New Missile-Satellite 'Czar' to Slash Pentagon Tape

'58 Light, Medium Trucks Announced by GM

President Moves to Close Red Gap

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON—America's lagging missile program is on a "crash" basis today under a "czar" appointed by President Eisenhower to slash Pentagon red tape and end inter-service rivalries.

The job of overtaking Russia's lead in the satellite and guided missile race was assigned by the Chief Executive last night to Massachusetts Institute of Technology President James R. Killian.

The noted educator and scientist was directed to push ahead with the "utmost possible speed." He assured the President he would marshal "the best scientific and engineering judgment and creative talent in the country" for the task.

Eisenhower announced he appointment of Killian in a nationwide radio - television address in which he disclosed several major U. S. achievements in the missile field.

These included solution of the so-called "re-entry" problem, the most difficult obstacle to development of a successful intercontinental guided missile.

To the millions of Americans watching on TV, the President exhibited the undamaged nose cone of a missile that had been fired hundreds of miles into space.

It was dramatic evidence that the atomic warhead of a projectile arched hundreds of miles into the sky could reach a target in enemy territory without burning up as it reentered the earth's atmosphere.

UP 4,000 MILES

Eisenhower also revealed that an Air Force Snark missile hit a target over 5,000 miles away and that the U. S. has fired three rock-

Temperature Drop, Snow Due Tonight

Temperatures will drop sharply tonight and snow is expected. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts sub-freezing temperatures for the Pontiac area tonight, with snow flurries likely. The low will be 30-32.

Football fans should be prepared for a cold day tomorrow. The outlook for Saturday is cloudy and cold with snow flurries. The mercury is expected to only go to 36-40.

A mild 46, was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. today. Forty-seven was the reading at 2 p.m.

Ingrid Bergman Tells of Parting

Her Marriage Breakup Called 'Great Tragedy That Happens in Life'

By JOHN J. CASSERLY

ROME (INS) — Ingrid Bergman described today the breaking up of her seven - year marriage to Roberto Rossellini as "this great tragedy that happens in one's life."

TEARS OVER

Whatever tears she has to shed over the romance she once termed a "sacred love" must have been spent in past months for when she spoke to this correspondent by telephone today she sounded as buoyant and gay as a new bride.

She and Rossellini are "still very good friends . . . We certainly will see one another again but I don't know when or where."

Last evening Ingrid looked tired and she refused to talk about the legal separation she and Rossellini signed in a Rome civil court.

TALKS ON PHONE

Well rested after a night's sleep she was willing to talk on the telephone this morning but not to leave her penthouse apartment in front of which a swarm of reporters and photographers waited in the rain.

The Swedish beauty will leave

It will be hats off to Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division and other city industries during tomorrow's "Salute to Industry" show of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Top feature of the six-hour celebration will be the introduction of the 1958 Pontiacs and GMC trucks.

Three separate showings will be held of 16 new Pontiacs (this represents every new style on the market), 12 new trucks from pickups to tandems, a new General Motors bus, displays of six local industries, and a modern house trailer from the Hutchinson Trailer Sales.

The shows will be held on West Huron between Saginaw and Wayne (9:30 to 11:30 a.m.), at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center (noon till 1:30 p.m.), and at Tel-Huron Shopping Center from 2 to 3 p.m. There will be no charge for the shows.

While Pontiac area persons examine the cars and trucks from bumper to taillight, the rock 'n' roll music of the Bobbie Barnes six-piece Combo will provide some added entertainment.

Featured also with the band will be Pontiac's beautiful contributions to the singing fraternity — lovely Mrs. Gunvor Ryden and Pat Morris.

Hannah Speaks on Oakland MSU Branch

Expect 500-1,000 Enrollment

Michigan State University's Oakland branch college will open in the fall of 1959 with an estimated enrollment of 500 to 1,000 students, Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president said yesterday.

He addressed 468 members of 15 luncheon and service clubs from Oakland and Macomb Counties at the Elks Temple.

Dr. Hannah said that the Citizens Advisory Council which has worked with MSU on the new college will meet today at East Lansing to inspect architect's drawing of the $2 million first building.

The new structure will be financed from the $2 million gift of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Rochester. It will be erected on the Meadow Brook estate which the Wilsons gave MSU last January.

Bids on the building will be let in January, Dr. Hannah said. The structure will contain a three-story section with 39 classrooms and a one-story section with scientific laboratories, two lecture halls, a library and offices.

Its site will be along Adams road, on the east side of the estate.

Discussing population growth in the two-county area, Dr. Hannah said by 1965 the branch college should accommodate five to 10 thousand students if it is to meet the local need.

By 1980, he added, Oakland and Macomb will have a combined population of 1,800,000, or the same as Detroit has today.

He said a survey of the two counties made by MSU, showed that 1,200 of the 27,836 adults included are certain they would take college work at the branch and an additional 3,782 probably would do so.

Of the regular students who would enroll at the branch, some 2,500 to 4,200, 12.6 per cent prefer

City May Borrow on 1958, 1959 Taxes

See Way to Equip Hospital

If Pontiac General Hospital is to be finished, funds must be borrowed from 1958 and 1959 taxes on a tax anticipation note basis, said City Manager Walter K. Willman this morning.

"There is no other way," he said. "The hospital must be completed."

The City Commission will meet tonight in an informal emergency session to discuss this question. Commissioners are likely to approve this method at their regular Tuesday meeting next week.

The last - ditch means of financing the new hospital addition and renovating the present building was discussed yesterday after Carl I. Flath, hospital director, told commissioners of the crisis facing Pontiac General because of lack of funds to finish the project.

Willman outlined that taking an estimated $739,000 a year in tax anticipation notes from the city's $900,000 capital, improvement program for the next two years would provide the funds.

He pointed out that this would

Dual Headlights Made Standard on Entire Line

Truck Buyers Offered Smart New 'Face,' Says Monaghan

Truck styling, growing rapidly in commercial value to truck owners, came to its postwar peak today as the GMC Truck & Coach Division announced its 1958 model GMC light and medium duty trucks.

The new line of GMCs features dual headlamps blending smoothly with new grille, hood and fenders to shape an exterior counterpart equal in significance to the powerful new V-8 engine beneath.

In making the new model announcement, Phillip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division, said the styling and engineering improvements for the 1958 product give truckers an entirely new set of values for their businesses.

"In the refreshingly beautiful appearance of our GMC models we are offering truck buyers a smart new 'face' for their commercial enterprises that will reflect their quality and up-and-coming facets so desirable to have seen and known," Monaghan said.

"At the same time, they can be sure of a superior mechanical performance that will give them high efficiency and economy of operation. The new GMCs for 1958 truly are hauling a new package of values to their owners."

One new model has been introduced to the GMC line, which ranges from half-ton units on

Sleek New 1958 GMC Line of Trucks Puts Emphasis on Styling, Comfort, Power

STYLING BOOSTS VALUE — This GMC two and one-half ton stake truck of the new 1958 line announced today emphasizes smart appearance, driver comfort, and plenty of power for all occasions. It has a new V-8 engine that generates 200 horsepower.

It is a package delivery chassis of 16,000 lbs. gross vehicle weight, a new companion for the popular 7,000 lb. and 10,000 lb. GVW package delivery models.

TORQMATIC GEARS

A new transmission, the Allison Torqmatic, designed specially to meet the needs of truckers, has been placed in the new GMC models 370 and up through the 600, which cover weight ranges from 32,000 to 55,000 lbs. GCW.

The Torqmatic, succeeding the Hydra-Matic for these models is basically a torque converter in series with a planetary gear train operated through a hydraulic control system.

A new GMC 336 cubic inch V-8 gasoline engine with unusual long-life features heads up a group of 9 gas and Diesel engines used through the GMC line. A valve-in-head 90 degree V-type, it develops 200 gross horsepower at 4400 RPM and a gross torque of 307 pounds-feet at 2,000 to 2,400 RPM. It has a compression ratio of 7.5 to 1.

The 336 engine is available in all models up through the 500 series.

The new dual headlamps are far more than a styling innovation. The new four-lamp system gives better control of light, particularly in the low beam, greater low beam seeing distance on the right hand side of the road, perfect focus of both upper and lower beams, reduction of high contrast areas and less interference with oncoming drivers in the low beam.

Many cab and chassis improvements add strength, safety and long-life factors to the new models.

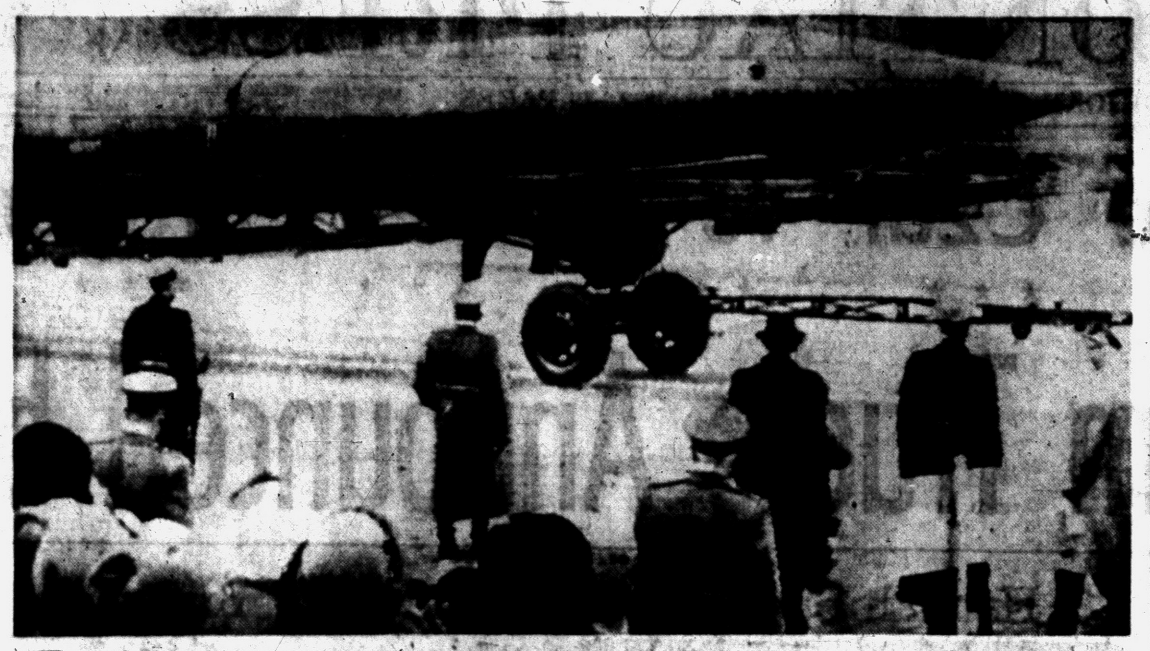

A heavier, stronger front frame cross member provides greater frame rigidity and minimizes front end flexing on all GMC models from the 100 series on through the model 370.

Exhaust and vibration noises will be reduced as a result of new flexible muffler and tail pipe mountings on GMC models 100 through 250.

Bendix power steering units are available on models 350 and up, a change from former power steering units to give smoother steering.

On GMC models 100 and 100-8 a Powr-LOK differential which permits the rear axle to send the greatest driving force to the wheel that has the best traction will be offered.

The Powr-LOK eliminates wheel spinning as lang as one wheel can get traction, enabling the truck to operate on snow, ice or mud as long as one wheel has traction. It also improves stability when turning corners because the major driving force is applied to the inside rear wheel.

PARADE'S BIGGEST — Part of the military collection displayed by the Soviets in their 40th anniversary parade in Moscow yesterday was this giant rocket, shown as it rolls past the reviewing stand in Red Square. Rockets in this class were 70-75 feet long and are believed to be in the 400-500 mile range.

Air Rifle Firm to Leave State

Daisy Company Plans Arkansas Move; Costs Too High in Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — Daisy Manufacturing Co., maker of air rifles and toy weapons has announced plans to move its Plymouth, Mich., plant to the Ozark Mountain town of Rogers, Ark., next May.

Michigan's "unhealthy economic climate" was given by a company official as a reason for the proposed move.

The plant employs about 700 in the manufacture of cap pistols, holster sets and other types of juvenile armament.

Including fringe benefits, the average hourly wage at the Michigan plant is $2.24, said Cass Hough, executive vice president of the firm. Wages at the new plant in Arkansas will be about $1 an hour less, he said.

"Small industry in Southeast Michigan doesn't have a chance," Hough said. "We're forced to pay what the giants of industry are made to pay by the UAW and CIO."

The Day in Birmingham

Local Moms of America to Sponsor Veterans Day

BIRMINGHAM — Under the sponsorship of MOMS of America, plans are completed for the observance of Veterans Day here on Monday afternoon.

In a two-hour program set for 1:30, area men who gave their lives in World War II and the Korean conflict will be paid a special tribute.

The program also will include a talk on the hospital volunteer by M. L. Whittaker, director of volunteers at the Dearborn VA hospital and Congressman William Broomfield who will speak on Veteran's Legislation.

The tribute to men who died in battle will be given by the Rev. Emil Kontz, D. D., of the First Baptist church. A representative from the Nike Base at Auburn Heights will speak and color slides of the MOMS services will be shown.

Mrs. Howard R. Estes, president of the local unit, said the afternoon would close with a social hour and refreshments.

"Ontario Safari" will be the travel film shown at the conclusion of the YMCA - sponsored Family Swim program at Barnum junior high school tonight. Swimming is at Barnum from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., with the film and social hour at the Y building on Lincoln avenue. Members of the Y may obtain swim tickets at the office without charge. Admission to the pool is by ticket, only.

The First Presbyterian church is conducting its 1957-58 budget crusade Sunday. Brochures and pledge cards have already been mailed to members and should be returned to the church that day. Church officials said the increased budget is due to the maintenance obligations of the coming year, part of a long range plan, and the benevolence program which has been extended for broader service.

Donald Johnston

Service for Donald Johnston, 83, of 1165 Suffield road, will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial cemetery.

Mr. Johnston, a native of Canada, came to Birmingham a year ago from Detroit. He had spent most of his life in the metropolitan area and had been an insurance representative.

He was a member of Palestine Lodge 357, F&AM, Detroit Consistory No. 1, Knights Templar, and was one of the four founders of Kiwanis club No. 1, Detroit. He served as its first president and also was district lieutenant governor.

He is survived by his wife, the former Florence Widman; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Mason of Bloomfield Hills; a son, Donald A., Jr., of Birmingham, and two sisters Miss Mary Johnston and Mrs. Charles Richards, both of Detroit.

The family suggests memorial tributes be sent to the Kiwanis Club No. 1 Foundation for Underprivileged Children, Kales Building, Detroit 26.

Pinpoints Area Freeway 'Trouble Spots'

The proposed Oakland County expressway could be under contract in about two years and be a reality in five "if we have no trouble," State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said yesterday.

"Trouble" could occur, said Mackie, if the communities affected refuse to agree on the exact route, if the communities and the county quarrel over their shares of the total cost, and if the present picture for anticipated road funds is altered.

Mackie said yesterday the road should cost about $48 million, including right-of-way, with 50 per cent of the cost to be paid by the federal government, 5 per cent by the state, 2½ per cent by the county and 2½ per cent by the communities involved.

He said he was willing to budget anticipated state and federal funds to construct the road as part of the $632,000,000 system of expressways and superhighways he announced yesterday for the Detroit metropolitan area during the next 10 years.

Mackie said he preferred a route on the east side of Woodward avenue (U.S. 10) from Detroit to Flint.

2 ROUTES POSSIBLE

The expressway could either bypass Pontiac on the east, or pass through the northeast section of the city along the proposed turnpike route which was approved two years ago by the city.

"It will be up to each community to come to an agreement with the highway department on the exact route of this new road," Mackie said. "We will not begin any construction until the entire route is agreed on, and right-of-way has been purchased."

Other cities through which the road might pass: Madison Heights, Hazel Park, Ferndale, Royal Oak, Clawson, Troy, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

Present planning indicates the road should begin in Oakland County somewhere in the vicinity of Eight Mile road and Stephenson highway, Mackie said.

TIMES SCHEDULED

However during the first five years of Mackie's 10-yeer plan, the road will be pushed only as far as Eleven Mile road. During this same five years, he said, construction of the Hastings-Oakland expressway on Detroit's near-east side also will begin.

During the second five years, the 8½-mile link between the Oakland County expressway and the Hastings - Oakland expressway should be completed, Mackie said.

"The finished road will be a new U.S. 10, designated as an interstate highway," Mackie said. "It will connect at the north with other expressways already announced, and provide limited-access travel from downtown Detroit to the Mackinac Bridge and the Soo."

At a press conference yesterday, Mackie went to a map of the metropolitan area and ran his finger along Woodward from Detroit to Flint.

BUSIEST ROAD IN STATE

"This is the heaviest - traveled road in Michigan. I'm happy that we can plan on building a new road there."

North Woodward, an 8-lane state trunkline, has a safe 24-hour traffic capacity of 50,000 vehicles, he said, while a 6-lane divided expressway, like the proposed Oakland County expressway, has a safe 24-hour capacity of 100,000 vehicles.

"The new expressway will help meet traffic needs for a number of years to come," Mackie believed.

A month ago, when Mackie announced highway plans for outstate Michigan, he said there was no room in the plan for an Oakland County expressway. "I would prefer to build it, but can't," he said.

The big obstacle to the road, Mackie said, then, was a commitment by the previous highway administration to the extension of Northwestern Highway across Oakland County to the Fenton-Clio expressway.

BONDS SOLD

Twenty-five million dollars worth of bonds had already been sold for Northwestern by the state and the county. Atty. Gen Thomas M. Kavanagh told Mackie that he was legally committed because of the bond sale.

After the announcement, Pontiac officials and Oakland County Road Commissioners went to Lansing and told Mackie they would rather have the Oakland County expressway than Northwestern.

Mackie said he went to Kavanagh once again, and this time the attorney general said that as highway commissioner, Mackie was bound by law to build roads for the good of the public.

"Kavanagh said if I thought the Oakland County expressway was more for the public good than Northwestern, I was legally entitled to build it."

NORTHWESTERN ON SHELF

The Northwestern extension is not entirely abandoned, Mackie said. But, except for a stretch from Eight Mile to Eleven Mile road, it is now put on the shelf for at least 10 years.

The stretch from Eight Mile to Eleven Mile will either be built or under contract by 1962, at an estimated cost of $21 million, Mackie said.

A second big factor in favor of the Oakland County expressway, Mackie said, was agreement by Detroit and Wayne County on changing the interstate designation from the John C. Lodge expressway to the Hastings-Oakland expressway.

The change has not yet been formally approved by the federal government, Mackie said, but approval is expected soon.

Mackie placed the cost of a proposed Eleven Mile road expressway at $14.5 million. This would connect Northwestern and Grand River and eventually become part of a beltline expressway from Monroe to Macomb County.

Funds have been budgeted to engineer this beltline system during the second five years of the plan, Mackie said.

Ike Names 'Czar' to Push Missiles

ets to heights between 2,000 and 4,000 miles.

The President conceded frankly that the Soviets are "quite likely" ahead of the U. S. in some phases of missile development and "obviously" ahead in satellites.

But he expressed his conviction that the over-all military strength of the free world is "distinctly greater" than the combined might of the Communist powers.

He warned that the West could fall behind in the space - age competition with the Soviet, however, unless it moves with all possible speed to close the gap dramatized by the Russian Sputniks.

DR. JAMES R. KILLIAN

DEMS CRITICAL

The President's speech, first of a series of addresses designed to reassure Americans of the basic strength of security programs, failed to satisfy his democratic critics on Capitol Hill.

While they hailed his decision to name a missile czar, they found little else in the address to praise. Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson expressed disappointment that the president had not stressed "what we need to do as well as what we have done."

A number of Republicans had joined Democrats in urging appointment of a missiles chief to end the rivalry between the Army, Air Force and Navy that has been blamed for at least some of nation's missile troubles.

In a plea for a bipartisan approach to the problem, Eisenhower declared:

"It reminds us once again that we are not partisans of any kind, we are Americans! We will close ranks as Americans, and get on with the job to be done."

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TITLE

Killian will operate from the White House, with the title of "Special Assistant to the President for Science and Technology."

Eisenhower also directed that the Pentagon's guided missile expediter, William M. Holaday, be armed with extra authority to cut through service rivalries and red tape.

The President, who said he was deliberately presenting both the pleasant and unpleasant facts, gave a more cheerful picture in the atomic field.

He said: "Our scientists assure me that we are well ahead of the Soviets in the nuclear field, both in quantity and in quality. We intend to stay ahead."

He called for a pool of free world scientific resources to meet the Soviet challenge on a broader front, however. It doesn't make sense, the President said, to deny to our Allies scientific information that we know the Russians have anyway.

While agreeing that top priority must be given to the missile program, Eisenhower said it would be foolish to boost other defense spending and restore personnel cuts in the armed forces, as demanded by some congressmen.

Eisenhower hammered hard at what the United States already has accomplished in the fields of missiles and other modern weapons.

Crash Wrecks 1923 'Star' Auto —in Its Prime

COLUMBUS, N.J. (AP)—Walter B. Bowne will have to drive his work vehicle from now on. His "good car" was wrecked last night. The body of Bowne's 1923 Star was ripped from the chassis when another vehicle smashed into its rear. The 68-year-old electrician and dairy farmer escaped with a few cuts.

But, he lamented, they don't make them the way they used to, and the Star was a "good car." He said his work vehicle is a 1922 Model T Ford.

Police said Bowne has maintained both cars through the years, and they passed the 1957 New Jersey motor vehicle inspection.

City Eyes New Plan to Equip Hospital

leave a skeleton - like public improvement program for only about $161,000 annually.

The manager said this plan would require approval of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission, but not a vote of the people.

Twice Pontiac voters have turned down bond issues to furnish and equip the $4,000,000 wing. Willman cited the tax borrowing proposal as the only means left to the city, based on these two rejections.

The $739,000 figure—which Willman stressed was merely a rough estimate—would include $475,000 a year in notes, from $15,000 to $17,000 a year in interest on these notes, interest on the original 1954 hospital bond issue, and $167,000 annually as the city's share of the half-million dollars agreed upon in May of last year so that bids could be accepted.

CITES MINIMUM COST

In a five-page report to the commission, Flath said the "minimum" amount needed to place the new addition in a minimal operating condition would total $969,933.

Flath mentioned that not only was the new wing threatened by not being finished, but "even continued operation" of the present hospital was in danger.

He said Pontiac General was faced with possible loss of accreditation, danger of unsanitary conditions, fire hazards, and loss of employes if the project is not completed.

Delays due to lack of equipment and other reasons have pushed the expected completion date of the hospital to late next year, according to the architectural firm of L. J. Heenan.

There are $431,164 in outstanding purchase orders, $392,776 in "bare necessity" equipment and furnishings, $120,743 in owed architects fees, and $25,249 in contractors extras as of Sept. 23.

Flath stressed that the last two items must be paid, as service has been rendered.

He continued by showing that $50,000 of the outstanding purchase orders has been built into the structure, thus necessitating payment. Some contractors have made continued please for their money, Flath said.

Others have urged the city take delivery on orders or cancel them. This would cost the city some $80,000 additional due to continually rising prices, the director stressed.

Stopping the entire project outright, Flath stated, would mean a loss of more than $300,000.

Standing also to be defaulted would be $85,000 in already-approved federal funds.

Continuing to paint the dark picture of the current hospital situation, the director cited the danger of laundry, kitchen and other equipment breaking down. "If this were to occur," he said, "it would force the use of commercial laundries at an estimated added annual cost of $40,000."

He cited numerous cases where a "dedicated staff" had suffered the hardships of trying to work under almost impossible and dangerous conditions.

Announce Nominees for C. of C. Posts

Ten nominees for the five board of directors posts in the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce were announced today by the nominating committee.

Ballots are being mailed to members of the chamber during the next 10 days, to select the five for terms in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why does a cooling of the air often produce clouds?

The air always contains a certain amount of moisture. When there are no clouds in the sky, the moisture is invisible, but it is there. Cooling condenses air and reduces its capacity to retain water.

In doing so, the invisible water particles in the air become relatively greater in content and finally become visible droplets of moisture. A cloud, then, is the result of cooling of air which changes invisible moisture into visible form.

This cooling process also produces fog — the lowest of the clouds. The sun's heating of the earth, which, in turn, heats the air above it, which rises and is cooled in the higher altitude, causes the formation of most clouds.

State Enjoys Boom in Airport Building

LANSING (AP) — Michigan is enjoying a boom in airport building and expansion, the state department of aeronautics reports.

Lester C. Andrews, chief engineer, said the department currently has 53 projects underway, 28 in the construction stage and 25 others approved for federal funds by the Civil Aeronautics Administration and in various stages of paper work.

Figuring the two overlapping years together, a total of $7,698,256 was made available for the projects during the last fiscal year and $5,734,142 will be made available in the current fiscal year.

Last year's total was higher, Andrews said, because close to three million dollars was allocated to Wayne-Major airport in Detroit for construction of a terminal building.

Largest project underway in the current year is one million dollars for a new terminal and $250,000 for runways and related work at the Lansing Capital City airport.

Money for the work is provided 50 per cent from federal funds and 25 per cent each from the state and local units of government.

"The breakdown actually isn't that simple," Andrews said. "Various units of government do not participate in all the projects. As an instance, the federal government does not help in the portion of buildings used for restaurants and the state does not help in the purchasing of land."

Other major projects underway, with approximate costs, include: $300,000 for terminal building, entrance road, aprons, parking facilities; W. K. Kellogg regional airport, Battle creek, $265,000 for terminal building; Escanaba municipal airport, $200,000 for new runways; Pontiac municipal airport, $200,000 for runways and lighting; Willow Run airport, $175,000 for lighting; Detroit city airport, $150,000 for runway lighting and surfacing.

Britishers Fear Menace of Female 'Peers'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The British are so delightfully, deucedly old-fashioned when it comes to women . . . they can't see the concrete for the paint!

Latest evidence came this week when a peer from the House of Lords exploded at the idea of women being admitted into that venerably vital institution.

"Women," he said, "are moved more by their hearts than their heads."

The idea is ridiculous. Not the idea of barring girls from the House of Lords, where a good deal of crusty lambasting goes on which might be inhibited by the presence of someone's mother — that makes sense. But the reason why needs looking into.

The British obviously have not yet come to accept a fact which thinking men the United States over must all realize by now:

When today's woman is "moved," it is either by passion or ration.

BRAINS FUNCTION

Her heart is in the right place. Under the ribs. Pumping blood to the head where it is constantly needed, the better to outwit you, my dear.

Although the legend still persists that females are more soulful, sensitive, soggy-hearted and outgoing than man, the lords in their parliamentary house would do well to face reality and stop creating woman in the image of Billie Burke.

If they are to keep skirts out of the House, they must use chicanery rather than flattery.

First, they must make women see that the House of Lords is a hopelessly stuffy place — "You can't even smoke in the chamber, pet, and the speeches are deadly."

PLAY ON SYMPATHY

Then, the peers must be wise to pull the old tradition routine; with catch in throat, announce that the House of Lords is "the last stronghold of men and, like certain pubs and athletic gymnasiums, should be maintained in its miserable monastic condition."

"Women might just go for that. If there's anything that touches a woman's heart, it is sympathy for the faltering males of the species.

As a last resort, the House of Lords might hire a press agent to distribute photos of ladies capped in the high, white, powdered wigs of Parliament. They do absolutely nothing for one.

The female who still wants to crash the House of Lords—knowing it is dull sacrosanct and unbecoming — she is the one to watch out for.

Doctor Asserts TB Still Major Problem

DETROIT (AP) — A staff member of the Institution for Tuberculosis Research at the University of Illinois says the disease remains a major medical problem.

Dr. Sol Roy Rosenthall told the Michigan Academy of General Practice that despite the declining death toll from the disease in recent years, "the reservoir of tuberculosis is a large one and the possibility of infections, especially in certain areas is great."

Slum areas continue to offer tuberculosis a place to thrive, he said.

Dr. Rosenthall also said that early detection and isolation of active cases is needed in the fight against the disease.

Coffee Breaks, Lunch Shunned by Workers

NEW PORT, R.I. (AP) — The 11-member staff of the Newport Welfare Department not only foregoes coffee breaks, but even remains in the office during lunch hours.

Director Helen C. McLeish reported yesterday: "The staff prefers remaining in the office during lunch hours as many of the clients contact the staff at that time."

St. Patrick was a missionary bishop to Ireland, not a native Irishman.

Report Brando's Wife 'Doing Just Fine'

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The wife of actor Marlon Brando was reported "doing just fine" today in Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Mrs. Brando, the former Anna Kashfi, entered the hospital Sunday for what physicians described as "diagnostic studies." Brando said his wife was there for "just a checkup."

Rigid Education Plan Develops Brains for Sputniks

(Erle Cocke Jr. is vice president of Delta Airlines. At 36 he has served as National Commander of the American Legion, special consultant to the defense department, and director of industrial development in Georgia. He has traveled abroad extensively.)

By ERLE COCKE JR.

ATLANTA, Ga. (NEA) — A terrific desire to prove themselves and their system to the world is one reason I believe the Russians won the earth satellite race with Sputnik I and II.

Another reason is that the Soviets have organized even their educational system along "crash" lines.

I was in Moscow the day Russia shot the first man-made moon into space—and I spent the rest of my visit in the Soviet Union trying to find out how they did it.

A top-level plant manager in Russia's industrial complex told me: "We've only been working on this satellite four years, and we were successful two years ahead of schedule!"

There was a fierce, competitive pride in the fellow's voice. The same note cropped up in all of the conversations I had with individuals at the management level.

Even now, much of the Soviet economy is still operating on a horse-and-buggy basis. But industrial modernization, so far as the Party brass is concerned, is more than a goal. It's an obsession.

They're going all-out to do everything bigger, better and faster than anybody else.

I visited Moscow University where approximately 28,000 students are completing the world's most highly specialized academic program. It is selective and thorough. Its sole object is to make sure that the best minds perform maximum service to the State.

The specialization starts in the first grade. Children 7 and 8 years old are put through rigorous IQ tests. The top scorers are earmarked for specific careers: engineering, electronic research, diplomatic service, etc.

This group then undergoes 15 to 20 years of intensive, competitive study with accent all the way on the particular profession the state has assigned each.

PRODUCES SPECIALISTS

We wouldn't accept that sort of career control in America. But it's right in line with Communist thinking, and it's producing the elite corps of specialists who produced Sputnik.

.L eq4..⅗r) xz&7⅘ ....

I saw relatively few automobiles. Elevator service in most buildings is up only; you walk down, whether it's one flight or six. This saves power for use in manufacturing parts for Sputnik.

CONSERVE POWER

Walking through an art museum, I noticed that the lights came on as we entered each room and went off as we left. An elderly woman was stationed near the switch at every door to keep the place dark while there were no visitors around.

I saw plenty of men and women in military uniform on the streets. The guide's claim that they were mostly union groups or other civilians didn't ring true.

A war economy also has given Russia the only commercial jet airliner now in operation.

I rode the TU-104 from Moscow to Prague. Like everything else they put on public view, it's partly for show and partly functional. The plane's interior is cluttered up with heavy brass baggage racks and chandeliers that reduce passenger capacity.

VALUABLE PROPAGANDA

But it is a jet, and they're exploiting it to the last drop of propaganda value. As nearly as I can determine from questioning airline officials, who definitely consider the information top-secret, there are about 38 of these ships in commercial service.

Russia's propaganda gesture toward providing a comfortable "peace-time" life for its people is showcased in huge industrial and agricultural exhibits which occupy 500 acres on the edge of Moscow.

The grounds are carefully landscaped and filled with permanent buildings of attractive design. On display are the finest "sample" products of U.S.S.R. science, factories and farms.

While these extravagant exhibits are used for conferences and technical training of regional workers' committees, their main purpose is to persuade the Russian people that it's great to live under communism. The fact that the display products can't be found off the fairgrounds isn't mentioned.

One of the items my guide proudly pointed out was a heavy-duty truck. It appeared to measure up to our current American models. But there was only one. I haven't seen another in Russia.

How does the average Russian react to it all? The ones I talked to weren't cheering, but they weren't crying either. Most of them appeared to be indifferent. Some told me they're better off now than they were under the Czars and during World War II.

Overcoming public inertia is a major problem for the Party bosses. A tourist agency official conceded to me that they've got to work up more enthusiasm among the mass of people for their industrial "new look."

One thing seems certain: The 3 per cent of the people who run Russia are going to continue to run it, without real trouble from the 97 per cent.

The top command may shuffle jobs. A few heads may fall. But absolute power will remain with the chosen few.

Right now, that power is being used ruthlessly and purposefully in an effort to harness Russia's industrial and human resources.

Milk Can Be 2 Colors

MILLINGTON, Tenn. (AP) —Second grade students in Miss Brigid Brody's class were copying sentences she had written on the blackboard. Then the children circled the correct word in the sentences such as: "Milk is red, white, black or brown." One little boy circled both white and brown to describe milk. The brown, he explained, was for chocolate milk.

Adenauer Picks Erhard as His Vice Chancellor

Chancellor ADENAUER has ended speculation as to his eventual successor by selecting Economics Minister LUDWIG ERHARD as Vice Chancellor of West Germany.

The new appointee will keep his post of Economics Minister and also become the chairman to the Cabinet's Economic Committee. He is credited with being the prime mover in West Germany's economic recovery.

To replace Finance Minister FRITZ SCHAFFER who had thwarted ERHARD'S efforts to reduce taxes and also had refused money for rearmament, Chancellor ADENAUER has appointed FRANZ ETZEL, former chairman of the European Coal and Steel authority. These Cabinet members are expected to work together more harmoniously.

Dr. Erhard favors free trade and free enterprise in contrast to the traditional German cartels. He has backed laws to encourage greater production and lower tariffs.

In the last election the new Vice Chancellor proved to be an effective campaigner for the 81 year old ADENAUER. As a member of the regime he has the confidence of the German people because of his record since World War II in helping to build a thriving economy.

Dr. ERHARD has earned his promotion.

More Rural Folks, but Less Farmers

But the number of our farmers is on the decline.

This may sound paradoxical, but neyertheless it is true.

While such also is the case in other parts of the nation, it is more pronounced in large industrial areas like our own.

In recent years thousands of city workers have moved to the country.

The former residents either find work in the cities or move their agricultural pursuits farther out.

While, considered on a strictly farming basis, the number is decreasing, there is an increase in those who do farming as a part time job.

They are city workers who find relaxation (and occasionally profit) in the tilling of some of their soil. The size of their lots and nature of the soil usually are conducive to it.

There is no cause for alarm in the changing status. In many respects it is for the best. The part time farmers are no competitors of the regular tillers of the soil. In most ways they are cooperators.

The acreage taken out of cultivation often is more than balanced by the increased production on the lands still devoted exclusively to agriculture.

This is brought about by better fertilization, crop rotation, fighting erosion, modernized equipment, and the application of scientific principles.

There's also an element of satisfaction and appreciation in getting one's hands soiled by clean dirt and perspiration, as well as by factory grease and grime, office ink or merchandise handling.

And the same element of satisfaction and appreciation works both ways.

Negev Desert to Get River Jordan Water

Some 15,000 acres comprising Lake Huleh and its swamplands in northern Galilee are being drained into the River Jordan.

The reclamation which took six years will bring into production a rich agricultural area and add another public works designed to restore to Israel its long ago fertility.

Near the Syrian border, the Huleh project was completed despite the usual border incidents. In addition to reclaiming land, it is part of a vast irrigation plan to bring Jordan water from the north into the Negev desert in the south. The plan also will provide a system of waterworks and power projects for all Israel.

Perhaps with these developments in Israel will come a more peaceful and certainly a more prosperous Middle East.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

"Keep in Mind, You Represent Our World of Tomorrow"

David Lawrence Says:

Reassurance, Action in Ike's Words

WASHINGTON — Words of reassurance and action — this is what the American people expected of President Eisenhower, and they were given both in his nationwide address Thursday night.

LAWRENCE

A high sense of urgency was reflected by the President, but he counseled against any idea "that we should mount our charger and try to ride off in all directions at once."

The inevitable steps, the logical steps in the orderly functioning of a great government in meeting an unprecedented crisis, have been outlined by the President. America, he declared, is behind in some things in military weapons but ahead in others.

America is safe in that it has a massive power of resistance to attack, and this is a deterrent against the success of any sudden action by an enemy. The key paragraph in the President's address was this:

"It is my conviction, supported by trusted scientific and military advisers, that, although the Soviets are quite likely ahead in some missile and special areas, and are obviously ahead of us in satellite development, as of today the over-all military strength of the free world is distinctly greater than that of the Communist countries. We must see to it that whatever advantages they have are temporary only."

Thus is the challenge accepted and a warning given. The President's outline of the power of the United States in a military sense was dramatic.

Few people realize that America has overseas bases from which intermediate-range missiles can be fired instantly and that this is more important as a measure of defense than even an intercontinental missile may be when it is perfected.

For short distances permit frequent sorties, and the enemy will know now that the net effect of its recent exploits is to tighten the NATO alliance and assure the permanence of American missile bases overseas.

There was no doubt, when the President finished his address, that he had given the first authoritative summary of the entire military power of the United States in the world today.

Guided missiles are in production. Intermediate-range missiles have been tested successfully over a range of 3,500 miles.

While an intercontinental missile is required, the President pointed out, nevertheless, that because of our bases overseas, "an intermediate-range missile is for some purposes as good as an intercontinental missile."

Mr. Eisenhower didn't question whether Russia could bring back a missile from outer space, but preferred to say it this way: "One difficult obstacle on the way to producing a useful long-range weapon is that of bringing a missile back from outer space without its burning up like a meteor, because of friction with the earth's atmosphere."

There's the real point of all the talk about the "Sputnik" as a military weapon. Much can be learned from these spectacular experiments, but the problem of guiding a missile from outer space to a specific target has already been solved by the United States.

Appointment of Dr. James R. Killian, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as special assistant to the President on matters of science will be well-received by the country as he is an outstanding man in the scientific world.

Co-ordination of missile research inside the Department of Defense is also a step forward.

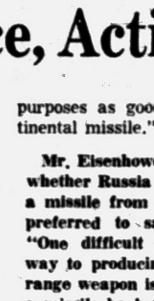

But the most important thing about the President's address was its positiveness, its call for an abandonment of partisanship in this matter and the stirring appeal he made for peace.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iodine Ration Essential for Prevention of Goiter

The thyroid gland weighs about one ounce, less in males, more in females. In women it becomes slightly enlarged during menstruation and pregnacy.

DR. BRADY

It is in the front of the neck just behind the upper end of the breast bone and in front of the larynx (voice box) and trachea (windpipe).

When the gland is enlarged enough to cause a noticeable swelling, the condition is called goiter. The swelling is at the front, not on the sides of the neck as is the swelling from enlarged lymph nodes, "kernels" or "glands."

Simple goiter was formely prevalent in school children in the "goiter belt" that stretches across North America from Seattle to Halifax, north of Omaha and south of Winipeg, and particularly in the Great Lakes basin.

This simple goiter may be prevented if a suitable iodine ration is taken in one form or another. This is not medicine but nutrition.

The number of operations for removal of the thyroid or part of it (thyroidectomy) was greater per thousand population in the Great Lakes basin before introduction of iodized salt and other prophylactic measures than it is today.

Yet there are fatheads practicing medicine and administering public health who still harbor a vague suspicion that it is "dangerous" to use iodized salt and/or other prophylactics. Their half-baked utterances are responsible for much of the apathy of the public in regard to this every-day nutritional deficiency of millions of persons in the goiter belt, children as well as mature and elderly adults.

What I don't know about the thyroid gland, hypothyroidism (functional deficiency) and hyperthyrodism (excessive thyroid activity) would fill many books. So if any real doctor asks how come —I'll probably backtrack immediately.

But before I go I must say this: From all I have been able to learn about the subject there is, in my opinion, little if any difference between thyroid extract and iodine in relation to thyroid function.

As far as health is concerned, no physician, no nutrition authority can question this fact: Every man, woman or child in North America needs a suitable daily ration of iodine to maintain health, and especially to prevent goiter and the physical and mental inefficiency of hypothyroidism. For further information send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet The Iodine Ration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Readers Disagree on Dog Used in Russian Satellite

The more I think about that poor little dog slowly dying in that horrible space ship, the madder I get. I can't understand how people can sit by so calmly and feel no outrage. Such inhuman treatment of small, helpless animals is a typical example of what the Reds are really like. How long are we going to sit by and let such things go on?

Furious

Why all the uproar about using a dog in making history and one of the most important accomplishments in space travel? Some people will naturally look at the negative side. Using a dog that has been trained to do this can contribute to man and his existence. Where would man be if it weren't for medical science and its discoveries through this type of experimentation? Where would many GI's be if it weren't for their pals, the household pooch? Who wants to die when something else can take his place? I say use animals for the betterment of life.

Bird Watcher

Chef Takes Side of Waitresses

I am a chef at a country club within the Pontiac local vicinity. However, I belong to the Detroit local and believe me, we have a union. I have met many waitresses from the Pontiac local and they are getting nothing but a bad deal. I know money talks, but how about a fair deal for working girls? Good waitresses are hard to find — let's treat them right.

Suggests Clergy Take Initiative

I, too, am interested in meeting young Christian women. I think the whole program should be carried out by one of our local clergymen. The pastor would screen individuals and if they were considered eligible, they would be allowed to correspond anonymously through the church until the pastor felt they were ready to be formally introduced. This could also lead to high church membership.

'Harry's Back at It Again'

So Harry is on the warpath again, so says a recent paper. He says he is going to raise hell with people if they don't get the GOP out of Washington. That is, if he gets back into politics, as he is quoted saying. So I guess we won't have to worry.

I wonder if he means to slap us all down as in a previous threat some time ago about a certain individual. If so, he had better get started, as it would involve a lot of slapping. Or it could be too soon late.

Hospital Employe Explains Ruling

I'm sure Disappointed Visitor will agree that until very recently restrictions of visitors at Pontiac General Hospital have been very lenient. Since the flu epidemic, hours and visitors have been restricted for the patients' welfare.

It may seem cruel that you can't see your daughter, but there are several patients on the maternity floor and you can see what a problem this would present if one parent is allowed to visit and not the others. Don't feel badly about the situation as it applies to everyone and is not a permanent thing.

You can rest assured that your daughter will receive the best of care while convalescing at General Hospital.

Requests Help With Problem

In answer to Citizen of U.S.A. who thinks residents should change their treatment of military personnel, I agree wholeheartedly, but we have Blue Star Mothers and many other such organizations that I'm sure would be happy to volunteer for such work. The thing that holds us back is lack of support. Do you realize that mothers of boys in service refuse to belong to such organizations? They say they haven't the time.

Some of our members have been doing this work for 15 years and we are getting a little old for such strenuous work. We're always willing to give information of our activities to all interested people. So what about it, younger mothers? Do you want better things for your boys and girls?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Newspaper Has Many Functions

Matilda is a cultured woman. But she is out of step with modern progress. First, she misjudges children, because she never had any of her own. And she also fails to realize that the newspaper is our great "University in Print" and the major moral educator for the 40 per cent of our population belonging to no church at all!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. CRANE

"How can you possibly justify the use of his daily column in your FAMILY newspaper?" she added.

"Why, he presented the case this week of a high school girl whose escort insisted on illicit sexual liberties.

"What will the children think when they read such things in the newspaper! It is shocking!"

70,000,000 PAGANS

First, children rarely read the editorial pages of newspapers. They usually stop with the comic pages.

In late high school, they finally dip into some of the other features, including the local sport news.

But these children of such "tender years" as Matilda indicates, seldom look at this or any other editorial feature.

Second, what about the 70,000,000 people in America who belong to no church whatever, either Jewish, Protestant or Catholic?

Their children are growing up, almost like Topsy with little or no moral instruction. They read about rape on Page one.

So isn't it the function of a great newspaper to help educate and prepare its vast readership for happier adult lives by this type of educational column?

Actually, high schools all over America are using this column and the medico-psychological booklets offered herewith to help instruct teenagers.

So, too, are scores of colleges and universities. Moreover, 1,500 priests, rabbis and clergymen every year write to me via this column for advice on family counseling and sexual problems of their parishioners.

NEWSPAPER UNIVERSITY

This daily newspaper is a great "University in Print," and its educational value is incalculable.

When the Roman Catholic Bishop of Iowa commissioned Father Kinnavey of St. Ambrose College to conduct a special clinic for priests who were to go forth and conduct Cana Conferences for the great Roman Catholic Church, Father Kinnavey asked for a whole set of these newspaper booklets on "Sex Problems in Marriage," "Impotence," etc, to use in that worthy project.

And many other denominations have done likewise. I have personally been asked to conduct Marriage Clinics for the Methodists, Baptists, Orthodox Jews, Church of God, Seventh Day Adventists, Presbyterians, Disciples of Christ, Lutherans and other great religious denominations.

So don't get the idea that a daily newspaper is a "yellow" journalism sheet. Instead, it is the main educational prop for most Americans.

After the age of 18, about 85 per cent of Americans quit all contact with the formal classroom forever.

Who educates these 85 per cent the remaining 52 adult years that they live? It's the newspaper.

Who furnishes you the latest history of this planet Earth? Who offers medico-psychological advice on all phases of family and social affairs?

Who gives you political science lessons via its editorials? Who hands you the latest financial quotations and banking news?

And who offers a variety of cultural columns on music and a dozen other vital aspects of modern life?

But Johnny Needs the Follow-Up, in Person

TV Gives Expert Teaching, Variety

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Television, motion pictures, recordings, projector slides — Johnny certainly finds school more entertaining than his parents did. But some inquire: how far can can you carry the mechanized approach?

Visual aids have become as familiar to classrooms as maps and globes. Across the nation they play an established role in helping translate for a child an abstract —such as "legislator"—into a flesh and blood personality of everyday living.

Earl A. Dimmick, Superintendent of Pittsburgh Schools muses: "We were using the projector slide when it was being referred to as a magic lantern."

Cleveland spends $135,000 each year on visual and audio aids, according to Supt. Mark C. Schinnerer. Kansas City's Assistant Supt. A. W. Gilbert explains that each of his grade schools has at least one projector and appoints an audio-visual coordinator to organize presentations.

But what about television? What advantage has it over a teacher explaining a subject or showing a film, in person? It could benefit a school which has no budget for films. The point most frequently raised in TV's praise is the large number of pupils it can reach at one time.

1 TEACHER—40 CLASSES

Amid a nationwide upsurge in school enrollments, New Orleans Supt. James F. Redmond says closed circuit TV enables one teacher to instruct 40 classes throughout New Orleans.

Redmond says four TV programs on languages social studies and music are used in classrooms and he stresses these are not merely to enrich or to supplement courses, but that actual instruction is televised.

Otis Crosby of Detroit schools says a $200,000 experiment is under way. Nine schools, including three elementary schools, are seating 200-pupil classes before TV sets — about 40 to a set — and beaming to them instructions in languages and science.

Philadelphia boasts that last year's classrooms counted a TV audience of 100,000 and a radio audience of 300,000. Supt. Allen H. Wetter says his schools are using the city's educational station WHYY and six programs are planned each day, including some in basic science and social studies for 5th and 6th graders.

Cleveland, despite its budget for other aids, uses no television in its classrooms. Pittsburgh leaves it up to the discretion of the principal. A hundred out of 160 schools own TV sets, bought with PTA funds, and pupils watch "lessons" transmitted by station WQED.

At Denver, administrative assistant Jack E. Boyd says his schools plan to "work more closely" with the city's education station which is scheduling a series of engineering shows conducted by industries in the area. And Kansas City schools are tuning in a commercial station, Gilbert says, until the city gets an educational TV station.

In contrast, Omaha leaves TV up to the individual teacher. Assistant Supt. Fred P. Hill is frank to say, "I'm not yet convinced that TV has any more than supplemental value in education. It certainly will not replace conventional classroom instruction."

AF OF T DISAPPROVES

And TV is drawing some disapproving looks from the American Federation of Teachers. Acknowledging its "far reaching potentialities as supplementary aid" and "cultural opportunities," the classroom teachers oppose "the substitution of television for teachers at least in elementary and high schools. . ."

Individual teachers admit that highly specialized teachers in music and foreign languages — can lecture to many more pupils by TV than by motoring around the city in person. But they add that economy-minded administrators face the expense of hiring a specially-trained teacher, anyway, to give the pupils the follow-up instruction.

The follow-up — the application of data to the "why" and "how" of the child's expanding comprehension — is the keystone of America's grade schools. It answers the question of whether the "intravenous feeding" of psychological devices encourages a child to sit like a teapot waiting for something to be poured into him.

Paul Misner, Superintendent of Glencoe Ill., schools regards all visual aids as "only a technique of motivation" — to start a child's brain wheels to turning. He says:

"Teaching doesn't stop with the viewing. The next step is, 'How is it applied?' and 'Where can more information be found on the subject?"

Rep. Don Magnuson Sees Political Star Climb Fast

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Rep. Don Magnuson, who predicts the U.S. can't successfully launch an earth satellite in March as scheduled, is a newspaperman who got his political career off the ground for only $615.

The 46-year-old Washington Democrat—who is no relation to that western state's U.S. Senator—is now serving his third term in the House and his political star is rising quite successfully.

It began early in 1952 when Washington was given a new seat in Congress and decided to make candidates run at large. This meant they had to campaign over the entire state rather than in just a single district.

Magnuson, his wife and two dogs got in his car and used his life savings to convince the people of Washington he was the right man for the job. The $615 included $11 for two dog blankets.

Despite the Republican sweep, led by President Eisenhower, Magnuson defeated his Republican opponent to become the only Democratic Congressman from the state. He stretched his 11,000-vote margin in that first election to 122,000 in 1954. Then last year, despite the Eisenhower landslide, Magnuson whipped his GOP oponent by 182,000 votes.

His quiet efficiency during his first two terms impressed party leaders so much that he won a position this spring on the powerful House Appropriations Committee—an unusual assignment for a young Congressman.

Magnuson received a journalism degree from the University of Washington in 1931 and worked for Olympia and Seattle newspapers until trading his pen for politics in 1952.

The trade did not come because he was unsuccessful in journalism. He has won national reporting awards including the Heywood Broun Memorial Award in 1948 for his part in aiding in the pardon of an innocent man who had served 13 years of a life sentence on a murder conviction.

He and his wife and five children make their home in Seattle and look forward to next year's campaign in which he will represent a district for the first time. No more stumping the state.

BOSTON — Liquid helium has properties no other liquid has. For instance, it can leak through holes too small for any other known liquid to penetrate.

And if poured in a container which itself is suspended in liquid helium — to maintain the necessary coldness at which helium is a liquid — the helium will crawl up the inside and down the outside, in defiance of gravity. No one knows why it does this.

Retired Justice Reed Chairman, MSU's Hannah Vice Chairman

Ike Appoints Civil Rights Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's selection of the members of the new Civil Rights Commission opened the way today for an early start on its thorny task of seeking to prevent racial discrimination.

The difficulties confronting the six-member commission, provided for by the Civil Rights Act passed by Congress last August, have since been underscored by the inflamed feeling aroused by the school integration controversy in Little Rock.

Eisenhower, who only recently said he was having trouble finding men of the caliber and stature he wanted, announced the appointments late yesterday.

Retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley Reed was named chairman.

Named as vice chairman was John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and a former assistant secretary of defense.

The appointments are subject to confirmation when Congress reconvenes. Meantime the members armed with power to subpoena witnesses, can swing into action as soon as they get organized.

Still to be named by Eisenhower, also subject to Senate confirmation, is a full-time staff director at $22,500 a year.

Reed, returning to Washington last night said he had no immediate plans for starting the commission's operations. As a justice, he joined in the Supreme Court's unanimous ruling in 1954 that racial segregation of public schools was unconstitutional.

Other members are John S. Battle former governor of Virginia; J. Ernest Wilkins, a Negro and an assistant secretary of Labor; the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of the University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.; and Robert G. Storey, dean of the law school at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Tex.

The White House listed Reed, Battle former governor of Virginia, Hannah and Wilkins as Republicans and Hesburgh as a political independent. The law requires that not more than three be from any one political party.

In East Lansing, Mich., Hannah said he has "no magic solution" to the civil rights problem, but "I have agreed to do my best to help meet it in any way I can."

In Charlottesville, Va., Battle said he was told Eisenhower wanted a member "with the strong Southern viewpoint which I have." He accepted, he said, hoping to "contribute to a better understanding of a problem which is disrupting our country in these perilous times."

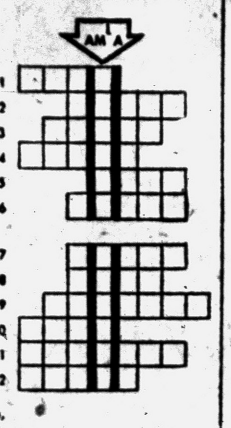

Commission members not already on the government payroll will receive $50 a day plus expenses for the time they work.

Red China Splits Young Dems

Resolutions Committee Calls for Recognition of Nation at Convention

RENO (AP) — The Young Democrats' national convention plunged into sharply worded controversy today over advocating admission of Red China to the United Nations.

Opponents declared they would carry their fight to the convention floor to override the qualified expression recommended by the resolutions committee, 13 to 8.

The resolution begins: "We subscribe to the doctrine that diplomatic recognition does not necessarily constitute approval of a regime. . . .

"Therefore, we propose that the United States withdraw its opposition to Red China's admission to the United Nations provided that China release all Americans now held prisoner and agree to the independence and territorial integrity of Formosa."

James T. Heavey of San Francisco, leading the fight for committee adoption last night, termed the present American policy unrealistic. He said there has been considerable pressure from businessmen in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle to open trade with Red China.

The Red China issue provoked the second major argument among the 1,000 delegates from 45 states and territories.

The credentials committee, by a vote of 31 to 11, rejected a plea by Tom Salmon, representing an independent group of Young Democrats in New York City, to disqualify the 90-vote New York state delegation.

PHS Students Record Attendance; Receive Practical Work Experience

Dramatics Club Announces Play

Pick Chinese Classic 'The Lute Song' by Kia for Winter Production

By WILLIAM BANK

In a large school such as Pontiac High, it is rather difficult to keep track of all the students. The attendance office, directed by Harold Smead and Mrs. Marjorie Lowry, has approximately 40 students who help keep tab of everyone.

These students work in the attendance office during their free periods. They first pick up the absence slips from the class rooms. Then they record the absentees on the "long sheets" which tell the students name, grade, and how many hours or periods he has missed. From there the information is transferred to the files.

By helping the school in this manner, the students get experience in filing, recording, answering phones and taking messages.

For their winter production the PHS dramatics department will present a Chinese classic which has been dramatized for more than five hundred years. Its name is "The Lute Song" or "Pi-Pa-Ki," and was written by Kao-Tong Kia.

Other members of the cast are Doritta Carlisle, Si-Tchun; Clarice Graves, Governess; Dick Hathaway, Li-Wang and Priest Amida Buda; Lynn Walker, Youen-Kong; Joanne Wood, marriage broker; Bill Bank, food commissioner; and Phyllis Wardell, Holy man.

Other cast members are Sam Hartman, priest; Alvin Lambert and Bruce Bishop, first and second clerks respectively; Kay Hamilton, old man; Levi Williams, blind man; Judy Kenny, Bonze; and Harold Hansen, a merchant.

Others are Barbara Wolfe, a little boy; Sharon Walencik a child; Lynn Thompson, a secretary; Bill Hanson and Adrienne Ressler, travelers; Nancy Fulkershon, beggar woman; and Sandy McDowell, lamed beggar.

Assisting Garth Errington, director, will be Sharon Walenik, stage manager, and Sophia Skinner, student director. For this play Miss Mary Parrish will be in charge of the committees.

WIN QUIZ SHOW

A team of five students won honors for our school by participating in the Quiz-Em Show on WWJ-TV. They competed against students of Grosse Ile High.

They answered a total of 13 questions. As a result of the efforts of these seniors, advised by Peter Arts and Robert Rickard, the school will be presented with a new tape recorder.

From the fencing club that has recently started, PHS plans to select its fencing team. This club is open to anyone but the majority of the attendance is made by high school students. Instructor of this class is Mr. Eldon Gardener.

Legislators in Wyoming Patch Up Hole in Law

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — The Lander city council recently passed an ordinance forbidding drinking in the city park.

Then they discovered there was a hitch: The city park is outside the city limits.

The council promptly passed another ordinance annexing the city park.

Lincoln Jr. High Choir Has Full Agenda

Highlight of the week at Lincoln Junior High School was the appearance in two assemblies of the Lincoln Concert Choir under the direction of Mr. Jerry Smith, head of the music department.

The group of 40 mixed voices balanced with 10 members in each of the four main parts presented a variety program of solos, ensembles, and choral arrangements in both secular and sacred numbers yesterday and today.

The program opened with "Psalm 150" by Lewandowski, "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Rodgers, and 'Plymouth Rock" by Scott, by the ninth grade chorus. They presented a mixed vocal ensemble of Deep Purple. A theme song written by the director, Jerry Smith, 'Holiday Song" by Schumann, and selections from "Annie Get Your Gun" by Berlin formed the popular second group of numbers.

"When The Saints Come Marching In" an old Negro spiritual, and "Give Me A Song To Sing" by Elliott concluded the program.

Tom Eley, president of the choir, and Jerry Menter, vice-president, acted as announcers for the program. Special solos were presented by Karlene Walton, soprano; Pauline Noell, soprano; Ellen Cunningham, and Sandra Guye, altos; Jerry Menter, tenor; a duet by Pat Vandecar, soprano and Tom Eley, bass; and Eric Warren, bass. Jill Hicks assisted Mr. Smith in accompanying the numbers.

The Lincoln Concert Choir has presented six programs this fall including a full day of singing engagements in Detroit when the choir appeared at the Clara B. Ford School, Ray H. Adams Junior High School, and the Fred E. Mapes Junior High. The choir also appeared at Eastern Junior High and on a Lincoln PTA program in October.

Rehearsals are now underway for two annual Christmas programs.

AT WASHINGTON

Washington Junior High students are working as a group to participate in the magazine sale being sponsored in conjunction with the Curtis Publishing Company. A school quota of approximately $5,600 was set. Monday sales totalled $817.

The entire student group working at this pace should easily top the quota. Top sellers will be rewarded and the money raised will go toward the purchase of new drapes for the library and to add to the new curtains already in the auditorium.

Members of the Model Airplane Club sponsored by Roger Gunn have recently added to their scheduled club meeting periods during the school week. Student interest has called for two recent Saturday morning meetings in the gym of the school. These morning scenes in the gym show almost any type hobby model.

The most recent faculty wedding was that of the former Kay Justin, homemaking teacher, who is now Mrs. Thomas Francis Devereaux.

AT MADISON

Humorous demonstrations of some of the prizes were given. Principal George Yansen, dressed as a Bell Boy, pushed in a throne on which Miss America of 1902, Mrs. Lois Smiley was bedecked, with crown and all. Miss America demonstrated a clock radio and wrist watch which some lucky salesman will win.

A disguised roller skater in the person of Mr. Herc Renda demonstrated another prize, a pair of shoe skates. The show continued with the entrance of Mrs. Lowell Schneider in an old fashioned bathing costume, and Mr. Norman Felt in a tuxedo. Each was riding on a English type bicycle which will soon be owned by two lucky Madison students.

High point of the assembly was a demonstration by Mr. Emil Diewald on a trampoline. The trampoline will be the chief school prize awarded to the Madison students for their efforts in the drive.

The drive will continue through Monday.

AT EASTERN

Tuesday was the kick-off day for the Eastern Junior High magazine drive. The money earned by the school as a result of the campaign will be used for student activities honors and awards.

Eastern's annual open house honoring American Education week will be held on Monday evening, from 7 to 9 p.m. Classrooms will be open and refreshments served. All parents of children attending Eastern are invited. Teachers will be on hand to answer questions concerning courses of study or school activities.

Dog Pleads His Case

DES MOINES (AP) — Mrs. Mary Huncke, a member of the State Board of Social Welfare, recently helped care for an ailing daughter. Several times Mrs. Huncke answered the doorbell, but no one was there except her daughter's dog, Duke.

Mrs. Huncke thought some neighborhood children were being mischievous until she mentioned it to her daughter, who replied: "Oh, I forgot to tell you. Duke always rings the doorbell when he wants in."

Elect Morrow, Drake to Head St. Fred Clubs

By PATRICIA FOSTER

The Teen Club and the Future Nurses Club of St. Frederick High School elected officers this week.

The Future Nurses Club officers are: Maureen Drake, president; Peggy Durocher, vice president; Pat O'Leary, treasurer and Mary Duerr, secretary.

Last week the group's guest speaker was Mrs. Charlotte Marrin, assistant director of the McCauley School of Practical Nursing. Members of the club will attend a tea at the McCauley school of practical nursing, 126 Fulton St. November 21.

Seniors who attended Catholic Theater Day at Marygrove College in Detroit Saturday were entertained. Various schools enacted excerpts from their 1957 senior plays. These were commented upon by Father Urban Nagle, a Broadway playwright. The information gained should make for bigger and better senior plays next year.

Baby Reactor Made

CANOGA PARK, Calif.—A Canoga Park concern has developed a miniature nuclear reactor for use in school, industrial, and medical laboratories.

It can be operated by one man. The cylindrical reactor is 8 feet high and 8 feet in diameter. It sells for $55,000 and can be installed without special facilities, the company says.

Name 'Gasoline Alley'

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Portage Terrace in nearby Cuyahoga Falls is gaining the nickname "Gasoline Alley." In a 1.4-mile distance, there are 11 service stations. One has a sign: "Better fill up here—last station for 50 feet."

HANOVER COURTHOUSE, Va. (AP)—Judges for the Hanover Farmers' Picnic were disappointed. Watermelons and cantaloupes were judged entirely on looks — no tasting.

Report Cards Due Monday at St. Mikes

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

Monday will be another one of those days. Report cards are due then at St. Michael High School.

Tuesday Father Immel and the boys of the high school had a Holy Name Meeting. They were then reminded to attend Mass Sunday to receive Holy Communion publicly in a body.

The Holy Name's main objective is to suppress the profane usage of God's name. All of the men and boys of the parish belong to the organization.

Saturday St. Mike's football team, at the annual homecoming game, trounced St. Mary's of Royal Oak to regain the roamin' jug, which was aquired in 1950. The score was 21-0.

LINCOLN CHOIR CONCERT TODAY — The 45 students at Lincoln Junior High School who are members of the concert choir have a busy schedule this fall, especially yesterday and today when they present the Fall Serenade. The group is under the direction of Jerry Smith, head of the Lincoln music department. Plans for a Christmas program will follow today's concert.

Your Solution Should Be Like This

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) SUNNY. A bright outlook on everything makes for a cheerful, happy, household. Parents who consider everything funny might laugh at the wrong things for a sensitive child. FUNNY can also mean odd, peculiar, which seldom means happiness.

B. (3) MELODY. It's hearing the MELODY of "Our Song" which brings back the memory of the romantic moments associated with it. The MELODY is the reminder.

C. (6) CAPTIOUS. A man who is too fault-finding and over-critical finds it hard to get the co-operation usually needed for success. The cautious man often is thorough and wants to make sure that every move he makes is a wise one.

D. (7) SIMULATED. Firesales are often an excuse to bring in shoddy merchandise with a phony mark-down — a SIMULATED or pretended bargain. This is particularly easy to do with furniture. The "purchase of real bargains" is less often stimulated. Though customers are excited into buying, the "real bargains" are seldom satisfactory.

E. (10) WARNING. In an uneasy border peace, the first warring shot may be the last, but it's a WARNING that trouble may start, and the tourist is well-advised to leave.

F. (12) GLEAMING. A GLEAMING smile suggests beautiful white teeth, which add greatly to a woman's charm. A beaming smile is as likely to be the friendly expression of a toothless ole crone or eccentric, with no charm whatever.

G. (14) BLOCKING. Merely locking a door would not necessarily prevent a determined group, such as a mob, from entering. They could shoot away the lock or batter the door down. But BLOCKING, with enough stalwart guards or with heavy pieces of furniture, would afford better protection.

H. (15) IMITATIONS. IMITATIONS of a famous star usually caricature her mannerisms sometimes to the point of ridicule. A star might not appreciate this affront to her vanity. Most stars are well aware of their own limitations, such as the inability to play certain types of roles.

I. (17) BLUNDER. Love is likely to make a girl BLUNDER into marrying a good-for-nothing man. This may not mean that she is blinder to his faults, but only that, knowing them, she loves him anyhow.

J. (29) UNREADY. Dad will hesitate to turn over responsibilities to a son who is not yet READY for them; he will wait for a better time. "Hesitate" is hardly the word if the son is unsteady; there would be no wavering about it. Dad would probably not even consider turning things over to an unsteady son.

K. (21) RELATED. The flowers and the apology are RELATED — this is, flowers are sent in connection with an apology. The apology is not belated, since it is sent "next day," or as soon as possible after the guest unavoidably had to miss the party.

L. (24) DESOLATE. Though a man would not be DESOLATE if he had friends, in time of need, neighbors usually rally around out of pity. A dissolute man is of bad moral character and couldn't count at all on neighborly help.

M. (26) PARISH. In many old towns, the houses are garish, since they were built in a period of overdecoration. Any house assigned to the preacher would, whether garish or not, be the PARISH house.

N. (27) UNCTUOUS. A manner that is too fervid or fawning repels people by its lack of grace and sincerity. A man with an anxious manner seems unsure of himself, but this is often shyness with which others can sympathize.

O. (30) PROPOUND. To PROPOUND opinions, quick-witted answers are needed in an argument. To offer opinions, when an argument arises, one must be prepared with ready answers in order to be convincing. Profound opinions are too intense and thorough to be challenged with quick answers; they must be thought over more carefully.

P. (31) COMPULSION. A murderer, when caught is sometimes given to whining that something made him do it. He may feel compunction now that he is caught, but he can hardly claim that he "felt" regret at the time.

Q. (33) AUTOCRATIC. When a manufacturer fails to meet a labor unions demands, it may mean that the labor leaders on their own authority will call a strike. It should not mean an automatic strike — one that follows inevitably — since the dispute can often be settled by arbitration.

R. (35) WOUNDED. Any creature that is WOUNDED is likely to win sympathy for his suffering. A fox is a destructive animal, and one does not feel sorry if he is chased or hounded.

S. (38) PEERLESS. A PEERLESS knight was without a equal, and in the olden days, a girl's romantic hero would have seemed so to her. This would include his being fearless, as well as having other fine qualities.

T. (40) EMPLOYER. An EMPLOYER should be extra careful about losing his temper at work, since he needs the respect of every employe. An employe's ill-temper may cost his job, but his courage in speaking up perhaps may inspire respect.

Use Prickly Teasels to Raise Tweed Burr

ATHELNEY, England — Not far from Athelney, where legend says King Alfred burned the cakes, one of England's smallest crops—and certainly the prickliest — is grown. On a small area in Somerset all Britain's teasels are harvested.

Makers of fine tweeds discovered long ago that the little hooks on the prickley cones of the teazel heads are ideal for combining up the nap or "raising the burr."

These "wire brushes of nature" go through a complicated process before they are placed in revolving drums in carding machines to rotate in the opposite direction to the cloth, brushing against it and gently plucking out the strands, smoothing and leveling the material.

Foreign Policy Revision Urged

Reuther Asks Greater Moral 'Leadership' at UNESCO Conference

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Walter Reuther urges a revision of United States foreign policy to provide what he called greater moral "leadership" in the H-bomb age.

The United Auto Workers Union leader spoke yesterday at the sixth National Conference on UNESCO, the largest conference on Asia ever held in this country.

Some 1,500 delegates split today into panels to discuss aspects of the theme—"Asia and the United States: What the American Citizen Can Do to Promote Mutual Understanding and Cooperation."

Another speaker, Stanley C. Allyn, criticized the economic techniques of Americans. Allyn is chairman of the conference committee.

Reuther urged a foreign policy revision "to provide greater leadership in the world." He said that "particularly we must provide greater moral leadership, for the crisis under the shadow of the H-bomb is essentially moral.

"You can't win the struggle for the hearts and minds of mankind with a bigger H-bomb," he said.

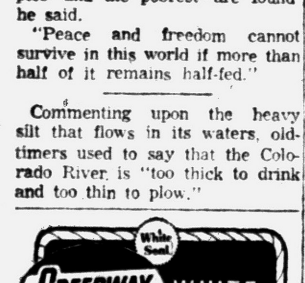

"The H-bomb and two Soviet satellites orbiting overhead — put there by intercontinental ballistic rockets — have reduced all mankind to a common human denomination. Until we understand this you and I are in trouble."

Communism is making its greatest headway in Asia and Africa, where most of the world's peoples—and the poorest—are found he said.

"Peace and freedom cannot survive in this world if more than half of it remains half-fed."

Commenting upon the heavy silt that flows in its waters, oldtimers used to say that the Colorado River is "too thick to drink and too thin to plow."

Strike Ties Up Steel Metropolis

Transportation Walkout in Pittsburgh Goes Into 26th Straight Day

PITTSBURGH (AP) — This steel metropolis today struggled for the 26th straight day without its main transportation system as losses from a strike mounted into unestimated millions.

Drawing on experience gained during a similar 35-day strike of trolley and bus operators against the Pittsburgh Railways Co. in 1954, residents generally have adjusted to finding other means of getting to work and to school.

But merchants have felt the strike keenly. Many shoppers have put off buying, hoping the walkout won't last much longer.

It is estimated that business of big department stores has been og between 30 and 40 per cent. Sales in neighborhood business sections also have been affected.

Taking up the transportation slack in a metropolitan area of some 1½ million are auto pools, commuter trains, taxicabs and 14 independent bus lines connecting the downtown section with various suburbs.

Before the strike started Oct. 14 Pittsburgh Railways had an estimated 350,000 daily riders.

The influx of autos into the congested downtown area has caused several monumental traffic jams. Pittsburgh's hilly terrain, twisting streets and lack of main throughways all contribute to the vexing traffic problem.

City officials have moved to ease the situation by inaugurating new traffic rules. Others are in the works.

There has been some discussion of organized staggering of working hours at plants and offices. So far nothing much has come of it.

No end of the strike is in sight. Federal and state mediators are watching closely for a change in position by either side to call for resumption of stalled negotiations.

About 2,200 trolley and bus operators struck in a contract dispute centering on wages.

The strikers, members of Division 85 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, demand a 36-cent hourly wage increase in a two-year contract.

Before talks collapsed Pittsburgh Railways offered a two-year pact with a 16-cent-an-hour raise over the basic pay rate of $2.14. This included a four-cent cost-of-living increment which the firm offered to freeze into the basic scale.

Built-In Fire Insurance

WASHINGTON — A curious species of pine carries built-in fire insurance. The heat of a forest conflagration is needed to trigger the slow opening of cones and release of seeds. Thus the tree automatically replants a burned out tract.

The KUHN AUTO WASH CLUB PLAN

1. WHAT IS IT?

It's a very unique new system for keeping your car sparkling clean all the time. If you belonged to the KUHN Auto Wash Club you'd have your car washed whenever you wanted to without a thought of the cost or a concern for the weather.

2. HOW CAN IT BENEFIT ME?

Ever have your car washed in the morning, only to have it rain in the afternoon? Gray day . . . Wondering whether to get the car washed, or wait? KUHN Auto Wash Club members don't worry about those things—they have their cars washed anytime they want to even if it means another wash tomorrow, or even that same day.

3.—IS IT GOOD FOR MY CAR?

You bet it is! Facts prove that a regularly cleaned automobile brings an average of 20% more at resale time. Regular washing keeps ahead of the ravages of nature. Sun and snow, road tar and salt, airborne dust and chemicals will ruin the finish of any car when allowed to stay on. For example, the road salt that makes icy pavements safe for driving, is at the same time a ruthless enemy of your car's finish, attacking the chrome in only 8 hours after contact.

4. HOW DOES IT WORK?

Your membership in the KUHN Auto Wash Club entitles you to as many car washes as you desire in a given 12-month period. It also entitles you to have your car wax-treated ($17.50 value) any time during the same 12-month period. This means your car can be clean—SPARKLING CLEAN—all the time. If your car is new it will remain new looking for as long as you take advantage of your membership in the KUHN Auto Wash Club.

Ingrid and Rosellini Part, Say They're Still Friends

Rome for London Sunday. Her three young children will stay with relatives until she finds a London apartment.

Asked if she would ever like to visit Hollywood again, the woman who was once reigning queen of that glittering city broke into prolonged laughter and finally said, "Not particularly. I like it here."

LIVE IN EUROPE

She said she planned to make a permanent home in Europe, though not necessarily Italy, after another year-and-a-half of picture making.

What then, possibly marriage again?

Ingrid again laughed resoundingly but finally said: "I wouldn't answer that question."

Actually, there appears to be no man in Ingrid's life. All of her friends are convinced of that.

WOMAN WAITING

They are almost as certain that there is a woman waiting for Rossellini—dark-eyed Sonali Das Gupta, the married Indian scriptwriter with whom his name has been linked romantically for the past several months.

Rossellini may see her today. She slipped into Paris several weeks ago, reportedly with one of her children, and has been in hiding.

HEADS FOR PARIS

His secretary said today that Rossellini had gone to Pisa, where he had picked up his Ferrari racing car and a driver and headed for Paris.

Rossellini's lawyer, Ercole Graziadei, said the movie maker had an appointment at a color film producing plant near Brussels where he was to complete a business deal in connection with films he has made in India.

Graziadei said Rossellini might go to Belgium via Paris.

Yesterday's legal separation is the nearest thing to a divorce which one can obtain in an Italian court.

A close friend revealed that the couple had made a private agreement on eventual divorce in another country, possibly a Mexican proxy divorce such as Ingrid obtained from her first husband.

Rossellini was said to have agreed to assume the role of the guilty party.

Under the separation agreement Ingrid's three children by her marriage to Rossellini will remain with their mother.

Jenny Ann Lindstrom, Ingrid's 18-year-old daughter by her marriage to Dr. Lindstrom, is attending Colorado University where she is a sophomore. Jenny had nothing to say about her mother's separation from Rossellini.

Rossellini agreed to pay $960 a month toward maintenance of his son, Robertino, 7, and twin daughters, Isabella and Isotta, 5.

Rossellini gets "full freedom" to visit the children and to have them visit him at certain periods. It was agreed the youngsters will be educated in Europe and Italian will be stressed as their basic language.

SHOCKED WORLD

In a formal statement, issued through their lawyer, Ercole Graziadei, the couple whose Stromboli romance in 1949 shocked the world declared:

"We have realized for some time it is difficult to continue with our common life. The diverse directions that our artistic activities took in the past two years were themselves caused by a diversity of views and interest which separated us and were already interpreted this way."

Their first child was born Feb. 2, 1950, and a week later Ingrid obtained a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom.

She and Rossellim were married May 24, 1950 and the folowing November Lindstrom won a divorce in a counter-suit.

1st Monument to Woman

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the first monument erected to a woman in the United States honors Hannah Duston, who was captured by Indians at Haverhill, Massachusetts, in 1697. Hannah, another woman, and a boy supposedly killed ten Indians to make their escape. The statue at Haverhill shows Hannah with her tomahawk in her hand.

teaching as a vocation; 11.6 per cent elected engineering and 6.3 per cent business.

This, Dr. Hannah said, supported the decision to offer a strong program in liberal arts with opportunities in engineering, business and teaching.

In light of the Soviet Union's scientific and engineering progress, as recently revealed through sputnik and muttnik, he said, Michigan cannot afford to ignore the educational needs of tens of thousands of young people who will find it increasingly difficult to get into the present colleges and universities as enrollments reach the saturation point.

Branch colleges will meet this need in addition to their ability to provide leadership in solving local problems of government, taxation, zoning, education and recreation, Dr. Hannah stated.

Lawmakers Get Phony Invitations to Reds' Shindig

The handsomely embossed fake invitations were for a celebration "of the 40th anniversary of the world's most powerful slave empire and the farewell party in honor of our former minister of defense, Marshal Georgi Zhukov." Zhukov was removed from his post a week ago.

Commented a Soviet Embassy spokesman: "It's obviously a not very clever attempt to be funny. It's a very poor joke."

Live in Natural Caves

WASHINGTON — In Spain's southern provinces entire communities live below ground in natural caves. Their homes vary just as houses do: Some have only a single room, others as many as 20 chambers with tiled floors and whitewashed walls. Granada's caverns, a center of flamenco art, have sheltered many of Spain's finest singers and dancers.

Ike Planning Brief Holiday in Georgia

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has reportedly changed his mind and will spend a brief vacation in Georgia this month after all.

Eisenhower said last week he did not think he would be able to get away because of his busy schedule. But he now hopes to spend five days golfing at the Augusta National Club.

Present plans call for the chief executive to fly to Augusta next Friday, returning to Washington the following Tuesday.

Since he has been in the White House, the President has spent part of November at his favorite golfing retreat each year.

But his stay will be shorter than usual this time because of the Russian satellite crisis and other problems.

The planned trip to Augusta will mark the President's first trip south of the Mason-Dixon Line since he ordered federal troops in to settle the school integration crisis at Little Rock, Ark.

Land now used by Arlington national cemetery was sold in the 17the century for six hogsheads of tobacco.

Visit on Space Ship Brings Sanity Test

KEARNEY, NEB. (AP) — A mental illness complaint has been filed against R. O. Schmidt, 58-year-old Brawley, Calif., grain buyer who told a bizzarre tale of visiting a space ship near Kearney, Buffalo County attorney Kenneth Gotobed announced today.

The county attorney filed the complaint after examination of Schmidt by two psychiatrists. A mental board hearing will be held promptly as possible, Gotobed said.

The county attorney said he believes Schmidt "greatly desires recognition and publicity."

Schmidt got both when he told his strange tale of visiting a space ship parked on the banks of the Platte River and chatted with its crew for about a half hour before the ship rose into the air and vanished.

Young African Students Give Blood for Study

PRETORIA, South Africa — Elementary-school pupils in Pretoria, age 10 to 12, recently donated a teaspoonful of blood each for research to determine cholesterol content and its bearing on man's No. 1 killer — heart disease.

The research project seeks to establish possible links between diet and the formation of cholesterol in the blood stream, an undue amount of which is said to hasten heart disease.

Call Hitchhiker in Police Killing

Tries to Identify Man Who Reportedly Fits Description of Gunman

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP) — A North Carolina hitchhiker who was riding with a gunman when he killed a policeman was due here today to try to identify a man who police said fits the killer's description.

The man was captured yesterday following a two-day, three-state search after two North Carolina highway patrolmen were killed when they tried to flag down a speeding automobile.

Robert Terry Jr., 30, Norman, N.C., told police he was riding with the man who gunned one of the officers.

Held here on a loitering and vagrancy charge was a man identified as Kenneth Combs, 24, who gave his address as Cincinnati, Ohio.

Combs' arrest came after police in North Carolina, Tennessee ad Kentucky followed a trail of stolen and abandoned automobiles.

The car identified by Terry as the one in which the killer was riding was found in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Police Chief Donald Van Arsdall said Combs apparently hitchhiked into Georgetown sometime yesterday. He said Combs told a confused story about his whereabouts.

Van Arsdall said a shirt in one of Combs' suitcases seemed to be bloodstained. One of the stolen cars was wrecked and police found bloodstains in it.

Terry said he got into a 1957 black Oldsmobile Tuesday when hitchhiking outside Ashboro, N.C.

He said a patrol car flagged them down and when the patrolman approached the car, the driver shot him. Terry said he jumped from the car.

Killed Tuesday night were Patrolmen Wiester Lee Reece, 39, near Ellerbee, N.C., and J. T. Brown near Stanford, N.C.

Accident Fatalities Reported Cut in Half

DETROIT (AP) — The automobile accident fatality rate has been cut in more than half in the last two decades, says a spokesman for the Automotive Safety Foundation.

Levin H. Campbell, chairman of the foundation's Board of Trustees, told a dinner audience last night that the automobile fatality rate has been reduced from 14.7 deaths per 100 million vehicles in 1937 to six in 1957.

He spoke at a dinner marking the 20th anniversary of the foundation.

Joseph O. Mattson, foundation president, said that in the last 20 years, motor vehicle registrations have soared from less than 30 million to more than 67 million.

"The automobile has become indispensable to the average American in his way of living and making a living," Mattson said.

Wins Custody Fight for Two Children

DETROIT (AP)—Truman H. Newberry II, member of a socially prominent Detroit family, has won his court fight to regain custody of his two children from their stepfather.

Newberry had asked custody of Truman III, 8, and Joy Anne, 7, after learning that his ex-wife and mother of the children, Mrs. Anne Macourt Newberry Bird, 34, died Sept. 22.

The Newberrys were divorced in 1955.

The former Mrs. Newberry married Norman L. Bird, vice president of the National Bank of Detroit, in August, 1956. She died unexpectedly while attending a bankers convention with him in Atlantic City.

Judge Miles N. Culehan ruled that Newberry, a stockbroker who recently remarried and makes his home in St. Davids, Pa., is the natural father and should have his children.

The number of students enrolled in higher education in the United States has increased from 50,000 in 1870 to more than 3 million in 1957.

The ITU currently holds a contract covering the workers. The contract expires Nov. 30.

Mortician Attempts to Regain License

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Mortuary Science has been asked to restore the license of a mortician convicted for taking $3.99 from a dead body.

David Nugent, Mesick mortician, served 75 days in the Wexford County Jail and was fined $100 for the theft from the body of Richard Zue, an accident victim, on Nov. 4, 1955.

The Board of Mortuary Science also revoked his license.

Nugent appealed the license suspension to Circuit Court and Judge Charles L. Brown of Traverse City held that the license suspension was "too severe" and that the board should restore the license.

The board now has until Nov. 24 to decide whether to restore the license or ask the attorney general's office to fight the Circuit Court order to the State Supreme Court.

Sir Thomas Dilling, formerly senior veterinarian with the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, recently retired at the age of 65. He is a Scotchman.

Debate Paying Trip Expenses

Flint Officials Battle Order Which Curtails Funds for Meetings

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court has denied a request from the city of Flint for leave to appeal from a Circuit Court order aimed at curtailing expense-paid trips by city officials.

The court denial was without prejudice which will permit the city to later appeal the case to the high court after it is tried in the lower court.

Circuit Judge Paul V. Gadola issued the restraining order which prevented the city from using public funds except for public purposes.

This prevented the use of city money to send nine city councilmen and four other city officials to meetings at New York and Mackinac Island.

Guy L. Nellie and W. Odgle, Flint taxpayers, objected to the two trips and obtained the order.

The nine city council members first voted them selves $500 each for expense money for a trip to the conference of mayors at New York Sapt. 9-12 and $300 each to attend a conference of the Michigan Municipal League Sept. 5-7 at Mackinac Island.

They also voted to have the city manager, city attorney, director of finances and city clerk attend the meeting with the city to pay actual expenses.

The council members later voted to attend the two meetings on the basis that only actual expenses would be paid and expense accounts would be submitted.

The taxpayers bringing the suit contended that the trips were not necessary and not in the public interest and therefore should not be paid for from public funds.

Justice Reed Expects Trouble

Head of Civil Rights Commission Brought From Retirement

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed looks for "plenty of trouble" ahead for the new Civil Rights Commission he has been named to head.

He was one of nine justices who by unanimous decision in 1954 declared racial segregation in the public schools unconstitutional.

Now, the results of that controversial ruling have brought Reed back from retirement to try to ease some of the tensions that resulted, as well as to look into other phases of civil rights.

The Kentucky-born Democrat, who will be 73 next month, has been named by President Eisenhower to head the six-member commission in a two-year study of civil rights problems.

Last Feb. 25, Reed stepped down from the Supreme Court where he had served for 19 years, because he said it no longer seemed wise to continue "the strain of unremitting exertion" required by his court duties.

Last night, Reed, smiling and looking fit, stepped from a plane at Washington's National Airport to learn that the President had announced his return to a new government post.

Reed was just coming back from a rules committee meeting of the American Bar Assn. at Louiville, Ky. He was still working on judicial matters.

Asked if he foresaw difficulties ahead in his new job, he replied "I'm sure we'll have plenty of trouble." But he seemed quite content to face whatever it might be.

Though officially retired at $35,000 a year, Reed has kept his hand in judicial matters. Federal retirement law permits him to sit on lower courts when requested to do so. Only last June, he broke precedent by serving on a U.S. court of claims case here.

He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1938 by President Roosevelt after a career in government work that included service as solicitor general—the government's chief lawyer before the Supreme Court.

On Last Leg of 5,000 Mile Trip

bearded adventurers nearing the end of a 5,000-mile canoe trip believed unequaled sinc the days of th French - Canadian voyageurs were lionized here today.

The quartet arrived after a five-mile trip from North Twin Dam in which they towed their two canoes and baggage in a trailer. They were met at the town limits by the Stearns High School band and municipal dig- with red hunting caps and a symbolic key to the paper town.

They were entertained at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Chase of Millinocket and later addressed a high school assembly.

The four are Ed Vestal, 29, Bengt Soderstrom, 32, both of Aspen, Colo., Earl Rickers 29, of Cutler, Calif., and Gerald Hewey, 27, of Cape Elizabeth. They expect to end their rugged trip from Denver, Colo., Monday at Old Town.

They left this northern Maine town last night, portaging their canoes and equipment. The river will carry them tomorrow in easy stages to Lincoln and over the weekend to their destination, some five miles from Bangor.

Police said last night entrance was made into the store one night last week through a high window.

They added that the boy hadto be rescued a couple of times in the past from buildings he had climbed.

All but $100 of the $319 stolen was recovered.

HIGH SCHOOLS BOUNDARIES?—The above diagram maps out the proposed boundary line for school attendance of the present Pontiac High School and the new high school now under construction on Arlene street between Madison and Perry streets. Students living in the territory above the line are to attend the new school expected to open next fall; those living south of the line will attend the present high school if the Board of Education approves the boundaries Wednesday when they are expected to reach a final decision.

Proposed Boundaries for 2 High Schools

After more than a month of research, a three man executive committee appointed by the Board of Education has mapped a proposed boundary line to determine which high school students in Pontiac will attend the present high school or the one now under construction.

Now, it's up to the parents and ultimately the Board of Education to put their stamp of approval on the boundary line.

Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of Pontiac schools secondary education and chairman of the committee reports the board is scheduled to make a final decision on the proposed boundary line Wednesday.

Parents are urged to inspect the boundary line as "we want their reaction and constructive suggestions concerning the plan," Curtis explained.

The tentative boundary is: City limits from the Grand Trunk Railroad; West boulevard to Kennett road to the Grand Trunk tracks; south on the railroad to Rundell; down Glenwood to Paddock to Mt. Clemens and out Featherstone to the city limits.

JANUARY SENIORS EXCEPTED

Students living north and west of this boundary will attend the new high school costing more than $3 million now under construction on Arlene street and between Madison and Perry streets. An exception will be made for those students who will graduate in January of 1959 and wish to remain in the present high school.

The boundary line was determined after a committee of 31 Parent Teacher Association officers and two senior high school girls pinpointed grade level maps indicating where each student now in grades 5 through 11-A lives.

From these, the committee composed of Curtis, Francis W. Staley, PHS principal and Richard C. Fell, director of Pontiac schools Vocal Education; drew up the boundary line which would be most convenient for all students, at least until 1962, Curtis explained.

The line was determined by the natural lines of communication; convenience and the number of students living in various sections of Pontiac.

According to the study, next fall the new high school will enroll 1,000 students, with 2,057 in the present school.

SAME CURRICULUM

Curtis said that with the possible exception of several shop courses, the new school will offer the same curriculum and organizations as the present high school.

At the present time, school officials are trying to work out a proposed football schedule for the new school. There is a possibility the school may not have a team the first year of operation.

Student transfer provisions concerning the boundary lines make exceptions for the need of mental, emotional or physical health of the child.

Slot Machines in Kentucky Hold Cigarettes, Pop

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — An exchange teacher shocked the Campbell County Chamber of Commerce yesterday by saying she has seen slot machines in wide use here.

Campbell County has been pointed out as a gambling spot many times, but has had no recent raids.

Tension eased, however, when Miss Sylvia Harrison, Brighouse, Yorkshire, England, said she confused the American term "slot machine."

Break Up Anti-Red Disturbances at U.N.

NEW YORK (AP)—Police broke up two demonstrations last night outside the Soviet United Nations delegation headquarters on Park Avenue, where a reception was being held to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The demonstrations were sponsored by an organization calling itself "American Friends of the Anti-Bolshevist Bloc of Nations, Inc."

Officers, mounted and afoot, swung night sticks to keep back some 300 shouting, shoving persons. Five men were arrested. Five patrolmen suffered slight injuries. One picket fainted.

Kennedy Says Dems Must Rally Behind Ike Move

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Democrats will rally behind President Eisenhower's "belated" move to overhaul the Russians in development of satellites and missiles, Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) told a Democratic audience here last night.

"Perhaps it is too late for us to catch up with the Soviets—perhaps there is nothing we can do—but we dare not fail to make the effort," he said.

Kennedy, who spoke shortly after Eisenhower's nationally televised address, said the President failed to tell the people "that we may be as much as several years behind in rocket motors, new fuels, jet engines, radar and nuclear-powered planes."

The country's position is "far more grim than the President indicated," he said.

Shoe Shine Boy Is 86

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Dozia Sherman, 86, has been shining shoes for 77 years. Sherman, son of a slave family, says he hopes he lives to be 111, like his daddy. "I'm holding onto God's hand," he says.

Arrest 2 Teenagers for Bomb Threat

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Spelling errors in a bomb-threat note to blow up Chester High School yesterday led to the arrest of two teenage pupils.

Teachers gave a spelling test to 1,000 male pupils to see which ones misspelled the five words misspelled in the note. Detectives said 70 boys misspelled the words. The list was cut to two by detectives John Taylor and Herbert Wright, who considered such other details as which boys had been wearing blue shirts and khaki trousers—as described by a secretary who saw the note pushed under a glass door.

The detectives said they found a typewriter on which the note was written in the home of Bradford Beckley, 17. He was charged with writing a threatening letter. Donald Fisher, 17, was charged with conspiracy.

Statts told officers the gunman also took several watches and rings from the belongings of deceased persons.

Based on the Best-Selling Novel by Nevil Shute

As the atomic USS SCORPION returned to Melbourne after a fruitless search for signs of human life along the upper coasts of Australia—

—skipper Dwight Towers and Australian scientist John Osborne discussed the recent war. Osborne confided that Albania dropped the first bombs—one on Naples, another on Tel Aviv. Added Osborne, "Then the British and Americans intervened and made that demonstration flight over Cairo." 11-8

"Next day the Egyptians sent out all the serviceable bombers they'd got, six to Washington and seven to London. After that there weren't many American or British statesmen left alive."

Bing and Kathy Inclined to Have Sizable Family

They arrived late yesterday, and Crosby promptly became an adopted Texan as he stepped off a plane at Houston, 71 miles northeast of here. Notice that he now is an honorary citizen of the state was delivered by a representative of Gov. Price Daniel.

"Oh yes, she'll continue making pictures," Crosby said.

Another questioner wanted to know if she planned a large family, and Kathy replied: "We're Catholics, you know."

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at a stockholders' meeting. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow directions and obtains a key to a hotel room for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired. She points a gun at him, which he takes from her. Since the gun has been fired recently, Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason and Paul Drake, a detective, go to the hotel room and find a woman murdered. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She is divorcing Farrell and wants to help Conway. Farrell is having an affair with Rose Calvert, a secretary. Mrs. Farrell obtains carbons of the proxy list. Mason identified the body as Rose Calvert. Farrell must have had Conway's telephone tapped and had a girl call Conway, giving erroneous instructions, just before the call he was expecting from Rosalind. The proxy list planted in Conway's car doesn't compare with the list Mason has. After advising Conway to tell nothing but the truth, Mason takes him to the District Attorney's office. The District Attorney accuses Mason of getting his client out of circulation until he had time to concoct a story.

CHAPTER 23

Mason said, "Mr. Burger, I will answer that question if you tell me that you are asking that question in your official capacity, and that as a citizen and as an officer of the court it is my duty to answer."

"What are you trying to do?" Hamilton Burger asked.

"I'm trying to protect myself," Mason told him. "Do you tell me that such is the case?"

"I tell you such is the case. Answer the question."

"Very well," Mason said. "I felt there was great possibility that, if there had been a frame-up—and mind you, I say if, gentlemen, I am not stating that there was a frame-up. I am simply stating that if there had been a frame-up—there is always the possibility that frame-up might have something to do with the Texas Global proxy fight.

"With that in view, I did a lot of investigative work last night and learned that Gifford Farrell had been taking a great interest in a Rose M. Calvert. I learned that the description of this young woman matched perfectly the description of the young woman whose body I had seen in the hotel bedroom. Therefore, I decided to go to see Rose Calvert's husband and see if I could find some photographs of his wife. I felt that perhaps such a trip would disclose important information."

"And that is the reason you went to see the husband?" Lt. Tragg asked, suddenly curious.

"That is why I went to see him."

"How did you get his address?" Tragg asked.

THERE WAS A LETTER

"I was advised," Mason said, "that there was a letter in the letter box at the Lane Vista Apartments where Rose Calvert has her apartment, addressed to her and bearing the return address of Norton B. Calvert of 6831 Washington Heights, Elsinore."

"How did you know that letter was there?" Hamilton Burger asked.

"I was advised it was there."

"By whom?"

"By a detective."

"And he looked at that letter?" Burger asked.

"No, sir, I don't think he did. I think he, in turn, was advised by another detective, who was shadowing the apartment at the request of still another party."

"Mrs. Farrell?" Lt. Tragg asked.

"I didn't say that, Lieutenant. I didn't mention any names. I am simply trying to tell you how it happened I went to Elsinore. I have been ordered to answer that question and I am trying not to withhold information. I don't want you to think I am making any accusations. I am only exposing my mental processes."

"Well, you seem to have had a remarkably brilliant flash of inspiration, or intuition, or mental telepathy or psychic ability, or whatever you want to call it," Hamilton Burger said sarcastically.

IT WAS ROSE'S BODY

"The body was that of Rose Calvert but we didn't know it until about six o'clock this morning. You evidently had the information some hours before we did, and did nothing about it."

"I didn't have the information," Mason said. "I saw pictures and I noticed that there was quite a resemblance. I told Mr. Calvert that I was very much afraid his wife had been the victim of a tragedy. I felt that if he wanted to pursue the matter further he would get in touch with the police.

"However, you can appreciate my position. I certainly couldn't start saying that Rose Calvert had been murdered, and then have it appear the whole thing was a hideous mistake, and Rose Calvert would show up alive and well.

"Making an identification of a corpse whom you have seen only once from snapshots is rather a ticklish matter as you, Lieutenant, undoubtedly realize."

"You're being very conservative all at once," Hamilton Burger said.

"I wanted to be sure," Mason said.

"Moreover," Burger went on, "you aren't telling us the truth about how you secured the husband's address."

"What do you mean?"

"There wasn't any such letter in the mailbox."

"I was advised that there was."

"Well, there wasn't."

"I'm sorry," Mason said, "but that's how I got the address . . . I was told the letter was there."

Hamilton Burger turned to Redfield. "Redfield," he said impatiently, "get to your laboratory and test that gun. Fire test bullets from it. Identify it as the fatal weapon. At least let's get that done. That's what you're here for."

Redfield made no move to leave his chair. "May I say something, Mr. District Attorney?" he asked.

Hamilton Burger, his patience worn thin, shouted, "Well, what the hell do you want to say? That's the second time you've made that crack."

"And I was told not to say anything," Redfield said.

"Well, if you have anything to say, for heaven's sake, say it and then start checking on that bullet."

Redfield said, "This gun is not the murder weapon. The fatal bullet which killed Rose Calvert was fired from a Colt revolver. A Colt has six grooves which are inclined to the left. This is a Smith & Wesson revolver and, for your information, it has five grooves which are inclined to the right."

THE WRONG GUN

"I knew as soon as Mr. Conway passed over this gun that it couldn't possibly have been the murder weapon."

"What?" Hamilton Burger shouted.

Mason strove to keep a poker face. He looked sharply at Conway.

Hamilton Burger seemed trying to get his ideas oriented.

Suddenly he said, "So that's it! It's the same old razzle-dazzle. Mason has taken this murder weapon and switched it. He's had his client turn in this other gun, and is acting on the assumption that no one can disprove his story without producing the young woman from whom Conway says he took this gun . . . And the minute that is done there will be confirmation of Conway's story. . . . This is a typical Perry Mason razzle-dazzle!"

"I resent that!" Perry Mason said.

"Resent it and be damned!" Hamilton Burger shouted. "I've seen too many of your slick substitutions, your slight of hand . . . your . . ."

"Just a minute," Mason interrupted. "Don't be foolish. I am perfectly willing to resort to some forms of unconventional action for the purpose of checking the testimony of a witness. However, I certainly would not be party to any substitution of a murder weapon and then have a client tell you a lie about it."

"Poppycock!" Hamilton Burger said.

For a moment, there was a silence. The men all seemed to be at an impasse. Abruptly, Burger picked up the telephone and said, "Bring Gifford Farrell in here, please."

The door from an anteroom opened, and Sgt. Holcomb of Homicide Squad escorted a debonair individual into the District Attorney's office.

Animals 'at Home' at New Ghana Zoo

There will be virtually no buildings to protect the animals from the elements and they'll just do what's natural to keep out of the elements. The zoo, a $40,000 proposition, will be in a broad valley on the outskirts of the town.

The adjoining swamp will be the home of several hippos. Two acres of forest will be planted for monkeys, such as the colorful leaf-eaters, which die if caged. There will be fenced paddocks for antelopes and special enclosures for snakes.

Columbus discovered some unusually deep waters off the northern coast of Honduras. And that is how the Central American nation got its name, for Honduras means "The Depths."

Loot Multiplies to $900 Level in Pot-O-Gold

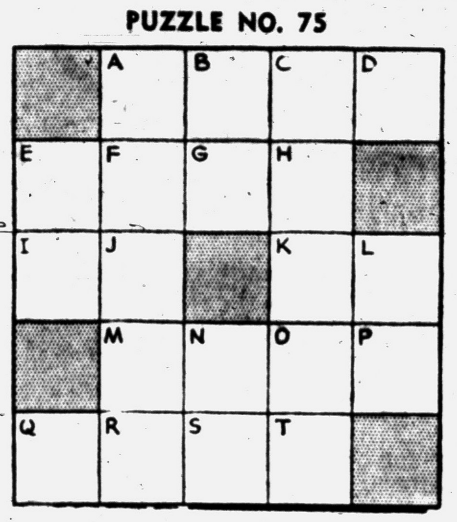

It doesn't take long for the dollars to mount up in Pot-O-Gold. Right now they're inching their way toward the $1000 mark. And you know what happens then—entries pour in by the thousands. The more entries there are, the more chance there is that someone else will walk off with the money, so avoid the rush and get your entry in now. Those few correct numbers can mean $900 for you.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a correspondinp list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(for Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Next Thursday in Acapulco, small Janie Powell, who has been our silver-est blonde, will dye coal-black to portray the native girl in "Typee."

SCOOP REPORT FROM L.O.P.

"Bennett Cerf whispered in my ear that he had a big story for me. He said Harry Cohn had personally bought 'They Came to Codura,' a book Random House is bringing out next month.

"The author, Glendon Swarthout, has written about the war between the Americans and Mexicans in this novel, and it is a very exciting adventure tale.

"Checking with Harry Cohn, he said Columbia will make 'Codura' one of the big pictures of the coming year, and he'd like to see Marlon Brando in the male lead.

"The price was considerable, since it was getting a good deal of bidding from the film companies for the galley proofs."

James Mason is delighted to be going from "Infamy" to Sophia Loren—and who can blame him, since it also includes going to Hungary? Plus a dashing comedy, which is a change of pace for the darkly romantic Mr. M.

Seems as how he has been signed for "Olympia," a sexy comedy by that frisky playwright of old Vienna, Franz Molnar. James will portray an army officer who poses as a thief to test the true love of a lady of title, which, of course, is Sophia's role.

The picture will be produced by Carlo Ponti and Marcello Gerosi for Paramount in Hungary, come early spring.

The hostess with the mostest, Perle Mesta, is in town for the Imperial Ball which is a big annual event in our town.

Perle is a guest of honor, and made the trip all the way from the East to aid this most worthy cause which Jane Russell heads. Proceeds go to the WAIF organization designed to help American parents adopt refugee children herself.

Among the many who will attend are the Gregson Bautzers (Dana Wynter), Charlton Hestons, Van Johnsons, Lauritz Melchiors, Esther Williams and Ben Gage, Gracie Allen and George Burns, the Bill Lundigans and many others.

Debbie Reynolds' physician, Dr. Charles Levy, is a daily visitor on the set of "This Happy Feeling" trying to keep her going until she finishes the picture next week. Debbie's gained only seven pounds and her baby is due early in February.

Henry Silva, who was so sinister in "Hatful of Rain," must have persuaded Chris White, pretty Broadway actress, he was only acting. She's marrying him Christmas week.

The Jim Garners are so sure they'll have a boy, come Christmas, they have already named him Scott.

Expects Red China to Pass Russians

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Dr. David G. Mandelbaum, University of California anthropologist, predicts Communist China's scientific development "will in all probability be greater than that in Soviet Russia."

Dr. Mandelbaum, speaking at the sixth national UNESCO conference, said: "It is a reasonable guess that China will catch up with Russia in much less than 40 years" . . . the time elapsed since the Communists came to power in Russia.

Submarine Flagship Going Around World

HONOLULU (AP) — The Gudgeon, flagship of the U.S. Navy's Pacific submarine force, is on a voyage that will make it the first U.S. submarine to travel around the world.

The Gudgeon is en route from the Philippines to Columbo, Ceylon where it is due Nov. 13. It started July 8 from Pearl Harbor and went to Yokosuka, Japan, and then to the Philippines.

Junior Editors Quiz on ESKIMOS

ANSWER: Even today, Eskimos often live in snow houses in the winter time because in their cold country they find snow houses more comfortable than the rock and driftwood and animal hide huts they construct as summer dwellings.

That doesn't mean such homes would be comfortable for you, because they have to be cold enough to keep the snow from melting. But within an igloo, where an oil lamp burns brightly, and the frigid winter winds are blocked out, the Eskimo is happy. He is used to very cold weather and he eats lots of fatty food to provide the energy necessary in that climate. Happy by nature anyway, he may even strip to the waist inside his igloo, playing games and singing songs while the long winter night passes.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you get a chance this winter in a region where it snows, roll up some big snow balls, and form them in a ring. Set a second layer of snowballs on top of the first. If you and your playmates are strong and industrious, you can make a snow fort, or even a snow house, for yourself.

Ghost Pilot Scores 400 British Airmen

The 400 men at the station say it's the ghost of the pilot of a bomber which crashed in wartime. The crew was killed, the pilot decapitated.

These are the manifestations the airmen complain about: Lights flickering on and off in the unused control tower. Refusal by the camp's six guard dogs to go within 60 yards of the control tower at night.

The phantom flier, complete with uniform and flying boots but minus his head, who walks across the airfield to the control tower.

Could there be a hoaxer? No man, say the airmen, could make the hackles rise on the guard dogs as does the phantom flier. But a senior officer discounts the idea of a ghost. Somebody left the hanger lights on, he suggests.

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

LOS ANGELES—Movie designer Helen Rose, who does wardrobes for such glamorous gals as Liz Taylor and Grace Kelly, can't dream up creations to please her own daughter, Judy. This 20-year-old thinks her mother is living in the "Olden Days." (You'll remember Miss Rose did Grace Kelly's trousseau).

We learned about daughter, Judy, at a dinner party at MGM Wednesday. Tables were set up on a stage set with glittering chandeliers over a tremendous double stairway covered with red velvet carpeting. This same setting was used for "High Society," "The Swan" and "Gigi."

SCORNS CHEMISE

More important, Miss Rose, who sat at our table, took a definite stand when asked how she liked the chemise. She said, "I think it's perfectly dreadful. I don't think American women will take to it."

The academy awarding winning designer, who now is doing wardrobes for TV as well as movies, presented some of her fashions for "The Thin Man" series.

One outfit designed for Phyllis Kirk, co-star of the series, has a brown wool jersey skirt, cooordinated with a jacket and hood that drapes into a cowl collar. A printed sheer blouse and a long wool skirt, which Miss Kirk wore to the party, converts to an evening gown when the jacket is removed. Miss Kirk will be seen in this outfit in "The Fashion Showdown" an episode in the series.

MRS. CLEMENCE

Fifteen visiting fashion editors, including your reporter also will be seen in the program to be released in December. In the film we merely sit watching models parade, just as we've been doing this week in Los Angeles.

COSTUMES VERSATILE

Dede Johnson showed dresses with relaxed waistlines and shortened the hemlines by about one inch. The versatility typical of this designer's costumes is noted in the reversible jackets and detachable collars. Important colors are emerald green, sunset coral and Capri blue.

The mattress-ticking sundress and matching coat which Marjorie Montgomery showed to fashion editors is quite unusual. The fabric is actual ticking and looks good. The coat with deep dolman sleeves is fully lined in bright red.

Elaine Terry took to the ships for her resort collection. The nautical look of the middy, captain's coat and flag trimmed dresses were seen. The slim look is predominate, but the designer has one shirt dress where the shirttail is worn inside or outside of the belt, pointing toward the chemise.

Jeannette Alexander's choice of fabrics for her vivid colors and pastels shows versatility and gives high styling to the junior figure.

DRAPE LOOK

The drape look is the big look in the Dorothy O'Hara line. Some of the draping is done on the bodice, at the neckline or on the skirt. Most important fabrics are wools and crepes. The wools are navy, beige or gray.

The holiday collection by Addie Masters is newsworthy. Wool jersey sheaths accented with jewel tones of ruby, emerald, moonstone and satin pipings having matching jackets to transform scoop-back cocktail dresses into daytime costumes.

Although Pat Premo doesn't believe in fashion extremes, she does like a modified chemise look. One interpretation is a sleeveless dress of beige linen. The elongated look is achieved with seamed horizontal bands that extend below the waistline, gradually shaped to give a semi-fit.

With this day's showings completed, fashion editors are still wondering about the chemise look. Some favor it along with many designers, but others still classify it as a "gimmick." We'll have the couturier story tomorrow.

This nautical dress of sailtone is short-sleeved, and the bodice laces over a striped dickey. Jeannette Alexander is the designer.

Youngsters Like Bright Blossoms

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—The flowers you bring indoors should be keyed to people as well as home decorating schemes.

Ruth Davis, related art instructor at the University of Wisconsin, says, for example, that bright-colored flowers should be used for a children's party because those hues are most attractive to small fry.

On the other hand, muted colors are most pleasing for adult affairs, she said.

Wear Only What Suits Your Type

Sack Dresses May Not Be for You, Designer Warns

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — If it doesn't look good, don't wear it.

That piece of advice comes from Luis Estevez, one of New York's youngest and most admired fashion designers. The blond young man admitted that this year's sack dresses and shorter skirts do not flatter every figure and added:

"Wear them as short as is flattering to you. And as for the silhouette, wear clothes as loose or as tight as is becoming to you."

Estevez has been influenced by the straight-line, waistless sack styles from Paris, but he hasn't gone all the way and doesn't intend to.

"I do not go for the sack look," he said. "My clothes are easy to wear with eased waists, but they don't make you look like a sack of potatoes."

Estevez makes one careful definition and that's the question of dinner and evening dresses. Both can be floor-length, but Estevez makes his dinner dresses so tight-skirted that a woman must take tiny, toy soldier-like steps. These are his "sitting down" dresses, not to be confused with dance costumes.

Sorority Meets

Mrs. Gordon Rice of Nelson street opened her home Thursday evening to members of Alpha Delta Kappa, Epsilon Chapter. Arrangements for furnishing refreshments for a Pontiac State Hospital dance were discussed.

Girl Certainly Shouldn't Feel Hopeless

Hip-Slimming Exercises May Help

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "My waist measures 28½ inches. I am 13 years old. My bust measures 34 inches. The back of my hips are too large. Am I hopeless? I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 125 pounds."

A. You are far from being hopeless. Your weight is ideal and your waist will just naturally slim down as you grow older. You did not give me your hip measurement but you can take hip-slimming exercises if you wish.

If you, or any of my readers, would like to have them, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "My hips have hollow places on them, or they sink in on the sides. What can I do for this and what causes it?"

A. This condition is due to a sag in the muscles plus an accumulation of fat at these spots. Try the following exercises:

A third: Again stand with the left side toward the wall and place the left hand on the wall. Raise the right leg sideward-upward as far as comfortable. Lower leg. Continue. After a time reverse and raise and lower the left leg.

Q. "My problem is myself. Sometimes I think I am in love and then at other times I don't know. I am writing to a boy who has moved to another state. I went with him for six weeks before he left. When I think of him now at times I love him but at other times I don't like him. It was that way before he left. He is one of the nicest boys I have ever known."

A. When you are in love you will know it. Right now you are in love with being in love.

Q. "I have awful bow legs. I don't wear shorts or go swimming or do any of the things girls like to do. I feel like I am missing out on half of my life because of my legs. What kind of a doctor should I see?"

A. See an orthopedic physician, but do not allow the shape of your legs to ruin your happiness.

Tomorrow: "Rules of Good Nutrition Are Good to Know AND Follow."

This girl is doing a hip-slimming exercise. You can be less hippy if only you put your mind and muscles to it.

Well, it looks as if the last bush has been planted around Will Rogers Elementary School with the help of Clarence Kloka, a parent of Will Rogers' students, and Felix Maline, who is school engineer but donates his time on Saturdays to help with the landscaping and playground project.

Watch Dials Boast Variety of Colors

A leading manufacturer has introduced 15 new colors, ranging from pale to deep tones, for wristwatch dials. The firm says any watch you own can be restyled with a colored dial.

A survey shows that women prefer pastel tints of pink, pale green and baby blue in colored dials. Men like watch faces in deep tones of brown, gray, green or black.

Watch dials also can have two-toned colors for school or club members.

Highlighting the meeting was a film of missions in Formosa shown by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Higgins, Orient Crusade missionaries. Mrs. Ethel Kennedy and Mrs. Melvin Strader also participated in the program.

If you have to beat both egg yolks and white, beat the white first and you won't have to wash the eggbeater before attending to the yolks.

This unique patio of broken cement is being completed with the help of James Bailey and Tom Keeley.

Unique School Playground

This is a story of community spirit that began with children—in this case, students at Will Rogers Elementary School.

Will Rogers School is comparatively new and, like most new schools, landscaping and playground area are the last things completed.

Students decided in class to do something about the barren looking play area they had. They designed plans for things they wanted on their playground—not just usual, conventional playground toys but novel, constructive ideas. And they put their ideas on paper.

Then parents began to like the ideas their children brought home. PTA formed a committee to study the plan and help bring the children's dreams to fruition.

Fathers constructed the playground from their children's blueprints.

Included in this unique project was a plan for a real cave for the children to play in. After careful consideration a design for a safe "cave-in free" cave was discovered. Road tiles are being set in cement to insure safe playing in the U-shaped cave.

Two fireplaces were constructed. One father who helped build the fireplaces is a mason, the other picked up what he knew from the professional.

A byproduct of the project is an air rifle safety program for boys and girls that was initiated by an air rifle company. Students learn proper care of guns as well as how to use them.

The outdoor project, which is open to anyone in the community, is a family affair. The mothers spend part of Saturday morning cooking lunches in the school cafeteria for the fathers who are busy with various things outside.

Since money for landscaping was at a minimum, Parents did a large portion of the actual labor. Most of the planting has been done now and the picnic area is seeded. A patio made of broken cement has been installed around the fireplaces.

Horizontal bars made of well drilling pipe and an obstacle course have been completed.

And all this came from the ideas of children!

"Know Your Pontiac Schools" is the title of a conference on education, scheduled for Tuesday by Pontiac Council of PTA. This program comes as part of American Education Week. Washington Junior High will host the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Purpose of the conference is to acquaint citizens with requirements necessary to meet the needs of the school enrollment and to focus attention on educational programs offered in the public shcools.

A third aim is analyze what is being done to educate youth in this area and look objectively at what might be done to raise present standards.

The Council takes the stand that well informed citizens and organizations aware of school problems and programs can give valuable assistance leading to better support for schools and an improved school program.

Local teachers, school adminstrators and personnel will be used as discussion leaders for the conference.

Invitations have been issued to community organizations to send delegates and all parents, educators, industrial and civic leaders are invited to attend.

Local PTA and PTSA presidents will act as hosts for the evening.

Square Set Club Meets at Wever

Assisting him as callers were Jack Ralph, Ralph Price, Art Yarger, Max Wilson, Pete Messeman and Jim Thompson.

New members joining the group this week were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fredrickson.

Omega Alpha Hears Address by Psychologist

Roger Cuneo, psychologist at Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, led a discussion on child discipline when members of Omega Alpha sorority met Thursday at the Lenox avenue home of Mrs. Elliott Plante. She was assisted by Mrs. Harold Sibley.

Mrs. Tom Beal, president, presided at the business meeting. Donations for United Fund were accepted, and plans were made for the Christmas dinner party to be held in December at Hotel Waldron.

Teen Should Share in Upkeep of Auto

Any teenager who uses the family car should take some responsibility for its care and upkeep.

Leaving a car dirty or with an empty gas tank or the back seat full of school books is not the way to turn the car over to the next user.

Avoid Hurt Feelings

The girl who does not want to accept a date with a boy should be careful to word her refusal so that she doesn't hurt his feelings. She needn't feel she has to accept a date with someone she doesn't particularly like.

Vitamin A Foods Add to Eye Beauty

Nutritionists point out that foods rich in vitamin A add to eye beauty by keeping the eyes healthy. Carrots are always on the list for vitamin A.

Other recommended foods include spinach, escarole, broccoli and lettuce. It also pays to eat apricots and peaches and beef and calf's liver for vitamin A.

Lou Little Calls 'em

Two good football teams, each of which suffered a non-conference defeat in September and thus escaped the mid-season glare that goes with an unbeaten record, could end up as rivals in the Rose Bowl.

They are Ohio State and Oregon. I'm sure that neither Woody Hayes at Ohio State nor Len Casanova at Oregon was happy to have that close one grabbed away by TCU and Pitt, respectively, on that early date.

But perhaps each will say now that the early setback was useful in setting up a proper resistance to distasteful defeat.

Oregon is unbeaten now in a league in which I think every other team, eligible or not for the Rose Bowl, has lost at least two. Ohio State has no such easy road ahead. The Buckeyes, unbeaten and untied in the Big Ten are in a rugged fight with Iowa, Michigan State, and perhaps Michigan.

They begin now the toughest part of their drive and Hayes will certainly have them up tomorrow against Purdue, while Michigan, with a great back in Pace, fights off Illinois, and Iowa throws its big line and varied attack against Minnesota.

After tomorrow, Ohio State must still face Iowa and Michigan, while Michigan State's only remaining conference game is with Minnesota. State's role tomorrow is to round out the answer to the question: "How far has Notre Dame come back?"

PHS Meets Powerful Bay City Tonight

Rival Coaches Schooled Under Illinois Setup

Chiefs Face Vaunted Aerial Attack of 2nd Ranked Wolves

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There will be a touch of Illinois on both benches when Pontiac and Bay City meet tonight at Wisner Stadium.

Both coaches, Elmer Engle of Bay City and Jesse MacLeay of Pontiac, were associated with the Illinois football picture for many years.

Engle graduated from Illinois in 1943 and after a stint in high school coaching he returned to become the Illini junior varsity coach from 1947 to 1950.

In 1950 he took over the Bay City job after a dismal 3-6 season, Engle compiled six successful seasons with two SVC titles and he is now aiming toward his third crown.

Under Engle, the Wolves up to today have won 52, lost 16 and tied two.

MacLeay followed Engle at Illinois after graduating from Springfield College and he worked with the Illini coaching staff for seven years before coming to Pontiac.

Their respective teams battle at Wisner tonight and the Bay City 11 is a heavy favorite to add Pontiac to its list of victims.

During its membership in the Saginaw Valley, PHS was able to find Bay City as its easiest foe for many years until the Engle era.

Since 1951 however, the Wolves have won six straight and all by decisive margins.

Prior to this, Bay City was unable to beat Pontiac in 10 straight games between 1941 and 1950. Now the all-time series between the two schools stands in favor of Bay City by the narrow margin of 13 wins, 12 losses and a tie.

Pontiac has been working on pass defense all week with the hope of containing the Bay City aerial wizard Jerry Gross who has guided the Wolves to 1,300 yards passing for 16 touchdowns.

For the second year in a row, Bay City holds down the number two position in class 'A' ratings. Last year the Wolves lost the top spot and the SVC title in dropping a 24-20 game to Flint Northern.

This year they held the first position until the 20-14 loss to Midland, but the Wolves are favored to dethrone Northern as SVC champions.

Pontiac grid fans will have the opportunity to see one of the outstanding schoolboy teams in Michigan. Several hundred Bay City fans will follow the team to Pontiac.

PHS Won 12, Lost 13 Tied 1

Wings Bombed Again, 6-0

MONTREAL (AP) — A drastically shuffled line failed to produce any punch for the Detroit Red Wings who absorbed their fifth shutout of the National Hockey League season last night.

Despite teaming Gordie Howe with Dutch Reibel and Billy Dea, Detroit coach Jimmy Skinner couldn't stave off a 6-0 rout at the hands of the Montreal Canadians.

The young Richard and Marshall each got a pair of goals and the flashy Rocket and Provost added two more in handing Detroit one of its most lopsided defeats by the Frenchmen in several seasons.

Four of Montreal's goals came in the last period. The victory moved the Habitants into a first place tie with the idle New York Rangers.

The defeat dropped Detroit into a last-place deadlock with Toronto in the NHL standings.

The 53 shots Montreal blasted at Sawchuk were the most triggered by any team in the NHL this season.

The veteran Montreal goalie had been out of action for a week after suffering an attack of asthma.

Sawchuk fought an almost single handed battle in keeping the Wings in the game in the first two periods before Marshall's first counter at 4:20 of the final stanza turned the game into a rout.

Montreal's last two goals came while Detroit had a player in the penalty box.

Gordie Howe, serving a penalty when the last one was pushed through Sawchuk, was Skinner's choice to sit out a call for too many players on the ice.

Detroit has two more games on their current road trip with a meeting Saturday in Toronto and Sunday in Boston.

To Aid Bypassed Lane

Seeks Ring Investigation

MUSKEGON Mich. (AP)—A Michigan congressman today called for a congressional investigation of professional boxing and suggested some form of federal control over the sport.

Rep. Robert T. Griffin (R-Mich) said boxing appears to be "controlled by a few manipulators who have, and exercise, unbridled power to freeze out deserving boxers."

Griffin made the charge in a letter to the seven members of the Anti-Trust Subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee. The group has been investigating professional sports.

In a telegram to Rep. Emanuel Celler, New York Democrat and chairman of the subcommittee, Griffin said:

"The need for a thorough congressional investigation to expose scandals, abuses and monopolistic practices in boxing has been dramatically underscored by recent developments in the lightweight division.

"Handlers of champion Joe Brown have again bypassed longtime No. 1 contender Kenny Lane —this time for seventh-ranked Joey Lopes."

Brown has signed to fight Lopes in a title fight Dec. 4 at Chicago.

Griffin asked Celler to convene the subcommittee as soon as possible for an investigation of the International Boxing Club, the National Boxing Assn. and professional boxing in general.

Pheasant 'Derby' Reaches End Sunday

There are only two more days left for Oakland county bird hunters to get those late entries in The Press' annual "pheasant derby". State's pheasant season closes Sunday. Entries may be filed not later than 12 o'clock noon, Tuesday Nov. 12.

Leaders at this date include a 4-pound, 9½-ounce bird taken by Ellsworth Guerin of Auburn Heights, and a 39½-inch long entry by John D. Kelly, Pontiac.

Way the contest has been going, there's a possibility both leaders might be displaced.

Macias Hoping for Rematch

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Raul (Raton) Macias turned up with an injured left hand today when he came to collect his $30,000-plus share of the gate in his losing effort against Alphonse Halimi of France.

The little Mexican fighter who lost a split 15-round decision to the Frenchman, showed a hand that was badly swollen and discolored when he arrived at the Olympic Auditoium office of promotor Cal Eaton.

Macias said he hurt the hand in the sixth round of the fight last night at Wrigley Field with a left hook high on the head.

The game little Mexican did not offer this as an alibi, however. He said:

"The only reason I lost was because he was better. He put too much pressure on me. I didn't have a chance to get away from him."

There have been persistent rumors that Macias may retire from the ring but he said:

"Please let me fight him again. I want to redeem myself and Mexico."

Coast Baseball Conference Kept a Deep, Dark Secret

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick and other baseball officials had a go at figuring out a realignment for the indisposed Pacific Coast League yesterday. But if they hit on a plan they hung it in a closet to see if it rattles before making it public.

All that was announced after the meeting was a statement saying (1) the meeting had been held, (2) who attended, and (3) they will meet here again Tuesday.

While Frick did go so far as to say "a number of possibilities were considered which representatives at the meeting will take back to their leagues and clubs for their views," the only note that perked up the day was the fact Texas League and American Assn. representatives sat in on the conference.

That bears out predictions that any realignment of the PCL could set off a chain reaction throughout most of the minor league structure.

Denver, of the American Assn. and Dallas, of the Texas League, have been prominent in guesses as to where the PCL will land now that the National League has moved into Los Angeles and San Francisco with the Dodgers and Giants.

If those two cities are to serve as substitutes for the PCL, only two thirds of the league's problem is solved, however. The Hollywood club also will have to scram out of the Los Angeles area. Salt Lake City, a onetime PCL franchise, or Phoenix have been nominated as the third replacement.

3 Pontiac Teams in State Tourney

Three Pontiac teams will be among an estimated 20 of the top bowling quintets in Michigan competing in the preliminary rounds of the state match game tournament here and at Detroit this weekend.

Huron Bowl which will host a portion of the event, Huron Cleaners and Pabst Blue Ribbon are the local entries. All will see action here with the winner meeting the 1st place team at Highland Park Recreation.

Action at both sites begins Saturday at 7 p.m. and continues Sunday afternoon and evening. All teams will bowl nine games across 18 alleys with the sectional winner determined by total pins.

The winner at each location will later meet in a home - and - home series for the state title. Lou Seilaff's defending champion Pfeiffer team will be defending its crown.

Villanova Is Traditional Rival for Titan Eleven

DETROIT (AP) — Despite a record of two victories in seven games, Villanova is a one-point favorite to dump Detroit's Titans when the two teams meet in an intersectional clash Saturday at Titan Stadium.

The Villanova losses have been at the hands of Baylor, Virginia Tech, Boston College, Indiana and Miami (Fla.) — much stouter opposition than the Titans have faced in rolling up four triumphs in six starts.

"We should be two-touchdown underdogs," said Titan coach Wally Fromhart. "This is a tough team we're playing."

Detroit got a come-from-behind win last Saturday from Cincinnati, 20-12, and is one of the nation's top rushing teams. The Titans need a victory over Villanova to keep alive their hopes of having their finest season since 1941. Detroit needs three straight wins to do it.

Over the last eight years these traditional rivals have played on even terms with four wins apiece. Villanova holds the edge in the series, 14-8-2, and defeated the Titans last season 8-7 on a safety.

Fromhart has come to like the role of the underdog. His club has been the underdog four times in six games.

"This Villanova club is a solid one," he said. "Four of their losses have been by one touchdown and the other one was by a 3-point margin."

Detroit's outlook for the future is bright. The Titans have 13 sophomores on the first two teams, including four in the starting forward wall.

U. of D. coaches figure their record could be 6-0 this season. The loss to Boston College was a heartbreaker as the Titans scored the winning touchdown in the last 30 seconds only to have it nullified by a penalty.

Toronto Moves to 5th Place Tie With Wings After Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The six-team National Hockey League looked very much like a three division affair today with the Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers tied for first, Chicago and Boston eight points back in a deadlock for third and Detroit and Toronto knotted for the fifth spot.

The Canadiens created a tie for first last night when they thumped the crippled Red Wings from Detroit 6-0. They had given up the lead on the previous night when the rampaging Rangers took command. In the other NHL game, Boston lost to Toronto, 5-3.

The Maple Leafs moved into a tie for fifth with Detroit by downing Boston. The Leafs have won only four games this season and two have been at Boston's expense.

Bill Harris scored twice and veteran Ted Sloan tallied another and assisted in two as the Leafs tallied twice in the final period to break open a closely fought game.

St. Rita, Ravens Fight for SCL Title Sunday

Mikes Home, St. Fred Away

St. Michael aims for its 4th straight victory here Sunday afternoon and St. Frederick hopes to snap a two-game losing skein at Center Line in Suburban Catholic League football attractions.

Both Pontiac parochial teams face tough assignments. St. Mike encounters bruising Ferndale St. James in a 3 o'clock contest at Wisner Stadium while the Rams meet troublesome St. Clement.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, which has dropped three league decisions in five games, tackles Royal Oak St. Mary in a Sabbath Day scrap at Orchard Lake. The Eaglets will be heavily favored to dump the weak Royal Oak squad and even their season record.

Sunday's real battle takes place at Hazel Park where St. Rita and Highland Park St. Benedict, both unbeaten and untied, clash for the Suburban Catholic League championship.

St. James has always been a rough customer for the Mikes. The Dales failed to live up to their pre-season billing of title contenders, but they are dangerous at all times.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks will have their stout defense tested to the hilt by Ferndale's double punch — the running of Bill Tunnicliff, 195-pound fullback, and the southpaw passing of quarterback Jim Grasel.

With the exception of sophomore end George Drake, who will miss Sunday's contest due to severe facial cuts suffered in last week's RO St. Mary outing, the Mikes are at full strength for the Dales.

St. Clement could be stubborn for the offensive - minded Rams. The Crusaders are blessed with good personnel, headed by halfback Phil Van Hulle, but they have "jelled" for only one victory so far.

Gene Wright's gridders have lost their last two starts, but in view of the caliber of the opposition, it's no disgrace. The Rams made strong showings while bowing to St. Rita last Sunday and St. Ben two weeks ago.

Jack Lyon, probably the league's best fullback, will lead the Rams in search of their 3rd triumph in six tries. The 155-pound speedster has scored 12 touchdowns for St. Fred this fall.

The St. Rita - St. Ben argument brings the title race right down to the wire, since both teams end their seasons with this one. St. Rita's better balanced attack could be the difference in this "winner - take - all" affair.

Beach 5th in Rushing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The flu bug has tripped up most of the individual leaders in small college football, the NCAA Service Bureau in New York reported today.

Steve Piasecki of North Dakota, season-long leader in total offense, was unable to play against Montana State last week because of the flu and skidded to fourth place as Bob Webb of St. Ambrose moved into the lead.

Leonard Lyles of Louisville lost his rushing lead to Norm Jarock of St. Norbert when the Louisville-Morehead State game was canceled. Bill Groman of Heidelberg also caught up with Lyles for the scoring lead, now deadlocked at 90 points each.

In total offense Webb has 1,303 yards and has completed 80 passes in 145 attempts. Jarock has 1,268 yards, with his 1,038 in rushing heading that department. In his last two games, Jarock has gained 338 yards rushing. Brad Husted of Luther is second with 931 yards, and Lyles has 818.

Among Michigan gridders, Doug Maison of Hillsdale ranks 5th in total offense with 1,001 yards in seven games. Central Michigan's Walt Beach, a Pontiac resident, is 5th in rushing with 707 yards in 97 carries.

Lions Perk Defense for Eagles

The Detroit Lions are looking back at the past two defeats on the coast and wondering what has happened to their highly touted defense which was figured to be one of the strongest in the NFL.

With upstart Philadelphia as the next hurdle in the pro grid race, the Lions have now realized that in the past three games they have allowed 97 points, compared to 55 for the first three contests.

Philadelphia, after losing three straight at the start of the season, has won two of its last three. The Eagles handed the Eastern Division leaders, the Cleveland Browns, their only defeat on Oct. 20, 17-7, and last week trimmed the Chicago Cardinals with ease, 38-21. In between, they dropped a 6-0 decision to Pittsburgh.

Coach Hugh Devore has been using a pair of rookie flashes, halfback Bill Barnes of Wake Forest and fullback Clarence Peaks of Michigan State in his starting backfield along with veteran signal - caller Bobby Thomason and slot back Rocky Ryan. Barnes was a standout in the College All-Star game and has developed into a real ball-carrying threat for the Eagles.

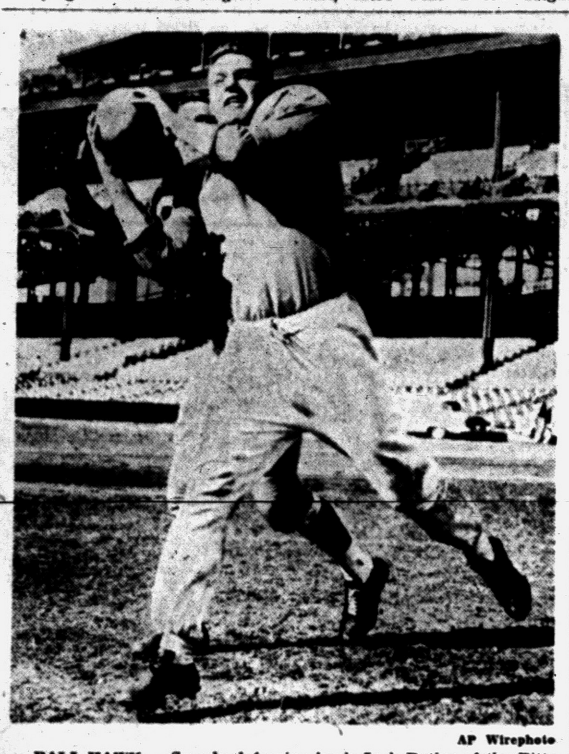

Peaks was hampered by injuries early in the season but is now in top shape. Ends Bobby Walston and Bill Stribling and former Lion Pete Retzlaff are favorite targets for the passing of Thomason, rookie quarterback Sonny Jurgenson and veteran Al Dorow.

Despite the two defeats on the Coast, there were a few bright spots for the Lions. The offense rolled for 428 yards, 157 rushing, 271 passing against the 49ers, for the top offensive performance of the entire season. Quarterback Tobin Rote was outstanding against the 49ers, completing 14 of 22 for 212 yards and four touchdowns and picking up 44 yards on three ball carrying tries.

Bobby Layne, who injured ribs against San Francisco, is expected to be available for duty. Linebacker Bob Long, end Dave Middleton, and Harley Sewell, all of whom missed the last game should also see action against the Eagles.

800 Ballots Out for Picking of AP Grid Teams

DETROIT (AP) — More than 800 all-state ballots have gone out to coaches, sports writers and broadcasters in all parts of Michigan to help the Associated Press select its 1958 all-state high school football teams.

Nearly 700 coaches will have received ballots by the end of the week. Ballots also went to 125 sports writers and broadcasters.

Ballots will be returned to all-state headquarters in Detroit. The AP Sports Writers' Assn. will meet in Lansing Nov. 18 to examine the ballots and name all-state teams in classes A, B, C and D. The teams will be announced in late November or early December.

My word! Two of the most amazing upsets of the season will occur in the East this week — Bucknell overturning Colgate by a one-point margin and Navy edging Duke by the same slim score in Baltimore.

These selections are not my own, but I have added to my staff a new impartial observer, Dr. Manuel von Murphy, of Caracas, Venezuela, noted authority on the effect of radiation fallout on pearl fishing. It was he who gave you the upset Boston U. scored at the expense of Holy Cross.

This week he is going all out —among his other selections are Notre Dame to beat Michigan State, UCLA to smite Washington State, Illinois to maul Michigan and Harvard to shade Princeton.

Dr. von Murphy has an illustrious reputation at home as an astute scientist, though we confess being intrigued by the ancestry uplift in his name. He explained that he was the last of the Aztecs. I guess that takes care of it.

Hillsdale After 4th MIAA Title

Small Colleges in Loop Wrapups

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hillsdale College can wrap up its fourth straight MIAA football title Saturday night when the Dales, boasting a 32-game winning streak that goes back to early 1954, travel to Adrian to meet the oft-beaten Bulldogs.

Adrian has suffered four setbacks—all in league competition—while Hillsdale has not been defeated in league play since 1953. Hope was the last MIAA club to defeat the Dales, turning in a 28-7 triumph in 1953. Since that setback Hillsdale has gone through 27 league opponents without a defeat.

A Hillsdale victory Saturday night will mean another league record for the Dales, who by now must hold nearly every record in the MIAA books. The Dales have won the title three times in a row over two different periods. A fourth straight championship would mean another mark.

Since first place is practically decided before the two teams take the field, the big prize is second place. Albion and Hope will battle for that spot. Albion currently is in second place with a 4 - 1 league mark while Hope has a 3 - 2 record.

Albion, already assured of its best league finish since 1954, has not been able to defeat a Hope team since 1952 when the Britons last won the league crown.

The other MIAA game sends winless Olivet against Kalamazoo. Alma already has completed its league season and has a date at Ohio Northern.

Central Michigan's Chippewas aren't going anyplace in the IIAC but they can help decide the title. Saturday the Chips are at Southern Illinois, which is tied with Central at 2-2 in the loop.

Northern Michigan swings back into action after a week's layoff and will seek its fourth straight triumph against North Dakota University's fightin' Sioux.

Eastern Michigan, with a 5-0 conference mark, goes against Western Illinois and can wrap up the crown with a victory and can assure itself of a share of the title by gaining a tie. Western Illinois is 4-0 in league action.

Detroit League Penalizes Two

Denby, U. of D. Highs Forced to Forfeit Games by Loop Officials

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Metropolitan League has ruled that Denby and the University of Detroit high schools must forfeit games in which players participated whom the league declared ineligible.

The action was taken following a meeting of league officials.

The league ruled that a Denby player participated illegally in four Denby games because he had failed to take a required medical examination at the beginning of the season.

The same action was taken against the University of Detroit High School because of similar allegations.

League officials originally had ruled that penalties would be imposed only against the individual players and not the schools. That decision, however, was reversed and the penalties were levied against the two schools.

League officials said league rules dictated the action.

The decision leaves Denby in seventh place in the nine-school East Side division with a record of 1-4 and U of D in last place with an 0-4 mark.

MSU Expects Battle; 'M' Fears Illinois

Inspired Irish Figure to Offer Busy Afternoon

Spartans' Bowl Hopes Could Get Boost in Purdue-OSU Game

EAST LANSING (AP) — Walt Kowalczyk and Co. of Michigan State have a busy afternoon of football ahead Saturday against the inspired Irish of Notre Dame.

"This is a good Notre Dame team," declared Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty. "And we know they want to beat us as badly as we want to beat them."

Daugherty said his team won't be looking over its shoulder at any results elsewhere in the Western Conference.

Ohio State is playing Purdue and a Purdue win could give a big boost to the MSU Rose Bowl hopes.

"We will have to give Notre Dame all our attention and effort," Daugherty said. "We won't have a single thing on our minds but this game."

After a shocking two won, eight lost season last year, Notre Dame made an inspired comeback this fall. They won four straight before an unexpected defeat by Navy last Saturday.

Also, State has won five of the last six games in series in recent years, a thing that just isn't done to the Irish. This included a 47-14 stunner last season.

Kowalczyk, the hefty right half, is the bread and butter player for the Spartans. He's top in yardage for his team although thet opposition has stacked the defense in the last few games in an attempt to stop the running game with as many as nine men up in the line.

State solved this last Saturday against Wisconsin by having quarterback Jim Ninowski take to the air in the first scoring drive.

Perhaps the best are Dave Kaiser, who was a back at Notre Dame as a freshman before he switched to State and was converted to the flanker spot, and Sammy Williams, a six foot-five incher who had the distinction of being drafted on the strength of his service play while still a freshman.

RUGGED FALCON — Hard-hitting fullback Fred Rosenquist, a converted lineman, leads the Rochester Falcons against L'Anse Creuse tonight. The Oakland County school is heavily favored to clinch the 1st Tri-County League crown in its loop final.

Michigan Still Has Hopes for Winning Title

Both Teams Have List of Injuries; Illinois Is Tough at Home

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, still clutching a dim hope it can eke out a Big Ten title, clashes here tomorrow with Illinois, a team usually capable of springing an upset on its home field.

Both teams are beset by injuries to key personnel.

The Illini, coached by Ray Eliot, whose 15 seasons make him the dean of conference coaches, call Michigan their favorite upset victim.

Only two seasons ago an unbeaten and apparently Rose Bowl bound Michigan squad fell before one of Eliot's typical in-and-out teams.

Eliot has the knack of arousing his players before the home folk. The Illini knocked off Michigan State riding high as the nation's No. 1 team, here last season. The same fate befell undefeated and proud Minnesota this year.

The Wolverines are favored by a touchdown despite Illinois reputation as a king-killer.

The smallest crowd for a Michigan game since 1943 — 47,000 — is expected to leave wide areas of empty seats in double-tiered Memorial Stadium.

It will be the 43rd game in the series which has had Michigan winning 27 times and losing 15. But the Wolverines haven't won at Champaign since 1949 and have lost five of the last seven games with the Illini.

Michigan enters the tilt with the faint chance a rash of upsets will hit Ohio State, Iowa and Michigan State in the three weeks left this season and permit the Wolverines to back into the title. Last week's stalemate with Iowa just about nipped Michigan's chances for the Rose Bowl.

Quarterback Jim Van Pelt may not play at all, coach Bennie Oosterbann said. His star field general has a pulled leg muscle.

Recruiter Hired

Four Gridders Leave Sinking Indiana Team

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (INS)—Indiana's football fortunes continued to sink today with the announcement that four players have dropped out of school but were bolstered somewhat by the appointment of Bob Dro, one of the Hoosiers' all-time athletic greats, as head recruiter.

Dro, a former basketball and baseball star, will carry the title of assistant athletic director and will assume his new duties a week from today.

Meanwhile, three players from Uniontown, Pa., fullback John Meegan, a sophomore; center Harry Hartman; and tackle Bruce Coligan have returned home. Meegan quit school Wednesday because he was "disturbed" over Indiana's football outlook.

The fourth player to leave Indiana was Willie Jones, junior tailback from Chicago, who has been sidelined by injuries. The squad is now down to 39 players.

Meegan said he hoped that West Virginia University "will be interested in me." Coligan and Hartman were unavailable for comment but Meegan indicated that both would also try to enter other schools.

Dro, 39, apparently was hired to take the heat off the coaching staff and to produce the caliber of athletes that will enable the Hoosiers to compete with the powers of the Big Ten.

Indiana has failed to win the Western Conference football title since 1945. This season, under acting coach Bob Hicks, Indiana has won one and lost five games.

Phillies-Yanks Plan Exhibition Series

NEW YORK (INS) — The Philadelphia Phillies will take the place of the Dodgers as spring training rivals of the New York Yankees.

The Yanks announced yesterday they will play eight games with the Phils starting April 5th and culminating in a home-and-home set in Yankee Stadium and Connie Mack Stadium on April 12-13, the final weekend before the regular season opens.

It will be the first barnstorming trip home with a Major League club for the Yankees in more than a decade.

Ex-Goalie Dies at 57

TORONTO (INS) — Roy Worters, a former goalie for the New York Americans of the national hockey league, died in Toronto yesterday at the age of 57.

While in the nets for the now-defunct Americans, Worters in 1930-31 won the Vezina trophy as the league's top net minder.

Top Contenders for Honors Vie at Garden State

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Ironically, Gallant Man and Round Table, top contenders for three-year-old of the year honors, will clash in the $75,000 added Trenton Handicap at Garden State Park Saturday for about half the money offered by several other tracks.

The two classy three-year-olds and Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, plus perhaps one or two others, are slated to run in the mile and a quarter Trenton. The winner figures to drag down somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000. Ralph Lowe, owner of Gallant Man, and Travis Kerr, owner of Round Table, previously had been offered $100,000, winner take all for a match race.

However, while the money is always welcome, both Lowe and Kerr are wealthy enough to want the three year-old title, regardless of the purse. And that's what they'll be running for about 4:10 p.m. (EST) Saturday.

Scanlon Fights Nov. 26

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Undefeated lightweight Bobby Scanlon, who stopped ex-champ Wallace (Bud) Smith last week, will fight Noel Humphries of Charleston, W. Va., here on Nov. 26.

Holly-Mustang Feud Tops Football Card

Broncos Collide With Northville for W-O Honors

Orion Protects Perfect Record Tonight Against Strong Romeo 11

Prep football action in Oakland County area leagues is virtually nil tonight, but what there is of it more than makes up for the scarcity.

You don't have to search very hard to locate tonight's No. 1 league attraction. It's at Holly where the Broncos tangle with the Wayne - Oakland Conference championship.

Holly, unbeaten but tied twice in seven games, can win the title outright by getting past the powerful Mustangs. The Broncos own a 5-0-1 league record while Northville stands 4-0.

If the Mustangs triumph, they will still have to dispose of dangerous West Bloomfield and Clarenceville to nail down the crown. This is the final loop game for Holly.

Northville's only loss this fall has been a 13-12 setback at the hands of Class A Plymouth. The Mustangs' better speed makes them a slim favorite.

In another top-flight grid attraction this evening, Lake Orion puts its unblemished 6-0 record on the block against a big and fast Romeo team at Orion. Romeo has won five while losing two.

The Dragons' blazing speed and explosive attack make them slight favorites. Coach Ted Sela's 7th ranked team in the state Class B poll has averaged 28 points per game. Orion wrapped up the Oakland B League title last Friday, the 1st in the school's history.

Avondale, without a victory in six attempts is an underdog once again today against Troy in an afternoon Oakland B game at Troy. With Rochester following the Colts on the Avon schedule, the Jackets' chances for a win appear hopeless.

Walled Lake and Milford close out their 1957 schedules tonight at Walled Lake. The Vikings, now playing their best football of the year, are favored to slip past Milford, strong Wayne - Oakland club.

Rochester can win the 1st Tri-County League title by downing L'Anse Creuse on the Rochester field and the Falcons will be heavily favored to do just that.

It's Dad's Night at Ortonville where the Blackhawks meet Webberville, a new arrival on their schedule. Almont, Southern Thumb champ, and Dryden renew their bitter rivalry in a loop contest at Dryden.

Southfield, Inter-Lakes champion, tries to end an unbeaten season this afternoon by dumping visiting Redford Union. Vastly improved Birmingham entertains Royal Oak Kimball tonight and Oxford runs in to a powerhouse at Clawson.

Small School Stars Aplenty in County

Class C Grid Caliber High

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By BILL CORNWELL

When area prep coaches start casting their ballots for the 2nd annual Pontiac Press All-Oakland County football teams, they cannot afford to overlook the Class C schools.

The county's smallest seats of learning in both size and number boast a parade of gridiron talent for consideration when the Press honor squads are announced later this month.

There are only eight 'C' high schools in Oakland and tiny Madison Heights Lamphere, included in this article, is currently in the 'D' ranks. But a poll of area coaches shows quite clearly that they think highly of their charges.

St. Frederick coach Gene Wright has four gridders he believes worthy of post-season laurels and one in particular.

Fullback Jack Lyon, a 155-pound bundle of dynamite, is St. Fred's leading candidate. It is more than Lyon's offensive ability that draws praises from Wright and rival coaches alike.

Although the 5-foot-6 speed merchant has raced to 12 touchdowns this fall, he switches to guard on defense and does a herculean job. Opposing Suburban Catholic League coaches have mentioned Lyon's standout defensive play. To Wright's satisfaction, Lyon is only a junior.

Coach Bob Mineweaser has two outstanding candidates at St. Michael in tackle Jerry Ohngren and guard Ed Lauinger. The Mikes have fielded a sterling defense this season and these two are the ring-leaders of a rock-ribbed line.

Ohngren, an aggressive lineman, charges hard, tackles with certainty and has blocked four punts. In addition, he has gone into the backfield on offense and kicked extra points and carried the ball. Lauinger scales only 137 pounds, but he is a sure tackler and sound blocker and holds his own up front.

Ortonville coach Ted Freymiller goes all out for halfback Chuck Graves, the Blackhawks' leading scorer and ground gainer. Graves is a power runner weighing 192 pounds. Guard Arnold Hungerford, fullback Larry Follis and halfback Gil Withey also were named by the Ortonville mentor.

Two Orchard Lake St. Mary linemen have been endorsed by Rev. John Rakoczy, Art Goisdzinski, a rangy pass-catching end, and guard Bob Dobski, defensive stalwart, have been the Eaglets' key performers in the forward wall.

Big Bill Tunnicliff, 195-pound fullback, gets Corky Foster's No. 1 vote at Ferndale St. James. Tunnicliff has scored 12 touchdowns this year and he is averaging 12.5 yards every time he lugs the pigskin. Others named were guard Ed Keeting, quarterback Jim Grasel and ends Larry Yesak and Tom Boyle.

Fred Gerhardt has an outstanding halfback at South Lyon in the person of Tom Underhill, the kingpin of the Lions' attack. Terry Dunnigan has been a standout tackle for coach Ed Casey at Royal Oak St. Mary.

Lamphere, which also played football for the 1st time this season, had three players named by coach Joe Borovick. Tackle Roland Fernette the "iron man" of the squad, halfback Bob Bogues and guard Henry Burack received top billing.

AP Wirephoto

Ex-AP All-Staters Doing Well in Colleges

DETROIT (AP)—Most of the players who made the Class A All-State team selected by the Associated Press a year ago are attending college and showing great football promise.

Only one junior was named to the first 11-man team last season. That was Gary Ballman, a halfback from East Detroit. The other 10 were seniors, and nearly all of them are in college in the state of Michigan.

And many of the current players at Michigan State, Michigan and some of the smaller schools around the state were named to previous AP all-state teams.

From the 1952 squad came Dave Kaiser of Alpena, Jerry Goebel of Grosse Pointe and Dan Currie of Detroit St. Anthony. Kaiser, who also made the 1951 honor squad, is starring at end at Michigan State and Currie is his teammate. And Currie appears headed for all-America honors.

In 1953 Jim Ninowski (MSU quarterback), Jim Yore (Indiana fullback) and Art Johnson (MSU halfback) made the team. Ninowski came from Detroit Pershing, Johnson from Flint Northern and Yore from Battle Creek.

The 1955 team is just beginning to show up well on the collegiate gridiron and includes Dean Look, Larry Bielat and Tom Wilson who are attending Michigan State, along with Fred Julian and Darrell Harper who are going to Michigan. All are backs. Look and Bielat were two-time all-staters, also being named to the 1954 squad.

Another 1954 all-stater, Don Eugenio of Grosse Pointe, is one of Muddy Waters' outstanding backs on Hillsdale's unbeaten - untied club. And Bob Urschalitz of Jackson St. Mary, another 1954 all-stater, is quarterbacking the Kalamazoo College team.

The AP sportswriters will select the prep all-state teams at their meeting in Lansing, Monday, November 18th.

Heart Condition Fells Pro Cager

NEW YORK (INS) — The National Basketball Association career of Willie Gardner has ended —even before it began.

The 24-year-old member of the New York Knickerbockers has been ordered by doctors, who discovered he had a heart condition, to refrain from athletics or strenuous labor.

Gardner was purchased from the Harlem Globetrotters last spring for a reported $30,000. Doctors said, the six-foot-eight athlete apparently suffered a "silent" — or painless — heart attack some time this summer.

When told the news, Gardner said, "I don't know what I'm going to do. I don't have any plans right now."

Allen Retracts Remarks Against AAU Committee

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Phog Allen, the stormy, long-time basketball coach at the University of Kansas, and Col. Harry D. Henshel, Chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union's Olympic Basketball Committee, have patched up their name-calling fuss.

Henshel withdrew yesterday a $35,000 suit for defamation of character he had filed against Allen in Federal Court. Allen withdrew his countersuit.

The fuss broke out in the spring of 1956. Allen was angry with the AAU at the time because it had cancelled the amateur standing of Wes Santee, great Kansas miler, on grounds he accepted excessive expense money for running in California track meets.

Another Macias Loses

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Cisco Andrade, 137½, of Compton, Calif., stopped Jorgen Macias, 140, of San Jose, Calif., in the ninth round of a scheduled 10-rounder here last night.

Referee Frank Manfredo stopped the bout at 2:14 p.m.

450,000 Ready for Deer Season

Army of Hunters Set to Go

LANSING (AP)—Like soldiers preparing or battle, a veritable army of 450,000 hunters is getting guns and camping equipment ready for the trek to Michigan's north woods and the opening of the 1957 deer season next Friday.

With the second and third days of the season falling on a weekend, well over 300,000 of those are expected to be on hand for the opening day.

Game specialists in the state conservation department rate their chances for success somewhat better than last year when the total kill by gun and archery hunters amounted to 76,540. Predictions for the increase are based on special "any deer" seasons to run concurrently with the regular 16-day buck-only season in 17 areas.

Last year there were only two such areas.

Another 13 areas, all in the lower peninsula, are scheduled for a Dec. 1-2 season, a Sunday and Monday.

Last year, 428,870 hunters came home with 60,940 bucks in the regular season. The special season kill totaled 12,650 for 42,640 hunters.

Permits for any-deer shooting have been issued this fall to 89,-000 hunters. For various reasons, only about 50,000 will put them to use and they'll likely bag about 15,000 deer, more than 600 per cent of them does and fawns.

Ilo H. Bartlett, state deer specialists, says spring and summer count shows little change in deer populations from last year. Fairly substantial winter starvation losses were reported in the northwestern part of the Upper Peninsula, he said, but no sharp population drop was evident in warm weather counts.

Other new factors enter the deer hunting picture this year, and state game men aren't sure just how they'll affect the season.

For one thing, the price of a resident license has gone up from $3.50 to $5. With people generally watching their spending more closely, there's speculation higher license costs may be coupled with higher ammunition costs and the usual outlay for a hunting expedition may deter some of them from heading north this year.

Also important is the opening of the stratis of Mackinac Bridge and the elimination of the hours-long wait for the ferries to which transported hunters to the lush forests of the Upper Peninsula. Last year, 104,250 buck hunters stalked deer north of the straits. Opening of the bridge may boost the number by 50,000 or more, conservation men predict.

This development doubtlessly will relieve hunting pressure in the Lower Peninsula, where there are more deer but more hunters to shoot them.

England Gains Two Wins at Horse Show

Miss Palethorpe turned in a perfect ride in a jump-off to edge out three male rivals for a Royce A. Drake Memorial challenge trophy in an afternoon event. In the evening Williams made the only perfect ride to win the President of Mexico trophy, for which the Mexican team did not compete.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

There's nothing wrong with the form in today's drawing—nothing, that is, if our player bowls without any unnecessary delay. Too often, however, bowlers get up on the approach and waste too much time before they get down to business. This hurts their own game and bothers the bowlers on adjoining alleys, besides.

There's just too much time wasted during league play these days. And I think star bowlers are the worst offenders. Many of the stars won't bowl if there's someone on an approach three or four lanes away. The same thing's true in office and industrial leagues, too.

To cut down on this, be ready to bowl when it's your turn. Don't make your teammates hunt for you.

Next, when you get out on the approach, you're there to bowl. Don't finish a story or a cigarette. Give the right of way only to the bowler on your immediate right. Forget about the rest. Then, take your stance and bowl.

Ike Calling for Creation of NATO Scientific Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for creation of a NATO scientific committee to speed the sharing of knowledge among Allied nations seemed assured today of enthusiastic acceptance by the European allies.

The test of Eisenhower's leadership on this issue will come in persuading Congress to grant him the necessary authority to share secret atomic weapons information.

He is expected to face more opposition on the issue in Congress than at a December meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris. Eisenhower will head the U. S. delegation.

Eisenhower's main argument to congressional leaders was indicated last night in his broadcast speech on measures designed to recover for the United States the lead in missiles-era weapons which the Soviets demonstrated by their successful launching of earth satellites.

"In the free world," Eisenhower said "we all have a lot to give and a lot to gain security through the pooling of scientific effort. Why should we deny to our friends information that we are sure the Soviets already have?—information our friends could use toward our mutual security.

"Why for want of the fullest practicable sharing, should we waste American research funds and talent struggling with technological problems already mastered by our friends?"

He projected two moves bearing on Allied relationships in the scientific field. He said he would ask Congress to "remove legal barriers to the exchange of appropriate technological information with friendly countries."

If this authority is granted, he went on, he would support organization of a scientific committee within NATO "to carry out an enlarged Atlantic effort in research."

A similar group could possibly be set up within the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and other alliances, he suggested.

He also said that Secretary of State Dulles would appoint a science adviser in the State Department and science attaches in "appropriate" U. S. embassies abroad.

The State Department has had an office of science adviser for several years. The position presently is held by Walter M. Rudolph, a career State Department official who is primarily an economist. The President's statement indicated that he expects Dulles to put a trained scientist in the job and to give him authority for dealing with the proposed new NATO committee and with the United States in all fields of science and technology. The British particularly have sought to restore the World War II partnership of Britain, the United States and Canada which by intensive joint effort produced history's first atomic bomb.

The issue has long been a highly controversial one. Several years ago the law was changed somewhat to let the President provide Allied military forces with information on the uses and effects of atomic weapons so that they can plan their offensive and defensive strategy. But the modified law does not permit any sharing of information on basic scientific secrets.

Roman Bribe Money Found in Britain

SITTINGBOURNE, England — Thirty-four Roman gold coins, some 2,000 years old, have been found by Bryan Hollands, 32, woodwork instructor of Sittingbourne, England.

He found them while digging a trench for his new bungalow and they have been declared treasure trove. They will be disposed of by the British Museum as it sees fit and Hollands will receive their full value.

This is still undetermined, but it is estimated that if sold on the open market the coins would bring between $1,400 and $2,800. Their

One collector of old coins said they date from Julius Caesar in 45 B.C. to Claudius in A.D. 54. His theory is that the coins were used by a Roman invasion force to bribe chieftains.

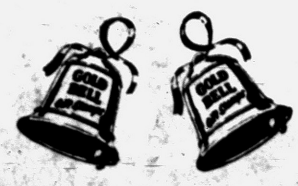

Tape Trader Explains

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Donald Rafferty, a 37-year-old typist clerk of San Bernardino, has an unusual hobby. He is a member of Tape-Respondents International.

"When I ask anyone if they know what a tape club is, they inevitably answer negatively," he said. "A tape club is one in which members who own tape recorders exchange tapes with one another."

"At present," said Rafferty, "I am exchanging tapes with club members in the United States, British Columbia, England and Australia."

There's Always Tomorrow -- on Red Plane

By BOB CONSIDINE

EN ROUTE TO MOSCOW (INS) — The air traveller behind the Iron Curtain leads a life only vaguely similar to, let us say, the man trying to fly from New York to Chicago or Los Angeles to San Francisco. About the only thing they have in common is that both use the flying machine.

The poor, frightened Czechs have compounded the confusion which flourishes in the realm of the "People's Democracies." They seem to be afraid to report that Russia's handsome TU104 jet will depart for Moscow and too timid to offer the opinion that it will not. The truth of the matter is that the Russians just don't bother telling the Czech airline and travel people.

"Is the four o'clock jet to Moscow running on time?" we asked the travel man at Prague's seedy Alcron Hotel the other day.

"Certainly!" he replied with dogged loyalty or stout subservience.

So off we raced to the big distant airdrome. There sat the glittering jet with its great swept wing, big-mouthed engine air intakes and guillotine blade of a tail. It made an impressive picture in the bright sunlight.

We weighed in and surrendered our passport and ticket to a pretty young girl in a blue uniform behind the counter. Her brow furrowed unhappily.

"No to Moscow," she said, shaking her head. She added painfully that the plane would be late. How late, we asked, in an hour, two hours or what? She cleared her throat sadly. "Tomorrow," she said. But what about other planes? She kept saying "Tomorrow." But why would the man downtown say it was going and now it wasn't? The girl shrugged helplessly.

So the next day we arrived at the airport at the suggested time of 8 a.m. It was very foggy. The new face behind the counter said maybe the plane would go, maybe not, but she took our passport and tickets, weighed the baggage and after much figuring on a piece of grey cardboard with a hard lead pencil, the girl said 580 korunas overweight. That's about $30. Happy to be this much closer to our destination, we said, Fine, Fine and handed her our international air travel card. She examined it dubiously and cried out for her boss.

"No goot," he said. "Goot everywhere—true — but no goot Czechoslovakia." He didn't know why. Then he suggested perhaps the airport bank might do something about collecting the overweight in currency. We went off to the bank with the counter girl.

Our path led through the customs room. Czech police were placidly examining the contents of baggage without the owners being present—a breach of international law.

"Sorry, cannot accept Czechoslovakian currency to pay for overweight," the man behind the desk said. "It is unlawful."

We had just cashed an express check at the hotel to get the money, but no dice. Would he take an express check? Certainly, he said, then added, but at the normal rate of seven korunas to one dollar.

"But it is ten to the dollar at the tourist rate, and 18 to the dollar at the hotel, though they promise you 21," we said. He shrugged. "You are not at the hotel now and though you are a tourist you are touring out of the country not into it," he said blandly. So we paid $85 overweight instead of $30 worth of korunas. The cashier, we noticed, had a big stack of American two-dollar bills. Couldn't say why.

NO INFORMATION

The airlines waiting room was like something out of fiction. Bad fiction. People just sat there, most of them staring vacantly, for hours and hours, with no announcement about their plane because, just like Macy's not telling Gimble's the Russians would not tell the Czechs.

Here was a bleary cross-section of the Soviet world: little-known Sudanese Communists, red Chinese, North Koreans, Bulgarians, Hungarians, Germans, Italians, Russians and a Czech general named Chyle who represented his government for ten years in Cleveland and six years in Washington, speaks excellent English and was headed for Panmunjom. He made jokes, and smiled with tiny brown teeth. A playboy of the eastern world.

After four hours we were told we were on the plane. At two o'clock it was not sure. At four, we were sure. At six, the girl said, "Sorry—tomorrow."

Mayor Notes Education Week

Council Discusses Rule for Aid in Fires With Novi Department

WALLED LAKE — Mayor Robert Thibideau has issued a proclamation calling for the observance of American Education Week here, Nov. 10-16.

Members of the council were not happy with the arrangement for mutual service which Novi Township fire department favors. For all fires in the Novi area, the Novi department wishes to be called even if Walled Lake gets the report first. Walled Lake is to assist only if Novi asks for help. It is the feeling of both the council and members of the Walled Lake fire department that this arrangement might lead to the loss of valuable time which could result in more extensive damage.

In other business, the council heard reports from the committee searching for new quarters for the city offices; heard complaints from several subdivisions concerning the flushing of water mains; and also were informed that progress is very slow on the matter of obtaining a traffic light for West Maple and Pontiac trail.

The City Planning Commission will meet the third Monday of each month. They reported that they approved the one way street designations on Milan, Common, and O'Flaherty streets, as well as the restricting parking to one side of each.

The Vreeland brothers will deed a strip of land to the city which will make possible the connecting of Witherall and Nicollet streets. St. Matthew Lutheran church will pay its share of the expense of making a street in this area.

The amendment to the electrical ordinance which was introduced at the previous meeting was passed and is effective immediately. A sidewalk ordinance was introduced, but the council desired to study it until the next meeting.

Business Leaders Chant: 'Wait Until Next Year'

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Fans of a baseball club that used to call Brooklyn home base were wont to mutter: "Wait until next year." Today business leaders and government officials are taking up the same chant.

That the long and strong business boom has stopped for a breather is widely recognized from President Eisenhower on down. That the next six months or so will be comparatively quiet at the best, and slightly lower at the worst, is the forecast of the majority of government and private economists.

But wait until next year.

Almost all of the soothsayers are counting on a renewal of the boom. Only a rare Cassandra here and there talks gloomily of a real recession. Depression has become a naughty word.

Part of this is due to the widely held belief that the government will do something—that the government won't let a recession develop, unemployment spread, business profits turn to business losses.

What government does undeniably has considerable weight on business activities.

But the Federal Reserve Board chairman reminds us that government cannot and should not "prevent declines that have to occur from time to time."

This will shock those who hold that government by its own actions alone can and must halt a recession at its outset.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to just what is happening today. President Eisenhower calls it a breather. Some of his government economists stick to the rolling readjustment tag.

The Federal Reserve chief, William McChesney Martin, holds that the breather is really a healthy correction after a boom that brought inflation as its price and that any attempt to prime the industrial pump now would bring on another spurt of inflation and further cheapening of the dollar's purchasing power.

Business in many lines didn't boom this fall as industrialists and merchants had hoped. But overall activity is at such a high level and the unemployed form such a small percentage of the total labor force that most Americans aren't really hurt by the breather.

It's that next year about which there is uncertainty. So far the signs favor those who hold that the pickup which didn't make an appearance this fall will arrive some six or nine months from now.

Aircrafts, Fuels Drop on Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and rocket fuel shares were lower as the stock market declined early today.

Key stocks were off from fractions to around two points.

The opening was active. The ticker tape fell behind the pace for five minutes as a series of opening blocks piled up. Many of these were of stocks which have climbed in the last few sessions in response to news of Russia's Sputnik II.

Profits were taken in a number of the stocks representing high-energy fuels which rose dramatically yesterday. Wall Street sources said that the import of President Eisenhower's speech was anticipated to some extent and that the absence of an indication of bigger spending for defense was disappointing.

Opening blocks included Boeing off ¾ at 37½ on 10,000 shares; Olin Mathieson unchanged at 43⅜ on 10,000; and Foote Mineral up one at 44½ on 1,800. The latter showed a net loss in later trades as did Olin Mathieson. Both rose yesterday because of their interest in rocket fuels.

U. S. Borax, another fuel stock, dropped well over two points. It rose 4¼ yesterday when it was the second - most active stock.

Steels, motors, nonferrous metals, oils and rails were generally lower by fractions to around a point.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) was fractionally lower following news of its big stock rights offering.

Second Fluoride Programs Eyed

Waterford Chairmen of Health to Start Planning Monday

Plans for another topical fluoride dental program for children living in Waterford Township will get under way at a special meeting of PTA health chairmen at 8 p.m. Monday at the htigh school.

An "open door" invitation has been extended to all schools in the district to participate in next summer's program, according to chairman Mrs. John Hoke.

Sodium fluoride applications, accommodating some 500 township pupils in three elementary schools, was promoted strictly on a trial basis last summer, and proved so successful that ten other schools in the district have requested the program.

With no money in the treasury last year to buy necessary supplies and pay for the two dental hygiene students, the fluoridation committee had to borrow funds from the Williams Lake, Waterford Village and Jayno Adams P.T.A. treasuries. They were the three receiving the treatments.

The group now has more than $700 profit from last year in their own treasury to begin operations, which will be paid back to eventually purchase fluoridation equipment.

Mrs. Hoke explained that the state loans the equipment to the schools, but that there is only 26 such units for the entire state. Each unit costs $1,000.

At the Monday meeting, a consent-letter to be sent to parents will be set up, explaining registration information, age groups to receive treatment and fees for service. Educational pamphlets on fluoridation will also be inclosed with the letter.

Waterford Township dentist Dr. William K. Baer has consented to act in a supervisory capacity, Mrs. Hoke said.

4 Persons Injured in Auto Accident

Four people were injured in an auto accident at 9:30 last night on Cooley Lake north of Cass-Elizabeth Lake roads. Wet pavement was the cause of the accident, Waterford Township police said.

John W. Dawson, 16, of 171 Ascot Ave., told police that he started to skid when he attempted to drive around a curve and couldn't avoid hitting a car driven by Fred C. Johnston, 38, of 9621 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Dawson suffered lacerations of the forehead and was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital this morning. Johnston was treated and released.

Others treated and released were Sarah L. Barningham, 16, of 2856 W. Huron St., and Michael J. Absher, 16, of 3360 Wardcroft Ave., both passengers in Dawson's auto.

Report Reds to Fire Third Sputnik Soon

LONDON (AP) — Reports reaching London today from usually reliable sources said the Soviet Union soon will send up a third Sputnik — twice as big as Sputnik II and with another live dog aboard.

The reports said Sputnik III will weigh a ton and will be sent even higher into space than the second Soviet moon. The latter went up just over 1,000 miles.

The next launching was described as part of a long-range program in which Soviet scientists will probe farther and farther into space.

Sputnik Out of View

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Sputnik II will not be visible over Michigan for several weeks, the University of Michigan astronomy department said today. The astronomers explained the earth satellite's orbit has carried it too far west.

Judge Rules for Troy Special Election

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty ruled yesterday that Troy should have a special election on lowering the city's tax rate.

A petition in which the Troy Non - Partisan Property Owners League called for the election had been challenged by the city because its proposal was seven words over the legal limit.

The proposal would lower the ceiling on Troy's operating taxes from $15 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation to $5.

Van Peursem Yells for Action

Hits Dems on State Taxes

LANSING (AP) — A Republican leader says Gov. Williams had better "start paying attention to the economic facts of life before Michigan is turned into a Democrat desert."

House Speaker George M. Van Peursem scoffed at the governor's contention that Republican national administration policies are causing unemployment in Michigan.

He built his case on relatively low unemployment figures for other industrial states and announcement yesterday by the Daisy Manufacturing Co. of plans to move to Arkansas.

The Daisy concern, makers of air rifles, said it would shift its 700-man operation at Plymouth, outside Detroit, to Rogers, Ark. in the Ozark Mountains next May.

Van Peursem said the case "hits points once again the serious plight" of thousands of small Michigan manufacturers.

TO CUT COSTS

He said Daisy expected to cut its total tax load in Arkansas to one third of its Michigan level, and pay wages of about $1 an hour less than in Michigan.

Michigan manufacturers might be able to remain competitive if the only factor they have to face is high wages, the highest average wage in the nation," Van Peursem said.

"But when high wages are combined with high taxes and the constant threat of more taxes in an unstable government atmosphere, they are driven to other states."

The Republican leader said 6.8 per cent of the total work force in Michigan is unemployed and that the state's job losses have been "tremendous."

The storms hit hardest at Alexandria, La., where three persons were killed last night in a 10-block residential section. A couple died at Carencro, La. Two men were killed near Crowley, La.

The Texas deaths included two at Groves and one at Orange.

Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Parker were found some distance from their house after the twister ripped through Greenwood, Miss.

Rescue teams probed debris at Alexandria. A policeman said the widespread destruction, may hold several more bodies.

The men killed near Crowley were identified as Homer Richard and Lessin Courville. The two dead at Carencro were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Ovey Melancon.

The storms hit communities throughout south-central Louisiana, with heavy rains and high winds accompanying them.

Radio announcer Alton Sonnier of station KSIG in Crowley said the winds of Hurricane Audrey "were nothing like the ones that moved through here last night. The trees in my front yard were flattened out."

Audrey raked the Louisiana coast June 27, leaving more than 531 dead and missing, and damage in the millions.

Power facilities and communications were disrupted in several communities with Alexandria and Crowley both without lights for part of the night.

Red Celebration Ends in Dancing

40th Anniversary Feted in Streets and at Ball for Comunist Leaders

MOSCOW (AP) — Thousands of Moscow [illegible] danced in the streets [illegible] early today while more than [illegible] Communist leaders wound up the Nov. 7 anniversary program with a grand ball in the Kremlin.

The Soviet Communist party boss was in high good humor, swinging an unidentified Russian woman through a dance and joining a spontaneous songfest.

With Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klimenti Y. Voroshilov, Khrushchev made a hand-shaking tour through the crowd that jammed reception rooms to consume great heaps of caviar and plenty of vodka and champagne.

Voroshilov welcomed Red China boss Mao Tze-tung and Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka with a short speech. He praised Soviet scientists, saying they were men of peace rather than of war.

One of the most active handshakers at the party was Britain's "Red Dean" of Canterbury, the Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson. The Anglican churchman is one of the West's best-known fellow travellers.

Another guest was A. N. Tupolev, the top Soviet aircraft designer whose new turboprop airliner —the TU114—was announced Sunday with claims that it is the world's largest passenger aircraft with engines twice as powerful as those on similar types in the West.

Western observers had expected to see the TU114 in yesterday's display of Soviet might but cloudy weather prevented the aerial display.

Tupolev was asked if the liner is really ready. "Certainly," he replied. When we announce something, it's ready."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution passed without any sign that the Russians had attempted any special new scientific feats to mark the occasion.

Viking Can Count 73 Years on the Sea

KRAGERO, Norway—Able-seaman Markus Pettersen does not claim to be the world's oldest active seaman, but friends say he probably is. He is nearly 87 and looks back on 73 years as a sailor.

Pettersen went to sea at 4 on a Norwegian barque and for 46 years sailed the high seas. In 1930 he "settled down" nearer home. Today he is a valued member of the crew of a freighter which plies around Norway's rugged coast.

Part of his life was spent as an American citizen and he was torpedoed five times during the First World War.

It costs the U. S. about $500,000 a year to incinerate accumulated amounts of worn out currency.

Would Substitute District Judges

Lawmakers Seek to End Justice of Peace System

LANSING (AP) — The 1958 legislature will be asked to abolish the justice of the peace system in Michigan and substitute a smaller number of new judicial officers called district judges.

Rep. Kenneth N. Sanborn (R-Mt. Clemens), a former justice of the peace, said sweeping legislation now is being drafted to bring about the change.

It is the product of a study by a joint legislative interim committee headed by Sanborn. Many details remain to be worked out.

However, Sanborn yesterday listed these as major advantages of the committee proposal, which borrows heavily from a new judicial setup in Ohio:

The fee system of compensation for JPs would be eliminated, banishing "evil" pressures. Fees would be paid into a county's general fund, and they would go toward payment of district judge salaries.

Lowest level courts would be put on a sounder economic basis. Now there are about 2,800 JPs, about one fourth of them active and competing for fee income insufficient to maintain even this number. There would be 300 to 400 district judges.

The qualifications of office would be raised, with only lawyers eligible to fill the new posts in counties over a certain population and after a date to be specified.

There would be better provision for courtrooms, maintained by counties according to minimum standards, and generally better administration of justice.

Sanborn said counties would be split up into districts outside areas of municipal court jurisdiction according to a population ratio yet to be worked out.

In Ohio, one district judge is provided on the basis of 30,000 inhabitants, he said.

The district judges would be elected in the spring for four year terms on a non partisan ballot. Incumbent JPs would be given "grandfather" rights and could run for reelection and hold office until defeated.

Madison Heights Picks New City Manager

The City Council appointed the 37-year-old man from Halton, suburb of Fort Worth, where he has been serving as city manager, treasurer and tax assessor, at a special meeting this week.

Letter Carriers Meet

Young Woman Injured

Jo Ann White 21, of 143 S. Francis St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday for injuries received in a two-car collision at W. Huron street and Osceola drive, according to Pontiac Police.

Her car collided with one driven by Harold J. Young, 27, of 4685 Pinedale St., Clarkston, who was uninjured. She was released from the hospital.

Senators Like Ike's Choices

Kefauver Only Sorry Woman Wasn't Named to Civil Rights Body

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's selections for the new Civil Rights Commission met with a generally favorable reaction from the few senators available for comment.

However, Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee to which the nominations presumably will be referred, declined immediate comment.

At the last session of Congress Eastland fought the civil rights bill at every step. It was passed only after the Senate took the unusual course of bypassing his committee.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he felt that Eisenhower had appointed "distinguished men able to do a good job" and added he thought they would meet with "general acceptance."

He said, however, that he was sorry Eisenhower didn't appoint a woman to the commission, saying he felt they have a good understanding of "emotional and human problems."

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) said "it appears to be a group of distinguished Americans."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) described the President's appointees as "men of talent and ability."

In New York, Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People agreed that the commission "appears to be one which can do a good job."

Some Northern Democrats have criticized Eisenhower for not naming the commission members earlier, contending it could have been helpful in resolving the impasse at Little Rock.

May Unlock Door to Space Travel

Engineer Returns to Text

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Through the simple expedient of reading a physics textbook, a quiet 47-year-old research engineer may have unlocked the door to space travel.

Harvey Julian Allen, who designed the "nose cone" that went into outer space and back without burning up from friction, modestly contends that the solution to this most perplexing problem was very simple.

"It's all in the physics book," he commented. "All I did was apply known laws."

Allen came up with the idea three years ago to make the nose cones of space flying rockets blunt-nosed. To the layman, a wider nose would seem to create more friction as an object passes through the atmosphere at thousands of miles an hour.

But Allen calculated that a blunt nose would create more of a shock wave than a needle-sharp nose and therefore, when it struck air it would dissipate most of the frictional heat back to the atmosphere.

Subsequent tests proved him correct, and made America's intermediate and long-range missiles possible. The accomplishment brought Allen out of scientific obscurity and elevated him to a position of leadership. He was honored by the National Advisory Committee on aeronautics and has been chosen to give the coveted Wright Brothers lecture for the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at New York.

But the big, husky government expert is still the plain-spoken, direct individual he always has been.

Allen, a native of Illinois, is now employed as an $11,000-a-year engineer at the NACA'S Ames Laboratory at Moffett Field, Calif., near San Francisco. He is a bachelor.

Officials Jubilant Over Road Plans

Mackie Program Lists 81 New Xway Miles for Metropolitan Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — Metropolitan Detroit public officials were jubilant today over announcement of 81 miles of new expressways to be built in the next ten years.

This most ambitious program in southeast Michigan history was outlined in Detroit yesterday by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

"The entire system will make Detroit the most accessible city in America and the great arteries of commerce it provides will stimulate a rebirth of industrial growth and vitality," he said, "which only quick and easy access can provide."

Mackie unveiled the $700 million program at a gigantic luncheon dedicating completion of the Lodge Expressway and the Lodge-Davison interchange.

His two five-year plans call for 40 miles of new expressways by 1962 and another 41 miles by 1967.

Heads Research Defense Effort

Ike's Top Scientific Aide Noted Red Tape Slasher

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (INS)—Dr. James Rhyne Killian Jr., President Eisenhower's selection to guide the nation's scientific defense program, is a noted red tape slasher.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology president tackles a problem — whether a vital policy decision or a family camping trip —with the razor sharp, methodical, yet on occasion daring mind of the highly trained and experienced administrator he is.

TALKS HARD

Killian talks plain and hard — "knowing as I do the sense of urgency, mission and dedication in the scientific and engineering community of the United States, I am confident that it can do the job . . . and meet any crisis . . ."

Those were his words last night, just an hour after President Eisenhower revealed in his scientific and security report to the nation that Killian would be the new special presidential aide for science and technology.

The 53-year-old South Carolinian likes a planned and orderly life, both at home and in his work yet he can slash a carefully worked out schedule to shreds to handle an emergency. He detests routine thinking and acting.

ACTS SWIFTLY

Killian can act swiftly, and his statement left no doubts he would move "as rapidly as possible to marshal the best scientific and engineering judgment and creative talent in the United States and make it available to the President . . ."

Making with the "utmost dispatch" the decisions needed to recruit a strong scientific advisory group to carry out his presidential mandate will be nothing new to Killian.

During the frequent absences of then MIT President Karl T. Compton on World War II duties, Killian, as executive vice president and acting president, frequently was called upon to make decisions of importance both to the institute and to the country, since Tech was mobilized in research and special training for the war program.

RESIGNED POST

When Dr. Compton resigned his post in 1948, Killian, who has spent all his working life with MIT, was elevated to the presidency on the outgoing president's recommendation. He was the first alumnus ever honored with the post.

The missiles czar traces his association with MIT back to 1924, when he transferred to the famed institute from Trinity College (now Duke University) in Durham, N.C.

He earned his bachelor of science degree in business engineering administration at Tech in 1926. His first job after graduation was as assistant managing editor of the Technology Review.

CUTS COPY

Killian's experience as an editor has stuck with him through his career. He's written many articles, but has shown he can "cut" his own copy ruthlessly.

Killian demonstrated his economy of words last night when he went right to the heart of the problem facing him. He said:

"American science and engineering possess tremendous strength and vigor; and if we proceed diligently and decisively, we can maintain them in the flourishing state required by our national welfare and security and advance steadily in technological strength and achievement."

After a decade of publishing and lecturing, Killian became executive assistant to Dr. Compton in 1939, and four years later was elected executive vice president of MIT. In 1945 he was made vice president. He hold dozens of honorary degrees from other colleges and universities.

When he has time, Killian likes to pursue hiking and mountain climbing. He and his wife, the former Elizabeth Parks of Ashboro, N.C., and their two children, Carolyn and Rhyne Meredith, often go on camping trips. In spots where the family car is impractical, they take out across country with packs on their backs.

Aside from that pastime, Killian's hobbies are mostly about his home in Wellesley, Mass. Together with his wife and children, Killian has done most of the landscaping. And he's even been known to take tools in hand to shingle his garage roof.

He possesses a fine collection of old books and is interested in color photography. Outside the home, he devotes as much of his limited time as possible to community affairs.

Killian was born in Blacksburg, S.C., on July 24, 1904. But today, after many years away from his native southland, he has lost all trace of an accent.

Not Glamorous While Pregnant, Actress Argues

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — French actress Corinne Calvet, contending she was not glamorous while pregnant, has invoked Helen Hayes' famous "act of God" argument in an answer to a publicity firm's $2,000 suit.

Atty. Ludwig Gerber, who filed the answer in Municipal Court yesterday, said Miss Calvet wanted to broaden the ruling whereby Miss Hayes got out of a theatrical contract by arguing that a pregnancy was an "act of God."

He said Miss Calvet hired the firm of Celary, Strauss and Irwin to publicize her "as a glamorous, sexy actress." He said the firm agreed to suspend the contract until after the birth of a child, now 18 months old, but has snce instituted suit for the full amount, including the term of pregnancy.

First mechanized troops in the U.S. Army were in 1899 when several units were mounted on bicycles. Then came automobiles, tanks, and today, paratroop planes.

Strictly for Adult Idiots, Says Cary Grant

Abhors Autograph Hunters

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cary Grant, saying out loud what many stars privately think, calls all adult autograph hunters "pests, idiots and monsters."

"What are they doing with their time?" he asks. "It's getting so fans judge us on our penmanship rather than our talent. How much nicer if they would just come up to you and say: 'We liked you in such and such a picture,' or even if they said: 'You stunk in such and such a picture.'"

"Then there's the guy who busts in while you're eating dinner at a restaurant. While your steak cools, he says: 'I'm from Detroit.'

"I always answer: 'I'm from Bristol. What the hell's the difference?'"

The outspoken Cary once got into a heated discussion with a man who broke up a private conversation and asked Cary for his autograph. The actor stumped the man with this logical query: "Why?"

Stopped momentarily, the man finally blurted out: "I want to prove to my wife that I talked to you."

Cary answered: "Do you mean to tell me that your relationship with your wife is so flimsy that she won't believe that you talked to me when you tell her you did?"

Recently, when Cary was on location in Washington, D. C., for the movie "Houseboat," a group of children came on the set with autograph books. A publicity man, knowing Cary's attitude, shooed them off.

When Cary heard about it, he had his valet collect all the books and he spent an hour or so inscribing them. There's a touching reason.

In those perilous seconds, the little girl had tried to save only one thing—her autograph book, which happened to have Cary's signature in it.

"When I saw how much that autograph book meant to that little girl, I vowed I would never turn down a child's request again."

But he's still adamant about adults.

Ingrid's Daughter Sidesteps Publicity

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—"I don't want to become involved in this in any way," says Jennie Ann Lindstrom of the separation granted in Italy yesterday to her mother, Ingrid Bergman, and Roberto Rossellini.

She spent several weeks in Europe earlier this year with her actress-mother. It was the first time the two had met since Miss Bergman left the United States and Jennie's father, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, seven years ago.

Comic Tackles Stage Tragedy

But He'd Like to Rejoin Gleason on Television in the Future

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Art Carney asked his 5-year-old son what he wanted to be when he grew up.

"A daddy," said Paul. Daddy explained that that was fine, but he would have to do something else, work at some trade. And Daddy suggested a few—doctor, lawyer, actor.

"What's an actor?" asked Paul. Daddy explained that he was an actor.

"Oh," said Paul, "I'll be an actor. That's easy."

For Art Carney these days, being an actor is fairly easy, at that. In what other line of work could a man lose the job he'd held for several years and immediately get dozens of better offers.

"I had a contract with Gleason," Carney says, "that was up in June. Well, about that time it became apparent that Jackie wasn't going to come back regularly this year. I got offers to do everything—TV shows of my own, Hollywood, Broadway, radio, everything.

COULD AFFORD RISK

"So I figured this was an advantageous time to do a Broadway show. Why? Well, first of all I always wanted to do a play. And I had no TV commitments; I was free.

"But I was making money, because those old Honeymooner films we made are being shown all over, and I keep getting paid for those. So I could afford to gamble on a show."

In other words, he's got the time and he's making money, so he can take a chance on a Broadway show, which might mean a few months work for nothing.

Result—Broadway can see Art Carney co-starring with the brilliant Irish actress, Siobhan McKenna, in a new play called "The Rope Dancers." And, strangely, this is not a comedy and Carney's part has only a few incidental moments of humor.

"The Rope Dancers" is a tragedy and he plays "a poet, a dreamer, a man with charm and humor and a tendency to weakness." It's a far cry from Ed Norton, the sewer worker on the Gleason show.

Carney has long wanted to try his talents on Broadway. As he says, "I've done everything else—even a lousy movie called 'Pot o' Gold' when I was an entertainer with Horace Heidt's outfit."

NOT DESERTION

This is not desertion of comedy on his part. That is still his big, basic love—"I'd never give comedy up. I like the feeling of seeing people recognize me and start to smile. It's wonderful to realize that you bring some laughter into people's lives."

Neither is he deserting television.

"If Gleason does a show again—and, knowing him, I bet he's itchy already and wants to get back—I know for a fact he'll want me with him. And I just hope I can do it."

He isn't limiting himself to Broadway, in other words. He expects possibly to do guest shots with Steve Allen or Perry Como—but he won't unless he gets a good script. And he's "almost sure" he'll do two out of the three Dinah Shore shows, when Dinah comes to New York this winter.

Carney spent a lazy summer at his country place on Long Island Sound in Saybrook, Conn. He only took one week off from loafing to do a bit of summer stock at a nearby theater.

HUMBLE HOME

Winters, Carney and family live in Yonkers, outside New York City, in the same house he bought when he was a non-wealthy veteran just after he got his World War II discharge.

It isn't a big, fancy house and it isn't on a lot of well-shrubbed acreage. In fact, the plot is perhaps 55-by-100 feet.

Carney disagrees. "There's no sense moving just because I'm making more money," he says.

"We like it where we are—we like the house, we've got good friends in the neighborhood, the kids have friends and they like the school and all. Why should we move?"

Art Carney has no pretense about him. But he does have this life-long urge to try a Broadway play. This is the year to satisfy it.

NO JOB WORRIES — Art Carney lost his job when the Jackie Gleason television show folded at the end of last season, but he didn't have to scramble around for work — he was immediately deluged with offers. The comic decided to take a chance on Broadway and is now co-starring with Siobhan McKenna in "The Rope Dancers."

Once a Month on TV Is Enough for Tony

By EARL WILSON

So he's coming up on Steve Allen's program—and a month later on Ed Sullivan's — and another month goes by and he's on Perry Como's—and then a month after that he goes to Patrice Munsel's.

WILSON

And that's the way a lot of them figure nowadays.

"Funny thing about how different it is being on the Allen and Sullivan shows," says Tony. "You just bring in sort of a vaudeville act for the Sullivan show and rehearse only one day. With Steve, he gets you into everything and you have to rehearse a lot. You get into the comedy stuff."

Wizards could make something out of this, maybe. The show with the least rehearsal, Sullivan's, so far is topping the ratings.

SCOTT WELDON

Scott Weldon, model waitress and sometimes a dishwasher in her mother's Hoboken restaurant, is getting offers from scouts who consider that she's got what Kim Novak has and even a little more. (Blond hair). Tony Perkins gets his kicks walking down Broadway with hair long and a straw in his mouth, like a farm boy. Now it can be told that when Prince Philip was here, the protocol officer scolded him sharply for "pointing" — it ain't considered regal—and Philip replied, "I'm sorry, it won't happen again."

I asked Harold Arlen, composer of "Jamaica," about the friction in the show, and he gently said, "Collaboration is difficult. People who adore each other suddenly don't speak, or hide from each other. Every time I start one I say, 'This one is going to be different,' and it is—it's worse!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Kirk Douglas wants to rehearse the big TV show days instead of nights so he can be with his wife whom he'll leave behind when he returns to Europe for a film . . . Walter Cronkite, just turned 41, is renewing his tennis (he was a champ in Houston) so when he's 56, he can beat his then 15-yr.-old son. . . . Rock-'n-roll star Le Verne Baker's switching back to ballads.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Woman's virtue is man's greatest invention."—Cornelia Otis Skinner. . . . That's earl, brother.

Ministers Dislike Names Like 'Candy'

JOHANNESBURG — Some ministers in South Africa are urging parents to give more thought to naming their children. "A name such as 'Candy' may suit a three-months babe but it's going to seem out of place on a gray-haired committee chairman," said a Johannesburg clergyman.

"Cindy" is another name to which he objected. He declared that these "cute" names mostly come from American magazines, popular songs and films. Besides, he observed, many baby girls are being burdened with feminine versions of boys' names such as Paulle, Robyn, Toni and Peta.

Quebec to Celebrate

QUEBEC (AP) — Quebec City will celebrate its 350th anniversary in July 1958, and a 22-man committee has been assigned the job of planning the biggest celebration ever seen here. It was in 1608 that Champlain chose Quebec as the seat of government of New France.

U. of M. Professor Notes 'Rigor Kinescopis' Signs

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan professor last night warned parents of a new disease which he called "Rigor Kinescopis."

It results from watching too much television and threatens to number more victims than the Asian flu.

"If you kids get it, you have only yourselves to blame," Prof. Edward Stasheff told the 28th annual parent conference at the university.

He outlined the symptoms of rigor kinescopis: glassy eyes, drowsiness and "that every-bone-in-the-body-aches feeling." Another sign is worn out furniture near the TV set, Stasheff said.

"The cure lies not so much in an outright prohibition of TV viewing by kids," Stasheff said, "but in improved programming to meet their neers and greater selectivity in the viewing habits of their parents.

"Children's programs have in the main not been harmful. At worst, they have been time-wasters and habit formers. But they haven't always made a positive contribution to the child's growth."

Stasheff said rigor kinescopis also attacks adults. He said 75 million Americans sit before their TV screens an average of 18½ hours a week.

Paper, Rubber Use Above Europeans'

BOSTON — Two basic industries, rubber and paper, illustrate the big difference between United States and foreign consumption.

In 1954 the average American accounted for 17.8 pounds of natural and synthetic rubber compared with 11.1 pounds per capita in the United Kingdom, 7 pounds per capita in France, and 6.6 pounds in West Germany. Since that time U. S. consumption has risen sharply to almost 25 pounds.

Also in 1954 the United States, with a population of 155,000,000, used more than twice as much newsprint as did 16 major European nations with a combined population of 271,000,000. Per capita consumption of paper products reached a record 433 pounds in 1956, almost double the 1939 figure.

Thief Takes Doughnuts

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — A burglar stole $10 from the cash register at Margie's Coffee Shop — plus all the doughnuts and sweet rolls.

Prospector Cashes In on African Salt Lake

KALAHARI, S. A.—A $60,000,000 salt lake in South Africa's Kalahari Desert finally is being exploited. Its existence has been known for years — a 15-mile pan of clear white salt amid the red dunes of the Kalahari — but transport seemed an unsurmountable obstacle.

After his death his widow sold it to Fainman. Now, at the settlement, Fainmanshope, he employs a few Europeans and 200 colored and native workers. Great trucks take the salt 160 miles to Upington.

It brings from $1.30 to $1.75 a sack. The market is unlimited. In the pan, salt runs to 10 or 12 feet deep in spots. A new cap appears soon after the bed is scraped.
