HEART OF THE CITY — This aerial photograph shows the two milestones in Pontiac's civic center progress. At right, is the City Hall which opened in May 1955. Next door to the left is the $875,000 Public Safety Building, which is expected to be completed July 1. Today at 4:30 a cornerstone ceremony was scheduled to be held at the East Pike street entrance of the building. The structure will be the headquarters for police and fire departments, and municipal courts and judges.

Auto Club Offers to Pay for Dixie Traffic Survey

The Automobile Club of Michigan today offered to pay for a professional engineering survey to settle the problem of the so-called Dixie Highway "speed trap" in Waterford Township.

At the same time, Ernest P. Davies, Auto Club Safety Director, recommended that speed zone changes be made by the state.

Saying that his own staff decided after a survey that "the flood of traffic tickets has had little effect except to enrich township coffers," Davis maintained the average speed of motorists still "is very much in excess of the posted limits."

In the face of criticism, acting Supervisor Louis G. Barry backed up "strict enforcement" policies of Police Chief Frank A. Van Atta, adding that "we feel the people of Waterford Township are in accord."

Recalling recommendations of Gov. Williams' traffic safety conference last year, Barry today said that "since speed is the number one highway killer, speed control zones are futile unless they are properly enforced."

Barry argued that statistics during the township police department's two years of operation show fatal accidents have been cut in half and all accidents by 30 per cent.

The number of traffic tickets issued showed a marked decline in February, meaning that speeders are growing wary, he said.

The Auto Club, however, reported that its investigators last week found otherwise.

MANY OVER LIMIT

In the controversial 35 mile-per-hour zone between Waterford and Drayton Plains, for instance, the auto club stated 93 per cent of the cars are travelling more than 42.8 miles an hour. And 52 per cent of the cars were clocked at least 15 miles over the speed limit, Davis said.

Davis called for advance signs, warning motorists that reduced speed zones are ahead.

He said uncontrolled access from private drives and side roads is the biggest single cause of accidents and driving hazards. The location of speed signs and the absence of advance warning signs cause many drivers involuntarily to exceed the limits, Davis said.

Speed zones on the highway are set by State Police and the State Highway Department, and Barry pointed this out today.

City Vote Scheduled First

St. Joseph Hospital Drive Is Delayed Until Next Fall

Pontiac's hospital picture is changing.

Originally, it was planned to hold the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital drive for public funds immediately, with Pontiac General Hospital putting its needs up to the voters in a bond issue at a later date.

With the bond issue vote set for May 20, along with the sewage problem, the possibility of a definite conflict arises.

The St. Joseph campaign and the city hospital vote could trail each other rapidly or even overlap.

The Pontiac Study committee has again reviewed the problem and in the light of shifting circumstances, agreed that interests of the entire community would best be served by scheduling the city vote ahead of the St. Joseph Mercy campaign.

It has recommended that St. Joseph Mercy postpone the capital fund drive until some time after the Pontiac Area United Fund drive next fall.

"We feel business conditions indicate we probably will get larger subscriptions at some later time anyway," said John Hirlinger to the Press.

"City Manager Walter K. Willman says that if the vote is not taken immediately, work on the city hospital will come to a stop and we will be confronted with an empty shell that can be of no service at all," he said.

"This is unthinkable. Certainly the community would suffer badly. We are desperately short of beds right now. The people of this area cannot afford to leave the city hospital closed and idle. We haven't enough hospital service when we are running 100 per cent of our present capacity."

Toll in Storms Reaches 36

Stockmen Say Benefits Were Erased by Heavy Losses in Herds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death tolls stand at 36 in the spring snowstorm which hit the Western Plains over the weekend and in the area it hit hardest there was a feeling today it had brought only limited drought relief.

New Mexico stockmen said they would have been better off without the snow. Some lost their entire herds in the mountainous drifts.

The six-state high plains area which got up to 14 inches of snow and drifts as high as 30 feet still was digging out today. But trains were starting to move again and at least the main roads were open, except in western Kansas.

Thirteen persons in three cars and a truck were uncovered last night by a road crew on U.S. 50 near Garden City, Kan. They had been snowbound three days but all were reported in good condition. They had been carrying some food.

The six-state area where the storm was a full-blown blizzard—southwest Nebraska, western Kansas, eastern Colorado, northeast New Mexico and the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles — makes up a large part of the plains area hard hit by five years of drought.

Accidents Kill Two Area Men

Birmingham Residents Die in Crashes Here and in Florida

Two Birmingham men were killed in separate accidents, one of them at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last night.

Henry Fangmeyer, 71, of 17501 Dunblaine St. suffered fatal injuries in a two-car collision on US-1 in which the driver of the other car, Bobbie Lewis, of Fort Lauderdale, was critically injured.

Fangmeyer, who was retired, is survived by his wife, Rose.

John Raymond Howard, 21, of 720 Chesterfield Rd. was killed instantly, police said, when his car rammed the back of a truck-trailer on Woodward avenue just north of Coolidge highway.

Royal Oak police said Howard's car was completely demolished when it struck the vehicle driven by Ernest A. Humphrey, 58, of Elwell.

Don't Lose Heart! Forecast Normal for Next 5 Days

Temperatures for Pontiac and vicinity again are moving in an upward trend, brightening hopes for spring's return in nature as well as name.

The mercury is expected to reach a near 43 high today and to dip to 34 tonight.

Tomorrow will be warmer, high 44 to 48.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecasts temperatures averaging near or slightly above the normal high of 49 and normal low of 32 for the next five day period.

Showers are possible Thursday night and expected around Saturday or Sunday.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 33. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 38.

Boss of Local Says Hoffa Runs Union Cleanly

States There's Nothing to Hide Should Senators Probe Group

"Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 under Jimmy Hoffa's trusteeship is the cleanest run local in the state . . . we have absolutely nothing to hide from anybody."

This was the description of the 3,500 member local offered by its "acting president" Leaun Harrelson as it faces possible investigation by the Senate committee investigating labor racketeering.

"We'd welcome an investigation," said 38-year-old Harrelson who once was in the midst of the most turbulent hassle in Local 614's history.

Harrelson was one of five named in a 1954 law suit which asked for the financial accounting of union funds, following bitter and unsuccessful attempts of 1,500 members to strip Hoffa and his officers of their power. The suit was dismissed for lack of circuit court jurisdiction.

ASK LOCAL PROBE

Guided by Detroit attorney Louis W. Snyder, an insurgent group of 614 "members" this week asked Sen. John L. McClellan, head of the Senate committee, to launch an investigation of Local 614 under Teamsters Vice-President James R. Hoffa's trusteeship.

The group, representing the majority of Local 614 members, according to Snyder, seeks an accounting of more than $1,000,000 in union funds collected between 1942 and 1952.

Harrelson yesterday emphatically denied that the "rebel" group represents the majority. "The only people they represent are the 14 members on the insurgent committee," he said.

"And half of the 14 men aren't even under the jurisdiction of the local," Harrelson added.

HOFFA 'GREAT GUY'

"Hoffa is still a great guy in our books and to all our members," the Teamsters official stated "Hoffa drives a hard bargain, but he's honest and he keeps his word. He's for the truck drivers and they will tell you so."

When Hoffa in 1953 stepped in, under orders of International President Dave Beck, and took over trusteeship of Local 614, insurgent members sought to drive him and his officers right back out again.

Harrelson, Pontiac's state representative from 1948 to 1954, was one of Hoffa's appointees.

"Our books are audited regularly and financial reports are available to any member upon request," he said.

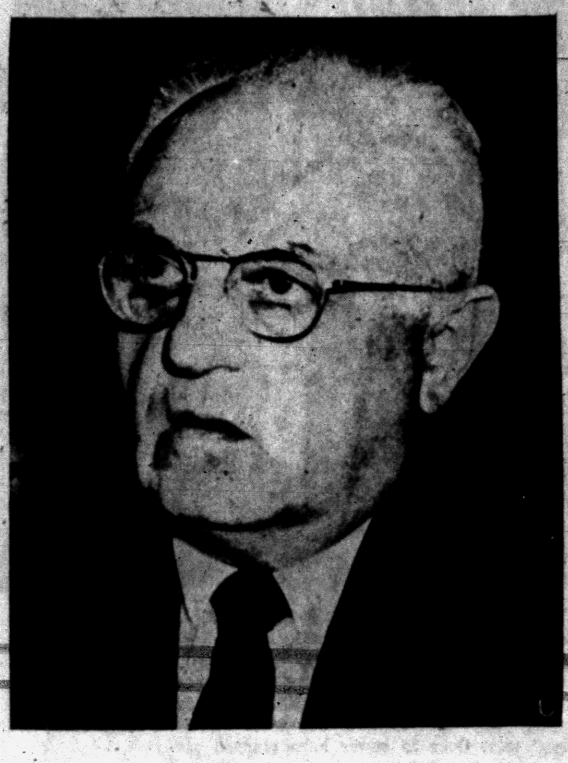

He praised Hoffa for raising the

Weakens Defense, He Says

Ike Flashes Anger Over Cuts in Budget

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower took angry issue today with congressional demands for deep cuts in the budget, declaring it just can't be done without serious damage to national security and the free world defense effort.

The chief executive, speaking out strongly at his news conference, defended the administration's position on the budget in strong and impassioned language.

He said it would be the poorest sort of economy to try to save a few millions here and there by slashing foreign aid programs vital to the allied defense effort.

Eisenhower emphasized again that the administration is trying to make all possible economies in government spending but he said severe cuts just cannot be made without serious damage.

His $71,800,000,000 federal budget for the next fiscal year has come under heavy fire in Congress where members have demanded less government spending to pave the way for a possible tax cut.

The chief executive also made these points at his first news conference in two weeks:

1. He will shortly send Congress a proposed constitutional amendment to clear up the question of when the vice president takes over the reins of government if the president is incapacitated.

2. He does not believe the reported new movement of Egyptian troops to the shore of the Gulf of Aqaba has any great significance.

3. He declined to estimate how long it would be before Britain receives America's intermediate guided missile and said the agreement reached at Bermuda was chiefly one of principle.

4. He branded as completely indefensible Russia's implied threat against Norway if that country permits western military bases on its soil.

5. He said he is feeling better but didn't get as much sun as he had hoped for on his cruise to Bermuda.

ALBERT W. HOLCOMB

New Vice President Is Named by Bank

The appointment of Albert W. Holcomb to a vice presidency at the Community National Bank was announced this morning by A. C. Girard, president.

Holcomb, 37, formerly was an assistant vice president at the Detroit Bank & Trust Co.

A resident of 2242 Fairway Dr., Birmingham, the new vice president is a graduate of the school of business administration, Michigan State University, and a World War II veteran of the U. S. Air Corps.

He joined the Detroit Bank & Trust Co. in 1946 as a credit analyst, was named assistant cashier in 1951, and promoted to assistant vice president in 1954.

Girard said the appointment was in line with the bank's current expansion program.

Businessman Tells of Using Teamster Cash

Shefferman of Chicago Lists Nylons, Diapers Among Discount Items

WASHINGTON (INS) — Teamsters President Dave Beck roared with laughter today while a friend told of using $85,000 in union funds to buy him items ranging from diapers to freezers and costly furniture.

Nathan Shefferman, Chicago labor-management consultant who bought the goods for Beck at a discount, told Senate rackets investigators that he did not know he was using Teamsters money. He said he also was sure Beck had reimbursed the union.

The tension which marked Beck's appearance before the committee yesterday, when he invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to testify about his finances, was absent at the outset of today's session.

Beck sat laughing and quipped to newsmen several seats behind the witness chair while Shefferman droned through a list of "samples of items" he had bought for the union czar with Teamster funds.

When he got to "21 pairs of nylons, $25.20," Shefferman cleared his throat and commented: "I happen to know Mr. Beck is a moral man, so it's perfectly all right."

The next item — five dozen diapers for $9.68, followed later by another diaper listing for $15 — stumped Shefferman. He said the diapers "probably" were for a neice to whom Beck was "devoted."

Commenting on a notation of "hose — $124.00," Shefferman said: "That must have been a garden hose or some such thing." Beck, some senators, and others in the hearing room, giggled.

BLANK CHECKS

Shefferman swore he had not personally handled the transaction but that a secretary, using blank checks he had signed, had likely done so. He admitted responsibility, though, since he "paid the money" which Beck reimbursed with union checks.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) replied: "That's what we were trying to find out from Mr. Beck all day yesterday."

During a recess, Beck told newsmen that Shefferman "was able to buy through a dicount and that's why many things were bought through him."

Beck added: "That isn't the crux of the matter. The crux is whether I had authority to buy and to reimburse the union."

Florida Parkway Presents Tip to Michigan

By JOE HAAS

FORT PIERCE, Fla. — The Sunshine State Parkway, first modern toll road in the southeastern part of our nation, is setting a pattern that should be of particular interest to those contemplating similar projects in Michigan.

HAAS

A persual of your maps will show that there's a marked similarity in the geographical shape of the two states, when you include our northern peninsula.

Also quite similar is the density of population along the line of the new toll road here, as compared with the project in which the Pontiac area now is interested.

The completed length of the road here is almost exactly the same, 108 miles, as the projected Detroit-Ba/ City pike.

The Florida Sunshine State Parkway has its southern terminus on the outskirts of Miami. It is being built by the State Turnpike Authority, on a new right of way that is located between five and ten miles from the ocean.

It largely parallels the regular highway, which mostly is quite close to the shore. This shore road is U.S. Highway No. 1, and known as the Dixie Highway and really the southern extension of our own road of the same name.

The parkway is four lanes wide, two in each direction, and separated by a landscaped boulevard strip about 30 feet wide. The right of way is about 300 feet wide.

NO TRAFFIC SIGNALS

It has no street intersections or traffic lights in its entire 108 miles, nor will it have any when it is completed to the Georgia state line, a total distance of 388 miles.

Its surface is a smooth-as-silk cement or black top, its curves are very few, and all built for no decrease in the maximum speed of 60 miles. Through most of its distance a minimum speed of 40 miles is expected, except at a few points of merging traffic, where that is dropped to 25 miles.

However it traverses quite largely through an unpopulated area, with little of scenic value. There are stretches on it where no human habitation is in sight for upwards of 50 miles or more.

Its eight points of merging traffic are not at any village or city. Probably nowhere in our entire nation is there another such area of desolation along the line of a main traveled highway.

When you enter it you are given a ticket which says you must not stop your car until you reach your destination. If you run out of gas or have other trouble, you must not get out of your car.

Sunshine Parkway Interesting Pattern

You pull off the pavement, stay in the car, and place a white handkerchief or other white cloth between the glass and the frame of the driver's window. This signifies that you are in trouble, and is the signal for someone to stop and obtain for you the needed assistance. A service truck will appear within a few minutes.

It is a code of the highway that any motorist seeing that white signal is to notify a trooper or service station attendant.

Any attempt to get out of your car or flag down traffic is forbidden on account of its hazardous possibilities. No pedestrains are allowed on the parkway.

The toll charge is only $2.50 for a car over the entire 108 miles, with that between intermediate points ranging from 20 cents to $2.20, according to the distance.

CONTRAST SHOWN

But here's where the contrast comes between this toll road and the Detroit-Bay City project. The right of way did not cost very much, because it is largely through otherwise worthless land areas.

However, the Michigan project is largely through highly valuable land, and the main item in its construction would be the right of way.

On the other hand, the Florida pike is practically devoid of scenic value, while the Michigan pike would have that as one of its greatest attractions.

The cities and towns along the public highway No. 1 here all were very much opposed to the construction of the toll road. They feared it would greatly curtail their business.

They even formed associations to fight it, and even after its construction issued maps that completely ignored it and exploited the advantages of the old road, pointing out its scenic and other good points, saying nothing of its many intersections, traffic delays, speed restrictions and other delays.

After the first few months of the operation of the toll road, it has been found that the cities and villages on the free road were unduly alarmed. A recent survey shows that retail business in most lines has suffered less than a ten per cent loss.

Also their traffic fatalities have dropped lower than ever before, as most of the drivers who hanker for speed now take the pike. One dangerous corner, known as "Dead Man's Curve," that averaged a death a month, hasn't had a fatality since the toll road opened.

As a financial proposition, the parkway is doing far better than its promoters anticipated. During the first few months of its operation, its fees have been collected at a rate that will allow the retirement of its construction bonds in less than one-third of the time that was originally planned.

Traffic accidents on it are practically nil. The only fatalities on it since it was opened were people who absolutely ignored all the warnings that had been given them.

At its congested terminals, the pike has taken such a load off the down town through traffic in both Miami and Miami Beach that their fatal accidents on main streets have shown a decrease.

In this connection, it is interesting to note that over 14,000 out-staters who received traffic tickets in Miami last year never showed up on the date they were to appear in court.

If you were one of them (there were 873 from Michigan) you can now discard that sneaky, being followed look, as they've all been cancelled "as a tourist courtesy gesture."

Union Doings 'Couldn't Happen' Except in U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — Visiting European trade union leaders, in Detroit to study wages and working conditions, have only one reaction to the current congressional investigation of the Teamsters Union.

They said.

"It couldn't happen in our countries."

William T. Chapman of Dublin, Ireland, general secretary of the National Assn. of Transport Employes, the Irish equivalent to the Teamsters, said:

"The whole thing is amazing. I didn't realize that something like that could happen here. It has never happened in Ireland and never will.

"Our union members only pay the equivalent of $6 a year in dues. And our unions have to file an accounting each year."

Other countries represented on the tour include France, Belgium, Sweden and England.

Senate to Vote on Keeping Tax

Bill Calls for Extension of Levy for 15 Months on Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today gets down to voting on a House-passed bill to extend three billion dollars worth of annual business taxes as requested by President Eisenhower.

Floor managers for the bill said in advance they expected to be able to defeat all amendments, but not without a hassle over proposals to give relief to small business.

The first vote was expected on an amendment of Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) to give small corporations about 400 million dollars worth of tax relief.

It would raise taxes on larger companies by slightly more than the cut for the smaller ones.

The bill would extend for 15 months present rates on corporation income and excise taxes on autos, auto parts and accessories, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer. The House has voted a one-year extension, until April 1, 1958.

The rates will drop automatically next Monday if the measure is not signed into law before that time, with a loss of about two billion annually in corporation revenue and one billion from the excises.

After Senate action, the bill must go back to the House for action on the 15-month feature, which has been accepted by the administration.

In addition to several amendments to aid small business and to eliminate various excise levies, the Senate has before it proposals by Senators Williams (R-Del) and Douglas (D-Ill) to cut the depletion allowance for oil and gas.

To Award Oscars Tonight; Hollywood Picks Favorites

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight is Oscar night and, as usual, the only safe prediction is that the men stars will wear tuxes and the women will wear mink.

Jerry Lewis will emcee the nationwide telecast and international radio broadcast of the show over NBC beginning at 10:30 p.m., EST.

But Hollywood being the betting town it is, there is a morning line of favorites. Here is the consensus of the so-called experts:

Best actress — Ingrid Bergman.

Best actor — Yul Brynner.

Best picture — "Around the World in 80 Days."

Best supporting actress—Dorothy Malone.

Best supporting actor — Robert Stack.

Best director—George Stevens.

Best song — "True Love."

However, most of the industry will concede that this is the closest Academy Awards race in years—and anything can happen.

Only Miss Bergman and Stevens won the Screen Director's Guild award for his helming of "Giant" and in the last five years the winner of the SDG award has gone on to win the Oscar.

The glamorous Swede, absent from town since she took up with Roberto Rossellini in 1949, faces her stiffest competition from the popular Deborah Kerr. Others in the race are Katharine Hepburn, Carroll Baker and Nancy Kelly.

Brynner is the favorite of all men who comb their hair with a towel and the Academy has enough bald-headed voters to swing it. But Brynner also has three of the year's best performances working for him in "The King and I," "Anastasia" and "The Ten Commandments."

His main competition will come from Kirk Douglas and the late James Dean. "Giant" was Dean's last picture and, of course, the last chance for the Academy to honor the brilliant young actor. Others are Rock Hudson and Sir Laurence Olivier.

"Around the World" is Mike Todd's first movie production and there conceivably could be some opposition from jealous producers who have yet to smell a nomination after years and years.

But most in the industry feel that Todd, a supershowman, has given Hollywood a much-needed hypo. "Giant," a superb job by Stevens, is edging Todd at the wire — so much so that the two may knock each other out. If that happens, watch for "The King and I" to take it. The others are the big spectacle "The Ten Commandments" and "Friendly Persuasion."

Stack's main threats are Mickey Rooney and the ever-present Tony Quinn, Tony Perkins and Don Murray will bear watching but not this year.

Miss Malone finds herself in a nominee's dream — her four competitors all are from one studio and sure to split the Warners' vote. The four are Eileen Heckart and Patty McCormack of "The Bad Seed," Mercedes McCambridge of "Giant," and Mildred Dunnock of "Baby Doll."

local's equity from something around $169 to a present $233,000. "Our members feel they are the highest paid in the industry and have the best contracts."

Harrelson declared that before contracts are awarded to companies, the membership passes on the merits of the contracts. "We don't have to be ashamed of the service we give our people," Harrelson commented.

Ninety per cent of Local 614's 3,500 members are truck drivers, the leader said, some of whom earn between $6,000 to $9,000 yearly on a $2.55 per hour scale. They pay $5 monthly dues.

CITES 2 INDICTMENTS

Harrelson said that any black eye that might have been inflicted on the local from past incidents had been erased with Hoffa's control. He had reference to indictments of two former officers, Daniel J. Keating and Louis C. Linteau.

The "acting president" said he has heard of no demands for an election of officers, nor criticism of Hoffa's trusteeship. All seven officers, including Harrelson, were appointed by the Teamsters boss. Harrelson is the only paid official of the seven.

He added that under the International Constitution, an election is not possible with a trusteeship. Local 614's trusteeship was for an "indefinite" period, he said.

Hoffa last week was indicted for an alleged bribe attempt in securing records from the Washington committee. Harrelson said he hasn't heard any comment on the indictment and that it wouldn't lower Hoffa's prestige with Local 614 members.

"Hoffa is the greatest labor leader in the country," he said.

Dulles' Sister Says East Germans Loyal

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Lansing Dulles said today East Germany "is staunchly German and relatively unaffected" by Communist indoctrination attempts.

"If the 400,000 soldiers were withdrawn, the Communist facade would collapse overnight," she said in a speech for the 52nd annual convention of the Buffalo Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Dulles, who uses her maiden name professionally, is the sister of Secretary of State Dulles.

She is special assistant to the director of the Office of German Affairs in the State Department.

Sen. McNamara, Beck Tangle in Probe Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Patrick McNamara (D-Mich) tangled with Teamster President Dave Beck yesterday over Beck's repeated references to his counsel at a Senate investigation into alleged Teamster racket operations.

Beck repeatedly said he refused to answer questions because of the protection of the U. S. Constitution on the advice of his chief counsel, former Sen. James Duff and Duff's associates.

McNamara, former president of the Pipefitters Local Union in Detroit, asked whether Beck had made statements publicly on television that he had "used large sums" of union money for "personal gain."

Beck said it was a tricky question and he stood on what he had said on TV. (He said last week he had obtained and repaid without interest some $300,000 to $400,000 in loans from the union.)

Beck added it was a matter for judicial determination, under conditions that would permit cross-examination and give him the "right to face my accusers."

Britain to Get Uranium

CASTLE HARBOUR, Bermuda, (INS)—Canada agreed yesterday to sell $115,000,000 worth of uranium to the United Kingdom during the next five years to assist Britain's expanded nuclear power program. British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd stayed on in Bermuda after talks with President Eisenhower to confer with Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

Union, Texaco Negotiate Today

Striking Oil Workers Meet Tomorrow With Socony-Mobile

Only one negotiating session was scheduled today in Detroit's fuel oil and gasoline strike, which has curtailed approximately 90 per cent of the Metropolitan area's supply and threatens the Pontiac area.

The AFL-CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union was to meet this morning with Texaco. A session with Socony-Mobile is slated for tomorrow.

The union is striking with 8 of 10 major suppliers, chiefly over wages.

The union has threatened walkouts against small independent firms if they continue to supply stations of strike-bound firms.

Tension mounted as police investigated the first reports of picket line incidents.

A Wabash Railroad train crew reported that club-swinging pickets prevented delivery early today of five tank cars of crude oil to the Aurora Gasoline-Keystone Refining Co.

Police also investigated the alleged sabotage last night of a tank truck which delivered diesel fuel oil to a Great Lakes Greyhound garage. The truck driver, Don Pence of Tiffin, Ohio, said an air brake line on the parked truck was cut.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Jesus' Beliefs Perplex Junius

(Nineteenth in a Lenten Series)

To the mother of Tiberius Caesar, secret agent Junius reported on the teachings of Jesus as follows . . .

As the governor has told you, it is difficult to concentrate the words of Jesus into simple formulas. His words are already simplicity itself. It is much easier to expound and expand upon them, a temptation I shall try vigorously to resist.

First, he tells the poor, the sorrowing, the groping, the merciful, the pure in heart, the peacemakers, the persecuted and the reviled that they are all actually blessed. He says they, they are the salt of the earth and the light of the world.

As I understand it, his reasoning is that these people, most of whom we would consider unfortunate, are best fitted to carry out his commandments.

These commandments go farther than our accepted moral codes and say that a man must not even think evil, let alone commit it. Jesus exhorts his followers to be at peace with their fellow men, even to the extent that if a man strikes them on one cheek they are to turn the other cheek to be struck.

I have heard him sum up his exhortations briefly in this way: "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully use you and persecute you."

He tells his followers also to help the poor in secret and to pray in secret. He preaches against amassing of wealth on earth "where moth and rust doth corrupt, and thieves break in and steal." His listeners are told not to worry about their physical needs, nor about the future.

He tells them not to judge others. And finally, he says: "All things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them."

. . . The report was signed by Junius. Enclosed with it was this note from Pilate:

Cherished Livia . . . I cannot help but wonder what your sages will make of all this. Will you let me know at your convenience?

By the way, I understand that certain people in authority within the province are beginning to regard this Jesus as a man dangerous to their own power. I shall let Tiberius know if this brews serious trouble.

(Signed) Pilate.

The Day in Birmingham

To Widen Maple Avenue From Hunter to Adams

BIRMINGHAM — Plans are underway for the 1957 widening of East Maple avenue from Hunter boulevard to Adams road.

G. R. Serenbetz, city engineer, gave commissioners his preliminary report on the proposed 45 foot paving project Monday night.

The city, he explained, will bear the cost of replacing existing paving. Sarenbetz told officials its present condition is such that resurfacing would be impractical an unsatisfactory.

"It's been patched and repaired too many times. It's so badly beaten that it wouldn't hold up for any length of time if just resurfaced," he said.

The estimated cost of nearly $90,000 will be reduced by about $40,000 by the city-paid replacement process. The balance will be borne by the city and abutting property owners.

Surveys have shown some right-of-way matters before work can be started. The engineering department anticipates no difficulty, it is said. Commissioners also heard that a total of 54 trees would have to be removed. However, it was explained 26 of these are so badly rotted that they could not possibly last more than five years.

The Adams-Maple intersection, Serenbetz revealed, will be flared to help relieve the tie-up at the stop-light when both streets are carrying peak loads, particularly during the early evening hours.

The recently organized Bloomfield Art Assn. will open a two-week exhibit of Dean Cornwell, one of the world's foremost muralists tomorrow. The galleries at 361 N. Woodward Ave. will be open to the public Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Clifford B. West, program chairman, said arrangements may be made for art groups and classes to view the Cornwell exhibit during non-public hours.

Harold Coppens is working only a normal work week these days. Seven years ago Coppens held down three jobs. Besides regular bus driver-maintainence, he took on that of filling station attendant and grocery store clerk.

The additional income was needed because of the arrival of Mike and Nancy, premature twins. Mike weighed in at 1 pound, 12½ ounces, Nancy 1 pound, 13 ounces. Today the youngsters are strong and healthy and are first graders at Pembroke school. They will celebrate their seventh birthday on Saturday.

The Coppens who have one other daughter, Joan, 9, live at 2428 Buckingham road.

Today's report sets the George Miller Fund at $6,600, according to Mrs. Charles Kass, co-chairman of the campaign. This includes voluntary contributions plus receipts of a dinner and last Saturday's sale of papers.

Miller, a BHS teacher, was hurt over a year ago in a highway crash and since then has spent most of the time in hospitals.

Mrs. Kass said the fund at the Birmingham office of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. is still open to accept additional contributions.

News Flashes

DETROIT (AP) — A third man died today of burns suffered when a tunnel-like auto frame spray booth at the Ford Motor Co.'s giant Rouge plant exploded March 18, spewed flames through the paint area. Fred Nelson, 59, a final frame inspector from Detroit, died at Henry Ford Hospital, where he had been listed as critical. He had worked for Ford since July 1928. A total of 23 men were injured in the explosion and three still are listed as critical.

LONDON (AP)—Union bosses today ordered 500,000 more factory workers to walk off their jobs on Saturday in the second stage of a "snowball" strike to shut down some of Britain's key dollar earning industries.

BELTON, Mo. (INS)—A plane exploded in the air and crashed near Belton today. Early reports indicated it may have been a Navy jet missing from the Olathe (Kan.) Naval Air Station with two flyers. Fate of the occupants was not learned immediately. Mrs. James Perry of Belton said she saw the plane explode in the air south of Belton near the city cemetery.

Police Arrest 11 in Break-Ins

Capture Solves Series of Burglaries in County, Officers Say

Combined efforts of three police departments have led to the arrest of a gang of 11 youths, solving more than 40 break-ins in the county since the beginning of the year, Sheriff's detectives disclosed today.

Trooper Richard Gordonier of the Pontiac State Police Post, Captain Millard Pender of the Waterford Police Department, and the team of detectives, Leo Hazen, Harry Maur and Jack Davis of the Sheriff's office rounded up the gang last week. More than $1,000 in loot has been confiscated, they said.

Nine of the gang, who admitted the thefts in a statement to the prosecutor, have been arraigned in justice court. All waived examination and will appear April 2 in circuit court to stand trial on charges of breaking and entering.

Two others from Lake Orion are Gerald McLarty, 18, of 405 Heights Rd. and Ernest Berry, 18, of 130 Orion. Two other members arrested are juveniles and were remanded to juvenile court.

"There are more members of the gang yet to be brought in," said Hazen.

Students to Turn Tables on Teachers

There will be no school for some 6,000 Waterford Township elementary students Monday, April Fool's day—and that's no joke, according to William Schunck, superintendent of schools.

The teacher-student relation will be reversed, with approximately 200 teachers and principals being taught new do-it-yourself ideas by students, at the annual school Workshop project. Committeemen heading the affair are George Tramontin, Ina Kent and Dorothy Selle.

Something entirely new has been injected into this year's workshop. Instead of the usual lectures involving all 12 grades, only teachers of kindergarten through the 6th grades and principals have been invited to participate, according to Mrs. Selle.

The all-day session will be conducted at the Burt, Monteith, and McVittie schools, beginning at 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. All three schools will be in session at the same time—but learning different projects, geared for each particular grade-level.

DIP INTO GOO

The local teachers will don big aprons, dip their hands in gooey buttermilk and paint mixtures, (for fingerpainting), cut out paper dolls (new 3-dimensional type), plaster various pieces of wire with paper, water and glue (for papier mache making).

Ordinary material of small expense will be used and everything from old wall paper, burlap, rope, sponges, and fresh vegetables will be used for the projects, Tramontin said.

One of the features at the Monteith school will be party decor instruction for special occasions.

A demonstration and dramatization of rhythm activities, with teacher participation, will be taught at the Burt school, and "Art and Michigan" will be the main feature at the McVittie school.

"The teachers and principals are all eagerly looking forward to this new-type of school workshop," Mrs. Selle said, "and if it is successful, they plan on having another one in the fall."

May Surprise Senators at Beck Hearing

Duff Inherits Toughness of Scotch-Irish Pioneers

By International News Service

As a one-time rough - and -tumble gas and oil wildcatter and hard-fighting politician, James H. Duff has been as tough as the western Pennsylvania wilderness where his ancestors settled almost 200 years ago.

The former Republican Senator, who hardly looks his 74 years, may need that toughness in serving as counsel for embattled Teamsters Union President Dave Beck in the latter's appearance before Senate investigators.

He will be dealing with eight former colleagues as Beck's attorney in the Senate rackets committee hearing. But if circumstances should lead to a hassle of any sort, members of the committee may be in for a surprise, for Duff seldom was his old tough-talking self while serving in the Senate.

Duff, who served one term before being defeated by Philadelphia's Democratic Mayor Joseph S. Clark last November, was elected to the Senate in 1950, after a bitter battle with Pennsylvania Republican organization leaders. He had split with them while serving as governor for four years.

As governor, he fought vigorously for clean streams, new roads, bigger and better mental hospitals and a veterans' bonus. In recognition of his fieriness as well as his football fullback's fame and crew-cut rouge-colored hair, he was nicknamed "Big Red."

Nationally, Duff was little heard from after reaching the Senate, except for being one of the first and fightingest supporters of President Eisenhower's nomination in 1952.

His current law associates are staunch Democrats, including former Sen. Millard E. Tydings (D MD), and former U. S. ambassador to Russia Joseph E. Davies.

Duff was born in Carnegie, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh, where his father was a Presbyterian minister for 40 years. His Scotch-Irish forebearers were among America's early colonists, some settling in New England in the 1630's, others in Pennsylvania in 1768, among the earliest pioneers in that area.

Duff's first political experience was as Pennsylvania's attorney general from 1943 to 1947. He practiced law from 1907 to 1943, taking time out to back exploratory oil and gas wells in western Pennsylvania. He jokingly described himself as "a digger of dry holes" to point up his frequent lack of success in these ventures.

Cancer Workers Hear U. of M. Doctors Talk

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Volunteer cancer workers from throughout the state converged on the University of Michigan today to learn more about research on the dread disease.

Some 250 volunteers from county chapters of the American Cancer Society were told of the various experiments being conducted at the university to find a way to combat all phases of cancer. Michigan doctors who work directly on cancer research spoke of their work and how it is progressing.

Zeeland to Vote on Plan

ZEELAND (AP)—A 15-year development program, already approved by the Zeeland planning commission, was explained Monday night before more than 300 residents who will be asked to vote on it in a forthcoming special election. The program cost is planned to be graduated annually until 1980 when $69,500 will be called for projects. The program includes utilities, zoning, schools, streets, parks and industrial development.

'Idea Cafeteria' for Resort Men

MSU Plans Institute on Michigan Tourism; 'Strangers or Guests?'

EAST LANSING — Michigan's resort, motel and food service operators will go back to school April 8-10 when the 5th Annual Tourist & Resort Institute convenes at Kellogg Center on the MSU campus in East Lansing.

"Competing successfully for tomorrow's guest" is to be the theme of this year's Institute meeting. Concurrent sessions covering every aspect of Michigan tourism will offer an "idea cafeteria" from which participants may pick and choose. Speakers, special conferences, exhibits and panel discussions will be featured on the three-day program.

The Institute is sponsored jointly by the Michigan State University Resort Extension Service, the Michigan Tourist Council and the state's four regional tourist associations. It is designed to develop a spirit of professionalism among those who cater to Michigan vacationers.

"With Michigan's vacation industry outgrowing its statistics faster than they can be compiled," said Robert J. Furlong, Tourist Council executive secretary, "continued improvement of tourist facilities and services is a must if Michigan is to remain among the top four vacation states in the nation.

"It is fortunate that Michigan's working resort people have this opportunity to secure expert assistance with their business problems and to exchange ideas with others in the trade."

Heading the list of speakers for the three-day Institute is Arthur Huey, owner of the Homestead Resort at Glen Arbor. He will address the openng session on the topic, "Strangers or Guests?"

Governor G. Mennen Williams will speak at the initial luncheon meeting, April 8, on the future prospects of Michigan tourism.

Subjects on this year's Institute program will include: promotional ideas; food selection, service and cookery; landscaping and outdoor lighting; selection of furnishings and equipment; legal problems; sanitation; guest recreation and new trends in motel and resort building.

Resource persons in each of these fields will be on hand for on-the-spot help with particular problems.

Family Ties Stifle Spirit of Adventure

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American men have become too family conscious for their own good; they are losing their spirit of adventure, says anthropologist Margaret Mead.

This "retirement into domesticity" is a dangerous thing for the country, Dr. Mead told a luncheon club.

"The number of things men with families can't do," she said, "is going up every day."

Too many talented young professional men turn down better jobs which involve moving to another city because such moves would inconvenience the lives of their children, she said.

5 Senators Back Student Loan Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — Five Republican senators joined today in sponsoring legislation setting up an eight-year billion dollar college student loan program.

Sen. Jacob J. Javits (R-N.Y.), was introducing the bill which would permit loans of up to $1,000 a year for five years, repayable over a 10-year period, to needy students.

Five per cent of the direct loans could go to foreign students, who could make repayments in local currency.

In addition, the measure provides a program of government insurance on loans made by private sources, including colleges and universities.

Co-sponsors of the bill are Sens. Irving Ives (R-N.Y.), John S. Cooper (R-Ky.), Frederick Payne (R-Me.), and J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.).

Boy's Brother Killed When Shotgun Goes Off

ST. CLAIR (INS) — A 13-year-old boy was accidentally shot to death last night by his 14-year-old brother in their St. Clair home.

State police said Terry Lamontagne told them he was lowering a .410 shotgun to the floor when it fired and struck his brother, Larry.

Troopers said the boys earlier had been hunting for prowlers. They had been warned to stay away from the gun, which was locked in a bedroom, but went outside and climbed through a window to get the weapon.

ARTHRITIS PAINED SO FIERCE IT MADE ME CRY

I'll recommend O-Jib-Wa Bitters for Rheumatism and Arthritis as long as I live, says Mrs. Margaret Standridge, Flint.

Mrs. Standridge

"I was crippled with arthritis since the Spring of 1950. It was in my right arm, shoulder and neck and you just can't imagine how much suffering I went through. There wasn't a night went by that I didn't go to bed with tears in my eyes. I'm telling you, I really suffered. My arm was stiff, and burned like someone was holding a torch under it. One day my husband was cutting wood up North, and the man he was working with had to be carried out of the woods due to a severe attack of arthritis. He was so bad that his wife had to turn him over in bed by pulling on his sheets. He used O-JIB-WA BITTERS and three weeks later, was better and back working. After his experience, I decided to try O-JIB-WA too, but after 5 days I gave up, as I foolishly expected immediate relief. Well, the pain just went on, and for a whole year I couldn't move my arm. My knuckles were swollen to twice their normal size, and I couldn't pick up a thing without dropping it. Why even my chest pained fiercely, so last December, I decided to give O-JIB-WA a fair trial this time. I followed directions carefully, and in just 10 days the pain suddenly stopped, and the swelling and stiffness began going away. I know it was the O-JIB-WA that did it, as I hadn't tried anything else for quite some time. I can use my arm again now and do my housework, painting and everything I couldn't do while suffering with arthritis. The pain, stiffness and swelling are all gone and have not returned. I'm so thankful for this wonderful medicine that I will never be without it. I'LL RECOMMEND O-JIB-WA BITTERS AS LONG AS I LIVE."

Hal Boyle Says:

Lillian Roth Begins New Careers

NEW YORK (AP)—At 46, Lillian Roth, who made one of the greatest comebacks in the history of show business, is saying goodby to the night club world.

But she isn't quitting so she can retire to a rocking chair. She simply wants to branch out into two new careers—as a lecturer and newspaper columnist.

The dark-eyed movie and musical comedy star, who became a top entertainer again after a losing 16-year bout with the bottle, said a three - week engagement next month at the Sahara in Las Vegas would be her last in the night club field.

"I'm grateful to the night clubs," she said. "They've been wonderful to me. They've paid me up to $10,000 a week, more than I earned in the old days.

"But it is no way to live permanently. I've been singing since I was 15, and since 1951 I've sung more than 50,000 songs.

"I'm 46 now, feel better than I did at 36, but if—God willing—I have a few years left, I'd like to spend them living another kind of life."

It doesn't promise to be any more restful, but she says she isn't looking for a rest.

"I have a lot to do and learn," she said. "After all, I wasted 16 years before I found God was the crutch that alcohol wasn't."

Her plans for the future make Miss Roth sound like a one-woman empire. She is completing another book, "Beyond My Worth," a seuel to her best-selling "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

She also has signed to write a syndicated column three times a week in which she will answer the problems of readers. She is nearly set for 10 weeks of summer stock in the stage version of "Mildred Pierce." And in the fall she starts a nationwide lecture tour.

The lectures will be on the inspirational side, based on her philosophy that "Sorrow is the common denominator that brings all people together. There is no one who hasn't known sorrow, and no one who can't smile later."

She knows the road back by the feel of all the rocks along the way. She took her last drink of booze on June 28, 1946, but it wasn't until 1951 that she could really face an audience again.

Even after she did regain her voice and confidence, theatrical agents tended to regard her as "a hit-and-run freak." One told her to her face: "You're too old for a comeback."

Lillian often visits prisons, corresponds with many prisoners who hope to find a way back to respectability.

"People used to cry when they met me because of their sympathy for my problem. Now, instead, they cry over their own problems," she said.

"I've become their ear to bend. And that is a wonderful feeling—to give sympathy, instead of needing it yourself."

Mexico plans extensive corn and bean exports to other Latin American countries this year.

Battle Creek Sets a Good Example

Action of Battle Creek in launching a major and unified drive to modernize its downtown area and correct a host of irritating conditions that for years have throttled orderly growth well illustrates what a determined city can do.

The $25 million project, now well under way there, will accomplish four things:

1. Remove a serious flood hazard by diverting the Kalamazoo river around the downtown area in an entirely new channel;

2. Clear an 80-acre slum area for light industrial and commercial use;

3. Create a new street traffic plan, eliminating practically all of the present 35 railroad grade crossings;

4. Unscramble a network of railway lines that crawls over the city by rerouting the New York Central and Grand Trunk Western through on ONE right-of-way, using the present GTW route for both.

By obtaining Federal and state funds to help, Battle Creek's share of the $25 million tab will be only about $6,000,000. The city already has arranged financing for $4 million of this without a property tax boost.

Key to this accomplishment is adequate planning; followed by united backing of citizens and civic groups to put across the program agreed upon.

Over-all direction of the program is in the hands of the Battle Creek Railroad Consolidation Board, a city agency, comprised of civic and industrial leaders of the community.

Pontiac's growing problems are not precisely the same as those in Battle Creek, although there are points of similarity.

We are concerned with an arterial highway and adequate movement of secondary traffic in and out of the city; rehabilitation of certain shoddy downtown areas; location and construction of essential public buildings; sufficient hospital facilities.

But essential steps in this, as in all cities, include:

1.—Careful planning for the future;

2.—Agreement on major jobs to be tackled first;

3.—United support of all citizens and groups to attain these goals.

Pontiac can learn from Battle Creek and other cities of the state on these matters.

Survey Stresses Need to Conserve Resources

In manufacturing nearly 40 per cent of the world's goods, the American economy uses up vast quantities of raw materials every year.

For every man, woman and child the Nation consumes an average of seven tons of fuel and more than 11 tons of other material, reports a survey made for the Twentieth Century Fund.

The U.S. is the largest consumer of all the major metals, the mineral fuels and the principal non-metallic minerals and with one or two exceptions, the leading producer. However, we are far from self-sufficient in many essential materials.

Of the 36 important industrial minerals the U.S. has only enough of eight and about 80 per cent of an adequate supply of four more. We must import nearly all of the 24 remaining.

As the survey points out, a wise policy would be to promote intensive research to develop new technics for using our abundant reserves of low grade sources. Also recommended is the importing of as much as possible to maintain our domestic reserves of strategic minerals and to stockpike those materials which would not deteriorate.

No one should quarrel with this advice. Although our country has a wider variety and greater abundance of natural resources than any other industrial nation, with the possible exception of Russia, we are using them up at a rapid rate.

Old sorehead poses this perplexing question: "Why do so many women consider their husbands dumb, and yet expect them to make oodles of money?"

The reason many a girl pads, compresses or otherwise camouflages her figure is that she knows figures naturally don't lie, and she doesn't want hers to tell the truth.

Another manner in which Oakland County leads most of the other 82 counties in Michigan is in the recording of its official papers. According to our marriages have been recorded since 1827, births and deaths since 1867, and naturalization papers since 1827. Among Oakland County's 25 townships and numerous cities and villages, none can produce a more perfect record than Avon Township. According to every official action of its township board since it was organized by special act of the Michigan territorial legislature at Detroit 131 years ago is preserved and in good condition at its office in Rochester.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen,

A Pontiac luncheon partner, who is a pharmacist, tells me that chemical research is going back to some of grandmother's herbs and roots and barks of trees in its efforts to find more potent drugs. Even sassafras tea is no longer a joke with the collegians.

From that publication that keeps track of such things,

Aviation Week,

I learn that airlines are offering an average of 10,500 seats a week for transatlantic service this winter, a hike of 21 per cent over the 1955-56 season. In each direction there are 178 flights weekly.

A family of school teachers is that of

of neighboring Lapeer County, seven members being engaged in that work.

Few men in our official life have an ancestry so intimately connected with our county as and he has every reason to be proud of them and boast about it.

If you have a flare for figures, just cogitate on the fact that the automotive industry spent over a billion dollars for new tools, equipment and other preliminaries on the 1957 models.

"This Far and No Farther"—Egypt

David Lawrence Says:

Beck Has Obligation to Bare Data

WASHINGTON — Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters Union, has a legal right to avoid giving testimony that could be used against him in a future trial, but in the court of public opinion he is bound by a moral obligation to make full disclosure of what he has done with the funds entrusted to him by his labor union members.

LAWRENCE

The question of whether the Fifth Amendment implies guilt and whether, since it is a Constitutional right, anyone should be condemned for invoking it has stirred up a lot of controversy in recent years, largely because so many Communists or persons suspected of Communist affiliations have refused to testify before Congress about such matters.

They plead the Fifth Amendment because it gives them the privilege of remaining silent lest what they say be used against them in some future court proceedings.

The so-called "liberals" have been consistently defending the use of the Fifth Amendment as something that should not be deprecated when it is invoked. Their argument is that a man might or might not be guilty of the things which are suspected. He may plead the Fifth Amendment, for instance, because he is really guilty or he may plead it because he doesn't want to be hauled into court and forced to expose himself to the adverse publicity of a trial.

CITIZEN OBLIGATED

What seems to have been overlooked in the Communist cases is that an American citizen owes an obligation to help his fellow men deal with the menace of subversion and espionage involving the safety of the republic. If he puts his own convenience above the welfare of the country itself and refuses to tell about other persons who are guilty—even though he himself isn't—he is not fulfilling the highest purposes of his citizenship.

There is, of course, no question here involving communism in the case before the Senate committee investigating labor union rackets.

Dave Beck has long occupied a position of trust in his union. He has been allowed to handle many hundreds of thousands of dollars of the funds of his members, checked off their wages each week. When he insists that there is adequate machinery inside his own union to render judgment on what he has done with various sums about which the senators asked him, he is passing the buck to fellow union officers who are under his control or influence.

ACTS FOR PUBLIC

A labor union is a quasi-public institution. It acts for many citizens who have a right to expect the most scrupulous care in handling their money. Many union leaders who recognize this principle are today openly denouncing the attitude of Dave Beck.

It is likely that the executive board of the AFL-CIO, of which Beck is a member, now will suspend him from that post as long as he refuses to make complete disclosure and fails to answer to the public the queries that have been directed to him about what happened to the funds placed in his care.

Most union leaders feel that Dave Beck has given the whole labor movement a bad name, and they naturally resent his secretiveness. The Fifth Amendment may protect Beck as an individual from possible legal involvements, but it cannot protect him from the adverse criticism and harsh judgments that will come his way from the labor union chiefs as well as from the rank and file of the American labor union movement.

For, whether it is business or labor or any other institution, the few who misbehave tend to besmirch the many who are innocent of wrongdoing and who take seriously the trust bestowed upon them. To argue merely that wrongful practices have also occurred in some corporations is to condone the situation that has been uncovered in one of the biggest labor unions in the country. Two wrongs can't make a single right.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Each Tooth Worth $1,000, Essential to Good Nutrition

"Yankee Stomach" is a common functional disorder manifested by uneasiness and fullness after eating, bloating, hyperacidity, heartburn, (waterbrash, pyrosis, burning or irritation of the throat or gullet by sour eructations) and the impatience, irritability, and crankiness engendered by these discomforts.

BRADY

In the pamphlet on Yankee Stomach, (available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope) I suggest the things one may do to prevent or correct Yankee Stomach. And, knowing human nature, I add that these things will not help much if one is stupid, stingy, or willful enough to limp along with anything less than a full complement of functionally efficient masticating machinery.

The only part of the entire digestive process over which one has any control goes on in the mouth during mastication and continues for half an hour or longer in the stomach after the food has been swallowed. How many teeth have you lost, Mister?

An enzyme (ferment) in saliva, called ptyalin, converts cooked starch into maltose and dextrin, if the saliva is well-mixed with the food by chewing.

CONTINUES IN STOMACH

Some of the food in an ordinary meal remains in the fundus or first part of the stomach for an hour untouched by acid gastric juice, so that the salivary digestion continues for at least half an hour in the stomach.

If this part of the digestive process is faulty or shirked the undigested starch becomes a burden on pancreatic digestion, in the duodenum just beyond the stomach. That's where "indigestion" hits the goof who has lost some teeth and never troubled to replace them.

One "notion" I have is that in order to attain good health, vite, and longevity, one requires a full set of functionally efficient teeth or dentures. Further I say that for every tooth lost and not immediately replaced by a functionally efficient denture, one must deduct two years from one's life expectancy.

In Volumette I of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health I say every functionally efficient tooth or denture is worth not less than $1,000 and lately this has been recognized by the courts. In Volumette 16 of the Cyclopedia I say Number One of the seven keys to vite is Save Your Teeth.

Comfort, good digestion, and good looks are contingent or incidental factors to consider in relation to the condition of the teeth. Good nutrition is the first consideration.

One need not be a gourmet to enjoy good food. One needs only good teeth.

One need not be under the influence of alcohol or drugs to enjoy being alive. One needs only vite-which means better-than-average nutritional condition — and to have that kind of nutrition you've got to have TEETH.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Praises Basketball Season; Hopes Good Luck for Next

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like to thank Coach Art Van Ryzin and the PHS basketball team for the wonderful enjoyment I have gotten out of the team this season. I believe this season has had more thrills and excitement than any I can remember. We were a great team all season long. The team showed great sportsmanship on and off the floor. With a break or two they could have been an undefeated team.

Hope to see the Pontiac team in Lansing next year. I do want to thank the coaches, team, managers and all concerned for the enjoyment I have had. Good luck next year, Big Chiefs.

I understand that the new GOP chairman, H. Meade Alcorn Jr., announces his original objective is to elect a Republican Congress in 1958. That's a preposterous idea but it isn't his most goofy mistake. That comes in accepting the GOP chairmanship. He should have his head examined.

'Put Our Justices on Flat Salaries'

The merits of the Dixie speed trap is debatable. I for one think the control has prevented many accidents and saved thousands of dollars in property damage.

However, the servants of the public are lining their pockets with undeserved profits at the cost of the general public.

They may be 100 per cent conscientiously right. But by putting justices of the peace on a flat salary, and the fines turned over to the township or county at large it would make a lot of violators feel they weren't being fleeced.

Replies to Two 'Voice' Letters

It did my heart good to read about a teenager suggesting a drill along with the sirens. Thank God for one bright one who isn't afraid or too busy to speak up.

Concerning dad knowing how sonny is driving the car, it would shock and anger many a parent if they knew of all the games and daredevil stunts right here in town. Too many nice boys become smug and smart alecky behind the wheel. It's a shame that a few smart aleck ruin the name of the good, courteous "Sonnys" behind the wheel.

Remember that praise is just as important as punishment, Dad.

Here's New Way for World Travel

The Journal of the Royal Society of Arts predicts that letter mail will be shot to Australia in rockets by the year 2,000 and that pedestrians will travel on moving sidewalks.

I'm still waiting for someone to go around the world in 24 hours. All you have to do is arise above the pull of gravity and then stand still in space while the world revolves once below you. Then descend. If you want to go half way around in 12 hours, go up to the same point, wait until it has half revolved underneath you, then come down.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Emphasizes Teachers' Influence

Good teachers serve as foster parents to their brood. And they reassure tense neurotic youngsters by an opening smile. Children can endure much irritability and scolding if they know that, deep down, you still love them. So send for the rating scale mentioned below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-339: I was recently asked to address 1,600 teachers in Chicago.

I spoke on "A Teacher's Education By-Products."

You may recall that St. Paul produced his greatest contributions to civilization in the form of his by-products.

For he worked as a tentmaker by day. Only, figuratively, when the quitting whistle blew, did he begin his hobby of preaching the new ethical doctrines of Christianity.

Well, I cited the fact that good teachers likewise must have the missionary zeal of St. Paul regarding the ethical and moral nurture of their children.

CRANE

Indeed, 40 per cent of public school pupils come from non-religious homes, so a school marm has vast moral opportunities.

We sign teachers to instruct youngsters in geography, English, history, Latin and similar mental subjects.

But most of the children will forget the bulk of their geography. Few of you readers can quickly name the capitals of the 48 states, can you?

And we retain but a few fragments or "peaks" of our former knowledge of history, foreign languages and science courses.

But if children like their teacher as a person, then they are inclined to extend their liking to what that teacher represents, namely, education and morality.

So it is doubly critical that teachers of kindergarten and the early grades be kindly, patient, smiling foster mothers of their 30 or 35 pupils.

A grouchy, tactless or sourpuss teacher in kindergarten can literally spoil the life career of scores of youngsters.

For those children consider the teacher as a synonym for school. She is it!

Oh, in high school a bad teacher is not quite so critical since the teenagers are then old enough to distinguish between a lemon on the faculty tree, vs. the rest of the teaching crop.

Teachers actually stand before their children in a directive capacity for more hours during the school days, than do the mothers of those youngsters.

So a good teacher should always consider herself a foster mother. She should have love for children and the desire to lead them deftly into regarding the search for knowledge as a thrilling quest.

When scared youngsters leave mamma and head for school, they are often tense and jittery.

So the teacher should arbitrarily smile, at least during the first hour in the morning. For that lets the children realize they have just shifted from one loving mamma to another.

It is a big order to expect a teacher of 30 wriggling children to be completely patient and nonirritable all day. Mothers likewise get cross at home with only one or two youngsters to supervise.

But good teachers should at least start each day (or each class in high school) with a smile and a show of affection.

Children can stand a lot of scoldings if they know that deep down, we adults love them. And our smiles are an obvious badge of our affection.

For further advice, send for my "Test for Good Teachers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Use it in teacher meetings, or rate yourself thereon about once per month. If you are brave, let your pupils rate you, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Twining Named Staff Chairman

Air Force General to Take Over Top Position Among Joint Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nomination of Nathan F. Twining — a cigar-chewing Air Force general — for chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff brought applause but little surprise within the Department of Defense.

A staunch and vocal supporter of Air Force pre-eminence in the defense organization, Twining nevertheless has been regarded by key men in the other services as a fair, reasonable and highly capable officer.

And in the Air Force itself, his popularity and accomplishments have caused him to be considered a worthy successor to the late Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Twining, 59, was nominated yesterday for the chairmanship of the Joint Chiefs by President Eisenhower. Senate confirmation appeared a mere formality.

White-haired, ruddy of complexion and usually chewing a fat cigar, Twining is a hearty, approachable general whose breeziness covers up much of the steel in his makeup.

A West Point graduate and a military flier for more than 30 years, he carried on aerial warfare against both the Japanese and Germans in World War II.

In January 1943, he became commanding general of the 13th Air Force in the South Pacific.

In January 1944, as a major general, he succeeded Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle as commander of the 15th Air Force in Italy. He became a lieutenant general in June 1945.

After the fighting ended in Europe Twining went to Guam to command the 20th Air Force and its B29 heavy bombers until the surrender of Japan.

In July 1950, he became acting deputy chief of staff for personnel, and later that year he rose to vice chief of staff of the Air Force. He became chief of staff June 30, 1953.

In that post he has been instrumental in development of nuclear air weapons and the supersonic craft—missiles as well as airplanes — designed to deliver them.

Burglars Escape Leaving Horse, Wagon and Loot

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Ten police cars sped to Good Will Industries of Philadelphia early yesterday and their occupants were just in time to see two men vault a fence, scramble over rooftops and hotfoot it down some railroad tracks.

The thwarted burglars left behind a lazy cocoa-brown horse hitched to an old milk wagon fitted up with auto tires. The wagon was loaded with scrap iron, two old washing machines and a batch of other material collected by Good Will, a welfare organization specializing in the employment of handicapped persons to mend clothes and repair furniture, appliances and the like.

A stableman said horse and wagon had been rented the day before and taken out at 5:30 a.m. Police said there was no trace of the two men who got away.

Confusion Reigns in Reports by Newsmen on Ike's Health

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trying to judge President Eisenhower's physical condition by looking at him — or looking at pictures of him — is tricky business and so far has not proved anything.

For weeks Eisenhower has been troubled by a cough. On March 12 doctors at Walter Reed Hospital checked him over. The next day the President told reporters the doctors thought he was in "quite good shape from their standpoint."

At times in recent weeks some newsmen who have seen Eisenhower closeup thought he looked tired. Others, seeing him at the same time, thought he looked excellent. Some recent pictures make him look tired. In others he looks fine.

Last week his appointments secretary, Bernard M. Shanley, in a speech mainly devoted to the Supreme Court, mentioned Eisenhower in a way that emphasized his tiredness and compared the President of three years ago and today.

"It's impossible," said Shanley, "for the president to do the things he did three years ago. I have seen the President so tired he has rested his head on his hands."

In a talk to the nation Feb. 29, 1956 — five months after his heart attack and announcing he would seek a second term — Eisenhower made it clear that if re-elected he would have to cut down on some of the activities he had indulged in before his heart attack.

He said: "Some of the things in which I can properly have a reduced schedule include public speeches, office appointments with individuals and groups, ceremonial dinners, receptions, and portions of a very heavy correspondence."

A week later Eisenhower, denying Democratic complaints that he was already a "part-time president," said that if the time ever came when he didn't feel fit to carry out his duties he would inform the people immediately.

An Associated Press reporter, regularly assigned to the White House for years, says that so far as he can determine Eisenhower is working as long hours as ever.

But he also says he never saw Eisenhower looking better than he did the day before his heart attack Sept. 24, 1955, and the night before his stomach attack last summer.

One reporter who was with Eisenhower at his Bermuda meeting with British Prime Minister Macmillan last week said later the President seemed to him tired around the eyes when he boarded his plane Sunday to return home.

Another reporter, meeting Eisenhower when he got off that plane here, wrote that the President looked "tan and fit." The picture accompanying that story seemed to show the President looking fit.

But other newsmen who met that same plane thought the President looked "quite fatigued." James Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, was told of this yesterday. He said he thought all those who took part in the Bermuda conference felt a little tired afterwards. Outside of that, Hagerty said, Eisenhower was feeling fine.

One press photographer who followed Eisenhower around Bermuda later said the President coughed frequently there, holding a handkerchief to his mouth and pressing his chest.

He also said that Eisenhower — during a half hour of hitting golf balls around with Hagerty at Bermuda — sat down on the ground three or four times to rest.

Yesterday morning Hagerty said that during Eisenhower's leisurely voyage to Bermuda and his stay there he had shaken off a head cold and ear trouble but still had an occasional cough.

Yet, Sen. Hennings (D-Mo), after attending Eisenhower's White House conference with congressional leaders, said the President looked fit, did not appear to be hoarse, and did not cough during the hour and 20 minutes he spent with the senators and representatives.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to have done most of the talking with the Congress members because, at the start, Eisenhower said his voice was not up to a lengthy discussion.

For the Birds—Seed Grounds for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Birdseed on the kitchen floor was the reef on which their marriage foundered, says Mrs. Beverly Jurman, 29.

She was awarded a divorce from William Jurman 35, a chiropodist, after telling the judge:

"He went into a great rage and yelled until 2 a.m. because our baby lovebirds scattered seed on the kitchen floor. He finally kicked me out of bed and telephoned my father.

"If the birds could talk, they would certainly have been good witnesses, but they were just babies."

Dr. Conant Searches for Best Schools

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. James Bryant Conant, former president of Harvard University and recently retired as ambassador to Germany, completes a tour of Baltimore schools today preliminary to making a comprehensive survey of American high schools.

The object of his survey, sponsored by the Carnegie Corp. of New York, will be to find schools doing the best job in educating their pupils, Dr. Conant said. He said he will look for the conditions which make these schools satisfactory.

During his tour yesterday, Dr. Conant said he was "not particularly alarmed" at reports Russian schools are turning out more technicians than U.S. schools.

Detroit Tax Rate Up; Pay Hike for 23,000

DETROIT (AP) — An increase of at least 69 cents per $1,000 valuation in Detroit's property tax rate was recommended yesterday by Mayor Albert E. Cobo.

The proposed increase would make the rate $23.082 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation. This would be the highest since Cobo became mayor, but it still would be under the alltime high of $23.68 set in 1948.

Cobo said the average Detroit home is now assessed at $5,000 and a rate increase of 69 cents would add $3.45 to the average tax bill next year.

The new tax schedule was included in the proposed city budget for 1957-58, which the mayor will submit to the city council April 9.

The mayor's budget includes $3,843,000 in pay raises for 23,000 city employes. They would get increases of 8 cents an hour or 3 per cent, whichever is greater.

At the rate of $23.082 per thousand, the budget would raise $117,608,000 in tax revenue, or $7,856,000 more than in 1956-57.

Continental Gets Work

MUSKEGON (AP) — The Air Force announced the awarding of $1,712,815 in contracts Monday to Continental Motors Corp., for engines and packettes used as starters and generator units. C. J. Reese, Continental president, described the generator units as "one of the mainstays of our defense production schedules."

Iroquois Theater Fire Ghastly Experience

(This is the 3rd in a series in which some of the great disasters of the last 75 years are told through the eyes of those who survived them.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

"The Iroquois Theater—fire in Chicago was the most ghastly and terrifying experience of my lifetime."

The speaker is Jack Haskell, 73, a retired dance director of New York City, recalling the blaze which swept the Iroquois Theater during a Christmas-week matinee on Wednesday, December 30, 1903.

The death toll was appalling. within 24 hours, Chicago's newspapers had listed 587 dead and many other men, women and children injured. Subsequent deaths of injured brought the toll up to 608.

"What happened that day remains indelibly in my mind," Haskell said.

"The theater was packed to capacity, and there were standees. The show, with Foy doing his funny stuff, breezed along merrily through the first act.

"I came on stage at the beginning of the second act as a member of a double octette—eight men and eight girls. We had a pretty number.

"Suddenly, from behind a curtain back stage came cries of 'fire!'

"I turned around. Just back of me, only a few feet away, I could see the flash of flames. Apparently someone had opened a scenery door and the wind, sweeping in from Lake Michigan, had blown gauzy material up against one of those old-fashioned carbon arc lights."

"We kept dancing for a minute or two," Haskell went on. "Then somebody started to lower the curtain in front of the footlights as the cries of 'fire' rang out through the theater.

"Panic broke out. People stampeded madly for the exits. As the curtain was being rung down, the right side of it fell to the floor but the left section stayed up. Flames swept beneath the left side of the curtain and out toward the audience.

"Flimsy scenery and drapes went up in smoke. Tongues of flames shot out in all directions. You could hear the rush of feet down the aisles. All the musicians had fled. People wailed and groaned and cried out wildly.

DOORS OPENED IN

"Hundreds of the poor victims were trapped at the doors. Upon reaching the doors they found they opened in, instead of opening out. Men, women and children were blocked in front of the exits, caught in a trap. They piled up on top of each other—dying by the hundreds. As many died from suffocation as from the flames."

Haskell said that while he was dancing on state, Eddie Foy's six-year old son, Bryan, was standing in the wings. It was part of Haskell's job to keep an eye on little Bryan.

"I was lucky to get out alive," Haskell continued. "A few minutes or so after that first cry of 'fire!' came, my dancing partner, Miss Williams, fainted. I grabbed her.

"Rushing with her into the wings, I seized Bryan Foy. As the three of us neared a stage door there was a terrific explosion and we three were blown out into the street.

"I was directed to Thompson's Restaurant nearby. They were using the restaurant as a morgue. There I lay among the bodies holding the kid, Bryan, until Eddie Foy came in. He grabbed the child and went off."

The Iroquois Theater was a plush new one, located on Randolph Street between State and Dearborn, in the heart of the "Loop."

The disaster brought about a nation-wide investigation of theaters with improper exits. Theaters in various cities were condemned as firetraps and permanently closed. Others were forced to make extensive repairs. Stringent ordinances regarding exits were passed, and are being enforced to this day.

UP SHE GOES — William Wright, principal of Mark Twain School, assists Joyce Hoppe up the ramp into a special school bus used for crippled children. The bus, one of two in southeastern Michigan, was bought recently by the school board because drivers were unable to lift students into conventional vehicles. The bus has 12 conventional seats and straps for securing three wheel chairs. Joyce, a ninth grader at Madison Junior High, comes to Mark Twain to practice on an electric typewriter.

Motorist Claims Wording Ambiguous

To Test License Plate Law

WEST BRANCH (AP) — A motorist who objects to wording of Michigan's license plate law finally got a ticket — two of them, in fact.

He is Edwin Bartlett, West Branch attorney, who announced a month ago he wanted to test the law on installing vehicle license plates on grounds that it was "poorly worded and ambiguous."

He fixed the plates on one of his two cars in a horizontal position, using special equipment to mount them with the lettering facing skyward.

City police officer Clarion Harper ticketed Bartlett twice. One charge was having improperly mounted plates. The other was for not having a driver's license with him.

Officer Harper said the tail lamp of Bartlett's car did not illuminate his license plate so that it was "clearly legible from 50 feet away," as required by law.

Bartlett contends the state law requiring that plates be mounted in a "horizontal" position means they could be horizontal to the ground and still be "legible."

He can argue his case on or before March 30 before Justice of the Peace Fred Rivard, of West Branch.

Holland Valuation Up

HOLLAND (AP)—The city's tax board of review has increased Holland's assessed valuation by $1,343,895 for a total figure of $32,494,115 which will be used to set up a tax base for the fiscal year 1957-58.

Quadruple Birthday

DALLAS (AP)—The toys were so plentiful at the Philip McNamara home yesterday it looked like Christmas. The family was celebrating the birthdays of four children, all born on March 26: Maribeth, 13; Dennis, 6; and twins Timothy and Thomas, 3.

'You Have No Idea the Terror We're Going Through'

Lunt and Fontanne Prepare for TV

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Mr. Alfred Lunt and Miss Lynn Fontanne until now the theater's most hallowed holdouts from the crass world of TV ("it's frightfully difficult to lower your voice for somebody's parlor"), are sitting side by side in their elegant little living room.

"We are now going into tele vision," says Miss Fontanne, gazing wistfully at a nearby bowl of calla lilies. "I wonder what we'll look like."

"Immediately after our debut," says Mr. Lunt, addressing his wife, "we shall get on a plane. That very night. In black-face, of course."

There is a pause. "You are talking too loud," says Miss Fontanne. "You are projecting again."

Actually, as this most polished of duets glibly express their bland version of torture and despair at the prospect of making their TV debut on NBC's "Producer's Showcase" next Monday, it is plain to see they are exhilarated.

Even as Mr. Lunt remarks, "You have no idea the terror we're going through," a charm that is bred of utter self-confidence pervades the parlor.

And his wife, surely the freshest looking woman of undisclosed age in the theater, is patently an arch liar as she solemnly nods her head — fetchingly ribboned in black velvet — in concurrence.

The drama in which the Lunts will make a first stab at TV ("they persist in calling it a 'vehicle'," says Miss Fontanne, "but actually, you know, it's a play") is the Lindsay-Crouse comedy called "The Great Sebastians." In this drama, they have appeared on Broadway and toured U. S. cities for nearly two years.

In it, they play a pair of carnival mind-readers. Speaking of mind-reading, let us do some, as we listen to the adroit Lunts discussing their emotions about TV.

Lynn — We're very tired, you know, coming off a six-month tour, and perhaps TV is the best thing we could have tried. It' the most lazy possible kind of a job. You don't have to project your voice (clutches her hand to diaphragm, then flings it out dramatically), or do you . . .

Alfred — You don't have to use nearly as much breath. In fact, none whatever. At first, I felt like a frogman, going down under where you can't hear your own voice. Now I can talk so softly (he whispers) you can't even hear me.

Lynn — Of course, it's a comedy . . .

Alfred — And nobody will laugh, being unable to hear, but we'll go right on . . .

Lynn — We haven't watched much TV, just old movies like "Ninotchka" . . .

Alfred — Divine! Better than ever.

Lynn — And we have seen some of the plays we used to do on television. It's a strange feeling.

Alfred — Like somebody using your own toothbrush.

Lynn — It's awful when new actors use a bit of business you thought up . . .

Alfred — We're being vain. I don't say they're not as good. They're probably better . . .

Lynn — The few times we have watched live plays on TV, we don't know what it's all about. We're just about to find out what's happening when it's all over. (Turns palms up, shrugs.)

Alfred — Our play has a beginning, a middle and an end. That's not art. Don't watch it.

BASSET HOUND

Lynn — Don't say that, you basset hound.

Alfred — She is referring to the fact that we started late in life, and no makeup in this wooooorld could do anything for me. Lynn looks rather good, however.

Lynn — You're using too much breath, darling. Remember your technique.

Alfred — Oh, that's right. (Whispering again) As I say, there are moments in this business when you just hope you'll die. It's frightening.

Lynn — (Also hushed) But you must admit, dear. Television is much more restful than acting.

Rhee Observes 82nd Birthday

South Korean Leader Adopts Associate's Son; Hint Political Overtone

SEOUL (AP) — President Sygman Rhee marked his 82nd birthday today with a cryptic act which observers interpreted as naming his successor.

A Rhee spokesman announced the President and his wife had adopted the 20-year-old son of Lee Ki Poong, chairman of the National Assembly.

Korean and American observers interpreted this as Rhee's way of dsignating 60-year-old Lee to fill his shoes. But there was no indication Rhee intends to step down at present.

Rhee was re-elected last May to a third term, which expires in 1960. Government sources said he was "feeling fine" despite rumors of poor health.

Rhee will have his hands full if he intends to get Lee elected to his post. The latter ran for vice president on Rhee's ticket last May but was trounced by opposition leader Chang Myun.

Rhee was visited by hundreds of well wishers during the day.

Safety Film Slated at Meeting of PTA

The March meeting of the Waterford Village PTA will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Following the election of officers, Gerald Tafel, State Trooper, will speak on "School Safety," and a film entitled "According to the Records," will be shown.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students have been invited to attend the meeting, if accompanied by their parents, and a room award of $3 will be presented to the home room with the highest percentage of parents attending.

A social hour will follow the program with mothers of 2nd graders serving refreshments. Mrs. Ralph Marble is president.

Huston Leaves Italy, Quits Film Connection

ROME (AP)—John Huston, Hollywood director, left Italy today. He has quit his connection with "Farewell to Arms."

Huston walked out on the film last week, but neither he nor producer David O. Selznick gave any explanation on just what was the reason for the rift. In Rome, Huston said it was not caused by any quarrel with Selznick's actress wife, Jennifer Jones, who stars in the picture."

The United States and Korea have signed, at Seoul, a treaty covering their economic relationships—a pact of friendship, commerce and navigation.

Chimney Sparks Fire

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Firemen Tuesday said a defective chimney caused hte March 15 fire which destroyed Walters sport shop in Grand Rapids with damages estimated at $124,000. Firemen and electrical inspectors said they had been unable to enter the building earlier because the first and second floors had fallen into the basement in the fire.

CONSTIPATED?
new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONAID, the amazing new lavative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

Highway Land Quiz Completed

Probe Ends in Claims of Conflicting Testimony and Repudiation

LANSING (AP) — An auditor general's investigation of a proposed 2½ acre land purchase came to an explosive end yesterday with a request for a lie detector test and prosecutor's investigation and a slap at the investigating powers of the auditor general.

Further action now rests with Gov. Williams and the Ingham County prosecutor's office.

Ending the eight-day probe, Deputy Atty. Gen. Joseph A. Sullivan said he would turn over conflicting testimony in the case to the county prosecutor.

Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski said he would submit his findings to the Governor on the basis of some 40 hours of testimony from more than a dozen witnesses.

The whole dispute grew out of the State Highway Department's tentative agreement to pay Darling Freight Lines, Inc., $90,000 for a 2½ acre piece of property tied in with a Grand Rapids expressway project. Williams ordered an investigation after learning in a letter from a Grand Rapids realtor that the property had been appraised two years ago for $11,800.

Sullivan said he would ask the Ingham County prosecutor to study testimony given by Everett A. Wells, assistant right of way director for the state highway department, and Francis T. Kennedy, assistant to the chief right of way buyer.

Under cross examination yesterday, both men repudiated earlier testimony that they had hired Harry J. Fuller of Grand Rapids to appraise the Darling property, knowing that he had done the same for Darling. Fuller also denied the claim at an earlier hearing.

Detroit Boy Shoots Dad in Money Argument

DETROIT (INS) — George Ingram, 65, of Detroit, was in serious condition at Receiving Hospital today with a shotgun wound inflicted by his teen-age son.

Police said Ingram's 15-year-old son shot his father in the right leg last night during an argument over the boy's allowance.

Strong Army Striking Force Formed on Modern Concepts

(How ready are U.S. air, ground and naval forces in a period of continuing international tension? And, with the defense budget now being considered by Congress, how much defense is the taxpayer getting for his dollars? Following is the first of three reports to the American people by the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force.)

By SECRETARY OF THE ARMY WILBUR M. BRUCKER

WASHINGTON (INS) — The United States Army, incorporating the rapidly changing technology of warfare, is organized, trained and deployed to meet fully its responsibilities in our defense system.

The Army's 19 combat divisions and nine regiments and regimental combat teams, soon to be backed by the awesome firepower of atomic support commands, are the most impressive deterrents against aggression in the free world today.

These forces, thoroughly equipped and superbly trained, together with our strategic reserves at home, are ready to fight if the occasion demands.

The Army's paratroopers, fast-moving infantry, hard-hitting armor and far-reaching artillery, give it incomparable combat capability and versatility. With its arsenal of conventional and atomic weapons, the Army has the means to apply the exact amount of force required in any situation—from the silent thrust of a bayonet to the blast of a guided missile.

HIGHLIGHT CONCEPT

The importance of firepower, mobility and the ability to hold ground is highlighted in the concept of the Army's 'pentomic' divisions which are currently being organized. The 101st Airborne Division, the first to be organized under the pentomic concept, embodies the most up-to-date thought in organization and its employment of advanced tactical doctrines.

With an authorized strength of 11,500 men, the 101st is organized into five combat groups, each a self-contained force. It is completely air-transportable—men, weapons and equipment. In addition to conventional weapons, and these include a 90mm gun which can be dropped by parachute, it will have an Honest John atomic rocket unit as part of its organic artillery.

The 101st will have an airborne television system to serve as the commander's eyes in searching for distant targets, and a large number of light aircraft and helicopters for observation, command, and movement within a battle area.

SPLENDIDLY TRAINED

Deployed across Western Germany is the United States Seventh Army—the most splendidly trained operational army the United States has ever had in time of peace.

With its ever increasing atomic capability, the Seventh Army is the keystone of NATO's ground defenses. Consisting of five divisions—two armored, two infantry and one airborne—three armored cavalry regiments, and one infantry regiment, the Seventh Army is backed by Corporal guided missiles, Honest John rockets and 280mm guns, all capable of delivering atomic warheads.

The Army's Southern European Task Force in northern and eastern Italy provides atomic support for NATO divisions defending that vital area. The SETAF organization is the forerunner of the atomic support commands that will come into being this year.

THWART ATTACK

In Korea, two compat divisions of the Eighth Army, are helping guard against attack by Communist forces in position on the other side of the narrow armistice corridor.

At home we hold 10 divisions in strategic reserve which could be used to reinforce our overseas garrisons if the need should arise.

The Army also provides for the continental defense of the United States against attack by airborne or seaborne troops. From our most northern outposts in Alaska, along the western coast lines, to the Caribbean and the Canal Zone, Army troops are protecting hemisphere approaches.

Army antiaircraft units, a majority of them armed with the powerful Nike Ajax missile, share day and night responsibility for the defense of major cities and industrial areas in the United States against air attack.

In support of our world-wide defense alliances and arrangements, forty per cent of our million young men and women in our Army are stationed overseas in more than 70 countries. In 44 of these countries we have Army missions which assist and give technical advice to strengthen the defense forces of our allies.

To back up the million young men and women in the Army uniform, our research and development program during the past year has introduced new weapons and facilities that include the Nike Hercules, an antiaircraft missile which has many times the potentiality of the present Nike Ajax; the M56 self-propelled 90mm gun; a new general purpose light weight machine gun which fires a cartridge common to our NATO allies; an improved version of the M48 tank which has a greatly increased combat range; and several new helicopters.

ENLIST RESERVE

In addition, the Army National Guard will be given an exclusive 60-day period in which to enlist men completing two years active service who have an obligation to participate actively with a reserve unit. In the 12 months starting with July of this year, approximately 113,000 will become available from this source. In succeeding years, this yearly total

The Army visualizes continued progress during the coming year—progress that is pointed toward making the United States Army an even greater power for peace and deterrent to aggression.

Dr. Adams Gets New Small Car

Order Reveals Belief in Acquittal; Asks Color to Match Rolls Royce

LONDON (INS)—A new car purchased since he went to jail testified today to the confidence Dr. John Bodkin Adams has that he will win a murder trial acquittal.

The auto purchase was revealed by an Eastbourne dealer as the trial entered its eighth day.

The dealer told a newsman Dr. Adams ordered that his new small auto be painted gray to match his Rolls Royce and that the work be completed by last weekend because he expected to take a long trip "very soon."

Eastbourne is the Victorian seaside resort where the doctor allegedly fed huge doses of narcotics to Mrs. Edith Morrell, one of his many elderly and wealthy widow patients, to kill her so that he could benefit from her will.

On the witness stand when the trial resumed this morning was Dr. Ronald Harris, who took over the Morrell case while Dr. Adams was on vacation.

Under cross-examination from defense lawyer Geoffrey Lawrence, Harris testified earlier he ordered an increase in the amount of drugs the defendant had prescribed for Mrs. Morrell. He said he increased the drug dosage because he considered it proper treatment.

In general, Dr. Harris said, he had continued the treatment set out by Dr. Adams.

Russia Doles Supplies to Polish Forces; Strongest Satellite Could Spark Revolt

PARIS (INS) — Russia is keeping the strong Polish Army and Air Force on short rations to avoid trouble.

Military intelligence reports from behind the Iron Curtain say the Soviets are doling out just enough gasoline, jet fuel and other supplies to keep the Polish military operational on almost a day to day basis.

The assessment, supported by other western intelligence information, is:

The Russians are worried about the Polish military force, strongest among the satellites. The Russians fear that if there is another blowup in Poland the Army and Air Force, 400,000 strong, will fight the Soviet Red Army.

READY TO FIGHT

The Polish military forces appeared ready to fight last October during the revolution that brought Wladyslaw Gomulka to power with demands for independence from Russia.

Military leaders were among the forefront of Poles who demanded the ouster of the Red Army Marshal, Konstantin Rokossovsky, from his job as Polish defense minister.

Since then the Polish officers have had time to plan for action in case of another outbreak. Western officials refuse to admit that they have evidence that such plans actually exist, but a high-ranking official said he would be surprised if they don't.

A highly placed western diplomat said:

"If there is another outbreak in Poland the Polish armed forces will be much more effective than the Hungarian Army was last fall during their revolt.

"There was no real plan for the Hungarians. Each unit had to make up its own mind, under the pressure of the moment. Some fought, some gave their weapons to the rebels, some stayed aloof. But they had to make up their plans as they went along.

"It is inconceivable that these conditions would exist if there was another Polish outbreak.

"For one thing the Polish forces are the biggest, best trained and best equipped of all the satellite military establishments. The Poles, for instance, were the first of the satellites to get jet aircraft."

Therefore the Soviets are on the alert and putting the squeeze on supplies to limit the effectiveness of the Polish forces.

Garage Moved First

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Reynolds planned to move and Reynolds came home yesterday afternoon to begin packing. He said he looked out a window and found his two-car garage missing. Neighbors said that soon after the Reynolds left for work Tuesday morning, some men took the building down piece by piece and loaded it into a truck.

Saucy Parakeet Eludes Rescue From Hot Perch

Susie, 10, wept. A Pacific Gas & Electric Co. troubleshooter, Henry Wiley, sympathized:

"My kid has a parakeet too. We'd hate to lose him."

Wiley checked the voltage of the line, then hurried over.

"It's 12,000 volts," he said, squinting up at the parakeet.

"Don't risk your life for a $2 bird" said Susie's father, F. W. Riley.

But Wiley dug his spikes into the pole and started up.

The vibrations alerted Jimmy —who flew off and no one saw where.

No Brakes—No Break

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Witnesses said a car driven by Robert Lyle Taylor skidded into the side of a moving Santa Fe freight train, bounced sideways into a box car and was hurled 60 feet. Taylor, 20, was unhurt but his car was demolished. He was given a summons for having defective brakes.

Sergeant Finds Use for Five Languages

CLEVELAND (AP) — Five languages are required for the top sergeant of Company A, 107th Amored Cavalry Regiment, to give commands to his troops. Of the 75 members of the National Guard unit, 25 are foreign born and most of these have been in this country only a short time. Commands have been given in German, Polish, Slovenian and English. But Hungarian had to be added last night when two freedom fighters who came to this country in February joined the outfit.

Accent New Ideas for Home Improvement

Pontiac Jaycees Plan Show

Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce members are busy advancing plans for their fourth annual Pontiac Home Improvement Show, scheduled for April 25-28.

Howard C. Weedon, co-chairman of the show, said he exected some 55 city-area business firms to enter exhibits in the show.

It will have a new look for the first time as the setting moves from the Armory to the Tel-Huron Shopping Center parking lot, located to the southwest of the center.

There, a 60 by 180-foot tent will provide space for 70 exhibits. Booths may be secured by calling Weedon at FEderal 4-2597.

The accent of the show will be on how Mr. and Mrs. homeowner can modernize their homes with the newest innovations.

Exhibits will show home construction methods and materials, heating, air conditioning, and electrical appliances, furniture, paints, fuels, insulation, garages, storm windows and screens, among other things.

City banks, Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and Grinnell Brothers music store have entered exhibits.

Employment of the tent will provide more space for exhibitors and spectators, according to Weedon.

Assisting Weedon is co-chairman Donald Weddle, Jim Mann, sales manager, John Sloan, program advertising, and Bruce Moore and John Fryer, publicity.

Proceeds from the four-day event will go to the youth fund of the Pontiac Jaycees.

Wins $66,530 Claim for Fall in Puddle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because 6-year-old Eva June Wardrop fell in a back yard mud puddle, she has been awarded $66,530 damages from a construction company.

A Superior Court jury ruled against B & B Homes, upholding the claim of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ebell Wardrop of Redondo Beach, that the puddle into which Eva fell was formed by overflow from a stagnant sump.

Eva was hospitalized until last week by polio. She wears a complete body cast and casts on both legs that immobilize her except for her hands and arms. Experts testified that analysis showed water from the puddle was seriously contaminated.

Tetanus Germs Lived 50 Years in Antarctic

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. Isaac M. Taylor, a Navy medical officer, says tetanus germs left in the Antarctic by an explorer's horses 50 years ago were lying dormant on the ground when bacteriologists made soil tests there 14 months ago.

Taylor was an Operation Deep Freeze bacteriologist stationed at the Navy air facility on Ross Island in McMurdo Sound, 700 miles north of the pole.

AEC Signs Contract for Monroe Reactor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Research, development work and nuclear fuel worth a total of some $9,450,000 was pledged to the building and operation of the Monroe, Mich., nuclear reactor yesterday by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC said it has signed a contract agreeing to put up as much as $4,450,000 in government assistance to the building of the reactor, contingent on the issuance of required licenses.

Three labor unions — the AFL-CIO auto workers, electrical workers and paperworkers — are contesting the safety of the proposed 100,000 kilowatt power plant being built near Monroe.

The AEC is considering a union petition that the conditional construction permit for the project be revoked.

The Power Reactor Development Co., a combination organized by 21 public utility and manufacturing firms, is sponsoring the project. The Detroit Edison Co., principal members of PRDC plans to buy steam from the reactor and convert it to electricity.

California Quakes Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — This seaport metropolis is still having earth tremors — relatively minor shakes as an aftermath of Friday's big jolt. A moderately strong quake was felt at 6:13 p.m. yesterday.

Loan Agency Studied for College Students

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The State Senate was asked last night to set up a nonprofit agency to lend money to deserving Pennsylvania college students for higher education.

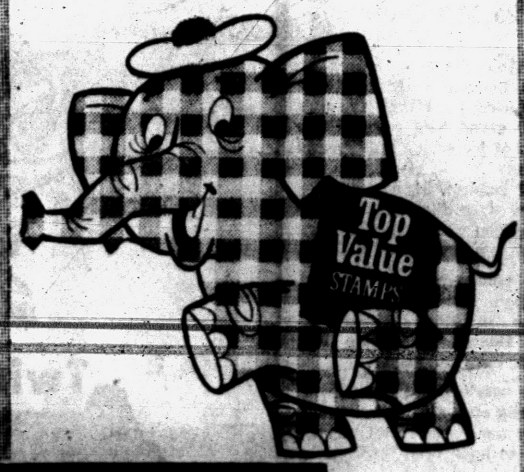

Sen. Martin Silvert, Philadelphia Democrat and one of the sponsors, said the agency would get all its funds from individual and group donations, and that state revenues would not be drawn upon.

No Precipitate Action

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Ethel Mae Roberson complained in a divorce petition that her husband walked out in 1931, after four years of marriage, and never returned.

Envoys Pay for U.S. Prestige Out of Own Pockets

(It costs money to be a U.S. ambassador, as a result many qualified men never make the grade. This country's ambassadorial system is explored in this second of three articles on the department of state.)

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The ambassador is the key man in the implementation of United States policies overseas.

He is the President's personal representative in the country to which he is assigned and thus the kingpin of all American activities there.

During this year President Eisenhower will appoint about 30 new ambassadors. If the appointments run true to form, the so-called plus posts—London, Paris, Madrid, Rome, Bonn, Mexico City and New Delhi—will be filled by what the department calls "noncareer diplomats."

To be more exact these appointments will be political rewards and the jobs will be filled by men with substantial private means.

Traditionally one-third of the nation's ambassadorial posts are occupied by noncareer people.

The new ambassadors to Paris and London already have been named.

This U. S. political system of picking ambassadors has turned up some really top flight men, one of whom was Whitney's grandfather, John Hay. By the same token it has produced some real duds.

Those who receive the plush jobs can expect to spend between $30,000 and $100,000 a year out of their own pockets for entertainment.

For all its wealth and prestige the United States makes niggardly provisions for upholding its prestige abroad. Entertainment allowances run from $50 a year for, say a vice consul, to $12,000 for the London embassy — $800,000 for all the 269 overseas posts.

The end result is that an ambassador often has to reach into his own pocket.

One of the costs borne out of-pocket by today's ambassadors for example, is the annual Fourth of July party to which all Americans living in the country are invited. In Paris some 2,000 show up annually. In London, the $12,000 Whitney will receive as an allowance this year will just about pay for the Independance Day party.

An ambassador also can be named from the ranks of the professional diplomats. The career man reaches the top after 20 or 30 years of service, during which he has been under annual examination as to his qualifications. Usually the professional is confined by lack of private means to the less expensive posts and thus the smaller nations.

Periodically, someone in Washington tries fruitlessly to change this system.

In this session of Congress, Montana's Sen. Mike Mansfield is saying that the U. S. government can afford nothing less than the best ambassadors available and that it should pay for what it gets.

Many State Department officials support Mansfield, but they agree that congress probably will turn a cold shoulder to the request.

In our time one of the most striking examples of a noncareer man at work is Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India.

The United States, at the time Bowles took over, was accused of being unsympathetic to Indian freedom.

Bowles said nothing but invited thousands of Indians to a Fourth of July party. On each table was a reprint of America's Declaration of Independence from England. The Indians couldn't say much more.

How do we keep political appointees from fouling up the diplomatic works?

The answer lies in the structure of the department. The No. 2. man in every embassy is a career diplomat. He is the adviser and the technician.

Next: The Foreign Service Officer.

"Who Says You Need Costly Shots To Relieve 'Hot Flashes' And Irritation From Change-Of-Life?"

{Mrs. A. M., Watonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief from them. Practically had a nervous breakdown. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!"}

Medical science now offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionally-caused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this home treatment alone . . . and no expensive injections!

Relief for 8 out of 10 tested!

Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Suffocating hot flashes subsided. For woman after woman, a feeling of "well-being" returned!

Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines...acts directly on the cause of these troubles... works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many. Clinical tests prove this.

Now you can get this amazing formula at drugstores without prescription. Ask for "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets". Don't let change-of-life rob you of joy! Get Pinkham's Tablets. Contain blood-building iron. See how fast you can feel your happy self again —without costly shots! (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Charge Duncan in Corruption

One-Man Probe Indicts Mayor of River Rouge in $25,000 Graft

DETROIT (INS) — Mayor M. Warren Duncan of River Rouge was indicted by Wayne County's one-man grand jury yesterday on charges of extortion, bribery and conspiracy.

Mayor Duncan, 54, was accused of taking more than $25,000 graft in connection with municipal paving contracts and other business.

The indictments came only five days before the April 1 election in River Rouge in which Duncan is seeking his seventh term as mayor.

Three interlocking Detroit firms, puportedly operated by five brothers, are mentioned in the payoffs alleged to have been received by Duncan.

They are the Detroit Concrete Products Corp., Macinnis Bros. Paving and Macinnis Trucking.

ONE-MAN PROBE

The one-man probe of Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn has been investigating alleged wrongdoing in River Rouge, Inkster, Taylor township and Ecorse.

Former Taylor township Supervisor Harold Rippe and five others are under indictment and Ecorse Mayor William W. Voisine and 19 others are awaiting trial on a gambling conspiracy charge brought by the grand jury.

The maximum penalty on the extortion count, if Duncan is found guilty, would be 10 years in prison and a $20,000 fine. The other charges carry sentences up to five years with maximum fines of $10,000, but would run concurrently.

Note to Letter Writer —Use Street Address

DALLAS (AP) — The irritated suitor of a girl here reprimanded her in a letter for not writing to him and listed these five important points in letter writing:

1. Go to a store, buy envelopes, paper and pencil.
2. Buy a stamp.
3. Put some writing on the stationery.
4. Put it in an envelope, lick and seal envelope.
5. Find a mail box and mail the letter.

His advice never got to his girl. It wound up in the dead letter office becaus ehe forgot to list a street address for the intended recipient.

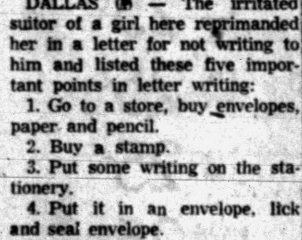

Vies for Mrs. Michigan

Delay Contracts on Sidewalks

City Will Check Union Affiliation of 2 Bidders Before Giving OK

Contracts between the city and two sidewalk builders were ordered held up last night because of alleged non-union affiliations.

Pontiac city commissioners agreed to accept bids "subject to further examination of qualifications" of William Kloote Jr. of Pleasant Ridge, and John Wohlin of Wyandotte.

Commissioner John E. Carry asked the delay because of a complaint he had received from Richard Kirby, business agent for the AFL Building Trades Council. Carry said both contractors claim they are members of the union.

Back in August of last year the City Commission promised to investigate construction bids to make sure companies awarded have union affiliations. City Manager Walter K. Willman said this had been done in the case of Kloote and Wohlin.

Commissioners urged further examination fearing possible interference with the city hospital and Public Safety Building construction.

Bounce of Youth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —Patrick Coleman, 6, was touring a firehouse with his first grade classmates. On the second floor he stepped into the hole used by firemen when they slid down the pole. Patrick went down, without help from the pole, falling 14 feet and landing on a rubber mat. The damage — one loose tooth.

Hollywood Headlines

Pasternak Leaves MGM to Do Independent Movies

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — After 15 years on the MGM lot, Joe Pasternak departed bag, baggage and pension today from that studio. He moved into Columbia where he and his partner, Sam Katz, will produce independent pictures.

The first picture these two veterans have lined up is "Plain and Fancy," a musical comedy by Joseph Stein and Will Gluckman which played at the Mark Hellinger Theater on Broadway in 1955.

The large, beautifully furnished home on Mapleton drive in Holmby Hills where Lana Turner and Lex Barker lived before their marital troubles has been rented to writer George Axelrod starting June 1.

Axelrod is coming to Hollywood to adapt "The Catbird Seat," an original story by James Thurber. I believe it's for Warners.

He has taken Lana's house for four months, so it doesn't look much as if she and Lex have any intentions of reconciling. She has said it's all over.

LETTER FROM ERROL

The morning mail brought a typical Flynn letter from Errol who pens: "The way things are going I've got about a year's work lined up ahead—and you know the mere mention of work is prone to give me fainting fits and put me into a state of panic.

"I have agreed to write my life story which is enough to put me (and the readers) in bed—and this week I leave for Mexico to make sure 'The Sun Also Rises' there—as advertised.

"Pat (Wymore Flynn) leaves for Spain tomorrow to begin a concert tour. Two years of vocal study has proven, in her case, you never know where talent lies. Incidentally, we are in Arizona now."

What he was doing there he didn't say, which is typical.

The Harper's Bazaar fashion luncheon at the Beverly Hills Hotel promises to be a very interesting event.

It will be held next Sunday and the board of directors of Harper's has chosen Cyd Charisse as the outstanding woman from motion pictures; Dinah Shore wins the award for the best-dressed woman in television, and Rosalind Russell romps off with the theater award.

This decision comes from Mrs. Carmel Snow, editor of Harper's, and her board of directors. "Wide, Wide World" will televise the Beverly Hills fashion show and luncheon.

JO AND FRANK

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Pretty Jo Sullivan, the musical comedy actress who will be the next Mrs. Frank Loesser—so they say—was at the Villa Capri with her future husband, who is in town for a few days.

Shelley Winters and her fiance, Tony Franciosa, threw diet to the wind and ate all the Italian calorie-laden dishes at the same place.

Peggy Lee is making an album for Capitol.

Brod Crawford and Kay failed to get together on a property settlement and now Brod is threatening to live in Italy.

Tyrone Power will occupy Linda Christian's house while he's filming "Witness for the Prosecution" here. It was his house before Linda got it in the settlement.

At the Beverly Hills Hotel at luncheon, Gower Champion, very very thin, was with Marge, his first appearance since his accident. But he's going to do his dances in his first TV show.

Saw Perle Mesta and she's had an offer which interests her for her life story.

Before Charlie Morrison died he lined up a list of great shows for the Mocambo—Joe E. Lewis, Edith Piaf and many others. Several big name stars have offered to help Mary by appearing at minimum scale.

Check Goes to Bad Axe for New Hospital Wing

LANSING (AP) — A federal check for $41,841 has been mailed to the Huron County Convalescent Hospital at Bad Axe to aid in the construction of a new wing, the state office of hospital survey and construction reported today.

The state agency said the Huron County hospital is the first nursing home in Michigan to be approved for federal assistance.

The federal government will give assistance totalling $143,200 toward the $375,500 total cost of the new wing. The remainder is being raised locally.

The three-story addition will have 33 beds as wel as administrative offices, treatment and recreation areas and a physical therapy room.

Bob Considine Says:

Doctor Seeks Vaccine for Cancer

NEW YORK (INS) — The passing show . . .

Dr. George S. Sperti, whose genius contributed so much to food research, has busied himself for the past several years at the American Society for the Aged, Inc., in Palm Beach, working on a cancer vaccine. It has shown "promising" results in combatting spontaneous cancer development in a special strain of laboratory mice.

We called on him recently and found him, as is customary with all responsible research people engaged in that grim contest with cancer, to be holding his enthusiasm under strong rein. He and his associates have not yet issued medical papers on their field of research but will do so in the near future.

The vaccine is prepared from a tumor that is frozen instantly after removal. In time it is immersed in alcohol for a prescribed period and, in gummy form, is injected back into test animals.

The strain of mice being used in the test are from the biological laboratories of Drs. C. C. Little and Roscoe B. Jackson of Bar Harbor, Maine.

An average of 90 per cent of them will develop cancer during their life span. A group isolated by Sperti and his associates, and treated with the vaccine, has been showing a 20 per cent cancer rate.

"This is just one approach in a great project," Sperti said of his work. "It is no secret that the body can cure many ailments which beset us. Perhaps someday we can help the body take care of cancer cells as other great vaccines have helped it cure other ills."

LOTS OF GOLD BRAID

The greatest concentration of admirals in U. S. naval history will take place in New York during the first three days of May, we are informed by Rear Adm. John J. Bergen, national vice president of the Navy League of the U. S.

Fifty wartime combat admirals, plus Marine generals and top decorated enlisted sailors and Marines, will parade and be dined and wined here — headed by Fleet Adms. Nimitz, Leahy and Halsey.

Marvin Stone, our man in Tokyo, sends me a copy of "Yomiuri," Japan's largest paper, containing the Japanese language account of a recent interview we had with George Kennan, former American ambassador to Moscow.

"The closest the Japanese got to your byline was 'Bobbu Conshe-dine,'" Marv writes.

That's closer than my laundryman comes.

The builders of the French commercial jet, Caravelle, announce in advance the various records it will set on scheduled U. S. routes when it is shown here soon.

It is an 80-passenger job powered by two Rolls-Royce Avon engines. It is smaller than the 707 and the DC8 that is being built, and claims only a modest (for the jet age) 500 M.P.H.

Its people have decreed that it will fly from Miami to New York (but where will it land, messieurs?) in 2 hours 45 minutes, New York to Chicago in 2 minutes under 2 hours, from LA to San Francisco in an hour, Washington to Atlanta in 1 hour 33 minutes, Miami to Houston in 2 hours 40 minutes, Dallas to Kansas City in 1 hour 26 minutes, San Francisco to Seattle in 1 hour 57 minutes. Tres fast!

Laundry Roof Damaged

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A roof fire Tuesday caused about $4,000 damage at the Madison Square Laundry & Dry Cleaners, but no one was injured in the blaze. Fire Chief Frank E. Burns said a spark apparently ignited lint accumulated in roof vents of the plant's drying machines. The flames were extinguished through layers of tar on the roof.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

MOTHER GOOSE — 3

"Mary Mary, quite contrary,
How does your garden grow?
Silver bells and cockle shells
And pretty maids all in a row."

We are not sure why Mary is so contrary, but, looking at her, we are sure she is. Half her hair is braided, the other half hangs in curls. She is wearing her apron backwards and has on one winter glove and one boot as she makes a border of cockle shells in her garden.

A cockle shell, in case you don't know, is a shell from an edible creature somewhat like a scallop. These European shells were once very popular for bordering gardens.

The silver bells in the rhyme probably are bell-like flowers and the pretty maids possibly were flowers with big centers like a face.

Maybe a little brightness will make Mary happier. Let's try anyway.

Paste the picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Fold on the dotted lines and paste the tabs as indicated. Then the picture will stand.

Cover the bells with silver foil, pressing it over the surface and folding it over the back. Punch a hole at the top of each bell and hang them on the bushes back of the wall. Use brass fasteners through the indicated holes. You can move the bells back and forth.

Tell Knight Bank Withheld Vital Reports on Japanese

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin Knight was informed Monday that vital information indicating the approach of war with Japan was withheld by the California State Banking Department for a year before Pearl Harbor.

William A. Burkett, the present superintendent of banks, made the disclosure in a report objecting to legislation now under consideration. He said it would gag his department.

Burkett told the governor a "pigeonholed" file showed that in late 1940 Japanese banks in California began the secret, gradual transfer of valuable documents, ledgers and bank records to Japan.

"It is important to say," he added, "that the Japanese bank examinations and bank records had factual evidence which indicated clearly what Japan was about to do, a full year before the Japanese phase of World War II struck the United States."

Burkett said the records were never released to the governor nor military authorities. He said the department apparently ignored FBI requests for answers to 12 questions affecting the Yokohama Specie Bank, Ltd., and individual depositors.

"This file," he said, "is a glaring example of the dangers that come from secret government and points up the dangerous consequence of gag legislation."

The banking chief called Knight's attention to bills introduced in the Legislature which he said "will only serve to protect unscrupulous public officials and hinder national security."

The bills would make it a crime to disclose the contents of department records to anyone other than the bank involved or a person authorized by the Legislature.

THIS IS one for the books—your books. It's GMC's new 860 Super-E Diesel.

It puts out 190 horsepower without supercharging. Does it at a low-stroking 2,000 rpm. (Match that with the field!)

So it breezes off with its full-rated load of 65,000 GCW. Makes far better road time accordingly.

That unstraining power shows up strongly in lowered maintenance costs.

And the fuel mileage is impressive. Here's why:

The Super-E engine has four exhaust valves per cylinder—new big loop intakes—an enlarged combustion chamber into which high-economy swirl-tip injectors shoot perfectly distributed charges.

With this clean breathing and deeper gulps of air, every charge is full-power, completely free of spent gases. It moves—economically.

And its hydraulic fan, controlled by engine temperatures, coasts when it's not needed. That puts up to 10 more hp to work at the wheels, saves up to 5% on fuel.

Watch GMC's DF860 with its great Super-E engine rocket into hauling fame. Better still, watch it break records for YOU. Call us for the full story on GMC Money-Makers!

Chorus Marks 25 Years

Pontiac Women's Chorus celebrated its 25th anniversary Tuesday evening with a program at First Congregational Church. With their director, Charles E. Hutton (center), members reviewed the growth of the organization. Two of the group's officers are Mrs. Mae Foote (left) of Drayton Plains, secretary, and Mrs. Edward Cornell of Henderson street, treasurer.

Progress Reviewed by Members

Members of Pontiac Women's Chorus reviewed years of growth last night when the group celebrated its 25th anniversary with a program at First Congregational Church.

Toastmistress for the event was Mrs. John Keinert, and John Keinert gave the invocation.

As they reviewed the chorus' history, they recalled that there were 28 members in the charter group under the direction of Thelma Allen. Accompanist was Virginia Allen. The group now has 50 members.

The first spring concert was given May 16, 1933, in the Pontiac High School auditorium.

Charles E. Hutton became director in 1943 and Mrs. Paul McKibben was appointed accompanist in 1942.

The chorus is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, having become affiliated in 1952. With this assistance the chorus is able to maintain its goal of high music standards.

The chorus is planning a May 15 concert in the First Congregational Church, according to Mrs. Keinert, president.

Birthday Celebrated by Hall Youngsters

Michael Lamont Hall and Mitchel Laine Hall were honored at a joint birthday party given by their mother, Mrs. Morris L. Hall of North Telegraph road.

Attending the Saturday party were Bryce and Brian Laverdiere, Jeff and Tom Hall, Barbara Drake, Debra and Vicki Hall, Kirk Squiers, Reba St. John, David and Ellen Taylor, Charlene, Phyllis, Bonnie and Kathleen Poirier.

Soak Shag Rugs First

Because the fluffy surface traps so much soil, it's advisable to soak a shag rug in lukewarm soap or detergent suds before laundering. Then wash it with clean suds in an automatic washer.

Robert C. Miller spoke at the Monday afternoon meeting of Pontiac Republican Women's Club held at Adah Shelly Library. The speaker urged members to study candidates' qualifications and backgrounds before casting their votes in the April 1 election.

Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite presided during the business session and Mrs. Emma Pelican was hostess for the social hour.

It's Blessed to Give---and to Take

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One day when Grandma was visiting, Claire began to draw the picture of a daffodil.

Her little sister grabbed the yellow crayon. When Claire gave chase, she flung herself down on top of the crayon, screaming protest. The noise disturbed Grandma and Mother who said crossly to Claire, "What have you done to her this time?"

Properly interpreting the crossness as demand for a surrender of her crayon, Claire obeyed. Her mother said gratefully, "That's a good girl" and Grandma echoed, "Indeed she is!"

Gradually, this grownup approval of giving made it Claire's only moral value.

As a result, she is a pretty destructive woman. To keep her husband aware of what a giver she is, she wears herself out with overwork—and then complains about it.

To keep her supply of thankyous coming from her daughter, she exaggerates any favor she does for the girl while belittling everything her husband does. But the person who will suffer most from her bad training will be herself.

NEED TO TAKE

With advancing years, our ability to give is replaced by a need to take. If we've had no experience in grateful and gracious receiving, we become miserable, fretful old people that nobody wants to give to.

When we train a child to trust giving as his chief moral security, we train him for an unbalanced life.

So when we teach him the Christian doctrine that it is more blessed to give than to receive, we might add, "As this is true, we must always be careful not to hog all the blessedness of giving for ourselves. Other people have a right to their chance at some blessedness, too.

"When Jesus asked you to love Brother equally with yourself, He was telling you to receive from Brother as often as you give to him."

Between healthy people, love circulates in giving and taking just as in healthy bodies our blood moves in two directions.

I heard a distinguished psychoanalyst stress this exact point at the recent annual conference of the American Group Psychotherapy Association. Her name is Dr. Helene Papanek. She said, "It is a symptom of neurosis to perceive selfishness and unselfishness as in conflict with each other."

Enjoying a brief chat before dinner at the Elks Temple Monday evening were (left to right) George Morrow of Glenwood avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie R. Ware of Barrington road. Mr. Morrow and Mr. Ware were guests at the annual Guest Night dinner held by Junior Pontiac Women's Club, of which Mrs. Morrow is a member.

New Slate Presides at Meeting

Mrs. Henry Sink Opens Her Home to PEO Chapter

New officers presided for the first time at the Monday meeting of Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood, when the group met at the home of retiring president, Mrs. W. Henry Sink of Avondale avenue.

Mrs. Charles Matson, newly elected president, was in charge of the meeting.

Other new officers are Mrs. Max Fell, vice president; Mrs. Howard O'Toole, recording secretary and Mrs. Clark Morgan, corresponding secretary. Mrs. Waldron Keasey is treasurer, Mrs. James Henderson, chaplain and Mrs. Harry Chapman, guard.

A cook's auction was held, with Mrs. L. G. Rowley as auctioneer. A miniature antique show concluded the meeting.

Guests were Mrs. R. O. Gagen and Cora Krueger.

At a recent meeting held at the home of Mrs. Carmi J. Odell of Oxbow Lake road, Chapter CL celebrated its third birthday. At the ceremony of initiation Mrs. L. V. Ostrander and Mrs. Victor Lindquist were welcomed into the chapter as new members.

Explains Marriage Myth

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators have been advised by a leading authority that "perfection in marriage is a myth."

Circuit Judge Julius H. Miner of Chicago, appearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday, added:

"No two people can live together in such an intimate relationship in perfect harmony."

Miner, a student for many years of divorce and the aftermath it leaves in broken homes and juvenile delinquency, came before the committee in support of a bill for a 60-day cooling-off period in divorce cases.

Since a similar plan he authored has been in effect in Chicago and Cook County, Miner said, the divorce rate has fallen 14 per cent. But, he said, no law "will work as a millenium—there are some people who just can't be reconciled."

NOTICE BY SUMMONS

Under the measure sponsored by Sen. Harold Ryan (D-Detroit) and Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland), no complaint could be filed for divorce or separate maintenance until 60 days after notice is served by summons or otherwise.

During the cooling-off period, the judge could set in motion judicial efforts to promote a reconciliation. In emergency circumstances, a judge at his discretion could waive the waiting period requirements.

Also appearing in favor of the bill were Judges Thomas F. Maher, Thomas J. Murphy and Victor Targonski of the Wayne County Circuit Court.

ALARMING SITUATION

Maher called the divorce situation "alarming" and urged consideration of any legislative proposal that might help.

He said the Friend of the Court in Wayne County handles one million dollars a month as a result of divorce, including court payments, alimony and other funds involved.

Ryan said that as against 54,000 marriages performed in the state last year there were 18,000 divorces granted, including 9,000 involving 27,000 minor children.

The committee deferred action on the bill, but Ryan expressed confidence it would be reported for floor consideration.

U. of M. Alumnae Hold Guest Night

A University of Michigan songbook holds interest at the meeting of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club here last night. Left to right are Mrs. W. O. Roeser of Neome drive, Prof. L. L. Okey of the Department of Speech at the university and guest speaker for the meeting, Mrs. T. E. Wiersema of West Iroquois road and Mrs. William A. Gordon of Dwight avenue, president of the Pontiac alumnae club.

Club Hears Two From Ann Arbor

Annual guest program of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club of Pontiac was held last night, with a meeting in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

The occasion also marked the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Michigan Alumni Association.

Two guests of the Pontiac club from the university in Ann Arbor were Mrs. Alison T. Myers, alumnae secretary, and Prof. L. L. Okey of the Speech Department.

Mrs. Myers reported on current work of the alumnae. Prof. Okey, as speaker of the evening, entertained with stories built around experiences in the old-time village store.

Mrs. William A. Gordon, president of the Pontiac Club, presided.

Following the formal meeting a social hour was held. Tables were decorated in Michigan colors, and Mrs. Harry J. Richards and Mrs. Robert H. Baker poured.

Hostesses for the evening were Marian Dehner, Mrs. Frank Allen, Katherine Baker, Mrs. F. R. Conner, Julia Dazell, Florence Day, Iva Price, Maude VanArsdale, Mrs. L. C. Burch, Mrs. Gordon, Dr. Caryl Kulsavage, Mrs. T. E. Wiersema and Mrs. Robert B. Tarr, chairman.

Guest of the University of Michigan Alumnae Club here last night was Mrs. Alison T. Myers (center), alumnae secretary, who spoke at the annual Guest Night meeting of the Pontiac group.

Shown also in the picture are two members of the Pontiac club, Mrs. Robert H. Baker (left) of Birmingham and, pouring, Mrs. Harry J. Richards of Mohawk road.

Scouts Attend Show

Mrs. Arthur Evans and Mrs. Lloyd Porter, troop leaders, accompanied members of Girl Scout Troop 31 to Detroit to see Cinerama Saturday. Scouts attending were Diana Cox, Barbara Garner, Sharon Jordon, Romona Swansey and Karen Sigler.

Sally Ann Barnes Marks 9th Birthday

Mrs. Howard Barnes entertained for her daughter, Sally Ann, in her home on Opdyke road Monday. The occasion was Sally's ninth birthday.

Guests at the party were Nancy Strassburg, Sandra Smith, Deborah Copple, Nancy Weber, Joan Neff, Carol Coleman, Alice Kruger, Linda Badder, Celia Sears, Sandra Gorsline, Sherry Nephew, Lauren Savadge, Barbara King, Karen Jahnke, Carla Jo Wilkins and Theda Sjoblim.

Pictures Are Seen by Alpha Sigma Nu

Mrs. Robert Baker showed pictures taken while vacationing in Hawaii to members of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority following a dinner meeting Monday evening at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Andrew Mitchell served as general chairman for the evening. Guests introduced were H. W. Diekman, Russell Evans, Andrew W. Mitchell and T. P. Robertson.

Complains of Rudeness at Counter

Two Women Lean Across Luncher to Hold Conversation

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "The other day while seated at a lunch counter, a woman came in and took the vacant seat next to me. It so happened that she knew the woman who was sitting on the other side of me. Throughout lunch they talked back and forth leaning forward to talk across me."

"Had it been convenient I would have changed places with one of them so that they could sit next to each other, but I had already started to eat and it would have meant moving everything that was in front of me, so I had to sit and listen to them talking. Don't you agree that they were very rude?

"This is not an infrequent occurrence at a lunch counter and perhaps if you write something about this in your column the offenders will take heed and we who have to eat at lunch counters will be able to do so in peace."

Answer: I am printing this letter in the hope that those who are guilty of this unthinking impoliteness will realize how very unpleasing their behavior can be.

"Dear Mrs. Post: At a bridge party or a small tea given for a bride-to-be is she as the guest of honor supposed to leave the party first, or remain until everyone has gone? Or doesn't it matter?"

Answer: At a tea or a dance, the guest of honor always stays until everyone else has gone. At a bridge party it doesn't matter when she leaves. But at a luncheon or dinner she always leaves first.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I know it is not considered good taste for the mothers of the bride or bridegroom to wear black at a wedding, but is the same true of navy blue?

Answer: A navy blue dress trimmed with white or some bright color would be quite proper.

HOW TO CHANGE A HAIR STYLE

Take three simple steps from your long, almost too casual hair-do into a shapely, easy-to-manage short spring coif. On your first visit to the beauty shop, have the initial shaping, just enough to give it a sense of direction and definite shape. Before returning for the second step, work with it at home, get more of an idea what you want.

Each week you can get closer to the style you think you want but you can change your mind at any stage along the way.

The second step may be just thinning and more definite shaping.

Step three. You've decided. You're really going to clip it. Each decision has been yours . . . and you've done it the practical way . . . a little at a time.

Have Perspiration Stains Ever Ruined Your Dress?

New ARRID with Perstop*
Stops Perspiration Stains – Stops Odor
DRAMATIC STEAMBATH TEST SHOWS HOW

This woman was put in a steambath at 104 degrees. ARRID with Perstop* was rubbed into her forehead. Fifteen minutes later . . .

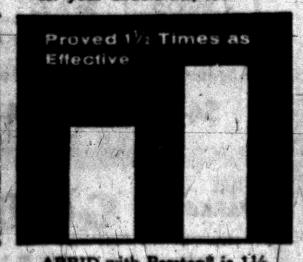

. . . she was dripping with perspiration – but ARRID with Perstop* kept her forehead dry. ARRID will do the same for your underarms, too.

Just rub ARRID in – rub perspiration out. Rub ARRID in – rub odor out. When the cream vanishes you know you're safe even on hot, sticky days.

ARRID with Perstop*, used daily, keeps your clothes safe from ugly stains, keeps your underarms dry, soft and sweet.

ARRID with Perstop* is 1½ times as effective as all leading deodorants tested against perspiration and odor.

So . . . don't be half-safe. Be completely safe. Use new ARRID with Perstop* to be sure. 43¢ plus tax.

Successful Party-Giver Says: 'Be Kind to People'

Hostess' Simple Formula Guarantees That Guests Will Enjoy Themselves

By RUTH MILLETT

When House Beautiful magazine asked a number of successful hostesses for pointers on how to give good parties, one responded with words of advice any woman might well remember.

She said: "My formula is too simple. Be kind to people if you want them to enjoy themselves."

Too many hostesses worry too much about having something "different" to eat, having the house look like a magazine illustration and having a centerpiece the women guests will rave over.

Will each guest have a comfortable place to sit?

Will the meal be served promptly? Some hostesses delay serving so long guests begin to wonder if they were invited for cocktails instead of for dinner.

If the meal is a buffet, does every guest have a place to put his plate? Few persons can be thoroughly relaxed and at ease while eating standing up or managing a plate on their laps.

THE BIG TALKERS

Can the hostess keep the big talkers from entirely monopolizing the conversation?

Can she manage, somehow, to have a few personal words with every guest? If she can't the party is too large. It may enable her "to pay back a lot of obligations," but it doesn't mean any more than that to her guests.

A party isn't primarily food, or an impressive background, or a scintillating hostess.

A party is people. And a successful hostess never for a moment overlooks that important fact.

"Be kind to people if you want them to enjoy themselves," is as good advice on entertaining as anyone is ever likely to get.

Brighten your kitchen with a pretty set of matching cafe curtains, towels and toaster cover—all trimmed with lovely morning-glory stamp-ons that just need to be ironed on, no embroidery necessary.

Pattern No. 5775 contains directions for curtains, toaster cover, towels; color transfer for eight motifs—four measuring 6" x 3" and four 6" x 1¼".

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

It's ready! The 1957 Needlework Album—56 colorful pages showing many pretty designs; plus directions for making three crochet items and a quilt. Only 25c a copy!

Water Loss Is the Only Result

Steam Baths Won't Take Off Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There seem to be a few misconceptions which continually confuse the would-be reducer. One is the question of the steam bath. A woman writes, "I cannot understand why some people say that the steam bath does not reduce one. I lost 5 pounds in one the other day."

You can lose weight by perspiring. The loss obtained in a steam bath is a wafer loss and does not indicate the slightest loss of fat. The weight you lose by perspiring is in direct ratio to the amount you perspire.

Steam baths and wax baths which induce profuse perspiration bring you a temporary loss of water content in the body, which you can get back by quenching your thirst. These baths are not advisable for older people or for those with weak hearts. Some folks respond well to them while others do not.

When you exercise enough to produce a heavy perspiration it is beneficial in throwing off poisons and also will actually burn up some body fat as well. Therefore it is best to stimulate perspiration by exercise unless there is some reason for not doing so.

The value of cold showers is another controversial subject. A while back there was the idea that cold showers after a warm bath tended to prevent colds by "toughening" us up. We do not hear anything about that today. At one time the theory was that cold showers helped to reduce, at another that they develop the bust.

So far as I know the same idea which has lasted through all of the fads is that whether or not a cold shower is good for you depends entirely upon your reaction to it. If it is a shock to you and if you are chilled and shivering for some time afterwards avoid it.

If you enjoy them and feel a glow rather than a shiver afterwards, indulge in them.

It is always a good idea to end a hot bath with cooler water.

Orange Fool a Dessert—Not a Person

Mrs. Karkau Uses Old-Time Recipe With Frozen Juice

By JANET ODELL

One of the most rewarding things about creative cooking is taking an old recipe and bringing it up to date by using new food products. Mrs. Edward Karkau did just that with a recipe for an orange dessert by using frozen orange juice in an old recipe.

Whatever time Mrs. Karkau has that can be called leisure time she devotes to her weaving. A member of the Michigan Weavers Guild, she delights in experimenting with new fibers and original patterns.

ORANGE FOOL
By Mrs. Edward Karkau

2 cups coffee cream
4 eggs
Sugar to taste
1 small can frozen orange juice
Dash of cinnamon

Beat cream, sugar and eggs together. Slowly, and still beating, add the orange juice to the first mixture. If the mixture should curdle, it will not affect its taste.

Add cinnamon and place mixture in double boiler. Cook over hot water until mixture coats a spoon. Pour into serving dishes and chill thoroughly. Served topped with a sprinkle of cinnamon and a dab of whipped cream, if desired.

Beverly Jean Sanborn and Charles Eugene Gavette were married Saturday at First Baptist Church. Beverly's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Sanborn of Thorpe street, and Charles' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Miller Gavette of Clarkston.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES GAVETTE

Beverly Sanborn Speaks Vows in Baptist Service

Dr. H. H. Savage of First Baptist Church officiated at the wedding Saturday of Beverly Jean Sanborn and Charles Eugene Gavette. The Rev. Robert Gavette, brother of the bridegroom, gave the closing prayer at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Sanborn of Thorpe street are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Miller Gavette of Clarkston are Charles' parents.

Three hundred guests witnessed the service held at 7 o'clock. The bride chose a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin with a Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. The lace was appliqued on the tulle skirt.

Her headpiece was a sweetheart plateau of Chantilly lace embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, and she carried a bouquet of white roses, ponpons and ivy on a white satin-covered Bible, a gift of the bridegroom.

Serving as maid of honor was Vivian Sheffield. Bridesmaids were Sue Barks and Ruth Gavette of Clarkston, sister of the bridegroom, and Connie Redman. Vicki Gavette, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

GOWNED IN AQUA

The attendants were gowned alike in aqua organza with round necklines and bouffant ballerina-length skirts. Cummerbunds of crystalette accented their gowns. They carried cascade arrangements of aqua carnations.

Don Sutton of Oxford was Charles' best man. Vern Cork of Ypsilanti, Gilbert Hall of Birmingham and Richard Grzelakouski of Detroit served as groomsmen. Ushers were Richard Harrison and Monte Barnes of Lake Orion. Kirk Barnes, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Sanborn chose an aqua and white sheath with a corsage of yellow and white orchids. Her accessories were beige and white. Mrs. Gavette wore rosewood lace with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow and white orchids.

Following the reception held in the church parlors, the bride changed to an aqua wool jersey sheath with turquoise and brown accessories. Her flowers were the white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Washington, D.C., and Virginia. They will reside on Lincoln avenue on their return.

Miriam Babcock Weds Teddy Hooks

Miriam Elizabeth Babcock became the bride of Teddy Leo Hooks in a ceremony performed Saturday evening in Central Methodist Church. Dr. Milton H. Bank read the 7 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

For her wedding, Miriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Babcock of North Anderson street, chose a Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a ruffled net-tiered skirt. Her fingertip veil was secured to a tiara of seed pearls and she carried an arrangement of gardenias on a white Bible.

Mrs. Richard Falkeld, sister of the bridegroom, served the bride as matron of honor. Ponny Jean Morris, cousin of the bride, and Barbara Batchelor, niece of the bridegroom, were the bride's other attendants.

The attendants were gowned alike in pink brocaded taffeta. A chiffon drape accented the neckline of the gowns and floating panels of chiffon extended to the tip of the ballerina - length skirts. Nosegays of roses and violets completed the costumes.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Teddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Hooks of Belmont street, had his brother-in-law, Ralph Batchelor, as best man. Seating the guests were Glenn Brancheau and William Hutchinson.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Mrs. Babcock greeted the guests wearing a navy blue sheath dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage pinned to her purse.

Mrs. Hooks chose a navy blue sheath jacket dress with matching accessories for her son's wedding. Her orchid corsage was pinned to her purse.

For traveling to Northern Michigan the bride changed to a black wool suit with red accessories. She wore the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

On their return the newlyweds will reside on Auburn avenue.

Child Study Club Elects New Slate

Mrs. Paul Gorman Named President of Group Three

Mrs. Paul Gorman was elected president of Child Study Club Group Three when members gathered for luncheon and meeting Tuesday at Rotunda Inn.

Assisting Mrs. Gorman are Mrs. Ralph Humphries, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Rath, second vice president; Mrs. Richard McPartlin, recording secretary; Mrs. Herbert Howerth, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. T. Baker, treasurer; Mrs. Donald Smith, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Robert Reynnells, auditor.

"Tips for Easy Entertaining" was discussed by Janet Odell, The Pontiac Press food editor. "If cooking seems a chore, try to find a specialty you can enjoy," she advised.

The speaker told of interesting and desirable menus for teenagers and small youngsters, and stressed the importance of allowing teenagers to prepare their own menus when entertaining.

Mrs. Thomas Knight was welcomed as a new member of the organization. Guests introduced were Mrs. Hart Morris, Mrs. Byron Rogers and Mrs. Arthur Horst.

Mrs. George Tallerday, Mrs. Charles Rogers and Mrs. Bob Rogers served as hostesses for the afternoon meeting.

Basket weave wool, favored for robes and peignoirs, should be a loose weave but not so loose that you can see daylight through it. It looks fragile but actually is fairly sturdy.

Tipacon Chapter Gathers for Tea and Panel Talk

Arlene Newcombe served as general chairman of the Hands of Friendship Tea held Sunday afternoon at YWCA by members of Tipacon Chapter of American Business Women's Association.

A panel discussion on "What benefits are derived from being a member of American Business Women's Association?" was conducted by Julie O'Brien, Betty Reed, Lillian Laska and Mrs. Billy Winn.

New members greeted by Mrs. Ossie Gates were Marlene Cook, Mariam Harrington, Dora Gobel, Ruth Cramer, Mrs. Charlotte Reeves, Mrs. Charles Fox, Mrs. Madeline Moore, Mrs. D. R. Veazey, Mrs. Julia Jensen and Violet McLaughlin.

Home Furnishing to Be Taught Here

Mary Miller of Michigan State University will teach the university-sponsored course in "Advanced Home Furnishing." The course starts April 3 at Lincoln Junior High School from 7 to 10 p.m.

Ted Pearson Jr. Oxford Chief

Appointed by Village Council; Manager Gets Treasurer's Duties

OXFORD—Ted Pearson Jr. was appointed president of Oxford by the village council at their first meeting following the annual election. Pearson has been an elected president of Oxford for four years but under the new village charter that post was abolished. The president is now one of the council members chosen by that group.

The council also decided to have the village manager assume the duties of treasurer in order to centralize village business. The office formerly held my Elinor Bossardet had also been an elected one under the old village charter.

In other action the council acted to establish another metered parking lot between East street and East Burdick street, back of the business district.

Ear Lowering Prices Going Up in County

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Barbers in the Highland, Milford, Commerce and Walled Lake areas will raise their prices on April 1, a spokesman for the State Barbers Assn. Local No. 40 announced this week.

Almost all the barbers in the area in addition to those belonging to the association have been contacted and have indicated they also intend to increase the prices.

Association members stated the increase will be their first in seven years, during a period when prices have generally increased.

Annual Fair at Commerce

Plan School Event for Saturday, April 6 With Booths, Fun Features

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Pony rides, a dance show, games and a carousel are among the attractions lined up for the annual Commerce Elementary School PTA spring fair to be held from 2 until 8 p.m. Saturday, April 6, at the school.

Booths of all descriptions will be set up throughout the building.

Under the direction of Mrs. Herman Gall, chairman of the fair, PTA members are now making final arrangements for the event.

Girl scouts and boy scouts from the Commerce area, along with the teaching staff of the Commerce school, will assist PTA members in running the fair.

John F. Ivory-owned ponies will be on hand for the first time at a Commerce fair. Other firsts include appearances by the Jackie Rae dancers of Pontiac, and the operation of a carousel, courtesy of Vernor's.

Sid Abel Talk at Dublin Father and Son Banquet

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Sid Abel, ex-Detroit Red Wings captain, will be speaker for the father and son banquet to be held at 6:30 p.m., Monday, April 15, in Dublin school. Films of the Red Wings play-off game will be shown. Another guest for the "Hockey Night" program will be Jimmy Peters, local ex-Red Wing player. Todd Elwell of Pontiac will be toastmaster.

Dublin PTA is sponsoring the event, which is open to all fathers and sons of the community. Family-style supper will be served with Mrs. Gerald F. DeSormier as food chairman and Mrs. Harold Friedline in charge of setting the tables.

One hundred tickets have been printed for fathers and 150 for sons. Any man without a son or with one too young to appreciate the program is invited to "adopt" a son for the evening. Tickets may be reserved by calling Dublin school, EM 3-4662 or Norman T. Seator, general chairman, EM 3-2807.

A business meeting and election of officers will be held later in the evening.

Refreshments will be served.

Thomas

The PTA will have a "Pay to Play" card party at the Thomas School on Saturday at 8 p.m.

Avondale

2 Americans Killed in Iran

Bandits Attack Cars Carrying Aid Officials, Kidnap Woman

TEHRAN (AP) — Two American aid officials were murdered and the wife of one of them kidnaped when bandits attacked their cars Sunday night, Gen. Alinaghi Golpiri, commander in chief of the Iranian police, announced today.

Golpiri said two Iranians also were killed in the incident.

The U.S. Embassy withheld identification of the Americans but one source said the dead were:

Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., a Point Four area development adviser for Kerman, Iran, since 1954; and

Brewster A. Wilson, 35, of Portland, Ore., Block development specialist of the Near East Foundation and contractor for the International Cooperation Administration in Iran.

Golpiri said the kidnaped woman was Carroll's wife, the former Anita Huovar of Issaquah.

The general said the party was driving in two cars from Iranshahr, in southeastern Iran, to Port Chahbahar, on the Persian Gulf, when the bandits attacked. He said the Americans exchanged fire with their attackers for nearly an hour, but the bandits finally reached the cars and attacked the occupants with knives.

Dag on Way With Egypt Proposal

Taking Suez Plan to U.N.

CAIRO (AP) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold left for his U. N. headquarters today with Egypt's plan for running the Suez Canal. Informed sources said the plan "won't please everyone but it should be acceptable to the United States."

The plan was not made public officially but the informants said Hammarskjold had "ameliorated" President Nasser's original views during their talks that began here last week.

"Hammarskjold had to get the best possible plan out of a bad situation," they added. "Now he will carry the plan to interested parties at the United Nations."

CITE MAIN PROVISIONS

U. N., Egyptian and diplomatic sources said the main provisions of the plan calls for:

All canal tolls to be collected by Egyptian authorities, as previously emphasized by Egypt.

Placing of a fixed percentage of tolls in a separate account for use by a U.N. technical assistance board for maintenance and development of the canal. One Cairo press report said this would be 25 per cent.

Another percentage to be placed in escrow for settlement of compensation claims by stockholders of the old Suez Canal Co. One source estimated this amount at 5 per cent.

Reaffirmation of the 1888 Constantinople Convention to guarantee freedom of shipping through the canal.

Hammarskjold was said to feel the 1888 convention guaranteeing unhindered access to the canal adequate in its present form, although it might be revised later.

The informants said any country believing the convention was not being carried out could appeal to the World Court.

Scout Show Audition Set for Tonight

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The second audition for the annual Scout-O-Rama stage show will be held from 7:30 until 9:30 this evening at Union Lake Elementary School.

Boy Scouts from the Ottawa District of the Clinton Valley Council are eligible to try out for a place in the show.

The Scout-O-Rama will be held continuously from 2 until 9:30 p.m. Saturday, April 27, at the Walled Lake Senior High School on South Commerce road.

Prizes of various kinds of scouting equipment will be awarded to the best acts in the stage show.

Tractor Crushes Man

HARSENS ISLAND (AP) — Frank Gordon, 65, was crushed to death Tuesday when his tractor overturned on him on this Lake St. Clair Island.

Players Slate Officer Election

W. Bloomfield Group to Choose New Leaders Tomorrow

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The Township Players of West Bloomfield will hold an election of officers at their regular monthly meeting on Thursday in the West Bloomfield Town Hall at 8:30 p.m. There are also four openings on the Board of Control.

Eleven people from the West Bloomfield and Pontiac areas are nominees. Among these local residents are Mogens Klopp and George Curran, who have been nominated for the office of president and Board of Control. Phyllis Batts and Phyllis Parlin are the nominees for secretary, with Dorothy McArthur being unanimously nominated for the treasurer's office.

Dr. Cheng will speak on Christianity in China.

In Mississippi Capital

Negroes Petition for Jobs

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Negroes in Mississippi's capital city circulated petitions today asking that members of their race be made policemen, firemen and city bus drivers.

The petition campaign was launched last night at a meeting at which speakers urged nonviolence and humility but declared "the old way of life" must go.

The meeting in a Negro church had been billed as a "citywide mass meeting" but white policemen on hand estimated that only 150 Negroes attended.

Except for brief remarks by a visiting Negro, there were no speeches urging integration.

The City Council said in a formal statement Monday it plans no change in its policies of employment. Yesterday, however, Mayor Allen Thompson and Commissioner D. L. Luckey said they favor hiring Negro policemen, but not now. Both cited current "unrest" as the reason for the delay.

CAB Gets Request for City Air Service

The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, D.C., has received Pontiac's request for commercial airline service at the municipal airport.

Homer C. Hoskins, airport manager, said the CAB had asked for a second application after it apparently "was not satisfied with the wording of a couple or three paragraphs in our March 1 application form."

The application contains exhibits showing the new 4,000-foot runway completed last October, and the inconvenience of Pontiac service through Willow Run.

Engineering Survey to Be Made Soon

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—An engineering survey to determine the feasability of the sewage treatment plant for Franklin Knolls is to be made in the near future. The survey was assured when the township board last night acted favorably on a request by the Franklin Knolls Civic Assn. that an engineering firm be employed to make the survey.

The association has agreed to place in escrow the sum of $1,000 with which the engineering firm of Hubbel, Roth and Clark are to be paid.

Macmillan Switches Attention to Strikes

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan hurried home today from Bermuda to switch his attention from world crises to strikes threatening Britain's economy.

Macmillan left Bermuda last night, 24 hours ahead of schedule, because of the "difficult industrial situation" at home.

In all, 1,200,000 workers are on strike—200,000 in the nation's 70 shipyards and a million engineering workers in key industries. The engineering strike is scheduled to spread by stages until three million workers in 4,300 plants are out by April 6.

Both strikes are being directed by the 30-man executive of Confederation of Shipbuilding and Engineering Unions.

The government's main effort so far was directed toward ending the 11-day-old shipyard strike.

U.S. Raps Red Proposal to Halt Nuclear Tests

WASHINGTON (INS) — U. S. officials quickly rebuffed yesterday's Soviet proposal for immediate and temporary halt to nuclear weapons tests.

They pointed out that President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan rejected the concept for limiting tests unless such an agreement could be part of a general disarmament solution.

Water Problems to Ease

WAYLAND (AP)—Village leaders predict this Allegan County Community of 1,490 persons will find water problems eased by June 1 with the completion of a $120,000 water improvement project. Financed by revenue bonds, it covered drilling of a third village well, extension of the distribution system and a new elevated storage tank of 150,000gallon capacity.

Troy Downs Opposition

Adopt Zoning Ordinance

TROY — After much opposition and several hearings the city's proposed zoning ordinance was adopted here this week.

Troy last fall found itself with no zoning ordinance, whatsoever, because of a slight legal technicality at the time of its incorporation. Lawmakers immediately set about drafting a new ordinance based almost entirely on the one they "thought" they already had.

When public hearings were finally held opposition came from all sides mainly business persons who figured the ordinance would interfere with their plans.

Commissioners also established the salary of the associate justice and approved an increase for the justice of their city court.

Ceville Mason, associate justice, will receive a total of $500 back pay and will receive an additional hundred dollars up until July 1. His annual salary from that point will be $800. A $1,600 increase was voted for the justice bringing his salary to $3,600.

Robert Wasson was appointed to fill the vacancy on the plan commission caused by the resignation of Leon Henzelman.

Because of spring election Monday's meeting will be postponed until the following night.

Gus Vam Bell is probably the only blind baseball coach in the world and three-time winner of the New York Frankel trophy. Gus will be honored April 27 at the Statler at a Century Club dinner. Gus began playing baseball after his graduation from James Monroe. While pitching for the Mercury AC he was struck by a ball and blinded. Now married to one of his former nurses, the 46-year-old Gus found blindness did not handicap him as a teacher. He organized the Hudson Guild team in '49 when baseball was about to disappear from the West Side. Prompt action on his part saved the DeWitt Clinton diamond.

Two years ago his Hudson Guild team won the City Federation championship. Gus conducts an insurance business by phone, has a photographic memory, never forgets voices and names, can use the phone dial, and scorns the use of a cane or Seeing Eye dog while traveling because he says he "doesn't want to be conspicuous."

AAU National Board of Governors, having disposed of Wes Santee's expense accounts, now is battling over whether to accede to long-time secretary Dan Ferris' request for an annual retirement pension of $7,500. Al Whetle, former president, is leading the fight against the giveaway . . . Understudy Jim Hurst of the "Li'l Abner" cast is the son of the former Phil and Card first sacker, Don Hurst.

Vince Pimpinello, oldtime Golden Glover, now doorman for a steakhouse near the UN . . . Al Weill is taking the Toronto loss of his new boy, Dave Rent, in stride. Canadian writers thought Rent looked far more advanced than Rocky Marciano did at a similar stage. Rent went the full eight rounds, his first such experience. He was only a three-round boxer before. He got off the canvas against an experienced opponent to win closing rounds.

Bruins Whip Wings, 3-1, in Stanley Cup Opener

NICE HAUL — Jimmy Edwards, 4817 Motorway, Pontiac, found the gulf fishing at Tarpon Springs, Florida, pretty good last week. Jimmy was fishing from aboard the vessel "Commander."

Lindsay Gets Lone Goal in First Period

Rookie Goalie Simmons Is Jittery but Holds Detroit in Check

DETROIT (AP) — The fact that two youngsters whose combined big league experience adds up to just one full season keyed the fired-up Boston Bruins to a 3-1 opening Stanley Cup victory over the champion Detroit Red Wings didn't surprise their coach at all.

"That's the kind of a team we have," said Milt Schmidt, who 16 years ago played on Boston's last Stanley Cup winning club. "No stars, no big wheels. Everyone carries about the same size load around here."

Jack Caffery, a 22-year-old forward who makes pin money as a professional baseball pitcher in hockey's "off season," and nonchalant Don Simmons, a 25-year-old rookie goaltender called up from the minors in mid-season, shouldered an extra load last night as the Bruins captured a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

It was Caffery's first period goal that pulled the Bruins even with the National Hockey League titlists, who had barged ahead in the first minute of play on a goal by veteran Ted Lindsay.

"That was a big one," Schmidt said later. "It's the 16th time this season a team has gone ahead of us in the first three minutes. We always figure, though, that if we keep hustling and keep checking, something will break for us."

Simmons was summoned to the Boston nets after Terry Sawchuk called it quits at mid-season and after Norm Defelice failed to impress the club in a 10-game trial.

Both Caffery and Simmons were getting their first taste of Stanley Cup competition, and both admitted later they were "jittery."

"I was in bad shape at the start of things," said Simmons, "and I was trying too hard. That's why Lindsay got that goal. I was too far out of the nets when those guys were battling for the puck in front of me. But I settled down after that."

Boston took the lead after 38 seconds of the second period. With Detroit's Lindsay in the penalty box on a carry-over penalty for rough board checking, defenseman Doug Mohns sent a vicious 50-foot screen shot past wing goalie Glenn Hall for the tie-breaker. The Bruins got an insurance tally on a sustained charge as the third period got under way.

WING OUTNUMBERED — Three Boston Bruins make sure the Red Wings didn't score on this situation in the first period last night as they all blocked the path of the puck. Goalie Don Simmons is obscured under the heap, with Fleming Mackell and Buddy Boone (6) of the Bruins on the pile. In front of the net is Leo Boivin and (20) Johnny Bucyk (black jersey) of the Wings. Boston won, 3-1.

Ex-Tiger Keeps Getting Shelled

Houtteman May Be at Career's End

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Art Houtteman, baseball's hard-luck pitcher, is not yet 30 years old but he apparently is approaching the end of his career.

The good-looking righthander was one of the most sought-after pitchers in baseball when he won a total of 34 games in the 1949 and 1950 seasons with Detroit.

But a series of accidents and injuries dogged his steps. Last year he had only a 2-and-2 record and a dismal 6.51 earned-run average with Cleveland. When he came to the Indians' camp this year, he knew he was battling for a job on their talent-rich staff.

He has been soundly belted by opposing hitters virtually every time he went to the mound this spring and yesterday he absorbed perhaps the worst beating of all.

The Indians had just come up with three runs in the top of the 9th to go ahead of Baltimore 6 to 4, and they called on Houtteman to protect that lead.

But the Orioles rallied and with decisive hits by two rookies—Wayne Causey and Brooks Robinson—the Birds scored three runs to win 7 to 6. Houtteman went quietly to take his shower—tagged with another defeat.

While Houtteman was suffering at Scottsdale, Ariz., the New York Giants and Don Mueller were rejoicing at Mesa. The veteran outfielder has been hampered by injuries all spring and only two days ago was worried that he had lost his job.

But yesterday he hit two doubles off Chicago Cub pitching and then in the 9th inning, with two out and the bases loaded, Mueller hit a grand-slam homer to give the Giants a 7-to-6 victory.

Gus Zernial hit one homer and Bob Cerv hit a pair for Kansas City but they were balanced off when Harmon Killebrew hit a grand-slammer for Washington. Roy Sievers' ninth-inning single drove in the run that gave the Senators an 8-to-7 win.

Three young Pirate pitchers—Dick Hall, Nelson King and Elroy Face—combined to blank the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 0 on two hits. Bill Mazeroski homered for the Bucs.

Birmingham Golfer Fires Hole-in-One

Four Pine Lake Country Club members played a foursome at Plantation Country Club in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. this week, and were witness to a hole-in-one by Andy Anderson of Birmingham.

Anderson hit the ace on the 135-yard 7th hole using a 5-iron. With him were Chuck Livingston of Bloomfield Hills, Vern Wheeler of Bloomfield Hills and Wally Wheeler of Birmingham.

Anderson also played in the Florida State left-hander's tournament earlier this month and was runner-up with a 74.

Canadiens Beat Rangers, 4-1

Montreal Also Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — It was Montreal's Boom Boom Geoffrion, Rocket Richard, Jean Beliveau and Jacques Plant, who hogged the spotlight as the Canadiens successfully launched their defense of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup with an opening semi-final victory over the New York Rangers.

But it might have been different if Donnie Marshall, an obscure penalty killer, hadn't provided a key defensive maneuver.

As far as Montreal Coach Toe Blake is concerned, Marshall's play in the third period last night was the turning point in the game. The Canadiens scored three times in the final period to down the Rangers 4-1 before a crowd of 15,619 at Madison Square Garden.

Here was the situation: Richard had deflected Geoffrion's 35-foot shot with his glove into the right corner of the cage to put Montreal ahead 2-1 at 7:02 of the last period.

The Canadiens' Tom Johnson then was sent off with a five-minute major penalty for high-sticking and drawing blood at 13:02.

The Rangers apparently had the tieing goal as a rebound pulled goalie Plante out of position, leaving the net wide. Dean Prentice of New York picked up the disc and let go with a soft shot that seemed headed for the unguarded cage.

But along came Marshall from behind the net. The 25-year-old forward, exhibiting a burst of speed, just got to the puck and prevented it from entering the goal.

The Canadiens then wrapped up the game with a pair of goals within nine seconds in the final minute. The Rangers pulled their goalie Gump Worsley in an attempt to gain the equalizer, but Geoffrion drilled the disc into the empty net. With Worsley back, Belliveau stickhandled the final goal past the New York goalie.

Geoffrion figured in all four Montreal goals, scoring twice and assisting on the others. Richard, who scored the tie-breaker on a deflection, said, "It was one of the luckiest goals I've ever got." The 35-year-old Rocket has produced 493 goals in regular NHL play and 63 in playoff competition.

500 Trackmen From 42 High Schools to Meet at Ypsilanti

YPSILANTI — Over 500 athletes representing 42 high schools will meet in Ypsilanti Saturday, March 30th, for the second running of the Huron Relays. Relays Director, George Marshall, stated that he expected 21 class A schools, 13 class B schools and 8 class C schools.

A strong Flint Northern track team squad is favored to outperform Pontiac, last year's state champs. Other strong teams include Toledo Libbey, the only out-state school entered, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Battle Creek, Lansing Eastern and Lansing Sexton.

Other teams entered in class A will include Berkley, Dearborn, Edsel Ford, Flint Central, Fordson, Highland Park, Monroe, Mt. Clemens, Royal Oak, Waterford, Wayne, Wyandotte, and Ypsilanti.

River Rouge and Inkster are reported to be the teams to watch in class B. Other clas B teams entered are Ecorse, Farmington, Romulus, St. Johns, Detroit Thurston, Walled Lake, Willow Run and Flat Rock.

The six-day racers wind up their U.S. tour tonight at the International Amphitheatre. Sperber says the Chicago venture will be operated at a loss of $15,000 to $20,000 with attendance totaling only 25,000 for the six days.

"We had only 10,000 to 15,000 persons at Louisville before we came here," he said. "We lost about $35,000 or more there. But our over-all loss won't be too bad, thanks to Cleveland. We drew 57,000 people there."

Out of the original 12 teams starting in the Chicago marathon, only six were left last night.

Former middle weight champion Sugar Ray Robinson says he was born May 3, 1921 but record books list his birth date a year earlier.

Kuenn Powers Tigers to 6th Victory, 8-4

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A sudden appearance of power in the lineup has revived hopes that the Detroit Tigers may leave Florida with a winning exhibition game record.

The Tigers clobbered Cincinnati pitching for 11 hits in posting their sixth spring victory yesterday, 8-4. The Tigers have lost 10 games.

Despite repeated assertions by new manager Jack Tighe that he was playing every exhibition as if it were midseason competition, the Tigers generally have appeared sluggish. The pitching has been generally good but the hitting has been absent too many times.

It was Capt. Harvey Kuenn who led the way yesterday. He slammed a first inning home run off Russ Meyer, the former Brooklyn and Chicago Cub righthander, and he followed up with a single and two doubles.

In all, he drove in five runs. One of the doubles was tainted but it accounted for two runs. During a wild fourth inning Harvey lofted a long fly to center field. Gus Bell misplayed it into a two base hit. The Tigers scored four times in the 4th inning with the help of two errors and a wild pitch.

Reynolds Given Scholarship as Leading Caddy

Former Waterford High School golfer and Orchard Lake Country Club caddy Jack Reynolds has been selected to receive an Evans Scholarship to the college of his choice, it was announced today by Burt Shurly, president of Orchard Lake.

Reynolds was notified of the award recently by the Western Golf Association following recommendations from the Board of Directors and members of Orchard Lake and the Detroit District Golf Association.

The scholarship will be used at Michigan State where Reynolds is already enrolled as a freshman. It is provided by the James R. Standish Fund of the Evans Scholars Foundation.

Reynolds is the second Orchard Lake caddy to receive such an award. George Hess, the former recipient, is now attending Michigan.

The scholarship is based on outstanding caddy work and scholastic standings. Reynolds applied for the award after entering Michigan State.

Qualifiers Would Profit in Bowlerama

By CHUCK ABAIR

Bowlers competing in the big Pontiac Press Bowlerama next week have the opportunity of winning such top prizes as $400 and $200 plus trophies at a cost of only 85 cents.

The winning of either top prize or any of 10 other total guaranteed prizes for men and women would be a handsome profit for six games of bowling.

The highest 10 per cent of the scores posted at each of three qualifying alleys will be eligible to finish in the money plus taking part in the exciting keg action for the nominal charge.

All this is made possible through a tournament plan which will return the prize fund 100 per cent to the purse. All qualifiers will receive $5 which is 50 cents in excess of the $4.50 entry fee. A $1.35 cost to bowl three games in the finals is minimized by the profit made by qualifying to result in the total cost for participating just 85 cents.

Such an arrangement brings to mind the old saying "so much to gain and so little to lose." It certainly holds true in a singles handicap event of this type. There is much to gain in cash prizes, trophies and prestige as the Bowlerama champion. And all for 85 cents.

But everyone interested will have to hurry. The time is growing short to enter. Deadline is this Sunday at midnight for applications and accompanying entry fee. They may be mailed to manager Les Rothbarth in care of the Pontiac Press Sports Department or left at any bowling establishment in Oakland County.

All men and women residents of the county who are sanctioned with ABC or WIBC are eligible to enter this handicap tournament.

It is an opportunity for all area keglers from the average contestant to the well known county stars to take home the big prizes. Scoring will be on a 70 per cent handicap and 200 scratch basis.

Four different local bowling establishments will take part in the 1st Bowlerama. Qualifying on April 6 and 7 will be divided equally between Land-O-Lakes, Auburn Lanes and Dixie Recreation. All finalists compete at Huron Bowl April 12.

Three games will be bowled on the same alleys in qualifying, while the same number of games will be bowled across six alleys at the finals. The top qualifiers at each location will also receive trophies in addition to $5 prizes.

Entries are beginning to pour in steadily now with the deadline only five short days away. All others interested in taking part are urged to get the blanks in as soon as possible at the Press or any alley.

Manager Rothbarth plans to begin arranging qualifying squads immediately following the deadline. The earlier the applications are turned in the better chance there is for being drawn for an early shift.

The quaranteed prizes are:

MEN		WOMEN
1st	$400	1st	$200
2nd	200	2nd	100
3rd	100	3rd	60
4th	50	4th	30
5th	25	5th	15
6th	15	6th	10

Record Setting Team "In"

This is where friendship ends! That is, only when the record-setting Cooley Lounge ladies' team decides this is the time to go five different ways to take a crack at the top prizes in the Press Bowlerama tournament.

The team, which rewrote the record books of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association last month with a team total of 1023 and a 1039 with handicap, isn't breaking up.

But Martha Foster, Robena Roque, Wilma Myers, Doris Young and Gertrude Fleming will set aside team efforts next weekend to take part as singles contestants in the Bowlerama. May the best gal win.

Many of the leading male keglers are the latest entries in the Bowlerama. Ray Oliver who carries a 181 average in the GMC League; Lee Gibbs and M. Wolwold 170 bowlers from the Heights League, and James Curnette with a 177 average in Rochester's Wednesday night loop are ready to go.

But the Bowlerama is handicap play, and there's only five days to enter.

St. Louis Seeks ABC Team Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — St. Louis, holder of practically every major bowling title in the nation, makes its initial bid today in the 1957 American Bowling Congress tournament.

Led by Don Carter, national individual match game champion, St. Louis will lead the assault in the open team division of this 51-day kegling event.

The open team lead currently is held by Peter Hand of Chicago with 3126.

Musick Printing Co. No. 1 team of E. Pittsburgh, Pa., led scoring in the open team category last night with 2898, but failed to earn a notch in the top standings.

Steve Lukinich set the pace with his series of 693 on games of 248, 225 and 220.

Billiards Champ to Defend Title in Near Future

CHICAGO (AP) — World champion Harold Worst of Grand Rapids will face Joe Chamaco of Mexico City sometime in the next two weeks in a 1,200 point challenge match for the wrld's three cushion billiards title.

Worst was to have faced Jack Schaefer of Cleveland, but arrangements fell through. Chamaco was named as the contender yesterday. The date of the match is not set as yet.

Pairings Set for Curling Tourney Opening Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Pairings were completed last night for the first U.S. men's national curling championships which open tonight at the Chicago Stadium.

Ten rinks will compete in the tournament with the round robin event continuing through Saturday night.

First-round pairings pit Chicago vs. Fairbanks, Alaska; Winchester, Mass., vs. Detroit; Hibbing, Minn., vs. Nashua, N. H., CC; St. Andrew's Club, New York, vs. Minot, N. D., and Seattle CC vs. Portage, Wis.

All rinks are survivors of state or district play.

Royal Strong Choice in Steeplechase Race

LONDON (AP) — Hart Royal, 9-year-old chestnut gelding, today was getting strong backing for Friday's Grand National Steeplechase.

Support for Hart Royal came yesterday from three famous Grand National Jockeys, and British bookmakers, who made the horse second choice to Glorious Twelfth. Hart Royal was quoted at 100-9, Glorious Twelfth at 10-1.

Former Champ Quits

ROME (AP) — Tiberio Mitri, 31, who twice fought his way to the European middleweight boxing championship, announced today he has given up fighting.

Giardello Favored in Televised Bout

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ring-wise Joey Giardello of Brooklyn is favored to win tonight over Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles in their nationally televised 10-round bout.

Ranked No. 2 among middleweights, Giardello has won his last seven fights and has a record of 67-13-5. He is 26 years old.

Vaughn, 24, is the West Coast 160-pound champion but is not rated among the top 10 middleweights. His record is 32-13-4.

Unbeaten Queens Hope to Improve for Next Season

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Wayland College's Flying Queens, holders of the longest winning streak in women's basketball history—104 straight games—will be back next season with a stronger team.

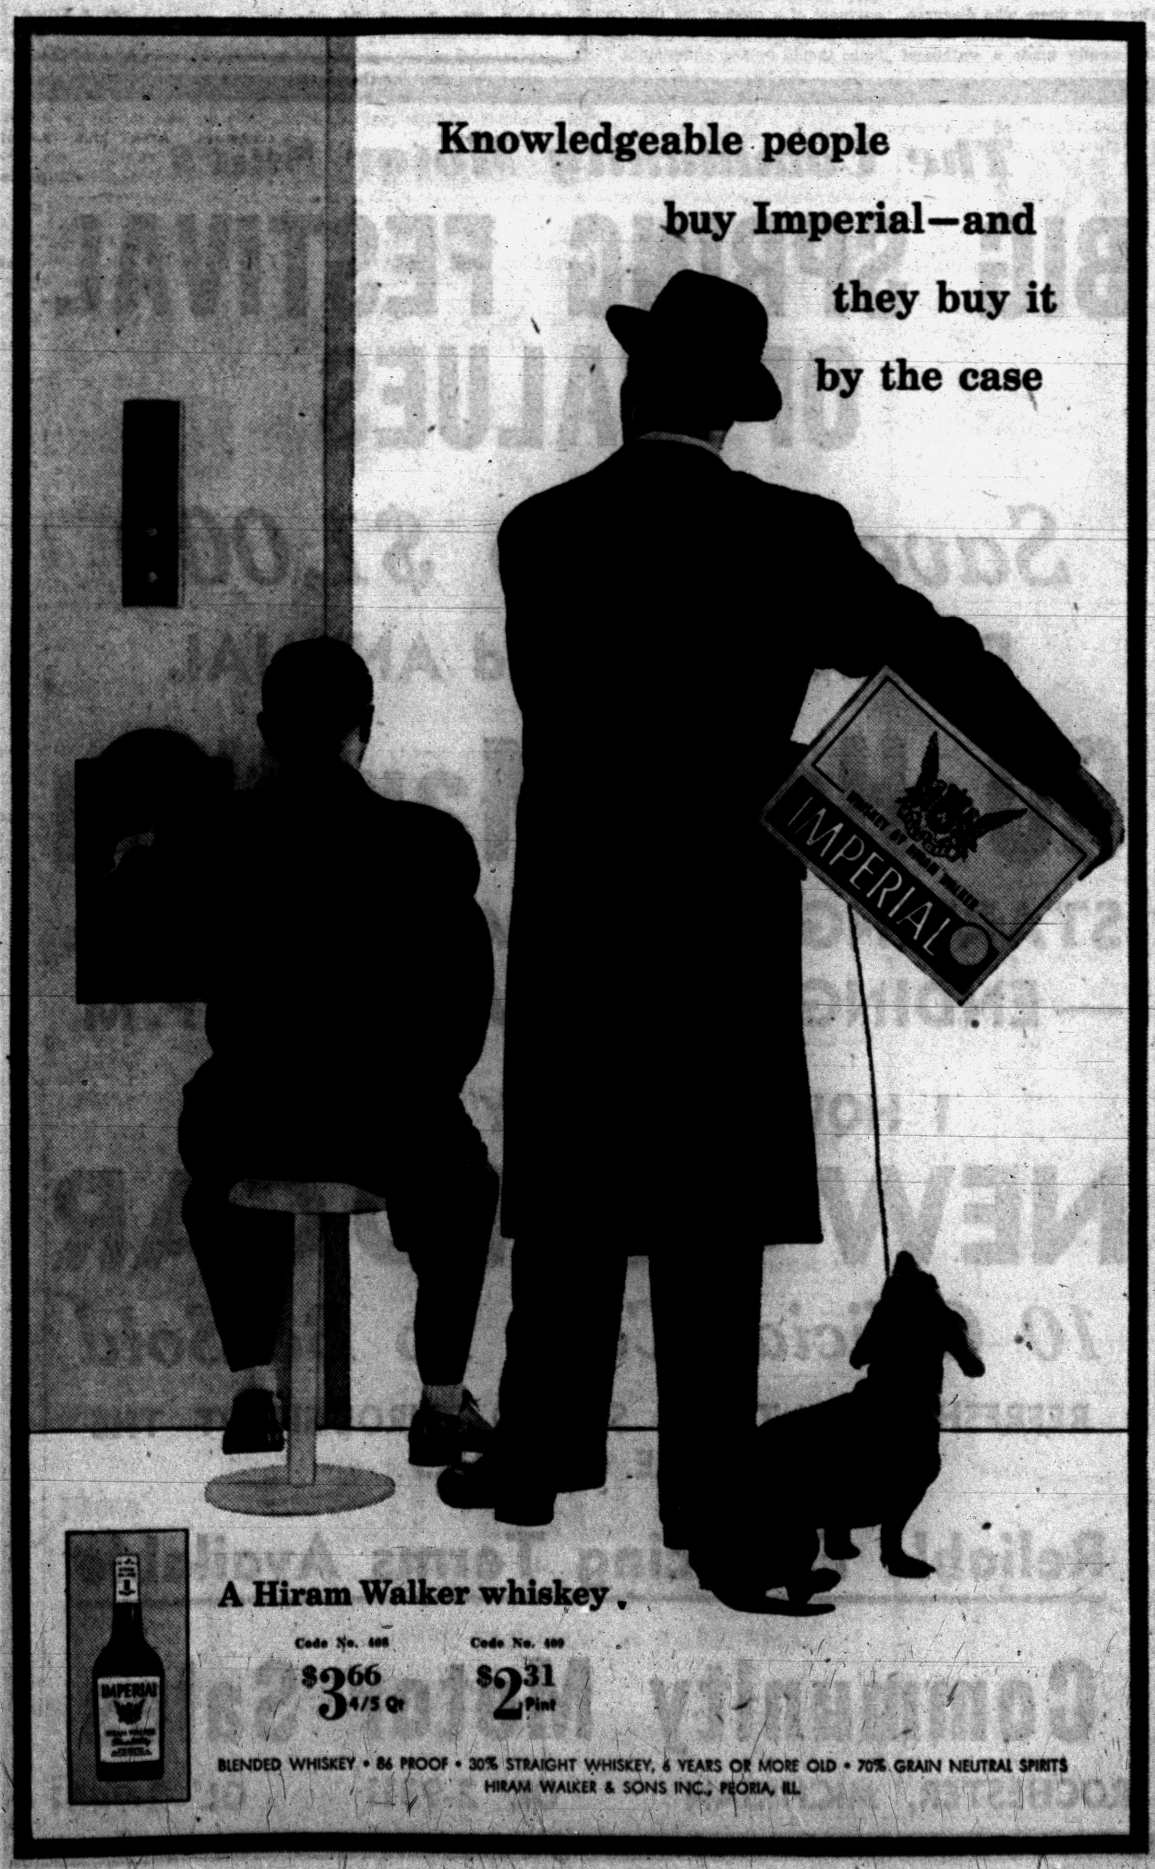

The Flying Queens, so named because they are sponsored by Claude Hutcherson, Plainview rancher, business man and airplane dealer who has been furnishing transportation for the team on its trips over the nation for years, came home yesterday from winning their fourth straight National AAU championship.

POWER...to haul up to 33% more!

DODGE PowerGiants
Most Power of the Low-Priced 3!
Everybody agrees . . . the main reason for buying a truck is to haul a payload. That being the case, doesn't it make sense to get the truck that's powered and built to carry the most in its weight class? Of course it does! That's why so many truck owners are switching to Dodge.
Dodge gives you the most powerful V-8's of the low-priced three, ranging from 204-hp. pick-ups to 232-hp. tandems. And Dodge trucks are built especially tough to handle bigger loads. For instance, Dodge pick-ups can haul up to one-third more than other competitive makes.
Dodge makes hauling these bigger loads easier, too. Shorter turning radius lets you needle in and out of tough traffic spots in a jiffy. Power steering is available on most models, and the extra convenience of a push-button transmission* can be yours only with Dodge.
Think it over. After all, it's just plain good business to get the most for your money . . . and your dealer can prove the most truck for your money is Dodge.
*Available in all low-tonnage and Forward-Control models.

Actual Payload Capacity 1825 lbs.
Actual Payload Capacity 1400 lbs.
Actual Payload Capacity 1500 lbs.
Facts prove the Dodge D100 pick-up beats both competitive low-priced models in payload. Model compared is a Dodge 6, 100 pick-up, 7½-foot body. In larger pick-ups the Dodge lead is even greater.

View Firearms Safety Program

Training youths for junior shooting and safe handling of firearms was discussed at the March Board of Directors meeting of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford. A committee was appointed to make recommendations on future action by OCSC.

The proposed program would follow a similar project being introduced by Michigan United Conservation Clubs. It would offer training and proper use of guns and teach youngsters how to handle firearms carefully and efficiently.

The MUCC Board of Directors gave approval to the new youth hunter safety legislation presented by its Safety Committee at thir February meeting.

That bill, to be introduced in the Michigan legislature, would provide that all youths and girls under 17 years seeking their first hunting license would have to complete a gun safety course before they could obtain a 1958 hunting license, unless instruction is not available within 25 miles of their home, in which case the law would not apply until September 1, 1959.

Skeet Championship to Be Held Sunday

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club Skeet Championship will be held this Sunday afternoon at the club's skeet range, Sportsmen's Park in Waterford.

According to skeet and trap field manager Homer Coss, there will be no entry fee and the winner and runner-up in the championship shoot will receive brassards.

The shoot is open to club members only.

Warning on Shanties

LANSING — Ice fishermen are warned that shanties must be removed from ice covered waters before the ice becomes unsafe.

Fishermen failing to comply with this law may be assessed costs of removal, in addition to fines and court costs.

OCSC Has Installation

Fourteenth annual meeting of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the main hall of the OCSC clubhouse, at Sportsmen's Park in Waterford.

Highlighting this annual meeting of sportsmen and conservationists will be the installation of 1957 officers and two color-sound films, "This Is Michigan" and "Michigan Conservation."

The conservation film contains detailed coverage of the widely-acclaimed game habitat work projects which Oakland County sportsmen participated in during the winter months.

When President Lloyd Sibley turns over the gavel to President-elect Ray Newman of Pontiac tonight, a new slate of officers and committee heads will be ushered in to lead county sportsmen through the coming year.

Retiring President Sibley thanked the membership for their cooperation and support.

"I want to thank the sportsmen for the efforts extended to OCSC," he stated. "Your combined efforts and your real sense of sportsmanship proves OCSC will be around for many years to come."

In addition to President-elect Newman, other sportsmen scheduled to be installed at tonight's meeting are Ed Spicer of Birmingham, first vice president, Jerry Rustem of Drayton Plains, second vice president, Pat Metzdorf of Pontiac, secretary, Lew Borer of Pontiac, treasurer, Melvin Jurva of Pontiac, sergeant-at-arms, and Dr. P. B. Jones, Trustee.

Proposed Fees for Using State Parks Reasonable

By JACK PATTERSON

Outdoorsmen in general are among the most unreasonable of human creatures. They know all the answers, or at least are satisfied that they do, and are unwilling or incapable of accepting opinions contrary to their own.

They'll fight for their views at the drop of a hat and won't yield an inch to the opposition regardless of where the weight of logic may lie.

It is in this strange uncomfortable climate that the administration of outdoor affairs must operate. One result is that piddling differences of opinion on plan or policy frequently balloon into controversies of a scope quite out of proportion to the issue involved.

PATTERSON

A case in point is the current to-do over the proposed two dollar state park entrance fee. We can see nothing out of line with the theory of charging the users of state parks a modest fee for the use thereof.

The proper administration of state parks requires more money. It would seem reasonable and just that those who benefit directly from the parks should pick up the tab.

There are some who disagree. The recreational director of the CIO recently made a statement opposing any park fee, largely on the grounds that the state has an obligation to provide free parks, including basic facilities, just as it has a duty to provide free education.

This is an interesting theory as any taxpayer who feels the cost of "free" education will no doubt agree. We feel that any duty the state may owe to set up recreational facilities has pretty well been discharged to date.

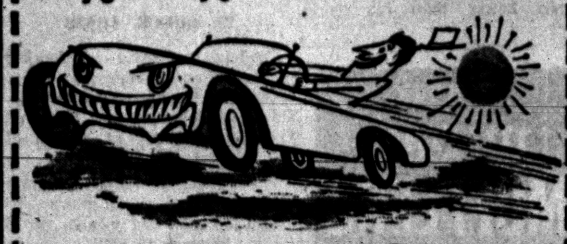

By "state" it should be remembered that we mean you, the taxpayer, because there is no third-party "state" with money of its own which can owe an obligation or anything else.

We think you, the taxpayer, have done a good job in setting up a system of state parks in Michigan. We don't think you should be tagged further if you are a non-user of the parks.

The theory of the "free ride" has gained a great deal of momentum in recent years. It has not gained in virtue. We're old fashioned enough to believe that if something is worth having or doing it's worth paying for.

Thousands of people enjoy our state parks annually. If, by the payment of a modest fee they can keep them operating in top shape there should be few complaints.

New York Giant Football Coach Jim Lee Howell was president of the student council during his college days at Arkansas.

Fish Color Blind? No — Says Expert

DETROIT — Are fish color-blind?

"Definitely not," declares Percy Haver, expert fisherman and manufacturer.

Recent experiments conducted by the Wonderland Fish Lure Co., throw new light on a question that has stirred controversy among anglers for years.

"Fish not only can distinguish color, but are attracted more by certain colors than by others," reports Haver whose own fishing exploits are considerable. He has pulled more than 3,000 muskies out of Lake St. Clair in 10 years.

"They'll bite," promises Haver, "if you find the bait color that produces the highest visibility in your particular fishing spot.

"In our experiments, we have taken water samples from various lakes and streams and compared them as to color. Then we tried to determine which of the primary colors — red, blue or yellow — showed up most clearly in each particular shade and color of water.

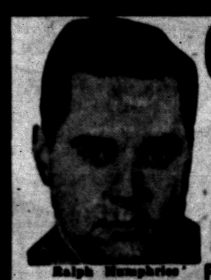

"This is similar to looking at a field of flowers or a rock formation through sunglasses of different colors and shades. You can readily see how each flower or rock color stands out so much brighter when it's in combination with a compatible tint in the sunglasses.

"You will get good results most any place by experimenting with the three basic colors — red, blue and yellow — until you hit the right one for the body of water in which you are fishing.

"Our suggestion to the fishermen stocking his tackle box is to fit it out with these three principal colors and combine them with black and white as the basis for all colors," says Haver.

Hindu Mother Kills Girl to Avoid Dowry

NEW DELHI (AP) — Because girls require dowries, many Indian parents dread the birth of a daughter.

In a village near Kanpur in North Central India, the arrival of a second daughter brought discord into the lives of a young couple.

The new baby disappeared four months after it was born. Later police found the girl's body in a well and arrested the mother on murder charges.

Sentencing the mother to life imprisonment, a two-justice panel of the Allahabad high court observed: "We are convinced . . . the baby was dropped . . . in the well to escape the wrath of her husband" for having given birth to a second daughter.

Businessman Lists Purchases for Beck

The union leader added, however, that the "whole Nate Shefferman situation could be answered in less than five minutes in a court of law." While Shefferman was testifying, Beck leaned over to reporters and said with a smile:

"I'll answer that in two seconds in a court. Did I have authority to buy these things and reimburse the union? That would only come out in a court."

Beck told reporters he hoped the committee would ask Shefferman "if he ever bought things for (the late) Bill Green when he was president of the AFL and other labor officials."

Shefferman testified that Beck was not the only person for whom he bought merchandise at a discount. He said: "It's the only manner I have in which to build goodwill."

NEVER TALK SHOP

Referring to Beck and the Teamsters, Shefferman said: "I'd rather be friends with them than enemies. I never negotiated with Mr. Beck. We never even talked shop when we're together."

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy asked Shefferman, "Why was it important for you to be friends with Mr. Beck?"

Shefferman answered: Because I like him. We exchanged ideas on free enterprise, anti-communism. I always admired him for his capacity, ability, courage. He's a very remarkable man."

Shefferman added: "I really didn't feel it was wrong. If I had felt it was wrong, I wouldn't have done it."

The laughter resumed when Shefferman continued through the list of such items as "shoes and shirts for the Seattle bunch, $37.50" and "six pairs of knee drawers, $27.54."

A RUMPUS ROOM?

When Shefferman got to a $1,242.45 item for furniture which included love seats, he said he thought they were for a rumpus room. McClellan asked: "Love seats for a rumpus room?"

Shefferman replied: "Well, it's a good combination. A good place to have a rumpus."

Kennedy said that Shefferman actually bought $94,000 worth of goods for Beck, Mrs. Beck, Dave Beck Jr. and Mrs. Beck's cousin, Norman Gessert. Of this, he said, $85,000 came from the Teamsters' coffers.

Bills identified by Shefferman showed that he allegedly paid thousands of dollars for landscaping and gardening at Beck's swank Seattle, Wash., home.

Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) asked: "Was this a public Teamsters garden . . . where union members could bring their families on Sundays for picnics?"

Shefferman replied: "Oddly enough . . . he has had a good many gatherings out there of union people . . . I've been to those . . ."

2 IMPORTANT POINTS

Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) said the examination of Shefferman had brought out two important points:

1. "Substantial evidence" that the Chicagoan received checks from the Teamsters Union to pay Beck's bills.

2. The question of whether Shefferman's management clients were given "particular favoritism" by the Teamsters since the consultant was "both receiving and giving funds to Beck."

Shefferman denied the "favoritism" charge.

Following yesterday's hearing, George Meany, AFL-CIO president, promptly called an emergency council meeting Friday morning to consider Beck's case.

Beck, boss of the Teamsters, sat slightly behind and to the right of Shefferman as the public relations consultant testified. Beck smiled at some of Shefferman's testimony.

There was a huge crowd again for this second day of the committee's inquiry into allegations that Beck "may have misappropriated," as Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) put it, some $322,000 of Teamsters funds.

REFUSED TO TALK

Beck himself took refuge behind the Fifth Amendment yesterday, refusing to discuss any implications of an intermixture of his and union finances, or to turn over personal records. He pleaded repeatedly that answers "might" tend to incriminate him.

Shefferman told the committee he was out of his office 90 to 95 per cent of the time, and consequently did not have personal knowledge at the time of what money paid for the items he bought for Beck. He said he paid from his own money and reimbursement came in later.

"He was using you as a procuring agency?" McClellan said.

"Purchasing agency," Shefferman amended, adding, "I don't like the word procuring."

Shefferman said he wanted it understood that he wasn't buying things with union funds. "I laid out my own money," he said, and "I was reimbursed with union funds."

The committee asked Shefferman to identify a list of "samples of items purchased for Dave Beck by Nathan Shefferman with Teamster Union funds."

The list covered a range from $64 for five dozen diapers to $1,242.45 for "chairs, table, loveseats, settees, etc."

There were some gasps from the crowd as Shefferman read off $317.30 for "shirts."

"He wears pretty good shirts," Shefferman commented.

Yesterday the paunchy and protesting union boss dodged answers by invoking the Fourth and Fifth amendments to the constitution, and contended the committee had no authority to put the questions and that he was not required to testify against himself.

He said this was on the advice of his absent chief counsel, former Sen. James Duff (R-Pa).

Beck refused to talk about alleged use of more than $320,000 of Teamster funds for his own purposes.

Kennedy said about $85,000 of Teamster West Coast dues was siphoned from the union via Shefferman to Beck, Beck's son and a relative of Beck's wife, Norman Gessert.

Shefferman, though saying he is a management consultant to some 300 firms, also is a staunch admirer of Beck. He gave the Senate committee practically its only good word on Beck all day.

When the packed Senate caucus hearing room audience tittered as he said Beck had been his "close friend" for more than 20 years, Shefferman cleared his throat and continued in a quiet voice:

"This is serious. I say in all sincerity that Mr. Beck is a very generous man, a terrific personality and a wonderful gentleman."

Soybeans Lead Grain Upsurge

CHICAGO (UP) — Soybean futures were strong and grains also were higher as the recovery movement continued today in early dealings on the board of trade.

Export news, and a very strong soybean oil market, caused buying in the soybean pit. There also was some export news in wheat, which was aided also by forecasts for only light precipitation in the southwestern winter wheat belt during the next five days.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ½ to ⅞ higher, May $2.22⅝, corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May $1.32, oats unchanged to ⅜ higher, May 71⅞, rye ¾ to 1¼ higher, May $1.27½, soybeans ½ to 1⅜ higher, May $2.42¼, and lard was 7 to 18 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $14.55.

Permit Goes to Blazes

MONROE (UP) — Everytime the LaSalle Volunteer Fire Departme put out a stubborn brush fire, it sprang up again. Finally Nick Didur was spotted setting the blaze. He said he had a burning permit and intended to use it. Called by firemen, Conservation Officer Robert Straube told Didur the blaze was endangering a neighbor's home and confiscated his permit on the spot.

They Know Beans!

TUCUMCARI, N.M. (UP)—Among the hundreds of train travelers delayed here by the weekend blizzard were two carloads of Puerto Rican servicemen bound for Ft. Carson, Colo. The soldiers couldn't speak English. The railroaders couldn't speak much Spanish. At mealtimes the trainmen shouted, "Frijoles!" That's "beans." The Puerto Ricans got the idea.

Number of farms in the U.S. has decreased by about 600,000 since 1950. There are less farms now than in 1890.

Steel, Rails Set Higher Pace

NEW YORK (UP) — Steels and rails led a stock market upturn today after early irregularity.

Gains of fractions to 2 points were posted by key stocks but there was still a good scattering of losers.

A slightly higher tendency was shown at the opening but this soon became blurred in a flood of mixed and unchanged quotations. Within an hour, however, the trend to the upside re-asserted itself and then became stronger.

Volume increased as prices improved.

Gains of a point or so were posted by Lukens Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Kennecott Copper, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Schering, Baltimore & Ohio and Illinois Central.

General Electric and Caterpillar were ahead around 2.

sharpest anger he has ever shown at a news conference when asked if he would be willing to give up the two helicopters he plans to use to "go to the golf course" to help reduce the budget.

His eyes flashing, the President said he didn't think much of the question because no helicopters had been procured for him to go to the golf course.

He cut his questioner off from further discussion with a curt "thank you—that's all."

The White House has announced that Eisenhower shortly will start using helicopters to travel to and from the airport.

Tornado Drills Held

CASS CITY (UP) — Tornado warning drills are being held this week for 1,115 school children in Cass City in preparation for a simulated tornado alert on Friday. School superintendent Willis Campbell said high school and elementary school pupils will take part in mock evacuation and shelter practice.

Soviet Anti-Stalin Writer Goes From Hero to Bum

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

You probably never heard of Vladimir Dudintsev, but he is a suffering Soviet writer who wrote a novel, "Not by Bread Alone."

Dudintsev was virtually unknown in Soviet art circles until he wrote his exciting book last year during the de-Stalinization period.

It was exciting because it was not the old plot of boy tractor driver meeting girl tractor driver and walking hand in hand into the Socialist sunset. Dudintsev attacked bureaucracy and controls, and, inferentially, the late dictator Stalin.

Names of the characters became part of the Russian vocabulary. There was, for instance, Ivanovich Drozdov. This villain is a Communist administrator, who blocked her hero, Dimitri Lopatkin.

Our hero, Lopatkin, worked in the Siberian town of Mzga after World War II in a big industrial plant directed by Drozdov, 52.

Lopatkin invented a machine for casting iron pipes, but that mean Drozdov told him there was no place in a collective society for his sort of individual effort.

BUILDING-ANTS

"The collective," mean old Drozdov told our hero, "is more of a genius than any single genius . . . We are building-ants, and you, the individual genius, with your gigantic ideas on little legs, are not necessary to us."

To which our bold hero (three years after Stalin's death) replies:

"One of those ants, however, has taken it upon himself to climb higher than the rest and to allow himself to think for all and to decide what is good and what is bad for the people."

Villain Drozdov is unmoved. He is the proper channel to put Lopatkin's more efficient machine on the desk of the proper minister. But he is bumping for a promotion and won't take the risk of rejection.

Meanwhile Nadya, wife of the mean old Drozdov, deserts him for Lopatkin, a hero who apparently attracts women easily.

TOSSED IN JUG

That scheming Drozdov finally gets Lopatkin tossed in the jug for eight years. But our hero gets released from prison after a moderate time, discovers that an accepted "collective machine" proved worthless and his own has been put into production on a secret project. He finds himself a hero, finally.

It is no world-shaking plot by author Dudintsev, but it could not have been published at all in Stalin's time. The author got his cue after comrade Nikita Khrushchev attacked Stalin in February 1956, to begin the debunking era.

After the anti-Communist explosion in Hungary and the near-explosion in Poland, however, Khrushchev toned down the de-Stalinization era. He even began to praise Stalin as a stalwart fighter against those mean old imperialists in the West.

Hence the perils of an author behind the Iron Curtain. Once a hero and fighter for truth; now, in today's prevailing Kremlin wind, a bum who is likely to be scalped.

Wilson Reports U.S. Will Solve Missile Snags

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has assured senators the U.S. is about to lick the problems involved in the intermediate range ballistic missile—the weapon with a 1,500 mile reach.

Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, outgoing chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, gave the Senate armed services committee a day-long top-secret briefing yesterday on the state of the nation's security.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), later told reporters that they think solution of "most of the IRBM is very imminent." Russell said that this "doesn't mean we will have it in mass production but we will have it in operation."

Russell said that Wilson pictured a missile which will combine the best features of the Army's Jupiter and the Air Force's Thor missile. Both weapons have undergone one test, neither of which was considered entirely successful, but a second test is expected any day.

Plymouth Sales Boom to Police Departments

DETROIT (INS)—Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp. says it is having the biggest year in its history in the sale of cars to police departments throughout the nation.

Jack W. Minor, division vice president in charge of sales, said police car sales during the first four months of the 1957 model year ran 393 per cent ahead of

No Budget Cut Unless Ike Aids

Byrd Demands Revision by President Before Congress Can Act

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today President Eisenhower controls a backlog of 70 billion dollars in available funds. As a result, he added, Congress can't make any "real reduction" in spending without Eisenhower's help.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, called on Eisenhower to submit to Congress a downward revision in his esti- program for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Contending that there now is on hand 70 billion dollars in balances voted by previous Congresses, Byrd said the lawmakers can cut the President's new money requests and still not achieve any real reductions in expenditures unless Eisenhower cooperates with them.

"I fully realize the responsibility for enacting appropriations rests in Congress," Byrd said, "but the President controls the rate and the time of expenditures. It is my firm conviction that coordinate action between the President and the Congress is essential to bring about retrenchment."

Eisenhower has said he is willing to cooperate, but has insisted that it is Congress' primary duty to find places where his budget can be cut.

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said in a separate interview that while the administration is giving intensive study to possible economies, he does not expect Eisenhower to submit any specific recommendations in this field.

However, Chairman Saltonstall (Mass) of the Conference of All Republican Senators, said Budget Director Percival Brundage told congressional leaders at a White House meeting yesterday he hopes to have a report soon on possible economies.

Saltonstall said he assumes the report will go to Eisenhower.

Knowland has called for a two-billion - dollar slash in proposed spending. Byrd has insisted reductions of 6½ billion dollars can be made.

Official Faces 4th Indictment

Oregon Teamsters Chief Charged in Conspiracy to Extort

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Clyde C. Crosby, head of the Teamsters Union in Oregon, yesterday was arrested on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to commit extortion.

It is the fourth indictment which has been served on Crosby, who recently testified before the Senate subcommittee investigating labor racketeering.

He is accused in yesterday's indictment of conspiring with others to threaten damage to the property of taverns to prevent these establishments from owning their own pinball machines or from having any such devices other than those controlled by a firm favored by the Teamsters Union.

The earlier indictments accuse Crosby of accepting a bribe as a public official, of conspiring to accept a bribe, and of false swearing.

The bribe charges stem from his membership on a commission charged with selecting a site in Portland for a proposed eight-million-dollar sports center.

Portland gambler Big Jim Elkins told the Senate that he, Crosby and others conspired to obtain options on property mentioned as a possible location for the center. Crosby, who has resigned from the commission, denied Elkins' accusations.

Tools, Money Stolen From Muffler Service

Tools and money totaling $428 were stolen from the King's Muffler Service, 256 S. Saginaw St. sometime Monday night after thieves broke in through a rear window, according to police.

Albert Kaplan, 18660 Hartwell St., Detroit, owner, told police change from the pop machine and an office desk amounting to $28 was taken. A grey tool box containing tools valued at $400 was also missing.

City Assessments to Become Uniform

A new assessment formula for future public improvement projects in Pontiac was approved by the City Commission last night.

The formula, as recommended by the city engineering department, will spread the assessments on a uniform program-wide basis instead of a job basis, City Manager Walter K. Willman pointed out.

"We will be able to maintain the same size program," Willman said, "without too drastic a change for anyone."

Basic change in the formula will be that the curb, gutter, and drainage charge will be boosted from $4 to $5 a front foot, and for trunk storm sewers there will be a hike from one to two cents a square foot.

AFTER MARCH 26

Willman said the new formula will be applied to all projects initiated after March 26. All other projects previously underway this year will be on the old formula, he said.

A second advantage of the formula will be the elimination of a special assessment roll for lateral storm drains. These will be incorporated in the $5 charge.

"Drainage or not," Willman said, "it will cost a man on one side of town as much for curb and gutter for his street as it does the fellow on the other side of town."

The manager said the city will be carrying one-third of the cost for curb and gutter projects, "as it should be."

Other assessment charges will be: $3 per front foot for sanitary sewers; combined sewers, six cents per square foot; sidewalks, $2 per front foot; two-inch blacktopping, $2.30 per front foot; and water mains $2.25 per front foot.

Frustrated Customer Holds Up Cleaners

A frustrated customer held up an employe of teh Sun-Ray Cleaners, 504 Auburn Ave., yesterday afternoon after he was told it would be impossible to have his coat cleaned immediately.

Allen Farner, 359 E. Blvd. S., told police the man walked off with approximately $28 after he said he had a gun under the sweater he was wearing.

The woman said the man made her go into the restroom where he told her to stay five minutes while he escaped.

Chicken Pox Cases Spurt During Week

After a sharp dip for one week, chicken pox spurted upward again last week, the Pontiac and Oakland County Health Depts. report.

In the county the number of cases jumped from 97 to 169 in a week, while Pontiac showed an increase from 15 to 18 cases.

Measles, scarlet fever and mumps also showed strong increases last week. The complete reports on communicable diseases are as follows:

Labor Budget Might Feel Ax

House Initiates Drive to Cut $75 Million Off Planned Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—A drive to cut 75 to 100 million dollars more from funds proposed for the Labor and Welfare departments was off to a successful though modest start today in the House.

Rep. Smith (D-VA) told the House yesterday that was the goal of a series of amendments to cut still further amounts recommended by a House Appropriations subcommittee. That group already had slashed $118,774,700 from President Eisenhower's budget requests.

Over Appropriations Committee objections, the House tentatively cut $416,300 from committee-recommended funds for the Labor Department.

Only a few relatively minor allotments were involved in yesterday's action, but several score of amendments were readied today to chop some of the biggest items still to be considered.

Objective of the cutting drive is to deny federal agencies any more money for the coming fiscal year than they had this year, except for mandatory increases made necessary by recent congressional action. One effect would be to force the agencies to abandon some plans for expansion of personnel.

As it came to the House last week, the pending bill provided for appropriations totalling $2,862,402,881, a reduction of $118,774,700 from amounts requested by President Eisenhower.

City Truck Fire Starts While Filling With Gas

Firemen estmated damage by fire to a city-owned truck from the Department of Public Works amounted to $150 yesterday.

The fire started when an attendant filled the truck with gas while the ignition was turned on, according to firemen.

Music, Acts Alternate With Pitchman

TV Variety Show Merely Old Time Medicine Show

ALLEGAN (AP) — Television is no novelty to a veteran of the oldtime medicine show.

"Variety shows on TV," says 76-year-old Roy East, "are just electronic versions of the medicine show — at least the one I was with."

East was a musician with the touring company of M. V. Krause, who peddled his medicines in the Midwest to the accompaniment of a brass band. Krause even had his own "doctors" to set up clinics at each stop.

"Most people think of a medicine show as a single, horsedrawn wagon with the pitchman and a couple of Indians," said East. "There were shows like that, but Krause's company wasn't one of them. It was worth well over a million dollars."

CREW OF 50

A regular crew of more than 50 made up the Krause entourage, East recalled. That included performers, musicians, salesmen and vaudeville acts that would stay in a town from two to five weeks.

The only advertising ever needed to bring the crowds, said East, was Krause's announcement in the local papers that he would "throw away" $500 in change during the first night's parade.

Music and vaudeville acts, as in today's television variety shows, would alternate with the pitchman's "sell." Krause generally sold standard drugs under the label of "Hot Springs Remedies."

Trouble arose, East said, when resident physicians took exception to Krause's methods.

OFTEN ARRESTED

"He was very often arrested," East said, "but he was never convicted that I can remember. It seems as though I had my name on most of the police registers in the Midwest before I left the show."

Krause eventually took his cornet to a tent show and also played with various bands. He took up farming in 1910 at his Trowbridge Township home after the early movies began cutting in on revenues of "live" entertainment.

Pontiac Educators to Be at Convention

A number of Pontiac school administrators are attending the annual three-day convention of the Dept. of Elementary School Principals of the National Education Assn. concluding today in Cincinnati.

They are: Mrs. Irene Albright, Baldwin School; Adeline Hook, Longfellow; Mrs. Harry Killian, Bethune; Margaret Luther, Whitfield; John F. Perdue, Bagley; Horton C. Southworth, Crofoot; and Lester R. Stanley, Hawthorne and Wever.

The parley will include clinic on 19 major areas of elementary education and seven assemblies at which education specialists will speak.

The convention theme is "Improving Education Opportunities for Children."

Reno Law Forgotten

RENO (AP)—City Atty. Sam Francovich says the Reno city airport is breaking the law numerous times daily. He has discovered a forgotten ordinance that forbids aircraft to land or take off within the city limits. The airport was annexed two years ago.

Grader Rolls Over Boy Without Injuring Him

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The dual wheels of a 12½-ton street grader ran over Michael J. Houston, 5, but doctors found no apparent injuries except tire bruises when they examined him last night.

Mike had hitched a tricycle tow behind the huge vehicle, out of sight of the driver. Soft dirt worked up by the grader apparently served as a cushion when it backed over the boy.

Early studies indicated no broken bones.

Pontiac City Affairs

Reappoint 4 to County Supervisors Board

Pontiac city commissioners last night approved the reappointment of four city representatives on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

They are R. C. Cummings, Mrs. Lee Hill, Robert R. Boyer, and Willis M. Brewer.

In other action, commissioners authorized the city attorney to begin condemnation proceedings to acquire property at 128 W. Pike St. needed for completion of a municipal parking lot.

They approved a request of Pontiac Elks Lodge 810 for its annual midsummer festival, to be held June 11-23 at 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

An application to add Richard D. Puertas as a partner on 1957 liquor and beer licenses at 1220 and 1224 N. Perry St. was approved.

TRANSFER APPROVED

Approved also was a request to transfer location of a beer and wine license from 14 E. Pike St. to 5 S. Saginaw St.

Commissioners heard a proposed fire prevention ordinance read by title only. Second reading, discussion, and possible adoption is expected next week.

A request to rezone, from Residential 1 to Commercial 1, part of lot at the northeast corner of Palmer and Orchard Lake, was referred back to applicants to file according to the city's rezoning petition policy.

The city clerk announced that the eighth annual regional meeting of the Michigan Municipal League will be held in Pontiac April 18.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would study a request for the reallocation of $4,000 in funds for the installation of sewers in the Baldwin-Dixie Hills Subdivision. The reallocation was requested by the Chieftain Home Builders, Inc.

'No. 1 Tightwad' Pays Cast Well

Benny's TV Associates Never Have to Cater to Star Temperament

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — One of the great oddities of the entertainment industry, where employment is about as stable as a jar of nitroglycerin, is that the least erased payroll belongs to the world's foremost tightwad.

Year after year, Jack Benny manages to cruise along at the top of the ratings with the same crew of aides while other comedians are changing writers and supporting players as often as they change their moods.

Among those who depend for their livelihood upon their ability to gauge the temper of stars and behave accordingly, Benny's record of employe relations is a thing to be wondered at as much as admired.

Two of the blue-eyed buffoon's writers, Sam Perrin and George Balzer, have toiled with Benny through radio and television for 14 years. The other two, Al Gordon and Hal Goodman, are relative newcomers, with seven years' seniority each.

For other comedians to keep the same writers around for two years running is considered a touching tribute to the scribes' talents in the trade.

CONSTANT TO CAST

Benny has been even more constant to his cast. Don Wilson has been announcing Benny's shows and trading jibs with Jack for 23 years — since the comedians' second year on radio.

Eddie (Rochester) Anderson was hired to do one radio show with Benny almost 20 years ago. He got a few laughs and stayed, for the simple reason that Benny's business is provoking laughter and he isn't particular who pulls the punch lines.

Dennis Day, now an "irregular regular" in the Benny stable, Mr. Kitzel and others of Jack's cohorts all have similar records of longevity.

Benny's secret for maintaining his key personnel and keeping them on the ball is obvious. He pays them well and treats them right.

All of his aides are among the most highly paid workmen in their particular divisions of show business. Few of them need outside work to keep the money rolling in at a gratifying rate, and there are no outbursts of star temperament to make their lives miserable.

But Jack isn't outraged if his people want to wander outside the fold to pick up some extra money occasionally.

"At one time I used to think it was important that they didn't," he says with the ease of a man who understands his trade inside out. "But I've found out it doesn't make much difference."

The soothing effect of working with Benny, as compared with most other comedians, is apparent during rehearsals for his CBS-TV shows. They are subdued, generally light-hearted sessions with none of the clamor and castigation usually associated with a television rehearsal.

THE BELOVED BOSS — Jack Benny, the world's foremost tightwad on radio and television, is in reality considered one of the best employers in show business. The comedian, who has kept the same writers and cast for many years, is seen on alternate Sundays at 7:30 p. m. over CBS-TV.

Science Whiz Strom Wins $16,000 More

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Strom, 10 - year - old science whiz, last night flashed to the $96,000 level in his bid to win a possible $256,000 on a television quiz show.

The Bronx schoolboy breezed through a complicated six-part question on fluorescent lamps and electricity. That added $16,000 to his previous $80,000 winnings on CBS' The $64,000 Question.

Next week he will return to try for $128,000.

Hitchcock Hospitalized for at Least 2 Weeks

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A physician says producer - director Alfred Hitchcock will be hospitalized at least two extra weeks due to a setback after recent surgery.

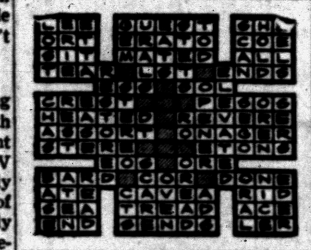

Hitchcock, 56, operated on March 11 for gallstones, had been slated to leave Cedars of Lebanon Hospital yesterday.

His physician declared the setback was unrelated to the operation and said the general condition of his patient was good.

Fret No More, Men! Hal Does Dishes, Too

By EARL WILSON

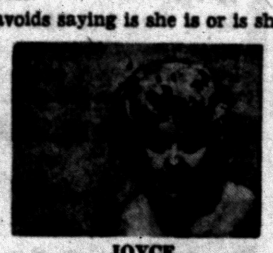

NEW YORK—Slim, suave Hal March, the quizmaster, is hereby exposed by your roving, raving reporter, who comes from out in the hinterlands and likes those family touches.

Hal helps his bride, Candy, who's expecting, with the cooking.

"He's very unglamorous right now—he's emptying the garbage," Candy said when I phoned . . . and a minute later Hal said:

"I cooked tonight. Now I'm with the dishes. For my birthday you might buy me a nice dress."

Curious how Marilyn Monroe avoids saying is she is or is she ain't expecting. Her agent (MC) say: "She's available right now for the right picture." But Veep Milton H. Greene feels she doesn't want to work for a year . . . (Actress Joyce Miles of Detroit, now here, looks so much like her, we heard some guys offered to take her as a substitute) . . .

JOYCE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Jimmy Dorsey became ill and left suddenly for a Miami rest; his band stays . . . Bob (Confidential) Harrison brought a nine-foot snake to Monique Van Vooren's birthday party. (Monique says, "I'm 25 today; next year I'll be 24") . . . Elvis' manager, Col. Parker, objected to Dick Shawn's impression of Presley on a forth-coming Ed Sullivan show. (Dick won't do it) . . . Dianne Foster plays Mrs. Barney Ross in the film bio, "Monkey on My Back."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "You know what a gentleman farmer is of course—that's a farmer with more hay in the bank than in the barn."—Jack Sterling.

A conceited B'way actor was captured by African headhunters, and they shrunk his head to the same size everybody else's is . . . That's earl, brother.

There's no bigger station wagon made than these great Plymouth Suburbans!

Mighty 122-inch wheelbase...over 10 feet of cargo space

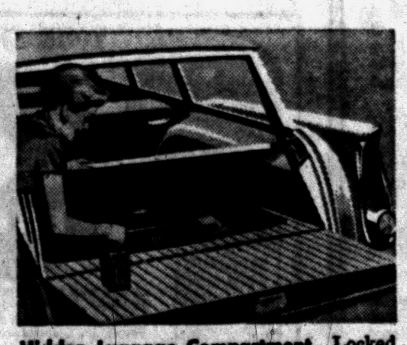

A tape measure proves it! And it'll have to be a full 122 inches long to measure Plymouth's longest-of-all wheelbase. And it'll have to reach 120.9 inches to measure the cargo-carrying floor space alone. More than 10 feet!

What else does a Plymouth Suburban offer? Everything that makes every Plymouth three full years ahead.

For example—Torsion-Aire Ride, the same velvety suspension featured in the costliest of limousines. Plus super-safe Total-Contact Brakes. Plus the highest standard horsepower in its field. Plus breathtaking Flight-Sweep Styling. Plus the sure-footedness of sports-car handling. See, compare, drive a Plymouth Suburban today!

New Observation Seat. Available in 9-passenger Suburban models. Folds flush into floor for extra cargo space.

Hidden Luggage Compartment. Locked space for out-of-sight storage of luggage and valuables. On six-passenger models.

Comfort Steps on both sides of tailgate. Make it so easy to get in and out of the new Observation Seat.

THEY DON'T COME ANY BIGGER THAN Plymouth SUBURBANS

Don't miss Plymouth's two great TV programs: Lawrence Welk's "Top Tunes and New Talent" and "The Ray Anthony Show." See TV section for time and station.

Changes Make Solution Easier for Pot-O-Gold

In order to make solution of Pot-O-Gold easier, the puzzle has been changed to resemble a crossword puzzle. This week's puzzle is worth $500, so be sure you read the new directions carefully. Clue words will no longer appear on Page One of Monday's Pontiac Press, as the clue words appear right in the solution clues.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be acepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 43 must bear a Tuesday, April 2, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.
