Testing Real Flying Saucer

AP Photofax

RESEARCH CRAFT — Anyone who has indulged in the popular game of ridiculing flying saucer seers may have a few apologies to make today. The Defense Department has released this picture of a research craft being developed in Canada for the U. S. Army and Air Force. The picture was made several months ago. The Air Force did not reveal how long testing has been going on. The aircraft is designed to take off and land vertically, using a cushion of air, and fly like a winged plane once it is airborne.

Expect Big Election Turnout

Biggest State Primary Since 1952 Is Foreseen; Weather Outlook Good

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Democrats will pick an heir to Gov. Williams and Republicans will choose their candidates to face U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara in the main event of Michigan's primary election Tuesday.

Upward of 1,200,000 voters, their interests whetted by spirited local contests and the two national political conventions, are expected to show up at the polls.

The total, about 35 per cent of the registered voters, would be the biggest for a primary since the record turnout of 1,436,000 in 1952.

Polls in the 5,073 election precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with about two-thirds of them registering votes by machine.

Gov. Williams will be huddling with Sen. John F. Kennedy at the senator's vacation retreat in Hyannis Port, Mass., when Democrats name their new standard-bearer.

WILLIAMS MUM

Williams, invited to discuss campaign strategy with the Democratic presidential nominee, will vote by absentee.

The Democratic governor, who is quitting after a record six consecutive terms in office, won't say whom he will vote for in the three-man party race to succeed him.

He will chose from among:

Secretary of State James Hare, 50, one-time Wayne State political science instructor and manager of the Michigan State Fair.

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, 35, legless war veteran and former Democratic leader in the State Senate.

The winner will be against Paul D. Bagwell, 46, Mich'gan State University professor, who is the unopposed Republican choice.

Oakland's Eye Is on Top Race

Millage for Courthouse to Be on Ballot; Annual Meetings Also at Issue

Probably the main drawing card — as far as Oakland County Democrats are concerned — is picking a successor to Gov. G. Mennen Williams from their three-man slate.

Vying to fill the shoes of the man who has occupied the governor's mansion since 1948 are Sec. of State James M. Hare, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Detroit Councilman Edward Connor.

Oakland County's 311 voting precincts will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Those in line at the closing hour will be given a chance to vote.

About 100,000 of the estimated 305,000 registered voters in the county are expected to flock to the polls to pick their party nominees for the Nov. 8 general election, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register, said.

Giving a possible rise over the estimate is the split in the county Democratic ranks brought on by what some say has been dissatisfaction with the past leadership of Carlos G. Richardson, county chairman.

This factional controversy will play a big part in determining who gets the nod for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination here in the county — Swainson, favored by Mrs. Harriett Phillips' "Democrats for Victory" caucus group, or Hare, favored by such oldtime party stalwarts as Richardson and Willis M. Brewer, former county chairman.

Conner is expected to run a poor third here.

Contests from governor all the way down to the lowly, uncontested positions for Oakland County surveyor will be the issues at hand Tuesday.

Making up for what luster Bagwell's unopposed position takes from a Republican turnout Tuesday, will be the two-man runoff between Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso and Donald S. Leonard, Detroit attorney, who is bidding for the right to oppose Michigan Sen. Patrick V. McNamara in the November balloting.

Helping create more voter interest in the county is the two-question proposition to raise four million dollars over four years to finish the new courthouse facilities in the County Service Center.

The Board of Supervisors is asking approval of a half-mill levy beginning this December and running through 1963. It will amount to roughly $2.50 on the property

Royal Oak Man Dies Despite Rescue Efforts of Deputy, Neighbor

A Royal Oak father drowned in Middle Straits Lake Saturday afternoon despite fast work by a sheriff's water patrol deputy and an amateur skin diver.

Combs was swimming from a boat about 50 yards from shore north of the Westacres Beach when he floundered and went under.

John Miskovich, 36, of 3000 Southfield Rd., Southfield, who was operating the 16-foot outboard, jumped in and tried to hold Combs up but the victim slipped from his grasp and sank in about 15 feet of water.

Nixon and Kennedy Fishin', Politically

By the Associated Press

Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Washington, mapping his strategy, moved today to line up participation by both President Eisenhower and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the Republican campaign.

At Hyannis Port, Mass., meanwhile David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, told Sen. John F. Kennedy today he is sure organized labor will support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the November election.

Long-distance calls with Eisenhower and Rockefeller by Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate, resulted in these immediate plans:

1. Nixon will fly to Newport, R.I., late today to confer with Eisenhower before taking off Tuesday morning on his whirlwind trip to the West Coast and Hawaii.

2. Robert H. Finch, newly designated Nixon campaign director, will meet with Rockefeller in New York Wednesday to work out the governor's participation in Nixon's campaign.

These plans were announced as Nixon huddled with his vice-presidential running mate, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, and members of their staffs at a downtown hotel here. Lodge will also make the trip to Newport.

Nixon came to the closed session after having breakfast with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said Nixon and the President will discuss Eisenhower's role in the campaign. Nixon said last week that the President is tremendously interested in a Republican

Dirksen Prophesies on Short Session

Doubts Civil Rights Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen expressed doubt today that the bobtail session of Congress starting next Monday will act on civil rights legislation.

★ ★ ★

The Illinois senator made his observations after another Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, raised the possibility of a new, pre-election civil rights squabble.

Javits served notice yesterday he will introduce a bill containing main provisions of the GOP's civil rights plank.

Dirksen said, "If a civil rights bill is introduced in accord with the Republican platform, we'll make every reasonable effort to get action on it."

But, he said, "We have rules to abide by and procedures we can't escape.

"The Democratic majority will determine what measures will be called up and how long the session will last."

He pointed out that any civil rights legislation would have to be referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee, where hearings would be insisted on.

Also, he said, Senate rules would make it difficult to get any bill out of the committee and to limit floor debate during the short session.

Dirksen said he had not had an opportunity to discuss the legislative program with Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex).

But, the GOP leader said, he assumed the session, starting next Monday, will act on a minimum wage bill, mutual security appropriations, a pension bill for the self-employed, medical care for the aged, school construction and other matters left over when Congress quit for the political conventions.

Dirksen added that from reading the papers he assumed the Democrats will try to get action on a farm bill and housing legislation, and possibly increased defense appropriations.

He said Republicans will meet next week, possibly Monday or Tuesday, to discuss what actions they will try to get in the session.

The House won't come back until Aug. 15.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, predicted civil rights legislation might be introduced and said he wouldn't be surprised if it would touch off a Southern filibuster.

But Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, GOP national chairman made it clear he wants the session to steer away from what he called any ambitious or time-consuming measures.

Smashes Into Living Room

Another Car Rams Home

White repairs were being made yesterday on the family room of a Birmingham home damaged three months ago by a runaway car, another car crashed into the living room.

Still repairing his home from the first accident was Leonard J. Quart, 1200 Pilgrim Rd., when he narrowly avoided being hit while carrying new shutters through the living room and into the remodeled family room.

Furniture for the family room stacked in the living room was demolished when the car smashed through the living room and stopped in a hallway.

The driver of the car was Mrs. Alice Wickham, 43, of 1336 Pilgrim, Detroit. She is in satisfactory condition in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a fractured nose, cuts and bruises.

The first accident occurred May 3 when Ernest Kern, 56, former general manager of the Ernst Kern Co. drove his Thunderbird into the family room. Kern suffered minor injuries.

"We're not going to move," Mrs. Quart said today.

She said police are still trying to guess the odds of the accident happening for a second time.

"I bet it's better than a million to one," she said.

Mrs. Wickham drove her 1959 Cadillac through the Quart house at 2 p.m. yesterday when she hit a parked car next to the Quart residence and careened 45 feet across the Quart lawn.

Kern lost control of his car when he hit a boulder near the Quart home and careened across the lawn.

At the time of the first accident, the Quarts and their four children were at home sleeping.

Yesterday, only two of the children were at home.

Police can give no reason why the Quart home is accident prone since it is in the middle of the block and not on a corner lot where a runaway car on a curve might hit it.

Jazz Cats Cool Down in England

LONDON (AP)—With one more night to go, the jazz festival on the estate of Lord Montagu went off smoothly Sunday night after a brawling mob of teenagers took over the night before.

Extra police were stationed at historic Beaulieu, the estate 68 miles south of London, to make sure there was no repeat of the melee at the opening session of Britain's fifth annual jazz festival.

The Saturday night crowd was noisy but did not get out of hand until the appearance of Acker Bilk, Britain's current Dixieland sensation, and his band. Then teen-agers surged around the scaffolding holding large floodlights of the British Broadcasting Corp. and began climbing the structure.

Others in the packed crowd began booing and pelting the climbers with apple cores, eggs and anything else handy.

VIDEO VIEWERS WATCH

Thousands of TV viewers watched the unexpected action. TV announcer Derek Jones told them: "Things have gotten completely out of hand. Obviously, this cannot go on.

The BBC closed the program.

Lord Montagu said: I think one can safely say that is the last jazz festival to be held here."

Fast Start Set on Fall Output of New Tempest

There'll be a big accent on the new Tempest when fall production gets rolling at Pontiac Motor Division, according to Ward's Automotive Report.

Some 4,900 of the new cars are scheduled for production during the month of October, the trade publication said over the weekend.

Division spokesmen declined to comment on advance production figures.

"But it's reasonable that we'll get off to a big bang," a representative said.

The public unveiling of the long-awaited Tempest has not been scheduled yet, the spokesman said.

Production of 1960 automobiles is expected to end late this week or early next.

The spokesman said the exact time will be announced later this week.

Township Meetings in Balance

Issues Face Area Voters

Voters in 18 Oakland County area communities will decide special issues in Tuesday's primary.

On the ballot in 11 of the county's 24 townships will be the question of abolishment of annual township meetings.

Other issues primarily are concerned with creation of planning commissions to replace zoning boards, civil service for police and fire departments, enactment of new zoning laws and in Troy, two bonding proposals for a new sanitary sewer system.

Probe Break-Ins at Waterford

Unoccupied Home and Two Auto Parts Firms Looted on Weekend

* * *

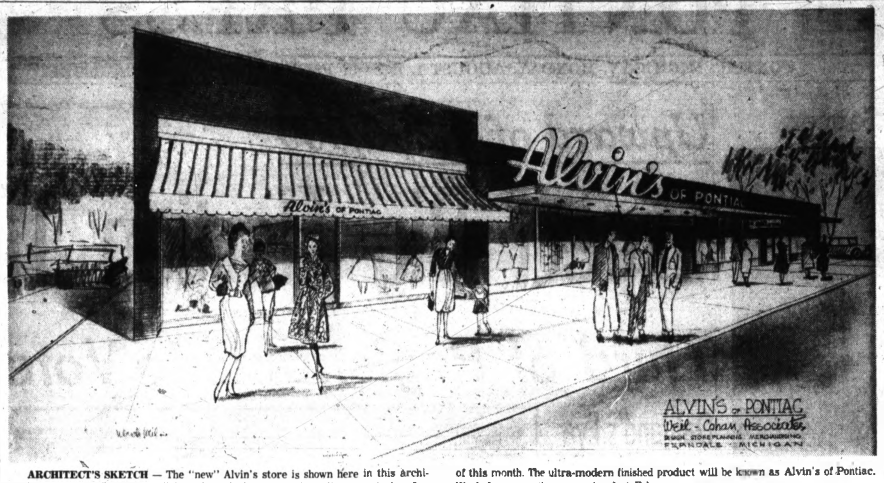

Police reported thieves apparently used a truck to haul away an array of household items from the home of Al Davidson of 5455 Mikewood Dr., Waterford Township.

Davidson, whose family had not as yet moved into the home, said he would have to compile an inventory to fix the value of the stolen property.

Two auto parts firms in the same building at 2539 Dixie Hwy. were broken into, with the owners reporting equipment totaling $200 in value stolen.

Police were questioning three juveniles in connection with the burglaries of Schram's Auto Parts and Elmer's Auto Supply.

The Day in Birmingham

The parking area which would be the sixth municipal parking lot has been declared a necessity and court proceedings have been instituted to condemn three parcels of property for which the city has not been able to secure options.

Gare said that if the parcels are acquired by continued negotiations or condemnation in the near future there would still be time this year to construct the parking area.

Until the property is acquired and construction begins, Gare in a report to the Commission recommends that unmetered parking be allowed to continue on the east side of Woodward from Ravine to Oak streets as a temporary means of relieving parking congestion there.

* * *

The recommendation to continue unmetered parking in the area is the third since June 1959 when the commission passed a resolution allowing for the angle parking along the two blocks.

McDonald, after a visit with Kennedy at the senator's summer home, told a news conference he believes labor will support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's choice for vice president, as strongly as it supports Kennedy.

He parried questions about reported grumbling by labor union members against Johnson as a running mate for Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president.

Kennedy, standing beside McDonald on a lawn through the news conference, said he had invited the union leader here to discuss the slump in steel production and its effects on workers as well as on industry.

* * *

McDonald said he had urged Kennedy to implement the Full Employment Act, a law passed in 1946 which directs the government to take appropriate steps, particularly in times of adversity, to assure full employment.

McDonald said the steel industry is operating at 53 per cent of capacity with prospects that it will not reach more than 70 per cent of capacity in the fall.

The accident occurred at 7 p.m.

Cool, Pleasant Spell Gives Regions Breather

By The Associated Press

Cool, pleasant weather gave the Northeast and Midwest another midsummer breather today. The Pacific Coast also enjoyed lower than normal temperatures.

* * *

Light showers dampened the western third of the nation and the middle Atlantic and Gulf Coast states. But the precipitation, the Weather Bureau said, was more a bothersome drizzle than a purposeful downpour.

Lafayette, La., however, measured 2.77 inches of rain in a six-hour period during the night. Heavy rainfalls were widespread Sunday from Washington, D.C., south to Florida and west to the Tennessee Valley.

* * *

Richmond, Va., was swamped with more than three inches of rain. Savannah, Ga., had a two-inch downpour in less than an hour. Near Lake Charles, La., three funnel clouds dipped down from a heavy thunderstorm.

Reds Stressing Sub Missiles

Navy Chief Links Up Praise for Undersea Fleet, Rockets

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of the Soviet navy hinted Sunday that his forces—like the U.S. Navy—are concentrating on missiles fired from submarines.

Adm. Sergei Gorshkov, in a broadcast statement marking Navy Day, hailed the Soviet Union's big submarine fleet as the major weapon for modern naval warfare.

* * *

Gorshkov said that the Soviet Union's principal security lies in its rocket defenses, thus indirectly linking rockets with submarine striking power.

The statement followed by less than two weeks a U.S. submarine's first successful underwater test firing of the Polaris missile, which hit a target 1,000 miles away.

The Soviets have about 500 submarines, the world's biggest undersea fleet, and are believed building nuclear subs equipped with long-range guided missiles. U.S. naval intelligence has reported Soviet subs can now fire guided missiles with a range of about 350 miles.

Clothing Store Will Have New Name

Alvin's to Expand This Month

Showing "a real appreciation for this city and its future," Alvin Steinman, president of Alvin's, Inc. has announced his larger women's clothing store will be known as Alvin's of Pontiac.

The store at 892 W. Huron St., corner of Telegraph road, is being expanded and remodeled to include several features new to the Pontiac area.

In explaining the enlargement and change of name, Steinman said, "I've always liked this city and have great faith in its future growth."

The present 2,500-square-foot store will be expanded to cover some 9,600 square feet.

Steinman bought the block of stores of which his was one and began work on them in February. He expects the addition will be ready for opening before the end of August.

New features will be the employment of beauty and figure consultants to work in the cosmetics and foundations departments.

"Each will be an expert in her field and will be there to advise ladies on how to make themselves more glamorous. For special occasions ladies may come in and have their makeup applied at the store for really expert results," Steinman said.

The cosmetic department will be new to the store. Also a new feature, with chandelier and plush carpets, will be the Continental Room.

ALVIN STEINMAN

It will be used to display finer clothes, present designer clothes and hold fashion showings.

"There is nothing like it in this area," he said.

With the addition, Steinman will carry sportswear, dresses, suits, coats and small wear, with new departments for shoes, millinery, lingerie, foundations and cosmetics, and boutiques.

There also will be a men's store, carrying men's furnishings and gift items.

* * *

The entire building has been redecorated. There will be free parking areas to the side and rear.

Planning for the expansion began last fall.

Rep. Lesinski Urges Census Every 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — America is growing so fast there should be a census every five years instead of 10, said Rep. John Lesinski (D-Mich), as he urged approval of a bill calling for a 1965 census.

"In my opinion this country has too much at stake, both at home and abroad, to wait 10 years for population figures," Lesinski said.

"In the 1950-60 decade some 1,500 communities paid the Census Bureau to take special censuses principally for the purpose of recovering tax refunds from state treasuries based on per-capita allocations," Lesinski said, adding:

"In many cases, these tax refunds were urgently needed by the communities because of population growth to finance public works, especially . . . schools, roads and utilities."

WILLIAM L. KELLEY

Pontiac Motor Supervisor Dies

W. L. Kelley Retired in 1957 After 25 Years With Division

Service for William L. Kelley, 67, retired supervisor of sheet metal production at Pontiac Motor Division, will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Cremation will follow at White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Kelley succumbed Saturday to a heart attack at his home, 4960 Ranch Lane Dr., Bloomfield Township.

Mr. Kelley worked 25 years for Pontiac Motor Division, most of the time in the sheet metal department.

Joining the division in 1932, within a few days he was promoted to sheet metal foreman.

* * *

He was assistant superintendent in this department when transferred during World War II to the Oerlikon Gun project.

Mr. Kelley served as general superintendent of production of this antiaircraft weapon for the Navy.

He was named superintendent of the sheet metal department in 1947 and held the post until his retirement in September 1957.

A native of Everett, Mass., Mr. Kelley is survived by his widow Harriett. There are no children.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. William Shepherd, and a brother Edgar Kelley, all of Scituate, Mass.

Milford Firm Grows Fast in Five Years

The Aluma-Vue Co. of 10325 Highland Rd., Milford, has greatly expanded production operations since its founding five years ago.

It was recently announced by E. J. LaForest, vice president, that a contract to furnish Multistory Curtainwalls for the Gottlieb Memorial Hospital in Oak Park, Ill., had been obtained.

The firm, which now employs 46 persons, was formed March 4, 1955, by LaForest and Gerald E. Hausfeld.

New York City's July Is Coolest Since 1925

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in 28 years, New York City got into August without 90-degree temperatures.

It was the coolest July since 1925, with the mean temperature for the month 72.6 degrees. July's highest reading — 86 — was the lowest high for the month since the Weather Bureau began keeping records in 1871.

The tallest building in the United States, outside New York City, is Cleveland's 52-story Terminal Tower. It is 708 feet high.

Throughout the county's townships and cities will be local questions, many of which are aimed at abolishing the annual township meetings.

Facing Waterford Township voters are two special questions. One would provide civil service for township firemen and the second would do away with the township's annual meeting in April.

Two non-partisan nominees for the county's new $22,500-a-year probate judge position will be selected tomorrow. Voters throughout the county will vote for one of eight candidates for the position created by the Legislature this year.

The balloting for the judgeship should not be overlooked, Murphy warned. The eight candidates will appear in two rows on blue paper in the lower right-hand corner of the ballot.

The two nominees will square off in November.

Although county Republicans will simply pull down the pointer for unopposed Congressman William S. Broomfield, local Democrats must decide between six Democrats seeking the congressional nomination.

All six Republican county office-holders are unopposed for renomination. They will automatically land a spot on the fall ballot.

Over in the Democratic column, nine Democrats are trying for nominations for the six offices of prosecutor, sheriff, treasurer, clerk-register, drain commissioner and surveyor.

There are Democratic contests in the races for prosecutor, where Bloomfield Township neighbors George J. Fulkerson and Alvin S. Rappaport are vying, and for the offices of clerk-register and drain commissioner.

John F. Kromenberg of Royal Oak and David S. Lees of Troy are bidding for the clerk-register nomination, while Sol F. Plaftin of Hazel Park and Roy J. Russell of Pontiac Township are seeking the right to meet Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry in November.

Oxford auto dealer Homer Hight is unopposed for the Democratic sheriff nomination, William K. Benson, his party's nominee for treasurer two years ago, is after the same office this year, while Stanley F. Dunn is unopposed for the position as surveyor.

* * *

Twelve Republicans and 12 Democrats are in the six races for the county's six seats in the House of Representatives. Voters cast their vote for only the legislative district in which they reside.

In Pontiac, there is no primary opposition for either incumbent State Rep. Arthur J. Law, a Democrat, or his November opponent, Richard I. Moore, a Republican.

Two of the state representative incumbents face primary opposition tomorrow. They are Reps. S. James Clarkson of Southfield and John C. Hitchcock of Hazel Park.

Three Democrats and two Republicans hope to replace Sen. L. Harvey Lodge in the State Senate. Republican candidates are State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts and Richard D. Kuhn, Pontiac attorney and car wash owner.

* * *

* * *

Also on the ballot Tuesday will be the selection of the nominees for the state's second spot on the ticket. Five Democrats are stirring up an otherwise uninteresting battle for lieutenant governor position, while two Republicans are hoping to be Bagwell's running mate three months hence.

Murphy said some 1,500 election workers will be ready for what state election officials hope will be a voter stampede, spurred on possibly by this being a presidential election year.

* * *

There will be 307 voting precincts using 662 automatic voting machines, and four precincts in Groveland and Brandon Townships and Northville still using paper ballots, according to Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk.

1,200,000 Are Expected to Cast Ballots Tuesday

Generally, they have refrained from attacking each other in a comparatively mild campaign.

The winner will take on Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, 65, who has promised to wage a vigorous campaign in the fall despite bouts with surgery and pneumonia that weakened his health. McNamara, former Detroit union official, is unopposed in a try for a second term.

Four certified candidates and one who is casting for write-in votes are fighting it out in a Democratic free-for-all for lieutenant governor. The four whose names will appear on the ballot are Rep. T. John Lesinski, five-term legislator from Detroit; Richard J. Coughlin, Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor; George B. Daugherty, Flint union official, and Richard Vander Veen, Grand Rapids attorney endorsed by the AFL-CIO.

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, twice elected lieutenant governor as a Republican in the 1940's, is bidding for the job again as a Democrat. He stayed in the race as a write-in candidate when the Board of State Canvassers held his nominating petitions didn't carry enough valid signatures.

Two years ago, 70 per cent of the Democratic vote in the primary came from Wayne, Macomb, Genesee and Oakland Counties.

As usual, the topic was Michigan's financial crisis. Connor said he favors a graduated state income tax and a new system of corporation taxes. He said he is against an increase in the sales tax.

German Reds Threaten to Seize West's Trucks

BERLIN (AP—The Communist regime of East Germany threatened today to seize any trucks using the West Berlin lifeline to the West to carry material for the West German army.

Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer told a news conference that if freedom of access is "abused to give direct or indirect support for the militarization of West Germany," the offending vehicles will be seized.

A QUESTION THAT SHOULDN'T BE TOO HARD TO ANSWER . . .

Just suppose for a moment or two that you are a local business man looking for a young man to assist you in your everyday work — Two men apply for the job, both neat in appearance, both well educated, both willing to work, different only in their credit records on file in our bureau—one good—one bad—Which one would you employ.

Of course you would, for the young man with the good credit record has proved over a period of time that he is the one who can properly handle his own financial problems, he's a man to be trusted . . . just the type to keep your business on the right road. He's the man for you.

3,000 Write Asking Remedy

No Cure for Chronic Snorer

LONDON (AP) — More than 3,000 people in need of a quiet night's sleep have written to the British medical magazine, Family Doctor, to get a cure for snoring.

* * *

They wrote from every corner of the globe.

But in this age of antibiotics, miracle vaccines, and even drugs that tame wild animals, there is no fool-proof remedy for the chronic snorer in full blast.

Wives wrote claiming their husbands could snore in any position.

A woman in Houston, Tex., said she had slept on the couch in the next room with the door shut, cotton in her ears, and a pillow over her head, and still she could hear her husband snoring.

RELATIVES COMPLAIN

A man from Pennsylvania claimed his snoring was so bad that not only his wife but other relatives at opposite ends of the house were complaining.

* * *

A Scotsman wrote: "One of my sons can hear me as he comes off the last bus."

Another sufferer has seen the logic of the separate-beds solution carried to extreme.

"I am an old married man," he wrote. "My snores seem to be so persistent, also musical and the bass clef, that my wife insisted at least on separate houses. She is in Scotland and I am still in London."

The young snore, the old snore

LOOK FOR CURE

They were asked to fill in forms describing their brand of snoring and recording how much they snored. Then they were given a series of exercises to tighten up the throat, jaw and tongue muscles.

* * *

Of the 250, only 78 completed the course. And not one of them claimed a cure. About half said they noticed some benefit; the rest, no benefit at all.

Family Doctor editor, Dr. Harvey Flack, now wants to find out whether chewing gum reduces the risk of snoring and whether musicians who play wind instruments suffer from snoring as much as other people.

* * *

But a letter from a wife in Toronto probably provides a fitting postscript to the experiment. "I am convinced," she wrote, "that there is no cure for snoring other than killing your husband, which is not legal in our country."

Queen Mother Nears 60, Will She Get Pension?

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth may become eligible this week for a $7 a week pension.

If she does, almost no one will know for sure. And she probably never will collect it.

On Thursday the mother of Queen Elizabeth II will be 60. At that age a British woman can collect an old-age pension—usually of 2 pounds 10 shillings—if her husband made his regular, compulsory contributions to the government health, insurance and pension plan.

But probably only a few officials and members of the royal family know if the late King George VI contributed. By law the sovereign is exempt from many taxes that plague ordinary mortals—income tax, customs and death duties for example. Royal wills, inheritances, property sales, bank balances and the like are carefully guarded secrets.

If anyone raised the question of the pension with the Queen Mother, she would probably treat it as a joke.

Light-hearted, highly considerate, possessed of a quick sense of humor, she is the most charming of women, the sort of person who walks into a crowded room and speaks first to the shy guests along the walls.

* * *

She will no doubt take to 60 with the same easy grace with which she reacted to bring 50.

On that milestone, a well-known court photographer sent her a set of pictures he had taken of her. They had been touched up.

The portraits were returned with thanks and a note that said: "Her majesty feels that having weathered 50 years of life on earth, she would not like her photographs to suggest that she has come through completely unscathed."

Expect Busy '61 Labor Year

State Mediation Board Notes Workload Cycle Ties in With Contracts

LANSING (UPI) — The State Labor Mediation Board expects a busy 1961.

* * *

"There's a definite cycle in our workload," said Board Chairman Allan D. Chisholm, "and it's tied in with when the contracts for the big three auto companies come up for renewal.

"Indications are next year will be the biggest in our history."

It isn't just the big three auto makers — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — that build up the work for the Labor Mediation Board.

The small companies which supply parts, service, or have some other connection with the auto industry — and are unionized — wait for the big three to set pattern for demands and benefits.

* * *

"The small unions wait to see what the big unions get, then they ask for the same thing," said Samuel J. Simmons, Board executive secretary.

Many small contracts with auto company suppliers are deliberately designed to terminate just after the big three contracts are up for negotiation. Other union and management groups drag out their negotiations to see what the pattern set by the big companies will be.

The contracts which were arrived at in 1958 after long negotiations between the unions and the big three expire next summer.

* * *

"We'll reach a peak in our workload next year, although there may be some lulls while waiting for the big three to settle," Chisholm said. "Then the number of cases will drop again.

"But it will never get as low as the previous low point," he said "the number of cases is going up all the time."

2 Detroit Land Men Propose Town Houses

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Detroit land developers have proposed construction of two 28-story apartment buildings in an urban renewal area on the lower east side of Detroit.

* * *

Morton Scholnick presented a plan to Mayor Louis C. Miriani for an apartment building and 11 town houses at a cost of $6,250,000.

* * *

Albert Nelson proposed a $5,000,000 project nearby with swimming pools and underground parking. Both projects would be known as the Lafayette Park Extension.

Western Union Plans 8 Per Cent Rate Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Western Union Telegraph Co. has notified the Federal Communications Commission it plans to increase its press message rates by an average 8 per cent, effective Aug. 26.

The company last week gave notice that its public message rates would be advanced by 8 per cent on Aug. 17, as a part of a general advance in service charges designed to yield about $12,000,000 additional revenue annually.

Western Union said the additional revenue is required to offset wage increases granted under new labor contracts.

About 55 per cent of American families own their homes.

Seek 6 Whites in Kidnaping

2 Negroes Say They Were Abducted From Home; 1 Was Flogged

HARPERSVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Law enforcement officers today continued a search for six white men wanted for kidnaping two young Negro brothers and flogging the older one.

Police Chief Raymond Rogers said he hasn't been able to establish a motive for the abduction Saturday night of Henry Jones, 20, a service station attendant, and his brother, David, 12.

Rogers said authorities think they know at least two of the white men and have put out a pickup order for them.

The Negroes said they were kidnaped at their home by two carloads of white men, forced at gunpoint into one of the cars, and taken to an abandoned farmhouse just across the line in Coosa County about 23 miles southwest of here.

The white men stripped the older Negro to his underwear, Rogers said, and tied him to a tree in the yard where he was whipped with belts and knotted ropes. The younger brother was not harmed.

Jones said he was warned by the white men that if his employer, C. B. Miller, "hired another Negro, we're going to do worse to him."

The white men also reportedly threatened Mrs. Miller, wife of the service station operator.

"We'll tie her to the same tree and beat her if they hire another Negro," the men were quoted as saying.

Not Such Bad Guys

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow residents have been told they should obey and respect policemen. The newspaper Evening Moscow set out that view in an article that said many parents are guilty of making bogeymen of police to frighten children. This practice, said the newspaper, frequently causes bad feeling and mistrust.

Slow Driver Is Menace on Today's Highways

Slow drivers don't realize it, but actually they are every bit as dangerous as fast drivers. To most of us he's the No. 1 nuisance on the highways. And to the traffic experts he's a menace.

This information comes from the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads. And it comes after an 11 state study which turned up some startling facts. They found that there were six times as many accidents, per vehicle mile traveled, at 35 miles per hour as at 70 miles per hour. And this was on the open road.

Since poking along and gaping out the windows is an invitation to death we might well all take notice and heed our ways. Traveling at a snails pace on today's super highways is suicidal.

Following are a few rules drawn up by the National Safety council to help all of us:

If you're behind a slow driver:

1. Keep your head, no matter how mad you get.

2. Never try to pass in a no-passing zone or in insufficient space.

3. Sound your horn politely. If the slow driver doesn't pull over, wait a minute and sound it again.

4. If you feel your temper slipping, stop for a cup of coffee or a smoke. When you take to the road again, your problem will be past.

If you're a slow driver yourself:

If your rear-view mirror shows a string of impatient drivers behind you, you should awaken to these three important rules:

1. On an ordinary two-lane highway, if somebody wants to pass, pull over at the first opportunity and signal him on.

2. On expressways always keep up with the traffic — within the speed limit. You're in real danger of being rammed from the rear if you don't. And in many states you can get a ticket!

3. If you must go slow, don't be self-righteous about it and try to hog the road.

Bill to Ban Deadly Fish Is Pending in Congress

California officials have become alarmed about a situation which could be extremely dangerous in Oakland County and Michigan, too—the stocking of home aquariums with the deadly South American piranha fish.

★ ★ ★

The piranha is only six to eight inches long, but extremely ferocious. Attacking anything in the water, they can strip a body to bones in minutes. Animals along the Amazon die with their mouths torn away, just taking a drink of the water where the piranha lurks.

★ ★ ★

No one in their right mind would put such a fish in local lakes, but then no one would free an alligator here either. And you remember that story — we finally got one out of Lower Long Lake.

★ ★ ★

A bill to ban their import is pending in Congress, but if that fails, local action may be necessary. Consequences of piranha multiplying here are too horrible to consider.

Launching of Polaris May Cause Squabbles

Inter-service squabbles are a deterrent to this nation's strength. Yet after last week's launching of the Polaris missile from a Navy submarine we can expect a turbulent wake to follow.

This is unfortunate. It is too bad that this spectacular firing must cause a dispute. The main question behind the fight is just where the Polaris program fits into our defense system.

The decisions called for have price tags mounting into the billions of dollars. The taxpayers are the ones that suffer when such battles occur.

This dispute will pit the Navy against the Air Force and it will likely end up in a political fight.

The Navy and the Air Force already find themselves in a basic argument over the future makeup and control of the program. In view of the success the Navy's test firing the immediate decision is whether to step up construction of the Polaris submarines. If so, where does the money come from?

Next operational control of a fleet of Polaris submarines must go to someone. The Air Force wants a new strategic command to handle this.

Secretary of Defense Thomas F. Gates Jr., should have the decisions squarely in his hands. We hope that it will not result in the Administration being pitted against the Democratic Congress in a political campaign atmosphere.

Disputes such as this can be expensive with the taxpayers themselves being made the goat.

The Man About Town

Most Popular Vacation Period of Entire Year

August: When we hope that old copybook rhyme will be obsolete: "Next sultry August takes its turn, and hotter yet the sunbeams burn."

We are now in the middle of the most popular vacation time of the whole year with the good people of Pontiac and vicinity.

The final week in July and the first week in August are the two weeks out of the whole year that seem to have the largest favoritism for an outing.

Where it is necessary for fellow employes to stagger their vacations, this two-week period is always in first demand.

This year more of our people are seeing their own state than ever before. They're out to learn first hand of its claims to being the top summer tourist state of the nation are well founded.

According to advices from

manager of the Pontiac AAA office, requests for routings around Michigan far exceed those for any other section. The Northern Peninsula is the focal point of a large percentage.

Pontiac Superintendent for Greyhound Lines, state's that this is the most crowded period of the year, and that Michigan stands at the top among the vacationers.

Pete Waldelich,

Pontiac agent for the Grand Trunk Railway,

N. N. Card,

also states that this period is the most popular with people traveling for pleasure, and many are confining their vacation to Michigan points.

Local records show that the late

Daniel L. Davis

had a better control of the Pontiac Democrats than any other man around the turn of the century, when they garnered some county offices. His top ambition was to see

Congratulations on this column's boosting for Oakland County are received in a letter from

of Birmingham. She says, "We recently moved out here from Detroit, and find that we are just learning about some of the best things in life."

Back from a trip to Europe,

Max Seville

of Bloomfield Hills tells of a novelty in advertising in Italy. For a small sum per week, bald men rent the space on their heads for ads at outdoor events where they can be viewed by people sitting above them.

Littered Path of Glory

David Lawrence Says:

America Deteriorating? Nonsense!

WASHINGTON — Thoughts that come to one's mind after spending three weeks away from the national capital, thoughts of an America seen at first hand—how different it really appears from the image portrayed again and again by some of the "intellectuals" in our midst!

LAWRENCE

It does anyone good to come down to earth—to visit the grass roots and talk with the citizens themselves.

After months of reading essays and listening to speeches about how America is in a state of "moral decay," of how our "affluent" society is causing us to deteriorate and, how we are losing that indefinable something called "prestige" in the world, it was inspiring to see America as it really is.

For the men and women who are at work every day, faithfully giving their energies and their minds to the job at hand, don't show signs of lagging or faltering. Most of them are not driving around in power-steering autos. A vast number still have "used cars" that manage to get them to and from work and provide a Sunday afternoon excursion to the country.

The physical appearance of America isn't bad, either. There are lots of undeveloped areas, lots of places where new buildings and homes would be desirable.

But our eyes must not overlook the vast improvement in living standards or the better homes, with well-kept lawns, the better streets and the better roads that have made America a land unsurpassed in this world.

LUXURIES MULTIPLY

Luxuries are coming along fast enough, and human beings will never cease to crave more comforts—no stimulus of government is necessary to encourage such desires or aspirations.

He is far more concerned about what is happening right here at home. For population is growing. Episodes of friction between races are naturally increasing in number because there are more people everywhere.

True enough, there is more crime and more juvenile delinquency—an increasing population would account for much of it—and there can be no doubt that broken marriages and disrupted home life have contributed much toward bringing mental disturbances among young and old.

But despite the healthy discussion of our faults, it is important to maintain a sense of proportion —to have a perspective that looks at all and not just some of the facts.

For the facts are that America is a vibrant country. Its people are not degenerating because of increased comforts. Their moral position is not to be disparaged because a small fraction manage to steal in the stores or the banks or to allow "payola" to influence their careers.

The fact is that more men and women and children go to church today than ever in our history. They may not always practice what they hear preached, but their attendance in a place of worship indicates their yearning for the spiritual help that God can give them.

On my 6,000-mile train trip I talked with many people who didn't know I was a newspaperman. They talked freely of their work, of their hopes and ambitions, and of their country.

Youth is necessarily critical. It has higher ideals than the politicians realize. But, above all, fresh from a study of the history of the United States, it yearns for true statesmanship and a turn from hypocrisy to honesty.

Young and old will tell you in their own words that the true satisfactions in life come from honesty and integrity and a spirit of readiness to help one another.

And above all there is a confidence in self-reliance, which, incidentally, is by no means a vanishing ideal. In these days of new "nationalism" in erstwhile colonial areas, it is a lesson in self-discipline that many observers, abroad as well as at home, need to re-emphasize.

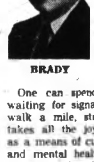

For it takes time and hard work to make a mature people and a mature country.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Six Miles a Day Ideal for Walking to Health

Just taking one turn after another around the block becomes monotonous and, besides, if you are not obviously a cripple or an invalid obeying doctor's orders, people presently remember where they have seen you before, and as your daily appearance becomes familiar to them, they generally infer that you're dotty.

BRADY

One can spend as much time waiting for signals as it takes to walk a mile, straightaway. This takes all the joy out of walking as a means of cultivating physical and mental health, unless one is lucky enough to have within reach a park, a suburb, or a bit of open country where vehicular traffic cannot follow.

Six miles is a good daily ration. You may read on page 20 of Little Lesson 16, The 7 Keys to Vita (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), my statement that a fair day's ration for adults who wish to keep fit is two miles of oxygen on the hoof three times a day or six miles in one dose.

In Little Lesson No. 2, CVD, heart and artery troubles (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I say:

"The margin of reserve power is the determining factor in the prognosis of not only valvular trouble but every other form of heart disease. Husbanding reserve power by rest or increasing it by graduating exercise are . . .

As I try to explain in the booklet, no matter what kind of heart trouble you may have had or have now, if you have not taken or are not now taking gradually increasing exercise daily, as prescribed by your doctor, you had better change doctors right away—that is, unless you are one of those delinquents who use the "weak heart" dodge to evade work and live on charity.

There are too many such delinquents, and too often the heart "weakness" is iatrogenic—suggested by some doctor.

If the meaning of "reserve power" is not clear, we can put it another way: A reasonable amount of daily exercise, prescribed and supervised by the physician, in gradually increasing doses, as prescribed by the physician, is the No. 1 remedy for any and every kind of heart disease, following the period of rest (seldom more than four or five weeks) that is initially advisable in some circumstances.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Folks seem more eager to stand up for their rights than the right."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Fight Off Aversions Scientifically

Helen and her husband were on a holiday trip to Florida during the winter, when she was thrown into hysteria. She didn't dare sleep in the cottage they had rented. She was terrified. Read about her complex and use this case to soothe frightened children, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I have a terrible fear of spiders," she began. "Even other insects like cockroaches and June bugs scare me, too.

"But spiders are my pet aversion. They always frighten me almost to death.

"On a Florida trip last winter I found a very large spider in our cottage, so my husband had to find another one for us.

DR. CRANE

"How can a person overcome such a deep-seated fear? I don't want to be miserable all my life because of my phobia about insects."

FACE FACTS

Sometimes such fears develop because of early childhood experiences, as when a school boy will stick a bug down a girl's back.

In other cases, insects may indirectly be a symbol of infection, as of a venereal disease, and hence have an ulterior significance, as you will notice in tomorrow's Case Record.

But regardless of the origin of our foolish fears, the cure is much the same. Face the facts and try to pinpoint the beginning of your dread.

First of all, therefore, try to "date" the onset of your terror. Go back in memory and see if you can dig up the childhood incident that first launched your abnormal fear.

This will give you better perspective and thus help dwarf the terror. It will reduce your "mountainous" worry to "molehill" size.

Also, dissect your fear scientifically. For example, spiders are not a medical cause for worry. They don't kill you. Not even the black widow or the tarantula!

BE SCIENTIFIC

Their bites are momentarily painful, as are those of mosquitoes, housefllies and bees. But they aren't of a serious nature.

Besides, spiders are great friends of mankind. They entrap dangerous flies and mosquitoes which really carry disease germs and do cause deaths, as from typhoid fever or malaria, etc.

If you will study spiders (or toads, snakes, etc.) in great detail, you will find that your childish emotional panic will soon wane.

For when you grow scientific, and analytical you can't simultaneously "emote" or be hysterical with fear.

So read some books on spiders. Watch them patiently weave their webs. Examine them under a microscope. For the longer you deal with them, the less you will fear them, since there is much truth in the old adage which says, "Familiarity breeds contempt."

It is ignorance which usually produces fear and terror. Facts about anything will generally lessen its power to cause you panic.

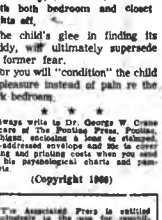

RE-CONDITION YOUR EMOTION

You can thus re-condition your emotions to your previous terror and soon actually enjoy the former taboo creatures.

The same strategy is used regarding a child's fear of sleeping in the dark. By tactful degrees, let the Daddy play hide and seek with the youngster in his bedroom.

First, have him hide in the latter's bedroom, with lights on. Mother and child then hunt him. Next, let him hide in the bedroom closet, with closet light on and bedroom well lighted.

Then let him hide there with closet light off but bedroom light on. Finally, let him hide there with both bedroom and closet lights off.

The child's glee in finding its Daddy, will ultimately supersede its former fear.

For you will "condition" the child to pleasure instead of pain re the dark bedroom.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and he can send typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Must Neighbors Complain at Children All Summer?'

Summer is here and the kids all like to play outdoors, but why do all the neighbors complain? They yell, "Keep off my grass," "Off my sidewalk," "Can't you keep them in their own backyard?" and "Quiet!"

Aren't children human? Do we have to keep them on a leash or use a muzzle? After all, we were all kids once! So, please let them alone for awhile. You need a long vacation if you don't like to see children playing.

'Contact With God Brings Happiness'

The Divine Power or Divine Mind that created everything in the universe, that is to say God, has been with us since the beginning of time and will be with us through Eternity, is with and about us at all times. He is the one that laid down the fundamental laws for right living. He is a loving God and does not punish us for violating His laws.

We bring punishment and unhappiness upon ourselves by doing so and create hell within ourselves and do not need to wait for fire and brimstone to take care of us later.

You should have complete faith in God and also the belief that you can contact Him in prayer at any and all times. Do this and you can create Heaven on Earth and live a happy and contented life on earth and be in proper shape to return to Him when our earthly body died. Give this an honest try and really see how happy you can be here on earth. You can lose nothing by doing so.

'Mrs. John Kennedy Looks Just Fine'

In reply to those who do not like Mrs. Kennedy's hairdo, I suspect these are the same people who do not like M. M.'s way of walking or B. B.'s way of dressing. I guess there's a bit of the green-eyed monster in all of us.

There are times when Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson get my goat. As long as Mrs. Kennedy appeals to Mr. Kennedy, who cares?

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bentley Predicts GOP Victory

Michigan's Candidates Roar Into Finale

By The Associated Press

U.S. senatorial candidate Alvin M. Bentley Sunday predicted a victory for himself in the GOP primary Tuesday "because Michigan Republicans are acutely aware of the great dangers facing our country on the international front."

* * *

Bentley claimed his 17 years in the foreign affairs field—first with the State Department and then as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee—will carry him to victory in his primary battle with Donald S. Leonard, former Michigan State Police commissioner.

"By the same token," he added, "the public will turn to the Republicans again this year because they don't have to guess how Dick Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge will handle the Russians."

Bentley said he has always advocated a "get tough" attitude in dealing with the Russians, recommending continuance of the U2 flights over Russia and on one occasion saying the U.S. should consider breaking off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

The Republican hopeful said he plans to campaign "right up until the polls close Tuesday night."

TO MEET GOLDWATER

His schedule calls for a meeting with Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who is scheduled to speak at a Berrien County GOP rally in Benton Harbor Monday night.

More than 2,000 persons came from 35 counties to help Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson celebrate his 35th birthday at a gigantic outdoor party near Pontiac.

Supporters of Secretary of State James Hare's bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination are celebrating his 50th birthday by ringing 50 doorbells or making 50 telephone calls to get out the vote.

* * *

Meanwhile, Councilman Ed Connor is attending his share of picnics, meetings and coffee klatches in a bid for the Democratic nomination as governor.

"I can win this primary with a heavy turnout of voters," Connor said Sunday.

The 55-year-old councilman said his major support should come from heavily - populated Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, that represent his "home base."

Another Democratic candidate, William J. Coughlin, who is bidding for the nomination as lieutenant governor, Sunday proposed a new political campaign technique to give Michigan just what it needs —"less talk and a lot of fast action."

WOULD KILL NONISSUES

This, he said, would eliminate campaign issues that aren't really issues and on which all the candidates agree.

Sunday night, Connor, Hare and Swainson, appearing on a half-hour TV program, were asked how they plan to solve the state's financial crisis and reduce the $71-million deficit.

Connor said he favors a graduated state income tax and a new system of corporation taxes but he said he is against an increase in the sales tax.

Hare blamed the financial problem on unemployment, saying that if 300,000 more people could find jobs, the crisis would take care of itself by a reduction of the welfare rolls and an increase in taxes from the money spent by the employed.

* * *

Swainson said he was against an increase in the sales tax. And he implied that a state income tax would be an equitable system.

100th-Birthday News: He'll Divorce 5th Wife

BERLIN (AP) — Adolph Joseph shocked the guests at his 100th birthday party this week by announcing he plans to divorce his fifth wife.

Joseph was 83 when he married his present wife, Emma. She is now 75. Asked about their troubles, Mrs. Joseph told reporters: "He is excessively jealous."

Negroes in Court on Sit-In Charges

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — A mass resumption of anti-segregation protests loomed here today as court hearings came up for 15 Negroes arrested Saturday during a "sit-in" at a bus terminal restaurant.

Leaders of the Petersburg Improvement Assn., a Negro organization, promised that demonstrations "will continue all over the city, wherever segregation exists."

* * *

As the Negroes were arrested on trespassing charges in this southside Virginia city, racial barriers were lowered in two chain store lunch counters in Fredericksburg, in the north-central part of the state.

Embassy Insists Spain Won't Recognize Israel

In an official statement, the embassy denied local press reports saying the Jordan government had received information that an exchange of diplomatic representation at embassy level between Spain and Israel was imminent.

No Sight on Earth More Touching

Man, New Car: Maturity With Giggle

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—No sight on earth is more touching, can more choke the throat with emotion, than the spectacle of a grown man showing off his new car.

Here is man with the mask of poise ripped away . . . maturity with its giggle showing . . . pride going before payments . . . true love twixt boy and grille . . . passion for a tin chassis.

To the man with a new car, the dog is a forgotten friend, and woman is temporarily only a remote spectator, created in the likeness of a phonograph: Either she sings praise or she must be shut off.

* * *

If woman shrugs her shoulders, the sun goes out of his life. And so, likely, does she.

This was traditional, clear cut, unchanging. This attitude had been one area of certainty in an uncertain world. (I can remember mother whispering to me as a child, "Tell Daddy how nice the new Dodge is." And I can remember my subconscious advising me, in the grinning faces of a dozen men since, "Tell the big lug it's terrific or he'll cry.")

CONFUSED PICTURE

Lately, however, the picture has become confused. Now it is becoming more and more difficult for a woman to make her way to a man's heart through his ego.

The trouble, of course, is that, with the coming of the new compact cars—small cars, giant small cars and miniature big cars—a woman hardly knows how to compliment a new-auto owner.

* * *

Does she say, "That is the biggest little car I've ever seen?

Or, "Darling, how small can you get?"

Or is it safer to hedge with a simple, "Great!", and let him take it whichever way he wants.

Like Detroit, the female sex cannot be certain exactly how the American male's mind works at the moment. When he bought chrome and fins, he obviously was seeking opulence, comfort and status. But when he buys a compact, and looks at it with boyish glee, what is he being so delighted about—its economy, its simplicity, its modesty, its daintiness or its just plain newness?

There is the additional problem that—to a woman who is not a student of auto silhouette—there is no way of knowing, for sure, whether a car is a brand new 1960 compact, or an old, simonized 1940 jalopy. With such a wide variety of new cars in all sizes and all shapes, from square to rectangle to egg, it often is difficult to differentiate between a compact and a crate.

* * *

Not that I'm objecting. My husband has clung affectionately to a 1950 Ford coupe—paying exorbitant New York City storage and insurance charges for 10 years—waiting for it to become a classic.

The last few years, though it always has been well groomed, it has looked a bit out of place in smart company. On superhighways, it has appeared rather like a money brunette amidst a party of slick bleached blondes. Maybe, we figured last year, we'd have to leave the classic car business to Jimmy Melton, and get a new one.

But this year, our coupe is a new personality. She is at home amid the compacts—looks newer and prettier than the sleek monsters of two summers ago. In fact, the chief difference between our '50 and Detroit's '60 is that she has a touch of middle-aged spread in the derriere—meaning she can hold two golf bags, an outboard motor and three suitcases.

* * *

Tempus fugits. And so, fortunately, does she.

Tony Curtis Will Begin $1½-Million Tennis Club

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Tony Curtis says he plans to turn a $600,000 hotel at Palm Springs into a 1½-million-dollar tennis club. He and his wife, actress Janet Leigh, are the owners. He said he hopes to get Pancho Gonzales as club pro.

Greater Michigan, Inc., Elects 5 Board Veeps

DETROIT (UPI) — Greater Michigan Inc., sponsor of Michigan Week, elected five vice presidents at its board of directors meeting here.

* * *

They were: K. T. Keller, former Chrysler Corp. president; Edwin O. George, vice president-sales, Detroit Edison; Dale Sellers, vice president, National Bank of Detroit; Leonard Woodcock, vice president, United Auto Workers; James Robertson, businessman and former mayor, Sault Ste. Marie.

Mrs. John B. Martin, wife of the Republican national committeeman, was appointed secretary to the Board.

* * *

Dan F. Gerber, president, Gerber Products Co., and Fred Martin, president of The Bank of Lansing, were named president and treasurer of the group respectively at an earlier meeting.

Deny Italian City Heads Debate About U.S. Base

LEGHORN, Italy (AP) — The Communist-Socialist majority on Leghorn's City Council has been told it cannot debate whether a U.S. military base here endangers this port city's security. The Interior Ministry ruled the issue was a matter of national jurisdiction. Camp Darby, a few miles north of Leghorn, is the major U.S. military supply base for American forces under NATO.

U.S. Satellites Top Soviets, Datawise

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The United States has gained more information from satellite experiments than the Soviet Union, two experts said Sunday.

* * *

Lowell Hasel and John H. Swihart, representing the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at a conference here, referred to the satellite Tiros I, which radioed 22,000 pictures of weather conditions from outer space, as an example.

* * *

Hasel told newsmen this accomplishment and the Navy's satellite Transit, launched as an aid to aircraft and ship navigation, have not been equalled by the Soviets.

Armed A-Sub May Be Early

Success of Third Shot Could Move Operation Deadline Forward

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy has set October as the operational deadline for its Polaris missile system. But the first combat-ready Polaris submarine may go to sea sooner if the test program continues to progress as well as it has in recent weeks.

This was hinted by project officials hailing the third straight successful underwater launching from the nuclear submarine George Washington.

* * *

The George Washington and Patrick Henry, first of a hoped-for fleet of 45 Polaris subs, are scheduled to go on patrol by the end of the year. Each will carry 16 missiles capable of raining nuclear destruction on targets up to 1,380 miles away.

* * *

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration continued to search for a clue to the failure of the first test of a production-model Project Mercury capsule. The test to subject the capsule to severe re-entry conditions ended 65 seconds after launch last Friday when the Atlas booster exploded.

Chunks of the capsule and rocket were retrieved from the Atlantic five miles offshore. Technicians are piecing them together in an effort to learn the cause of the blowup.

Noble Brakeman Not Impressed With Aristocracy

BARNSTAPLE, England (AP)—A Canadian railroad brakeman who inherited a half-million-dollar English country estate and a title says he is "not at all fascinated" by the idea of society life.

Sir Robert Williams, whose new estate includes 2,000 acres of rolling Devon countryside, three manor houses and half of two villages, says he has changed his mind about staying in England for two or three months. But he added that he and his wife intend to return to England for a longer stay sometime in the future.

* * *

Williams, 37, was the heir of Sir William Williams, a distant relative who died early last month.

"Don't think I've got anything against the English people," Williams told newsmen, "but I must say some of them make me sick."

He said he and his wife, who is 34, are going back to Saskatchewan to "have a good think about this aristocracy lark."

Makarios Party Gets Firm Cyprus Control

Official results of Sunday's election showed that candidates backed by Makarios swept all 30 seats they contested out of the 35 reserved for the Greek-Cypriot community.

* * *

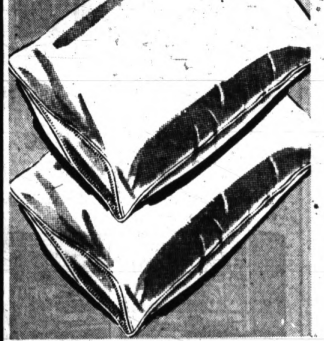

The Communist party, Akel, captured the other five against only independent opposition. Under an agreement with the Reds, the Patriotic Front did not challenge those seats.

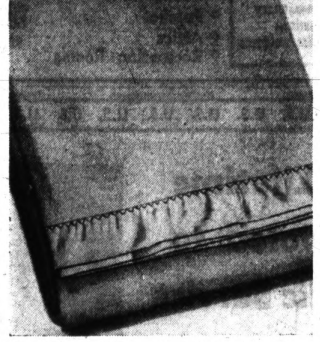

* * *

All 15 seats allocated to the Turkish community in the island's 50-member Legislature were won by the National Front party led by Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, vice president-elect of the new government. Six right-wing independents were routed.

Soviet Writer Ridicules Ike's Free Vote Plea

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet commentator said today in the 40 years since the Borshevik Revolution more than a billion people have "ranged themselves under the banner of socialism (communism)."

* * *

Writing in Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, V. Mayevsky ridiculed President Eisenhower's challenge to the Kremlin for a free vote among the people of the world whether they want to live under communism or democracy.

"For over 40 years since the great October revolution the peoples have been voting on whether they should live under capitalism or under socialism," wrote Mayevsky.

* * *

"A world Socialist system was born and grew powerful. The ideas of socialism have gripped the minds of millions both in the West and in the East. Asia, Africa and Latin America have rebelled against imperialist slavery. The people's poll on the issue of socialism or capitalism has been going on for a long time with the result far from favoring capitalism."

Believe 60 Persons Drown in India River

MADRAD, India (AP) — Sixty Indians are feared to have drowned in two boating accidents.

A 20-ton steam launch carrying freight and 50 pilgrims went down in the swollen Godavari River, near Kachaluru today. Thirty people were believed dead, including 10 women and children.

* * *

In East Godavari another boat sank Sunday after being caught in a whirlpool. Thirty persons were aboard. No survivors were reported.

Mt. Etna Calming Down; Blew Top Again Sunday

CATANIA, Sicily (AP) — Mt. Etna appeared to be subsiding again today after a burst of new volcanic activity.

The 10,705-foot volcano exploded Sunday in the fourth big blowup since July 17. Smaller explosions followed at the rate of five a minute.

Deaths Elsewhere

BAD HERSFELD, Germany (AP)—Max Becker, 72, vice president of the West German Bundestag and leader of the minority Free Democratic party, died Friday in Heidelberg, it was announced here. An old-school liberal, he was politically active during the pre-Nazi Weimar Republic and returned to politics after World War II.

Says Atlas Will Lag Schedule All Year

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. said Friday it will take the rest of this year and possibly longer to get lagging construction of Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile bases back on schedule.

Pointing out the ballistic missile program is "by all means the most important of defense programs," Gates appealed to 56 industrialists at an extraordinary meeting to tighten up their operations and "prevent future delays."

If a "real effort is made," the Pentagon chief said, "we have a fighting prospect of getting back on schedule by the beginning of the next calendar year."

★ ★ ★

Strikes and jurisdictional disputes among labor unions were among the problems which were brought up at the conference.

Woman in Coma 3 Years Could Someday Recover

HONG KONG (UPI)—A Chinese woman has been unconscious for nearly three years in a government hospital here and doctors say they do not know how much longer her condition will last.

The woman is believed to be suffering from cerebral anoxemia. She sank into a coma during an operation. Doctors say she could live in that condition for many years and eventually recover.

NIXON'S ROUTE — The map indicates what Richard M. Nixon will be doing this week. Today he holds a conference in Washington with Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate in the presidential campaign. Nixon and his wife Pat then will fly to Reno, Nev., where a welcome home reception is planned for her. Later a reception is planned at Whittier College. Wednesday, Nixon will fly to Hawaii for two days of campaigning, then wing back to Seattle, Wash.

Confident in the Congo

EDINBURGH (UPI) — The International Missionary Council is sending $100,000 to the Congo to help establish a Protestant theological faculty. A council spokesman said the action "is an affirmation of faith in the future of the Congo and of the church in the Congo."

Have you heard about the man who always asks his wife to cook too much fried chicken for dinner . . . purposely? This way he can raid the refrigerator later in the evening for that irresistible snack of cold, breaded chicken . . . still tender, still delicious. Naturally, he loves fried chicken, biscuit-hot from the pan, too . . . crisp-brown outside, steaming soft inside . . . salted just enough to bring out the subtly distinctive flavor of perfect chicken. These plump-lovely fryers give him the top quality he wants, at budget prices. They're government inspected, too, to protect his family's health.

Nominee Faces Immediate Obstacles

GOP Confab Ages Nixon 5-10 Years

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — The Republican convention aged Dick Nixon five or 10 years. His face took on new lines, his voice new meaning as the awful responsibility and breath-taking opportunity was dropped on him by the delegates. The man was plain dog-tired at a little party he gave to members of the alumni of his trip to Russia last year.

* * *

"I wish I could," he said. "If you had as little as I've had since getting to Chicago, you'd be dead."

But more than physical weariness is involved. The GOP nominee faces immediate obstacles of towering proportions. They are obstacles his opponent need not worry about. Indeed, Senator Kennedy will benefit from them, and without lifting a finger.

For example, it is an almost foregone conclusion that when the special session of Congress opens next week the Democratic leadership, headed up by the party's presidential ticket, will press for legislation affecting health, housing, education, wages and other items of prime public interest.

TO BE CAST

The Republicans, by and large, will be case in the role of fuddy-duddy dampeners. They will seek to keep the give-away and pork-barrel measures within the bounds of reason and the budget.

* * *

Nixon must worry, too, about presidential vetoes of Democratic-inspired bills. The President is a man who puts politics second in almost any decision he makes. He will veto any bill he feels is not right or costs too much to implement whether it hurts his party politically or not.

If there is indeed a series of presidential vetoes, followed by over-rulings by the Democratic majority on Capitol Hill, Dick Nixon will be the innocent bystander injured in this gruelling conflict between a free-spending majority and a President who feels that a balanced budget is necessary.

The curious part of Nixon's dilemma is that ideologically he is more in tune with what Sens. Johnson and Kennedy will be ramming through Congress than he is with the President's determination to resist what he considers a cheap play for votes from the masses who would benefit from this legislation.

But he cannot be critical of what the President does. To be so would imperial the campaign support the President has promised to provide.

The veto matter is so important to Nixon that he made it the No. 1 topic during a talk he had with the President in Chicago last week.

* * *

He apparently received assurance that the President would "study" all factors involved before vetoing any bills that are dropped on his desk. But it is clear that the President will not go against his grain just to improve his young friend's chances.

Toronto Church Weds Brides by the Bushel

TORONTO (AP) — Bridal couples sometimes have to queue up to be married at St. Agnes Roman Catholic Church on Saturdays. Some Saturdays up to 10 couples are married by the Boston-born Rev. Christopher DiFlore.

*

Most of the grooms are Italian immigrant workers who have sent for their fiancees after spending about two years in Canada. Father DiFlore performed 300 marriages last year and believes the figure may be a record.

St. Joseph Man Heads County Welfare Boards

ESCANABA (AP)—Leslie R. Speese of St. Joseph was elected president of the State Assn. of County Social Welfare Boards at the wind-up session Friday of the 21st annual convention.

Among the resolutions adopted by the delegates during their three-day meeting was a recommendation to hike federal old age assistance allowances for persons living in convalescent homes from $90 to $150 per month.

* * *

Other officers named to top posts were Fred Lawless, Baldwin, first vice president; Robert Woodard, Jackson, second vice president; James Scanlan, Ishpeming, treasurer, and Alfred E. Brose, Ann Arbor, secretary.

43 Whooping Cranes

OTTAWA (AP) — Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton reports the whooping crane population has increased by four. He told the House of Commons this brought the known number of the birds to 43.

Takes Korean Command

SEOUL (AP)—Rear Adm. George W. Pressey will replace Rear Adm. John Tyree Jr. as commander of the United States naval forces in Korea Aug. 13. Tyree is being reassigned to Washington.

BACKWARD TO SAFETY — Mrs. Froy Thompson, 27, of Lemont, Pa., bottom right, crawls backward down the slope on which an incline car was derailed Sunday 400 feet above ground with six persons trapped inside for two hours. Police and other rescuers hold the rope to which Mrs. Thompson is attached by a heavy leather belt. No one was hurt.

5 Hurt as Plane Crashes in West

Mother-to-Be Pinned by Wreckage; Pilot, 2 Daughters Injured

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — A light plane crashed and burst into flames at the front of a two-story apartment building Sunday night. Five persons were injured, including an expectant mother who was sitting on the steps.

A neighbor, Melvin Calloway, 21, rescued the woman, who was pinned by the wreckage, then helped extricate the pilot and two children from the burning debris.

Pilot Chester Fees, 34, of nearby Anaheim, said he had just taken off from Compton Airport when the engine on his PT26, two-place plane quit.

Fees escaped with facial cuts and bruises. With him were his daughters, Cheryl Ann, 12, and Sandra, 7. Cheryl Ann was in critical condition with a possible brain injury. Sandra suffered a fractured left arm.

A telephone line ripped loose by the plunging craft hit Mary Purisoy, 24, in the back as she was hanging out clothes. She received leg and back injuries.

Reds Use Wild Plants to Produce Textiles

HONG KONG (AP) — Communist China is using wild plant fibers to make textile products.

5-Pound Boy Born to Jayne Mansfield

Dr. A. C. Meitus said the blonde actress was doing fine although the baby was a month premature.

Miss Mansfield and her husband Mickey Hargitay have another son, Miklos Jr., 17 months. The actress also has a daughter Jane Marie, 9, born of her first marriage to Paul Mansfield.

Business Optimistic, According to Survey

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Industrial Conference Board surveyed 210 manufacturers and found they expect 1960 to be a good year after what they considered an unsatisfactory first half.

Sixty-three per cent of the firms predicted business in the second half will exceed the 1959 last half. They believe orders merely have been delayed, inventory adjustments will be completed and new models and products will stimulate sales.

Supple Bangs Are Fall's Big Hair Fashion Noise

Fullness of the hair is noted in the National Hairdresser Assn.'s "Olympian Flair" coiffure. The bang sweeps horizontally across the forehead, lifting at the temples. As in all of the "Fluid Bang" stylings, the ears are covered completely with the hair waved forward to brush the cheeks. A flow of "mass movements" rather than waves provides stunning back interest.

A fall forecast for the Forward Look has been issued by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Assn., Inc.

Proclaiming, "It's what's up front that counts," stylists from the association's official Hair Fashion Committee introduced a new "Fluid Bang" coiffure at their 40th annual convention in Chicago. The styling emphasizes the supple and smooth flowing waves of hairdos popularized this season.

Whether draped or flounced, the bangs always move across the forehead and upwards, lifting at the temples. There is little, if any, wisp or fringe treatment.

Although the new "Fluid Bang" converges at the temple, the ears are completely covered with a closeness of hair which extends below the ears and curls upward to brush the cheeks.

Hair length at the bangs varies from two to three inches. At the crown the length will range from three to four and a half inches, extending to the neckline where the hair may be about an inch and half long. At the side the hair is sufficiently long to cover the ears.

The committee reports that fall fashions are influencing the hair in color as well as style this year. Striking hues in amethyst clothing will match silvers in hair tones. Popular smoky brown shades in attire will blend with natural taupes and hazy blond hair shades.

Fabrics in burnt wine color, smartly revived this season, will be enhanced by auburn and brunette tresses.

Matching hair tones, cosmetic shades and fabulous fall fabric colors — hair dressers, cosmetologists and courturiers promise that this season's fashion conscious woman will be a perfectly complemented blend of chic.

A new "Fluid Bang" has been introduced for fall by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Assn., Inc. The hair flows neatly across the forehead, lifting at the temples and easing gently into a close fit at the sides. At the back the hair follows its natural direction of growth. "Natural Grace" is the name for this youthful coiffure.

Barber Chair or Psychiatrists's Couch—Abby

Time to Clip Wife's Notions and 3-Year-Old Boy's Curls

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is the matter with my wife? She says she can't bear to cut off our boy's curls. This kid is three years old and looks like a girl. He's our only child. When he was born, my wife cried for a week because he wasn't a girl.

ABBY

She has had our boy in the barber's chair twice and each time the barber would reach for the scissors, she'd snatch the boy out of the chair saying she couldn't go through with it.

The boy is unhappy because the older kids tease him. Can you offer a solution?

FATHER OF THE BOY

DEAR FATHER: Get your son into a barber's chair before he winds up on a psychiatrist's couch! Your wife's refusal to accept the fact that she has a son—not the hoped-for daughter — indicates that she could be distrubed mentally. Separate the boy from the curls and then do what is necessary to separate your wife from some of her ideas.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could help me get a 12-year-old neighbor girl to stay at home during our supper hour. Her people are well-to-do, so she can't be hungry.

She makes it a point to walk in just as we start a meal. I have invited her to eat with us many times but I don't want her every day. She stands around leaning on the children's chairs, whispering and giggling. How can I handle this without causing embarrassment or hurt feelings?

TENDER-HEARTED

DEAR TENDER-HEARTED: Catch this girl when she is alone and tell her in a nice way that she should not visit during the supper hour because that's "family time" and it disturbs the children. If she doesn't respect your wishes, ask for her mother's cooperation.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to a most wonderful man for 23 years. He is very considerate and thoughtful. He doesn't drink, curse or raise his voice. He has never once opened his own pay envelope. He brings it to me and I take what I need. My only complaint is that he always leaves his shoes in the living room.

I have asked him many times to please put them away, but every morning I find them in the living room. It drives me crazy. I've tried everything, but all I get is shoes, shoes and more shoes. What should I do?

SICK OF SHOES

DEAR SICK: If this is your biggest problem, give thanks. Pick up his shoes—and cheerfully. A nagging wife is the reason why so many men have come to drop their shoes in somebody else's living room.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO H.H.: There is an old Chinese proverb you should paste in your hat. "The mouth is wind but the pen leaves tracks." Be careful of what you say—but be doubly careful of what you put in writing.

★ ★ ★

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Shower Honors Sharon Muniz

Mrs. Archie Cotcher hosted the affair at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer of Otsego drive.

Women's Section

12 Perform at Interlochen

Twelve musicians from the Pontiac area are represented in the All-State Orchestra which is in its second week at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The orchestra, under the direction of Gerhard Schroth, chairman of fine arts of the Chicago Lutheran Schools, presented the first concert of its 25th season Sunday afternoon after only five days of rehearsal.

★ ★ ★

From Birmingham are violinist Betsy Rodgers and trombonist Tom Towler.

Stephen Selby of Walled Lake is participating in the two week all-state drama session.

Area students at the second all-state piano session include Anna Marie Ketelsen of Rochester, Cheryl Weiss of Birmingham, Susan Kosmensky of Farmington and Sigrid Strom of Fenton.

The National High School Symphony Orchestra presented the difficult "Petroushka" by Stravinsky Sunday evening at the Interlochen Bowl in what is believed to be the first performance of this work by high school age musicians.

★ ★ ★

Brian-Starr Vows Said

James Brian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brian of Scott Lake road, married Brenda Kay Starr of Lansing Saturday evening at First Church of the Nazarene in Lansing.

The bride's brother-in-law, the Rev. C. F. Champion of the Nazarene Church in Grand Rapids, performed the candlelight ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and blue pompons graced the altar.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Starr of Lansing, the bride approached the altar wearing a floor-length gown of white silk organza and re-embroidered jeweled Alencon lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves and a portrait neckline cutlined with re-embroidered lace, pearls and sequins. Extending to form a chapel train, the bouffant skirt was fashioned with large floral appliques.

LILAC OVER ORGANZA

Honor matron Mrs. C. F. Champion of Grand Rapids was gowned in lilac organza over matching taffeta for her sister's wedding. The dress was designed with fitted bodice, a modified scoop neckline and bell-shaped sleeves. Lavender pompons surrounded by French carnations comprised her colonial cascade bouquet.

MRS. JAMES BRIAN

The gowns and flowers of bridesmaids Marilyn Hawk of Indianapolis, Ind., Sue Conrad of Hammond, Ind. and Donna Morgan of Kankakee, Ill., were identical to those of the honor matron.

At a reception in the church parlor, the bride's mother was dressed in a pink taffeta sheath dress overlaid with gray lace. Her accessories were pink.

Mrs. Brian chose blue lace over matching blue taffeta and wore dark blue and white accessories.

Before leaving on a trip to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Brian donned a beige brocade ensemble and black watteau bonnet with patent accessories. On returning the couple will reside on North Johnson avenue.

A graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., the bridegroom teaches at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School. The bride attended Olivet and teaches in the Waterford School System.

Bonneville Club Holds Session

Fourteen tables were in play when the Pontiac Bonneville Duplicate Bridge Club met Saturday evening at the Hotel Waldron.

Winners were Dr. and Mrs. Edward Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waterman, Elma Griscom and Charles Coffin, Mrs. Samuel Cohen and David Utley, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Segula and Mrs. Stuart Murphy and Mrs. Robert Davis.

Prepare Tots

If there's a camping trip in your family plan, prepare your very young children for this experience. Home economists at Michigan State University suggest you explain in detail what the family will see, do, hear and eat while camping under the stars.

Waterfordites Cover 15,000 Miles

Back From Alaska Trek

By DENNIS DINAN

"The North Country is a hard country and it mothers an icy brood," as declared in Robert W. Service's poem, doesn't necessarily ring true anymore according to a Waterford Township couple and two friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Chapel of Tubbs road and Mr. and Mrs. George Endsley, former Waterford Township residents presently living in Marion, Ind., have just completed a two-month, 15,000-mile grand tour to the northernmost tip of Alaska and back.

Over 13,000 of those miles were by car — a 1959 Pontiac sedan — and house trailer, with the rest made up of short plane jumps into the Alaskan bush.

In direct contrast to the hardships undergone by the local 59ers, the Chapels and Endsleys, who started out May 28, found the new state thriving and in most cases comfortable.

MOOSE SHORT RIBS

The group wasn't able to visit the remnants of the '59ers, although they dropped in on one homesteader who promptly served them short ribs — of moose.

Still smacking his lips over those "delicious" ribs, Chapel, maintainance employe at Fisher Body Division, admonished anyone thinking of "starting all over again" in Alaska.

"The fellow we visited had about 100 acres cleared," Chapel said.

"I know it was a tremendous undertaking. I suggest nobody try it unless they have a lot more brains, ambition and youth than I have."

According to Endsley, gasoline cost 75 cents a gallon near Mt. McKinley, and groceries ran approximately 10 per cent more than they do in Pontiac.

Despite these "inconveniences," and the fact that six tires were worn out on the Alaskan Highway, the travelers found much of Alaska an exciting, dynamic place, with most of its fabled past gone.

Anchorage, they said, was a boom town in the new sense of the word.

HANDSOME HOMES

Tall apartment buildings, new schools and handsome homes are springing up all over the city, largest in Alaska.

Leaving road travel at one point the party flew to Pt. Barrow on the state's northern tip where Will Rogers and Wiley Post were killed in a 1935 airplane crash.

Taxes have an odd way of following statehood into effect, and Alaska's salmon-fishing Indians have suddenly discovered the tax facts of life.

The state Legislature has levied a tax off fish wheels, devices used like a water wheel to corner fish in a net.

CLAIM SELLOUT

"My wife does, though," he said, "So I guess we'll go there too."

Keep Mom Busy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Infants use about 100 diapers a week when very small. When they are almost trained, they use 35 a week, the National Baby Care Council reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eugene Russ of Fiddle road, Waterford, announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Kay to Frank Leonard Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gilbert of Lynn street, Waterford.

SHARON KAY RUSS

New York State colleges and universities produced more chemical engineers — a total of 451 — at the end of the 1957-58 school year than any other state in the nation.

30 Women of ALCW See Campsite

Some 30 ALCW women of the St. John Lutheran Church went on a chartered bus trip Thursday to Bass Lake near Greenville, site of their Augustana Lutheran Bible encampment where Girls' Week was in session.

The women visited classes in the morning and ate a cooperative luncheon at noon.

The afternoon session included a talk by Mrs. Carl Beyerhelm. Mr. and Mrs. Beyerhelm are on furlough from Tanganyika, where they are serving as missionaries from this district.

Completing the day was a bus trip to Lansing where dinner was served by members of the ALCW unit of Grace Lutheran Church.

Many Attend Stork Shower

Mrs. Daniel J. Pruente was honored with a stork shower Thursday evening at the Baldwin avenue home of Mrs. Frank August.

Guests included Mrs. Ransom E. Crane, Mrs Everett Fields, Mrs. Anna Gibbs, Mrs. Delmar Fields, Mrs. Carlton Fields, Mrs. Asa Ewer, Mrs. Harold Russell, Mrs. LeRoy Smith, Mrs. Alfred Selberg, Mrs. Connie Fields and Mrs. John Gibbs.

Also attending were Mrs. Roger Knickerbocker, Mrs. Wayne Johnson, Mrs. Leo Gibbs, Mrs. Robert Jones and Lu Anne August.

Bride-to-Be Honored at Shower

Bride - to - be Kathy Warren of Orchard Lake was honored at a bridal shower hosted by Linda Bellows.

Luncheon guests included Mrs. John Warren, Linda Warren, Mrs. Merritt Johnson, Pam Johnson, Mrs. Martin Lee, Mrs. Wilbur Smith, Mrs. John Collins and Mrs. Daniel Weber.

Others were Mrs. Robert Hollister, Mrs. Larry Hollister, Mrs. Otis Walton, July Walton, Mrs. Joseph Daiek, Mrs. Lillian Dopp, Mrs. Lewis Doyle Jr. and Mrs. Pat Bellows.

Miss Warren will become the bride of Barry Johnson on Aug. 27.

Ver Strate-Morris Rite Held

The Rev. Herbert E. Ryan, chaplain of Haven Hubbard Memorial Home, New Carlisle, Ind., solemnized the marriage vows of Phyllis Ann Ver Strate and Charles Thomas Morris of Detroit, Friday evening in Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church.

★ ★ ★

Tiffany baskets of white gladioli graced the chancel and white carnations were placed on the altar.

The floor-length bridal gown of white Chantilly lace with layers of nylon net over taffeta was styled with sabrina neckline and elongated pointed bodice. Lace sleeves ended in points over the hands.

Fingertip veiling of silk illusion was caught by a tiara of lace. Arranged in the bridal cascade bouquet were white carnations, lilies of the valley and trailing ivy.

APPEARS IN PINK

Of identical styling were blue taffeta and embroidered nylon dresses for bridesmaids Mrs. Gerald O'Dean, sister of the bride and Mary Lou Fitch of Oxford. Linda Wall was her sister's junior attendant.

MRS. CHARLES T. MORRIS

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Morris of Detroit, had Warren James of Royal Oak for best man. His brother, James Morris of Detroit, seated the guests with James McCutcheon of East Detroit and Gerald O'Dean.

CHOOSES SHEATH

The new Mrs. Morris who will be graduated this fall from the Harper Hospital School of Nursing, donned a sheath dress of white organdy with blue cummerbund to begin the honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula. Her husband attended Michigan State University. They will live in Detroit.

★ ★ ★ ★

Pink accessories complemented Mrs. Wall's sheath dress of white linen, embroidered with pink rosebuds, worn for the wedding and church reception. She wore a shoulder corsage of pink carnations.

Marathon Is Amazing

Former Fatty Helps Self

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I am going to let you in on some REAL excitement this week. I am printing some of the letters I have had from Marathon winners. These are so inspiring and so full of human interest that I know you will enjoy them.

As most of you know I run my 8-week Self - Improvement Marathon each January.

Tens of thousands of women join to see how much they can improve themselves in eight weeks' time, with my direction. The "result" letters which come in to me always give me a big thrill.

Every August 1 I print some of these because they are fascinating reading and may also inspire you to see how much you can improve your appearance and health in just eight short weeks.

LETTER

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I just have to write you to tell you how wonderful I think your Marathon is. Last year (1959) I started when you were having it in the paper. I had such great results that I kept on with it. Since then I have lost 155 pounds. It sounds hard to believe, I know, but it's true.

When I started I weighed 370 pounds. I could barely get around to do my work. I was a mess — only 5 feet 4 inches tall and 370 pounds! I wore a size 60 dress and that was a tight fit. This spring my dress size is 22½.

"I did all of my exercises and lost weight gradually so that I am not in the least bit flabby or shriveled looking like some people who have lost lots of weight. In fact the texture of my skin has improved. I used to be so tired all of the time. Now I have plenty of energy to do all of my work and I feel wonderful.

"I still have quite a few pounds to lose but now it is easy. I have lost the desire for big gobs or fattening food and rich, gooey desserts. Whenever I am tempted to take even one little tiny bite I think of all the wonderful compliments I have had and just don't eat it. I would feel like a traitor."

WONDERFUL

Isn't that really wonderful? It took determination and self-control. It is true that dieters do lose the taste for rich, calorie-packed foods and also that they will look younger rather than older if they eat a well-balanced diet, exercise and lose gradually.

You may not have this much weight to lose but you might like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks.

If you missed my Marathon last January and would like the Marathon booklet which gives you all the information you need, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Workshop Held by Garden Unit

The Lorraine Manor Garden Club branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. met at the Community Service Building on Franklin boulevard for a flower arrangement workshop Thursday evening.

Guest speaker Mrs. J. C. Calhoun of Birmingham also conducted the workshop. A business meeting and the serving of refreshments followed the session.

Tell Them That Set Is Noisy

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I'm convinced that my next-door neighbors are hard of hearing. At least they must be to keep their television set on so loud. It is annoying enough during the day, but when they keep it on full blast at night after we have gone to bed, it is doubly annoying.

Will you please tell me how we can tactfully handle this situation without causing unpleasantness?

Answer: Yours is a problem many of us face today, and as the majority of those who turn their radio or television sets on too loud have no idea they are disturbing others, writing a polite note to your neighbors asking them please to turn their set lower after 10 o'clock at night may bring results.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been going out quite steadily with a young man for the past six months. His birthday is coming soon and I would like very much to give him a present. My mother doesn't think that I should since he has never given me a present, and that a birthday card would be sufficient. He has taken me to very nice places and I think the least I can do to show my appreciation is to give him a present on his birthday. Will you please tell me if this would be proper and if so, what type gift would you suggest?

Answer: There is no reason why you should not give him a birthday present if you would like to. It should be something impersonal and not too expensive, such as a wallet, a key ring, a cigarette lighter, a fountain pen or a tie clip.

Propose Abolishment of Annual Meetings in 11 Townships

18 Communities Will Vote on Special Issues

Voters in 18 Oakland County area communities will decide special issues when they go to the polls in Tuesday's primary election.

The question of abolishment of annual township meetings will be decided in 11 of the county's 24 townships.

Avon Twp.

The Avon Township Board is seeking voter approval of a half-mill tax levy to finance the chloriding of all township gravel roads not maintained by the Oakland County Road Commission.

As proposed, the millage would be levied for five years.

The half-mill would be collected annually for five years starting this year, after which it would be up to the voters to decide again whether to continue the program.

Orion Twp.

Voters in Orion Township will be asked to decide on abolishment of the annual township meeting tomorrow.

* * *

On the same ballot will be a proposal requesting a tax hike not to exceed one mill for five years for fire protection.

If approved, the increased revenue would be used to purchase additional buildings and equipment for the Gingellville and Lake Orion fire departments.

* * *

The funds also will be earmarked for operation and maintenance of the two departments.

Royal Oak Twp.

Waterford Twp.

Voters in Waterford Township are being asked to approve civil service for the fire department and to abolish the annual township meeting.

Troy

Two of three proposals up for voter approval in the City of Troy would provide funds for a sanitary sewer system and sewage disposal plant.

One proposition asks permission for the city to borrow up to $2,650,000 and issue general obligation bonds for a disposal plant.

The second seeks authority to borrow up to $1,375,000 and issue general obligation bonds to install public trunk sanitary sewers in the city.

The final proposal requests voters to allow the city to extend the time it is permitted to sell bonds from three to five years.

Metamora Twp.

The proposed ordinance, which was adopted last January, was scheduled to go into effect Feb. 14.

It was blocked, however, by petitions signed by the 77 residents who asked for a vote of the people.

The township has been operating without a zoning ordinance the past 2½ years.

Shelby Twp.

Voters in Shelby Township tomorrow will decide whether to continue civil service protection for the township fire department.

Another proposition on the ballot seeks voter authorization to establish a township planning commission to replace the present zoning board.

Township officials have stated they believe the proposed planning commission would better implement their current development projects than the existing zoning board.

W. Bloomfield Twp.

Creation of a planning board and the abolishment of the annual township meeting are the two local issues to be placed before West Bloomfield Township voters tomorrow in the primary election.

The planning board would replace the present zoning board, to be made up of no less than five and no more than nine members, and have more authority in controlling development of the township, according to Supervisor John C. Rehard.

* * *

"A master plan that would make the township a well-thought-out community would be developed by the planning board," Rehard said.

Bloomfield Twp.

Three proposals will be decided by Bloomfield Township voters tomorrow.

* * *

Local issues seeking approval are establishment of a planning commission, sale of township property and the abandonment of the annual township meeting.

The planning commission would guide future development of the fast growing township, according to Supervisor Arno Hulet.

The property proposed for sale is an unused gravel pit at Opdyke and Kensington roads. The 30-acre site is valued at $60,000.

If the property sale is approved and the land is sold, the money would be used to partially finance the $100,000 addition to the township hall, now under construction.

The addition will provide living quarters for the fire department, a 200-seat auditorium for civic events, and offices for the water, sewer and building departments.

Highland Twp.

Approval of a zoning ordinance will be sought of Highland Township voters in the primary election tomorrow.

A permanent zoning ordinance has been rejected three times by voters since 1933.

The township now operates on a temporary zoning ordinance that must be renewed, by state law, every three years.

The proposed ordinance is intended to encourage and regulate development of rural portions of the township.

Southfield

Southfield, in tomorrow's primary, is seeking approval of a proposed charter amendment that would enable the City Council to defray the cost of any public improvements by special assessments.

* * *

The amendment would also permit the Council to provide procedures in cases of over-assessments and underassessments.

Others Question

The question of whether to abolish annual meetings will appear as the sole local issue on ballots in Commerce, Farmington, Holly, Milford, Novi, White Lake and Southfield townships.

BREAK GROUND FOR CHURCH — Turning over the first shovels-full of dirt for the new First Congregational Church of Rochester yesterday were, from left, Moderator Al Muson, the Rev. Robert H. Jacobson, church pastor; and E. H. Forbush, vice chairman of the building council. The new church building, to cost $243,000 with furnishings and equipment, will be constructed across from the parsonage on North Pine street. Village President Sydney Q. Ennis and Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller also took part in the ceremony.

Troy Officials to Get Sewer Bond Report

TROY — The City Commission tonight will hear a progress report on its plan to sell general obligation bonds to finance Troy's proposed sanitary trunk sewers.

If voters approve a $1,375,000 bonding proposition in tomorrow's primary election, the city is expected to start sale of bonds by next June.

The Commission also is awaiting the result of another proposition on the ballot, requesting issuance of general obligation bonds totaling $2,650,000 for construction of a sewage disposal plant.

A "yes" vote by a three-fifths majority is needed for passage of each proposal.

HINGES ON DEQUINDRE

Preparations for both projects will be held off until the end of the year, according to Commissioner Louis Yanich.

By that time, the Commission expects to hear a decision regarding the Dequindre Interceptor, he said.

If constructed, the Dequindre Interceptor would take Troy's sewage to Detroit for treatment, and the city would not have to build its own disposal plant.

* * *

But Yanich and the other commissioners are not overly optimistic about the interceptor, since it is connected with the controversial 12-Town Drain system, a project which has been under litigation almost from the time plans were first announced for it.

* * *

Commissioners spent a busy week campaigning for approval of the two sewer issues.

They sent out literature explaining the proposals, attended a Troy Homeowners Assn. meeting on the matter and held a citywide question and answer session on the project.

Wherever they went, commissioners argued in favor of the proposed system, saying it would attract more business and homeowners to the area.

* * *

They maintained that this would result in a greatly improved tax rate.

TEMPORARY INCREASE

Yanich said the 5.9 mill increase in taxes would be only temporary.

"This system will be self-supporting within five years," Yanich predicted.

"Where sewers are paid for with general obligation bonds (as is proposed), the cost is a deductible item on your federal income tax," it was stated in a brochure mailed to voters.

The brochure also mentioned that FHA mortgages were more easily obtained in areas where sewers are available.

* * *

The City Finance Committee will report on some of the funds now approved for the project at tonight's meeting.

In a recent development, the State Municipal Finance Commission approved $36,000 for sanitary sewers in Troy.

The Commission has decided to postpone discussion concerning another of the city's problems until next month.

Although voicing acceptance of a plan recently to have the City of Detroit supply water to Troy, the Commission has tabled formal action on the move until further study.

Spirited Woman Strikes Officer, Spares Owner

Police said Margaret Armstrong, address unknown, had been drinking at the bar in the Utica Bowling Alleys, 7669 Auburn Rd., when she decided to drive someone else's car.

Clarence "Lefty" Snyder of 46859 Davis St., owner of the bowling alley, said Miss Armstrong nearly hit his car while she attempted to drive away from the front of his establishment.

Lefty attempted to take the car keys away from Miss Armstrong, he said. In the meantime, Patrolman Fred Holloway arrived to arbitrate the dispute.

Miss Armstrong became angry because she was not allowed to drive, the proprietor explained. Miss Armstrong then took a swing at Lefty. He ducked.

She hit Patrolman Holloway and was promptly carted off to jail and charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Avondale Board to Hold Line on Tax

The Avondale Board of Education has voted to hold the line on taxes this year because of additional funds made possible by the County Tax Allocation Board.

The rate will remain at seven mills for debt and 17.7 mills for operation, making a total of 24.17 mills, school officials said today.

In other action the Board approved payment of $37,581 for principal and interest on the 1958 bond issued.

Also discussed at the latest Board meeting were anticipated building needs which are expected with the construction now under way in the new Town and Country Subdivision at Opdyke road and South boulevard.

About 600 homes are planned for the subdivision, causing increased enrollment in the Avondale School System, according to schools Supt. LeRoy R. Watt.

33 Die in Truck Plunge

TRABZON, Turkey (AP) — Thirty-three of 65 persons riding in a truck on a mountain road near here Saturday were killed when the vehicle plunged 180 feet off the road. Police said a broken axle probably caused the accident. Nineteen of the survivors were injured seriously.

Patricia Harris, 17, Gets Nod

Almont Peach Queen Entry Chosen

ALMONT — A lovely, green-eyed blonde has been chosen to represent Almont in the 28th annual Peach Queen competition Aug. 18 in Romeo.

* * *

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenner Harris, of 209 Centennial Ave., Pat received her high school diploma in June. She will attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall where she expects to major in home economics and prepare for a teaching career in that field.

The new Miss Almont will be one of 11 titleholders from area communities competing for the Peach Queen crown in Romeo. They will be judged on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, public speaking ability, appearance and talent.

The winner will reign over the Peach Festival Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2-5, in Romeo. Before the celebration, the queen and her two maids of honor will make public appearances to publicize the event.

Each of the aspirants for the title will be a member of the queen's court, even if not picked for one of the three top spots.

The communities to be represented in the annual queen's competition, besides Almont, are Waterford Township, Rochester, Utica, Lake Orion, Oxford, Dryden, Armada, Warren and Romeo.

QUEEN CANDIDATE — Named to represent Almont in the Romeo Peach Queen competition Aug. 18 is 17-year-old Patricia Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenner Harris, of 209 Centennial Ave. She will compete against 10 other area title-holders for the coveted crown.

Married in Grosse Pointe

Freeman IIIs Honeymoon

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A Northern Michigan honeymoon followed the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanley Freeman III, who spoke their vows at Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

* * *

The bride, the former Barbara Elizabeth Bowles, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowles of Grosse Pointe. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Freeman Jr. of 1600 E. Gunn Rd. Oakland Township.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of blush peau de soie with overskirt of silk organza and chantilly lace. The floor length bouffant skirt was fashioned with a decollete neckline and a chapel train.

* * *

Maid of honor was Ruth Ann Cade of Champaign, Ill. Constance Clark of Cleveland, Ohio, Michaelyn Roberts of Alma, Beverly McKinnon of Grosse Pointe and Sandra Freeman of Rochester were bridesmaids.

Best man for his brother was John Freeman. Ushers were Arthur Scott, Theodore Brennan, Thomas Bowles, Robert Howse, George Bergstrom and Frederick Rosier.

Yearbook Will Be Distributed

SS. Cyril, Methodius Volume Takes Note of Diamond Jubilee

ORCHARD LAKE — The 1960 Eagle, official yearbook of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary College and St. Mary High School, will be distributed this week to 1,800 members of the clergy, alumni, students and friends.

* * *

The 165-page volume, in addition to being a yearbook, is also the Diamond Jubilee book, featuring a history of the schools from their founding in Detroit to the present day.

The largest yearbook ever issued by the Orchard Lake Schools, the 1960 Eagle includes messages of congratulations from church and state dignitaries, photos of the early days of the seminary in Detroit, and coverage on the various aspects of school life in the past.

The yearbook is available to the public at $10 a copy. Twenty thousand copies of the section featuring the history of the school will be reprinted and made available upon request.

Southfield Wins Sewer Priority

Now Awaits Okay of Bonds Expected to Be Ready for Sale in Week

SOUTHFIELD — This city has won consideration from the State Municipal Finance Commission for its proposed $1,022,000 special assessment bond issue for the construction of new water and sewer facilities.

* * *

Southfield now is awaiting approval of the bonds by the SMFC, expected early next week, City Clerk Patrick Flannery said Wednesday night.

Flannery added that he expected the bonds will be ready for sale in about three weeks.

CREATE HEALTH HAZARD

Priority consideration was given after City Attorney James C. Allen told the Commission that present facilities are creating a health hazard.

* * *

Also, a new million-dollar plant of the Eaton Mfg. Co. of Cleveland cannot be built until the much-needed facilities are completed, he said.

* * *

Formosa Storm Drives 11,000 From Homes

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Shirley killed one person on Formosa Sunday night, injured eight and drove nearly 11,000 in Taipei from their homes to higher ground.

* * *

The storm lost some of its fury on the island's north-south mountain range, its maximum winds dropping from 145 miles an hour to less than 100. Then it roared across the Formosa Strait toward the Foochow area of Communist China.

Reveal Winners in Art Show

FARMINGTON — Winners of the Third Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibit at the Universalist Church here were announced today.

The public exhibit will be open daily through Saturday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Southfield Heliport Issue Will Be Decided Tonight

SOUTHFIELD — Whether this city will be the first in Michigan to have its own municipal heliport will be decided tonight at a regular meeting of the City Council.

* * *

If approved by city officials, it will be located at Northland Center.

* * *

Mayor Donald L. Swanson made the proposal to Council members about a month ago. They unanimously agreed on the feasibility of a heliport and turned the matter over to the Southfield Businessmen's Assn. for consideration.

The local merchants' report will be in the hands of the Council today with a recommendation that a license be issued for the helicopter landing strip.

* * *

Mayor Swanson has said, "Southfield is growing so fast commercially that the helicopter service is almost necessary for buinessmen traveling from the Pontiac airport and other airports to Southfield."

He added that he feels that it could be built on a 1,000-square-foot lot.

1961 Officers Named for Kerbyson Reunion

Rests on U.S. Embassy Building

Golden Eagle Blitzes London

LONDON (AP)—America has won the battle of Grosvenor Square. A mighty gold eagle with 35-foot wings perched atop the new American Embassy today despite British attempts to shoot it down with a barrage of words.

More than 1,000 watched in silence Saturday as the great bird "flew" slowly to its roost on the modern five-story building. It was lifted by a huge crane towering over the trees in the stately square.

"You see, it doesn't look so big when it's in place," said an Embassy spokesman. And most of the people around him agreed.

Controversy has buzzed around the bird since a member of Parliament called it a "blatant monstrosity" and attempted to have it banned. The building was designed by Eero Saarinen, Birmingham, Mich., architect.

"There is an element of vulgarity about the bird," wrote the Daily Telegraph, "and the whole conception is so hackneyed that it is difficult to be tolerant."

* * *

In front of the Embassy has stood a big sign with a single word on it, the name of the contractors: "Pauling."

PRANKSTER TOUCH

The prankster painted a big "A" before the name. His spelling was appalling, but his message was clear to amused bystanders. In the end a workman painted it over.

The aluminum eagle is the work of American sculptor Theodore Roszak. It weighs a ton and cost $54,000. Saarinen defends the bird against all-critics.

"The eagle will provide a vertical reference point in an otherwise horizontal façade," he has explained.

* * *

A small cluster of newsmen were waiting at Grosvenor Square when the eagle arrived on an open truck, heavily shrouded in canvas. In the hour or so it took to attach the crane more and more spectators gathered, including many American tourists. There was some chuckling as the first part of the bird to be exposed was the rear view.

* * *

The bird's slow and majestic "flight" to the top took seven uneasy minutes. Its wings were ingloriously nested in sandbags for protection.

"I think it's a fine silhouette," admitted one Englishman as it reached its perch.

* * *

"Oh, I do hope you all will get to like it," said a visiting American, Mrs. Jack Weil of Huntington Park, Calif.

Foreign Service Officers to Take Exam Dec. 10

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department will hold its next written foreign service officer examination Dec. 10 in some 65 U. S. cities and at foreign service posts abroad.

Applications and information may be obtained by writing the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. The closing date for filing applications is Oct. 24.

* * *

The department announced it was looking for college graduates and college seniors who have studied economics, public and business administration, language and area studies, history or political science.

MELBOURNE — One of Australia's best-known landmarks, the 82-year-old Eastern Markets Building is being razed to make way for an $11,250,000, fourteen story hotel to be built by an American airline company.

Big Ten Becomes 'Big Nine' Next Fall

Indiana Barred From Grid Race for 1960 Season

Recruiting Sins Cost Hoosiers 75-80 Grand, One-Year Probation

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten becomes the Big Nine for the 1960 football season—Indiana being knocked out of the championship race as a punitive measure for recruiting infractions.

The Big Ten Sunday placed the Hoosiers on one year probation, barred them from competing for the 1960 conference football crown and assessed them to what amounts to a $75,000 to $80,000 fine.

* * *

The fine comes in the form of cutting off Indiana from sharing in conference football television receipts for 1960.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson took the action after year-long investigations, hearings and meetings into excessive financial aid to athletes by the school.

It follows the somewhat more severe measure taken last April by the NCAA in placing Indiana under a four-year probation, making the school ineligible to enter teams or athletes in NCAA championship competition, post-season games and participation in any television programs controlled by the NCAA. NCAA football TV receipts are shared in the Big Ten. Indiana now will not get that share.

"I think the NCAA penalty was unfair because it effects all sports," Wilson said. "We have aimed only at football because this is the only sport involved in the violations."

Since the Big Ten has stressed this, it is possible the NCAA may review the Indiana case, but Wilson would not predict such action.

Indiana will be permitted to play its 1960 football schedule, but the games will not count in the standings—either for the Hoosiers or the teams they play.

The conference action was considered the most drastic since 1929, when Iowa was suspended for one year for lavish recruiting.

* * *

1. Three freshmen in the fall of 1957 and 1958 were paid $50 a month and a fourth received $60.

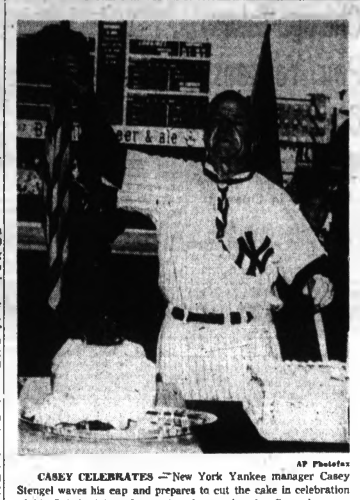

2. Three former students, as freshmen in 1958 and 1959, received monthly payments of between $15 and $60.

3. Five prospective students in the spring of 1958 and 1959 received offers ranging from free transportation home at vacations to a bonus of $800 plus $50 a month if they would enroll. They did not enter the university.

Head football coach Phil Dickens, who sat out his first year at Indiana in 1957 under Big Ten suspension for recruiting violations, again was within target range of Wilson's probe.

"It is only because I cannot bring myself to employ circumstantial evidence in so serious a matter as one involving a person's livelihood that I do not, in the present circumstances, cite Indiana under the provision of Rule 7, Section 15," Wilson said in a letter to university officials.

U.S. Coach Lauds Women's Team

Training Tough for Olympic Swimmers

"People often think of them as mere swimmers—they don't realize the tremendous personal sacrifices involved."

It's George Haines, coach of the United States Olympic Women swimmers, speaking. He knows first hand how the young athletes must put everything else behind their swim program.

The 36-year-old Haines, coach at Santa Clara (Calif.) High School and coach of the powerful Santa Clara swim club, believes two years of intensive training will pay off in Olympic berths for several of his students.

"More people have trained harder and made more sacrifices toward the 1960 Olympic games than any others in history," Haines said.

Haines has 84 swimmers under his wing at Santa Clara. One of them is Chris Von Saltza, whom he calls the fastest female swimmer the U.S.A. has ever known. The 16-year-old blonde holds every American record in the freestyle events and the world record in the 400-meter freestyle.

Joining Chris as the big-three of the Santa Clara club are two more teenagers, 17-year-old Lynn Burke and 15-year-old Ann Warner. Miss Burke holds American and world records in the 100 and 200 meter backstroke and Miss Warner holds the American standard in the 200-meter breaststroke.

All three are in Detroit this week, seeking places on the Olympic squad as the U. S. trials begin tomorrow morning at Brennan pools. They will join some 250 other swimmers and divers in the four-day competition.

He used his own students to illustrate his hard work statement. "They start swimming about 7 each morning and from October to April they go through a heavy calisthenics program. There's more swimming in the afternoon from about 4 to 6. I estimate they swim 4-4½ hours—or about 5 miles each day.

* * *

"Discipline actually is self-imposed for the most part. They know how important training is. They have one date a week—then in the last month before the national competition, no dates at all. They avoid movies and other public places then, for fear of catching cold.

"As for other school activities, we discuss them. Sometimes they participate in other things, sometimes not. You can't tell them to give up everything, but if we do not do exceptionally well in the Olympic games this year it will not be for lack of strenuous preparation."

But Haines believes the tougher training method among both the women and men swimmers will pay off with an improved showing in the Rome games.

"I'm not predicting anything," said Haines, "because other countries are working hard too. It would be difficult to say that we'll win. But no country will be better conditioned than the United States."

Ex-Tiger Blasts Two Homers for Six of 8 Runs

Detroit Wins Opener 9-6 but Vic Settles Second Game Easily

The Boston Red Sox righthander was out on the mound hoodwinking the Detroit Tigers in the second game of a doubleheader. And when he came to bat for the first time, Muffett whacked out his first American League hit to drive in two Boston runs.

The Red Sox won the nightcap, 8-4, after dropping the first game, 9-6.

In the opener, the Tigers clobbered three Boston pitchers for 16 hits, racking up a 9-1 lead before Boston started on the comeback trail.

Winning pitcher Frank Lary, Neil Chrisley and Chico Fernandez all collected timely two run hits. Fernandez and Frank Bolling also stole two bases, while Norm Cash got a bases empty home run, his eighth of the year.

The Red Sox made their big splurge in the ninth inning, with Ted Williams' 18th home run of the season and 510th of his Major League career.

But the uprising only routed Lary and brought on reliever Clem Labine, who stemmed the tide.

In the nightcap, Muffett also needed help from Mike Forneiles to preserve his victory. Forneiles got the Tigers out before they could score a run.

Vic Wertz, hitless in five trips to the plate in the opener, was the star of the second game, hitting two three-run homers, his 12th and 13th of the season.

Chrisley led the Tiger attack with a bases empty homer in the eighth, his fifth of the season, and drove in three of the Tigers four runs.

For Lary in the opener, the win was his 10th of the season against nine losses. Sullivan took the loss, his 12th of the year, against only three wins.

Fries, Berlien, Zannoth WLYA's Sunday Winners

Sailing in tricky, shifty winds, Sunday, Glen Fries (snipes), Jack Berlien (lightnings), and Don Zanboth (thistles) were returned as winners of Watkins Lake Yaching Assn. events.

Other finishers (2-3) included: snipes, Bruce Brede, Dave Greeh; lightnings, Dick Peterson Jim Zaeber; thistles, Norm Ledwan and Harm Gillan.

Morrall Signs, as Lions Bear Down

The Detroit Lions start full scale drills today with only 13 players remaining from the 1957 club that won the world championship in George Wilson's first year as coach.

* * *

The Lions plumeted all the way to fifth place last fall with a 3-8-1 record in the National Football League's Western division.

* * *

The quarterback shot was a headache for Wilson last year and still is. Tobin Rote, last year's signal-caller, has departed and Earl Morrall is favored to win a four-way race for the starting quarterback slot.

Morrall signed a one-year contract with the Lions yesterday, cutting the number of unsigned veterans to five.

End Dave Middleton, guard Harley Sewell, kicker Jim Martin and halfbacks Dan Lewis and Ken Webb have not yet come to terms.

Wilson hopes that some shuffling of the lineup will produce some title-winning play. Terry Barr, a defensive end and a flankerback for three seasons, is being given a shot at running back, another Lion weakness last season.

The rookies — except the six training with the College All-Stars — the quarterbacks and a few veterans have been in training for a week.

Three rookies — tackle Willard Adams, end Bobby Hudson and back Frank Walton — were cut from the squad Saturday and Ron Luciano injured himself for the second straight season.

Offensive guard Mike Rabold, was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday in an exchange for linebacker Carl Brettschneider.

Doctoring Your Golf

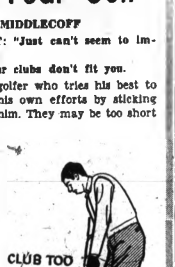

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Just can't seem to improve."

DIAGNOSIS: Maybe your clubs don't fit you.

TREATMENT: Many a golfer who tries his best to improve his game thwarts his own efforts by sticking to clubs that are wrong for him. They may be too short or too long, too light or too heavy. It may also be that the grips are too small or too large in circumference.

Golf is a tough game to master even with everything in your favor. So don't handicap yourself unnecessarily by trying to play with unsuitable equipment.

The place to go for advice on this problem is to your professional. He will take into account your physique, the way you tend to swing, and the frequency with which you play, and advise you accordingly.

Shaft flexibility is another important factor in getting the proper clubs. Check with your pro on this also.

Oldtimers Meet Tuesday

The Pontiac Oldtimers' Assn. will hold a meeting Tuesday night at the VFW club at 388 South Saginaw St., president Paul Parks announced. The Oldtimers group is hoping to reorganize on a firmer basis, Parks said, and the meeting is open to all interested persons. Election of officers is planned and expanded Oldtimer activities will be discussed.

Robertson's 71 Paces Bald Mt. to Publinx Win

Long-hitting Dick Robertson of Pontiac fired a 71 Sunday to pace Bald Mountain to a 13-9 victory over Brae Burn in Michigan Publinx Golf League team competition. Jim Anderson shot a 72 for Bald Mountain.

Jim Briegel's 75 led Loch Alpine to an 11½-10½ win over Morey's. Max Curtis and Charlie Barker carded 73 and 76, respectively, for Morey's.

Veikko Juhola rifled a one-under par 70 and Mike Andonian and Bill Healy each shot 75 to spearhead S. Sylvan Glen's 11½-8½ victory over Glenhurst. State Publinx champion Doug Wilson soared to a 10 on Rochester's 7th hole to steal the show as Idyl Wyld defeated Rochester 12½-9½.

Bob O'Link and Sunnybrook drew byes yesterday. Sunnybrook, defending league champion, still leads the Red Division with a 5-0 record while Sylvan Glen tops the White Division with a 4-1 mark.

White Sox Boost Lead to 1½ Games

Pitching Staff Revives Giants

By The Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants have come out of the fog and put a damper on predictions of their elimination from the National League pennant scramble.

A revitalized pitching staff, which has allowed only six runs in the last five games, all victories, has given the Giants new hope.

Although still in fifth place today, they are only 5½ games behind first place Pittsburgh. And the recall of slugger Willie McCovey and crack reliever Sherman Jones from the minors mean they're still in the pennant-seeking business for 1960.

The older of the Jones Boys, Sad Sam, fashioned a neat two-hitter Sunday as San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 6-2 to sweep the three-game set.

The Pirates, upended by the Chicago Cubs for the second straight days, 6-2, maintained their two-game lead over Milwaukee. The Braves dropped a 7-5 decision to the on-charging Los Angeles Dodgers. The fourth-place St. Louis Cards swept the only doubleheader on the senior circuit slate, 9-2 and 5-3 over Philadelphia.

Sad Sam made Cincinnati very unhappy, striking out 10, at least one in every inning, to post his 13th triumph. The veteran right-hander leided only a two run homer to Gus Bell in the first and a two-out single by Vada Pinson in the ninth. He retired every batter in between.

The Giants broke a 2-2 deadlock in the fifth, scoring three times on singles by Willie Mays and Jim Marshall, a double by Orlando Cepeda, a wild pitch and an error. Mays wrenched his left ankle in the fifth and was replaced in the eighth as a precaution. Bob Purkey (10-7) was the loser.

Veteran Grady Hatton paved the way for the Cubs' triumph over the Pirates. He broke a two-all tie with a two-run single in the seventh, and Chicago collected two more runs, both unearned, in the same frame. Don Elston, limited the Pirates to one hit in the final two innings, saved Don Cardwell's fifth triumph. Lefty Harvey Haddix (6-7) was the loser.

Don Drysdale won his sixth straight for the Dodgers, who moved within two games of Milwaukee and four of Pittsburgh. Ed Roebuck relieved in the ninth to protect Drysdale's 10th victory after the Dodgers had overcome the Braves' three-run uprising in the first with five tallies in the bottom half of the inning. Bob Lillis, filling in for ailing shortstop Maury Wills, delivered the big blow, a three-run double off starter Carl Willey (5-5).

The Cards, only 4½ games behind the Pirates, used the productive bats of Bill White to double-up the Phillies. White drove in six runs with two homers. White, who collected nine hits in 15 tries in the four-game series swept by St. Louis, climaxed a six-run fifth inning in the opener with a grand slam.

Curt Simmons (3-1) and Ray Sadecki (5-5), both lefties, picked up the victories, although Lindy McDaniel balled out Sadecki in the ninth of the nightcap. Stan Musial, Joe Cunnigham and Ken Boyer also homered for the Cardinals.

Chicago Takes Pair, Yankees Divide Sunday

Early Wynn Hurls His Third Straight Triumph for Hose in Opener

By The Associated Press

Off to a late start, Early Wynn finally has thrust his remarkable right arm smack in the middle of the American League pennant picture, just as he did a year ago when the Chicago White Sox took all the marbles for the first time in 40 years.

Futile and 40 in the first half of the season, his 21st in the majors, Wynn still is 40. However, this 22-game winner of 1959, has bounced back to record three straight victories. Meanwhile, the White Sox have opened up a game and a half lead over the runner-up New York Yankees.

Wynn won the early game 5-2 over Washington while Bob Shaw and Gerry Staley combined to give Chicago a Sunday double-header sweep with a 9-5 victory in the nightcap. Wynn hurled his second successive complete game, a four-hitter, and lifted his mark to 7-7.

The Yankees lost ground, dropping the opener to Kansas City 5-3 in 11 innings before Art Ditmar put them back on the right track with a seven-hit 6-triumph in the second game. Baltimore nipped Cleveland 6-5, and Detroit split a pair with Boston as Ted Williams slapped his 510th lifetime homer. The Tigers won 9-6 and lost 8-4.

Wynn, in addition to collecting his 278th lifetime triumph, also moved into 10th place on the all-time strikeout list. He fanned 11, bringing his total to 2,086 — four more than Bobo Newsom. Wynn pitched shutout ball after the second, when Billy Gardner homered with Julion Becquer aboard.

Minnie Minoso, another snappy Sox veteran at 37, homered in each game and collected two singles in the second. Teammate Roy Sievers blasted his 20th home run off Jack Kralick (4-1), in the first inning of the nightcap.

Hector Lopez' erratic right arm got in the way of Yankee Manager Casey Stengel's belated birthday celebration. Playing third base in a late-inning switch, Lopez made two throwing errors in the 11th and opened the gates for three unearned Kansas City tallies. The most costly miscue came with the bases filled and one out, enabling two runners to scamper home.

Nevertheless, Stengel, who was 70 Saturday, was honored between games, after which Ditmar posted his eighth triumph. The Yanks, who scored three times in the second on a sacrifice fly by Bobby Richardson and a two-run single by Gil McDougald, handed Kansas City ace Bud Daley (12-9) his fifth straight defeat. Mickey Mantle of the Yanks and Marv Throneberry of the A's homered in the first game.

Patriots, Texans Win Exhibitions

Pro Gridders Under Way

By The Associated Press

Professional football edged its way into the sports picture over the weekend as two exhibition games were played by teams of the new American League.

The Boston touchdowns were scored on two passes by Ed Sorgin, a pass by Tommy Green and a fumble recovered in the end zone by Bob Dee. Buffalo scored on a 71-yard, 10-play drive, with Maurice Bassett plunging over from the one.

Fullback Jack Spikes cracked over for two second-half touchdowns as the Dallas Texans defeated the Oakland Raiders, 20-13, at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco Sunday.

Oakland threatened to pull ahead in the fourth period after scoring a touchdown, but missed in a try for a two-point conversion and trailed, 14-13. Then defensive end Mel Branch intercepted a Raider pass and returned it to the Raider 13. Spikes scored his second touchdown four plays later.

Insurance Open Next

Littler Eastern Champ

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gene Littler today headed for the Insurance City Open at Hartford, Conn., with a putting policy that has brought him an average of $1,825 a week for the past three months on the pro golf tour.

The 30-year-old veteran from Singing Hills, Calif., classified his putting in the final round of the Sunday Eastern Open as his best of the year. "I've changed my stroke a little, but it's not enough to describe," he said after winning the 11th annual event.

It let him down only once. He had to putt three times on the 15th green for one of his two bogey fives on the last round at the Pine Ridge course. But his putts also brought him seven birdies, so he was five under par for the 67 windup.

He needed the flock of birdies to ward off Gary player, the South African who scored the same and finished second by two strokes.

The $3,500 first prize sent Littler into the Insurance Open, which starts Thursday, with $23,728 in winnings from 13 tournaments since May 1. It was his second PGA tourney victory this year and 16th since he turned pro in 1954, the year after he was National Amateur champion. His other victory this year was at Oklahoma City, when he sank a 15-foot putt on the last hole.

The putter came to his aid in the Eastern when most needed. Player had pulled within one stroke with three holes to go.

Each parred the 16th. Littler hit within 8 feet of the 167-yard 17th hole and putted in for a birdie.

That was the ball game, with Littler two strokes up and only one hole to go. Both of them birdied the last hole. So did Al Besselink of Crossinger, N. Y., who finished third with a 278.

Patty's Rally Wins by Stroke

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Patty Berg headed for the Waterloo (Iowa) Open today, confident that she has regained the chipping and putting touch that once made her a steady winner on the women's professional golf circuit.

The 42-year-old redhead won her first tournament since 1958 here yesterday, rallying with a three-under par 34 on the last nine to edge Kathy Cornelius of Springfield Ohio, by one stroke in the American Women's Open.

Miss Berg shot a five-under-par 70 for the final round of the $7,500 tourney and had a 72-hole total of 292.

O'Neil, Huron Also Win

CIO, Silo Nines Advance

CIO Local 594 and Smith Silo drew first blood in Class B and O'Neil Realty and Huron Bowl were first round Class C winners in City Softball League playoff action Sunday night at Beaudette and Northside parks.

The Silo squad defeated Dave's Beefburger, 5-3, scoring four runs in the top of the 7th inning to break a 1-1 tie. Roger Voolheis outpitched Chuck Johnson in a battle of six-hitters.

O'Neil's team clubbed nine hits for an 11-5 triumph over First Presbyterian. O'Neil's Dan Dropps homered and singled and Dick Green did the same for Presbyterian.

Huron was outhit, 8 to 6, but capitalized on four errors and made base knocks in the right spots for a 9-5 victory over Philip's Sporting Goods. Huron's five-run 6th inning proved to be decisive.

The double-elimination playoffs resume tonight in both classes.

Pontiac Police, which drew a 1st-round bye, meets Smith Silo in Class B at 7 p.m. on the Northside diamond, followed by an 8:30 contest between the Beefburger and Moose teams.

Class C action at Beaudette pits Huron against O'Neil at 7 o'clock and matches Presbyterian and Philip's in the 8:30 nightcap.

Four Michigan Skiers Take Titles

Three Members of Cass Lake Club Winners

Nancy Messler, Beverly Olsen Women Champs in Midwest Meet

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Nancy Messler and Bev Olsen, both of the Cass Lake Club, won the top women's events.

Miss Messler, 17-year-old Waterford High graduate, won the women's jumping events with 87 and 89 foot jumps. Miss Olsen was the slalom champion with 30 buoys.

A tie between Miss Messler and Miss Judy Ball of White Bear, Minn., resulted in the slalom and Miss Mesaler lost in a run-off.

The other Michigan champions were Sandy Goldman of Ann Arbor who won the girls' slalom title, and Paul Boel of Cass Lake in the Senior Men's jump.

* * *

The top honors among the men went to John Rosch, 19-year-old star of the Cyprus Gardens, Fla., water ski show who won the jumping and trick events.

Rosch, who hails from Mound, Minn., jumped 136 and 138 feet for 323 points. He had a total of 1,294 points in tricks.

As was expected, the Illinois state champion Terry Nergardt, took second in tricks with 1,239 points and second in jumping with distances of 101 and 108 feet for 280 points.

* * *

Two Michigan jumpers, Ray Fullerton of Ann Arbor and Tony Mitchell of Pontiac, had better jumps than Nergardt but both lost out on points.

Fullerton, the 1960 calmpion, jumped 105 and 116 feet and had 250.5 points. Mitchell jumped 112 and 150 feet, both the best for him, and had 250 points.

Dave Parks of Pontiac and Mitchell finished second and third behind Ray Hubert of Laporte, Ind. in the men's slalom.

Lynn Vermuelen of Jackson took second in the boys' slalom behind Brad Wager of Springfield, Ill. Mary Linn Bishop of Flint took third in the girls' slalom.

Huge Crowds See OCBC Regatta

Nearly 125 boats participated in the seven divisions of races which saw three boats flip at the turns.

Jerry Kerns of West Milton, Ohio took most of the top honors. He took first place in both heats of the Class C service runabouts and a first and second in the Class C service Hydros.

He was third in class C racing runabouts.

* * *

Closest race took place in the Class C 30 cubic inch hydros with Milford Harrison of Vermillion, Ohio, and Tom McNamara of Flint staging a neck and neck race in the first heat.

* * *

Harrison won the heat, but McNamara came back to win the second heat.

The fastest races took place in the D & F hydros, 30 to 60 cubic inches, with Walt Snyder of Muskegon, Mich., winning both heats.

Two boats overturned in the first heat. Lee Krotzer of Detroit flipped and another boat went over the top. Krotzer was treated for minor injuries afterward.

* * *

In the second heat Garrett Gresly of Battle Creek flipped and was removed from the race. He finished second in the first heat.

Bud Proffer of Flint also took his share of honors, winning three heats. He came in first in both heats of the 15 cubic inch class A hydros and the first heat of the 20 cubic inch class B hydro event.

A feature at intermission was a grudge race between two houseboats. Homer Shingledecker, Skipper of "Mama's Mink" lost a close run with "The Doghouse" skippered by George Almas.

Mr. and Mrs. Cy Owens and Robie and Rick Delvo helped crew "The Doghouse" to the one lap victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bradley and Dick Wolfe were the crew of "Mama's Mink."

* * *

The winner received the loving cup trophy of the OCBC.

The regatta was sanctioned by the Racing Outboard Driver's Association of Detroit with Ken Saunders, the commodore.

Another No-Hit Job by PCH 9

It's Second Straight; Thorpe Has One-Hitter for Auburn Heights

Pontiac Central's 2nd straight no-hit mound performance and a one-hit shutout by Auburn Heights Boys Club featured weekend activity in the City Junior Baseball League.

Larry Brennen and Ray Collins combined for a no-hit chore as PCH trimmed Don Nicholie, 13-4, in Class D. Seven walks and an error prevented a shutout. Brennen, who got the victory, fanned 10 batters. Collins threw a no-hitter against Our Lady of Refuge last Friday.

Our Lady of Refuge was blanked again Saturday when Darryl Thorpe hurled a sparkling one-hitter to highlight a 7-0 victory for Auburn Heights. Jim Stroup's 6th-inning single prevented a no-hitter by Thorpe. Dan Kimmel socked a two-run homer for Auburn.

In another Class D contest, Lake Orion scored five runs in the bottom of the 8th inning to overcome a 6-2 deficit and nose out West Bloomfield, 7-6. Gary Hunter had a double and two singles for Orion.

On the Class E front, Lake Orion made 11 hits, including a two-run homer by Gary Kenyon, for a 16-3 rout of the Big Shamrocks. Dan Hastosky homered to spotlight J&R Auto's 13-2 mauling of the Westside Kiwanis.

The Boys Club Federal Savings League playoffs begin today with the 1st place Red Sox meeting the Tigers and the Orioles facing the Indians. In the Indian Ball tournament, the Mystery Club plays the Wonders today with the winner going against the Untouchables for the title.

District Ruth Title Eludes Birmingham

NW Detroit piled up a 11-run cushion over the first three frames and coasted home. Farmington trailed, 2-1, to the last of the 7th when a 2-run rally did the trick.

Michigan Pair Collides on TV Boxing Show

By The Associated Press

Boxing regains its Wednesday night television spot with a middleweight bout featuring hard-hitting Henry Hank of Detroit and Rudy Ellis of Covert, Mich.

Last week the flatcuffers yielded the weekly TV time to the Republican Convention just as they did for the Democrats.

Hank, the fourth-ranking 160-pounder, and Ellis will clash at the Chicago Stadium (ABC, 9 p.m. EST).

SCORNS TV SET

The 2½-year-old animal took one look at the television set and lumbered into another room. The family finally coaxed her out of the house by offering a head of lettuce, which Candi washed down with five gallons of water.

Mrs. Land said Candi was "a perfect lady," adding: "she didn't even knock down a lamp."

Girl Murdered Near Chicago

Body of Five-Year-Old Found In Shallow Grave Strangled, Assaulted

WHEELING, Ill. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today combed, inch by inch, the scene of the latest unsolved child murder—the seventh for the Chicago area in five years.

Betsy Benham, 5, who liked to play "bride", was strangled, and apparently assaulted sexually, sometime Friday night. The next morning, a search party found her partially nude body in a shallow grave in this suburb north of Chicago.

* * *

Cook County Sheriff Frank D. Sain fanned his deputies out in a two-mile radius from the murder scene, a vacant lot near the Benham home.

Known sex offenders were being rounded up for questioning.

Police held an 18-year-old former mental patient seized Sunday night at a forest preserve by rangers who said he was acting suspiciously. He denied any knowledge of the slaying.

* * *

Chicago police crime laboratory technicians were to run tests on two bloodstained shirts found Sunday within two blocks of the shallow grave.

6 Yugoslavs to Aid Cuba

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —Six young Yugoslavs left for Cuba today to help build a university center. They will join an international brigade of 150 young men from European, Asian, African and Latin-American countries.

A National Industrial Conference Board study indicates that America's gross national product may reach $800 billion a year by 1970.

Backbone of Weather Service

12,000 Volunteers Measure Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this age of automation, of radar and weather-spy satellites circling the globe, the U.S. Weather Bureau proudly clings to its voluntary observers.

"The backbone of the service," a bureau spokesman calls these 12,000 men and women who, rain or shine, every day in the year, year after year, keep faithful records of the weather and mail them each month to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

* * *

The bureau has no plans whatsoever to replace them by automation.

The 12,000 are a voluntary corps of contributors to public service. They are mostly unheralded and unsung. But they are faithful.

* * *

At Fort Ross, Calif., George W. Call started recording rainfall for the bureau in 1874 and his son Carlos began in 1907. That makes the combined family record 86 years so far.

SUCH SNOW!

Irwin A. Draper, 77, Red Lodge, Mont., once estimated he had measured enough snow officially to bury the tallest building in Montana—around 6,000 inches in more than half a century.

Louis Hardtla, official observer at Philo, Ohio, applied for the voluntary job so he could settle arguments about the weather. That was in 1901. He's still at it.

* * *

Practically all of the volunteers record precipitation, including the time it began. About half of them report high and low temperatures, and some report wind measurements. They also include any special phenomena such as hail or thunderstorms.

The data they send in is constant use, the bureau says. It helps solve problems of industry, commerce, agriculture and recreation as well as answers to questions like "Is the climate changing, and if so, how?"

Police Laugh Last at Bomb Jokester

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A Houston man was arrested Sunday after he said he was going to explode a bomb in Houston's International Airport.

Monroe O. Caudill, 46, said he was only joking.

* * *

Policeman J. D. Duggan said Caudill asked for a seat on a Braniff Airways Flight to Fargo, N.D. He didn't get it, Duggan said, so he put a brown briefcase on the ticket counter and said: "In that case I'll just set the bomb off here."

* * *

FBI Agent H. G. Hawkins said this was the 26th arrest since the federal agency started a crackdown on bomb threats.

Caudill was charged and released on $250 bond.

Dental Assn. Edict Historic

Fluoride Toothpaste 'Effective Preventive'

NEW YORK (AP)—A commercial toothpaste containing fluoride today won official recognition from the American Dental Assn. as an "effective decay preventive agent." It was the first time the ADA has accorded such an endorsement.

The endorsement of "Crest" toothpaste, manufactured by Procter & Gamble, came in an article published in the association's journal.

"None of the other dentrifices evaluated to date is supported by evidence considered adequate to demonstrate substantial effectiveness," wrote Dr. Lester W. Burket of Philadelphia, chairman of the ADA Council on Dental Therapeutics.

SERIES OF SEVEN TESTS

The article stated the endorsement was based on a series of seven tests among student at Indiana University and school children in a Minneapolis, Minn., suburb.

The journal said the toothpaste, while an aid in combating dental decay, is no cure-all.

"Nor will it substitute for fluoridation of community water supplies. Fluoridation, which is supported by exhaustive long-term studies, remains by far the most effective means for obtaining the benefits of fluorides," ADA said.

Driver Badly Injured When Car Hits Tree

Troopers said Riggs lost control of his car on a curve on Cooley Lake road near Hiller road, Waterford Township, and smashed into a tree.

Nixon Put Life Into the Vice Presidency

By SAUL PETT

CHICAGO (AP) — Under the Constitution of the United States, the only prescribed duty of the vice president is to preside over the Senate—and, according to an old joke, inquire each morning about the health of the president.

* * *

Richard M. Nixon has made much more of the job.

He has proved one of the hardest working vice presidents in history and, according to Dwight D. Eisenhower, no man in the job has had such "careful preparation for the presidency."

He has traveled widely and spectacularly for the President abroad, relieved him of much ceremonial burden at home, served as troubleshooter between Congress and the White House, helped settle the steel strike and, during presidential absences, presided over meetings of the Cabinet and National Security Council.

TACT DURING ILLNESSES

During President Eisenhower's three illnesses, it was generally agreed, Nixon showed tact and dignity in helping to run the government.

Additionally, in the past four years Nixon has done much to win new friends.

In 1956, he began to soften his campaign tactics and even displayed a fresh charity toward old and new opponents. He found occasion to praise Harry S. Truman's "courage" in sending troops into Korea. Earlier this year he defended his Democratic Rival Sen. John F. Kennedy against the charge of being soft on communism.

* * *

And in 1958, many observers thought they saw a new level of statesmanship in Nixon when he told a London audience that the Western world should "speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom."

* * *

"Of course, he's changed," said his press secretary, Herb G. Klein, during the Republican convention this week. "But to speak of a 'new Nixon' seems to imply he went out to get a new personality like a new suit."

GROWS WITH EXPERIENCE

"He didn't. But he has changed since I first met him in 1946. He has grown with experience, maturity and confidence."

Whether this is the "old Nixon" or the "new Nixon" now running for president may prove academic, anyway. Most people see what they want to see.

This, one can reasonably assume, is especially true of the vice president. Almost from the beginning of his career, he has caused a high pitch of emotion, both for and against him. Unlike most vice presidents, who were scarcely seen and rarely heard, this one played the leading role in a long series of highly dramatic scenes.

The last two were clearly his best, politically. They brought him more undiluted praise than anything else in his career.

In the one case, Richard Nixon seemed to be taking it on the chin for all Americans. In the other, witnesses agree, he did well.

He showed courage and control in May 1958 when a Venezuelan mob turned a routine good will tour into a nightmare. They attacked the Nixon cars with clubs, pipes, stones and spit. At one point, the howling mob even tried to overturn the vice president's car.

* * *

He showed skill and poise in the summer of 1959 in Moscow when Nikita Khrushchev suddenly opened a fantastic running debate.

ENTIRE INCIDENT ON TV

The scene was the U.S. National Exposition in Sokolniki Park, and the whole thing was on television. Khrushchev: "We are telling you not to be afraid of ideas. We have no reason to be afraid."

Nixon: "Well, let's have more exchange of them, then."

Khrushchev: "You Americans think that the Russian people will be astonished to see these things. The fact is that all our new houses have this kind of equipment."

Nixon: "We do not claim to astonish the Russian people. We hope to show our diversity and our right to choose. We do not want to have decisions made at the top by one government official that all houses should be built the same way."

* * *

Khrushchev mentioned washing machines and Nixon said: "Isn't it far better to be talking about washing machines than machines of war, like rockets? Isn't this the kind of competition we want?"

'WE'RE BOTH STRONG'

Khrushchev: "Yes, this is the kind of competition we want. But your generals say they are so powerful they can destroy us. We can also show you something so that you will know the Russian spirit."

Nixon: "You are strong and we are strong. We are both so strong, not only in weapons but also in will and spirit, that neither should ever put the other in a position where he faces in effect an ultimatum."

* * *

But it is still a long way to the White House.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Question: Neighbors are complaining about our dog's excessive barking. How can we curb this?

Answer: The canine ability to bark and give warning of impending danger has made the dog a most useful companion to man. Of course, when the animal barks for the sheer joy of barking, he becomes a nuisance. I'm afraid there is really no pat remedy for this.

Observe your pet closely. Try to determine what causes the barking. Strange noises, a stray cat, anything unusual will stimulate him.

* * *

Also, an uncomfortable, hungry, or thirsty dog may overwork his vocal cords. Keep him confined at times when his barking is the most disturbing. A last resort would be having him debarked by your veterinarian.

* * *

This involves cutting the vocal cords under anesthesia, and the dog loses much of his usefulness. I do not approve of depriving an animal of one of his faculties unless it is absolutely necessary.

Upside Swing Quickly Fades

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market settled back into an irregular condition early this afternoon after an earlier slight upside tendency was erased.

Indeed, any leaning apparent to tape watchers around noon was downward, although changes of most issues were narrow in both directions. In any event, no follow through to Friday's big rally was evident.

* * *

Business news remained on the dull side with earnings for the second quarter still showing a spotty pattern. In addition, the Commerce Department reported a drop in new orders received by manufacturers and also a drop in manufacturers' sales.

Oils held to small advances, but steels turned mixed after Republic Steel, the nation's third largest producer, reported a 38 per cent drop in earnings during the first half. Republic was off nearly a point, while Jones & Laughlin, Lukens and Youngstown were down a point or more.

* * *

Motors declined, but most other major groups had both plusses and minuses.

Proctor & Gamble was a feature, sporting 6 at the opening and holding most of the gain as the American Dental Assn. recognized one of its toothpaste brands as an "effective decay preventive agent."

Historical precedents showing that the market has advanced in August in 41 of the past 62 years were widely quoted. Higher mill prices for some aluminum products likewise were ignored as major producer stocks failed to respond.

Eastman Kodak was down more than 2 among chemicals, while DuPont lost a small gain and Union Carbide not only lost its advance but was down around about a point.

American Motors, too, turned to the down side after opening higher. Ford was off about a point. General Motors and Chrysler also lost ground.

Fisher Body Workers Shook Up

Did an earthquake strike Pontiac's Fisher Body Division plant this morning?

Probably not, concede several office workers in the Baldwin avenue administration building.

* * *

But they found it hard to explain away in any other fashion the two distinct tremors they say shook their office at 11:05 a.m.

Five employes of the second floor auditing department testified about the shakes — each lasting about a second, coming within a few seconds of each other.

"It felt like we were in a hammock, swaying," said one mystified clerk.

William Clifford, head of industrial relations, said he would investigate the reports.

Clifford, whose office is on the first floor, said he personally had felt no tremors. Reports from the plant floor indicated they weren't felt there, either.

Pontiac police and plant protection officers said there were no reports of an explosion or other disturbance in or around the plant.

Ex-Financial VP Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Guy C. Lillie, executive vice president of the Michigan Trust Co. before his retirement in 1953, died Sunday at his Grand Rapids home following a heart attack. He was 82. Lillie, a native of Coopersville, had been associated with Michigan Trust 50 years.

Henry David Thoreau, the poet once said: "What is called genius is the abundance of life or health."

Futures of Soybeans Sell at Season High

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market started the week off on a steady to strong trend today with soybean futures hitting new season highs on gains of about a cent a bushel.

* * *

The grains advanced small fractions despite rather liberal receipts of wheat, corn and oats over the weekend. Export business was slow but there appeared to be a moderate demand for wheat on mill accounts.

* * *

Brokers said the buying of soybeans was general, indicating it included a good volumfe of short covering and perhaps some expansion of long positions.

Kiwanis Group Active Despite Its Newness

The infant Drayton Plains-Waterford Kiwanis Club is approaching community service with a big heart way beyond its years.

* * *

Just a year old, the club presented the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children with a $170 check today, the second such venture since the club's founding.

Six months ago the Kiwanis club gave the local crippled children's society three "stand-up" tables which enable the youngsters to play without discomfort.

Drayton Plains-Waterford Club President Elmer O. Johnson said his Kiwanis unit is considering an annual donation to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children

Halt Private Ventures Into Lake George Area

LAKE GEORGE, N.Y. (AP)—The State Education Department has halted private exploration of an area of Lake George where divers recently found the remains of boats that may have carried troops during the French and Indian War.

Sheriff Carl McCoy said the education department planned to use photographs and measurements to determine whether the objects have historic value.

Illness May Put Raul in Command

Fidel Ready to Step Out?

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's continuing illness generated growing speculation today that the Cuban Prime Minister may yield the reins of government temporarily to his Yankee-hating brother, Raul, whom he once described as more radical than himself.

* * *

Government-controlled radio stations broke their ban on Sunday newscasts to report that the Prime Minister — only 13 days away from his 34th birthday—is "still convalescing" despite official reports two weeks ago that he had recovered fully.

* * *

The surprise announcement said Castro now is "improving satisfactorily." It did not say what he was suffering from.

After he was stricken July 9, army doctors said Castro had a "pneumonic" infection of the left lung. This was generally interpreted to mean pneumonia. But there have been rumors of a more serious illness, including a suggestion major surgery would be necessary.

TREATMENT IN MOSCOW?

Dr. Antonio Rodriquez Diaz, who has been treating the Prime Minister, was reported by his aides out of the country on professional business. There was speculation that his trip might be in connection with Castro's illness.

* * *

One rumor said Castro would go to Moscow for treatment.

Castro's last public appearance was at the 7th anniversary celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement in eastern Cuba. He looked haggard and worn.

* * *

Maj. Raul Castro, minister of the armed forces, returned Saturday from a European trip that took him to the Soviet Union and a meeting with Premeir Nikita Khrushchev, Czechoslovakia and the United Arab Republic.

Raul denied published reports that he cut short his trip and hurried back because of his brother's illness.

The elder Castro has designated Raul, 28, to take over as chief of the revolution if anything happens to him.

2 All-Star Games in '61 Last of Pair

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today announced the Majors will again play two All-Star games next year, but in the 1962 season and thereafter the leagues will revert to the traditional one game. The 1961 games will be a month apart.

The first game in the 1961 season will be played in Candlestick Park, home of the San Francisco Giants in July. The second will be in an eastern American League city, exact site to be determined.

Frick said the players, by a 6-1 vote, were in favor of the two games next year, and permission was given by the 16 Major League clubs.

Burning Pan of Grease Sets $650 Fire in Home

They reported the blaze was started by the igniting of a pan of grease on the kitchen's gas stove.

* * *

The fire, reported at 8:47 p.m., was extinguished in half an hour. It was confined to the kitchen and living room of the home. No one was injured.

Paper Shocks Parisians by Praising U.S. Food

PARIS (AP)—A Paris newspaper has recommended Americans cooking to its cuisine-conscious readers.

Paris-Jour told its startled readers that behind America's vitamin-packed, prerooked lunch-eon lies a tradition of regional dishes that can satisfy even a French palate.

Dahomey Freedom Recognized by Reds

PORTO NOVO, Dahomey (AP)—Communist China and the Soviet Union hastened today to recognize the world's newest nation, Dahomey, a former French colony in West Africa with a population of two million.

French Minister of State Louis Jacquinot and Dahomey Premier Huberg Maga signed the instruments of ratification Sunday, giving the small state independence within the French community. Independence was proclaimed at midnight, setting off wild rejoicing in the capitol.

Ex-Pontiac Man Gets 25 Years

Held Up Supermarket Manager, Robbed Him of Almost $9,000

Former Pontiac man Eugene J. Thouin today was sentenced to 25 to 50 years in Jackson Prison for the shooting holdup of a city supermarket manager last December.

The sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

A Circuit Court jury of nine women and three men took two hours on June 23 to find Thouin, 55, late of Homestead, Fla., guilty of armed robbery.

When arrested by Pontiac Police on Dec. 18, Thouin boasted to officers he had already spent 28 years in prison.

Thouin robbed Clare Kramp, 54, manager of the A&P market at 1185 N. Perry St., of nearly $9,000 as Kramp and a cashier were returning to the store with the extra cash for Christmas checks.

Kramp was shot in the hand by Thouin's shotgun when he resisted Thouin.

CIRCUS BOUND—Twenty of Pontiac's underprivileged children were among the delighted crowd who watched the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus Saturday. The Lions Club donated the tickets, and several other community agencies aided in making arrangements. The children were taken to the circus and supervised there by members of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA). With three of the children are (from left) Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, Policewoman Mary P. Sweeney, and Patrolman Billie L. Irwin.

Weekend Drownings Take Eight Lives

Nine Die in State Traffic

By The Associated Press

Pleasant weather brought Michigan residents onto the highways and waterways over the weekend—where tragedy awaited more than a dozen families.

Traffic killed at least nine persons, and eight drowned.

The Associated Press count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Traffic deaths:

Carolyn Pollard, 3, of Flat was killed Sunday when a car driven by her father, Sylvester Pollard, went out of control in Flint and rolled 246 feet.

Richard Hurley, 16, of Flat Rock was killed Sunday when he rode his bicycle in front of a car on Telegraph road near Flat Rock.

Wilbert Humble, 34, of Hamblin, La., was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a hit-run driver as he returned to the farm on which he was a migrant worker near Benton Harbor. His body was found about eight miles southeast of Benton Harbor.

Harold Baylie, 21, of Union City was killed Saturday when his car collided with a truck on M60 at Burlington.

* * *

James Coger, 4, of Auburn was killed Saturday when he was thrown from a car driven by his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Coger of Auburn. Her car collided with another at a Bay City intersection.

Harley E. Day, 63, of Flint was killed Saturday when his car and another auto collided head-on in Flint.

Ida V. Russell, 39, of Flint was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding ran out of control on U.S. 23 and struck a tree in Zilwaukee Township, Saginaw County.

Victor Bacci, 51, of Detroit was killed Saturday night when his car ran out of control in Detroit and crashed into three parked cars.

Donald J. Kremer, 17, of Comstock Park was killed a block from his home Sunday when he rode his bike into the side of a car driven by Roger Matthews of Grand Rapids.

Lester Barnes, 41, of Grand Ledge drowned in Lake Michigan Saturday near Holland. Police said he was drawn into deep water by an undertow.

* * *

Thomas Brothers, 11, of Sturgis fell off an air mattress and drowned Saturday at Silver Beach near St. Joseph. His body was recovered a short time later.

George A. McKay, 78, of Hersey drowned Saturday when he walked into 8-10-feet of water in the Muskegon River in Osceola County.

Harm Combs, 32, of Royal Oak drowned Saturday in Middle Straits Lake, about 10 miles southwest of Pontiac. Combs floundered soon after diving from a boat in which he had been riding.

Lamar Brown, 49, of Dayton, Ohio, toppled from a boat while fishing in Morrison Lake three miles north of Coldwater Saturday.

State Will Harvest if He Wins

Nixon Backers Eye Sweet Plum Crop

By ROGER LANE

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan's zealous backing of Vice President Richard M. Nixon and all his goals at the Republican National Convention will pay political dividends if Nixon wins in November.

But the harvest of plums would be nothing to compare with 1952 when President Eisenhower, installing the first GOP regime in 20 years, dealt a bumper supply of top jobs to Michigan supporters.

From high party sources it was learned that National Committeeman John B. Martin, State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer and Rep. Gerald R. Ford stand, at or near the head of the list of potential beneficiaries.

In addition, a Republican triumph nationally probably would clinch the elusive federal judgeship still being sought for former State Chairman John Feikens. His appointment currently is blocked by Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich).

Close friends say Martin would like nothing better than to go to Washington. If the GOP ticket wins, the Grand Rapids attorney reportedly would get consideration for a Cabinet or sub-Cabinet level post.

The secretary of health, education and welfare post is said to best suit Martin's talents. But the job would have to be vacated by Arthur S. Flemming.

ACTIVE FOR AGED

Martin for years has been active in work on the problems of the aging. He has taken a hand in education affairs and is prominent in the search for better answers to the crime and delinquency problems.

Ford, because of his important role in the House in the defense spending field, would figure in speculation for secretary of defense. However, the Grand Rapids congressman who long has nursed an ambition to become speaker might not want to give up his House seat.

It would not be altogether surprising if Lindemer, who spent 20 months in Washington in 1953-55 working on the Hoover Commission staff, wound up on the White House staff in some capacity.

Lindemer liked it in the nation's capital and would jump at the chance to go back provided the right berth opened up.

Other Michigan men who might be favored are John R. Stiles of Grand Rapids, who managed Paul D. Bagwell's 1958 governor campaign, and Norman O. Stockmeyer of Detroit, secretary of the GOP State Central Committee.

For the last six months or so, Stiles has been working out of Washington as a kind of regional troubleshooter for the Nixon command.

What did Michigan Republicans do in Nixon's drive for the presidential nomination to merit preference?

The answer generally is that they never wavered in staunch support for Nixon or whatever he wanted in the platform and other areas — in contrast with states like Illinois where Gov. William G. Stratton tried to force Nixon's hand on a vice presidential selection.

When Michigan leaders got the word on Henry Cabot Lodge they fell in with his choice and Ford cheerfully pulled back from his activity for vice president.

Although a scattering of delegates flirted with the Sen. Barry Goldwater forces, top level figures never yielded to wooing either from this quarter or the New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller camp.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son, Airman 2nd Class Charles Gabarski, who passed away 2 years ago Aug. 1

His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.

Some day we know to meet him,
Some day we know when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Some day, Amen.

Sadly missed by Mom and Son-in-law and Vi; sister Carmen and Gary; brother Curt; wife Dorothy and other kin from Pennsylvania, Hooper, Randolph family.

Two Are Injured as Car Is Forced Into Phone Pole

Two persons were injured Sunday night when another auto struck their vehicle, forcing it into a telephone pole.

* * *

Their car was struck in the rear by one driven by Roy E. Trawick, 21, of 621 Stirling Ave., according to Pontiac police.

The accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. on North Saginaw street north of Fairgrove avenue.

MISS PONTIAC DEMOCRAT — About 400 persons turned out at yesterday's annual picnic of the Pontiac Democratic Club to see Miss Sharon Sipley, 16, of 2606 Winkelman Dr., Waterford Township, selected as "Miss Pontiac Democrat" for 1960. The Waterford Township High School junior was selected from nine contestants at the picnic, held at Jaycee Park in the city.

Three in Hospital

Collision Injures 10 Here

Ten persons were injured, three of them admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in fair condition, in a two-car collision at Adams road and South boulevard in Pontiac Township, Sunday night.

* * *

Hospitalized were James W. Ryan, 49, of 8697 Jewett St., Warren, a son David, 11, both suffering a fractured pelvis, and Kathy St. John, 16, of 1787 University St., Ferndale, with a fractured skull.

The drivers, both injured, were identified by sheriff's deputies as Mrs. Clare D. Ryan, 38, and Ronald A. Kaminski, 21, of 1340 E. Garnet St., Hazel Park.

The St. John girl was in Kaminski's car. Also injured was Alex Kaminski, 4, of the same address.

They were all treated and released as were the Ryan children Dorothy, 14, and Dawne, 12, Darrell De Rouin, 12, and Hollis Groom, 15, both of Warren.

All the injured were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Believe Murder Sex-Motivated

Autopsy on Mackinac Isle Victim Confirms Widow Was Raped

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — State Police say they are working on the theory that the robbery-slaying of Mrs. Frances Lacey was sex-motivated.

* * *

Lt. Robert Bilgen said an autopsy performed by Dr. Jean Webster, a Petoskey pathologist, indicated the wealthy 49-year-old Dearborn widow had been raped.

They said the man had an "airtight alibi" and they were convinced he was not connected with the slaying of Mrs. Lacey.

* * *

Mrs. Lacey left her hotel last Sunday to visit relatives on the other side of this famous resort island.

* * *

An intensive four-day search for her ended Thursday when her body was discovered under a brush pile. Police said she had been strangled with her own undercloth-ing.

Girl's Condition Satisfactory After Bump From Car

An eight-year-old girl struck by an auto Sunday afternoon was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today.

She is Cynthia Harper, 1056 Canterbury Dr.

She was struck by a car driven by Harold C. Ferrie, 39, of Garden City.

Ferris told police the girl ran into the path of his auto on Orchard Lake avenue east of Berwick boulevard and he was not able to stop in time.

* * *

He was not held.

The accident occurred at 12:50 p.m.

Dag Seeking Compromise on Secession in the Congo

By LYNN HEINZERLING

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo—(AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold delayed his departure from the Congo by 24 hours today as he sought a compromise in the bitter dispute over the future of rich Katanga province.

* * *

The U.N. Command announced Belgian soldiers had pulled out of three more towns—Bannigville, Libengi and Coquilhatville, all in Equator province—but so far have made no move to leave Katanga.

* * *

It was not learned whether the withdrawn soldiers were being sent to Belgium or to the two Belgian military bases in the Congo. The Congo government is challenging the right of the Belgians to keep these bases.

* * *

1,500 TO LEAVE

Brussels announced last week that 1,500 of the 10,000 Belgian soldiers in the Congo would be brought home. These are to be flown to Belgium in the next few days.

A Belgian spokesman said except for Katanga and the bases of Kitona and Kamina, only about 500 Belgian soldiers are stationed in the Congo's other five provinces.

These include about 100 in Kasai province, where Belgian sources say fierce tribal warfare has broken out between the Lulua and Baluba tribes.

The Baluba are reported fleeing to their own territories and to Katanga province with the Lulua in pursuit. Every night there is a pitched battle with clubs, bows and arrows and torches wherever the Baluba pitch camp, the sources said.

In their flight the Baluba are moving through the territory of another warlike tribe, the Tshokwe, and this reportedly creates more fighting. The Belgians placed the casualties in this primitive warfare in the hundreds.

A Belgian spokesman said the entry of U.N. forces into Katanga must be effected gradually after thorough psychological preparation of the thousands of Belgians in the province to prevent new panic at the prospect of the withdrawal of the Belgian soldiers.

Bob Knows His Tenure at White House Ending

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—Bob Montgomery knows that his White House term's almost expired and that he isn't going to be re-elected.

"I think I'll retire from political life and make some more movies with Jimmy Cagney," the suave TV and film star said when we trapped him in a crowded lobby.

Bob advanced from an actor to an asterisk in future history books by pioneering the post of White House TV adviser to Pres. Eisenhower—he even has a bedroom and East Wing office at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

But time tears on, new bosses bring new aides.

* * *

WILSON

Montgomery coolly answered a jocular remark by Peter Lawford, who'd said he didn't want to be thought of as "Kennedy's Bob Montgomery."

'NEVER DID ANYTHING'

"Bob never did anything for Ike," Lawford said in Los Angeles.

"I don't know the young man but he is entitled to his opinion — valueless as it is," Montgomery retorted.

Pleased with the results and proud of his friendship with Ike, Montgomery said he'd worked for six years "absolutely without pay."

* * *

Rogers—who started helping Nixon in '52—also has worked for "expenses only," he said.

Firemen May Get Increase Tonight

George Burklow, president of the Pontiac Fire Fighters Assn., today was optimistic over the outcome of firemen's nine-month effort for higher wages.

* * *

Municipal pay boosts, based on the recently completed pay study that links Pontiac wage scales with those of the Detroit metropolitan area, are to be ordered tonight if the City Commission can agree on an implementation plan.

"I think the raises will be worked out satisfactorily to all concerned," said Burklow, who added, however, that "individual problems" are still being reviewed by negotiators for the firemen.

City Manager Walter K. Willman has recommended a modified $73,000 implementation plan, based on step raises for all employes, retroactive to July 1.

Further implementation could take place Jan. 1, 1961, he said.

Firemen, however, have been asking for raises retroactive to Jan 1. Willman has said this would cost $147,000.

"We could absorb $73,000 out of contingency funds," he said. "I don't recommend that we try to do more than that."

Burklow said he and other negotiators will be present when final debate begins at City Hall tonight.

* * *

It was the fireman whose fight led to the pay study and its acceptance, in principle, by the administration and employe representatives.

"We are pleased with the pay plan," said Burklow. "The only question now is how it will be implemented."

In other business, the Commission is scheduled to hold a hearing on the proposed widening and paving of Howard street, Baldwin to Johnson and Johnson street, Howard to Oakland.

The $17,000 project is included in a $60,000 paving contract that the Commission will be asked to seek bids for Aug. 22. Also covered by the contract is the widening and paving of Edison street, Rundell to Montcalm, at a cost of $43,000.

Sleeper Shot, Woman Held

Condition of Man Is Satisfactory After Bullet Pierces Both Ankles

A 40-year-old man was shot early Saturday as he slept in his room at 86 Houston St.

Held in the shooting of Sanford Edwards is Mrs. Sarah McKinney, 34, of 53 Orton St.

Pontiac police reported that Edwards, who was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today, was shot once with a .38-caliber pistol.

Edwards said since he was sleeping when shot, he could not furnish police with any information.

He was found on his blood-soaked bed by a fellow roomer who took him to the hospital.

Mrs. Fanny Prude, Edwards' landlady, told officers she'd seen Mrs. McKinney enter the stairway leading to Edwards' room, and a short time later heard a shot.

At the McKinney home, her husband Leon, 45, turned over to officers a .38-caliber pistol he said he'd owned for five years.

He said he knew nothing of the shooting.

Mrs. McKinney is held for investigation of attempted murder.

Will Dedicate Bench Honoring Bernard Baruch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch plans to return once more to the same old, weatherbeaten wooden bench in Washington where he used to sit and think and talk.

* * *

It's the bench near a tree in Lafayette Park, across the street from White House, which will be dedicated at noon Aug. 16 as the Bernard Baruch Bench of Inspiration.

The ceremonies call for this elder statesman to sit on the bench once more, facing the White House.

* * *

The tall, white-haired adviser to presidents, who is almost unbent by his 90 yehrs, will be joined on the bench by three boys.

* * *

There'll be a Cub Scout, a Boy Scout and an Explorer Scout, representing the Boy Scouts of America who are sponsoring the ceremonies to honor Baruch, who will be 90 Aug. 19.

Rubber Workers to Vote on Pact

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — United Rubber Workers Union locals in 19 cities including Jackson, Mich., will vote this week on whether to ratify wage agreements reached with Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

The ratification vote must come within 10 days of the settlement. Both Firestone and Goodyear settlements were signed Saturday in negotiations conducted in Cleveland. They cover almost 39,000 workers and provide general wage increases of 9½ cents hourly, plus additional pay raises for skilled workers.

Not all so-called beavers are big animals. The mountain beaver, found in the mountains of Oregon, Washington and northern California, never goes near the water, have neither webbed feet nor flat tails.

At the end of 1958, the American petroleum industry represented an estimated gross investment in fixed assets of $31.2 billion.

Many Side Angles to Tint Nation's Presidential Vote

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This Presidential campaign will leave many voters so fuzzy on major issues their choice will turn on personality, history, and, to some extent, on prejudice.

* * *

Democrats and Republicans agree on the need to step up the economy. Democrats say the national product must increase by at least 5 per cent. Republicans don't set a figure.

How is a voter going to visualize something so vast and vague as the national product, especially in percentages?

* * *

In foreign affairs both parties agree communism must be considered. But how is it to be done in a way recognizably different from what's been done in the past? Both sides will have a time trying to make this clear.

DISAGREE ON DEFENSE

The parties disagree on whether our defense is good enough. The Democrats say it isn't. Both promise to increase it. In this field, full of secret information even politicians can't discuss, how can a voter know who's right?

Like it or not, there will be some religious prejudice for and against the Roman Catholicism of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate. The best the unbigoted can hope for is that it won't be a decisive factor.

* * *

Then there's the racial problem.

Northern Negroes are not happy to see Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas running for vice president on the Democratic ticket, even though he was the one who steered this century's only two civil rights laws through Congress.

While the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People considers the civil rights records of Kennedy and Nixon excellent, it says Johnson's performance in this field over the years is unacceptable.

NOT MUCH CHOICE

Yet many white Southern Democrats, angered by the strong civil rights plank in the Democratic platform, will probably persuade themselves to go along with their party just because Johnson is on the ticket.

They don't have much choice. The Republicans' civil rights promises are pretty nearly as strong as the Democrats'.

Lodge Interrupts Politics to Visit New Grandson

BEVERLY, Mass. (AP) — Republican vice-presidential nominee Henry Cabot Lodge puts aside politics briefly today to visit his newest, and eighth, grandchild, John Ellerton Lodge.

The infant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Lodge, was born at a Boston hospital five minutes before the U.N. ambassador was nominated last Thursday night at the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

Lodge, given a warm but wet welcome on his return from Chicago Saturday, conferred for more than an hour Sunday with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at the latter's summer home at Manchester, Mass.

Seek Algeria Rebels Who Slew 11 Bathers

ALGIERS (AP)—French army units and helicopters combed the hill country west of Algiers today for a rebel band that killed 11 persons and wounded seven others in a terrorist raid on a crowded bathing beach.

A dozen rebels swooped down in three groups Sunday from the bluff overlooking the Caroubier beach 50 miles west of here.

The beach was closed last summer because of the danger of rebel attack but was reopened this year when the area was considered clear.

Jets to Land at Manila

RIGHTS ATTACKED BY DISGRUNTLED CANDIDATES

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS LEO P. MEAGHER and his attorney S. JEROME BRONSON, CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE, both Democratic, asked the court for an injunction AGAINST labor printing and distributing a recommended slate of candidates.

They were accompanied to court by JOHN KRONENBERG, also a Democratic CANDIDATE, who was by his own statement to the press, a party to this suit but withdrew his name for reasons he explained to the press. Accompanying those mentioned was a Republican, a present State Senator and now a non-partisan candidate for Probate Judge, L. HARVEY LODGE.

We, of organized labor, believe this action as anti-labor and denying elected delegates to the Council the right to voice their opinion.

The Council is made up of 105 local unions and each local elects its delegates to represent that local on all business brought before the Council.

The above mentioned Democratic candidates requested by communication to this Council, endorsement, and also appeared before a committee to again request endorsement of labor.

In 1958, LEO P. MEAGHER and JOHN KRONENBERG were given the endorsement by the Oakland County AFL-CIO with the same vignette and did not oppose labor's rights to distribute their slates during that campaign.

NEW TWO-YEAR TERM JUDGESHIP

★★★★ Only Donald Adams received FOUR STAR rating for two-year probate judge given by Oakland County Citizens League.

Is well qualified for this Judgeship!

He is a practicing attorney with twenty-four years' experience!

He has been Judge of Justice Court, except for a period while serving in the U. S. Navy, for twenty-three years!

Through his legal work and his voluntary services on many, many civic and governmental committees and agencies he has become familiar with the work of the Probate Court.

His leadership is well proven because he has held the highest offices of Service Clubs, Church and Civic Associations.

The ability to analyze and fairly judge action required in cases before him as a Judge have won him a reputation of fairness, understanding, and thorough application of the laws and the courts to serve the interests of all concerned.

For this additional Judgeship of Probate Court your election of Donald E. Adams would give Oakland County a trained, experienced, tried and proven Judge.

Late Voting Rush Expected After Slow Start

Light noontime rain and public apathy apparently were keeping the turnout at today's primary pretty light so far, a check of some townships and cities showed.

Election officials, however, were looking forward to the usual evening rush to the polls.

Previous indications from state and county election officials that today's primary balloting might attract a near-record turnout of 1,200,000 voters were threatened by overcast skies.

Rain, however is expected to hold off until tonight, the Weather Bureau said.

Polls will be open until 8 p.m. Those standing in line at that time will be allowed to cast their vote for nominations to offices of governor on down to county surveyor.

County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy anticipated that some 150,000 of the county's estimated 265,000 registered voters will go to the polls.

'ABOUT THE SAME'

At noon, Mrs. Evans said a rough check showed the number of voters "running about the same as in past primaries."

It will pick up between 4 p. m. and 8 p. m., she predicted.

Of prime interest in Oakland County is a two-question proposition on the ballot that, if approved, would raise the needed 4 million dollars to complete facilities at the new courthouse now under construction at the County Service Center.

Cost to the property owner would be about $2.86 annually for the next four years.

In addition to the countywide proposition, voters in many townships and cities will find local issues on their ballots, such as Waterford Township's proposals to abolish the annual township meeting and establish civil service.

Polls throughout Michigan opened at 7 a.m. as praise for a clean primary campaign and a lament that nominating races weren't hot enough went on record from leaders of both parties.

"We congratulate our candidates for keeping the main focus of the primary campaign on the broad issues facing us," said Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler.

"The primary campaign didn't really generate much fire on either side," said Lawrence B. Lindemer, GOP state chairman.

Though local issues or races could overshadow the statewide contests in many areas, these races claimed most attention:

★ ★ ★

Former Michigan State University Professor Paul D. Bagwell was unopposed as the GOP candidate, as he was in 1958.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) faced former state police commissioner Donald S. Leonard in a battle for nomination as U.S. senator.

Detroit Negroes Held at Bay by 50 Constables

Emancipation Day Fete Becomes Bloody Brawl at Jazz Show

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A jazz show attended by thousands of Negroes from Detroit exploded into a riot early today, leaving one man critically wounded and many others injured.

The show in Windsor's downtown area featured an Emancipation Day festival celebrating the abolition of slavery in the British Empire. Police estimated the crowd at 5,000, including only a handful of whites.

Walter Perry, organizer of the celebration, said the show was organized by a Detroit syndicate and had no connection with the official festival.

Sporadic fights in the crowd, police said, suddenly broke into riot proportions at 2:30 a.m. A witness told police the fighting was sparked by rival Detroit gangs.

More than 50 constables rushed to the arena. Swinging clubs they pushed their way to the floor of the arena. Some constables were knocked to the floor and beaten with chairs.

Fifteen policemen were injured and four required hospital treatment. Several civilians were treated.

City Employes May Get Raises Totaling $90,000

City commissioners last night "tentatively agreed" to grant $90,000 in raises under the new municipal pay plan, Mayor Philip E. Rowston reported.

The figure is about eight per cent higher than the $73,000 plan recommended a week ago by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Rowston said the raises, if granted next Tuesday, would eat up all $80,000 available in 1960 contingency funds and force a search through the budget for another $10,000.

What the Commission favored, Rowston said, was implementing the pay plan on a seniority basis, with the first raises coming Aug. 26.

Firemen had complained that step raises would create inequities among the senior employes.

Representatives of the Fire Fighters Assn., DPW workers and the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. presented critical views of the step plan during a 10-minute huddle with the Commission after last night's regular Commission meeting.

Kennedy Makes Peace With HST; to Visit Him

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy made peace today with former President Harry S. Truman in a telephone call and announced he will visit Truman in Independence, Mo. this month.

"I talked to President Truman by telephone and he was generous enough to say he would help us," Kennedy told a news conference.

"I hope before the end of August to visit President Truman myself at his library in Independence."

Truman had refused to attend the Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles in protest against Kennedy's campaigning for the nomination. He said the convention had been fixed up in advance for Kennedy's benefit.

ANNOUNCED LATER

After the convention, however, Truman announced he was willing to support the ticket. This was his first direct communication with Kennedy, however.

The senator said he has arranged for Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, "who has been my closest adviser during many months of the campaign" to visit Truman earlier this month.

Ribicoff and Kennedy stood together on the lawn of Kennedy's summer home as he made the announcement.

Kennedy then said he had made a five-minute telephone call to Truman and the former President "couldn't have been kinder to me."

Meanwhile in Washington Vice President Richard M. Nixon tossed a verbal punch at his Democratic rival for the presidency today for what Nixon described as discussing personalities instead of issues.

He said Sen. John F. Kennedy has "started on the low road in the campaign" and added: "He intends to follow it."

Nixon's comment was prompted by a Kennedy statement at a news conference at Hyannis Port, Mass., Monday accusing Nixon of a "lack of basic beliefs" and a "betrayal" of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's farm policies which Nixon now "wants to disown."

Nixon spoke at an impromptu news conference at the airport before starting a campaign trip that will reach as far as Hawaii.

Nixon and his wife lined up a five-day tour including stops at Reno, Nev., Pat Nixon's home, Los Angeles, Nixon's hometown of Whittier, Calif., and a two-day visit to Hawaii.

Will Make 2 Speeches

Red Havana Paper Claims Fidel Not Off Scene Yet

HAVANA (AP)—The Communist Party newspaper Hoy said today Fidel Castro will make two speeches in the next few days, despite reports the ailing Prime Minister is taking a complete rest.

In a story carried by no other Havana morning newspaper, Hoy said Castro himself had announced he would address the closing session of the leftist Latin-American Youth Congress Saturday. The newspaper said Castro also would address a conference of the National Coordinates of Sugar Cane Cooperatives Aug. 10.

The government kept silent on who will take over, if necessary, from the Prime Minister. Castro's younger brother, the anti-American Raul, still appeared to be the best bet.

Authorities maintained tight-lipped secrecy following Monday's disclosure that the bearded prime minister had laid aside his duties after his doctor ordered him to take a complete rest—"both physical and mental."

Informed sources said Castro, 33, had been finally convinced that he must stop all work to hasten recovery from his three-week illness, officially described as a lung infection.

Maj. Raul Trille, one of two army doctors treating the prime minister, announced he was taking a complete rest, "both physical and mental."

★ ★ ★

CANCER HINTED

There have been persistent reports in Havana — denied by sources close to the Cuban government — that Castro underwent a genital operation and was found to be suffering from cancer.

Powers was pilot of the U2 reconnaissance plane downed in the Soviet Union May 1.

An embassy spokesman also said visas would be, or have been, issued for three others who will to accompany the family members—Carl A. Macafee, an attorney for the father, Oliver W. Powers; Dr. Lewis K. Ingram, physician for the ailing mother, Mrs. Ida Ford Powers; and Sol W. Cury, home town friend and adviser of the father.

Visas apparently have not been issued for four attorneys who want to go to Moscow to help defend Powers against Soviet espionage charges, if they can.

The Soviet Embassy issued the visas, a spokesman said, after being advised by Moscow that they should be granted.

Old Sol Beamed 29 Days

Those Sunny July Smiles!

July was only a sunshower.

Old Sol beamed down on Pontiac area residents on all but two of July's 31 days.

The two sunless days were July 13 and 26, when clouds and rain predominated.

There were five days when sunshine had to share to billing with partly cloudy skies.

There were a few days with evening showers, such as Friday, July 22, when sunbathers got their day in the sun but had to scatter around 5 p.m. when the skies opened up.

That was the month's worst moment as far as weather was concerned. The late afternoon storm with high winds toppled trees, knocked down wires and dropped torrents of rain on the Pontiac area.

But skies cleared in time for another pleasant weekend—something we had lots of in July.

NOT SO BAD, REALLY

The month's five Saturdays all were fair or sunny. Of the Sundays, three were fair and sunny and two found the sun peeping out from partly cloudy skies.

Twenty days were completely cloudless. True, people spent more time watering their lawns and gardens as the weatherman failed to send any consistent rainfall.

This means July was a dry month, 1.47 inches of rain below the normal 2.91 for the period.

DRIER THAN JUNE

And it was much drier than wet June which brought the citizenry some 4 inches of rain.

The largest amount of rainfall in a 24-hour period occurred in an all-night shower June 2 and 3, but both days were clear and sunny.

Looks as if all this adds up to a hot July, doesn't it? Well, look again.

The average temperature for July was a pleasant 71.9 degrees.

The hottest day was Friday, July 22, when the mercury hit 91. It was 90 on July 28 and 29.

The coolest temperature was recorded early July 15 when the mercury hit 49, a 57-year record low, but that day also saw it 80 degrees by mid-afternoon.

The coldest day was July 4. The high was only 71 and the low 59 for a mean (really mean) temperature of 60.5 degrees.

There were 19 days in which the high was in the 80s and nine with the high in the 70s, but only once did the low reading edge up out of the 60s.

Muggy Air Preview for Thundershowers

Scattered showers or thundershowers for Wednesday, possibly beginning tonight, the weatherman says.

Temperatures will continue warm, with tomorrow's high near 90.

Tonight's low will be 70. There's a chance of showers again Thursday, with temperatures moderate.

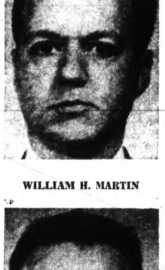

Morning southerly winds at eight m.p.h. will become southwesterly, increasing to 15 to 25 m.p.h. late this afternoon.

Sixty-eight was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 77.

Missing Security Agents Sought in Mexico City

WASHINGTON (UPI — The search for two missing mathematicians employed by the Defense Department's ultra-secret National Security Agency was believed today centered in Mexico City.

Close-mouthed federal officials would give no indication how warm the trail was or what theories they had to explain why the bachelor Navy veterans dropped out of sight more than five weeks ago. The Pentagon identified the men as Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, of Eureka, Calif., and William H. Martin, 29, of Ellensburg, Wash.

BERNON F. MITCHELL

Both lived in Laurel, Md., near the Ft. Meade headquarters of the security agency. Both men were subjected to an intensive security check before they were hired, a Pentagon spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

A cloud of mystery hangs over the eight-year-old National Security Agency. It is known to perform highly specialized technical activities related to national security.

They were due back between July 11 and July 18. When the Defense Department could not find them by last weekend, it called in the FBI and Maryland police.

The department said airline records disclosed the pair booked passage to Mexico City June 25. "Indications are they went there," a spokesman said. Speculation has it that they went on to Cuba.

Informed sources said Mitchell and Martin had not notified the security agency they intended to leave the country.

County May Sue Detroit Over Sewage Contract

The Board of Supervisors will be asked Thursday whether Oakland County should sue the City of Detroit to force enactment of a contract for the treatment of sanitary sewage from the Evergreen-Farmington sewer system.

R. J. Alexander, director of the county Department of Public Works, which built the 12-million-dollar chain of sewers, pleaded with the Detroit Common Council yesterday to live up to the Dec. 30, 1958, contract. He was repelled.

The contract calls for the city to receive and treat the sewage from the 12 Oakland communities using the system when the trunk lines are completed, Alexander said. This was supposed to happen about June 30, he said.

But yesterday the Common Council meeting as a committee-of-the-whole sided with Glenn C. Richards, Detroit DPW commissioner, in his insistence that Oakland County first stop flooding northwest Detroit homes with its heavy rain waters flowing across Eight Mile road from Southfield and Oak Park.

This decision, Alexander said, means "a loss of faith and integrity in the City of Detroit."

Looking at other contracts the City of Detroit has with Oakland communities, Alexander said they appeared to be "not as good as the paper they are written on" because of the action Monday.

Alexander has insisted all along that there "is nothing whatsoever" in the two-year-old contract between Detroit and the county which specifies that the old South-Oak storm drain (formerly the Eight Mile storm drain) be constructed before the sewage is accepted.

IMPACT ON BONDS

Delay of this action, Alexander said, will have a tremendous impact on the county's payment of 12 million dollars in bonds to complete the Evergreen and Farmington sewers.

"Not only is the health of the county concerned, which the state is keenly interested in, but we have 12 million dollars in bonds predicated on the system," said Norman R. Barnard, corporation counsel.

He said the county is preparing to take legal action for a mandatory injunction to compel Detroit to permit the county to proceed with sending sewage into its treatment plant.

"If the system doesn't become operative it would be impossible to pay off the bonds," Barnard said.

Another impact in the refusal of Detroit to accept the sewage — which is now temporarily being dumped into Birmingham's old treatment plant — is that Oakland communities with contracts with the county might turn around and sue the county because it won't be able to live up its contracts with them.

DETROIT 'CLUB'

Individual communities are building their own internal sewer systems, or having the county department build them for them, to hook into the trunklines constructed by the DPW.

Detroit is using the need for the storm drain "as a club" over the county's head before it will accept the sewage, Alexander contended.

"I couldn't believe that the city of Detroit would take this attitude with such impact on the health of the area concerned," Alexander said.

Plans for the storm drain, which would have served Southfield and Oak Park, had to be scrapped last month when Southfield city officials and residents opposed assessments, which they said were confiscatory.

The State Highway Department is moving ahead with plans to build its own sewer to take care of the Southfield and Northwestern Highway expressway building projects should no other plans be enacted.

Under the department's plans Oak Park would be served, but not Southfield.

According to Irving J. Rubin, executive assistant to State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, the department would participate anew if any governmental agencies — repetition for construction of the nearly five million dollar drain.

★ ★ ★

"But we won't play ball if this thing continues on and jeopardizes our highway building program in southern Oakland County," Rubin said.

Willie Byrd, 22, of Detroit, a Negro, was stabbed near the heart and his condition is critical.

Police said some members of the audience carried the fight into the streets, blocking traffic, yelling and weaving across the streets.

'WE WERE LUCKY'

Lt. Peter Dorrigan of the Windsor police said, "We are lucky no one was killed. There were just a few fights in the arena and all of a sudden, wham! Everyone seemed to be in on it."

Lt. Dorrigan was on duty with five constables when the fighting broke out.

Police arrested seven men, including one wanted for questioning about the stabbing of Byrd.

Detective Sgt. Jack Blair said many people in the arena appeared to have been drinking from bottles they brought to the dance.

Twenty-five persons who suffered minor cuts and bruises were given first aid.

"People were running all over each other to get out. Some were even climbing up on the beams of the wall. I must have seen 500 knives and razor blades flashing.

"Women were screaming and I heard people hollering, 'Where's the tunnel?' " A tunnel under the Detroit River links the two border cities.

The violence in Windsor came on the last night of a three-day festival. Police had been prepared for trouble all along, but the crowds were peaceful the first two days.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES? — To those who base predictions on little or no evidence, these road signs near Karnes City, Tex., foretell a Democratic victory in November. After all, both Texas arrows and the Kenedy (with one "N") arrow point upward, while that of Nixon indicates only a turn to the left. The numbers on the "Democrat" arrows also add up to a greater figure than that on the Republican arrow. Anyone for a crystal ball or ouija board?

Gas Truck Blast Injures Pair

Clawson Man Is Badly Burned While Refueling Paving Equipment

A 42-year-old Clawson man was severely burned when a gasoline truck exploded yesterday near Rochester as he was refueling paving equipment on Adams road near Gunn road.

Donald Porteus, 42, of 162 W. Baker St., was taken to St. Joseph's Mercy Hopsital in critical condition following the accident.

He suffered first, second and third degree burns on his arms, back and legs. His condition today is reported satisfactory by hospital authorities.

The driver of the gas truck, Donald Maramolick of 3340 Dearing St., Detroit, was released from the hospital after treatment.

Police said Porteus apparently was refueling equipment belonging to the Birmingham A and A Asphalt Co. when the blast occurred. The truck was owned by the Standard Oil Co. Both men are employed by the asphalt firm.

Witnesses said the piece of equipment over which Porteus was working at the time of the blast was destroyed. There also was extensive damage to the truck, they said.

Firemen from Lake Orion and Rochester were called. The accident occurred at about 2 p.m. on Adams road, approximately five miles northwest of Rochester.

$18,000 Contract Awarded for Downtown Sidewalks

BIRMINGHAM — An $18,000 contract for downtown sidewalk improvements was awarded last night to the low bidder by the City Commission.

The contract went to Alva L. Greer and Sons of Roseville for $17,981. His bid was about 2 per cent lower than had been estimated by city engineers.

The project consists of removing and replacing sidewalks, curbs and gutters along Maple road from Chester street to Hunter boulevard, and on Woodward avenue from Oakland Avenue to Brown street.

The sidewalk improvements will be financed by both the city and property owners affected by the rebuilding project.

Construction is expected to begin next week, according to city engineer William Killeen, with the project scheduled for completion Sept. 17.

Seven contractors had submitted bids on the project, with the highest being $26,000.

Approval was given by the City Commission to the Birmingham Kiwanis Club to hold its annual Kids' Day Peanut Sale Sept. 24 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The peanut sale is the Kiwanis Club's main fund-raising project.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The U. N. Command took a hands-off attitude today toward tribal warfare reported in the Congo's Kasai province.

The UNC stressed that the Security Council had sent in the international force so Belgian soldiers could withdraw, and that tribal disturbances are an internal matter for the Congo government and its army, "not a mandate of the U. N. forces."

Belgian sources consider that the disorganized 25,000-man Congolese army, which mutinied against its white Belgian officers early in July, is totally incapable of controlling the warring tribesmen.

Belgian officials said the warfare — between the traditionally hostile Lulua and Baluba tribes in Kasai, east of Lepoldville—was the worst flareup in the history of the two tribes.

REPORT HUNDREDS KILLED

Unconfirmed reports said hundreds had been killed in the battling with bows and arrows, clubs and torches. Baluba tribesmen were reported in flight, some to adjoining Katanga Province, which has proclaimed its independence of Premier Patrice Lumumba's central government.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold warned Congolese leaders Monday night that any false move on their part could plunge the Congo into new turmoil.

He called on the infant government to follow the course set by the United Nations—"always free of all influence of groups, parties or ideology."

Hammarskjold spoke at a banquet he gave in honor of Congo President Joseph Kasabuvu and other officials. The speech and Kasavubu's reply indicated that both the U. N. and the Congolese are trying hard to heal the rift demonstrated over the past few days.

Nov. 8, unless McNamara's health forces him to withdraw.

Both parties have contests for lieutenant governor.

In the Democratic race for lieutenant governor are Rep. T. John Lesinski, Detroit; Richard F. Vander Veen, Grand Rapids attorney; William J. Coughlin, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, and George H. Dougherty, Flint labor leader, as certified candidates. Eugene C. Keyes, Dearborn doctor-lawyer-dentist, failed to qualify for the ballot and ran as a write-in candidate.

Top interest has been in the three-man Democratic race to become heir-apparent to Gov. G. Mennen Williams, stepping down after 12 years in the statehouse.

SEE VICTORY

Hare and Swainson had predicted victory by yesterday.

Swainson's backers said in informal poll indicated their man would draw more than 300,000 of the 625,000 votes they expect to be cast in the Democratic primary. The Swainson men said Hare would get some 275,000 votes and Connor 40,000.

A spokesman for Hare said it was "unkind" to predict Connor would get only about 6 per cent of the vote.

He said a guess — and he emphasized it was only that — was that Hare would be named on 48 per cent of the ballots cast, Swainson on 33 per cent and Connor on 19 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Staebler considered the predicted 625,000 Democratic turnout as too high.

He guessed slightly over a half-million votes would be cast in the Democratic primary and Lindemer predicted a like figure for the GOP races.

"The primary just doesn't call for the kind of all-out, party-directed effort you get in November," a Democratic spokesman said.

Staebler said the 1960 primary "represents the highest point ever reached by the Democratic party in Michigan."

Lindemer said the GOP ballot in nearly all the state's 83 counties was ir "much better shape than even in the past." Contests in a great many local races, plus a contest for lieutenant governor this year, would help the Republican vote, he said.

★ ★ ★

Democrats pointed to "350 candidates for the Legislature alone," and "county tickets in all but eight counties" as an indication of their strength.

Michigan's 18 seats in the U. S. House of Representatives will be up for grabs in November, but there was no primary contest in many districts.

Six Republicans and two Democrats were bidding for Bentley's eighth district seat.

"The general concensus was that we could afford the $90,000 plan, if it eliminated the inequities," said Rowston.

Firemen, who've been campaigning for a new pay plan for nine months, once wanted raises retroactive to Jan. 1.

Under the pay plan which the city accepted last month, implementation would cost the city $268,000 annually on a seniority basis or $147,000 annually on an automatic step raise basis.

More raises will be due Jan. 1 if the pay plan is to be fully implemented.

'One-Share' Sweeny, 78, Dies in Toronto

TORONTO (AP — William R. "One-Share" Sweeny, 78, one-time taxi driver from Elizabeth, N.J., who came to Toronto 50 years ago to make his name in the city's Bay Street financial district, died Monday.

He earned his nick-name from his practice of buying a single share of a company's stock so he could attend annual meetings and needle company directors.

He later became president of the Concourse Building Ltd. of Toronto and director of several companies.

Of Vital Importance to All Voters!

The election eve accusation, by way of a paid political ad, that LEO P. MEAGHER, candidate for Congress, and S. JEROME BRONSON, lawyer and candidate for State Senate are anti-labor, because of their objection made to the 100,000 slates printed and distributed by the Oakland County Council, AFL-CIO is laughable.

It has never been MEAGHER'S or BRONSON'S position, either in court or out of court, as is well known to Oakland County Council, AFL-CIO, that labor, as such, does not have the right to endorse candidates of its choice. But it is our position, that coupled with rights, attach certain responsibilities to the public not to abuse those rights in a way calculated to mislead the voters of Oakland County. That is what labor's printed 100,000 slates are intended to do.

The complaint is that the slates are a gimmick to make it appear that there is one and only one candidate running for political office in each race on the Democratic ticket. That is the deception the Oakland County Council of the AFL-CIO has been accused of, and not labor's right to endorse candidates of its choice and saying so on the slate in such a way that the public will not be misled.

Under the official vignette of the Democratic Party, appears on the slate, they are passing out, in large caps, the words: MAKE IT EMPHATIC—VOTE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC—AUG. 2nd. The truth is that if the voter were to follow these directions on their "slate," every Democratic Ballot would be thrown out on Aug 2nd as invalid. Why? Because it is impossible to vote the straight Democratic ticket today because there are six candidates for Congress, four for Lt. Gov., three for State Senate.

The Oakland County Council of the AFL-CIO, knowing how correct and just the recent criticism of their deception has been, the only thing left for them to do is to cry publicly, 24 hrs. before the election, that LEO P. MEAGHER, candidate for Congress, and S. JEROME BRONSON, candidate for State Senate, are "anti-labor" AND, OF COURSE, this accusation is a lie to cover up and throw a "red herring" over their own wrong acts.

AND FURTHER the statement made relative to Senator L. Harvey Lodge's appearance is an outright UNTRUTH! Senator Lodge did not appear as a "Disgruntled" candidate . . . but in his official capacity as "Chairman of the Committee on Elections." He was not a party to the suit.

Warming Trend Boots Coolness From Northeast

By The Associated Press

Temperatures that set record lows in the 50s for the date in some Northeast communities Monday averaged 10 to 15 degrees warmer today.

In contrast, readings dropped into the 50s in the northern Plains this morning, giving the area some of its coolest weather this summer.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise, there was little temperature change and not much precipitation. Showers dampened northern Montana and the coastal areas of South Carolina and Georgia. Thundershowers were reported in the southern areas of Minnesota and Wisconsin.

U. of M. Election Survey Finds:

Most Already Have Minds Made Up for November

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Between two-thirds and three-fourths of those who will go to the polls in November know now how they will vote, according to a study by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center.

Both Republicans and Democrats sought geographical "balance" in their tickets, but the research center indicates that while this may be highly important to politicians, there is no evidence from either the 1952 or 1956 elections that the vice presidential candidates were any better known or liked in their home regions than elsewhere.

Studies conducted by the center also suggest that no matter how much Nixon and Kennedy try to discuss "issues" in the campaign, the public will evaluate them as personalities as much as spokesmen for a particular cause.

The center also says that while the campaign will get many "independents" and others who don't care much about politics to the polls, it may not have any substantial effect on the division of the vote.

* * *

In general, the U. of M. research indicates the public is much more apt to "throw the rascals out" than it is to reward a party for good performance in office.

The U. of M. study also indicates that eight years of Republican tenure in the White House have not changed the basic division of partisan loyalties within the country.

The center reports that persons who consider themselves Democrats outnumber Republicans by a 3-2 margin nationally, 4-3 outside the South. Furthermore, it shows that three out of four Americans can identify themselves with one of the two major parties, although "independents" still are sufficiently numerous to decide the election.

* * *

Moreover, it says that one out of 10 voters won't make up his mind until the last two weeks of the campaign, indicating the reason why both Nixon and Kennedy will be fighting down to the wire.

Spotlight Prosecutor, Sheriff Primary Vote

Prosecutor Harry J. Knudsen is opposed in his bid for re-election by John J. Namenye, former assistant prosecutor and personal choice of former Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanagh at the time he vacated the office to become probate judge.

* * *

Sheriff Marion Calkins, who was named to the post when Sheriff Arthur W. Davis resigned, is expected to get strong opposition from Monte Jacobsen, former undersheriff under Davis.

Also seeking the Democratic nomination for sheriff are Russell E. Barrett, a former deputy; John Yonkers, a Muskegon policeman for many years, and Wilbur F. De Bard.

Human Relations Before Flint Voters

FLINT (UPI) — Voters here decide today whether they want to continue the city's controversial human relations commission.

A proposal to repeal the ordinance creating the commission will be on the ballot when voters go to the polls in the primary election.

The law, designed to promote better race relations, is opposed by real estate men because of a penal provisions for violators and fear over possible strong amendments in the future.

Voters will be asked to decide whether dancing should be allowed in Flint taverns, again. Dancing was permitted in the taverns until World War II but temperance workers succeeded in passing a law prohibiting it at the time.

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — A 10-year survey by the Army showed GIs' favorite foods included hot rolls, milk and strawberry shortcake, while the most distasteful were candied parsnips, cauliflower with cheese sauce, iced coffee and asparagus with hollandaise sauce.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Why do animals grow up so soon?

Priscilla Reed, Phoenixville, Pa.

A. It does seem that overnight the wobbly legged little colt turns into a massive beast of burden. The life-span of the pet, compared to yours makes the "childhood" necessarily short if mature years are also to be enjoyed.

Years ago, before most of our pets were domesticated, they were born in the spring. Nature provided them with this common birthday so they could have the warm months to grow and become strong. By November, they were able to withstand the rigors of cold weather and the winter famine.

Dogs and cats are usually mature at six to eight months, but may grow slightly until 15 months. Fish grow indefinitely. Pets as well as people can become more charming with years, so don't regret the relatively brief youth of your four-legged friends.

Mediterranean Fleet Bolstered

Navy Will Add Third Attack Carrier Till Our Polaris Is Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy Monday announced a major reinforcement of the 6th Fleet with the assignment of a third attack carrier to the force regularly operating in the Mediterranean.

Officials speculated this could be a move to bolster U. S. striking power in the European area until the Navy has enough Polaris-launching atomic submarines in striking range of the north central key areas of the Soviet Union.

At the same time, the Navy said that the 7th Fleet in the Western Pacific, which regularly varies from two to three carriers, will hereafter be maintained at the thee-carrier level.

The increased striking strength resulting from the additional carrier deployment is "part of a continuing program to improve the military capabilities and posture of the United States," the Navy said.

The 50-ship 6th Fleet is now formed around the big carriers Forrestal and Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

These two carriers will return to the Atlantic Coast next month after deployment to the Mediterranean of the Intrepid and the super-carriers Independence and Saratoga.

In the rotating of the 7th Fleet, the othe rcarriers, Intrepid and Hancock, previously scheduled for conversion to antisubmarine warfare ships, will be retained as attack carriers at least until the supercarriers Kitty Hawk and Constellation join the fleet next year.

To support the additional carrier strength in the Mediterranean and far Pacific, the Navy will take two tankers from the mothball fleet.

Sterling Twp. Dem's Wife Runs as Republican

Fulk is a Democrat. He was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for township supervisor two years ago.

"I just hope he votes for me," Mrs. Fulk said.

Pontiac Mother Free in Shooting

Victim of Pistol Bullet Won't Press Charges Against Her

A mother of five children who admitted shooting a sleeping 40-year-old man early Saturday has been freed because her victim refused to press charges.

Stanford Edwards of 86 Houston St. was shot while he slept in his room at 86 Hoosten St. The .38-caliber bullet passed through both of his legs.

Mrs. McKinney said she shot Edwards because he'd "been brutal," according to Sgt. Allen D. Noble.

Edwards was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

Mrs. McKinney, in her statement, said she took her husband's pistol from home to shoot Edwards, returned it, then went to a hairdresser.

She was arrested there by police.

If a husband joins a religious group that doesn't believe in marriage his wife has grounds for divorce in Kentucky and New Hampshire.

Sip Opium With Straw at Bangkok College Dens

* * *

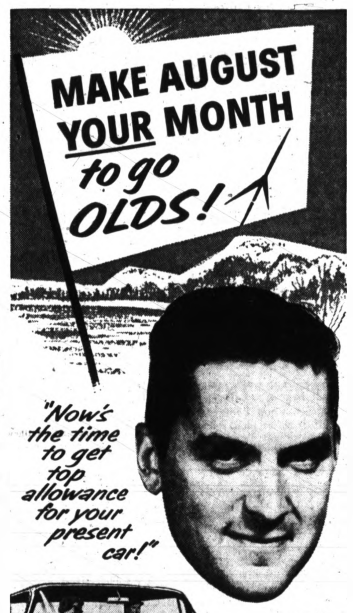

Police report the latest craze in narcotics consumption is "capsule smoking" which involves burning opium flakes in a tinfoil wrapper and drawing up the smoke through regular drinking straws.

Train on Belle Isle Wrecks—Five Hurt

* * *

Thirty-seven other passengers on the train, including the driver and conductor, were uninjured.

A steel coupling connecting the tractor and the first car snapped, sending four cars jackniffing down a slight road grade.

Treated for injuries were Ira Blakely, 24, Ivy, 4, Yvette, 3, Duane, 2, and Allen, 1. Blakely suffered a possible fractured leg and his children cuts and bruises.

* * *

Police said it was the first accident in the 10 years the train has been operating at Detroit's island park.

Dies After Rescue From Flint Cave-In

FLINT (AP) — A Flint Township boy died in a Flint Hospital last night, a few hours after firemen had rescued him from a tunnel cave-in.

Firemen had removed a foot of sand from above the head of Daniel Walker, 14, and applied a resuscitator. He then was freed and taken to a hospital, where he was placed in an iron lung.

* * *

Daniel, two brothers — John, 12, and Robert, 11 — and a third boy, David Smith, discovered the tunnel in an embankment on a vacant lot.

The tunnel caved in when Daniel entered it.

Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker.

Albion Giving Opinion of Rewritten Charter

* * *

The new charter was drafted during the past 14 months by a nine-member commission. It would create a Municipal Court and make adoption of the city manager system possible by council ordinance.

Albion voters also are balloting on issuance of $340,000 in water department bonds for improvements in the city's water system.

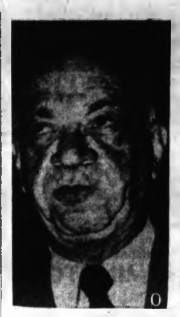

New Road Links India With Red-Held State

SRINAGAR, Kashmir (AP) — Ladakh, where the Communist Chinese occupy 12,000 square miles claimed by India, was linked Monday by road with the rest of India for the first time.

The 153-mile road to Leh, capital of Ladakh can be used for arms, ammunition, food and supplies to forward troops previously flown through treacherous mountain passes. The Chinese have already built a road in the area they claim.

Russian Church Meets

EAST LANSING (AP) — The seventh annual Eastern Catechetical Conference of the Russian Orthodox Catholic Church of America is being held this week at Michigan State University. More than 150 priests and catechists are attending the conference, aimed at improving teaching and scholarship standards on the local parish level.

Brawler Holds 2 Police at Bay

Finally Lays Down His Gun After 15 Minutes, Surrenders to Others

HARTFORD (UPI) — An angry Hartford man disarmed two state troopers held them at bay for about a quarter of an hour last night when they attempted to take him into custody on an assault charge resulting from a fight with a friend.

* * *

Troopers Bernard Schlenker and Richard Baton of the St. Joseph post answered the call and Rose surprised them with his shotgun.

Mrs. Dykstra saw what had happened and called for reinforcements who rushed to the scene in time to see Rose put down the shotgun and surrender.

* * *

"I didn't have nerve enough to shoot anyway," said Rose as he was taken to the Berrien County jail to face charges.

State Civil Service Sets Tests for Prison Guards

LANSING (AP) — Competitive examinations for prison guard jobs are slated for September, the Michigan Civil Service Commission announced today.

The written examination will be given in Lansing Sept. 17. Positions are open to men between 23 and 51. They must be high school graduates, or pass a civil service test. Applicants must not have a criminal record.

Ex-C&O Vice President Ross Marshall, 80, Dies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Ross S. Marshall, 80, former senior vice president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, died of a heart ailment Monday. He joined the line in 1922, became senior vice president in 1943 and retired in 1949.

50,000 Left Homeless

64 Chinese Feared Dead in Typhoon on Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Fifty-four Chinese were feared dead on Formosa today in the wake of torrential downpours that followed Typhoon Shirley. The rains slacked off, and thousands of police and troops worked to help isolated communities and more than 50,000 homeless.

Police headquarters said 23 persons were known dead and 12 were missing. Press reports said in addition a driver and 28 members of a Chinese opera troupe were probably drowned when the truck in which they were riding was swept off a bridge in southern Formosa.

* * *

A total of 188 injured were reported, eight of them in serious condition. At least two persons also were reported killed in the southern Ryukyu Islands.

Rail services between north and south Formosa were disrupted, and transport planes were pressed into service. Helicopters dropped food to isolated areas and rescued marooned persons. Road damage was extensive, and many power lines were down.

* * *

Only negligible crop damage was reported. The island's food bureau said 99.58 per cent of the year's first crop had been harvested before Shirley howled over Formosa Sunday night.

The Nationalist Cabinet met in emergency session to work out relief meaures.

Catholic Ritual Rid of 'Offenses'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII has taken action to remove from Roman Catholic ritual phrases that may be considered offensive by persons of other faiths.

Authoritative Vatican sources disclosed today that on Pope John's order, the Congregation of Rites has eliminated certain phrases from the ritual of baptism for converts from Judaism, Mohammedism and other faiths.

* * *

If a person had been a pagan, the priest would tell him to "hold in horror idols, reject images."

If a person had been Jewish, he would be told to "hold in horror Hebrew perfidy" and to reject "Hebrew superstition."

If a person had been a Moslem, the priest would exhort him to "hold in horror Mohammedan perfidy" and reject "the wicked sect of infidelity."

* * *

If a person came from a Christian faith considered heretic, he would be told to "hold in horror the heretic wickedness" and to reject his former faith as a "sect of impious ones."

All these phrases have been abolished on Pope John's order.

A-Plea by Red China Termed Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department Monday brushed off a Chinese Communist proposal for a nuclear-free zone in Asia as "only another meaningless propaganda gesture."

* * *

Press Officer Lincoln White said there is no basis for hoping that Communist China will abandon its belligerent policies to join in any such agreement.

Chinese Communist Premier Chou En-lai was reported to have called again for a treaty to be signed by the nuclear powers guaranteeing that no atomic weapons should be used in Asia.

Vote on Hospital Bonds in Coldwater Election

COLDWATER (UPI) — Branch County voters are voting on a $170,000-bond issue to provide funds for a 35-bed addition to Maple Lawn Hospital in today's primary election.

Coldwater city voters also are voting on a revenue bond issue for expansion of the city electric power plant.

St. Clair County Asks One-Mill Road Tax Levy

PORT HURON (UPI)—St. Clair county voters are being asked to approve a special one-mill tax levy for five years to provide additional road funds when they go to the polls today.

The tax, if approved, is expected to raise about 2.1 million dollars, which would be used for both repairs and new construction.

Map Strategy in Chrysler Suit

Dissident Stockholders Dann and New Yorker Huddle Tomorrow

DETROIT (AP) — Sol Dann, who heads the Chrysler Stockholders Protective Committee, said today he will meet here tomorrow with two New York attorneys who have filed a stockholders suit against Chrysler Corp.

"This is not a general meeting of dissident shareholders," Dann said. "This is only a general discussion of what they had in mind when they filed the suit and how they intend to proceed."

Dann also is an attorney. He has been criticizing Chrysler management more than two years and has intensified his efforts recently.

FOLLOW NEWBERG NEWS

The New York law suit was filed following disclosures by Chrysler that ex-President William C. Newberg profited to the extent of more than $450,000 from his interests in two Chrysler suppliers.

Newberg was fired and has agreed to pay Chrysler the $450,000.

L. L. Colbert, chairman of the Board at Chrysler, has said the investigation into possible outside interests of other company officials is continuing.

The only other name mentioned publicly has been that of Jack Minor, director of marketing for Plymouth - DeSoto - Valiant Division.

In response to questions at a news conference last week, Colbert said he thought Minor would be investigated.

Colbert also said the probe was in the hands of the company's counsel and independent auditors and that he was not controlling the direction of their inquiries.

Dann said he will decide following tomorrow's meeting whether to join in the New York suit.

At least seven directors of the corporation, including Colbert, were served with orders to appear in court in New York City Aug. 22 for pre-trial examination.

★ ★ ★

At the time of filing, Robinson said the suit would seek to recover any damages caused the corporation by actions of the officers or directors.

Auto Sales Tax Lag Laid to Compacts

LANSING (UPI) — Sales and use tax collections on automotive sales declined last month, possibly because of impact of compact cars on the car market, the State Revenue Department said.

July collections on June auto business amounted to $4,470,998, about a million less than for the same month last year.

Total use and sales tax collections for the month were $30,679,641 an increase of about 1 per cent from last year.

Cigarette tax collections of $5,304,605 were highest in state history.

Paving Contract Bids Ordered

The work includes paving and widening of Edison street, Rundell ot Montcalm, at an estimated cost of $43,000, plus paving and widening of Howard street, Baldwin to Johnson, and Johnson street, Howard to Oakland. The Howard-Johnson job is estimated at $17,000.

There were no public objections last night at a hearing on the Howard - Johnson street plans. Another hearing on assessment rolls is expected in two weeks.

There will be hearings next Tuesday on assessment rolls for three proposed curb and gutter projects: Hillsmont avenue, Nebraska to Earlmoor; Melrose avenue, Madison to Mt. Clemens, and Pleasantview drive, south of Hillsmont.

Willman reported that the A & A Asphalt Paving Co. is ending 1960 blacktopping work, with the exception of Arlene street, Madison to Second. The gravel base will be stabilized on Arlene in time for paving before the opening of Pontiac Northern High School next month, he said.

The assessment roll for curbs and gutters on Mansfield avenue, Fuller to Arlene, was confirmed in two annual payments.

Five transactions involving liquor licenses were approved.

Peter J. Metropoulos was permitted to transfer ownership from John Gerzanics of the SDM license at 750 S. Saginaw St.; Fred N. Alam to transfer ownership from Carmine and Jerry Donato of the SDM license at 438 W. Huron St.; Derfin P. Bishop and Roy B. Patterson to add space in connection with their SDM license at 822 Baldwin Ave.; Harry Chambers to transfer ownership from Faustin J. Dobski and Marian Natkaniec of the Class C license at 569-570 S. Cut Out Phony Contests, U. S. Tells Arthur Murray

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today ordered Arthur Murray Studios to stop using phony contests and high-pressure tactics to sell their courses of dance instruction.

A decree by the Federal Trade Commission, named Arthur Murray Inc. and its officials, Arthur and Kathryn Murray, and David Teichman, as well as the company's agents—those who operate studios on license from the company.

The FTC said the firm has agreed to the order but "the agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission" that the law has been violated.

A spokesman for Arthur Murray Inc, said the organization has voluntarily worked out with the commission what amounts to a code of "ethics" to guide the studioes licensed by the Murray organization.

★ ★ ★

"The cooperation of the Arthur Murray organization with the Federal Trade Commission emphasizes their earnest desire to maintain the highest possible standards in teaching and in ethical business procedure," he said.

CHANNENGED PRACTICES

The FTC last March 25 challenged various promotional practices used in radio and television broadcasts and newspaper advertisements.

Among the challenged promotions were telephone quizzes, zodiac puzzles, and crossword, dizzy-dance and lucky buck contests in which the winners were supposed to receive a gift certificate for a given number of dance lessons.

The government complaint said these were not bona fide contests, but were used as bait to obtain the names of persons who might later be encouraged to buy dancing lessons. It said they were so simple that virtually anyone could win.

At the time of the FTC complaint, Arthur Murray Inc., said some of the 450 studios it licensed around the world "have at times engaged in isolated practices not approved by Arthur Murray, Inc."

Area Civil Defense Test Called Complete Success

A surprise civil defense test involving short-range two-way radios in the Pontiac area was termed a "complete success" today.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Office of Civil Defense, the surprise alert was staged Sunday evening, with 15 members of the city's Citizen's Radio Volunteers responding.

In 90 minutes, testers lined up a large variety of skills and equipment that could be available to the city in case of a civil defense emergency. Some of them:

Mobile public address system, block and tackle, road flares, electric generator, station wagons, tractor, heavy duty trucks, cutting torches, welders, wrecker trucks, well-drilling rig, picks and shovels, pipe fitting equipment, hand tools, electric wire and fittings, ladders, walkie talkies and fire extinguishers.

The equipment belongs to commercial activities that employ two-way radios in conducting business. One of the agencies that responded was the plant protection office at GMC Truck & Coach Division, which uses the radios.

The radio call for help went out over a portable station located at the Public Safety Building. The test was coordinated by Wayne Garrett, operator of a commercial two-way radio service in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and deputy director of civil defense, said the test was "completely successful," especially in light of orderly transmissions, despite the surprise element.

11 Annexation Proposals on Grand Rapids' Ballot

In addition to ballots for various candidates, Grand Rapids voters will be handed ballots for 11 annexation proposals and a tax boost.

The main proposition before the voters will be a tax hike of 1¾ mills for three years, starting in 1961, to finance a giant downtown redevelopment program.

The annexation proposals include areas in Grand Rapids, Walker and Paris townships.

Bagwell Booster Quits Social Welfare Board

The Michigan Department of Social Welfare prohibits social welfare board members "from participating in political activities."

Life Sentence for Killing Boy

Man Shot His Stepson in Argument Over 5 Cents Worth of Candy

Paul F. Henley, who shot and killed his 12-year-old stepson in a family quarrel over a nickel's worth of candy, today was sentenced to life imprisonment by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

★ ★ ★

The judge refused a last-minute attempt by Henley's attorney to withdraw the 58-year-old man's guilty plea to second-degree murder and enter a plea of insanity.

Henley, of 2600 Wisconsin St., appeared before Judge Beer July 19 and pleaded guilty to the fatal shooting of Mitchell (Mickey) Steele after originally standing mute to an earlier charge of first-degree murder.

The youngster was shot following a quarrel betwen Henley and his wife over the candy she had purchased earlier for the Henleys' natural son Fritz, 5.

KILLED JUNE 25

Young Steele was killed June 25 as he returned home with a bag of candy bought with money his stepfather begrudgingly had given him.

According to a statement Mrs. Henley gave to the prosecutor's office, her husband said giving Fritz the candy was spoiling him and preventing him from eating supper.

★ ★ ★

The argument continued, she said, and then Henley flung a dollar bill at Mitchell and ordered, "Go to the store and stuff yourself."

2-Car Accident Sends Driver to Hospital

A two-car smashup at West Huron and Dwight streets sent Edward F. Gordon, 47, of 3 Rossshire Ct., to Pontiac General Hospital Monday afternoon, according to Pontiac police.

Gordon, one of the drivers, is in fair condition with chest injuries. The other driver, Delores Richardson, 24, of 288 E. Sunderland St., Waterford Township, was uninjured.

U.S. Turns Down Arms Talks Bid but U.N. Hopes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.S. spokesman Monday night rejected a Soviet call for an all-U.N. summit parley on disarmament as a "typically specious and frivolous maneuver." But some diplomats at the U.N. still hoped it might bring President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev together at the conference table.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge brushed off the Soviet proposal at a news conference at the summer White House in Newport, R.I. Presumably he spoke with the President's authorization.

The Soviet proposal accompanied a Kremlin objection of the American proposal that the 82-member U.N. Disarmament Commission be called into session this month. Lodge said the Soviet reply showed the Soviets "really don't want disarmament."

Flying Saucer Release Solves Some Questions

The picture on the front page of The Pontiac Press recently is a partial answer to our flying saucer stories which have caused so much controversial discussion.

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department released the picture showing the aircraft shaped exactly as many reports indicated. Information says that the plane or saucer will take off vertically, using a cushion of air. Once in the air it flies about like any other plane.

★ ★ ★

It is obvious that for security reasons the information has been withheld until now. This is only natural that our government not divulge military secrets until the proper time.

Political TV-Itis Sweeps Nominees at Convention

The New York Daily News came up with an interesting editorial last Saturday on what is known as "political TV-itis." Their views are reprinted here:

A newspaper friend of ours, whom we'll call Joe Smith, returned yesterday from the Republican convention in Chicago and buzzed approximately as follows into our eager ears:

"At both conventions this year, I was intrigued by the way most politicians present, from the top echelons on down, catered and kow-towed to the television people and tried to make second-class citizens of the newspaper people.

"It isn't only that every politico suffering from TV-itis loves a TV camera as passionately as does Zsa Zsa Gabor or Nelson Rockefeller, and will do anything, but anything to get on TV.

"These birds also allowed TV 'reporters,' with their wandering microphones, to move in on conclaves and confabs where the newsmen weren't permitted to tread. And, of course, they timed the conventions' public sessions so as to catch the biggest possible TV audiences, and the hell with newspaper deadlines and press-times.

"If you ask me, the boys outsmarted themselves. The three TV networks together hooked disappointingly small convention audiences — an average of less than 15 million for the Democrats and under 14 million for the GOP. On the other hand, U.S. newspapers' total daily circulation at last report was 58 million copies, and still going up.

"And another thing: Can you name anything more boring and idiotic than a couple of TV reporters interviewing each other?

"And a third thing: Many if not most TV commentators and 'reporters' at both conventions were obviously Democrats. So, at the Republican show, these guys, while pretending to be objective observers, persistently belittled the GOP with allegedly humorous slurs and wisecracks.

"What would be the matter with the TV networks' requiring each and every one of these, er, persons to wear a big badge reading 'DEM.,' 'REP.,' or 'COM.' on his lapel while plying his trade at political get-togethers? That way, the viewers could take any slanted comments he might make for what they were—and were not—worth."

The editors of The Press agree wholeheartedly with the majority of points set forth. The conclusions they have arrived at are both interesting and sound.

Khrushchev Shirks at Ike's Proposition

This has been true since President Eisenhower's speech last Thursday at the Republican convention when he challenged the Red Czar for nationwide UN sponsored elections on the question: "Do you want to live under a Communist regime, or under a free system such as found in the United States?"

★ ★ ★

Russian newspapers are directly under the thumb of the Red leader. They print news exactly the way he wants it. In this case they are neglecting to quote the question. Instead, they splash stories in the Russian press about the glories of life in the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

It seems quite obvious that Ike's challenge has made Khrushchev think. He has been very careful not to leak the election challenge from Eisenhower to the general public.

★ ★ ★

Maybe he does frighten when someone stands up to him with a bold outright question. We can recall that he eased off considerably when Dick Nixon stood his ground and talked chin to chin with him.

If this is the type of treatment that best suits Mr. K let's give him more of the same.

The Man About Town

At Least 10,000

Boys and Girls Camping in Oakland Co. Each Year

Another category in which Oakland County is the leader among the 83 counties in Michigan is in its youth camps. This summer most of them are filled to capacity.

Our lakes, with their wooded shores, provide an ideal setting for this outdoor recreational work. Besides our own, several organizations from other counties have their camps here.

Ranging from camps which will furnish at least a week's outing to over one thousand youths, down to those whose capacity is numbered in the dozens, we have at least a score of such recreational places.

Their total capacity runs far above the 10,000 mark. This year it is expected to top 12,000.

With a number of such camps with all of the equipment in the line of buildings and other facilities to do a good job, it actually has become necessary for some local organizations to go to other counties for secondary camps.

In some cases the projects are gradually being converted to a year-round basis, as we have the terrain to provide sports and other diversions at any season.

Besides leading its own state in this work, it is hardly probable that any other county in the entire U.S.A. has within its borders as much invested in young outdoor recreational facilities as has our own Oakland County.

A Pontiac physician tells me there's some merit to that old theory that spitting under a stone will relieve a pain in your side. It is because the act of bending over uses muscles whose lack of use caused the pain. So you needn't waste your spit; just go through the motions.

After being through a few national conventions myself, I quite agree with

of Los Angeles, formerly of Pontiac, who asserts that the more such conventions are held the less the people back home have to say about what's going on.

That lover of our great outdoors,

Mrs. Amanda Fellows

of Rochester, writes me: "I haven't finally decided who gets my vote on Nov. 8, but it won't be any candidate who desecrates our trees by the exposition of his consummate ego in plastering his face on them."

"Me Friendly Savage"

David Lawrence Asks:

Why Silence on Terror in Congo?

WASHINGTON — Something terrible has been happening in the Congo these last few weeks, but, for some unexplained reason, the voices of the so-called "liberals" and their organizations are strangely silent, not only here but in Europe.

LAWRENCE

Just a few months ago they cried out indignantly because a few Bantus were killed when thousands of them surrounded and threatened a handful of panic-stricken police in a South African village, who then fired in self-defense.

The parliaments of Europe discussed that issue, and even the United Nations was drawn into the debate.

But why, when white women are attacked and a shameful orgy is perpetrated in the Congo, is nothing being said officially and publicly by any government in denunciation of such conduct?

Not even the leaders of the British Parliament, which had an extensive debate on the South African episode, have put themselves on record with any declaration on the subject.

The Prime Minister of the Congo, who recently visited here, calls it all a lot of "fabrications" in the foreign press. Yet the facts have been officially reported.

2 MISSIONARIES VIOLATED

A United Press International dispatch a few days ago gave American Ambassador Timberlake as the source of the information that "two American women missionaries were raped repeatedly and another U.S. missionary was said to have been slain."

David Reed, a member of the Washington staff of U.S. News & World Report, who has been in the Congo several weeks, cabled a full report, published recently, which said in part:

"The full horror of the mutiny of black troops in the Congolese army is only now coming to light. . . .

"A Belgian doctor and his wife, who is also a doctor, report that they gave injections of penicillin to between 350 and 400 white women who had been raped by soldiers and who feared they might have contracted syphilis.

"The two doctors say they treated so many rape victims that they lost count of the total.

"Among their emergency patients were a mother and her two daughters, one 11 and the other 8 years old. All three had been raped repeatedly during a period of 24 hours.

"A French doctor said he examined two Belgian women, wives of Belgian officials. Both of the women had been raped by 12 soldiers in the town of Kisantu.

"Among other victims were two American women at a Baptist mission. One was the wife of the missionary and the other an unmarried nurse. They were flown out of the Congo in a U.S. military helicopter.

"It is entirely likely that no one will ever know how many white women were violated by the troops, as the turmoil was so great.

"Belgians and other whites were pouring out of the Congo by the thousands. Women who were treated by doctors were flown out to safety as soon as possible.

"There is a feeling that many of the women were so stunned and humiliated by what happened that they did not tell anybody—even their husbands or the doctors."

There was a time in American history when, if American citizens were maltreated, sharp measures of reprisal would have been undertaken promptly by the government of the United States.

But these are strange times. The demands for recognition of "nationalist" causes and the insistence that independence be granted to uncivilized peoples seem to take precedence over all else.

USE PASS SYSTEM

Thus, in South Africa the blacks far outnumber the whites. The movements of the members of the savage tribes are watched through a "pass" system.

The blacks are required to live in separate sections of the cities or in "reservation" areas. This is known as "apartheid."

The real issue now is whether the whites will survive.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Colitis May Be Cardinal Vitamin Deficiency Sign

More than thirty years ago Sir Robert McCarrison, M.D., published the first edition of his STUDIES IN DEFICIENCY DISEASE. This book is a classic in the literature of nutrition. So, in quoting from it I hardly need say there is no better authority. In the chapter on Chronic Gastro-Intestinal Disorders, McCarrison wrote:

★ ★ ★

MUCOUS DISEASE — One of the earliest pathological evidences of deficient and ill-balanced foods, as observed in animals, is congestion of the gastro-intentinal mucosa. (Mucosa means lining membrane). Such a state of congestion may well give rise in children to the gastro-intentinal catarrh which characterizes "mucous disease."

BRADY

This disorder is very common in children who are fed largely on sterilized milk, artificial foods, white bread, polished rice, poor butter (I, Brady, don't understand what poor butter may have to do with it), overcooked vegetables and excessive quantities of sugar.

Please remember, I'm just quoting what Sir Robert said. Except the reference to "poor butter," which I don't understand, and his use of the name "mucous disease," which is seldom used today, McCarrison might be describing the national malnutrition in Yankeeland today.

One of the most constant results of food deficient in vitamins (Sir Robert continues), is colitis. It is so frequent that it may rank as a cardinal sign of vitaminic deficiency.

It may arise as a result of the absence of vitamin B alone, although it was more frequently encountered in animals deprived of vitamins in general. . . Most cases in the human subject are of very long standing.

I have myself no doubt that a portion of them have resulted from the long continued use of deficient foods from childhood onwards . . . Too often in later life dietetic treatment causes improvement only to a certain point beyond which no further alleviation occurs."

McCarrison's belief that colitis — derangement of the colon, as we call it today — results from "long-continued use of deficient food from childhood onwards" reminds me, and I hope you too, of the belief I have expressed here many times, in fact once too often in some communities, that rheumatiz — physical degeneration of joint tissues — is a manifestation of nutritional deficiency. Inadequate intake of Ca, D, I and B from childhood up to the present.

Signed letters not more than one page or 150 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Men, Your Impoliteness Is Beginning to Show

Chivalry is dead! I am thoroughly convinced of it. I am a lady and still men are mice. Why do I have to stand in a bus when some perfectly healthy looking men are sitting? Why, when I drop my pencil, do I have to pick it up? Why do I have to eventually open my own side of the car after waiting for him to do it? Why?

What is the matter with the male ego? Male pride? Don't men want to be considered men?

Thank you for writing such a fine editorial in support of the Cooper bill for the humane treatment of laboratory animals and its companion bill in the House of Representatives. We have had it reprinted, so that interested people in all parts of the country may read it. We hope that many of your readers will write to Washington in support of it.

In addition to Representative Griffin's bill, two further identical bills have been introduced by Rep. Cleveland M. Bailey of West Virginia and Rep. James C. Oliver of Maine.

Your support is most deeply appreciated, and we will keep you informed of the progress of this much needed measure.

'All Food Freezer Companies Aren't Bad'

With reference to the article printed in The Press a few days ago concerning food freezer plans, thought should be given to the fact that there are good and bad food freezer companies. I know of three which have been in business from 28 to 33 years and they all have hundreds of happy customers.

If people are warned to find out which is good or bad that can be helpful, but to make a statement that people should not have anything to do with food plans is being wrong, narrow and unjustified. Everything we purchase or any service we employ has to be investigated for honesty and fair dealing, whether you make use of a lawyer's service or buy a car, freezer, stove, or refrigerator from an appliance store.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Deep-Seated Fear Caused by Guilt

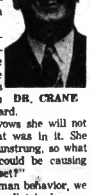

Shakespeare anticipated "psychosomatic" medicine and diagnosed cases much like that of Anita today. Psychology is chiefly "horse sense," so paste this Case Record in your scrapbook. It will show you how to tackle such cases of symbolic guilt.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F - 432: Anita M., aged 20, is engaged to be married.

"But Anita is in a terrible state of mind," her mother told me.

"Last week she was going through her hope chest, and found that some cockroaches had crawled inside it.

DR. CRANE

"This upset her so much that we had to call a doctor to give her a sedative.

"She cried hysterically and demanded that we take her hope chest with all its contents and burn it in the back yard.

"And she still vows she will not touch a thing that was in it. She cries and is still unstrung, so what do you suppose could be causing her prolonged upset?"

In analyzing human behavior, we psychologists immediately become suspicious when an ordinary stimulus produces a disproportionate emotional response. Anita's reaction is obviously abnormal.

Many fastidious housekeepers have an aversion to cockroaches, though these are useful creatures. They eat bedbugs and other pests, thus helping keep the kitchen safer. And they are even good fish bait, too.

But the usual housewife who dislikes cockroaches, wouldn't suggest burning a hope chest full of expensive linens, blankets and other wedding finery.

So why should Anita become hysterical because a few innocent cockroaches managed to get inside her hope chest?

I'll shorten this case to fit space and tell you that these bugs symbolized something else which she feared deeply.

LADY MACBETH'S FEAR

Anita is a first cousin to Lady Macbeth. You will recall how Shakespeare anticipated psychosomatic medicine by having Lady Macbeth vainly strive to wash off the imaginary blood stains from her hands.

★ ★ ★

For Lady Macbeth had a feeling of guilt. And the blood stains symbolized her sin. So she felt polluted.

Pontius Pilate likewise demonstrated the same symbolism after he had sentenced the innocent Christ to a cruel death, and then asked for a basin of water. He wanted to wash his hands to symbolize that there was no innocent blood on his hands.

Anita had been addicted to self sex practices during her teens. And she then got frightened lest she might have infected herself with venereal disease, since she developed a slight discharge.

She never told her mother of her fears, but during the intervening years, she had carried this secret sense of guilt and fear of syphilis.

So when she was suddenly confronted with the cockroaches in her supposedly clean, pure hope chest, she grew hysterical. For the bugs symbolized disease germs and pollution in her marriage.

SEDATIVES VS. PSYCHOLOGY

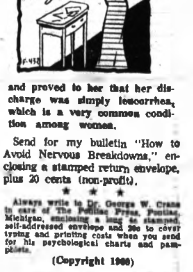

Sedatives may temporarily quiet a hysterical patient, but neither morphine nor sleeping tablets nor shock treatment will eliminate conflicts and complexes.

So Anita would never have regained a normal perspective until her secret trouble was brought out into the light of conscious attention and then scientifically dissected.

Thus, I interviewed her and soon learned the trouble which I have just outlined above. Then I told her that she was no abnormal pariah, for auto eroticism is a commonplace youthful experience.

By medical tests, I likewise banished her fear of syphilis, and proved to her that her discharge was simply leucorrhea, which is a very common condition among women.

Pharmacist Bound for Far East

City Man to Sail on Hope

A pharmacist from Pontiac will be aboard the SS Hope when the hospital ship — loaded with American medical know-how — sails on a dramatic and unique mission to the Far East.

Charles W. Dickerson, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Dickerson, 168 Ogemaw Rd., has been selected to serve on the floating medical center which will take the skills and techniques of the American medical profession to friendly nations there.

Dickerson, a Pontiac Central High School graduate, will report to the ship in San Francisco on Aug. 22.

He holds a bachelor of science degree in pharmacy from Ferris Institute, and was the recipient of the E. L. Newcomb Memorial Award for undergraduate pharmacy students.

★ ★ ★

He has been attending Michigan State University, doing research work in the department of microbiology and public health at the MSU Kellogg Biological Station at Gull Lake near Battle Creek.

Privately supported and privately operated, the SS Hope is one of the projects in the people-to-people program initiated in 1956 at President Eisenhower's suggestion.

The reoutfitted World War II Navy ship — staffed by American medical specialists, nurses and technicians — will make Indonesia its first port of call.

Americans will work with Indonesian doctors, nurses and midwives and other health personnel with a primary aim of raising the level of medical care in the newly developing nation.

Sick Indonesians will be treated both aboard the ship and in mobile hospitals and clinics which will be sent inland. But the treatment will be secondary to teaching and training Indonesian medicla and health personnel.

On its first 12-month tour, the Hope is scheduled to visit other friendly Far East nations.

Viet Nam will probably be second. Invitations also were received early from Pakistan and South Korea.

DISCUSSES RIGHTS — Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader in the Senate, tells reporters Monday that the bobtail session of Congress starting next week probably won't act on civil rights legislation. "The Democratic majority will determine what measures will be called up and how long the session will last," he said at a Washington press conference. He pointed out that any civil rights legislation would have to be referred to the Southern-controlled Senate Judiciary Committee where time-consuming hearings would be insisted upon.

Reveal Testing of Flying Saucer

Versatile Disc Craft Put Through Paces by Army, Air Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department Monday made public the first photograph of a saucer-shaped flying disc that is being tested by the Air Force and Army.

Known as the Avrocar and produced by Avro Aircraft, Ltd., of Canada, the vehicle is designed to hover near the ground on a cushion of air or to take off and fly under its own power similar to a winged aircraft.

The flying object began its ground tests last November, and Avro experts conducted several low-level hovering flights with it in Toronto. The army said that development desting is still under way. The Avrocar had made no regular flights.

Air force interest in such a vehicle began in 1955 under a contract with Avro to investigate this vertical takeoff and landing concept.

Three years later the Army became interested and joined with the Air Force in sponsoring the Avrocar, two of which has been produced by the Canadian firm.

Dow Branch Has Option on Plant in Jackson

JACKSON (UPI) — Dow Metal Products Co. announced it has taken a six-month option to buy the land, building and equipment of Sheet Aluminum Corp. here.

Metal Products is a division of Dow Chemical Co. Sheet Aluminum is a subsidiary of Mueller Brass Co., Port Huron.

Compacts Gain, Biggies Lag

July Auto Output Down; '60 Total Ahead of '59

DETROIT (UPI)—Auto production in July dropped sharply from year-ago figures but the calendar year totals still are running about 10 per cent ahead of 1959.

The five automakers reported Monday they built 434,377 cars last month compared with 555,422 in July 1959. Only American Motors managed to equal last year's figures.

So far in 1960, the manufacturers said they have built 4,343,871 cars while in the first seven months of last year they built 3,539,496. On the calendar year basis, Ford and Studebaker-Packard trail last year; American Motors, General Motors and Chrysler are ahead.

While standard-size cars generally are behind their 1959 pace—Chevrolet and Dodge are major exceptions—the compacts have more than taken up the slack. The six compact makers report a total of 114,941 assemblies in July and 1,102,318 so far this year.

In July 1959, only Rambler, Studebaker and Corvair were in production and they totaled 54,032 cars. In the first seven months of last year 270,108 compacts were built.

American Motors, with its three lines of Ramblers, holds a 27,000-unit lead over Falcon so far this year. Valiant holds a 4,000-unit edge over Corvair in the battle for third place with Comet fifth and the Lark sixth. Both the Comet and Falcon lagged in July because of a Ford stamping plant strike.

Sault in Auto Stew on Busy Weekend

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI)—An international traffic jam developed over the weekend on both sides of the St. Mary's River here.

Three ferries recently acquired by the Highway Department proved inadequate to handle the vacation traffic in the twin cities of Sault Ste. Marie in Ontario and Michigan.

Lineups started at 10 a.m. Saturday. Six extra police were called out on the Michigan side and five extra officers were needed to control traffic on the Ontario side.

Waiting lines of traffic backed up past five downtown intersections on each side of the river, ruling out effectiveness of traffic lights.

The situation was similar on Sunday. Ferry officials said they were too busy moving the cars to count them.

West Germany is the third largest tea-drinking nation in Europe with per capita consumption exceeded only in Britain and Holland.

Oil Industry Chops High Inventories

NEW YORK (UPI) — Helped by import curbs and production restraints, the petroleum industry appears to be making progress in cutting down excessive inventories, according to the United Business Service.

"Reflection of this is seen in the recent firming tendencies in gasoline, distillate and residual oil in primary markets."

The service concludes that the industry will have a tough job in attaining its inventory goal, noting that prices must be held in check to avoid shifts to competitive fuels.

"Nevertheless," it adds, "the progress toward a better supply-demand balance so far in 1960 is encouraging."

C. of C. Official Quits Post in Cheboygan

CHEBOYGAN (UPI) — Retired Coast Guard Adm. Dwight H. Dexter has offered his resignation as secretary-manager of the Cheboygan Chamber of Commerce in protest over a new planning commission ordinance.

The ordinance keeps many business and professional men from being members of the commission. It provides fines of up to $1,000 and jail sentence of up to 6 months for any members who do business either directly or indirectly with the city.

Dexter said he was resigning so he would be free to criticize the city government.

Waterford 'Olympics' First

Getting a jump on activities in Rome, the Waterford Township Recreation Dept. will hold its second annual Summer Playground Junior Olympic Championships at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Drayton Plains Ballpark.

Each of the recreation department's nine playgrounds will send 31 champions and a four-man shuttle relay team, bringing the number of participants to over 300 boys and girls.

Two classes of competition will be run off, with simulated field events preceeding the regular track and field program.

★ ★ ★

Included in the early events are a javelin throw using paper straws, a paper plate discus throw and a free-throw shooting contest with a ping-pong ball.

REGULAR EVENTS

The regular track and field events feature a 50-yard dash, a 200-yard shuttle relay and both running and standing broad jumps.

Each winner will receive a blue ribbon and the playground with the most team points will be awarded the Junior Olympic Champion Traveling Trophy.

It will be presented by Waterford Township Police Chief Millard J. Pender.

Pontiac Press Photos

Hambergs Honeymoon in Northern Michigan

MRS. MICHAEL J. HAMBERG

Planning to reside on Erie street in Port Huron are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Michael John Hamberg who are honeymooning in Northern Michigan.

Some 175 guests attended the couple's candlelight wedding Saturday evening at Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Edmond Watkins officiated at the double-ring ceremony. White gladioli, mums and snapdragons banked the church altar.

The new Mrs. Hamberg, formerly Sharon Marie Madill, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Madill of Cosyburn, Drayton Plains. The Port Huron bridegroom, whose parents are deceased, is the grandson of Mrs. Laura A. Clauson of School street.

The bride's gown was fashioned with embroidered tulle over taffeta. Miniature medallions of re-embroidered lace accented the bateau neckline. Other features of the gown were the finger-tip veil, the shirred short sleeves, fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with ruffles cascading in back, ending in a chapel train. White roses and white carnations comprised Sharon's colonial bouquet.

GOWNED ALIKE

Attendants Mrs. Joseph Brown and Diana Peterson, both of Drayton Plains and Sandra Sheldon of Lake Orion were gowned alike in aqua nylon organza and taffeta. The dresses were accented by square necklines, cap sleeves and cummerbunds, with fish tail backs. The attendants carried hand bouquets of white roses and aqua carnations.

Texal Beltz of Pontiac served as best man. Ushering were Dennis Madill of Drayton Plains, brother of the bride; and Ralph Clauson of Pontiac, cousin of the bridegroom.

For the reception, held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors, Mrs. Madill chose a beige brocade dress with matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses and white carnations. A blue lace dress overlaid on blue satin and a pink and white carnation corsage was worn by the bridegroom's grandmother.

For traveling, the bride chose a two-piece suit in green floral and matching jewelry, a gift of the bridegroom. Her corsage was comprised of white roses and carnations from her bouquet.

Balloon-boy Donald McGeen of North Lake Angelus road takes time out for a stick of spun sugar candy at the Saturday fair on the grounds of St. Mary-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church on Joslyn road.

News of Travelers

Hostessing a Bon Voyage breakfast Friday morning in honor of Mrs. Howard L. White of Avondale street were Mrs. William S. Hilderly at her Joy road home and Mrs. Nell Gray.

Some 25 guests arrived in costumes to bid Mrs. White 'Bon Voyage' on her trip to Sweden where she will visit relatives before traveling on to 12 other European countries during a two-month tour.

Mrs. White plans to leave by jet Aug. 10.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Goyette of Petrolia street arrived in New Orleans, La., recently aboard the Delta Line's SS Del Mar from South America. The couple formerly lived in Sao Paulo, Brazil, for two years where Mr. Goyette was employed by an American company.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. James of Lanette drive are parents of a son David Kevin, born July 19 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Visiting here from Cadillac are Mrs. James' mother Mrs. Jacob Velfling and sister Dolores Mendham. The two are also visiting with the Joseph Carpehter family of Fernbarry drive.

John William Dawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dawson of Ascot street is among 100 students at David Lipscomb College, Nashville, Tenn., named to the honor roll for the spring quarter.

Mr. Dawson, a graduate of Waterford Township High School where he was president of the chemistry club, qualified for the honor by being in the upper 10 per cent of the student body scholastically, according to College Dean Mack Wayne Craig.

★ ★ ★

Grandparents of the infant are Mrs. Irene Bantien of Kemp street and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Matthews of South Shirley street.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Corbat and children Patricia, Jennifer and Christopher have been visiting his parents the Louis Corbats of Vinewood street for the past week.

The family had just returned from nearly three years on the island of Saipan where Mr. Corbat was in charge of a U.S. Navy project.

He is reporting back at the nation's capital this month, moving on Sept. 4 to Williamsburg, Va., for his next assignment.

★ ★ ★

They were Vi Baba of Waterford, Joyce Nielsen of Fenton, Donna Michael of Utica and Judy Aagesen of Flint. The girls are studying pharmacy at Ferris Institute.

Table-Top Shower Fetes Gloria

Hostesses, members of Miss Vizza's bridal party, were Mrs. Angelo Alonzi, her sister's honor matron; and bridesmaids Joyce Dropps, Margaret Bateman, Miss Ganje and Colleen McEnery.

Gloria, daughter of Mrs. Rachel Vizza of North Roselawn drive, will marry William D. Bookie, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Bookie of North Perry street, Aug. 20 at St. Michael Catholic Church.

Deborah Bookie will be flower girl.

Others were Diane Gustaies, Mrs. John Howells, Janet English, Joan Wiegandt, Nancy Ohanesian, Mrs. C. H. Luebke, Mrs. Gary Wyllie, Mrs. Marietta Burr and Frances Hayes.

Also invited were Mrs. Dana Manigold, Edna Hughes, Bette Morris, Mrs. William Willis, Julie Hadden, Mrs. Vizza, Mrs. J. L. Bookie and Joanne Cavenaugh.

The Dudleys have two sons, Harold and Roy, and five grandchildren.

Same Mate 2nd Time? 'Yes!' 'No!'

Disagree on Remarriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell UNDECIDED to remarry her first husband, whatever the cost in pride — especially if they have children.

Twelve years ago, when my husband was in medical school, we were married. I worked to help put him through school. The long hours of studying, plus trying to raise two babies, and doing without vacations, created tension and bickering between us. So we got a divorce. A few years later he remarried. So did I.

ABBY

Last week he flew to our city and we went together to witness the high school graduation of our son. We both realized what a horrible mistake our divorce was. We know now had we stuck together and worked out our problems, we could have had a successful marriage. We discussed it openly. I still love him, and he says he still loves me. We have lost so much! But it's too late now. We each have someone else to consider.

"MATURED"

DEAR ABBY: I would like to tell UNDECIDED to forget about remarrying her first husband. I remarried the same man THREE times, and it didn't work.

I was miserable with him and miserable without him. The mental and physical torture I suffered from this man could fill a book, but I couldn't leave well enough alone.

I finally went to a psychiatrist, who introduced me to myself. I discovered that this brute of a husband provided me with the punishment I felt I needed. When I realized the truth, and accepted it, I no longer needed him. If I never see that bum again, it will be too soon.

GOOD RIDDANCE

DEAR ABBY: I am only 15 years old but I would like to answer that lady who signed herself "UNDECIDED."

My mother and father were divorced three years ago. I would have given anything in the world if my mother had remarried my father when he pleaded with her to give him another chance. But she married another man instead and now I have a stepfather and, Abby, I wouldn't wish this on my worst enemy.

"FIFTEEN"

DEAR ABBY: I had the same problem as "UNDECIDED", only I waited too long to make up my mind. My husband and I were divorced after 15 years of marriage and four beautiful children. I never stopped loving him, but I wanted to "teach him a lesson" by making him wait, so when he begged me to take him back, I kept putting it off.

Five weeks ago he was injured in an auto accident. He died in my arms in a hospital bed. My heart aches for all the things we left unsaid and for all the precious time we wasted apart. Please, please, listen to me. Take your husband back and may God unite and bless your home soon. You are the luckiest woman on earth to have the chance.

WIDOW

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Reveal Engagement of Marjorie Skaggs

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Skaggs of Orchid street announce the engagement of their daughter Marjorie to Alan L. Getter also of Orchid street. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the Leo Getters of Manton. An October wedding is planned.

KAREN ANN HEWITT

Mr. and Mrs. Kilmer Raymond Hewitt of Oregon drive, Waterford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter Karen Ann to John W. Parker, son of the Harold W. Parkers of Durham drive, Waterford Township. The couple is planning a Nov. 12 wedding.

Burkhart-Kerr Vows Spoken in Waterford

The couple's parents are Mrs. Almeda Kerr of Irwin drive and Donald Kerr of Highland road and the Fred Burkharts of Elizabeth Lake.

A crown of pearls secured her ballerina-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a white carnation bouquet centered with a white orchid.

Honor maid Ferne Kerr was gowned in powder blue sheer nylon with embroidered bodice and sleeves. A pleated cummerbund accented the waist of the bouffant ballerina skirt banded by embroidery matching that of the bodice.

Her matching headpiece was of forget-me-not clusters and satin petals with a short veil. White and blue carnations comprised her bouquet.

Attending as best man was Donald Sayles of Drayton Plains. Ushers were David Kerr of Pontiac, brother of the bride, and James Newman of Lansing, fraternity brother of the bridegroom.

★ ★

A reception in the church parlors immediately followed the ceremony. Mrs. David Latta served at the reception for which out-of-town guests were present from Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Lansing, Southfield and Olivet.

Following the reception the bride changed to an olive green

sheath with matching bolero jacket with white accessories and the corsage of white orchids from her bouquet. The couple plan to reside in East Lansing where both are seniors at Michigan State University.

Both graduates of Waterford High School, the newlyweds are affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority and Phi Upsilon fraternity, respectively, at MSU.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kerr chose a dress of amber silk chiffon with beige accessories and a corsage of Mary Jo roses. An aqua silk sheath with white accessories and corsage of white roses was worn by the bridegroom's mother.

Lake Orion Pianist to Solo

Jerry Exline of Lake Orion will be piano soloist with The Detroit Little Symphony Sunday evening at Metropolitan Beach.

He will play Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" at the free 8 p.m. concert.

Fifth of the six concerts scheduled for the season, the program is under the direction of Francesco di Biasi, conductor of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Exline, who has studied piano with Elda Sutter for 11 years, plays tuba with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra. Chosen to play with the U. S. Navy Band this year, he will enter the Eastman School of Music in September.

He has long been active in the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale's Junior Clubs and received two Interlochen scholarships, holding a music club award on one occasion and a Lake Orion Band scholarship.

Considered one of Michigan's most promising young pianists, Jerry will be the youngest soloist scheduled for the Little Symphony's summer series.

Pianist Jerry Exline of Lake Orion will be featured soloist Sunday evening with the Detroit Little Symphony at Metropolitan Beach. A member of the Pontiac Symphony, Jerry will enter Eastman School of Music in September.

Blue Stars Celebrate Birthdays

Please, No Games on the Phone

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please print something in your column about those who call friends on the telephone and start their conversations by saying, "Hello, Jane, Guess who this is?" My time is limited and I don't like to waste it by playing guessing games.

This is a pet peeve of mine and I do wish you would bring it to the attention of your readers. Don't you agree that this is bad telephone manners?

★ ★ ★

Answer: I agree with you. It is not considerate of another's time.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me why you say it is incorrect for husbands and wives to be seated next to each other at a dinner party? I enjoy my husband's company very much and certainly prefer to sit next to him rather than someone I find an utter bore.

★ ★ ★

Answer: When you accept an invitation, you are expected to contribute something to the party given by your host or hostess, and if you simply want to sit next to your own husband and talk to him, you are contributing nothing.

Furthermore, to sit next to each other is certainly not broadening to your own horizons. Practically all people that you sit next to have something of interest to tell you, and the test of social talent is to find out what this is.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is overseas with the Army, his wife is with him and about to become a mother. Some of her friends here wanted to know about giving a shower for her when she is so far away. They'd give her one if she were home.

How could such a party be managed and should — they all want to know — the gifts be opened here or sent as they are, individually wrapped but all in one box?

Answer: It is not only a very kind thought but will be most gratefully received. After everyone sees the things they can be put in one large box and sent to your daughter-in-law.

Pontiac Couple Honored on 58th Anniversary

A surprise celebration was held Friday for Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hubbard in honor of their 58th wedding anniversary.

The couple was married Aug. 4, 1902 in Corry, Pa., their first home. They moved to Michigan in 1944 and have been living on Gingell court for the past 16 years.

The Hubbards are the parents of two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hubbard of Pontiac, and Walter Hubbard of Rochester.

They have six daughters: Mrs. Velma Jarvis of Lapeer; Mrs. Helen Palmer, Mrs. Charles Sweet and Mrs. Myrtle Sweet, all of Rochester; Mrs. Donald Robinson of Pontiac and Mrs. Vivian Rogers of Northport.

The couple also has 45 grandchildren and 41 great grandchildren.

Hobby Fete Scheduled

With the primary purpose of proving that many hobbies which seem difficult can be enjoyed by almost anyone, Michigan's third annual Hobby Festival is scheduled for Sept. 29 through Oct. 2. It will be held at the UAW Local 212 union hall at 12101 Mack Ave.

★

Sponsored by Ceramic Arts & Crafts Monthly, a national hobby magazine published in Detroit, the event again will feature exhibits and demonstrations. The demonstrations will be continuous throughout the days of the show.

Exhibitors will strive to encourage adoption of a hobby for the fun, relaxation and even profit it can afford.

★ ★ ★

Ceramics, stamp and coin collecting, weaving, photography, china painting, jewelry making, woodworking, music and many other hobbies are expected to be represented.

Hobby businesses and hobby organizations can contact show director Ernie Scott at BRoadway 3-9000, concerning exhibitions.

Expect Nix of All Bids on Lapeer County Jail

LAPEER—Construction of the new Lapeer County Jail may receive its second setback of the year Thursday night at a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors.

All bids for work on the building are expected to be rejected by the supervisors, according to County Clerk Lyle Stewart. They range from $400,000 to $550,000.

★ ★ ★

"The feeling among many of the Board members is that the bids are too high," Stewart said Monday. "It takes a two-thirds majority vote by the Board to approve them."

The Board originally hoped to have the jail built for approximately $250,000.

When architects first presented plans in February for a building that would cost $378,000, they were sent back to their drawing boards with instructions to design a less expensive structure.

NEW PLANS DRAWN

Revised drawings were then submitted which called for a smaller basement, a reduction from a five-car garage to a three-car garage and maximum security cells that would handle four prisoners instead of eight.

The use of precast concrete slabs in construction instead of cement blocks with brick facing also was suggested as a method to cut costs.

However, even with these revisions, many of the bids were for twice the amount sought by the Board.

The jail will be financed through funds collected from a one-mill tax levy which was first set aside five years ago. When all the funds are collected in two years, $550,000 to $600,000 will be available, Stewart explained.

★ ★ ★

"But half the money is supposed to be used for a new county office building," he said.

The tax was originally levied for both the jail and the office building. "If all the money were spent on the jail," he continued, "there wouldn't be enough left over to build the offices."

"I am under the impression that the architects are going to be asked to bring in simpler plans for a jail," Stewart concluded.

The jail will be built on M21 at the west end of the city.

The present jail, one hundred years old, was condemned in 1954. Last winter, State Jail Inspector William H. Nestle urged construction of a 35-prisoner jail that could be enlarged to accommodate 50 at a later date.

The plans which likely will be rejected by the Board, provide for housing 36 to 48 prisoners.

Tables Action on Heliport Plan

Southfield Council Also Awaits Mayor's Move in McNutt Firing

SOUTHFIELD — After lengthy discussion at last night's meeting of the City Council on the proposed municipal heliport, the matter was tabled until next Monday's meeting.

The Southfield Businessmen's Assn. had recommended that a license be issued for construction of the proposed air facility at Northland Center.

Meanwhile, the city still is functioning under the direction of Administrator Robert J. McNutt despite a 4-2 vote of the council July 25 favoring his ouster. He was not at last night's meeting, however.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson has until Thursday to veto the council decision, which then would require five Council votes to overrule the veto and dismiss McNutt.

CITES HEAVY RESPONSE

The mayor said this morning that he has received a "great number" of telephone calls, letters and petitions asking that McNutt be allowed to remain on the job.

Swanson would not say what action he intends to take in the matter beyond the fact that he intends to talk to McNutt when he can get hold of him.

Two reasons were given by council members who favored McNutt's ouster.

They were that the administrator fired Department of Public Works Supt. Jack Adams without Council approval, the other that he failed to administer the budget.

At the time, Swanson labeled the dismissal action by the four-man council bloc as "irresponsible" and determined to wait "until tempers on both sides cooled" to make his next move.

To Wallet and Window

His Kick Was 'Paneful'

Several persons turned and saw the youth and two companions fleeing from the Cut-A-Way Market, 71 Auburn Ave.

Their attention had been drawn by the sound of breaking glass—an eight-by-three-foot plate glass window valued at $100.

Castro, of 467 Colorado Ave., and his friends were arrested nearby early Sunday for investigation of breaking and entering.

They told officers they'd been drinking and had no intentions of breaking into the store.

His two friends were released. Castro pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property yesterday in Municipal Court.

All Contests Still Open

State Fair Deadlines Nearing

Deadlines for entry in the many phases of statewide competition at the 111th Annual Michigan State Fair are approaching fast, according to General Manager Donald L. Swanson.

Aug. 12 is the dealine for agriculture and livestock exhibits (except for pigeons which is Aug. 19), horticulture, flori-culture, dairy products, maple products, apiary and all divisions of the junior shows.

Candidates for prizes in the smile contest are asked to have their photos in on or before Aug. 15.

Entries for the home arts competition close on Aug. 19, including the national cotton bag contest.

Those units expecting to participate in the mammoth night parade, which opens the fair activities on Sept. 1 must have an entry on file by Aug. 26 with Parade Director Cleighton Melin.

Melin also handles entries for the Miss Michigan State Fair contest, for which the deadline also is Aug. 26.

Girls seeking the Miss Michigan State Fair crown will include the Romeo Peach Queen, Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Queen and other area title holders who will be competing for Peach Queen crown Aug. 18 in Romeo.

No entries will be accepted for the Sept. 2 Children's Day contests after Aug. 25, Swanson said. He added that contestants in the various drum major classifications must be filed by Aug. 25.

Swanson urges that those planning to enter any contest or exhibit to do so as soon as possible and if they need applications to send for them immediately.

The state fair opens its 10-day run on Sept. 2.

3 County Cows Given Acclaim

Holsteins in Oakland Noted by National Unit for High Production

Outstanding production records have been set by three registered Holstein cows on Oakland County farms, the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America announced today.

Perfection Mar Dell Pioneer produced 16,435 pounds of milk and 648 pounds of butterfat in 365 days of twice-daily milking as a four-year-old.

Lydia Grayson Pabst Fobes totaled 17,988 pounds of milk and 589 pounds of butterfat in 346 days on twice-daily milking as a three-year-old.

MSU COOPERATES

The Fenley farm is at 521 W. Snell Rd., Oakland Township.

Michigan State University, working in close cooperation with the national Holstein organizations, supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official herd-testing programs.

Adams' Ruling Favors Village

Money From Sale of Power Farm Can Buy Land for Project

NOVI—This village, the largest in Michigan, may be the site of a new state park.

Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams today cleared the way for the acquisition of the park in southwestern Oakland County by ruling that money from the sale of a farm here may be used to buy park land in Novi or adjoining townships.

Adams told State Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy, who sought the opinion, that the site may adjoin an existing park but must be maintained as a separate unit.

Eddy asked for the opinion following the village protest when it was discovered that the Conservation Department planned to build a park in Northern Michigan with the sale of area property.

Novi residents felt that disposition of the 190-acre farm, owned by the late Mary M. Power and willed to the state, had been misinterpreted by the Conservation Department.

The state sold the property to cover Mrs. Power's debts and had $62,000 remaining to buy a state park site.

In April, the village filed a petition in Probate Court to set aside the will but withdrew it recently to await Adams' decision.

CITES INTENTION

The village claimed that it was the intention of the deceased to have the park built in Novi and not in Northern Michigan.

Village Attorney Howard Bond said that when Mrs. Power died, her will assigned the state to build a park in honor of her two children, Louis Power and Ella M. Power. Both are dead.

Residents felt that Mrs. Power specifically meant that the park be built somewhere in the Novi area and not somewhere where residents would have to travel hundreds of miles to use it, Bond said.

Mrs. Power's will directed that her farm be converted into a park, but it was found unsuitable for park purposes.

At the same time, state park officials ruled out the entire township as a park site because it is occupied by residential dwellings.

State park officials said they had not yet decided on a likely site for the new recreational facility.

Lost Continent of Atlantis Said Found in Aegean

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—A Greek scientist says the lost continent of Atlantis has been found—beneath the waters of the Aegean Sea.

★ ★ ★

Although legend put the lost continent in the Atlantic, Prof. Angelos Galanopoulos told the 12th general assembly of the International Union of Geodesy and Geophysics modern scientific instruments located the island at a depth of 900 to 1,200 feet about halfway between Athens and Crete. The sunken "continent," an earthquake victim, is estimated to have been 36 square miles in area.

$4,200 Approved for Rochester School Supplies

ROCHESTER—The Board of Education here Monday night approved an expenditure of $4,200 for paper supplies in the school district for the coming school year.

A successful bidder was not named to supply the janitorial and art room paper, but the amount was set aside for purchase.

The Tire Engineering Co. of Hazel Park was awarded a $941 contract to supply tires for the school district's buses and equipment.

★ ★ ★

A printing contract of $317 was split among three bidders—the Rochester Clarion and Avon Printing Co., both of Rochester, and the Anderson Printing Co. of Romeo.

★ ★ ★

A study of custodial salaries in the school district was tabled until the next regular meeting, Aug. 15, when a survey of all in the county will be available.

Wed in Waterford Church

Back From Niagara Falls

HOLLY — Residing in Highland after their recent wedding and honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry E. Connors. They repeated their nuptial vows in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford, before the Rev. Ivan C. Ross.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the former Alice May Rembach, daughter of Mrs. Joseph Rembach of 5180 M87, Holly, and the late Mr. Rembach. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hazen Connors of 3080 White Lake Rd., Highland.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fastened to a pearl-embroidered cap of tulle. She carried a white Bible topped with a spray of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

★ ★ ★

Brenda Lynn Kilmer of Holly, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Ringbearer was Larry D. Vergia of Byron, nephew of the bride.

A cousin of the bridegroom, Edward Link of Hemlock, assisted him as best man. Seating the guests were Joseph Rembach, brother of the bride, and James Haslock of Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

After the nuptials a reception was held in the church parlors for 150 guests.

Recreation Unit to Hold Family Night in Romeo

ROMEO — A special feature of the summer recreation program at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center will be a family night Friday, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Letters have been sent to parents of children in the program inviting them to see what activities are being offered and to participate in a family contest or two.

Recreation Director Judy Dodge said that during a "bring your family's supper" picnic from 5:30 to 7 p.m., there will be a display of talent, an art and craft exhibit and "a few surprises."

Later, a bike rodeo will be staged in the stadium across the road from the center. It will be the first event of its kind in the area, Miss Dodge said.

In addition to handicraft, games and sports activities, the summer program also features trips and splash parties.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday, for example, the youngsters who have signed up will go on a boat excursion to Bob-Lo.

★ ★ ★

The over-all program is designed to offer the children a good time, integrate sportmanship, develop them physically and emotionally and provide an outlet to their creative talents, according to the director.

Finds Two Diamonds in Arkansas

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP)—A retired businessman, with two diamonds already, today headed back to the Crater of Diamonds looking for more stones.

★ ★ ★

E. W. Goode found a 4.64 carat diamond Monday morning. A few hours later he turned up a 5.12 carat stone.

★ ★ ★

Howard Millar, operator of the commercial diamond-hunting venture, estimated the value of the smaller stone at $1,000. He could not estimate the value of the other.

★ ★ ★

Goode, of Urbana, Ohio, may keep the smaller diamond, but under crater rules must pay a 25 per cent royalty on the second because it is above five carats. Tourists pay a small fee to hunt for diamonds.

Tax Relief for Bus Line at Issue in Saginaw

★ ★ ★

They say a big turnout is needed to approve a plan to give tax relief to the local bus lines.

★ ★ ★

Although a similar plan was approved in Jackson, leaders fear voters might fail to understand the tax savings plan under which the city leases the bus rolling stock as a tax device. It takes a three-fifths majority to pass the issue.

Michigan Ranks 11th in Density of Population

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan ranks 11th in population density among the states, the Census Bureau said today.

Michigan's 136.4 persons per square mile is more than two and one-half times the national average, and only less thickly populated than New Jersey, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Delaware and Illinois.

Tennessee Steps Up Manhunt for Killer

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — East Tennessee officers today sought a former convict wanted in the killing of a deputy sheriff and a merchant.

Police are seeking Clarence Leon Raby, 26, of near Knoxville, in the robbery-slaying of an Anderson County merchant and the killing of a Union County deputy sheriff. The merchant was slain July 7. The deputy was killed Monday.

Another man was shot to death and his father wounded critically in an exchange of gunfire with police searching for Raby.

Dan Cooper, 27, was killed and his father — Kaley Cooper, 52, was wounded by Knox County officers who were hunting for Raby with bloodhounds.

The elder Cooper, who underwent surgery at a Knoxville hospital, told police: "We thought you were Raby."

Wool Output Down in State

5 Pct. Fewer Sheep Sheared; Lamb Clipping Off Even More

LANSING (AP)—Michigan farmers sheared 5 per cent less wool and saved 7 per cent fewer lambs this year than last, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today.

Declines also were reported for chickens and calves.

The 1960 lamb crop, estimated at 263,000 head, is five per cent under the 10 year average, the agency said. The decline from last year resulted from a drop in the number of breeding ewes and a decline in the percentage number of lambs saved.

Production of shorn wool was estimated at 2,656,000 pounds, less than half as much as Michigan farmers were marketing in 1943. The average weight of fleece — 7.9 pounds — was down one-tenth of a pound from last year.

An estimated 760,000 calves have been born or are expected to be born on Michigan farms this year. The figure is four per cent under last year and the sixth consecutive annual decline.

The preliminary 1960 estimate of farm chickens is 6,173,000, or 27 per cent under last year. The figure is about 40 per cent of the 1949-58 average and the smallest since estimates began in 1924.

Stunted Teens to Return Home

Not Likely Charges Will Be Filed Against Confining Parents

TECUMSEH, Ont. (AP) — Three teen-aged children will return to the home where they were confined for 11 years, officials say.

★ ★ ★

John Bevan of Windsor, Ont., director of the Children's Aid Society, said yesterday charges probably would not be filed against their parents, Donald and Shirley Leach.

Mrs. Leach told officers she kept them confined originally because of difficulty in finding a home to rent with six children.

After they bought a home, she said, she kept the children in to protect them from ridicule from other youngsters because of their abnormally small size.

Doctors still are conducting tests on Constance Dickerson, 16, Gordon, 14, and Glenda, 13, to determine what prevented them from growing to more than half normal size.

The couple's other three children are of normal size.

Teens Slate Dance at Park in Troy

TROY — A Troy teen dance will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight Friday at Hansen's Park, 3300 Rochester Rd., under the supervision of parents and the Troy Police Department.

The dance is one of a series sponsored by the Troy Teen Club at the park's outdoor pavilion.

A dance contest is held each week and membership cards are available at the door.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — In observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Coe of 31220 Farmington Rd., Farmington Township, their son Sherwood and daughters Mrs. Charlton Sharpe and Mrs. Charles Smith, will entertain at an open house Saturday. It will be at the Farmington Savings and Loan Friendship room, 31500 W. 10-Mile Rd., from 4 to 8 p. m. The Coes were married Aug. 6, 1910, in Pontiac. They have five grandchildren.

The name Canada is believed to have derived from the Indian word "Kanatta" meaning a collection of huts.

Offers Biggest Election Chasm

National Economy Splits Hopefuls

(Editor's Note—What's the proper growth rate for the U.S. economy? What about budget balancing and government spending? Taxes and inflation? Here is the broad and better issues of these questions at palm, and here's an analysis of the presidential candidates' proposals in them.)

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Other issues may make blacker headlines as the presidential campaign advances, but the biggest gulf between the Democratic and Republican standard-bearers is on the issue of national economic policy.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts has moved steadily closer to the extreme liberal wig of the Democratic party in his career of nearly 14 years in Congress.

* * *

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is proud to call himself "conservative—conservative for progress." On few issues has he departed noticeably from the Eisenhower administration's line of fiscal produce and least possible interference with the free economy.

On one basic objective the two young candidates concur — more rapid national economic growth. They differ in the routes to be taken to the goal.

MONEY MATTERS

Kennedy invites the voters to rally behind the banner of easier money, federal outlays to stimulate income, comsumption and employment, and higher taxes if need be to meet "national responsibilities" at home or overseas.

* * *

Nixon stands for "fiscal responsibility"; stern use of the tight-money weapon against inflation; and higher taxes only if the cold war or other emergency need requires greater government spending.

The vice president has charged that Kennedy is "pretty much under the thumb of of the labor bosses" on welfare and spending issues, and is being pushed "far to the left of his party" by campaign pressures.

But Nixon himself seems to have been pushed leftward by political pressures, through his concessions to the liberal platform demands of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, on the eve of the Republican National Convention.

* * *

However, Kennedy and Nixon still stand so far apart on so many issues that many voters are likely to think of them, in terms of the loose labels, "liberal" and "conservative."

There is little doubt, for instance, that if the new Congress comes up with education, welfare, housing, depressed areas and other bills similar to some vetoed by President Eisenhower, Nixon in the White House would veto them, too. Kennedy is pledged to sign them.

Kennedy wants the growth target set at a 5 per cent increase in national production each year—and a national policy that the government will bend itself to achieving the goal. He concurs in the Democratic platform pledge to move swiftly against recessions by "public works or temporary tax cuts."

Nixon wants about the same growth rate, but would be content with 5 per cent annually as an average. He denounces the Kennedy approach as "growthmanship," leading to inflation and inviting economic collapse. He denies that the Soviet Union is overhauling the United States as rapidly as many believe but holds, in any case, that "government intervention" is not the route to economic expansion.

Both men prefer higher taxes to deficit spending if national needs compel a choice. Statements of the two suggest that Nixon would be slower to favor tax increases for nonsecurity reasons. Kennedy holds that tax rises can be avoided by keeping the economy booming and producing more tax revenues. On specific tax issues the divergence is sharp. Nixon favors tax changes which would stimulate growth and business investment. He has endorsed more liberal depreciation laws and called for reduction of high bracket income rates.

Kennedy has spoken out for the closing of "loopholes," the lowering of depletion allowances, repeal of the credit for dividend income, and tighter policing of expense accounts.

MONEY POLICY

Kennedy is opposed to tight money and high interest rates. He fought removal of the interest ceiling on government bonds, and was one of several senators who tried this year to get the Federal Reserve Board committed to a policy of easier credit.

* * *

Nixon denounces the idea of pegging interest rates "at artificially low levels. We say that this policy would in the long run wreck the economy, not expand it."

* * *

HOUSING

Kennedy has voted for public credit, slum clearance and housing for the elderly. Nixon has spoken out on occasion against Democratic housing bills which, in his view, would have been costly and inflationary.

* * *

THE BUDGET

Kennedy favors surpluses and dimes. But Kennedy wants billions more spent on defense and other programs. He argues that the cost can be covered by closing tax loopholes or raising tax rates, if necessary. Nixon gives high priority to government economy and budget surpluses. He resisted efforts of Rockefeller to write into the GOP platform a proposal for a 3½ billion dollar increase in military spending.

* * *

INFLATION

Both consider inflation a major —if not the foremost—domestic problem. Nixon favors orthodox methods of keeping prices down—restraint in federal spending, contraction of credit, use of persuasion to keep wage settlements reasonable.

* * *

Kennedy subscribes to the Democratic platform demand for restraints on "administered pricing"—the ability of some industries to maintain and increase prices regardless of demand. Nixon, as head of the anti-inflation committee, has rejected the theory that administered prices have been a major factor in the inflation of the postwar year.

U.S. Needs Culture Dept., Says Singer

Romanians Hail Blanche Thebom

NEW YORK (AP)—The wildly dramatic second act of "Carmen" crashed to a close in the Bucharest Opera House.

* * *

As the curtain fell, gypsy-garbed Blanche Thebom spun around to leave the stage. She saw the chorus moving determinedly toward her in a body.

She took a step backward and said "Oh, dear." This, from the poised and regal brunette beauty, meant she was a pretty uneasy mezzo soprano.

* * *

She was the first American singer to perform behind the Romanian Iron Curtain, more rigid even than the Soviet Union's. She was portraying Carmen as a sexy, seductive wildcat; Romanians always gave the role an unrealistic, formalized treatment. And, as everybody knows, opera singers come temperamental in any nationality.

The chorus closed in. The men seized her. Hoisting her to their shoulders, they paraded around the stage with shouts and applause.

At the opera's end, the audience stood on seats to cheer the Metropolitan Opera star. Crowds followed her blocks back to the hotel.

The Romanian Artists Guild gave a dinner for her. The Romanian Carmens forgot all about being prima donnas and begged the tall, shapely diva to stay and teach them her realistic interpretation.

That happened two months ago. Now thinking it over in New York, the week in Romania only strengthened her conviction that what this country needs is a ministry of culture to help spread the word that Americans are anything but Philistines.

"We don't brag enough," she insists. "The Metropolitan is the finest opera company in the world. We have two or three symphony orchestras that are as fine as any anywhere.

"But Americans seem to put their worst foot forward overseas. And they're obsessed with being liked. Respect is more important than liking; and respect is always built by cultural matters."

A permanently established Department of Culture in the U.S. government is vitally necessary, she says, both for foreign opinion and domestic efficiency.

"Our undersecretary of state for cultural matters isn't the same thing at all," she says, "We don't have anything on a level with what other countries have for negotiating exchange agreements."

The ANTA (American National Theater and Academy) international exchange program, administered in cooperation with the State Department, operates on a year to year basis.

"Everything is a crash program," she explains. "And like a crash diet, it is completely unrealistic."

State Bar Reveals District Vote Results

Incumbents Nathan B. Goodnow and William J. McBrearty topped five candidates in Wayne County with 1,919 and 1,722 votes, respectively.

Others in the race were Boaz Siegel, 880 votes; Samuel Charboos, 797 votes; and Joseph Kadane, 183.

Joseph R. Rood of Midland was re-elected for a second term in the 10th congressional district, receiving 93 votes to 41 for B. J. Tally of Bay City.

Ronald M. Ryan of Battle Creek and Harry D. Reber Sr. of Fremont were declared elected in districts where there were no contests.

Strange Pets? You Name It, They've Got It

CELEBRITY — The one-month-old baby lamb belonging to Corinne Jones, 12, enjoys the summer sun behind a pair of small sunglasses. One of the most lovable of all pets, "Pet" recently was proclaimed grand champion of an animal show at the Drayton Plains School grounds because of his good behavior and cooperativeness.

GETTING SET TO RACE — Old "Gravel Gertie" can hardly wait to beat her friend "Hot Shot" as their owner Jeffrey Klassen lines them up for their daily race. Jeffrey's sister, Wendy, is betting on Gertie although it will be slow going most of the way. The two turtles are found only in the southern and eastern states, said 15-year-old Jeffrey.

HARMLESS PET — Toni and Ruth Belknap have more fun playing with their six-foot long pet Indigo snake than they do with dolls. Old "Oscar" is gentle, harmless and clean, and his long forked tongue is used to "hear" vibrations, not for striking at victims.

COUPLE OF SOFTIES — There're all kinds of Guinea pigs in the country, but 8-year-old Deborah Korsedal thinks "Powder Puff the 1st" (the mother) and "Powder Puff the 2nd" (the daughter) are the best two in the whole world. The little blond animals are as soft as fine feathers, and "smart as a whip," according to their young owner.

LIZARD HAS WICKED TAIL — Young Richard Parker gets a good grip on the strong tail of his pet Iguana lizard named "Trudy." He knows there is plenty of muscle built into the little reptile's physique, and that the whip-lash of the tail could be dangerous. The 15-year-old youth is an expert on reptiles, and hopes to become a veterinarian or scientist.

NON-ODOROUS CRITTER — Although Mrs. John Forbush's pet skunk is named "Kitty Pooh," she is the sweetest smelling little animal in Waterford Township, according to her owner. Getting fed a pecan is a rare treat for the three-year-old skunk that lives in the Forbush home with two dogs and a cat.

Photos by Reba Heinselman

PET ALLIGATOR — Bren Petar feeds his alligator, "Louie," minnows and hamburger after the little pet gets through sunning himself in the Petars' back yard. The teen-ager knows all of the habits and history of Louie and a pet lizard named "Gretchen." He claims you can have more fun watching and training this type of pet than any other animal.

FANTAIL DOVE — Little "White Wing" absolutely refuses to spread his tail unless he gets excited. Here the three LaBrie children, Dennis, 5, Patricia, 9, and Kathy, 3, try to coax their unusual pet to do a little showing off but this is not for White Wing.

Predict Big Turnout in State Election

A Third of Oakland Registrants to Vote

Probably the main drawing card — as far as Oakland County Democrats are concerned — is picking a successor to Gov. G. Mennen Williams from their three-man slate.

Vying to fill the shoes of the man who has occupied the governor's mansion since 1948 are Sec. of State James M. Hare, Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson and Detroit Councilman Edward Connor.

Oakland County's 311 voting precincts will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Those in line at the closing hour will be given a chance to vote.

About 100,000 of the estimated 305,000 registered voters in the county are expected to flock to the polls to pick their party nominees for the Nov. 8 general election. Daniel T. Murphy Jr., county clerk-register, said.

Giving a possible rise over the estimate is the split in the county Democratic ranks brought on by what some say has been dissatisfaction with the past leadership of Carlos G. Richardson, county chairman.

This factional controversy will play a big part in determining who gets the nod for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination here in the county — Swainson, favored by Mrs. Harriett Phillips' "Democrats for Victory" caucus group, or Hare, favored by such oldtime party stalwarts as Richardson and Willis M. Brewer, former county chairman.

Connor is expected to run a poor third here.

★ ★ ★

Contests from governor all the way down to the lowly, uncontested positions for Oakland County surveyor will be the issues at hand Tuesday.

Making up for what luster Bagwell's unopposed position takes from a Republican turnout Tuesday, will be the two-man runoff between Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso and Donald S. Leonard, Detroit attorney, who is bidding for the right to oppose Michigan Sen. Patrick V. McNamara in the November balloting.

Helping create more voter interest in the county is the two-question proposition to raise four million dollars over four years to finish the new courthouse facilities in the County Service Center.

The Board of Supervisors is asking approval of a half-mill levy beginning this December and running through 1963. It will amount to roughly $2.50 on the property owner's annual county tax bill, or 50 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized property valuation.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the county's townships and cities will be local questions, many of which are aimed at abolishing the annual township meetings.

Facing Waterford Township voters are two special questions. One would provide civil service for township firemen and the second would do away with the township's annual meeting in April.

Two non-partisan nominees for the county's new $22,500-a-year probate judge position will be selected tomorrow. Voters throughout the county will vote for one of eight candidates for the position created by the Legislature this year.

The balloting for the judgeship should not be overlooked, Murphy warned. The eight candidates will appear in two rows on blue paper

MISS PONTIAC DEMOCRAT — About 400 persons turned out at yesterday's annual picnic of the Pontiac Democratic Club to see Miss Sharon Sipley, 16, of 2606 Winkelman Dr., Waterford Township, selected as "Miss Pontiac Democrat" for 1960. The Waterford Township High School junior was selected from nine contestants at the picnic, held at Jaycee Park in the city.

2nd Runaway Car Hurtles Into Home

While repairs were being made yesterday on the family room of a Birmingham home damaged three months ago by a runaway car, another car crashed into the living room.

Still repairing his home from the first accident was Leonard J. Quart, 1200 Pilgrim Rd., when he narrowly avoided being hit while carrying new shutters through the living room and into the remodeled family room.

Furniture for the family room stacked in the living room was demolished when the car smashed through the living room and stopped in a hallway.

The driver of the car was Mrs. Alice Wickham, 45, of 1336 Pilgrim, Detroit. She is in satisfactory condition in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a fractured nose, cuts and bruises.

The first accident occurred May 5 when Ernest Kern, 56, former general manager of the Ernst Kern Co. drove his Thunderbird into the family room. Kern suffered minor injuries.

"We're not going to move," Mrs. Quart said today.

She said police are still trying to guess the odds of the accident happening for a second time.

"I bet it's better than a million to one," she said.

Mrs. Wickham drove her 1958 Cadillac through the Quart house at 2 p.m. yesterday when she hit a parked car next to the Quart residence and careened 45 feet across the Quart lawn.

Kern lost control of his car when he hit a boulder near the Quart home and careened across the lawn.

At the time of the first accident, the Quarts and their four children were at home sleeping.

Yesterday, only two of the children were at home.

Police can give no reason why the Quart home is accident prone since it is in the middle of the block and not on a corner lot where a runaway car on a curve might hit it.

Weather Will Act Like Broken Record

The weather in the Pontiac area will remain the same for the next few days.

★ ★ ★

There is a chance of slight showers sometime this week, however, the weatherman says.

Tomorrow's high will be about 80, with a low tonight of 62. Temperatures the next few days will average about four degrees below normal.

At 10 a.m., the wind was blowing southwesterly at 12 m.p.h. Winds will increase tonight to 20 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 55. At 1 p.m. the reading was 82.

New York City's July Is Coolest Since 1925

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in 28 years, New York City got into August without 90-degree temperatures.

It was the coolest July since 1925, with the mean temperature for the month 72.6 degrees. July's highest reading — 86 — was the lowest high for the month since the Weather Bureau began keeping records in 1871.

Township Meetings in Balance

Issues Face Area Voters

Voters in 18 Oakland County area communities will decide special issues in Tuesday's primary.

On the ballot in 11 of the county's 24 townships will be the question of abolishment of annual township meetings.

★ ★ ★

Other issues primarily are concerned with creation of planning commissions to replace zoning boards, civil service for police and fire departments, enactment of new zoning laws and in Troy, two bonding proposals for a new sanitary sewer system.

Royal Oak Man Dies Despite Rescue Efforts of Deputy, Neighbor

A Royal Oak father drowned in Middle Straits Lake Saturday afternoon despite fast work by a sheriff's water patrol deputy and an amateur skin diver.

Combs was swimming from a boat about 50 yards from shore north of the Weekacres Beach when he floundered and went under.

John Miskovich, 36, of 3000 Southfield Rd., Southfield, who was operating the 14-foot outboard, jumped in and tried to hold Combs up but the victim slipped from his grasp and sank in about 15 feet of water.

★ ★ ★

Barbre, an amateur at skin-diving, recovered Combs' body in less than 10 minutes. Efforts to revive the man failed.

★ ★ ★

Deputies believed he suffered cramps. Combs had eaten shortly before he went swimming, friends told deputies.

Display Readied for Congress

Rights Fireworks Poised

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress may run into a squabble over civil rights legislation when it convenes for its post-convention session.

Sen Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) served notice Sunday he will introduce a bill containing main provisions of the Republican Party's civil rights plank when the Senate goes back to work a week from today. The House meets Aug. 15.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, predicted civil rights legislation might be introduced and said he wouldn't be surprised if it would touch off a Southern filibuster.

But Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky, GOP national chairman made it clear he wants the session to steer away from what he called any ambitious or time-consuming measures.

★ ★ ★

Morton said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Republican minority leader, shared his view on a limited agenda.

Democratic leaders have not included civil rights legislation in their plans for the session.

Javits said the new leaders in both parties should act as soon as possible to implement the civil rights platform pledges adopted at their conventions.

BIPARTISAN AIM

The New Yorker said he would like to have a Democratic senator join him as sponsor of legislation "to demonstrate the spirit of bipartisan cooperatin which must exist from the very beginning if meaningful civil rights bills are to pass the Senate."

Javits said these four recommendations in the GOP platform require legislative action:

1. A provision that completion of six primary grades in state accredited schools is conclusive evidence by literacy for voting purposes.

2. Authority for the attorney general to bring civil rights suits on behalf of individuals who charge denial of constitutional rights, including the right to attend a nonsegregated public school.

3. Establishment of a federal commission on equal job opportunity.

4. Modification of the Senate rule which Javits said "permits the filibuster and the threat of filibuster to frustrate the passage of meaningful civil rights bills."

Fast Start Set on Fall Output of New Tempest

There'll be a big accent on the new Tempest when fall production gets rolling at Pontiac Motor Division, according to Ward's Automotive Report.

Some 4,800 of the new cars are scheduled for production during the month of October, the trade publication said over the weekend.

Division spokesmen declined to comment on advance production figures.

"But it's reasonable that we'll get off to a big bang," a representative said.

The public unveiling of the long-awaited tempest has not been scheduled yet, the spokesman said.

Production of 1960 automobiles is expected to end late this week or early next.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the exact time will be announced later this week.

Nixon Nets Ike and Rocky; Jack Reassured by Labor

By the Associated Press

Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Washington, mapping his strategy, moved today to line up participation by both President Eisenhower and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in the Republican campaign.

At Hyannis Port, Mass., meanwhile David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, told Sen. John F. Kennedy today he is sure organized labor will support the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the November election.

Long-distance calls with Eisenhower and Rockefeller by Nixon, the GOP presidential candidate, resulted in these immediate plans:

1. Nixon will fly to Newport, R.I., late today to confer with Eisenhower before taking off Tuesday morning on his whirlwind trip to the West Coast and Hawaii.

2. Robert H. Finch, newly designated Nixon campaign director, will meet with Rockefeller in New York Wednesday to work out the governor's participation in Nixon's campaign.

These plans were announced as Nixon huddled with his vice-presidential running mate, U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, and members of their staffs at a downtown hotel here. Lodge will also make the trip to Newport.

Nixon came to the closed session after having breakfast with Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, said Nixon and the President will discuss Eisenhower's role in the campaign. Nixon said last week that the President is tremendously interested in a Republican victory this fall and how to accomplish it.

JOHNSON, TOO

McDonald, after a visit with Kennedy at the senator's summer home, told a news conference he believes labor will support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Kennedy's choice for vice president, as strongly as it supports Kennedy.

He parried questions about reported grumbling by labor union members against Johnson as a running mate for Kennedy, the Democratic nominee for president.

Kennedy, standing beside McDonald on a lawn through the news conference, said he had invited the union leader here to discuss the slump in steel production and its effects on workers as well as on industry.

McDonald said he had urged Kennedy to implement the Full Employment Act, a law passed in 1946 which directs the government to take appropriate steps, particularly in times of adversity, to assure full employment.

McDonald said the steel industry is operating at 53 per cent of capacity with prospects that it will not reach more than 70 per cent of capacity in the fall.

BACK PORCH POLITICS — Pausing during their Sunday talks at Hyannis Port, Mass., on the presidential campaign are Sen. John F. Kennedy and Adlai E. Stevenson. Stevenson brings the experience of two unsuccessful races to discussions with the 43-year-old Democratic hopeful. Today Kennedy conferred with Chester Bowles and Connecticut governor candidate Bernard Boutin.

Dem Governor Pick, Choice of McNamara Foe to Be Highlights

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Democrats will pick an heir to Gov. Williams and Republicans will choose their candidates to face U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara in the main event of Michigan's primary election Tuesday.

Upward of 1,200,000 voters, their interests whetted by spirited local contests and the two national political conventions, are expected to show up at the polls.

The total, about 35 per cent of the registered voters, would be the biggest for a primary since the record turnout of 1,436,000 in 1952.

Polls in the 5,975 election precincts will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., with about two-thirds of them registering votes by machine.

Gov. Williams will be huddling with Sen. John F. Kennedy at the senator's vacation retreat in Hyannis Port, Mass., when Democrats name their new standard-bearer.

WILLIAMS MUM

Williams, invited to discuss campaign strategy with the Democratic presidential nominee, will vote by absentee.

The Democratic governor, who is quitting after a record six consecutive terms in office, won't say whom he will vote for in the three-man party race to succeed him.

He will chose from among:

Secretary of State James Hare, 50, one-time Wayne State political science instructor and manager of the Michigan State Fair.

Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, 35, legless war veteran and former Democratic leader in the State Senate.

★ ★ ★

The winner will be against Paul D. Bagwell, 46, Michigan State University professor, who is the unopposed Republican choice.

Jazz Cats Cool Down in England

LONDON (AP)—With one more night to go, the jazz festival on the estate of Lord Montagu went off smoothly Sunday night after the brawling mob of teenagers took over the night before.

Extra police were stationed at historic Beaulieu, the estate 68 miles south of London, to make sure there was no repeat of the melee at the opening session of Britain's fifth annual jazz festival.

The Saturday night crowd was noisy but did not get out of hand until the appearance of Acker Bilk, Britain's current Dixieland sensation, and his band. Then teen-agers surged around the scaffolding holding large floodlights of the British Broadcasting Corp. and began climbing the structure.

Others in the packed crowd began booing and pelting the climbers with apple cores, eggs and gan booing and pelting the climb-anything else handy.

VIDEO VIEWERS WATCH

Thousands of TV viewers watched the unexpected action. TV announcer Derek Jones told them: "Things have gotten completely out of hand. Obviously, this cannot go on.

The BBC closed the program.

Lord Montagu said: I think one can safely say that is the last jazz festival to be held here."

Vote Violence Rips S. Korea

100 Reported Injured as Election Riots Still Are Raging

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Post-election mob violence and ballot burning spread in South Korea today. About 100 persons, most of them police, have been injured and 322 arrested.

Unconfirmed reports said two persons have been killed.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

In six election districts the targets were members or former members of ex-President Syngman Rhee's Liberal party who made strong showings in the parliamentary election Friday despite the general disrepute in which the party fell after Rhee's overthrow.

★ ★ ★

A mob of 5,000 at Sam Chon Po, 200 miles south of Seoul, wrecked the police station and the police chief's home, demanding that an ex-Liberal candidate be turned over to a kangaroo court to face vote-buying charges.

SAVED FROM MOB

The candidate had been under police protection since Saturday, when he was rescued from a vigilante mob that beat him and his campaign worker and paraded the candidate through the streets wearing a sign saying "I am sorry I got rich on money embezzled from the people."

★ ★ ★

Mobs at Hongchon, 70 miles east of Seoul, and Unsong, 70 miles southeast of Seoul, wrecked the homes of campaign workers for ex-Liberals who won re-election to the House of Representatives.

★ ★ ★

In two areas mobs surrounded police stations and demanded the release of demonstrators arrested earlier.

Disturbances were reported in 17 election districts.

Fall at Fisher Body Fatal to Pontiac Man

A 30-year-old Pontiac man was killed Saturday evening when he fell from the ceiling to the floor of the Fisher Body plant.

He was Leonard G. Stem of 103 Mechanic St.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred at 7 p.m.

Cool, Pleasant Spell Gives Regions Breather

By The Associated Press

Cool, pleasant weather gave the Northeast and Midwest another midsummer breather today. The Pacific Coast also enjoyed lower than normal temperatures.

★ ★ ★

Light showers dampened the western third of the nation and the middle Atlantic and Gulf Coast states. But the precipitation, the Weather Bureau said, was more a bothersome drizzle than a purposeful downpour.

★

Lafayette, La., however, measured 2.77 inches of rain in a six-hour period during the night. Heavy rainfalls were widespread Sunday from Washington, D.C., south to Florida and west to the Tennessee Valley.

★

Richmond, Va., was swamped with more than three inches of rain, Savannah, Ga., had a two-inch downpour in less than an hour. Near Lake Charles, La., three funnel clouds dipped down from a heavy thunderstorm.

ARCHITECT'S SKETCH — The "new" Alvin's store is shown here in this architect's conception. The store will be enlarged about four times its present size. Located on W. Huron street at Telegraph road, the addition will open before the end of this month. The ultra-modern finished product will be known as Alvin's of Pontiac. Work began on the expansion last February.

Reds Stressing Sub Missiles

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of the Soviet navy hinted Sunday that his forces—like the U.S. Navy—are concentrating on missiles fired from submarines.

Adm. Sergei Gorshkov, in a broadcast statement marking Navy Day, hailed the Soviet Union's big submarine fleet as the major weapon for modern naval warfare.

Gorshkov said that the Soviet Union's principal security lies in its rocket defenses, thus indirectly linking rockets with submarine striking power.

The statement followed by less than two weeks a U.S. submarine's first successful underwater test firing of the Polaris missile, which hit a target 1,000 miles away.

The Soviets have about 500 submarines, the world's biggest underwater fleet, and are believed building nuclear subs equipped with long-range guided missiles. U.S. naval intelligence has reported Soviet subs can now fire guided missiles with a range of about 330 miles.

Clothing Store Will Have New Name

Alvin's to Expand This Month

Showing "a real appreciation for this city and its future," Alvin Steinman, president of Alvin's, Inc., has announced his larger women's clothing store will be known as Alvin's of Pontiac.

The store at 892 W. Huron St., corner of Telegraph road, is being expanded and remodeled to include several features new to the Pontiac area.

In explaining the enlargement and change of name Steinman said, "I've always liked this city and have great faith in its future growth."

The present 2,500-square-foot store will be expanded to cover some 9,600 square feet.

Steinman bought the block of stores of which his was one and began work on them in February. He expects the addition will be ready for opening before the end of August.

New features will be the employment of beauty and figure consultants to work in the cosmetics and foundations departments.

"Each will be an expert in her field and will be there to advise ladies on how to make themselves more glamorous. For special occasions ladies may come in and have their makeup applied at the store by really expert results," Steinman said.

The cosmetic department will be new to the store. Also a new feature, with chandelier and plush carpets, will be the Continental Room.

★ ★ ★

It will be used to display finer clothes, present designer clothes and hold fashion showings.

"There is nothing like it in this area," he said.

With the addition, Steinman will carry sportswear, dresses, suits, coats and small wear, with new departments for shoes, millinery, lingerie, foundations and cosmetics, and boutiques.

There also will be a men's store, carrying men's furnishings and gift items.

★ ★ ★

The entire building has been redecorated. There will be free parking areas to the side and rear.

Planning for the expansion began last fall.

WILLIAM L. KELLEY

Pontiac Motor Supervisor Dies

W. L. Kelley Retired in 1957 After 25 Years With Division

Service for William L. Kelley, 67, retired supervisor of sheet metal production at Pontiac Motor Division, will be at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Cremation will follow at White Chapel Cemetery, Troy.

Mr. Kelley succumbed Saturday to a heart attack at his home, 4565 Ranch Lane Dr., Bloomfield Township.

Mr. Kelley worked 25 years for Pontiac Motor Division, most of the time in the sheet metal department.

Joining the division in 1932, within a few days he was promoted to sheet metal foreman.

He was assistant superintendent in this department when transferred during World War II to the Oerlikon Gun project.

Mr. Kelley served as general superintendent of production of this antiaircraft weapon for the Navy.

He was named superintendent of the sheet metal department in 1947 and held the post until his retirement in September 1947.

A native of Everett, Mass., Mr. Kelley is survived by his widow, Harriett. There are no children.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. George Thompson and Mrs. William Shepard, and a brother, Edgar Kelley, all of Scituate, Mass.

Rep. Lesinski Urges Census Every 5 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — America is growing so fast there should be a census every five years instead of 10, said Rep. John Lesinski (D-Mich), as he urged approval of a bill calling for a 1965 census.

★ ★ ★

"In my opinion this country has too much at stake, both at home and abroad, to wait 10 years for population figures," Lesinski said.

"In the 1950-60 decade some 1,500 communities paid the Census Bureau to take special censuses principally for the purpose of recovering tax refunds from state treasuries based on per-capita allocations," Lesinski said, adding:

"In many cases, these tax refunds were urgently needed by the communities because of population growth to finance public works, especially . . . schools, roads and utilities."

Milford Firm Grows Fast in Five Years

The Aluma-Vue Co. of 10325 Highland Rd., Milford, has greatly expanded production operations since its founding five years ago.

It was recently announced by E. J. LaForest, vice president, that a contract to furnish Multistory Curtainwalls for the Gottlieb Memorial Hospital in Oak Park, Ill., had been obtained.

★

The firm, which now employs 46 persons, was formed March 4, 1955, by LaForest and Gerald E. Hausfeld.

Dahomey Freedom Recognized by Reds

PORTO NOVO, Dahomey (AP) —Communist China and the Soviet Union hastened today to recognize the world's newest nation, Dahomey, a former French colony in West Africa with a population of two million.

French Minister of State Louis Jacquinot and Dahomey Premier Huberg Maga signed the instruments of ratification Sunday, giving the small state independence within the French community. Independence was proclaimed at midnight, setting off wild rejoicing in the capital.

Third of County Registrants to Vote

The two nominees will square off in November.

Although county Republicans will simply pull down the pointer for unopposed Congressman William S. Broomfield, local Democrats must decide between six Democrats seeking the congressional nomination.

★ ★ ★

All six Republican county office-holders are unopposed for renomination. They will automatically land a spot on the fall ballot.

Over in the Democratic column, the Democrats are trying for nominations for the six offices of prosecutor, sheriff, treasurer, clerk, register, drain commissioner and surveyor.

There are Democratic contests in the races for prosecutor, where Bloomfield Township neighbors George J. Fulkerson and Alvin S. Rappaport are vying, and for the offices of clerk-register and drain commissioner.

John E. Kronenberg of Royal Oak and David S. Less are bidding for the clerk-register nomination, while Sol F. Plotkin of Hazel Park and Roy J. Russell of Pontiac Township are seeking the right to meet Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry in November.

Oxford auto dealer Homer Hight is unopposed for the Democratic sheriff nomination. William K. Benson, his party's nominee for treasurer two years ago, is after the same office this year, while Stanley F. Dunn is unopposed for the position as surveyor.

★ ★ ★

Twelve Republicans and 12 Democrats are in the six races for the county's six seats in the House of Representatives. Voters cast their vote for only the legislative district in which they reside.

In Pontiac, there is no primary opposition for either incumbent State Rep. Arthur J. Law, a Democrat, or his November opponent, Richard I. Moore, a Republican.

Two of the state representative incumbents face primary opposition tomorrow. They are Reps. S. James Clarkson of Southfield and John C. Hitchcock of Hazel Park.

Three Democrats and two Republicans hope to replace Sen. L. Harvey Lodge in the State Senate. Republican candidates are State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts and Richard D. Kuhn, Pontiac attorney and car wash owner.

★ ★ ★

Also on the ballot Tuesday will be the selection of the nominees for the state's second spot on the ticket. Five Democrats are stirring-up an otherwise uninteresting battle for lieutenant governor position, while two Republicans are hoping to be Bagwell's running mate three months hence.

Murphy said some 3,500 election workers will be ready for what state election officials hope will be a voter stampede, spurred on possibly by this being a presidential election year.

★ ★ ★

There will be 307 voting precincts using 662 automatic voting machines, and four precincts in Groveland and Brandon Townships and Northville still using paper ballots, according to Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk.

1,200,000 Are Expected to Cast Ballots Tuesday

U.S. Senate, all 18 congressional seats, the entire Legislature and numerous local posts.

Generally, they have refrained from attacking each other in a comparatively mild campaign.

The winner will take on Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, 65, who has promised to wage a vigorous campaign in the fall despite bouts with surgery and pneumonia that weakened his health. McNamara, former Detroit union official, is unopposed in a try for a second term.

Four certified candidates and one who is casting for write-in votes are fighting it out in a Democratic free-for-all for lieutenant governor. The four whose names will appear on the ballot are Rep. T. John Lesinski, five-term legislator from Detroit; Richard J. Coughlin, assistant Wayne County Prosecutor; George H. Dougherty, Flint union official, and Richard Vander Veen, Grand Rapids attorney endorsed by the AFL-CIO.

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, twice elected lieutenant governor as a Republican in the 1940's, is bidding for the job again as a Democrat. He stayed in the race as a write-in candidate when the Board of State Canvassers held his nominating petitions didn't carry enough valid signatures.

The Democratic gubernatorial contenders, concentrating their final campaign efforts in populous metropolitan Detroit, made their last pre-election appearance together Sunday night on a Detroit television show.

Two years ago, 70 per cent of the Democratic vote in the primary came from Wayne, Macomb, Genesee and Oakland Counties.

As usual, the topic was Michigan's financial crisis. Connor said he favors a graduated state income tax and a new system of corporation taxes. He said he is against an increase in the sales tax.

Hare blamed the financial problem on unemployment, saying that if 300,000 more people found jobs, the crisis would take care of itself by a reduction of the welfare rolls and an increase in taxes from the money spent by the re-employed.

Swainson said he was against an increase in the sales tax, and implied that a state income tax would be an equitable system.

Another key issue is the proposal to call a convention to draft a new state constitution.

August Scholle, head of the AFL-CIO in Michigan and a powerful ally of Williams, is dead set against the proposal. Swainson and Connor have followed Scholle's lead.

But Hare, considered by some as a Democratic maverick, has heartily endorsed the proposed constitutional convention. If he wins the nomination, it could strain the ties between labor and the Democrats in Michigan.

German Reds Threaten to Seize West's Trucks

BERLIN (AP)—The Communist regime of East Germany threatened today to seize any trucks using the West Berlin lifeline to the West to carry material for the West German army.

Deputy Foreign Minister Otto Winzer told a news conference that if freedom of access is "abused to give direct or indirect support for the militarization of West Germany," the offending vehicles will be seized.

City Pressed for Time to Build Lot This Fall

The parking area which would be the sixth municipal parking lot has been declared a necessity and court proceedings have been instituted to condemn three parcels of property for which the city has not been able to secure options.

Gare said that if the parcels are acquired by continued negotiations or condemnation in the near future there would still be time this year to construct the parking area.

Until the property is acquired and construction begins, Gare in a report to the Commission recommends that unmetered parking be allowed to continue on the east side of Woodward from Ravine to Oak streets as a temporary means of relieving parking congestion there.

The recommendation to continue unmetered parking in the area is the third since June 1959 when the commission passed a resolution allowing for the angle parking along the two blocks.

The Commission will act on Gare's recommendation at tonight's meeting.

Mrs. Florence S. Pottinger

Service for Mrs. Florence S. Pottinger, 71, of 1670 Hammond Ct., Bloomfield Hills, will be at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Cremation will follow.

★ ★ ★

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. E. R. Davies of Bloomfield Hills; two sons, Henry C. of Detroit, and David of Royal Oak; two brothers, and nine grandchildren.

Carl T. Blauman

Service for Carl T. Blauman of 23240 Franklin Park Dr., Franklin, will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

He was a graduate of Wayne State University and was a track star at Northwestern High School, Detroit.

He was owner of Blauman's Pharmacy in Detroit until his retirement in 1947.

★ ★ ★

Surviving are his wife Luella, daughter Mrs. Donald McConkie of Birmingham, sons, Carl T., Jr. of Birmingham and Richard B. of Oak Park, two sisters and 11 grand children.

Powers' Mother Applies for Visa

Wants to Be on Hand When Son Is Tried for Spying in Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ailing mother of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers has applied for visas for herself and her physician to go to Moscow, where her son faces a spy trial.

Soviet Embassy officials who reported this said both applications have been referred to Moscow for a decision.

Mrs. Ida Ford Powers of Pound, Va., filed her visa application about a week ago, an embassy spokesman said, along with that for her doctor, Lewis K. Ingram.

Mrs. Powers is reported under treatment for a heart condition. Ingram would accompany her as a precaution.

Her bid for permission to visit Russia now means that the whold Powers family — mother, father and wife — have applied for visas to be on hand when the 30-year-old flier is put on trial Aug. 16.

Oliver Powers, the father, already has been granted such a visa but has not set a date for his departure.

The wife, Barbara, applied for a visa a week ago along with two Virginia attorneys who want to help defend Powers, if they can.

Powers' wife personally appealed to an embassy visa officer Wednesday but was told Moscow has not yet sent word on whether to approve her visa.

At a news conference Wednesday night, she complained that the State Department was not doing enough to help her husband. The department replied that it was pressing the Russians constantly for permission to talk with Powers and that embassy officers would continue their efforts to make sure he is properly defended.

Expect Busy '61 Labor Year

State Mediation Board Notes Workload Cycle Ties in With Contracts

LANSING (UPI) — The State Labor Mediation Board expects a busy 1961.

★ ★ ★

"There's a definite cycle in our workload," said Board Chairman Allan D. Chisholm. "And it's tied in with the contracts for the big three auto companies come up for renewal.

"Indications are next year will be the biggest in our history."

It isn't just the big three auto makers — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — that build up the work for the Labor Mediation Board.

The small companies which supply parts, service, or have some other connection with the auto industry — and are unionized—wait for the big three to set pattern for demands and benefits.

The small unions wait to see what the big unions get, then they ask for the same thing," said Samuel J. Simmons, Board executive secretary.

Many small contracts with auto company suppliers are deliberately designed to terminate just after the big three contracts are up for negotiation. Other union and management groups drag out their negotiations to see what the pattern set by the big companies will be.

The contracts which were arrived at in 1958 after long negotiations between the unions and the big three expire next summer.

"We'll reach a peak in our work load next year, although there may be some lulls while waiting for the big three to settle," Chisholm said. "Then the number of cases will drop again.

"But it will never get as low as the previous low point," he said. "The number of cases is going up all the time."

2 Detroit Land Men Propose Town Houses

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Detroit land developers have proposed construction of two 28-story apartment buildings in an urban renewal area on the lower east side of Detroit.

Western Union Plans 8 Per Cent Rate Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western Union Telegraph Co. has notified the Federal Communications Commission it plans to increase its press message rates by an average 8 per cent, effective Aug. 26.

The company last week gave notice that its public message rates would be advanced by 8 per cent on Aug. 17, as a part of a general advance in service charges designed to yield about $12,600,000 additional revenue annually.

Western Union said the additional revenue is required to offset wage increases granted under new labor contracts.

About 55 per cent of American families own their homes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually-sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bentley Predicts GOP Victory

Michigan's Candidtes Roar Into Finale

By The Associated Press

U.S. senatorial candidate Alvin M. Bentley Sunday predicted a victory for himself in the GOP primary Tuesday "because Michigan Republicans are acutely aware of the great dangers facing our country on the international front."

* * *

Bentley claimed his 17 years in the foreign affairs field—first with the State Department and then as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee—will carry him to victory in his primary battle with Donald S. Leonard, former Michigan State Police commissioner.

"By the same token," he added, "the public will turn to the Republicans again this year because they don't have to guess how Dick Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge will handle the Russians."

Bentley said he has always advocated a "get tough" attitude in dealing with the Russians, recommending continuance of the U2 flights over Russia and on one occasion saying the U.S. should consider breaking off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

The Republican hopeful said he plans to campaign "right up until the polls close Tuesday night."

TO MEET GOLDWATER

His schedule calls for a meeting with Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, who is scheduled to speak at a Berrien County GOP rally in Benton Harbor Monday night.

More than 2,000 persons came from 35 counties to help Democratic Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson celebrate his 33th birthday at a gigantic midoor party near Pontiac.

Supporters of Secretary of State James Hare's bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination are celebrating his 50th birthday by ringing 50 doorbells or making 50 telephone calls to get out the vote.

* * *

Meanwhile, Councilman Ed Connor is attending his share of picnics, meetings and coffee klatches in a bid for the Democratic nomination as governor.

"I can win this primary with a heavy turnout of voters," Connor said Sunday.

The 32-year-old councilman said his major support should come from heavily-populated Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, that represent his "home base."

Another Democratic candidate, William J. Coughlin, who is bidding for the nomination as lieutenant governor, Sunday proposed a new political campaign technique to give Michigan just what it needs —"less talk and a lot of fast action."

WOULD KILL NONISSUES

This, he said, would eliminate campaign issues that aren't really issues and on which all the candidates agree.

Sunday night, Connor, Hare and Swainson, appearing on a half-hour TV program, were asked how they plan to solve the state's financial crisis and reduce the $71-million deficit.

Connor said he favors a graduated state income tax and a new system of corporation taxes but he said he is against an increase in the sales tax.

Hare blamed the financial problem on unemployment, saying that if 300,000 more people could find jobs, the crisis would take care of itself by a reduction of the welfare rolls and an increase in taxes from the money spent by the reemployed.

* * *

Swainson said he was against an increase in the sales tax. And he implied that a state income tax would be an equitable system.

Negroes in Court on Sit-In Charges

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP) — A mass resumption of anti-segregation protests loomed here today as court hearings came up for 15 Negroes arrested Saturday during a "sit-in" at a bus terminal restaurant.

Leaders of the Petersburg Improvement Assn., a Negro organization, promised that demonstrations "will continue all over the city, wherever segregation exists."

* * *

As the Negroes were arrested on trespassing charges in this southside Virginia city, racial bars were lowered in two chain store lunch counters in Fredericksburg, in the north-central part of the state.

Embassy Insists Spain Won't Recognize Israel

In an official statement, the embassy denied local press reports saying the Jordan government had received information that an exchange of diplomatic representation at embassy level between Spain and Israel was imminent.

Armed A-Sub May Be Early

Success of Third Shot Could Move Operation Deadline Forward

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Navy has set October as the operational deadline for its Polaris missile system. But the first combat-ready Polaris submarine may go to sea sooner if the test program continues to progress as well as it has in recent weeks.

This was hinted by project officials hailing the third straight successful underwater launching from the nuclear submarine George Washington.

The George Washington and Patrick Henry, first of a hoped-for fleet of 45 Polaris subs, are scheduled to go on patrol by the end of the year. Each will carry 16 missiles capable of raining nuclear destruction on targets up to 1,380 miles away.

★ ★ ★

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration continued to search for a clue to the failure of the first test of a production-model Project Mercury capsule. The test to subject the capsule to severe re-entry conditions ended 65 seconds after launch last Friday when the Atlas booster exploded.

Chunks of the capsule and rocket were retrieved from the Atlantic five miles offshore. Technicians are piecing them together in an effort to learn the cause of the blowup.

Noble Brakeman Not Impressed With Aristocracy

BARNSTAPLE, England (AP)—A Canadian railroad brakeman who inherited a half-million-dollar English country estate and a title says he is "not at all fascinated" by the idea of society life.

Sir Robert Williams, whose new estate includes 2,000 acres of rolling Devon countryside, three manor houses and half of two villages, says he has changed his mind about staying in England for two or three months. But he added that he and his wife intend to return to England for a longer stay sometime in the future.

★ ★ ★

Williams, 37, was the heir of Sir William Williams, a distant relative who died early last month.

"Don't think I've got anything against the English people," Williams told newsmen, "but I must say some of them make me sick."

He said he and his wife, who is 34, are going back to Saskatchewan to "have a good think about this aristocracy lark."

Makarios Party Gets Firm Cyprus Control

Official results of Sunday's election showed that candidates backed by Makarios swept all 30 seats they contested out of the 35 reserved for the Greek-Cypriot community.

★ ★ ★

The Communist party, Akel, captured the other five against only independent opposition. Under an agreement with the Reds, the Patriotic Front did not challenge those seats.

★ ★ ★

All 15 seats allocated to the Turkish community in the island's 50-member Legislature were won by the National Front party led by Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, vice president-elect of the new government. Six right-wing independents were routed.

Supple Bangs Are Fall's Big Hair Fashion Noise

Fullness of the hair is noted in the National Hairdresser Assn.'s "Olympian Flair" coiffure. The bang sweeps horizontally across the forehead, lifting at the temples. As in all of the "Fluid Bang" stylings, the ears are covered completely with the hair waved forward to brush the cheeks. A flow of "mass movements" rather than waves provides stunning back interest.

A fall forecast for the Forward Look has been issued by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Assn., Inc.

Proclaiming, "It's what's up front that counts," stylists from the association's official Hair Fashion Committee introduced a new "Fluid Bang" coiffure at their 40th annual convention in Chicago. The styling emphasizes the supple and smooth flowing waves of hairdos popularized this season.

Whether draped or flounced, the bangs always move across the forehead and upwards, lifting at the temples. There is little, if any, wisp or fringe treatment.

★ ★ ★

Although the new "Fluid Bang" converges at the temple, the ears are completely covered with a closeness of hair which extends below the ears and curls upward to brush the cheeks.

Hair length at the bangs varies from two to three inches. At the crown the length will range from three to four and a half inches, extending to the neckline where the hair may be about an inch and half long. At the side the hair is sufficiently long to cover the ears.

The committee reports that fall fashions are influencing the hair in color as well as style this year. Striking hues in amethyst clothing will match silvers in hair tones. Popular smoky brown shades in attire will blend with natural taupes and hazy blond hair shades.

Fabrics in burnt wine color, smartly revived this season, will be enhanced by auburn and brunette tresses.

Matching hair tones, cosmetic shades and fabulous fall fabric colors — hair dressers, cosmetologists and courturiers promise that this season's fashion conscious woman will be a perfectly complemented blend of chic.

A new "Fluid Bang" has been introduced for fall by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Assn., Inc. The hair flows neatly across the forehead, lifting at the temples and easing gently into a close fit at the sides. At the back the hair follows its natural direction of growth. "Natural Grace" is the name for this youthful coiffure.

Barber Chair or Psychiatrists's Couch—Abby

Time to Clip Wife's Notions and 3-Year-Old Boy's Curls

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is the matter with my wife? She says she can't bear to cut off our boy's curls. This kid is three years old and looks like a girl. He's our only child. When he was born, my wife cried for a week because he wasn't a girl.

ABBY

She has had our boy in the barber's chair twice and each time the barber would reach for the scissors, she'd snatch the boy out of the chair saying she couldn't go through with it.

The boy is unhappy because the older kids tease him. Can you offer a solution?

FATHER OF THE BOY

DEAR FATHER: Get your son into a barber's chair before he winds up on a psychiatrist's couch! Your wife's refusal to accept the fact that she has a son—not the hoped-for daughter — indicates that she could be distrubed mentally. Separate the boy from the curls and then do what is necessary to separate your wife from some of her ideas.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I wish you could help me get a 12-year-old neighbor girl to stay at home during our supper hour. Her people are well-to-do, so she can't be hungry.

She makes it a point to walk in just as we start a meal. I have invited her to eat with us many times but I don't want her every day. She stands around leaning on the children's chairs, whispering and giggling. How can I handle this without causing embarrassment or hurt feelings?

TENDER-HEARTED

DEAR TENDER-HEARTED: Catch this girl when she is alone and tell her in a nice way that she should not visit during the supper hour because that's "family time" and it disturbs the children. If she doesn't respect your wishes, ask for her mother's cooperation.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to a most wonderful man for 23 years. He is very considerate and thoughtful. He doesn't drink, curse or raise his voice. He has never once opened his own pay envelope. He brings it to me and I take what I need. My only complaint is that he always leaves his shoes in the living room.

I have asked him many times to please put them away, but every morning I find them in the living room. It drives me crazy. I've tried everything, but all I get is shoes, shoes and more shoes. What should I do?

SICK OF SHOES

DEAR SICK: If this is your biggest problem, give thanks. Pick up his shoes—and cheerfully. A nagging wife is the reason why so many men have come to drop their shoes in somebody else's living room.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO H.H.: There is an old Chinese proverb you should paste in your hat. "The mouth is wind but the pen leaves tracks." Be careful of what you say—but be doubly careful of what you put in writing.

★ ★ ★

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Waterfordites Cover 15,000 Miles

Back From Alaska Trek

By DENNIS DINAN

"The North Country is a hard country and it mothers an icy brood," as declared in Robert W. Service's poem, doesn't necessarily ring true anymore according to a Waterford Township couple and two friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Chapel of Tubbs road and Mr. and Mrs. George Endsley, former Waterford Township residents presently living in Marion, Ind., have just completed a two-month, 15,000-mile grand tour to the northernmost tip of Alaska and back.

Over 13,000 of those miles were by car — a 1959 Pontiac sedan — and house trailer, with the rest made up of short plane jumps into the Alaskan bush.

In direct contrast to the hardships undergone by the local 59ers, the Chapels and Endsleys, who started out May 28, found the new state thriving and in most cases comfortable.

MOOSE SHORT RIBS

The group wasn't able to visit the remnants of the '59ers, although they dropped in on one homesteader who promptly served them short ribs — of moose.

Still smacking his lips over those "delicious" ribs, Chapel, maintainance employe at Fisher Body Division, admonished anyone thinking of "starting all over again" in Alaska.

"The fellow we visited had about 100 acres cleared," Chapel said.

"I know it was a tremendous undertaking. I suggest nobody try it unless they have a lot more brains, ambition and youth than I have."

According to Endsley, gasoline cost 75 cents a gallon near Mt. McKinley, and groceries ran approximately 10 per cent more than they do in Pontiac.

Despite these "inconveniences," and the fact that six tires were worn out on the Alaskan Highway, the travelers found much of Alaska an exciting, dynamic place, with most of its fabled past gone.

Anchorage, they said, was a boom town in the new sense of the word.

HANDSOME HOMES

Tall apartment buildings, new schools and handsome homes are springing up all over the city, largest in Alaska.

Leaving road travel at one point the party flew to Ft. Barrow on the state's northern tip where Will Rogers and Wiley Post were killed in a 1935 airplane crash.

Taxes have an odd way of following statehood into effect, and Alaska's salmon-fishing Indians have suddenly discovered the tax facts of life.

The state Legislature has levied a tax on fish wheels, devices used like a water wheel to corner fish in a net.

CLAIM SELLOUT

'My wife does, though," he said. "So I guess we'll go there too."

Women's Section

12 Perform at Interlochen

Twelve musicians from the Pontiac area are represented in the All-State Orchestra which is in its second week at the National Music Camp at Interlochen.

The orchestra, under the direction of Gerhard Schroth, chairman of fine arts of the Chicago Lutheran Schools, presented the first concert of its 25th season Sunday afternoon after only five days of rehearsal.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

From Birmingham are violinist Betsy Rodgers and trombonist Tom Towler.

Stephen Selby of Walled Lake is participating in the two week all-state drama session.

Area students at the second all-state piano session include Anna Marie Ketelsen of Rochester, Cheryl Weiss of Birmingham, Susan Kourmansky of Farmington and Sigrid Strom of Fenton.

The National High School Symphony Orchestra presented the difficult "Petroushka" by Stravinsky Sunday evening at the Interlochen Bowl in what is believed to be the first performance of this work by high school age musicians.

★ ★ ★

Keep Mom Busy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Infants use about 100 diapers a week when very small. When they are almost trained, they use 35 a week, the National Baby Care Council reported.

Brian-Starr Vows Said

James Brian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brian of Scott Lake road, married Brenda Kay Starr of Lansing Saturday evening at First Church of the Nazarene in Lansing.

The bride's brother-in-law, the Rev. C. F. Champion of the Nazarene Church in Grand Rapids, performed the candlelight ceremony. Baskets of white gladioli and blue pompons graced the altar.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Starr of Lansing, the bride approached the altar wearing a floor-length gown of white silk organza and re-embroidered jeweled Alencon lace over taffeta. The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves and a portrait neckline outlined with re-embroidered lace, pearls and sequins. Extending to form a chapel train, the bouffant skirt was fashioned with large floral appliques.

LILAC OVER ORGANZA

Honor matron Mrs. C. F. Champion of Grand Rapids was gowned in lilac organza over matching taffeta for her sister's wedding. The dress was designed with fitted bodice, a modified scoop neckline and bell-shaped sleeves. Lavender pompons surrounded by French carnations comprised her colonial cascade bouquet.

MRS. JAMES BRIAN

The gowns and flowers of bridesmaids Marilyn Hawk of Indianapolis, Ind., Sue Conrad of Hammond, Ind. and Donna Morgan of Kankakee, Ill., were identical to those of the honor matron.

At a reception in the church parlor, the bride's mother was dressed in a pink taffeta sheath dress overlaid with gray lace. Her accessories were pink.

Mrs. Brian chose blue lace over matching blue taffeta and wore dark blue and white accessories.

Before leaving on a trip to northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Brian donned a beige brocade ensemble and black watteau bonnet with patent accessories. On returning the couple will reside on North Johnson avenue.

A graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill., the bridegroom teaches at Bloomfield Hills Junior High School. The bride attended Olivet and teaches in the Waterford School System.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Eugene Russ of Fiddle road, Waterford, announce the engagement of their daughter Sharon Kay to Frank Leonard Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gilbert of Lynn street, Waterford.

Propose Abolishment of Annual Meetings in 11 Townships

18 Communities Will Vote on Special Issues

Voters in 18 Oakland County area communities will decide special issues when they go to the polls in Tuesday's primary election.

The question of abolishment of annual township meetings will be decided in 11 of the county's 24 townships.

Following are descriptions of the questions to appear on the ballot in each municipality:

Avon Twp.

The Avon Township Board is seeking voter approval of a half-mill tax levy to finance the chloriding of all township gravel roads not maintained by the Oakland County Road Commission.

As proposed, the millage would be levied for five years.

The half-mill would be collected annually for five years starting this year, after which it would be up to the voters to decide again whether to continue the program.

Orion Twp.

Voters in Orion Township will be asked to decide on abolishment of the annual township meeting tomorrow.

* * *

On the same ballot will be a proposal requesting a tax hike not to exceed one mill for five years for fire protection.

If approved, the increased revenue would be used to purchase additional buildings and equipment for the Glngerville and Lake Orion fire departments.

* * *

The funds also will be earmarked for operation and maintenance of the two departments.

Royal Oak Twp.

Waterford Twp.

Voters in Waterford Township are being asked to approve civil service for the fire department and to abolish the annual township meeting.

Troy

Two of three proposals up for voter approval in the City of Troy would provide funds for a sanitary sewer system and sewage disposal plant.

One proposition asks permission for the city to borrow up to $2,650,000 and issue general obligation bonds for a disposal plant.

The second seeks authority to borrow up to $1,375,000 and issue general obligation bonds to install public trunk sanitary sewers in the city.

The final proposal requests voters to allow the city to extend the time it is permitted to sell bonds from three to five years.

Metamora Twp.

The proposed ordinance, which was adopted last January, was scheduled to go into effect Feb. 14.

It was blocked, however, by petitions signed by the 77 residents who asked for a vote of the people.

The township has been operating without a zoning ordinance the past 2½ years.

Shelby Twp.

Voters in Shelby Township tomorrow will decide whether to continue civil service protection for the township fire department.

Another proposition on the ballot seeks voter authorization to establish a township planning commission to replace the present zoning board.

Township officials have stated they believe the proposed planning commission would better implement their current development projects than the existing zoning board.

W. Bloomfield Twp.

Creation of a planning board and the abolishment of the annual township meeting are the two local issues to be placed before West Bloomfield Township voters tomorrow in the primary election.

The planning board would replace the present zoning board, to made up of no less than five and no more than nine members, and have more authority in controlling development of the township, according to Supervisor John C. Rehard.

* * *

"A master plan that would make the township a well-thought-out community would be developed by the planning board," Rehard said.

Bloomfield Twp.

Three proposals will be decided by Bloomfield Township voters tomorrow.

* * *

Local issues seeking approval are establishment of a planning commission, sale of township property and the abandonment of the annual township meeting.

The planning commission would guide future development of the fast growing township, according to Supervisor Arne Hulet.

The property proposed for sale is an unused gravel pit at Opdyke and Kensington roads. The 30-acre site is valued at $60,000.

If the property sale is approved and the land is sold, the money would be used to partially finance the $100,000 addition to the township hall, now under construction.

The addition will provide living quarters for the fire department, a 200-seat auditorium for civic events, and offices for the water, sewer and building departments.

Highland Twp.

Approval of a zoning ordinance will be sought of Highland Township voters in the primary election tomorrow.

A permanent zoning ordinance has been rejected three times by voters since 1953.

The township now operates on a temporary zoning ordinance that must be renewed, by state law, every three years.

The proposed ordinance is intended to encourage and regulate development of rural portions of the township.

Southfield

Southfield, in tomorrow's primary, is seeking approval of a proposed charter amendment that would enable the City Council to defray the cost of any public improvements by special assessments.

* * *

The amendment would also permit the Council to provide procedures in cases of over-assessments and underassessments.

Others Question

The question of whether to abolish annual meetings will appear as the sole local issue on ballots in Commerce, Farmington, Holly, Milford, Novi, White Lake and Southfield townships.

BREAK GROUND FOR CHURCH — Turning over the first shovels-full of dirt for the new First Congregational Church of Rochester yesterday were, from left, Moderator Al Musson, the Rev. Robert H. Jacobson, church pastor; and E. H. Forbush, vice chairman of the building council. The new church building, to cost $243,000 with furnishings and equipment, will be constructed across from the parsonage on North Pine street. Village President Sydney Q. Ennis and Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller also took part in the ceremony.

Troy Officials to Get Sewer Bond Report

TROY — The City Commission tonight will hear a progress report on its plan to sell general obligation bonds to finance Troy's proposed sanitary trunk sewers.

If voters approve a $1,375,000 bonding proposition in tomorrow's primary election, the city is expected to start sale of bonds by next June.

The Commission also is awaiting the result of another proposition on the ballot, requesting issuance of general obligation bonds totaling $2,650,000 for construction of a sewage disposal plant.

A "yes" vote by a three-fifths majority is needed for passage of each proposal.

HINGES ON DEQUINDRE

Preparations for both projects will be held off until the end of the year, according to Commissioner Louis Yanich.

By that time, the Commission expects to hear a decision regarding the Dequindre Interceptor, he said.

If constructed, the Dequindre Interceptor would take Troy's sewage to Detroit for treatment, and the city would not have to build its own disposal plant.

* * *

But Yanich and the other commissioners are not overly optimistic about the interceptor, since it is connected with the controversial 12-Town Drain system, a project which has been under litigation almost from the time plans were first announced for it.

* * *

Commissioners spent a busy week campaigning for approval of the two sewer issues.

They sent out literature explaining the proposals, attended a Troy Homeowners Assn. meeting on the matter and held a citywide question and answer session on the project.

Wherever they went, commissioners argued in favor of the proposed system, saying it would attract more business and homeowners to the area.

* * *

They maintained that this would result in a greatly improved tax rate.

TEMPORARY INCREASE

Yanich said the 5.9 mill increase in taxes would be only temporary.

"This system will be self-supporting within five years," Yanich predicted.

"Where sewers are paid for with general obligation bonds (as is proposed), the cost is a deductible item on your federal income tax," it was stated in a brochure mailed to voters.

The brochure also mentioned that FHA mortgages were more easily obtained in areas where sewers are available.

* * *

The City Finance Committee will report on some of the funds now approved for the project at tonight's meeting.

In a recent development, the State Municipal Finance Commission approved $56,000 for sanitary sewers in Troy.

The Commission has decided to postpone discussion concerning another of the city's problems until next month.

Although voicing acceptance of a plan recently to have the City of Detroit supply water to Troy, the Commission has tabled formal action on the move until further study.

Spirited Woman Strikes Officer, Spares Owner

Police said Margaret Armstrong, address unknown, had been drinking at the bar in the Utica Bowling Alleys, 7669 Auburn Rd., when she decided to drive someone else's car.

Clarence "Lefty" Snyder of 41969 Davis St., owner of the bowling alley, said Miss Armstrong nearly hit his car while she attempted to drive away from the front of his establishment.

Lefty attempted to take the car keys away from Miss Armstrong, he said. In the meantime, Patrolman Fred Holloway arrived to arbitrate the dispute.

Miss Armstrong became angry because she was not allowed to drive, the proprietor explained. Miss Armstrong then took a swing at Lefty. He ducked.

She hit Patrolman Holloway and was promptly carted off to jail and charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Avondale Board to Hold Line on Tax

The Avondale Board of Education has voted to hold the line on taxes this year because of additional funds made possible by the County Tax Allocation Board.

The rate will remain at seven mills for debt and 17.7 mills for operation, making a total of 24.17 mills, school officials said today.

In other action the Board approved payment of $37,581 for principal and interest on the 1936 bond issued.

Also discussed at the latest Board meeting were anticipated building needs which are expected with the construction now under way in the new Town and Country Subdivision at Opdyke road and South boulevard.

About 600 homes are planned for the subdivision, causing increased enrollment in the Avondale School System, according to schools Supt. LeRoy R. Watt.

33 Die in Truck Plunge

TRABZON, Turkey (AP) — Thirty-three of 65 persons riding on a truck on a mountain road near here Saturday were killed when the vehicle plunged 180 feet off the road. Police said a broken axle probably caused the accident. Nineteen of the survivors were injured seriously.

Patricia Harris, 17, Gets Nod

Almont Peach Queen Entry Chosen

ALMONT — A lovely, green-eyed blonde has been chosen to represent Almont in the 28th annual Peach Queen competition Aug. 18 in Romeo.

* * *

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenner Harris, of 209 Centennial Ave., Pat received her high school diploma in June. She will attend Eastern Michigan University in the fall where she expects to major in home economics and prepare for a teaching career in that field.

The new Miss Almont will be one of 11 titleholders from area communities competing for the Peach Queen crown in Romeo. They will be judged on the basis of beauty, poise, personality, public speaking ability, appearance and talent.

The winner will reign over the Peach Festival Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2-5, in Romeo. Before the celebration, the queen and her two maids of honor will make public appearances to publicize the event.

Each of the aspirants for the title will be a member of the queen's court, even if not picked as one of the three top spots.

The communities to be represented in the annual queen's competition, besides Almont, are Waterford Township, Rochester, Utica, Lake Orion, Oxford, Dryden, Armada, Warren and Romeo.

QUEEN CANDIDATE — Named to represent Almont in the Romeo Peach Queen competition Aug. 18 is 17-year-old Patricia Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fenner Harris, of 209 Centennial Ave. She will compete against 10 other area title-holders for the coveted crown.

Married in Grosse Pointe

Freeman Ills Honeymoon

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A Northern Michigan honeymoon followed the recent wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanley Freeman III, who spoke their vows at Grosse Pointe Methodist Church.

* * *

The bride, the former Barbara Elizabeth Bowles, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowles of Grosse Pointe. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Freeman Jr. of 1600 E. Gunn Rd., Oakland Township.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of blush peau de sole with overskirt of silk organza and chantilly lace. The floor length bouffant skirt was fashioned with a decollete neckline and a chapel train.

* * *

Maid of honor was Ruth Ann Cade of Champaign, Ill. Constance Clark of Cleveland, Ohio, Michaelyn Roberts of Alma, Beverly McKinnon of Grosse Pointe and Sandra Freeman of Rochester were bridesmaids.

MRS. HARRY S. FREEMAN III

Best man for his brother was John Freeman. Ushers were Arthur Scott, Theodore Brennan, Thomas Bowles, Robert Howse, George Bergstrom and Frederick Rosier.

Yearbook Will Be Distributed

SS. Cyril, Methodius Volume Takes Note of Diamond Jubilee

ORCHARD LAKE — The 1960 Eagle, official yearbook of SS. Cyril and Methodius Seminary, St. Mary College and St. Mary High School, will be distributed this week to 1,800 members of the clergy, alumni, students and friends.

* * *

The 103-page volume, in addition to being a yearbook, is also the Diamond Jubilee book, featuring a history of the schools from their founding in Detroit to the present day.

The largest yearbook ever issued by the Orchard Lake Schools, the 1960 Eagle includes messages of congratulations from church and state dignitaries, photos of the early days of the seminary in Detroit, and coverage on the various aspects of school life in the past.

The yearbook is available to the public at $10 a copy. Twenty-thousand copies of the section featuring the history of the school will be reprinted and made available upon request.

Southfield Wins Sewer Priority

Now Awaits Okay of Bonds Expected to Be Ready for Sale in Week

SOUTHFIELD — This city has won consideration from the State Municipal Finance Commission for its proposed $1,022,000 special assessment bond issue for the construction of new water and sewer facilities.

* * *

Southfield now is awaiting approval of the bonds by the SMFC, expected early next week, City Clerk Patrick Flannery said Wednesday night.

Flannery added that he expected the bonds will be ready for sale in about three weeks.

CREATE HEALTH HAZARD

Priority consideration was given after City Attorney James C. Allen told the Commission that present facilities are creating a health hazard.

* * *

Also, a new million-dollar plant of the Eaton Mfg. Co. of Cleveland cannot be built until the much-needed facilities are completed, he said.

* * *

The proposed one-story structure would be used by the automotive parts firm for offices and educational research.

Formosa Storm Drives 11,000 From Homes

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Typhoon Shirley killed one person on Formosa Sunday night, injured eight and drove nearly 11,000 in Taipei from their homes to higher ground.

* * *

The storm lost some of its fury on the island's north-south mountain range, its maximum winds dropping from 145 miles an hour to less than 100. Then it roared across the Formosa Strait toward the Foochow area of Communist China.

Reveal Winners in Art Show

FARMINGTON — Winners of the Third Annual Arts and Crafts Exhibit at the Universalist Church here were announced today.

The public exhibit will be open daily through Saturday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Southfield Heliport Issue Will Be Decided Tonight

SOUTHFIELD — Whether this city will be the first in Michigan to have its own municipal heliport will be decided tonight at a regular meeting of the City Council.

* * *

If approved by city officials, it will be located at Northland Center.

* * *

Mayor Donald L. Swanson made the proposal to Council members about a month ago. They unanimously agreed on the feasibility of a heliport and turned the matter over to the Southfield Businessmen's Assn. for consideration.

The local merchants' report will be in the hands of the Council today with a recommendation that a license be issued for the helicopter landing strip.

* * *

Mayor Swanson has said, "Southfield is growing so fast commercially that the helicopter service is almost necessary for businessmen traveling from the Pontiac airport and other airports to Southfield."

He added that he feels that it could be built on a 1,000-square-foot lot.

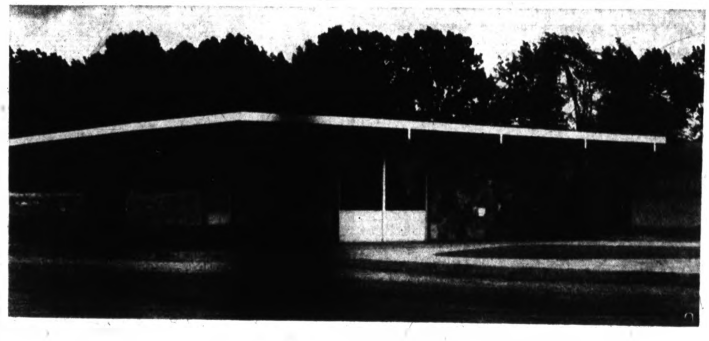

1961 Officers Named for Kerbyson Reunion

Next year's reunion will be in Sanilac County Park near Forester.

Rests on U.S. Embassy Building

Golden Eagle Blitzes London

LONDON (AP)—America has won the battle of Grosvenor Square. A mighty gold eagle with 35-foot wings perched atop the new American Embassy today despite British attempts to shoot it down with a barrage of words.

More than 1,000 watched in silence Saturday as the great bird "flew" slowly to its roost on the modern five-story building. It was lifted by a huge crane towering over the trees in the stately square.

"You see, it doesn't look so big when it's in place," said an Embassy spokesman. And most of the people around him agreed.

Controversy has buzzed around the bird since a member of Parliament called it a "blatant monstrosity" and attempted to have it banned. The building was designed by Eero Saarinen, Birmingham, Mich., architect.

"There is an element of vulgarity about the bird," wrote the Daily Telegraph, "and the whole conception is so hackneyed that it is difficult to be tolerant."

And Friday night a midnight saboteur left a prankish reminder of the eagle's unpopularity.

* * *

In front of the Embassy has stood a big sign with a single word on it, the name of the contractors: "Pauling."

PRANKSTER TOUCH

The prankster painted a big "A" before the name. His spelling was appalling, but his message was clear to amused bystanders. In the end a workman painted it over.

The aluminum eagle is the work of American sculptor Theodore Roszak. It weighs a ton and cost $34,000. Saarinen defends the bird against all critics.

"The eagle will provide a vertical reference point in an otherwise horizontal facade," he has explained.

* * *

A small cluster of newsmen were waiting at Grosvenor Square when the eagle arrived on an open truck, heavily shrouded in canvas. In the hour or so it took to attach the crane more and more spectators gathered, including many American tourists. There was some chuckling as the first part of the bird to be exposed was the rear view.

* * *

The bird's slow and majestic "flight" to the top took seven uneasy minutes. Its wings were ingloriously nested in sandbags for protection.

"I think it's a fine silhouette," admitted one Englishman as it reached its perch.

* * *

"Oh, I do hope you all will get to like it," said a visiting American, Mrs. Jack Weil of Huntington Park, Calif.

Foreign Service Officers to Take Exam Dec. 10

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department will hold its next written foreign service officer examination Dec. 10 in some 65 U. S. cities and at foreign service posts abroad.

Applications and information may be obtained by writing the Board of Examiners for the Foreign Service, Department of State, Washington 25, D. C. The closing date for filing applications is Oct. 24.

* * *

The department announced it was looking for college graduates and college seniors who have studied economics, public and business administration, language and area studies, history or political science.

MELBOURNE — One of Australia's best-known landmarks, the 82-year-old Eastern Markets Building is being razed to make way for an $11,250,000, fourteen story hotel to be built by an American airline company.

Baby Elephant Candi Goes Calling Sunday

* * *

Mrs. and Mrs. O. B. Land were sitting on their front porch at Action Sunday when Candi came calling. Action is a small farming community 20 miles east of Saugus and about 20 airline miles north of Los Angeles.

* * *

SCORNS TV SET

The 2½-year-old animal took one look at the television set and lumbered into another room. The family finally coaxed her out of the house by offering a head of lettuce, which Candi washed down with five gallons of water.

Mrs. Land said Candi was "a perfect lady," adding: "she didn't even knock down a lamp."

Car Crash Seriously Injures Airlines Official

HURLEY, Wis. (AP) — Arthur E. A. Mueller, 52, of Wausau, Wis., board chairman of North Central Airlines, was injured seriously Saturday when his car left a highway south of this Northern Wisconsin community and crashed into a clump of trees.

Mueller, who was alone in the car, was taken to an Ironwood, Mich., hospital for treatment of multiple injuries, including severe head lacerations.

Girl Murdered Near Chicago

WHEELING, Ill. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies today combed, inch by inch, the scene of the latest unsolved child murder—the seventh for the Chicago area in five years.

Betsy Benham, 5, who liked to play "bride", was strangled, and apparently assaulted sexually, sometime Friday night. The next morning, a search party found her partially nude body in a shallow grave in this suburb north of Chicago.

* * *

Cook County Sheriff Frank D. Sain fanned his deputies out in a two-mile radius from the murder scene, a vacant lot near the Benham home.

Known sex offenders were being rounded up for questioning.

Police held an 18-year-old former mental patient seized Sunday night at a forest preserve by rangers who said he was acting suspiciously. He denied any knowledge of the slaying.

* * *

Chicago police crime laboratory technicians were to run tests on two bloodstained shirts found Sunday within two blocks of the shallow grave.

Backbone of Weather Service

12,000 Volunteers Measure Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — In this age of automation, of radar and weather-spy satellites circling the globe, the U.S. Weather Bureau proudly clings to its voluntary observers.

"The backbone of the service," a bureau spokesman calls these 12,000 men and women who, rain or shine, every day in the year, year after year, keep faithful records of the weather and mail them each month to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

* * *

The bureau has no plans whatsoever to replace them by automation.

The 12,000 are a voluntary corps of contributors to public service. They are mostly unheralded and unsung. But they are faithful.

The Stern family at Logan, Iowa, has been taking weather readings for Uncle Sam for 77 proudly clings to its voluntary ob- years.

* * *

At Fort Ross, Calif., George W. Call started recording rainfall for the bureau in 1874 and his son Carlos began in 1907. That makes the combined family record 86 years so far.

SUCH SNOW!

Irwin A. Draper, 77, Red Lodge, Mont., once estimated he had measured enough snow officially to bury the tallest building in Montana—around 6,000 inches in more than half a century.

Louis Hardtla, official observer at Philo, Ohio, applied for the voluntary job so he could settle arguments about the weather. That was in 1901. He's still at it.

* * *

Practically all of the volunteers record precipitation, including the time it began. About half of them report high and low temperatures, and some report wind measurements. They also include any special phenomena such as hail or thunderstorms.

The data they send is in constant use, the bureau says. It helps solve problems of industry, commerce, agriculture and recreation as well as answers to questions like "Is the climate changing, and if so, how?"

Police Laugh Last at Bomb Jokester

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A Houston man was arrested Sunday after he said he was going to explode a bomb in Houston's International Airport.

Monroe O. Caudill, 46, said he was only joking.

* * *

Policeman J. D. Duggan said Caudill asked for a seat on a Braniff Airways Flight to Fargo, N.D. He didn't get it, Duggan said, so he put a brown briefcase on the ticket counter and said: "In that case I'll just set the bomb off here."

* * *

FBI Agent H. O. Hawkins said this was the 26th arrest since the federal agency started a crackdown on bomb threats.

Caudill was charged and released on $250 bond.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Question: Neighbors are complaining about our dog's excessive barking. How can we curb this?

Answer: The canine ability to bark and give warning of impending danger has made the dog a most useful companion to man. Of course, when the animal barks for the sheer joy of barking, he becomes a nuisance. I'm afraid there is really no pat remedy for this.

Observe your pet closely. Try to determine what causes the barking. Strange noises, a stray cat, anything unusual will stimulate him.

* * *

Also, an uncomfortable, hungry, or thirsty dog may overwork his vocal cords. Keep him confined at times when his barking is the most disturbing. A last resort would be having him debarked by your veterinarian.

* * *

This involves cutting the vocal cords under anesthesia, and the dog loses much of his usefulness. I do not approve of depriving an animal of one of his faculties unless it is absolutely necessary.

Will Dedicate Bench Honoring Bernard Baruch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard M. Baruch plans to return once more to the same old weatherbeaten wooden bench in Washington where he used to sit and think and talk.

* * *

It's the bench near a tree in Lafayette Park, across the street from White House, which will be dedicated at noon Aug. 16 as the Bernard Baruch Bench of Inspiration.

The ceremonies call for this elder statesman to sit on the bench once more, facing the White House.

* * *

The tall, white-haired adviser to presidents, who is almost unbent by his 90 years, will be joined on the bench by three boys.

* * *

There'll be a Cub Scout, a Boy Scout and an Explorer Scout, representing the Boy Scouts of America who are sponsoring the ceremonies to honor Baruch, who will be 90 Aug. 19.

Stocks Strain for Tiny Gain

* * *

Steels and oils were steady as the market attempted to continue and consolidate Friday's big advance, which equalled the best for the year made Jan. 5.

Most changes were small, however, and trading moved at a moderate pace.

Aircrafts and metals also were higher for the most part, while other major groups were mixed.

* * *

American Motors, last week's most active stock, started off with a gain of ¼ to 22⅞ on an opening block of 5,000 shares and later held the gain.

Ford and Chrysler eased and General Motors was steady.

Fractional advances were posted by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel and Republic Steel, while oils moving slightly higher included Standard Oil (New Jersey), Texaco and Royal Dutch.

* * *

Eastman Kodak lost part of last week's big rise, falling better than a point. Also moving lower were Montgomery Ward, Radio Corp., Southern Railway and Johns-Manville.

Merck spurted around a point in the drug group, while small gains were posted for U.S. Rubber, Douglas, DuPont, Universal Match, Baltimore & Ohio and Eastern Air Lines.

* * *

Fibreboard Paper also failed to improve after opening off ½ at 30¼ on 8,000 shares.

Paper Shocks Parisians by Praising U.S. Food

PARIS (AP)—A Paris newspaper has recommended American cooking to its cuisine-conscious readers.

Paris-Jour told its startled readers that behind America's vitamin-packed, precooked lunches lies a tradition of regional dishes that can satisfy even a French palate.

There are coal veins under two-thirds of Illinois.

Sleeper Shot, Woman Held

Condition of Man Is Satisfactory After Bullet Pierces Both Ankles

A 40-year-old man was shot early Saturday as he slept in his room at 86 Houston St.

Held in the shooting of Sanford Edwards is Mrs. Sarah McKinney, 34, of 53 Orton St.

Pontiac police reported that Edwards, who was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today, was shot once with a .38-caliber pistol.

FOUND BY ROOMER

Edwards said since he was sleeping when shot, he could not furnish police with any information.

He was found on his blood-soaked bed by a fellow roomer who took him to the hospital.

Mrs. Fanny Prude, Edwards' landlady, told officers she'd seen Mrs. McKinney enter the stairway leading to Edwards' room, and a short time later heard a shot.

At the McKinney home, her husband Leon, 45, turned over to officers a .38-caliber pistol he said he'd owned for five years.

He said he knew nothing of the shooting.

Mrs. McKinney is held for investigation of attempted murder.

Ex-Financial VP Dies

Lillie, a native of Coopersville, had been associated with Michigan Trust 50 years.

Futures of Soybeans Sell at Season High

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market started the week off on a steady to strong trend today with soybean futures hitting new season highs on gains of about a cent a bushel.

* * *

The grains advanced small fractions despite rather liberal receipts of wheat, corn and oats over the weekend. Export business was slow but there appeared to be a moderate demand for wheat on mill accounts.

* * *

Brokers said the buying of soybeans was general, indicating it included a good volume of short covering and perhaps some expansion of long positions.

Kiwanis Group Active Despite Its Newness

The infant Drayton Plains-Waterford Kiwanis Club is approaching community service with a big heart way beyond its years.

* * *

Just a year old, the club presented the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children with a $170 check today, the second such venture since the club's founding.

Six months ago the Kiwanis club gave the local crippled children's society three "stand-up" tables which enable the youngsters to play without discomfort.

* * *

Drayton Plains-Waterford Club President Elmer O. Johnson said his Kiwanis unit is considering an annual donation to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Halt Private Ventures Into Lake George Area

LAKE GEORGE, N.Y. (AP)—The State Education Department has halted private exploration of an area of Lake George where divers recently found the remains of boats that may have carried troops during the French and Indian War.

Sheriff Carl McCoy said the education department planned to use photographs and measurements to determine whether the objects have historic value.

CIRCUS BOUND—Twenty of Pontiac's underprivileged children were among the delighted crowd who watched the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus Saturday. The Lions Club donated the tickets, and several other community agencies aided in making arrangements. The children were taken to the circus and supervised there by members of the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. (PPOA). With three of the children are (from left) Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, Policewoman Mary P. Sweeney, and Patrolman Billie L. Irwin.

Believe Murder Sex-Motivated

Autopsy on Mackinac Isle Victim 'Confirms Widow Was Raped

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — State Police say they are working on the theory that the robbery-slaying of Mrs. Frances Lacey was sex-motivated.

* * *

Lt. Robert Bilgen said an autopsy performed by Dr. Jean Webster, a Petoskey pathologist, indicated the wealthy 49-year-old Dearborn widow had been raped.

They said the man had an "airtight alibi" and they were convinced he was not connected with the slaying of Mrs. Lacey.

* * *

Mrs. Lacey left her hotel last Sunday to visit relatives on the other side of this famous resort island.

An intensive four-day search for her ended Thursday when her body was discovered under a brush pile. Police said she had been strangled with her own undercloth-ing.

Dental Assn. Edict Historic

Fluoride Toothpaste 'Effective Preventive'

NEW YORK (AP)—A commercial toothpaste containing fluoride today won official recognition from the American Dental Assn. as an "effective decay preventive agent." It was the first time the ADA has accorded such an endorsement.

* * *

The endorsement of "Crest" toothpaste, manufactured by Procter & Gamble, came in an article published in the association's journal.

"None of the other dentrifices evaluated to date is supported by evidence considered adequate to demonstrate substantial effectiveness," wrote Dr. Lester W. Burket of Philadelphia, chairman of the ADA Council on Dental Therapeutics.

SERIES OF SEVEN TESTS

The article stated the endorsement was based on a series of seven tests among student at Indiana University and school children in a Minneapolis, Minn., suburb.

The journal said the toothpaste, while an aid in combating dental decay, is no cure-all.

"Nor will it substitute for fluoridation of community water supplies. Fluoridation, which is supported by exhaustive long-term studies, remains by far the most effective means for obtaining the benefits of fluorides," ADA said.

Illness May Put Raul in Command

Fidel Ready to Step Out?

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's continuing illness generated growing speculation today that the Cuban Prime Minister may yield the reins of government temporarily to his Yankee-hating brother Raul, whom he once described as more radical than himself.

* * *

Government-controlled radio stations broke their ban on Sunday newscasts to report that the Prime Minister — only 13 days away from his 34th birthday — is "still convalescing" despite official reports two weeks ago that he had recovered fully.

The surprise announcement said Castro now is "improving satisfactorily." It did not say what he was suffering from.

After he was stricken July 9, army doctors said Castro had a "pneumonic" infection of the left lung. This was generally interpreted to mean pneumonia. But there have been rumors of a more serious illness, including a suggestion major surgery would be necessary.

TREATMENT IN MOSCOW?

Dr. Antonio Rodriquez Diaz, who has been treating the Prime Minister, was reported by his aides out of the country on professional business. There was speculation that his trip might be in connection with Castro's illness.

One rumor said Castro would go to Moscow for treatment.

Castro's last public appearance was at the 7th anniversary celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement in eastern Cuba. He looked haggard and worn.

* * *

Maj. Raul Castro, minister of the armed forces, returned Saturday from a European trip that took him to the Soviet Union and a meeting with Premeir Nikita Khrushchev, Czechoslovakia and the United Arab Republic.

Raul denied published reports that he cut short his trip and hurried back because of his brother's illness.

The elder Castro has designated Raul, 28, to take over as chief of the revolution if anything happens to him.

Early in 1959 the Prime Minister told a presidential palace crowd: "If you think I'm radical, wait till you see my little brother."

Weekend Drownings Take Eight Lives

Nine Die in State Traffic

By The Associated Press

Pleasant weather brought Michigan residents onto the highways and waterways over the weekend—where tragedy awaited more than a dozen families.

Traffic killed at least nine persons, and eight drowned.

The Associated Press count began at 8 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Traffic deaths:

Carolyn Pollard, 3, of Flint was killed Sunday when a car driven by her father, Sylvester Pollard, went out of control in Flint and rolled 346 feet.

Richard Hurley, 16, of Flat Rock was killed Sunday when he rode his bicycle in front of a car on Telegraph road near Flat Rock.

Wilbert Humble, 34, of Hamblin, La., was killed Saturday night when he was struck by a hit-run driver as he returned to the farm on which he was a migrant worker near Benton Harbor. His body was found about eight miles southeast of Benton Harbor.

Harold Baylle, 21, of Union City was killed Saturday when his car collided with a truck on M60 at Burlington.

* * *

James Coger, 4, of Auburn was killed Saturday when he was thrown from a car driven by his grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Coger, of Auburn. Her car collided with another at a Bay City intersection.

Harley E. Day, 63, of Flint was killed Saturday when his car and another auto collided head-on in Flint.

Ida V. Russell, 39, of Flint was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding ran out of control on U.S. 23 and struck a tree in Zilwaukee Township, Saginaw County.

Victor Bacel, 51, of Detroit was killed Saturday night when his car ran out of control in Detroit and crashed into three parked cars.

Donald J. Kremer, 17, of Comstock Park was killed a block from his home Sunday when he rode his bike into the side of a car driven by Roger Matthews of Grand Rapids.

Lester Barnes, 41, of Grand Ledge drowned in Lake Michigan Saturday near Holland. Police said he was drawn into deep water by an undertow.

Video Finishes the Job Autos Started on Sports

(During the absence on vacation of UPI television critic Fred Danzig, his column will be taken over by other UPI columnists.)

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI) — The impact of television on our wonderful little world of sports has been, as Casey Stengel might say, "tee-ree-mendous."

What the automobile began, TV has completed. The picture box has sports-minded people all across the national thinking big—meaning big league.

Anything designated as "minor league" simply won't do any longer in many areas with rapidly expanding population.

Hence, a new professional football league opens this fall; efforts to create a third major baseball league are under way and, if that project fails, expansion of the current two major leagues to include as many as four new cities certainly will follow; pro basketball is on the move.

Mass production of the automobile dealt the first major blow to minor-league thinking in what are remembered fondly as the "Good Old Days."

Back in my hometown in the Middle West, we used to have a fine little pro baseball club that flourished with local patronage.

In those days, Chicago (170 miles away) and St. Louis (150) represented formidable treks to the nearest major league baseball.

But when Detroit motor-makers finally got us all on wheels, our town team died of neglect.

If we weren't baseball weekending in Chicago or St. Louis, we were saving our dough to weekend in Chicago or St. Louis. Our local league disbanded.

Today you can get for free:

Baseball World Series, All-Star games and "Game of the Day." The best in college and pro football, The Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes—racing's "Triple Crown."

Big bunks of America's greatest golf championships including the U.S. Open, Masters and PGA, often the finest pieces of sports drama on the air. National tennis championships at Forest Hills and, occasionally, the Davis Cup challenge round when the U. S. is lucky enough to be in it. And the Olympic Games.

Boxing is a television casualty—and that's another story.

Unlike boxing, most major sports have learned to live with television—and to benefit by it—through the simple matter of "control."

You see only what the promoters want you to see.

Yet, it's more than enough to make viewers in bypassed areas start thinking, "We want to be in the big leagues, too."

"In time, there will be not only three major baseball leagues but four," says Branch Rickey, who is trying to start the third one. "It is inevitable," he says.

The move is on to Denver, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Atlanta, Montreal, Buffalo, Minneapolis - St. Paul in either pro football, baseball or both.

To those of us working in the press box, television's impact is felt directly in other ways.

In golf, starting times of the players are arranged so "the hot shots" on the final round will be on the air for several holes—including the all-important last one.

Boxing matches start at the appointed TV time even if it's still daylight in the Far West.

But most of all it makes us sweat.

Plenty of episodes that make a lively TV shot during the progress of a game, don't mean a darned thing in the over-all story that must be written when it's over.

Nominees to Carve Out Different Paths

Agree on Foreign Policy Goals

(Editor's Note: In a world of crisis and change, few issues will be aired more thoroughly in the coming presidential campaign than foreign policy. How do the candidates stack up in this crucial field?)

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's press secretary recently handed newsmen an imposing list of world leaders with whom Nixon has talked, at home and abroad.

Included, of course, was Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Nixon's opponent in the much-publicized "kitchen debate" in Moscow, as well as leaders of virtually every other important nation.

News secretary Herbert G. Klein left it up to the reporters to draw their own conclusions as to the importance of such a broad acquaintance in the forthcoming presidential campaign — a campaign in which foreign policy is expected to play a major part.

Nixon's Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, already has indicated he will counter this international name-dropping by pointing to his membership on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, his own extensive travels abroad, his foreign policy writings and his 14 years in Congress.

COUNTERCLAIMS

And, if Nixon can boast of his nearly eight years of service in policy making at Cabinet meetings and as a member of the National Security Council, Kennedy can talk, as he has been talking, of the collapse of the Paris summit conference, the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit to Japan, the Cuban and other crises, and try to put part of the blame on Nixon.

* * *

The campaign will have to define the areas of disagreement on reaching the broad foreign policy goals common to both candidates.

Kennedy and Nixon both are on record in favor of continued foreign aid, particularly to underdeveloped countries — with possible differences in emphasis. Both would give the President power to extend economic and financial aid behind the Iron Curtain if he feels it would help loosen satellite bonds to Moscow.

THEY AGREE

Neither has ruled out future summit conferences, though both have indicated that primary reliance in the future should be placed on negotiations at the foreign minister and ambassadorial levels.

Both are on record favoring greater reliance on the World Court for settlement of international disputes by repealing a reservation against the court's jurisdiction in disputes involving the United States.

In a major speech to the Senate last June Kennedy declared that the issue in the campaign is not who "can best stand up to Khrushchev" or "swap threats and insults."

"The real issue is who can stand up and summon America's vast resources to the defense of freedom against the most dangerous enemy it ever faced," he said at the time. "We must make invulnerable a nuclear retaliatory power second to none."

SIX POINTS

In addition, he said, the United States must (1) be ready to intervene quickly in limited wars which threaten the peace, (2) rebuild the NATO alliance, (3) increase the flow of capital to underdeveloped nations in Asia, Africa, and Latin America, (4) reconstruct relations with South America, (5) find a new approach to the Middle East and (6) devise a long-range solution to the Berlin problem.

* * *

These are goals to which Nixon subscribes, although he sharply challenges Kennedy's claims that the United States has allowed its defenses to lag.

* * *

The United States, Nixon insists, is and under proper leadership will remain, "the strongest and morally," in the world.

Nixon told a recent meeting of the SEATO Council of foreign ministers the United States must be guided in the years ahead by the all-important principle of "firmness without belligerency."

After Khrushchev torpedoed the summit conference Nixon declared, "we must continue to explore every possible avenue for negotiating the outstanding differences we have with the Communist nations."

In his Senate speech, Kennedy said the summit collapse marked an end to the illusion that "personal good will is a substitute for good, carefully prepared bargaining on concrete issues, the illusion that good intentions are a substitute for good, carefully prepared bargaining on concrete issue, the illusion that good intentions are a substitute for strong creative leadership."

Bob Knows His Tenure at White House Ending

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO—Bob Montgomery knows that his White House term's almost expired and that he isn't going to be re-elected.

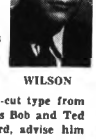

"I think I'll retire from political life and make some more movies with Jimmy Cagney," the suave TV and film star said when we trapped him in a crowded lobby.

Bob advanced from an actor to an asterisk in future history books by pioneering the post of White House TV adviser to Pres. Eisenhower—he even has a bedroom and East Wing office at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

But time tears on, new bosses bring new aides.

* * *

WILSON

And Jack Kennedy's scouting for a crew-cut type from Hollywood or Madison Ave. to help brothers Bob and Ted Kennedy and brother-in-law Peter Lawford, advise him on camera angles.

Montgomery coolly answered a jocular remark by Peter Lawford, who'd said he didn't want to be thought of as "Kennedy's Bob Montgomery."

'NEVER DID ANYTHING'

"Bob never did anything for Ike," Lawford said in Los Angeles.

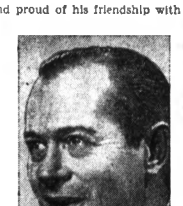

"I don't know the young man but he is entitled to his opinion — valueless as it is," Montgomery retorted.

Pleased with the results and proud of his friendship with Ike, Montgomery said he'd worked for six years "absolutely without pay."

* * *

Rogers—who started helping Nixon in '52—also has worked for "expenses only," he said.

Johnson Eyes Food for Peace

Calls Farm Surpluses Disgrace, Says Dems Would Dole Them Out

MONTICELLO, Iowa (AP) — Democratic vice-presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson says American farm surpluses are "a national disgrace" and proposals of Republicans to get rid of them won't help.

He pledged Sunday that if Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts wins the presidential election next fall, Democrats will push a "food for peace" plan of using American abundance to help other nations.

* * *

Johnson addressed a crowd of about 10,000 who turned out in dusty, 90-degree heat at the Jones County Fairgrounds for a baked-beans-and-barbecue fund raising luncheon for U.S. Rep. Leonard Wolf.

After his speech, Johnson visited a farm and then flew to Austin, Texas.

The partisan crowd cheered Johnson repeatedly as he criticized Vice President Richard M. Nixon and rapped the Eisenhower administration record on farm matters.

He also said Nixon changed many of his own views on various issues after a conference with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller just before the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

* * *

"Any man who can turn Nixon flip-flop in just one night, you've got to admire," Johnson declared, "but think what would happen if Khrushchev got Nixon in the kitchen all day."

Shoot Westerns at a Fast Clip

TV Will Be Dominated by Horses; Detective, Comedy Shows High

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—That blanket of haze over this film factory town isn't smog. It's gun smoke, partners, caused by all the shooting now going on.

Although most of us viewers are presumed to be lolling somewhere far from our TV sets, vacation time is over in the film city. Production is in full swing, and it's pretty noisy.

The mills of the TV gods are grinding exceedingly fast, turning out the staples of our fall and winter entertainment diet.

A few months ago, the trend-spotters were predicting that TV's action fad was on its way out and that the big thing this fall would be comedy — family comedy, situation comedy. Well, the experts were all wrong.

WEST STILL LEADS

Almost half the programs in production are Westerns, which means the horse is still king. In second place are the police, private-eye and other gunplay-type series. Comedy shows are a poor third.

More than 80 per cent of the network shows this fall will be on film. CBS alone has 29 series shooting; and each of the other networks has about the same number.

The one thing, possibly, which may make the approaching season a little different is that there may be less violence in the action shows. That rumor goes around every year, but this time it may be true because television has been criticized so widely about it.

Australian Junior Chambers of Commerce have a drive underway to secure more jobs for 370,000 incapacitated Australians and 150,000 lifetime invalids now dependent on government pensions.

Meg and Tony Baby-Sit

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret and her husband, Antony Armstrong-Jones, did some baby sitting Sunday. But there wasn't much sitting.

Most of the time they were in and out, walking the baby-Jones, an active pair of royal children.

A convoy of royal cars headed north for Sandringham, the royal family's residence in rural Norfolk. Margaret and her husband were in one automobile, Charles and Anne and a detective were in another, the baby-sitting Sunday. But there wasn't much sitting.

Up ahead, Margaret and Armstrong-Jones looked back apprehensively.

The caravan reached Sandringham, trying to keep up with the motion, trying to keep up with an active pair of royal children.

Their charges were Queen Elizabeth for lunch, but by early afternoon — noon, Charles and Anne — supervised by Margaret and Tony — were out on the road again.

Finally, a greengrocer Brian Clayton at Burnham said: "If you want ice cream, there's a pub up the road that's just started selling them."

About 12 o'clock, Prince Charles and Princess Anne — dressed in blue jeans — dined on ice cream while their baby-sitters ate pork pies, please," he waited.

"Two pork pies, please," he waited.
