Taipei Urges Aid to Stop 'Another Hungary'

Tibet's Revolt Spreads to Red China

Official Says Border Areas Are Up in Arms

Fate of Dalai Lama Unknown as Nehru Hopes for Peace

TAIPEI (UP)—The anti-Communist revolt in Tibet has spread to Communist China, a Nationalist Chinese cabinet member said today. He urged the anti-Communist world to assist the revolution lest it become another Hungary.

The official was Li Yung-hsin, chairman of the Nationalist government's Mongolian and Tibetan Affairs Commission. He said the uprising had spread across the border to the Chinese provinces of Sikang and Chinghai. Sikang also borders India.

Li made the statement shortly after Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told Parliament in New Delhi today that street fighting broke out in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa. Nehru expressed concern for the safety of the Dalai Lama whose whereabouts is now unknown.

Nehru said the situation in Lhasa later became quiet. He expressed hope the Dalai Lama was safe and that the present tense situation will be resolved peacefully.

Nehru also disclosed that the heaviest fighting broke out last Friday in the capital when rumors spread through Lhasa that the Chinese Communists planned to kidnap the Dalai Lama, spiritual and temporal ruler of the mountain kingdom.

Revolts had been reported earlier in various parts of Tibet but fighting broke out in Lhasa for the first time. Unconfirmed reports reaching the Indian border said Communist planes had bombed Lhasa.

The Chinese official gave no sources for his report the revolt had spread across the border but the Nationalist government is known to have intelligence agents on the mainland who report to Taipei.

Li and other high-ranking Nationalist officials met in secrecy today to study possible steps the Nationalists might take to help the revolt

★ ★ ★

President Chiang Kai-shek has predicted the Peiping regime would collapse from internal revolt and officals have hinted they would send troops to the mainland when a revolt does break out.

The independent Taipei newspaper United Daily News predicted today the "regional fighting for freedom soon will lead to a nationwide uprising."

Li said the Chinese Communists were determined to stamp out the revolt and said "The free world has to give Tibet timely spiritual, material and technical help so it will not become another Hungary."

REFUGEES STRANDED

He said 2,900 refugees have arrived in India from Tibet since fighting broke out and they are stranded near the border with little food, money or shelters.

Nehru told Parliament that bullets fired by Chinese Communist authorities struck the Indian consulate building on March 20 but he said there were no Indian casualties.

Ike, Macmillan Draft Formula for Soviet Talks

Adenauer, De Gaulle Eye 3-Point Approach to Summit Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have proposed that the Western Allies adopt a three-point approach to a summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev this summer.

It was learned today that this was the compromise formula agreed on in talks between the two Western leaders at Camp David, Md., Saturday.

Now under discussion by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle, it represents a compromise between Macmillan's urgent desire to meet with Khrushchev unconditionally and Eisenhower's reluctance to meet without promise of achievement.

The three points:

1. The Big Four powers—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union — should open a foreign ministers meeting at Geneva May 11; Khrushchev has already substantially agreed to this. The foreign ministers should reach agreements on the widest possible range of German and related problems, try to narrow Soviet-West differences and prepare proposals for a later summit conference.

2. The heads of government should hold their meeting when justified by the work of the foreign ministers.

3. The foreign ministers therefore would have the responsibility of determining the time, place, and subject mater of the summit conference.

The proposal covering these points was drafted by Macmillan and Eisenhower for inclusion in Western notes now expected to go to Moscow later this week. Khrushchev has been pressing for a summit conference for many months.

CRISIS OBJECTIVE?

Some officials say the forging of a summit meeting was one of the Soviet leaders objectives in stirring up the Berlin crisis beginning last November.

Macmillan feels the Western heads of government must negotiate with Khrushchev even if the foreign ministers conference is a failure.

Eisenhower feels every effort must be made to get basic progress toward a solution of the Berlin crisis and some start on other German problems at the foreign ministers meeting.

Eisenhower was reported to consider as "fine" the results of the discussions he began with Macmillan here Friday. A British spokesman described the prime minister as "happy and satisfied."

Windows of Her Heart Open

By ELEANOR K. WOOLVIN
Teacher of Knitting

The 'Voice' was in good form that morning. Even my tightly closed windows could not keep it out. In harsh Russian-Latvian accents Ede, the woman next door, was shouting at her noisy children.

E. K. WOOLVIN

In my tiny, furnished room I lay on the day bed, alone, discouraged, frightened. I had lost my job as knitting instructor in a small shop. An attack of flu had left me helplessly weak.

"Rest," my doctor said. But how could I in this wretched neighborhood? With tears of self-pity I prayed, "God . . . oh please, God, help me."

Later that morning there was a pounding at the door. Before I could call, "Go away," a huge, oxboned woman edged in. I watched fascinated as Ede stuffed herself into the mended rocker by my bed.

"Hallo," she said. The room vibrated.

"Hello," I murmured.

"Please," Ede said, "I want to ask favor. Please. I like to have you teach me to knit."

My sick spirit formed an immediate "No!" but to my surprise it came from my lips, "I'll try."

"How does it happen that you, a European woman, do not know how to knit?" I asked.

★ ★ ★

Her eyes looked back into a time forgotten. "So many children. Too soon my mother dies." She stood up and went to the window. "Then for me concentration camp . . ."

The next few days we struggled with knit and purl. Ede's broad work hands had never held needles. I felt she would soon give up. But she kept coming.

Finally she bought skeins of pink, blushing pink, to make a sweater. "In concentration camp," she explained, "We were separated, yet Michael thought only of me. And always in his dreams I was wearing pink sweater. Now I make."

"We are going on week's vacation," she told me. "When I come back, you will be surprised."

★ ★ ★

Her vacation was mine, as were the quietness and privacy I longed for. On Sunday I was weakly attempting to bathe when Ede puffed in like a spouting whale. "Am home!" she shouted.

"So take a look," she beamed. "Is good, no?"

As if it were gossamer spun by

Ike May Ask Jobless Pay for 3 Million More Persons

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower conferred with eight governors and three cabinet members today on steps to strengthen the federal-state unemployment benefits program.

The President was reported to be ready to recommend that Congress extend coverage to an estimated 3,200,000 additional workers.

Informed sources said, however, that the President had overruled Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell's recommendation for federal standards to increase the amount and the duration of jobless pay.

While the White House meeting was under way, the Senate Finance Committee approved 15-0 a three-month extension of the temporary federal jobless pay program.

The committee voted 12-3 to reject a proposal of Sen Pat McNamara (D-Mich) and 17 other Democratic senators for an extension to July 1, 1960, under liberalized standards.

Eisenhower was said to be sticking to his belief that any hikes in amounts or durations of the state-administered jobless pay programs should be up to the states.

Eisenhower invited the executive committee of the Governors Conference to the White House to explore ways to improve the federal-state unemployment compensation system.

Eisenhower has repeatedly urged the states to improve the amounts and duration of benefits under their programs. They have responded, but not to the degree he has asked.

Meanwhile, a number of Democrats in Congress are advocating federal legislation in view of the nearly five million presently unemployed.

The House has passed a three-month limited extension of the temporary program, but in the Senate there is a move to convert this into legislation permanently raising the level of benefits and duration.

Student, 20, Wedged in 40-Foot Cleft

BUXTON, England (AP)—Three attempts to pull an unconscious college student from a cavern crevice 1,000 feet underground failed today. Rescue workers feared he was near death.

Three times members of a 70-man rescue team got a rope around the 20-year-old youth. Each time it snapped when they tried to yank him out of the funnel-shaped cleft where he was jammed 40 feet down.

"It will be a miracle if they get him out," said one of the workers.

Neil Moss of Oxford University was wedged in by his shoulders 40 feet down a funnel - shaped cleft some 18 inches wide in places. The cleft, about a mile and a half from the mouth of Peak Cavern, lies at the end of a 400-foot-long, two - foot - high corkscrew-shaped tunnel named th Devil's Hole.

Foul Play Hits 2 Defendants

One Reports Attempt to Burn Him, Other Victim of Robbery

DETROIT (AP)—Police were investigating today two acts of violence within 36 hours involving two defendants in a Recorder's Court extortion trial in 1957.

Moses Maraian, 34, on bond pending an appeal of a 3½-20-year prison sentence in the extortion case, staggered into a Canton Township nursing home Saturday night saying two men had tried to burn him in his car.

Lester Greenspan, 47, a Detroit tobacco wholesaler and a co-defendant in the extortion trial, reported to police three gunmen entered his store today and robbed him of $7,000 in cash and $35,000 in checks.

Police planned to question Greenspan and Maraian and check any association between them since the extortion trial.

Maraian was sentenced by Judge Gerald W. Groat for trying to extort $4,000 from another Detroit wholesale tobacco dealer. Judge Groat ruled there was insufficient evidence to connect Greenspan with the case and freed him during the trial.

Maraian has a police record of 54 arrests with eight convictions for charges ranging from armed robbery to attempted extortion.

Saturday night he staggered into the Tonquish Valley Convalescent Home and told Mary Huff, home director:

"Two men—I don't know who they were—took me for a ride. They hit me on the head with a pipe and threw something in the car and tried to burn me up."

★ ★ ★

To Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, however, Maraian said only:

"I'm all right. I want to go home."

Verhine Back on Stand Tonight in Straley Case

Patrolman Robert W. Verhine, former range officer and firearms instructor of the Pontiac Police Dept., will take the stand again tonight when the Civil Service Commission resumes its hearing into ouster charges against suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Verhine, who was returned to routine patrol duty by Public Safety Director George D. Eastman in December 1958, testified Friday night that police weapons were "in poor condition" since his transfer.

Tonight's hearing will begin at 7:30 in the City Commission chambers. In an attempt to speed up the hearings, commissioners have scheduled sessions for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

They are racing against the calendar in an effort to reach a decision in the Straley case before April 6 when voters go to the polls to decide the fate of civil service for police.

Straley was suspended Feb. 9 by City Manager Walter K. Willman on charges of incompetency and inefficiency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

Taxes on Car Sales in State Up $1 Million

LANSING (AP) — Motor vehicle sales taxes in the first two months of 1959 rose nearly a million dollars over the January-February period last year, Secretary of State James M. Hare reported today.

City Group Eyes Move to Alaska

Five Families Reported Interested in Settling on Kenai Peninsula

An expedition of Pontiac citizens is being formed to travel to the rugged Kenai Peninsula of Alaska sometime this summer.

Heading the proposed caravan is Dwight Oliver, 26, of 105 W. New York Ave., a machine repairman at the Vinco Corp. in Detroit.

Oliver said five families have indicated interest in the caravan so far. The group leaving in summer would consist only of men who would select homestead sites and erect temporary housing, Oliver said.

The families would be brought to Alaska in January or February 1960, Oliver stated.

Oliver is married and has two children.

He has received information from U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland) and is waiting to hear from the Land Bureau in Alaska.

"There's plenty of land available—all we have to do is get it," Oliver said. Under homesteading regulations, pioneers are given 160 acres. In three years time, they must clear 20 acres and erect a habitable house.

Oliver said the caravan will probably be limited to 15 families.

He said he is planning the move to Alaska because he's "fed up with city life," and urged interested parties to contact him if they were interested in joining the caravan.

Stop Father Tossing Infant Into Street

DETROIT (AP) — Antonio Field, 28, was held for investigation of cruelty today after police said he threatened to throw his 13-months-old daughter, Rita Sue, in front of traffic at a Detroit street intersection.

★ ★ ★

Two patrolmen said they grabbed the little girl from Field's arms yesterday at East Warren and Conner.

★ ★ ★

Infant Inkster Girl Killed in House Fire

DETROIT (UPI) — An eight-month-old girl was burned to death yesterday when fire swept a suburban Inkster home. The victim was Jacquelynne Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen.

Inkster firemen said the girl's brother, Newell, 3, apparently had been playing with matches in the bedroom he shared with the baby.

The girl's father made several attempts to save her after he led his wife and Newell to safety but smoke and flames drove him back. He suffered burns on the face and shoulders.

CANDY ROGERS

Seek Maniac in Rape-Murder

Find 9-Year-Old's Body After Search; Police Vow Capture

SPOKANE, (AP) — An aroused police force vowed today to find the killer of Candy Rogers, a 9-year-old Campfire girl whose ravished body was found in a clump of woods after a 16-day search.

"We'll put every available man on the case and keep them there until the thing is solved," said Police Chief Clifford Payne, father of a daughter aged 9.

"We know what we're looking for now. We're looking for a maniac."

He said it appeared the child had been picked up on a street corner, raped, strangled with a piece of her own slip, then buried under a pile of brush miles from town—all within a few hours 17 days ago.

Never before has Spokane or its 230-man police force been so stirred by a case. The pretty fourth-grader vanished March 6 while selling Campfire mints door to door near her home.

Police found six boxes of mints scattered near a bridge in the 12 hours that followed the disappearance, then ran into a blank wall despite 750 tips from substantial citizens, skid row bums and tea leaf readers. Three searchers in an Air Force helicopter were killed in a crash.

Thousands of volunteers combed the canyon below Candy's home, scoured along the banks of the canyon's Spokane River, checked garages, old cars and—with apologies beforehand—homes of reputable residents.

New! . . . Garlic Milk

LONDON (UPI) — Dairymen today were trying to clear up the mystery of the garlic-flavored milk. South Londoners complained the milk they poured in their porridge and coffee and tea over the weekend had a garlic flavor. A spokesman for United Dairies said the flavor could have been picked up by cows feeding on silage, kale and certain garlic-like weeds.

FBI Arrests 11 in Contest 'Fix'

Puzzles in Newspapers Involved in Nationwide Swindle

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today announced the arrest of 11 persons in what it described as a nationwide swindle involving newspaper puzzle contests.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the swindle operations crossed the U.S.-Canadian border. FBI agents today picked up four persons in Oregon, three in Michigan, two in Pennsylvania, and one each in Indiana and Wisconsin.

They were charged with conspiracy to violate federal laws on mail fraud and fraud by wire.

Similar charges have been filed against two other persons in Canada and a resident of Minnesota. None of these three is in custody.

Two Portland, Ore., newspapers —The Oregonian and The Journal — announced several weeks ago they had heard reports of a "fix" on newspaper puzzle contests. They dropped such contests from their papers and asked the FBI to investigate. Officials in Portland joined in the request.

Hoover's announcement said the investigation showed that answers to puzzle contests conducted by two New York feature syndicates, obtained in advance by a devious scheme, were used in winning more than $45,000 between November 1958 and February of this year.

★ ★ ★

The FBI said the ringleaders in the operation established a base in Canada and subscribed to the puzzle feature services, using the name and address of a non-existent newspaper company which they called "Suburban Publishers, Ltd., 220 Epworth, London, Ontario, Canada."

Windows of Heart Open in God's Way fairies, she dangled an incredibly soiled, mangled piece of pink wool before my eyes.

"But, it's horrible," I gasped. "Look at the mistakes. It's even dirty! Why did I waste energy trying to teach you?"

Until that moment she had not really seen me. Now she looked me over, inch by naked inch. Without a word, she picked up the bath sponge. With amazing tenderness she washed me down, half-carried me back to bed, closed the door softly. I turned my feverish face into the pillow and sobbed.

Hours later Ede tiptoed in with a tray, and when I opened my mouth to apologize, she began spooning in rich, thick soup. No food ever tasted more delicious. It became routine for her to bring a new delicacy each day.

I grew strong, almost fat . . . and one day we began to re-knit the pink monstrosity.

To gain back strength I walked a great deal. Once I had hurried, head down, along the blocks of crowded tenements with their noisy, many-tongued families. Now I chose the time of day when mothers were walking babies, and I lingered where little groups were sitting on stone steps to visit. When some of them called me "Teacher," I felt that I was rich, though I still had no job.

Ede joined us one afternoon when I was bouncing a black-eyed baby on my knee. She watched intently. "For this moment I have been waiting," she said. "You are well." She clasped her strong hands as a child would in an attitude of prayer. "Now I am thanking God."

That a woman whom I had completely rejected should intercede with God in my behalf was more love than I had ever known.

At last the sweater was finished. Michel and Ede came together to show me. In Michel's eyes as he gazed at his pink-twined dream girl was more thanks than I felt I deserved.

For I now knew that Ede had been the answer to my desperate cry for help. Certainly not the answer I had prayed for, but a far better one. For Ede had opened not only the windows of my room, but also the windows of my heart.

59ers Go On After New Truck Woes

SUMMIT LAKE, B.C. (AP)—More troubles are hitting Michigan's pioneering '59ers, whose original schedule called for them to be in Alaska today.

The hardy band which plans to settle as homesteaders on Alaska's Kenai Peninsula was six days behind schedule but still plodding along.

The latest mishap occurred yesterday when the '59ers new trailer-truck broke down with a blown piston.

Wind, Mud Hamper Grass Firefighters

Breezes and two Waterford fire trucks mired down in mud hampered firemen battling a blaze that swept across more than 80 acres of Waterford Township fields and woods at 1 p.m. today.

Origin of the fire, at the corner of Hatchery and Airport roads, was not immediately known. However, the fire was a definite indication that the spring grass fire season was on, according to Township Chief Edward Smith.

Firemen were still fighting the 80-acre blaze at 1:30 p.m. Only one truck had made it through the thick mud.

But Midwest Warms to Spring

Winter Lingers in East

By The Associated Press

Spring weather made a belated entry into the central part of the country today but winter lingered in the Northeast. Some of the cold air extended over the Atlantic Coast states and into the Gulf Coast region.

A widespread warming trend was reported from the southern Rockies and southern plains northeastward through the middle and upper Mississippi valleys, the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes region. Temperatures averaged from 15 to 20 degrees higher than the below freezing marks of 24 hours earlier.

East and southeast of the warm air, temperatures dropped rapidly. Readings of near 10 degrees were general in the north Atlantic Coast states and were down to the 40s in the Gulf Coast states and into the Carolinas.

Temperatures in the 20s and 30s prevailed from the northern plains and Great Lakes region through the Ohio Valley and into the middle Atlantic Coast states. They were in the 40s in the middle Mississippi Valley and in the far Northwest through the central plains. The 50s were the rule in other sections of the Southland except for higher marks in the southwest desert region and parts of Florida.

Precipitation was confined mostly to the northwest part of the country. Skies were generally clear in most areas from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast.

Yankus to Plow Up Crop

DOWAGIAC (AP)—Rebel wheat farmer Stanley Yankus says "I've done my last fighting. I intend to plow up this year's wheat crop to avoid further fines."

The Dowagiac farmer has been hit with nearly $5,000 in fines and costs since 1954 for failing to observe the government's wheat acreage allotments.

Yankus said over the weekend that the Australian government had approved his passport and that he would move to Australia as soon as he sells his farm and equipment April 4 at public auction.

Yankus contended he was exempt from the government regulations because he did not grow his wheat for sale but to feed his chickens.

"I want a car that's BUILT FOR PEOPLE"

"Just like a woman! I want a car BUILT FOR SAVINGS"

"Dave, I've found exactly the right car for us! It'll make driving ever so much more comfortable."

"Comfort's fine, Nancy, but we've got to consider savings, too. And I've found just the car for that!"

"But the car I've found is so easy to get in and out of . . . and so comfy to sit in. You know how much I have to drive. Actually, a full-time mother is a part-time chauffeur. You do want me to be comfortable—don't you, dear?"

"Yes, but my car will save us as much as $1.00 on every tankful of gas because it uses regular. How about that?"

"Well, that's nice, but what about my frilly hats? We'll have hat room not just head room in my car. And you're no shorty, either . . . you'd bump your head in a lot of those new cars."

"Not in this one. Besides, it only needs oil changes each 4000 miles."

"And for not one penny extra, we'll get a lot of extra saving features in the car I want . . . like its muffler that's aluminized to normally last twice as long."

"In the car I want, everybody enjoys a soft comfortable seat . . . even the folks in the middle! This car's built just right for people, like you and me and the children . . . and besides, I think it's cute."

"Sure, looks are important . . . and my car will keep on looking good 'cause its finish is so bright and durable it never needs waxing."

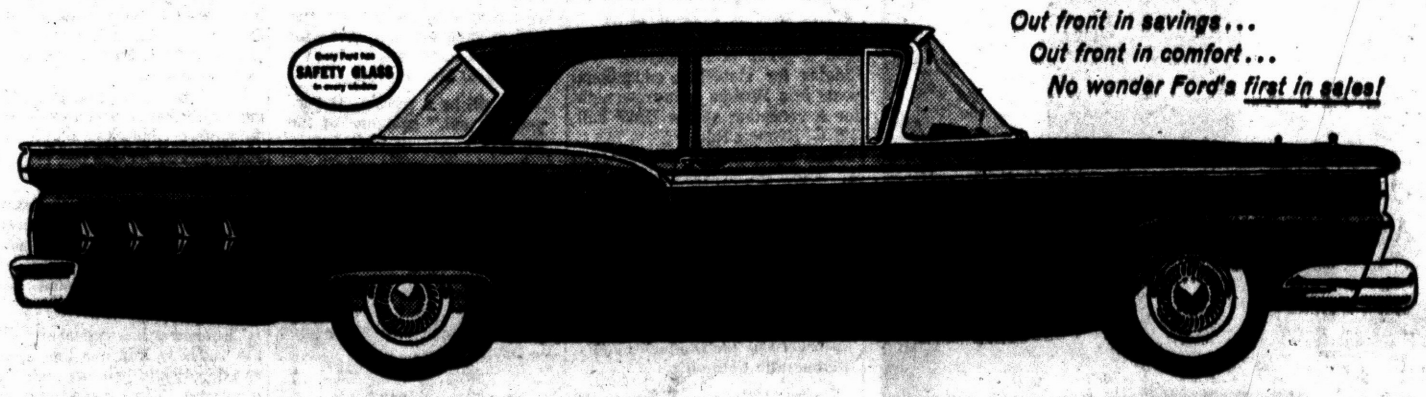

"Well, the nice man at the Ford Dealer's told me . . ."

"Did you say FORD? . . . that's the car I want, too! And we can save as much as $102.75 on purchase price alone! What are we waiting for?"

"Darling, you're a genius!"

Blasts U.S., Press for Stand

Castro Urges Mobilization to Fight Possible Invasion

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro urged complete mobilization in Cuba, including women and children, to fight off a possible counter-revolutionary invasion from Florida and the Dominican Republic.

Castro told 100,000 labor union members who staged a parade and rally before the presidential palace yesterday that American reactionaries and the international news agencies were sponsoring a campaign to overthrow his regime and return ousted dictator Fulgencio Batista to power.

"The Cuban revolution is opposed by the national reactionaries and the international reactionaries because the press campaigns of the monopolies of international news agencies have found an echo in the reactionary press of the whole continent, which has published lies and slanders by the news agencies," he said.

"The news agencies have talked more of any one executed war criminal than they have of the 20,000 crimes committed by Batista here. What for? To isolate us first and attack us afterward. To deprive us of popular sympathies within the peoples of the continent and invade us later from bases in Santo Domingo (Dominican Republic) or Florida.

"Everybody must be trained militarily, even the children and women, so that they can defend if some expedition decides to come here," he said.

Castro was particularly incensed at "reactionaries" in the United States, who he said were trying to reduce Cuba's American sugar quota, and the U.S. government, itself.

He accused the United States of sending arms to Batista and to the Dominican Republic, "while the FBI has not found a single small pistol in the hands of the gangsters."

He also included in his speech an implied threat against the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo.

Waterford Boy Struck by Car Over Weekend

Struck by a car over the weekend, a seven-year-old Waterford Township boy was in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospitaltoday.

Ronn Johnson of 1134 Lakeview Ave. was admitted to the hospital Saturday for treatment of a possible concussion.

Police said the boy ran out from the side of Highland road near Lynn street, into the path of a car driven by Mrs. Betty Edwards, 35, of 2621 Elsinore Dr., Waterford Township.

Waterford May Act on Fire, Water Issues

The Waterford Township Board is expected to take action tonight on budgets for the fire department and a subdivision water system.

A recommended budget for the fire department of $79,550 was presented last week for board study. The figure includes the fire chief's salary of $6,500 and $41,300 for eight full-time firemen.

Clerk James Seeterlin said he would present a budget for the township-owned water system No. 1, located in the Huron Gardens area.

In other business, Seeterlin plans to ask the board to pay back a 1952 loan of $5,495 from the general fund. The money was borrowed then for construction of a water line on Woodbine St. and was never reimbursed, he said.

Repayment now should be made from the water system's benefit charges, he said.

The board will be asked to consider allocating funds for the annual spring bulldozing of the township dump.

Has Nassar Sold Russia U.A.R.'s Economic Soul?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

CAIRO, United Arab Republic—Is the Egyptian-Syrian economy mortgaged into the foreseeable future to the Soviet Union?

Egyptians here say it is not and that, instead, President Gamal Abdel Nasser has exhibited considerable independence of the U.S.S.R. in his campaign against the Syrian Communists and in his demonstrated affection for President Tito of Yugoslavia.

There are factors to be considered in each argument.

The combined Egyptian-Syrian army is equipped top to bottom with Soviet arms.

The list runs from MIG jet fighters, through submarines, the latest Russian tanks down to small arms. Further, these supplies are said to have replacement parts to last five years.

They cost in the neighborhood of 250 million dollars up. The total for both Syria and Egypt probably is close to 500 million dollars.

In the works, but already agreed upon, are other vast projects. They include one which at the official rate of four rubles to one U.S. dollar runs to about 100 million dollars for development of the first stages of the Aswan Dam.

★ ★ ★

The dam is an absolute necessity to Nasser, who depends on it to increase Egypt's arable land by one-third.

In both Syria and Egypt, together forming the United Arab Republic, are industrialization programs calling for construction of railroads, irrigation projects and widespread factory production.

Altogether, the figures add up to about one billion dollars. But the figures fail to tell the entire truth.

Most of the Soviet arms were obtained in exchange for Egyptian cotton which Nasser was unable to sell anywhere else.

The rise in plastics and the consequent difficulties of the textile industry, notably in England, have made Egyptian long staple cotton a drug on the market even though it is considered among the best in the world.

The industrialization agreements all are subject to further negotiation.

Not a railroad spur nor an irrigation ditch will be built until each detail is agreed upon specifically. Either party can withdraw at any time.

But the Egyptians say this:

Nasser is anti-Communist in his own country but still cannot afford to be anti-U.S.S.R. This condition will continue until he can be certain of no-strings support from the West. In this connection, the UAR looks wistfully toward the western help given Tito.

As proof of Nasser's anti-Communism, Egyptians point to Nasser's roundup of Communists in Syria, risking whatever deals he may have with Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Egyptians say the Russian economic squeeze may go on at any time and a publisher here says he already is getting vague replies to inquiries about a long-promised shipment of newsprint.

Army Plans to Draft 6,000 Men in May

WASHINGTON (AP) — A draft call for 6,000 men in May has been issued by the Army.

The monthly quota is the lowest since the same number was called up in January, 1956.

The call issued Friday is 1,000 less than the previously announced draft for April and 2,000 less than it was for March.

Detroit Firm to Close Its Plant in Richmond

RICHMOND (AP)—The Hall Lamp Co. of Detroit plans to close its products division plant in this Southeastern Michigan village in mid-May.

The plant, which makes cables and stamped parts for the automotive and aircraft industries, has 100 employes.

The operation will be moved to Clinton, N.C., where the company has a plant.

Atlas Nose Cone Lost in Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A highly advanced ICBM nose cone fired 5,000 miles through space was lost for good in the Atlantic today.

The Air Force abandoned the little cone to the depths after a two-day search wound up Sunday with no results.

A huge Thor-Able rocket blasted the cone close to the intercontinental range in about 30 minutes early Saturday, but a fleet of C54 planes and ships failed to find it.

It was learned that a malfunction in the recovery package, probably the tiny radio transmitter, stymied the recovery efforts.

★ ★ ★

It was the sixth attempt to retrieve one of the elusive cones without success. However, good instrumentation reports were received on the cone's blazing reentry through the earth's atmosphere at speeds close to 15,000 m.p.h.

World Trade Stamp Design Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new 8-cent "world peace through world trade" stamp will have a central design of a globe and laurel spray.

In announcing the design Friday, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield said the stamp, in special delivery size, will have its first day sale here April 20. The color has not yet been selected.

The stamp is being issued in connection with the 17th congress of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Bob Considine Asks:

Who Knows Origin of Fear-Faith Saying?

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

Among the letters, religious objects and good luck charms sent to John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Hospital was a note containing this thought:

"Fear knocked on the door. Faith answered. And there was no one there."

Who knows its origin?

Little Rock Traffic Judge Robert W. Laster, a member of that city's school board, has presented this plan for reopening the shut-down high schools: Defy the federal courts, open the schools on a segregated basis, and "let the Devil take the hindmost."

He doesn't believe President Eisenhower would send troops again and that the worst which would happen might be short jail sentences for the school board.

Other board members were somewhat less than enthusiastic.

Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, Poland's last free prime minister, on the Berlin question: "I don't believe Khrushchev wants to start World War III at the present time. He still thinks that by spreading communism he will gradually subjugate the whole world without war.

"What Khrushchev wants at the present time, blackmailing the West with the Berlin question, is to obtain at least the silent consent of the West to the integration of the captive nations behind the Iron Curtain into the Soviet Union."

There is a bit of a to-do among the members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors over the propriety of inviting Fidel Castro to address the group during its Washington convention next month.

In all probability, ASNE President George W. Healy Jr., of the New Orleans Times Picayune, will calm scattered criticism by inviting Castro's audience to ask questions when he completes his talk.

Note to George: Better start the scheduled afternoon meeting early. It takes our boy two hours to get the frog out of his voice, another hour to get into high gear, forty-five minutes to reach the point, and then he needs time to fan out the brushfires in his whiskers.

There's a pretty good chance that the first question asked will be "what's for dinner?"

"The Trial of Mary Todd Lincoln," by James A. Rhodes and Dean Jauchius (Bobbs-Merrill) dusts off the sad, sordid life the widow and their son, Robert Todd, lived in the years after the assassination.

On May 19, 1875, the son had his mother taken into custody as a lunatic. Mrs. Lincoln had $56,000 on her person, mostly in bonds, when arrested. (Robert had borrowed money from her in 1868 and was apparently finding it difficult to repay his mother at the rate of $125 a month.) Mrs. Lincoln was committed to a private asylum for 13 months.

In addition to her son's testimony about her extravagant spending of money on chance acquaintances, he brought forth shop clerks to swear she was a wastrel.

Mary Todd Lincoln was released on June 15, 1876, using as her attorney a Chicago lawyer named Leonard T. Swett, who had been retained by her son in the court case of the previous year. She celebrated her first hour of liberty by dashing off a note to her son.

"All my paintings, my silver set and other articles your wife appropriated . . . send me all that I have written for, you have tried your game of robbery long enough," the mother wrote to the son of Honest Abe.

Lt. Gen. C. R. Huebner, director of the New York State Civil Defense Commission, was upset by a recent piece of mine in which I quoted Air Force missiles boss Maj. Gen. Schiever as saying, "We have no warning system but, even if we did, what can you do with fifteen minutes?" Gen. Huebner writes:

"I was, and still am, under the definite impression that we do have a warning system and, from a civil defense standpoint, we feel something can be done in fifteen minutes."

WASHINGTON — The Ivory Coast, which has chosen to become a self-governing republic in the French Overseas Community, hasn't lost all its African ways.

It probably is the only modern state where a senator has vanished on tour, the suspicion being that he was eaten by his constituents. The booming capital, Abidjan, may well be the only modern city that has celebrated a nautical triumph (its new port) with an elephant hunt for inaugural guests.

But the Ivory Coast is potentially a giant among former colonies of French West Africa though it is only slightly larger than New Mexico and has but 2,490,000 people, the National Geographic Society says. In 10 years' time, Abidjan has begun to rival Dakar as the economic capital of French West Africa.

Abidjan, with 128,000 people, is growing at a flashing rate. The city rises beside a blue lagoon set in the dark wet green of a tropical rain forest. The sidewalk cafes and boulevards suggest Paris, but new gleaming-white hotels, apartment buildings, and supermarkets are more reminiscent of Miami Beach.

A broad new bridge sweeps into Abidjan over the lagoon, ending in a clover-leaf plaza circled by modern government buildings.

Bargain Rates Attract Tourists to Uruguay

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Bargain rates have made a tremendous success out of Uruguay's tourist season this year.

While winter whipped across North America, summer sun and economy prices were prevailing along the sand-carpeted "Riviera of the Americas."

At the pride of the Uruguayan resorts, Punta del Este, the best rooms in the best hotel cost between $8.40 and $10 a day for a double room—with all meals included and a sea view to boot.

Accommodations on the small peninsula where the Atlantic meets the mouth of the Rio de la Plata range from fancy hotels to small Swiss-style inns. Diversions include golf, tennis, surf and pool swimming, deep-sea fishing, yachting, water skiing—and gambling.

Although most of Uruguay's tourists usually come from neighboring Argentina and Brazil, English is spoken at most of the major resorts. The Uruguayan National Tourist Service confidently expects more and more tourists from the U. S.—because of the prices and because it will soon take only 12 hours to fly from New York by jet.

★ ★ ★

Uruguay is also attracting more visitors from Argentina. One reason for this is the rate of exchange. A year ago, 100 Argentine pesos bought 8 to 10 Uruguayan pesos. Now they'll get you 14, while Uruguayan prices remain fairly steady.

A downtown Buenos Aires tourist agent noted that "this is the first year in my memory that I've had more requests for Uruguayan vacations than for Mar del Plata," which is Argentina's No. 1 resort.

However, it must be pointed out that Mar del Plata is suffering from its own popularity. It has become such a magnet for vacationers that reservations must be made well in advance.

The result has been a constant flow of visitors to the Uruguayan tourist headquarters here. Luis Oneto Puentes, chief of the office, said his government is trying to make things even easier for its visitors.

Argentines, for example, need only their identity cards to enter Uruguay and Americans only their passports. They can bring cars duty-free into the country or else rent them when they arrive.

"We believe that Uruguay has plenty to offer tourists," Puentes said. "Now we want to help them discover it."

TOKYO (UPI)—Prof. Tokyo Yamamoto of Nagoya University has developed a breed of "sexless" rainbow trout through the use of hormones, it was announced today.

Instead of expending energy pursuing the opposite sex, the sexless trout just grows indolent and fat and thus of greater commercial value, it was said.

City Is Proud of Honor Pontiac Chiefs Bring

What a pleasant respite the Pontiac Central basketball team provided the home town folks the last couple of weeks. With other more weighty problems forced to give way, our Pontiac Chiefs took over the limelight.

★ ★ ★

City problems with a diversification of opinion were nonexistent in the fever pitch engendered by the fine record established by Central High's basketball play.

They were the best. Pontiac was united in support of one of its athletic teams.

This spirit and feeling is as it should be and we are all mighty proud of the fine publicity our basketball players afforded the City. Through the efforts and hard work of the players and coaches, Pontiac's reputation zoomed upward.

When it comes to high caliber basketball play, Pontiac must be reckoned with. This was firmly established in the eyes of many when the Chiefs cinched the Saginaw Valley league title. This schoolboy conference is considered the toughest in the state, and to be its champion is an achievement in itself.

Pontiac continued its winning ways into the state tournament reaching the semifinals before bowing to Hamtramck.

All Pontiac is justly proud of this outstanding basketball record. Pontiac has a champion and until they are dethroned in Saginaw Valley competition, they are still "champs" to us.

Panama's New Law Pressures Uncle Sam

The government of Panama recently passed a law extending its sovereignty from three to 12 miles out to sea.

A complication arises from the fact that the United States has sea rights of only three miles at each end of the Canal. This means that under the new law Panamanian officials can board all ships between the 12 and three mile limits and enforce any regulations they please.

The United States, Japan and France have protested the law. But Panama's Foreign Minister MORENO rejected the protests declaring that the old doctrine of a three mile limit never has had as a foundation any universal international treaty.

★ ★ ★

The issue is being thoroughly exploited and AQUILINO BOYD, a leader in the National Assembly told a large crowd that Panama should receive 50 per cent of the gross canal income which he estimated would bring $50 million to the treasury. The truth is well known to the National Assembly. Canal operations today net only $4 million, with half of this going to the Republic of Panama.

★ ★ ★

It is strongly suspected that the new law is designed to harass the U.S. into increasing the annual payments made to Panama under the U.S.-Panama treaty covering the Canal Zone.

De Gaulle's Actions Annoying to Alliance

At a politically crucial moment in world affairs France suddenly announces withdrawal of its Mediterranean fleet from NATO command.

The actual force involved, some 30,000 tons of naval shipping with only one aircraft carrier, is not likely to be militarily important. But what is important is that withdrawal harasses the other Allies and might give Russia the idea that the Western powers are quarreling on the eve of the Berlin showdown.

If France can do this unilaterally, what is to prevent Western Germany, for instance, from withdrawing its 12 divisions. "If everyone can come and go as he pleases," said a Western diplomat, "we don't have an alliance."

★ ★ ★

What it all seems to mean is that Gen. DE GAULLE is annoyed that the United States abstained from U.N. voting on the Algerian revolt question. France also wants to be recognized as a senior partner in the Mediterranean instead of Britain. Without consulting NATO DE GAULLE earlier had withdrawn NATO troops to fight in Algeria. At the same time France insists upon rigid maintenance of the Western and NATO position in Germany while undermining it militarily.

★ ★ ★

In World War II Gen. de Gaulle was known as a haughty, temperamental Free French leader who thought only of France. He doesn't seem to have changed.

Des-kre-shos-ke

Pontiac Area Exemplifies Meaning of Indian Remark

Joneses: Who may be having a tougher time keeping up with you.

When the white man first settled in the Pontiac area 142 years ago, the Indians greeted him with the expression, "Des-kre-shos-ke," which meant and that was why they so hated to give up their lands, and why they considered the white man to be an intruder and robber.

"Everything is here,"

Historians who understand the situation now feel that the Indians knew that nature had here provided them with everything they desired. Hence, they were loath to give it up, regardless of the attraction of any barter.

Today we realize that the area had the foundation for everything that mere man has added to what the Indians possessed, and with which they were content. Without that foundation the white man could have accomplished little.

So, after 142 years of progress and development into what we have, the fact only has been accented, and in 1959—"Des-kre-shos-ke."

The Chip on His Shoulder

David Lawrence Says:

Summit Useless; Can't Trust Reds

WASHINGTON—Three years and three months isn't a long time in world affairs, yet how many people who are so enthusiastically hailing the next "summit" conference remember that the Soviet government made a solemn pledge three years ago at a "summit" conference and then broke it four months later at a foreign ministers' conference?

LAWRENCE

A certain communique, for instance, is worth rereading today. The head of the Soviet government — Bulganin — with Khrushchev at his side, signed it on July 23, 1955. It was issued after a "summit" conference at Geneva, attended also by President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Eden of Britain and Premier Faure of France. The statement says:

"The heads of government, recognising their common responsibility for the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany, have agreed that the settlement of the German question and the reunification of Germany by free elections shall be carried out in conformity with the national interests of the German people and the interests of European security. The foreign ministers will make whatever arrangements they may consider desirable for the participation of, or for consultation with, other interested parties."

The four ministers then met at Geneva, and here is part of the text of the joint declaration of France, Great Britain and the United States, issued at the close of the conference on Nov. 16, 1955:

"At Geneva, the foreign ministers of France, the United Kingdom and the United States of America tried to reach agreement with the Soviet foreign minister on what the four heads of government in July agreed were the closely linked problems of German reunification and European security. To this end, they made a proposal for the reunification of Germany by free elections in 1956 and for a treaty of assurance giving the Soviet Union far-reaching safeguards against aggression when Germany was reunified.

"Marshal Bulganin in July had agreed that the reunification of Germany was the common responsibility of the four powers and should be carried out by means of free elections. The Soviet foreign minister, however, despite the directive of the heads of government, made it plain that the Soviet government refused to agree to the reunification of Germany, since that would lead to the liquidation of the East German regime. He made counterproposals which would have involved the continued division of Germany as well as the eventual dissolution of the Western security system. It is for this reason that the negotiations have failed."

Why does the Soviet Union think now it can reap the fruits of its repudiation of the pledge given at the "summit" conference of July 1955 and gain its ends in 1959?

Perhaps it is because the Soviets believe that the Western democracies are undergoing a process of moral deterioration in which principle will be sacrificed for expediency.

Perhaps it's because the politically selfish Socialist Labor Party in Britain, which believes in peace-at-any-price doctrines, has forgotten the fatal appeasement of Hitler at Munich in 1938.

Perhaps it's because prominent Democrats in Congress have openly encouraged the Soviets to believe that President Eisenhower "lost the confidence" of the American people in the last congressional election.

Perhaps it will not take even three months after the next "summit" conference for the world to learn that, when the Soviet government puts its signature on a pledge, it cannot be trusted to keep its word. Appeasement of such an adversary can only lead to war.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iodin Ration No Medicine but May Prevent Goiter

The soil and drinking water in some localities is deficient in iodin, and so every man, woman, child, horse, cow, sheep, pig, chicken, dog, cat, pigeon, canary suffers from iodin deficiency unless he or she gets a suitable iodin ration by eating:

DR. BRADY

1. Animal or vegetable food grown in a region where soil and water are not depleted of natural iodin content.

2. Sea fish and shellfish at least once a week.

3. Iodized salt instead of ordinary salt at table and in cooking, or

4. By supplementing the ordinary diet with tablets containing the nutritional requirement of iodin.

It is regrettable that doctors and health authorities have generally ignored iodin deficiency except one manifestation they couldn't ignore, goiter in school children.

Only a few years ago, most of the children in many schools in these places where soil and water are poor in iodin had goiter.

EASY TO PREVENT

Drs. David Marine and O. P. Kimball demonstrated years ago in the public schools of Akron, Ohio, that "simple goiter is the easiest of all known diseases to prevent" — by giving each school child a small fraction of a grain of iodin or iodide once a week.

At that time more than half the school children in some districts of the "goiter belt" had goiter. Today, thanks to the Akron demonstration, goiter is comparatively rare.

The manifestations of iodin deficiency in mature adults are not so striking as simple goiter (large neck) in growing children, but the effects of correction of the deficiency are nonetheless gratifying.

Many boys and girls with iodin deficiency mope in their 'teens even though they show no enlargement of the neck.

Adults with iodin deficiency generally have a low body temperature and feel chilly where others are comfortable. They no longer enjoy doing things that call for physical activity. They have sallow skin, lusterless dry falling hair, that tends to become prematurely gray.

For the pamphlet on iodin deficiency send stamped, self-addressed envelope and name it: IODIN RATION. And please remember this is nutrition, not medicine.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Are Funeral Flowers Foolish?

Meilssa's relatives ignored her funeral but were very happy to grab her $10,000 estate. Beware of any trend that causes erosion of the human soul. It is false economy to strip a church altar of gorgeous flowers at Easter or reduce a funeral to a drab, desolate affair. Hitler's "economy" in disposing of the dead violates moral idealism.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A - 485: Melissa M., was a faithful school marm in the North.

She retired to St. Petersburg after the age of 65, to spend her final years.

There she became a livewire in Dr. Paul R. Hortin's church and fervently devoted herself to the Sunday School.

DR. CRANE

Ten years later she passed away, leaving an estate of about $10,000 to some nieces in the North. The latter wired the mortician to dispose of Melissa's body as cheaply as possible and omit a funeral.

But this mortician called Dr. Hortin, who came to the Funeral Home and conducted an inspiring little service.

No relatives were present, but I'm sure a lot of angels comprised an invisible audience, for God never ignores his faithful children here on earth.

Death is our final graduation ceremony, and it should be an inspiring event, not only out of honor to the new graduate but to the relatives and friends left behind.

When our eldest son crashed to his death a couple of years ago in his Cougar jet, Mrs. Crane and I were buoyed up greatly by the flowers and letters, plus the wonderful funeral service.

CHRIST'S ATTITUDE

Some modern folks, even including occasional clergy, are urging us to omit flowers and simply "dispose" of the dead as cheaply as possible.

Such crass materialism or sheer economic "efficiency" was well demonstrated by Hitler. He had bulldozers dig trenches and dumped the human carcasses therein, without flowers or any religious service whatever.

But such callousness causes erosion of the soul! The Bible says we human beings are temples of God, so it is proper that we honor the bodies of our departed loved ones.

★ ★ ★

On Easter Sunday we bank the brick and stone temples with flowers. (Wouldn't it be a drab Easter service without such floral tributes?)

Well, the same thing is true at our final graduation ceremony. It should inspire the relatives and friends.

And Jesus rebuked his Apostles for their "penny wise but pound foolish" doctrine when the Apostles scolded the woman for pouring costly ointment on Christ prior to his death.

The Apostles argued that the ointment should have been sold and the money given to the poor, but Jesus said, "The poor ye have with you always."

And Jesus further stated that this woman's thoughtful gesture would be told of her till the end of time, so Jesus apparently approved of perfume (and doubtless flowers) as evidences of honor and affection for the dead.

It is false economy to deprive your child of vitamins and medical vaccination that protect his body.

But his soul likewise needs nurture, so we should realize that a sensible investment in funeral service and flowers is also proper.

Morticians aren't millionaires! They net only $92 per funeral BEFORE TAXES.

And to suggest diverting money to a Cancer Fund, seldom does much good. When a prominen Tennessee woman's family recently urged this policy, only $15 went to the Cancer Fund. And in Toledo the amount salvaged was $36.

Meanwhile, the relatives and friends lost far more than that by the drab, desolate nature of the funeral without flowers banked around a lovely half-casket.

So never strip idealism from the soul of mankind by urging Hitler's cheap "disposal" of the deceased!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Urges Rejection of Sewage Issue

Why hasn't the Oakland County Public Works Department, which has been granted $339,600 to complete development and study of a master sewage plan for Pontiac and Clinton River Basin, been invited to give facts on the issue? Is City Hall afraid people might become informed?

★ ★ ★

How could residential development of six square miles produce a tax base of $100,000,000 when the whole city (20 square miles) has a tax base of only $139,669,000? How could a 20,000,000 gallon a day sewage capacity meet city needs for the next 20 years when sewage treatment increased over five million gallons a day from 1954 to 1957 even though 3,343,000 gallons less water a day was pumped in 1957? Is Mr. Willman trying to kid us?

City Hall has squandered enough money on the hospital, jail, etc., to have built a sewage plant free and clear. The people pay $1,000,000 plus special assessments each year for capital improvements so they won't need bond issues, not so City Hall can have a million a year "pork barrel."

In a recent bond issue campaign, City Hall even refused to tell how much cash, accounts receivable and surpluses they had and tried to deny it when the amount was published but refused to meet with a CPA to see who was right. Why?

Based on the record, informed people would be silly to vote a $3,300,000 tax mortgage on their homes to cover City Hall's waste and messes.

'Place Courthouse at Civic Center'

The proper place for the new Courthouse is the Civic Center. There'll be plenty of parking space and more court and office room. It's the choice of the majority of people of Oakland County and can be built there at a big saving to taxpayers because the present Courthouse and office building can be used until the new building is ready.

As for the possible sale of the present Courthouse, if the county lets it go back to the original owners at least the people will get something out of it, as it will be on the tax roll for the first time in county history. The County Board of Auditors should be commended for its foresight in saving the money from various department budgets.

School Discipline Inspires Letters

I agree with Mother of 4 that school teachers should have a love paddle for the children. It's better to have paddle marks on the backside than to have psychological marks on the forehead or right hand. The former leads to good character and a place in honest society, while the latter leads to self-righteousness and a place in the bug house or prison.

Joseph Gynac
4852 Oakgrove

In answer to Mother of Four, I agree children should be taught to respect teachers, but there are exceptions in siding with school authorities.

I remember seeing a nervous-wreck of a teacher hit my younger brother's head against a brick wall several times because he wasn't learning to read fast enough. I wouldn't believe teachers do such things if I hadn't seen it myself, and there must have been other such complaints against the same teacher, because she was asked to leave shortly after that and she was soon committed to an institution.

Should parents refuse to take the child's side in a case like that?

Jewish Rabbi Suggests Pope Enlarge Meeting to Include All Faiths

Coast Guard to Increase Copter Fleet

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Coast Guard plans to balance out its air fleet with as many helicopters as airplanes to take care of a big increase in calls for search and rescue work.

A board of senior officers after a year-long study recommended that the present fleet of 127 aircraft, three-fourths of them airplanes, be increased during the next few years to a total of 195—including 99 helicopters.

4 Break Jail, Take Guard as Hostage

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Three men and a woman overpowered two guards and escaped from the Mahoning County Jail early today. They took one jailer as a hostage, but released him unharmed seven miles away.

The quartet took at least two pistols, and escaped in a car owned by one of the guards. Another guard was locked in a cell after being hit on the head. One of the escapees threatened to shoot him.

Jailer O. W. Heldman said the four were Robert Herman, 35; Joseph Orville, 23; and Donald Sweet, 24, all of Youngstown; and Lola Gordon, of Toledo.

Three Sisters Give Birth in 86 Minutes

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Identical twins Mrs. Merrill L. Anglesey and Mrs. Glen Brock, 19, gave birth to daughters 19 minutes apart Sunday.

Their obstetrician, Dr. Kenneth Hill, was ready for them. Just 67 minutes earlier he had delivered a daughter for their older sister, Mrs. Kirt J. Lamb, 21.

The births, first for each woman, took place at St. Mark's Hospital here.

Lakes Ship Saga Ends Unexpectedly in Blaze

TAWAS CITY (AP) — A former queen of the Great Lakes died in flames over the weekend and ended the saga of the D & C passenger ships.

The 57-year-old Western States, last of the line of ships which plied between Detroit and Cleveland, burst into flames Saturday night as wrecking crews were busy tearing her apart.

No one was killed or injured. The workmen fled to safety before the flames engulfed the big sidewheeler.

Firemen went to the scene but did not try to fight the blaze. They said there was no danger of the flames spreading since the ship was moored well out in Tawas Bay at the end of a sand and steel dock. The fire burned out in a few hours, and only a hulk of the once-proud ship was left.

★ ★ ★

The Western States was the smallest of the six-ship fleet of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co. She was taken out of Great Lakes service in 1950 but was bought in 1955 by a group of Detroiters who took her to Tawas City to serve as a "floating motel." The ship was sold for about $30,000 for scrap when operating losses mounted.

A scrap firm official said one of his workers was cutting a mast with an acetylene torch when part of it fell into a fuel storage tank and touched off the blaze.

The fire spread rapidly through the ship burning three decks and leaving only the hulk.

The scrap firm said the hulk would be towed to Bay City and cut up for scrap.

Governor Seeks End of Strike

Calls Parties Together in Bitter Cotton Mill Feud at North Carolina

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Negotiations in the bitter Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mill strike shift to Gov. Luther Hodges' office today.

Hodges asked representatives of the company and Textile Workers Union of America to meet with him after saying that it was imperative that they settle the four-month-old stike at Henderson.

The governor said he would make no definite proposals but simply sit down and discuss matters.

Boyd Patton, regional director of TWUA, said "We welcome the opportunity to present our case to the governor. We pledge our full cooperation."

★ ★ ★

Company president John D. Cooper Jr. said, "I hope and trust he (Gov. Hodges) will be able to find some solution."

The strike began Nov. 17 after the union was unable to get management to renew an arbitration clause in a new contract. Another issue is the seniority rights of employes who have been working since the mills reopened Feb. 16.

There have been numerous acts of violence.

Thompson Case Back Tuesday

Mother of Defendant Expected to Be Called in Arson Trial

After a weekend recess, jurors will return tomorrow to hear a second week of testimony in the Jack D. Thompson arson trial before Genesee County Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth.

Thompson, a Flint Teamsters business agent, is accused of burning a Burton Township dry cleaning pickup station in which, police believe, fellow business agent Frank H. Kierdorf received his fatal burns last summer.

Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke said he expected to call Thompson's mother, Mrs. Agnes Thompson, to the stand Tuesday.

She will be asked whether she was visited by her 42-year-old son, a business agent for the last 13 years, on the night of Aug. 3 when fire broke out at the Latreille Dry Cleaners shortly before 11 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The caretaker of the apartment house where Mrs. Thompson lives testified Friday she saw Thompson drive in and out of the driveway at the apartment four times Aug. 3.

O'Rourke believes Thompson drove the critically-burned Kierdorf to his mother's apartment to see if Mrs. Thompson, a practical nurse, could treat his burns. Finding them too severe, Kierdorf was taken to Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in an attempt to throw investigators off their trail, O'Rourke theorizes.

Hospital personnel who saw Kierdorf, 56, stagger into the hospital, and those who treated him until he died Aug. 7, will also be called to testify Tuesday before 11 female and three male jurors.

O'Rourke in four days of testimony last week called 19 witnesses out of 92 subpoenaed. Friday he said he plans now to call but 35 witnesses.

Rest Proves Good Cure for Graham

BROADBEACH, Australia (AP) —Billy Graham's rest at this Gold Coast resort has already done him so much good that he will not so much good that he will not require a medical examination, a member of his staff said today.

Dr. William Erdman of the University of Pennsylvania, a personal friend of the evangelist, has arrived from the United States to visit Graham. But a member of Graham's staff said the examination by Erdman — originally planned—is no longer necessary.

★ ★ ★

Instead Graham and Erdman will play golf.

The evengelist told newsmen when he arrived March 18 that he had a spasm in a blood vessel behind his left eye which was causing him loss of focus. The ailment had delayed his departure for his tour in Australia.

★ ★ ★

Graham will interrupt his scheduled 10-day rest to preach to holiday crowds at Surf Beach on Good Friday, and on Easter will preach at a Methodist service in a movie house on the Gold Coast.

Elvis' Autograph Just One More

Korean Vet Has Many Letters From Various Celebrities

WINONA, Minn. (UPI) — " 'Cat' clothes are absolutely the 'most' as far as I'm concerned. My favorite hobby is collecting these 'real cool' outfits, and I'd almost rather wear them than eat!"

The quotes and the exclamation mark are from a letter by Elvis Presley to autograph-collector Donald R. Siegler, a Korean war veteran whose hobby is obtaining the photos and autographs of the famous.

★ ★ ★

Even with Elvis' letter and autograph obtained before the hipswinger went into the Army, Siegler feels his collection is incomplete and hopes his fame will spread so that more "Famous People"—as young Siegler puts it —will be induced to answer his appeal.

Among his triumphs he includes autographs, and in some cases friendly letters, from every Miss Minnesota and Miss Universe, former New York Gov. Averell Harriman and present Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Prince Rainier of Monaco, the Aga Khan, and a goodly variety of governors and senators, film stars, TV performers, etc.

★ ★ ★

He's also had his failures. Prince Philip of Britain advised Siegler that he gives his autograph only to "personal friends." The King of Belgium regretted, saying the "multiplicity" of requests for his signature made him observe a policy of none at all.

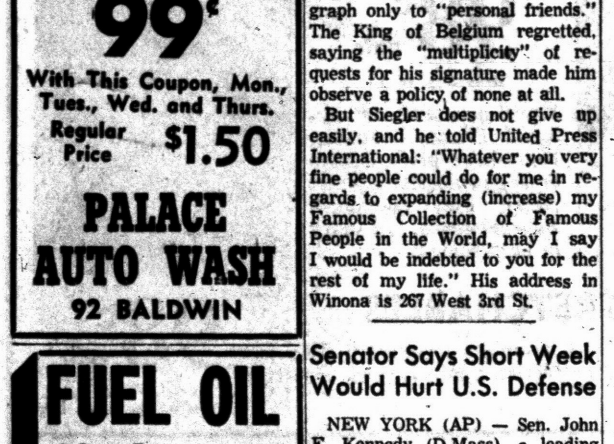

But Siegler does not give up easily, and he told United Press International: "Whatever you very fine people could do for me in regards to expanding (increase) my Famous Collection of Famous People in the World, may I say I would be indebted to you for the rest of my life." His address in Winona is 267 West 3rd St.

Senator Says Short Week Would Hurt U.S. Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), a leading possibility for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Sunday he believes a shorter work week would hinder the United States in a production race with the Soviet Union.

He favors other means to reduce unemployment, Kennedy told a meeting of 350 United Auto Workers local presidents.

Her Voice Can Stir Storm—or Lull

Diahann Carroll Is Psychoanalyst of Songs

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—Diahann Carroll can sing like a sudden storm or a lazy Sunday. She can writhe like a silken cat, or stand softly still as a good girl in church. She calls herself a ham, but many musicians call her the greatest thing since "Stardust."

She is a younger, daintier version of the great Lena Horne, and at the Persian Room of the Plaza where she is currently performing her vocal hypnosis, the sophisticates are learning, all over again, what love is.

There's good reason. Miss Carroll is a psychoanalyst of songs. She sits down with a romantic tune and slowly, phrase by phrase, dissects it.

"The first teacher I ever had taught me that," she says. "She made me pull the lyrics apart and tell her what they meant—to me. If I yanked real hard, and analyzed, and they didn't really strike some sensitive chord inside me, I just wouldn't sing 'em.

"After all, if a song is meaningless to the singer—well, it's going to be no better than singing the scales for the audience."

Besides being an artist, Diahann is a lady; so she isn't naming names of the many sweet-voiced crooners and chanteuses who "mouth words" and use lyrics merely as an expedient for vibrating the vocal chords. In their eyes is a practiced romantic gleam, but in their minds is no awareness of the distinction between "I Love You" and "The Masquerade Is Over."

Diahann considers Frank Sinatra "a perfect example of what I mean. He can sing a song that you've heard at least a thousand times and know by heart. But suddenly, you realize for the first time what the lyrics mean—and it's as if you've never heard the song before.

"To me, he's the greatest singer alive today."

Because of the quality of her contralto, a legend has grown up that Miss Carroll is a graduate of Juilliard. Untrue. "I went first to a junior high school that was just a little bit worse than the blackboard jungle—and then to the high school of music and art.

"I did win a Metropolitan Opera scholarship when I was 10," she admits. "But at the time, I was interested only in becoming the roller-skating champion of the world." She passed it by.

Her first solo performance came at the age of 6, with a church choir called the "Tiny Tots." She sang "There's No Hidin' Place Down There," with her confrere tots backing her in the reprise. "Since then, there's been no hidin' me. After my first taste of audience, I became foevermore a ham."

Shortly out of high school, she won $3,000 on the TV show, "Chance of a Lifetime." Besides the money, Diahann earned a contract to appear for a week at New York's jazzy bistro, the "Latin Quarter."

This was followed by a steady round of engagements at top supper clubs, roles in the movie "Carmen Jones" and the Broadway musical "House of Flowers," and regular appearances on TV. Lately, she has been a frequent guest on the Jack Paar show, which has delighted her because:

"It's a whole new world of people listening. Usually, it's men and teenagers who pay attention to a girl singer. Now, since the Paar show, it's little elderly ladies who come up and say, "Aren't you Jack's Diahann?' It's like being a kid all over again."

Firefighters Near Exhaustion

Brush Fires Sweep Ozarks

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Weary firefighters toiled today against hundreds of brush fires sweeping through the Ozark hills of Missouri.

The State Conservation Commission said its men are near exhaustion.

One hundred soldiers from Ft. Leonard Wood were ordered to report to the Lake of the Ozarks region to help man the fire lines.

State foresters said dozens of fires were burning untouched because there isn't enough manpower to get to them.

Whipped by strong winds, the flames have destroyed some resort cabins.

Most of the fires were started by farmers who cling to the old-time notion that burning the brush in the spring will help keep their land clear, foresters said. The fires get out of control when the wind comes up and ground cover is burned off thousands of acres. Trees are damaged but not destroyed, usually.

Osal B. Capps, assistant state forester, estimated 200,000 acres were burned in the last week.

Bull, Bear, Lion, Lamb, to Have Meeting of Minds

CHICAGO (UPI)—It appeared today that the bull, the bear, the lion and the lamb will have a meeting of the minds Thursday.

Weather Bureau Chief Ivan W. Brunk said a midwest regional business conclave will be discussing business forecasts the same day the American Meteorological Society talks over "weather risk analysis for management decisions."

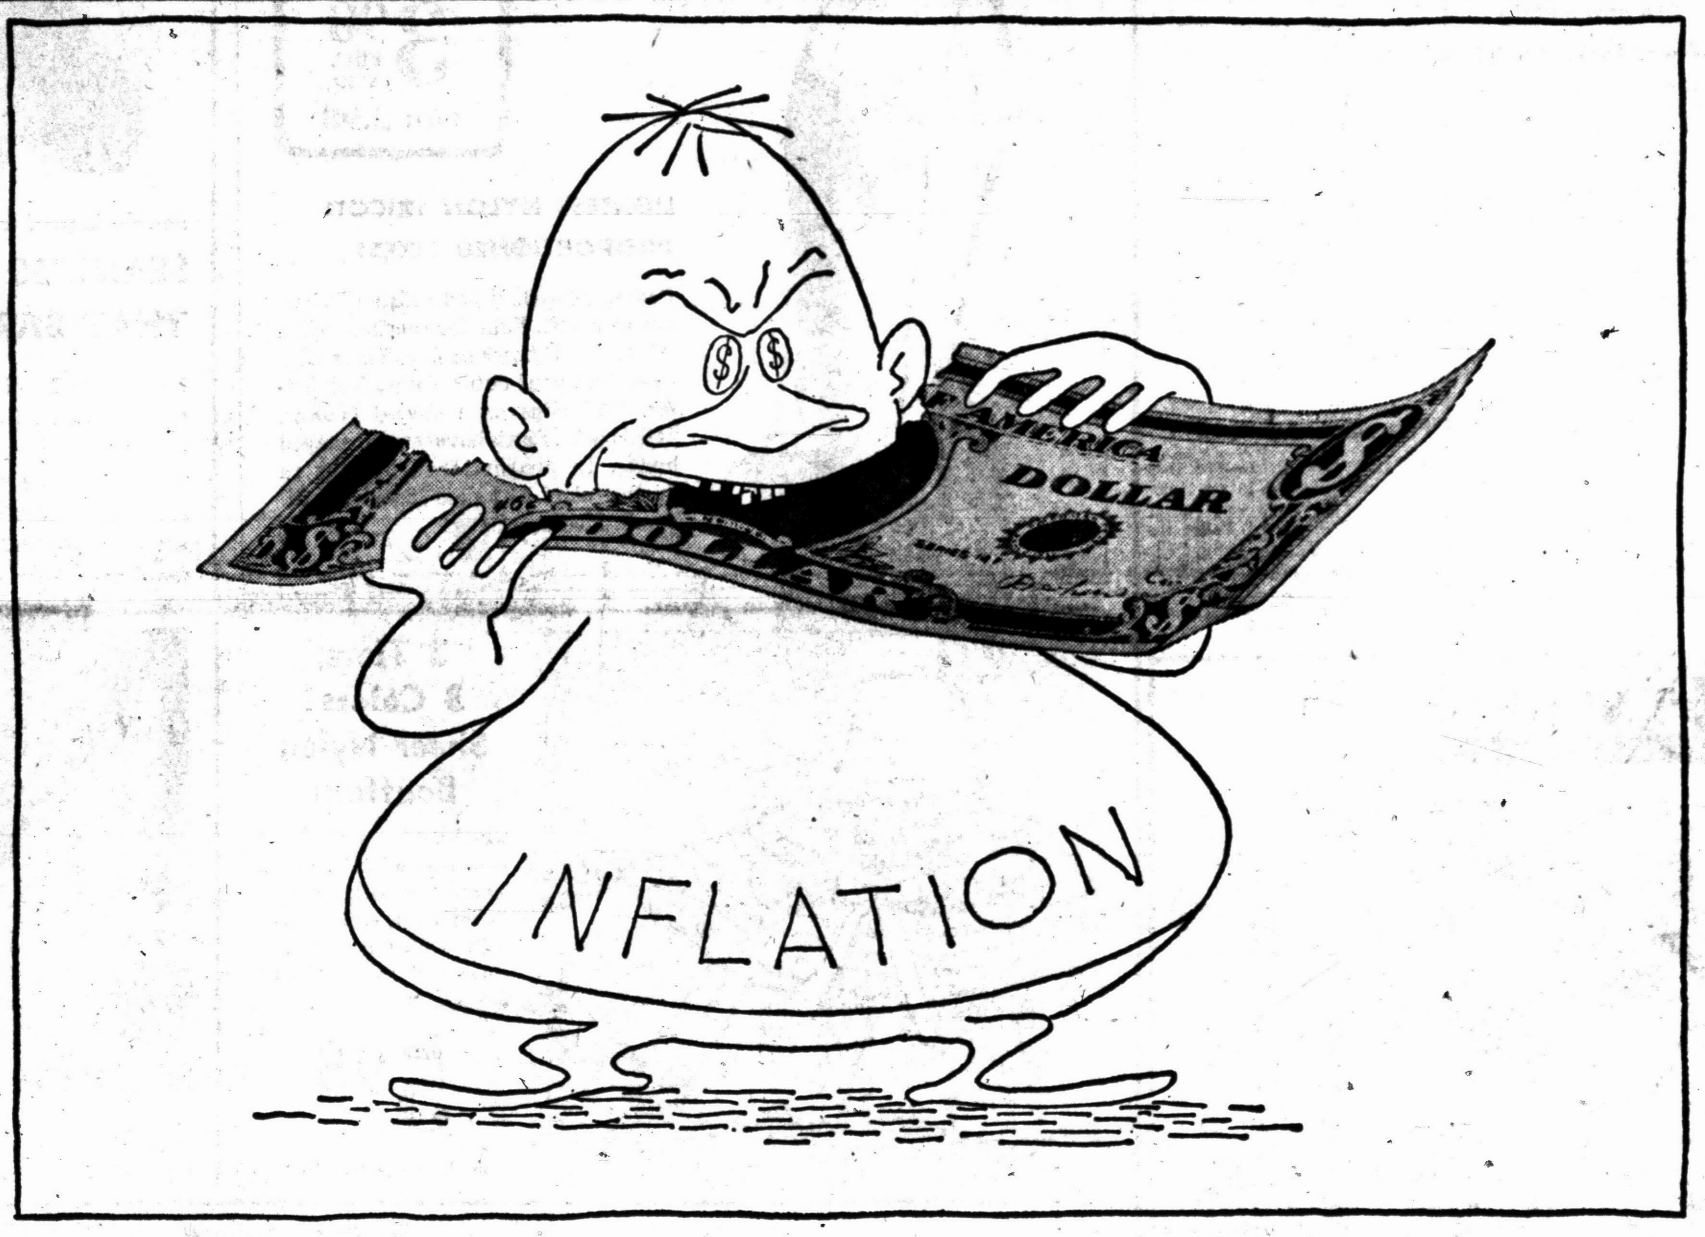

Over 49,339,000 airline tickets were sold in the United States in 1957. Airline advertisers invested $24,500,000 in daily newspapers that year — 154 per cent more than five years earlier.

And this is just since the war!

The persistent "nibble" that adds up to a big 32¢ "bite"

The nibbling on your dollar goes on and on and on. Your payroll dollar. Your savings dollar. Just since the war, 32 cents have vanished from the dollar. And the history of inflation all over the world shows that it has a tendency to run faster and faster.

Some people can ride with the tide. But lots of us can't. For most of us, making ends meet is a constant rat race.

One reason further inflation can happen here is that we, as a nation, are living beyond our income.

When you hear of millions or billions being poured out on a new project, it's easy to get the idea that government funds come out of a bottomless purse. Instead every cent comes out of your pocket. In taxes . . . or higher prices.

Of course there are dozens of new benefits we'd all like to have . . . but are we prepared to pay the price of these benefits through higher taxes? If we keep on asking, we've got to be ready to keep on paying.

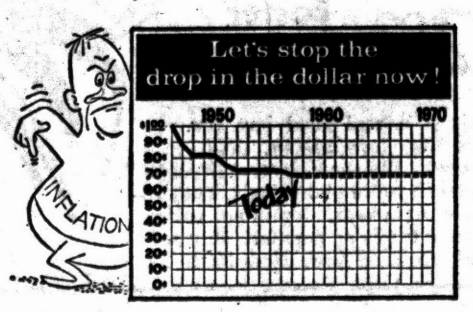

There is a way we can stop further inflation

The most important thing you can do in the fight against inflation is to see that the government—federal, state and local—spends your tax money wisely. You can encourage your representative in Congress, for instance, to fight against expenditures that may be better postponed and to work for a balanced budget.

A move in the right direction would be to see that the Employment Act is made more effective by setting a stable dollar as one of our primary goals along with maximum employment, production and purchasing power.

A balanced budget and a stable dollar will encourage people to add to their savings. Not only will a growing nest egg bring a comfortable feeling of independence and security to millions. But those savings, as they are invested, will provide the capital needed for America's future growth.

The first requirement for a strong and more prosperous America is a strong and stable dollar.

• • •

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

Defense Budget Politics Rapped

GOP Senator Asserts Ike's Request Adequate to Prevent War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas E. Martin (R-Iowa) said today demands that President Eisenhower's 41-billion-dollar defense budget be increased are "motivated primarily by partisan politics and should be rejected."

Martin, a member of the Senate Space Committee, said a two-weeks inspection of Air Force installations, missile and aircraft projects convinced him the defense budget "will do the job of deterring the U.S.S.R. from starting war."

★ ★ ★

Among other things, Martin said, a group of senators viewed Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles at Vandenberg Air Force Base, the Pacific Coast missile launching and test facilities center.

"A full squadron of Atlas ICBM's will be operational before the year is out," Martin said.

The Iowa senator said the President's recent nationwide radio-television broadcast on the Berlin crisis had increased public confidence in adequacy of his defense budget.

A contrary view was expressed by Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo), former secretary of the Air Force, in a filmed television interview with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore).

Symington, long an advocate of more defense spending, predicted that the Democratic Congress will again vote increases in the missile and other defense fields above the Eisenhower requests.

Seaman Goes Overboard Impersonating Officer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Military Police, investigating complaints that a Naval lieutenant was handing out demerits in downtown Chicago for unshined shoes and disorderly conduct, found him carrying a clipboard with the notation to call the MPs, since "they are needed."

The MPs were needed. Leroy Lilly, 24, who said he was a seaman for two years, was booked yesterday for impersonating a Naval officer.

House Runs Into Car

HAMPTON, S.C. (AP)—Mrs. Eloise Goreau had an unlikely explanation when husband Ted asked how one fender of their car became dented. "A house ran into it," she said. It was true. A house mover was moving a small house down a street and a corner of the house hit the car, parked in front of the Goreau home.

Engagement Rings for Men a New Fad

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A new jewelry fad among men, the wearing of engagement rings set with their birthstones, is being strongly encouraged by their fiancees. The gals figure the rings warn predatory females: "This guy is already taken."

When you make your first visit to the moon—almost any year now!—don't forget to take the scenic crater tour. The moon has more than 30,000 craters. Many are up to 50 miles wide, and one is 30,000 feet deep—five times the depth of the Grand Canyon.

Authors develop strange idiosyncrasies. Anthony Trollope is said to have hired a man to fling him out of bed in the morning and force him to face his writing desk. Alexandre Dumas, the elder, could write articles only on pink paper, poetry on yellow sheets, and novels on blue, and he could never work on a novel with a pen he already had used on a play.

Slide in behind the controls of this gorgeous automobile, pull away and feel what happens—or doesn't happen—at the first curve or corner. Less lean. Less sway. Wide-Track Wheel design is the reason. No other car, only Pontiac has it. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance but not the car. You're steadier, balanced, more secure. Narrow track cars can't match it. This is a big year for Pontiac—with many more to come. It can be your big year, too. Pride and pleasure never came in such an irresistible package. Get one from a dealer and take it out for a drive today.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Life No Gay Whirl for Many Senate Wives

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Wistful voters who visualize the life of senatorial wives as a giddy whirl of glamorous parties should know that some are made of sterner stuff.

In this party-mad capital where free drinks are available at every hour of the day and night, an increasing number of congressional ladies are turning their backs on the martini circuit in order to improve their minds and their bank balances.

★ ★ ★

Take Lady Bird Johnson, for instance. Married to a peripatetic, restless, perfectionist husband who was born with a dazzling array of political talents, the wife of Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson was abruptly projected into the national spotlight without the gift of speech-making.

ON THE SPOT

Lyndon, as the most powerful Senate leader in history, is naturally in great demand as a speaker, and his modest wife found to her consternation that wherever they traveled together, she was also tapped to "say a few words" to women's groups, or to grant radio and television interviews.

★ ★ ★

Weaker women would merely have declined, but it is impossible to live with, or work for Lyndon Johnson without catching the contagion of his conviction that all things are possible. As Lady Bird puts it: "Lyndon is always prodding us to look better, learn more, work harder and accomplish everything."

★ ★ ★

As a consequence, she is now enrolled in a public speaking class, where she is required to to deliver an oration every week on any subject from politics to travel. Her classmates include the wives of ranking diplomats from such assorted nations as Britain, Pakistan and Germany.

IT'S ROUGH

At the conclusion of each speech, the members of the group criticize each other so unmercifully that the jibes of opposition political candidates would seem flattering by comparison.

★ ★ ★

Senators sometimes like to ham it up on the Senate floor, and certainly some of their speeches are full of corn, but Sen. Herman Talmadge is the only member of that exclusive body whose wife is making the ham business pay.

Pretty, blonde Betty Talmadge regularly commutes between Washington and their Georgia plantation to oversee her ham-curing business, which has burgeoned to such profitable proportions that she has now enrolled in a local business college to study accounting.

This is no lark for the busy mother of two young sons, but a deadly serious attempt to learn the intricacies of higher finance, so that she can know exactly how rapidly to expand her business, when the break-even point is reached, and how much of the profit can remain after income taxes.

Mrs. Strom Thurmond, who met her senatorial husband while working as his secretary at the gubernatorial mansion in South Carolina, is another of the bright young Senate wives who refuses to spend her days at the bridge table.

SHE STUDIES LAW

Determined to help Strom in every way possible, and also to be so well informed that he can talk over legislative problems without first having to draw her a picture, Jean Thurmond enrolled in George Washington University to take a stiff course in congressional law.

Many years her husband's junior, she discreetly hid her identity from fellow students, who sometimes wondered why she was never available for jam sessions and college dances.

Shortly after their society wedding in Newport, the beautiful young bride of youthful Sen. John F. Kennedy went back to college here in order to study American history. Already an amateur artist and designer, Jacqueline discovered that when the rollicking Kennedy clan got together, these talents failed to help her in the family guessing game of "twenty questions." She therefore became a school girl again, in self defense.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Kerr, who developed a flair for interior decorating while the future senator was making his first millions in Oklahoma oil, has turned her onetime hobby into a paying business. She now owns and oversees a fashionable decorating shop in the heart of Washington's historic Georgetown.

Grayce Kerr doesn't need the money, but few will dispute that this is a better way to spend the day than counting calories at Washington's buffet-groaning cocktail parties.

MRS. DONALD R. FRIEBE

Delores Leone West and Donald R. Friebe were married Saturday afternoon at Oakland Park Methodist Church. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Lafayette West and the late Mr. West and Elmer Friebe and the late Mrs. Friebe.

Delores West Becomes Bride of Donald R. Friebe

White snapdragons and white chrysanthemums banked the altar of Oakland Park Methodist Church for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Delores Leone West and Donald R. Friebe. The Rev. James W. Deeg officiated at the candlelight ceremony before 150 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Lafayette West of Oliver street and the late Mr. West and Elmer Friebe of Bay City and the late Mrs. Friebe. The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Richard West of Sylvan Lake.

IN BOUFFANT GOWN

She wore a gown of silk bombazine featuring a portrait neckline and a fitted bodice with a basque waistline and short sleeves. Medallions of Alencon lace, iridescent sequins and seed pearls accented the bouffant floor-length skirt which ended in a full chapel sweep.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a headpiece of silk organza trimmed with medallions of Alencon lace and seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses and stephanotis. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Richard West of Sylvan Lake was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Fred Hammerslag of Ann Arbor and Virginia Fowler.

★ ★ ★

They wore identical ballerina-length aqua taffeta dresses trimmed with deeper aqua iridescent taffeta bows and they wore Juliet caps of iridescent taffeta trimmed with matching bows and circular veils. The bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations and roses, and the matron of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations and American Beauty roses.

★ ★ ★

Mary Ann Friebe of Frankenmuth was flower girl. She wore an aqua dress and an aqua iridescent taffeta headband with a circular veil and carried a basket of pink flowers.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Jack Friebe of Frankenmuth was his brother's best man. Ushers were Tim Hossack and Glenn Cheek of Sylvan Lake. Ringbearer was Rick West.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Before leaving for a southern honeymoon, the bride changed to a navy suit with navy and white accessories and the white rose corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on Opdyke road.

★ ★ ★

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University and the bridegroom was graduated from Central Michigan College where he was affiliated with Pi Kappa Phi fraternity.

Mrs. West wore a champagne linen lace sheath dress with matching accessories and a green cymbidium orchid corsage pinned to her purse.

DORA S. DAWSON

Interesting Women

Dora Dawson at 80 Too Busy to Be Old

By RHEA E. VIETOR
Women's Editor
The Pontiac Press

Mrs. Dora Dawson was 80 years young yesterday. We had been looking for an opportunity to talk with this delightful woman, so it was a good chance to go and see her.

"I'm too busy to be an old lady," she informed us gaily, when she came to the door in a stunningly simple blue dress.

And she is right, for she has been too busy in Pontiac for nearly 40 years to have time to grow old.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dawson, affectionately called "Dora" by children and grownups alike, has given her time, her talents and her energy to civic enterprises in this city since she first arrived.

CHOIR DIRECTOR

Perhaps she is best known for her work in the field of music. For many years she directed choirs both at the First Baptist and the Congregational Church. She is one of the two life members of the Tuesday Musicale which was organized in 1923. For 20 years she directed the chorus of the Musicale and was president of the organization in 1940-41.

★ ★ ★

She has contributed articles to The Pontiac Press for 20 years or more, for she is also an able newspaperwoman.

During World War II years, she served as head of the Gray Ladies for the Red Cross at Pontiac General Hospital and was president of the Pontiac Farm and Garden Club.

Mrs. Dawson combines a great deal of charm with talent and a keen intelligence.

Dora says her vitality is due to her active interest in Pontiac affairs and that her busy days working on community projects have kept her youthful.

Reminiscing, she said with a sparkle in her eyes that she has led a full and satisfying life—and so she has.

★ ★ ★

Of Puritan stock going back to 1639 in America, she was born in Ivanhoe, Ill., on March 22, 1879. After attending high school in Duluth, Minn., she graduated from the Chicago Musical College. Since she was 16, she has been active in choir groups, both as alto soloist and as a conductor.

WRITES FOR PAPER

After college, she went to Washington for her health and there she got her first taste of newspaper work under the formidable Colonel Robertson, publisher of the morning and evening papers in Yakima. "He was a hard taskmaster," she recalls, but "I learned a lot."

While there she wrote society columns and did music reviews.

Nearly 40 years ago, the Dawsons settled in Pontiac and Dora has been contributing to the cultural growth of this city ever since.

★ ★ ★

We asked about her travels and learned that she believes in "seeing America first." Ten years ago, when she was only 70, she and her sister, Mrs. Helen S. Tietgen took an automobile tour of the United States that covered 9,000 miles. She brought back mementos of each place they visited, including flowers picked at Glacier National Park.

PLANS FOR FUTURE

"What are your plans for the future?" we asked.

Mrs. Dawson smiled at that and said, "I think I'll just keep on with what I'm doing."

At the present, that includes a great deal of work toward Pontiac's new Town Hall series, duties as a member of the board of the Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony, and on two other boards of the symphony and of course, her church activities.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday Dora Dawson celebrated 80 fruitful years at a small party at a home on Tilden avenue with her sister and a few close friends.

Pontiac can well be proud of this spirited, witty and gracious woman.

Strong Statements to Mother Who Let Mate Beat Babies

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: Your answer to 'Young Mother' who stood by and watched her 'ill-tempered' husband beat their 5-month-old twin babies with a belt made me sick. 'SEE A DOCTOR?' All this man needs to see is the inside of a padded cell! He is absolutely insane. And any wife who has to write to a stranger to find out what to do is also insane. If I had her address, I'd call the wagon." MRS. F. C. K. (Albany, N. Y.)

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: It's too darned bad 'Young Mother' didn't know what to do when her husband beat those 5-month-old twins with a belt. Didn't that woman have a big heavy oak chair to crash over the back of his head when he wasn't looking?"

EMMA (Chicago, Ill.)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: When my baby was 13 months old, my husband took the flat-iron cord to him and whipped him until he drew blood. The very first moment my husband was out of the house, I packed my baby and left. Within six months my husband went blind and when they took him to the hospital they discovered he had a tumor in his head the size of a lemon. He had been sick all this time, but thank God I didn't let him beat my baby to death."

MRS. X. (Washington, D. C.)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I lost twin boys at birth so you can imagine what that letter did to me when I read of the father belting them in their cribs because their crying kept him awake. That dirty low-down skunk should be tied to a tree and horse-whipped. And any woman who would live with a man who acts like this is sicker than he is."

MRS. T. J. W. (Cincinnati, Ohio)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: God help those poor little twin babies whose crazy father beat them with a belt. If the mother hasn't got the guts to bang a frying pan over his head, why doesn't she call the police? We have youngsters (twins included) but if my husband ever laid a finger on a little one that way, he wouldn't be walking around today, let me tell you."

BOILING MAD (Portland, Ore.)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: If I told you what I thought of that filthy brute of a coward who beat those defenseless babies with his strap you could never get it by the censors. I just had to put in my two cents to tell you that any mother who'd let that happen to her babies without lifting a hand to protect them should turn herself over to the Insane Asylum. She is certainly not mentally qualified to take care of her children. As for him — what should be done to him also cannot be printed." W. L. L. (Philadelphia)

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Don't people know enough to ask the law to help them protect innocent children? Even a dog is protected against beatings from a mad man. The police in our town are called out practically every night because some neighbor has his TV set on too loud. What's wrong with some idiots, anyway?"

MRS. DEAN R. McCONKEY

Kathie Anne Young, daughter of the Manley Youngs of Cherokee road, and Dean R. McConkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConkey of Durand, were married Saturday at First Congregational Church.

Kathie A. Young Weds Dean Robert McConkey

Wearing a gown of banquet taffeta with a chapel-length train, Kathie Anne Young became the bride of Dean Robert McConkey in a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at First Congregational Church. The Rev. Karl W. Ostberg officiated, in the presence of 400 witnesses.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Young of Cherokee road. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Robert McConkey of Durand.

Alencon lace, embroidered with pearls and crystals, and a scooped neckline accented the bodice of the bride's gown. An Empire band extended to the back of the dress to form a bow, and her headpiece, a bow of matching taffeta, held a fingertip veil of French silk illusion. She held a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis with ivy.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. George Heine was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Theodore Cohassey, Alice Bego, Joan Skelley, Marianne Crozier and Rae Fife of Pittsburgh, Pa.

All the attendants were gowned in white taffeta dresses featuring bell-shaped skirts, accented at the waist and hem by bows. Crowns of pink taffeta held their circular veils, and they carried cascades of pink roses with ivy.

★ ★ ★

Robert McDonald of Virginia was best man. Ushers included Robert Young, brother of the bride; Roger Cram and Jerald Garrett, both of Baltimore, Md.; Jerald Still, of Oklahoma, Alan Smith, of Colorado, John Miller of Chicago and Richard Walker of Durand.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Young selected a hyacinth silk chiffon sheath with a back floating panel for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was a band of matching chiffon, and she wore a pale pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. McConkey was dressed in mink-colored lace with a matching hat. Her corsage was of bronze cymbidium orchids.

RECEPTION GIVEN

A reception was held at Devon Gables following the ceremony.

Before leaving for a trip to Florida and New Orleans, the new Mrs. McConkey changed to a pale blue two-piece suit with matching shoes and bag and wore a corsage of white roses from the bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

The bride is a senior at Michigan State University and a member of Chi Omega Sorority. Mr. McConkey is an MSU graduate and is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. The couple will live in Durand.

Few Dinners Do Demand Extra Tip

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I went to a testimonial dinner recently for my employer. The tickets were ten dollars apiece. I am not married so I went alone to the dinner and sat at a table with a group of my office associates.

"After dessert, a plate was put on each table for a tip to the waiters. I thought the tip had been included in the price of the tickets and was not prepared for this extra expense. I had only a few dollars in my purse for taxi fare so I didn't put anything on the plate. Needless to say I was very embarrassed.

"Is this practice customary at a testimonial dinner or taken care of beforehand?"

Answer: I think that the tip should have been included in the price of the tickets. But as at so many business, political and other large dinners the tip is collected from the diners as you describe, it is wise to be prepared. In any case, one dollar would have been enough for your share.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if the bridegroom's father wears a boutonniere, and if so, who provides it?"

Answer: The bridegroom's father has no role or duties in the wedding and there is no rule covering a boutonniere for him. His son will very possibly give him one, or he may buy one himself.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The place we have engaged to have my wedding reception is very difficult to find. Only people who live here would know how to get there. Would it be in bad taste to enclose a small map showing the way from all main highways?"

Answer: It is a perfect thing to do and not unusual.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently my daughter's picture along with the announcement of her engagement appeared in the newspaper. She received quite a few messages of good wishes from her friends and relatives. Will you please tell me if it is necessary for her to acknowledge these messages in any way?"

Answer: If the messages were letters from those she sees rarely, she should answer them, but verbal thanks to those she sees often would be sufficient.

Take Proper Care of Your Sight

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Our eyes and mouth tell the world a great deal about us. There are two schools of thought. One believes that the eyes are our most expressive and characteristic feature. The other feels that the mouth is more revealing.

Actually, the sum total of personality and physical appearance is the answer. However, when we really love someone we find that unforgettable pictures have been etched on our subconscious and reappear in memory. A characteristic light in the eye of one we love or a curve of the lips is highlighted forever for us.

Anyway, we all know that eyes can make a plain face beautiful or a beautiful face dull. We think of eyes in such romantic or personalized terms that we sometimes forget that they are very complex and delicate organs; it is unfortunate we abuse them.

Long ago the eye did not have to meet the requirements of close work under artificial light or hours spent in reading or looking at television or movies.

Maybe it is time to give our eyes a break. Do you read in poor light? Do you hold your book at an odd angle while slumping in a chair or reading in bed? Do you work for hours without giving your eyes short rest periods? Do you shun glasses you need and squint and thus place a strain on your eyes with resulting fatigue to yourself?

Today eye glasses actually are ornamental. They can add to a woman's appearance because they are available in such variety in shape and color. Let me give you some hints about what style is best for certain shaped faces. You know what shades are most flattering to you.

If you have an oval face, your glasses should have flowing semi-oval lines. Those which sweep upward in line are youthful and help correct a drooping contour. However, if they are too extreme they may be too narrow to be becoming to many faces.

If you have a square face, your glasses should be fairly wide at the bottom. You can make a long thin face look wider by wearing glasses with a frame at the browline but rimless lenses. A round face is flattered by glasses with depth but a fairly sharp upsweep at the sides.

You can make yourself prettier if you choose the right type glasses. These should be tried on and studied just as you do when buying a hat.

Many Witness Colorful Scout-O-Rama in Pontiac

ROPEWORK — The scouts of Troop 53, Mark Twain School, showed the crowd that rope could be used in many ways with their "Rope Lashing" demonstration. This was only one of several displays of ropework at Saturday's Scout-O-Rama. Shown here in the process of lashing a chair together are David Williams, 11, Phillip Poponealz, 12, and Pat Riley, 11.

Array of Exhibits Shows Youngsters' Talents, Skill

By DICK SAUNDERS

The great spirit of Akela and all else that goes with scouting prevailed through the halls of Pontiac Central High School Saturday.

At 1 p.m. sharp the doors were thrown open to oldsters and youngsters alike who filed in to witness the Third Annual Scout-O-Rama, sponsored by the Pontiac District, Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

A colorful array of 35 displays was setup in the PCH gym, and a troop camping exhibition by Troop 5 of the First Congregational Church drew crowds outside the main entrance on W. Huron street.

A record crowd of 4,000 attended the affair, according to Van Braidwood, Pontiac District executive.

With a campsite all set up right on the lawn, the scouts tempted the many visitors all afternoon and evening with the delicious scent of barbecuing steaks sizzling over an open fire.

Once inside, if you didn't stop at the refreshment counter for a quick bottle of pop, you were greeted with shouts of "Come on yellow," or "Let 'em roll," eminating from the pinewood derby races put on by Cub Pack 8 of Crofoot School.

'PUT IN 79!'

Discouraged at how one car was doing in the race one cub would shout, "Hey, put 79 on the track," only to be informed that car 79 was "retired" for the time being.

Stepping into the gym proper, those who attended were faced with action and color on all sides. Everywhere on the floor were Cub, Boy, and Explorer Scouts displays.

To the left, facing p section of bleacher seats was a large stage where the crowd saw five presentations from 1:30 to 8 p.m. of "Scouting On The March" sponsored by Troop 244 of Graee Lutheran Church.

A feature of the Scout-O-Rama this pageant attracted a large audience which was taken on a march through the various phases of scouting.

A voice suddenly shouted "Hey, keep that rope tight," and the presence of feet dangling overhead struck spectators.

A glance upward revealed a Sea Scout from Ship 5 of the First Congregational Church being transported from one end of the gym to another by means of a rope and pully.

The scent of pine trees dominated one end of the gym where Troop 7 of Bethany Baptist Church had its Adirondack Cabin and Campsite display arranged in a forest atmosphere.

SPECTATORS MARVEL

Spectators marveled at the cabin constructed by troop members over a three-month period. It weighed about 500 pounds, cost $75 to build, and could be set up or dismantled in 20 minutes being built for easy transportation in sections, as a fishing shanty is constructed.

An excellent example of how scouting helps others while teaching boys useful skills was a display by Pack 20 of McConnell School showing an array of 15 types of specialized toys the Cubs made for handicapped children undergoing therapy in area hospitals.

Some of the many exhibits and demonstrations were bigger than others, but all were outstanding.

Different handicrafts, from intricate basket weaving to model making, were found in displays of Pack 9 of Webster School, Pack 29 of Hawthorne School, and Pack 66 of LeBaron School.

Paper flower making, beading and braiding, and the making of colorful figures with hobby wire were exhibited by Pack 13 of Wisner School, Pack 27 of Whitfield School, and Pack 53 of Mark Twain School.

Cubbers Hobby Shop was the theme of the booth by Pack 17 of Sarah McCarroll School while an array of interesting den projects were exhibited by Pack 22 of Daniel Whitfield School and Pack 64 of Willis and Will Rogers schools.

SHOW GLASS PAINTING

Fascinating glass painting was shown by Pack 58 of Emerson School, Cub Scout Games was an interesting and fun-filled display by Pack 50 of Harrington School, and Indian lore was covered by Pack 25 of Longfellow School.

The remaining Cub Scout exhibits were "Show Time" by Pack 51 of Donelson School, and two geographical displays, "Canada" by Pack 28 of Owen School and "Exploring Alaska" by Pack 200 of Alcott School.

Boy Scout Troops 9, of the First Methodist Church, 20 of McConnell School, and 21 of Baldwin Evangelical United Brethren Church, concentrated on hobby and handicraft displays.

DISPLAY ROPEWORK

Ropework was emphasized by Troop 19 of Apostolic Church of Christ and rope lashing was well displayed by Troop 53 of Mark Twain School, while interesting leathercraft was demonstrated by Troop 56 sponsored by the Salvation Army.

A regular campsite was set up as the Camping Merit Badge project of Troop 150 of Crofoot School and Troop 51 of Donelson School offered an exhibit on Constructing Camp Equipment.

Every conceivable method of first aid was covered by the demonstrations of Troops 66 of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church and 26 sponsored by the Rema Club.

Remaining troop exhibits were "Bird Feeders" by Troop 28 of Owen School and Troop 29 of Wever School. Other interesting displays were presented by Post 29 of Explorer Scouts sponsored by Wever School, Chippewa Lodge 29, and Waites Department Store.

Vivi Mettala is the champion speller at Wixom. Dianna Kahsin, also a sixth grader, was the runnerup and like Vivi will participate in the District Bee.

In earlier Grade Bess. Jeff Stadnik was tops in the sixth grade and Roger Nicolay in the fifth. However, the boys lost out in the School Bee when the top 10 spellers in each grade competed for the school honors.

4 From Pontiac Hurt in Crash

Mother, Father, Two Children Injured When Car Hits Tree

AVON TOWNSHIP—Four members of a Pontiac family were injured yesterday when their car slammed into a tree on Hamlin road, one half mile west of Crooks road here, Romeo State police reported today.

Injured were Charles R. Kent, 22, of 2372 Auburn Rd.; his wife, Dorothy, 23; and their two children, Helen, 3, and Jeffery, 19-months-old.

Kent suffered a cut face and leg and his wife a neck injury. Helen had face cuts and Jeffery, a possible concussion.

All were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac where Kent and his daughter were treated and released. His wife and son are both reported in good condition there today.

Troopers said Kent lost control of his car on a bridge and hit a tree. He was ticketed for speeding, and his car was a total wreck, police said.

Michigan Farmers Earned $2,145 Net

CHICAGO (UPI)—Michigan farmers' net income last year was an average $2,145, three per cent highe. than the previous year, the Agricultural Marketing Service has reported.

This was the realized net income or the amount that was available for spending after expenses were paid. Increased receipts from cattle, wheat, soybeans and potatoes were offset by smaller income from dairy products and cherries, the service said.

Weather Studies May Help Curb Plant Diseases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The time may come soon when weather orecasters will be able to predict with great accuracy outbreaks of plant diseases.

The Agricultural Research Service is making studies on weather conditions under which various serious plant diseases develop and progress. Scientists believe that in time knowledge obtained from these studies will permit forecasting condition in various localities favorable to such diseases.

17 Votes Beat School Millage

Almont Voters Reject Proposal to Eliminate Growing Deficit

ALMONT—Electors in the Almont School District have defeated a proposition to authorize a 2½-mill increase in the school operating tax by 17 votes. The total tally in Friday's special election was 426 to 409.

The additional millage was needed to pay off an existing deficit in the operating fund, according to Donald McAlvey, superintendent of schools. He said this amount will total about $40,000 before the end of the year.

This is the second time in less than a year that the Almont voters have turned down a request for extra millage. Last July a proposal seeking two mills for two years was defeated by two-to-one.

The latest proposition called for the additional mills to be levied for three years.

Before the election, the Almont Board of Education warned that if the extra millage proposal were defeated, kindergarten through the seventh grade classes could go on half-day sessions next year.

A total of 842 votes—seven of which were spoiled — were cast Friday.

Betty Cole of Rochester Married to Detroit Man

MRS. IRWIN RICHTER

ROCHESTER — Maranatha Baptist Church, Detroit, was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening in which Betty J. Cole of Rochester became the bride of Irwin Richter of Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Cole, 52580 Brookfield Ct. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Richter of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The bride's gown of rose point French lace was fashioned with a basque waistline and long, tapered sleeves. The bouffant floor-length skirt, designed with tiers of ruffles on each side, had a panel back ending in a chapel train.

Her headpiece of matching lace held a fingertip veil of pure silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and yellow tea roses.

Maureen Kunert was matron of honor with Joan Ignasiak as bridesmaid and Beth Winters as flower girl.

Henry Richter was his brother's best man. Alfred Kunert Jr. seated the guests, and Stevie Richter was ring bearer.

The newlyweds now are honeymooning in North and South Carolina.

State Acreage of Onions Seen Increasing a Third

LANSING (AP) — Michigan onion growers intend to harvest 8,400 acres of onions this year, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

This would be nearly a one-third increase over last year, when insects and poor weather left harvested acreage at 6,500, the lowest since the 1943 acreage of 6,100. The intended acreage still was 10 per cent below the 10-year average, however.

Avondale Educators to Explain Budget

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Board of Education will hold an open meeting at 8 tonight in the senior high school. During the session board members will explain why they plan to seek voter approval of a millage increase for the Avondale schools later this spring.

The board has been conducting a study of the 1959-60 budget during the past several meetings, and tonight's presentation of the need for extra millage is a result of that investigation, school officials said today.

To Fight Ionia for Flannery

Lawyer Claims He Will Be Better Off at State Hospital in Northville

BERKLEY—Detroit attorney Joseph W. Louisell planned to move today to prevent the commitment of Patrick J. Flannery to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Louisell said over the weekend that Flannery, 19, of 995 Oxford St., Berkley, "desperately needs help but not at Ionia." He said he would try to have Flannery sent to the State Mental Hospital at Northville instead.

A Hillsdale County Circuit Court jury Friday found Flannery innocent by reason of insanity of the Nov. 28 slaying of Thomas Neitling, 21, of Tecumseh. Neitling was bludgeoned to death with a shotgun as he slept in an off-campus room he shared with Flannery. Both were students at Hillsdale College.

Circuit Judge Charles O. Arch sentenced Flannery under a state statute which holds a person found innocent of murder by reason of insanity must be sentenced to Ionia for life or until found sane by a competent court.

"We think Flannery will have a better chance to recover at Northville," Louisell said, "instead of among convicted criminal psycopaths at Ionia."

Farmers Seem Headed for Production Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American farmers apparently are headed for a new production record again in 1959.

The Agriculture Department has estimated that this year's crops will be grown on about 339,000,000 acres, almost 9,000,000 more than in 1958 when farm output rose to an all-time high.

Gibberellins Are Controlling Wonders

Science Delves Into Plant Growth Chemical

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Plant scientists are delving into an "intriguing field" on which they "have only scratched the surface" in gibberellins—the new growth wonder chemical.

The word on this growth stimulator has been out for some time. It has received much publicity and notice but the possibilities ahead are vast, according to scientists.

At Michigan State University, where plant scientists were among the first to work on the wonder chemical, more and more is being discovered which could affect agriculture throughout the world.

Sylvan Wittwer, horticulture professor at MSU, said various gibberellins have been found to produce much success in potatoes, citrus fruits, coffee plants and celery.

He said increased production resulted in Florida and California when a few hundred acres of celery were sprayed and in California more, larger and better quality grapes popped up when treated with gibberellin.

The chemical also shortened dormancy in green potatoes, he said, and produced bigger and better seed grapes in the eastern part of the country.

A "remarkable increase" came in navel and mandarin orange production after the gibberellin treatment, he said, with an increase in vitamin C, more juice and better quality fruit.

The only drawback, as Wittwer saw it, was that coloration was not quite as good as previously.

Under normal conditions, coffee plants flower over a long period and the harvest of the beans is sporadic and stretched out over a long time. Gibberellin made the plants flower "all at once," Wittwer said, and labor costs were cut because the harvest was controlled and all at one time.

Gibberellic acid is one of the "hundreds" of gibberellins, but the one which received the most publicity when news broke on the wonder chemical.

Wittwer called gibberellins a "versatile material of plant growth hormone. This hormone is present in some amounts naturally in plants, he said, but by increasing the amount, strange things happen in the growth process.

★ ★ ★

"Production is certainly no problem," he said. "Enough could be produced in a week to last the world a year."

It takes about 10 days from start to finish in the production scale.

Wittwer said he had worked with the material about three years.

Now, he said, work is going along on anti-gibberellins, chemicals which would retard some aspects of the growth stimulant which are undesirable.

He said sometimes weakened stems as well as lack of color result and studies are under way on methods of counteracting these unwanted results.

This field is "hot stuff," he said, and further reports should be ready in August on this study.

The accident happened in the George T. Griggs home at 231 E. Flint St. where remodeling operations were in progress.

Pageau is a partner in the firm of Dupler and Pageau Plumbing Co., 741 S. Lapeer St. here.

Teen Bride Dies Beside Hospital

Mystery Shrouds Cause as Phone Call Leads to Body on Lawn

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—What caused the death of an attractive teen-age bride whose body was found on a hospital lawn?

Authorities hope an autopsy will answer that question today.

Hospital attendants were led to the fully clothed body of Mrs. Brenda Emerson, 16, after they received an anonymous telephone call Saturday night.

Police said she had been dead about 30 minutes. They said she may have been alive when her body was left on the lawn. The only mark on Mrs. Emerson's body was a puncture wound on the inside of the right elbow. They said it appeared to be from an injection.

Identification marks on her clothes had been removed. She was still wearing her wedding ring, a watch, and a locket.

The young victim eloped to Phoenix nine months ago with Steve Frank Emerson, 20. He was questioned briefly Sunday at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Blonder, in West Los Angeles.

Emerson said he last saw his wife about two hours before her body was found. He said she left their home in nearby Beverly Hills to attend a family reunion at her parents' home.

The prime minister and his wife were met at the airport by their daughter, Kirsten, who lives in New York.

Likes Makeup of Marilyn's Molecules

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Marilyn Monroe, the movie star, is simply a collection of molecules but it's the organization that counts, a medical scientist said in making a point.

Dr. John H. Heller, executive director of the New England Institute for Medical Research at Ridgefield, Conn., used the illustration in an address prepared for a symposium on medicine in the atomic age.

Heller referred to the screen actress in his belief that medical science must probe the molecular makeup of human diseases and cures to learn why and wherefores.

"How can we hope to tackle even the simple diseases like arthritis when we don't even know what it is and why it cripples man?" he asked. "We don't even know how tranquilizers tranquilize."

★ ★ ★

The Connecticut scientist said the only way to "remove the blindfold in current research" is to put medicine into a scientific descriptive stage so it can be measured and explained. He said the answer lies in exploration of molecular activity.

"A housewife trying to repair a nuclear submarine with a screwdriver has a better chance of success than through current research methods," Heller declared.

Heller was one of a number of experts in medicine, science and industry to share their views with the conference on atomedics, a coined word for a new movement aimed at better, cheaper health in the space age.

The president-elect of the American Medical Assn., Dr. Louis M. Orr of Orlando, Fla., assured the physicians they never will be replace by machines. "Some patients would never respond to such impersonal treatment," he said.

Orr said scientific research may lead hospitals of tomorrow to use columns of air instead of beds to support their patients. Physical checkups might be performed by electronic computers, he said in a prepared address.

Canada May Receive Share of U. S. Power

OTTAWA (AP)—A Canadian victory appears likely in a long battle with the United States over development of vast hydroelectric power projects on the Columbia River.

The United States has agreed in principle that Canada should receive a share of the power generated in U. S. plants from Columbia River waters stored in Canada.

This was revealed by the International Columbia River Engineering Board when it reported it would be physically and economically feasible to precede immediately with one of three Columbia River power projects estimated to cost one billion dollars.

Each of the projects would almost double current electrical output from the Columbia to 16 million kilowatts, or meet 60 per cent of all electrical power demands during 1958 in the U. S. Pacific Northwest and British Columbia.

★ ★ ★

The size of the U. S. share to be paid Canada will be considered by the international joint commission April 8 in Washington.

'The Babe and I'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I." Copyright, 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice Hall, Inc.)

Babe spent enough time in Lou Gehrig's home in New Rochelle to get fond of Mom Gehrig and buy her a special present. It was a scraggly little Mexican hairless dog. Mrs. Gehrig did Babe the doubtful honor of naming the little beast "Jidge."

★ ★ ★

"Jidge" was the ballplayers' nickname for Babe. He insisted it was from "Judge" and was a tribute to his natural wisdom.

Less biased authorities agree it was an old pronunciation of "George," Babe's first name. Very few ballplayers call other players by the colorful names sportswriters attach to them.

Our daughter Dorothy was a constant visitor in New Rochelle. Lou liked her and Mom Gehrig was crazy about her. And that's where the trouble started.

Dorothy was the kind of child who got very fond of the same two or three sweaters and dresses. Every time she went up to visit in New Rochelle, she brought along the same clothes. Mom Gehrig was outraged. Her favorite Ruth girl wasn't as well-dressed as my daughter, Julia.

Actually, each child had a rich wardrobe, but Julia was a dresser and Dorothy was all for comfort, particularly in the country.

THE GIRLS TALKED

The remainder of the story is predictable. Mrs. Gehrig said something to a ballplayer's wife about "Poor, little underfed, badly dressed Dorothy." The ballplayer's wife lost the least possible time telling it to another ballplayer's wife.

And you know who heard it next.

I was madder than Hell. And I did just what any other outraged wife would do. I told my husband that Dorothy was never going to New Rochelle again in her life. That if I ever saw Mom, Pop, or Lou again I'd . . . oh, you know the rest.

How I wish now that Dorothy was neater. That Mom Gehrig had minded her own business. That my "good" friend hadn't told me the story. And that I'd shut up, myself. But the girls talked.

★ ★ ★

The next day the Babe and Lou met in the clubhouse. There was no Ruthian outburst.

This was 1933, and the Babe was too filled with troubles of his own and the pain of playing to tear a clubhouse apart.

He simply told the story to Gehrig in his usual blunt way. And then said, "Never speak to me again off the ball field."

It was that simple. That final. That stupid.

Lou's position was equally obvious. The Babe had impugned Lou's beloved mother. Nobody did that and retained Lou's friendship.

JUST MAD, NOT JEALOUS

After the season, Babe and Connie Mack took an all-American League team, the first such group, to baseball-batty Japan. Lou was along, on his honeymoon.

Julia and Dorothy, whose clothes habits sparked the controversy, with their father.

In his role as field manager, Babe spoke to Lou off the field.

An elaborate ceremony had been arranged in Tokyo that required the players to be at breakfast by 7:30 a.m. Earle Whitehill, a pitcher, and Lou were late.

Babe told them, "If either of you is late for another appointment, I'll send you back on the next boat."

From then on, more than ever, the Gehrigs and the Ruths kept their distance.

There was no business of cutting one another in public, but you could dent the frigidity with an icepick.

This was not a highly publicized breakup, but there was an occasional note in the paper. The guesses were bad.

Usually they hinted that the new Mrs. Gehrig and the veteran Mrs. Ruth didn't get along for reasons of jealousy, or just for reasons unknown. We neither got along nor quarreled.

We just didn't meet except on ultra-official occasions where we beamed affably at each other.

I know Babe was never jealous of Lou nor was Lou jealous of Babe. They were just mad at each other.

LOU GOES FAST

And so it went until 1939. When the players and writers drifted north after the Yankees training in St. Petersburg, Babe and I were amazed to hear the unanimous opinion, "Lou is finished. Never saw a ball player go so fast."

Ball players go slowly and painfully as Babe and I knew so well. Lou was a man who apparently had lost all his gifts overnight.

It was far, far worse than just growing old. Lou, the man of iron, was dying. In June of 1939 he asked Joe McCarthy not to start him in a game in Detroit. It ended the longest playing streak in history—2,130 consecutive games.

On July 4, 1939, the Yankees sent for all the great stars who had been a part of the Gehrig saga to pay tribute to an undoubtedly dying man.

Babe was among the famous old timers—Meusel, Hoyt, Pennock, Lazzeri, Pipp, Dugan — all great names and greater memories. Lou was in uniform. The Babe came in street clothes; they didn't meet before the ceremonies.

The spectacle of a man who is going to die, talking to 60,000 people who know he is going to die, is an awe-inspiring drama. Lou was up to whatever role was expected of him.

TOGETHER AGAIN

Lou spoke of his mother and father, of his wife, and of being a Yankee, the four things he loved most on earth. Then he said, "I consider myself the luckiest man in the world."

I was conscious of movement in the deathly still infield and realized it was Babe. He walked over to Lou and threw his arms around him. Lou returned the greeting and smiled.

Later Babe told me, "Damn it, I went over there because I had to. I wanted to laugh and cheer him up. I wound up crying like a baby."

It's a shame that all their womenfolk weren't just a little bigger than they were one hot afternoon in 1933.

Tomorrow: Kids were the Babe's favorite people, and he was their favorite hero.

Said Worth $7 Billion a Year

Income Tax Receipts Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Herbert Zelenko, who worries a lot about people beating the government out of taxes, is trying again to have his favorite loophole-closer enacted into law.

The New York Democrat said his plan, "a heck of a good idea," would be worth seven billion dollars a year to the Treasury. He was "certainly disappointed at the emotional reaction against it last year."

The proposal is built around numbered receipts for income tax returns. It is aimed at people who don't file any income tax return at all, even though their income is well into the tax brackets.

The emotional reaction, which bothers Zelenko more than the coolness of congressional committees and the Treasury, came from people who "seemed to think that any numbering system like this was the kind of thing you would find under European dictatorial regimes, or like serial numbers tattooed on people."

On the contrary, he said, the receipt plan wouldn't invade anybody's privacy or cause much trouble — except to people who should file income tax returns and don't.

Each return would have a numbered card attached. When a taxpayer sent in his return, the Internal Revenue Service would tear off the tab and mail it back. The card would give no indication of the size of his income. Nor would it say whether the return was correct or not. It would simply be evidence that he had filed.

But then the taxpayer would have to give the number whenever he dealt in any way with the federal government. Moreover, states would be asked to cooperate by making the same requirement.

Zelenko reasoned that, if somebody who obviously should be paying income taxes didn't have a number to provide when he communicated with a federal agency, or when he paid state taxes or applied for automobile tags, questions would surely be asked.

"It would flush them out," he declared. "Lots of people would be afraid not to file—it's simply psychology."

He said he has seen studies indicating 26 billion dollars of taxable income goes unreported annually.

Soviet Handouts Increased to Over $1 Billion in 1958

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sharp upturn in Soviet aid to underdeveloped nations was reported over the weekend as further criticism was voiced on a House committee cut in funds asked for such areas.

An administration survey showed that the Soviet bloc last year signed aid agreements with free world nations totaling more than one billion dollars — an increase of about 700 millions over 1957.

The survey was aimed at boosting the administration's effort to get congressional support for President Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

The president minced no words in expressing disapproval of the House appropriations committee's turn-down of his request for 225 million dollars in supplemental money for the Development Loan Fund. The fund finances loans to underdeveloped areas as part of the foreign aid program.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower called the committee action irresponsible and said it is not reversed it will "represent a long step backward toward isolating our country and weakening our national security."

Democratic Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota backed the president's views on the fund rejection.

He said the decision was regrettable, adding: "The question is not can we afford a modest mutual security program. Rather the question is: Can we afford not to afford it."

★ ★ ★

"The development loan fund," Humphrey said in a statement, "is the very heart of our economic aid program. To label it a giveaway is a gross misrepresentation and a disservice to the best interest of our nation and of the free world."

William H. Draper, chairman of a special presidential advisory committee on foreign aid, said in a radio-TV interview it would be a tragedy if the committee's decision is not reversed.

Rome Awaits Blossoming of Royal Romance

ROME (UPI)—Former Queen Soraya of Iran arrives here today with her mother, and Rome society waited breathlessly to see if they would call on Italian Prince Raimondo Orsini and his mother.

Rumors of a romance blossomed when Soraya, 27, and Orsini, also 27, held hands on the ski slopes of Switzerland. Northern Italian newspapers said flatly they would be married. Rome newspapers merely hinted at it.

The rumors received a boost when Orsini visited Germany where the former Persian queen lives in Frankfurt with her mother. They received another boost when it became known the ex-queen had taken rooms two blocks from the Orsini palace.

Ores and metals represent from six to eight per cent of the value of all world trade.

Favored River Rouge Gets Battle Before Winning, 52-47

Holly Happy to Be Class B Runnerup

County Quintet Wins Respect at E. Lansing

Underdog Broncos' 19 Game Streak Ends in State Finals

By CHUCK ABAIR

Holly High School's trophy showcase was glowing with the addition of the state runnerup trophy and the Bronco players were sporting medals today as symbols of their tremendous performance in the Class B portion of the Michigan prep finals at Michigan State over the weekend.

The trophy that was placed front and center for all to see today might well have been the championship award the way the Oakland County boys played in bowing out to heavily favored River Rouge 52-47.

Holly was not only underdogs against Rouge. The Red and White had been expected to lose ever since the regional finals but they ignored the odds and kept playing steady ball.

Despite a 19-game victory streak going into the contest, the experts were certain the locals would be run right off the floor by the fast-breaking, close-guarding Rouge five. All agreed it would be just a matter of time before the Detroiters pulled away to a big lead.

But the big lead never materialized and neither did the fast break. Holly slowed the play down and forced the fleet Rouge lads to play deliberate ball.

To say the gallant Broncos won the respect of the 12,100 fans in attendance would be putting it mildly. It seemed like the entire crowd was for the charges of Leroy Decker as they battled right down to the final whistle.

Holly was the talk of the tourney until Lansing Sexton came up with its miraculous upset of Hamtramck.

Decker summed up the feeling of everyone with the comment "They knew they were in a ball game" during a post-game talk to his squad.

George McDaniel, playing one of the greatest games of his outstanding career to earn most valuable player honors, almost proved too much for Rouge.

The 6-6 center swished 28 points and took off 21 of his team's 34 rebounds after being hindered by a ripped shoe most of the 1st quarter. Holly held the ball out purposely for over four minutes until a replacement could be obtained.

He went wild after changing during a time out hitting 10, 6 and 10 in successive quarters.

"I picked a great time to start missing foul shots," said the senior in trying to take the blame for the setback. He hit only 4-for-11 and missed six straight but swished to 12 of 22 floor shots.

The Broncos usually win on foul shots but this time it worked the other way as they made one more field goal.

Rouge held the lead from the start until there was 6:13 left in the game. Holly had always been right close behind. It was 33-28 starting the 4th period after the losers had missed eight of nine free throws in the session.

A goal and foul by McDaniel and Ron Morlan's jump shot gave Holly the edge for the 1st time and Darrell Kinney's layup on a long pass upped it to three at 36-33. Rouge gained a tie with 5:12 remaining and then went ahead to stay despite the steady scoring of McDaniel. His successive two-pointers made it 48-47 with a minute left but Rouge stalled out the rest of the way adding four fouls.

Jim Dunson not only paced the champs in scoring with 16 but he also did an excellent job holding Morlan to three baskets after his 25-point effort Friday. Holly shot 43.9 per cent from the floor to Rouge's 25.8.

Burnside Leads Tigers to Win

MOST VALUABLE — Big George McDaniel, 6-6 senior center of Holly, took basketball honors even in defeat. McDaniel was named by the sport writers as the most valuable player of the state tournament despite Holly's defeat by River Rouge in the finals.

Lanky Southpaw Makes Big Bid for Mound Job

Bengals Defeat Braves 10-4 for 7th Triumph of Grapefruit Loop

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—It looks like Pete Burnside is going to keep some rookie from making the Detroit Tiger pitching staff this year.

The lean southpaw apparently has whipped his control problem, and the Tigers believe the 28-year-old Dartmouth graduate, who blew three other big league chances, finally is ready to take the big step.

Burnside became the first Detroit pitcher to go as long as seven innings when he scattered six Milwaukee Brave hits yesterday and the Tigers defeated the National League champions 10-4.

The old base-on-balls bugaboo, plus the need for another pitch to go with the fast ball, curve and slider has kept Burnside in the minor leagues for practically all his 10 professional seasons.

★ ★ ★

Now he has come up with a screwball and he's not afraid to throw it in tight situations. And control has been one of his main assets this spring as he has rapidly become one of Detroit's most effective moundsmen.

Manager Bill Norman calls him "the most pleasant pitching surprise of the camp."

The work and the determination to make good on what could be his last opportunity at big time baseball apparently have done the trick and put Burnside in line for a spot on the Detroit club.

He walked only one batter and struck out four in his seven-inning stint at Bradenton, leading the Tigers to their seventh victory in 11 Grapefruit League games.

This is one more than they won during the entire 1958 spring training season.

Harvey Kuenn, who laced out three hits as the Tigers beat the Braves 6-2 Saturday at Lakeland, added three more Sunday. The Tigers collected eight safeties against Carlton Willey, Jerry Nelson and Don McMahon. Kuenn hiked his batting average to .368.

The Tigers jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Kuenn drove in two with a triple and then rode home on Gail Harris' single. Two more runs came in the third on singles by Kuenn, Harris and Al Kaline and two walks mixed with an error.

The Tigers continued scoring in bunches, picking up four more runs in the fourth. Kuenn again was the big man of the rally with a double. The last Detroit tally came in the eighth on Larry Osborne's double.

Burnside, meanwhile, held the National League champions scoreless until the sixth when Hank Aaron hammered a 380-foot homer. It was the first circuit blow off Burnside all spring.

February Benchwarmer Is Saturday Prep Hero

EAST LANSING — "I shot it to go," said lithe Bob Davis, who was a Lansing Sexton benchwarmer a little more than a month ago. It went.

So did Hamtramck's dreams, so close to realization, for a first Class A state high school basketball championship.

Davis' jumpshot from near the corner, a fleeting instant before the buzzer, capped a near-miracle comeback in Sexton's 80-79 overtime triumph over Hamtramck Saturday. The champs had been behind by 15 points with 3:52 left in regulation time. They caught up with 13 seconds to spare when Davis calmly cashed a pair of free throws, forcing stunned Hamtramck into overtime.

Hamtramck seemed certain of victory after scoring 26 points in the second quarter for a 43-26 halftime lead.

"They gave us a lesson in hustle in the second quarter," said Clayton Kowalk, in his third year as Sexton coach.

"In the fourth we showed them we learned our lesson and had plenty of confidence in the overtime."

Sexton hadn't won a tournament game for Kowalk until this year.

Kowalk felt Sexton's junior-dominated team didn't start to jell until after it lost four of the first six regular games. The Big Reds rallied to beat Saginaw Arthur Hill and began gaining the momentum which ended in their third championship, first since 1945.

They won the six-A league title with seven defeats. Sexton squeezed by weak Jackson by five points in its only district tournament test. The pivotal game was against Benton Harbor, a finalist last year, in the regional opener. Sexton rallied from behind and won 57-56.

"That was when we decided to shoot for the moon," Kowalk said.

Three Pontiac Cagers Awarded Positions on All-Star Teams

Three members of the Pontiac Boys Club basketball team received all-star recognition in the Michigan Boys Club tournament which concluded Saturday afternoon at the Pontiac B. C. gym.

★ ★ ★

The Boys Club quintet from the Philadelphia Building in Detroit won the state championship with a narrow 45-42 triumph over the Pontiac cagers in Saturday's final round.

Detroit's Guest Building Boys Club took 3rd in the tourney with a 39-31 overtime conquest of Detroit Sarver in the preliminary game.

★ ★ ★

Bob Trotter and Pete Douglas, both of Pontiac, were named to the 1st all-tournament team while Pontiac's Dick Meger earned a spot on the second squad.

Ron Flowers of the winning team was voted the tourney's "outstanding player" award. Flowers was the leading scorer with 53 points. Dick Brown of the Sarver club gained the "sportsmanship" award.

Toronto Takes 6-4 Decision in Final Game

Leafs Gain Playoff Berth as New York Loses to Montreal

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings are on the outside looking in at the Stanley Cup playoffs for the first time in 21 years.

But at least the last-place Detroiters had something to say about the makeup of the National Hockey League's post-season tournament.

The Wings led 2-0 last night and then succumbed to the onrushing Toronto Maple Leafs 6-4. That let the Leafs bypass the New York Rangers by one point and make the playoffs for the first time in three seasons with a fourth-place finish.

★ ★ ★

The Leafs just about tore down the Olympia Stadium locker room afterwards, so great was the rare thrill of making the playoffs. They had been last most of the season, pulled past Detroit a month ago and then won five straight to catch the fast falling Rangers. The Rangers, who kept alive by downing Detroit 5-2, lost last night to Montreal 4-2.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the New York was made in Olympia at 16:40 of the first period. Detroit was leading 2-0 at the time. But it fired Toronto to a frenzy and the Leafs scored four times in the second period to knot the game as 4-4. Then Dick Duff put in the winner and Billy Harris the insurance tally in the final period.

★ ★ ★

"We're the hungriest hockey team in the world," cried punch Imlach, who replaced Billy Reay as coach when Toronto was foundering early in the season. "We're just getting started."

The Leafs take on the Boston Bruins, second-place finishers, tomorrow in the opening game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final.

★ ★ ★

Down the hall, in the Red Wings locker room, hockey's most successful dynasty was being buried. The Wings had won eight league championships since 1949. Four times since then they had been Stanley Cup champions. They had made the playoffs every season since 1937-38, a record unequaled in league history.

★ ★ ★

Last night was the bitter end. They got two goals apiece from Norm Ullman and Marcel Pronovost, blew leads twice and watched some one else celebrate.

General manager Jack Adams, never one to sit still long, is expected to make many personnel changes by next season.

Hagen Duo Leads Elks Doubles

Pontiac Dominates Women's Titles

A strong finish enabled Pontiac keglers to dominate the honors as the 26th annual City Women's tournament came to a close at Montcalm Centre over the weekend.

At the same time, the Elks Mixed Doubles event got under way at Lodge 810 with A. and E. Hagen taking the early lead with a 1282. All the opening week contestants were from Pontiac.

Three Pontiac teams overtook previous leader Milford Floor Covering in the final session with Hart Window Cleaning gaining the championship with 3045 sparked by a 558 actual for Capt. Neva Shain and Lucille Zorvan's 554.

Dishmaster Corp., which took 2nd in the State Women's meet at Grand Rapids a few weeks ago, also wound up runnerup here with 3015. The top tourney game of 1080 featured the Hart showing.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Rose Stratton and Shirley Pointer of Dishmaster gained the doubles crown with 1288. Eleanore Needham and Marvel Szot had been the pacesetters throughout the competition only to end up 3rd. The Stratton-Pointer duo had the best game of 499.

Lorraine Cloutier came up with the outstanding single of the four weeks with a 267 and compiled a 694 in an impressive attempt to give Pontiac a sweep of major titles but fell four short of catching champ Frances Johnson of Milford.

Shirley Pointer took two individual titles and tied for another. She easily was all events actual victor with 1756, had the high actual game of 246 and matched Joanne Gohl for actual series with 615. Marvis Peterson of Milford rolled the top handicap game of 277.

★ ★ ★

All women's prizes will be awarded April 5 at an open meeting of the sponsoring Pontiac Women's Bowling Association to be held at the Elks Temple at 1:30 p.m.

The 1282 rolled at the Elks bettered last year's winning total of 1275 compiled by "Cap" Halliday and Donna Opie but tourney officials are predicting it will take over 1300 to gain the title.

Crowd Mark in Tourney

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Maybe Michigan's lawmakers should turn over their fiscal woes to state high school athletic director Charles E. Forsythe.

The prep basketball tournament set an all-time attendance record over the weekend by drawing 46,968 fans.

Forsythe accomplished this in an easy manner. In past years the semifinals have been run together at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse and the Lansing Civic Center with one ticket good for the four games at each site.

★ ★ ★

This year it was decided to hold the class B and D semifinals in the afternoon, clear the buildings and then charge admission to the class A and C semifinals at night.

It paid off in crowds of 6,600 and 9,528 at Jenison and 2,600 and 4,000 at the Civic Center Friday with both sessions drawing 12,120 sellouts at Jenison Saturday.

Cal Defense NCAA Surprise

Deliberate Play of Coast Quint Gains Prestige

Ex-MSU Coach Pete Newell Guides Bears to National Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Defensive basketball, especially as played on the West Coast, took on new prestige today as California's ball-hugging bears carried home the National Collegiate Title, won in a 71-70 thriller over West Virginia in the NCAA finals here Saturday night.

The defensive side of the collegiate game has been making a low comeback in the past two seasons from the days when most teams were content to have their defense described as "a wave, a shout and a dirty look."

The scoring average per game has sloughed off 10 points since it reached a high of 146.5 (both teams) in 1956 and 1957, and with the new limitations placed on the dribbler this season, California slow-gaited to the national title by holding its opponents to just over 50 points per game.

Meanwhile in the NIT at Madison Square Garden, St. John's of Brooklyn, coached by Joe Lapchick, rapped top-seeded Bradley, 76-71 in overtime for its third tourney title.

Bradley coach Chuck Osborn gave credit to sophomore Tony Jackson of St. John's as the big difference in beating his Braves. Jackson snared 27 rebounds and collected 21 points in the Nationally televised contest.

Even though West Virginia, with Jerry West alone getting 28, rolled up the season's highest total allowed by the Bears, it still was California's error-free, deliberate attack and clinging man-for-man defense that roved superior to the mountaineer's style of run and shot in the showdown.

★ ★ ★

It took the bears 10 minutes to set those defense in the title game as West Virginia streaked to 23-13 lead in the first nine minutes. But the bears doggedly played the game they knew best, and held the Mountaineers to a single field goal for the rest of the half.

30 Points Toward Title

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Race driver Don Branson of Urbana, Ill., today has 30 points toward the midwest championship of the United States Auto Club.

Branson Sunday won the USAC national championship sprint race —covering the 15 miles in 13:15.4.

Expected to Accept

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Harold Bradley of Duke is expected to accept the basketball coaching job at the University of Texas, the Austin American said Sunday night. The paper said Bradley's answer would probably come Monday.

Calvin Coach Honored

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Barney Steen of Calvin, has been named Michigan NAIA coach of the year and 10 players from 10 colleges have been named to the 1959 Michigan NAIA all star honor basketball team.

Steen coached Calvin to an 18-2 record.

The selections were announced Saturday by Sam Ketchman, athletic director of Ferris Institute and Michigan NAIA chairman.

★ ★ ★

Frank Hamilla, Northern Michigan; Ferris Saxton, Alma; Gary Lee, Central Michigan; Bob Fletcher, Kalamazoo; Ralph Honderd, Calvin; Don Bohannon, Hillsdale; Bruce Jones, Ferris; Mike Rice, Detroit Tech; Dick Groch, Olivet, and Vince Giles, Adrian.

Goalby Heads St. Pete Field

1958 'Rookie of Year' Leads Cary Middlecoff by One Stroke

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—the touring golf pros had a new rabbit to chase as they started the final round of the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open tournament today.

Bob Goalby, the husky and handsome youngster who was chosen "rookie of the year" for 1958 by the leading money winners on the circuit, carved out a neat three-under-par 69 at the Lakewood course yesterday for a 205 total and a one-stroke lead at the three-quarter mark.

Right behind the big fellow is another big man, Cary Middlecoff of Hollywood, Fla.

One stroke back of him was Pete Cooper, Lakewood, Fla., veteran who plays Florida courses as if he owned them. Cooper had a 69 to add to his earlier rounds of 68 and 70, an was very much a threat.

Jersey Kegler Defends Title

Faragalli Has to Top 2,116 All-Events Set by Lubanski

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Al Faragalli has his work cut out for him when he defends his American Bowling championship today.

★ ★ ★

The Patterson, N.J., sharpshooter won the 1958 all-events title with a 2,043 series. To keep the title, Faragalli will have to surpass the 2,116 record set in the nine-game category by Detroit's Ed Lubanski on Feb. 25.

★ ★ ★

Faragalli got off to a good start last night when he rolled a 683 series in the open team event. But he will have to average better than 239 in the six games involved in the singles and doubles today to catch Lubanski.

★ ★ ★

The Faber Cement Block team of Paramus, N.J., regarded by most experts as the top quintet spite Faragalli's heroic effort. Lou Camp contributed 641 and Chuck Pezzano had 605.

Manero's Steak House, also of Paramus, took eighth place in the open division with 3070.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Pfeifers continue their stranglehold on the open division with the 3,243 record series they put together nearly a month ago.

Betsy Rawls First in Columbus Open

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Betsy Rawls played what she thought was her "best golf this year" to win the $6,000 Columbus Women's Open tournament with a satisfying two under women's par 294.

★ ★ ★

The veteran professional from Spartanburg, S. C., worked out a virtually unbeatable seven stroke lead at the halfway mark and then coasted to victory yesterday, four strokes ahead of persistent Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla.

Stewart and Makeup Man Off for Ishpeming Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
(Copyright, 1959)

HOLLYWOOD—Now that young Robert Jacks has severed his producing pact with his former father-in-law, Darryl Zanuck, he is jumping into solo production with both feet.

His first venture on his own is "Bourbon Street," an original by Richard Carr, about a jazz piano player tracking down the murderer of his wife. Naturally, it has a New Orleans locale and will be shot there.

Already signed for the male star is Robert Culp, currently the hero of TV's "Trackdown" series whom Jacks believes will be another Montgomery Clift when he hits the screen. Dorothy Malone is the girl being sought.

Jimmy Stewart is taking Paramount makeup man Harry Ray to Ishpeming, Mich., for "Anatomy of a Murder."

Yul Brynner, whose eye operation was a complete success, writes that he will star in Alfonse Gaudet's "Nabob." Yul will play the mysterious oriental potentate, and he's talking business to Brigitte Bardot to co-star with him.

The picture will be made in Paris for his Alciona Productions and the fact that it will be filmed there interests la Bardot.

The infiltration of communism in Africa is the reason for the unrest among the natives, Dana Wynter told me when she returned from spending two weeks in Southern Rhodesia with her parents.

"I saw more of Africa this time," Dana said, "than at any time. My father has friends who are in the missions and we visited them. The Russians have taken any number of blacks into Russia, educated them, taught them the Russian language, and made them feel that the English and Americans are bitter foes.

"That's where the danger comes in. I am so afraid that at any time trouble might break out, and I have begged my parents to leave, but I'm afraid they never will. My father feels they need his care."

Bright and early Jayne Mansfield was on the telephone breathlessly telling me about two great things that had happened to her. She has signed a contract for 200 of the Jayne Mansfield Dream Pools.

"That many have already been sold," she said. "They are not all in the shape of a heart. Some of them only have my picture in a heart-shaped frame. I'm the president of the company, and Mickey (Hargitay) is the vice president.

"The second wonderful thing," enthused Jayne, "is that Mickey and I open at the Tropicana May 13 with a new act. Twentieth Century-Fox has given me leave of absence for four weeks."

With the "howling" comedy success of "The Shaggy Dog"—everybody seems to be getting into the dog act!—of all people, Peter Ustinov has been signed to play a lawyer who is transformed into a canine in "The Man Who Wagged His Tail" for producer Ladislao Vajda. It will be made in Spain later this year after Ustinov completes "The Sundowners" in Australia.

Another word about "The Shaggy Dog"—once again Walt Disney takes the "blue ribbon" for this hilarious comedy about a boy who becomes a pooch and Fred MacMurray and Jean Hagen are so good in it.

Kim Stanley Drops 'Poet'

Blames 'Behavior' of Eric Portman; Denies Rift With Helen Hayes

NEW YORK (UPI)—Actress Kim Stanley blamed English actor Eric Portman's "behavior" last night for her abrupt withdrawal from the broadway success, "A Touch of the Poet."

Miss Stanley, who won unanimous acclaim from the critics for her brilliant acting in the Eugene O'Neill play, denied that she had any differences with another stellar member of the cast, Helen Hayes. Miss Hayes said yesterday that she did not have anything to do with Miss Stanley's action.

"She had some kind of emotional upset but it definitely didn't have anything to do with me," Miss Hayes said.

Miss Stanley resigned from the part Friday, giving annoyance with Portman's behavior and the "general artistic atmosphere of the play" as her reason for finding it impossible to continue. She said she was going to Maine with her three children to get away from it all.

Portman, who won his broadway spurs in "Separate Tables" several seasons ago, said that in 25 years in the theater he had never before encountered a similar situation.

British Women Race for Pounds in Baby Handicap

LONDON (UPI) — Midwives and maternity homes today prepared for their busiest two weeks of the year.

Babies born before midnight a week from Sunday earn their parents tax exemption for the entire year, and a great deal of family planning is based on this.

Statistics show March is the biggest birthday month because of this 100 pound ($280) exemption. The midwives call the final two weeks the "spring handicap."

French Claim Wins in Algerian Strife

ALGIERS, (AP) — French military authorities reported today that 444 Algerian nationalists were killed or captured or defected over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

A rebel unit totaling 150 men was put out of action near Constantine Sunday when it was surrounded by French troops shortly before Prime Minister Michel Debre's visit there.

A few hours earlier, a nationalist unit of 150 men crossed the border from Tunisia and surrendered to he French. Another 116 rebels were reported killed and 28 captured throughout Algeria.

Nationalists injured 25 persons and killed a French sailor.

S. Dallas Fire Kills Mother, 3 Children

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sudden fire swept a small frame home in South Dallas early today, killing a mother and three children.

★ ★ ★

Another child escaped the flames, apparently by jumping through a window. He ran to a neighbor's house, screaming, "The house is on fire. Help me get my mother out."

★ ★ ★

Killed were Bertha Wilbanks, 42, and three of her children, Donnie, 7, Melvin, 9, and Linda, 11.

Here's Your Overshoes, All Is Forgiven, Captain

OMAHA (AP)—When Police Capt. Ten Janing led a gambling raid recently, he took off his overshoes before entering the suspected dwelling. When he left after the raid, he forgot the overshoes.

A few night later, he reported, a man rang his doorbell, handed him his overshoes and left.

Moscow Cars Rare? You'd Be Surprised

By A. I. GOLDBERG

MOSCOW (AP)—The most surprising thing about Moscow to at least one newcomer is the amount of automobile traffic in the streets.

★ ★ ★

Moscow is on wheels.

Pedestrians have to hop.

The Russians themselves are partly responsible for any belief that the capital has few cars. Look back on official Soviet photographs of Moscow over the years—and other Soviet cities, too—and it's hard to find anything but an occasional bus showing.

Perhaps the Russians had an idea cars detracted from the view of wide streets and ornate architecture.

NAMED FOR OFFICIALS

But now the streets are filled with the small Pobedas, Moskvichs and Volgas; the somewhat larger new Chaika; and the bigger, older Zims, named for Molotov; the luxury Zis named for Stalin; the Zil for Likhatchov, an engineer.

On the last three the Z stands for zavod (factory) and the I for imeniyi (named for).

All the cars run. They work. You don't see any more Russian cars stopped for curbside repairs than you see in any other big city in the world.

They are comfortable enough, cheap enough to operate and look smart. They should. Down to the pushbuttons on the door handles they're copies of western European or American cars. The Chaika is a Chrysler type.

Even old Pobedas that make up half the taxi fleet still rattle along. There may be a groan in the transmission, a cough in the engine—poor gasoline—or a thud as your driver takes a bump full on. But they get you there and back.

★ ★ ★

Theoretically, as in most other places, pedestrians have the right of way over automobile traffic. But there are plenty of near misses.

No taxi drivers deign to use chains in wintry weather. Neither do truck drivers nor such private car drivers as exist in Moscow.

Even with the army of shovelers who take to the main streets at the first fleck of snow, automatic trucks that chew out big holes in snow drifts and the small scraper vehicles there is always a slight glaze in winter.

In the back streets the drifts remain high. But, though tires may be smooth, your Moscow driver sails right through, spinning his wheels and somehow getting out of the bad spots.

Passenger buses and heavy trucks also roll through the city.

In the plains, there is not too much traffic on highways paralleling the rail line. But in cities such as Mozhaisk and Vitebsk you see rolling motor stock in clusters again.

Free Licenses for Pub Owners

5 London Taverns Get OK From Board of Green Cloth

By PAT HERMAN
United Press International

LONDON (UPI)—Once each year London's five most privileged pub owners present themselves—as their predecessors have done for centuries—at Buckingham Palace, there to receive free, their annual liquor licenses.

Other pub owners in Britain pay for their licenses, but these five are the "Palace Publicans," whose places "verge on the Palace;" and they appear at Buckingham by command of the Board of the Green Cloth.

"Don't ask me the origin of the board's name," said Edgar George Hollies, owner of the Silver Cross, oldest of the "Palace Pubs," as he sipped his 11 o'clock glass of hock.

"The most popular theory is that the board originally consisted of the palace caterers meetings around a table that was covered with green cloth."

Local police and health inspectors annually report to the bench the condition and behavior of the five privileged pubs: The Silver Cross, The Ship, The Shade, Clarance and Whitehall Court.

"Palace pub owners have no power of argument before the board," said Hollies, stroking his moustache. "But we'd rather close down than not please the board. You know we're very jealous of our visit to the palace. It lets us see the inside."

Hollies said he thinks the Silver Cross is the oldest public house in the country. The other palace pubs, he said, "all were rebuilt after Whitehall Palace was burned down in 1698," while the Silver Cross traces back to 1253, when it was known as The Hermitage of St. Catherine and was practically next door to the palace of Charles I.

He noted that after the King was executed, the Silver Cross continued to do excellent business during the reign of Charles II, under a new owner, Sir Joseph Craig.

Craig was a noted builder who had the foresight to construct the home of Nell Gwyn, favorite mistress of Charles II, less than a stone's throw from the pub.

Grain Market Futures Steady

CHICAGO (AP) — The grain futures market was generally steady to firm today in early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Old crop wheat quickly ran up gains of a cent or more a bushel for a few minutes before liberal selling stopped the advance. The buying was understood to be largely reinstatement of positions that had been liquidated for the weekend.

Norway was understood to be in the market for corn and Denmark for soybeans but the amounts were believed to be small.

After about an hour wheat was ¼ to ¾ cent a bushel higher, May $2.05; corn unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.18½; Oats unchanged to ½ higher, May 66⅝; Rye ⅜ to ½ higher, May $1.40; soybeans ⅜ to ⅞ higher, May $2.24⅞.

MSUO Course in Gardening Set

Saturday Class to Open April 14 at Center With Nuttall Instructing

With the arrival of spring, a special adult education program in gardening will commence at Michigan State University Oakland (MSUO) on Saturday, April 4.

A series of 10 Saturday morning classes convening between the hours of 9 and 11 will be launched on that date at the Continuing Education Center on the MSUO campus.

Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of the center, announced that the instructor for the course will be Richard Nuttall of the MSU Department of Horticulture. Nuttall will emphasize the practical aspect of scientifically proven practices in modern day home gardening, Dr. Eklund said.

Among principal topics to be studied by the class are tree pruning, fertilizers, spraying, transplanting, plant and tree identification, flower gardening, shrubberies, and flowering trees, and types and uses of gardening equipment.

"This course is being provided for the university community in response to popular demand," Dr. Eklund states. "We chose Saturday mornings because some of the women in the area hoped it would thereby be possible to interest their husbands in taking the course with them in the forenoon and then to spend their afternoons doing the 'homework.'

"We shall certainly welcome husband and wife combinations in the course, as gardening is usually a family affair and an organized learning experience such as this should serve to increase the pleasure as well as to improve the results of their joint effects."

The course will be limited to 25, and those interested are asked to enroll in advance at the center, 3070 Butler Rd. The fee is $18.

Aircrafts Strong; Others Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts were strong in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was heavy.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among key stocks.

Aircrafts were solidly ahead, showing gains of around a point or better.

Weekend news of large defense contracts spurred the aircrafts. A 380 million dollar contract for Boeing and an 83 million dollar contract for Grumman spurred the entire aircraft section.

Gains of about a point were made by Grumman, Douglas and United.

Georgia Pacific was fractionally higher on word of a stock distribution and dividend boost.

Boeing's opening was delayed on a flood of buy orders. It rose 2⅝ to 43¾ on a block of 15,500 shares.

Elderly Troy Woman Routed by House Fire

TROY — An 89-year-old Troy woman was routed from her home at 5890 Donaldson St. by fire shortly before noon yesterday.

Fire Chief Mike Ford said Mrs. Emma Close was taken to the home of her son, William, who lives next door.

Ford, who declined to estimate the loss, said the fire apparently started in a stairway of the 4-room frame home.

Flames spread throughout the building, causing extensive damage to the structure and furnishings.

An investigation is being conducted by Ford to ascertain the fire's cause.

MSUO to Start State Geography Course Tonight

A 10-week course in the geography of Michigan will begin at 7 p.m. tonight at the Michigan State University Oakland Continuing Education Center, 3070 Butler Rd.

The course will be taught by Edward Prophet, associate professor of geography at MSU in East Lansing. Classes will run from 7 to 10 p.m. Mondays.

Dr. Lowell Eklund, director of the center, emphasized that the course is offered by MSU using the facilities of MSUO. For students interested in college credits, the course offers three hours of credit and can be taken for graduate credit.

Prophet has taught geography for more than 25 years and is widely known as a lecturer who relates geography to current events, Eklund said.

The course would be of interest to adults interested in the state's geographic phenomena, Eklund also stated.

Interested persons may enroll at the opening class session tonight. Enrollment is limited to 25 persons but some openings are still available.

Tuition cost of the course is $27.

Lone Gunman Robs Dairy in Auburn

A lone bandit held a clerk at gunpoint and robbed the Shamrock Milk Depot, 3455 Aburn Rd., Auburn Heights, of an estimated $170 last night.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said the robbery took place shortly after 10 p.m. Janette Collins of 1135 Bagley St. told deputies she was standing behind the counter when a man entered.

"He pointed a .22 caliber revolver at me and demanded all the money in the cash register," she said. After taking the money, she explained, the man forced her to the rear of the store and made her rip the telephone cord out of the wall.

"Then he walked out to a car and drove away," she continued.

Witnesses said there were two other men waiting in the car.

In Meriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Antonina Rogowski who passed away March 23, 1953.
Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies;
She lives in the land of glory,
Mid the blue and the gold of the sky.
Gone from us who loved her,
To the haven of rest;
To the home of our loving Savior,
Sweetly her soul to rest.
Her life is a beautiful memory,
Her absence a silent grief;
She is sleeping in God's beautiful garden,
In the sunset of perfect peace.
Sadly missed by Leo, Velma, and grandchildren.

Look at Other Minnesota Towns

Sleepy Eye OK as Name

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Sleepy Eye is a "pretty lively place" in Minnesota whose name isn't any more peculiar than a lot of other towns in the state.

★ ★ ★

In fact, you might consider Sleepy Eye an improvement over the town's original Indian name, Ish-tak-ha-ba, which means the same thing.

(Incidentally, Ish-tak-ha-ba—or Sleepy Eye—was the name of an Indian chief who came to the aid of the white settlers during a Sioux uprising in the 1860's. The town now has a monument in his memory.)

★ ★ ★

Anyway, is Sleepy Eye any worse of a name than Ah-gwaching? Or Embarrass? Or Kabetogama, Kanaranzi and Toilvola, all of which also can be found in the postal guide to the state.

What, for that matter, about Thief River Falls, Twig, Ballclub, Bowstring, Boy River, Breezy Point, Climax, Hasty, Pipestone, Prosper, Radium, Skyburg, Tenstrike, Triumph, Viking and Welcome?

★ ★ ★

At least 27 Minnesota towns are named after animals and birds: Badger, Bear River, Beaver Creek, Bird Island, Blackduck, Buffalo, Buffalo Lake, Crane Lake, Deer Creek, Deer River, Deerwood, Eagle Bend, Eagle Lake, Elk River, Foxhome, Foxlake, Grey Eagle, Heron Lake, Moose Lake, Ottertail, Oxboro, Pelican Rapids, Swan Lake, Swanville, White Bear Lake and Wolf Lake.

Some towns have big names (Big Falls, Big Fork, Big Lake), some little ones (Little Falls, Littlefork, Little Marais), and others long ones (Long Lake, Long Prairie, Long Siding Longville).

So Sleepy Eye need not feel self-conscious about its name. Take the citizens of Embarrass. They may be embarrassed to know there town is so small it isn't even indexed on the official map of Minnesota's highways.

Wedding Day Fine Suspended by Judge

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—This letter was received at police court along with a $1 payment for an overtime parking fine:

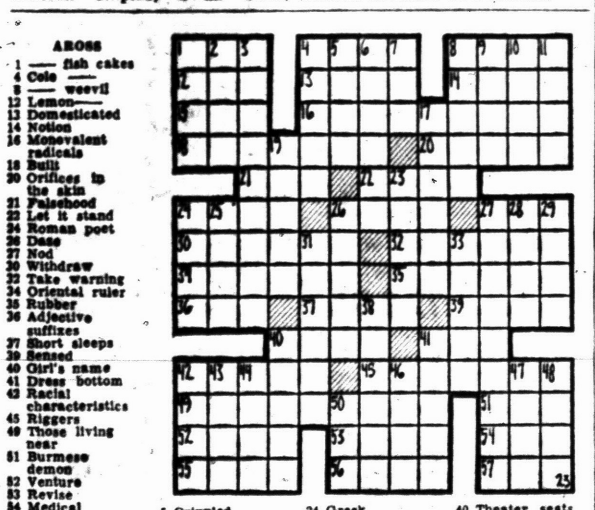

"Dear Cops:

"I was only four minutes late, besides that it was my wedding day and I was in the store purchasing a nightie to wear. I think you were most unfair and uncooperative. This is my first violation."

Judge John E. Brown said the fine was suspended and the $1 returned to the bride—for a wedding present.

Try Milton's Method to Handle Argument

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Beautiful Wife, Slugger and I were watching Sammy Davis Jr. when somebody said: "Sammy's better than Al Jolson ever was."

WILSON

"I disagree," another customer said. "Sammy's more versatile, but nobody could sing a song like Jolson."

We don't expect to settle it here, but we noticed that Sammy's best impersonating Frank Sinatra. "My name is Frank Sinatra and we have some songs we'd like to lay on you," he says—pretending to take a drink first. Still skipping mention of their little non-speaking difference of opinion, Sammy referred to Frank as "my idol and my friend."

In case there gets to be an argument about whether Sammy's as good as Jolson, or as good as Sinatra, we suggest that we'd like to handle it the way Milton Berle did in Miami. He went to the clubs where each was appearing and stated publicly that (a) Sinatra was the greatest living entertainer and (b) that Davis was the greatest living entertainer.

MARTHA

Beautiful Martha Stewart's agent phoned her with a list of summer shows she'd been assigned to star in, from Boston to St. Louis to Dallas. She thanked him eloquently, hung up, then sat down and wrote him a letter saying she couldn't accept. She showed the letter to her husband, David Shelley, who thus learned for the first time that they are to have their third baby.

Claiming that Dean Martin drinks a quart each performance, Joe E. warned, "He shouldn't do that—that's the way I started." Joe told Maurice Chevalier he also has a French decoration: a Croix deDrunk, given him for bravery under the weather.

Third Time in 12 Years

Joint Chiefs to Redo Offices

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time in 12 years, the Joint Chiefs of Staff will have their Pentagon offices reconstructed. This time the job may cost about $350,000.

★ ★ ★

A new expansion in the organization of the joint chiefs has caused the latest reconstruction. The expansion was provided under last year's Defense Reorganization Act.

★ ★ ★

No addition to the six million square feet of Pentagon floor space is required. But when a tenant moves out of a Pentagon suite and a new one moves in, they don't just move the furniture.

Walls are knocked down, new ones built. A door is sealed up and another one cut. New wiring for telephones and lights are installed.

The General Services Administration estimates the latest Pentagon change will involve about $250,000 worth of carpentry, electrical work and plumbing.

In addition, the expanded joint staff will have their own new furniture, rugs, drapes and other items. This, GSA calculates, might amount to another $100,000.

Aid to Jobless Areas Nears OK

Senate Dems Believe Bill Will Be Passed Despite Veto Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democrats were confident of Senate passage today of their controversial $389,500,000 bill to provide federal aid to areas of chronic unemployment.

Senate leaders hoped for a showdown vote by nightfall on the measure which is seven times bigger than the administration's proposal and faces the threat of a Presidential veto.

Republicans launched an all-out fight to cut the bill which would deal a heavy blow to President Eisenhower's proposed balanced budget for the 1960 fiscal year.

The Senate battle came as House Democrats announced other moves in the battle of the budget. They were:

★ ★ ★

—Chairman Brent Spence (D-Ky.) of the House Banking Committee asked Congress to vote a one billion dollar loan program to help local communities build new water supply facilities, sewage disposal plants and hospitals. Rep. Clarence E. Kilburn (R-N.Y.) denounced the proposal as a "new, needless budget-busting assault on the treasury."

—Other House Democrats said they would try to restore a $50,300,000 cut in the new space-age science education program for the current fiscal year. They said the reduction, ordered by the House Appropriations Committee, would wreck plans for awarding graduate fellowships to start next fall and slow down a number of other proposed projects.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), chief sponsor of the depressed areas bill, said yesterday that the Senate measure was designed to save "scores of communities which are withering on the vine."

Douglas said the legislation was needed to help areas where such industries as textiles and manufacturing have "ebbed away" leaving whole towns unemployed.

Show Received Acclaim

TV Tonight Repeats 'The Green Pastures'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—To attempt to portray God as a human being in the theater is difficult and controversial.

An intellectualized characterization of God currently is portrayed on Broadway in Archibald MacLeish's "J. B." Quite a different concept of God will be seen on television tonight when "Hallmark Hall of Fame" offers a repeat performance of Marc Connelly's "The Green Pastures" on NBC-TV.

★ ★ ★

William Warfield, who portrays De Lawd in the production, said the other day: "This is not an adult, intellectual portrait of God.

"It represents what a little girl in a small Sunday School in the South some time ago conceives to be God."

Warfield, the noted baritone, played the same role in the 1958 "Hall of Fame" production of "The Green Pastures."

Everyone in last year's all-Negro cast will appear again, except some of the Sunday School children who—as Warfield puts it, "just grew too big in one year."

★ ★ ★

To appear on the TV program Warfield turned down an opportunity to play the lead in "Othello" at the Shakespeare Theater, Stratford-on-Avon, England.

"But there's always a chance of playing 'Othello' again," he said, "and there's not always the chance to play 'The Green Pastures.' It's a wonderful play. Those who have qualms about it just don't understand it."

He recalled that before last year's presentation the Negro press "took pot shots at the idea of doing 'The Green Pastures.' But after it received such universal critical and popular acclaim, nothing more was said. The criticism just died away."

I asked him if he believed television would have produced the play if it had been written as an original.

"I don't know," Warfield replied. "That's a pretty generalized question and it's always hard to say what might happen to something under other circumstances.

"But I imagine that television might have been worried about the reaction of the Negro intelligentsia. There might have been fears that it presented the Negro as ignorant.

"But to me it doesn't do that at all. It's child-like, but that's its charm. It's imaginative and beautiful."

Tiny Organisms Cause 'Red Tide'

Poisonous Surf Known Even in Biblical Times Has No Antidote

WASHINGTON — When the "red tide" strikes, millions of sea creatures perish.

Dead fish and turtles pile up on beaches in malodorous windrows. Throats and lungs of swimmers become inflamed by poisonous surf. Hotels and schools close. Vacationers rush home.

Such tides were reported as early as 208 B.C. The Bible contains a possible reference in Exodus VII: ". . .and all the waters that were in the river were turned to blood. And the fish that was in the river died; and the river stank, and the Egyptians could not drink of the water. . ."

Toxic waters occur not only off the coasts of the United States but off lands as far away as India, Australia and Peru, the National Geographic Society says. The name "red tide" comes from the color of the water, but it may also be yellow or olive-green.

The villain is a marine organism little more than one-thousandth of an inch across. Known as a dinoflagellate (swirling-whip), this one-celled being falls in the borderline between the animal and vegetable kingdoms.

It is a four-lobed blob of protoplasm with a whip that propels it about in the ocean. The organism secretes a toxin apparently as deadly as botulinum—weight for weight the most poisonous substance known. Scientists have found no antidote.

Bernstein's Final Show Like Breath of Fresh Air

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leonard Bernstein sealed shut his CBS-TV season yesterday with another enormously attractive lecture-concert.

At this juncture, there's not much more that can be said about Bernstein, the TV performer. He has been accoladed, huzzaed, hurrahed, commended, lauded, panegyrized, eulogized, bouqueted and, I assume, even kudoed, whatever that is.

He is a performer of wit and charm who strikes sparks out of his material. There is a good deal of the hambone in Bernstein, but it is happy hambone.

As a result, his TV manufactures are as invigorating as a tankful of fresh air in a medium self-entombed in carbon dioxide.

There is some indication that Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic will return to TV next season — one of the shows he is reported to be plotting is a study on the musical prodigy. I hope he does return. TV needs his oxygen badly.

16-Year-Old Escapees Caught After Flight

Girls Kidnap Farmer at Knifepoint

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Two 16-year-old girls who broke out of a Nebraska industrial school and forced a farmer to drive them on their flight will be charged with kidnaping.

Peggy Ann Moore of Omaha and Janet Spegel of Lexington, Neb., are being held here for a federal officer to return them to Nebraska. The FBI said Sunday kidnaping charges will be filed against them.

★ ★ ★

The girls were captured at a roadblock here a few hours after they escaped Saturday night.

"It was quite an experience," said the girls' victim, Jesse Richards, 54, after he returned to his farm near Geneva, Neb.

Peggy and Janet, armed with two butcher knives and a .22 caliber pistol, commandeered Richards' car and forced the 6-foot, 200-pound farmer to drive them.

"They had a knife at my throat and a gun leveled at my back," Richards said. "I wasn't scared first, but I got scared before we stopped."

★ ★ ★

The girls were committed to the industrial school as delinquents. Both were working as waitresses in the dining hall. Saturday night they took a knife and slipped away.

At a nearby farm house, the girls found another butcher knife, the pistol and a change of clothes. They tried to steal a horse but the animal bolted.

About 8:30 p.m., Richards, his wife and their four children arrived home.

"The children went into the house and my wife put the car in the garage," Richards said. "When I walked in, it looked like the girls were raiding the icebox.

★ ★ ★

The girls told Richards they wanted his car and suggested his 16-year-old daughter drive them. Richards told them she couldn't drive and that if any of the family had to drive he would do it.

Richards said the girls treated him "pretty fair," during the trip. Twice they stopped to allow Richards to telephone his wife. Both times, Richards said, the line was busy.

Twenty minutes after the three left the farm, Mrs. Richards, who had been warned to keep silent, notified police. A pickup order went out for Richards' car and the girls heard it on the radio.

Near Aurora, Kan., they made Richards force a car off the road. Richard Mitchell, 35 of Glasco, Kan., was compelled to trade cars, and told to drive in front of them in Richards' car. Mctihell outdistanced the fugitives, pulled into a service station and called police.

The girls stole another car they found parked near the highway, but Mitchell saw the auto speed past the service station. He and attendant George Tatlock took off in pursuit. Police joined the high speed chase that ended at the roadblock.

The girls said they planned to go to Waco, Tex., because an Air Force base is near that city."

"I hear some of those Air Force boys are real crazy," said Peggy.

Teen Pair Arrested for Burning Cyclist

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Two boys, aged 11 and 12, were held in Juvenile Hall today on charges of turning a 10-year-old neighbor boy at nearby Thousand Palms into a human torch.

★ ★ ★

The boys, unidentified because of their ages, were at a loss to explain why they threw a lighted can of lighter fluid on Richard Bandick Jr. March 15 as he rode by them on his bicycle, according to detectives.

The boys were taken into custody last night after a week-long investigation.

Nevada Rocked by Strong Quake

No Damage Reported From Heaviest Shock in U.S. Since 1954

WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (UPI) — The strongest earthquake in America since December 1954 "Rolled" across Nevada last night but apparently left no damage in its wake.

The quake, first recorded at 11:11 p.m. (PST) at the University of California seismograph station at Berkeley, was felt over a wide area, but local authorities reported few calls from citizens.

The Pershing County Sheriff's Office at Lovelock, 90 miles northeast of Reno, said it received a few calls, and described the temblor as a "good-sized roll, but not sharp."

Authorities at Fallon, 60 miles east of Reno, the scene of numerous quakes during the past five years, also described the quake as a "roll." The Washoe County Sheriff's Office at Reno, about 200 miles southwest from here, described the quake as "very mild." They also received only a few calls, as did the Reno police.

The Humboldt County Sheriff's Office here said no calls were received, as did Paridise Valley officials near the Idaho border.

Dr. Dan Tocher of the Berkeley Seismograph Station said the quake registered 6.75 on the Richter scale. He said aftershocks were recorded for a half hour after the temblor was first felt.
