Downtown Highway Loop May Be Started During 1963

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie is thinking of including Pontiac's proposed downtown Loop highway in the first year of his upcoming five-year highway plan, scheduled to begin in 1963.

This report was disclosed yesterday by Mayor Philip E. Rowston after a meeting with Mackie and other highway officials in Lansing.

"It is now our hope to get the road scheduled as early as possible in 1963," said Rowston.

Mackie's tentative decision to give the road high priority, Rowston said, should add impetus to downtown redevelopment plans, which in many respects are centered about the loop road.

Mackie's last previous word on the road was only that it would be included in the new five-year plan. He gave no definite indication, though, of what year.

U. S. 10 SECTION

The highway commissioner already had promised to tackle the project as part of a new section to U.S. 10 — the designation which downtown Saginaw street presently bears.

The one-way loop, as envisioned in the city's Barton Transportation Study, would carry most Saginaw street traffic around the downtown area, freeing streets for such retail improvements as shoppers' malls.

Present thoughts have the loop following Parke street on the east side of Saginaw and Cass avenue on the west, connected in the north by new pavement in the vicinity of School street.

At Mackie's suggestion, Rowston said, the city is contemplating a housing authority in connection with the urban renewal project.

CAN'T PROMISE

This authority might be able to buy Parke street right of way in connection with urban renewal at lower prices than 1963's, Rowston said.

But the highway commissioner said there is no way for him to promise the city will be reimbursed for any right of way the city might buy before the state is actually committed to the loop road.

At the meeting with Mackie were City Manager Walter K. Willman; Harold A. Fitzgerald and A. C. Girard.

Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, and Girard, president of Community National Bank, are members of both the Mayor's Downtown Redevelopment Steering Committee and the Downtown Redevelopment Group.

The steering committee has undertaken to oversee planning for redevelopment. The other has worked several years for downtown progress and provided the funds for the Barton transportation study.

Rowston said Mackie may be able to give a final decision on scheduling of the Pontiac road as early as May or June.

This scheduling has to be integrated with other highway plans throughout the state on a year to year basis, he said.

Success of the plan depends on the availability of anticipated highway funds, most of which come from federal sources.

THREE WEEKS TO RECOVER — Paul D. Bagwell, expected to announce in April for the Republican governor nomination, broke his kneecap in a fall at his home yesterday. He was to be operated on today at the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Bagwell, 47, suffered a paralytic polio attack as a youth and usually walks with a cane. He is expected to hold up his formal declaration for the nomination until he is on his feet again. His wife Edith is at his bedside with a smile for him.

House Group Won't Boost MSUO Operating Budget

Williams Last Hurdle to 2nd Probate Judge

Bill Providing County With No. 2 Jurist OK'd by Both Houses

All that stands in the way of a bill providing for a second probate judge in Oakland County becoming law are the words: G. Mennen Williams—or time.

The State Senate today sent to the governor's desk a bill which could conceivably place the second jurist on the bench next January.

Senators, led by Oakland County Republican Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, approved unanimously the House bill which, with the subsequent approval of the Board of Supervisors, would place on the Nov. 8 ballot the election of the second judge.

Indications are that Williams won't buck the bipartisan measure, although it is not altogether to his liking.

Earlier plans would have given the governor the chance to make the appointment if county voters this November answered affirmatively the question "does the county need a second probate judge."

This question will be answered now by the governor's action on the bill. Lodge said Williams might consider letting it become law by failing to sign it within a specified time.

"He now faces a bill which has passed both houses unanimously," Lodge said. "It would be a rather strange procedure to veto a bill that has joint sponsorship."

Emerging out of legislative red tape this morning by a vote of 31-0 was the House measure which had cleared that chamber earlier 102-0.

Lodge got the approval of his colleagues to move the bill up

BOGGED DOWN — Bumper deep in mud, this car is bogged down on Oxley road in Waterford Township while the owner is off looking for help. The quick thaw has caused unimproved roads throughout the county to disappear under a layer of mud.

Cars Bog, Pedestrians Slog

We're Drowning in Mud (Glug)

March went out like a lamb today—a lamb knee-deep in mud.

Pontiac and Oakland County were covered with it.

As soon as you wheeled your car off the main highway, stepped off your porch or went out for the mail—there it was.

"Everywhere," said one Oakland County Road Commission official.

"The worst mud in at least 10 years," said Sol D. Lomerson, veteran county road commissioner.

Officials have already barricaded or posted "scores" of unimproved subdivision streets and planned today to close down a number of important gravel roads.

Many school buses had to make impromptu detours, cars were abandoned and the mailmen had to go on foot in places to get the mail through.

Six Pontiac mail trucks got stuck in the mud this morning and had to be towed out. Ten were towed out yesterday.

The road commission reported that in many subdivisions roads were so thickly covered with mud that householders last night were afraid to drive their cars lest they become stuck.

In Pontiac, barricades blocked traffic from entering West Columbia avenue, Stanley to Meadowlawn, and East Beverly avenue, Arlene to Fuller.

There were partial barricades at numerous other places, said Clyde Christian, DPW director.

At Hawthorne School, south of Walton boulevard, mud was so bad on the entrance this morning that buses let off the children a quarter mile from school.

Officials said they were planning to close more gravel roads in the townships north of Pontiac.

"There are very few unimproved roads in the county that are not affected," a road commission official said. "And those that aren't muddy by now probably will be soon."

"The county is turning into a big lake of mud."

Washouts, chuckholes and puddles were adding to the seriousness of the situation.

Lomerson said there was little the county could do except wait —wait for the ground to dry up.

The month of March and its unusual weather was blamed for the mud invasion.

There was an unusually large amount of snow still preserved on the ground when the fast thaw came out of the blue during the past week, it was explained.

The snow's melted but many drainage outlets are still frozen up. As a result, the mounting ground waters along the roads have no place to go.

Hence, mud.

"Had the thaw come gradually, over a period of a few weeks, the situation would not have developed so seriously," said Christian.

$30,000 Added to $500,000 Building Fund

Five Legislators Plead for More Consideration but in Vain

Despite urgings by five Oakland County legislators to reconsider their stand, House committee members yesterday refused to up the operating budget for hard-pressed Michigan State University Oakland.

MSUO officials have asked $1,065,000 but are presently slated to receive only $879,000, the figure recommended in the Senate appropriations bill on higher education.

The Ways and Means Committee did, however, approve an additional $30,000 for MSUO next year for building expenses.

The money will do little to alleviate the financial crisis looming over the university which may be forced to shut its doors to some 300 qualified students unless additional funds are forthcoming.

House committee members gave the lion's share of the budget increase to Wayne State University. A million dollars was added yesterday.

The five county legislators went before the committee to ask that it reconsider knocking out a big chunk from MSUO's 1960-61 appropriation request.

The $30,000 was added to the already granted $500,000 for building developments at MSUO.

The university had asked for $1,065,000 out of the total MSU operating budget, but a large slash back of funds for educational institutions puts this figure closer to $879,000.

'GOT NOWHERE'

"We didn't get anywhere," Law said flatly.

Law said committee members produced per-pupil cost figures which showed MSUO's greater than at other institutions.

"Because of this they thought MSUO was getting an awfully good break," Law said.

"Perhaps if Chancellor Varner had been here he would have been able to refute this charge, but we

11 Airmen Rescued

7 Die as 2 Planes Fall

By The Associated Press

Mishaps involving two military planes last night and today cost at least seven lives.

Three airmen perished when engine trouble forced a KC97 Stratotanker to ditch in the Atlantic Ocean 40 miles off the Florida coast last night. Eleven others were plucked from the water by rescue craft.

Early today a six-engine B47 jet bomber exploded over Little Rock, Ark., showering flaming wreckage in a plunge to the earth near the state capitol. Portions of the craft cut a fiery swath through at least seven frame homes and destroyed them.

Three crew members lost their lives and a man perished in a house fire caused by the crash. An elderly woman was believed trapped in another burning home. One plane crewman parachuted to safety, though with serious burns.

TREMENDOUS TOLL

The two planes cost the government a total of $3,262,000. The Air Force lists the bomber at $2,057,000 and the tanker at $1,205,000.

The two crashes came on the heels of a tragic series of major commercial and military air disasters which have taken nearly 500 lives since the first of the year.

The Air Force tanker craft was enroute from Newfoundland to its home base in Tampa, Fla., when forced down in darkness with only two of its four engines operating.

Survivors, bobbing in life jackets and rubber rafts, attracted the attention of rescue planes and ships with flares and flashlights. The flares could be seen from the shore at the Cape Canaveral rocket launching site.

Beatnik 'Cave' Kept in the Dark

Electrical Department Shuts Off Power; May Restore It Tomorrow

"The Cave of the Ninth Cat" was without electric power today on orders from the city electrical department.

John W. Emerson, electrical superintendent, said he probably would tell Consumers Power Co. to turn the electricity on again tomorrow.

The shutoff, ordered yesterday, occured after Emerson served notice that owners of the proposed beatnik coffeehouse had, in his opinion, violated the city's electrical code.

This latest blow to plans to open the "Cave" this week occurred almost at the same time Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton in Detroit was casting grave doubts on the legality of the city's emergency antibeatnik ordinance.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said the City Commission tonight at its informal meeting would review its stand against beatniks in light of Judge Thornton's remarks.

Emerson said he would let electricity be restored at the "Cave" as soon as its owners get a licensed electrician on the job.

The electrical superintendent finally issued a permit to the Partly cloudy, warmer and a chance of showers is the Friday forecast for the Pontiac area. Tonight's low will be a mild 40.

Fifty-two is the predicted high for tomorrow, Saturday is expected to be somewhat colder and cloudy with showers likely.

Morning winds at 10-18 miles an hour will become light and variable tonight and southerly at 15-20 miles Friday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 33 degrees. The thermometer reading at 2 p.m. was 35.

Canvass Transients Tonight

Count Noses Friday

Tonight is "T-night" and tomorrow "C-day" for approximately 700 census takers in Oakland County.

This is the day devoted to accounting for transients, whether they be vacationers, visiting businessmen or vagrants.

Places such as large hotels, motels and other accommodations for transient guests will be canvassed tonight under a different procedure than the one used for regular household dwelling units, said Bureau of the Census District Supervisor W. C. Hintz.

"Census takers will visit each of these kinds of places," he said, "and make a complete record of the rental units in these special dwelling places.

"At the same time, they will determine which of these units are occupied by permanent residents and which are for transients.

"We are calling this census operation 'T-night.' Individual census report forms have been left at hotels, motels and other large transient places. Our employes will be on hand during the night to assist transients in filling out forms.

"Persons counted on 'T-night' will be counted as part of the local population only if they have no usual place of residence elsewhere," Hintz said. "Names of transients will be allocated back to their usual place of residence."

Hintz reminds county residents that they can speed up the nose count by having their advance report forms (which all should have received by now in the mail) filled out and ready when the census takers call tomorrow.

Each report contains the seven population and six housing questions which are asked.

At every fourth household, the census taker will leave a census household questionnaire which contains additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of 25 per cent sample of residents.

Hintz emphasized that all information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under federal law.

Willman Assumes Control as Eastman Leaves Post

Despite George D. Eastman's departure from Pontiac today, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley is not running the department with a completely free hand.

City Manager Walter K. Willman today announced that he was taking over the duties of the public safety director's post under the city charter.

Eastman will begin his new duties tomorrow as an associate professor of police administration at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

His 19-month stay in Pontiac was highlighted by his unsuccessful attempt to oust Straley as chief.

He was hired by Willman to implement the recommendations of a Chicago agency's report which criticized Straley's running of the department.

'NO POLICY WITHOUT OK'

"I will become, under the charter, the director of public safety," Willman said.

"The chief will not make any policy without my approval—any more than he did under Eastman.

"I intend to keep my eye on the department."

Willman served notice that Eastman's leaving would not mean any drastic upheaval in department policy.

"Any worthwhile work will not be torn apart or cast aside," he said. "I will study the chief's recommendations and then act—on policies, procedures, and personnel."

Of Eastman's leaving, Willman said: "I'm glad that after the hectic time he had here he has secured such an excellent position.

Depends on Hike in Equalized Valuation

County Aims for Same 5.62 Tax Rate

Oakland County will shoot for a continuation of last year's 5.62 tax rate this year.

Whether this will be possible—if it materializes it would mean the third consecutive year it has remained the same — depends on whether the county receives a hoped-for 7 per cent increase in its equalized valuation by the state.

Supervisors laying out the tentative 1961 budget cautiously are eying an increase to $1,950,519,000 in property valuations. Last year the valuation for tax purposes was $1,822,915,328.

These sights were set yesterday by the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors as it wrapped up the county's preliminary 1961 operating budget to be submitted April 12 to all 83 supervisors.

It now totals $13,709,671, or $1,062,887 more than the current operating budget.

But in an apparent effort to reduce the budget to keep the same tax rate, $92,353 was deleted from the salaries budget. This immediately put a question mark on whether even a portion of the 73 new county employes which had been hoped for next year could be hired. It also crimped the suggested 4½ per cent pay hikes for more than 1,200 workers.

TO MEET APRIL 19

The budget now passes onto the Board only so the Tax Allocation Board will know the county's needs when it begins to set the county, township and school district rates for 1961. The Allocation Board first meets on April 19.

* * *

David Levinson, W-M chairman, said the same rate was decided on "because we don't feel we can get any more" from the Allocation Board.

"It's not ideal — ideally we could use six mills—but I think we can along on it," the Birmingham supervisor said.

He denied no tax increase—although needed to meet the originally planned budget keyed to year-by-year demands for more service—was being sought because it might jeopardize chances for a proposed special millage levy this August to complete the courthouse.

* * *

County auditors sliced out $129,650 from 13 different appropriated items, reduced the salaries reserve fund, and upped 1961 estimated receipts by $94,000.

Estimated receipts now are expected to bring in $2,749,000 of the total proposed budget, while the anticipated steady tax rate of 5.62 for every $1,000 of state equalized property evaluation is expected to produce $10,960,671 in taxes.

DEBATE ONE REQUEST

Before putting the finishing touches on the tentative budget yesterday, seven members of the committee debated and criticized the Juvenile Division's request for $323,366. It was cut by $4,500.

Harry Horton, Royal Oak supervisor, asked James W. Hunt, Juvenile Court director, why that department's budget "is so much greater than others."

"We see our request as what we feel is adequate to meet the needs of the county and the youngsters," Hunt replied.

* * *

Horton, still holding out for a cut in this particular appropriation, voted against accepting it as outlined. He severely criticized Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, in Washington attending a conference on juvenile problems, for his handling of collections and general department operations.

"I say cut it down by 50 per cent and that will bring Judge Moore back in a hurry," Horton said.

Levinson said his committee planned to confer with Judge Moore upon his return to see why collections from his department have been taken out of the hands of the Board of Auditors.

House Group Won't Up MSUO Budget

were without the statistics to do so," the Pontiac Democrat said.

Appearance of the five marked the second round as Oakland legislators tried to get more funds for the infant university.

Sen. L. Harvey Lodge crossed swords with fellow Republicans in the Senate earlier this month in a vain attempt for reconsideration.

Missing from the group yesterday was Rep. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield). He was on the House floor, Law said.

Altogether, the committee fattened the general fund budget yesterday by more than four million dollars, including three million dollars for capital outlay and $1,100,000 for college operations.

* * *

House committee members, he said, "indicated they weren't in sympathy with us" because of the higher per pupil cost.

Varner's administrative assistant, Loren B. Pope, today said this information was erroneous.

Law said committee members also voiced dissatisfaction with the fact that the university allowed 331 students who flunked in their first semester to have another chance.

But with the exception with an added $15,000 for partitions in a building and another $15,000 for an elevator in the classroom, MSUO was shut out of the increase.

Aside from a $245,000 allocation for construction at Michigan Tech, House budgetmakers hardly tampered with the Senate's spending blueprint for the other state-supported colleges and universities. Most have labeled their proposed budgets inadequate.

* * *

The raise for Wayne, sparked by Detroit area members of the committee, came in the wake of complaints that the university had been short-changed. WSU officials told the committee last week that the Senate budget for the University of Michigan and Michigan State University outstripped Wayne by an average of $236 per student.

PLANNING TRIBUTE — Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Robert Langer, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers; and Mrs. Reba Ross Netzler, chairman of the Jane Addams Centennial; plan the month's long celebration and tribute to social workers during April.

City Sets April Bow to Social Workers

Pontiac citizens will pay tribute during April to those who work toward alleviating and preventing stress and strain.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston today proclaimed April as Jane Addams Month, a salute to the social workers serving the community.

Highlight of the month's long celebration will be a Jane Addams Centennial Dinner on April 28 at the Kingsley Inn, sponsored by the Oakland County Chapter of the National Assn. of Social Workers.

Guest speaker will be Michigan's first lady, Mrs. G. Mennen Williams. The governor's wife will talk about "Children—Our Society's Most Treasured Resource."

Reservations can be made to the public dinner by contacting the YWCA.

Also featured at the event will be the presentation of the Jane Addams Centennial Award to the outstanding social service volunteer in Oakland County.

The judges include Mrs. William Breech, wife of the Ford executive; John Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press; Grant Howell, editor of the Royal Oak Tribune; and Larry Payne, director of news and public affairs of WPON radio.

"The practices begun by Jane Addams of incorporating the principles of political democracy into laws, attitudes and customs of society are now the traditions followed by the profession of social work," said Rowston.

"Jane Addams established the settlement house in America, Hull House in the slums of Chicago, and her crusading for world peace and outlawry of war, the elimination of child labor, women's right to vote, regulation of hours and conditions of work brought her the Nobel Peace Prize.

"She was directly responsible for establishing the world's first juvenile court, the first child guidance clinic, action by housing associations, classes for adults, playgrounds and day care for children and crafts and recreation for the aging."

The National Assn. of Social Workers represents 25,000 social workers (all with a master's degree) in 154 chapters throughout the country.

Yesterday, Emerson was called to the stand in Judge Thornton's courtroom and admitted that "the word" had been passed to him by Assistant City Manager Robert A. Stierer that no permits or licenses were to be issued to the beatnik place, at least for a while.

In his notice that the electricity was going to be shut off, Emerson explained:

"First, the electrical system (at the "Cave") has been altered by the addition of electrical fixtures and equipment without complying with the requirements of the electrical ordinance of the City of Pontiac.

"And, second, the full purpose of alterations to these premises has not been disclosed and we believe the electrical system would be dangerous and unsafe for the purposes intended."

The Day in Birmingham

8 City Posts, 4 Issues to Be Voted on Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Voters here go to the polls Monday to ballot on eight city posts, three proposed charter amendments and a question.

An election in Bloomfield Hills will be no contest since only three candidates filed for the three posts that are open.

In Birmingham, four Commission posts and two Library Board vacancies will be filled. Another Library Board position is open but will be no contest, as is the case for the office of constable.

Three of the four Commission terms open are for three years. The fourth is a one year term.

* * *

Opposing incumbents Mrs. Florence Willett, William H. Burgum and William E. Roberts for the long terms are Robert B. Aiken and Ralph A. Main.

Incumbent Lance Minor will be opposed for the one-year term by Claude Kidd.

For the two three-year vacancies on the Library Board incumbents Mrs. Katherine Smith and James Tobin will be opposed by Arthur J. Underwood.

There is no opposition for the two-year Library Board term sought by Mrs. Carlyn Ashley Vogt.

Incumbent Constable Jack Balsey is also unopposed.

* * *

The charter amendments propose that the position of constable be made appointive rather than elective; that all elective offices be subject to a two-year residence requirement, and that the City Commission not make appointments to fill vacancies on the Library Board.

The question put before voters seeks approval of the sale of six parcels of city-owned land.

Appearing on the ballot in Bloomfield Hills are incumbents James A. Beresford and Henry L. Woolfenden for the two commission openings, and incumbent Constable Homer Murphy.

The Bloomfield Hills High School American problems classes will sponsor a public program on modern day Russia in the school gym today at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Alfred H. Knight Sr.

Service for Mrs. Alfred (Emma) H. Knight Sr., 82, of 392 Fairfax St., will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Greenwood Cemetery Mausoleum in Flint. Her body will lie in state at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. through Friday evening.

Mrs. Knight died Wednesday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert C. Restrick Jr., and Mrs. E. M. Mulock, both of Birmingham, a son, Alfred H. Jr. of Nashville, Tenn.; a sister, Jenny McShea of California, seven grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Gov. Williams Last Hurdle to 2nd Judge for vote so it wouldn't be lost as the Legislature hopes to adjourn April 15.

Lodge had introduced a similar bill which passed the Senate 26-6 with the dissenting votes coming from Democrats. It moved over to the House then.

With today's passage, the Senate bill dies and becomes unnecessary.

Asked why the opposing Democrats this time agreed with the the bill, Dodge replied: "They all indicated they wanted to pass it for me. I have a lot of friendship with those boys."

If the governor signs the proposal, it is likely that the Board of Supervisors at its April 13 meeting might vote on submitting the question to electors, Lodge indicated.

It will take a majority vote of the 83 supervisors to call for the election this fall.

At the same time veteran Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, 58-year-old jurist from Royal Oak on the bench since 1938, will be up for re-election to another four-year term.

Talk of the second probate judge has stirred much in the way of political gossip as to who might seek the post. To date, only Pontiac attorney David E. Utley, a Democrat, has indicated he'll seek the post. The election is non-partisan.

In the past discussion on the second probate judge has brought into the open political strife on the Board of Supervisors.

Some Democratic members accused Republicans — who are in control of the body — of stalling under the original plan so Williams would be out of office and thus unable to handpick the judge. Republicans said nonsense.

The Senate and House bill gives to counties which now have but one probate judge, and a population of 250,000 but not more than 1,000,000, the right to call for the election of a second jurist at the next biennial November election.

If the county supervisors approve the idea by a majority (42 votes in Oakland's case) the judge would be elected for a two-year term instead of the usual four years. This would provide for a staggering of the terms.

Police Assist Two

Police in two county communities today and yesterday assisted in the birth of babies that were in a hurry.

"Hospitals are for sick people," according to Mrs. Frank Pearcy who gave birth to her third child on the bathroom floor of her Clawson home yesterday.

* * *

Only one of the Pearcy's children, Laura Lee, was born at a hospital, and "that's the last time," vows Mrs. Pearcy. Nineteen month ago she delivered her son, Frank, on the bedroom floor.

Clawson Patrolman Ray Miller gave an assist yesterday at the Pearcy home, 140 Nakota St. The baby girl weighed in at five pounds five ounces.

Both mother and the baby are doing fine today — at home.

* * *

It looked like the baby was going to arrive in a rush early this morning, so the father phoned Southfield police.

* * *

Patrolmen Jennings Shaver and Richard Bice pulled up at the Ernest M. Harju home at 28104 Maitrott St., Southfield, just in time to serve as midwives.

They assisted Mrs. Harju, 28, in the birth of a seven-pound eight-ounce boy at her home.

Mother and baby are doing fine today at Harper Hospital, Detroit. Both patrolmen have had experience of this sort before.

Bloomfield Twp. Baby Drowns in Diaper Pail

A 17-month-old Bloomfield Township boy drowned this morning when he fell into a pail of water containing diapers.

The baby, Thomas Siegesmund, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Siegesmund, 315 Hupp Cross Rd., was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital, according to Bloomfield Township police.

There was no immediate explanation as to how the accident occurred.

Senate Moves Toward Showdown on Negro Registration Procedures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate moved toward a showdown today on the kind of proceedings to require for Negroes seeking to register before court-appointed voting registrars.

A House-passed bill provides for simple, uncontested hearings. The Senate Judiciary Committee adopted 7-6 an amendment to require two days advance notice of the hearings and permit county and state registrars to sit in. There was a dispute over whether they could actively participate.

* * *

Opponents of the committee amendment said the outcome could be crucial to the effectiveness of the plan for court-appointed referees to protect Negro voting rights.

LEFT DANGLING

The issue was left dangling Wednesday night after the Senate, in a surprise burst of speed, took up the House measure and adopted all the other amendments recommended by the committee.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) said this didn't signal any collapse of the fight he and other Southern senators have been waging against the passage of civil rights legislation.

"We just thought all the committee amendments improved the bill," he told a reporter.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) foresaw the possibility nonetheless that the long Senate battle over civil rights, now in its seventh week, might be concluded by the middle of next week.

PLAN ADDITIONS

Javits and other senators plan, however, to offer additional amendments to broaden and strengthen the bill. Javits himself introduced three new amendments Wednesday night.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) sponsored the amendment to let city and state officials sit in on the registration hearings and make a transcript of the proceedings.

* * *

Kefauver contended his amendment would improve the voting referee plan rather than scuttle it, but opponents argued that it was "an invitation to intimidation" of Negroes seeking to exercise their voting rights.

Applaud Salvation Army for Fine Progress

Everyone everywhere can take heart and express renewed courage in the fine report just released by Major ERNEST ALDER of The Salvation Army.

The administration and costs of this valuable work for the past year totaled $303,069.86.

And the income covered it.

There will be no "drive for funds."

In the words of the leader, "We were able to maintain the Center, provide services for some 450 problem men, and make the initial payment on the reduction of the mortgage on our Center property."

There's a magnificent record. It merits community applause.

Pontiac Men's Social Service Center on West Lawrence Street is becoming a civic fixture of which the entire area can well be proud. It takes men whose futures are dubious and uncertain and rehabilitates them and restores them to a rightful place in society. Work of this nature requires rare patience and skill and Major ALDER demonstrates that we have a capable administrator in a spot he understands.

★ ★ ★

The PRESS bows before the grand work done on West Lawrence.

Incidentally, the Major's salary is listed at $3,015.00 for the year. This bespeaks a devotion to duty that we find only too rarely in these days of "gimme, gimme, gimme."

Get Off the Highway if Your Auto Stalls

A weekend traffic fatality near Port Huron points up a common mistake of many drivers—failure to get off the highway when cars stall or are involved in accidents.

In this case, the man was struck by one car while trying to push his car off the road, and then hit again by another car.

It's common to see people involved in accidents or emergency repairs wandering around their cars right on the highway as traffic continues to flow around them.

Your life can depend on remembering that roads are for automobiles, and if you're not in one, get off. If your car fails, don't make an even greater hazard by standing in the way.

Buyers Should Know Cost of Credit Terms

Supported by the Better Business Bureau and the Federal Reserve System, Sen. PAUL DOUGLAS, (D-Ill) is sponsoring a bill under which buyers on an installment basis would be told exactly what that credit is costing them.

Sen. Douglas, a former economics professor, appreciates the role credit plays in helping people to buy homes, automobiles and other high cost items. His bill is aimed at excessive installment buying and credit terms so disguised that the purchaser doesn't know what he is paying for that privilege.

"From my experience of 40 years in the retail apparel industry, I can tell you, gentlemen, that when the terms are made to seem easy enough to meet, people suffering from the credit virus can no more resist the installment salesman than a gambling or liquor addict can resist his particular type of addiction."

Another witness told of financing contracts calling for interest rates from 9.5% to 62.5% a year. The proposed "full disclosure" bill would also benefit businessmen generally by protecting legitimate merchants from unscrupulous competitors.

We agree.

"Every borrower should have the right of full knowledge of the terms and contents of credit contracts, stated in a uniform and truthful manner," says Sen. Douglas.

If you have not already put in your bid for that $250 prize, now is a good time to do it. You can quickly get into the running by answering the following:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 5, and what will be his batting average.

It costs nothing to enter, and every member of your family is eligible, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Friday, April 15.

If you send in your family's entries now, you will run no chance of losing $250 because you forgot to do it.

Most recent suggestion award top winner at Pontiac Motor Division was

"Well One Thing, Our Problem Is Obvious"

Disarming Talk Is Gobbledygook

WASHINGTON—Statesmen talk ambiguously about ways and means of curtailing nuclear weapons—and technicians shudder as they see dangers ahead.

LAWRENCE

President Eisenhower tells a press conference in Washington that an agreement to stop nuclear tests is only a "fringe subject" in the whole field of disarmament.

And Nikita Khrushchev tells a press conference in France that "there is no common ground" between the Soviet and Western proposals on disarmament.

What is the explanation then for all the gobbledygook? Who is really going to stop doing what—and how is any agreement made going to be policed so there will be no cheating?

These are still unanswered questions, despite all the high-sounding speeches made as President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan conclude their talks in Washington, and as the conference at Geneva on disarmament struggles along fitfully from one exhausting session to another.

Significant words that give some explanation of the mystery are to be found in the official communique issued after the Eisenhower-Macmillan meeting. It says, for instance, that "there are a number of important specific problems to be resolved," and then adds:

"These include the questions of an adequate program of on-site inspections, the composition of the control commission, control post staffing and voting matters, as well as arrangements for peaceful purposes detonations."

The hopeful opinion is expressed that "negotiations on these points should be speeded up and completed at the earliest possible time."

But the discussions thus far at Geneva and elsewhere in the capitals of the East and West do not augur well. On the surface, there is hope of an early agreement, but there are lots of obstacles in the way and the tactics of the Soviets up till now do not indicate any sincere desire to hasten agreement.

There is, moreover, no clear-cut answer to the uncertainties that surround the whole problem. Thus, Dr. Herbert F. York, the Pentagon's research chief, testified on Wednesday of this week before a Senate committee that the United States would retain a military advantage even if the U. S. and the Soviet Union should stop nuclear tests. He said:

IF YOU'RE AHEAD!

"We are, I believe, well ahead in this particular field. When you're ahead, if both sides stop and really stop, this seems to leave an advantage with us."

But who can say the Soviets "really will stop?" There are many difficulties in detecting tests of smaller weapons. Indeed, it may be that the smaller weapons to be used by so-called conventional armed forces will determine the outcome of future wars.

It is conceded that very little is as yet known about underground testing. What is being proposed is that a gentlemen's agreement be signed to refrain from testing in this field.

It is called an "unilateral" agreement, which means that each side determines for itself when testing will be resumed if it thinks the other fellow has not honored the agreement.

But since when is the Soviet word to be trusted? Will there be a debate for months while technicians try to prove whether a breach has occurred?

Tax Tips

INTERNAL REVENUE SAYS:

Contributions to charities include more than your cash donations. If you give clothing or other goods, the fair market value of these items may be deductible on your 1959 Federal income tax return. The value of your personal services are not deductible.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Calcium Deposits' Quaint, Nineteenth Century Notion

A medical friend whose knowledge of nutrition is as limited as that of most old timers, tells me I make a serious mistake taking my daily ration of calcium.

At my age, even at his age, the metabolism cannot handle calcium as well as it did when we were younger, so it tends to accumulate as "deposits" in bones, joints, arteries . . .

Physiologically I am probably 10 years younger than my medical friend. I can do things which he dare not attempt — forward rolls (somersaults), for instance. Not because I have been doing them for many years but because I have more confidence in my fitness than my friend has in his.

You see, my friend has suffered, like most Americans, from calcium shortage for many years, whereas I have been supplementing my diet —otherwise calcium poor, as is the ordinary diet of most Americans —with a daily ration of calcium and vitamin D.

Now, I am confident, this policy is paying off. I am younger and healthier than most men of my age.

I feel sorry for doctors who harbor the quaint notion that "too much" calcium is likely to be "deposited' in arteries, joints, etc. In the first place they don't know how much calcium a child or an adult requires daily to maintain good nutrition, and therefore they are vague about how much "too much" may be.

These 19th century doctors shrewdly cover their ignorance of nutrition by plying their customers with outrageously expensive "miracle medicines." Despite the fact that these "miracle medicines" never cure anything, the customers cheerfully pay the fiddler because they think the doctor who "tries" all the latest nostrums must be "up-to-date."

In any circumstance if calcium is "deposited in artery wall or joint it is only in an advanced stage of degeneration of the artery or joint tissues, when worn-out or dead cells can no longer be replaced with new cells which carry on the function of artery or joint tissue, but only patched up with a kind of plaster of Paris, calcified, that is.

This is pathology. It is the truth about hardening of the arteries and chronic joint disability.

If the 19th century notion of calcium metabolism is correct I should be pretty stiff by now, in the arteries as well as the joints.

Yah—but, argues my unteachable medical friend, probably I am endowed with a type of metabolism adapted to handling calcium, whereas ordinary folk are not so endowed. Endowed my eye, I tell him — if I'm endowed with anything that my colleagues lack it is maybe brains.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Let Vanity Ruin Your Health

Ellen is tearful because she thinks her doctor has ruined her love life. Millions of teen-agers let their vanity damage their eyes and ears! So scrapbook this case or mail it to some friend who is in the same boat with Ellen. And don't feel unduly inferior because you happen to have some physical defect.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-422: Ellen D., aged 17, is a tearful college freshman.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she wailed, "I am so unhappy for I don't know what to do. My eye doctor says I simply must wear glasses.

"My grades have been falling, and the doctor says I am losing some of the vision in the left eye, because the eyes are not equally strong.

DR. CRANE

"He says unless I wear glasses to balance them, I'll quit using the bad eye even more and it will become almost totally blind.

"But I hate to wear glasses. What will boys think of me? I may never have any more dates and never get married!

"People will think I am not healthy or normal."

EYE-UNPOPULARITY

Yesterday I gave you the case of a girl with "ear-unpopularity" who was losing friends because she couldn't hear normally.

Many others lose friends by being so nearsighted, they can't recognize their acquaintances at 50-foot distance.

When the latter wave to these near-sighted folks, their greetings are ignored. Then the nearsighted folks are mistakenly diagnosed as being snobbish or "highhat".

Thereafter they may be shunned or blackballed from social groups without ever knowing why they are in such disfavor with their companions.

So get over the juvenile viewpoint that you must be 100 per cent perfect in your anatomy! Hardly anybody ever is perfect.

Most of us have some degree of astigmatism or unbalanced vision, or we are a victim of some bearing loss or have missing and decayed teeth, or corns and bunions.

God apparently gave us our superior brain in order that we could improve on defects in our inherited chassis.

Thus, it wasn't feasible for human beings to be born with shoes on our feet, so God put shoes in our head via the ingenious ideas mankind has evolved for footgear, boots, galoshes, skis, etc.

GOD'S PARTNERS

We are supposed to be God's partners and team-up as regards adapting our bodies to their environment.

Thus, we were born without feathers or fur. But our inventive ancestors used the wool of sheep for clothing, plus feathers, cotton, flax, nylon, etc.

Chickens sweltter in sudden Spring heat. They can't molt quickly, but we can shed our winter underwear and don a bathing suit in 5 minutes.

Conversely, when a sudden premature blizzard arrives in early autumn, chickens and animals can't suddenly sprout double skin protection via feathers and new fur.

But we can don fur coats, wool suits, etc., in a matter of minutes.

Our eyes likewise need to be improved to handle our modern heavy reading duties. Our two sets of inherited teeth wear out but modern dental surgeons give us additional sets, often more attractive than the originals.

So Ellen must widen her perspective. If she fears "Men don't

But wear them for study and workaday duties! For they keep our eyes more keen and receptive. Otherwise, we grow relatively blind.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Points Up Much Evidence of Pontiac's Advancement

Our Commissioners are sincere, intelligent men deserving more praise and less criticism. They try to make our City the best possible, and they're succeeding admirably. Libraries, hospital addition, City Hall, fire station, Public Safety Building and miles of paved streets indicate we aren't standing still. The Commission's job is big with little recompense.

As for recreation, we have many churches with activities for all ages every night, there's bowling, skiing, skating, tobogganing, boating, swimming within a short distance. We have parks with tennis, golf, horseshoes, shuffleboard and picnicking. Parks and Recreation Department has done wonders in providing all kinds of supervised sports, winter and summer. Schools offer adult education and family recreation. We have Boys' Club, Girl and Boy Scouting, YW and YMCA. There are countless civic clubs which gratefully accept volunteers.

I'm proud of Pontiac's progress and the good job our City Officials are doing. I must support their decision against beatnik clubs.

A. Jepson

Differences about opening of beatnik establishments go beyond the question of legal rights to free enterprise. There's no question that free enterprise, along with law and order, are the foundation for American world leadership.

Among these pillars of freedom lies a personal sense of responsibility citizens must have in order not to lose these inherent freedoms. Recent years have brought a creeping philosophy that "anything goes," anything for individual satisfaction and nothing in return for the other fellow. This attitude can lead only to chaos and a slave state.

Objections against the beatniks aren't meant to interfere with free enterprise. Parents are concerned with the sense of responsibility of men behind these coffee houses. Can owners face up to their responsibility? Can community leaders? Ask a Detroit police officer what the psychology of free expression has resulted in. There are stabbings, dope-pushing and socialization processes that leave us wondering. Have we reached lower depths of moral ethics when we commercialize on budding emotions of teen-agers?

George P. Caronis

As a person the age of many beatniks, I know how you feel. You want liberty, peace, security and satisfaction in life, and you strive for them by being a beatnik. I've found these things and far more by being acquainted with Jesus Christ. I now have something to live for and enjoy doing it. If you'd like more information concerning this real life in Christ, write to me. I'm a teenager who's really living.

John Best

751 Robinwood

Me thinks City Officials protest too much. A bookie, blind pig or house of you-know-what raided in many a moon. How shining white our town has become. Could it all be a smoke screen? Why the purity crusade about beatniks? Haven't we lived with more questionable spots? How's for a real crusade against all evil spots?

Albert J. Drake

2342 Cheltingham

I don't think I'd patronize the beatnik club, but teen-agers would like such kind of recreation center. What could take place in the Cave that doesn't happen in drive-in movies? A recreation center might cut delinquency and the number of teen-agers on the street. Teenagers growing beards and dressing sloppy make the City look bad. Parents voice opinions, but teenagers want action for something like the CAI building in Waterford.

Janet Milmine

38 Portage St.

What church or fraternity do I have to belong to to have something done on our street? I don't mind paying for the storm sewer, but the mess is worse than before. Does the City Commission have too much worry about the beatniks?

G. A. Kranich

730 Fourth Ave.

Why not call your column the "Voice of the Editor?" In the Saturday issue you published a letter on the beatnik question with my name signed. This had been so cut and twisted I hardly recognized it. It did no good to the cause. I am definitely opposed to the opening of the Cave of the Ninth Cat.

Mildred Manns

(Editor's Note: The letter referred to above was a poem and The Press does not publish poetry in Voice of the People.)

'You'll Get Earful From This Man'

Senator John Kennedy says he's discovered American people have "gone soft." Senator, they curled up long before you found it out. Just ask Mr. Seventy Three, writer to Voice of the People about closing schools on slippery days, and you'll get an earful.

J. J.

'We Want to Know Truth About UFO'

When is the U.S. Government going to come clean on these unidentified flying objects and tell us the truth? I saw one the other night and you can't make me think it was moonbeam or a weather balloon.

'How Can Religion Affect Politicians?'

I cannot see where or how religion can affect political officers. All religious groups have to obey state or pressure groups.

River Menaces Midland Area

Rises One Foot Over Flood Stage; Other Cities Threatened

By The Associated Press

The Tittabawassee River rose more than one foot over flood stage at Midland today and streams in other areas of lower Michigan also were on their annual spring rampage.

* * *

Flood stage at Midland is 18 feet and the rising water resulted in five roads inside the city being blocked off. Upstream, both the Sandford and Edenville dams were spilling water.

Some families living along the banks of the Kawkawlin River near Bay City had to move out Wednesday night because of flood conditions.

At Ionia, several families in low-lying areas left their homes as the Grand River continued to rise. The river was at 21 feet Wednesday night and was expected to rise to 22 feet today.

* * *

The Ionia Home and Sports Show was postponed until a later date because the fairgrounds were flooded.

In central Michigan, farmers shored up the Maple River Dam near Elsie with sandbags. They feared flood waters would cause the dam to give way.

* * *

In southern Michigan's Coldwater area, rain and the spring thaw turned unpaved roads into mud. The Reading and Bronson schools had to close because of road conditions.

Pioneer V Nearer Sun; at 3 Million Mile Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pioneer V today neared the three million mile mark of its flight around the sun.

The Civilian Space Agency, in reporting this, said that reception of the sphere's information-laden radio signals "continues to be excellent."

Probers Claim Mobsters Running Gambling, Eye Vending Business

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate rackets committee said today mobsters and corrupt labor union officials have permeated the jukebox and pinball gambling machine business.

In a report to the Senate the committee charged that original operators of these coin machines had connived with crooked union bosses to set up a monopoly—and thus literally paved the way for tough gangsters to muscle in and take over.

* * *

Now, the senators said, the mobsters are scheming to take over the legitimate coin-operated vending business, which "as yet seems to be comparatively untainted."

* * *

This was the committee's last scheduled report to the Senate on three years of investigation of corruption in the labor-management field.

Unanimously, the eight senators said their hearings on the coin-operated machine industry's troubles had revealed a classic example of what can happen when employer and crooked unionists connive.

* * *

As they have done in all of their prior reports, the senators denounced Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and some of his top aides, calling them part and parcel of the alleged conspiracy.

* * *

Among those the committee accused was William E. Bufalino, head of Detroit Teamsters Local 985. Hoffa Wednesday nominated Bufalino as his choice for membership on a board of monitors named by a federal court to help combat corruption in Teamsters Union affairs.

LISTS IN CITIES

The committee listed 11 cities in which, it said, jukebox and pinball machine operators had organized to enforce monopoly control which would protect each member against competition from outsiders.

Hired hoodlums and crooked deals with Teamsters Union and other union officials provided an enforcement arm and protection for the operation, the senators said—until the mobs moved in.

It listed the cities as New York; Chicago; Detroit; Denver, Colo.; Cleveland, Ohio; Los Angeles, Miami, Fla.; New Orleans, La.; Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., and Youngstown, Ohio, all subjects of extensive committee hearings last year.

How Will Sandy Measure Up in Chorus Line?

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Coed Sandy Cherniss, whose 41-24-37 measurements distracted male students at San Francisco City College, is getting a chance to prove her distraction is an attraction.

The Sahara Hotel is putting her in the chorus line on a week's tryout basis.

If she measures up—talent-wise—she gets the $250 a week job permanently, a hotel spokesman said.

Sandy drew national notice recently when San Francisco City College officials complained her natural endowments were diverting male students from their studies.

India has about 8,000 public hospitals and about 92,000 registered doctors, according to late figures.

He Scampered Home

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — John H. Head says he caught a cold, and it's all the fault of a cleaning shop. He filed a $500 damage suit, claiming he caught the cold when he scampered home without his suit — which he said the cleaners lost while he waited in a booth.

Migrant Farmer Benefits Urged

Senate Unit Advocates Jobless Pay, Registers to Cut Exploitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Senate committee on unemployment problems Wednesday recommended a program of jobless compensation benefits for migrant farm laborers.

It also urged congressional approval of bills to require the registration of migrant labor crew leaders "and other measures to relieve exploitation of migrants."

The committee held public hearings last year and this year in 12 states and Washington, D.C.

It said it found the unemployment and underemployment problems of domestic farm laborers immense. The group noted that a Senate labor subcommittee is investigating housing, food, medical and educational problems of migrant farm workers but added:

"The Committee on Unemployment Problems believes that an important part of an effective program to help migratory farm laborers is the assurance of unemployment benefits as nearly comparable as possible to the benefits received by other groups in the labor force."

The committee did not spell out how this should be done. All unemployment compensation programs are handled at the state level.

United Nations experts put China's population at about 650 million.

A BUSSING SESSION — Two French youngsters got affectionate busses from Nikita Khrushchev and his wife Nina when the children greeted the Soviet leader on his arrival at the Reims, France, town hall Wednesday. Khrushchev is touring the country on his state visit to France. In Lille, they attended a fashion show and Mrs. Khrushchev admired the low-cost cotton dresses.

Wagner Is Contender for VP Spot: Butler

NEW YORK (AP) — Democratic Party Chairman Paul Butler said today that Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York is a strong contender for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

But, said Butler, if an easterner or a Roman Catholic wins the presidential nomination, "Bob would be automatically out." Wagner is a Catholic.

Butler told newsmen that "what happens religiously and geographically at the convention is important, but Wagner is in a strong position for the nomination."

Wagner has stated he would be interested in the vice presidency.

Profit Rates Slipping on Defense Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense contractors' profit rates have gone down sharply in recent years, Congress has been told.

Asst. Secretary of Defense Perkins McGuire told a House Appropriations subcommittee the rate, before taxes and renegotiation proceedings with the government, was 5.7 per cent in 1957, but only 4 per cent in 1959.

McGuire's testimony was made public today.

Utah Killer Jests Before Firing Squad

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—A sad-eyed little killer whose last request was for "a bullet-proof vest," was shot by a firing squad in the windy gray dawn Wednesday.

Five anonymous riflemen fired at 6:16 a.m. and 49-year-old James W. Rodgers slumped dying in a wooden captain's chair. He was executed for the 1957 shooting in a southeastern Utah mining camp of Charles Merrifield, 33.

★ ★ ★

Rodgers spent his last minutes joking with a chaplain and prison officials. He was asked if he had anything to say.

"I done told you my last request—a bullet-proof vest," he said.

More Labels Will Say: Poison, Use With Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has acted to protect the 600,000 children who annually gulp down furniture polish, detergents or potentially dangerous potions by passing a bill requiring precautionary labeling of products for home use.

The committee said there are more than 300,000 common household products which contain dangerous ingredients. It provided in the bill for labeling of the more dangerous ones.

Remember 'Joe Smith'?

Carpenter Is Off Again

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Terry Carpenter, the man who invented "Joe Smith," is back. And, as usual, he's a political thorn in the side of Nebraska politicians.

Carpenter is the man who threw the 1956 GOP National Convention into an uproar by nominating "Joe Smith" — a political myth—for vice president.

For most delegates and television viewers, Terry and "Joe" helped enliven an otherwise dull Republican Convention. But Nebraska's GOP leaders weren't amused.

They're even less amused today as Carpenter, a wealthy Scottsbluff businessman, stumps the Cornhusker state as a maverick candidate for the GOP gubernatorial nomination and delegate-at-large to the 1960 Republican Convention in Chicago.

This would make Carpenter, the maverick, the regular Republican candidate for governor, with the regular party organization's candidate running as an independent.

This state of confusion is about par for the course for Carpenter.

Applications have been received for 2,092 projects from 764 school districts. Science projects outnumber mathematics and languages about two to one.

Holland Busy Planning for Tulip Time, May 11

HOLLAND (UPI) — A program combining Netherlands pageantry and parades — plus displays of thousands of blossoming tulips — was being prepared today for the 1960 Holland tulip time festival.

Plans for this year's colorful festival — the 31st to be staged in this heavily populated Dutch-extraction community along the east shore of Lake Michigan — were near completion with the start of the celebration six weeks away.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the festival estimated that a half million visitors will come to Holland between May 11 and May 14 to view and take part in the four-day tribute to the tulip.

Ike Is Confident of Integration

But President Hedges on Store Lunch Fight, Says It's Local

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower declined Wednesday to pass judgment on stores which bar Negroes from lunch counters while selling them goods in other departments.

Eisenhower told his news conference he is confident that eventually the conscience of America will give everyone equal rights, regardless of what he called such inconsequential matters as difference in race.

The President was asked whether he agrees with Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida that it is wrong for stores to accept a Negro's money for purchases in some departments and then deny him service at a lunch counter.

Eisenhower replied that there are so many possibilities of local interpretation and local action that he could not possibly pass on that issue.

As for the situation in South Africa, Eisenhower said he stands on a statement of Secretary of State Christian A. Herter deploring the action of police in firing on a crowd of Negroes protesting government restrictions.

Eisenhower went on to say that he deplores incidents in which people are killed and there is violence. But he said it is a touchy thing because he believes there are people in Africa with human understanding who want to work out the problem.

The U. S. Department of Commerce estimates that the 1960 population of the United States, including armed forces overseas, is 179,834,690.

European Car Makers Face U.S. Competition

LONDON (AP) — The Ford Motor of Great Britain set a new record last year with sales worth 233,180,965 pounds ($652,905,562), Chairman Sir Patrick Hennessy reported today.

This was 12 per cent higher than the previous best year, 1958.

Hennessey, in his annual statement, warned that increasing sales competition is likely in the future from manufacturers outside Europe and North America. He said European car makers probably will face another stiff challenge with the marketing of American small cars.

About 85 per cent of the people of India are Hindus.

Race Data Request Ruled Illegal in Insurance Ads

LANSING (AP) — A Missouri life insurance firm has been advised that discriminatory newspaper advertising is illegal in Michigan.

Frank Blackford, state insurance commissioner, wrote to the Missouri superintendent of insurance protesting an advertisement which asked applicants for mail order life insurance to state their race or color.

Young Man With 'It' Behind the Ears: That's Oakland County's Ernest Jones

Ernest A. Jones, one of Oakland County's most progressive citizens, is the object of a glowing account in Editor and Publisher. We reproduce it in part through permission of the magazine's publisher:

By PHILIP N. SCHUYLER

An impressionistic sketch of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., national ad agency with headquarters in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., should probably be properly entitled "Young Men with 'It' Behind the Ears."

Not that the personnel of 425 isn't well seasoned with veterans —it is—but Ernest Albin Jones, the 44-year-old president, does reflect a preponderance of young, able, energetic top executives of the staff he has headed for the past four years.

"Of course, we are growing older all the time—pardon the cliche —but at last check our management group averaged in the early forties," Mr. Jones said.

For the past 26 years it has successfully steered the advertising of Cadillac and Pontiac. Dow Chemical Co., another client, has the same uninterrupted longevity. Today some 60 clients range, in the presidential phrase, from "a two-ounce confection (Good Humor) to a two-ton automobile."

Charles F. Adams, 33, executive vice president, has succeeded his father, the late Jim Adams, handling Cadillac. James Graham, 37, vice president and account supervisor, serves the $20,000,000 Pontiac account. Robert Garrison, 42, senior vice president, heads the commercial and consumer group.

On the five-man executive committee with Mr. Jones, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Garrison, are William B. Backman, 43, senior vice president in charge of new business development, and the financial veteran Leo Hillebrand, vice president, secretary-treasurer of the agency.

Then, too, the "young men with 'It' behind their ears" would include Darrell C. Roberts, administrative vice president; Robert Marker, 38, is a creative vice president.

When Elmer Froehlich, so-widely known by newspaper advertising salesmen died, Mr. Jones found a young successor at General Mills. For the past two years, Robert Britton, 34, has been a director of merchandising, marketing, research and media.

Mr. Jones moved to Madison avenue in 1950 and lived in New York for three years, then moved back to Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Now Henry A. "Hank" Fownes, 37, manages New York. Others of the agency's bright young men located there are Mark Lawrence, vice president for TV, the 32-year-old son of David Lawrence, the newspaper columnist and Gene Gramm, creative director.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, our young team is seasoned with veterans," Mr. Jones repeated. "Including Hovey Hagerman, John MacManus and Fred J. Hatch, senior vice presidents; Kenneth MacQueen, Graphic Arts vice president, and Glenn Frost, senior art director and vice president.

MacMJ&A began in 1934 with the American Lady Corset Co. account. On the same day of that same 1934 the agency got as clients both Pontiac and the Dow Chemical Co. From billings of $6,000,000 a year and personnel of 80, about equalling today's New York office, the agency grew to billings of $35,000,000 in 1956, when Mr. Jones became president, to $43,000,000 now, and a hope expressed by the young president of building billings to approximately $50,000,000 in 1960.

★ ★ ★

"WAP" John once told Mr. Jones: "You're fortunate in having a deep bench of bright young men." "And," Mr. Jones added, 'we did — but we had a lot of reorganizing to do."

★ ★ ★

"In addition to that 'deep bench of bright young men,' we had excellent clients. This is not phony baloney — I honestly believe our success is largely due to those superb clients."

★ ★ ★

The casing for this "well-oiled" agency machine is a unique agency building on 22 acres of land in suburban Bloomfield Hills, outside Detroit. Mr. Jones works only two minutes' drive from his home, his wife and their five children; ranging in age from 5 to 17.

Besides New York, the agency has divisions in Los Angeles and Toronto.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Jones estimates he travels, mostly by airplane, as much as 100,000 miles a year. Each fall he covers the major distributor meetings of Pontiac and Cadillac. At least three times a month, he visits New York, and makes frequent trips to the Los Angeles and Toronto offices.

Mr. Jones, who is extremely articulate, makes frequent addresses on advertising. He has been governor of the Michigan Council of the 4-A's, chairman of the East Central Region when he was a director, and is now a director-at-large.

It was a speech Mr. Jones made in Pittsburgh a few weeks after he became president that first catapulted him into the limelight of his trade. He expressed the opinion that TV might not be the ideal medium for advertising durable goods.

"That speech has been rather badly mishandled," Mr. Jones recalled. "Words have been taken out of context to make headlines.

I'm no knight in armor championing one medium over another. Each has its own special purposes.

"It happens that Cadillac right now is not using any TV at all. That doesn't mean we might not use it tomorrow. We're not using it, only because we haven't been able to find anything we thought good enough — spectacular enough — to come up to the very high standards we have set in print."

"Pontiac currently invests under 25% of its appropriation in TV. Newspapers get the heavy end of the stick, but magazines are not neglected. With about 4,000 dealers we need that local impact for Pontiac we get in some 2,500 newspapers."

As is known, automobile advertising is based on sales. Mr. Jones was asked to comment on the current sales picture. He emphasized that what he said must be taken as regarding the industry as a whole, not just his clients.

"Industry sales are slow in coming up to high early predictions—though they are doing well at least as far as Cadillac and Pontiac are concerned," he said. "The steel strike set the industry back. Postponed ads had to be rescheduled. We have had to get up a second head of steam.

"For informing the public, I have great confidence in the printed word. Newspaper editors and publishers have a great obligation to continue to hold public confidence," he continued, shifting the subject.

"Sometimes it has seemed to me that newspapers have been far too quick to hop on another medium's unhappy state of affairs. They cannot fool the public, however. Silence will not convince the public that the press has a monopoly on all the attributes of purity. When newspapers criticize sex and violence on TV and fail to mention themselves, the public's natural reaction is 'Oh yeah — just who is it that's selling sex and violence.'

"The power of the printed word is fantastic. I have a boy, 'Biff,' they call him, who starred last season in high school football. I watched him play, but the real smash I got was when I read about him in the local newspaper being a 'triple-threat player.'

"I believe this kind of impact rubs off on newspaper advertisers.

"In the case of newspapers there never seems to be a question of who owns the vehicle of communication or advertising. I can't remember when a client asked me to try to influence the editorial content of any newspaper or magazine.

"As I said before, what medium you use, depends upon your clients' objectives. Take for instance the Wolverine Shoe Company, our client, and their Hush Puppies. What we wanted was store outlet identification. What we used was the local power of newspapers through the Sunday supplements. In a couple of years, this client's advertising appropriation has grown from $60,000 a year to over $1,200,000.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Jones was blowing a hot trumpet at the University of Michigan in 1937. Pontiac was sponsoring the Varsity show on radio through MJ&A. Mr. Jones, working his way through college, playing on the Michigan dance band, got on to the program. He also made an impression on W.A.P. John.

"Kid, you're coming to work for me," said "WAP."

Mr. Jones did. He started there on Feb. 15, 1939 — just 21 years ago, at $125 a month in the production department.

"And I've never regretted it once, since" he said. "I guess you can tell I love this business."

GIVES PRINCE THE BRUSHOFF — Sharolyn Schoenith, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus J. Schoenith, 1775 Schoenith Lane, Bloomfield Township, reflects on her evening of the night before when the pretty Seaholm (Birmingham) High School junior turned a cool shoulder to Prince Mohammed of the Kingdom of Jordan. She caught the fancy of the 20-year-old prince, who is visiting Detroit, at an exclusive east-side night club. Invited to his table, along with her mother, Sharolyn did not pursue the suggestion that she dance with the prince, but "not in public." "If he shaved off his mustache he wouldn't be too bad," Sharolyn reflected.

Probably Will Keep Rising

Cigarette Smoking Sets Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cigarette smoking boomed to a new U. S. high in 1959 and probably will set another record this year despite continued medical claims that smoking is linked with lung cancer.

★ ★ ★

The Agriculture Department reported that production of U. S. cigarettes climbed to 490 billion last year, 4 per cent higher than in 1958. It said total output this year seems likely to exceed 500 billion.

Americans spent more than 6 billion dollars on cigarettes in 1959.

The Agriculture Department said per capita consumption among Americans 15 years of age and older reached a record high of nearly 19p packs in 1959, or almost four packs a week. This was 2.5 per cent above per capita consumption in 1958 and 7.4 per cent above 1957.

Department economists based their forecast of another upswing this year on population increases and a continued high income level.

The report said about 96 per cent of U.S.-produced cigarettes in 1959 were consumed in this country, by armed forces personnel overseas, and in U. S. territories and possessions. The remaining 4 per cent was exported to foreign countries.

ALMOST ONE-TENTH MORE

The $6,100,000,000 spent by Americans on cigarettes in 1959 was nearly one-tenth more than in 1958. Average per-pack prices were higher because of inereased taxes in many states and a continued rise in the proportion of filter tip and king size. Federal and state governments collected a record $2,689,000,000 in cigarette taxes in 1959.

The report also said that:

—About 49 per cent of the cigarettes produced in 1959 were filter tip, up from 45 per cent in 1958.

—Cigar and cigarillo consumption last year reached nearly 7 billion up 7.5 per cent from 1958 to the largest total since the early 1920s. A further but slower increase was predicted for this year.

—Output of smoking tobacco for pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes fell 4 per cent last year to 73 million pounds, third lowest in this century. Production of chewing tobacco and snuff also declined. Chewing tobacco was at the lowest level of the century.

Last Steam-Train Ride Set for Sunday April 10

So you couldn't squeeze aboard Grand Trunk Western's last regular steam-powered passenger run last Sunday?

Been feeling bad about it since? Well, those who missed all the fun and nostalgia will have their day —Sunday, April 10.

That's when the Michigan Railroad Club will sponsor a special excursion from Detroit to Richmond via Royal Oak, Birmingham and Pontiac.

The train, drawn by a steam locomotive, will consist of air conditioned coaches with open gondola cars added, and will make special stops so amateur photographers may get off and take pictures and movies.

Unless the events of the final regular run of March 27 persuade officials to "save" the old iron horse for future "fan" runs, this will be the final excursion steamer on the Grand Trunk.

Those interested have been asked to get their tickets before April 4, after which all tickets will cost 75 cents more.

Adult round-trip fares from Detroit and Royal Oak are $6, from Birmingham $5.50 and from Pontiac $5. Children 5-12 years old can go half-fare. There is no charge for children under 5.

Tickets are on sale at each station. The train is scheduled to leave Pontiac at 10 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m.

Payola Probers Send Call to Dick Clark

WASHINGTON (UPI) —House Payola investigators said they have ordered television disc Jockey Dick Clark, idol of the teen-age set, to appear for hearings tentatively set for about April 21.

A spokesman for the investigating subcommittee said that about 20 other persons in the music, publishing and broadcasting industries also have been subpenaed for the hearings.

The subcommittee has had Clark's various activities under investigation since last November. He was served with a subpoena in January and told he would be notified later when to appear.

Clark, who runs two dance programs on the ABC network, has an income estimated by subcommittee sources at $500,000 a year.

Jury Today to Get Flatter Slaying Case

DETROIT (AP) — The fate of George Flatter, 20, accused of murdering a housewife, was expected to go to a jury today.

I. A. Capizzi, Flatter's attorney, was to deliver his final arguments today and Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport will charge the jury.

Prosecutor Theodore Kotelly asked the jury yesterday for a first-degree murder conviction in the Jan. 22 strangling of Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, 46. She was slain as she walked home from a theater.

Flatter testified he admitted the slaying only because police forced him. The youth denied on the stand that he killed the woman.

2 Labor Union Leaders Endorsing Symington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two labor union leaders today endorsed Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the Democratic nomination for president.

★ ★ ★

They were James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, and George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

'I'll See Ya'... but When?

Wed in Jail Vestibule

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The bride, like most, was nervous as she twisted a glove in her hand. The groom was a bit pale but was calm and smiling. They seemed oblivious to their surroundings in the vestibule of the Montgomery County ail.

The groom was Earl Hensley, 25, sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for 1-20 years for the fatal Christmas Day, 1959, shooting of a man in the apartment of Miss Orpha Lou Combs, 23, the bride.

The groom also faces the remainder of a 10-25-year sentence for armed robbery in 1952. He was on parole at the time of the shooting.

★ ★ ★

As jailers led Hensley back to his cell he looked at his bride and said simply: "I'll see ya'." The bride plans to live with his parents.

Morse Seeks Vote on Insurance for Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) told the Senate Tuesday night he will try to get a record vote there on medical and hospital insurance for the aged before this session ends.

★ ★ ★

Morse said he hopes that House sponsors of a bill to include health benefits under Social Security succeed. If they do not, Morse said, he will try to tack a similar program onto any House-passed bill in the Senate.

The Gulf of Mexico measures about 1,000 by 800 miles.

AF Won't Junk Bomarc Missile

Chief of Staff Rejects Suggestion Offered by Congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force has rejected suggestions by some congressmen that it abandon the Bomarc B air defense missile.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said in testimony published by the House defense appropriations subcommittee that he had the "utmost confidence" in the antiaircraft weapon.

The Air Force announced last week it was drastically curtailing the Bomarc B program. But White made it clear that the missile was not being dropped altogether.

He said Gen. Lawrence S. Kuter, chief of the North American Air Defense Command, opposed the planned cutback and could not provide a substitute defense if the Bismarc was abandoned. White also pointed out that Canada intended to go ahead with its Bomarc bases.

Some committee members questioned whether the missile would work. Rep. Jamie L. Whitten (D-Miss) said the Air Force might be trying to "bail out Boeing," the manufacturer.

White said the curtailment announced last week would save 381 million dollars in the fiscal year starting July 1. The money will be used to help pay for more Atlas and Minuteman intercontinental missiles.

White said another 250 million dollars could be saved by terminating the program, as suggested by Rep. Daniel J. Flood (D-Pa), a subcommittee member.

White was asked by subcommittee Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex) whether the remaining program was a "face-saving thing" that should be dropped.

Are Radio, TV Ratings Sound? Solons Will See

WASHINGTON (AP)—Are radio and TV ratings reliable? The House Legislative Oversight subcommittee plans to find out.

Its chairman, Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) announced plans Monday for a study. Three men appointed by the American Statistical Assn. will supervise the study.

India has more than 900,000 radio receiving sets and the number is growing. Air facilities in India are controlled and operated by the central government authority agencies.

Joy Didn't Last

GREENFIELD, Ind. (AP) — The Hancock County commissioners were only temporarily joyful when they learned newly installed screens kept pesky pigeons out of the courthouse tower. The birds simply moved across the street to the county jail.

'FIRST' CARDINALS — Formally installed as cardinals in the Roman Catholic Church today were Peter Cardinal Tatsuo Doi, 67, Archbishop of Tokyo, and Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa, 47, Bishop of Rutabo. Pope John XXIII elevated them, along with five others, to the high church position. Ending a four-day series of consistories, the two became the first Japanese and Negro, respectively, named to the College of Cardinals.

Cows, Shmows; I'll Milk My Maple Trees

WESTFORD, Vt. (AP) — Ten thousand Vermont farmers milk nearly 300,000 cows but farmer Gerard Caron is different. Caron milks maple trees.

Tired of waiting for warm spring temperatures to make the sap flow naturally, Caron hitched up two milking machines and over four miles of plastic hose to his 1,500 maple trees.

* * *

Thermostats control the pumps so they go into action when the temperature starts to get above freezing.

Hose has been tried by many farmers in recent years. However, it has one drawback. The cold nights that are ideal to snap the maple trees into sap production also caused the sap left in the hoses to freeze.

Caron found that by hitching up his milking machines he could force the sap through the hose lines, break up the frozen "plugs" and pull more sap from the trees.

Seat in Congress Urged for Guam, Virgin Isles

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Oren E. Long (D-Hawaii) introduced a bill Monday to give Guam and the Virgin Islands one nonvoting representative each in the House of Representatives. They would have the title of territorial deputy.

From White House Conference

Conflicting Comments Fly on Youth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Quotes from the White House conference on children and youth:

"Despite automation, more educated and trained workers will be needed in the future, and those undereducated will become an economic liability" — James E. Allen Jr., New York commissioner of education, Albany, N.Y.

"Recognition that delinquency is largely a problem in social values and ethics does not solve it" — Bertram M. Beck, National Assn. of Social Workers, New York City.

"A false philosophy of saving the best and shooting the rest has for a short time been in the ascendancy" — Finis G. Engleman, American Assn. of School Administrators, Washington.

"American society is striking in cold blood millions of children who suffer from social handicaps" — Robert R. MacRae, Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago.

". . .The limited ability of the American public to even comprehend the meaning and significance of present innovations is revealed by the letters to the editors of our metropolitan newspapers.

"Even attempts to introduce the fluoridation of water causes some people still trying to adapt the ideas of 1800 to life in 1960 to have sleepless nights" — Dr. Carroll V. Newsom, president of New York University.

"In the evolution of man's economic, physical, cultural, and ethical behavior few, if any, aspects of his development have been subjected to so many changes, taboos, and whimsies as have his fun and recreation" — Dr. E. W. Alton, Agriculture Department.

'Many Good Party Men' for 2nd Place

If Nixon Has Competition, President to Be Neutral

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he would revert immediately to his old self-imposed neutrality if another Republican challenged Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

The President said his recent endorsement of Nixon at a Gridiron dinner and subsequent news conference was based on the assumption that the vice president would be the sole serious contender for the Party's top honor.

His praise of Nixon, he said, merely was his way of showing his preference for Nixon over the numerous Democratic candidates in the presidential race.

* * *

If another Republican came along to challenge Nixon, he told his news conference, "I would have to observe my self-imposed limitation" of not taking sides in any contest between Republicans for a state or federal office.

* * *

The President also said Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York would be acceptable to him as the Party's vice-presidential nominee. But he said he could name "a score of Republicans of real stature" who also would be acceptable.

Some Republicans believe that former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, twice the GOP presidential nominee, has opened a drive to persuade Rockefeller to accept second place on the Nixon ticket. Rockefeller has taken himself out of the presidential race.

$28,500 Theft Victim, Marie McDonald Mopes

PITTBURGH (AP) — Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald did not show up for her two scheduled performances at a night club Wednesday night after she reported the theft of $28,500 worth of fur coats.

A report that she had received a threatening phone call was under investigation by detectives, but an official of the American Gulf of Variety Artists said she denied receiving such a call.

Bermuda residents are restricted to 15 miles an hour in towns when traveling in motor vehicles.

Berry Growers Get $10 Million

Had Sought Twice as Much From U.S. After Cranberry Scare Loss

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is going to pay about 10 million dolalrs to cranberry growers who were unable to sell uncontaminated berries after last fall's cancer scare.

Cranberry growers had asked 15 to 20 million dollars from the government for 1959 crop losses and possible losses in the 1960 crop. They claimed there was no need for such a scare.

Emergency government loans already had been offered to growers who suffered losses because they were unable to sell their berries.

In announcing the payments Wednesday, the White House said the comptroller general had ruled them legally appropriate under a 1935 law.

Rear Window Defrosters Due on '61 Cadillacs

DETROIT (UPI) — Motorists who want to keep their rear windows clear of ice may not have to rely on a slice of onion much longer.

Auto industry sources say Cadillac will become the first American car to make defrosters on the rear window standard equipment when the 1961 models come out.

Mrs. FDR Minimizes Wisconsin Primary

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt doesn't think winning the Wisconsin presidential primary next week will assure the Democratic nomination for either Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) or Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn).

"I shouldn't think it would be considered decisive," she told newsmen Wednesday night.

She said Adlai Stevenson and possibly Rep. Chester Bowles (D-Conn) are the only men who could break a deadlock at the Democratic National Convention. She said although Stevenson says he isn't a candidate for the nomination, "he might have to take

Macmillan Leaves After Senate Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew homeward today after his strategy talks with President Eisenhower and a brief but confident speech to the Senate.

Senators of both parties warmly applauded the 10-minute address Wednesday in which Macmillan said Britain and the United States would not be deceived into accepting any Soviet agreements which would endanger free world security.

But the British leader added that the Western powers must avoid an overly suspicious attitude which could destroy chances for easing tensions.

Leonard Sounds Out Chances for Senate

LANSING (AP)—A familiar Republican figure considering a run for the U.S. Senate nomination appeared in Lansing to sound out his chances of beating Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Owosso congressman.

Donald S. Leonard, a former state police commissioner who unsuccessfully sought the governor's nomination in 1954 and 1956, said the money he needed to make an effective campaign was still not in sight.

Leonard said he felt he needed $50,000. After spending most of yesterday conferring with friends, he said he would make a decision not later than April 15.

Writers Guild Reinstates Ousted Screen Scribe

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Writers Guild of America has reinstated screen writer Dalton Trunibo, who was blacklisted in 1947 after he refused to answer questions at a congressional hearing about his feelings on communism.

Guild President Curtis Kenyon said Trumbo had been on suspension for nonpayment of dues. He said the Guild has an anti-Communist clause, but only for those proved to be Communists or those who admit being party members.

February Road Toll Dropped Below 1959

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic accidents killed 2,370 persons in February, the first time in three months that the toll was lower than in the corresponding month a year ago, the National Safety Council said today.

If this improvement continued throughout 1960, the council said, 500 lives would be saved.

Last month's toll was 50 less than in February 1959 and was the lowest for any February since 1955 when 2,319 persons were killed. The council said severe weather last month probably held down traffic in many parts of the nation.

Congress to Act Soon

May Up Tax on Workers Under Social Security

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Chances are growing that Congress might levy higher payroll taxes this year on persons covered by the social security program who earn more than $4,800 a year.

This prospect stemmed from the fact that the House Ways and Means Committee was likely to recommend soon an election-year liberalization of social security benefits.

There is strong sentiment for holding the cost of the liberalization to a level that could be financed without an across-the-board boost in the social security tax rate. To do so, the committee would have to forego a general hike in monthly benefits.

However, the committee might wind up approving a package of various liberalizing features that would require some additional revenue.

If so, the committee was likely to decide to provide the extra money by raising from $4,800 to $6,000 the annual earnings base against which the 3 per cent tax is applied.

Should the tax be applied to the first $6,000 in earnings, it would mean a $36 a year tax increase for covered employes earning that much. Their employers would have to match the contribution. Self-employed persons earning $6,000 or more would be hit by a tax increase of $54.

Persons subject to the higher tax would qualify upon retirement for higher benefits than they are entitled to now. This is so because the benefits are geared by formula to contributions paid into the multi-billion-dollar social security trust fund.

The present 3 per cent tax rate for employes and employers is scheduled under existing law to jump to 3.5 per cent in 1963, 4 per cent in 1966 and 4.5 per cent in 1969.

The committee has tentatively decided to expand coverage of the program to an estimated 160,000 private doctors. They represent the last big self-employed group now excluded from the program.

Red Tape Tangle: Sales by Military Bring Net Loss

WASHINGTON (UPI)— House investigators have criticized the red tape involved in military surplus disposal. They said it costs $7 on the average to dispose of a surplus item for $5.

The criticism was contained in a report on military buying, supply and surplus policies prepared by the staff of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

The report said present procedures for getting rid of unneeded property of low value involved too much red tape. It sometimes takes 45 different actions and the completion of 13 forms to process an item for disposal, the subcommittee said.

The investigators claimed on the average a piece of property which originally cost the government $100 brings $5 while the cost of processing it for surplus runs about $7.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Retired Air Force Gen. James H. Doolittle says the United States must not ignore other fields of warfare while developing space weapons.

"It is a distinct possibility that Russia is hoping we will devote our full military attention to space," he told an audience at UCLA Wednesday night.

Doolittle, who led the first air raid on Tokyo in 1942, said part of the Soviet Union's willingness to abandon nuclear weapons is explained "by her development and possession of chemical and biological weapons of a highly lethal and selective nature."

SEGREGATION DEMONSTRATORS — Some of the 5,000 student demonstrators are shown as they marched down the main street in Baton Rouge Wednesday. Earlier, a Southern University group of 3,000 had converged on the capitol mall. They sang and prayed and left in about an hour. There was no violence, no arrests. They were all well dressed and the song they used was the national anthem.

Thousands Also March on Baton Rouge

Water Down Spirits of Texas Negroes

By The Associated Press

Powerful streams of water from fire hoses churned into a group of several hundred young Texas Negroes.

A thousand others chanting the Lord's Prayer paraded through the streets to Louisiana's 34-story state capitol at Baton Rouge for a protest assembly.

Those were major developments Wednesday in the unfolding campaign of the South's Negro youth to obtain service at lunch counters traditionally reserved for white patrons.

* * *

The fire hoses went into play at Marshall, a town of 30,000 in the East Texas oil and farming region, to break up an assemblage at the courthouse square protesting lunch counter incidents which had brought arrests.

The incidents started as Negroes tried for the third time in a week to patronize lunch counters. Police made 55 arrests for unlawful assembly, then took into custody 200 more who gathered at the courthouse singing the "Star-Spangled Banner," "God Bless America" and similar songs.

* *

The crowd re-formed faster than it could be thinned by arrests, at one time pressing forward to the courthouse steps only to be warned by the district attorney. When officers started freeing those who had been taken into custody and they joined the crowd outside, firemen turned loose the hoses. Order was restored.

Shortly after the 1,000 students of Southern University, Negro state college and supporters staged their rally on the capitol grounds at Baton Rouge, the university announced the ousting of 18 from its rolls.

* * *

Dr. Martin L. Harvey, university dean, said the disciplinary action was taken for "violating university regulations, relating to insubordination, and conduct unbecoming to Southern University students."

* * *

The march on the capitol by the crowd singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was to protest segregation practices which had resulted Monday in the jailing of several Negro students after Louisiana's first sitdown at a white lunch counter.

Before the news, rumors that a state of emergency was to be declared had already caused a decline. Confirmation brought a further fall.

* * *

Senator Uses Free Stationery to Assail Con-Con

LANSING (UP) — The so-called League-Jaycee proposal for a constitutional convention was assailed today by Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), in a mailing to 3,500 constituents.

* * *

"This could provide an effective delegation of the convention by these same three counties and a potential blackout of concern and a gag of voice for Michigan's remaining 80 counties," the senator said.

* * *

Smeekens last week received delivery on 10,000 envelopes and 10,000 letterheads imprinted with his name. He said then that 3,500 sets would be used for normal district correspondence before May 15.

Castro Shocks U.S. Over Pact

Assertion Cuba Is Not Bound by '47 Rio Treaty Causes Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States expressed "amazement and concern" today over Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's assertion that his government is not bound by the 1947 Rio hemispheric defense pact.

* * *

The State Department indicated it would make inquiries through the Organization of American States (OAS) and in Havana to learn whether the Cuban government intends officially to renounce the treaty.

Castro said on a television program Monday that Cuba is not bound by the Rio treaty because his government did not sign it. Aside from the television statement, Cuba has taken no formal steps to back out of the pact.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told reporters Castro's speech was "contrary" to his assurances when he came to power in 1959 that Cuba would honor its previous international agreements. Castro repeated this promise when he visited the United States last April.

White said "It would be difficult to overstate the amazement and concern" of the United States at Castro's Monday statement.

To Avoid New Dam Waters

Town Plans Moving Day

MANNFORD, Okla. (NEA) — With the help of Uncle Sam, citizens of this prairie community are about to abandon their 54-year-old town site and build a new one.

By 1962, Mannford's 600 men, women and children will have moved two miles east of the present town site. Total cost of the relocation is estimated a $3.5 million. This is almost $6,000 per person.

When the people have moved, they will work in modern buildings, shop in supermarkets and attend classes in a new school. Many will be enjoying the comforts of modern homes equipped with the latest appliances.

Others, who prefer to continue living in their old homes, will have them moved intact. These houses will be given fresh coats of paint and reconditioned.

* * *

Reason for this community migration is the construction of the new Keystone dam on the Cimarron River, flooding the Mannford area. It is scheduled for completion in 1963.

* * *

Uncle Sam will provide funds to the town on a matching basis, Federal aid in the form of long term, low-down-payment mortgage insurance will be provided to help citizens build new homes.

Mannford is receiving this special government assistance because of a unique feature of the new town site's blueprint.

The future community is being planned to prevent slums and blight. This makes it eligible for financial aid under the Housing and Home Finance Agency's Urban Renewal Program.

In the community blueprint, tracts have been reserved for the expansion of residential areas. Other plots have been earmarked as sites for new businesses.

Home owners will be paid by Uncle Sam for the loss of their property. The government's special mortgage insurance will be available for those persons who need additional funds to relocate their homes.

Federal compensation will also be made for the city owned facilities like streets, municipal buildings and public utilities. This is expected to total $600,000. Additional funds needed to replace these items will come from profits derived from the town's gas and water systems.

* * *

Mannford citizens started planning the relocation project two years ago. The local Lion's Club commissioned the Institute of Community Development of the University of Oklahoma to prepare a preliminary relocation plan.

Then a group of Mannford's leading citizens formed a private corporation to purchase the needed property. State law prohibits a municipality from buying land.

Later the corporation commissioned the Institute of Community Development to map the complete relocation blueprint and started raising funds for the move.

The corporation plans to sell lots to homeowners at cost. Whatever land is left after all citizens have purchased home sites will be sold at a profit.

DOUG VOWLES AND PHONE: Time to cheer others, too.

All Doug Vowles Has Is Voice and Courage

SALT LAKE CITY (NEA) — Half a million people saw Yellowstone Park this summer, but it is safe to say that none of them enjoyed it as much as Douglas Vowles of Salt Lake City. Or saw it under more unusual circumstances.

Vowles has been paralyzed from the neck down for the past 14 years and he saw the wonders of Yellowstone and Glacier Parks reclining in a lawn type of chaise lounge anchored to the floor of his brother-in-law's station wagon.

This same indomitable courage that took Doug Vowles on a strenuous eight - day vacation trip has characterized his entire life.

Even though he can move only his head he has managed each month for the past six years to make a significant financial contribution to the support of his family.

He sells insurance year-round, books and candy at Christmas and has recently started handling a cosmetics line which his teenage daughter demonstrates and delivers after he had made the initial contact. He averages about $150 earnings each month.

Vowles was one of the first to acquire use of a telephone operated by using the lips and chin. A direct line connects him to an operator at the Mountain States Telephone Co. and she dials any number he requests. Then this remarkable man goes to work for two or three hours each day, while he lies flat on his back, unable to use anything except his resonant voice.

Vowles was a civilian engineer in 1945 when a cyst developed in his spine, near the neck. The spinal cord was damaged so badly that the nerves died completely.

He spent eight miserable years, depending on others for everything. He and his wife, LaPreal, and their four children, aged 2 to 11, lived on his small civil service pension, plus some help from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormon), and what his boys could make on paper routes and his girls on baby-sitting. In 1950 Mrs. Vowles went to work as a taxi driver and then in the offices of the LDS church.

Three years later his telephone was installed and Vowles' second career began. Since he could take no notes, he added a tape recorder to record orders, prospects and other information. Then he acquired a second-hand electric typewriter, which he operates by striking the keys with a plastic rod held between his teeth.

A new dimension came into his life recently when he began to use the Talking Books for the Blind. Television is a good companion, too.

Vowles has not forgotten the help given him by his church and does his part in repaying them.

The LDS Church has a unique system of Ward Teachers, pairs of men who visit each family in the district each month. Since he has had his telephone, Vowles has acted as supervisor for about 15 of these teams, seeing that the visiting is done and making reports to the Ward Bishop — a position similar to that of minister.

Road to Faith

We Destroy If We Hate

By WILL OURSLER
Chapter Twenty-Six

As we hate so we destroy.

As we hate our brother, so we hate ourselves, so we hate God.

How can we hate, and believe in Him?

He has climbed out here to kill himself, and now police and clergymen and some of the bystanders gathered around below are trying to "talk him back from the brink of his self-decreed execution."

On this ledge between life and death, he is induced to talk about his disturbing problems with the clergymen. They do not seem to be very unusual or insolvable—except to him.

One of the clergymen is a priest who brings out a Bible and reads from the Book of St. Matthew, phrases about forgiveness:

"Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? Till seven times?

"Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven."

The man on the ledge of eternity listens. But as police and others creep close to him he angrily tells them to get back or he will jump.

The priest finally climbs out on the girder itself to talk with the man.

It is Sunday afternoon. Thousands of cars that have approached the bridge from two directions are stopped by this drama. A bridge official pushes through the crowd to see if the police won't get their equipment out of the way.

* * *

"We are trying to save a human being," the policeman answers.

The equipment remains, and the traffic jam grows worse.

This human being was brought to the verge of self destruction by self-hate, by his feeling that the world hated him and rejected him and wanted to destroy him; by his need to learn how to give—and receive—love.

CALL HIM A SHOWOFF

We can call him and his action psychopathic, if we wish. We can say he was a show-off and a fraud who never intended to jump, but only wanted publicity.

We may feel no patience with him, or those like him; we can call them weaklings and misfits and tell them if they want to jump, go ahead. We can say callously that such a man would be no loss to the world.

But how wrong such an attitude. Of course, he was sick. He was sick with the virus of rejection, of indifference, of dismissal—all varieties of the bleak emotion of hate.

A priest and a policeman and other strangers administered the first aid of caring for him; they applied a tourniquet of interest in him as a human being; as a creature with a soul.

Did others understand? His wife, his in-laws, his parents, his own physician?

One cannot say for sure. Perhaps wise counselors talked it over with his wife and the others around this man, and explained how hate manifests itself in a dozen different ways, often without the hater himself being aware, and how we have to fight against hate within ourselves, to aid other human beings, particularly those close to us, who need our love most.

30,000-Year-Old Log Found on Sea Floor

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Scripps Institution of Oceanography says a partly petrified log, dredged from a quarter-mile depth in the gulf of Tehuantepec, Mexico, was the first find of phosphate fossil wood from the sea floor.

Normally, it explained, petrified wood is mineralazed with silicon dioxide, commonly called opal. The piece from the gulf was mineralized with calicum phosphate, called apatite, from dead and decaying sea life. Scripps said the log was at least 30,000 years old.

Bake Egg Nests for Breakfast

Ever think about how often you use eggs, or the many tasks they do for you? If you do, you'll agree that eggs are probably the most important single ingredient to be found in your kitchen.

Whether you're planning a simple snack, or a fancy gourmet-styled special dinner, the mighty egg is called upon many times to play its versatile roles. Sometimes it is difficult to find the egg in a recipe . . . other times it radiantly beams forth as an obvious portion of the dish.

One of the dishes in which the egg is really conspicuous is called Egg Nests, made from stiffly beaten egg whites formed into nests with the pesky golden yolks and a scattering of bacon crumbles for crutons. They're easy to prepare and fun to serve for breakfast and a brunch entree, and here's how to prepare them:

Separate the whites of room-temperature eggs, allowing one egg per "nest." Beat the whites until stiff, season with salt and pepper and fashion the nests on a greased baking sheet. Drop the whites from a teaspoon into separate little piles, and then indent the center of each nest.

Slip a yolk into each nest and generously cover with crispy bacon crumbles. Bake in a moderate oven until the yolks are set, then serve immediately with buttered toast.

Seafood Combination Served in Shells

2 packages (each 12½ ounces) frozen lobster newburg
1 can (6½ ounces) king crabmeat
4 tablespoons finely grated Parmesan cheese
Paprika

Crab-Lobster Newburg Cheddine

Turn lobster newburg into top of double boiler; thaw over simmering water, stirring gently occasionally. Drain crabmeat; remove cartilage but leave large pieces of crab intact. Gently mix crab with lobster newburg; some of crab will be in shreds.

Spoon into scallop shells; cover and refrigerate. At serving time sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika; place in moderate (350 degrees even) until extremely hot—about 20 minutes.

Cabbage Rolls Take Little Time, Effort

Cooking cabbage is so easy, and you can make it the basis of some interesting main dishes and salads, as well as the traditional corned beef dish. Take cabbage rolls, for example. All you need do is to wash some fresh green cabbage leaves and wilt them in hot, slightly salted water until they are limp enough to roll.

* * *

For a stuffing make your favorite meat mixture which you use in stuffed peppers. Put some of this mixture on each cabbage leaf and roll it up. Then place the rolls in a baking dish, add hot gravy or very little hot water. Cover the dish and bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for about ¾ hour or until the cabbage is tender.

The stuffing, if you wish, can be made by mixing chopped or ground meat with bread crumbs, cooked rice, or mashed potatoes. Add melted fat, an onion chopped fine, and moisten with gravy, milk, chili sauce or catsup. Salt and pepper to taste.

EASTER EGG BUNS — These Easter egg buns were adapted from the many European Easter breads made with a whole egg, shell and all, nestled within the rich yeast dough.

Old World Easter Bread Includes Colored Eggs

If you want to thrill the children on Easter morning and delight husbands and guests as well, greet them at breakfast with these Easter buns baked around an egg. The egg is dyed pale yellow with Easter egg dye but not cooked before the baking. While the bun bakes the egg cooks.

For eating, lift out the egg and shell it as you would any hard cooked egg. Present the bun, all snug and warm in a petal napkin fold. Decorate the top with Easter egg dress-ups that come in the package of pure certified food color.

Easter Egg Buns

1 cup milk
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup corn oil
1 package active dry yeast or 1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup warm (not hot) water
2 eggs, well beaten
4½ cups flour
6 uncooked eggs in shell
Pure certified food color

Scald milk; remove from heat. Add sugar, salt and corn oil. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast over warm water in a large mixing bowl; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and eggs. Add 3 cups flour and beat until smooth. Gradually add remaining flour, or enough to make soft dough.

Turn dough out on lightly floured board. Knead well (about 20 minutes), or until dough is smooth. Place in bowl which has been lightly oiled with corn oil. Brush top of dough lightly with corn oil to prevent crusting. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until double in bulk, about 1½ hours. Punch dough down and turn out on lightly floured board. Divide in half.

Form ½ dough into a round, place on greased cooky sheet. Cover and let rise, until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Form other half of dough into 6 small rounds. Place rounds on greased cooky sheet. Let dough rest 15 minutes. Meanwhile, follow package directions on the Easter egg dye and color eggs.

Cut dough half way through in center top, place a colored egg in each cut. Cover and let rise until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 45 minutes for the large bread, about 25 minutes for the small buns. Makes 1 round loaf and 6 Easter egg buns.

TO MAKE GLAZES OR FINISHES TRY:

1. Sprinkling with sugar before second rising.
2. Combine 1 egg white and 1 tablespoon sugar and use as a wash just before placing in oven.
3. Mix 2 tablespoons milk with 1 egg yolk and use to brush over shapes just before baking.
4. Bake plain and then cover immediately with a glaze made this way. Combine ½ cup dark corn syrup, 2 tablespoons margarine or butter and ½ cup sugar in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Pour over freshly baked hot bread before removing from baking sheets.
5. Cover with a confectioners sugar frosting made with ¾ cup sifted confectioner's sugar and 1 tablespoon top milk or water. Decorate with lightly toasted almonds, if desired.

To make the petal napkin fold: Select napkins about 12 inches square. Wash them and while they are still wet, starch them in a light solution of instant cold water starch (¼ cup instant cold water starch dissolved in 2 quarts water). Roll in a towel, unroll and iron smooth.

Place napkin on a flat surface, bring the four corners in to meet at a center point. Repeat step with the new formed square. Turn folded napkin over, bring four points to center again. Turn back to original side. Pull out topmost points to form petals. Place roll in center.

Brown Bread Better With Nuts, Orange

Nut Brown Bread

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
¾ cup undiluted evaporated milk
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
¾ cup orange juice
½ cup dark molasses
1 cup coarsely broken walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and brown sugar. (If sugar is lumpy, push through strainer or roll to make smooth before sifting.)

Stir together the undiluted evaporated milk, orange rind, orange juice and molasses in a large mixing bowl. Add the sifted dry ingredients; stir just enough to blend. Fold in walnuts. Turn into well greased loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches).

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 1 hour. Loosen loaf from sides of pan with spatula or knife; turn out on rack to cool. Store in tightly covered container.

Cranberry Dressing an Idea for Fish

Fish and seafood salads are especially inviting when prepared with just enough cranberry mayonnaise to hold the ingredients together.

To prepare: whip together 2 parts canned jellied cranberry sauce and 1 part mayonnaise, season to taste with grated lemon rind and fresh lemon juice. Keep chilled until serving time, and then stir into the awaiting chilled, fish and seafood salad makings.

For a truly memorable shrimp salad, measure out 3 parts cooked, halved shrimp, and 1 part each cooked, chilled rice and chopped celery . . . unite this trio in the cranberry mayonnaise, and serve on a crispy lettuce cup.

If the lights in your house sometimes grow dim or blink, the chances are your wiring is inadequate.

Medley of Soups Blended Together

Mostly Corn Soup

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed turkey noodle soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed consommé
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 can (12 ounces) whole kernel corn, drained
Water
Dried crushed basil
Salt
Pepper

Put the turkey noodle, undiluted consomme and undiluted tomato soup in a medium-sized kettle. Drain corn, saving liquid; add enough water to the corn liquid to make 1 cup; add drained corn and water mixture to soups.

Heat slowly, stirring occasionally. Just before serving add basil, salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Stuffed Apple Salad

Rosy Cinnamon Apples taste extra good when stuffed with pineapple tidbits, dates, creamed cheese and nuts. To stuff 6 cinnamon apples, blend one 3-oz. package of cream cheese with 2 tablespoons milk and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Add one 9-oz. can of pineapple tidbits (drained); one-third cup each of chopped dates and walnuts. Serve on crisp watercress or endive with favorite dressing.

Poultry Given Spotlight as Late Lenten Bargain

Poultry prices continue to be among the better values again this week. With improved weather conditions production is beginning to increase.

POULTRY:

Demand for fryers has been extremely good so wholesale prices have changed very little since last week, though production picked up slightly. Again fryers are being featured in many markets at low prices. The small 4-9 pound turkeys, roasting chickens and small stewing chickens are also good buys in some stores. The small turkeys may be found cut-up in fray packs for the first time.

PORK:

For the first time this year the hog market didn't end the week with some price gains. This was due to a 10 per cent rise in hog arrivals but it is thought to be only temporary for seasonal decreases are expected. Center cut chops, bacon and luncheon meats are the best values in most stores.

However, some of the pre-Easter ham sales are beginning to make their appearance in many markets — whole hams, butt and shank portions and all slices of canned hams. Demand will cause increase in ham prices by Easter. Many markets are offering good values in such budget cuts as pork liver, neck bones, pig hocks and pigs feet.

BEEF:

By comparing prices you will be able to find low prices on chuck and rib roasts, ground beef and stewing beef. Remember that ground beef and stewing beef are always economical because they contain little waste and have a low cost per serving.

LAMB AND VEAL:

By last Wednesday lamb prices were at the highest levels in seven months but prices then began to drop for the first time in five weeks. Veal continues to be scarce and high in price though some markets are featuring calves liver at low prices.

FISH:

Little fresh lake fish is available due to the weather conditions which prevent boats from getting out. Fresh ocean fish, frozen cod, and halibut steaks, shrimp, lobster tails and fish sticks are the better buys.

EGGS:

Although stepped-up movement of eggs from the country, because of moderating weather conditions, have been responsible for fractional declines in the wholesale prices, retails are generally unchanged due to heavy Lenten demand. There is now only 1-3 cents difference per dozen in the price of large and medium sizes, making the large eggs much the better value.

FRUITS:

Avocados and bananas still lead the parade of plentiful, low-cost fruits. Heavy shipments continue to make them unseasonally good buys. Supplies of Texas grapefruit combined with light supplies from Florida are tending to hold steady low prices.

VEGETABLES:

Carrots and broccoli continue to arrive in heavy volume and prices are low. More favorable weather has resulted in better quality lettuce. California weather has also been ideal for the growth of asparagus and harvesting has begun in volume. Quality is running better than average and prices are attractive — about the same as a year ago.

The tomato picture is somewhat brighter, for along with the winter supplies from Florida, the Mexican volume continues to increase and the quality is the best of the season. On the other hand, potato prices are on the upgrade. With Michigan stocks about depleted and the expectations of the loss of a quarter of the spring Florida crop, Maine and Idaho prices are higher.

Springtime Pie Light as a Cloud

Here's a recipe for a brand new Lemon Mallow Pie . . . and just in time for spring! The fresh tangy flavor of the lemons combines with marshmallows and whipping cream for a delectable taste treat. And it's all so easy, too!

Just make the pie crust the easy way, with pie crust mix. Even the most inexperienced homemaker can turn out a crust that is a baker's dream with pie crust mix. Flute the edges and bake the shell. Now, you're ready for the filling.

This filling combines lemon juice, marshmallows, lemon rind and water. Heat a bit . . . then chill . . . then add whipped cream. Pile into the baked shell and chill until set. Garnish with more whipped cream and lemon rind . . . and you have it . . . creamy-smooth Lemon Mallow Pie!

Try it once and you'll make it often . . . bridge clubs, families and elegant guests will all approve!

Lemon Mallow Pie

24 large marshmallows
⅓ cup fresh lemon juice
⅓ cup water
Grated rind of 1 lemon
2 to 6 drops yellow food coloring, if desired
1¼ cups whipping cream, stiffly whipped

Make 9" baked pie shell as directed on pie crust mix package. In saucepan, heat marshmallows, lemon juice, water and lemon rind, stirring constantly just until marshmallows are melted. Add food coloring. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Fold in whipped cream.

Pile into baked pie shell. Chill until set, 2 to 3 hours. Serve cold. Garnish with whipped cream and sprinkle with lemon rind, if desired.

Bake Apple Foldovers for After-School Snack

Hot-from-the-oven Apple Foldovers accompanied by glasses of frothy milk — can you imagine what a welcome the youngsters will give this after-school snack! Allow about 3 hours from start to finish for making the tender fruit-filled sweet pastries, and plan to make them some windy spring day when it's so good to be in the house and baking.

Apple Foldovers

½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
½ cup warm, not hot, water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg and 1 egg white, beaten
2¾ cups sifted enriched flour (about)
Apple filling, below
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons water

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Measure water into large bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed); sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg and egg white, and half of the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour.

Turn dough out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board; shape into 12-inch long roll. Cut into 1-inch pieces. Roll out pieces into ovals about 5x2½ inches, ¼-inch thick. Place a tablespoonful of filling on one half of each; fold other half over; pinch edges together.

Brush with combined egg yolk and water. Bake at 350 degrees about 15 minutes. Makes 12.

Apple Filling

Pare, core and coarsely grate 2 to 3 large apples, or enough to make 1 cupful grated. Combine with one-third cup chopped dates, grated rind of 1 lemon, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ cup chopped pecans, ½ cup dark brown sugar and a dash of salt. Cook over low heat, stirring, until blended and thickened, about 2 to 3 minutes. Cool. Use as filling for Foldovers.

Fruited Pancakes

Tropical pancakes will make a morning meal more appealing. To make this delicious breakfast treat, use 4 cups of batter prepared from a favorite mix, add ½ cup of pineapple tidbits, drained, and 1½ teaspoons of grated orange peel, and ¼ teaspoon grenadine syrup. For a tropical touch, serve with coconut syrup.

Add Dill to Noodles for Creamed Tuna

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dilled tuna noodle nest is a high protein dish for meatless meals.

Cook 8 ounces of fine egg noodles according to package directions. Drain and mix with ½ cup of chopped fresh dill. Cover bottom and sides of a buttered 2-quart casserole with this mixture. Fill center with one 6½-ounce can of tuna, drained, and mixed with 3-minute cheese sauce.

The sauce is made by simmering one large can (1 3-3 cups) of undiluted evaporated milk with ½ teaspoon of salt in a saucepan over low heat about two minutes, or to just below boiling.

Add 2 cups (about 8 ounces) of grated process-type American cheese, and stir over low heat about 1 minute longer or until cheese melts. Bake nest 30 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Serves 4 to 6.

Dressing Crumbs Top Chili-Corn

This hamburger casserole featuring prepared all-purpose herb seasoning looks and tastes far more delicious than the average pop-in-the-oven dish. The golden-brown topping formed by the stuffing can be used to glamorize other dishes too.

Hamburger Casserole

1 pound ground meat
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon chili powder
1½ cups canned corn, drained
2 cups tomatoes, cut up
1¼ cups prepared herb-seasoned stuffing
¾ cup water
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Brown meat and onion in butter or margarine about 5 minutes, stirring with fork to break meat up. Then, in 2 quart casserole, combine meat and onion with salt, chili powder, corn and tomatoes. Blend stuffing with water and melted butter or margarine, and sprinkle over top of casserole.

Bake at 350 degrees F. 30 to 35 minutes or until topping is browned. Garnish with parsley, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Serve Sauce Over Fresh Warm Cake

When was the last time you ate cake fresh from the oven? Or better still with custard sauce? Plan it for supper tonight. For the cake, use a mix; for the custard sauce, here's the recipe:

Custard Sauce

¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon corn starch
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix sugar, corn starch and salt in top of double boiler. Add egg yolks and mix well. Gradually stir in milk. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is slightly thickened (about 5 minutes). Do not overcook.

Remove from heat. Cool; add vanilla. Chill before serving. Makes 2 cups sauce.

Make Girl Scout Cookie Desserts

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

How many boxes of Girl Scout cookies have you brought? No, we're not plugging for more sales (though we like to have the girls in green earn a big sum for their camp). We just thought you might like to hear about some ways you can use those extra cookies in recipes.

We've had numerous helpers in this project. First of all, the girls of Mariner Ship 590, Mackinac, came up with some original recipes of their own. They had a delightful tea party at which they served their goodies.

Then we got several boxes of each kind of cookie before the sale started and did some experimenting on our own. Our testing panel included the editorial staff of the Pontiac Press, our long suffering family and some good friends.

Not all the recipes we tried were successful. We'll talk about the ones that were.

Mrs Cyril Davis, Skipper of the Mariner troop, came up with the following recipe:

BROWNIE'S SURPRISE

½ cup figs or raisins
½ cup dates
½ cup walnuts or 3 tablespoons peanut butter
½ cup Girl Scout Sandwich Cookies

Grind fruits, nuts and cookies. Mix thoroughly. Roll into small balls the size of marbles. Hide miniature marshmallows or nuts inside. Roll in Mint Cookie crumbs or confectioners sugar. Makes 4 dozen.

* * *

FROZEN LEMON DELIGHT

3 egg yolks
¼ cup lemon juice
Grated rind of one lemon
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
1 cup whipping cream, stiffly beaten
¾ cup crushed Girl Scout vanilla cookies

Combine egg yolks, lemon juice and rind, salt and sugar. Cook over low heat or in double boiler until thick. Cool. Fold in egg whites and whipped cream.

Sprinkle half the cookie crumbs in bottom of refrigerator dessert tray. Add lemon mixture. Top with remaining crumbs. Freeze fast. Serves 6.

APPLESAUCE PUDDING

1 can applesauce (2 cups)
24 Girl Scout vanilla cookies
¼ pound butter, melted
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 egg whites

Roll cookies into crumbs. Add melted butter, sugar and cinnamon. Place half of this mixture in bottom of 8x8x2 pan. Press down. Spread with applesauce, then rest of crumbs.

Beat egg whites stiff, add 2 tablespoons sugar and spread over crumbs. Add chopped nuts, if desired. Bake one hour in 300-degree oven. Serves 6.

For this last recipe you may use either the chocolate sandwich cookies or the mint cookies. Nearly everyone liked the combination of chocolate and lime.

CHOCOLATE LIME PIE

16 Girl Scout chocolate sandwich cookies or 24 mint cookies
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 package lime gelatine
2 cups pineapple lime drink
⅓ cup nonfat dry milk
¼ cup cold water
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Roll cookies into crumbs and mix with butter or margarine. Press into bottom of 9-inch pie tin. Put in refrigerator to chill while you make the filling.

Heat one cup of the pineapple lime drink to boiling. Dissolve lime gelatine in it. Add second cup of pineapple lime drink. Chill until syrupy.

Put water in small mixer bowl. Add dry milk. Beat until soft peaks form. Add lemon juice. Beat syrupy gelatine until light and fluffy. Fold in whipped milk mixture. Pour into cookie crust. Chill until set. Serves 6-8.

Kiddie Kabobs

You can delight children by serving a Shish Kabob dessert. Combine pineapple tidbits, marshmallows and mandarin orange slices on a skewer. Top with a maraschino cherry.

Grate maple sugar and sprinkle over buttered toast; put in the oven until the sugar melts. Serve at once!

Waffle Sundaes Make Interesting Refreshments

They're as pretty as a picture and even better to eat! These Raspberry Waffle Sundaes are a dazzling sweet treat to serve guests after an evening of bridge or just plain chatting. They're a little bit different — something you'll be really proud to serve.

The waffles are the fun kind to mix—just shake them up in a shaker or glass jar. There's very little measuring to do, too, for this recipe calls for your favorite pancake mix! After shaking up the batter, simply pour it onto a hot waffle baker and bake the waffles to a golden brown.

Prepare the raspberry sauce for the sundaes before your guests arrive. That way all you have to do is bake the waffles and then top them while still hot with a scoop of ice cream, a generous dipping of raspberry sauce and a plentiful puff of whipped cream.

You and your guests will be more than satisfied with the wonderful flavor of these Raspberry Waffle Sundaes. Serve them with cups of pungent coffee or your favorite tea. This is a dessert idea you'll find yourself using over and over again for many occasions.

Raspberry Waffle Sundaes

1 1-pound package frozen raspberries, thawed
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup sugar

* * *

1 cup milk
2 eggs
2 tablespoons liquid or melted shortening
1 cup pancake mix

* * *

Vanilla ice cream

* * *

Sweetened whipped cream

For sauce, drain raspberries; place juice in saucepan. Add cornstarch and sugar. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Continue cooking a few minutes, stirring frequently. Add raspberries to thickened juice. Remove from heat.

For waffles, place milk, egg and shortening in a shaker or glass jar. (If melted shortening is used, add after pancake mix.) Add pancake mix; shake vigorously 10 to 15 times or until batter is fairly smooth. Bake in hot waffle baker until steaming stops.

To serve, place a scoop of ice cream on each waffle section; top with raspberry sauce; garnish with whipped cream.

Sauce Will Keep Pork Chops Moist

Pork Chops With Tomato-Olive Sauce

4 rib pork chops (¾-inch thick)
1 tablespoon flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
½ cup water
½ cup finely diced celery
½ cup (24 small) sliced pimiento-stuffed green olives
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cut excess fat from chops. Mix flour and ½ teaspoon salt; rub into flat surfaces of chops. Heat butter in 10-inch skillet; add chops and brown lightly on both sides.

Mix tomato sauce, water, celery, olives, ¾ teaspoon salt and pepper; add to skillet. Cover and simmer until chops are cooked (white) through—about 1 hour. Skim off fat. Makes 4 servings.

Make Bunny Salad of Cranberry Jelly

To prepare; cut canned jellied cranberry sauce into ½ inch thick slices. Place one slice on a bed of shredded lettuce, and fashion a pair of bunny ears (petal shape is the easiest) from a second slice of the sauce. Place the ears to the top of the rounded slice.

Now fashion the face from cream cheese in a fluted pastry tube . . . round dots for the eyes and nose, with a fancy curved line for the mouth (the mouth should look like an elongated "w"). A streak of cheese down each ear and some coconut for the whiskers, a pair of plumped raisins pressed into the eyes, and a sprig of parsley or mint or a carrot curl for a tie completes the salad. These are easy to do and a big hit as the special attraction for that special Easter dinner menu you are planning.

Fruited Cream Tops Ice Cream Cakewich

Are you planning a special luncheon? You'll win compliments with this Angel Ice Cream Cakewich. Slice an angel-food loaf cake lengthwise. Place a layer of vanilla ice cream one-inch thick between cake slices, sandwich fashion.

Make topping of one pint heavy cream, whipped, 1 cup DRAINED crushed pineapple (9-oz. can), 1 cup miniature marshmallows, ¼ cup chopped nuts and 1 package frozen strawberries, well drained. Keep in freezer until ready to serve. (The loaf will slice easily as soon as it is taken from freezer.)

Hamburger Danish Style Sets Pace for Dinner

Guests for dinner? An almost bare, unpoetic pantry shelf? The panic button all ready to be pushed? Well, don't! There's a way out of everything and this way leads to the nearest supermarket. What can come out of a simple visit to the meat and vegetable counters—not to mention a side trip here and there in the store plus a little creative effort can make you the hostess with nothing left out.

Ours is a hamburger-happy civilization so it is always a treat for the head-of-the-kitchen-range to find out how she can serve up everybody's favorite meat patty, ground beef, in a party dress. The Danes have a word for it — several in fact, they call it "Hakkebof med grontsager" — but you'll get off by calling it "Hamlet Hamburger."

HAMLET HAMBURGER
(Chopped Beefsteak with Vegetables)

2 pounds ground beef, not too lean
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
4 eggs
Butter
¼ cup cold water
2 large onions, sliced
1 box frozen string beans
1 box frozen carrots

Blend beef, pepper, salt, eggs and water well. Shape into patties (8). Broil or sauté in butter until brown. Three minutes on each side for medium well done, longer for well done. Serve with brown sauce over patties.

Top each patty with sliced onion, cut thin, sautéed in butter until soft and golden. Serve with cooked carrots, sliced in 2-inch lengths at angle and crisp string beans, salted and peppered well.

Vegetables might be served on same platter or from separate dish with divider to hold both vegetables. Platterful serves 8, and adds up to the "sauciest" hamburger since 'burgers began.

HAMLET SAUCE
(or Flode Sovs)

2 level tablespoons beef drippings (or butter or vegetable fat)
2 level tablespoons flour
2 thin beef consomme (either strong beef consomme, consomme made with bouillon cubes or boiled-down consomme)
Salt
2 teaspoons currant jelly
2 tablespoons heavy cream
Salt, pepper, paprika to taste

Melt fat in skillet. Add flour and seasoning, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Add hot liquid gradually, stirring until mixture comes to boil, reduce heat. Simmer gently for 5 minutes. Add currant jelly, stir well. Add heavy cream. Let come to boil. Strain sauce through fine wire sieve or cheesecloth. Serve over meat.

DANISH BLUE CHEESE LOAF

2 thirty-ounce packages cream cheese
2 tablespoons sherry or more
1 four-ounce can buttered roasted and sliced almonds
½ teaspoon ground white pepper

Blend cheeses together, add 2 tablespoons almonds, add sherry and pepper. Mix. Turn into oiled miniature loaf pan (4½" x 2½"). Refrigerate or freeze, wrap in Saran, or metal foil. An hour or two before serving, unwrap, turn out of pan, cover sides and top with remaining diced almonds.

Serve as thin slices or scoop out with spoon. Good with crisp crackers, pumpernickel or rye bread. Prepare 3 or 4 days in advance if you wish.

KRAMMERHUSE
(Cornucopias with Strawberry Jam and cream)

½ pound sweet butter
½ pound granulated sugar
½ pound flour
3 whole eggs
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 jar strawberry preserves
1 jar unsweetened preserves

Cream butter, sugar, flour together. Add eggs, beat well, add vanilla. Grease a shallow baking sheet lightly. Drop 1 tablespoon batter at a time on sheet. Spread to oval shape, pat thin. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees). Bake until edges begin to turn light brown, lift gently with spatula. With a flip of wrist turn cookie into cone shape (one flip is enough). Bake a minute more.

* * *

Cool, fill with a spoonful of strawberry preserves, cover opening of cone with unsweetened whipped cream. Make in advance, wrap each cone individually. Cover and fill shortly before serving.

Combine Hash, Pineapple in Quick Casserole

You'll find the addition of pineapple chunks or tidbits a complement to the corned beef hash in this recipe: Empty 2 cans of corned beef hash into well-buttered 1½ quart casserole. Break up pieces, using fork.

Lightly stir in 1 cup of drained pineapple chunks (or tidbits). Pat surface lightly to make it even and garnish with a few additional pieces of pineapple. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 30 to 35 minutes or until well browned. Serves 6.

Kids Sure to Go for Kabobs

Persons from 6 to 60 take delight in kabob cookery. Probably adults and children have a different interpretation of kabob combinations, but here is one that the youngsters are bound to enjoy . . . It's called Sausage-Banana Kabobs.

It's a perfect idea for a Saturday lunch, Mom, and it contains all the foods that "kids"-like . . . smoked sausage links, bacon, bananas, peanut butter and maraschino cherries.

Sausage-Banana Kabobs

8 smoked sausage links
16 slices bacon
2 to 4 bananas
Lemon juice
½ cup peanut butter, chilled
8 maraschino cherries

Cut smoked sausage links diagonally into thirds. Cut bananas into 32 ½-inch pieces and dip in lemon juice. Place 1 teaspoon peanut butter between each two banana pieces. Wrap each banana "sandwich" with 1 slice bacon.

On each of eight 8-inch skewers, thread 3 sausage pieces, 1 cherry and 2 bacon wrapped banana "sandwiches," fastening bacon securely with skewers. Place kabobs on broiler rack and broil 3 inches from the heat about 7 minutes.

Small Pizzas Begin With English Muffins

Muffin pizzas are the subject of conversation when friends gather 'round for a snack. This is the way they're made: Begin with 4 English Muffins; cut each into 3 thin round slices; toast. Spread each with canned spaghetti sauce with meat (10¾ - ounce size).

Sprinkle with oregano. Cut 4 ounces sliced cheese into 1-inch squares; place on sauce. Broil until cheese melts. Makes 12 small pizzas.

Wants Allies and K in Private Talks

Ike Seeking a Round-Robin Summit

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower is looking forward to a different kind of summit conference at Paris next May.

He wants some sessions to provide for strictly private conversations among himself, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain, French President Charles de Gaulle and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The President's interest in getting the Big Four to "explore each other's minds" emerged at his news conference Wednesday. His statements to reporters also developed another intriguing prospect for the future:

The Eisenhower administration seems destined to become increasingly in its closing months a kind of caretaker government. Eisenhower did not use any such term as that but in replying to a question about the possibility of a second summit conference late this year, he noted that more and more questions would arise about his ability to make commitments running beyond the end of his term next January.

At the same time, however, he left no doubt that if a crisis should arise he intends to take whatever measures are necessary to meet it.

Whether the President has already discussed with others of the Big Four his ideas about the nature of the talks to be held at Paris was not clear. But it seemed almost certain that this had been one of the many matters he discussed with Macmillan at Camp David early this week. Macmillan left Washington Wednesday night.

During the summit conference at Paris and Eisenhower's subsequent visit to Moscow in June major attention especially abroad will still be focused on Eisenhower, however strong his own sense of limitation in dealing with the future may be.

SERIOUS QUESTION

But Eisenhower's own concept probably means that at the Paris conference he will be looking for ways to solve only the more immediate East-West problems and in such a way that there would be little doubt of his successor's interest in carrying on.

Whether from a practical point of view there are such possibilities, with respect to the long deadlocked issues of German reunification, the future of West Berlin and the major problems of disarmament, is a serious question which only the four men at the summit can answer.

It seems likely that another effect of the terminal date on the President's powers may be to inhibit the administration from embarking on any bold new course or trying any fundamentally new initiative in negotiations with the Soviet Union.

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP) — The rodeo cowboys make bull riding appear fairly easy. That was the excuse J. L. Grooms, 20, gave at a hospital where he was recovering from injuries inflicted by an uncooperative bull at his parents' farm.

Principals Want More School Money

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The elementary school principals department of the National Education Assn. wants the federal government to spend a higher ratio of the national income on education.

A resolution passed by the principals Wednesday at their annual meeting said: "A higher quality of education at all levels is essential to national strength, security and welfare."

The resolution said federal aid to education should be "of a permanent nature for general aid."

The group also urged the Democratic and Republican parties to state their views on federal aid to education in their 1960 party platforms.

Spending Mark OK'd in Alaska

Legislature Is Adjourned After Passing 2 Plans Over Governor's Veto

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The 1960 Alaskan Legislature adjourned Wednesday after approving a record 46½-million-dollar state spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The spending budget was the largest Alaska has ever okayed for one year, either as a state or as a territory.

The 1960 legislative session, the second lawmaking meeting in the state's short history as a full-fledged member of the Union, ran 63 days.

It probably will be remembered for two actions.

First, it passed, over Gov. William A. Egan's veto, a bill to legalize certain types of nonprofit gambling, including the state's famed ice pool lotteries.

Secondly, the Legislature approved a program which will permit honor prisoners, single and married, week-long leaves for visits home. Opponents criticized the plan as a boudoir and honeymoon bill. Successful backers called it a forward step in the rehabilitation of convicts.

* * *

The Legislature passed only two general tax increases, raising the motor fuel tax two cents a gallon to a total of seven cents a gallon and the marine fuel tax one cent a gallon to a total of three cents a gallon. The two increases will bring an additional $1,050,000 a year in revenue.

Williams Bears Gift of Sweetness to Sam Rayburn

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams took along a gallon of Michigan honey for house speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) when he went to Washington Wednesday.

* * *

Williams attended the White House conference on children and youth.

The Governor said he discovered during the Democratic Midwest Conference in Detroit last weekend that Rayburn liked honey.

The honey will be the gift of L. M. Hubbard, Onsted.

Michigan has the nation's 8th largest honey crop, according to Joe E. Wells, assistant to the state director of agriculture.

Miami Beach Having Its Biggest Year

From Mangroves to Coconuts to Towers!

By BOB CONSIDINE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Am down here for the 45th birthday of one of the most incredible places on the face of the earth — and certainly THE most incredible metropolis ever to rise from a combination mangrove swamp and sandpit.

* * *

Miami Beach is thriving. Doesn't look a day over 44. This was the first season since World War II not marked by the opening of a "this year's hotel." Actually, there's very little room left for the building of another pleasure dome along the golden strand. The place is 98 per cent covered with property now.

Miami Beach, girdled geographically so tightly that it is next to impossible to expand outward into the ocean or into Biscayne Bay, can only go up. At 45, it shows every intention of doing just that.

It has just had its biggest winter season. It is embarking on its biggest spring and summer season. The jets whistle you into this place from almost anywhere in less time than it used to take to travel from New York to Philadelphia. The weather remains generally wonderful. The horses, dogs and jai alai had their best respective seasons.

BEACH FANTASTIC

We've seen some pretty impressive mushrooming cities in recent weeks, notably Sao Paulo and Brasilia, in Brazil. But Miami Beach is something else again, in fantastic growth.

The first house planted on Miami Beach was a refuge at what is now 72nd street and Collins avenue. It was flung up in 1876 "to afford succor to shipwrecked persons who may be cast ashore and who, in the absence of such means of relief, would be liable to perish from hunger and thirst in that desolate region."

* * *

(There's precious little chance of that. Particularly the latter, today.)

The southern tip of the sandspit was bought in 1882 for 35 cents an acre by one Henry B. Lum. The government, which owned it, was happy to unload it on the poor sucker.

Uncle Sam also struck a sharp deal with Ezra Osborn and Ellnathan T. Field — selling those greenhorns 65 miles of ocean front up the coast a bit, for prices that ranged from 74 cents to $1.25 an acre. There are places along that strand now which charge that much to peel a grape.

A WINTER RESORT

Messrs. Lum, Osborn and Field all from New Jersey, dreamed of lining these langourous shores with coconut trees. Eventually they had 334,000 trees in place, but nobody wanted to eat coconuts and the place became jungle. They brought in a friend, horticulturist John S. Collins, to see what could be done about the unwanted coconut jungle. Collins — after whom, of course, a great street is named — said "To H— with the coconuts. Let's make it a winter resort."

And so it began to take shape, but ever so slowly until Fisher — Indianapolis millionaire who had made a mint with Prest-O-Lite — gave it a shot in the arm during World War I.

The town of Miami Beach was incorporated March 26, 1915, with 23 registered voters. By 1921, at the beginning of the Era of Wonderful Nonsense, it had a population of 644. That seemed enough to form the chamber of commerce.

Steven Hannagan, Joe Copps and Larry Smite bagon doing its publicity. They put pictures of girls in bathing suits in nearly every newspaper in the country — a sensational stunt at the time.

* * *

Steve had an elephant caddy for President Harding. He did a lot of other wonderful things, too.

Then a hurricane nearly turned the budding place back into a mangrove swamp, the real estate boom burst, and it looked like curtains.

* * *

But Miami Beach rose from its ruins, grew back, stood off the depression and the travel restrictions during World War II, and simply has not stopped growing since.

Happy birthday, M.B., and many more.

June Dates Revealed

Arts Festival Set

By MARJORIE EICHER

The third annual Arts Festival of the Bloomfield Art Assn. is set for June 11 through June 19. The affair has grown so in its short history, that it will encompass not only a great part of the geography of the Bloomfield - Birmingham area, but most of the arts and crafts.

* * *

Kickoff for the expanded affair will be a formal dinner dance at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club June 11. Proceeds from the $100-a-couple event are expected to net $10,000. They are earmarked for expanded community art facilities aimed at serving the greater Oakland County community.

Mrs. Donald E. Ahrens and Mrs. Cyrus R. Osborn of Bloomfield Hills are cochairmen of the Arts Festival Ball.

Assisting on their committee are Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Averill; Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth; Mr. and Mrs. John Bugas; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cuffin; Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Colbert; Mr. and Mrs. Phil DeBeaubien; Mr. and Mrs. Rocco DiMarco; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fredericks; Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruhauf, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gordon.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Merritt D. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge; Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Laidlaw; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knudsen; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robins; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shenefield; Mr. and Mrs. John K. Stevenson; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Thom; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Vander Kloot; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford West; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Winston.

Arts Festival chairman Robert Thom, familiar to most people for widely reproduced Parke-Davis medical history canvases, has enlarged the open-air scope of previous year's festivals. All of Birmingham's Shain Park will be a stage for arts and crafts activities.

According to Mr. Thom, "There will be artists painting and demonstrating techniques of water colors and oils in the park. Sculptors will be at work . . . weavers will use their looms . . . metal pounders will be raising bowls. Glass blowers, potters, dancers, singers, photographers, dramatic groups will add their talents to the park demonstration."

Climaxing the week long activities will be an "Evening With Sandburg" at Cranbrook on June 19 at 7 p.m. Chairman of this portion of the festival, Mrs. William C. Newberg said, "Mr. Sandburg's many friends here are excited that he is coming.

"We hope the young people of our area will take this opportunity to hear and see this eminent and artistic personality of our time who has interpreted for a world audience the great American spirit in Letters," she said.

Only three and a half years old, Bloomfield Art Assn. which was founded by 22 people in a small rented building has grown to its present size of 500 members. It provides a studio-gallery center for a planned program of art exhibits, lectures, movies and classroom instruction.

Without seeking the role, president Paul Averill said, the group found itself elected by community demand on its resources to carry the initiative in the arts at a creative and spectator level. Facility expansion is a must, he said, but what direction it takes must be carefully explored.

Most Groceries at Market New

NEW YORK (UPI) — About two-thirds of today's food store items are new or have been basically improved since 1946, says the Grocery Manufacturers of America.

More than $100 million a year is spent by food makers to improve and develop products.

Nation's Teachers Say:

Lack of Respect Teen-Agers' Worst Fault

(Editors Note: Teachers, instead of high school students, were the targets for this week's survey, and the next two also. You will want to read every word of what they say about their pupils).

By EUGENE GILBERT

The thing that bothers teachers most about their teen-age students is lack of respect and courtesy. They have other gripes, but this is the top one.

We learned this when we asked 806 school teachers for a frank appraisal of the current crop of teen-agers. They were quite frank but hardly unanimous.

Half say today's teen-agers are as well behaved as ever. Half say they are not. Two-thirds say the youngsters are as happy as ever. One-third say they are not.

When it comes to deciding why the young people are misbehaved or unhappy, most teachers blame the home.

In surveying teachers—the adults in the best position to judge teen-agers— we reversed our usual procedure of analyzing teen-age opinions. Instead, we went after opinions about teen-agers.

Most, 48 per cent, teach in big city schools while 31 per cent teach in small city schools, 13 per cent in small towns and 8 per cent in consolidated schools.

Forty-three per cent teach in schools with more than 1,500 students, 29 per cent where there are 1,000 to 1,500 students, 26 per cent where there are 500 to 1,000 students and 2 per cent in schools with less than 500 students.

WHY THEY MISBEHAVE

In appraising the behavior of the teen-agers, surprisingly enough the teachers thought much alike whatever the length of their service or the size of their school.

"Students are more outspoken due to the change in society," says Ralph W. Hutchins of Knoxville, Tenn. "but if they are expected to be quiet they are quiet."

Geraldine Dykhuizen of Grand Haven says: "The high school students of today are more poised, more responsible, and more independent. Our school has much less trouble with the childish, irresponsible, behavior of past years."

Sarah R. Davey of Pittsburgh feels teen-agers are well behaved but "because there is more freedom today misbehavior is more open, and therefore we feel there is more of it."

MORE MISBEHAVING

Those who believe misbehavior has increased, explain it this way:

"There are more outlets for young people today and they encourage misbehavior," says Clarence L. Gurian of Green Bay, Wis.

"Too many children are being raised by child psychology books, thus creating lax discipline," says Gene Rubinstein of Pennsauken, N. J.

Many teachers blame misbehavior simply on the times.

Students have managed to annoy their teachers ever since the ancients decided that young people must be taught. Only the annoyances have differed.

Some of those of today are:

"They mature too early and wish to marry too young." says Mrs. Robert Meffley of Maumee, Ohio.

Eleanor Barnes of Knoxville, Tenn., is annoyed by "indifference in regard to cheating. The problem seems to be growing, and is one which is condoned by many students."

"Lack of curiosity, compulsion for security." says Mary Benedict of Indianapolis. "They'd rather be told than inquire."

"Many students do not study to learn," says Carolyn Sink of Bethel Park, Pa. "They may study for a grade or to keep from failing, but not for knowledge."

Dear Abby Says: See Your Minister

Think Twice Over This, Mama

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I don't get along at all. We have a 3-year-old child and I am expecting another. I want to divorce my husband but I couldn't manage on what he could pay me weekly. When the new baby comes, we'll have more expenses and the same income.

ABBY

Do you think giving up my baby as soon as it's born would be so horrible? I am young yet and want a better life for my son and myself. I could manage with one child but not with two.

If I decide to give up my baby, do I need my husband's consent? Please help me, Abby, I feel so lost and mixed up. I am 20 years old.

LOST AND MIXED UP

DEAR LOST: A lawyer can tell you whether you need your husband's consent to give up your baby. But your conscience should tell you that you have a moral obligation to consider the father's wishes.

If you feel "lost and mixed up," I urge you to talk to your clergyman, or get in touch with your Family Service Assn. You need to "find" yourself and straighten out your thinking before you make a decision as lasting and important as this one.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "ONLY A WIFE" was ridiculous. The lady said her husband never attended the funerals of his aunts or uncles, but he drove half-way across the country to bury his dog. She asked you if you thought her husband was "crazy" and you replied, "He's dog-goned normal!"

How can anyone in his right mind think more of a dog than he does of his kin? If your answer expresses your true feelings, then maybe you and that nut ought to get together. You have a lot in common.

LOVER OF MANKIND

DEAR ABBY: Bless you for sticking up for the man who loved his dog enough to drive a thousand miles to lay him to rest. I know how he felt because I loved my dog like that.

He was only a mongrel, but I raised him from a pup, and he gave me more unselfish affection than most people I knew. When I was a boy he'd comfort me by letting me cry my troubles into his fur.

He proved his devotion to me when a burglar came into my store. My beloved dog was killed when he intercepted the bullet that was meant to kill me. I would have WALKED from Oregon to Arkansas to pay my dog last respects.

No one can realize what a dog means to a man unless he has loved one, too. Abby, I'll bet you have a dog, haven't you?

DOG LOVER

DEAR DOG LOVER: You guessed it!

Your Wife Should Not Be Hurt

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a brother in the service who writes to me quite regularly. He always addresses his letters to me alone and begins, "Dear Bill," excluding my wife entirely except for adding, "Give my best to Mary" at the end of the letter.

My wife seems to think that he is being very impolite to her by not addressing his letters to Mr. and Mrs., and is making quite an issue of this. I think she is all wrong in feeling as she does and that there is definitely no discourtesy in his writing to me alone.

Answer: When your brother writes to you, it is not necessary that he include your wife. I think "Giving his best to Mary" is sufficient, and to expect that he include her in every letter he writes to you is unreasonable.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell us when the white runner is put down at a wedding?

A friend and I have been having an argument about this. She says it is put down before any of the guests arrive and I say it is put down just before the wedding procession starts up the aisle. Which one of us is right?

Answer: Since its sole object is to protect the freshness of the bride's train from the dust, or possible mud in bad weather, from the shoes of the guests, it is rolled (unrolled actually) up the aisle just before the wedding procession begins.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to take lump sugar (I mean in a private house where each piece is not wrapped the way it usually is in a restaurant) with the fingers, or if there are no sugar tongs, must one use a spoon or whatever other clean implement that is handy?

Answer: When helping yourself to sugar you use your fingers, of course, but when you are putting sugar into a cup for someone else, you should use a teaspoon when there are no tongs.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a middle-aged woman is seated at a party and other women guests arrive who are strangers to her and they are brought over and introduced to her, is it necessary that she rise from her chair to acknowledge these introductions?

Answer: She need rise only if the women being introduced are much older than she is.

Pointers Listed Can Make Change Smoother

Secure Child Can Take Moving in Stride

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Moving day to the homemaker means clutter and confusion, but eventually clean closets.

What does it mean to a child? Emotional upset? Shock?

At least two national organizations are worrying about the matter, especially since we've become a nation of changing addresses.

An estimated 41 million Americans will move this year, compared with 31 million a decade ago.

The American Assn. for Childhood Education, Washington, said this meant that six million children from five to 13 years will pull up roots and plant them elsewhere.

The American Assn. for Family Living, a child study group with headquarters in Chicago, studied the effects of moving for one of the nation's carriers and found that "the emotional effect . . . depends mainly on the age of the individual child and its existing relationship with its parents."

It indicated that if the child is loved, is emotionally healthy, and there is a happy household atmosphere, there is little danger of upset.

—If you have an infant, see that you are near him, feed him on schedule and cuddle him often. However, baby is the one least likely to be upset by moving.

—The preschool child is the most vulnerable. Give him a preview of his new home by a visit if possible, and let them pack a favorite toy in his suitcase.

—You can tell the school-age youngster about the move and reasons for making it. Let him select the color scheme for his room in the new house, in addition to arranging the furniture as he wishes.

—Don't try to erase all memories of the old home overnight. Let the ties be loosened gradually.

—Be tolerant of disturbing symptoms if they do occur and don't deny a child's need for extra attention.

—To older children, such activities as the little league, the boy scouts, the girl scouts are all-important affairs. Make every effort to insure a place for children in such organizations before you move in the new community.

—The preschool child probably is better off with a neighbor on the day the moving men arrive.

The childhood education association booklet suggested:

—"With a few dolls, a wagon and some empty boxes, the whole process of moving — packing, loading, taking off, eating on the way, unloading, unpacking more eating—can be acted out again and again before the day arrives." This conditioning was suggested for preschool children.

—"Let there be no hurry about getting all the settling done. Stop for snacks frequently. If neighbors' children are on the fringes, invite them in for a share.

Stop work occasionally for a walk to the nearby grocery, drugstore or postoffice, or for a short ride to see where dad is working, or to locate the library or the ball park."

Telephone a Helper? Not With Youngsters

By RUTH MILLETT

Along with its monthly bill the telephone company has sent me a little folder to remind me that the telephone is the "housewife's helper."

The chatty little message goes like this:

"How often do you use your telephone? The answer to this question would probably surprise you, as it did a neighbor of mine who kept track of her calls for a week. In a little diary she jotted down a note about every call she made or received. During one week she counted 107 calls. My neighbor found most of her calls saved time or work . . ."

If most incoming calls save a housewife time and work she must not have any teen-age children in the family. And it is quite obvious that she doesn't have her name on every advertising list in town, and on every list of "good prospects" for charity drives and community work.

If she did, her diary of a typical day's calls would probably go something like this:

"Joe called again at 4:20. Joe make plans for double-dating tonight. Asked if I could take a message, he said he would call back later.

"Joe called agai nat 4:20. Joe called at 4:40. Joe again. Junior still not in and Joe still reluctant to leave message.

"Member of church circle called to ask if I would bake two cakes for bake sale. Said I would.

"Dance school called to tell me I had been chosen for a free dance lesson. I said: 'Thank you, but no.'

"Got out of shower to answer phone. Wrong number.

"Let roast burn while Mrs. C. tried to talk me into heading PTA committee.

"Spent 40 minutes listening to Dora tell me her troubles. Said she felt better when she hung up — but my ironing still in basket."

Those outgoing calls may be timesavers for a housewife. But the incoming calls are one of a busy housewife's biggest headaches, for the housewife doesn't have a secretary to say she is in conference when she is elbow deep in work.

Life Too Short to Be So Critical

Let's Stop Our Heckling

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I am printing an article I wrote almost 10 years ago. A reader sent me a worn out copy which she had clipped from some newspaper. She asked me to reprint it because she feels that many of my readers would enjoy it again, and she told me that it completely changed her personality and outlook on daily life.

Naturally this is very gratifying to an author, I hope it may mean something to you as it did to this reader. Here is the column:

Yesterday I was walking along a city street in the morning. It was a lovely day. An old woman was leaning on the iron railing in front of her apartment.

Just at this moment the postman came along and greeted the old lady with, "How are you this morning? Are you enjoying the sunshine?" She answered, "No." (Glancing back at the house.) "They all pick on me all the time. Every one of them! I came out here to get away from it."

CAN STOP PICKING

I thought how often life picks on us and we pick on each other. We cannot control life and what it does to us entirely but we CAN stop picking on each other. So often this heckling is done under the banner of being helpful, and really with that idea in mind.

However, I wonder if it ever helps much. Husbands criticize wives and wives heckle husbands and both parents pick on the children "for their own good."

Of course children must be taught and trained and it would be a poor marriage if husband and wife could not express disagreement. But I sometimes wonder if the most important thing isn't just being happy together during the days and weeks which are passing so swiftly by, never to be recalled.

ENJOY ONE ANOTHER

So many lovely occasions are ruined by someone who is doing what he or she considers to be his or her duty, or by someone who is fighting for his rights. Children learn best by example, and most negative critical thoughts can be expressed in a positive way.

Anyway, we are all so busy working on each other, husbands friends and relatives, that it exhausts me to think of it!

Why can't we just enoy one another during the little bit of time we have on this lovely earth?

Why can't we realize that it is important to get as much happiness as possible out of every passing day and to add as much happiness to the days of others as we can? We must all have a lot of "busybody" in us!

Of course a husband and wife will have disagreements, but perhaps the most important thing is just being happy together during the days and weeks which are passing so swiftly by.

Township Residents Will Legislate at Annual Meetings

Township residents throughout Oakland County will have the opportunity to conduct township business at annual meetings from 1 to 8 p.m. Saturday in the township halls.

This right to take over local government directly for one day dates back more than 60 years.

Five years ago the State Legislature passed a law allowing townships with more than 5,000 voters to do away with what officials generally agree is a horse and buggy procedure—the annual township meeting.

Waterford and Bloomfield were the only two townships prompted by the law to place the proposition before the electorate. It was soundly defeated in both communities.

BECOMES LEGISLATOR

At the annual meeting, a citizen is a "member of the board," so to speak, because he may make and support motions and exercise duties and powers which no other citizen enjoys except under the township form of government.

This is the one meeting in the year that an individual may vote for or reject any township policy, law, budget or governmental operation.

Officials claim it could prove disastrous because a small minority at the meeting might project policies unfavorably affecting thousands of other township residents.

Farmington Township felt the sting of this fact when 250 persons present at the 1958 annual meeting tried to cut the budget by $40,000 and stop construction of the 4-million-dollar Interceptor Sewer. This would affect the health conditions of people in Southfield, West Bloomfield Township and the City of Keego Harbor as well as those in Farmington Township.

Only 1½ per cent of the community's 20,000 population was present and only an error by the city clerk invalidated the vote against the budget and sewer project.

In the earlier days, annual meetings were set up for a population of 600. Farmers drove into town with their families and it was a day of celebration, community picnic dinners and "hashing over" rural problems.

The meetings were short and to the point. Officials for the next year were elected, expenditures approved, and occasionally a new law was passed.

Everyone had a voice in the procedure, and voting was all done by a raising of the hand or by voice, as it still is today.

Since that time the population of Oakland County has jumped to almost 700,000 people, and many live in townships operated by a board of trustees. These officials generally agree that there is danger in maintaining the policy of having annual meetings.

Supervisor of one of the county's largest townships, Elmer R. Johnson, said "The annual township meeting is an antiquated thing as far as Waterford Township is concerned. It doesn't make sense that any group could come in for selfish purposes and make policies for some 50,000 people."

In most cases, annual meetings are conducted in a quiet, orderly fashion. The yearly budget is presented and adopted, a township attorney, engineer and auditor appointed, and depositories designated for all township funds.

Rather than hold only one meeting a year as in the early 1800s, most townships in Oakland County conduct weekly or biweekly meetings and keep current in all business problems and government operation.

Keego Bonds Sold

Eye April Sewer Date

KEEGO HARBOR — Construction on the internal sewer system here is expected to begin in April as $530,000 in bonds issued to finance the project were sold.

Nine firms, headed by the First of Michigan Corp., participated in the purchase of the 30 year faith and credit bonds.

The contract for the project was awarded March 3 to the D'Agostini Construction, Inc., firm of Warren by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

When the contract was awarded, Donald Ringler, deputy director of public works, said if the bonds were sold within 30 days the project would be started in April.

To pay for the sewer system, that will do away with all septic tanks in the city, residents will be taxed an additional $36 a year for a 30 year period.

When completed the internal system will be connected to the Farmington Interceptor Sewer now under construction. The sewage will then be treated by a plant in Detroit.

Two incumbent councilmen, Stanley Balon and Donald Brooks, are seeking the mayor's post.

Candidates for the justice of the peace office are incumbent William Welke and Robert Merkle.

The six candidates seeking the three long term Council posts are incumbents Gerald Abrams and Gunnar Mettala, and Oscar Simmons Jr., Fred Beamish, Orlando C. Smith and Albert Sereno.

Neighborhood Meetings Planned

Study Oxford Incorporation

OXFORD — Three members of the Citizens Advisory Group on city incorporation are planning to hold meetings in their respective neighborhoods in the near future.

The purpose of these informal get-togethers is to explain their findings to date on implementing the proposed change from village to city government in Oxford.

They also are interested in getting residents' reactions to the incorporation move in the outlying areas being considered for inclusion in the plan.

The three study committee members are Roe Sausser, who lives in Elm Park subdivision, northeast of town; Milton Francis of Minnetonka subdivision, south of the village; and Keith Curtis, of Berns-Olive subdivision, also south of Oxford.

The group has been meeting regularly with officials of other communities who have either made the change or considered it at some recent date.

Should a status change be recommended, the study committee has been asked to decide on the boundaries.

Further, they are requested by the Village Council to determine advantages and liabilities of including additional areas such as cost of improvements and additional services, expected receipts from property taxes, sales tax and gas and weight tax.

Finally, they are asked to make recommendations on how to effect the proposed change.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

There's never a dull moment when the eight Bunnings and the four Bollings get together.

Jim Bunning, the young Detroit righthanded pitcher, holds the distinction of having the largest family on the Tiger squad. There are six children, including twins.

Second baseman Frank Bolling, his closest friend on the team, has two children and a third expected in June. According to Bolling's doctor, there is a good chance of twins.

"Yea," laughed Mrs. Sue Bolling, "Frank and Jim are roommates on the road and they have to keep up with each other."

Bunning and Bolling have been in baseball together through most of their minor league careers.

They've been roommates with the Tigers since 1957 and each claims to be good luck for the other.

"Well, didn't I bring you luck when you won 20 games that season?" Bolling always ribs Jim. "Yes, but I brought you luck when you hit those 15 homers and had 75 runs batted in," Bunning would reply.

This goes on all the time. The two continuously keep after each other.

"Those arguments go on all the time," said Mary Bunning, "sometimes I am glad when they go out on the golf course."

It doesn't take much coaxing to get them on the fairways and there is usually little argument here because Bunning shoots in the mid-70's and Frank in the 80's.

The wives of the two Tigers get their broods together quite often when the men are on the road or out on the golf course.

With six children, it is more difficult for Mary Bunning to get to the ball park to watch Jim pitch, but Sue Bolling is a Briggs Stadium visitor two and three times a week.

"When I go to the games, I have orders from Frank to keep my mouth shut," Sue said.

It seems that one day when things were going bad for Bolling and the Tigers, a fan started heckling Frank.

"I just couldn't take it anymore," said Mrs. Bolling, "I don't know what came over me, but I had a bag of peanuts and I spilled them right on his bald head."

"He kept his mouth shut after that," she said, "but so have I—under strict orders."

Aguirre, Bunning Face Yanks

Swiyel Chairs, Refreshments

Setup for 'Heeled' Fans

NEW YORK (AP) — A grandstand seat which offers hot and cold running water, instant coffee, hot chocolate and soup—that's the New York Yankees' latest enticement to the well-heeled baseball fan.

The Yankees disclosed plans Wednesday for a new addition to the stadium which already has been labeled "plush row."

This is a section of ultra-modern lounges which will hang off the mezzanine and stretch from the press box behind home plate to the football press box in left field.

There will be 135 seats in all, but they'll be something to behold—strictly for the carriage trade.

They'll have swivel chairs and luxurious upholstering. There will be a carpet on the floor. The lavish accommodations will be divided into three sections, with a uniformed attendant at each.

A whistle, a sign, "Coffee garcon" and it's at your elbow. There'll be tea, soft drinks and bouillon also. A telephone, if desired.

To prevent mingling with the hoi polloi, holders of those choice seats will have special private staircases.

In fact, the Yankees put the price of the new addition now under construction, at $65,000.

The customer must buy these seats in clusters of at least eight, comprising a box. He can also buy 10 or 12.

For the eight-seat box, the customer must pay $4,480 the first year, $1,080 the second and $1,080 for the third, for a total of $6,640. This pays for the construction.

After the third year the cost is $275 a year—$50 above the normal box seat season ticket. But, remember, your chair swivels and you get tea.

Nicholson Finally Coming Around; Mantle Socks 1st Homer

Oriole Bonus Boy Hitting

By The Associated Press

At age 18, Dave Nicholson pocketed $102,000 and the keys to a new car. Then he left his St. Louis home to play baseball for the Baltimore Orioles, he hoped.

That was in 1958, and the husky bonus outfielder still hasn't won a job with Baltimore.

First it was Knoxville (.205), then down to Class B Wilson, N.C. (.225) and finally to Dublin, Ga. (.227) of the Class D Georgia State League in 1958. He started 1959 at Double A Amarillo, but after 13 games he was hitting only .222 and it was on to Aberdeen of the Northern League where he finished out the season with a .298 average, 35 home runs and 114 runs batted in.

Now the 20-year-old right-handed power hitter is at Miami in training with the Orioles, and he seems to be closer than ever to Baltimore.

In an exhibition game against the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, Nicholson homered 425 feet off lefty Jim O' Toole. He also singled and had three runs batted in, although the Orioles lost 12-9.

It was Nicholson's second homer of the week. The other was off one of the leading left-handers in the majors, Whitey Ford of the New York Yankees.

The Orioles need power badly, and although Nicholson has virtually no chance of winning a starting job, he could supply bench strength and be used for platooning against lefties.

Baltimore undoubtedly will open with Gene Woodling in left, Jackie Brandt in center and Willie Tasby in right. None is a legitimate slugger. They totaled only 39 homers among them last season.

Nicholson has played all three fields in training and of late has been getting one or two hits per game.

In other Florida games, the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Yankees 6-2 at St. Petersburg, the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Milwaukee Braves 7-2 at Vero Beach, the Chicago White Sox shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-3 at Sarasota, and the Washington Senators outlasted the Philadelphia Phillies 11-10 at Orlando. Kansas City and Detroit were not scheduled.

In Arizona, the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Francisco Giants 13-10 at Mesa, and the Boston Red Sox stopped the Cleveland Indians 5-2 at Tucson.

Ninety-six runs were scored in the seven games.

Mickey Mantle hit his first homer of the spring for the Yanks. It came with one aboard in the ninth, but New York already had been throttled on three hits by Lindy McDaniel, Bob Dubila and Bob Keegan.

World Series star Larry Sherry went six strong innings for the Dodgers, allowing the Braves only four hits and two runs. Los Angeles' Wally Moon continued his robust exhibition hitting with a bases-loaded double.

The defense-minded White Sox committed five errors, but still managed to hand the Pirates their second straight loss after 11 consecutive victories.

Bob Allison hit a three-run homer and Faye Throneberry had five hits, including a two-out, game-winning single in the ninth, as the Senators collected 17 hits to overcome an 8-1 Philadelphia lead.

Front-line pitchers Johnny Antonelli of the Giants and Moe Drabowsky of the Cubs were well hit as each team scored five times in the first three innings. Willie Mays and Ernie Banks each hit his fifth spring homer.

Billy Monbouquette went the first six innings for the Red Sox and allowed only one earned run. The Sox got to Indian starter Gary Bell in the fourth. Bell walked three and Vic Wertz highlighted a four-run outburst with a bases-loaded single.

Basketball Clinic at Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Up to 400 high school and college coaches were expected in Grand Rapids for the opening tonight of the second annual Mildest basketball clinic.

Charles Osborne, coach of Bradley University's NIT champions, and Forddy Anderson, coach at Michigan State University, will conduct the three-day clinic.

By late yesterday nearly 200 coaches had registered for the clinic, with approximately 90 per cent of them from Indiana, Illinois and Ohio, according to the clinic business manager.

The clinic winds up Saturday night with a basketball game between a team of Midwest All-Stars coached by Osborne and a team of graduating MSU seniors.

Citrus Record of Both Teams Is Quite Poor

Ferrell Visits Camps but Has No Trades to Report

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers, with a 6-9 Grapefruit League record so far, meet the New York Yankees today in an exhibition game.

Hank Aguirre and Jim Bunning were slated to do the Tiger pitching.

Last year about this time, Detroit had a 9-6 record for their first 15 games and finished the training period with a 13-10 mark, their best since the spring of 1953.

In their previous meeting at St. Petersburg, the Tigers scored their first Grapefruit league victory over New York since 1954. Rookie Bob Bruce got that decision.

New York is next to last in the league this spring due to pitching troubles. They have a 6-11 record.

The Tigers are eighth among the 12 teams training in Florida.

It is almost certain that shortstop Coot Veal and first baseman Larry Osborn will be optioned out, that draftee Em Lindbeck will be sent down, that pitcher Bob Bruce will go to the Denver farm team, and that Steve Demeter will either be traded or farmed.

Pitcher Al Pehanick's chances have been almost wiped out by calcium deposits in his throwing elbow. He has to keep his arm in a splint to keep it immobile for a week. Dykes thinks Phil Reagan's chances of making the club are excellent. His arm is strong and the youngster from Wayland, Mich., has been sharp in every phase of spring work.

Neil Chrisley, who batted a puny .132 last season, mostly in pinch hit roles, is helping his chance of sticking with the club with solid spring hitting. The Tigers need lefthanded hitting help. Chrisley has failed to hit in two seasons in the big leagues, although he was an outstanding minor league hitter.

General Manager Rick Ferrell returned to Lakeland after visiting some other camps. "No deals," said Ferrell. "Everybody seems to be sitting tight. I don't think there will be much action until the season gets under way."

Shortstop Chico Fernandez is being kept another day in Lakeland General Hospital with an upper respiratory ailment. His temperature went back to 102 degrees after he spent a comfortable night.

TOO MUCH PRESSURE — Wilt Chamberlain rests in his stocking feet in Philadelphia after announcing that he has quit the National Basketball Assn. The 23-year-old two-time All-American said he is quitting because "the pressure is too great."

Wilt to Play With Trotters Against College All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, who turned the National Basketball Assn. upside down as a future on the barnstorming Harlem Globetrotters.

Chamberlain, who six days ago suddenly announced he was quitting the Philadelphia Warriors of the NBA, Wednesday signed to play with the Globetrotters against the College All-Stars in Chicago Stadium Saturday night.

On the surface, this appeared a one-game shot, but owner Abe Saperstein of the Globetrotters will huddle with the 7-foot, 3-inch star this weekend and it would be no surprise if Wilt the Stilt becomes a permanent — and well-paid—Globetrotter.

Saperstein said Chamberlain requested, via telegram, to play with the Trotters against a college aggregation in the Chicago American's 21st annual All-Star game.

"I don't know whether Wilt intends to join us permanently, but if he wants to figure the Globetrotters in his future plans, that will be okay with me," said Saperstein.

"We'll discuss his plans when he arrives from New York Saturday morning."

Chamberlain collected an estimated $60,000 as a Trotter last year, while marking time before joining the Warriors. Wilt had been drafted by the Warriors a year before his college class at Kansas graduated.

Chamberlain's wire to Saperstein said he'd like to play in Saturday's game as a sort of anniversary of his entry into pro ranks.

"It is just a year ago since I made my professional debut with your team in that game (All Star). Want to show my appreciation to you and Chicago fans for their support," Wilt's telegram read.

Chamberlain's announcement to retire from the NBA didn't say so specifically, but it was believed his decision was based on the mauling he took in every game. Despite constant defensive pressure, he almost rewrote the NBA record book, scoring the most points in one season 2,707 and posting the highest average 37.6.

385-Pound Navy Giant Pinned by Little 220 Entry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The National AAU Wrestling Championships entered their second day today with defending heavyweight champ Bill Kerslake of Cleveland pressing toward another title.

Kerslake pinned Bill Littlefield of the New York Athletic Club in 9:07 of a second round match Wednesday night.

Kaoru Ishiguro of Tokyo, Japan's heavyweight champ, went down to defeat in the second-round, pinned in 7:06 by Walter Goltl of the San Francisco Olympic Club.

Defending champions among the victors were Kerslake, Frank Rosenmayr (191 pounds) of San Francisco, Fritz Vivian (160) of Oregon State College and Jim Ferguson (174) of San Francisco.

The biggest man of the tournament, 385-pound Hallow Wilson, U.S. Navy sailor, crashed in the second round. A. B. Cohen of San Francisco, a mere 220-pounder, pinned Wilson in 6:25.

213 Triplicate Rolled at ABC

Wilman in Action Tonight

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Joe Wilman will have no illusions about winning an American Bowling Congress title when he appears with the Knoll Hamm's team of Chicago tonight.

The gritty little four-time ABC champion collapsed with a heart attack at the tournament two years ago. Although he was 53 at the time, Wilman was still regarded as one of the top threats in bowling and his stroke shocked his thousands of fans.

After spending several months on his back, the stubby veteran gradually started bowling again. Anxious to substantiate his years of preaching about the health-giving benefits of bowling, Wilman was soon back in league play and competed in the ABC last year.

He restricts himself to one league a week instead of the 10 games a day routine which he had followed most of his career.

Joining Wilman on the Knolls will be Joe Norris, a fellow member of the ABC Hall of Fame. Norris, a two-time ABC champion, is in charge of installation of the ABC lanes on alternate years.

The Knoll Hamm's will be crossing alleys with the Hamm's, one of Chicago's strongest teams. The lineup includes Chuck Wagner, Earl Johnson and Ed Kawolics.

There were three changes in the top ten standings of the ABC Wednesday, all of a minor nature.

Veres Sports Shop of Fostoria, Ohio claimed 10th in the booster division with 2,720.

Ed Markulis and Bosco (Boss) Yovanovich of Akron, Ohio, combined with 1,294 and fourth place in the doubles.

Ron Stoneback of Heilerton, Pa., picked up the 11th triplicate patch awarded in the first 26 days of the tournament when he rolled a trio of 213 games singles. It was the second best triplicate in the 56-year history of the tournament. The record, 214, was rolled by Harold Asplund of Detroit in 1950.

The standings:

Boston Trying to Land Slugger

Red Sox Want Cerv but Refuse to Deal Buddin

SCOTTSDALE Ariz. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox reportedly have turned down a Bob Cerv-for-Don Buddin trade with Kansas City.

Boston General Manager Bucky Harris, on the phone looking for deals, has been in contact with the Athletics. The Boston Daily Record said "Reports indicated the A's wanted shortstop Buddin for Cerv."

Although Harris isn't likely to go for that offer, he apparently is ready to consider dealing other players for Cerv in an effort to land a right-handed slugger.

For the third straight year Boston also is showing interest in Washington's Roy Sievers. The Senators earlier offered Sievers for San Esposito and Earl Battey of the Chicago White Sox.

But the Sox are not getting the hoped-for power and consistency from 6-foot-7 Ron Jackson at first base. Jackson has been disappointing afield and is hitting a meager .220.

Meanwhile, Buddin has caught fire at the plate this spring and is hitting .417.

Wilson Heads State Quarterbacks

EAST LANSING (AP)—Tommy Wilson of Lapeer will get first call at quarterback when Michigan State starts football practice this spring.

Wilson, understudy of Dean Look last season, has moved up through the apprentice system and will be a senior this fall.

He has a vote of confidence from Duffy Daugherty.

Wilson has the experience and all the equipment," Daugherty noted as he prepared final plans for the spring workouts.

"I'm real encouraged by one thing," he added. "When he was playing basketball this winter I noticed that for the first time he wasn't favoring that knee he had operated on."

He is the only seasoned player the Spartans have at the spot.

Don Stewart, a high school quarterback at Muskegon, also will be given a chance at the signal-caller spot. Stewart was shifted to right half last year and netted 138 yards in 31 carries.

"We'll at least try him at quarterback," Daugherty said. "But he was more of a running quarterback than a passer in high school. We'd be committing ourselves to a running game if we went with him."

The yearlings up from the freshman ranks also will be given a chance to show their stuff. Considered the best of these are a pair of entries from Ohio, Jeff Abrecht of Dover and Joe Valko of Canton.

Ike Grimsley, another Ohio high school quarterback, will be kept in his defensive spot this year, Daugherty added.

Daugherty still isn't sure whether he'll start the five-week practice grind April 11, as originally scheduled, or April 18.

"We don't want to miss days if the weather is bad," he explained. "I'll probably decide by the end of the week."

Once practice is started, Daugherty said, it has to be continued. Several southern schools started practice early and then were forced to curtail workouts by bad weather. But the NCAA refused to let them postpone until a later date.

A Varsity-Old Timer game still will be staged May 14 even if practice goes until May 21.

Wall Out of Masters With Infected Knee

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP) — Art Wall Jr., golf's leading money winner in 1959, said Wednesday night he won't be able to defend his Masters title at Augusta, Ga., April 7 because of an infected right knee.

★ ★ ★

Wall, who is resting at his home here, had said previously he didn't think he'd be able to make it but Wednesday night he made it definite. He said the infection apparently was caused by a kidney ailment.

Nixon Seeking Raise Boston Had Given Him

TUSCON, Ariz. (AP) — Catcher Russ Nixon, back with the Cleveland Indians after a sojourn with the Boston Red Sox, has asked Commissioner Ford Frick for a ruling on the $4,000 raise given him by Boston's Bucky Harris.

Nixon wired Frick Wednesday asking for a ruling on the controversial windfall, which was added to his $11,000 Cleveland salary immediately after the White-Marshall-Nixon trade between Harris and Tribe General Manager Frank Lane.

With the trade voided due to Sammy White's announced retirement, Nixon was called back to Cleveland. Lane has said he will not honor the pay raises.

Funeral Service Friday for Dad of Wilkinson

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Charles P. Wilkinson, 75, father of Bud Wilkinson, the Oklahoma football coach, died in a hospital Wednesday after a long illness.

The elder Wilkinson was born in Minneapolis and spent his entire life here. He had been in the mortgage banking business since 1913 and at his death was president of Wilkinson, Inc.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 p.m. at Lakewood Chapel, with burial in that cemetery.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Washington Senators have been notified operations on first baseman Julio Becquer and infielder Billy Consolo were successful. Both should rejoin the team within a week.

Canadiens Can Sew Up Series Against Hawks

Detroit-Leaf Playoffs Resume on Toronto Ice Saturday Night

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings take their "nothing line" back to Toronto, where it got its nickname, for a go-ahead semi-final Stanley Cup playoff Saturday.

The nothing line," named by Toronto writers evaluating Detroit depth for the National Hockey League playoffs, has scored the winning goals in both Detroit victories. The clubs are tied 2-2 in the best-of seven series and one will go ahead Saturday.

Val Fonteyne, Jerry Melnyk and Len Haley are the men in the third line.

"I was a little leery of them at the start," said Wing coach Sid Abel, "but that's long gone now. They've done everything I could ask."

Haley scored the winner in the series opener and Melnyk killed Fonteyne's rebound Tuesday for a 2-1 overtime victory. In all, the line has three goals.

Howe celebrated his 32nd birthday today.

Meanwhile, in Toronto, Punch Imlach, who predicted a week ago that his Leafs would win in five games, backed down a bit.

"These have been tough games, all close as could be. How can anybody say how they're going to go?"

The Chicago Black Hawks try to pick themselves off the floor tonight and avoid a complete shutout by the Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup hockey semifinal playoffs.

The Canadiens, striving for an unprecedented fifth straight Cup title, have taken the first three games and can sew up the best-of-7 series with a sweep by winning on the Chicago Stadium ice tonight.

He charged Pete Pilote and Stan Mikita with not properly policing Bill Hicke when the Montreal rookie grabbed the puck and scored with a 20-footer in the 10th minute for what proved to be the decisive goal.

Both Pilous and General Manager Tommy Ivan was dismayed that the Hawks played their one really bad game of the series before home fans after dropping close 4-3 decisions in the opening two games in Montreal.

"The Canadiens get one goal on us here in the stadium and we flatten out," fumed Pilous, "That shouldn't have knocked us down. It should have inspired us before a home crowd. And in the last 12 minutes of play we get only one shot at Plante (Montreal goalie Jake Plante.)

Golfers Prep for Masters

Azalea Open to Start Today; Big Augusta Event Follows

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—The $15,000 Azalea Open, which has been gaining a reputation as a conditioner of Augusta Masters champions in recent years, starts today.

The 72-hole golf tournament runs through Sunday over the sandy 6,651 yards of the Cape Fear Country Club course. The par 72 layout's fairways and greens are in their best early spring shape in several years.

Given favorable weather, the pros may punish par more consistently than they have here in recent years. For three consecutive years the low 72 hole score was 285, only 6 under par.

Art Wall, who won here last spring and followed up with an Augusta victory a week later, has been shelved with a bad knee. But most of the other top pros are in the record field of 150.

In nine of its 11 previous years the tournament here has come a week ahead of the Masters. Four times players in the top 10 here went on to win at Augusta. In addition, one was second, two third and two others fourth in the Masters.

NFL to Continue Same TV Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League will continue its past television policy of each club arranging its own program despite a possible package deal setup by the new American Football League.

Ending a two-day meeting Wednesday, the NFL agreed unanimously not to negotiate any TV package "in view of present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said serious consideration had been given to package TV because of financial benefits, adding:

"It was argued that such an arrangement by a league or association involved exclusivity and allocation of areas, and in view of the present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws, no risk of violation should be taken until this matter is clarified."

The AFL announced last week it had a 56-game TV package for sale to either the National Broadcasting Co., or the American Broadcasting Co.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday night in Dallas he had not discussed a package with the networks and sponsors.

In commenting on the possible legal barriers of a package deal as raised by the NFL, Foss said: "I do not know whether our plan actually will be a package deal. However, I would say offhand that we would be within the law because we would give all parties the opportunity of bidding on it."

NBC said Wednesday it had acquired 1960 TV rights of all pre-championship and regular season games of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Baltimore Colts. There will be a "game of the week" involving either of the two teams on the NBC network, but not beamed by any station within a 75-mile radius of any of the 13 NFL cities.

Eight NFL clubs are committed to CBS for 1960 and 1961 with options for 1962. These are Detroit, Green Bay, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis Cardinals, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago Bears.

The Cleveland Browns had their own network setup last year. Washington, as well as Pittsburgh and Baltimore, were on the CBS hookup in 1959 but under sponsor contracts.

The new Dallas entry is to make its own TV arrangement for 1960. Work was done on the NFL's pre-season and regular season playing schedules for 1960 and they will be announced locally by each club.

Bill Is Killed

Sorry, No Machine Guns

LANSING (UPI) — A bill that would permit the use of machine guns in shooting competition among sportsmen was killed yesterday in the State Legislature.

Two lawmakers said the bill was backed by some Michigan undertakers.

Sens. William E. Miron (D-Escanaba) and Charles Blondy (D-Detroit) produced letters from funeral directors who supported the House-approved measure prescribing regulations for the use of machine guns in shooting competition.

Blondy termed the bill "an invitation to death."

Miron claimed the undertakers were "looking for business."

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) countered saying that he authored the bill for a sportsman friend who happens to be an undertaker. The sportsman asked other friends, some of them funeral directors, to write lawmakers in support of the bill.

Ah Yes, We Bid Adieu to Skiing

As we leave the season of snow, and put away the ski equipment (hoping that all skiers will forgive all sun-seekers for wishing to have seen the last of winter), we leave the duties of rounding up all die-hard skiers from the slopes to the men of the ski patrols.

Just who are these patrolmen of the slopes?

Dr. Lynn Smith, D.V.M., of Perry Street in Pontiac, was recently appointed to the National Ski Patrol. Dr. Smith outlines the duties, history and qualifications of the Ski Patrolman as a feature to close out The Press' weekly ski page for the season.

The National Ski Patrol was founded by Minot C. Dole in the early 1930's as result of two skiing accidents, one involving Dole and the other ending fatally for his rescuer.

Dole and a comparion were skiing in sparsely developed areas in mountains in the Eastern part of the country. Dole fell and broke his ankle and as he lay suffering from exposure and shock on the mountain trail, his friend left for his starting point and returned with a makeshift toboggan.

Dole received medical attention and was recuperating when he received word that his friend had been in a similar accident but had died from exposure because help was too late forthcoming.

From this tragic tale, the National Ski Patrol was born under Dole's initiative.

Most skiing areas now have rescue and first aid facilities with patrolmen to give aid to injured persons.

Candidates must pass rigid certification procedures in order to be accepted into the National Ski Patrol system as Senior patrolmen. He is then assigned as a member to a registered patrol.

In Oakland County there are two registered patrols, one at Mt. Christie and another at Mt. Holly.

A senior patrolman is identified by the distinctive rust colored parka along with triangle patch worn on the left shoulder. When on duty he has a first aid belt marked with a cross.

To the skiers these men are the good samaritans and not policemen. Their duties are to aid and protect the skier.

The ultimate honor for the ski patrolman is the appointment to the National Ski Patrol. This honor has been bestowed on nearly 3,000 patrolmen in the United States.

To qualify, a patrolman must take additional courses in Avalanche rescue, and he must have served the National Patrol system in various ways.

★ ★ ★

During the past ski season, Ski Patrolmen have diligently been the good will men of the slopes for the rapidly growing sport, especially around Oakland County.

So, The Press ski page bids adieu for the season with tribute to these men.

Still Want to Ski? Try Boyne Mountain

BOYNE CITY (UPI) — The sudden rush of spring took its toll on skiing facilities this week.

Boyne Mountain was the only area in the state reported open for the weekend. Spokesmen at the area said skiing was good, with five inches of corn-base snow on the ground.

MIAMI — Hialeah Park nearby Miami was the first winter race track to use a one and an eighth mile running strip. The distance was first used during the 1932 race meetings.

AAU Tankers Eye 'Road to Rome'

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The road to Rome and the Olympics is the goal of 237 swimmers and divers entered in the three-day National Amateur Athletic Union men's indoor championships starting here today.

While the winners in the 16-event carnival won't be able to rest on their performances in Yale's two classy pools, they can start looking over maps of Italy. They're sure to be favorites in the Olympic trials early this summer.

The meet has attracted just about all of America's hottest Olympic prospects, and they've got the tough experts excited.

Veteran coaches are predicting that there'll be no rest for the weary. They're expecting a resumption of the sizzling pace that began last week at Dallas in the National Collegiate meet, where 12 or 14 records were smashed.

Two titles are today's targets—the 1500-meter freestyle and the 400-yard medley relay. At least one new champion is sure to be crowned.

Mighty Murray Rose, the Southern California glamor boy from Australia, will surrender his metric mile, along with the 220-yard and 440-yard freestyle titles. He has gone home to prepare for defense of Olympic honors he won in 1956, and will be conspicuous in his absence.

Stanford's George Harrison, last year's medley champ, faces a problem. He was entered in the medley and metric mile, but unlike 1959 when they were held on separate days, both were scheduled for identical times this afternoon.

Favored in the 1500-meter test in the 50-meter tank were Alan Somers, the Indiana freshman who holds the American record of 17:44.4; George Breen, the Indianapolis school teacher who established a world's record in the last Olympics and is making a spectacular comeback, and Yale's Bill Chase, the NCAA champion.

The medley was a tossup, depending mainly on Harrison's decision. This test was scheduled in the 25-yard pool.

Six events will be held Friday and eight on Saturday.

Dennis Jenks at New Haven

Pontiac Swimmer in AAU

The opposition will be mighty rugged, but a 19-year-old Pontiac boy is going to take his first fling at major swimming competition this weekend.

Dennis Jenks, who learned to swim at the age of seven in the city YMCA pool under the Pontiac Kiwanis Club's "learn to swim" program, is entered in the national indoor AAU swimming championships today, Friday and Saturday at Yale University in New Haven, Conn.

A record-holder in Milwaukee, Wis., where he goes to college, Jenks plans on entering the taxing 1,500-meter freestyle and also may enter the 100, 220 and 440 freestyles.

Jenks, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bigelow, 23 Dwight, Pontiac, is a freshman at Milwaukee's Concordia College and a 1959 graduate of Concordia Prep School in the same city.

He attended Webster elementary school and Washington Junior High in Pontiac before heading for Milwaukee to enroll at Concordia.

Dennis has been a standout swimmer at Concordia ever since he enrolled there, but this will be his first try in a major event.

You'll find his name in the record books of the Milwaukee Municipal meet, an annual event which always attracts outstanding swimmers.

He set a new meet record in the 25-yard senior individual medley with a time of :45.1 and finished four-tenths of a second behind Bill Weiss in the 100 freestyle. Weiss, a national record-holder in this event, won in the time of :52.6.

Jenks, who is thinking about entering the ministry, will forget his studies for the next three days and concentrate on making an impressive showing against the country's best swimmers.

The stakes are high. A good chance to earn a berth on the U.S. Olympic swimming team for the 1960 Games at Rome is the prize awaiting the top swimmers in the Yale University pool.

2 Share Best Boxer Honor

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A pair of "little guys" who scored stunning upsets in world title bouts share Boxer of the Month honors in the National Boxing Assn.'s monthly ratings released Thursday.

Elorde won the junior lightweight crown with an eighth-round knockout of Harold Gomes of Providence, R.I., at Manila. Hernandez became world featherweight champ by scoring a kayo, also in eight rounds, over Davey Moore at Caracas.

Other new names among the top 10 of their respective divisions are light heavyweights Clarence Floyd and Doug Jones, both of New York, who hung defeats on Von Clay; Bert Somodio of the Philippines, in the junior welters; Kazuo Takayama of Japan in the junior lightweights, and Ray Portilla of Texas, who won on a TKO over lightweight king Joe Brown when the latter suffered a severe rib injury.

Title Bout Postponed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — World flyweight champion Pascual Perez' scheduled title defense Saturday against Thailand's Pone Kingpetch Wednesday was postponed a few days to a week.

The only real tire value is the tire that fits your kind of driving. And...

buying the right tire is as easy as B-F-G

buy the premium-quality B. F. Goodrich "HT."
Even some tires costing $75 don't have a tread as wide and deep as the new B.F. Goodrich "HT"! This oversize tread, on top of an extra-strong nylon-cord body, is why the "HT" gives you 22% more mileage than regular first-quality tires. Yet the "HT" costs only about $3 more! If you pile up a lot of mileage on the thruways and other superhighways—you need the new "HT".
$24.60 6.70-15 or 7.50-14 BLACKWALL TUBELESS
Plus tax and your retreadable tire

you can save on the economy-type BFG "Safety-S."
If most of your driving is just around town, you can get along with an economy tire like the B.F.Goodrich "Safety-S". It has a 7-rib safe-stopping tread, but the body's not as rugged as our first quality tire. The "Safety-S" is fine for driving stop-and-go on around-town errands, but we don't recommend any economy tire for steady highway travel.
NHP-3C
$12.95 6.70-15, BLACKWALL TUBE TYPE
Plus tax and your retreadable tire

you need the first-quality BFG "Silvertown."
If you're like most drivers, you make hundreds of short trips around the city and a few long ones each year—you need the B.F.Goodrich "Silvertown". This is the tire automakers tested and chose for the 1960 cars. Its new "Quiet Rubber" tread takes the hum out of highways and the squeal out of corners, gives you the smoothest ride ever.
$22.35 6.70-15 or 7.50-14 BLACKWALL TUBELESS
Plus tax and your retreadable tire

Prep Front

By BILL CORNWELL

For the benefit of those who at one time or another have felt that Michigan high school basketball was inferior to the brand of prep ball played in such states as Indiana and Illinois, here are some choice words which may change your mind.

We'd like to quote Tod Oliver, a sports writer for the South Bend (Indiana) Tribune who watched the semi-finals and finals of the annual Michigan high school cage tournament in Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse at East Lansing.

In his column entitled "Sideline Slants," Oliver commented on the caliber of prep basketball in this state and made particular reference to Pontiac Central and Lansing Sexton, the Class A finalists. Oliver stated:

"Lansing Sexton and Pontiac Central, the Class A finalists, floored splendid teams—teams that would make good impressions anywhere in Indiana."

What could be a better way to wind up basketball chatter for another season than to pass along this opinion by a sports writer who works in a hot-bed of prep basketball. Coming from a Hoosier columnist, this is a real compliment.

ALL-STAR QUINTETS

Three area leagues—Inter-Lakes, Oakland B and Tri-County—have announced their all-conference basketball teams for the 1959-60 season.

A six-man squad was picked by the Inter-Lakes coaches. The all-star unit consists of Ed Schlaff, Southfield; Harvey Chapman, Farmington; Bill Allen and Gary Wilkoff, Walled Lake; Ed Stigers, Waterford, and Steve Thompson, Pontiac Northern.

Oakland B coaches chose a 12-man squad. Named to the team were Bud Acton, Jerry Glidewell and Rick McKinnon, Troy; Bob Radlinski, Phil Morgan and Bob Bagley, Fitzgerald; Darryl Thorpe and Dick Smith, Avondale; Tom Reed, Lake Orion; Errol Sweet, Oak Park; Gary Ross, Clawson, and Ralph Hamlin, Madison.

The Tri-County unit is composed of Bill Mason and Bill Deneen, Rochester; Jim Black and Ron Schmidt, Romeo, and Tom Conners, Lapeer.

HOT BLACK HAWKS

Earl Richardson and Mead Myers, who sparked Ortonville's cagers to a sparkling 14-1 record, boast a few enviable statistics.

Richardson had a 41 per cent field goal shooting average and 71 per cent at the foul line while grabbing 167 rebounds and scoring 230 points. Myers shot 42 per cent from the court and 56 per cent at the foul stripe while netting 200 points and picking off 142 rebounds.

Richardson's scoring average was 19.1, Myers' 16.6.

CHIEFS OK IN TOURNEYS

Although Pontiac Central never has won a state basketball title, the Chiefs own one of the finest tournament records of any Class A school in Michigan. Since the MHSAA began sponsoring the state tourney in 1936, the Chiefs have won 14 regional crowns plus making five appearances in the semi-finals and one in the finals.

Meet Hawks Again Saturday

No Name Calling on Celts

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Red Auerbach has called off one practice and refused to try to stir up the Boston Celtics for their next two National Basketball Assn. championship playoff games at St. Louis.

The teams, deadlocked at one victory apiece, resume action on the Hawks' home floor Saturday afternoon in a nationally televised game.

Auerbach had announced an 11 a.m. practice Wednesday but called it off. Like the players, Red was disappointed with the sub-par showing of the club in its 113-103 loss to St. Louis here Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

"I have absolutely no intention of calling names or trying to stir my players up," Auerbach said. "They're pros. They brought themselves this far and win or lose this series is entirely up to them."

The Celts are slated for workouts today and Friday before taking an afternoon flight to St. Louis.

Auerbach was shaking his head over the fact he had been given a chance to get St. Louis' Si Green in a trade six weeks ago. He wouldn't have made the swap then or now. But Green was a major factor in the Hawks' triumph Tuesday.

"How do you like that," Auerbach commented. "The guy is on the trading block six weeks ago and now he's keeping them in the series. That's what makes this game. You just never know what is going to happen."

Phillies Seek Rodgers

MSU 9 Is Rained Out

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UPI) — The Michigan State University baseball team was scheduled to meet Wake Forest here today.

The Spartans' game against North Carolina at Chapel Hill yesterday was rained out.

Tech Has 2 All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP)—Michigan Tech placed two men on the 1960 All-Star Intercollegiate hockey squad.

Separate teams were chosen for the Eastern and Western divisions by members of the American Hockey Coaches Assn. The Western squad:

WESTERN SQUAD

Goal	George Cuculick	Mich. Tech
Defense	George Konik	Denver
Wing	Reg Morelli	N. Dakota
Center	Wm. Masterton	Denver
Wing	Paul Coppo	Mich. Tech

Gonzales Wins 36th

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — Pancho Gonzales, the top player of Jack Kramer's professional tennis troupe, Wednesday night defeated Pancho Segura 7-5, 6-2.

It was Gonzales' 36th win on the tour, 13 more than his nearest rival, Ken Rosenwall of Australia.

Drivers Start Runs Saturday

Get Set: For Gas Mileage Test

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Another cross country driving contest is about to start and within a week you'll be seeing and hearing a new set of gas mileage claims for the 1960 model cars.

From Los Angeles on Saturday more than 50 precision-tuned cars —every American make except the brand new Comet—will start a 2,000-mile, five-day journey to Minneapolis. The stated aim of the trip:

"To test the relative efficiency and potential mileage that may be obtained from stock model, American-built, 1960 passenger cars traveling over a course and under conditions the average motorist would be likely to encounter."

This all sounds simple enough. But in the long run such an exercise often is determined more on the skill and luck of the professional drivers than on the cars themselves.

For example, Patricia Jones, who won one of the six divisions of the run last year, said recently the average driver "wouldn't want to get the mileage we get. The strain and physical discomfort just isn't worth it."

She pointed out that on last year's trip from Los Angeles to Kansas City she and her co-driver in a Dodge V-8 made the entire run without playing the radio, drove through a blizzard without using windshield wipers, through mountains without using the heater and through the desert with the car windows shut tight.

The radio, heater and windshield wipers take minute amounts of power, and power means gasoline. In an economy run every drop is precious. Open windows increase the air drag on the car, necessitating more power.

NO EXTRA BRAKING

Furthermore there can be no quick speedups, or slowdowns; no extra braking for traffic lights. Open road speeds must remain constant, varying less than one mile per hour.

The run, begun in 1936, is sponsored by Mobilgas. The cars are entered by individual dealers, rather than the auto factories, but each vehicle receives loving care from factory mechanics.

The economy runs have been favorite proving grounds for Ramblers. This year Rambler and Lark will have added company in the compact class with the first runs by Falcon, Valiant and Corvair. The Comet came along too late to qualify.

Cars are classified according to the factory retail price for the lowest priced standard four-door sedan of each model.

In addition to the compact class there are classes for the low price six cylinder cars where Chevrolet, Ford and Plymouth will be joined for the first time by the Dodge Dart;, the low price eight cylinder cars; low medium price cars; upper medium price cars and high price cars.

Mileages of last year's 47 entries ranged from 25.29 down to 16.77 miles per gallon. Because of the six classes a profusion of makes can claim victory.

N-Bomb Moon Studied by U.S.

Satellite Would Drop Warhead on Command —Work Awaits OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is studying the feasibility of a satellite which could drop a nuclear bomb on any given earth target on command from the ground, the Pentagon's research chief said Wednesday.

The official, Dr. Herbert F. York, told the Senate Space Committee that actual development of the space weapon had not yet been approved. But he said many of the problems involved will be solved by other space projects already in progress.

He said at present he and other officials do not see that a satellite weapon would have "any particular advantage over the ballistic missile" as a means of quickly delivering a substantial nuclear payload on a predetermined target.

At the same time, Roy W. Johnson, retired director of the Defense Department's advance research, told the House Space Committee Russia may already be building a satellite from which it could fire atomic or hydrogen weapons with a radio signal.

ACCUSED ON SATURN

Johnson also accused the Eisenhower administration of dragging its feet on the big Saturn booster, which he said was essential in developing counter measures for this and other space threats.

He said that as late as last August York ordered the entire Saturn program dropped, but reversed his decision on the basis of new committee studies of this and other booster possibilities.

York, in a statement issued through a spokesman, later denied he had ever ordered the Saturn project either stopped or suspended. He said the nation's big space booster program was reviewed last year and "The result of this review was to continue the Saturn program," York said.

The Saturn was successfully ground tested for the first time Monday. It is a cluster of rockets designed to provide the tremendous thrust needed to send heavy payloads into orbit around the earth or into deep space.

Potato Council Bill Razzed, Then Killed

LANSING (AP) — A House-approved bill for a state potato council ran into a buzz saw in the Senate. It was killed yesterday by referral to a committee, revived and then killed again for good.

★ ★ ★

Under the proposal, potato growers could have submitted to a tax of $1.50 for each five planted acres to support the council which would conduct promotion and research.

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Ionland) spearheaded the attack on the bill. He said the auto industry had flourished without a state council to show it the way. "let potato growers stand on their own feet.

"If they get this thing, next there would be a celery commission, then a sugar beet commission, a bean commission — yes, and then a rhubarb commission."

Upholds Firing of Nurse Who Slapped Children

LANSING (AP) — Dismissal of a nurse for slapping child patients at the Fort Custer State Home was upheld yesterday by a State Civil Service Commission hearing board.

Mrs. Doris Moore had appealed her Feb. 18 dismissal on a charge of patient abuse. Two nurses testified they saw her slap child patients.

The board said although Mrs. Moore might have had provocation, the State Mental Health Commission requires dismissal of any employe striking a patient.

Rye, Wheat Leading Grain Futures Gains

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain futures prices started off in a firm to strong range today with rye and May wheat leading the advances on gains of about a cent during the first several minutes.

Export business again was the strengthening factor basically although buying included a good volume of short covering in most pits.

India was reported to have bought about three million bushels of wheat and still negotiating for more. Purchases included about two million of white wheat and a million yellow hard.

The Department of Agriculture reported it had accepted subsidy bids of 1 to 5 cents a bushel on 6,667,793 bushels of corn for export by the end of August, mostly during April and May.

Electronics Sole Ripple in Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Moderate gains in electronics provided virtually the only excitement in a trendless, irregular stock market early this afternoon.

The glamorous science stocks moved up again after an earlier rally by the group fizzled. Texas Instruments ran ahead more than 3, Motorola was up around 2 and Philco better than a point.

Other sections of the market continued to show only fractional changes both up and down with an even break as far as number of issues were concerned. Trading was moderate.

Business news showed little indication of the markets next likely trend. Brokers said most investors seemed to be marking time while awaiting a move. One described the market's recent action as a "down dribble."

Ford lost over a point in active trading in a generally weak motor group. Wall Streeters expressed renewed concern over the record inventory of unsold automobiles.

Pay Raise Bill 'Protected'

Eye Mid-April Windup

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's 1960 Legislature kept zeroed in today on a mid-April windup after hurdling another deadline on the path to the earliest adjournment in many an even-numbered year.

To stay on the track, lawmakers had to wash nearly 100 bills down the drain yesterday—measures passed one house but not out of committee in the other.

They took care, however, not to let such a fate befall a proposal for a $2,500 a year legislators' pay raise even though the bill got a frown from the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Some other salary increase bills also got an 11th hour, reprieve including those to give the governor and some other statewide elective officials $5,000 a year boosts, probate judges hikes up to $2,500 and Supreme Court judges an increase of $8,500.

Also kept alive were measures to provide $1,000 pay raises to circuit court stenographers and county welfare agents.

The deadline cut down two more elements in Gov. Williams 12th and final legislative program, a 29-point affair.

Lost were bills for an economic growth act and a foot-in-the-door plan for statewide control of air-pollution, with the Health Department authorized to begin systematic study of the problem.

The economic growth act would have set up an information- gathering state council of economic advisers to help keep tab on influences affecting growth, and required the governor to file a biennial economic report.

This legislation was urged by Prof. William Haber and associates in the so-called Upjohn study that found Michigan was 400,000 jobs in arrears, and needed 100,000 new jobs a year to flourish.

All states except two — Mississippi and South Carolina — require that children attend school through the age of 16.

Cmdr. Welch Leaves Local Unit in Impressive Ceremony

In a brief but impressive change of command ceremony last night, Cmdr. Robert T. Welch stepped down as the commanding officer of Pontiac Naval Reserve Surface Division 9-104.

Cmdr. Welch of 975 Brooklawn Rd., Birmingham, is retiring from active duty after three years as commanding officer during which time the Pontiac division gained a high ranking nationally.

He was relieved by Lt. Cmdr. Walter J. Piel of 560 Henrietta St., Birmingham, at the ceremony held at the Pontiac Naval Reserve Training Center, 469 S. East Blvd.

Lt. Cmdr. Piel was selected by the Navy for the job earlier this month. He was formerly the division executive officer under Cmdr. Welch.

During his command, Welch brought the Pontiac division to prominence in the Ninth Naval District. The local reservists currently rank eighth in 46 divisions.

They were ranked 17th when Welch took command.

GMC Van Is Shorter Than Compact Car

A new GMC van that is shorter than any American-made compact car yet has the bulk load capacity of a one-ton stake truck brings a new dimension to retail delivery efficiency, C. J. Werner, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, said today.

Named the GMC Junior Van, the half-ton delivery truck is only 14 feet long but has a payload area of 243 cubic feet.

"This van was designed to meet the pressing needs for an extremely versatile delivery vehicle in congested urban centers," Werner said.

"Its dimensions and design characteristics have been carefully balanced for maximum dependability and economy of operation."

With the floor only two feet off the ground, the Junior Van is ideal for walk-in "stop and go" delivery operations. Wide rear doors and 5½-foot-high sliding side doors provide easy access to the payload.

The van's body and chassis are fabricated as a solid, unitized structure. Its 98-inch wheelbase gives it a turning radius of only 18 feet, an important factor in maneuvering through heavily congested streets.

Power is supplied by a 270-cubic-inch six-cylinder engine developing 133 maximum horsepower and 244 pounds feet of grost torque. Engine checks and adjustments can be made by opening an inside cover.

For major work, the engine can be slid through the nose of the vehicle and completely exposed.

Standard quality features include extruded aluminum window moldings, squared wheel housings, an adjustable fold-away driver's seat, an unusually large glove compartment, suspended control pedals, generous forward glass areas and complete roof insulation.

NEW GMC VAN — One of the newest special-purpose trucks added to the complete GMC Truck & Coach Division line for 1960 is this half-ton GMC Jr. van. Extremely maneuverable, this 98-inch wheelbase retail delivery unit has a 243-cubic-foot load area. Its body and chassis are fabricated as a single unit, eliminating double frames to permit extra payload capacity.

Waterford Twp. High Threatened by Blaze

A fire broke out in a locker at Waterford Township High School yesterday afternoon due to a chemical either stored or "planted," according to Waterford Township firemen.

* * *

White smoke pouring from the locker was discovered by teacher Robert Smith, who grabbed a fire extinguisher and put out the flames started by dry phosphorous.

Phosphorous is not dangerous when kept wet, but ignites after it dries.

Although the sodium and acid water type extinguisher in the school put out the fire temporarily, it started up again after the chemical had dried. The township fire department was called to extinguish the flames.

Missing from the chemistry laboratory were six sticks of phosphorous, three quarters of an inch in diameter and an inch and a half long. The sticks had been stored in a large jar filled with water. Once removed, it takes only 5 or 10 minutes for the sticks to burst into flame.

* * *

From 3 p.m. until well past midnight two dozen volunteer and regular firemen opened combination locks on 1,200 lockers in an attempt to find the missing phosphorous, Fire Chief Elmer Flanboner said.

Organized search parties combed the building, and a man was put on guard for the entire night as a precautionary measure.

Waterford Township detectives and firemen today were still investigating possible areas in the school building where the chemical could be hidden.

Lassiter Terms Due Tuesday

Judge to Sentence 3 on 2nd-Degree Murder Guilty Pleas

DETROIT (UP)—The three Chattanooga, Tenn., men who have admitted guilt in the slaying of auto dealer Parvin (Bill) Lassiter are to hear their sentences Tuesday.

* * *

Circuit Judge Joseph G. Rashid announced yesterday he will pass sentence at that time in this part of what the state has called a "sex and greed" murder case.

Lassiter's blonde wife, Nelle, 38, and Gordon Watson, 44, former associate of her husband, await trial on first degree murder and conspiracy charges in the slaying. They are free on $15,000 bond each.

The state says that Mrs. Lassiter and Watson conspired to have Lassiter, 38, killed in order to carry on a romance and get his money. Both have pleaded innocent and deny the charges.

* * *

The three to be sentenced Tuesday—Charles W. Nash, 43; Roy C. Hicks, 43, and Richard Jones, 28—have pleaded guilty to second degree (unpremeditated) murder.

All three were involved in a plot to hire the slaying of Lassiter, the state says. The three said the killing actually followed from a drunken quarrel. They were permitted to plead guilty to second degree murder after their trial on first degree murder charges had begun.

Kill Morticians' Sales Promotion; No Machine Guns

LANSING (UP)—A bill legalizing machine guns in Michigan met defeat Wednesday in the State Senate.

John Lesinski of Detroit introduced the bill on behalf of a group of gun collectors. One gun fancier, a funeral director, got several fellow morticians to write letters to the Senate.

But Sen. Charles Blondy of Detroit protested:

Ike Convinced Reds Want Ban

Says He's Pushing for N-Test Junking to Hold Down 'Club'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he is convinced that Russia wants to negotiate a ban on nuclear weapons tests and reach agreement on some degree of general disarmament.

He also told a news conference he is pushing hard for a formal ban on weapons tests because he does not want any more nations to arm themselves with atomic-hydrogen bombs. He said he wants to hold down the size of the atomic "club" in the interests of peace.

The President appeared to see some hope that the Soviets would agree to the nuclear test ban formula which he and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan worked out in two days of talks at Camp David, Md.

The Eisenhower-Macmillan plan calls for a short-term moratorium on small underground nuclear tests provided the Soviets sign an air-tight treaty banning major blasts indefinitely.

Russia also would have to join in a research program to work out means of detecting small explosions.

Eisenhower said the Soviets "have come a long way" toward meeting U.S.-British demands for an inspection system to police a test ban since the days when they contended that the promise of each nation not to test was enough.

"The very fact that they have made this concession means that they want to negotiate further," he said, "no question in my mind."

While making no attempt to analyze Soviet motives, he said "all signs are that the Soviets do want a degree of disarmament and they want to stop testing." He said "that looks to me to be more or less proved."

Miami's Grown a Bit Since First Popularity

MIAMI BEACH — I'm a little jealous of Miami Beach on its happy 45th birthday because it's got so big, powerful and rich that it's getting stars we can't get on Broadway.

And what a growth! We used to ride the train down, about 1940, staying up all night in the club car. In 1946 I reported breathlessly that we'd made it by plane "in less than 9 hours" and commented about the wonder of flying 250 miles an hour.

Merrick Protests Child Guidance Cut

Use Knife on Clinic Fund

Budget planning county supervisors yesterday gave the president of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic the cold shoulder in his bid to regain all of $67,000 in county funds next year.

Richard I. Merrick of Ferndale appeared before the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors to protest the committee's cutback to $32,500 in the proposed 1961 county budget.

* * *

Apparently David Levinson, committee chairman, echoed the feelings of his colleagues when he said he questioned whether this was a proper county function, and thus eligible for county funds.

This feeling was not new. The same committee expressed it last year when it vainly attempted to chop the clinic, which treats emotionally disturbed children, out of the 1960 budget entirely.

A vigorous protest pushed supervisors to reconsider this stand. They reluctantly restored $32,500 to the current budget.

* * *

Merrick's appearance yesterday began on the same foot. Not one supervisor on the seven-member committee expressed sympathy for the clinic's efforts.

Levinson said Merrick's request to restore the 1961 appropriation of $67,000 would be taken under advisement.

But later approval — just after Merrick had left — of the preliminary budget provided for only $32,500.

Levinson, Birmingham supervisor, said in protest to Merrick's request: "I don't see where we have any business giving any money where we don't have complete control of funds."

Merrick earlier had explained that the $67,000 asked from the county was but one-fourth or 37 per cent of the clinic's operating budget of $178,833 next year.

* * *

He said the state has been asked for $77,383, charitable organizations $21,450, and from fees $13,000.

When he surmised the committee's opposition, Merrick asked: "What you're trying to say to me is that we should pull in our horns and not grow for awhile.

"I just can't understand this position in such a growing county as Oakland," said Merrick, a school superintendent.

Pontiac Man, 75, to Be Arraigned in Son's Death

A 75-year-old Pontiac man was bound over to circuit court yesterday for arraignment on a manslaughter charge in the fatal shooting of his son.

James G. Baylor, 411 Harvey St., had admitted to Pontiac police he shot his son, Louis, 31, with a .32 caliber revolver Feb. 23 after an argument.

Baylor was released on $1,000 bond following his examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

He had originally been charged with second-degree murder.

Baylor will be arraigned in circuit court April 11.

He told police his son had been treated for a mental condition in the past.

Thousands Are Homeless After Midwest Floods

By The Associated Press

Flood danger held an ominous grip across the Midwest today as damaging spring overflows kept thousands from their washed-out homes and threatened further evacuations.

At the same time, minor flooding erupted in some eastern areas as more rain added to the load of many rivers and streams that were running nearly bank full with melted snow.

* * *

In five states—Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri—the Red Cross estimated 4,000 persons have been driven from their homes by flood waters. Several hundred others were made temporarily homeless in other sections of the Midwest flood zone, which covered Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

* * *

Rain ended in the Midwest and colder weather spread across the region, which was hit by the floods last weekend by the melting of the huge snow covering.

But in the East, rain continued and temperatures were mild. The wet belt covered the Ohio Valley and the mid and north Atlantic states. Possible flooding, although not considered major immediately, appeared likely in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New York.

The floods in the Midwest have caused at least seven deaths, including 3 in Nebraska, 3 in Missouri and 1 in Illinois. Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

'Trial by Fury' to Await Castro as Final Critic

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the long run, the man who writes the review that counts about "Trial by Fury" is named Fidel Castro.

The matter-of-fact drama on last night's CBS-TV "Armstrong Circle Theater" recreated the experiences of James Buchanan, a reporter for the Miami Herald who was imprisoned by the Cubans while covering a story in Havana.

* * *

In telling his story, Harold Gast's script emphasized some serious shortcomings in Castro's approach to civil liberties, both as regards his own people and foreigners. Castro's critique on the drama should be of interest.

As an experienced TV performer in his own right, I'm sure Fidel will make the artistic allowances for some overemphatic gestures and sinister tones employed by the players who represented his government. And I trust he'll note that a sense of humor was not entirely lacking among his aides.

Buchanan, ably played by Philip Abbott, spent 13 days in a Cuban prison on trumped-up charges of aiding the escape of Austin Young, an anti-Castro American adventurer. Found guilty by a military court, Buchanan was given this alternative: 14 years at hard labor or voluntary departure from the island. He chose the latter.

OBJECTIVE APPROACH

There were many sad and disturbing points made in the hour but to me, the saddest came shortly after Buchanan's arrest. The secret police asked why he didn't tell them where Austin Young was hiding. Buchanan explained that newsmen do not reveal their sources; that when he spent weeks with Castro's army before the rebel army's victory, he did not run to Gen. Batista and reveal Castro's whereabouts.

This meant nothing to the Cubans. They chose to ignore bygone days. Still, the scene illuminated two things: The American newsman's objective approach to a news story and the Castro regime's quick temper.

The drama depicted the Cuban officials as suspicious, often irrational people who suffer greatly from persecution complexes and bureaucratic syndromes. Badly advised though they were, at least they didn't go so far as to torture Buchanan or abuse him physically during his 13-day ordeal. Therein lies the hope for better days ahead in Cuba.

Sergeant Sure of 314; Calls It HIS Number

BANGOR, Maine (UP) — There's something symbolic in the assignment of M. Sgt. Albert E. Martel to the 341st Air Refueling Squadron at Dow Air Force Base.

As a radioman-gunner in World War II, he flew from England in a B17 bomber that was number 341. It was hit by flak on a mission, but managed to land. The crew dug out the shell remnant and found it bore the number 341.

Reapportionment Cry Rises Over Nation

Urban Tide Rolls Nearer Victory

By United Press International

The indignant urban resident who finds his state controlled by rural legislators may have relief in sight.

A survey of all state capitals today showed a strong, if still inconclusive, trend to put power back in the hands of the population majority — which by now has switched to the cities.

The fight for proportional representation is an old one, but in recent weeks it has gained impetus from well-organized battles to force change via federal and state courts.

For years most of the nation's state legislatures have ignored their own constitutional provisions to reapportion themselves every 10 years.

Consequently in many cases the farmers who were in a majority when the state constitutions were adopted still control the legislatures even though they now are in a minority.

For example, Alabama has not affected reapportionment since 1901; Iowa since 1904; Indiana, 1921; Nebraska, 1937; Oklahoma, 1910; North Dakota, 1931; Mississippi, 1890, — Vermont not for at least 40 years.

However current action, sometimes by civic groups, sometimes by popular initiative, sometimes by new power groups within the legislatures themselves, is leading to change.

And as change comes, it points generally to increased power to cities, to the Democratic party which controls so many cities, to groups supporting liberal reform.

In the North and West this apparently means power for labor unions and other groups associated with the Democratic party. In the one-party South it apparently means power for groups within the Democratic party which take a more liberal view on civil rights.

WENT TO DEMS

In Massachusetts the Legislature, which recently went Democratic after years under Republican control, is in the process of reapportioning in a manner which many observers feel will keep it Democratic for years to come.

The Minnesota Legislature, though still giving a disproportionate say to rural counties, is reapportioning in 1962 for the first time since 1913. The Illinois Legislature was reapportioned in 1955 for the first time since 1863.

A petition for reapportionment in Oklahoma — for the first time since 1910 — has been filed but is being challenged in the courts on the validity of signatures. In Washington the voters approved by initiative in 1956 the first redistricting since 1930.

But even in states where the constitutional provisions are followed, the new apportionment often gives only token recognition to the rising urban population.

Now a move to end rural legislative domination once and for all is building up in a series of court suits to give the courts power to make states follow their own constitutions.

COURT FIGHT

A citizens suit for reapportionment in Tennessee was recently dismissed by a three-judge federal panel, but will go on appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In Florida the Federal District Court of Appeals heard arguments on a similar suit this month and is preparing a decision.

Last week the State Supreme Court of New Jersey heard arguments on a taxpayer's appeal for a ruling that the present apportionment discriminates against new suburban areas.

A suit is also pending in the Michigan Supreme Court, filed by state AFL-CIO President August Scholle, to reapportion the GOP-dominated Michigan Senate.

Michigan is the classic case of a northern state which often votes Democratic in statewide elections and at the same time often elects a Republican Legislature.

Florida, likewise, is a good example of a southern state with a moderate Democratic governor, Leroy Collins, and a Democratic Legislature which is vehement against any form of racial desegregation.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes the rural-urban lines are not so clear cut, but more states than not have had legislatures representing a minority of their citizens. As more and more voters move to central locations, the inequity increases. And as it increases, so do the moves—such as the current court tests — to wipe it out.

Downtown Highway Loop May Be Started During 1963

MAKE OVER PAGE

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie is thinking of including Pontiac's proposed downtown Loop highway in the first year of his upcoming five-year highway plan, scheduled to begin in 1963.

This report was disclosed yesterday by Mayor Philip E. Rowston after a meeting with Mackie and other highway officials in Lansing.

"It is now our hope to get the road scheduled as early as possible in 1963," said Rowston.

Mackie's tentative decision to give the road high priority, Rowston said, should add impetus to downtown redevelopment plans, which in many respects are centered about the loop road.

Mackie's last previous word on the road was only that it would be included in the new five-year plan. He gave no definite indication, though, of what year.

U. S. 10 SECTION

The highway commissioner already had promised to tackle the project as part of a new section to U.S. 10 — the designation which downtown Saginaw street presently bears.

The one-way loop, as envisioned in the city's Barton Transportation Study, would carry most Saginaw street traffic around the downtown area, freeing streets for such retail improvements as shoppers' malls.

Present thoughts have the loop following Parke street on the east side of Saginaw and Cass avenue on the west, connected in the north by new pavement in the vicinity of School street.

At Mackie's suggestion, Rowston said, the city is contemplating a housing authority in connection with the urban renewal project.

CAN'T PROMISE

This authority might be able to buy Parke street right of way in connection with urban renewal at lower prices than 1963's, Rowston said.

But the highway commissioner said there is no way for him to promise the city will be reimbursed for any right of way the city might buy before the state is actually committed to the loop road.

At the meeting with Mackie were City Manager Walter K. Willman; Harold A. Fitzgerald and A. C. Girard.

Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press, and Girard, president of Community National Bank, are members of both the Mayor's Downtown Redevelopment Steering Committee and the Downtown Redevelopment Group.

The steering committee has undertaken to oversee planning for redevelopment. The other has worked several years for downtown progress and provided the funds for the Barton transportation study.

Rowston said Mackie may be able to give a final decision on scheduling of the Pontiac road as early as May or June.

This scheduling has to be integrated with other highway plans throughout the state on a year to year basis, he said.

MSUO Granted Only $30,000 Extra

Count Noses Friday

Tonight is "T-night" and tomorrow "C-day" for approximately 700 census takers in Oakland County.

This is the day devoted to accounting for transients, whether they be vacationers, visiting businessmen or vagrants.

Places such as large hotels, motels and other accommodations for transient guests will be canvassed tonight under a different procedure than the one used for regular household dwelling units, said Bureau of the Census District Supervisor W. C. Hintz.

"Census takers will visit each of these kinds of places," he said, "and make a complete record of the rental units in these special dwelling places.

"At the same time, they will determine which of these units are occupied by permanent residents and which are for transients.

"We are calling this census operation 'T-night.' Individual census report forms have been left at hotels, motels and other large transient places. Our employes will be on hand during the night to assist transients in filling out forms.

"Persons counted on 'T-night' will be counted as part of the local population only if they have no usual place of residence elsewhere," Hintz said. "Names of transients will be allocated back to their usual place of residence."

Hintz reminds county residents that they can speed up the nose count by having their advance report forms (which all should have received by now in the mail) filled out and ready when the census takers call tomorrow.

Each report contains the seven population and six housing questions which are asked.

At every fourth household, the census taker will leave a census household questionnaire which contains additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of 25 per cent sample of residents.

Hintz emphasized that all information about individuals and their homes furnished to the Census Bureau is held in absolute confidence under federal law.

Army, Navymen Seal Off Two African Areas

Government Seeks to Avoid More Defiance by Negro Groups

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Three thousand armed white soldiers and sailors sealed off two big Negro settlements near Cape Town today as South Africa's embattled white supremacy government sought to check mounting racial turmoil.

The navy men formed a cordon around the Nyanga township while the army encircled Langa. Nobody was allowed to enter or leave the settlements.

Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd carried out his threat to use regular armed forces to prevent new Negro demonstrations after rounding up 234 leaders of the campaign of defiance against the government's race laws. Some white liberals and Indians were among those arrested.

A big army convoy moved into this metropolis, 800 miles north of the parliamentary seat of Cape Town, amid rumors that Negroes were planning a march on Ft. Johannesburg Prison, where many of their leaders are held.

The South African Parliament met through the night in Cape Town to speed action on legislation for the outlawing of the African National Congress, the Pan-Africanist Congress and other organizations accused of plotting a "massive revolt."

STATE OF EMERGENCY

The government has already assumed wide powers under the state of emergency proclaimed Thursday for most cities and towns, including the right to arrest anyone in the interest of public safety. The regulations include provision for bans on the two chief weapons used so far by Negro leaders in their campaign against the government — work stoppages and demonstrations.

The armed forces were called out in the Cape Town area after 30,000 Negroes demonstrated there Thursday under the barrels of police guns. Police held their fire, and the demonstrators eventually dispersed quietly.

BOGGED DOWN — Bumper deep in mud, this car is bogged down on Oxley road in Waterford Township while the owner is off looking for help. The quick thaw has caused unimproved roads throughout the county to disappear under a layer of mud.

Cars Bog, Pedestrians Slog

We're Drowning in Mud (Glug)

March went out like a lamb today—a lamb knee-deep in mud.

Pontiac and Oakland County were covered with it.

As soon as you wheeled your car off the main highway, stepped off your porch or went out for the mail—there it was.

"Everywhere," said one Oakland County Road Commission official,

"The worst mud in at least 10 years," said Sol D. Lomerson, veteran county road commissioner.

Officials have already barricaded or posted "scores" of unimproved subdivision streets and planned today to close down a number of important gravel roads.

Many school buses had to make impromptu detours, cars were abandoned and the mailmen had to go on foot in places to get the mail through.

CARS PARKED OVERNIGHT

The road commission reported that in many subdivisions roads were so thickly covered with mud that householders last night were afraid to drive their cars lest they become stuck.

Cars were left parked overnight along several main highways, the commission reported.

In Pontiac, barricades blocked traffic from entering West Columbia avenue, Stanley to Meadowlawn, and East Beverly avenue, Arlene to Fuller.

There were partial barricades at numerous other places, said Clyde Christian, DPW director.

At Hawthorne School, south of Walton boulevard, mud was so bad on the entrance this morning that buses let off the children a quarter mile from school.

Officials said they were planning to close more gravel roads in the townships north of Pontiac.

"There are very few unimproved roads in the county that are not affected," a road commission official said. "And those that aren't muddy by now probably will be soon."

"The county is turning into a big lake of mud."

Washouts, chuckholes and puddles were adding to the seriousness of the situation.

Lomerson said there was little the county could do except wait —wait for the ground to dry up.

Hence, mud.

"Had the thaw come gradually, over a period of a few weeks, the situation would not have developed so seriously," said Christian.

"Now the best thing to do is hope for some sunshine to dry thing up."

Debate Centers Around Cost Per Student

Figures of Committee and School Contradict One Another

Despite urgings by five Oakland legislators to reconsider their stand, House committee members yesterday gave only an additional $30,000 to hard-pressed Michigan State University Oakland.

But the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives did give the lion's share of the budget increases to Wayne State University. A million dollars was added yesterday.

The five county legislators went before the committee to ask that it reconsider knocking out a big chunk from MSUO's 1960-61 appropriation request.

The $30,000 was added to the already granted $500,000 for building developments at MSUO.

The university had asked for $1,065,000 out of the total MSU budget, but a large slashback of funds for educational institutions puts this figure closer to $879,000.

'GOT NOWHERE'

"We didn't get anywhere," Law said flatly.

Law said committee members produced per-pupil cost figures which showed MSUO's greater than at other institutions.

"Because of this they thought MSUO was getting an awfully good break," Law said.

"Perhaps if Chancellor Varner had been here he would have been able to refute this charge, but we were without the statistics to do so," the Pontiac Democrat said.

Appearance of the five marked the second round as Oakland legislators tried to get more funds for the infant university, now in danger of having to turn away students next year because of the cutback.

11 Airmen Saved, 3 Die as Plane Ditches at Sea

PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force tanker plane ditched in the dark 40 miles out in the ocean and three of the 14 men aboard perished. Rescue craft pulled 11 others from the water.

The destroyer Sullivans was bringing 10 of the survivors to Port Canaveral. One man was brought to shore by helicopter.

Flare-shooting, flashlight-blinking men in the water furnished their own beacons for ships and planes that went to their rescue after the big Tampa-based Stratotanker came down Wednesday night on Atlantic swells 40 miles east of Cape Canaveral, the missile test center.

Lt. John Rogers, about 25, first man rescued, was brought back to Patrick AFB by helicopter four hours after the tanker plane hit the sea. His condition was termed good.

The Navy destroyer Sullivans picked up five men and a commercial wine tanker, the Angelo Petri, rescued three. Another surface craft, not identified, took on two survivors.

The Angelo Petri herself was the object of rescue operations last February when driven aground by storm seas in the Pacific Ocean.

She was brought to port by four tugs and a Coast Guard cutter after part of her crew was removed by helicopter. She sailed March 10 from San Francisco after repairs.

Rescue pilots spied floating crewmen in life jackets and rubber rafts in the darkness three hours after their KC97 stratotanker went down on a flight from Newfoundland to its home station, MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa.

Helicopters and the surface ship immediately began a pickup operation in moderately calm seas with flares lighting up the darkness.

The tanker plane hit the sea about 8:30 p.m. after radioing it was preparing to ditch, reportedly because of engine trouble.

Search planes and surface craft set out at once from Jacksonville, Lake Worth, St. Petersburg, Miami, Patrick and Homestead AFB.

Rescue pilots reported that wreckage of the ditched four-engined Boeing stratotanker still was afloat in the area where the survivors attracted rescue by firing flares in the water.

He was expected to hold up his formal declaration for the governor nomination until he is on his feet again.

Willman Takes Control on Eastman Departure

City Manager Walter K. Willman today announced that he was taking over the duties of the public safety director's post under the city charter.

Eastman will begin his new duties tomorrow as an associate professor of police administration at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

His 19-month stay in Pontiac was highlighted by his unsuccessful attempt to oust Straley as chief.

He was hired by Willman to implement the recommendations of a Chicago agency's report which criticized Straley's running of the department.

'NO POLICY WITHOUT OK'

"I will become, under the charter, the director of public safety," Willman said.

"The chief will not make any policy without my approval—any more than he did under Eastman.

GEORGE D. EASTMAN

"I intend to keep my eye on the department."

Willman served notice that Eastman's leaving would not mean any drastic upheaval in department policy.

"Any worthwhile work will not be torn apart or cast aside," he said. "I will study the chief's recommendations and then act on policies, procedures, and personnel."

Of Eastman's leaving, Willman said: "I'm glad that after the hectic time he had here he has secured such an excellent position.

"The responsibility for running the department is now mine."

Straley was fired by the Pontiac Civil Service Commission last year but reinstated after appealing to Circuit Court.

Since his return to duty, all major policy changes have had to be approved by Eastman.

Fired Monitor to Appeal; Says: 'Told No Reason'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawrence T. Smith, fired after he refused to resign as a court-appointed Teamsters Union monitor, says he will appeal his ouster to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Smith said he knew of "no conceivable reason" for his dismissal and added he could be removed only for cause. He has been voting against Monitor Chairman Martin F. O'Donoghue on methods for cleaning up the Teamster Union headed by James R. Hoffa.

LAWRENCE T. SMITH

U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts Wednesday ordered Smith's immediate removal as a monitor. He gave no reason, but said he acted after Smith rejected the judge's request that he resign.

Smith, a New York attorney, has taken the position that the monitors were focusing almost all their attention on steps aimed at removing Hoffa from the union's presidency.

Smith contended that as a result the monitors have neglected other work—especially complaints from union members about the way their officials have conducted union affairs. He said O'Donoghue's methods "will let Hoffa and the worst hoodlums escape justice."

O'Donoghue, who declined comment on Smith's ouster, has maintained that the monitors can accomplish little until Hoffa is out of office.

Smith has been a monitor since last summer. He represented rank-and-file members who filed suit in 1957 to bar Hoffa from taking office on grounds his election was rigged. The suit ended in a compromise permitting Hoffa to take office with a three-member monitors board to keep watch on his activities and clean up the union.

Depends on Hike in Equalized Valuation

County Aims for Same 5.62 Tax Rate

Oakland County will shoot for a continuation of last year's 5.62 tax rate this year.

Whether this will be possible—if it materializes it would mean the third consecutive year it has remained the same—depends on whether the county receives a hoped-for 7 per cent increase in its equalized valuation by the state.

Supervisors laying out the tentative 1961 budget cautiously are eying an increase to $1,950,519,000 in property valuations. Last year the valuation for tax purposes was $1,822,913,328.

These sights were set yesterday by the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors as it wrapped up the county's preliminary 1961 operating budget to be submitted April 12 to all 83 supervisors.

It now totals $13,709,671, or $1,082,597 more than the current operating budget.

But in an apparent effort to reduce the budget to keep the same tax rate, $92,353 was deleted from the salaries budget. This immediately put a question mark on whether even a portion of the 73 new county employes which had been hoped for next year could be hired. It also crimped the suggested 4½ per cent pay hikes for more than 1,200 workers.

TO MEET APRIL 19

The budget now passes onto the Board only so the Tax Allocation Board will know the county's needs when it begins to set the county, township and school district rates for 1961. The Allocation Board first meets on April 19.

★ ★ ★

David Levinson, W-M chairman, said the same rate was decided on "because we don't feel we can get any more" from the Allocation Board.

"It's not ideal — ideally we could use six mills—but I think we can along on it," the Birmingham supervisor said.

He denied no tax increase—although needed to meet the originally planned budget keyed to year-by-year demands for more service—was being sought because it might jeopardize chances for a proposed special millage levy this August to complete the courthouse.

County auditors sliced out $129,650 from 13 different appropriated items, reduced the salaries reserve fund, and upped 1961 estimated receipts by $94,000.

Estimated receipts now are expected to bring in $2,749,000 of the total proposed budget, while the anticipated steady tax rate of 5.62 for every $1,000 of state equalized property evaluation is expected to produce $10,960,671 in taxes.

DEBATE ONE REQUEST

Before putting the finishing touches on the tentative budget yesterday, seven members of the committee debated and criticized the Juvenile Division's request for $323,366. It was cut by $4,500.

Harry Horton, Royal Oak supervisor, asked James W. Hunt, Juvenile Court director, why that department's budget "is so much greater than others."

"We see our request as what we feel is adequate to meet the needs of the county and the youngsters," Hunt replied.

Horton, still holding out for a cut in this particular appropriation, voted against accepting it as outlined. He severely criticized Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, in Washington attending a conference on juvenile problems, for his handling of collections and general department operations.

"I say cut it down by 50 per cent and that will bring Judge Moore back in a hurry," Horton said.

Levinson said his committee planned to confer with Judge Moore upon his return to see why collections from his department have been taken out of the hands of the Board of Auditors.

State Grants MSUO Only $30,000 Extra

in the Senate earlier this month in a vain attempt for reconsideration.

Missing from the group yesterday was Rep. S. James Clarkson (D-Southfield). He was on the House floor, Law said.

Altogether, the committee fattened the general fund budget yesterday by more than four million dollars, including three million dollars for capital outlay and $1,100,000 for college operations.

House committee members, he said, "indicated they weren't in sympathy with us" because of the higher per pupil cost.

Varner's administrative assistant, Loren B. Pope, today said this information was erroneous.

Law said committee members also voiced dissatisfaction with the fact that the university allowed 331 students who flunked in their first semester to have another chance.

But with the exception with an added $15,000 for partitions in a building and another $15,000 for an elevator in the classroom, MSUO was shut out of the increase.

Aside from a $245,000 allocation for construction at Michigan Tech, House budgetmakers hardly tampered with the Senate's spending blueprint for the other state-supported colleges and universities. Most have labeled their proposed budgets inadequate.

The raise for Wayne, sparked by Detroit area members of the committee, came in the wake of complaints that the university had been short-changed. WSU officials told the committee last week that the Senate budget for the University of Michigan and Michigan State University outstripped Wayne by an average of $236 per student.

Expect County to Ask Tax Hike

$3 Million Needed to Complete Courthouse; May Vote in August

County voters probably will be asked in August to approve a tax increase providing 3 million dollars to finish the new county courthouse units.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors yesterday unanimously approved a tentative resolution which would set the machinery for the vote.

All 83 supervisors are expected to pass on the resolution April 12.

Although the resolution says only that a tax must be levied, without specifying how much, a half-mill levy over the next three or four years had been discussed earlier.

The proposal is another development in the county's struggle to provide county citizens with a new courthouse to replace the downtown building erected in 1904.

HAD BEEN SUED

The county was sued over the method it used in accumulating funds to construct the first six-story courthouse unit now going up in the Telegraph road Service Center. The county won its long fight which went all the way to the State Supreme Court.

The dispute dates back to 1954 when voters approved a bond issue for a new courthouse but twice turned down a tax to pay for it.

Supervisors and auditors got their funds eventually on a pay-as-you-go basis born of surpluses, sale of county lands, regular county revenues and the .1 mill levied each year under law for building.

The W-M committee decided before submitting the proposal to supervisors that a re-evaluation first must be made of plans drawn up in 1956. It wants to know the extent of present county needs.

The three million dollars would pay for three adjoining wings to the present first unit, two for administrative buildings for general county offices and the third to house additional functions of Circuit Court.

It would also provide for a one-story auditorium, and building to the Board of Supervisors, according to David Levinson, W-M chairman from Birmingham.

The seven members of the county money controlling committee approved the tentative resolution with hardly any discussion.

PLANNING TRIBUTE — Mayor Philip E. Rowston, Robert Langer, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers; and Mrs. Reba Ross Netzler, chairman of the Jane Addams Centennial; plan the month's long celebration and tribute to social workers during April.

City Sets April Bow to Social Workers

Pontiac citizens will pay tribute during April to those who work toward alleviating and preventing stress and strain.

Mayor Philip E. Rowston today proclaimed April as Jane Addams Month, a salute to the social workers serving the community.

Highlight of the month's long celebration will be a Jane Addams Centennial Dinner on April 28 at the Kingsley Inn, sponsored by the Oakland County Chapter of the National Assn. of Social Workers.

Guest speaker will be Michigan's first lady, Mrs. G. Mennen Williams. The governor's wife will talk about "Children—Our Society's Most Treasured Resource."

Reservations can be made to the public dinner by contacting the YWCA.

Also featured at the event will be the presentation of the Jane Addams Centennial Award to the outstanding social service volunteer in Oakland County.

The winner will be selected by a panel of judges headed by Carl Ingraham, Birmingham supervisor.

The judges include Mrs. William Breech, wife of the Ford executive; John Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press; Grant Howell, editor of the Royal Oak Tribune; and Larry Payne, director of news and public affairs of WPON radio.

"The practices begun by Jane Addams of incorporating the principles of political democracy into laws, attitudes and customs of society are now the traditions followed by the profession of social work," said Rowston.

"Jane Addams established the settlement house in America, Hull House in the slums of Chicago, and her crusading for world peace and outlawry of war, the elimination of child labor, women's right to vote, regulation of hours and conditions of work brought her the Nobel Peace Prize.

"She was directly responsible for establishing the world's first juvenile court, the first child guidance clinic, action by housing associations, classes for adults, playgrounds and day care for children and crafts and recreation for the aging."

The National Assn. of Social Workers represents 25,000 social workers (all with a master's degree) in 154 chapters throughout the country.

Thousands Are Homeless After Midwest Floods

By The Associated Press

Flood danger held an ominous grip across the Midwest today as damaging spring overflows kept thousands from their washed-out homes and threatened further evacuations.

At the same time, minor flooding erupted in some eastern areas as more rain added to the load of many rivers and streams that were running nearly bank full with melted snow.

In five states—Nebraska, Iowa, South Dakota, Kansas and Missouri—the "Red Cross estimated 4,000 persons have been driven from their homes by flood waters. Several hundred others were made temporarily homeless in other sections of the Midwest flood zone, which covered Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Rain ended in the Midwest and colder weather spread across the region, which was hit by the floods last weekend by the melting of the huge snow covering.

But in the East, rain continued and temperatures were mild. The wet belt covered the Ohio Valley and the mid and north Atlantic states. Possible flooding, although not considered major immediately, appeared likely in parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and New York.

The floods in the Midwest have caused at least seven deaths, including 3 in Nebraska, 3 in Missouri and 1 in Illinois. Property damage was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

The Day in Birmingham

Six City Posts, 4 Issues to Be Voted On Monday

BIRMINGHAM — Voters here go to the polls Monday to ballot on six city posts, three proposed charter amendments and a question.

An election in Bloomfield Hills will be no contest since only three candidates filed for the three posts that are open.

In Birmingham, four Commission posts and two Library Board vacancies will be filled. Another Library Board position is open but will be no contest, as is the case for the office of constable.

Three of the four Commission terms open are for three years. The fourth is a one year term.

Opposing incumbents Mrs. Florence Willett, William H. Burgum and William E. Roberts for the long terms are Robert B. Aiken and Ralph A. Main.

Incumbent Lance Minor will be opposed for the one-year term by Claude Kidd.

For the two three-year vacancies on the Library Board incumbents Mrs. Katherine Smith and James Tobin will be opposed by Arthur J. Underwood.

There is no opposition for the two-year Library Board term sought by Mrs. Carlyn Ashley Vogt.

Incumbent Constable Jack Balsey is also unopposed.

The charter amendments propose that the position of constable be made appointive rather than elective; that all elective offices be subject to a two-year residence requirement, and that the City Commission not make appointments to fill vacancies on the Library Board.

The question put before voters seeks approval of the sale of six parcels of city-owned land.

Appearing on the ballot in Bloomfield Hills are incumbents James A. Beresford and Henry L. Woolfenden for the two commission openings, and incumbent Constable Homer Murphy.

The Bloomfield Hills High School American problems classes will sponsor a public program on modern day Russia in the school gym today at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Alfred H. Knight Sr.

Service for Mrs. Alfred (Emma) H. Knight Sr., 82, of 220 Fairfax St., will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Greenwood Cemetery Mausoleum in Flint. Her body will lie in state at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. through Friday evening.

Mrs. Knight died Wednesday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert C. Restrick Jr., and Mrs. E. M. Mulock, both of Birmingham, a son, Alfred H. Jr. of Nashville, Tenn.; a sister, Jenny MsShea of California, seven grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Senate Moves Toward Showdown on Negro Registration Procedures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate moved toward a showdown today on the kind of proceedings to require for Negroes seeking to register before court-appointed voting registrars.

A House-passed bill provides for simple, uncontested hearings. The Senate Judiciary Committee adopted 7-6 an amendment to require two days advance notice of the hearings and permit county and state registrars to sit in. There was a dispute over whether they could actively participate.

★ ★

Opponents of the committee amendment said the outcome could be crucial to the effectiveness of the plan for court-appointed referees to protect Negro voting rights.

LEFT DANGLING

The issue was left dangling Wednesday night after the Senate, in a surprise burst of speed, took up the House measure and adopted all the other amendments recommended by the committee.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-NC) said this didn't signal any collapse of the fight he and other Southern senators have been waging against the passage of civil rights legislation.

"We just thought all the committee amendments improved the bill," he told a reporter.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY) foresaw the possibility nonetheless that the long Senate battle over civil rights, now in its seventh week, might be concluded by the middle of next week.

PLAN ADDITIONS

Javits and other senators plan, however, to offer additional amendments to broaden and strengthen the bill. Javits himself introduced three new amendments Wednesday night.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) sponsored the amendment to let city and state officials sit in on the registration hearings and make a transcript of the proceedings.

Kefauver contended his amendment would improve the voting referee plan rather than scuttle it, but opponents argued that it was "an invitation to intimidation" of Negroes seeking to exercise their voting rights.

Spruce Up Capitol, Green's Bill Urges

Green, from Kingston, has introduced a resolution seeking a House and Senate committee to work with the State Administration Department to see what could be done.

"Time and weather have depredated the surfaces, but the dignified structure of this symbol of state sovereignty endures and is worthy of preservation as a representative of Michigan's heritage and honorable history among the elder of her westward sister states," Green's proposal said.

A study is being made on some major changes in the 81-year-old structure such as heating and plumbing needs but lawmakers are not in the study.

The outside of the capitol dome is to get a paint job this year, but there are no plans yet for a major cleaning of the outside.

Sour Note: Golf Course Too Soggy

Outdoorsy Mac Ike's Ideal Guest

By MERRIMAN SMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Backstairs at the White House:

Up at Camp David in the reluctant snow and slush of early spring, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan was just the sort of house guest President Eisenhower likes to entertain.

He likes to pull on what seem to be old clothes and roam around in the woods, although the going underfoot was a bit messy in the Catoctin Mountains this week with the warm spring sun turning the deep snow banks into mounds of mush.

To those who had not seen Macmillan since last December in Paris, the Prime Minister seemed a bit haggard and worn. He was noticeably paler than Eisenhower who keeps a relatively ruddy complexion because of his frequent outdoor exercise.

The President, incidentally, wanted to play golf in Washington last weekend, but the word from his favorite club Burning Tree was that the fairways still were too soggy from melting snow to permit use of an electric golf cart.

The President's press secretary Jim Hagerty is about to receive the most extensive sunburst of personal publicity probably at any point of his career on the White House staff, with the possible exception of the era immediately after Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack when Jim was the sole voice of the White House for several weeks.

It is rather unusual for two big magazines such as the Saturday Evening Post and the Reader's Digest to be doing fullscale piece on a White House press secretary—and for the first time in each of these publications — when the administration is on the way out of office.

Hagerty currently disavows any thought of remaining in government or politics after Eisenhower leaves office. The kind of public exposure he's about to receive in the national magazines certainly would seem to give him quite a boost as he approaches a new career in private enterprise.

ICC Examiner Wants Erie-DLW Rail Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner Wednesday recommended approval of a proposed merger of the Erie Railroad Co. and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co.

The examiner, Hyman J. Blond, said the consolidation proposed by the companies early last year "would enhance the adequacy of service available to the public."

The proposed combine, to be known as the Erie-Lackawanna System, with headquarters at Cleveland, would throw together 2,961 miles of important trackage in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Lear Ups Net Earnings in '59 by 50 Per Cent

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Lear, Inc., Wednesday reported a 50 per cent increase in net earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1959, as compared with 1958.

In an annual report, Lear President A. G. Handschumacher said the company established new records in profits, shipments, new business and year-end backlog.

Lear's net income for 1959 was $2,407,022 compared to $1,607,751 in 1958. Earnings per share were 91 cents on the 2,643,714 shares of common stock outstanding compared with 68 cents a year earlier.

Dewey Starting 2nd Spot Draft for Rockefeller?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some Republicans think Thomas E. Dewey has started a long-range "draft" movement to induce New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to take second place on the 1960 presidential ticket with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The twice-defeated presidential candidate, it was learned talked with the Nixon camp both before and after the nationwide television program Sunday on which he said a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket would be "tremendous."

India has about 8,000 public hospitals and about 92,000 registered doctors, according to late figures.

Young Man With 'It' Behind the Ears: That's Oakland County's Ernest Jones

Ernest A. Jones, one of Oakland County's most progressive citizens, is the object of a glowing account in Editor and Publisher. We reproduce it in part through permission of the magazine's publisher:

By PHILIP N. SCHUYLER

An impressionistic sketch of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., national ad agency with headquarters in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., should probably be properly entitled "Young Men with 'It' Behind the Ears."

Not that the personnel of 425 isn't well seasoned with veterans—it is—but Ernest Albin Jones, the 44-year-old president, does reflect a preponderance of young, able, energetic top executives of the staff he has headed for the past four years.

"Of course, we are growing older all the time—pardon the cliche—but at last check our management group averaged in the early forties," Mr. Jones said.

For the past 26 years it has successfully steered the advertising of Cadillac and Pontiac. Dow Chemical Co., another client, has the same uninterrupted longevity. Today some 60 clients range, in the presidential phrase, from "a two-ounce confection (Good Humor) to a two-ton automobile."

Charles F. Adams, 33, executive vice president, has succeeded his father, the late Jim Adams, handling Cadillac. James Graham, 37, vice president and account supervisor, serves the $20,000,000 Pontiac account. Robert Garrison, 42, senior vice president, heads the commercial and consumer group.

On the five-man executive committee with Mr. Jones, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Garrison, are William B. Bachman, 43, senior vice president in charge of new business development, and the financial veteran Leo Hillebrand, vice president, secretary-treasurer of the agency.

Then, too, the "young men with 'It' behind their ears" would include Darrell C. Roberts, administrative vice president; Robert Marker, 38, is a creative vice president.

When Elmer Froehlich, so widely known by newspaper advertising salesmen died, Mr. Jones times a month, he visits New York, and makes frequent trips to the Los Angeles and Toronto offices.

Mr. Jones, who is extremely articulate, makes frequent addresses on advertising. He has been governor of the Michigan Council of the 4-A's, chairman of the East Central Region when he was a founder of a young successor at General Mills. For the past two years, Robert Britton, 34, has been a director of merchandising, marketing, research and media.

ERNEST A. JONES

Mr. Jones moved to Madison avenue in 1950 and lived in New York for three years, then moved back to Michigan.

Now Henry A. "Hank" Fownes, 37, manages New York. Others of the agency's bright young men located there are Mark Lawrence, vice president for TV, the 32-year-old son of David Lawrence, the newspaper columnist and Gene Gramm, creative director.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, our young team is seasoned with veterans," Mr. Jones repeated. "Including Hovey Hagerman, John MacManus and Fred J. Hatch, senior vice presidents; Kenneth MacQueen, Graphic Arts vice president, and Glenn Frost, senior art director and vice president.

MacMJ&A began in 1934 with the American Lady Corset Co. account. On the same day of that same 1934 the agency got as clients both Pontiac and the Dow Chemical Co.' From billings of $6,000,000 a year and personnel of 30, about equalling today's New York office, the agency grew to billings of $35,000,000 in 1956, when Mr. Jones became president, to $43,000,000 now, and a hope expressed by the young president of building billings to approximately $50,000,000 in 1960.

★ ★ ★

"WAP" John once told Mr. Jones: "You're fortunate in having a deep bench of bright young men." "And," Mr. Jones added, "we did — but we had a lot of reorganizing to do."

★ ★ ★

"In addition to that 'deep bench of bright young men,' we had excellent clients. This is not phony baloney — I honestly believe our success is largely due to those superb clients."

★ ★ ★

The casing for this "well-oiled" agency machine is a unique agency building on 22 acres of land in suburban Bloomfield Hills, outside Detroit. Mr. Jones works only two minutes' drive from his home, his wife and their five children, ranging in age from 5 to 17.

Besides New York, the agency has divisions in Los Angeles and Toronto.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Jones estimates he travels, mostly by airplane, as much as 100,000 miles a year. Each fall he covers the major distributor meetings of Pontiac and Cadillac. At least three director, and is now a director-at-large.

It was a speech Mr. Jones made in Pittsburgh a few weeks after he became president that first catapulted him into the limelight of his trade. He expressed the opinion that TV might not be the ideal medium for advertising durable goods.

"That speech has been rather badly mishandled," Mr. Jones recalled. "Words have been taken out of context to make headlines.

"It happens that Cadillac right now is not using any TV at all. That doesn't mean we might not use it tomorrow. We're not using it, only because we haven't been able to find anything we thought good enough — spectacular enough — to come up to the very high standards we have set in print."

"Pontiac currently invests under 33% of its appropriation in TV. Newspapers get the heavy end of the stick, but magazines are not neglected. With about 4,000 dealers we need that local impact for Pontiac we get in some 8,500 newspapers."

As is known, automobile advertising is based on sales. Mr. Jones was asked to comment on the current sales picture. He emphasized that what he said must be taken as regarding the industry as a whole, not just his clients.

"Industry sales are slow in coming up to high early predictions—though they are doing well at least as far as Cadillac and Pontiac are concerned," he said. "The steel strike set the industry back. Postponed ads had to be rescheduled. We have had to get up a second head of steam.

"For informing the public, I have great confidence in the printed word. Newspaper editors and publishers have a great obligation to continue to hold public confidence," he continued, shifting the subject.

"Sometimes it has seemed to me that newspapers have been far too quick to hop on another medium's unhappy state of affairs. They cannot fool the public, however. Silence will not convince the public that the press has a monopoly on all the attributes of purity. When newspapers criticize sex and violence on TV and fail to mention themselves, the public's natural reaction is 'Oh yeah — just who is it that's selling sex and violence.'

"The power of the printed word is fantastic. I have a boy, 'Biff,' they call him, who starred last season in high school football. I watched him play, but the real smash I got was when I read about him in the local newspaper being a 'triple-threat player.'

"I believe this kind of impact rubs off on newspaper advertisers.

"In the case of newspapers there never seems to be a question of who owns the vehicle of communication or advertising. I can't remember when a client asked me to try to influence the editorial content of any newspaper or magazine.

"As I said before, what medium you use, depends upon your clients' objectives. Take for instance the Wolverine Shoe Company, our client, and their Hush Puppies. What we wanted was store outlet identification. What we used was the local power of newspapers through the Sunday supplements. In a couple of years, this client's advertising appropriation has grown from $60,000 a year to over $1,200,000.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Jones was blowing a hot trumpet at the University of Michigan in 1937. Pontiac was sponsoring the Varsity show on radio through MJ&A. Mr. Jones, working his way through college, playing on the Michigan dance band, got on to the program. He also made an impression on W.A.P. John.

"Kid, you're coming to work for me," said "WAP."

Mr. Jones did. He started there on Feb. 15, 1939 — just 21 years ago, at $125 a month in the production department.

"And I've never regretted it once, since" he said. "I guess you can tell I love this busi-

'I'll See Ya'... but When?

Wed in Jail Vestibule

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The bride, like most, was nervous as she twisted a glove in her hand. The groom was a bit pale but was calm and smiling. They seemed oblivious to their surroundings in the vestibule of the Montgomery County jail.

The groom was Earl Hensley, 25, sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for 1-20 years for the fatal Christmas Day, 1959, shooting of a man in the apartment of Miss Orpha Lou Combs, 22, the bride.

The groom also faces the remainder of a 10-25-year sentence for armed robbery in 1952. He was on parole at the time of the shooting.

The couple obtained a court order for permission to marry and a municipal judge performed the ceremony.

As jailers led Hensley back to his cell he looked at his bride and said simply: "I'll see ya'." The bride plans to live with his parents.

Probably Will Keep Rising

Cigarette Smoking Sets Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Cigarette smoking boomed to a new U. S. high in 1959 and probably will set another record this year despite continued medical claims that smoking is linked with lung cancer.

★ ★ ★

The Agriculture Department reported that production of U. S. cigarettes climbed to 490 billion last year, 4 per cent higher than in 1958. It said total output this year seems likely to exceed 500 billion.

Americans spent more than 6 billion dollars on cigarettes in 1959.

The Agriculture Department said per capita consumption among Americans 15 years of age and older reached a record high of nearly 19p packs in 1959, or almost four packs a week.

The report said about 96 per cent of U.S.-produced cigarettes in 1959 were consumed in this country, by armed forces personnel overseas, and in U. S. territories and possessions. The remaining 4 per cent was exported to foreign countries.

ALMOST ONE-TENTH MORE

The $6,100,000,000 spent by Americans on cigarettes in 1959 was nearly one-tenth more than in 1958. Average per-pack prices were higher because of increased taxes in many states and a continued rise in the proportion of filter tip and king size. Federal and state governments collected a record $2,689,000,000 in cigarette taxes in 1959.

The report also said that:

—About 49 per cent of the cigarettes produced in 1959 were filter tip, up from 45 per cent in 1958.

—Cigar and cigarillo consumption last year reached nearly 7 billion up 7.5 per cent from 1958 to the largest total since the early 1920s. A further but slower increase was predicted for this year.

—Output of smoking tobacco for pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes fell 4 per cent last year to 73 million pounds, third lowest in this century. Production of chewing tobacco and snuff also declined. Chewing tobacco was at the lowest level of the century.

Last Steam-Train Ride Set for Sunday April 10

So you couldn't squeeze aboard Grand Trunk Western's last regular steam-powered passenger run last Sunday?

Been feeling bad about it since? Well, those who missed all the fun and nostalgia will have their day —Sunday, April 10.

The train, drawn by a steam locomotive, will consist of air conditioned coaches with open gondola cars added, and will make special stops so amateur photographers may get off and take pictures and movies.

Unless the events of the final regular run of March 27 persuade officials to "save" the old iron horse for future "fan" runs, this will be the final excursion steamer on the Grand Trunk.

Adult round-trip fares from Detroit and Royal Oak are $6, from Birmingham $5.50 and from Pontiac $5. Children 5-12 years old can go half-fare. There is no charge for children under 5.

Tickets are on sale at each station. The train is scheduled to leave Pontiac at 10 a.m. and return at 5:30 p.m.

Payola Probers Send Call to Dick Clark

WASHINGTON (UPI) —House Payola investigators said they have ordered television disc Jockey Dick Clark, idol of the teen-age set, to appear for hearings tentatively set for about April 21.

A spokesman for the investigating subcommittee said that about 20 other persons in the music, publishing and broadcasting industries also have been subpenaed for the hearings.

The subcommittee has had Clark's various activities under investigation since last November. He was served with a subpoena in January and told he would be notified later when to appear.

Jury Today to Get Flatter Slaying Case

DETROIT (AP) — The fate of George Flatter, 20, accused of murdering a housewife, was expected to go to a jury today.

I. A. Capizzi, Flatter's attorney, was to deliver his final arguments today and Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport will charge the jury.

Prosecutor Theodore Kotelly asked the jury yesterday for a first-degree murder conviction in the Jan. 22 strangling of Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, 46. She was slain as she walked home from a theater.

Flatter testified he admitted the slaying only because police forced him. The youth denied on the stand that he killed the woman.

2 Labor Union Leaders Endorsing Symington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two labor union leaders today endorsed Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri for the Democratic nomination for president.

They were James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; and George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

Congress to Act Soon

May Up Tax on Workers Under Social Security

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Chances is scheduled under existing law to are growing that Congress might jump to 3.5 per cent in 1963, 4 per levy higher payroll taxes this year cent in 1966 and 4.5 per cent in on persons covered by the social 1969.

This prospect stemmed from the fact that the House Ways and Means Committee was likely to recommend soon an election-year liberalization of social security benefits.

There is strong sentiment for holding the cost of the liberalization to a level that could be financed without an across-the-board boost in the social security tax rate. To do so, the committee would have to forego a general hike in monthly benefits.

However, the committee might wind up approving a package of various liberalizing features that would require some additional revenue.

If so, the committee was likely to decide to provide the extra money by raising from $4,800 to $6,000 the annual earnings base against which the 3 per cent tax is applied.

Should the tax be applied to the first $6,000 in earnings, it would mean a $36 a year tax increase for covered employes earning that much. Their employers would have to match the contribution. Self-employed persons earning $6,000 or more would be hit by a tax increase of $54.

Persons subject to the higher tax would qualify upon retirement for higher benefits than they are entitled to now. This is so because the benefits are geared by formula to contributions paid into the multi-billion-dollar social security trust fund.

The present 3 per cent tax rate for employes and employers

3 Princesses Will Visit Los Angeles Next June

Red Tape Tangle: Sales by Military Bring Net Loss

WASHINGTON (UPI)— House investigators have criticized the red tape involved in military surplus disposal. They said it costs $7 on the average to dispose of a surplus item for $5.

The criticism was contained in a report on military buying, supply and surplus policies prepared by the staff of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

The report said present procedures for getting rid of unneeded property of low value involved too much red tape. It sometimes takes 45 different actions and the completion of 12 forms to process an item for disposal, the subcommittee said.

The investigators claimed on the average a piece of property which originally cost the government $100 brings $5 while the cost of processing it for surplus runs about $7.

SEGREGATION DEMONSTRATORS — Some of the 5,000 student demonstrators are shown as they marched down the main street in Baton Rouge Wednesday. Earlier, a Southern University group of 3,000 had converged on the capitol mail. They sang and prayed and left in about an hour. There was no violence, no arrests. They were all well dressed and the song they used was the national anthem. AP Photofax

Thousands Also March on Baton Rouge

Water Down Spirits of Texas Negroes

By The Associated Press

Powerful streams of water from fire hoses churned into a group of several hundred young Texas Negroes.

A thousand others chanting the Lord's Prayer paraded through the streets to Louisiana's 34-story state capitol at Baton Rouge for a protest assembly.

Those were major developments Wednesday in the unfolding campaign of the South's Negro youth to obtain service at lunch counters traditionally reserved for white patrons.

The fire hoses went into play at Marshall, a town of 30,000 in the East Texas oil and farming region, to break up an assemblage at the courthouse square protesting lunch counter incidents which had brought arrests.

The incidents started as Negroes tried for the third time in a week to patronize lunch counters. Police made 55 arrests for unlawful assembly, then took into custody 200 more who gathered at the courthouse singing the "Star Spangled Banner" "God Bless America", and similar songs.

The crowd re-formed faster than it could be thinned by arrests, at one time pressing forward to the courthouse steps only to be warned by the district attorney. When officers started freeing those who had been taken into custody and they joined the crowd outside, firemen turned loose the hoses. Order was restored.

Shortly after the 1,000 students of Southern University, Negro state college and supporters staged their rally on the capitol grounds at Baton Rouge, the university announced the ousting of 18 from its rolls.

Dr. Martin L. Harvey, university dean, said the disciplinary action was taken for "violating university regulations, relating to insubordination, and conduct unbecoming to Southern University students."

★ ★ ★

The march on the capitol by the crowd singing "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was to protest segregation practices which had resulted Monday in the jailing of several Negro students after Louisiana's first sitdown at a white lunch counter.

Senator Uses Free Stationery to Assail Con-Con

LANSING (UP) — The so-called League-Jaycee proposal for a constitutional convention was assailed today by Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater), in a mailing to 3,500 constituents.

"This could provide an effective delegation of the convention by these samp three counties and a potential blackout of concern and a gag of voice for Michigan's remaining 80 counties," the senator said.

Smeekens last week received delivery on 10,000 envelopes and 10,000 letterheads imprinted with his name. He said then that 3,500 sets would be used for normal district correspondence before May 15.

Riding a bicycle, say some doctors, helps keep you young. At least, riding it in heavy traffic may keep you from getting old . . . A bachelor is a fellow who gets to use his own phone. —Earl Wilson.

Castro Shocks U.S. Over Pact

Assertion Cuba Is Not Bound by '47 Rio Treaty Causes Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States expressed "amazement and concern" today over Cuban Premier Fidel Castro's assertion that his government is not bound by the 1947 Rio hemispheric defense pact.

The State Department indicated it would make inquiries through the Organization of American States (OAS) and in Havana to learn whether the Cuban government intends officially to renounce the treaty.

Castro said on a television program Monday that Cuba is not bound by the Rio treaty because his government did not sign it. Aside from the television statement, Cuba has taken no formal steps to back out of the pact.

State Department press officer Lincoln White told reporters Castro's speech was "contrary" to his assurances when he came to power in 1959 that Cuba would honor its previous international agreements. Castro repeated this promise when he visited the United States last April.

White said "It would be difficult to overstate the amazement and concern" of the United States at Castro's Monday statement.

Spending Mark OK'd in Alaska

Legislature Is Adjourned After Passing 2 Plans Over Governor's Veto

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The 1960 Alaskan Legislature adjourned Wednesday after approving a record 46½-million-dollar state spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The spending budget was the largest Alaska has ever okayed for one year, either as a state or as a territory.

The 1960 legislative session, the second lawmaking meeting in the state's short history as a full-fledged member of the Union, ran 63 days.

It probably will be remembered for two actions.

First, it passed, over Gov. William A. Egan's veto, a bill to legalize certain types of nonprofit gambling, including the state's famed ice pool lotteries.

Secondly, the Legislature approved a program which will permit honor prisoners, single and married, week-long leaves for visits home. Opponents criticized the plan as a boudoir and honeymoon bill. Successful buckers called it a forward step in the rehabiliation of convicts.

* * *

The Legislature passed only two general tax increases, raising the motor fuel tax two cents a gallon to a total of seven cents a gallon and the marine fuel tax one cent a gallon to a total of three cents a gallon. The two increases will bring an additional $1,050,000 a year in revenue.

Miami Beach Having Its Biggest Year

From Mangroves to Coconuts to Towers!

By BOB CONSIDINE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Am down here for the 45th birthday of one of the most incredible places on the face of the earth — and certainly THE most incredible metropolis ever to rise from a combination mangrove swamp and sandpit.

* * *

Miami Beach is thriving. Doesn't look a day over 44. This was the first season since World War II not marked by the opening of a "this year's hotel." Actually, there's very little room left for the building of another pleasure dome along the golden strand. The place is 98 per cent covered with property now.

Miami Beach, girdled geographically so tightly that it is next to impossible to expand outward into the ocean or into Biscayne Bay, can only go up. At 45, it shows every intention of doing just that.

It has just had its biggest winter season. It is embarking on its biggest spring and summer season. The jets whistle you into this place from almost anywhere in less time than it used to take to travel from New York to Philadelphia. The weather remains generally wonderful. The horses, dogs and jai alai had their best respective seasons.

BEACH FANTASTIC

We've seen some pretty impressive mushrooming cities in recent weeks, notably Sao Paulo and Brasilia, in Brazil. But Miami Beach is something else again, in fantastic growth.

The first house planted on Miami Beach was a refuge at what is now 72nd street and Collins avenue. It was flung up in 1876 "to afford succor to shipwrecked persons who may be cast ashore and who, in the absence of such means of relief, would be liable to perish from hunger and thirst in that desolate region."

* * *

The southern tip of the sandspit was bought in 1882 for 35 cents an acre by one Henry B. Lum. The government, which owned it, was happy to unload it on the poor sucker.

Uncle Sam also struck a sharp deal with Ezra Osborn and Elnathan T. Field — selling those greenhorns 65 miles of ocean front up the coast a bit, for prices that ranged from 74 cents to $1.25 an acre. There are places along that strand now which charge that much to peel a grape.

A WINTER RESORT

Messrs. Lum, Osborn and Field, all from New Jersey, dreamed of lining these langourous shores with coconut trees. Eventually they had 334,000 trees in place, but nobody wanted to eat coconuts and the place became jungle. They brought in a friend, horticulturist John S. Collins, to see what could be done about the unwanted coconut jungle. Collins — after whom, of course, a great street is named — said "To H— with the coconuts. Let's make it a winter resort."

And so it began to take shape, but ever so slowly until Fisher — Indianapolis millionaire who had made a mint with Prest-O-Lite — gave it a shot in the arm during World War I.

The town of Miami Beach was incorporated March 26, 1915, with 33 registered voters. By 1921, at the beginning of the Era of Wonderful Nonsense, it had a population of 644. That seemed enough to form the chamber of commerce.

Steven Hannagan, Joe Copps and Larry Smite bagon doing its publicity. They put pictures of girls in bathing suits in nearly every newspaper in the country — a sensational stunt at the time.

* * *

Steve had an elephant caddy for President Harding. He did a lot of other wonderful things, too.

Then a hurricane nearly turned the budding place back into a mangrove swamp, the real estate boom burst, and it looked like curtains.

* * *

But Miami Beach rose from its ruins, grew back, stood off the depression and the travel restrictions during World War II, and simply has not stopped growing since.

Happy birthday, M.B., and many more.

Pennsylvania Leads in Industry Growth

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — A publisher told the final session of the American Industrial Development Council's 35th annual meeting Tuesday that Pennsylvania established 72 new industrial plants during the past six months to lead the nation.

H. McKinley Conway Jr., president of Conway publications, Atlanta, Ga., said California was runner up with 65, followed by Massachusetts with 64.

Others in order were Florida, 61, Mississippi, 54, North Carolina, 47, Texas, 39, Tennessee 35, and Iowa and Michigan each with 33.

Conway said estimates by the Department of Commerce show that industrial expansion through the nation will exceed a total value of 37 billion dollars.

Williams Bears Gift of Sweetness to Sam Rayburn

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams took along a gallon of Michigan honey for house speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) when he went to Washington Wednesday.

* * *

Williams attended the White House conference on children and youth.

The Governor said he discovered during the Democratic Midwest Conference in Detroit last weekend that Rayburn liked honey.

The honey will be the gift of L. M. Hubbard, Onsted.

Michigan has the nation's 8th largest honey crop, according to Joe E. Wells, assistant to the state director of agriculture.

June Dates Revealed

Arts Festival Set

By MARJORIE EICHER

The third annual Arts Festival of the Bloomfield Art Assn. is set for June 13 through June 19. The affair has grown so in its short history, that it will encompass not only a great part of the geography of the Bloomfield - Birmingham area, but most of the arts and crafts.

Kickoff for the expanded affair will be a formal dinner dance at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club June 11. Proceeds from the $100-a-couple event are expected to net $10,000. They are earmarked for expanded community art facilities aimed at serving the greater Oakland County community.

Mrs. Donald E. Ahrens and Mrs. Cyrus R. Osborn of Bloomfield Hills are cochairmen of the Arts Festival Ball.

Assisting on their committee are Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Averill; Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth; Mr. and Mrs. John Bugas; Mr. and Mrs. Dean Coffin; Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Colbert; Mr. and Mrs. Phil De-Beaubien; Mr. and Mrs. Rocco DiMarco; Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fredericks; Mr. and Mrs. Max Fruhauf, and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gordon.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Merritt D. Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge; Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Laidlaw; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones; Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knudsen; Mr. and Mrs. William C. Newberg; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robins; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shenefield; Mr. and Mrs. John K. Stevenson; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Thom; Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Vander Kloot; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford West; and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Winston.

Arts Festival chairman Robert Thom, familiar to most people for widely reproduced Parke-Davis medical history canvases, has enlarged the open-air scope of previous year's festivals. All of Birmingham's Shain Park will be a stage for arts and crafts activities.

According to Mr. Thom, "There will be artists painting and demonstrating techniques of water colors and oils in the park. Sculptors will be at work . . . weavers will use their looms . . . metal pounders will be raising bowls. Glass blowers, potters, dancers, singers, photographers, dramatic groups will add their talents to the park demonstration.

Climaxing the week long activities will be an "Evening With Sandburg" at Cranbrook on June 19 at 7 p.m. Chairman of this portion of the festival, Mrs. William C. Newberg said, "Mr. Sandburg's many friends here are excited that he is coming.

"We hope the young people of our area will take this opportunity to hear and see this eminent and artistic personality of our time who has interpreted for a world audience the great American spirit in Letters," she said.

"Only three and a half years old, Bloomfield Art Assn. which was founded by 22 people in a small rented building has grown to its present size of 500 members. It provides a studio-gallery center for a planned program of art exhibits, lectures, movies and classroom instruction.

Without seeking the role, president Paul Averill said, the group found itself elected by community demand on its resources to carry the initiative in the arts at a creative and spectacular level. Facility expansion is a must, he said, but what direction it takes must be carefully explored.

JANE SKELLEY

Announcement is made of the engagement of Jane Skelley and LaMarr A. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steven Green of Beach street. The bride-elect is the daughter of Carl Skelley of Woodland avenue, Sylvan Lake, and the late Mrs. Skelley.

NFL to Continue Same TV Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Football League will continue its past television policy of each club arranging its own program despite a possible package deal setup by the new American Football League.

Ending a two-day meeting Wednesday, the NFL agreed unanimously not to negotiate any TV package "in view of present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws."

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said serious consideration had been given to package TV because of financial benefits, adding:

"It was argued that such an arrangement by a league or association involved exclusivity and allocation of areas, and in view of the present uncertainty of the legal interpretation of applicable federal laws, no risk of violation should be taken until this matter is clarified."

The AFL announced last week it had a 56-game TV package for sale to either the National Broadcasting Co., or the American Broadcasting Co.

AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Wednesday night in Dallas he had not discussed a package with the networks and sponsors.

In commenting on the possible legal barriers of a package deal as raised by the NFL, Foss said:

"I do not know whether our plan actually will be a package deal. However, I would say offhand that we would be within the law because we would give all parties the opportunity of bidding on it."

NBC said Wednesday it had acquired 1960 TV rights of all pre-championship and regular season games of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Baltimore Colts. There will be a "game of the week" involving either of the two teams on the NBC network, but not beamed by any station within a 75-mile radius of any of the 13 NFL cities.

Eight NFL clubs are committed to CBS for 1960 and 1961 with options for 1962. These are Detroit, Green Bay, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis Cardinals, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago Bears.

The Cleveland Browns had their own network setup last year. Washington, as well as Pittsburgh and Baltimore, were on the CBS hookup in 1959 but under sponsor contracts.

The new Dallas entry is to make its own TV arrangement for 1960.

Work was done on the NFL's pre-season and regular season playing schedules for 1960 and they will be announced locally by each club.

Bill Is Killed

Sorry, No Machine Guns

LANSING (UPI) — A bill that would permit the use of machine guns in shooting competition among sportsmen was killed yesterday in the State Legislature.

Two lawmakers said the bill was backed by some Michigan undertakers.

Sens. William E. Miron (D-Escanaba) and Charles Blondy (D-Detroit) produced letters from funeral directors who supported the House-approved measure prescribing regulations for the use of machine guns in shooting competition.

Miron claimed the undertakers were "looking for business."

Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit) countered saying that he authored the bill for a sportsman friend who happens to be an undertaker. The sportsman asked other friends, some of them funeral directors, to write lawmakers in support of the bill.

Ah Yes, We Bid Adieu to Skiing

As we leave the season of snow, and put away the ski equipment (hoping that all skiers will forgive all sun-seekers for wishing to have seen the last of winter), we leave the duties of rounding up all die-hard skiers from the slopes to the men of the ski patrols.

Just who are these patrolmen of the slopes?

Dr. Lynn Smith, D.V.M., of Perry Street in Pontiac, was recently appointed to the National Ski Patrol. Dr. Smith outlines the duties, history and qualifications of the Ski Patrolman as a feature to close out The Press' weekly ski page for the season.

The National Ski Patrol was founded by Minot C. Dole in the early 1930's as result of two skiing accidents, one involving Dole and the other ending fatally for his rescuer.

Dole and a companion were skiing in sparsely developed areas in mountains in the Eastern part of the country. Dole fell and broke his ankle and as he lay suffering from exposure and shock on the mountain trail, his friend left for his starting point and returned with a makeshift toboggan.

Dole received medical attention and was recuperating when he received word that his friend had been in a similar accident but had died from exposure because help was too late forthcoming.

From this tragic tale, the National Ski Patrol was born under Dole's initiative.

Most skiing areas now have rescue and first aid facilities with patrolmen to give aid to injured persons.

Candidates must pass rigid certification procedures in order to be accepted into the National Ski Patrol system as Senior patrolmen. He is then assigned as a member to a registered patrol.

In Oakland County there are two registered patrols, one at Mt. Christie and another at Mt. Holly.

A senior patrolman is identified by the distinctive rust colored parka along with triangle patch worn on the left shoulder. When on duty he has a first aid belt marked with a cross.

To the skiers these men are the good samaritans and not policemen. Their duties are to aid and protect the skier.

The ultimate honor for the ski patrolman is the appointment to the National Ski Patrol. This honor has been bestowed on nearly 3,000 patrolmen in the United States.

To qualify, a patrolman must take additional courses in Avalanche rescue, and he must have served the National Patrol system in various ways.

His dress is similar to the senior patrolman but on the right shoulder he wears a six-pointed star with the words National Ski Patrol.

★ ★ ★

During the past ski season, Ski Patrolmen have diligently been the good will men of the slopes for the rapidly growing sport, especially around Oakland County.

So, The Press ski page bids adieu for the season with tribute to these men.

Still Want to Ski? Try Boyne Mountain

Kill Morticians' Sales Promotion; No Machine Guns

LANSING (UPI) — A bill legalizing machine guns in Michigan met defeat Wednesday in the State Senate.

John Lesinski of Detroit introduced the bill on behalf of a group of gun collectors. One gun fancier, a funeral director, got several fellow morticians to write letters to the Senate.

But Sen. Charles Blondy of Detroit protested:

Scientist Proves:

Virus Causes Leukemia

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—A scientist came up Wednesday with definite proof that leukemia in human beings is caused by a virus. This event had been long anticipated by scientific research, but the scientist went one step further.

He asserted that the virus is the sole cause of human leukemia, which sometimes is called blood cancer and is uniformly fatal. This assertion was immediately disputed by other scientific authorities. His work, however, held out two presently remote possibilities.

One is a serum containing antibodies to the leukemia virus which when injected into victims of the disease might (theoretically) halt the disease process and prolong their lives indefinitely. The other is a vaccine which would protect people from ever getting the disease.

DR. STEVEN SCHWARTZ

These possibilities are remote because there is no known way of growing this human leukemia virus in a laboratory. Its presence was demonstrated by roundabout it scientifically conclusive means, although the scientist produced pictures of the virus enlarged five million times through an electronic microscope.

The proof was laid out at a seminar on cancer research sponsored by the American Cancer Society by Dr. Steven O. Schwartz, representing the Hektoen Institute for Medical Research, Chicago, where the work was done.

This work included putting the human leukemia virus into 14 prisoners of the Cook County Jail without any harmful effect to the prisoners, which showed in itself that the virus is of very low potency.

Schwartz emphasized this. He said the virus was like a seed. It could not "grow" unless all conditions were favorable—good soil and enough rain, warmth and sunshine.

Translated to human beings, this would mean a body chemical state favoring the virus, which would be controlled in part by heredity and in part by environmental circumstances.

But he asserted that without the "seed" there could be no leukemia. Dr. William Dameshek, director of the blood research laboratory, New England Center Hospital, Boston, disputed this although he didn't insist Schwartz had to be wrong.

He considers that excessive radiation has been proved to be a cause of leukemia—by changing the basic nature of white blood cells. Schwartz said the virus could do the same thing.

Prof. Leon Dmochowski of Baylor University, Houston, another member of the panel and also a distinguished figure in cancer research, went along with the viral growth of leukemia but not with the idea that a virus had to be present for there to be leukemia.

However, he didn't dispute it. Like scientists in the audience listening with rapt attention, he awaits the proof of that and many laboratories will soon be working on the question. But the concern of all the scientists was that the public would place too much immediate value on what is a "work-in-progress" which asks many more questions than it answers.

Miami's Grown a Bit Since First Popularity

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH — I'm a little jealous of Miami Beach on its happy 45th birthday because it's got so big, powerful and rich that it's getting stars we can't get on Broadway.

★ ★ ★

And what a growth! We used to ride the train down, about 1940, staying up all night in the club car. In 1946 I reported breathlessly that we'd made it by plane "in less than 9 hours" and commented about the wonder of flying 250 miles an hour.

The B.W. and I occupied Al Johnson's cabana at the Lord Tarleton one time.

WILSON

Ted Husing's happy voice boomed around the Roney-Plaza. Damon Runyon, Mark Hellinger, Ham Fisher and Frank Hague were about. Feeling brave, I went out to Al Capone's house once. A servant asked me if I had an appointment with Mr. Capone. I got the point.

The favorite story was of a N.Y. visitor finding five $100 bills in a money clip on the beach.

Gambling was on. Harry Richman, Phil Regan, Georgie Price, Ted Lewis, Sophie Tucker and Milton Berle were stars—so was Joe E. Lewis who, thanks to his cloistered life, opened again this week.

Flash! Zsa Zsa Gabor returned the 15-carat diamond "friendship — not engagement" ring which wealthy Sidney Barton gave her. "It's vurth $66,000, too expensive to keep," she said. Told that she'd acted like a lady, she said, "Ven vas I not a lady?" (Zsa now plans to enter Actors Studio) . . . Carol Lawrence takes over her original part in the revived "West Side Story" Apr. 27 — but this time she'll be billed above the title — real stardom . . . Billy Rose and ex-wife Joyce Mathews are dating again. Joyce, just in from Europe, went with him to see Dixieland group, and romance looks rekindled.

Sergeant Sure of 314; Calls It HIS Number

BANGOR, Maine (UPI) — There's something symbolic in the assignment of M. Sgt. Albert E. Martel to the 341st Air Refueling Squadron at Dow Air Force Base.

As a radioman-gunner in World War II, he flew from England in a B17 bomber that was number 341. It was hit by flak on a mission, but managed to land. The crew dug out the shell remnant and found it bore the number 341.

'Trial by Fury' to Await Castro as Final Critic

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the long run, the man who writes the review that counts about "Trial by Fury" is named Fidel Castro.

The matter-of-fact drama on last night's CBS-TV "Armstrong Circle Theater" recreated the experiences of James Buchanan, a reporter for the Miami Herald, who was imprisoned by the Cubans while covering a story in Havana.

In telling his story, Harold Gast's script emphasized some serious shortcomings in Castro's approach to civil liberties, both as regards his own people and foreigners. Castro's critique on the drama should be of interest.

As an experienced TV performer in his own right, I'm sure Fidel will make the artistic allowances for some over-emphatic gestures and sinister tones employed by the players who represented his government. And I trust he'll note that a sense of humor was not entirely lacking among his aides.

Buchanan, ably played by Philip Abbott, spent 13 days in a Cuban prison on trumped-up charges of aiding the escape of Austin Young, an anti-Castro American adventurer. Found guilty by a military court, Buchanan was given this alternative: 14 years at hard labor or voluntary departure from the island. He chose the latter.

OBJECTIVE APPROACH

There were many sad and disturbing points made in the hour but to me, the saddest came shortly after Buchanan's arrest. The secret police asked why he didn't tell them where Austin Young was hiding. Buchanan explained that newsmen do not reveal their sources; that when he spent weeks with Castro's army before the rebel army's victory, he did not run to Gen. Batista and reveal Castro's whereabouts.

This meant nothing to the Cubans. They chose to ignore bygone days. Still, the scene illuminated two things: The American newsman's objective approach to a news story and the Castro regime's quick temper.

The drama depicted the Cuban officials as suspicious, often irrational people who suffer greatly from persecution complexes and bureaucratic syndromes. Badly advised though they were, at least they didn't go so far as to torture Buchanan or abuse him physically during his 13-day ordeal. Therein lies the hope for better days ahead in Cuba.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: "Mr. Lucky" has run out of luck. The CBS-TV crime series will not be renewed. . . . Starting June 30, re-runs of "The Jeannie Carson Show" replace ABC-TV's "Pat Boone Show."

Garry Moore's summer replacement on CBS-TV, starting July 5, will be a 60-minute mystery-detective series.

Charles Laughton's abbreviated version of "Midsummer Night's Dream," commissioned and then rejected by NBC-TV's "Startime" series, also was turned down by CBS-TV as a possible special.

A two-part drama based on the Sacco-Vanzetti case has been moved back by NBC-TV. Originally scheduled for "Sunday Showcases" of May 22 and 29, the documentary will be seen on Fridays, June 3 and 10. Sidney Lumet has signed as the director.

A greeting card manufacturer has established "The Hallmark Fund for Television Drama," which consists of a revolving fund of from $50,000 to $250,000 to reward writers of original dramatic works for TV.

TV Networks Start RFE Fund Drive

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four of the nation's major broadcasting outlets opened a campaign by closed circuit television Tuesday to raise 10 million dollars for Radio Free Europe.

Speakers on the special program telecast to broadcasting personnel included Robert Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Co.; Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System; Leonard Goldenson, president of the American Broadcasting Co., and Donald H. McGannon, president of the Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

The industry fund-raising campaign will run officially from April 24 to May 8.

BBC Rejects 4 U.S. TV Films as Too Violent

LONDON (UPI) — Four American television films were rejected by the British Broadcasting Corp. Tuesday under its antiviolence code.

The BBC turned down two episodes of Laramie, a western, and two of Philip Marlow, a detective series.

The code is aimed at reducing the amount of violence in programming during children's viewing hours. It does not apply to the rival Independent Television Authority network.

Westerns are allowed more violence than other shows because the BBC acknowledged they would lose their punch without it. But fighting with whips, bottles, and knives is banned, as is the sound of crunching bones or skulls.
