U.S. Moon Rocket Attempt Ends in Failure

County Backing of Drain, Sewer Projects Sought

Barry, Schone to Ask Supervisors to Pledge Credit Support

Oakland County supervisors Monday will be asked to pledge the county's financial credit in backing the $4,760,000 Eight Mile road storm drain and the $6,175,000 Evergreen interceptor sanitary sewer projects.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry is expected to tell supervisors of the urgency of the Eight Mile road project which will serve portions of Oak Park and Southfield city.

The city of Detroit, Barry says, will not enter into new contracts with Oakland County as the outlet for three sanitary districts until bonds have been sold to finance the Eight Mile road project.

One of the projects being held up is the Evergreen project, which is planned to serve Southfield, the city of Lathrup Village, Westwood Village, a major portion of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, 5½ square miles of Troy, Bloomfield Township, 320 acres of Pontiac Township and eventually Bingham Farms and Franklin Village.

Harold K. Schone, director of the Department of Public Works, which is engineering the Evergreen interceptor, will meet supervisors, along with Barry, Monday to urge the county to pledge its full faith and credit behind this job.

Both are expected to stress that Barry's office project, the Eight Mile job, is the key to more than 60 million dollars worth of sewer construction projects in the county.

Participating communities which would benefit from the construction of the Eight Mile road and Evergreen projects will share in their costs, while the county is being asked to give its financial backing in case of default.

Other matters to come before the Board of Supervisors Monday include:

(1) Proposed consolidation of Committee Clerk Norman R. Barnard's duties with those of corporation counsel, and the suggested naming of Barnard as new chief legal advisor for the county.

(2) Resolution to borrow another $200,000 from two county funds to supplement continued dwindling welfare relief funds.

(3) Suggestion that a proposed incorporation of Woodcroft Village in Farmington Township be deferred until a hearing can be held in the proposed area.

Troy Father of 4 Killed at Work

Pile of Steel Stampings Falls, Crushing Him in Royal Oak Plant

A 33-year-old Troy father of four was crushed to death yesterday when a pile of boxes containing steel stampings fell on him while at work at the Carrick Products Co., 2727 W. 14-Mile Rd., Royal Oak.

George L. Cook of 1920 Birchwood St., a stock handler at the plant, was attempting to raise the boxes with a fork-lift truck when they tipped, according to Robert Davis, plant superintendent.

Cook was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital. An autopsy was to be performed this morning.

Fabulous Diamond Given to Museum

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hope diamond, a million-dollar gem with a three-century legend of curse and tragedy, is en route to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington as the gift of a New York jeweler.

Gem dealer Harry Winston will donate the Hope—largest of the world's blue diamonds—to the institution for display in the Hall of Gems and Minerals. It is being shipped to Washington by registered mail. Postal rates will exceed $150.

Winston decided to donate the 44½-carat oval stone in order to help establish in Washington a collection of jewels to rival those of the other capitals of the world.

The midnight-blue diamond, not quite the size of a 50-cent piece, has been insured by various owners for one to two million dollars. Winston insured it for a million. It will cost the Smithsonian nothing.

Winston said Friday there will be a presentation ceremony Monday morning.

He said he has turned down four offers for the gem since he acquired it in 1949 from the estate of Evalyn Walsh McLean. Mrs. McLean, wife of a former owner of the Washington Post and one of the capital's best known hostesses, bought the Hope in 1911 for a reported $154,000.

While owned by Winston, the Hope was exhibited all over the world and helped raise huge sums for charity. The dealer said he has more than had his money out of it.

Winston has escaped the misfortunes which plagued many of the gem's former owners.

Legend has it that the diamond was plucked from the forehead of a Hindu idol and smuggled out of India by a Frenchman named Tavernier in 1642. Tavernier was bitten to death by a pack of dogs.

A number of subsequent owners, including King Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, came to tragic ends.

THE HOPE DIAMOND

Ohio Patrolmen Study Why Surviving Driver Took Wrong Way

NORWALK, Ohio (AP) — Ohio turnpike patrolmen tried to learn today why a motorist drove east in a westbound lane of the toll road. Seven died in the head-on crash that followed, but the wrong-way driver survived.

A Jamestown, N. Y., family of six, occupants of the other car, was wiped out. It was the second head-on collision on the divided-lane highway.

Turnpike patrolmen said the auto driven by John M. Hines Jr., 41, Detroit, was headed east in a westbound lane. It crashed head-on with a vehicle driven by George N. Bentley, 32, Jamestown.

The dead, in addition to Bentley, were his wife, Della, and their four boys, 3, 12 and 13 years and 18 months, plus Mrs. Claudia Brooks, 45, Detroit, a passenger in Hines' car.

A gatetender spotted the Hines' auto whipping along in the wrong direction and quickly radioed ahead to the turnpike patrol. Minutes later the two cars blasted together in a grinding crash.

Patrolmen found an oil-stained toll ticket indicating Hines had entered the turnpike at Exchange No. 5, Stony Ridge. The time was blurred. Stony Ridge is a little east of Toledo, at Milepost 70. This would be the normal entrance for a Detroiter headed east.

There was no report of trouble at Freemont Interchange No. 6, at Milepost 92, nor at the service plaza at Milepost 100. This restaurant and gasoline area is known on the south side of the road as Commodore Perry Plaza and on the north as Erie Islands.

But the patrol's log shows a patron stopped at Castalia maintenance building, on the north side between Milepost 107 and 108, to report an eastbound car in the westbound lane.

Fogs Born, Not Made

LONDON (UPI) — Officials today called off plans to put the play, "Fear In the Fog," on television next weekend. They explained technicians were unable to produce a fog without suffocating everyone in the studio.

Home for Aged Honeymoon Spot for Bride of 93

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP)—Honeymooning at a home for the aged today are the former Mrs. Annettie Teilborg, 93, and her second bridegroom in two years, Webster Goodrich, 88.

They were married Friday in the First Baptist church by Dr. J. Whitcomb Broughter Jr. He officiated her 1956 marriage to the late James Teilborg.

Goodrich, a former North Dakota farmer, met his bride-to-be when he moved into the home for the aged in nearby Sunland last August.

Mrs. Teilborg, who has six grandchildren and 15 great-grandchildren, has lived there since February 1956.

U. of M. Athletes Guilty in Betting

Two Given $100 Fines; University May Take Further Action

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Two top University of Michigan athletes, fined $100 each for selling illegal football betting cards, had their cases turned over to university authorities for further disciplinary action today.

Tony Rio, Michigan's first string fullback who was suspended from the squad when athletic officials learned of his part in the gambling ring, and Jack Lewis, captain of the Wolverines' Big Ten basketball team, pleaded guilty yesterday in an attempt to avoid publicity.

John Dobson, attorney for the pair, said "Publicity has been out of proportion to the nature of the offense" and said the plea of guilty was entered to "eliminate further occasion for such publicity by avoiding a trial on these minor charges."

Rio, Lewis and five other U. of M. students will have their cases handled by the Joint Judiciary Council, a student-faculty group which has jurisdiction to assess additional disciplinary action.

Following the council's decision, the two athletes will be subject to action by the board in control of intercollegiate athletics, but U. of M. athletic director, H. O. (Fritz) Crisler, said the Athletic Department "will take a wait-and-see attitude.

"The Athletic Department will be guided by the university's final disposition on the matter."

The joint judiciary ruling was not expected before two weeks and indicated that Rio, promoted to first string when John Herrnstein was knocked from the squad by an injured leg, would miss the rest of the season.

The council said it would consider all cases at once and Carl Riseman, 21, Detroit, associate sports editor of the Michigan Daily, said he would plead innocence and face trial Nov. 13, thus putting off the school ruling.

An Impressive Start

ON ITS WAY — The Air Force rocket carrying a lunar probe climbs out of clouds of smoke and steam at Cape Canaveral, Fla., early this morning. Third stage of the rocket failed to ignite properly, however.

TENDER CARE — Dressed as though they were working in a hospital, technicians carefully cover up the lunar "payload" package as the missile was prepared for this morning's effort to send a probe into the moon. The top-like package carried instruments for measuring conditions in outer space.

3rd Stage Fails to Fire, Burns Up Over Africa

From Our News Wires

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — The Air Force's last assigned moon shoot ended in heartbreak today when the rocket's third stage failed to fire. The Pioneer II payload burned up over Africa after traveling 7,500 miles in 45 minutes.

Made more crushing by a premature announcement that all three stages fired successfully, the failure left the nation's immediate hopes of probing the moon squarely up to the Army.

The Army, which has put up three satellites, has two lunar shoots assigned using the basic hardware of the Jupiter missile program.

The first may come next month when juxtaposition of earth and moon again is favorable.

Today's Thor-Able rocket, topped by an 86.3-pound payload, wound up acting like an intercontinental ballistic missile. It attained a comparable speed, 16,000 miles an hour, and an altitude of 1,000 miles. But an ICBM has a nose cone protected against the terrific heat encountered in reentry. The fiberglas Pioneer II payload, lacking such protection, burned to cinders in the atmosphere over East Central Africa.

The payload's fate, and the area where it burned up, were determined by an analysis of worldwide tracking information at the Air Force's space technology laboratories in California.

INCORRECT RELEASE

The story with the bitter end was released by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), which has taken over-all control of purely scientific shoots into the beyond.

An NASA spokesman here, Matthew Portz, said an incorrect release was given to reporters 11 minutes after blast-off at the instant of separation of the third stage from the second.

In past shoots, separation has been instantaneous with ignition of the third stage. When the separation was confirmed today, the prepared release was issued saying all three stages had fired.

But a one-second delay was built into today's rocket to assure a clean separation. It proved to be a fatal second. The solid-fuel third stage, considered the most reliable section of the moon rocket assembly, was a dud.

The third stage, which functioned without a hitch in last month's 79,000-mile shoot, was developed by the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory

UF Still Needs $200,000

Drive Time Short

Time is closing in on the 1958 Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

Fund headquarters this morning reported only 58.1 per cent of the goal reached. This means that before the Tuesday deadline, the Fund will need $200,836.62 to meet its minimum quota.

The reorganized Women's Division, under the direction of Mrs. Donald E. White, is the only division to surpass its quota thus far. Its more than 1,200 door-to-door residential solicitors have collected $23,407.86, or 112.6 per cent of its quota.

With Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body employe totals yet to come in, the Industrial Division has raised $180,000. Both of these General Motors plants are scheduled to begin their in-plant campaigns Monday.

Commercial Division returns, although picking up the last few days, stand at $96,755.52—still far short of the $179,371 quota.

Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkeley Voss, division chairmen, have appealed to the 11 groups of workers in tthe Commercial Division to complete their calls by Tuesday.

Mrs. R. G. Bump's Waterford Township commercial solicitors were the only group to top their quota by this morning. Two groups directed by Victor Hoerath, however, are nearing 100 per cent.

Al Holcomb's Finance Group has raised $20,827, or 85 per cent of its quota, and the Retail Group 1 under Larry Payne has recorded $20,004.56, or 81.4 per cent of its quota.

Police Training Program to Be Set Up in Pontiac

One of the major shortcomings of the Pontiac Police Dept. cited in the Public Administration Service report is being eliminated with the setting up of a training program for all police officers.

Public Safety Director George D. Eastman has placed Police Lt. William K. Hanger in charge of organizing the program. Hanger will determine what phases of police work should be covered in the training.

The program is scheduled to begin in January. Eastman said all policemen — including specialists, command and supervisory officers — will be given approximately 40 hours of training.

The PAS report noted that except for firearms, no time was being spent on departmental-wide refresher training on any police subject and that no provision was made to bring Pontiac policemen data on newly-developed police procedures, other than occasional memos.

The report said there was no proper training for supervisory and command officers. It recommended the establishment of such a training program as quickly as possible.

Convenience for Motorists

'Drive-Up' Phone Booth Latest

Installation of Michigan's first telephone "boothette" on Dixie Highway, near the M15 intersection, enables motorists to make calls without leaving their cars.

An individual wishing to place a call merely drives off the road to a small plastic enclosure, car-window high, reaches out and dials his number. A phone book is also within arm's reach.

A nine-foot long spring cord connected to the receiver makes it possible to roll the window up and sit back comfortably in the automobile while using the telephone.

Imbedded in five feet of concrete, the cost of Michigan's first drive-up telephone was approximately $600, but the utility firm hopes to reduce this cost as more are installed.

Stormy weather conditions that have plagued telephone booths customers will be eliminated, and the problem of finding a parking space near an outside booth will also be a thing of the past, a telephone company official points out.

Ten more boothettes have been scheduled for installation in Michigan this month, and by the end of the year, 40 more are to be strategically located throughout the state.

Colder Here Tonight, High 52 Tomorrow

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts cloudy and colder for the Pontiac area with a low tonight of near 36 degrees.

Partly cloudy and little temperature change is Sunday's forecast, the high reaching near 52. Mostly cloudy and turning colder with showers likely is the outlook for Monday. Showers and possible snow flurries are predicted for Upper Michigan.

Forty was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. today. The thermometer registered 51 at 1 p.m.

62,000 More Get Jobs

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan unemployment shrank 62,000 in the month ended Oct. 15, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported today. Employment, excluding 104,000 out in labor-management disputes, totaled 2,310,000 on Oct. 15 and unemployment 360,000 or 12.3 per cent of the available labor force.

TV Producer Arrested

AP Wirephoto

Detroit Industry Seen Growing

Survey Report Shows Motor City Drawing 23 New Firms

DETROIT (AP) — Industry is coming into Detroit rather than leaving the city, says the city's industrial and development committee.

The committee's director, William B. Sloan, told the city council yesterday that if there ever was a trend away from the city on the part of industry this has been "reversed."

Quoting from surveys, Sloan said that since February, 23 companies have moved into the Motor City or have planned to do so. He also said that he did not believe there ever had been a trend of business away from Detroit.

Sloan is a former government man who was brought from Chicago to head the Detroit committee in an effort to bring new business to the city.

The committee report to the council came four days after election day. The circumstances of business in Detroit and Michigan in recent years had been an issue of political campaigning.

"I was told when I came here last February that industry was moving out," Sloan said. "If there was such a trend, it has been reversed. As of today, I don't believe there was such a trend."

Sloan said that of the 23 new industries for Detroit 10 came from other Michigan cities, 10 from Illinois, four from Ohio, two from Indiana and one from Nevada.

Sloan said U.S. Commerce Department figures show that Detroit lost 193 firms during the 10-year period 1947-56 but that at the same time the city gained more than 5,500 other businesses, including more than 1,400 in manufacturing.

Schools in Michigan to Get $16.5 Million

LANSING (AP) — Some $16,500,000 in primary school interest fund payments will be made available to school districts this month.

Public Instruction Superintendent Lynn M. Bartlett announced the figure yesterday. He stressed the money comes from funds earmarked by the constitution and do not change "the very critical financial position of the state."

Bartlett noted that the last two state school aid checks — August and October — were only three-fourths of the amount that should have gone to the school districts.

He blamed this on the low level of cigarette, liquor and sales taxes collected.

Pontiac's American Legion Cook-Nelson Post No. 20, will hold its annual Veterans Day breakfast Tuesday morning at the post home, 206 Auburn ave.

The breakfast will be held in honor of all legionnaires who have been members at the post for 30 years or more. An open house at the post will follow.

Reservations for the breakfast are being accepted by cochairmen Floyd Cremer and Leo Mineweaser and Mrs. Robert A. Conant, auxiliary unit president.

Tactics Win Ike Victory Over Ducks

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — The battle of President Eisenhower versus the southbound ducks of the Middle West broke out again at dawn today in a cold autumnal marsh on the shores of Lake Erie.

The Chief Executive, who flew here from Washington yesterday, had a highly successful late afternoon shoot at the club, bagging the legal limit of four mallard ducks in 90 minutes.

Royal Oak Clinic Offering Adults Vaccine Today

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — A polio clinic will be held today in the Royal Oak Township Hall to administer low cost vaccine shots to adults.

Yesterday, 1,800 children enrolled in the Carver School were inoculated during the two day clinics conducted by a citizens' committee which collected funds for the project during a house-to-house campaign.

The Salk vaccine was administered to adults for $1 a shot and 50 cents for children.

Local doctors, the Oakland County Health Department and the Visiting Nurses Association volunteered their time and housewives are handling the clerical work.

According to Mark Howard, justice of the peace, the 22 member committee was organized Oct. 10 after Detroit and Wayne County started emergency low-cost clinics.

The second series of shots will be given Dec. 12 and 13. Third shots are scheduled for June or July.

Annual Eye Test Avoids Blindness Due to Glaucoma

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — About one person in 40 among middle aged or elderly Americans suffers from glaucoma the most common cause of blindness and there is as yet no complete cure.

But with proper care, according to Dr. Robert A. Goldsmith of the University of Michigan Medical Center, glaucoma can be controlled and blindness often prevented.

Glaucoma results from abnormal pressure in the watery fluid of the eye. When the pressure builds up, it cuts off the normal nutrition to the eye nerves and when the nerves die, incurable blindness takes place.

Even if glaucoma is caught in its early stages, it still can't be completely cured, Goldsmith said, but it can be controlled through the use of eye drops and other medication.

"The overall outlook for the patient with glaucoma is now much better than it was in the past," Goldsmith said. "We are seeing more early cases and are preventing many cases of blindness but there is a long way to go."

Weather Menu Varied

Cool Air Chills Midwest

By The Associated Press

Another thrust of cool air dipped temperatures throughout the Midwest early today as the Pacific Northwest prepared for a curtain of showers after an overnight dousing.

The remainder of the weather menu was varied: fair climes in the Southwest, partly cloudy skies along the Gulf Coast and some warming in the Upper Ohio Valley and North Atlantic states.

Cool air sped eastward from the Plains across the Mississippi Valley into the Upper Great Lakes. This flow was an after effect of the Northwest storm. Reports showed near freezing readings as far south as western Kansas while temperatures in the teens chilled Wyoming.

Winds, clocked at 50 m.p.h., buffeted parts of Wyoming as the cold air plunged across the Plains.

During the previous 24-hour period, there had been some warming in the region, which was recovering from an early week cold onslaught.

A new offshore Pacific storm triggered precipitation as far east as western Montana. Locally heavy rains doused the Washington and Oregon coastline. Hoquiam, Wash., got a soaking of more than one inch. At least three-quarters of an inch was measured at Newport, Ore.

Some measurable amounts of rainfall were also reported in portions of Minnesota and Wisconsin. Rain, interspersed with snow, wetted northern Minnesota amidst near-freezing readings.

To the east, overnight cool weather chilled the Atlantic seaboard. Temperatures tumbled to near the 20 degree mark in high Pennsylvania elevations. Near or below freezing readings were reported in eastern Tennessee and parts of North Carolina.

Only southern Florida had mild night time 70-degree readings. Generally fair weather also dominated the Far West with temperatures mostly in the 40s and 50s in the plateau sector.

How to Move 5 Million Tons

Atomic Landscaping Next?

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif.—The last four nuclear shots fired at the Nevada test site in October gave scientists the knowhow for landscaping the earth safely with atomic explosives, says one of the researchers.

From measurement of the blast effects, all of which were underground the observers learned just how strong the explosions can be at given depths without breaking through the surface and spewing out radioactive particles, he reported.

The calculations yielded a formula called scaled depth. It can indicate the amount of explosive to use and the depth it must be buried to create a new harbor in Alaska or loosen five million tons of rock or ore.

BEGINNING OF FORMULA

From the Rainier shot, fired in Nevada before the October operations, the experimenters got the beginning of the formula.

The Rainier explosion had been set at a scale depth of 670 feet. It yielded information, Dr. Johnson said, that it could have been set off safely at a scale depth of 450 feet.

The four shots in October varied in strength. The smallest, Dr. Johnson reported, was equivalent to 100 tons of TNT and the heaviest to more than 20,000 tons. Their scaled depths, he added, ranged from 200 feet to 770 feet.

A 20,000-ton blast, Dr. Johnson said, will break up four to five million tons of rock.

If excavation with thermonuclear energy becomes feasible, Dr. Johnson reported, harbors, canals, dams, lakes and other massive features of the earth's surface can be created or changed with a few explosions.

Flames Destroy Catholic Church

New Baltimore Blaze Requires Assistance of Neighboring Firemen

NEW BALTIMORE (AP) — St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church was destroyed today by a pre-dawn fire which lit up this entire community on the northwestern shore of Lake St. Clair.

No injuries were reported but families in nearby houses were routed by smoke and flames. Two houses caught fire from windblown embers but flames were quickly brought under control. The main damage to the dwellings was caused by water pumped onto the flames.

The fire was reported about 2 a.m. It was brought under control three hours later after additional firemen had been summoned from nearby Richmond, Shelby and Macomb, Chesterfield and Harrison Townships.

The New Baltimore Fire Department estimated at least 11 pieces of fire fighting equipment and about 100 firemen were called to battle the stubborn blaze. At the height of the fire, Red Cross volunteers set up food lines for the firemen.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined, nor was there any damage estimate.

Dodge Line Workers Out in Hamtramck

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp.'s Dodge Assembly Plant in Hamtramck was shut down today when only 100 of its 2,800 employes crossed a picket line.

The 200 marchers carried placards saying they were laid off Chrysler employes and asking others not to work overtime until they were back on the payroll.

Dodge Assembly and all other Chrysler Detroit plants were scheduled to operate on an overtime basis today. There was no production tieup other than at the Hamtramck plant.

Party Sunday Honors Pontiac Man Who Is 94

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Newbanks, of 62 Stout St., will be hosts Sunday at their home at a birthday party for John H. Marvin, 94. His four daughters are expected to be present, as well as a number of his 15 grandchildren and 26 great-grandchildren. He makes his home at 62 Stout, with his grandson and family. He is a native of Smith's Creek, near Port Huron. He has made his home in Oakland County for the past 45 years.

Love Rocks MSU Boat, Arouses Ire

EAST LANSING (AP) — Love is rocking the boat at Michigan State University.

The Student Congress says there's too much smooching on canoe rides on the Red Cedar River. The campus newspaper says the congress should paddle its own canoe.

"Morality codes are not Student Congress' area," the Michigan State News said in an editorial. It accused the congress of trying to play the role of a "Victorian Sunday school teacher" by trying to legislate student morality.

At the heart of the matter was a resolution passed by the congress calling on students witnessing "undesirable behavior" on canoe rides to report the offenders to school authorities. "Undesirable behavior" was defined as "excessive petting."

The State News called the resolution a "tattle tale clause." It said the congress had made itself "the laughing stock of the campus by assuming its action is going to change doing what comes naturally."

AF Blasts Off Snark Missile on Test Run

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — An intercontinental Snark missile that had already made a round-trip flight of 6,000 miles roared off on a similar flight early today in a demonstration of missile economy.

The Air Force said the Snark, launched by a military crew at 4:25 a.m. EST, was the first missile ever to be flown twice from the Cape. The air-breathing weapon is equipped with landing skids and can be controlled through its flight by remote control.

Launching of the Snark followed by two hours the blastoff of the Air Force's short-lived moon rocket. The Snark's flight would take about six hours if it was successful.

The Snark, actually a pilotless bomber, has been tested in more than 60 flights. Its propulsion system sometimes fails.

Deaf Landlord Unable to Budge 'Rude' Tenant

LONDON (UPI) — Landlord Sygmunt Ziuziakowski, who is deaf, accused an English tenant of rudeness and being a nuisance, and asked him to move. The tenant refused and the case went to court. The landlord lost when the judge asked:

"How can it be a nuisance if a tenant is rude in English to his Polish landlord, who cannot speak a word of English, and is stone deaf in the bargain?"

Find Old Spanish Bible

MERIDA, Venezuela — A very rare copy of the first edition of the Bible printed in Spanish has been found in the private library of Pedro N. Tablante-Garrido in Merida. It was published in 1569 in Basel, Switzerland, by Thomas Guarino.

Driver Badly Injured in Southfield Mishap

SOUTHFIELD — Falling asleep at the wheel is theorized by Southfield Police as the cause of the one-car accident this morning which sent a 20-year-old man to the hospital in critical condition.

Anthony Jedlowski Jr. of 15461 Santa Rosa St., Detroit, is in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with severe head injuries and possible internal injuries.

According to police, Jedlowski was driving south on Northwestern Highway about 2:25 a.m. today when the auto hit a tree just north of Northland drive.

Fliers Promise Not to Shoot Any Whales

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — With tongue in cheek, fighter pilots flying over the arid southwest have given a solemn promise to shoot no whales, walruses or sea lions.

National Air Defense Command headquarters asked the 93rd Fighter-Interceptor Sqdn. to prohibit its men using sea animals as gunnery targets.

Lt. Col. Windell Whitehouse, acting commanding officer of the 93rd, solemnly replied that his squadron had been so ordered and that no pilot "will be guilty of molesting, shooting or killing a whale, sea lion or walrus while operating from this base" —a mile above sea level and 550 miles from the nearest large body of water.

GM, Dow Presidents Joining Honor Society

ANN ARBOR (AP) — General Motors President John F. Gordon and Dow Chemical Co. President Leland I. Doan will be initiated into Tau Beta Pi, a national honorary engineering society, here Tuesday.

Doan is a regent of the University of Michigan, site of the initiation. Three other industrialists and 70 Michigan students also will enter the society.

Tourist Held as Spy

Germans to Try Ann Arbor Man

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist East Germany indicated last night that an American tourist held in the Soviet zone would be tried as a spy.

The official East German news agency ADN said "investigative procedure" had been started in the case of George S. Milroy, 29, of Ann Arbor, Mich., for allegedly taking photographs of military installations in the Soviet zone.

"Investigative procedure" is the term used by the German Communists for a legal inquiry usually conducted in preparation for a trial.

Milroy was arrested Oct. 17 by Soviet soldiers while driving through East Germany en route from Copenhagen to West Berlin. The Communists accused him of taking illegal pictures in the town of Neustrelitz, and turned him over to East German police. Milroy denied the charge.

The U.S. State Department mission in Berlin demanded that the Soviets secure Milroy's release. The Soviets said the incident was outside their jurisdiction and that the United States would have to deal with East German authorities.

The United States does not recognize East German sovereignty. The Milroy case was considered another Communist move to force American recognition of the Soviet zone government.

ADN said Milroy had violated East German law by halting his car in the zone when he had only a transit visa which did not authorize a stop. The agency said he made himself liable to punishment by taking photographs of military objectives.

Moon Rocket Fails, Burns Over Africa

tory of the Hercules Powder Co. at Pinto, Md.

The moon rocket made a heart-clutching start into an overcast sky when it blasted off at 2:30.20 a.m. EST.

Rain had fallen on the launching site Friday, but the night was relatively clear when Pioneer II blasted off about one minute behind schedule.

To thousands of observers on the beaches along the Florida east coast and to scores of newsmen watching from a vantage point 1¼ miles from the launching site, the firing appeared normal. But the missile's action shortly afterward caused doubts.

some clouds and reappeared about two minutes after launching.

It was then that a burst of flame could be seen. Some observers said it appeared to them that the rocket was breaking apart.

COMMANDER SPEAKS

"The second and third stages of the U.S. three-stage experimental space vehicle launched at the Atlantic missile range at Cape Canaveral at 2:30 a.m. EST today have been fired successfully.

"The launching of the experimental space probe vehicle has now been accomplished."

It announced that "Doppler velocity indications are that the third stage did not ignite."

The Doppler radio device that was aboard the rocket is a system by which signals from the ground to the rocket, and return signals, indicate speeds at a given moment.

Later, a spokesman for NASA, which has over-all direction of the moonshot experiments, said first and second stage operation was normal and "velocity was as planned."

'NO VELOCITY GAIN'

The spokesman said separation of the third stage from the second stage and the payload was achieved but that data indicated "no velocity gain by the third stage."

The 26.3 pounds of instruments aboard the rocket included an infrared scanning device to enable the probe to get crude pictures of the far side of the moon and relay its impressions back to earth — provided it had attained a lunar orbit.

The trip to the moon would have taken 2.6 days, or until next Monday afternoon.

Ex-Ferndale Man Hunted for Murder

EAST LANSING (AP)—State Police have sent out a statewide alert for a former Ferndale man wanted in Florida on murder charges.

The alert was ordered on the possibility that Charles Smith, 27, may be in Michigan or return here.

Florida authorities have issued murder warrants for Smith in connection with the October slayings of a retired Naval officer and a cab driver in Monroe County, Florida. Robbery was believed to be the motive.

Expressway Feud Ends

DETROIT (UPI) — The long battle over the right of way for the Edsel Ford Expressway in St. Clair Shores has ended. The State Highway Department and city officials reached agreement yesterday for the 4½ mile extension through St. Clair Shores.

The Day in Birmingham

Students Earn $5,515.51 to Give to Torch Fund

BIRMINGHAM — Special programs of yard and house work, babysitting and many other activities enabled students in the Birmingham schools to contribute $5,515.51 to the United Foundation Torch Drive, according to Arthur Roller, school drive chairman.

Salaried employes of the school district topped last year's contribution by more than $200 with their gift of $6,236.

Roller said emphasis was placed on children earning their contributions rather than getting money from parents.

"The students went at it with a lot of enthusiasm," he said, "and carried many projects throughout the week. They had a minimum of guidance from their teachers and deserve a lot of credit for the job they did."

The city as a whole gave $55,000, according to Mrs. Clyde Bennett, chairman.

"Your Christian Vocation" is the book on which the adult study group of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold weekly sessions. The first will be in the church parlors at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Young people of St. James' Episcopal Church will meet at 5 p.m. tomorrow to hear a talk by the Right Rev. Michael Coleman, sixth bishop of the diocese of Q'Apple, Canada. An evening service, dinner and social hour will follow.

With some 1,800 boys and girls enrolled in its Sunday school, the First Presbyterian Church is asking additional volunteers for class work.

The Rev. Robert Gibson, youth minister, said the constantly growing Sunday school seems always to surge ahead of the available supply of teachers. He asks that interested volunteers call the church office.

The Birmingham Chapter of Delta Gamma will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Leland Rogers, 1612 Lockridge Rd., Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Edwin Noth of the J. L. Hudson Company's speakers bureau will discuss "The Romance of Old Prints." She will also exhibit items from her personal collection.

Officials Hoping Reds End Tests

Ike Says U. S., Britain to Continue Suspension at Least for Now

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials hoped today that Russia would yield to American and United Nations urging and suspend further nuclear weapons tests pending outcome of negotiations on an enforceable test ban.

Some authorities thought it might be significant that the last reported Soviet nuclear explosion was on Nov. 3, the day before the U.N. Assembly adopted a resolution calling for suspension of tests during the Geneva negotiations.

Other officials said there was no real way of telling what the Russian government will do about the issue in the next few days.

Both President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have held open the possibility of a belated Soviet agreement to a temporary cessation of testing.

At the same time Eisenhower announced the United States and Britain would continue with their self-imposed temporary test ban, at least for the time being. He added "We hope that the Soviet Union will also do so."

In an evident move to put pressure on the Moscow government, Dulles said Friday Russia faces the condemnation of world public opinion for persisting in nuclear test explosions after the Geneva talks opened a week ago Friday.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced earlier Friday that the Russians had fired two test shots, one on Nov. 1 and the other on Nov. 3.

Oakland County Teenage Safety Conference Set

High school students setting up the Oakland County Teenage Safety Conference have selected Jan. 13 as the date for the conclave, Pontiac Police Lt. Clayton A. Randolph told the Safety Council of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

A site for the conference has not yet been selected.

Lieutenant Randolph said the students decided, in a recent meeting at the Public Safety Building, to invite a noted guest speaker to discuss the question: "Should teenage drivers be treated as adult drivers?"

From 5 to 10 students of each high school in the county will be invited to attend the conference.

Hunt Michigan Men After Plane Missing

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—A ground party is searching the Salmon Arm Area 180 miles northeast of here for a light plane which disappeared Thursday with two Michigan men aboard.

The plane took off from Calgary, Alta. carrying Clarence T. Janik, 42, vice president in charge of sales for the Kysor Heating Co. of Cadillac, Mich., and Fred E. Royce, a company pilot. The plane was to have refueled at Amloops, B.C., a three-hour flight from Calgary, but failed to land there.

Residents reported seeing flares and a fire in the hills west of Salmon Arm. A Royal Canadian Air Force rescue plane flew over the area and reported smoke but no signs of wreckage or survivors.

Fenton Man Collapses, Dies on Squirrel Hunt

BRIGHTON (AP) — William J. Hesling, 66, of Fenton, collapsed and died apparently of a heart attack while hunting squirrels yesterday in northern Livingston County.

State police, who had started a search after Hesling failed to return at dusk, found his body at 10 p.m. in a Tyrone Township woods.

8,821,148 in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo's metropolitan government said today the Japanese capital had a population of 8,821,148 Oct. 1. Of the total, 4,559,821 were male and 4,261,327 female. This marked an increase of 16,031 since August.

CHARLES W. HAMILTON

Funeral Monday for Hamilton

'Will Rogers of Oakland County' Dies at 71 in Northville Hospital

Service for Charles W. Hamilton, Oakland County governmental leader for the past 30 years, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Casterline Funeral Home, Northville. Burial will be in Oakland Hills Cemetery.

Mr. Hamilton, who was known as "The Will Rogers of Oakland County," died Thursday at Session Hospital, Northville, following a long illness. He was 71.

Mr. Hamilton began his county career in 1928 when he was elected supervisor of Novi Township, a post he held until 1934. After one year with the Michigan State Department of Agriculture he was appointed to the former Oakland County Poor Commission and served from 1937 to 1939.

He then was named to the Oakland County Social Welfare Board and served as secretary of the board and superintendent of the Oakland County Infirmary. He retired Dec. 31, 1957.

Mr. Hamilton, who made his home at 50577 W. 10-Mile Rd., Northville, leaves his wife, Emma; a son, Lawrence; a daughter, Mrs. Marion LaFevre, and one grandchild, all of Northville.

Two Seeking to Run for Waterford Posts

With the general election just a few days past, two Waterford Township residents already have requested petitions to file their candidacy for trustee posts on the township board in the spring election.

Pontiac attorney David Hertler of 4146 Airport Rd. and Wilfred Mitchell of 2386 Jones Rd., Drayton Plains, were the first to be issued petition forms for the two $1,040-a-year positions now open.

Local residents approved a proposition for two additional trustees by the slight margin of 65 votes. Candidates' names will be placed on the Feb. 16 primary election ballot.

This will provide the 44,000-population township with a seven-member board.

Better Vacuum Pump

PALO ALTO, Cal. — A Palo Alto concern has developed a simple, inexpensive pump without moving parts. It says it can produce a much greater vacuum than can be attained with the best of mechanical pumps. Electrodes of reactive metal, such as titanium, are used as the basis of the new pump. They unite chemically with and absorb the gas molecules.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

VETERANS' DAY

Forty years ago a war unheard of for savagery was building to a climax. The noise was terrifying and destruction was unbelievable. At 11 a.m. Nov. 11th, an order came down the line, "Cease fire!" Men wept for joy, danced in the mud; they were alive, won a war without parallel. Yesterday, home seemed an eternity away; now family and friends seemed close. Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant stood shoulder to shoulder in mud up to their knees thanking God for peace that seemed impossible a few minutes ago.

M. E. SIPLE

You and I on November 11th, at 11 a. m. will cease our activity, stand with uncovered head in silent prayer for those brave men who died that we could be free. This is a momentous time, a time to look back and think ahead, a time to evaluate our lives and give credit to them who gave us our lives in exchange for theirs.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Nation's Democrat Swing Due to Change Wanted by Voters

Voters clear across the country declared themselves in no uncertain terms on election day.

There was a definite swing to the Democratic column and the Donkey now exercises complete control over the House and the Senate in Washington without even a formidable challenge on party votes. They have the most marked advantage either side has possessed since 1940. Many reasons for the national trend have been offered. Many Republicans charge their party leaders with "too little and too late." But if I had to put a finger on one outstanding cause, I'd feel inclined to say the voters wanted a change.

I note a gradual but perceptible swing to a form of socialism and the support of candidates who espouse the more radical and liberal platforms. The United States wasn't built on this philosophy, and the movement hasn't gone far enough yet to cause great uneasiness, but the tendency is rather clearly marked.

Certainly in the two years ahead, we can look for more social reforms, more governmental spending, more taxes, more inflation, assorted handouts, and perhaps a rise in deficit spending.

We've moved to the left.

After all, this is a democracy and if a majority of the people "want it that way," then that's the way it goes. Those who are in disagreement must either convince the majority this is wrong, or abide by the group decision.

Both sides agree that the Republican Party and President Eisenhower took off their coats and rolled up their sleeves too late in the day. By the time they started, the Democrats were on the two yard line with a first down and they were just waiting for the referee to put the ball in play.

In Michigan, several facts stand out rather prominently. Primarily, Governor WILLIAMS lost his long time role as the fair haired son and election day prodigy. The mantle seems to have transferred easily to the more capable shoulders of PHILIP HART. WILLIAMS' winning margin was less than half the total confidently predicted by his supporters and he actually finished a rather dismal fifth in his own party.

A part of this was due to the effective campaign waged by PAUL BAGWELL, and the balance was simply due to the fact that Michigan is beginning to get a little sick of the Governor and his "economic climate." WILLIAMS' presidential aspirations seem to have gone down the drain. I'd like to think he'd devote himself to the State of Michigan in the next two years and struggle to help restore the jobs that have been lost to other states.

Phil Hart emerges as the titular head of his party and I refuse to believe that he will be dominated, squelched and ordered around by anyone in any capacity. Senator-Elect Hart outlined his philosophy of government here in Pontiac during the campaign, and there was no suggestion or hint of "orders from above."

If PAUL BAGWELL takes it unto himself to accept the leadership of the GOP in Michigan and starts campaigning now, he will be a very formidable figure two years hence.

It was no such thing.

It was definitely forecasted.

You can't pin the results on the Adams' affair, or the "near east" or the "far west" or Dwight D. Eisenhower. It was a combination plus the ancient but well established and recognized right "to ask for a change."

The Democrats face a big responsibility and if they measure up to the challenge, they'll be a pretty rough and tough aggregation for the Presidency in 1960. They have a golden opportunity and "to the victor belong the spoils."

On the other hand, this is a two party country and the "outs" must always serve as a check on the "ins." That keeps all concerned on their toes.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Pontiac's own "MARTY" RUMMEL is President of Michigan State's Alumni Association and he presides over the meetings with dignity and eclat. "MARTY" was a football star in his undergraduate days and I wouldn't advise anyone to tangle with him now. He's a great citizen to boot . . . . . I'm sort of "set up." The Chicago Tribune ran my account of the jet clipper flight to Brussels in Sunday's edition . . . . . My old pal, ARTHUR ROSENTHAL, just completed an annual check up in the University of Michigan Hospital. I understand they told him he could take on FLOYD PATTERSON if the promoters held it to eight rounds.

Overheard: "I certainly did my my duty Tuesday. I voted three times and I'm not even registered." . . . . . Iolanda Balas, a Romanian girl, broke the world's feminine record by high jumping 6 feet. It's incredible . . . . . The other day I had the good fortune to meet Marshall Wells, WJR agricultural authority. He's doing a great job . . . . . If you want a new, tasty drink, try hot cider with a right smart dash of lemon and spice. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kresge are recent converts.

On the day of the MSU-Wisconsin football game, President JOHN A. HANNAH and Vice President D. B. VARNER were glimpsed on the campus minus hat and coat which presented a hardier front that most of the undergraduates . . . . . Purely personal nomination for an especially staunch and praiseworthy citizen: EDITH MAYBURY . . . . . There's a Hall of Fame for everything but musical chairs. Too bad. The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

The Good Samaritan Inn lies midway between Jerusalem and Jericho. On a sketching trip through the Holy Land earlier in the year, I passed this famous landmark of Christianity and read again the parable it commemorates.

Throughout all ages men have, like the good Samaritan who would not pass a fellow traveler in need, dedicated themselves to helping others and by so doing helped themselves.

"In nothing do men more nearly approach the gods," said Cicero, "than in doing to their fellow man."

St. Paul wrote, "as we have therefore the opportunity, let us do good unto all men."

And in another time and another place, Emily Dickinson wrote: "If I can ease one life the aching, or cool one pain, I shall not live in vain."

Days of All Faiths:

St. Martin's Day Overshadowed

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sometimes a saint gets pushed badly out of perspective just because his day comes at a time of year when people's lives are affected by special seasonal distractions. This is true of St. Martin, the fourth century bishop, who is commemorated Tuesday in the Christian calendar. To make him the patron of tavern-keepers, winegrowers, and drunkards is certainly to put him out of focus. (He is also the patron of beggars — which is all right, as will be shown later).

The trouble is a double one. First, St. Martin's day was all tangled up with the time of year when the new wine is ready. It really had nothing to do with the good saint that on his day a great many people were a little overcharged with conviviality and cheer.

Second, it was also true that at this time of year fodder was becoming scarce, the grazing season was drawing to a close, and anyone who wanted the good of his hogs and beef-cattle had better slaughter them now. So — St. Martin, who himself had nothing to do with drinking or slaughter, got maneuvered into being associated with both.

November was from earliest pagan times the month of the killing of animals. And of course the pagans hooked it up with their sacrificial system and made a religious thing of it. They propitiated the animal god.

Poor Martin inherited this emphasis on bloodshed just because his day came at this season. All over Europe it was thought that blood must fall on the ground on St. Martin's Day. If you had no animal to kill, then you had better cut your finger and spill your own blood on the earth.

In Ireland on St. Martin's Eve, beasts are still slaughtered with special prayers and their meat eaten in a way that could almost be called ceremonial. Their blood is sprinkled about the house and smeared on the foreheads of members of the family. This ritual keeps out evell spirits for exactly one year.

In Yorkshire, England, St. Martin's Day was the beginning of the season leading up to Christmas, which pushed it even farther ahead than American merchants have been able to do so far. Singers, for some reason always women, went about from house to house carrying an image of the Lord adorned with evergreen and singing Christmas songs. They kept this up until Christmas Eve.

About why he is the beggars' patron — the most famous legend connected with St. Martin tells that while he was an army officer he met a poor shivering man on a cold day and on a sudden impulse (or inspiration) took his sword and slashed his cloak in two and gave half of it to the unahppy man.

That night in a dream he became aware that it was indeed the Lord to whom he had done this kindness. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto me." The half of the cloak St. Martin kept is still on view as a venerated relic at Amiens, in France. What became of the Lord's half is not known.

Because he was an army officer at the time of his conversion Martin is often thought of as "the soldier saint," but he might just as accurately be called a conscientious objector. When he became a Christian he wanted nothing more to do with fighting or the military life. He even refused a bonus that was coming to him for past service, directing that it be divided among the others. He asked for a discharge, which was grudgingly granted.

Possible for a German to Have Yankee Stomach?

"How can a German have Yankee Stomach? (E. C.)"

Answer. How can a Yankee have German measles? By "Yankee stomach" I mean these common complaints: Sour stomach, gas, bloating, fullness after eating, hyperacidity, heartburn, hunger pain, etc. For my FREE pamphlet, Yankee Stomach send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Never in my 23 years of suffering with hay fever have I experienced such relief as I have had this past season, thanks to the advice in your pamphlet. Also, my elbows ached for the past three years but not any more. Words cannot express . . . (Mrs. H. S.)"

Answer—Oh, yes, Ma'am, your words express a great deal. "I'll be happy to send the pamphlet on Hay Fever to anyone who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Been told goat's milk is good for high blood pressure . . . (W.E.)"

Answer—Nothing in the way of food or medicine can be considered particularly good for high blood pressure, but goat's milk is perhaps better than cow's milk as a food for infant or adult.

"I was taking calcium and vitamin D as a supplement to my regular diet, with surprisingly good effects on my rheumatic, stiffening joints. But when I told my doctor about it he said calcium in dry form is not good for the system and he wanted to give me calcium shots instead. . . (N.E.C)"

Answer—These days many merchants of medicine count on "shots" to take care of the overhead, including the salaries of the office girls who administer them to the credulous customers. The calcium and vitamin D which I suggest is FOOD, not medicine, and it would be as sensible to have the office girl give you a "shot" of skim or "non-fat" milk, as the hucksters call it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Urges Protests to Banish Delinquency-Provoking TV

Mothers give their children the right food to build strong bodies, but what of their moral and mental fare? What of the programs they watch each day on TV? This year 30-odd stick-'em-ups are on the air. Men pummel, kick, hurl each other through windows and down stairs. These activities are only preliminaries to shooting. Good men shoot bad men, bad men shoot good men. Killing is a game.

Children are imitative, children are hero worshippers. Good men who shoot to kill are their heroes. They're strong, brave, handsome and ride beautiful horses. Guns are their mark of distinction. In the child's world of today, guns have taken the place of the catcher's mitt.

Violence that used to be committed in dark alleys we've brought into our living rooms. We're guilty, we're responsible. If enough people wrote to leading channels expressing their disapproval of these programs, they'd be taken off the air. If they're not, we'll add to our list of child murderers.

The future generation is our only hope in this dark world. Will we be ashamed or proud of it? This type of program is not the only reason for juvenile delinquency, but it is one all of us can do something about. Write your protests today.

The Country Parson

"I guess the folks who are too busy to come to church don't figure the Lord's business is as important as theirs."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Can't Buy Fine Home in Heaven

Notice Rabbi Fox's excellent suggestion below. And don't become so fond of your new ranch style home here on earth that you forget to erect a suitable mansion for yourself in the Hereafter. If God is our Landlord on this planet, He certainly will determine our homes in the next world.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-366: Rabbi G. George Fox recently sat beside me at a YMCA banquet at the South Shore Country Club in Chicago.

During the meal, we compared notes on the Scientific Marriage Foundation, since we are both on its Advisory Committee.

DR. CRANE

And he told me about his trip to Israel. Incidentally, Rabbi Fox teaches my Bible Class for me when I am absent from Chicago on Sunday.

At this YMCA banquet, I happened to be scheduled for the main address and at its close, I quoted the old adage:

"What we get in this world, we leave at death; what we give away, we take with us."

Then I lauded the generosity of great souls who have contributed to moral youth organizations like the YMCA, CYO, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, etc.

For I pointed out that the finest memorial we can erect for ourselves is not a marble or granite mausoleum over our grave.

No, it is a dynamic "tomb," such as a YMCA Building, wherein a swimming pool continues benefiting youth and a gymnasium pays lasting tribute to our memories.

I concluded with Lincoln's remark that he hoped biographers could say of him that he planted roses where thistles grew before.

"God certainly loves rose planters," I added, "and you faithful sponsors of the YMCA undoubtedly are building up large spiritual assets in heaven."

RABBI FOX'S ADDITION

When I sat down, Rabbi Fox very graciously congratulated me.

"I thought you were going to end with Henry Van Dyke's famous story of the old lauhdress," Rabbi Fox commented.

"Oh, I wish I had thought of it," I added, "for it would have capped the climax beautifully."

Many of you will remember the tale. This wash woman had served as laundress for wealthy families all her life. When she finally died and went to heaven, an angel was delegated to show her to her new home.

They passed many tiny cottages and some larger residences, but the angel kept on.

At last, they reached a beautiful dwelling that looked more like a palace.

"This is your new home," the angel informed her, as she stared in disbelief.

"Surely you must be mistaken," protested the astonished laundress, "for this is the type of home for a banker or other rich man."

GOD'S ARCHITECTURE

"No this is yours," affirmed the angel. "For up here in Heaven the size of your home depends on your good deeds performed on earth.

"Every unselfish act down there becomes a brick, so the people who lead a life of kindliness and love for their fellowmen, are the

This charming story may be very true. For our possessions down here cannot go with us past the grave.

We leave our automobiles and real estate, our stocks and bonds, plus our diamonds and mink coats, back here.

Only our kindnesses and evidences of unselfishness, being purely spiritual in nature, can pass on to heaven.

Don't become so enamoured of your new ranch type home here on earth that you fail to erect an adequate dwelling for yourself in the Hereafter.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Reuther Won Election,' Republican Loser Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican loser in the congressional races admits he campaigned against Walter Reuther and that "Reuther won."

Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb), who was defeated by Democrat Donald F. McGinley in his bid for a ninth term in the House, made the statement yesterday.

"He (McGinley) campaigned against Benson (secretary of agriculture) and I campaigned against Reuther (United Auto Workers president)," Miller said. "Reuther won. I guess that's the best way to sum it up."

U. S. Auctions Bonds to Obtain Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Approximately three billion dollars in federal securities will be auctioned next week to raise money for government operations during the rest of 1958.

The Treasury anounced Friday the 214-day tax anticipation bills will be sold to the highest bidders—with the difference between the face value and the accepted bid determining the effective interest yield.

The Treasury set 1:30 p.m. EST Friday, Nov. 14, as the deadline for bidding on the securities.

The United States also offered to make a present of its main exhibit building but a Belgian government spokesman said this was being turned down because it would cost too much to convert it to a permanent fixture. It will be demolished.

Belgium will keep, along with the theater, the esplanade in front of the U.S. Pavilion, including the egg-shaped pool and its fountains and the young apple trees planted around it.

Bridegroom-Robber Returns to State

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Walter Molenkamp, 19, the bridegroom who flew to Chicago in a chartered plane with robbery loot, has returned home by police squad car.

The squad car brought Molenkamp to Grand Rapids yesterday one day after his airport arrest in Chicago in connection with the $1,200 stickup of a Grand Rapids service station.

At the airport Molenkamp had landed almost in the arms of police. He had chartered a plane in Grand Rapids following the holdup.

Molenkamp waived extradition in Criminal Court yesterday and was turned over to Michigan authorities. He is to be charged with robbery, police said.

Hungarian Exiles Clash With New York Police

NEW YORK (AP) — About 200 Hungarian exiles, picketing the Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, clashed with police Friday night when the demonstration got out of hand.

The picketing was occasioned by Russian observance of the 41st aniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Twelve demonstrators were arrested. Two policemen were treated for minor injuries.

Stereophonic Sound Newest in Recording

(Everybody's talking about stereophonic sound. What is it? How does it work? What does it mean to you—must you junk your present hi-fi equipment? Here are some answers.)

NEW YORK (AP)—A revolution is sweeping the record industry, and its dust has not yet settled. Its name is stereophonic sound.

It is an authentic revolution. Stereophonic sound is not just a gimick. It adds a new dimension to the art of capturing music on discs or tapes and then playing it back in your living room.

First of all, what is it?

Essentially, stereo is a method of reproducing sound as though you were hearing it with both ears instead of one.

Two microphones, separated somewhat, record the orchestra from different angles, just as your ears would hear it from slightly different angles if you were in the concert hall.

These separate recordings are then laid down—by a complicated bit of scientific legerdemain—in a single groove of a record.

A new kind of needle picks up both sound tracks — still separated — and sends them through separate amplifying systems and finally out through two separate speakers, located some distance apart.

Only then are the two sound tracks mixed—and they are mixed by your own ears and mind.

This gives the music—or anything else you might record—a third dimension—depth. Not only does the music surround you completely, but it has a magical illusion of almost perfect reality.

Stereo adds still another quality, called directionality. Because you have two speakers some distance apart, you hear the string section on the left side and the brass section on the right, for instance.

There are trick recordings to demonstrate this quality. One is of a steam locomotive approaching a station and then going out on the other side.

At first most of the sound comes through one speaker, then as the train draws abreast it comes from both, and as it goes on it comes mostly from the other speaker. If you close your eyes, you have a startling illusion of a train crossing the end of your living room.

The older method of recording, known as monaural (the new kind is binaural), cannot give this third dimension illusion, no matter how high the fidelity of the phonograph system.

Yet many who already have hi-fi systems will be satisfied to stick with them. Converting them to stereo costs money, although it can be done fairly easily.

The record industry, though, has a tiger by the tail for the second time in 10 years. A decade ago the advent of the long-playing record made high fidelity possible and jolted the industry into the multi-million dollar bracket.

Another new industry sprang up at the same time—the manufacture of high fidelity components.

Both of these huge industries are now scrambling madly to jump onto the stereo bandwagon.

There are two methods of reproducing stereo sound—by tape and by the new stereogphonic discs.

Everyone concedes that tape is better. It eliminates all surface noise—the slight sounds caused by dust or scratches in the record grooves.

But the tapes are more expensive. They cost anywhere from $6.95 to $17.95. Comparable stero discs cost $4.98. Monaural LP's cost $3.98 or much less in discount houses.

It would be a good bet that stereo discs will capture the major part of the popular market in years to come, but tapes will be the choice of a large minority who want the very best.

Monaural records are far from dead, however, and probably won't be for a long time.

How does the stereophonic revolution affect those who already have a large library of monaural records:

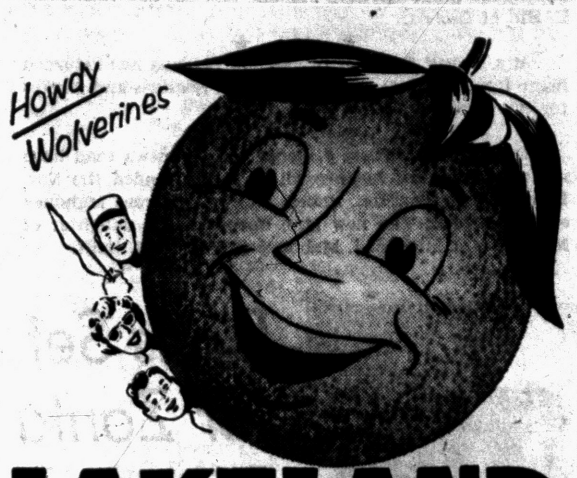

You can play a monaural record on a stereophonic system and it will sound as good or better than it ever did, although it won't be stereophonic.

If you already have a high fidelity system, which includes a turntable and pickup arm, preamplifier and speaker, you can convert to stereo by adding a new amplifier and another speaker. You may also require a new stereo preamplifier to balance the channels properly.

This would cost a considerable chunk of money, probably not less than $100, or much more depending on the quality you want.

Speaker for Thursday's Zonta meeting was Wright N. Manuel of the metallurgical department of General Electric. "Operation Upturn," the speaker said, is a campaign initiated by the stockholders of the company creating better values, shorter delivery cycles and offering better sales promotion features to dealers.

Helen Travis introduced the speaker and Mrs. Joe Chapman was a guest. Announcement was made of the Nov. 15 meeting honoring Mrs. Audra Francis, president of Zonta International in Saginaw.

Birmingham Highlights

Garden Club Plans Yule Show

BIRMINGHAM—"And Once Again Christmas" is the title of the 21st annual holiday show the Birmingham branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will give at the Community House.

Biggest change for this year's show is that it will be run for two days, Dec. 3 and 4.

Mrs. Dale C. Miller is general chairman, assisted by Mrs. H. G. Wood and Mrs. Walter Anderson.

Mrs. J. Vinton Birch will again design the announcement cover, and Mrs. F. G. Davis has charge of judges and clerks.

Mrs. Alvin H. Knorr is president of the garden club and Mrs. Ralph H. Scheel in charge of publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Murray (Nancy French) announce the birth of a son, David, Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hanaford are expected this weekend from their home in Montreal for a visit with Mrs. Hanaford's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Douglas of Fairfax road.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell C. Roberts will be hosts at a cocktail party Saturday in their Acorn road home.

Mrs. Cleveland Henning has come from her home in St. Louis, Mo., for a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Jones. She was accompanied on her motor trip here by Mrs. Vance H. Day who had been visiting in St. Louis and Lawrence, Kan.

Mrs. Day entertained at luncheon for Mrs. Henning on Thursday.

Alfred F. Uhry of New York will spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. Winston T. Kellogg. His fiancee, Joanna Kellogg, will come from Pembroke College, where she is a senior, to spend the holiday with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris M. Halsted, the Ralph Backuses and Mr. and Mrs. T. Norville Hubbard will give a party Nov. 15 in the Hubbard home on Dorchester road.

On Thursday Mrs. Frank S. Lyndall entertained at luncheon in her home on Aspen road.

Mrs. Marx L. Kristek, Mrs. Alvin Robinson and Mrs. Lyle E. Frohberg are chairmen of the luncheon and fashion show Nov. 13 at Birmingham Country Club.

JUDITH M. BASSETT

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bassett of East Iroquois road announce the engagement of their daughter, Judith M., to Herbert F. Bauer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Bauer of Sierra Madre, Calif. The bride-elect is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College and the University of Southern California where she was a member of Delta Psi Kappa Sorority. Her fiance is a graduate of the University of Southern California where he was affiliated with Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity. An August wedding is planned.

WSCS Dinner Fetes Husbands

Mrs. Philip Gentile of Detroit, an observer of the United Nations, was speaker at Central Methodist Church Thursday evening when members of the Women's Society of Christian Service entertained the husbands at a dinner.

"Human Beings Being Human" was Mrs. Gentile's topic.

Dinner was served to 120 dinner guests by Martha Graf and Sarah English Circles, headed by Mrs. Matt Bosnack and Mrs. Walter Barningham.

Mrs. Milton H. Bank also took part in the program.

Entertains Sorority

Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clinton George of Sashabaw road. Fifteen members and guests attended the meeting and jewelery demonstration.

Shower Honors Bride-to-Be Patricia Graham

Mrs. Wilfred Robinson will be matron of honor for Miss Graham's Dec. 24 marriage to Alvah Clark, at the First Church of the Nazarene.

Other attendants will include Karen Burnworth and Janice Henderson, bridesmaids, and Kathy Robinson and Suzanne Grogan, junior bridesmaids.

School Sets Program for Parents

American Education Week is to be observed at Washington Junior High School Monday evening.

Parents are asked to meet in the school auditorium at 7:15 p.m. From there they will go the child's homeroom where a copy of the student program will be distributed.

Parents are to be guests in each of their children's classes for 10-minute periods. Instructors will explain aims, objectives, procedures and work approaches of the class.

The PTSA will serve refreshments in the gymnasium at the conclusion of the program.

Lois McIsaac Honored

Bride-elect Lois McIsaac was honored at a shower Thursday evening, given by Mrs. Stanford Hannan and Gerrie Davis at the latter's home on Irwindale drive.

Miss McIsaac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barker of Raskob avenue, will become the bride of Richard Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Peters of Lake Orion, Nov. 28 at Oakland Park Methodist Church.

Among friends and coworkers present were Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Peters, and Mrs. Dale Henson, sister of the bride-elect.

The man who isn't worth his salt is often judged by his sugar.

Herald Dancing Season

Elks Temple was the setting for a party opening the dancing season, given by members of the Viernes Dancing Club Friday evening.

President, Dr. Peter Hooger-hyde, introduced new club members, Mr. and Mrs. John Blamy, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Denham, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Long, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ardel Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Williams, and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Segula.

Hosts and hostesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. William Fox, chairmen, and Dr. and Mrs. Lynn Allen Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kimmins, Mr. and Mrs. George Tuscon, and Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Oosterhof.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Siple Jr. and Dr. and Mrs. John Schmitt also greeted members as they arrived.

Heavier Girls Now Can Wear Special Tights

Leotards were invented to show off curves, not to keep them under control.

But for gals who pour themselves into stretch tights only to find they have a wee bit left over, manufacturers have come up with nylon leotards topped by a nylon power net girdle. The sizes range from petite to large.

To keep the full-fashioned fit of these leotard-tights, swish them through soap or detergent suds and rinses after every wearing, then pull the legs lengthwise while still damp.

PCH to Hold Open House

Pontiac Central High School PTA will hold an open house Wednesday beginning at 7 p.m. Visits to the various rooms will be made until 8:15 p.m., when a debate will begin in the school auditorium.

The speech class of Walter Smith will hold a debate on the subject: "Resolved: That the United States Should Adopt the Essential Features of the British System of Education."

This slim dress and jacket of pale beige reflect the trapeze look so fashionable this fall. The outfit is subtly cut to swing away from the body creating a feeling of lightness and freedom. The dress — unwaisted — has a high molded satin bodice and round collarless neck.

Mary E. Girardot Weds Robert Borst

Planning to live on Clairmont place following a honeymoon to northern Michigan and Canada are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cyril Borst. The couple was married this morning at St. Andrews Catholic Church, Rochester. The Rev. Edward Baumgartner officiated at the ceremony before 300 guests.

Parents of the bride, the former Mary Elizabeth Girardot, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Girardot of Rochester. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril E. Borst of Rochester.

IN LACE AND TULLE

The bride wore a floor-length gown of lace and tulle featuring a scalloped V-neckline accented with sequins. The bouffant skirt had an overskirt of lace over ruffled tulle.

A seed pearl tiara held her fingertip veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of white fugi chrysanthemums centered with a yellow rose corsage.

Marjorie Girardot, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Juanita Borst, the bridegroom's sister; Patty Sinclair of Rochester, Genevieve Zaha of Pontiac, and Mrs. Gordon Schram of Detroit. All were dressed alike in cotillion blue taffeta ballerina-length dresses with matching velvet headpieces. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow pompons and the bridesmaids' bouquets were bronze pompons.

Best man was Robert Hennecke of Clarkston. Ushers included Gayle Schlicht of Oxford, Arnold Konczal, Phillip Bartholomew, and the bride's brother, James Girardot of Rochester. Emil Therrien of Lansing was ringbearer.

Following a reception held in the church hall, the bride changed to a deep blue two-piece knit suit with brown accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet and the couple left for their honeymoon.

Exercise Does It

Lose Upper--Outer Thigh Bulges

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A letter before me requests that I print several of the exercises which I have found to be best for the bulge at the upper-outer thigh. This is an almost universal feminine figure fault and is often seen even in very young women.

The reader says, "I know there are a lot of them but I want to concentrate on just two or three which you have found in your classes to be most effective."

2. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor. Raise your left leg and make large circles with it, keeping the knees stiff. After a while circle with the right leg. Make the circles as large as you can. circle first in one direction and then the other. (These two exercises are corrective to a flabby inner leg line also.).

3. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms extending out from the shoulder pits. Keep the body on the floor as you roll from side to side, as far in each direction as you can. Cling to the floor with the fingertips and keep the legs straight.

If hips are your problem and you would like to have my tested exercises which will reduce the hip measurement, send a stamped, request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Gray Ladies Are Feted

Gray Ladies of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were guests of the Sisters of Mercy at a luncheon at Devon Gables.

About eighty Gray Ladies who have volunteered 742 hours during the past year, were thanked by Sister Mary William, RSM, administrator. Dr. Robert R. Mason, president of the medical staff, expressed appreciation on behalf of the staff at the Thursday gathering.

Gray Ladies are trained American Red Cross volunteers who minister to the sick, injured, and handicapped. At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Gray Ladies greet patients and visitors, directing them to various hospital areas, visit patients, read and write letters, and perform other patient services.

Chairman of the Gray Ladies at St. Joseph's is Mrs. James Hannan. Mrs. John Hanway is co-chairman. Chairman for all Gray Ladies in Oakland County is Mrs. W. C. Sproull.

Leal Emes Group Names Officers

Officers for 1959 were announced when the Leal Emes Group of First Presbyterian Church met with Mrs. Edward Markham on South Josephine avenue. Harriett Gates was cohostess.

Mrs. Lawrence McDowell is chairman of the group. Other officers include Mrs. Lawrence Shelton, vice chairman; Mrs. Markham, secretary; and Mrs. Paul Salter, treasurer.

Mrs. McDowell and Eleanor Kellogg participated in the program.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party to be held at the Mohawk road home of Marion Lehner. Cohostesses will be Mrs. A. A. Florence and June Schlesser.

Wayside Gleaners Hear Rev. Somers

The Rev. Philip Somers of Marlmont Baptist Church was guest speaker when the Wayside Gleaner Group of First Baptist Church met.

Assisting with the Friday program were Mrs. Kyle Willson, who directed music; Mrs. Herbert Flemington, hostess; Mrs. Ralph Smith, refreshment chairman; and Mrs. D. J. Davis, president.

Yule Party Planned

Plans for a Christmas party to be held at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 10 at Old Mill Tavern were discussed when the Huron Gardens Extension Group met Wednesday evening at the South Marshall street home of Mrs. Si Sibra.

No Child Ever Gets Too Much Praise

By RUTH MILLETT

A mother writes: "My husband keeps telling our 14-year-old daughter how pretty she is, and I'm afraid he is going to spoil her.

"When I tell him he is going to make her conceited he just laughs and says, 'It never hurt a girl to know she's pretty.' "

And he's absolutely right—especially when the knowledge comes first from her father.

A teenage girl needs a lot of reassurance to ever believe that she is something special. An admiring father can give her that assurance, without much danger that she will ever let his compliments make her conceited.

And there's this to remember. It isn't usually the girl whose father makes her feel pretty special whose head is turned by the first boy who hands her a line.

If you are really afraid your daughter's head will be turned by her father's telling her how pretty she is, ask him to notice and comment on some other of her good qualities and accomplishments.

If his compliments sometimes refer to the good sense she has shown in making a decision, on something she has done around the house, or on her good grades she'll realize that looks aren't all that count, even though they are important to a girl.

So don't try to make your husband hoard his compliments. Just suggest that he spread them out to cover other things than his daughter's attractiveness.

Remember that compliments bring out the best in us far more often than they bring out the worst.

You might even try paying your daughter some compliments yourself. After all, you think she's pretty, too, don't you? Then why not tell her so?

Mrs. Walter Holds Election Breakfast

Residents of Argyle avenue celebrated the election results at a breakfast held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Carl Walter.

Thanks Always in Order

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last week I was invited to a fraternity house party weekend at college by a young man I know. I stayed at one of the guest houses and had a wonderful time. I would like to know if I should write a bread-and-butter letter to the young man who was my host?

"I know it is customary to write such a note to one's hostess when spending the weekend at her house but I don't know whether the rule applies to this situation. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: You most certainly should write thanking him, and saying how much you enjoyed the weekend.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married shortly and the wording of the invitations presents a problem as I have never been married. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded in this instance? Do I use Miss, Mrs., or what?"

Answer: In the situation you describe I think it would be best to omit all titles from the wedding forms and have them worded as follows:

Elizabeth Anne Jones requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter
Jane
to
etc.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When spending the weekend, or longer, as a guest in someone's house, is the guest privileged to turn on the television set any time she wishes, or must she ask permission of the hostess before doing so?"

Answer: Unless the hostess has told her that she may turn on the television whenever she wishes, she must ask for permission before doing so.

Stiff Penalty Follows Overstarched Collars

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Before my husband gives me my weekly allowance, he looks over the shirts I have ironed. If there is too much starch in the collar, he docks me. He won't let me do them over because he says that is the way his father trained his mother to iron his shirts the way he likes them. Do you think this is fair?" DOCKED

"DEAR DOCKED: The penalty is much stiffer than the collar.

"DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of ours passed away. All the neighborhood donated for flowers, but we left one neighbor out on purpose because the deceased had not spoken to that family for years. It was no secret. After the funeral this neighbor who was left out called up all the neighbors and spit fire over the telephone. She said we had no business leaving her out and it was a dirty trick. Do you think we did wrong or not?"

The NEIGHBORS

DEAR NEIGHBORS: You did right. This kind of neighbor "spits fire" if you do, and "spits fire" if you don't. If she had wanted to send flowers, nothing prevented her from sending a little bouquet on her own.

"DEAR ABBY: Here's a sure cure for backseat drivers as complained about by 'Driven Nuts.' Every time the little woman starts cooking, go out into the kitchen with her. If she reaches for a pan, holler at her to be careful she doesn't hurt herself. When she reaches for the salt—tell her to get the salt.

"When she reaches for the pepper tell her not to forget the pepper. When she goes to turn the gas on, tell her to be sure to turn on the gas. Stand over her and point everything out to be sure she doesn't miss a thing in the recipe. If she complains, tell her to remember this the next time she tries to drive the car for you."

LORENZ THE TAILOR

"DEAR ABBY: I plan to be married in December. My parents don't approve of this marriage, but gave their consent. They won't come to my wedding or have anything to do with it. Therefore, I would like to know what to place on the wedding invitations where it says, 'Mr. and Mrs. So and So request your presence at the wedding of their daughter.' Don't you think my parents are making it bad for everyone by not coming?

"After all, you're only married once and it seems to me that every mother would want to see her daughter married and help her make the best of it, don't you?"

JUST WONDERING

DEAR JUST: Ask your clergyman to talk to your parents. WHY don't they approve of your marriage? It might pay you to listen to their reasons. If you go through with this wedding without your parents' cooperation, I suggest a very quiet little ceremony, and eliminate the formal invitations.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PATTI: Forget the lad who sends you presents and stick with the boy who sends you.

Bethany Baptist Slates Baptism

Sally Hamilton, Gladys Brundige, Dick Taylor to Assist Pastor

The ordinance of Baptism will be observed at the 11 a.m. service Sunday in Bethany Baptist Church. Dr. Joseph I. Chapman, pastor, will speak on "He Who Would Be Greatest."

Taking part in the early service at 8:45 a.m. will be Paul Jankorsky and Bruce Lewis; Tommy Hutchison and Nancy Crawford will assist at the 11 o'clock hour.

Under the leadership of Ben Wilton and Mr. Jankorsky, a training program for the every member enlistment will be given from 6 to 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The public as well as members are invited to the pastor's Fireside Hour at 7 p.m. when he discusses the principles and beliefs of the Baptist Church.

"Tomorrow Will Be Better" will be Dr. Chapman's subject at the vesper service at 8. Assisting him will be Dick Taylor, Sally Hamilton and Miss Gladys Brondige.

The Women's Society of Bethany will serve the annual Harvest dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesday. Mrs. Earl Eddy is general chairman and Mrs. Russell Anderson, chairman of tickets.

Adventists Marking Education Week

"Education for Keeps" is the title of a sermon in honor of American Education Week presented this morning at the Riverside Seventh-day Adventist church, 156 Mt. Clemens St. by Pastor James O. Cunnington.

The pastor said the special service is the first in a series of special activities planned by the Adventist School at 81 E. Howard.

"We do not accord education enough importance in relation to its real worth," the minister stated. "Within the church's system of education the teacher should be selected with every bit as much care as is the minister. While th minister speaks to the child perhaps one or two hours each week, the teacher is speaking to him 30 or more hours."

Pastor Cunnington said his church is extending an invitation to all interested persons in the community to attend the services.

Rev. T. H. Staton FE 2-8497

Confident Living

This Is Key That Brings God-Given Joy, Success

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A few years ago Canada lost a remarkable man in the death of Dr. Albert L. Cliffe. He had made an important reputation as a chemist but he had made an even greater contribution as a lay preacher and Bible class teacher. No one ever called him anything except Al Cliffe.

DR. PEALE

He had the simple belief that the Lord guided him in everything he did.

One day, he told me, the Lord guided his steps downtown in Montreal and sent him to a certain street where friends named Bill and Mary had a haberdashery shop. In the shop he found both of them sitting disconsolately, chins sunk in their hands. "What's the matter with you?" he asked. "You act as though you'd lost your last friend."

"Oh," they told him, "unless something happens soon, we're going to lose our business. We just don't seem to get enough customers and the few who do come in don't buy anything."

Just then a customer walked in and looked in various showcases. Bill and Mary continued to maintain a dejected attitude, giving him no friendly interest. Finally the customer became self-conscious in the gloomy atmosphere and walked out. "There goes another who bought nothing," Bill said.

"I'm surprised he stayed as long as he did!" Al Cliffe exploded. "You actually made it hard for him to buy. And just look at this place! Paint is peeling from the showcases; there isn't enough light.

BRIGHTEN UP

"Go out and buy a can of white paint; get some big bulbs. Brighten the place up! Make it a happy place! But first you'll need to do the same to yourselves. The store will be only as happy and attractive as you are. It will be no more successful as a business than you are successful as persons."

"But we're got to raise $600 this month from customers who owe us," Mary complained. "Why won't people pay their accounts?"

Al Cliffe looked at the statements stamped and ready to be mailed. "These are nto bills. They're people," he declared. "You're not thinking right.

"Now, look, let's do something spiritually creative. Bill, you place your hand on these letters. Now, Mary, put your hand on Bill's. And I'll rest my hand on top. Now let's pray together for these people who owe you money. And let's try loving them too. If a person doesn't pay his bill, it shows that he needs prayers and love; something is wrong with him morally and spiritually."

Well, those spiritually dedicated bills went out along with the prayers and loving thoughts. What happened? Only this: Before the month was over, Bill and Mary had received 85 per cent of the outstanding accounts on their books. When they started putting love and happiness into their work, love and happiness came back to them. That's the way it works.

"Love is the key law of all laws," worte Al Cliffe. "We must love God, and we must love our fellowman—these are the underlying teaching of the Master. Therefore no matter what we give in service and money to God and our fellowmen, our lives must be ruled by love."

The Bible says this even better: "Faith, hope, love abide, these three; but the greatest of these is love."

Youth Singspiration at Stone Baptist

The Oakland County Youth Fellowship Singspiration will be held at 9:15 p.m. Sunday in Stone Baptist Church, 3951 Auburn Rd.

Presenting several musical selections will be the brass quartet comprised of Philip Bishop, Jack Bellairs, Richard Rollman and Ronald Carpenter.

Other musical numbers will be provided by a vocal quartet composed of Douglas Brown, Linda Langford, Edward Justin and Nancy McGown.

William Myers will lead the singing of hymns and chorus work.

And we know that to them that love God all things work together for good.

Parish Visitors Calling Sunday on Congregation

More than 50 men will be commissioned as parish visitors at the 11 a.m. worship service tomorrow at Christ Lutheran Church by the Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor.

Under the direction of James Roddewig, the visitation committee will call at the homes of members of the congregation to present the program for 1959.

According to the pastor, a full-time parish worker is needed to assist him.

General chairman of the every member visitation is W. H. Cobb. Assisting is Robert Dika. Others working with the pastor as leaders are Howard Peterson and Mrs. Russell Weil.

Detroit Pastor to Speak at St. John Methodist

The Rev. A. A. Kirland of the AME Church of Detroit will preach at the revival services scheduled in St. John Methodist Church Sunday through Nov. 23.

The pastor, the Rev. Martin Bellinger, said church choirs of the city will assist in the meetings to be held each night at 7:30.

The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

Educational Unit Nearly Finished

Dedication Is Expected at Orchard Lake Church Sometime This Month

Completion of the new educational unit of the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian is expected sometime this month. A portion was used for the first time last Sunday.

Dedication is scheduled for Feb. 6 when Dr. Henry Jones, fraternal worker of the Presbyterian Church in the Far East, will be a guest of the congregation.

Dr. Jones ordained the first Session of the Orchard Lake Church in 1943 when he was director of Dodge House in Detroit.

The annual every member canvass will be conducted Sunday afternoon by more than 30 workers under the leadership of Charles Wright, Wayne Helfrich and John Ashby.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, will preach at both the 9 and 11 a. m. services tomorrow on "The Lord With a Plumb Line." The Choralers will sing at the early service and at 11 the Chancel Choir will be heard.

Following the discussion meeting at 6 p. m. Sunday, a motion picture will be shown to the Senior High Fellowship. The Inquirers Class is scheduled for 8 p. m. with the study subject, "The Structure of the Church."

Representatives of Temple Beth Jacob will be present at the 5 p. m. Thursday meeting of the Junior High Fellowship to explain the meaning of the Passover.

Chapel Choir of Holly Baptist Church to Sing

The Chapel Choir of First Baptist Church of Holly will be guest singers at the 10 a.m. worship service Sunday in the Crescent Hills Baptist Church.

The Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn, pastor, will speak on "The Harvest Depends on the Soil," the first in a series of stewardship sermons.

The resource committee will met at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the parsonage to prepare for the every member canvass. Mrs. Norman Schmuck will be in charge.

'Pack a Pew Day' at Marimont Baptist

Tomorrow will be "Pack a Pew Day" at Marimont Baptist Sunday School, the fifth Sunday of the "Orbit Around the Son" contest.

The Rev. Philip Somers, pastor, reported 123 visitors were present last week.

In the lead for bringing new members and visitors to Sunday School during the six-week contest are Mrs. Frank Webber, Ronald Ward, Carol Scarborough and Nancy Tabor.

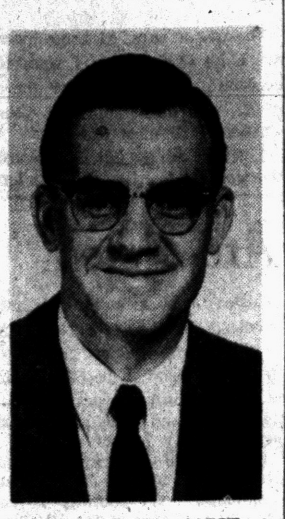

Officers of the week were Mrs. Wanda Smades and Philip Somers Jr.

The annual business session and election of officers of the Sunday School will be Tuesday evening.

New Pastor to Preach

The Rev. O. D. Emery, new pastor of Pilgrim Holiness Church, will preach his first sermon here tomorrow at the 11 a.m. worship hour. His subject will be "The Present Ministry of the Holy Spirit." The evening meeting will be at 7:30.

Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver; I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

REV. EARL O. CARYL

Battle Creek Pastor, Speaker

Emphasis Placed on Sharing Ideas, People With Sea Islanders

The Rev. Earl O. Caryl, pastor of the Ceresco Baptist Church of Battle Creek and 1957 Michigan sheep-sheering champion, will be guest speaker for World Community Day in First Methodist Church Monday.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Council of United Church Women, the day will begin with registration at 9:30 a.m.

Chairmen of the sessions will be Mrs. Leslie Ellis and Mrs. Allen Hersee.

Special emphasis is placed on sharing our goods, ideas and people with those of the South Sea Isles.

Church women are urging others to study and discuss the value of exchange with the developing nations to build a positive peace; to collect yarn and yardage to share with homeless women who, as refugees, are trying to care for their families.

Women are also urged to assist in the training of women in the South Sea Isles for community development.

Local women are asked to bring to the Monday meeting rolls of yard or pieces of material suitable for making dresses, skirts or work clothes.

Mission Goal Set

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — The American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational Christian churches has set a record budget for overseas missions in 1959: A total of $2,275,665, topping the 1958 figure by $150,000.

Altar to Be Consecrated

A new birch altar in First Methodist Church's recently remodeled room for small weddings and worship groups will be dedicated Sunday, in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clemence. The dedication will be made by the Rev. Paul T. Hart, pastor, at the 10 a.m. worship service.

The service also will include the dedication of the cathedral-red dossal curtain, cross and altar appointments as a memorial to Mrs. Nellie Adams.

A landscape painting by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Pierce, members of First Methodist, will be dedicated in memory of Albert Proffit and in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul R. Haven, former pastor of the church and his wife.

Also consecrated Sunday morning will be a leather bound pulpit hymnal and loose-leaf organist edition of the hymnal, given in honor of Mrs. Dudley Colby, by the Wesleyan Class and a brass baptismal bowl given by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caughell.

The new 20 by 45 foot worship room on the second floor is a part of the extensive remodeling program undertaken this year. The walls of the room are gray, with turquoise draperies. The floor covering is of charcoal combined with pink tile.

Sunday School rooms on the ground floor and banquet hall are decorated in beige and brown. The walls are in desert sand.

New birch cabinets with pink formica counter tops, an electric stove, and a new refrigerator add a brightness to the kitchen. Two new lavatories have been added on the first floor.

The Rev. Harry O. Lord, assistant pastor, now has his own office as well as the pastor. The remodeling will be completed at a cost of $30,000.

Sanctuary in St. Stephen to Seat 328 Worshipers

Plans for the new building of the St. Stephen Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) call for brick construction of contemporary design.

The church will include a sanctuary to seat 328 and 90x40 feet will serve as a fellowship hall and rooms for Sunday School classes.

The congregation expects to have this first unit completed by next spring at a cost of $72,000. When finances permit, the building will be used for educational purposes and another sanctuary constructed.

Stewart Construction Co. of Pontiac will be the builders. The architectural engineers are members of Chance Enterprises of St. Clair Shores.

Harold Kettner is chairman of the building committee assisted by Emil Hagen, Ervin Miller, Raymond Heuer, Wallace Zuelch and Norman Pankner. Ernest Mar is chairman of the congregation.

St. Stephen was organized in November of 1956.

Services are held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall on West Walton boulevard just off Dixie Highway. Vicar Martin Renner was the first to serve the congregation.

Prior to the coming of the Rev. Guy B. Smith last spring as full-time pastor, the Rev. William C. Grafe of Orchard Lake served as vacancy pastor.

Let us lift up our hearts and hands in heaven.

New Fling at Realism May Skyrocket Julie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — It's been reported that Claudette Colbert objected quite strenuously to Miss Julie Newmar (age 23, height 5-10, bust 38) wearing nothing but a towel in one big scene they do together in the new Broadway show, "The Marriage Go-Round."

WILSON

"I see her point—the whole scene everybody sort of wonders if the towel's going to fall off," Miss Newmar, Broadway's premier screwball, said the other evening in her rather unexpected apartment in the West 60s.

"They tried to get me to wear nothing under it—like a bathing suit!

"But it says in the playscript that she come in from a nude sunbath perfectly nude and throw a towel around her.

So I said, 'We've got to be realistic. Remember Stanislavsky!' I hold it up with—well, I don't breathe. I hold it up with one finger, if anything. There was one man in Philadelphia who came several nights. His wife told me, 'He's certain that one night that towel's going to fall off.'"

JULIE

Julie's towel-tossing talents may make her this year's Jayne Mansfield. She plays a brilliant Swedish student who tries to persuade Charles Boyer to father a small prodigy for her.

In her apartment she has a painting she did of her mother, Helene Jesmer, who was a Ziegfeld Follies beauty, and "a bird with a psychosis" which she says was given to her by "Big John Murphy, my self-elected bodyguard, who's down in Wall Street."

Also on the mantle are a couple of men's overshoes with flower pots, and flowers, nestling inside. "I stole those from this boy friend," she explained.

Julie's been around for about three shows — "Silk Stockings," the Tallulah Bankhead Ziegfeld Follies which didn't come into New York, and "Li'l Abner" — and strangely enough, even with that body she appears to be a brain (I.Q. about 135).

Julie was graduated from John Marshall High in Los Angeles at 15, when very young was prima ballerina with the Los Angeles Opera and a choreographer at Universal, where she taught dancing to such dolls as Miss Ekberg.

Daughter of an L.A. professor, Don Newmeyer, she never had any financial hardships.

She's found her own way of studying acting.

"Instead of taking cabs, I always take the 8th Avenue bus so I can study the characters."

Julie claims she never weighs herself or diets—"once when I did I gained eight pounds"—and that she looks forward to doing TV for Ed Sullivan or Steve Allen when the show gets rolling.

"Sullivan offered me $3,000 to do part of my night-club act," she says. "In that, I wore an unusual garment, a sweater that was a sweater all the way down. With nothing under it. It's easy to move in, no restrictions, no girdles or anything."

"Are you trying to revive the Marilyn Monroe idea of wearing nothing under anything but you?"

"Why not, if I can?" she said.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A playboy at Major's Cabin, asked why he gambles better with cards than with horses, said, "You can't shuffle horses."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The gangster's note to his doll who wanted a mink stole said, "It may not be mink but it's certainly stole" . . . That's earl, brother.

Luminous Suit Found Unsuitable for Nightly Run

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — From now on, long-distance runner Ken Baily will take his night workouts in just a plain sweat suit.

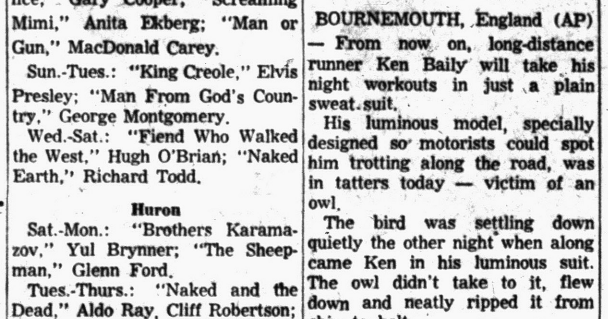

His luminous model, specially designed so motorists could spot him trotting along the road, was in tatters today — victim of an owl.

The bird was settling down quietly the other night when along came Ken in his luminous suit. The owl didn't take to it, flew down and neatly ripped it from chin to belt.

Colombo Parley Waiting for Ike

Underdeveloped Areas Anxious to Learn U. S. Policies for Year

SEATTLE (AP) — An air of expectancy settled over the Colombo Plan conference today as arriving delegation leaders indicated a boost in economic aid may be extended by the West to hard-pressed Asian nations.

A good part of the expectations were aroused by the scheduled appearance here next Monday of President Eisenhower to address the opening session of the Colombo ministers' meeting.

His welcoming message was keenly awaited as an indication of U.S. policies toward the underdeveloped nations in the coming year.

Secretary of State Dulles, heading a strong U.S. delegation, which includes high Treasury and State Department officials, is arriving Sunday to preside over the four-day ministerial meeting.

Noble said that founders of the plan meeting in Colombo, Ceylon, in 1950, south a flexible, adaptable and informal framework to encourage economic development in Southeast Asia.

Dulles Not Expecting Trouble With Dems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles says he doesn't expect any partisan squabbles over foreign policy with the strongly Democratic new Congress.

Dulles said this Friday in response to news conference questions about how he expects to get along with the new Congress which will convene in January with much bigger Democratic majorities in both House and Senate.

He said he is confident U.S. foreign policy will be conducted without partisanship and through cooperation between the Eisenhower administration and congressional leaders.

Earthquake Startles Residents of 4 States

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An earthquake startled residents in four states Friday night but caused no damage.

The sharp jolt at 8:41 p.m. was felt from St. Louis to Paducah, Ky., and Evansville, Ind., and throughout southern Illinois. Many persons thought at first there had been an explosion.

Seismograph readings showed the initial shock produced subsequent vibrations for 14 minutes. St. Louis University officials placed the center of the shock at the juncture of the Wabash and Ohio rivers near the point where Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky adjoin.

Linkletter Whoops It Up at Arizona State Fair

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

But the biggest response from the Phoenicians came at the end of the show when Art sat down for a quiet conversation with four 6-year-olds.

It's possible that after all the pie-throwings are forgotten, Linkletter will be remembered for his conversations with kids. After a year, his book, "Kids Say the Darnedest Things," refuses to budge from the best-seller list. Besides his daily stint on the Housparty show, clips from past programs are now being syndicated as "Linkletter and the Kids."

A sample of the Phoenix dialogue:

Art: Who's the boss in your family?

Girl: My mother.

Art: Why is that?

Girl: She's older.

"The secret of our success is in planning," the emcee xplained.

"Our teacher, Dorothea Fitzgerald, works with the schools in lining up the children. The important thing is not to get the smartest ones, but the kids who are liable to say something bright and provocative.

"On the day of the show, Dorothea picks up the kids at their school and interviews them on the way to the studio. Shortly before I go on the air, she hands me outlines of what the kids can talk about. I study them a few seconds and I'm ready for the show.

Former Ruler of 18 Million Will Retire

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The Nizam of Hyderabad, who once ruled 18 million people and was known as the richest man in the world, announced today he is retiring from public life.

He said he would devote all his time to his big family. The last census showed the 72-year-old prince had more than 200 children by the many women in his harem.

Joan Fontaine Cleared of Contempt of Court

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Superior Court no longer regards actress Joan Fontaine as being in contempt.

The court ruled her in contempt two weeks ago when her former husband, television executive William Dozier, said she violated a divorce ruling by placing their daughter, Debbie, 9, in a different school.

Dozier informed the court Friday that Debbie had been returned to his custody and was back in her old school, and the court dropped the proceedings against Miss Fontain.

SILENCE ISN'T GOLDEN

It takes a certain amount of horn-blowing to sell a town, and if it seems as though one day long ago somebody put away the horn and it has been forgotten, let's get it out and join the parade. Otherwise we stand aside and watch the parade go by.

If a town wants new industry it must talk up its advantages so industry can hear. Towns too must sell if they are to stay in business, and no town ever sold itself sitting silently by the side of the road.

New industry means more work for people of the community, more dollars in circulation all over the town, more prosperity for you and your neighbors. Your town has a selling message; help make it heard.

If your town is to attract industry, it needs every citizen as a salesman, and in this business there's no such thing as silent selling.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

LEADERS TRAINING — Because of convenient facilities at the Community Activity Center in Waterford Township, many Oakland County educational workshops are held in the big building. Most recent was the Girl Scout Trainers' Rally, preparing 125 troop leaders on Christmas gift-making. Putting the finishing touches on decorations are Mrs. Ralph Marble, Doris Burns and Mrs. Norman Green.

Waterford Township Center Plays Vital Role in County

From the outside, the Waterford Township Community Activity Center on Williams Lake Rd., looks just like any other big gray cement block building, but on the inside—there is a different story.

Literally a "bee-hive" of activity, the United Fund-supported CAI accommodates more than 2,000 individuals every hour of every day in the week, including Sundays, according to charter member and secretary Mrs. Helen Hall.

One of the biggest organizations participating in various programs in the building, is the Waterford Township Recreation department under the direction of Thomas Belton.

There are 1,150 children and adults enrolled in dog training, archery, ballet and five different other types of dancing classes which are all part of the gigantic recreation program now in operation.

Political rallies, Sunday church services, teenage dancing parties and more than 15 different clubs take advantage of this sturdy building's facilities.

Approximately ten years ago, a small group of Waterford Township citizens felt the need for a recreation center, because of the rapidly increasing population.

Financed entirely by donations, and built by free labor, the CAI was constructed, added on to, improved and remodeled until it now stands as a recreation haven for not only the township, but for residents all over Oakland County.

On the main floor, the big gymnasium is the scene for banquets as well as all types of active games. Club rooms, a soda-bar and a library with more than 7,000 volumes of books are also part of the first floor plan.

Upstairs, a 200-bed portable hospital can be set up for Civil Defense training purposes, along with more private club and practice rooms.

All of this is supported by money contributed to the Pontiac Area United Fund, along with private donations and self-sustaining recreation programs. Total operation for the CAI is approximately $25,000 annually, Mrs. Hall said.

She added, "it's positively amazing how many people pass through the front doors of this building every week, and we are truly proud to have such a center available in Oakland County."

Unity Homecoming at 70 Chamberlain

Unity Church of Oakland County will hold a homecoming and consecration service at the new location, 70 Chamberlain St. at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Blanche Joki, a former minister, will speak on "A New Day."

Unity Church members believe the new location will enable them to serve the needs of the readers of Unity literature in a greater way than in the former location. New classes and other activities will be announced later.

There are about 40,000 individual companies in the U.S. which supply the nation's homes, businesses and factories with fuel oil for heating.

Chiefs' Best Showing Not Good Enough

By BILL CORNWELL

BAY CITY—"Outclassed but not outfought" is a hackneyed phrase, yet the best one available to describe Pontiac Central's performance here Friday night.

Coach Jesse MacLeay's Chiefs gave their finest showing of the 1958 football season in Central High School Stadium. Still it was not good enough to avoid a 34-6 setback at the hands of powerful Bay City Central.

Outrushed, outpassed, outgunned, outmanned—use any term you wish and all of them are true, but the final score does not paint an accurate picture of this game.

Pontiac played 48 minutes of scrappy, aggressive and spirited football, but the Chiefs could not cope with Bay City's balanced attack and explosive scoring power as they went down to their 4th defeat in eight games.

Yet, when this Saginaw Valley Conference battle was over, the Chiefs had accomplished several notable things. Among their achievements were these:

1—Marched 76 yards for their lone touchdown in the 2nd quarter.

2—Drove to the Bay City three-yard stripe in the 4th period before a penalty shoved them backwards and they lost the ball on downs.

PCH had many starts in this losing cause, but leading the way were junior guard Charley Brown who strengthened his bid for All-State honors, tackle Willie Duncan, quarterback Harrison Munson and halfbacks Frank Ellison and Dick McCauley.

Ellison, who was nearly the "goat" of last week's 13-7 loss to Melvindale, more than made up for that bad evening against the Wolves yesterday.

He was the workhorse of the ground offense, carrying the pigskin 13 times for 72 yards and a 5.5 average. In addition, he caught two passes for 43 yards, his 2nd reception a 33-yard TD.

The Wolves clearly demonstrated why they're rated Michigan's No. 1 Class A team as they passed and ran to their 7th victory of the year in eight games and their 3rd win in the Valley. The undefeated Wolfpack's only scar this fall is a 13-13 tie with Flint Central.

Senior quarterback Jerry Gross, a prime All-State candidate, directed the Bay City assault and passed for one touchdown, ran for another and place-kicked four extra points, his failure after the final TD snapping a string of 12 straight conversions.

Erwin (Butch) Kokaly, Bay City's speedy swivel-hipped halfback, tallied twice for his 10th and 11th TDs of the season. Halfback Bob Auman plunged for another six-pointer and end John Young snagged a Gross aerial for the other tally.

The Wolfpack scored in the 1st quarter after Dick Post returned a punt to the PCH 26. Four plays later Auman plowed two yards for the TD and Gross converted.

Bay City boosted its lead to 21-0 in the 2nd period on a seven-yard scamper by Kokaly and the Gross-to-Young aerial, a 23-yard play which saw Young make a spectacular leaping catch in the end zone while surrounded by PCH defenders.

Then the Chiefs drove to their sole touchdown as Ellison sneaked behind the Bay City secondary and snared Munson's pass in the end zone for a 33-yard completion with just 40 seconds remaining in the half. Brown's boot for the bonus point was blocked and the score stood 21-6 at halftime.

Kokaly dashed six yards in the 3rd quarter for the Wolves' next touchdown and Gross completed the scoring with a six-yard sweep around right end in the 4th period.

It was in the 3rd stanza that the Chiefs staged their goal line effort, halting the Wolves four times inside the five and taking possession on downs on the one.

The Chiefs marched from their own 28 to the Wolfpack three in the 4th stanza, but a 15-yard penalty and two incomplete passes ended the scoring bid on the 17.

Kimball Stops Maples Cold in 7-0 Victory

During the long rivalry between Birmingham and Royal Oak, the Acorns managed to dominate the series. Now Birmingham plays both Royal Oak high schools but still is unable to gain a victory.

Royal Oak Kimball stopped the running of Ed Busch and handed Birmingham a 7-0 defeat last night. Earlier this season Royal Oak Dondero whipped the Maples.

Kimball scored in the first period on a 12 yard pass from Jerry Riutta to John Kennedy, climaxing a 72 yard march.

Birmingham never threatened seriously in the game as the Kimball defensive unit put a stopper on the Maples' backfield speed, led by the tackle Chuck Rosenberg and guard Dave Brasier who threw Busch repeatedly for losses.

In another game involving an Eastern Michigan League school, East Detroit and Hamtramck played a football version of the golden gloves.

East Detroit won, 32-14, but 10 players were ejected from the game which saw a total of 200 yards in penalties of which 145 were called against the Shamrocks.

It was 23-0 on touchdowns by Dick Ickes, Chuck Williams and two by George Harper before Hamtramck scored in the final quarter.

Ickes tally was a 27 yard pass from Ray Dries, Harper went one and three yards, Williams went three yards.

Bob Maier went 7 yards on an interception after Hamtramck made it 25-14. Bill MacGillvray added the E. Detroit points. Five players from each team were thrown out of the game.

Birmingham closes the season next week at home against Southfield.

Acton and Strittmatter Each Score Twice for Winners

Clawson broke a 6-6 halftime score with three second half touchdowns to whip Oxford, 26-12 on the Wildcat field last night.

Newt Acton went 12 yards for a first period Clawson score and Oxford evened the count when Fred Brecht went 40 yards in the second stanza.

In the third quarter Acton went over from the one and a moment later when center Jim Thomas stole the ball, Clawson took over on the 10.

Acton then passed the distance to Lee Strittmatter and Gary Ashfield converted with a pass reception.

Doug Stott went 2 yards on a sneak for Oxford but Jerry Eno then passed to Strittmatter for another Clawson tally.

Oxford got to the Clawson 25 and 20 in the 4th quarter but lost the ball.

Lakers Win W-O Final

Keep Hopes for Sharing Title in 26-12 Victory

Keego Ends Season 7-1; Barons Rally to Nip Clarkston at Finish

Wrapping up one of the finest football seasons in Keego Harbor history, West Bloomfield romped to a 26-12 triumph over Holly last night to finish with a 7-1 overall record and retain a very slim hope for sharing the Wayne-Oakland championship with Northville.

The Mustangs meet Clarenceville in their loop Nov. 21 and should have little trouble finishing unbeaten.

Bloomfield Hills, the surprise of the league this season, tallied all its points in the final five minutes to defeat Clarkston 13-7 and Brighton walloped Milford 33-0 in other loop play yesterday.

The running of Jack Newton and passing of John Lucadam sparked West Bloomfield to a 20-0 lead before Holly could reach paydirt.

Newton, a speed merchant who gained 99 of the team's 218 yards rushing, scored twice on runs of 26 and 1 to conclude an outstanding sophomore season. He had a 56-yard TD gallop nullified by a penalty.

Lucadam was still favoring the shoulder he injured a week ago but managed to score once from the five, kick two extra points and complete 3 of 13 passes for 63 yards. His 60-yard punt return set up Newton's 2nd touchdown.

The Lakers led only 6-0 until Tom Moran's 39-yard scamper and a Lucadam conversion clinched the issue in the 3rd stanza. Newton and Lucadam scored later with the 1st Holly tally sandwiched in between.

Darrell Kinney hit George McDaniels with an 11-yard pass to climax a 75-yard drive. The same combination clicked for a 4th period six-pointer, also for 11 yards.

Clarkston made a 1st quarter touchdown stand up until Doug Danziger broke loose on quarterback keeper play to go 65 yards to score. Biff Jones' extra point on a run tied the count.

Following the kickoff Clarkston was held deep in its own territory and forced to punt with 47 seconds remaining. Baron John Paige grabbed the boot at the 35 and ran it all the way back for the deciding points. Bob Porritt, playing his 1st game in several weeks, scored the losers only touchdown.

Milford was never in its game despite a scoreless opening quarter. The Redskins never got inside the Brighton 20.

Sean Lavan scored 15 of the Bulldogs' points. George Rodriguez, Ron Visel and Dick Parks added BHS TDs.

West Bloomfield wound up 6-1 in the W-O, Brighton 5-2, Bloomfield Hills 4-3, Holly 3-4, Clarkston 1-5-1 and Milford 0-6-1.

Fine 3-Year Record

Enviable Mark for Almont

The era of the Almont powerhouse in the Southern Thumb League may be over. The season ended last night for seven Almont seniors who helped defeat Dryden 36-0, but in three years this team compiled an enviable record of 22 wins, one tie and one loss.

After a safety in the 1st period, Almont scored twice with Larry Ostrander going 14 yards and Don Eschenberg running back an intercepted pass 40 yards to the two. He then went over.

Frank Hartway went 15 yards in the second period and he then went four yards in the 3rd quarter. Larry Ostrander raced 80 yards in the final stanza with Jim Ostrander converted four times.

Armada handed Capac a 25-0 drubbing in another league game with Bill Porte and Clarence Priestap scoring in the 1st quarter. Mickey Patton went from the two in the second quarter and Patton passed to Terry Wills 10 yards in the 3rd quarter. Patton added the point.

Imlay City Routs Ortonville, 58-20

Imlay City and Ortonville staged a free scoring football game last night with Imlay winning, 58-20.

Four touchdowns for Imlay in the first period, started with Dick McKee going 62 yards on first play, Bob Maison going 20, John Lengeman 13 and McKee again 60 yards.

Paul Godo and Jim Ward went 8 and 62 yards in the 2nd quarter for Imlay before Ted Follis took a 6 yard pass from Pat McNulty for Ortonville's TD.

Three Imlay scores in the second half were by Godo, Lengeman and Maison. Earl Richardson grabbed a 6 yard pass from McNulty and later in the 4th stanza McNulty went over from the one for Ortonville's two scores.

Farmington Finishes Unbeaten, Jays Roll

Vikings, Skippers Lose

Walled Lake and Waterford went down to defeat as Farmington had little trouble finishing unbeaten and Southfield had a scoring ball last night.

Walled Lake dropped a 21-14 verdict at Plymouth to close its season with a 6-2 record. Trailing only 14-7 at halftime, Waterford suffered a 39-14 beating at Dearborn Fordson.

Farmington made Clarenceville its eighth straight victim by a 33-6 count to become Oakland County's only unbeaten team for the 1958 season. Southfield walloped Livonia Bentley 45-7.

Walled Lake went 50 yards in four plays following the opening kickoff with Bill Havel scoring and Mike Wurst converting the point after for an early 7-0 advantage but that was the only time the Vikings were to lead.

Plymouth evened the count by going 75 yards with running ace John Sparkman crossing for his frist of two TDs. The 2nd put Plymouth ahead to stay in the 3rd quarter.

The Vikings, who missed a golden opportunity to take the lead with a 1st down at the PHS 1 as the half ended, were down 21-7 with five minutes left to play in the game. Frank Fink went the last three of a 55-yard drive and Wurst added the point to complete the scoring.

Wurst piled up 135 yards in 12 carries and Fink 75 in 11 in their last game for Walled Lake.

Waterford came up with a new star in Harry Nicholie but he couldn't do it alone. The senior scored both touchdowns for the Skippers on runs of 34 and 80 yards. He had not scored all season. Tony Hiller and Barry Campbell contributed the extra points.

The game was deadlocked 7-7 in the 1st quarter and Dearborn led only 14-7 at halftime. But then the roof fell in on Waterford as it has so often this fall in the last two quarters.

Cliff Solberg went on a touchdown rampage for Southfield garnering four. He carried for 13, caught passes from stellar quarterback Bob Filar for 26 and 15 yards and ran a kickoff back 80 for his scores.

Filar had a touchdown and three extra points. Tom Ridley went over once and Jim McDonald got one on a 79-yard return of pass interception. Bentley scored with 15 seconds to play.

SOME GLUE NEEDED — Troy halfback Jim DePauw was an embarrassed young man when he caught this pass from Rick McKinnon and then dropped it in the 2nd quarter last night at Avondale. His brother, Paul, later scored the losers' only TD on a pass. Avondale's little sparkplug quarterback Dick Smith is the other player.

'Clean' Lapeer Garners No. 8

Lapeer was virtually assured of its first perfect-record season in 10 years following a 49-12 thumping of Flint St. Michael last night. The Panthers close with weak L'Anse Creuse next week.

A victory in that Tri-County League final would even better the 1948 record of eight straight which was matched yesterday.

Coach Jack Fitzpatrick got a chance to empty his bench early with a 42-6 lead early in the 3rd period.

John McKillen, Rich Kohloff and Bob Stevens had two touchdowns apiece and John Bisco added the last one. Stevens and Kohloff each added two extra points to combine for 28 points. McKillen got one.

Stevens got off the longest scoring runs of the night going 78 and 56. McKillen went 51 for his 2nd and Kohloff's 2nd covered 33.

Locals Clinch 1st Outright Crown by Tripping Troy

Shaw, Smith Tally TDs; Romeo Blasts Orion Eleven, 32-6

By CHUCK ABAIR

The faithful followers of the Avondale football team had good reason to be up on Cloud Nine today after watching their Yellowjackets climax an amazing comeback season by whipping Troy 14-7 in the Oakland B championship game last night.

An overflow crowd saw the locals clinch the crown outright for the 1st time as a league member. Two previous Yellowjacket elevens had shared titles.

The victory gave the gridders of Frank Crowell triumphs over all five league opponents. Only a tie against Troy had prevented an all-losing slate a year ago.

A victory over traditional rival Rochester next week would really cap a Cinderella season for the Auburn Heights school. A 6-2 overall record includes a setback by unbeaten Class A power Lapeer.

Romeo, the other Avon conqueror, drubbed Lake Orion 32-6 and Madison throttled Oak Park 26-6 in other Friday action involving Oakland B contingents.

Dennis Shaw and Dick Smith tallied the touchdowns but it was an all-out team effort which produced the Avondale triumph. Gary Acker and Larry Douglas also ran well while Bill Jennings, Tom Greenlees and some of the others excelled in the line.

Each team bogged down after threatening before Avondale suddenly rocked its home stadium by going 95 yards in just three plays for a touchdown early in the 2nd period.

Douglas zipped 41 and then 2 before Shaw got loose to go the last 52, Acker rushed for the point after.

Two pass interceptions halted Troy scoring chances on opposite sides of an Avondale threat which ended due to a lost fumble.

Colt halfback Jim DePauw had a 28-yard TD scamper called back on a penalty in the 3rd period. Acker went 78 on the 1st play from scrimmage when Avondale later took over but was stopped at the 11.

The Jackets eventually lost the ball on downs at the 11. Avondale drove 53 yards following a punt to ice the verdict. Dick Smith plunged over and Douglas ran for the point after key Smith passes to Acker and Herb Harris helped set up the tally. The Harris grab was spectacular effort. He was off balance and got only one hand on the ball at first but pulled it in.

Don Barnhart, a guard, had a touchdown taken away by a penalty. The AHS boy lumbered back 43 yards on a pass interception but it was wasted.

Troy went 71 yards to paydirt in the closing minutes with McKinnon flipping to Paul DePauw for the six points. But that was the last time Troy had the ball with little sparkplug Smith keeping the plays on the ground.

Besides the league trophy, Avondale also won the Little Brown Jug which goes up for grabs each year when these rivals tangle.

Ray Ritter scored on runs of 1, 34 and 15 to lead Romeo. Bob Galan went 62 yards for one and passed to Ron Schmidt for another. Schmidt kicked two extra points. Gary Hunter was the Orion TD man. Two six-pointers by Leroy Hill helped make it easy for Madison.

Sears Ties NBA Field Goal Mark

Sinks Dozen Straight 2-Pointers as Knicks Drub Pistons, 115-101

DETROIT (UPI) — Keen-eyed Kenny Sears scored 41 points while tying a National Basketball Association record of 12 successive field goals last night to lead the New York Knickerbockers to an easy 115-101 triumph over the Detroit Pistons.

Sears missed his first two attempts and then started spraying the two-pointers from all over the court with every variety of shot to equal the record set last season by Detroit's George Yardley against Syracuse, also in the Olympia.

With Sears scoring 11 points, the once-beaten Knicks raced to a 34-14 first period lead and although they slipped to 17 points in the second quarter, still held a comfortable 51-35 halftime margin.

Yardley scored only three points in the first half and when Yardley doesn't hit, the Pistons go nowhere. "The Bird" wound up the night with 18 points but they came too late.

NUMBERS 10, 11 — Halfback Erwin (Butch) Kokaly scored two touchdowns for Bay City Central last night as the Wolves defeated Pontiac Central, 34-6, in a Saginaw Valley Conference football game at Bay City. They were the 10th and 11th TDs of the season for Kokaly, who is Bay City's leading scorer.

CYO Grid Title at Stake Sunday at Washington

City football fans can witness a hot little battle Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Washington Junior High field, where Pontiac St. Benedict tangles with St. Hugo for the 135-pound CYO suburban grade school title.

Hugos are the loop's No. 1 team, but the Pontiac west siders are almost as good in standings. Hugo has a 5-0-1 mark, Benedict 5-1. St. Frederick has 3-3, St. Miachel 1-5, in the 8-team loop.

Bob Gallo's west siders have some very good boys, including about all his first unit, with Bill Atkins, Danny Shadrick, quarterback passer Tom Heiten, Bob Charboneau and Dic Gastin. Gallo is a former PCH and MSU gridder. Speedy Chuck Shafer, Bob Landry, Pete Vidor and Mike Haley are among the St. Hugo aces, coached by Tim Dinan.

105,000 May See Rams-49ers

Huge Crowds to See NFL Teams

By United Press International

The National Football League, the nation's fastest growing professional sport, figures to set a crowd record Sunday for the second straight week by attracting nearly 350,000 fans to its six games.

The New York Giants, 2½-point underdogs, expect a record home attendance of about 70,000 for their Yankee Stadium clash with the undefeated Baltimore Colts. The Browns, leading the Giants by one game in the Eastern Division, also expect about 70,000 for their game with the Detroit Lions at Cleveland.

At Los Angeles, the Rams have erected temporary bleachers in the huge Coliseum and are preparing to seat 105,000 for their game with the San Francisco Forty-Niners. The same two clubs set an all-time NFL attendance mark of 102,368 when they met last season.

The Chicago Bears, who trail the Colts by two games in the Western race, expect their usual capacity throng of 48,500 for their Wrigley Field game with the Green Bay Packers.

The Chicago Cardinals play the Redskins at Washington and the Eagles entertain the Pittsburgh Steelers at Philadelphia in the other games. Even if these two games average only 25,000 fans, the league appears virtually certain to top the six-game record of more than 295,000 paid it set last week.

The attendance so far is running well ahead of last season's record pace. Sunday's action could throw both division races wide open and touch off an even bigger attendance surge. The league has set attendance marks the last six seasons.

New York (4-2) was a 10-point underdog last Sunday when it upset Cleveland (5-1) and tightened the eastern race. If the Giants upset the Colts and the Lions (1-4-1) surprise the Browns, New York and Cleveland will be tied for the eastern lead. If the Giants win and the Bears (4-2) defeat the Packers (1-4-1), Baltimore will be only one game in front of the Bears.

The Browns are favored by 9 points, the Bears by 14, the Rams by 7, the Redskins by 3 and the Eagles by 1½.

Baltimore, which has a Nov. 16 date with the Bears in Chicago, faces the Giants minus two of its top players. John Unitas, the quarterback who leads the league in touchdown passes with 12, and L. G. Dupre, veteran offensive halfback, were injured during Baltimore's 56-0 rout of the Packers last Sunday.

George Shaw will take over for Unitas while Jack Call and Lennie Lyles will alternate at Dupre's post. New York is in its best physical condition of the season although Frank Gifford, all-league left halfback, still is nursing a knee injury and may see little action.

Both Baltimore and New York have stout defensive units. Each has given up 94 points, fewer than any other team. The Colts lead the league in scoring with 234 points, an average of 39 a game.

The Bears, second to the Colts in scoring with 193 points, meet a Packer team that suffered the worst whipping in its 40-year history last Sunday. The Bears and Packers, who began playing when 500 was a big pro crowd, are meeting for the 80th time.

The Rams and Forty-Niners, who may play before pro football's biggest crowd, have 3-3 records and are tied for third in the Western Division.

Lions Have to Stop 'Big 3'

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

But It'll Take More Than That Ramsey Insists

Can't Lay for Just One Brown, Detroit Defense Coach Says

CLEVELAND (UPI) — From reports flooding the Detroit area the past few days, the Lions would have to watch only three men to gain a victory over the Cleveland Browns tomorrow—Jim Brown, Ray Renfro and Bobby Mitchell.

Unfortunately, it'll take more than watching just the "big three" of the Brown offense. New York's Sam Huff was praised week-long for the job he did on Brown last Sunday when the Browns lost their first game of the season. Yet Brown gained 113 yards and ran 58 yards for one touchdown.

"The trouble is," commented Buster Ramsey in whose hands the Lion defensive strategy rests, "you can't lay for one guy because they've got so many the rest would run wild."

The Lions could make it an interesting race in the Eastern Division by knocking off the Browns who are favored by nine points. And there's still the Lion "jinx" to consider.

In regular season and championship games, the Lions boast a 7-1 record over Paul Brown.

In mapping a defense of the Browns, Ramsey had these things to consider:

—Brown has gained 928 yards in 131 attempts for a 7.1 average and with the entire second half of the season to play, is only 218 yards off the NFL record set by Steve Van Buren in 1949.

—Brown's 15 touchdowns put him within three of the record for a 10-game season and two for 11 and 12-game seasons. The entire Lion team has only 18 touchdowns.

—Mitchell is the NFL's second top rusher with 479 yards in 66 carries for an even better 7.3 average.

—Leroy Bolden is second in kickoff returns with a 33.3 average for six returns including a 102-yard sprint.

By H. GUY MOATS

From the look of the season's point totals for Sunday afternoon's opponents in the Suburban Catholic League's windup on Wisner field, St. Frederick gridders should be named an overwhelming favorite to close their season with a victory.

However, from Detroit St. Rita comes the word that the Rams should not view their encounter with the Irish in the light of a pushover.

Said Rev. John Echlin, athletic director, "although we will be handicapped by the loss of our first string quarterback, I believe we will give the Pontiac eleven a run for its money. This contest could turn out to be much closer than some expect."

Sunday's game at 2:30 p.m., is the only SCL tilt in the Pontiac area, St. Michael tangling with Royal Oak St. Mary, and Orchard Lake Eaglets at St. Clement.

Rams will go against the Irish with an all-senior team, and all squad seniors will get into the game. Poniatowski and Smith, ends; Zwicker and Deschaine, tackles; Palopoli and Jere Dirker, guards; Cassidy, center; Derocher, Nesbitt, Lyon, Gary Dirker, backs, are starters on offense. Landry, Brown, Hudson and Benke will be in on defense. Tom Derocher will be the quarterback.

Irish quarterback Mike Timms is out with a broken nose, received in practice on Wednesday. Eight seniors will be among the starters.

St. James is at St. Benedict. Ravens, Rams and Shamrocks are all favored to turn in victories, to leave the SCL in a 3-way championship knot. Each club has won five, lost one game in loop play. Rams dumped the Shamrocks, who had earlier upset Ravens. St. Benedict spoiled Rams' clean record.

Rams have barrelled along to a 258 point total, biggest in the circuit. Their only loss was to St. Benedict, last weekend. Ritas have compiled 59. Rams' opponents scored 53, Irish foes 71.

Seniors get the starting call, also, for St. Mike's club at Royal Oak. All but Pat Campbell, who will miss the finale. Coach Jim Niebauer said Pat will, however, have recovered from a jaw injury in time to open Shamrock basketball practice. Other "cripples" were ready, Jim says. He figures his team should win, but adds we're not taking any chances, or getting too confident, because this is the St. Mary homecoming game and they'll be fired up for us."

One change will find Ron Call as a defensive halfback, in addition to his flanker role on offense. Other starters, including most of the seniors are Pruente, end; tackles Launinger and Gallardo; Guards, Zugras and Sonnenberg; Center, Drake; quarterback Tom Dabbs, and Mike Flynn, Ganje and Steinhelper.

Chick 9 Strokes Off Pace

Boros Leader at Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP) — The 61 pros and 10 amateurs who survived the final cut in the Atlanta Open Golf tournament had a day off today before heading onto the Cherokee Country Club course for the final 18 holes Sunday.

Leading the field going into the last round over the tough, 7,004-yard course was Julius Boros, 39-year-old Mid Pines, N.C., pro who was U.S. Open champion in 1952.

Boros, who staged a startling comeback with a 6-under-par 66 Thursday, was two-under Friday for a 70 and a total of 210. He might have shot another brilliant round in the 60's except for needing an average of two putts a hole on the back nine.

Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., pro who set the club record with a 64 on Thursday, fell to a 77 Friday and a three-way tie with Tommy Bolt of Paradise, Fla., and Bill Collins of Baltimore, Md., for the third spot at 213. Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich. fell to 219 with a 74.

Thunderbird Shoots for Motor City Win

Unbeaten all summer and fall, in area puppy matches, Raven's Hill Thunderbird (Tiny), owned by the Hank Roberts, 8020 Foster road, Sunday goes after the "big one," in the Motor City Specialty show at the Detroit Artillery armory on 8-mile road. She is in the 9-12 months old Great Dane puppy class. The Roberts also have three other Danes in the show, including Raven Hill's Empress Eugenie and Raven Hill's Luki Dane's Aedred, and another puppy, Raven Hill's Jughead. Jughead got his name because when very small he got his head stuck in a crock.

Donald Lawicki, Wolverine Lake, also has two Danes in the show, including his Ch. Regal, and he will handle his own dogs and the Roberts' entries in competition with a field of 138 Danes, show's biggest entry. Many top dogs of the breed are among the entries.

It's North Branch, 34-14

North Branch of the South Central League handed Brown City of the Southern Thumb a 34-14 setback with Dale Talcott and Jim Mikulski each getting two touchdowns.

Talcott went 22 and 14 yards and Mikulski went 62 and 18 yards. Dick Coutts kicked a 2-yard field goal and John Clother passed to John Ferkowicz 65 yards for the other TD.

Bob Fisher got one of Brown City's tallies.

Beaver Bowl Game Sunday at Walled Lake

One of the 1st bowl games of the grid season is on tap for Sunday at 2 p.m. when the Little League Beavers of the Walled Lake school district and the Livonia Hawks tangle in the Beaver Bowl at the Walled Lake High field.

Members of the All America Football League, the Beavers and Hawks will stage a doubleheader exhibition with the junior varsity teams (9-10) opening the program. Varsity members 11 and 12.

A small admission fee will be charged with all funds going towards equipment for future Walled Lake teams. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Lane Outpoints Godhi

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Southpaw Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., the No. 1 contender for the world's lightweight boxing title, outpointed Algerian Lahouari Godih last night in a 10-round bout before a national television audience and 1,200 paying fans who booed the fight and the decision.

Mt. Clemens 25, Berkley 7

Mt. Clemens handed Berkley a 25-7 defeat last night with two touchdowns by Harold Trumbo, one by Dave Mial and another by Dwight Logie on a 33-yard interception.

Trumbo took a 25 yard pass from Mial for one of the TDs. Berkley scored in the third quarter on a 6 yard pass from Dave Chamberlain to Dave Leemon, and converted on a pass to Steve Besevich.

Spike Briggs Plans Africa Hunting Trip

DETROIT (AP)—Spike Briggs, former president and general manager of the Detroit Baseball Co., takes off for Africa on a big game hunt Monday.

Some well-wishers at a going-away luncheon expressed hope Spike could bring back some tigers.

Spike explained: "Where I'm going there are no tigers."

Underhill Sparks Lions

Four touchdowns by senior star Paul Underhill enabled South Lyon to breeze to a 34-0 romp over Pinckney in its final game of the season last night.

Underhill scored on runs of 10, 6 and 62 yards and was on the receiving end of TD pass thrown by Milan Obrenovich covering 71 yards. Harold Choate scored the other touchdown and added an extra point. South Lyon finished 5-2.

Let Moisture Out of House

The efficiency of your attic insulation can be boosted, say the experts of the Metal Ventilator Institute. Even the thickest attic insulation can do its job better if the area above it is ventilated. This ventilation is done by means of metal ventilators.

These inexpensive modern metal building products are placed in openings high in the gable ends of your roof, or set directly on the roof surface, and in the wood boxing which closes in the underside of your roof overhang (builders call this the soffit).

In the summer the ventilators allow the super-heated air from your attic to escape to the out-of-doors, helping your attic insulation keep you cool. In winter the ventilators help remove excess moisture from the attic before it can be turned to ice.

Where does the moisture come from? The experts of the Metal Ventilator Institute tell us it comes from modern living — clothes washers and dryers, dish washers, cooking and hot baths and showers. The modern house, built more tightly than the house of even 30 years ago, won't let this moisture escape. That's why the homeowner seeking year around comfort installs metal ventilators.

Ventilating charts showing the correct amount of attic ventilation for the area of your attic are available free of charge from the Metal Ventilator Institute, 22 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Illinois.

New Use for Washers

In cutting wood for cabinets and tables, use a washer for a guide when you round square corners. You will save time and trouble. To mark the cutoff line, align edges of the washer with the edges of the building stock, then scribe.

Japanese Courtyard Is Dramatic and Private

In populated urban and suburban areas where individuality of house styling and privacy are both a problem, the Japanese offer some provocative solutions.

A courtyard in the Japanese manner, for instance, provides both a dramatic entrance area and street-side privacy for the home.

The main component of such a courtyard is its wall, or fence, and this should be styled to compliment the home's architecture. Selecting a design to work in with traditional American styling is no more difficult than working with contemporary design, although contemporary design perhaps offers greater latitude of choice.

The courtyard fence can be a simple imitation of the house siding style, or it can be an individual piece correlated to the house by use of identical materials and finishes. The Oriental motif is winning wide popularity due to its compatibility with many types of architecture and its inherent simplicity.

The wall might be an eight-foot-high affair, for example, topped by a "roof" which extends five feet on either side. One intriguing design is made up of solid panels of Douglas fir four feet in width which alternate with openwork of horizontal 1x1 slats spaced three inches apart.

Although the Japanese are known for their handling and use of natural woods, they are equally fond of clear, gay colors, and the solid panels of this fence might be painted to match the house trim, while the slats of the openwork can be left in their natural wood color.

The "roof" is of post and beam construction, but, again, individuality ranks high when following the lead of our Far-Eastern friends. Rather than the usual type of beam, a Japanese double beam can be used. This consists of two heavy 2x6 Douglas fir planks which are laid parallel two inches apart. One stout 4x4 post supports the double beam.

The most practical, as well as the most handsome, idea for finishing is to stain the roof section to match the house siding, unless the siding is a definite color rather than a wood shade. In this case, the fir can be left raw to weather to a complimentary, striking silvery tone.

The treatment of the courtyard area itself will depend largely upon the type of terrain and soil present. Every effort should be made to make plantings look as natural as possible and to utilize native shrubbery and flowers.

ON YOUR LAWN or in a Sunday school room these 21-inch figures tell the Christmas story. Pattern 374 gives actual-size guides for the Holy Family also directions for the shelter. Pattern 375 is for Wise Men and animals. Patterns are 25 cents each. Both are in Packet 43 which includes other fascinating decorations—all for $1. Orders under $1 add 10 cents service charge.

Here's the Answer

Q — Can cork tiles be applied to floors subject to water spills, such as bathrooms and kitchens?

A — Certain kinds of cork tiles, yes, but not all. Newly developed types are available from various manufacturers especially designed for kitchens and baths. These are impregnated with wax or vinyl.

Q — When our central air-conditioning system was installed, we economized by foregoing ductwork to two bedrooms, then unused. Now both rooms are occupied, but are uncomfortably warm in summer when the doors are closed for privacy. Any suggestions beyond new ductwork?

A — Switch to ponderosa pine louver doors on the two rooms. These can be kept closed for privacy, yet air still can circulate through the louvers. If your cooling equipment is big enough, the rooms will be more comfortable.

Q — If we do the work ourselves in converting our attic to living space do we stand a chance of getting a cash return for our labors if we ever sell the house?

A — Absolutely. In many parts of the country today appraisers add as much as $2 to the cash value of the house for every dollar spent on specific improvements, such as porches, converted attics, recreation rooms, and the like. A basement recreation room that costs $500, for example, could add $1,000 to the resale price of the house.

Keep Knife Clean

Keep your putty knife clean of paint by pulling the blade through slots cut in the side of a tin can. When you have used the knife for scraping paint or varnish after application of wet chemicals, it is best to clean it at once. The paint thus removed will fall to the bottom of the can for easy quick disposal.

background for LIVING

IN THE FAMILY ROOM — The fireplace in the Burt home is in the family room. Made of red brick, it has a raised hearth of multi-colored slate. The louvered doors beyond house the furnace and water heater. Floors throughout the house, except in the kitchen, are corktone tile. This room opens directly off the kitchen and has an outside entrance through sliding glass doors.

Your Neighbor's House

Robert Burt House Stands on Maceday Lake Shore

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Our Press photographers have backed into closets, climbed on top of their cars, flattened themselves on the floor and even gotten into a bathtub in order to get the right angle on a picture. But when it comes to wading out into a lake on a windy autumn day, that's too much to expect.

The Robert Burt home is built so close to Maceday Lake that photographing the exterior from the front meant getting into the lake. Since no boat was available, we'll have to tell you about the house.

The Burts, who are former Huron Gardens residents, chose red brick for the exterior of their new home. The house has wide overhangs. Turquoise is the color of the trim. They chose a stock plan from Suburbanite Home Builders.

Included in the family that moved in in February is 19-year-old Robert, 18-year-old Ruthanne (married since we saw the house) and 16-year-old Judy.

You can enter the house through the garage, through the utility room or through the front door. Only guests arriving by boat would use the latter entrance.

The utility room and kitchen are treated as one unit in decorating. The floor is spatter print linoleum, gray with pink and black specks. All woodwork is natural birch.

Kitchen cupboards are birch with a silver gray finish. Counter tops are pink Formica. Mrs. Burt painted the refrigerator pink to match. The other pink item is the sink.

SLIDING DOORS

An open archway brings the family room close to anyone coming into the kitchen. At the front of the room there are sliding glass doors that open out on a cement patio on the lake side.

This 12x17-foot room has a corktone tile floor like the floors in all the other rooms except the kitchen. Walls are the same green as in the kitchen. Around the red brick fireplace there is a paneled wainscoting. Louvered doors hide the furnace.

In this room the furniture is casual. Opposite the fireplace is a pink plastic love seat. Two gray plastic upholstered chairs have black wrought iron frames.

The living room and dining room are one L-shaped room. In the dining room there is a mahogany corner cupboard and a Duncan Phyfe drop-leaf table. The chairs have needlepoint seats.

The sofa is a soft rosy beige. One chair is gold. Tables and the hi-fi set are blonde wood.

FULL-LENGTH MIRROR

The bath, like the kitchen, is done in shades of pink and gray. Tiles are pink; the fixtures are gray. On the upper walls the pink wallpaper has silver butterflies on it. In this room there is a full-length mirror, an essential accessory for three feminine residents.

The Burts' room has turquoise walls which look much lighter in direct sunlight. Furniture has a gray finish. Curtains, the throw rug and the hobnail spread are all white. It makes a clean, quiet-looking room.

In the girls' room the walls are mint green. Their furniture is blonde. There is a pair of chests, one for each girl. The double bed has a bookcase headboard. Curtains and bedspread are white.

Bob's room has pale yellow walls. His furniture is maple. Curtains are brown. On the spool-type bed there is a yellow and brown patchwork spread.

The Burts are still busy fixing up their 170x100-foot lot. They may have some plans for the inside as time goes on.

CORRIDOR KITCHEN — This is a favorite plan in many homes at the present time. It allows for counter space on both sides of the room. In this kitchen the refrigerator is nearest the back door, the sink at the middle of the triangle and the stove at the third point, nearest the dining room; the experts say this saves steps. Walls in the Burt kitchen are green. The cupboards have a silver gray finish on them. Aluminum canisters add another gray tone. Mrs. Burt was getting ready to make an apple pie.

Check Your Kitchen Against Standards

Good storage facilities are almost as essential to kitchen efficiency as are modern ranges and ovens, home planning specialists point out.

How does your kitchen compare in this respect with the recommendations of the experts? Just for fun, check your cabinet space against the following standards.

They were set forth by a Michigan State University home management specialist in a recent seminar sponsored by the National Institute of Wood Kitchen Cabinets.

Dishes — from 24 to 72 inches, depending upon the size of the family.

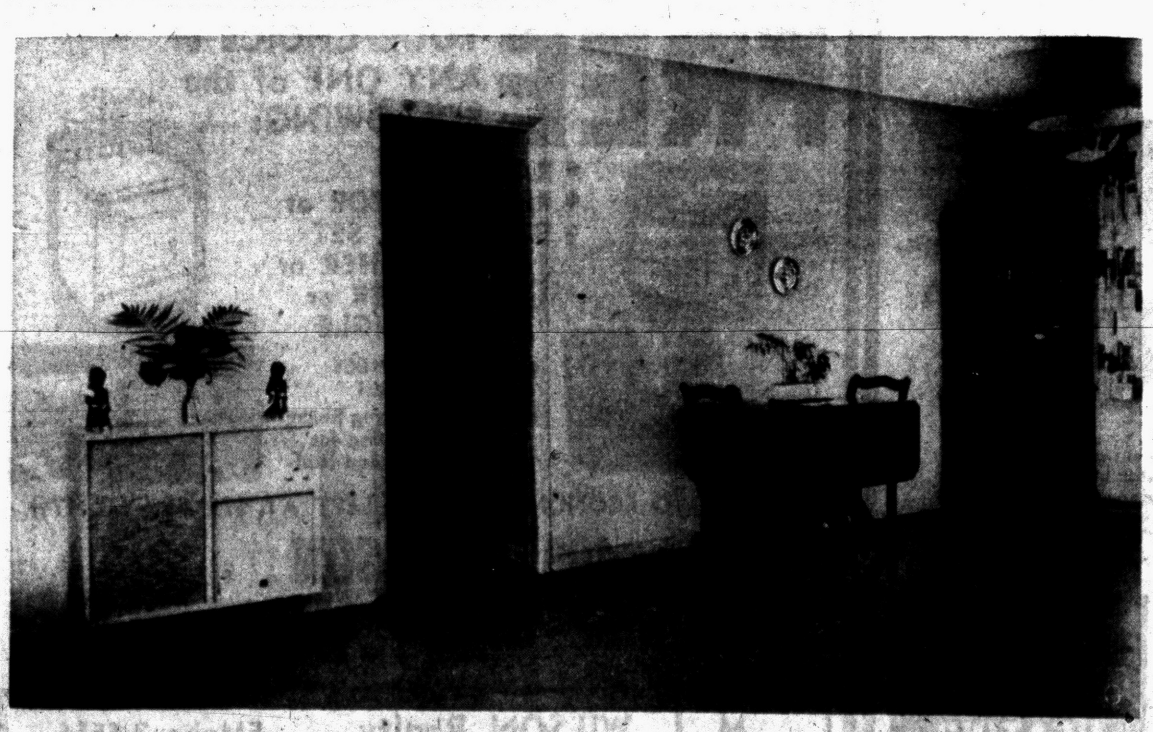

Clothes — hanging storage near the back door, but not necessarily in the kitchen proper. In a kitchen with a washer and dryer, there also should be cabinets above these appliances.

The Michigan State specialist offered these additional storage tips for maximum convenience:

Provide storage at the point of use and most of it within the "easy reach" area. Have adjustable shelves in wall cabinets and pull-out trays in base cabinets. Provide dish storage both at the left of the sink and in the dining area.

LIVING ROOM — In homes where there is a family room the living room resembles more and more the old-fashioned parlor. It is kept always in good order for any guests. This is what women who attend the Woman's Congress on Housing in Washington say they want. Walls in this room are pale green. The draperies at the front picture windows are white with a gold and brown design. One chair is gold.

DINING ELL—With the drop leaf table folded down and pushed back against the wall, there is lots of room left in this part of the living-dining room. The ceiling fixture is pierced brass. The door leads to the bedroom wing.

A BIG CHANGE — For some years the Henry Sinks of Avondale avenue in Sylvan Lake City wanted to remodel their kitchen. They had white birch cabinets put in to replace the too few old-fashioned ones that were there. The double sink, of course, is new; underneath there is a lighted cupboard with a pull-out towel rack. Mr. Sink who is shown here with his mid-morning coffee did all the electrical work. Beside him, under the cupboard, is a fluorescent tube light; there is also a light in the corner cupboard with the lazy susan. Wallpaper and curtains match; the Granada tile pattern is aqua, tan and gold. The new linoleum on the floor is a confetti pattern in beige, aqua and pink. Counter Counter tops and the miniature breakfast bar have aqua Formica tops. The lower walls are pale aqua. This remodeling has not only given Mrs. Sink a more convenient place in which to work, but a pleasanter one as well.

Figuring Heater Sizes

Ever have a shower bath run cold because the washing machine is in use? Here is a table, prepared by the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau, showing minimum storage capacities needed for automatic hot water heaters, depending on the number of bathrooms and bedrooms in a house:

Bathrooms	Bedrooms	Capacity
1	3 to 4	40 gallons
2	2 to 3	40 gallons
2	4 to 5	50 gallons
3	4 to 5	75 gallons

No More Drip in Bathroom

KOHLER, Wis.—Housewives all over the country are praising a new and ingenious device which has put an end to the muss and fuss of cleaning up after a dripping closet tank.

Kohler Co. has placed an inexpensive thermostatic valve on the market which delivers warmed water to the closet tank. With no cool surfaces, condensation does not occur—with no condensation there is no drip and no wet bathroom floor.

The all brass valve is about the size of a pistol and can be easily installed by a plumber. The valve was put to the test this summer in many thousands of homes all over the country.

Finely machined in the same division of the Kohler Co. which manufactures precision valves for jet airplanes and rockets, the valve mixes water from the hot and cold supply lines to deliver tempered water to the closet tank. When the closet is flushed, water from the cold line flows through the valve past the thermostat unit.

If water in the line is at room temperature, the thermostat remains closed. When the temperature of the cold water drops, the thermostat unit contracts allowing enough hot water to enter and raising the temperature of the water going to the tank.

An exposed adjustment screw permits close regulation to the local water and room temperatures. The valve can be installed near the water heater with a separate tempered water line to the closet or it can be placed in the bathroom where hot water is taken from the bathroom hot water lines.

Location of Sink of First Importance

One of the simple fundamentals of kitchen planning is to get a good location for the sink. Even if there is an automatic dishwasher in the kitchen, the sink is still a very important piece of equipment in the kitchen.

About half of the homemaker's time is spent at the sink in the preparation of food and in the clearing away process. The preferred spot for the sink is under a window. Also the sink should, if possible, be placed between the refrigerator and the range. It is used most often in connection with these in food preparation.

The trend in kitchen planning is toward the sink with two compartments. The number of drainboards is optional. A disappearing rinse hose for cleaning vegetables and fruits is a very useful adjunct to the sink. Virtually all sinks now come with a crumb strainer which converts the bowl to a water-tight compartment.

Booklet Gives Heating Hints

Although it is not necessary to become an authority on the subject, it's wise to have an intelligent understanding of the whys and hows of the system that is responsible for your family's wintertime warmth and comfort. As an introduction to the mysteries of what goes on in the cellar or the furnace room, Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers have compiled a booklet that is designed to serve as a primer for the average homemaker.

Called "How to Get the Best From Your Heating System," the 12-page publication includes suggestions on how to improve the performance of an existing heating plant, how to evaluate the units in a home you are planning to buy, how to save money on fuel and repairs, and a special check-list of things to do in an emergency to keep the system going until a trained serviceman can be summoned.

Detailed colored diagrams and simple explanations give the basic facts of the main types of heating systems and the principles on which they work. A special section is devoted to the proper method of regulating the heat out-put of the furnace to keep pace with changing weather conditions.

A listing of the thermostats best suited for individual household needs is included as well as a description of the new, inexpensive electric indoor-outdoor team of thermostats, and the deluxe electronic models that provide proper climate control whatever the weather.

Zone control — the solution to problem heating areas — is explained with recommendations for thermostat placement in such difficult areas as a room above a garage, a finished basement, rooms with large windows, homes with spread-out floor plans or split-level types of houses.

The booklet may be obtained, without cost, by writing to Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company, 2747 Fourth Avenue South, Minneapolis 8, Minn.

Wall Tile Reduces Noise

The widespread use of acoustical tile in ceilings should not overshadow its importance as a wall covering, building materials specialists point out. They report that the noise reducing qualities of the perforated tiles are extremely effective when the tiles are applid to walls that divide sleeping and living areas.

Expect to Have Care Taken

The importance of proper protection for the surface of plumbing fixtures while a house is under construction is emphasized by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau.

While employes of the plumbing contractor are familiar with the care which plumbing fixtures should receive during unloading, handling, and installation, employes of other contractors engaged in construction are not so well informed.

Consequently the bathtub is often used as a catchall for old paper, wood, tools, etc. Regardless of how carefully the fixture is covered, heavy objects may mar or damage the finish. Sour paste, wet paper, wet excelsior, or wet burlap will have a tendency to stain the enameled surface.

No abuse is so damaging as is cleaning acid used by tile setters or other craftsmen. It is usually a costly damage requiring in many cases actual replacement of fixtures already tiled in. Naturally the manufacturer cannot accept responsibility for damage to fixtures by others or the burden of replacing fixtures so damaged.

It is suggested that the following three paragraphs be included in specifications by architects and builders.

The plumbing contractor shall provide protection for the surfaces of all plumbing fixtures from damage before, during, and after the installation and until his work is completed and accepted.

Contractors and sub-contractors shall not use plumbing fixtures for the storage of tools or materials, nor as a support or platform.

Unbelievably Strong

Wood has great strength-to-weight ratio and can withstand severe shock without fragmentation. That is why wood frame homes are so popular in earthquake and tornado areas. A wood frame house one and a half miles from ground zero withstood the smash of an atomic explosion during tests in the Nevada desert. The nation uses more Douglas fir framing lumber than any other species.

Tennessee was part of the "Territory South of the Ohio" until it became a state in 1796.

ROCKING HORSE — There's no need for Christmas gifts to take your family budget on a sleigh ride every year. You can have a "merry" time in spite of the giant holiday price tags. It's just a case of doing it yourself. For example, the little rocking horse pictured here with NBC's young television actor Ronald Poole can be built from a few scraps of wood in two or three evenings for a cost of practically nothing. All that's required are a few pieces of common one inch boards and a few simple tools. All you need do is trace the full size pattern on the wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. Painting is easy too. You simply trace the horse's features on the wood and then paint over the tracings. After that, you can add a few bright upholstery tacks to give it a silver-mounted look and your horse is ready to tie-up to the nearest Christmas tree. Then watch him gallop off with the happiest little tyke in the world on his back. To obtain the full size rocking horse pattern No. 56 send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

A GREETING TO ALL from your roof top with this life-size Santa. Pattern 415 gives actual-size cutting and painting guides for this cut-out which includes the chimney and 10-inch letters for Merry Christmas along the eaves—all to be cut from hardboard. Mounting directions come with the five large pattern sheets. May be used year after year. Price of pattern $1.

Wood putty containing 10 per cent white lead is recommended for use in filling nail holes and cracks when preparing interior wood for staining. Putty should be mixed with a small amount of stain before applying.

Find Out How to Keep Plumbing in Good Order

With the average household plumbing system representing an investment of about 10 per cent of the value of the house, it is important for owners to know how to keep the plumbing system in good operating condition.

Helpful suggestions are offered in a booklet "Plumbing Care and Repair" published by the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois. Price of the booklet is 10 cents.

Grout Is Not a Disease

Grout isn't an old fashioned foot ailment. Grout is the term applied to the cement between the joints of ceramic floor and wall tile. A recent development in countertop grouts has made the cement impervious to stains from all household items, increasing the beauty of the ceramic tile surface. The new grout creates a kitchen surface of maximum sanitation.

Use Square Measurement

A "square" is an area 10 feet by 10 feet (100 square feet). Roofing experts of Allied Chemical's Barrett Division say the unit is used to determine the amount of labor and materials to cover a roof. The roof of the average home will measure between 15 and 25 squares.

Lay Out Paper Pattern

Planning a wall arrangement of your favorite pictures and interesting ornaments can be rewarding. To get a preview, lay them out on the floor or cut pieces of construction paper to the right size and shape and tape to the wall. Be sure to use the shape and light of your lamps as part of the composition.

Dockside banking service is provided by the Bristol, Pa., branch of the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co., on the Delaware River. A wharf on the bank's property is a transfer point where depositors can dock and deposit or withdraw a few dollars.

The expression "raising the roof" dates from the Old West, where the roof was built separately from the rest of the house. Neighbors would help the builder lift the roof onto the framework and then there would be a party to celebrate the event.

Reclaim Space for New Room

Uselessness a virtue?

Yes, when it's a useless room in a home hungry for storage facilities.

That long-disused pantry off the kitchen, the short leg of an L-shaped kitchen, an odd corner of the basement or attic. Any of these previously useless areas can yield new-found efficiency and convenience. Here are some planning points for salvaging a utility room from waste space:

1. It should be accessible both from kitchen and outside. If located in the basement, the new room should adjoin the stairway to upper levels. (All basements should have separate access to the outside.)

2. The utility room obviously won't require the aesthetic attention demanded for a living room or bedroom, but neither should it surround the homemaker with unattractive working conditions. The use of such floor and wall surfacing as ceramic tile and quarry tile combines good looks (more than 200 colors) with good sense (permanent, maintenance-free materials).

3. Besides laundry equipment, the utility room should accommodate such diverse household items as gardening implements, play and hobby equipment, nonperishable food storage and heavy tools.

4. A half-bath can be included as part of the remodeling if the new utility room is in the basement. To exploit the saving in the combination project, locate the bath next to the utility room.

5. Counters and open shelves in the utility room call for ceramic tile surfacing to stand up under the rugged treatment and infrequent cleaning they receive.

6. Don't neglect to provide adequate heating and lighting facilities so the utility room can be used day or night the year round.

Sand in Paint Will Give Nonslip Steps

Sand in the paint which you use on your porch steps will keep you from slipping in wet weather. To skidproof concrete porch steps, it has long been the custom to sprinkle sand on freshly painted surfaces. One homeowner devised a method he found even better, which was to mix sand directly into the paint.

First thin the paint somewhat, then mix in fine, clean sand. This will prevent thickening too much to apply. Best use a shallow container, so the brush will reach the bottom, and can be used to stir the paint.

Pick up a generous amount of sand with each brushful, and of course stir the mixture vigorously every few minutes. This treatment will give you a skidproof surface as long as the coating of paint lasts. Or better yet — buy a nonskid paint.

HANDSOME DIVIDER — Divider walls are usually used to separate one room from another, but in some rooms, dividers come in handy as a means of regulating traffic and separating use areas. In this lovely kitchen, an island of champagne colored west coast hemlock marks off the utility area from the cooking area. On the utility side, there is storage space for cleaning and ironing equipment, while on the other side, the kitchen range and pot-and-pan storage are located.

Here's the Answer

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Question: I recently bought an unfinished coffee table at a lumber yard. I decided to put a plastic laminate top on it and had no trouble in doing so. But I ran into difficulty in attempting to put chrome trim around the edges of the table. I ruined one piece of the trim and then put on a second piece.

But the metal is all bunched up at each corner and looks so amateurish that we haven't even used the table yet. I'd like to remove the metal edging and cover the edges with the same kind of plastic laminate as on the top of the table. Can you tell me how to do this?

Answer: Plastic laminate edging must be put on the edges of a table before the top is put on. Otherwise you'll get another amateurish result. From your description, it appears that you put on the chrome trim without taking the necessary step to prevent crinkling at the corners. You can't bend the chrome edging around a sharp corner without making a V-cut in the metal at that point. This V-cut can be made with a hacksaw, although for some persons it's a lot easier to do it with a 3-cornered file, which makes an automatic V in the metal. Once the V has been cut at the precise point where it must be bent around a corner, you'll have little or no trouble with bunching. You have little choice now but to remove the old metal edging and put on new.

Question: My hobby is woodworking. I've worked with many different kinds of wood, but never with lemon wood, a type I intend to use soon in a new project. Is it true that most glues will not hold well on lemon wood and that a special type of glue must be used? If so, what kind?

Answer: Many glues will hold fairly well on lemon wood. However, it is best to avoid using the powdered-resin types of adhesives, since they do not work too well with any oily wood, such as lemon. The best adhesive for this wood is powdered casein, which is unaffected by oils.

Protect Those Floors in Wet Dirty Weather

When bad weather drives the youngsters indoors, that's when the rumpus room takes a beating. The floors, particularly, get unusual wear from fast-flying feet and heavy shoes that track in soil and grit. Furniture and paneling also suffer.

If the floors are wood, give them a buffing with paste or liquid polishing wax. Each gives lasting protection. If the floors are rubber or asphalt tile, vinyl plastic or other man-made material, use a self-polishing wax.

About 79 per cent of the nation's electricity is generated by steam plants.

White Roofs Proved Definitely Cooler

White as a roof color is making news by its prevalence in Levittown, N.J., as well as other suburban and urban communities. While the ability of white and pale colors to reflect light and heat has long been established, the use of this principle has but recently been applied extensively to house exteriors.

Current estimates indicate that a white roof will reflect back the sun's rays sufficiently to make a cooling difference of as much as 10 to 15 per cent in the interior temperature of the house.

When you start your autumn house coloring discuss your dark-roof problem if you have one, with your paint dealer or contractor. There are various types of white roof paints — one especially designed to coat the roof of your home.

Carry Putty With You

No matter what precautions you have taken, there are always small areas needing calking, as you apply the final coat of paint to your house exterior. Here is an aid you should know about. A small lump of putty can be carried right on the paint pail with a holder bent from sheet metal. The putty will remain in place if forced over an upstanding nail which you have soldered to the holder.

Electronic Brain Duplicates Colors

At last an electronic brain has been created that compares with the most exacting professional skill in mixing colors. This recent development enables you to match any color swatch you desire in any type of paint finish. Once you select a color, this machine, called the color carousel, can match it in flat, semi-gloss, gloss, house paint, floor enamel, decorative enamel, exterior trim enamel, latex, asbestos shingle and masonry paint, and wood shake finish.

Besides the amazing ability to match any and every color under the sun, duplication of the exact color, a year or more later is a simple matter of dialing the necessary code, on the color carousel panel and pressing a button. The exact color will be served up in pints, quarts or gallons in less than 30 seconds.

So many different kinds of furniture are used for room dividers these days, that manufacturers are cooperating by finishing all sides of desks, chests, cabinets and sideboards.

FASCINATING WALL—This unique bookcase wall is a tribute to an imaginative designer. What would have been two small, inadequate windows were converted into outstanding additions to the room. The windows were recessed the depth of the bookcase and framed as shown. Translucent glass was installed at outside wall line. Bric-a-brac and flowers are beautifully displayed. The bookcase wall and frames were built of Douglas fir and finished with clear lacquer to retain the beauty and texture of the soft-toned wood.

Home Buyers Should Heed FHA Questions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Thinking about buying a house?

If so, nine reminders from the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) about some of the important matters you should consider before signing on the dotted line may prove of value.

Since Congress established it in 1934, the FHA has insured more than 4,500,000 home mortgages for more than 30 billion dollars. (If you are buying a one-family house, you may qualify for up to $20,000 of FHA mortgage insurance. The ceiling is higher for multiple-dwelling units.)

Before signing the purchase contract, FHA advises, read the following questions and comments:

—Do you really know what the house is worth?

Buying a house is usually the largest single investment a family makes. Home ownership may be the object of many years of saving. Therefore, it is important to know the value of the house. Under the FHA insurance plan, an FHA appraiser gives an expert opinion on what the house is worth. This estimate, FHA says, generally represents the dwelling's market value.

—Does the price fit your family's income?

While the buyer should not exceed his means, many families can afford better—more spacious and modern—housing than they actually have. FHA puts it this way: "Are you really giving your wife and children what you can afford in convenience and comfort?"

—Have you considered all the costs of home ownership?

Besides paying principal and interest on the mortgage, the home owner must pay insurance premiums and property taxes. Persons who have always rented may tend to overlook these items. In calculating your monthly payments, figure them in.

—Are you sure you won't be carrying a second mortgage?

Secondary financing, FHA says, is both expensive and dangerous. Sometimes it's an unsound way to buy a house you otherwise can't afford. Under the FHA plan, second mortgages are forbidden.

—What will it cost to run and maintain the house?

Heating or air conditioning, for instance, can be a big monthly expense—surprisingly so for people paying these bills for the first time. Utilities costs vary from city to city. Simplicity of design keeps down maintenance expenses. Insulation holds down the heating bill.

—Have you taken a long-range look at the design of the house?

It may be the rage of today, but how will it look in a few years when the family is bigger and you need larger quarters? If it's unpopular, the house may sell for very much less than you're paying now.

—What about the neighborhood?

Does it offer convenience and desirable schools, stores and churches? Is the public transportation system adequate? If the neighborhood is dying or changing to a commercial or industrial nature, your property's value may go down.

—Do you know about closing costs?

When property is transferred, there are charges for title search—to make sure the buyer is getting "good title"—and title guarantee and for recording the transaction with the local authorities. These charges vary. Be sure you know what you are paying for and how much.

—Have you read the mortgage?

You must do this to know exactly what your rights and responsibilities are. Being sure can prevent confusion and even litigation.

Don't Rip Up the Floor

No need to worry more about how to repair the holes broken or worn in linoleum. Make a patching "plaster" of cork and white shellac. Chop the cork into very fine pieces, a food grinder can be used for this, and mix the powdered cork with the white shellac until the mixture is the consistency of paint. Trowel it into the hole in the linoleu mand, when dry, touch up with paint to match the pattern and make it inconspicuous.

Four inches of rock wool used in home insulation is as effective as 125 inches of stone, 120 inches of concrete, 70 inches of brick or 15 inches of wood.

Married Floors Can Have Spots Renewed

Unless a hardwood floor is in really bad shape, a great deal can be done to improve its appearance without going to the length of overall sanding and refinishing.

White stains left by water will disappear if they are rubbed hard with a soft cloth moistened with kerosene or turpentine. To remove black smudges, first rub with denatured alcohol and fine steel wool. Then cover with a hot solution of oxalic acid. Leave on over night. In the morning, wash with clean cloth. After wood has dried, smooth with fine sandpaper.

Rubbing with fine steel wool covered with heavy paste wax will banish shallow scratches that do not penetrate the finish. Deeper scratches should be cleaned out with sandpaper or a sharp knife. Then fill with plastic wood, built up a little higher than the board surface. Sand down after filler has hardened.

A floor board splinter that is still all there can be glued down, using a weight or wedge, or both, to hold it in place until the glue has dried. If a splinter has partly broken off, cut it all away at its base and use plastic wood to fill the space. Sand smooth when hard.

To refinish sanded areas, dilute three parts of orange or clear shellac with one part denatured alcohol. Apply with a soft brush and let dry over night. If the refinished area has too high a gloss, it can be dulled by rubbing very lightly with fine steel wool.

Paint Asbestos Cement According to Experts

You needn't be worried about painting asbestos cement since the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association has prepared a booklet which covers fully the best methods of painting these surfaces. The booklet tells the composition of asbestos-cement products, and answers every conceivable question on painting problems, the care and treatment and uses to which such products are adapted.

Just send your name and address, and your request for the booklet called "Painting Asbestos Cement Products," to National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Avenue, N. W., Washington 5, D. C. It will be sent to you free of charge.

If nails are too long for the stock you're nailing together, drive them in at an angle. This trick not only keeps nails from coming through the back, but in most cases produces a stronger joint.

FAMILY RANCH — A lifetime of convenience is what the architect, Lester Cohen, had in mind when he designed this family ranch home. Luxurious provision is made for Mom and Dad while the family is growing. After the children depart, the home can easily be converted to the needs of a couple living alone.

ALL ON ONE LEVEL — All the essential elements of the home are on one level. Note the generous use of glass and the ease with which bedroom No. 3 can be converted from a sleeping room to a study. The indoor-outdoor family room in the rear can be enclosed with jalousies for year-around use. Not shown is the basement, which contains a huge playroom, refreshment bar and hobby, storage and heating rooms.

By DAVID L. BOWEN

Here's a home that strikes a blow for Mom and Dad.

It has a master bedroom suite luxurious enough for royalty and bound to inspire the evening interlude of happy serenity parents require if they are to survive the rewarding but rigorous joys of raising a family.

The house, designated X-31 in the House of the Week series, was designed by Architect Lester Cohen with a young family in mind, but laid out to provide a lifetime of comfortable living.

Multiple-use rooms and a simple one-floor layout insure that when the children marry and start meeting mortgage payments of their own, mother and father will not be lost in a house designed only for a crowd.

The home is adaptable to every climate, since the basement can be eliminated easily. In the South, if no basement is desired, the indoor-outdoor family room off the kitchen and dining areas can take the place of the basement playroom.

While every prospective homebuilder will examine the floor plan and draw his own conclusions, here's a summary of X-31's principle features:

LIVING AREA

Living and dining areas are alive with light. The wall extending across the front of the house is almost entirely glass, and a similar clear glass expanse opens on the patio and terrace at the rear. Available space for entertaining in living and dining rooms combined comes to almost 400 square feet. There is an attractive fireplace in the corner of the living room and the chimney wall extends outside to provide a barbecue.

The entire right wing of the house is given over to three comfortable bedrooms. An exceptional feature for the parents is a privacy alcove in the master suite, something new in bedroom decor. It's not a tiny niche.

It amounts to an extra room where parents can read, sew or watch television without danger of intrusion. In addition to this, Architect Cohen has included generous wardrobe closets which form one side of a hallway leading from the privacy alcove to the master suite bathroom and vanity corner.

A full bathroom with double vanity-lavatory has been placed at the end of the main hall, easily accessible from the other two bedrooms. A service lavatory is included in the laundry area at the other end of the house, giving the home 2½ baths.

One of the main purposes of this design was to provide a home for a whole generation of living. While children are young, the two rear bedrooms can be put to their use.

When they strike out on their own, bedroom No. 3 can easily be converted into a study, with a door cut through to the living room. Bedroom 2 can then be used as a "spare" for grandchildren or guest.

Another special feature is the ease with which this design can be converted to basementless design. The laundry-utility room can be widened to take in the stair area where heater and hot water tank can be located. The indoor-outdoor room takes the place of the large basement playroom and, since the entire plan is for "all-on-one floor" living, the laundry need not move at all.

HOUSEKEEPING AREAS

A service vestibule forms the core of the housekeeping section. This vestibule can be entered from the front and from the garage. From the vestibule there is ready access to the laundry room and the kitchen. A dinette corner is available in the kitchen away from the work areas and overlooking the indoor-outdoor room. The kitchen plan calls for a wall oven and counter top range, with plenty of cabinets.

A tremendous outdoor family room, roofed over in part with a terrace beyond this, lies just off the living room, dining room and kitchen. It can be reached directly from all three of these rooms.

It can become a delightful summer living area, with outdoor cooking facilities available when the barbecue fireplace is put to use. The architect suggests glass jalousies if this room is to be enclosed for year around use.

The design has eight large and conveniently placed closets, plus ample storage room in the oversized double garage and in the basement.

The roof is asphalt shingles. Wood shakes, stone veneer and a touch of vertical redwood louvres (used in the service entry shield) are employed around the sides. The terrace is scored concrete. Glass panels and sliding doors are used in abundance.

House X-31 has over-all dimensions of 88' by 34' 4", including garage. A lot of 110' is recommended. Habitable area is 1,472 square feet with garage area of 591 square feet.

Hobby Needn't Upset Home

It's fine to play around with a hobby, but don't let it play hob with your home.

Turning the kitchen into a photographic darkroom or the dining room into a carpentry shop is one sure way of inciting family mutiny. Makeshift arrangements can be pretty frustrating for the hobbyist, too.

You may not be able to build the "dream" darkroom or workshop, but even the corner of the basement or attic is better than nothing at all.

Whether you're making photographic enlargments or model airplanes, an essential is a good floor surface that can take punishment from chemicals, cement and other such products without leaving stains and scars. Ceramic tile is ideal for this purpose.

Running water is, of course, a must for darkrooms, and it's nice to have in any hobby room for cleaning up the mess. Counter tops of easy-to-clean ceramic tile are a good bet.

There are many ways to economize on space. You can keep small objects within easy reach by keeping them in fruit jars, the screwtops of which have been nailed to the ceiling. Tools can be hung from nails on the walls. Second-hand metal filing cabinets, supplemented by shelves on the walls, will provide space for your supplies.

Orderliness and cleanliness are a prime rule for any hobbyist. Equip yourself with one or more large waste baskets and your own mop, broom and dustpan.

Marble Can't Take It!

Marble is not as rugged as many persons think. Oils, citrus fruit acids, alcohol and tobacco, all of which will stain wood, also will stain marble. On the market is a creamy wax which cleans, polishes, and protects marble.

Put Wood on West Wall to Cool Off House

When a combination of materials is used on the home exterior, the strategic location for wood siding is on the western walls, the Southern Pine Association declares. This part of the house is exposed to the afternoon sun, and the adjacent rooms can be protected and cooled by the natural insulative value of lumber. The American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers Guide shows that one inch of wood (thickness of siding) is equal to six inches of brick or 15 inches of sandstone or concrete in insulating value.

Quemoy Quiet on 'Even' Day

Nationalists Fail to Use Scheduled Truce to Bring in Convoy

TAIPEI (AP) — Quemoy offshore hostilities subsided into another even-numbered day of quiet today.

By early afternoon the Nationalists had not taken advantage of the no-shelling day to push another supply convoy across Formosa Strait, although they sent convoys on the other three no-shelling days this week.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry refuses to report on convoy sailings giving military security as the reason. However, Nationalist officials are reluctant to announce the convoys as a matter of face, lest it be interpreted as comforming to a Communist schedule.

A Nationalist communique reported day-long but sporadic Red gunfire on the offshore islands Friday. Headquarters said the Communist shelling totalled 1,844 rounds.

The communique said Nationalist counterfire destroyed six Communist guns and one fortification.

Says Russia Leads U.S. in Missiles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever gives this as a consensus of informed opinion:

Russia has an edge over the United States in short-range ballistic missiles, substantially less of a lead in intermediate range weapons and apparently is about even in intercontinental range missiles.

The commander of the Air Force ballistic missile division told the World Affairs Council Friday:

"In saying this I do not want to leave you with the impression that all our problems are solved or that we can relax.

"We need to worry. We need to do some constructive worrying. It would do us no harm to stay up nights worrying—constructively — because we are up against an adversary who never coasts and rarely sleeps."

New Treasurer for Township

Earl Stone Replacing Oming Who Is Charged With Embezzling

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Washington Township Board last night declared the office of township treasurer vacant, and appointed Earl L. Stone, 66, of Washington, to the position until the regular election next spring.

This action followed the jailing of former treasurer William M. Oming on a four-count charge of embezzling at least $1,700 in township tax receipts.

Percy G. Horler, township attorney, said a meeting of township, county and prosecutor's office officials has been scheduled for Monday morning in the prosecutor's office in Mount Clemens. An attempt will be made to get all three parties interested in the case to agree on engaging a firm to audit the township's books.

The resolution declaring the treasurer's office vacant was based primarily on Oming's failure to give a bond to the township as required by law when he took office, according to Horler.

Stone's appointment will take effect when he meets all requirements, including furnishing bond and taking his oath.

He lives at 7344 West St., Washington, and has served several previous terms in the same capacity in the township. He also has worked for many years in the county treasurer's office.

Army Awards Contract

MARYSVILLE (AP) — An army equipment contract for $454,000 has been awarded the St. Clair Rubber Co. of Marysville under the government program of aid to small business. The program is a joint effort of the U.S. Army Engineer Procurement Office and the Small Business Administration.

Film Traps Bacteria

Atom Scientists Attack Problem of Dirty Dishes

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Atomic research has been put to work here in hopes of helping housewives with an ancient chore—dishwashing.

The objective of the University of Michigan research is to learn the health hazard of invisible grease that clings to freshly washed dishes and utensils.

To reach their goal, scientists are smearing piles of dishes with radioactive bacteria and common kitchen greases.

The contaminated dishes then are washed and dried.

By measuring the radioactivity left on the washed dishes, the scientists can tell the amount of germs and grease not washed off, says Edward H. Armbruster, a university public health engineer.

"The information obtained from our study will be applicable to homes, restaurants, bars and food processing plants," he said.

The film that sticks to washed glasses and dishes and makes them feel slimy often is blamed on soap stain or chemicals in the water. The researchers here disagree.

"It consists of various vegetable and animal greases, thin as a fingerprint," said Armbruster, who heads the three-year study.

He said normal dishwashing only spreads the film.

Armbruster explained that the film itself isn't a danger to health. Its harm, he said, is its knack of trapping and hiding bacteria despite repeated washings.

Included in the study will be a search for methods of freeing dishes, glasses and utensils of the film, Armbruster and Prof. Gerald M. Ridenour of the department of environmental health will test eating ware of china, plastic, steel, glass and aluminum.

"Once we get rid of the grease film," said Armbruster, "no one will have to dry dishes any more. The water will sheet off rapidly and evenly and the dishes will literally dry themselves."

The project is supported by a $60,000 grant from the U. S. Public Health Service.

Run-Off-Road Crash 2nd Traffic Killer

LANSING (AP) — State Police report more traffic casualties in rural areas are caused by accidents in which a vehicle runs off the road than any other type of accident except vehicular collisions.

Traffic analyst Orrin Lucas says there were 4,970 ran-off-roadway accidents in rural Michigan in 1957. They caused 27.7 per cent of rural traffic deaths and 25.9 per cent of rural traffic injuries.

In the past 10 years deaths from rural ran-off-roadway accidents jumped 52 per cent while deaths from vehicular collisions rose only 11 per cent.

Martha Raye, Bodyguard Wed Quietly

The usually raucous, energetic comedienne quietly took the vows at a brief ceremony conducted by Mayor August Hannibal in his modest home.

It was the sixth marriage for Miss Raye, 42, and the second for O'Shea, 31, former Westport, Conn., policeman who now operates a private detective agency in New York.

Miss Raye met O'Shea while he was a policeman and hired him as a part-time bodyguard. She was then living in Connecticut.

Invasion of Foreign Cars May Force U.S. Competition

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Small, foreign-built automobiles are pouring into the United States at an average of nearly a thousand units a day. Next year is virtually certain to see the average go up to 1,250 daily.

What is this invasion of the U.S. car market doing to automotive manufacturing and merchandising concepts in this country? Primarily it is hastening the time when all U.S. auto makers will produce a line of small cars in their American factories.

Automotive circles except General Motors, Ford and Chrysler to have their own American-built smaller cars on the market at this time next year. But what this will do to the market for smaller vehicles or, for that matter, to the overall U.S. market for automobiles, presents further questions.

Here are a few of them:

Is the demand for small cars large enough to continue profitable if it is divided among more producers, specifically three giant concerns like General Motors, Ford and Chrysler?

Can the American Big Three produce smaller cars to compete in price with the more popular imported vehicles?

How deeply will smaller — and presumably somewhat lower priced — GM, Ford and Chrysler cars cut into sales of Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth cars?

Some industry analysts say the advent of three more American-built smaller cars will cut sharply into the lush market foreign car makers have found in the United States. They say, too, that profit from the new smaller GM, Ford and Chrysler cars will have to come both from competition with the foreign cars and at least a part of the market now supplied by Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth.

Labor costs, which average approximately $2.60 hourly for GM, Ford and Chrysler, are more than triple those in many foreign auto plants. This, the analysts say, answers the question as to whether U.S. auto makers can compete pricewise with imported small cars.

Campbell Tells Rotary Club:

State Economic Future Bright

Michigan's economic future is bright and the state will continue to prosper if her citizens work at it, according to James H. Campbell, senior vice president of Consumers Power Company, in a speech to the Pontiac Rotary Club.

Campbell, a graduate of Pontiac High School who went on to Purdue University and then followed his father's footsteps into the utility business, addressed the club on the economic outlook for Michigan. He is the son of the late Birum G. Campbell, who was Consumers' Pontiac Division manager for many years.

Campbell said that Michigan has everything in its favor for a better tomorrow "If her citizens remember that America's greatness rests on the realization that the individual must be free to rise to the heights of the powers that God gave him."

He said America's greatness does not rest on the theory that "the government will do it for you."

Campbell noted census bureau projections which indicate Michigan will have a 2,500,000 more people by 1970, and that Michigan has been growing faster than any state in the central U. S., and will maintain its seventh-place rank in population.

"This suggests that we will maintain our present high rank as an industrial state, which won't be easy to do," he added. "Other states, including some very close neighbors, will take our industries if they can. It's up to us to hang onto them."

Touching briefly on the contributions to the state's prosperity by Michigan industry, Campbell cited ways in which Consumers Power Company is striving to meet the growing demands of a growing state for increased amounts of electric power and natural gas.

He said Consumers has a new gas contract with Trunkline Gas Company which provides for large additional amounts of gas beginning about a year from now and increasing yearly until 1963. He said the contract is expected to provide enough gas to take care of most of the space heating applications on the company's lists—more than 140,000 around the state — plus the normal growth of gas use during the next few years.

About $32,000, will be spent in 1959 by Consumers to build new pipeline and compressor facilities in order to receive and distribute the anticipated new gas supply, he added.

He said the company's electric growth since World War II has been rapid. At the end of the war the company had an electric generating capacity of 640,000 kilowatts. Now it is three times that—2,000,000 kilowatts, with another 800,000 kilowatts of additional capacity now under construction at new plants on Saginaw Bay and on Lake Michigan near Grand Haven. In the same period gas supply has been increased 600 per cent.

He said that management alone can't do the job of building a better Michigan. "But Michigan has the work force too —the mechanics and the machine operators, the technicians, the artisans, the skilled men and women, the engineers and chemists needed for a versatile and well-rounded industrial production team. "This is another reason Michigan's outlook is good, he said.

Campbell's headquarters are at Jackson, where Consumers has its general offices. The company serves 845,000 electric and 470,000 natural gas customers, with electric service in 61 counties and gas service in 29 counties of the 68 in the Lower Peninsula.

Opera Tour Not Definite

By MARSHALL COMERER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the Dallas Opera Co. said today they have not decided whether to sponsor an opera tour starring Maria Callas to Chicago and New York.

The temperamental soprano who was angrily fired by General Manager Rudolf Bing of the Metropolitan Opera Co. of New York, said she has been too busy and too upset to make any plans beyond her current concert tour.

Last weekend she opened the Dallas season with two performances of "La Traviata," seen by more than 8,000 persons. She is to give her second performance of "Medea" tonight. The three performances received critical acclaim and enthusiastic ovations from capacity audiences.

Of Bing's statement that the Met was glad its association with her was ended, Miss Callas, in a voice that snapped like a whip, said:

"What right did he have to do it? I think his Opera Guild and the people in New York are entitled to say whether they want to hear me.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends, relatives and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us during the death of Ray Nurenberg. Special thanks to the Scott Lake Civic Group, Waterford Police and Fire Dept. Mrs. Ray Nurenberg, Art Haney, and Mr. Nurenberg's mother.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF NORman Stevens who passed away November 8th 1951.
We shall meet and we shall miss you.
There will be one empty chair.
With our eyes we cannot see you,
With our hear we know you're there

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FLORence Helen Hollingshead who passed away 4 years ago, Nov. 9th.
Gracious, gentle mother, always sweet and kind,
You only saw the good in folks and to their faults were blind.
God's taken you to heaven,
Where all is joy and mirth,
But the place you left so empty,
No one can ever fill on earth.
Sadly missed by daughters — Hazel, Laverne, Nellie and Irene & families.

'Face Nation' Begins 5th Year on Sunday

NEW YORK — "Face the Nation," which begins its fifth year on the CBS television network, 12:30 to 1 p.m. tomorrow, takes just one world crisis at a time. But it takes it literally.

The award-winning live interview series perhaps best demonstrated its facility for covering current events in depth when it directed its attention to this summer's explosive Middle East crisis.

Striving to present the most objective picture of what was happening, "Face the Nation" provided a definitive analysis of the tense Middle East situation in a succession of interviews.

As the Lebanese crisis grew worse during June, to the point where United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold flew to Beirut, the program presented an exclusive interview with Lebanon's distinguished Foreign Minister, Dr. Charles Malik, on June 29, the same week Dr. Malik had rushed to the United States to present his country's case before the U.N.

Following the sudden and unexpected overthrow of Iraq's King Faisal in July, and the institution of a new revolutionary government in that country, "Face the Nation" producer Ted Ayers delayed booking a guest for the following Sunday and flew to New York City where he located the new Iraqi delegate to the U.N., Hashim Jawad, who had arrived from Baghdad only hours before. Mr. Jawad was seen on "Face the Nation" even before he presented his credentials to the U.N.

The following week's guest on "Face the Nation" was Dr. Henry Kissinger, an outstanding foreign policy expert and Director of Special Studies for the Rockefeller Fund, who summed up the tangled Middle East crisis as "an insoluble conflict" between Israel and the Arab states.

In succeeding weeks, "Face the Nation" presented interviews with Israel's Ambassador Abba Eban, and then Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) who expanded on his own "Marshall Plan" for the Middle East, which he had proposed only that week.

The Arab Peace Plan, which eased the threat of war when it unanimously passed the U.N. General Assembly on Aug. 21, was given its first public mention on "Face the Nation" when Abdel Khalek Hassouna, Secretary General of the League of Arab States, appeared on the program Aug. 17.

"Face the Nation" is a presentation of the Public Affairs Department of CBS. The producer is Ted Ayers. The moderator is Stuart Novins.

"Face the Nation" is also broadcast on the CBS radio network on Sunday, 9:30-10:00 p.m.

Algeria Facing Election Crisis

Men Unwilling to Run for Allotted Seats in French Parliament

Too few North Africans want to run for the 70 seats Premier De Gaulle's government has allotted the revolt-torn territory in the French Parliament to be elected Nov. 28-30. And the deadline for filing is Sunday midnight.

Lists of candidates were on record today from only four of Algeria's 18 electoral districts.

The commission, made up of French lawyers and magistrates, worked feverishly by telephone and in conferences at a waterfront palace to speed up entries and meet De Gaulle's demand that at least two-thirds, or 46, of the Algerian members of the new Parliament be Moslems.

Assigned to assure honest and free voting, the commission worked in an atmosphere heavy with:

1. Political bickering between French colonists of center and right wing groups.

2. Apathy of the Moslems, who make up 90 per cent of the four million voters, plus a marked disinclination of their moderate Arab and Berber leaders to run for Parliament and thereby become spotlighted targets for nationalist rebels.

3. Preponderant influence of the French army over Algerian affairs, even though the army — which helped put over the vote for De Gaulle's Fifth Republic constitution in September—is banned this time from political campaigning of any kind.

MOM KNOWS BEST — Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti, who recently announced she would marry singer Buddy Bregman, arrives in New York. Her mother objected to the plan, and the star now says she is in love, but will not marry.

The dictionary defines "Podunk" as the "humorous name for any small or insignificant place."

I. F. Rouse Jr., Organist, Director at St. Andrew's

Coming to St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Drayton Plains, as music director and organist, is

IVAN F. ROUSE JR.

Ivan F. Rouse Jr., part time teacher at Birmingham Conservatory of Music.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan F. Rouse of 6428 Waldon Rd., Clarkston, he was a student at Art Center Music School, Detroit, from 1948 to 1951.

Until 1953 Mr. Rouse served as choirmaster-organist at the U. S. Army Chapel and as accompanist of the Symphony Chorale at Yokohama, Japan. He was also active in our State Department Cultural Program.

While studying at the American Conservatory in Chicago, Mr. Rouse was assistant to Dr. Leo Sowerby, organist of St. James Cathedral.

Later he was organist and choirmaster at St. Margaret's and at St. Matthias churches in Chicago.

MSU Coed, Sailor Die in 2-Car Crash

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A Michigan State University coed and a hitchhiking sailor were killed in a two-car collision on U.S. 27 south of here last night. Three other persons were injured.

The coed was Sandra Shattuck, 21, of Chicago, occupant of one car, and William M. Brown, 20, of Charlotte, who had hitched a ride in another car.

Miss Shattuck was riding in a sports car driven by Patricia Pasqualin, 21, Saginaw school teacher. Miss Pasqualin was injured. Brown was a passenger in a car driven by Donald L. Sperry, 23, of Peoria, Ill. Sperry and John Kranko, 18, of Vassar, a buddy of Brown, were injured.

Woman Toasts 102nd Birthday by Sipping Wine

CHICAGO (AP) — "Drink down, ladies."

With this brief toast, Mrs. Anna Ward quaffed a glass of wine on her 102nd birthday Friday with guests at a Chicago nursing home.

No seeker for the impossible, Mrs. Ward said "It's wonderful to be 102 years old, but I don't want people to think I look a day over 90."

United States Population 174,871,000 on Oct. 1

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's population as of Oct. 1 was 174,871,000, the census bureau estimated today.

The figure, which includes servicemen stationed overseas, represents an increase of 2,845,000 or 1.7 per cent since Oct. 1 a year ago.

Vienna Press Unfair, Stupid, Says Zsa Zsa

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Zsa Zsa Gabor announced here today she will go on television when she returns to the United States to tell all about what she calls the unfair Vienna Press.

Said she before departing for Berlin:

"The Vienna press claimed that the reunion with father was a publicity stunt. This is not only unfair but really stupid.

"For years we (Zsa Zsa, sisters Eva and Magda and mother Jolie) have been waiting for this and when father was finally permitted to leave Hungary and come here, we rushed to his side.

The father, Vilmos, 76, left Friday night by train to return to Hungary.

Newsweek Offers Blind 'Talking Magazine' Plan

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Editorial contents of Newsweek magazine will be made available to the blind two days after appearing on the newsstands.

The American Printing House for the Blind, announcing the "talking magazine" plan, Professional readers will record the reading matter on tapes, and from these thousands of records will be made.
