and guests. After I finished speaking, many of my friends crowded around to shake my hand and congratulate me on how well I had done.

Naturally, I was pleased. But the one person whose praise I wanted most didn't say one word. She was my wife. This might sound like a small thing, but it was the beginning of my search for "appreciation." —Hurt Husband

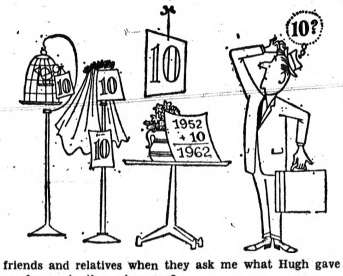

The "sins of omission" include such glaring oversights as failure to remember anniversaries, birthdays, Mother's Day or even Christmas.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY:

I am married to a man who is practically perfect . . . I suppose you will think I'm terrible to complain, but he always forgets our anniversary. Our tenth has just passed.

He didn't even give me a card. What shall I tell my friends and relatives when they ask me what Hugh gave me for my tenth anniversary?

I replied: "Tell them he gave you the ten most beautiful years of your life."

★ ★ ★

Knowing her husband was not the thoughtful type, if "Forgotten" had written to me two weeks before her anniversary, I would have told her to remind Hugh that their tenth anniversary was coming up and to ask him for suggestions on how HE wanted to celebrate.

Some men need to be reminded about special dates. It is not just a matter of thoughtlessness because it's a fact that many men forget their own birthdays!

How to Be a Bore? Just Talk, Talk, Talk

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The ten worst conversational sins are—

Always — not just occasionally — doing more than your share of the talking.

Being so anxious to have your say that you will interrupt anyone to put in your two cents' worth.

Not paying attention when someone else is talking, which is always evident either because you get a faraway look in your eyes, your eyes keep wandering around the room, or you ask some question or make some comment that shows you haven't been listening.

Stating as facts, not to be challenged, what are, after all, merely your own opinions.

Telling the same story or stating the same personal opinion over and over to the same people until they even know what words you are going to use, as though they were hearing an old record.

PEDDLING GOSSIP

Peddling gossip under the cloak of "feeling so sorry" for the person you are gossiping about.

Not wanting to talk about anything but yourself and your family on the assumption that others will be every bit as interested in that topic as you are.

Bragging. However you try to disguise it, bragging is just that to anyone who has to listen to it.

Talking in a loud or whining or otherwise unpleasant tone of voice, because you've never bothered to listen to how you really sound.

Insisting on always telling all the depressing news you know and on always taking a pessimistic view of things.

Have You Tried This?

Orange Raisin Cake Has Glaze Instead of Icing

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Whenever a new cake or pie turns up at a bake sale or potluck affair, everyone wants the recipe. Mrs. Rick Thompson has had that experience with her Orange Cake. Here's the recipe for you all to try.

*

We have had pleasant telephone contacts with Mrs. Thompson for many years. We know that she loves to try out new recipes. By nature, she is a real optimist.

ORANGE CAKE
By Mrs. Rick Thompson

1 large orange
1 cup raisins
½ cup nuts (optional)
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
2 eggs

Grind together orange (rind and all), raisins and nuts. Reserve juice. Sift flour, soda and salt. Cream shortening with sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Stir in orange mixture.

Grease and flour a 12x8x2 pan. Pour in batter. Bake 40-50 minutes at 350 degrees. Remove cake from oven and pour over it a mixture of ½ cup sugar and ½ cup orange juice. (Use what resulted from grinding the fruit).

Brush Off Eyebrows

With today's matte make-up fashion vogue demanding soft, natural looking eyebrows, one of the most important tips in achieving this effect is never to apply your eyebrow pencil until the entire brow is clean and free from other make-up.

Since foundation make-up and powder are applied first, particles of the make-up get in among the eyebrow hairs and these should be removed before attempting to shape your brows.

The only sure way of removing this make-up is with the use of an eyebrow brush or a clean mascara brush. Gently but firmly brush the bristles through the eyebrow hairs, using a natural outward motion.

To be really sure that brows are completely clean, brush them a second and third time, wiping off the brush bristles each time.

With all make-up particles removed, your application of eyebrow pencil can give your brows a clean, natural high-fashion look.

Try Giving More Than One Affair

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Our son will be graduating from the Air Force Academy shortly and will also be married before coming home. Unfortunately, my husband and I will be unable to be present at either function because of the distance.

We are planning a reception for our son and his bride when they come here for a visit. Our difficulty is that which plagues many folks who live in small houses: Space.

For financial reasons we cannot have the reception in a hotel or restaurant and have decided to have it here at home, informally, with simple food served buffet style.

In order to avoid overcrowding, we would like to space the number of guests to come in at one time. For example; "As to Es from two to three," "Fs to Js from three to four," and so on to the end of the list. Will you please tell me if this would be proper?

A: I'm sorry, but to do as you suggest would not be proper. You might try stretching out the time between the "from" and "to" hours on your invitations and hope that not too many of your guests will come at the same time. Or, you could give two or three smaller receptions on different days.

*

Q: My sister criticized me the other day for introducing myself with title. I think when giving one's name to a stranger it is the thing to do, otherwise the stranger has no way of knowing whether she is Miss or Mrs. Will you please tell me what is correct in this instance?

A: A married woman says, "Mrs. John Jones." A young unmarried woman announces herself as Jane Jones and it is taken for granted that she is "Miss." Only an elderly spinster would announce herself as "Miss."

* * *

Q: Will you please tell me if it is permissible and proper for the father of the groom to wear a brown suit and brown shoes at an afternoon wedding?

A: Either a dark blue or dark gray suit is in best taste.

* * *

Q: I would like your opinion on the following incident: After dinner the other evening when cigarettes were passed with coffee in the living room, all of my guests, except one, found a brand of cigarettes they liked from among those I proffered. This one guest looked over my assortment and said, "No thanks," then left the room to get her own. Wasn't this rude?

A: It would not have been at all rude if she had added to her "No thanks," something like, "I'm an absolute slave to my Blanks."

It's Good for You

Exercise the Blood Vessels

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Why is regular, daily exercise important to our health and good looks? There are many reasons. One is that our blood vessels get exercised. Our blood vessels are lined with muscular fibers. When these do not get enough exercise, they shrink.

The only way in the world to exercise blood vessels is to exercise. Exercise calls for more oxygen in the blood stream. When your heart beats faster to meet this demand, it pushes along more blood.

The blood vessels must expand in order to take care of the increased circulation. Then they contract naturally. This expansion and contraction is exercise for them. According to authorities, flabby blood vessels are more susceptible to degenerative changes.

REDISTRIBUTES WEIGHT

Also, exercise is especially important when reducing. It redistributes your weight more attractively, and you will avoid the flabbiness which some women experience when reducing too rapidly without exercise and a proper diet.

Exercise also is valuable in banishing many vague, little discomforts and twinges, constipation and chronic fatigue and an army of other harmless but annoying symptoms you can acquire after 30.

This version of the twist not only will make you feel better, but will benefit your waist, abdomen, hips and legs. Step forward, twist inward with hip, foot and leg and swing arms and upper body to the right, and repeat with left.

The ideal would be to indulge in regular exercise all along the way. If you have not done so and wish to begin this rejuvenating, do one thing first. See your physician for a checkup and get his approval. After that, you are on your own. Age does not count nearly so much as your physical condition.

There are guides you can use. If you are tired after your exercise, whether it be a walk or mat exercises, or tennis or golf or swimming, this is a sign that you are doing too much. Cut down on the amount of exercise and build up gradually, without fatigue.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my exercises planned especially for the most usual feminine faults, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hula-gams Hits During Sunny Leisure Hours

(UPI) — The "grass" skirt made of materials other than the original promise to be a popular item for beachwear this summer. Or, for that matter, for other leisure-hour occasions.

One copy of the Polynesian skirt is made of grass-like strings of polyethylene and is adjustable to any size. The skirt can be trimmed to the desired length with a pair of scissors, and adjusted to any waist size by moving the fastener to one of the series of loops built into the waistband. The synthetic skirt comes in grass green, turquoise, straw, and black and white.

The other skirt, called hulagam, is fashioned from layers on layers of ribbon-narrow strips of cotton cut with pinking shears from old bedsheets and dyed into a multitude of colors. These are sewn onto a dyed cotton waistband which ties.

In Candlelight Ceremony

Pontiac Couple Weds

Before an altar banked with white orchids, carnations and roses, Judith Ann Manns exchanged vows with Leonard M. Gavette in Bethany Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Emil Kontz officiated throughout the candlelight ceremonies, performed before a small family gathering Saturday evening.

For her wedding the bride chose a white peau de soie gown trimmed with seed pearl and aurora borealis crystals. The ballerina length gown featured a Sabrina neckline and self-embroidered bodice. Her fingertip Swedish veil of double illusion lace was also trimmed with seed pearl and aurora crystals.

The bride carried a cascade of white orchids, roses and carnations combined with lilies-of-the-valley.

Linda Jean Manns and Carol Manns were their cousin's maid of honor and attendant respectively. The maid of honor wore a pink lace jacket over a pink chiffon ballerina length skirt.

A matching blue ensemble was the choice of the bridesmaid, which again featured the lace jacket over pale blue chiffon. Both carried a white orchid.

Gary Gasco of Waterford was best man and the bridegroom's uncle, Lloyd Manns, seated the guests.

A reception at the bride's Newberry Street address and given by her parents, the Orville W. Manns, followed the wedding.

★ ★ ★

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Manns selected a beige lace over white taffeta with Nile green accessories. The bridegroom's parents are the Leonard C. Gavettes of Kempf Drive. Mrs. Gavette wore an emerald green silk sheath with white accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

★ ★ ★

After their honeymoon to northern Michigan the Gavettes will be honored at an open house June 3, 1 to 5 p.m. at the Manns residence.

Offers Theater School

The lure to trade a few hours of sunlight for limelight will be dangled before area residents this summer by a professional actor-producer-dancer team at Michigan State University Oakland.

The occasion is the first theater school to be offered by MSUO's Continuing Education Division. Classes begin June 25 and will be held for six weeks, five days a week from 10 a.m. to noon.

Directed by William W. Merrill, former producer at Detroit Music Hall and owner-director of Will-O-Way Playhouse, the theater school is planned for college and high school age students and adults.

"Since the only way to learn theater is by experience," Mr. Merrill explains, "we'll have as our goal the practical production of a three-act comedy."

He adds that the play will be chosen to suit the size and make-up of the group.

The four courses will be:

Show rehearsal — directed by Mr. Merrill on Mondays and Thursdays.

Acting and speech — directed by Adeline Hirschfeld, instructor in speech and theater at Wayne State University and stage, television and film actress, on Tuesdays.

★ ★ ★

Modern Dance — taught by Elizabeth Appleton, former dance instructor at the University of Minnesota, George Washington University and at community centers, Ys and with adult organizations. Mrs. Appleton has studied dance in New York and at Bennington College, on Wednesdays.

Technical theater production — directed by Mr. Merrill on Fridays.

Each of the courses may also be chosen individually. Information may be obtained from the division of continuing education, Michigan State University Oakland.

Work Lip Magic With Clean Brush

(NEA) — If you use the same lipstick brush to apply all your various shades of lipstick, be sure that the lipstick in the brush from the previous application has been removed.

Besides hindering a smooth application, the mixture of two different shades may produce an unflattering color effect.

Soap Dope

Add a little ammonia to the soap or detergent suds, and your ceramic tile floor will come out gleaming white. Regular washing several times a week will prevent most stubborn spots, but a stiff scrubbing brush may be used if needed.

Let the tile dry thoroughly—preferably with window open — before replacing the rug, hamper, scale or other furnishings usually found in a bathroom.

Air Conditioned for Your Comfort

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Winner of this week's Tailor Trix pressing board was Mrs. Iva Combs, Roseburg, Ore., who sent this helpful hint:

"When making blouses or dresses with the popular roll-up sleeves, draw a thread at the end of the sleeve length before cutting to be sure it is absolutely straight.

Next, carefully mark each roll line, then draw a thread from each of these marks. Do the same for each sleeve. This way, you will never have to guess where to roll your sleeve when ironing them and they will always be even.

The drawn thread doesn't show when wearing garment because it will be exactly on the fold of your material."

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Is it possible to make a short-sleeved, cardigan type sweater from a slipover sweater? It is so hard to find the right color in this type of sweater, to match a dress, although it often is possible to buy a short-sleeved slipover."

Mrs. B.C.

Dear Mrs. B.C.:

Yes, this is possible and not too difficult. However, you must be very careful to take the proper precautions before cuting into the sweater.

First, mark the exact center front of the sweater by folding it in half. Mark the center by hand-basting with a colored thread.

Second, baste a strip of seam tape on the wrong side of the sweater, directly over your center front.

MACHINE STITCH

Third, use a short machine stitch to stitch about four rows of stitching down the center of your sweater. Now carefully cut the sweater at the center front, through the seam binding.

If you are going to bind the front edges with part of your garment fabric, you may place the binding over the cut edges of the sweater without trimming any of the sweater away.

If you wish to finish the two front edges with grosgrain ribbon, turn the cut edge of the sweater over about ¼ inch and machine stitch the ribbon on each side. Buttonholes can be made through the grosgrain ribbon.

★ ★ ★

There are many novel ways of trimming sweaters. You can fold back the sweater at the neckline and make a sailor collar for a nautical look. You can add a Peter Pan type collar to match your dress. If you think of some very unusual way to coordinate your sweater with your dress, please send us your ideas.

MUST EASE NECK

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Whenever I use a strip of bias to finish the neckline or armholes of a dress, it seems impossible for me to get it to stay flat. My dress always wrinkles at the lower edge of the bias facing. There must be something I do or don't do that causes this, and I need help."

Mrs. P.V.

Dear Mrs. P.V.:

It sounds to me as though you are pulling the bias facing too tight. You must ease the bias facing as you pin it to the neck edge or the armholes. Remember, the lower edge of the bias must be flat and it will be only if you have allowed enough fabric for this.

I find it much more satisfactory to cut my own facings from the bodice pattern. Use your pattern for the outline of the outer edges; now remove pattern and cut your facings about 3 inches wide. These facings should be cut on the same grain line as your garment. Since they are cut to an exact pattern, you will have no more difficulty.

"Dear Eunice,

"When I make a fitted princess style dress, how can I take the fullness out of the upper part of the back? The only way I can do this is by taking the whole dress up at the shoulders and it is so much extra work."

Mrs. P.E.H.

Dear Mrs. P.E.H.:

Your dress is too long waisted and, although this is a very easy pattern adjustment to make, it is necessary to do it before cutting the dress.

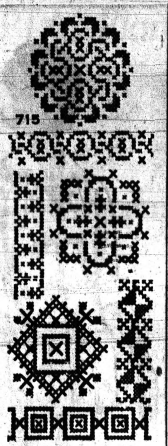

Tie a string very tightly around your waistline. Have someone measure you from the shoulder, over the bust and to the string in front. Do the same in the back. Since a princess style dress must fit smoothly at the waist, it can't have any extra fabric for ease such as you would need for a dress with a belt.

Now measure your pattern from seam line to seam line at exactly the same place you measured yourself. They must be the same length. If the bodice is too long or too short, the correction must be made about 3 inches above the waistline.

Dear Fans,

If you are machine stitching the last step of your zipper, making welt seams, or edge stitching the outer edges of your garment, turn your garment INSIDE OUT. You will still do the machine stitching on the RIGHT side of the garment, but it will feed into the machine much easier since your garment will lie flat in this position.

Professor Urges Halt in Dropouts

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—If dropping out of school was a disease instead of a social problem, this country would muster all resources and cure it.

★ ★ ★

This, Prof. William W. Wattenberg of Wayne State University, Detroit, said today, is the tragedy of American society.

Wattenberg told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, convening here:

"Let us assume that suddenly a new disease appeared which struck down 40 per cent of our youth and left them obviously weakened to the point where they could not work at regular jobs.

"Faced with that type of disaster, both private foundations and the government would pour out funds to organize rescue or rehabilitation and would launch the massive type of research which turned the tide against polio and other life-wrecking diseases."

Wattenberg said that if left unsolved, the school drop-out problem will constitute a national emergency.

'PTA SHOULD ACT'

"Our organization (the PTA) may well rise to a peak of social statesmanship by seeing that in each school system what needs to be done for school drop outs is done," he said.

Wattenberg said school drop-outs differ from those who graduate from high school not so much in intelligence as in one or more of the following four points:

From the very start, they had trouble learning to read.

By the third or fourth grade, they had trouble in arithmetic.

They came from homes where little value was given to education.

It Wasn't Bribery, but Conscience Money

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

On Saturday mornings my 13-year-old boy has been taking the laundry to the automatic laundry in the shopping cart and bringing it home. I've been paying him 40 cents for this.

I now hear that the mother of one of his friends is going around telling people that I "bribe" him to work for me. I don't want to teach him to take "bribes." Should I ask him to take the laundry for nothing or should I try to find the time to do it myself?

ANSWER: Oh come on now. You don't want to be bothered with this laundramat chore on Saturday mornings.

Are you sure that it's this gossip about "bribing" your youngster that is really worrying you? Maybe it isn't. Maybe it has just touched off the real uneasiness, uncertainty of your right to ask your boy to do this interiering chore for you. Lots of us are like this.

★ ★ ★

If we dislike a chore like this, we'll feel uncomfortable at asking a child to do it for us. Feeling mean and snide, we will offer him money to do it. But what we are paying him isn't a "bribe," it's "conscience money."

So let's look at this uncertainty of our right to ask a child to do what we don't like doing. Why aren't we entitled to pay for some household tasks to others?

★ ★ ★

What law requires us to love taking wash to the laundry? None I know of. So let's happily accept our dislike of it. Then we're rid of the protesting and unreasonable conscience that compels us to offer money to our son to do it.

OUT OF GRATITUDE

Now we can give him his 40 cents in genuine and relaxed appreciation of the relief his helpfulness means to us. Now any gossip we hear about our "bribing" him can go in one ear and out the other.

For now we know why we are paying him: We know that we are giving him his 40 cents, neither to "bribe" him nor to atease our conscience, but to express gratitude.

Our uncertainty is gone — and with it our worried response to silly criticism.

We need to get straight on this business of "bribing" kids. So, I want to again report that the dictionary definition of "bribery" is the use of money or some other form of gain "to persuade another person to do wrong."

★ ★ ★

Thus, giving Johnny a candy at bedtime is not bribing him to accept sleep as accepting sleep is the right thing for him to do. Paying Bill for relieving us of a time-consuming chore is not bribing him because it is right for him to experience himself as a relieving and helpful person.

Bribery is payment for immoral effort. Reward is the acknowledgement of constructive effort.

Reward is what you have been giving to your son.

Substitute Stars in Opera at Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Metropolitan opera soprano Phyllis Curtin came to the rescue of an ailing diva on an hour's notice last night and turned in a triumphal performance of one of opera's most difficult roles.

★ ★ ★

Without any preparation, the shapely young beauty from West Virginia sang the title role in Richard Strauss' "Salome" and received 10 solo curtain calls at the end of her performance.

★ ★ ★

"It was largely a question of how much I would remember of the role," Miss Curtin said later.

Metropolitan officials sent out a frantic SOS to Miss Curtin at 7 p.m. when Brenda Lewis, who was to have sung the role of the sensuous Salome, was ordered to her room by a doctor.

Fortunately, Miss Curtin had not eaten much food because she did not like her dinner and therefore was able to sing without discomfort.

ARRIVED AT SIX

"I hadn't sung the opera since December in Vienna," Miss Curtin said. "I arrived here from Salt Lake City at six in the evening and at seven I saw Miss Lewis backstage. I thought everything was all right."

But Miss Lewis, who earlier had complained she was not feeling well, found that her condition was worsening and a doctor was summoned.

WARM REUNION

"It was a wonderful, warm evening," Miss Curtin said. "It was a reunion. There were so many things to get used to—the staging and the setting. I never sang the role with the Met but everything worked out fine. I love to do Salome and hope to do it again."

Miss Curtin was eloquently equipped to do the famed "Dance of the Seven Veils," in which Salome peels down to little more than a bikini.

Miss Curtin said she felt more than just at home in the performance.

★ ★ ★

"Walter Cassel, who sang the role of Jochanaan in Salome, was the man who sang with me the first time I appeared with the Met in New York," she said.

★ ★ ★

But she complained that soldiers in the last scene unintentionally were rough with their shields. In this scene Salome, the seductress, is beaten to death.

"I feel black and blue," she said. "When the soldiers got over with their shields, they really pounded me."

It was the second straight night that a leading soprano became ill in Detroit. Anna Moffo, 27, fainted after completing the "mad scene" in "Lucia di Lammermoor" at the Met's opening night performance here. It was later learned that Miss Moffo was suffering from exhaustion.

Club Holds Benefit Sale

The Business Institute Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Lehr Miller on Clayton Street Saturday afternoon for their regular meeting and a benefit sale.

Mrs. Hon Beutler conducted the sale, proceeds going to the Luvella Minard Scholarship Fund. Items which were not sold were sent to the State Hospital.

The scholarship committee will interview applicants for the scholarship within the next two weeks. Bonnie Adair was a guest of the club.

Tradition has it that the ground hog emerges from his den on Feb. 2 to look for his shadow. Failure to cast one means an early spring and a good harvest; the sight of one, six weeks more of winter and poor crops.

Ballet at White House

VIP Sees 'Western'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Ballet Theatre, aided by a stereo recording, danced Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid" last night for a glittering state party in the White House.

The 28 dancers, dressed in cowboy outfits, swooped around the small stage in the East Room with great gusto, much to the delight of the honored visitors, President Felix Houphouet-Boigny of the Ivory Coast.

Copland had said before the performance he was somewhat concerned over the cramped stage and the recorded music, which was taped in stereo by the Marine Orchestra and played over camouflaged loudspeakers.

But he was the first to leap to his feet with shouts of "bravo" at the performance's end.

In the leads were John Kriza and ballerina Ruth Ann Koesun. The choreography was by Eugene Loring.

Before the performance, President Kennedy compared his power at the polls with President Houphouet-Boigny and proclaimed his state visitor an easy winner.

TOASTS VISITOR

Lifting his glass of champagne at a White House dinner last night, Kennedy toasted the West African leader for racking up 98 per cent of the vote of his country in a free election.

He added with a smile that President Houphouet - Boigny's record "has not been equaled recently in the United States — and from all I read, will not be."

At show time, the President and Mrs. Kennedy led their guests into the East Room for a performance of the ballet.

The guest of honor, speaking in French, called it a "magnificent evening."

Jacqueline Kennedy wore a white net gown glittering with brilliants. Her hair, less bouffant, was pulled becomingly over her ears.

The visiting first lady wore an ivory full skirted evening gown and a diamond necklace that shone in the dark.

Unveil Levy Ideas After Income Tax Death

LANSING (AP) — Tax ideas were sprouting like spring flowers in the legislature today, grown from the grave of the proposed state income tax.

Spurred by Gov. Swainson's admission that tax reform keyed to an income tax is dead for the year, lawmakers whipped up a batch of new tax proposals to go with those already up for consideration.

★ ★ ★

Some will get a quick burial; others will get serious consideration.

The new entries include:

—A 1 per cent tax on goods at the wholesale level as they pass into the hands of retailers, worth upward of $100 million a year.

—An increase of nearly 100 per cent in the business activities tax, now producing about $69 million annually.

—Authorization for counties to levy taxes on anything but property.

GAINING FAVOR

The wholesaler tax, often proposed but never adopted in previous times of financial trouble, is rapidly gaining favor among a good number of legislators.

In application, it is little different from a sales tax, since the retailer generally passes it on to his customers by jacking up the price.

Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, the sponsor, and Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, House Democratic floor leader, were among a group of legislators who heard the tax explained last night at a meeting with former State Sen. George N. Higgins.

Higgins, Ferndale auto dealer and a member of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, authored a similar tax proposal nearly 10 years ago. It died with passage of the business activities tax.

Rep. Harvey Beadle, D-Detroit, proposed to raise the business activities tax (BAT) from 7¼ to 15 mills per $1,000 of gross receipts.

At the same time, he would help out small businessmen by boosting the exemption from the first $12,500 of adjusted gross receipts to $20,000. The net gain would be about $63 million.

'HARDLY PAYS'

"There are a multitude of small businesses which file every year, but the cost of auditing their returns is so great in relation to the revenue collected that it hardly pays," said Beadle.

"It would make more sense to collect more revenue from fewer people at a higher rate."

Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, indicated he might back the proposal if payrolls were eliminated as a taxable item under the BAT.

The effect would be to convert it partially to a tax on profits.

★ ★ ★

"I am much more likely to go for a wholesalers tax or the BAT increase than a hodgepodge of 'nuisance' taxes on beer and cigarettes and the like," said Kowalski. "It is time to stop piling taxes on specific groups of people."

House Republicans are getting set for another try, possibly today, at pushing through their $69 million package of nuisance levies on beer, liquor, cigarettes and telegraph and telephone service.

To it will be added a one-mill increase in the corporation franchise fee, in case lawmakers balk at backing one of the others.

The first bill in the five-bill package failed by six votes last week on a test run. Republicans hope that Swainson's abandonment of his campaign for a personal and corporate income tax will persuade a few Democrats to go along with the nuisance levies.

"There are a few who might vote for them," Kowalski conceded. "They're anxious to clean things up here and go home."

Rep. Robert E. Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, came up with the county income tax proposal, which met defeat last year. It would allow counties to levy excise taxes, sales taxes, income taxes or taxes on just about everything but personal and real property.

Waldron argued that a county tax is more practical than a collection of municipal taxes.

But Plan Just a Joke

Nuisance for Farmers

LANSING (AP) — Farmers would pay a 50-cent tax on every hog they raised and a penny a pound on their cherry crop if the legislature adopted a tax plan dreamed up by a Democratic legislator.

Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, admitted he was only half serious in introducing the plan and said he wouldn't even vote for it if he gets the chance.

"It's a protest to that ridiculous Republican nuisance tax program," he said. "This is what nuisance taxes would be like if they were paid by Republican farmers instead of being levied on good Democrats in the city, where most of the population is."

★ ★ ★

In place of the proposed 4 per cent GOP tax on telephone service, O'Brien called for a tax of 10 cents a head on turkeys, five cents on chickens and ducks, 50 cents on sheep and hogs and $1 on cows.

Instead of the two-cent-a-bottle beer tax recommended by Republicans, he called for a levy of one cent a pound on beans, cherries and rhubarb.

25-cent-a-bushel tax on apples, peaches and pears would be substituted for the proposed 4 per cent tax on liquor.

In place of a penny increase in cigarette tax, he proposed to tax sugarbeets and potatoes at 10 cents a hundredweight.

"These taxes would be worth at least $18 million a year, not including rhubarb," said O'Brien, a real estate man. "The beautiful thing about it is that the way is left open for taxing a variety of other farm products, such as Christmas trees, plums, grapes, horses and strawberries, whenever the state needs more money."

Girl, 3, Crushed to Death Riding Elevator Alone

NEW YORK (AP)—A 3-year-old girl who took an elevator ride alone was crushed to death between the wall and the moving elevator.

Police said the victim, Laura Jones, somehow managed to get the inner door open and took hold of the fourth-floor outer door as the self-service elevator descended in a Brooklyn apartment house.

Control Yourself When A Headache Makes You Tense, Irritable

Take the Ingredients 3 out of 4 Doctors Recommend for Headache Pain. In Minutes—the Pain Goes, Also Its Tension and Irritability.

New York, N. Y. — It's a medical fact that pain from a tension headache can make people so irritable and highstrung they lose control of their tempers and take it out on those around them.

That's why tense, nervous headaches call for the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin®. Be sure it's Anacin you take because Anacin is like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin goes to work instantly to relieve the pain and its tension and irritability. In minutes you feel 'great' — in control again and all without tranquilizers or narcotics of any kind.

Here's why Anacin gives such fast, long-lasting and more complete relief. Anacin is different and contains extra ingredients missing in aspirin and still missing with buffering. Extra ingredients which 3 out of 4 doctors recommend and which many doctors themselves take when they have headache pain.

It's this big difference in Anacin (the extra medication) that makes the big difference in the way you feel. Anacin Tablets contain no narcotics, do not form a habit or leave one depressed. They do not irritate or upset the stomach.

See if the stronger yet safer medication in Anacin doesn't work better for you!

Mayor Is Overawed by Floral Offerings

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Alfred M. Kramer likes to tell the story about the swearing in ceremonies for Mayor Bernard J. Dowd on New Year's Day 1946.

Justice Kramer, then secretary to Mayor Dowd, said the mayor arrived for the ceremonies and was overawed by the large number of floral offerings in the office.

Turning to Kramer, the mayor cracked:

"Al, you take the oath while I water the flowers."

Tax Collections Show Increases in Four Activities

CHICAGO (AP) — Measured by federal excise tax collections, smoking, drinking, travel and entertainment all increased among Americans last year.

★ ★ ★

The Commerce Clearing House reports there was a distinct drop in revenues from taxes on new cars, television sets, air conditioners, furs and other durable goods.

★ ★ ★

Collections from alcohol taxes jumped $106 million, while tobacco taxes were up $63 million. There also were gains in retailers' taxes on jewelry and cosmetics.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 essentials of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and shrink so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief.

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain; (2) helps retone flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action; (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 43¢.

Did Crows Get Word From Stool Pigeon?

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP) — The Longview Park Board worked out a plan for controlling the noisy crows in the city park.

The plan was to place whole-kernel corn — soaked in alcohol — out in crow-infested areas. The crows were to become intoxicated and the park superintendent was to pick them up when they fell over in a stupor.

The board hasn't put the plan into operation, though. The crows vanished about the time the system was suggested.

Use Sandwich Steaks to Make a Shish-Kabob

Home economists suggest "steak on a stick" as an appealing way to prepare frozen sandwich steaks. To prepare, thaw the steak just enough so it will bend. Cover generously with barbecue sauce, then fold into quarters with the spread inside.

Thread the folded steak on to metal skewers, alternating with small tomatoes, pieces of green pepper or mushrooms. Broil 10 to 15 minutes, turning to brown evenly.

Cut With a Thimble

Company coming? Bake tiny biscuits. Split while hot, butter and insert small slices of boiled ham. A perfect appetizer choice—and so easy to make.

Parsley Pinwheels Are Good With Stew

Stew for dinner tonight? Enhance this savory dish by topping it with perky Parsley Pinwheels. Roll out biscuit dough to a rectangle.

Brush the dough with melted butter, sprinkle with chopped parsley, roll up like a jelly roll and cut into slices. Place the slices cut side up atop hot stew and bake until crusty brown.

Refrigerate Meat

All cooked meats must be refrigerated, the American Meat Institute advises. Store in a covered container, or tightly wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil. For maximum flavor, use cooked meat within two days.

Halibut Protected

So popular are halibut that these huge fish must be closely guarded to prevent fishermen from taking them all. To protect our halibut resources, the governments of Canada and the United States have set up regulations limiting the size of catches. Restriction is also placed on the fishing season in order to protect the precious eggs which are laid between December and March.

Deviled Ham Hamburgers

The special, spicy flavor of deviled ham adds distinctive taste to hamburgers. Be sure to include a little minced onion, too—and serve on toasted hamburger rolls with pickle relish and catsup.

Change Pan for Cake Increase Baking Time

If your cake recipe calls for two 8- or 9-inch layer pans and you want to make a loaf-type cake, Margaret Spader, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, suggests you use a 13-9 oblong pan and increase the baking time 5 to 10 minutes.

Cakes baked in heat resistant glass or darkened tin pans will have darker crust color than those baked in shiny aluminum pans. Miss Spader recommends lowering the oven temperature 25 degrees when using pans other than aluminum for baking cakes.

Weight-watching? Use "dry" instead of cream-style cottage cheese.

MSUO Coed Leads Busy, Exciting Life

Stretching out of a deep sleep at 7 a.m. Kathie Berry finds herself looking forward to another busy day as a junior coed at Michigan State University Oakland.

Kathie's daily life, like that of most MSUO girls, is a busy, exciting experience from the time she leaves home at 16395 Locherbie Road in Birmingham until her return. She is majoring in history.

Because she is her own seamstress, Kathie has a large selection of smart clothes for every occasion. For a special day or evening affair scheduled at the college, Kathie takes all the necessary apparel with her in the morning and dresses in the girls dorm.

Between social and educational activities, Kathie plays in the Pontiac City table tennis league, sings in the MSUO chorus and is an original member of the newly formed Theater Guild.

Her favorite companion is Gary Acker who is also a junior at the university, majoring to teach English.

IN THE GRILL — There's nothing like crowding around a corner table in the grill to "chew the fat" with MSUO friends, and Kathie is surrounded. From left are Rollie Bristol of 8590 Timden Drive, Utica; Tina Phillips, Ontario; Larry Weis, 335 Barden Road, Bloomfield Hills; Kathie; two students from Germany: Ingeborg Schultze and Hedda Streit, and Roger MacKean, 2655 West Long Lake Road, Bloomfield Township.

TO THINK, TO DREAM — That's what college libraries are for. Kathie is more thinker than dreamer as she tries to remember when the Assyrian Empire was founded. She plans to become a history teacher after her graduation from MSUO next year.

HAPPY ANTICIPATION — Kathie loves attending MSUO as a junior. Here, she pauses outside the Oakland Center (in background) before entering the library. The 20-year old Birmingham student is a member of the chapter class.

A FRIEND IN NEED — Those last-minute touches have to be done by someone else when it comes to final "back-combing." Judy O'Heron gets Kathie's last stray hair in place before a big event. Kathie says she takes advantage of her friends at Anibal Hall by dressing in the dorm rather than commuting from Birmingham for special events.

COOPERATIVE STUDY — Small groups congregate throughout lounge-equipped halls at MSUO. Here Ivor LeGros (center) shows Kathie how to make a correction in her history thesis as Bruce Morrison nods approvingly.

BIG NIGHT AHEAD — It's fun for a change to stay over night at MSUO with her friends at Anibal Hall. She is shown waiting for her escort.

TIME FOR HOME — Most nights Kathie gets in her car and heads for home. A high honor student, Kathie takes her education seriously.

PICKLE AND COTTAGE CHEESE SNACKS —Newer than the twist and twice as wild: Dilly Dairy Split and Hot Pickle Sundae. These are concocted from pickles and cottage cheese to provide low-calorie snacks for teen-agers.

Recipes Using Surplus Foods May Startle You

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There has been some interest shown by our readers in the recipes we used in our surplus foods workshop at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Since all of the foods used are good nutritious staples, we think many of you may like to have some of the recipes.

* * *

A sobering thought is that 9200 individuals in Oakland County receive these plentiful foods from the government. It is disturbing that the number is so large, but it is encouraging that some effort is being made to better their diets.

Last Friday one of the recipes tried was Peanut Butter soup. Honestly, it doesn't taste bad at all! One of the women said she knew her children would love it. Here is a recipe; the only substitution made was the use of nonfat dry milk for cream.

PEANUT BUTTER SOUP

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon flour
1 cup peanut butter
1 quart chicken stock
dash pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup reconstituted nonfat dry milk

Melt butter or margarine, add onion and simmer until tender, but not brown. Add flour and peanut butter and stir to a smooth paste. Add stock gradually, season and cook for 20 minutes in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Strain and add milk. Heat to boiling point, but do not boil. Serves 8.

Navy beans are an excellent source of protein. They are inexpensive and plentiful. Furthermore, they're an excellent food to use during Michigan week. Our state ranks first in their production.

NAVY BEAN SALAD

3 cups cooked navy beans
4 hard-cooked eggs
1 medium onion
1 large sour pickle, chopped
2 tablespoons vinegar
1½ teaspoons salt
2-3 cup salad dressing

Chop eggs, onion and pickle. Add beans and seasoning. Mix together and add salad dressing. Serves 8.

Whole wheat flour is a bugaboo to many cooks. At this time of year it should be stored in the refrigerator. We think you will like these quick rolls made with it.

BATTERWAY ROLLS

2½ cups warm water
2 packages dry yeast
3 cups unsifted whole wheat flour
3 cups sifted all purpose flour
4 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup soft shortening
4 teaspoons salt

Pour warm water into mixing bowl and add yeast. Let stand a few minutes. Stir to dissolve. Add about half the dry ingredients which have been mixed together, the shortening and sugar. Beat until smooth.

Beating in this recipe takes the place of kneading. Add rest of dry ingredients. Beat again until smooth.

* * *

Scrape down batter from sides of bowl. Cover with waxed paper. Let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk . . . about 30 minutes.

Stir down batter by beating 25-25 strokes. This is a stiff, somewhat sticky batter. Put into 24 large greased muffin cups or 3 greased 9x5x3-inch bread pans. Fill half full.

* * *

Let rise in warm place until edges of batter reach tops of pans . . . about 40 minutes. Bake at 375 degrees 40-50 minutes for bread. Bake rolls 15-20 minutes at 400 degrees. Remove from pans and cool on racks.

Always have all ingredients at room temperature.

Salad Plate Season Just About Here

Good texture and flavor contrast in this hearty salad.

Avocado Salad Plate

2 medium avocados
Lemon juice and salt
⅓ to ⅔ cup finely diced celery
⅓ to ⅔ cup finely diced cucumber
French dressing
1 can (3¾ ounces) brisling sardines
Salad greens and tomatoes

* * *

Cut avocados in half lengthwise; remove seed and strip off skin. Brush cut surfaces with lemon juice and sprinkle with salt.

Mix together the celery and cucumber with enough French dressing to moisten; spoon into avocado cavities. Arrange on salad greens with sliced tomatoes and sardines. Makes 4 servings.

Rutabaga Served Mashed Is OK

When rutabaga is in your market, use it occasionally in your menus. It's economical and a good source of vitamin C (ascorbic acid).

Mashed Rutabaga

1 large (about 2 pounds) rutabaga
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon butter

* * *

Pare rutabaga and cut in 1½ inch pieces. Cook rapidly uncovered, in just enough boiling water to cover until very tender—20 to 30 minutes. Drain well; mash until smooth with salt, nutmeg, sugar and butter. Reheat. Makes 4 servings.

Herb Blend for Fish

A spread — this one for fish — is herbed butter. Blend together 1 cup of butter, 2 teaspoons onion powder, 1 teaspoon each of lemon juice, crushed rosemary, crushed tarragon and ½ teaspoon oregano. Brush on broiling or baking fish fillets.

Make It Shrimp and Bean Salad

With a hearty salad as your main dish for a meatless meal all you'll need to complete the menu is a hot soup and a favorite dessert. "Bean-and-Shrimp Salad" will take care of appetites in tasty fashion, combining as it does shrimp, blue lake green beans, chopped egg and onion and seasonings.

The blue lake green beans — stringless pole beans grown in Washington and Oregon where ideal climatic conditions and plenty of water guarantee their superior quality — provide spring-like color and delicious flavor.

Bean-and-Shrimp Salad

1 can (1 lb.) cut blue lake green beans
1 small onion
2 hard-cooked eggs
½ cup French dressing
2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 can (4½ oz.) deveined shrimp
Salad greens

Drain beans. Chop onion and eggs. Lightly toss all ingredients except greens. Chill. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Some cooks like to add a halved clove of garlic to the water in which they have cooked green snap beans.

Teens Go for Exotic Food, Will Like Pickle Sundaes

Newer than the Twist, and twice as wild, are the latest ideas in low-calorie snacks for teen-agers. Dilly Dairy Split and Hot Pickle Sundae are the offerings of the National Pickle Packers Association to commemorate National Pickle Week, May 24 through June 2 this year.

Both snacks will appeal to young people who like imaginative dishes, and who have to watch their calorie intake. For it's an accepted fact that adolescents are frequently hungry and actually need food between meals. But it's also a fact that many of these young folks carry around unnecessary and unwanted pounds! And they need to exercise care and thought in the selection of between meal snacks.

Dilly Dairy Split is concocted from an extra large juicy dill pickle — only about 15 calories— and scoops of cottage cheese. The Hot Pickle Sundae is made with cottage cheese, too, and topped with sweet mixed pickles which have been heated with a bit of catchup.

Both are easy — and fun — to prepare. They are tasty and satisfying for that "little meal between meals." And, what's important, they're low in calories!

Dilly Dairy Split

½ cup cottage cheese
¼ teaspoon paprika
⅛ teaspoon chopped parsley
1 dill pickle (about 4"x1¾") cut in half lengthwise

Divide cottage cheese into thirds. Blend paprika with two-thirds of the cheese; parsley with remaining third.

Using small scoop, set parsley cheese ball in center of serving dish; paprika balls at ends. Arrange pickle halves at sides to resemble banana split. Makes 1 serving. Approximately 123 calories per serving.

* * *

Hot Pickle Sundae

½ cup cottage cheese
2 tablespoons chopped sweet mixed pickles
1 tablespoon catchup

* * *

Using small scoop, mound cottage cheese in sundae glass. Heat pickles with catchup; serve hot sauce over cottage cheese. Approximately 117 calories per serving. Makes 1 serving.

Makes A Good Breakfast

Prepare oatmeal, following package directions. Cover pan, remove from heat and allow to stand a few minutes. Peel and mash bananas, allowing about half a banana for each serving. Add mashed bananas and raisins to cooked oats. Serve with milk or cream, if desired.

Cabbies' Vote Asked by Searfarers Union

DETROIT (AP) — The Seafarers Union, claiming a majority pledged to it, petitioned the National Labor Relations Board yesterday for an election among the 1,600 unorganized drivers of the Checker Cab Co. of Detroit.

The Seafarers Union said that United Detroit Cab Workers Local 10, set up within its transportation services and allied workers division, had obtained membership pledges from a majority of the cab drivers.

* * *

Frank E. Kurty, chairman of Local 10, said in a statement that an affiliate of the Seafarers Union represents 6,000 Yellow and Checker Cab drivers in Chicago, having won over the Teamsters Union in an election there.

WSU Head Bars Talks by Pair Cited by House

DETROIT (AP) — President Clarence B. Hilberry of Wayne State University banned yesterday scheduled on-campus talks by two men cited for contempt of Congress by the House Committe on Un-American Activities.

* * *

The speakers were to have been Frank Wilkinson, of Los Angeles, and Carl Braden, of Louisville, Ky., both subpenaed by the House committee in 1958 and subsequently convicted of contempt.

Hilberry overruled Wayne's Student Forum Committee in barring the two from afternoon speeches on the campus. He said:

* * *

"The ultimate responsibility for making a sound judgment as to whether their contribution will be consistent with the functions of this university rests with me, and I am therefore constrained to deny the permission for the proposed meeting."

Official Fined $600 for 'Joke' on Plane

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Assemblyman Charles E. Chapel, convicted of falsely reporting explosives on an airliner, was fined $600 and sentenced to a two-month suspended jail term yesterday.

Superior Judge Raymond T. Coughlin pronounced the sentence.

The 57-year-old veteran Republican legislator from Palos Verdes Estates was convicted Monday after a five-day jury trial.

He told a stewardess he had a gun and nitroglycerine in his briefcase on a United Air Lines plane awaiting takeoff from Sacramento March 15.

He maintained his remark was a joke. Asst. Dist. Attorney Nell Tocker maintained the law made "no exception for jokes."

Recognized world speed for steam-powered trains is 127.06 miles per hour, a mark which was established on an Ohio track in 1905.

Pilot Takes X15 on Brake Test 'Roller Coaster'

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (AP) — X15 pilot Bob Rushworth took the world's longest and fastest "roller coaster" ride yesterday—a new skip-glide-skip maneuver designed to brake the speed of descending space craft.

After a 3,477 M.P.H. dash to an altitude of 97,000 feet, Rushworth nosed his rocket-powered plane over for a 100-mile glide back to this desert test center.

Twice he pulled back sharply on the control stick and then eased it forward, tracing a flight path like the spine-tingling ups and downs of a giant roller coaster.

The purpose: To see if winged craft, like the upcoming Dyna-soar space glider, can stand the stresses of such maneuvers as a way of slowing their speed in returning to earth.

The only major victory that American forces won on land during the War of 1812 was fought two weeks after the peace treaty was signed.

How do you measure 30 years?

Our friends tell us the summers today aren't what they used to be back when Osmun's first opened, around thirty years ago.

Maybe.

But we have a theory. We believe the summers of those days just seemed hotter. And small wonder. The heavy, suffocating clothing of the times weighed a man down . . . mentally and physically.

Seeing this, Osmun's was among the first to feature lightweight, good-looking men's clothing from the leaders in warm weather wear.

A perfect example:

The man in our photo has just slipped into a lightweight Stanley Blacker sport coat. Notice the easy fit through the shoulders. A Stanley Blacker trade mark. It can't go limp, either. The 55% Dacron-45% wool weave is made to stand up under the hottest sun. The whole thing weighs an amazing 6½ ounces . . . including buttons! And check the handsome checks, plaids and solid shades on the rack.

The slacks are of the same 6½-ounce frosty Dacron-wool blend. The crease stays knife-sharp. Handsome solid colorings make a perfect foil for the sport coat. Pleated or unpleated styles.

We've got your size at either Osmun's store. Why not come in soon? Looks like a long, hot summer.

Press Golf Ties Missing---So Far

By BILL CORNWELL

For the last 10 years some of the Oakland County area's finest high school golf squads have waged spirited battles for The Pontiac Press Prep Invitational championship.

There have been several closely - contested tournaments, yet never has a title playoff been required.

Ties have been nonexistent —thus far.

★ ★ ★

What would be the procedure if two or more teams ended their regulation 18-hole rounds in a deadlock next Monday when the Press Invitational makes its 11th annual run at Pontiac Country Club.

SUDDEN DEATH

The answer is a sudden-death playoff involving the low shooters of the contending schools.

An identical approach would be used to solve any struggle for individual medal honors.

There have been ties for the medal in the past, but not between or among boys from the same class.

Trophies are awarded to medalists in Class A and Class B-C and ties in such a situation as that do not have to be broken.

★ ★ ★

The last tie for medal laurels occurred in 1959 when Rochester's Larry Beaupre and Jon Shaw of West Bloomfield each fired 76. A playoff was not necessary since they represented different classes.

ALMOST NEEDED

A playoff for the team championship was almost required in 1960 when Walled Lake, favored Birmingham Seaholm and Bloomfield Hills fought tooth-and-nail for 1st place.

Jim Bucks six-foot putt on the 18th green brought Walled Lake the Press Invitational crown by a single stroke and averted a playoff.

That pressure - charged putt gave Walled Lake a 395 total compared to Seaholm's 396. Bloomfield Hills was a notch further removed at 397.

On paper, this still won't be the year for a championship playoff. But you never can tell.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Bloomfield Hills is a prohibitive favorite to repeat and some rival coaches think the Barons will win it by as many as 10 strokes.

NO CONTEST

They triumphed by a 16-stroke margin last year and three members of that team —Fred Ewald, Tom Fry and Chuck West—are on the firing line again. In addition, they have the depth needed in a five-man test.

Individually, however, there are enough talented golfers in the 20-team field to make a playoff for medal honors a distinct possibility.

St. Frederick's Charlie Dean, Mike Secoy of Waterford and Briane Keen of Walled Lake are just a few of the teen-age shooters capable of making a terrific bid for the medal.

Golf, like every other sport, is unpredictable—and this could be the year for another drama-packed finish. Who knows.

San Francisco Pitching Boon to Tommy Davis

Los Angeles Outfielder Clouts Two-Run Homer to Beat Giants, 5-1.

By The Associated Press

Tommy Davis can't break the habit. But then nobody's sending him for a cure.

★ ★ ★

The 23-year-old Los Angeles outfielder, who's gotten into the habit of gorging himself on San Francisco pitching, belted a decisive two-run homer against the Giants for the second game in succession as the third-place Dodgers beat the National League leaders 5-1 Tuesday night.

Davis hit a two-run shot for a 3-0 lead Monday night, driving in the runs that proved to be all the Dodgers needed in an 8-1 triumph. Tuesday night he tagged a two-run blast in the fourth inning that snapped a 1-1 tie and sent the Dodgers out front to stay.

GIANT KILLER

Davis now has eight hits in 16 at-bats against San Francisco this year—a neat .500 average—and 11 runs batted in for the four games with the Giants.

The defeat, fifth in seven games for the Giants, cut their edge over the Dodgers and second-place St. Louis to 2½ games. The Cardinals remained percentage points ahead of Los Angeles, extending their winning streak to six games by whipping Philadelphia 6-2 behind Bob Gibson's four-hitter.

Fourth-place Cincinnati nipped Milwaukee 3-2 in 11 innings, Chicago's Cubs defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 and Houston beat the New York Mets 3-2 in other games.

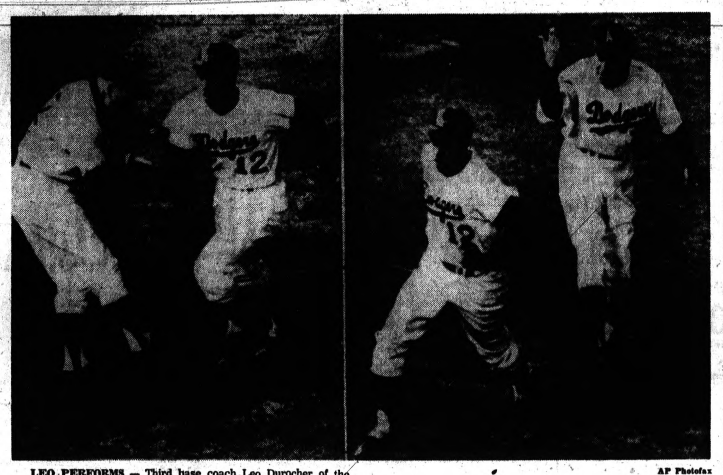

Stan Williams, who allowed only three hits for eight innings, got credit for the victory with relief help from Larry Sherry after the first two Giants singled in the ninth.

Gibson had a two-hitter going until the ninth when Tony Taylor singled and Johnny Callison homered, snapping a string of 22 scoreless innings by the Cardinals' right-hander. Three errors by the Phils contributed to their fourth straight loss.

WINNING RUNS

The Reds came up with two in the 11th as Gordy Coleman, who had homered in the second, led off with a single. A walk and singles by Don Blasingame and Leo Cardenas drove in the runs that won for Jim O'Toole. The Braves scored once in their half on Roy McMillan's single, O'Toole left for a pinch hitter after hurling 10 innings, and Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry finished.

Don Cardwell took care of the pitching for the Cubs with an eight-hitter while George Altman drove in all the runs with a two-run homer in the fourth and a run-producing single in the fifth. Cardwell didn't walk a man, retiring 13 Pirates in order at one stretch.

LEO PERFORMS — Third base coach Leo Durocher of the Los Angeles Dodgers has a condescending gesture and a little jig of delight as Tommy Davis rounds third on his tie-breaking two-run homer against San Francisco last night. It was Davis' 10th homer of the year. Los Angeles won, 5-1.

Northville 9, Kimball Hold Favorite Roles

Drawings for Brackets to Be Held Friday at Elks Temple

Six teams have been named to join Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern in the Oakland County Memorial Day Invitational Baseball Tournament next week.

★ ★ ★

The drawings for the two brackets will be held Friday evening when the coaches gather for a dinner at the Elks Temple in Pontiac, and the first game at Jaycee Park will get underway Memorial Day, Wednesday May 30th at 1:00 p.m.

Joining the host schools and taking the role of favorites will be Northville, Wayne-Oakland League champions, and Royal Oak Kimball, one of the top teams in the Eastern Michigan League.

Northville compiled a 11-1 mark in the W-O this season with two games remaining. The EML title has not been decided but Kimball and Ferndale are making a race out of it.

KETTERING INVITED

Waterford Kettering with a 7-1 mark in the Tri-County League is currently in second place. Romeo, the probable champion is not an Oakland County school.

★ ★ ★

Farmington, champion of the Inter-Lakes Conference has not accepted an invitation and thus Southfield, the league runnerup will enter the field.

Bloomfield Hills was extended an invitation along with Our Lady of Sorrows of Farmington. The Hills team has been currently in second place in the Wayne Oakland League, but the Barons still have one game to be played and either Milford or Holly could take the runnerup spot.

Our Lady, which will join the Suburban Catholic League next season, has a 6-2 mark with two games to be played. The SCL will be engaged in playoffs at the same time of the tournament which hampered selection from the league.

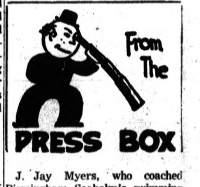

★ ★ ★

The tournament is a single game elimination tournament, with games scheduled May 31 and June 1st during the evening so as not to interfere with classes. The evening games will be played at 5:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. at Jaycee.

TICKETS

Tickets for the tournament are available in advance with admissions at 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students. An All-tournament ticket good for eight games can be purchased for $2.00.

The baseball coach and another faculty representative of each of the schools in the tournament are requested to be at the Elks, Friday at 7:00 p.m. for the dinner and drawing of opponents.

J. Jay Myers, who coached Birmingham Seaholm's swimming teams to 11 Eastern Michigan League championships in 12 years, has been named manager and swimming coach at the Bloomfield Open Hunt pool.

★ ★ ★

Football captain Ed Ryan and national gymnastic champion Steve Johnson were honored yesterday by Michigan State for combined scholarship and athletic ability.

★ ★

Robert L. Osborne, citing a loss of $619,288 last year by the Oakland Raiders, sold his share of the American Football League team yesterday.

Tiger Pitching Staff Is Down to 'Big Two'

BALTIMORE (UPI) It's still the same old story as far as the Detroit Tigers' pitching staff is concerned.

The big three once again looks like a big two and it might stay that way.

Manager Bob Scheffing has called on Don Mossi and Jim Bunning to handle the pitching chores against the Baltimore Orioles in a road jaunt that resumes here tonight and it could be that the big gun of last year's trio, Frank Lary, is out for another spell.

Lary was battered Sunday when he went two innings against Cleveland in his last outing. After the game he said it hurt him when he threw.

★ ★ ★

D-Day for the 23-game winner of last year will be Friday, when the Tigers tangle with the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium. If Lary cannot make that game, then the Tigers will know that his shoulder trouble is serious.

'NO PITCHING'

Scheffing, an apparent master of understatement, said in Detroit yesterday, "What we need is some pitching."

If the mound corps should shape up, the outlook would be brightened for the Tigers.

Their potent bats have come alive and they have scored 36 runs in their last four games, winning three.

Al Kaline has been beyond reproach, leading the team in everything, and Billy Bruton had a five-for-five night in Chicago Monday to brighten the scene.

★ ★ ★

Another bright spot in the batting order was Chico Fernandez, who has already topped his home run mark of last year. Fernandez slugged his fourth round-tripper Monday, one more than he hit all last season.

★ ★ ★

And figure that Rocky Colavito is finally showing signs of life with four home runs — well, things are looking up.

'M' Tops, MSU 2nd in Big 10 Sports Ability

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan produced the best all-around athletic performance in the Big Ten during the past year with Michigan State second, an MSU sports analyist reports.

★ ★ ★

Simple addition of team records in all 13 sports in which conference championships are decided gave both 92 points—this on 10 points for first, nine for second, and so on.

A quality point system—arrived at by dividing the number of sports participated in by the number of points accumulated —put Michigan first with 8.36 and MSU second with 7.67.

The Wolverines picked up points by winning four championships, in gymnastics, hockey, outdoor track and tennis. MSU didn't win a single team title but had four seconds, four thirds and second division finishes in only two sports.

THE PALMER METHOD

CONCENTRATE ON THE LEFT-HAND GRIP

Once the left hand grip is taken properly, it's simple to get the right hand onto the club correctly. So take more time with the left.

The shaft should cross the left palm diagonally from the bottom (or outer) joint of the forefinger to just below the little finger.

This will produce a so-called "strong" left hand grip, in which the "V" formed by the forefinger and thumb points to the right shoulder.

Fold your left hand over the club and see that the thumb rests slightly to the right-top part of the shaft.

12 Innings Needed to Beat Angels, 2-1

4 Yank Hurlers Give One Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a night to be remembered . . . the night of May 22 when the New York Yankees needed 12 innings and nearly three hours to subdue the Los Angeles Angels 2-1.

★ ★ ★

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk will remember it because he watched four of his pitchers hurl one-hit ball through 12 innings and amass seven hits and 10 walks and yet come within a whisker of losing the game. The only hit by the Los Angeles was a single by Bob Rodgers with one out in the ninth off reliever Jim Coates.

"Never have I seen this club have so many chances and score so few runs," he moaned. "For a while I thought we'd lose the game without the other guys getting a hit."

Whitey Ford, the Yankee starter will never forget it because he had a potential no-hitter go up in smoke when a pain in the back forced his retirement after he had hurled seven hitless innings.

"I won't lose any sleep over it," he said later. "Naturally, I would have liked to get the no-hitter but I never had my heart set on getting one. I lost two others, both with two out in the eighth inning, and they didn't bother me."

WALKING MAN

Roger Maris, the Yankee home run king, walked five times, the last four passes being intentional.

Elston Howard, the Yankee catcher drove in the two Yankee runs, both via sacrifice flies. The last one was hit with one out and the bases full in the 12th inning. Leroy Thomas caught the sacrifice drive practically on the right field line, whirled and made a fine throw to the plate, a fraction of a second too late to catch the sliding Joe Pepitone.

It marked the 10th game the Angels had played at Yankee Stadium, and the Angels have yet to show a single victory.

★ ★ ★

By winning the Yanks took over first by 13 percentage points over the Minnesota Twins, who outlasted Washington 6-5. Baltimore, with pitcher Milt Pappas and slugger Jim Gentile supplying the power, beat Cleveland 4-1 and dropped the Indians from first to third, ½ game off the pace. Kansas City pinned the eighth straight loss on Boston, 5-1 in the only other AL game scheduled.

★ ★ ★

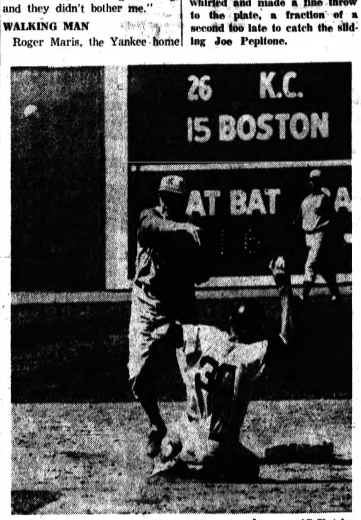

The Twins packed their six runs into the second and third innings, then had to stand off the Senators down to the wire. Minnesota starter Georges Maranda, who doubled twice and drove in the deciding run, had to be bailed out by Lee Stange in the fifth and Dick Stigman was needed to quell another uprising in the seventh. Ray Moore stymied the final Washington rally in the eighth and was credited with the victory, his third in four decisions.

ONE SWING

Pappas, now 5-2, provided all the margin the Orioles needed when he homered with one aboard in the fifth inning against Cleveland starter Jim Perry and Gentile connected for a pair, giving him 12 for the year and a tie for the major league lead. Pappas has three hits this season—all homers.

Cleveland went without a homer for the first time in 10 games, managing only five hits.

Dave Wickersham was the winner over the Red Sox in his first big league start with able support from Kansas City rookies Diego Segui, Manny Jimenez, George Alusik and Jose Azue. Wickersham, a relief specialist up to now, gave up five hits and no walks in eight innings.

DOUBLE PLAY — Bob Tillman of the Boston Red Sox is forced at second starting a double play that cut down Carroll Hardy at first. Kansas City second baseman Jerry Lumpe makes the throw to first after shortstop Dick Howser had grabbed Hardy's grounder. The Athletics won, 5-1.

D'Amato Raps Motor City Promoters

Detroit 'Out' for Heavyweight Bout

DETROIT (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson and Sonny Liston presumably will fight for the title this fall but it apparently won't be in Detroit.

A lot of talk the past couple of weeks over holding the fight in the Motor City turned out to be just that . . . talk.

Just where the fight — if held —will be staged is another question. Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager who has been lukewarm about the fight anyway, turned thumbs down on Detroit and spoke of other cities as possibilities.

A "Detroit is out" declaration came from D'Amato yesterday after Michigan state boxing commissioner Dave Gudelsky issued an ultimatum for a specific proposal within 48 hours.

★ ★ ★

On the telephone from New York to Gudelsky at Muskegon, D'Amato said Detroit promoters Leon Saddler and Elisha Gray had failed to make good on a promised $750,000 cash guarantee.

NOT AVAILABLE

Saddler and Gray, who promote small club fights in Detroit, said earlier they expected to get Tiger Stadium, home of the Detroit Tigers baseball team, for the fight in September.

Saddler and Gray were not available for comment on D'Amato's statement.

Up to his talk with D'Amato yesterday, Gudelsky said he had had no contact with any of the principals trying to stage the Patterson-Liston bout.

D'Amato, who talked to the press from New York, was quoted as saying Chicago again was in consideration as a site along with Boston, Houston and Las Vegas, Nev.

Earlier he had dropped Chicago after signs that city had the bout for sure following New York's turndown. The New York boxing commission refused to grant Liston a license because of the fighter's past police record.

In the course of all the talking there never had been a confirmation from the Detroit Tiger ball club that Tiger Stadium would be the site.

Gudelsky said D'Amato told him he could not accept 'Saddler and Gray as co-promoters.

The Michigan commissioner said he invited D'Amato to name an "acceptable" promoter but that he also insisted to Patterson's manager that the fight would have to have a Michigan co-promoter.

Gudelsky earlier had indicated annoyance with the proceedings here.

"All we've had is a lot of talk from these people and no action," he said. "They're acting like a bunch of kids. This whole thing is beginning to look like a stunt."

Gudelsky made the comment after Patterson and D'Amato failed to show up for an announced appearance at a Saddler-Gray fight card Monday night.

Predicts Record NFL Attendance During Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Football League, riding high after its court victory over the American football league in a monopoly suit, appears to be heading toward another boom year. Advance ticket sales indicate a record attendance of 4 million fans.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said today that advance sales were up 10 per cent and might total over 400,000 season tickets. The league is holding its annual spring meetings here.

If the NFL hits 400,000, it would mean that 2,935,000 tickets would have been sold before the first game, Sept. 16. That total represents about 75 per cent of last year's paid attendance when a record of 3,986,159 was set.

Bloomfield Hills, Lake Orion Win League Track Championships

Bloomfield Hills and Lake Orion posted second straight conference track championships yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The Barons ran away with the Wayne-Oakland meet at Milford while the Dragons were relying on strength in the dashes to cop the Oakland A championship.

Bloomfield Hills scored 82 points, Milford 51, Clarenceville 36, Northville 24, Holly 5, West Bloomfield 6 and Clarkston 1. Brighton did not enter a team.

In the Oakland A it was Lake Orion 48¼, Madison 33¼, Troy 30, Clawson 27, Fitzgerald 22½, Avondale 18 and Oak Park 16.

Art Tregenza led the Barons with 18 points on firsts in both hurdles and the broad jump and a third in the high jump.

RECORDS BROKEN

Three league records were broken.

Bloomfield's 880 relay team of John Schweppe, Dave Noyes, Fritz Stressen-Reuter and Roger Stewart was clocked in a record 1: 33.6. Noyes won his heat of the 440 in 53 seconds and Milford's Ted Nelson coasted to a 4: 40 mile victory, both records.

Schweppe won both dashes for the Barons who garnered 10 of the 13 first places.

Lake Orion took the first three places in the 100 and placed three runners in the 220 to help its total.

Roger Qualman of Troy won both hurdles and the broad jump, but the best the Colts could do was finish third.

Lake Orion's sprint relay team of Dave Welch, Tony Quinlan, Don Harvey and Frank Ochoa was timed in a record 1:36.2.

Waterford Nine Triumphs Grosse Point Whips PCH, Cranes

Pontiac Central's thinclads had one of their "off days" yesterday.

Holt Grosse Pointe made a shambles of the triangular between three regional winners. The Blue Devils scored 69 points, PCH 44 and Cranbrook 24.

"It was a very poor performance on our part," said PCH coach Dean Wilson. "Perhaps it was a letdown from the regional meet."

Grosse Pointe won nine first places and tied for another in posting the the easy victory. Cranbrook tied for a first.

PCH had only two outright winners.

★ ★ ★

Willie McDaniel won the 180 low hurdles in 20.9. He had finished a poor fourth behind teammate Tim Thompson in the high sticks.

Ed Williams captured the broad jump with a leap of 20-6½. John Stewart tied a Blue Devil in the pole vault at 11-6 and Gerry Henry tied Cranbrook's Essel Bailey in the high jump at 5-10.

Elick Shorter gained the only second place for the Chiefs. He was runnerup in the shot put. Bob Hicks was second for Cranbrook in both dashes.

★ ★ ★

In baseball yesterday, Waterford downed Southfield 3-2. Bob Readler scattered eight hits for the winners. Paul Moran's homer in the sixth won it for Waterford now 3-5 in the Inter-Lakes League.

Moran and Stan Grant each had two of the Skippers six hits.

'500' Walls Painted to Hide Crash Spots

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway management put a coat of white paint on the battered concrete retaining walls early this spring.

★ ★ ★

The idea was partly to outline the curves better and partly to stop unnerving drivers with the big gouges left by past crashes.

At racing speed, the old wreck marks couldn't be seen. The track edge stood out better, especially in late afternoon when grandstand shadows fall on the main straightaway and the southwest turn.

But there was an unexpected development when practice started four weeks ago for the 500-Mile Memorial Day race. Whenever somebody banged into the wall, tires left a big black smudge more startling than scars on the unpainted concrete.

The 33 starters and the crowd won't see the new marks when the 46th 500 starts next Wednesday. They have been covered with another coat of paint.

Pontiac Northern surprised Waterford Kettering in a golf match at Municipal course yesterday, 242-249, led by medalist Ed Wasik with a 40.

In a tennis match at Flint, Pontiac Central was nipped by Flint Southwestern, 4-3.

Northern scores showed Ron McDonnell with 46, Mike Moczarski with 48, John Runyan with 52 and Dennis Burwell, 56. Kettering's Stranahan had 44 and Methner 46.

PCH won both doubles and a singles match by Steve Wyman. The deciding match had Dale Dnarews lose in three-sets to Chip Saltman of Southwestern. Wyman won 6-2 and 6-4 and Andrews lost 4-6, 8-6 and 3-6.

Ford Eyes 3rd Straight '500' Golf Title at Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — If Doug Ford could play every course like he plays the Speedway course, Arnold Palmer would not be pro golf's leading money winner.

Ford Thursday begins a quest for his third successive triumph in the $50,000 Speedway golf tourney with a record of never shooting poorer than a 69 round. Tuesday he cooked up a 5-under-par practice 66.

In harvesting $18,000 for his two previous conquests in this fairways prelude to the big Memorial Day auto race, Ford has collected approximately $32.50 per stroke in eight rounds for which he stands 25 under par. He has averaged a scorching 67.9 per rounds.

RATED CHANCE

Chances are good Ford can continue his mastery of this snug par 71 course whose 6,605 yards wind in and out of the famed 2½-mile Speedway racing strip.

The main reason is that hot-shooting Palmer has taken a brief respite from the circuit and will be missing from the field of 144 pros and 11 amateurs who begin the 72-hole medal test.

The pros tuned up today in a $5,000 celebrity pro-am tourney in which the main celebrity well may be Rodger Ward, the 500 driving champion in 1959, runner-up in 1960 and third-place finisher in 1961.

No mean golfer is Ward, who Monday won the first "International Race Drivers Golf Champion," on the Speedway course with a 43-39—82.

OTHERS READY

With Palmer out, Ford's chief challengers for the $9,000 top money in the Speedway meet may be South African Gary Player, National PGA champ Jerry Berber, Mason Rudolph, Johnny Pott, Ken Venturi, and Billy Casper, all of whom hive averaged under 70 for eight previous Speedway rounds.

Ford won last year the hard way—beating Palmer in a sudden death playoff.

★ ★ ★

Both finished with 273's, Palmer holing a 50-foot eagle putt on the final regulation hole for a last round 66. Ford's birdie on the 74th hole gave him top money and relegated Palmer to runner-up swag of $4,600.

North Hill Lanes is open for business in Rochester which certainly must bring great satisfaction to the brothers Koprince.

Lou and Jay virtually were put through the wringer while trying to decide what to do and where to go in bowling after it became impossible to continue on at Motor Inn.

They purchased land for a future keg house in the Pontiac Northern area only to learn that place was to be built nearby. That changed the plan and they started looking around. It appeared they may start something in Bloomfield Township but that fell through. Finally the Rocheter idea came along and things have been moving rapidly ever since.

A 10-day open house period is currently at the midway point. Free games and prizes and special keg fees are among the features.

The North Hill staff consists of Lou, Jay, Les Williams and Paul Karas.

Speaking of elections, Arnold Osta is serving as head man of the traveling league now under way at four houses. Charles Boghosian is vice-president and Larry Sevigny secretary-treasurer.

Lakewood Lanes has another tournament going. Earl Gore and B. Segorski topped 50 teams starting UAW 594 doubles play rolling 187 pins over average. Earl Brown had 546 and Dottie Senter 513 for high series. A 224 for John Rikey and Eleanor Baxter's 196 were high games. Gene Fate had a 176 triplicate and C. Couch three 146s. There is another weekend to go with entries open until final squad starts.

9-and 10-Letter Days Gone at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—In the good old days before eligibility rules were taken so seriously, a Michigan State athlete could win up to six letters in basketball or 10 altogether.

Lyman F. Frimodig, retired MSU athletic business manager, has done painstaking research on sports letter winners at Michigan State.

Frimodig traced them as far back as 1886 when the first letters were awarded. Up until June 30, 1961, he discovered, letters have been awarded in 15 sports to 2,887 Spartans.

It was a labor of love for Frimodig, only 10-letter man in Michigan State history. He won four each in baseball and basketball from 1914 through 1917 and two in football in 1915 and 1916.

Freshmen could compete as equals then and win a letter.

Winners of nine letters were fairly common. Wilson Millar, a 1902 graduate, won three each in baseball and track, two in basketball and one in football.

FIRST AWARDS

Michigan State's first great athlete, Frimodig found, was Leander Burnett, an 1892 graduate and a full-blooded Indian. Burnett won five letters in track and four in baseball.

There's no telling how many letters the Indian athlete could have collected if the Spartans had played football in those days. But football didn't come on the MSU scene until 1896.

Burnett won 10 first places in MIAA track meets two years and nine firsts another to take diamond medals in competition against a group of other colleges.

The six-letter winner in basketball was Claude Hannish, who played for the team in 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911.

In the early days of the then agricultural college it was not unusual for farm youths to enroll for one term only a year until they graduated. This was usually the winter term as the rest of the year was occupied by farm chores.

Arthur L. Brown of Ann Arbor, retired State Highway Department engineer, had an unusual letter history. He won baseball letters in 1915 and 1916 and a football letter in 1916. After time out for World War I, Brown lettered in baseball again in 1921 and 1922 and in basketball in 1922.

An early brother act had the letter-collecting knack. Ed McKenna, a 1906 graduate, won three each in football and track and one in baseball. His younger brother, Parnell McKenna, a 1910 graduate, earned five basketball letters and four in football.

★ ★ ★

The list also discloses some noted father and son combinations. Fred Stone, a 1912 graduate, was a football captain. Fred Stone Jr., graduated in 1947, was with the football team.

Financial Mysteries

Paret's Missing Money Puzzles Ring Probers

NEW YORK (AP)—An air of mystery hung over the committee room today as the joint legislative probe into the death of Benny (Kid) Paret entered its third and final session.

★ ★ ★

Two questions are foremost in the minds of the investigators:

1. Where are the income tax records of Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro?

2. What happened to $35,000 Paret was alleged to have been carrying when he left Las Vegas last year after a fight with Gene Fullmer?

CHECK STORY

"We must have those tax records to show us whether Alfaro is indeed the benevolent patron of fighters who claims he never made any money out of boxers until Paret became champion," said committee chairman Hayward Plumadore.

Observed Joseph F. Soviero, committee counsel:

"We want to know what happened to the $260,000 Paret earned between 1958 and 1962."

Alfaro testified Tuesday that he understood Paret carried $35,000 in cash when he headed for Miami after the Fullmer fight.

"Benny didn't want to put the money in the bank and so I told him to hide it behind the end of a drawer in his wardrobe," Alfaro testified. "Whether he did or not, I don't know."

NO RECORDS?

Paret died on April 2 of injuries he sustained in a middleweight championship bout with Emile Griffith in Madison Square Garden. The committee is holding the hearings to determine if boxing as a sport should be outlawed in New York State.

Alfaro had been asked to bring his tax records with him. When he appeared empty-handed, he was ordered to produce the records at an executive committee meeting on June 13.

He said he had phoned his accountant numerous times and left messages but that he hadn't heard from him.

Clippers Win 2nd Straight

The R. T. Clippers, a new entry in the Class A City Baseball League this season, won't be push-overs for the more established clubs.

This has become evident early in the 1962 campaign.

The Clippers won their 2nd decision in as many nights Tuesday, making good use of seven hits for a 6-1 triumph over CIO Local 594 at Jaycee Park.

Jim Comparoni received credit for the Clipper win, although he needed relief help from Gene Cox in the top of the 6th inning. Bill McGuire was the starting and losing hurler for the CIO.

★ ★ ★

Comparoni and Cox combined to limit the Union team to four safeties. Comparoni's wild pitch in the 3rd stanza enabled Clay Williams to score from 3rd with the CIO's lone run.

The Clippers tallied twice in each of the 1st, 4th and 5th innings. Chuck Honchell collected two of the Clipper safeties.

Talbott Lumber faces Huron-Airway at 7:45 p.m. in tonight's Class A contest on the Jaycee diamond.

Defending champion Sno-Bol and Hi-Way Collision triumphed in American division City League softball games last night at Northside Park.

★ ★ ★

Roger Reynolds pitched a three-hitter and the Collision squad erupted for five runs in the bottom of the 4th frame to clinch a 7-2 verdict over Fisher Body Local 596.

Sno-Bol posted its 3rd straight victory, a 15-2 rout of Huron Bowl in a game stopped by the 10-run rule after three innings.

Floyd Hicks buried five-hit ball and Sno-Bol launched a 10-hit assault against two Huron twirlers, with Jackie Robinson and Jerry Hesse each getting a pair.

Loses No-Hitter in Waterfrod Softball Play

The first no-hitter in two years in Waterford Class B softball was a losing effort last night.

Jerry Thomas of O'Neil Realty hurled the masterpiece but Spencer Floors, left the field with a 2-0 victory.

Ed Miller allowed only one hit as Stroh's topped Sarko Investment 7-2 in the other "B" game.

★ ★ ★

Spencer got both its runs in the first inning on a walk, two errors, a sacrifice and a wild pitch, Jack Nelson spun a five-hitter to gain the win. Spencer is on top the league with a 4-0 mark.

A third inning double by Jim Pittman spoiled Miller's bid for a no-hitter. The losers made eight errors.

Inside-Park Homer Edges Titans, 3-2

DETROIT (AP) — Bowling Green centerfielder Glenn Honeycutt sliced an inside-the-park home run yesterday to hand University of Detroit its second defeat in 23 starts this season, 3-2.

U of D left 13 men on base. Tomorrow, Detroit will meet Michigan State, the only other baseball team to beat U of D this season. The MSU game is in Lansing.

In National loop action at Beaudette, the 10-run rule was invoked after six innings as 300 Lounge trounced Harry's Hideaway, 12-1, and CIO Local 653 gained a forfeit victory over St. Joseph Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Lounge team made nine hits with Bob Weiss and Ted Wharry each socking a home run to pace the attack. Bill Hunter pitched a six-hitter.

Riley and Creed Appear Destined for Golf Finals

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A talkative Texan and a taciturn Louisianan were casting ominous shadows over the field today as the Southern Women's Amateur Golf tournament entered the quarter-final round.

★ ★ ★

Anything, as they say, can happen in match play. But already it's clear that perky Polly Riley of Fort Worth and quiet Clifford Ann Creed of Alexandria, La., will be hard to stop short of Saturday's finals.

The handwriting started going up on the wall in yesterday's first round, when both Miss Riley and Miss Creed won with ease. Yet it wasn't their mastery of their opponents that started people shaking their heads. It was their mastery of the tough James River course.

U-D Netters Triumph

DETROIT (AP) — University of Detroit's tennis team defeated Wayne State here yesterday, 6-3.

Bob Kroner and B. J. Tilly, both singles winners for U of D., teamed up to win a doubles match. The loss was Wayne State's third in six meetings.

Record Pike Entered in Press Derby

By DON VOGEL

An "accidental" catch last Saturday has been turned into the heaviest fish entered in the 28-year history of The Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby.

★ ★ ★

Rick Coxen, 15, of 42505 Cornwall St., Berkley, went after panfish at Oxbow Lake using a flyrod and worms. he returned with a 20-pound 5-ounce northern pike that stretched 45 inches.

★ ★ ★

The fish leads the pike division of the contest.

Almost lost in the shadows of young Coxen's fine fish is a 1 pound 2-ounce bluegill that gained first place in that division.

It was caught last Wednesday at Loon Lake by James Conahan of 125 N. Perry St. and replaces Joe Barnard's by one ounce.

★ ★ ★

There are no entries in the rainbow class and the black bass division of the contest doesn't open until June 1.

USED OAR

Rick was fishing just off the dropoff with his cousin, Richard Dropping, 14, of Berkley. After battling the pike for several minutes, Rick managed to get it close enough to the boat so that his cousin could stun it with an oar.

Richard rowed the boat to shore where the boys beached the junker.

Oxbow has a reputation for producing big pike. Last year's second heaviest northern in the contest was taken from this lake.

The previous record was held by a 15-pound 14½-ounce northern caught at Cemetery Lake by Jack Wilds of Clarkston in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Several pike over 20 pounds have been taken in the county but all have been speared during the winter.

Conahan only took six fish the day he nailed the top bluegill, but all "were good ones."

"I was fishing in shallow water with a popper," he said. "I caught four other bluegills slightly smaller than the big one and I also took a crappie that weighed a pound and a half."

★ ★ ★

There is only one prize in each division of the contest — for the heaviest. Pike and bass winners will each receive $50 savings bonds and $25 bonds will be awarded to the bluegill and rainbow winners.

★ ★ ★

Only Oakland County residents are eligible, and the fish must be caught in Oakland waters. Fish taken from private and commercial waters are not eligible.

The contest closes at noon Sept. 4.

IN CLOSE

Bluegills are on the spawning beds and good catches are being made on several area lakes with flies and poppers. Perch are also in shallow.

Rainbows have moved to deeper water.

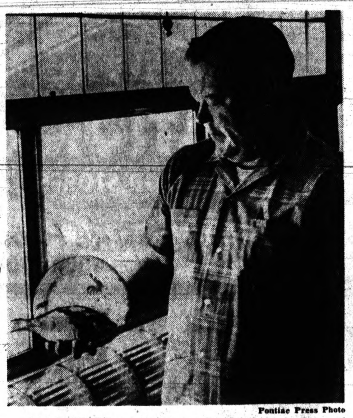

Art Twork, who operates a boat livery at Pine Lake, reports a typical fishing weekend.

"Good catches of bluegills, perch and crappies were taken here Saturday," he said. "Some bass up to three pounds were caught, too."

The season on black bass doesn't open until June 1.

"Word must have spread," said Twork, "because a lot of fishermen were on the lake Sunday. The fishing was poor."

And so it goes.

TOP BLUEGILL — Already on the platter is this 1-pound 2-ounce bluegill caught a week ago today at Loon Lake by James Conahan of 125 N. Perry St. The 11-inch fish leads the bluegill division in The Press Derby. Conahan caught it in shallow water on a popping bug.

MAY BE RECORD — Mrs. Wayne Donaldson of Spokane, Wash., holds the 25-pound 13-ounce Kamloops trout she caught last weekend at Lake Pend Oreille in Idaho. It may be a world spinning record on four-pound test line. She holds the record for Dolly Vardon trout on the same test line — a 17-pounder taken last year.

Conservation Scoreboard Shows Plenty of Zeroes

LANSING (AP)—Conservation bills by the dozen came into the legislature this year but, as usual, lawmakers chopped most of them down in swift order.

A few important measures, all carrying appropriations, are still alive. But with the legislature looking hard for ways to save—not spend—more money, chances for passage are slim.

Among the spending measures are a pair to set up youth conservation camps for juvenile delinquents, modeled after the old CCC camps. Legislative leaders of both parties looked kindly on the proposals, but with the money shortage what it is, they'll almost certainly go down the drain this year.

★ ★ ★

The Senate has yet to decide what to do with a House-approved bill to set up a state committee to establish boating and other regulations on lakes where local authorities think they are needed. The same bill would raise boating registration fees to $3 a year and furnish more money for local enforcement.

There's still a chance, although a slight one, that the legislature will abolish the fox bounty, for a year at least. A bill to do away with the bounty died in the House, but supporters still hope they can knock it out with a rider to the Conservation Department's appropriation bill specifically prohibiting bounty payments. That could save the department upward of $175,000 a year.

The most significant change accomplished will open the Upper Peninsula deer season on the Saturday preceding Nov. 15 in all but the peninsula's three eastern counties. That is, unless Nov. 15 falls on a Saturday.

The Nov. 15-30 season will continue through the rest of the state. State conservation officials were disappointed by the almost total lack of support for a bill to ease the Conservation Department's money troubles by raising the resident fishing license fee from $2 to $3.

The same proposal, defeated in earlier sessions, would have lifted the free fishing rule for wives of licensed fishermen and extended licensing to great lakes anglers.

A group of measures dealing with water rights and resources also fell by the wayside although some are technically still alive.

One would have set up a commission to study water resources and rights; another would have regulated construction of marinas on inland waters and a third would have regulated construction of piers and wharves. Still another would have controlled filling and dredging on inland waters.

★ ★ ★

Some of the other significant legislation which failed to go anywhere would have regulated bill boards, outlawed littering of public land, extended the ruffed grouse seasons, opened southernmost counties to quail hunting, permitted free fishing for residents over 65, removed the seven-inch minimum size limit on trout and required that at least two state conservation commissioners be from north of the Holland-Port Huron line.

Mushroom Hunters Take to Fields

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Springtime is morel time in Michigan.

And May is the month when thousands of enthusiasts take to the woods in search of the tasty, crinkly-capped mushrooms prized for their excellent flavor.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, morel gathering is growing into a major spring tourist attraction, complete with festivals and organized, guided hunts. The resulting publicity has fostered a belief that morels are to be found only in those areas.

Actually, they occur throughout the state. There's good morel picking right in the Detroit metropolitan area — if you know where to look, but that's the hard part.

Morels, like all mushrooms, are the fruits of specialized plants that grow beneath the ground. They don't occur just anywhere. Soil, vegetation, moisture, sunlight and temperature conditions have to be just right.

And, unlike some of the other wild edible mushrooms, morels seldom grow in large clusters or dense patches. Occasionally it's possible to pick half a bushel or more from one small spot, but usually it requires considerable walking to gather enough for a meal, even in good morel territory.

Scattered stands of hardwoods, particularly aspen, are good bets for morel hunting. So are old meadows and orchards. Hillsides surrounding woodland pools and potholes sometimes sprout good crops. They may even grow on lawns and cultivated garden plots.

BEST OF ALL

Gourmets consider morels among the choicest of all mushrooms. Most diners like them best fried in butter or broiled and served with steak. The flavor is delicate and can easily be killed with seasonings.

Morels grow on stalks and are roughly conical in shape, with a wrinkled, deeply pitted skin. They come in colors ranging from dirty white to almost black and in varying sizes.

There are three common varieties of morels in Michigan. The earliest — which sometimes shows up in late April if weather conditions are right — is gray-brown in color and has a relatively small cap which is detached from the stem at the bottom like a semi-open umbrella.

This early morel needs to be treated with some caution. It produces an unpleasant reaction upon some who eat it. Actually, it's wise to try any new mushroom in small quantities. Even commercially grown varieties have killed persons who happened to be violently allergic to them.

Next of the morels to appear in Michigan is the so-called black morel, which is very dark in color, usually quite small and firmly attached to the stem at the bottom of the cap.

★ ★ ★

Last — and considered best by connoisseurs — is the white morel, which looks like the black one except in color. Some sub-species grow to large size.

35,000 Worms in Basement

MARQUETTE (AP)—How would you like to have 35,000 worms squirming around in your basement?

Well, T.Sgt. Clarence Kernes has that many worms in the basement of his home at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base and is happy about it.

He's raising them to supply his own and the fishhooks of others. A kind of profit-and-pleasure or vice versa business, you might say.

Sgt. Kernes, whose home is in Connerville, Okla., began raising his unusual basement crop after his transfer to Sawyer AFB some two years ago.

His wife, Phyllis, and their two sons, Stephen, 10, and Ricky, 3½, now help him tend his brood, housed in 13 boxes about three feet long and a foot deep.

He got started in worm-raising because he "found it quite inconvenient during the fishing season to have to drive to town to purchase worms" and then drive back to the fishing holes.

'Fished Out' Lake Is 'Best Balanced'

Sportsmen who feel a lake may be "fished out" would probably be very surprised at the number and size of fish still remaining.

★ ★ ★

This was the case with Portage Lake near Chassell in the Upper Peninsula. Anglers using the lake were grumbling that it was "fished out."

The Chassell Sportsmen's and Lions Clubs decided to find out if this was true. The Conservation Department complied with a request for a sample netting.

Five shallow water trap nets and two 125-foot gill nets were raised after two days. The result:

Over 1,100 fish of 12 species were in the nets. Included were 129 northern pike averaging, 24 inches, some of which tipped the scales at 25 pounds, large numbers of walleyes, crappies and rock bass.

GOOD BALANCE

From the nettings, T. B. Durling, district fish supervisor, concluded that the lake is "one of the most productive and best balanced in Michigan."

Disgruntled anglers who claimed good trout water no longer contained decent fish have been shocked more than the fish by a department electrical shock treatment on certain streams.

It's difficult to fish out a lake or stream. The good fishermen will seldom complain. They just continue to catch fish.

TWELVE 'BEST'

The 12 all time great lures have been selected by a panel of experts for a national magazine. The "Deadly Dozen," as they are called:

Bass - Oreno, Bomber, Dardevle, Flatfish, Hawaiian Wiggler, Jitterbug, Lazy Ike, L & S Mirrolure, Pikie Minnow, River Runt, Silver Minnow and Abu-Reflex.

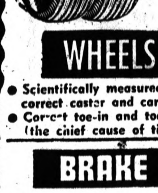

These lures have been around for years and are still beating off challenges by the new "fish getters" coming on the market each year.

NOISY SALUTE

Jack Pattyn, a top skeet shooter from Detroit, was involved in an unusual ceremony last month at Ted's Blue Rock Gun Club near Warren — he was married at station No. 8.

The wedding party walked to the skeet station under an arch of crossed shotgun barrels. A 10-gun salute roared after Jack and Helen were pronounced man-and-wife.

Oxford to Ask Sewer Plant Loan

Council Okays Request for Aid

$8,000 to Be Sought From U. S. to Begin Planning Project

OXFORD — The Village Council here last night approved an application to the federal government for an $8,000 loan to begin planning for a sanitary sewer system and sewage treatment plant.

★ ★ ★

Councilmen passed a resolution describing the project as essential and calling for preliminary action toward construction of the facilities.

Village Manager Robert W. Smalley said today the loan application would be sent to the Housing and Home Finance Agency today or tomorrow.

Further steps toward construction of the sewer system at an estimated cost of $394,000 and a primary sewage disposal plant for $160,000 cannot be taken until the loan is approved, Smalley said.

WAIT EXPECTED

An estimated wait of three to five months for a decision on the loan is expected.

The plan for a village sewer system was presented by Smalley May 8 after efforts failed to revive last year's joint sewage disposal proposal with Lake Orion.

The joint plan, to have cost some $1.1-million, fell through when Lake Orion could find no way to meet its share of the cost.

Smalley's proposed sewer system would be financed by a special assessment, and the treatment plant by a general obligation bond issue.

MARKS ANNIVERSARY — Mt. Bethel Methodist Church in Groveland Township will observe its 125th anniversary Sunday with two special services and a luncheon. The congregation was organized in 1837. Since that time there have been three church buildings. The present church, pictured here, was dedicated in 1950, three years after fire razed a 77-year-old structure. Guest speakers Sunday will be Miss Cecelia Learn, former minister, and Rev. James R. DeWitt, executive secretary of the Detroit Conference of Missions and Church Extension.

Hunt Boat Stolen From Inventor

'Motorized Surfboard' Disappears From Lake in Shelby Twp.

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—A unique boat described by its inventor as a "motorized surfboard" is the object of an intensive search today following the boat's disappearance from Starlight Lake here.

Worth some $20,000 in engineering and developmental costs, according to Anthony Krenzer, 5139 Lorin Drive, the boat was apparently stolen sometime Saturday morning. It weighed only 150 pounds.

Krenzer said today several boat companies were interested in producing the boat, but none would buy it unless he had the prototype.

Four youths, two from Warren and two from the township, will be given lie detector tests tomorrow in connection with the theft, according to Shelby Township police.

About 3 a.m. Saturday they were caught with the boat on the lake by Krenzer, who then brought the craft back to its mooring behind his home. Forty-five minutes later, it was gone again, and still hasn't been found.

Police believe one or more of the youths, one 18, one 17 and two 16 years old, returned and took the boat again. They denied it in all-day questioning yesterday at the Macomb County prosecutor's office.

ROSALIE PETERSEN

VIRGINIA GUTHRIE

Name Top Seniors at Avondale High

Top honors in the 1962 Avondale High School senior class have been earned by Virginia Guthrie, valedictorian, and Rosalie Petersen, salutatorian, school officials announced today.

Of a possible 4 points, Virginia has a 3.838 grade average and Rosalie a 3.819 average for the four years.

Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Guthrie of 173 Hillfield Road, Pontiac Township, has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years and the American Field Service organization for four years.

She was selected by the National office as the school's AFS finalist in her junior year. Aiding her plans to become a secondary school teacher is a 4-H scholarship to M.S.U. which she plans to enter this fall.

★ ★ ★

She has been awarded another scholarship, a cash grant from the MSU Club of Oakland County. It is one of five to be awarded to Oakland County seniors this year.

Rosalie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Petersen, 3286 Devondale St., Avon Township. She has been active in Future Homemakers of America, Future Teachers of America, Y-Teens and girl scouts.

Also a member of the National Honor Society, Rosalie plans to attend business school and become a secretary.

The top 10 seniors at Avondale, including Virginia and Rosalie, are Judith Runser, Marcella Edwards, Patricia Freeland, Nancy Dutton, Bonnie Gratopp, Shirley Brokenshaw, Sharlene Henderson and Nancy Jones.

First place went to Bill Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Scott Jr. of 4234 Crestdale Road, Commerce Township. The youth scored 315 points out of a possible 400 in the combination written and driving test.

Bill will represent the local Jaycees in the state finals to be held June 2 in Belding.

The state finalist will compete for the national title and a scholarship in Washington.

John Clark, a senior at Walled Lake High, took second place in the local contest and Bob Kleinhardt, a junior at the school, won third place.

Mt. Bethel Methodist to Observe Anniversary

By JIM LONG

GROVELAND TOWNSHIP—Special services commemorating the 125th anniversary of the founding of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church here will be conducted Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Miss Cecelia Learn, minister of the church from 1945 to 1950 and now minister of the Faith Methodist Church in Flint, will be the speaker at the 10 a.m. worship service.

Rev. Jesse R. DeWitt, executive secretary of the Detroit Conference Board of Missions and Church Extension, will be the speaker at a service following a 1 p.m. buffet luncheon.

Organized in 1837 by a Rev. Smith the congregation (six) held its first meetings in a schoolhouse. Three years later a hewn log church was built at the site of the present building, Jossman and Bald Eagle Lake roads.

REPLACED IN 1870

The log church, which had a seating capacity of 160, was replaced in 1870 by a New England-type frame building. It and all its contents, however, were destroyed by fire on July 14, 1947, during an electrical storm.

A new building was authorized four months later and in slightly less than three years the present structure was dedicated.

The Sunday school was started with the building of the original log church. The first superintendent was Beta Cogshall, one of a family of pioneers to Groveland, who was active in fraternal, social and business life of the area.

In 1872 Mt. Bethel was placed in joint appointment with the Seymour Lake church. Then in 1897 Mt. Bethel was joined with the Davisburg Methodist Church.

An accurate list of all members of Mt. Bethel does not exist since the church records of Davisburg Methodist, with which Mt. Bethel was a joint pastorate, were destroyed by fire in 1934.

The centennial year of Mt. Bethel Church was observed Aug. 1, 1937 while Rev. Howard Smith was pastor. The guest preacher at that time was Dr. R. M. Atkins, district superintendent.

Rev. Warren L. Lear is the present minister.

Hotel Is Saved in Lake Orion

Judge Decides Owner Has Now Met Minimum Safety Requirements

LAKE ORION — The controversy over the near-condemnation of the 80-year-old Lake Orion Hotel came to an end in Circuit Court yesterday with the hotel intact, improved and saved from demolition.

★ ★ ★

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero ruled the hotel had been brought to minimum safety standards by its owner, Frank Dunaskis, 460 Crescent St.

Village officials also are satisfied that the hotel is now safe for public occupancy, Robert V. Parenti, village attorney, said today.

However, a court order was entered imposing restrictions on the hotel. These pertained to electrical loads, prohibition of cooking in rooms and provisions for inspections by authorized officials.

★ ★ ★

Dunaskis had been given until yesterday by the court to bring his hotel up to standards affecting public welfare and safety.

Village officials took the matter to court more than a year ago to force compliance with building and health codes when they and Dunaskis disagreed over what constituted compliance.

To Ask Board for Planning Unit in Orion Twp.

ORION TOWNSHIP—The zoning board of appeals here has voted unanimously to petition the Township Board for creation of a planning commission and hiring of a planning consultant.

The action was taken in an effort to provide orderly and coordinated growth for the township.

A $2,000 addition to the township's zoning fund was provided in the 1962-63 budget in anticipation of possible establishment of a planning commission.

Although Lake Orion village officials were invited to the zoning board meeting so that they would be informed of township plans, no one from the village appeared at the meeting.

Imlay City Man Killed in U. S. 10 Accident

MIDLAND (UPI) — Herman Albert Kersten, 65, 202 E. 3rd St. Imlay City, was killed yesterday when the pickup truck in which he was riding went out of control and rolled over near here.

The accident happened on the U.S. 10 freeway, 12 miles northwest of here.

The victim's wife Bessie, 63, was driving.

State police said the pickup was heavily-loaded with furniture, which apparently caused the vehicle to sway.

Mrs. Kersten was not seriously injured.

Special Meeting Slated on Walled Lake Tax Rate

WALLED LAKE — A special meeting of the City Council has been tentatively scheduled for Monday at 8 p.m. to set the tax rate for the 1962-63 operating budget of $112,841.

★ ★ ★

The council met last night for the second consecutive time but could not agree on the tax.

After an hour of discussion the meeting broke up with no other session scheduled by the council.

City Manager Harold Millspaugh had to call for the special meeting today.

City Clerk Shirley Ryden said the rate must be fixed soon in order to get the tax bills prepared for mailing by July 1.

Four councilmen, Clyde Mottor, Harold Ackley, Richard Watkins and William Staman, are voting to have the current tax rate of $15 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation reduced to $14, while Mayor Louis James, Wendell Kellogg and Marshall E. Taylor believe the rate should remain the same as this year to provide for capital improvements.

By City Charter the tax rate must be agreed on by at least five councilmen.

The four in favor of reducing the rate claim the lower tax will be all that's needed because there will be enough surplus in this year's budget to care for capital improvements.

Most of the funds for capital improvements have been eliminated from the budget that was proposed by Millspaugh. A reserve fund also has been deleted from the original proposed budget.

The trio wanting to keep taxes the same say it is necessary to continue the present rate to allow a "cushion" for improvements if the surplus isn't as large as anticipated, $9,500.

If the surplus is that high, they say that the present tax then would allow additional city improvements.

2 Concerts Planned for Michigan Week

ROCHESTER—Two concerts are planned here to highlight the village's celebration of Michigan Week.

★ ★ ★

The Rochester Junior High School and Varsity bands will play at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Mitzelfeld-Pixley parking lot on Main Street.

★ ★ ★

The Utica-Rochester chapters of the Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, and the Sweet Adelines will sing in the same location Friday evening. The time again is 7:30.

★ ★ ★

First group to entertain musically here this week was the Avondale High School band which gave a performance Monday night.

Orion Jaycee Women Set Benefit Luncheon

LAKE ORION — The Orion Area Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary will stage a "Luncheon Is Served" program at noon tomorrow in the Methodist church house. All proceeds will be donated to the Lake Orion Youth Center.

Ticket are available from any Child Guidance, Woman's Club or Jaycee Auxiliary member, according to Mrs. Donald Brown, general chairman. An added feature of the luncheon will be a candy sale.

3 in Walled Lake Receive Awards for Aiding Youth

WALLED LAKE — Distinguished service awards have been presented to three persons for their "extraordinary contributions to children and youth" by the Walled Lake Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Recipients of the awards are:

Roland Langerman, assistant school superintendent and chairman of the Citizens Committee, for his "activities over and above his assigned duties for the welfare of children and youth in the community."

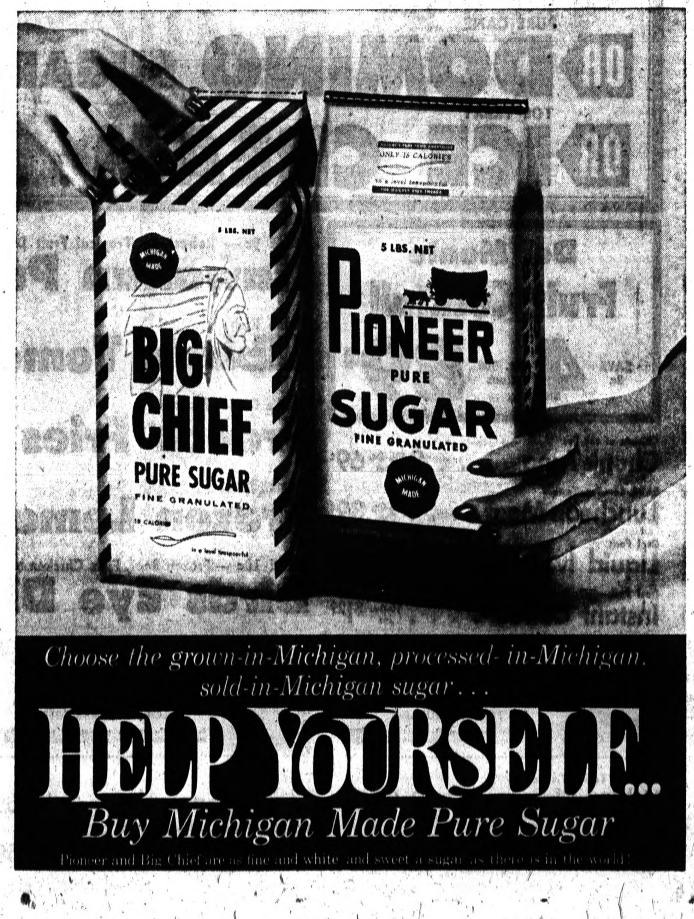

Mrs. Watson Stringer, past mother vice president and program chairman, for her "long and tireless service to PTA, particularly her well-planned arrangements for leadership training workshops and conferences."

Mrs. William Gregory, past chairman of room representatives and new cochairman of the membership committee for the council, for her "many unstinting and productive service to all children everywhere in her work in church, school and community."

Tight Vote Expected in Committee

House Unit Unchanged on Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP)—The exchange of salvos by President Kennedy and the American Medical Association on health care for the aged has changed no votes where at the moment they count most—in the House Ways and Means Committee.

★ ★ ★

This was the consensus today of committee members on both sides of the dispute over providing hospital and nursing benefits for persons retired under Social Security.

JUNE VOTE EXPECTED

The key vote by the committee on Kennedy's bill, which would provide such benefits and increase payroll taxes to pay for them, probably will come during the second week of June. The committee has had the measure under consideration for a year.

★ ★ ★

Thirteen of the committee's 25 votes would give the measure a favorable report and a fair chance of passage this year. Without favorable committee action passage is still possible, but extremely doubtful.

While most members of the committee are not saying publicly where they stand, opponents appear to have an edge which could be overcome if as many as four uncommitted members decided to go along with the administration.

CLOSE VOTE

"I think we'll make it," one supporter said today. "But this will be decided by a one-vote margin."

More flatly, an opponent said, "It won't come out."

★ ★ ★

The House Republican whip, Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, said in an interview he wonders whether Kennedy wants "a law or an issue this year." Arends is not a member of the Ways and Means Committee, but he said he does not think the widely publicized pro and con rallies and programs of the past few days have had any effect on committeemen.

COULD FORCE VOTE

All sides agreed the health legislation will be an issue in the November elections when all seats in the House and one-third of those in the Senate are up for competition.

★ ★ ★

Whether or not they could pass the bill, Democrats, in the majority on both Senate and House, should be able without too much difficulty to force a record vote in both chambers.

Ancient Roman Graves Unearthed in Athens

ATHENS (AP) — Twenty-five Roman graves of the second century were unearthed in the center of Athens Tuesday.

The graves, in almost perfect condition, were discovered by workers digging a new building foundation off one of Athens' main streets. They contained skeletons of men and women, coins, spindle-shaped oil vases, combs and metal mirrors.

San Francisco Police Seek Forgetful Bandit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Police were looking for two gunmen today, one of them known to be absent-minded.

The pair fled Tuesday afternoon after robbing a Market Street finance company of $341 just before closing. One left his pistol on the counter near the cash drawer.

PIN-WORMS
A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults.

Don't Mention Her Dad

Jane Fonda Making Good on Her Own

By VERNON SCOTT

UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — The trick in talking to actress Jane Fonda is to see how far you can carry the conversation without mentioning her father.

Like all sprouts of famous movie parents Jane is a mite touchy on the subject.

She would like to think, and with good reason, that she has more going for her than the fact that Henry Fonda is her old man. Fortunately, Jane has considerably more to recommend her.

The trouble is the 24-year-old beauty isn't sure that interviewers are aware of her individuality, intelligence and generous share of sex appeal. Therefore it becomes a game to see who drops papa's name first.

Good players can get through an entire interview without once mentioning father Henry by name. And the champs are able to spend an entire hour with Jane without even alluding to dear old dad.

The game also can be played with the Crosby boys, Charlie Chaplin Jr., David Ladd, Rickie Nelson and Edward G. Robinson Jr. But it is much more fun with a pretty girl.

Supine on her dressing room couch at MGM studios where she is starring in "Period of Adjustment," Jane started out gamely.

"Five years ago I m. de my first movie," she said. "I was so disappointed with it I swore I'd never work in Hollywood again. Since then I've done three more pictures here and changed by mind about the town.

'TERRIFIED'

"I was terrified, nervous and insecure when I was making 'Tall Story.' I was surrounded by strangers I couldn't trust and I didn't think I could exist in a place where everyone was beautiful, rich and sexy."

So far Jane was on safe territory. Not a hint of Henry Fonda. I tried to trick her by mentioning the fine performances in "Advise and Consent," in which her father has a starring role.

"I liked the picture," she said. "I thought Don Murray, Walter Pidgeon and Charles Laughton were wonderful. So were Peter Lawford and Franchot Tone."

She saw the trap and had wriggled out of discussing her father.

Back on the track, she went on, "I have more confidence in myself as a person and an actress after three years and two plays in New York.

★ ★ ★

"On my first trip to Hollywood makeup experts had me looking like every other young actress in town. I'd pass a mirror and not recognize myself. I wondered why I didn't look more like Marilyn Monroe.

★ ★ ★

"Now I love making movies and realize I can be myself and still give some worthwhile qualities to the roles I play.

"I know I am more than just Henry Fonda's daughter . . ."

Oops. There it was right out there in the open. Jane had blown the game. But she gave it a good try, and the fact that she is terribly proud of her brilliant father is no more than can be expected.

Press for Action on Constitution

Con-Con After Early Vote in Suit on Planned State Document

LANSING (AP) — The constitutional convention was pressing for fast action today in its suit to force an early vote on the proposed new Michigan constitution.

Attorney Theodore Swift, representing the convention, said yesterday he has filed a notice in Ingham County Circuit Court requesting a hearing next Monday.

Swift said fast action is necessary because any decision of the lower court was sure to be appealed to the State Supreme Court. The high court, he said, would have to hand down its decision by Aug. 1 if it were to help in getting the constitution on the November ballot.

APPEALS RULING

The convention is appealing a ruling by the state attorney general that the constitution must be held over until the April elections for a vote.

The suit challenges the attorney general's interpretation of a provision in the present constitution.

The ruling held that it prohibited a November vote unless the convention finished its work by April 1.

Swift said he had tried to notify the attorney general's office of his action, but "nobody seems to know who's handling the case."

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and deputy attorney Leon S. Cohan were in Washington, D. C.

Tre suit has been filed in the name of convention President Stephen S. Nisbet.

Committee Approves Philippine Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) —The House Rules Committee today approved a new bill to authorize the United States to pay $73 million to Philippine war damage claimants.

The measure replaces one which the house defeated two weeks ago, touching off a crisis in U. S.-Philippines relations. Philippines President Diosdado Macapagal postponed a scheduled state visit to this country as a result of the House action.

The Rules Committee set a three-hour limit on debate when the new measure comes before the house, probably sometime later this week.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., author of the measure, expressed confidence that the bill will win out on its second consideration by the house.

Says Signs Good for 'Hot' Tourist Season in State

LANSING (AP)—Early trends point to a good spring-summer tourist season for Michigan, says the State Tourist Council.

Vacation travel business throughout the nation this year has shown consistent gains over 1961 levels of requests for information on Michigan are running well ahead of last year, reports Robert J. Furlong, council director.

During the first four months of the year, Furlong said, the council handled about 11 per cent more queries than during the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

"With favorable weather during summer months, we may well record another good travel season to go along with the excellent winter vacation season recently completed," he said.

★ ★ ★

Many winter and ski resorts reported the past season as "the best ever," Furlong said.

Dies in Xway Crash

BELLEVILLE (AP) — A flaming head-on car-truck crash on the Willow Run expressway killed Dennis F. Eagen, 23, of Ann Arbor, today. The Wayne County sheriff said the Eagen auto, westbound, crossed the median into the path of an eastbound truck. The truck driver, Clare G. Walls of Chicago, escaped injury.

Lansing Ahead Some $16,000 From Con-Con

LANSING (AP) — Although delegates wound up their debate and went home, more than a week ago, the bargaining in Michigan's constitution hall continued, Lansing city officials said.

And the city came out some $16,000 ahead, said Melvin A. Herr, chairman of the Lansing civic center's buildings and properties committee.

Herr and Bernard J. Apol, in charge of physical arrangements for the convention, agreed to scrap the agreement that the convention would restore the civic center—site of the convention—to its original condition.

★ ★ ★

The city now has $16,000 in improvements and the convention has been spared the expense of ripping out many of its installations, Herr said. The agreement has been ratified by the City Council.

In return, he said, the city has granted use of part of the center until Aug. 31 for postconvention operations.

About four million Americans play the guitar.

Ancient Athletes Paid Big for Losing

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Athletes today have it easy compared to the jousting knights of old, says Thomas T. Hoopes, City Art Museum curator.

★ ★ ★

In the Medieval tournament, Hoopes said, scoring was easy. No decisions. The loser was given a decent burial.

"The jousting began developing into a sport. It was still rough, he said, but both contestants usually survived.

"Judges totaled up the points—five for a lance thrust in the left side of the face, three for a blow on the left shoulder and one for striking the arm," Hoopes said.

★ ★ ★

He said points were lost if the lance tip slipped below the waist or came in contact with the right side. And striking horses was not cricket at all.

Here's a Boon for Those Who Like Frog Legs

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI)—To persons who like fried frog legs, it appears that Richard J. Baldauf has hit the jackpot.

★ ★ ★

For the wildlife management professor at Texas A & M College recently found a pond wigging with six-legged critters.

Baldauf estimates that 5 per cent of the pond's frog population has six legs.

His co-workers are urging him to put the oddball frogs into mass production for sale to restaurants. But the professor doesn't see much future in that, because, he points out, nature eliminates the abnormal.

★ ★ ★

And just in case you're wondering:

Baldauf says a six-legged frog can't jump any farther than a four-legged frog.

★

Greens 2, 13 and 15 Deer Hazard Holes

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Golfers everywhere have their alibis. At the Lawrence Country club the best excuse is deer.

Bud Snavely, greenskeeper at the club, reports that a herd of about eight "amazingly tame" deer has been nibbling at the 2nd, 13th and 15th greens. Besides eating the grass, their hooves leave deep cuts that are hard to repair.

Recently Snavely has used smudge-pot flares to ring the greens in an effort to keep the deer away at night.

Americans Will Spend $23 Billion Vacationing

NEW YORK (UPI) — American Express says its latest travel poll indicates Americans will spend $23.2 billion on their domestic summer vacations this year.

Last year, the big travel firm said, the expenditure for vacation hotels, motels, food, transportation, auto upkeep, admission fees and recreation was $22.5 billion.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): You could expect the "world" as a result of what others say or promise. But if you are to fulfill potentials you must act on your own and carry out plans.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): You may feel "put out" by something which is said by well-meaning person, especially one in authority. Best to use common sense. Be diplomatic. Avoid self-pity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you can be flexible today, you can get almost anything you go after. Being versatile is part of your Gemini nature. Today you could shine through toward success.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): You could "sense" danger signals and ignore them. This leads to trouble. But if you heed intuitive intellect you will gain much emotionally as well as materially.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Wanting to be in spotlight could be cause of careless statements or actions. Better take precautions. Cycle has been better. This would be good time to "put in horns."

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Strive for harmony, especially in connection with domestic matters. Showing others that you are willing to cooperate could lift tremendous emotional burden.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Creative forces come to fore . . . and you find yourself center of attention today. Good for new romance, but remember tomorrow.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Chips may be down in connection with promises made in past. If you gave your word to young person recently you are wise to make it today. Follow through.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Beware of those who make numerous promises but put little or nothing in writing. Others may feel you are not quite "big" enough to lose on chips.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Strive for originality in approach to personal, professional activities. Do not permit price tag to deter you. Go after quality rather than so-called bargain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Cycle now on. Act with confidence, sweep away clouds. Be aware of your heavy tendency to gloom. Guard sensitive, Uranian nature. Let others see you are capable.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): You could feel pressed in by emotional pressures and pressures from consciousness. Take things as they come. Do your best and refuse to be intimidated!

★ ★ ★

IF THURSDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY: Influence is felt from many fields in new quarters, when you mature. Help in new quarters. Avoid "I told you so." Give your all. August promises to be outstanding month.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Idealism • Inventiveness • Originality • Progressive • Humanitarian • Sudden desire for "truth." News value of this day is high. Persons born on this day are likely to say the right thing at the right time!

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Winning bidders try to gather as much slam information as possible before going past game. They have found by bitter experience that it never pays to stop at five spades when they could have stopped at four. It is safe only to go beyond the game level when one is sure of his ground.

Now, take a look at the North hand. You open one diamond and after your partner's one heart response you bid one spade instead of giving an immediate heart raise.

Your partner jumps to three hearts! What should you do next? You could take the bull by the horns and try a Blackwood four no-trump but if your partner has his strength in something like the king of clubs you may find yourself in a really bad slam contract.

Curtis Smith suggests that the right bid is four clubs. Note that you can get back to hearts if your partner raises you in clubs.

Actually, South will bid four diamonds over four clubs. While this won't guarantee that he holds the king of diamonds it will be a strong indication. Strong enough so that North can now afford to reach the slam via Blackwood.

South has the king of diamonds and the slam is a lay down.

Talkative Woman Draws Fire From Attendant

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — A woman dropped a dime into a phone booth at a service station and began to talk. She talked for an hour, police said.

After explaining that he received business calls on the phone, attendant Robert Demps, 35, finally became exasperated and broke the connection.

The woman, Inez Davis, 41, reached for the directory to look up another number. With that, police said, Dents pulled a gun and shot her.

She is in a hospital in serious condition. Demps was held on an open charge.

Tobaccos Are Bright Spot

Stock Prices Sink, Then Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobaccos were a bright spot as the stock market, after suffering another sharp sinking spell, rallied in active trading early this afternoon.

The over-all picture was still one of decline after the recovery move paused there was another tendency for prices to ease. The ticker tape was as much as six minutes late and first - hour volume on the New York Stock Exchange was 105 million shares compared with 490,000 Tuesday.

TOBACCOS GAIN

Tobaccos gained 1 to 3 points while losses of key stocks elsewhere in the list went to 1 or 2 points. Some stocks erased losses and showed advances of fractions to more than a point.

★ ★ ★

Continued lack of confidence, short selling and margin calls accompanied the steep sinking spell at the start. On the recovery some short sellers hastened to cover their contracts and "bargain hunters" scurried to pick up stock.

★ ★ ★

International Business Machines sank 6 points to a 1962 low of 429, rebounded, then traded about 2 below its previous close.

GAINS 3 POINTS

Lorillard was delayed in opening due to an accumulation of buy orders following news of an improved filter. It yielded a gain of about 2 points. Liggett & Myers was up about 3. American Tobacco and Reynolds were ahead more than a point each.

Prices were lower on the American Stock Exchange in fairly active trading. Losses of around a point were shown by Aerojet-General, Barnes Engineering Kawecki Chemical and National Research.

Group Honors AMC President

Roy Abernethy Named 'Sales Executive of the Year'

American Motors Corp. president Roy Abernethy of Bloomfield Township today was named "Sales Executive of the Year" by the Sales and Marketing Executives - International in Dallas, Tex.

Abernethy was honored by SME-International, a group of some 30,000 business executives from 36 countries, at its 28th annual convention in Dallas. He was cited for his "spirit of confident selling and contribution to the material advancement of the nation."

A one-time mechanic with sales experience at several major automobile companies, Abernethy, 55, 3940 Oakland Drive, was appointed president, general manager and chief operations officer at AMC Feb. 12 following the resignation of George Romney.

Abernethy started in the automobile business as an apprentice mechanic in 1926 in Pittsburgh, Pa. He worked his way up through a series of sales assignments at the former Packard Motor Car Co. and in 1948 was appointed vice president and regional sales manager for the company in New York.

He served as national assistant general sales manager for Packard from 1950-53 after operating his own dealership for two years.

He joined Willys Motors as vice president and general sales manager in 1954 and a year later became vice president of sales for the Nash Division of American Motors.

Abernethy's later work including emphasizing the company's sales efforts on the Rambler and selling to the compact car concept to dealers, according to AMC spokesmen.

All Commodities Off on Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Selling pressure continued in the grain future market today and all commodities were off major fractions at the extreme during the first few minutes of activity on the board of trade.

Brokers said the weakness was ascribed to favorable weather generally over the Midwest which enabled farmers to plant their crops well ahead of normal.

Some of the selling, too, was believed to be a carryover of orders which could not be handled in the active trading late yesterday which sent prices generally to their lows of the day at the finish.

Troy Mentioned as College Site

School Board Pleased District Considered as Location

Possibility of locating an Oakland County Community College in Troy came to light last night at a meeting of the Troy Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Board members instructed that a letter be sent to the Citizens' Steering Committee of the Oakland County Community College Study stating that the board "would be proud to have the college located in Troy as has been rumored."

Although officials of the study project were not available for comment this morning, it is understood that Troy is one of the locations under consideration for the proposed college.

A complete report by the committee whether a vote of county residents on establishment of such a community college district is recommended and on feasible sites is expected shortly.

★ ★ ★

If brought to a vote, possibly in November, the proposal would also ask a one-mill tax levy for construction and operation of a college.

More Central Cooling Seen in '62 Homes

Central air-conditioning sales, which have mounted steadily in the past few years, appear to be on the verge of a major breakthrough in home installation.

An industry official, John Norris, president of Lennox Industries, Inc., visualizes up to a 35 per cent increase in central air-conditioning sales in new housing during 1962. Last year a 10 per cent gain was recorded.

If built into a new house, a central air-conditioning system is considerably less expensive than when installed in an old house not adapted for it.

Heat pumps, which both cool and heat, continue to register big gains. Last year saw a 15 per cent increase in these installations, which are especially suitable for mild climates.

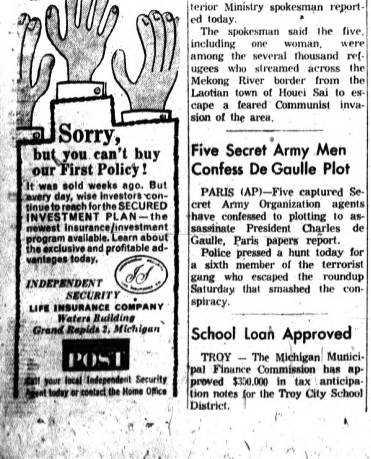

Central air-conditioning industry officials credit improved equipment, public demand and high standards for the big gains.

Governor Gets Bill on Board

Would Wrest Control of Equalization Group From Tax Commission

LANSING (AP) — The State Equalization Board will have seven instead of the present five members under terms of a bill passed by the Senate and sent to the governor for signing.

★ ★ ★

The measure, previously passed by the House, provides that three members of the equalization board shall be the members of the State Tax Commission, as at present.

It adds the requirement that four additional members be appointed by the governor instead of two.

Purpose of the bill said Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, R-Holland, the sponsor, is to assure the tax commission will not dominate the equalization board.

The board sets the equalization figure by which property taxes are determined.

★ ★ ★

The Senate went along with a House amendment providing that no former member of the tax commission shall be appointed to the equalization board until three years after he has left the former office. This is further insurance against the tax commission swinging a majority on the equalization board, Geerlings said.

Both Sens. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland ,and John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, objected that the tax commission has been operating in secrecy. Francis said he had one protest from the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Smeekens said taxpayers are unable to obtain information and have no recourse but to pay the tax set by the equalization figure.

★ ★ ★

Geerlings said he thought the tax commission was trying to do an honest job. He reminded the senators he is sponsoring a resolution, however, seeking an investigation of the tax commission.

Attack on Guard Adds 10 Years to Convict's Term

An attack on a Michigan Reformatory Guard in Ionia has added 10 to 15 years to two terms already being served by Larry M. Farland, an inmate first convicted for a Birmingham safe burglary.

★ ★ ★

McFarland, 22, who lived at 1220 E. Meyers Ave., Hazel Park, was sentenced yesterday on the assault charge by visiting Circuit Judge John VanderWal in Ionia.

Guard Eugene Van Vleck suffered severe head wounds when beaten with a length of pipe in an attempted jail break Oct. 11, authorities say. Other guards subdued the prisoner.

McFarland originally was sentenced in Oakland County Circuit Court June 8, 1959, for stealing a safe containing $8,000 in bonds and stocks from a Birmingham home.

★ ★ ★

He also has been sentenced to one to 4½ years for prison escape in Ionia Circuit Court.

Waterford Area Voters Get Notice on Precinct

The Waterford Township clerk's office is in the process of mailing precinct change notices to the approximately 22,000 registered voters in the community specifying the political and school precincts where voters will cast future ballots.

This project is being undertaken as a result of recent precinct revisions in both the township and school district.

In most cases the political and school precinct at which an individual will vote will be different, according to Township Clerk James Seeterlin.

The township or political precincts now number 23 after being boosted from 18 due to heavy new registrations. School district precincts were increased from five to eight for the same reason.

Along with the notice of precinct revisions, each voter will also receive a blue, pocket-size registration certificate. These will supercede the previously issued pink cards.

CUTS WORK

Recent action by the Township Board authorized the township to provide the school district with election records on the day of a school election, thus eliminating the necessity of the School Board maintaining a separate set of records.

Use of the township registration records will become effective with the June 11 school election.

Beginning with next month's election the following political precinct-school precinct system will apply.

School precinct No. 1 will include political precincts No. 1, 2, 14 and 19. School precinct No. 2 will embrace political precincts 5, 7 and 11. School precinct No. 3 will consist of political precincts 9, 18 and 23 and a portion of West Bloomfield Township.

School precinct No. 4 takes in political precincts 3, 12 and 20 and a part of Independence Township and School precinct No. 5 includes political precinct 13 and a portion of White Lake Township.

School precinct No. 6 embraces political precincts 4, 15 and 21 and school precinct No. 7 includes political precincts 6, 16 and 22.

School precinct No. 8 includes political precincts 8, 10 and 17.

Fatal Plane Mishap Continental's First

DENVER (AP) — The crash of a Continental Airlines jet last night on the Iowa-Missouri border was the first to cause fatalities for Continental passengers in its 28 years of operation.

★ ★ ★

The airline, based in Denver, had flown 18 million passengers five billion passenger miles in that period without a passenger death.

Capt. Fred R. Gray, 50, the pilot, was a 23-year veteran with the airline, and had logged more than 25,000 hours in the air.

Gray was one of Continental's first jet pilots when it began flying Boeing 707s June 8, 1959. Continental was the third domestic carrier to operate its own jets.

To File Protest Over Allocation

Elmer Johnson Claims Millage Portion Should Go to Waterford Twp.

Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson said today he would file a protest with the Oakland County Allocation Board for error in including his township in the preliminary millage spread announced Monday.

★ ★ ★

The only charter township in Oakland County, Waterford had asked for 1.23 mills from the allocation board. The board decreed that since Waterford is a charter township, it can levy its own mill-age up to five mills over the 15-mill limit.

"According to law, all townships are entitled to a minimum of one mill if their proposed budgets warrant it," Johnson said. "Apparently the allocation board is putting us in the same category as a city," the supervisor added. Cities do not come under the 15-mill program.

Preliminary millage spreads set by the allocation board were 5.40 mills for the county government, an average of 8.6 mills for school districts and approximately one mill for townships.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said he will present a formal protest as soon as he receives written notification from the allocation board of Waterford Township's exclusion in the millage spread.

'Witness' Better; Refused Transfusion

A 60-year-old Pontiac Jehovah's Witness this morning appeared to be recovering from surgery without a blood transfusion which he refused on religious grounds.

★ ★ ★

Last week Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Director Harry Whitlow had feared he would need a court order if the condition of Joseph Hampton worsened. Hampton, a bachelor, residing at 449 S. Edith St., is now off the critical list and described in good condition.

"If he'd got blood earlier, he'd have been all right soon after the operation," Whitlow said. "The doctor did a wonderful job in removing a bleeding gastric ulcer. The operation was successful."

Update Wiring Installation in Remodeling

When you're making a loan to have some remodeling done (or even if you're paying cash), you might as well include electrical work in your programs. Not just the installation of wiring for an additional area, but a rejuvenation of your entire electrical system.

Most older homes are inadequately wired to take care of the many extra appliances which were not in common use when the houses were built.

A sure sign of a possible overload in your present electrical system is when fuses blow regularly or when lights go dim when appliances are turned on. Fuses and circuit breakers are the safety valves in the circuit. When they fail to operate, it's usually because of a short circuit or, the more common reason, because the circuit is overloaded.

You should know where the fuses or circuit breakers are, what parts of the house they control and how to replace or reset them. If you don't know, a good time to find out is when the electrical contractor is bringing your wiring system up to date.

You then can make a small diagram of what's what and paste it on the inside of the fuse box door. An important point: never replace a fuse with one of a higher ampere rating. If you do, you have destroyed the entire safety value of the fuse.

'Defenders' Captures Four Prizes

TV Law Outstrips Medicine in Emmy Awards Race

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The law, as practiced on television, won out over medicine Tuesday night in the 14th annual Emmy Awards show.

★ ★ ★

"The Defenders," CBS-TV's potent courtroom series, won four Emmies to emerge as champ of the Television awards.

The win, reflecting solid voting from New York members of the Television Academy, was an upset. "Ben Casey," Television's sullen medico, was a favorite with eight nominations, but when the operation was over, Casey had struck out.

TAKES FOUR AWARDS

"The Defenders" won Emmies for outstanding drama; for best actor for star E. G. Marshall; best director for Franklin Schaffner; and for best writing for Reginald Rose, its creator.

★

Even Queen Victoria did better than "Ben Casey." The Hallmark production of "Victoria Regina" won best actress award for Julie Harris; best supporting actress for Pamela Brown, and the show was adjudged best program of the year.

The best actor award went to Peter Falk, who was nominated for his role of a truck driver in "The Price of Tomatoes" on the Dick Powell Show.

Falk, who had been nominated for nearly every movie and television performance he has made since gaining prominence in the last two years, forgot his speech.

★ ★

Shirley Booth, winner of a movie Oscar and numerous stage awards, won an Emmy for best actress in a series.

"This is a doozy, ain't it," she said, repeating an expression from her "Hazel" characterization.

Don Knotts, the deputy on the Andy Griffith show, won his second supporting actor Emmy in a row.

TWO FOR MUSIC

Leonard Bernstein won two emmies. One was for the outstanding children's program for his young people's concert with the New York Philharmonic; the other was for his Philharmonic tour of Japan.

★ ★ ★

The Garry Moore Show was named best variety show, and its comedienne, Carol Burnett, was named best variety artist.

Special trustee awards were given to CBS news for its four of the White House and to Jacqueline Kennedy, the tour's pretty conductor.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ladybird Johnson, wife of the vice president, accepted the award for the First Lady.

"If all history lessons could be presented against such a background—and with such a teacher—I'm sure we'd all like to go back to school," Mrs. Johnson said.

Heads of the news departments of ABC, CBS and NBC also got trustees awards for coverage of the year's most exciting television program — astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s orbits around the earth.

Another trustee award went to Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America.

★ ★ ★

Following a pattern of recent years, at least one star found himself with an Emmy—and no show. Comic Bob Newhart, whose show has not been renewed, won the award for best comedy show.

VOTED TOPS — Actress Julie Harris, winner of the Television Academy award for best single performance of 1961-62, gets a kiss from George Schaefer, producer and director of "Victoria Regina" which was named best program of the year. Miss Harris starred in the play about the great British ruler. Miss Harris and Schaefer received their awards in New York last night.

Cannes Like Carnival, With a French Accent

By EARL WILSON

CANNES, France—"What is the Cannes Film Festival . . ?"

A brave question! We are deep in the sunshine of the French Riviera — it rained cats and dogs for a couple of days and got to be a couple of inches deep but we won't mention that. Everywhere the young starlets are posing in their suntans for the photographers. This year the young starlets may be seen in those "St. Tropez pantalons" which are really "naked navel" outfits—pants, bare midriff, and a sort of top with a fluttery fringe down from the bodice.

WILSON

"This place is another Coney Island," your are supposed to remark the first day you get here.

"It is another Atlantic City, Miami Beach, Asbury Park, Grossinger's, Long Beach (either Long Island or California) or Mercelina Park, Ohio." It is all those—with palm trees and champagne — and a French accent.

To do you a favor, a guy sends you a bottle of champagne in an ice bucket for breakfast. It is not such a favor at that, when you look at his tab for it.

★ ★ ★

There are cocktail parties—and movies—every few minutes, and these parties are insufferable, because there is a constant buzz-buzz-buzz and since it's in French, you can't understand one word of the terrible gossip they're probably spreading about some of the stars . . . maybe even you!

Does Entrance Area Welcome Your Guests?

Like the smile you wear when you greet visitors, the reception area in your home or apartment should be cheery and gracious.

"The most practical way to dress up a reception hall or area is to use an attractively framed plate glass mirror and a console table," advises Mary Ann Wills, decorating consultant. These accessories can be used whether you have a spacious hall or foyer or simply a wall area near your front door.

"Guests appreciate the chance to check themselves over in the mirror before entering the living room," Miss Wills said. "The matching console table, which hangs on the wall, is handy for holding purses, gloves, and small packages."

For an added decorative touch, you can also use complementary sconces or candle holders on both sides of the mirror. Third-dimensional plaques and clocks are also excellent for reception area walls.

If your front door opens directly into the living room, you can create a reception area by using a see-through room divider. One popular divider consists of sculptured peacock-and-wisteria panels on brass-finished poles.

Schools to Name Athletics Head

Appointment Expected at Pontiac's Board of Education Meeting

A new man to direct Pontiac public schools' physical education program is expected to be appointed at tomorrow's 7:30 p.m. Pontiac Board of Education meeting.

The meeting will be held in the board offices, 40 Patterson St.

The recommendation for the appointment will be made by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, for consideration by the board.

The post as director of physical education, athletics, and recreation will be vacated in June by Hollie L. Leploy, who has been holding a similar position at Michigan State University Oakland. Lepley intends to devote full time to the MSUO job.

★ ★

Also to be recommended for appointment will be an assistant principal for Central High School. C. T. Forsman resigned from this spot for health reasons.

Whitmer today added that no recommendation was to be made at this time for a new coordinator of secondary education. The present coordinator, William J. Lacy, will become assistant superintendent for instruction and pupil personnel next fall.

Son of Gen. Clay Hurt in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Lt. Gen. Frank B. Clay, son fo Gen. Lucius D. Clay, and three other U.S. Army officers were wounded today in a large scale operation against Communist guerrillas in the plains of Reeds, south of here.

A reliable source said Clay, senior advisor to the Vietnamese 7th Division, was hit in the arms and legs by flying fragments of aluminum and plexiglass as bullets ripped through a helicopter in which he was flying during the operation.

But Clay's wounds were not serious and he was released by medics after preliminary treatment, the source said.

Three Aliens Leave Police With Problem

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Nogales police picked up three aliens, but were puzzled as to what official action should be taken.

The officers rushed to a darkened section along the U.S.-Mexico border after a report of strange noises in the area.

They found a cardboard box that had been pushed underneath the international fence from the Mexican to the Arizona side.

In the carton were three pupies.

Ex-GOP Head at CBS

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System has appointed Meade Alcorn, former Republican national chairman, as a political consultant to its election coverage unit, CBS said yesterday.

Export sales of South Australian and Victorian barley this season total about 680,000 tons, of which Communist Chinese purchases amount to 325,000 tons.

Commission OKs Pension for Straley

In an abrupt reversal, the City Commission last night rescinded an earlier resolution calling for "immediate reappointment" of former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and then granted Straley a lifetime pension.

★ ★ ★

Straley also became eligible to receive nearly $10,000 in compensation. The pension would amount to about $1,382 per year.

The City Commission adopted a resolution granting Straley additional service credit and full pay for 181 compensatory days, 48 vacation days and 89 sick leave days.

The resolution was approved by a 6-1 vote. The lone dissenting vote was cast by Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. who called the move "a political deal and payoff."

APPROVED RESOLUTION

Voting for the resolution were Mayor Robert Landry, and Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, Loy Ledford, Milton R. Henry, Dick M. Kirby and Charles H. Harmon.

At the request of Louis H. Schimmel, commissioners voted to rescind a resolution passed at last Tuesday's meeting which favored immediate reappointment of Straley by City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The vote was unanimous to reject the previous resolution.

Schimmel, former president of the Pontiac Board of Education and prominent local finance expert, was in a crowd of spectators which jammed the commission chamber for the stormy meeting.

The often heated debate of commissioners was frequently interrupted by applause, laughter, booing and jeers from the audience.

★ ★ ★

A former Commission rejected Straley's bid for the service credit and compensation in October 1960 by a 4-3 vote.

Three members of that Commission, all of whom had voted against Straley's request, were replaced in the municipal election last month.

Straley claimed he had compensation coming for 181 days that he worked instead of taking off — and 89 accumulated sick leave days.

Both of these were previously defeated because no such compensation is due police personnel who are fired, according to the city's personnel rules, said Stierer.

★ ★ ★

Straley, in 1960, also claimed 78 days vacation time due him. He was granted only 30 days credit under personnel rules.

All the days involved were accumulated before Straley's firing on June 27, 1960, by former City Manager Walter E. Willman.

Last night's action, in the words of the resolution itself, was "taken to settle and terminate this issue on a fair and just basis."

The resolution stated that the number of days credit is substan-

4 Supervisors Ousted by City

Commission Rescinds Appointments Made Prior to Election

Pontiac has only three representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors today, and all of them are ex officio members.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission last night approved by a 5-2 vote a resolution terminating the appointments of former Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Wayne Anable, R. C. Cummings and Mrs. Lee Hill.

Their removal is effective immediately. They are the four citizens - at - large among the seven-member delegation representing Pontiac.

The four were reappointed to one-year terms as supervisors by the Commission April 3, before the municipal election which saw three new commissioners elected.

OPPOSED MOVE

The April 3 appointments were opposed by Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, Robert A. Landry and Milton R. Henry on grounds that they should be made by the Commission in office for the major part of this year.

★ ★ ★

The deciding vote themselves cast by then-mayor Rowston.

Last night's action rescinded the former resolution. It terminates the authority of the four supervisors "unless or until the said representatives be reappointed by this commission."

Both Commissioners William H. Taylor Jr. and Charles H. Harmon voted against the measure which was introduced by Henry.

★ ★ ★

Both charged they had not been told of plans to introduce such a resolution.

"It's obvious there are meetings on the side that two commissioners don't know anything about," Taylor charged. "This is just the beginning of several other moves in the fire that are coming soon. The people should know about these."

He didn't elaborate as Henry cut him off shouting "Now just a damn minute. We're not playing games with this city. We intend to represent the people."

★ ★ ★

His remarks were met with laughs, and jeers from the audience.

Topp Still Sought After TV Plea by His Father

Murder suspect Sheldry W. Topp still was at large today despite a stepped-up search in the Pontiac area and a personal appeal by his father last night over a television station in Milwaukee, Wis.

Alvery Topp of Mount Clemens, father of the 17-year-old Pontiac State Hospital escapee being sought in the Charles A. Davis slaying, appeared on two Milwaukee television news broadcasts last night.

"Go to the nearest police department," pleaded the distraught father. "Don't do any more harm to anyone else. Just turn yourself in to the police."

★ ★ ★

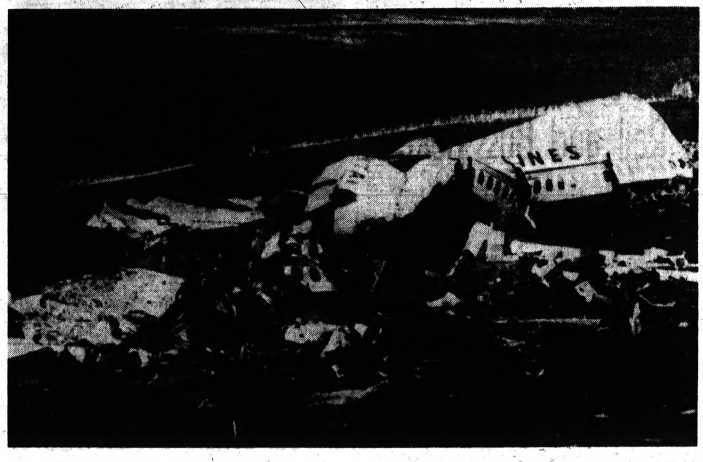

The youth's father accompanied Milwaukee detectives on a search in the Wisconsin city after arriving there yesterday morning. He was scheduled to return to Mount Clemens today.

A car belonging to Davis, Oakland County's first assistant corporation counsel, was found abandoned in Milwaukee with Topp's fingerprints on it last Thursday. The youth fled Pontiac State Hospital only a few hours before Davis was fatally stabbed early Wednesday.

Yesterday, a phone call triggered an intensive search in Pontiac. A mental patient at Pontiac State Hospital reported seeing Topp near the hospital grounds.

★ ★ ★

However, Topp was not found and police questioned the reliability of the information since it came from a person undergoing mental treatment.

SCENE OF WRECKAGE — A Continental Airlines Boeing 707 jet broke up in the air last night with the fuselage falling in this northeast Missouri farm field just south of the Iowa State line. All 45 persons aboard the flight were killed. One passenger survived for several hours after the crash but died later in a hospital.

Plane Breaks Up Over Missouri, Iowa Border

Only Known Survivor Dies in Hospital Soon After Being Found

UNIONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—A Continental Airlines jet, possibly torn apart by a violent storm, fell to the ground in sections Tuesday night, killing all 45 persons aboard.

The only known survivor, rescued from an intact section of the fuselage after an all-night search died in a hospital 90 minutes later.

Although violent storms raged across southern Iowa during the night, there was speculation today that a second plane may have been involved in the crash. Authorities at Kirksville reported that pieces of a plane which did not seem to be part of the jet had been found.

He was Takehiko Nawano, 27, an engineer who carried business cards listing addresses in Oak Park, Ill., and Los Angeles, Calif.

He was removed from the middle section of the fuselage, which, shorn of its wings and tail section, plunged into a shallow gully about 20 miles from where debris first started spewing from the plane.

Temporary morgues were set up in Unionville, a small community just south of the Iowa line.

The plane was Continental's flight 11 enroute from Chicago to Kansas City and Los Angeles with 37 passengers and a crew of 8.

It apparently broke up over Centerville, Iowa, about 20 miles south of here.

BY TREMENDOUS FORCE'

The fuselage lay undiscovered in a field of clover on a farm tenanted by Terry Bunnell from about 9:40 p.m. when it vanished from a radar surveillance screen.

Dewey E. Ballard, air carrier operations inspector for the Federal Aviation Agency at Kansas City, viewed the fuselage this morning and said it appeared to have been broken up "by some tremendous force."

"This tremendous force," said Ballard, "might have been a tornado or extremely heavy turbulence."

He said the plane apparently broke apart in the air and pieces spread out as they fell.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Hoshner, a member of a Continental Airlines investigation team, said the flight should have been at about 39,000 feet and traveling 500 to 600 miles per hour at the time of the crash.

The inside of the fuselage was a jumble of bodies, seats, luggage and clothing.

Nakano was found half way down on the right side of the intact section, lying with his back against three seats.

When told help had reached him, he was able to respond only feebly. He died in St. Joseph's hospital in Centerville.

The craft, a Boeing 707 piloted by veteran Capt. Fred Gray of Pacific Palisades, Calif., made its last report at 9:15 p.m. from a position 35 miles northeast of Kirksville, Mo.

SAW BRIGHT FLASH

This was about 120 air miles northeast of Kansas City where it was due to land about 25 minutes later.

The plane then disappeared

Estes Case to Reach 'Pretty Darn High'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official investigative sources said today that evidence in the Billie Sol Estes case points toward persons "pretty darn high up" in Washington under both the Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations.

The informants, who declined to be identified or to elaborate, told in separate interviews that information has been uncovered indicating bigger names may be involved than any reported so far in the investigation of the indicted financier's alleged influence deals with government officials.

A grimmer probe into a mysterious death a year ago struck sparks in Franklin, Tex., Tuesday.

After a partial autopsy, a medical examiner indicated he believes Henry Marshall, an Agriculture Department agent who investigated Estes farm operations, was murdered.

The Harris County medical examiner, Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk, said he felt "strongly at this time that this is not a suicide."

The complete autopsy report, he said, will be available later this week after laboratory tests.

Marshall, 52, was found dead June 3, 1961, shot five times with a bolt-action, 22-caliber rifle. He was buried without an autopsy, his death officially sealed as a suicide.

When the Estes case flashed into national prominence, authorities turned again to Marshall's death.

WAS PROBING ESTES

Marshall, as chief of production adjustment for the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, had been investigating Estes' collecting of cotton allotments—an operation the Agriculture Department now says was illegal.

★ ★ ★

Marshall's body was taken from its grave for an autopsy by what was described as a "whole team of experts."

After the autopsy, Dist. Atty. Bryan Russ said it indicated Marshall was shot in the back.

"A tentative change of the verdict from suicide to murder would be suggested," Russ said.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Billie Sol Estes and hundreds of his creditors were due in federal court today for a hearing that could determine whether the 36-year-old financier will get a chance to try rebuilding his crumbling financial empire.

★ ★ ★

The Agriculture Department dealt a body blow Tuesday to a plan being drafted by Estes' lawyers. The department announced it will withdraw more than 42 million bushels of government-owned grain from elevators once controlled by Estes.

About $4 million a year in revenue from grain storage has been a key item in plans to salvage Estes' enterprises.

Estes has said his assets as a going business are worth $20 million and he owes $32 million. A federal receiver was appointed after his lawyers said Estes was not bankrupt but couldn't meet his obligations because his income had been disrupted.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of creditors and attorneys were in El Paso for the hearing, at which Estes was expected to testify.

Jet Crash Kills Area Executive

Virgil W. Mourning, 45, of Franklin Is Victim; Also 4 Others in State

A Franklin man who had told his wife that flying never bothered him was one of three Dodge Division officials killed last night in a plane crash near Centerville, Iowa.

★ ★ ★

Virgil W. Mourning, 45, 32950 Grimsby Lane, father of two sons and dealer finance manager for Dodge was en route to Kansas City for a business meeting when the Continental Airlines jetliner he was aboard crashed, killing 45 persons.

Fred P. Berman, 46, of Dearborn, Dodge business management manager, and Roger Welch, 45, of Grosse Pointe, Dodge assistant general sales manager, were also among the victims.

Two other Michigan residents, Jackson industrialist Philip E. Giberson Sr. and stewardess Marilyn I. Bloomquist, 24, of Traverse City, also were killed.

★ ★ ★

Mourning, a Georgia Tech graduate and a World War II army sergeant, joined Dodge in 1956 after nine years as general manager of an auto dealership in East Point, Ga.

★ ★ ★

One of his sons, Virgil T., 21, is a junior at Michigan State University. The other, Ronald L., 17, attends Groves High School in Birmingham.

Mourning's wife, Opal, said today, "My husband liked flying. He has done a lot of it for his company in the last six years. He always said flying never bothered him."

Mourning was a representative in the new business department of Citizens-Southern National Bank, Atlanta, Ga., from 1942 to 1947, and collection manager for Associate Discount Corp. in Atlanta from 1940 to 1942. He was born in Jerseyville, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Herman, a native of Czechoslovakia, came to Dodge from another auto firm in 1955. He was married and the father of two children.

★ ★ ★

Welch, an MSU graduate and Air Force captain in World War II, left three children.

Preliminary Countdown Completed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Project Mercury experts today successfully completed the first section of a countdown pointed toward launching Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter into triple orbit of the earth tomorrow.

All systems in the giant Atlas rocket and Aurora 7 capsule were declared in "go" condition. The only cause for possible alarm was a haze of acrid smoke spreading from forest fires about 20 miles west of here and big swamp fires in the everglades 300 miles south.

Officials were hopeful, however, that this would not be dense enough to prevent Carpenter from taking off on the heavenly path first broken for the United States by John H. Glenn Jr. last Feb. 20.

★ ★ ★

The experts planned to take another reading on the smoke situation before picking up the countdown around midnight.

Carpenter, whose flight has been postponed four times for technical reasons, was reported at the top of his form and eager to go.

Launch time was set for sometime between 7 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Thursday, though a blastoff late in that period would cut the mission to one orbit.

Experts predict that westerly winds blowing off the Gulf of Mexico will keep the air over Cape Canaveral clear enough of smoke to permit the launch.

After a strenuous day of practice and study of heavenly charts, Carpenter went to bed early Tuesday night at his quarters in Hangar S.

The mission of Carpenter, 37-year-old lieutenant commander, bears marked resemblance to that of Lt. Col. Glenn.

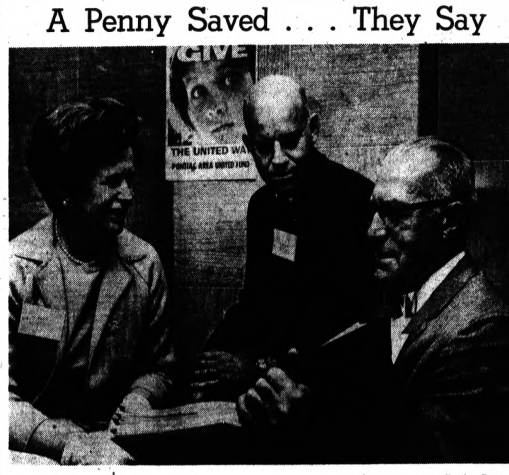

But the Navy man is by no means just following in the space footsteps of the famous Marine.

Carpenter has new experiments to perform, more things to watch, new buttons to push — in fact so many things to do that it's a wonder anybody expects even a sharply honed astronaut to stand up to the job.

Panels to Hear Budget Request

Leaders Plan for '63 UF

The Pontiac Area United Fund took the first step last night toward setting its 1962 financial goal.

Budget panel members and leaders of the local UF drive met at a dinner meeting in the Community National Bank to discuss plans for hearing 1963 budget requests of 19 different agencies.

Eighty-eight Pontiac area residents are members of the eight budget panels. They are headed by Henry D. Price, general chairman of the budget steering committee.

Price told the group of its responsibility to meet with representatives of the agencies and hear their requests.

The eight panels, each assigned to handle requests from two or three agencies, makes recommendations to the budget steering committee after hearings are completed.

The committee, in turn, reviews requests and passes its findings to the UF Board of Trustees, which will set the goal in August. Last year's goal was $672,500.

Budget panel hearings are scheduled four nights a week during June. Panel members are appointed by civic and professional groups and community leaders.

Speakers at last night's meeting, besides Price, included Fred V. Haggard, general chairman of the UF campaign, and Karl Bradley, the UF's executive director.

★ ★ ★

The men discussed the potential of this year's drive and explained the purpose of budget hearings and recommendations.

The dinner meeting was sponsored by Community National Bank.

Peiping Acting Against Exodus?

Patrol Red China Border

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Kennedy administration is considering emergency action, it was learned today, to admit some Chinese refugees from Hong Kong to the United States.

From Our News Wires

HONG KONG — Communist China has renewed its patrols along its borders with Hong Kong in what could be a move to stop—or at least curtail —the exodus of thousands of refugees into this British colony, it was reported today.

★ ★ ★

The Hong Kong Tiger Standard said that Red Chinese guards and plainclothes police were patrolling their side of the border. It quoted a Hong Kong villager living near the border as saying:

"This is the first time we have seen so many guards moving in the area."

★ ★ ★

It was not known immediately here whether the Communists had moved in to stop the exodus.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said it was the first time the Communist border patrols have been seen in the area since the refugee flight began.

In Washington, U.S. officials are becoming alarmed about the massive flow of refugees into the British crown colony.

The exodus has become so great that thousands of refugees are being sent back across the border.

★ ★ ★

The White House, State Department and other government authorities are trying to figure out how the United States can help Britain deal with the situation. Shipments of food and other relief supplies are possible as a first step.

MUST SHOW MERCY

President Kennedy was expected to discuss the problem at his news conference late today. In a message Tuesday to the United States Committee for Refugees, meeting here, he said the United States must show compassion to all those who flee from Communist tyranny.

On Capitol Hill there were demands that the United States use its huge resources of surplus foods to help the Chinese refugees.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee plans to open an inquiry next week into the plight of the refugees. State Department officials will testify Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

In Toronto, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said that Canada will admit 100 families of the refugees immediately. He said Canada also will provide food and relief for the refugees in Hong Kong.

One of the alarming elements in the situation as U.S. officials see it is the danger of an eruption of violence in the crowded British colony where facilities already are so strained that British authorities feel it necessary to turn back into Red China thousands who crossed the border.

May Delay Repeal of Tax on Rail and Buss Ticket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic House leaders have tentatively decided to delay until Jan. 1 the effective date of the planned repeal of the 10 per cent tax on railroad and bus tickets, informed sources said today.

★ ★ ★

President Kennedy recommended in his budget message that these taxes be repealed on July 1. However, the administration was reported willing to go along with the delay.

It will mean more federal revenue in the next fiscal year in which a big budget deficit is in prospect.

The sources said the House Ways and Means Committee probably will approve legislation fixing the Jan. 1 repeal date later today. The committee was called into closed session this morning.

The committee also is likely to approve a reduction to 5 per cent in the 10 per cent tax on airline tickets, effective July 1, 1963.

★ ★ ★

The President had recommended that this tax be cut to 5 per cent, effective next Jan. 1, but that other taxes be levied on the airline industry.

★ ★ ★

The tentative decision to postpone the cutback was said to have been aimed at averting a congressional fight over the administration's recommendation for the extension of certain temporary Korean War taxes. These taxes are scheduled to be cut back July 1.

Pending before the committee is the administration's request that these other levies be extended without change for another year.

Without congressional action, automatic reductions will take effect in the present tax corporate profits and excise taxes on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, passenger automobiles and auto parts and accessories.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the 10 per cent tax on telephone calls is scheduled for repeal July 1. Unless all of these taxes are continued at present levels, the administration will lose an estimated $2.6 billion in revenue in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Convicted Killer Finally Executed After 15 Stays

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Killer Howard Stickney, 23, whose execution had been stayed 15 times, stood within sight of the electric chair for 24 minutes this morning while his attorney pleaded for time to find a judge that will grant a stay.

★ ★ ★

Attorney Bob Looney held up the execution with a telephone call to the death chamber as Stickney entered it. Finally prison officials convinced him they could no longer delay the electrocution.

The killer said a brief prayer, thanking God for the many friends who worked in his behalf, and was strapped in the chair and was electrocuted.

★ ★ ★

Stickney was convicted of the May 1958 slaying of Shirley Barnes, 26, a Houston secretary. Her nude and battered body was found in her apartment.

Michigan Week Kept Alive for Students in Waterford, Pontiac

It's Michigan Week year-round in Pontiac and Waterford Schools.

That's the report from educators charged with teaching area youth the history, customs and current events of their home state.

Activity is centered mainly in the elementary schools. High schoolers are either preparing for finals or just recovering from them.

Typical of grade school efforts is Waterford's Cooley Lake Elementary School which is presenting a skit ,"The Settlement of Michigan," in classes throughout the week and for parents at an 8 p.m. Thursday PTA meeting.

In Pontiac, Hawthorne Elementary School is spreading out its program into next week. A third grade social studies program is to be presented for Education Day tomorrow on American Indians, while the vocal and instrumental music groups will sing and play songs pertaining to Michigan in a program Monday.

STATE STUDIED

Both Pontiac Supt. Dana P. Whitmer and Waterford assistant to the superintendent, Dr. Chandos Reid, pointed out that the state is studied at various points in the curriculum throughout the school year.

At St. Frederick's Parochial School, 70 Whittemore, 11 pupils turned out earlier to present a Michigan Week tableau to fellow students.

The girls clutched sprigs of white pine from the state tree and appleblossom twigs symbolizing the state flower, during a flag-raising ceremony of the state emblem.

The state bird, a robin, reportedly hopped about in the vicinity—just out of camera range.

Educators to Discuss Courses in Science

A blue-ribbon array of scientists and educators from the nation's top colleges and other institutions will meet tomorrow at Michigan State University Oakland to develop new kinds of college science courses both for science and nonscience majors.

The gathering is being supported by the National Science Foundation which last fall announced a $28,630 grant for the purpose.

It is the first time such a grant has been made to develop science education for anyone other than the future scientist, according to Dr. Robert Hoopes, assistant to the chancellor for MSUO planning.

Dr. Harry C. Kelly, deputy director of NSF, explains there are three purposes to the three-day workshop:

★ ★ ★

1—To find some solutions to the problem of integrating and developing unity in the teaching of sciences.

2—To help find the role of science in the liberal arts education.

3—To give the NSF some guidance in deciding what activities it should develop in the future.

★ ★ ★

The conference will be opened at 9 a.m. tomorrow by Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation. Outstanding experts to present papers are:

Mathematician Warren Weaver, vice president of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation, who will speak on "Science for Everybody" at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Harvard University professor of physics, Gerald Holton, who will talk on "Science in General Education: Some Criteria for Designing and Improving College Programs" at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Tyler, director of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford University, who will present the topic, "The Place of the Behavioral Sciences," at 4 p.m. Thursday.

To File Protest Over Allocation

Elmer Johnson Claims Millage Portion Should Go to Waterford Twp.

Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson said today he would file a protest with the Oakland County Allocation Board for not including his township in the preliminary millage spread announced Monday.

★ ★ ★

The only charter township in Oakland County, Waterford had asked for 1.23 mills from the allocation board. The board decreed that since Waterford is a charter township, it can levy its own millage up to five mills over the 15-mill limit.

"According t law, all townships are entitled to a minimum of one mill if their proposed budgets warrant it," Johnson said. "Apparently the allocation board is putting us in the same category as a city," the supervisor added. Cities do not come under the 15-mill program.

Preliminary millage spreads set by the allocation board were 5.40 mills for the county government, an average M 8.6 mills for school districts and approximately one mill for townships.

Johnson said he will present a formal protest as soon as he receives written notification from the allocation board of Waterford Township's exclusion in the millage spread.

Storms Diminish Across Midwest

By The Associated Press

Storms diminished across the Midwest today after another outbreak of tornadoes, heavy rain and hail and damaging winds for the second straight day.

Thunderstorms continued far into the night in the Middle and Upper Mississippi Valley.

★ ★ ★

A weakening squall line that had set off tornadoes in southern Minnesota and northeastern Kansas was accompanied by severe thunderstorms in northern Missouri, eastern Iowa, southeastern Minnesota and southwestern Wisconsin.

Violent thunderstorms raked Iowa, with heaviest damage in eastern sections of the state.

RAID IN MINNESOTA

Twisters which hit several communities in Minnesota knocked out power and telephone lines, uprooted several buildings and toppled trees. The tornadoes were reported in Owatonna, Geneva, Hartland, Grand Meadows and Albert Lea. No injuries were reported.

A tornado damaged two farm houses near Leavenworth, Kan., and touched down briefly in Leavenworth.

Death Penalty Asked for Salan

Prosecutor Regrets Ex-General Failed to Renounce Violence

PARIS (UP) — The prosecution today demanded the death sentence for Ex-Gen. Raqul Salan, on trial before a special military court on charges of treason.

Gray-haired Andre Gavalda made the demand in a two-hour statement as the seven-day trial neared its end. A verdict is expected late tonight.

"I had hoped that you would renounce your approval of violence," Gavalda said, speaking to Salan. "I had hoped you would speak a word for conciliation (between Europeans and Moslems in Algeria).

"Alas! You kept silent."

Under the circumstances, Gavalda said, he could find no reason in his heart to call for a lighter penalty.

★ ★ ★

Gavalda looked directly at Salan, Salan sat in the prisoner's box, flanked by four somber-faced guards, and showed no emotion.

Salan is on trial for his part in the April 1961 putsch in Algiers, and on charges of leading the Secret Army terrorist organization after the uprising collapsed.

A special nine-man military tribunal may impose the death penalty. The same court passed such a sentence on Ex-Gen. Edmond Jubaud on conviction of similar charges.

Juhaud is now in a death row cell, and only executive clemency by President Charles de Gaulle can save him.

Dutch Evacuate 800 From Battle Zones

HOLLANDIA, West New Guinea (UPI) — The Dutch government shipped 800 women and children safely out of battle areas in West New Guinea today and ordered a news blackout preparatory to launching a major attack on Indonesian invaders.

Many of the women reaching the north coast said they wanted to return to the Netherlands. They said they did not expect to see their homes here again.

The government took the actions as military forces moved to isolate Indonesian paratroopers and soldiers prior to the start of "mopping up" operations.

from the FAA surveillance radar at Kansas City.

About that time, too, Mrs. Carl Jones, wife of the postmaster at Cincinnati, Iowa, saw a bright blue flash in the sky. Others saw it too.

★ ★ ★

Residents of this farm country disagreed about the sound that followed. Some described it as a popping sound. Others as a loud explosion.

Mrs. Junior Rollins, 35, a farm wife from just north of here, said she heard a large clap, like thunder just after a storm had passed over the area.

She looked out the door and stars were shining from a clear sky, she said.

The Weather Bureau said squall lines packing winds up to 80 miles an hour were pounding through the Kirksville area about the time the plane was lost on the radar screen.

Two Centerville men, Jack Morris and Leo Craver, found the first piece of wreckage on Highway 60 about five miles south of Centerville. It was a curved piece of metal.

They brought it to the police station. Officers phoned the highway patrol and were told a Continental plane was missing.

STARTED SEARCH

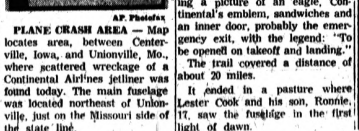

Search parties set out and found a trail of bits and pieces of debris.

The trail led in a southwesterly direction over the Iowa line and into Missouri.

Here and there the searchers found reminders of what they knew must lie ahead—a door bearing a picture of an eagle, Continental's emblem, sandwiches and an inner door, probably the emergency exit, with the legend: "To be opened on takeoff and landing."

The trail covered a distance of about 20 miles.

Other U.S. 707 Mishap Killed 95

Crash's Boeing's 3rd

NEW YORK (UP) — The crash of a Continental Airlines jet in Missouri today was the second in this country involving loss of life for passengers of a commercial Boeing 707.

★ ★ ★

The first occurred last March 1 when an American Airlines Boeing dived into Jamaica Bay shortly after taking off from Idlewild Airport here, killing all 95 aboard.

A third Boeing 707 crash took place outside the United States when a Sabena Airlines plane fell near Brussels, Belgium, on Feb. 15, 1961. Seventy-three persons died, including 18 American figure skating stars.

Three years ago the Federal Aviation Agency rejected an appeal by Rep. Steven Derounian, R-N.Y., to ground the big planes pending re-examination of their air worthiness.

The congressman made his request after a military 707 crashed at Calverton, N.Y., IN August of 1959, on a training flight, killing five crewmen.

★ ★ ★

The agency said that in certifying the plane less than a year before it had found it to be "one of the best engineering products American aviation is capable of producing."

The Day in Birmingham

Reveal Art Exhibit Plans, Appointment of Chairman

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for the third National Art Exhibition and the appointment of Lee A. Iacocca as general chairman were announced last night at a dinner at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Iacocca, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Ford Division, said the show will be held Oct. 10-25 in the new Knights of Columbus building at 30755 Southfield Road, at 13-Mile Road.

Rev. William B. Davidson of Holy Name Church, which is sponsoring the exhibition, said that some 350 works in painting, sculpture, mosaic, metalcraft, graphics and crafts will be entered in the invitational showing by outstanding American artists.

The purpose of the exhibition, according to Fr. Davidson, is to stimulate public interest in and appreciation of religious art, and to encourage private ownership of religious art objects.

The first exhibition was held in 1959 at the Holy Name Church gymnasium and attracted 6,000 visitors. In 1960, the show moved to a geodesic dome on Lahser Road where 10,000 persons streamed through the prize exhibits.

The establishment of the Rocco DiMarco Memorial Purchase prize of $1,000 was also announced by Fr. Davidson. It will be awarded by the jury to the most outstanding work of art in the exhibition.

The late Mr. DiMarco was an artist who was instrumental in the creation of the exhibition.

The Senior High Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual spring Workday for Christ on Saturday.

Residents needing any type of work done can contact the church office.

Money earned will be used for the Fellowship's mission work.

Former Police Chief Voted Life Pension

tiated by police department records and the action is "in the best interests of the city . . . and its citizens . . . to accomplish a final settlement and disposition of this case."

It was offered by Commissioner Milton R. Henry.

The settlement, however, won't be made unless a signed release is submitted by Straley acknowledging "full and complete settlement of his claim."

Straley was unavailable for comment today.

★ ★ ★

The resolution asserts that the settlement "shall not be considered a precedent" but that it "shall constitute an exception to the personnel rules or any existing rule or regulation."

According to City Finance Director Marvin M. Alward, "back pay for the compensatory, vacation and sick leave days would total $12,357.

"With tax and retirement deductions, he would pocket about $9,800 of that. By getting service credit for those days, he would end up with a total of 9 years, 10 months and 7 days service.

★ ★ ★

"To become eligible for a pension (10 years service requirement) he technically needs only 9 years, 10 months. The rules count 10 months of any given year as a full year's service credit," Alward explained.

Taylor blasted the move charging that "there is no question but what the payoff is in the making.

"To suggest altering the personnel rules to make possible this payment to appease a man who couldn't hold the loyalty of a department, is now only appeasing the men who were put on this Commission to accomplish this objective," Taylor asserted.

"It appears to me that the strings on the puppets are being pulled to do the job which they were put in to do. I can't, nor will I have any part in this.

"If Straley is . . . paid off at the expense of taxpayers there'll be a judgment and-or lawsuit. The total cost to the city's taxpayers for this appeasement will be $32,000," he added.

He offered no explanation of the $32,000.

New Law Aimed at Tree Thieves

Swainson Signs Bill Governing Sale of Christmas Evergreens

LANSING (AP) — Christmas tree thieves are the target of a bill signed into law by Gov. Swainson.

★ ★ ★

The measure requires a bill of sale or proof of ownership by those cutting, removing, transporting or selling Christmas trees, evergreen boughs or other shrubs or vines within the state.

The Department of Agriculture is given the responsibility of enforcement and has the right to inspect vehicles when it is believed the act is being violated.

It does not apply to the sale or transportation of less than three Christmas trees during the month of December.

OTHER MEASURES

Other bills signed by the governor will:

Provide that acceptance of deposits at a school by a bank shall not constitute a branch facility.

Authorize the board of supervisors of counties with a tuberculosis hospital to establish a board of county institutions to maintain and operate the hospital and medical care facilities or county homes.

Give the Conservation Department authority to use revenues received from the sale of forest products from tax-reverted lands anywhere in the state. Previously, the use of such monies was restricted to a few northern counties.

Urban Renewal Plans Wing Way to U.S. Office

The final plans for Pontiac's second urban renewal project, R44, are on their way today to Chicago offices of the Urban Renewal Agency (URA) and Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA). There are hopes that the final stamp of approval by federal officials will come within a month.

A public hearing on the project plans was completed last Thursday. Commissioners last night voted final approval as required by the URA before the final federal okay can be granted.

The estimated $2.8-million project covers 19.6 acres in an area between Saginaw Street and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad main line.

★ ★ ★

After approval by the URA a loan and grant contract can be entered into between the city and federal government to finance the project.

Once the contract is signed, the city can begin to purchase property, clear land, initiate site improvements and sell the cleared land.

★ ★ ★

City officials propose to complete the project in three to five years. Appraisals already have been completed on property marked for acquisition.

TO WRECK 43

There are 45 structures in the R44 area, 43 of which are designated for demolition. Of these, 41 are commercial and two residential.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry last night asked City Manager Robert A. Stierer to make sure the owners of Lewis Furniture Co., one of two buildings not presently slated for clearance, "agree to include their building for acquisition at current appraisal values if clearance of their property becomes necessary at a later date."

The furniture company was left out due to the owners' program to rehabilitate the building on Saginaw at Orchard Lake Avenue in recent years.

The city will pay 25 per cent, or about $461,680 of the net project cost of $1.8 million.

The cost of property acquisition is estimated at $1,700,796 with clearance and improvements estimated to cost $765,142.

Bethany Baptist Nursery School pupils attend to last minute details in preparing for the open house set for Thursday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. From left to right are Daniel Haden of Miami Road, Gretchen Heine of Draper Avenue, and twins, Sandra and Scott Linn, of Sylvan Shores Drive. The gathering is open to all interested parents and residents of the community.

To 'Show Off' Nursery School

Bethany Nursery School of Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron at Mark streets, will hold open house Thursday 7:30 to 9 p.m. for interested parents and residents of the community.

A special program has been arranged with Jane Werneken, director of the Grosse Pointe University Nursery School, as guest speaker. She will present and narrate "The Nursery School in Action," a motion picture in color.

The staff of the school, Muriel Prowse and Bea Cheney, will answer questions about Bethany's weekday nursery program.

★ ★ ★

This open house marks the official beginning of enrollment for the fall semester which begins when public schools open in September.

The school provides an opportunity for preschool children to play together, to acquire good social habits and to develop creative expression under trained leadership.

CAN CALL OFFICE

Parents are invited to enroll children in the school during the open house or by calling the office of Bethany Baptist Church. Youngsters who will be four years old by Dec. 1 will be enrolled in the Monday, Wednesday and Friday program; those who will be 3 by that date will enter the Tuesday-Thursday sessions. Beginning in September, both sessions will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each weekday morning.

★ ★ ★

The Bethany Nursery School was started last September through the initiative of Dr. Emil Kontz, pastor, and the Board of Christian Education of the Bethany Baptist Church.

Forget Them, Abby Says

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago I invited five girls, with whom I work to my home for a barbecue supper. They all accepted, and arrived at 6:30 on the dot.

ABBY

I worked hard to prepare everything in advance — with all the trimmings. My house was spotless, and I was looking forward to a lovely evening. One girl bolted her supper, and left at 7, saying she had to play softball with her daughter. Another left at 7:30 to go bowling. The third girl left at 7:45 because she had a date with her fiance. The other two seemed embarrassed.

Knowing they liked to sing, I opened the piano and tried to rescue the evening by playing while they sang. Very red-faced, one said her husband asked her not to stay late, so she left at 8:05, and the other one had to drive her home. My husband said not to let it bother me. Am I overly sensitive?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I have heard of one lemon in an office, but you must work in a grove. Your husband is right. Don't let it bother you. And don't bother to invite them again, either.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a 5-year-old mule named Bertha. She is a devoted animal and very affectionate. She follows me everywhere, nudges and pushes with her head and slobbers on my clothing. This makes my wife very angry. She says that either Bertha goes, or she does. Bertha is my best mule and brings in $635 a year. What should I do?

MONTANA

DEAR MONTANA: Get rid of Bertha. One mule in the family is enough.

DEAR ABBY: I have looked in every cook book I could lay my hands on and I cannot find a recipe for plain old-fashioned butterscotch pudding. Doesn't a recipe exist?

Don't tell me to make vanilla pudding and substitute brown sugar for white, because I've tried it and it doesn't work. And don't recommend that packaged powder stuff you add milk to. I want the kind my mother used to make from scratch. Can you help me?

CRAVES BUTTERSCOTCH PUDDING

DEAR CRAVES: You need an old-fashioned cook book and I don't have one. If any of my readers has a recipe for butterscotch pudding (made from scratch) please send it to me as I am itching to help my reader. (And I'd like to try it myself.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What have you got against the cigarette industry anyway?

C. W.

DEAR C. W.: I have nothing against the cigarette industry. But I have plenty against the big-name athletes who tell our young people how "mild," "satisfying" and refreshing" a cigarette is.

I think we should take up a collection for athletic stars who are so hungry for money that, for a few extra bucks, they will encourage young people to smoke, knowing that it undermines their health.

Cast in 'Bloomingham'

Leading man of the musical comedy "The Bloomingham Newcomers," which will run every evening at the 1962 Birmingham Arts Festival, is Robert Dearth of Bloomfield Hills.

He joins a cast of 60 announced recently after three try-out sessions. His costar is comedienne Mrs. Dean (Winnie) Coffin of Birmingham who delighted audiences at the 1960 "Bloomingham Eccentrics." She is also featured in several popular television series.

Over 100 actors, dancers and singers came from as far as Detroit to try for roles in the sequel to the "Bloomingham Eccentrics."

"The Bloomingham Newcomers" will be shown nightly, June 21-24, in a geodesic dome outside the Birmingham Arts Center, headquarters of the sponsoring Bloomfield Art Association. Both local theater groups, S. Dunstans' Guild and the Birmingham Village Players, are cooperating in producing the musical.

PLAY COUPLE

Mrs. Coffin and Mr. Dearth play a man and wife team in this suburban spoof. The plot centers around the twosome as they become newcomers to "Bloomingham" and its 215 organizations.

Their stage children are Anne d'Hyevre and Jeffrey Gilbert, both of Birmingham. Other lead roles went to John Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Matousek and Mrs. Arthur Ne Hill.

L. James Schneider, general chairman of the musical, said "The Bloomingham Newcomers" will be a "real communitywide effort."

Home Nursing? Wear a Mask

While serving as a home nurse, safeguard the patient from a secondary infection by wearing a gauze mask over your nose and mouth, advises the New York State Department of Health.

★ ★ ★

This is because you may be carrying germs which your patient, in his weakened condition, can easily pick up.

Other important precautions are to always wash your hands with soap after removing a used mask, and to launder the masks in hot soap or detergent suds after each wearing.

It's Good for You

Exercise the Blood Vessels

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Why is regular, daily exercise important to our health and good looks? There are many reasons. One is that our blood vessels get exercised. Our blood vessels are lined with muscular fibers. When these do not get enough exercise, they shrink.

The only way in the world to exercise blood vessels is to exercise. Exercise calls for more oxygen in the blood stream. When your heart beats faster to meet this demand, it pushes along more blood.

The blood vessels must expand in order to take care of the increased circulation. Then they contract naturally. This expansion and contraction is exercise for them. According to authorities, flabby blood vessels are more susceptible to degenerative changes.

REDISTRIBUTES WEIGHT

Also, exercise is especially important when reducing. It redistributes your weight more attractively, and you will avoid the flabbiness which some women experience when reducing too rapidly without exercise and a proper diet.

Exercise also is valuable in banishing many vague, little discomforts and twinges, constipation and chronic fatigue and an army of other harmless but annoying symptoms you can acquire after 30.

This version of the twist not only will make you feel better, but will benefit your waist, abdomen, hips and legs. Step forward, twist inward with hip, foot and leg and swing arms and upper body to the right, and repeat with left.

The ideal would be to indulge in regular exercise all along the way. If you have not done so and wish to begin this rejuvenating, do one thing first. See your physician for a checkup and get his approval. After that, you are on your own. Age does not count nearly so much as your physical condition.

There are guides you can use. If you are tired after your exercise, whether it be a walk or mat exercises, or tennis or golf or swimming, this is a sign that you are doing too much. Cut down on the amount of exercise and build up gradually, without fatigue.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my exercises planned especially for the most usual feminine faults, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Hula-gams Hits During Sunny Leisure Hours

(UPI) — The "grass" skirt made of materials other than the original promise to be a popular item for beachwear this summer. Or, for that matter, for other leisure-hour occasions.

One copy of the Polynesian skirt is made of grass-like strings of polyethylene and is adjustable to any size. The skirt can be trimmed to the desired length with a pair of scissors, and adjusted to any waist size by moving the fastener to one of the series of loops built into the waistband. The synthetic skirt comes in grass green, turquoise, straw, and black and white.

The other skirt, called hulagams, is fashioned from layers on layers of ribbon-narrow strips of cotton cut with pinking shears from old bedsheets and dyed into a multitude of colors. These are sewn onto a dyed cotton waistband which ties.

In Candlelight Ceremony

Pontiac Couple Weds

Before an alar banked with white orchids, carnations and roses, Judith Ann Manns exchanged vows with Leonard M. Gavette in Behany Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Emil Kontz officiated throughout the candlelight ceremonies, performed before a small family gathering Saturday evening.

For her wedding the brid chose a white peau de soie gown trimmed with seed pearl and aurora borealis crystals. The ballerina length gown featured a Sabrina neckline and self-embroidered bodice. Her fingertip Swedish veil of double illusion lace was also trimmed with seed pearl and aurora crystals.

The bride carried a cascade of white orchids, roses and carnations combined with lilies-of-the-valley.

Linda Jean Manns and Carol Manns were their cousin's maid of honor and attendant respectively. The maid of honor wore a pink lace jacket over a pink chiffon ballerina length skirt.

A matching blue ensemble was the choice of the bridesmaid, which again featured the lace jacket over pale blue chiffon. Both carried a white orchid.

Gary Gasco of Waterford was best man and the bridegroom's uncle, Lloyd Manns, seated the guests.

A reception at the bride's Newberry Street address and given by her parents, the Orville W. Manns, followed the wedding.

★ ★

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Manns selected a beige lace over white taffeta with Nile green accessories. The bridegroom's parents are the Leonard C. Gavettes of Kempf Drive. Mrs. Gavette wors an emerald green silk sheath with white accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

★ ★

After their honeymoon to northern Michigan the Gavettes will be honored at an open house June 3, 1 to 5 p.m. at the Manns residence.

More than one-third of the male doctors in the United States earn more than $20,000 a year.

Offers Theater School

The lure to trade a few hours of sunlight for limelight will be dangled before area residents this summer by a professional actor-producer-dancer at Michigan State University Oakland.

The occasion is the first theater school to be offered by MSUO's Continuing Education Division. Classes begin June 25 and will be held for six weeks, five days a week from 10 a.m. to noon.

Directed by William W. Merrill, former producer at Detroit Music Hall and owner-director of Will-O-Way Playhouse, the theater school is planned for college and high school age students and adults.

★ ★

"Since the only way to learn theater is by experience," Mr. Merrill explains, "we'll have as our goal the practical production of a three-act comedy."

He adds that the play will be chosen to suit the size and make-up of the group.

The four courses will be:

Show rehearsal — directed by Mr. Merrill on Mondays and Thursdays.

Acting and speech — directed by Adeline Hirschfeld, instructor in speech and theater at Wayne State University and stage, television and film actress, on Tuesdays.

★ ★ ★

Modern Dance — taught by Elizabeth Appleton, former dance instructor at the University of Minnesota, George Washington University and at community centers, Ys and with adult organizations. Mrs. Appleton has studied dance in New York and at Bennington College, on Wednesdays.

Technical theater production — directed by Mr. Merrill on Fridays.

Each of the courses may also be chosen individually. Information may be obtained from the division of continuing education, Michigan State University Oakland.

Work Lip Magic With Clean Brush

(NEA) — If you use the same lipstick brush to apply all your various shades of lipstick, be sure that the lipstick in the brush from the previous application has been removed.

Besides hindering a smooth application, the mixture of two different shades may produce an unflattering color effect.

Soap Dope

Add a little ammonia to the soap or detergent suds, and your ceramic tile floor will come out gleaming white. Regular washing several times a week will prevent most stubborn spots, but a stiff scrubbing brush may be used if needed.

Let the tile dry thoroughly—preferably with window open — before replacing the rug, hamper, scale or other furnishings usually found in a bathroom.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Winner of this week's Tailor Trix pressing board was Irs. Iva Combs, Roseburg, Ore., who sent this helpful hint:

"When making blouses or dresses with the popular roll-up sleeves, draw a thread at the end of the sleeve length before cutting to be sure it is absolutely straight.

Next, carefully mark each roll line, then draw a thread from each of these marks. Do the same for each sleeve. This way, you will never have to guess where to roll your sleeve when ironing them and they will always be even.

The drawn thread doesn't show when wearing garment because it will be exactly on the fold of your material."

Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Is it possible to make a short-sleeved, cardigan type sweater from a slipover sweater? It is so hard to find the right color in this type of sweater, to match a dress, although it often is possible to buy a short-sleeved slipover."

Mrs. B.C.

Dear Mrs. B.C.:

Yes, this is possible and not too difficult. However, you must be very careful to take the proper precautions before cuting into the sweater.

First, mark the exact center front of the sweater by folding it in half. Mark the center by hand-basting with a colored thread.

Second, baste a strip of seam tape on the wrong side of the sweater, directly over your center front.

MACHINE STITCH

Third, use a short machine stitch to stitch about four rows of stitching down the center of your sweater. Now carefully cut the sweater at the center front, through the seam binding.

If you are going to bind the front edges with part of your garment fabric, you may place the binding over the cut edges of the sweater without trimming any of the sweater away.

If you wish to finish the two front edges with grosgrain ribbon, turn the cut edge of the sweater over about ¼ inch and machine stitch the ribbon on each side. Buttonholes can be made through the grosgrain ribbon.

★ ★

There are many novel ways of trimming sweaters. You can fold back the sweater at the neckline and make a sailor collar for a nautical look. You can add a Peter Pan type collar to match your dress. If you think of some very unusual way to coordinate your sweater with your dress, please send us your ideas.

MUST EASE NECK

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"Whenever I use a strip of bias to finish the neckline or armholes of a dress, it seems impossible for me to get it to stay flat. My dress always wrinkles at the lower edge of the bias facing. There must be something I do or don't do that causes this, and I need help."

Mrs. P.V.

Dear Mrs. P.V.:

It sounds to me as though you are pulling the bias facing too tight. You must ease the bias facing as you pin it to the neck edge or the armholes. Remember, the lower edge of the bias must be flat and it will be only if you have allowed enough fabric for this.

I find it much more satisfactory to cut my own facings from the bodice pattern. Use your pattern for the outline of the outer edges; now remove pattern and cut your facings about 3 inches wide. These facings should be cut on the same grain line as your garment. Since they are cut to an exact pattern, you will have no more difficulty.

"Dear Eunice,

"When I make a fitted princess style dress, how can I take the fullness out of the upper part of the back? The only way I can do this is by taking the whole dress up at the shoulders and it is so much extra work."

Mrs. P.E.H.

Dear Mrs. P.E.H.:

Your dress is too long waisted and, although this is a very easy pattern adjustment to make, it is necessary to do it before cutting the dress.

Tie a string very tightly around your waistline. Have someone measure you from the shoulder, over the bust and to the string in front. Do the same in the back. Since a princess style dress must fit smoothly at the waist, it can't have any extra fabric for ease such as you would need for a dress with a belt.

Now measure your pattern from seam line to seam line at exactly the same place you measured yourself. They must be the same length. If the bodice is too long or too short, the correction must be made about 3 inches above the waistline.

Dear Fans,

If you are machine stitching the last step of your zipper, making welt seams, or edge stitching the outer edges of your garment, turn your garment INSIDE OUT. You will still do the machine stitching on the RIGHT side of the garment, but it will feed into the machine much easier since your garment will lie flat in this position.

Please send your sewing "tips" to Sew Simple. They will be considered in awarding a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for the best "tip." Send all your questions to Sew Simple, in care of the Pontiac Press.

Professor Urges Halt in Dropouts

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—If dropping out of school was a disease instead of a social problem, this country would muster all resources and cure it.

★ ★ ★

This, Prof. William W. Wattenberg of Wayne State University, Detroit, said today, is the tragedy of American society.

Wattenberg told the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, convening here:

"Let us assume that suddenly a new disease appeared which struck down 40 per cent of our youth and left them obviously weakened to the point where they could not work at regular jobs.

"Faced with that type of disaster, both private foundations and the government would pour out funds to organize rescue or rehabilitation and would launch the massive type of research which turned the tide against polio and other life-wrecking diseases."

Wattenberg said that if left unsolved, the school drop-out problem will constitute a national emergency.

'PTA SHOULD ACT'

"Our organization (the PTA) may well rise to a peak of social statesmanship by seeing that in each school system what needs to be done for school drop outs is done," he said.

Wattenberg said school dropouts differ from those who graduate from high school not so much in intelligence as in one or more of the following four points:

From the very start, they had trouble learning to read.

By the third or fourth grade, they had trouble in arithmetic.

They came from homes where little value was given to education.

It Wasn't Bribery, but Conscience Money

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

On Saturday mornings my 13-year-old boy has been taking the laundry to the automatic laundry in the shopping cart and bringing it home. I've been paying him 40 cents for this.

I now hear that the mother of one of his friends is going around telling people that I "bribe" him to work for me. I don't want to teach him to take "bribes." Should I ask him to take the laundry for nothing or should I try to find the time to do it myself?

ANSWER: Oh come on now. You don't want to be bothered with this laundramat chore on Saturday mornings.

Are you sure that it's this gossip about "bribing" your youngster that is really worrying you? Maybe it isn't. Maybe it has just touched off the real uneasiness, uncertainty of your right to ask your boy to do this interfering chore for you. Lots of us are like this.

★ ★ ★

If we dislike a chore like this, we'll feel uncomfortable at asking a child to do it for us. Feeling mean and snide, we will offer him money to do it. But what we are paying him isn't a "bribe," it's "conscience money."

So let's look at this uncertainty of our right to ask a child to do what we don't like doing. Why aren't we entitled to pay for some household tasks to others?

★ ★ ★

What law requires us to love taking wash to the laundry? None I know of. So let's happily accept our dislike of it. Then we're rid of the protesting and unreasonable conscience that compels us to offer money to our son to do it.

OUT OF GRATITUDE

Now we can give him his 40 cents in genuine and relaxed appreciation of the relief his helpfulness means to us. Now any gossip we hear about our "bribing" him can go in one ear and out the other.

For now we know why we are paying him. We know that we are giving him his 40 cents, neither in "bribe" him nor to silence our conscience, but to express gratitude.

Our uncertainty is gone — and, with it our worried response to silly criticism.

We need to get straight on this business of "bribing" kids. So, I want to again report that the dictionary definition of "bribery" is the use of money or some other form of gain "to persuade another person to do wrong."

★ ★ ★

Thus, giving Johnny a candy at bedtime is not bribing him to accept sleep as accepting sleep is the right thing for him to do. Paying Bill for relieving us of a time-consuming chore is not bribing him because it is right for him to experience himself as a relieving and helpful person.

Bribery is payment for immoral effort. Reward is the acknowledgement of constructive effort.

Reward is what you have been giving to your son.

Substitute Stars in Opera at Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Metropolitan opera soprano Phyllis Curtin came to the rescue of an ailing diva on an hour's notice last night and turned in a triumphal performance of one of opera's most difficult roles.

★ ★ ★

Without any preparation, the shapely young beauty from West Virginia sang the title role in Richard Strauss' "Salome" and received 10 solo curtain calls at the end of her performance.

★ ★ ★

"It was largely a question of how much I would remember of the role," Miss Curtin said later.

Metropolitan officials sent out a frantic SOS to Miss Curtin at 7 p.m. when Brenda Lewis, who was to have sung the role of the sensuous Salome, was ordered to her room by a doctor.

Fortunately, Miss Curtin had not eaten much food because she did not like her dinner and therefore was able to sing without discomfort.

ARRIVED AT SIX

"I hadn't sung the opera since December in Vienna," Miss Curtin said. "I arrived here from Salt Lake City at six in the evening and at seven I saw Miss Lewis backstage. I thought everything was all right."

But Miss Lewis, who earlier had complained she was not feeling well, found that her condition was worsening and a doctor was summoned.

WARM REUNION

"It was a wonderful, warm evening," Miss Curtin said. "It was a reunion. There were so many things to get used to—the staging and the setting. I never sang the role with the Met but everything worked out fine. I love to do Salome and hope to do it again."

Miss Curtin was eloquently equipped to do the famed "Dance of the Seven Veils," in which Salome peels down to little more than a bikini.

Miss Curtin said she felt more than just at home in the performance.

★ ★ ★

"Walter Cassel, who sang the role of Jochanaan in Salome, was the man who sang with me the first time I appeared with the Met in New York," she said.

★ ★ ★

But she complained that soldiers in the last scene unintentionally were rough with their shields. In this scene Salome, the seductress, is beaten to death.

"I feel black and blue," she said. "When the soldiers got over with their shields, they really pounded me."

It was the second straight night that a leading soprano became ill in Detroit. Anna Moffo, 27, fainted after completing the "mad scene" in "Lucia di Lammermoor" at the Met's opening night performance here. It was later learned that Miss Moffo was suffering from exhaustion.

Club Holds Benefit Sale

The Business Institute Women's Club met at the home of Mrs. Lehr Miller on Clayton Street Saturday afternoon for their regular meeting and a benefit sale.

Mrs. Hon Beutler conducted the sale, proceeds going to the Luvella Minard Scholarship Fund. Items which were not sold were sent to the State Hospital.

The scholarship committee will interview applicants for the scholarship within the next two weeks. Bonnie Adair was a guest of the club.

Tradition has it that the ground hog emerges from his den on Feb. 2 to look for his shadow. Failure to cast one means an early spring and a good harvest; the sight of one, six weeks more of winter and poor crops.

Ballet at White House

VIP Sees 'Western'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Ballet Theatre, aided by a stereo recording, danced Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid" last night for a glittering state party in the White House.

The 28 dancers, dressed in cowboy outfits, swooped around the small stage in the East Room with great gusto, much to the delight of the honored visitors, President Felix Houphouet-Boigny of the Ivory Coast.

Copland had said before the performance he was somewhat concerned over the cramped stage and the recorded music, which was taped in stereo by the Marine Orchestra and played over camouflaged loudspeakers.

But he was the first to leap to his feet with shouts of "bravo" at the performance's end.

In the leads were John Kriza and ballerina Ruth Ann Koesun. The choreography was by Eugene Loring.

Before the performance, President Kennedy compared his power at the polls with President Houphouet-Boigny and proclaimed his state visitor an easy winner.

TOASTS VISITOR

Lifting his glass of champagne at a White House dinner last night, Kennedy toasted the West African leader for racking up 98 per cent of the vote of his country in a free election.

He added with a smile that President Houphouet - Boigny's record "has not been equaled recently in the United States — and from all I read, will not be."

At show time, the President and Mrs. Kennedy led their guests into the East Room for a performance of the ballet.

The guest of honor, speaking in French, called it a "magnificent evening."

Jacqueline Kennedy wore a white net gown glittering with brilliants. Her hair, less bouffant, was pulled becomingly over her ears.

The visiting first lady wore an ivory full skirted evening gown and a diamond necklace that shone in the dark.

Troy Mentioned as College Site

School Board Pleased District Considered as Location

Possibility of locating an Oakland County Community College in Troy came to light last night at a meeting of the Troy Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

Board members instructed that a letter be sent to the Citizens' Steering Committee of the Oakland County Community College Study stating that the board "would be proud to have the college located in Troy as has been rumored."

Although officials of the study project were, not available for comment this morning, it is understood that Troy is one of the locations under consideration for the proposed college.

A complete report by the committee whether a vote of county residents on establishment of such a community college district is recommended and on feasible sites is expected shortly.

★ ★ ★

If brought to a vote, possibly in November, the proposal would also ask a one-mill tax levy for construction and operation of a college.

'Witness' Better; Refused Transfusion

A 60-year-old Pontiac Jehovah's Witness this morning appeared to be recovering from surgery without a blood transfusion which he refused on religious grounds.

Last week Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Director Harry Whitlow had feared he would need a court order if the condition of Joseph Hampton worsened. Hampton, a bachelor, residing at 449 S. Edith St., is now off the critical list and described in good condition.

★ ★ ★

"If he'd got blood earlier, he'd have been all right soon after the operation," Whitlow said. "The doctor did a wonderful job in removing a bleeding gastric ulcer. The operation was successful."

Stock Woodwork Can Be Attractive

The clean lines of contemporary styling give a cool look to modern homes. For contrasting warmth, decorators, architects, and home owners often turn to wood.

★ ★ ★

Economical as well as attractive, stock woodwork of ponderosa pine adds traditional beauty to homes of any architectural style. Moldings, fireplaces, doors, windows, shutters, and staircases of ponderosa pine are available in units, ready to install, from building material dealers.

★ ★ ★

The many styles and sizes of these units make considerable savings possible by eliminating much of the custom carpentry that the warmth and beauty of woodwork once required.

Attack on Guard Adds 10 Years to Convict's Term

An attack on a Michigan Reformatory Guard in Ionia has added 10 to 15 years to two terms already being served by Larry M Farland, an inmate first convicted for a Birmingham safe burglary.

★ ★ ★

McFarland, 22, who lived at 1220 E. Meyers Ave., Hazel Park, was sentenced yesterday on the assault charge by visiting Circuit Judge John VanderWal in Ionia.

Guard Eugene Van Vleck suffered severe head wounds when beaten with a length of pipe in an attempted jail break Oct. 11, authorities say. Other guards subdued the prisoner.

McFarland originally was sentenced in Oakland County Circuit Court June 8, 1959, for stealing a safe containing $8,000 in bonds and stocks from a Birmingham home.

★ ★ ★

He also has been sentenced to one to 4½ years for prison escape in Ionia Circuit Court.

Bad Day at Pembine Leaves Farmer Weak

PEMBINE, Wis. (UP) — It was just one of those days for William Anderson, who farms and also has a job in a garage.

★ ★ ★

At 7:30 a.m., a cream separator exploded, cutting his face, neck, arms and legs.

At 9 a.m., a car battery foamed up and splattered his clothes with battery acid.

★ ★ ★

At 2 p.m., a jack handle slipped and cut him on the nose.

At 6 p.m., Anderson slipped on ice and sprained an ankle.

Stay in Your Backyard for Summer Fun

"Backyard living seems to have became the national outdoor sport during the spring and summer months," observes Bill Hoofe, a housing authority for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

★ ★ ★

"For example, a generation or two ago when the family wanted to go for a swim, they headed for the beach, a lake or the old swimmin' hole. Now, nearly a quarter of a million families don't have to go any farther than the backyard for a swim, since about 250,000 families own private swimming pools," Hoofe explains.

Since World War II people have been living in their backyards more than ever before, says Hoofe. It all started with an outdoor grille to cook Saturday night hamburgers or hot dogs. Patio living and private pools have resulted.

"While people obviously enjoy outdoor living, they also want the conveniences of indoor living such as comfortable lawn furniture, lighting arrangements and a measure of privacy," he adds.

Waterford Area Voters Get Notice on Precinct

The Waterford Township clerk's office is in the process of mailing precinct change notices to the approximately 22,000 registered voters in the community specifying the political and school precincts where voters will cast future ballots.

This project is being undertaken as a result of recent precinct revisions in both the township and school district.

In most cases the political and school precinct at which an individual will vote will be different, according to Township Clerk James Seeterlin.

The township or political precincts now number 23 after being boosted from 18 due to heavy new registrations. School district precincts were increased from five to eight for the same reason.

Along with the notice of precinct revisions, each voter will also receive a blue, pocket-size registration certificate. These will supercede the previously issued pink cards.

CUTS WORK

Recent action by the Township Board authorized the township to provide the school district with election records on the day of a school election, thus eliminating the necessity of the School Board maintaining a separate set of records.

Use of the township registration records will become effective with the June 11 school election.

Beginning with next month's election the following political precinct-school precinct system will apply.

School precinct No. 1 will include political precincts No. 1, 2, 14 and 19. School precinct No. 2 will embrace political precincts 5, 7 and 11. School precinct No. 3 will consist of political precincts 9, 18 and 23 and a portion of West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

School precinct No. 4 takes in political precincts 3, 12 and 20 and a part of Independence Township and School precinct No. 5 includes political precinct 13 and a portion of White Lake Township.

★ ★ ★

School precinct No. 6 embraces political precincts 4, 15 and 21 and school precinct No. 7 includes political precincts 8, 10 and 17.

Light and Airy Awnings Grow in Popularity

A new aluminum awning design that gives a more distinctive appearance to home exteriors is reported by the manufacturer, the Flexalum division of Bridgeport Brass Company.

The new development is an aerated panel now available with roll-up awnings. Aerated panels contain tiny hooded perforations which admit diffused light while blocking direct sun-heat and glare. The aerated panels help keep rooms brighter and let in more breeze.

Aluminum roll-up awnings, a recent development, continue to grow in popularity, especially in northern states, the company also reports. The awnings eliminate storage, deterioration and repair problems.

They can be adjusted to any position to allow the sun to enter or to fend off its rays. When cold weather comes, it takes only a few minutes to roll them up for the winter.

Roll-up awnings are controlled by a spring action similar to that of window shades. A simple tug of a dacron cord provides just the degree of light or shade needed.

ARRIVES WITH 11 CHILDREN — Mrs. Victoria Bejl, 36, (holding infant), is greeted by Selectman E. Thomas Murphy as she and her 11 children arrived in Hyannis, Mass., yesterday from Little Rock, Ark. The trip was sponsored by the white segregationist group in Little Rock. President Kennedy's summer home is nearby Hyannis Port.

Cement Shelter Plans Available

Designs covering a wide variety of single and multi-family fallout shelters are now available to homeowners who wish to install a facility of this type either on an individual or group basis.

The Portland Cement Association, for example, is distributing a publication called "Concrete Family Shelters." In it are a series of information sheets featuring plans for six different home shelters built of concrete masonry, cast-in-place concrete, precast concrete or concrete pipe.

These shelters can be constructed both inside and outside the house, above or below the ground. All meet government specifications.

Every shelter shown in this booklet has a minimum protective factor of 100. This means that the danger from fallout to a person within one of these shelters will be at least 100 times less than to someone who is not.

A set of these plans can be obtained by contacting a local PGA office or by writing to the Portland Cement Association, 33 West Grand Avenue, Chicago 10, Ill.

Young Cowboy Loses Calf to Keep Pants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — Vern Weinkauf, 15, had a good but embarrassing excuse for his failure in a calf scramble at the Arizona National Livestock Show.

During a scramble, five calves are turned loose in a coral and young cowboys try to dog them.

Weinkauf had a strong hold on his calf but had to turn loose to put his hands to other use.

"I would have downed that calf," he explained, "if I hadn't lost my pants."

Update Wiring Installation in Remodeling

When you're making a loan to have some remodeling done (or even if you're paying cash), you might as well include electrical work in your program. Not just the installation of wiring for an additional area, but a rejuvenation of your entire electrical system.

Most older homes are inadequately wired to take care of the many extra appliances which were not in common use when the houses were built.

A sure sign of a possible overload in your present electrical system is when fuses blow regularly or when lights go dim when appliances are turned on. Fuses and circuit breakers are the safety valves in the circuit. When they fail to operate, it's usually because of a short circuit or, the more common reason, because the circuit is overloaded.

You should know where the fuses or circuit breakers are, what parts of the house they control and how to replace or reset them. If you don't know, a good time to find out is when the electrical contractor is bringing your wiring system up to date.

You then can make a small diagram of what's what and paste it on the inside of the fuse box door. An important point: never replace a fuse with one of a higher ampere rating. If you do, you have destroyed the entire safety value of the fuse.

Get Expert Advice on Air-Conditioning

"How to Buy Central Air-Conditioning," a folder describing some of the factors to be considered in the purchase of home cooling, and pointing out some of its many benefits, has been prepared by the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute, 1346 Connecticut Avenue NW, Washington 6, D.C., for distribution to all who are interested.

A copy of the folder, along with a cooling-load estimate form on which homeowners may work out their requirements for proper central air-conditioning of their homes, may be obtained from the Institute for 10 cents to cover handling costs and postage.

Simply mail a note to the Institute at the above address, saying "Please send me the 'How to Buy Central Air-Conditioning' folder, and enclose ten cents. The folder will be mailed promptly.

Someone Should Be Put Out to Pasture

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — A 250-pound life-size statue of a cow was turned into the missing properties division of the Phoenix Police Department.

Dutifully, the police notified a shopping center where one of them recalled seeing such an animal on display.

Sure enough, the statue was missing. But the first shopping center officials knew about its disappearance was when they learned it had been found.

More Central Cooling Seen in '62 Homes

Central air-conditioning sales, which have mounted steadily in the past few years, appear to be on the verge of a major breakthrough in home installation.

An industry official, John Norris, president of Lennox Industries, Inc., visualizes up to a 35 per cent increase in central air-conditioning sales in new housing during 1962. Last year a 10 per cent gain was recorded.

If built into a new house, a central air-conditioning system is considerably less expensive than when installed in an old house not adapted for it.

Heat pumps, which both cool and heat, continue to register big gains. Last year saw a 15 per cent increase in these installations, which are especially suitable for mild climates.

Central air-conditioning industry officials credit improved equipment, public demand and high standards for the big gains.
