School Finance Panel Proposes Millage, Bond Vote

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This article summarizes a major Pontiac school report. Several more detailed stories on finances, facilities, staff and students and curriculum will follow soon.)

By DICK ROBINSON

Voters in the Pontiac School District may go to the polls in March to vote on a proposed 6.25-tax millage increase, and $23-million bond issue.

The school tax issues were recommended to the Pontiac Board of Education last night by its Finance Study Council, (FSC). Its report and the months ahead are considered the most important in the district's history.

The council is composed of 90 citizens and 32 members of the professional staff of the school administration.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said he hopes the election will be held around mid-March.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that the board set an election date at its Jan. 24 meeting, based upon the legality ruling of a March election from its attorney.

Major unanimous recommendations of the FSC in a 250-page report were:

- An additional 6.25 millage increase for 10 years beginning in July 1968 is necessary to meet the operating needs of the district.

Romney Calls for Safer, Cleaner State

Study Is Hailed as Milestone in District History

A three-month financial study of needs of the Pontiac school system has been hailed as a milestone in the history of the school district.

A 122-member Finance Study Council which prepared an exhaustive 250-page document received nothing but praise for its dedicated service.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer praised the group for its enthusiasm, interest and complete, speedy report.

Pontiac's school board created the council in September to:

- Study the needs for additional operating revenues for 1968 and subsequent years.
- Study the needs for additional school construction.
- Determine what school tax rates are necessary to finance these needs.

- And to conduct an informational campaign leading up to a citizens' vote on the proposals.

"The council will have a large and complex set of problems to study and will be on a tight time schedule," Whitmer said following the council's creation. "Yet, the future welfare of the school district is wrapped up in the success of this program."

A total of 90 citizens were appointed to the council along with 32 members of the professional staff of the school administration.

An effort was made to obtain representatives of all segments of the community as well as persons with specific skills, knowledge and experience.

Heading up the study was Francis M. Webster Jr., a Chrysler Corp. operations research manager. He was assisted by Joanna Neale.

"We realize that it is very improbable that the future will occur exactly as we have predicted," Webster said last night. "However, we are confident that the recommendations are reasonable in light of all the uncertainties inherent in such projections."

Charles W. Buck, chairman of the council's community relations committee, said he believes the report is a "true feeling of the lay people" and "isn't a rubber stamp of the school administration."

UAW Organizer Dies in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Services will be held Saturday at Ver Heyden Funeral Home in suburban Grosse Pointe for Roy L. Reuther, veteran official of the United Auto Workers and brother of UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther, 58, died yesterday at Detroit Metropolitan Hospital where he was taken after suffering a heart attack at his home, his second in less than a month. Efforts to revive him failed.

Reuther was national director of the UAW's citizenship and legislature department and administrative assistant to the union's president.

Union and political leaders praised Reuther's contribution to the union labor movement.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said he "was not only a valued colleague and a fine trade unionist, he was a warm and understanding friend."

Born Aug. 29, 1909, in Wheeling, W. Va. he worked with his brothers, Walter and Victor, in organizing the UAW. He had been in the labor movement since 1927 when he joined the Electrical Workers Union.

Reuther was a leader of the historic sitdown strikes during the Thirties in the GM plants in Flint. He played a key role in later negotiations with the company.

Reuther, who lived in Orchard Lake, is survived by his wife, the former Fania Sankin; and two sons, Alan and David, students at the University of Michigan; his mother, Mrs. Anna Reuther of Wheeling, W.Va.; his brothers, Walter; Victor, who is director of the UAW's international affairs department in Washington; and Theodore, a Wheeling, W.Va., businessman, and a sister, Mrs. Christine Richey.

Plane Crashes; No Sign of Life

From Our News Wires

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev.—Wreckage of a four-engine Marine Corps transport plane carrying 18 persons was sighted today on a northern Nevada mountain. There was no sign of survivors.

The C54 transport vanished yesterday after the pilot radioed the craft was "dropping fast" because of ice on its wing.

The sheriff's office reported the plane was sighted by a search plane shortly after dawn on 9,779 foot high Mt. Tobin 40 miles southwest of Battle Mountain. Weather was clear with temperatures about zero on the snow-clad peak.

There was no sign of life, said Sheriff George Schwinn as he and a party of four men began hiking into the desolate, snow-blanketed area.

★ ★ ★

Wally Swanson and Gene Corbridge of the Bureau of Land Management reported by radio that they spotted the wreckage while driving in a four-wheel-drive vehicle. They said the plane had hit the mountain and slid into a canyon. They saw no sign of life.

PART OF FUSELAGE

James A. Beydler, range manager of the bureau, said the pair had told him by radio that "they saw an impact area and part of the fuselage on the mountain."

Names of the passengers and crew were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

The transport was en route from Quantico, Va., to Seattle, Wash., when the pilot made his distress call at midafternoon.

Marine officials at Quantico said the plane carried an amphibious warfare presentation team which was to instruct U.S. servicemen during a 10-day tour of western military bases on the techniques of amphibious landings.

Mansfield Against U.S. 'Hot Pursuit'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. pursuit of Communist Vietnamese forces into neutral Cambodia "would be tragedy compounded on tragedy," says Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

Mansfield said yesterday he's convinced after talking with President Johnson that the United States won't permit such so-called hot pursuit missions.

If such a policy did develop, Mansfield said, it would mean a U.S. commitment of up to 750,000 men and almost certainly extend the war.

Such a step could lead Cambodian chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk to ask the Soviet Union or Red China for help to enforce his proclaimed neutrality, he said.

The Christian Science Monitor reported meanwhile that North Vietnam has confirmed it "will hold talks with the United States" if U.S. bombing and other war acts are halted unconditionally.

Area Temperature Growing Warmer

A little warmer is the outlook for Pontiac area residents tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy tonight with the low a little warmer of 16 to 20. Mostly cloudy is the forecast for tomorrow with the high in the mid-20s.

Saturday's outlook is somewhat colder with some snow flurries.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight 10, tomorrow 20.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m., was 7. The mercury had warmed up to 17 by 2 p.m.

Gov. George Romney

Message Reaction

Legislators Give Guarded OK

LANSING (AP) — Most legislative leaders, even minority Democrats, indicated guarded approval today of Gov. George Romney's State of the State message, but there was some criticism from both parties.

"He was forceful in his mention of our need for open housing and lower court reorganization legislation," said Senate Republican Leader Emil Lockwood.

"His request for more specific antiriot legislation should do much to ally the fears of some that our outlook is one-sided."

But fellow GOP Sen. George W. Kuhn of Birmingham, an outspoken advocate of strong anticrime measures, said he felt Romney "could have been a little more specific."

Kuhn called for "stop and frisk" legislation, increased penalties for felonies connected with rioting and a state security council. Romney's message included none of these items.

DEMOCRATS' NEEDLE

Senate Democratic Leader Raymond Dzendzel of Detroit commented: "The next time Romney passes through this state, I would like to see some detailed solutions to these problems, but simply a recital of easily made recommendations."

House Democratic chief William Ryan said Romney's message was well balanced between crime and social legislation.

Rep. J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, agreed Romney "clearly served notice on the Republican-dominated Legislature that he would not settle merely for anticrime bills as a solution to urban problems.

Governor's '68 Aims Outlined

LANSING (AP) — Calling for a "better, safer, cleaner Michigan," Gov. George Romney today unveiled a 1968 legislative program seeking an open housing law, riot and criminal law revisions and more aid to education.

The Republican governor's sixth annual State of the State message, interrupted frequently by applause, was delivered to the Legislature and the state's top executive and judicial officers in the crowded House chamber while a full gallery looked on.

The third-term governor's message contained few surprises, however, and included several holdovers from last year's lawmaking sessions, as well as brand new proposals.

Romney wasted no time in calling attention to his candidacy for the GOP presidential nomination, promising that campaign trips will not diminish the administration's dedication to solving Michigan's problems.

Recalling his major success of the 1967 legislative session — enactment of Michigan's first state income tax—Romney told lawmakers that his 1968 proposals would require no additional taxes.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Romney's recommendations were, for the most part, general. Several points were accompanied by the promise of more specific outlines to come.

Major recommendations included in the approximately 2,500-word message included:

- An open housing law prohibiting racial discrimination in real estate transactions, accompanied by more financial support to the State Civil Rights Commission.
- A revision of the so-called "Riot Act" to provide a clear, workable definition of unlawful assembly and to make unlawful the failure to disperse upon command.
- Prohibition against willful blocking of streets and highways by demonstrators and possession of incendiary

Incoming Realtor Head Is Honored

Albert J. Rhodes, incoming Pontiac Board of Realtors president, received the 1968 Realtor of the Year award at the board's 47th annual banquet last night.

Following the ceremonies at the Elks Temple, Dr. Thomas Stephens Haggai, a former minister who now averages a speech a day throughout the country, imparted his basic values for living.

He suggested this guide to 475 listeners: "I want to live and want to help others to live."

He said "The world is shrinking to titmouse proportions and the closer we live together, the less we know about each other. We're so caught in the pressure of the 20th century that we hardly have time to say hello to our family — let alone others.

★ ★ ★

"The most important single question today is 'who cares about anybody?'" he said, urging listeners to be concerned with more than what other people can do for them.

SUGGESTS PROJECT

He suggested that everyone should be doing at least one project simply because it has to be done; not because the doer is on a project committee or because the doer wants recognition.

He briefly discussed certain concepts of the government's poverty program explaining he believed to build a person, one had to instill pride by giving that person a sense of responsibility.

"When you give to people without having them participate in their earning then you take their face away. People need the pride which comes from the sense of being able to say 'This I have done.'"

★ ★ ★

After Rhodes took the presidential gavel from outgoing president Bruce J. Annett, who is now twice a past president, the other 1968 officers were installed.

They include James A. Cunningham, vice president; Warren D. Newton, secretary and general chairman of the banquet; and Kenneth G. Hempstead, treasurer.

Rhodes, owner of Albert J. Rhodes Realty, was the 1967 vice president of the Board of Realtors. He is assessor for the Village of Lake Orion, on the Pontiac Area United Fund planning committee, secretary of the Lake Orion development corporation, and a member of numerous realty organizations.

Leads Sifted in Arms Theft

Pontiac police said today their investigation of the burglary early Sunday of dozens of weapons from the city Army Reserve Center is now concentrated on "sorting the good leads out from the bad."

★ ★ ★

Investigators said they have followed up on several tips and have interviewed numerous persons without solid results.

At least 58 items, including automatic pistols and rifles and four bazooka-type rocket launchers have been determined missing in the break-in discovered Sunday morning by a reserve officer.

The burglars entered the building at 40 Walnut by prying open a rear overhead door, then used bolt cutters to enter weapons storage areas.

★ ★ ★

Police said no ammunition was stocked at the center and most of the weapons lacked components necessary for operation, but that these were available in most cases.

★ ★ ★

Detectives James Fritz and Branton Dennis of the city police burglary detail said they are waiting for the one important break which they said usually comes in such cases.

★ ★ ★

Working with local authorities on the case are FBI, military intelligence and state police agents.

Ike Beats Out LBJ in 'Most Admired' Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is the man Americans currently admire the most, edging out President Johnson and evangelist Billy Graham, according to a Gallup Poll released yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, top choice for the last four years, was rated second in the 1967 top 10 men.

This marked the first time since 1951 the incumbent president has not been voted most popular.

Third place, based on the poll of 1,526 adults across the nation, went to Graham, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was fourth. Fifth choice was Pope Paul VI.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has announced his bid for the Republican presidential nomination, dropped out of the top 10 this year. Former President Harry S. Truman moved into 10th place.

Army Units in U.S. Are 20 Per Cent Shy of Major Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Army divisions and brigades that form a strategic reserve to meet any new crisis abroad, are short nearly one-fifth of their major equipment.

★ ★ ★

This situation exists more than two years after the Defense Department began putting in heavy orders for gear and supplies to support a big military buildup for the Vietnam war.

★ ★ ★

Asked for a report on the present equipment situation in the strategic reserves, the Army replied Wednesday: "The active Army divisions and brigades currently stationed in continental United States have on hand approximately 82 per cent of their authorized . . . major end items equipment."

FUNCTIONAL ITEMS

The Army defined a major end item as "one which in itself performs a function" such as trucks and tanks.

It estimated only about one-half of the shortages will be filled by June 30.

★ ★ ★

Beyond an across-the-board percentage the Army declined on security grounds to provide a detailed breakdown of short items.

But while the strategic reserves are short of their allotted equipment, the Army apparently has made progress in modernizing their gear.

In May 1966 the Senate preparedness subcommittee complained stateside divisions were burdened with over-age vehicles and tracked equipment which has been driven "an excessive number of miles."

The new report said fewer than 1.2 per cent of the major items on hand are less than first-line quality.

★ ★ ★

The preparedness subcommittee charged in March 1966 that the Army's divisions in the United States were not combat-ready because they were being used to train draftees and recruits. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara acknowledged this was so.

A separate Army report, furnished on request to The Associated Press, showed this problem has been overcome. The Army said no basic trainees remain in the ranks of its divisions and brigades in the United States.

Redford Voting Is Under Fire

Anti-Romney Book Cited; Probe Sought

LANSING (AP) — Citing a recently published book hinting at voting irregularities in Redford Township, 18 House members Tuesday introduced a resolution calling for a special legislative committee to investigate the charges.

★ ★ ★

Rep. John Bennett, R-Redford Township, was principal sponsor of the resolution, which mentions the book "The Romney Riddle" by Gerald O. Plas, which is critical of Gov. George Romney.

★ ★ ★

The book contends that irregularities, possibly including "fixed" voting machines, helped U.S. Rep. Jack H. McDonald defeat conservative Richard D. Kuhn of Pontiac in the 1966 Republican primary in the 19th Congressional District.

★ ★ ★

After his primary victory, McDonald ousted freshman Democratic congressman Billie S. Farnum.

STATEWIDE IMPACT

The Bennett resolution said "these allegations are not only of importance to Redford Township, but are of importance to the entire voting system of the State of Michigan and should be investigated from the standpoint of maintaining purity of elections throughout the entire state."

★ ★ ★

If approved by the House, it would set up a five-member House committee to look into the Plas book's allegations.

2 Panels Combined in State Senate

LANSING (AP) — A Republican plan to consolidate the Senate education and elections committees was labeled a "slap at education" Wednesday by Senate minority Democrats who would lose two committee members in the process.

But Senate Republicans, who outnumber Democrats 19-18, successfully passed a resolution to combine the two five-member committees into a single five-man body.

★ ★ ★

Republican Floor Leader Robert Vander Laan of Grand Rapids described the move as "the fairest and most equitable way" to resolve a problem created by the death of Sen. Harold Volkema, R-Holland, who was chairman of the education committee.

Yanks, S. Viets Engage in 3 Big Battles With Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese soldiers clashed with Vietcong and North Vietnamese in a chain of battles Wednesday that stretched from the northern provinces to the Mekong Delta.

Three major engagements were reported.

● U.S. infantrymen, landing from river assault boats on the slippery banks of a Mekong Delta canal, ran head-on into a veteran Vietcong battalion and killed at least 47 guerrillas in a 10-hour fight that ended early today. American losses were 18 killed and 50 wounded.

● Vietcong infantrymen charged from behind a mortar barrage and struck hard at the hilltop bivouac of a South Vietnamese battalion, in Binh Dinh Province 270 miles above Saigon, killing 14 soldiers and 10 ammunition bearers and wounding 30 soldiers. A government spokesman said 23 guerrillas were killed and two were captured.

● U.S. air cavalrymen, fighting under the banner of the American Division, reported killing 28 North Vietnamese regulars and said 14 of their own men were wounded in a four-hour fight in the Que Son Valley 370 miles northeast of Saigon. Only three of the wounded Americans had to be evacuated.

RECORD TOLL

The continuing intense fighting that erupted after the New Year's truce and the aggressive tactics of the Communist forces were reflected in the U.S. Command's weekly report of casualties.

An American spokesman confirmed the South Vietnamese Command's report the day before that 2,868 of the enemy were killed last week, a record for the war. Allied losses were about average: 184 Americans killed and 1,132 wounded; 263 South Vietnamese killed, 657 wounded and 83 missing, 19 soldiers of other allied forces killed and 36 wounded.

Levin Quits as Minority Floor Leader

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Sander Levin, who also is Democratic state chairman, submitted his resignation as Senate minority floor leader to the party caucus Wednesday.

The Senate Democrats postponed until their next caucus meeting, which probably will come next week, any decision on whether to accept the resignation or the question of a replacement.

Levin, a second term senator from Berkley who was elected state party chairman last month said his main reason for resigning is "to give someone else an opportunity to concentrate their attention on the position.

"I intend to participate actively in the Senate," he said, "but I would hope that someone else could take on the added responsibility (as floor leader)."

NOT CONFLICT

He said the possibility of a conflict between the two jobs did not enter into his decision.

"My feeling is that the destiny of the Democratic party and good programs in the Legislature are intertwined," Levin said.

U.S. Will End Airmail Class

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department plans to eliminate airmail as a separate service and send all first class letters by air at the new six-cent rate, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced today.

O'Brien said that for all purposes the Post Office already is sending nearly all first class mail by air.

★ ★ ★

"Very, very little of this is being handled by the railroad. We have what closely approximates a total airlift service now," he told a news conference.

Within the last year the Post Office has connected more than 500 cities in a nationwide airlift network.

"As a result, 75 per cent of all first class mail deposited before 5 p.m. is now being delivered the day after mailing, and 90 per cent is being delivered within two days," he said.

O'Brien emphasized, however, that under the present system use of a 10-cent airmail stamp still guarantees air transportation until a new single class priority mail service is formally established.

He said that in 1969 the Post Office will ask Congress to eliminate the air postage rate and to merge airmail and first class into the new single class of priority service.

City Man Faces Robbery Trial

A Pontiac man was ordered yesterday to stand trial on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery in connection with the murder of a West Bloomfield Township trustee.

Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield stood mute to the charge when he appeared for arraignment before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Pratt was returned to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $50,000 to await trial. No date was set for the hearing.

Police charge Pratt with being one of the four assailants who entered the West Bloomfield Township home of Trustee Edward E. DeConick July 3, 1967.

DeConick was fatally shot, and his sister, Kathleen, 73, seriously wounded and beaten, during the robbery.

'Campaign to Force Vote on Housing Law Success'

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Referendum Committee has collected enough signatures, according to one of its members, to force a suspension of the city's recently enacted fair housing ordinance.

George W. Davis, 1030 Pilgrim said the committee has well over the 1,984 signatures (15 percent of the city's registered voters) required to guarantee a public referendum on the ordinance.

"However," Davis said, "We hope to keep going for a while so that we will have a good safety margin when the signatures are checked."

The drive will also continue, Davis added, because the committee wants the number of signatures to be an indication of public feeling.

Once the petition is submitted to the city clerk's office, the City Commission may either vote to repeal the ordinance within 30 days or put it on the ballot.

Principal problems encountered by petitioners, Davis said, were the weather and the time of year. "We had difficulty during the holidays," he explained, "because we depended on volunteer help and people are always busy then. And then just recently we had that bitter cold snap.

"As far as people signing, though," he continued, "We've had no trouble. The ratio of people signing to those not signing has been running about 30 to 1."

He attributed many refusals to lack of interest — "I think most of the people who haven't signed have not done so on the basis of the issue, but just don't want to be bothered."

Davis declined to predict the outcome of a possible public referendum, however, claiming that many signers "obviously favored" the fair housing law, but objected to the manner in which the commission had passed it.

Other members of the referendum committee, which initiated the drive shortly after the ordinance was passed Nov. 27, include Dr. Francis LeVeque, Frank Mitchell, Benjamin Phelps and Janet Dodd.

Romney Unveils Goals

● Better tools to fight organized crime, including court-ordered electronic surveillance under certain circumstances, granting of witness immunity by Circuit Court judges along with Circuit Court power to grant subpoena power to prosecuting attorneys or the attorney general.

● More state support for the entire education system with intensified efforts in areas of special need.

● Reorganization of the state's lower court system, a holdover from the special legislative session called by Romney last October and completed in December.

● Stiffer controls over public empioye bargaining, including designation of the day after Labor Day as the legal opening day for Michigan's public schools.

● An unspecified increase in the state's present $1.25-an-hour minimum wage.

● General obligation bonds issues of $435 million to help finance costs of protecting natural resources and developing local recreational projects.

● An additional $210 million in state money for support of local government along with granting of additional taxing powers to cities in the form of excise taxes.

Although Romney's recommendations dealt specifically with Michigan, he used the areas of finance, social services and public employment to take swipes at the national administration.

He labeled as deficient existing laws dealing with organization of public employes.

"This is a national problem," he said, resulting "from grave distortions in our national pattern of compensation."

★ ★ ★

He said the state's flexibility in dealing with problems of public assistance to the poor "has been limited by the federal government," citing 1967 Social Security amendments as an example.

'AT MERCY OF WHIMS'

In addition, he said, "Michigan, like most states, finds itself increasingly at the mercy of federal financial and policy whims."

"My candidacy for our nation's highest office will require considerable time and attention outside of our state in the weeks and months ahead," said Romney, who planned to leave late today to campaign in New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary election.

"Fortunately our state constitution now provides for the election of the governor and the lieutenant governor as a team," he added. "Lt. Gov. William Milliken and I function as a team."

"We will work as a team to seek adoption of our programs proposed in this message and in the budget," he said.

Open housing, which failed in a 47-55 House vote last month at the close of the special session, topped Romney's list of recommendations.

Moonscape

Take away the low-lying clouds, deftly erase from view the surrounding trees, and there you are—a lunar landscape, complete with man's first habitation—bubble domes of heat-welded plastic, secure against the chill of outer space.

Easy for the mind's eye, but harder for scientists, who would have to transport the Styrofoam structures from where they now reside, at Roeper School, 2190 N. Woodward, Bloomfield Township.

The domes will house a learning center, a recreation area and several classrooms for Roeper's lower school.

County Residents Protest Expansion of Orion Airport

By JEAN SAILE

ORION TOWNSHIP — "We're going to look like Woodward Avenue at 5 p.m." moaned an Oakland Township resident and pilot.

Congestion of air traffic was William B. Maas' chief complaint.

He was one of 75 homeowners from Oakland, Orion, Pontiac and Avon townships attending a protest meeting against the proposed Oakland-Orion Airport expansion last night at the Orion Township Hall.

Called by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, a group formed six years ago to fight any expansion of flight facilities in Orion Township, the meeting was largely an outraged cry against spending of taxpayers' dollars.

What can home owners do when they feel their government is spending their tax money for something they don't want and think they don't need? This was the prime question.

The County Board of Supervisors has recently voted to enter an expansion program at the former Allen Airport along with one at Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. Both airports as projected would accommodate jets.

The allegedly secretive methods used by the county board in going ahead with its plans for the airport were assailed by those present.

"You can starve anything to death," said Roy Baker of Oakland Township. "If we can get organized on a countywide basis we could all refuse to pay our taxes for two years."

It was noted that there is a three-year limitation on tax payment before property can be confiscated and sold.

★ ★ ★

"What we need is another Boston Tea Party," said a voice from the audience.

LEAST OBJECTIONABLE

The association president, Glenn Swindler of Avon Township, read from minutes of meetings in 1961 and 1962 in which the Federal Aviation Agency reportedly called all proposed airport sites in Oakland County objectionable in some degree, but the "A" site — Allen Airport — was least objectionable.

"If they were objectionable then, what are they now?" asked Mrs. Dorothy Ostrander of Orion Township.

Dan DeLelys of Oakland Township, a commercial pilot, said he wasn't so much opposed to the airport as he was tired of "others spending my money."

★ ★ ★

He charged, "The county pulled a sneaker by ever getting this started."

ROADS, SCHOOLS

"What we need more is good roads and schools," said Dick Morris, the Keatington Development representative present. He said, however, his company planned to further study the matter before taking any definite stand.

★ ★ ★

A decision to attempt a countywide organization for purposes of pressuring county, state and federal government was proposed at the meeting.

Property Protest

Tax Bills Heat Tempers

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

If people — like dogs—suffered distemper, a large share of area taxpayers would be candidates for the dog pound.

Taxpayers are upset, unhappy and just plain fightin' mad.

Causes for the alarm are the December tax bills, which arrived before the old year went out but have provided a giant postholiday hangover.

What appears to particularly gripe even normally soft-spoken

News Analysis

citizens is that there is NO way under regular procedures that 1967 taxes can be altered.

★ ★ ★

Gripes over 1967 tax bills—which are nearly all substantially higher than in 1966 — have already resulted in at least two protest meetings in the county. Also, it is a hot topic of conversation nearly everywhere.

What's the hang-up?

MARKET VALUE

The bad guy, if there is one, is the 50 per cent of market value levy placed on area homesteads at the behest a while ago of the State Legislature.

While the move was widely publicized, many individual property owners were unaware of the high cost of the new assessments until the December mailing of the tax bills.

There appears to have been a collective gasp.

What to do?

★ ★ ★

Homeowners discovered there really isn't much they can do. The time for objecting to one's property value was last spring.

RECOURSE

The only apparent recourse at this date is a suit in Circuit Court. Even this remedy is not guaranteed to right an alleged injustice in assessing.

According to Herman Stephens, director of the county's equalization department, the courts generally have been reluctant to get into the business of second guessing assessors on the value of property.

Hence, the property owner is left with a head of steam and a high tax bill.

There is a method to obtain relief in 1968. Stephens outlined the correct steps followed in area townships. (The procedures vary in cities according to specific city charters.)

ASSESSMENT ROLLS

First, the assessment rolls must be dispatched to the township's board of review by the first Monday in March, or March 4 this year. The board will meet the first Tuesday following the first Monday.

(Notice of the board's meeting dates are published at least one week in advance of the first Monday in March.)

The review boards can meet up until April 1, listening to appeals on assessments from individuals and firms.

★ ★ ★

If a taxpayer fails to convince the board of review that his assessment is wrong, an appeal to the State Tax Commission is possible. This appeal must be made by the first Monday in May.

FORM OF APPEAL

Appeals can either be in letter form or in person.

Stephens said he thought 1967 problems resulted primarily because taxpayers were unaware or paid little attention to the change in assessing. He said legislation probably could be devised to help the situation.

He said, for example, there might be a law passed requiring that the property owner be notified when the value is changed on his property.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, Circuit Court remains as the only means of potentially correcting the 1967 tax bill. And, the taxes are still due by Feb. 14 even if a court suit is sought, according to Stephens.

VALUE DECISIONS

He added that the courts in the past have corrected clerical errors, but generally have shied away from deciding the value of real estate.

Troy Schools Set Flexibility Study for Scheduling

TROY — The board of education has arranged study of flexible scheduling plans for the 1968-69 school year.

A parent-teacher-administrator group appointed by the board will study systems for flexible scheduling other than the present system to see if any might be more suited for the district's individual needs.

"We hope that they (the committee) will have results for us soon," commented Supt. of Schools Dr. Rex B. Smith, "because a decision on flexible scheduling must be made soon in order to prepare for computer runs and other procedures."

Concern has been expressed by board members regarding the Feb. 19 millage election, at which voters will decide whether to approve a requested two-year seven-mill hike for operating expenses.

★ ★ ★

If the millage is rejected, Smith said, more spending cuts will be necessary and "flexible scheduling at the high school, regardless of benefits, will probably be impossible."

ADDED EDUCATION OK'D

The board also approved two plans for added education, one involving vocational classes and the other concerned with mentally retarded children.

The first plan, to be cosponsored by Oakland Community College, will open the Colerain Elementary School building, presently not in use, for both day and night vocational studies.

★ ★ ★

The second, a tentative program drawn up by the Oakland Intermediate District Special Education Department, provides for Troy to offer an additional program for Type A (less seriously) retarded youngsters.

Walled Lake School Board OKs Vocational Education Center

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has accepted the assignment from the Oakland County Intermediate School District to operate a vocational center for this area.

★ ★ ★

The vocational program, expected to begin in the Fall of 1970, will serve about 800 high school pupils from the school districts of Walled Lake, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Huron Valley, Novi and South Lyon, said Walled Lake Assistant Supt. Rolland J. Langerman.

The plans are for two groups of 400 pupils to attend the vocational center half-day and their regular high school the rest of the day.

The intermediate school district will finance the program and the construction of the school building with the half-mill levy county voters approved for this purpose last year.

The ultimate control of and responsibility for the program rests with the Walled Lake district, said Langerman.

NOT FINAL

He added that the terms of the agreement with the intermediate district are not yet final.

The board of Education has accepted the resignation of E. V. Ayres, principal of Walled Lake Senior High School effective at the end of the 1968-69 school year, when he will be of retirement age. The principal has held his position since 1947.

The administration will begin shortly to interview for Ayres' position as well as for that of principal of the Walled Lake Western High School to open in the Fall of 1969 and principal of Loon Lake Elementary to open this September.

A committee to study the use of 11.39 acres the district purchased at the Proud Lake Recreation area has been put to work by the board.

The district bought the land in late December for $11,105 to handle the increasing number of Walled Lake 6th graders using the area, explained Langerman.

School Secretaries, Board Launch Talks in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Bargaining agents for the 12-member secretarial union in the school district here begin negotiating today with the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

The contract to be drawn up will cover the 1967-68 school year. Salary increases will probably be retroactive to last July 1, said Supt. Leif Hougen.

★ ★ ★

The joint contract represents the first for the unionized secretaries who voted 8-2 to join the AFL-CIO secretarial union several weeks ago, Hougen reported.

Highland Rejects Proposal for Reassessment by Firm

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — The desire of residents here to have their properties reassessed has been temporarily blocked.

★ ★ ★

The Township Board last night unanimously turned down a proposal to hire a private firm to reassess subdivisions by the deadline of the first Monday in March.

The board wanted a firm to go into every home instead of just a sampling as was proposed, explained Township Supervisor Louis Oldenburg who favored the proposal, but didn't vote on it.

The board has also asked its attorney, Harold Dudley, for an opinion on the legality of the township hiring an assessor. At last night's public meeting on taxes, residents raised this question.

★ ★ ★

Oldenburg claimed at the meeting that a firm didn't need to go through all homes because files record assessments made in 1960. The supervisor explained that most homes in the township were built before 1960.

LOWER ASSESSMENTS

While those files include all the homes then standing, the assessments were lower than the 50 per cent cash value required today, he said.

The township tax bills for 1967 were considerably higher because the township was bringing assessments into line with the 50 per cent requirement explained Oldenburg.

★ ★ ★

Keego Goes On, Hunts Manager

KEEGO HARBOR — This city has no manager, but services will continue as though nothing has changed, stressed Mayor Fred Milliron Jr.

The council has already started interviewing for someone to replace former manager Gary L. Dickson, who left Dec. 27.

The 33-year-old Dickson, a resident of Madison Heights, resigned to take a job with the National Bank of Detroit.

"We want a manager as quickly as possible, but if the right man doesn't appear, we won't panic," assured Milliron.

★ ★ ★

He expects the city may be without a manager for several months.

COUNCIL COORDINATES

Meanwhile, the City Council is coordinating city programs as the manager would, said Milliron.

A councilman is available at the City Hall from about 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Clerk Mrs. Robert Ward has been put in charge of the city offices.

Dickson, who began work for the city in April 1965, at one time filled the positions of clerk and treasurer plus manager

Ortonville Gets New Building Inspector

ORTONVILLE — This village has a new building inspector.

His name is George Houghton, and he has been inspecting residences for Brandon Township for nearly two years on a regular basis.

The Village Council, two of whose members, Lavern Boutell and Ronald Richards, had been handling inspections previously, made the appointment.

Schedules Bond Sale

UTICA — The board of education has set Feb. 5 as the date for sale of its recently approved $7-million bond issue.

The final go-ahead for the move came last week from the State Municipal Finance Commission.

For Service Award

Jaycees Seeking Nominations

CLARKSTON — Area residents have been urged to submit nominations for the Distinguished Service Award which will be presented by the Clarkston Area Jaycees Jan. 17.

Any young man, 21 to 35, residing in the Clarkston area is eligible.

Churches, clubs, organizations and businesses are being canvassed to find the young man who has contributed the most to the community during the year.

The presentation will be made at the annual combined Bosses' Night and Distinguished Service Award dinner Jan. 17 at the Old Mill Tavern, Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

The dinner program has been opened to the public, according to Lewis Wint, Jaycee chairman, and tickets are available at the Clarkston Sporting Goods Store.

Lou Gordon, radio and television commentator from Detroit, will be guest speaker.

State GOP Plans Conference on Urban Problems

LANSING (AP) — The Republican State Central Committee has announced plans for a GOP conference on metropolitan area problems Jan. 18-20 in Detroit —termed the first national conference of its kind ever conducted by either major political party.

★ ★ ★

The Republicans said they expect a number of authorities on urban problems to attend the panel discussion conference.

★ ★ ★

Conference keynoter will be William Gossett of Detroit, president of the American Bar Association. Another conference leader will be Robert Sweet, deputy mayor of New York City.

Others scheduled to address the conference include:

★ ★ ★

John McClaughry, former special assistant to Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., now with the Harvard Institute of Politics; William Robinson, director of the Cook County Illinois Welfare Department; Arthur Gartland, director of Action for Boston Community Development.

★ ★ ★

Mitchell Ginsberg, director of the New York City Welfare Department; Max Woloff, director of the Center for Urban Education, University of New York; Melvin King, director of the Boston Urban League; and Nathan Wright of Newark, N.J., described by the central committee as a Black Power advocate.

Infant deaths equaled about 2.3 per cent of the 3,629,000 American births in 1966 and accounted for 4.5 per cent of the 1,869,000 total deaths in the U.S. that year.

Prison Sentence

IONIA (AP) — Thomas W. Crump, 25, of Saranac has been sentenced by Ionia Circuit Judge Lee Bebeau to 10 to 18 years in prison for assault with intent to murder. Crump earlier pleaded guilty to the offense in which a Saranac tavern employe, Rita Morrow, was stabbed 14 times Aug. 7. Mrs. Morrow was hospitalized in serious condition.

Tuition-Aid Sign-Up Due

LANSING (UPI) — The State Department of Education warned yesterday that eligible Michigan high school seniors have only until Monday to apply for state tuition grants to Michigan's private colleges and universities.

The grants, ranging from $100 to $500 a year depending on financial need, are awarded to worthy students each year. It will be the third year of the program's operation, so college freshmen and sophomores are also eligible for grant consideration.

Applications and information are available at high schools, private college financial aid offices, and from the department's Division of Student Financial Aids, P. O. Box 420, Lansing 48902.

Consumers Plans Record Expansion

"Money talks," and Consumers Power Company is expressing its confidence in the continued growth of Michigan in those terms.

This year, the company has budgeted a whopping $187 million for new construction and expansion of existing facilities. The capital outlay is 35 per cent greater than last year's and substantially exceeds the record $147 million spent in 1966.

The 1968 spending program embraces expansion of electrical and natural gas resources, additions to administrative and service facilities and nuclear plant construction.

Completion of the program will enable Consumers, now serving 1.7 million customers in the Lower Peninsula, to provide electrical or gas service to 62,000 new customers.

The utility also is prepared to establish itself as a Michigan corporation and has initiated necessary steps toward that end. Consumers was incorporated in Maine in 1910 and since 1915 has operated in Michigan as a "foreign" corporation.

★ ★ ★

The company's announcement comes as a bright New Year's message for the State and Pontiac. We congratulate the utility company on its progressive outlook and devotion to public service thus reflected.

U.S.-Red China Talkathon Exercise in Dialogue

America's only direct diplomatic contact with Communist China is in Warsaw, Poland, where at irregular intervals the U.S. ambassador sits down to talk at length with an envoy from Peking. This unusual arrangement between two nations that do not diplomatically recognize each other produced its 134th meeting Monday.

U.S. ambassador JOHN A. GRONOUSKI met with WANG KUO-CHANG, who has represented China since the talks originated in Geneva in 1955. The talks were shifted to Warsaw three years later. The last meeting was held in June 1967, and the previous one a year ago this month.

It would be easy — but perhaps unfair — to label the continuing confrontation the longest-run flop off Broadway. There is no visible evidence of benefits accruing from the talks. But both countries obviously feel it is important to keep a channel of communication open, if only to air mutual recriminations.

There are officials in Washington who regard the meetings as proof to critics abroad that America is not trying to isolate China. Peking's sensitivity on this point may account for the more-than-usual secrecy which surrounds the talks. Even the topics aren't announced, and so far all discussion has been leak-proof.

★ ★ ★

The real importance of the talks may have been expressed best by WINSTON CHURCHILL in another context: "Jaw, jaw, jaw," he said, "is better than war, war, war."

Arrows of Computerized Cupid Miss Targets

Automation has suffered a setback —automated romance, that is.

Two Stanford University psychology students computer-matched 350 men and 210 women on the basis of personalities, mutual interests and opinions. The results of the machine-made dating were disappointing.

They found that how closely two people were matched seemed completely unrelated to how much they liked each other.

★ ★ ★

"Apparently the blindness stays in blind dating even when you use a computer," they report. While they concede that the number of people involved in the experiment was too small to be statistically significant, computer dating seems "just like roulette — you pay your money and take your chances."

The students concluded that it's just "too unscientific a way to meet dates."

Only one marriage resulted from the dating experiment — but neither partner had been matched with the other. They met elsewhere and fell in love the old-fashioned way.

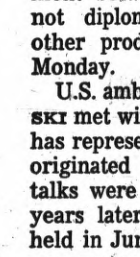
★ ★ ★

Which brings to mind an old (?) saying: The computer disposes, but it's still the man who proposes.

Pinched for Money—and Freedom

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The President's plan to ease the balance - of - payments threat — coming as it does under the shadow of unprecedented budget demands for more spending and higher taxes — raises fundamental questions for all of us.



MOLEY

How much of our real freedom have we delegated to our government? To what extent has our government, once our servant, become the master of our lives and affairs? How has this narrowing of our choices come about?

Political parties and candidates may debate about how much or how little our freedom has been restricted. But political parties, like the people who compose them, are in the inexorable grip of innumerable decisions—in free elections and in the actions of our own representatives in Congress and in state legislatures.

What, in fact, have we permitted?

To use a term coined by some past alliance of politicians and economists, we have permitted our earnings and savings to be "channeled" into the "public sector."

★ ★ ★

Our government — "ours" in the sense that we have elected its managers — presents us with devices which, easily identified, come down to the same thing. If we complain about inflation, which is due to an increase in the volume of money, we are told that the way to cure it is to levy more taxes.

MONEY CONTROL LOST

In either case, we lose more control of our earnings and savings. Inflation takes more to buy what we need or want. Higher taxes limit the amount we have left to spend.

And when we protest about the tax collector's bite, our government accomplishes the same objective by playing tricks with the complicated laws, rules and regulations governing the personal and corporate income tax. If you don't feel it, you can be assured that someone else does.

Somehow or other, President Johnson manages to blame the American people for every fiscal fix that his extravagance creates. When labor gets more pay, he blames both labor and management.

When a manufacturer, because labor costs so much at home or for some other reason beneficial to his stockholders, opens a plant abroad, he is blamed for tipping the balance of payments. When American travelers find that they can buy things cheaper abroad, their allowances for purchases are slashed.

And the President, fresh from an around-the-world trip himself which had broad political implications, tells us that we should stay at home.

★ ★ ★

Finally, when complaints about government spending rise higher, the President and his hired economists point to the rise in the gross national product (GNP). They say, "look how rich you are. We can afford to spend more." But, of course, the GNP figure is as phony a measure of our wealth as Confederate currency.

It is a conglomerate aggregation of things. And one reason it looks so big is that government spending is one of its largest components. Another reason it is growing is that it is counted in depreciating dollars.

NEW SPENDING

And, every year, the President's managers propose new spending programs. Year by year their programs pile up in number and in cost. In 20 years government spending has increased fourfold, while the population has increased 30 per cent. A large part of the total in the new budget is chargeable to growth of the cost of those programs beyond their original estimates.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the reason Johnson takes this cynical view of us is that when election time comes around a majority of us vote to keep our present master in office. As Kipling said:

"The burned fool's bandaged finger goes wobbling back to the fire."

(Copyright, 1968, Los Angeles Times)

But Don't Count Any Chickens—

David Lawrence Says:

Joblessness Rise Disconcerting

WASHINGTON — Comparative percentages on unemployment from year to year do not tell the whole story. For, although the Bureau of Labor Statistics has just announced that the unemployment rate dropped in December its lowest level in nine months, there are actually more people unemployed than there were a year ago.

LAWRENCE

It is true that the unemployment rate for 1967 averaged 3.8 per cent, which is the same as in 1966, but the number of unemployed rose from an average of 2,875,00 in 1966 to 2,975,000 in 1967.

So, while the rate of unemployment or ratio of unemployed to the labor force remains unchanged, the number of persons unemployed increased by 100,00.

Even though more individuals are obtaining jobs than in the preceding years, the unemployment totals still are substantial.

Thus, nearly two decades ago — in 1948 — the unemployment rate was also equal to 3.8 per cent, but the number of unemployed then was 700,000 less than the average for 1967.

The number of persons unemployed has risen by 30.7 per cent since 1948. This figure is obtained by comparing the total number of persons unemployed in 1948 — which was 2,276,00 — with the total of 2,975,00 in 1967.

The simple truth is that job creation in America has not yet taken care of the increased number of persons seeking employment. There is some comfort, to be sure, in the fact that, as the labor force has been increasing, jobs have been made available for the vast majority.

The continuance, however, of nearly three million people on the unemployment rolls year after year is a discouraging aspect of the American economy.

One of the main reasons for the maladjustment and the absence of permanent jobs for lots of people is the short-lived nature of some of the government projects and a shrinking demand for unskilled labor as technology improves.

It will be said, of course, that out of the three million who are unemployed, some don't want to work or are "uneducated" or are trying to get "poverty" assistance without performing any services.

It is also true that in homes where husbands are incapacitated or disabled, the wives usually are working, and children may drop out of school in order to provide funds for the family.

The unemployment totals are to some extent due to the inability of citizens to find in their particular localities the kind of work they are able to do. There is a reluctance to shift from one region of the country to another to seek work.

In some areas there actually is a shortage of labor which could provide jobs for some of those who are unemployed but who live at distant points.

Bob Considine Says:

2 Factors Sway Sihanouk on Allowing U.S. Pursuit

NEW YORK — It was not Jacqueline Kennedy who swung Prince Norodom Sihanouk away from the Red Chinese and toward the United States though her vacation in Cambodia last fall may have done its bit to persuade the prince that not all Americans had horns.

CONSIDINE

Two other factors, in all probability, moved the prince to his present mood to open his borders to American troops chasing fleeing North Vietnamese and Vietcong troops into remote Cambodian sanctuaries.

The most pressing factor is that he is afraid of Red China. No other interpretation can be placed on his reply to a cabled question from the New York Times to the effect that if President Johnson is willing to "prevent aggression against our country," special emissary Chester Bowles' visit would "at least permit a reduction of tensions between the United States and Cambodia."

The prince's other replies to the Times' queries read almost as truculently as his blasts when he was solidly in the camp of Peking. Certainly, they tended to fog the rose-colored glasses through which the State Department and the White House greeted his reported change-of-heart.

★ ★ ★

For all the conditions laid down — including his statements that his troops would open fire on any Americans who fire on them, and that in such a case he would ask aid from China — the prince is in the throes of a 180-degree ideological turn. Ambassador Bowles is probably just the man to keep him turning instead of doubling back.

The other factor that has shaken Sihanouk off dead Red center as a quasi-neutralist with strong Chinese leaning was related to us last November in Bangkok by Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman.

When asked to comment on the prince's condemnation of the U. S. while playing host to Mrs. Kennedy, the foreign minister said he felt sorry for him.

"When Prince Sihanouk became fed up with Chinese meddling in his government several months ago he decided he would show a more friendly face toward us and the United States. He said so to many friends.

★ ★ ★

"Word of his possible change of heart quickly reached Peking. Presently, one of his sons in school in China received a message from Chou En-Lai that was nothing short of a veiled threat. It practically ordered the son to contact his father immediately and advise him not to change his pro-Chinese leaning.

WARNING FROM CHOU

"The son alerted the father.

"When there was no direct reply, Prince Sihanouk heard directly from Chou. This time it was not a veiled threat. It was an open promise to 'send 50,000 Chinese into the streets of Phnom Penh to make trouble.'"

Sihanouk broke off U. S. military and economic aid in 1963 for much less reason than Chou's threat. He charged us with intervention in his affairs.

★ ★ ★

The following year the Soviet Union and China began supplying him. He cut his remaining diplomatic ties with the U.S. in May 1965, after South Vietnamese planes attacked several villages just across the common border. At the same time he accused the U.S. of engaging in the same form of hot pursuit which he now would seemingly encourage.

'Invite Public Comment on Proposed School Cuts'

Unless we gain added millage Waterford faces a community school finance problem. The Board of Education is considering cuts in the school program because of the decisive millage defeat. Aside from Board and school staff views, we seek the community's opinion on the proposed cuts. The Waterford Education Association invites public comment sent to our office at 3513 Elizabeth Lake Road, Pontiac, 48054.

★ ★ ★

We recognize that inequalities in taxation still require too much of the property owner but change can only come through state legislation. Until this change occurs, our schools depend increasingly upon local property taxes for support.

★ ★ ★

What do you see as the solution to running our school program without the recently sought millage while still preserving quality education?

LADEEN FLOYD, PRESIDENT
WATERFORD EDUCATION ASSOCIATION
3513 ELIZABETH LAKE ROAD

More Taxpayers Discuss Waterford Taxes

People who really want to know what is going on with their school taxes should come into the schools and see for themselves if there are extra assistants, rooms not being used, or counsellors with no children who need help.

Coaches don't take gym teachers' places but instead work for about $1 an hour after school. Crary with all that "extra room" has classes in the cafeteria and in the library. There is no Mott teaching staff substituting in other buildings. The dangers along Walton might best be handled by sidewalks and stoplights, neither of which can be authorized by schools.

PATRICK BRENNAN
3676 MARK

The experts should have considered the possible defeat of the Waterford school millage proposal. If the superintendent of schools can't suggest ways to cut expenses without half-day sessions, the school board should consider looking elsewhere for leadership.

I voted yes for the multipurpose rooms and yes on the millage proposal. If the school's economy is so critical, why were multipurpose rooms placed ahead of classroom teachers? Perhaps the school administration gambled, but the children lost.

J. P. WILSON
2384 BRIGGS, DRAYTON PLAINS

Congratulations to those in Waterford Township who defeated the last school millage, our children go on half-day sessions next year and we're going to lose some of the services that have been available for many years. We saved ourselves some money but our children are going to pay in a more expensive way—their education.

★ ★ ★

Meetings were held in every school with a qualified person to answer questions, and notes went home from school explaining why the millage was needed. At the meeting I attended only 15 out of a possible 300 were present, yet every day I hear people say they don't know why the administration does or does not do this or that, or why it can't get along with what money it has. Everything is going up and we can't expect our schools to be run on the same amount of money they did a few years ago.

CARL SANDBURG PARENT

Action of School Bus Driver Is Commended

After having taught school for ten years in Waterford Township, I wish to commend the bus driver for her actions (returned the children to school) of which we read in The Pontiac Press.

★ ★ ★

I read with some consternation the statement that "you just can't leave that many children stranded." It seems that two attempts to restore order, one by the bus driver and one by the counselor (who should be a respected person in our community), should be ample warning for children of this age.

★ ★ ★

As citizens of this community we feel that a much firmer stand should be taken by those in authority to command the respect of the students by using drastic means, if this is what you choose to call the bus drivers actions.

'Majority Doesn't Want Open Housing Laws'

Could it be that Dick Westerkamp is trying to slant public opinion when he interviews only people who are in favor of open housing? The majority of us don't want to be told to whom we can sell our property.

★ ★ ★

Right in the City they built a beautiful subdivision that was going to be the showplace of the Country and prove that integrated housing could succeed. The subdivision is still there but the whites aren't. It takes a long time to get rid of prejudice and you can't do it by passing laws that push integration down our throats. That will increase prejudice against the people you are trying to help.

'Must We Pay for Services Not Received?'

Our taxes are being raised and we are told there is not enough money to keep up our side streets even though it will cost more in the spring to repair them. What about the expense of hiring people from outside areas to reappraise our property so our taxes will be raised?

★ ★ ★

When our taxes are figured a certain amount is charged for the upkeep of streets. If streets are not to be taken care of, why can't we refuse to pay the amount of taxes charged for this service? You do not pay for something in a store that you don't receive.

Mr. Ewalt of Parks and Recreation tells us they had to get all the main rinks in the City in skating order before they could work on the "extras." Now that the main ones are ready, touch-up work and work on secondary rinks can begin.

Writer Supports Action of Police Officers

In regards to criticism of the recent unfortunate shooting of the King boy, I believe in law and order. It's about time that someone clearly explained to young people, Negro and white, that if they want to break the law they must suffer the consequence, whatever it may be. Let's quit guessing as to what the police should or can do. I believe they are well trained and know what they have to do. What right does the Michigan Civil Rights Commission have to investigate law enforcement? I can understand it investigating housing and job discrimination but it has no business with law enforcement.

'Airport Means Progress in Oakland County'

When the Pontiac Airport was built in 1928 many didn't believe aviation was progress. I'm amazed that some of these people are still around. Last week The Pontiac Press showed the public the 200,000th landing at Oakland-Pontiac Airport. Because of poor planning and because of not wanting to invest in the future, we are now in need of more facilities in this County.

As for the airport belonging or being available to a "favored few," this is not true. If you haven't taken the opportunity to avail yourself of our airport, it is your own fault. Those "favored few" pay the return of your tax dollars. The airports are the only hope in this County of a return on your tax dollars. Ask any Pontiac City Commission member, now that the County is the proud owner of a forever progressing airport.

Comment on Romney's Absence From State

Governor Romney's absence proves that Michigan can get along without him. He's spending taxpayers' money by staying away from the State Capitol and another man must be paid to carry on his duties. Is this Gov. Romney's idea of efficiency and economy? The least he could do is resign. Then he could give all his attention to the pursuit of his other ambitions.

Police-Ghetto Ties Worsening

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

One of the most sensitive areas in race relations today is the problem of police-community relations in the ghetto. Unfortunately, there are signs that these relations may be worsening.

There have been constant calls for policemen to "get tough" with Negroes as a way of preventing riots, and the papers have been full of reports of lethal new weapons which local police departments are stocking for use in riots.

YOUNG

Washington, D.C., and some other cities have enacted new laws which could lead to a new trend against individual's constitutional rights.

In addition, there seem to be more people than ever running around shouting about "crime in the streets." That's shorthand for crimes committed by Negroes.

Discrimination and slum conditions make some ghettos breeding grounds for crime, and there is no question that it exists. But few people seem to care that Negroes themselves are most often the victims of such crime.

★ ★ ★

Only when white persons suffer do the defenders of "law and order" start screaming.

AT TOP OF LIST

Surveys of Negro neighborhoods show that better police protection is at the top of the list of community needs, but they seldom get it.

A federal report cited one case where a Negro man called the police, but they never came. Finally, he got the bright idea of phoning again, this time saying: "Come quickly, Negroes are attacking a white man." The police arrived two minutes later.

So it is not police protection that Negroes resent. Criminals and hoodlums should be arrested, no matter what their race. What Negroes resent is the way they are singled out for police harassment.

★ ★ ★

While police brutality exists, it is not nearly as common as the practices of stopping and "frisking" Negroes on the streets or making a big thing out of minor traffic violations which would go unnoticed among whites.

BAD ATTITUDE

Miami's police chief recently called a news conference in which he demonstrated to the whole world the kind of attitudes which contribute to tensions.

The chief said he was arming his officers with shotguns and dogs, and instituting a shoot-to-kill policy.

He said he didn't care about charges of brutality, was ending community relations programs and tied ghetto crime to the civil rights movement. His targets are Negro youths from 15 to 21.

★ ★ ★

Because three white people had been killed in the ghetto, he announced this new get-tough policy. Of course, when Negroes were killed and robbed there was no such concern.

DECLARATION OF WAR

This is no way to fight crime. It amounts to a declaration of war on the whole Negro community. It threatens to turn the ghetto into an armed camp with the equivalent of an occupying army.

In Shoulder-Belt Cost Dispute

Federal Officials on Sidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal safety officials, admittedly lacking knowledge of the actual cost of shoulder-seat belts required on cars since Jan. 1, have had to sit out the current controversy over the belts.

Critics say the auto manufacturers have vastly exaggerated the cost at the expense of car buyers.

★ ★ ★

Auto industry spokesmen have not commented, saying they have to study the statements.

Officials of the National Safety Bureau say they'll have no comment on the $23 to $32 price increases until the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates the cost. That is expected at the end of February with release of the January consumer price index.

ADVANCE DATA

But sources said the safety bureau, which develops safety standards, wants advance information on the industrial impact of its standards — including the cost to consumers.

Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and author Ralph Nader contend the price increases were far above the cost of the new safety belts.

★ ★ ★

Mondale and Magnuson said this week they had learned it cost the auto companies no more than $3 to meet this year's requirements that the two front seats be equipped with shoulder belts as well as lap belts. Nader's figures were about the same.

★ ★ ★

The auto makers attributed the entire $23-$32 cost to the new shoulder-seat belt regulation.

'NOT ACCURATE'

Mondale and Magnuson have been pressuring the safety bureau to determine costs of the standards to the consumer.

The senators said this was needed because the auto manufacturers could not be counted on to provide accurate cost information.

It was learned that the Department of Transportation, parent agency of the bureau, contracted last year with Booz, Allen and Hamilton Co. to explore the possibility of gathering data on the impact of safety standards.

But federal officials emphasize the aspect of consumer costs probably will not come until late in the study.

Federal sources said it's doubtful whether the government can or should obtain such information.

They said this could put the government in a position of financial surveillance over the auto industry. "We'd have to get deeply into the company books," a source said.

Jackson Man Held in Shooting

JACKSON (UPI) — Jackson police today held a local man who allegedly burst into his estranged wife's apartment, fired a pistol three times into the ceiling, and drove off with his 16-year-old son held captive.

★ ★ ★

Police arrested the man, Charles Akers, 39, at a house about eight miles west of Jackson, after the boy had driven home alone in his father's car.

Engineers Asked to Solve Mass Transit Ills

DETROIT (AP) — Alan S. Boyd, secretary of the U.S. Department of Transportation, called upon automotive experts Wednesday night to help design "better systems of mass transit services and new kinds of buses to help us solve some of our rush-hour problems."

"We need to give the commuter some travel alternatives and at the same time allow us to make more efficient use of our streets and highways," Boyd told the annual banquet meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers in Detroit.

In the prepared speech, he noted that some audience members have designed "airplanes that very nearly outrace the sun" and "have created a system to put man on the moon."

Boyd said figures are incomplete, but it appears that traffic deaths in America declined last year for the first time in several years.

Pontiac School Finance Panel Proposes Millage, Bond Election

● Construction needs require issuance of $23 million of bonds, which would not increase the presnt debt tax of 4 mills.

● An $18.7-million educational park, housing 4,500 high school students on a site at Pontiac State Hospital, is the most economical, educationally desirable solution for replacement of Central High School.

● Additional facility requirements can be supplied most economically and with educational advantages by changing from the current kindergarten - sixth grade, 7-9 and 10-12 school organization to a K-5, 6-8 and 9-12 system.

● The present Central High School building can be renovated at a reasonable cost to make it an outstanding facility for grades six through eight.

● Costs of operation have and will continue to increase substantially, and funds must be made available to meet them.

Pontiac's total school millage of 22.35 ($22.35 per $1,000 of assessed property value) is currently the lowest of 28 school districts in Oakland County.

It is made up of 18.35 mills for operation and 4 mills for debt retirement of bonds.

An increase of 6.25 mills for operation will bring the operation total to 24.60 mills. Total millage would then be 28.60.

★ ★ ★

The millage increases would bring in additional revenue of more than $15.6 million for the next five years, the study estimates.

ANNUAL DEFICIT

Still, the district would register an average annual deficit during the period of a moderate $52,200, according to the council.

Council Chairman Francis M. Webster Jr. explained that a 5-mill increase would only provide for continuation of the present school program. An additional 1.25 mills was necessary to provide for implementation of the council's recommendations.

An estimated average increase of more than 9 mills will be necesary in each of the next five years to cover anticipated expenditures over revenues which may reach nearly $7 million in 1973.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac has used up its limit for selling bonds without voter approval, and thus will have to go to the voters, the study said.

18 YEARS

FSC determined that $23 million of bonds could be paid over approximately 18 years without increasing the 4-mill debt service.

Included in the bond issue is a proposed $18.7-million new Central High School, $1-million to convert the present Central building into a middle school (grades 6-8) and $1.5-million for partial construction of a Human Resources Center, an elementary school complex.

Smaller bonded funds would be used to expand Northern High School and junior high and elementary schools.

★ ★ ★

The price of the new Central High School includes purchase of a 68-acre site and its development, all fixed and movable equipment, architectural fees, plus other fees and contingencies.

3 HIGH SCHOOLS

"There are distinct educational advantages in providing a high cost- low utilization facility for three high schools of 1,500 students each," the council concluded.

"A site combining a portion of the State Hospital property and the property in the vicinity of Wisner Stadium, currently owned by the school district, is desirable," according to the study.

Webster cited the closeness to the present Central High School and inexpensiveness as advantages of the idea.

★ ★ ★

"You will get three high schools for the price of two," he told the school board.

PROJECTED ENROLLMENT

About 6,500 high school students can be expected in 1972-73 school year, the council reported.

Of the total, 1,770 would go to Northern High School with a 250 - student addition. Some 4,700 would go to the school at Pontiac State Hospital.

The school board decided last month not to have more than two high school facilities in the district in the years to come.

"Studies of approaches to housing these senior high students indicated savings of at least $2.3 million — probably closer to $3.7 million — in construction costs alone were possible through use of a single facility (at Pontiac State Hospital)," Webster said.

SITE QUESTOON

Board President Monroe M. Osmun asked Webster whether a site north of the city in the vicinity of Fairgrove and Mathews was considered as a high school site.

In answering for Webster, Ben Hawkins, assistant chariman of the facilities committee, said the site was a poor location and was too valuable to be taken off the city's tax roles.

FSC said the present 54-year-old Central High School has become obsolete and crowded.

★ ★ ★

"The school has been criticized by the North Central Accrediting Association (NCAA) in recent years for the inadequacies of the building," the study said.

PENALIZE GRADUATES

"Failure to meet the NCAA standards can result in loss of accreditation and penalize the graduates."

Replacement costs of Central have been estimated to be below renovations costs.

● The operations of the school district are well managed with the emphasis being placed on the primary task of education.

● It is necessary to provide additional funds to reinstate those programs which were reduced in the current school year in order to maintain a balanced budget.

● Additional funds are necessary to implement specific programs which will increase the quality of education so that the district will continue to be competitive with other school systems.

★ ★ ★

● More funds are required to complete the replacement of certain obsolete elementary school buildings, renovate certain others and provide for minor expansions of schools where needed.

Enrollment projections show the school district will increase more than 14,000 students from the current 23,729 by 1990.

★ ★ ★

"Since most of the growth will be in the Pontiac Township area, it is desirable to provide maximum flexibility in serving that population where it develops," Webster explained.

SALEM, Mass. (AP) — Doctors said the odds were 100,000 to one against her, but little Lisa Ann Chiango beat them to leave Salem Hospital weighing 5 pounds, 5 ounces.

When Lisa was born last Sept. 20 she weighed one pound, 12 ounces — and then lost nine ounces.

★ ★ ★

The baby was kept in an incubator at the hospital until she weighed enough to go home Wednesday to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Chiango of Byfield.

Romney, State Police Head Review Detroit Riot

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney met for more than an hour Wednesday with State Police Director Frederick E. Davids to review last summer's Detroit riot.

Col. Davids said he and Romney watched films of the July rioting, which claimed 43 lives and caused millions of dollars worth of property damage.

But he declined to comment on whether he had given the governor a confidential report on the status of crime in Michigan.

Only last week Romney received a report from his special crime commission, recommending stiffer riot laws and legislation permitting police wiretapping in certain instances.

Davids also said he has not receved a formal request asking him to appear before a special executive session of the state Senate to report on the state's crime situation.

Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, introduced a resolution Wednesday calling for the rare executive session.

"The department is at the service of the Legislature and if a proper request came we certainly would meet with them," Davids added.

Boy Is Rescued From Tight Hole

FLINT (AP) — Paul Bagwell, 10, was rescued Wednesday after spending two hours wedged in an eight-foot-deep goal post hole in a school yard.

Rescuers had to drill another hole through the frozen ground, then tunnel across to free his legs.

Bootlegger to Get Chair

JEFFERSON, Ga. (UPI) — A Superior Court jury yesterday found 76-year-old bottleg baron A. C. (Cliff) Park guilty of hiring assassins to kill Prosecutor Floyd Hoard and sentenced him to die in the electric chair.

The jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated about three hours before finding the admitted bootlegger guilty with no recommendation for mercy, a verdict which automatically condemned Park to death.

McCarthy Hits War to Open 6-Day California Campaign

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, carrying his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to the nation's most populous state, says the Vietnam war has generated a spirit of "joylessness and fear" in America.

The Minnesota Democrat said the "frustrations of the poor and the unpleasantness of our cities cannot be separated" from the war.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy, who plans to run in several Democratic primaries, opened today a six-day campaign swing through California.

His initial speech was prepared for delivery at a Los Angeles luncheon.

PRIORITY DISTORTED

McCarthy said the war has distorted the nation's priorities. During the last two sessions of Congress total appropriations increased by $38 billion—all but $2.6 billion of the total for defense programs, he said.

In other political developments:

● A major Rhode Island supporter of Michigan Gov. George Romney who seeks the Republican nomination, said Romney's campaign is "not catching on."

★ ★ ★

● California Gov. Ronald Reagan said he can't imagine any circumstances under which he'd campaign in primaries for the GOP nomination..

● McCarthy asked the Federal Communication Commission to let his lawyers prove President Johnson is an active reelection candidate. This is a principal argument in McCarthy's effort to win free air time on the three major networks to reply to recently broadcast comments about him by the President.

★ ★ ★

● Sen. Mark A. Hatfield, R-Ore., said New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's position on the Vietnam war is flexible enough to unite Republicans on the issue if he becomes their presidential candidate.

McCarthy told his Los Angeles audience the Johnson administration "has committed itself, without really consulting anybody" to the generals leading South Vietnam, "and is fulfilling that commitment with money and energy to spare."

SOCIAL PROBLEMS

He said Johnson should devote more attention to social problems at home "because we also have major commitments to our own citizens."

"We must define and advance individual rights which Americans believe in are the right to work, education, medical care, transportation and a wholesome environment," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Romney supporter, Howard E. Russell Jr., the GOP state chairman in Rhode Island, said the governor is "going to have to pull something out of the fire in New Hampshire." He implied only a significant victory in the Granite State's March 12 primary would save Romney's hope for the nomination.

Russell said he didn't know whether his view was shared by Gov. John Chafee, another Romney backer.

Reagan told a news conference he has done "everything in the world" to stop a New Hampshire write-in campaign on his behalf, adding: "I certainly wouldn't stick my neck out in going there."

REAGAN IN PRIMARIES

Although Reagan insists he isn't a candidate, he will be California's favorite-son in the June 4 primary there and his name will be entered in some so-called open primaries, including those in Oregon and Wisconsin.

Hearing to Air OEO Fund Cut

DETROIT (UPI) — Several Michigan congressmen have called a public hearing Saturday to discuss a slash in federal funds to the Wayne County Office of Economic Opportunity.

The hearing, to be held in Detroit's City-County Building, is to protest a 15 per cent cut for poverty programs in the Wayne County area outside Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The Great Lakes Regional Office of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) has provided only $537,000 for community action programs in the county area outside Detroit for 1968, said G. Mennen Williams, former governor of Michigan and chairman of the Wayne County office of the OEO.

An automated mobile classroom that teaches driver education by using a computer to monitor student performance has been developed.

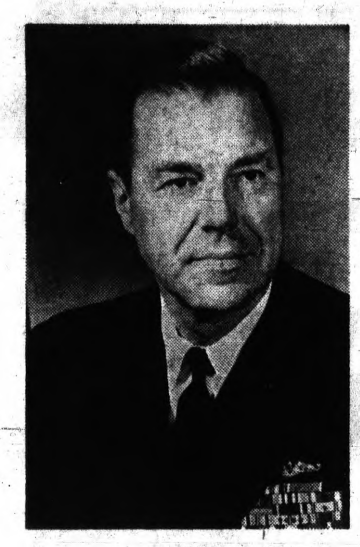
Tell New Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Series

KITTY CARLISLE



ADM. JAMES CALVERT

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Inc. announces completion of arrangements for its 1968-69 series of programs. Appearances by five outstanding personalities will highlight the 10th anniversary year of the civic non-profit organization.

★ ★ ★

Kitty Carlisle will open the series Oct. 9 discussing her own interesting life under the title, "First Person Singular."

Miss Carlisle made her singing debut many years ago in the musical "Rio Rita."

★ ★ ★

She has sung in light opera, movies, and in 1967 made her operatic debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in the part of Prince Orlofsky in Johann Strauss' light opera, Die Fledermaus.

★ ★ ★

She has been a regular panelist on the TV program "To Tell the Truth" for over 10 years. Miss Carlisle is the widow of playwright-director Moss Hart.

★ ★ ★

Admiral James Calvert, USN, is Town Hall's Nov. 13 guest at the Huron Theater, speaking on "On the Threshold of a New World."

★ ★ ★

As skipper of the USS Skate, nuclear submarine which voyaged beneath the polar icecap, Admiral Calvert was twice awarded the Legion of Merit, and the submarine was honored with the only two Unit Commendations ever given in peace time.

★ ★ ★

Now stationed at the Pentagon as Director of the Politico-Military Division of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Calvert is the author of "Surface at the Pole," the story of this modern exploration of one of the earth's last frontiers.

★ ★ ★

"The Incomparable Hildegarde" is the first series offering of the new year, scheduled Jan. 8. All the talents of this well-known pianist-singer will be combined in a morning presentation of "One Enchanted Evening."

★ ★ ★

Hildegarde, though a native of Wisconsin, established herself as a singer and nightclub entertainer in Europe from 1933-38. When war threatened, she returned to the United States with her artistic reputation firmly established.

Her signature song is the familiar half-French, half-English, "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup."

In personal appearances, she has been know to offer tidbits of common-sense beauty advice to her feminine listeners for the "battle against Father Time."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Albert Burke believes that everyone should "think for himself." This is considered the key to the success of his TV series "Probe."

★ ★ ★

Scientist, linguist, world affairs expert and economist, he will speak on "Ideas in Conflict" at Town Hall on Feb. 12.

A native New Yorker, Dr. Burke received his B.A. and M.A. from the University of California and his Ph.D. in International Relations from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Burke was Director of Graduate Studies in Conservation and Resource Use at Yale from 1951 to 1957. He was appointed Educational Television Consultant for the NBC network, where he produced the award-winning series "Survival."

★ ★ ★

The final program will feature Gerald Goodman, billed as "Troubadour-Harpist" on March 12.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, Goodman began musical studies early. He made his solo debut in Town Hall, New York in 1959 and has earned recognition as one of the leading harpists of our time.

In concert, he sings and accompanies himself with a masculine vitality in keeping with the virli spirit of the music of the Middle Ages. Always in quest of ancient legends and ballads, he adapts them to his own musical settings.

Ticket cochairmen for the 1968-'69 series are Mrs. Fred Cockle of Shawnee Lane and Mrs. Aleck Capsalis of Ottawa Drive. Or, address inquires to P.O. Box 328.

As in the past, a celebrity luncheon in Devon Gables will follow each 10:30 a.m. lecture.

Frost Bites Mini-Clad

READING, Mass. (UPI) — The school committee ruled that girls can attend school in slacks during the current cold wave because a number of frostbite cases were reported among girls wearing miniskirts.

Cold Red Knees Reveal the Fate of Mini Maidens

NEW YORK (AP) — How're you gonna keep her cozy and warm, after she's bared her knees? A chick, that is, in a miniskirt amidst a cold wave.

"I run," confessed Kathe Graham, discussing the problem of freezy kneesies on New York's windswept avenues when the temperature flirts with zero.

"My legs don't even get cold," insisted Judith Christian, 21, a secretary. "If I don't think about it I'm not cold. Besides, my boyfriend doesn't think about how cold it is, just how it looks."

★ ★ ★

Madi Heller, 25, defies the elements on a considerably higher level than some girls. She said: "I always wear bikini underwear and so do all my friends."

A brunette model claims to find comfort in a "warm sweater." Another lass borrows her brother's heavy sweat socks. Neither seemed too coherent about the relationship, if any, with knees.

"I wore levis to work this morning under my miniskirt," explained Ruth Pennesch, 24.

A school girl, Joan Grabel, 17, with knee socks and little else for some distance above assured an interviewer: "The cold doesn't bother me really. One teacher told me I'll get arthritis when I get old because my knees will get cold."

Miniskirted Marjorie Brenn, 22, won't wear woolen underwear because "it itches." Her solution, instead, is to ride rather than walk in cold weather. She said: "I depend on my boyfriends to take care of me with transportation. But you have to choose your boyfriends discriminately."

★ ★ ★

"I like to show my knees," said one unmarried 25-year-old, impervious to the cold and unwilling to give her name.

Summing it up for the girls was Patricia Fedas, 24, who declared: "After all, you can't lengthen your skirt because of the weather."

Summing it up for the boys was a girl watcher on Fifth Avenue, who observed with delight:

"Crazy, man, Cra—zy!"

GERALD GOODMAN

Modern Gran Tells Truth; Irks Old-Fashioned Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Me and my big mouth. Now I've really done it. My little four-year-old granddaughter asked me if the stork really dropped her down the chimney, and I laughed and said no. Then she asked me how she got here, and I simply told her that she grew from a tiny seed in her Mommy's tummy. Now what was so terrible about that?

ABBY

My daughter-in-law is very angry with me because she's afraid the child will ask her how the seed got there. My son has sided with his wife and I am in the doghouse.

Abby, I cannot see putting off telling a child what he will eventually learn anyway. But what am I to do about my son and his wife? I don't like being on the outs with them, but I think they are wrong, wrong, wrong.

THOROUGHLY MODERN GRANDMA

DEAR MODERN: I happen to agree with you. First, try to educate your son and his wife to your way of thinking. It is far healthier for the child. Should you fail (heaven forbid) to bring them out of the Dark Ages, continue to answer all questions as honestly as possible. Time will prove you right.

★ ★ ★

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600 P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Woman's Mate Is Considerate but Different

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of "Emily Post's Etiquette" has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband grew up in a rural community where sidewalks were rare. I grew up in a western city where we walked a lot. Now I find myself becoming aware of his not switching to the outside as we change direction. If I switch, it makes him feel awkward, and if I don't, I feel awkward.

Would a family discussion of general etiquette be an appropriate place to bring up this particular thing? I think I could simply tell our girls about how to walk with a boy and suggest that they notice my husband and me the next time we are out. He may then become more aware of it.

★ ★ ★

I do not want to say or do anything that would make my husband feel awkward. He is such a wonderful and sensitive person that "manners" seem trivial besides his qualities of consideration and generosity. — Mrs. H. B.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. B.: The wonderful thing about your letter is that you realize that your husband's good qualities are so much more important than his occasional ignorance of what you were brought up to believe were good manners.

So many people, especially women, marry with the idea that they can "make over" their partners. This is entirely wrong, but that is not to say that by good example and tactful hints one cannot make a person more aware of better manners.

Your suggestion of a family discussion of manners is an excellent one. These chats can bring up a problem without necessarily pointing a finger at any one person. Feelings are spared, and yet those present cannot help but profit from the talk.

ESTRANGED FATHER

Dear Mrs. Post: My 23-year-old daughter by a former marriage has written me that she is getting married in January. However, because she feels that for me to give her away would cause embarrassment and emotional strain to her mother, herself, and her future husband, she has invited me to "attend" the wedding, but does not want me to "participate" in any of the formalities.

I supported her until the age of 21, attended her college graduation, and find the thought of attending the wedding in any capacity except as her father, humiliating and more embarrassing than not going at all.

Am I right in not wanting to attend? My wife does not want to go even if I do. — Thomas C.

Dear Mr. C.: You have my sympathy in that your relationship with your daughter has become so distant. She shows a real lack of loyalty to you or appreciation for what you have done for her, by not asking you to give her away.

I agree that it would be humiliating for you to attend the wedding, and I would not do so. If you feel that you must see the ceremony, slip into an unobtrusive spot at the back of the church and out again before you need to have any contact with your former family.

Celebrity Talks at Town Hall

Hear Virginia Graham

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

"The chemistry produced from positive thinking and a will to be the guide of your destiny can serve as a catalyst for a fulfilled self image."

★ ★ ★

So said Virginia Graham, guest speaker at Wednesday's Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall meeting, who might well be described as quite a catalystic agent herself.

★ ★ ★

A self-described Pollyanna, she provides a refreshing and witty outlook on life.

★ ★ ★

"I've always had optimism," said the noted conversationalist, "My father was a lover of life and that was my inheritance."

★ ★ ★

"All my life has been spent in giving sulphur to the world," she said when describing her positive prescription for the ills that befall others.

★ ★ ★

As a woman who personally battled with the threat of cancer 16 years ago and conquered it with a firm belief in God and a strong will to live, she is her own success story.

★ ★ ★

Behind the fulfilled personality also lies the real mirror of beauty, she added.

INNER SELF

Don't let your destiny be ruled by your physical appearance; let your inner self be your guide. Discipline yourself by accepting what you are and work from there.

Reflecting on her childhood, she recalled what her father advised her and challenged her audience with it.

"The world is too full of followers. What we need are leaders.

"We as women, can never have an equal opportunity when it comes to competing with men, but we have similar opportunities to prove ourselves.

"We are and can only survive by complementing each other," she said.

Women, however, in their own right, she commented, have opened the door to understanding.

★ ★ ★

"It's women like those of you here at this meeting who care about what's going on, who are curious, who are volunteering time and energy, who are voters, who are improving this world.

★ ★ ★

"And always keep in mind that the service to mankind is the rent you pay for the joy of living," she concludes.

In measuring her own happiness, Miss Graham reversed that age-old saying which relates a man's greatness to the woman behind him.

The keys to happiness for a woman are the basics, she said; a happy marriage, a loving home and a respect for others.

"Whatever success I've had, whatever I've done, I've had a love song behind me all the time," she said.

Miss Graham concluded her visit with a question-and-answer period following a celebrity luncheon at Devon Gables.

Manhattan's brave lassies still give the girl watchers something to see, despite near zero temperatures and arctic winds. New York these days may not be the clime for the miniskirt but a smart chick can beat the cold snap—and keep the eyeballs rolling—or so the AP learned on the Avenue.

PEO Sisterhood Sets Founders Day Event

A luncheon in the Birmingham Community House Wednesday will commemorate the 99th anniversary of the founding of the Peo Sisterhood.

★ ★ ★

PEO is an educational and philanthropic organization established at Iowa Wesleyan College in 1869. It owns and supports Cottey College, a junior college for women in Nevada, Mo.

★ ★ ★

It maintains an educational loan fund of more than a million dollars which assists American girls attending colleges in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Through PEO's International Peace Scholarship fund established in 1949, approximately on hundred foreign students per year are awarded scholarships for graduate study in this country.

★ ★ ★

A tribute to the founders will be included in the program, plus musical selections by a string trio.

SPEAKER

Principal speaker will be Mrs. George Averill who will present an original anthology of verse by American writers called "Sonnets for the Season."

The meeting is sponsored by the Oakland County Cooperative of PEO Sisterhood.

Mrs. R. M. Cristl, chairman of the day, will be assisted by Mrs. Donald Clark, Marion Emery, Mrs. Robert Falberg, Mrs. Herbert Hinson, Mrs. Owen C. Perkins, Mrs. C. E. Boyd and Mrs. R. G. Carey

The luncheon begins at 12:30. Reservations may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Leonard Jones of Royal Oak.

Noted Artist Slates Talk About Work

Noted sculptor Robert Murray will present an illustrated talk on his works at Cranbrook Academy of Art, Bloomfield Hills, at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The talk is scheduled for the lecture hall of the Art Galleries and is open to the public.

★ ★ ★

Murray, now a New York resident, began his artistic career as a painter while attending Regina College of Art at the University of Saskatchewan in the 1950s.

By 1962 he had become completely involved in sculpture although his painting background is evident in his concern for color and the directness and lack of complexity of his pieces.

★ ★ ★

He is well-known for his large works, especially "Duet", the 7,000 pound piece on the campus of Long Beach State College in California, the piece commissioned by Toronto to stand before the City Hall during last summer's Centennial Celebration and the five-ton piece in New Haven, where he does most of his casting.

At present he is also instructing at Hunter College and will during the spring semester, teach at Yale University.

★ ★ ★

Calling All Home Makers

By Ron Coleman

of Coleman's Furniture Mart
536 N. Perry St., Pontiac

LET'S TALK ABOUT "COLOR SCHEMES"

Popular colors in upholstered furniture, draperies and floor coverings change from time-to-time, just the same as they do in women's fashions.

You might be interested in knowing that a recent nation-wide survey at the furniture mart in Chicago shows that blues are the No. 1 best seller now in upholstered furniture, followed by the "fruit" colors — lime, lemon, tangerine and various other shades of green, yellow and orange.

But the best rule in selecting the "basic" color for your living room, or any room in your home, is to start with a color YOU like best.

Some like monotones, or different tones of the same color used throughout a room. Others like contrasting or harmonizing colors. Either plan, with careful study, can be equally effective.

But you must start someplace. In a living room it is best to start either with your floor covering or your sofa or sectional, and work out your color scheme from there. You can also select your wall colors first and then pick the rest of your furniture and furnishings to harmonize with your walls.

Some decorators prefer neutral colors for sofas or sectionals which enable them to use a great deal of color in chairs and accessories.

Please feel free to let us help you with any of your "color" problems.

Regardless of the kind of decorative scheme you wish to achieve, we know that Coleman's Furniture Mart's trained interior decorators can be a great help. This service is absolutely free of charge to our customers. It's just one more of the many ways we try to insure that Coleman's Furniture Mart is the best place to make your furniture, carpet and appliance selections.

If you haven't visited us yet, why not stop in soon! We're located at 536 North Perry just across Glenwood from Kmart and we've plenty of Free Parking for your convenience. We're open every night till 9 P.M. to make it easy for Dad to come along.

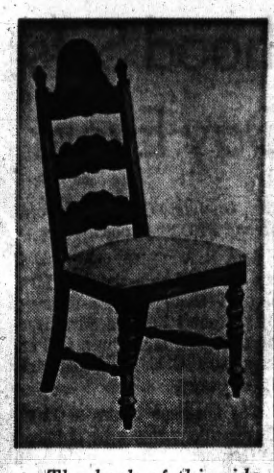
Chairs Have New Designs

Turnabout is fair play as well as fun with a perky, reversible chair just introduced by the Murphy-Miller Division of Kroehler Mfg. Co. A handsome sweep of walnut hugs the lift-out foam-filled seating section. This softly tufted section can be turned inside out, as shown, to show either the vinyl side or soft leapard-like covering. The "Popover" is available in contemporary and Spanish styles, in chairs, rockers and love seats.



The back of this side chair, reminiscent of peasant hand crafting, is a reproduction of the work of Italian carver, Frank Sartori. Made by the Stanley Furniture Company, the chair has a Castillian heritage. It comes in wood finish or Spanish red. From Stanley's new San Miguel group.

Why Grow Old?

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Did all of that good food land in the wrong places? It always does! Instead of filling out hollows in the neck or increasing the size of the bust or hiding under the insteps, most of those extra pounds go just where they please — and where it doesn't please us!

If a woman has a pad of fat on her tummy, it gets bigger. If she has a roll over the girdle, it balloons.

★ ★ ★

Few women can partake of the Christmas and New Year festivities without gaining a few pounds. Also, thousands of women start each new year with the resolution to lose overweight they have had for some time, maybe for years. For these reasons I bring you my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan each January.

★ ★ ★

Want to join the fun? Thousands and thousands of women are following this course. Many of them wish to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks. Others want to see how much they can improve their appearance generally or wish to beautify their measurements.

★ ★ ★

If you have been following this eight week plan, you have measured and weighed and and know what your ideal weight is and are aware of any measurements which are out of proportion. You know what goals you are aiming toward!

Now let us consider that very touchy subject — food, and get one thing straight right at the start. No one food is fattening or reducing. Any food is fattening if you eat enough of it. However, some foods are so high in calorie count that they are prohibitive on a reducing diet because they do not leave enough calories for the essential foods.

★ ★ ★

The technique for losing weight is really very simple. If you eat more food than your body needs for heat and energy, the surplus is stored as fat. If you eat less than your body needs, the stored fat will be used and you will lose weight.

★ ★ ★

The conclusion is clear. In order to lose most successfully and painlessly we must increase our physical activity and decrease the amount of food we eat. Most women will lose from two to two-and-a-half pounds a week if they hold their daily intake to no more than 1200 calories a day. A calorie is simply a unit with which to measure the amount of energy various foods give us.

Today, I will outline three more sample reducing menus. Tomorrow, I will tell you know to plan your own reducing diet to make it healthful and inviting.

Talk Before Club

A discussion on "Dollars and Sense" led by Mrs. Morton Jacobs and Mrs. Robert Lawyer highlighted Monday evening's meeting of the Waterford Child Study Club No. 1.

Hostess in her Wormer Drive home for the event was Mrs. Hiram P. Vrooman assisted by Mrs. Don Tatroe.

New home construction in this country during 1967 totaled about one and a quarter million units, or about six per cent more than the previous year.

Patient Gets Bill for Unpaid Nickel

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Health insurance paid all but five cents of the costs of a hospital stay for Mrs. Lucille Flynn. The hospital sent her a bill for the nickel.

She phoned from her home and told the hospital officials that, rather than using a five-cent stamp to mail the remittance and having to pay bank charges on a check, she would bring in a nickel "next time she was in the neighborhood." She did.

Girl Scouts Scrub Shelter

CENTREVILE, Va. (AP) — A group of 50 Girl Scouts from troops in Warrenton, Annandale and Fairfax showed that they were good scouts by spending a whole day cleaning and painting the kennels near here operated by the Animal Welfare League of Fairfax County.

★ ★ ★

The girls, all high school students, washed windows, scrubbed kennels, painted the walls in the runs and raked and tidied up the surrounding grounds. As an added service, they even walked the dogs for the kennel manager.

MSU Expert to Discuss Topic

In today's society better communication with people is a problem confronting every family. Dr. Lawrence Sarbaugh, Michigan State University professor of communication will discuss interpersonal communications on Jan. 16, 9:30 a.m. in the Pontiac Mall.

★ ★ ★

"The importance of effective interaction in the family should not be overlooked," says Dr. Sarbaugh. "Even in the busiest family, it is possible to achieve a meaningful level of communication. For it is not the quantity of time available but the quality of the interaction."

"In understanding how the organization of the family affects communication, we can help to prevent a breakdown," he continued. "An awareness of communicative techniques also helps in improving our family life," he added.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service invites any person interested in better interpersonal communications to attend the lecture discussion program. Further questions can be directed to Mrs. Rosalie Hawley, of the extension office on North Saginaw Street.

State Bonus Starts Interest in Old Clocks

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — When LeRoy Benoit was discharged from the U.S. Air Force after serving as an officer in World War II, he received a veteran's bonus from the state of Massachusetts. He and his wife agreed that an antique clock would be a good way to invest the money.

★ ★ ★

That was the start of an extensive clock collection. Benoit, now a professor in the Modern Language department at Cornell University, has about 25 clocks in his home here and many more in the family's historic old home at South Yarmouth on Cape Cod.

★ ★ ★

The Benoit collection, which comes from all over the world, was amassed mostly from auctions. His guidelines for buying antique clocks are: Be sure all the parts are there; look for a metal face or an original design painted on the glass if it is that type of clock; the veneer should be in reasonably good condition; and the paper that is usually in the back of the cabinet, naming the manufacturer, should be readable.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I just finished my first dress in years with a waistline seam and was very unhappy with the results. The skirt was very full below the darts in the front. The fabric was silk and couldn't be steamed to fit.

Since I had already pressed the darts and the marks wouldn't come out, I simply ripped one of the darts out and made a seam down the side fronts taking out the excess fabric. The skirt looks great now, but there must be another way. Mrs. M. A.

Dear Mrs. M. A.:

You have made the mistake so many women make when it comes to darts. You should never use two darts in the front of your skirt unless they are very tiny. Darts are simply an aid to fitting; the deeper the dart, the more shape you will have. It stands to reason that the front of a skirt should be smooth, only your back has a shaping seven inches below the waist.

Skirt darts in front should never be more than 3½-inches long and should be about ¼-inch deep, no more. If you have a large tummy, it is best to eliminate the darts. Then stitch two rows of stitching with the longest stitch and gently pull up the ease until it fits the waistline without adding excess fabric to the front of the skirt.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. E. Griffith, St. Louis, Mo., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

"Everyone knows how to turn collars, but here's my tip on turning cuffs. Rip the cuffs off the sleeves, reverse the cuffs so that the top of the cuff is underneath. Take the right cuff and pin it in place on the left sleeve and the left cuff on the right sleeve. Sew the cuffs in place, change the buttons, and you have new cuffs which should last the life of the shirt."

Dear Eunice Farmer,

You told us one time about using grosgrain ribbon as a binding. I have seen this used and wonder how it can be put around a circular neckline. Also, whten I use it, it turns out puffy and looks pulled, any tips? Mrs. A. T.

Dear Mrs. A. T.:

First, when using grosgrain ribbon for a trimming, be sure it is the milliners ribbon that has the piquot edges. This type you see packaged is usually the type that has a tightly woven edge, and it will pull when applied as a trimming.

The milliners ribbon can be shaped with the steam iron, press it in an outer curve on the wrong side of the ribbon. However, I haven't found this too successful for a Peter Pan collar.

Britain, the land that made the miniskirt a tourist attraction, now will make the knee a mystery if couturier Hardy Amies has his way. Here are two of the latest creations from his spring and summer collection as modeled in London. At left is a dress in multi-colored voile while the other is a suit in black and white check trimmed with white. The skirts go below the knees.

OU Plans Identity Session

Oakland University's Continuum Center for Women is presenting a review of its testing and counseling program entitled, "Investigation Into Identity" at two orientation meetings.

Identical meetings, open to all women, will be held on the afternoon of Jan. 23, 1:00 p.m. and also on the evening of Jan. 30, 7:00 p.m. so that women may choose the time most suitable.

★ ★ ★

These programs are a development of the Kellogg Foundation's funding of the establishment of the Continuum Center three years ago to help mature women seek knowledge about themselves, their interests, abilities, and personality traits and apply this knowledge to aid their productivity, and when necessary, their income.

TURNOUT

One thousand women have since participated in this eleven-session Investigation Into Identity program which consists of four testing sessions including interests, abilities, aptitudes and attitudes; interviews with specialists in education, volunteer service and employment, discussions on the dis-continuous stages of a woman's life, opportunities for mature women in today's society, and sociological factors involved in decision-making.

At the guest orientation meeting, Priscilla Jackson, director of the Continuum Center, will present Women's Changing Role in Today's Society; the psychologist, Dr. Gerald Self, will discuss testing, "Its Use and Mis-Use".

The guests are then divided into small groups for discussion, led by trained volunteers who have themselves been through the Continuum Center program.

Registration for these meetings can be made by contacting Oakland University.

PAUL COUGHLIN

Ninth Grader Is Waterford's Teen of Week

A Mason Junior High School ninth grader has been chosen Teen of the Week in Waterford Township.

Recipient of the honor is Paul Coughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coughlin of 3097 St. Jude, Waterford Township.

The school staff regards Paul as a dependable, good all-around student.

He was a starting linebacker for the school football team, is active in basketball and track and is a student council representative.

★ ★ ★

LIKES WATER SKIING

One of his favorite activities is water skiing.

His current ambition is to become an elementary school teacher.

Mason art teacher Sherry Brown related her impressions of Paul.

"Paul is one of the people who comes to mind when I think of the typical all-American boy. He is neat, clean-cut and friendly.

EXCHANGE OF IDEAS

"I find Paul usually willing to exchange ideas, accept criticism and accept responsibility.

"Paul does not stand out in class as a strong leader, nor is he a passive follower. He is quiet and shy, but one that other admire and imitate. He is well-liked by his peers and is a pleasure to have in class."

Most Dutch Cannot Swim

THE HAGUE (UPI) — Holland, where canals are as common as roads and water sports a popular pastime, has a strange and critical swimming problem: few Dutchmen know how.

A recent study showed that two-thirds of the Netherlands' 12.5 million people can't swim, there are no compulsory courses in schools and there aren't even enough swimming pools for those who want to learn privately.

The result is that Holland records about 400 simple drowning cases every year — and most of the victims are children under the age of 15.

Government leaders, stung into action by the death-a-day statistics, have promised a crash program in building swimming pools to start in 1969.

But the 200 pools scheduled for construction will take 12 years, "and that means that until 1980 we shall continue to lose 300 children a year unless someone comes up with a better solution," a government official commented.

The swimming survey, conducted by the Royal Dutch Association of Physical Training Teachers, turned up some disturbing facts for the Dutch people.

Of the 100,000 children who left primary school in 1966, more than 47 per cent couldn't swim a stroke and another 23 per cent could do little better than the "dog paddle." Swimming instruction was available to less than 40 per cent of children in the 11-12 age group.

Soviet Writer Trial Latest in Party-Intellectual War

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The current trial behind closed doors of three Soviet writers and a woman typist marks a new phase in a 10-year war between the Communist party and a liberal element among Russian intellectuals. The Kremlin is winning battles, but at a price, and in the long run could lose the war.

The party has had to revert to harsh methods in its efforts to stem a tide of liberalism. Thus it runs the risk of damaging its image abroad, especially among those it wants most to impress: the intellectuals who influence popular opinion.

★ ★ ★

Such trials tend to array the leaders of party and government against a big element of the intellectual population. They demonstrate both at home and abroad how fearful party leaders can be that their power is endangered by the probing of skeptics.

In the present trial, the four defendants are accused of endangering the state by means of propaganda. Article 190 of the penal code in the Russian Republic, largest of the 15 Soviet republics, forbids "activities against the public order." In the hands of the KGB, the security police, this is a weapon of repression.

News Analysis

But whenever Article 190 is invoked, Communist parties in Western Europe are embarrassed by the clear indication that the KGB spies upon and harasses writers.

★ ★ ★

Nikita S. Khrushchev in 1956 dethroned the ghost of Stalin and opened the gates for criticism of the Stalinist years of terror. Khrushchev soon found that the criticism could be interpreted as indictment of the party as well. In 1957 he angrily warned that the party would wage "an uncompromising fight against the penetration into literature and art of the influence of alien ideology."

The real confrontation began in 1964, when Joseph Brodsky, a young poet, drew five years at hard labor for being a "social parasite." He was accused of writing poems for a living, thus of not being regularly employed.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev's successors had even more trouble. Intellectuals began to organize. One group was called SMOG, initials meaning "word, thought, form and depth." Then in 1965, the KGB arrested Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuri Daniel, who were imprisoned at hard labor for permitting their critical writings to be published abroad. That sent a shock wave through the Communist movement outside Russia. Western parties, fearful of alienating intellectuals, joined a chorus of revulsion.

The trial was a propaganda blow to Moscow, but that failed to stop the crackdown. Four more writers were tried and convicted under Article 190.

Now yet another group is on trial, including Alexander Ginsburg, chief editor of Phoenix 66, an underground literary magazine which was smuggled westward. In one issue it carried a strong protest against Article 190, signed by a score of Soviet intellectuals.

Honor Planned

HOLLAND (AP)—A proposed addition to the Nykerk Hall of Music at Hope College will be named in honor of Dr. H. Wynand Wichers, former college president, it was announced by the Second Reformed Church of Kalamazoo which pledged $100,000 to the college. Dr. Wichers, Hope president from 1931-45, is a member of the Kalamazoo church.

Gets New Post

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles S. D'Orsa, commander of the VI U. S. Army Corps since April 1966, has been assigned as deputy commander of reserve forces for the 1st Army at Ft. Meade, Md. He will be responsible for training 220,000 Army reservists and Army National Guardsmen located in the 1st Army area.

State Man Picked

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. Robert L. Green, associate professor of educational psychology at Michigan State University, has been named to the President's Council on Youth Opportunity. Green, who also acts as education consultant for Dr. Martin Luther King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, will serve as a member of a task force on higher education.

License Sales Up

LANSING (AP) — Vehicle license plate sales last November reached 498,276, a sharp increase over the 376,439 sold during November 1966, reports Secretary of State James Hare. He attributed the spurt in sales to the mailing of prepared license plate applications.

"when will Rose Jewelers have a clearance of diamonds?"

NEVER!

A good diamond doesn't decline in value—it increases in value. And if it's fairly priced in the first place, there's no reason for it to be sold at "sale" or "clearance" prices. No more than you'd expect dollar bills to be sold at clearance prices.

The fact that a diamond increases in value isn't merely a statement at Rose. We back it up with a written guarantee: one that promises you that your Rose diamond will be worth more as the years go by.

It's that simple: when you purchase a diamond at Rose, you automatically become a member of our Diamond Club. On each anniversary date of your purchase—for five consecutive years—we guarantee that your diamond will increase in value at the rate of 3% per year on a trade-in. In 5 years your diamond will be worth 15% more than the original purchase price. Of course, you may trade your diamond anytime before, and the appropriate increase will be applied. So, even while you're wearing and enjoying your Rose diamond, its value is growing. That's our promise. And we also include pleasant, helpful services: free diamond insurance, free diamond polishing, and so forth. Because we want you to be happy with your Rose diamond . . . for as long as you own it.

State Health Dept. Cuts Off Funds to U.P. Hospital

IRON RIVER (UPI) — The Michigan Department of Public Health has cut off $40,000, the entire sum used to run the Iron County Medical Care Hospital, for the hospital's failure to comply with the state fire marshal's standards.

Donald Odgers, chairman of the Iron County Board of Supervisors, was informed of the decision, effective Feb. 15, in a letter he received yesterday.

The money came from federal funds but is administred by the state. It provides medical care for the aged at the 110-bed hospital.

Since the total annual budget of Iron County, in the eastern Upper Peninsula, is $528,000, Odgers said it would be difficult for the county to keep the hospital running.

In 1964, the state warned the hospital, located near Crystal Falls, 15 miles east of Iron River, that several dificiences would have to be corrected if the hospital was to continue receiving federal funds.

Miami Beauty 'Hogs' Dice at Para-dise Island Blowout

By EARL WILSON

PARADISE ISLAND, Nassau, the Bahamas—It was the kind of party that at least one young wife thought so important that she had her hairdresser flown down from New York.

The young wife (Mrs. Irving Cowan of Miami) surely did look beautifully coiffed in the gambling casino when she held on to the dice for about 20 minutes.

WILSON

At the gala ball, Premier Lynden O. Pindling, who is in the news with his demands for complete freedom from Britain, danced a wild rumba, and kept asking Meyer Davis and his son Emery David, now becoming a favorite maestro in society, for more and more rumbas.

The Jet Set descended in great strength upon the Paradise Island, Ltd., Complex for its opening. Most of us sat around gloating at how cold it must be up north as we were sun-bathing on the beach.

★ ★ ★

I sat between beautiful Lady Astor and beautiful Lady Sassoon. The Spanish Ambassador, the Marquis del Val, was on one side, and Moroccan Ambassador Ahmed Osman, was on the other. I guess whoever made up the seating list must have thought my name Earl was a title.

"They spent $20,000,000 for a hotel and $8.25 for a microphone," Art Linkletter said at one difficult moment during the fashion show.

★ ★ ★

Carol Channing had flown in from Hollywood bringing her own food as she always does.

Bob Neale was toting his own bottle of Scotch as he always does.

Then there was Janet Leigh, Barbara Rush, Norman Jewison, Delmar Daves, Walter Wanger, Henry Mancini—and from New York, Dina Merrill and her husband Cliff Robertson. And Kevin McCarthy helped m.c. the fashion show and took about 1,000 pictures.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y.

Actors Studio boss Lee Strasberg and actress Anna Mizrahi were married in a private ceremony at Temple Emanu-El . . . Richard Harris bowed out of the Ed Sullivan TV'er on his accountant's advice—a tax problem—Comic Bernie Allen was beaten and robbed on the street, and he groans: "Just my luck—they grab me right after I leave Rocky Graziano!"

Duo at Danny's: Stella Stevens and actor Skip Ward . . . Buddy Greco, a hit at the Royal Box, is up for a Broadway role in "Casablanca" . . . Secret Stuff: A Hollywood toy store may sue a world-famed entertainer for non-payment of a 16G bill.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Don't drive as if you own the road; drive as if you own the car.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Only fools and dead men don't change their minds. Fools won't. Dead men can't."—John H. Patterson.

EARL'S PEARLS: Next time you get the feeling things are worse than ever everywhere, think—maybe it's just that news coverage is better nowadays.

Bob Orben described a Broadway character: "He looks phony—he has the kind of face you'd expect to see on a $3 bill." . . . That's earl, brother.

Hatfield Says Rocky Flexible on Viet Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's position is flexible enough to unite Republicans on the Vietnam issue if he should become the party's presidential nominee.

Hatfield, a critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, said in an interview he does not believe that Rockefeller's general support of the course Johnson has pursued in Asia would preclude him from offering alternatives.

★ ★ ★

"I think Gov. Rockefeller's position on Vietnam is flexible," Hatfield said Wednesday. "I would have no hesitancy in supporting him if he were the nominee."

The Oregon senator added he isn't taking sides in the nomination contest.

Rockefeller's brother, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, Wednesday cheered on Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew's move to draft the New Yorker.

The action could come in a decision on whether to sign a noncandidate affidavit withdrawing his name if a state commission places it on the ballot in Wisconsin's April 2 primary. The withdrawal deadline there is Feb. 29.

UNTIL MARCH 15

However, if Romney took a shellacking in New Hampshire, Rockefeller would have until March 15 to decide what to do about the May 14 Nebraska primary and until March 22 to act on the May 28 Oregon primary.

Nobody expects Romney to quit, even if he loses heavily in New Hampshire, at least until he has tested his vote appeal in Wisconsin. So if there is any Rockefeller move it probably will have to be taken without any formal release from his commitment to Romney.

★ ★ ★

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, who has joined Rockefeller in supporting Romney, has made it clear he could transfer quickly to backing the New York governor if the latter would just indicate a willingness to run. Chafee heads the Republican governors association, which next meets in June.

★ ★ ★

Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico, who hasn't endorsed any candidate, said he thinks Rockefeller could be persuaded to run if enough governors got behind him."

The Wyoming state flower is the Indian paint brush.

'LBJ to Push Peace Before Escalation'

LANSING (UPI) — President Johnson will escalate efforts to hold peace negotiations in Vietnam before he escalates military action, Neil Staebler, Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, said yesterday.

Staebler said associates close to Johnson told other national committeemen that the administration is stepping up its attempts to hold peace negotiations. The conversations took place during a weekend Democratic party national meeting in Chicago, Staebler said.

"There was the general feeling that problems of the war are reaching a point where there will be widespread agreement in the method of handling the war," Staebler said in a telephone interview.

"The only kind of escalation that is going to occur is escalation in negotiations. Negotiations are very, very probable," he said.

★ ★ ★

Staebler also said there is "a very different spirit in the party" despite the peace candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., and other attacks on President Johnson's handling of the war.

DELEGATE STRENGTH

The Chicago meeting was called by Democratic National Committeeman John Bailey to outline delegate strength for each state at the national convention in the Windy City this summer.

Staebler said Michigan will gain two delegates to the convention, compared with the 94 who attended the 1964 gathering in Atlantic City, N. J.

John Glenn Hit Perigee in Life, Bounces Back

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I reached a low point in my life, but I've come back from it," said Col. John H. Glenn Jr.

BOYLE

Glenn, the first American astronaut to orbit the earth, makes his debut as a television star tonight in "Great Explorations," a new series on NBC-TV.

On the program Glenn will follow the route taken by journalist Henry Morton Stanley in his historic search for missionary David Livingston in Africa late in the last century.

RECALLS FLIGHT

Recalling his own historic orbital flight over the same territory in 1962, the colonel remarked:

"It took me 3 minutes and 20 seconds to cover the route it took Stanley 8½ months. I was traveling five miles a second. A lot of days Stanley didn't make that much a day."

No American of his generation ever received greater accolade than greeted Glenn after he piloted the Mercury Friendship 7 spacecraft on its successful three-orbit mission around the earth on Feb. 20, 1962. Honors were showered on him from all parts of the country. He received a hero's welcome wherever he went.

★ ★ ★

But personal disaster struck in 1964 when, after resigning from the Marine Corps, he announced plans to enter politics and seek election as U.S. senator from Ohio. A bathroom fall left him with an ear injury that forced him to abandon his political campaign.

★ ★ ★

Added to worry over his slow physical recuperation were the biggest financial troubles of his lifetime. The cancellation of his senatorial campaign left him and his backers facing thousands of dollars in unpaid bills. He could have ducked them but, characteristically, decided to shoulder them all himself.

★ ★ ★

Today he is completely recovered, both physically and financially.

DR. SAM RETURNS — Samuel H. Sheppard and his second wife, Ariane, look over the program of a medical meeting yesterday in downtown Cleveland. Sheppard, 44, recently was given back his license to practice osteopathy and hopes to return to the staff of a hospital in suburban Bay Village where his first wife, Marilyn, was bludgeoned to death in 1954. Sheppard was convicted of the killing and served 10 years in prison before a new trial acquitted him in 1966.

Record 15 Judges Hear Cases in U.S. Court

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A courtroom bench with seats for eight judges wasn't big enough for proceedings in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

It was necessary to expand a good-sized clerk's desk just below the original bench to accommodate seven additional judges.

★ ★ ★

That provided a double-tiered bench with a plush chair for each of the 15 jurists — a record number—sitting to hear cases in what ordinarily is the 11th floor courtroom of U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton.

"This is the only double-tiered bench in the United States," said Judge John R. Brown of Houston, who was named to chief judge last July after 12 years on the bench.

INTERRUPTIONS

Installing the 15 seats was simplified by the fact that the bench was designed for sessions in which all seven judges of the Southern District of Texas might take part.

Lawyers encountered frequent interrptions in arguing for the first time before 15 judges in the same case, each holding an option to ask questions whenever he chose.

★ ★ ★

"A lawyer has to be on his toes in representing his case before this group," said Singleton, 49, who was a spectator.

Brown indicated during an opening ceremony that additional "en banc" type hearings will be held by the circuit court.

"This is the way the court expresses its collective views," Brown said.

AS A BODY

Most Circuit Court cases are heard by three-judge panels. However, the entire court elected to hear the six cases on the Houston docket "en banc" or as a body, because of the significance of the constitutional issues to be decided.

The docket included four integration and civil rights cases from Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, a Houston income tax case and an appeal involving a Houston narcotics conviction.

★ ★ ★

"This is a historic occasion," Brown said in a brief opening Ceremony. This is the first time a federal constitutional court of 15 judges will be hearing cases."

Brown said for a brief time the U.S. Supreme Court had 10 judges, and a circuit court in Washington once convened with 12 judges.

He said four or five other cases probably will be heard "en banc" this year and the entire 5th Circuit will dispose of 950 cases.

The panel included 13 regular members of the fifth Circuit and two senior retired jurists. The circuit includes Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas and the Canal Zone.

Slaying Sentence

GRAYLING (AP) — Richard Peter Marsack, 18, of Roscommon has been sentenced to 5 to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson for the rifle slaying of a Roscommon County man. Marsack was sentenced Tuesday by Crawford County Circuit Judge Dennis O'Keef. A jury convicted him of manslaughter last Oct. 25. The victim, Roger Hartman of Higgins Township, was shot to death last July 2 in South Branch Township, Crawford County.

Citrus Fruit Is a Good Mixer

You'll travel in the right circles with your guests when you serve a generous platter of Florida grapefruit sections, orange slices and sweet onion rings.

ORANGE, GRAPEFRUIT and ONION SALAD

4 Florida oranges
4 Florida grapefruit
2 medium-sized sweet onions
Crisp salad greens

★ ★ ★

Chill fruit before preparing. To peel fruit, cut slice from top, then cut off peel round and round, spiral fashion. Go over fruit again, removing any remaining white membrane.

Slice oranges crosswise, ¼-inch thick. Remove grapefruit sections over bowl to retain juice. Slice onions ⅛-inch thick and separate slices into rings.

Arrange orange slices, grapefruit sections and onion rings on assorted salad greens and serve with Grapefruit French Dressing. Makes 6 servings.

Grapefruit French Dressing

⅔ cup salad oil
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup Florida grapefruit juice
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon tarragon or chopped parsley

★ ★ ★

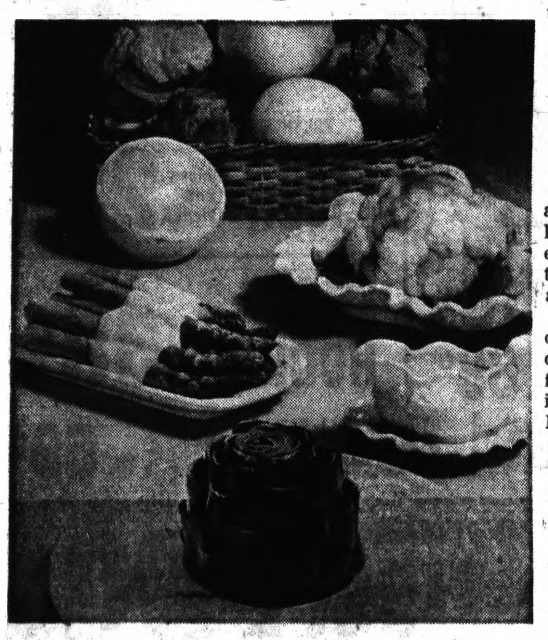
ORANGE, GRAPEFRUIT AND ONION SALAD



GRAPEFRUIT SAUCES

Grapefruit Juice Sauces Vegetables

What's for dinner? Something new and different with these vegetable recipes!

Artichokes in grapefruit butter, sweet-sour cauliflower, and asparagus blanketed in Florida Hollandaise will add color, texture and zestful flavor to winter menus.

ARTICHOKES IN GRAPEFRUIT BUTTER

2 artichokes
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons chopped-onion
3 tablespoons Florida grapefruit juice

Wash artichokes. Cut off tips and stalks. Remove tough outer leaves. Drop into boiling, salted water. Let simmer about 25 to 30 minutes or until leaves pull away easily.

Melt butter in saucepan; add onion. Saute until onion is tender, but not brown. Add grapefruit juice. Pour over artichokes in individual serving dishes. Makes 2 servings.

SWEET-SOUR CAULIFLOWER

1 medium head cauliflower
4 tablespoons butter
½ green pepper, sliced
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon powdered ginger
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
3 tablespoons Florida grapefruit juice
2-3 teaspoons soy sauce

Remove outer leaves and stalks of cauliflower. Wash well. Leave whole and place in boiling salted water in saucepan. Cook about 20 minutes or until tender.

While cauliflower is cooking, measure other ingredients. Drain cauliflower; place on warm dish while preparing sauce.

Melt butter in saucepan; add green pepper and saute until tender. Combine cornstarch, ginger and salt; stir in water, grapefruit juice and soy sauce. Add to green pepper and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce comes to a boil and is thickened.

Pour sauce over cauliflower and serve. Makes 3-4 servings.

FLORIDA HOLLLANDAISE

2 egg yolks
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
½ cup warm melted butter, divided
2 tablespoons Florida grapefruit juice

With hand or electric beater, beat yolks until thick and lemon colored; add salt and Tabasco. Add ¼ cup butter 1 teaspoon at a time beating constantly. Stir grapefruit juice into remaining butter.

Slowly add grapefruit butter 2 teaspoons at a time to sauce, beating constantly. Serve with cooked asparagus. Makes approximately ½ cup.

Note: Florida Hollandaise may be kept warm over hot water in double boiler.

Stuffing for Whitefish Contains Citrus Fruit

Cooks have known for years that lemon juice complements seafoods; but for a colorful, aromatic change, why not try baking in the flavor of other citrus juices, such as orange or grapefruit?

The delicate flavor of baked whitefish will be highlighted by the well-seasoned stuffing, which is complemented by orange and grapefruit sections. You will garner many sections of praise and flattery by serving Citrus-Stuffed Whitefish.

CITRUS STUFFED WHITEFISH

1 dressed whitefish (3 pounds) or other dressed fish, fresh or frozen
Salt
Pepper
Citrus Stuffing
2 tablespoons melted fat or oil

Thaw frozen fish. Clean, wash, and dry fish. Sprinkle inside with salt and pepper. Place fish on a well-greased bake and serve platter, 18 x 13 inches. Stuff fish loosely. Brush fish with fat.

Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 45 to 60 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

Citrus Stuffing

1-3 cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
3 cups toasted bread cubes
2 cups drained grapefruit and orange sections
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon poultry seasoning
Dash pepper

★ ★ ★

Cook celery and onion in butter until tender. Combine all ingredients. Makes 4 cups stuffing.

Zesty Addition

Mustard has been known to man since pre-historic times. In medieval days it was used to concoct love potions. Today, smart homemakers add a half teaspoon powdered mustard to a casserole of macaroni and cheese, or to a fish mousse or Welsh rabbit.

Crackers Have Meringue Hats

Here's a quick little cookie idea that young and old will love. Whip up a stiff meringue with one egg white, pinch of salt and four tablespoons sugar. Fold in ¼ cup chopped walnuts and spoon meringue into crisp crackers.

Top each with half of a candied cherry or semi-sweet chocolate pieces and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

Bacon Bits Add Crunch to Salad

Serve this "Tangy Bacon Salad" as a conversation-making first course for a fancy dinner, or as the accompaniment to a macaroni and cheese casserole.

The bite-size chunks of western iceberg lettuce give this salad a "crunchy" quality that is a pleasing contrast to soft foods. A sprinkling of toasted wheat germ or sesame seeds give it an exotic touch.

Tangy Bacon Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
¼ lb. sliced bacon (5 thick slices)
1-3 cup corn oil
¼ cup cider vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
¼ teaspoon rosemary, crumbled
1 small clove garlic, minced
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
⅓ cup wheat germ or sesame seeds

Core, rinse and drain lettuce. Break up head into bite-size chunks to measure about 6 cups. Chill in plastic crisper or disposable plastic bag until crackling crisp.

Fry bacon until crisp, drain on paper towels; crumble. Combine oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, rosemary and garlic in jar. Cover and shake to blend. Add crumbled bacon and eggs. Chill.

Toast wheat germ or sesame seeds on oiled pan in 350-degree oven until golden. Turn lettuce into salad bowl. Pour dressing over and toss very well to coat. Sprinkle with toasted wheat germ. Makes 6 servings.

Chinese Way to a Salad

Combine juicy fresh winter pears with sliced water chestnuts, diced green pepper, thinly sliced celery, green onions, bean sprouts and shredded Chinese cabbage.

★ ★ ★

Top with a dressing of ⅓ cup sesame seed oil, 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 1 teaspoon prepared mustard. Garnish the mixture with slivered toasted almonds.

ICED OATMEAL COOKIES — A quick and easy brown butter frosting elevates old fashioned oatmeal cookies to lofty elegance. You'll find economical evaporated milk used in both cookies and frosting.

Ice Oatmeal Drops for an Elegant Look

The odds-on favorite for stocking the cookie jar is a batch of old fashioned oatmeal cookies. This cookie of substance is great for munching with a glass of cold milk for a between-meal snack — for tucking in the lunch box with a crisp apple as a noon-time dessert — or to partner a dish of fruit or pudding at supper.

Though homespun in character, oatmeal cookies take on a lofty air when swirled with creamy frosting. Perfect flavor counterpoint for the lightly spiced cookies is brown butter frosting. Its magnificent flavor comes from butter first simmered to a light golden brown. The butter is then blended with confectioners sugar and double-rich evaporated milk for a satiny-smooth consistency.

Iced Oatmeal Cookies

- 1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
- 1 cup white sugar
- 1 cup butter
- 2 eggs
- 3 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1⅓ cups evaporated milk
- 3 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
- Brown butter frosting

In a large mixing bowl blend together sugars, butter and eggs until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg, baking powder and soda. Beat dry ingredients alternately with evaporated milk into butter mixture, beginning and ending with dry. Stir in rolled oats, blending well.

Refrigerate dough 2 hours. Drop by tablespoonsful onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) until light brown, about 15 to 18 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Remove from cookie sheets to wire racks to cool. When cool, frost tops with brown butter frosting. Makes about 7 dozen cookies.

Note: 1 to 2 cups raisins may be stirred into cookie dough, if desired.

Brown Butter Frosting

- ¼ cup butter
- 2½ cups unsifted confectioners sugar
- one-third cup evaporated milk

In a small saucepan melt butter; keep over low heat until it turns a light golden brown. Remove from heat. Stir in about a third of the sugar. Add evaporated milk and remaining sugar; beat until smooth.

Q. What's the name of this meat cut?

A. Pork arm steak.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It comes from the shoulder section of pork and is sometimes referred to as a shoulder steak. The cut is distinguished by a round bone or arm bone, which gives the cut its name. It is this bone which makes this steak different from that with the blade bone which is long and slender.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising or broiling. For braising, the pork arm steak is browned first in its own fat or in lard or drippings. The drippings are then poured off and a small amount of liquid is added. A tight cover and approximately 45 to 60 minutes cooking time are needed for steaks cut ¾ of an inch thick.

Pork steaks may be broiled indoors or out, provided temperature is kept moderate. When cut ½ inch thick, the total broiling time is 35 to 40 minutes.

Turn frequently to assure even browning.

Skim Milk Is Calorie Saver

A new salad surprisingly modest in calories is this jellied turkey cranberry mold. Skim milk is the ingredient that helps cut down on calories.

Skim milk is a handy ingredient to use in recipes, say home economists, when you want to keep the calories low and flavor and nutrition high. Only the butterfat has been removed from skim milk; all of the essential vitamins and minerals and proteins remain.

★ ★ ★

If you want to win the gratitude of your bridge or luncheon guests during the season, you'll occasionally offer them this simple, pretty salad as a mian dish.

Turkey Cranberry Mold

- 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- 1¾ cups skim milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ cup salad dressing
- 2 cups cubed cooked turkey
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ¼ cup cold water
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 1-lb. can whole cranberry sauce

Soften one tablespoon gelatin in ¼ cup skim milk for 5 minutes; dissolve over boiling water Add remaining milk and salt. Chill until thickened.

Beat until frothy. Fold in dressing, turkey and celery. Spoon in 8-inch square pan. Chill until partially set.

Soften one tablespoon gelatin in water. Dissolve over boiling water. Add lemon juice. Stir in to cranberry sauce. Spoon over first layer. Chill until firm.

A combination of cooked chicken livers, mushrooms and onion makes a delightful sauce for an omelet or shirred eggs.

Information Can Now Be on Caps and Bottles

Exemptions from fair packaging regulations that would allow required label information to appear on the caps and necks of soft drink bottles were proposed recently.

The Food and Drug Administration published this proposal in response to a petition by the National Soft Drink Association.

It would exempt soft drink bottles and carrying cartons from requirements in the general regulations regarding the placement of the statement of identity, the name and address of the company, and the declaration of net contents.

★ ★ ★

Under the proposal, the identity and the name and adress of the manufacturer, bottler, or distributor would appear on the bottle closure. This information would not have to appear again on the carrying carton if the labeling on individual bottles is not obscured.

The proposal also provides that the statement of contents could be blown, formed, or molded into the bottle surface at a location near the bottle cap, instead of appearing in the lower 30 percent of the principal display panel.

★ ★ ★

In its petition, the National Soft Drink Association said the consumer is accustomed to finding the identity statement on the bottle cap of soft drinks.

★ ★ ★

The proposed exemptions would allow the continued use of multi-use bottles and carrying cartons, permitting lower production costs and better retail values for consumers, the Association said.

The proposal was published Dec. 19 in the Federal Register. Comments may be submitted withing the next 60 days.

When you are making a cheese sauce, you might taste it before you add salt because cheese varies in saltiness.

School Districts Report Made

By DICK ROBINSON

Pontiac School District continues to be the largest in Oakland County, but the superintendent of the Royal Oak district is the best paid, a survey shows.

An annual Oakland Schools Intermediate District report indicates that Pontiac continues to enroll the largest number of students — 24,055 — in the intermediate district.

Twenty-eight local districts make up the intermediate district. All of the districts are in Oakland County with a few extending into surrounding counties.

Royal Oak is second in enrollment with 20,200 students. Other of the largest districts include Birmingham, 17,723; Waterford, 17,660; Southfield, 15,474, and Farmington, 15,264.

★ ★ ★

Southfield is the fastest growing district. Since 1963 it has gained more than 5,400 students. Others increasing at rapid paces are Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and Farmington.

BIGGEST LOSS

A total of 228,245 students are enrolled in the public schools of the 28 districts, about 6,900 more than a year ago. The 6,900 increase is the smallest since at least 1962.

Pontiac lost the most students — 785 — from the beginning of the 1966-67 school year to the end. Southfield gained the most, nearly 400 students.

About 29,710 students attend Oakland Schools District's nonpublic schools, 562 more than last year.

School-aged children 5 to 19 years totaled 278,889 in mid-1967, a gain of 8,430, while children from birth to 19 years totaled 357,309, a 6,427 increase.

$30,000 A YEAR

Schools Supt. Dr. Donald M. Currie of Royal Oak receives a $30,000 salary for the current school year, according to the report. It was a raise of $2,500.

Birmingham's superintendent was the highest paid in 1966-67 at $28,500 but he slipped into third place this year with no change in salary.

Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer has the second highest salary in the area at $29,900, a hike of $3,900.

LOWEST SALARY

The superintendent of Brandon schools receives the lowest salary in the intermediate district — $13,800.

The Madison superintendent is the district's senior superintendent with 28 years in his position with the superintendents of South Lyon and Oakland Schools following with 22 years.

The superintendent of South Lyon has the most years — 45 — in education.

★ ★ ★

"The usual care should be exercised in interpreting and using the statistical and financial data in the report," said Emerson.

REPORT HIGHLIGHTS

"Conclusions regarding the quality, effectiveness and adequacy of any educational program can only be drawn when a complete understanding has been reached of the many variables in a school operation."

Other highlights of the report for the 1966-67 school year follow:

- Best paid assistant superintendent — Oakland Schools, $23,000.
- Best paid senior high school principal — Pontiac, $19,550.
- Best paid junior high school principal — Bloomfield Hills, $17,770.
- Best paid elementary school principal — Bloomfield Hills, $17,800.

MOST EXPERIENCE

Of the top school administrators in the district, Mrs. Marion Hinkley, principal of Pontiac's Central Elementary School, is among those with the most experience in education — 46 years.

- High beginning teacher salaries — Avondale, Hazel Park and Oak Park, $6,400. High maximums for teachers with bachelors degree — Hazel Park, $10,378.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP BUBBLES

QUESTION: Why are soap bubbles round?

ANSWER: If you dip a pipe or bubble blower in soapy water and blow, a tiny bubble will begin to grow and get larger and larger. This effect is caused by surface tension, the pulling together of a liquid's open surface. Even clear water has this.

It is the surface tension which will cause a needle to float if we lower it very carefully onto the surface of a cup of water. But in the soapy water, the molecules act more strongly to hold together.

We might think of them as tiny molecule men who have linked hands to stay as close together as possible. The effect of such surface tension is to hold the surface area down to the smallest possible space. It is this which makes the soap bubble round.

The air from your breath forces the water film outward but the stubborn little soapwater molecule men hold together as much as they can. A sphere is the smallest shape which can enclose the volume of air you have blown, and so you have a round bubble.

Keep on blowing, and soon there will be too much for the little molecule men to enclose. Your beautiful bubble will burst.

Auto Industry Views 12 New Safety Standards

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Last month the federal government announced the details of 12 new safety standards it will require on automobiles and gave the industry until Jan. 26 to comment. Here is a special report on what the industry is likely to say.)

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT — "No sweat" was the initial reaction within the auto industry to 12 additional safety features newly proposed by the National Highway Safety Bureau.

An unanswered question, however, was whether the new features would increase prices, as did the Jan. 1 addition of mandatory shoulder harnesses,

The harnesses caused an increase ranging from $23 to $32 per car. This was on top of an average $116 increase announced in September for 1968 models, and blamed in part by manufacturers on newly required safety and smog-elimination features.

Eight of the proposed new features — to make cars safer for their occupants and pedestrians and to force drivers to lock unoccupied autos — would be required on all 1969 models built after next Jan. 1. The remaining four would be mandatory on Jan. 1, 1970.

'NO SURPRISES'

While anticipating "no sweat" would be required to meet the new proposals, some industry spokesmen said this didn't nessarily mean there might not be some objection to the costs involved in some or to making all 12 mandatory by the 1970 model run.

"There doesn't seem to be any surprises," said one.

Another reported "Most already are in the works or currently are on at least some of our cars."

★ ★ ★

The features which the National Highway Safety Bureau proposes were announced last year in broad terms and representatives of the bureau conferred with auto makers in mid-December before it was proposed Dec. 26 to make the 12 final.

REACTION ASKED

Auto makers were asked for pro and con reaction by Jan. 26. Pending submission of their formal reaction, none of the manufacturers would comment for publication.

Objections by manufacturers resulted in the shelving of three of 23 proposed features of 1968 models. The other 20, some altered from original proposals, finally were incorporated.

★ ★ ★

Various engineering units of the manufacturers now are working to put together or testing assemblies that would be required to meet any proposed new features not already in American-built cars.

One of the proposed features would be both a primary and secondary latch for hoods. This already is standard on all U.S. makes, but not some foreign-built cars.

ATTENTION-GETTER

Another new feature would outlaw pop-out windshields. No American-made cars now have these, but some European-built vehicles do.

U.S. manufacturers see no problem with an attention-getter when a key is left in the ignition switch after the meter is turned off. GM already has a buzzer to sound a warning.

Likewise, incorporation of a system that would lock either the steering column or the transmission at the same time the ignition is turned off would cause "no sweat." Opel and some other European makes now have one of the systems. Buick once had a combination ignition and steering lock.

Headrests to reduce the frequency and severity of neck injuries in rear-end collisions will cause no problem. These now are optional equipment and the originally proposed federal standard has been altered to meet currently prevailing heights.

One of the more costly items, not due until 1970 models, is a proposed fail-safe system of "eyelids" for concealed headlights. Manual opening and closing would be possible in event of power failure.

No problem is seen with a proposed requirement that ornamental exterior protrusions extend no more than half an inch from the surrounding surface or be so constructed that they will break away with a 10-pound force from any direction.

Locking systems to prevent accidental opening of rear doors by children or others already are available on some models.

★ ★ ★

The government's original step into the safety field was opposed strenuously by the industry, and the first federally proposed features brought strong protests and some governmental revisions.

But Thomas C. Mann, president of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, said in a year-end statement: "The industry believes that there is a role which the federal government must play and fully supports safety standards which are technologically and economically feasible."

Mann added the industry will not rely on government standards alone but will "continue to explore all avenues" in seeking safer automobiles.

"Every major safety development — from the replacement of the tiller with a steering wheel in 1900 to the energy absorbing steering column of today — has come from the industry," Mann said.

U. S.-Egypt Relations Survive

CAIRO (AP) — When you telephone the American Embassy in Cairo the greeting is: "Spanish Embassy."

No, it's not a wrong number. The red and yellow banner of Spain is flying from the building. The full response should be, "Spanish Embassy, American interests section."

★ ★ ★

Ever since Egypt broke relations with the United States at the outbreak of war last June, Spain has been the official custodian of U.S. interests here. The personnel includes a limited number of American nationals, and some veteran Egyptian employes, operating under the Spanish flag.

★ ★ ★

This is a relatively new wrinkle in diplomatic nonrelations, developed in recent years in this part of the world. In old-style diplomacy, a break in relations was complete. In Havana, for example, all the Americans left and the Swiss moved in to take over the U.S. Embassy on Washington's behalf. This is the sort of break that happens in case of war, too.

NOT A FULL BREAK

Such a full break did not happen here, Instead, through an exchange of formal notes via Madrid and New Delhi, it was agreed that some Americans would stay on in Cairo to handle embassy affairs under the Spanish flag, while some Egyptians remained in Washington under the Indian diplomatic cloak.

In addition, the two countries maintained consular relations.

Under these agreements Donald C. Bergus, a bluff and hearty career diplomat with many highly placed Egyptian friends from previous duty here, heads a staff which now has grown to 14 other Americans.

Bergus is the American ambassador in everything but name. He has diplomatic status as a member of the Spanish list. In all official business, Bergus and his staff are meticulous in identifying themselves as part of the Spanish Embassy.

The choice of Spain was a happy one. The Spanish ambassador is the widely respected Angel Sagaz Zubelzu, who has served in Washington and who was head of the Madrid Foreign Ministry's North American section before coming here.

FREE OF CHARGE

Usually when one country undertakes to handle another's affairs in such a situation, there is a price involved. In this case, Madrid said there would be no charge.

Under an agreement worked out in June, Bergus has the right to his own diplomatic courier. The courier takes Bergus' reports directly to Washington without having to pass through Madrid. Bergus uses his own code in communications with Washington. An Egyptian enjoys a corresponding status in Washington under the Indian flag.

★ ★ ★

Strictly speaking, Bergus cannot contact any Egyptian authority in an official capacity, but Bergus is also the duly acknowledged American consul general. Acting as consul, he can contact Egyptians on consular or commercial matters. And Bergus has ready access in high places on the personal, informal level.

★ ★ ★

At first, the Americans here were held to only three diplomatic officers and a handful of administrative aides. This has gradually been expanded until now the authorized American personnel is five diplomats and 10 "administrative" aides. Most of the so-called administrative aides are foreign service officers who have had to shed their diplomatic status for the time being. Two of these aides are women.

MISSIONS BOLSTERED

The latest increase, which brought the total of official Americans up to 15, came at the behest of the Egyptians who wished to bolster their mission in Washington with a man of ministerial rank, Ashraf Gharbal.

This is only one aspect of a gradual revival of an American presence here. The anti-American and antiforeign feeling which raged through the Cairo mobs last summer is gone.

★ ★ ★

One reason has been the sharp drop in the tourist trade, a source of livelihood for thousands of Egyptians.

Now every arriving American is heartily greeted in the hotels, the shops, at the monuments and the cultural sites as a harbinger of better times. Officials, eager to spur the country's limping economy, have trimmed their chauvinistic sails.

UNIVERSITY OPERATES

The American University of Cairo, a landmark near the center of town, operates with an American at the helm, although it remains under sequestration. The American Navy's medical mission is working, as usual, in its research into tropical disease.

American movies are back, much to the relief of moviegoers who found most Eastern bloc production heavy or just plain boring.

★ ★ ★

"The Chapman Report," based on Irving Wallace's novel, has drawn capacity crowds three times a day in one of Cairo's biggest movie houses. Another down the street features Doris Day in "Caprice" to equally large audiences.

American productions are also back on television screens. One of the most popular is "Peyton Place," with Arabic subtitles.

WIFE JOINS HIM

When the United States removed its ban on American travel to Egypt, Bergus promptly brought his wife out to join him.

Bergus reads and speaks Arabic fairly well. He once served in Baghdad, and more recently was "country director" for Egyptian affairs in the State Department. In 1964 he was here as embassy political officer.

Bergus is on excellent terms with Sagaz, his nominal superior under the Spanish umbrella. He greets an occasional visitor: "Buenos dias, amigo!"

Scientists have produced the first durable hybrids between the cells of man and other species.

Card Scandal in Background

Drama Underlies Friars' Fun

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It was one of those roastmaster dinners the Friars Club has been giving for 20 years, but this time there was drama underlying the hilarity.

THOMAS

Everyone in the International Ballroom of the Beverly Hilton Hotel was aware of the scandal that had rocked the Friars Club in recent months. After a long investigation, six men were indicted on accusations that they put peepholes in the ceiling of the club's card room and cheated Harry Karl, Tony Martin, Zeppo Marx and other members out of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

★ ★ ★

The Friars Club, which started as a fraternal group for actors and later extended its membership to others, obviously was aiming to repair its image. A press release pointed out the club's benevolences—Christmas baskets to the poor, toys for needy children, entertaining of oldsters from the film industry's retirement home.

There was a restrained air as a dozen of the nation's leading comics gathered for a reception before the dinner. George Jessel, who always presides at these affairs, was asked if he had requested his colleagues to lay off jokes about the scandal.

OPENING REMARK

"How can I tell these guys what they can or cannot say?" he replied. "But I do intend to make an opening remark which may take care of the situation."

He told the audience that the Friars have now contributed more than $4 million to charity and added: "Such an effort to the benefit of mankind is much more important than a few holes in the ceiling."

★ ★ ★

Jessel didn't quite succeed in squelching gags. Corbett Monica cracked: "This dinner is so packed that a lot of Friars couldn't get in. They're watching the show through peepholes in the ceiling."

George Burns, commenting on Jessel's penchant for eulogizing at funerals, declared that Jessel practiced one of his tributes at the Friars Club and it was so effective "that tears came out of little holes in the ceiling."

Milton Berle presented a bunch of gag gifts to the guest of honor, Joey Bishop, and among them was "a periscope from the boys in the card room at the Friars Club."

Otherwise the comics aimed their barbs at each other and especially Joey.

The affale Bishop remained good-natured through it all. Among remarks aimed at him:

Jack Benny—"This Ted Mack discovery ..."

Jack Carter—"Joey's is the only live show with a dead host."

Milton Berle—"Joey gave up comedy to go on ABC."

Henny Youngman—"He's the only comedian who went on the third network and in one season made it the fourth network."

Pat Henry — "He has the personality of the back wall of a handball court."

Don Rickles—"His personality doesn't light up a room."

Such is a Friars method of paying tribute to a star, but Joey accepted with thanks, telling his fellow funnymen, "All of you were brilliant."

Minimelons Grown in U. S.

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The first of canteloupe-sized "miniwatermelons" was harvested in California last fall by a young Japanese-American who brought the seeds from his father's farm near the ancient Japanese captial of Kyoto.

Twenty-five-year-old John Nishizawa introduced the Japane "Kodama" watermelon to the U. S. last spring when he set out 100 plants on an experimental basis on his father-in-law's farm near Byron, Calif.

The plants mature yeilding 10 to 15 minimelons per plant. The young farmer placed 20 of them in a local grocery store and they were all snapped up over a weekend.

Nishizawa migrated to the United States after participating in the California Farm Bureau's Young Japanese Farmer Training program.

Tax on Travel Abroad Would Set U.S. Precedent

WASHINGTON (AP) — A direct tax on travel abroad—a possibility under discussion within the government—is unprecedented in American history.

Even during World War I and World War II, no tourist tax of the type now being considered was imposed on U.S. citizens, say government officials.

* * *

As of now, the travel part of the administration's program to reduce by $3 billion the U.S. balance of payments deficit is confined to a request by President Johnson for Americans to defer for two years unnecessary travel outside the Western Hemisphere.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler plans to get together with key members of Congress soon after it reconvenes next Monday to work out a possible tax to discourage travel abroad.

A head tax or a tax on the number of days a person remains abroad are considered major possibilities.

But Congress will have the last word, and the outcome at this point is uncertain.

* * *

During World War II Americans were prevented from traveling abroad by the war itself and the government imposed a tax which ranged up to 15 per cent on domestic train, bus and plane tickets to raise revenue and to discourage travel at home.

This tax has been repealed except for airline tickets, on which a five per cent levy is still collected.

WARTIME PRIORITIES

Priorities for travel also were established, and passport restrictions were in effect after the war to limit travel.

One government source who declined to be quoted by name predicted a tourist tax will never pass Congress. "It isn't going to stop people who spend the most money," the source said.

* * *

Despite the travel gap which is estimated at $2 billion for 1967, foreigners came to the United States in unprecedented numbers last year.

'Stokely Spurs D.C. Negro Unit'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Black Power firebrand Stokely Carmichael has spurred formation in Washington of a "Black United Front" to organize the city's Negroes—a majority of its residents—says the Washington Post.

The newspaper said today that Carmichael, former chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, led a closed meeting of about 100 civil rights leaders at which the so-called front was formed.

Citizen Patrols Suggested

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., suggests citizen patrols to help combat crime in individual neighborhoods.

"There is no reason why you cannot help patrol your own communities to discourage property theft," he told a meeting of the Nassau County Crime Council.

Kennedy, a former attorney general, said citizen patrols have helped prevent crime and violence in areas far more dangerous than this suburban county of Long Island.

The nation's rising crime rate is "a national issue which requires action," he said.

His prepared remarks were for delivery at the meeting today.

In another speech, Kennedy told the Long Island Federation of Labor, meeting at Garden City, that its members had the skills to help solve problems of New York City, including transportation, housing and pollution.

Detroit Hit-Runs Are Up Since Implied Consent Law Passed

DETROIT (AP)—The monthly average of hit and run auto accidents rose in Detroit in 1967 after passage of the statewide implied consent law, although police say the increase may be coincidental.

Patrolman Joseph Berri of the Accident Prevention Bureau said it was too early to draw any definite connection between the rise and the new law that became effective Nov. 2.

The total of hit-runs for the year was 12,537, up 7.7 per cent from 1966.

There was an average of 1,005 for the first 10 months of the year, but the average for the last two months was 1,243.

Berri pointed out that there usually is a seasonal increase in hit-runs as the weather turns cold and roads are icy or snow-covered.

However, the figures show that the seasonal rise during the unusually mild months of November and December 1967 was 23.7 per cent, compared with the seasonal rise of 21 per cent during the blizzard-ridden November and December of 1966.

* * *

Statewide figures on hit-run will not be available until March. But a State Police spokesman said the trend usually follows Detroit, Michigan's largest city, with 25 per cent of its population.

* * *

Neither city nor state figures on total accidents, other than those involving fatalities, are complete yet.

* * *

"It's hard to pinpoint why there is an increase in the totals," Berri said. "People panic when they get in an accident and don't know what to do."

* * *

He said that some people don't want to be arrested for drunken driving, but added that most were insured motorists with valid driver's licenses.

* * *

"The guy who is involved in a hit-run accident after he has been drinking probably finds it better to leave the scene of the accident because a couple of weeks later if he reports his hit-run police will be unable to determine whether he had been drinking or not," Berri said.

* * *

"Except for severe injury hit-runs, punishment for the guilty party is relatively minor compared to the punishment drinking drivers would probably receive," Berri added.

For these reasons, he said, convictions for hit-run rarely are accompanied by convictions for drunken driving.

* * *

Although statistics show a rise in hit-run accidents since passage of implied consent — whether there is a connection or not — both Detroit and State Police praise the law as a needed tool in traffic safety enforcement.

Junior Colleges Hit Draft Status

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Newsfeatures

WASHINGTON — The word here is that junior colleges are up in arms because their students — the ones not taking courses leading to a four-year baccalaureate degree — don't get student draft deferments. They can get occupational deferments.

BAULCH

Selective Service issued that rule because the new draft law says a student, to be eligible for student deferment, must complete one-fourth of the requirement toward a baccalaureate degree each school year.

Actually, there is some advantage to a 2A deferment, because it doesn't prevent possible future deferment as a father, as does the student 2S deferment.

Democratic Sen. Wright Patman of Texas says however that a 2A makes junior college students feel like they're being categorized in the working class, because a regular student deferment is more prestigious. Patman is offering legislation to get them regular 2S deferments.

If you're in the armed forces and take out commercial life insurance — to supplement the in-service $10,000 policy you get for $2 a month — pay the first premium by cash rather than allotment.

Otherwise you'll be without immediate coverage under the extra policy because a commercial policy is not binding on a company until the first payment has been made. It'll take about 30 days before your first allotment reaches the company.

And, by the way, the Federal Trade Commission is warning parents of servicemen to be wary of commercial life insurance policies which imply they are sponsored by the federal government.

The government-sponsored policy which servicemen are entitled to provides for automatic coverage the minute they enter service unless they say in writing they don't want it. No selling or advertising is necessary.

If a member of your family is in military service you can now display in your window or on a flagstaff the new service flag. You're also eligible to wear a lapel button.

Both the service flag and lapel button are basically the same as those of World War II — a blue star on a field of white surrounded by a red border, rectangular in shape.

If you have two or more members of your immediate family in service your flag may have as many stars, and so may the lapel button. In case anyone of your family dies in service a smaller gold star is superimposed over and within the border of the blue star.

You are allowed to display the flag and wear the lapel button only so long as a member of your immediate family is on active duty during the period of hostilities. However, those whose sons and brothers die in service may continue to display the flag and wear the button.

Organizations of various types — such as Lions Clubs, Rotary, Elks — may display a service flag too when a member is on active duty. Arabic numerals below a single blue star are used to denote how many members of the organization are on active duty. When a member of the organization is killed in service a gold star is added with numbers showing how many died in service.

The lapel button is supposed to measure 3/16 by 3/8 inches. There is no set size for the flag just so long as it isn't larger than the U.S. flag when the two are displayed together.

The flags and emblems are expected to be available soon in local stores through normal commercial channels. However, the Pentagon is cautioning makers and sellers of the buttons and flags against their use for any commercial or advertising purposes.

The Guns of Judgment Day

Cliff Farrell's new Western thriller

From the Doubleday & Co. novel; Copyright © 1967, by Cliff Farrell. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Dan Briscoe, going on patrol in Yellow Lance as night marshal, felt this might be the last night. The more a man with a reputation as a killer comes up against another with guns in his hands, the shorter the odds he's going to survive. Dan didn't want to kill, but he did want to survive — and without running.

Chapter 2

More visitors were at the door. Dan Briscoe admitted John Cass, mayor of Yellow Lance, and the day marshal, Frank Buckman.

John Cass evidently knew the purpose that thad brought the churchmen here. He eyed them, but they shook their heads resignedly.

Frank Buckman saw the message also. "Then you are goin' down there, Dan?" he exclaimed.

He gazed at Dan's garb with envy. He was tall, towheaded, with frank open features and blue eyes that held no secrets in storm, or fair weather.

He had stated that he was 24 years old when the town council had hired him three months previously as day marshal, but Dan was certain he was stretching his age by three or four years at least.

Frank was driven by untried youth's desire to make the world notice him.

Frank added, "I'm goin' with you."

"This is my chore, Frank," Dan said. "It likely won't amount to anything. Making a brag is one thing. Backing it up is something else. They generally cave in. It's probably only whisky talk."

"These are the Hatch brothers," Frank said. "They're not talking. And not drinking. They mean business. At least Jess Hatch does. He's the proud one. Dangerous."

"I'll take care of it," Dan said. "One way or another."

"I tell you I'm goin' with—!"

"And I tell you this is my possum to tree!" Dan said. "Don't you understand? I can't back down—"

He broke off. What was the use of pointing out that Frank's own life wouldn't be worth much if Diamond Dan Briscoe didn't meet this head on?

There'd be 40 cowboys in town tonight, drinking and headstrong.

The majority of them sprang from Texas stock, and their feud with town marshals was in their heritage, dating back to the days when their fathers came up the trail with the longhorns.

There were other reasons, but Dan didn't mention them. There was his own pride, his own reputation, the image of invincibility he had built up.

There was the fear that shook the nerves of opponents when they thought of facing Diamond Dan Briscoe. Arrogance, self-confidence, conceit. The diamonds, the suave, handsome, perfectly groomed law officer whose every movement reeked of superiority.

That was the image. That was the impression Dan had nurtured in the minds of men until it had become his armor.

It had succeeded in the past. It had impressed faster men, caused them to avoid Yellow Lance, or to be law-abiding within Dan's jurisdiction. The image of Diamond Dan cast a long shadow.

"We could stop you," John Cass said.

Dan eyed him thoughtfully. "You mean by taking my badge away, John? It's too late for that, today, at least."

The Mayor turned appealingly to the two clerics. They shrugged hopelessly. "Pride is a terrible thing," Father O'Brien said. "Do you want me to pray for you, Daniel?"

"If it would help you, Father."

Dan saw the sadness in the faces of the two churchmen as they left. So they knew that he was afraid. How had they discovered that?

This time, above all, he had wanted the world to believe he was supremely confident, scornful of the men who challenged him. But they knew of the break in his armor.

John Cass and young Buckman lingered. "The clerk told me to tell you there's a lady to see you, Dan," the Mayor said.

"A lady? How could he tell? Do they wear a brand?"

"I couldn't say. He seemed to think she wasn't just another woman. She was a lady. She's waiting in the sitting room, I believe."

"That would be a real novelty," Dan said. "I've never met a lady. I'll see her later, maybe. If —" He checked it. He had been about to say, "If I'm still alive."

Instead, he added, "She'll have to wait her turn. What's her grudge?"

"She didn't say. But not everybody has a score to settle with you, Dan. It might be worth while to see her."

Dan walked to a guncase that was bolted to the wall. He fished a key from his pocket and opened the case. Hunting rifles and fowling pieces were racked there. Also a doubled-barreled buckshot gun, short and wicked.

A brace of silverchased Colt .44's hung on pegs in cutaway holsters that were embossed with hand-tooled designs in the shape of sunbursts, with small diamonds at their centers. The pistols were flashy, expensive weapons that had been made to order.

Their action and weight were balanced to the finest degree. The holsters, with all their outer display, were practically made of hard leather, with their inner surfaces smoothly waxed so as not to impede the draw.

Dan rarely carried more than one of these ornate weapons while on duty. This time he buckled on both guns.

Frank Buckman was watching every move. "Some day," Frank said fervently, "I'm goin' to show 'em a thing or two myself."

"Get out of this business, Frank," Dan said harshly. "While you're still young—and alive."

You're still alive, ain't you?" Frank said, offended. "You've done pretty well at it. Fancy guns, fancy clothes. Fast horses to ride, and women hangin' to your arm whenever you want 'em around. All the spendin' money you need."

"Everything's fast in this business," Dan said. "The grudges pile up in a hurry too, like the one festering out there."

"We can take care o' that!" Frank snorted.

"I tell you, you're not in this, Frank. This has got to be settled by me."

"Blast it, Dan. I could handle them two all by myself!"

"Of course you could," Dan said. "You could arrest them for carrying weapons off limits. They'd be fined a few dollars. Then they'd come back. I'm the one who's got to settle this, once and for all."

"I know how it'll be," Frank said petulantly. "They'll cave in when you walk in there."

"I surely hope so," Dan said.

"You an' your fancy clothes an' your $300 guns!" Frank snorted. He wheeled and stalked out of the room.

Dan looked at John Cass. "Frank's in the wrong business," he said. "He doesn't understand about the fancy clothes and the guns. He hasn't learned that you've got to make them believe they're in too steep."

"It takes a little more than that, Dan," the Mayor said.

Dan looked at his watch. "It's still Frank's shift by more than 20 minutes. I wouldn't want to try to make an arrest on his time.

"Pride is a fearful thing. For Frank. For everyone. For me. But it's worse when you're young, like Frank, and think you have to prove that you're tough."

He added, forcing lightness: "Suppertime. This is elk steak day at Ma Murphy's. Let's go."

Social Security—9

Setup to Hit Staggering Size

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the ninth of a series analyzing the changes currently being made in the Social Security and Medicare regulations.)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON — Social Security, a mammoth enterprise already, will begin to take on truly staggering proportions in a bit more than three decades—in the year 2000.

Presently there are just under 24 million Americans drawing retirement, survivor's, or disability benefits — not to mention the added protection most of these are getting under Medicare.

Official estimates for the number likely to be drawing payments in 2000 range from 37 million to 42 million.

If that does not seem a large rise, consider the outlook for 2025, when the number of benefit recipients is estimated to range from 53.7 million to 59.6 million.

★ ★ ★

So, when one talks of "future coverage" in Social Security, what is involved is simply a steady enlargement of numbers of people in categories already covered. (There are today no signicant groups of Americans not covered by Social Security or by other social insurance plans under civil service and railroad retirement.)

The enlargement of numbers is a consequence of several factors — basic population growth, a soaring total of aged persons in absolute terms though not significantly in percentage of the over-all population, advances in medicine and diet which are keeping people alive longer and longer and hence on Social Security rolls longer.

Population age trends evidently have swung through several cycles. For a time two decades or more ago, it seemed accurate and was quite fashionable to say that the American population was, proportionately, aging fast.

More recently, a "youthening" trend was detected, but public figures tended to overstate it. The median age never did drop to 25, as some politicians and others asserted. It is around 27 now, and rising slightly as birth rates, at least for the time, have slipped off.

But the country's total population is today so huge, having passed 200 million and being bent, apparently, on a still higher course, that absolute numbers in all age groups are tremendous.

FOLKS LIVE LONGER

At the aged end of the spectrum, the trend is magnified by health advances (and, of course, the very treatments made possible now under Social Security's Medicare features) which keep tens of thousands alive longer than a few decades back.

In this country today there are an estimated 13,000 people 100 years of age or older. Not long ago, the centenarians could be counted on the fingers of a few hands.

More remarkable still, the Census Bureau estimates that there are 240,000 Americans 90 years old or more.

These particular aged folk are too old today to have done the work and piled up the earnings needed to qualify for any but the most limited special Social Security benefits. But they are a harbinger of the future.

LONG TIME

Those who replace them later in the upper age brackets WILL be qualified — and will draw benefits a long time.

★ ★ ★

These are the operative trends for anyone interested in Social Security's future coverage, since coverage across the work spectrum is nearly universal today. The only new group brought under the tent by the 1967 law were clergymen.

★ ★ ★

(NEXT: Many of Young Benefit.)

Okay, Cat! You've Got Eight Left

A 1-year-old tomcat is expected to survive after miraculously escaping death Tuesday afternoon following a 10-minute ride in the engine compartment of his owners' car.

Robert M. Donnelly of 6255 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, said the cat apparently crawled into the engine compartment from underneath the car to keep warm.

He said he and his wife, didn't realize the animal was under the hood until they reached the driveway of their home and heard him crying.

Mrs. Donnelly looked under the hood and found the cat caught in the fan belt.

★ ★ ★

She promptly summoned township firemen who managed to untangle the cat who was then rushed to a veterinarian.

Donnelly said the black cat, named Puff, received a concussion and a back gash which caused temporary paralysis to his front paws.

Propane Blast Burns Cadillac Man

CADILLAC, (AP) — Charles Kline, 23, of Cadillac, burned in explosions and fire which destroyed a bottled propane gas storage and filling shed in Cadillac, was in fair condition today at Mercy Hospital with charring and blistering burns on the hands and face.

Kline was leaving a shed at the Michigan Bottled Gas Co. when the explosions occurred.

A co-worker, William McNitt, son of the firm's manager, Merlin McNitt, ripped the flaming garments from Kline.

★ ★ ★

Cause of the explosions was under investigation. Merlin McNitt could not immediately estimate the loss.

Turbine Truck Engine Is Demonstrated

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — International Harvester demonstrated a prototype gas turbine truck engine today and said it hoped to have it in production by 1970.

The engine was designed to replace diesel truck engines in the range above 300 horsepower.

★ ★ ★

"We are approaching the time when turbine fuel economy added to its lighter weight, smaller size, lower maintenance and higher reliability will make it a tough competitor for the diesel in long-haul applications," a company spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

In addition, gas turbine engines have extremely low exhaust emissions and their replacement of diesels could provide a contribution in solving the nation's air pollution problem.

New Violence Is Reported in Red China

TOKYO (AP)—A year and a half after the start of Mao Tse-tung's "cultural revolution" purge, a Maoist newspaper reports "hoodlum and delinquent gangs" who want capitalism have started new violence in Shanghai, Red China's largest city.

The gangs went on a rampage recently as "a last-ditch, life or death struggle waged by the enemy against us," says the Dec. 27 edition of the Liberation Daily a translation of which became available in Tokyo today.

The newspaper also reported a split in the workers' movement in the port city of 10 million people and said "class enemies" have been uncovered throughout the educational system and in literature, art, publication and press organizations.

This suggests that the Shanghai Revolutionary Committee — formed recently with Mao's blessing—does not yet exercise complete control over the city.

The Dec. 25 issue of Liberation Daily said the anti-Mao "Workers' Red Militia," formed early in the cultural revolution purge, continues "to carry out underground activities and organized a Red militia under a different form, in order to conspire for a counterseizure of power."

The newspaper's Dec. 27 issue said: "The hoodlum and delinquent gangs are social forces with political overtones. They are out-and-out enemies of the people. What they want is capitalism; what we want is socialism . . ."

Findings of 5-Year Study Reported

White Environment May Hurt Retardate

Youngsters of below-average intelligence may actually be crippled by the same middle-class environment which produces excellence in average and above-average children.

This concluusion is based on findings from a five-year study recently completed by Michigan State University in cooperation with the Chicago Jewish Vocational Service.

The U.S. Office of Education-founded project studied group of educable mentally retarded youngsters in Chicago from age 14 until they reached 19.

Objectives of the study were to observe the process of vocational development in these groups, examine the effects of early training programs and to identify elements which might hinder the success of such youngsters.

★ ★ ★

"It is clear that the environment from which handicapped children come is a major determinant of their vocational development," says Dr. Lee S. Shulman, project director.

DIFFERENCES CITED

Shulman, associate professor of educational psychology at MSU, found differences between Negro and white students in the groups.

Among the subjects, all of whom had been classified by Chicago public schools as mentally retarded, Negroes were consistently superior to white students.

★ ★ ★

Over 70 per cent of the Negroes were in the high-employability group compared with 36 per cent of the whites.

"It appears that Negro and white parents react differently to having their children labeled as mentally retarded," Shulman explains.

"In middle-class white families, the consequences of such labeling usually results in social isolation for the child. Lower-class Negro families seem to treat mentally retarded children very much as they do other youngsters in the family."

The differences, he points out, between Negroes and whites in the study may be due to the fact that standardized intelligence tests are less accurate for Negro mentally retarded youngsters than they are for middle-class white children.

★ ★ ★

Due to such inaccuracy of the tests, he adds, some of the Negroes in the study should not have been classified as mentally retarded.

The study shows that intelligence tests used to screen job applicants are less valid for Negroes than for whites.

The project also identifies tests which would better predict employability of Negroes.

According to the study, the particular workshop - centered vocational program used in the project did not apppear to accelerate or improve vocational development among mentally retarded youngsters.

★ ★ ★

However, some of the study findings suggest a number of promising alternative approaches in programming vocational development for handicapped adolescents.

★ ★ ★

The study demonstrates that it is possible to make accurate predictions of employment success among educable mentally retarded youngsters based on early evaluations of vocational development.

Vocational Center Gets the Go-Ahead

Pontiac's Board of Education last night declared its intent to construct and operate one of four Oakland County Area Vocational Centers.

The voter-approved centers, funded by Oakland Schools Intermediate District, are expansions of high school vocational education programs.

Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said sites for the Pontiac center are being considered adjacent to Northern High School and school-owned property on Featherstone.

Oakland Schools School Board has elected Pontiac, Royal Oak, Walled Lake and Clarkston as possible locations for the centers.

Any qualified Oakland County high school senior may attend the Pontiac center.

Whitmer, however, said the Pontiac center will mainly serve the school districts of Lake Orion, Oxford, Avondale, Rochester and Pontiac.

Students who attend the vocational center will remain as enrollees of their home high school which they will attend for a half day. The other half day will be spent at the center.

Each local district will furnish transportation for its students going to the centers.

★ ★ ★

In other business, the board approved a resolution for the establishment of an extension office of Oakland Community College in the school district's department of adult education.

OCC courses would be conducted in the school district under the proposal.

Income from student fees and tuition will be deposited in an OCC account in a fund for the Pontiac extension program.

Trustees congratulated Whitmer for recently being elected to a three-year term on the executive committee of the American Association of School Administrators.

County Mulling Labor Decision

Aide Admits Confusion on Bargaining Order

"We have an order to cease and desist but we're not sure what it is we're supposed to stop doing," said Glenn Dick, Oakland County assistant director of personnel.

Dick confessed confusion on the ruling of the State Labor Mediation Board concerning Council 23 of the State, County and Municipal Employes, representing workers for the county sheriff.

The mediation board issued a ruling on a case brought June 9, 1966, against the sheriff and the county for "failure to bargain in good faith" with the organization. The ruling judged them guilty.

However, Dick discovered yesterday that the decision was 102 pages long and included written opinions by each of the judges on four main issues.

★ ★ ★

The judges also voted differently on various issues, Dick said. As an example, he said that two of the three favored the county in its contention that a union shop in a public agency was illegal.

APPEAL LIKELY

"It's wild," Dick commented, and said the county will consult with its legal department to attempt to discover what steps should be taken next. The case will probably have to be appealed to the State Court of Appeals, Dick said.

"We'll probably have to appeal the case just to find out what the decision means," he added.

The decision is said to be the first on public employes' bargaining rights.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Frank Irons and the Oakland County Board of Supervisors were charged with refusing to bargain on union security for workers and refusing to accept binding arbitration as a principle.

76 Deaths in Weather Onslaught

By The Associated Press

A siege of bitter cold weather hung onto the Northeast today while a paralyzing ice storm glazed parts of the Southeast and heavy snows belted the Central Rockies.

Deaths from the five-day onslaught of severe weather mounted to 76. Traffic accidents on ice- and snow-coated roads, exposure, fires due to faulty heating systems and heart attacks brought on by snow shoveling were among causes for the toll.

★ ★ ★

The mercury fell to 28 below zero at Massena, in upstate New York, before dawn. Glens Falls, N.Y., registered —27 and Albany —24.

Massena's temperature broke a record in below-zero longevity there. The mercury remained below zero 87 hours in December 1955, and today's report surpassed that mark.

NEW ENGLAND CHILLED

The subzero chill also hung onto most of New England.

A second night of snow, sleet and freezing rain brought activity in much of North Carolina to a virtual standstill. The highway patrol urged motorists to use roads only in emergencies. Schools that had reopened closed early Wednesday afternoon as did numerous businesses.

Tree limbs weighted down by a growing accumulation of ice crashed down on power lines, blacking out portions of Raleigh.

★ ★ ★

The storm moving up the Southeast coastal region scattered the same icy mixture into South Carolina and Virginia and parts of Tennessee and Kentucky as well. Roads, trees and wires were ice-covered over a wide area. Heavy rain soaked the Carolina coast.

The snow and ice accumulated to depths of 3 inches in several localities along the Virginia-North Carolina border during the night. Farther inland the mountains of North Carolina were blanketed under several inches of snow.

Winner Takes League Lead

Lakers, Northville in Cage Showdown

There's room for only one at the top so someone will have to move aside when Northville and West Bloomfield tangle in the top Wayne - Oakland League contest tomorrow night.

They go into the game with 5-0 records and the game is slated for an 8 p.m. tipoff on the Northville court.

All but those two appear out of the title picture in the W-O, since the third-place squad is two games off the pace.

Other games in the circuit tomorrow night have Brighton at Bloomfield Hills Andover, Clarkston at Milford and Clarenceville at Holly.

★ ★ ★

A hot contest in the Oakland A League finds Rochester at Avondale, while the three coleaders are favored in their respective games.

OTHER GAMES

While that one's in progress, Utica will visit Lake Orion (4-1), Romeo (4-1) is at Madison and Troy (4-1) entertains Clawson.

Coach Art Paddy and the West Bloomfield Lakers will be hoping to correct shooting problems they ran into in a 53-47 loss at Walled Lake Tuesday night. It was the lone loss in seven starts for the Lakers.

The Lakers had plenty of shots, but made a paltry 17 per cent, their worst performance in some time.

Northville owns a 7-2 record, and the Mustangs may just be ready to hit their stride after dropping those two contests in a holiday tournament.

★ ★ ★

Jim Peterson, who was used sparingly during the tourney games because of a bad ankle, is operating at top form now and should give the Mustangs a big lift.

Clarkston beat Holly to end a three-game losing streak last week, and the Wolves should remain on the winning trail when they take on the winless Milford Redskins (0-6).

★ ★ ★

Andover, now with a 3-3 mark, is favored to stop Brighton and then start tuning for the big clash Friday at West Bloomfield.

While Rochester owns an unimpressive 2-3 mark in league play, the Falcons are only two games off the pace and could figure in the title race if other teams around the loop cooperate.

Avondale is winless in five league outings and victorious but once in seven tries.

★ ★ ★

Troy should get past Clawson and Lake Orion is expected to take the measure of Utica, but Romeo could have a problem a Madison. Madison is inclined to slow the game down and that could upset the fast-breaking Romeo offense.

Red Wings Contribute to Leafs' Party

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1968 D—1
SPORTS

Toronto Hands Visiting Detroit 2-1 Ice Setback

TORONTO (UPI) — Frank Mahovlich blew out the candles on the Detroit Red Wings.

Mahovlich, the burly winger of the Toronto Maple Leafs, turned his 30th birthday into a party as he scored both his team's goals in a 2-1 victory over the Red Wings Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The goals, the 289th and 290th of Mahovlich's National Hockey League career, enabled the Leafs to move within two points of second-place Boston in the Eastern Division race.

IN LAST PLACE

It was the third straight loss for the Wings and left them in last place, two points behind New York.

Mahovlich opened the scoring at 8:17 of the first period by deflecting a shot from teammate Dave Keon past Detroit goalie Roy Edwards.

Ron Ellis had fired the puck from the blueline at Edwards and Keon controlled the rebound, holding the puck until the goalie was screened, then shooting low.

★ ★ ★

The Wings tied it up less than two minutes later when Dean Prentice batted in an intercepted pass for his 10th goal of the season. Kent Douglas, playing his first game in a Red Wings uniform, and Norm Ullman drew assists on the goal.

MAKES OPPORTUNITY

Mahovlich made his own opportunity in the second period, stealing the puck from Detroit defenseman Gary Bergman and racing in on Edwards for the winning goal at 10:14.

He faked Edwards out of position, then backhanded the puck into the net.

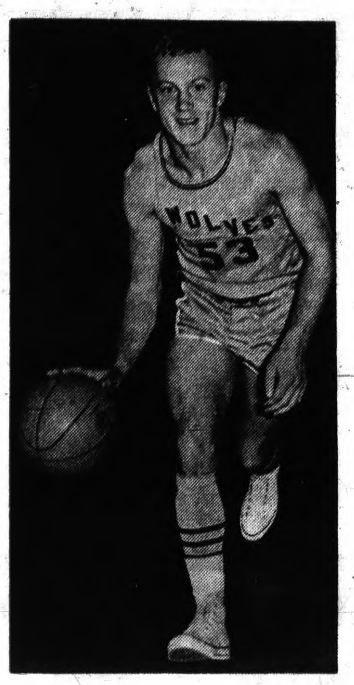
Edwards turned aside 41 shots while Toronto's Bruce Gamble stopped 35.

The Oakland Seals, who sent Douglas to the Wings Tuesday in exchange for Ted Hampson and Bert Marshall, found their new teammates much to their liking.

★ ★ ★

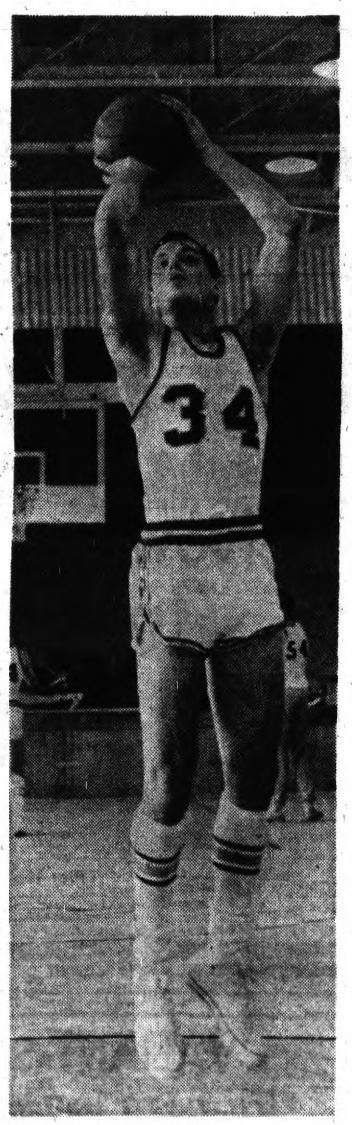
Hampson picked up a rebound from Marshall and batted it in at 11:12 of the third period to give the Seals a 2-2 tie with St. Louis in another NHL game Wednesday night.

In other action, the front-running Chicago Black Hawks lengthened their lead to four points over the idle Boston Bruins by earning a 3-3 deadlock with New York; Montreal edged Pittsburgh 4-2, and Minnesota whipped Philadelphia 6-4 to take over second place in the West.



AP Wirephoto

SPARKS WOLVES — Clarkston ended a three-game losing streak last week in downing Holly, and pacing the attack for the Wolves was Mark Erickson, who tossed in 19 points. Erickson and his mates will be trying to fashion another victory when they visit Milford tomorrow night.



Pontiac Press Photo

TOP SCORER—A bright spot in Avondale's 1-6 record to date has been the scoring of forward Bob Burt, who's averaging 20.5 points a game. Burt and his teammates entertain Rochester tomorrow night.

Huskies to Host Waterford; PCH Travels to Flint

Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central, both off to unimpressive starts, turn their attention tomorrow night to league races where one leads the way in one loop and the other occupies the bottom in another.

★ ★ ★

Playing the role of host tomorrow evening will be the Huskies of PNH, who lead the Inter-Lakes League with a 2-0 record but own a 3-2 mark over-all.

Providing the competition for the Huskies will be Waterford's Skippers, who have lost three in arow after opening the campaign with a pair of victories.

Another IL game finds Livonia Stevenson invading Farmington.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central, 0-4 in Saginaw Valley Conference competition, takes a 2-4 overall record to Flint Northern (3-2), a team that looks stronger with each game.

OTHER SVC GAMES

Elsehwere in the SVC, Saginaw is at Bay City Handy, Flint Central is at Saginaw Arthur Hill and Midland entertains Flint Southwestern. In a nonconference contest, Alpena visits Bay City Central.

★ ★ ★

The last outing for PNH was a double overtime loss to Pontiac Central, a game in which neither team looked particularly good.

Coach Dick Hall is hoping the Huskies will find the right track against Waterford.

★ ★ ★

Coach's Pep Talks Put Fire in Packers

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The Vince Lombardi pep talk is an awesome Green Bay Packers weapon that can make a quarterback want to run through a wall.

Bart Starr spoke of the Packers' emotional approach to football before today's workout for Sunday's Super Bowl game with the Oakland Raiders at Miami's Orange Bowl.

GETS FIRED UP

"Coach has said things that make me think I could run through a wall in the middle of the week," said Starr. "He makes you wish you could play the game today.

"Sometimes, he will talk to the club before the first practice of the week," Starr said. "Sometimes, it will be later — whenever it comes naturally."

Some people may think it is a lot of college and high school stuff but you have to be ready emotionally.

"Money is a great incentive. You'd be silly to say it wasn't with big money ($15,000 a man) at stake. But the big thing is pride and prestige in yourself and the whole league.

★ ★ ★

"We like to think we are representing every guard, every end, every back, every player in the National Football League.

"The league championship means more now than it used to. And this game is the climax of it all," he said.

MAKES BIG SNEAK

Starr's dramatic gamble on the quarterback sneak from the one yard line that beat Dallas on New Year's Eve still is the talk of pro football.

★ ★ ★

Calling Starr a gambler is like labeling Fran Tarkenton a pocket passer. When Bart gambles, it's usually like a better putting $50,000 to show a 1-10 favorite.

Starr echoed the party line on Oakland, the American Football League champions, treating them with utmost respect.

"Oakland is a darn good football team. They only lost one game. Their linebackers support the front men and help the deep men.

"They have two very quick tackles in Tom Keating and Dan Birdwell as well as two good ends. They don't always play the basic four man line. They do a lot of jumping around. It can be confusing," Starr said.

★ ★ ★

Have you spotted any place you think the Packers can take advantage of?

"We hope so. I am sure they feel the same way about us. We'll find out Sunday," he added.

SUPER MEN — The outcome of Sunday's Super Bowl clash between Green Bay and Oakland in Miami is likely to hinge on how well the quarterback on each team performs. Hoping to guide the Oakland club to the world title is Daryle Lamonica (top) while veteran Bart Starr (15) will be at the helm for the Packers.

Crozier Back, Heads for Club in Fort Worth

DETROIT (UPI) — Roger Crozier apparently thinks being a National Hockey League goalie holds a better future for him than carpentry after all.

★ ★ ★

The youthful Detroit Red Wings' netminder, who retired unexpectedly Nov. 6 following a three-game stretch in which he gave up 18 goals, said Wednesday he was returning to the game.

Sid Abel, the Red Wings' general manager-coach, said Crozier was to report to Detroit's Fort Worth, Tex., farm club Sunday and "depending on how he plays . . . we could recall him in a couple of weeks."

Crozier, 25, said at the start of his two-month retirement, during which he worked as a carpenter around his Bracebridge, Ont., home, that he no longer had confidence in his ability to stop the 100-mile-per-hour pucks.

NEEDED REST

"My nerves are in much better shape than when I left," a more relaxed looking Crozier said following his workout at Olympia Wednesday. "I think I just needed a rest to relieve the pressure."

'M' Aide McNease Taking Grid Post With U. of Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Y. C. McNease, a 31-year-old assistant coach at the University of Michigan, was named Wednesday night as the new head football coach at the University of Idaho.

University President Dr. Ernest W. Hartung made the announcement.

McNease will succeed Steve Musseau, who resigns Feb. 1.

★ ★ ★

Before going to Michigan McNease was an assistant coach at Florida State, Wichita State and the University of Texas at El Paso. Both Florida State and El Paso played in bowl games last season.

McNease, a native of Raleigh, Miss., is a 215-pound, six-footer who played fullback and center at Florida State.

★ ★ ★

Accompanying Freehan on the entire tour will be players Hank Aguirre, Gates Brown, Lenny Green, Ray Oyler, Joe Sparma and Mickey Stanley, as well as Manager Mayo Smith and General Manager Jim Campbell.

★ ★ ★

Arnzen's 30 Points Sparks Notre Dame '5' Past Detroit's Titans

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame, whose Bob Arnzen scored 30 points on 15 baskets and kept the Irish in the lead throughout the game, defeated Detroit in college basketball Wednesday night 83-63.

Arnzen had 27 cracks at the basket and also grabbed 13 rebounds. Dwight Murphy scored 18 points for the Irish, as did teammate Bob Whitmore, 6-foot-7 center.

Ralph Brisker led the Titans with 18 points on eight of 22 field goal attempts and two of four free throw attempts.

It was Notre Dame's 11th victory in 14 games. Detroit is 8-4.

No Peace Moves by NCAA

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association wound up a comparatively peaceful convention today but the organization did liittle to improve relations in its feud with the Amateur Athletic Union.

The NCAA, governing body for some 600 colleges and universities involved in collegiate sports, closed its 62nd annual meeting by studying interpretations of recently approved legislation.

★ ★ ★

The heaviest convention action took place Wednesday when the group, displaying an unusual spirit of harmony, voted to modify the controversial 1.6 academic ruling.

On a less peaceful note the NCAA Council issued a policy statement reactivating enforcement of its by-law spelling out conditions for participation in non-collegiate track and field and gymnastic events.

The action will not become effective until Nov. 1 to avoid a conflict before the Olympic Games.

The action lifts the moratorium in the feud with the AAU which had been imposed pending completion of a federal Sports Arbitration Board hearing report.

★ ★ ★

The group also expressed satisfaction with its leadership by re-electing the president and secretary-treasurer.

Marcus L. Plant, a professor of law at the University of Michigan, was re-elected president and Ernest B. McCoy, dean and athletic director at Pennsylvania State University, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Delegates also approved a measure permitting freshmen to compete on the varsity level in all sports except basketball and football.

★ ★ ★

The 1.6 C-minus rule was established two years ago. It provides that no student may participate in NCAA sanctioned sports unless his academic standard is 1.6 or better when he enters college and that he continues normal progress toward graduation.

★ ★ ★

The new amendment enables schools with higher than average admission requirements to be free of applying the 1.6 requirement for continuing eligibility while those with less demanding admission requirements would have to continue using 1.6.

Indiana's Pont Top Grid Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — John Pont, who led lightly-regarded Indiana to the co-championship of the Big Ten and a trip to the prestigious Rose Bowl, was named college football Coach-of-the-Year for 1967 today.

★ ★ ★

Cecil "Scrappy" Moore of Chattanooga was named small-college Coach of the Year.

The voting was by members of the American Football Coaches Association.

The Hoosiers, during Pont's third year as their coach, won nine games and lost only one, and finished fourth in the final Associated Press rankings. Indiana then lost 14-3 to top ranked Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

In 1966, Indiana won only one game while losing eight and tying one.

Population Explosion Hits Florida Deer Herd

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — More than 100 Everglades white-tail deer found dead in Big Cypress Swamp apparently are the victims of their herd's population explosion.

There are so many deer, the animals are running short of food.

An official of the Florida Fish and Game Commission said an open season may be declared on does to thin the population.

Dr. Frank A. Hayes, director of Southern Cooperative Wildlife Disease study at the University of Georgia, told a public meeting here Wednesday night that the overpopulation had resulted in malnutrition.

★ ★ ★

The weakened condition, combined with a hunger that forced the animals to eat almost anything, caused stomach worms and other parasites to multiply dangerously, Hayes said.

Some of the parasites came from eating snails, Hayes said.

W. T. McBroom of Miami, Everglades region member of the Florida Fish and Game Commission, said the state may have to legalize doe hunting. State hunters now are permitted to take only antlered deer.

NEED OPEN SEASON

McBroom said that a move to authorize an open season on does—"a harvest"—undoubtedly will come before the commission at its hunt regulation meeting in Tallahassee in April.

"Florida is the only state of the 14 states in the southeast which does not have a doe season," McBroom said. "A doe harvest seems to be the only way overpopulation of deer in certain areas can be controlled."

Win at Buzzer for Lathrup 5

A 30-foot shot by John Lang as the buzzer sounded gave Southfield Lathrup a 67-65 victory over North Farmington's reserve basketball team last night.

★ ★ ★

The loss was the first for North Farmington, while the win hiked Lathrup's record 4-3. John McFaddin paced the winners 21 points, the first time a Lathrup player has broken the 20-point barrier.

Another Award for 'Yaz'

Slugger Gains Top AP Honor

Colts' John Unitas Second; Ryun Third

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A heavily perspiring Carl Yastrzemski had just finished one of his rugged daily workouts when he was told he had been voted Male Athlete of the Year for 1967 by an overwhelming margin in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I know what it's like to be on top and I want to stay on top," the slugging Boston Red Sox outfielder said in explaining what motivates him to keep squeezing trips to the gym into his hectic off-season schedule.

WORKS HARD

"I worked hard to get where I am, and I'm not going to get complacent now," he added.

Yastrzemski, who earned the American League's Most Valuable Player award and Triple Crown in batting while leading the underdog Red Sox to the pennant, said he wanted to say more than "just the usual things" about this latest award.

The balloting by 376 sports writers and broadcasters was no contest, with Yastrzemski picking up 210 first-place votes and 879 points on a basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore Colts' quarterback John Unitas, the National Football League's MVP, was a distant second with 267 points. Next in order were Jim Ryun, who broke his own world record for the mile run with a 3.51.1 clocking; pro golfer Jack Nicklaus, who set a money-winning record of $188,988; and ace halfback O. J. Simpson, who led Southern California to the national college football championship.

Yastrzemski is the third baseball player in a row to win the honor, the sixth in the last seven years, and the 15th since Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals won the first one in 1931. Frank Robinson of Baltimore, who also took the AL's Triple Crown, was the 1966 winner.

Yastrzemski led the AL in five batting departments, including a .326 average and 121 runs batted in, and tied Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for most home runs with 44.

Tide Ready to Turn for Pioneers of OU

The tide may be ready to turn for Oakland University's basketball team.

Saddled with an 0-6 record to date in its first varsity season, OU goes to Alma tomorrow and will be at Ferris State Saturday and could return home with an initial triumph.

★ ★ ★

Reason for the optimism is the improvement shown during the last two outings. The Pioneers lost both games, but in the last one, against Adrian they outplayed the Bulldogs in every phase but on the scoreboard.

The return to the lineup of 6-6 Tom Allan and Jon Blocher has given the Pioneers added rebounding and more scoring balance.

Allan grabbed a school record 25 rebounds against Adrian and has scored 25 points in his two outings. Blocher, 6-1, has 43 points in two contests.

Coach Dick Robinson points the fact that Allan "has added 20 pounds up to 210 and this has made him much stronger under the boards."

Alma appears to have hit its stride after getting off to a shaky start. The Scots have downed Calvin and Adrian in their last two games to pull even at 4-4.

Freshman Charles Hudson, 6-1, from Detroit Western has been the leading scorer and rebounder for the Scots. The reactivation of 6-3 Al Vandermeer has also boosted the Scots.

Ferris State has been having its troubles. Off to a slow start, the Bulldogs were hit by ineligibility at mid-term and Coach Jim Wink has been ailing.

★ ★ ★

Robinson indicated that Chuck Clark will join Allan and Blocher in the front line. Gordon Tebo and Gary Lincoln will be the guards.

Captain Ozzie Carlson, who played in the last two games, will not play this week because of the effect of his bout with hepatitis has left him tired.

Pistons' Rally Fizzles in Loss to San Diego

By the Associated Press

John Barnhill scored four fast layups to trigger a third-quarter surge that led the San Diego Rockets to a 122-118 National Basketball Association victory Wednesday over the Detroit Pistons.

The Rockets led 93-83 at the end of the third quarter, but the Pistons came on strong in the final period, closing the gap to 121-118 in the closing seconds.

The Pistons' Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer, sank a 15-foot jump shot with 22 seconds remaining making the score 121-118.

Then Barnhill was fouled and with 19 seconds left tossed in a free throw that clinched the victory for the Rockets.

Don Kojis of San Diego led all scorers with 30 points.

Barnhill had 22. Dave DeBusschere paced the Pistons with 27 points, while Bing had 25.

In other NBA games, St. Louis drubbed Philadelphia 134-122, Boston humbled Seattle 123-110, New York topped Los Angeles 115-101 and Cincinnati galloped over Baltimore 133-117.

Pittsburgh beat Dallas 123-130 in overtime, Houston nipped Anaheim 122-120 in overtime, Indiana trounced Minnesota 105-79 and Denver downed Kentucky 99-83 in the American Basketball Association.

HAWKS HOT

St. Louis was hot enough to build up a 60-48 halftime lead Wednesday night, but the Hawks really sizzled in the third period, hitting 15 of the 20 field goal attempts to open up an insurmountable 103-78 lead.

The loss at Philadelphia was the 76ers second straight to cut their lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division to two games over the Boston Celtics, who beat Seattle 123-110 behind the play of John Havlicek.

St. Louis, which increased its Western Division lead to two games over idle San Francisco, was led by Len Wilins, who scored 28 points and handed out 11 assists. Paul Silas also scored 28 for the Hawks, and Wilt Chamberlain got 32 for Philadelphia.

Spencer Halts Rally to Win Rec Cage Tilt

A stirring rally by Powell's Trucking wiped out a 20-point deficit late in the game, but the surge sapped the team's strength as it fell to Spencer Floor, 99-96, in Waterford Township American League recreation basketball action.

In other games, Glenn's Auto Sales (4-1) downed Buckner Finance (9-5), 84-58, and Genesee (3-2) broke open a tight game in the fourth quarter to trim Day's Sanitary (3-2), 90-73.

Down 83-63 late in the third, Powell's (1-4) rallied and finally moved into a 96-95 lead with 3:09 left in the game but the squad ran out of gas in the drive and didn't score again. Jim Devine put Spencer (4-1) back on top with a field goal and Jim Nyberg clinched it with two free throws with 13 seconds left.

Devine finished with 23 points to pace Spencer, while Dave Dodd tossed in 30 and Roger Miller 24 for the losers.

Genesee outscored Day's Sanitary 32-15 in the fourth period to win going away. Tom Keller led the attack with 24 points, 14 of them in that hot final period. Jerry Hill and Dick Olive produced 18 apiece for the losers.

Gary Hayward tossed in 26 and Dick DeWeese added 23 to pace the easy Glenn's victory. Dick Blacklaw led the losers with 20.

Olivet Routed by Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo took an early lead after five minutes, and coasted to a 49-34 edge at halftime.

Ben Benford was high man for Olivet with 22 points.

Poor Free Throw Shooting Sends Auburn Hills Down

Poor shooting from the free throw line led to defeat for Auburn Hills, while faculty marksmanship from close range led to the downfall of Highland Lakes last night in Michigan Junior College Athletic Association basketball action.

Delta College fired away at a 50 per cent pace in whipping Auburn Hills, 118-107, while St. Clair shot at a blistering 64 per cent in routing Highland Lakes, 126-56.

The loss left Auburn Hills with an over-all 8-4 record and a 4-3 mark in league play. Highland Lakes is 2-7.

The Nikes of Auburn Hills also hit at a 50 per cent pace from the field — 49 of 98 — but they managed only nine of 24 shots at the charity stripe, while Delta hit on 14 of 22.

Glen Lenhoff sparked Auburn with 34 points and Ed Holloman tossed in 23. Jim Grant paced the winners with 31.

★ ★ ★

Highland Lakes hit on only 25 of 66 shots for the night, while St. Clair managed 59 of 92.

John Olander topped Highland Lakes with 15 and Tim Moller added 14. Dan McLemore (23) and Jim Harris (24) paced the winners (11-1).

Super Play by Soph Spurs Eastern Five

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Every basketball coach is happy to have an all-around player on his team, and St. Bonaventure's Larry Weise must be ecstatic over Bob Lanier.

The 6-foot-10 sophomore, the team's leading scorer and rebounder, not only scored 25 points and grabbed 15 rebounds Wednesday night, he also blocked eight shots and stole the ball six times as the unbeaten Bonnies defeated DePaul 77-67 for their 12th straight.

DePaul, behind 41-29 at halftime in the game at Olean, N.Y., closed to within five points with 13 minutes left. But then, with Lanier stealing the ball and blocking shots, the seventh-ranked Bonnies pulled away.

SCORING HELPS

Lanier, who hit on 10 of 12 shots from the field, got scoring help from Billy Butler, with 20, and John Hayes, with 15. Al Zetzsche led DePaul with 23.

Third-ranked North Carolina overcame an eight-point deficit in the second half to edge North Carolina State at Raleigh, N.C., and take over first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The Tar Heels, the only other members of the Associated Press Top Ten to see action, were paced by Larry Miller's 13 rebounds and 17 points as they built their ACC record to 3-0 and their over-all mark to 10-1.

Louisville threw a full court press against home team Memphis State and rolled to its fourth straight victory, a 78-58 Missouri Valley Conference triumph.

Jimmy King scored 21, Butch Beard 20 and Wes Unself 16 for the Tigers, now 8-4 over-all and 4-0 in the MVC.

St. John's, N.Y., behind by eight points with five minutes remaining, tied the game at 59-59 on two foul shots with one second left in regulation time, and then went on to beat Georgetown 65-61 at Washington.

And, Denver did something it hasn't accomplished in 10 years, beating Colorado State University at Fort Collins, 65-59. It was Denver's first success at Fort Collins since February, 1957.

Other road victories saw East Carolina nip William & Mary 71-70, Marshall outlasted Morris Harvey 101-93 and St. Francis, Pa., edged Steubenville 77-73.

In home-court triumphs, Air Force smashed Doane 109-69, Maryland downed West Virginia 79-75, South Carolina drubbed Wake Forest 88-73, Davidson pounded George Washington 107-75, Wofford beat Furman 71-68, Penn State walloped Gettysburg 84-47, Notre Dame whipped Detroit 83-63, Connecticut trounced New Hampshire 96-70 and Tampa shaded Miami, Fla., 78-76.

The Waterford girls rolled up a time of 149.0 to trim Rochester (154.7) and Walled Lake (194.0), and the boys followed suit with a 174.5 clocking, while Rochester was second (207.1) and Walled Lake (224.5) third.

Julie Crary (47.0) of Waterford led the girls, while her teammate Kathy Benson and Wendy Willis of Rochester shared second at 49.1

Gary Edwards (38.8) and Jim Nye (41.1) ran one-two for Waterford in the boys division, and Chris Baldwin of Walled Lake (45.5) took third.

Tim Wood Ready for Olympics Bid

By JERE CRAIG

Tim Wood, a highly regarded entrant in next week's United States Figure Skating championships at Philadelphia, will depart Tuesday with expectations of fulfilling his Olympic dreams.

The 19-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wood of Bloomfield Hills is favored to claim one of three men's figure skating berths on the U.S. team that will compete in Grenoble, France next month during the Winter Olympic Games.

"He's really reeved up for this; he's going for broke," an enthused Dr. Wood revealed.

Making the U.S. squad and competing in the Olympics would reward fully the slender ice artist who began skating competively nine years ago and practicing long hours in earnest after making the 1956 U.S. men's world championships' team.

Wood will go to Philadelphia from Cleveland where he works out with his professional teacher Ronnie Baker at Northfield Plaza when not attending classes at John Carroll University.

Actually, the 5-10, 145-pound Wood has halted his classes for the coming semester in anticipation of making the team and subsequently going to the Olympics.

His optimism is based on a third place finish in last year's U.S. men's championships (and ninth in the World's competition at Vienna), plus a runner-up medal in the World's Invitational Meet Thanksgiving week at Grenoble.

Neither Scott Allen nor Gary Visconti, a Detroit Skating Club teammate of Tim's appeared in the meet. They are the primary men expected to battle with Tim for the top spot on the U. S. Team.

Montanan Misha Petkovich, who finished ninth at World's Invitational, also is considered a prime contender for a berth on the Olympic squad.

★ ★ ★

The men's compulory figure skating competition will be next Thursday morning at the Spectrum, Philadelphia's new sports arena. The free skating tests are slated for Saturday afternoon.

AFTER U.S. SPOT — Tim Wood, 19-year-old ice skating star from Bloomfield Hills, will be seeking a spot on the U.S. Olympic and World Figure Teams next week when he competes in the National Figure Skating Championships in Philadelphia.

2 State Skaters Beginning Bids for U. S. Team

WEST ALLIS, Wis. (UPI) — Terry McDermott of Bay City will be among those seeking a berth on the U.S. speed skating team for the Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France when week-long time trials open here today.

★ ★ ★

McDermott, who won the only gold medal for the U.S. team in the 1964 Winter Olympics, is among 26 men at the trials. Only six women and seven to ten men will make the U. S. team.

Jeanne Olemenchuk, of Detroit, is a prime challenger for one of the women's berths, for which 18 contenders are expected.

Mt. Holly Host for Prep Meet

The annual eighth Southeast Michigan Inter - Scholastic Ski Races at Mt. Holly are set for a 9 a.m. countdown Saturday with more than 300 boys and girls expected to travel the slalom and giant slalom courses during the day.

West Bloomfield's boys are solid favorites to retain their team championship, led by two-time All-County performer Tom Carter, last year's top individual finisher.

Bloomfield Hills girls have won four of the seven previous coed trophies and are the team to beat again. Marlen Jarosz and Karen Fast of the Andover squad earned All-County laurels last winter.

Two other West Bloomfield skiers also were All - County choices: Tim Brennan and Betsy Shuler. She and Miss Fast are both juniors this year.

Rochester expects to make strong bids in both divisions. Honor team choices Butch Newton, Cathy Benson and Julie Crary could make Waterford Township a threat in the two classes.

Team trophies will be presented to the first, second and third place squads in each division and individual awards to the winning team members plus the top three individual skiers.

★ ★ ★

It takes four finishers to register a boys' team total, and three girls are required for a team score. Elapsed time for the two runs will comprise an individual's score.

More than 25 schools are expected to enter skiers.

Chaplain Seeks Help

Vancouver Has Arena

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A chaplain's plea to God for a National Hockey League franchise for Vancouver was part of opening ceremonies this week at the new Pacific Coliseum.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. George Turpin called on the Almighty to bless the building and all concerned with it and asked him to persuade the leaders of the National Hockey League that Vancouver should have a franchise.

A crowd of 13,500 was attending an ice show, which opened the $6 million arena.

Opening of the 15,000-seat Coliseum climaxed a 10-year campaign by sports enthusiasts for an arena meeting NHL standards.

The multi-purpose Coliseum, designed for all types of sports and shows, was built with money from the federal, provincial and city governments.

★ ★ ★

A Vancouver franchise bid was turned down by the NHL several years ago. A fresh bid is expected now that the Coliseum is open.

Opening lead—♠ 4

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

One of the disheartening things about duplicate bridge is that sometimes the very best play will produce only an average score.

JACOBY

At most tables West opened his fourth best heart against a four spade contract. This allowed South to win the first trick with the jack of hearts. South would then go about the business of leading trumps, eventually lose the club finesse, and wind up with a routine game.

When Sidney Lazard of New Orleans held the South cards, West decided to make the unusual lead of his singleton trump. We call this lead unusual because a singleton trump lead is so likely to pickle a possible trump trick in your partner's hand. This time it didn't.

The ace and king are two tricks come rain or come shine.

West took his king of spades and shifted to the nine of hearts. Sidney went into deep communion for awhile and decided that West was clearly marked with the queen-ten of hearts and king of clubs.

His reasoning was that East obviously held the king or queen of diamonds, in addition to the ace and king of spades. If West had held the king-queen of diamonds he would have opened that suit. Then if East also held a high club or heart he would have opened the bidding.

With all finesses wrong, drastic measures were necessary and Sidney took them. He started by winning the first heart with his king. Then he led a low club toward dummy.

West could do nothing better than to take his king and lead a club back. Sidney won in dummy, discarded one heart on the ace of diamonds, ruffed a diamond, cashed his ace of clubs, led a heart to dummy's ace, ruffed dummy's last diamond, put East in with the ace of trumps and showed East his hand. East had to lead a diamond and Sidney could ruff in one hand and discard from the other.

Of course, East chucked the hand at trick two. He should have taken his ace of trumps right then and there.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	2 ♠	Pass	2 N.T.
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♦
Pass	4 ♥	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 10 9 5 4 3 ♣ 7 5 4 3
What do you do now?

A—Bid four spades. You don't want to pass four hearts, nor do you want to bid five diamonds. You hope for the best but fear the worst.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to five diamonds. What do you do now?

Trading Pace Stepped Up

Mart Moves Generally Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued a generally higher movement early this afternoon. Trading was a bit faster than on Wednesday.

Gains outnumbered losses by a 2-to-1 ratio.

★ ★ ★

Because of continued weakness in a number of its 30 blue chip components, the Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .92 at 903.03.

★ ★ ★

Broader stock market indexes, such as that of the New York Stock Exchange, showed a gain, reflecting the higher trend of most stocks.

Wall Street was encouraged by generally favorable economic reports and the spreading belie that a cessation of hostilities in Vietnam has become more likely than during the many other "peace scares." Analysts envisioned a truce in Vietnam as solving many financial troubles and being very bullish for the market.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 326.5 with industrials up .2, rails up .1 and utilities up .2.

★ ★ ★

Prices advanced in fairly active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Gale Industries rose about 3 points, LTV Aerospace more than 2 and Data-Control Systems more than a point. McCulloch Oil gained a point or more. Continental Materials paced the list on volume but was unchanged. Merril Island Mining and North Canadian Oils were active fractional gainers.

Counterfeiting Ring Is Broken

Equipment Seized, 2 Arrested in Ohio

NEW YORK (AP) — Secret Service agents have seized a printing press and a large amount of counterfeiting equipment in Ohio following their confiscation here of $4.1 million worth of phony $100 bills—the largest haul in the history of the Secret Service.

Two men have been arrested in Ohio and charged with printing the counterfeit money.

★ ★ ★

A Miami Beach lawyer, Joel Lee, 39, was arrested here. He allegedly was salesman and traffic manager for the ring that planned to unload $50 million in fake $10, $20 and $100 bills. Authorities say that apparently none of the phony money got into circulation.

Albert E. Whitaker, agent in charge of the Secret Service in New York, has predicted more arrests.

VACANT STOREROOM

Secret Service agents, acting with local police, seized counterfeiting equipment in a raid late Wednesday at a vacant storeroom in Wellsville, Ohio. No arrest was made.

★ ★ ★

Police Capt. Pete Trainer said he understood that the equipment was connected with the counterfeiting operation in which the two Ohio men had been arrested. The material seized included a photocopy camera, two boxes of paper, a trunkful of paper cut to the size of U.S. currency and printing ink.

★ ★ ★

Earlier Wednesday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert J. Rotatori announced at Cleveland that a printing press had been seized on the back porch of the home of James Clark, 28, of Clinton, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

The press, about half the size of a small auto, could be loaded on a truck and moved to various sites but was too big to get into the house, authorities said. Clark, allegedly the printer and technician in the counterfeiting operation, was arrested Wednesday at a tool and die shop in Akron where he was employed.

Army Spell Binding to Name-Scrambler

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—Marshall Bean spelled his name backwards and found himself in the U.S. Army. Today Naeb Llahsram is hoping the same gimmick will get him out.

The two, being one and the same soldier, understand one another perfectly. After two years and numerous investigations, the Army understands, too. Marshall Bean-Naeb Llahsram will soon go home.

Bean said his troubles began in the spring of 1965 when he was working at a civilian job in Las Vegas, Nev., earning good pay after seven years of Army and Air Force service.

His only problem, he said, was constant pressure from bill collectors. The solution came as he listened to a radio scrambling game: just spell his name backwards and the creditors would lose the scent.

Bean, then 30, did the job thoroughly. He got a Social Security card and driver's license under the new name and even obtained a draft card, giving Llahsram's age as 18, so officials wouldn't wonder where he had been for 12 years.

"I just told myself I wouldn't worry about being drafted again," said Bean.

Nobody told the Pentagon, and soon the machinery began to move. First a physical, then he got his call and found himself being hustled off to Ft. Bliss, Tex., where sergeants ignored his protests.

"They just handed me a set of dog tags, name tapes and an identity card made out to Naeb Llahsram," Bean said.

However, he obtained copies of his old discharge papers and the Army began an investigation. Investigations take time, and he next found himself at Ft. Ord, Calif., for advanced training. There the Army agreed he was telling the truth and increased his pay to that of a soldier with eight years service.

But they did not discharge him and the military machine ground on, sending him next to Munich. There he served at a post located just across the street from the building where he had served a tour of duty 12 years ago with the 11th Airborne division.

At Christmas time he tried again. Another investigation was ordered.

"The man's story checks out word for word," said one of his officers. "Now we are just waiting for verification from Washington before we send whoever he is back to the United States for discharge."

★ ★ ★

From now on, Bean said, he will be content to live with the name he was born with, creditors or no.

"I hope it's been long enough so they've forgotten about me."

Heart Surgeon Mulls U.S. Job

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Christiaan N. Barnard, who headed the South African team that performed the world's first human heart transplant, is reportedly considering an offer to practice in the United States.

The London Evening Standard reported Barnard said in a telephone interview from Cape Town that he has had "quite a few" offers of jobs from the United States since the Dec. 3 heart transplant on Louis Washkansky. On Jan. 2 Barnard's 30-member team made a second heart transplant on Dr. Philip Blaiberg.

★ ★ ★

"There is one particular one which I am interested in," Barnard said. He did not elaborate beyong saying the offer was for himself and as many members of his medical team as he wanted to take along.

But Barnard stressed that he was not actively trying to leave said. "The trouble is," he said, "that out here you are a little isolated. For instance if there is a problem that you want to discuss with other experts in your field you have to contact London or the United States."

REJECTED IN LONDON

Barnard disclosed that he was rejected for a London hospital post four months before the historic operation.

The surgeon said an application he made last July for the post of consultant surgeon at the National Heart Hospital in London was turned down.

★ ★ ★

He said he cabled his application because he heard of the vacancy at the last minute.

A spokesman for the National Heart Hospital commented: "We did receive a cable from Dr. Barnard, but it arrived only 10 minutes before an advisory committee on appointments was due to sit."

UAW Sets Strike Dates at GM on Local Issues

DETROIT (AP) — The General Motors plants in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and New York will be struck next Tuesday or Wednesday unless local issues are settled, the United Auto Workers Union says.

GM said local agreements have been reached at 42 of 134 regular bargaining units, and the union added that settlements have been made at 12 of an additional 34 parts warehouses.

★ ★ ★

The union has settled its national contracts at GM, Ford and Chrysler. Local contracts at GM and a few at Chrysler, a national contract with American Motors and contracts with the auto makers' Canadian subsidiaries are still being negotiated.

The UAW and American Motors reportedly are making some progress in negotiations on a national contract in bargaining talks held under a general news blackout.

RECESS TODAY

A company spokesman said the parties will recess talks today on a national contract to discuss local union issues at the AMC plants in Grand Rapids, Mich., Kenosha, Wis., and Milwaukee.

Negotiators for the UAW and Chrysler Corp. met in Windsor, Ont., Wednesday on a new contract for Chrysler's Canadian subsidiary, Chrysler Canada Ltd. The union has selected Chrysler as its target company in bargaining for a new contract with the Big Three automakers in Canada.

The UAW informed GM Wednesday that the local plant strikes at the 10 locations will take place after five working days. This means it will be Tuesday for those which have work scheduled Saturday, and Wednesday for the others.

About 65,000 workers are involved at the 10 plants, located in Flint; Detroit; Lansing; Saginaw; Defiance, Ohio; Indianapolis and Muncie, Ind., and Lockport, N.Y.

Hospital Will Take Bids on Intern Housing

Bids on a new housing development for interns will be taken Feb. 7 by the board of trustees of Pontiac General Hospital.

Construction of the 20 units will begin several days later on Menominee between Seminole and Johnson if the bids are acceptable.

Designed by the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., the $375,000 project is expected to be completed by July.

The two-story buildings will be in clusters of five units, each with a full kitchen, air-conditioning and carpeting. The townhouses will have their own parking area.

Russian Gives Dog 2nd Head

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Russian scientist has transplanted the head and forepaws of a puppy to a mongrel dog, making a twin-headed animal, the news agency Tass said today.

The scientist, pathophysiologist Vladimir Demikhov, told Tass the possibility of a head living without any connection to internal organs opened the prospect of completely replacing hopelessly stricken organs with healthy ones.

Demikhov performed the transplant operation from a 2-month-old puppy to a 4-year-old mongrel in Kiev in the Ukraine, Tass said.

The operation took about four hours, using an artificial respiration apparatus and vessel-suturing instruments. Deep freezing and artificial blood circulation were not used, Tass said.

Queen Mary 'Fire' Is Minor

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — When a fire is reported on the Queen Mary, the fire department makes a "major problem response."

It did so Wednesday. Three engine companies, a ladder company, a boat company and a squad company roared to the harbor where the retired ocean liner is being converted into a hotel.

For 30 minutes, firemen looked for the smoke that had set off an electric alarm. They found a charred towel on a light bulb.

Arraignment Set for Spock, Four Others

BOSTON (AP) — Arraignment of Dr. Benjamin Spock, Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr. and three others indicted for counseling draft evaders has been scheduled Jan. 29 at 11 a.m. in U.S. District Court.

The five were indicted last week on conspiracy charges which the Justice Department said included a meeting last Oct. 16 at the Arlington Street church where resisters allegedly burned draft cards at a protest ceremony.

The cases will be tried by Judge Francis J. W. Ford.

Indicted with Spock and the chaplain were Michael Ferber, 23, Boston, a Harvard University graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author, of New York City and Temple, Maine; and Marcus Raskin, 33, Washington, D.C., codirector of the Institute for Policy Studies.

DRAFT OPPOSITION

The five have opposed U.S. participation in the Vietnam war and publicly condemned drafting of men to fight there.

Maximum penalty for conspiracy to violate the Selective Service Act is up to five years in prison and a $100,000 fine.

Gov. Volpe Will Enter Presidential Primary

BOSTON (UPI) — Gov. John A. Volpe yesterday announced he will enter the Massachusetts presidential primary April 30. If he wins—which no one doubts will happen — he will be a favorite son presidential candidate at the Republican National Convention in Miami in August. Volpe told a news conference Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., supported his decision.

The governor also said he advised Michigan Gov. George Romney and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon of his plans. He had no comment on their reactions.

The governor, who said his decision was not the result of any agreement with Romney, said he was not politically maneuvering by "positioning" himself for anything.

★ ★ ★

Volpe said he would not enter the New Hampshire presidential primary. He said if his name were placed on the ballot in primaries in Wisconsin, Nebraska or Oregon he would have it removed.

The governor said his announcement as a candidate in the Massachusetts primary "does not mean I'm a candidate for national office."

Rusk Points to Population as War Fuse

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the future's overriding problem will be to ease the pressures of a growing world population before they threaten to touch off nuclear war.

And a prime achievement of the Johnson-Kennedy administrations he has served, Rusk said Wednesday, is that "we have added seven years to the time in which the nuclear bomb has not been dropped in anger."

★ ★ ★

In an interview with the Associated Press, Rusk set a general time limit of up to a generation for meeting population demands before they get out of hand and a 5- to 10-year estimate for international agreement to curb the atomic weapons spread.

"The increase in the number of people who inhabit the globe increases the demands for opportunities for decent lives—food, shelter, health, education, employment," he said.

STINGY UNIVERSE

"They are the problems of a growing human family in a stingy universe," added Rusk. This population problem rivals the nuclear problem and I think we have a limited amount of time to deal with both of them . . ."

"I'd say 20 to 30 years from now the problem would become acute, extremely dangerous, unless it has been solved then," said Rusk.

The danger of a nuclear catastrophe appeared dominant in Rusk's mind as he reviewed his tenure as secretary of state. Only a half dozen men in U.S. history have held the No. 1 foreign affairs job as long.

Exam Asked in Ortonville Bar Assault

A 26-year-old man, arrested by Pontiac State Police in connection with the assault of an Ortonville bar owner and a customer Tuesday night, demanded examination at his arraignment yesterday before Orion Township Justic Helmar Stanaback.

The suspect, George R. Scharf of 8346 Horton, Goodrich, is scheduled to appear before Stanaback for preliminary examination at 1:30 p.m. Jan. 22.

Scharf is charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than the crime of murder in the beating of Peter Tandski, 49, the owner of Pete and Jane's Bar, 411 Mill, Ortonville.

He also faces a felonious assault count in the assault of Darwin Potvin of 167 South, Ortonville, who was a patron at the bar when the incident occurred.

★ ★ ★

Another suspect is being sought.

PAIR ATTACKED

Tandski and Potvin were attacked by two males inside the bar. Both were cut with a broken bottle.

Both were treated at Wheelock Memorial Hospital in Goodrich and released.

The Jackson Fraternal Order of Police was granted the first state liquor license for a police lodge, under a new law passed by the Michigan legislature. The old law was aimed at keeping individual patrolmen from owning bars, but it was worded to prohibit police groups from getting liquor licenses.

Chicago Gun Hearing Held

CHICAGO (AP) — A police official, testifying at a hearing on a gun control ordinance, declared Wednesday that Chicago's "firepower exceeds what the Indians had when Custer took his last stand."

Mayor Richard J. Daley has proposed a city law to control ownership and traffic in firearms.

★ ★ ★

At a hearing on the measure, Alderman John Hoellen asked Capt. Frank Flanagan, director of the police homicide division, has been asked how many guns there are in the city.

Flanagan reported that 2,700 persons are shot in Chicago each year. This, he said, is equivalent to 80 out of each 100,000 of population.

State Drivers Urged to Buy '68 Plates Early

Michigan drivers have an extra day this year in which to purchase motor vehicle license plates, but it is still best to buy plates as early as possible to avoid the last-minute rush.

"Buy them early and avoid the rush," advises Patrick K. Daly, manager of the Secretary of State branch office at 4520 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township.

Last day for Michigan drivers to purchase plates without facing penalty is Feb. 29, instead of the usual Feb. 28.

Mrs. Lucille D. Marshall, manager of the Secretary of State branch office at 96 E. Huron, said sales have been brisk, running about 2,500 plates ahead of last year's pace.

★ ★ ★

One of the reasons for the faster pace, said Mrs. Marshall, is "we had lots of people who gave them for Christmas gifts this year."

SALES TO DATE

She estimated that almost 15,000 plates have been purchased at the Pontiac branch since 1968 plates went on sale Nov. 1.

Included are plates for about 10,000 passengers cars and 3,000 commercial vehicles.

★ ★ ★

Sales at the Waterford Township branch through Monday consisted of plates for 5,300 passenger cars, 1,200 commercial vehicles, 600 trailers and 50 motorcycles.

Cataracts Tied to Pills Taken by Pregnant Mother

By Science Service International

SYDNEY, Australia — Common sleeping tablets apparently can cause cataracts in the eyes of children when taken by their mothers during pregnancy.

Two Sydney doctors have formed this hypothesis to account for formerly inexplicable cataracts in children.

They are Dr. R. E. Hertzberg, senior opthalmic surgeon at the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children, and Dr. J. D. Harley, director of the Childrens Medical Research Foundation.

They began their investigations in 1964 on 59 children who had cataracts which were inexplicable in conventional terms.

In a paper presented to the Opthalmological Society of Australia, Dr. Herzberg said the investigation showed the cataracts could be due to genetic factors, nutrition, infections, and exposure to drugs, acting in various combinations in different forms.

The number of turkeys raised in New England in 1967 declined to 535,000 birds from 657,000 in 1966.

Romney Asks Anticrime Laws, Open Housing

LANSING (AP) — Citing riots that rocked Michigan cities last summer, Gov. George Romney today called for stiffer anti-crime legislation and renewed his plea for a statewide open housing law.

"Last summer's riots pointed up legal deficiencies in coping effectively with such disturbances," the governor said in his annual State of the State message.

He listed several proposals, including revision of the so-called "Riot Act" to make unlawful the failure to disperse upon command.

Romney had warned earlier that "Michigan and the nation are confronted with the possibility of civil guerrilla warfare on a scale that makes Vietnam look like child's play."

He said an open housing bill would not in itself prohibit riots, but added, "We need fair housing legislation."

Romney-backed housing legislation was introduced in the recent special session, but after extensive debate the House defeated the measure, 47-55.

"This issue of fair housing has been thoroughly thrashed out in the special session," the governor said in his message. "Now it is time to act. Now it is time to step up to this issue. Now it is time to declare ourselves unequivocally for basic justice and human dignity in the housing field."

The governor called also for "better financial support" to the State Civil Rights Commission.

LEANS ON PROPOSALS

In outlining his recommendations for anticrime laws, Romney leaned heavily on proposals of his Special Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration, appointed over a year ago.

Among commission recommendations put forth by the governor were those to:

- Permit court-ordered electronic surveillance under carefully controlled circumstances.
- Allow Circuit Court judges to grant witness immunity upon petition of the prosecuting attorney or the attorney general.
- Allow Circuit Court judges to grant subpoena power to prosecuting attorneys or the attorney general.

"We also need legislation to specifically prohibit willful blocking of streets and highways by demonstrators," the governor said, "to make illegal the possession of incendiary devices and to provide more severe penalties for interference with firemen in the performance of their duty."

He called also for legislation to:

- Simplify the state's criminal statutes.
- Insure more effective firearms control.

Give to the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council the funds necessary to perform a "truly adequate training function."

- Provide for the licensing, training and regulation of private police and for uniform reporting and centralized collection of criminal justice statistics.
- Establish a State Police reserve force for use in time of extreme emergency.

Key Proposals in Talk

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney's sixth State of the State message to Michigan's legislators included these proposals:

- A state open occupancy law, similar to a measure which met defeat in the House of Representatives last month.

"We need fair housing legislation," Romney said. "This issue has been thoroughly thrashed out . . . Now it is time to act . . . Now it is time to declare ourselves unequivocally for basic justice and human dignity in the housing field."

- A balanced budget, which will still make it possible to "move forward prudently and significantly" without new state taxes.
- An unspecified increase in the state school aid formula and a $5-million boost in special educational programs for poor youngsters.
- "Better financial support to the (state) Civil Rights Commission, which has the tough and sensitive job of carrying out Michigan's public policy against discrimination."
- A $210-million increase in total state funds to support local needs, and authorization for cities to levy certain types of excise taxes.
- A state minimum wage law higher than the current $1.25 an hour "to reflect higher living costs and bring it more closely in line with the federal law."
- Changes in the state's veterans property tax exemption law, replacing the current $2,000 across-the-board allowance with a scaled system of benefits ranging from $2,500 to $4,500 depending on the veteran's degree of disability.
- "A thorough revision of the so-called 'riot act' to provide a clear, workable definition of unlawful assembly and to make unlawful the failure to disperse upon command.

★ ★ ★

"We also need legislation to specifically prohibit willful blocking of streets and highways by demonstrators, to make illegal the possession of incendiary devices such as 'Molotov cocktails,' and to provide more severe penalties for interference with firemen in the performance of their duty."

CRIMINAL CODE

Romney also called for adoption of a revised criminal code drafted by the Michigan Bar Association and endorsed by his state crime commission.

- Other anticrime measures providing more effective control of guns, court-authorized electronic surveillance of suspects in certain cases, and subpoena and immunity-granting powers for prosecutors and the attorney general.
- Lower court reorganization establishing "a statewide system of courts of limited jurisdiction" to replace justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners, whose offices are abolished next year.

★ ★ ★

- A vote of the people on a $435-million state bond issue to help finance water pollution control programs, new and expanded state parks and local recreational facilities, and Great Lakes fishery projects.
- Creation of a new state department of community affairs "to consolidate programs and units now scattered throughout state government."
- Unspecified changes designed to "make the State Housing Development Authority fully operative;" tenants' rights; authorization of urban redevelopment corporations to finance large-scale renewal; and a "complete revision of our antiquated state housing code."
- More money for colleges and universities, to provide not only for higher enrollments but also "for faculty salary improvements necessary to attract and retain high-caliber academic talent."
- Tougher public employe relations laws firming up the existing ban on strikes, increasing the powers of the courts and establishing machinery for mediation of disputes involving teachers and other public employes.

★ ★ ★

- "A pilot program of special aid to needy children to encourage them to remain in high school."
- State licensing of all hospitals and clinical laboratories, and an improved state program for control of drug addiction.
- Some method of guaranteeing property insurance for residents and businesses in riot-threatened urban areas.
- Legislation "to ensure at least one public member on each professional regulatory board."

Judgeship Resolution Is Out of Committee

LANSING (AP)— A resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to let the governor fill vacant judgeships by appointment Wednesday became the first significant measure to emerge from legislative committee this year.

The measure, sponsored by Rep. Dennis Cawthorne, R-Manistee, would return to the governor the judge-appointing powers taken away when the new State Constitution took effect in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Currently judicial vacancies are filled in special elections, although the Supreme Court is authorized to temporarily appoint retired judges where vacancies occur.

As amended by House Committee, the measure would also give the governor power to appoint all judges of a new court system—such as the 200 or so district judges proposed in the court reorganization bill.

TRADITIONAL

Floor action on the measure was not expected this week as the House, just getting underway for the year, heard Gov. George Romney's state of the message today and then planned to take Friday off.

Passed and sent to the Senate Wednesday was a proposal setting work deadlines for the Legislature.

The deadline resolution is traditional at the start of a legislative session, but the House-passed resolution said nothing about the target date for final adjournment.

House Majority Floor Leader William Hampton, R-Birmingham said several important issues probably would confront lawmakers this year and added it would be "both inopportune and premature" to set an adjournment date.

DEADLINES

The House measure sets Feb. 26 as the deadline for introducing bills not dealing with taxes or appropriations, April 11 as the House of origin, and May 24 for passage by the other house.

It calls for lawmakers to leave Lansing May 29 and return June 25 to wrap up unfinished business and pick a final adjournment date.

Introduced in the House Wednesday was a measure by Rep. Quincy Hoffman, R-Applegate, which would set up state-financed regional riot-control training centers for up to 1,500 policemen.

Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, said he would try to force from committee a bill establishing a presidential primary in Michigan. Attempts to discharge committees are seldom successful.

Same Opening Day for Schools Is Urged

By JACQUELINE KORONA
Associated Press Writer

LANSING (AP) — In an apparent effort to stave off future widespread teacher strikes, Gov. George Romney today recommended a uniform opening day of school "in the absence of local agreement to the contrary."

School openings last fall played a role in several of the state's teacher-contract disputes.

★ ★ ★

Some school boards said that since the openig day of school had passed and teachers refused to enter their classrooms, they were violating the state law which prohibits strikes by public employes.

Teacher groups argued that the Michigan Labor Relations Board had ruled the opening day of school a negotiable item and since they had no contracts, they were not striking.

RECOMMENDATION

"So that there can be no question as to when teachers are on strike," Romney said in his State of the State message, "I've recommended that the first day after Labor Day be legalized as the opening day of school in the absence of local agreement to the contrary."

An official of the Michigan Education Association, a teacher bargaining group, said the proposal "won't solve the strike problem."

★ ★ ★

"The concept of having some uniformity in the school year could be good," said MEA chief negotiator Kai Erickson, "but this has nothing to do with whether teachers are on strike."

Administrators, for example, could say school is to open Sept. 3 this year and teachers could agree, saying, "that's fine—if I agree to work for you."

BENEFIT

Such a deadline, Erickson said, would not mean that teachers are on strike if they do not have a master contract with the school board. "They are simply refusing to enter into an employment agreement," he said.

The legalized opening day might benefit some youngsters, however, he added, saying that some school districts currently conduct classes for the minimum 180 days while others conduct sessions for up to 195 days.

"There may be some merit in the uniform school year to avoid large variations in the amount of education the children receive," he said.

Romney also urged enactment of recommendations made by the Advisory Committee on Public Employe Relations. The recommendations would permit organization and collective bargaining by public employes but would prohibit strikes.

LBJ May Preempt 'Laura'

NEW YORK (UPI) — For some time, ABC-TV heavily publicized the television debut of Jacqueline Kennedy's sister, Lee Bouvier, next week in a remake of the suspense mystery "Laura."

But an unforseen situation arose yesterday. It was announced in Washington that President Johnson's nationally televised State of the Union address would be delivered next Wednesday, the same day and the same time as the scheduled "Laura," 9 p.m. EST.

ABC-TV officials say they they have discussed the matter and that a decision will be reached today on their broadcast plans. The State of the Union address is a live broadcast, and officials of the two other commercial networks, CBS-TV and NBC-TV, have already made their usual confirmations that they will carry it.

One ABC-TV spokesman said there was always a remote chance that something other than a preemption might occur in the case of "Laura" — that is, it might conceivably be shown after the President's address.

★ ★ ★

But, he said, this would be difficult to arrange with affiliate stations and that it would result in other programming having to be pushed back, and that he didn't want to speculate further.

No Cause Found for '65 Jet Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite one of the longest and most expensive investigations in its history, the National Transportation Safety Board is unable to say what caused a jetliner to plunge into Lake Michigan in 1965, killing 30 persons.

In a report on the crash of the United Air Lines 727 jet Aug. 16, 1965, made public yesterday, the board said it could not determine why the plane continued to descend below its assigned 6,000-foot altitude during a landing approach to Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

The board said there was one possibility — that could not be proved — that the crew misread the altimeter. But the panel also noted there was a below-10,000-foot alert system in the altimeter that should have been able to warn the pilot.

A Look at TV

New 'Avengers' Different

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — "The Avengers" seems to have changed its character radically in the months it has been away from ABC. Or maybe somebody just picked the wrong episode of the suave, sophisticated British-made series for its premiere show as a midseason replacement.

The opening program Wednesday night was strictly kid stuff, a floodlight that reduced a limousine to the size of a toy model, and a human being to the stature of a toothpick.

Mr. Steed was accidentally cut down to a miniman when the bad guys were stealing a prototype of a revolutionary tank by shrinking it and carrying it off in an overcoat pocket. But Mr. Steed's plight was lucky, because he was able to come to the rescue of his colleague, Mrs. Peel, when that athletic lady had been trussed like a capon by the villains. He managed it, incidentally, with a letter opener, which seemed the size of a steel girder in his tiny condition, and cut her bonds.

And as soon as the magic beam restored him to normal size, Mrs. Peel was shrunk, and received her turn to rescue him. Finally, they shrunk the heavies and caught them in Mr. Steed's derby.

NOT ON 'AVENGERS'

This is the sort of science fiction nonsense we might let go by on shows like "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," or "I Dream of Jeannie," but not on a droll and dry show like "The Avengers."

Of course, the series used to be broadcast in late evening spots on the ABC schedule, a time when the vast majority of viewers are presumed to be adults. Now it comes on at an early evening hour, and all three networks concede that the period from 7:30 to 9 belongs to the youngest members of the audience.

But if "The Avengers" is converted into a sort of child's fantasy series, no matter how smoothly or tongue-in-cheek it is handled, it is bound to lose that hard-core audience that made it a success as a replacement on earlier occasions.

Recommended tonight: "Great Explorations," NBC, 7:30-8:30 EST, documentary with astronaut John Glenn and a party following the African trail of reporter Stanley when, almost 100 years ago, he hunted for Dr. Livingstone.

How to Tell Father's Time Is Flying By

By LEO MARKS

KANSAS CITY (AP) —You know you're getting old when:

People you consider old suddenly start saying hello more often.

You overhear the wife refer to you to your children as "your father," instead of "Daddy," or "Dad."

★ ★ ★

Your grown son starts addressing you confidently as "old Man," and gets away with it.

Your daughter confides that she's looking for a boy who'll make the kind of husband you've been to mother.

ADVICE TO LOVELORN

And you advise her not to be so choosy, or she'll wind up an old maid.

Then you wonder what she sees in the boyfriends she does bring around.

★ ★ ★

Those stairs to the office get longer, and your breath shorter.

It takes nothing stronger than a hot cup of coffee to relax you after a hard day.

Your father, in his 80s, asks for your advice and takes you into his confidence.

INSTEAD OF HONEY

Your mother, in her 70s, begins calling you by your given name, not "Dear," or "Honey."

You find comfort in small things, like holding hands with your wife in the movie show.

★ ★ ★

You notice overnight that her pepper and salt hair has turned completely salt.

And yours has turned the corner to oblivion.

NO REQUEST

You can't recall when you last asked the boss for a raise, or why you bothered.

The faces in the late movies on television look familiar, but you can't remember their names.

★ ★ ★

And you find yourself nodding off to sleep during the love scenes.

The idea of trading in your old car for a new one would be like deserting your wife for another woman.

Mercenary Fliers Are Touchy Issue With Nigerians

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer

LAGOS, Nigeria — Nigeria's newly jet-powered air force took me for a ride in a Czech-built L19 Delfin jet fighter as a way of showing it doesn't depend on mercenary pilots.

It was the first time since Nigeria bought eight or nine Delfins and at least 12 Soviet MIG15 and MIG17 jets that the air force has permitted newsman near them, let alone in one.

★ ★ ★

A young Nigerian flew me through a 30-minute series of rolls and lazy eights 18,000 feet above Lagos. Then his commanding officer motioned to himself, my pilot and a third Nigerian flier and asked, "Do we look like white mercenaries?"

Mercenary pilots have been a touchy issue since the jets arrived. The planes came in August, a month after the outbreak of civil war between the federal government and the secessionist East which declared itself Biafra May 30.

TECHNICIANS

Soviet and Czech pilots first were reported flying the planes for lack of qualified Nigerians. At least 200 Russian technicians arrived, too. Several South Africans, Englishmen and an Australian appeared.

Egyptians have been flying the MIGs against targets in Biafra from a base in recaptured Calabar, in the southeastern extreme of the country.

Nigeria has denied hiring mercenaries, explaining it has only "technical advisers."

"Our own pilots now are flying the MIGs," said Maj. Dan Suleiman, 25, commander of the jet detachment at Lagos Airport.

"Does that mean the Egyptians are going home?" he was asked.

"Of course."

My pilot was Lt. Ibi Maina, 24, who returned from combat flying at Calabar a week ago. He trained in West Germany.

He said he had one hour's instruction with the Czech who ferried the plane to Kano, Northern Nigeria, before he flew it himself.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Suleiman, a native of Northern Nigeria, trained to fly transports in Germany and flew jets in training with the Ethiopian air force.

Thet hird man with us was Capt. W. I. Aleyideino, 24, the air force operations officer, who trained in Canada and Germany. He is from the Northern city of Kaduna.

The Nigerians have at least 10 combat pilots with more than 1,300 hours' flying time, including 50 hours in jets, he reported. They could fly the Delfins after an hour of instruction, Suleiman said, and the MIGs were not much more difficult. But the Russian instructors had been "very technical," making the course of instruction longer.

★ ★ ★

The Delfin's maximum speed is 370 miles an hour. Most of the dashboard panels are Czech and the Cyrillic alphabet, but a few labels in English have been screwed on. Two machine guns jut from the wing tips.

School Finance Panel Proposes Millage, Bond Vote

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This article summarizes a major Pontiac school report. Several more detailed stories on finances, facilities, staff and students and curriculum will follow soon.)

By DICK ROBINSON

Voters in the Pontiac School District may go to the polls in March to vote on a proposed 6.25-tax millage increase and $23-million bond issue.

The school tax issues were recommended to the Pontiac Board of Education last night by its Finance Study Council, (FSC). Its report and the months ahead are considered the most important in the district's history.

The council is composed of 90 citizens and 32 members of the professional staff of the school administration.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said he hopes the election will be held around mid-March.

★ ★ ★

He suggested that the board set an election date at its Jan. 24 meeting, based upon the legality ruling of a March election from its attorney.

Major unanimous recommendations of the FSC in a 250-page report were:

- An additional 6.25 millage increase for 10 years beginning in July 1968 is necessary to meet the operating needs of the district.

ROY L. REUTHER

UAW Organizer Dies in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Services will be held Saturday at Ver Heyden Funeral Home in suburban Grosse Pointe for Roy L. Reuther, veteran official of the United Auto Workers and brother of UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther, 58, died yesterday at Detroit Metropolitan Hospital where he was taken after suffering a heart attack at his home, his second in less than a month. Efforts to revive him failed.

Reuther was national director of the UAW's citizenship and legislature department and administrative assistant to the union's president.

Union and political leaders praised Reuther's contribution to the union labor movement.

★ ★ ★

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said he "was not only a valued colleague and a fine trade unionist, he was a warm and understanding friend."

Born Aug. 29, 1909, in Wheeling, W. Va. he worked with his brothers, Walter and Victor, in organizing the UAW. He had been in the labor movement since 1927 when he joined the Electrical Workers Union.

Reuther was a leader of the historic sitdown strikes during the Thirties in the GM plants in Flint. He played a key role in later negotiations with the company.

Reuther, who lived in Orchard Lake, is survived by his wife, the former Fania Sankin; and two sons, Alan and David, students at the University of Michigan; his mother, Mrs. Anna Reuther of Wheeling, W.Va.; his brothers, Walter; Victor, who is director of the UAW's international affairs department in Washington; and Theodore, a Wheeling, W.Va., businessman, and a sister, Mrs. Christine Richey.

Transport Plane Is Feared Down

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (AP) — A four-engine military transport plane, which last radioed it was icing and losing altitude in a blinding snowstorm, was feared down today in rugged terrain in northern Nevada.

Accounts of the number of persons aboard varied.

Buckley Air Field in Denver, Colo., said the plane had 18 men aboard when it took off yesterday, but the Pentagon in Washington said the craft carried 19.

The pilot was flying on instruments in the blizzard when he radioed that his engines were icing 21 to 30 miles southwest of the little cattle and mining town of Battle Mountain.

★ ★ ★

He told the Federal Aviation Agency in Salt Lake City: "I am losing altitude at 10,000 feet and at present time unable to maintain 12,000." That was at 1:50 p.m. He wasn't heard from again.

'BOOM AND ROAR'

Robert Hodges told the Lander County sheriff's office he heard a "boom and roar" southeast of his farm 20 to 30 miles south of Battle Mountain between 2 and 3 p.m.

Joe Adamson, a watchman at the Duval mine about 17 miles south of Battle Mountain, said he heard a plane roaring through the same general area about 1:55 p.m., Schwin said.

The plane carred an amphibious warfare instruction team based at Quantico, Va.

★ ★ ★

The group, touring marine bases throughout the country, was en route to Seattle, Wash. to give its next class.

Western search and rescue headquarters at Hamilton planned to send 30 search aircraft including helicopters into the air in daylight hours.

Mansfield Against U.S. 'Hot Pursuit'

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. pursuit of Communist Vietnamese forces into neutral Cambodia "would be tragedy compounded on tragedy," says Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

Mansfield said yesterday he's convinced after talking with President Johnson that the United States won't permit such so-called hot pursuit missions.

If such a policy did develop, Mansfield said, it would mean a U.S. commitment of up to 750,000 men and almost certainly extend the war.

Such a step could lead Cambodian chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk to ask the Soviet Union or Red China for help to enforce his proclaimed neutrality, he said.

The Christian Science Monitor reported meanwhile that North Vietnam has confirmed it "will hold talks with the United States" if U.S. bombing and other war acts are halted unconditionally.

Gov. George Romney

After 10 Months, No Report

U.S. Peace Economics Plan Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ten months after President Johnson ordered a Cabinet-level commission to begin work on an antirecession strategy for a peacetime economy, its members still haven't delivered a formal proposal to the White House.

"There is no report in the sense of a report for the President to act on," a Commerce Department official said in an interview. "We're working on it, though I can't say at any furious pace."

Johnson, saying an end to the Vietnam war could jeopardize the boom that began in early 1961, directed Chairman Gardner Ackley to the Council of Economic Advisers and other sides last January "to begin at once a major and coordinated effort" to prepare for the economics of peace.

The White House had no comment on the commission's work although one spokesman said he hadn't heard anything about it since March.

★ ★ ★

Named March 5 to share with Ackley the responsibility for setting up the new economic machinery were:

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz, Secretary of Commerce Alexander B. Trowbridge and Director Charles L. Schultze of the Budget Bureau.

Ackley is leaving the Council of Economic Advisers to become U.S. ambassador to Italy; McNamara has resigned to become president of the World Bank, and Schultze has resigned to become a senior fellow at Brookings Insituation. None has left his post yet.

Open Housing Given Priority

LANSING (AP) — Calling for a "better, safer, cleaner Michigan," Gov. George Romney today unveiled a 1968 legislative program seeking an open housing law, riot and criminal law revisions and more aid to education.

Related Stories, Page D-14

The Republican governor's sixth State of the State message contained few surprises and included several holdovers from last year's lawmaking sessions, as well as brand new proposals.

Romney wasted no time in calling attention to his candidacy for the GOP presidential nomination, promising that campaign trips will not diminish the administration's dedication to solving Michigan's problems.

Recalling his major success of the 1967 legislative session — enactment of Michigan's first state income tax—Romney told lawmakers that his 1968 proposals would require no additional taxes.

★ ★ ★

Romney, scheduled to deliver his budget recommendations later in the session, warned however that "we must approach the new fiscal year with great care."

RECOMMENDATIONS

The recommendations were, for the most part, general. Several points were accompanied by the promise of more specific outlines to come.

Major recommendations included in the approximately 2,500-word message included:

- An open housing law prohibiting racial discrimination in real estate transactions, accompanied by more financial support to the State Civil Rights Commission.
- A revision of the so-called "Riot Act" to provide a clear, workable definition of unlawful assembly and to make unlawful the failure to disperse upon command.
- Prohibitions against wilful blocking of streets and highways by demonstrators and possession of incendiary devices.

Study Is Hailed as Milestone in District History

A three-month financial study of needs of the Pontiac school system has been hailed as a milestone in the history of the school district.

A 122-member Finance Study Council which prepared an exhaustive 250-page document received nothing but praise for its dedicated service.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer praised the group for its enthusiasm, interest and complete, speedy report.

Pontiac's school board created the council in September to:

★ ★ ★

- Study the needs for additional operating revenues for 1968 and subsequent years.
- Study the needs for additional school construction.
- Determine what school tax rates are necessary to finance these needs.

★ ★ ★

- And to conduct an informational campaign leading up to a citizens' vote on the proposals.

"The council will have a large and complex set of problems to study and will be on a tight time schedule," Whitmer said following the council's creation. "Yet, the future welfare of the school district is wrapped up in the success of this program."

Related Story, Page C-14

A total of 90 citizens were appointed to the council along with 32 members of the professional staff of the school administration.

An effort was made to obtain representatives of all segments of the community as well as persons with specific skills, knowledge and experience.

Heading up the study was Francis M. Webster Jr., a Chrysler Corp. operations research manager. He was assisted by Joanna Neale.

"We realize that it is very improbable that the future will occur exactly as we have predicted," Webster said last night. "However, we are confident that the recommendations are reasonable in light of all the uncertainties inherent in such projections."

Charles W. Buck, chairman of the council's community relations committee, said he believes the report is a "true feeling of the lay people" and "isn't a rubber stamp of the school administration."

Area Temperature Growing Warmer

A little warmer is the outlook for Pontiac area residents tonight and tomorrow.

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy tonight with the low a little warmer of 16 to 20. Mostly cloudy is the forecast for tomorrow with the high in the mid-20s.

Saturday's outlook is somewhat colder with some snow flurries.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today and tonight 10, tomorrow 20, row 20.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 7. The mercury had warmed up to 16 by 12:30 p.m.

Incoming Realtor Head Is Honored

Albert J. Rhodes, incoming Pontiac Board of Realtors president, received the 1968 Realtor of the Year award at the board's 47th annual banquet last night.

Following the ceremonies at the Elks Temple, Dr. Thomas Stephens Haggai, a former minister who now averages a speech a day throughout the country, imparted his basic values for living.

He suggested this guide to 475 listeners: "I want to live and want to help others to live."

He said "The world is shrinking to titmouse proportions and the closer we live together, the less we know about each other. We're so caught in the pressure of the 20th century that we hardly have time to say hello to our family — let alone others.

★ ★ ★

"The most important single question today is 'who cares about anybody?'"

he asked urging listeners to be concerned with more than what other people can do for them.

SUGGESTS PROJECT

He suggested that everyone should be doing at least one project simply because it has to be done; not because the doer is on a project committee or because the doer wants recognition.

He briefly discussed certain concepts of the government's poverty program explaining he believed to build a person, one had to instill pride by giving that person a sense of responsibility.

"When you give to people without having them participate in their earning then you take their face away. People need the pride which comes from the sense of being able to say 'This I have done.'"

★ ★ ★

After Rhodes took the presidential gavel from outgoing president Bruce J. Annett, who is now twice a past president, the other 1968 officers were installed.

They include James A. Cunningham, vice president; Warren D. Newton, secretary and general chairman of the banquet; and Kenneth G. Hempstead, treasurer.

Rhodes, owner of Albert J. Rhodes Realty, was the 1967 vice president of the Board of Realtors. He is assessor for the Village of Lake Orion, on the Pontiac Area United Fund planning committee, secretary of the Lake Orion development corporation, and a member of numerous realty organizations.

Leads Sifted in Arms Theft

Pontiac police said today their investigation of the burglary early Sunday of dozens of weapons from the city Army Reserve Center is now concentrated on "sorting the good leads out from the bad."

★ ★ ★

Investigators said they have followed up on several tips and have interviewed numerous persons without solid results.

At least 58 items, including automatic pistols and rifles and four bazooka-type rocket launchers have been determined missing in the break-in discovered Sunday morning by a reserve officer.

The burglars entered the building at 40 Walnut by prying open a rear overhead door, then used bolt cutters to enter weapons storage areas.

★ ★ ★

Police said no ammunition was stocked at the center and most of the weapons lacked components necessary for operation, but that these were available in most cases.

★ ★ ★

Detectives James Fritz and Branton Dennis of the city police burglary detail said they are waiting for the one important break which they said usually comes in such cases.

★ ★ ★

Working with local authorities on the case are FBI, military intelligence and state police agents.

Ike Beats Out LBJ in 'Most Admired' Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is the man Americans currently admire the most, edging out President Johnson and evangelist Billy Graham, according to a Gallup Poll released yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, top choice for the last four years, was rated second in the 1967 top 10 men.

This marked the first time since 1951 the incumbent president has not been voted most popular.

Third place, based on the poll of 1,526 adults across the nation, went to Graham, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was fourth. Fifth choice was Pope Paul VI.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has announced his bid for the Republican presidential nomination, dropped out of the top 10 10 this year. Former President Harry S. Truman moved into 10th place.

Army Units in U.S. Are 20 Per Cent Shy of Major Equipment

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Army divisions and brigades that form a strategic reserve to meet any new crisis abroad, are short nearly one-fifth of their major equipment.

★ ★ ★

This situation exists more than two years after the Defense Department began putting in heavy orders for gear and supplies to support a big military buildup for the Vietnam war.

★ ★ ★

Asked for a report on the present equipment situation in the strategic reserves, the Army replied Wednesday: "The active Army divisions and brigades currently stationed in continental United States have on hand approximately 82 per cent of their authorized . . . major end items equipment."

FUNCTIONAL ITEMS

The Army defined a major end item as "one which in itself performs a function" such as trucks and tanks.

It estimated only about one-half of the shortages will be filled by June 30.

★ ★ ★

Beyond an across-the-board percentage the Army declined on security grounds to provide a detailed breakdown of short items.

But while the strategic reserves are short of their allotted equipment, the Army apparently has made progress in modernizing their gear.

In May 1966 the Senate preparedness subcommittee complained stateside divisions were burdened with over-age vehicles and tracked equipment which has been driven "an excessive number of miles."

The new report said fewer than 1.2 per cent of the major items on hand are less than first-line quality.

★ ★ ★

The preparedness subcommittee charged in March 1966 that the Army's divisions in the United States were not combat-ready because they were being used to train draftees and recruits. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara acknowledged this was so.

A separate Army report, furnished on request to The Associated Press, showed this problem has been overcome. The Army said no basic trainees remain in the ranks of its divisions and brigades in the United States.

Heart Fluid Removed

CAPE TOWN — Fluid which developed around Dr. Philip Blaiberg's transplanted heart has been removed, but "his doctors do not take a serious view of this complication," Groote Schuur Hospital announced today. Meanwhile in Palo Alto, Calif. Mike Kasperak, the other surviving heart transplant recipient, scribbled "I love you" on a piece of paper last night and handed it to his wife, Ferne, at his bedside. It was the first communication between the Cleveland steelworker and his wife since his diseased heart was replaced by the smaller heart of a housewife Saturday night. A tube inserted in Kasperak's windpipe to aid breathing prevents him from talking.

2 Panels Combined in State Senate

LANSING (AP) — A Republican plan to consolidate the Senate education and elections committees was labeled a "slap at education" Wednesday by Senate minority Democrats who would lose two committee members in the process.

But Senate Republicans, who outnumber Democrats 19-18, successfully passed a resolution to combine the two five-member committees into a single five-man body.

Republican Floor Leader Robert Vander Laan of Grand Rapids described the move as "the fairest and most equitable way" to resolve a problem created by the death of Sen. Harold Volkema, R-Holland, who was chairman of the education committee.

Yanks, S. Viets Engage in 3 Big Battles With Reds

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese soldiers clashed with Vietcong and North Vietnamese in a chain of battles Wednesday that stretched from the northern provinces to the Mekong Delta.

Three major engagements were reported.

● U.S. infantrymen, landing from river assault boats on the slippery banks of a Mekong Delta canal, ran head-on into a veteran Vietcong battalion and killed at least 47 guerrillas in a 10-hour fight that ended early today. American losses were 18 killed and 50 wounded.

● Vietcong infantrymen charged from behind a mortar barrage and struck hard at the hilltop bivouac of a South Vietnamese battalion, in Binh Dinh Province 270 miles above Saigon, killing 14 soldiers and 10 ammunition bearers and wounding 30 soldiers. A government spokesman said 23 guerrillas were killed and two were captured.

● U.S. air cavalrymen, fighting under the banner of the American Division, reported killing 28 North Vietnamese regulars and said 14 of their own men were wounded in a four-hour fight in the Que Son Valley 370 miles northeast of Saigon. Only three of the wounded Americans had to be evacuated.

RECORD TOLL

The continuing intense fighting that erupted after the New Year's truce and the aggressive tactics of the Communist forces were reflected in the U.S. Command's weekly report of casualties.

An American spokesman confirmed the South Vietnamese Command's report the day before that 2,868 of the enemy were killed last week, a record for the war. Allied losses were about average: 184 Americans killed and 1,132 wounded; 263 South Vietnamese killed, 657 wounded and 83 missing, 19 soldiers of other allied forces killed and 36 wounded.

Levin Quits as Minority Floor Leader

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Sander Levin, who also is Democratic state chairman, submitted his resignation as Senate minority floor leader to the party caucus Wednesday.

The Senate Democrats postponed until their next caucus meeting, which probably will come next week, any decision on whether to accept the resignation or the question of a replacement.

★ ★ ★

Levin, a second term senator from Berkley who was elected state party chairman last month said his main reason for resigning is "to give someone else an opportunity to concentrate their attention on the position.

"I intend to participate actively in the Senate," he said, "but I would hope that someone else could take on the added responsibility (as floor leader)."

NOT CONFLICT

He said the possibility of a conflict between the two jobs did not enter into his decision.

"My feeling is that the destiny of the Democratic party and good programs in the Legislature are intertwined," Levin said.

City Man Faces Robbery Trial

A Pontiac man was ordered yesterday to stand trial on a charge of conspiracy to commit armed robbery in connection with the murder of a West Bloomfield Township trustee.

Milton R. Pratt, 39, of 556 Bloomfield stood mute to the charge when he appeared for arraignment before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Pratt as returned to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $50,000 to await trial. No date was set for the hearing.

Police charge Pratt with being one of the four assailants who entered the West Bloomfield Township home of Trustee Edward E. DeConick July 3, 1967.

DeConick was fatally shot, and his sister, Kathleen, 73, seriously wounded and beaten, during the robbery.

2 Bound Over in Abortion Plot

Two men charged with conspiracy to commit abortion have been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Jan. 23 before Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

The men — Samuel Bricker, 51, of Southfield and Hugh McDonald, 71, of Detroit — were arrested Oct. 2, 1967 by State Police on information furnished by a Birmingham woman, Mrs. Tabalea Drader, 1743 Shipman.

Mrs. Drader had contacted police a week earlier after receiving a phone call asking if she wanted an abortion.

Authorities then arranged for a State Police woman, Kay Whitefield, 25, to take the place of Mrs. Drader, when she was scheduled to go to Bricker's apartment for the alleged operation.

Miss Whitefield testified yesterday how she changed her appearance and carried a hidden electronic listening device on her person.

'ELABORATE SETUP'

McDonald reportedly took her to Bricker's apartment, where, according to police, there was an "elaborate setup for abortion."

Defense attorney Carlton Roeser of Pontiac yesterday refused to allow the prosecutor's office to make a recording of Bricker's voice, presumably to compare it to a tape conversation between Mrs. Drader and an unknown caller.

Farmington Justice of the Peace Byron Walter, in binding the pair over to a higher court Tuesday, approved a motion by Roeser to lower their bonds.

Bricker's bond was reduced from $35,000 to $5,000 and McDonald's bond from $15,000 to $5,000.

'Campaign to Force Vote on Housing Law Success'

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Referendum Committee has collected enough signatures, according to one of its members, to force a suspension of the city's recently enacted fair housing ordinance.

George W. Davis, 1030 Pilgrim said the committee has well over the 1,984 signatures (15 percent of the city's registered voters) required to guarantee a public referendum on the ordinance.

"However," Davis said, "We hope to keep going for a while so that we will have a good safety margin when the signatures are checked."

The drive will also continue, Davis added, because the committee wants the number of signatures to be an indication of public feeling.

★ ★ ★

Once the petition is submitted to the city clerk's office, the City Commission may either vote to repeal the ordinance within 30 days or put it on the ballot.

Principal problems encountered by petitioners, Davis said, were the weather and the time of year. "We had difficulty during the holidays," he explained, "because we depended on volunteer help and people are always busy then. And then just recently we had that bitter cold snap.

"As far as people signing, though," he continued, "We've had no trouble. The ratio of people signing to those not signing has been running about 30 to 1."

He attributed many refusals to lack of interest — "I think most of the people who haven't signed have not done so on the basis of the issue, but just don't want to be bothered."

Davis declined to predict the outcome of a possible public referendum, however, claiming that many signers "obviously favored" the fair housing law, but objected to the manner in which the commission had passed it.

Other members of the referendum committee, which initiated the drive shortly after the ordinance was passed Nov. 27, include Dr. Francis LeVeque, Frank Mitchell, Benjamin Phelps and Janet Dodd.

Romney Unveils Goals

● Better tools to fight organized crime, including court-ordered electronic surveillance under certain circumstances, granting of witness immunity by Circuit Court judges along with Circuit Court power to grant subpoena power to prosecuting attorneys or the attorney general.

● More state support for the entire education system with intensified efforts in areas of special need.

● Reorganization of the state's lower court system, a holdover from the special legislative session called by Romney last October and completed in December.

● Stiffer controls over public employe bargaining, including designation of the day after Labor Day as the legal opening day for Michigan's public schools.

● An unspecified increase in the state's present $1.25 - an - hour minimum wage.

● General obligation bonds issues of $435 million to help finance costs of protecting natural resources and developing local recreational projects.

● An additional $210 million in state money for support of local government along with granting of additional taxing powers to cities in the form of excise taxes.

Although Romney's recommendations dealt specifically with Michigan, he used the areas of finance, social services and public employment to take swipes at the national administration.

He labeled as deficient existing laws dealing with organization of public employes.

"This is a national problem," he said, resulting "from grave distortions in our national pattern of compensation."

★ ★ ★

He said the state's flexibility in dealing with problems of public assistance to the poor "has been limited by the federal government," citing 1967 Social Security amendments as an example.

'AT MERCY OF WHIMS'

In addition, he said, "Michigan, like most states, finds itself increasingly at the mercy of federal financial and policy whims."

"My candidacy for our nation's highest office will require considerable time and attention outside of our state in the weeks and months ahead," said Romney, who planned to leave late today to campaign in New Hampshire, site of the nation's first primary election.

"Fortunately our state constitution now provides for the election of the governor and the lieutenant governor as a team," he added. "Lt. Gov. William Milliken and I function as a team."

"We will work as a team to seek adoption of our programs proposed in this message and in the budget," he said.

Open housing, which failed in a 47-55 House vote last month at the close of the special session, topped Romney's list of recommendations.

County Residents Protest Expansion of Orion Airport

By JEAN SAILE

ORION TOWNSHIP — "We're going to look like Woodward Avenue at 5 p.m." moaned an Oakland Township resident and pilot.

Congestion of air traffic was William B. Moos' chief complaint.

He was one of 75 homeowners from Oakland, Orion, Pontiac and Avon townships attending a protest meeting against the proposed Oakland-Orion Airport expansion last night at the Orion Township Hall.

Called by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, a group formed six years ago to fight any expansion of flight facilities in Orion Township, the meeting was largely an outraged cry against spending of taxpayers' dollars.

What can home owners do when they feel their government is spending their tax money for something they don't want and think they don't need? This was the prime question.

The County Board of Supervisors has recently voted to enter an expansion program at the former Allen Airport along with one at Oakland-Pontiac Airport in Waterford Township. Both airports as projected would accommodate jets.

The allegedly secretive methods used by the county board in going ahead with its plans for the airport were assailed by those present.

"You can starve anything to death," said Roy Baker of Oakland Township. "If we can get organized on a countywide basis we could all refuse to pay our taxes for two years."

It was noted that there is a three-year limitation on tax payment before property can be confiscated and sold.

★ ★ ★

"What we need is another Boston Tea Party," said a voice from the audience.

LEAST OBJECTIONABLE

The association president, Glenn Swindler of Avon Township, read from minutes of meetings in 1961 and 1962 in which the Federal Aviation Agency reportedly called all proposed airport sites in Oakland County objectionable in some degree, but the "A" site — Allen Airport — was least objectionable.

"If they were objectionable then, what are they now?" asked Mrs. Dorothy Ostrander of Orion Township.

Dan DeLelys of Oakland Township, a commercial pilot, said he wasn't so much opposed to the airport as he was tired of "others spending my money."

★ ★ ★

He charged, "The county pulled a sneaker by ever getting this started."

ROADS, SCHOOLS

"What we need more is good roads and schools," said Dick Morris, the Keatington Development representative present. He said, however, his company planned to further study the matter before taking any definite stand.

★ ★ ★

A decision to attempt a countywide organization for purposes of pressuring county, state and federal government was proposed at the meeting.

Property Protest

Tax Bills Heat Tempers

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor—Suburban

If people — like dogs—suffered distemper, a large share of area taxpayers would be candidates for the dog pound.

Taxpayers are upset, unhappy and just plain fightin' mad.

Causes for the alarm are the December tax bills, which arrived before the old year went out but have provided a giant postholiday hangover.

What appears to particularly gripe even normally soft-spoken

News Analysis

citizens is that there is NO way under regular procedures that 1967 taxes can be altered.

★ ★ ★

Gripes over 1967 tax bills—which are nearly all substantially higher than in 1966 — have already resulted in at least two protest meetings in the county. Also, it is a hot topic of conversation nearly everywhere.

What's the hang-up?

MARKET VALUE

The bad guy, if there is one, is the 50 per cent of market value levy placed on area homesteads at the behest a while ago of the State Legislature.

While the move was widely publicized, many individual property owners were unaware of the high cost of the new assessments until the December mailing of the tax bills.

There appears to have been a collective gasp.

What to do?

★ ★ ★

Homeowners discovered there really isn't much they can do. The time for objecting to one's property value was last spring?

RECOURSE

The only apparent recourse at this date is a suit in Circuit Court. Even this remedy is not guaranteed to right an alleged injustice in assessing.

According to Herman Stephens, director of the county's equalization department, the courts generally have been reluctant to get into the business of second guessing assessors on the value of property.

Hence, the property owner is left with a head of steam and a high tax bill.

There is a method to obtain relief in 1968. Stephens outlined the correct steps followed in area townships. (The procedures vary in cities according to specific city charters.)

ASSESSMENT ROLLS

First, the assessment rolls must be dispatched to the township's board of review by the first Monday in March, or March 4 this year. The board will meet the first Tuesday following the first Monday.

(Notice of the board's meeting dates are published at least one week in advance of the first Monday in March.)

The review boards can meet up until April 1, listening to appeals on assessments from individuals and firms.

★ ★ ★

If a taxpayer fails to convince the board of review that his assessment is wrong, an appeal to the State Tax Commission is possible. This appeal must be made by the first Monday in May.

FORM OF APPEAL

Appeals can either be in letter form or in person.

Stephens said he thought 1967 problems resulted primarily because taxpayers were unaware or paid little attention to the change in assessing. He said legislation probably could be devised to help the situation.

He said, for example, there might be a law passed requiring that the property owner be notified when the value is changed on his property.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, Circuit Court remains as the only means of potentially correcting the 1967 tax bill. And, the taxes are still due by Feb. 14 even if a court suit is sought, according to Stephens.

VALUE DECISIONS

He added that the courts in the past have corrected clerical errors, but generally have shied away from deciding the value of real estate.

Troy Schools Set Flexibility Study for Scheduling

TROY — The board of education has arranged study of flexible scheduling plans for the 1968-69 school year.

A parent-teacher-administrator group appointed by the board will study systems for flexible scheduling other than the present system to see if any might be more suited for the district's individual needs.

"We hope that they (the committee) will have results for us soon," commented Supt. of Schools Dr. Rex B. Smith, "because a decision on flexible scheduling must be made soon in order to prepare for computer runs and other procedures."

Concern has been expressed by board members regarding the Feb. 19 millage election, at which voters will decide whether to approve a requested two-year seven-mill hike for operating expenses.

★ ★ ★

If the millage is rejected, Smith said, more spending cuts will be necessary and "flexible scheduling at the high school, regardless of benefits, will probably be impossible."

ADDED EDUCATION OK'D

The board also approved two plans for added education, one involving vocational classes and the other concerned with mentally retarded children.

The first plan, to be cosponsored by Oakland Community College, will open the Colerain Elementary School building, presently not in use, for both day and night vocational studies.

★ ★ ★

The secnd, a tentative program drawn up by the Oakland Intermediate District Special Education Department, provides for Troy to offer an additional program for Type A (less seriously) retarded youngsters.

Walled Lake School Board OKs Vocational Education Center

WALLED LAKE — The board of education has accepted the assignment from the Oakland County Intermediate School District to operate a vocational center for this area.

★ ★ ★

The vocational program, expected to begin in the Fall of 1970, will serve about 800 high school pupils from the school districts of Walled Lake, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Huron Valley, Novi and South Lyon, said Walled Lake Assistant Supt. Rolland J. Langerman.

The plans are for two groups of 400 pupils to attend the vocational center half-day and their regular high school the rest of the day.

The intermediate school district will finance the program and the construction of the school building with the half-mill levy county voters approved for this purpose last year.

The ultimate control of and responsibility for the program rests with the Walled Lake district, said Langerman.

NOT FINAL

He added that the terms of the agreement with the intermediate district are not yet final.

The board of Education has accepted the resignation of E. V. Ayres, principal of Walled Lake Senior High School effective at the end of the 1968-69 school year, when he will be of retirement age. The principal has held his position since 1947.

The administration will begin shortly to interview for Ayres' position as well as for that of principal of the Walled Lake Western High School to open in the Fall of 1969 and principal of Loon Lake Elementary to open this September.

A committee to study the use of 11.39 the district purchased at the Proud Lake Recreation area has been put to work by the board.

The district bought the land in late December for $11,105 to handle the increasing number of Walled Lake 6th graders using the area, explained Langerman.

School Secretaries, Board Launch Talks in West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Bargaining agents for the 12-member secretarial union in the school district here begin negotiating today with the West Bloomfield Board of Education.

★ ★ ★

The contract to be drawn up will cover the 1967-68 school year. Salary increases will probably be retroactive to last July 1, said Supt. Leif Hougen.

★ ★ ★

The joint contract represents the first for the unionized secretaries who voted 8-2 to join the AFL-CIO secretarial union several weeks ago, Hougen reported.

Highland Rejects Proposal for Reassessment by Firm

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — The desire of residents here to have their properties reassessed has been temporarily blocked.

★ ★ ★

The Township Board last night unanimously turned down a proposal to hire a private firm to reassess subdivisions by the deadline of the first Monday in March.

The board wanted a firm to go into every home instead of just a sampling as was proposed, explained Township Supervisor Louis Oldenburg who favored the proposal, but didn't vote on it.

The board has also asked its attorney, Harold Dudley, for an opinion on the legality of the township hiring an assessor. At last night's public meeting on taxes, residents raised this question.

★ ★ ★

Oldenburg claimed at the meeting that a firm didn't need to go through all homes because files record assessments made in 1960. Th supervisor explained that most homes in the township were built before 1960.

LOWER ASSESSMENTS

While those files include all the homes then standing, the assessments were lower than the 50 per cent cash value required today, he said.

The township tax bills for 1967 were considerably higher because the township was bringing assessments into line with the 50 per cent requirement explained Oldenburg.

★ ★ ★

This increase sparked the public meeting at which the county treasurer James E. Seeterlin and director of the County Equalization Department Herman Stephens appeared to answer questions from residents.

Keego Goes On, Hunts Manager

KEEGO HARBOR — This city has no manager, but services will continue as though nothing has changed, stressed Mayor Fred Milliron Jr.

The council has already started interviewing for someone to replace former manager Gary L. Dickson, who left Dec. 27.

The 33-year-old Dickson, a resident of Madison Heights, resigned to take a job with the National Bank of Detroit.

"We want a manager as quickly as possible, but if the right man doesn't appear, we won't panic," assured Milliron.

★ ★ ★

He expects the city may be without a manager for several months.

COUNCIL COORDINATES

Meanwhile, the City Council is coordinating city programs as the manager would, said Milliron.

A councilman is available at the City Hall from about 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. and Clerk Mrs. Robert Ward has been put in charge of the city offices.

Dickson, who began work for the city in April 1965, at one time filled the positions of clerk and treasurer plus manager

The final go-ahead for the move came last week from the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Writer Supports Action of Police Officers

In regards to criticism of the recent unfortunate shooting of the King boy, I believe in law and order. It's about time that someone clearly explained to young people, Negro and white, that if they want to break the law they must suffer the consequence, whatever it may be. Let's quit guessing as to what the police should or can do. I believe they are well trained and know what they have to do. What right does the Michigan Civil Rights Commission have to investigate law enforcement? I can understand it investigating housing and job discrimination but it has no business with law enforcement.

'Airport Means Progress in Oakland County'

When the Pontiac Airport was built in 1928 many didn't believe aviation was progress. I'm amazed that some of these people are still around. Last week The Pontiac Press showed the public the 200,000th landing at Oakland-Pontiac Airport. Because of poor planning and because of not wanting to invest in the future, we are now in need of more facilities in this County.

As for the airport belonging or being available to a "favored few," this is not true. If you haven't taken the opportunity to avail yourself of our airport, it is your own fault. Those "favored few" pay the return of your tax dollars. The airports are the only hope in this County of a return on your tax dollars. Ask any Pontiac City Commission member, now that the County is the proud owner of a forever progressing airport.

Offers Suggestion to Be Tried in Pontiac

Four Pontiac families now living in Scottsdale, Arizona, wish to see this tried in Pontiac. Here, a large parking area is used and for $1 per day a person can set up shop and sell crafts, baked goods, art, used clothing, or what have you. The one here is open from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. each Saturday and Sunday and thousands attend. We wouldn't miss it, not only for the bargains we get but for the fellowship of our neighbors.

Comment on Romney's Absence From State

Governor Romney's absence proves that Michigan can get along without him. He's spending taxpayers' money by staying away from the State Capitol and another man must be paid to carry on his duties. Is this Gov. Romney's idea of efficiency and economy? The least he could do is resign. Then he could give all his attention to the pursuit of his other ambitions.

'Highland Township to Have Tax Meeting'

To all taxpayers in Highland Township who would like to know more about their taxes, a meeting has been set for January 9, at Highland Township Hall at 8 p.m. If you have questions, here is the place where qualified men will answer them. I wonder why Highland is paying $43.57 State equalized valuation. For this kind of tax money we should expect street lights, garbage collection, police department, etc.

Police-Ghetto Ties Worsening

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

One of the most sensitive areas in race relations today is the problem of police-community relations in the ghetto. Unfortunately, there are signs that these relations may be worsening.

There have been constant calls for policemen to "get tough" with Negroes as a way of preventing riots, and the papers have been full of reports of lethal new weapons which local police departments are stocking for use in riots.

YOUNG

Washington, D.C., and some other cities have enacted new laws which could lead to a new trend against individual's constitutional rights.

In addition, there seem to be more people than ever running around shouting about "crime in the streets." That's shorthand for crimes committed by Negroes.

Discrimination and slum conditions make some ghettos breeding grounds for crime, and there is no question that it exists. But few people seem to care that Negroes themselves are most often the victims of such crime.

★ ★ ★

Only when white persons suffer do the defenders of "law and order" start screaming.

AT TOP OF LIST

Surveys of Negro neighborhoods show that better police protection is at the top of the list of community needs, but they seldom get it.

A federal report cited one case where a Negro man called the police, but they never came. Finally, he got the bright idea of phoning again, this time saying: "Come quickly, Negroes are attacking a white man." The police arrived two minutes later.

So it is not police protection that Negroes resent. Criminals and hoodlums should be arrested, no matter what their race. What Negroes resent is the way they are singled out for police harassment.

★ ★ ★

While police brutality exists, it is not nearly as common as the practices of stopping and "frisking" Negroes on the streets or making a big thing out of minor traffic violations which would go unnoticed among whites.

BAD ATTITUDE

Miami's police chief recently called a news conference in which he demonstrated to the whole world the kind of attitudes which contribute to tensions.

The chief said he was arming his officers with shotguns and dogs, and instituting a shoot-to-kill policy.

He said he didn't care about charges of brutality, was ending community relations programs and tied ghetto crime to the civil rights movement. His targets are Negro youths from 15 to 21.

★ ★ ★

Because three white people had been killed in the ghetto, he announced this new get-tough policy. Of course, when Negroes were killed and robbed there was no such concern.

DECLARATION OF WAR

This is no way to fight crime. It amounts to a declaration of war on the whole Negro community. It threatens to turn the ghetto into an armed camp with the equivalent of an occupying army.

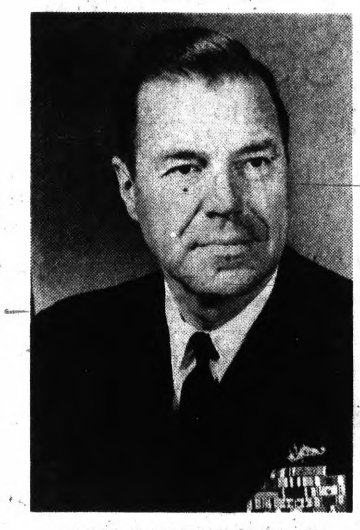
Tell New Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Series

KITTY CARLISLE



ADM. JAMES CALVERT

Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall Inc. announces completion of arrangements for its 1968-69 series of programs. Appearances by five outstanding personalities will highlight the 10th anniversary year of the civic non-profit organization.

★ ★ ★

Kitty Carlisle will open the series Oct. 9 discussing her own interesting life under the title, "First Person Singular."

Miss Carlisle made her singing debut many years ago in the musical "Rio Rita."

★ ★ ★

She has sung in light opera, movies, and in 1967 made her operatic debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in the part of Prince Orlofsky in Johann Strauss' light opera, Die Fledermaus.

★ ★ ★

She has been a regular panelist on the TV program "To Tell the Truth" for over 10 years. Miss Carlisle is the widow of playwright-director Moss Hart.

★ ★ ★

Admiral James Calvert, USN, is Town Hall's Nov. 13 guest at the Huron Theater, speaking on "On the Threshold of a New World."

★ ★ ★

As skipper of the USS Skate, nuclear submarine which voyaged beneath the polar icecap, Admiral Calvert was twice awarded the Legion of Merit, and the submarine was honored with the only two Unit Commendations ever given in peace time.

★ ★ ★

Now stationed at the Pentagon as Director of the Politico-Military Division of the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Calvert is the author of "Surface at the Pole," the story of this modern exploration of one of the earth's last frontiers.

★ ★ ★

"The Incomparable Hildegarde" is the first series offering of the new year, scheduled Jan. 8. All the talents of this well-known pianist-singer will be combined in a morning presentation of "One Enchanted Evening."

★ ★ ★

Hildegarde, though a native of Wisconsin, established herself as a singer and nightclub entertainer in Europe from 1933-38. When war threatened, she returned to the United States with her artistic reputation firmly established.

Her signature song is the familiar half-French, half-English, "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup."

In personal appearances, she has been know to offer tidbits of common-sense beauty advice to her feminine listeners for the "battle against Father Time."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Albert Burke believes that everyone should "think for himself." This is considered the key to the success of his TV series "Probe."

★ ★ ★

Scientist, linguist, world affairs expert and economist, he will speak on "Ideas in Conflict" at Town Hall on Feb. 12.

A native New Yorker, Dr. Burke received his B.A. and M.A. from the University of California and his Ph.D. in International Relations from the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Burke was Director of Graduate Studies in Conservation and Resource Use at Yale from 1951 to 1957. He was appointed Educational Television Consultant for the NBC network, where he produced the award-winning series "Survival."

★ ★ ★

The final program will feature Gerald Goodman, billed as "Troubadour-Harpist" on March 12.

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, Goodman began musical studies early. He made his solo debut in Town Hall, New York in 1959 and has earned recognition as one of the leading harpists of our time.

In concert, he sings and accompanies himself with a masculine vitality in keeping with the virli spirit of the music of the Middle Ages. Always in quest of ancient legends and ballads, he adapts them to his own musical settings.

Ticket cochairmen for the 1968-'69 series are Mrs. Fred Cockle of Shawnee Lane and Mrs. Aleck Capsalis of Ottawa Drive. Or, address inquires to P.O. Box 328.

As in the past, a celebrity luncheon in Devon Gables will follow each 10:30 a.m. lecture.

Frost Bites Mini-Clad

READING, Mass. (UPI) — The school committee ruled that girls can attend school in slacks during the current cold wave because a number of frostbite cases were reported among girls wearing miniskirts.

Cold Red Knees Reveal the Fate of Mini Maidens

NEW YORK (AP) — How're you gonna keep her cozy and warm, after she's bared her knees? A chick, that is, in a miniskirt amidst a cold wave.

"I run," confessed Kathe Graham, discussing the problem of freezy kneesies on New York's windswept avenues when the temperature flirts with zero.

"My legs don't even get cold," insisted Judith Christian, 21, a secretary. "If I don't think about it I'm not cold. Besides, my boyfriend doesn't think about how cold it is, just how it looks."

★ ★ ★

Madi Heller, 25, defies the elements on a considerably higher level than some girls. She said: "I always wear bikini underwear and so do all my friends."

A brunette model claims to find comfort in a "warm sweater." Another lass borrows her brother's heavy sweat socks. Neither seemed too coherent about the relationship, if any, with knees.

"I wore levis to work this morning under my miniskirt," explained Ruth Pennesch, 24.

A school girl, Joan Grabel, 17, with knee socks and little else for some distance above assured an interviewer: "The cold doesn't bother me really. One teacher told me I'll get arthritis when I get old because my knees will get cold."

Miniskirted Marjorie Brenn, 22, won't wear woolen underwear because "it itches." Her solution, instead, is to ride rather than walk in cold weather. She said: "I depend on my boyfriends to take care of me with transportation. But you have to choose your boyfriends discriminately."

★ ★ ★

"I like to show my knees," said one unmarried 25-year-old, impervious to the cold and unwilling to give her name.

Summing it up for the girls was Patricia Fedas, 24, who declared: "After all, you can't lengthen your skirt because of the weather."

Summing it up for the boys was a girl watcher on Fifth Avenue, who observed with delight:

"Crazy, man, Cra—zy!"

GERALD GOODMAN

Modern Gran Tells Truth; Irks Old-Fashioned Parents

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Me and my big mouth. Now I've really done it. My little four-year-old granddaughter asked me if the stork really dropped her down the chimney, and I laughed and said no. Then she asked me how she got here, and I simply told her that she grew from a tiny seed in her Mommy's tummy. Now what was so terrible about that?

ABBY

My daughter-in-law is very angry with me because she's afraid the child will ask her how the seed got there. My son has sided with his wife and I am in the doghouse.

Abby, I cannot see putting off telling a child what he will eventually learn anyway. But what am I to do about my son and his wife? I don't like being on the outs with them, but I think they are wrong, wrong, wrong.

THOROUGHLY MODERN GRANDMA

DEAR MODERN: I happen to agree with you. First, try to educate your son and his wife to your way of thinking. It is far healthier for the child. Should you fail (heaven forbid) to bring them out of the Dark Ages, continue to answer all questions as honestly as possible. Time will prove you right.

★ ★ ★

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600 P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1.00 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Woman's Mate Is Considerate but Different

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of "Emily Post's Etiquette" has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband grew up in a rural community where sidewalks were rare. I grew up in a western city where we walked a lot. Now I find myself becoming aware of his not switching to the outside as we change direction. If I switch, it makes him feel awkward, and if I don't, I feel awkward.

Would a family discussion of general etiquette be an appropriate place to bring up this particular thing? I think I could simply tell our girls about how to walk with a boy and suggest that they notice my husband and me the next time we are out. He may then become more aware of it.

★ ★ ★

I do not want to say or do anything that would make my husband feel awkward. He is such a wonderful and sensitive person that "manners" seem trivial besides his qualities of consideration and generosity. — Mrs. H. B.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. B.: The wonderful thing about your letter is that you realize that your husband's good qualities are so much more important than his occasional ignorance of what you were brought up to believe were good manners.

So many people, especially women, marry with the idea that they can "make over" their partners. This is entirely wrong, but that is not to say that by good example and tactful hints one cannot make a person more aware of better manners.

Your suggestion of a family discussion of manners is an excellent one. These chats can bring up a problem without necessarily pointing a finger at any one person. Feelings are spared, and yet those present cannot help but profit from the talk.

ESTRANGED FATHER

Dear Mrs. Post: My 23-year-old daughter by a former marriage has written me that she is getting married in January. However, because she feels that for me to give her away would cause embarrassment and emotional strain to her mother, herself, and her future husband, she has invited me to "attend" the wedding, but does not want me to "participate" in any of the formalities.

I supported her until the age of 21, attended her college graduation, and find the thought of attending the wedding in any capacity except as her father, humiliating and more embarrassing than not going at all.

Am I right in not wanting to attend? My wife does not want to go even if I do. — Thomas C.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mr. C.: You have my sympathy in that your relationship with your daughter has become so distant. She shows a real lack of loyalty to you or appreciation for what you have done for her, by not asking you to give her away.

I agree that it would be humiliating for you to attend the wedding, and I would not do so. If you feel that you must see the ceremony, slip into an unobtrusive spot at the back of the church and out again before you need to have any contact with your former family.

Celebrity Talks at Town Hall

Hear Virginia Graham

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

"The chemistry produced from positive thinking and a will to be the guide of your destiny can serve as a catslyst for a fulfilled self image."

★ ★ ★

So said Virginia Graham, guest speaker at Wednesday's Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall meeting, who might well be described as quite a catalystic agent herself.

★ ★ ★

A self-described Pollyanna, she provides a refreshing and witty outlook on life.

★ ★ ★

"I've always had optimism," said the noted conversationalist, "My father was a lover of life and that was my inheritance."

★ ★ ★

"All my life has been spent in giving sulphur to the worls," she said when describing her positive prescription for the ills that befall others.

★ ★ ★

As a woman who personally battled with the threat of cancer 16 years ago and conquered it with a firm belief in God and a strong will to live she is her own success story.

★ ★ ★

Behind the fulfilled personality also lies the real mirror of beauty, she added.

INNER SELF

Don't let your destiny be ruled by your physical appearance; let your inner self be your guide. Discipline yourself by accepting what you are and work from there.

Reflecting on her childhood, she recalled what her father advised her and challenged her audience with it.

★ ★ ★

"The world is too full of followers. What we need are leaders.

"We as women, can never have an equal opportunity when it comes to competing with men, but we have similar opportunities to prove ourselves.

★ ★ ★

"We are and can only survive by complementing each other," she said.

Women, however, in their own right, she commented, have opened the door to understanding.

★ ★ ★

"It's women like those of you here at this meeting who care about what's going on, who are curious, who are volunteering time and energy, who are voters, who are improving this world.

★ ★ ★

"And always keep in mind that the service to mankind is the rent you pay which relates a man's greatness to the woman behind him.

The keys to happiness for a woman are the basics, she said; a happy marriage, a loving home and a respect for others.

★ ★ ★

"Whatever success I've had, whatever I've done, I've had a love song behind me all the time," she said.

Miss Graham concluded her visit with a question-and-answer period following a celebrity luncheon at Devon Gables.

Manhattan's brave lassies still give the girl watchers something to see, despite near zero temperatures and arctic winds. New York these days may not be the clime for the miniskirt but a smart chick can beat the cold snap—and keep the eyeballs rolling—or so the AP learned on the Avenue.

Dog-Licensing Rules Outlined

Rabies Shot Proof Needed; Fee Is $2

Dog owners were reminded today by City Clerk Olga Barkeley that they should obtain new 1968 dog licenses.

The licenses can be obtained at the city clerk's office, city hall, during regular office hours, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The fee is $2 for each license up to March 1. After that, the fee goes to $3.

To purchase a license, owners must produce a certificate that their dog has been vaccinated against rabies.

★ ★ ★

These may be obtained from local veterinarians or from the Oakland County dog clinic, Mrs. Barkeley said.

PENALTY FEE

Unlicensed dogs found on the streets will not be returned to owners until licenses are secured and a penalty fee is paid, she said.

★ ★ ★

Under an amendment to the city dog ordinance passed last year, residents may only own three regularly licensed dogs. With more than three, the owner must secure a special kennel license.

The preliminary examination of a Pontiac man accused of the Dec. 30 gunshot killing of his wife has been adjourned until Feb. 7.

However, the adjournment was allowed by McCallum for processing of evidence at the State Police crime lab, East Lansing, at the request of the defense attorney.

Humphreys faces an open charge of murder in the shooting of his wife, Earline, 50, following an alleged argument in the couple's home.

Miami Beauty 'Hogs' Dice at Para-dise Island Blowout

By EARL WILSON

PARADISE ISLAND, Nassau, the Bahamas—It was the kind of party that at least one young wife thought so important that she had her hairdresser flown down from New York.

WILSON

The young wife (Mrs. Irving Cowan of Miami) surely did look beautifully coiffed in the gambling casino when she held on to the dice for about 20 minutes.

At the gala ball, Premier Lynden O. Pindling, who is in the news with his demands for complete freedom from Britain, danced a wild rumba, and kept asking Meyer Davis and his son Emery David, now becoming a favorite maestro in society, for more and more rumbas.

The Jet Set descended in great strength upon the Paradise Island, Ltd., Complex for its opening. Most of us sat around gloating at how cold it must be up north as we were sun-bathing on the beach.

I sat between beautiful Lady Astor and beautiful Lady Sassoon. The Spanish Ambassador, the Marquis del Val, was on one side, and Moroccan Ambassador Ahmed Osman, was on the other. I guess whoever made up the seating list must have thought my name Earl was a title.

Carol Channing had flown in from Hollywood bringing her own food as she always does.

Bob Neale was toting his own bottle of Scotch as he always does.

Then there was Janet Leigh, Barbara Rush, Norman Jewison, Delmar Daves, Walter Wanger, Henry Mancini—and from New York, Dina Merrill and her husband Cliff Robertson. And Kevin McCarthy helped m.c. the fashion show and took about 1,000 pictures.

Hatfield Says Rocky Flexibile on Viet Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., says New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's position is flexible enough to unite Republicans on the Vietnam issue if he should become the party's presidential nominee.

Hatfield, a critic of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, said in an interview he does not believe that Rockefeller's general support of the course Johnson has pursued in Asia would preclude him from offering alternatives.

★ ★ ★

"I think Gov. Rockefeller's position on Vietnam is flexible," Hatfield said Wednesday. "I would have no hesitancy in supporting him if he were the nominee."

The Oregon senator added he isn't taking sides in the nomination contest.

Rockefeller's brother, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, Wednesday cheered on Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew's move to draft the New Yorker.

But other Republican governors generally are waiting to see if the outcome of the March 12 New Hampshire primary moves Rockefeller away from his noncandidate status.

★ ★ ★

If Michigan Gov. George Romney should be walloped by Nixon in that test, as current polls seem to indicate, Rockefeller would face a decision on whether to respond favorably to the movements springing up across the country to draft him for the nomination.

The action could come in a decision on whether to sign a noncandidate affidavit withdrawing his name if a state commission places it on the ballot in Wisconsin's April 2 primary. The withdrawal deadline there is Feb. 29.

UNTIL MARCH 15

However, if Romney took a shellacking in New Hampshire, Rockefeller would have until March 15 to decide what to do about the May 14 Nebraska primary and until March 22 to act on the May 28 Oregon primary.

Nobody expects Romney to quit, even if he loses heavily in New Hampshire, at least until he has tested his vote appeal in Wisconsin. So if there is any Rockefeller move it probably will have to be taken without any formal release from his commitment to Romney.

★ ★ ★

Gov. John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, who has joined Rockefeller in supporting Romney, has made it clear he could transfer quickly to backing the New York governor if the latter would just indicate a willingness to run. Chafee heads the Republican governors association, which next meets in June.

★ ★ ★

Gov. David F. Cargo of New Mexico, who hasn't endorsed any candidate, said he thinks Rockefeller could be persuaded to run if enough governors got behind him."

'LBJ to Push Peace Before Escalation'

LANSING (UPI) — President Johnson will escalate efforts to hold peace negotiations in Vietnam before he escalates military action, Neil Staebler, Democratic national committeeman from Michigan, said yesterday.

Staebler said associates close to Johnson told other national committeemen that the administration is stepping up its attempts to hold peace negotiations. The conversations took place during a weekend Democratic party national meeting in Chicago, Staebler said.

"There was the general feeling that problems of the war are reaching a point where there will be widespread agreement in the method of handling the war," Staebler said in a telephone interview.

"The only kind of escalation that is going to occur is escalation in negotiations. Negotiations are very, very probable," he said.

★ ★ ★

Staebler also said there is "a very different spirit in the party" despite the peace candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., and other attacks on President Johnson's handling of the war.

DELEGATE STRENGTH

The Chicago meeting was called by Democratic National Committeeman John Bailey to outline delegate strength for each state at the national convention in the Windy City this summer.

Staebler said Michigan will gain two delegates to the convention, compared with the 94 who attended the 1964 gathering in Atlantic City, N. J.

Winner Takes League Lead

Lakers, Northville in Cage Showdown

MAKE OVER PAGES

There's room for only one at the top so someone will have to move aside when Northville and West Bloomfield tangle in the top Wayne - Oakland League contest tomorrow night.

They go into the game with 5-0 records and the game is slated for an 8 p.m. tipoff on the Northville court.

All but those two appear out of the title picture in the W-O, since the third-place squad is two games off the pace.

Other games in the circuit tomorrow night have Brighton at Bloomfield Hills Andover, Clarkston at Milford and Clarenceville at Holly.

★ ★ ★

A hot contest in the Oakland A League finds Rochester at Avondale, while the three coleaders are favored in their respective games.

OTHER GAMES

While that one's in progress, Utica will visit Lake Orion (4-1), Romeo (4-1) at Madison and Troy (4-1) entertains Clawson.

Coach Art Paddy and the West Bloomfield Lakers will be hoping to correct shooting problems they ran into in a 53-47 loss at Walled Lake Tuesday night. It was the lone loss in seven starts for the Lakers.

The Lakers had plenty of shots, but made a paltry 17 per cent, their worst performance in some time.

Northville owns a 7-2 record, and the Mustangs may just be ready to hit their stride after dropping those two contests in a holiday tournament.

★ ★ ★

Jim Peterson, who was used sparingly during the tourney games because of a bad ankle, is operating at top form now and should give the Mustangs a big lift.

Clarkston beat Holly to end a three-game losing streak last week, and the Wolves should remain on the winning trail when they take on the winless Milford Redskins (0-6).

★ ★ ★

Andover, now with a 3-3 mark, is favored to stop Brighton and then start tuning for the big clash Friday at West Bloomfield.

While Rochester owns an unimpressive 2-3 mark in league play, the Falcons are only two games off the pace and could figure in the title race if other teams around the loop cooperate.

Avondale is winless in five league outings and victorious but once in seven tries.

★ ★ ★

Troy should get past Clawson and Lake Orion is expected to take the measure of Utica, but Romeo could have a problem a Madison. Madison is inclined to slow the game down and that could upset the fast-breaking Romeo offense.

Red Wings Contribute to Leafs' Party

THE PONTIAC PRESS
THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1968 D—1

Toronto Hands Visiting Detroit 2-1 Ice Setback

TORONTO (UPI) — Frank Mahovlich blew out the candles on the Detroit Red Wings.

Mahovlich, the burly winger of the Toronto Maple Leafs, turned his 30th birthday into a party as he scored both his team's goals in a 2-1 victory over the Red Wings Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The goals, the 289th and 290th of Mahovlich's National Hockey League career, enabled the Leafs to move within two points of second-place Boston in the Eastern Division race.

IN LAST PLACE

It was the third straight loss for the Wings and left them in last place, two points behind New York.

Mahovlich opened the scoring at 8:17 of the first period by deflecting a shot from teammate Dave Keon past Detroit goalie Roy Edwards.

Ron Ellis had fired the puck from the blueline at Edwards and Keon controlled the rebound, holding the puck until the goalie was screened, then shooting low.

★ ★ ★

The Wings tied it up less than two minutes later when Dean Prentice batted in an intercepted pass for his 10th goal of the season. Kent Douglas, playing his first game in a Red Wings uniform, and Norm Ullman drew assists on the goal.

MAKES OPPORTUNITY

Mahovlich made his own opportunity in the second period, stealing the puck from Detroit defenseman Gary Bergman and racing in on Edwards for the winning goal at 10:14.

He faked Edwards out of position, then backhanded the puck into the net.

Edwards turned aside 41 shots while Toronto's Bruce Gamble stopped 35.

The Oakland Seals, who sent Douglas to the Wings Tuesday in exchange for Ted Hampson and Bert Marshall, found their new teammates much to their liking.

★ ★ ★

Hampson picked up a rebound from Marshall and batted it in at 11:12 of the third period to give the Seals a 2-2 tie with St. Louis in another NHL game Wednesday night.

In other action, the front-running Chicago Black Hawks lengthened their lead to four points over the idle Boston Bruins by earning a 3-3 deadlock with New York; Montreal edged Pittsburgh 4-2, and Minnesota whipped Philadelphia 6-4 to take over second place in the West.

SPARKS WOLVES — Clarkston ended a three-game losing streak last week in downing Holly, and pacing the attack for the Wolves was Mark Erickson, who tossed in 19 points. Erickson and his mates will be trying to fashion another victory when they visit Milford tomorrow night.

Coach's Pep Talks Put Fire in Packers

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The Vince Lombardi pop talk is an awesome Green Bay Packers weapon that can make a quarterback want to run through a wall.

Bart Starr spoke of the Packers' emotional approach to football before today's workout for Sunday's Super Bowl game with the Oakland Raiders at Miami's Orange Bowl.

GETS FIRED UP

"Coach has said things that make me think I could run through a wall in the middle of the week," said Starr. "He makes you wish you could play the game today.

"Sometimes, he will talk to the club before the first practice of the week," Starr said. "Sometimes, it will be later — whenever it comes naturally."

Some people may think it is a lot of college and high school stuff but you have to be ready emotionally.

"Money is a great incentive. You'd be silly to say it wasn't with big money ($15,000 a man) at stake. But the big thing is pride and prestige in yourself and the whole league.

★ ★ ★

"We like to think we are representing every guard, every end, every back, every player in the National Football League.

"The league championship means more now than it used to. And this game is the climax of it all," he said.

MAKES BIG SNEAK

Starr's dramatic gamble on the quarterback sneak from the one yard line that beat Dallas on New Year's Eve still is the talk of pro football.

★ ★ ★

Calling Starr a gambler is like labeling Fran Tarkenton a pocket passer. When Bart gambles, it's usually like a better putting $50,000 to show a 1-10 favorite.

Starr echoed the party line on Oakland, the American Football League champions, treating them with utmost pect.

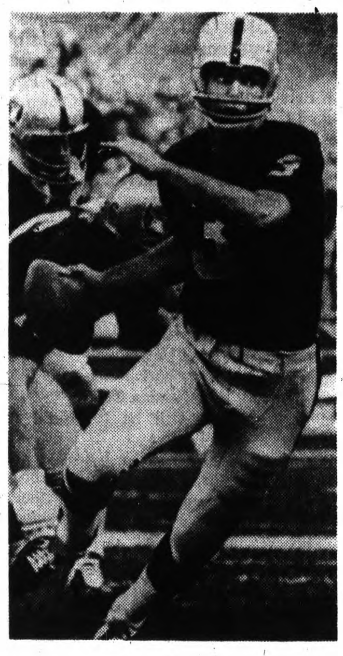
"Oakland is a darn good football team. They only lost one game. Their linebackers support the front men and help the deep men.

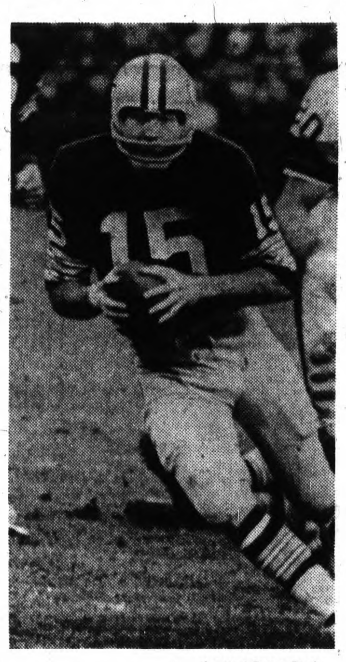
"They have two very quick tackles in Tom Keating and Dan Birdwell as well as two good ends. They don't always play the basic four man line. They do a lot of jumping around. It can be confusing," Starr said.

★ ★ ★

Have you spotted any place you think the Packers can take advantage of?

"We hope so. I am sure they feel the same way about us. We'll find out Sunday," he added.





Pontiac Press Photo

Crozier Back, Heads for Club in Fort Worth

DETROIT (UPI) — Roger Crozier apparently thinks being a National Hockey League goalie holds a better future for him than carpentry after all.

★ ★ ★

The youthful Detroit Red Wings' netminder, who retired unexpectedly Nov. 6 following a three-game stretch in which he gave up 18 goals, said Wednesday he was returning to the game.

Sid Abel, the Red Wings' general manager-coach, said Crozier was to report to Detroit's Fort Worth, Tex., farm club Sunday and "depending on how he plays . . . we could recall him in a couple of weeks."

Crozier, 25, said at the start of his two-month retirement, during which he worked as a carpenter around his Bracebridge, Ont., home, that he no longer had confidence in his ability to stop the 100-mile-per-hour pucks.

NEEDED REST

"My nerves are in much better shape than when I left," a more relaxed looking Crozier said following his workout at Olympia Wednesday. "I think I just needed a rest to relieve the pressure."

Freehan Heads Tour by Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan will head a delegation of Tiger players on a tour of eight cities in Michigan and Ohio on the ninth annual Press-TV-Radio Tour.

★ ★ ★

The four-day tour will start Jan. 22. Nearly 500 writers and sportscasters have been invited.

★ ★ ★

Accompanying Freehan on the entire tour will be players Hank Aguirre, Gates Brown, Lenny Green, Ray Oyler, Joe Sparma and Mickey Stanley, as well as Manager Mayo Smith and General Manager Jim Campbell.

★ ★ ★

Al Kaline, Jim Northrup and Earl Wilson will join the tour for one or two cities.

★ ★ ★

Their schedule calls for stops at Saginaw and Lansing, Jan. 22; Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, Jan. 23; Jackson and Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 24; and St. Clair and Flint, Jan. 25.

'M' Aide McNease Taking Grid Post With U. of Idaho

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Y. C. McNease, a 31-year-old assistant coach at the University of Michigan, was named Wednesday night as the new head football coach at the University of Idaho.

University President Dr. Ernest W. Hartung made the announcement.

McNease will succeed Steve Musseau, who resigns Feb. 1.

★ ★ ★

Before going to Michigan McNease was an assistant coach at Florida State, Wichita State and the University of Texas at El Paso. Both Florida State and El Paso played in bowl games last season.

McNease, a native of Raleigh, Miss., is a 215-pound, six-footer who played fullback and center at Florida State.

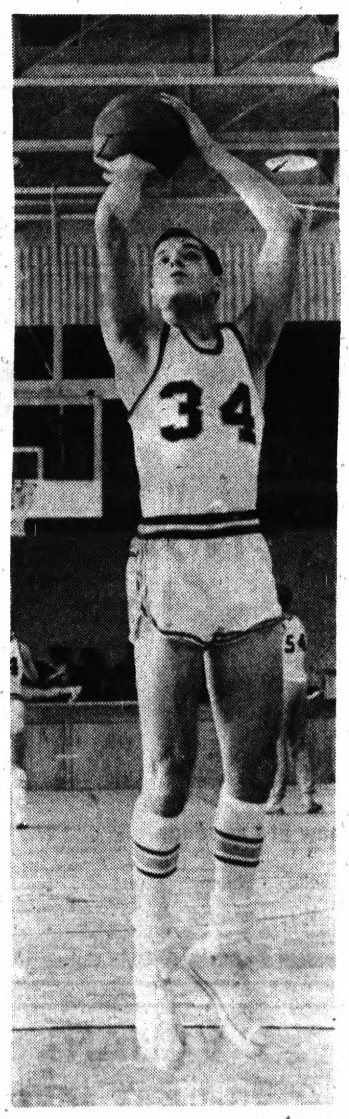
Coaches Elect Warmath

NEW YORK (AP) — Murray Warmath, long-time coach at the University of Minnesota was chosen president of the American Football Coaches Association for 1968 Wednesday, succeeding Ben Schwartzwalder of Syracuse.

Ex-Farmington Ace Spurs Albion Attack

ALBION (UPI) — Former Farmington High School star Mike Wilson poured in a school record 42 points as he led Albion College to a 93-92 Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball victory over Calvin Wednesday night.

The win boosted Albion's record to 5-4, and 2-2 in the MIAA, while Calvin dipped to 5-4 and 0-2 in conference play.



Pontiac Press Photo

TOP SCORER—A bright spot in Avondale's 1-6 record to date has been the scoring of forward Bob Burt, who's averaging 20.5 points a game. Burt and his teammates entertain Rochester tomorrow night.

Huskies to Host Waterford; PCH Travels to Flint

Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central, both off to unimpressive starts, turn their attention tomorrow night to league races where one leads the way in one loop and the other occupies the bottom in another.

Playing the role of host tomorrow evening will be the Huskies of PNH, who lead the Inter-Lakes League with a 2-0 record but own a 3-2 mark over-all.

Providing the competition for the Huskies will be Waterford's Skippers, who have lost three in arow after opening the campaign with a pair of victories.

Another IL game finds Livonia Stevenson invading Farmington.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central, 0-4 in Saginaw Valley Conference competition, takes a 2-4 over-all record to Flint Northern (3-2), a team that looks stronger with each game.

OTHER SVC GAMES

Elsehwere in the SVC, Saginaw is at Bay City Handy, Flint Central is at Saginaw Arthur Hill and Midland entertains Flint Southwestern. In a nonconference contest, Alpena visits Bay City Central.

★ ★ ★

The last outing for PNH was a double overtime loss to Pontiac Central, a game in which neither team looked particularly good.

Coach Dick Hall is hoping the Huskies will find the right track against Waterford.

★ ★ ★

Waterford and coach Bob Taylor, too, are trying to find a winning combination. The Skippers almost pulled one out Tuesday night, but mistakes in the final minute led to a 59-55 loss to Kettering.

Nicklaus Sets Golfing Sights on Four Events

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Open golf chamion Jack Nicklaus swings into his 1968 campaign today as defending champion in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Tournament aiming to play better this year.

"I'll point to the four major tournaments again," said Nicklaus, whose continuing hope is to score a Grand Slam and win them all in a single year.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus, who will be 28 on Jan. 21, ranks as one of four players who have won the U.S. Open, Masters, PGA and British Open, but no one has copped them all in a single year.

Bobby Jones' Grand Slam in 1930 consisted of the U.S. and British Opens and Amateur tournaments.

Arnzen's 30 Points Sparks Notre Dame '5' Past Detroit's Titans

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame, whose Bob Arnzen scored 30 points on 15 baskets and kept the Irish in the lead throughout the game, defeated Detroit in college basketball Wednesday night 83-63.

Arnzen had 27 cracks at the basket and also grabbed 13 rebounds. Dwight Murphy scored 18 points for the Irish, as did teammate Bob Whitmore, 6-foot-7 center.

Ralph Brisker led the Titans with 18 points on eight of 22 field goal attempts and two of four free throw attempts.

It was Notre Dame's 11th victory in 14 games. Detroit is 8-4.

No Peace Moves by NCAA

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association wound up a comparatively peaceful convention today but the organization did liittle to improve relations in its feud with the Amateur Athletic Union.

The NCAA, governing body for some 600 colleges and universities involved in collegiate sports, closed its 62nd annual meeting by studying interpretations of recently approved legislation.

★ ★ ★

The heaviest convention action took place Wednesday when the group, displaying an unusual spirit of harmony, voted to modify the controversial 1.6 academic ruling.

On a less peaceful note the NCAA Council issued a policy statement reactivating enforcement of its by-law spelling out conditions for participation in non-collegiate track and field and gymnastic events.

The action will not become effective until Nov. 1 to avoid a conflict before the Olympic Games.

The action lifts the moratorium in the feud with the AAU which had been imposed pending completion of a federal Sports Arbitration Board hearing report.

★ ★ ★

The group also expressed satisfaction with its leadership by re-electing the president and secretary-treasurer.

Marcus L. Plant, a professor of law at the University of Michigan, was re-elected president and Ernest B. McCoy, dean and athletic director at Pennsylvania State University, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Delegates also approved a measure permitting freshmen to compete on the varsity level in all sports except basketball and football.

★ ★ ★

The 1.6 C-minus rule was established two years ago. It provides that no student may participate in NCAA sanctioned sports unless his academic standard is 1.6 or better when he enters college and that he continues normal progress toward graduation.

★ ★ ★

The new amendment enables schools with higher than average admission requirements to be free of applying the 1.6 requirement for continuing eligibility while those with less demanding admission requirements would have to continue using 1.6.

Population Explosion Hits Florida Deer Herd

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — More than 100 Everglades white-tail deer found dead in Big Cypress Swamp apparently are the victims of their herd's population explosion.

There are so many deer, the animals are running short of food.

An official of the Florida Fish and Game Commission said an open season may be declared on does to thin the population.

Dr. Frank A. Hayes, director of Southern Cooperative Wildlife Disease study at the University of Georgia, told a public meeting here Wednesday night that the overpopulation had resulted in malnutrition.

★ ★ ★

The weakened condition, combined with a hunger that forced the animals to eat almost anything, caused stomach worms and other parasites to multiply dangerously, Hayes said.

Some of the parasites came from eating snails, Hayes said.

W. T. McBroom of Miami, Everglades region member of the Florida Fish and Game Commission, said the state may have to legalize doe hunting. State hunters now are permitted to take only antlered deer.

NEED OPEN SEASON

McBroom said that a move to authorize an open season on does—"a harvest"—undoubtedly will come before the commission at its hunt regulation meeting in Tallahassee in April.

"Florida is the only state of the 14 states in the southeast which does not have a doe season," McBroom said. "A doe harvest seems to be the only way overpopulation of deer in certain areas can be controlled."

Win at Buzzer for Lathrup 5

A 30-foot shot by John Lang as the buzzer sounded gave Southfield Lathrup a 67-65 victory over North Farmington's reserve basketball team last night.

★ ★ ★

The loss was the first for North Farmington, while the win hiked Lathrup's record 4-3. John McFaddin paced the winners 21 points, the first time a Lathrup player has broken the 20-point barrier.

Tide Ready to Turn for Pioneers of OU

The tide may be ready to turn for Oakland University's basketball team.

Saddled with an 0-6 record to date in its first varsity season, OU goes to Alma tomorrow and will be at Ferris State Saturday and could return home with an initial triumph.

★ ★ ★

Reason for the optimism is the improvement shown during the last two outings. The Pioneers lost both games, but in the last one, against Adrian they outplayed the Bulldogs in every phase but on the scoreboard.

The return to the lineup of 6-6 Tom Allan and Jon Blocher has given the Pioneers added rebounding and more scoring balance.

Allan grabbed a school record 25 rebounds against Adrian and has scored 25 points in his two outings. Blocher, 6-1, has 43 points in two contests.

Coach Dick Robinson points the fact that Allan "has added 20 pounds up to 210 and this has made him much stronger under the boards."

Alma appears to have hit its stride after getting off to a shaky start. The Scots have downed Calvin and Adrian in their last two games to pull even at 4-4.

Freshman Charles Hudson, 6-1, from Detroit Western has been the leading scorer and rebounder for the Scots. The reactivation of 6-3 Al Vandermeer has also boosted the Scots.

Ferris State has been having its troubles. Off to a slow start, the Bulldogs were hit by ineligibility at mid-term and Coach Jim Wink has been ailing.

★ ★ ★

Robinson indicated that Chuck Clark will join Allan and Blocher in the front line. Gordon Tebo and Gary Lincoln will be the guards.

Captain Ozzie Carlson, who played in the last two games, will not play this week because of the effect of his bout with hepatitis has left him tired.

Slugger Gains Top AP Honor

Colts' John Unitas Second; Ryun Third

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A heavily perspiring Carl Yastrzemski had just finished one of his rugged daily workouts when he was told he had been voted Male Athlete of the Year for 1967 by an overwhelming margin in the annual Associated Press poll.

"I know what it's like to be on top and I want to stay on top," the slugging Boston Red Sox outfielder said in explaining what motivates him to keep squeezing trips to the gym into his hectic off-season schedule.

WORKS HARD

"I worked hard to get where I am, and I'm not going to get complacent now," he added.

Yastrzemski, who earned the American League's Most Valuable Player award and Triple Crown in batting while leading the underdog Red Sox to the pennant, said he wanted to say more than "just the usual things" about this latest award.

The balloting by 376 sports writers and broadcasters was no contest, with Yastrzemski picking up 210 first-place votes and 879 points on a basis of three for a first-place vote, two for second and one for third.

★ ★ ★

Baltimore Colts' quarterback John Unitas, the National Football League's MVP, was a distant second with 267 points. Next in order were Jim Ryun, who broke his own world record for the mile run with a 3.51.1 clocking; pro golfer Jack Nicklaus, who set a money-winning record of $188,988; and ace halfback O. J. Simpson, who led Southern California to the national college football championship.

Yastrzemski is the third baseball player in a row to win the honor, the sixth in the last seven years, and the 15th since Pepper Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals won the first one in 1931. Frank Robinson of Baltimore, who also took the AL's Triple Crown, was the 1966 winner.

Yastrzemski led the AL in five batting departments, including a .326 average and 121 runs batted in, and tied Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for most home runs with 44.

Pistons' Rally Fizzles in Loss to San Diego

By the Associated Press

John Barnhill scored four fast layups to trigger a third-quarter surge that led the San Diego Rockets to a 122-118 National Basketball Association victory Wednesday over the Detroit Pistons.

The Rockets led 93-83 at the end of the third quarter, but the Pistons came on strong in the final period, closing the gap to 121-118 in the closing seconds.

The Pistons' Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer, sank a 15-foot jump shot with 22 seconds remaining making the score 121-118.

Then Barnhill was fouled and with 19 seconds left tossed in a free throw that clinched the victory for the Rockets.

Don Kojis of San Diego led all scorers with 30 points.

Barnhill had 22. Dave DeBusschere paced the Pistons with 27 points, while Bing had 25.

In other NBA games, St. Louis drubbed Philadelphia 134-122, Boston humbled Seattle 123-110, New York topped Los Angeles 115-101 and Cincinnati galloped over Baltimore 133-117.

Pittsburgh beat Dallas 123-130 in overtime, Houston nipped Anaheim 122-120 in overtime, Indiana trounced Minnesota 105-79 and Denver downed Kentucky 99-83 in the American Basketball Association.

HAWKS HOT

St. Louis was hot enough to build up a 60-48 halftime lead Wednesday night, but the Hawks really sizzled in the third period, hitting 15 of the 20 field goal attempts to open up an insurmountable 103-78 lead.

The loss at Philadelphia was the 76ers second straight to cut their lead in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division to two games over the Boston Celtics, who beat Seattle 123-110 behind the play of John Havlicek.

St. Louis, which increased its Western Division lead to two games over idle San Francisco, was led by Len Wilins, who scored 28 points and handed out 11 assists. Paul Silas also scored 28 for the Hawks, and Wilt Chamberlain got 32 for Philadelphia.

Spencer Halts Rally to Win Rec Cage Tilt

A stirring rally by Powell's Trucking wiped out a 20-point deficit late in the game, but the surge sapped the team's strength as it fell to Spencer Floor, 99-96, in Waterford Township American League recreation basketball action.

In other games, Glenn's Auto Sales (4-1) downed Buckner Finance (9-5), 84-58, and Genesee (3-2) broke open a tight game in the fourth quarter to trim Day's Sanitary (3-2), 90-73.

Down 83-63 late in the third, Powell's (1-4) rallied and finally moved into a 96-95 lead with 3:09 left in the game but the squad ran out of gas in the drive and didn't score again. Jim Devine put Spencer (4-1) back on top with a field goal and Jim Nyberg clinched it with two free throws with 13 seconds left.

Devine finished with 23 points to pace Spencer, while Dave Dodd tossed in 30 and Roger Miller 24 for the losers.

Genesee outscored Day's Sanitary 32-15 in the fourth period to win going away. Tom Keller led the attack with 24 points, 14 of them in that hot final period. Jerry Hill and Dick Olive produced 18 apiece for the losers.

Gary Hayward tossed in 26 and Dick DeWeese added 23 to pace the easy Glenn's victory. Dick Blacklaw led the losers with 20.

Hillsdale Quintet Gains 83-77 Win

BIG RAPIDS (UPI) — High scoring Dennis Brcka netted 33 points Wednesday night, leading Hillsdale College to an 83-77 basketball win over Ferris State.

Hillsdale led 35-31 at the half, and widened its margin to 13 points in the second half. But Ferris roared back to tie up the game at 68-68 with six minutes left.

Mike Gray and Jesse Mangham each scored 22 points for Ferris.

Michigan Tech Wins

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP) — Michigan Tech led all the way Wednesday night in downing Northland 81-60 in nonconference basketball for Northland's ninth loss in as many starts.

Olivet Routed by Kalamazoo

OLIVET (UPI) — Bob Nusbaum popped in 27 points and led Kalamazoo to a 91-79 basketball romp over Olivet in a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association game Wednesday night.

Kalamazoo took an early lead after five minutes, and coasted to a 49-34 edge at halftime.

Ben Benford was high man for Olivet with 22 points.

Federal Pressure Urged

Car Price Rollback Nader Aim

WASHINGTON (AP)— Auto safety crusader Ralph Nader said Wednesday the federal government should publicly urge automobile manufacturers to roll back their recent price increases.

Unless the government uses "its persuasive powers on concerted industries to act more responsibly in their pricing policies," Nader said, "then the alternative probability of more rigid controls grows."

* * *

In a letter to Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, the attorney and author also said the government should request the auto industry to release raw cost data and analyses "before it attempts to saddle the consumer with inflated prices for alleged safety features."

* * *

"Unless this disclosure is made," Nader said, "the progress toward safer automobiles can be jeopardized by gluttonous price increases. Here, lives, not just dollars, are at stake. When it comes to safety, the chrome curtain of secrecy must be swept aside."

UNNECESSARY

Nader charged anew that the price increases ranging from $23 to $32 which the manufacturers said were required to install mandatory shoulder harnesses were unnecessary because such harnesses "are being purchased by the domestic manufacturers for under $3 a pair."

* * *

Nader made similar charges in a letter to Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Saturday. Hart heads the Senate Judiciary Committee and the Senate subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly.

* * *

In the letter to Ackley, Nader said the Ford Motor Co. on Jan. 2 quietly dropped a number of standard equipment features into the optional extra cost category without reducing vehicle prices. "This is a hidden price increase," he said.

Counterfeiting Ring Is Broken

Equipment Seized, 2 Arrested in Ohio

NEW YORK (AP) — Secret Service agents have seized a printing press and a large amount of counterfeiting equipment in Ohio following their confiscation here of $4.1 million worth of phony $100 bills—the largest haul in the history of the Secret Service.

Two men have been arrested in Ohio and charged with printing the counterfeit money.

* * *

A Miami Beach lawyer, Joel Lee, 39, was arrested here. He allegedly was salesman and traffic manager for the ring that planned to unload $50 million in fake $10, $20 and $100 bills. Authorities say that apparently none of the phony money got into circulation.

Albert E. Whitaker, agent in charge of the Secret Service in New York, has predicted more arrests.

VACANT STOREROOM

Secret Service agents, acting with local police, seized counterfeiting equipment in a raid late Wednesday at a vacant storeroom in Wellsville, Ohio. No arrest was made.

* * *

Police Capt. Pete Trainer said he understood that the equipment was connected with the counterfeiting operation in which the two Ohio men had been arrested. The material seized included a photocopy camera, two boxes of paper, a trunkful of paper cut to the size of U.S. currency and printing ink.

* * *

Earlier Wednesday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Robert J. Rotatori announced at Cleveland that a printing press had been seized on the back porch of the home of James Clark, 28, of Clinton, Ohio.

* * *

The press, about half the size of a small auto, could be loaded on a truck and moved to various sites but was too big to get into the house, authorities said. Clark, allegedly the printer and technician in the counterfeiting operation, was arrested Wednesday at a tool and die shop in Akron where he was employed.
