Ousted From AFL-CIO Council

Beck 'Guilty as Charged, Office Is Now Vacant'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council today found Dave Beck "guilty as charged" of misusing Teamsters Union funds.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, announced the finding and said the Council had made permanent its previous temporary removal of Beck as an AFL-CIO officer.

"Whether Beck stole the funds or borrowed them, the record shows he took advantage of his position as a trade union official to use money belonging to his members for his personal use and profit," Meany said.

Meany said Beck had been found guilty unanimously for "gross misuse of union funds entrusted to his care."

'HE VIOLATED RULES'

Meany said that whether Beck had violated any state or federal laws "dealing with theft, misappropriation or embezzlement" was up to the authorities and not for Beck's fellow labor leaders to pass on.

But there was no question, Meany said, that Beck violated basic union rules for honest handling of union funds.

Meany said that Beck's post as an AFL-CIO vice president and Executive Council member is now vacant.

He said the Council may name someone else this week to fill the positions, not necessarily from the Teamsters Union.

He said the vacancy can be filled by any member of the AFL-CIO in good standing.

Beck spent only about half an hour with his union colleagues. He refused to answer their questions about the vast web of testimony produced before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee that he had misused large sums of union money.

CHALLENGED COUNCIL

The Teamsters president came to the session with a statement challenging the Council's right to suspend him, calling its action a

YES for New York Trip

5 Shows Named

In response to many queries, The Press is announcing again that our New York trip will definitely be held again this year.

The dates are September 9th-14th.

All theater arrangements have been completed and include the absolutely top five shows in New York City. They are:

"My Fair Lady"
"Happy Hunting"
"The Bells Are Ringing"
"Tunnel of Love"
"Visit to a Small Planet."

The first three are musicals and the last two are comedies. Further details will be made public June 10th and reservations will be accepted beginning the next day, June 11th.

United Airlines has been selected as the means of transportation and two special deluxe planes will make the trip.

Expect something terrific.

That's what we promise.

★ ★ ★

The price will be $182 and this includes air transportation both ways on two strictly deluxe United Air Lines planes, room for five nights at the Paramount Hotel, all theater tickets, a trip around Manhattan on a chartered boat, a special after theater supper at Leone's and a "get acquainted" buffet Monday night.

'Wants to Go Fishing'

Boy, 7, Rescued From Well Says He's Feeling Better

MANORVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—Seven-year-old Benny Hooper Jr. says he feels better and wants to go fishing.

But first, said his doctors, he'll need another week or 10 days to shake off several respiratory ills.

Benny was trapped almost 24 hours in neck-high sand after he fell to the bottom of a narrow well in his back yard. Rescuers pulled him from the 24-foot pit Friday evening.

Three doctors gave the blue-eyed boy a thorough examination at Bayview General Hospital in nearby Mastic Beach yesterday.

"He's in no danger as far as we can see," said Dr. Joseph H. Kris. "He has a simple inflammation of the right lung, a simple inflammation of the bronchial tubes leading to that lung and a simple inflammation of the sinuses."

The lung inflammation, he added, is not pneumonia but pneumonitis, which is less serious.

Benny was reported in "good" condition today after "a very good night." His temperature was 99—almost normal. He was still in an oxygen tent as a precaution.

Sex Offender Admits Slaying of 9-Year-Old

Brenda Jane Doucette's Killer Tells of Intention to Assault Girl

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP)—Police said a convicted sex offender confessed today to the week-old slaying of pretty, 9-year-old Brenda Jane Doucette.

They said short, slender George J. Davies, 38, of Thomaston admitted picking up the blonde third-grader, on her way to school "with the intent of committing sexual assault."

Detective Thomas Laden quoted the slight-built Davies, the father of three children, as saying he "killed her when she began to scream."

Davies was arrested on a coroner's warrant. It charges he killed the youngster after driving her to an isolated spot in nearby Wolcott.

Police said Davies had a previous record of morals offenses in Thomaston and Litchfield.

They said he was arrested in 1952 and sentenced to three years in state prison for molesting two little girls.

PAROLED IN AUGUST

He was paroled in August, 1954. His wife, who had borne him three children, divorced him while he was in jail.

Davies had been picked up along with 50 other known sex offenders, and released after questioning.

Investigators found discrepancies in his story and went to his home Friday. While they were there, Davies attempted suicide by taking six sleeping tablets. His stomach was pumped out.

Police quoted him as saying in his confession that he was parked

Pontiac Man, 82, Killed by Train

Bartrand Foster Struck While Walking Tracks Near South Boulevard

An 82-year-old Pontiac man, hindered by a loss of hearing, was killed Saturday when hit by a Grand Trunk railroad engine while he was walking on the tracks near South Boulevard.

Bartrand Foster, 415 Bloomfield, was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

BLEW WHISTLE

Engineer William Cameren, 57, of 55 Chamberlain St., told police he blew the train whistle for the South Boulevard crossing when he saw the elderly man walking on the tracks.

★ ★ ★

At the sound of the whistle, Foster turned and stopped in front of the engine, Cameren told police. He was struck by the right front of the engine.

The shredded remains of a gunny sack which had contained coal were found hanging on the engine and also near the body, indicating Foster apparently had been collecting coal along the tracks.

Marion Huddleston told police he had lived with Foster for the past 22 years and verified that Foster was hard of hearing.

Bergman Denies Rossellini Plans to Divorce Her

PARIS (AP) — Actress Ingrid Bergman today said "there is no truth at all" to a report that her husband, director Roberto Rossellini, is living with a married Indian woman in Bombay and plans to divorce Miss Bergman.

★ ★ ★

"I wish they would leave my husband in peace to do his work," said Miss Bergman, who is acting on the Paris stage. "This is all a rumor that has sprung up and it is truly unfortunate."

Rossellini is now making a picture in India. Miss Bergman has repeatedly denied rumors of a rift between them.

Late Rush of Voters Expected

Locksmiths Rush to Aid of Youth Trapped in Vault

NEW HAVEN, Mich. (AP) — "I didn't think I was going to make it," said 17-year-old John Chaffee Jr., as he stumbled, coughing and weeping, from a grimy abandoned bank vault last night after being entombed 4½ hours.

John fought off hysteria, mounting heat and thinning air while Detroit locksmiths rushed to the scene to free him. They did it after burning four holes in the steel door to release bolts that had been jarred into place.

Smoke from the cutting torches was pretty awful, John said, "but I crouched in a corner, pulled my jacket over my head and kept my eyes shut real tight. It was sure wonderful to see that door open."

Chaffee, a New Haven High School senior, and Richard Schroudt, 19, were among a group of young people cleaning up the old bank building for a party next weekend. In a bit of horseplay Chaffee ducked into the vault and Schroudt pushed the heavy door shut.

Then Schroudt found he couldn't open it, even with the help of half a dozen other husky youths. They called police. No one knew the combination.

Finally, some 2½ hours after John got trapped, locksmiths were summoned from Detroit, 35 miles southwest.

Chaffee appeared in no immediate danger. He lay on the floor of his 6 by 8 foot dungeon to breath air from a tiny opening between the floor and door bottom.

When he was safely out, though, John said he had been uncomfortable and "plenty scared."

News of young Chaffee's plight spread quickly through New Haven, a town of 1,082, and many gathered at the old bank, including John's father, mother and younger sister.

Mrs. Anna Jouescu, 32, who owns a tavern next door, said she kept potatoes and onions in the vault all winter, and that her 5-year-old son Johnny had played in it frequently.

John Chaffee thinks he'll still go to next Saturday's party, but "don't think I'll be doing any dancing in that vault."

Rainfall Here in Weekend Totals More Than 2 Inches

After an extremely wet weekend, Pontiac is promised some respite from rain today, but only briefly as showers are predicted again by tomorrow night.

From 6 p.m. Friday until 8 a.m. this morning 2:05 inches of rain fell on the city. As the rain was well distributed over the period, no serious flooding has been reported.

Bell Telephone said this morning trouble developed in one trunk line between Pontiac and Drayton Plains, with about 76 lines out. These were expected to be repaired by tonight.

Weather outlook for this area tonight is partly cloudy and cool, low near 44.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy and warmer with showers likely by evening, high 60 to 64.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 44. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 51.

Fair weather prevailed from Kansas southward through the southern Plains and in the lower Mississippi Valley eastward across most of the Gulf Coast region except for scattered showers in Florida.

There were wide areas of precipitation from the Dakotas and Nebraska westward to the Pacific and southward into northern New Mexico. Heaviest rainfall was reported in western Nebraska.

More than 2 inches of rain fell in Scottsbluff in 6 hours. Snow fell in the higher northern Rockies and in sections of Utah and Nevada.

Showers, rain and drizzle hit broad areas in the eastern half of the country. Drizzle was reported in the middle Mississippi Valley.

Viewers Told: Feed Champagne to Cats

British TV Hit by Gremlins

LONDON (INS) — Gremlins got into British television studios this weekend and advised millions of viewers to feed champagne to cats and clean teeth with sausages.

Howard Thomas, managing director of the commercial TV network, ordered an investigation of the incidents which pained sponsors but enlivened some rather humdrum commercials.

In one advertisement viewers were urged to "clean your teeth with this." A juicy sausage was pictured.

"Give this to your cat. It will love it," said another ad. It probably would love the sparkling champagne on display.

But the topper was the suggestion that "you should lubricate your car with this" — a bottle of beer.

Larger Sewage Plant, Parking Also on Ballot

Voting Is Off to Slow Start, but Polls Open Until 8 Tonight

Pontiac today was voting on the proposed $1,500,000 hospital bond issue and two other public improvement issues.

Polls in the city's 44 precincts opened at 7 a.m. and will remain open until 8 p.m. Those standing in line at closing time will be allowed to vote.

There were six propositions on the ballot, including three bond issues totalling $4,500,000, and a $1 tax increase to finance them.

Voters were to decide on:

1. The $1,500,000 bond issue (proposition 4) to complete and equip the 200-bed addition to Pontiac General Hospital;
2. A $350,000 bond issue (proposition 5) to finance a 300-unit hospital parking lot;
3. And a $2,700,000 bond issue (proposition 6) to help defray the cost of the proposed $3,091,000 expansion of the city's sewage treatment system.

Only registered voters who are property owners or the spouses of property owners were allowed to vote on the three bond issues. A three-fifths majority of those balloting was required for passage of each proposition.

The Press will give telephone reports on election results tonight, starting at 9 p.m. The number FE 2-8181.

All registered owners were entitled to vote on the tax increase (proposition 1) and two other propositions. A simple majority of those balloting was required for passage.

The tax increase of $1 for every $1,000 assessed valuation (proposal 1) must be approved before any of the bond issues can be effective.

If the increase is approved, the city has indicated an additional half mill (50 cents) will be added to the tax structure to help finance the projects. This half mill is the unlevied portion of a full mill approved by voters in the 1954 hospital bond vote.

Proposition 2 would allow the City Commission to submit the bond issue to bidders by means of resolutions instead of by ordinances, the present method.

Proposition 3 would give the city some leeway in the bond payments. It would make savings in interest possible, by allowing a more flexible payment schedule.

5th Amendment Eyed by Hoffa

Its Use Before Senate Doesn't Mean Witness Is Guilty, He Says

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Vice President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters union says "there is a great difference between a man's right in front of the McClellan committee and his rights in a court."

Pleading the Fifth Amendment before the committee, Hoffa said, may mean that a man has not had opportunity to secure adequate counsel or make research on the matters the questioning concerns.

Teamsters President Dave Beck has invoked the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination some 200 times in recent appearances before the Senate Labor Rackets Investigation Committee headed by Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark).

A witness can find himself in the position "of not knowing what he is charged with and what to answer," Hoffa said in a speech at a Teamsters union dinner here Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

Asked about his own position with regard to Beck, the Teamster vice president weighed his answer carefully and said, "If Mr. Beck is a candidate for re-election, he will receive consideration for his past services."

Schools Close Tuesday, B-I-E Day

All Pontiac schools will be closed for BIE Day tomorrow as the teachers go to school themselves as guests of 32 of the city's businesses and industries.

Starting at 9 a.m., the educators will gather at Pontiac High School auditorium for an hour program in which they will be introduced to their hosts.

At 10 a.m. they will go by bus and auto to the business or industry they have chosen to study.

Tours will vary according to the nature of the business. The large plants will conduct guided trips through their facilities to give the teachers the opportunity to see their overall operations.

REPLACES TOUR

In the retail establishments and other smaller businesses, a more intensive examination of business procedures will replace the tour.

After lunch, round-table discussions will be held, with the teachers shooting questions at their hosts.

In all, 803 teachers from the city's public and parochial schools will participate. The size of the groups which visit each host firm will vary from three to 170.

The host firms and the number they will entertain follows:

Baldwin Rubber, 10; City Hall, 25; L. H. Cole Oil Co., 4; Community National Bank, 20; Consumers Power, 20; Detroit Edison, 15; Fisher Body, 60; GMC Truck & Coach, 150; Jerome Motor Sales, 8; Jig Bushing Co., 10; S. S. Kresge, 12; Lewis Furniture, 6; Lion Store, 3.

Michigan Bell, 30; Nye Dairy, 5; Cy Owens Agency, 4; Pontiac Assn. of Insurance Agents, 5; Oakland County, 50; Pontiac Press, 35; Boice Builders' Supply and Pontiac Lumber, 8; Pontiac General Hospital, 15.

Pontiac Life Underwriters Assn., 8; Pontiac Motors, 170; Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, 15; Pontiac State Bank, 15; Pontiac Varnish Co., 10; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, 12; Sears, Roebuck, 12; Stewart-Glenn Furniture Co., 10; Universal Oil Seal 8; WPON, 10; Pontiac Community Finance, 20.

★ ★ ★

The BIE Day program, sponsored by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, will conclude at 3:30 p.m., when the hosts return their guests to their cars.

Morse Attacks Dems' Actions

Demands More Liberals in Congress, Boosts Williams for President

DETROIT (AP) — Democrats don't have a majority in Congress, says Sen. Morse (D-Ore), because many of them go along with the "political immorality" of the Eisenhower Administration.

"The majority of the Senate is reactionary Democrats and reactionary Republicans," he said here Saturday. "Too many Democrats are honeymooners. We need more true liberals."

★ ★ ★

The fiery Morse, formerly a Republican, was here to address the Democrats' Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

"Michigan Gov. Williams, now in his fifth two-year term in a state that 10 years was the political property of the GOP, is the type of liberal needed," Morse said.

"Williams would make a great president," he said.

Morse said water resources, a highly controversial issue in his home area of the Northwest, illustrates the Eisenhower administration is what he called "honeycombed with political immorality."

He said Eisenhower is "giving away today a substantial part of our water table to private industry" and he is "being used as a tool" by private power.

★ ★ ★

"When you waste water you waste civilization," he said, "and Eisenhower is speeding the decline."

The $35-a-plate dinner drew 2,200 Democrats, the largest crowd in the state's history except for dinners staged for Adlai Stevenson in the heat of a presidential campaign.

CONTEST WINNER — The Pontiac Amvets, Bemis Olsen Post No. 113, held their annual beauty contest Saturday night and Stephanie Hill, 17, of 4795 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was officially proclaimed this year's "Miss Bemis Olsen." Besides winning an array of fine prizes plus a free modeling course, the pretty junior at Waterford High School will enter the state Amvet beauty contest to be held in Detroit June 28.

Ike's Foreign Aid Program Formally Goes to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's embattled $3,880,000,000 foreign aid proposal goes formally Tuesday to a Congress hip deep in an economy wave.

President Eisenhower was expected to send Congress a message and follow it up with a nationwide TV-radio plea Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Dulles will take over Wednesday as the lead-off witness at a series of public hearings by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Eisenhower has scaled down his original request for $4,400,000,000 by lopping 500 millions from proposed military assistance for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But a special Senate committee which spent many months weighing the foreign aid program urged him to cut further in that field and make a "country by country" re-examination of his requests for economic assistance.

Eisenhower's program proposes a greater shift from outright grants to loans in nonmilitary aid and long-range authority for all aspects of aid abroad.

A key proposal is that Congress authorize the establishment of an economic development revolving fund with authority to make up to 500 million dollars in long-term low interest loans next year for economic development, and up to 750 millions for each of the two succeeding years.

In addition, Eisenhower is asking for next year 580 millions in other economic and technical aid authority, including a personal fund of 300 millions for use in his discretion to meet emergencies.

The military side of his request totals $2,800,000,000 made up of $1,900,000,00 for direct military aid to allies in guns, tanks, jet fighters and other military hardware, and 90 millions in defense support. Defense support, which includes some forms of economic assistance, goes only to countries with which the United States has defense commitments.

It includes aid for building defense-supporting projects such as highways and power projects, as well as other aid to keep the economies of partners strong enough to maintain their military pledges of mutual defense.

Los Angeles Police Chief Hits TV Show

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker, in answer to what he called a "slanderous attack" on him by former gambler Mickey Cohen, today hit at the television stations for allowing Cohen to berate him on a national TV show.

Chief Parker, when asked about Cohen's highly critical remarks about him on a network TV show, replied:

"I am not concerned over the specific comments of such a person.

"However, I am concerned over the fact that televsision stations are licensed under the Federal Communications Commission to do this sort of thing."

Parker declined to say whether he planned to institute a suit for libel against Cohen. He said:

"I have received the Purple Heart and I have been decorated by three governments. I do not feel that I must defend myself against a man of the character of Cohen."

Parker noted that "a slanderous magazine story must be picked up at a news stand but television enables slander to be brought into the living room."

News Flash

ODESSA, Del. (AP) — Three adults and three children were killed early today as their auto crashed into a concrete abutment on U.S. 13 about three-quarters of a mile south of here. Police tentatively identified the driver of the car as Cleveland Outlaw, 22, of New York City.

A woman passenger, who died shortly after arrival at Delaware Hospital in Wilmington, was identified as Bertha Phillips of the same address. A boy, 4 or 5, was the only survivor. He was unable to tell police any of the names of the victims.

The crash occurred at the south end of a bridge. The auto was headed north and a light rain was falling at the time of the crash. The tentative identifications were made through papers found on the bodies of the victims.

Stabbed to Death While Out Shopping

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Ola Mae Moore, a 31-year-old housewife, went out Saturday night to buy a snack for herself and her husband, and a few minutes later she was found stabbed to death.

Police said two $1 bills which she took to buy the food for herself and her husband Beurl, 37, were in her pocket.

The body was found by a neighbor returning from a movie.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Should you consider the direction of the prevailing winter winds, and the path of the sun through the sky, in constructing your new house? Or do modern heating facilities make this unnecessary?

The answer is that while modern heating and cooling equipment can make almost any house comfortable, if one pays the bills, both the sun and wind should be considered by the home-builder.

★ ★ ★

The roof of your house should, if possible, be slanted so as to facilitate the defection of winter's prevailing cold winds. But the side of your house that gets the winter sun will be more easily heated and warmer if a wall or roof is built to absorb the heat of the sun.

Some of the new heating systems utilize the sun's rays for heat and even store up this heat for cloudy days. Large glass areas should not be placed so as to face direct winter winds, or to get the full force of the sun in summer.

However, any general rule can be carried to extremes. And certain lots require houses facing certain directions. So, if you have to violate the general rule, violate it but minimize the effects of cold wind and the sun through wise roof and window design. Latitude of course, is a factor. In Florida one primarily seeks to avoid the sun's heat, while in Michigan or Wisconsin, one seeks primarily to take advantage of it and avoid cold Canadian winds.

Benny Hooper Makes Progress on Recovery work of a milkshake and a bowl of pudding for supper.

Earlier, his mother and father, his 6-year-old sister Wendy, and his grandparents visited him. That's when he brought up the subject of a fishing trip.

Hooper, a 33-year-old truck driver, promised to grant him his wish this summer.

PARENTS THANKFUL

Before the visit with their son, Hooper and his wife, Borghild, 30, went to Bible Protestant Church here to give thanks for the "miracle at the well."

Benny fell in the freshly dug well Thursday evening while his father turned to look for some pipe. More than 200 men fought through the night and the next day to reach the boy.

Sam Woodson, 39-year-old Negro construction worker, pulled the boy out.

Hooper issued a statement yesterday saying "God and teamwork did the job."

"I know personally everyone who worked in the hole from the very beginning and the relief workers who were there at the end," he said. "To single out any one person as a hero would be grossly unfair."

★ ★ ★

He said he wanted to express his "humble thanks and gratitude" to all who helped in the rescue.

Hooper said the family has received many letters and telegrams since the rescue. Some included money.

"I'll send back the money," he said. "I'm grateful, of course, but we can manage."

The well that could have become Benny's tomb was filled up over the weekend. The Manorville Fire Department offered to dig a new one and Hooper accepted.

"We'll have it done in a day or two," he said, "but definitely not in the same spot."

"nullity" and demanding that it drop ouster charges.

When Beck left, he took a back-door route to the basement of the AFL-CIO headquarters building and sped away in an automobile, giving newsmen no chance to question him.

Beck listened to a general summary of the charges against him and to a dressing down by Meany.

Meany said that before Beck read his statement "he listened to me for about 20 minutes."

MEANY TELLS HIM

"I summarized the charges," Meany said. "I told him what I thought of his actions."

Meany said he couldn't recall when any other labor leader had been ousted from membership of labor's top policymaking group.

Beck has a right to appeal his ouster to the AFL-CIO convention next December in Miami. Asked how this appeal might occur, Meany said Beck would have to "get his union to bring the matter to the convention if the union so desires."

Singer's Murder Trial Expected to Resume

DETROIT (INS)—The first-degree murder trial of Philip Singer was expected to resume today after a two week adjournment because of the defense counsel's heart ailment.

The ex-marine is charged with the slaying of teenager JoAnn Gillespie.

Defense Attorney G. Leslie Field was to resume his examination of Singer and his step-by-step activities Jan. 2 and 3, 1953 when JoAnn was murdered.

Orville E. Hodge Spinning Platters at Illinois Prison

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Orville E. Hodge now is a disc jockey and baseball announcer at nearby Menard Prison.

Warden Ross Randolph said Hodge, "breaking in" as a radio man, asked for the job. "It will give him more time out of his cell."

Hodge, serving 12-15 years for embezzling 2½ million dollars in state funds while Illinois auditor, oversees operation of three prison radios. They provide programs for inmates and, said Randolph, he must play some records in response to inmate requests.

For a long time Hodge had no cellmate. An inmate called "Muggsy," an old-timer in for murder, now shares Hodge's cell.

When Hodge first arrived at Menard "he looked down at the ground all the time," one guard said. "Now he walks around with his head high and speaks to everybody."

Freight Train Kills 1, 2 Die on Expressway Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents took the lives of 14 persons, three of them children, in Michigan over the weekend.

Also, one person was killed when hit by a freight train and a younger farmer was killed when he fell under his tractor.

Carl Gleghorn of River Rouge was killed Sunday night when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge abutment on the Willow Run expressway near Dearborn.

Charles Grames, 81, of Redford Township, was injured fatally Sunday when he was struck by an automobile while crossing a street.

DIES IN COLLISION

Mrs. Janice Trexler, 28, of Wyandotte, died in a collision at a highway intersection in Brownstown Township southwest of Detroit Sunday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Riggs, 63, of Belleville, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision in Ecorse Township.

James E. Bergbower, 20, of Muskegon, was killed Sunday when his car struck a tree near Adrian.

Steven Charles Thornton, 7 months, of Vandercook Lake, was injured fatally Sunday when a car driven by his father William, 24, crashed into a tree stump near Hanover.

Louis H. Corley, 51, of Detroit, was injured fatally Sunday when his car rammed into a bridge abutment on South Belt bypass of Willow Run expressway near Ann Arbor.

Dorothy Johns of Marlette was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Tuscola County.

HITS GUARD RAILS

Diane Nell Taylor, 20 months old, of Ypsilanti, was killed Saturday when a car driven by her father George Taylor, 22, smashed through two highway guard rails near Ypsilanti.

Alfred T. White, 35, of Mount Clemens, was killed Saturday when his car struck a tree near Mount Clemens.

Diane Spear, 9, of Benton Harbor, was killed early Saturday in a car that struck a guard rail on North Shore Drive at Benton Harbor.

Franciszek Urbanik, 53, of Flint, was killed early Saturday when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a car in Flint.

Grover McCord, 28, of Prescott, was killed Friday night in Ogemaw County when his car struck a bridge abutment.

Mrs. Grace Bray, 44, of Detroit was killed Friday night when her car overturned near Three Rivers.

Bert Foster, 82, of Pontiac was killed by a freight train Saturday. (See story on Page 1.)

Seek Women to Aid Recreation Program

Women are needed to aid in the recreation program at the Lapeer branch of the Farmington Children's Hospital, according to Mrs. W. C. Sproull, chairman of Gray Ladies for the Oakland County Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Sproull will be at the Farmington Children's Home to interview interested persons on May 24, 27 and 29, from 1 to 4 p.m.

Additional information may be obtained from the Red Cross Chapter on Franklin boulevard.

Flood Waters Slowly Recede

Arkansas River Crest Passes Tulsa With No Major Disaster

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The crest of the flooding but somewhat tamed Arkansas River moved into Eastern Oklahoma today, having spared Tulsa and adjoining areas a major disaster.

The muddy waters spilled into some lowland areas of Tulsa, and the town of Bixby had one and one-half feet of water in the downtown area last night. The river was expected back in its banks at both places today.

The flood crest was to pass near Muskogee this afternoon with only lowland flooding anticipated.

Hundreds of Oklahomans began the job of cleaning up damage caused by floods on the Arkansas, Washita and Cimarron and countless smaller streams. Clear skies prevailed yesterday.

State Civil Defense Director Tom Brett estimated damage from the four-day floods at 25 million dollars. Nine persons died.

State and Federal officials agreed yesterday to set up a joint disaster relief fund. Regional Civil Defense Administrator Welcome W. Wilson promised one million dollars to start operations.

The Arkansas crested yesterday at 20.4 feet at Tulsa, well below the predicted 26 feet.

Floodwaters and sewer backup waters soaked evacuated residential areas on both sides of the river.

The Civil Defense Transportation Corps, which helped clear the area Saturday, spent a good part of last night helping move residents back into their homes. Civil Defense authorities praised 8,000 volunteer workers and said the flood gave them a chance to test disaster procedures.

★ ★ ★

At Bixby Highway Patrol Lt. Bill Mayberry estimated about 800 of 2,300 residents had flood damage to their homes.

Hope Dim for Saving Entombed Miner

LYKENS, Pa. (INS)—Hope faded today for a 34-year-old miner entombed for almost three days in a central Pennsylvania mountain.

David Snyder, of Lykens, Pa., a father of three, was trapped Friday when the mine roof collapsed.

★ ★ ★

Two men who were working with Snyder, Leroy and Mark Sponiac, escaped the fall of earth and coal and began digging for the trapped man after summoning aid.

More than 40 men have been working to reach Snyder ever since the cave-in. His wife and small children have been keeping a constant vigil at their nearby home and at the mine entrance.

The diggers have estimated they would reach the trapped man about 250 feet from the mine entrance, but hopes began dwindling when they passed that point and had worked forward another 150 feet.

Indians Sell Houtteman, Pick Up Eddie Robinson

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians today sold pitcher Art Houtteman to the Baltimore Orioles for an undisclosed amount and signed first baseman Eddie Robinson who was released by the Detroit Tigers a week ago.

Robinson, 36, will be used as a pinch hitter. He first came to the Major Leagues as an Indian in 1947 and was first baseman on the Cleveland world championship team of 1948. He hit .222 in 26 games with the New York Yankees last season.

Houtteman has had considerable experience in the American League although he is still only 29.

In 1950, his best season, he was 19-12 for the Tigers.

3 Nabbed in Missouri Break

2 Convicts Still at Large

KANSAS CITY (INS)—Isaac T. Sanders, 23, was captured today, cutting down to two the number of fugitives still at large from Sunday's daring breakout at the Jackson county jail in downtown Kansas City.

Sanders was taken after police surrounded an apartment house in Kansas City and ordered the convict to surrender. He threw out his gun and walked out with his hands up.

Five men broke out from the jail and the two still sought are Emanual Andrews, 28, mastermind of the break who was awaiting transfer to the Missouri pentitentiary for a 20 year term for robbery, and Robert Polk, 25.

The break from the 11th, 12th and 13th floors of the 22-story courthouse in downtown Kansas City was not discovered for more than 30 minutes. About 300 other prisoners refused the opportunity to flee.

★ ★ ★

Led by a tough, convicted robber armed with an improvised ice pick, the five men grabbed an unwary deputy, got his keys and swiftly took charge of the jail.

They armed themselves with guns taken from the jailers and from the jail arsenal.

Sheriff Arvid Owsley said Deputy Gould Winn violated rules by entering a jail section alone to get a scrub bucket.

Shuttling up and down in the jail elevators, the five men rounded up jailers, trustees, and maintenance men. Some were handcuffed to posts. Others were locked in rooms and cells.

Then the five rode an elevator to the ground floor and departed.

★ ★ ★

About 30 minutes later another jailer coming on duty discovered the break and was releasing the deputies when city police arrived from headquarters across the street. A detective had made repeated telephone calls to the jail but got no answer.

★ ★ ★

Robert Delovan Brewer, 29, Nacogdoches, Tex., and Charles Beasley, 20, Kansas City, were captured an hour later in a taxicab. Brewer was serving a year for petty larceny. Beasley was awaiting trial for burglary.

Still at large were Emanuel Andrews, 28, described by Owsley as dangerous and the leader; Robert Polk, 25.

The Day in Birmingham

Commissioners to Hold Public Hearings Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioners will face two public hearings tonight following the crowded schedule of Mayors Exchange Day. They will consider the vacation of that portion of Buckingham road from the Grand Trunk Railroad west to Eton road. The second will be on vacating a small portion of the park street right-of-way.

Also up for consideration will be the request of Clarence W. Blenman to grant him an easement over a small section of Eton Park so he may construct a driveway.

Charles J. Van Horn Inc. is asking an okay on the construction of an access drive on the east side of Woodward avenue north of Park street. An easement request for underground storm drainage on the proposed Northlawn Heights is also on the agenda. Three assessment rolls for street surfacing and the concrete paving construction project will complete tonight's main issues.

Report on Cost of Road Topping

Waterford to Receive an Estimate Tonight on Crescent Lake

A report on the estimated cost of blacktopping a final portion of Crescent Lake road will be acted upon when the Waterford Township Board meets at 7:30 tonight.

The one-mile stretch was merely sealed over last fall to hold it until such time as it could be paved. Since that time it has been under constant repair, according to Elmer Johnson, supervisor.

Petitions for blacktopping five other township roads will be rechecked, Johnson said.

Some of the petitions have been on file, signed and certified, for two years and the board hopes to bring them up to date and forward them to the Oakland County Road Commission for approval, he said.

The board will discuss the possibility of making a "package deal" of all five. A special assessment bond issue would be used to pay for the work, Johnson added.

People representing the Ideal County Club subdivision, in the Jayno Adams Heights area are expected to attend tonight's meeting to discuss the condition of their roads and the erection of "no parking" signs.

Half-Wild Dog of Aged Recluse Saves His Life

FAIRPLAY, Colo. (INS)—A 75-year-old recluse was resting comfortably in a mountain hospital today after a rescue credited to his half-wild mongrel dog.

Andrew McGregor suffered a stroke last Wednesday in his cabin four miles from Bailey, Colo. In danger of death from starvation or cold, McGregor pinned a note to the collar of his large shaggy dog, described as "very wild," and told him to find "somebody."

The note wasn't spotted until Saturday. Dick Dinsmore, 14, Denver was making friends with the dog when he saw the note and notified authorities. The dog had not allowed anyone to approach until young Dinsmore tried.

When Deputy Sheriff Ray King reached McGregor, the old man was paralyzed on his left side and had had nothing to eat for four days. A fire in the cabin had gone out.

The card party sponsored by the Soroptimist International of Birmingham will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Community House. The public is invited.

★ ★ ★

Our Shepherd Lutheran Day School is holding its first school fair from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds will be used toward the purchase of a school bus.

Sale items will include baked goods, candy, aprons and house plants. Cartoons will be shown throughout the day for children. There will also be many games. The affair is sponsored by the parent teachers league.

Cleveland E. Collins

Former owner of Birmingham's Standard Tool Engineering Co., Cleveland E. Collins, 69, died last Wednesday in Whittier, Calif., where he had lived for three years.

A native of Nova Scotia, Mr. Collins received his engineering degree from Arcadia University there. He was a member of Commerce Lodge F&AM.

He is survived by his wife, Mae, a son Clyde H. of Glendale, Calif., two brothers and two grandsons, Clyde H. Jr. of Birmingham and John E. III of California.

Service will be from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home at 1 p.m. Wednesday with burial in White Chapel Cemetery. Masonic graveside service will be conducted.

★ ★ ★

John W. Gillette Jr.

Service will be at 3 p.m. tomorrow from Christ Church Cranbrook for John W. Gillette Jr., under the direction of Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in Franklin Cemetery. Mr. Gillette, 64, of 6115 Wing Lake Rd. died Sunday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, after a short illness.

He was a manufacturer's agent, dealing in automotive textiles. He was a member of the Bloomfield Hills and Orchard Lake Country Clubs, Alpha Delta Phi, a life member of the Cranbrook Foundation Board, Cranbrook School Board and a University Club. He served on the vestry of Christ Church Cranbrook.

He is survived by his wife, Louise and two sons, Louis C. and Jeremiah B. and one sister, Mrs. Marcus D. Richards.

Sex Offender Tells of Killing Girl, 9

on a winding street bordered thickly by trees where Brenda Jane usually passed on her way to school.

Davies told police that as the girl approached he placed his car jack underneath a bumper.

As she drew even with the car, he told police, he asked her if she would help him by getting a screw driver from inside the car.

REFUSED AT FIRST

Brenda at first refused but finally agreed. As she reached inside the car he dashed up behind her, shoved her in and drove off.

Three miles away he stopped the car at the dead end of an isolated road, he said, and attempted to pull the terrified girl from the car.

She resisted and started to scream. Davies said he grabbed her by the throat and squeezed until she fainted.

STABBED VICTIM

He said he then carried her into the woods, laid her unconscious body on the ground and stabbed her repeatedly with the screw driver. He then knotted her sweater about her neck and left.

He is 5 feet 7½ and weighs 133 pounds. Thomaston police described him as a drifter and said he had been unemployed for months.

A pathologist's report the next day said she had been stabbed 22 times, six times in the heart. Dr. Joseph O. Collins, pathologist at Waterbury Hospital, said she could have been dead from strangulation before the stabbings occurred. There was no evidence she had been raped.

Passes Car on Hill; Collision Injures 7

Seven people were injured in a two-car accident yesterday afternoon on Milford road about a half mile north of Davisburg road, in Holly Township.

According to police, Leverett J. Potter, 18, of 313 Sherwood St., Holly, passed on a hill while going north and collided headon with the car of Erick R. Beitler, 26, 775 Bigham St. Both men were treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

Those treated for minor injuries who were riding with Beitler were: Geraldine M. Debice, 32, of 2240 Georgeland St., Drayton Plains; Edgar Buchbinder, of 4082 Rochester St., Royal Oak; were: Geraldine M. Debice, 32, of Bigham St.

The two passengers injured in Potter's car were Irene D. Bailey, 16, of 310 North St., Holly; and Charles Bailey, 18, her brother, who is at Pontiac General Hospital in satisfactory condition after suffering a broken leg.

'Time of Grace Will End,' Evangelist Warns

Record 19,000 Jam New York Arena to Hear Graham's Plea to 'Turn to God'

NEW YORK (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham drew 19,000 people to Madison Square Garden last night—the largest crowd to date in his New York crusade.

The arena's 18,500 seats were filled, and there were 500 standees.

★ ★ ★

Graham's staff said 84,000 persons have attended the five nights the crusade has been in progress.

RECORD IS SET

Another record was set last night when 913 persons—husbands and wives, old and young, children and teen-agers—came forward in response to Graham's fervent plea to "turn to Christ now."

★ ★ ★

To date, 3,526 have walked down the pulpit, signifying their acceptance of, as Graham said, "a new life that Christ can give."

Graham took as his text Matthew 24:37-38—"But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of Man be.

"For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered the Ark."

GOD CROWDED OUT

The evangelist said that "crowding God out of our lives was the sin in Noah's time," and that the same sin is widespread today.

"God warned them," he said of the people of Noah's time. "They didn't have time to listen . . . God decided I'm going to send a judgment . . . destroy man and start all over again."

★ ★ ★

Then, Graham said, God told Noah he was going to judge the world, but would spare Noah because he had found grace in God's sight.

★ ★ ★

The speaker related the biblical account of the great flood that wiped out civilization except for eight people—Noah and those who heeded the warning and boarded the Ark.

WARNS OF 'FIRE'

He referred to II Peter, third chapter, and the prophecy that God again will wipe out the human race because of sin, this time by fire.

"One of these days God will shut the door and the day of grace will be over," said Graham.

Graham earlier yesterday addressed a Norwegian Independence Day crowd of 40,000 persons at Leif Erickson Park in the Bay Ridge section of Brooklyn.

Honor 'Red Martyrs'

BERLIN (AP) — The official East German News Agency reports a memorial to "Communist martyrs killed in the Hungarian anti-Soviet uprising last year will be erected in Budapest.

Russian President Welcomed in Hanoi

HONG KONG (AP)—Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov told a welcoming crowd in Hanoi today that Russia and North Viet Nam "are struggling to urge reduction of armaments and armed forces, and a complete ban on hydrogen and atomic weapons and on the testing of these weapons."

Voroshilov arrived from Indonesia for a state visit. Radio Hanoi said North Viet Nam President Ho Chi Minh embraced him as a crowd of 8,000 at the airport cheered.

"The foreign policy of our countries aims at easing world tension and not allowing anyone to provide a new war," Voroshilov said. "We are together struggling for collective security and for peaceful coexistence between all nations."

★ ★ ★

Ho expressed North Viet Nam's gratitude for Soviet economic assistance but made no mention of any military aid.

Baby Gets Tangled Up Trying to Follow Cat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Fifteen-month-old Philip James Alderete apparently tried to follow his grandma's cat out the door. Trouble was, the door used by the cat is a small, round hole in the back door screen.

Philip's head got stuck. His howls attracted his grandmother, Mrs. Emma Alderete. A fire department rescue squad extricated him after quick work with a saw.

First mechanical process for the manufacture of felt was believed to have been discovered in about 1820.

Jay Morago Represents Awakening of His Race

Indian Tribal Leader Confers With Legislators in Capitol

NEW YORK (INS) — Probably most significant thing about the three days Jay Morago recently spent on Capitol Hill in Washington was the fact that nobody took his picture.

Here was an American Indian tribal leader seeing members of Congress on behalf of his people, and not once did he pose in a feathered headdress, smoke a peace pipe or grunt out his opinion of the "paleface."

In fact, Morago is a 37-year-old college-educated veteran of World War II, the elected governor of his community—the Pima and Maricopa tribes living on the Gila river reservation of Arizona—a man who wears gold-plated cuff-links, figured ties and double breasted suits.

He is a symbol of the American Indian's ever-increasing assimilation into the society of the land he once owned. He is proof that the Indian is being given a chance at democracy—and using it well.

Morago came to New York to appear on NBC's "Wide, Wide World" TV show Sunday, May 26. In Washington, he had lobbied for legislation that would allow the Indian himself to help develop the agricultural, industrial and mineral potentials of his government-owned land.

"We are trying to raise ourselves by the bootstraps," Morago explained. "We want to increase the economic standards on the reservation so they are comparable with surrounding areas" where the white man lives.

But Morago is a realist who admits it will take at least 5 years before the Indian "can really get on his feet economically" and a century before he will no longer need the federal government as his "guardian."

Morago pointed out that it was not until 1952 that the Indian's educational level had risen to the point where he was able to vote in a national election.

But what was at least a semblance of democracy came to the Gila river community as long ago as 1936 when the government ratified its constitution and charter—as it has done with 13 other tribal unions scattered throughout the country.

The 6,000 or so Pima and Maricopa tribesmen living on the 378,000-acre Gila River reservation are governed by a council of 17 elected members—one for about 350 persons—who serve six-year terms.

ELECTS OFFICERS

Every two years, the council elects the community officers—a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary and treasurer. As chief executive, Morago receives $4,800 a year, plus some expenses.

He grew up on the reservation, although he attended high school in a neighboring white community, served in the Pacific during World War II and went to Arizona State College after the war.

One of Morago's childhood pals was Ira Hayes, who achieved immortality as one of the Marines whose picture was taken as they raised the U. S. flag on Iwo Jima during the war.

Hayes returned to the reservation but just couldn't get himself to stay there after all he had seen and done. He drifted to Chicago where he died tragically in 1955 after numerous battles with alcoholism.

"What we're trying to do," Morago said, "is to make our reservation a place where our people do want to live."

French Deals Aid Diplomacy

Aircraft Sold to Nations Seeking Independence From Britain

BORDEAUX, FRANCE (AP) —France is using her booming aircraft industry as a weapon of diplomacy.

Through shrewd sales, industry leaders in this manufacturing center believe France has won several victories. They assert that Indian opposition to French actions in Suez and North Africa has softened as a result of aviation deals.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the Marcel, Dassault factory received word this week that the first 24 of a 100 - plane order of near-supersonic Mystere IV fighters have gone into service in India.

India paid $257,000 apiece for these planes, used in combat during the Israeli's Sinai campaign.

The Indian government, France's largest customer, had already bought 150 Mystere II's, and 100 Ouragans, the first jet fighter built in France.

The Mystere IV's now flying in India can climb to 40,000 feet from a standstill in 11 minutes: the "supers" do it in 5.

★ ★ ★

Company officials are negotiating to sell the super - Mystere to South Africa. Circumstances there are somewhat similar to those which helped facilitate the sale to India — both countries want to minimize dependence on Britain.

Predicts Men Will Soon Adopt High-Heel Shoes

DENVER (INS) — Dr. Charles chiropodist, believes men will soon be buying higher-heeled shoes to make walking and standing easier on their tired feet.

In Denver to address the Colorado Chiropodist Assn. conference, Turchin recommended allowing children to run barefoot in the backyard, but said the thick-soled shoes should be worn on the street.

The basic trouble, he reported, are that sidewalks are flat, "and the foot surface is not. That's how it starts."

Turchin urged housewives to change into shoes with varying heel sizes at least twice a day.

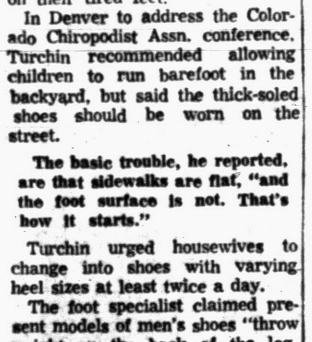

The foot specialist claimed present models of men's shoes "throw weight on the back of the leg, making it tiring and perhaps painful to stand for long periods."

"Higher heels give more support," he added, "especially for men standing at factory jobs."

Mortality of TV Shows Approaches Hysteria

In a day of unprecedented switches in all lines, TV activities probably constitute the most precarious way of earning a living known to man.

★ ★ ★

In 1956, there was a sixty per cent turnover in programs. This actually borders on entertainment hysteria. It indicates popular uncertainty, an ever changing public and a startling failure to produce very many programs on which viewers can unite in common acceptance.

★ ★ ★

The television mortality among comedians is without parallel. The heroes of today are the bums of tomorrow — or sooner. In a few short weeks they leap to the top of the heap and then fall rapidly into obscurity and the all-embracing shadow of no return.

If you're in the business, it must be disturbing. The percentage of mature adults walking the streets and talking to themselves should be high among television people. The stations themselves grind happily on and replace each successive floperoo with a new program that is calculated to "do better."

★ ★ ★

TV Magazine says the death rate of new shows is approximately fifty per cent. That's a fearful toll. "Of those that survive," says the director of a leading agency, "at least twenty-five per cent will never last to a third season."

★ ★ ★

Advertisers are slowly learning these facts and conducting themselves accordingly. The prodigious cost of television is staggering. Then, when you add the uncertainties which confront the buyer of time, it points to a situation that must be corrected—somehow.

★ ★ ★

Quiz programs were so popular for a time the living rooms of a nation were literally flooded. It was a bad moment during the evening when you couldn't dial at least one fidgety, squirming contestant who was struggling to recall in which great sea you'd find the Isle of Islette. The mortality rate was tremendous and even the two or three that soared into top spots slid back to ordinary ratings.

★ ★ ★

Television has been a grand medium of entertainment and is destined to be even greater, but the day of growing pains seems to be at hand.

Four Major Measures Could Save Millions

Among the 150 pending Congressional bills based on recommendations of the Hoover Committee, four major measures could provide sizeable slashes in the budget.

This is the opinion of Clarence Francis, national chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, which came up with 314 specific suggestions for reducing waste and duplication in Government operations.

★ ★ ★

"Perhaps we can't expect Congress to act simultaneously on scores of bills," says Mr. Francis, "so let's just take four. Conservatively, I think three of them would produce annual economies of well over one billion dollars while the fourth could mean the return to the Treasury of at least $500 million in capital funds." The measures are:

1. Modernization of the Federal budget system.

2. More businesslike administration of surplus property disposal.

3. Centralized procurement under civilian management of non-military, common use items for the Defense Department.

4. Reduction of Federal competition with private business.

★ ★ ★

Regarding the budget system the chairman notes that obsolete methods have built up a backlog of $50 billion in unspent appropriations which Congress can't call back and the agencies can disburse at their leisure. He is of the opinion that this could be reduced by at least one per cent—$500 million.

★ ★ ★

In the matter of surplus property disposal the committee found some agencies auctioning off goods at a few cents on the dollar while other agencies were buying them new. A savings of about $500 million could be effected on this billion dollar surplus operation, the report indicated. A $600 million savings also could be obtained by centralized buying for the Defense Department.

★ ★ ★

Finally the committee pointed out that $500 million in business type Federal enterprises should be taken out of competition with private industry and the capital returned to the Treasury.

Congress, backed by economy conscious taxpayers, should act at once to eliminate this terrible waste.

Must Be Uncomfortable

David Lawrence Says:

Military Chiefs Must Obtain Funds

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, in a few brief sentences in his television speech on the budget recently, touched on a bit of fateful history. He spoke of a tragedy that proved costly in money and lives to the American people. He characterized the policy that caused it as both "unwise" and "foolhardy." He said:

LAWRENCE

"Our armed forces became so starved and depleted that by 1950 we had to withdraw our military strength from South Korea. That area was then declared to be outside our defense perimeter."

ACHESON BRISTLES

Dean Acheson, who as secretary of state in a public speech in January 1950 declared Korea to be outside the "defense perimeter" of the United States, issued a statement last week bristling with indignation. But actually he missed the point.

For President Eisenhower gave Acheson a real alibi by pointing to the budget-cutting of a drastic nature which began long before he became secretary of state in January 1949.

It was this economizing which made it necessary for the United States late in 1949 to order its military forces withdrawn from Korea—a movement completed in July 1949. The only indiscretion on Acheson's part was that, in his January 1950 speech, he officially revealed to all the world the strategic decision of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff not to degard Korea as a primary obligation of our defense planning.

It was actually the Truman administration's decisions of 1947, 1948 and 1949 which caused the severe cut in the military budget, and it was this which Eisenhower was emphasizing last week in his pointed reference to the curtailment of funds for the military establishment prior to 1950.

The facts are readily ascertained by reading "The Forrestal Diaries." The late James Forrestal, as secretary of defense from September 1947 to March 1949, kept stenographic records of many of his conferences. There is revealed in this book the whole background of the budget-cutting of those days.

The military chiefs, for instance, struggled in 1948 and 1949 with the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1949, and ending June 30, 1950. They had recommended $23.8 billion for that year. Secretary Forrestal endeavored to persuade Truman to agree to a military budget of at least $17.5 billion, and later urged the Joint Chiefs to go along with a budget of $15 billion.

But Truman was adamant and recommended to Congress defense appropriations totaling only $13.6 billion. Congress appropriated $13.2 billion and later on in 1949 added $873,000,000 for aircraft, which sum Truman announced he would impound and wouldn't spend. The Korean War subsequently cost the United States almost $20 billion and 137,000 casualties. The continuing defense of Korea is still a big annual expense to the American taxpayer.

In the period just before the Korean War, the Soviets had blockaded Berlin, and a Communist invasion of Indochina was in full swing. The situation in Korea, moreover was plainly far from stable. Forrestal, in October 1948, addressed a letter to Secretary of State Marshall, asking for guidance and mentioned that he had written the previous July to the National Security Council to get a clear-cut idea of what the international dangers were, but had received no reply.

It was a constant passing of the buck back and forth, with no policy at all—not even a "brink of war" philosophy of deterrent action so far as the Far East was concerned.

In January 1949, General Eisenhower was called in as a special adviser on military budget affairs. He examined the military budget then, as he did when he was chief of staff of the Army in 1947, but only in terms of the defense of the United States itself—not in terms of hypothetical international situations, such as Korea, involving the Asian mainland.

With the money available to the military services of the United States, Korea had to be considered by the Joint Chiefs, including General Eisenhower, as outside America's "defense perimeter." When American forces were ordered out of Korea in 1948 and 1949, it was a policy decision by President Truman. The military leaders concurred because they could not keep on the Asian mainland troops which were vitally needed elsewhere.

LI'L ONES

"What is it in reference to, Mr. Elliot?"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Get Calcium, Vitamin D From Foods, Sunshine

"Words can never say just how I feel about your advice of a daily ration of calcium and vitamin D for those past 40," writes Mrs. M. S.

DR. BRADY

"I had suffered with pains in shoulder, neck and arms. Had no pain in my legs, but circulation was so poor that I had restless, sleepless nights.

"I began taking my daily ration, as you suggest in your treatise (The Calcium Shortage, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), and within two months found relief. "So now at 55, Ca & D is a part of my daily diet, and I have started many others on the same habit, supplementing their diet as I do."

Evidently Mrs. M. S., like most readers, didn't take my assurance at face value. I have said scores of times that a daily ration of calcium and vitamin D is the amount which everyone requires every day to maintain good nutrition.

Anyone may get an adequate daily ration of calcium enfirely from food if he or she follows the high calcium described in the booklet. Best high calcium foods are milk, skim milk, buttermilk, cheese, nuts, peanuts, egg yolk, greens, peas, beans, cabbage, celery, etc.

It is not so easy to get a good daily ration of vitamin D, which is necessary for good assimilation and utilization of calcium.

SCARCE IN FOODS

Few foods contain a significant amount of vitamin D—cream, butter, egg yolk, fresh-caught fall herring, canned pink salmon, sardines. From the quantities of these in the ordinary diet, one can scarcely get enough D to maintain good nutrition.

Whether the pains in shoulder, neck, and arm, mentioned by Mrs. M. S. indicate rheumatiz (not "arthritis," if you please), I do not surmise. Rheumatiz, in my judgment, is the most likely explanation.

If you harbor a $57.25 fancy that it is "arthritis," send a a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask for the free pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz. Rhematiz is physical degeneration of joint tissues due to nutritional deficiency from early childhood up through your inadequate breakfast and milkless lunch and saladless dinner today.

Anyone who doesn't relish the thought of having to take a dietary supplement every day from now on may avoid the necessity of doing so by changing to a high calcium diet, based on consuming a minimum of 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk daily and exposing as much of the uncovered skin as possible to sunshine or diffuse daylight, as much of the time as possible, short of sunburn or scandal.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Union Is Added to Causes of Industry Leaving State

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I have lived here most of my life. My entire family has made a living with one or another branch of General Motors. Probably seven out of ten Pontiac families can say the same. They know what will happen if the corporation moves out of state.

Taxes are blamed for such moves, and to a large extent this is true. But the main reason is pressure from unions. Other states have right-to-work laws. In Michigan a man must join a union or lose his job, and it will be that way so long as men in the highest offices are elected by votes paid for by unions.

Organized labor was a blessing to working men in the beginning, but a few power-happy men saw an opportunity to squeeze labor dry. For the privilege of joining, men must pay monthly dues. I call it blackmail. What else is it when you are told to join and pay or lose your job? Not many family man can afford to buck this ultimatum.

People must realize Michigan unions are jeopardizing their future or they soon won't have jobs. Letters and pressure in the right places can stop this. Let's get some action. We alone can stop this infringement on our rights.

'Let Their Dukes Go to Work'

Isn't it time for Washington to stop shelling out our hard-earned money to Great Britain? Why should our money go to support parasites who never did a day's work? If those English dukes, counts, earls, etc., would go out and get jobs, England wouldn't have to borrow so much.

Waterford Dems' Position Defended

Mr. Republican, the present administration in Waterford Township isn't responsible for the dilemma. Before them, the budget was based on over $100,000 in rebates from traffic violations. The rebate itself was a violation of the State Attorney General's ruling. Oakland County Prosecutor Ziem ruled that townships should abide by it.

You want protection — protection for your pocketbook. You want a big police force, nice schools, etc., but no taxes. You want someone else to pay for it.

It will be interesting to see if the police will be as safety-minded as last year. In 1956 they were so safety minded they brought in $100,000. With half the force, they should send $50,000 to the state library. Remember, safety first.

Daylight Saving Not for Farmer

I'm glad Michigan did not go to daylight saving time. We're on day light saving all year around. Michigan is in the central zone, but many years ago we went to eastern time because Detroit wanted to be like New York. Thus we've been on daylight saving time ever since. We're always one hour ahead of where we should be.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Gives Solution to Enuresis

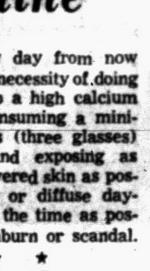

Donnie's problem afflicts perhaps 10,000,000 other American children this very day. And it is not uncommon for adults to be its victim. Hundreds of men were discharged from military service for this same reason. So scrapbook this case and watch the follow-up tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-385: Donnie J., aged 9, has a problem that will trouble about 10,000,000 other American youngsters tonight.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, Donnie is a victim of enuresis," his mother informed me after her PTA meeting recently.

CRANE

"We had offered him anything he wanted if he would only get up at night and go to the bathroom.

"And I am sure he sincerely wanted to do so, but he would have a wet bed almost every morning.

"I kept a plastic mattress cover under him and I'd place a towel on that and then a small sheet.

"It was uncomfortable for him to sleep on all this padding but I have four children and just couldn't do so much extra laundry work, such as big pads and sheets every day.

"Once I asked a child specialist about the matter. He told me that some babies stop wetting the bed when they are small; others, when they start to school, join the army or get married, and some never stop.

"Well, that didn't help me, so I was just about resigned to the problem, though I was very sorry for Donnie.

"For he'd feel so embarrassed when his boy friends would ask him to go camping with them or spend the night at their house, since he'd be forced to decline by some vague excuse.

"Then I saw one of your daily newspaper columns that dealt with enuresis. And I sent for your booklet on how to handle such problems.

★ ★ ★

"My husband and Donnie bought some dry cells and a doorbell buzzer, plus some strips of copper screening. I guess they spent about $5 on such materials.

N-UROCLAST

"Instead of urging Donnie to omit a drink at bedtime, we now urged him to take all the water he wanted.

"But we reminded him that if he had the slightest mishap, the liquid would close the circuit in the two wire pads under his hips and start the electric buzzer.

"Then he'd get an electrical shock where his bare legs lay across the two narrow strips of wire screening under his calves.

"And that's what happened. He went to bed about 9:30 that first night. At 11 o'clock, we heard him jump out of bed and go to the bathroom.

★ ★ ★

"Apparently, he had started to wet the bed but the electrical shock stopped him and he then went to the bathroom.

"Well, Dr. Crane, I still can't believe it! But five weeks have passed and he hasn't had a single mishap since then.

"My laundry work is cut almost in half. And Donnie is so happy, too. It has changed his whole social outlook.

"And he is so proud of his bed, for I bought him a new quilted pad for his mattress, plus fitted bottom and top sheets, so he loves to get into his bed now.

"Please tell other parents how to free themselves and their unhappy youngsters from this terrible strain."

BREAK BED WETTING

Bed wetting is a cousin to ignoring your alarm clock when it goes off in the morning. If you fail to heed the signals, you can soon sleep right through the painful bladder sensations, as well as the noise of the clock.

Although most children get over the childish habit by the time they enter school, thousands carry on into college and even adulthood.

★ ★ ★

Many men were thus discharged from military service because of enuresis!

So send for the Booklet "The N-Uroclast," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents and free your child from this nuisance habit.

For enuresis can warp a youngster's entire personality. See tomorrow's case.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

AF General Recalls War Oddities

NEW YORK (INS) — "The strange and the funny things stay with you longer than the bad things," Maj. Gen. Archie Old Jr., commander of SAC's 15th Air Force, said of his life as an airman.

"For example," remarked the spunky Texan who led the B52S around the earth nonstop in 45 hours, and before that some of the great raids of World War II, "there was Tom Hines of Charlotte, N.C., a great man. On the long ride in to a target, he'd have nothing much to do as bombardier, so he'd read one of those 10-cent murder mysteries.

"One day the Luftwaffe got after us real good. Old Tom was reading, I guess, but then I noticed tracers from his 50-calibers shaking 'way out in front of us. They hit a German who was coming at us headon and he blew up.

"Immediately, Tom's voice came on the inter-com. 'I got him, colonel,' he said to me, real indignant. 'The — — - - —— made me lose my place!' "

★ ★ ★

There was also the day (the general said) when he had to get out of his seat in the cockpit of his B17. The instant he cleared out, a German 88 shell tore us through the flooring, went right through the empty seat, and out the roof. "I'd have gone with it," he remarked.

GRATEFUL TO GOD

"The good Lord had His arm around me on the Schweinfurt raid," the man who led that colossal air battle remembered, with gratitude still in his voice. "They sent up 700 fighters against us that day, after our own fighters had had to turn back.

★ ★ ★

"My ship got shot out of formation just after we dropped our bombs on those ballbearing works. I told the deputy to lead 'em home and I put the old '17 into a vertical dive. They knew it was the lead ship, of course, and they sure gave us hell for the next three hours.

"Both inboard engines were knocked out. Sure was a long ride home. The clouds that protected us from time to time got us lost the rest of the time.

"My chief navigator was dead in the plane and the second navigator was wounded. We had another dead boy with us, too. The rest of us were wounded.

"You know something, after a long time we broke through the overcast, and there was England right under us. We landed her at Gravesend. What a name!

"Funny thing about the 20 millimeter that hit me in the hand. (He briefly showed a thin white scar running the length of the back of his right hand.) I felt a bump forming in the palm of the hand not long ago, after playing a round of golf. So I had a doctor open it up and, sure enough, I still had a piece of that shell."

SHUTTLE MISSION

Among the indelible memories was the shuttle mission in the spring of 1944. Old's 75 bombers hit an oil refinery south of Berlin and then completely bewildered the Luftwaffe — lurking along the normal getaway route—by flying on to Poltova in the Ukraine.

★ ★ ★

"The Russians sure made us welcome," he recalled. "Lot of saluting, handshaking and bowing when our ships landed and pulled over to the side in a line. There wasn't a cloud in the sky. The only thing in the sky was an ME210 photo-recon.

"I said to the Russian general that he'd better disperse the planes and asked for nearby fields where I could send some of them. But that was a big laugh. The Germans, bah! That's what the man said.

"So it's night now, and we're toasting vodka to Stalin's health and Roosevelt's health, when all hell broke loose.

"Our planes were fish in a barrel. They hit one with their first bomb and never stopped. One top of that, they dropped thousands of butterfly (anti-personnel) bombs.

"I ran down the field, cursing, running from plane to plane, sick. Somehow, never looking as I ran, I never touched a butterfly.

LIKE A NIGHTMARE

"In the midst of it all, a corps of Russian Wacs marched on the field, singing, carrying shovels like muskets, and tried to put out the fires with dirt. It was like a nightmare.

"The butterflies blew a lot of them to bits. And no wonder. The next morning there was a shower, and instantly hundreds of explosions shook the field. The raindrops were detonating the butterflies.

"As I was saying, the good Lord had His arm around me . . ."

Kindergarteners Roundup

Rochester, Troy Call New Pupils

Officials Prepare Fall Program; Ask Registry of Tots

Among area schools scheduling kindergarten round-ups in the next two weeks are those of Troy and Rochester. Troy schools will enroll new tots on May 22 and Rochester on May 27 and 28.

Troy

Parents of youngsters entering kindergarten in the fall of 1957 are urged to attend Troy's annual kindergarten round-up at 7 p. m. Wednesday at Troy High School.

These parents will be provided an opportunity to register their children, meet teachers and others who will be working with the tots in the fall and to receive information which may help individuals achieve a good start in school.

A state or city certified record of birth will be required before a child can be accepted. Parents should bring these to the registration meeting.

Birth certificates can be secured if your child was born in Michigan, by writing to: Michigan Department of Health, Division of Vital Statistics, Lansing, Mich. Give child's full name, father's and mother's name, place of birth, birthdate and enclose the fee of one dollar.

Rochester

Kindergarten registrations will be taken on May 27 and 28 at the various buildings of the Rochester Community Schools.

Each year registrations are made prior to the close of the school year to assist in setting up the kindergarten program for September. Parents are urged to register their kindergarten children at the hours outlined below:

Baldwin School — 3:15 to 4:30 p.m.

Brooklands School—8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Hamlin School — 3:15 to 4:30 p.m.

Harrison-Central—8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

North Hill School—8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Woodward School—3:15 to 4:30 p.m.

Only those children who will be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1957, are eligible to enroll in kindergarten. Because of this age limitation, it is essential that parents bring a record of birth as proof of age at registration time.

In Pontiac Rennel User Lost Weight Wins Health

"I like the Rennel way since it is such a very pleasant way to lose weight. I have lost 15 lbs. in two months and feel so much better. Until my correct weight is reached Rennel will be my reducing aid," writes Marion Tayler, 1345 S. Williams Lake Rd. "I have taken many kinds of reducing pills without any results. In the past I have been troubled so much with a colon ailment and now I find that Rennel is the first help that I can depend on. So it will be Rennel for me to keep this trouble corrected and to keep my weight down."

Make liquid Rennel work for you.

Peggy Lou Kessler Wed

NEW HUDSON—The New Hudson Methodist Church was the scene of the recent wedding of Peggy Lou Kessler and Philip Gage. The two were united in marriage by the Rev. E. C. Stringer before 200 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kessler of Grand River, New Hudson, are the bride's parents and the bridegroom is the son of Jarvis Gage of Kensington Rd., Brighton.

Wearing a floor-length gown of white embroidered nylon net over white taffeta, the bride stood before an altar decorated with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms set off by lighted candles.

The headdress of Chantilly lace secured a double illusion shoulder length veil. She carried a white orchid and lilies of the valley on a Bible.

Attending as matron of honor was Mrs. Stanley Clark of New Hudson, sister of the bride with another sister, Mrs. Stewart Brophy of Milford, as bridesmaid.

With Robert Potts of New Hudson as best man, Francis Warren of Washington attended as groomsmen. Ushers were James Wittstalk, Stanley Clark of New Hudson and Stewart Brophy of Milford.

The couple will reside on Kensington road after a northern Michigan honeymoon.

MRS. PHILIP GAGE

68th Convention of Area WCTU to Be Tuesday

DRYDEN—The 68th annual convention of Lapeer County WCTU Church here on Tuesday.

An executive board meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. The convention will open at 10 o'clock called to order by the president, Mrs. Olive Fockler of Lapeer.

Flag salute and pledge, consecration service and welcome address will all be at the start of the meeting. A report of Unions of the county and a trumpet solo by Lyle Merritt, will precede the election of officers.

Lunch will be served in the social rooms of the church. During the afternoon session a report of the department directors will be followed by a playlet. The executive meeting will be held again at 5 p.m.

Boxing Banquet Set for Romeo Tonight

ROMEO—Thirty-six young pugilists will be honor guests at the annual boxing banquet to be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the lion's den. They were the boys who took part in the annual boxing show April 4 at Romeo High School.

Detroit sportscaster, Al Nagler, will show movies depicting highlights of the 1957 Red Wing Stanley Cup Playoff Game.

"R" Club president Bob Proper will present medals to winners of each bout and ribbons to the loosers. The boxing show netted $200 to be used for athletic equipment in Romeo District Schools.

Romeo School District to Register Tuesday

ROMEO — Parents of children eligible to enter kindergarten next fall will register in Romeo district schools on Tuesday.

The child must be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1957, and proof of age, preferably a birth certificate, must be presented, school officials said.

Registrations will be accepted at the North Grade School between the hours of 9:30 and 11 a.m., 1:30 to 3 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m. The Croswell Street School will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Washington School hours will be from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 8 p.m.

Plan Next Meeting of Avon Photo Club

ROCHESTER—The Avon Photo Club board members met at the home of Walter Dernier on Monday evening, to discuss the final program of the club for this season. Several members of the club attended the monochrome competition at Cranbrook Institute of Science last Thursday evening, as guests of the Bloomfield Camera Club.

★ ★ ★

The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the library in Rochester on Thursday, at 8 p.m. George Taylor will illustrate uses of flash photography, and will give hints for better flash pictures. Members will also bring black and white prints for analysis at this meeting.

Society Started on Preservation

Form Historical Club to Collect Articles in Almont Area

ALMONT—On March 21, a preliminary meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brooks when Dr. Eugene Peterson, a member of the Michigan Historical Commission was present to explain the steps to be taken to organize a Historical Society in the community of Almont.

The first meeting of the Almont Community Historical Society met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hough. Twenty-five interested persons were present.

L. T. Bishop acted as chairman of the meeting until the officers were elected. The Articles of the Association were adopted. It's purpose shall be to compile and collect any manuscripts, photographs, books, records and such historical objects pertaining to the history of the community as may be deemed worthy of preservation, and to stimulate a general interest in the history of the Almont area.

★ ★ ★

Membership of the society shall be composed of persons having an interest in the objectives of the society and have requested the entry of their names upon the roster of membership. Membership dues shall be payable to the treasurer annually.

★ ★ ★

James P. Smith was elected president; Richard Bristol, vice president; Mrs. Maxine Juhl, secretary; Harold Hough, treasurer; and Mrs. Nellie Veness, executive secretary. Four trustees were elected: J. L. Hamilton, Mrs. Gertrude Brooks, Mrs. H. F. Bowman and Robert Wilson.

PATRICIA MCLEOD

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. McLeod of Wealthy Lane, Romeo, announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Gail, to Robert Lee Beatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Beatham, of Turner St. June 22 is the date set for the wedding.

County-Side Group Plans Noon Meeting

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The Country-Side Improvement Assn. will hold a luncheon and business meeting on Wednesday, at 12:30 p.m. at the Orchard Lake Community Church on Commerce road.

Members are asked to bring articles, such as toys and games, to be used in the recreation program at the Detroit Free Press Fresh Air camp at Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. Gordon VanCamp, president, will preside over the business meeting. Hostesses for the day are Mrs. J. S. Couzens, chairman, Mrs. Russell Meyer, Mrs. George Rapp and Mrs. John Slavsky.

Slate Oxford Concert

OXFORD — The Oxford Junior High School Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy J. Valentine will present its annual concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

Commerce Student Body to Participate in Festival

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The entire student body of Commerce Elementary School will participate in a spring festival to be presented at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the school playground.

Entitled "The Sad Princess," the festival will feature a cast of nearly 500 pupils. Emi-Lou Beaupre will play the role of princess and Dennis Collins will act the part of the prince.

Ladies in waiting will be Carol Thompson and Carolyn Rubritius; flower girls will be Sandra Bales, Theresa Fauser, Marina Wardell, Cheryl Ellis, Diane Sprenger, Marianne Hausfield, Peggy Colvard and Susan Spencer.

The festival carries a story about a princess becoming sad about the mysterious disappearance of the prince. Dancers from various countries try vainly to make the princess happy again until the prince suddenly appears from among dancers from America.

Chairman of the presentation is Mrs. Darlene Allen; costume chairman is Mrs. Maxine Skarritt. Assisting the dancers were Mrs. Eleanor Pronath and Henrietta Piltz.

North Branch Class Plans Capital Trip

Creoles Believe the Dead Grow Restless, Go Roaming

New Orleans Respects Graveyards

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — New Orleans is so accustomed to wailing trumpets in the night that the local cats and kiddies can sleep through the wildest musical orgies. The only horn that causes them to sit up and shiver is Gabriel's.

★ ★ ★

When Gabriel blows his horn, the superstitious descendants of the French Creoles treat the incident with respect. If the saint has beckoned to the next world a good man, of old family, they rejoice — sometimes still have a jazz funeral — for the deceased is going to a quiet rest in a better land.

When a bad man dies, watch out. He's likely to turn restless and go roaming. In his bones.

This town is "alive" with graveyards, and the adjective is not loose. They're the most respectfully kept cemeteries in the country. Mark Twain once wrote, "The most beautiful architecture in New Orleans is in its cemeteries," and the legends about them are legion.

★ ★ ★

By day, the older residents of the city move briskly among their family plots, amiably discussing "who you got put away here, honey," and scrubbing and whitewashing the tombstones of their forebears.

In whatever receptacles they can afford, sometimes ornate vases and oftener beer bottles, they regularly set out fresh flowers.

LOCKED AND WALLED

By night, the cemeteries are locked and walled. For it is then that the residents from within are still believed to return to the scene of their finale, wavering and skimming over the premises.

The white visions which for nearly two centuries have been observed near the oldest crypts have been blamed on trickeries of light and shadow.

The "footsteps" are explained by resounding stone arches, and the "signs" are winds knifing their way through gaps in the above-ground monuments. But you can't convince some oldsters who grew up with voodoo bedtime stories.

"Some people," they'll say, "just ain't comfortable in them ovens."

★ ★ ★

The "ovens" are famed in New Orleans, and hundreds of tourists inch past them every day with the same fascinated facial expressions ladies take on when lured into the serpents' quarters at a zoo. Actually they are vaults standing high above the ground resembling nothing so much as old-fashioned bakers' ovens.

VICTIMS OF DUELS

Here, in wholesale lots, lie the remains of hundreds of young men who died in duels during the fashionably fighting 18th Century, and thousands of victims of the yellow fever scourges of the 19th.

★ ★ ★

On the outside of many of these ovens are great names from New Orleans' bloodily romantic past. Marie Laveau, the voodoo queen (her tomb bears a cross of red bricks); Daniel Clark, banker and adventurer; Bernard de Marigny de Mandeville, the millionaire who once owned nearly half the city and loand his money to the kings of France — then died in poverty; the great jazz musicians alongside the prostitutes who made Basin street famous.

At the entrance to Metairie Cemetery, a comparatively new resting ground, stands a towering shaft monument, mounted with four tall, Grecian-robed figures. They are "Faith, Hope, Charity and Mrs. Moriarty."

Daniel Moriarty, loving husband, believed there were four graces instead of three — as less sentimental people in less imaginative environs always conceived.

★ ★ ★

Visitors to New Orleans can — and frequently do — spend days wandering through the ancient tombs of the town, where the skeleton allegedly still dances at midnight to the beat of jive from its descendants still dwelling in the French Quarter of town. For lovers of history and students of superstitution, the unorthodox travel tour is uplifting.

For egotists, it has a humbling message. Surrounded by legend and lore and extinct greatness, they realize they are not, after all, such big wheels . . .

25,000 Veterans Fail to Apply for Bonus

LANSING (AP) — There still are some 25,000 Michigan veterans of the Korean War who have not yet applied for their state bonus, the bonus division of the state adjutant general's office reported.

The division said it is now working on about 1,000 claims that were received after the original two-year period for the Korean Bonus Act expired at midnight, March 6.

New applications now can be taken as Gov. Williams has signed a legislative measure extending the Korean Veterans Military Pay Fund Act for an additional year.

Ugly Apartments of Historic Value Missed in Paris

PARIS (AP)—You can see every church, palace, bridge and statue in Paris and still miss a lot of historical monuments.

These are apartments. They may be grimy, grey and downright ugly, but they are officially historical monuments.

★ ★ ★

Some of the most famous are located on Ile de la Cite, the home of Notre Dame, and on neighboring Ile St. Louis.

Soldiers, writers, artists, philosophers, lived in these. More than a thousand apartment buildings in Paris are regarded as historical monuments.

★ ★ ★

If a landlord wants his property classified as a monument he can petition the Historical Commission of the Ministry of Education. If his building is classified as an historical monument, he is entitled to a government subsidy of up to 50 per cent of any work necessary to preserve it.

About 44 million Americans go to and from their jobs daily in their automobiles. About 18 million other Americans ride motor vehicles to school, to shops, and for other activities.

Swiss Banish French Officer

Say Intelligence Chief Got Secret Recordings of Phone Conversations

BERN, Switzerland (AP) — Col. Marcel Mercier, chief of French intelligence services in Switzerland, has been ordered home at the Swiss government's request.

Mercier was accused of buying secret recordings of Egyptian embassy telephone conversations from Swiss Police Inspector Max Ulrich, now under arrest.

The information thus obtained is believed to have led to the arrest of numerous Algerian nationalist leaders in Algeria and France. Atty. Gen. Rene Dubois committed suicide March 23, after his department was implicated in the dealings with Mercier.

Official Swiss sources said their government declared Col. Mercier persona non-grata. He reportedly has left the country.

★ ★ ★

Mercier, officially listed as a commercial attache at the French Embassy, is known to have exchanged intelligence reports with Dubois, a personal friend. At least some of this exchange was conducted with the knowledge and approval of the Swiss government.

★ ★ ★

However, the government had specifically ordered that Mercier was not to get the recordings of the Egyptian Embassy telephone talks, which the Swiss federal police had taken down on the grounds of national security. The government charges Ulrich sold the recordings to Mercier.

Nehru Heads Home After Visiting Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — India's Prime Minister Nehru headed home by plane today after a three-day visit with Ceylon's Prime Minister Bandaranaike.

Nehru came here for the end of the yearlong celebration of the 2,500th anniversary of Buddha's death. He spent most of his time going over world issues with Bandaranaike, a co-leader in Asia's "neutralist" bloc.

At the end of their talks, the two premiers issued a joint statement deploring radiation dangers from nuclear weapons tests by the United States, Britain and Russia.

They also: voiced relief at the reopening of the Suez Canal; plugged anew for the seating of Red China in the United Nations; expressed concern over recent events in the Middle East and denounced "every kind of aggression and attempt to reimpose colonialism or imperialism in any form."

English Doctor in Court on 15 New Charges

EASTBOURNE, England (INS)—Dr. John Bodkin Adams, recently acquitted of murder charges in a sensational London trial, goes before the Eastbourne Magistrates' Court today to face 15 lesser charges.

They include alleged violation of the forgery, larceny, dangerous drugs and cremation acts.

The hearing is expected to last three days. If the physician is committed for trial, Adams again will be defended by Geoffrey Lawrence.

In the London trial, Adams was acquitted on charges of murdering an elderly woman patient in an attempt to benefit from her will.

Residence of Burglars Surrounded by the Law

RENO (AP)—An ironic note was added today to the case file of three men arrested here for questioning about a series of burglaries after a bullet-punctured, 100-mile an hour chase.

Sorority Holds Breakfast

Mrs. Eberle Is Speaker for Affair

Omega Mu Sigma Hears Talk on Work of Observers Corps

Rotunda Inn was the setting for the annual breakfast held Sunday morning by Omega Mu Sigma sorority. Twenty-two members and guests attended the affair held in the Rotunda room.

"The Air Force—What We As a People Can Do" was the topic discussed by speaker Mrs. Melvina Eberle, civilian volunteer coordinator of the Ground Observers Corps for Oakland County.

STARTED IN 1950

Reviewing the work of the Ground Observers Corps, Mrs. Eberle stated that the ideology of Russia posed a threat which prompted the organization of the group in 1950.

"With 65 per cent of the population of the United States located in 13 cities, we must perform our duty as one unit. We must supplement radar, as radar is an electronic device that operates electrically and has its limitations," Mrs. Eberle stated.

Oakland County has 13 ground observer posts established since 1950 and ranks top in Michigan in this work, the speaker pointed out. Four posts in the county are manned 24 hours a day, and there is a real need for volunteers to serve two hours a week that the others might be adequately staffed.

"There is no service, no dedication more satisfying than being a part of a planned protection of this United States," Mrs. Eberle continued.

Another service of the Ground Observers Corps of Oakland County, the vigilante for Selfridge Field, is to warn of tornadoes, storms and unusual weather conditions.

In concluding, Mrs. Eberle stated that in the Ground Observers Corps one serves in a protective capacity, since the observer's work is done before, not after the damage is done.

Mrs. John Guenther served as general chairman for the breakfast. Assisting with arrangements were Mrs. Wayne Anable, program chairman, and Mrs. Robert Reynolds, decorations chairman.

Lola Strom of Mohawk road (left), president of Omega Mu Sigma Sorority, greeted Mrs. Ray Koskela of Granada avenue and Mrs. Harold Clifford of South Josephine street when they arrived at the annual breakfast of the sorority held Sunday at Rotunda Inn. Mrs. Koskela and Mrs. Clifford are new members of Omega Mu Sigma.

Wint - Euler Nuptials Solemnized

A bridal gown of white silk organdy over taffeta was worn by Diane Euler for her marriage to Lewis Edward Wint. Beaded Alencon lace accented the bateau neckline. Appliques of Alencon lace fashioned a hip yoke on the full skirt that extended into a chapel train.

A shell type cap of matching lace secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried an arrangement of lilies of the valley and ivy as she approached the altar with her father.

The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated at the eight o'clock ceremony held Saturday evening at First Congregational Church. Two hundred fifty guests witnessed the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Belmont Euler of Ottawa drive are parents of the bride, and Lewis' parents are Mrs. Russell C. Barrett of Holly and Lewis N. Wint of Farmington.

ATTEND BRIDE

Nancy M. Moats was Diane's maid of honor. Susan Sehring of Joliet, Ill., and Barbara Tinsman of Holly served as bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaids were Judy Baker and Mary Jo Pauli.

The honor maids were gowned alike in heaven blue silk organdy with graduated tucks creating the fitted bodice and full waltz-length skirts. Their headpieces were fresh daisy circlets and they carried cascade bouquets of daisies.

Kristy Longair of Clarkston was flower girl, wearing a white tucked organdy over blue taffeta with a heaven blue taffeta sash. Her flowers were daisies.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Lewis had Darryl Bruestle as his best man. Ushers were Bruce Dryer and James Parker of Holly, John Diefenbaker of Royal Oak, Richard Euler of Birmingham, brother of the bride; Donald Pais of East Lansing, and Clyde Howse.

Mrs. Victor M. Lindquist sang the bridal recital.

Following the candlelight ceremony, a reception was held at Pine Lake Country Club.

A champagne lace gown with taffeta medallion inserts was worn by Mrs. Euler for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was of matching maline, and a bronze cymbidium orchid corsage was pinned to her purse.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Barrett chose a mist blue peau de soie sheath with a lace bodice and an evening hat of matching tucked chiffon. Her corsage was of pale pink cymbidium orchids.

For traveling, the bride changed to a navy blue costume suit with white accents, a white half-hat and navy accessories. She wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

On their return from a honeymoon in California, the couple will reside in Detroit.

MRS. LEWIS EDWARD WINT

Mother, Daughter Luncheon Held by Sisterhood

Mrs. George Agree and her daughter, Marcy, were chosen mother and daughter of the day at the annual mother and daughter luncheon of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob, held Saturday at the Temple.

Mrs. Raymond Rapaport, chairman, introduced Tony Hasang of the Detroit Police Department, who presented a program on safety with his trained dogs. Mrs. Sanford Saperstein gave the invocation and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. Irving Gordon.

On the luncheon committee were Mrs. Martin Kabcenell, Mrs. Harold Abrams, Mrs. Charles Zamek, Mrs. Sam Stolorow, Mrs. Harry Ackerman and Mrs. Sherwin Birnkrant. Others were Mrs. Nat Morrison, Mrs. Tom Reese and Mrs. Harold Chapman.

Church Group Meets

Mrs. A. B. Robertson of Drayton Plains was the recent hostess to the Mary Lyon group of First Congregational Church. Mrs. Thomas Riley and Phoebe Wolfe were guests. The Rev. Malcolm Burton attended and spoke briefly on the proposed merger of the Congregational and the E. and R. Churches.

Church Circle Elects Officers

Mrs. Leo Mineweaser is newly elected chairman of the Mary Martha Circle of Oakland Park Methodist Church. Mrs. John Lamont is serving as vice chairman and Mrs. Herman Kunze is financial secretary.

The Rev. James Deeg attended the meeting held at the William Sherwood home on Oxley drive and spoke briefly.

Appointed committee chairmen were Mrs. W. Earl Foster, devotions; Mrs. Everett Robinson, membership; Mrs. Irl Williams, flower fund; Mrs. Bert Weddle, ways and means, and Mrs. Berl Watson, telephone.

Beau Gets in Argument With Host

Girl Asks How to Make Amends for His Behavior

BY EMILY POST

A young woman writes me as follows: "I took a boy friend of mine to a friend's house with me the other evening for a visit. During the course of the evening he got into a heated argument with my friend's husband on the subject of politics and made some very pointed remarks.

"My hostess was plainly upset over this. Needless to say, the atmosphere grew very strained and after a short while we left. I was never so embarrassed in all my life and feel terrible about the whole thing. Will you please tell me what, if anything, I can do to make amends for my boy friend's thoughtless behavior?"

Answer: Write a note and say, "I was deeply ashamed of the behavior of the man who came with me the other evening, and can only hope that you will forget what he said."

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a woman guest is leaving a party and the men nearby are standing waiting for her to make her exit and she becomes involved in a last-minute conversation with some of the guests, is it permissible for the men to be seated, or must they remain standing until she leaves the room?"

Answer: They should remain standing for so long as she stands nearby. They might go to another part of the room and sit down.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be best man at a friend's wedding and I would appreciate your telling me just what expenses I have in connection with this position. I have had so many different opinions that I have decided to write to you for the correct answer."

Answer: Further than the clothes you are expected to wear (which you probably have already) and the wedding present that you would probably give anyway, you incur no expense.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored at Shower

Mrs. Frank Morton Is Hostess at Party for Nancy Aldrich

Nancy Aldrich, bride-elect of Theodore F. Cohassey, was honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Friday evening by Mrs. Frank R. Morton in her home on Brookdale lane.

Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Kremer of Dwight avenue, will exchange vows with Theodore on June 22 at First Congregational Church. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cohassey of South Johnson avenue.

For the centerpiece of the tea table, a lazy susan covered with pink majestic daisies held an antique white china pitcher filled with white, pink and lavender lilacs and pink daisies.

White tapers flanked the arrangement, centered on a table covered with a deep pink cloth.

Attending were Mrs. Kremer, Mrs. Cohassey, Mrs. Robert Evans, Mrs. Earl L. Phillips, Judy Cohassey, Mrs. James G. Aldrich, Mrs. Fred Zittel, Mrs. Robert Schapler, Mrs. Carleton Johnson, Mrs. Walter Messer, Mrs. Ray Lyon, Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. Guy Sensibaugh, Mrs. Robert C. Irwin, Mrs. George Drittler and Mrs. Benjamin Sweeney.

Gloves Can Turn Little Tomboy Into a Lady

Nothing is so likely to transform a little tomboy into a little lady as a pair of white gloves—at least while she has them on.

She will be even more likely to act the part if the gloves have such grown-up touches as chalk bead ornamentation, hand fagoting, or turned-back cuffs embroidered with clusters of pearls.

Plain or fancy, this season's white gloves for the little lady are made of sudsable nylon or cotton so she can launder them herself in medium hot soap or detergent suds.

Discipline Will Preserve Integrity

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One day when Roy was 5, he became angry at his mother. Not daring to kick her, he kicked the refrigerator, making a black smudge on its white enamel.

★ ★ ★

She didn't require him to clean it. Instead, she cleaned it herself, crying angrily, "That's right — make more work for me! You bad boy, I don't know what devil gets into you. Go on—get into the yard before I hit you . . ."

Roy ran into the yard, pursued by these accusing words. They echoed louder and louder inside him, multiplying into terrifying thoughts.

Would his mother ever be kind to him again? Why should she be kind to a boy she considered so bad? If she wasn't, then before him was only this bleakness—this awful feeling of Nothingness . . .

In no time, these anxious thoughts had got Roy into more trouble.

As our childish despairs once absorbed all our attention, so they now absorbed so much of Roy's that he had little left to give to what he was doing. So he lost his footing on the trellis he was trying to climb and fell, tearing a big rip in his new sweater.

MORE ANXIETY

This mistake brought more accusing words. In their turn, they multiplied more anxious thoughts that preoccupied more of his attention so that he got mixed up in another mistake.

This is how a child begins to develop a record of misbehavior. Pursued by our criticism, he becomes so preoccupied with his deficiencies that they begin to seem more real than the physical world around him. Lost in our disapproval of his past, he becomes virtually unable to control himself in the present.

What do we do? We certainly can't pretend to approve of kicks on the icebox. I think the answer is to say: "Now that you have made the mistake of smudging the icebox, take this damp cloth and wipe the mistake away."

This is easy to do the moment we see that we are helping Roy to erase, not the smudge, but his anxiety over our disapproval. We are able to insist on the correcting act because by it he cancels out the unacceptable one—and is released from the burden of the past.

Such discipline preserves Roy's integrity. It is love.

Patience Leads to Lucky Breaks

By ANNE HYWOOD

Patience is a pretty unappealing virtue. It always seem s too static, lifeless and resigned. Yet without it, people can miss most of the lucky breaks in life.

★ ★ ★

Sooner or later, most of us find ourselves in a situation which calls for plenty of patience.

I thought of that the other day when I was meeting a friend at her office for lunch.

She works in a state employment office.

Her office is always full of people waiting, in various stages of impatience.

They get long forms to fill out and then they are interviewed. Sometimes, by the very nature of their case, they have to wait almost an hour.

TWO WOMEN

I noticed two women in particular.

They were both in their early 40s, both reasonably well-groomed, both being interviewed for the same kind of job. But there the resemblance ceased!

One, whom I'll call Miss A., was fussing and fuming and whispering to the girl next to her about the horrible delay, the stupid people who work for the government, the yards of red tape.

Of course, you can understand how she felt. However, her remarks were demoralizing to everybody in the room and made her look mean, ugly and old.

By the time she reached the interviewer she was in terrible shape and so, of course, the interview was totally unproductive.

The other woman behaved in an entirely different manner. She had a book (I noticed later it was a French grammar) and was quietly concentrating on it while she waited.

There was a feeling of serenity and purpose about her. And I couldn't help noticing the difference it made in her looks!

When the time came for her interview, she was calm and relaxed. Of course, she got sent on a job. More than that, she'll probably be speaking flawless French one day.

In this scientifically minded society, we are so impressed with mechanical skills and know-how that we forget that, underneath it all, we're still people. People like us because of personal qualities, not typing skill.

The qualities of patience and plain good manners are a tremendous plus in the job-hunting business. The person who remembers this will always be able to get a job.

If you're having some trouble in this respect, send me a stamped, self - addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, Good Manners in Job Hunting.

Farewell Tea for Peter Larsons

Church Honors Couple

Two hundred friends and members of the congregation of Ascension Lutheran Church gathered Sunday afternoon in the church parlors to honor Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Larson who are leaving the last of the month to make their home in Florida.

The Larsons have been active in the work of the church since 1927, the year of its organization in Pontiac.

Mr. Larson has served as vice president and treasurer of the council and as chairman of the building committee for the construction of the present church. Mrs. Larson has been active in the Women's Missionary Society.

In paying tribute to the couple, the Rev. William L. LaFountain, pastor of the church, remarked that the people had come to love the Larsons for their counsel and guidance.

Messages of good wishes were read from the Rev. and Mrs. George Garver and the Rev. and Mrs. Ewald Berger, former pastoras of the church, and a gift was presented from the parish.

Present for the occasion was their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Larson Jr. and family, of Inkster.

Arrangements of lilacs and rose colored tulips with matching rose tapers centered the tea tables for the 3 to 6 o'clock open house. Presiding during the afternoon were Mrs. Hana Hoffman, Mrs. Wayne Gabert, Mrs. Lawrence Colbeth, Mrs. A. C. Salley and Mrs. Harry Boorne.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fred Sytz served as general chairman. Assisting with arrangements were Mrs. W. N. McCandless, Mrs. H. D. Rohn, Mrs. Raymond Snell, Mrs. Clare DeLauder and Mrs. Fred Kaiser Jr. Mrs. Ralph Becker was responsible for floral arrangements.

5-20 "DON'T"

Slim illusion is created for face and neck with a "lift" from hat and hair-do. Neck seems shorter, face seems wider in descending lines.

Deep helmet-like cloches are to be avoided by short, overweight figures, and do look in a full length mirror before buying any broad brimmed hat. Perhaps an upturned trim with flower trim aloft might give the illusion of height you need.

Delete Eggs and Milk in Pudding

Mrs. Chapel Bakes Red Cherry Topping on Simple Batter

By JANET ODELL

This interesting Cherry Pudding is made without milk or eggs. It also has very little shortening which makes it good for people who must watch the fat content of their diets.

The recipe came from Mrs. Roy Chapel of Lake Orion who says it was in her grandmother's collection.

Mrs. Chapel's interests lie in home demonstration work. For many years she has worked with Extension groups in Oxford. She likes to garden and to make hooked rugs.

CHERRY PUDDING
By Mrs. Roy Chapel

1 cup sifted flour
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
Pinch of salt
½ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Mix together thoroughly and pour into a greased 8x8x2 pan. Mix the following ingredients and pour over the batter.

1 cup tart red cherries
⅔ cup sugar
1 cup boiling water or cherry juice
1 teaspoon melted butter or margarine

Bake 35-45 minutes in a 350-degree oven, or until top is light brown. Serve warm. Serves 4-6.

Next time we make this we shall add one-half teaspoon of almond flavoring and a teaspoon of lemon juice to the fruit mixture.

Be Sure You and Your Car Are in Tip-Top Condition

Take It Easy for Safer, Happier Vacation

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I would like to pass along a few warnings which I hope will make your vacation this year safer and more pleasant.

★ ★ ★

1. If you lead a sedentary life, take care about outdoor exercise when on your vacation. Many people become ill, and others die, because of physical exertion to which they are not accustomed. Do not do too much at first. Gradually increase the length of your walks and swims and be sure that you are in shape for mountain climbing. Avoid fatigue.

2. High elevations are dangerous for those with certain organic or systemic troubles.

3. It is a good idea to have your yearly physical checkup just before going on your vacation. In this way you will know about any condition which might have developed during the past year and which you should watch.

4. Take the health as well as the pleasure of your family into consideration when deciding what kind of a vacation you will have.

★ ★ ★

5. Don't get into a rut. It is nice to return to places we love, but see some new ones also. Some folks go to the same spot year after year, without any variety.

THE FAMILY CAR

This summer thousands of persons will be traveling by train, ship, plane and bus, but over 80 per cent of those who are going as far as one thousand miles will go in the family car. Therefore, it seems that some suggestions about traveling in a car are in order.

★ ★ ★

1. Have your car thoroughly checked before leaving and do not save money by using old, thin tires. Your life may be at stake.

2. If you wear glasses, and especially if you have noticed any difference in your sight, have your eyes checked. Poor sight will make the trip dangerous if you are the driver.

3. Wear sunglasses when the day is bright. This not only lessens strain on the eyes and avoids wrinkles (because of squinting) but long hours in the sunlight without colored glasses can affect your sight at night for several days.

4. Do not try to cover over-long distances in one day. If you do you are almost sure to push yourself past the safety point. Fatigue causes many accidents.

5. No matter how hectic your trip may be in spots do not allow yourself to become upset — at least not when you are to do the driving. This is another potent factor in the accident toll.

WATCH THE SIGNS

6. Observe road signs carefully. Most highways now are well marked.

7. Remember that accidents occur most often at dusk.

8. When lane-driving keep in your lane.

9. Driving for long hours on speedways, turnpikes and throughways is dangerous because it is so monotonous that you are apt to fall asleep. Do not drive at exactly the same rate, hour after hour. Stop and take a good stretch periodically.

10. Get enough sleep; stop before you are fatigued and stay alert.

★ ★ ★

Happy Landings!

GIVE REAL THOUGHT TO VACATION PLANS

At this time of year we all get an itching foot, clothes go into mothballs and travel pamphlets and maps appear like magic.

Any vacation worth the name means a change, if not in scene at least a change in activity and interest and routine. We all need this and yet many vacations are frustrating to the individual. It pays to give real thought to your plans for this one little spot of so-called leisure.

If you are a very rugged soul and you long for new scenery, then a trip away from home will probably rest you. But one mistake is to try to cover too much territory in too short a time.

Even though you are going far away from your hearthstone, you probably will enjoy it more if you settle in one place for the majority of the time and then branch out from there.

★ ★ ★

This is especially true if you take very young children along. I have known many instances when the anticipated trip turned out to be a nightmare because the offspring were too young to stand constant travel, irregular food and loss of rest and exercise and sleep. Therefore they were sick most of the time. At best this type trip is hard on the children and the parents.

SEEMS LIKE WORK

A flexible itinerary is a great aid to happy travel. If you have everything mapped out like a train schedule and keep to it, "or else," the whole adventure will seem like work.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps you find a perfect place and wish you could remain there longer, but push on because you planned to arrive at a certain place the next night. There are folks who feel this compulsion to meet a deadline even when on vacation. I am not one! We once started out for New Hampshire and landed in Canada!

With all of the hotels and motor courts available you are not likely to have trouble with reservations unless you arrive very late in the afternoon.

Give thought to the early fall vacation rather than the summer one. Of course this is not always possible but when it is you will find the weather more pleasant, the scenery lovely and the rates much more reasonable.

Many Modern Men Take Little Part in Family Life

Wives Should Encourage Husbands to Assume Rightful Place in the Home

By RUTH MILLETT

"How can I get my husband to take a more active part in family life?" a wife wants to know.

★ ★ ★

"He seems content to leave most major decisions to me. And if the children go to him for anything he sends them to me with, 'Go ask your mother.'"

There are more and more husbands who seem content to participate as little as possible in family living. Their wives make the decisions, figure out how the family income should be spent, take full charge of the children, choose family friends and so on.

Such families can "make out"—but family life isn't nearly as well-balanced, as interesting, as much fun or as healthful an environment for children as it is in homes where Papa isn't just a boarder.

★ ★ ★

A wife who wants to draw her husband more closely into the family circle can find any number of ways of accomplishing her purpose.

ASK HIS OPINION

Instead of making decisions alone she can tell her husband that she is undecided and wants his opinion.

★ ★ ★

Instead of taking over her husband's paycheck and spending it as she thinks best, she can get her husband to help her work out a family budget.

Instead of letting the children turn to her for everything, she can say on important matters, "I'll have to talk that over with your Dad."

But here's the catch. Some women who complain because their husbands shy away from family living don't really want Papa butting in.

They are so sure they know best about all matters concerning the home, the children and the budget that they don't want to risk having their husbands put in their two cents' worth.

★ ★ ★

So it goes without saying that unless a woman is willing to listen to what a man has to say, there's no use encouraging him to have a voice in family matters.

Learn Housekeeping

A mother may forget to tell the young bride some housekeeping tricks that are habitual to her. One is to equalize wear and tear on sheets and pillowcases. This is done by rotating use. Put the newly laundered sets at the bottom of the pile and use items from the top.

Meeting Conducted by Sewing Circle

Mrs. Robert Vasold of Drayton Plains entertained members of the sewing circle of Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 Thursday evening. Mrs. Richard Brownell assisted the hostess.

Plans were completed for the mother, daughter and son banquet to be held Tuesday evening at Moose Temple. Mrs. Ferman Huston is handling reservations for the affair.

Tourists Can Travel Extensively in Russia's Troubled Satellites

BERLIN (INS)—The tourist who wants to take a look for himself at what is happening in Russia's troubled satellites can do it quite easily this year.

And, if he obeys the rules, his trip will probably be quite cheap and pleasant. He may even forget occasionally that he is under the heel of the Big Bear.

COME TO BERLIN

The easiest and traditional way of qualifying as an "expert" on what it's really like behind the Iron Curtain is to come to Berlin.

In the former German capital, the tourist can enjoy the luxury of West Berlin hotels and restaurants and, without any border formality, cross over into East Berlin where in an hour or two he will learn all he wants to know about life behind the Iron Curtain.

He will need no convincing once he sees the untouched ruins of World War II, the scarcity of traffic, the drabness of shops, and the "jail-bird" shuffle of the "liberated proletariat."

But for the more curious tourist there is more to be seen this year.

BEAT THE DRUMS

Both Poland and Czechoslovakia are beating the drums for Western tourists — and particularly those carrying dollars. Prague, a lovely city almost untouched by war, seems likely to be the tourist hit behind the Iron Curtain this year.

The Czech government has moved to make tourism popular by drastically revising the exchange rate to cut the cost of a trip threefold. At the new rate de luxe accommodations with three meals cost $11.20 daily, class "A" accommodations $7.30 and class "B" accommodations $5.

But to obtain this favorable rate, the tourist must buy coupons in advance from the Czech travel agency, "Cedok," or a representative. The coupons cover hotel and meals and in addition the tourist can exchange three times the value of the coupons into Czech money at the favorable rate. Without the coupons, the tourist will be stuck with a whopping bill.

GRAND TRADITION

Czechoslovakia's best hotels—the Alcron and the Esplanade in Prague and the Pupp in Karlsbad —are still run in the grand European tradition and during the travel season are kept relatively free of the Communist functionaries who infest the best hotels in other Red countries.

The Pupp has been renamed the "Grand Hotel Moskva" but nobody calls it that. And the hotel still has its fine old tableware — although it is kept in storage off-season when more functionaries than tourists come to the hotel. "You can't let those people use the stuff," a waiter said to a visitor recently.

★ ★ ★

In Pilsen, although the famous breweries have been nationalized, the same master brewers are still turning out one of the finest beers in the world and still refuse to let a tourist go away without sampling several pints.

FOOD FIRST-RATE

The food in Prague's top restaurants is first-rate and so is the hotel service.

Visas for Czechoslovakia can be obtained in ten days to two weeks and transit visas, good for a 48-hour visit, can be obtained immediately.

★ ★ ★

In Poland, hundreds of carpenters, masons, painters and cleaners are working around the clock to brighten up hotels, restaurants, theaters, museums, nightclubs and holiday spots to prepare for Western tourists.

BIG TOURISM YEAR

Poland expects this to be the first big year for tourism since before World War II. A Polish diplomat estimates that between 5,000 and 6,000 Americans will be convinced that a trip to Warsaw can be cheap and pleasant this year.

The first group of Americans—84 elderly people of Polish origin —has already reached Warsaw for a four-week visit after a direct bus trip from Bremerhaven.

However, travel experts believe the Polish estimates are over-optimistic. They point out that Poland is still in a highly volatile state and is surrounded entirely by other Communist countries.

Poland needs tourists badly because of its economic difficulties and is doing its best to attract them. The "zloty" which used to be pegged at the artificial rate of four to the dollar, has been devalued to 24 to the dollar.

The Polish tourist organization "Orbis" is appealing through the press and radio to Poles to take special care of tourists and "Orbis" representatives are traveling around the world to drum up trade. The ill-famed liner "Batory" will make special tourist runs to and from New York.

With Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania cut off to American tourists the only other choice is East Germany. But despite its economic problems, East Germany does not want tourists — and has virtually nothing to offer them.

★ ★ ★

About the only thing worth seeing in East Germany is the Dresden Museum which recently won back its famous art works from captivity in Russia. Getting there, or anywhere else, in East Germany is difficult.

However, because of the special four-power status of Berlin, any tourist can cross in the Communist sector of the city.

ENGLISH GM CAR — English Vauxhall Victor on public display for the first time in the United States in General Motors Building. Inspecting the four-passenger car built by General Motors subsidiary Vauxhall, Ltd., are left to right C. A. Riddell, manager of General Motors Overseas Detroit staff; Neil F. Coppens, manager of Detroit office administration of GMO; Harold Drew, chief engineer of General Motors Overseas and Carl H. Kindl, Vice President in charge of Overseas and Canadian Group.

English-Built Auto Displayed by GM

The new Vauxhall Victor, a modern four-passenger car recently announced by General Motors' Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., of England, is on public display for the first time in the lobby of the General Motors Building in Detroit.

The Victor, an important addition to Vauxhall's passenger line, is the first model produced in volume in Europe with both panoramic windshield and wrap-around rear window. It is somewhat smaller than recent cars produced by Vauxhall and considerably smaller than any American-built GM car.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, said the Victor has been received with "great enthusiasm" at the Geneva Automobile Show and in England and other important Vauxhall export markets.

The Vauxhall car is built in two models, the Victor and Victor Super. It has a four-cylinder, overhead valve engine with a 7.8 compression ratio. The car weighs 2,130 pounds and has an overall length of 166.2 inches. Wheelbase is 98 inches with 5.60 by 13 tires.

The model being displayed through May 31 is the Victor Super, which includes a number of extra items of equipment and a wider choice of upholstery and color combinations.

Majo to Occupy Argentine Post

Aramburu Names Him to Plug Gap Occurring in War Ministry

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—President Pedro Aramburu today called Lt. Gen. Victor Jaime Majo, a top army commander during early years of the Peron regime, out of retirement to head the War Ministry.

★ ★ ★

The appointment of the 65-year-old artillery man as minister of war apparently resolved a crisis within the army ranks, at least for the moment. Majo succeeds Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arano, one of Aramburu's closest collaborators, who resigned Thursday reportedly because of rivalries among high-ranking officers.

★ ★ ★

Some observers view Majo's selection as a shrewd compromise. They say he is democratic - minded enough for the idealistic younger officers and old and experienced enough to enjoy the respect of other veteran genrals. His appointment runs counter to the trend since dictator Juan D. Peron's ouster in 1955 of putting younger officers without close links to the former president in the key jobs.

Terrorists Dynamite Store in Georgia

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP)—An explosion which damaged three stores in downtown Americus apparently was aimed at one store selling supplies to nearby bi - racial Koinonia Farm, authorities said today.

The blast was believed caused by several sticks of dynamite tossed from a passing car. It ripped a hole in a concrete sidewalk.

The glass fronts of a feed store, a grocery store and a drygoods store were caved in. About 14 windows were shattered in a four-story bank building across the street and a window was broken in the county courthouse.

A boycott of Koinonia Farm, where Negroes and whites live, work and play together, has existed for some time among a number of Americus merchants.

There have been numerous reports of violence directed against the farm.

★ ★ ★

Eddie Sutton, manager of the feed store, told authorities he had been ordered by his Macon, Ga., headquarters to sell products to the farm or to anyone who entered the store. He added he is resigning his position because of the order.

Industry Eyes Nevada A-Tests

Invests Large Sums to Aid Research Under Blast Conditions

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—American industry has an estimated 2½-million-dollar stake in the atomic test series which awaits a go-ahead today from weather experts.

The first test firing, tentatively set for early today, was postponed again last night by adverse weather. It was the fifth consecutive daily cancellation.

★ ★ ★

Because of the military significance of the six-year-long nuclear experimentation program carried out on this southern Nevada test ground, the role of business sometimes sags from sight.

★ ★ ★

The products of everyday life—the materials your home is made of, the automobile you drive, the food you eat—are being tested under conditions of atomic attack to determine if they would protect you, transport you, sustain you.

★ ★ ★

"Industry participation in the atomic test series deserves special mention," says Harold L. Goodwin, chief of Civil Defense operation for the tests.

"It began in 1953," he recalled, "with an extensive test of passenger automobiles. Since then many industries have participated.

"If the Federal Defense Administration has a clear need for information, we may ask for industry cooperation. Or, if the industry needs information for disaster planning and there is Civil Defense value to be derived, we sponsor the industry's proposal."

★ ★ ★

Goodwin estimated industry's investment in this year's series of atomic tests at 2½ million dollars.

★ ★ ★

"This represents what industry participation has cost the companies, institutes and associations that have participated," he explained.

Whooping Cranes in New Orleans Visited by Stork

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The world's 28th whooping crane is one day old today and its parents, Jo and Crip, are waiting a second egg to pop any day.

Jo laid her first egg 32 days ago. The chick started hatching early Saturday and broke through shortly before midnight.

★ ★ ★

The second egg came three days after the first in the Audubon Park Zoo. Park Supt. George Douglass said it should hatch tomorrow or Wednesday.

The little whooper strayed from Jo and the nest only when Crip tried to lure it by dropping some food nearby.

When Jo, who hasn't eaten since Friday night, leaves the nest for water, Crip takes over.

★ ★ ★

Douglass said he and other park officials started a 24-hour watch over the whooping cranes' pen when they expected the first egg to start hatching.

★ ★ ★

Last year Jo laid two eggs. Both hatched but the first chick disappeared, apparently the victim of a rat or an owl, and the second died within 45 days of a fungus disease.

Royal Visit Off, Paper Reports

Sunday Express Says Queen, Philip Won't Come to U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Sunday Express says Queen Elizabeth won't come to the United States this fall after all.

The mass circulation paper predicted an official announcement would be made saying the visit is being postponed indefinitely because of the Queen's crowded engagement list. It said Prime Minister Macmillan personally advised postponement after consulting members of the royal household.

★ ★ ★

Reports from Washington last week said President Eisenhower was being advised the Queen would accept an invitation to visit America and probably would make the trip next October.

★ ★ ★

Express writer Bernard Drew said in a front page story yesterday that two main reasons lay behind the switch in plans:

1. There still is "an undercurrent of antagonism" toward Britain in the United States because of the Suez invasion.

2. Canadians might be offended if Elizabeth and Prince Philip were to spend more time in the United States than in Canada.

The Queen and Philip now are en route to a state visit in Denmark.

Pave Alaska Highway?

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory (AP)—James M. Sinclair, Canadian Minister of Fisheries, says Canada's federal government is planning to pave the Alaska Highway. Sinclair told a meeting here the cost would be shared by all Canadians.

Hits Social Workers' 'Political Lethargy'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania suggests that social workers should "climb down from the ivory tower of political inaction and back important welfare programs."

★ ★ ★

"The social worker — of all people — has the least justification for political lethargy as an individual," Leader told 5,000 social workers attending the opening session yesterday of the 84th annual forum of the national conference of social welfare.

The Democratic governor devoted his entire speech to economy moves in Congress and the state Legislature in Harrisburg, which he viewed as serious threats to welfare programs.

Wheels Bug Writer, He Bugs Out

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

I just don't dig it.

I guess I am nothing more than a three-dimensional cube.

HAWKER

And that is infinitely worse than being a keeper, which as everyone knows is a squirrel, which obviously is a square, and a square is but definitely the opposite of a cat.

It seems I am just not hep. I am an odd-ball—in other words a creep.

I am tantalized, troubled, tortured. Six school and university years spent studying French, five in the toils of the Latin language a passable command of English —and in this foreign land I am in language trouble.

I see a car on the highway. I think it is a car, but I am wrong. It is a bomb.

REALLY A KITTEN

I think I see an attractive high school student on the street. But what I really see is a kitten. How do I know it is a kitten?

I've been taking language lessons. A kitten is a real gone girl, just as a cat is a real gone guy, a sharp kid. Dig me?

I talk about bread. Now to me bread conjures a picture of a baker turning flour, water and yeast into an edible product. But I am wrong again. It is the product of Uncle Sam's mint — in other words, money.

★ ★ ★

I step into a neatly pressed suit. I think I look smart. I'm not. I'm like a razor—sharp.

I step into the sharp suit because I am going to a party. It isn't really a party. It's a brawl. I don't take a rod or brass knuckles because I have learned enough by now to know that a brawl is a real crazy party.

I travel to the brawl in a pig. Now this does not mean I am conveyed in the entrails of a candidate for a bacon factory. I am just a passenger in a car with no power.

OUT TO LUNCH

Now at this party (sorry, brawl) I am out to lunch. As it is evening I am confused more than somewhat. But education is a great thing, and I soon discover that I am odd man out.

So I get myself introductions to several good looking guys, who are really hunks, and good looking girls, who are not young women at all. They are trims.

There are a lot of dads at this party (sorry again). But they don't look like fathers because some of them are women. And even in this foreign-language country women can't be fathers—or can they?

★ ★ ★

I find I am right about women not being fathers, but wrong about the dads, who are just endearing people.

★ ★ ★

I get the works from a lot of wheels and I am bugged.

I decide to leave. But I don't I bug out.

The experience was piercing. It was shrill-man-shrill.

WOW!!

Plan to Charge Dues for GOP Membership

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republicans have launched a drive to fatten party coffers through a $1-a-month dues program for rank-and-file members.

Lawrence B. Lindemer, GOP state chairman, said party workers will conduct a door-to-door campaign throughout the state to sign up dues-paying members.

A pilot program has begun in Ingham County, he said, and the drive later will be extended to all 83 counties.

Expose Inefficiency in Farm Policies

Russian Stories Indicate New Trend of Realism on Faults in Soviet System

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Two short stories published in the Soviet Union depict inefficiency in the collective farm system and expose Communist Party policy in agriculture.

★ ★ ★

In "Levers," by Alexander Yashin, four men, all Communists and leaders of a collective farm, sit about in the oppressively dingy smoke - filled office of the farm management. They talk candidly about farm affairs and themselves.

"Nevertheless, where is truth?" asks one.

"Why should you need truth?" answers a companion. "You are a warehouse keeper now."

"Well, truth — it's necessary," replies the chairman of the farm. "Truth is what we cling to. Only I can't understand one thing again. . . ."

The party had decreed that farm production plans should come from the farms themselves, but when he took the farm's plan to the county party chieftain it was returned three times for "corrections."

"Nothing is left of our plan," he remarks. "That's truth for you! They don't believe us."

'We Have No Tigers,' Nehru Tells Danish Girl

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A 14-year-old Danish girl heard from Prime Minister Nehru today. The Indian government chief is sorry but he has neither elephants nor tigers available at present.

Ragnhild Drewsen, whose father is superintendent at the Borris Agricultural High School, wrote Nehru some weeks ago asking his assistance in "finding a small elephant—or a tiger" for her.

Replying personally, Nehru said at the moment he had no such animals. "Maybe some other time," he added.

In "A Trip Back Home," by Nikolai Zhdanov deals with much the same theme. A Moscow bureaucrat returns to his native village to bury his mother. He sees poverty and inefficiency. He is told of cases of stupid mismanagement in the county as a result of orders from Moscow.

These things start to penetrate his consciousness. But he shuts them out deliberately. In a few hours time he flees back to his fat job in the capital.

The author describes him on his way back to Moscow:

"With satisfaction he pictured to himself how tomorrow he would enter his warm, well-furnished office and sit down behind his desk in his armchair."

★ ★ ★

These two frank stories typify a new trend in Soviet writing—realistic depiction of the seamy side of the Soviet system. Recent discussions show the Kremlin is fearful of this trend and the political consequences which it may have if long continued.

Pythians Mark 70th Birthday

Pontiac Lodge to Hold Dinner and Program Tuesday Evening

The seventieth anniversary of the organization of Pontiac Lodge of the Knights of Pythias will be celebrated with a dinner at their hall on Tuesday evening.

The program will include a history of the lodge by J. L. VanWagoner, and the men who have been members for 50 years or mo will be recognized.

These include Harry O Whitfield, Charles F. Durrant, Frank Becker, J. A. Tillson, Charles Tompkins, H. H. Thatcher, Richard Jackson and William Harris.

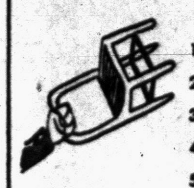

Also honored will be George A. Cram and Clarence L. Smith, local members who have been Grand Chancellor Commanders.

Pontiac Lodge has been honored in having three men in this top Pythian position, the other being the late Judge Frank L. Covert. The lodge has numbered among its members many prominent citizens of the Pontiac community since its organization in 1887, and has had an active part in local development, cultural and otherwise.

Right Answers Bring You $900 in Pot-O-Gold

Nine hundred dollars makes quite a bulge in anyone's pocket, and if you'd like yours to bulge a little more, get to work on this week's Pot-O-Gold contest. Where else can you spend your time having so much fun and make money at the same time? That's providing you arrive at the right solution, of course. Read the rules carefully to increase your possibilities of winning.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No 51 must bear a Tuesday, May 28, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Gentlemen:

RE: DANDEE BREAD - Registered: No. 103

This is to advise that we have been submitting Dandee bread to a series of laboratory inspections and analyses since April 1, 1957. This testing procedure is continuing on a scheduled basis, per your instructions.

It is our purpose to determine whether formula and quality standards set up by our laboratory in consultation with your production department are being maintained. Our tests cover the following factors; freshness as measured by compressibility, vitamin and mineral specifications, milk percentage, flavor, general nutritional quality, and cleanliness of product.

A registration number, as indicated above, has been applied to Dandee products and we warrant that bread submitted for scoring and analyses to date adheres to the established standards and specifications.

Yours very truly,
DOTY LABORATORIES

*REGISTERED BREAD MEANS: Dandee is inspected daily by the famous Doty Laboratories. It is tested for protein value, milk content, vitamin content, flavor, conformance of flour to top specifications, purity, freshness, and scored against competing breads to assure superior quality.

NEW REGISTERED DANDEE contains one-third more milk! This means a big, big increase in nutritive value. Extra milk helps make a perfect golden crust and creamier color. It makes Dandee softer. More milk also means that Dandee keeps fresher longer.

THE DIFFERENCE IN DANDEE'S FLAVOR will amaze you. The combination of more milk and top quality ingredients, plus Dandee Bakers' painstaking skill, brings you a truly delicious and completely satisfying loaf of bread.

NEW REGISTERED DANDEE MEANS MORE FOR YOUR MONEY because soft, oven-fresh Dandee is quality bread selling at popular prices! Try REGISTERED DANDEE today!

NEW! Inside and Out!

Look for the bright yellow wrapper with the blue and white stripes!

One of the rare accidents to high school athletes in the big state track championships, hospitalized husky Joel Arvilla of Charlevoix, a shot-putter, Saturday at East Lansing. Arvilla was struck by a 12-pound shot thrown by another Class C weight man, during a practice toss. He was taken to MSC health center with a cut on his head and a possible concussion. The shot hit a glancing blow, reducing the seriousness of the injury.

Chief Thinclads Roll Along to 3rd State Title

By H. GUY MOATS

EAST LANSING—Only the 3rd school in Michigan High School Athletic Assn. history to win more than two consecutive Class A track titles, Pontiac's determined band of a dozen youngsters Saturday turned the trick at Ralph Young Field here, with a 33 point total. That was 11 more than the heavily favored Flint Northern crew mustered. Kalamazoo Central was 3rd with 21 and Jackson 5th with 18½. Berkley 4th with 19. Chiefs won in 1955 and 1956.

★ ★ ★

Class C winner here was favored Boyne City with 27 points.

At Ann Arbor, St. Joseph, a winner in other years, grabbed the Class B honors, with defending titlist Inkster 5½ points behind.

Covert scraped by Dansville, also by five points to take the Class D crown, for the 2nd year.

There had been a growing conviction on the part of coaches Dean Wilson and Ray Lowry, ever since the Central Michigan relays that the Chiefs might repeat as state champions.

Prior to Saturday's meet Wilson and Lowry did a bit of figuring. They came up with some figures that had PHS down for 31 points, and they figured that would be enough to win. They based their hopes on a 1-2-3 high jump sweep, wins in the mile and half mile with a few scattered points in the shot, and broad jump.

That's just about the way it panned out.

Hudson Ray, little Alex Barge and Fred Brooks went 1-2-3 in the high jump, and that event proved to be the biggest factor in the "big win."

★ ★ ★

Northern was deprived of some very valuable points in the medley relay when it was disqualified for running out of its lane. Vikings had the event won, too.

Rain and cold effectively quelled any hopes of a record meet here. The track was soft and slowed times much below what had been expected. There wasn't a single new mark in any class.

Chiefs' three firsts were in the high jump where Ray won his 2nd straight MHSAA title to finish his PHS career with an unbeaten year; Roger Coats took the mile in fast time and Larry Beamer was victor in the 1st half mile run. Both these races were dillies.

Coats almost was nipped 10 yards from the tape by Berkley's Jerry Young. Rog moved out of the pack at the head of the stretch, but Young, who had been in front spurted and passed the slim Chief. Rog, however, had a lot of speed left, overhauled Young and beat him to the line by a scant 18 inches. Teammates swamped him with congratulatory hugs and pats. Coats turned a fast mile, 4:38.9.

NIPPED AT TAPE — The above excellent finish shot of the Class A mile at East Lansing, Saturday, shows Pontiac's Roger Coats snatching victory from Berkley's Jerry Young in the last step (note finish tape — arrow). Coats was one of three Chief winners hitting the fast time of 4:38.9 in the victory as PHS won its 3rd State Class A track title.

Same thing happened when Beamer, running his best race of the year, forged into the lead 100 yards from the line and fought off a challenge from Gary Robbins of Hazel Park. He hit 2:04, same time turned in by Bob Duke of Fordson in the 1st section. Mylie Rogers, Flint Central, nipped Barry Mabin of GR South at the tape when Barry looked back, on the wrong side.

Ray cleared 6-1. Barge 6 feet and Brooks 5-11. Ray's 3rd in the broad jump was under 20 feet, which he had been clearing easily all spring. Mike Hardiman's 4th in the shot was a 51 foot 6½ inch try, his best. Midland's Oscar Hahn won the event with a final put of 54 feet one-half inch.

Vikings fell down in the hurdles and dashes, usually their strong events.

Area schools figured in many events, with Jerry Myers of Berkley winning the highs, placing 2nd in the lows, and Young 2nd in the mile for 19 points for 4th place.

Birmingham's Bill McFarlen won the vault as expected, at 12-1. Maples' medley relay team was 2nd after Northern's disqualification, back of Lansing Sexton; Dick Boyd was 3rd in the 1st 880 run and had a 6-11th share of 4th place in the high jump to give Birmingham a 12 and 6-11th total.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Park had 3 6-11; Waterford and Royal Oak one each.

Walled Lake was 7th in Class B with 16; Cranbrook had 7, Lake Orion 6, Rochester 5, Lapeer 5, Northville 3, Holly 3, in the big field.

Only two firsts went to area "B" athletes. Fred Lavery of Cranbrook won the half mile and Frank Fink of Walled Lake won the pole vault, at 12 feet.

Coach Wilson was jubilant over the victory. "We're going to be pretty rough next year, too," he said this morning. "We will lose Ray, of course, at mid-year. Alex Barge will be gone, too, along with Archie Brooks and Tom Conley. But Beamer will be back and Fred Brooks should be the top man of another good high jump list."

Coats, Jim Hawkins and Keller also will be on hand again.

Maas Wins His 6th Straight, 6-1

Tigers Leapfrog Into 4th

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Jack Tighe's fears that his Detroit Tigers would get their comeuppance at Griffith Stadium after humbling the mighty New York Yankees proved unfounded yesterday.

"I know we have slipped in other years after beating the Yankees," Tighe said before yesterday's game with their favorite cousins the Washington Senators. "But I don't think we will this time."

★ ★ ★

They didn't.

Duke Maas won his sixth straight game 6-1 and leapfrogged the Tigers over Boston into fourth place in the American League standings. Boston's 6-2 defeat at the hands of the Chicago White Sox left the Red Sox one full game behind Detroit and 5½ games behind the pace.

It's the first time Detroit has been in such airy heights this season.

The last-place Senators nicked Maas for only five hits, and the only run he has given up in 18 innings on consecutive doubles by Herb Plews and Jim Lemon in the seventh inning.

Chuck Stobbs, who lost his 13th straight decision over a two-year period, lasted only two innings. When the veteran southpaw left, the Tigers had a 3-0 lead on Charley Maxwell's first-inning, two-run homer and a run-scoring double by Maas in the second.

Detroit ganged up on Russ Kemmerer for three more runs in the fifth before leting up against Evelio Hernandez and submariner Dick Hyde who finished.

Stobbs, whose teammates have provided him with a disheartening five runs in the last 74 innings he has pitched, gave up a single to Ray Boone in the Detroit first before Maxwell socked his fourth home run of the season over the right field fence. Maxwell later added two more singles in leading the Tiger nine-hit attack.

★ ★ ★

Reno Bertoia, who went hitless for the fourth time since he took over at third base April 20, was charged with his first error of the season on a low throw in the sixth inning. He had 26 games without a mistake.

Maas, who has one defeat this season, faced just 12 batters in the first four innings. He fanned six Nationals to regain the Tiger strike out lead at 36. He walked only one.

The Tigers, who have won four in a row and five out of six in their first Eastern road trip, face Washington with Frank Lary on the mound today. Pedro Ramos is scheduled to pitch for the Senators.

Cornell Crew East Champs

The Big Red Jayvees, unbeaten in their own outside competition, have spurred on the varsity sweepswingers all season. The all-senior first stringers, accustomed to stiff battles twice weekly with the jayvee aspirants, today were only two victories away from an all-winning season.

They beat Yale's fine boatload by one foot in a spectacular windup on Carnegie Lake Saturday for their second straight Eastern Sprint Rowing Championship. A year ago, Cornell nipped Yale—which went on to win the Olympic title—by about five feet in the sprints.

★ ★ ★

Victories over Pennsylvania in a duel regatta at Ithaca, N.Y., next Saturday and in the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. championships at Syracuse, N.Y., June 22, could earn Cornell a niche among college rowing's all-time greats. The Big Red is favored to win both.

Another One for Pancho

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Big Pancho Gonzales tacked another victory on his pro tour series with Ken Rosewall by downing the little Australian 6-4, 6-4 last night.

It gave Gonzales a 46-25 margin in the series.

50 Fire Away for PGA Spots

Michigan Allocated Five Berths as Tournament Starts at Lakepointe

DETROIT (AP) — Fifty professional golfers teed off today at Lakepointe Country Club in quest of the five spots allocated Michigan in the forthcoming PGA tournament at Dayton, Ohio.

John Barnum, veteran pro at Grand Rapids' Blythefield Country Club, turned in the best tuneup round in a continuous rain yesterday. He got a subpar 68.

Barnum and two Lakepointe members could do no better than second in the pro-amateur tournament that served as the tune-up round, despite his three-under 68—which matched their best ball.

Leo Bishop of Tecumseh, who shot a 72, and Robert Nedeau and Richard York captured the pro-am tournament with a 67.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills fired a 71, but his team ended up down the road in the pro-am scoring.

Wilkinson-Nolan Duo Wins Elks Keg Crown

The combination of W. Wilkinson and L. Nolan turned in a 1300 total on the final weekend of a three-week tournament to capture the Elks mixed doubles championship at the local lodge Sunday.

The top ten finishers were:

	Score
W. Wilkinson-L. Nolan	1300
A. Johnson-P. Deckard	1289
Hill-L. Henderstein	1264
R. Deary-M. Smot	1258

HIGH JUMP CHAMP — Above is Hudson Ray, 6-5, Pontiac senior high jumper who successfully defended his state jump title at East Lansing, Saturday with a 6-1 leap. Alex Barge was 2nd, Fred Brooks, 3rd in an unprecedented sweep of three top places, for a 15-point total. This event broke Flint Northern's hopes for a win. Pontiac won its 3rd title, with a 33-point count to 21 6/11 for Vikings.

3 Seriously Injured in Stock Car Race

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP) — The gala "Virginia 500" stock car race ended in near tragedy yesterday when a speeding race car leaped a retaining wall after a collision and plowed into a crowd of spectators.

Alvin Helsabeck, 8, a spectator was critically injured. Two other spectators were injured seriously and hospitalized. The race driver, Billy Myers, was not hurt.

Both Myers and the Helsabeck boy are from Germanton, N.C. The boy was the only one of the group of onlookers actually hit by the car. The others injured were hit by flying debris.

Myers was leading the $3,000 race, a highlight of the Virginia stock car race season, when he tried to lap a car driven by Tom Pistone of Chicago and the two collided.

Pistone quickly brought his car under control but Myers' car careened to the southern end of the grandstand, hurtled over and through a portion of the four-foot retaining wall, and toward the group of spectators in an area from which spectators were supposed to be barred.

The Helsabeck boy was struck in the head by the car as it leaped the wall, tearing down a 40-foot section of the wall as it went.

The car screeched about 75 feet beyond the wall, and rammed through a fence, before finally coming to a stop. It had not overturned and Myers stepped out with scarcely a scratch. About 15 onlookers had been felled by the flying metal and concrete fragments as they scattered in panic.

★ ★ ★

Five persons were taken to Martinsville General Hospital, including the Helsabeck lad, son of Clyde Helsabeck of Germanton. The boy later was carried to a Roanoke, Va., hospital for brain surgery. The only victims remaining in the Martinsville Hospital today were James F. Martin, 19, and Rylon Dalton, 29, both of Patrick Springs, Va., who suffered multiple lacerations.

★ ★ ★

The accident happened on the 440th lap of the 500-lap, 250-mile race before about 22,000 persons. Rain was falling. The race was halted immediately. Buck Baker of Charlotte, N.C., was declared the winner with Pistone second and Myers third.

Soo Team Wins 'B' Track Title in UP

HOUGHTON (AP) — Sault Ste. Marie captured four first places to successfully defend its Class B crown in the Upper Peninsula state high school track and field meet at Houghton over the weekend.

Favored Munising took the title away from Houghton in Class C with 48⅔ points. St. Ignace was runnerup with 34. Houghton, the defending champion and four-time winner, finished fifth.

TOP TEAM SCORES:

Class B: Sault Ste. Marie 41½, Calumet 25, Marquette 22½, Ishpeming 20½, Iron River 18¾.

Day I Remember Most

(This is one in a series of articles by Detroit Tiger players written especially for The Associated Press and the Press.)

By CHARLIE MAXWELL

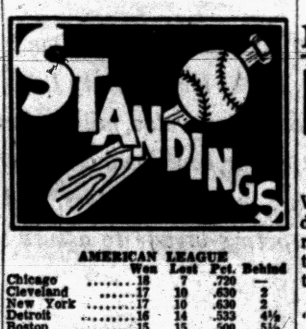

DETROIT (AP) — I have to go back to Aug. 1, 1951, for the beginning of my most memorable day in baseball.

I was with the Boston Red Sox at the time and we were playing the old St. Louis Browns at Fenway Park. We loaded the bases in the seventh inning and there were two men out. Old Satchel Paige was pitching for the Browns and I was told to go up and pinch hit.

He got a 3-2 count on me and then came in with that hesitation pitch — and I struck out.

The next day we had the same situation: Bases loaded, seventh inning, two out, Paige pitching — and once again I was up as a pinch hitter. Again the count went to 3-2 and again Satch came in with that hesitation pitch.

I was looking for it this time and I hit it out of the park into the centerfield bleachers. We won the game, 10-7.

Sachs Between O'Connor, Ruttman

Rookie Surrounded in '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Sachs, first rookie to start in the front row of the 500 - mile race lineup in seven years, will be sandwiched between Indianapolis Motor Speedway veterans Pat O'Connor and Troy Ruttman in the flying start May 30.

★ ★ ★

O'Connor won the pole position, inside of the front row, with a 10-mile qualifying run at 143.948 miles an hour Saturday. It took Sachs just 22-100 seconds longer than O'Connor for four laps around the 2½-mile track and he had a 143.822 average.

Ruttman, winner of the 1952 Memorial Day race, averaged 142.772 but rain may have cost him the pole. He turned one lap at 144.393 and was stopped by rain. He came back on the slower track after the rain ended and couldn't attain his earlier speed.

More rain fell yesterday and completely washed out the second scheduled qualifying session. With only nine cars qualified Saturday, 24 starting positions remain to be filled in the final trials next Saturday and Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Sachs, of Center Valley, Pa., established himself as a definite threat in the race by turning in Saturday's fastest single lap at 144.648 miles an hour.

Ruttman has a new car built by A. J. Watson, who created Indianapolis winners for Pat Flaherty last year and the late Bob Sweikert in 1955.

★ ★ ★

O'Connor, who led 38 laps in last year's Memorial Day race before his magneto failed, lives in North Vernon, Ind. He was Midwest sprint champion last year and won the Darlington 250-mile race. He has started three times in the "500."

The 6-foot-3 Ruttman, youngest winner of the "500" at 22, is an Oklahoman now living in Lynwood, Calif. He has started in the big race six times.

The Bowes racing team, which has had such noted drivers as the late Rex Mays and the 1931 winner, Louis Schneider, qualified two cars side by side in the second row. The drivers are veterans Fred Agabashian, Walnut Creek, Calif., who did 142.557, and Johnny Boyd, Fresno, Calif., 142.102. It will be Agabashian's 11th straight start.

★ ★ ★

Other Saturday qualifiers: Jimmy Reece, Indianapolis, 142.006; Ed Elisian, Oakland, Calif., 141.777; Al Keller, Greenacres, Fla., 141.498; and Elmer George, son-in-law of speedway owner Tony Hulman, 140.729.

New Putter Works Magic

Harrison Wins Snead Event

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — Dutch Harrison, 48, demonstrated yesterday in winning the Sam Snead Golf Festival that an old dog may learn a new trick as well as teach one.

He changed putters, took a "friendly lesson" and went out to shoot a 62 that was eight better than par for the Old White course and vaulted him into the $2,300 first prize.

★ ★ ★

The easy going Arkansan, who lumbers around like a bear, came from practically nowhere to win only his third tournament in the past three seasons. The two others were the same tournament here two years ago and the All-American at Chicago last year.

He started the last round eight strokes behind Paul Harney, 27, of Worcester, Mass. Harney rambled to a 72 to open the door for Harrison.

Harney couldn't "buy" a birdie putt before the 16th hole when he already was four over par. Harrison's new putter brought him nine birdies and only one bogey due to a shot hitting a tree on the sixth hole.

Snead, for whom the 10-year-old tournament was renamed in honor of his 20th year as local pro, made a great but futile bid to win it for the fourth time. He needed a 64 to tie Harrison and fell shy by two shots to wind up tied as the runner-up with Harney.

★ ★ ★

Snead wasn't far off the beam, hitting par on 14 holes while going under four times.

★ ★ ★

Harrison's final total of 266 was achieved the hard way, starting with a 71 and followed by 65-68 before his final 18 which was only one over the competitive course record. It was three strokes under his winning score of 269 in 1955.

Maple Golfers in Third Spot

Only one of a half dozen area prep golf squads competing in Saturday's state championships at Midland CC landed in the top three.

Birmingham, coached by a new mentor this year in football coach Carl Lemle, came through with a 334 for 3rd place in Class A. Ann Arbor, with 326 was the winner, edging Jackson by five strokes.

Grand Rapids CC's Herman Miller was medalist with 37-36—73, followed by Jackson's C. A. Smith with 74. Gene McAllister of Mt. Pleasant was "B" medalist with 74 Jim Lafore and Mike Hill (Jackson) tied at 79 in C-D.

Other divisional winners included:

Class B—Mt. Pleasant 315, Kalamazoo State 324; East Grand Rapids 326.

Class C-D—Jackson St. Mary's 342; Whitehall 363; Jackson St. John's 371.

Pontiac St. Michael was among the Class C teams, while Walled Lake and Milford were in Class B.

Maples' cards—Mike Conroy 78, Pete Green 81, Pete Jackson 83, Tom McDaniel 92.

Iron Liege Loss Is 4th to "Ruler"

BALTIMORE (AP) — The answers to many riddles were at hand today as a result of Bold Ruler's victory Saturday in the Preakness, but the question of outright superiority among horse racing's 3-year-olds remained unsolved.

The answer to that one may not be certain even after the June 15 Belmont Stakes, but it should certainly be less fuzzy.

Including the Wheatley Stable star who ran off with the $65,250 winner's slice of the $113,800 Preakness pie, the field for the New York race figures to be the strongest of any in the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown series.

If Iron Liege isn't enough, Calumet may also send out Barbizon, winner of the preposterously rich Garden State last summer and the 2-year-old champion of 1956. The son of Polynesian-Good Blood passed up the derby, Preakness and earlier big races because of a cough but is back in training.

Gen. Duke, rated by trainer Jimmy Jones and jockey Willie Hartack as Calumet's best, is still questionable for the Belmont because of the hoof injury which forced him out of the Derby and Preakness.

But others being pointed for the Belmont are D.&M. Stables's Inside Tract, the 54-to-1 shot which finished a surprising third in the Preakness, and Ralph Lowe's Gallant Man, who lost the Derby to Iron Liege by a nose in the now-famous finish misjudgment by jockey Willie Shoemaker.

Both are strong finishers and should feel at home in the Belmont distance of a mile and a half, compared with the mile-and-quarter Derby and mile-and-three-sixteenths Preakness.

Gallant Man, aptly named but considered too fragile for two hard races within a fortnight, passed up the Preakness after his brilliant stretch run in the May 4 Derby.

Inside Tract was at old Pimlico for the Preakness, though, and he and jockey Eldon Nelson nearly stole the show from the Eddie Arcaro-Bold Ruler and Hartack-Iron Liege acts.

Winning U.S. Net Team Takes On Venezuela Next

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U. S. Davis Cup team, over its first hurdle en route to challenging Australia for the coveted mug again, today began pointing to its tie with Venezuela this weekend.

Led by veteran Vic Seixas, who is acting captain in the absence of Billy Talbert, the Yanks polished off the British West Indies, 5-0, the past weekend in the first round.

Venezuela already had qualified by turning back Cuba. The United States-Venezuala tie will be held in Caracas.

Acker Gains 2 Wins in Relief for Reds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tom Acker, a jumbo sized right-hander with the build of a weight lifter, is the man of iron who wields Cincinnati's ordinary pitching staff into a league-leading club.

The 6-4, 215-pound pitcher won two games in relief Sunday as the Redlegs opened up a two-game lead on Milwaukee in the National League. Supplanting Hersh Freeman as the ace in Manager Birdie Tebbetts' bullpen, Acker now owns a 6-1 won-lost record as compared to a 4-3 mark for the complete 1956 season.

As usual, Acker had the solid support of those muscle men who have won 17 of their last 19 and 21 out of 26 since losing their first four games of the year.

George Crowe came through with four hits in the opener, his fourth being a single in the ninth that won the game 8-7 after Pittsburgh had tied it up with five in the ninth. Wally Post's eighth-inning homer won the second game for Acker 5-4 after a home run by Smoky Burgess and a pinch homer by Bob Thurman—his third—helped overcome an early Pirate lead.

Acker acquired his two victories with a minimum of effort. He took over for Brooks Lawrence in the opener after the Pirates had put together three singles, a double and Bill Virdon's homer to tie the score at 7-7. Acker nailed down the final out with a strikeout and was returned the winner when Crowe drove in his fourth run of the game.

In the second game, Acker was the fifth Cincy pitcher. He worked two innings, yielding one unearned run and grabbed the victory on Post's homer.

Ray Katt came through with a single in the ninth with the bases loaded to drive in two runs for New York's 6-3 victory over Milwaukee. Katt's third hit of the game gave Johnny Antonelli the decision over Red Murff, both working on relief.

Don Newcombe, unbeaten by St. Louis since Aug. 23, 1951, made it 10 in a row over the Cardinals 10-3 with the aid of a seven-run Brooklyn Dodger attack in the ninth. Carl Furillo drove in four runs, including the tie-breaking pair in the ninth. The Philadelphia at Chicago doubleheader was rained out.

Michigan Nine Regains Lead

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan again is heading the pack in the Big Ten baseball championship chase.

The Wolverines litterally were pitched back atop the standings Saturday by Iowa pitcher Don Dobrino. Bruce Fox opened the 10th inning with a double for Michigan, then Dobrino walked the next three batters to force in the winning run. The score was 9-8.

A scheduled second game was washed out by rain.

Michigan bounded into the league lead with a 7-3 record and knocked Iowa into a tie with 5-3. Northwestern is second with a 4-2 mark.

Michigan's capt. Ken Tippery, who plays second base, paced the Wolverine attack on Iowa, driving in six runs with two home runs, a double and a single.

Memorial Award to Honor Len Eshmont

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A memorial award honoring the late Len Eshmont, former San Francisco 49er football star, was announced by the professional football club today.

The award annually will go to the 49er voted by his teammates as giving "the most inspirational performance" during the season.

Wolves and Milford in 1st Place Battle

A game that could determine the northern division champion in the Wayne-Oakland League was on tap at Clarkston today weather permitting as the Wolves were slated to play host to strong Milford. Both are 6-2 in loop play.

Clarkston has a five-game winning streak and an 8-3 overall record. The CHS nine had a tuneup for the "crucial" contest with a 4-0 triumph at Ortonville Friday night as sophomore Jerry Wilmot flipped a five-hitter and batted in a run. Bill Noles batted across two others.

Doby Runs Hit Streak to Ten to Beat Bosox

Yankees Dump Indians as Both Teams Tie for Second Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larry Doby ran his hitting streak to 10 games, helping the Chicago White Sox widen their American League lead to two games over Cleveland and New York, tied for second, Bill Fischer, making his first start, won his second major league game with help from Paul LaPalme, topping Boston 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Mickey Mantle's seventh home run featured an 11-hit New York Yankee attack in a 6-3 decision over Cleveland for Bobby Shantz, 31. The left hander who was supposed to be only bullpen insurance when he was acquired from Kansas City, tamed the Indians until the ninth.

Johnny Kucks, making his first relief appearance, put down the threat. Vic Wertz with a homer and Rocky Colavito with a homer among his four hits were Shantz' chief tormentors.

Tito Francona slammed two homers and George Kell hit one in Baltimore's 10-2 romp over Kansas City. Their second game was called on account of rain after 5⅓ innings of a scoreless battle between Hector Brown of the Orioles and Rip Coleman of the A's.

★ ★ ★

Doby drove in two runs with a double and a 415-foot homer to keep his streak alive. In the last 10 Chicago games, the centerfielder has averaged .368 with 14 hits including four doubles, four homers and 11 runs batted in. Although his season average is .292 his 23 runs batted in put him second in the league.

LaPalme preserved Fischer's victory by holding Boston hitless for 2 1-3 innings. Ted Williams had two hits and leads the league at .394.

Shantz already has passed his total victories for last season with a 3-1 record for the Yanks after his decision over the Indians.

Francona, who had been sent back to the minors at Vancouver earlier in the season, now has hit four home runs in the last four days. Billy Loes went all the way for the Orioles in the first game although touched up for 10 hits, beating Tom Morgan.

St. Michael Sports Bust Tuesday Night

St. Micheal High School will honor its athletes and cheerleaders Tuesday night at the annual spring all-sports banquet in the St. Mike parish hall.

The Griffin Memorial trophies, donated annually by Miss Rose Griffin in memory of her brother Steve, will be awarded to the senior boy and girl named St. Mike's "most valuable" athletes. Last year's winners were John Keller and Margaret Bateman.

Wally Fromhart, head football coach at the University of Detroit, and a member of the Detroit Red Wings are guest speakers. Films of the 1957 Stanley Cup playoffs will be shown.

Hanson and Hagge Asheville Favorites

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The $7,500 Land of the Sky Women's Open opens Thursday with 24 on the nation's top women golf pros entered. The 72-hole tournament ends Sunday.

The tournament on the 6,200-yard Country Club of Asheville course is the first pro tournament here since before World War II.

Established as early favorites are tall Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., and Marlene Bauer Hagge, who led the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. in winnings last year with $20,235.

Coaches' Membership Unlikely

Prep Council Meets

DEARBORN (AP) — Employment of a commissioner to supervise officiating and to teach it was recommended to the Michigan High School Athletic Assn. by the State High School Coaches Assn. last night.

In addition, the coaches' association made these recommendations to the athletic group's opening session of a three-day meeting:

1. Divide the state into 18 districts paralleling those of the Michigan Education Assn., with each district to name its outstanding authority on officiating and all 18 agreeing on officiating mechanics so as to standardize calls throughout the state.

2. That the maximum number of basketball games be raised from 15 to 16 for each season.

Paul Smarks, president of the coaches' association, said it was proposed that after the 18 district representatives agreed on officiating mechanics, how they'd call certain fouls under certain circumstances, that clinics be called in the various districts for all their officials.

Smarks said some other states had a commissioner for high school athletics similar to that proposed by the coaches. He also reported that the officials' council of Michigan favored standardization of officiating.

The Athletic Association's powerful 13-member representative council indicated to the coaches it didn't intend to consider their plea for membership on that governing board of athletics.

Smarks, it was learned, argued, "it would just make sense for the fellows who are going to have to live under the laws to have something to say about how they are written and enforced."

Council members advised Smarks it would "always welcome" the views of coaches, but none indicated favoring coach membership.

Director Charles Forsythe of the Athletic Association predicted it would adopt a 1957-58 budget of approximately $95,000 before adjourning Tuesday. The 1956-57 budget was $84,300.

★ ★ ★

Another thorny problem facing the association is that of high school classification, and Forsythe said "the situation has reached the stage where we must take some definite action."

The representative council froze the list of Class A schools last year at the 1955-56 level.

There has been a 37,000-pupil increase in the state's high schools in the last two years, and Forsythe says it likely will continue to increase at about the same rate for the next two years.

If the number of Class A schools is increased to 64 outstate, then district basketball tournaments will be necessary. There were 61 schools competing in regional tournaments last year.

Rain Spoils Baseball Debut

"Rain, rain, go away, come again some other day."

Those wishful words must have been chanted over and over again Sunday by City League baseball and softball players and managers.

The water fell, drenching everything in sight, while the teams waited for a dry spell and maybe a little sunshine that never came.

Yesterday's near-steady drizzle ruined plans for the opening of the 1957 City League baseball season at Wisner Field.

Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson and John Abel, president of the Pontiac Baseball Federation, were ready to form the 1st battery to officially open the new season.

Pitcher Donaldson was going to throw the 1st ball to catcher Abel, then a doubleheader was scheduled to get the campaign rolling. You know the rest.

★ ★ ★

The weekend downpour also washed out four City League softball games last night at Beaudette and North Side parks in addition to postponing the finals of the City Marbles Tournament Saturday at Wisner. Saturday's junior baseball spring training program was cancelled for the 2nd straight week.

City League baseball will now officially begin Tuesday at Wisner Field when Thomas Die & Stamping tangles with the Michigan Giants. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

Four softball games are carded tonight. Stadium Inn meets Shaw's Jewelers at 7 o'clock and Birmingham faces Elks No. 810 at 8:30, both at Beaudette. Over at North Side, Eddie's Bar plays Drive-In Cleaners at 7, followed by the Pontiac Select-A-Drink-Oxbow Pavilion game at 8:30.

The marble tourney finals will be held this Saturday on the Wisner diamond and the spring training program will try again on the same day.

Crane Netmen Win 'B' Title

Birmingham Battles Mt. Clemens in 'A' Finals Today

Cranbrook had the Class B championship clinched and Birmingham was still in contention for 'A' honors as the rain-delayed regional finals were scheduled for the Cranbrook courts.

Crane Bob Klein whipped Orville Robinson of Fitzgerald 6-2, 6-1 to take the Class B singles crown Saturday, while the host team's doubles unts of Pete King-Barry Smith and Ozzie Jacobsen-Bruce McCaull are the finalists in that department giving Cranbrook a certain tourney sweep.

Cranbrook has 22½ points, Fitzgerald 8!, Northville and St. Stephen 3¼ each, St. Clair 2½, Lakeview 2¼, and Oak Park 2.

Mt. Clemens heads Birmingham by three-fourths of a point going into the doubles finals, 9½ to 8¾. Bob Hader of the leaders, who eliminated Pontiac ace Harry Von Matre, tok the singles crown by blanking Maple Bill Wiggins Saturday. Today's 'A' doubles will match Birmingham's Tom Watson and Jeff Crawford against Ken Grimes and Ed Brice of Mt. Clemens.

Final totals posted in Class A were Royal Oak 8, Berkley 7, East Detroit 5¼, Pontiac 3, Port Huron 2 and Southfield 1¾.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Ava Appears to Possess Everything but Happiness

First of two articles on Ava Gardner

By BOB THOMAS

MEXICO CITY (AP)—You come away from a talk with Ava Gardner with the impression of a woman who has gotten everything out of life but happiness.

★ ★ ★

There can be no doubt that Ava has lived. She pursues the high life strenuously. Yet it appears she would chuck the works if she could find happiness with one man.

She said something significant about her career, which might be applied to her own life:

"I've always been cast as the femme fatale. That isn't me at all. What I'd really like to do is a love story."

Ava's own love life has been a tragedy. She first married Mickey Rooney, who took a studio press agent along on their honeymoon. Next came Artie Shaw, who honeymooned with Ava and a stack of books.

★ ★ ★

Her furious life with Frank Sinatra has been chronicled in millions of printed words. She marveled that it has been five years since they were married. They have been separated half that time.

Ava's latest interest is Walter Chiari, a charming Italian actor who is visiting her now. She said he is "great fun" but she doesn't plan to marry him. But then no one can tell what Ava is going to do, not even Ava.

Here are some other impressions I got from the Carolina beauty during a long chat on "The Sun Also Rises" set:

The scandalmongers don't bother her. "I try not to read the nasty stories, but there are always some so-called friends who send them to me.

"I'd have to be eight different women to do all the things attributed to me in the scandal magazines. Sue? I'd need a platoon of lawyers. Why bother? It would just stir up more trouble.

"One story did me more good than harm. I got a flood of mail from nice people — not the usual ones who ask for pictures — who defended me. The reaction was very touching."

She is very thin. "That's always been a problem with me. I eat like a pig, but I don't put on weight."

She smokes incessantly. "I could give up drinking, but never smoking. It's not only a nervous habit, as it is with most people; I enjoy it thoroughly.

She hates Hollywood.

She loves Spain.

She still is exceptionally beautiful.

Man Pleads Innocent to Drunk Driving Charge

James E. Hartwick, 26, of 160 Mohawk St., pleaded innocent Saturday when he was accused of drunk driving when his car was involved in an accident with a car driven by a Pontiac priest Friday afternoon.

Hartwick was freed by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum on $200 bond until trial May 23.

Pontiac police report the Reverend August W. Immel, 30, of 140 Beach St., and priest at St. Michael's Catholic Church, was driving east on Johnson when Hartwick allegedly made an improper left turn and struck the front of Father Immel's auto which was waiting for a traffic light. Hartwick was driving west on Johnson avenue.

Don't Get Angry if Hubby Huddles With a Blonde

PITTSBURGH (AP)—If you're the wife of a successful executive and he sometimes gets friendly with a blonde, don't worry about it.

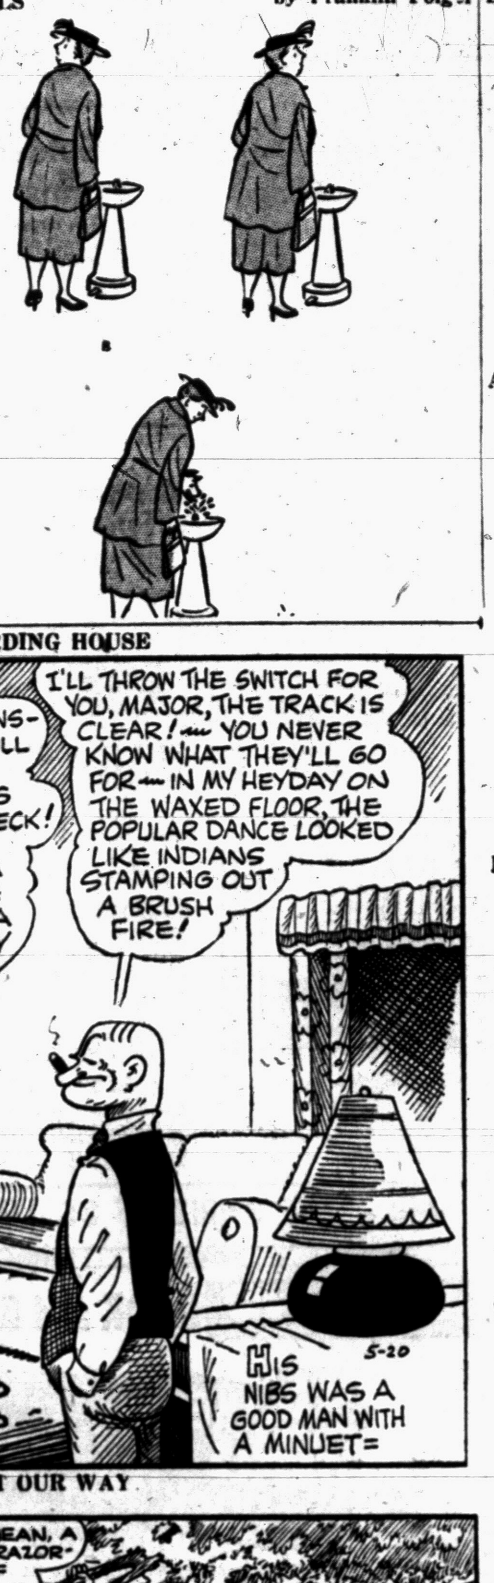

Wives of successful executives have to be tolerant these days or they won't be successful mates, says Dr. Robert J. Agnew, associate professor of industry at the University of Pittsburgh.

A group of 38 executives' wives learned that, and a lot more, at a lecture forum. A few chuckled when Dr. Agnew said:

"If your husband goes to a cocktail party and gets cozy with a blonde, it isn't because he's a wolf at heart but because he is trying to get recognition."

The lecture was part of Dr. Agnew's regular course in management problems. He urged wives to provide a calming atmosphere at home and not try to "keep up with the Joneses."

Selling Lowers Crop Wheat

CHICAGO (AP) — New crop wheat futures started firm on the board of trade today and then dipped somewhat under pressure of profit taking and selling in the May contract.

★ ★ ★

New crop wheat and corn futures were bought because of continued rainfall, and forecasts for more, in the growing areas. Corn showed gains of a cent at times.

Soybeans started somewhat weak and then advanced, influenced somewhat by commission house buying in the May delivery.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ½ higher to ¼ lower, May $2.18 ½, new style wheat was ¼ to ½ higher, July $2.09¾, corn was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, May $1.30⅜; oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May 69, rye was unchanged to ¾ lower, May $1.18½, soy beans were ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, May $2.37¾ and lard was 2 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.62.

Earnings

BURBANK, Calif. (INS) — The characters may be fantasy but the profits are real for Walt Disney Productions. Stockholders were advised today that gross revenue for the six months ended March 30 reached $16,457,000, a gain of about three million dollars over the same period a year earlier. Net profit amounted to $1,322,391, or $1.03, compared with $1,418,854, or $1.09 per share on a smaller number of shares outstanding the previous year.

NEW YORK (INS) — Pan American World Airways reported today it achieved record gross revenue, but lost money in the first quarter of 1957. Revenue was up about $7,000,000 to $66,786,000 but increased expenses brought a net loss of $1,494,000 as against a profit of $2,700,000, or 43 cents a share, in the same period of 1956.

Dividends

NEW YORK (AP) — ACF-Wrigley Stores, Inc., has declared a quarterly dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock, payable June 28 to stockholders of record June 3.

Directors stated this is intended to initiate a policy of regular quarterly dividends of 10 cents a share. They also voted a two per cent stock dividend, payable June 28 to stockholders of record June 3.

NOTICE OF SALE

Sealed bids for the purchase of School District Bonds to be issued by the School District of the City of Pontiac, Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $2,700,000 will be received by the undersigned, at the Board of Education offices, No. 40 Patterson St. in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, until 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on Monday, the 27th day of May, 1957, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated May 1, 1957 will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each or in larger denomination at the option of the original purchaser, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum, payable on November 1, 1957 and thereafter semi-annually on May 1 and November 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially on the first day of November in each year as follows: $300,000 in the year 1958, $500,000 in each of the years 1959 and 1960, and $700,000 in each of the years 1961 and 1962. None of said bonds are subject to redemption prior to maturity.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and equipping new school buildings and additions to existing school buildings and acquiring sites and additions to sites, in said school district, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein, such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, subject to such limitations upon the said taxing power as may result from the provisions of Section 21 of Article X of the Michigan Constitution and the Michigan Property Tax Limitation Act.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from June 1, 1957 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $54,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Berry, Stevens & Moorman, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds".

Scott Maps Defense to Murder Charge

LOS ANGELES (INS) — L. Ewing Scott mapped plans today to fight charges of murder, grand theft and forgery growing out of the disappearance of his wealthy wife, Evelyn Throsby Scott.

Scott was returned to Los Angeles from Detroit Saturday. Yesterday he held a long conference with his new attorney, P. Basil Lambros.

Scott said he also plans to have attorney Gabriel Cohn, who represented him in Detroit, to come to Los Angeles to join in his defense.

The 61-year-old Scott, dressed in faded blue jail denims, said after his five-hour conference with Lambros:

"I feel that with a new district attorney here, justice is beginning to rise again in this country."

Stock Market Plugs Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market plugged further ahead into new high ground for 1957 today. Trading was active early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Pivotal issues advance from fractions to around a point. No particular leadership was shown by any division of the list.

The high-speed ticker tape fell behind for nine minutes at the start as it failed to keep pace with the weekend accumulation of orders.

A few stocks responded to corporate news or expectations with wider gains than the average. But there was no outstanding news to focus attention on shares of any particular industry.

★ ★ ★

Financial observers said that failure of the rail average to match the advance of the industrials in the march to new highs has robbed the rise of an important element of conviction. Meanwhile, leading carriers were mixed today.

Two to Be Charged With Mower Thefts

Warrants accusing two employes of a local store of stealing at least 12 uncrated power lawnmowers from the store were to be sought today by Pontiac Police.

Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said one of the two men arrested Friday afternoon had already admitted he and the other employe had stolen the mowers and sold them for half price. The mowers cost approximately $135 each retail according to Wheaton.

Arrested were Ronald E. Runyon, 17, of 796 Crittendon St., a delivery boy for Waite's and Dale Smith, 21, of 2449 Pauline St., Drayton Plains, who worked in the store's warehouse.

Three-Year-Old Injured in Highway Accident

A three-year-old Lake Orion boy was injured Saturday afternoon when he was involved in an accident on M24 at Clarkston road in Orion Township.

The child, Michael J. Denis, was injured when his mother, Mrs. Margaret M. Denis, 25, of 850 Mt. Vernon St., drove into the intersection and was struck by a car driven by Herbert Martin, 35, of 19804 Monte Vista St., Detroit, police reports said.

A third car driven by William G. Hatfield, also of Detroit, hit Martin's car. The boy was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

'Confidential' Witness Tries to Kill Herself

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Francesca De Scaffa, the Latin actress under indictment on charges of gathering scandal material for Confidential magazine, was reported improved today after two suicide attempts.

The beautiful 27-year-old woman was reported to have made the two attempts on her life Saturday night within two hours of each other.

★ ★ ★

Her husband, Mexican bullfighter, Jaime Bravo, was credited with saving her life on both occasions.

He reported to Red Cross officials that his wife had taken an overdose of sleeping pills. Doctors came to the Bravo home in an exclusive residential section of Mexico City and treated her there.

Two hours after they left, Bravo rushed her to a hospital for treatment of severed wrists. She had cut the veins on both wrists with a razor blade.

Alert Couple Aid in Capture

License Plate Number Leads to Man's Arrest in Beating of Two

Alertness and quick action of a Pontiac couple, Mr. and Mrs. George Sleppy, of 244 Rundell St., resulted in the capture of one of five men who allegedly beat up two men early Saturday morning.

Pontiac police intend to obtain a warrant today for assault to do great bodily harm against Marlin Joseph Doran Jr., 21, of 16 Euclid St., according to Inspector Clark M. Wheaton.

Doran was picked up after police wired Lansing for the owner of a license plate number Mrs. Sheppy had identified as the auto which drove off after several men dragged one of the injured men from the auto to the curb near her home. Her husband then called the police.

One victim, Darwin Butler, of 882 Emerson St., received several fractured ribs and severe bruises. His friend Frank Grier, of 1028 Arlene St., has a broken left arm and left leg. Both are in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

The men told police they were followed out of a local bar and attacked by five unidentified men with a pool cue and an iron bar after a fracas resulting when one of the victims was refused drinks by the bartender.

Doran was awakened and arrested at his grandfather's home about 4 a.m. Saturday after police found the auto parked in front of the house.

An iron pump handle was found in Doran's auto.

The search is continuing for the four other unidentifed men.

Pontiac Area Woman Hurt in Car Accident

Joan A. Jones, 21, of 4112 Elmhurst St., was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early this morning for injuries received in an accident.

She reportedly lost control of her car on wet pavement when the brakes pulled sharply to the left while going east on South Blvd. near Coolidge road in Avon Township.

Her car rolled over into a ditch. She was treated for cuts and bruises and minor chest injuries.

Senate Recalls CAB Official

Witness Denied Leaking Word of Agency Award of Major Air Route

WASHINGTON (AP) — Raymond Sawyer, a Civil Aeronautics Board official who has sworn he did not leak word of a major air route award, was recalled by Senate investigators today.

★ ★ ★

Also summoned for further questioning was Laurance Henderson, Washington representative of an airplane firm, who has named Sawyer as the possible source of information he received about the award.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee said that, with today's hearing, it hopes to conclude its inquiry into how outsiders learned of the CAB's decision to let Northeast Airlines fly the lucrative New York-Miami run.

★ ★ ★

The board's 3-2 decision was made the night of Aug. 2 last year, but was not announced officially until Aug. 10. However, the price of Northeast stock jumped on Aug. 3 in a sudden burst of trading.

The subcommittee said that, in addition to Sawyer and Henderson, a witness at today's hearing would be Milton Shapiro, a Concord, N. H., real estate man who had bought Northeast stock on Aug. 3 shortly after the market opened.

★ ★ ★

James R. Durfee, the CAB chairman, also has been called to testify about the problem of leaks in general and any corrective legislation. A committee aide said Durfee has no specific information about the Northeast case.

Sawyer, now associate director of the CAB's Bureau of Air Operations, was executive director of the board at the time of its decision in the case.

★ ★ ★

Shapiro is expected to be questioned not only about his own purchase of Northeast stock on Aug. 3 but also about whether he suggested similar purchases by three aides of Sen. Bridges (R-NH).

Business Notes

Painter and advertising artist, George Kossman, has been named assistant art director on the Pontiac account of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., Bloomfield Hills advertising agency. Kossman has been employed by the BBDO and Leo Burnett agencies.

Max B. Morden of Birmingham has been named vice president in charge of sales for Commercial Contracting Corp. Morden, who has been sales manager at Commercial, started with the company as a sales representative.

The Detroit firm, specialists in installation of heavy industrial equipment in the metal working field, is currently "mothballing" machinery used to produce parts for Army trucks at General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Can You Read Market Page? Here Are the Fundamentals

NEW YORK (AP)— How do you read the stock market pages of your daily newspaper?

Taking it from the ground up, here are a few fundamentals.

This is intended as a primer for beginners—not as a collection of tips of experienced investors.

Amazing as it may seem, some people with money to invest don't even know what a stock market is. Widows who suddenly find themselves responsible for a family's life savings have been known to write to the New York Stock Exchange asking about "a nice cheap stock to buy, something that will go up."

Well, stock exchanges just don't work that way. They are not in the business of selling stocks. They just provide a market place for others to buy and sell at auction.

MUST BE MEMBER

To deal in stocks on an exchange you have to be a member. Memberships in the New York Stock Exchange sold last year at prices ranging from $75,000 to $113,000. There were 1,366 individual memberships and 651 member firms.

Membership entitles you to buy and sell securities in the exchange. If you are not a member, you must buy through someone who is. He gets a commission for the purchase or sale, just as any broker does in real estate or other fields. The amount of commission earned depends on the amount of stock you buy or sell and its value. These commission rates are published; so you can figure out in advance how much it will cost you in commission to deal in stocks.

The most recent survey showed that there are 8,630,000 people who own shares in publicly-held corporations. So, when the stock market is lively, the stock brokerage business can be very profitable on the basis of commissions earned.

CARRIES LIST

The telephone company redbook usually carries a list of stock brokerage firms under the title "investment." Not only will reputable investment firms fulfill your orders for the purchase and sale of stock but they'll also give you reliable information on whatever stocks interest you.

Now—about that stock market page.

The mass of small type, filled with abbreviations, digits and fractions looks incomprehensible to beginners. Actually, it's just a compact method of conveying information in simple terms.

Take a sample stock market page from a big city newspaper—other newspapers handle it similarly but some omit certain items to save space.

At the top of the page there are column titles as follows:

1957 High | Low | Stocks | Div. | Sales In 100s | Net Chg. | Open | High | Low | Last

The names of the companies whose stock is listed are shortened to save space. United States Steel Corporation, the world's biggest steel maker, is carried "US Steel."

The line devoted to U. S. Steel gives the main facts of what happened to that stock on a given day and its record for the year to date.

She'll Live; Husband Dies Instantly

Woman Lies 36 Hours in Tangled Auto Wreckage

OROVILLE, Calif. (INS) — A woman, rescued from a wrecked auto in which she lay trapped for more than 36 hours beside her lifeless husband, clung to life today at Oroville-Curran Hospital while attending physicians marveled that she survived the ordeal.

Mrs. Elsa Alice Deamicis, 36, of Sacramento, Calif., through torn lips, was able to tell the doctors only that the car in which she and her husband were riding skidded off the highway 33 miles east of Oroville about 10 p.m. last Friday.

The car was found at the base of a 200-foot embankment with its front end in the waters of the Feather River.

Her husband, Tony, 53, apparently met death immediately, highway patrol officers said, since his head was almost severed from his body in the plunge down the embankment.

It was not until Sunday at 10 a.m. that a rescue party of sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen was able to reach the wreckage.

A passing motorist had spotted the wreckage and informed highway patrolmen.

The rescuers had to use crowbars to force open the doors of the smashed car in order to remove Mrs. Damicis and the body of her husband.

★ ★ ★

Then using stretchers and ropes they toiled up the canyon wall with the woman.

At Oroville - Curran Hospital, physicians said Mrs. Damicis would live despite her injuries.

She was suffering from shock, exposure, dehydration, facial cuts, a dislocated right elbow and internal injuries.

★ ★ ★

Her lower lip was so badly torn, apparently by flying glass

Zoli Government Called Shaky

Italy's Political Experts Expect Short Future for New Cabinet

ROME (INS) — Many political experts voiced the opinion today that the newly-formed Italian government will not remain in office long.

★ ★ ★

The new cabinet composed entirely of Christian Democrats, was presented yesterday by Senator Adone Zoli, who named himself as premier and minister of the budget.

★ ★ ★

Parliament is not expected to vote for about a week on whether to approve the government. But even if he receives parliamentary blessing, Zoli is expected to have rough sledding ahead in governing Italy effectively.

The Christian Democrats are the largest party in the chamber of deputies and the senate, but they do not have a majority.

Therefore, Zoli's cabinet would be backed on all issues only by a minority of parliament. To survive, he would have to make concessions either to the left or right.

★ ★ ★

In Zoli's 20-member cabinet presented to President Giovanni Gronchi are many who were in the government of Antoni Segni. Segni and his cabinet resigned 13 days ago.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES D. KEOPPEN

Clawson Rite Performed

MADISON HEIGHTS — At an 8 p.m. ceremony held recently in the Church of Christ, Clawson, Doris Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogel of 30435 Alger St., here, became the bride of Charles D. Keoppen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Keoppen of 440 N. Shore Dr., Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Officiating was Rev. Will Warren, with about 150 present. The bride, given away by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white net and lace with a net bustle in back. The crown headpiece was of irridescent sequins securing a fingertip veil. She carried a white lace covered bible with a white orchid, carnations and streamers.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Donald Caldwell, sister of the bride, from Ohio with Barbara Keoppen, sister of the bridegroom, as bridesmaid. Best man was Neil F. Keoppen, brother of the bridegroom assisted by William Gilbert of Birmingham and Donald Caldwell of Ohio as ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride after which the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

The bridegroom is stationed in Norfolk, Va. with the U. S. Navy. The new Mrs. Keoppen will join him there in the near future.

District May Annex

METAMORA — Voters of the Brownell school district No. 6, Metamora Township, will decide May 25th whether to annex to the Lapeer Public Schools. Balloting will be at the schoolhouse between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Only one ballot will be used.

Rescuer Drowns in Lake Erie Search

MONROE (INS) — A Trenton rescue worker drowned last night in wind-lashed Lake Erie while aiding in a search for three fishermen missing n the rough waters.

The victim was listed as 33-year-old Eddie Lewis who was with four members of the Coast Guard Auxiliary from Wyandotte.

★ ★ ★

The air and water search resumed at dawn today for the missing men whose two capsized boats were found early yesterday about 10 miles north of Monroe.

Lewis' motorboat became disabled and drifted onto an island about 100 feet from the mainland. Members of his party said he tried to swin to shore to get help and was not seen again.

Captains Made Chiefs at Madison Heights

MADISON HEIGHTS — Captains Robert Richardson of the Police Department and Joseph Sloan of the Fire Department here have been elevated to chiefs of their respective departments.

The promotions were made by the City Council after Edwin Morgan, director of public safety who headed both departments, resigned last week.

Canine Actors Are Cashing In

Several Video Shows Give Starring Roles to Talented Pooches

By JACK LEFLER

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some dogs are making more money than people.

★ ★ ★

The four-foted actors have found a fertile field for their talents in the TV quickies and are cashing in on it to the tune of considerably more than dog biscuits.

A couple of the top canine stars — Rin Tin Tin and Lassie — have their own shows and drag down princely salaries plus a cut of the profits.

And a whole kennel-full of shaggy, long-eared thespians are working regularly as co-stars and in supporting roles.

Rin Tin Tin, a fourth generation actor, is earning $3,000 a week. The 75-pound German shepherd has appeared in 78 TV films and has just put his paw to a contract for another 39, according to owner Lee Duncan.

RICH AND FAMOUS

The beautiful collie Lassie, who actually is Lassie Jr., has become rich and famous in TV as his father did before him in movies. Both had to be female impersonators to carry out their role.

★ ★ ★

Owner and trainer Rudd Weatherwax says Lassie Sr., earned $300,000 in the movies before retiring, and that Lassie Jr. signed a two-million-dollar television deal in 1954.

Like a lot of cowboy actors, Lassie Jr. now has a sidekick in his television episodes. The new actor is Pokey, a basset hound who supplies the comedy.

A dog that seems to have more fun out of his work than any other is Bullet, appearing with cowboy star Roy Rogers. Bullet also comes from an acting family. His grandfather as the movie star, Lightning.

Another descendant of canine thespians is Daisy, the bouncing little dog of the Blondie TV series. Trainer Rennie Renfro bred the first Daisy especially for the Blondie movies in 1938. The dog was a mixture of terrier, Schnauzer, pekingese and toy bulldog.

Daisy I and Daisy II made 38 movies at Columbia studio. Seven-year-old Daisy III is in the television films. The pups appearing with here — Elmer, Lucy, Punkin', Mickey and Boots — are descendants of various Daisies.

★ ★ ★

Among other dogs appearing regularly in TV shows are the powerful Arctic, malemute, Yukon King, of the Sergeant Preston of the Yukon series; Cleo, the lugubrious long-eared supposedly talking dog of the People's Choice show, and Neal, the amiable St. Bernard who has had a long run as the ghostly martini-drinking dog of the Topper series.

JUNIOR EDITORS — ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: Does an ostrich bury its head?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In ancient times people believed that an ostrich buried its head in the sand when frightened. This, however, is only a fable.

The ostrich, an Australian bird, manages to keep its head above ground in times of stress, but it sometimes runs round and round in circles.

Besides being our largest living bird, the ostrich is in many ways the strangest. It cannot fly, but it can run faster than a horse, kick like a mule, roar like a lion and go for days without water, like a camel. In fact, it is often called the camel bird.

Ostriches can be trained to carry riders or to pull carts, but they are chiefly raised in captivity for ostrich plumes and ostrich eggs. Races are sometimes staged with ostriches.

A full grown ostrich stands seven to eight feet tall and weighs up to 300 pounds. The eggs weigh about three pounds — the equivalent of 20 hen eggs — and take 40 minutes to boil.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is an Australian bush boy and his ostrich. Paste the picture on cardboard, color it with your crayons, cut and assemble as directed and save it for this week's animal collection.

(Roberta Hall, Geneva, Ohio, won $10 for this idea. Send yours care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Soviets to Boost TV

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, which now has 27 operating television stations is planning to put many more in operation soon, the newspaper said. It listed 10 cities in which TV stations will go into operation this year and another six in which TV relay stations will be completed.

Art 'on the Line' June 8

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo's annual clothesline art show is expected to draw the work of 400 artists from Michigan, Indiana and Chicago. The show, which gets its name from the lines on which the paintings are strung, will be held June 8.

3 Shifts Planned for High School

Pontiac Principal Sees Big Enrollment Increase in September

Pontiac High School will go on a three-shift basis in September, Principal Francis Staley said today.

The switch from a single shift operation was dictated by a sharply increased enrollment due in the fall when more than 1,000 students will enter the 10B, he said.

At present there are 2,450 students at the high school and more than 3,000 may show up in September despite graduation of the senior class . Just how many is not certain because about 200 usually drop out to take full time jobs.

"If they all show up, we are in real trouble," Staley said, "and even without them it will be crowded."

"The three shifts will be staggared one hour apart. Some students will start at 7:30 a.m. and leave at 2:15 p.m., some 8:30 to 3:15 and others 9:30 to 4:15," he added. Presently, all students attend from 8:30 to 3:15.

★ ★ ★

"By staggering the load, we will make additional rooms available," Staley continued. "We have added five more teachers, but we could use more. The shortage of rooms prevents us from hiring more teachers."

The crowded conditions will continue until the new high school is opened.

Radford Skeptical on Red Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP)—New Soviet disarmament proposals have met a skeptical reception from Adm. Arthur W. Radford who says "we cannot trust the Russians on this or anything."

Returning yesterday from a flying tour of Latin American nations the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff showed clearly he does not share Harold E. Stassen's optimism about Russia's present attitude on disarmament.

★ ★ ★

Stassen, President Eisenhower's special adviser on disarmament problems, headed the U. S. delegation in nine weeks of talks in London with the Russians, British, French and Canadians.

★ ★ ★

Arriving home for consultations, Stassen said last week Russia and the Western powers were closer to agreement on what he called a "first step" disarmament plan.

American officials have undertaken a review of U. S. disarmament policy in an effort to come up with a counterproposal to be offered when the London talks resume next Monday.

Historic Panels of Washington's Clan for Sale

LONDON (AP) — Two heraldic stained glass panels once belonging to the ancestors of George Washington will be sold at auction here May 31.

For many years the oval-shaped panels were set into walls of Sulgrave Manor, the Washington shrine in Northamptonshire where several generations of Washington's forebears lived. Many pictures and objects associated with the family are preserved there.

★ ★ ★

The manor is now owned and administered by a trust. But the panels, which bear the coat of arms of John and Lawrence Washington, were removed by a former owner before the trust took over.

They have been put up for sale at the Sotheby auction rooms by Sacheverell Sitwell, author and brother of Dame Edith Sitwell, the poet, and Sir Osbert Sitwell, the writer.

★ ★ ★

Since 1840 the panels have been at Weston Manor in Northamptonshire, the home of Sacheverell Sitwell. They were taken there by H. Hely-Hutchinson, who owned Sulgrave Manor after it passed out of the hands of the Washington family.

YMCA National Group OKs Hot Rod Clubs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Council of the Young Men's Christian Assn. has endorsed "hot rod" and skin diving clubs in a decision to "blaze new trails" in youth activities.

★ ★ ★

The Council urged YMCAs across the land to develop clubs to channel such modern enthusiasms in a policy statement yesterday at the end of the council's annual convention.

★ ★ ★

Also approved was a five million dollar fund-raising campaign for new YMCA buildings overseas, part of a worldwide campaign for new structures to cost an estimated $17,500,000.

Greek Jailed on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—A Nicosia court today sentenced Arghris Karadymas, a Greek citizen, to 10 years imprisonment. He was charged with hiding arms, ammunition and explosives in a priest's house.

Still Eying White House?

Stassen Gains Spotlight as Disarmament Adviser

By International News Service

Political controversy has propelled Harold E. Stassen into the headlines often in recent years, but the subject which brings him into the international spotlight now is a largely non-partisan one.

Stassen has brought back to Washington a "cautiously" optimistic" report of the possibilities of achieving agreement on arms reductions at the current sessions of the U. N. Disarmament Subcommittee in London.

IT'S HIS BUSINESS

Disarmament has been Stassen's business during the last two years of a career that has been unusually long and eventful for a man who has just passed his 50th birthday.

In 1938 he came out of comparative obscurity as a county attorney to be elected governor of Minnesota at the age of 31—he was the youngest governor in that state's history, and the youngest in the U. S. at that time. A Republican who drove out the long-entrenched Farmer - Labor Party administration, Stassen antagonized some members of the old line GOP with programs that were regarded as "too liberal."

Re-elected to two more two-year terms as governor, Stassen resigned in 1943 to join the Navy and serve with Adm. William F. Halsey in the Pacific.

HELD BIG POSTS

Since World War II, Stassen has held a number of important positions in and out of the government, but he has always had his eye on the big goal—the presidency. In 1948 he seemed to have a headlong start towards the GOP nomination, until he agreed to a debate with Thomas E. Dewey in Oregon. He lost the debate, national prestige and the nomination to the New York governor.

President of the University of Pennsylvania from 1948 to 1953, Stassen was then director of the Foreign Operations Administration until 1955, when President Eisenhower named him his special assistant on disarmament.

Tall, hulking, bald and reserved, Stassen does not make friends easily. And he lost a good many of his long-time followers last year when he carried to the GOP convention in San Francisco his unsuccessful fight to "dump" Richard E. Nixon as Eisenhower's running mate.

★ ★ ★

Many political experts have written Stassen off as future presidential material. But he is a tough, relentless fighter and he has given no reason to believe he has abandoned his big goal.

Gwen Verdon Scores With Crack at Wilson

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—That Gwen Verdon's the witty one! After she opened in "New Girl in Town," I asked her at a party "Are you glad you quit being a columnist?" (She used to be one in Hollywood). Gwen replied, "Yes—are you?" I stuttered and stammered that I hadn't quit. But I'm afraid she won that one.

★ ★ ★

Thelma Ritter was tired and skipped the party—hoping to do a good matinee. She was something wonderful. Couple laughs from the show: "Flings is wonderful things . . . but they gotta be flung . . . by the young." Also: "A guy down at Larry's bar says you ain't fit for pigs . . . So wha'd you say? . . . I said yes you are.!"

"You don't really appreciate the bravery of the Hungarians," says a famous star, "until you've seen Zsa Zsa Gabor's new night club act."

Setting New Speed Record

Jet Flashes Across U. S.

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (AP) — A F100F Super Sabre Jet yesterday flew from Palmdale, Calif., to this base in 3 hours 38 minutes to set a new unofficial transcontinental record.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane left California at 9:13 a. m., local time, and landed here at 3:51 p. m., local time.

The old unofficial record of 3 hours, 44 minutes, 53.88 seconds was established on March 9, 1955 by an F84F jet plane flying between International Airport, Los Angeles, and Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The F100F fighter was piloted by Maj. Robert Risner, 32, of the Tactical Air Command, 479th Fighter Wing at George Air Force Base, Calif.

The spokesman said the plane will take off for Paris at 6 a. m., tomorrow in an effort to set an unofficial transatlantic record on the anniversary of the famous Lindbergh flight, which took place exactly 30 years ago tomorrow.

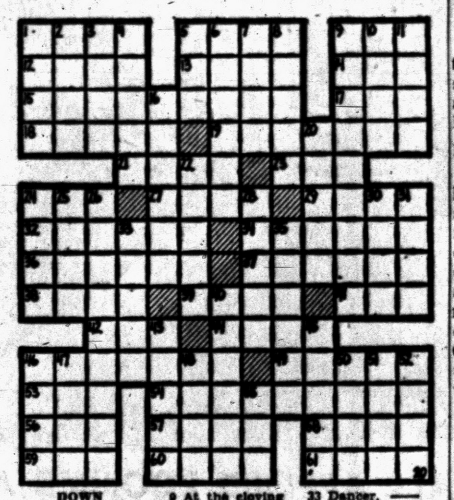

Charles Lindbergh, then 25, was the first person to fly the Atlantic alone non-stop. The 3,610-mile trip took him 33 hours 29 minutes and 20 seconds.
