Tshombe Flees Palace

U.N. Controls Elisabethville

'Total Destruction' Threat Unleashed

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — President Moise Tshombe of Katanga today threatened "total destruction" in his secessionist province unless U.N. forces stop fighting within 24 hours.

This report was relayed here by a pooled dispatch from foreign correspondents in Tshombe's capital, Elisabethville. Tshombe's signed statement declared that if U.N. forces did not stop firing within 24 hours, "we will immediately blow up the bridge over the Lufuria."

This is a large river between Elisabethville and Jadotville. Tshombe in a public proclamation said "Katangese people will defend themselves until the death and everywhere the United Nations and its troops will be fought as our worst enemy — with traps, with poisoned arrows and spears."

"We will resist by all means including the total destruction of all our economic potential," Tshombe made similar threats when fighting broke out with U.N. forces in Katanga late last year.

Earlier in the day Katanga Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba made an all-out war appeal to Katangans by radio the Katanga Economic Office in Brussels reported.

Kimba said, "For the third time, United Nations troops have launched a new criminal war against our people. I can assure you that this war will be the last."

"This attack, this wave of crimes, is the final movement of the killer beast. With your aid, the government will lead our country to a crashing victory."

In London, Britain urged an immediate cease fire in the fighting between U.N. and Katangese forces. It warned against "the futility of trying to impose a political settlement on the Congo by force."

U.S. Expected to Aid Congo Fighting Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to announce shortly that it will supply more military equipment for the United Nations' Congo operation. The announcement may be made within a week and the most urgently needed material will be flown immediately to the Congo, authoritative informants said today.

The most important items on the U.N. shopping lists are 10 fighter planes.

They are needed to give air protection to U.N. ground troops and to fend off hit-and-run attacks of the Katanga Air Force, estimated to consist of about 20 airplanes of various types and vintage.

The list of requested material — a detailed document drafted by the Indian commanders of the U.N. air force — was given to Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman, head of a U.S. fact-finding mission which returned from the Congo this week.

Truman, informants said, approved the U.N. list after on-the-spot verification of the requirements and he submitted it Friday evening to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The final decision rests with President Kennedy, officials said, and added that knowing Kimba's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

2 of 5 Killings Linked to Pair

From Our Wire Service
NEW YORK — Two "mad-dog killers," arrested at a hotel here last night, were charged today with two of five gunshot slayings they are believed to have committed in the past week.

Police quoted the two as admitting they went on a "murder spree that began in Woburn, Mass., Christmas Eve and ended here Friday with five slain and one critically wounded."

In all cases, the victims were shot in the head. Acting on a tip, police arrested Emanuel Samperi, 27, and Henry P. DuSablón, 27, last night at the Belvedere Hotel on West 40th St.

The men implicated themselves, police said, in the following slayings:

Frank C. Ross, 59, found dead behind the counter in his Woburn antique shop.

Henry J. Jassen, 54, was found shot to death last Wednesday in the rear of his novelty shop in Manhattan.

Police said DuSablón got a diamond ring worth $850 and $20 in cash.

On Friday, four men were gunned down, three fatally, in these robberies:

Martin Himmelstein, 47, Forest Hills, Queens, slain in his retail wine and liquor store in Manhattan.

His employee, Caesar Lago, 62, was critically wounded and still has not regained consciousness. About $80 was taken.

Harry Schneider, 59, found dead in his army and navy surplus goods store in Jamaica, Queens.

LOST CONTACT

Radio contact with the plane was lost at 12:20 p.m. and more than three hours later no trace of it had been found.

Police at Venaco, about midway between Bastia and Ajaccio, said a farmer heard a loud explosion in snow-covered mountains nearby. The police helicopter was dispatched to the area.

Police began a search near the village of Piedicorte after reports that the plane had last been seen in the area.

Passengers on the plane included members of the Bastia basketball club and team supporters, including two children, first reports said.

Weather conditions were bad across the island. A strong wind was blowing and dark clouds were hanging low.

Say Resistance Disintegrating, Mop-Up Begun

Katanga Police Flee Leaving Equipment, Armored Cars Behind

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — U.N. forces supported by aerial bombardment seized almost complete control of this secessionist capital today and apparently started a mopping up operation.

A U.N. spokesman said Katanga resistance was cracking and that Tshombe's heavily armed police were fleeing into the bush, leaving behind weapons, equipment and armored cars.

U.N. forces took the offensive after two days of Katanga police attacks on positions in Elisabethville.

U.N. planes bombed strategic points in Elisabethville and the mining town of Kolwezi about 150 miles northwest of the capital.

WATER RESTORED

A U.N. spokesman said the city's water supply, cut off in the outbreak of hostilities Thursday night, had been restored. He said the U.N. hoped to have electric power restored within two days.

President Moise Tshombe had fled when blue-helmeted troops — mostly Ethiopians and Indian Gurkhas — occupied his palace.

The spokesman said the United Nations moved against roadblocks in the vicinity of a railway tunnel where bitter fighting took place a year ago.

The spokesman said U.N. troops reported few Katangans had been taken prisoner and that Tshombe's casualties were believed light.

Reports reaching foreign embassies in Leopoldville, capital of the Congo central government, 1,000 miles northwest of here, said U.N. troops were moving up the Jadotville Road into the heart of Katanga's copper belt.

The town of Jadotville is about 70 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

The Belgian Embassy reported the Belgian-operated Union Minière Copper Co. in Kipushi was evacuating Belgian civilians.

Fighting continued in Elisabethville this morning but appeared to have almost died out later.

U.N. forces lost one killed and five wounded in fighting Friday. Previous reports said seven (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

JFK Assures Freed Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy received the battle-stained colors of the ill-fated Bay of Pigs invasion brigade and said, "I can assure you this flag will be returned to this brigade in a free Havana."

His remarks, translated in Spanish for a crowd of more than 20,000 at the Orange Bowl, drew repeated cheers. Kennedy reviewed the survivors of the disastrous 1961 invasion, shook hands with leaders of brigade elements and stopped to chat with some of them before making his brief remarks.

ELMER R. JOHNSON

Confirms Bid to Keep Post

Waterford Supervisor Seeks Fourth Term

Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson today confirmed his candidacy for a fourth two-year term as supervisor.

Johnson, 59, will seek the Republican nomination for the office in the Feb. 18 primary.

He had been elected supervisor three times as a Democratic candidate, but announced his change of party affiliations last January.

In revealing his plans to file again, Johnson commented that it is important that voters give serious consideration to the qualifications and motivations of those seeking elective office.

"Those elected will be confronted with problems, not new, complex, or even unique to Waterford Township; problems not to be resolved by any one individual but only by combined efforts of sincere individuals operating in the best interests of the township and always responsive to the will of the citizens," he said.

A die maker for a tool and die firm before taking public office, Johnson is a former member of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

James E. Seeterlin, township clerk the past six years, announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for supervisor on the Democratic ticket.

Hints U.S. Still Plans an Invasion

MOSCOW (AP) — The official Soviet news agency Tass suggested today the United States is still toying with the idea of invading Cuba.

The Tass article began by denouncing the American press for making a "great hue and cry" about the Bay of Pigs prisoners released by the Cuban government.

Then Tass reported that Manuel Artime, an anti-Castro leader, told a news conference in Palm Beach, Fla., that the former prisoners would continue to fight for the overthrow of the Cuban government.

"The correspondents asked Mr. (Lincoln) White, the State Department's press secretary, to comment on such statements. White replied he could understand and appreciate the sentiments of these people, but he would not want to comment on them in any way."

"Why did White refuse to comment?"

"Describing this meeting, the Washington Post correspondent reports the President showed kindness toward his guests and told them he hoped some time to visit a 'free' Cuba. Naturally, after this Mr. White's comments would have been superfluous."

For Prisoner Trade

May Lose $20 Million in Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Through tax loss, the U.S. government's share of paying the Cuban prisoners ransom could reach $20 million.

Mitchell Rogovin of the Internal Revenue Service, in an interview Friday, cited that sum — spread over three years — as the highest possible loss to the U.S. Treasury from the deal that sent millions of dollars of food, drugs, and other supplies to Fidel Castro's Cuba in exchange for the 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners.

But Rogovin said he thought the tax loss could be less than $20 million. He stressed that it could be considered a tax loss only in the sense that the U.S. government always loses revenue through income tax deductions after some drive for charity.

Rogovin is counsel to the commissioner of Internal Revenue. He was a member of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's four-man team that helped manage the government's part in the deal that freed the prisoners.

THE BREAKDOWN

Here is how Rogovin figures the possible tax loss:

Although the goods had a value in Havana of $53 million, Rogovin said, their actual wholesale value in the United States, before packing and transportation costs, would be no more than $40 million.

Companies may deduct the wholesale value of the contributed goods as part of their annual 5 per cent deduction for charity. If a company uses up its 5 per cent deduction this year, it can deduct its contributions as part of its 5 per cent deduction in 1963 or 1964.

Therefore, the $40 million contribution to the ransom means the government has $40 million less income to tax, provided:

1. You assume the companies will be able to list the contributions within their 5 per cent deductions for 1962, 1963, or 1964.

The corporate income tax is 52 per cent. If the government has $40 million less income to tax, it loses about $20 million in tax revenue.

22 From U.S. in Cuba Prisons

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-two Americans, including two women, are believed to be held in Cuban prisons.

Some have been sentenced to long terms on charges ranging from spying to taking part in anti-Castro activities. Others have not been tried; in some cases charges against them have not been disclosed.

Little is known about the background of most of them. Some probably went to Cuba in search of adventure.

A State Department spokesman said this week that attorney James B. Donovan and the Red Cross are trying to have the Americans released as a sequel to the freeing of more than 1,113 Cubans who participated in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

None of the Americans took part in the invasion.

DATA INCOMPLETE

Although the number imprisoned has been entered in new accounts as 22 or 23, the State Department says its information is incomplete.

Jesse Gordon, correspondent for the Nation magazine, released Thursday a list of 22 names which he said he obtained from the Swiss Embassy in Havana. The Swiss now represent the United States in Cuba.

Government Will Open Parolee Halfway House

DETROIT (AP) — The government will open a rehabilitation center for young federal parolees here in mid-January. It will be known as a "Halfway House."

The youths, all Detroit area residents, will be admitted to the house from 60 to 90 days before their parole date. The time they spend under supervision will vary according to their progress. The guidance program will be for parolees between 17 and 25.

Pentagon Blames AF for Skybolt Flare-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An over-enthusiastic information release was blamed today for new international furor over the Skybolt missile.

The controversy flared up again over an Air Force test of the rocket — which the administration has ordered scrapped — in the Atlantic missile range Saturday.

The Air Force issued a statement at the time claiming a complete success. But informed sources said that although the test was as successful as could be expected under the circumstances, the Air Force statement was misleading.

The Air Force said at Cape Canaveral Saturday that the Sky-missile would overshoot its target by 66 miles.

As it turned out, if the missile had not burned up in the atmosphere, it would have overshoot the target by 100 miles — 34 more than expected.

The latest interpretation of the radio-telemetry data from the Skybolt indicates it flew on course for 957 miles after a B52 bomber fired it from an altitude of 40,000 feet.

EMBARRASSED JFK

The test was an obvious embarrassment to the Kennedy administration. It came only two days after President Kennedy agreed with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to cancel the Skybolt program and furnish Britain with Polaris missiles instead.

Britain had counted on Skybolt for its prime nuclear deterrent. Macmillan came under heavy criticism at home for agreeing to the missile swap and the announcement of the successful test heightened the pressure on him.

It was learned that the Air Force statement was released without prior clearance from the Defense Department. A Pentagon rule permits such releases except in cases that would attract "unusual news media attention."

Defense sources said the Skybolt statement obviously should have been cleared before release.

The furor was reminiscent of that which surrounded the 1959 admiral's revolt against the B36 bomber. It seemed likely the Skybolt affair would wind up the same way, too — with a full-scale Congressional investigation of President Kennedy's decision to scrap the Skybolt program.

22 Americans Held in Cuban Prisons

Two of those listed were later reported to have been freed. A Miami engineer, who has been a prisoner, owned two names.

The two women are Geraldine Shamma, about 50, a native of Boston, and Martha O'Neal of Atlanta, Ga.

Both were arrested in 1960 and are said to be held in Carcel de Mujeres Prison on charges of engaging in counterrevolutionary activity. Mrs. Shamma was given 10 years and Mrs. O'Neal nine years.

Other prisoners, as compiled from various sources:

Thomas L. Baker, 28, of Dothan, Ala.; James D. Beame, 34, of Cedar Falls, N.C.; George E. Beck, 24, of Norton, Mass.; Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, of Chicago; Alfred E. Gibson, of Durham, N.C. and Donald J. Green, of Clover, S.C.

The six now are serving 30-year terms in Isle of Pines Prison. Cuban authorities said they landed in a boat in Havana Harbor on Jan. 7, 1961, and linked them to supporters of former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Further negotiations are due to open in New Delhi Tuesday.

A joint communique was issued at the windup of a ministerial conference which had been downgraded to informal talks between delegation leaders after a formal meeting Thursday.

Pakistani newspapers said U.S. and British ambassadors saved the negotiations on Kashmir, a bitterly disputed border state, from total failure.

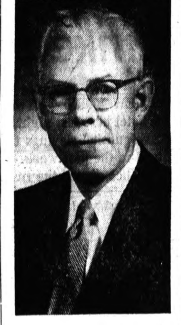

The Western nations influenced India and Pakistan to agree last month to talk over the issue.

The Indian-Pakistani communique appealed to leaders of public opinion, officials, the press and radio in both nations "to help in the creation of a friendly atmosphere for resolving outstanding differences on Kashmir and related matters."

ASKED TO REFRAIN

It asked them also to "refrain from any statements, criticism or propaganda which might prejudice the success of the Kashmir negotiations or tend to create discord between the two countries."

The two leaders, Z. A. Bhutto of Pakistan and Sardar Swaran Singh of India, had met again today and called in three officials from each side.

HAROLD G. WARNER

Cancer Drive Head Named

Harold G. Warner of Bloomfield Township, a General Motors Corp. vice president, has been named 1963 cruise chairman for the Michigan Cancer Foundation. It was announced today by Alfred R. Glancy Jr., chairman of the board.

Warner lives with his wife and daughter at 5560 Snowshoe Circle. He is general manager of the GM Cadillac Motor Car Division.

The foundation, a Torch Drive agency, conducts a year-round program of research, education and service to cancer patients in Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and Macomb counties.

During the first week of April, 30,000 volunteers will conduct a house-to-house educational campaign and fact-finding survey designed to further efforts to control the disease.

May Make Changes in New Budget

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy has sent his new budget director back to Washington to put the finishing touches on the bulky document after three days of policy talks at the holiday White House.

Kenneth Gordon, sworn in yesterday as chief overseer of the federal purse strings, flew back to Washington after dusk following a 90-minute conference with Kennedy.

Before departure, Gordon said some changes might yet be made in the budget for the 1964 fiscal year that begins next July 1.

It was apparent, however, that most of the key question marks were disposed of in meetings this week on tax cut plans, military spending and legislative proposals involving aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security.

The Kennedy-Gordon session last night was focused on the administration's 1963 legislative program and its effect on the forthcoming budget.

CLEAR DECKS

Sitting in on the talks were Elmer Staats, deputy budget director, and Lawrence F. O'Brien, a key presidential adviser on congressional relations.

With this meeting, Kennedy cleared the decks of all announced appointments until after the New Year's holiday.

Some of the final questions about the record $99-billion budget due in mid-January were resolved at a session at which Secretary of Defense Anthony J. Celebrezze and Kennedy reviewed new education and medical care legislation they hope will "be more palatable" to opponents.

Following his meeting with Celebrezze and other Welfare Department officials, Kennedy took his family and a couple of guests on a sightseeing cruise in Lake Worth and the Atlantic beachfront.

The foundation, a Torch Drive agency, conducts a year-round program of research, education and service to cancer patients in Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and Macomb counties.

Car Crash Is Labeled Cover-Up for Murder

From Our News Wires

A Birmingham man, charged with murdering his mother-in-law, yesterday was accused of deliberately staging an auto accident after her death so he could be hospitalized and avoid police questioning.

The allegation was made by the prosecution on the second day of a Detroit Recorder's Court examination of Robert M. Thorsen, 31, of 2332 Backing Run Road. The examination is to determine whether there is reasonable cause to hold Thorsen on a first-degree murder charge.

He is charged in the strangulation death of Mrs. Dorothy M. Thomas in her Detroit home on the night of Dec. 3. He has denied the charge.

Mrs. William Breech of 1585 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Township, testified yesterday that she saw the auto accident in which Thorsen's car went off Quanton Road in Bloomfield Hills on Dec. 4.

Mrs. Breech is the daughter-in-law of former Ford Motor Co. board chairman Ernest Breech.

UNACCOUNTABLE

She said Thorsen's car suddenly swerved wildly, plunged into a ditch and smashed into a guard rail. She called the accident "unaccountable." There was no other traffic and apparently no reason for the crash, she added.

The accident occurred while Thorsen was en route from his office to his mother-in-law's home after police notified him of her death, police said.

The last witness yesterday was Mrs. James K. Taube of 2532 Valley Spring Drive, Bloomfield Township, a fellow worker of Thorsen's at a Birmingham stock brokerage firm which employed him as a salesman.

She said she saw scratches on Thorsen's face on Dec. 4 and said he told her they were made by a cat.

The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday by Recorder's Judge Arthur J. Kosinski.

U.N. Controls Elisabethville

U.N. soldiers and eight civilians were wounded.

Despite the successes of U.N. troops, small arms and heavy mortar fire continued in several sectors of the town.

The fighting went on after two raids this morning by U.N. planes on Cae capital and on the airfield at Kolwezi, the base of Tshombe's rudimentary air force.

The raid on Elisabethville was carried out by a single aircraft at 4 a.m. The plane dropped about five bombs, but the targets and damage were not yet known.

The raid on Kolwezi was carried out by Swedish-made Saab jet fighters. It is believed that three planes were destroyed on the ground by the Saabs.

POST OFFICE OCCUPIED

U.N. Tansanian troops, occupied Elisabethville's central post office and the U.N. claimed to have complete freedom for its forces, following the seizure of 20 Katangan road-blocks.

The U.N. military commander, Indian Brig. Reginald Noronha, in a victorious mood, said the fighting for the roadblocks had been easy, with only one casualty — a wounded Indian. But he claimed the U.N. was still having to deal with mercenaries in the Katangan army.

Asked how he knew that mercenaries were taking part in the battle, Noronha replied: "Who else could have fired mortars?"

Earlier U.N. reports said there appeared to have been no mercenary activity.

Small arms and machinegun fire was reported continuing today near a group of mining installations and a military camp. There was also some mortar fire.

Traffic Toll of 480 Seen for Holiday

Thousands of merry-makers and other motorists enjoying 1962's last holiday are expected to hit the nation's highways today, bringing an estimate from the National Safety Council that between 420 and 480 persons may become victims of the nation's No. 1 killer—traffic accidents.

The long four-day New Year's holiday, which began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, ends at midnight New Year's Day.

The 104-hour holiday began quietly, with only a handful of fatal accidents reported. But most persons were expected to be on the highways today, Sunday and New Year's Eve.

In making its pre-holiday estimate of 420 to 480 traffic fatalities the Safety Council said studies of past turn-of-the-year holidays show driving too fast for conditions is a factor in more than half the fatal accidents — compared with an annual average of 37 per cent.

The NSC also said that drinking drivers are involved in 38 per cent of New Year's weekend accidents, compared with an annual average of 30 per cent.

The council estimated that 18,000 to 21,000 persons could suffer disabling injuries during the period.

Castro Shows Off Apartment

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A workers' paradise—a tall apartment development where rent is 10 per cent of a man's salary—has been built east of the Cuban capital as a showcase of Fidel Castro's revolutionary government.

Prime Minister Castro is obviously proud of the multimillion-dollar, ultramodern development and says more will be built by his regime.

He showed off the project known simply as East Havana, to four visiting Americans during a two hour auto tour of the city last Sunday.

Guests of Castro on the tour were Capt. Alfred Boerum, master of the freighter African Pilot; Leonard Scheele, former surgeon general of the United States; E. Barrett Prettyman Jr., Washington attorney; and this writer. Boerum's ship had sailed into Havana that day with approximately $11 million worth of food and drugs as down payment toward the release of Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners. Scheele and Prettyman assisted in plans for obtaining and transporting the supplies.

As Castro's chauffeur-driven, heavily armed automobile approached the development, the dictator pointed out that a street circled the area but no roads ran between the houses.

"There is more security for young children this way," Castro said.

TOUR DEVELOPMENT

Castro ordered his driver, a soldier, to park the car and he got out and walked up a slight grade into a yard near East Havana's elementary school.

Within minutes the news of Castro's presence had spread through the development and a crowd gathered, shouting the usual "Viva Fidel, Viva Fidel."

Castro leaned down and patted some children on the head. He shook hands with some of the young Cubans.

East Havana has its own shopping center with a department store, barber shop, beauty parlor, pharmacy and a number of other stores. It also has a secondary school and a large recreation and sports field.

Each unit costs $6,000 to build, Castro said. He told the Americans there was great need for more such units in Cuba.

He called at random on several in the group which had gathered and asked them to tell the Americans whether they liked the project. Unanimously, they said they did.

One of the tenants, Juan Garcia, said he thought the project was "like a dream come true." He said he earned $168 per month

Police Skeptical

Admits Killing 2 Girls

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A man who confessed the 1957 slaying of the Grimes sisters in Chicago gave excellent details of the crime, police say, but he may not have been the murderer.

"We want to be sure he's a good suspect, not just another guy who wants a free ride back to Chicago," a Los Angeles detective said Friday.

There are some discrepancies in the man's confession, officers said.

On Friday, sandy-haired Alfred

Smith Lawless, about to end a jail sentence for drunkenness, told police:

"Six years ago today I killed Barbara and Patricia Grimes and I've been running ever since."

ACCOSTED AT THEATER

Lawless said he picked up the girls at a Chicago theater, molested them, beat and choked them, bound them, and threatened them from an auto.

The nude bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister, Patricia, 13, were found in a ditch beside a country road southwest of Chicago on Jan. 22, 1957.

Chicago police who have a permanent team assigned to the case—have a list of 5,000 persons who have been investigated as possible suspects.

Chicago detectives said Lawless, 34, gave an excellent description of the girls, including knowledge of Patricia's crooked toe and the clothing they wore at the time of their disappearance.

However, an autopsy showed the girls froze to death and had not been sexually molested, beaten or strangled, as Lawless claims.

U.S. Output of Cars, Trucks at 8.2 Million

DETROIT (AP)—Car and truck production in the United States for 1962 will total nearly 8.2 million units, second only to 1955, Ward's Automotive News predicted yesterday.

The statistical agency said the total will follow fourth quarter production of more than 2 million passenger cars and nearly 345,000 trucks.

Ward's estimated this week's car production at 114,463, a decline because of the Christmas holiday from the 164,997 of the previous week.

Only 12 of the industry's 47 passenger-car factories will work overtime tomorrow as compared to the preholiday season's approximately 30 plants, Ward's said.

Operations during the first part of New Year's week next week will be trimmed, Ward's said.

Of this week's car production, General Motors was credited with 51.2 per cent, Ford 24.3 per cent, Chrysler 17.7 per cent, American Motors 5.7 per cent, and Studebaker 1.1 per cent.

Only 16 members of Congress have been censured by their colleagues.

Hard Work and Ability Can Get You Top Job

One thing we want to be sure gets through to the children: In order to get somewhere you have to work.

Show them George Romney. Point out John Kennedy or any other president or governor you care to name. It's 12, 14, 20 hours a day for all of them.

But that's just the political field. Take a youngster around on a day's tour of duty with industrial or labor leaders. He'd probably never finish the day, but the leaders would be ready for more.

So would the family store owner who has found his niche in the free enterprise system find it well worth the cost in hours of personal labor.

True, not everyone will reach the top of the ladder, no matter how hard he works. The goal must be a compromise with ability.

But the children should know that you get as far as your talent and willingness to work will carry you. Talent alone will get them nowhere.

Of course, there is always room at the middle.

This great area of the lukewarm should be filled with people who work hard but have average talent. Instead, too often, it seems to be overflowing with the Talented But Lazy, the Give Up Earlys, the Give Up Later, the Easily Satisfied, the Business Office Politicians and the World Is Against Mes.

There are those who will tell the children that the lack of opportunity fills the middle ground. In some parts of the world this might be valid, but don't let him try to teach it in the United States.

There is room at the top. But the middle and the bottom which is filled with the overflow from the middle are overcrowded.

Galloway Lake Poses Pollution Problems

The Pontiac City Commission faces a difficult situation in the Pontiac Township pollution of Galloway Lake.

In November, the commission acquired a $50,000 option on 64 acres along this lake, which lies partly within the city and partly within Pontiac Township.

The land is to be used for a park. Total price paid over a seven-year period will be $174,150.

But now Pontiac Township comes to the city with inquiries about treatment of sewage, and the Oakland County Health Department says Galloway Lake is being polluted by sewage from Pontiac Township homes.

It is possible for a park to be built on a polluted lake. If park users are content to stand back and admire the looks of the lake, forsaking water skiing, swimming or even wading.

It would appear that either the city agrees to extend its services to end the pollution, or the use of the park will be vastly diminished.

Commissioners CHARLES H. HARMON and WILLIAM H. TAYLOR voted against the park plan, both mentioning the questionable purity of the water. They were outvoted, 5-2.

The whole situation raises these questions:

• Did the city acquire an option on a lake it knew was polluted?

• If the pollution wasn't known, why wasn't it? Wasn't the lake checked for purity before the purchase?

• Why were Pontiac Township residents allowed to let the illegally into a county drain?

"A RECORDING company says rock 'n' roll music is on the way out." — Trade note. Good! As soon as it leaves, let's fumigate the place.

The Man About Town

$$ Don't Grow on Trees but Flourish in Bank

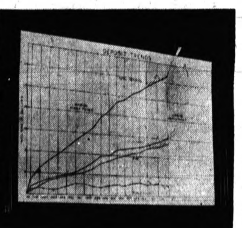

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

With year-end business reports coming in, most of them on the sunny side, we were prepared for record-breaking statements from local financial institutions on the state of the local money.

But we didn't think that one would not only crack a previous high but bid fair to crack the frame enclosing the graphical evidence of it. . . . Could it be said that business there was higher than it was cracked up to be? (Never mind—I've made a New Year's resolution to stop that sort of thing.)

Well, what you see below is the chart in the office of the president of the Pontiac State Bank

Milo J. Cross of 1975 Hammond Lake Drive, showing the progress line not only hitting the dollar-smashing limit at the top but sticking a bit above it, poised for a 1963 journey into outer space.

Congratulations to the boss man and his fine staff on this year's progress with the suggestion that, with an eye to future growth, a new chart frame be engineered—one with a two-way stretch.

Comment overheard during a bridge game: "I wish you girls would pay attention to the game. We're discussing Irene's new fur coat, not Helen's divorce."

A flock of migrating Canada geese looked in on her and like "The Man Who Came to Dinner" showed no signs of leaving — they were around several days . . . The birds seemed very hungry, as are all the geese reported on this year.

Our watcher said that at least 40 of the flock were on shore scouring for food.

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL.
The MAT's lost a Christmas message . . . He's most meticulous in caring for those things (since it's too late for that oftstage "ho-ho-ho" to come from Santa, it must have been emitted by Mrs. MAT), and this one had left a strong impression.

It philosophized over the spiritual comfort of sitting before an open fire and the introspective balm arising from an evening stroll under the stars.

But, with intention of making a column reference, when I reached, the message was not at hand. As the ladies say, I've hunted high and low, and worn myself out in a frenzied effort to detect it.

So-o-o, this SOS (Save Our Sanity) is going out to the warm-hearted writer to phone in, mend our remissness and enable merited recognition.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

The old year is dead, long live the new year! Bells resound all over the world heralding the New Year, calling us to worship. It is a time of thanksgiving; of recognition of our faith; of resolving that the mistakes and errors of the past year shall be rectified in the year ahead.

So let the bells ring out. Let us face the new year with the faith and determination that Alfred Lord Tennyson meant when he wrote,

"Ring out old shapes of foul disease,
Ring out the narrowing list of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in a thousand years of peace.

Ring in the valiant man and free,
The larger heart, the kinder hand;
Ring out the darkness of the land,
Ring in the Christ that is to be."

Days of All Faiths:

Few Remember Saints of Dec. 31

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

It must be lonely to be a saint on New Year's Eve. Everyone is so busy getting ready for what usually turns out to be a very unsanitary evening.

There are several Dec. 31 saints, and just for the record, they ought to be mentioned here.

One of them, St. Silvester, was quite an important person. He was the first Pope after the age of persecutions ended. For 300 years the Roman Empire, headed by the Christian Church, torturing and killing its members, and forcing its congregations to hold their meetings in secret.

In the city of Rome, Christians literally went underground: they met in the Catacombs, the burial caves. In 314 the persecutions ended by decree of the Emperor Constantine, and the Church was free to come out in the open. It was Silvester who had to give leadership in this period of transition.

CHRISTIANITY'S FIRST CHURCH BUILDING

One thing he did was to consecrate a church building. It is hard to imagine now, but for the first three centuries there were no church buildings. We, who today are so proud of our imposing and expensive edifices, might think about the fact that the Church was at its strongest in the years when it had no impressive piles of brick and mortar, and so could devote its energy to its task instead of to its housekeeping. The Emperor gave the Pope a palace called the Lateran. Palace and Silvester made it the famous St. John's Lateran, the mother church of all Christendom.

FIRST ECUMENICAL COUNCIL

Silvester also called the first Ecumenical Council, the Council of Nicaea, in 325. It was much like the Council now in session in Rome, but there were some differences. It was much smaller, with only 220 bishops in attendance. The Pope himself did not go, but sent two legates to represent him. And perhaps the greatest difference was that it was truly ecumenical in a sense that no Council can be ecumenical today. The Christian Church was one. There were no divisions in it. The Council of Nicaea represented the whole Church.

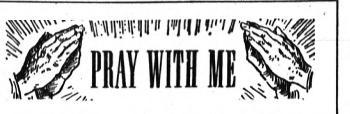

OTHER YEAR-END SAINTS

Other saints honored in the calendar Dec. 31 are these: St. Columba, a Spanish lady who died a virgin and a martyr. Her date is not known.

St. Melania, a patrician damsel of Rome who died a natural death in 439.

Blessed "called 'Saint' in some countries; Israel, an Augustinian monk whose holy life was not particularly eventful or spectacular, but at whose tomb miracles occurred. He died in 1014.

Give a thought to these nearly forgotten saints of the end of the year.

Eternal Father, strong to save, Thou who are ever with us in the light of the day and in the night watches, guide us along the path of righteousness.

Enable us, through Thy grace, to follow the precepts of Christian morality. May we believe in Thee, in the Bible, and in men of good will, so that in the final judgment it may be said of us, "This is the victory which overcometh the world, even our faith." In His name.

Tells of Amazing Gains Made by Soviet Union

Soviet success since the end of World War II has been spectacular. Then they had 150 million people and one power base. Now they hold more than a billion and have made tremendous inroads, through left-leaning neutrals like Sukarno, Souvanna Phouma and Nasser, into the best billion of the world's three billion people. In military and economic areas their gains have been significant. And in our own back yard — Cuba — we continue to duck.

'Press Has Helped Savings Bond Plan'

As the year 1962 comes to a close, we express a sincere word of appreciation for your efforts in behalf of the Savings Bond Program. A large percentage of your readers are among the tens of millions of owners of more than $45 billion of future purchasing power.

The residents of Michigan, who have accounted for about 6 per cent of national purchases over the years, today own approximately $2.5 billion of the two series.

Michigan will not quite achieve its 1962 goal of $27,100,000. Purchases of Series H and larger denomination E bonds were off appreciably. Smaller denomination E bond buying has been improving throughout the year. Much of the success is attributable to the fine support of The Press.

The U. S. Treasury, the Michigan staff, and I extend sincere good wishes for a happy and prosperous New Year.

'All Health Ideas New at One Time'

When somebody tells me that the addition of a little fluoride to the drinking water will reduce the incidence of cavities by about 65 per cent, I listen.

When my physician (for the American Medical Association) and my dentist (for the American Dental Association) and my public health officer (for the U.S. Public Health Service), all tell me that fluoride in my drinking water will help my teeth without hurting my health then I'm all for it.

These same scientific things told us years ago that a little chlorine would purify water, that vaccination would stave off smallpox, that pasteurization would safeguard milk, and more recently, that Salk vaccine would help fight off polio.

Everyone of these "new-fangled" ideas encountered opposition when first proposed, but I'm thankful that these ideas have been adopted.

Does a person have the right to suffer in privacy? Should the grisly details of a foul crime be printed?

I answer "yes" to the first question and "no" to the second. Because of these beliefs I was sickened and disgusted by The Press' crude and heartless photography and reporting of the recent multiple assault in Novi.

How Cigar, Slippers Elude JFK

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President John F. Kennedy doesn't always have an easy time of it when he wants to spend a quiet evening at the White House.

Jack decided he would stay at home. Jacqueline was going to a performance of the theater with her brother-in-law Bobby and friends. Husband and wife decided he would stay at home.

During the first act Jackie sent a Secret Service man to phone the President that the ballet was so good he should come over.

Soon afterward, the President arrived at the theater, still in time to enjoy a goodly portion of the night's performance. But White House security guards reportedly were less prepared for a night out than the President. They were all settled comfortably for the evening with their shoes off when Mrs. Kennedy's call came in.

Recent commotion over news censorship has caused revival in some newspaper circles of the old proverb "The truth shall make you free." The rub is, say the critics, "You're not always free to get it."

Many Travers, who completes the folk song trio of "Peter, Paul and Mary" at a Washington night spot, says she met the controversial James Meredith while making a concert appearance at Ole Miss.

May asked Meredith if he thought that after all this time things were getting any better. Meredith replied:

"If a man beats his wife 89 times every week and then decides he will beat her only 88, would you say that's better?"

Associate Justice John M. Harlan of the Supreme Court, listening with his colleagues to an income tax case involving a dance studio, heard with astonishment that some people buy "lifetime courses" entitling them to 1,200 hours of instruction.

"When they finish," he said quietly from the bench, "they must be magnificent dancers."

Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Curtis E. LeMay was 56 Nov. 15. His Navy counterpart, Chief of Naval Operations Adm. George W. Anderson Jr., was 56 on Dec. 15.

On Nov. 15 Anderson sent a gift to LeMay. It was escorted by a woman's mate to pipe it aboard in the best Navy style.

A Wave officer bearing a letter of transmittal, a Navy commander and Marine lieutenant colonel — both aviators — followed the gift — a 4-foot model of the aircraft carrier Forrestal — into LeMay's office, then into his inner office, much to the amazement of the Air Force chief.

On Dec. 14, the Friday before Anderson's birthday, LeMay, not to be outdone, sent a present. First came two killed Air Force personnel, loudly playing bagpipes. They were joined by the "piper's pipe." Finally came the present, a model of the controversial long-range bomber RS-70.

At a recent party of international bankers in a Washington hotel, one of the waiters told the dignified money men, "You people drink more than anyone who comes here, except the machinists."

Young People Offer Film on Christmas

The last Sunday evening of each month is known as Teen Time at Silvercrest Baptist Church, Dixie Highway at Rosemary. Two young people conduct the service.

The film, "Teen-Ager's Christmas," will be shown as part of the program tomorrow night. Rhonda Conyers, senior youth director, helps in planning the monthly affairs.

A missionary intern at Silvercrest, Miss Conyers is a candidate placed at Silvercrest Church date with the Missionary Internship Program of Farmington. She is to obtain the required experience in the training program.

Miss Conyers comes to Pontiac from Wheaton, Ill. where she attended Wheaton College. She is a graduate of the Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music. Presently her plans are to prepare for missionary work in Alaska.

She is under appointment with the Slave Gospel Association, Chicago.

Her ministry in Alaska will be village work for a period of four years. She will be in Pontiac until the end of April when her term here is completed.

stewardship.

The symbolism of light is traditional on this festival which celebrates the coming of the Magi following Bethlehem's star.

The service includes many hymns of the season together with Scripture readings and brief meditations.

Dwelling at the outset with the dawn of the Christ light, it follows this light historically down through the history of the Church with various candles lighted throughout the worship.

The service concludes with the entire congregation participating in the candlelighting.

Rev. Donald G. Zill, pastor of the congregation, will officiate. Special music will be provided by the senior choir under the direction of Ronald Sprunger. Visitors are invited to participate, the pastor said.

Ring Out the Old, Ring in the New

Ring Out False, Ring in the True

The world will celebrate the New Year with a backdrop of uneasy peace but with courage and hope that 1963 will bring a better understanding among all peoples and a promise of peace and progress.

Celebrating the first day of the New Year is an ancient custom. The Christian church has observed New Year's Day as a holy day since 487 A.D. when it was declared the Feast of the Circumcision.

ST. JAMES MISSIONARY
The mission of St. James Missionary Baptist Church is sponsoring a program at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow with Mrs. Anne Daniel, mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Otis Hinson will give the welcome. Guest speaker will be Rev. James H. Jones of Detroit. Mrs. V. L. Lewis, pastor, said the public is invited.

AUBURN HEIGHTS

Episcopal Youth Hosts to Oakland Convocation

The youth group of the Church of the Resurrection in Clarkston will meet with young people of All Saints Episcopal Church tomorrow evening to make final plans for the Oakland County Youth Convocation gathering at All Saints next week.

All Saints youth and the Clarkston young people will be hosts on Jan. 6 from 5 to 9 p.m. to Episcopal young people from throughout the county.

More than 200 are expected to be present, Rev. William E. Lyle, associate rector, said.

George Edwards, police commissioner for the City of Detroit, will lead a program on the theme, "Youth and the Law." Mr. Edwards, an Episcopal layman, was a member of the Michigan Supreme Court until taking over his present position last year.

The program is the second in a series of four planned by the convocation on the general theme, "Youth Under Pressure."

The evening will begin with Evening in the church. This will be followed by the regular program and supper. The evening will close with recreational activities.

A New Year's Prayer

Dear God, our Father, the sweeping course of time brings us to the threshold of another year. We pause—ere we plunge into the new—and look back upon the old. It holds much we regret,—opportunities lost, wrongs done, blind-gropings in the dark. Forgive our frailties, and help us to do better. By Thy Spirit enter our lives, and rid us of all of which Thou canst not approve; be born in us with all Thy quickening power, clothe us with the garments of service and of love. Teach us this one lesson, that real joy in life comes from peace in the soul, and peace in the soul is the effect of Thy presence, and Thy Presence is maintained only when we forget ourselves and lose ourselves in service to others. May this be our watchword during the coming year. Help us, O God, always to keep the goal in sight, and to live in its light. In the name of Jesus Christ we ask this of Thee. Amen.

Mission Seeks New Home

Must Raise $7,500 for Payment on Union Hall

For quite some time the Pontiac Rescue Mission has been faced with the problem of finding permanent quarters.

The urban renewal program of the city removed the former rooms when the building in which it was housed on South Saginaw Street was torn down.

"Presently there's a chance of obtaining the Union Hall at 90 Mt. Clemens St., that is, if $7,500 for a down payment can be raised in 60 days or less, said Charles Herrand, director. "The total cost of the property is $45,000," he said. "Pontiac Rescue Mission is not underwritten by any other organization or group. It is incorporated in the State of Michigan as a non-profit organization. Gifts, therefore, are tax exempt."

"The building consists of a full basement equipped with kitchen facilities including stove, refrigerator, steam table and other items. Two auditoriums are on the main floor."

"The second floor is divided into smaller rooms which will serve as offices and dormitories."

"Rest rooms are installed on the second floor as well as in the basement. The building is 41 by 60 feet and of solid brick construction. The property includes a paved parking lot for 50 cars."

Evangelistic Meetings Begin at Emmanuel

Iner L. Basinger of Parkersburg, W. Va., evangelistic singer and former newspaper editor, will join Dr. John Gamble of Lynchburg, Va. for the 9-day evangelistic crusade at Emmanuel Baptist Church, 645 S. Telegraph Road beginning at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

The guest singer and song leader will be assisted by his wife, Emily at the piano and as soprano soloist, as well as by the church staff of musicians and choir members.

Mr. Basinger plans to lead a great combined choir each evening.

The Basingers have conducted music for 96 crusades, many with Dr. Gamble. Experiences have taken them to 950 public school assemblies, radio and television spots, churches and colleges.

Five times they have served in extensive and intensive evangelism in Central and South America and the Caribbean Islands.

A composer of hymns and musical arrangements, Mrs. Basinger is also in demand as a youth dramatist.

People of Pontiac are invited to the meetings and singing with the Basingers, said Dr. Tom Malone, pastor of Emmanuel.

Recognizes Students

Student Recognition Sunday will be observed at First Christian Church tomorrow. The regular program for adults and youth groups will be held from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

"The Challenge of the New Year" will be the theme of Rev. Jack C. Clark's sermon at morning worship. Assisting the pastor will be Richard Kain, lay leader; John Radenbaugh and Eugene Thompson, elders.

Students Participate at Central

Student Recognition Sunday will be observed at Central Methodist Church with students participating in both the 9:15 and 10:45 a.m. worship services tomorrow.

The call to worship will be given by Barbara McClure and Susan Putnam and responsive reading by Richard Wagner and Robert Kibbie. The Scripture Reading will be by Donald Balmer and Thomas Murphy and prayer will be offered by Marilyn Lake and James Bank. Students will also usher at both hours.

For the first service the Men's Choir will sing "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" by Smith.

At the second service the Chancel Choir will sing "Alleluia! Christ is Born" as arranged by Kuntz. The soloist, Robert Wisdom, will sing "I'll Walk With God" by Brodsky.

At 4 p.m. college and university students, service men and women, high school seniors and all other youth will meet in the church parlor for an open house.

On New Year's Eve from 8 p.m. to midnight there will be a New Year's party and Watch Night Service.

The evening will begin with food, fun and fellowship for the entire family with a dessert luncheon. At 9:30 p.m. a color motion picture will be shown of the life of John Wesley.

The evening will conclude at 11 p.m. with a candle lighting dedication service at which Robert Stoner will be soloist.

Youth for Christ Film—New Year's

On New Year's Day the film, "Shadow of the Boomerang," will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in Pontiac Northern High School.

The picture concerns the Billy Graham Crusade in Australia. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

The evening program is sponsored by Oakland County Youth for Christ.

Eighteen young people of the organization are in Washington, D.C. this weekend attending the National Youth for Christ Conference.

More than 800 were expected to be present from Michigan.

Vacation Rendezvous

Students Swarming County Ski Slopes

Oakland County ski slopes are alive this week—swarming with students home for holiday vacation.

Those not enmeshed in post-Christmas sale rushes or term paper projects appeared twixt tow and snow. One determined ski scholar turned up in ski togs, naturally enough, but carrying school books.

Pontiac Press photographer Edward R. Noble visited Alpine Valley and Mt. Holly ski sites where hills, ski shops and firesides were all doing a brisk business.

IN LODGE

Corps of toe toasters relaxed inside the lodge, adding to the gay camaraderie that unites all ski enthusiasts.

Inside the ski shop, prospective snow bunnies eyed apparel designed for wearer and watcher alike. Outside, squeals of delight and/or anguish mingled with Alpine melodies appropriate to the activity.

Many nonskiers were on hand too—content just watching the graceful, and sometimes not so graceful attempts at mastery over the glittering slopes.

The sparkle of a bustling ski scene is enhanced by Susan Pill, East Hammond Lake Drive, Pontiac's Junior Miss of 1963. She will represent the city in the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant here Jan. 26. Sue is a senior at Pontiac Central High School.

University of Detroit students Kay Harrington and Denny Adams of Bloomfield Township took the scenic route. Not much energy needed.

With her braid for ballast, Sue Jordan of Middle Belt Road had little trouble navigating the hills at Mt. Holly with Preston Mann of Birmingham. Sue attends Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Maine. Preston is a student at Flint Junior College.

Adding a bit of Russian flavor to an otherwise-Swiss atmosphere is Bill McNaughton of Bloomfield Hills, home from Culver Military Academy in Indiana.

Gael Sisson of Bloomfield Village appraises after-ski boots for thawout protection during a lull in the day's skiing at Mt. Holly. Gael attends Michigan State University Oakland.

Mike Garavaglia of Bloomfield Township skims over the snow at Alpine Valley. He attends John Carroll University in Ohio. Skiing is a fine way to spend a vacation.

A summary of a day on the slopes —Candy Hughes of Orchard Lake and Bob Ruskin of Detroit, both students at Michigan State University.

Await Poet's Daughter

Leslie Frost, daughter of the eminent American poet Robert Frost, will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Johnson of Quorton Road on her visit to Detroit.

Miss Frost will be the speaker at the Women's City Club Christmas Series Jan. 7. She is the author of a new children's book, "Really Not Really." On Saturday, Jan. 5, the Johnsons will entertain for dinner in honor of Miss Frost.

Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, general chairman of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, is busy with details pertaining to the yearly luncheon of the entire committee.

This year it will be held at the Crystal Ball Room, Masonic Temple, Jan. 31.

Francis Robinson will come from the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York and speak about the Met's seven performances to take place May 20-25.

Following a bachelor's party at Orchard Lake Country Club the Yntemas entertained some 70 of their friends as well as friends of daughter Gwen and son Ted at a late supper in their home. Ted Jr. is home during the holidays from Brown University.

The Paul Bowers of Buckingham Road welcomed home their daughter and son-in-law the Albert Thornthornes Jr. of San Francisco for the holidays.

In a few days Mr. and Mrs. Thornthornes will be returning to California.

Jonathan Bowers is also home from Mercersburg, Pa., and, together with brother Henry, will be spending a few days at Osgood Ski Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrik L. Merner of Oak Hills Drive entertained for supper in their home the immediate family and some close friends on Christmas Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carlson of Country Club Drive and their son Don, home for the holidays from the University of Indiana were there.

So were son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Glen Carlson Jr. and their children. Mr. and Mrs. George Carlson of Cranbrook Road with son George Jr., home from Western State University and his younger brother, Harry; Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Ogur and their son Robert. Also present were daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gunnar Karlstrom who had just returned from a week-end visit with Mr. Karlstrom's brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Lars T. Karlstrom of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Nelson and their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Peter TerMott from Portland, Ore.

LOIS ANN FARRELL

The John Zeunens of Devonshire Road announce the engagement of their daughter Lois Ann Farrell to Charles Leech Christian, son of Mrs. Anna Jean Leech Christian of Pleasant Ridge and John D. Christian of Detroit. She attends the University of Michigan where her fiancé is a graduate student.

COILA JEAN ANDERSON

Mr. and Mrs. Felix A. Anderson of Lotus Drive announce the engagement of their daughter Coila Jean to Douglas K. Hales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hales of Sylvan Shores Drive. Both take graduate courses at Michigan State University.

CAROL ANN PONN

An August wedding is planned for Carol Ann Ponn and James Michael Harris. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Ponn of Preston Avenue. His parents are the James W. Harris of Royal Oak. Both attended the University of Michigan.

Flowers-Snyder Rites Performed

Candelabra and white poinsettias decorated the Sunnyvale Chapel Friday evening as Rev. James D. Parker married Carolyn May Snyder and Kenneth J. Flowers.

Parents of the bride are the Lloyd M. Snyders of Prentice Street. The bridegroom's parents are the J. William Flowers of Hancock, Md.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of French illusion over taffeta with tiered ruffles, Chantilly-lace trim cut with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves with gulleets. A fingertip veil was held in place with a crown of sequins and pearls.

A colonial bouquet of white carnations and pink roses complemented her gown.

Mrs. Harold Stout wore a powder-blue taffeta dress styled similar to the bride's dress for her duties as maid of honor.

Dennis Snyder was best man at his sister's wedding with David Snyder, also a brother of the bride, as an usher. The other usher was Richard Carr. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors.

The bride chose a periwinkle-blue dress with gray accessories for her honeymoon trip to Oklahoma where the couple will reside.

Exams Protect Moms

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prenatal examinations have contributed more to the savings of mothers' lives than any other single factor of pregnancy and delivery, a University of Michigan obstetrician said recently.

Dr. Tommy N. Evans, of the U. of M. Medical Center, said the precautionary exams, almost unheard of 10 years ago, have reduced maternal deaths in some areas of the United States by more than 80 per cent.

"Serious complications of pregnancy may produce no symptoms at first and yet be detected by laboratory tests or physical examinations," Evans said. "The hazardous disease of toxemia, if detected in its incipient or early

Elderly Parents Blame Selves for Son's Death in Stolen Car

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My wife is in the bedroom crying her eyes out. It all started when our son Joey had his 16th birthday.

All he wanted was a car. We told him we would have to wait until after high school because we have read so much about teen-agers getting killed in cars.

I am now 60 and my wife is 50. We were not young when we had Joey. He was our only child and we wanted the best for him. He was always such a good boy.

Well, today a police officer came to our door and said our son had stolen a car and, when the police gave chase, he took to the highway and turned over in a ditch.

Joey is now lying in the morgue. I don't think we will live through the funeral. I still can't believe our baby is gone.

Oh, Abby, if we had given him a car when he wanted it, he would be alive today. God have mercy on us. Please print this as a lesson to other parents.

EVA AND JOHN
DEAR EVA AND JOHN: Don't blame yourselves. You did what you thought was best for your son.

Read the sermon on the Mount: ("... They will be done.")

If we accept God's will as law, then God's promise shall be our support and comfort. And every burden will be light.

DEAR ABBY: I have read some strange things in your column but I think this will take the cake: We had a cat since she was a kitten.

We never had meat on Fridays, so we gave the cat fish, too. My sister married a Presbyterian and took the cat with her.

They eat meat on Fridays but the cat won't touch it. Would you say this was a religious cat?

MIKE B.
DEAR MIKE: No, I'd say it was more of a fish-tale! If the cat gets hungry enough, like any other cat—he'll eat meat.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed stamped envelope to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, The Pontiac Press.

2 State Firms Get $2.5 Million in Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force award of $2.5 million worth of contracts to Michigan firms was announced yesterday by Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Lea Siegler, Inc., Grand Rapids, received a $1,000,156 contract to enable it to proceed with production of components for an integrated flight control system for F105 aircraft. Other similar awards are expected.

Bendix Corp., Ann Arbor, got an additional $1.5-million contract for research and development of a communications system for the Strategic Air Command. This brings the total of such awards to Bendix to $18,593,500, with further contracts to be awarded to the firm.

Fire Woes Multiply

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The president of a sportswear shop was totaling his Christmas business when the adding machine kept printing $99,000, exploded flames from its electrical connection and set fire to the shop.

Damage was estimated at $50,000.

Credit Position in U.S. Strong as Year Starts

NEW YORK (AP) — American families are entering 1963 in a strong credit position, the head of the nation's largest sales finance company said.

This condition will support the market for consumer durable goods and services at high levels, said L. Walter Lindell, president of CIT Financial Corp.

"We also look for solid strength in other sectors of the economy," he declared in a year-end outlook.

Lundell anticipated a further broadening of CIT's diversified services during 1963.

"These include the financing of broad categories of production and distribution equipment, the leasing of similar products as well as automobiles and trucks, factoring, commercial accounts receivable financing and the manufacturing and distribution of radiological equipment for industrial, professional and scientific use."

Lack of Passengers Derailed 'Special'

A preference for private transportation has derailed plans for a special train with seats for 300 from Detroit to Lansing Tuesday for the inauguration of George W. Romney as governor.

The "Gov. Romney Inaugural Royal Oak, Birmingham and Pontiac en route to the state capital," has been canceled, a "Special," scheduled to stop at Lansing for Romney's interim office in Lansing.

There aren't enough passengers. The thousands expected to attend the ceremonies and Inaugural Ball on New York's Day apparently prefer to make the trip by automobile or bus.

AMC Directors Outfit Romney's New Office

LANSING (AP) — George Romney's former fellow directors at American Motors Corp. have chipped in $1,200 to provide a new desk and chairs for his office at the state capital.

AMC sources said the gift had nothing to do with the corporation, but was simply a gesture of good will and friendship on the part of Romney's former colleagues, acting as individuals.

Your Neighbor's House

Home Is Distinctive

Pontiac Press Home Editor

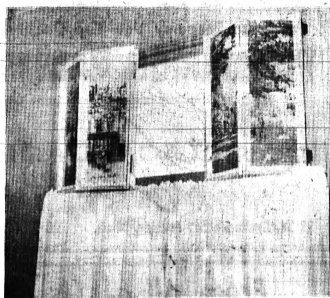

Take a standard subdivision dwelling, redo the interior to fit your own family's individual personality, and you've made a house a home.

That's what the Paul Ericksons did to their modest four-bedroom home at 2660 Middlebury Lane in Westchester Village.

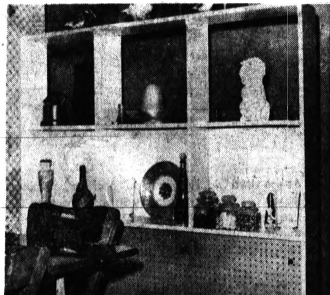

Their friends gasped at the unorthodox way the owners went about changing walls, constructing built-ins and—of all things—carpeting the kitchen. However, Mrs. Erickson has an answer to that one.

The kitchen is on the front of the house. The first thing people would see when entering the front door, was the main workshop in all its cold streamlined efficiency. To make the area a more welcome sight, a 5-foot-high divider was installed to the right of the kitchen entrance.

The north kitchen wall was papered in a smart aquamarine print, then the carpeting was added. A nutmeg colored maple dinette set completes the picture. You want to walk right in and sit down to a steaming cup of good coffee.

NEAT SHUTTERS — One of the most charming ideas in the Erickson's Early American home is this shuttered window in the den. Mrs. Erickson purchased five Utrillo prints from the dime store and hinged them together, forming this unusual shutter unit.

HALL DIVIDER — Most of the neat homes in the Westchester Village subdivision have front entrances into the kitchen. To break the open expanse and lure guests on into the living room, the Ericksons had this open divider installed, giving more privacy in the kitchen-eating area. It's only 5 feet high but serves the purpose.

RICH IN TRADITION — The focal point of this room is the artificial-log fireplace. To make it seem more realistic, Erickson bored additional holes in the logs, in a staggered formation. The warm, glowing gas fire now defies detection

When the Erickson's 21-year-old son, Eric, went away to college, the family decided to make a bedroom-den out of his room for everyone's use. Two walls behind a tiny bar are papered with classical record album covers.

The clever Mrs. Erickson purchased five Utrillo prints from the dime store, hinged them together for the most unique and attractive window shutters you've ever seen. Cafe curtains hang softly below.

Two boys, 16-year-old Paul and Eric, and their parents didn't need that fourth bedroom next to the living room — so down came the wall separating the two rooms. Two small bedroom windows were replaced by a dramatic cafe-curtained bay window.

By this time the living room was 33 feet long, so to break the expanse, a big beam was installed in the ceiling and two free-form filigreed dividers were set opposite each other. This effect gives just a hint of two separate rooms.

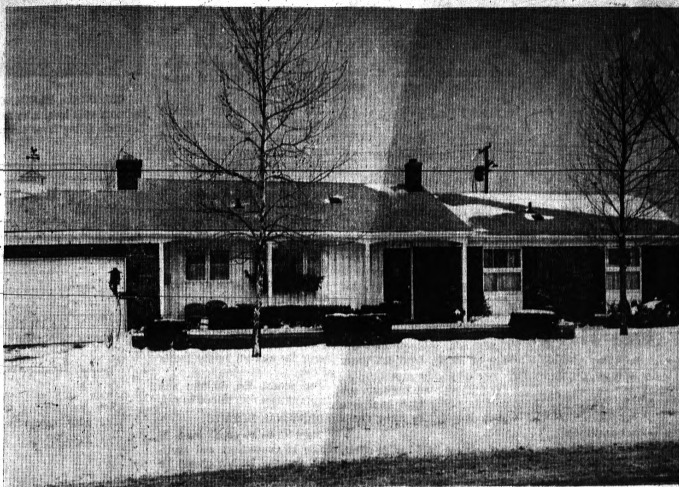

The fire that blazes brightly at the other end of the living room does not look artificial. Erickson, a creative engineer, enlarged the original holes in the store-bought logs. He added a few more, staggering the outlets for a more natural looking blaze.

Drop leaf tables, a black and gold Hitchcock hutch, old hanging lamps—all these help make the charming Erickson house a real pleasure to come home to.

DEN CORNER — When the Erickson's 21-year-old son Eric went away to college, the family decided to make a bedroom-den out of his room so it would be used more often.

In this corner, walls behind the bar are lined with record album covers. Old guns and pictures of sailing vessels spark up other wall areas.

OUTSIDE VIEW — From the street, this ranch house looks like many others in Westchester Village, but the Paul Ericksons have "desubdivided" all of the interior. The Early American furnishings are as unique as the ideas that have incorporated into the house. The raised patio in front of the porch is a favorite family place in the summer.

ORGAN ON DOOR — The Paul Ericksons didn't know where to put their tiny electric organ, but after much thought decided to hang it on the furnace room door. It was installed first in a pine-wood corner cupboard that had been cut off at the bottom to allow furnace room circulation. Extra-heavy-duty hinges on the door carry the weight even when 16-year-old Paul feels in the mood to play the organ. Mrs. Erickson is shown opening the door.

FORMER BEDROOM—The Ericksons decided they did not need the bedroom at the end of the living room, so they tore down the wall, built an attractive bay window and installed two free-form dividers where the bedroom wall had been. The living room is now 33 feet long. The television, radio and stereo photograph are all built in the shuttered unit at the end of this room. The large plaque over the credenza is "weathered" copper of fighting horsemen.

This Elegant Split Level Keeps Budget in Mind

By JULES LOH
When some architects set out to design a truly luxurious home, they take the position of "never mind the budget; full speed ahead."
Samuel Paul isn't that kind of architect.

"One of the biggest cost factors in a house is the cellar," said Paul. "I've eliminated the traditional basement in this house by eliminating its need."

"The garage, laundry and work shop all are on the main level, as well as the indoor recreation area. Not only is it less expensive this way, but more convenient."

The house, design J54 in the House of the Week series, is an elegant four-bedroom split level with an Early American flavor.

But it isn't an ordinary split level in which each level is of approximately the same dimensions.

Architect Paul has, in effect, stretched out the main living level so virtually all the day-time activities are on the same elevation with no stairs to climb.

In this respect the design is more like that of a sleek ranch.

UPSTAIRS WING
Placed at one end of this "ranch" rectangle, like the cross bar of a T, is the upstairs bedroom wing with a 1,025-square-foot area beneath it containing a recreation room, hobby room and heater-storage room.

Only six steps separate each of these levels from the main living level.

The main level and bedroom level total 1,997 square feet, not counting the 605-square-foot garage and adjoining workshop, the 135-square-foot covered porch.

Over-all dimensions are 85 feet wide by 41 feet deep and architect Paul suggests a 100-by-100-foot plot.

To take full advantage of its colonial tone, architect Paul suggests an interesting color scheme.

The vertical boards should be white, he said, with gray beaten stripes; the stone a golden fieldstone; the roof an earthy brown shingle.

For accent, the shutters and main entrance door should be red.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS
Mark Twain once built a house in Connecticut and specified that the kitchen should be in the front, facing the street, so he wouldn't always have to be rushing the breadth of the house to see who was passing by.

It wasn't neighborhood curiosity that prompted Paul to put the kitchen in front, however.

The plan makes good sense for a variety of reasons, the most notable of which is that it measurably increases the ease with which traffic can flow through and within the house.

A separate hall goes from the front service entrance to the rear porch, completely eliminating traffic through the living area of the house; and there are only two of a half-don exterior entrances.

If you don't think this makes a difference, just check the condition of the floor or carpet in a well-traveled passage of your own house, not to mention the plain convenience this layout affords.

The kitchen-laundry-dinette ensemble would be the pride of any housewife.

Its double window over the double-sink, abundance of counter space, cabinets and huge storage closets and pantry, adjoining lavatory and direct garage access all add up to housekeeping ease.

JOINED BY DOORS
The formal living room-dining room arrangement also is planned for up-to-date living. The rooms are joined by doors which can slide into the wall, if desired, to create an expanse of 33 feet.

Sliding glass doors lead from the dining room to the screened porch, for outdoor dining under cover.

The living room, whose main attraction is a fireplace wall built of the same stone used on the exterior, also has an 8 foot pair of sliding glass doors leading to the rear patio.

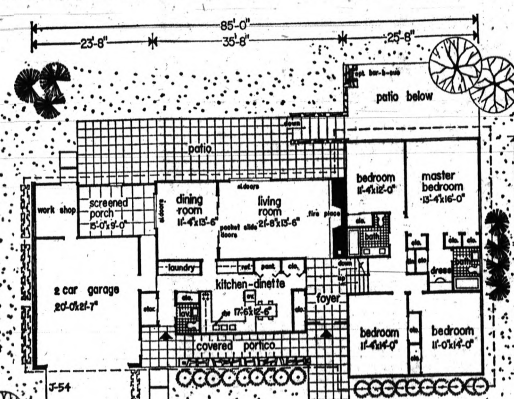

Upstairs, all four corner bedrooms are of good size, have plenty of closet space (more than 34 linear feet total) and are served by two full baths. There are no less than four closets, plus a dressing room, in the master suite.

Below, the recreation room features a 14-foot stone wall and sliding glass doors leading to a lower terrace.

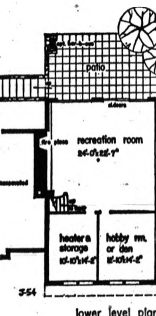

The third room on the lower level makes an excellent out-of-the-way den or hobby room.

COLONIAL ELEGANCE — This four-bedroom split level is in the form of a T, with the main living level elongated to resemble a streamlined ranch. Because all the daylight activities are on the same elevation, there is no need of an expensive basement.

FLOOR PLAN — Note the separate hall from the front service entry to the rear porch, completely eliminating traffic through the living area of the house. The house is basically a split level, but incorporates many characteristics of a ranch.

J54 Statistics

A four-bedroom split level, containing 1,997 square feet on living and sleeping levels, 1,025 square feet on the lower level, 605 square feet in garage and workshop, 135 square feet on the screened porch and 227 square feet on the covered porch has over-all dimensions of 85 feet wide by 41 feet deep.

New Furniture of Ductile Iron Very Ornamental

Among the newest products in furniture are ornamental French Colonial chairs made of ductile iron instead of metals traditionally considered lighter. New foundry techniques and continuing improvements in ductile iron metallurgy have made possible thin iron sections as light as other metals — and with cast iron's durability, strength, and superior decorative details resulting from its fluidity in casting.

Conceal Laundry Units

If your laundry area detracts from your kitchen, consider this suggestion. Place washer and dryer under roomy counter top and conceal units behind cabinet doors. Laundry products can be stored in wall cabinets.

Arrest Students in Mississippi

Police Say MSU Pair
Carrying Barbiturates

CLARKSDALE, Miss. (AP) — Two Michigan State University students who said they were carrying food, clothing and drugs to destitute Negroes in rural areas were held by Clarksdale police yesterday on charges of possessing barbiturates.

The youths were arrested when officers came upon them sleeping in a station wagon early Thursday.

Police identified them as Benjamin J. Taylor, 21, of Camden, N.Y., and Ivanhoe Donaldson, 21, of New York.

Officers said they found the students parked in front of a drug store operated by Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Henry said the NAACP and other organizations were sponsoring the program to bring emergency supplies to Negro farm families left destitute in the winter months.

Taylor and Donaldson made their trip into Mississippi from Louisville, Ky., Henry said. A group of students at Louisville organized the shipment, Henry said. An earlier shipment, brought into Mississippi by the students, came from Michigan, the students said.

"I don't know what prompted the arrest in the first place," Henry said. "They found the medicines after rummaging through the truck."

DTI Rail Co. to Buy Ann Arbor Line

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad Co. received Interstate Commerce Commission authority yesterday to buy control of the Ann Arbor Railroad, a 293-mile line between Toledo, Ohio, and Frankfort, Mich.

The transaction will involve purchase of 99.9 per cent of Ann Arbor's outstanding common stock from the Wabash Railroad for $3 million.

All three firms are subsidiaries of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Italy's Top 1962 Wage Reported at $500,800

ROME (AP) — Giomanni Agnelli, whose family founded the Fiat automobile works, is out front as Italy's biggest individual money-earner for 1962.

Reports published so far show he had an income for the year of 288 million lire ($500,800). He is expected to give up about 90 per cent in national and local taxes.

Firecrackers Discouraged in Both Berlins

BERLIN (AP) — Police on both sides of the Communist wall are trying to discourage the old German custom of blazing away with fireworks on New Year's Eve.

The reason: exploding firecrackers sound like gunfire and could be mistaken for the flare-up of a border incident, rocket bursts look like flares that the East Germans fire when escape attempts are made.

So the East Germans have banned fireworks anywhere within about 100 yards of the Red wall. The West Berlin police have barred fireworks anywhere.

Norstad to Visit Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Gen. Lauris Norstad, retiring supreme allied commander, Europe, will make a farewell visit to Ottawa Jan. 3, the Defense Department announced yesterday.

De Gaulle May Meet With JFK Next Fall

PARIS (U-P) — President Charles de Gaulle may go to the United States next fall to talk to President Kennedy, the newspaper Le Monde said yesterday.

Le Monde also said that de Gaulle probably would use a January news conference to give his first reaction to Kennedy's offer of Polaris missiles, on condition that the French atomic force is incorporated into a European force.

In making his long-range plans, the newspaper said that de Gaulle plans no trips outside France until late 1963 and that no Kennedy-de Gaulle meeting could be expected before then.

Dow VP Is Retiring

MIDLAND (U-P) — The retirement of former vice president Donald Williams of Dow Chemical Co. after 38 years with the firm was announced yesterday. Williams, who joined Dow in 1924, became general sales manager in 1945 and a vice president in 1953. He retired from the vice presidency in September.

East-West Clash Tossup

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was "Johnny bar the gates and anything can happen" today as a star-studded East team sought revenge for last year's 21-0 upset against West team in the 30th annual East-West Shrine football classic.

Coach Jack Mullerhoff of Purdue said he felt the East could mount a better running attack this year than it did last year even with such greats as Ernie Davis and Bob Ferguson.

Missouri's Dan Devine, who headed the West team, was equally confident.

U.S. Boat Nips Aussies

SYDNEY, Australia (U)—The American yawl Ondine was the first across the line in the 60-mile Sydney to Hobart yacht race Friday. The Ondine narrowly beat the schooner Astor after a thrilling duel over the closing stages.

On the East side, Notre Dame's Daryle Lamonica was slated for the passing chores. He was backed up by such bruising running backs as Michigan State's George Salmes, Iowa's Larry Ferguson and Purdue's Roy Walker.

Most oddsmakers rated the contest a tossup, but some made the West a one-point favorite on the basis of a slightly heavier line and what appeared to be a top notch pass-kill combination.

In drills this week, West quarterback Sonny Gibbs of Texas Christian frequently found the waiting hands of Washington State's Hugh Campbell. Also the West had on call such speedsters as UCLA's Kermit Alexander, Washington's Charlie Mitchell and Nebraska's Bill Thornton.

Red Wings Acquire Help

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings have summered left wing Bo Eklund from Edmonton of the Western Hockey League to fill in for the injured Val Fonteyne.

Eklund, 33, will be in Detroit's lineup tonight against the Canadiens at Montreal. Fonteyne was injured at Toronto Wednesday night when he was crashed into the boards by Dick Duff of the Maple Leafs.

The Red Wings will also have the services of goalie Terry Sawchuk and Marcel Pronovost against the Canadiens.

Sawchuk returned to Detroit after the Toronto game with an intestinal disorder. But he recovered quickly and left here late yesterday to rejoin the club.

3 Cage Powers in Tourney Finals

By The Associated Press

Out of a staggering total of 60 basketball tournaments—some big and some so tiny you'd need a map to find them—three of the ranking teams in the country—Loyola of Chicago, Illinois and Arizona State—will shoot for major titles tonight.

Loyola, the nation's highest scoring team, rolled over Memphis State, 94-82, in the semifinals of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City and will meet Wyoming for the crown. Jerry Harkness led the Ramblers, No. 3 in the current Associated Press poll, with 26 points. Wyoming advanced with a 65-64 decision over Oklahoma City.

TV GAME

Illinois, No. 4 downed New York University, 91-84, after trailing by 13 points at the end of the first half. The undefeated Illini will play West Virginia, 94-82 victor over St. Bonaventure, in the final in Madison Square Garden that will be televised nationally.

Arizona State, once beaten and No. 6 in the country, clashes with Central in the final of the Queen City Tournament in Buffalo, N.Y. Both were idle Friday.

But the mad whirl will stop abruptly after tonight's games. All the tournaments will be decided and the teams will prepare for the serious business of conference races starting next week.

Two of the big ones were set for Friday night when Georgia Tech edged Florida 63-61 in the final of the Gator Bowl Tournament in Jacksonville, Fla., and Miami, Fla., squeaked past Pitt, 86-85, in the windup of the Hurricane Tournament in Miami Beach.

Both Georgia Tech and Miami still are undefeated. Sophomore J. D. Craddock dropped in two free throws 4 seconds before the end to enable to Yellow Jackets to win. Miami, too, won from the

For Detroit in '72

Eying World's Fair

DETROIT (UPI)—A bipartisan campaign to bring a world's fair to Detroit in 1972 was launched yesterday in a meeting at the Detroit Press Club.

Among those attending were Richard Van Dusen, legal adviser to Gov.-elect George Romney; Democratic Congressman Harold M. Ryan of Detroit; and Philip Jourdan, representing Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Ryan recently returned from Paris, where he placed Detroit's bid with the Bureau of International Expositions, as the world's fair selective body.

"BIE President Leon Barely showed great enthusiasm for Detroit's plan," Ryan said. "Montreal is the choice for 1967 and our chances look good for '72."

Seattle had the 1962 world's fair.

OLYMPIC TIE-IN
 Steve Spilos, president of the Detroit World's Fair Board of Directors, said an attempt would be made to correlate the fair bid with Detroit's campaign for the 1968 Olympics.

The Motor City already has been chosen as the U.S. bidder to the International Olympic Committee.

"We are planning to solicit public subscription from all civic, religious, political, business and labor groups," Spilos added.

"A world's fair in Detroit would add millions of dollars to its economic growth and mean more millions in trade for local merchants," he said.

Spilos said Detroit's urban redevelopment program would provide "available areas within metropolitan Detroit" for a world's fair site. One such area would be the projected State Fair Grounds expansion.

INTERNATIONAL Tea Sponsored by Missionaries

Pontiac Missionaries Inc. and the Detroit Council of Catholic Women will hold an International Tea from 2 to 5 tomorrow afternoon in the Knights of Columbus Hall, 3675 Southfield Road, Birmingham.

This will be the second such event. The first tea held in October was so successful that foreign students expressed a desire for a repeat meeting.

The outgrowth of the tea was an outgrowth of the Missionaries Scholarship Fund which supports a young woman student from Trinidad at St. Mary's Academy, Oxford.

At Missionaire headquarters, 1130 Myrtle St., another young girl is here from Trinidad on a visit. Her name, Rosetta LaCalle, is a student at Wayne State University, Mayvorne and Madonna Colleges.

All foreign students and their guardians are invited. More than 250 students from University of Detroit, University of Michigan and area colleges and high schools are expected.

Among foreign students in Pontiac on the American Field Service are Preakash Ratnakrishna from India who lives with the Ward Ross family at 253 N. Berkshire; and Graciela Lloa of Argentina living with the Charles DeVill family on Porter Lane.

A program will be presented at the tea.

Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. The body will be at Richardson-Bird Funeral Home, Walled Lake.

Mrs. Bobowski died yesterday at University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Joseph Puzentz of Walled Lake and Mrs. Robert Lyak of Ann Arbor; a son, Staff Sgt. Donald Bobowski, U.S. Air Force, stationed in New Foundland; two brothers, John Kaczor and William Kaczor, both of Novi; and eight grandchildren.

ARCHIE R. CAVERLY

ORION TOWNSHIP—Service for Archie R. Caverly, 49, of 2985 Judah Lake Dr., will be held 11:30 a.m. Monday at the Hunton Funeral Home, with burial in East Dayton Cemetery.

He died Friday after a three-month illness.

Mr. Caverly had been employed by the Pontiac Motor Division.

Surviving are his wife, Mary; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Caverly; and three daughters, Mrs. Grace Hoffman of Pontiac, Mrs. Marguerite Joseph of Auburn Heights and Marion Caverly at home.

Also surviving are nine grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Gladys Baer of Pontiac, Mrs. Jessie Moore of Clio and Mrs. Helen Kelley of Caro; and four brothers, Norman of North Branch, Alvin of Clarkston and George and Clayton, both of Pontiac.

WALTER V. LAPLANTE
CLARKSTON—Service for Walter V. Laplante, 56, of 6150 Overlook St., will be 11 a.m. Monday at Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church, with burial in Lakeview Cemetery by Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home.

He died Friday after an 18-month illness. Mr. Laplante had been a bartender at the Pontiac Elks Club for 19 years.

Surviving beside his wife Evelyn is a son, Walter of Saginaw; a daughter, Mrs. Richard White of Waterford Township; and eight grandchildren.

Also surviving are three sisters and three brothers.

The Rosary will be held 4 p.m. Sunday, and an Elks Lodge of Sorrow at 8 p.m.

MRS. JENNIE E. MARLOW

LAKE ORION—Service for Mrs. Jennie E. Marlow, 73, of 974 Highlander St., will be held 2 p.m. today at Allen's Funeral Home, with burial in Eastlawn Cemetery.

She died Wednesday after an illness of two weeks.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Otto Knotts, Mrs. Phyllis Hedrick and Mrs. Leslie Taylor; and two sons, William H. and Edward F., all of Lake Orion.

Also surviving are 16 grandchildren.

PROF. A. P. PIOWARSKI

ORCHARD LAKE—A Requiem Mass will be sung at 11 a.m. Monday in St. Mary's College Chapel, Orchard Lake, for Andrew P. Piowarski, professor emeritus of Latin and Greek at St. Mary's College. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Professor Piowarski's body is at the Wujek Funeral Home, 17301 Van Dyke, Detroit.

He died Friday night in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, at the age of 82.

Professor Piowarski, who lived in the Orchard Lake Seminary, was a member of the faculty for 40 years. Before that he taught at Alliance College in Kingsbridge Springs, Pa.

A native of Poland, he came to the United States in 1902 after receiving his education in Europe.

A son, Cypryan of Lansing, Ill., survives.

MRS. CLARENCE E. PRICE

ROCHESTER—Service for Mrs. Clarence E. (Emma) Price, 79, of 3274 John R. Road will be 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Pixley Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Mrs. Price died yesterday in St. Joseph Hospital after a brief illness. She was a member of St. Paul Methodist Church, Rochester Relief Corps, Blue Star Mothers and the Grandmother's Club.

Surviving are a daughter Mrs. E. A. Kercher of Rochester; three sons, Ralph of Rochester, Steven in Florida and Richard of Toledo, Ohio; seven grandchildren; and a brother Arthur Grothers of Hastings.

ROYAL H. WOODLEY

METAMORA—Service for Royal H. Woodley, 57, of 4507 Thomas Road, will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Muir Bros. Funeral Home, Lapeer. Burial will be in the Metamora Cemetery.

Robbers Strike Twice at Cars

Hammer, Knife, Club Threaten Motorists

Robbers armed with a large hammer, a knife and club held up two motorists and their passengers within 30 minutes early this morning.

Harley Harner, 41, of 116 E. 4th St., told Pontiac police that he and his passenger William M. Crowder, 23, of 685 Northway Drive were dragged from their car by four men while waiting for a traffic light at Franklin Road and South Boulevard.

He said they were threatened with a knife and hammer. Harner said he had taken from his wallet and Crowder $65.

At 5:10 a.m., just 25 minutes after the first robbery, Wayne Conners, 31, of 12 Sheridan Ave., and Roy Neuman, 39, 2101 N. Woodward Ave., were flagged down by a man while they were driving on West Hughes Avenue.

JUMPED BY FOUR

Conners, the driver, said when they stopped they were jumped by the man and three others, one of them carrying a hammer, another, a large club.

The four escaped on foot with $80 from Conners and $16 from Neuman. The robberies occurred within three blocks of each other.

Three Women Hurt When Car Hits Tree

Three women were injured this morning when their car skidded on ice in Pontiac Township and hit a tree.

In fair condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital are Minnie A. Sawyer, 51, of 1275 Silverbell Road, Orion Township; Judith West, 35, of 744 St. Clair St.; and Margaret Wallace, 42, of 420 North View Court, both of Pontiac.

The extent of their injuries is not yet known. The accident occurred at 7 a.m. on Auburn Road near Doris Road.

Reds Rap, but Pay, Back Tax on Estate

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet government has paid more than $23,000 in back taxes owed this Long Island community rather than face loss of the lush estate it owns here.

Mayor Joseph Reilly of Glen Cove picked up two checks drawn on Chase Manhattan Bank and totaling $23,128.86 in payment of back taxes on the sprawling estate known as Killenworth.

Reilly said he picked up the checks at the United Nations mission headquarters, where an American diplomat said the Soviets made the payment under protest.

News in Brief

Dorene Shelton, 25, of N. Edith St., reported to Pontiac Police that $80 was stolen from her apartment yesterday.

Thieves stole $35 from Lorenza's Shoe Repair, 514 S. Saginaw St., after gaining entrance by removing a window covering at the rear of the building.

After Lorenza Farrar, 49, reported to Pontiac Police yesterday.

Joseph Welch, 38, of Hazel Park — is awaiting trial on kidnap and armed robbery charges.

His hearing that Dec. 18 was declared a mistrial when attorneys for Loncar and Welch challenged the judge's impartiality because Levy had contributed to one of his past political campaigns.

A new trial is expected to be begun Jan. 22 after a visiting judge from another county.

The four were accused of taking Levy, owner of Oakland County Gas & Oil Co. from his home to his main station at gun point and forcing him to open a safe.

Four Are Injured When Two Cars Crash Head-On

Four persons were injured this morning in a head-on crash on Highland Road in Waterford Township.

The drivers of both cars are in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

They are Edward Heist, 47, of 1221 Nancarrow St., and Mrs. John Krause, 49, of Detroit. Heist received a broken knee in the crash. Mrs. Krause suffered facial lacerations.

Mrs. Krause's two passengers, her daughter Karen, 16, and Michael Barink, 20, of 1703 Sycamore St., Royal Oak, were treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Heist was alone in his car.

Waterford Township police said that the collision occurred when Mrs. Krause's car crossed into the other car while applying the brakes to make a left turn.

The accident occurred about 7:25 a.m. near Pontiac-Lake Road.

Happy New Year Ahead? Auto Makers Wondering

By BEN PHILEGAR
AP Automotive Writer
DETROIT—Like many another, the auto manufacturers are looking forward to the new year with a certain amount of concern. They hope the hangover won't be too painful.

It's been a year-long spree which pushed sales and production to levels reached only once before. And when it happened the first time, in 1955, the aftermath lasted for years.

By Monday night dealers will have sold seven million cars, up 12 million from last year, or roughly 22,800 every working day. Back in 1955 when registrations totaled more than 7.1 million, the auto moguls talked confidently of better and better sales with 10 million car years sure to come within the decade.

There is a lot of enthusiasm around this time, too, but nobody is talking 10 million and only the eternal optimists on the 14th floor of the General Motors Building in Detroit have suggested 1963 will be as good as 1962.

John F. Gordon, GM president, acknowledged differences of opinion on this subject but maintained so far the evidence "is solidly on the side of the optimists, whose number has been increasing lately."

SALES 'IN LINE'
Frederic G. Donner, the GM chairman, claimed in his year-end statement that "unlike 1955 . . . when sales were well above the long-term trend, 1962 sales are in line with the normal growth of automotive markets."

Financially 1962 has been a great year for both the factories and the dealers.

General Motors and possibly Ford will report record earnings. The GM profit will be well over $1 billion. Ford's nine-month net of $350.4 million was a record.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSES

QUESTION: Please tell us about the other members of the horse family.

ANSWER: It is said that the only true wild horses left on earth are two types of the ancient wild horse called the tarpan. Picture (1) shows one kind, extinct since 1800. Horse breeders, however, by mating animals which resemble the tarpan type, have succeeded in producing horses just like the extinct kind. Przewalski's horse (2) used to run wild in central Asia, but now the only living specimens are in zoos.

The tarpans resemble our domestic horse (3) more than the two other groups of horse relatives, the zebras and the donkeys. The beautiful striped zebras (4) are wild, fast and very difficult to tame. The striped pattern makes the animal hard to see at a distance.

The quagga (5) was a partly striped zebra which is now extinct, but the bontequagga, with stripes on body and legs, lives in herds on the African plains. The donkey (6) is a small domesticated form of the wild ass of northern Africa (7). Mated with a pony, a zebra mother recently produced a remarkable foal, called a "zepony" (8).

Now meet the star of our show, Lolita, half zebra, half donkey (9). Born only a few months ago, little Lolita is the only "zebronky" in the world!

FOR YOU TO DO: Test your horse knowledge by trying to figure where the male fits into our horse relative story. You're not sure? Well, mules are not a breed of horse, they result from the mating of a male donkey and a mare.

Sentence Four for Robberies

Two Pontiac men were given prison terms and two others placed on probation yesterday for their parts in two June robberies in the city.

Fred E. Dowell, 38, of 476 Colorado St., was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in Jackson Prison and Leonard Turner, 36, of 275 Central St., to 1 to 15 years by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

John W. Harden, 36, of 301 E. Wilson St., was placed on three years' probation and ordered to serve 60 days in the county jail.

Fred B. Harrison, 17, of 461 Going St., was put on three years' probation and will serve 30 days in jail.

The four had pleaded guilty to unarmed robbery.

Dowell, Turner and Harden were accused of robbing two men of more than $120 June 21 at the Victor Paint Store, 158 N. Saginaw St.

Harrison was accused of robbing William Davis at Bernard Cleaners, 485 S. Sanford St., of more than $100 June 20.

Clothing Theft Leads to Jail

A 19-year-old Pontiac youth was ordered to serve 15 days in Oakland County Jail and placed on two years' probation yesterday for taking $42 worth of coats, shoes and other clothing from a Waterford Township discount store Dec. 4.

Robert A. Carlson, of 431 N. Saginaw St., was sentenced by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem. Carlson pleaded guilty Dec. 10 to taking the items from Spartan's Discount Store, 2045 Dixie Highway.

Has 3rd Set of Teeth at 92

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Vincent Bazzo has amazed Australian dentists. At the age of 92 he has grown a third set of teeth.

Bazzo, who lives at Pomona, 86 miles north of Brisbane, said: "These six new teeth are very efficient. I can eat and hold my pipe with them. I lost my second teeth at 80 and I hate false teeth."

Dentists said the Bazzo case is a freak of nature. Bazzo's new teeth are still growing. He says he has quite a sweet tooth and no food fads.

Food Buyers to Feel Freeze

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—The effect of the freeze in Florida this month will be felt soon in supermarkets across the nation. Some fresh fruit began moving to market yesterday, the first since the freeze, and FOB prices were nearly double the prefreeze level.

Florida Citrus Mutual said FOB prices yesterday were $5.50 a box of U.S. No. 1 interior oranges. This compared to the prefreeze price of $2.75-$3.25.

It was the same story with grapefruit. Yesterday the FOB price on Duncan grapefruit was $4.45 a box while white and pink seedless brought $3.75-$4.50 depending on size.

U. of M. to Use Ford Mansion

DEARBORN (AP)—Henry Ford's 56-room mansion on Fairlane Estate will be converted into a major conference center by the University of Michigan.

Dr. William E. Stirling, U. of M. vice president and director of the university's Dearborn center, said yesterday he has formed a committee on use of the mansion.

Dr. Stirling said: "We will use it as a seminar center where the right people can meet to discuss issues like automation, labor-management relations and industrial history."

SWEARING-IN CEREMONY — Witnessing the swearing in of the new budget director in the garden of the vacation White House at Palm Beach, Fla., are (from left) President Kennedy; Eric Heller, son of Dr.

Walter Heller, the President's economic adviser; Mrs. Kermit Gordon; Karren Heller and Kermit Gordon, being sworn in by Palm Beach Mayor Claude Reese.

Next Budget Gets Polish

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy has sent his new budget director back to Washington to put the finishing touches on the bulky document after three days of policy talks at the holiday White House.

Kermit Gordon, sworn in yesterday as chief overseer of the federal purse strings, flew back to Washington after dusk following a 90-minute conference with Kennedy.

Before departure, Gordon said some changes might yet be made in the budget for the 1964 fiscal year that begins next July 1.

It was apparent, however, that most of the key question marks were disposed of in meetings this week on tax cut plans, military spending and legislative proposals involving aid to education and medical care for the aged through Social Security.

The Kennedy-Gordon session last night was focused on the administration's 1963 legislative program and its effect on the forthcoming budget.

CLEARING DECKS
Sitting in on the talks were Elmer R. Johnson, deputy budget director, and Lawrence F. O'Brien, a key presidential adviser on congressional relations.

With this meeting, Kennedy cleared the decks of all announced appointments until after the New Year's holiday.

Some of the final questions about the record $99-billion budget due in mid-January were resolved at a session at which Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Kennedy reviewed new education and medical care legislation they hope will "be more palatable" to opponents.

This was the way legislation was characterized by Celebrezze following the 2½-hour session.

Celebrezze said that basically the programs will help to the same "underlying philosophy" of administration bills that failed to gain passage in the last Congress.

However, he indicated that some significant concessions would be made to the opposition.

NO MAJOR CHANGES
Kennedy asked for some changes in the legislation proposed to him, but Celebrezze indicated these were not substantial.

Following his meeting with Celebrezze and other Welfare Department officials, Kennedy took his family and a couple of guests on a sightseeing cruise in Lake Worth and the Atlantic beachfront.

A State Department spokesman said this week that attorney James R. Donovan and the Red Cross are trying to have the Americans released as a sequel to the freeing of more than 1,113 Cubans who participated in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

None of the Americans took part in the invasion.

DATA INCOMPLETE
Although the number imprisoned has been carried in news accounts as 22 or 23, the State Department said its information is incomplete.

Jesse Gordon, correspondent for the Nation magazine, released Thursday a list of 22 names which he said he obtained from the Swiss Embassy in Havana. The Swiss now represent the United States in Cuba.

Waterford Supervisor Seeks Fourth Term

Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson today confirmed his candidacy for a fourth two-year-term as supervisor.

Johnson, 59, will seek the Republican nomination for the office in the Feb. 18 primary.

He had been elected supervisor three times as a Democratic candidate, but announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for supervisor on the Democratic ticket.

A die maker for a tool and die firm before taking public office, Johnson is a former member of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

James E. Seetler, township clerk the past six years, announced yesterday that he would be a candidate for supervisor on the Democratic ticket.

Thousands Hail JFK and Troops

From Our News Wires

MIAMI, Fla. — President Kennedy reviewed today surviving troops of the anti-Castro volunteer brigade which met disaster in the Bay of Pigs invasion.

A noisy crowd of more than 20,000 cheered the President and the troops, liberated from prison, in time for Christmas, and waved handkerchiefs wildly.

Among the spectators were relatives of the prisoners who arrived in this country Thursday.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, drove into the Orange Bowl in an open car.

The ex-prisoners, wearing U.S. army khaki uniforms, were at Homestead Air Force Base, where they were met by the United States military band and trucks for troop transportation, the decision on how many planes other nations turn over to the U.S. force.

In Cuba thousands of relatives of the prisoners awaited further word from Premier Fidel Castro's government on the sudden ban imposed on their departures for the United States.

TRAVEL BANNED
In Cuba thousands of relatives of the prisoners awaited further word from Premier Fidel Castro's government on the sudden ban imposed on their departures for the United States.

For Prisoner Trade
WASHINGTON (AP) — Through tax loss, the U.S. government's share of paying the Cuban prisoners ransom could reach $20 million.

Mitchell Rogovin of the Internal Revenue Service, in an interview Friday, cited that sum—spread over three years—as the highest possible loss to the U.S. Treasury from the deal that sent millions of dollars of food, drugs, and other supplies to Fidel Castro's Cuba in exchange for the 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners.

But Rogovin said he thought the tax loss could be less than $20 million. He stressed that it could be considered a tax loss only in the sense that the U.S. government always loses revenue through income tax deductions after some drive for charity.

Rogovin is counsel to the commissioner of Internal Revenue. He was a member of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's four-man team that helped manage the government's part in the deal that freed the prisoners.

THE BREAKDOWN
Here is how Rogovin figures the possible tax loss:

Although the goods had a value in Havana of $53 million, Rogovin said, their actual wholesale value in the United States, before packing and transportation costs, would be no more than $40 million.

Companies may deduct the wholesale value of the contributed goods as part of their allowed 5 per cent deduction for charity. If a company uses up its 5 per cent deduction this year, it can deduct its contributions as part of its 5 per cent deduction in 1963 or 1964.

Therefore, the $40 million contribution to the ransom means the government has $40 million less income to tax, provided:

1. You assume the companies will be able to list the contributions within their 5 per cent deductions for 1962, 1963, or 1964.

Expect U.S. to Send Equipment to Congo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to announce shortly that it will supply more military equipment for the United Nations' Congo operation.

The announcement may be made within a week and the most urgently needed materiel will be flown immediately to the Congo, authoritative informants said today.

The most important items on the U.N. shopping lists are 10 fighter planes.

They are needed to give air protection to U. N. ground troops and to fend off hit-and-run attacks of the Katanga Air Force, estimated to consist of about 20 airplanes of various types and vintage.

The list of requested materiel—a detailed document drafted by the Indian commanders of the U. N. air force—was given to Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman, head of a U. S. fact-finding mission which returned from the Congo this week.

Truman, informants said, approved the U. N. list after on-the-spot verification of the requirements and he submitted it Friday evening to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The final decision rests with President Kennedy, officials said, and added that knowing Kennedy's concern about the deteriorating Congo situation they felt sure the United Nations will get what it asks for.

The United Nations also wants a prefabricated steel bridge, air transport planes and 2½ ton trucks.

High U. S. sources indicated that the United States made no commitment to supply the fighter planes.

Some officials said that while the United States will certainly provide transport planes and trucks for troop transportation, the decision on how many planes other nations turn over to the U. N. force.

In other words, the United States would fill in the gap if it is found that the United Nations does not have enough fighters to match Katanga's air force.

Reporter Sees Katanga Chaos

Eyewitness Account of Bitter Fighting

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Peter Lynch tried to reach Elisabethville, Katanga, this morning from Northern Rhodesia. Five miles from the city he was turned back by retreating Katangese Gendarmes. Lynch gives an eyewitness account of the situation around the Katanga capital.)

By PETER LYNCH

ON THE RHODESIAN-CONGO BORDER (UPI) — Bitter fighting raged in Elisabethville today and it was impossible to either enter or leave the embattled city.

I crossed into the Congo from Northern Rhodesia this morning and got within five miles of Elisabethville before being turned back by retreating Katangese gendarmes.

They said United Nations tanks had taken control of the Union Minière installations.

Even from a distance of five miles, I could hear the sound of bitter fighting punctuated by the pop of mortar shells.

The mortar fire was exceptionally heavy, apparently from both sides.

Two Confess Theft-Killings

NEW YORK (AP) — Police quoted two young men early today as admitting they went on a murder-robbery spree that began in Woburn, Mass., Christmas Eve and ended here Friday with five persons slain and one critically wounded.

In all cases, the victims were shot in the head. Acting on a tip, police arrested Emanuel Samperi, 27, and Henry P. Du Sablon, 27, last night at the Belvedere Hotel on west 48th St.

Both were booked on homicide charges.

The men implicated themselves, police said, in the following slayings:

Welfare Dept. Delays Release of Booklet
Frank C. Ross, 59, found dead behind the counter in his Woburn antique shop.

For 12 hours his death was believed due to natural causes but a later examination disclosed he had been shot through an eye with a small-caliber revolver.

The bullet went into his brain. Ross' wallet containing $100 was taken.

Henry J. Jassam, 54, was found shot to death last Wednesday in the rear of his novelty shop in Manhattan.

Police said Du Sablon got a diamond ring worth $850 and $20 in cash.

Jassam's death at first was thought to be natural because his hair concealed a head wound.

It carries the title, "A survey of Research in Reproduction Related to Birth and Population Control (as of December 1962)."

Even before it was published the report created a stir.

In September, U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry disclosed that its publication had been held up.

There had been published reports that the study was part of Kennedy administration efforts to combat the world's population explosion but had been shelved out of fear of harsh public reaction.

Terry denied there was any White House connection with preparation of the report or the decision to withhold it.

SOME CONFUSED
"Both professional and lay people who reviewed it indicated a lack of ability of laymen to get anything out of it and a tendency to read things into it that are not there," he said.

"The report included much research on border fringes and this could give someone not highly qualified in interpretation of scientific material a distorted picture of the work being done."

Say Resistance Disintegrating, Mop-Up Begun

Katanga Police Flee Leaving Equipment, Armored Cars Behind

ELIZABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — U. N. forces supported by aerial bombardment seized almost complete control of this secessionist capital today and apparently started a mopping up operation.

President Moise Tshombe fled his palace and his whereabouts were unknown.

A U. N. spokesman said Katanga resistance was cracking and that Tshombe's heavily armed police were fleeing into the bush, leaving behind weapons, equipment and armored cars.

U. N. forces took the offensive after two days of Katanga police attacks on positions in Elisabethville.

U. N. planes bombed strategic points in Elisabethville and the mining town of Kolwezi about 150 miles northwest of the capital.

WATER RESTORED
A U. N. spokesman said the city's water supply, cut off in the outbreak of hostilities Thursday night, had been restored. He said the U. N. hoped to have electric power restored within two days.

Tshombe was when blue-helmeted troops—mostly Ethiopians and Indian Gurkhas—occupied his palace.

Previously, Tshombe had been reported trying to flee to Kipushi, about 15 miles from Elisabethville, on the Northern Rhodesian border, or to Kolwezi.

The spokesman said the United Nations moved against roadblocks in the vicinity of a railway tunnel where bitter fighting took place a year ago.

The spokesman said U. N. troops reported few Katangans had been taken prisoner and that Tshombe's casualties were believed light.

5 WOUNDED
U. N. forces lost one killed and five wounded in fighting Friday. Previous reports said seven U. N. soldiers and eight civilians were wounded.

Despite the successes of U. N. troops, small arms and heavy mortar fire continued in several sectors of the town.

The fighting went on after two raids this morning by U. N. planes on C. capital and on the airfield at Kolwezi, the base of Tshombe's rudimentary air force.

The raid on Elisabethville was carried out by a single aircraft at 4 a.m. The plane dropped about (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

MAKE OVER PAGES Pentagon Blames AF for Skybolt Flare-Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An over-enthusiastic information release was blamed today for international furor over the Skybolt missile.

The controversy flared up again over an Air Force test of the rocket — which the administration has ordered scrapped — in the Atlantic missile range Saturday.

The Air Force issued a statement at the time claiming a complete success. But informed sources said that although the test was as successful as could be expected under the circumstances, the Air Force statement was misleading.

The Air Force said at Cape Canaveral Saturday that the Skybolt missile would overshoot its target by 66 miles.

As it turned out, if the missile had not burned up in the atmosphere, it would have overshoot the target by 100 miles — 34 more than expected.

The latest interpretation of the radio-telemetry data from the Skybolt indicates it flew on course for 857 miles after a B52 bomber fired it from an altitude of 40,000 feet.

EMBARRASSED JFK

The test was an obvious embarrassment to the Kennedy administration. It came only two days after President Kennedy agreed with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to cancel the Skybolt program and furnish Britain with Polaris missiles instead.

Britain had counted on Skybolt for its prime nuclear deterrent. Macmillan came under heavy criticism at home for agreeing to the missile swap and the announcement of the successful test heightened the pressure on him.

It was learned that the Air Force statement was released without prior clearance from the Defense Department. A Pentagon rule permits such releases except in cases that would attract "unusual news media attention."

Defense sources said the Skybolt statement obviously should have been cleared before release.

Seidel, a former bicycle racing champion, was arrested Nov. 15 as he broke through a 70-yard tunnel from the American Sector to a basement in a suburb of East Berlin.

East German police, disguised as refugees, were waiting for him, apparently acting on an informer's tip.

He had fled to the West himself the day the wall went up, Aug. 13, 1961. After that, he helped others to escape, risking his life many times.

The East German Supreme Court found Seidel guilty of violating the catch-all "law for the protection of peace," which covers any form of anti-Communist activity.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt called the sentence "a mark of vengeance" against a man who "followed the commands of humanity and his conscience to bring together persons forcibly separated from each other by the wall."

Calling on the world to protest the sentence, he said "there are no words to express the indignation felt over this scandalous verdict of a modern inquisition of an unjust state."

22 Americans Held in Cuban Prisons

Two of those listed were later reported to have been freed. A Miami engineer, who has been a prisoner, added two names.

The two women are Geraldine Shamma, about 36, a native of Boston, and Martha O'Neal of Atlanta, Ga.

Both were arrested in 1960 and said to be held in Carcel de Mujeres Prison on charges of engaging in counterrevolutionary activity. Mrs. Shamma was given 10 years and Mrs. O'Neal nine years.

Other prisoners, as compiled from various sources:

Thomas L. Baker, 23, of Dothan, Ala.; James D. Beane, 24, of Cedar Falls, N.C.; George R. Beck, 24, of Norton, Mass.; Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, of Chicago; Alfred E. Gibson, of Durham, N.C. and Donald J. Green, of Clover, S.C.

The six now are serving 30-year terms in Isle of Pines Prison. Cuban authorities said they landed in a boat in Havana Harbor on Jan. 7, 1961, and linked today and called in three officials ban dictator Fulgencio Batista from each side.

HAROLD G. WARNER

Cancer Drive Head Named

Harold G. Warner of Bloomfield Township, a General Motors Corp. vice president, has been named 1963 crusade chairman for the Michigan Cancer Foundation, it was announced today by Alfred R. Glancy Jr., chairman of the board of trustees.

Warner lives with his wife and daughter at 5950 Snowsboro Circle. He is general manager of the GM Cadillac Motor Car Division.

The foundation, a Torch Drive agency, conducts a year-round program of research, education and service to cancer patients in Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and Macomb counties.

During the first week of April, 30,000 volunteers will conduct a house-to-house educational campaign and fact-finding survey designed to further efforts to control the disease.

Halt Revolt by Peasantry

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — The Dominican government early today announced the suppression of a peasant revolt near the Haitian border reported to have killed about 30 persons.

Troops trained in guerrilla warfare were reported pursuing about 400 of the rebels in the mountains around the scene of the revolt, the town of Palma Solta, about 100 miles west of here.

The dead were reported to include a government general who was beaten and hacked to death.

Deliberate Car Accident Charged as a Cover-Up

From Our News Wires
A Birmingham man, charged with murdering his mother-in-law, yesterday was accused of deliberately staging an auto accident after her death so he could be hospitalized and avoid police questioning.

The allegation was made by the prosecution on the second day of a Detroit Recorder's Court examination of Robert M. Thorsen, 31, of 2332 Buckingham Road. The examination is to determine whether there is reasonable cause to hold Thorsen on a first-degree murder charge.

He is charged in the strangulation death of Mrs. Dorothy M. Thorsen in her Detroit home on the night of Dec. 3. He has denied the charge.

Mrs. William Breech of 1585 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Township, testified yesterday that she saw the auto accident in which Thorsen's car went off Quacken Road in Bloomfield Hills on Dec. 4.

Mrs. Breech is the daughter-in-law of former Ford Motor Co. board chairman Ernest Breech.

She said Thorsen's car suddenly swerved wildly, plunged into a ditch and smashed into a guard rail. She called the accident "unaccountable." There was no other traffic and apparently no reason for the crash, she added.

The accident occurred while Thorsen was en route from his office to his mother-in-law's home after police notified him of her death, police said.

The last witness yesterday was Mrs. James K. Taube of 2552 Valley Spring Drive, Bloomfield Township, a fellow worker of Thorsen's at a Birmingham stock brokerage firm which employed him as a salesman.

She said she saw scratches on Thorsen's face on Dec. 4 and said he told her they were made by a cat.

The hearing was adjourned until Wednesday by Recorder's Judge Arthur J. Kosciński.

five bombs, but the targets and damage were not yet known.

The U.N. military commander, Indian Brig. Reginald Noronha, in a victorious mood, said the fighting for the roadblocks had been easy, with only one casualty wounded Indian. But he claimed the U.N. was still having to deal with mercenaries in the Katanga army.

Asked how he knew that mercenaries were taking part in the battle, Noronha replied: "Who else could have fired mortars?"

Earlier U.N. reports said there appeared to have been no mercenary activity.

Noronha accused President Tshombe of being insincere during peace talks on Friday. He said that the fighting Friday night and this morning could have been avoided if Tshombe had signed an agreement to remove his roadblocks.

GOOD FAITH?

Other U.N. officials have said Tshombe seemed to be acting in good faith in seeking a halt to the shooting.

Small arms and machinegun fire was reported continuing today near a group of mining installations and a military camp. There was also some mortar fire.

European officers of the Katanga forces were organizing African troops into flying squads in private cars with mortars and anti-air gun riding in the luggage compartments.

They said that heavy fighting was still going on at the outskirts of the Union Minière copper plant, which was described as a shambles.

European officers with the Katanga could give no estimates of the dead but said the casualties on both sides were heavy.

The retreating Katangese said the Elisabethville General Hospital and two African townships were heavily mortared.

INDONESIAN PARATROOPS

Indonesian paratroops of the U.N. command arrived in the city last night and went straight into action, they said.

Youth classes to be offered are ballet, dramatics, painting and drawing.

"Nine Lessons and Carols," an ancient service practiced in English religious institutions between the 12th and 13th centuries will be featured at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services Sunday at St. James Episcopal Church.

The junior and adult choirs will take part in the special Christmas service along with other members of the parish.

Mrs. John Winfield, Service for Mrs. John (Ethel) Winfield, 66, of 525 Watkins St., will be Monday at 1 p.m. at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Winfield died suddenly Friday at Pompano Beach, Fla. She was a life member of the order of Eastern Star No. 220 Chapter of Birmingham; also a member of the MOHs Club of Birmingham and a member of the First Baptist Church of Birmingham.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Roy Richards of Harrisville; two sons, Jack R. of Pontiac and Arthur H. of Birmingham; a sister, Mrs. Frank Christie of Salt Lake, and seven grandchildren.

She was a resident of Birmingham for 33 years.

Traffic Toll of 480 Seen for Holiday

By The Associated Press

Traffic tolls for the Christmas holidays are expected to hit the nation's highways today, bringing an estimate from the National Safety Council that between 420 and 480 persons may become victims of the nation's No. 1 killer — traffic accidents.

The long four-day New Year's holiday, which began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, ends at midnight New Year's Day.

The 104-hour holiday began quietly, with only a handful of fatal accidents reported. But most persons were expected to be on the highways today, Sunday and New Year's Eve.

In making its pre-holiday estimate of 420 to 480 traffic fatalities the Safety Council said studies of past turn-of-the-year holidays show driving too fast for conditions is a factor in more than half the fatal accidents — compared with an annual average of 37 per cent.

The NSC also said that drinking drivers are involved in 38 per cent of New Year's weekend accidents, compared with an annual average of 30 per cent.

The council estimated that 18,000 to 21,000 persons could suffer disabling injuries during the period.

Cancer Drive Head Named

Harold G. Warner of Bloomfield Township, a General Motors Corp. vice president, has been named 1963 crusade chairman for the Michigan Cancer Foundation, it was announced today by Alfred R. Glancy Jr., chairman of the board of trustees.

Warner lives with his wife and daughter at 5950 Snowsboro Circle. He is general manager of the GM Cadillac Motor Car Division.

The foundation, a Torch Drive agency, conducts a year-round program of research, education and service to cancer patients in Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and Macomb counties.

During the first week of April, 30,000 volunteers will conduct a house-to-house educational campaign and fact-finding survey designed to further efforts to control the disease.

THE ICEMAN COMETH — It's late at night. Somewhere a little boy may be up late — sharpening his skates. But it is here at the risk of the Northside Community Club at Montclair and Edison streets that the real work goes on. A lone man sprays water over the rink — wetting it a fraction of an inch thick at a time. Water strikes ice and freezes instantly. The process is repeated. He is just a lone man working on one of the 20 rinks now being prepared in the city, with five others already open. When his work is finished, a frost-pitched boy on silver skates just might give a thought to Merle Brown of 99 Oliver St., the iceman.

2 State Firms Get $2.5 Million in Work

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force award of $2.5 million worth of contracts to Michigan firms was announced yesterday by Sens. Pat McNamara and Philip A. Hart of Michigan.

Lear Siegler, Inc., Grand Rapids, received a $1,000,156 contract to enable it to proceed with production of components for an integrated flight control system for F105 aircraft. Other similar awards are expected.

Bendix Corp., Ann Arbor, got an additional $1.5-million contract for research and development of a communications system for the Strategic Air Command. This brings the total of such awards to Bendix to $18,593,500, with further contracts to be awarded to the firm.

There is a time that ostrich tactics may pay off. That is when a player pretends to bury his head in the sand but is really a periscope.

North had no intention of letting his opponents play either four or five hearts. Even if Jacoby East and West had hurried to six hearts, North probably would have defended against that contract.

But North wanted to play the least possible number of spades and decided that the way to be doubled early was to act like an ostrich. North simply passed over West's three heart bid.

East went on to four hearts and when the bidding came around to North the second time he pulled his head out of the sand and bid four spades.

East might well have passed but he decided to take the expected sure profit and doubled.

West thought about taking the double out but eventually West decided to pass and take the sure profit.

Of course, the sure profit turned out to be a loss. South had no trouble making the four spade contract.

PNH Scores 1st Cage Victory in 5-Year History Over Chiefs, 62-59

Huskies Rally to Gain Big City Triumph

Burklow, R. Hayward Pace Northern Win Before Full House

By JERE CRAIG

What was becoming a basketball tradition in Pontiac may have ended last night on the court at Pontiac Northern High School when the Huskies outplayed cross-town rival Pontiac Central, 62-59, in a tension-packed contest.

For the first four years of the series, Central could be counted on for a decisive victory and normally produced the same. But last night the Chiefs couldn't withstand a strong PNH rally in the last four minutes and dropped the game in uncommon fashion.

Trailing 57-52 with less than half a quarter remaining, PNH scored 10 points in the fourth quarter and carried its first win in nine starts against PCH.

Northern's last eight points came on foul shots with Jerry Reese giving the Huskies the lead, 58-57, with two shots which were followed by Dayne Thomas' only two points to ice the decision at 60-57.

Reese added two more free throws with approximately 20 seconds remaining, but Gerald Henry offset those with a layup for Central.

HIT FREE THROWS

Charity tosses were the deciding factor in the contest as PCH unofficially hit 26 of 60 field goal attempts to only 20 for 49 on the Huskies' ledger. PNH, however, converted 22-28 foul throws to 7 of 18 for the Chiefs.

Both teams were called for 18 personal fouls but Northern took advantage of home foul shots to overcome the Chiefs' foul margin.

A standing-room crowd saw the visiting team jump into an 8-2 lead and stay on top until early in the second quarter. Trailing 15-12 at the end of the first session, the Huskies hit their first three shots in the second period to take an 18-17 margin.

Sparked by Roger Hayward's 10 points and Mike Burklow's nine, PNH hit nine of 18 shots in the quarter and ran to a 33-22 halftime margin. The Chiefs' offense was in the opening half on a 16-point performance by sharpshooting Mel DeWalt which kept them close to the homesters.

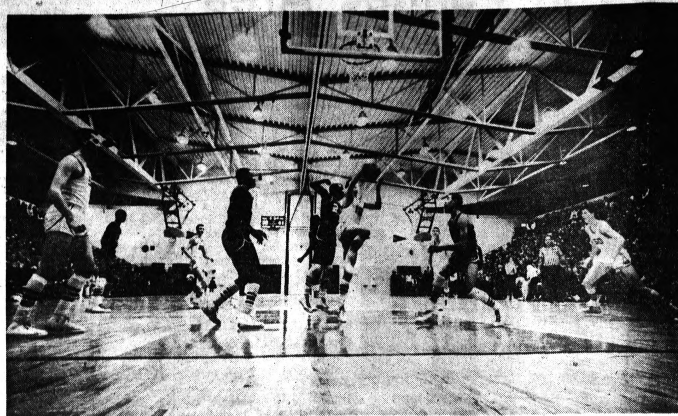

Early in the second half, Northern grabbed a 32-27 lead on a foul loss by Gary Hayward, Oakland County's leading high school scorer. PCH began a long climb back, however, and when G. Hayward had to sit out a few minutes' play with four personal fouls, the Chiefs narrowed the gap.

Entering quarter number four, the scoreboard read, 44-43, but this one-point lead by Northern evaporated quickly.

Switching tactics from the sharp outside shooting that characterized the first 20 minutes of play, PCH coach Art Van Ryzin had the Chiefs driving on offense and these tactics paid off as Henry boosted the Orange and Black into a five-point lead in the final stanza.

SPREAD OUT — Eight players were spread out in the Pontiac Northern forecourt during this third period action last night but it was the two others who were together, Mike Burklow of Northern (12) with ball and Ernie Pickett (25) of PCH, who drew the referee's attention. Pickett was detected fouling on the missed shot and Burklow converted both attempts for a 43-33 lead by PNH.

NO LUCK — High-scoring Gary Hayward (50) of PNH slipped away from the tight guarding of Gerald Henry (41) of PCH on this particular lay last night but found Central's Ray Sain (45) backing up his teammate. Hayward missed this shot and all the others he tried from the floor but was an important factor in the rebounding phase of play as Northern posted a 62-59 victory. Central's McKinley Jones (55) is in the foreground.

rebound work, had the Huskies' reeling. Then, two unnecessary shots by the losers gave the home team the break it needed and the finishing heroics ensued.

The game may have been the making of sophomore Roger Hayward for Northern. The young forward with the fine shooting touch played exceptionally well throughout, both with his shooting and rebound work. He hit 19 points but yielded team honors to backliner Burklow who scored 21, including nine for nine at the charity stripe.

Reese had 11 points with four of them on pressure-packed free throws in the last two minutes of play. DeWalt was outstanding on offense with 11 buckets for PCH but fouled out early in the last quarter. Henry had 11 of his 15 in the final quarter and, in addition, stopped Gary Hayward both the 228 and 440 events against competition from Michigan and Ohio.

DePaul, U. of D. in Motor City Finals

Pointe Wins Tourney; Kimball Chops Oaks

Grosse Pointe, one of the state basketball powers this year, won the Southfield Invitational Basketball tournament by whipping Redford Union, 84-45.

The Pointers had a 33-point second quarter in taking a 54-21 halftime lead. Vic Dhooge had 23, Mark Lonesh 18 and Gary Spade 10 for Grosse Pointe while Lynn Lepia had 10 for the losers.

In the other games, Livonia Bently whipped Farmington 66-42; Ypsilanti defeated Highland Park, 65-57 and Southfield won over North Farmington, 51-40.

Wayne Stephens and Roland Kent had 23 and 21 for Bentley with Russ Cleveland getting 22 for Farmington.

Mike Bass with 17 and Ernie Slater and Herb Francois with 16 each led Ypsi while Benny Jackson had 22 for the Packers.

Joe Considine had 21 and Pete McAlpine 12 for Southfield while Mike Fleming had 10 for North Farmington, which was the only team which failed to win in three games in the tourney.

KNIGHTS WIN — In another intra-city battle last night Royal Oak Kimball took a 53-39 decision from Dunder.

Dwight Ebaugh paced the winners with 12-points and teammate Curt Neumann backed him up with 10.

It was the Knights second victory in four starts this season and their first triumph over the city rival group in seven tries covering the last six years.

Dunder's 6-foot-4 center, Tom Faus earned high scoring honors for the evening garnering 15 but it wasn't enough to offset Kimball's sure shooting and tight defense.

The Knights dominated the affair from the start leading at the end of the first quarter, 17-9 and expanding their lead to 27-21 at the intermission.

Kimball tallied for 26 more in the final tennish the affair while holding their guests to 18.

But Pete Gent dropped a field goal and Marcus Sanders scored seven successive points to pull Michigan State beyond reach.

Sanders emerged as high scorer with 15 points, Bill Schwarz had 13, Gent 12, and Jack Lambers 10.

MARSHALL — Taylor University defeated Olivet 87-61 and Central Michigan opened Alma 69-63 last night in the first round of the Optimist Club's basketball tournament at Marshall high school.

Taylor, from Upland, Ind., led 40-33 at halftime and pulled away in the second half for an easy victory. Dave Sullivan was top scorer for Taylor with 19 points. Mike Boyle was high for Olivet with 16.

Packers Favored by 7 Over Giants

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay's crunching power game and sticky-fingered pass defense make the defending champion Packers a one-touchdown favorite over Y.A. Title and the go-for-broke New York Giants in Sunday's National Football League title rematch at Yankee Stadium.

A roaring, sellout crowd of 64,892 will jam the stadium at 2:05 p.m. EST.

With an estimated $600,000 for the radio-TV rights, gross receipts of about $1.2 million could bring each winning share over $6,000 and each loser $4,000 plus, both records.

Few expect a repetition of the 37-0 rout of last New Year's Eve when the Packers practically carried the Giants into the snowbanks surrounding Green Bay's frozen City Stadium.

The Giants come into the big game with a nine-game winning streak and a 12-2 season record that compares favorably with the Packers' 13-1 season, marred only by a Thanksgiving Day (26-14) disaster at Detroit.

WILD ABOUT TITLE — New York has gone mad, simply mad over Title, the Giants' 36-year-old quarterback who threw a new record 33 touchdown passes this year. At the same time they still chant "Huff, Huff, Huff" for Sam Huff, the handsome linebacker who is the symbol of Andy Robustelli's veteran defensive unit.

Once again Green Bay has been rechristened "Tiletown, U.S.A." and the 1,500 tickets allotted to Packers fans were gobbled up in a matter of minutes.

Allie Sherman, the NFL coach of the year for the second straight time, herded his Giants to Bear Mountain and the vast field house at neighboring West Point for their final tune-up drills. Vince Lombardi's Packers worked at home in sub-zero temperatures after finishing the regular season in California.

Green Bay has the player-of-the-year in fullback Jim Taylor, a bruising charger who rammed through — and over — enemy defenses this season for 1,474 yards and 19 touchdowns and ended Jimmy Brown's 5-year reign as rushing leader.

Taylor's running mate will be either Paul Hornung, the Golden Boy hero of last year whose 19 points against the Giants set a playoff record, or Tom Moore who took Hornung's place when Paul was crippled by a knee injury.

Hornung's true condition probably will not be known until game time but he has given indication in practice that he again will be ready to block, catch passes and run that deadly pass option play.

Titus' air accounted for 3,224 yards on 200 completions in 375 attempts, but the Packers also have a capable air arm in Bart Starr, the statistical passing leader with a 62.5 per cent completion average.

Starr throws primarily to end MacGee, flanker Roy Dole, and Ron Kramer, who foot-3, 239-pound tight end — but his "bums" and Moore with his long "horns" when the occasion demands.

In 1961 the Packers beat the Giants 20-17 in regular season play with Taylor gaining 186 yards. In the title game, Taylor was bothered by a back injury and was used more as a decoy while Hornung romped for 89 yards.

Green Bay has a 4-2 record in championship playoffs and the Giants, who have been in the post, 12, have a sad 2-9 record. They have not won since 1956 when they routed the Chicago Bears 47-7.

If the game is tied at the end of regulation play, there will be a sudden death overtime in which the first team to score is the winner. There has been only one sudden-death playoff in the NFL, in 1958 when Baltimore beat New York 23-17. The rival American Football League had a double overtime playoff last Sunday when Dallas defeated Houston 20-17.

NFL Title Game Facts and Figures

NEW YORK (UPI) — It'll be S.R.O. — sorry, radio only — for New York sports fans who don't hold tickets to Yankee Stadium but who want to follow Sunday's National Football League championship game between the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants.

A federal judge yesterday upheld the N.F.L.'s blackout TV policy when he refused to lift the local television ban on the game. Judge Edward Weinfeld held that relief from such restrictions should come from Congress and not from the courts.
