New Look Marks Opener for Tigers

DETROIT — The "new look" was presented on the playing field as well as in the front office of Briggs Stadium today where the Detroit Tigers opened the 1959 baseball season against the Chicago White Sox.

The Tigers had three new players in the starting lineup, including Eddie Yost at third base, Rocky Bridges at shortstop and Larry Doby in left field.

Jim Bunning, lanky righthander who won 14 and lost 12 last season, including a no-hit performance, got the starting assignment on the mound. He faces Billy Pierce, Chicago pitching ace with a 17-11 record last season.

Pierce, a former Tiger, lives in Birmingham.

In front office news it was announced just before game time that Rick Ferell was given the official status of general manager and vice president of the club.

Ferrell has been the acting manager since the resignation of John McHale, Jan. 26. McHale joined the Milwaukee Braves as general manager.

Ferrell, veteran American League catcher, joined Detroit as a coach in 1950 and since then has moved up the ladder as scout and director of minor league personnel before becoming general manager.

Ferrell's lone deal since moving into the front office was obtaining Doby in a trade that sent Tito Francona to Cleveland.

The Tigers are counting on Doby to supply the big bat they feel they need for success in the American League pennant race. He was hitting the ball well in the final few games of the Grapefruit circuit and he is now considered a regular for the left field job, ahead of Tiger veteran Charley Maxwell.

A crowd of 37,000 was expected but the weather forecast called for topcoats with the possibility of rain before the end of the afternoon.

Temperature of 42 was expected at 1:30 p.m. when the umpire makes his traditional call to "Play Ball."

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—The White House announced today that former British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill will visit President Eisenhower for three days in May.

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—A statewide search was started today for Douglas Hamilton, 40, Mrs. Carol Hayes, 34, and Mrs. Hayes' 10-year-old son Patrick who have been missing since Sunday. Washtenaw County Sheriff George A. Petersen said Hamilton, a salesman, had been living at the home of Mrs. Hayes, a divorcee, and her five children at a rented rural home near Chelsea. The couple and the boy were last seen Sunday setting out from the house in a 1953 model car.

2,619-Year Tradition Falls at Gay Japanese Wedding

From Our News Wires

TOKYO — Crown Prince Akihito married his commoner sweetheart Michiko Shoda today in a 15-minute ceremony of Oriental splendor that shattered 2,619 years of tradition and brought joy to all Japan.

The 26-year-old Prince defied palace tradtionalists by marrying for love and bringing to the threshold of the throne of Japan the daughter of a milling executive he wooed and won on a tennis court.

Millions of jubilant Japanese rejoiced with parades and picnics over the precedent-breaking marriage of Akihito to the beautiful commoner who will one day share the ancient chrysanthemum throne.

Celebrating throngs walked the streets of flag-bedecked Tokyo long after a gold-encrusted carriage had taken the radiant bride and her prince to their suburban residence.

Thousands jammed motion picture theaters, bars and restaurants. Some spread box lunches along banks of the Imperial Palace moat. Others headed for concerts and night-time lantern parades.

Only an unemployed youth, Kensetsu Nakayama, 19, marred the day-long celebration. He electrified the throng along the newlyweds' processional route—and millions more watching on television—by hurling a stone at Akihito.

When it missed, he leaped onto the moving horsedrawn carriage in a desperate lunge at the prince.

Police seized him immediately.

Circulate Sketch of Royal Oak Dealer's Killer

Search's Key Weapon Made on Descriptions of 2 Men at Airport

A composite sketch was the main weapon Michigan State Police had today in their search for the mysterious "dirty" man who killed Parvin (Bill) Lassiter.

The sketch, on page 2 in today's Press, was being given wide circulation throughout a four-state area in hopes of a lead to the killer's identity.

Lassiter, a 38-year-old Royal Oak car dealer, was beaten and shot to death Monday night, apparently by the mysterious man who met him at Willow Run Airport and lured him to his death on the pretext he would drive him home.

State Police Lt. Howard Whaley urged anyone with any possible information about the mystery man to get in touch immediately with law authorities.

CHECK EVERY TIP

"Every tip will be carefully checked out. The police need the cooperation of all citizen," said Whaley.

Readers of The Pontiac Press and other Michigan newspapers were urged to study the sketch carefully. Persons who were at the airport Monday night, especially between the hours of 10 p.m. and 11 p.m., were asked to take an extra careful look.

"Anyone who may have spotted the mystery man or has seen him in Lassiter's company could furnish us with valuable information," said Whaley.

The sketch was prepared yesterday by Patrolman Frank Parry of the Detroit Police, from descriptions given by two airport employes, the only persons so far who have recalled seeing the suspected slayer.

There were other details furnished about the man's appearance. He is described as between 35 and 45 years of age, about 5 feet 8 and weighing about 160 pounds.

At the airport, the mystery man was unkempt, wearing work clothes, with a dirty appearance, especially his fingernails.

SCARS VITAL CLUE

A vital clue appeared to be the fresh scars that were spotted on the rear of his neck. These wounds appeared to have been recently stitched up, and the hair surrounding them had been shaved off.

State Police were considering alerting all barbers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to be especially on the lookout, since the wounds would be clear.

100 Protest School Board Policies

Band Boosters on March

By MAX E. SIMON

Stirring John Philip Sousa marches weren't necessary to spur Pontiac Central High School Band supporters into battle with the Board of Education last night.

More than 100 persons accused board members of dealing the nationally acclaimed band a "low blow" and of reducing the high school's instrumental music department to "a level of mediocrity."

Most of the people in the audience identified themselves as members of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee, a group set up to protest recent board policies concerning the band.

Several in the crowd peppered the board with blistering criticism for reducing band practice time and refusing to allow junior high school musicians to play in the high school organization.

TIME CUT IN HALF

Until the current school year, high school bandsmen were allotted two of six school periods daily for band activities. In September of 1958, the time was cut to one period.

At the same time, the board stopped junior high students from participating in the band.

Joining the protest against board policies last night were two members of the instrumental music department: Dale C. Harris, departmental head and a faculty member since 1927, and instructor Eldon C. Rosegart.

Before the board turned its attention to audience protests, Superintendent of Schools Dana P. Whitmer pleaded for harmony and understanding of the problem.

"I'm afraid that we'll have to start on a controversial note," replied Roy B. MacAfee, spokesman for the crowd.

MacAfee complained that the Board has not set aside more than an hour to hear protests from the group.

"We may demand more hearings until the entire case is presented," MacAfee declared.

The spokesman's daughter, 16-year-old Nancy Lee, is a member of the band.

He objected to deemphasizing of the high school band program. "That program has for three decades won for us first-place state music awards and brought national recognition," he declared.

"We are all very much concerned that changes imposed upon the instrumental music program this year, plus other changes that may follow, will result in the end of this outstanding period of achievement."

MacAfee said the school instructors were "gravely concerned" and students discouraged by the changes.

"Is the administration so concerned with other goals that it would be willing to settle for mediocrity?" he asked.

Jack Horton, another parent of a band member, read a prepared statement in behalf of the audience.

He demanded the Board and school administration insure a high level of musical excellence be supported.

Board members were urged to show more active interest in band and orchestra rehearsal procedures.

"It appears that conclusions have been drawn from a few, malcontents, either students or parents," he charged.

He also criticized the Board for not showing more support of the band by attending contests, parades, drills and concerts.

A second period of band practice was called necessary because of the time lost marching to the drill field from the high school building.

The cry of "low blow" came from aonther parent, R. A. Boatright, 481 S. Beverly St. He said the Board policies would be reflected in the quality of band performance.

"Inevitable deterioration" of the band will come from the course the Board is following, said Mrs. Linus Belanger, 1260 Desiax Ave. "Remember, the responsibility is yours," she warned the Board.

Harris, who conducts the band in addition to heading the instrumental music department, rose to accuse the Board of a breach of faith.

Band members, he said, had once been given physical education credits for playing in the band.

"It was decided that everyone would have to take physical education, but that study hall hour would be used for a second period of band practice," Hayris said.

"This has now been discontinued, and I wasn't consulted," Harris charged.

Warrant Awaits Oxford Officer

To Charge Policeman for Fictitious Report on Release From Hospital

A criminal warrant charging him with reporting a fictitious crime is awaiting former Oxford policeman Roscoe M. Zolman upon his release from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Zolman, who sent police in southeastern Michigan on a wild goose chase looking for a motorist he said shot him, could receive 90 days in the County Jail or $100 if convicted.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr. said Zolman, 28, will be taken before Oxford Justice of the Peace Fred F. Stevens to answer to the charge when the hospital releases him.

Zolman shocked police when he admitted his story about being shot by a motorist he stopped for a traffic violation April 2 was a hoax. He was immediately dismissed from the force. Zolman joined the department 2½ years ago.

Zolman, a Korean War veteran, said he was "ashamed" to admit he shot himself in the left hand accidentally when shooting at a rat, so he rigged up the false story.

Oxford Police Chief Albert Roberts said Zolman's wife told him she expected her husband to be discharged from the Pontiac hospital possibly this weekend.

Governor Sure to Oppose Bill, Offer Own Plan

Both Senate and House Get Identical Measures to Kick Around

From Our News Wires

LANSING — The four-cent sales tax issue that helped tie the legislature in a knot in February and March was alive and kicking again today in disguised form.

Regardless of the new cuit of clothes. its prospects were not bright, faced with the determined opposition of Gov. Williams.

Republicans took the initiative on taxes yesterday with introduction of this bill which would amount to a one-cent hike in the sales tax.

The COP plan, pegged technically to a boost in the use tax, was introduced in both Houses on the same day Gov. G. Mennen Williams gave legislative bill-drafters his graduated personal income tax plan. An aide said it would be introduced "in a few days."

"We got sick and tired of waiting for the governor's plan so we took a forward step ourselves," said Assistant Senate Majority Leader Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland).

The GOP tax bill, authored by Rep. Gail Handy (R-Eau Claire), was introduced in the Senate by Francis and three other Republicans. Ten others joined Handy in an identical House bill.

To the consumer, the measure would mean payment of four instead of tree cents on a dollar purchase.

To the retailer, it would mean payment of a four per cent tax on goods sold for "use, storage or other consumption." But retailers would get a credit of three per cent on sales tax payments.

The patchwork bill was designed to raise about 108 million dollars by increasing the use tax from three to four per cent and broadening its base to include transactions upon which the sales tax is paid. A number of present exemptions would be eliminated.

School Board OKs $9.2 Million Operating Budget

An operating budget of $9,298,291 for the 1959-60 fiscal year was approved last night by the Pontiac Board of Education for presentation to the County Tax Allocation Board.

The board agreed that it sent the Allocation Board a budget reflecting its entire need for the year, rather than an austerity operating budget.

At the same time, the board voted to borrow $440,000 through long-term loans to finance school construction for the coming year.

The board in February was presented an austerity budget of $7,837,723, but decided last night to add $661,448 which represents important projects the board feels should be undertaken, but for which few or no funds are in sight.

Also added to the budget was $440,000 for new construction, a 2 per cent cost of living factor amounting to $159,120 and a contingency fund of $200,000.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, told the board it is his hope the Tax Allocation Board will allot at least the 9.58 mills of the total 15 mills for county, township and school taxes given last year.

If less is allotted, Whitmer said, the board will be forced to revert to the austerity budget for operations.

The band conductor also accused high school counselors of sabotaging the band.

"All they try to do," said Harris, "is find bad things about the group.

"When a student complains, they treasure what he says."

In a tense interchange between Whitmer and Harris, the band conductor insisted he had not been fully consulted by the school administration before policies affecting his domain were put into effect.

The charge was denied by Whitmer.

"There is no substitute for quality," said Rosegart, a high school music instructor.

He took a dim view of expanding the music program at the expense of abandoning its quality.

"We'll lose our serious, industrious students," he warned.

Former Trial Board Is Dissolved by City

To clear the way for a new police Trial Board, city commissioners last night officially canceled appointments of the old Trial Board members.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said the old Trial Board members probably did not legally hold office anymore, since the Trial Board was inactive during the two years it was replaced by Civil Service.

He recommended that the Commission declare the offices vacant to avoid possible legal difficulties later.

The Commission action did not rule out the possibility that some of the old Trial Board members could be reappointed to the new board.

The old Trial Board members were R. V. Todd, Warren Fowler Sr., Jack Habel, James J. McCarthy, Cecil Mullinix, William C. Treanor and James Flanary.

Todd's term expired in May, 1957 and Fowler's in May, 1958. Habel's term would have expired next week, while McCarthy's was due to run out in May, 1960. The terms of Mullinix, Treanor's and Flanary's ran until 1961.

Flanary, the old board's last chairman, and Treanor, its secretary, were appointed in late 1957 when the board was increased from five to seven members. Mullinix was the vice president.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said new appointments will probably be made April 28, a week before the term of office begins under City Charter regulations.

Before then, he said, the Commission will meet informally to discuss a proposal that Police Department nominees be considered for appointment.

"Some of the Commission members don't seem to be too happy about this idea," said Rowston.

The proposal was made by a special mayor's committee which two weeks ago came up with recommendations to strengthen the new Trial Board.

PICKS 2 NOMINEES

On the strength of the committee's report, the mayor had Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, tell the Police Department to elect two nominees, if it wanted to.

The Department was finishing balloting today to select two nominees from a list of 10 candidates.

The City Commission, however, has never agreed to accept the nominations. A decision may be reached at the informal session, scheduled for April 22, Rowston said.

Harvey M. Johns, chairman of the special committee, will be invited to attend, he said.

It was Johns' committee that recommended that only two, or at most three, of the old Trial Board members be on the new board, to avoid renewal of old frictions between the board and rank-and-file policemen, he said.

2,619-Year Tradition Falls at Gay Japanese Wedding

He told them: " I am opposed to the emperor system and have been since childhood. But I had no intention of killing."

SIP OF SAKE

Akihito and Michiko became man and wife when their Shinto wedding ceremony ended with a sip of sake from a silver bowl in the inner shrine of the imperial palace, the "other world" for most Japanese.

Akihito were the ceremonial saffron-orange robe known as onino-o. His bride wore an antique robe made of 12 layers which burdened her with 44 pounds of red, yellow, lavender, blue, green and white silk and brocade.

The wedding gown was used by the Empress Nagako when she was married 35 years ago to Emperor Hirohito.

But Michiko added something new to the complicated robes known as juihitoe — the nagabakama or pantaloons, made especially for the wedding and dyed a deep reddish purple, the color for unmarried women.

Atop her hair, woven with a wig into a ceremonial hair-do that took hours to perfect was a tiara of 1,000 diamonds set in platinum, a tiara used by the Empress Teimei, Akihito's grandmother, for her wedding in 1900, but remodeled for today.

The luck of Akihito held good today on the day of his wedding. Rain which fell in torrents early this morning stopped at dawn and the first bright sunshine in four days beat down on joyful crowds which swarmed the imperial palace plaza and the route of the newlyweds' carriage procession.

TRADITIONAL LINK

The unexpected sunshine delighted once again those purist Japanese who saw the traditional link between the sun goddess and the emperors of whom Japanese mythology says she is the original mother.

There were other good omens. Five minutes before Akihito and Michiko stepped into their carriage, four white herons—symbols of good luck — flew over the palace grounds.

And the rain on the eve of the wedding was even greater luck — it poured so heavily it packed the earth in a sign the couple would remain together for the rest of their lives.

Throngs of Japanese clerks, shop girls and country folk had streamed to the imperial palace for a glimpse of Akihito and the girl he raised from their ranks to be a princess. They jammed into the processional route and they were rewarded by a magnificent display.

Today's wedding was a far cry from the old days of imperial Japan. Hirohito, until the end of World War II, was considered a god-emperor so holy none could look upon his face as he rode through the streets on his white charger. Today people looked and smiled.

The actual marriage rites were performed before 971 persons including four foreigners who for the first time were allowed into the inner shrine.

2 AMERICAN NEWSMEN

There were two American newsmen, one French and 14 Japanese — the first time the press had been admitted.

Hirohito and his empress stayed home and watched on television.

Mrs. Shoda, her strong face bowed through most of the ceremony, sat between her husband, Hidesaburo Shoda, a rich flour miller, and the princess' younger brother.

Scouts Re-Elect John Ostrander

Will Continue as Head of the Pontiac District Committee

John E. Ostrander was re-elected as Pontiac District Committee chairman at the annual meeting of the Pontiac District Boy Scouts of America Wednesday night.

Ostrander, of 1609 Parkway St., has been district chairman of the Pontiac District since October, 1955. He has been in scouting since 1916 and has served in several executive capacities in the Clinton Valley Council, of which the Pontiac District is a part.

He is holder of the Scouter's Key Award and the Silver Beaver Award, highest honor a local council can bestow on a volunteer worker.

More than 225 scouters attended the dinner meeting at which time Kenneth Goff, 37 Henry Clay St., was elected as vice district chairman and Glenn Lackey, 113 Kemp St. was re-elected as district commissioner.

A highlight of the evening was the presentation of Elder Scouter awards by National Council member Clare Cummings.

Awards were made to Charles Pettit of 386 E. Tennyson St. and David Edwards Sr. of 82 S. Jessie St. for their long and devoted service to scouting in this area.

Use Sketch in Search for Killer

Lassiter, a partner in the Detroit Car Co., 2614 N. Woodward Ave., lived in a $35,000 home at 19690 Beverly Rd., Beverly Hills.

The well-to-do dealer controlled a far-flung business empire that specialized in the importation of foreign cars and the sale of used cars in the southern and southwestern states.

It was Lassiter who last fall purchased Herman Kierdorf's black Teamster Cadillac before Herman dropped out of sight for 13 days, but police have discounted any other connection with the Kierdorf case.

The victim's body will be buried Sunday in his home town, Murray, Ky., after services there. The body will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., 820 E. Maple Rd., Birmingham from 8 to 10 tonight.

Police learned yesterday that Lassiter probably wasn't carrying much more money than $500, although it was originally believed he might have had up to $5,000 when he arrived at the airport.

Before flying back to Detroit Monday night, Lassiter was in Albuquerque, N.M., where he sold a 1959 Thunderbird. But he only got a $300 part payment for it and this was in check form, Whaley said.

It was first believed that Lassiter might have gotten up to $4,000 cash for the car.

Although Lassiter was also attempting to collect a $600 bill out West, he missed connections and didn't get the money, Whaley said.

The car dealer had about $600 on him Sunday, and it is now believed that this, or a little less is all he had when he returned to Michigan.

Police so far have held only one suspect in the case, and he was released yesterday after being held more than three hours at the Pontiac State Police Post.

Corporal Peter Waisamen said the suspect said he was in Florida the night of the shooting and detectives found that this alibi checked out.

The suspect, an unemployed plumber, was picked up at 1:55 p.m. in a Garden City Cab on Telegraph and West Maple roads.

The cab driver had radioed his dispatcher earlier that he was suspicious of his customer, and the dispatcher relayed the information to police.

The cab driver said he became suspicious after picking the customer up in front of a Garden City bar. The man first wanted to go to Detroit Greyhound Bus Station, the cabbie said, then changed his mind and asked to be taken to Saginaw for $25.

It was while the customer had the cab stop briefly, while he purchased a clean shirt in a Garden City department store, that the cabbie radioed for help.

The suspect only remotely resembled the description of the killer.

There were few other new developments in the widespread investigation yesterday.

Lassiter's widow, Nellie, 37, recovered sufficiently from shock over her husband's death to be able to talk to authorities for the first time.

But she had next to nothing to add to the report she made to police Tuesday morning, after her husband failed to come home from the airport, Whaley said.

Mrs. Lassiter said her husband called her from the airport shortly before he called his business partner and gave him a message to call Lassiter at an airport telephone booth.

Police had previously learned that when the partner, Gordon Watson, 15384 Marlowe St., Detroit, reached Lassiter by phone, Lassiter said he had already made arrangements for a ride with the mystery man.

That was the last time his wife and partner spoke with the dead man, they said.

Police also interviewed the private pilot who flew Lassiter, his after his 10:15 p.m. arrival, angry because no one was there to meet him.

The pilot, William G. Folgmann, lives near Watson at 15384 Marlowe, and is a friend of the three, said Whaley.

He confirmed that Lassiter wanted to go to Albuquerque on business when the other three, including Folgmann, decided to return to Michigan Sunday from Phoenix, Ariz., where they were staying.

Lassiter flew on to Albuquerque, while the others began the flight back from Phoenix, only to be prevented by bad weather from flying on from Oklahoma City where they stopped for gas Sunday, Folgmann said.

They resumed their eastward flight Monday, Folgmann said, arriving at Detroit City Airport Monday night, a few hours before Lassiter arrived by commercial flight.

Both Folgmann and Watson said they knew of nothing that happened out west that might be tied in with Lassiter's death, Whaley said.

The first description of the mystery man was furnished by Eugene Reichemberger, a Trans-World Airlines ticket agent, who said he paged Lassiter at the request of the stranger, saw the two men meet as if for the first time, and watched them leave the TWA desk, apparently to leave the terminal.

The second employe who spotted the suspected killer had nothing new to add about the meeting with Lassiter, but was able to help in drawing up the police sketch, Whaley said.

Whaley said police would discontinue the search for the bullet that killed Lassiter, who was shot through the head apparently soon after he left the airport Monday night.

GOP Revives 4-Cent Sales Tax Measure

24 million dollars annually, primarily through levies on property purchased outside of the state which is brought into the state at a value of $10 or more. Enforcement has been slack.

Both Francis and Handy said the use tax plan "is in effect an increase in the sales tax."

Republicans were thwarted in their bid for an outright one-cent boost in the constitutionally-enacted sales tax when Democrats refused to let the proposal go on the April 6 ballot.

"It is subject to the asme criticism as an honestly labeled sales tax," said Alfred B. Fitt, Williams' legal aide and tax consultant.

Another administrative source close to the governor said Williams would veto the GOP plan if it passes the Legislature.

Unlike the earlier sales tax bid, the use tax plan would take only a majority of the legislative votes instead of two-thirds.

But it would take two thirds to give the bill immediate effect or to override a veto.

House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) and Senate Majority Leader Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) said it was possible the plan will get nearly-solid GOP backing, although they said it was too early to tell.

Deputy Revenue Commissioner Clarence F. Lock aid the GOP plan could be administered without a lot of extra red tape.

Legislative observers predicted the use tax plan might have trouble clearing the House Tax Committee, which appears to favor a personal income tax that is included in a tax package recommended by a citizens committee in a plan for overhauling the entire tax structure.

Other tax plans are yet to come.

And there are some who insist economy — not taxes — will solve Michigan's fiscal woes.

Highland Man Found Dead in Apartment

Deputies said Hill took his own life by hanging himself with a leather belt in the bathroom.

His body was taken to Pursley Funeral Home.

Pontiac Motor Salutes 38 as Top Salesmen

Pontiac Motor Division paid tribute in New York City to 38 outstanding car salesmen in the company's national dealer organization.

Members of Pontiac's Master Salesmen's Guild attending the National Presidents Council meeting were presented special awards during the two-day affair that was highlighted by a reception and banquet and by tours of Pontiac assembly operations at Linden, N. J.

Named national president of the organization was Ben Drell of Al Abrams Motors in Chicago, Ill.; honorary vice president is Mrs. Marge Benjamin, Sheldon Pontiac, New Brunswick, N.J.; and honorary secretary is Harry A. Passerini, Atlantic Pontiac, Brooklyn, N.Y..

Representing each of Pontiac's sales zones in the country, 27 of the leading salesmen are presidents, while 11 honorary past presidents were recognized as the most outstanding salesmen in their respective zones for the second consecutive year.

Greeting the salesmen at the awards banquet and making the presentations was Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager.

Sallade Predicts Presidency for Rockefeller, Income Tax

The country will get Nelson Rockefeller for president in 1960 and Michigan will get a graduated personal income tax soon, George W. Sallade, Ann Arbor Republican state representative, predicted in a talk in Birmingham last night.

Sallade, 36-year-old self-named leader of a Rockefeller for president movement, said in his talk to some 75 Young Republicans of Oakland County that the New York governor will deceive the 1960 nomination and will be elected.

Switching to the hottest subject in Michigan, the three times elected Sallade said Michiganites will soon be paying an income tax similar to what Gov. Williams has asked for.

Sallade, who has been criticized lately for his leanings toward the Democrats, said this would be a 2 per cent tax for persons earning up to $15,000 a year, 3 per cent from $15,000 to $25,000, and 4 per cent from $25,000 up.

On another topic, the "young Turk" representative defended his recent stand opposing GOP attempts to reverse the controversial Ford Motor Co. - UAW State Supreme Court ruling, saying "it should be left alone" because it's before the U.S. Supreme Court and Gov. Williams has appointed a special committee to study the results of the ruling.

"After these steps have been taken, and only then should this case be touched, and then it should be handled as an individual case and not lumped in the present unemployment measure," Sallade said.

The state legislator switched back to his favorite subject — Rockefeller for president. He said he has received an "exceptionally good response" from seven states other than Michigan where he has sought support for Rockefeller.

He named the states as Indiana, Ohio, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Iowa, Florida, and Wisconsin.

Sallade said that his Michigan group supporting Rockefeller "is well on its way toward influencing the election" of a slate of delegates who will support Rockefeller at the GOP national convention.

Suspect Arson in Blaze

Forest Fire Under Control

BENTON, Tenn. (AP) — With the help of light rain, fire-fighters today gained control of a big blaze, apparently started intentionally, that threatened the southern end of the huge Cherokee National Forest.

Esimates of burned over land ranged from 1,000 to 2,000 acres.

Pat Int-Hout, assit, supervisor of the 600,000-acre forest, said crews were mopping up to insure the fire doesn't break loose again. Continued scattered showers were forecast.

The raging blaze in the southeast corner of Tennessee near the North Carolina and Georgia borders was believed by Rangers to have been set by a firebug and asked the FBI to help investigate.

At least 15 deliberate "sets" were discovered during the afternoon and early evening, Int-Hout reported.

The flames were battled uncontrolled for more than 12 hours by federal and state rangers, crews of the Bowater Southern Paper Corp. and about 500 voluteers.

A newsman at the scene reported last night that "those men could be burned to death at any minute because as fast as they can dig a fire line, arsonists set a new fire behind them."

Wind and dense smoke hampered tower watchers seeking to warn the ground crews of encircling fires.

Police Sgt. Baerwolf in Critical Condition

Sgt. Walter A. Baerwolf of the Pontiac Police Department was described in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after suffering a heart attack early this morning.

Baerwolf is head of the weights and measures division of the department and had recently been called as one of the witnesses in the Civil Service Commission hearing into charges to suspend Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

An inhalator crew went to Baerwolf's home at 26 Ogemaw St. shortly after 6 a.m. and administered aid until an ambulance arrived.

Baerwolf joined the department in June, 1925.

Counts 34,000 Skiers

LANSING (AP)—Nearly 34,000 skiers used the Porcupine Mountain ski area during the December 20-April 1 season, the State Conservation Department reports. Ski tow receipts were $62,820 and concession sales $26,575, both new highs.

The Day in Birmingham

Newly Formed Teen Club Opening Dance Is Tonight

BIRMINGHM — Formal opening of the newly organized Birmingham Teen Club will be held from 8 p.m. to midnight tonight at the YMCA building on Lincoln avenue.

Bob Maxwell, Detroit disc jockey and Birmingham resident, will be o hand with records for dancing.

Student President Sue MacLean said today that more than 100 Birmingham High School teagers already have joined the club. Membership is open to teenagers residing in the Birmingham School District.

The organization got under way last fall when members of the Junior Women's Club offered advisory and financial assistance.

Since then churches and service clubs have been recruited as adult backers for the Teen Club.

The young members have set up their own charter and rules of conduct, and will operate with a minimum of adult supervision. The "Y" building will be used for Friday night parties at least until the end of the school term.

Friends of the Baldwin Public Library will hold their annual meeting in the library auditorium at 8:15 p.m. Monday.

The purpose and amount of their annual cash gift to the library will be announced and officers elected for the coming year. John A. Gilray Jr., as chairman of the Citizens Library Study Council, will report on the group's progress.

will be Magnus von Braun, manager of program control for the missiles division of Chrysler Corp. His subject will be "Missiles and Men."

Birmingham educators took no special action at their special meeting last night on the school board's share of paving Purdy street.

Mrs. Kathryne B. Loomis, school board president, said the board will take no stand until the complete budget is prepared. She added that City Manager L. R. Gare told the board the original estimate of $4,500 will be somewhat lower.

Mrs. Georgia S. Connor

Family service for Mrs. Georgia Connor, 94, of 312 Southfield Ave., is being held today from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Connor died Wednesday at her home following a brief illness.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William T. Utley of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.; two sons, Kirk of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Don of Orchard Lake.

Parvin Lasiter

Service for Parvin Lassiter, 37, of 19690 Beverley Rd., Beverley Hills, will be at 8 p.m. tonight from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

The body will be sent to Murray, Ky. for burial.

Mr. Lassiter was found shot to death in a ditch near Willow Run Airport, Taylor Township, Wednesday morning.

He was a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge and the Mystic Order of the Shrine.

MONUMENTAL MOVE — Joe Grant of 2977 Dixie Highway takes a last look at the old monument which was to be moved back 100-feet from the road today to make way for a new left-turn cutoff to Scott Lake road. The stone will remain on another part of the site of Oakland County's first school, established in 1841.

But Over-All Picture Bright

Jobless Valleys of Trouble to Remain

(Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell calls for federal action to help unemployed workers in "valleys of trouble" despite the nation's general recovery from recession. He believes that action should be aimed at specific problem areas.)

By JAMES P. MITCHELL
Secretary of Labor
Written For UPI

WASHINGTON — While unemployment as a national problem is improving rapidly, we should not forget that to the unemployed worker and his family, national averages mean very little.

What counts is that he wants work and can't find a job.

The number of people who are unemployed is down by more than 830,000 from March of last year, 1,100,000 below last year's worst figures in June.

By next October the total number of unemployed may be down to about three million, with 67 million people at work.

PEAK LEVELS

Those are the national statistics. They mean that within six months our economy will be going at peak levels, with very high employment, high wages and good job opportunities in most of the country.

To be specific, today the average factory worker can buy more with what he makes in one hour's work than ever before in our history. That situation should get better, and we are quite sure it will.

But although our national situation looks very good, there are some localities where there are many people out of work, and in some of these places their prospects of going back to work are not good. This is a fact we must face.

The federal government should, and will, do what it can to help people in these valleys of trouble which will remain on the broad plateau of our growing national prosperity.

We must help these localities find new job opportunities and new industries.

This is a changing economy, with changing demands for changing products. But we believe that the individuals who are thrown out of work as a result of those changes should have the help of an effective unemployment insurance system.

ASK IMPROVEMENT

..Thereafter we are asking congress to improve our unemployment insurance system so that many people who do not have its protection will be covered.

Furthermore, the President has strongly urged the states to do their job bzy increasing benefit payments and prolonging the length of time unemployed workers can get help.

These actions, by the federal and state governments, should be taken speedily, so that help can get to people who need it.

Only Did It to Make Some People Happy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I was just trying to make people happy. Now I don't have a friend in the world."

Mary Patricia Snead, 36, sobbed as she told newsmen Thursday how she bought $80,000 worth of merchandise on the installment plan and sold it below cost to make others happy.

Detective L. C. Brewer said an investigation has started but no move has been made to arrest Mrs. Snead. Police say no store has complained.

With the money she got from selling merchandise at low prices Mrs. Snead kept up payments on a multitude of other items, including used cars.

Will Eliminate Waterford Traffic Hazard

Construction Begins on Dixie Cutoff

Elimination of a major traffic hazard on Dixie Highway in Waterford Towship got under way today.

Construction of a cutoff on Dixie Highway where Scott Lake road ends will prohibit left turns of any type, and a four-way signal light will be installed after the project has been completed, according to State Highway Dept. Engineer Fred Peterman who is in charge of the project.

For more than three years the Highway Department has been working on plans, acquiring property and making various road tests for the cutoff construction.

With all necessary preliminary operations in the background, Waterford Township general contractor Charles Anderson started the $21,000 project early this morning.

Beginning 820 feet south of Scott Lake road, there will be a single 15-foot strip of blacktop to Omira street. On the north side of Omira, the cutoff will continue, widening to 24 feet for a two-lane road which will circle to Dixie Highway where Scott Lake road intersects.

Motorists who wish to turn left towards Flint from Scott Lake road will continue across Dixie, keeping to the right, drive around onto Omira street, then back onto Dixie.

Dixie motorists wishing to make a left turn onto Scott Lake road, must observe signs indicating a right turn onto the single lane on the east side of the highway. They will continue across Omira street onto the two-lane cutoff until they are again at Dixie Highway heading west onto Scott Lake road.

The relocation of an old monument on the cutoff property has added a historical note of interest to the project.

A bronze plague imbedded in a huge granite stone indicates the spot where Major Oliver Williams established the first farm on the Saginaw Trail (Dixie Highway) in 1818. It was marks the place where Oakland County's first school was established in 1841.

The monument also states: "Chief Sashabaw, a valued friend of the pioneers, was buried due north on the shore of Silver Lake in 1823."

Some 35 years ago, when the Waterford Farm Bureau installed the monument, Dixie Highway was a narrow thoroughfare and the memorial stood well back in landscaped surroungs.

With the progress of time, Dixie Highway was widened and a sidewalk constructed right up to the very edge of the monument, leaving no room for possible landscaping.

Now, with the relocation of the stone, the area can be developed to match the dignity of the historical monument, Peterman said.

Minnesota Mine to Start Ore Loading Season

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—The Oliver Iron Mining Division of U.S. Steel will start ore-loading operations here this weekend for the 1959 shipping season.

President R. T. Elstad said the firm will operate 10 open pit mines on Minnesota's Mesabi Range and 2 underground ones on the adjacent Vermillion Range. Production also will include experimental Taconite plants at Mountain Iron and Virginia.

Elstad said output and shipping are expected to be substantially above 1958 due to the increased demand for steel. He added that demand continued to be for the higher grades of ore, where Minnesota must compete with foreign mines.

Oliver is expected to have a payroll of about 6,000. Most of these workers were employed through the winter on equipment maintenance and making the mines ready for production.

Canada Budget Hit by Minister

Measure to Cut Deficit Would Hit Taxpayers in Pocketbook

OTTAWA (AP)—Finance Minister Donald Fleming proposed a deficit-cutting budget Thursday night hitting the pocketbook of every Canadian taxpayer.

The budget was immediately criticized both inide and outside the House of Commons.

With last year's big $616,600,000 deficit in mind, Fleming announced tax increases he said would cut the deficit for 1959-60 to 393 million dollars.

His budget would:

1. Increase the personal income tax rate for the first time in seven years. Beginning July 1, the tax on the first $3,000 of taxable incomes goes up one per cent, with two per cent added to the rate of income above $3,000.

2. Boost the general sales tax immediately from 10 to 11 per cent.

3. Increase the corporation income tax from 20 to 21 per cent on the first $25,000 of profits and 47 to 50 per erghcfrhioent omn from 47 to 50 per cent on higher corporate profits, retroactive to Jan. 1.

4. Raise the excise tax on cigarettes, cigars and liquor immediately. The tax on cigarettes goes from 8 to 10 cents for a pack of 20; on liquor rfom $12 to $13 for a proof gallon — an increase of about 12 cents on a 25-ounce bottle of whisky—and on cigars from 31 to $2 a thousand.

Launching opposition criticism, William Benidickson of the Liberal party cited the Conservatives' December 1957 pre-election financial statement giving 178 million dollars worth of tax cuts.

AFL-CIO Backs Plan to Study Unemployment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO has backed a proposal by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for a 60-day study of unemployment problems.

But the labor federation also said Thursday that the federal government should act immediately to increase state unemployment compensation benefits, expand distribution of surplus food to the needy, and boost the $1 minimum wage to $1.25.

"In these and other fields, Congress can and should move promptly while the commission Sen. Johnson suggests is gathering the facts," the AFL-CIO statement said.

Set Big Guard for Castro Visit

Cuban Prime Minister Coming to Washington on Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department is quietly mobilizing a big section of its security force to guard Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro during an unofficial 11-day visit starting Wednesday.

Anti-Castro demonstrations are expected to boil up in the path of his good will tour of Washington, New York, Princeton, N.J. and Cambridge, Mass. Some telephoned threats and warnings already have been received by the department and the Cuban Embassy.

The elaborate step-by-step security guard will be fully as intensive as that given Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas Mikoyan during his stormy coast to coast travels last January.

Some of Castro's bearded personal bodyguards will accompany him. But the State Department has the main responsibility for shielding him from demonstrators, crackpots, potential assassins, as well as enthusiastic well wishers.

Castro tentatively is scheduled to spend five days in the capital, leaving April 20 for an overnight stop at Princeton University. He plans a 4½-day stay in New York beginning April 21. He is to leave for Boston April 25 to visit Harvard University at nearby Cambridge, and go on the next day to Canada.

He is to give a minimum of seven speeches or news conferences during his stay. The first is a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors next Friday.

Start Deer Census

LANSING (AP)—Checks on dead deer and herd population surveys are under way in the Baldwin and Gladwin districts of the northern Lower Peninsula. Two-man teams from the Conservation Department are carrying out the project.

Bob Considine Says:

Sen. Kennedy Stirs Up Inter-Catholic Storm

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

The interview with Sen. Jack Kennedy in a national picture magazine last month has prompted much editorial debate in Catholic periodicals.

Some were quite critical of the first potential Catholic presidential candidate since Al Smith. These took special umbrage at Kennedy's assertion that he is not in favor of sending a U. S. ambassador or representative to the Vatican.

The erudite Jesuit Magazine, America, took after Kennedy editorially from another and odder angle. It found the article "discriminatory, insulting and without pertinence in terms of the U. S. Constitution" and questioned the young senator's good sense in answering the questions.

But this magazine has been taken to task by a Spokane, Wash., Jesuit, William J. Davis, who writes:

"When a man puts himself up as a potential guardian of public welfare, the public has every right to ask the candidate about his fundamental tenets, especially if those tenets are likely to influence his judgment of what the public welfare is or how it is to be pursued.

"Anxious concern over the interplay of political doctrine and religious belief is certainly justified on the part of all of us, be the candidate Catholic or not."

It would now seem apparent that the President's vacation was timed to coincide with the impending visit of Fidel Castro, whose new government is making increasing use of left-wingers or out-right Communists.

A worried admirer of the Cuban rebel leader sums up what must be in many hearts just now. Joanne C. Braun of Delmar, N.Y., writes:

"I cannot help feeling sorely afraid for him and for his country which now regards him as its savior. Such a heavy burden of responsibility rests on the shoulders of this one man, so inexperienced and relatively immature.

"I hope with all my heart that he may ever strive to fulfill his own best nature and loftiest ideals, so that he will not fail. He owes this to his adoring people. He owes it to the gallant men and women of the revolution. . . . It would be an ineffable tragedy if the revolution should have been won only to be lost again.

"It is my feeling that young Fidel, for all his remarkable qualities of personality and character, still has a lot of growing up to do before he can become the kind of good and wise leader his nation so desperately needs. And he does not have a great deal of time in which to do so. I have an idea that the toughest of all battles he has to face, which he alone can fight and win, is the battle with Fidel Castro."

Puppies Melt Hearts of U.S. TV Viewers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — America is still a soft touch for a puppy.

The irresistible appeal of six little puppies on Tennessee Ernie Ford's television program Thursday night brought requests for ownership from all over the country when Ford announced he would give them away after the program ended.

Within a half hour the network switchboard had received 120 calls from outside California for the little "whodunits," as their owner, bandleader Cliffie Stone, described them. They all have new homes.

Iron Curtain humor:

A Polish repatriate, returning to Warsaw after living in the Soviet Union, was asked how things were there.

"Not too bad," he said. "I couldn't complain."

"How were wages?"

"I couldn't complain."

"Didn't you have to do forced labor for a while?"

"Yes, but I really couldn't complain."

"But I thought the food was lousy."

The repatriate shrugged. "I couldn't complain."

"Then what the devil did you come back for?"

"What a question. Here at least I can complain."

The President makes an honest effort to answer all mail and acknowledge all wires that reach him at the White House. He gets around to this with remarkable speed. After his telecast in which he told Russia we wouldn't budge an inch in West Berlin, I sent him a one-word wire reading: Magnificent. I was a single flake in a blizzard of such communications. But the very next day he replied:

"If I may be as brief—almost—as you were in your message concerning my television talk of last evening, Thank You. Thank you really very much."

Joe E. Lewis's tribute to Sophie Tucker: "What a great job Sophie did, entertaining the troops . . . but then Lee surrendered."

Chief's Son Tosses Rocks at Patrolman

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The son of a division police chief was fined $25 in Municipal Court Thursday.

The offense: throwing rocks at a patrolman.

Officer Edward E. Nelson said Daniel R. Stills, 17, threw the rocks while he was writing a ticket for an illegally parked car.

GOP Committee in Decision Meet

Will Pick Chairman, Choose Convention Site and Rebuild Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committe gathered today for a two-day meeting to further its party rebuilding plan, choose a new chairman and pick a convention site.

The important decisions will come Saturday when a new chairman is elected to succeed the retiring Meade Alcorn and the controversy settled over a place and date for the 1960 nominating convention.

Unless there's a last minute hitch, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, middle-of-the-road supporter of President Eisenhower, will be elected chairman. Alcorn returned to his law practice in Hartford, Conn.

Morton would hold the party post without giving up his Senate seat, but would serve only through the 1960 convention. The presidential nominee chosen then would determine whether the chairmanship should change hands.

The matter of a convention city was still up in the air today, but a site committee will come up with a recommendation Saturday for action by the full committee.

Principal stumbling block was a difference of opinion over whether the convention should be held in late July or early August. Party officials said a Chicago convention starting July 25 is still the best bet, although that city could be eliminated if an August date were chosen. Chicago's bid was restricted to a July 25 date.

Five other cities — Philadelphia, New York, San Francisco, Miami Beach and Los Angeles — offered to take the convention anytime between July 15 and August 15.

Los Angeles entered a last-minute formal bid Thursday to try to get back into the race. Site officials said earlier it had been eliminated by failure to put its bid in writing.

Today's committee session was given over largely to reports from subcommittees on plans for revitalizing the party into a year-around operation. State reports were to be heard on nine "road to victory" internal improvements, including plans to recruit two million new precinct workers between now and September 1960.

Committees named to study establishment of a monthly party magazine and a weekly television show also were to report. Chances were said to be better for adoption of the magazine idea. The TV presentation might prove too costly.

Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, House minority leader, was down for a luncheon speech today. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will speak informally at a dinner tonight.

TOM McCLELLAND

KATHY IRONS

FRANK CRAWFORD

Announce 1959 Scholars of Seniors at Walled Lake

By SALLY COLLINS

Co-valedictorians this year at Walled Lake High School are Kathy Irons and Tom McClelland each of whom have a 3.97 scholastic average throughout high school. Salutatorian is Frank Crawford with a 3.94 average.

Kathy, who lives at 3451 Oakleaf, Westacres, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Irons.

She is a member of the Chess Club, Viking Staff, and is secretary of the Latin Club. A member of the National Honor Society, she plans to attend the University of Michigan and study psychology.

Tom, the other half of the Valedictory team, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClelland of 45580 Pontiac Trail, Commerce Township. He is president of the Math Club and treasurer of the National Honor Society. For three years he has played baseball, and participated in debate and discussion and plays clarinet in the high school band.

In the fall Tom will attend Michigan College of Mining and Technology to study chemical engineering.

The Salutatorian, Frank Crawford, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford of 704 Commerce Rd., Commerce. A musician, Frank plays bass in the school band as well as in the University of Michigan Youth Symphony, U. of M. Youth Band and the South Oakland Symphony.

He is a member of the National Honor Society, Math and Chess clubs, and the Pep Band. Frank also has participated in debate and discussion for three years. Plans to attend the U. of M. and study chemical engineering as a prerequisite to law.

LIST 49 SCHOLARS

They are, in order of their standing in the class, Kathy Irons, Tom McClelland, Frank Crawford, Carol Sommer, Nancy Gottschall, Susan Merkle, Sally Collins, Eric Brown, Hazel Mandilk and Judy Freeman.

Others are Barbara Parent, Virginia Slinker, Janet Rose, Susan Alm, Carol Hueston, Rosemary Kreza, Bill Havel, Louann Pirtle, Jim Mitchell, Marilyn Sawyers, Roberta Welch, Marianne Ketchum, Chris Fish, Shirley Sherwood, Joan Fagerlie, Sue Smith, Bob Reimer, Donna Carrigan, Linda Chabot, Martha Thibideau, and Sandra Cepel.

Bridge to Canada Approved by Army

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—A proposed site for an international highway bridge to connect Michigan and Ontario over the St. Marys River and Soo Locks has been approved by the Army.

The Army sent its approval here yesterday for a site about 125 feet downriver from the Present Rail Bridge.

Dewey Short, assistant secretary of the Army, said Army engineers found the site to be no obstruction to navigation and that Fifth Army Headquarters has given security approval.

The International Bridge Authority has made preliminary estimates that the bridge will cost about 18 million dollars. Financing plans are under way. A public hearing on the site was held here last August.

It has been proposed that Michigan build one bridge approach and Ontario the other.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: We've got the closest race of the year this week, with the first four selections separated by only seven votes from area record shops.

Squeaking into first place is a tune that's been up and down for several weeks, "Pink Shoe Laces" (Dodie Stevens). A vote behind is "Happy Organ" (Dave Cortez), popping into the top five for the first time.

Third place goes to "Come Softly To Me" (The Skyliners) another point behind. Then, a slight gap and we have "So Fine" (The Fiestas) in fourth spot. Fifth place goes to "Three Stars" (Ruby Wright), a real tear jerking ballad dedicated to Buddy Holly, Big Bopper, and Richie Valens who recently died in a plane crash. This looks like a big one.

For real international flavor three good LPs are "La Belle Epoque" (WL-140) by vocalist Patachou; "Ballare!" (WL-145), a collection of Italy's most popular songs played by Edoardo Lucchina and his orchestra; and a real oddity, "Fanfare!" (WL-147), the first recorded NATO musical program, cut in Holland, with musical units from a half-dozen countries participating.

If you like the unusual both in sound and recording technique, the next time you sample LPs at the record shop, ask for the latest Cook sampler "XX-3."

Lacks Alcohol, Tobacco 'Glamor'

Wants Milk 'More Sinful'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Hurbert Garrecht, president of the Milk Industry Foundation, says dairymen might sell more milk if a way could be found "to make it a little more sinful."

"The trouble with milk is that it is too much taken for granted," Garrecht said Thursday night at a meeting of the Greater Pittsburgh Dairy Industry Assn. "It lacks the glamor of tobacco and alcohol."

RAPS 'REPUBLICAN' — 2c 1 - 17 OL

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler last night rapped what he called "the Republican press" for its treatment of Michigan's financial problems.

"The Republican press," Butler said at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner, "has had a great deal to say about how the State of Michigan was in a financial jam supposedly because of the 'social-welfare minded policies of the governor of Michigan,' G. Mennen Williams.

"The Michigan story sets an all-time record for GOP irresponsibility. It is the story of Republicans ganging up in an effort to embarrass a Democrat (Williams) whom the voters of Michigan have sent to the state house six times in a row.

"People who look at the facts will realize that the blame for Michigan's financial difficulties lies with the Republican Legislature, not with Gov. Williams."

Butler made his remarks in a speech in which he praised the New Jersey administration of Gov. Robert B. Meyner. Meyner and Williams both have been mentioned as a possible Democratic nominee for president next year.

Indian Leaves Hospital, Claims Age as 121

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An Indian scout who says he is 121 years old will probaby leave Phoenix Indian Hospital next week.

Sam Etchesaw, a Yavapai, claims to have captured Geronimo personally. Etchesaw, whose name means bird, is believed the last of the Army's Indian scouts.

Dr. Leland Hanchett, hospital director, said Etchesaw's main trouble is old age and some malnutrition. Otherwise, he says, he carries his years well.

Etchesaw always has been a little skimpy on details of catching Geronimo. But records show he served as a scout in four campaigns. Geronimo, the Apache chief, surrendered on the last.

Records also show Etchesaw got lost at least once. That was in downtown Phoenix in 1953, when he wandered from a store to which he had gone with a granddaughter.

State Senate Dems Get Silent Treatment

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Republican majority has moved to take some of the wind out of its windy resolutions, most particularly those submitted by Democrats mainly for political effect.

Under a change in Senate rules adopted yesterday, resolutions no longer will be read aloud by the secretary from start to finish, only by title.

This is tough on minority Democrats because nothing more generally is heard of their resolutions after the secretary finishes his reading chore. Top-heavy GOP committee majorities see to that.

A feeble protest came from Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic leader, who spoke of "deprivation of the senatorial prerogative."

"The only time a minority resolution ever sees the light of day is when the secretary reads it," said Ryan wistfully.

Paul Revere borrowed the horse on which he made his historical ride in 1775.

House Bill Asks 'Right to Know'

Measure Seeks Access for Public to All School Board Meetings

LANSING (AP)—A "right-to-know" bill to assure public access to school board metings was nearly for introductiohe Hotoday. today.

It represented an attempt to correct objections to three similar measures defeated last year.

Rep. William Romano (D-Van Dyke), who sponsored oen of last year's bills, said he would submit a measure to compel school boards to open their meetings to the public. Closed-door executive sessions would be permitted, but final action on any matter could be taken only at open meetings.

Similar legislation covering townships may be introduced if the need is shown.

Other laws already compel public meetings of city, county and state governing bodies, Romano said.

In its final form, the chief right-to-know bill in the 1958 session would have required open meetings of governmental bodies on state and local levels as well as school boards, legislative committees and like groups.

All, however, could have closed their doors if the public welfare was involved. The bill also permitted secret executive sessions for any purpose.

For the last seven years the unemployment-compensation system has paid out more than it has taken in through employer taxes in Alaska, and the new state's compensaion fund is $8,265,000 in debt to the Federal Government.

Drop Efforts to Move Gunaca Assault Trial

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP)—Counsel for ohn Gunaca of Detroit said today he had abandoned efforts to have a felonious assault trial for the former United Auto Workers organizer moved out of Sheboygan County.

Atty. David Rabinovitz said he would not petition Circuit Court for a change of venue.

As a result, Gunaca, 35, now a bartender, will go on trial Monday in Circuit Court on charges of beating two non-striking ohler Co. workers in 1954.

Gunaca successfully fought extradition to Wisconsin for more than four years on the grounds that he would not get a fair trial in Sheboygan. He finally agreed to extradition late last year and has been free under $7,500 bond.

The ohler strike which began in April 1954, is still in progress.

Invited to Name Top Patrollers

Washington Trip Set for Williams Lake and McConnel Members

McConnell School in Pontiac and Williams Lake School in Waterford Township have been invited by Automobile Club of Michigan to name their top safety patrol members as official delegates to the 23rd National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., in May.

The youngsters will join 100 other outstanding patrollers from 85 Michigan communities for a four-day, all-expense trip as guests of the Auto Club, May 7-10.

"The schools were selected by members of our safety consultant staff on the basis of activities and efficiency during the past year as shown on monthly reports," Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety director, said. The schools will choose their top patrollers in the next two weeks.

The patrollers will gather in Detroit May 7 and entrain for Washington where they will spend two full days meeting leading government officials and seeing famous and historic sites.

Climax of the annual rally is the march down Constitution avenue of over 30,000 patrol members from across the country.

The giant parade, which includes television and movie celebrities, is the largest held annually in the Capital city.

The Washington trip is sponsored annually by the Auto Club to honor Mchigan's 50,000 safety patrollers for outstanding service to classmates at 2,200 schools. Near-2,500 youngsters have made the trip since 1936.

Steals Woman's Car After Shooting Her

MARION, Ala. (AP)—The wife of a prominent cattleman was shot Thursday and left lying in the street while a young gunman sped away in her car.

Mrs. T. L. Leverett, about 45, was in serious condition from a gunshot wound in the neck and powder burns.

Police Chief T. O. Harris said an alert was broadcast for Jimmy Morrison, 20, of Marion. He said Mrs. Leverett told him the gunman shot her and fled after leaping out of an office window at her husband's stockyards.

'Booms' Will Increase, AF Says

Don't Get Rattled, Frisco!

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Franciscans, exasperated by sonic booms for three consecutive days, got this word today from aviation experts:

Learn to live with the problem — it will get worse.

That applies to any place where aircraft fly faster than the speed of sound.

"No one has the secret for dispersing the pressures that cause such vibrations," said Dr. Max Heaslet, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's theoretical aeronautics branch. "I'm quite sure in saying that."

"We've known for a long time that a plane traveling horizontally at supersonic speed — in excess of 650 miles an hour at 35,000 feet — will induce a sharp pressure disturbance on the ground," he said.

Manville's Sister Leaves Him to Clocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Manville, the much-married millionaire, was left two clocks by his late sister, Clare Lorraine Manville, it was disclosed by a copy of her will filed Thursday in Surrogate Court.

Miss Manville, who died last March 8, left the bulk of her 3-million-dollar estate to her daughter, Lorraine Manville Amato.

Miss Manville herself was married four times, her brother 10 times.

In leaving Manville two jeweled clocks, the sister declared in her will: "Although I have deep love and affection for my brother, I have intentionally omitted leaving any of my estate to him . . . because he has ample funds of his own."

Among other bequests were a number of art pieces to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and $25,000 to Miss Manville's chauffeur, Raymond Hoctor.

Today's cars last twice as long and go more than four times as far in their lifetime as models manufactured thirty years ago. Live better by far with a brand new car.

Mailmen Let 8 Blocks of Homes Go to the Dogs

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—Eight scattered residential blocks were turned over to the dogs by postmen who said they have been bitten once too often.

The postmen — four of them—cited a federal postal regulation which says that they cannot be required to deliver mail where dogs are a threat.

Postmaster Donald Hall said Thursday that all of the city's nine postmen have been bitten at least once in the past year.

Sees 6 Million New Car Sales

Ford Official Foresees Large Increase Mainly in U.S. Built Autos

NEW YORK (AP)—Six million new car sales in the United States this year were predicted today by a Ford Motor Co. executive.

James O. Wright, Ford Division general manager, made the prediction in remarks prepared for a news conference today. His predicted total was approximately 1,300,000 units more than were sold in 1958. He said more than 1,200,000 of the increase would be accounted for by American-built family-size vehicles.

Ford sales, Wright said, will increase 40 per cent over 1958. He added that the Ford car will take its largest share of the domestic car market since World War II.

Wright said that by April 17, which will mark the six-month anniversary of the introduction of the 1959 Ford, the division's car sales will have exceeded 700,000 units.

The Ford Division general manager said used car prices are at a five year high.

He added that only 55 per cent of new car buyers are using installment credit compared to more than 63 per cent in the past two years. Only one per cent of auto loans are delinquent, he said.

These are among factors testifying to the strength of automobile market as the industry enters the spring selling season, Wright said.

Next year 13-14 million of the current 54 million car owners will own a different car. Live better by far with a brand new car.

'America' Replaces Prayer in School

LAWRENCE, N.Y. (AP) — A stanza of "America" has replaced the Lord's Prayer in this suburban New York City area — ending a controversy over use of the prayer in public schools.

The decision affects Public School District 15, which takes in the neighboring communities known as the Five Towns.

The South Shore Jewish Community Council had opposed reciting of the Lord's Prayer in school, contending it violated the principle of separation of church and state and "the religious sensibilities of a large portion of the community."

The Religious Council of the Five Towns, which includes members of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, said it was opposed to sectarian prayers in the public schools and that it favored a stanza from "America." The school board Thursday acted accordingly.

Lead Jekyll-Hyde Life

Study Shows Executives Live by Dual Standards

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Does a Jekyll-and-Hyde strain run through the ranks of America's business executives?

Does the roaring lion of the executive suite turn into an amiable lamb when he leaves the office?

Researchers at Michigan State University believe so.

They maintain the typical executive is apt to lead a double life with one set of principles for the office, another for home and church.

The researchers have completed a pilot study in which they interviewed 162 executives in every echelon of the management hierarchy.

"The study indicates ambitious business executives do not regard as success-contributing those practices ordinarily regarded as good human relations," says the study director, Dr. Eugene E. Jennings of Michigan State's Business Administration College.

"Human relations," Jennings continues, "may be considered as an important adjunct of success by the executive, but not basic to it."

The professor adds:

"A majority of the men we interviewed admitted they believe self-interest is the basis of all human nature, that it is safer to be suspicious of men and assume their nature is more bad than good."

Here are some majority reactions in four human relations areas covered in the study:

are the mark of a competent executive but he risks a loss of flexibility by making close friends in areas crucial to his interests.

commit the other person; past promises need not stand in the way of success.

Decision making—An executive should not allow free participation in decisions crucial to his own interests; a decision once made should not be open to doubt.

should not expose his hand; superior information is an advantage; out information sparingly; don't take advice you didn't ask for.

The questionnaire used in the study was shown to clergymen who were asked to anticipate executive reaction.

"The clergyman were generally way off in their judgments," Jennings says. "The majority underestimated how distrustfu the executive is and how difficult it may be for him to accept the brotherhood of man concept."

The researchers hold the double life practice revealed by the study does not mean the executive is immoral.

"It merely indicates," Jennings maintained, "that the ethics of his business life may be forced to take different forms from the ethics of his personal life in some cases."

Maritime Official Sees Lakes Growth

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal maritime board member today forecast steady growth and importance of Great Lakes port cities in foreign trade as a result of the St. Lawrence Seaway completion.

Thomas E. Stakem of Washington said the new route to the sea will open new opportunities for privately owned American merchant marine along with foreign flag vessels.

In early stages of the new traffic, he said, it is expected that a considerable portion of cargo will be diverted from Atlantic or Gulf ports.

But later, he said, the Great Lakes area will develop export-import industries especially geared to the resources of the region.

Stakem spoke to a meeting of the Export Managers Club of Chicago.

Waterford Gets Chlorination OK for Watkins Hills

Waterford Township officials have received final approval from the Michigan State Health Dept. to proceed with chlorination treatment of water in the Watkins Hills subdivision, according to Township Clerk James Steeterlin.

For more than a year, the 150 residents in the subdivision have complained of the high iron-oxide content in their water, and all efforts to control the problem have failed.

Although the iron is not detrimental to the health of users, it has plugged water lines and jammed the meters, requiring constant repair service, Seeterlin added.

"The iron content is twice as high in the Watkins Hills water system as in any other township well," he said.

The new equipment is expected to cost some $2,000. Bids will be asked on the project.

Payment for the equipment, installation and maintenance will be asked of Watkins Hills subdivision residents, Seeterlin said.

Lyrical Note Names April 24 State Arbor Day

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams — or, more accurately his specialist on proclamation writing—waxed lyrical today in proclaiming April 24 as Arbor Day in Michigan.

The proclamation noted Michigan's early economy was based on trees . . . that Arbor Day was founded in 1872 by J. Sterling Monton who grew up in Monroe and attended the University of Michigan.

"Trees offer us pleasure—the place for our swing when we are children, and a spot for shade and rest as we grow older.

"We watch with interest as the leaves drop in the autumn to denote the coming of winter. In spring we wait anxiously for the first bud as harbinger of a new season. Our forests primeval have been the inspiration for poems and songs . . ."

Williams asked everyone to plant a tree on Arbor Day.

Latest information available puts the licensed-driver figure at 79,631,000 for the United States. That's almost half the nation's total population. Live better by far with a brand new car.

7 Murder Pilot, Hijack Plane

Haitian Rebels Force Military Craft's Copilot to Fly Them to Cuba

SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP) — Seven Haitian revolutionists killed the pilot of a Haitian military plane Thursday and forced the copilot to fly them to Santiago, Cuban headquarters of their rebel movement.

Twenty-two other persons aboard the plane were forced to come along.

Cuban officials said the rebel gunmen made their move shortly after the plane, with 31 persons aboard, took off from the Haitian capital of Port-au-Prince on a short flight to another point inside the Negro republic 170 miles southeast of Santiago.

On landing here the revolutionists asked political asylum of Fidel Castro's Cuban government, which already harbors some of the leading political foes of Haitian President Francois Duvalier.

The Haitian government was expected to demand return of the plane and all aboard, and particularly of the seven rebels to face punishment. But it was generally assumed the seven would be allowed to stay in Cuba.

Cuban officials said both military and civilian passengers were aboard the plane. There was one unconfirmed report that an American was among the civilians.

Six weeks ago the Duvalier government canceled all exit visas for Haitians in an apparent move to prevent them from joining the "Haitian Revolutionary front" in Cuba.

4 Children Killed as Home Burns

Parents and 2 Others Flee From Flames in 12-Room Dwelling

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The four children of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Pasquini perished early today in a fire which swept their 12-room wood frame house.

The mother, Maria Pasquini, 40, leaped from the roof of a first floor porch when a fire department ladder burned as she was about to descend.

The 42-year-old father was found on the sidewalk in a dazed and shocked condition.

Mrs. Pasquini was taken to St. Luke's Hospital. Her condition was described as serious.

Pasquini also was hospitalized.

The victims were Linda, 1; Deborah, 2; Carol, 6 ;and Perry Jr., 15.

Mrs. Pasquini's mother, identified as Mrs. Mosca, escaped safely from her apartment in the rear of the rambling 2½-story residence.

Remo Giacomoni, 26, a lodger, also escaped unharmed.

Firefighter William Reddy suffered a foot injury and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital. Today is his 38th birthday.

Patrolman Daniel Marino suffered smoke inhalation.

First 7 U.S. Spacemen Family Men in 30s, Average Height, Slender

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Air Force jet pilots, three Navy men and a Marine have been picked by the government as the Americans best equipped to attempt space flight. Their names are announced today.

One of them two years hence may orbit the earth at an altitude of 100 to 150 miles in the first satellite flight. The others probably will take similar space rides in the months following.

The seven chosen from a rigorous selection program, testing both physique and personality, are:

ORCHARD LAKE PUPILS TOUR PLANT—Robin Neal, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Neal, 6280 Commerce Rd., Orchard Lake, points to a part of assembly operation at Dodge Assembly Plant in Detroit during a tour of the plant by 30 fifth and sixth grade pupils of the Scotch School in Orchard Lake. Her father is manager of the plant.

Navy Lt. Malcolm S. Carpenter of Garden Grove, Calif. Carpenter is 33.

Air Force Capt. Leroy G. Cooper Jr., 32, of Carbondale, Colo., and Seattle.

Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, 37, of New Concord, Ohio.

Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom, 33, of Mitchell, Ind.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra, 36, of Hackensack, N. J.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., 35, of East Derry, N. H.

Air Force Capt. Donald K. Slayton, 35, of Sparta, Wis.

The seven volunteer astronauts, who may ride a Mercury satellite, are all men of moderate height and slender build.

When their names were disclosed, they were lined up on a stage in the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Auditorium before reporters and photographers.

The work would be difficult, the seven said, but not too dangerous.

Were they worried? Hardly. Did their families approve? Heartily.

Were they happy about it? Delighted to get on the team. From the relative obscurity of military jet flying, the seven were catapulted into the status of public figures.

Barring a Soviet first, one of them will gain fame as the first man to orbit the earth two years from now. The others are to follow him.

All seven are white and Protestants. They are not extremely religious, but said they are sufficiently so that their Christian faith would help sustain them through the rigors of their new profession.

All emphasized that their wives endorsed the new careers, and that those of their children old enough to understand were enthusiastic about it.

Shepard said he wanted to discount the idea that the Project Mercury experiment would be extremely hazardous. He said no attempt to orbit will be made until the safety probability is higher than that for the routine test flying all the men have been doing in their military planes.

Biographies given the newsmen showed that Carpenter, a native of Boulder, Colo., where his mother lives, is the father of four children. His father, a retired chemist, lives at Palmer Lake, Colo.

Cooper, the father of two daughters, is married to the former Trudy Olson of Seattle and is the son of a retired colonel, who lives at Carbondale, Colo. Cooper is a native of Shawnee, Okla.

Glenn, red-headed, 5 feet 10½ inches tall, 180 pounds, has two children. His wife is the former Anna Margaret Castor of New Concord, Ohio.

Grissom, 5 feet 7 inches tall, brown-haired and weighing 155 pounds, has two sons. A sister, Mrs. Joe Beavers, lives in Baltimore.

Schirra, 5 feet 10 and weighing 185 pounds, has two children and is married to the former Josephine Frasier of Seattle. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Schirra, live in Honolulu, where his father, a World War I air ace, is a civil engineer with the Air Force. Mrs. Schirra is the daughter of Mrs. James L. Holloway, wife of Adm. Holloway, who is commander-in-chief of the northeastern Atlantic and Mediterranean area.

Shepard, 5 feet 11, and 160 pounds, is married to the former Louise Brewer of Kennett Square, Pa. They have two daughters. Shepard has a sister, Mrs. Pauline Sherman, who lives in Montclair, N. J.

Slayton, 5 feet 10½ inches and weighing 160 pounds, is married to the former Marjorie Lunney of Los Angeles. They have one son.

Dr. T. Keith Glennan, NASA administrator, introduced the seven fliers to newsmen, saying "these are the nation's mercury astronauts."

He said that as a result of the long and careful selection process these seven men have "superb adaptability to their coming flight."

Glennan said that these men will train for their space flight for probably two years.

He said that neither the men nor NASA knows now which of the seven will be the first space astronaut.

The spaceship in which the men will travel, Glennan said, "will be as reliable as we can devise, as reliable as any experimental aircraft."

The seven future astronauts wore business suits instead of the uniforms of their military services.

They were trim-figured young men, lean jawed, tanned, looking like what they are—airplane test pilots.

Dr. Randolph Lovelace, head of the selection team, and head of the laboratory where much of the testing was done, said the men had been through a very tough period.

He said they were all highly intelligent and highly motivated, and the job of the selection team was "relatively easy."

Lovelace added that all of them are "family men" and said, "I am not worried about their ability or power to accomplish the job given them."

Jimmy's Dog Misses Out on Bone Find

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — If Jimmy Steckley's dog Perk likes bones as well as most dogs do, he should have stuck closer to his young master.

Jimmy, 13, an eighth-grader, was looking for Perk Thursday when he stumbled on what appeared to be the bones of a mammoth, a prehistoric ancestor of the elephant.

Jimmy summoned his science teacher, Carl G. Zwerk, and some friends. They started digging.

By nightfall they had uncovered a leg bone, a pelvis, a skull, some teeth and some vertebrae.

Zwerk estimated the fossil's age at between 20,000 and 30,000 years.

Jimmy never did find Perk.

Paper to Give Yankus Look at Australia Life

CHICAGO (UPI)—Rebel farmer Stanley Yankus will look before he leaps from his Dowagiac, Mich., farm to Australia, the Chicago Daily News said.

The News will send Yankus and John Justin Smith, the newspaper's first assistant city editor, to Australia for a "sneak preview" of conditions in the land down under.

Yankus feuded with the U. S. Agriculture Dept. after he was forbidden to plant more than 15 acres of wheat on his 100-acre chicken farm.

Declining federal subsidies for the acreage he was told he could not plant, Yankus planted the wheat anyway and was fined more than $5,000 in penalties and interest.

He announced he would move with his wife and two children to Australia, and last Saturday sold his farm and most of his personal possessions for about $30,000 to finance the move.

Smith, who served 11 months in Australia during World War II, will take Yankus on a preliminary tour to see what his new home is like.

"He'll shake hands with farmers and factory workers, union men and government people," Smith said.

College Scholarship Plan Backed by State Asked

LANSING (AP)—A state - financed college scholarship program to cost at least $250,000 a year was proposed today in a bill readied for introduction by Rep. George F. Montgomery (D-Detroit).

The proposal, rejected last year, would award 500 one-year scholarships this year to graduates of Michigan high schools. Winners could attend any college or university in the state.

Value of the scholarships would range from $500 to $1,500.

Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare) filed two bills to do away with unused, outmoded laws requiring tuition-free admission of Michigan residents to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

Forty-seven per cent of the cars on United States roads have automatic transmissions, according to latest available figures. Live better by far with a brand new car.

Hal Boyle Says:

'King of Swing' Celebrating Silver Jubilee

NEW YORK (AP)—"The country has grown up musically," said the King.

The King—"King of Swing"—is Benny Goodman, the first man in history to blow a million dollars out of a "licorice stick."

The great clarinetist, who will be 50 next month, is celebrating his silver jubilee as a ban leader this year. He will kick it off tonight in a hour-long "Swing into Spring" program over the CBS-TV network.

Looking back over a crowded quarter of a century, Goodman mused during a rehearsal break.

"Musical taste hasn't changed so much as you might think," he said. "Classical music is bigger than it ever was. Jazz—or swing—is too. Mood music is bigger than ever.

"The variety and quantity of music is simply unbelievable. And it is going to get even bigger."

Benny himself was one of the greatest factors in taking jazz out of the gin mill and into the concert hall and worldwide acceptance as a musical art form. He took a naked jungle rhythm and put it into a dress suit. He was the first to bring to it a classic precision. He civilized it.

He came up the old-fashioned way—the hard slow climb. Benny was eighth in a family of 11 children. His father was an immigrant tailor. At 9 he started playing with two brothers on instruments borrowed from a Chicago syngogue. His bigger brother got the tuba. Another older brother got the trumpet.

"The only thing left for me was the clarinet," he recalled. "If I had been 20 pounds heavier and two inches taller, perhaps I'd be playing a tuba or trumpet today."

At 10 Benny made his first public appearance, an imitation of Ted Lewis playing "When My Baby Smiles at Me."

For years he traveled the country playing with many bands, maturing his own style. It was a footloose time. Meals were sometimes hard to come by. Benny remembers filching milk bottles from Manhattan doorstoops with the late Glenn Miller.

But somewhere along the way the boy with the promising talent turned into a man of authentic genius, a man with an almost terrifying dedication to his music.

He started his own band in 1934. The formidable look he turned on musicians who showed up late or blew a sour note led him to be known as "The Eye", or "The Ray."

In a year he and his band were on top. In 1938 his concert in Carnegie Hall became a landmark in the history of jazz.

Over the years his band grossed between 15 and 20 million dollars. There are between 1,500 and 2,000 Goodman recordings — "I don't have them all myself," he says—and some 50 million discs featuring him or bands or combos have been sold.

Behind his success is a single-minded drive to do something different and to do it perfectly.

"A man has to know what he wants to do and then try to become classic at it," said Benny.

"The public used to think of musicians as irresponsible and music as a precarious field.

"But music isn't so precarious. Look at some of the people who have lasted in it—Ella Fitzgerald, Peggy Lee, Lionel Hampton, Guy Lombardo, Harry James, Gene Krupa. And it's easy to name a lot more."

Of the thousands of musicians he has known he thinks perhaps the greatest was the legendary trumpet player, Bix Beiderbecke, who died in 1931 at the age of 28.

"He gave me the greatest kick," said Benny. "I got more feeling from what he did than from any other player."

Like most pros, Goodman does not have a favorite tune. But here are his nominations for the five greatest jazz numbers:

"Honeysuckle Rose," "The One O'Clock Jump," "Take the 'A' Train," "Stopping at the Savoy," and "King Porter's Stomp."

Rear coil springs for automobiles were introduced by the automotive industry in 1937. Today's cars ride easier than ever. Live better by far with a brand new car.

Flint Will Sell Buicks in Street

FLINT (AP)—In a drive to stimulate demand for Buick automobiles, a full day's output of the local assembly plant will be offered for sale on the city's main street.

The sale, sponsored by the two local Buick agencies and the city's Chamber of Commerce, will be staged in a carnival atmosphere in a five block section of Saginaw street to be closed for April 24 and 25, the days of the event.

Offered will be 336 cars with an estimated worth of more than a million dollars. The cars will be ready for delivery when they are driven to the outdoor sales area. Only license plates will remain to be attached.

Special sales also will be staged by merchants in other lines to attract people to the car display area.

Many Tall Tales and Records in Baseball Annals

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There have been a lot of tall tales, funny stories and interesting records stacked in the annals of Major League baseball and many of them will stay in the game's libraries even after the Earthmen play the Maramen in the first annual Series for the Inter-Planetary championship.

The "Hitless Wonders" of 1906

Did you know that on June 9, 1908 every player on the field for the Cleveland Indians came up to bat, got a hit and scored a run in the 5th inning against Boston?

Did you know that on October 1, 1933, Nick Altrock won the distinction of being the oldest player ever to play in a Major League game? The ex-pitcher, then coach with the Senators, made a brief appearance on the mound two weeks after his 57th birthday.

STOLEN BASE ON UMPIRE'S FROG

One of the funny stories told is the day that Fred Clarke, player-manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates stole home without knowing it.

It happened in 1906 against the Cubs. The bases were full, Clarke was on third base and the count was 3 balls and a strike.

The Chicago pitcher threw to the batter and the umpire did not utter a sound. Clarke, assuming the throw was a ball, walked in and touched the plate as the batter tossed his bat and headed for first. Suddenly the umpire yelled, "Strike 2." Everyone on the field stared with a shock.

"There was a frog in my throat and I couldn't get a word out," explained the embarrassed official.

Since time wasn't called, the umpire had to rule Clarke's run was good and he was credited with a stolen base by just walking home.

GROUND BALL OVER THE FENCE

To prove that anything and everything happened in Brooklyn, there is the tale about the ground ball which climbed the fence for a homer.

That was in 1916 when George Cutshaw, Dodger second baseman broke up a game against the Phils in extra innings. His hot grounder went into right field, hit an embarkment and actually climbed the fence.

Devore Steals 4 Bases in 1 Inning

The Phillie outfielder watched it teeter at the top, then drop into the stands. It was the only time that a ground ball ROLLED outside a fenced park in the Majors for a homer.

THE HITLESS WONDERS OF 1906

The 1906 Chicago White Sox were called the amazing "hitless wonders." There wasn't a .300 hitter on the team and the team batting average that year was only .228, poorest in the league.

Yet the White Sox enjoyed a 19 game winning streak, won the pennant and defeated the Cubs in the World Series.

DEVORE WAS A BASE THIEF

When it came to base stealing, Josh Devore of the 1912 New York Giants had one distinction. In the 9th inning against the Braves, Devore got to first, then stole second and stole third.

The Giants had a big inning and Josh came up once more. He got to first again, then stole second and third.

Pppplay Bbbball! Yells Shivering Umpire at Tigers' Opener

Chilly Weather Greets Detroit Baseball Crowd

Bunning - Pierce Face Each Other for 2nd Straight Opener

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT — The familiar cry—"play ball" — heard across the country today, was yelled by umpire Charley Berry at Briggs Stadium this afternoon where the Tigers opened the 1959 campaign against the Chicago White Sox.

You couldn't blame Berry or any other umpire behind the plate in Midwest Major League cities today for stuttering slightly in giving out with the traditional cry. The temperatures for the umps called for long underwear and for the spectators top coats.

Despite the forecasts of inclement weather, a crowd of about 37,000 moved into the stadium with Jim Bunning of the Tigers and Billy Pierce of the White Sox facing each other for the second straight year in the opener.

Bunning was last year's winner at Comiskey Park, 4-3. This is Detroit's first season opener at home since 1956 when Frank Lary lost to Kansas City 2-1 on a cold windy day.

Yesterday the Tigers and the White Sox both went through batting drills in the stadium. The ground was mushy, but thanks to some dye, the grass was mid-summer green.

Larry Doby, who will start in left field today in place of Charley Maxwell, hit the third deck in right field with a drive during the morning workout yesterday.

Bunning was undisturbed about today's chilly breezes. "This isn't as bad as the opener I pitched in Charleston in 1956," he said, "it was 29 degrees that day, and somehow I won."

White Sox manager Al Lopez came back with a "can you top this" story. "We opened at Philadelphia once and it snowed all during the game," he said.

The Tigers had a "new look" in the starting lineup with the entire left side of the diamond making its first appearance in Detroit. Doby in left, Eddie Yost at third base and Rocky Bridges at shortstop were all obtained in trades over the winter.

Manager Bill Norman, who maintained all during the Grapefruit Circuit season that the success of the Tigers this year depended on a fast start, would like to start on the right foot today.

"Every game counts," he said, "and there's something extra special about winning the opener."

Norman sees the club to be much improved over last year with more experience at all positions.

Lopez also indicated he wanted to get a faster start than he did last year when the White Sox wallowed in the second division for a long time before making their move and finishing second far behind the Yanks.

Lopez said he would use Dick Donovan (15-14) and Early Wynn (14-16) in the remaining two games of the series in Detroit.

Exchange Pitchers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees Thursday shipped pitcher Mark Freeman to Kansas City in return for pitcher Jack Urban, who went to the Yanks' farm at Richmond in the International League.

Only Memories Alive for Some at Trail's End

Maglie, Trucks, Nixon Are Missing as Majors Hit Full Stride

From Our Wire Services

This is the day when even the veterans thrill to the emotions of playing under baseball's big top and yet for a few it is, suddenly and unexpectedly, only a day of memories.

Even those who can see the end of the baseball road annually go south feeling that they can stretch it one more year. Some of them hang on precariously, stringing out the days of their glory.

But always a humbled handful are gone from the big league bench when the season gets under way as it does generally today.

The vanquished this time include Sal (The Barber) Maglie, a man who ran out of comebacks; Virgil (Fire) Trucks, who once threw a ball through the proverbial brick wall, and Willard Nixon, long a pitching standby with the Boston Red Sox.

Time and physical impairment are threatening three others who will be sitting disconsolately on the sidelines as the campaign opens. The fabled Ted Williams is benched with a pinched neck muscle which could presage the end, while lean Curt Simmons of the Phillies and chubby Herman Wehmeier of Detroit are on the disabled list with no certainty of the future.

In the National, Milwaukee's defending champion Braves sent southpaw Warren Spahn (22-11) against the Pirates' Bob Friend (22-14) at Pittsburgh. The Los Angeles Dodgers picked Don Drysdale (12-13) against the Cubs' Bob Anderson (3-3) at Chicago.

Two night-game openers find the San Francisco Giants at St. Louis with Johnny Antonelli (16-13) opposing the Cards' Larry Jackson (13-13), while the Reds' Don Newcombe (6-13) faces the Phillies' Robin Roberts (17-14) at Philadelphia.

In the American League, the world champion New York Yankees start the long haul for their 10th pennant in 11 years under Casey Stengel with Bob Turley (21-7), last season's pitcher of the year, facing Tom Brewer (12-12) of the Boston Red Sox at Yankee Stadium.

The Chicago White Sox selected Billy Pierce (17-11) to meet the Tigers' Jim Bunning (14-12) at Detroit. Gary Bell (12-10) was Cleveland's choice against Bob Grim (7-7) at Kansas City. Baltimore and Washington are idle.

Lightweights Signed

LONDON (AP)—Boxing promoter Harry Levene said Thursday he has signed Willie Toweel of South Africa to fight Carlos Ortiz of New York for a 10-round lightweight fight here May 12.

Opening Day Highlights

HOT DOG! — Take me out to the ball game for those good old hot dogs and David Eisenhower, 11-year-old grandson of the President, takes the saying in stride as he munches on a hot dog at the Washington opener yesterday.

TRIPLE PLAY — Outfielder Bob Allison of the Senators vainly tries to get back to first base, but he was the third out of a triple play pulled by Baltimore in the 5th inning yesterday. The play started when Oriole first baseman Bob Boyd grabbed a line drive, threw to second to get Roy Sievers and took the relay to get Allison at first.

Bertoia Homers, Baltimore Pulls Triple Play

Nats Trip Orioles, Reds Stop Bucs

By The Associated Press

It no doubt will be a short-lived prosperity but for one day, at least, the Washington Senators are leaders in the American League pennant race.

With Vice President Nixon among the viewers in 90-degree weather at Washington's Griffith Stadium, the Senators handed the Baltimore Orioles a 9-2 thumping to officially send the 1959 American League season on its way.

In the senior circuit, Pittsburgh castoff Bob Purkey shackled his former teammates as the Cincinnati Reds chalked up a 4-1 victory over the Pirates at Cincinnati's Crosley Field to get the National League campaign under way.

The Orioles performed a triple play but that was one of their few moments of success in the traditional Washington opener.

After Vice President Nixon threw out the first ball, the Nats breezed past the Orioles behind the stout pitching of Pedro Ramos to take 1st place ahead of six other AL teams who haven't played yet.

Harm Killebrew and Reno Bertoia supported Ramos' hurling with 4th-inning home runs, each with a mate aboard.

It was Purkey, now 4-0 against his old mates, who gave the Reds their first victory last year, too, and that also was a 4-1 decision against the Bucs. Yesterday's job was the first opening-day success in five years for the Reds, a darkhorse entry this season under new manager Mayo Smith. They were fourth last season.

The Orioles pulled off the first opening day triple play in major league history.

Boyd started the triple play, snaring Ed Fitzgerald's liner in the fifth inning, doubling Roy Sievers at second and then hustling back to first to get shortstop Chico Carrasquel's return peg that caught rookie Bob Allison.

Forgives Boy Who Stole It

Youthful Yankee Fan Has Scrapbook Back

MIAMI, Fla. (Am) — A scrapbook filled with pictures of baseball heroes and an 11-year-old fan of the New York Yankees were reunited today.

The scrapbook was taken from a parked car Saturday by a boy who later returned it with a letter signed "a very sorry 10-year-old, James."

It was claimed at the Miami Herald sports department yesterday by Mel Szatmary, who was more or less adopted by the Yankees three years ago when he lost his right eye.

Mel popped a big bubble with his bubblegum, grinned and said "thanks" when he regained the big book filled with pictures of Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald, Yogi Berra, Phil Rizzuto and Whitey Ford.

Mel said he was happy to get it back and quite ready to forgive the boy who took it.

A playmate accidently threw a dart that struck Mel in the eye several years ago. Doctors operated but they could not save it.

Mel's dad, a Perth Amboy, N.J., housepainter until he moved to Miami two months ago, knew some of the Yankee ball players personally.

When Mel was in the hospital, Rizzuto visited him several times. Billy Martin and Mantle wrote him personal letters.

In the scrapbook, Mel also had a picture taken with a girl. The girl called him a "sweet boy" and put her arm around his shoulder.

Her name—Kim Novak of the movies.

"But I like baseball players best," said Mel.

IHL Finals Begin

Boston Brings NBA Playoffs to Conclusion

Minneapolis Is Beaten 118-113 for 22nd Loss in Row to Celts

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Boston's irresistable Celtics, pro basketball kings again, had a rosterful of heroes to salute today and none more worthy than Frank Ramsey and Bill Sharman.

Ramsey and Sharman delivered the knockout wallop against Minneapolis last night in a 118-113 Celtic victory that brought the National Basketball Assn. title finals to a merciful conclusion.

It meant a four-game sweep of the finals for Boston, the first such shutout in the NBA, and $12,000 in the players' till. Minneapolis collected $7,000, but still is looking for its first victory over Boston since March of 1957, a span of 22 games.

Sharman, one of the gilded old pros of the NBA, rolled back the Lakers' last-stab overture early in the fourth period last night and Ramsey slammed the door for keeps in the waning minutes.

It was appropriate that the former Kentucky star should be in on the kill. Through 11 games of the Eastern and championship playoffs he had come off the bench time and again either to light a fire under the Celts or put one out that the opposition had started.

Sharman bagged 29 points, Ramsey 24 and Tom Heinsohn 23. Elgin Baylor, once more playing with the form that made him a terror in the Western playoffs, hit 30 for the Lakers.

The game evidently was Laker coach John Kundla's valedictory to NBA coaching. An announcement was due from the University of Minnesota today on the Gopher coaching vacancy, and all reports indicated Kundla is the man.

Behind Vern Mikkelsen, Baylor and Bob Leonard the Lakes kept it close all the way last night, trailing only 64-62 at halftime and 88-87 at the third quarter turn. Baylor prodded the Lakers into the lead at 95-93 early in the fourth quarter but Sharman and Ramsey took over here and escorted Boston out of danger.

Ring Officials Talk Title Fight to Sugar Ray

The Garden officials, President Ned Irish and boxing director Harry Markson, said there still is "a bit of difference" between them and Robinson on money.

They will meet with Robinson again early next week.

Robinson said he would be ready to fight in July, August or September if the deal is made.

The 38-ear-old champion has been warned by the state athletic commission to sign for a defense against Basilio, a former champion, by noon April 15 or face loss of his title.

Three Women Retain AAU Titles; Record Set

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) —The best women swimmers in the nation went after more records today in the second of the three-day women's senior National AAU indoor swimming and diving championships.

The competition is being held at the Howard Park outdoor pool where the water temperature is in the high 70s under a bright sun. Five more events will conclude the meet tomorrow.

Last night three defending champions retained their titles, one lost and a fifth gave up her title by default.

Sylvia Ruuska, 16-year-old girl swimming for the Berkeley, Calif. YMCA team, set a new record in the 400-yard individual medley last night at 4:58.2. The old national record—set for this competition — was 5:03.5 and the American record was 5:00.8.

The record was broken four times during the day, once by Becky Collins of the Riviera Club Indianapolis, in 5:01.6. She was second to Miss Ruuska last night in 4:58.6.

Carin Cone of the University of Houston team won the 200-yard backstroke in 2:20.2. It was her fourth straight.

Susan Ordogh of the Seattle, Wash., Athletic Club, retained her title in the 250-yard breaststroke in 3:24.3. Becky Collins was second in 3:24.4.

Shirley Stobs, 16-year-old swimmer from the Miami Shores Country Club, won the 100-yard freestyle in :57.7. The former champion was Chris Von Saltza of the Santa Clara, Calif., Calif., Swim Club, who could not defend because of illness.

Irene MacDonald of the Los Angeles AC took the one-meter diving title, dethroning Barbara Sue Gilders of the Detroit AC. Miss MacDonald, 24-year-old diver from Hamilton, Ont., had 414.15 points and Miss Gilders 412.85.

Kundla Appears Set for Move

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota names its new basketball coach Friday and if it isn't Johnny Kundla an army of guessers will be thrown into wild retreat.

All the speculation since Ozzie Cowles resigned last month has pointed to Kundla as athletic director Ike Armstrong's No. 1 choice for successor.

Kundla, coach of the Minneapolis Lakers, is known to be available. He is believed to be eminently acceptable to the school's administration.

Armstrong's recommendation will go before the board of regents via President J. L. Morrill. The regents will act either at an open hearing in the morning or at a closed session later in the afternoon.

Ruth Loop Meets April 13

The Walled Lake Babe Ruth League will hold its first meeting of the 1959 baseball season on Monday, April 13, at Stonecrest in Walled Lake at 8 p.m. Next Monday's meeting is being held for all team managers and coaches plus anyone else interested in assisting with teams this year. Ray Chabot will be the new league president.

Titans Score 9-3 Win Over U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Detroit, paced by Art Spanguola's three-run homer, defeated Michigan 9-3 in a baseball game here yesterday.

Spagnuola, with three hits out of five times at bat, drove in six of the Titans' runs.

Michigan collected its three runs in the first inning on a pair of singles, an error, a sacrifice fly and a hit batsman.

Gary Occidental Ace

One-Armed Star Plays Several Sports Well

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Have trouble doing things with two arms?

Here's what Nelson Gary Jr. does with only one:

He plays right field for the freshman team at tiny Occidental College, has several swimming medals and basketball letters, plays golf and shoots a sharp game of billiards.

He also gives exhibitions of hitting, pitching and fielding for crippled and underprivileged children. Last September, he was elected president of his class at Occidental.

Gary lost his right arm in a tragic accident as a baby. The incident that changed his life, he recalls, was a meeting with "a man who could neither read nor write, yet he did something for me that nobody else could do because, like me, he has only one arm."

The man was Pete Gray, who played 77 games as an outfielder with the old St. Louis Browns in 1945.

Gary's father read about Gray and decided his son should meet the outfielder. Gray was with Memphis of the Southern Assn. when he met Nelson. He was so touched by the youngster's interest that he banged out five hits, including a home run, the night he met Nelson. Later he taught the youngster the tricks of the game.

Nelson put Gray's tutoring to good use. He started in junior sandlot league baseball and had an amazing record as a pitcher. Then he went on to Van Nuys High School, where he excelled in several sports and graduated in the top five per cent of his class.

Occidental Coach Grant Dunlap, a former major leaguer, says of Gary:

"He has excellent balance at the plate. He never seems to get off balance and he strikes out less than anybody on the team. He hits consistently, and they are line drives. He has a fine arm and throws well.

"He can catch the ball and get rid of it as fast as any outfielder we have. He's also a better than average basketball player."

What has baseball done for Gary? His answer:

"It has given me the realization that I can do anything as well as anybody else and maybe a little better in some cases."

Valley Champs Feted Tonight

Pontiac Central Quintet to Receive Awards From Press, C. of C.

The Pontiac Central High School basketball team, Saginaw Valley Conference champions for the 1958-59 season, will be honored tonight at a banquet in the PCH cafeteria ta 6:30 p.m.

Trophies and numerous other awards will be presented to coaches and players alike and Forest (Forddy) Anderson, head State University, is scheduled to be the principal speaker.

Tonight's honor dinner is being sponsored by the City Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with The Pontiac Press. The C. of C. and the Press will present all awards.

The Press will hand out individual awards to each member of the varsity squad in addition to head coach Art Van Ryzin and assistant coach Fred Zittel.

All-County trophies from the Press are slated to be delivered to John Bandy, Charley Barge and Harrison Munson and Van Ryzin will receiv e the Press County Coach-of-the-Year trophy, which he won for the 2nd time in the last three years.

A giant team trophy, emblematic of the Valley title, will be awarded to the school by the C. of C. as a permanent addition to the PCH showcase and the Chamber also has a gift for V anRyzin.

The Chiefs won the Valley crown for the 2nd time in thre years and finished the regular season as the state's No. 1 team with a 14-1 record. They wree eliminated in th esemifinals of the state prep tournament and wound up with an overall mark of 18-2.

Motorcycle Races Scheduled Sunday

The Thunderbird Motorcycle Club of Detroit has scheduled the area's first scramble races of the year this Sunday afternoon at the club's new Indianwood racing circuit directly off Coats Road 10 mile north of Pontiac.

The Thunderbirds have announced that signs will be posted on Baldwin Avenue to indicate the route to the racing grounds. Races will be held in three classes — heavyweight, lightweight and novice. Starting time is 2 p.m.

A good turnout of riders is expected and racing points are at stake in the Michigan Scramble Association. There will be a 50-cent donation fee for adults, children are admitted without charge and parking is free.

Morse Joins Packers

MUSKEGON, Mich. (UPI) — Jim Morse, who played two years in the Canadian Football League following his graduation from Notre Dame has signed a contract to play with the Gren Bay Packers next fall, he said today. He was a star at Muskegon St. Mary's High in his prep days.

GUESS WHO? — It didn't take Mickey Mantle long to find the range at "home" in Yankee Stadium today where the Yanks were facing the Boston Red Sox. Matnle, hitting in the batting cage in pre-game warmups, parked his first warmup-hit into the right field stands.

Bonin's Tally Breaks 3-3 Tie of Slow Game

Canadiens Are Sluggish in Opening Contest of Cup Finals

MONTREAL (AP)—The Montreal Canadiens were safely launched today on their bid for an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup title thanks to the spark supplied by Marcel Bonin.

For two and a half periods Thursday night a crowd of 14,370 saw a routine affair between the Canadiens and the Toronto Maple Leafs. Then the irrepressible little leftwinger chopped in the winning goal and set up the insurance marker with a cooly calculated pass to give the Canadiens a 5-3 win.

The tipoff to the humdrum aspects of this first game in the best-of-seven final playoff came in the comment of the coaches.

Both Toe Blake of Montreal and Punch Imlach of Toronto were critical of their teams.

Blake said, "Some of the guys didn't seem to have any legs."

Imlach said his Leafs didn't hustle and fight enough.

The closeness of the score all the way failed to pull the crowd out of its apathy. Henri Richard and Ralph Backstrom scored for Montreal and Dick Duff and Billy Harris for the Leafs in the opening period.

It was as close through the second. Andre Pronovost moved Montreal in front and Ron Stewart pulled the Leafs even.

To the Leafs' credit, they outskated and outchecked the Canadiens in the first two periods.

They looked good enough to snatch this first game although they had only on day rest after knocking off Boston in a tough seven game semifinal.

The longer layoff for the Canadiens — who were carried six games before downing Chicago—appeared to have left them sluggish.

The game lacked the sparkle and spectacle of Stanley Cup play.

The game was enlivened in the closing minutes by a scrap between Henri Richard and Toronto's Bobby Baun. Each was given a major penalty for fighting.

Leads Greensboro Open

Fetchick Has Form Again

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Mike Fetchick, who says he'd like to settle down to a good club job in the New York area, may have to delay his plans to go into semi-retirement from tournament golf.

Going into today's second round of the $15,000 Greater Greensboro Open, Mike held a one-shot lead after a five-under par 35-31—66 initial effort.

He's been fighting a three-year slump that overtook him after he had won three 1956 tournaments and placed 13th on the money list with nearly $20,000 in earnings.

Playing in 12 previous tournaments this year, he has been in the money only three times and won less than $1,500.

A traffic jam was shaping up at their heels. Four men had opening 68s, five had 69 and five more had 70s.

A combination of ideal weather and good course conditions resulted in 16 sub-par scores among the 122 starters.

Gonzales Retains Slim Pro Net Lead

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Pancho Gonzales retained his slim lead in the world professional tennis tour Thursday night by defeating Mal Anderson 6-3, 6-4.

Gonzales now has a 22-9 record. Lew Hoad defeated Ashley Cooper in another match 6-3, 5-6, 6-3, to make his record 21-10.

In a doubles match, Gonzales and Anderson defeated Cooper and Hoad, 10-8.

Veterans Group Wants to Check Option of Negro

BOSTON (AP)—The American Veterans Committe of Massachusetts, Inc., today called for a "clear the air" investigation of charges of racial discrimination by the Boston Red Sox in the wake of the farming of infielder Pumpsie Green.

The AVC urged the probe by the Massachusetts commission against discrimination in a letter signed by its state commander and the legislative committee chairman.

The Boston chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said after Green's option of 24-hour recall to Minneapolis of the American Assn., that the Red Sox practices indicate they "condone racial segregation and discrimination."

The Cincinnati Redlegs became interested in Roy McMillan, their regular shortstop, in 1947 after he turned up at a tryout camp in McKinney, Tex.

First Baseball Meeting Next Monday Night

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department is now organizing the men's City League baseball program for the 1959 season.

Team managers or representatives are requested to attend the 1st meeting of the year next Monday night at 7:30 in the Parks and Recreation office on the ground floor of City Hall.

Play will be conducted in two divisions this summer—Class A for top level competition and Class B for those players 18 or over who do not wish to compete in the upper bracket. Anyone wishing to enter a team in either the "A" or "B" division this season should come to the meeting.

Plans are also under way for the women's City League softball program. The 1st meeting for managers or representatives of teams desiring entry is set for next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the Parks and Recreation office.

Bob Carlson Is Singles Champ in College Play at ABC Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bradley's Fred Marcussen, with a six-game total of 1,182, won the all-events division in the first national intercollegiate bowling tournament last night.

Marcussen, a 21-year-old senior, rolled 617 in doubles and 565 in singles.

The intercollegiate meet was held in connection with the 56th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

ABC competition yesterday produced the first 3,000 team score since March 22. Pennsylvania General Paper Corp. of Coatesville rolled 3023 amd Meyerland Homes of Houston, Tex., shot 3009. Neither team broke into the top 10 standings of the open division.

There also were no changes among the leaders of the singles, doubles, all-events and booster team divisions.

Seventeen days of competition remain in the 72-day tournament.

Col. George Simler, athletic director at the Air Force Academy, is a 1948 graduate of the University of Maryland. He captained the 1947 football team which tied Georgia in the Gator Bowl.

Beware of Snow Mold on Lawns This Spring

By WAYNE D. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

Snow Mold, a common early spring fungus disease of many lawns, has been unusually common this year because of the wet cold spring.

White circular spots show up in the lawn where the fungus has been active. These usually develop near the edge of snow drifts or piles where melting snow has supplied plenty of moisture.

Does this fungus do much damage? In most cases the damage is not permanent. Where the spots are larger than a plate, plants near the center are frequently killed. In small spots, the root is alive and will make strong recovery.

After the snow has gone, any treatment will work. The fungus has gone dormant until next winter, so fertilizing and waiting seems the best plan.

Good drainage greatly discourages its development in February and March. Where this disease is a common problem, November and March spraying usually is effective.

Several other fungus diseases are common to grass, but no other develops in March and produces white circular spots and then disappears in April.

It looks like 1959 is going to be a tough year on shrubs, perennials and evergreens. Have you noticed the brown leaves and shoots on evergreens?

Deep freezing is usually the villain, with warm winds the other accomplice. Many plants continue to gather water throughout the winter by means of tap roots below the frost line. Whenever the tops thaw out due to warm winds or bright sunshine, these tap roots are ready to move water to the tops to keep them well supplied. When tap roots are cut off as in transplanting, or frozen in ice when deep freezing occurs, there is no ready supply of water when brief thaws occur. Without this water reserve, the branches and twigs dry out, later turning brown.

One of the things to do is try to prevent deep freezing. If one could keep a continuous covering of snow, it would prevent severe freezing. One way to duplicate snow is using leaves, straw or sawdust. One or two inches will often reduce freezing one or two feet.

Brown leaves usually mean the tips of the twigs are killed, but the bulk of the plant is alive and vigorous. Using hand shears, cut off these brown tips to get rid of the worse appearing portion. New growth will hide the remainder in a few weeks. Do not use hedge shears. This formalizes the plant too much and often means cutting off too much.

RESEED IN APRIL

Have you ever noticed how it seems the better the grass variety, the slower it starts? The problem is not due to size of seed or the price, but a water tight seed cover. It often takes several days or even weeks for bluegrass and fescue seed to sprout, because of this soaking problem.

One way to get the jump on this seeding problem is sowing the seed in early April when there is lots of moisture, so germination will have begun with warm weather in early May.

If a lawn has been thin and full of weeds for several months, the answer usually isn't seed, but fertilizer. Fertilize the plants present and they will take over the bare spots.

But sometimes, where rye is dying out or dogs have killed spots, or trees have recently been removed, or snow mold has riddled the lawn, seeding is the only answer.

For new lawns, the seeding rate is usually one pound per 1,000 square feet. For reseeding, one-half pound per 1,000 square feet is usually more than enough. Sometimes light raking helps to work the seed down close to the soil.

Walks Around Garden Prevent Damp Feet

An early morning walk in your garden can be an exhilarating experience, but it can be a pretty damp one unless one has a pavement leading to and around flower beds. Overcome the problem and give an additional touch of beauty to the garden by using colorful ceramic tile for walks.

Even after a heavy rain, the garden will be ready for an immediate tour. For a final touch of beauty and convenience, install garden benches of ceramic tile along the walks.

A GIFT OF LIFE—These twins aren't any different than any other children. They love flowers and also love to give and receive presents. Here's a timely suggestion for a gift for someone this spring. A seed packet tree such as this one made of driftwood is a clever way of giving relatives or friends a start on the delightful hobby of gardening with plenty of valuable hints on the backs of each packet.

Mother of 5 Shot in Flint Dispute

FLINT (AP)—A mother of five children was shot and killed here yesterday and police are holding a 58-year-old man with whom she had a long-standing dispute.

The woman was Mrs. Margaret Clemmons, 58, of Flint. Her two brothers—Emerson Johnston, 60, and Basil Johnston, 53—were wounded but not seriously, police said.

James R. Davenport, also of Flint, was held for suspicion of murder and two counts of assault with intent to murder.

Police said Davenport and Mrs. Clemmons had been in a long-standing dispute over some personal belongings. They said the dispute was taken to court, where it was settled yesterday. When Davenport returned some of the things to Mrs. Clemmons, police said, the shooting followed.

Drops Robbery Charge as 2 Others Admit Crime

DETROIT (AP)—A charge of armed robbery against Jesse Williams, 33, was dismissed in Recorder's Court yesterday after two men admitted the crime of which he was accused.

Williams had been charged in the Jan. 8 holdup of a drug store.

"I'm convinced that he's not the man who committed the crime," said Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara.

Police said Eugene McCollum, 30, and Fred Tucker, 24, admitted the holdup.

Ike, GOP Chiefs Meet for Okay of Party Leader

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower meets today with Republican leaders for his formal approval of a man he reportedly already has tapped to be GOP national chairman. He is Sen. Thruston Morton of Kentucky.

A 10-member delegation representing the party's national committee arranged to fly from Washington for a luncheon conference with Eisenhower at the Augusta National Golf Club.

As head of the party, the president's choice of a new chairman traditionally is the committee's choice. Sources in a position to know said Morton is Eisenhower's selection to succeed Meade Alcorn, who is resigning to return to his Connecticut law practice.

The conference group, named Thursday by Alcorn, is headed by Ray C. Bliss, the party's Ohio state chairman.

The other members are: G. Harold Alexander, Florida; Mrs. C. Wayland Brooks, Illinois; Richard F. Cooper, New Hampshire; Ted Dalton, Virginia; former Sen. Harry Darby, Kansas; Mrs. Rae C. Hooker, Michigan; Wellington D. Rankin, Montana; Mrs. Webster B. Todd, N.J.; and Mrs. Neal Tourtellotte, Washington state.

LANSING (AP)—State Highway Department engineers were shown films of a new type of aluminum bridge this week. Developers claim the new type of bridge is more economical than those built of conventional materials.

Britain's Down, Ours Up

Taxes? They'll Rise Again

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—As the dread day for paying personal federal income taxes nears, Americans can take little pleasure in the prospect that taxes may get worse before they get better.

And they can note with little relish that in Britain taxes are being cut, while here they are rising at various government levels.

Corporations had to do their ponying up for the U. S. Treasury last month. And many still have a reckoning with various state and local tax authorities.

To take just one example of corporate tax bills: Jersey Standard Oil reports that United States and foreign governments through various tax levies got $2,300,400,000 from it and its affilaites in 1958.

$11.40 PER SHARE

This came to $11.40 a share. That's more than five times the dividend payments to shareholders and more than double the employe payroll and benefit costs.

Income taxes weren't the oil company's biggest outlay. They came to 400 million dollars, but production, property, franchise and other operating taxes were nearly 406 million dollars, and import duties topped on billion dollars.

The company also collected and turned over to governments 549 million dollars of consumer taxes.

But April 15 is reserved for individuals, not corporations, to wail. And various organizations are willing to help you.

The Tax Foundation, a nonprofit organization dedicated to studying the impact of taxes, says that adding up all the federal, state and local levies and averaging them out, it finds that a man with a wife and two children and making $4,500 a year has to work 7 out of the 22 working days in a month just to pay his tax bills.

In contrast, he works about 4½ days to pay his food bills, and about 4 days to meet housing and furniture costs.

Looking at this same four-member family, the National Industrial Conference Board takes into account both the rise in federal income tax rates and the loss in purchasing power due to inflation.

It says that if the family income in 1939 was $5,000, taxes took $59 of it, leaving $4,941 in disposable income.

$12,113 WAGE NEEDED

To have that much income left over today the worker would have to make $12,113. Of that, income and social security taxes would take $1,816 and the declining purchasing power of the dollar since 1939 would silently trim away $5,356.

This year the taxpayer's big headache is likely to be caused by matters much closer to home than Washington. Only relatively minor tax increases are being discussed there.

But many of the states and a large number of communities are faced with rising budgets they must try to balance somehow.

Some are raising the rates on old taxes. Others are trying new levies.

The taxes they levy on business may be passed along to you in the form of higher prices. If they aren't passed along, but absorbed in whole or in part by business firms, there arises the problem of the effect of taxation on investment.

As a company's profit margin shrinks, it has less money to spend on expansion.

And many would like to see industry expand further and thus create more jobs—and larger payrolls to be taxed.

Hired Duncan Killer Sentenced to Death

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A jury has decreed that hired strangler Augustine Baldonado must die in the gas chamber for murdering Olga Duncan.

He confessed that he and Luis Moya beat and strangled the daughter-in-law of Elizabeth Duncan, 54, whose jealous attachment for her son, Frank, 30, drove her to arrange the slaying last November.

Mrs. Duncan is under a death sentence. Moya's trial starts April 20. He has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

A psychiatrist called Baldonado, 26, a defective human and a menace to society.

It is estimated that over 60,000,000 replacement auto tires will be sold this year. And practically every one will be purchased by a newspaper reader.

Ike's Gettysburg Address No Success With Nikita

The Soviet premier's criticism came in answers to questions put to him by the editors of the Soviet Communist party organ Pravda.

Dog Owners Reminded

LANSING (UPI)—The conservation department today reminded dog owners of the April 15-July 15 closed season on training hunting animals.

The department said the restriction was to "protect newly-born game animals and nesting birds."

April Car Output Best in 4 Years

577,000 Autos Plus 111,000 Trucks Slated for This Month

DETROIT (UPI) — The best April production record in four years is on tap for the automobile industry — both passenger cars and trucks, Ward's Automotive Reports says.

A total production schedule of 577,400 passenger cars and 111,000 trucks is projected for the month, topping March figures of 576,085 passenger units and 109,801 trucks.

Ford and American Motors are responsible for the expected increase in total industry production of passenger cars during April over March. Ford is scheduling an increase of more than 3,00 units and American Motors is boosting its production schedule nearly 5,000.

General Motors is cutting back more than 5,000 units, Chrysler is holding almost steady, and Studebaker-Packard is dropping a few hundred units.

Planned truck production for April was 1 per cent higher than March, and the best monthly volume for any month since November 1955 and the best in April since April of 1955.

It would also boost 1959 production for the first four months to 419,590 trucks, compared with 302,380 in the same period last year.

Annual retail automobile sales totals a whopping $53 billion! Live better by far with a brand new car.

News in Brief

Thieves broke into the cottage of E. H. Coulter, 3990 Sashabaw Rd., Independence Township, yesterday and took miscellaneous items including a television set, radio, vacuum cleaner and bedding, Pontiac State troopers said.

Ralph Humphries, of 3 Euclid St., reported to Pontiac Police Thursday that someone entered his home and had stolen a wedding ring valued at $45 from the fireplace mantle in the living room.

Jewelry valued at about $100 was reported stolen Thursday from the home of Mrs. Hugh Wolfington, 856 Stanley St., according to city police.

Cornerstone Laying Gets Childlike Touch

MILWAUKEE (AP)— When officials of Children's Hospital planned the dedication of a new wing they decided one of the things to be placed in the cornerstone would be a rag doll.

Long-Lost Friend Missing Since 1919

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff's Sgt. Bill Brown received a request from Frank Sabedra of New Jersey to locate a man missing in Arizona.

The missing man is Manuel Sabedra Garcia. Sabedra said the last word he received from Garcia was in 1919.

The entire National Guard went to war in World War II. Nine Guard divisions fought in the Pacific and nine in Europe. Fourteen Guardsmen won the Medal of Honor.

Judge Gets Million Word Puzzle

Mulls GM-DuPont Case

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal judge hearing the Du Pont-General Motors anti-trust case went home yesterday with more than a million words of testimony about a three billion dollar problem.

If is his job to solve it.

The judge is Walter J. LaBuy, who for the last seven weeks has heard arguments for and against a government plan to strip Du Pont and its associates of their 23 per cent controlling interest in General Motors.

The Supreme Court in 1957 ruled this interest—63 million shares of GM stock worth about three billion dollars—constituted a tendency toward monopoly, especially since the chemical firm supplied GM with most of its paints and finishes.

The court ordered Judge LaBuy to work out an equitable arrangement divorcing the two industrial giants.

A decision is not expected for some time.

Under the government proposal, Du Pont would sell 20 million shares of GM stock on the open market over a 10-year period.

The remaining 43 shares would be distributed to individual Du Pont shareholders. They would receive 1.38 shares of GM for each share of Du Pont they held.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and father. We especially thank the Rev. Allenbach, Voorheis Siple Funeral Home, Friendship Girls of Rebecca Lodge 246, and Moose Friends at Pontiac Motor and relatives. Mrs. Grace Rehrer and family

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF THOMas Henry Fleming, who passed away April 10, 1958.
God gave us a little flower, to brighten up our home;
In April He needed our flower to brighten up His throne.
God has the power to give a life, and the power to take away;
But Heaven is much brighter now that our Tommie is there today.
Sadly missed by Mommie, Daddy & Linda.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY father, Richard H. Vine, who passed away suddenly April 10, 1936.
To linger on the way,
That leads us back to yesterday
To hear your voice, to see your smile;
And talk with you a little while.
Daughter, Josephine.

Joan Caulfield Divorces Film Producer Husband

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Joan Caulfield has divorced film producer Frank Ross after testifying he did not want to be bothered with children.

Miss Caulfield, 34, said the 54-year-old producer told her he was too old for children, even if they were adopted. He was rude to her friends, too, she said. They married nine years ago.

Best Performances Came After Awards

By EARL WILSON

HOLLWOOD—Now that the Oscars have come and gone, we think the year's best acting was not on the screen, but was Joan Collins' playing of a real-life love scene with TV writer George Englund at a party Buddy Adler gave for Ingrid Bergman.

"Where's George?" she demanded angrily. She addressed the question to composer Sammy Cahn — whose wife was also away from the table.

"He eloped with my wife," shrugged Sammy.

WILSON

"He can't do that to me!" announced Joan. "I'm going." She flounced off—and as you probably remember, she can sure flounce. Before long, George (the recent husband of actress Cloris Leachman, who took Kim Stanley's place in "Touch of the Poet") came back. So did Joan Collins. Next scene: Joan was kissing George's ear.

We also think David Niven deserves a special award for general gaiety. We remember when we congratulated him prematurely, he said: "Don't let your Las Vegas tan go to your head."

The guests at Buddy Adler's party — biggest Hollywood social event of the year; even Bill Holden was in town for it — said the one thing they remembered was Ingrid Bergman's daughter, Jenny Ann, dancing with her youthful-looking stepfather, lean, spectacled Lars Schmidt.

JOAN

Tall like her mother and full-bosomed, Jenny Ann could, in the opinion of the Hollywood experts, be as beautiful.

Peggy Cass, nominated for Best Supporting actress, said "I keep dreaming about it. In this dream, I am in the unemployment insurance line and a headline says 'Losing Oscar Nominee Seeks Aid.' You can see it didn't affect me a bit."

Peggy didn't take ads in the Hollywood trade papers thanking everybody for nominating her — a subtle means of reminding Academy members that they might cast their vote for her. "I socked that money away," said Peggy, the frequent guest on the Jack Paar show.

"Why didn't you take the ads?" I asked her.

"You want to know why? Because I'm cheap!" said Peggy, sort of ending the conversation.

Telephone Hour's Finale Leaves Out Jazz Lovers

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bell Telephone Hour, which has tried to be all things to all music-lovers, changed its attack in the final show of the current series on NBC-TV last night.

The program offered well-known popular songs by Gisele Mackenzie, Rosemary Clooney and Jose Ferrer, the latest recruit in the crooner ranks; classical music-lovers were served ballet by Maria Tallchief and Andre Eglevsky; an operatic duet from Smetana's "The Bartered Bride," by Giorgio Tozzi, basso, and Nicolai Gedda, tenor, and concluded with Jose Iturbi playing fragments from Rambeau, Chopin and Liszt.

Where has the series changed? No jazz segment this time. I assume this means the sponsor is feeling 'frisky, if not reckless. Perhaps next season, some venturesome musical programs will come our way.

Of last night's five segments, I felt the ballet sequence was most sucoessful. The dance, to Mendelssohn's Scotch Symphony, was photographed through gauze for a Gothic-grim, foggy and romantic effect.

It was handsome, clean and graceful. Director Bill Colleran even worked in some closeups of Tallchief and Eglevsky as they danced which, except for one unfortunate moment, added to the mood.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Carol Haney has been added to the cast of the May 18 CBS-TV special, The Merry Month of May. She'll be filmed while performing at Boulder Dam in Colorado . . . pro golfer Jimmy Demaret replaces Dick Danahe as commentator on ABC-TV's All-Star Golf when the program begins its third TV season in October . . . NBC-TV is slotting the new color western, Laramie, into Thursday, 7:30-8:30, next fall.

Ann Arbor Plan Review Urged

GOP Senators Propose Bypass Around City's Northwest Fringe

LANSING (AP)—Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has been urged by the Senate to take another look at department plans for by-passing Ann Arbor on the east.

Over Democratic objections, majority Republicans pushed through a resolution by Sen. Lewis C. Christman (R-Ann Arbor), advocating, in effect, a shorter bypass around the city's northwest fringe.

Involved is U.S. 23, running north and south, which is to be elevated to expressway standards in the process of relocation outside the city. . . . . .

The so-called east belt would be 10 miles long and cost about 10 million dollars. The shorter route, connecting U.S. 23 on the north to U.S. 12 on the west, would cost about $3,500,000.

Besides, Christman said, the shorter route would more speedily relieve downtown traffic congestion in Ann Arbor.

Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit) advised the Senate against injecting itself into the issue, noting that local government and planning agencies concerned have gone on record for the east belt solution.

Mackie, a Democrat, has blamed "selfish fiancial interests" of property owners in the path of the east belt for challenging the existing plan.
