Controversy Flares Anew

Jesus' Body Now Missing But He Reappears, Talks

By ORA SPAID
Pontiac Press Special Writer

This is the last of six articles about Christ's last seven days, told in the style of today's news reporting.

JERUSALEM, Nisan, 17 (Sunday)—The body of Jesus, the Nazarene religious leader who was crucified Friday for insurrection, has disappeared.

Excited reports of His "reappearance" to His followers kindled controversy anew in this city today.

The tomb was found empty at dawn this morning by Mary Magdalene and Mary of Cleophas, who went to the Sepulcher to anoint the body of their leader.

They said the giant stone that had been placed in front of the tomb on orders from Roman Governor Pontius Pilate had been rolled away. They said that only the linen cloths which had wrapped the body were still on the bier.

When they entered the tomb, the women said, a vision appeared to them and said, "Be not afraid; for I know that you seek Jesus who was crucified. He is not here; He has risen."

Before His death, Jesus had said He would rise from the dead after three days. This prompted Jewish high priests to ask Pilate to seal the tomb and place a guard on it.

The Roman guards said the body had been stolen from the tomb during the night by some of Jesus' disciples, but the guards did not explain why they could not prevent a theft.

Mary Magdalene said the "risen" Jesus appeared to her when she fell behind the other women as they ran to tell of the resurrection." She said she did not recognize Him at first, but when He spoke her name she knew it was He.

Other "reappearances" were reported in Emmaus and in Jerusalem before 11 disciples. Followers of Jesus admit-

Nixon Predicts Move if Other Methods Fail

Congress Upset After Statement Reported in Off-Record Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon says American troops might be used in a last-ditch effort to save Indochina. The statement brought prompt challenges from both Republicans and Democratic lawmakers.

The Vice President said he does not believe such action will be necessary because he thinks Indochina can be saved from the Communists by other means. But in the unlikely event that French forces withdraw, he said, this country would have to send in troops.

Nixon expressed his views in an off-the-record address to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He later permitted newsmen to report his remarks on condition they not be attributed directly to him.

News stories reporting his remarks first identified him as a high administration official.

But he was connected with the statements from several sources. The London Times included in its story a statement that the only high administration source making a speech here yesterday was Nixon. And the Niles (Mich.) Daily Star said Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich), expressing opposition to the statement, had identified Nixon as its source.

Nixon himself was not immediately available for comment on the "leaks."

The disclosure that Nixon was the administration source in question lent added weight to the expression of policy, since he sits in with the National Security Council and at Cabinet sessions.

Whether his frank discussion of the issue would have repercussions within the administration remained to be seen. Nixon has acted as spokesman for President Eisenhower on several recent occasions.

In outlining his views, Nixon repeated Eisenhower's words that "we cannot afford any retreat in Asia."

His statement included a prediction the French government is "going to be putting on the pressure" to negotiate an Indochina truce with the Communists at the April 26 Geneva Conference.

It was his opinion, Nixon said in a clear indication of Amer-

GOOD FRIDAY RITES—Crowds attended the Tre Ore service in Central Methodist Church Friday, where the Pontiac Pastor's Assn. sponsored the traditional Good Friday service. The Rev. Herbert E. Christians, World Around, to Adore the Risen Christ

Starting at sunrise tomorrow and continuing throughout the day and evening, Christians in the Pontiac area will gather in the church of their choice to give thanks for a risen Christ.

Sunrise services are traditional in many denominations and many of these early programs are sponsored by youth groups. Special musical programs will highlight the worship and a number of churches have arranged evening programs exclusively of sacred music.

Around the world tomorrow—the first Easter of the H-bomb era will be observed with prayers for peace and salvation.

Rejoicing that Christ is risen mingles with fears that man has fashioned a weapon that could doom civilization.

The hope of men, women and children at Eastertide was that the occasion never would arise to unleash the bomb's fury.

President Eisenhower, on whose shoulders rests much of the free world's burden of preventing war, will attend services at Augusta, Ga.

In Rome, Pope Pius XII will appear on the loggia of St. Peter's basilica, to impart benediction to the world.

The Christian feast of Easter, by unusual coincidence, comes this year on the same day as the Jewish feast of Passover, which commemorates the flight of the Israelites from Egypt.

Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the American Jewish Congress, said in a Passover message that the feast, to Jews, "is a 5,000-year-old rite commemorating the brave free spirit which dominates their lives and thinking."

Although the Holy Land itself is torn with Jewish-Arab tension, church bells will call worshipers to service as usual on Easter in

Cole Promises FHA Firings

Housing Head Calls Top Level Conference, Predicts Prosecutions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says early criminal prosecutions may develop out of a "full administrative cleanup" of the scandal-shocked Federal Housing Administration. He also promises new top level firings.

Cole summoned to a strategy council this afternon key officials of the Justice Department, the Internal Revenue Service, and his Housing and Home Finance Agency which has jurisdiction over the FHA.

President Eisenhower yesterday armed Cole with a directive to all federal agencies to cooperate fully with the administration's probe of alleged multimillion dollar rackets under the FHA's loan insurance program in the home repair and apartment construction fields.

Two congressional committees are set to open public hearings next week in parallel investigations of the FHA, and the Eisenhower order directed federal cooperation with these groups also.

Cole announced yesterday that Burton C. Bovard had been "placed on leave" after he had refused to quit as FHA general counsel. Cole said that "in the next few days we will make such other removals as are necessary to insure a free, swift, uninhibited investigation of all relevant FHA matters."

Mentioning evidence already uncovered of "incredible" official laxity, Cole said he expects "in a fairly short time . . . to develop cases possibly leading to prosecution and to take any additional steps needed for full administrative cleanup in the FHA."

Cole later confirmed published reports that gambling by one key FHA official had a part in setting off the investigation.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said the FBI received a report that this unnamed official dropped as much as $5,000 in a single night, roughly half his annual salary.

U.S. Air Force to Leave Korea

Shift of Combat Units Will Start After July 1, House Report Reveals

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Air Force plans to withdraw its combat units from Korea during the year starting July 1, it was disclosed today.

Testimony made public by a House appropriations subcommittee also contained a warning by Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, that Russia is switching plane production from B29 copies to "more advanced long-range bomber types" able to hit the United States with A-bombs and H-bombs.

The Korea withdrawal plan, which could be upset by Far East political developments, was tipped off in an obscure passage in almost 1,000 pages of congressional testimony on the proposed $11,200,000,000 Air Force budget for fiscal 1955.

Maj. Gen. Kenneth B. Hobson, Air Force manpower director, said the Air Force "assumes that the Korean operation will phase out during the year.

County Board to Act on Budget

Committee to Suggest Having Offices Closed on Saturdays

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will meet Monday to act on a tentative budget of $6,513,164.84 for next year.

The meeting will start at 9:30 a. m. in the county office building, at 1 Lafayette St.

Ways and Means Committee Chairman Fred W. Smith said his committee hasn't changed the tentative 1955 budget turned over to it by supervisors this week.

The County Board of Auditors roughed out the estimated budget, which is $463,567.64 higher than this year's. The supervisors will work out a detailed budget later this year.

Smith's committee will bring up several other matters at Monday's supervisors' meeting.

The committee will suggest that county offices stay closed Saturdays, instead of opening in the morning.

They also will report on a new well at the "county center" on Telegraph road and on bringing more of the center into Pontiac.

The Boundaries Committee, headed by William A. Ewart, will report on special elections proposed for Southfield Park, which will decide whether to become a city, and in Clawson-Troy Township, which will decide whether to annex a 101-acre chunk of Troy Township.

Harry W. Horton, Buildings and Grounds Committee chairman, will report on the mixup in bids for building a farmers' market here. The report has the Market Committee's approval. Horton also will suggest the sale of several pieces of county-owned land.

Woman Phones on Day of 2nd Fire in Fenton

Arson Probe Confused as Police Arrest Two Suspects, Release One

The arson probe of two major Fenton fires became more involved today when the Pontiac Press learned that a Holly lumberyard received a fire threat from a woman.

The new development followed disclosures yesterday that:

1. Genesee County Sheriff's deputies arrested a Fenton man Thursday as a "good suspect" in the lumber yard fires.

2. Fenton Police Chief Orie Clark received an anonymous phone call from a man who claimed he knew the identity of the firebug in the first blaze.

3. A man was arrested on the strength of the phone call, but was released after his wife claimed he was at home when the fire occurred.

The two lumberyard fires, within 12 days of each other, caused an estimated $125,000 damage at the Lee Lumber Co. last Wednesday and $250,000 at the Fenton Lumber Co. April 2.

The arson investigation was started when the odor of kerosene or fuel oil at the Lee yard led officials to believe a firebug was involved.

The arson theory was given greater credence when an anonymous woman telephoned the Lee Kerton lumberyard near Holly and said, "Watch out for tonight."

Her call was made the same day on which the Lee Lumber Co. fire took place.

The lumberyard is about a mile north of Holly and only about five miles from the Fenton yard.

Lee Kerton, owner, said they immediately placed the lumber yard under heavy guard and it is still being guarded.

"The woman called about 5:45 in the afternoon and hung up the receiver immediately after saying, 'Watch out for tonight.'

The day after the threat, Genesee deputies picked up a Fenton man who recently had been released from the psychopathic ward at Hurley Hospital in Flint.

Sheriff Don Carmichael called him a "good suspect" and said a

Wintry Easter Faces Tourists

Mountaineers Missing Since Thursday Night in Austria

ROME (AP)—A pre-Easter storm whipped down from the Alps into Italy today, endangering shipping and giving the country a touch of wintry weather.

Throughout the rest of Europe the weather was unseasonably cold and generally stormy. In central Austria raging blizzards hampered a search for 13 German students and teachers missing since Thursday night in the rocks and slopes of the Dachstein Mountain area.

In Rome, a record throng of tourists, hoping for a sunny Easter holiday, awoke today to a cold, grey day and weather forecasters held back predictions for Sunday although the sun shone weakly through the clouds during the day.

In other parts of Italy it was much colder, with snow covering the hills around Florence and freezing weather in the northern mountain passes.

Fierce winds sent large and small craft all along Italy's Mediterranean and Adriatic coast into shelter last night. One passenger was killed and 19 injured aboard the post boat Lazio, crowded with foreign tourists among its 360 passengers on a Palermo to Naples run.

Giant waves smashed against the ship and forced it to return to Palermo. A 30-year-old Italian woman passenger died in a hospital this morning from her injuries.

Sixty mountaineers were searching for the three Heilbronn, Germany, teachers and 10 students, aged 15 to 17, who failed to return from a tour of the Dachstein Mountain area Thursday night.

Indochinese Reds Close Up 800 Yards From French

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh attackers tightened their steel ring around Dien Bien Phu today and stabbed to within 800 yards of the key center area of the French Union fortifications.

Garrison soldiers, backed by planes and tank and artillery fire, counterattacked against the Communist-led rebels at all points.

Relentless French drives against infiltrating Vietminh units entrenched on the northern part of Dien Bien Phu's main airstrip failed yesterday to rout them.

At the airstrip, the rebels clung to dugouts just 800 yards from the bunkers where Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, the fortress comander, has his headquarters.

The 50-year-old de Castries was hard at work directing the fortress' defenses when he received word the Paris government had officially boosted his rank from colonel to brigadier general.

A French plane parachuted to de Castries the two stars which the French use to designate a brigadier general.

Behind a curtain of mortar fire that blocked yesterday's French charges against the infiltrated Vietminh, the enemy managed to dig in deeper, fanning out from new craters they had blasted in Dien Bien Phu runways with high explosives.

Other rebel units trying to sneak toward the airstrip from the northwest were knocked out, the French said.

Some French troops skirted the rebel air field positions to reinforce strongpoints on the eastern and western rims of the besieged fortress.

The French acknowledged, however, the enemy's foothold near

Offer of Dogs Dries Tears of Forlorn Lad

New hope is chasing away the despair of a little Pontiac boy who sobbed himself to sleep last night.

And this hope springs from the hearts of grown-ups who know how a little boy feels when he loses his dog.

Pontiac learned of Doug Sheffield's plight yesterday when a front-page picture in this newspaper showed the eight-year-old kneeling over the body of his dog, Sandy.

Doug blames himself for Sandy's death.

He told his mother yesterday that it wouldn't have happened if he had fashioned a leash with his belt and kept Sandy out of the street.

But it did happen. Sandy died under the wheels of a truck.

All Pontiac felt the lost almost as much as Doug did.

Phone calls of sympathy poured into Doug's home at 25 Henry Clay Ave. Some offered dogs to replace Sandy.

Doug knows nothing will ever take the place of his little Cocker Spaniel.

But maybe one of the dogs will be almost as good.

Doug will find out today. His mother, Mrs. Walter S. Sheffield, plans to take him to the homes of the generous persons who have offered a dog to help a boy in need.

April Showers May Dampen Easter in Pontiac

Umbrellas and raincoats may be part of the Easter costume for Pontiac residents Sunday morning, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Possible showers and cloudy skies is the forecast for the area coupled with 54-56-degree temperatures. Forecasters predict a low of 38 to 42 tonight.

Friday, the mercury climbed from a low of 39 to reach a high of 66 degrees in the city. Approximately .15 of an inch of rain was recorded here yesterday.

At 8 a. m. today the temperature stood at 38, but by 1 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered 54 degrees.

U.S. May Send Men to Fight in Indochina

ican opposition to such a move, that such a truce would deliver Indochina to the Communists.

Although Nixon's declaration was regarded in some quarters as reflecting a National Security Council decision, the purported policy was challenged immediately by Republicans as well as Democrats.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member, said in an interview he doesn't believe any decision has been made to use American troops in Indochina under any circumstances.

"If we have such a policy, I'd like to know about it," Hickenlooper said, "but I don't think we have."

Sen. Long (D-La), a former Armed Services Committee member, said no U. S. troops should be sent to Indochina without a congressional resolution approving it. And he said he would vote against any such resolution.

President Eisenhower told his news conference Feb. 10 that no one could be more bitterly opposed to getting the United States involved in a hot war in Indochina than he was. Consequently, he said every move he authorized was calculated, as far as humans could do it, to make certain that does not happen.

The storm over the Indochina statement overshadowed a controversy over President Eisenhower's pledge yesterday that the United States will maintain a "fair share" of troops in Europe for joint defense of the continent "while a threat to that area exists."

The President's declaration, issued from his vacation headquarters at Augusta, Ga., was addressed to the prime ministers of the six nations involved in the projected European Defense Community. U. S. officials indicated it was aimed at encouraging the reluctant French to join the organization.

But as for Indochina, Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said that two steps should be taken "before we think about sending our troops" there.

"The first thing we should do is to blockade the coast of Communist China," he said. The second, he said, was to utilize South Korean troops and Nationalist Chinese troops on Formosa to fight the Chinese Communists he said were "spearheading" the attack.

Nixon said that the end of the Korean War had produced the present crisis. It permitted the Chinese Communists to step up their aid to Communist-led Vietminh.

Without indicating the time about which he was talking, he said that "a better decision might have been made during the Korean War" to take the risks involved and attempt to inflict "a substantial defeat on the Communists."

Holly Lumberyard Threatened in Call lie detector test given to him Thursday indicated he was lying about his whereabouts on the night of the Lee Lumber Co. fire.

Deputies said the suspect at first claimed he was home with his wife Wednesday morning, but later admitted he was near the scene of the fire.

The 35-year-old father of two also reportedly telephoned Fenton Police Chief Clark after the first lumberyard fire.

Clark said that a man phoned three times about 12 hours after flames razed the Fenton Lumber Co. about 2 a. m.

He talked to the police radio operator twice, then called Chief Clark.

"I talked to him for a long time," said Clark. "He kept beating around the bush. But finally he identified a Fenton man as the arsonist."

Clark said the man was arrested for questioning, and tha. his voice matched all three anonymous phone calls.

"It was the same man who phoned. I'm sure of that," Clark said.

The police chief said the man's wife claimed that he was home with her when the fire occurred.

"This information and the fact that he was not seen at the fire meant we did not have enough evidence to hold him further," Clark continued.

Clark said he did not know the name of the arson suspect held in Flint, and Genesee County authorities withheld the man's name pending further investigation.

Deputies reported, however, that the suspect admitted making the phone calls to Fenton Police.

Clark said the man suffered a head injury in World War II and had received periodic treatments in psychopathic wards.

He is being held in Genesee County Jail.

Two teenagers were arrested for questioning about the fires Wednesday, but both were released.

Editors Wind Up Session, Hold Panels, Hear Hoover

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former President Herbert Hoover rings down the curtain tonight on the three-day annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Hoover, who heads the commission on government reorganization, will be the principal speaker at the closing banquet.

Before winding up its convention, the ASNE will elect officers for 1954-55 and hold panel discussions on "slanted writing" and "looking back on what may be the last Kinsey report."

James S. Pope, executive editor of both the Courier-Journal and the Times, Louisville, Ky., is expected to succeed Basil Walters of the Knight newspapers, as president.

Kenneth MacDonald, of the Des Moines, Iowa, Register-Tribune, is slated to succeed Pope as first vice president. A contest is on tap for second vice president.

Named to the board of directors were Virginius N. Dabney, Richmond, Va. Times-Dispatch; Stanley P. Barnett, Cleveland Plain Dealer; Carl A. Lindstrom, Hartford, Conn. Times; Michael A. Gorman, Flint, Mich. Journal, and Walter B. Lister, Philadelphia Bulletin.

At a morning session, Norman Isaacs, of the Louisville Times, will lead a discussion on "slanted writing," and Charles Guy, of the Lubbock, Tex. Avalanche-Journal, will head the panel on the Kinsey report.

Two editors, Sam H. Day, of the New York Journal-American, and James Kerney, of the Trenton, N. J. Times, presented opposing views yesterday on the work of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), chairman of the Senate investigating committee.

Day contended that McCarthy's investigation of alleged communism in the Army "has been stopped in its tracks" because of the subcommittee's decision to look into Army charges that the senator and his aides sought special favors for a drafted colleague.

Kerney maintained that McCarthy "reached a new height of unreliability" in his Army inquiry and said that handling stories about the senator poses a problem for editors who seek to keep the public accurately informed.

Kerney proposed that the ASNE establish a standing committee on freedom of the press to handle such cases as that involving McCarthy and his fight with New York Post editor James Wechsler.

He insisted that McCarthy sought to intimidate Wechsler because of the latter's editorial attacks on him.

Day suggested that "those delicate souls" who cannot stand McCarthy's methods should unite in demanding a non-partisan expose of communism in government and in defense industries.

During the session, the editors received reports on the progress of the Eisenhower administration's program from cabinet members and top-ranking congressional leaders. They also visited the Pentagon and received a special briefing on the defense situation.

ted that they did not at first believe the vision they saw was their Master.

Disciples described the latest appearance as occurring in a dining room here while they were eating. They said Jesus appeared in a doorway and spoke to them.

They admitted astonishment on seeing Him, but they said He showed them the wounds on His hands and feet left by the nails which fastened Him to the cross on which He died. He was said to have eaten meat with them as further proof of His "resurrection."

At this meeting, the followers said Jesus chided them for their disbelief and told them to "Go into all the world and preach the gospel."

An earlier appearance was reported on the dusty road to Emmaus by two friends of the rabbi, Cleophas, and an unidentified man.

Cleophas said Jesus approached them from behind as they walked, and asked about their conversation. The men did not know the stranger to be Jesus, Cleophas said, until they sat at supper with Him later in Emmaus.

He was said to have explained His death and resurrection to them as fulfillment of prophecy, and then to have mysteriously disappeared.

The resurrection claims once more threw this city into the turmoil it experienced with the coming of the Nazarene eight days ago.

After entering Jerusalem ceremoniously, with palm branches strewn in the path of the donkey on which he rode, Jesus shocked the city by driving bankers and sacrifice dealers from the Temple.

While teaching to pilgrims here for the feast of Pesach (Passover), Jesus was said to have blasphemed the Temple by threatening to destroy it.

To His intimates, He predicted His own death and betrayal, which came Friday when He was crucified after conviction on a charge of insurrection against the Roman emperor by claiming to be a king.

Commepting on the "resurrection," Caiaphas, the Jewish high priest, said the incidents were "obviously fabricated by supporters of the insurrectionist to uphold His claim to rise again."

Pilate, the Roman Governor, scoffed at the reappearance reports, calling them "ridiculous."

Guards at the Roman prison where Longinus, the centurion who commanded the squad that crucified Jesus, is being held for court-martial, said Longinus acknowledged belief in the rabbi as the son of God. They quoted the centurion as saying:

"He has done as He said He would."

Christians Ready for Easter Rites

old Jerusalem, scene of the crucifixion and resurrection.

Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, Texas, president of the National Council of Churches, declared in his Easter message to the council that the joy of Easter reaches to the depths of all Christians and it is "beyond anything this world can give."

Said he, "To understand Easter we must follow Christ through the agonies and death of Holy Week. Without the crucifixion there would be no Easter. For victory is born out of struggle; and life inevitably involves struggle.

"Easter is, then, God's gift to use that we have new light for our darkness, strength for our battle, peace for our pain, — even in a world of tumult and a life of pain, the hardest questions are answered in Holy Week and Easter."

EASTER

By J. Lee Voorhees

J. L. VOORHEES

Nineteen hundred and fifty-four years ago Christ dragged his cross through the streets of Golgatha. A few men would have carried his burden; the soldiers angrily drove them away. A few thought it a hilarious occasion, jeered this frail man on his way to Crucifixion.

M. E. SIPLE

Imagine the consternation when this frail man was entombed and on the third day the stones were rolled away, his tomb was empty. The hilarious roisterers fell down in fright, cried, "He is risen." The men who believed in His immortality, who would have carried his burden, have lived through the centuries and are among the immortals.

So many times we have the opportunity to help a fellowman carry his burden. A kind word, a smile, handclasp, or just listen is a tonic that eases heavy burdens.

Easter is the beginning of new life. Celebrate this joyous occasion in your church, with song, prayer and love.

Confident Living

Dwell on Tranquil Hours to Be Free From Tension

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A few weeks ago I had a talk with a famous oldtime baseball pitcher whom I admired as a boy. You may not be old enough to remember Cy Young, but I remember him very well. He won 511 games, setting an all-time baseball record in the major leagues.

DR. PEALE

"Cy, were you ever nervous when you pitched?" I asked him.

He looked at me in surprise. "Why, no," he said.

"How did you keep from being nervous?" I persisted.

"I just wasn't made that way," he told me.

I commented on how fortunate he was not to be "made that way." It is a marvelous thing to meet someone nowadays who isn't under tension. But if you seem unable to have a relaxed mental attitude, take heart — you can be "made that way." By practice, you can become a relaxed person and be free from tension.

A most important element in such practice is tranquilizing the mind. One of the best ways to do that is go to church. The sunshine flooding through the beautiful windows is a symbol of serenity; moreover, the holy place is filled with faith.

The glorious music of the hymns helps create a mood which lifts the heart and brings true tranquility. And the wonderful thing is that you can hold such great spiritual moments in your memory to draw upon them for strength when things become tense or difficult.

In the midst of stress, going back mentally to some experience of beauty and peace is a profound secret of making yourself into a relaxed and tranquil person.

I have been practicing this technique myself, and it is most rewarding. I have gone back through my experiences, mentally reviewing and reliving all the beautiful scenes I have ever witnessed.

You do not need to go back to a place physically to get something from it. You can return there mentally, and less expensively, and get the same results.

I heard of a little girl who had lived all her life in Colorado, amidst the towering mountains near Denver. Her family was about to move to Texas and she was told that in Texas there were no mountains. "But, Mommy," she protested, "I'm going to miss the mountains."

"You can take them with you in memory," her mother told her.

On the morning they left, her mother noticed her outside the house, looking at the mountains and opening and closing her eyes as fast as she could. "What are you doing, honey?" her mother asked.

"I'm photographing the mountains on my mind," the child explained, "so that I can take them with me to Texas." Later she was to love the vast beauty of the far reaching plains of Texas.

When I was in Honolulu I thought it was the most beautiful place I had ever seen. I promised myself to return some day and shall entertain that fond hope until I go back to those charming islands. I photographed the beauty of Hawaii on my mind and brought it back to New York with me.

So great is the reconstructive power of memory that even now I can plainly hear the soft washing of the surf; I can see the blue water off Waikiki, and the golden sunshine over Diamond Head. I can hear plaintive Hawaiian music and get the aroma of the abundance of flowers.

When I close my eyes I can see in memory that place of beauty. I can feel its peace.

So we can use our memories to tranquilize the mind. Perhaps what the Psalmist had in mind when he said, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my strength."

Try such an excursion in your own thoughts. See what can be done in this way to add to your peace of mind. Memorize present moments of peacefulness as they come to you. Recall from your subconscious mind earlier experiences in your life which have left an impression of tranquillity and quiet on you.

Practice using these beautiful memories to tranquilize your mind. Recall every inspiration, every high moment, every uplifting experience, and draw again upon the peace of God which they brought you. The practice of tranquility will help you relax mentally and live efficiently.

Migratory Labor Commission Is Urged for Florida

Florida may be the next state to set up a governor's interdepartmental commission on migratory labor—if the call for such a commission by the Florida Christian Ministry to Migrants is honored. Such commissions now function in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York states and at the federal level in Washington, D. C., thereby permitting overall approaches to solving health, education, welfare and labor needs of the men and women who harvest the nation's crops.

At a recent meeting of the Florida Ministry's State Committee, attended by church men and women, community leaders, growers and processors, state officials and representatives of the cooperating body, the National Council of Churches' Division of Home Missions, a subcommittee was named to explore ways of achieving such a commission.

The Soviet German news agency, ADA, said that representatives of DEKT had agreed to this condition.

This will be the first time sine World War II that the DEKT rally will convene in an East German city.

Milford Election Slated Monday

Ballot on Amendment to Equalize Assessments for Improvements

Under the present charter provision, special assessments on vacant lots for installation of sewerws and curbs and gutters are limited to 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the lots.

Village councilmen found it impossible under the charter limitation to make public improvements on streets where vacant lot owners refused to waive the limitation.

Councilmen pointed out that most sewer improvements range from $250 per lot and upwards.

A recent proposal by Milford which would allow the village to pay $1,600 to bring vacant lot assessments in line with those of improved lots was rejected by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Lapeer Trials Consolidated

Eight Farmers' Cases Go to Court Together; Venue Change Allowed

LAPEER (UP) — A consolidated trial and a change of venue have been granted eight farmers charges with obstructing justice in the attempted 1952 eviction of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens.

Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn Friday granted consolidation and new location motions in which both defense and prosecution joined.

No date was set for the trial nor was the location chosen.

The motions were made when a jury of six women and five men failed Thursday to return a verdict in the trial of Lee Mathews, 60, fourth of 11 persons charged with interfering with Lapeer county Sheriff Clark Gregory in the eviction attempt. A second eviction try was successful.

Under the consolidation, the seven others will be tried when Mathews faces his second trial.

The seven are: Harold Trainor, 76, of Goodland Township; William Howard, 76, of Clifford; Lawrence Westen 62, of North Branch; Howard Abbott 45, of Columbiaville; John Donovan, 61, of Imlay City; Ray Warner, 70, of Almont and Harold Jarvis, 37, of Lapeer.

State Decision on Vaccine Due

Medical Society to Tell Whether It Approves of Polio Serum

DETROIT (AP) — Parents of an estimated 60,000 Michigan youngsters will know Monday whether the Michigan Medical Society approves state participation in a nationwide anti-polio vaccination program.

Dr. William Bromme, head of the society's eight-man executive committee, said Friday a decision will be made over the Easter weekend. The committee, which has power to make decisions for the society, will be polled on the matter in the next two days.

The program is scheduled to begin April 26.

The society has withheld approval of participation by 11 Michigan counties in the program. It said it was not fully satisfied with the vaccine's safety.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, however, has informed Bromme he is confident the vaccine is safe. The anti-polio serum offers "strong hope of protection against the disease," he added.

Bromme said: "I personally will go along with him (Heustis)."

Heustis wired Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, that an estimated minimum of 60,755 Michigan school children will take part in the serum trials.

The estimate was based on the rate at which parents are returning request forms distributed last week.

Workman Saves Life of Boy, 15, in Quarry Trap

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Clifford Neal Jr. can thank his stars he is alive today—and he can also thank a conveyor operator named Pete Icardo.

Clifford, of nearby El Cerrito and his friend, 16-year-old James Munson of San Pablo, bicycled to a quarry at San Pablo yesterday.

The boys climbed a 75-foot mound of half-inch crushed rock. Then they went down into a 20-crater-like depression at the top.

They didn't know the depression was caused by the gravel dropping into an underground conveyor belt. A hoper was opening to the belt directly underneath as Cliff slid down the crater walls.

He found himself knee deep in the gravel and sinking further.

Munson scrambled out of the depression.

Munson found Icardo, who held Clifford by the head until the conveyor crew shut off the power.

Finally, Clifford was pulled out okay.
