State College Aid Request Is Refused by Republicans

Kennedy Warns Formosa Not to Attack Mainland

Tells Peiping, Too, of U. S. Stand to Defend Quemoy, Matsu

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under policy decisions of President Kennedy, the United States is reported to have told President Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa that it flatly opposes threatened attacks by the Chinese Nationalists on Communist China.

In another move to forestall a Formosan crisis, Kennedy publicly warned the Communists Wednesday against attacks on Nationalist-held territory, including the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

"The United States," Kennedy told a news conference in words directed to Peiping, "will take the action necessary to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

More on Conference on Page A-8

Informants later confirmed that the U.S. position on any Nationalist military operations against the Communist-held mainland has been made known to the Nationalist leaders at Taipei.

The President said a 1954 agreement which commits Nationalist China not to act against the Communists without U.S. agreement is still in force.

"I have indicated that our interest in this area is defensive, and we would like to have a renunciation of the use of force," he said.

Alan G. Kirk, retired admiral who is the new U.S. envoy to Taipei, is understood to be carrying a message from Kennedy to Chiang dealing with the Formosa situation. Kirk left here Wednesday for Formosa.

In official quarters here the impression is that if the Reds launched a massive assault on Quemoy and Matsu the United States would almost certainly go to Nationalist China's support.

Representatives Shrug Off Hike of $5.1 Million

Lawmakers Approve Stack of Bills; Hope to Head Home Today

LANSING (AP) — Majority Republicans in the House relentlessly turned aside last-ditch Democratic proposals to give the state colleges and universities an additional $5.1 million yesterday.

The day before, they firmly rejected every move by the opposition to increase appropriations for mental health, penal institutions, public health and other state programs, sticking to the budget pieced together earlier in the month.

The GOP's economy stand faltered briefly when 15 Republicans joined 44 Democrats to approve a 40 per cent pay raise for legislators already cleared by the Senate.

It will raise salaries of the 144 legislators from $5,000 to $7,000 effective in January and cost the state $288,000 a year, not including a similar increase for the lieutenant governor.

Legislators packed their bags and toed the mark for the homeward rush today as they met to put the final touches on a record $512-million state budget.

Lawmakers expect to reach final agreement on spending bills today, a scant three days before the start of a new fiscal year for the state. They will recess July 27 to take care of a few odds and ends and wind up the regular 1962 session.

Over strong objections, the House also endorsed yesterday a Senate-approved $100,000 increase in the $250,000 budget for tourist promotion. Rep. Don Vanderwerp, R-Fremont, said the increase was badly needed to keep Michigan in competition with other states for the tourist dollar.

Extra Donations Put 'Y' Drive Over Goal

Extra donations by four contributors have pushed the YMCA's building fund drive over its goal of $650,000, it was announced today by Robert M. Critchfield, general campaign chairman.

Critchfield said he had received word this morning that the four additional pledges have brought the total to $651,300.

ROBERT M. CRITCHFIELD

The money will be used to pay for construction of a new wing and renovation of the present YMCA building at 131 Mt. Clemens St. Work was started on the projects April 24.

The Community National Bank, McManus, John & Adams, Inc., the Glancy Foundation and Mrs. Kathryn Nephier all have increased their contributions in order to put the drive over the top, Critchfield said.

The fund campaign started in May, 1961, after YMCA officials said additional space at the Pontiac "Y" was "an urgent need."

When appointed general chairman last year, Critchfield pointed out that school enrollment in Pontiac had doubled in the past 10 years. He said larger "Y" facilities were needed to keep pace with the increased population.

The present building was built in 1938 to serve a membership of 1,033. Today, there are some 4,500 members.

As part of the expansion program, a $40,000 swimming pool will be built near the present pool in the existing building for instructional purposes.

An all purpose room, kitchen, men's club area, snack bar and main lobby will be located in the new wing. Other new facilities will include an exercise gymnasium, shower and locker rooms for women, craft and club rooms and building maintenance items.

"Our goal was reached only by continuing effort and interest by the campaign committee and the board of directors," said Critchfield, former Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

"Although we have reached our goal and are proceeding with the new building, the board of directors has several other projects in mind which had to be bypassed during the campaign," he said.

"We hope to proceed with these projects as additional contributions come in," he said. Critchfield indicated that most of those shelved during the campaign involved building projects.

Sec. Freeman Defends Agency

Admits Estes Case Errors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman defended his agency's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today but acknowledged "some errors and shortcomings for which I, as secretary of agriculture, must assume responsibility."

Freeman's statements were in testimony prepared for the Senate investigation of the Estes case.

The Senate Investigation subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is exploring how the Pecos, Tex., financier made multimillion-dollar profits under federal farm aid programs.

The committee also will decide whether high-powered political influence deals helped him.

DENIES FAVORS

Freeman declared "no official or employe now in the department is known or can reasonably be believed to have improperly accepted gifts or other favors from Estes."

"Estes received no special benefits as a result of favored treatment from the Department of Agriculture," he added.

Freeman repeated what he has said before, that the government has lost no money through its business with Estes."

In it he said Estes should not have received additional cotton acreage allotments now under scrutiny in the hearing, and he said the appointment of Estes to the National Cotton Advisory Committee was a mistake.

Freeman said, however, that Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy acted in good faith in approving the appointment.

In Pecos, Tex., district Judge J. H. Starley upheld a defense argument Wednesday that Billie Sol Estes couldn't get a fair trial in his home town and said he will transfer the case to Tyler, 529 miles east of Pecos.

District Judge Otis T. Dunagan told reporters in Tyler Wednesday night he had talked to Starley and would accept the case. No date will be set until the Pecos judge signs a formal order, and he said that will be done July 23.

He is believed to have been in the water 10 or 15 minutes before his body was discovered about 7:30 p.m., according to West Bloomfield Township firemen who attempted to revive him.

Funeral service will be held 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Glen Eden Memorial Park, Livonia.

Fair Authority OK'd by House

Measure Sent Back to Senate With Limit on Bonding Power

LANSING (AP) — A bill to create an authority to develop the State Fair Grounds in Detroit won approval in the House today and went back to the Senate with an amendment putting a $35 million ceiling on the authority's bonding power.

The bill would set up a 20-member commission to direct the development of the 164-acre site on Detroit's northern border. Members of the present State Fair Commission would be named to the authority.

A development commission appointed by Gov. Swainson already has submitted a master plan for development of the fairgrounds.

It calls for construction of an 80,000-seat civic stadium which could be used for professional and collegiate athletic contests and possibly for future Olympic games.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Other proposed buildings include a permanent merchandise mart, an automobile center, a youth building, a community arts building and a dormitory.

The bill appropriates $500,000 to get the authority started. The allocation replaces the annual state appropriation to the Fair Commission.

After the initial grant, the fair would be self-supporting and require no more state grants.

Gov. Swainson estimated the fair's gross receipts would amount to $950,000 this year.

Ex-Tiger Great Mickey Cochrane Is Dead at 59

DETROIT (AP) — Gordon Stanley Cochrane, former manager of the Detroit Tigers and a member of baseball's hall of fame died today at a Lake Forest, Ill., hospital.

A spokesman at the hospital said Cochrane "had been in and out of the hospital several times in the last year." He said the cause of death had not yet been determined.

Cochrane, 59, joined the Tigers in 1934 as a catcher manager and led the Bengals to the American League pennant. In 1935 Cochrane directed Detroit to another pennant and a World Series title.

Kelley to Tell Court Reshuffle Is Needed

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today he will tell the State Supreme Court Monday that the State Senate apportionment system violates the Federal Constitution.

Kelley said he will suggest several ways of remedying the situation, including a special session of the legislature to allow lawmakers to revamp Senate districts themselves.

Kelley, for the most part, will side with August Scholle, Michigan AFL-CIO president, who filed suit to declare Senate districts illegal.

State OKs 'Model' Boat Control Act

LANSING (AP) — A new boating control act described as a model for the rest of the nation was on its way to Gov. Swainson today.

The bill cleared the legislature yesterday after the House agreed not to require legislative approval of regulations set up for various inland lakes.

Control will be placed in the hands of a three-man committee drawn from the Department of State, the State Waterways Commission and the State Conservation Department.

The committee will impose regulations for inland waters if local governing bodies request it. Hearings and an investigation will be held first.

Rep. Charles A. Boyer, R-Manistee, the author, said the measure is designed to prevent "an endless hodge-podge" of varying rules and regulations on Michigan's 11,000 inland lakes.

Local governing bodies now have control over lakes in areas under their jurisdiction. Houghton Lake, the largest inland body of water in Michigan, is part of seven political subdivisions, Boyer said.

Says County Lake Code Is Possible

Countywide control of lake activities will be possible should the Oakland County Board of Supervisors take advantage of a proposed state boating act, a county enforcement officer said today.

★ ★ ★

The bill only needs the signature of Gov. Swainson to become law. It's before him today.

Donald Kratt, safety director for the Sheriff's Department, said that the law would enable the board to request public hearings on a uniform water code for the entire county.

The regulations would probably be much like the uniform ordinances already adopted by 10 county townships, he said.

SEEN BASIS FOR CODE

While a three-man state committee would have the final say on the regulations, Kratt said he believed that the township's uniform code would be the basis for the county restrictions.

The new law would eliminate the need for each local governing body to adopt the code.

In addition to setting up a committee to rule on overall controls, the act also provides additional funds for water safety control.

Oakland County can receive up to $30,000 for its safety program, Kratt said, under the new program.

Currently, the department is receiving $10,000 from the county and an identical amount from the state.

The new provision would give the department an additional $10,000 from the state.

The three-man committee, with the Michigan Sheriffs Association serving in an advisory capacity, can regulate the size, power, speed and hours of operation of motorboats, place channel markers and navigational aids, establish swimming and fishing areas and impose various other regulations.

To help enforce marine laws, the three-year boating registration fee will go up from $2 to $3 next January. The additional $500,000 will be distributed to counties on a 2-1 matching basis, replacing the present 50-50 formula, up to a maximum of $20,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

The bill also incorporates water safety regulations, most of them taken from coast guard regulations enforced on the Great Lakes and connecting waters. They require life preservers, fire extinguishers and lights and spell out rules of the road.

GOP Ignores Plea for State College Aid

up $2.5 million; $116.56 million for education, mostly state colleges and universities, up $6.9 million; $68.8 million for welfare programs, about the same as current spending; $10.19 million for regulatory agencies, up $135,000; and $27 million for general government, a decline of about $300,000.

Increases for higher education institutions are about half of what Gov. Swainson proposed, and Republicans indicated the schools should boost tuitions to make up the difference.

REJECTED AGAIN

Swainson turned thumbs down for the second year yesterday on a highly controversial bill aimed at nullifying the State Supreme Court's decision in the Ford-Canton case.

Swainson vetoed the bill with the observation that it would have weakened Michigan's unemployment compensation l a w. He rejected a similar bill last year.

He signed a state school aid bill, describing it as a "very substantial step forward in meeting the educational needs of our children."

The bill changes the state school aid formula from the present $205 per pupil less 3¼ deductible millage to $224 per pupil less 3⅞ deductible millage.

The increase will average $10 per pupil.

Loan to Build Up Housing

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The Public Housing Administration has approved a federal loan of $2,877,772 for a low rental housing project here. Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara, both D-Mich., told city officials in a telegram Wednesday the loan covers most of construction of 200 new low rent houses, of which 100 will be designed for the elderly.

Ex-Mayor on Airport:

'Time for County to Talk'

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors "has a responsibility to clear the air by announcing termination of its plans for a major jet airport," according to former Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Rowston served as one of Pontiac's representatives on the county board and chairman of its aviation committee when plans for the new airport were announced in February.

"Now that the Federal Aviation Agency has rejected the county's airport plans, the committee should recommend that the board concentrate efforts on developing Pontiac Municipal Airport," Rowston added.

He called for a joint meeting of city and county officials.

Rowston said he could not necessarily agree with the board chairman, Delos Hamlin, that the county needed a second general airport at the county-owned Allen Airport in Orion Township.

WANTS SITE HELD

The Allen field was purchased by the county last month to provide a nucleus for future expansion into a multimillion-dollar jet facility.

Since then, Hamlin has stated that even with the FAA's rejection of the site for a major airport, it still should be expanded as a general airport to serve industry.

"The county shouldn't enter into such an endeavor until a master plan has been received for the area and some agreement worked out with city officials as to the future of Pontiac Municipal Airport," Rowston said.

* * *

He recommended that the county either purchase the city-owned airport or operate it as a joint venture.

"It is no secret that Pontiac doesn't have the resources to expand the airport, nor should it be solely a city project when many of the users come from elsewhere in the county," Rowston said.

Hamlin has agreed to the point of saying he thinks airports should be the county's responsibility and not the city's.

Both Hamlin and Rowston concurred that one of Pontiac Municipal's major drawbacks at present is the poor access afforded by the two-lane M59 Highway leading to the field.

* * *

City and county committees should go to Lansing together to meet with State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in an effort to expedite enlarging the highway to four lanes, Rowston said.

Trade Program Facing House Showdown Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trade program President Kennedy says is vital to the nation's future comes up for a final vote in the House today, its fate uncertain.

* * *

Hours before the expected showdown headcount, Democratic and Republican leaders alike were reluctant to guess what will happen to the measure the President has placed at the top of his congressional priority list.

Kennedy opened his news conference Wednesday with a plea for bipartisan support and made additional eleventh-hour appeals for passage in response to several questions. Clearly, his prestige is on the line and he acted as if he knows it.

What the President wants is broad new powers to eliminate tariffs on whole groups of items and to cut in half the duties on others in an effort to meet the rising economic challenge posed by the burgeoning European Common Market.

At the same time Kennedy seeks new forms of help for industries and workers a crumbling of U.S. tariff walls is likely to dislocate.

Barring any unexpected last-minute maneuver, the choice before the House is between the Kennedy program and a one-year extension of the present trade act.

Mark got the hernia operation on his second trip to surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The first time, in a mixup with another baby, he got a tonsillectomy instead.

"Needless to say, Mark is very happy to be home," said Mrs. Milo Trautman, 5650 Cleary St. "He's happy as a lark."

Fugitive Spy Held in Israel

U.S. to Try Extradition of Dr. Robert A. Soblen, Who Escaped by Plane

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel police today arrested Dr. Robert A. Soblen, bail-jumping fugitive from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, and hurried him before a magistrate.

* * *

Arraigned in a Tel Aviv court, Soblen was ordered held for the issuance of an official charge against him within the next 10 days.

It is understood he will be accused of entering Israel illegally and with false papers.

* * *

When police asked for his passport this morning on his arrest at the Hotel Savoy in Tel Aviv he reportedly said he must have lost it on the way from the airport.

* * *

There is no extradition treaty between the United States and Israel under which the United States could ask for Sobel's return.

However, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said in New York "We will make every effort to secure his return."

Area Unaffected Yet by Mobil Oil Strike

Mobil Oil Co. service stations and home deliveries in the Pontiac area remained unaffected today by a strike which has closed the firm's refinery at Trenton and its Dearborn terminal, according to Arthur Epker, district sales manager here.

The company supplies some 50 dealers in the area with gasoline and oil and homes with heating fuel.

While service hasn't been disrupted here yet by the striking Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, Epker didn't know how long the situation would remain unchanged.

The strike ordered by Local 7-389 has halted deliveries to about 450 Mobil stations in the Detroit area. It began at the Dearborn terminal over the discharge of six loaders who the firm said were no longer needed.

Also at issue was a nationwide demand for a 6.5 per cent wage increase, with a floor of 17 cents an hour, to be applied in fringe benefits or as an across-the-board wage hike.

A meeting with Federal mediators is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow.

'Old Fuddy-Duddy' Remembers

'They're Ruining New York'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are three banks worth 18 restaurants?

What good is progress if it ruins what you like?

These are questions I ponder every time I look out the window where I work.

Many people never know when they become a fuddy-duddy and an old fogy. A fuddy-duddy and an old fogy is a person who prefers things as they were rather than as they will be. He fights change.

* * *

Well, every time I hear the riveter's hammer echo in the new 40-plus-story building going up across the street, I consciously become more of a fuddy-duddy and an old fogy.

There seems to be a noisy conspiracy afoot to turn mid-Manhattan, one of the world's favorite playgrounds, into another paper clip forest in uptown Wall Street.

Down come the fine old apartments, the beautifully ugly brownstones. Up go the new antiseptic aluminum and glass business foundries full of offices with neatly lettered doors.

CROWDED WITH VPs

Midtown used to be full of people on a lark. Now it is thronged with vice presidents full of grim purpose. It is getting harder and harder for a human being to find elbow room among the junior executives.

For nearly a quarter of a century I have hung my hat and exercised my typewriter in one of the pioneer outposts of Rockefeller Center.

When I first moved in, I could look out the window and see Old Lady Vanderbilt's society mansion anchoring one end of the street across the way. At the other end of the street was a two-bit bar with a second-hand bookstore upstairs.

* * *

Over the years since then you could get your hair dyed in that single block, have a violin repaired, join a bridge club, rent a hotel room, or wine and dine in 18 restaurants and taverns.

You could have smorgasbord at the Stockholm, enjoy ravioli with Louis (three course lunch—65 cents), dip your muzzle in P.J. Moriarty's Irish coffee, or listen to Toots Shor explain why baseball is more important than agriculture to the national economy.

In the good old summertime there were two outdoor cafes where you could sit and sip bourbon or iced tea and watch the world and the girls go by. The chattering Rockettes from the Radio City Music Hall used to come across the street with their painted faces and rest their lovely long limbs there between shows.

ANYBODY BELONGED

The street was a haunt for oddballs and philosophers, for those climbing up the ladder—and those quietly sliding down. It was a street where anybody belonged and could find a place.

Well, what happened to it all?

They tore down the old hotel. Old Lady Vanderbilt died, and they tore down the landmark she lived in where the champagne bubbled.

One by one they tore down the old brownstones, the beer-perfumed taverns, the restaurants of many languages.

The white "x" sign—the signal of oncoming destruction—was banned in all the dusty windows. Lonely pigeons built interrupted nests in forsaken cornices.

Now the pigeons have vanished with the people and restaurants who once gave the block its identity. Where did they all go, never to be together again?

Now the street across from the window I look from is inhabited by giant office buildings, full of eager beavers eager to go home to the suburbs, and three stone banks.

Banks are wonderful for depositing money, but hardly a place to deposit a life—and certainly they do serve a lousy beef stew.

But only a fuddy-duddy complains against progress. I'm that fuddy-duddy.

Dems in Senate May Publicize Policy Testimony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats indicated today they might move to make public State Department counsel Walter W. Rostow's testimony Tuesday in a brush with Republicans who challenged his Cold War views.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he could see no reason why Rostow's testimony at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, if edited for security protection, could not be made public.

Sparkman said Rostow gave a "wonderful" presentation of his foreign policy views without divulging contents of a policy document GOP leaders have criticized.

Churchill, 88, Falls, Suffers Thigh Fracture

His secretary, Anthony Montague Browne, said Churchill suffered a fracture of the neck of the femur. This upper extension of the thigh bone leads into the socket of the joint. A fracture there could be a serious matter for a man of Sir Winston's age—88 next November.

A spokesman for Lady Churchill in London said Sir Winston will be flown home Friday.

Device Eliminates Radioactive Debris

NEW YORK (UPI)—A research chemist at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn demonstrated today a device for removing radioactive contamination, including strontium 90, from milk.

Dr. Harry P. Gregor, developer of the device, said the electrodialytic process displaces up to 90 per cent of radioactive ions from liquid foods efficiently and economically. It can also be applied to the removal of iodine 131, he said.

More Effective Method Needed in School Voting

To insure as great a turnout at the polls as possible, voting must be made swift and painless. To this end, all but three of Oakland County's precincts have purchased machines.

However, in approximately half of the 30 school districts voting is still done by paper ballots.

In addition to voting ease and less chance of spoiled paper ballots, there are other reasons for using machines — accuracy of count and quick totaling of results.

The public has come to expect that its choices will be made known shortly after the polls close. In this modern age, waiting until the following day for totals is unacceptable to a broad segment of the populace.

To speed things up, a recent state law requires townships and city clerks to take their returns to the county clerk as soon as possible after the polls close—that night—not the next day.

In another attempt to speed up voting procedure, a new law allows city and township clerks, if they wish, to set up separate absentee voting precincts.

Clerks may begin processing the absentee ballots at 7 p.m., checking the signatures on the applications, but the ballots themselves cannot be cast before 8 p.m., in case the absentee voter might return and wish to cast his vote personally.

In the Pontiac school district paper-ballot election June 11, would-be voters turned away from one polling place because the long line was moving so slowly. This may have been happening in more than one precinct.

Principal reason for the slowness of balloting in the one area was a precinct chairman who had trouble reading the registration books, even with her glasses a few inches from the names.

In many cases, precinct workers are elderly ladies who are retired, and willing to work on the elections. They are paid $1 per hour, and the chairman of the precinct receives $2 extra plus $1 for attending a pre-election meeting.

A normal crew is three persons, and they work from poll-opening time at 7 a.m. until they have closed the polls and counted the ballots.

We submit that quite a few of these elderly ladies do not have the stamina to work 15 or 16 hours straight, even though the job is not strenuous. By the peak voting hours of the early evening, their efficiency is at low ebb. After the voters leave and the counting begins, we believe it diminishes further.

Waterford township and school officials have discussed the use of township machines in school elections there, and we think Pontiac should look into the idea. If it were to cost $150 or $200 more for the entire election, it would be money well spent.

In addition, we think a culling of the election boards is overdue, to get workers who are in better condition to serve the public during a long day. Perhaps a flat rate for the job would help.

Even with machines, the operation still will creep along, forcing slow lines and discouraging voters, if the personnel is not striving to speed things up. Perhaps a fresh swing shift at the after-supper hour would get things moving.

As more residents become interested in school affairs, progress must be made in the balloting process. Otherwise, greater numbers of citizens will remember how long it took to vote last time and stop bothering to go to the polls.

There is enough apathy already, without making it worse.

WITH reference to the stock market, it seems that several times recently the bears had the bulls completely cowed.

Up Scholarship Fund From Horse Show Aid

By HOWARD V. HELDENBRAND

A courtly bow to the ladies for the superb job done in staging the 1962 edition of the Annual Horse Show at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, running through Sunday. Co-chairmen of the event, both of Bloomfield Hills, are

Mrs. A. C. Girard

Mrs. L. L. Colbert

The show this year is jointly sponsored by the Hunt Club and the MSUO Scholarship Fund, the latter benefitting from ticket and program sales and partial receipts from two fund-raising innovations —the tented merchandise "Fair" and refreshment stands adjacent to the ring, and a childrens' activities enclosure nearby.

There is a novelty contest, too, which may be entered on payment of a small "registration fee" after which you may guess the amount of money contained in a huge apothecary's jar, its bottom weighted with pennies and filled with loose dollar bills, with a choice of several eye-popping prizes going to the lucky ones.

The executive secretary of the Scholarship Fund

of Bloomfield Hills, is giving administrative direction to the event.

All in all, a most worthy project with a worthy objective — which should be supported by everyone.

Merrily We Roll Along

David Lawrence Says:

Justice's 'Dictum' to Be Felt in U.S.

WASHINGTON — Whether or not the latest Supreme Court decision on the subject of an official prayer in the public schools is soundly based, it has brought sharply to the foreground a discussion of the whole subject of government financing, directly or indirectly, of any institution or activity which relates even remotely to religion.

LAWRENCE

The main ruling of the court was on a narrow question — that is, whether a state can direct that a particular prayer be recited, even though the prayer is itself general and "denominationally neutral."

The issue was whether the state has a right to dictate to the schools any form of prayer. If it does have such discretion, then 'one day the prayer might be neutral, and another day some other prayer with denominational overtones might be ordered by the state board of education.

But although the Supreme Court decided only that no state could direct any official prayer, there was a "concurring" opinion by Justice Douglas which is bound to attract nationwide attention.

What Mr. Douglas said is known as "dictum" and has no bearing on the ruling itself, even though he concurred in the result.

The big question is whether Mr. Douglas's views will be shared by other members of the court and whether a majority will ever join with him in putting into a ruling the point of view which he has just expressed.

"It is customary," wrote Justice Douglas, "in deciding a constitutional question to treat it in its narrowest form. Yet at times the setting of the question gives it a form and content which no abstract treatment could do.

The point for decision is whether the government can constitutionally finance a religious exercise. Our system at the federal and state levels is presently honeycombed with such financing. Nevertheless, I think it is an unconstitutional undertaking whatever form it takes."

BROAD STATEMENT

Standing by itself, this is a very broad statement, but it is even more significant because Justice Douglas attached a footnote in which he presented an extract from a book by David Fellman entitled "The Limits of Freedom."

This particular quotation listed the many "aids" to religion at all levels of government, such as provision for chaplains of both houses of Congress and in the Armed services, compulsory chapel at the armed service academies, and religious services in federal hospitals and prisons.

It also pointed out that the president issues religious proclamations, that the Bible is used for the administration of oaths, and that federal funds were available to parochial schools during the depression in the 1930s.

This is the first time that any justice of the supreme court has even hinted that all forms of federal financing are unconstitutional if they go to religious institutions directly or indirectly. Such a sweeping disapproval of federal "aid" has never been espoused by any prominent member of Congress.

Justice Douglas even would reverse the famous case "Everson vs. Board of Education," in which he voted with the majority in 1947.

He, in effect, is taking issue with President Kennedy, who, while contending that "across the board" aid to all church-related educational institutions would be unconstitutional, holds that there is no such bar to aid being given at only the college level where mathematics and other scientific subjects are taught.

Mr. Douglas would sweep out entirely all forms of governmental aid to church-related institutions, including tuition grants to war veterans.

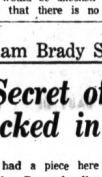
Are you already wondering about where you're going to detour while heading for your vacation spot?

Dr. William Brady Says:

The Secret of Good Coffee Is Locked in the Brewing

Recently, I had a piece here about good coffee. By good coffee I meant not this or that brand of coffee but coffee properly brewed. In the piece I revealed the secret of making good coffee:



DR. BRADY

(1) Grind your own coffee, just enough for each brew.

(2) Let the coffee stand in cold water in a cool or cold place for an hour or two or overnight.

(3) Put the pot on the fire just before time to serve, bring the coffee nearly but not quite to boiling, then douse the fire and serve the coffee immediately.

In the red book, "What to Eat and Why" (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), I devote a chapter to coffee and another to comparison of the health and medical aspects of chocolate, cocoa, coffee and tea; and two chapters to the most nearly perfect food, most healthful beverage for younger persons or those who want to stay young — milk.

Since the coffee piece was printed, I have received a dozen or more letters from coffee importers, processors or promoters of coffee products, or rather letters from their assistants, department executives, secretaries and the like informing me that the great man wants me to cite authorities for my statements or references to recognized authorities who advance . . .

Even a cup of good coffee doesn't help me to endure these vexations.

Coffee (caffeine) acts on the cerebrum for 2½ to as long as 3½ hours. In four hours the drug is entirely oxidized, destroyed or eliminated. So one may enjoy a cup or two of good coffee at dinner time or early in the evening, without fear of being kept awake if one does not go to bed within four hours after drinking the coffee. The notion that coffee at breakfast time will make one "nervous" or keep one awake at night is for the birds.

GOOD FOR HEART

Two or three cups of good coffee daily is good for any adult with heart trouble, particularly coronary artery trouble. Its physiological action is dilation of the coronary arterioles. Thus the heart muscle receives a greater amount of blood oxygen, nutriment.

I'm the authority for any statement I make here. If you have any doubts of this try to find an authority who' will contradict my statement.

I can't stomach stuffed shirts.

Disagree With High Court in Banning School Prayer

I was shocked when I read in The Press of the Supreme Court's decision to deny the right of prayer to the New York school system. This was in the face of an attempt by the New York authorities to combat juvenile delinquency and to create an atmosphere of discipline in the schools.

Perhaps the next step will be to declare the pledge to the flag as unconstitutional for it might offend some Communist or exchange student. I wonder if J. Edgar Hoover should consider the members of the high tribunal when he makes up his next list of public enemies.

The Supreme Court of the United States has stopped our children from school prayer. Some group of neurotic agnostics whine and the Supreme Court jumps through the hoop. Isn't it high time that Congress places a leash on this organization and halts this?

The Tigers have flopped dismally since the Briggs family was compelled to sell. There doesn't seem to be any money to get new talent — just a series of trading — trash for trash.

That swap will certainly win the pennant for the Tigers. Foundation Strives to Help Drivers

Highway transportation is contingent on preserving the safety and pleasure of driving. For 25 years the Automotive Safety Foundation has made that its prime objective. It encourages safety by helping motorists, rather than by sensationalizing the hazards of driving. The ASF works for better road and parking facilities, improvement of driving skills and increasing the effectiveness of all concerned with highways.

The value of this has been demonstrated in the traffic safety record. Steady gains have been made despite the increase in population. The Foundation's program needs the broad support of industry.

Says Rural Areas Need Hospitals

Within a 15 or 20 mile radius we have a great number of post offices, but when it comes to hospitals, we have 3 in the City of Pontiac. Rural cities not only endanger the life of accident victims or other patients, being transported by ambulances at 90 miles an hour, but all traffic between these points, also.

Educational institutions in rural areas are of vital importance, but hospitals being erected in strategic localities are a necessity also. Perhaps our many churches could be utilized along these lines.

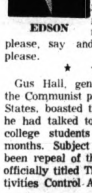
Reds Enjoy All of Our Freedoms

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Communist functionaries in the United States operate as openly as though their organization was an American political opposition, thumbing its nose at government.



EDSON

In spite of all the laws passed by Congress, Supreme Court decisions, enforcement actions by the attorney general and the Subversive Activities Control Board, the Commies are free to come and go as they please, meet where they please, say and do what they please.

Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist party of the United States, boasted the other day that he had talked to 50,000 American college students in the last six months. Subject of his talk has been repeal of the McCarran Act, officially titled The Subversive Activities Control Act of 1950.

This is not to be confused with the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act. The Commies are against that too, because it provides for exclusion and deportation of all Communist aliens. But the more immediate target of the Reds in this country is the McCarran Act of 1950, which is supposed to require the Communist party and its members to register.

Hall's pitch to curious college student political clubs is to liken Communists to Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson and Abraham Lincoln, champions of civil liberties. Then he makes his attack on the McCarran Act and circulates petitions for its repeal because, he alleges, it suppresses civil liberties.

Department of Justice and private patriotic organizations try to schedule speakers to every campus after Communist speakers to undo whatever damage they do, but don't get all.

The Supreme Court in June 1961 handed down its decision upholding constitutionality of the McCarran Act and ordered the party to register as a Communist action group.

But Gus Hall now declares openly that the Supreme Court decided only one little detail and that it is nothing for the party to worry about. "The tide has turned," he proclaims.

These Hall statements were made at a New York rally attended by 2,500 in Manhattan Center on June 7. The meeting got practically no American press coverage. But "National Guardian," which claims to be "The Progressive Newsweekly," carries a full report in its June 18 issue.

The rally was held to protest Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's petition asking the Subversite Activities Control Board to require 10 members of the Communist party's national committee to register.

A collection was taken for their defense fund. The amount collected was not disclosed. Chairman of the proceedings was Miriam Friedlander, one of the 10 and secretary of the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties, rally sponsor.

Also on the platform was Ben Davis, Communist party national secretary who, with Gus Hall, is under indictment for failure to register.

Both are now subject to $11,000 fines and 11 years imprisonment for failure to register, if convicted.

Speakers at the rally included Moe Fishman of Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, The Rev. William Howard Melish of National Council for American-Soviet Friendship and Prof. Louise Pettibone Smith of American Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.

All three organizations have been ordered to register by SACB, but they have appealed these orders to the federal courts.

Another speaker was John Abt, top Communist defense attorney for many years. He declared that a United States Court of Appeals reversal of a contempt conviction of Philip Bart — who had refused to tell a grand jury about Communist activities — presaged additional party victories.

Others who spoke included General Manager Russ Nixon of the National Guardian, and New York Post Columnist Murray Kempton. The latter declared that "as long as the FBI goes to funerals and takes down the names of mourners, all Americans belong to meetings like this."

The reference is to a Communist charge that the names of those attending the funeral of the late Mrs. Claude Lightfoot, wife of a Chicago Communist party leader, were officially recorded. The charge is denied as another Communist party propaganda trick to list itself as martyred underdog.

Belgians to Stay Month in Urundi

Announcement Eases Flight of Whites Before Independence Sunday

USUMBURA, Urundi (UPI) — The flight of whites from this trust territory eased today when Europeans learned that Belgian troops will remain through its first month of independence. They decided "to see how it goes."

★ ★ ★

Many men who had intended to fly out with their families put their wives and children aboard planes but stayed on themselves.

The trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi will become two independent countries this Sunday. It will split into the Republic of Rwanda and the Kingdom of Burundi, assuming African names.

Yesterday the U.N. General Assembly by a vote of 93-0 confirmed the July 1 independence date, set earlier by the world organization's trusteeship council.

The Soviet bloc abstained from the balloting because of its displeasure at a provision in the resolution to permit a few hundred Belgian soldiers to remain in the new countries at least until Aug. 1.

The resolution, as approved by the general assembly, also makes it possible for the Belgians to stay on indefinitely to maintain law and order.

The two new sovereign nations have the option of asking the European troops to stay on after Aug. 1. Otherwise, they will have to get out within one month after formal independence.

MSUO Awards First Hughes Scholarship

The first of four $4,000 Charles Evans Hughes scholarships at Michigan State University Oakland has been won by an Ann Arbor girl.

Annette Payne, 18, a June graduate of Ann Arbor High School, has been selected as the first Charles Evans Hughes scholar in political science.

The scholarships were established by Mrs. William T. Gossett, 430 Goodhue, Bloomfield Hills, in memory of her father, the late Chief Justice of the United States.

The scholarship pays $1,000 every two semesters and is awarded to an outstanding entering student who is interested in political science or law and a career in government service.

The choice is made on the basis of academic performance, personal qualities and promise. Similar scholarships will be awarded in each of the next three years.

Miss Payne, one of the top students in her high school class of 373, was active in dramatics, on the student government council, and an officer of the Methodist Youth fellowship.

She intends to major in political science at MSUO and plans a career in United Nations work or in the diplomatic service.

JFK Backs 'Law of Land' on School Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP)— Whether the Supreme Court's school prayer decision pleases or displeases, in President Kennedy's view it's the law of the land and commands support. Moreover, he says it should encourage every family to pray more at home.

There is bound to be disagreement, Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday.

He did not express a personal opinion but declared:

"I think that it is important for us, if we are going to maintain our constitutional principle, that we support Supreme Court decisions even when we may not agree with them."

This was his indirect advice to members of Congress who have denounced the court for holding an official prayer read in New York schools an unconstitutional crossing of the wall separating church and state.

DECLINES COMMENT

Kennedy declined to comment on constitutional amendments proposed to circumvent the ruling until he could measure their effect on the Bill of Rights.

The President was asked about the decision after he opened the conference with a statement designed to correct any misunderstanding of U.S. policy by the Chinese Communists. In course of questioning, he also restated policy on Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa.

The United States, Kennedy emphasized, opposes use of force in that area but is ready "to take necessary action in the face of force."

He cautioned the Communists, who have been massing troops on the mainland off Quemoy and Matsu, that the U.S. position remains as it was under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower: It is committed to defense of Formosa and the Pescadores and would react to an attack on the offshore islands that appeared to threaten Formosa and the Pescadores. He did not specify the form such a U.S. reaction might take.

INTEREST DEFENSIVE

As for any attempt by Chiang to attack the mainland, Kennedy said a 1954 agreement prohibits such an offensive without U.S. concurrence and repeated: "Our interest in this area is defensive."

For the controversy over the court decision, Kennedy said, there is a simple remedy. "And that is to pray ourselves." He said it could serve as a reminder to pray more at home, attend church with greater fidelity and make the true meaning of prayer more important in the lives of children.

Kennedy had this to say of other subjects:

Trade—With the House gripped in debate over his tariff-cutting bill, Kennedy said passage this year "is vital to the future of this country." He opposed a Republican move to substitute an extension of present trade law as self-defeating on grounds that "we have exhausted the powers" it provides.

DON'T ADJOURN

Congress — don't adjourn, he suggested, without adopting a good deal more of the administration's legislative program. He enumerated trade, tax, medical care, education and farm proposals among those difficult to get through Congress, where he acknowledged some Democrats have been voting with Republicans for years and have to do better. He called the November congressional elections important, with a workable majority hanging in the balance.

Farm Bill—The unexpected defeat of his wheat and feed grains control measure last week was "a great mistake," Kennedy said. "What is interesting," he added, is that Republicans now indicate they will support an emergency feed grain bill but voted against it with four or five exceptions last year.

Eisenhower — Asked about Eisenhower's assertion that his administration is spending too much on defense and "floundering" in fiscal and economic currents, Kennedy said he didn't enjoy the spending but felt strength helps maintain peace. With some Republicans protesting not enough is done to stand up to the Communists and others saying expenses are too high, he quipped: "There should be some coordination of policy. Otherwise it may appear that the Grand Old Party may be floundering."

COMMENDS TED

His brother—Massachusetts voters, he said, will have to judge the qualifications of Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, a Democratic candidate for the Senate, against complaints there would be too many Kennedys in Washington. But for the first time since his youngest brother entered the race, the President commended him publicly—for work in past campaigns — and expressed "confidence in his ability."

★ ★ ★

Business—He welcomed a poll which recorded businessmen favoring his tax credit and trade bill but finding his administration antibusiness. It suggests, he said, that "most businessmen, No. 1, are Republicans and, No. 2, that they realize what is in the best interests of business and the country, that is, the trade bill and the tax credit."

★ ★ ★

Troops—Any decision to reduce U.S. forces in Europe would be based on strategic and tactical considerations, Kennedy said. The six divisions now there will remain through "the foreseeable future" and certainly until "we have a clear indication of what the future is going to be in Berlin."

STANDBY POWER

Taxes — Kennedy again urged Congress to grant him standby tax-cutting authority to cope with economic slumps. As to whether income taxes should be reduced earlier than next Jan. 1, the date he has advocated, Kennedy said the government is keeping watch on signs in the economy. Some are good, he said, and some not so good.

France—The United States accepts the fact, but does not approve, that France is developing its own nuclear deterrent force. "In my judgment," he said "the NATO alliance and the steps we have taken to implement the NATO alliance give adequate security to Europe and the United States."

Rostow—Walt W. Rostow, chief of the State Department's policy planning council has acted very responsibly in preparing a document on national security policies, Kennedy said. He contends the report, which some Republicans have criticized, will help the National Security Council determine what changes are needed in policies laid down in the '50s.

Fallout—Nuclear testing in the atmosphere serves the national interest, he maintained, and, "There is no health hazard here in this country nor will there be from our tests."

Cubans—Kennedy said he was unfamiliar with a committee organized to ransom prisoners held by Fidel Castro in Cuba but sympathized with the objective. When a reporter said Kennedy's sister-in-law, Princess Lee Radziwill, was a member, he said she is free to make her own judgments.

Indonesian Force in Irian Growing

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (UPI) —A larger force of Indonesian paratroopers than previously reported has landed among the jungle-covered plains and mountains of northwest New Guinea, Dutch military sources said today.

A unit of 80 Indonesians landed on the coast of Geelvink Bay May 15 and news of the landing did not reach headquarters here until today, the sources said.

The number of troops now believed to have been sent into New Guinea by the Indonesians since April 28 was placed at nearly 800.

Police Chiefs Close Parley

Muskegon Officer Is Elected to Full Term as State Body Prexy

CADILLAC (UPI)—The annual convention of the Michigan Association of Police Chiefs concluded yesterday with Fred Castenholz of Muskegon being elected to a full term of office as president.

Castenholz has held the post since last year when he took over in mid-term because of a vacancy.

The police chiefs elected Arthur Pears, Niles, first vice president and Ralph Moxley, Birmingham, second vice president. Joseph Childs, state police commissioner from Lansing, is the group's secretary-treasurer.

Last night a Detroit Judge told the 400 persons at the convention crime is a greater danger to the nation than communism or war.

★ ★ ★

Wayne Circuit Judge Edward S. Piggins said, "The average American today believes the greatest danger to this country is war with Russia. This," said the former Detroit police commissioner, "is shallow thinking and barely probes the surface because the unseen forces working day and night here at home are the real dangers."

U.S. Orders 25 Freight Cars of Aspirins

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Enough aspirins to form an unbroken line from New York to Los Angeles were ordered from Muir Drug Co. in a $300,000 U.S. government contract announced yesterday.

The firm's drug manufacturing division at Grand Rapids reported the contract from the defense medical supply center, purchasing agency for the armed forces. Delivery is scheduled Nov. 1.

The Grand Rapids firm earlier yesterday announced receipt of a $39,000 government contract for one half of an over all order calling for 660,000 gallons of alcohol.

African Buses Are Hazardous

'Mammy Wagons' Ply Along Routes Strewn With Wreckage

WASHINGTON — A trip in a West African "mammy wagon" combines the crush of a subway with the hazards of an auto race.

★ ★ ★

Overflowing with passengers and driven by nerveless men, the "mammy wagons" speed along dusty roads from Senegal to Nigeria. They are the major link between villages, the National Geographic Society says.

The colorful wagons are usually old pickup trucks converted to buses by the addition of an open wooden body, canvas side curtains, and rough plank seats.

The buses are called "mammy wagons" because most of the travelers are women going to and from markets. Draped in brightly colored cloths, the women carry baskets, bundles or big calabashes. Many have bright-eyed babies slung on their backs.

The rugged, all-purpose buses also provide room for strings of live chickens, sacks of rice, bananas, mangoes, palm kernels, yams and cans of gasoline. Sometimes the freight is carried behind on a trailer.

Dried fish, however, is considered too valuable a cargo to entrust to the jouncing trailer. It rides always first-class with the passengers.

"Mammy wagons" operate on a casual schedule. The driver leaves the market place or strategic crossroads when he has a full load of people and freight. Last-minute passengers must perch precariously on the rear seats.

★ ★ ★

One nervouse traveler counted 16 accidents along an 80-mile stretch of a Nigerian highway. The sides of country roads are strewn with the rusting skeletons of wrecked wagons.

★ ★ ★

Most "mammy wagons" gallop down the road of annihilation with a reassuring motto printed on front or sides: "Fear Not, Death Comes Suddenly . . . Life Is Brief . . . While I breathe I hope . . . All Is Well . . . Not Today . . . Who Knows the End?"

Pueblo Project Probes Mystery

Called Major Endeavor of Archeology in New World Annuls

WASHINGTON — Dr. Richard B. Woodbury, professor of anthropology at the University of Arizona, recently hailed the intensive study of long-abandoned Indian cliff cities as "one of the major endeavors of New World archeology."

* * *

Wetherill Mesa, in Mesa Verde National Park, was the home of Pueblo Indians who flourished for centuries and reached a high state of culture before mysteriously vanishing 700 years ago.

Their crumbling dwellings are being stabilized so they can be opened eventually to the public.

RESEARCH EXPANDED

Dr. Woodbury said the Wetherill Mesa project, under the sponsorship of the National Geographic Society, represents a departure in archeological methods. What started out primarily as excavation and stabilization of ruins has been greatly expanded.

The project is drawing upon botany, geology, zoology, climatology, linguistics, and other sciences to interpret archeological data more fully than the traditional, often limited, fashion.

Studies of soil, plants, pollen, and tree rings give valuable insights into the environment of the Indians. Pollen studies, for example, indicate that a climatic upheaval took place on the mesa.

* * *

Scientists found pollen from plants that no longer grow on or near the site, which suggest radical changes in temperature, growing season, and water supply.

Physical anthropologists are examining the remains of Indians buried on the mesa. Zoologists are identifying animal and bird bones.

An anthropologist is recording the traditions of present-day southwestern Indians who may be related to the vanished tribe.

* * *

In predicting the success of the pioneering studies, Dr. Woodbury said: "The Wetherill Mesa project will become a landmark in American archeology, both for its substantive results and for its methodological contributions."

Rain Can't Stop City of Nashville's Street Cleaners

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" is a quotation often applied to postmen.

But, apparently, it also applies to the Nashville Public Works Department.

It was pouring down rain recently; the gutters were full to the curb-tops; automobiles splashed slowly through the pools at intersections.

And there, down the middle of the street, moved a city water-truck, jets spraying on both sides —performing its routine duty of washing the streets.

Beeps, Blinks Tell Doc How Heart Is Behaving

CHICAGO (UPI) —Medicine is getting so automated these days that a doctor can get a good idea how his patient's heart is behaving by merely checking his "heart-beeps" and "heartblinks."

A battery-powered device strapped to a patient's arm will alert doctors to changes in his heart condition or activity with either beeping sounds or a blinking light. The device was developed by Chemetron Corp.

Shakespeare never mentioned tea in any of his plays because he never drank England's "national beverage." Tea was introduced to London in 1657, four decades after the poet's death. The price was $30 to $50 a pound.

Headed for Seattle World's Fair? Practice Lining Up

By DICK BUCK
Telegraph Editor,
The Pontiac Press

SEATTLE, Wash. — There are many glittering promises at the Seattle World's Fair of a better life in the 21st Century.

But nowhere is there even a hint that those who attend a world's fair 100 years from now will have any relief from standing in huge lines like those experienced at this Fair.

A Fair-goer at the Century 21 Exposition soon learns that there's hardly a thing he can see without first standing in line for anywhere from 15 minutes to four hours.

One of the few exceptions is the unique monorail which is doing its intended job of whisking Fair-goers — without a backup of patrons — between the Fair grounds and downtown Seattle.

* * *

At other major attractions — like the U. S. Science Pavilion, the Space Needle and the theme show, the Bubbleator — lines only an hour long are a luxury.

The problem becomes acute at mealtime. When a person is hungry, he wants to eat. It just doesn't work that way here at any of the better restaurants. Each has a line.

A quick way out is the Food Circus, a large building housing 52 food concessions with a wide variety of things to eat. Here, finding a place to sit is the major challenge.

EYES NEEDLE LINE

The eating extreme comes at the Space Needle restaurant, the Eye of the Needle, where the minimum wait is usually three hours.

It has been said, and with great accuracy, the one who gets into line for the Eye of the Needle at lunchtime will probably arrive in time for supper.

There's consolation in all this delay, however. For at the end of nearly every line is an exhibit or event well worth waiting for.

Among things we'd recommend to future Fairgoers (no matter how long the line) are the Space Needle, monorail, science pavilion, Bubbleator, water-ski show and telephone exhibit.

Michigan is represented in the Century 21 Coliseum by General Motors, which has its Firebird III and other ideas for the motoring future on display.

PREPARE TO WALK

To anyone thinking of attending, we'd give this warning: Come prepared to do a lot of walking.

Even though the Fair site on only a 76-acre tract, there's plenty of territory to keep the feet busy. And for the most part, participation in the lines is done in an upright position.

Is the Fair costly? That depends on your tastes. Gate admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children. Many of the exhibits are free or inexpensive.

* * *

An adequate meal can be purchased for $2. Or $5. Performing arts shows run over a similar price scale, as do those on Show Street, the Fair's night club area.

Fair officials are puzzled over one aspect of attendance patterns. They had expected Sunday to be the day with biggest crowds.

* * *

Surprisingly, Sundays have been attracting the smallest turnouts, with Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays the big drawers.

WEATHER IDEAL

Ideal weather has helped. Every day of the past week, the sun was out and temperatures in the pleasant mid-70s. There wasn't a drop of the proverbial Seattle rain either morning or night.

Last Tuesday, Michigan Day, a weekday attendance record was set when over 74,000 thronged through the gates.

As shown by yellow Michigan Day ribbons worn by those from our state, Michigan had hundreds of representatives on hand to join Gov. Swainson and other state officials.

* * *

The Michigan turnout was so heavy, in fact, that it prompted one Seattle paper to ask, "Wonder who's minding the store back in Michigan?"

Swainson and Washington Gov. Albert D. Rosellini rekindled a "flame of unity" to signify a spirit of cooperation between their two states and all the states.

Anyone who visits the Fair, should, if he has time, try to see some of the surrounding countryside as well. Eight-hour bus trips are offered to snowy Rainier National Park.

DAY-LONG CRUISE

Day-long steamer cruises run to Victoria, B. C., and back. Many shorter land, water and air trips are available.

And for those who might like to compare auto and airplane manufacturing methods, the Boeing Co. offers a free one-hour tour of its Transport Division at nearby Renton.

Lines and all, the 1962 Seattle World's Fair is worthwhile. But after a week at the fair, we're happy to head for San Francisco and a good meal without a line.

City Hospital Head Says Net Income Up

Harold B. Euler, Pontiac General Hospital administrator, reports that this year's net income so far exceeds last years for the same period by $48,000.

In the sixth accounting period, May 20 through June 16, income exceeded expenses by $5,021 on total billings of $526,706. For the year to date, income is $52,220 in excess of expenses compared with $4,187 for the same six periods last year.

However, occupancy began to drop last week and at 92.6 per cent, was the low for any week this year.

Maybe Bank Robber Had Change of Heart

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) —A customer found a note on the floor in the lobby of the Rochester Savings Bank and turned it over to a guard. It said: "This is a hold-up. Do not call guard or you will be hurt. Quickly put money into the bag."

They didn't find any bag or any robber.

Alcohol, Tranquilizers Are No Help to Bossy

ELK RIVER, Minn. (AP) —A shot or two of alcohol doesn't help cows in their jobs any more than it helps you in yours.

Neither do tranquilizers for that matter, according to scientists at the Nutrena Mills research farm here.

Some livestock experts have claimed that alcohol speeded development of a cow's stomach organisms and that tranquilizers boosted milk production.

Americans are eating about 18 pounds more of fruit each year, fresh and canned, than they did in 1915.

Check All Insurance Before Trip

NEW YORK (UPI)—Few people think about their insurance while traveling until they reach the flight coverage counter at the airport."

★ ★ ★

Don Johnson, a Columbus, Ohio, insurance executive who also is a seasoned traveler, said it's best to start checking out coverage at the same time the itinerary is decided because "it avoids any last-minute emergency."

Johnson cited the example of a recent seven-week around-the-world trip. He planned to go entirely by plane.

But before he got back to Columbus he had traveled by car in Malaya, taken an unexpected 250-mile train ride in India and used a boat in Australia. If he had settled for only flight insurance — instead of additional accident and common carrier coverage — he and his family would have been unprotected in event of his injury or death while traveling on the ground or water.

Generally, he said, check over all your policies—auto, fire, life, health, accident—to find who and what is insured.

Especially ascertain that all premiums are paid up for the time you are away to avoid cancellation of coverage.

"If you're going to take your family along with you, you want to be sure your health insurance covers the family, not just the head of the family," he said.

For usual vacation trips, Johnson pointed out, health insurance covers the insured even out of the country.

But for someone planning a prolonged trip—say around the world or for nine or 10 months—the insurance company should be notified in advance.

The reason is that the risks of prolonged absences are not contemplated by the average policy and coverage might be endangered.

Most auto insurance policies cover the motorist anywhere in this country or Canada, but, Johnson said, be sure to carry a policy identification card along.

And for Canada he advises taking proof of insurance along because some provinces have impounding statutes, which could tie up a car after an accident.

To clear up any fears about foreign travel, Johnson noted that life insurance has no geographic limitation—it's in force everywhere.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

But Johnson advises, "Check your policy for vacancy provisions if you intend to be gone for more than two months." Prolonged absences could, under vacancy provisions, void a policy in some states.

★ ★ ★

Also, he pointed out, most home protection policies insist on "ordinary precautions" by the owner during his absence, like maintaining heat and preventing pipes from freezing in cold weather.

Neighbors Hold Shower for Rancher—It's Hay

Denzel Goodwin was burning weeds on his ranch when the flames spread out of control and destroyed 4,600 bales of hay, his entire winter's supply.

Later, while his wife was away and Goodwin was rounding up cattle in the hills, friends converged on the ranch with trucks, all loaded with hay. By the time Goodwin got home, 50 tons were stacked in his barn and storage sheds.

Big Share of Medicine Is Made in New Jersey

Indian Gives Advice on Planting Cotton

SACATON, Ariz. (UPI) — Shortly after becoming manager of a large farm near Sacaton on the Gila River Reservation in Arizona, Samuel H. Thomas asked an old Indian farmer when cotton should be planted.

★ ★ ★

The Indian answered, "Get up early in the morning and sit on the ground. If it is cold, don't plant."

Homeowners Spend $247 on Upkeep Each Year

NEW YORK (UPI) —American families spend an average of $247 a year for the upkeep and improvement of their homes and properties, the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association reports.

Homeowners throughout the country spent more than $13 billion on home improvement in 1960.

Bank Deposits, Building Boost Area's Economy

Bank debits to customer accounts at the two local banks reached $97,507,845 last month compared to $93,721,618 in April.

A total of 48 permits was issued for $348,400 in new dwellings contrasted with 29 permits for $178,900 issued in April.

The total number of building permits also rose to 222 in May from 170 in April; however there was a $60,000 drop recorded in the worth of the permits — from $657,308 in April to $594,059 in May.

A record was set in gallons of water pumped by the Pontiac Water Department totaling 440,969,000 gallons for the highest May total in 10 years.

Part of this increase was due to a hot spell which saw 20.22 million gallons pumped on May 17—the highest in history for the month of May.

A seasonal decline was shown in gas consumption which dropped to 383,705,900 cubic feet from 576,893,700 cubic feet in April, according to Consumers Power Co. In the same 1961 periods, consumption dropped to 407,647,400 from 498,463,900.

ELECTRICAL ENERGY

Electrical energy took up part of the slack. Kilowatt-hour consumption rose to 42,642,873 from 41,324,999 in April, Consumers reported. In the corresponding 1961 months, the rise was from 31,334,385 to 35,587,761.

Figures indicating business trends for May were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, the city water and inspections departments, the Pontiac post office, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp. and North Central Airlines.

Artificial Liver Subs in Coma

3 Physicians Report Use to Rescue Some Stricken Patients

CHICAGO (AP) — An artificial liver can rescue some patients from coma due to a faulty liver, three physicians reported today.

Normally, the liver gets rid of the ammonia, which is formed when proteins are broken down in the body. The excess ammonia is one cause of coma, and death.

The new device was described to the American Medical Association's annual convention by Drs. Nathaniel P. H. Ching, Thomas F. Nealon, Jr., and John H. Gibbon, Jr., of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia.

Blood is taken from an arm, pumped through the column, and returned to the vein in the arm. The device has been found capable of removing 80 per cent of the ammonia in the blood, the team said.

It has brought five out of 10 patients treated thus far out of their comas, they said. In most of the failures, the patients were bleeding internally before the blood-cleansing aid was tried.

The method cannot help all patients with chronic liver trouble, the physicians stressed. It appears best for those with some liver insufficiency who temporarily get into trouble because of insults such as infection, excess protein in the diet, bleeding in the gastro-intestinal tract, or surgery. Any bleeding has to be controlled first.

The Philadelphia team began experimenting with dogs in 1959. Now a pharmaceutical firm is developing disposable, assembled units which need only the addition of a pump.

The physicians said the technique looks promising and safe, and they urged other physicians to try it on more patients to establish its full value.

Wait to Find Convicts' Bodies in Bay

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Did three Alcatraz convicts pull off the impossible — an escape from the "escape-proof" island prison in San Francisco Bay?

Did Frank Morris and the Anglin brothers, Clarence and John, succeed where a score of bitter, hardened inmates before them had failed?

No, says the FBI and most of the other authorities involved in the two-week-old search for the three Dixie bank robbers.

No, says associate director Fred T. Wilkinson of the U.S. Bureau of Prisons, who flew to San Francisco to investigate the escape.

But the stubborn fact remains that the three men may have made it. And a small group of persons —officials unwilling to be quoted —believe they did.

Life at Alcatraz, like life at most institutions, is full of certainties. At regular times, every day and night, checks are made, prisoners are counted, doors open and shut and the footsteps of guards echo down steel corridors.

On the night of June 11 guards made their regular hourly checks in the cells of each of the prison's 267 inmates. But that night they were fooled.

Morris and the Anglins had fashioned heads of a plaster-like substance, complete with painted features and topped by human hair, and placed them on their pillows. Blankets were arranged to resemble sleeping human forms.

Then they went out through carefully concealed holes in the walls of their cells.

REPORTED MISSING

At 7:15 a.m. June 12, nine hours and 45 minutes after they were last seen, the three convicts were reported missing from their cells. One of the greatest manhunts in the history of the West was on.

The three convicts—probably led by Morris, a man with an IQ of 133—had put together one of the most ingenious escape plots in the plot-littered history of the maximum security penitentiary.

They had scraped—for several months, prison officials surmised —cement from around the edge of air vents in their cells with prison tablespoons. When the holes were big enough for a body to squeeze through, they did— and entered a utility alleyway between cell blocks.

From there they shinnied up drain pipes, pried off a bar and got through a ventilator, emerging on the roof. They slid down a kitchen vent, climbed two 12-foot fences topped by barbed wire, and reached the edge of the bone-chilling, swift-moving bay.

WHAT HAPPENED?

Then what happened to them?

The theory to which FBI agents subscribe is that they headed for Angel Island, two and one-quarter miles away, either by trying to swim or floating on a makeshift raft.

Frank Price, FBI agent-in-charge in San Francisco, thinks they drowned in the attempt. "I wonder how long it'll be before the bodies come up?" he asked in response to a reporter's question. "That's what we're all waiting for."

Dr. Henry W. Turkel, San Francisco coroner who has investigated hundreds of deaths in the bay, answered Price. It could take anywhere from a day to three weeks for the bodies to surface, he said.

Wilkinson shares Price's conviction that the three perished in the bay. "It would take an athlete to make such a swim," he said. "The only swimming these fellows were accustomed to was in the little old creeks in the swamps of Florida and Louisiana."

★ ★ ★

Prison escapees, Wilkinson said, inevitably leave a trail. "They have to get clothing, or food, or do something to get money. There has been none of that in this case." He feels that this is an indication the convicts drowned.

★ ★ ★

The only positive piece of evidence directly linked to the escapees tends to fortify the belief that they drowned. Three days after their getaway a watertight plastic bag was found near Angel Island.

The bag contained a bundle of paper scraps, each bearing a name and address; a photograph of Clarence Anglin; other pictures, and a prison bank receipt made out to Anglin.

James V. Bennett, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, saw this as positive indication of drowning. "They would not abandon these names, which they obviously carried for contacts, unless they were drowning," he said.

A San Francisco swimming coach, Earl Geneck, thinks the convicts could have made the swim to Angel Island easily.

"It would have been easy," said Geneck, "and if they had any kind of raft they could have ditched it on Angel Island and then swam easily from there to Tiburon," a fashionable Marin County suburb.

To prove his contention Geneck directed an experiment three days after the escape. A 28-year-old salesman and a 25-year-old insurance agent swam from just off Alcatraz to Angel Island. They made it in 53 minutes.

"(The convicts) could have accustomed themselves to the cold water by taking cold showers whenever they had the opportunity in prison," he said.

Ted Walters, a former Alcatraz inmate who was pulled out of the bay by the Coast Guard when he tried to escape in 1946, tried to toughen up for the ordeal in the shower bath.

COLD SHOWER

"I took ice cold showers twice a day for four months" to get in condition for the swim, Walters said in Dallas. He said he became so cold he was afraid of freezing to death and was glad when the Coast Guard plucked him out of the water. Walters, like Wilkinson, believes the three escapees drowned.

"I'm inclined to believe they had help," said a California highway patrolman who asked not to be identified. "I think that if they were smart enough to get off Alcatraz they must have had some kind of plan."

This officer, who has been participating in the search, believes that confederates with a fast boat may have been waiting for the convicts somewhere off Angel Island.

But Wilkinson pooh-poohed this theory.

These men have neither friends nor relatives with the resources to come to San Francisco and spend the time and money necessary to help in an escape, he said. "It would cost thousands of dollars to put a boat in the bay every night, say for a month, waiting for the right night."

★ ★ ★

Despite all the official statements and speculation, only three men really know if they made it—the prisoners themselves.

Firms Growing Wise in Handling Alcoholic Employes

(Editor's Note — This fourth in a series of five articles on alcoholism examines the impressive changes being produced by industry's growing recognition of both the human debilitation and the economic loss caused by compulsive drinking.)

By BERNARD GAVZER
AP Staff Writer

There'll never be a monument raised to the Allis-Chalmers machine operator who will retire next year at 70. Drunks seldom rate public honors.

But this man already has a different sort of memorial—one that will continue salvaging lives for years to come. His memorial is the revolution he caused in a mammoth industrial firm's attitude toward alcoholic employes.

It doesn't include magic treatments. It didn't even happen all at once. But this machine operator was the first alcoholic the company set out to help and success—his own and the company's—made him the forerunner of many others.

Today, there are between 80 and 100 other companies that have similar policies. They range from Du Pont to the New York Times, from Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. to the Great Northern Railway, from Consolidated Edison to Eastman Kodak, from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to Kennecott Copper.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

To these firms, the alcoholic is no longer an unstable bum, too weak to resist booze. No longer is he summarily sacked.

Now he is seen as a sick person, deserving the same consideration as a worker suffering from diabetes or other diseases.

This remarkable change was not made overnight. Nor was it inspired by purely humanitarian motives. It results from a dollar and cents reality.

★ ★ ★

The hard economic fact is that no matter how finely tuned your equipment, how automated, how modernized your plant, how expertly organized, it takes men to do things. And the most efficient machine in the world can't be efficient if the man running it is operating at only half his capability.

When alcoholism hits a plant, it shows up in these ways:

IT SHOWS UP

Absenteeism, reduced efficiency, errors, accidents, loss of customers, loss of training investment and lowered production.

Sometimes losses are extreme. An oil refinery worker came on the job with a hangover and turned the wrong valve—$50,000 in oil went down the drain. A utility company figured it lost $4,000 after every binge by a motor pool supervisor.

★ ★ ★

The total cost of alcoholism to industry has been conservatively estimated at $1 billion a year.

For Allis - Chalmers, a new awareness of the problem and positive action came during World War II.

"We needed every man on the job and operating at 100 per cent," recalls Henry A. Mielcarek, manager of employe relations at company headquarters in Milwaukee. "When you have men absent because of drinking, or working inefficiently, you can't meet that objective. It was decided there must be some way of handling the problem other than firing the worker. The dilemma was really dramatized in the case of the machine operator."

A GOOD WORKER

This man then had 37 years with the company. He had been given 11 disciplinary warnings about his drinking. But he didn't stop. So he was fired. Even in a company with 42,000 workers, there was some grief about this one man. He was a good worker and it was a shame to lose him.

A management executive working with Mielcarek decided to do something. They got the man to join Alcoholics Anonymous. In six months, he straightened out and came back on the payroll. The union went along, saw that his seniority was restored.

Today Allis-Chalmers has three AA groups meeting on company poperty, and it maintains a complete counseling service.

"Our absenteeism rate has been cut from 8 to 2.3 per cent, and our firing for failing to cooperate has been cut from 95 to 8 per cent," reports Mielcarek.

Du Pont, while it has no AA groups, does have on its staff in Wilmington, Del., a veteran AA who will travel anywhere in the company to take care of an individual problem or help out in some plant.

USE PSYCHIATRISTS

"I just returned from Texas where we had a janitor who was having some trouble," he says.

Du Pont also has two full-time psychiatrists and uses a number of other services.

★ ★ ★

"Our program has been successful beyond expectations," says company spokesman Tremaine Robinson. "A survey in 1961 showed that among 950 alcoholics in a work force of 87,000, complete rehabilitation was achieved in 66 per cent of the cases."

★ ★ ★

Consolidated Edison decided in 1952 to use a completely new tack by turning the problem over to other hands rather than doing it within the company. It gave $20,000 to the New York University Consultation Center for Alcoholism and made treatment a private matter between the center and the worker. It doesn't even receive reports on patients.

Dr. Arnold Zentner, physician in charge of the consultation center, says followup studies show a recovery rate of 80 per cent.

USE CENTER

"We have varying ideas of recovery," he said. "If we can get the patient off alcohol we consider it a very good result. But this doesn't mean that we have resolved underlying conflicts."

Twenty other firms now use services of the center.

★ ★ ★

In sum, a considerable segment of industry has gone a long way from the days of automatically firing a worker with a drinking problem.

It wasn't easy. Nor is it universal.

"Few subjects have been surrounded by so much hostility, ignorance, confusion and prejudice," explains Dr. Clyde C. Greene Jr., medical director of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph. "Excessive drinking has been a problem ever since man accidentally discovered how to make alcohol."

Part of the problem for industry was in finding the alcoholic. The person with a drinking problem rarely admits, even to himself, he has one. Also, his fellow workers tend to cover up for him. A breakthrough came when company orientation programs convinced employes that they would not be fired or discriminated against if they asked for help.

★ ★ ★

That help takes many avenues. Sometimes it's informal with a man agreeing to join Alcoholics Anonymous. Sometimes he goes to the medical department for advice. If necessary, he may be told to see his clergyman, or get psychiatric treatment. If, in the end nothing works, not even job retraining, he may be put on limited retirement, or given a disability discharge.

★ ★ ★

"Industry is in a strategic position in this field," says Dr. Karl J. Thomson, medical director of Metropolitan Life. "A fellow gets so he won't pay attention to anyone, not his doctor, or his boss, or his wife, or his priest. But when he is encouraged by his company—which is to him an objective, nonindividualistic entity—he will have respect all out of proportion to his respect for individuals. The company is a very potent force for making him pay attention."

LONELY BRIDE — Mrs. Phil Mesi (right) stands alone at the fringe of a crowd of her beauty pageant colleagues in Charleston, S.C., as they mob the bridegroom after she (Nancy Ann Nabinger, Miss Cleveland) pulled out of the National Press Photographers Association beauty contest in favor of matrimony.

Would End Subsidies to Foreign Producers

Senate Rams Through JFK Sugar Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration has won its sugar fight in the Senate with overwhelming passage of a bill that would eliminate subsidies to foreign producers.

Passage Wednesday night by a 76-2 vote after 10 hours of debate sent the measure to a Senate-House conference. There it runs smack into a House bill which is in direct opposition to administration recommendations on foreign sugar purchases.

The conferees will be working under a tight deadline since the 28-year-old sugar law, which long has divided the American market under tight controls, expires at midnight Saturday.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., head of the Senate delegation, told a reporter he would not be surprised if there is a conference deadlock. He suggested a temporary extension of the present law might result.

Rep. Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., who is expected to lead the House conferees, has called the administration bill wholly unacceptable on foreign purchases.

Both bills agree on increasing to 60 per cent the U.S. growers' share of the domestic sugar market. It now is 55 per cent.

They also are quite similar on the allocation to American producers of more than 60 per cent of the new growth factor resulting from increasing population, although the Senate measure is slightly more generous to U.S. beet growers.

The two bills disagree completely on the method of handling the 40 per cent of American consumption reserved for foreign countries.

Beside following the administration lead in eliminating the premium subsidy price on foreign purchases, the Senate also knocked out all country-by-country allocations except for the long-standing obligation to the Philippines.

The House bill named 24 countries and gave them specific quotas.

The Senate accepted Kennedy's proposal that 2.58 million tons of the foreign share be allotted to Cuba if that country's Communist government is overturned. Meanwhile, the tonnage would go to friendly nations on a competitive basis.

The House version reserved 1.5 million tons for Cuba but parceled that out among all nations in the next year.

VESTED INTERESTS?

Administration officials say Cooley's bill would give vested interests to many countries far from the United States and would deny any flexibility to American foreign policymakers.

However, it became clear in the Senate debate that some senators representing domestic producing areas were not happy with Kennedy's bill.

They said U.S. growers felt the measure might be the entering wedge to breaking down the domestic premium price as well as the foreign subsidy.

Many senators denounced the intensive lobbying on the bill by foreign country representatives, some charging openly that this activity accounted for the quotas set out in the House bill.

City Children Taste Nature at Day Camp

Little kids are having an experience in nature living they'll never forget, and at the same time finding out how to "give and take" as individuals.

The day camp program is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation.

At 9 a.m., every morning for the next seven weeks some 70 youngsters will board a Pontiac school bus at the courthouse and head for the gently rolling hills and woods in the Teggerdine Road area.

Alternate days will be spent swimming in Teeple Lake in the Highland Recreation Area.

In case it rains there is a century-old barn in Frog Hollow, where the children, from 7 through 13 years of age, may take cover and enjoy quiet games and activities.

★ ★ ★

Most of the equipment is housed in the barn and furnished by the Michigan State Conservation Department.

★ ★ ★

All of the seven experienced counselors of the day camp program are teachers in the Pontiac school system, and have a one-week orientation and instruction session before the project begins.

★ ★ ★

For the $3 fee for the week, youngsters receive groceries for the preparation of their noon meal.

★ ★ ★

They bake potatoes in tin foil, roast hot dogs or hamburgs over a hot bonfire and drink all the milk they can consume.

★ ★ ★

The fee also includes a green T-shirt with "Frog Hollow" printed in white lettering.

FROM CITY TAXES

Because the small fee does not cover expenses, the balance is allocated from city taxes, according to day camp director David Weathrell.

★ ★ ★

To make the program more exciting and advantageous, boys and girls are split into their own age groups of ten, with one instructor for each group.

★ ★ ★

According to Weathrell there are still a few openings during the next few weeks for those who would like to learn about nature and, in the meantime, have a "whale of a good time."

But More Space in Southfield

City High in N-Shelters

More buildings could be used as suitable fallout shelters in Pontiac than in any other Oakland County community.

But more people — twice as many — would find fallout protection in Southfield than in Pontiac.

These facts are among first findings of a nationwide federal fallout shelter survey, announced by John E. Madole, director of the Oakland County Office of Civil Defense.

In Pontiac, survey results show, 64 buildings meet acceptable civil defense standards for use as fallout shelters. These structures have space to protect 12,045 persons.

Unprotected citizens would remain a problem: 116,580 in Pontiac, 24,567 in Southfield and a whopping 792,562 in all of Oakland County.

The report says this county has facilities to protect 51,454 persons in 238 different buildings during nuclear attack.

POPULATION 844,016

Madole said the county's peak population for survey purposes is pegged at 844,016, counting visitors, out-county shoppers and other nonresidents who might be in the area at a single time.

A total of 1,890 buildings were surveyed and slightly over 15 per cent — or 238 — met federal standards for public shelters.

Pontiac leads in all categories of the survey except number of shelter spaces, in which Southfield is tops.

These figures stem from "Phase I" of a nationwide survey in which large buildings were inspected to determine their acceptability for civil defense use.

Phase II, now in progress in the county, will expand and detail the, intial survey and include inspections of caves, mines tunnels and other underground facilities which might be used for shelters.

Inspection teams are also looking into substandard buildings with an eye to improving them to meet federal standards.

Buildings approved in Phase I are eligible for licensing as public shelters and for stocks of food, water and other emergency supplies. Owners, however, must consent to licensing and stocking.

School Budget Facing Action

City Education Board Will Be Asked to OK Appropriation Tonight

The Pontiac Board of Education tonight will be asked to approve a 1962-63 operations budget of $9,970,790 plus a possible $74,334 in additional special services to children.

The total appropriations figure would be $10,045,124, if all of the extra services are approved. The comparable 1961-62 figure was $9,450,462.

The district has an estimated total of $10,310,397 available for 1962-63 operations. In 1961-62 the comparable sum was $10,057,970.

The next school year's main budget figure already has been tentatively approved by the board. It now remains for the board to determine expenditure of any or all items in the $74,334 extra services figure.

A major item is a sum of $40,674 to hire seven extra persons to help children in seven elementary schools whose home background is said to cause them to lag behind other pupils.

Other extra service items are: $16,350 for an experimental plan to work with slow learners in junior high schools; $3,400 to establish a position of administrative assistant in four junior high schools and at Central Senior High School.

Also included are $4,560 for an extra operating position at Jefferson Junior High; $7,350 for an art specialist to work in kindergarten through grade 12, with emphasis on kindergarten through grade six, and $2,000 for equipment and supplies to begin use of data processing procedures in school schedules and related activities.

Other items on tonight's agenda are establishment of salary schedules for secretarial and non-certified administrative employes, opening of milk and bread bids for 1962-63.

Listing of administrative assignments for 1962-63 also is on the agenda with the establishment of assistant superintendents' salaries and pay scheduled adjustments for music instructors, publications directors, and the head elementary librarian.

SOON BE GONE — Oakland County property manager, Newton Dempsey, takes one long last look at Judge H. Russel Holland's former Circuit Court room, in the old downtown courthouse. Wreckers will begin to dismantle the building interior Monday.

Wreckers Moving In on Monday

Old Courthouse Walls to Tumble

The barren, ghostly halls of the old Oakland County courthouse will soon be echoing with the relentless clatter of demolition crews —and the pigeons on top will wonder where their building went.

The once-majestic building that was constructed just 58 years ago, "to provide ample facility for all branches of Oakland County government for an indefinite time," is doomed.

After standing vacant and for sale for almost a year, the County Board of Supervisors decided that both the courthouse and old county prosecutor's building must go. Early Monday morning, the Wolverine Lumber & Wrecking Co., workmen will enter and start tearing imported marble off the walls and interior stair steps of the courthouse.

This will be the third Oakland County House, erected on the site to "hit the dust," during the last century and a half.

The first county government center was built of hand-hewn logs in 1818. Fifteen years later another county courthouse and combined jail was erected which served the area for some 50 years.

'MEANT BUSINESS'

Later the building behind the courthouse was built as a jail, and the five tiny dark dungeons in the basement indicate that Pontiac's forefathers meant business as far as criminals were concerned.

Bonds were issued for the present courthouse and sold for $75,000 in 1903. It was two more years before the big sand-stone building was ready for dedication ceremonies.

Now, stainless steel and tons of plate glass in the new courthouse in the Oakland County Civic Center, have replaced the ornately carved mahogony arches and court room decor, of the old down-town building.

PONTIAC'S DUNGEONS — Deep down in the heart of the old prosecutor's building (former jail), there are five tiny dark dungeons where humans were incarcerated for crimes many years ago. There are no lights or sanitary facilities in the 5- by 10-foot cells, and hardly enough room for a tall individual to stand up straight.

Two City Youths to Be Sentenced for BB Spree

Two Pontiac youths who went on a BB gun shooting spree last March and damaged store windows to an estimated $13,000 pleaded guilty Tuesday to malicious injury to a building.

Ray Lee Trusler, 22, of 67 Tregent St., and Jose DeLaRosa, 17, of 1023 Meadowlawn Ave., made their pleas before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland as their scheduled trial was about to begin.

The youths, facing a maximum penalty of four years in jail, a $2,000 fine or both, will be sentenced by Judge Holland July 24.

Trusler and DeLaRosa allegedly peppered windows in more than 50 Pontiac stores while driving around town the morning of March 27. Trusler told police he had been drinking.

Formal charges against the two youths was brought for damage to nine windows at the Pontiac Retail Store, 65 Mt. Clemens St., valued at about $500.

County Second in Road Awards

$45 Million in Contracts for 5-Year Program Next to Wayne

More than $45 million in Oakland County highway construction contracts were awarded by the State Highway Department during its first five-year program which ends June 30, Commissioner John C. Mackie has announced.

The figure is the second highest in the state behind Wayne County's $128.5 million in contracts.

Oakland County projects included in the $45-million package are 65.5 miles of the Interstate 75 and 696 freeways and 65.2 miles of U.S. 24, M59 and other routes.

For all of southeastern Michigan's six counties, the highway department awarded total contracts of more than $236 million during the five-year program.

Another estimated $80 million was spent for right-of-way and engineering.

The total of 474 miles of highway in southeastern Michigan was part of the five-year program, including 157 miles of new freeways.

Rose Offers 6 Pills to Cure Sick Stock Market

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—The summing up. Dear Bob,

In the unlikely event that President Kennedy were to ask my advice on how to put the stock market up 100 points in two weeks, here's what I'd tell him . . .

First, Mr. President, I come as friend, not foe. I voted for you, and contributed a fairish sum to your campaign.

There are no political overtones to what I may say because I'm as political as Puss-in-Boots.

"I'm getting into the act only because the ticker tape tells me there's a fire in our national basement, and that the whole house may go up in smoke unless you promptly do something about it.

The "something" I'm going to recomend will make a lot of people mad at first, but I'm convinced that a whopping majority will be on your side by the time the November elections roll around.

At your next press conference, I respectfully suggest that you tell the world that Uncle Sam is tired of playing Uncle Sap, and that he intends to concentrate on his own well-being for one full year. To spell this out, I would then announce:

1. A MORATORIUM ON FOREIGN GIVE-AWAYS.

Inform all and sundry that for 12 months we're going to get out of the Santa Claus business. I'm not proposing, Mr. President, that we cut off all foreign aid, but I'm certain we can hold back a billion or so without upsetting the global applecart.

And I wouldn't worry about the Commies stepping in and taking up the slack. The Russians, by their own admission, have their own eating problems and the Chinese, if they're dining at all, are dining on their dogmas.

2. A MORATORIUM ON LABOR DEMANDS NOT IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST.

Serve notice on labor that, for 12 months, it will have to forego that extra slice of the disappearing cake. Point out that there are three times as many people out of unions as in, and that you're going to see to it that they get a square shake.

* * *

If the big labor boys act up, whisper that their union monopolies will be treated like the monopolies of big business.

In short, talk to the Reuthers and Meanys the way you talked to Roger Blough. This will put the market up 25 points in a day.

3. A MORATORIUM ON THAT EVER-LOVIN' PORK BARREL.

Ask Congress to stop appropriating money for "back-home" projects that can be postponed for a year. Make it clear that you'll veto every raid on the piggy bank no matter how the political chips may fall.

4. A MORATORIUM OF "X" PER CENT OF MILITARY EXPENDITURES.

* * *

Begging your pardon, Gen. Eisenhower figures to know as much about our military posture as Lt. Kennedy.

Ask Ike to pinpoint the areas where he thinks the military is overspending, and then order an "X" per cent cut in the $48 billion that Congress has appropriated for defense.

5. A MORATORIUM ON GOVERNMENT FLOGGINGS.

For one year, ask your brother Bobby to put his whip away. I approve in the main of what he's doing, but we can't afford it right now. Big businessmen, often as not, are little men behind big desks.

They confuse and panic easily. As of now, it's to our selfish interest to get them to function at top speed. Some undoubtedly pad their expense accounts, vote themselves fat stock options and pump-up pensions and, on occasion, even rob their customers by rigging prices.

For a year, Mr. President, let them do what comes naturally. We desperately need the billions in taxes they can provide. If you can convince these buckos that you'll overlook certain of their sleazy practices for 12 months, it will add another 25 points to the averages.

6. MORATORIUM ON TAX CUT DOUBLE-TALK.

For a year, pigeon-hole the tax reform bill which pats you on the back with one hand and sticks a thumb in your eye with the other. Like it or not, Mr. President, only an out-and-out tax cut will give our economy the dose of tonic it needs.

As I tote it up, the first five money-saving moratoriums would more than pay for the sixth. The country would close ranks behind the FDR-daring of such a program, and Congress would stop sticking pins in your balloons.

In addition, the bankers of Europe would realize that for at least a year we're going to stop giving away what we haven't got, and the flow of gold might well reverse itself.

* * *

The stock market would also reverse itself: "A 100-point rise in two weeks" might be the understatement of the year.

The Ceylon tea shrub is grown in nurseries and transplanted when it is 6 to 12 inches high. It bears its first crop after four years.

Committee Maneuvering Takes Toll

Kefauver's Drug Bill Amended to Death

(Editor's Note — The controversial Kefauver investigation of the drug industry involved testimony that would have filled 20 books. Now that it is all over, the bill which has emerged is a far cry from what Sen. Kefauver originally wanted. The following dispatch tells what happened.)

By JERRY LANDAUER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Disowned by friends and foes alike, Sen. Estes Kefauver's much-mangled drug bill has been consigned to a legislative orphanage. A similar fate apparently awaits a companion measure in the House.

What started out to be a bill that would tightly regulate the drug industry has been revised drastically in Senate committees.

For the drug industry, which has fought down the line against what it called government encroachment, it is a welcome development.

Few bills in recent years aroused senatorial tempers the way the drug bill did. Kefauver believes it was sidetracked in part by ineptness on the part of the New Frontier.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., one of those who Kefauver said "cut up" the bill, sought to cheer the tall Tennessee Democrat.

PRAISES SENATOR

"His patience is certainly equal to that of Job," Dirksen said in an oratorial flourish. "He is as single-purposed as an Apache Indian. He is as gracious as a Victorian lady. There is a rare diligence about him, and a rare consistency about him also."

Dirksen was talking about the fact that Kefauver called 210 witnesses before the Senate Antitrust subcommittee in a 45-day long investigation of drug industry abuses that began on Dec. 7, 1959.

Kefauver summoned 107 more witnesses to testify about the bill that grew out of the investigation. The combined testimony filled 12,884 pages in 20 books, probably all-time record.

* * *

It would have reduced patent monopolies on new drugs from 17 to three years; barred marketing of any new drug in the absence of "preponderant" evidence that it worked as advertised; prohibited patents on medicines that were not substantially different from those already on the market; required full listing of side effects, and a bold printing of the drugs' official names.

These would have been drastic moves.

Kefauver's bill grew out of his conviction that drug industry is a near monopoly that exacts excessive prices for its products.

The industry, he said, wastes millions—24 cents on the sales dollar—advertising "molecular modifications" of existing patented drugs and covers up dangerous side effects.

CHARGES 'COVER-UP'

(One company, according to the testimony, withheld a report showing that 500 of 2,000 clinical case studies developed skin irritations and even jaundice from a much-ballyhooed antibiotic.)

Relaxing patent protection, Kefauver believes, would drive prices down by infusing more competition into the industry. And if all manufacturers were licensed, he believes, doctors would be encouraged to prescribe drugs by chemical rather than trade name, thus permitting patients to shop for the cheapest brand.

The drug industry, represented by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA), challenged Kefauver's charges. PMA said industry-finance breakthroughs in drug therapy, particularly new wonder drugs and tranquilizers, contributed heavily to the nation's better health.

Costly drug research to conquer cancer and other killer diseases can be paid for only by healthy industry profits, PMA said. And even if all profits were eliminated, according to industry spokesmen, the price of the average prescription would not drop by more than a dime.

The manufacturers agreed to a few of Kefauver's objections, but fought most provisions of the original bill, particularly the patent section. PMA agreed that no new drug should be marketed unless there is substantial evidence that it works as advertised.

Kefauver nudged the bill out of the monopoly subcommittee by a 3-2 party line vote and from there it went to Sen. James O. Eastland's Judiciary committee.

The combined votes of Southern Democrats and Republicans sent it to Sen. John L. McClellan's Patents subcommittee for further scrutiny. McClellan's panel struck the patent section, which Kefauver regards as the key cost-cutting feature.

AMENDED BILL

Weeks of pulling and hauling followed in the full committee. Eastland, without notifying Kefauver, called in "certain individuals designated by the administration" to work up "realistic" amendments that all sides could support.

Eastland remarked later that it would have been "futile" to notify Kefauver. "I did not think he would make an agreement with respect to anything," Eastland said.

But Kefauver charged that the Eastland-Dirksen-Hruska combination (Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.), working secretly behind his back, drafted nine amendments that he knew nothing about until they were put to a vote in committee.

* * *

In the committee, a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats overwhelmed Kefauver on a half-dozen key votes. Eastland defended the result, saying he had the responsibility as committee chairman to work out a "wholesome" bill. He added:

"I submit we have drafted a drug bill which is healthy, which meets the requirements of the President of the United States as stated in his letter to me, and which should be suported by the American people."

"What is wrong with an accomplishment?" Eastland asked. "I had no interest in the bill . . . everyone knows legislation is a matter of give and take. Grandstand stuff for votes is something else."

ATTACKED BILL

Hruska, an old antagonist of Kefauver's in the drug controversy, said the original bill would have perverted the patent system, crippled drug research and injured the cause of good health.

Other Republicans attacked the licensing system, saying they never would agree that an American must get the government's permission before going into business.

Disowning the committee's redraft, Kefauver said it was weaker even than the drug industry's own reform proposals. The only thing left, he said, were some useful changes in technical provisions of the food and drug laws.

He demanded that the administration, having sent legislative draftsmen to the secret sessions, make its position known.

Last week Health and Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff said he was unhappy with the Senate Committee amendments. The redraft, he said, does not conform with the President's recommendations.

Hurls Ink Bottle at DaVinci Work

Elderly Man Seized by Police; Damage Minor Because of Shield

LONDON (AP) — An elderly man threw a bottle of ink at the Leonardo da Vinci drawing of the Madonna in the National Gallery yesterday afternoon. The priceless work of art suffered negligible damage.

The man was immediately detained and handed over to the police.

Sir Philip Hendy, director of the gallery, said the gallery was crowded at the time.

"The bottle which was thrown did not break, so that no ink was spilled," said Sir Philip. "The bottle bounced back from the thick plastic shield which had been substituted for glass before the drawing was put on exhibition.

"The plastic, however, was cracked and the drawing has consequently had to be removed to the conservation department. Examination has disclosed a scratch of negligible significance in the lower part of the drawing."

The Royal Academy announced earlier this year it planned to sell the picture by auction to finance future activities. Later it postponed the sale and announced its willingness to sell it to the British public for 800,000 pounds ($2.24 million) if that amount could be raised by the end of July. So far contributions total 359,610 pounds (£1,006,908).

Americans spend more than a billion dollars each year for professional laundry services.

Would-Be 'Feudal Lord' Estes Big Talker

(Editor's Note — The following dispatch, by a reporter who visited Estes' home town, reveals that many who knew Billie Sol Estes well doubt that desire for money was the thing that got him into trouble.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Billie Sol Estes built a business empire on words.

Plenty of people are ready to testify he is the champion talker of west Texas, and reports from Pecos are that he is chafing under the seal of silence imposed by his lawyers. It has been three months since Estes was arrested. That is a long time for a nonstop orator to be a "no comment" man.

L. Barrett Johnson, a tough-minded farmer living outside Pecos, says that if you sit across a desk from Estes you are likely to get talked into almost anything.

He knows. He listened to Billie Sol talk and agreed to go into one of those ammonia fertilizer deals now under investigation. But when he got away from the hypnotic presence he knew he had made a mistake and phoned Estes to cancel the verbal arrangement.

"He sounded like he was crying," Johnson said. "I was able to stay with him on the telephone, but I couldn't do it in his office."

Sophisticated Manhattan corporation executives lost him money. Agriculture Department experts who knew every wrinkle of the grain storage regulations have been fired or forced to resign because they were smooth-talked by Estes.

"I might as well be very frank," said James A. McConnell, former assistant secretary of agriculture and now a consultant to Commercial Solvents Corp. of New York. "I joined a great army of people who believed Estes was a miracle."

Many stories are told about the day some 12 years ago when Estes walked down the main street of Pecos carrying an old suitcase and a battered brief case. He had picked that town to make his fortune, although he is supposed to have been worth $38,000 even then.

The story—and Estes has been careful never to deny it—is that his parents gave him a lamb when he was 12 years old, and he sold the wool for enough to start a flock.

Then he branched out into pig raising and began talking so convincingly about his prospects that adults started thrusting money on him in an attempt to ride along on his journey from rags to riches. He could talk well before he could vote.

What puzzles the conservative people in Pecos is why Billie Sol didn't stop while he was ahead. He was a shrewd cotton farmer, he got in at just the right time and he easily could have become a millionaire without getting into trouble.

The amateur psychologists in Pecos—and everybody has become one since Estes was arrested—now lean to the theory that money wasn't his primary goal. They think he wanted to become a feudal lord with west Texas as his domain because it gave him a sense of power.

Feudal lord or not, Estes had a passion to get a corner on things. He drove his fertilizer competitors out of business by underselling them.

STARTED NEWSPAPER

He tried to get on the Pecos School Board. He became a lay preacher in his church and donated liberally to it. He got into the grain storage business, the well-drilling business and the farm equipment business. He once tried to corner the market in parakeets.

"I think he had 7,000 or 8,000 parakeets at one time out at some little town near here," said W. E. Holcombe, president of the Pecos Security State Bank. "It was just before Eisenhower was elected for the first time and Estes was going to teach the parakeets to say 'I Like Adlai' and then release them in the big cities like New York and Chicago."

The plan collapsed when a bird raiser pointed out that parakeets reproduce too fast for anybody to corner the market. Also they don't take to group speech instruction. Each one has to be taught separately.

Estes was playing the role of the feudal lord of the manor long before his enterprises crashed. He regarded the poor people of Pecos as his personal repsonsibility.

He handed them $50 or $100 each, told them to buy food and never expected the "loans" to be repaid. He started a funeral parlor which, despite the fact it lost money, brought him the good will of the families of the poor he buried. He gave barbecues on the lawn of his $150,000 ranch house for as many as 2,000 persons.

He never stopped talking. He liked to telephone his friends from one of his private planes. The fact that he made 37 phone calls to Sen. Ralph Yarborough in Washington surprised nobody who knew him well. Sometimes he just wanted to chat about sending missionaries to Africa or discuss the gubernatorial contest in Texas.

It apparently gave him a sense of importance to talk with important people. Maybe it is right that the money was secondary and that his deep-down ambition was to be a sort of duke of Pecos who could talk and walk with kings but not lose the common touch.

E. German Road Work Breaks West Windows

ESCHWEGE, Germany (AP) — Blasts set off by East Germans dynamitting a road on the Iron Curtain border sent chunks of paving flying into West Germany near here yesterday.

Windows were broken and roofs were damaged in the village of Grossburschla. The East Germans were breaking up the road leading into West Berlin in order to close the border more tightly.

Documents Hidden in Murkiness of Government

Estes Buried in Bureaucratic Jungle

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk about conducting a safari into a jungle!

Listen to the saga of a Senate investigator who was given what looked like a simple assignment. He was told to drop over to the Agriculture Department and pick up all documents there on Billie Sol Estes, the finagling fertilizer financier.

Emerging weeks later from the air-conditioned bureaucratic jungle, investigator Paul E. Kamerick reported that it was quite an ordeal.

News Analysis

Not that the natives didn't cooperate, he told the Senate Investigations subcommittee Wednesday. Trouble was that the records were not all in one place. He and his Agriculture Department guides had to hack their way through the undergrowth to 16 different offices in order to collect the papers.

"I must say at this point," Kamerick reported sadly, "that we are not sure yet we have all the documents. Under the existing system we cannot be sure."

The investigator reported what looked to him like a breakdown of communications in the jungle murk—one agency didn't rightly know what the other was doing, he said.

There are critics who say, however, that a certain murkiness is inevitable in a governmetn so big. And there have been various efforts, mostly unsuccessful, to stunt the government's growth.

During House debate on the farm bill last week, Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., proposed with straight face an amendment to forbid the number of Agriculture Department employes to rise over the number of farmers in America. This was defeated.

A newsman called the Agriculture Department Wednesday and asked how many farmers there are in America. An official said he did not have an up-to-date statistic on that, but said there are 3,688,000 farms.

Asked how many employes the department has, he said 81,872 full-time and 16,668 part-time. Asked if this included people like county committeemen, he double-checked and said no. There are 16,000 full-time employes like that, plus an indeterminate number of part-time people who did "8,000 man years" of work last year.

Trying to get an idea of the growth rate of the total federal bureaucracy, the reporter called Sen. Harry F. Byrd's Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. "How many employes did George Washington have under him when he became President?" an aide was asked.

The aide said he didn't have that statistic but that in 1816, the number of federal employes was 4,837, not counting the armed forces. Now the number is 2,471,061. This is a 500-fold increase.

In 1816 the population of the country was about 8.5 million. Now it is 186.5 million. This is only a 22-fold increase.

The trend cannot continue indefinitely. Otherwise everybody will be on the federal payroll drawing tax money to govern, regulate, police and confer other benefits on each other.

Megaton N-Test U.S. Biggest?

Fired Over Pacific With Force of 'Million-Plus'; Other Blast in Nevada

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has fired a megaton nuclear test over the Pacific in what may have been the biggest shot of its current series. And another large test blast was touched off beneath the Nevada desert.

The Defense Department and Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday's test in the Pacific exploded with a force equal to one million-plus tons of TNT. The device was dropped from an airplane near Christmas Island.

It was the third megaton-range shot of the Pacific series. The previous two shots had been described by the AEC as of low-megaton force. This one was simply labeled a megaton blast. The commission refused to comment on the significance of this wording.

The device detonated underground at the Nevada test site was described as of intermediate yield — equivalent to between 20,000 and 1 million tons of TNT. That made it one of the largest U.S. underground test blasts.

The Pacific test was the 23rd announced in the U.S. series of atmospheric tests. The Nevada firing was No. 39 announced in the underground series there.

Judge Is Sentenced on U.S. Tax Charge

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former El Paso County Judge Woodrow Bean was fined $5,000 and sentenced to five years in prison yesterday for failing to file federal income tax returns.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Rice Jr. suspended the sentence on condition that Bean pay the fine within 60 days.

Bean pleaded guilty June 18 to charges that he did not file returns for 1956 through 1960.

★ ★ ★

Car Engineers Concentrate on Small, Important Filters

DETROIT (UPI) — Engineers trying to build cars that run longer with fewer troubles have centered much of their attention in recent years on something which is probably more popularly known on cigarettes than automobiles—the filter.

And one reason engines last longer nowadays without major troubles is the filter system for the air, water gas and oil in a modern power plant.

One midwest firm is marketing an electric filter it claims eliminates the need for ever changing engine oil.

A French carmaker has developed a filter and cooling system said to eliminate the need for periodic water and antifreeze changes.

★ ★ ★

A new development on the automotive scene is a filter for gas now being installed on service station pumps by one major distributor, the American Oil Co.

★ ★ ★

The firm said the present filter in a car's gas line and the carburetor, become clogged sometimes because they are are so highly precisioned and delicately balanced as to require an absolutely clean gasoline.

USE VARIOUS WAYS

Al V. Fraser, marketing manager for American, said his firm, and most others, use various methods of screening gasoline from the refinery to give the service station storage tank, in an effort to eliminate microscopic particles of dirt and other contaminents.

But Fraser said "these methods simply do not do the job of removing the tiny particles which cause trouble in today's high performance automobiles."

Consequently he said, the firm is introducing a new filter to be installed between the hose and a nozzle on gasoline pumps. It is about eight inches long and is said to be capable of blocking most of the tiny particles now present in gasoline.

In older model cars, Fraser said, no one had to worry about the particles because they were so small they could pass right through simple carburetors and engines.

But today's more powerful engines and complex carburetors can become fouled up by the same particles Fraser added.

In recent years, some car manufacturers, notably General Motors, have issued as standard equipment a special filter in the gas line, designed to do the same thing as the service station filter now being introduced.

The oil company said its filter should double the life of the gas filter that is now being used in many cars and probably will become an industry-wide item very soon.

LONE FIREFIGHTER — A lone fireman plays a stream of water on a blazing warehouse of the American Can Co. in Secaucus, N.J. Grants Announced by Ford Foundation

NEW YORK (AP)— The Ford Foundation yesterday announced grants totaling $41.6 million to 21 private liberal arts colleges to help advance their over-all academic development.

The grants range from $1.5 million to $2.5 million and may be used for whatever purposes the colleges believe will best advance their academic programs.

Initial payments totaling $10,542,000 will be made to the colleges before Nov. 1, to help them meet urgent needs — increases in faculty salaries, additional scholarships and other student aid and essential additions to, or renovations of plant and equipment.

Claim 109 Reds Killed, 75 Captured in Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP)— South Viet Nam claimed today that during the period May 21 to June 20 its forces in one province of the Mekong River delta killed 109 Viet Cong and captured 75 others. Ten government troops were reported killed in that period.

The province, Chung Thien, was carved out of four neighboring provinces near the tip of Viet Nam last December to give it better organization in its fight against Communist guerrillas.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Four fishermen fleeing from Communist China to Hong Kong were blown off course and landed instead in Formosa.

Questions Aid to Own Colleges

Lutheran Asks Study to Find if Institutions Justify Church Support

DETROIT (AP)—A Lutheran Educator yesterday questioned the wisdom of the church's continued support of its own colleges of higher education.

Dr. Robert Mortvedp of Chicago, executive secratary of the board of education of the United Lutheran Church in America, raised the question, partly on a financial basis, before his church's convention.

Dr. Mortvedp, addressing 700 delegates, proposed a study by scholars and church leaders to determine whether "justification" continues for the church's colleges. He warned of what he called danger to the church's Christian influence on it's colleges because of financial troubles.

"Some colleges," Dr. Mortvedp said, "are beginning to seek ever increasing amounts of the funds they need from sources outside the church.

"As this tendency grows, bonds to the church become more elastic and tenuous. The inevitable result is that these colleges eventually have no meaningful connection with the church. They become independent, secular colleges whose traditions and practices only faintly reflect another day.

SOME BABY! This little entrant in a baby show at Winnipeg looks as though part of her could qualify for the Miss Universe contest. Although she might have attracted the judges' attention, they couldn't really allow points for mama's legs.

Head of Statue Back on Torso

Museum Borrows 'Body' of Egyptian Official for Exhibition

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 2,500-year-old sculptured head of an Egyptian worthy has been reunited with its torso at the Brooklyn Museum after countless years of separation.

The head belongs to the Brooklyn Museum and the torso was borrowed for exhibition this summer from the government of the United Arab Republic.

The two pieces were identified as segments of the same statue by the noted Belgian Egyptologist, Dr. Herman De Meulenaere. A heiroglyphic text which ran down the back of the statue gave De Meulenaere his clue.

Museum officials said the statue of Wesir-Wer, a theban temple official of the 4th century B.C. probably was broken when it was thrown into a pit at the temple of Amun more than 2,000 years ago to make way for more up-to-date votive statues.

The pit full of discarded sculptures was uncovered in 1903.

The torso remained in the Egyptian National Art Collection. The head, generally recognized as one of the world's most beautiful sculptured busts, turned up in Paris shortly before World War I and was brought to New York by an art dealer.

It was purchased by the Brooklyn Museum seven years ago.

A shock tube 180 feet long has been built to test the effects of nuclear explosions on structures and equipment. In it a five-pound charge can produce the effect of a 75-ton explosion.

Despite Different Origins

Top Mexican Like JFK

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Presidents Adolfo Lopez Mateos and John F. Kennedy are of sharply different origins but they share some points in common.

The two chief executives, who meet here tomorrow, were both elected to their nation's highest office while still in their 40s. Lopez Mateos was 48 when he was sworn in Dec. 1, 1958; Kennedy 44 when he took office in 1961.

Like Kennedy, Lopez Mateos has retained a lively interest in sports and physical fitness. He was a boxer and soccer player and a rugged hiker in his youth.

As president's each has had a Cuban headache, but for different reasons.

Unlike Kennedy, Lopez Mateos was a poor boy. His father, a village dentist, died when he was a year old. His mother struggled to support five children on the income from a small insurance policy and aid from relatives.

TOOK LONG HIKES

A good student, Lopez Mateos went through school on scholarships. He was ruggedly athletic, sometimes walking 35 miles over 12,000-foot mountains from school to Mexico City on weekends to see his mother. Once he hiked all the way to Guatemala, a distance of 700 miles, in 36 days.

From campus politics at the University of Toluca he graduated into the real thing when he made a speech welcoming a leader of the long dominant Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI).

The official liked the speech so much he made Lopez Mateos his secretary. The youth continued studying nights for his law degree.

AIDED ALEMAN

He became friendly with Miguel Aleman, a lawyer, and helped as an adviser in the campaign which took Aleman to the presidency.

Under Aleman, Lopez Mateos became a senator and represented his country at international conferences in the United States, Argentina and Switzerland. He served as ambassador to Costa Rica.

He met another man destined to become president, Adolfo Ruiz Cortines. He became labor minister after managing Cortines' presidential campaign.

Lopez Mateos earned a reputation for fair dealing in the 13,000 disputes he handled while labor minister. He lived quietly, drove his own car, had no guards and made few headlines.

But he impressed the party leadership, which picked him over half a dozan more prominent men to run for president in 1957. Nomination by the PRI is tantamount to election, but Lopez Mateos campaigned all over the country just the same.

He made speeches in some 480 cities, a prelude to the world trips that later were to make him Mexico's most widely traveled president.

Elected by more than 90 percent of the vote, Lopez Mateos ordered sweeping changes in the government. Cabinet offices shifted, merged or eliminated.

SCARED INVESTORS

Lopez Mateos dedicated more public works projects than any previous president but under his administration also came a series of new laws which frightened foreign investors. They included a profit-sharing program in which workers split profits with the owners of the firms they work for.

Government investors in private enterprise also worried many. There was a flight of capital by Mexico's own men of wealth. To prove that Mexico is sound and solidly united, Lopez Mateos named all seven living former presidents to government posts.

The Cuban question brought a chill in relations with the United States. Mexico and Brazil led the opposition to proposals to expel the Fidel Castro regime from the Organization of American States.

Mexico finally went along with a comprise resolution declaring the Cuban regime incompatible with American democratic systems but abstained on the expulsion resolution.

Lopez Mateos' wife, a former school teacher, has become the most active Mexican first lady in history.

★ ★ ★

Peruvian Election Still Up in the Air

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Victor Raul Haya de La Torre, veteran leader of the PRA party, was on top today for the first time in official returns from Peru's presidential election. But he was still short of the percentage necessary to win.

With 50,000 to 70,000 votes still to be tallied, the official count was Haya de La Torre 532,632; Fernando Belaunde Terry 527,224; Manuel Odria 468,324, and the other four minor candidates had 103,800.

For election a candidate must receive 33.33 per cent of the total vote, or the Congress—also elected in the June 10 election—will choose from the top three. The percentages so far stood at 32.64 for Haya de La Toore, 32.3 for Belaunde and 28.7 for Odria.

Printer's Error Changes Idea of Classified Ad

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — "Two tombstones for sale, in excellent condition, $60 each."

But the classified ad, which appeared in the Concord Tribune, was a typographical error.

Mrs. D. J. Faggart said she intended selling two trombones. She said she got a lot of replies anyway and could have sold the tombstones if she had them.

Sign VERY Authentic

LANSING (UPI)—When Michigan warns motorists of bear crossings, it isn't fooling. During construction of I-75, a bear came out one night and walked through fresh concrete. By morning, it was too late to erase the tracks. The track-marked stretch of highway near Indian River is marked with a sign reading "bear crossing."

Pigeons Keeping Sen. Goldwater From Cooling Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Excuse the cliches but the pigeons came home to roost on the air conditioner and the family of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., has, er, been perspiring it out ever since.

★ ★ ★

On a hot day last May 15, Goldwater started to turn on the air conditioner at the family apartment. He discovered that a pair of pigeons had built a nest on it and mamma was busy warming the eggs she had laid.

Unwilling to disturb this domestic arrangement, the Goldwaters have not used the air conditioner since, despite Washington's sometime sweltering weather.

★ ★ ★

But the senator and his family are hoping that the young pigeons, now nearly as big as their parents, will quit the nest soon. After all, July is just around the corner.

Make Sure It's Solid

NEW YORK (UPI) — For repair and renovation of the outside of homes, builders are recommending use of a sturdy material such as ceramic tile for resurfacing of steps, terraces, patios, walks and walls. Quarry tile is advised for building a weatherproof walk between the house and garage.

My Wife Jo 'Knew,' Says Next Astronaut

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—A woman's intuition, astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. says, told his wife he'd be the next American in space.

Schirra, a Navy commander, whose selection for the United States' next orbital flight was announced officially Wednesday, says his wife Jo realized this fact some time ago "through a sixth sense which all wives have."

Actually, Schirra told a news conference, the official word was given him Tuesday night although he and his family had been told earlier he was the next astronaut in line.

DELIGHTED

Schirra, 39, who may circle the earth as many as six times, said the additional three orbits would be a great bonus.

"If I am performing well and the capsule is performing well, we will decide during the third orbit whether to go for six," he said.

★ ★ ★

No major modifications are planned for the capsule or the space suit. Schirra said "we always felt the Mercury capsule had a capability of more than three orbits."

★ ★ ★

Schirra said he plans to slim down to 171 pounds before the space mission later this summer. He now weighs 175, and keeps in good physicial condition by swimming, water skiing and surf boarding.

At the public announcement of his selection, his wife said "I'm delighted that Wally will have this chance."

Mrs. Schirra, leaving Sunday for the new space agency headquarters in Houston, Tex., said she wouldn't go to Cape Canaveral for the launch because their two children would probably be in school by then.

MARTY EXCITED

Marty Schirra, 12, is quite excited, said Mrs. Schirra, but four-year-old Susie isn't aware of the importance of her father's assignment.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, golly!" said the astronaut's mother in San Diego. "It takes my breath away. My husband and I are so happy for him."

★ ★ ★

She said she and her husband, a World War I air ace, will remain in California. If the mission goes to six orbits, she said, her son will land in the Pacific and they will see him sooner by remaining on the West Coast.

Actress Susan Kohner Drops Marriage Plans

The wedding was set for Aug. 12.

The actress, 25, said she gave Hamilton, 23, back his wedding ring. Hamilton left town for an undisclosed destination, declining comment. He recently bought a palatial estate in Beverly Hills.

Named Representative to U. N. for Panama

PANAMA (AP)—Aquilino Boyd, who once led a campaign to get the Panamanian flag flown in the Panama Canal Zone, was appointed the country's permanent representative to the United Nations Wednesday.

Australia's Navy is to buy two guided-missile destroyers from the United States for about $90 million. The vessels have antisubmarine and antimissile devices and are on order, to be delivered by 1966.

Boy in Wheelchair Has Paper Route

HAMTRAMCK (UPI) — Sixty-five newspapers were delivered by wheelchair today.

On Sundays, 102 families get the same service. They are the customers of 15-year-old Marshall Wilson, who has willed himself to be useful.

Ten years ago, Marshall came out of an iron lung where he had spent a year fighting polio for his life.

He was helpless — really helpless. He could not lift his head.

"He had no muscle control at all," said Milfred Corliss, a physical therapist for the public schools. She has worked with him the past 10 years.

But the spindly little boy would not resign himself to a life of uselessness, being pushed about by others.

"First he had to learn about the muscular system, and then to exercise control of his muscles through his mind," Miss Corliss said.

After Marshall was able to wrestle the wheelchair about, he struggled into the Detroit News circulation office in this suburb.

GOT A JOB

"It was a little startling when he came rolling in, asking for a job," said district manager Leonard Malloy.

Marshall drew a "problem route," streets the paper had not been having much success with anyway.

"It would have been rough to turn him down when he had so much get up and go," said Malloy.

Marshall got up and went — in the wheelchair. He boosted circulation on his route by 25 per cent and beat out the motor-scooter crowd to win a U. S. Savings bond in a competitive promotion.

* * *

The boy is saving his earnings to attend Alma College and hopes to do it — with any luck — on crutches.

But he probably won't graduate to crutches this winter, and, as in winters past, will ask his brothers to push his chair over the ice and snow on his route.

Eying Revisions in Hart Park Bill

Glen Lakes Leader Is Noncommittal on New Plan for Sleeping Bear

GLEN LAKES (UPI) — The president of the Glen Lakes Citizens' Council said yesterday he is not ready to accept or reject Sen. Philip A. Hart's revised proposals for establishment of the Sleeping Bear National Recreation Area.

Ove F. Jensen, who has been one of the strongest opponents of Hart's proposal to nationalize the Sleeping Bear country in Leelanau and Benzie counties, said his group will meet with the Platte Lakes Area Association of Honor to study the new bill and draft a policy statement.

Hart, Michigan Democrat, unveiled his revised Sleeping Bear plan in a speech to the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in Traverse City last week. The new proposal is designed to meet objections raised by property owners in the area that would be nationalized.

* * *

Jensen said his preliminary information on the bill indicates "It will please some people but on the other hand it may be a tactic to divide and conquer. That's what we'll have to look it over for."

Expected to Declare Algerian Freedom

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle is expected to make a formal declaration Monday or Tuesday in effect recognizing Algerian independence, a cabinet spokesman said yesterday.

* * *

De Gaulle's declaration will take note of the results of Sunday's self-determination referendum in which Algerian voters are expected to approve independence.

* * *

The declaration will formally mark the changeover in Algeria's status from French territory to an independent state, the spokesman said. However, Algeria will not have a government of its own until elections are held late in July.

Hell-to-Paradise Call to Be Possible Soon

LANSING (AP)—Before long, you'll be able to go to Hell and put in a telephone call to Paradise.

* * *

The State Public Service Commission yesterday authorized the Munising Telephone Co. to serve the hamlet of Paradise in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. The village of Hell, in the Lower Peninsula, is already served by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Cave Attracted the Sick

Jets Strip Midway of Being Top Airport

CHICAGO (UPI) — Eight miles southwest of downtown Chicago stretches 640 acres of what used to be the world's busiest airport.

Chicagoans were proud of their Midway Airport, where planes arrived or departed every minute of the day. Today they are trying to figure out what to do with it.

There is disagreement as to what should be the fate of Midway. But there is broad agreement as to what turned it into a white elephant — jets.

Modern air travel is jet-propelled and the jet traffic has moved to expansive O'Hara International Airport on the Northwest side.

O'Hare has the space and runways for jet lines. Midway doesn't.

As a result, a sign bearing the proud slogan "World's Busiest Airport" was taken down at Midway. And there was talk of scrapping Midway as an airport altogether.

Comparable figures between Midway and O'Hare for 1961 tell the story of what's happened to Midway.

Midway had 174,067 scheduled in-and-out flights which carried 3,183,709 passengers. O'Hare had 236,299 scheduled in-and-out flights which carried 9,514,836 passengers.

According to Midway airport manager John Casey, the city has abandoned for the moment plans to extend Midway's runways to accommodate jetliners.

"If jets are coming to Midway," he said, "they will have to fix the jets to fit the airport."

The city's position about Midway was simply stated by A. R. Tomaso, public information officer for the department of aviation, which leases the property from the board of education.

★ ★ ★

"It's still an airport, and we'll continue to operate it as such," he said.

What if revenue at Midway dipped below operating cost?

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," he said.

Police Chief Confines Teen-Agers to Quarters

ROWLEY, Mass. (AP) —Rowley's new police chief, Robert G. Hardy, has what he feels is a sure-fire system of dealing with teen-age speeders.

★ ★ ★

"It hits them where they don't like it," the chief says.

'Wicked Printer' Fined

LONDON — The careless printer of the 1631 edition of the King James Bible was fined 300 pounds for leaving out the word, "not." The omission was from one of the Commandments, making it read: "Thou shalt commit adultery." This has come to be called the "Wicked Bible."

Americans Work Hard Relaxing

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Sunday is my day off.

I find that I work harder on my day off than on my days "on." Gardening, housecleaning, googling with the baby, rooting my ball team to victory without the release of throwing pop bottles at the TV, writing letters, cooking three meals—it's all fun. Having fun is exhausting.

* * *

The only people who have more exhausting fun than I do are the ones who drive to the beach in traffic.

But this is the American way of life. We have so little free time that we work like the devil at spending it.

Contrary to what most Americans believe, the average working man and woman in this country puts in a 48-hour week. The impression has been that in this prosperous land, dedicated to the pursuit of money and leisure, the average work week is 35 to 40 hours.

STUDY DISAGREES

Not true, reports a new study titled "Of Time, Work and Leisure."

This impression has been spread around because over-all statistics on working hours take in the time spent by part-time workers; this cuts down the national average considerably.

Actually, claims the study, the full-time employe in the U.S. works about eight hours a day, six days a week.

When you add to that an average commuting time of 8.5 hours, and many hours spent on chores at home (2.3 hours for men — considerably more for working women), there isn't much left-over for leisure.

* * *

Naturally, then, you've got to work like mad to have a good time.

It's jet leisure.

It's abbreviated hilarity.

Wh'pee!

Of course, when we take a two-week vacation we can really relax and enjoy.

Can't we?

Another survey, this of 200 United States business firms, discloses that, for many clerical workers, the answer is no.

Out of a two-week vacation there are actually only 3.2 "effective vacation days." These EVD's were defined as the "net vacation value after subtracting the damage done by an overload of work and tension before and after the vacation."

DESTROY BENEFITS

Particularly in small firms, abnormal workloads before and after the 14-day layoff nearly completely destroy the benefits of the holiday.

The ironic part of it all is that the more valued and respected the employe, the more indispensable he (or she) is — and the greater the load of work he must do to prepare for, and recover from, his annual brush with leisure!

So have a nice vacation — but hurry.

Apropos of this wearying rundown on how rundown Americans are, advertising executive Earle K. Angstadt reveals that:

* * *

Sixty-six per cent of our men clean the windows.

Only 27 per cent will wax the floors.

The American men spend $35 million annually on deodorants.

So the American wife and the men's cosmetics industry benefit jointly by the sweat of honest toil!

Victim Returns to Mishap Scene With a Scratch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)— The Dade County sheriff's office received a call that a car had hit a boy on a bicycle.

* * *

An ambulance attendant surveyed a damaged bicycle and asked about the victim.

Someone pointed to a house and the attendant rushed over, carrying a stretcher.

* * *

Just then, Chris Schofield, 10, sauntered out, explaining the lady inside had given him a drink of milk. Chris showed the ambulance attendant a scratch on his leg.

Everyone went home.

Spaceship Planned to Survey Universe

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—A scientist says there are plans for a spaceship to explore and survey the entire celestial sphere—hopefully by late next year.

* * *

The plans were outlined at a meeting of the aviation and space division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers by John M. Mocovciak Jr. He is a project engineer for the space science group of preliminary design with the Grumman Aircraft Corp. of New York.

* * *

He said plans call for a spaceship to orbit the earth at an altitude of about 500 miles in a project shared by the University of Wisconsin and the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

Computers Help Battle Cancer

U. of M. Institute Told Electronic Device to Become Great Aid

ANN ARBOR (AP) —A report given at the University of Michigan's Institute on Cancer Control yesterday states that the electronic computer opens "entirely new avenues for diagnosis and treatment" of cancer.

★ ★ ★

Theodore D. Sterling, Ph. D., director of the Biomedical Computing Center at the University of Cincinnati, told the institute how computers are being used and sketched some prospects for their future.

The treatment of all patients has improved immensely" when computers plan X-ray applications for cancer sufferers, Sterling said.

The computer helps shape the maximum dose of radiation into the afflicted area and cuts down on the amount of radiation hitting the surrounding healthy tissue.

TO BECOME EXACT

He said further engineering advances and improved knowledge of the use of computers "will transform radiation treatment into a form of exact surgery."

Sterling told the group of more than 50 specialists that "both diagnosis and treatment are (now) based on relatively crude observations of antecedent conditions and their consequences.

"Tools are lacking for finding the patterns of signs, symptoms and characteristics that determine precise diagnoses or the consequences of particular treatments. These patterns . . . will be unearthed by the use of computer techniques," he said.

★ ★ ★

Frank W. Reynolds, M.D., of the U. of M. is the coordinator of the institute, attended by public health physicians and nurses, and officers of government and voluntary agencies active in the field of cancer control.

★ ★ ★

The National Cancer Institute, American Cancer Society and the Michigan Cancer Coordinating Commission are among the half-dozen groups cosponsoring the institute with the U. of M. School of Public Health.

Flight Engineers Not the First

Airline Navigators Felt Automation's Bite

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The flight engineer is not the first airliner crew member to have his job threatened by aviation progress.

That precedent was set last winter by 55 navigators of Trans World Airlines. All were faced with loss of jobs when TWA introduced a new over-water navigation system for its trans-Atlantic jets known as Doppler.

It is capable of navigating an airplane across the ocean with an accuracy no human could achieve.

The navigators announced their intention of striking. A presidential fact-finding commission arbitrated the dispute and both parties accepted its recommendations.

TWA agreed to provide severance pay of up to $25,000 per man under a 36-month "phase out" program. TWA also promised to retain 18 navigators for piston-engine planes.

The settlement generally was regarded by union and industry officials as not only liberal but something of a precedent for handling employes displaced by automation.

Doppler was the first real automation device to be installed in the cockpit.

The system owes its name to an Austrian mathematician and physicist named Christian Johann Doppler. In 1842, he determined why a noise-emitting object sounds louder when it approaches than when it moves away.

The Doppler navigation system utilizes this phenomenon by substituting radar waves for sound waves.

Doppler bounces four separate radar waves off the water and then records the frequency difference between transmission and reception as the plane moves over the water.

Before a flight, the pilot registers with Doppler the course he intends to fly. When the four radar beams begin sending data to computers in the cockpit, it automatically is converted into ground speed.

The ground speed figure itself is digested electronically and relayed to an instrument which tells the pilot his position relative to his intended course and exactly how far he is from destination.

Jets flying overseas routes today must maintain at least 300 miles separation, requiring an airspace about the size of Florida.

The Doppler system eventually may allow double or even triple the number of planes to use safely the present airspace allocation. Presently, only TWA and some foreign carriers employ the system.

TWA has equipped 12 jets with Doppler at an over-all cost of $1.8 million. Each plane carries two separate units, one for standby use if the first unit malfunctions.

The system is operated by the pilots and dispenses with the man-operated sextant used for navigation for the past 230 years.

Had So Much Homework He Was Late for School?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—"It's your fault," the tardy second grader explained to his teacher. "You gave me so much homework last night, we missed the first movie and had to catch the last one."

City School Supt. W. H. Oliver said the teacher did not accept the youngster's explanation as an excuse for tardiness.

Calls on President

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sir Alexander Bustamente, premier of Jamaica, called on President Kennedy yesterday to discuss various matters, including his island's sugar trade.

Graduation Party Philippine Style

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

About five years ago Mrs. William Gokay of Cherokee Road (then of Lansing) met Flora Tandoc of the Philippines. Mrs. Gokay was working on her advanced degree in education at Michigan State University where Miss Tandoc had as her goal a Ph.D. Liking the Philippine girl, Mrs. Gokay spent as much time with her as possible. She even promised her a big party when the coveted degree was earned.

★ ★ ★

In January the Gokays moved from Lansing to Pontiac. But the promised party was not forgotten; only the locale was changed from the original plans. It took place Saturday at the Gokays' Pontiac home.

Although Miss Tandoc was the guest of honor, she did all the cooking. You see, this turned out to be a Philippine party, complete with island-type food. Mrs. Gokay said her duties were limited to buying the food and preparing the watermelon bowl full of fruit for dessert.

Miss Tandoc is a home economics major. She loves to cook and thinks nothing of preparing food for large groups. Last year she cooked for 300 at a fiesta. She has been offered a position as head of the Home Management Department at the Philippine University in Manila.

Twenty-five guests helped Miss Tandoc celebrate her graduation. A number of the guests were fellow Filipinos. Among them were Col. and Mrs. Amando Dumlao who are on a round-the-world tour. They planned their trip to take them to East Lansing for the graduation ceremonies. Col. Dumlao is a retired member of the original Philippine constabulary.

MENU

What was the menu? There were two chicken dishes, rice, soybean threads with pork sauce, sweet potato fritters and mixed fruit.

Although Mrs. Gokay now has a Philippine cookbook, she said Miss Tandoc didn't need recipes. But we copied three from the book for our readers to try. Except for the soybean threads, all ingredients are available locally. You can buy the soybean threads in Detroit, Mrs. Gokay says.

Adobo Chicken

1 broiler-fryer chicken salt to taste
black pepper
½ bay leaf
2 cups water

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Add all ingredients and put into kettle. Cover and let simmer until liquid has practically evaporated. Remove from kettle, place on shallow pan and place in broiler. Let brown on all sides. Serve hot or cold.

Chicken is only one ingredient in this second main dish. Mrs. Gokay said she omitted the shrimp.

Pancit Guisado

½ cup boiled chicken, flaked
½ cup boiled shrimp, sliced in long narrow pieces
½ cup cooked pork, sliced in long narrow pieces
½ cup cooked ham, sliced in long narrow pieces
1 cup cabbage, shredded
3 tablespoons soy sauce
4 segments garlic
1 onion, sliced
1 cup shrimp juice or water
1½ cups chicken stock
salt and pepper

Fry separately the garlic, onion, shrimp, pork, chicken and ham. Set aside a portion of each for garnishing.

To the rest add soy sauce, shrimp juice or water, and salt and pepper. Cook about 5 minutes; add cabbage. Mix well and let simmer until almost dry. Arrange on a platter and garnish with foods you set aside at the beginning, also slices of lemon. Serves 4-6.

Sweet potato fritters now have a definite place in the Gokay menus. They may be made small for appetizers or larger for the main course.

Sweet Potato Fritters

6-8 sweet potatoes
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1-3 cup water
2 tablespoons sugar
4 tablespoons milk
1 beaten egg

Grate potatoes on a coarse grater. Sift dry ingredients. Add milk, water and egg, then potatoes. Form into fritters and fry in deep fat until brown. Large fritters will take about 15 minutes to cook.

Raisin Slaw Good to Serve With Ham

★ ★ ★

Raisin Slaw Frances

½ cup less 1 tablespoon mayonnaise
¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons buttermilk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup raisins
3½ cups fine knife-shredded green cabbage (packed down)
Romaine or other salad greens

Into the mayonnaise, gradually stir the buttermilk and lemon juice so mixture is smooth. Rinse raisins in hot water and drain well. Toss together the mayonnaise mixture, raisins and cabbage. (If prepared ahead, cover and refrigerate.) At serving time, line a salad bowl with romaine and add the slaw. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Layer Meat, Vegetables in Hearty Casserole

Serve meat patties in this casserole combination. In a baking dish, first arrange a layer of sliced raw potatoes, then a layer of canned or frozen whole kernel corn. Top with meat patties which have been lightly browned. Add a can of diluted condensed tomato soup and bake in a 300-degree oven for 1 hour. Serves 6.

Bananas Have Varied Place in Meal Planning

Mashed bananas incorporated into commercial mixes give a flavorful mellow flavor. To mash or whip bananas, slice them on a plate and mash with a fork, or use a rotary egg beater or electric mixer until smooth and creamy.

Try a sliced banana with cold orange and grapefruit sections—or split a banana and top with bright-colored melon balls. Add a sliced banana to canned fruit cocktail, or for a dish that's practically a meal by itself, have a banana shake with milk and raspberries or strawberries.

Sugary Muffin Top

Nice for a change: before frying fish cakes, and after shaping, roll them in cornflake crumbs.

USE ROQUEFORT — A crumbling of tangy Roquefort cheese gives epicurean goodness to an easy-to-make meat loaf or a tempting green salad. Americans consume more of this delicious cheese than any other consumers. All true Roquefort is made in France.

Roquefort Found in Good Company

The most famous — and most highly esteemed — of France's 400 or more cheeses is surely Roquefort. This epicurean blue-veined ewe's milk cheese, which comes to perfection in the mountain caves of south-central France, maintains a reputation for excellence which goes back for twenty centuries.

★ ★ ★

In the days when France was known as Gaul, Caesar rated Roquefort cheese as the greatest of delicacies, better than anything else usually served at Roman banquets. Charlemagne, 800 years later, tasted Roquefort while traveling in that part of France and declared it a cheese fit for the Gods.

Casanova gave space in his Memoirs to a description of the delights of Roquefort. To make certain that less gifted cheeses might not be called "Roquefort," a law passed in 1666 specified that only cheese cured in the natural caves of the rocky Cevennes mountains might bear this name.

Today, in the United States, the Roquefort Association closely guards the honor and reputation of the renowned cheese. Any attempt to sell as Roquefort some other blue-veined cheese not made of sheep's milk and cured in the Roquefort caves is punishable by law.

The greenish-blue streaks of mold which marble Roquefort are Penicillium roqueforti carried on powdered bread crumbs. This gives credibility to the legend that Roquefort was discovered by a shepherd who forgot an ordinary cheese sandwich in one of the caves, then came upon it weeks later, dubiously tasted the strangely mottled cheese and found it delicious.

Combine all ingredients except sour cream. Pack into a greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour or until done. Drain off pan drippings into a small saucepan. Stir in sour cream. Serve over slices of meat loaf.

YIELD: One 9x5x3-inch loaf.

When Isn't a Hog Meat? When It's Antique Coin

"Going whole hog" might make a dent in your food budget, but the expression does not have its origin in food, says the American Meat Institute. In America's early days, a ten-cent piece was called a "hog." A spendthrift who was willing to squander a dime was said "to go the whole hog."

★ ★ ★

If you're recovering from a similar spending experience, remember that thrifty pork cuts provide good eating as well as nutritional benefits.

Deep Fat Frying in Order for Batter Chicken

Chock-full-of-Batter Chicken

1 cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
Salt
1 egg (separated)
2-3 cup milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted)

Have chicken cut into 10 pieces; wash and dry. Sift together, the flour, baking powder and ¼ teaspoon salt. Beat egg yolk until thick and lemon colored; add milk, melted and cooled butter and sifted dry ingredients; beat gently to combine. Beat egg white until soft peaks form; fold into flour mixture.

Sprinkle chicken with salt and dip in batter; hold over batter briefly to allow excess to drip off. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees until golden brown and done through—12 to 15 minutes.

Drain on absorbent paper; serve at once. You'll probably have enough batter for a few extra pieces of chicken.

Hide Jam in Muffins

Hidden Surprise Muffins are an easy variation of basic muffin batter. Spoon the batter into greased muffin tins filling them ½ full. Add a spoonful of jam and top with remaining batter. Bake as usual. For an extra flavor fillip, brush the tops of the baked muffins with melted butter or margarine and sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar.

Bay leaf and lemon are both excellent seasonings for veal stew.

New Salad Dressing Mix Ideal for Greens — Plus

When the thermometer goes up in the kitchen, keep a cool head on your shoulders and plan to serve salads more often. Just one look at a crisp salad is enough to inspire a wilted appetite.

Salads are the most versatile and probably the easiest course of a meal to prepare. The wide range of fresh greens and vegetables available in the markets allows for a different salad every day. Distinctive salad dressings also lend variety to salads, such as those unique dressings created with salad dressing mixes.

This year you can call on a bright new flavor — Parmesan salad dressing mix — to season summer salads. So tasty is this dressing that the man of the house will wonder if you went on a shopping spree for spices, when actually, the fine flavor of Parmesan and Romano cheeses blended with selected seasonings and a touch of garlic comes from an envelope. To the dry mix are added the correct amounts of water, vinegar and oil, and in seconds you have freshly made Parmesan dressing.

Introduce this sparkling new dressing to family salad favorites or try a new creation such as Parmesan Green Salad. A take-off on Caesar salad, this recipe concludes its preparation with a whipped egg tossed through the salad which consists of romaine lettuce, crunchy garlic croutons and strips of salami.

Parmesan Green Salad

1 envelope Parmesan salad dressing mix
Vinegar, water and oil
1 clove garlic
1 large head romaine or lettuce, cut in 1-inch pieces (2½ quarts)
¼ teaspoon coarsely ground pepper
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Garlic Croutons
½ cup thin strips salami
1 egg
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

To make the dressing, combine Parmesan salad dressing mix with vinegar, water and oil as directed on envelope or cruet. Measure 1-3 cup. Set aside.

Rub salad bowl with a clove of garlic. Place romaine in bowl; add measured dressing and toss lightly. Sprinkle Worcestershire sauce, pepper, salt, croutons, and salami over romaine and toss again. Whip egg lightly with a fork and pour over salad. Toss several times; then serve immediately on chilled plates. Makes 8 cups, or 4 to 6 servings luncheon or entree salad, or 8 servings side salad.

Garlic Croutons

2 tablespoons salad oil
½ cup ½-inch bread cubes
½ clove fresh garlic, minced, or ¼ teaspoon garlic salt

Heat oil in skillet, add bread cubes, and brown lightly on all sides. Add garlic, stirring briskly. Remove from heat. Drain off any excess oil, or place croutons on paper towels to drain. Serve with salad. Makes ½ cup croutons.

NOTE: French bread or rolls make best croutons, but any white bread is acceptable.

Green Pepper Pieces Added to Celery Soup

Chop 4 small green peppers and 2 small onions; cook in ¼ cup butter or margarine until soft, about 5 minutes. With electric blender or rotary beater blend or mix well.

In a large saucepan, combine 4 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed cream of celery soup and 4 soup cans milk. Blend in green pepper and onion mixture. Heat soup gently, stirring often. If desired, garnish with green pepper rings. Makes 12 servings.

PARMESAN GREEN SALAD — Reminiscent of a Caesar salad, this is a salad choice a man will welcome. Garlic croutons, strips of salami and romaine lettuce combine with Parmesan dressing to give it a robust flavor.

Put Variety in Breakfast With Apple Sandwiches

Bright new breakfast dishes are popping up all over these days . . . all designed to lure us into eating the better breakfasts we need for the morning's work. First rate coaxers on that score are these hot, open Apple-Cheese Breakfast Sandwiches.

They start their coaxing as they come gently sizzling and bubbly from the broiler. One sniff of that savory apple-cheese, and appetite takes on keen edge.

* * *

You start with toast. On top of that goes cheese. Then you cover the cheese with plump, juicy canned apple slices and bacon strips and let the whole thing broil until the cheese is melting, the apple slices hissing hot, the bacon crisp. What a rousing send-off on the day! The rest of this breakfast might consist of grapefruit, perhaps more toast or a sweet roll on the side, and plenty of coffee.

These hot, open sandwiches, a good simple dish for breakfast, also shine as an equally bright and flavory dish for luncheon or supper.

Here's how you put them together:

Apple-Cheese Sandwiches

2½ cups (1 can) sliced apples
½ cup sugar
¼ cup water
2 teaspoons lemon juice
8 bread slices
½ pound sharp American cheddar cheese
16 bacon strips

Combine apple slices, sugar, water and lemon juice; cook gently until apple slices are almost transparent but still firm; drain. Toast bread slices on one side; cover untoasted side with cheese slices. Cover with apple slices; top with bacon slices. Broil until cheese melts and bacon is crisp. Makes 8 open sandwiches.

About 25 per cent of all fresh fruit used in this country is bananas.

Stuffing for Cornish Hens Made With Nuts, Cereal

The first buffet on the patio is always exciting because it's the start of the outdoor eating season. Your first dinner can be especially so if you feature Rock Cornish Hens with Corn Flake-Pecan Stuffing and Currant Sauce.

* * *

The corn flake-nut dressing is a good texture and flavor contrast for the succulent Rock Cornish Hens. This stuffing is a superb combination of crushed corn flakes, fresh mushrooms, celery, onion, light raisins, and pecans. This dressing is especially easy to make because the corn flakes require so little preparation; merely crushing.

Breakfast cereals, when used as a recipe ingredient, can add variety and interest to your creative cookery — plus making nutritional contributions by the addition of protein, B vitamins, and minerals.

* * *

Rock Cornish Hens

¾ cup chopped fresh mushrooms
¾ cup chopped celery
3 tablespoons chopped onion
⅔ cup butter or margarine
1-3 cup light raisins
½ cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
1½ cups corn flakes, crushed to make 1½ cups crumbs
¼ cup hot water
4 Rock Cornish hens, about 1 pound each.

Saute mushrooms, celery, and onion in 1-3 cup butter or margarine until onion is soft. Add raisins, pecans, ½ teaspoon salt, and poultry seasoning, mix well. Stir in cereal crumbs. Add water and toss.

* * *

Clean hens; salt cavities with remaining ½ teaspoon salt. Truss. Place on rack in shallow baking pan. Roast in moderate oven (375 degrees) until tender, about 1 hour. Melt remaining butter or margarine.

Brush hens several times during cooking time with remaining melted butter or margarine. Serve with Currant Sauce. Yield: 4 servings.

* * *

Currant Sauce

1 jar (10 ounce) currant jelly
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ cup light corn syrup
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon or ground cloves

Combine ingredients. Place over low heat; simmer until jelly melts and flavors blend, about 5 minutes. Yield: 1¼ cups.

FRENCH AND FLUFFY — This recipe for a flourless rolled cake made with sweet cooking chocolate, and filled with whipped cream, has improved over the years.

Which Ripeness?

If you are using bananas in a cooked dessert, the fruit may be slightly green at the tip. For eating out of hand, they should of course be ripe enough to be flecked with brown.

Sour cream makes an excellent topping for fresh fruit. Sprinkle brown sugar over the top.

Fabulous Chocolate Roll Made Without Flour

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

One of the most sensational desserts ever to hit these shores is a rolled chocolate-flavored cake made with sugar and eggs and no flour.

★ ★ ★

The first recipes for the dessert that we have been able to find appeared in two cook books of the early 1920's. These call for cocoa as the flavoring, and one of them cheats — it includes a tablespoon of flour.

We find the recipe showing up again, calling for cocoa but no flour, in a cook book of the early 1930's.

But the dessert didn't really come into its own until Dione Lucas of television cooking school fame gave the rule for it in her "The Cordon Bleu Cookbook" (Little, Brown) published in 1947. In her flourless recipe Mrs. Lucas calls for chocolate rather than cocoa.

No reason why you can't make this delectable dessert to serve at a party of your own. Here's the latest of the modern rules for it that we have tried.

French Chocolate Roll

2 tablespoons boiling water
1 teaspoon instant coffee
1 package (¼ pound) sweet cooking chocolate
5 eggs (separated)
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup cocoa
Coffee Cream Filling

Stir together the water, coffee and chocolate (broken into squares) in a saucepan over very low heat until chocolate is completely melted. Remove from heat and let stand in a warm place.

Beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon colored — at least 3 minutes. Beat in ½ cup of the sugar, a tablespoon at a time; add vanilla; beat well. Slowly fold in the warm chocolate mixture — mixture will be thick. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry.

Fold in chocolate mixture until no white blobs show. Turn into 13 by 9 by 2 inch pan that has been greased on bottom and sides, lined with waxed paper and greased again. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 18 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and cake springs back when lightly pressed in center. Place cake in pan on rack to cool for 3 minutes.

Mix the remaining ¼ cup sugar and the cocoa and sprinkle over a tea towel. Loosen cake from edges of pan and invert onto towel. Roll up cake and towel very loosely. Cool rolled cake on rack 30 minutes.

Carefully unroll cake; spread with Coffee Cream Filling. Carefully reroll cake without towel; save the cocoa mixture on the towel. Chill cake. Sprinkle with saved cocoa mixture just before serving. Makes 8 servings.

Coffee Cream Filling — Beat together ½ cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon confectioners sugar, ½ teaspoon instant coffee and ¼ teaspoon vanilla until mixture holds soft peaks. Makes about 1 cup.

Dress Up Prepared Potatoes as Puff

Potato Chive Puff

1 four-serving envelope mashed potatoes
1 egg
White pepper
1 tablespoon minced chives (fresh or frozen)

Prepare the mashed potatoes according to package directions, adding the amount of water, salt, milk and butter called for. Beat egg until thick and ivory colored; fold into hot potatoes with pepper (to taste) and chives. Turn into buttered 8-inch pie plate; bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until puffed and potato peaks are lightly browned—about 15 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 generous servings.

Softened Ice Cream Goes on Fresh Fruit

Whip up a luscious almond topping for fresh berries or other fruits in season. Fill your prettiest glass bowl with hulled strawberries, raspberries or sliced fruits. Sweeten lightly with powdered sugar.

Whip a cup of heavy cream and gently fold in 1 cup softened ice cream. Add ¼ teaspoon almond extract and ½ cup slivered or diced almonds. Pour over fruits and sprinkle lightly with nutmeg or ginger.

Pears and Ice Cream Get Coat of Chocolate Sauce

Glossy smooth Honey Chocolate Sauce served over canned pear halves which have been drained, chilled and topped with vanilla ice cream makes a very glamorous dessert with little fuss.

★ ★ ★

For the sauce, melt one 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces in ⅓ cup honey over low heat, stirring to keep well blended. Add ¾ cup evaporated milk and stir until well blended. Cool before serving. (The sauce is also a delight served over slices of angel food cake that have been brushed with butter and toasted lightly in the oven.)

Boom Day Nears in Dryden

Celebration Set for 4th of July

Parade, Coronation of Queen to Be Highlights of Annual Event

DRYDEN — A gala parade, coronation of a queen and other country fair-type activities will highlight the fourth annual Boom Day celebration here next Wednesday.

For the first time since its inception, the holiday event, sponsored by the Dryden Area Development Association, will get under way officially the night before.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m. all booths, concessions and the carnival will be open on the field behind the school.

At 8 a.m. the following morning they will be open again—not to close until after the fireworks at night.

The high school band will lead the parade which will start at 11 a.m. at the school. Participants will include mainly children —with pets, in costume or riding some kind of decorated bicycle, wagon or cart — scout groups and clowns.

TO AWARD PRIZES

Prizes will be awarded for the most interesting and most artistic entries.

The parade will proceed to the heart of town where a flag-raising ceremony will take place in front of the fire hall.

The Dryden Veterans will conduct the ceremony and give a gun salute to mark the patriotic holiday.

Climax of the morning festivities will be the coronation of Miss Boom Day of 1962. Janette Bonesteel, 17, by her predecessor Sandra Havens.

★ ★ ★

Janette, daughter of Mrs. Ida Bonesteel, 2584 S. Lake Pleasant Road, Dryden Township, and the late Mr. Bonesteel, will be a senior at Dryden High School next year.

Attending her will be her two maids of honor, Becky Morris, 49 Colson St., Metamora, and Betty Elling, 7181 Bowers Road, Imlay City.

On the agenda for the afternoon are a tractor pull on Main Street at 1:30 followed by a tug-o-war or water fight in which the Dryden Fire Department will challenge fire fighters from a neighboring community.

★ ★ ★

A baseball game between the Dryden All Stars and the Capac All Stars will be next on the program.

A spectacular fireworks display will conclude the day's activities at 9:30 p.m.

NEWS OF THE AREA

In Baptist Ceremony

Wed in Walled Lake

MILFORD — The First Baptist Church of Walled Lake was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Marilyn Kay Beagle and Ronald Koshorek. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Robert Roach of Lincoln Park.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Koshorek of 2598 Roselawn St., Walled Lake.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of Alencon lace and silk organza. It featured a fitted bodice, shallow scoop neckline appliqued with Alencon lace, and short cap sleeves.

Serving as best man was Thomas Watrous of Milford. Ushers were Ted Sankiewiez of St. Clair Shores, Larry Koshorek of Detroit and Gerald Beagle of Milford.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held at a VFW hall immediately following the ceremony. The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Michigan.

MRS. RONALD KOSHOREK

Wins Bid to Build Sewer in Milford

MILFORD—A $25,000 contract has been awarded to the Northwest Construction Co. of Livonia to build a storm sewer on South Main Street.

Village Manager Donald Weidner said the project will begin in about three weeks.

The drain will run from Byron Drive on the south to Washington Street, then west for two blocks and then north to the river.

Northwest was the second low bidder among the nine firms seeking the job.

Group to Study Hospital Survey

Huron Valley Unit Sets 1st Meeting to Review Progress on Facility

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Community Hospital Association will hold its first organizational meeting here tomorrow to review the progress of a survey being made on a proposed 100-bed hospital.

The report will be made by John Ripplinger, project director and vice president of Professional Facilities Corp. of Hazel Park.

The firm was hired in April by the association to make the study and provide consulting services.

Benjamin R. Threloff, president of the association, said that preliminary reports indicate it may be possible to have the medical facility ready for occupancy in two years, rather than the three years first predicted.

He said Ripplinger's stury shows that there is much enthusiam from area residents and doctors over the proposed $2-million project.

Construction of the hospital would be financed through subscriptions and investors.

"Only about 30 per cent of the total cost would have to be raised through subscriptions," said Threloff. "Once we reach this goal we will be in a good postion to contact investors for the remainder."

★ ★ ★

The meeting will be held 8 p.m. in Threloff's office at 447 N. Main St.

To Observe Anniversary

WIXOM—Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Kitson, 30700 S. Wixom Road, will observe their golden wedding anniversary with an open house Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the First Baptist Church here.

RT. REV. R. I. DeWITT

A class of 26 will be confirmed Sunday by Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, a suffragan bishop of Michigan in the 10 a.m. service at St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Rochester. The confirmands will be presented by the rector, Rev. Edgar A. Lucas.

Station Attendant Tied, Robbed of $126

He told police the gunman walked up behind him while he was standing in front of the station.

Club Giving Up Building to Auburn Heights Boys

AUBURN HEIGHTS — In a brief ceremony at 2 p.m. Sunday, the elderly of this community will give up one of their most cherished possessions to advance the welfare of the young.

It will be the last act of the club, which is disbanding after 40 years and offering the balance in its treasury, some $2,500, to Avondale High School for creation of a college scholarship fund.

In December 1921, a group of women here organized a Christmas party for 100 children. The following month, the same women met again and formed what is now the Community Club. The club has included men as well as women since 1940.

Members met in their homes, but dreamed of a building of their own. Finally, in 1938, they were able to buy some property and build a basement with the proceeds of several projects.

STARTED IN 1953

It was not until 1953 that the club had enough money to start construction of a ground level building.

Today, the addition of a dance floor has made the Community Club Building at 220 S. Squirrel Road ideal for rental for wedding receptions and private parties. Several local organizations, including Lions Club, Rotary, Boy Scouts and Teen Club, have made use of the building.

Just as the Community Club had no building of its own in its beginning years, the Boy's Club has had none since it began in 1955 as an effort by a group of parents to provide a baseball program for their sons.

Led by William and Clifford Welch, Leonard Bartkowiak and Glenn Allen, the parents organized three teams.

By the fall of 1956, football, basketball and hockey teams also were being formed despite lack of money. The next spring, the Hill-Gazette Post No. 143, American Legion, donated the use of its basement for a boxing program. Table tennis, billiards, a work shop and arts and crafts soon followed.

★ ★ ★

What began as a small sports program was a full-fledged Boys' Club movement by 1957. A board of directors was organized and a fund drive raised $12,000 to renovate the Legion post's basement, obtain a charter in Boys' Clubs of America, and hire a full-time professional director.

TOOK OVER

The first director stayed only a year. Sam R. Sheehy, the present director, then took over, but the club's program became only part-time during winter as he was attending college.

Last fall a new board of directors set a goal of obtaining a building and providing a full-time program.

Thanks to the Community Club, the 380 boys now in the Boys' Club will have their own building, which will be renovated with $1,000 donated by the Lions Club, and a full program of activities.

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, widely known for his youth work, will speak at the ceremony. Also there will be Community Club president Andrew Voerding and Boys' Club president Dr. E. D. Barrett.

Newlyweds Live in Milford

Gaines Vows Solemnized

UNION LAKE — Residing in Milford following their recent exchange of vows at the Waterford Community Church are Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Gaines Jr. Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was Rev. Robert Winne.

The bride, the former Cynthia R. Fales, is the daughter of Mr. Phillip A. Fales of 1620 Petrolia St. and Mrs. Frances R. Fales of Kansas City, Mo.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Gaines of 1835 Parker St., Holly.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a crown set with aurora borealis crystals. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Linda Lee Goyette of Union Lake was the maid of honor, and Jerry North of Clarkston served as best man.

Hey There, Girls, Contest's on Again

OXFORD—Whoa, there! Wait a minute!

There's going to be a Miss Oxford beauty contest after all.

★ ★ ★

At least the committee in charge of the contest, Mrs. Phyllis Van Vleet and Mrs. Jack Valentine, is giving it another try.

Just when it seemed that all the beautiful but bashful girls in the Oxford school district were determined to stay in hiding this year, along came a bit of news that may lure them out of seclusion.

Last week the committee called off the contest, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, when only one qualified entry had appeared despite a month of coaxing by the two women.

It seemed, according to Mrs. Van Vleet, that the talent requirement had dampened the enthusiasm of Oxford's modest maidens.

But, since it was learned the Romeo Peach Queen contest, in which Miss Oxford would be entered, has discarded its talent judging this year, so can Oxford.

The committee has reopened the contest without the talent requirement. Judging on July 9 will be on personality, appearance, poise and speaking ability. The new deadline is Monday.

Entry applications can be made by contacting Mrs. Van Vleet at the Clothes Closet, 6 N. Washington St., where she confidently awaits a rush of girls 17½ to 20 years old to prove there's plenty of feminine beauty in the Oxford area, even if it is a bit shy.

Holly Paving Job to Start Next Week

HOLLY—A $14,000 paving project on Maple Road here is expected to get under way late next week, according to Village Supt. James Herrington.

★ ★ ★

A contract already has been awarded to the Ann Arbor Construction Co. for the quarter mile project between Saginaw Street and East Road, he said.

The village will assume about $8,000 of the cost, said Herrington, with the remaining $6,000 to be assessed some 30 benefiting property owners over a five-year period.

SUMMER'S FOR SWIMMIN' — Denise Roy, 9, doesn't let a broken arm keep her from summer swimming fun. She uses a plastic bag to protect her cast from water in a suburban pool outside Birmingham, Ala. She says, "No matter what, I'm going to swim."

Clinton Valley Council Unveils Study

Boy Scouts Tell 20-Year Plan

True to the Boy Scouts of America "Be Prepared" motto, Clinton Valley Council officials are at work now on plans to solve scouting needs in their area for the next 20 years.

The plans are the result of a two-year study of anticipated membership, facilities and finances in the Oakland and Macomb county areas served by the Clinton Valley Council, according to Edward H. Leland, the council's chief executive.

The study, Leland said, was only the first phase of a council program called "Operation Long-Term Growth—Boy Scouting Tomorrow."

It revealed that the present membership of approximately 10,000 boys may be increased by 150 per cent to 25,000 by 1980, he explained.

1. A 100 per cent increase in membership during the next 10 to 15 years to keep pace with population growth.

2. Complete equipping of Camp Agawam in Orion Township and maintenance of the facility.

ANOTHER CAMPSITE

3. Acquisition of an additional main summer campsite.

4. Development of the present "north country" site, Camp Ausagawam near Milo, as a base for canoe trips, exploring and advanced troop camping.

5. Adequate financing to enable the council to meet its anticipated needs.

6. Consideration of redistricting the council for greater administrative efficiency.

7. Promotion and development of the expanded exploring program for teen-agers and young men of the area.

"The second phase of the program will include formulation of specific plans by the finance, camp, training and other council committees to provide specific means for carrying out this scouting program 5, 10, 15 and 20 years from now," Leland said.

MORE GOALS

However, Leland listed seven more immediate goals which the council hopes to accomplish within the next two years.

They are:

1. To organize 20 new cub packs, boy scout troops, and explorer posts.

2. To increase membership this year by 800 boys and 300 adult leaders.

3. To strengthen assistance to cub packs in enlisting and training den mothers.

4. To strengthen and staff all the council's operating committees.

5. To upgrade and increase both quality and quantity of the council's adult leadership training program.

6. To further streamline and simplify the council's organization chart so it will meet the demands of the future.

7. To complete the council's long-term development plan and implementation program.

While most of the council's "blueprint for the future" remains in the planning stages, certain objectives already have been met, Leland said.

For example, he said, the council's main summer camp, Camp Agawam near Lake Orion, has been converted to 100 per cent troop camping. This allows scouts to attend the camp with their whole troop.

CUTS COSTS

"This cuts our long-range camping costs, strengthens the home troop as a unit, makes possible lower fees for the boys attending and insures a memorable camping experience for a greater number of boys than formerly," said Leland.

Also, a new lodge soon will be built at Camp Agawam as the result of a $60,000 bequest from the estate of the late Pontiac Press columnist Joe Haas.

The building will serve as a summer program activities center, winter camp headquarters and adult leadership training center.

In other actions, the council recently reorganized its executive board and other organizational groups and adopted a revised constitution and bylaws.

★ ★ ★

The council's long-range planning committee, headed by retired architect Frank R. Chapman, based its anticipated membership figures after examining studies by the federal government, local school boards, utility companies and the Greater Detroit Metropolitan Planning Authority.

Benefit Will Aid Hospital

Preparing for the Booster Fisher Theater Benefit for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are (from left) Mrs. James Hannan, of Birmingham, an American Red Cross Gray Lady; Mrs. John Mahony, of the hospital's women's auxiliary, of Birmingham; Dr. Michael Kozonis of Birmingham, ticket chairman for the benefit; and Mrs. John Petrakis, also of Birmingham, a ticket cochairman. Proceeds from the ticket sales to the opening of the Fisher Theater's "Unsinkable Molly Brown" on Tuesday, July 17 will go to refurbish the hospital.

St. Joseph Auxiliaries Helping

Units Sell Tickets to Performance at Fisher Theater

Every volunteer group from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will be represented in the opening night audience as the curtains go up on "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" July 17 at the Fisher Theater in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

This benefit performance will be the result of a joint effort on the part of each volunteer group in the hospital and the Fisher Theater.

ASKED TO PARTICIPATE

The combined forces of the American Red Cross Gray Ladies, the Junior League, the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Woman's Auxiliary, the Boosters Club, hospital employes, medical staff and friends of the volunteer groups have been invited to participate.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from tickets sold by these groups will assist in refurbishing the hospital. There are long-range plans on tap to completely rebeautify the building and to make confinement more pleasant for its patients.

New furniture, pictures, a fresh coat of paint and planting arrangements will help brighten up rooms and corridors, and a facelifting is also in store for the wards.

CAN BE HAPPY

The general idea is that hospital confinement can be a happy and pleasant experience, both for patients and employes.

General chairman for this benefit performance is Dr. T. J. Sansone, Dr. M. C. Kozonis is ticket chairman and his committeemen are Marie E. Hickey, director of nursing at St. Joseph's and Mrs. John Petrakis.

★ ★ ★

Woman's Auxiliary members Mrs. John Mahoty and Mrs. Charles Kleinsmith are also selling tickets along with hospital boosters Dr. Raymond Gagliardi, Dr. C. H. Gordon, and Dr. E. C. McPhee.

George F. Taylor (left) of Birmingham, an attorney; Miss Marie Hickey, director of nursing at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, and Dr. Edward C. McPhee of Birmingham, one of the hospital's boosters, view the statue of St. Francis of Assisi in the front lobby of the hospital. The threesome represent but a few of the hospital volunteer groups who anticipate complete beautification of the building following the booster benefit at the Fisher Theater.

He's in Its Second Childhood

Don't Be Jealous of Old Goat

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 69 years old and have been married to the same selfish man for 44 years. I worked for 36 years to help out. He is 72 and thinks he is 45.

ABBY

Every time I look for him he is across the alley fixing something for a 40-year-old woman who has a husband her own age to fix something if it gets broken.

For Mother's Day he gave her six roses he bought in a store and a picture of himself in his uniform from World War I. He gave me a card which said, "To My Mother." I am not his mother! What do you make of this?

HAVING TROUBLE

DEAR HAVING: Your husband seems to be enjoying his second childhood more than his first. Nothing serious can come of it. Don't let the old goat know you're jealous, or he won't be able to get his hat on.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I will be 13 soon and am going to have a birthday party. My mother says I can have only 36 kids.

I have six cousins my age. I like 3 of them, and 3 of them I don't care for too much. If I have all my cousins I will be able to have only 30 classmates.

Would it be all right if I invited the 3 cousins I like and took their ice cream and birthday cake to the other 3 after the party?

BIRTHDAY GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Invite ALL your cousins. Taking ice cream and birthday cake to uninvited cousins would be a new low in public relations with one's relations.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in the service overseas. He informs me by letter that because of a recent promotion he may not be able to take a planned leave because others in his division are entitled to leaves before he is.

Is he tryirg to put something over on me? I was always under the impression that everyone in service was entitled to a 30-day leave every year. Where can I find out for sure?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: Call your Veterans' Administration office. Or the Red Cross can give you the information you want.

★ ★ ★

How's the world treating you? For a personal unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Planning to Marry

At a family party Mr. and Mrs. James T. Annas announced the engagement of their daughter, Sally Elizabeth, to Thomas Joseph Feely, son of Emmett P. Feely of Birmingham and the late Mrs. Feely.

★ ★ ★

Sally is a senior at Rosary College in River Forest, Ill., and Tom was graduated from John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John E. Moore came from her present home in Vero Beach, Fla., to attend the party and plans to fly to Europe in July with two other granddaughters.

The Gerald Fitzgeralds, uncle and aunt of the bride-elect, came from their home in Shorewood, Wis., for the affair.

Women's Section

Relaxing along the rail during the Detroit Horse Show is a quintet of junior exhibitors included in more than 400 entries in the six-day show. They are (from left) Wendy Mitchell, Lynn Maedel, Diane Bohnsack, Debbie Willson and Janet Polk.

St. Hugo Guild to Hear Talk at Pool Patio

Pat Morris, familiar television figure throughout the area, will speak before the women of St. Hugo Altar Guild on the topic, "Summertime Beauty," at their meeting July 10.

Members will gather at the pool on the grounds of Mrs. William Mohrhoff's Mackintosh Lane home. Refreshments will be served through the arranging of Mrs. Arthur F. Poll.

Mrs. John E. Murtagh Jr. is president of the St. Hugo Altar Guild and Father Francis T. Stack is the group's adviser.

WCTU Unit Hears Speaker

Emor L. Calkins' Woman's Christian Temperance Union, heard Wilbur Smith of Arcadia, Calif., during its luncheon get-together Tuesday at the home of their president, Mrs. Pearl Hardenberg of Foster Street.

Mr. Smith spoke on "The International Conspiracy — Socialism and Communism," stressing their inroads into American government, education and various organizations.

The group will meet next in July with arrangements to be announced later.

Do Send Invitation to House

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: A close family friend has been visiting a relative on the West Coast for the past month and is not expected back for several more weeks.

My daughter is going to be married in the meantime and there is a question as to whether or not this friend should be sent an invitation even though she will not be here at the time of the wedding.

I say that an invitation should be sent to her house so that when she returns home she will know that she was on the wedding list.

My daughter things it would be ridiculous to send an invitation under the circumstances and that she will take it as a bid for a wedding present. Will you please tell us the correct thing to do in this situation?

A: Even though you do know she will be away, an invitation should be sent to her at her house. This invitation will not obligate her to send a wedding present.

Q: When addressing a wedding invitation to a man and wife and their unmarried daughter, is it proper to address the envelope to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Daughter?

A: Mr. and Mrs. John Smith and Daughter is not correct. If the daughter is grown, her name should be written as Miss Mary Smith underneath that of her parents. If she is very young, her name is included on the inside envelope.

Q: When a man goes to the theater or to a concert with two women, what is the correct seating arrangement? Would it not be better if he sat between them?

A: Correctly, the women enter the row of seats ahead of the man who then takes the aisle (or last seat). To sit between the two women is not only a mistake of good form, but a convenience, since he cannot avoid turning his head away from one when talking with the other. Sitting at the end he faces both.

Dr. George W. Crane Says:

Parents' Home Is Sacred

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-452: Alma R., aged 51, presents a view that should be challenging to all young married couples who tend to run home to their parents quite often.

★ ★ ★

"Am I an unnatural mother," she began our discussion, "just because I resent letting my married children take advantage of me?

"When my daughter's husband found that he was soon to go into the Army, they gave up their apartment and moved in with us.

DR. CRANE

"They seem to be enjoying themselves immensely, but I can't say that I enjoy having them underfoot.

"My daughter wants to change all my household routines and run the place.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, shouldn't they, as guests, adapt themselves to our routines? I don't object to their having company and going out a great deal, for they are young and that is as it should be.

SHOCKED DAUGHTER

"But why should they insist that we suddenly become addicted to partying and night life?

"We're in the 50s and have had many good times to remember, but we are slowing up a bit and are enjoying the slowing up process, so why not let us alone?

"What I'm trying to arrive at, is the fact that when an adult daughter comes home these days, she really should be told that it isn't right for them to run their parents' home.

★ ★ ★

"I know very well, for example, that I wouldn't think of going into my daughter's apartment and expect her to change all her daily habits to accommodate me, unless it was a matter of life and death.

MOTHER TALKS

"Another thing, our young daughter thinks it would be a good idea for her to have a baby now while she is staying at our house and her husband is gone.

"When I didn't approve of the idea, she thought I was an unnatural mother. But, Dr. Crane, they have been married three years and didn't try to have any children then.

★ ★ ★

"I had to go through childbirth and the diaper stage with four children, so I feel I have acquitted myself fairly well on that score.

★ ★ ★

"As a grandmother, I would enjoy seeing babies and having them for short visits, but I don't view with great delight having my daughter decide to have her baby at my expense (I don't mean financial).

"Furthermore, she has arthritis at times, and would be more or less of a burden herself. If she had her first baby at our house, I'm sure I know who would be expected to take over most of its care.

AGES CLASH

"I'm a little bit ashamed of myself for feeling the way I do, but there it is. You tell us to speak the truth, so I have told you my candid feelings.

★ ★ ★

"Thus far I haven't come right out and said anything much to the children, but I'm afraid I soon will, for it has been building up and I've been holding it in for a long time.

★ ★ ★

"My husband is placid and easy going. Things that worry me, don't bother him much. But my daughter is bossy and chides me about humoring her younger brother who was discharged from the Army as a psychoneurotic. What do you think, Dr. Crane?"

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Miss McGinnis Weds John Cook of New York

Bloomfield Hills Country Club was the setting for the reception following the vows of the John J. Cooks spoken before Rev. Francis Stack Saturday morning in St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills.

A mantilla of Alencon lace fitted to a lace cap extended over the gown of bouquet taffeta for the former Maureen E. McGinnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McGinnis of Birmingham.

Yellow roses complemented Copenhagen blue silk organza with overskirt for maid of honor Maribel Lesch of Chicago and bridesmaids, Mrs. N. James McNerney, of Toledo, Ohio, and Helen Duke, Fairlawn, N.J., who carried Shasta daisies and greens. Kathleen Mary Eckhout attended her aunt as flower girl.

Robert W. Cook of Mt. Vernon, N.Y., was best man for his twin. They are the sons of Mrs. John J. Cook, Forest Hills, N.Y., and the late Mr. Cook. Ushers were Lawrence W. Brown, Raymond Meany, Thomas Zito and Edward Keenan, all New Yorkers.

Returning from their Bermuda honeymoon, the couple will live in New Rochelle, N.Y. The new Mrs. Cook is a graduate of Marymount Junior College, Arlington, Va., and her husband is an alumnus of Adelphi College, Garden City, Long Island, N.Y.

Mrs. McGinnis chose maize chiffon with jeweled bodice and matching jacket for the wedding and Mrs. Cook appeared in a pure silk print with full-length off-white coat.

In Grand Rapids Ceremony

White-Glaske Nuptial Vows Spoken

The Burton Baptist Church, Grand Rapids, was the setting for Saturday afternoon vows of Arlene Ruth Glaske of Ann Arbor to Melvin A. White, Rev. Barton Brown performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Galen Hershey, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bridal couple are the Ernest E. Glaskes, Houston, Tex. and the Howard L. Whites, Avondale Drive, Sylvan Lake.

A circle neckline and chapel train distinguished the bride's gown of Alencon lace over delustered white satin. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was secured by a satin rose. She carried Amazon lilies and ivy.

Attending their sister as honor maid and junior bridesmaid, respectively were Anne Louise Glaske and Joan Marie Glaske of Houston. Mrs. Arthur Edmunds, Waterford and Mrs. Phillip Warren, Ann Arbor, were bridesmaids.

They wore shell pink embroidered nylon sheer and carried pale pink and old rose carnations. Sherry Gloss was flower girl.

The bridegroom had Arthur Edmunds, for his best man. Thomas Smith, Columbus, Ohio, Dale Roberts, Birmingham and Phillip Warren, ushered.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Robert Beckham of Boston, Mass., and the late Mr. Beckham. The senior Crawfords of Mark Avenue, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at a reception for the immediate families following the June 19 afternoon vows.

A nosegay of white roses, stephanotis and ivy was carried by the bride who chose a white Irish linen sheath dress with lace bolero, for her wedding. Her face veil was attached to a white velvet Dior bow.

The bridegroom's sister Nancy Crawford, as maid of honor, appeared in a blue organdy shirtwaist dress and veiled blue bow headpiece. She held yellow rosebuds.

The new Mrs. Crawford attended Elizabethtown, (Pa.) College. The couple will spend their honeymoon at a cottage on the Canadian shore of Lake Huron.

Scouting in England Gets Birds and Bees

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

News item with a London dateline: "A handbook on love-making has been issued for the Girl Guides of Britain, likening the perils of sex to the hazards of driving a car."

All I can say is, scouting has certainly changed since I was a girl in a khaki uniform.

When I used to attend Girl Scout meetings we learned about the birds (how to tell a wood thrush from a flicker) and the trees (how to tell one tree from another by the leaf or bark) and even how to recognize poison ivy before it was too late.

But we didn't hear one word about the birds and the bees as a preparation for an understanding of sex — and we certainly didn't have any handbook on the perils of sex.

We did spend a lot of time tying and untying knots—all kinds of knots. That, looking back on it, was a supreme waste of time, for the only knots I have ever been called on to tie in all my years of home-making were a square knot and a bow knot.

So maybe the training Girl Guides in England are going to get will be more helpful than what we learned out of the Girl Scout manual over here when I was a tenderfoot.

BOYS TABOO

But it doesn't sound much like scouting in the old days, when talk about boys was strictly taboo and all in the world a Girl Scout was supposed to be interested in was hiking, swimming, knot tying, bird watching and campfire building (with not more than two matches).

Perhaps those interests are a bit unsophisticated for today's young. Perhaps they were even a bit naive for the girls in my time.

For I do remember that scout meetings were often pretty boring and that a great many Girl Scouts never got past the tenderfoot stage, because boy watching so soon became a more fascinating pastime than bird watching.

June Wedding Bells Ringing Out

Joan Tyler Married in Waterford

Wed Saturday noon in Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford, before Rev. F. J. Delaney, were Joan Margaret Tyler and James R. Davis, who have chosen a Canadian honeymoon before taking up residence in Pontiac.

The Glenel E. Tylers of Tubbs Road, Waterford Township received guests at their daughter's evening reception in Auburn Heights Community Club with the F. M. Davises of Rochester, parents of the bridegroom.

* * *

White mousseline de soie for the bride was styled with molded long-sleeved bodice of Chantilly lace and chapel train. A white floral headpiece secured her short veil of silk illusion. White carnations and lilies of the valley surrounded her white orchid bouquet.

Mrs. Gerry Tyler, Drayton Plains, her sister-in-law's matron of honor, and bridesmaid Ann Morearty appeared in orchid taffeta sheath dresses with matching overskirt, shoes and hat. Their bouquets were purple carnations and white roses.

BEST MAN

Stick Lifts Best

The old-fashioned laundry "stick" has not yet outlived all usefulness. It is still the best way to lift clothes from the soiled suds to the wringer en route to the rinse water.

Distance Aids Maturity

Gilbert Youth Service

Put the distance between yourself and your parents, says actress Susan Strasberg, and you come up with a better perspective and a great understanding of them.

Susan herself has put an ocean between her family's home in New York and her career girl's apartment in Rome, but thinks the healthy break can be made without going to that extreme.

* * *

"I see my parents as they really are," says Susan, who once flew back to New York just to be at home on New Year's Eve. "Father and mother are always adopting someone who's starting an acting career. The apartment is always filled with people.

* * *

"I had a very independent upbringing. I wasn't rebelling against regulations when I decided to go to Rome.

"But if you stay at home, you don't have the same responsibility you have when you're by yourself. You're capable of making decisons, but it becomes a habit to have your parents decide."

* * *

In a modernized palace, Susan occupies an apartment which she has decorated and furnished by herself.

Susan, pint-sized, delicately-boned, and with an air of fragility, scored her first success on Broadway at 16 in her first play, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

* * *

Though she is now busy with films, she misses the stage, and is considering a new production of "Camille."

Lorraine Cox, Gary Metz of USN Wed at St. Michael Church Mass

* * *

* * *

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cox of Jamm Road, Orion Township, were hosts at a home reception following the ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jack Tater of Portland Street and Charles Metz of Wagner Avenue.

* * *

Attending their sister were Linda Cox, maid of honor, wearing turquoise silk organza over taffeta with lace bodice. She carried white carnations and yellow rosebuds. Katherine Louise Cox was her sister's flower girl. Glenn Levering carried the rings.

Thomas Cox was best man at his sister's wedding and her brothers-in-law Edward Washburn and James Carpenter ushered.

* * *

The couple will be at home on New York Avenue while the bridegroom is stationed at Broadhead Naval Armory, Detroit.

* * *

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cox chose Bermuda blue printed voile. The mother of the bridegroom appeared in white lace etched with blue over white taffeta. Both wore pink and white carnations.

White delphiniums decked the altar in St. Michael Church for the Saturday vows of Nancy Carol Walker pledged to James A. Mitchell before Rev. Charles E. Cushing.

* * *

The Wendell H. Walkers of East Mansfield Avenue are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M. F. Mitchell, Letchworth England and the late Mr. Mitchell.

Preceding the bride to the altar were Jean Marie Elkins, her cousin's maid of honor and bridesmaids, Mrs. Jack Ward and Mrs. Hugh Walker. They wore pink nylon organza with embroidered cummerbunds and carried pink roses.

Ruth Ann Woods and Christine Woods, also in pink, were their cousin's junior attendants. Their nosegays were pink Shasta daisies.

* * *

* * *

George J. Fields of Detroit was best man. The bride's brother, Airman 1.C. Hugh W. Walker of Letchworth, England ushered with Peter Webster of Royal Oak.

Poll Takers Pull a Switcheroo

Teen-Agers Conservative and Idealistic Too

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

What are teen-agers really like? Are they materialistic, venturesome, dreamy-eyed, nonconforming, analytical?

To find out, we pulled a switch in our usual poll-taking. We took a look at the opinions teen-agers have been spouting over the past year, and from them produced a composite picture of today's young people.

Those who expect wild rebellion and venturesome action from the youngsters will be surprised to find that the 1962 teen-ager is basically a conservative—and a satisfied one at that.

★ ★ ★

Only a small proportion wanted to be the first in space — till the Glenn orbital shot was safely achieved. Then, as though convinced space is safe, a bigger group decided on space travel, and thought they might even make it to the moon before long.

Few want to run away from home, and blaze a new and shining career independent of the family. They like home, they're satisfied with their parents.

If their parents send them to camp, they like camp. A big majority, 80 per cent, even are satisfied with homework.

They walk the middel of the road in social and personal attitudes. They don't like extremism in dress — knee-length skirts, say the girls firmly, are the best.

The boys don't like extremes in make-up. A little goes a long way, they indicate. Their entertainment desires are undemanding, too. Movies and dancing still rank at the top.

WELL-SATISFIED

They're well-satisfied with themselves, without egotism. When asked if they would like to be someone else, the majority said no.

They're happy to be themselves. They stoutly defend their virtues, and don't like loose talk about wild teen-agers.

They feel quite capable of handling their own social life without restrictions on time and place being set by their parents.

They do acknowledge they could use more career guidance, possibly because of the multiplicity of choices now available in the workaday world.

When they were put to the test of solving some of the problems of their contemporaries, they were sensible and direct. In fact, they sounded almost parental as they counseled each other!

The current crop of teen-agers, judging by our poll takers, is well oriented. They don't bury their problems, they talk them out.

If one of their number runs into trouble, they feel he should shoulder the blame, and not pass it back to his parents.

Serious-minded all the way down the line, they see the importance of college, and would go in debt to pay for this education.

They do admit to a feeling of frustration on trying to meet the competition and get themselves into college, but they're in there plugging.

But in spite of this sensible outlook on themselves and the world, a bit of idealism creeps into their opinions. They believe love can triumph over religious difference in marriage.

CREATED EQUAL

They are sure all young people are created equal, as befits a democracy. And the girls, at least, don't think money is equated with popularity.

(The boys, perhaps a little more uncertain about their social relationships, think it is, and would also let grades slide if being a bookworm is unpopular in their particular school.)

Contented even in this nuclear age? Yes, the majority of our teen-agers are.

Once in a while, a touch of fear is revealed in the comments however. They admire presidents "who keep us out of war," and this includes President Kennedy.

Some who can't quite figure out the approach to disarmament suggest that we stop nuclear testing, but keep the weapons "just in case."

But this thin line of fear is negligible to most teen-agers, who are so busy living today they're not worrying about tomorrow.

Only 13 of the states had birth registration laws prior to 1910.

JPs to Oppose 'Constitution'

Justices Say Proposed State Document Fails in Six Ways

The Michigan Justice of the Peace Association has declared itself opposed to the proposed new state constitution, Milford Justice Benjamin R. Threloff reported yesterday.

Threloff, Oakland County regional director of the JPs' association, said the group drafted a resolution at its state convention last weekend which says the proposed document "does not best serve the need of the state. . . ."

The JP group listed six reasons for its opposition:

1 — The new constitution "weakens the structure of local government.

2 — "It diminishes the inherent right of the people to elect public officials.

3 — "It fails to provide a solution for the chronic fiscal ills of the state.

4 — "It weakens traditional checks and balances between the three branches of government, executive, legislative and judicial.

5 —"Although it creates a long-needed interim court of appeals it deprives the citizenry of their personal relationship with the local judiciary.

6 — "The package presentation to the electorate prevents the exercise of choice between favorable and unfavorable portions of the proposed document."

Under the new constitution, the association's 6,000 justices would lose their jobs. The document provides a provision which calls for abolishing justice courts within five years.

Percy Kilbride Talks Stroll

Pa Kettle Looks Perty Fine

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

I had heard for years that Percy Kilbride was often seen walking along Hollywood Boulevard, but this was the first time I had seen him.

THOMAS

"Of course," he said warmly. "I still writing those things, huh? My goodness, all those words."

The memory went back to our last conversation. It was nine years ago, and he was filming "Ma and Pa Kettle at Home." That was the seventh of the corn-fed films he had made with Marjorie Main, a vastly successful series that had stemmed from their roles in "The Egg and I."

WAS THEIR LAST

It was to be their last. Neither he nor Marjorie had any love for the series; they had quit it the year before, but returned for one more film because of Universal's inducements.

When the film was over, Kilbride kept his word; he disappeared from the acting scene. Marjorie did two more Kettles, with Arthur Hunnicutt and Parker Fennelly trying to fill Pa's soiled shoes. But it wasn't the same, and the series had had its final gasp.

Almost 74, Kilbride looked unchanged. If anything, he looked better.

"Feel better," he said in his pleasant twang. "You know, on that last Kettle picture, I wasn't feeling well at all. The doctor had to keep giving me injections to keep me going. I didn't know what was wrong with me. I was afraid I was going to die."

So he quit. He had enough to live on because his needs were slight. A lifetime of acting failed to make him a rich man; he had reached stardom only in his later years, and then it went largely to taxes.

ENJOYED SIMPLE LIFE

But he was a lifetime bachelor who enjoyed the simple life. His retirement came when he had turned 65, and he was counting on the Social Security payments.

I asked if he missed the acting life.

"Oh no, not at all," he said cheerfully. "I find plenty to keep me busy. Now that I'm feeling so well, I might think about going back. But the role would have to be something worth doing."

Would he consider a television series?

"Oh, no, I'm not geared for that," he replied.

Helmet Allows Pilot to Shoot Just by Sight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sperry Gyroscope Co. said yesterday it has developed a helmet that would allow a helicopter pilot to shoot at a target simply by looking at it and pressing a button.

* * *

The company said the helmet, a standard Army type, has a special adaption linking the helicopter's guns, missiles or other arms to a bulls-eye sight through which the pilot can line up his target.

The armament automatically wheels around to face the same direction the pilot is looking and to fire, the pilot presses a button on his control stick. The company said the helmet would be "ideal for helicopters that require a pilot's undivided attention to fly."

CHICAGO (UPI) — Two and a half million Americans today need rehabilitation services and their number continues to grow, the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults reports.

Goodwill Industries Opens in Parking Lot

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The Goodwill Industries here opened for business in its parking lot yesterday with what goods were salvaged from a $60,000 fire which tore through its one-story plant and retail sales store Tuesday.

Firemen arriving at the scene shortly before midnight said the blaze at the building, near Battle Creek's downtown area, already had knocked out windows and had been going for some time. The roof collapsed during the blaze. The cause of the fire was not immediately determined.

Worker's Alarm Keeps Neighbors Wide Awake

NUNICA (AP)—Orlo Carrier has been told by the Muskegon County sheriff's office to do something about his alarm clock which apparently has been waking neighbors at 5 a.m. daily.

A service station mechanic, Carrier had rigged up the alarm to start his auto horn blowing as an added measure to rouse him from slumber. A woman complained last night to the sheriff's office.

Deputy Charles Knapp visited Carrier early today when the mechanic confirmed that he devised the unique alarm because he "had trouble" getting up. Knapp advised Carrier to put the horn where it wouldn't disturb neighbors.

Music-Making Class Grows Through Nation

CHICAGO (UPI)—Musicmaking in America has grown faster than any other leisure time activity, the American Music Conference reports.

* * *

Today, more than 23 million adult amateur musicians and more than 10 million school-age children study or play instruments. In 1947, only 14.5 million adults and 2.5 million chidren were classified as amateur musicians.

Last Hellcat Put Out to Pasture

PT. MUGU, Calif. (AP)—The last of the Hellcats, hailed by many World War II pilots as the hottest thing with wings, is going out to pasture.

The single engine propeller fighter was built as the answer to Japan's formidable Zero. It did its job.

It shot down a majority of the 9,882 Japanese aircraft reported downed in the Pacific area, officials say.

But time caught up with the 8tile gasoline-powered craft once so welcome to hard-pressed American soldiers below. Its glamour faded as science marched on.

The jet age killed it.

Once flown by the thousands, its ranks were decimated by one thing after another.

In the Korean War, they loaded radio-controlled Hellcats with bombs and crashed them on enemy targets because they were no match for the newer planes.

Later they used them for target drones, good only to be shot at by powerful new missiles.

But it wasn't always so. The Hellcat was the first American fighter based entirely on experience in World War II fighting. It swept into action over the Gilbert Islands in 1943, flying from Essex-class carriers.

Armed with six 50-caliber machine guns, it could carry two 1,000-pound bombs if desired. Its top speed was 371 miles per hour. Its rate of climb delighted its pilots—to 15,000 feet in 4.3 minutes. Its normal range; 1,040 miles; its service ceiling: 36,700 feet.

CONFOUNDED ENEMY

All these things so pleased Americans and so confounded the enemy that 10,000 Hellcats were turned out through 1945 and rushed off to duty with Navy forces.

In June 1944 Hellcats were credited with shooting down more than 400 enemy planes over the Marianas. In 1945 they were reported to have chalked up a 21 to 1 loss ratio against the Japanese—21 enemy craft downed for every U.S. one.

The last operational F6F5 Grumman Hellcat touched down at Pt. Mugu Naval Missile Center for the last time in May 1961, back from another of many uninspiring flights as an unmanned target drone.

Full of holes, it bounced, wobbled, and then plowed across the runway into the control truck which had become its master.

But it was patched up again and the last of the fighting Hellcats of World War II now is destined for a museum.

Perhaps South overbid his hand when he went all the way to six no-trump on the strength of his partner's vulnerable overcall, but South had a mighty good hand.

West opened a club and a quick count of his winning tricks gave South a count of only 11 — six in clubs — three in hearts and the other two aces.

A diamond or spade finesse could give South his 12th trick, but West had opened the bidding and was marked with both those kings. Hence, some sort of squeeze against West was indicated. South started proceedings by knocking out the ace of hearts. West took the second heart and returned the suit. South cashed his fourth heart, discarding a spade from dummy and now was almost ready for the squeeze.

The trouble was that if he ran off clubs he would have to discard before West and would be squeezed first.

South handled this problem by means of the play known as the Vienna coup. He cashed his ace of diamonds to establish West's king. Then he ran off dummy's clubs and discarded the queen and seven of diamonds and the six of spades. West had to go down to two cards and either had to unguard his king of spades or throw away his good king of diamonds.

Rule 9 Blasted by Republican Senate Candidate

Rule 9, the controversial regulation aimed at preventing discrimination in real estate selling, attacked by Republican senatorial candidate Richard D. Kuhn.

★ ★ ★ ★

Kuhn, speaking before the Oakland Citizens League Tuesday called Rule 9 "Un-American" and said it creates "undue interference with our free enterprise system."

★ ★ ★

"The property owner's rights are being taken away," Kuhn complained. "He can no longer engage a real estate expert to help sell his property unless he consents to show his property to anyone who comes along.

★ ★ ★

"Certain groups have tried to make this a racial issue. But it is not a racial issue. It is simply a question of whether or not we are going to allow government to take away more of our rights."

Rule 9 was passed by the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission in 1960.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Friday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Seek true PURPOSE of recent events. Look behind the scenes. Strive for self-understanding. If you are self-critical, you may find that others show MORE admiration.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): If you can open your heart this could be exciting day. Otherwise, you may receive bitter taste of loneliness. Be independent without being "bossy." Appreciate feelings of those who love you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Cycle up . . . but results may not be immediate. This is time to "plant seeds." Time to prepare, to get house in order. Activity in connection with career, ambitions indicated.

CANCER (June 2 to July 21): The more you "push," the less you are apt to accomplish. Strive for advancement, but go with the tide. Trying to fight "city hall" today could create friction. Go easy!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): More strength on your side today than you might realize. But you have tendency to be impatient. There ARE details which must be ironed out. Control fiery temperament!

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Something you long desired could be tossed into your lap. You may find that you want something which adds up to trouble. Better to seek the familiar rather than shoot for moon.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You could shine at social affair now if you are wise enough to "quit while ahead." In plain words, don't press your luck. Avoid trap of foolish flirtation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): No need to "crawl," but it would be wise to offer apology to one who feels he has been offended. By being generous and tactful, your prestige shoots upward.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): No time for insisting on having things your own way. You could find this a costly attitude. Instead, be willing to wait, for the tide is not yet moving in your direction.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Respect requirements which have been established as result of experience. Trying to bypass regulations might prove silly error. Be willing to pay for the best. Avoid "cheapness."

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Tonight could be exciting in connection with romance, travel, vacation. Odds are in your favor for new experiences. Display Aquarius dash, imagination!

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Being "good sport" fine up to certain point. But others may be tempted to take advantage of you if they sense weakness. Make position clear. Draw line, STICK TO CONVICTIONS.

★ ★ ★

IF FRIDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY year has been significant in connection with finances, marriage, responsibility. Your greatest fault is tendency to worry. Overcome this by getting enough rest, by "activating" sense of humor.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle up for TAURUS, GEMINI, CANCER. Special word to SAGITTARIUS: A little common sense can go a long way today. Avoid acting on impulse, and control that temper!

Paul Foytack No Longer Anxious to Be Traded

Bengal Pitcher Bags 1st Shutout Since '59 Season

He Permits Cleveland Only 6 Hits as Tigers Triumph, 4-0

DETROIT (AP) — It wasn't very long ago Paul Foytack was hoping to be traded and the Detroit Tigers were eager to comply.

"I don't want to be traded any more," said Foytack yesterday. "They gave me a chance to pitch here and that's all I ever wanted."

Foytack had just completed his first shutout since Aug. 21, 1959. It was a neat six-hit, 4-0 victory over the first-place Cleveland Indians. The victory was the sixth for the 31-year-old right hander—and only Jim Bunning has more for the Tigers this year.

"The big difference," said manager Bob Scheffing, "is Foytack's learned to change speeds. He's not just throwing any more.

"He's learned to get his palm ball and knuckle ball over. This is tough for a guy who'd been primarily an overpowering fast ball pitcher."

BOMBED IN SPRING

"Sure, his name came up when we talked trade in Florida," Scheffing admitted. "Nothing developed though, so we kept him."

It turned out to be a stroke of good fortune for the Tigers. With Frank Lary and Don Mossi hurting in the early weeks of the season, Foytack received his chance to pitch. He has rewarded the Tigers with some pretty important victories and has lost only once.

Twice Foytack has beaten the Yankees and now the Indians once. Those three victories alone have kept the Tigers in a respectable position in the pennant race. Yesterday's shutout over Cleveland lifted the Tigers 5½ games from first place.

★ ★ ★

"It seems I'm concentrating more out there now," said the veteran pitcher. "I'm not overpowering any more, and these new pitches help me a lot, especially against the better clubs.

"Actually, I learned the palm ball years ago and used it for a while. The knuckler I started late last year."

BEAT DONOVAN

The Tigers beat Dick Donovan, ace of the league leaders' mound corps. After getting only 11 hits in three games, they collected nine off Donovan and reliever Ruben Gomez.

A double by Bob Farley and singles by Larry Osborne, Dick Brown and Foytack accounted for three runs in the second and lifted the Tigers into a 3-0 lead. They scored once in the first on Jake Wood's single, two infield outs and Donovan's wild throw home after making a putout at first.

Norm Cash tripled in the sixth and Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly brought him home with the last Detroit run.

And today at long last was a day off for the Tigers, who'd played 79 innings since Saturday and 11 games in nine days.

AP Photofax

NEW TIGER SCORES — Bob Farley, new Tiger outfielder, scores his 2nd run as a Detroiter yesterday helping spark a 4-0 victory over Cleveland ace Dick Donovan. He had doubled for his 1st Tiger hit and tallied on a squeeze bunt by Dick Brown.

'Calm' Drysdale Bags 13th Victory of Year

By The Associated Press

Calm, cool and collected, that's Don Drysdale. That's right — Don Drysdale.

The 25-year-old Los Angeles Dodgers' fireballer, whose pitching talents have been diminished in the past by an easily reached boiling point, has learned to curb his temper and seems headed toward his first 20-victory season in the majors.

Drysdale won No. 13 Wednesday night with a five-hitter that whipped Milwaukee 6-2. But he had to maintain his composure during a series of incidents that must have given his new-found control its severest test.

Twice he was hit by pitches, and twice had to pitch out of jams created by errors. In the sixth, Maury Wills booted a grounder by Hank Aaron, allowing the first Braves' run to score. In the eighth, Ed Mathews got a double when Frank Howard misjudged his fly, and took third on a passed ball.

WORKED HARD

Drysdale worked out of that tight spot and set the Braves down in order in the ninth, tying Cincinnati's Bob Purkey for the most victories in the majors and keeping the second-place Dodgers within a half-game of National League-leading San Francisco.

The Giants got their fifth consecutive victory, 6-3 over the Reds. Third - place Pittsburgh edged the New York Mets 6-5 in 10 innings and fourth-place St. Louis blanked the Chicago Cubs twice, 4-0 and 8-0 on shutouts by Larry Jackson and Ray Sadecki. Houston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Drysdale (13-4) also got the Dodgers started in the fifth when he was hit by a Bob Shaw (9-4) pitch. Wills forced him, then rode home on Willie Davis' homer. The Dodgers clinched it with three in the seventh against reliever Hank Fischer on Tommy Davis' two-run single and a double steal that sent Jim Gilliam across the plate. The triumph snapped a three-game losing streak for the Dodgers and halted a skid in which they dropped out of first place with five losses in six games.

Ed Bailey, who hit a pinch hit grand slam homer for the Giants Tuesday, tagged a Ted Wills pitch for a two-run homer in the sixth inning that snapped a 3-3 tie against his former Reds' teammates. Harvey Kuenn and Felipe Alou each homered for the San Franciscans. Wally Post hit his 12th for the Reds and added two singles for a 3-for-4 performance. Bob Bolin (1-0), won it in relief of Mike McCormick. Wills lost his first.

SKINNER HERO

Bill Virdon's fourth single, a walk to Dick Groat, and Bob Skinner's third single got the game-winner across for the Pirates against Mets' starter Roger Craig (4-10). Skinner also had driven in Virdon with the tying run in the eighth. The victory went to 42-year-old Diomedes Olivo (3-0). Frank Thomas hit home run No. 14 for the Mets and Richie Ashburn lashed a single in the fourth inning for the 2,500th hit of his 15-year career.

Roberts Wins 4th Straight in Oriole Uniform

Robin's Career Has Upswing

The 35-year-old right-hander, who hit a dip when he was handed his unconditional release by one American League club this season, won his fourth straight for the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night, beating the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

Supported by the resurgent home run power of Jim Gentile, Roberts posted his victory with a neat five-hit effort. Gentile broke out of a slump with a pair of homers, driving in all three Baltimore runs.

Roberts, who was purchased by the New York Yankees last fall after 14 seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies and then released by the Yanks in late April without ever pitching for them, has put together a 4-2 record since joining the Orioles.

Elsewhere, things tightened up among the league front-runners. Paul Foytack and Detroit beat first-place Cleveland 4-0, the Yankees whipped Minnesota 7-3 and Los Angeles blanked Boston 3-0—leaving the Indians one game ahead of the Twins, with the Yanks and Angels two games off the pace. In the AL's other game, Kansas City scored over Washington 4-1.

Roberts was a 20-game winner six years in a row for the Phils, but gradually tailed off and last year was a dismal 1-10. The word was the stocky midwesterner's fast ball was gone—and he hadn't developed a delivery to replace it.

Could be. But he's winning somehow with the Orioles. After two effective no-decision stints for Baltimore, he suffered two one-run setbacks. Since then Roberts has beaten the Yankees, Senators, Red Sox and White Sox—giving up nine earned runs during his winning string.

★ ★ ★

The White Sox drew first blood when Joe Cunningham singled in the first inning off Roberts, but Gentile rapped left-hander Juan Pizarro for one homer in the last of the sixth and smacked another with one on in the eighth. Gentile had collected only one homer and four runs batted in the previous 14 games. The handsome first baseman was virtually the only troublemaker for Pizarro, who allowed six hits all told.

KAAT BLASTED

The Yankees went to work early against Jim Kaat for six runs in the first two innings. Tom Tresh led New York's attack with a homer and single, and was hit by one of Kaat's pitches with the bases filled. Roger Maris also homered for the Yanks—his 13th of the year, compared with 27 at this stage last year.

The Angels, no-hit by Boston's Earl Wilson Tuesday night, rebounded as Don Lee and Dean Chance collaborated on a five-hitter. The Los Angeles runs came in on a single by Billy Moran, Leon Wagner's double and Lee Thomas' sacrifice fly. The loss went to Ike Delock.

Kansas City netted a pair of unearned runs in the fourth inning and went on to win their third in a row as Ed Rakow handcuffed the Senators.

Drubs Nicholie, 12-0, in Class A Showdown at Jaycee Park

Huron-Airway took sole possession of first place in the Class A City Baseball League race last night at Jaycee Park — and did it with considerable authority.

The Huron-Airway squad collected 10 hits, two each by John Lucadam, John Fleser and Chuck Johnson, while handing Don Nicholie a 12-0 drubbing in their showdown battle for the league lead. Lucadam had 3 RBI's.

The 10-run rule halted play at the end of the 6th inning after the winners erupted for eight runs in the bottom of the 6th.

Don Sackett was the winning pitcher and Nicholie bagged only four safeties, two by Dick Bushey and another pair by Ron Smith. Daryll Thorpe was the starting and losing hurler.

Just Want to Play, Says Farley

'I'm Not a Troublemaker'

DETROIT (UPI) — "I'm not a troublemaker," Bob Farley said. "I just want a chance to play regularly."

The 24-year-old outfielder-first baseman, traded for Charley Maxwell Monday, comes to the Detroit Tigers with a reputation for being an ornery character for managers to contend with.

Al Lopez, his last skipper with the Chicago White Sox, made no bones about the fact that he didn't like Farley's attitude and considered the tall, 200-pounder a clubhouse lawyer.

"My only gripe at Chicago was that I was not being given a chance to play," Farley said. "As far as I'm concerned, this is a good attitude to have. If I were a manager, I wouldn't think much of a ballplayer who was content to sit in the dugout."

Farley broke into professional baseball in the San Francisco Giant chain. He was obtained by the White Sox last November after asking to be traded.

★ ★ ★

"I wanted to play there but didn't see much chance with players like Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and so on," Farley said. "So I asked manager Al Dark to trade me. Dark is a real nice manager to play for. He understood my attitude."

ASKED FOR TRADE

"When I wasn't playing at Chicago, I asked to be traded again," Farley said. "Lopez and I had a private talk and then he started telling the newspapers I had a bad attitude.

"I didn't know what my status was with Chicago," Farley said. "Lopez never tells his players anything. When we left on our last road trip with the Sox, I didn't even know what kind of clothes to pack. I haven't seen my wife for a month. I had to send her home," he said.

"I didn't play in my last 10 games with Chicago. Lopez would use every player he had before me. One time he ran through every right-handed batter he had pinch-hitting against right-handed pitching. Anything but use me—a left handed batter."

"I know I can hit if I play. I'm a big guy and need daily work to stay in shape," Farley said. "Little guys can sit on the bench and stay in good shape, maybe, but not me."

Manager Bob Scheffing said he plans to continue platooning Farley in right field with Bubba Morton and Purnal Goldy until Al Kaline gets off the sick list.

2 MSU Golfers Star in Qualifying

ANDONIAN SHOOTS 75

Andonian carded 38-37—75 yesterday at Country Club. Long-hitting Dick Robertson of Pontiac was still in match play contention after posting 38-36—74 at Arbor Hills.

Ray Palmer, 30-year-old Wyandotte screw products manufacturer, fired 35-34—69 at Country Club to take 2nd place.

★ ★ ★

As the 335 players switched courses for today's 2nd round, 22 were even with par of below. Match play begins Friday at Arbor Hills with the low 64 qualifiers at the end of today's action joinning defending champion Glenn

Pete Green of Orchard Lake shot 38-34—72 at the C. C. of Jackson while over at Arbor Hills, former Bloomfield Hills prep golfer Fred Ewald carded 37-35—72 and Walled Lake's Volney P. Bayley Jr. posted 37-36—73.

Jackson's talented contingent was among nine players tied at 71, including Phil Marston, the Western Junior champion; Mike Hill, and Dr. Robert Corley.

Also at 71 were 1960 champion Don Stevens of Detroit; Sam Kocsis of Bloomfield Hills, also a former champ; former State Publinx champion Doug Wilson of Ypsilanti; Bill Newton, a University of Michigan player from Ann Arbor; Don H. Taylor of Flint, and Ray Cane of Detroit.

Badger three times had putts of less than two feet for birdies. Palmer birdied four holes on the back nine to offset two bogies.

Rain-Interrupted Best Ball Outing Set for Saturday

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's rain - delayed City Best Ball golf tournament will have another fling Saturday at Municipal course.

Fifty-eight two-man teams were on the firing line last Saturday when thunderstowers caused a postponement, washing out all scorecards.

Entries are still being accepted for the 18-hole event and Saturday's starting field may exceed last weekend's figure. The entry fee is $6 per team and post entries will be taken.

Entry also can be made now for the annual Mixed Two-Ball Foursome competition July 7 at the city course.

Betters World Record

PARIS (AP) —Michel Jazy of France bettered the world 3,000 meter record Wednesday night, racing the distance in 7:49.2 in a track meet at the St. Maur Stadium.

Hopgood Hurls 2-Hit Triumph

State Hospital Softball Team Wins, 4-1; Bor 9 Hikes Waterford Lead

Fred Hopgood pitched a sparkling two-hitter Wednesday night as Pontiac State Hospital defeated First Presbyterian, 4-1, to highlight the City Softball League's four-game program at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Hopgood's bid for a shutout in the National League contest was ruined in the 6th inning by an unearned run.

CIO Local 653 trounced G&M Construction, 10-2, behind the three-hit pitching of Bob Fraser. Motorcar Transport and Auburn Bar each collected 13 hits, but Motorcar triumphed, 13-6, with the help of nine Auburn errors. Gary Hunter made three hits for the winners.

In an International loop game, Dixie Tool & Machine was outhit by a 12-10 margin, but still downed St. Joseph Hospital, 10-6. Bob Crossdale had four hits for St. Joe while Don Bilbey and Bill Green each bagged three for Dixie.

HIKE WATERFORD LEAD

Bob & Larry's Bar boosted its Class C Waterford softball lead to 2½ games with an 11-1 rout of Haupt Pontiac. Bill Sparks hurled a two-hitter and Dick Nichols paced the attack with a single and triple. The winners tallied seven times in the 1st inning.

A&W Root Beer nipped Dixie Bar, 2-1, behind the one-hit hurling of Jerry Caldwell. Randy Beedle's 6th-inning

Medinah Defies Western Open Field

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 128 professionals and seven amateurs teed off for the first round of the $50,000 Western Open today on a golf course that defies anyone to take it apart.

Par 71 for the 7,110-yard Medinah No. 3 "monster" appeared a big challenge as the game's stars tried to position their shots along the tree-flanked fairways and eight dogleg holes that require precision drives.

Daily 18-hole round will lead to the windup Sunday and most of the pros looked for a 72-hole score of from 282 to even par 284 to take the $10,000 first prize.

★ ★ ★

Cary Middlecoff, who is not competing this time because of illness, won the 1949 National Open on Medinah No. 3 with 286. He started with a 75 and ended with the same figure, but in between his 67 still stands as the course record.

For the first two rounds, defending champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, the man who defeated him recently in a playoff for the National Open crown at Oakmont, are paired together.

REUNION TIME

They also were paired together in the first two rounds of the National Open, during which Palmer outscored the former Ohio State collegian 139-142.

"From tee to green, this course is the finest and toughest I ever played," said the 22-year-old Nicklaus, who turned pro this year after twice winning the National Amateur. "Oakmont's fast greens are far more treacherous, and those traps were nightmares. But I'd have to say that Medinah is a little tougher than Oakmont. Here you have to shoot position golf all the way, whereas at Oakmont, you're troubles really began on the green.

"I'd say an even par 284 could win it. But I also thought that 287 (3-over-par) would take it all at Oakmont and we went into that playoff with 283's. But rains made Oakmont play three or four strokes easier. Weather could make the same difference here."

Palmer got in some practice on the timbered layout Wednesday after first taking a look at the course from a helicopter in a half-hour tour.

"Looked like a jungle down there," he said.

Doubles Play Continues

ST. LOUIS (AP)—One doubles team reached the semifinals and six others advanced to the quarter finals after the second day of play in the College Women's Tennis Tournament Wednesday. There was no play in the singles.

The top seeded team of Carol Hanks and Linda Yeomans of Stanford University drew a bye.

Champ in Semifinals

LAKE GENEVA Wis. (AP) — The second straight day of one-over-par golf sent defending champion Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn., into the semifinals of the Women's Western Golf Association junior tournament, as she defeated Cynthia Hill of South Haven, Mich., 8 and 6 Wednesday.

'Bobbie' Miller Loses to Pupil

Teaches Putting Too Well

Mrs. C. J. (Bobbie) Miller of Lake Orion turned instructor last week to help a fellow member of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association.

Mrs. Miller, Pontiac's defending city medal play champion, gave some putting tips to Mrs. Midge Cova, wife of Bob O'Link's head pro.

The lessons were so beneficial that they backfired on the teacher Wednesday at Rochester County Club in the weekly Women's Metro tourney.

The pupil defeated Mrs. Miller on the 3rd extra hole of a sudden-death playoff after the two golfers finished their regulation 18-hole round in a deadlock at 84, eight over par.

Mrs. Cova required only 27 putts while shooting 43-41. Mrs. Miller's strong finish enabled her to force the tie as she shot 45-39.

Highly-Sought Chicago Cager Going to 'M'

CHICAGO (UPI) — The University of Michigan landed one of the Midwest's most sought-after prep basketball players Wednesday.

He is Cazzie Russel, a 6-foot-5, 210-pound ace from Chicago's Carver High School, regarded as the best prep basketball senior in Illinois last season.

The Wolverines also have landed Oliver Darden, all-stater from Detroit Western last season.

Get New Chart Before Cruise in Shoal Area

Remember the day you cruised a tricky chanel in the lake, narrowly skirting shoal areas and underwater obstructions, following a hydrographic chart that marked the depth to a gnat's eyelash? Fun, wasn't it, and a fine test of your ability to read a chart?

Well, don't do it again this year, the Mercury outboard boating authorities caution, unless your charts are brand new and guaranteed up-to-date. Otherwise, you may find yourself hung on a sand bar that is not indicated on your waterway road maps.

Discarding a chart that is old yet still in good shape is sometimes hard to do — but it could very well save you from a mishap. Waterways, remember, get the brunt of winter's rage.

When Cincinnati played host to Pittsburgh the first time this season, Manager Fred Hutchinson used perfect strategy. Each of the eight pinch hitters he used reached base and the Reds swept the three games, 3-2, 9-2 and 6-4.

HERE JULY 9 — Pitching great Eddie Feigner will be featured July 9 at Jaycee Park when the King and his Court make a return appearance to play a group of local All-Stars.

'61 College All-Americas Begin Grid Season Early

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The All-America Bowl, featuring the cream of last season's college stars, gets the football—that's right, football—season off to an early start Friday night.

Both squads, the East and West, finished heavy preparations Wednesday for the second annual game, which is expected to draw a crowd of about 22,000. The game will be televised (NBC) with the Buffalo area blacked out.

East Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State and the West's Murray Warmath of Minnesota named their co-captains Wednesday, but neither has announced his starting lineup.

* * *

Hayes nominated Roman Gabriel of North Carolina State and Larry Onesti of Northwestern to co-captain the East, while the West picked a pair of quarterbacks, Bobby Ply of Baylor and Sandy Stephens of Minnesota.

Gabriel, who has been signed by the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League, was an outstanding passer at North Carolina State and is expected to head the East's No. 1 backfield that includes Ernie Davis of Syracuse, Angelo Dabiero of Notre Dame and either Bob Ferguson of Ohio State or Al Rushatz of Army.

Warmath is expected to counter with a starting backfield of Stephens, halfbacks Jim Saxton of Texas and Bobby Lee Thompson of Arizona and fullback Art Perkins of North Texas State.

61 IN GAME

Of the 61 players in the game, all but two have signed professional contracts for the 1962 season. The two who have not signed or from the service academies, Rushatz of Army and end Greg Mather of Navy. Most of the players will move on to Chicago to prepare for the annual College All-Star Game with the National Football League champions, the Green Bay Packers, Aug. 3.

The game will be played under 1962 college rules, with the exception of an experiment which will allow a coach to sub two "wild card" players at any time.

* * *

Most experts predict a wide-open game featuring the East's hard-running backs opposing a sturdy Western line that is built around Merlin Olsen and Clark Miller, a couple of 250-pounders from Utah State.

According to a federal district court ruling, yacht club members must pay a dues tax on the extra fee they pay the club as rental for use of a boat slip. Such payments, although over and above members' regular club dues, are subject to tax the same as dues, the court ruled.

Moisture or dirt film on spark plugs will lead to starting failures or erratic operation in marine engines. Keep the ceramic insulators wiped clean, electrodes maintained at the proper gap and firing end of the plugs free of oil or carbon deposits.

U.S. Net Prestige in Female Hands

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—If the United States' dwindling tennis prestige is to be bolstered at Wimbledon this year, it looks like the women will have to do it.

Thirteen American men—including Chuck McKinley—fell by the wayside in the first two rounds of singles play and only three remain in the Australian-dominated field of 32 that went into today's third round.

★ ★ ★

McKinley fell before little-known Mike Hann of England Wednesday in another major upset in this year's edition of the historic tournament. The 21-year-old star from St. Ann, Mo., was the only American seeded, with the No. 5 rating.

★ ★ ★

McKinley, losing finalist to Australian Rod Laver last year, said he had a strained muscle in his forearm which prevented him from gripping his racket properly. He was beaten in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

10 AUSSIES LEFT

★ ★ ★

The American women have had much better going, however. Billie Jean Moffitt, Long Beach, Calif., set the pace Tuesday with her eye-popping upset of top-seeded Margaret Smith of Australia, and Nancy Richey, San Angelo, Tex., Justina Bricka, St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman, Chula Vista, Calif., marked up victories Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Ralston, who disposed of Russia's Sergei Likhachev in straight sets Wednesday, is matched against Australia's Marty Mulligan. Reed, who had trouble getting past Fred McMillan of South Africa, goes against defending champion Laver.

Mickey Wright Shoots for 4th U.S. Open Title

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP)—Mickey Wright, who has scored all three of her 1962 victories on Southern golf courses, opens her bid today for a fourth U.S. Women's Open Championship in five years on a Dixie layout that seems tailored to her powerful tee shots.

The tall California native who plays out of Dallas, Tex., is seeking the second leg on a possible grand slam she began by winning the Augusta Titleholders crown last April. After the Open, there is the Ladies' PGA Championship at Las Vegas in October to round out the big three events for the professionals.

Last year she became the first woman to win all three en route to a season of 10 major tournaments victories and $22,000 in official prize money.

Mickey, 27, faces a field of 68 challengers in a 3-day, 72-hold test over a Dunes Golf and Beach Club course that promises to be a severe test.

'They Never Heard of Me'

NEW YORK (AP)—Claude Harmon, a long-time professional golfer and former winner of the Masters, has been turned down for the British Open Championship because, as Harmon put it "they never heard of me over there."

But 8-Team Setup Still Likely

AFL Expansion Open

BOSTON (AP)—The door was still open today for American Football League expansion but the feeling was the present eight-club setup will continue another year at least.

The AFL's Executive Committee decided Wednesday against expanding to 10 teams, with two new franchises starting play in 1963.

Commissioner Joe Foss said he felt there was no reason to rush expansion at this time. However, he said a decision to expand still could be reached later this year. That decision would have to come prior to the league draft the last week of November if it is to come at all this year, he said.

The eightclub owners conferred in Boston for three days, discussing a variety of league matters in addition to hearing presentations of franchise applications from syndicates in New Orleans, Kansas City and Atlanta.

The league did take two steps at its final get-together. It voted to reduce the team player limit to 33 men instead of 36 and set up a system designed to strength en the weakest clubs in the loop.

The player limit had been tentatively raised from 33 to 36 at a January meeting, subject to review.

★ ★ ★

The personnel strengthening idea allows the two lowest finishing clubs—Denver and Oakland last season—to select three players from each of the other six teams. The six teams, first, however, are permitted to protect 35 players.

★ ★ ★

Following this draft, the league teams participate in a regular draft, with each selecting one player on three goarounds. Both drafts are to be held Aug. 14, a month after the start of training camps.

Decathlon May Have 9,000-Point Scorer

TULARE, Calif. (AP)—The National AAU Decathlon Championships begin a 2-night run here Friday with C. K. Yang favored to be the first man in history to top 9,000 points.

The world record is 8,683 points by Rafer Johnson in 1960.

Yang, a Nationalist Chinese attending UCLA, has best marks that add up to more than 9,000 points.

While Yang is chasing after a record, Americans will be battling for two berths on the U.S. track team which will meet a Russian team at Stanford July 21-22.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

The absence of one particular player has worked marvels as far as entry is concerned in the 60th Western Amateur Golf Championship July 19-22 at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Western Golf Association officials have announced that the 1962 field will be the best in the event's history and it seems more than pure coincidence that Jack Nicklaus will be among the missing.

Nicklaus won last year's Western Amateur, but the power-hitting Ohioan won't be around to defend his title because he decided to join the professional ranks late in the autumn of 1961.

It took Nicklaus a while to get moving on the pro tour, but the great Arnold Palmer felt the brunt of his golfing talent two weeks ago when he defeated the Pennsylvania strongboy in an 18-hole playoff at Oakmont to win the U.S. Open.

NICKLAUS

Orchard Lake members and golf writers attended a luncheon and tournament briefing session the other day at O.L.C.C. where they heard George Webb discuss plans for the 2nd oldest amateur event in the U.S.A.

James Royer, former WGA president and now retired, flew to O.L.C.C. from Chicago to talk to the group about his favorite golf tourney — the Western Amateur.

"This will be the most star-studded field we've ever had," Royer said, "and the departure of Nicklaus has much to do with it. Some of the nation's most talented amateurs who were scared out of competition by Nicklaus' presence have entered now that he's a pro."

With the exception of Charlie Coe and Harvey Ward, every ranking national amateur player has registered to tee off at Orchard Lake. This includes defending National Amateur champion Deane Beman.

Updegraff is a two-time WGA Amateur king (1957-1959), Morey won the crown in 1953 and Key took top honors in 1958. Smith was North-South Amateur champ two years ago.

A past champion providing the local flavor is veteran Bob Babbish of Detroit Golf Club, 1938 winner. Other top-flight names entered are Bill Hyndman, Dudley Wysong, Billy Joe Patton, Juan Estrada, Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor and Gene Andrews.

Nicklaus has gone, it's true, but there's still plenty of golfing skill headed this way. They'll be swinging from the heels at Orchard Lake three weeks from now.

QUIZ DEPARTMENT

If Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department-sponsored golf events are reserved exclusively for amateurs, how can Dick Delano's entry in the City Best Ball tournament be justified?

Delano, former Pontiac Northern golfer, is Bill Kennedy's assistant pro at Stonycroft and earlier this season he won money in a Pro-Am event. Nothing against Delano, of course, but it IS an interesting question.

SHORT PUTTS

Mike McClellan, former assistant caddiemaster at Tam O'Shanter, has been named head caddiemaster at Orchard Lake and the approaching Western Amateur will be his first big assignment . . . Pontiac's ageless Bob Dawson shot 72-77—149 last week for 2nd place in the handicap division of the Western Seniors tourney at Port Huron's Black River course . . . Elks Lodge No. 810 members are toying with the idea of buying their own links in this locale . . . Rumors have four more layouts on the drawing board in the Oakland County area . . . The Syrons are seriously discussing the idea of holding an Oakland County golf tourney at Pontiac Country Club this fall, an event which could be a boon to the area.

Russian Wrestlers World Champions

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Russians staged a peaceful invasion of Toledo, Ohio, and carried away the World Amateur Wrestling Championship.

Their sweep of the Greco-Roman competition that ended Wednesday night was even more decisive than their freestyle victory last week — despite some come-from-behind displays of strength by Turkey and Hungary.

Russia scored 40 team points with three firsts, three seconds and a third place—picking up seven medals in eight weight classes. Turkey was closest with 31.

Bulgaria 20½, Hungary 16, West Germany 8½, Japan 8, the United States 8, United Arab Republic 6, Italy 5, Denmark, 5, Yugoslavia, 5, Rumania 4½, Iran 4, and Switzerland ½.

Satan's Trainer Claims Colt Had Lots of Sickness

STANTON, Del. (AP) — The trainer of Crimson Satan, disqualified as winner of last Saturday's $42,500 Leonard Richard Stakes at Delaware Park because of detection of an illegal drug, says the 3-year-old colt had an unusual amount of sickness and the drug was not administered as a regular thing.

The Richards purse was ordered re-distributed by the Delaware State Racing Commission Wednesday as the result of a report by its official chemist which said "a substance in the nature of phenylbutazone was found in the urine sample of the horse" following the race. The mutuel payoff was not affected.

Potter has said that he was priming the hard-luck 3-year-old for the $50,000 Choice Stakes at Monmouth Park Aug. 1. No further action against him or Salmen was immediately indicated.

Oxford Lake Ski Meet This Weekend

Top Stars Here for International Water Event

American, Canadian Champions to Battle; Qualifying Saturday

The first of two outstanding water ski tournaments slated for Oxford Lake will be held Saturday and Sunday.

It will be an International event featuring most of the top performers from the East, Midwest, South and Canada.

There will be competition in four divisions — men's, boys', women's and senior men's—at the Lakeville Rd. site this weekend.

QUALIFY SATURDAY

Qualifying will be Saturday with the top five in each class advancing to Sunday's finals.

★ ★ ★

Among the Michigan champions entered in the event are Bill Bilbie, state slalom champion; Ray Fullerton, state jumping champion; Lynn Vermuellen, state, midwest and national boys' champion who will be moving into the men's division.

★ ★ ★

From the Eastern Region of the United States are champion entries from New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Maine, and New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

The other tournament will be the Michigan State championships, July 21-22. This tourney has been held in Oakland County for six of the past seven years. The last two years it has been held at Loon Lake.

Boat Race Slated by Waterford's Junior C. of C.

At the group's annual summer board planning session last weekend chairmen were named for a total of 44 planned programs. Newly installed president Dean Salley presided at the series of meetings held in Crystal.

Among the other new events scheduled are junior tennis, a teenage road-eo and a physical fitness program. The fitness program and community health and safety will be stressed during the coming year, according to public realtions chairman John Hadenbaugh.

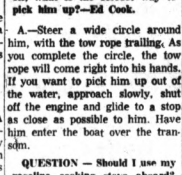
The stepped-up schedule of activities will be presented to the membership at the July 9 meeting of the Waterford Jaycees.



Q—How do I keep water out of my boat? It sits on a trailer in my yard and every time it rains, it gets filled up.—John Meadows.

A.—Park it with the drawbar of the trailer elevated so the front part of the boat is raised. Then take out the drain plug in the stern and the water will run out.

Q.—When a water skier falls off, what is the correct way to pick him up?—Ed Cook.

A.—Steer a wide circle around him, with the tow rope trailing. As you complete the circle, the tow rope will come right into his hands. If you want to pick him up out of the water, approach slowly, shut off the engine and glide to a stop as close as possible to him. Have him enter the boat over the transom.

Answer — It isn't advisable. Gasoline fumes are highly explosive and heavier than air. They will collect in your boat where they can cause trouble. It would be far safer to use an alcohol or canned-heat stove aboard. Save your camping stove for the beach.

Over 50 Boats Clash at Green Lake

Sailing Regatta Set

Colton Weatherston will put his Michigan championship on the line Saturday and Sunday in the State Snipe regatta at Green Lake.

Over 50 boats are expected from different points in the state.

Two races are scheduled Saturday, at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and one on Sunday, at 10 a.m.

The boat placing highest in the three races will be awarded the Eagle Lake Yacht Club trophy, emblematic of state supremacy. It is a traveling trophy.

STARTED IN 1948

The Michigan Snipe Championship Regatta was started in 1948. Only Michigan fleets are eligible to enter the 15-foot 6-inch craft. There are 13 fleets in this state and 520 nationally.

The sailboats will cover 4½ miles in each race. The course will be a large triangle. The boats will sail the full course and one additional side.

Weatherston's chief competition may come from a fellow Green Lake resident. Bill Wottowa finished third in last year's state event.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Spectators will be able to best see the races from the Commerce Road side of the lake, according to race officials.

★ ★ ★

Trophies will go to the top five finishers.

YOU CAN'T DRIVE and watch the skier. In some states an observer is required in the boat by law for safety.

Skiing

By TED JONES
Marine Designer

Check your equipment for smooth, safe operation. Watch for worn or entangled towlines. Attach towline to a towing pylon or to a bridle secured to eyebolts high on the transom on both sides of the motor.

Use the OK signal—thumb and forefinger forming a circle—to indicate when the speed is right. Indicate turns with a curved outward motion of the proper hand. Hand up, palm outward means stop. Slashing motion across neck means cut the ignition.

Have an observer with you in the boat. In some states this is required by law. You can't drive and watch the skier.

When the skier is preparing for a takeoff, he will call "In gear." Proceed very slowly, taking up the slack in the tow rope. When he calls "Hit it!", accelerate, steadily but not too fast, until the skier is up and planing. From a dock start, begin accelerating while there are still 10 feet of slack in the tow rope.

★ ★ ★

An idling propeller can be dangerous.

Watkins Sailors Finish Near Top at Wolf Lake

A 2nd place finish by Glen Fries sparked a good showing by three entries from the Watkins Lake Yacht Club in the Northern warm-up Regatta recently at Wolf Lake near Jackson.

Bruce and Fred Brede ranked 8th and Dave Green No. 12 in a 23-boat field. There were contestants from six states.

In Sunday's regular competition at Watkins Lake, Green won the snipe event followed by Fries and Charles Morris.

'M' Coed Top Qualifier

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Tithothea Schneider, 22 - year-old University of Michigan coed from Oyster Bay and defending National Women's Sailing champion, was the top qualifier Wednesday in the Long Island district eliminations for the Syce Cup. Auto, Steels Add Points

Wall Street News Sounds Good

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market mounted its first clear-cut rally in almost two weeks Thursday, with trading active early in the afternoon.

Key stocks rose along a broad front, posting gains of fractions to a point or two. As usual, some of the more volatile issues moved more widely.

* * *

The ground was laid for the advance Wednesday, when brokers said they were well pleased by the ability of the list to hold early losses within narrow limits and then rebound. At the same time, technical recovery seemed overdue because no real daily gain by the over-all list has been made in the past eight sessions.

* * *

In addition, the business news seemed fairly encouraging. Steel scrap prices rose for the first time in two months. Construction outlays in June were reported at a record.

* * *

Large blocks changed hands at the start and the ticker tape ran as much as 13 minutes behind transactions before catching even with trading shortly before noon. It fell behind again, however, just after noon.

AUTO STOCKS GAIN

Ford and Chrysler advanced more than a point each while the other auto stocks all gained fractions.

Jones & Laughlin added more than a point. Bethlehem and Republic Steel were about a point higher. U.S. Steel gained a fraction.

Chemicals regained their recent losses. Du Pont and Eastman Kodak were each up about 2 while American Cyanamid added a point.

* * *

U.S. Bonds Drop Slightly

* * *

Corporate volume on the New York Stock Exchange expanded about 50 per cent over yesterday's pace with much of the activity concentrated in the convertible sector. Convertibles picked up as much as 6 to 10 points in line with the strong rise of the stock market.

Over the counter dealers in governments quoted long issues off 2/32 to 4/32 and intermediates down less than that. The market was fairly quiet.

Among corporates rails and utilities appeared to edge ahead while industrials lagged.

Gainers included: Gulf, Mobile & Ohio railroad 4s by 1⅛ at 57¼, General Motors Acceptance 3s by 1½ at 95½, and Pennsylvania Railroad 4¼s by 1 at 70½.

U.S. Singer OK in Hong Kong

Ernestine Anderson Not Being Detained, Claims Official

HONG KONG (AP)— American jazz singer Ernestine Anderson was located in Hong Kong today, and the Hong Kong government said as far as it is concerned she is in "no difficulties, political or otherwise."

★ ★ ★

The Negro singer, 33, was not immediately available for comment but a friend said the only difficulties she may be in are financial, in connection with a recent singing engagement here.

★ ★ ★

The hotel where Miss Anderson is now registered said she was out of her room and not expected back until later tonight.

The singer's Seattle agent said Wednesday she was being detained in Hong Kong. The agent said she was in certain difficulties and added however were indications there might be political overtones.

★ ★ ★

The agent said the State Department had been asked to intercede. The American Consulate-General here denied any knowledge of such a request.

Miss Anderson was to have started an engagement in Seattle last Monday.

Bill to Repeal Travel Taxes

U. S. Senate Expected to Act Quickly but Will Keep Other Levies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Travelers would get a tax break Nov. 15 under a compromise bill passed yesterday by the House and sent the Senate for final action.

★ ★ ★

The bill would also continue some $4.2 billion in revenue from other levies expiring Jan. 1. The Senate was expected to act promptly.

★ ★ ★

The compromise measure, reconciling versions originally passed by the two chambers, would repeal the 10 per cent tax on train and bus tickets and cut the air ticket tax to 5 per cent effective at midnight Nov. 15.

The bill would avert the expiration or reduction at midnight Saturday of existing taxes on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, automobiles and their parts and accessories and general telephone service, as well as corporate income.

★ ★ ★

The bill also would delete the tax now charged on the domestic portion of an international flight, if the plane touches down at an intermediate point in the United States before flying abroad. The tax would continue to apply in case of stopovers of six hours or more.

★ ★ ★

The measure also would end the existing 10 per cent tax on leasing of certain privately used communications lines, such as teleprinter systems; closed-circuit television and community antenna facilities.

Eye Successor to Movie Prexy

CBS-TV Head, Zanuck Contenders for Skouras Job at 20th Century-Fox

NEW YORK (UPI) — Speculation on a successor to ebullient Spyros P. Skouras as president of the financially beset 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. Centered today on James T. Aubrey Jr. of CBS and producer Darryl Zanuck.

The resignation of the 69-year-old Skouras from the $139,000-a-year presidency was announced yesterday after a six-hour meeting here of the board of directors. The board said Skouras was stepping down after 20 years for "reasons of helath."

Aubrey, president of CBS-TV's network division and Zanuck, former Fox production chief and the company's largest single stockholder, were the most prominently mentioned possibilities to take over.

Also mentioned were Peter G. Levathes, vice president and chief of film production for Fox, and Donald A. Henderson, Fox secretary-treasurer and a former associate of Lehman Brothers, investment bankers.

However, a decision is not expected until near Sept. 30, the date when the board said Skouras would step down.

A committee including Skouras will select the new president, the board said.

Schools to Get $300,000 More in Waterford

Approximately $300,000 more than anticipated in state aid will be received by the Waterford Township School District, James DenHerder, assistant to the superintendent, said this morning.

The State Aid Bill was signed yesterday by Gov. Swainson.

DenHerder said the average school district in the state will receive about $10 per pupil more than expected. The figure will amount to slightly over $14 per youngster in the Waterford system.

No plans for this increased revenue have been announced yet.

Last March a proposed five-mill increase was soundly defeated at the polls. If fully spread, the increase could have provided an additional $500,000 per year. Plans for increasing teacher salaries had to be abandoned when the proposal failed.

Congress, Budget Bureau Agree on GI Insurance

WASHINGTON (UPI) —House and Senate leaders and the Budget Bureau have reached an agreement for early congressional action to let World War II and Korean War veterans reinstate lapsed GI insurance or take out new policies.

★ ★ ★

A roadblock against passage of a $100 million cost-of-living increase in service-connected compensation payments also was removed.

Both pieces of legislation are given a good chance of final passage.

The insurance and compensation bills had been deadlocked between the House and the Senate.

The House has voted several times to increase service-connected compensation payments, and the Senate also has approved it but with an amendment to allow reopening of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI).

OPPOSES ACTION

The administration has stood firm against the NSLI reopening on the ground that it was not justified. As a result both bills were stymied.

The Budget Bureau and the Veterans Administration advised Congress yesterday that the administration would agree to an insurance reopening bill provided certain changes are made.

Under the proposed compromise any veteran of military service between Oct. 8, 1940, and Dec. 31, 1956, provided he is now out of the service, could reinstate, or take out for the first time, up to $10,000 in National Service Life Insurance.

Of the nearly 20 million men who were in service during that period, only about 5.6 million still carry their GI policies. The Veterans Administration estimates that about one million more would take advantage of the new privilege.

Man Faces Trial on Charge of Property Damage

A Holly man accused of damaging a sheriff's department patrol car and a private auto in a police chase two weeks ago is scheduled to appear in Waterford Township Justice Court July 11.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Justice Daly has ordered Smith to spend 20 days in jail or to pay fines and costs totaling $100 for reckless driving, but he is appealing that case to Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

GOP Senators Set Debt Ceiling Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators said today they would fight to hold a temporary increase in the federal debt ceiling to $306 billion, $2 billion less than President Kennedy has asked.

The bill to boost the debt limit to a record high of $308 billion, already passed by the House, comes up for Senate action after surviving a cutback attempt in the Senate Finance Committee by a one-vote margin.

Under the measure, the present $300-billion ceiling would be raised to $308 billion for the first nine months of the fiscal year starting Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The limit would drop to $305 billion from April 1 to June 14, 1963, and then back to $300 billion for the last six days of the fiscal year.

Pair Pleads Guilty to Lesser Charge

Two accused holdup men facing their second trial for armed robbery pleaded guilty yesterday to a lesser charge of assault with intent to commit a felony.

Robert H. Hills, 38, of 278 Oakland Ave., and William Yoho, 51, of Dearborn, entered their pleas before Circuit Judge William J. Beer as their trial was about to begin.

Hills and Yoho were charged with the $1,650 holdup last August of Food Town Market, 1200 Baldwin Ave.

An alleged accomplice, Homer T. Moreland, 28, of 617 Commerce Road, Commerce Township, pleaded guilty to armed robbery and will be sentenced July 6.

Armed robbery carries a maximum life sentence and the lesser assault charge has a 10-year maximum.

Yoho and Hill will be sentenced July 3.

Jury Unable to Reach Verdict in Holdup Case

A circuit court jury failed to agree on a verdict yesterday for four accused holdup men despite testimony from an admitted member of the alleged holdup gang linking all four to the robbery.

Robert E. Murphy, 24, of 451 S. Telegraph Road, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the robbery, testified he served as "lookout" for the gang as they took $3,600 last January from the Chevalier Gas Station, 4960 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

Named by Murphy as members of the holdup team were Charles H. Thomas, 26, Marion DuPlissey, 38, and Robert Sharron, 37, all of Flint, and Jack V. Young 30 formerly of Pontiac.

Murphy said Thomas and DuPlissey enter the trunk he went to a nearby bar and bought a pack of matches. This was the signal, Murphy explained, for Young to take the bar and drive the getaway car.

Jurors heard two days of testimony in the case. They were dismissed by Judge Clark J. Adams after deliberating for a day and failing to reach a verdict.

Asst. Prosecutor Robert Templin said the four accused holdup men would be brought to trial again, probably in the fall.

★ ★ ★

They are charged with armed robbery, which carries a maximum life sentence, and conspiracy to commit armed robbery, punishable by five years at the most.

The men are in custody.

Murphy will be sentenced July 17 for his plea of guilty to conspiracy.

Charges against a sixth man originally accused in the holdup, John Hodges, 31, of 1064 Haughton St., Troy, were dismissed by Judge William Beer for lack of evidence.

Templin said Hodges is awaiting sentence on a breaking and entering charge in another court.

An elderly East Detroit man and his wife were injured late yesterday afternoon when their car collided with another auto and went out of control on Telegraph Road near Voorheis Road.

In fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital were Erich Heinrich, 77, and his wife Urda, 73.

Mrs. Heinrich suffered severe cuts on her forehead and an injured back. Heinrich had severe cuts on his face.

Heinrich was driving south on Telegraph Road about 4:45 p.m. when his car collided with another southbound auto driven by George Steele, 55, of 1315 W. Saratoga Ave., Ferndale.

Pontiac state police said Heinrich's car then veered off the road and went into a gas station service drive where it hit Gerald W. Bertrand, 26, of 274 Draper Ave.

Bertrand escaped with minor injuries, police said. Steele was not hospitalized.

Man Pleads Guilty in Oakland Break-In

A Detroit man accused of breaking into a Highland Township service station early Memorial Day pleaded guilty in Circuit Court yesterday to breaking and entering at night.

Raymond B. Willis, 22, made his plea after being scheduled to go to trial on the charge. He will be sentenced July 31.

PRESENTS GAVEL — Dr. Drew Petersen (left) of Ogden, Utah, is shown presenting a copper gavel on behalf of the Utah State Medical Association yesterday to Dr. George M. Fister, also of Ogden, who became president of the American Medical Association during the AMA's convention in Chicago.

But Will Continue to Fight Medicare

Doctors Refuse to OK 'Strike'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Overwhelming approval was expected today from the American Medical Association's House of Delegates for a tough "no compromise" opposition program to the Kennedy administration's medicare bill.

* * *

However, the AMA's committee on the legislation and public relations apparently ended any threat of a call by the organization for a "doctors' strike" in the event the administration's King-Anderson bill is passed by Congress.

* * *

The committee endorsed a resolution asking the 218-member House of Delegates to "reaffirm its position of active opposition to King-Anderson type legislation."

It refused to endorse the Louisiana delegation's proposal for a boycott by doctors of any federal medical care for the aged under the Social Security system.

Dr. Harry R. Walker of Oakland, Calif., said, "It was the gist of the committee's feelings that physicians should not strike. Our feeling is that our prime job is to care for the sick, and only that. Also, it would be a violation of the spirit if not the letter of the Hippocratic Oath."

NO BOYCOTT

Walker said if the King-Anderson bill is enacted the AMA should "work to overturn" the law, rather than boycott it.

The committee's recommendations were presented to the House early in yesterday's session of the AMA's 111th annual meeting, but the delegates adjourned for the day without acting upon them.

The delegates approved a statement of principles backing payment for private health insurance by the insured, or his family, if possible; with the aid of communities or states if necessary.

It said federal funds should be used only as a last resort and then "only in conjunction with other levels of government." They shelved a proposal, under study for a year, that the AMA endorse federal reimbursement of needy aged who buy health insurance.

Dr. George M. Fister of Ogden, Utah, new AMA president, pledged in a speech to the delegates that "there will be no letup" in the battle against medicare.

HELP THE NEEDY

"We believe in helping those who need help but for those who are solvent, for those whose resources are sufficient to permit self-reliance, we shall continue to support voluntary health insurance and prepayment rather than compulsion and control by government," he said.

In other action yesterday, the House of Delegates:

—Recommended the AMA take no position on whether cigarette smoking is harmful until its council on drugs makes a report on the subject sometime in the next 18 months.

—Asked auto manufacturers to make seat belts standard equipment.

—Refused to recognize abdominal surgery as a specialty.

—Reaffirmed the stand that a physician who assists a surgeon in an operation on one of the physicians' patients may be paid by the surgeon, a position which has drawn "fee splitting" charges from the American College of Surgeons.

Used in Tests of Radioactivity

20 Adults, Children Take Part in Study Measuring Intake

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty children and adults from Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo., are participating in a Public Health Service study involving measurements of radioactive iodine 131 activity in the thyroid gland.

* * *

The Public Health Service reported yesterday that 10 residents of Kansas City have been flown to New York for measurements to be made by Dr. Merrill Eisenbud of New York University on a specially designed instrument. Ten others from St. Louis will be tested in the near future.

The parents of the children are federal and local health department employes.

The study is designed to obtain more precise information upon which health authorities throughout the country may base estimates of radiation dose to the thyroid gland when radioactive iodine occurs in milk, other foods, air and water.

* * *

The New York tests will seek to compare amounts of iodine 131 in the thyroid glands of the subjects with the amounts measured in the milk consumed by them for about 10 days prior to the thyroid measurements.

The Public Health Service said milk is believed to contribute a large proportion of total iodine 131 intake, particularly in children.

Tshombe Offers $2 Million to Congo

ELISABETHVILLE (UPI) — Katanga President Moise Tshombe said today his government will send $2 million to Leopoldville to ease the Central Congo government's budget crisis.

* * *

There was no indication that the Congo government would accept the money from what it considers a secessionist province.

Tshombe, speaking to a news conference, attacked Jean Backe, the new U.N. civilian chief here, as a "false man" who interferred in Tshombe's Leopoldville talks with Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula.

* * *

"There have been many difficulties with the United Nations," he said, "but this is because of some of their agents, like Backe and (Conor Cruise) O'Brien, rather than the organization itself. If the U.N. wants to reach a result on Katanga, it should not use people like Backe."

Americans Are Using 113 Million Gas Helpers

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Gas Association says there now are 113 million gas appliances in use in the country today.

* * *

This averages three appliances for each of America's 41 million families using gas and it is a total gain of 3 million over the number of gas appliances in service at the end of 1960.

Sgt. York Scheduled to Undergo Surgery

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — World War I hero Alvin York was scheduled to undergo surgery today and doctors said the 74-year-old Medal of Honor winner appeared in good spirits.

* * *

"We had a nice ride down," York said of the ambulance trip here yesterday from his mountain home at Pall Mall, Tenn. He ordered a television set sent to his hospital room "So I can keep up with what's going on in the world."

York's physician, Dr. Guy Pinkley, said the operation had nothing to do with the internal bleeding which hospitalized the bed-ridden hero two weeks ago.

Sports Car, Driver Give Motorist Chills

MEMPHIS (AP)—A Memphis motorist received a chill when she saw a fellow driver shivering along in his little sports car without a top.

* * *

And she got a second chill when she got a close look at the driver. He was avoiding the frosty breeze with one of those scarey plastic Halloween masks.

Here's How to See NY — Take a Helicopter

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I suppose you know that the chic way to see New York is by a helicopter—now that they have the 28 passenger choppers that drop down to 500 feet and do a Twist around the Chrysler and Empire State Buildings—and also have pretty stewardesses cooing at you in many languages.

WILSON

We asked Comedian Marty Allen to accompany us on this N.Y. airways trip.

"On that last cloud," he said "who was that guy in the blackface, down on one knee, twanging a banjo, singing 'Mammy'? Anybody we knew?"

"Forget it!" he told him. Seriously, it's a great ride. On a clear day, you can see the Mets losing. The skipper wound us around the towers of Manhattan; we scraped across the top of the Chase Manhattan. It was a nice day for the stewardesses . . . Lisa Grove, for example, a language teacher before she got into this ratrace, sort of enjoyed it. . . . You will never feel right without a stewardess in a helicopter after this.

* * *

The fact that Caroline Kennedy's not been permitted to see her picture in the papers reminds authoress Nanette Kutner ("The White House Saga") that Ike's daughter-in-law Barbara Eisenhower, told her children "Everybody's grandfather's picture is on television"—so they wouldn't get swelled heads.

* * *

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Marilyn Monroe'll probably go to the Spoleto (Italy) Film Festival now with Paula and Lee Strasberg—it'll demonstrate that she's able-bodied, mentally sound and able to work . . . Definition of golf by G. K. Chesterton: "A good walk spoiled!" . . . The Ed Sullivan 14th anniversary party at Danny's Hideaway was the greatest; Rudy Vallee was so relaxed, he was tipping! . . . Jackie Gleason nominated Jan Crockett, the WABC Weather Goil, for "Most watchable" in the American Society of Girl Watchers contest at Freedomland July 28.

Eddie Fisher, who arrived here from London without fanfare, left for L.A. just as quietly . . . Dick Haymes bought his wife Fran Jeffries a plush chinchilla coat, a $10,000 item.

A prominent Manhattan bachelor explains why he has never married: "I'm always afraid that at a crucial moment I'll say the wrong name. Believe me, it's a good idea to call 'em all 'Darling.'"

* * *

EARL'S PEARLS: It's easy to spot the group of women who are over 40; they refer to themselves as girls.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Jack Herbert mentions the most near-sighted fellow he ever met—this guy once lost a bass fiddle in a one-room apartment.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The pest that's hardest to keep out of your summer cottage is the uninvited friend from the city.

A local man says he's having trouble with his girl. She want a big, expensive wedding with bridesmaids, ushers, music, etc. He has a different idea—he doesn't want to get married. . . . That's earl, brother.

Rusk Trying to Patch Up U.S.-Portuguese Relations

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk sits down with Dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar today in an effort to mend badly strained U.S.-Portuguese relations. A cool welcome and small anti - American demonstrations marked Rusk's arrival here for the windup of his 10-day tour of North Atlantic Treaty Organization allies.

SALAZAR ANGRY

Rusk was scheduled to have an hour's conference with Salazar, 75, who is embittered because the United States supported a U.N. investigation of Portugal's administration of its African colony of Angola and because the United States did not prevent India's seizure of Goa.

* * *

* * *

Portuguese officials made clear that American policy toward Portugal's colonial possessions would be a big factor in future negotiations for renewal of the U.S. lease on the Azores bases, which expire at the end of the year.

"We cannot discuss the base agreement apart from the other problems, including our need for political support on the African questions," one Portuguese official said. "They are all part of a single problem and must be handled together."

NO APPLAUSE

* * *

The police banned all demonstrations for the duration of Rusk's visit. A small group of Portuguese nationalists started a demonstration outside a hotel where a U.S. spokesman was holding a news conference, and police quickly hauled them away.

* * *

A group of young men also hurled overripe fruit at the front of the U.S. Embassy. Rusk and senior officials were not there at the time. It was not learned if any of the youths was arrested.

"Our two countries are partners in the North Atlantic alliance, the keystone of our mutual security," Rusk said in his airport statement. "I believe that it is wise for partners in any enterprise periodically to confer, in a spirit of confidence and trust, and to take stock of the rapidly changing course of world events."

* * *

Nogueira, welcoming Rusk and his wife, underlined the strained relations between the two countries. He said he hoped the secretary's visit will "make possible the improvement of relations between our two countries and a better understanding of the many problems in which we have a common interest."

* * *

One Portuguese official said Rusk at least "can take back to Washington a clear view of what we think is wrong with American policies today, and give us a good idea of what his government feels are our own errors."

Rusk is to return to Washington Friday from a tour that took him to Paris, Berlin, Bonn, Rome and London.

Rules Capone Estate Lacks Rights in Film

CHICAGO (UPI)—The estate of the late Al Capone has no property rights in a motion picture of Capone's life, Judge Henry W. Dieringer ruled yesterday.

* * *

The suit was filed in Superior Court against Allied Artists Pictures Corp., the producers, and 13 other defendants who distributed the film. It was brought by Mafalda Maritote, Chicago, Capone's sister and administratrix of his estate.

Mrs. Maritote asked for an accounting of the film's earnings, which were believed to be considerable, alleging that the picture exploited Capone's name, likeness, personality and private life and that that was for the commercial gain and profit by the defendants.

Clerk Commits Error in Addressing Jury

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — "Ladies and gentlemen, please answer to your names," said a clerk to a jury seated before Supreme Court Justice Reid S. Moule.

The clerk then read off a series of names and got no response from the jurors.

"Oh, I'm sorry," the clerk apologized. "Wrong jury."

Britons Still Get Angry Over Battle of Hastings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Battle of Hastings, fought nearly nine centuries ago, is still a live issue in England, according to the National Geographic Society.

The Hastings Borough Council recently announced plans to commemorate the ninth centenial of the battle by re-enacting the Norman invasion. The announcement touched off a bristling exchange of letters to local newspapers from pro-and anti-Normans.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The United Arab Republic office here announces that six hotels containing 6,000 beds are being built in Egypt to accommodate the country's increased tourist traffic. New roads also are being built.

Total cost of the program will be $30 million. More than 560,000 tourists visited the country in 1961 and 10 to 20 per cent more are expected this year.

Crayon Marking Helps Identify Tots' Clothes

When pressed with a hot iron, such crayon marks will last numerous washings, the Cleanliness Bureau reports.

A continuous plastic tube which can be heat-sealed in sections and cut off has been designed as a substitute for the metal milk can.

'Kissing Disease' Spread Through Air, Probably

★ ★ ★

Epidemics sweep through schools and colleges. As result, mononucleosis has been called the kissing disease. "Obviously, if it can be spread through the air, it can also be transmitted by kissing, but isn't necessarily so," the bureau said.

Ain't Nothin' Sacred to These Young Kids?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. C. H. Branch was reading a bedtime story to her young daughter when son Steve, 8, sidled up.

"Whatcha reading?" he asked.

They told him "The Three Bears."

"Oh sure, I know them, "Steve said, "Smokey, Yogi and Pooh."

GOP Snubs Request for State College Aid

Kennedy Warns Formosa Not to Attack Mainland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Under policy decisions of President Kennedy, the United States is reported to have told President Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa that it flatly opposes threatened attacks by the Chinese Nationalists on Communist China.

In another move to forestall a Formosan crisis, Kennedy publicly warned the Communists Wednesday against attacks on Nationalist-held territory, including the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

"The United States," Kennedy told a news conference in words directed to Peiping, "will take the action necessary to assure the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

More on Conference on Page A-8

Any threat to the off-shore islands must be judged in relation to his wider meaning for the safety of Formosa and the peace of the area." He did not spell out what action might be taken.

His public comments of special significance for the Nationalist government were less direct but he declared, "We are opposed to the use of force in this area." He described U.S. policies and purposes with respect to the Formosa situation as being purely defensive.

★ ★ ★

Informants later confirmed that the U.S. position on any Nationalist military operations against the Communist-held mainland has been made known to the Nationalist leaders at Taipei.

The President said a 1954 agreement which commits Nationalist China not to act against the Communists without U.S. agreement is still in force.

"I have indicated that our interest in this area is defensive, and we would like to have a renunciation of the use of force," he said.

Alan G. Kirk, retired admiral who is the new U.S. envoy to Taipei, is understood to be carrying a message from Kennedy to Chiang dealing with the Formosa situation. Kirk left here Wednesday for Formosa.

In official quarters here the impression is that if the Reds launched a massive assault on Quemoy and Matsu the United States would almost certainly go to Nationalist China's support.

Representatives Shrug Off Hike of 5.1 Million

Lawmakers Approve Stack of Bills; Hope to Head Home Today

LANSING (AP) — Majority Republicans in the House relentlessly turned aside last-ditch Democratic proposals to give the state colleges and universities an additional $5.1 million yesterday.

The day before, they firmly rejected every move by the opposition to increase appropriations for mental health, penal institutions, public health and other state programs, sticking to the budget pieced together earlier in the month.

The GOP's economy slant faltered briefly when 15 Republicans joined 34 Democrats to approve a 40 per cent pay raise for legislators already cleared by the Senate.

It will raise salaries of the 144 legislators from $5,000 to $7,000 effective in January and cost the state $288,000 a year, not including a similar increase for the lieutenant governor.

Legislators packed their bags and toed the mark for the homeward rush today as they met to put the final touches on a record $512-million state budget.

Lawmakers expect to reach final agreement on spending bills today, a scant three days before the start of a new fiscal year for the state. They will return July 17 to take care of a few odds and ends and wind up the regular 1962 session.

Over strong objections, the House also endorsed yesterday a Senate-approved $100,000 increase in the $250,000 budget for tourist promotion. Rep. Don Vanderwerp, R-Fremont, said the increase was badly needed to keep Michigan in competition with other states for the tourist dollar.

Bills which cleared the legislature and went to Gov. Swainson for signing provide:

$78.5 million for mental health,

Extra Donations Put 'Y' Drive Over Goal

Extra donations by four contributors have pushed the YMCA's building fund drive over its goal of $650,000, it was announced today by Robert M. Critchfield, general campaign chairman.

Critchfield said he had received word this morning that the four additional pledges have brought the total to $651,300.

ROBERT M. CRITCHFIELD

The money will be used to pay for construction of a new wing and renovation of the present YMCA building at 131 Mt. Clemens St. Work was started on the projects April 24.

The Community National Bank, MacManus, John & Adams Inc., Mrs. Kathryn Nephler all have increased their contributions in order to put the drive over the top, Critchfield said.

The fund campaign started in May, 1961, after YMCA officials said the lack of space in the present building is "an urgent need."

FACILITIES NEEDED

When appointed general chairman last year, Critchfield pointed out that school enrollment in Pontiac had doubled in the past 10 years. He said larger 'Y' facilities were needed to keep pace with the increased population.

The present building was built in 1928 to serve a membership of 1,033. Today, there are some 4,500 members.

As part of the expansion program, a $40,000 swimming pool will be built near the present pool in the existing building for instructional purposes.

An all purpose room, kitchen, men's club area, snack bar and main lobby will be located in the new wing. Other new facilities will include an exercise gumnasium, shower and locker rooms for women, craft and club rooms and building maintenance items.

"Our goal was reached only by continuing effort and interest by the campaign committee and the board of directors," said Critchfield, former Pontiac Motor Division general manager.

"Although we have reached our goal and are proceeding with the new building, the board of directors has several other projects in mind which had to be bypassed during the campaign," he said.

"We hope to proceed with these projects as additional contributions come in," he said. Critchfield indicated that most of those shelved during the campaign involved building projects.

Sec. Freeman Defends Agency

Admits Estes Case Errors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman defended his agency's handling of the Billie Sol Estes case today but acknowledged "some errors and shortcomings for which I, as secretary of agriculture, must assume responsibility."

Freeman's statements were in testimony prepared for the Senate investigation of the Estes case.

Related Stories on Page B-6

The committee also will decide whether high-powered political influence deals helped him.

DENIES FAVORS

Freeman declared "no official or employe now in the department is known or can reasonably be believed to have improperly accepted gifts or other favors from Estes."

"Estes received no special benefits as a result of favored treatment from the Department of Agriculture," he added.

Freeman repeated what he has said before, that the government "has lost no money through its business with Estes."

★ ★ ★

In it he said Estes should not have received additional cotton acreage allotments now under scrutiny in the hearing, and he said the appointment of Estes to the National Cotton Advisory Committee was a mistake.

Freeman said, however, that Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy acted in good faith in approving the appointment.

In Pecos, Tex., district Judge J. H. Starley upheld a defense argument Wednesday that Billie Sol Estes couldn't get a fair trial in his home town and said he will transfer the case to Tyler, 529 miles east of Pecos.

★ ★ ★

District Judge Otis T. Dunagan told reporters in Tyler Wednesday night he had talked to Starley and would accept the case. No date will be set until the Pecos judge signs a formal order, and he said that will be done July 23.

Fugitive Spy Held in Israel

U.S. to Try Extradition of Dr. Robert A. Soblen, Who Escaped by Plane

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)— Israel police today arrested Dr. Robert A. Soblen, bail-jumping fugitive from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, and hurried him before a magistrate.

★ ★ ★

Arraigned in a Tel Aviv court, Soblen was ordered held for the issuance of an official charge against him within the next 10 days.

It is understood he will be accused of entering Israel illegally and with false papers.

★ ★ ★

When police asked for his passport this morning on his arrest at the Hotel Savoy in Tel Aviv he reportedly said he must have lost it on the way from the airport.

★ ★ ★

There is no extradition treaty between the United States and Israel under which the United States could ask for Sobel's return.

However, U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau said in New York "We will make every effort to secure his return."

Morgenthau also said today he had been notified officially by Israel of the arrest.

State OKs 'Model' Boat Control Act

LANSING (AP) — A new boating control act described as a model for the rest of the nation was on its way to Gov. Swainson today.

★ ★ ★

The bill cleared the legislature yesterday after the House agreed not to require legislative approval of regulations set up for various inland lakes.

Control will be placed in the hands of a three-man committee drawn from the Department of State, the State Waterways Commission and the State Conservation Department.

The committee will impose regulations for inland waters if local governing bodies request it. Hearings and an investigation will be held first.

Rep. Charles A. Boyer, R-Manistee, the author, said the measure is designed to prevent "an endless hodge-podge" of varying rules and regulations on Michigan's 11,000 inland lakes.

Local governing bodies now have control over lakes in areas under their jurisdiction. Houghton Lake, the largest inland body of water in Michigan, is part of seven political subdivisions, Boyer said.

Says County Lake Code Is Possible

Countywide control of lake activities will be possible should the Oakland County Board of Supervisors take advantage of a proposed state boating act, a county enforcement officer said today.

★ ★ ★

The bill only needs the signature of Gov. Swainson to become law. It's before him today.

Donald Kratt, safety director for the Sheriff's Department, said that the law would enable the board to request public hearings on a uniform water code for the entire county.

The regulations would probably be much like the uniform ordinances already adopted by 10 county townships, he said.

KEEN BASIS FOR CODE

While a three-man state committee would have the final say on the regulations, Kratt said he believed that the township's uniform code would be the basis for the county restrictions.

The new law would eliminate the need for each local governing body to adopt the code.

In addition to setting up a committee to rule on overall controls, the act also provides additional funds for water safety control.

Oakland County can receive up to $30,000 for its safety program, Kratt said, under the new program.

Currently, the department is receiving $10,000 from the county and an identical amount from the state.

The new provision would give the department an additional $10,000 from the state.

The three-man committee, with the Michigan Sheriffs Association serving in an advisory capacity, can regulate the size, power, speed and hours of operation of motorboats, place channel markers and navigational aids, establish swimming and fishing areas and impose various other regulations.

To help enforce marine laws, the three-year boating registration fee will go up from $2 to $3 next January. The additional $500,000 will be distributed to counties on a 2-1 matching basis, replacing the present 50-50 formula, up to a maximum of $20,000 a year.

★ ★ ★

The bill also incorporates water safety regulations, most of them taken from coast guard regulations enforced on the Great Lakes and connecting waters. They require life preservers, fire extinguishers and lights, and spell out rules of the road.

GOP Ignores Plea for State College Aid

up $3.5 million; $116.56 million for education, mostly state colleges and universities, up $6.9 million; $94.6 million for welfare programs, about the same as current spending; $10.19 million for regulatory agencies, up $135,000, and $37 million for general government, a decline of about $300,000.

Increases for higher education institutions are about half of what Gov. Swainson proposed, and Republicans indicated the schools should boost tuitions to make up the difference.

REJECTED AGAIN

Swainson turned thumbs down for the second year yesterday on a highly controversial bill aimed at nullifying the State Supreme Court's decision in the Ford-Canton case.

Swainson vetoed the bill with the observation that it would have weakened Michigan's unemployment compensation l a w. He rejected a similar bill last year.

He signed a state school aid bill, describing it as a "very substantial step forward in meeting the educational needs of our children."

The bill changes the state school aid formula from the present $205 per pupil less 3¼ deductible millage to $224 per pupil less 3⅞ deductible millage.

The increase will average $10 per pupil.

Ex-Mayor on Airport:

'Time for County to Talk'

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors "has a responsibility to clear the air by announcing termination of its plans for a major jet airport," according to former Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston. Rowston served as one of Pontiac's representatives on the county board and chairman of its aviation committee when plans for the new airport were announced in February.

"Now that the Federal Aviation Agency has rejected the county's airport plans, the committee should recommend that the board concentrate efforts on developing Pontiac Municipal Airport," Rowston added.

He called for a joint meeting of city and county officials.

Rowston said he could not necessarily agree with the board chairman, Delos Hamlin, that the county needed a second general airport at the county-owned Allen Airport in Orion Township.

WANTS SITE HELD

The Allen field was purchased by the county last month to provide a nucleus for future expansion into a multimillion-dollar jet facility.

Since then, Hamlin has stated that even with the FAA's rejection of the site for a major airport, it still should be expanded as a general airport to serve industry.

"The county shouldn't enter into such an endeavor until a master plan has been received for the area and some agreement worked out with city officials as to the future of Pontiac Municipal Airport," Rowston said.

* * *

He recommended that the county either purchase the city-owned airport or operate it as a joint venture.

"It is no secret that Pontiac doesn't have the resources to expand the airport, nor should it be solely a city project when many of the users come from elsewhere in the county," Rowston said.

Hamlin has agreed to the point of saying he thinks airports should be the county's responsibility and not the city's.

Both Hamlin and Rowston concurred that one of Pontiac Municipal's major drawbacks at present is the poor access afforded by the two-lane M59 Highway leading to the field.

* * *

City and county committees should go to Lansing together to meet with State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie in an effort to expedite enlarging the highway to four lanes, Rowston said.

Trade Program Facing House Showdown Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trade program President Kennedy says is vital to the nation's future comes up for a final vote in the House today, its fate uncertain.

* * *

Hours before the expected showdown headcount, Democratic and Republican leaders alike were reluctant to guess what will happen to the measure the President has placed at the top of his congressional priority list.

Kennedy opened his news conference Wednesday with a plea for bipartisan support and made additional eleventh-hour appeals for passage in response to several questions. Clearly, his prestige is on the line and he acted as if he knows it.

What the President wants is broad new powers to eliminate tariffs on whole groups of items and to cut in half the duties on others in an effort to meet the rising economic challenge posed by the burgeoning European Common Market.

At the same time Kennedy seeks new forms of help for industries and workers a crumbling of U.S. tariff walls is likely to dislocate.

Barring any unexpected last-minute maneuver, the choice before the House is between the Kennedy program and a one-year extension of the present trade act.

Oran Calm Now After Rampage

Die-Hard Rebels Halt Defiance of Cease Fire Orders by OAS Heads

ALGIERS (AP)—French army headquarters said today calm had returned to the west Algerian capital of Oran after a rampage of destruction by die-hard European terrorists defying cease-fire orders from the Secret Army Organization.

Eight plastic bomb explosions damaged schools and public buildings Wednesday while sporadic shooting in several areas of the city pitted Europeans against Europeans.

The army said radio reports from its Oran headquarters indicated there had been no violence 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Demonstrations of joy were reported from Oran's Moslem areas, separated from the European sectors of the city by barbed wire.

Secret Army leaders in Oran as well as Algiers ordered an end to resistance and urged the European population to join the Moslem majority in rebuilding the ravaged territory.

The quiet came three days before the self-determination referendum that will vote Algeria independent.

'Old Fuddy-Duddy' Remembers

'They're Ruining New York'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are three banks worth 18 restaurants?

What good is progress if it ruins what you like?

These are questions I ponder every time I look out the window where I work.

Many people never know when they become a fuddy-duddy and an old fogy. A fuddy-duddy and an old fogy is a person who prefers things as they were rather than as they will be. He fights change.

* * *

Well, every time I hear the riveter's hammer echo in the new 40-plus-story building going up across the street, I consciously become more of a fuddy-duddy and an old fogy.

There seems to be a noisy conspiracy afoot to turn mid-Manhattan, one of the world's favorite playgrounds, into another paper clip forest in uptown Wall Street.

Down come the fine old apartments, the beautifully ugly brownstones. Up go the new antiseptic aluminum and glass business foundries full of offices with neatly lettered doors.

CROWDED WITH VPs

Midtown used to be full of people on a lark. Now it is thronged with vice presidents full of grim purpose. It is getting harder and harder for a human being to find elbow room among the junior executives.

For nearly a quarter of a century I have hung my hat and exercised my typewriter in one of the pioneer outposts of Rockefeller Center.

When I first moved in, I could look out the window and see Old Lady Vanderbilt's society mansion anchoring one end of the street across the way. At the other end of the street was a two-bit bar with a second-hand bookstore upstairs.

* * *

Over the years since then you could get your hair dyed in that single block, have a violin repaired, join a bridge club, rent a hotel room, or wine and dine in 18 restaurants and taverns.

You could have smorgasbord at the Stockholm, enjoy ravioli with Louis (three course lunch—65 cents), dip your muzzle in P.J. Moriarty's Irish coffee, or listen to Toots Shor explain why baseball is more important than agriculture to the national economy.

In the good old summertime there were two outdoor cafes where you could sit and sip bourbon or iced tea and watch the world and the girls go by. The chattering Rockettes from the Radio City Music Hall used to come across the street with their painted faces and rest their lovely long limbs there between shows.

ANYBODY BELONGED

The street was a haunt for oddballs and philosophers, for those climbing up the ladder—and those quietly sliding down. It was a street where anybody belonged and could find a place.

Well, what happened to it all?

They tore down the old hotel. Old Lady Vanderbilt died, and they tore down the landmark she lived in where the champagne bubbled.

One by one they tore down the old brownstones, the beer-perfumed taverns, the restaurants of many languages.

The white "x" sign—the signal of oncoming destruction—was bannered in all the dusty windows. Lonely pigeons built interrupted nests in forsaken cornices.

Now the pigeons have vanished with the people and restaurants who once gave the block its identity. Where did they all go, never to be together again?

Now the street across from the window I look from is inhabited by giant office buildings, full of eager beavers eager to go home to the suburbs, and three stone banks.

Banks are wonderful for depositing money, but hardly a place to deposit a life—and certainly they do serve a lousy beef stew.

But only a fuddy-duddy complains against progress. I'm that fuddy-duddy.

Dems in Senate May Publicize Policy Testimony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats indicated today they might move to make public State Department counsel Walter W. Rostow's testimony Tuesday in a brush with Republicans who challenged his Cold War views.

Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said he could see no reason why Rostow's testimony at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, if edited for security protection, could not be made public.

Sparkman said Rostow gave a "wonderful" presentation of his foreign policy views without divulging contents of a policy document GOP leaders have criticized.

Churchill, 88, Falls, Suffers Thigh Fracture

His secretary, Anthony Montague Browne, said Churchill suffered a fracture of the neck of the femur. This upper extension of the thigh bone leads into the socket of the joint. A fracture there could be a serious matter for a man of Sir Winston's age—88 next November.

A spokesman for Lady Churchill in London said Sir Winston will be flown home Friday.

Device Eliminates Radioactive Debris

NEW YORK (UPI)—A research chemist at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn demonstrated today a device for removing radioactive contamination, including strontium 90, from milk.

Dr. Harry P. Gregor, developer of the device, said the electrodialytic process displaces up to 90 per cent of radioactive ions from liquid foods efficiently and economically. It can also be applied to the removal of iodine 131, he said.

Rose Offers 6 Pills to Cure Sick Stock Market

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—The summing up, Dear Bob,

In the unlikely event that President Kennedy were to ask my advice on how to put the stock market up 100 points in two weeks, here's what I'd tell him . . .

First, Mr. President, I come as friend, not foe. I voted for you, and contributed a fairish sum to your campaign.

There are no political overtones to what I may say because I'm as political as Puss-in-Boots.

"I'm getting into the act only because the ticker tape tells me there's a fire in our national basement, and that the whole house may go up in smoke unless you promptly do something about it.

The "something" I'm going to recomend will make a lot of people mad at first, but I'm convinced that a whopping majority will be on your side by the time the November elections roll around.

At your next press conference, I respectfully suggest that you tell the world that Uncle Sam is tired of playing Uncle Sap, and that he intends to concentrate on his own well-being for one full year. To spell this out, I would then announce:

1. A MORATORIUM ON FOREIGN GIVE-AWAYS.

Inform all and sundry that for 12 months we're going to get out of the Santa Claus business. I'm not proposing, Mr. President, that we cut off all foreign aid, but I'm certain we can hold bacl. a billion or so without upsetting the global applecart.

And I wouldn't worry about the Commies stepping in and taking up the slack. The Russians, by their own admission, have their own eating problems and the Chinese, if they're dining at all, are dining on their dogmas.

2. A MORATORIUM ON LABOR DEMANDS NOT IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST.

Serve notice on labor that, for 12 months, it will have to forego that extra slice of the disappearing cake. Point out that there are three times as many people out of unions as in, and that you're going to see to it that they get a square shake.

* * *

If the big labor boys act up, whisper that their union monopolies will be treated like the monopolies of big business.

In short, talk to the Reuthers and Meanys the way you talked to Roger Blough. This will put the market up 25 points in a day.

3. A MORATORIUM ON THAT EVER-LOVIN' PORK BARREL.

Ask Congress to stop appropriating money for "back-home" projects that can be postponed for a year. Make it clear that you'll veto every raid on the piggy bank no matter how the political chips may fall.

PER CENT OF MILITARY EXPERCENT OF MILITARY EXPENDITURES.

* * *

Begging your pardon, Gen. Eisenhower figures to know as much about our military posture as Lt. Kennedy.

Ask Ike to pinpoint the areas where he thinks the military is overspending, and then order an "X" per cent cut in the $48 billion that Congress has appropriated for defense.

5. A MORATORIUM ON GOVERNMENT FLOGGINGS.

For one year, ask your brother Bobby to put his whip away. I approve in the main of what he's doing, but we can't afford it right now. Big businessmen, often as not, are little men behind big desks.

They confuse and panic easily. As of now, it's to our selfish interest to get them to function at top speed. Some undoubtedly pad their expense accounts, vote themselves fat stock options and pump-up pensions and, on occasion, even rob their customers by rigging prices.

For a year, Mr. President, let them do what comes naturally. We desperately need the billions in taxes they can provide. If you can convince these buckos that you'll overlook certain of their sleazy practices for 12 months, it will add another 25 points to the averages.

6. MORATORIUM ON TAX CUT DOUBLE-TALK.

For a year, pigeon-hole the tax reform bill which pats you on the back with one hand and sticks a thumb in your eye with the other. Like it or not, Mr. President, only an out-and-out tax cut will give our economy the dose of tonic it needs.

As I tote it up, the first five money-saving moratoriums would more than pay for the sixth. The country would close ranks behind the FDR-daring of such a program, and Congress would stop sticking pins in your balloons.

In addition, the bankers of Europe would realize that for at least a year we're going to stop giving away what we haven't got, and the flow of gold might well reverse itself.

* * *

The stock market would also reverse itself. "A 100-point rise in two weeks" might be the understatement of the year.

The Ceylon tea shrub is grown in nurseries and transplanted when it is 6 to 12 inches high. It bears its first crop after four years.

Committee Maneuvering Takes Toll

Kefauver's Drug Bill Amended to Death

(Editor's Note — The controversial Kefauver investigation of the drug industry involved testimony that would have filled 20 books. Now that it is all over, the bill which has emerged is a far cry from what Sen. Kefauver originally wanted. The following dispatch tells what happened.)

By JERRY LANDAUER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Disowned by friends and foes alike, Sen. Estes Kefauver's much-mangled drug bill has been consigned to a legislative orphanage. A similar fate apparently awaits a companion measure in the House.

What started out to be a bill that would tightly regulate the drug industry has been revised drastically in Senate committees.

For the drug industry, which has fought down the line against what it called government encroachment, it is a welcome development.

Few bills in recent years aroused senatorial tempers the way the drug bill did. Kefauver believes it was sidetracked in part by ineptness on the part of the New Frontier.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., one of those who Kefauver said "cut up" the bill, sought to cheer the tall Tennessee Democrat.

PRAISES SENATOR

"His patience is certainly equal to that of Job," Dirksen said in an oratorial flourish. "He is as single-purposed as an Apache Indian. He is as gracious as a Victorian lady. There is a rare diligence about him, and a rare consistency about him also."

Dirksen was talking about the fact that Kefauver called 210 witnesses before the Senate Antitrust subcommittee in a 45-day long investigation of drug industry abuses that began on Dec. 7, 1959.

Kefauver summoned 107 more witnesses to testify about the bill that grew out of the investigation. The combined testimony filled 12,884 pages in 20 books, probably all-time record.

* * *

It would have reduced patent monopolies on new drugs from 17 to three years; barred marketing of any new drug in the absence of "preponderant" evidence that it worked as advertised; prohibited patents on medicines that were not substantially different from those already on the market; required a full listing of side effects, and a bold printing of the drugs' official names.

These would have been drastic moves.

Kefauver's bill grew out of his conviction that drug industry is a near monopoly that exacts excessive prices for its products.

The industry, he said, wastes millions—24 cents on the sales dollar—advertising "molecular modifications" of existing patented drugs and covers up dangerous side effects.

CHARGES 'COVER-UP'

(One company, according to the testimony, withheld a report showing that 500 of 2,000 clinical case studies developed skin irritations and even jaundice from a much-ballyhooed antibiotic.)

Relaxing patent protection, Kefauver believes, would drive prices down by infusing more competition into the industry. And if all manufacturers were licensed, he believes, doctors would be encouraged to prescribe drugs by chemical rather than trade name, thus permitting patients to shop for the cheapest brand.

The drug industry, represented by the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association (PMA), challenged Kefauver's charges. PMA said industry-finance breakthroughs in drug therapy, particularly new wonder drugs and tranquilizers, contributed heavily to the nation's better health.

Costly drug research to conquer cancer and other killer diseases can be paid for only by healthy industry profits, PMA said. And even if all profits were eliminated, according to industry spokesmen, the price of the average prescription would not drop by more than a dime.

The manufacturers agreed to a few of Kefauver's objections, but fought most provisions of the original bill, particularly the patent section. PMA agreed that no new drug should be marketed unless there is substantial evidence that it works as advertised.

Kefauver nudged the bill out of the monopoly subcommittee by a 3-2 party line vote and from there it went to Sen. James O. Eastland's Judiciary committee.

The combined votes of Southern Democrats and Republicans sent it to Sen. John L. McClellan's Patents subcommittee for further scrutiny. McClellan's panel struck the patent section, which Kefauver regards as the key cost-cutting feature.

AMENDED BILL

Weeks of pulling and hauling followed in the full committee. Eastland, without notifying Kefauver, called in "certain individuals designated by the administration" to work up "realistic" amendments that all sides could support.

Eastland remarked later that it would have been "futile" to notify Kefauver. "I did not think he would make an agreement with respect to anything," Eastland said.

But Kefauver charged that the Eastland-Dirksen-Hruska combination (Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.), working secretly behind his back, drafted nine amendments that he knew nothing about until they were put to a vote in committee.

* * *

In the committee, a combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats overwhelmed Kefauver on a half-dozen key votes. Eastland defended the result, saying he had the responsibility as committee chairman to work out a "wholesome" bill. He added:

"I submit we have drafted a drug bill which is healthy, which meets the requirements of the President of the United States as stated in his letter to me, and which should be suported by the American people."

"What is wrong with an accomplishment?" Eastland asked. "I had no interest in the bill . . . everyone knows legislation is a matter of give and take. Grandstand stuff for votes is something else."

ATTACKED BILL

Hruska, an old antagonist of Kefauver's in the drug controversy, said the original bill would have perverted the patent system, crippled drug research and injured the cause of good health.

Other Republicans attacked the licensing system, saying they never would agree that an American must get the government's permission before going into business.

Disowning the committee's redraft, Kefauver said it was weaker even than the drug industry's own reform proposals. The only thing left, he said, were some useful changes in technical provisions of the food and drug laws.

He demanded that the administration, having sent legislative draftsmen to the secret sessions, make its position known.

Last week Health and Welfare Secretary Abraham A. Ribicoff said he was unhappy with the Senate Committee amendments. The redraft, he said, does not conform with the President's recommendations.

Car Engineers Concentrate on Small, Important Filters

DETROIT (UPI) — Engineers trying to build cars that run longer with fewer troubles have centered much of their attention in recent years on something which is probably more popularly known on cigarettes than automobiles—the filter.

★ ★ ★

And one reason engines last longer nowadays without major troubles is the filter system for the air, water gas and oil in a modern power plant.

One midwest firm is marketing an electric filter it claims eliminates the need for ever changing engine oil.

A French carmaker has developed a filter and cooling system said to eliminate the need for periodic water and antifreeze changes.

★ ★ ★

A new development on the automotive scene is a filter for gas now being installed on service station pumps by one major distributor, the American Oil Co.

★ ★ ★

The firm said the present filter in a car's gas line and the carburetor, become clogged sometimes because they are are so highly precisioned and delicately balanced as to require an absolutely clean gasoline.

USE VARIOUS WAYS

Al V. Fraser, marketing manager for American, said his firm, and most others, use various methods of screening gasoline from the refinery to give the service station storage tank, in an effort to eliminate microscopic particles of dirt and other contaminents.

But Fraser said "these methods simply do not do the job of removing the tiny particles which cause trouble in today's high performance automobiles."

Consequently he said, the firm is introducing a new filter to be installed between the hose and a nozzle on gasoline pumps. It is about eight inches long and is said to be capable of blocking most of the tiny particles now present in gasoline.

★ ★ ★

In older model cars, Fraser said, no one had to worry about the particles because they were so small they could pass right through simple carburetors and engines.

But today's more powerful engines and complex carburetors can become fouled up by the same particles Fraser added.

In recent years, some car manufacturers, notably General Motors, have issued as standard equipment a special filter in the gas line, designed to do the same thing as the service station filter now being introduced.

The oil company said its filter should double the life of the gas filter that is now being used in many cars and probably will become an industry-wide item very soon.

Named Envoy to Moscow

HAVANA Cuba (AP)—Carlos Olivares Sanchez, former undersecretary for foreign relations, is Cuba's new ambassador to Moscow, press reports said yesterday. He replaces Maj. Faure Chomon, now communications minister. Tass, the Soviet news agency, said Sanchez arrived in Moscow yesterday.

LONE FIREFIGHTER — A lone fireman plays a stream of water on a blazing warehouse of the American Can Co. in Secaucus, N.J. Only the walls of the single-story structure, 100 feet west of the New Jersey turnpike, were left standing. Reinforcements soon were on hand but for awhile, the odds were pretty much against the one man (lower right) there to fight the blaze.

Grants Announced by Ford Foundation

NEW YORK (AP)— The Ford Foundation yesterday announced grants totaling $41.6 million to 21 private liberal arts colleges to help advance their over-all academic development.

★ ★ ★

The grants range from $1.5 million to $2.5 million and may be used for whatever purposes the colleges believe will best advance their academic programs.

Initial payments totaling $10,542,000 will be made to the colleges before Nov. 1, to help them meet urgent needs — increases in faculty salaries, additional scholarships and other student aid and essential additions to, or renovations of plant and equipment.

Claim 109 Reds Killed, 75 Captured in Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP)— South Viet Nam claimed today that during the period May 21 to June 20 its forces in one province of the Mekong River delta killed 109 Viet Cong and captured 75 others. Ten government troops were reported killed in that period.

The province, Chung Thien, was carved out of four neighboring provinces near the tip of Viet Nam last December to give it better organization in its fight against Communist guerrillas.

Flee China for Colony but Land on Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)— Four fishermen fleeing from Communist China to Hong Kong were blown off course and landed instead in Formosa.

The Formosa garrison command said they left Swatow, 160 miles north of Hong Kong, on June 23 and landed on a Formosa beach Tuesday. They will be resettled in Formosa.

Questions Aid to Own Colleges

Lutheran Asks Study to Find if Institutions Justify Church Support

DETROIT (AP)—A Lutheran Educator yesterday questioned the wisdom of the church's continued support of its own colleges of higher education.

Dr. Robert Mortvedp of Chicago, executive secratary of the board of education of the United Lutheran Church in America, raised the question, partly on a financial basis, before his church's convention.

Dr. Mortvedp, addressing 700 delegates, proposed a study by scholars and church leaders to determine whether "justification" continues for the church's colleges. He warned of what he called danger to the church's Christian influence on its colleges because of financial troubles.

"Some colleges," Dr. Mortvedp said, "are beginning to seek ever increasing amounts of the funds they need from sources outside the church.

"As this tendency grows, bonds to the church become more elastic and tenuous. The inevitable result is that these colleges eventually have no meaningful connection with the church. They become independent, secular colleges whose traditions and practices only faintly reflect another day.

Head of Statue Back on Torso

Museum Borrows 'Body' of Egyptian Official for Exhibition

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 2,500-year-old sculptured head of an Egyptian worthy has been reunited with its torso at the Brooklyn Museum after countless years of separation.

The head belongs to the Brooklyn Museum and the torso was borrowed for exhibition this summer from the government of the United Arab Republic.

The two pieces were identified as segments of the same statue by the noted Belgian Egyptologist, Dr. Herman De Meulenaere. A heirotyphic text which ran down the back of the statue gave De Meulenaere his clue.

Museum officials said the statue of Wesir-Wer, a theban temple official of the 4th century B.C., probably was broken when it was thrown into a pit at the temple of Amun more than 2,000 years ago to make way for more up-to-date votive statues.

The pit full of discarded sculptures was uncovered in 1903.

The torso remained in the Egyptian National Art Collection. The head, generally recognized as one of the world's most beautiful sculptured busts, turned up in Paris shortly before World War I and was brought to New York by an art dealer.

It was purchased by the Brooklyn Museum seven years ago.

My Wife Jo 'Knew,' Says Next Astronaut

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP)—A woman's intuition, astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. says, told his wife he'd be the next American in space.

Schirra, a Navy commander, whose selection for the United States' next orbital flight was announced officially Wednesday, says his wife Jo realized this fact some time ago "through a sixth sense which all wives have."

Actually, Schirra told a news conference, the official word was given him Tuesday night although he and his family had been told earlier he was the next astronaut in line.

DELIGHTED

Schirra, 39, who may circle the earth as many as six times, said the additional three orbits would be a great bonus.

"If I am performing well and the capsule is performing well, we will decide during the third orbit whether to go for six," he said.

* * *

No major modifications are planned for the capsule or the space suit. Schirra said "we always felt the Mercury capsule had a capability of more than three orbits."

* * *

Schirra said he plans to slim down to 171 pounds before the space mission later this summer. He now weighs 175, and keeps in good physicial condition by swimming, water skiing and surf boarding.

At the public announcement of his selection, his wife said "I'm delighted that Wally will have this chance."

Mrs. Schirra, leaving Sunday for the new space agency headquarters in Houston, Tex., said she wouldn't go to Cape Canaveral for the launch because their two children would probably be in school by then.

MARTY EXCITED

Marty Schirra, 12, is quite excited, said Mrs. Schirra, but four-year-old Susie isn't aware of the importance of her father's assignment.

* * *

"Oh, golly!" said the astronaut's mother in San Diego. "It takes my breath away. My husband and I are so happy for him."

* * *

She said she and her husband, a World War I air ace, will remain in California. If the mission goes to six orbits, she said, her son will land in the Pacific and they will see him sooner by remaining on the West Coast.

Actress Susan Kohner Drops Marriage Plans

The wedding was set for Aug. 12.

Named Representative to U. N. for Panama

PANAMA (AP)—Aquilino Boyd, who once led a campaign to get the Panamanian flag flown in the Panama Canal Zone, was appointed the country's permanent representative to the United Nations Wednesday.

Australia's Navy is to buy two guided-missile destroyers from the United States for about $90 million. The vessels have antisubmarine and antimissile devices and are on order, to be delivered by 1966.

In Baptist Ceremony

Wed in Walled Lake

MILFORD — The First Baptist Church of Walled Lake was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Marilyn Kay Beagle and Ronald Koshorek. Officiating at the ceremony was Rev. Robert Roach of Lincoln Park.

* * *

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Koshorek of 2598 Roselawn St., Walled Lake.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of Alencon lace and silk organza. It featured a fitted bodice, shallow scoop neckline appliqued with Alencon lace, and short cap sleeves.

* * *

Serving as best man was Thomas Watrous of Milford. Ushers were Ted Sankiewicz of St. Clair Shores, Larry Koshorek of Detroit and Gerald Beagle of Milford.

* * *

A reception was held at a VFW hall immediately following the ceremony. The newlyweds are honeymooning in northern Michigan.

Wins Bid to Build Sewer in Milford

MILFORD—A $25,000 contract has been awarded to the Northwest Construction Co. of Livonia to build a storm sewer on South Main Street.

Village Manager Donald Weidner said the project will begin in about three weeks.

The drain will run from Byron Drive on the south to Washington Street, then west for two blocks and then north to the river.

Northwest was the second low bidder among the nine firms seeking the job.

Group to Study Hospital Survey

Huron Valley Unit Sets 1st Meeting to Review Progress on Facility

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Community Hospital Association will hold its first organizational meeting here tomorrow to review the progress of a survey being made on a proposed 100-bed hospital.

The report will be made by John Ripplinger, project director and vice president of Professional Facilities Corp. of Hazel Park.

The firm was hired in April by the association to make the study and provide consulting services.

Benjamin R. Threloff, president of the association, said that preliminary reports indicate it may be possible to have the medical facility ready for occupancy in two years, rather than the three years first predicted.

* * *

He said Ripplinger's story shows that there is much enthusiam from area residents and doctors over the proposed $2-million project.

Construction of the hospital would be financed through subscriptions and investors.

"Only about 30 per cent of the total cost would have to be raised through subscriptions," said Threloff. "Once we reach this goal we will be in a good position to contact investors for the remainder."

* * *

The meeting will be held 8 p.m. in Threloff's office at 447 N. Main St.

Station Attendant Tied, Robbed of $126

AVON TOWNSHIP —A lone gunman with his face covered by a burlap sack over his head held up the Save-U Gas Station at 1799 E. Auburn Road about 2 a.m. today and escaped with $126 in cash and the attendant's wristwatch.

He told police the gunman walked up behind him while he was standing in front of the station.

Club Giving Up Building to Auburn Heights Boys

AUBURN HEIGHTS — In a brief ceremony at 2 p.m. Sunday, the elderly of this community will give up one of their most cherished possessions to advance the welfare of the young.

It will be the last act of the club, which is disbanding after 40 years and offering the balance in its treasury, some $1,500, to Avondale High School for creation of a college scholarship fund.

In December 1921, a group of women here organized a Christmas party for 100 children. The following month, the same women met again and formed what is now the Community Club. The club has included men as well as women since 1940.

* * *

Members met in their homes, but dreamed of a building of their own. Finally, in 1938, they were able to buy some property and build a basement with the proceeds of several projects.

STARTED IN 1953

It was not until 1953 that the club had enough money to start construction of a ground level building.

Today, the addition of a dance floor has made the Community Club Building at 220 S. Squirrel Road ideal for rental for wedding receptions and private parties. Several local organizations, including Lions Club, Rotary, Boy Scouts and Teen Club, have made use of the building.

Just as the Community Club had no building of its own in its beginning years, the Boy's Club has had none since it began in 1955 as an effort by a group of parents to provide a baseball program for their sons.

Led by William and Clifford Welch, Leonard Bartkowiak and Glenn Allen, the parents organized three teams.

By the fall of 1956, football, basketball and hockey teams also were being formed despite lack of money. The next spring, the Hill-Gazette Post No. 143, American Legion, donated the use of its basement for a boxing program. Table tennis, billiards, a work shop and arts and crafts soon followed.

* * *

What began as a small sports program was a full-fledged Boys' Club movement by 1957. A board of directors was organized and a fund drive raised $12,000 to renovate the Legion post's basement, obtain a charter in Boys' Clubs of America, and hire a full-time professional director.

TOOK OVER

The first director stayed only a year. Sam R. Sheehy, the present director, then took over, but the club's program became only part-time during winter as he was attending college.

Last fall a new board of directors set a goal of obtaining a building and providing a full-time program.

Thanks to the Community Club, the 380 boys now in the Boys' Club will have their own building, which will be renovated with $1,000 donated by the Lions Club, and a full program of activities.

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, widely known for his youth work, will speak at the ceremony. Also there will be Community Club president Andrew Voerding and Boys' Club president Dr. E. D. Barrett.

* * *

Hey There, Girls, Contest's on Again

OXFORD—Whoa, there! Wait a minute!

There's going to be a Miss Oxford beauty contest after all.

* * *

At least the committee in charge of the contest, Mrs. Phyllis Van Vleet and Mrs. Jack Valentine, is giving it another try.

Just when it seemed that all the beautiful but bashful girls in the Oxford school district were determined to stay in hiding this year, along came a bit of news that may lure them out of seclusion.

Last week the committee called off the contest, sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce, when only one qualified entry had appeared despite a month of coaxing by the two women.

* * *

It seemed, according to Mrs. Van Vleet, that the talent requirement had dampened the enthusiasm of Oxford's modest maidens.

But, since it was learned the Romeo Peach Queen contest, in which Miss Oxford would be entered, has discarded its talent judging this year, so can Oxford.

The committee has reopened the contest without the talent requirement. Judging on July 9 will be on personality, appearance, poise and speaking ability. The new deadline is Monday.

* * *

Entry applications can be made by contacting Mrs. Van Vleet at the Clothes Closet, 6 N. Washington St., where she confidently awaits a rush of girls 17½ to 20 years old to prove there's plenty of feminine beauty in the Oxford area, even if it is a bit shy.

Scouting in England Gets Birds and Bees

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

News item with a London dateline: "A handbook on love-making has been issued for the Girl Guides of Britain, likening the perils of sex to the hazards of driving a car."

All I can say is, scouting has certainly changed since I was a girl in a khaki uniform.

When I used to attend Girl Scout meetings we learned about the birds (how to tell a wood thrush from a flicker) and the trees (how to tell one tree from another by the leaf or bark) and even how to recognize poison ivy before it was too late.

But we didn't hear one word about the birds and the bees as a preparation for an understanding of sex — and we certainly didn't have any handbook on the perils of sex.

We did spend a lot of time tying and untying knots—all kinds of knots. That, looking back on it, was a supreme waste of time, for the only knots I have ever been called on to tie in all my years of home-making were a square knot and a bow knot.

So maybe the training Girl Guides in England are going to get will be more helpful than what we learned out of the Girl Scout manual over here when I was a tenderfoot.

BOYS TABOO

But it doesn't sound much like scouting in the old days, when talk about boys was strictly taboo and all in the world a Girl Scout was supposed to be interested in was hiking, swimming, knot tying, bird watching and campfire building (with not more than two matches).

Perhaps those interests are a bit unsophisticated for today's young. Perhaps they were even a bit naive for the girls in my time.

For I do remember that scout meetings were often pretty boring and that a great many Girl Scouts never got past the tenderfoot stage, because boy watching so soon became a more fascinating pastime than bird watching.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

The absence of one particular player has worked marvels as far as entry is concerned in the 60th Western Amateur Golf Championship July 19-22 at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Western Golf Association officials have announced that the 1962 field will be the best in the event's history and it seems more than pure coincidence that Jack Nicklaus will be among the missing.

Nicklaus won last year's Western Amateur, but the power-hitting Ohioan won't be around to defend his title because he decided to join the professional ranks late in the autumn of 1961.

It took Nicklaus a while to get moving on the pro tour, but the great Arnold Palmer felt the brunt of his golfing talent two weeks ago when he defeated the Pennsylvania strongboy in an 18-hole playoff at Oakmont to win the U.S. Open.

NICKLAUS

Orchard Lake members and golf writers attended a luncheon and tournament briefing session the other day at O.L.C.C. where they heard George Webb discuss plans for the 2nd oldest amateur event in the U.S.A.

James Royer, former WGA president and now retired, flew to O.L.C.C. from Chicago to talk to the group about his favorite golf tourney — the Western Amateur.

"This will be the most star-studded field we've ever had," Royer said, "and the departure of Nicklaus has much to do with it. Some of the nation's most talented amateurs who were scared out of competition by Nicklaus' presence have entered now that he's a pro."

With the exception of Charlie Coe and Harvey Ward, every ranking national amateur player has registered to tee off at Orchard Lake. This includes defending National Amateur champion Deane Beman.

★ ★ ★

Updegraff is a two-time WGA Amateur king (1957-1959), Morey won the crown in 1953 and Key took top honors in 1958. Smith was North-South Amateur champ two years ago.

A past champion providing the local flavor is veteran Bob Babbish of Detroit Golf Club, 1938 winner. Other top-flight names entered are Bill Hyndman, Dudley Wysong, Billy Joe Patton, Juan Estrada, Dr. Frank (Bud) Taylor and Gene Andrews.

Nicklaus has gone, it's true, but there's still plenty of golfing skill headed this way. They'll be swinging from the heels at Orchard Lake three weeks from now.

QUIZ DEPARTMENT

If Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department-sponsored golf events are reserved exclusively for amateurs, how can Dick Delano's entry in the City Best Ball tournament be justified?

Delano, former Pontiac Northern golfer, is Bill Kennedy's assistant pro at Stonycroft and earlier this season he won money in a Pro-Am event. Nothing against Delano, of course, but it IS an interesting question.

SHORT PUTTS

Mike McClellan, former assistant caddiemaster at Tam O'Shanter, has been named head caddiemaster at Orchard Lake and the approaching Western Amateur will be his first big assignment . . . Pontiac's ageless Bob Dawson shot 72-77—149 last week for 2nd place in the handicap division of the Western Seniors tourney at Port Huron's Black River course . . . Elks Lodge No. 810 members are toying with the idea of buying their own links in this locale . . . Rumors have four more layouts on the drawing board in the Oakland County area . . . The Syrns are seriously discussing the idea of holding an Oakland County golf tourney at Pontiac Country Club this fall, an event which could be a boon to the area.

Russian Wrestlers World Champions

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Russians staged a peaceful invasion of Toledo, Ohio, and carried away the World Amateur Wrestling Championship.

Their sweep of the Greco-Roman competition that ended Wednesday night was even more decisive than their freestyle victory last week — despite some come-from-behind displays of strength by Turkey and Hungary.

Russia scored 40 team points with three firsts, three seconds and a third place—picking up seven medals in eight weight classes. Turkey was closest with 31.

Bulgaria 20½, Hungary 16, West Germany 8½, Japan 8, the United States 8, United Arab Republic 6, Italy 5, Denmark, 5, Yugoslavia, 5, Rumania 4½, Iran 4, and Switzerland ½.

Satan's Trainer Claims Colt Had Lots of Sickness

STANTON, Del. (AP) — The trainer of Crimson Satan, disqualified as winner of last Saturday's $42,500 Leonard Richard Stakes at Delaware Park because of detection of an illegal drug, says the 3-year-old colt had an unusual amount of sickness and the drug was not administered as a regular thing.

The Richards' purse was ordered re-distributed by the Delaware State Racing Commission Wednesday as the result of a report by its official chemist which said "a substance in the nature of phenylbutazone was found in the urine sample of the horse" following the race. The mutuel payoff was not affected.

Potter has said that he was priming the hard-luck 3-year-old for the $50,000 Choice Stakes at Monmouth Park Aug. 1. No further action against him or Salmen was immediately indicated.

Oxford Lake Ski Meet This Weekend

Top Stars Here for International Water Event

American, Canadian Champions to Battle; Qualifying Saturday

The first of two outstanding water ski tournaments slated for Oxford Lake will be held Saturday and Sunday.

It will be an International event featuring most of the top performers from the East, Midwest, South and Canada.

There will be competition in four divisions — men's, boys', women's and senior men's—at the Lakeville Rd. site this weekend.

QUALIFY SATURDAY

Qualifying will be Saturday with the top five in each class advancing to Sunday's finals.

★ ★ ★

Among the Michigan champions entered in the event are Bill Bilbie, state slalom champion; Ray Fullerton, state jumping champion; Lynn Vermuellen, state, midwest and national boys' champion who will be moving into the men's division.

★ ★ ★

From the Eastern Region of the United States are champion entries from New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Maine, and New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

The other tournament will be the Michigan State championships, July 21-22. This tourney has been held in Oakland County for six of the past seven years. The last two years it has been held at Loon Lake.

Boat Race Slated by Waterford's Junior C. of C.

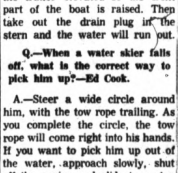
At the group's annual summer board planning session last weekend chairmen were named for a total of 44 planned programs. Newly installed president Dean Salley presided at the series of meetings held in Crystal.

Among the other new events scheduled are junior tennis, a teenage road-eo and a physical fitness program. The fitness program and community health and safety will be stressed during the coming year, according to public realtions chairman John Hadenbaugh.

★ ★ ★

The stepped-up schedule of activities will be presented to the membership at the July 9 meeting of the Waterford Jaycees.



Q—How do I keep water out of my boat? It sits on a trailer in my yard and every time it rains, it gets filled up.—John Meadows.

A.—Park it with the drawbar of the trailer elevated so the front part of the boat is raised. Then take out the drain plug in the stern and the water will run out.

Q.—When a water skier falls off, what is the correct way to pick him up?—Ed Cook.

A.—Steer a wide circle around him, with the tow rope trailing. As you complete the circle, the tow rope will come right into his hands. If you want to pick him up out of the water, approach slowly, shut off the engine and glide to a stop as close as possible to him. Have him enter the boat over the transom.

Answer — It isn't advisable. Gasoline fumes are highly explosive and heavier than air. They will collect in your boat where they can cause trouble. It would be far safer to use an alcohol or canned-heat stove aboard. Save your camping stove for the beach.

Over 50 Boats Clash at Green Lake

Sailing Regatta Set

Colton Weatherston will put his Michigan championship on the line Saturday and Sunday in the State Snipe regatta at Green Lake.

The home club of the winning sailor hosts the race the following year.

A member of the Green Lake Sail Club, Weatherston won the different points in the state.

YOU CAN'T DRIVE and watch the skier. In some states an observer is required in the boat by law for safety.

Skiing

By TED JONES
Marine Designer

Check your equipment for smooth, safe operation. Watch for worn or entangled towlines. Attach towline to a towing pylon or to a bridle secured to eyebolts high on the transom on both sides of the motor.

Use the OK signal—thumb and forefinger forming a circle—to indicate when the speed is right. Indicate turns with a curved outward motion of the proper hand. Hand up, palm outward means stop. Slashing motion across neck means cut the ignition.

Have an observer with you in the boat. In some states this is required by law. You can't drive and watch the skier.

When the skier is preparing for a takeoff, he will call "In gear." Proceed very slowly, taking up the slack in the tow rope. When he calls "Hit it!", accelerate, steadily but not too fast, until the skier is up and planing. From a dock start, begin accelerating while there are still 10 feet of slack in the tow rope.

★ ★ ★

An idling propeller can be dangerous.

'M' Coed Top Qualifier

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Timothea Schneider, 22 - year-old University of Michigan coed from Oyster Bay and defending National Women's Sailing champion, was the top qualifier Wednesday in the Long Island district eliminations for the Syce Cup. Miss Schneider won three straight races on Long Island Sound. Finals for the Syce Cup, the second step toward the National title, will be on the Sound July 9.

Watkins Sailors Finish Near Top at Wolf Lake

★ ★ ★

Bruce and Fred Brede ranked 8th and Dave Green No. 12 in a 25-boat field. There were contestants from six states.

In Sunday's regular competition at Watkins Lake, Green won the snipe event followed by Fries and Charles Morris.

Two races are scheduled Saturday, at 10 am. and 2 p.m., and one on Sunday, at 10 a.m.

The boat placing highest in the three races will be awarded the Eagle Lake Yacht Club trophy, emblematic of state supremacy. It is a traveling trophy.

STARTED IN 1948

The Michigan Snipe Championship Regatta was started in 1948. Only Michigan fleets are eligible to enter the 15-foot 6-inch craft. There are 13 fleets in this state and 520 nationally.

The sailboats will cover 4½ miles in each race. The course will be a large triangle. The boats will sail the full course and one additional side.

Weatherston's chief competition may come from a fellow Green Lake resident. Bill Wottowa finished third in last year's state event.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Spectators will be able to best see the races from the Commerce Road side of the lake, according to race officials.

★ ★ ★

Trophies will go to the top five finishers.

Makes the Difference

LA CANADA, Calif. (UPI) — Little Jerry Barber, the 1961 PGA champion and Ryder Cup Team captain says that "without a question of a doubt physical conditioning is the difference between victory and defeat on the pro golf tour."

Six winners of the Wood Memorial, held at Aqueduct each spring, have gone on to win the Kentucky Derby. They were Gallant Fox, Twenty Grand, Johnstown, Count Fleet, Hoop Jr. and Assault.

Building Activity in U.S. for June Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction activity in June hit a record high for any month, the Commerce Department reports.

Private outlays increased over May at double—the normal rate, department figures showed yesterday, and total spending for new construction put in place reached an annual rate of just under $63 billion, an increase of $2.2 billion over the rate in May.

For private projects the annual rate this month was $45.1 billion, compared with $43.5 billion in May, and public construction climbed to an annual rate of $17.9 billion from $17.3 billion.

So far this year total new construction has amounted to $27.7 billion — 6 per cent more than $26.1 billion spent in the comparable period of 1961.

The board of directors of Higbie Manufacturing Co., Rochester, today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents a share, plus an extra dividend of 10 cents a share on the common stock, both payable Aug. 1, to stockholders of record July 16, 1962.

Some Blue Chips See 1- to 2-Point Gains

Stock Mart Zips in Heavy Trade

Gains of fractions to 1 or 2 points were made by key stocks.

Steels, motors, oils, utilities, electronics, tobaccos, aerospace issues, and chemicals were among the advancing groups. Rails were mixed.

Brokers saw the satisfactory technical performance yesterday, combined with some fairly good business news, as helping to lay the ground for the rise. At the same time, the market has not had a clear-cut advance in the past eight sessions and some kind of rebound seemed overdue.

Big blocks at the opening lent emphasis to the rise. The pace of trading was heavy enough to put early transactions behind the ticker tape by at least eight minutes.

International Business Machines moved up about 7 points. Gains of about 2 were made by International Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Korvette and Litton Industries. Polaroid tacked on about 3.

A 2-point rise by Ford paced advancing auto stocks. Chrysler rose more than a point and General Motors added nearly a point.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Sears and Roebuck, Raytheon, American Telephone, Du Pont, Pfizer and Liggett & Myers.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Anken Chemical added about two points and Molybdenum rose a point. Up fractionally were Aerojet-General Breeze Corp., Louisiana Land, Occidental Petroleum, Tampa Electric and Gulf American Land. Sherwin-Williams slipped more than a point.

Werner Speaks at GM Banquet

Auto Executive Says Cooperative Education Aids Young Scientists

Cooperative education will help arm our young scientists with the knowledge needed to meet the complex challenges of this space age, Calvin J. Werner told a group of General Motors Institute alumni and undergraduates last night.

The General Motors vice president who heads GMC Truck & Coach Division spoke at the GMC Truck & Coach Division — General Motors Institute Alumni Banquet at Elks Temple.

Werner outlined the history of cooperative education in which students spend part of their time in school and the other part applying their classroom knowledge on the job.

"Creative employment is the very cornerstone of the cooperative program," he said. "Unlimited opportunity awaits those who are willing to combine technical competence with hard work."

URGES CAUTION

He pointed out that World War II demonstrated this country's unexcelled productive capabilities, but cautioned that this is not a guaranteed position.

"The availability of personnel with proper skills in the right place and right time and with the willingness to work has been and will continue to be a major problem," he added.

Werner emphasized the importance of cooperative educational programs to our future welfare and safety.

* * *

"Recent developments in space exploration and increasing emphasis on scientific and technological education present a challenge to our educational processes," he said. "How this challenge is met will determine this nation's position in the world of tomorrow."

Area Unaffected Yet by Mobil Oil Strike

Mobil Oil Co. service stations and home deliveries in the Pontiac area remained unaffected today by a strike which has closed the firm's refinery at Trenton and its Dearborn terminal, according to Arthur Epker, district sales manager here.

The company supplies some 50 dealers in the area with gasoline and oil and homes with heating fuel.

While service hasn't been disrupted here yet by the striking Oil Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, Epker didn't know how long the situation would remain unchanged.

The strike ordered by Local 7-389 has halted deliveries to about 450 Mobil stations in the Detroit area. It began at the Dearborn terminal over the discharge of six loaders who the firm said were no longer needed.

Also at issue was a nationwide demand for a 6.5 per cent wage increase, with a floor of 17 cents an hour, to be applied in fringe benefits or as an across-the-board wage hike.

A meeting with Federal mediators is scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Stock Mart Future Anybody's Guess

(Editor's Note — A month ago today, the stock market suffered its worst daily loss since 1929. Since then analysts and economists, for business and government, have been trying to piece together the story of the decline — and to forecast what is in store.)

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A month after being stricken on "Black Monday" the stock market still is ailing. No one can say for sure what is going to happen in the future.

The panicky selling of May 28 sent the market to its worst fall since 1929. Before the week was out a rally more than recovered the loss but the pattern of steep decline had been set.

* * *

This downtrend has been followed, with only a few interruptions by weak advances, ever since.

* * *

Is the market about to hit bottom?

THE BIG QUESTION

That is the big question that has Wall Street hoping and guessing.

The analysts whose predictions are closely followed by millions of investors are in disagreement. Some say the market still has to go lower to truly correct prices which had skyrocketed during a frenzy of speculation.

RATIOS REALISTIC

Others feel that earnings compared with share prices have returned to realistic ratios and that many stocks are becoming bargains.

Still others are pinning their hopes for an upturn of the calendar, forecasting that the traditional summer rally will soon lift prices.

WORST IS OVER?

"Among the older, more sophisticated analysts the consensus is that the worst is over for the present, there should be a summer rally and any decline following this rally probably would be less violent than the one that preceded it," says L. O. Hooper of the brokerage firm, W. E. Hutton & Co.

What brought on this decline which has pressed the market averages to their lowest level since 1958?

* * *

The early phase, beginning last fall, was attributed by some experts to a need for correction of prices that had rocketed too high under a great enthusiasm for growth stocks and new issues.

Others described a market weakened by what they called the tendency of big institutional buyers—the mutual funds and pension funds among others—to sit on the sidelines. Still others pointed to the millions of dollars pulled out of the market by investors who put them in savings banks to reap higher interest rates.

As business failed to move ahead at the rate expected, "lack of confidence" and a fear of a recession developed among some investors.

KENNEDY AND STEEL

Then came the Kennedy administration's furious reaction to the $6-a-ton price increase announced by the steel industry after what had been described by government officials as a noninflationary labor agreement.

The administration's forcing of the steel executives to rescind the increase brought accusations that the President was antibusiness.

* * *

The steel price battle was blamed by many in Wall Street for actually triggering the market collapse. This school of thought said the steel battle undermined the confidence of already shaky investors.

* * *

They began speaking derisively of the Kennedy bear market where after the 1960 election they were hailing a Kennedy bull market.

Kennedy, himself, has blamed the market's decline on what he called a realization by investors that stock prices had become excessively high.

DEFENSE BY JFK

It is "a false issue," he said, "to assume that any and all unfavorable turns of the speculative wheel — however temporary and however plainly speculative in character—are the result of lack of confidence in an administration."

* * *

Kennedy proclaimed that neither he nor his administration was antibusiness but left it clear that he felt the government should act in economic matters when it felt it was in the public interest.

Kennedy has ruled out any suggestions that the business and financial communities might be using the stock market decline to "get even" with him.

DIFFER ON BLAME

"Many people seem to think someone is personally responsible for what has happened in the market recently," said analyst Hooper. "The fact is that this decline stems from the abuse of common stocks by almost everyone in the period of over-speculation."

With recession talk increasing, the financial community looked to Washington for help.

* * *

This could take the form of an income tax reduction, as proposed by Kennedy; an increase in depreciation allowances for new plant and equipment, and a cut in margin requirements to allow stock to be bought for 50 per cent cash down payment instead of the current 70 per cent.

"Just a handful of deeds by the administration would be extremely helpful—actions that would pep up the economy, encourage businessmen and turn investor psychology for the better," commented Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co.

Another broker, B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cobu Stetson, said "without real help from Washington a recovery from the market's recent state of shock is hard to envision."

A SPECIAL STUDY

The New York Stock Exchange made a special study of activity on May 28, 29 and 31. It found that the big sellers on the first day of the break were small investors who dumped stocks they had held for long-term investment. When the market rose on the afternoon of May 29 the major part of the buying was done by larger investors picking up shares of well-known companies.

Surprisingly, brokers reported an unusual number of new accounts opened, particularly on May 31 when the recovery continued.

* * *

As the market's slide persisted, the discouraged small investors began betting it would keep going down. This was evident from an increase in short sales in which people borrowed stock and sold it, hoping to be able to buy at a lower price and repay the borrowed shares at a profit.

The exchange's study showed that the investing public has been adding to its holdings of big-name common stocks despite the decline. While the public was doing this, however, exchange professionals were lightening their holdings.

U.S. Singer OK in Hong Kong

Ernestine Anderson Not Being Detained, Claims Official

HONG KONG (AP)— American jazz singer Ernestine Anderson was located in Hong Kong today, and the Hong Kong government said as far as it is concerned she is in "no difficulties, political or otherwise."

* * *

The Negro singer, 33, was not immediately available for comment but a friend said the only difficulties she may be in are financial, in connection with a recent singing engagement here.

* * *

The hotel where Miss Anderson is now registered said she was out of her room and not expected back until later tonight.

The singer's Seattle agent said Wednesday she was being detained in Hong Kong. The agent said she was in certain difficulties and added there were indications there might be political overtones.

* * *

The agent said the State Department had been asked to intercede. The American Consulate-General here denied any knowledge of such a request.

Bill to Repeal Travel Taxes

U. S. Senate Expected to Act Quickly but Will Keep Other Levies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Travelers would get a tax break Nov. 15 under a compromise bill passed yesterday by the House and sent the Senate for final action.

* * *

The bill would also continue some $4.2 billion in revenue from otherwise expiring laws. The Senate was expected to act promptly.

The compromise measure, recounting revisions originally passed by the two chambers, would repeal the 10 per cent tax on train and bus tickets and cut the air ticket tax to 5 per cent effective at midnight Nov. 15.

The bill would avert the expiration or reduction at midnight Saturday of existing taxes on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, automobiles and their parts and accessories and general telephone service, as well as corporate income.

* * *

The bill also would delete the tax now charged on the domestic portion of an international flight, if the plane touches down at an intermediate point in the United States before flying abroad. The tax would continue to apply in case of stopovers of six hours or more.

* * *

The measure also would end the existing 10 per cent tax on leasing of certain privately used communications lines, such as teleprinter system, closed-circuit television and community antenna facilities.

Schools to Get $300,000 More in Waterford

Approximately $300,000 more than anticipated in state aid will be received by the Waterford Township School District, James DenHerder, assistant to the superintendent, said this morning.

The State Aid Bill was signed yesterday by Gov. Swainson.

DenHerder said the average school district in the state will receive about $10 per pupil more than expected. The figure will amount to slightly over $24 per youngster in the Waterford system.

No plans for this increased revenue have been announced yet.

* * *

Last March a proposed five-mill increase was soundly defeated at the polls. If fully spread, the increase could have provided an additional $500,000 per year. Plans for increasing teacher salaries had to be abandoned when the proposal failed.

Man Faces Trial on Charge of Property Damage

A Holly man accused of damaging a sheriff's department patrol car and a private auto in a police chase two weeks ago is scheduled to appear in Waterford Township Justice Court July 11.

* * *

* * *

Justice Daly has ordered Smith to spend 20 days in jail or to pay fines and costs totaling $100 for reckless driving, but he is appealing that case to Circuit Court.

* * *

Smith is free on bonds totaling $2,050. Sheriff's deputies say Smith damaged the cars, evaded three road blocks and ignored police bullets during a chase at speeds up to 80 miles per hour through Waterford and White Lake townships June 18.

Elderly Man, Wife Hurt in Collision on Telegraph Rd.

An elderly East Detroit man and his wife were injured late yesterday afternoon when their car collided with another auto and went out of control on Telegraph Road near Voorheis Road.

In fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital were Erich Heinrich, 77, and his wife Urda, 73.

Mrs. Heinrich suffered severe cuts on her forehead and an injured back. Heinrich had severe cuts on his face.

Heinrich was driving south on Telegraph Road about 4.45 p.m. when his car collided with another southbound auto driven by George Steele, 55, of 1315 W. Saratoga Ave., Ferndale.

Pontiac state police said Heinrich's car then veered off the road and went into a gas station service drive where it hit Gerald W. Bertrand, 26, of 274 Draper Ave.

Bertrand escaped with minor injuries, police said. Steele was not hospitalized.

Man Pleads Guilty in Oakland Break-In

A Detroit man accused of breaking into a Highland Township service station early Memorial Day pleaded guilty in Circuit Court yesterday to breaking and entering at night.

* * *

Raymond B. Willis, 22, made his plea after being scheduled to go to trial on the charge. He will be sentenced July 31.

* * *

Willis' companion in the breakin, Sidney McIntosh, 22, of Highland Park, pleaded guilty earlier to the same charge and was sentenced to serve from 3 to 15 years in Jackson Prison.

Man Is Sentenced on Assault Charge

A 7½- to 10-year sentence to Jackson Prison has been ordered for Thomas J. Doyle, 31, formerly of Hazel Park, who pleaded guilty last week to assault with intent to rape.

* * *

Jury Unable to Reach Verdict in Holdup Case

A circuit court jury failed to agree on a verdict yesterday for four accused holdup men despite testimony from an admitted member of the alleged holdup gang linking all four to the robbery.

* * *

Robert E. Murphy, 24, of 451 S. Telegraph Road, who pleaded guilty to conspiracy in the robbery, testified he served as "lookout" for the gang as they took $3,620 last January from the Cavalier Gas Station, 4960 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township.

Named by Murphy as members of the holdup team were Charles R. Thomas, 36, Marion DuPlissey, 38, and Robert Sharron, 37, all of Flint, and Jack V. Young 30 formerly of Pontiac.

Murphy said Thomas and DuPlissey rode the money from the station, bound the attendent and then hopped into the trunk of a waiting car.

TESTIFIED

Acting as lookout, Murphy said that after he saw Thomas and DuPlissey enter the trunk he went to a nearby bar and bought a pack of matches. This was the signal, Murphy explained, for Young to leave the bar and drive the getaway car.

Jurors heard two days of testimony in the case. They were dismissed by Judge Clark J. Adams after deliberating for a day and failing to reach a verdict.

Asst. Prosecutor Robert Templin said the four accused holdup men would be brought to trial again, probably in the fall.

* * *

They are charged with armed robbery, which carries a maximum life sentence, and conspiracy to commit armed robbery, punishable by five years at the most.

The men are in custody.

Murphy will be sentenced July 17 for his plea of guilty to conspiracy.

Charges against a sixth man originally accused in the holdup, John Hodges, 31, of 1064 Haughton St., Troy, were dismissed by Judge William Beer for lack of evidence.

Templin said Hodges is awaiting sentence on a breaking and entering charge in another case.

Congress, Budget Bureau Agree on GI Insurance

WASHINGTON (UPI) —House and Senate leaders and the Budget Bureau have reached an agreement for early congressional action to let World War II and Korean War veterans reinstate lapsed GI insurance or take out new policies.

* * *

A roadblock against passage of a $100 million cost-of-living increase in service-connected compensation payments also was removed.

The insurance and compensation bills had been deadlocked between the House and the Senate.

The House has voted several times to increase service-connected compensation payments, and the Senate also has approved it but with an amendment to allow reopening of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI).

OPPOSES ACTION

The administration has stood firm against the NSLI reopening on the ground that it was not justified. As a result both bills were stymied.

The Budget Bureau and the Veterans Administration advised Congress yesterday that the administration would agree to a insurance reopening bill provided certain changes are made.

Under the proposed compromise any veteran of military service between Oct. 8, 1940, and Dec. 31, 1956, provided he is now out of the service, could reinstate, or take out for the first time, up to $10,000 in National Service Life Insurance.

Of the nearly 20 million men who were in service during then period, only about 5.6 million still carry their GI policies. The Veterans Administration estimates that about one million more would take advantage of the new privilege.

GOP Senators Set Debt Ceiling Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican senators said today they would fight to hold a temporary increase in the federal debt ceiling to $306 billion, $2 billion less than President Kennedy has asked.

The bill to boost the debt limit to a record high of $308 billion, already passed by the House, comes up for Senate action after surviving a cutback attempt in the Senate Finance Committee by a one-vote margin.

Under the measure, the present $300-billion ceiling would be raised to $308 billion for the first nine months of the fiscal year starting Sunday.

* * *

The limit would drop to $305 billion from April 1 to June 14, 1963, and then back to $300 billion for the last six days of the fiscal year.

Judge Continues NY Hearings in Airline Dispute

NEW YOR KUPI) — A federal judge weighing a petition from Pan American World Airways for an injunction against a renewed strike by the airline's flight engineers called a third day of hearings today.

* * *

Operations continued normally today on the nation's largest international carrier. But Eastern Air Lines remained grounded for the sixth day by a walkout by its flight engineers.

Daniel Kornblum, attorney for the Flight Engineers International asked Federal Judge George Rossling in Brooklyn to lift a temporary restraining order against striking which extends until 3 p.m. Pontiac time) July 6.

* * *

Rosling replied: "The order will stand. Let's get on with the case."

The resignation of the 69-year-old Skouras from the $139,000 a year presidency was announced yesterday after a six-hour meeting here of the board of directors. The board said Skouras was stepping down after 20 years for "reasons of health."

Aubrey, president of CBS-TV's network division and Zanuck, former Fox production chief and the company's largest single stockholder, were the most prominently mentioned possibilities to take over.

Also mentioned were Peter G. Levathes, vice president and chief of film production for Fox, and Donald A. Henderson, Fox secretary-treasurer, and a former associate of Lehman Brothers, investment bankers.

However, a decision is not expected until near Sept. 30, the date when the board said Skouras would step down.

A committee including Skouras will select the new president, the board said.
