New Car Sales Running Ahead of 1955 Record

DETROIT (AP)— New car sales in January-February this year were at a record-breaking rate, Automotive News said today.

The trade paper said the one-millionth new car sale of the year will take place today, according to authoritative estimates. The paper, in an article by Robert M. Lienert, associate editor, added:

"The estimated total of 920,427 new car sales in January and February surpassed even the 916,608 sales counted in the corresponding period of 1955. That was the year which saw registrations eventually zoom to the all-time record of 7,169,908.

"The rather astounding performance in this year's opening months, of course, does not mean that the ultimate 1959 total will surpass 1955's staggering count—or even that it will come close.

"What can be stated with definite certainty is that 1959 is off to a solid start in aiming for the widely predicted total of 5½ million registrations for the year.

"Key factor in this year's record two-month showing is the imported autos. An estimated 77,400 were registered in January and February.

"In 1955, the first two months saw only 6,103 imported cars registered."

Automotive News said the millionth new car sales this year followed the millionth assembly by 11 days. Last year the millionth sale lagged 10 days behind the millionth assembly.

Both factories and retailers expect a good spring in new car retailing, the trade paper said. It added:

"Over the long term, 1959 remains a year loaded with pertinent questions for the auto industry. Major ones which will bear heavily on autos include:

"1. What will develop in steel-industry labor negotiations this summer?

"2. If there is a steel strike, will it interrupt auto production—and how long?

"3. If assembly lines are stopped will dealer inventories carry through?

"4. With small car talk bound to increase as the weeks pass, will 1959 model sales be affected to an appreciable degree during the mid-year period?

"5. Will small cars really be introduced this fall?

"6. If they are, how much will they affect the sale of 'standard' models, particularly the erstwhile lowest priced domestic lines?"

On individual sales, the Ford Division of Ford Motor Co. repeated its claim of leadership today in new car sales for the 1959 model year.

The company reported retail sales for the final third of February averaged 5,000 cars a day and said more than half a million Ford cars have been sold since the 1959 model was introduced 4½ months ago. Total unit sales for February were not announced.

Ford also said unfilled retail orders in the last 10 days of February were 24 per cent higher than in the second 10 days.

Chevrolet, which also has claimed leadership in the industry's new car sales, reported last week its February car deliveries totaled more than 115,000 units.

Iraq Is Plunged Into Civil War

Dulles Has Outing

UP AND WAVING — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles spent a pleasant weekend, leaving his hospital suite twice for rides through a nearby park. He also visited his home briefly, and later discussed the Berlin situation with two aides. His outings were the first since he entered Walter Reed Army Hospital Feb. 10 for a hernia operation, and it was found that he had to resume x-ray treatments for cancer. President Eisenhower visited Dulles at the hospital today.

Sees God's Hand in Rescue of Boy

By MRS. SAM WOODSON
As told to John L. Sherrill

When I said goodbye to my husband Sam early that morning, we had no idea of the drama which was to engulf us before nightfall.

Sam left, and was on his way to work when he heard the news on the car radio. A little boy, Benny Hooper, had fallen down a well in his backyard over in Manorville, Long Island, just 15 miles from our home. The desperate attempts of many people to get the boy out seemed to be failing.

SAM WOODSON

Sam had a feeling then that he should go there and try to help. At work, he told the men in his car pool: "It's like God was saying, 'Sam, you got to go save that little boy.'"

By 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Sam had even convinced his fellow workers. He got one of the men to drive him home, and I met him at the door.

"I'm going to Manorville," he said. "I can't tell you why exactly. It's just that I feel I must. Once, in Virginia, I pulled a girl out of a 40-foot well. Maybe I can help in Manorville."

Then as he said goodbye to me, I told him to be careful and added:

"I'll be at the church all the while, Sam." I knew he would think the best thing I could do was to pray for him and for the little boy.

So at 5 in the afternoon, 20 hours after the accident, Sam arrived at the Hooper's backyard. Sam was just another of the 600 people milling around the well and a big pit dug next to it.

He spied his boss, Michael Stiriz, who is a contractor on Long Island. Sam had heard that Mr. Stiriz had taken charge of the rescue.

DUG A PIT

"I want to go down, Mr. Stiriz," Sam shouted. Mr. Stiriz nodded, and the police let Sam through.

It was too dangerous to dig right at the well itself. The walls might cave in. Mr. Stiriz had dug another pit, shaped like a cone, 30 feet across at the top, and 4 feet narrow at the bottom, right next to Benny's prison. The pit was 21 feet deep, exactly the depth of the well.

Already Mr. Stiriz had started digging a tunnel across, from the bottom of the pit to the bottom of Benny's well. The distance was 12 feet, but because of the sandy soil and awkward position, only half the distance had been tunneled in 20 hours.

While I was praying in the church, Sam got down on his knees too, for a moment—and then slid into the tunnel on his stomach. The tunnel was made of a pipe, only 27 inches in diameter.

Sam came to the head of the tunnel, and began scraping the sand with his bare hands. As he worked, men in the pit behind him inched the pipe farther along with great construction jacks.

There was not enough oxygen and Sam grew weak and dizzy, felt the first of the cramps. "Make the cramps go away, God," Sam said. He rested for a moment. They went away.

KEPT PRAYING

After an hour Sam had made only a few inches of progress. He came out for a breather, talking all the while with God.

The second hour passed. Two hours of slow, painful scraping. Up above they were saying that Benny was dead. The doctor guessed there was only one chance in five that the boy was alive, yet Sam and all the others worked as hard as if the odds were reversed.

At 7 p.m. Sam came out for another breather. He had been down for two and one-half hours!

Then, once again he inched his way along the narrow piping to the head of the tunnel. Behind him John Remick passed the sand

Tri-County Highway Office to Open Here

The public has been invited to attend an open house tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 4 at a new Pontiac branch office of the Michigan State Highway Dept., 926 Featherstone Ave.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie will come to Pontiac from Lansing for the official dedication of the new office.

Especially built for leasing to the department, it will be the hub of highway construction, maintenance, testing, and right-of-way transactions for a three-county area of Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

Such work formerly was carried on in the department's Redford branch office along with similar activities involving Wayne and Monroe counties.

J. A. Wills, district engineer who will manage the new Pontiac office, said one reason Pontiac was selected for the new office is that the city soon will be the center of a mammoth highway expressway construction program in this section of the state.

A staff of 40 will work out of the new building, which contains some 6,400-square feet of office space.

Dems Demand Arms Increase

Ike Tells Solons U.S. Has Military Power to Meet Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss) told the Senate today the "continued dismantling" of U. S. striking forces is indefensible in the face of the Berlin crisis.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Congressional Democrats are renewing their demands for stepped-up U.S. military power despite President Eisenhower's assurance no more is needed to meet the crisis over Berlin.

Eisenhower met Friday with Senate and House leaders of both parties. He reportedly told them that there is nothing he wants Congress to do now to beef up U.S. military might. They said they were told the tools needed to deal with the threat to Berlin have been provided.

But numerous Democrats spoke out during the weekend for more spending and greater military preparedness for longer range developments, even as they expressed hope that negotiations will settle the Berlin situation this summer.

Democratic leaders are going ahead quietly with plans to make available up to 750 million dollars more than Eisenhower asked for intercontinental missiles.

But Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, backed up by defense chiefs, said today that America's armed forces are "adquate as to every circumstance" to meet the Berlin crisis.

Nikita States Small Berlin Garrison Okay

Would Allow Western Troops to Remain If Joined by Russians

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared today he would agree to stationing a small protective military garrison in West Berlin if the Western powers end their military occupation.

He said it could be made up of U.S., British, French and Soviet troops, or soldiers from neutral nations.

He told an East Berlin rally the Soviet Union has no objection to United Nations control of West Berlin if it were turned into a free city.

At the same time, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan today began a swing around the capitals of his major allies in search of a Western policy to take into negotiations with the Soviet Union.

Earlier today, West Germany's Socialist chief, Erich Ollenhauer met in Berlin with Khrushchev, then declared he thought the Soviets would make every effort to solve the Berlin crisis without war.

Macmillan, arriving in Paris to confer with President Charles de Gaulle, said he feels the Soviets want to negotiate on Berlin.

"The Soviets accept that these immediate problems — Berlin, Germany and so on—ought to be settled by negotiations," Macmillan said.

He conceded there are wide differences between the West and the Soviets. He said in view of this, it is all the more important for the Western Allies to get together "to confirm our common policy and purpose."

Ollenhauer met for two hours with Khrushchev at the latter's invitation. Then the Socialist chieftain held a news conference.

Pontiac Dedicates New High School

With color and solemnity, Pontiac dedicated its second high school yesterday afternoon.

Educators, officials and more than 1,000 guests gathered for ceremonies in the spacious auditorium of the new $3,611,248 Pontiac Northern High School.

Afterwards, more than 2,000 took advantage of student-guided tours, which continue tonight, tomorrow and Wednesday nights.

"This beautiful building stands as a symbol of achievement, progress and opportunity," said Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, who gave the dedicatory address.

"It is a lasting testimonial of the basic fundamentals of our country; it is a monument to the community's belief in the principles of public education."

Pontiac taxpayers were congratulated by Hannah for meeting their educational responsibilities.

"Pontiac Northern High School indicates to the rest of the state how willing Pontiac taxpayers are to open up their pocketbooks for the sake of their children.

"Other communities will judge Pontiac on the basis of this new school, and be favorably impressed.

"This building shows that Pontiac has faith in the soundness and future of the American economy."

Also speaking were Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Pontiac Board of Education and Philip J. Wargelin, principal of the school.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, accepted the building on behalf of the Pontiac School District from Eberle M. Smith, head of the architectural firm that designed it.

Leading up to the program was a colorful processional from the rear of the auditorium to the stage.

Rev. Galen Hershey, president of the Pontiac Pastors Assn., gave the invocation. The benediction was made by Rev. Norman Thomas, assistant pastor of St. Michael's Church.

Music was provided by the Pontiac Central High School Band, the Pontiac Northern High School Band and the Pontiac Northern High School Choir.

The public is invited to open house and tours from 7 to 9 p.m. through Wednesday.

Predict Light Snow, Low of 26 Tonight

Scattered snow with little temperature change is the weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will be near 26. Tomorrow's high will be 36 degrees.

The state recorded two inches of snow yesterday, and at Pellston the lowest temperature reading in the nation, 20 below zero, was reported today. Roads were reported slippery in the Pontiac area this morning.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts temperatures will average near the normal 41 high and normal 26 low for the next five days. Precipitation will average two to three-tenths of an inch, occurring mostly as light snow.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 26. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 29.

Rebels Bombed, Troops March on Baghdad

From Our News Wires

BEIRUT, Lebanan—The North Iraq revolt exploded into civil war today.

A government radio broadcast from Baghdad said Iraqi air force planes bombed the rebel capital at Mosul. A rebel broadcast from Mosul claimed an insurgent victory over government ground forces and said that revolutionary troops were marching on Baghdad.

No details were available on either the bombing or the reported ground battle. Outsiders were totally dependent on rival radio broadcasts and sparse diplomatic dispatches.

But these made it appear that the uprising in Iraq's rich northeastern oilfield area led by Arab nationalist sympathiser Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf against the regime of leftist Premier Abdel Karim Kassem was headed for a bloody showdown.

The conflict had largely been confined to a contradictory war of words over radios, but broadcasts by both sides reported the bombardment of rebel headquarters at Mosul, a city of 250,000.

The exploding crisis turned into open warfare 24 hours after Shawaf proclaimed a revolutionary command in Mosul, 250 miles north of Baghdad, aimed at deposing the "traitor Kassem."

Kassem's regime has strong Communist support and the newest Middle East blowup could involve both East and West.

Mosul Radio, mouthpiece of the army revolt in north Iraq, announced that "aircraft of Kassem are flying over the city (of Mosul) and bombarding it."

It announced at the same time the revolutionary forces are heading for Baghdad and said the rebels were picking up strength along the way. The rebels were known to have one of the strongest army units in Iraq.

The rebels appeared to be gaining ground in the north, the oil-producing center that supplies much of the world's oil.

The radio transmitter at Sulelmanieh, 200 miles east of Mosul, went on the air in the insurgents'

'Gateway to the Sun' and 'What's Next?'

Life at Cape Canaveral Happy and Serene

By JOE HAAS

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla.—Here at what most of us think is the hottest spot on earth when we have a fear of another war, everybody seems cool and life is happy and serene. Nobody gets excited any more.

JOE HAAS

The residents know that they have the best protection their great nation affords. Life among the palm trees, with the heat tempered by the ocean breezes, becomes dull and humdrum — except when they have what the natives call "a big pop."

Since the firing of the rocket now supposed to be cavorting with the center of our solar system, the "Gateway to the Moon" sign as you enter the Cape Canaveral area has been changed to "Gateway to the Sun." And a little further on a new sign asks "What's Next?"

The release of that Pioneer IV missile here was a brilliant event in a pyrotechnical line, as well as in its primary objective. And it had plenty of watchers. Thousands of people made it a sky watching night.

In baseball terms, which are common language in Florida which is the training ground of most of the major league teams, it is spoken of as a "home run liner," instead of its "bop fly" predecessors.

The news of its impending start had leaked out via the grapevine circuit, (as prolific here as it is in Pontiac), far in advance of the three-minute radio flash given on each rocket launching.

The midnight blast off that gave the midget missile its terrific start was seen by several million people. It was visible over a land area quite comparable to the southern peninsula of Michigan, and fully as much at sea.

The preparation of its 300,000 parts (some of which were made in the Pontiac area), has been under way for several months. Most of the thousands of employes here knew little or nothing about what was being built, each working on an individual part, and having no conception of the assemblage. They generally regarded it as another "pop."

And among the chosen few who knew what was under way, it was almost impossible to prevent a leak. So the hints were being passed around, even down at the Miamis, 200 miles away, that something big and unusual was about to happen, and their night life had a new sight in prospect.

Within a few miles it was even brighter than day, but outside of that limit it looked more like a comet or falling star. Its witnesses, when they consider its possibilities and implications, will always count it as a stellar event in their lives.

Nobody has any "inside track" on crashing the gate in securing any exclusive information on what's doing at Cape Canaveral. The bevy of men from our great newspapers and news services who are continuously here, all are given the same mimeographed sheets each day, and are supposed to make up their stories from them.

Attempts to elaborate and get something extra in their conception of a scoop often lead to a distortion of the facts. In their efforts to beat the newspapers, the news weeklies and radio and TV have been guilty of telling things that they did not know. This is considered by the officials as a cardinal sin, and cancellation of any confidence they might have enjoyed.

One of these officials tells me that the principal offender has been a news weekly whose attempts to blow up their stories and make them look like something exclusive have generally resulted in a display of "confused nothingness," and brought them an official black mark.

This is the same publication that recently put our entire nation in a bad light with an absolutely unfounded story about conditions in our good South American ally of Bolivia.

The industrial and real estate boom that was expected to follow the missile work at Cape Canaveral is petering out. A division of the federal work with other parts of the nation shows that Florida's "pull" has been stretched to the limit. Future expansions will be elsewhere.

The Cocoa area, from which the Cape branches into the Atlantic Ocean, had enjoyed a growth during the last few years that is hardly matched elsewhere in Florida or in the entire nation. It quite largely is of a substantial and permanent nature, both as regards business houses and residences.

While it is expected that the permanent residents in this immediate area will reach 40,000 to 50,000 (that being the number that public utilities are being provided for), the real estate men have been too ambitious in the sale of vacant lots, quite largely to people from the North, and often with the assurance of much higher values as the Cape grows.

Their plan was to populate a triangle with around 100 miles on each side, with Daytona Beach, Orlando and Melbourne at its points. There they would have a Utopia of a quarter million people, and they've sold untold thousands of building lots within its borders, most of which are more in need of ditching than any of the few low lands we have around Pontiac.

Workers Tell Bentley Unions Are Too Strong

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most of the workers replying to a poll by Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) believe "organized labor is becoming too powerful," Bentley said today.

His annual questionnaire circulated in his district, he said, produced agreement from 2,617 workers on the question of too much union power and disagreement from 621 workers.

Replies from farmers had 1,254 agreeing and 137 disagreeing.

Sizing up the replies to his poll in general, Bentley said:

"On the whole, they seem to call for a hold-the-line stand against excessive federal spending, and there seems to be considerable alarm about the effects of inflation."

Believes God Guided Him to Rescue Boy From Well

back out of the pipe. Sam scratched away at the powdery sand, delicately, trying to keep it from caving-in any more. Suddenly, he felt his hand plunge forward. He paused for a moment to make sure, then whispered back:

"I've got through to the well."

Very, very carefully now he scratched at the sand. He found little Benny's hand. It was cold.

Then there was another cave-in.

START OVER AGAIN

Slowly, again, the job of backing out the cave-in sand and starting all over again. As the opening into the well shaft enlarged, Sam worked the sand from around the little red jacket that Benny had been wearing. It was resting on top of Benny's head.

Sam saw that, miraculously, the life-giving oxygen hose had wormed its way through the folds in the jacket no more than an inch away from the boy's nose.

"Mmmmmm. Ummmmm . . ." The moaning came from Benny!

"Thank you God. Thank you," Sam began to cry as he passed the word along. "The boy's alive."

At 7:40 p.m., three hours after Sam first went into the tunnel, he and John Remick climbed up the ladder carrying little Benny with them.

"Do you remember when you asked me why should I go to Manorville?" Sam asked hours later. "Well I know, now."

PRAYER CRUSADE

And then Sam reminded me that Benny had fallen into that well on May 17 and that May 17 was the date of the prayer crusade of my people down in Washington. Sam had wanted to go to Washington. He had even prayed that the Lord would let him, because he wanted to be a part of a big, organized crusade for brotherhood.

But, somehow, Sam felt the Lord hadn't wanted him to go. So he stayed home, and kept wondering why the Lord hadn't let him go. He wondered, that is, until he brought little Benny Hooper to the top of the rescue pit.

At that moment a stranger came over to Sam, and grasped his hand.

"Do you know," he said, "that you've done as much for brotherhood in three hours as most people could do in three lifetimes?"

Sam smiled. Now he knew why he had been called to Manorville.

Half of State's Trunklines Imperiled If Sudden Thaw

LANSING (AP)—Nearly one half of Michigan's trunkline system still is imperiled by the release of winter's grip, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said today.

A sudden warm trend lasting three or four days could cause the worst breakup in the state's history on the 46 per cent of trunklines built under now obsolete construction methods.

Mackie said frost conditions in southern Michigan in late February were 50 per cent greater than normal, with frost to depths of five feet reported in some areas near Lansing.

Prior to 1940, he explained, trunklines were laid on whatever base was naturally available. The result is severe maintenance problems where roads were built over clay instead of sand.

In a sudden thaw, water tends to trickle beneath the pavement, collecting and forming ponds. The base thus softens, taking on a mushy texture.

Then, under the influence of heavy traffic, concrete slabs or bituminous surfaces shift under the weight of repeated passovers and break up in the process.

Since 1940, the practice has been to remove clay in road construction and put in a sub-base of sand and granular material permitting water in periods of thaw to drain away.

Mackie said maintenance crews are keeping a close watch on the endangered pavements and will apply hasty patches to deteriorating pavements when not prevented by surface ponding.

But essentially, weather will tell the tale.

He said $1,500,000 has been budgeted for heavy spring maintenance. If there is a sudden extended thaw, costs could quickly double, treble or go even higher.

Reds Gain in France; Again Biggest Party

PARIS (UPI) — Communist gains in local elections indicated today that the "honeymoon is over" for President Charles de Galle.

The need for run-off elections in many communities blurred the results of the voting, but there appeared to be little doubt that the Reds are once again France's strongest party.

Of the first 3,058,663 votes counted, the Communists polled 829,493 against 555,068 for the pro-Gaulle UNR Party which swept last year's Parliamentary election, 459,196 for the Conservative Independents and 445,881 for the Socialists.

The results indicated that the wave of popularity which swept De Gaulle to power last year has begun to ebb, probably because of the "austerity" program which has boosted prices 5 to 10 per cent in two months and more than quadrupled unemployment.

(The total number of jobless—18,772 compared to 36,887 on Jan. 1—is not considered excessive in a nation of about 43,000,000 people.)

The Red gains will have no immediate effect on Parliament, where the Communist bloc was whittled away almost to the vanishing point by last year's election.

They are regarded, however, as a significant indication of current trends in French politics.

The board turned down the preliminary 60-house plat two weeks ago and asked that a new agreement be drawn up before final board action.

The owner of a 2½ acre plat at the corner of Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads has asked for the rezoning of the triangular-shaped property from residential to commercial.

In his petition, the owner indicated he wishes to construct a gas station, hardware store, and another business. The proposed change was approved by the Waterford Township Zoning Board.

Cardinal Hits Kennedy Critics as 'Ridiculous'

BOSTON (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston said today it is "certainly ridiculous" to suggest Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) might not be able to fulfill his oath of office because he is a Catholic.

The prelate said it is "a great pity" that questions about Kennedy's religion have to be answered at all.

The senator has been prominently mentioned as one of the leading candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

Revolt Breaks Out in Northern Iraq

Baghdad Radio announced early today the revolt had been "crushed" and Shawaf shot by one of his own men but the broadcast apparently was erroneous.

PLANNING MARCH

Persons arriving from Iraq said earlier that the rebels had taken command of the entire north of Iraq, set up their own government in Mosul and were planning to march on the capital.

A Baghdad government broadcast indicated the gravity of the situation. It said the Trans-Orient Express, which travels between Turkey and Iraq across northern Iraq, had been ordered to suspend its run because of "state security requirements."

Rebel broadcasts accused the soldier-premier of turning the country over to "a group which believes in a certain political doctrine that has no popular support," obviously a reference to the Communists, who have been in the ascendancy in Baghdad recently.

One rebel broadcast told the Iraq Petroleum Co. not to pay royalties to the Baghdad government. It said the "Mosul regime is now the legal government of Iraq."

The Middle East News Agency said Shawaf had "announced he would honor Iraq's international obligations as a U. N. member and its agreements with foreign oil companies, and would welcome the friendship of both the U. A. R. and the Soviet Union.

State Employes Chapter of County Votes Slate

Oakland County Chapter 71 of the Michigan State Employes Assn. at their March meeting elected Robert R. Copeman of 5266 Pine Knob Rd., Clarkston, as their new president.

Others elected were: Mrs. W. W. Neakam, first vice president; D. DiGiovanni, second vice president; and Mrs. Joene R. Heinke, secretary-treasurer.

Young Area GOP to Hear Martin Talk Tuesday Night

JOHN B. MARTIN JR.

Young Republicans of Oakland County will be host to John B. Martin Jr., Republican national committeeman from Michigan, tomorrow night.

The 49-year-old Martin, former Kent County state senator and Michigan auditor general, will speak to the group at the headquarters of the GOP Committee of Oakland County, 351 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham.

Martin's talk, which will be followed by a question and answer period is scheduled for 8 p.m.

The Grand Rapids attorney entered the political circuit in 1948 when he was elected senator. He served in this capacity until his election as auditor general in 1950, a post he held until 1954.

Martin was the GOP nominee for secretary of state in 1956 but lost out to James M. Hare. The following year he was elected to his present three-year term as national committeeman.

He is a graduate of Dartmouth College, Oxford University and the University of Michigan Law School, a Navy veteran, and a former member of the prosecutor's staff for the Nazi war trials in Nuernberg.

Officials of the Young Republicans have invited all persons between the ages of 18 and 35 to attend Tuesday's meeting.

Women Voters Plan Discussion on Home Rule

Home rule government for Michigan counties will be the subject of a panel discussion Wednesday in Birmingham at a meeting of the Oakland County Council of the Leagues of Women Voters.

Leading the discussion will be Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, Carl F. Ingraham, Birmingham mayor and supervisor, and Robert Zueller, assistant director of Civic Research, a group which has studied home rule.

The meeting will be held at the Community House at 1 p.m. It will be open to members of the six leagues in the county and to the public.

Zueller will give the background and history of home rule. Hamlin and Ingraham will review efforts of the Oakland supervisors to obtain home rule this year. The campaign was killed when permissive legislation died in a Senate committee last month.

Ask 16 Weeks of Jobless Pay

Seek Additional Benefits in Washington for Unemployed

WASHINGTON (AP)—An emergency unemployment compensation bill giving 16 more weeks of benefits was prepared for introduction today.

Sponsors were Michigan's two Democratic Senators, Patrick McNamara and Philip A. Hart, and Pennsylvania's Democratic Sen. Joseph S. Clark.

The additional benefits would go to persons whose compensation eligibility has expired.

The bill would supplant a current emergency measure expiring March 31 which permits states to borrow funds from the federal government to extend compensation periods by 50 per cent.

The new proposal would specify that the funds be made available on an emergency grant basis, rather than as loans.

The bill also would permit another 16 weeks of benefits, at the option of the participating states, for certain unemployed workers who do not now qualify under existing state regulations.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission to Study Expansion of Library

BIRMINGHAM — Further discussion on financing the proposed $151,000 expansion program of Baldwin Public Library will come before city commissioners tonight.

Last week, Library Board attorney James Tobin cited a state act which permits municipalities to order a bond issue providing it does not exceed one-quarter of one per cent of the assessed valuation.

Commissioners withheld their decision until a study could be made of city charter provisions for bond issues. James Howlett, city attorney, will give his report on this tonight.

City Clerk Irene Hanley will ask commissioners to approve the appointment of Mrs. Beth Cole as deputy clerk. Mrs. Cole has been employed in the Clerk's Office for two years and according to Miss Hanley "has performed her duties most satisfactorily."

An 18-year-old Detroiter was taken to Oakland County Jail by Bloomfield Hills police last night after a wild chase down Woodward avenue.

Police said they noticed a car driven by Richard M. Meisner traveling at a high rate of speed and gave chase north from Big Beaver road to the Cranbrook cut-over. Here Meisner turned south and headed back toward Birmingham. Officers said his car on straightaways easily outran theirs which was traveling at 105 m.p.h.

The youth was finally forced to the curb on Maple avenue near Woodward when he slowed down for the turn.

According to police a check with the License Bureau at Lansing reveals the youth has an extremely bad driving record. He is currently charged with reckless driving.

Pushing a friend's car sent 16-year-old James Barney of Detroit to William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a broken left leg and numerous lacerations.

Birmingham police said the youth was struck by a car driven by Dennis L. Thompson, 17, of High and Park on Woodward avenue near Quarton road.

Barney's two companions, Gerald Young and Larry Giroux jumped clear. Harley Pebbles, 19, who was steering the pushed car also escaped injury.

Thompson was ticketed for failure to stop in time. He told officers he did not see the other car.

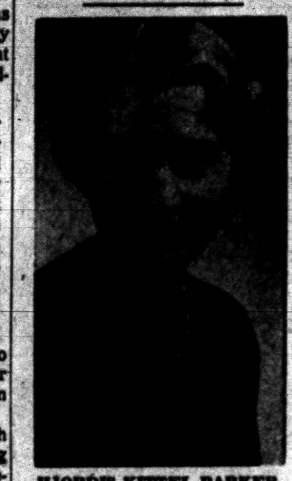

Birmingham's fire losses for February totaled $18,575, according to Fire Chief Parl H. Smith. The department answered 28 calls including seven for first aid during the month, he said.

Mrs. Tunis F. Rice of 1933 Shipman Blvd. will entertain members of the South Oakland Kappa Delta Alumnae at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Wayne Boyle, past Zeta Providence president, will speak on "National Officers and Kappa Delta." She will introduce the new president, Mrs. Philip B. Redeker of Detroit.

The group will prepare Easter Seals for mailing.

The Birmingham Stamp Club will hold its fourth auction at 8 p.m. tonight at the Community House. Foreign and U.S. stamps will be offered.

HJORDIS KITTEL PARKER

Kiwanis Series to Show Film About Denmark

The Downtown Kiwanis Club Travel and Adventure Series will present its sixth program of the current season tomorrow night at the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

Featured will be a film-lecture by a comparative newcomer to the travelogue circuit, Hjordis Kittel Parker.

Her film is titled "Denmark and Greenland." It follows a theme about the communities of five university students who met in Copenhagen from five different parts of the Kingdom of Denmark.

The film emphasizes variety and contrast in what Americans think of as a small, uniform area of the world. Copenhagen is shown with its busy harbor, ancient castles, modern buildings; Jutland with its native customs, vast dairies, cheese and mink.

Bornholm abounds in its huge fishing industry; Greenland with its colorful costumes and people, and Odense revives the spirit of Hans Christian Andersen.

The program is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Auto Sales Agency Damaged by Blaze

DETROIT (AP)—Flames raced through an auto sales agency in Northwest Detroit today, causing damage estimated at $300,000.

A spokesman for Floyd Rice Motor Sales said the blaze apparently began in a faulty gas heater. Most damage was suffered in the agency's parts department.

Thomas Young, a fireman, was overcome by smoke and treated at the scene. No other injuries were reported.

Alaska Bug Bites More Detroiters

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — The homesteading spirit is spreading in Detroit.

With the departure of the original band of 59ers last week, another group of Detroiters began mapping plans to make the 4,300-mile trek to Alaska.

The leaders of the second Detroit expedition had a turn-away crowd yesterday. More than 100 families have registered to leave as soon as the school year ends. But the second group has room for only 50 families.

The original 59ers inched closer to Alaska today but their motor caravan had broken into at least three segments, with hundreds of miles between.

The stragglers presumably were somewhere in Wisconsin. Red-haired Yvonne Stevens, the 59ers' only single woman, and four other Detroiters pushed northwest from Chicago Sunday. They hoped to overtake the others in North Dakota Tuesday.

Two blowouts on the 1934 moving van halted the largest group here, further delaying the trek which had been slowed by snow in Wisconsin. Jacobwitz, 23, said the journey was about 1½ days behind schedule.

At least 94 per cent of all live births in the United States now occur in hospitals and 97 per cent of all births come with a physician in attendance.

Kennedy to Be Asked About Influence Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) said today he is sure chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy will be required to give the Senate Labor-Management Committee all the details of reported political bribe efforts.

Capehart, a member of the committee, referred to Kennedy's statement that he had received offers of political support for his brother if he would lay off witnesses summoned to testify.

At a news conference in Milwaukee last Friday, counsel Kennedy said the offers of political help came from representatives of both labor and management. No money was involved, he said.

Kennedy said he had paid no attention to the offers and had not reported them to Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), the committee chairman. He had discussed them with his brother, a member of the committee.

"There is no question that Sen. McClellan will insist that the committee be given all the details by its chief counsel," Capehart told reporters.

Earlier Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), the committee's vice chairman, said "the whole nauseating affair should be fully explored and publicly exposed."

A closed-door meeting of the committee is to be held Tuesday. McClellan said members can bring up then "any business matters they think proper and of interest."

McClellan said, however, that "I know of no bribe being offered and I'm sure that if there had been, Mr. Kennedy would have reported it."

Shapely Blonde Admits Nevada Bank Robbery

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A shapely blonde has admitted robbing the First National Bank of Nevada of $1,780.

"I'm sorry I did it," Ida Belle Ingram, 19, Roanoke, Va., told FBI agents.

She said she needed the money.

Miss Ingram staged the robbery Friday. She was caught on a Reno-bound bus a short time later with the money.

England's Queen Elizabeth I had 80 wigs in shades of auburn, orange and gold. That was when her own red hair began to thin.

According to a 1958 Federal Reserve Board Survey of Consumer Finances Americans have assets of at least a trillion dollars.

4th Annual Rhubarb Festival Held at Utica Saturday

Romeo Farmer Reigns as King

Shares Spotlight With Warren Girl Chosen Queen of Event

UTICA — A Center Line High School senior and a Romeo farmer shared the limelight Saturday as King and Queen of the fourth annual Rhubarb Festival here.

The event, which drew twice the crowd it did in 1958, was staged in the auditorium of Utica Community High School.

Their majesties were 18-year-old Nancy Oliver of Warren and Cyrell Deneulenaere, 14895 29-Mile Rd., Romeo.

The queen won her title in competition Feb. 4 over a field of 10 other contestants in the high school here.

Deneulenaere, a rhubarb grower, was named king after his extra fancy rhubarb was judged best in the show. He also was awarded a silver cup and a check for $50.

The program officially opened at 1:15 p.m. when the queen cut the ribbon across the doorway leading to the gymnasium. She was assisted by state dignitaries, her attendants and last year's queen, Dianne Bennett of Utica.

Those present included officials of the organizations which sponsored the festival. They were Wilhelm G. Von Weller, governor of Rotary International; Jack Haack, president of the Michigan Wolverine Growers Assn.; and Jack Prescott, director of the Macomb County Extension Service.

Members of court were Lorelei Hoxie of Armada and Judy Jambriska of Utica. They were runners-up in the Queen's contest.

These dignitaries, plus rhubarb buyers from a number of Midwestern states and Michigan State University officials were guests at a luncheon which preceded the opening ceremonies.

After the ribbon-cutting rites all Festival visitors viewed the taste-tempting treats entered for judging by area homemakers. The Senior Division winner was Mrs. John Vogler, 14645 Stadler St., Utica, who was awarded the grand prize. Top cook in the Junior Division was Janet Postma, 15, of 2150 Stirling, Troy Township.

The judges were Mrs. Anthony Rapes of Washington, (Mich.); Mrs. Mildred Chapel, Livingston County home economics extension agent; Mrs. Dorothy H. Pohl, Lapeer County home economics extension agent; Mrs. Mary E. Jackson, Consumers Power Co., Pontiac; and Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, CKLW-TV.

Others were Mrs. Dorothy Magee, women's editor of The Monitor-Leader (Mt. Clemens) and Mrs. Janet O'Neil, home editor of The Pontiac Press.

Other rhubarb growers, besides Deneulenaere, who were chosen winners were Mike Golke, 14140 26 Mile Rd., Washington, whose rhubarb placed first in the "fancy" division and H. DeCock and Son, 11480 16 Mile Rd., Warren, for their entry in the "choice" category.

The top prize paid for a five-pound box of rhubarb at auction was $300 or about $30 a stalk. The auctioneer was Colonel Joe Koss of Utica and the buyer Dick Bracco of Royal Oak.

Judges of rhubarb entries were Stacey Hall of Hall and Cole Co., Boston, Mass.; John Carew, horticulture extension specialist from MSU; and Karl D. Bailey of Pontiac, district horticulture agent from MSU.

Dairy Queen Title Attracts Twelve to Compete

ARMADA — About 12 area girls are expected to compete for the title of Macomb County Dairy Princess in a contest to be held at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Armada High School gymnasium, Ted S. Leipprandt, county extension agent announced today.

Candidates for the crown will be interviewed personally by the judges beginning at 7 p.m. The girls then will be introduced and interviewed further before an audience in the gymnasium.

The judges will base their final decision on the girl's knowledge of dairy farming, attractiveness, activity background, intelligence and tact and ability to speak before an audience.

To be eligible to compete for the Dairy Princess title, entrants must be single, be between the ages of 17 and 20 and have a dairy farm background.

The winner will compete for the state crown May 17 and 18 in a contest to be held at Michigan State University.

Judges will be Doug Nash of the Mount Clemens Board of Commerce; Joe Pensien, potato and dairy farmer, and Lee Winborn from The Pontiac Press.

White Lake House Robbed, Burned

Leo Hooker of 10360 M-59 told White Lake Township firemen and sheriff's deputies that he had gone to Pontiac for the weekend and when he opened the door on returning late Sunday he found his house full of smoke.

Firemen said the blaze was due to a soot-filled space heater, and was extinguished before it caused much damage. Hooker found someone had broken into the house through a kitchen door and had stolen his 21-inch console television set.

Lapeer Man Suffers Minor Auto Injuries

LAPEER TOWNSHIP — A 22-year-old Lapeer man suffered minor injuries when his car hooked the bumper of a vehicle he was passing Sunday and overturned on M21 near Meyers road here, the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department reported today.

Earl Hanner of 405 Turrill Ave. was taken to Lapeer County General Hospital with head cuts. Occupants of the other car were unhurt.

PTA Program Includes Skit

Council Election Slated

The new Clawson High School on John M. street near Livernois, two blocks north of 14-Mile road, will be the scene of the East Oakland Area PTA Council election to be held at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

The program also will include a skit entitled "So You Are Going to the Convention" to be presented by Mrs. John Christopher, Mrs. Eugene Matheys and Mrs. Arthur Waite of the Lake Orion Community Schools.

Members and delegates will learn how to fill out convention credential forms and what program is planned for the State PTA convention which is scheduled for April 28, 29 and 30 in Bay City.

They will also be told the approximate cost, what is expected of them as delegates and what type of information they should include on their reports.

Fourteen by-law changes are being prepared for discussion at tomorrow night's meeting. The Kenwood School PTA will be the host organization.

Almont to Seek School Funds

2½ Mill Operating Tax Increase to Be Sought in March 20 Vote

ALMONT — Upon the recommendation of a five-man study committee, the Almont Board of Education has decided to ask the voters March 20 to authorize a 2½-mill increase in the school operating tax.

Donald McAlvey, superintendent of schools, said today that the money is needed to pay off an existing deficit in the operating fund which will amount to about $40,000 before the end of the year.

The additional millage will be levied for three years, he added.

The board went to the voters last July with a request for two mills for two years which was defeated by a two-to-one majority.

The Board of Education made its decision to ask for extra millage after the five-man study committee recommended it as the solution to the district's present financial plight.

Members of the committee were Fred Eschenburg, chairman of the PTA study group; E. R. Bristol, Almont Township supervisor; Donald Burley, township clerk; Reid Wilson, nominee for the township Board of Supervisors; and Allyn Van Dyke, member of the Lapeer County Board of Education.

The district lies in parts of six townships and four counties. The voting will take place in the Almont Township Hall.

Direct investments of United States companies in British industry amount to about $1,200,000,000. There are more than 300 branches or subsidiaries of U. S. firms in the United Kingdom; together with jointly financed U. S.-U. K. concerns they now employ more than 350,000 people in British industry.

Lyon Voters Nix School Bonds

Also, Vote Down 4-Mill Tax in Saturday Poll Test

LYON TOWNSHIP—Electors in the Lyon Township School District voted down both the bond issue and a proposed 4-mill special operating tax for schools in Saturday's election.

The $450,000 bond issue received 385 "yes" votes and 434 "no" votes. It was intended to finance construction of a new elementary school containing 13 classrooms.

The new school would have been completed by 1960 when enrollment is expected to have climbed from a present 1,735 to 2,683 students in the fast-growing district.

Authorization of a 4-mill special operating tax for the next three years was refused by voters 457 to 414.

The increase was sought to ease an estimated deficit of $67,000 by the end of the current school year.

It also was hoped to raise the starting salary for teachers, which is now $4,000 in the high school, in an effort to compete more evenly with the surrounding area for their services.

The bond issue was decided by property owners and their spouses. All qualified voters in the school district were eligible to vote on the proposed tax rate increase.

Missiles Might Mean 24-Hour Bomber Alert

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States will put atomic bombers on continuous airborne alert as soon as the Soviet missile threat requires it "no matter what it costs," a high administration source said today.

On such an alert a certain number of Strategic Air Command jet bombers, armed with nuclear weapons and guided missiles, would be in the air at all times, ready to counter-attack if Russia cut loose its missiles at the free world.

The purposes would be to prevent the planes from being targets for destruction on the ground and to be in the best position to react to attack, thus increasing the deterrent to war.

Gen. Thomas Power, SAC commander, touched off a controversy when he told the Senate preparedness investigation in January that he would like to get an airborne alert going as soon as possible. The defense department denied a report that power had been turned down to save money.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) and Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa.) later demanded that SAC keep some of its planes in the air at all times. Power warned that with the "zero warning time" of a missile attack, Soviet rockets might destroy his planes on the ground.

Like several military leaders who were consulted, the administration source saw no immediate need for a large scale around-the clock bomber patrol. He said it might not be needed for a year or more.

But he said Power probably would get most of the authority he has sought to carry on extensive tests of the air alert now.

For one thing, these tests would indicate how many more men SAC would need. It now has 1.6 crews per bomber, not enough for the amount of flying needed in a large airborne alert.

SAC also may get a go-ahead to buy, or at least plan for, the spare parts, engines and other supplies that would be needed for the wear and tear of an around-the-clock alert.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said yesterday that the Joint Chiefs of Staff saw "no military requirement" for an in-the-air alert now. He said one could be put up "when we need it."

President Eisenhower said substantially the same thing at his last news conference.

McElroy also said this country would have a missile warning system set up in Greenland by the time the Russians could deliver any "sizable" attack with intercontinental rockets.

SAC keeps about 1-3 of its 2,000 airplanes on runways with their crews standing-by, ready to take off in 15 minutes.

Jealous of Her Ex, New Hubby Tries Arson

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)— Joseph J. Shimkus, 45, was charged with suspicion of arson after police Sgt. Stanley Gore quoted him as saying "I got sick and tired of hearing my wife talk about her first husband and decided to set his house on fire."

Gore said the fire Saturday night damaged a back porce.

Publishing Anti-Castro Newspaper

The Spanish language publication showed up on the streets and in the mail this weekend. It was jammed with caricatures and comments criticizing Castro and his new revolutionary government.

On the front was a caricature of Castro with a "skull face," a machine gun in his hands and a dove on his shoulder. It was entitled: "The Apostle of Peace."

The paper listed as its editor Daniel Vasquez, husband of the former Havana actress once described as the Mata Hari of Cuba and once accused by rebels of being a spy for ousted President Fulgencio Batista.

The appearance of the newspaper followed a comment by Castro last week that his enemies are openly buying arms in Miami. U.S. customs officials here said Castro's charge was not true, but added they would not be surprised if an anti-Castro movement developed in the future.

The National Fire Protection Assn., a nonprofit membership organization, insists that 90 per cent of fires are preventable.

Stops Short of Panty Raid

U. of M. Snowball Fight

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An old-fashioned snowball fight gave signs of becoming a panty raid at the University of Michigan last night. But it never got that far.

Both University authorities and city police were firmly agreed on the matter.

About 150 young bloods, getting the jump on spring, were involved—all from the men's dormitories, or "quads".

Students of the West and South Quads got going in a snowball fight.

POLICE WATCH

Whether by purpose or accident, the scene of action moved noticeably toward Stockwell Hall, a coeds' dormitory.

Police put in an appearance, just to keep an eye on the situation.

It was not determined whether anyone actually entered the girls' domiciles, of which there are several.

Dean of Men Walter B. Rea, who refused to call it a panty raid, drew a distinction. He said it's not a panty raid unless the men break into the girls' dormitories and steal some underwear.

Favors Public Youth Hearings

Two of the nation's best informed authorities have come up with a somewhat different theory on juvenile delinquency. Recently they told a U. S. Senate subcommittee investigating this problem that the primary delinquents are parents, rather than children.

We are all concerned, not only on a national level, but right in our own backyards delinquency continues to rise. Records show that across the nation for nine straight years there has been an increase in juvenile cases.

The increase is rather startling when we see that the national averages show the number of appearances before juvenile courts has climbed 150 per cent while the juvenile population increased but 25 per cent.

According to Chief Justice IRVING BEN COOPER of the New York County Court of Special Sessions and Judge SAMUEL LIEBOWITZ of the King's County Criminal Court the principal trouble is that parents are not living up to their responsibilities.

Both judges recommend a long range educational program for parents, starting with a brochure to be handed young couples with their marriage licenses. This would tell the potential parents about some of the problems with which they would have to cope and emphasize the seriousness of of their responsibilities.

Later on there would be clinics for the couples when a baby was anticipated, and again at pre-school levels.

Judge LIEBOWITZ made another suggestion that will probably arouse controversy. That is that all juvenile courts hold open hearings, with newspaper reporters present.

Secrecy now is observed in juvenile cases in many states, including Michigan. The theory is to keep the child from being stigmatized and held before the world as a lawbreaker.

The Pontiac PRESS does not subscribe to this theory one whit. We agree wholeheartedly with Judge LIEBOWITZ.

There is a great deal to say in favor of Judge Liebowitz' proposal. Usually the parents are much more anxious to avoid the humiliation of publicity than the young offenders.

If the open hearing rule were established in all juvenile cases, and the parents of the young hellions were certain that their names would be publicized if he weren't kept under control, this might go a long ways toward encouraging the parental discipline which is the first line of defense against delinquency.

Russia Denounces U.S.-Iran Agreement

Our new defense agreements recently signed with Iran, Pakistan and Turkey, are intended to make up for our refusal to join the Baghdad Pact officially.

Russia is particularly displeased with Iran's unilateral denunciation of key sections in the 1921 Iranian-Soviet treaty whereby Russia had the right to send troops into Iran if Russia were threatened with aggression from that area by adherents of the Czarist regime. In 1927 a section was added whereby each party agreed not to join any political alliance aimed at the other.

It is this section that Iran violated, says Moscow, first in 1955 by joining the Baghdad Pact and again by making this separate military agreement with the United States. The Tehran Government rightly contends that those sections are out of date and meaningless. Moscow also is irritated by the failure of its trade mission to make any deals with Iran.

The new defense agreements are against outside Communist aggression only and will have nothing to do with internal matters. Thus they are in line with the EISENHOWER Doctrine endorsed by Congress in 1957.

The Man About Town

Spirit of Barter

Started With Indians and Continued for Many Years

Ideal romance: When they get married and live happily even after.

Perusal of the ads of Pontiac merchants of little more than 50 years ago shows that they did business largely on a trade and barter scale. Very little money changed hands.

This was a sequel to the manner in which our early white settlers dealt with the Indians, whose knowledge of currency was confined to a crude wampum, or measured by strings of beads or otherwise. But they wanted trinkets and other items which the white men brought for that purpose.

Before the turn of the century the trade of Pontiac merchants was mostly with the farmers, who usually had but little cash to spend. But they had produce, poultry, eggs, butter, livestock, firewood, wild game and other rural items to barter for the necessities of life which they could not raise.

These ads offered such swaps as two pounds of sugar for a dozen eggs, gallon of kerosene for a pound of butter, pair of boots or shoes for two bushels of wheat, suit of clothes for five cords of wood, woman's hat for two hens, plow for a milking cow, underwear for three rabbits, horse collar for five bushels of oats, pint of castor oil for a peck of beans, pair of mittens for a fleece of wool, gallon of molasses for a load of cow manure, quart of whisky for five bushels of corn, pint of gin for four ducks and woman's dress for two geese.

There was usually a stipulation that the butter must be "haired," this being done by dragging a table fork through it to remove any hairs that had fallen from the cow into the milk pail.

Superintendent of Oakland County's largest attended recreational area, of Kent Lake Park, says that the time will come when it will draw almost as many visitors in winter as in summer.

In the 38 miles between Pontiac and Flint, the frontage on the Dixie Highway now is almost completely zoned, and is platted for about nine-tenths of the distance.

It is about time for my good friend, who lives in the hills north of Rochester to make his annual report on the status of his woodchucks, who refuse to act like groundhogs, and never hibernate for the whole winter. Last year he saw them out on March 10.

Pete Ostendorf,

It is surprising that some technical cuss hasn't tried to show that Oakland County was not legally organized. Territorial Governor was so happy about it and in such a hurry to sign the proclamation on March 28, 1820, that he cut his first name down to "Lew."

David Lawrence Says:

Kin in Jobs Black Eye to Congress

WTSHINGTON — Integrity transcends every other issue with the American people—they resent any misuse of their money by public officials and usually defeat at the polls any candidate who is mixed up with what they believe to be a public scandal.

LAWRENCE

This past week the Democratic Party, which is in control of Congress, got a black eye with the American people. Stories telling how newly elected members of Congress put their relatives on the public payroll, irrespective of their qualifications, were spread on many front pages from coast to coast. One member rented the front porch of his own house back home and charged the government for it.

This same Democratic majority in Congress frowned on Sherman Adams because he accepted a gift of hotel lodging and a vicuna coat—not paid for by any public funds—even though he did no more than write routine letters of inquiry to governmental agencies about the cases of the donor in question.

But today it is the people's money which is being misused, and, from all appearances, the Democratic-controlled Congress isn't going to do anything about it—not even set up a special committee to investigate all such cases and pronounce judgment on those that are on the level and those that aren't.

There are abuses which approach scandal in the present system. A member of Congress can hire as temporary aides for $60 or $75 a month any of his constituents for the period just before election. This comes out of his office allowance for personnel based on the population of his district or state.

This means that some members could put on as many as 150 personal workers at government expense during a campaign. How many members did this in the last campaign? The public has a right to know. Wasn't this, after all, a campaign contribution made with public money?

Putting relatives on the payroll is an old custom. In some instances the employes have been qualified, as in the case of wives who had previously served in a secretarial capacity. But who is to be the judge? Who represents the public interest in deciding those cases on their merits? Should any member put his son or daughter on the payroll while such persons are students attending school and when they obviously cannot give their whole time to the job? Would the people of the state or district say no other person was as well qualified for the post?

Plainly, since no machinery exists through committees of Congress for passing on such cases, it is natural for the public to accept the inferences being made in the press.

Basically, the American people are sensitive to scandal in public office. The "scandals" during the Truman administration helped to defeat the Democrats in 1952. In recent months the Democrats have been trying to pin the "corruption" label on the Republicans by emphasizing the Sherman Adams episode, though there has never been uncovered the slightest proof of corruption on his part. He himself admitted he had been "imprudent" because he had not looked a gift horse in the mouth.

But in the recent cases the evidence is plain enough to see. Some members of Congress have put relatives on the payroll as office assistants at salaries ranging from $6,000 to $11,000 a year. Do these employes give full time to their work? How much of this money is a gift of public funds? To whom should members of Congress be accountable on such things?

The leaders of the Democratic Party who are so quick to denounce any "conflict of interest" on the part of officials in the executive branch of the government have done nothing to ferret out the facts about the use of public funds for campaign purposes when temporary employes in large numbers are put on the payroll of members of Congress.

Nor has any inquiry been made as to the "conflict of interest" in those cases where members of Congress whose campaigns have been financed by labor union groups still feel they have a right to cast a vote on pending labor legislation.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Very Important to Know Proper Care of Wounds

The medical word for care to keep wounds sterile, or germ-free is asepsis. Aseptic treatment is far ahead of antiseptic treatment.

DR. BRADY

Under ideal conditions for fast and perfect wound healing, whether in surgery or everyday household injuries, the healing process takes just so long. It cannot be hastened by antiseptics, germicides or antibiotics; indeed, their use is likely to retard prompt healing and favor the formation of scar.

Saireygramp and Mrs. Sumsey still bob up where healing of wound or burn is in question with the assurance that cat-tail salve or other exotic dressing will positively prevent scarring. Some substances thus used to heal wounds and burns and prevent scar are not only weird, but unmentionable.

Generally the best first aid treatment of a wound is washing with plain soapy water—pouring quarts of it over or into the wound, then gently blotting the skin dry around the wound with freshly laundered towel or sterile gauze or cotton.

Then apply a few layers of sterile gauze and over that a little sterile absorbent cotton and over all a snug but not tight bandage or, if it is a small wound, a few strips of adhesive plaster to hold the dressing in place. No antiseptics or germicides or antibotics other than soap and water.

For a burn, the best first aid treatment is the same except that freshly sterilized petrolatum (petroleum jelly), or else a piece of nylon or other smooth material should be applied first, to prevent the dressing from sticking.

For minor cuts, scratches or abrasions, apply once only two per cent iodine tincture or solution to the wound and skin for half an inch around it, and when this is quite dry a protective cover of flexible collodion, or a bit of adhesive plaster or band-aid.

When one is sure about asepsis, sterility, the first aid dressing should be left undisturbed for a week or longer, as in plastic or sculptural surgery.

Even the best first aid treatment is not enough for more serious wounds, such as deep punctures, wounds or burns by fireworks or gun powder, wounds in which foreign matter of any kind may be lodged or buried and wounds or burns in which are tags of damaged or dead tissue. Any of these wounds requires immediate treatment by physician or surgeon.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Reader Wants to Revoke New Deal Labor Laws

One can expect to be taken off to instant execution for the proposal to revoke all labor laws made by the New Deal. But it's a necessary remedy for our troubled land and to stop inflation.

Statisticians of money affairs could no doubt put down a figure of $300 million added cost to the Federal Government from the railroad labor law, the Wagner 8-hour day law, the Walsh-Healy law requiring the highest pay for Government contract work.

And I would prohibit U. S. citizens from going to foreign countries to organize labor unions. We have lost the friendship of Canada already from the effect of invasion of that country by the CIO and other unions.

I've lived in Pontiac over 40 years and have always read our paper. I've never read anything that has so much horse sense as those 15 questions Bruce Annett had in The Press. Good luck, Bruce, keep fighting.

All Americans should rally around Stanley Yankus in his attempt to save our rights and liberties from the bureaucrats. We might need some help sometime ourselves. Now's the time for action.

About missing dogs, there seems to be a dog-stealing racket in Pontiac. Maybe neighbors of people who bring in new dogs very often could tip the right people off. They need a stiff fine or jail sentence.

Our humble thanks to the editor, city editor, reporters and photographers, and especially Mr. Riley for the very important part The Pontiac Press played in making our recent polio clinics such a success.

It was through the combined efforts of people like you that we were able to be of service to our many friends and neighbors.

'Now the Shoe Is on the Other Foot'

I have three Chrysler employe friends who are very mad at Pittsburgh Plate Glass for the strike that has cost each of them a lot of work. When they strike themselves time after time and close down my employer and then I am out of a job, they always tell me it's in a good cause. They're buttering some of their own toast and the fact I get pinched doesn't bother them at all. But it's very different when a union in another city closes their Chrysler jobs.

Madison Avenue Has Local Enemy

I'd like to favor a required skull and crossbones on all tobacco products. I smoke a pack or more cigarettes a day and may not stop. It would certainly be refreshing to see something on the package that didn't originate on Madison Avenue, though. Most all our "literature" does, you know.

Resident Praises Press Carriers

May I lead a loud round of applause for all those wonderful Pontiac Press newsboys who bring the papers every day. No one ever told them about the buses and closing the schools entirely. They are getting a better training and will be better citizens for it. You might remember your Press boy with an extra dime. Think of what a service they have rendered right when you want it so badly.

'Does the Dog Law Include Waterford?'

I'm curious to know if that Michigan law applies to dogs in Waterford Township. We're bothered by packs of dogs and we're told there's nothing that can be done unless we catch the dogs, tie them up and then someone will call for them. If it does apply to us, we have some men that are shirking their jobs.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Men and Women Read Differently

Notice Andrew Barnhard's shrewd observations about modern newspaper psychology. Then discuss some of the questions below at your bridge club, or debate them in high school classes, for they illustrate some interesting sex differences. And teach your grade school children to read more widly in th daily paper.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M.D.

DR. CRANE

We've been friends for many years so I dropped into his office on a recent lecture trip to Pittsburgh.

"Andy," I began, "I'd like to get your reaction as a metropolitan editor to a problem in newspaper psychology.

"For example, a survey of housewives in large cities showed that about 98 women out of 100 prefer a male doctor.

"Even though many talented women physicians are in practice in the same cities, 98 women out of every 100 prefer a man practitioner.

"If that is the case in medical practice, do you think the same general tendency would hold true in the realm of newspaper advice columns?

"For instance, would you hazard the guess that women would prefer a male medical columnist in contrast to a female?

"And what about an advice column on love, marriage and child rearing?"

Mr. Bernhard considered the question for a momen, then said:

"I'm inclined to think women would prefer the male advisor as regards newspaper columns, other things being equal.

"Women already know pretty well their own outlook, but are usually quite eager to obtain information that will improve their skill in dealing with men.

"I am also of the opinion that wome will shop around through a newspaper and pick out the features they like, without having them combined in a special section headed 'For Women'.

"They often have different appetites than the male reader, but that difference exists even as regards food at the cafeteria, yet we do not segregate the food under a heading 'For Women', but let them pick as they wish."

Mr. Bernhard has spent his life at the helm of large newspapers so he speaks with a vast amount of practical experience behind him.

Furthermore, it might be of interest for you readers to ask yourselves these interesting questions about newspaper psychology:

(1) Do men prefer a male physician or a female doctor?

(2) Do women prefer a male physician or a female doctor?

(3) If certain features are bunched in a section headed "For Women," do you think that increases the women readership of those features?

(4) And if that "For Women" heading is used, do you think it will increase the male readership of those same features or decrease it?

(5) If those same features, now often segregated in a section headed "For Women," were simply retitled "For Men," would that decrease the female readership thereof? And what about the number of male readers?

NEWSPAPER PSYCHOLOGY

A number of changes have occurred in newspapers in the past few years, and the usual editor is closely watching the psychology of the reading public to offset the inroads of TV and radio, as well as magazines.

Newspapers are the most influential educational medium in the land, but rising labor and paper costs are forcing them to cull out features and departments that don't increase readership.

So editors always welcome your ideas as they offer you a daily print curriculum of entertaining and informative printed items.

Urge your children to read more widely in this newspaper for it gives a liberal education DAILY on current history, politics, finance, human relations, and many other topics, including sports and comic strips.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

150 Students Flee U. of M. Dorm Fire

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A minor fire in a men's dormitory at the University of Michigan forced about 150 students from their rooms early today.

24 Die After Drinking Paint Thinner; 41 Sick

MONTERREY, Mexico (UPI)— The death toll of last week's paint-thinner "jag" rose over the weekend to 24 soldiers and migrant workers dead and 41 hospitalized in serious condition.

Mundt Claims Loopholes for Corrupt

Labor Bill Said Open to Abuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) said today that a pending labor control bill "leaves many gaping loopholes for abuse by conniving and corrupt union officials."

He referred to a bill sponsored by Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Sam. J. Ervin (D-NC), now before the Senate Labor Committee.

Mundt, a member of the Senat Labor Management Committee, urged a labor subcommittee to accept two provisions he has drafted for tightening up controls over strikes and secret elections of union officers.

Although the subcommittee already has approved the Kennedy-Ervin bill, it reopened its hearings last week for testimony from Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), Labor Management Committee chairman and author of another bill. Mundt and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) demanded that they also be heard.

In a lengthy prepared statement, Mundt said some sections of the Kennedy-Ervin bill are "vulnerable to manipulation and connivance by powerful union bosses or by those who are corrupt."

He contended that under the law, many workers are compelled to join labor unions and pay dues against their will.

On election of union officers, Mundt proposed that nominating petitions, signed by 2 per cent of the members, be prepared 120 days before an election, with 60 days for filing them.

Elections would be conducted by a special membership committee representing the candidates. It would have sole authority to supervise the election and count the ballots.

Protests on elections could be made to the secretary of labor with decisions by a federal district court, which could order a new election.

On strike votes, Mundt proposed that 20 days of actual negotiation be required before any such vote, that the vote be conducted by mail by a special committee which would include an employer representative, and that even when approved any strike be delayed for another 20 days to permit additional bargaining.

Failure of unions to obey the proposed conditions could deprive them of rights before the National Labor Relations Board and their exemptions from federal income taxes.

Mundt said his proposals should permit rank and file members "to correct the unsavory conditions disclosed by the McClellan committee harings."

"We must not hand them a spoon when it requires a spade to do the job," he said.

Stewardess, Victim of Crash, Flies Again

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Joan Zeller, 21, American Airlines stewardess injured in a plane crash which killed 65 persons, made good her word that she'd fly again.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H.® Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

'To Each His Own' Life Is Marriage Secret

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—"People often wonder how we can stand each other," said Mary Healy, "after being married 18 years, and working together all that time. . ."

"Dear heart," said Peter Lind Hayes broodingly. "Where's my gun?"

"It's very simple," Mary resumed. "We get up at 7:30 in the morning . . .

"The time we used to go to bed," said Peter.

"And we don't speak. We stay very quiet, all through breakfast and on our way to town. Peter thinks about the show, and I'm thinking did Michael wear his rubbers, was Cathy's hair neat when she left for school and what will we have for dinner."

"We're not mad, we're deep thinkers," said Peter.

"After the show (The Peter Lind Hayes Show, 11:30 to 12:30, ABC-TV) we go about our various jobs. Peter plans the next day's show. I have lunch with the girls and get massages and have my hair done . . ."

"You're lovely, Mary."

"And the point is that we have each led our own lives and at the end of the day we shake hands—"

"Like civilized people."

These are Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy, beauty and the burr-cut, who have charmed jaded audiences in smart supper clubs for nearly two decades, and are now improving the lot of the housewife on daytime TV.

As of yesterday, their show is originating in Winter Haven, Florida, for two weeks; but at the time of this interview, Peter was still staring glazedly at his golf bag and pondering the effects of the Florida location on his stay-at-home viewers.

"I have a theory about that. I don't think the viewers mind seeing a show coming out of a place like Florida, even while they're shivering up North," he said. "Movies used to give people the glamor they wanted but when the method actors moved in, everything was realism, and the glamor was gone."

"I don't want to mention any names," Mary said, "but when I hear people on radio talking about how warm it is where they are—and I'm up here freezing—I resent it, I must admit."

"As I was saying," said Peter. "I don't think people like to look through a dirty tenement window. They want to look at glamor, like pretty girls and palm trees."

"Anyway, it offers a change of pace, and it'll give us a shot in the arm," said his wife. "People like to see young, buoyant faces on television."

"And I'm getting a little tired around the edges," said her husband.

Peter is aware that the female daytime viewer might have a guilt complex devoting a concentrated hour to their show. He calls them, therefore, the "ironing board brigade," and frequently reminds: "Madame, you are sitting there with runs in your stockings eating bon-bons. When is your husband coming home?"

"To keep women from having a guilt complex at the end of the day," Mary explained, "we like to give them talk on subjects that are new and current."

"Which reminds me—you know that talking monkey they said they'd put on our show in Florida? I got him on the phone and could not understand a word he said."

"No wonder," said Mary. "He speaks Italian."

Woman Wins Own Case With Photos, Notes

A policeman had given Mrs. Winter a ticket for turning off a busy street onto a cross street and dodging a traffic signal by cutting through a parking lot.

The formal charge was "driving a vehicle off the roadway to evade a stop signal."

Mrs. Winter went to work, armed with a camara and notebook. She spent half an hour observing and photographing traffic at the spot where she received the ticket.

She went into court, entered a plea of innocent and presented her evidence.

Her notes and pictures showed scores of cars using the same route she used, along with garbage trucks and motorized mailmen.

And as a clincher, she proved to the judge that several police cars made the short-cut while she was watching.

Case dismissed.

Duncan Defends Mother in Murder Trial Today

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Frank Duncan defends his mother, Elizabeth Duncan, today against charges that she bargained for the death of his wife two months before the birth of a grandchild.

S. Ward Sullivan, a noted Los Angeles attorney representing Mrs. Duncan, said Duncan would be the only witness, besides the 54-year-old defendant, to testify for the defense.

Duncan, 30-year-old Santa Barbara attorney, has maintained his mother's innocence in the 15-day trial, now moving into the fourth week. He faced cross examination by Dist. Atty. Roy Gustafson.

Mrs. Duncan is accused of hiring Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 25, last November to murder her daughter-in-law, Olga, a pretty 30-year-old Canadian born nurse.

Before the trial recessed for the weekend, Duncan testified he had hoped time and the birth of Olga's baby would overcome his mother's dislike of his wife.

"I love my mother and I love her still, but I loved my wife also," he testified.

Telling about a period after his marriage to Olga last June 20 when he was sharing apartments with both his mother and his wife, he said:

"To tell the truth, I was going back and forth much like a yo-yo, trying to keep them both happy."

Duncan said he became angry when he found his mother had placed an advertisement in a Santa Barbara newspaper proclaiming that he would not be responsible for his wife's debts.

"I told her it was my business and my business alone," he said, "and for her (his mother) not to interfere."

The attorney said he confronted his mother after Barbara Reed, a Santa Barbara carhop, told him Mrs. Duncan had asked her to help kidnap Olga.

He said Mrs. Duncan called the story "preposterous" and told him: "I know it sounds crazy, Frank, but I was going to kidnap you and take you to Los Angeles."

Police Search for Burglar in City Home Theft

A phantom burglar who slipped into a Pontiac home and stole more than $700 is the target of a search by Pontiac police detectives.

"It's a wonder he didn't break his neck," exclaimed Mrs. Marshall Rose, of 368 E. Blvd. S., as she told of the theft.

While her three children, husband and she slept, the stealthy thief entered their home through an unlocked door, crept through three downstairs rooms and up to the second floor.

When Rose awoke, he noticed the back door ajar and reached for his wallet. The money was missing, he found.

Police investigating the theft Saturday afternoon were baffled. It was nearly impossible to go upstairs without hitting furniture, they said.

Rose told the police the money was the day's receipts from the Newberry Food Market, 12 Newberry St., of which he is co-owner.

Last Chance to Register in Waterford Township

Waterford Township residents who haven't registered for the April 6 election may have a last chance today, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

Two Teen Couples Die in Accident

EAST MORICHES, N.Y. (AP)—Two girls and their dates were killed early today when their small foreign car went off Montauk Highway and struck a tree.

Police identified the dead as Irving R. Rosenblum, 19, and Ernest Barr, 20, both of Mastic; Karen Skarka, 15, of Eastport, and Sandra Sammelson, 15, of Mastic Acres, all Long Island communities.

Police said they could not determine why the car went out of control.

Doctor's Two Children Injured in Accident

Two children of a Detroit doctor are in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering injuries when their father's auto was involved in a head-on collision Sunday.

Lee Stump, 9, and David, 11, sons of Dr. George D. Stump, 33, of 12825 Outer Dr., were the injured parties. Their father told Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies that he was going south on Rochester road near Mead road, Oakland Township, when he lost control of his auto on slippery pavement.

Stump's car skidded across the center line and collided head-on with a car driven by Larry K. Hammond, 23, of Dryden. Hammand was uninjured, said deputies.

TV to Present Surgery on Eye

DETROIT (UPI)—Michigan television viewers will see surgery to restore sight in an hour-long operation carried on several stations tonight.

The cataract extraction will be performed at Detroit's Providence Hospital and explained in everyday terms by a panel of doctors. A running commentary will also be made by the operating surgeon.

Two Women Are Injured in Oakland Car Mishap

An auto accident at 2129 Orion Rd., Oakland Township, Sunday afternoon resulted in injury to two women, according to sheriff's deputies.

Thomas W. Kerr, 26, of 28490 Mound Rd., Warren, told officers he lost control of his auto and it overturned. His wife, Patricia, 20, and mother, Jean, 61, of 212 Farnum St., Royal Oak, were treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

Cleanliness Loses Out to TV 'Culture'

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

We are not quite sure whether this marks a victory of culture over cleanliness, but a survey showed more American homes now have TV sets—42,400,000—than have bathtubs—41,500,000.

Rattlesnake meat is gaining favor as a cocktail tidbit. Connoisseurs say that if you just close your eyes, you can't tell the difference between it and chicken or frog legs.

Queen Mother Elizabeth of Britain calls her pet spaniel "Mr. Rowley." There's a bit of royal history behind the name. It's the name King Charles II used when traveling incognito.

Government oddity: U. S. senators always expect more mail on Mondays following a rainy weekend back home. Having nothing else to do, their constituents sit down and write to Congress.

Auto Parts Firm Must Halt Discounts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission yesterday ordered Thompson Products, Inc., of Cleveland, Ohio, to start charging all of its customers the same price for automobile replacement parts.

The commission upheld an examiner's finding that the company was giving big auto makers, including General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, a better break on prices than its own wholesale dealers.

The FTC found that the lower prices were not justified.

Thompson appealed, arguing that the price differentials were too small to cause economic injury.

The commission rejected the appeal.

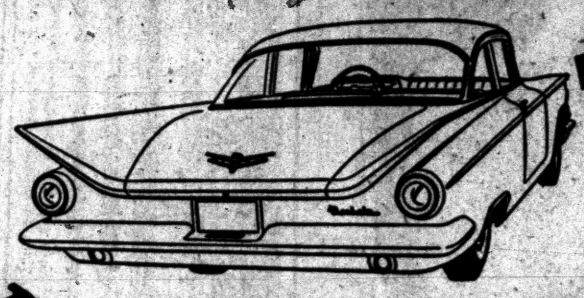

Pilot Killed When Ejector Goes Off

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—An Air Force pilot was killed when the explosive charge in his ejector seat went off and catapulted him from his plane during a crash landing Sunday.

He was Lt. Peter D. DeForrest of Hampton, Va., assigned to the 4,500th Support Squadron at Langley Air Force Base, Va.

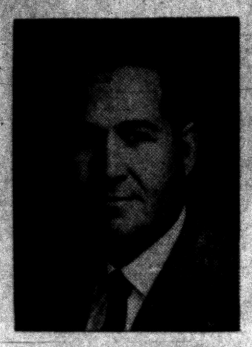

De Forrest's T33 trainer had cleared the runway and retracted its landing gear when it suddenly slapped back to the ground and skidded several hundred feet. DeForrest was shot from the plane by the seat ejector.

DAR Chapter Holds Annual Meeting

CELIA MERRILL TURNER

March 17 Concert Set

Conductors to Share Honors at Symphony

On March 17, Celia Merrill Turner, conductor, composer and violinist, will share conducting honors with Francesco DiBlasi for an all-orchestral program to be given by Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at Pontiac Northern High School. Mrs. Turner will conduct the first half of the program and Mr. DiBlasi the last.

Since 1954, Mrs. Turner has been associate conductor of the Pontiac Symphony. She began to play the violin at the age of seven. She attended National Music Camp at Interlochen and was a child actor at Bonstelle Playhouse.

STUDIED AT MSU

At Michigan State University she studied violin under Michael Press. She was awarded a three-year fellowship at Jilliard Graduate School, New York City, where she studied conducting under Albert Stoessel, violin under Hanz Letz, and composition, fugue and orchestration under Bernard Wagenaar. She was the only woman in her class to graduate in conducting.

She has been a guest conductor of Juilliard Graduate School Symphony Orchestra and several symphony orchestras in New York.

She organized Chamber Music Orchestra, which has presented concerts and opera performances at Will-O-Way Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills.

While in the armed forces as a master sergeant in the WAC, Mrs. Turner conducted the Des Moines, Iowa Band, the band at Daytona Beach, Fla. and the official band for the Third War Loan drive.

ANOTHER FIRST

She also conducted the first woman's band to play for the mounting of the White House Guard, and toured the United States with this band.

She served for a full year with the Armed Forces Radio Services, and played violin and arranged and assisted in conducting with Meredith Wilson's orchestra in Hollywood.

In 1947, she composed and conducted the 1947 March of Dimes Fashion Fantasy presented at Music Hall in Detroit with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

She is a member of Tuesday Musicale of Detroit and conducted the opera, "Orpheus," at Detroit Institute of Arts in 1950.

Since 1952, she has appeared in concerts with Alta Lynn Major as a piano and violin sonata team throughout Michigan. In 1956 she was commissioned by Pontiac Symphony Orchestra to write a composition commemorating the culture and heritage of the early Indian tribes who inhabited the Pontiac area. The composition, "A Chippewa Symphony," was given its premiere April 20 1957.

Along with her conducting duties with the Pontiac Symphony, Mrs. Turner is director of Will-O-Way Playhouse Apprentice Theater. She has just joined the faculty of City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills special elementary school for gifted children, where she is director of drama and music.

Mrs. Turner is the mother of three children, Kenneth, Patricia and Candace, and the wife of Kenneth E. Turner.

BEVERLEY LEACH

Former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. Guy Leach of Hampton, Tenn., announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverley, to Jay Helton, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Helton of Hampton. Miss Leach attended East Tennessee State College. Her fiance is a graduate of the same college. A March 28 wedding is planned.

Program Includes Election

Mrs. Echtinaw Is Named Regent of Pontiac Group

Officers were elected at the annual meeting of General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Allan Monroe of Cherokee road. Mrs. Lisle Echtinaw was named regent; Mrs. Earl McHugh, vice regent; E. Grace Clark, chaplain; and Mrs. Frank Allan recording secretary.

Others were Mrs. E. D. Benjamin, corresponding secretary; Alice Serrell, treasurer; Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, registrar; Adah Shelly, historian; Mrs. Maxwell Doerr, librarian; and Ora Hallenbeck and Mrs. Ernest Huthwaite, administrative board.

REPORTS GIVEN

Among those giving annual reports was Agnes Hilton, historian, who told of exhibits in libraries and stores commemorating "history month" in February. Doris Haynes and Mrs. Lloyd Porter supervised children in the Junior American Citizens Clubs who made valentines for Pontiac hospitals.

Mrs. Bradley D. Scott reported on genealogical records and other family data compiled by Mrs. E. V. Howlett. Alice Serrell and Dr. Jones are copying probate records.

Among members cited by Mrs. Porter for giving outstanding service to the community were Mrs. Donald Adams and Dr. Jones who appear in "Who's Who of American Women"; Janice Antona who received national honors for her work with new citizens; Grace Clark of Pontiac State Hospital and Mrs. Frank B. Geris, Alice Serrell and Mrs. E. L. Tibbals who have served on federal jury.

Others cited were Ora Hallenbeck, Mrs. Monroe and Miss Serrell of the YWCA board; and Mrs. T. W. Jackson who received national honors in the insurance fields.

HONORED FOR WORK

Mrs. L. G. Rowley was commended for her work with WCTU. State president and national vice president at large, Mrs. Rowley spoke to the group about WCTU educational program.

Honored for her work as a gray lady since 1940 at Pontiac General Hospital and for 15 years at Oakland County Infirmary was Mrs. Robert H. Wilson. She received a community service pin from the Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit. She has completed a training course in Civil Defense Forces.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Tibbals, Mrs. Eldon Gardner, Mrs. M. A. Hazelwerdt, Mrs. Everett Hathaway, Emily Holden, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Ida McRoberts, Miss Serrell and Mrs. Harold G. Fuller. At the tea table was Blanche Avery.

Nominate Officers

25 Attend Meeting

Twenty-five members of Mizpah Temple No. 7, Pythian Sisters, met Thursday at Fellowship Hall. In charge of the program were Mrs. G. R. Newlin, Mrs. Eugene Allen and Mrs. L. A. Beedle. Mrs. Elsie Beedle was guest.

Spring Apparel Going to Need More Jewelry

New spring fashions call for more jewelry than ever. Short sleeves take more or wider bracelets.

Wide belts and crushed sashes are adorned with pins. Suit lapels have pins half concealed beneath. Low necklines need bibs of frosted, clear or iridescent stones, enamels and beads or pearls.

Cleanable Coats

New suede coats are dry cleanable, spot and water resistant, thanks to a new chemical process used in tanning. The chemicals add life to the garment and give a silky-soft nap which won't rub off.

Married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church were Barbara L. Wood and Robert Mills. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Mills.

MRS. ROBERT MILLS

Mills-Wood Vows Said in Pontiac Church Rite

Barbara L. Wood and Robert Mills were married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Dr. William H. Marbach officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wood of Garland avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Alden Mills of Ortonville.

IN GOWN OF LACE

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over satin with a modified Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant floor-length skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a tiara and she carried a chapel bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and feathered carnations on a prayer book.

Joanne Wood was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John Cook of maids were Mrs. John Cook of Clarkston and Jeanette McKee of Clarkston. All wore pale blue satin dresses with matching accessories and carried semi-cascade bouquets of happiness and garnet roses.

Glenn Mills was his brother's best man. Ushers were Don Mills of Detroit and David Wolfe of aLnsing.

RECEPTION AT CHURCH

A reception was held in the church parlors. For her going-away outfit, the bride wore a green suit with beige accessories and a corsage of white roses and stephanotis. The couple will live in Ortonville.

The new Mrs. Mills attended Eastern Michigan college and her husband is a graduate of Flint University.

Bargain Counter Slippers Make Your Feet Pay

When you buy leisure slippers or mules, be just as careful in having them fitted as you would in shopping for shoes. For some reason, women who are fastidious about the fit of their shoes will go bargain basement hunting for slippers.

Actually, slippers should fit just as well and offer just as much support if you are to avoid foot trouble. Don't decide that you can get away with a size smaller or wider than you ordinarily wear. No bargain is worth aching arches or really serious foot trouble. Have your slippers properly fitted in the same shop where you buy your shoes.

If you're a housewife, you may wear slippers more than you wear shoes.

Routine Helpful

Career Gals Need Beauty Plan

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I recently have mentioned the fact that many women in business are careless about good nutrition and exercise. Today let us consider some of the other problems in grooming which the professional woman has.

In the first place it is more difficult for her to give her skin the best care. She cannot, of course, wear cold cream at the office as the housewife can at home. And certainly not every woman tolerates cream on her face while she sleeps.

Whatever your individual situation may be, take time for a leisurely bath either when you arrive home or before going to bed at night. This is the perfect time to let your lubricating cream soak into the skin of your face and neck, after first cleansing the skin. The heat from the hot water will help because it opens the pores.

EYE CREAM

Perhaps this and an eye cream patted around the eyes at night will be all you require. Also there are oils which practically disappear into the skin. One way or another, you must lubricate a normal or dry skin if you wish to delay signs of aging.

The woman with an oily complexion has a much simpler situation. She can wash her face with soap and water in the morning, then again at the office and when returning home. She can keep an extra supply of make-up at work and use the coffee break for facial repairs if her complexion demands this.

Most working girls and women find that the weekly visit to a beauty salon is well worth the money and time spent for hair and nails. If you prefer to take care of your own hair and nails, then weekends or some special night must be saved for this. Once a week or more often if needed, superfluous hair must be dealt with.

It is more difficult for the working woman to give her skin the best care, but she must surmount this problem if she expects to be well-groomed and attractive.

Since the working woman does not have time during the business day to look over her clothes and do whatever light laundry or mending is indicated, she must work this into her planned routine.

The important thing is to have a plan. Naturally, it must be somewhat flexible, but unless there is some sort of looking ahead you are certain to find yourself poorly groomed and much less than your most attractive self.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Menus For Career Girls," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 46 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

His Advice Excellent for Her Problems

By RUTH MILLETT

Don't ask another woman—ask a man—

If you really want to know if a hat or dress becomes you.

A woman pays so much attention to fashion trends, fabric and labels that she may urge you to buy something that isn't particularly becoming. A man will see just one thing: whether or not you look pretty in the particular dress or hat.

If you want an unbiased opinion on another woman. Women judge another woman by comparing her with themselves. But a man can be more objective in seeing a woman as she really is.

If you want to know what qualities in a woman appeal to a man. Women have a lot of preconceived ideas of what men like in women. But at best they are only guessing. A man knows for the simple reason that he's a man.

If you want advice when you are selecting a gift for a man. Women are amused by the helplessness of a man selecting a gift for a woman, but actually women make just as many mistakes when they are hunting the right gift.

If you want to know the real issues in a political campaign. Women tend to be more concerned with personalities than with issues and often take a violent dislike to a candidate for reasons that they can't explain, or for reasons that are purely emotional.

If you want to know why a girl who, in your opinion, is "perfectly lovely" doesn't appeal to men.

Another woman will just affirm your conviction that men are poor judges of women, but aman will know instinctively why the girl either antagonizes men or leaves them totally disinterested.

There are many times when it pays to ask a man, instead of another woman.

Just Grin and Bear the Burden

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are a group of five women who play mah-jong once a week. Before I was included in these games I told the women that as I had small children and my husband worked nights, they would have to play in my house. They agreed and it was decided that each member would take a turn at being hostess. That is, each week someone else would bring the refreshments and serve the coffee.

"However, not one of them ever does the dishes. I think it is very unfair to me to have to wash the dishes all the time and that the hostess for the evening should do them before she leaves. Am I wrong in expecting this, or since it is my house am I expected to do them?"

Answer: I think it would be only fair on the part of the "acting" hostess to at least offer to help you with the dishes, but if she doesn't you can hardly ask her to do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: You have always said that when a girl invites a boy to go to a dance with her, she is supposed to buy the tickets. What does one do, Mrs. Post, when tickets cannot be bought ahead of time and admission is paid at the door?"

Answer: If you cannot buy tickets ahead of time, there is nothing to do but hand him enough money when you leave the house, or on the way to the dance and say in a very matter-of-fact way, "Father (or mother) couldn't buy the tickets ahead of time so will you please take care of this for him (or her) at the door?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: I went to a dance the other evening and the boy with whom I went sent me a very pretty corsage. It seemed a shame to let it dry up in the refrigerator so I wore it to the office the next day. I overheard several of the girls criticize me for this.

Answer: A single flower would be all right, but a large conspicuous corsage with lots of ribbon is not suitable to wear to a business office. It would have been better to have put it in a vase of water which would most probably have kept your flowers fresh until you returned home.

Dear Abby:

Hands Stretched to Aid 'Deserted'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: This letter is for 'DESERTED' and all the other unwed mothers who feel you are alone.

ABBY

Believe me, you are not. There are many of us. You say you are only 17 and wish you were 70 so you could go to your eternal rest? Dear Child, what you now endure is but a moment in what can be a long and wonderful life. Many years ago the same thing happened to me and I too wished my life was over, but the years have passed and now I am a respected member of the community.

"I married well and raised my daughter who knows my story and loves me all the more because I held my head high and proved that one mistake did not make me a tramp. Dear little girl, I wish that I could hold you in my arms and tell you that the pain you now feel will pass with God's help. In closing may I say to the mothers of your girl friends who shun you, 'Let he who is without sin cast the first stone.'"

"NOT WITHOUT SIN"

"DEAR ABBY: If the little girl who signed herself DESERTED will call me collect before 7:30 a.m. or after 7:30 p.m. I'll be glad to send her a plane ticket and have her for my 'niece' for as long as she wants me."

MRS. O. M. (Midland, Texas)

DEAR MRS. O. M.: Texas may be the second biggest state in the Union, but you've got the biggest heart in all the world. God bless you!

(Note: "MRS. O. M." is not the wife of a Texas oil millionaire. Her letter was written on the back or an order blank. She is a working woman.)

"DEAR ABBY: I've been following your column and am particularly disgusted with the way you coddle our young people who have strayed from the ways of righteous and decent living. I refer to your stressing the great numbers of unwed mothers who have sinned but manage to build happy lives in spite of it. You encourage them to 'hold their heads high' and to 'forget it!'

"If girls who have had babies out of wedlock were cast out of society and made to suffer a little more for their sins they could serve as examples of other girls who are tempted to do the same thing. I'm glad I have no children but if I did, I wouldn't let them read your column.

RETIRED SCHOOL TEACHER

DEAR RETIRED: Why kick a person when he's down? A helping hand is what they need. For everyone who gets caught in a mistake, hundreds (by the grace of God) are spared the ugly consequences which could easily have attended their misdoings. Who are we to sit in judgment of those who were less fortunate than ourselves?

"DEAR ABBY: It reassures me to read your answers shifting the blame to parents when young girls find themselves in the difficulties described by DESERTED. My parents meant well, but they impressed upon my mind that sex was vile and we were not to mention it in our home. I was curious and normal and at first opportunity I went exploring for myself. I left very few stones unturned.

"Thank heavens maturity caught up with me before my luck ran out. Please continue, Dear Abby, to use every opportunity to restate the responsibility of parents to take a firm stand on the subject of sex morality; relating acceptable behavior to strength of character rather than abstract good and evil." J. S.

Wieners in Creole Sauce Make a Different Meal

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you can persuade your family that a new way of fixing hot dogs is worth a try, you might serve them Creole Wieners. This recipe comes from Mrs. Gerald Black.

Mrs. Black has a full time job. One of her two sons is in the Air Force; the younger boy is in high school. Gardening and reading are two of her hobbies. She enjoys summer trips to Drummond Island where she can hike.

CREOLE WIENERS
By Mrs. Gerald Black

2 cups chopped onions
8 slices bacon, cut in ¼-in. pieces
1 can (No. 2½) tomatoes
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 package (8) wieners

Partially brown the bacon. Pour off most of the fat and add the onions. Cook until onions are golden brown. Add rest of ingredients.

Simmer 40 minutes. Boil rapidly 5 minutes to take up excess liquid. Serve with rice, macaroni or potatoes.

Navy Mothers Hear Report, Plan Party

Mrs. Frank Riley reported on the meeting of Michigan Women's National Security Association, at the meeting of Pontiac Navy Mothers Club 355 held Thursday at Naval Training Center.

Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Mark W. Kinney represented the club at the Security meeting held in Detroit last week.

Mrs. Lucie Wright was appointed chairman of a card party to be held in April. Mrs. Edward May and Mrs. Reginald Kalbfleisch will assist.

The next social meeting will be held March 19 at the South Edith street home of Mrs. Alvin Hill. The next business meeting will be held April 2 at the Naval Training Center.

Join With Nature in Makeup Choice

Rather than fight nature in your selection of makeup, why not join up? Nature is usually right. That's why there's such a logical pairing of brunettes with their dark eyes, and blondes with eyes of the blue-green strain.

Beauticians do say, however, that you should heighten and accentuate your natural coloring. And regardless of the shade you apply, you should build on a healthy, clinically clean skin. After washing, tone the skin with a brisk patting of good qualitty witch hazel.

Cut Noise to Save Nerves

Also, draperies will cut indoor sounds and keep out street noises.

Wash knives separately from other tableware. Some knife handles should not be immersed. A thick sponge and careful handling will prevent cuts.

Editor Can Interview Self If News Lacking

CRANBURY, N. J. (AP)—Editor-Publisher Peter Nagury of the Weekly Cranbury Press is really in a position to get local news.

Nagury is also chief of police, violations clerk, director of welfare, fireman, pressman, typesetter, reporter, husband and father of three children.

Bob Considine Says:

Sam Goldwyn Sensitive About His Sayings

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

Sam Goldwyn almost took a Gromyko-like walkout on a recent Hollywood banquet when toastmaster Peter Ustinov said, of him, "Mr. Goldwyn has enriched the silver screen as much as he has enriched the English language."

Sam is getting more sensitive about his wonderful real or imagined Goldwynisms. But I've never heard one quoted cuttingly.

Goldwyn's record for making superb and tasteful motion pictures will be his monument, not whether or not he said, "include me out" or "a verbal contract isn't worth the paper it's written on."

Kerry Shor, winsome daughter of the jovial restaurateur, scored a smashing debating victory for the seventh grade at Fifth avenue's Marymount School for Girls recently. With the connivance of her father, we have her notes at hand. They show commendable research for one so young. And they're darned alarming.

The question concerned the relative merits of U. S. and Soviet Union education. Kerry weighed in with the proposal that the Russians go about the matter with a much greater zeal. She drew her arguments from a well-stocked arsenal.

"Russia has attuned its educational system to the age of the cold war and of scientific development. A Russian graduate of a secondary school, at age 17, has the classroom training of an American college sophomore or junior. Russian schools are in session six days a week, seven hours a day, with four or five hours of homework assigned."

The young debater concluded with a notation that one result of the Russian system's stress on languages of late was noted in Jakarta, capital of Indonesia.

The entire staff of the Russian embassy there was replaced simultaneously. Every newcomer spoke the native tongue perfectly. Only three in our own 225-man embassy could speak the tongue.

Texas University sharpies are in hot water for peddling answers to final examinations for $10. They are facing indictment on two counts: 1) cheating, and 2) grossly underrating the buying power of fellow Texans.

Unnerving segment from a piece by William Leavitt (Air Force Magazine) on what's in store for the first American we attempt to put in orbit:

"Then, finally, the dramatic blastoff. The next few split seconds will be vital. If anything seems to go wrong, ground control will touch off a mechanism to blast and parachute the astronaut to safety thousands of yards away from the fiery exhaust of the missile.

"An ambulance will rush to his landing point, what went wrong will be analyzed and reanalyzed.

"And the process will begin over again, days or weeks later."

If it's me, I quit now.

Dr. Charles W. Mayo, one of the great men of U. S. medicine, told Esther Kitzes of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph:

"No, I do not believe smoking causes lung cancer. If I said 'yes' and you saw me smoking you'd think me a fool."

Institute Doesn't Know How It Came by Mummy

CHICAGO (UPI) — An Egyptian mummy kept mum today about the mystery of its origin.

It lay in silence in the basement of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago while institute officials debated where it came from, and why.

They don't even know how the mummy came into the institute's possession.

Dr. Watson Boyes, secretary of the institute, took a closer look at it a few days ago and then had it carted off to the basement. He suspected it might be a multiple mummy.

The mummy is one of eight at the institute. Director Carl H. Kraeling said records show that James Henry Breasted, founder of the museum, bought five of the mummies from A. E. Cyril Fry, Cairo, Egypt, in 1894-95. He bought another in 1920 from Mahmoud Mohasseb, Luxor, Egypt, and a seventh was acquired in 1941 when the Chicago Art Institute donated most of its Egyptian collection to the Oriental Institute.

There are no records, however, to explain the origin of the eighth mummy. Boyes recalls that it was part of the institute's collection moved in 1930 from a former site to the present building.

At that time, Boyes noted several features that made him doubt its authenticity. It bore certain resemblances to a human skeleton, he said, but the partially opened mummy was lined throughout with sticks and its chest cavity was filled with an improbable heap of bones.

"The location of sticks throughout the package as well as the bone placement indicate the mummy was possibly used as a repository for the bones of not one, but several, persons," Boyes said.

He said the wrapping is authentic but does not appear to be as thick as that usually found on mummies.

Institute scholars speculated that certain limbs may have become detached in the embalming process—believed to have been performed in vats—and were later gathered up and placed in the same mummy.

They also suggest that sticks may have been put in the package to provide bodies that lost a limb with a "substitute" for use in the afterlife.

Institute officials said the mystery mummy might have been a "bonus" in the five-mummy purchase Breasted made before the turn of the century.

But Kraeling said there was a national vogue in mummy collecting back in the 1800s and 1890s and scores of mummies were imported for "mummy-wrapping parties."

"The novelty of having a mummy around the house soon wore off and many people took the first opportunity to get rid of them," he said. "Museums were the logical targets."

Many Oakland Farmers Oppose Price Control, Soil Bank Plan

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Many farmers in Oakland County do not favor government price control and are definitely against the Soil Conservation program.

This was revealed in a spot-check made by The Pontiac Press of top wheat producers in five different sections of the county to determine how farmers feel about government crop controls.

Yankus, who has been fighting government wheat acreage controls since 1943, was assessed about $2,600 in fines and penalties on charges he violated this program.

Last week he took his fight before Congress and threatened to migrate to Australia rather than run his farm the way the Department of Agriculture wants him to.

Oakland farmers are hopeful something constructive will come of all the fuss Stanley created.

This year's largest wheat grower in the county is a progressive young farmer six miles north of Rochester. He was allotted 117 acres for wheat production on his 700-acre farm.

Definitely against government control, Harold Fogler reaps about 55 bushels of wheat per acre and sells every grain at the market price—to the market.

"I believe this country could get along fine by using the old supply-and-demand policy," Fogler says. "One year the market might be flooded, but the next season it would even out," he added.

Despite the government's guaranteed support price of $1.34 a bushel last year, Fogler said he sold his wheat on the open market at harvest time for $1.80. This eliminated the gigantic task of storing and rehandling the heavy bags of grain in the spring, when the government calls it in, he said.

Before the government imposed wheat quotas on independent farmers, Fogler raised approximately 200 acres of the golden grain, "and I don't remember any expensive government storage problems," he said.

He laughingly admits that he "got carried away" when he was planting wheat last spring and forgot to include one ten-acre field in figuring his grain planting report.

It wasn't long before an inspector found the extra wheat, and Fogler was notified by mail to get rid of the wheat or pay a fine. "Destroying that brand new crop almost made me sick," Fogler recalled.

It costs a farmer about $18 an acre for seed, and to plow, cultivate, plant and reap a wheat crop, according to figures in the local Agricultural Stabilization Department office.

As to the 300 Soil Bank farmers in Oakland County, Fogler thinks this is turning into a racket. He claims wealthy individuals and real estate investors buy big chunks of farm land, then sign up for the Soil Bank program.

The government is giving away billions for the privilege of not working the land, he said. "Some of these farms were not workable in the first place and we are paying high taxes to keep them idle," he said.

The one man who can best answer questions on government subsidies, land conservation, price controls and federal farm policies in general is the head of the Oakland County Stabilization and Conservation Department, Walter Cook.

He has complete wheat allotment reports on 1,300 farmers with some 20,000 acres in Oakland County, plus aerial photos of every county farm.

Cook explained that wheat allotment quotas are determined by adding together all the bushels of wheat produced during the last four years on a farm, then dividing this figure by four and multiplying the resulting total by 69 per cent — Oakland County's established percentage basis.

Any individual who has a four-year farm crop history may sign up for the Soil Conservation program, Cook said. The applicant agrees not to raise crops of any kind and to put his land into hay seed for a period of five consecutive years.

This means that the government will pay on an average productive basis $15 an acre for idle land. The "retired" farmer may then work in a factory, use his barns for any type of business he chooses or raise chickens, while each year receiving a substantial check from Uncle Sam.

Each farm can be allotted a maximum of 15 acres for wheat and be assured the government will buy the wheat at its set support price. Bi-annual checks of every farm in the county are made by inspectors.

A fine of $222 for having too much wheat last year was imposed on Sam Miller who farms 465 acres of land just south of Davisburg. This turned out to be a misunderstanding of one individual operating two farms, who was allotted for one.

"I think the whole program is one vicious cycle," Miller says. "The government allots a few acres to farmers with big farms, then the boys at the university come down and show us how to triple our production with liquid nitrogen."

Because he loved the outdoors, and independence for his three children, Miller has remained a farmer for the last 25 years. But now, he says, it is a "pain in the neck." He added: "The more government controls there are, the less freedom there is for the real farmer."

Miller was allotted 24 acres of wheat per farm this year. Like most farmers, he sells the wheat on the open market and uses the straw for bedding down his 40 dairy cows.

Even if a farmer does not accept a guaranteed price from the government for wheat allotments, he must apply for a "marketing card" at the stabilization department. This shows exactly how many acres of wheat the farmer has planted, harvested and has on hand. The card is shown at the mill when the wheat is sold, according to Cook.

"The part that gripes the farmer is that the government makes a "whipping boy" out of them. Everyone else gets big subsidies and yet people are told repeatedly of how many millions of dollars is being given the farmer."

Long thinks a farmer who can manage a business grossing thousands of dollars a year ought to receive as much income per hour as an average laborer working only eight hours a day. "It just don't add up," he said.

Some 54 acres of wheat has been allotted to Michigan State University graduate Henry Axford Jr., who operates a 700-acre farm in the northeast section of Oakland County.

Axford, who majored in agricultural economy, thinks that the "whole darn thing is a big problem." He said, "I don't know who has figured this program out, but it sure wasn't a farmer."

The 28-year-old farmer sells his wheat on the open market rather than take government subsidies. And like many others, tight controls and governmental regimentation simply "rubs him the wrong way."

Axford not only harvests thousands of bushels of wheat annually, but takes care of 48 dairy cows, 175 pigs, 108 beef cattle and produces 240 acres of corn.

He was informed that he planted one acre of wheat over his quota last year. "It sure seemed silly to have to go out there in the field and turn over one acre," he said.

Farmer Frank Ruggles was born on his farm near Milford 59 years ago. He plants his maximum 15 acres into wheat and does not argue about the government farm program, maintaining that Yankus "sure has a point, but you can't beat the law, and I'm not silly enough to try it."

Ruggles tells his two farmer sons Elmer, 30, and Ralph, 31, that "you can keep out of trouble a lot easier than you can get out of it." However, the older man takes a definite stand regarding the Soil Conservation program.

He says that this has helped the man who wasn't a real farmer —not the man who works 14 hours a day for $1 an hour, seven days a week, holidays included.

"I'm just waiting to see what this land will be like in five years," he said. "It takes hundreds of years to build up good rich farm land, and five years of idleness is not the answer to this problem."

TOP ADVISER — When there are questions to be answered — and there are hundreds — Walter Cook is always available at the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Department office to help with the answers. He is shown explaining data from an aerial map, one of 1,300 on file in the office.

RAISES MOST WHEAT — Although Harold Fogler of North Rochester road is allotted more wheat acreage than any other farmer in Oakland County, he believes the law of supply and demand is the best solution to farm surpluses. He is definitely against the government's Soil Bank program.

OPPOSED TO REGIMENTATION — The government control program is "run in a vicious circle," according to Sam Miller who operates 460 acres of farm land south of Davisburg. He is shown here clearing trees with a power saw to make more room for a corn crop.

GRADUATE FARMER — Henry Axford Jr. manages a 700-acre wheat farm in the northeast section of Oakland County and raises little pigs "for the fun of it." He majored in agricultural economics, but doesn't agree with the present federal farm policies.

AGAINST QUOTAS — Raising new calves on his 235 acre farm near Milford Carlos Long is not happy with any quotas and does not believe in this type of regimentation. Long has 42 registered Holstein cows and produces his quota of 17 acres of wheat.

LIFETIME FARMER — Frank Ruggles, who operates a 200-acre farm near Milford, thinks that the five-year Soil Bank program not only deteriorates the land, but mankind as well. Twice a day he pitches hay to his herd of 28 Holstein cows.

UP Brewery Sold to Realtor, Trucker

MENOMINEE (UP)—M. & M. Brewing Co. has been sold to a newly formed corporation headed by Menominee businessmen Hugh K. Cavill and John F. Stang.

Announcement of the sale to Cavill, a realtor, and Stang, a truck line operator, was made by Leo W. Erdlitz, president of the brewery.

Terms of the sale were not disclosed.

The new owners said operation of the business would continue with the same personnel. The plant employs 31.

Honor System at Candy Counter

Man Proves Faith in Kids

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A new children's candy counter in Max Schwartz's drug store features the ultimate in trusting self-service. The young patrons ring up their own sales on a cash register and make their own change.

"Kids are honest people," Schwartz declared after the counter had been in operation a week. "So far, I'm at least 95 per cent correct."

After the first week an inventory of the candy and a check of cash receipts revealed a shortage of five cents on every dollar of business at the counter.

Schwartz grinned and said, "That's not the first time a youngster has returned with the cash after overlooking the cash register on a previous purchase."

He admitted that a times he has to reprimand the children when they get too excited around the counter.

"One thing, though," he added, "They never stay mad long. They're right back the next day with no grudge. These kids are terrific."

It's Quiz Time in Anchorage

Statehood Brings Floods of Questions About Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (NEA)—Alaska, a place of mystery to many, is turning out straightforward answers to an avalanche of questions.

Since statehood action, wires, overseas telephone calls and letters are flooding Alaska civic groups and "state" agencies.

The Chamber of Commerce secretary said that normally about 35 letters had been received daily, but in the first mail delivery following Congressional approval of statehood, the count jumped to 150 letters.

The majority of the letters begin: "Now that you are a state—" then go on to particular questions. They have arrived from all of the 48 states south of the Canadian border, from Canada, England and other foreign nations.

Californians, followed by Texans, lead in the number of inquiries.

READY TO START

Homesteading and business opportunities head the list of topics on which information is sought. Many persons seem ready to sell all and leave for Alaska at the drop of a fur hat.

This quote is typical? "I could raise between $5,000 and $20,000 —would that be enough to start a business in Alaska?"

Here are some other sample inquiries:

A Texas housewife wants to homestead near a city where her husband can work as a plumber. A Florida couple—a nurse and advertising man—want to work at their skills and live permanently in Alaska.

One Maine family asks specific questions about housing, schools, hospitals and stores. Another couple plan to leave for Alaska within three weeks and the husband wishes to find work in the field of electronics. He will.

An Arizona farmer asks about tillable land, growing season, average temperatures. One practical Montana family, intending to bring a trailer, sought cost of trailer park rental and fees charged by Alaska baby sitters.

VARIED AREAS

From the timbered southeastern "Panhandle" to the treeless Aleutian Chain, from the mountainous coastlines to the inland tundra, Alaska's 586,000 square mile area offers a kaleidoscope of impressions. No over-all description can be given in a single reply.

Since the chamber finds it impossible to make individual replies, it answers most queries with informative pamphlets. "Data on Alaska," for one, is a collection of assorted facts on resources, basic industries, travel, parks, outdoor sports and wildlife.

The chamber advises that specific information on mineral deposits can be obtained from the Bureau of Mines, Box 560, Juneau; on business opportunities from Alaska Resources Development Board, Box 2391, Juneau.

The Anchorage organization cautions job-seekers that it is not an employment agency. It refers most labor inquiries to the Alaska Territorial Employment Service in Anchorage.

But the Chamber strongly recommends that "those in search of Alaska employment do not venture north without employment assured, or have sufficient funds to draw upon until employment is secured."

'Copter to Test Weather Bureau's 'Tornado Alley'

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP)—The U.S. Weather Bureau is sharpening its tornado spotting organization in "Tornado Alley."

More than 200 persons from 32 Kansas and 18 Oklahoma towns met here Sunday to plan a test alert April 1.

A helicopter will impersonate a tornado in three Kansas counties along the Oklahoma border.

Most tornadoes usually are sighted in May, with June second and April third.

President's Private Train to Be Shrine

WASHINGTON — An era of presidential travel appears to have come to a close with the retirement of the President's private railroad car, the Ferdinand Magellan.

Declared surplus by the White House in April 1958, the Magellan has been donated to the Florida Development Commission, which plans to enshrine it on the campus of the University of Miami at Coral Gables.

Among the most elaborately protected and equipped railroad cars in the world, the Magellan is a reconstructed Pullman which was prepared for presidential use by the Association of American Railroads in 1942, the National Geographic Society recalls.

Railroad officials, concerned for the Chief Executive's security in wartime, designed the car to be practically accident and assassination-proof. Weighing 285,000 pounds in contrast to the normal Pullman's 160,000-pound weight, the Magellan is so sturdy that not even a sizable charge of dynamite exploded beneath it would budge it from its tracks.

Ineligible Player Costs 'B' Honors; Clarkston, Oxford Play Off Tonight

Avondale Forfeits District Title

The use of an ineligible player has cost Avondale High the first Class B district basketball championship in the school's history.

Avon was forced to forfeit the district crown it won last Friday night my whipping Oxford at Pontiac Central when a group of Oxford fans protested the use of a boy who had played church league basketball in January.

Irv Gingrich, a junior and a second-stringer on the Avondale varsity who saw brief action during the easy win over Oxford, confessed to playing with an Auburn Heights church quintet in a game at Oxford in mid-January.

Charles Forsythe, state director of high school athletics, notified Avondale athletic director Frank Crowell by telephone at 8:30 this morning that the Jackets would have to relinquish their district honors as a result of the violation of MHSAA eligibility rules.

Clarkston and Oxford, Avon's two victims in the PCH district, will hold a playoff game at the Pontiac Central gymnasium tonight to determine a successor to the Jackets' throne. Starting time is 7:30 p.m.

The Clarkston-Oxford winner will join Port Huron St. Stephens, Romeo and Bloomfield Hills in the Class B regional tomorrow, Wednesday and Friday in the PCH gym.

Crowell received word of the protest as the started to leave the PCH gym following Avon's easy win over Oxford. The Avon athletic boss said he would investigate the situation.

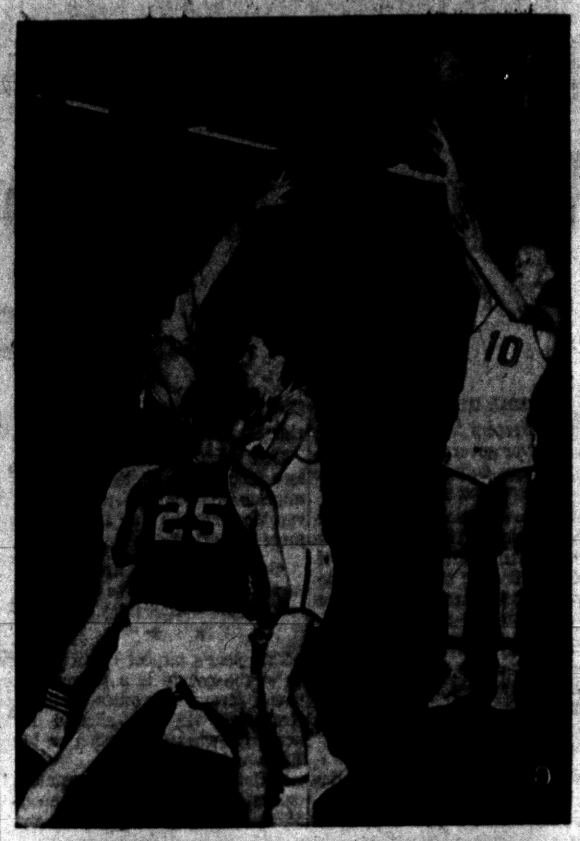

After checking with Avon cage Coach Dick Bye and hearing the boy's admission of church league participation, Crowell contacted Forsythe by phone and informed him of the situation.

Forsythe polled the MHSAA executive committee via phone, then informed Crowell this morning that the committee had voted to strip the Jackets of their district laurels.

Apparently, Crowell was the last one to hear of the final MHSAA decision. Clarkston and Oxford both were aware of the playoff game last night, but Crowell was in the "dark" until this morning.

Oxford coach Ted Gawry, who was a college friend of Bye, felt bad about the disqualification. "Avondale deserved to win the district and it's terrible that this thing ever happened," Gawry said.

Rams Capture First District Title in Years

Roll Over ROSM, 51-35, After Trailing at the Intermission

By M. GUY MOATS

St. Frederick High's basketball team achieved something Saturday night it has hoped and tried for since 1947. That year marked the last time, prior to Saturday that the Rams won a district MHSAA championship.

Coach Gene Wright's club came from behind a 20-19 deficit at halftime, to roll over Royal Oak St. Mary, 51-35 at PCH. Victory gained a regional spot at Birmingham this week. Draw for positions was to be made today.

The jubilant Rams hoisted Wright to their shoulders as the final horn sounded. And they gave a happy jostling to Captain Tom Derocher, who with hard driving Steve Pocs, were scoring leaders for the district champions. Wright, and the coach of the 1947 champs, Tom Kennedy, especially savored the victory.

"This is only the 2nd time I can recall," said Gene, "that we (St. Frederick) have won a district tourney here in PCH." Wright was a member of 1940 team that also was a district titlist.

St. Mary gave the Rams a lot of trouble in the first half, holding a rebound edge that threatened the Pontiac club's hopes. Just six seconds from intermission, Mike Butash fired a side shot that sent the Royal Oak club in front 20-19.

But when play resumed the St. Frederick defense improved greatly. Except for a brief period when the lead changed hands five times, Rams were in full control. Derocher, Phil Bieri and Joe Keller combined to wipe out a 24-23 count (RO ahead for the last time) with eight points. The same trio staged two more similar outbursts, in the finale for six and eight points.

Pocs had a good night, collecting 13, while Derocher had one less. Bill Crawford had 11 for St. Mary.

Every member of the Rams' squad got into the game, with most of them contributing to the score.

The Rams had to eliminate three opponents on the way to their title. They swamped Farmington OLS 58-27, then ran into the SCL champs, Orchard Lake St. Mary. After a sizzling battle Rams won in overtime, 42-37. On the same night ROSM stopped St. Michael, 34-32, also in overtime.

Birmingham and Holly Among Others in Regionals

Romeo 'B' Favorite Here

By CHUCK ABAIR

Favored Romeo will meet Bloomfield Hills tomorrow night at 7:30 and tonight's Clarkston-Oxford playoff winner will go against Port Huron St. Stephen Wednesday at the same time in the Class B regional to be held at Pontiac Central this week. The winners will clash Friday night.

Surprising Bloomfield Hills made the 2nd week of tourney play by sweeping through three opponents at home climaxed by the 43-33 triumph over Redford St. Mary Saturday. Romeo won its first district in nine years the same night with a 63-33 walloping of Troy while Port Huron St. Stephen was downing Croswell-Lexington 66-53 to become the other entry.

Berkley, which has lost only once all season, goes against powerful Highland Park Tuesday and Birmingham faces mighty Hamtramck Wednesday in the "A" regional at Birmingham with the victors meeting Friday. Another top class regional will feature East Detroit at home.

Birmingham will also host a Class C tourney with St. Frederick, Imlay City and New Haven carrying the area colors against Grosse Pt. St. Paul and St. Gabriel, St. Bernard and St. Thomas—all of Detroit.

Holly will switch its attention to the Flint IMA to compete with Cass City, St. John's, Grand Blanc, Flushing and Clio. Brighton will be another "B" regional contestant. The Bulldogs will go to Willow Run to meet the host school, River Rouge and Tecumseh.

Millington and Memphis are the other area quintets still in the running. Millington will be in a 7-team "C" meet at Bay City Junior College as Memphis enters Class D play at Eastern Michigan.

Bloomfield Hills had to overcome a 9-1 1st period deficit to climax a big week. Still down 18-13 at halftime, the Barons took complete command the rest of the way as Doug Danziger and John Dixon finished with 13 points each.

Troy, with scoring ace and floor general Don Harned limited to about eight minutes of action, was no match for fast-breaking Romeo. The Colts were down 22-6 when Harned entered. He could do little to slow down the determined Bulldogs.

Romeo was in front 38-15 at halftime and it was just a question of how high the score would reach from then on. Little guard Reid Olszak led the way with 18 followed by impressive reserve Don Fowler with 12.

Berkley, featuring hard-working Dave Burris, tripped Warren 46-37 as the final qualifier at Birmingham. East Detroit nipped Grosse Pointe 64-61 in overtime.

Holly started with a 22-point 1st quarter and kept rolling to trounce Durand 74-62 at Fenton. Four Broncos scored in double numbers paced by George McDaniel with 20. Russ Hudson's basket with 8 seconds left enabled Brighton to win out over Northville 55-53 at Milford after a tight battle.

Pontiac Chiefs in Runnerup Spot

Hills Swamp SVC Foes in Title Meet

A splendidly balanced Arthur Hill High School swimming club Saturday night splashed to its 9th straight Saginaw Valley Conference championship, with an overwhelming count of 115 points.

Pontiac Central High's hard-trying paddlers were runnersup, a distant 64½ points behind the Lumberjacks with 50½ points. In third place, 11½ points trailing the Chiefs was Flint Central. Other scores were: Bay City Central 33, Flint Northern 32½ and Saginaw High, 16.

Only one record was broken (twice in one day) in the crystal-blue water of Pontiac Northern's fine new Olympic pool. And that was set first in a preliminary of the 50-yard freestyle. Ironically, the swimmer who turned in the 24.5 second time (SVC record 24.7) finished 2nd in the final. It was one of the few events which did not go to a Hillite splasher.

Carl Nieman, defending champion in the event, was touched out by Jim Riutti of Flint Central, with a 24.6 effort in the final, which also was under the former mark set in 1957 by Jack Wuepper of Bay City.

Dave Gainey's swimmers took eight of 12 first places. They were 1-2 in three events, including the diving. Defending state and SVC champion Pete Cox was edged by only 7.6 points by teammate Bill Williams. Williams was runnerup in the state last year.

Both boys gave brilliant performances, but Bill's smooth, practically perfect full twist, one-and-a-half dive gave him the winning margin. They will meet again, in next week's state test.

A capacity audience, and an appreciative one, witnessed the full day's program.

Most every event produced a redhot race, one of the most exciting being the last number, the 200-yard freestyle relay. Arthur Hill won, with Pontiac just a gasp behind. It was nip and tuck all the way, with the Hills anchor, Jim Mahar, thrashing out ahead of Chiefs' Ron Hoekman only 10 yards from home.

Summary:

400-yard freestyle—Young (AH); Ted Gaensbauer (PCH); Whipple (FC); Hyslop (AH); Holloway (FC); Rambo (Sag). Time 4:41.8

50-yard freestyle—Riutti (FN); Nieman (AH); Requadt (BC); Barry Horst (PCH); Hart (AH); Greg Uligan (PCH). Time 24.6 (betters old record of 24.7, but new record is 24.5, set in prelim. by Nieman)

200-yard freestyle—Young (AH); Gaensbauer (PCH); Eurich (BC); Hyslop (AH); Rambo (Sag); Holloway (FC). Time 2:06.8

100-yard backstroke—Shankel (AH); Stevenson (FC); Jim Gibbs (PCH); Hauffe (AH); Nicholds (FN); Jerome (BC). Time 1:03.7

Diving—Williams (AH); 300.35 points; Pete Cox (AH), 292.75; Dale (FC), 257.15; Laforest (BC), 225.0; Lichon (Sag), 212.0; Heidenrich (FN), 209.4; Landry (Sag), 182.0.

150-yard indiv. med.—Vondette (AH); Hauffe (AH); Whipple (FC); Gibbs (PCH); Blamy (PCH); Day (AH), last 2 tied, Blamy took 5th medal. Time 1:40.8

PCH, Rochester Vie Wednesday in 'A' Regional

Chiefs Rout U-D High, 76-50; Northern Bows to Shamrocks, 65-47

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central and Rochester clash Wednesday night in the Southfield Class A regional basketball tournament to heighten local interest and enthusiasm in the annual prep marathon.

The Southfield regional draw was held immediately following the close of Saturday night's games and pits Livonia Bentley against Detroit Catholic Central on Tuesday evening in the 1st game.

A sharp-shooting PCH team opened its drive for Class A state tourney honors in impressive style Saturday at Southfield in the final round of district play.

The same deadly out-court marksmanship that swept the Chiefs to the Saginaw Valley Conference title cut U. of D. High to ribbons as Central buried the Cubs, 76-50, to become a regional qualifier.

Pontiac Northern made an expectedly early exit from the MHSAA tournament in the opener of Saturday's twin bill at Southfield. The Huskies were no match for Catholic Central and bowed to the Shamrocks for the 2nd time this season, 65-47.

The Tuesday and Wednesday winners will collide Friday for for the Southfield "A" regional crown. All three games are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. and ticket windows will be open at 6 o'clock each evening.

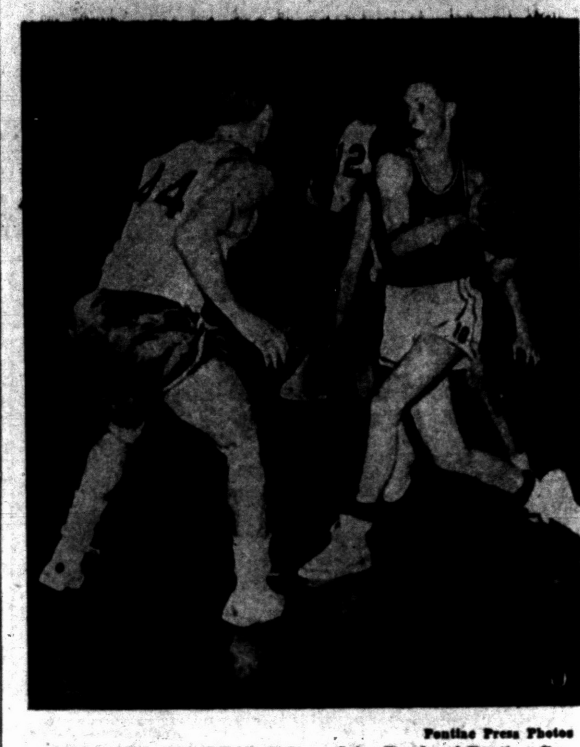

Harrison Munson spearheaded Central's versatile offense with 25 points, his most productive scoring effort of the year, and the 6-foot-2 center also dominated the backboards. Amos Bailey fired 17 and John Bandy added 16 to the PCH attack.

Catholic Central ran into no difficulties with the Huskies, Northern trailed by a whopping 35-19 margin at intermission and the two schools plodded through a hum-drum 2nd half.

Don Wisner's 22 points sparked the easy Shamrock win. Bruce Norton scored 18 points and Mike Fedynik hit 15 for the Huskies.

DEAD-EYE AND DEAD-END — John Bandy of Pontiac Central fires another two-pointer against U. of D. High as teammate Bill Hayward forms a protective screen in Saturday night's Class A district basketball action at Southfield. The Chiefs routed U-D, 76-50, to move into this week's regional tournament. In the bottom photo, Pontiac Northern's Bruce Norton has the ball, but he's reached the end of the line as Catholic Central's John MacInnes bars his path. Catholic Central also qualified for the Class A regional tourney at Southfield by easily defeating the Huskies, 65-47.

Wings Extend Latest Losing Streak to Five

DETROIT (UPI)—Two weekend losses stretched the Detroit Red Wings' latest winless streak to five games and virtually eliminated them from the NHL playoffs for the first time in 21 years. The Wings are nine points back of New York with only six games remaining.

Two National Hockey League players pulled hockey's famous "hat-trick" on the Wings as the New York Rangers took a 4-2 win and Montreal scored a lopsided 10-2 win, the highest total of the season.

Andy Hebenton scored once in each period last night and Jack Bownass tallied the first goal of his NHL career to earn the Rangers' uphill victory at Madison Square Garden.

The Wings zoomed to an early 2-0 lead on goals by Len Lunde and Nick Mickoski before Hebenton fired his first tally. But it was Bownass who rang up the decisive goal with less than eight minutes to play.

In Saturday's game, Jean Beliveau scored four goals, including the 200th of his career, and set up three more to lead the Canadiens to the win. Montreal wasted no time getting off to a fast lead, scoring five times in the first 18 minutes of play.

MSU, 'M' Cagers Close With Victories

By The Associated Press

Michigan State, having wrapped up the Big Ten basketball title long before the race ended Saturday night, is all set for the NCAA playoffs.

"We are as ready to go into the NCAA tourney right now as we ever will be and the team feels the same way," said coach Forddy Anderson after his Spartans closed out with an 84-74 triumph over Iowa.

The victory gave Michigan State a 12-2 record in Big Ten play and an 18-3 mark for the season. The Spartans play in the Mid-East Regional in Evanston, Ill., Friday night, meeting the winner of the Marquette-Bowling Green game.

Northwestern, Purdue and Michigan were victorious in final games Saturday to finish in a tie for second. All had 8-6 records. Northwestern defeated Illinois, 84-81, in Champaign.

Purdue bumped Ohio State in Columbus, 93-87, and Michigan clipped Minnesota, 68-66, in Ann Arbor. Indiana defeated Wisconsin, 97-71, in Bloomington and finished in a four-way tie for fifth with Illinois, Iowa and Ohio State. All had 7-7 records, Minnesota was ninth with a 5-9 mark and Wisconsin was last with a 1-13 record.

M. C. Burton won the conference scoring championship with 316 points and set a new Michigan individual season mark with 460 points for the year. Burton bettered the old mark of 450 set by Ron Kramer in the 1955-56 season.

Runnersup to Burton in Big Ten competition were Ron Johnson of Minnesota and Joe Ruklick of Northwestern. Both finished with 306 points in 14 league games.

4 City Matmen in Finals

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern each qualified two wrestlers for the state finals at Michigan State this weekend in the rugged weekend regionals held at Farmington.

The Chiefs wound up 10th with 20 points beating out PNH by one as Port Huron took team honors with 77 followed by Hazel Park with 70 and Royal Oak Kimball 69.

Other team scores were: Farmington 61, Berkley 60, Fitzgerald 46, Southfield 38, Royal Oak Dondero 28, Davison 21, Oak Park 9, Walled Lake 8, Waterford and Van Dyke 5 each and East Detroit 4. Waterford and Walled Lake failed to place anyone in the finals.

Jerrel Reid of PCH turned in the best showing among the Pontiac matmen by finishing 2nd after dropping a close verdict to 165-pound champion Dan Ressler of Farmington. Duke Relyea was the other Chief qualifer with a 4th after he eliminated Walled Lake star Jim Teddy.

Miles Wins Grand Prix; 5 Injured

POMONA, Calif. (AP) — Driver Ken Miles got a big break on the final lap to win the 156-mile International Grand Prix Sunday in a sports car race marred by a crackup and near-tragedy.

Four persons were injured and a fifth was shaken up when young Bruce Kessler of Beverly Hills, Calif., went out of control and crashed into a line of cars.

Narleski Fails in Relief Role

Tiger 'Fireman' Hit Hard in 8-7 Defeat by Nats

Zauchin Bangs Homer for Senators as Bengals Split Weekend Pair

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla — Ray Narleski's debut as the number one "fireman" of the Tiger bullpen was a fizzle yesterday afternoon at Henley Field and it was the troublesome Washington Senators who spoiled the show.

After beating the Senators, 8-5, Saturday in Orlando, with youthful Bob Bruce turning in the most effective pitching performance, the Tigers had their "home" opener spoiled in a rematch yesterday, 8-7, in 11 innings.

Allison, in fact, blasted Gunning's first pitch of the game over the left field wall, 350 feet away. The 6-3 left fielder was on base four times via walk, error, double and homer. He scored twice and batted in two runs.

But it was Zauchin, the lanky first basemen whom the Tigers turned down in a proposed deal a year ago with Boston for Ray Boone, who blasted a three-run homer in the 8th inning off Narleski to send the game into a 6-6 tie.

Zauchin also had a pair of singles in his four trips to the plate. The Tigers were leading, 6-3, when he hit the roundtripper over the right field fence.

Washington took the lead in the 9th, 7-6, when Allison doubled and Jose Valdivielso singled. But in the bottom of the 9th Al Kaline doubled and Frank Bolling singled with two out to tie it, 7-7.

Ken Aspromonte, singled off George Spencer in the 11th and he scored when Dan Dobbek of Battle Creek doubled for the winning tally. Dobbeck once received a Tiger tryout in Tigertown but then signed with Washington when the Tigers overlooked him.

Harvey Kuenn was Detroit's batting star over the weekend. His double accounted for an RBI in Saturday's win, and yesterday he had a single, double and homer in four trips. Clint Courtney got Washington's third homer yesterday.

The Tigers got two runs in the first and second innings for a 4-1 lead, and they added another in the 6th on Kuenn's homer and another in the 7th without a hit.

Except for the homer and the 9th-inning run, all the Tiger tallies were gifts by the wildness of starter Hal Griggs and poor fielding with Jack Kralick on the hill.

Kralick, a Grand Rapids pitcher, performed well, giving up only one hit in three innings, but the pitching honors went to John Romonsky, Jr., a 6-2 right hander who in five innings allowed Detroit only three hits. He was the winner.

In the 9th, Narleski walked Allison, gave up a hit to Aspromonte, walked Dobbek, gave up Zauchin's homer and a single to Norm Killebrew. Spencer was also ineffective. He allowed five hits and two runs in three innings and was the loser.

In the two games, Washington solved Tiger pitching for 22 hits. The Tigers had 17.

Robinson's 'Double' Paces Big 10 Victory

'M' Wins Track Title

The Wolverines amassed 71 points against 48 for runnerup and defending champion Illinois, scoring in every one of the 15 events on the program, except the shotput.

Robinson flashed through the 60-yard dash in :06.1 and matched the meet record set by Jesse Owens of Ohio State in 135. After a 20-minute rest, Robinson sped 300 yards in :30.3. This clipped five-tenths of a second from the Big Ten record set in 1955 by Illinois' Ralph Ressenden. It also matched the 1947 American record of Herb McKinley of Illinois.

Michigan's tracksters won the team title with the second highest point tally in the meet's history. The all-time high of 75¼ was scored by Michigan in 1944.

Foreign stars contributed all of Michigan's first-place finishes.

In addition to Robinson's two wins, Tony Seth of British Guiana took the 880 by a step from Illinois' George Kerr in 1:55.3; Les Bird from the West Indies, captured the broad jump with 24 feet 10¼ inches; and Pete Stanger of Canada, won the 70-yard low hurdles in :07.9.

5 New Keg Teams Pace City Women's Tourney

Five new leaders took command in team play during the Saturday and Sunday paced by Goebel's of Utica at 2961.

It was just the opposite in doubles where the 1st three duos held their ground topped by Eleanore Needham-Marvel Szot with 1238. The only newcomer to the top five was the Rochester combination of Elaine Bailey and Gladys Plagens. They rolled 1219 to take 4th.

Ruth Miller of Milford made a good bid to catch singles leader Betty Given of Oxford but wound up far back at 666. Betty has 690. Also new in the singles race was Katherine LaBair of Pontiac with 649. The singles leader also continues to head the pact in high actual at 570.

Elsewhere, a Detroit pair tied Ron Rothbarth and George Chicovsky for the state men's doubles actual lead with 1261. A Niles team took over 1st on the next to the last weekend of the Elks State.

Pistons Beaten in Last Quarter

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Pistons couldn't hold the pace and bowed to the New York Knickerbockers in a meaningless National Basketball Assn. game yesterday, 127-120.

Tired after an overnight plane trip from their 137-128 defeat in St. Louis Saturday night, the Pistons fought to a 94-90 lead at the third quarter mark but then faded.

The Knickerbockers already had clinched second place in the NBA's Eastern Division and the Pistons held third place in the Western Division. Detroit starts its playoff Saturday night with second-place Minneapolis.

'Y' Swimmers 5th, 10th in State Test

Competing in the state YMCA swimming championships Saturday in Jackson, Pontiac's preps and juniors finished 10th and 5th, respectively, with four 3rd places their best performances.

Preps totaled four points on Chuck Ries diving, while the juniors collected 21, including Bill Main's 3rd in diving, Jim Velzey's 3rd in the 50-yard breaststroke, and the medley relay 3rd place. This was the medley team's first loss of the season.

Mickey Wright Wins 3rd Open at Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The Jacksonville Women's Open golf tournament has its first three-time winner.

Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., won the distinction yesterday when she birdied the last two holes on the Hyde Park municipal course for a closing round 72 and a four-day total of 286 in the 72-hole play.

Crane Matmen Win, Cagers Lose, 54-51

The wrestlers won, 21-18 with the decision hinging on the final match. Cranes' Steve Reynolds won over heavyweight Laurie MacKenzie to break a 18-18 tie count, for the victory in the Inter-State League event. Cranes took two pins, Ted Saefarth at 136 and Lee McBride at 168. Other Crane winners were Scott Romney at 148, and John Sprague at 157. Steve Wyman had a tie at 115 pounds.

Air Search Is Canceled

Most Intensive Probe in State History Fails to Find Pilot

GAYLORD (AP) — The most intensive air search in Michigan history was called off over the weekend because of increasingly bad weather.

The CAP, operating out of Gaylord, began what it described as the biggest air search in Michigan history for Wyman but did not find a trace of the missing pilot.

Williams Notes Faith in Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams says plans by industry to invest nearly $300,000,000 in the state are "dramatic examples of faith in the future of Michigan."

Williams told a testimonial dinner here in his honor Saturday night that the plans for investment "demonstrate what we already know — that Michigan has a growth potential which barely has been tapped."

The $50-a-plate dinner in honor of the six-term Democratic governor was billed as a non-partisan dinner, with industrialists as well as politicians attending.

Williams said that Michigan should lead the nation in solving problems created by unemployment due to automation and a transition in manufacturing methods.

"If," he said, "we can be the leaders in finding solutions in Michigan, we can help the whole nation, because, sooner or later, every state is going to have to face similar problems in the new age which is dawning."

"Denmark and Greenland"

Odense revives the spirit of Hans Christian Andersen with its ugly ducklings, storks in chimneys, chimney sweeps, quaint houses, and the Royal Opera House.

Rich Ex-Officer Being Quizzed

Grand Jury Seeking Retired N.Y. Policeman's Source of Wealth

NEW YORK (UPI) — An apparently well-to-do retired police sergeant goes before a rackets grand jury today to answer questions about his mysterious financial affairs which have touched off an intensive police investigation.

Joseph Luberda, 52, who retired in 1956 after 27 years in the police department, was subpoenaed over the weekend to appear today before the Kings County (Brooklyn) rackets grand jury.

Luberda, onetime supervisor of plainclothesmen in Manhattan Borough headquarters, also is being investigated by the New York Police Department, the Treasury Department and the offices of New York County (Manhattan) District Attorney Frank S. Hogan and Kings County District Attorney Edward S. Silver.

The mystery of Luberda's financial affairs deepened over the weekend when investigators found two more bankbooks showing sizable deposits credited to his account. Last Thursday night, State Police, in arresting Luberda on a drunk driving charge, found in his car $19,495 in cash and bankbooks showing deposits of $16,000.

When arrested on the New York State Thruway at Suffern, Luberda told State Police he was keeping the money—found in an old ammunition can—for his mother. However, his mother, Mrs. Estelle Matysiak of Jersey City, denied later that the money was hers.

Also found in Luberda's car were notations containing the names of more than 100 known gamblers and bookmakers, with varying amounts of money alongside their names. Manhattan and Brooklyn authorities were reported planning to question some of the men on the lists.

Graham Praises Soviet Morals

Says Americans Would Do Well to Emulate Their Cleanup Drive

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) —Evangelist Billy Graham told 30,000 persons in Melbourne's showgrounds today that the "Communists are putting us to shame" by trying to clean up morals in Russia.

Graham said that violence, lawlessness and revolt against authority exists as in Noah's day 2,000 years ago.

"The Communists are putting us to shame," he said. "They are trying to clean up Russia morally. But right now the people in the United States are debating the worth of a new book, 'Getting Married,' in which intelligent men say moral laws should be broken down as in Noah's time.

"More time is spent in theaters than in churches," Graham said. "With so many authorities saying the world could come to an end, people still spend no time on spiritual things."

Before the meeting got under way, Graham said he had received a letter from a friend in San Francisco asking why Australia did not send two koalas Australian bears to the California city.

Amid laughter, Graham said "I replied that Australia would send them if America gave back the Davis Cup."

Graham said the gift of the koalas would be a nice gesture to the people of San Francisco.

A request from San Francisco for the bears had been turned down because the small animals are not able to live outside Australia. However Graham's appeal appeared likely to lead to a reopening of the negotiations.

What Room Did You Say You Are Looking for, Sir?

"Don't worry," the intruder said, "I'm looking for room 19."

Raible said he courteously showed the man to the door and did not discover until later that $71 was missing from his wallet.

FAA to Probe Near-Mishaps

Sets Up 24-Hour Center to Investigate Close Calls in the Air

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency has set up an around-the-clock control center here to take quick action in near-collisions between airplanes.

The agency acted after a series of near-disasters in which commercial airliners had to dodge to avoid colliding with military planes.

The agency opened the new facility last Monday at its air route traffic control center. It will be manned 24 hours a day, seven days a week by a team of five specialists who will analyze information relayed from various agency stations around the country.

The agency said the new control center would permit it to study quickly all reports of near misses to determine what action may be needed.

It said the incoming data would be studied by its central reporting office here and then distributed to the proper regional office for investigation.

The tiny British colony of Bermuda is actually a cluster of more than 100 islands, which have a total land area of only 22 square miles.

Say Ike Overstating Inflation Threat

Dems Want More Emphasis Put on Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic members of the Senate-House Economic Committee accused the administration today of underestimating the nation's needs while overstating the threat of inflation.

Republican members countered with a charge that the Democrats put a "partisan political tone" on their comments on President Eisenhower's 1959 Economic Report. They called the Democratic findings "cursory and confused . . . cloudy and nuclear."

The sharply conflicting views were based on 11 days of hearings held by the joint committee in January and February plus staff studies. They were made public amid these other developments:

— Assistant Senate Republican Leader Thomas H. Kuchel (Calif.) warned that the President might veto Democratic housing and airport bills if they call for considerably greater spending than Eisenhower requested.

—The Economic Policy Committee of the Democratic Advisory Council attacked the administration for fighting for a balanced budget instead of programs that it said would put the nation's unemployed back to work.

—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) accused the President of "pushing the panic button of inflation" and thereby giving impetus to the wage-price spiral.

Chairman Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) and the nine other Democrats on the Congressional Economic Committee said "principal emphasis in public policy this year should be placed on prompt and full recovery from the 1957-58 recession."

"The first enthusiastic claims that the recession is all over are now being somewhat soft-pedaled," they said. "The return to the days of maximum employment and production may be spread out over a considerable longer period of time."

The democrats called for a "less restrictive monetary policy in 1959." They warned that continuation of hard money policies based on high interest rates would hamper "prompt and full economic recovery."

Douglas and his fellow Democrats called for tax reforms, including repeal of "a number of specific excise taxes which are wartime holdovers, regressive in nature."

Attacking the President's 77 billion dollar balanced budget, they said that "change in the budget to reflect new circumstances and better appreciation of existing ones must not be frustrated by insistence on a fixed budget program."

The six Republican members backed the President's balanced budget demands. They said the Democrats were "vague and inconclusive" in their call for more federal action on slum clearance, aid to depressed areas, help for farmers and natural resource development.

"The impression that some try to create is that one party has a monopoly of interest in seeing a high rate of growth acheived and maintained," the GOP lawmakers said.

"We should not overlook the fact that the recent expansion of productive capacity was probably the most rapid and intensive for any equally short period of time in our nation's history."

W. Berlin Mayor Says Red Plans Impress Asians

BERLIN (UPI)—West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said last night he had found many Asian leaders on his recent tour of the Far East who were impressed with Soviet demands to make Berlin a free, demilitarized city.

"Many were astonished when I explained the Soviet Union's true aims," Brandt said in a radio address.

He said he explained that if the Soviet proposals were accepted, Soviet troops "could squeeze the city like one squeezes out a lemon."

Voter Registration Slightly Up in City

Registration for the biennial spring election was coming to a close in Pontiac today, with slightly more voters registered this year than two years ago.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans estimated there will be about 38,000 names on the rolls by the time registration closes at 8 p.m.

But the names of some inactive voters will be taken off the rolls before the April 6 election, she said.

Only about 50 persons have registered in Pontiac since the February primary, said Mrs. Evans.

Agriculture Department figures show that land planted to cotton in the United States totaled only 12,500,000 acres this year—compared with 28,000,000 acres in 1952—and the lowest in 80 years.

Troubled Land Scene of Man's First Known War

Iraq Is Cradle of History

By United Press International

Background on Iraq—Iraq is the legendary site of the Garden of Eden . . . Its capital is Baghdad of the fabled Thousand and One Nights. It is the home of mankind's first recorded history, his first written code of law, his first known war.

It is the world's sixth largest oil-producing nation with an average output of 30 million tons of oil which brings in a revenue of 300 million dollars a year. It is now the scene of a bitter East-West conflict and of a revolution.

Its ruler is Premier Abdel Karim El-Kassem, an army career man who seized power July 14, 1958, in a bloody revolution in which pro-Western King Faisal was murdered with his uncle, Crown Prince Abdullah, and veteran statesman Premier Nuri Es-Said.

Until then Iraq was counted in the Western camp of nations though wooed by the Arab nationalists of Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser. Since then the Communists have grown in strength. New Red consulates have opened and Iraq embarked upon a policy of more trade with the East.

Iraq is a hot, dry country of 175,000 square miles, about two-thirds the size of Texas. There are 6,540,000 inhabitants in a country lying at the head of the Persian Gulf in the heart of the oil-rich Middle East.

It was a key country in Western defenses. It is bordered by Turkey, Syria and Jordan on the West, Saudi Arabia on the south and the Soviet Union to the North. To the east is Iran, a partner in the Baghdad Pact, once a solid "northern tier" defense against Russia.

The revolution which started Sunday in northern Iraq was led by Col. Abdel Wahab Shawaf, 35, apparently pro-Nasser and definitely anti-Communist.

In a series of broadcasts from rebel headquarters at Mosul, 235 miles north of Baghdad, Shawaf denounced Kassem as a dictator who had deviated from Arab solidarity—the drift away from Nasser's "neutralism" to heavy Communist influence.

The resolution apparently was triggered by anti-Communist riots last Friday in Mosul where 25,000 Communist "peace partisans" demonstrated for closer ties with Moscow and were attacked by Arab nationalists. Several persons were killed.

The name of the country, Iraq, is the Arabic for Mesopotamia. It contains the valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers where civilization is believed to have been born. The culture there of 3,000 B.C. affected the cultures of crete, Egypt and Greece.

Mesopotamia was taken away from Turkey in World War I and it was placed under a British mandate which ended in 1932 when Iraq became a sovereign state. Northern Iraaq, scene of the revolution, is a mixture of many races with the Kurdish tribes predominating. The Kurds were promised an independent state in the 1920s but this never came to pass and they have given trouble to the governments of Iran, Iraq, Syria and Turkey.

Cite Bible Refering to Worth of Salt

WASHINGTON — The first Biblical reference to the worth of salt is found in the Book of Job: "Can nothing which is unsavory be eaten without salt?"

Among the Bible's other 32 references to salt is the familiar incident of Lot's wife, who was turned into a pillar of salt when she disobediently looked back at the burning city of Sodom, says the National Geographic Society.

Commerce routes followed the transportation of salt. Roman legionnaires guarded Italy's oldest road, Via Salaria or Salt Road. They received bags of salt called salarium as part of their pay — the origin of the word "salary" and the expression, "Not worth his salt."

Salt, esteemed second only to gold by ancient Chinese, is still handled as money in parts of Africa and South Sea islands where a teaspoonful will buy a peck of potatoes. Abyssinians traded for ages with small salt tablets, amoulies, each valued at about one cent.

Governments taxed salt for revenue purposes, and historians consider the general unrest provoked by France's strict levy on salt as an indirect cause of the 1789 Revolution. Mahatma Gandhi and thousands of his followers marched to the sea in protest against Britain's salt tax.

Crime Movie Advertiser Plays Part Too Well

LONDON (UPI)—A North London theater manager has had to withdraw a man he hired to walk outside the theater in a convict's suit to advertise a crime movie.

Several alert passers-by jumped "prisoner" George Sheepwash and called police.

Ready Charges Against Inmates

Massachusetts Prison Terrorists to Face Criminal Action

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — Authorities today prepared criminal actions against six state prison inmates who grabbed six hostages and threatened to kill them in a two-hour reign of terror Saturday.

Steel-helmeted guards burst into the prison's metal shop to rescue the hostages who included Warden John A. Gavin and the Rev. Edward F. Hartigan, Catholic chaplain.

Nearly 100 state troopers gathered outside the prison. On a signal from Maj. Arthur J. O'Leary 25 troopers broke through seven windows and a door with orders to "shoot to kill."

The tough convicts gave up quickly when they saw the troopers armed with machine guns, riot guns, rifles, revolvers and tear gas bombs.

Moments earlier they had poured inflammable paint thinner over the hostages and threatened to set them afire. The convicts tied some of the hostages with wire and threatened them with knives.

Authorities identified the leader of the abortive break-out attempt as Martin F. Feeney, 43, of Boston. They said the others were Robert J. Savage, 29, of Brookline; Kenneth E. Abrahamson, 25, Russell T. Halladay, 30, George T. Harrison, and Robert Howard, both 25.

All are serving long sentences —up to 55 years.

Held hostage with Warden Gavin and Father Hartigan were two deputy wardens, a guard and a civilian storekeeper.

Father Hartigan, on whose head Feeney had poured a quart of paint thinner, reentered the prison Sunday to say Mass in the chapel.

Car Fatalities Listed for Lower Peninsula Over Weekend

By The Associated Press

Five persons—four from Michigan and one from Ohio—lost their lives in weekend traffic accidents in Lower Michigan.

The Associated Press fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The dead were:

Mrs. Lupe Vazquez, 52, of Saginaw, killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding went out of control and struck a bridge abutment on Lansing Ave. three miles south of Leslie.

Dale Schurman, 28, of Holland, injured fatally Sunday in a two-car collision on U.S. 31 near Saugatuck in Allegan County.

Walter Loesel, 55, of Detroit, killed Friday night when he was struck by a truck at a Detroit intersection.

Roger Allen Skinner, 20, of Kalamazoo, recently discharged from the Navy, killed Sunday west of Comstock when his car failed to make a curve, ran into a snowbank and overturned.

Mrs. Helen F. Jennings, 65, of Toledo, Ohio, killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding ran out of control on U.S. 112 on the outskirts of Quincy, Mich., and struck a tree.

State Senate Group to Hear Yankus' Story

LANSING (UPI) — Dowagiac poultry farmer Stanley Yankus Jr. has been invited to appear before the Senate Agriculture Committee tomorrow to explain his four-year feud with the government over federal wheat quotas.

Sen. Harry Litowich (R-Benton Harbor), chairman of the committee, said Yankus will be given a chance to "tell his story."

Litowich also invited Rep. Floyd Wagner (R-Cassopolis) to appear.

Wagner and 29 others have sponsored a House resolution urging Yankus not to move to Australia in protest of the wheat quotas.

Man Arrested on Tip in Holdup of Waitress

Acting on an informant's tip, Waterford Township police yesterday arrested Kenneth C. Ford, 24, of Dearborn for investigation of robbing the Tom Thumb Grill at 32 S. Telegraph Rd.

Ford is held on the charge of investigation of armed robbery and police say has admitted holding up the waitress on duty at the grill, Flora Jamison, of 2228 Kings ton Rd., Waterford Township, at 3:30 a.m. Feb. 19.

Ford is expected to make a statement to Police Chief Millard Pender today.

Business and Finance

Rye, Soybeans Lead Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Rye and soybean futures were in moderate demand today in early dealings on the Board of Trade but other grains were mostly narrowly mixed.

Trade was generally slow with commercial and export business over the weekend virtually absent. Holland bought small amounts of corn and soybeans, but fairly heavy cash corn receipts had a bearish effect in the pit.

There were conflicting reports on country selling of wheat. Some advices said offerings had picked up considerably at the higher prices last week but other reports said the movement still was negligible.

After about an hour wheat was ⅛ to ¾ cent a bushel higher, March $2.06¾; corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March old type contract $1.15½; oats ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, March 64¼; rye 1 to 1½ cents higher, March $1.41; soybeans ¼ to ⅝ higher, March $2.21¼.

State Pushes for 11th Hour Fund Plan

LANSING (AP) — New negotiations have been opened looking toward getting an 11th hour state borrowing proposition on the April 6 ballot, it was learned today.

If preliminary discussions panned out, a proposal for a 50 million dollar bond issue backed by securities in the veterans trust fund was to be submitted to the legislature when it returns at 8 p.m.

Gov. Williams started the latest move, picking up a plan that was offered by the House Republican leadership but which got shunted aside in the confused inter-party maneuverings of last Wednesday.

The plan called for giving veterans a constitutional guarantee for about $1,200,000 a year in benefits to indigent former servicemen now paid out of trust fund income.

The entire package would be subject to acceptance or disapproval at a statewide referendum next month.

If liquidated on the current market, fund securities would be worth an estimated 43 million dollars. They have a face value of 50 millions. Proceeds would go toward relief of the state tightening cash emergency.

Considering the timing, the new attempt represented a desperation move. If it succeeded, election officials would be faced with numerous problems, some of them fairly serious, in preparing for the spring election.

Williams Gets $30,000 From Birthday Fete

DETROIT (AP)—A testimonial dinner for Gov. Williams yielded more than $30,000 for the governor to spend in any manner he sees fit.

Williams, who is being boomed by Michigan Democrats for the party's 1960 presidential nomination, was honored Saturday night at the Masonic Temple at a $50 a plate dinner attended by 850 persons, including industrialists and politicians. More than 1,000 tickets were sold.

The annual gift started as a nonpartisan birthday observance for the governor seven years ago. He turned 48 on Feb. 23.

Pontiac Man Found Dead in Township Cabin

A Pontiac man, William B. Warner, 58, was found dead in a Pontiac Township cabin Sunday evening.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said Warner, of 3040 Willett St., was found lying on a bed in a cabin he rented Saturday at Willis Cabins, Walton boulevard and M24.

Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. H. L. Riggs pronounced Warner dead of an overdose of "some sort of poison." Deputies said the liquid would be analyzed today, but that apparently Warner had taken his own life.

Sentence Nazi Leader

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Erich Koch was sentenced to death today for atrocities committed while he was Nazi leader of east Poland and western Russia in World War II.

Coppers Pace Irregular Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers paced an irregular advance in the stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

Copper shares, spurred by the 1½-cent price boost announced late Friday, advanced as much as 3 points or more.

Leading stocks elsewhere in the list showed gains and losses generally within a 1-point range.

Oils backed away slightly on news of the latest Middle East political crisis. Steels were unevenly higher as demand for steel remained heavy.

A few selected issues were strong. Thiokol leaped around 8 points following news it had been awarded a 77-million-dollar contract in connection with the Air Force Minuteman program.

General Tire was up about 2 and Lukens Steel more than a point.

Magma Copper raced ahead more than 3 points and Anaconda over 2. Kennecott was about a 2-point gainer while Phelps Dodge added a point or so.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) dropped about a point and Royal Dutch a sizable fraction.

Alvie E. Jones, 61, of 2804 N. Grant St., former assistant fire chief at the Pontiac Fire Department, died Sunday at Pontiac General Hospital. He had been in ill health for three and one-half years.

Mr. Jones had lived in the city for the past 31 years. He attended school in Marlette. He was a member of the Metropolitan Club and served in the U. S. Navy during World War I.

Besides his wife, Martha, he leaves a son, Gerald M. Jones of Pontiac, and four grandchildren. Also surviving is a brother, Leland Jones, of Pontiac.

Service will be held at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Huntoon Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Hinsdale Smith, Auto Pioneer, Dies in Vermont

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—Hinsdale Smith, an early builder of automobile bodies, died Saturday at a Brattleboro hospital. He was 89.

From 1900 to 1914, Smith and his brother Arthur operated the Springfield Metal Body Co. The firm specialized in building cars with all-metal bodies.

The firm claimed it patented the first selective gear shift, built the first automobile bodies of aluminum, the first American car with the engine in front, the first American six-cylinder car and the first convertible. It also claimed credit for originating the roll-down window.

Forshee, Chevrolet Plant Manager, Dies

WILLIAMS, Ariz. (AP) — Ralph D. Forshee, 52, plant manager of the Chevrolet Division of General Motors Corp., Detroit, died Sunday of a heart attack while visiting Grand Canyon.

Forshee and his wife had been touring Arizona for the past two weeks.

New African Dam to Create Vast Interior Sea

WASHINGTON — The taming of Africa's mighty Zambeze River is adding a new feature to maps of the continent.

Construction of a dam in Kariba Gorge, downstream from Victoria Falls, is creating a vast inland sea that will cover 1,250,000 acres and stretch 175 miles. The lake will take several years to fill. It will have more than four times the capacity of Hoover Dam's Lake Mead, one of the largest man-made reservoirs in the world.

The dam rises in wild, secluded countryside on the border of Northern and Southern Rhodesia, the National Geographic Society says. The Hydroelectric station is expected, eventually, to supply nearly 90 per cent of the power needs of the Rhodesian-Nyasaland Federation.

Harnessing the Zambeze is not only vital to central Africa's economy, particularly that of the Northern Rhodesian copper belt; it is a victory over nature as well. Local natives never thought for an instant that man could subdue the river, and floods in two successive years seemed to bear thec out. The rampaging waters swept away bridges and equipment, but the dam wall held.

Theresa Helburn, executive director and producer of the New York Theater Guild, was first an actress, then a dramatic critic.

Manville's Sister Lorraine Dies

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—An autopsy disclosed last night that 64-year-old Lorraine Manville, sister of often-married asbestos heir Tommy Manville, died yesterday afternoon of a coronary occlusion.

Miss Manville, divorced last year from television actor Charles Baxter, 33, was found dead in her suite at the Riviera Hotel. Her body clad in pajamas was lying on the floor beside her bed.

Hotel manager Richard Chappelle said a special police officer was sent to her suite after she failed to answer a wake-up call late in the day.

Her brother, Tommy, was notified by long distance telephone to New York of her death. Manville told authorities he did not plan to come here and would have her body removed to New York, Sheriff Det. Douglas Biddle said.

Death Takes Fire Chief

DETROIT (AP)—Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister, 36, of Plymouth, died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. McCallister, a native of Kalamazoo, had been Plymouth's fire chief since 1946.

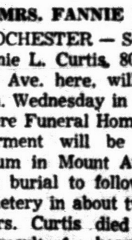

65— LUCKY for YOU?

Lots of people are figuring that age 65 will be lucky for them. No more regular duties, time to relax, travel and do a hundred other things. How? First, they have social security. Second, they have an easy, sensible plan of saving over the years. This way they need not forfeit their social security after 65 by having to work. Life of Virginia has a modern plan to make 65 lucky for you. The cost is less than you would guess. Let me tell you about it.

'Resourceful' Students Hurt Parking Income

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — When the University of Buffalo decided to install toll gates on its four parking lots, it underestimated student "resourcefulness."

The gates were set up so that an incoming car needs only to pass over a treadle to enter. But on leaving, a dime must be deposited to raise the wooden arm. At least that's the way it was intended.

At first, the students discovered that one car outside could roll back and forth over the treadle and let any number of cars out free.

Later, according to UB's chief engineer James W. Sarra, the car was replaced by manpower—seven or eight burly collegians juping up and down on the treadle.

And then there were the less sophisticated undergraduates who broke the wooden arms off so often (more than 200 times) that the university had to start turning them out in the carpenter's shop to save heavy replacement expenses.

The university has now ordered new "fool-proof" treadles.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband Allen Thompson (Hot-Shot) who passed away March 10, 1958.
Your life's such a beautiful memory,
To grieve that it's gone, seems unfair:
Like grudging you more time in Heaven.
When our only hope's meeting you there.
Sadly missed by wife Betty.

British Mop Up in Nyasaland

Arson and Sabotage Plague Protectorate, Several Killed

BLANTYRE, Nyasaland (UPI)—British-led troops began mopping-up operations today against native saboteurs and arsonists who are prolonging the violence which has killed 41 Africans in the past week.

Reports reaching here described incidents of arson and sabotage from one end of the protectorate to the other. Two Africans were killed and four wounded yesterday in Mlanje, where native mobs burned white men's homes, looted Indian-owned shops and wrecked automobiles.

African saboteurs also damaged bridges at several points, burned two British Protestant missions, and blocked roads by felling trees across them. A white farm supervisor's home was burned in Nchenachena.

Although the ultimate aim of the rioting is to end white rule in Nyasaland, almost all of its victims so far have been Negroes. A few white men have been injured in rioting, including a soldier who received a minor knife cut at Mlanje and another who was stoned, but none is known to have been killed.

The coolness of J. Shearer, owner of a tea plantation outside Blantre, averted what might have been a nasty incident.

When a crowd of about 200 sullen Africans surrounded his house, Shearer calmly stepped out on the porch and strolled around the house, snapping pictures of the crowd.

The natives eventually left without damaging the house or wounding its occupants—and Shearer turned his negatives over to police as a possible help in identifying ringleaders of the group.

Russia Issues Encyclopedia for Housewives

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union has published a two-volume encyclopedia for housewives.

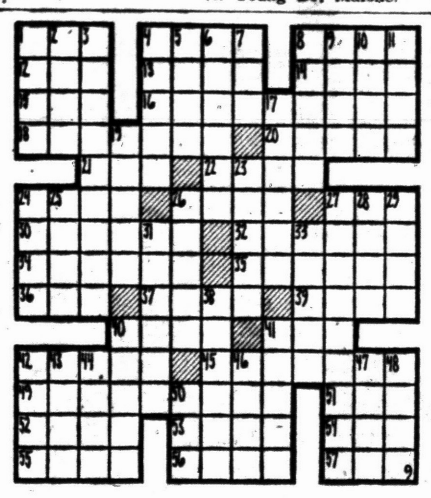

An edition of 500,000 copies was timed for release on International Women's Day, which was celebrated throughout the Soviet Union yesterday.

The volomes contain articles on domestic economy, child care, nutrition, clothing, gardening, recreation, sports, medicine and law.

Coin Divers Immune to Polluted Waters

HONOLULU (AP)—Boys who dive for coins tossed from arriving ocean liners by tourists apparently have built up an immunity to disease from polluted water.

The territory's sanitation board says Honolulu's harbor is so polluted that it doesn't even bother to take readings.

Love of Hope's Laughs Heightened by Illness

By EARL WILSON

It seemed wrong that old Droop Snoot's suite was temporarily empty of his swaggering laughter. In Show Business, he is the pros' pro. In the small kingdom of nice guys who stayed nice after they got rich enough to crackle a $2,000,000 check in front of your nose, Bob is the king, the champ, the greatest, the most.

WILSON

I know Bob rather well because we're both Ohioans.

"I went to an exclusive school in Ohio —a judge had to send you," Bob often said. "I'm glad to go back to Cleveland to see all the familiar faces—and all the faces I tried to get familiar with."

Like Will Rogers before him, Bob can twit Presidents.

At a Washington dinner for President Eisenhower, Bob claimed that Ike bawled out his caddy for looking at his watch —and that the caddy retorted, "This isn't a watch—it's a compass."

As for Crosby: "He pays such heavy taxes, when our bombs go off, they don't say 'bang' they say 'Bing'!" Getting an award in Chicago, he said, "I haven't been so overcome since Gov. Faubus made me an honorary slave." He bragged that he had a great press agent in Mack Millar: "He got me on the cover of 'Confidential.'"

HOPE

They want Bob to slow up. I hate the thought. I won't be seeing him in Rapid City, S.D., or Toronto, or Iceland, or Paris —or in L.A., m.c.ing a Rose Bowl dinner as he did in 1954 when Ohio State was there.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The busted palship of Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr. resulted in Sammy not attending his idol's opening at Miami Beach—went to Tony Martin's closing instead. But Sammy hopes to patch up the split which stems from an interview he gave Jackie Eigen in Chicago, which Frankie didn't like.

Pvt. Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme will do commercials for a BIG sponsor—the Army . . . Jack Paar's announcer, Hugh Downs, will make folk song albums . . . Hal March, Howard Keel and Alan King were among stars who wept at the tribute to Manie Sachs . . . Gene Tierney's reported making good progress at Menninger Clinic, may leave in a month.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Why is it that drunks never spill drinks on other drunks.

Apparently this isn't the age of truth, says cynical comic Shelley Berman: "I know several liars who are doing very well —making out airline schedules." . . . That's earl, brother.

Proxmire Hits Leadership of Johnson in Senate Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis) hit again today at the Democratic Senate leadership of Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), saying it short-circuited important roles of the Senate by "settling issues off the floor."

Proxmire hammered away further on his theme that Democratic senators should have more of a role in determining the party's programs and policies.

"It is not enough for us to grope instinctively along even though we follow a man of great and proven political genius. We must know and we must insist that the American people know to whom we are responsible and where we are going," he said in a prepared Senate speech.

Two weeks ago Proxmire delivered a Senate speech criticizing "the decision of our leadership not to call caucuses in recent years of all Democrats for the purpose of determining a legislative program."

He continued that criticism today but contended, as he did after the first speech, that it was "not intended in criticism or derogation of anyone." Proxmire has praised the Texas leader as wise and fair.

Johnson was in Texas, reportedly recovering from influenza, at the time of Proxmire's first speech. Proxmire notified Johnson he planned to make his second speech on the matter today and suggested Johnson be present.

35 Men From Area Drafted by Army During February

Pontiac Draft Boards 65 and 67 have announced that 35 area men were drafted into the Army during February, nine of them being from Pontiac.

Board 65 inducted John C. Hovis of 169 Dwight Ave., Zacharia J. Athanas of 173 Beach St., Ronald K. McCabe of 145 Summit St., Peter W. Greenwood of 67 Henry Clay St., and Barry W. Adams of 78 E. Rutgers Ave.

Others were Stanley J. Austin of 641 W. Huron St., Gordon L. Stevens of 47 Short St., Hugh K. MacMillan of 87 Hamilton Ct., and Charles H. O'Dell of 687 Scottwood Ave.

Board 67, handling county draftees living in the Pontiac area, said 26 men reported for induction.

Among the county draftees were Arnold C. Thomas, John M. Vanderpool and Jerrad C. Aomas, all of Pontiac Township; Omar O. Millmine and Calvin E. Thornton, both of Waterford Township; Larry K. Farnham of Avon township; and Roy L. Johnson of Independence Township.

Others were Donald J. Komraus and Arthur J. Caverly, both of Oxford; Laszlo Brumar of Franklin Hills; Robert B. Beiser, Robert J. Booz, Robert R. Fosmoen, David P. Davis and Craig L. Wise, all of Birmingham.

Robert L. Eaglen of Clarkston; Michael J. Daly of Rochester; Dale K. Ledger of Lake Orion; Raymond V. Wojtyna, John A. Henstreet Jr., Cyrell J. Shagena and Daniel L. Ortwine, all of Farmington.

Federal Aid to States Asked on Delinquency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) says the arrests of teenagers may soon total a million a year in the United States unless steps are taken to halt a sharp rise in juvenile delinquency.

Javits said he will introduce a bill to provide 39 million dollars in federal aid to states during the next five years in an effort to combat "the alarming increase in youth crime now approaching emergency proportions."

WALTER D. FULLER: "I certainly don't have more information about the matter. . . The only thing I have is an intimate knowledge of being retired."

Wanted: Jobs by Retired Men

One Firm's Business Is to Place Older People in New Work

PHILADELPHIA (NEA) — William Wilcox said: "So, they retired me after 34 years in the company beause of the compulsory retirement plan, and I found myself sitting around the house getting in my wife's way and figuring I wasn't worth much to anybody. And then I saw this ad. . . ."

Wilcox, like thousands of other retired executives, found himself quickly answering the call put out by the new-born Walter D. Fuller Co. The ad, aimed at management men over 50, declared: There are jobs you can fill as the specialist you have become with your long experience.

Today, the Fuller Co. is averaging more than 100 placements per month in full-time, part-time and temporary jobs. That's a little shy of the break-even point, but the number is growing and Fuller himself expects to be in the black by mid-1959, by making placements at the rate of 3,000 a year.

The idea of reintegrating the retired in the economy is not new. Social agencies and civic groups have been at work on this problem for many years. But no group has ever had the success of Fuller's company.

"I don't know why," Fuller says. "I certainly don't have more information about the matter than the social agencies. The only thing I have is an intimate knowledge of being retired."

"Retirement plans are designed by young men for old men. And the social agencies, doing a good job, are also manned by the relatively young."

According to the Fuller Company's formula for success, you cannot fit a man to a job simply because he is over 50. He must have the right experience, and you must be in business for profit. If you can't make money selling your service, then you must close your doors.

And what is the right experience? In Wilcox' words: "Aside from the skills of management, the older you grow the less you are hamstrung by the opinion of others. Both these facts — executive know-how and freedom to think—are invaluable to industry."

Among Fuller, Wilcox and a small office force of retired personnel (most of the firm's overhead), each application by the retired and each query by a prospective employer are combed carefully for undesirable traits.

No position seeker is acceptable who seems to be looking for a tailor-made job. And no client is serviced if he thinks that the retired are a soft-touch, eager to work for nothing.

Man Beats, Shoots Wife in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Police said charges would be filed against a jobless metal worker accused of beating and shooting his wife outside Florence Crittenton General Hospital where she worked as a nurse.

Authorities said Lorne G. Keating, 47, of Detroit, would be charged with attempted murder in the shooting of his wife Lillian, 43.

Police said Mrs. Keating was shot in the hip and beaten over the head with a shotgun butt Saturday.

Mrs. Roosevelt Favors Adlai for President

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says she believes Adlai Stevenson is "the best we could have" as the Democratic Party's 1960 Presidential nominee.

"If Stevenson cannot be President — and he would have to be honestly drafted at the time of the convention — I would rather he be Secretary of State," the former First Lady said over the weekend at a news conference.

Marx Brothers Lunacy Anchored in Reality

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—The brothers Marx, who once made up a corporation devoted to creative lunacy, have not worked much as a unit in recent years.

Their combine manufactured some extravagantly moonstruck nutcakery in the early '30s — "Monkey Business," "Horse Feathers" and "Duck Soup" come to mind—but simply seemed to run out of juice after a while. I recall —and I'm sure all their fans do—such mechanical litter of their later period as "Night in Casablanca."

Last night CBS-TV's G.E. Theater" leagued Chico and Harpo Marx in a piece called "The Incredible Jewel Robbery" that made a try at re-capturing some of the beautiful idiocy of the past.

The playlet had an interesting gimmick—it was all done wordlessly except for a single line delivered by Groucho Marx who popped in at the end. But sad to say, the show contained only a few splashes of fun.

I suppose the reason for its failure was that like most of the Marx Brothers later products, it was too firmly rooted in reality or what sometimes passes for reality. Real life anchors the humor of lunacy. It is a little like trying to set Donald Duck down inside "Bicycle Thief"—a move doomed to failure because Donald needs his own distorted cartoon world in which to function.

SHORT SHOTS: "Maria Golovin," a Gian-Carlo Menotti opera beamed out yesterday by NBC-TV, was awfully thin both musically and dramatically for a two hour operation. Franca Duval, Richard Cross, Patricia Neway and Ruth Kobart worked well, but Menotti simply failed to supply them with enough nourishment to feed on. There was, at times, a bad balance between the orchestra and singers which tended to drown out the words being sung.

The last half of the NBC-TV Dinah Shore show which I caught last night was simply crackers—it contained a funny old movie bit with Tony Randall and some fine singing by Ella Fitzgerald. Miss Shore closed the evening by saying everyone was "absolutely marvey-doo" and although I'm not quite sure what that means, I guess I agree.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV has set June 3 as the date for a one hour special, "Holiday U.S.A.," which will star Burl Ives and Eddie Hodges . . . NBC-TV has set October as the burial date for its one hour western, Cimarron City —the show will go with reruns through the summer.

MSU Dinner-Satire Rapped by Faculty

Honor C Students at Veterans Banquet

EAST LANSING (AP)—A banquet to honor C average students here last week has touched off some pointed criticism at Michigan State University.

The dinner was sponsored by the Student Veterans Assn. as a satire on the university's all A honor banquet. The party was held at a restaurant-tavern student hangout near East Lansing.

Biggie Munn, spartan athletic director, was the speaker before more than 1,500 male students and coeds attracted by a promise of "all you can eat for $1."

The affair was dimly received by some MSU faculty members.

"They placed mediocrity on a pedestal and satirized scholastic achievement," said one professor.

"On one hand," he said, "the university establishes an honor college to assist and encourage the intellectually elite, asks the faculty to make a serious attempt to upgrade academic standards and offers high honor to students for academic achievement."

"But now, with the other hand," he said, "the university has endorsed by its official approval a party in a beer hall to honor the C average students.

The Michigan State News, student newspaper, said in an editorial the party was intended to "encourage an interchange of ideas between students, faculty and administrators."

The editorial said: "The plan was simply to get all the groups together for a buffet supper."

The veterans group violated one of the advertised aims of the party by awarding a plaque to one of its members for coming close to an all A average. Honored was Richard Williams, Bay City senior, who earned a 3:94 out of a possible high of 4:00 last fall.

The students and faculty people kept pretty much to themselves at the party but both groups made heavy inroads on the $1 buffet offering of ham, turkey, cold cuts and potato salad.

Justice Black Quits U.S. Bar

Blasts Lawyers' Group for Its Denunciation of Supreme Court

PORT HURON (AP) — State Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black has resigned from the American Bar Assn. with a scathing denouncement of what he termed its "stupid" policies.

Black, who joins U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren in quitting the ABA, said Saturday he was "ashamed of the ABA's attack on the U.S. Supreme Court and ashamed of my past membership."

"Having read," Black said, "the incredible fact of rejoinder of the House of Delegates (of the ABA) in the currently steaming campaign to put the Supreme Court under control of Congress and so out of business—

And believing that the House of Delegates has never been authorized to take such a stupid step, I do turn in my suit and my card as a member of the ABA."

The House of Delegates has been critical of some recent high court decisions regarding Communists and has said the decisions make it more difficult to fight Communism.

Atlas Set for September Probes

Plan 9 Camera Satellites

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Nine giant camera satellites will be fired into orbit aboard powerful Atlas missiles starting next September, informed sources say.

Persons close to the project reported Sunday the camera satellites, weighing about a ton, will be blasted into short-lived orbits to take pictures of most of the earth's surface, including the heartland of the Soviet Union.

The program, called "Project Sentry," will use a two-stage Atlas ICBM as the booster for the bulky payload.

There were no details on the camera itself or how it would perform, but it was learned that the project was shifted to the Cape from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.

Sentry is just one of a number of important space roles being assigned the workhorse Atlas which soared into orbit on its own last Dec. 18.

In June the 360,000 pound thrust rocket will be the first stage vehicle for a probe to the planet Venus. Later, Atlas will have the job of shooting the first man into space.

It was learned that the decision to move Sentry to the Cape was made to take advantage of the extra 1,000 m.p.h. kick provided by shooting in the same direction as the earth's rotation. The satellite must reach a speed of more than 18,000 m.p.h. to attain orbit.

The Army Quartermaster Corps has developed a solution effective as a sterilizing germicidal rinse where there's no scalding water available.
