10 Killed as Building Caves In at Jackson

6 Still Buried in A-Bombproof Ruins; 15 Hurt

Salvagers Quit Digging
After All-Night Effort;
Walls Teetering

JACKSON (AP)—Workers broke off rescue operations early today in the shattered ruins of a collapsed building, leaving at least six men presumed dead in wreckage that already has yielded four bodies.

The task of uncovering tangled tons of concrete and steel which buried the victims will resume later today. Walls that threaten to fall will be knocked down.

The halt in the digging that had continued throughout the night canceled the last faint hope that some of the trapped workmen would be found alive.

John Schweitzer, a construction superintendent directing the rescue work, said at least six men are still in the wreckage and all are presumed dead.

Fifteen others were injured yesterday when the half-completed office building of the Consumers Power Co. collapsed with a roar.

The four-story structure had been designed to withstand the shock of an A-bomb blast.

amid steel girders and concrete that crashed through all four floors of the structure.

At Jackson, Miss., the Southern city of the same name, 13 men were injured yesterday in the collapse of a 40-by-40 foot section of a garage as workmen were pouring and smoothing cement in forms. The workmen were thrown 20 feet.

The $2,500,000 Michigan building, scheduled for completion next fall, was to contain five of Consumers Power's 16 principal offices.

The more than 100 workmen on the project had returned from lunch less than a half hour earlier when the east wing of the 200-by-400 foot building gave way. Concrete was being poured for the fourth floor when the collapse came.

Earlier, Frank Herlihy, the general contractor, had made an inspection tour of the building with the plumbing contractor. They found no signs of structural weakness, they said.

Herlihy said there was no indication "green" concrete was being used. He said he believed the concrete had been properly cured and all precautions taken not to pour it too fast.

"It all happened so fast I didn't get to see very much," said Russell Taylor, 64, a carpenter who was inside the building. "There was a cloud of dust and it was over in about three seconds. Shortly afterward I could

'Bank Robbers' Are Only 'Shot' With Cameras

In spite of the fact that Walled Lake was swarming with "cops" the bank robbers got away one day this week, although not on the first attempt. Later of course, they were captured and had to answer for their crime.

Unless one noted the cameras and their crews as he drove through the city, he might have been worried when he saw the crowds around the Community National bank and the numbers of state police in evidence.

A movie was being made and many drivers and pedestrians were interested in the process.

Arriving, unawares, on the scene late in the afternoon, a Press reporter was told by a courteous member of the state police that they were assisting the Ford Motor company in making a movie. His manner implied that this was just routine, and, please, he was busy directing traffic, so would the reporter please move along. She did.

DISASTER SCENE — Ambulances and emergency vehicles were in abundance at the scene of the collapsed Consumers Power Building in Jackson where at least 10 people lost their lives yesterday afternoon.

The $3 million building was under construction when the floors and walls caved in without warning.

INJURED IN COLLAPSE — Seriously injured but still alive, an unidentified workman is lifted from the ruins of a new office building where he was trapped when a reinforced wall gave way in Jackson yesterday. Ten are dead or missing and 15 hurt in the collapse.

123 Dig for Cave-In Victims

Prisoners Show They Care

JACKSON (INS)—The 123 convicts who risked their lives trying to rescue six men trapped in a collapsed building under construction in Jackson had one main purpose behind their heroic action.

They wanted to show, although they have been barred for a period of time or for life from society, they still are human beings and that there is human goodness—even behind prison walls.

During brief rest periods from digging into the twisted concrete of the collapsed Consumers Power Co. structure, these are the comments prisoners from Southern Michigan State Prison in Jackson made:

William Kent, 27, of Grand Rapids, serving 3½ to 5 years for breaking and entering:

"We heard the news over the radio. I guess some of us are kind of sentimental, we thought we could help out. Besides, many people just think we're no good and we wanted to show them we could do something."

Rollie Bradley, 33, of Jackson, 14 years for forgery:

"I thought they might need some help. I still got a heart no matter if I done time. These are good guys (prisoners) here and the public should know more about the guys in prison."

Ross McGath, 26, of Benton Harbor, 3 to 15 years for breaking and entering:

"Somebody had to do it. We own something to these people anyway."

Albert Collins, 42, Ft. Wayne, Ind., serving life for second degree murder:

"I figured I should help these men. I made a mistake and I'm trying to make up for it."

Joseph Carchon, 31, of Detroit, 5 to 15 years for robbery and high-jacking:

"It's the human thing to do. If my family was in here, I would want people to help them too."

Lt. Russell Tracy, one of the prison guards, was highly pleased with "his boys." He said:

"I was kind of mad at these boys when they had that prison riot a few years back, but this makes up for it."

COLOGNE, Germany (AP)—Henry Ford II arrived here yesterday for an inspection of the German Ford Automobile and Truck plant, a branch of his giant American car making firm.

Protesters Hear Plans for Telegraph Intersection

George M. Foster, chief deputy State Highway Commissioner, last night disclosed that the relocation of Telegraph road at Orchard Lake avenue was "designed" to carry combined traffic of Telegraph and the proposed north-south expressway through Oakland County.

But Foster added: "We don't intend to run the expressway through there unless we can't do anything else."

Speaking at a protest meeting of more than 3,000 citizens (see page two) who would be affected by the proposed expressway, Foster said it would be built to carry up to 150,000 cars daily at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

A traffic count taken two years ago showed Telegraph road carried 14,127 vehicles at a point 300 feet south of the intersection.

awarded for the mile-long relocation of Telegraph road north and south of Orchard Lake Avenue. An overpass to carry Orchard Lake over the relocation was started in May, but work has been stopped.

Highway department officials have explained the delay in construction is due to a steel shortage, which they say is due to the 34-day steel strike this summer.

Completion date for the overpass originally was December, 1955. Foster confirmed last night it is now set at June 15, 1957.

Indiana Crash Claims 10 Lives

Nine Muncie Residents Are Killed in Head-on Collision

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP)—An automobile carrying nine Muncie residents, eight of them members of one family, smashed head-on into a Keystone man's car Wednesday night, crushing the life from all 10 occupants.

It was believed to be the worst automobile accident in Indiana history.

The victims were identified as Fred D. Beal, 35; his sister, Loreta Beal; their mother, Mrs. Marie Clark, 60; Beal's wife, Lillian, 30; their daughters, Inez, 8; Christine, 6; Vickie Lynn, 5; and Claudia, 4; Jesse W. Price, 37, all of Muncie, and Thomas B. Burns, 36, Keystone.

The crash occurred six miles west of Muncie on Ind. 67, Coroner Eugene Eissman said state police told him Beal's car, traveling southwest at high speed, hit Burns' car and pushed it 88 feet down the road.

The smashed cars locked grills, Burns' car turning over, as they slid to a stop at the side of a curve in the road.

Trooper William Rice said Burns apparently applied his brakes before the collision. Tire marks showed he had slid 50 feet before the impact.

Brink's Defense Set to Submit Motions

BOSTON (AP)—The defense in the $1,219,000 Brink's robbery trial says it will submit a number of motions today in behalf of the eight defendants before the case goes to the jury.

Both prosecution and defense have completed the presentation of evidence.

The case may go to the jury tomorrow night or Saturday morning.

The defense rested yesterday in the ninth week of the Superior Court trial without any of the defendants testifying.

Michigan Color Tour Best This Week, Next

LANSING (AP)—This week and the next is the time to take a color tour of Michigan to see the fall foliage at its best, the State Tourist Council advised today.

The council said dozens of north country areas have wired in their foliage colors are now at their peak and will hold for another week or two.

Threat of Rain Postpones 2nd Series Contest

NEW YORK (INS)—The second game of the world series was postponed today by commissioner Ford Frick because of rain and threatening weather.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, eager to make it two straight on the heels of their opening game 6 to 3 victory yesterday, and their interborough adversaries, the New York Yankees, will play the second game at Ebbets Field tomorrow, weather permitting.

The Yankee Stadium opener, originally scheduled for tomorrow, will be postponed correspondingly until Saturday.

Frick announced the postponement shortly after 11 a.m. after he and the umpires and managers had inspected the field. A light rain, which had fallen most of the morning, had stopped temporarily, but the commissioner said the weather bureau warned that more and heavier rain was expected.

Chief Remains on Critical List

Calvin Baxter Suffers Third Degree Burns in Bowling Alley Fire

Calvin C. Baxter, Keego Harbor police chief, remained in critical condition today from burns received yesterday from a $50,000 bowling alley fire in downtown Keego Harbor.

Doctors at Pontiac General Hospital said Baxter, 31, suffered third degree burns over his entire body when trapped by flames in the Spillwood Lanes, 2945 Orchard Lake Ave.

West Bloomfield Fire Chief Ben Mosher believed the two-and-a-quarter-hour fire started when fumes from shellac thinner ignited in a rear room.

An off-duty janitor, William Daines, told Mosher the fire started when he turned on an electric light, causing a spark.

Mosher estimated the damage at $25,000 to the cement block structure and $25,000 to contents. The owner, Elmer Mavis, valued the building alone at $40,000.

Almost a third of the roof collapsed over the eight-alley lanes before the fire was under control at 1:15 p.m., Mosher said. Three township stations and firemen from Waterford Township battled the blaze.

Baxter, who also is a fire department member, was trapped after he entered the front door with a hose. He was rescued through a window when fire suddenly ripped through the lacquered alleyways.

Several other firemen and bystanders suffered minor burns not requiring hospital care, Mosher said.

Says Design Not Cause of Building's Collapse

LANSING (AP)—The architect for the Consumers Power Co. Building that collapsed yesterday in Jackson said today that the disaster "had nothing to do with the architectural design."

"The design was strictly conventional," said Kenneth C. Black of the Lansing firm of Lee Black and Kenneth C. Black Associates, architects for the building. "It has been used in hundreds of buildings."

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

ARTHUR E. SUMMERFIELD

Summerfield Reveals Plans to Broomfield

Option Taken on Land on West Side of City, Due to Open in Year

Pontiac will get a new post office within a year, State Sen. William S. Broomfield and Congressman George A. Dondero said today.

The new main office, planned for a west side location, was announced by the two after they received a telegram confirming the decision from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Plans for the building, originally intended to be the city's center for parcel post and vehicle handling operations, have been expanded since the announcement in February to include a main office on West Huron street between Chipewa road and Genesee avenue.

Leslie H. Dean, Pontiac's acting postmaster, said today he is "extremely gratified" by the plans.

Dean credited Dondero and Broomfield with "helping to push this through after we ran into some initial difficulties."

Dean said the expanded plan was developed after Post Office Department real estate experts found they couldn't buy a downtown site for the parcel post and vehicle handling building.

"It was decided," he said, "to build a new main office on a total ground space of 50,000 to 100,000 square feet, and with 34,000 square feet of postal operating space."

"I picked the site because it's big enough to house all our operations, plus off-street parking for our patrons, with a modern, one-story building."

OPTION PICKED UP

The Post Office Real Estate Division began negotiating for the site in July, Dean said. Summerfield announced yesterday an option has been taken. No cost was mentioned.

According to Dean, the present main office will be used as a "downtown finance section" with at least 6,000 square feet of operating space and carriers to serve the downtown area.

He described the planned building as a one-story, modern structure, "not a monument-type building," with fluorescent lighting throughout and efficient interior design.

Under Post Office policy, the department will ask for bids from private parties interested in building the office and leasing it to the government for 30 to 50 years.

Summerfield said bids will be asked "in the very near future," and construction should start "within six months."

Plans to expand postal facilities in Pontiac were announced by Summerfield Feb. 9, after a series appeared in The Press detailing inadequacies of the present building.

Summerfield said then the series convinced him "there is no question of Pontiac's need" for additional facilities.

Kennedy Schedules Talk

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.), making his first appearance in Michigan, will be the principal speaker at a fund-raising dinner, Oct. 11, sponsored by Detroit's 14th District Democratic organization.

Newsman to Quiz Vice President

Nixon Reports to Nation on TV Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon reports to the nation tonight on his 32-state campaign tour that ended last night in Philadelphia with a blast at what he called Adlai Stevenson's "catastrophic nonsense."

The GOP's campaign workhorse will make his first network television appearance (NBC-7:30 p.m. EST) of the 1956 campaign in what the Republican National Committee billed as "another first."

Political writers in eight cities visited by Nixon on his airborne campaign tour that traveled 15,000 miles in 16 days will quiz him on his findings in an unrehearsed program.

Nixon will rest here for five days and confer with party officials and President Eisenhower before leaving next Tuesday on another swing that will take him to 14 states in 10 days.

He arrived at National Airport here late last night after a wind-up foreign policy speech in Philadelphia, last stop on the trip that took him up and down the Pacific Coast, into the Northwest, through the Farm Belt, into the South and the Southwest and into New England.

He chose "The City of Brotherly Love" to answer Stevenson's proposal in New Jersey on Tuesday that President Eisenhower take the lead in seeking a ban on hydrogen bomb tests.

That, Nixon said in the sharpest speech he made during the entire trip, "is one of the most extraordinary, appalling statements in the history of American political campaigning" and raises "a grave doubt as to whether he (Stevenson) has the judgment, the responsibility and the temperament to lead the United States and the free world in this critical period."

3,000 Gather for Highway Meeting

Crowd Objects to Road Route

Hear State Deputy Say Location for Highway Not Definite Yet

An orderly but hostile crowd of more than 3,000 area residents turned out last night to hear George M. Foster, chief deputy state highway commissioner, tell them they are "unduly excited" about the proposed north-south expressway through Oakland County.

Speaking at a protest meeting in Southfield High School sponsored by the Southfield-Bloomfield Assn., a group formed to fight the proposed road, Foster said he "regrets" publicity which has been given a proposed specific route for the expressway.

Insisting this route is not "definite," "preferred," or "ready for final decisions one way or the other," Foster said the Highway Department is studying "some three or four" alternatives.

He refused to detail the other routes, saying only they are west of the route which has been published.

The publicized route, part of a superhighway linking Toledo and Flint runs from Northwestern Highway north along Southfield road to Ten Mile road, veers northwest to a point just west of Greenfield road, runs north along Greenfield to 14 1/2 Mile road, cuts northwest to cross Lahser road, just south of Maple road, parallels Lahser past North Hills Golf Course, and turns northwest again to cross Long Lake road between Telegraph road and Lahser road.

Foster said the road will be designed to carry up to 150,000 cars a day at speeds up to 70 miles an hour.

He said his department hopes to have all routes ready for submission to Federal authorities by "the first of the year," but said at this time the alternate routes are not definite.

Building Collapses, 10 Workers Killed hear the screams of the men who were trapped.

J. H. Crowe, a carpenter who had left the building moments before, said "it sounded like a big bomb exploding."

A tense moment came late last night when noisy generators and rescue machinery were shut off for 10 minutes while a dozen workers went far down into the debris to listen for moans or a sound that would indicate life.

But all was silent and the men returned wearily to dig some more.

During the silence, the Rev. Francis Desmond, pastor of Jackson's Queen of the Miraculous Medal Roman Catholic church, led the huge crowd of onlookers in the Lord's Prayer.

Relatives of missing men stayed at the scene through the long night under the glare of floodlights.

One wing of the building, designed to keep power flowing to Michigan's mighty industry in the event of enemy attack, caved inward about 1:30 p.m. EST yesterday as it pulled down by an invisible force.

Its four heavy floors crumbled one by one and telescoped into the basement.

About 40 electricians, carpenters and construction men were working on the floor that gave way. Several were able to leap to sections that remained standing, but more than a score was trapped.

Federal Jail Good Moonshine Market

ATLANTA (AP)—A man serving time in Atlanta federal prison for liquor law violations kept his hand in by cooking up moonshine in the pen, officials claim.

A U.S. grand jury indicted the prisoner, Ernest Sprinkles, on charges of operating an illegal still and possessing untaxed whisky.

John W. Stokes Jr., assistant U.S. attorney, said Sprinkles was caught trying to hide a half gallon of the produce of a still he had improvised in a large milk can. Stokes said the convict used steam from the prison dairy barn to cook mash made up of cattle feed and pulsed sugar.

Loss damage to insects, plus their costs of control, are 4 billion a year in the U.S.

New Testing Gear Flies Jets on Ground

LOS ANGELES — A giant computing machine perfected by the aircraft industry is said to permit a saving of up to two years and several million dollars in the development of advanced designed jet engines.

The unique "analog computer," one of the largest ever built, will enable engineers to "fly" jet engines before they are built and to forecast performance characteristics of control systems still on the drawing boards.

"Flying" the computer, an engineer can become a "test pilot" and within a few hours tell how his blueprint engine reacts to such conditions as giving it throttle at 20,000 feet, 40 degrees below zero, and traveling 1,500 miles an hour.

Motels Need Pools to Stay in the Swim

FT. WORTH, Tex. (INS)—Traveling Americans now demand a swimming pool with their overnight lodging. And the demand is heard not only in the hot climates, where a long, dusty day on the road makes an evening swim refreshing—the cooler climates are also providing pools for motel guests.

At least 1,500 hotels, motels and resorts in North America now have swimming pools, according to an estimate made by Master Hosts, a national association of hotels, motels and resorts. Master Hosts' executives say the swimming pool boom is so widespread practically every city of any size has at least one lodging place with a pool.

Watchmakers Devise System of Identification

DENVER (INS)—A unique system of identification for civil defense purposes has been devised by American watchmakers.

Denver horologist Orville R. Hagans said a file of watchmakers' scratchmark—symbols engraved by watch repairmen in the cases of watches they work on will be made available to the federal civil defense administration to aid in identifying casualties.

A limited file has already been used by members of the United Horological Assn. of America, and the list is expected to build up at the rate of three million scratchmarks a year.

The scratchmark identification has proved to be useful in a recent Denver murder case. Scratch-mark inside of his watch led to the arrest of Robert Mark Dearmin, who was later convicted of murdering a Denver symphony musician. Dearmin's watch was found at the scene of the murder.

Greek sponge fishermen now are barred from two important sources — the North African coast and the Cyrenaican coast — Athens reports. This may cut the usual 150-ton annual sponge catch by 30 per cent.

Alaska has an area of 586,400 square miles.

Police Kill Gunman, Accomplice Blamed

READING, Pa. (AP)—A jury has convicted an Allentown, Pa., man of murder although a policeman fired the fatal shot.

The Berks County jury yesterday convicted James W. Redline, 32, of murder in the first degree with a recommendation of life imprisonment for the death of Ebor Worske, also of Allentown, his alleged accomplice in an attempted holdup.

Worske was killed in April by a Reading policeman during a running battle with police in which two officers were shot. The jury ruled Redline was responsible for the death.

Estes Calls Nixon Heir to Eisenhower

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today Vice President Nixon "obviously will take the lead in the Republican party of the future because the President cannot succeed himself."

prepared for delivery at a rally in the garment district here, pointed to Nixon as the heir apparent to President Eisenhower and asserted Nixon "has a consistent anti-labor voting record."

"I am willing to let you decide which of us you would choose," he added.

Kefauver, after a one day rest in the sun at a well-appointed ranch near Santa Fe, N.M., made his first invasion of the campaign

Doing Their Best

Pontiac's public schools are doing their best to protect the teeth of the children. For the second consecutive year fluoride applications are being given certain children to prevent tooth decay.

Mrs. Ruth Topefer, dental hygienist for the schools, is heading up this work. But she is greatly handicapped in her efforts to protect the teeth of Pontiac's children.

Not all of the parents will permit the fluoride applications to be made, for which the interested parents pay a small fee to cover their cost. And even so, these applications do not give as much protection as might be provided all the children in the city through fluoridation of the city's water supply.

The people of Pontiac voted against fluoridation, however, so that more efficient method of fighting tooth decay has been denied the children. Grand Rapids, Highland Park and many other progressive cities are safeguarding their children's health by this safe method, which has been given the approval of public health as well as dental authorities throughout the country.

Fluoridation of the water has been found to reduce tooth decay among children by as much as sixty per cent. The manual application of fluoride may reduce decay by forty per cent. So that is the best that can be provided for Pontiac's children at the present time.

As the years go by, these children whose teeth are being coated will enjoy better health than the rest. For decaying teeth pour poison into the human body. In addition to avoiding that danger, decay causes the teeth to fall out, or they have to be removed. This reduces the ability of a person to digest his food. His health suffers as a result.

Dentists say that each tooth is worth a thousand dollars to its owner. Of course there is no way to place a money value on health, but this figure does serve to show the importance of a healthy set of teeth in the opinion of the dental profession.

Over the next few years, if examinations are made, the beneficial results of these applications will be revealed. Such examinations have been made in other cities, with quite uniform results.

Those parents who are taking advantage of the opportunity to protect their children's teeth are to be congratulated. It is to be hoped that the time will come when an ever greater degree of protection will be possible.

U. S. Savings Bonds Still a Top Investment Buy

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds, Series E and H for the year through August, topped the three and one-half billion dollar mark, the Treasury Department has announced. This was four per cent under last year for the same period, but otherwise was tops since 1945.

These U. S. Savings Bonds still are a Grade A investment for any American. Not only do they help the government with its financing. They are a gift edged investment for the buyer. Held to maturity, they pay substantial interest, and they are as safe as the government itself.

If the buyer desires, they may be held even after they mature, continuing to draw interest for the holder, and cashable at any time. Of the nearly twenty-one and a half billion dollars worth of E Bonds that have already reached their maturity date since May 1951, two-thirds still are being held by their owners to draw interest.

These owners are wise investors. They know a sound, safe buy and they take advantage of it. There is no safer investment in America.

405,729 Pontiacs Are Produced in Year

Despite the drop in automobile sales during the past year, Pontiac Motor Division produced and will sell 405,729 of its 1956 models. It will start producing the 1957 models Oct. 15.

Only a few short years ago such an output was unheard of in the Pontiac Division of General Motors. The model year just winding up was the fourth biggest in the Division's history. Yet Division heads confidently predict that one of the really big years lies ahead and that the 1957 cars will outsell the 1956 Pontiacs by a wide margin.

The Man About Town

Welcome, Warren!
 New City Next to Pontiac in Population; Big in Area

Truth: What gets a terrible stretching in a political campaign.

Pontiac welcomes its newest neighbor, The City of Warren, just over the line in Macomb County. Its first mayor, Arthur J. Miller, young in years, was elected this week by a large majority. Including most of the township with the same name, Warren has an area of 34 square miles, making it the fifth city in Michigan in area. Its 60,000 population puts it in eighth place among our state's cities, headed by Detroit. Grand Rapids, Flint, Dearborn, Saginaw, Lansing and Pontiac. It contains the GM Technical Center. Six years ago the Village of Warren had a population of 727, but included only a small part of the area covered by the new city.

A perusal of the Bible by Robert D. Cox of Oxford, now in his ninetieth year, reveals that the figure three appears more often than any other in connection with the life of Christ. According to the findings of Mr. Cox, there are at least two score important phases in His life where it is the predominating figure.

A special invitation to Pontiac hunters comes from Carl Johnson of Cadillac, who has a big pack of hounds and will lead a series of bear hunts in Northern Michigan. If you're a bear hunting addict, write him for reservations. We'll be seeing you there.

Our neighboring city of Flint has two world champions of whom we're not too jealous. They are

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rudl, each of whom holds the pipe smoking championship for that sex. They are to defend it Saturday at the eighth annual International pipe-smoking convention at Montreal.

Aim Higher, Men

David Lawrence Says:

Do Campaign Trips Win Votes?

WASHINGTON—What really decides presidential contests—is it the amount of personal campaigning the candidates do on trips across the country, or is it the sum of grievances as against the benefits felt by the electorate?

William Jennings Bryan, for example, actually spoke before more millions of voters in 1896 and made longer trips around the country then and in 1900 and 1908 than any presidential candidate before or since. Yet he was beaten all three times by opponents who traveled only a fraction as much.

The same thing happened to Charles Evans Hughes who made a transcontinental swing in 1916, while President Wilson remained for the most part at Shadow Lawn, N.J. But Wilson won.

Again in 1920 Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, made a tour from coast to coast. Sen. Harding stayed on his front porch at Marion, Ohio, and made less than a half-dozen speeches in the East, but won just the same.

John W. Davis in 1924 made an extensive journey across the continent, with many speeches en route, but President Coolidge, with only a limited campaign, won. Al Smith in 1928 did more traveling than Herbert Hoover, but lost.

Certainly Al Landon in 1936, Wendell Willkie in 1940 and Thomas E. Dewey in 1944 each covered many thousands of miles in their "barnstorming" tours, while President Roosevelt made far less campaign speeches, with appearances in only a few large cities—and won every time. He did travel in 1936 more than President Hoover, and Jim Farley, FDR's manager, was nervous about his doing so. But in that year nothing could have prevented a Democratic victory.

While Harry Truman in 1948 made a "whistle-stop" tour, Dewey traveled just as extensively, and the results were close.

Certainly there is nothing in the record to suggest the candidate who goes out and sees the people and shows himself to big audiences wins while his opponent loses by staying at home. The record suggests just the opposite.

But there's a very important reason for presidential candidates to travel widely. And President Eisenhower is well advised to make a number of personal appearances in different parts of the country. It has everything to do with the morale of state and local political organizations. They need to be pepped up and stimulated to work intensively. The leaders naturally have enough enthusiasm, but it can be increased among party workers when they see the candidate in action, as he gives to their fellow citizens a demonstration of how he handles current issues. Also TV nowadays helps to multiply appearances and stir up organizations in other parts of the country the same night.

How much do issues have to do with the result of campaigns, and what part do personalities play? Issues mean everything and candidates are effective only as they articulate the issues.

In the pamphlet Yankee Stomach, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope, you will find detailed instructions for the use of this highly satisfactory antacid for hyperacidity, acid eructations, sour stomach, heartburn, hunger pain, water-brash, bloating by gas, and the irritability that accompanies these disturbances.

Basically it's the total of minority groups which makes the majority that decides elections. It's the amount of discontent versus contentment on both economic and emotional issues which tips the scales one way or the other.

Emory S. Bogardus, professor of social psychology at the University of California, puts it this way in his book "The Making of Public Opinion":

"The election (1948) indicated that public opinion is influenced by the people's occupational and economic interests, whether they be big businessmen, tenant farmers, young married veterans, humble housewives, or even irritated ethnic group members. Each of these groups tends to vote for the political party that seems to have the most to offer it."

That's why "peace and prosperity" are being emphasized this year by the Republicans, while the Democrats call attention to as many irritations and grievances as possible for the final tally.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Most Bellyaches Caused From Excessive Acidity

First off, let's make sure everyone knows that gastric means stomach or pertaining to the stomach and has nothing to do with gas.

Second, let me say that in my opinion, at any rate, a so-called "gas attack" may be associated with accumulation of considerable air and/or gas in stomach or intestine and with escape of more or less air and/or gas from stomach or intestine, but the presence of the gas or air is not the cause of the trouble, and it is rarely if ever that it causes any serious distress or impairment of the heart.

In many instances the actual trouble ascribed to "gas attack" or to "pressure on the heart by gas" is biliary colic (chronic gall-bladder inflammation, with or without gallstones).

In milder—well, yes, I know, if I were the victim I wouldn't consider it so mild—cases of bellyache with bloating by gas and/or air, the cause of the discomfort is not the presence of gas and/or air, but muscle spasm at some place in the alimentary canal. The spasm prevents or delays the natural progress of the air or gas through the canal.

When the spasm relaxes, a good deal of gas and/or air may be belched or expelled from the bowel, and the patient associates relief of discomfort with the escape of the gas. The truth is that relaxation of the muscle spasm relieves the pain or discomfort and at the same time permits the air and/or gas to escape.

Now what causes the muscle spasm? I'll give my own idea, which may be right or may be wrong, but only on condition that we stop there, for if you want to go further with it, you should consult a physician.

I believe the immediate cause of the spasm which is the essential feature of most bellyaches is hyperacidity—excessive acidity, hyperchloridia, oversecretion of hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

If this is correct, the best and quickest relief for the distress or discomfort would be an antacid such as prepared chalk combined with magnesium trisilicate, about seven grains of the former with three grains of the latter, in discs which are not unpleasant to chew.

In the pamphlet Yankee Stomach, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope, you will find detailed instructions for the use of this highly satisfactory antacid for hyperacidity, acid eructations, sour stomach, heartburn, hunger pain, water-brash, bloating by gas, and the irritability that accompanies these disturbances.

Sodium bicarbonate, commonly used in too large doses as an antacid has one serious fault—it upsets the acid-alkaline balance of the general system. Magnesia, also commonly used in too large doses, is not only laxative but it tends to deprive the body of calcium.

Milk of magnesia as a laxative for children and magnesium sulfate (Epsom salts) as a cathartic for adults are both objectionable for this reason—most American children and adults suffer from calcium deficiency anyway.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Weigh Marriage Future Carefully

Helen will probably have a happy married life for she is smart enough to test herself as well as her boy friend. Be sure you don't confuse physical infatuation with real love. The one can disappear on your wedding night. The other can be permanent.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case S-382: Helen W., aged 19, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane, I started reading your column when I was in Junior High," she began.

"And it has helped me immensely, especially in maintaining my moral ideals."

"In this college town, your column doesn't appear in our little newspaper, but my mother always clips it from our newspaper and mails it to me."

"And so do the mothers of several other girls in my dormitory. We also have used some of your Rating Scales at our young People's meeting in church."

"Right now I am dating a fine boy. I think we may marry after we complete college. But please send me your 'Tests for Sweethearts' so I can be sure my heart doesn't dominate my head too much."

INFATUATION VS. LOVE
 Even when you think you are sincerely in love, it is smart to double check upon yourself, as Helen is doing.

Happy marriages don't accidentally "happen." They are made in large degree by the careful analysis of the boy and girl prior to their wedding.

Sexual infatuation will make your heart pound and your hands

The fight against the confiscatory income tax now being waged by Dean Clarence E. Manion, Mr. T. Coleman Andrews, Governor J. Bracken Lee of Utah and other leaders is necessary to the salvation of our American Republic.

We can expect the struggle to be hard, but we have only one alternative... try to get rid of the income tax and substitute a better system, or be complacent and let the income tax gradually destroy us.

The movement for tax relief can go forward only by the force of public education and opinion. The great and patriotic effort of Dean Manion and his able associates should receive substantial and continued support.

I've got an idea. Why don't they save up all the TV commercials and put them on every day from 2 to 3 a.m.?

A great many people profess to think that Yankee domination of the American League is bad for baseball. I wonder if these same people thought it was bad for boxing when Joe Louis kept the championship of the world for so many years. I say if a man or team is good enough to stay on top year after year, more power to him.

L. V. S.

Many people are wondering why Pontiac's great high school band was not allowed to march at the recent football game. The reason given was ridiculous, that is, that it would injure the field.

How come all the junior high schools, St. Mike's and St. Fred's teams playing football didn't injure the field? Mind, I'm not against these schools using the field. That's what it is for.

Many who have children in the band believe that someone in authority is trying to humiliate and suppress a band and its leader, both of which are known and honored by schools and band leaders all over Michigan and even in many other state musical organizations. Could the reason be jealousy? Or are some people unappreciative of the effort of Dale Harris and his great band?

An Interested Band Parent

Well, we were in the heart of the battlefield the other morning at dawn, with the duck hunters blasting away before it was light enough to distinguish anything, and it continues past dark. On Sept. 29, when it was not yet legal, there were two boatloads of hunters who fired about a dozen shots.

Not a year passes that our house, garage and yard aren't hit by hunters who aim toward the land instead of out over the water. Some neighbors have had picture windows broken and others have had tame white ducks killed. It has always been necessary to confine the children to the house during hunting season.

Must a tragedy happen before the heavily populated Sylvan and Otter Lake areas (Waterford Township) are closed to hunters? How do we go about getting it closed? My neighborhood concurs in this letter.

Mrs. Jack Gray

The cold winds will soon start. Let's have another Be Kind to Animals week, in which the dog houses are made warm and filled with straw and the roofs made water proof.

A dog that has a warm bed and is well-fed won't bark and whine all night. And remember dogs need more food in cold weather. How can a person be in bed and listen to a dog's cries and not care what the trouble is?

Dog owners should get up and investigate. He may be tangled and can't get in his house. He gets cold and hungry just like you. If I'm not mistaken, there is a law regarding barking dogs at night.

It seems some parents only show concern for their teenage children when they are in trouble. What are 14 and 15-year-olds doing out at 10 o'clock at night anyway?

John Carroll

I would like to ask the people who are on Social Security and still working to write to their Congressmen to change the law whereby one can earn only $100 a month. The average person does not live too long after 65 and should be allowed to earn as much as he can. The Government would not lose anything; in fact, they would receive more from taxes on our higher wages.

BY JAMES J. METCALFE

I like to listen to the words... My dear wife has to say... But not when we are watching the... Performance of a play... So many times she whispers when... Important lines are spoken... And frequently the theme is lost... And all the spell is broken... I wish she would not interrupt... With question or remark... That takes away attention while... The theater is dark... Perhaps I could appease her with... A sort of mental lotion... By giving her a pen and pad... To jot down every notion... So she could write her version of... Opinions and of facts... And save her questions for that time... That comes between the acts.

Immortality is the glorious discovery of Christianity.—Channing.

of the opposite sex, you may feel almost intoxicated with new thrills.

But they may not be love, at all, though the average novice insists she is experiencing true love.

So beware! Marriage is supposed to last forever. It is not a holiday thrill involving stolen kisses under a romantic moon.

Marriage is a matching of two personalities who can work as a team for 50 years and sacrifice together for the mutual good of the family.

It involves throwing all you resources into the partnership, including the man's future pay checks as long as he lives.

When you marry, you owe an obligation to your parents, as well as to your future unborn children. In fact, you cast their proxy votes for their other parent, so be shrewd.

Sometimes people of different races want to marry. But they should look ahead to their future youngsters and realize that hybrid children are often ostracized by both parent races. So weigh the future carefully.

MARRY IN CHURCH
 Night clubs and lovers' lanes may stimulate sexual passion and physical infatuation, but churches are a better background for true love.

Furthermore, marriage is such a beautiful and sacred contract that you should be sure to have a clergyman perform the wedding ceremony.

And on your honeymoon, be sure you attend church that first Sabbath. Your emotional ecstasy should never becloud your judgment concerning the basic good habits like faithful attendance at church. And get active in a young married people's class at once.

To help kick wisely, send for my 200-page "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Planning Group Adds Support

To Aid in Formation of New County Public Works Department

The South Oakland Planning Council last night put its support behind a committee appointed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for setting up a county department of public works to hasten the building of drain network.

Birmingham's city manager, Harold K. Schone, said in the Berkeley meeting that "antiquated drain laws" should be amended and said that such a department of public works should be put into effect immediately.

The county could then lease bonds, and construction could begin immediately instead of waiting three or four years, he said.

Three hours discussion included talk of the Evergreen Interceptor and the Twelve Town Drain.

Detroit, according to its City Engineer Clyde Palmer, is experimenting with a gigantic garbage grinding system, which would support some of the load from the out-county area. He pointed out the plan so far had been successful, with it extending out as far as Bloomfield, with talk of it reaching to Pontiac.

The committee, which met two weeks ago in first session, is waiting for the legal advice of attorney Claude H. Stevens on procedure, according to Schone, a supervisor and member of the Regional Planning Commission.

Meany to Receive Honor at Detroit Event

DETROIT (INS) — AFL-CIO President George Meany will be principal speaker and guest of honor at a $25-a-plate dinner Saturday. He will receive the Knights of Charity award from the friends of the missionaries of Saints Peter and Paul.

The award honors him for his "contributions to the labor movement and for the promotion of charitable and humanitarian endeavors."

Chief alfalfa crop grown in California's Imperial Valley is the African variety. It withstands pests and plant diseases best, says the agronomists.

Slippery Slipper Jails Glass Co. Thief

DETROIT (INS) — A "Cinderella" prowler in Detroit was sentenced yesterday to 5 to 15 years in prison for breaking and entering, all because he lost a shoe at the scene of the crime.

A policeman slipped the shoe on Kenneth E. Nicholas and it was a perfect fit.

Nicholas, 30, was spotted prowling around inside the Alumatic Window Co., Inc.

Police snatched one of the prowler's shoes as he darted out a window. Nicholas, wearing only one shoe when police picked him up as a suspect, denied he was near the place.

Officers said the shoe was a perfect match and a perfect fit.

Tourist Spending Up

OTTAWA — Canadian travelers spent an estimated $441,000,000 on travel outside their country during 1935, an increase of $54,000,000, or 14 per cent, over the 1934 figure. They spent $361,000,000 in the United States alone, a 13 per cent rise; their spending in other countries totaled $80,000,000, a gain of 16 per cent.

Sherry Given to Saint Will Never Be Drunk

MADRID — Stored in a cellar in Spain is a lot of sherry that will never be drunk.

The cellar is dedicated to St. Giles, patron of the vineyards. Each year at harvest time an offering of a cask of sherry is placed in the cellar, never to be touched by humans again.

Versatile Dog Helps to Fight Forest Fires

MILL VALLEY, Calif. (INS) — A hunting dog that cooperates in keeping the forests of Northern California's Redwood Empire green is owned by Del Taylor, Mill Valley, an officer at San Quentin Prison.

Butch, a six-year-old pointer, goes into immediate action when he sees a cigarette smoldering on the ground. He extinguishes the fire by stomping the cigarette rapidly with his paws. Then, in the best tradition of forest fire prevention, Butch breaks the cigarette in two with his teeth.

Butch, according to Taylor, is a dog of great hunting versatility who is equally adept at tracking deer, pointing quail and pheasants or retrieving ducks.

Airline Maintains Need Added Service

WASHINGTON (INS) — National Airlines maintained yesterday that Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Louisville badly need additional air service to Florida.

The carrier's president, G. T. Baker, said passengers in three of those cities—Detroit, Cleveland and Pittsburgh—must rely on Eastern Air lines alone for direct flights to Florida.

The other two cities, he asserted, likewise "lack effective competition."

Baker's testimony, prepared for a Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) hearing, was in support of National's request to expand its operations into the Great Lakes region with a vast new route network between lakes cities and Florida.

J. J. Oulette, sitting before his fireplace in Alberta, Canada during a gale storm, heard unusual noises in the chimney. He investigated the duck, warm and well-fledged. It was a wild duck seeking refuge, two days after the storm had calmed.

Show Business Behind the Iron Curtain

Huge Audiences View Red Shows

The communist brand of entertainment continues to intrigue Master Showman Billy Rose in his fourth article on his recent tour of Russia and her satellites.

BY BILLY ROSE

Belgrade is smaller than Buffalo, N.Y., which seldom gets to see a legitimate show. Yet, last season no less than 10 Broadway hits were presented in the capital of Tito's Yugoslavia. Among them, "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," "Teahouse of the August Moon," "The Caine Mutiny" and "Death of a Salesman."

Belgrade's people earn an average of $200 a year. Yet a dozen expensive United States concert attractions have played the Balkan metropolis in the last 12 months.

In the light of this, I wasn't surprised when the officials of Yugoconcert, acting on behalf of the Ministry of Culture, OK'd an agreement for a reciprocal exchange of artists, similar to the ones I had worked out with the Soviets and Poles.

The strangest bit of drama I saw on the entire trip was the nightly parade on the Terazije, the mile-long Broadway of Belgrade. At 8 each evening, overhead fluorescent lights flare, traffic is cut off, and a third of the city's population, around 200,000, start meandering up and down stopping only to gaze at show windows full of costly merchandise they have no hope of ever buying.

STEP BY STEP
Quietly, almost like condemned men walking the last mile, they keep shuffling along this flood-lit strip, and the ghoulish procession continues until the lights flicker out at midnight.

Why does a third of Belgrade walk the Terazije night after night? An old-time newspaperman explained it this way: The people simply can't bring themselves to go back to those bleak rooms with the four squeezed-in beds.

In London, before setting out for the Communist countries, I was received by Jacob Malik, the Soviet Ambassador to Britain, at the plush embassy near Kensington Palace. While chatting in the rose garden, I mentioned that after Russia I planned to visit Romania and the other satellites.

"Mr. Rose," said Malik sternly, "Russia has no satellites."

"I get it," I said. "Romania has a two-party system and all the peasants have Ford convertibles."

NO SATELLITES

Nary a muscle moved in Malik's face. "Russia," he repeated, "has no satellites."

Six weeks later, when our plane set down at the Bucharest airport, the first thing we noticed was a statue of Stalin almost as tall as the terminal. And as we limousined into town, we saw dozens of blow-ups of Khrushchev, Bulganin and Voroshilov. It was enough to make a man wonder if Mr. Malik could possibly be wrong.

Politics and potatoes aside, our reception in Bucharest was the warmest we encountered on our trip. A contingent from the Ministry of Culture was at the airport to greet us and, with much honking of horns, we were escorted to the Athenee Palace Hotel. There we were encoined in a four-room suite and informed we were guests of the government.

My first meeting with the commissars of culture was held that night in the paneled library of an expropriated mansion. The temperature was in the high 90s. "Would you do a visiting fireman a favor?" I said through my interpreter. "Let's take off our coats."

Everybody liked the suggestion fine.

"Perhaps you could also rustle up a little ice cream," I went on. That did it. The culture men grinned, and before you could say off, and a third of the city's population, around 200,000, start meandering up and down stopping only to gaze at show windows full of costly merchandise they have no hope of ever buying.

ARTISTS AUDITION
Next morning at 9, the Romanians began auditioning artists for me in their bigish and baroqueish Radio Building.

The first hour I listened to a 30-piece gypsy orchestra led by a gent named Wagner. The teamwork and virtuosity of the fiddle section was just a shade south of perfection.

The second hour, in a studio on another floor, they let me hear their No. 1 dance band bellowed by Tito Dileon, the Stan Kenton of the Balkans. Pretty good.

Then, as we lunched off a 40-foot table in a conference room, they trotted out two of their most cherished recordings—the Haydn symphony they had discovered the year before in the Romanian village in which Papa had lived for a while, and the recently unearthed Mass in C Major by Mozart.

dinnertime, winding up with a group of opera singers who had been ordered to cut their vacations short so the "Americanski" could hear them.

SINGING TOWARD U.S.

Maybe I imagined it, but it seemed that the Carmens and Pagliaccis, their hearts in their mouths, were trying to sing their way to the U.S.

Next day, Aug. 23, was the Romanian 4th of July—the day the Russians "liberated" Bucharest, if you'll pardon the verb. At 8 a.m., Joyce and I squeezed our way into a grandstand on one side of the city's great central square. All around us (Senator McCarthy, please turn your head) were members of the Central Committee, Russian generals and, for good measure, President Grotewohl of East Germany and Premier Nagy of Hungary.

Drawn up before us was a 500-piece military band, flanked on one side by a giant statue of Stalin, and on the other by a 20-foot portrait of Lenin. "Ah, that Malik!" I sighed.

I'd like to review the military parade I saw that morning as if it were a show, which, in fact, it was.

As the performance began, the band, after much rolling of drums, crashed into the first selection, and hundreds of slickly-costumed soldiers to the right and left yipped and burrahed on exact cue.

Then came several miles of trucks, tanks, motorized searchlights and cannon, chaperoned by 50,000 high-stepping troops, all moving with the precision of Radio City Rockettes. Finally, at just the right dramatic moment, 18 Soviet jets, in chorusboy formation, zoomed on and off.

Next: An open letter to President Eisenhower.

U.S. Attempts to Find Refugee

Believe Man, Child on Liner Heading Back to Russia

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. immigration men warned yesterday in a futile search for a Russian refugee and his American-born baby daughter bound for the Soviet Union.

Among the 1,200 passengers were a score of Russians, one a ranking official. The father and child were said to be possibly the victims of Soviet intimidation. The searchers were looking for 58-year-old Aleksa Chwastov and his daughter, Tanya, 2½. The child was born in Philadelphia. Chwastov's 92-year-old mother was said to be still in Russia. Apparently tipped off by Chwastov's estranged wife, immigration officials made a deck by deck cabin search. In Chwastov's tourist class cabin, they said, they found only luggage and bottles of baby formula.

One passenger, Fedor Solomat, in, chief counsel to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, said: "In accordance with our law, the child is a Soviet citizen."

Solomat admitted the Chwastovs were aboard but said he did not know where.

Roland Elliott, immigration service director for the Church World Service, told newsmen he feared Chwastov left under "intimidation."

Elliott said Chwastov's mother recently wrote urging his return. This was followed, he added, by an offer from the Soviet Embassy to pay the Chwastovs' passage. The Queen Mary is due at Cherbourg, France, next Monday.

Commuters Kept Happy With Free Music

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—Commuters in Albuquerque can now listen free to radio music while waiting for the bus to come along.

The holder of the franchise for the bus benches said use of the radios, tuned to a daylight-to-sundown broadcasting station, is on an experimental basis.

So far, five have been installed and if the public enjoys them, the bench service firm plans to place the radios extensively through the city.

The radios, all of the transistor type, are bolted to the bench and play 10 minutes when a lever is pushed.

Perry Simmons of the University of Courtesy Co., holder of the franchise, said as far as he knows the radios are the first in the nation to go on bus benches.

He said the company's only worry is whether the innovation will suffer from vandalism.

Some Farmers Disenchanted, Ready for a Change

Adlai Paring Ike's Margin in Iowa, but Only a Little

By OVED A. MARTIN

DES MOINES (AP)—The presidential campaign in Iowa — heart of the politically important corn-belt — is shaping up largely as a contest between the personal popularity of President Eisenhower and a dislike for his farm policies.

A lot of farmers say they "like" the President but are dissatisfied with his farm program. This apparent paradox complicates the outlook for this traditionally Republican state.

Supporters of Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, concede that Eisenhower is popular throughout the state but question the extent to which this will be reflected at the ballot box. Republican leaders agree there is strong dissatisfaction among farmers but say there is not enough to give the state to Stevenson.

How will this issue of Eisenhower's popularity versus dislike of his farm programs be resolved on election day?

Seeking an answer to this question, this reporter found that a majority of more than 100 persons interviewed — farmers, business and professional men, newspapermen and political leaders — said they believed Eisenhower would win if the election were held now.

But some insisted that changed conditions — such as a sizable decline in hog and cattle prices before election time — might turn the state to Stevenson.

Eisenhower won Iowa by a majority of 357,000 out of 1,259,000 votes in 1952. GOP State Chairman Don Pierson, while conceding the President will lose votes this year, predicted a victory margin of at least 100,000 votes. But Jake More, the Democratic state chairman, said he sees great similarity between this campaign and the one in 1948 when Iowa went for Harry S. Truman in his surprise victory over Thomas E. Dewey. Then, as now, there was farm policies.

Last year's low hog prices coupled with crop losses from drought have put many farmers in a resentful mood. Many of those interviewed spoke harshly of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Farmer complaints were found to be most numerous among the younger farmers and those with small production units, as well as tenants.

Why, then, if there is less support for Eisenhower among farmers than four years ago, is the President apparently ahead at this time?

There are a number of reasons. Farmers make up a minority of the voters, even in the farm state of Iowa. So far, observers say, there has not been a switch of farmers strong enough to overcome Eisenhower's expected margins in Iowa urban areas.

Democratic leaders are hopeful there will be a considerable switch to Stevenson by businessmen who depend largely on farm trade.

Few businessmen would allow themselves to be quoted, but many of them — with a few exceptions — said they did not believe farmers to be as bad off as they picture themselves.

A big question mark is the vote of organized labor. While Democrats are counting upon labor votes, they are faced with the attitude expressed by a Des Moines electrical worker. "I'm not mad at anybody," he said. "I'm getting the best wages I ever got. I may vote and I may not."

4 Bear Hunts Planned
BAY CITY (AP)—Four bear hunts have been scheduled in East Michigan during October, the East Michigan Tourist Assn. reports. Two are set for Oct. 6-7 in the Black Lake region of Cheboygan County and in Presque Isle County. Tito Insisting on Free Hand

Refusing to Recognize Nikita's Plea to Follow Kremlin Line

BELGRADE (U)—President Tito reportedly has failed to convince his Soviet hosts at Yalta that they should not soft-pedal their de-Stalinization program.

Informed sources said the Soviet-Yugoslav talks in the Crimea have reached an impasse over Tito's reported insistence that the lessening of Moscow's controls continue as a condition for reviving Belgrade's ties with Yugoslavia's satellite neighbors.

These informants said Tito's campaign for independence of the satellite Communist parties from the Kremlin's direction has run into opposition from Soviet party chief Nikita Khrushchev himself. Khrushchev reportedly has cooled on the so-called liberal policy introduced following the Soviet Communist party Congress last February and Tito's visit to the Soviet union in June.

The report is based on growing belief that Khrushchev's power in the Kremlin has waned and that he has been forced to swing toward the viewpoint of former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and other old-time Stalinists. Molotov, Deputy Premier Lazar Kaganovich and other old guard members are said to feel that Khrushchev's softer policy went too far and weakened the Soviet position in Eastern Europe.

Diplomats here believe Khrushchev wanted to explain this to Tito when he made his surprise visit to Belgrade recently. But with the Yalta talks in their seventh day, Tito was reported standing fast by his insistence on (1) full independence for the satellite Communist parties; (2) equal rights for all Communist parties; and (3) non-alignment to any "Socialist camp" which may resemble a bloc.

There were no indications when Tito would return from Yalta.

WHEEL OF LIFE—Lee Kim-Yong of Inchon, South Korea, uses his feet to power a water wheel that elevates salt water in a salt-making process that has yielded three hundred bags after three years of back-breaking toil by 330 families in the Soshin Iron Triangle project. The salt is then sold as a community project.

To Fly Early Plane on 30th Anniversary

WASHINGTON (U)—Northwest Orient Airlines says it will fly one of its original passenger planes—almost three decades old—along its transcontinental route this month. The Ford tri-motor flight will be a part of Northwest's observance of its 30th anniversary.

The airline said the old 14-passenger, 100-mile-an-hour plane was one of several operated on its routes between Chicago, Minneapolis-St. Paul and the Pacific Coast from 1926 to 1934.

The flight will end in Seattle Oct. 18 after exhibition stops including Detroit.

Polio Poster Boy Murdered

Best Friend Kills Lad While Playing Hooky From School

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (INS)—Possibly for a short, fleeting moment nine-year-old George (Butchie) Bryant, who was March of Dimes poster boy in 1949, realized that a best friend can suddenly become a mortal enemy.

He might also have become aware that there are some things that one does not say, even to a best friend.

But if he did suddenly realize these things the knowledge came too late, for moments later he was dead.

The frail lad's murder reportedly was confessed yesterday by his 11-year-old friend, Lester Stewart, after Butchie was found drowned in the shallow waters of a creek on the outskirts of nearby Colton.

DEATH TUESDAY

Butchie's tragic death occurred Tuesday afternoon while the boys were playing hooky from school so they could go swimming in the creek.

"He called my mother a bad name," Lester explained to police. "Mom took me to a show about a week ago and didn't take George. We were talking about it and George got mad and called my mother that name."

With that, the older boy related to police, he knocked Butchie down and held his head under 10 inches of water "until the bubbles didn't come up any more."

"Then," Lester said, "I got scared and ran home and sneaked in the back door."

Butchie didn't have a chance against his older and larger companion. When he had polio in 1949 and was treated at St. Helene Hospital in California's Napa County the disease left his right arm withered. It never did develop.

The dead boy was a star student at Washington Elementary School in San Bernardino.

Voters Get Lost?

HOUSTON (AP)—Election judges at a recent 31 million dollar school bond election though Precinct 28 voters must have gotten lost. The judges sat for eight hours before a single voter showed up. The judges and clerks couldn't even vote themselves—they lived in other precincts. The issue carried 2-1 in the city.

Plastic Tarpaulins

BELLEVILLE, N. J. — A Belleville fabrics manufacturer is producing translucent tarpaulins by laminating two sheets of vinyl plastic to a cheesecloth type of rayon fabric. The company says the tarpaulins stand up well under strong sunlight and other adverse outdoor conditions.

Jealousy Kills 3,000 Frenchmen Yearly

PARIS (INS) — The green-eyed dragon kills 3,000 Frenchmen each year.

France-Dimanche, a Paris weekly, said that jealousy drove 4,000 to attempted murder annually. One thousand succeeded. Another 2,000 committed suicide.

Jealousy is nevertheless on the decline. The weekly said that three-quarters of today's Parisians are faithful to their husbands against 94 per cent at the turn of the century.

Excessive jealousy is a sign of illness, doctors said. A jealous person must avoid sleeplessness at all costs, with the aid of sleeping pills if necessary, they advised.

The Illinois' 296 mines are only three per cent of the nation's total, but they produce 11 per cent of America's supply of bituminous coal.

Newspaper Sets New Fast Service Record

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The San Antonio Express-News lost a classified ad customer but set a new record for quick service.

A woman called to report her 3-year-old Boston bulldog was missing and wanted to place a lost and found advertisement. Floyd Engle, assistant classified advertising manager, overheard the call and remembered noticing a dog answering the description in his car port when he left home for work.

He called his wife and she called the woman to come get her dog.

Plant-Safety Program Paying Off in Norway

OSLO—Concerted efforts to improve Norway's industrial-safety record are beginning to show results. During the past 11 months, accidents at certain iron and metal-working plants have been reduced as much as 50 per cent and the poorest record is a drop of 27 per cent.

Instructors in plant safety are being trained by Norway's Industrial Safety Council in co-operation with the Norwegian Productivity Institute. Norway has been having about 20,000 industrial accidents a year, resulting in a loss of about 12,000 man-days.

Turtle Gets Lost

DENVER (AP)—This turtle lost its leash and its owner, Janis Thomas told The Denver Post her brother, John, found a turtle—"a monstrous thing, with a shell about 12 by 14 inches"—near their home. In its shell, she said, was a hook apparently used by someone to lead the turtle with a leash.

Hal Boyle Says:

Aqualung Inventor Devotes Life to the Sea

NEW YORK (AP) — If fish hate man, the man they hate most is Jacques-Yves Cousteau. He turned the world's seas into a goldfish bowl by co-inventing the aqualung in 1942. Since then the oyster in its pearly bed on the ocean floor has enjoyed no more privacy than a flagpole sifter.

Cousteau, a slender athletic man of 46, is the acknowledged "father of free diving," a sport followed by half a million enthusiasts in America alone.

Since he put on a face mask and submerged for the first time in 1935, Cousteau has made more than 10,000 dives, including a record descent of 300 feet in 1947.

"But altogether I have probably spent a total of two months under water," he said. "That isn't very much, is it?"

Cousteau wrote a book of his amazing subsea adventures that sold 2,650,000 copies. He also produced for Columbia Pictures "The Silent World," a weirdly beautiful film of ocean life that won a grand prize in the 1956 festival at Cannes.

What began as a sport for Cousteau has become a serious career. He wants to spend the rest of his life solving the secrets of the sea, particularly the mystery of the continental shelf.

Water Carried Over Billion Tons in 1955

WASHINGTON (AP) — Waterborne commerce of the United States reached a new all-time record in 1955, exceeding one billion tons for the first time in history, the army engineers announced.

The water carried last year was 1,016,000,000 — 10 per cent greater than in 1951, the previous record year.

In counting up the nation's water commerce, the engineers yesterday compiled separate figures for the commerce that moved over inland waterways, more than 716 billion tons-miles of freight being recorded, also a new record.

The combined port area of Duluth-Superior in Minnesota and Wisconsin, led the Great Lakes ports in 1955 tonnage with 68,300,000. Chicago placed second with 39 million, Toledo was third with 35,700,000, Detroit ranked fourth with 26,500,000 and Buffalo was fifth with 23 million.

But he says he wouldn't recommend drinking martinis as a good way to train for deep sea diving.

Great Lakes Harbors Discussion Slated

DETROIT (AP) — A public hearing dealing with U. S. harbors along the Great Lakes will be held here Oct. 18.

Public officials and representatives of railroads, navigation, commerce and industry have been invited to discuss the deepening of portions of the port of Detroit in connection with the St. Lawrence Seaway.

A spokesman for the army corps of engineers, ordered by congress to make a comprehensive survey report of Great Lakes harbors, said the needs of each of the other lake ports affected by the seaway will be considered individually at later hearings.

Learned Hard Way

READING, Pa. (AP)—William Fletcher inadvertently found a new, more thrilling method of using a playground sliding board.

The five-year-old Reading youngster tumbled from the top of the 18-foot high board to the ground below.

Hospital attendants said the boy didn't suffer a scratch. But Billy said he learned a lesson—stick to the conventional.

New Paper Source

JERUSALEM — Israeli scientists and Australian paper manufacturers have successfully conducted experiments proving that Israel-grown eucalyptus trees can be used for making cellulose and paper.

A hundred tons of eucalyptus wood were shipped to Australia for the trials. Israel uses some 20,000 tons of paper annually. The eucalyptus matures in six years and grows again after cutting.

Eleanor Returns to Political War

Says Adlai More Suited to Run Foreign Affairs Than 'Army General'

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt says she again has become an ardent partisan because she believes Adlai Stevenson can handle foreign policy better than President Eisenhower.

The 72-year-old widow of Franklin D. Roosevelt told a cheering crowd filling Masonic Temple Auditorium last night a civilian like Stevenson is needed to direct foreign policy rather than an Army general.

"We have been losing friends in the world," she said in attacking the Eisenhower foreign policy. "That is one of my main reasons for coming back into the active political fight."

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had refrained from partisanship while serving as a U. S. delegate to the United Nations.

PROSPERITY LIMITED

Attacking Republican claims of peace and prosperity, Mrs. Roosevelt said, "Prosperity is spotted, you don't find it everywhere. Peace hangs by a slender thread in some areas of the world and the Suez Canal is one of those areas."

The crowd applauded her statement. "We would have a better case today if, when Egypt refused passage to two Israeli ships we had protested then."

Declaring the United States doesn't have a successful foreign policy, Mrs. Roosevelt said Soviet Russia has extended its influence in the Near East and has obtained a foothold on the continent of Africa.

The audience, including a large number of Negroes, applauded her statement that civil rights are no longer a domestic issue but have become a question of international importance.

"The world is watching us," she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt said Negroes have a better chance of obtaining full civil rights under a Democratic administration.

Williams Dares Cobo to Repudiate Ziegler

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit was challenged by Gov. Williams today to repudiate the record of State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

In a speech to a Democratic rally, Williams said Cobo has admitted the highway job hasn't been done, adding: "Now the interesting question is this: If, as he says, he has now discovered that our highway needs are not being met with adequate speed, why does he continue to defend and condone the miserable job done by the Republican highway commissioner?"

"When is he going to repudiate the highway commissioner and admit that I have been right in criticizing that gentleman's blunders?" Williams asked.

The governor accused Cobo and Ziegler of lobbying against the 1955 Highway Act, which raised the state gasoline tax 1½ cents a gallon to finance an arterial system of superhighways.

Cobo Hits Williams' Presidential Hopes

MANISTIQUE (AP) — Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo says the Upper Peninsula ought to have two new arterial highways, one linking Ironwood with Sault Ste. Marie, the other running from the Soo to Escanaba.

Cobo proposed highways for this area yesterday in a campaign talk at the Elks Temple.

"I suggest that you use the revenue bonds act of 1951 to build your needed interstate highways now, like we're doing in Detroit, instead of waiting 13 years," he said.

Cobo, Republican nominee for governor, took another crack at Gov. Williams, his Democratic rival, saying:

"The record shows he has been away from Lansing 30 per cent of the time. Your governor has been running around the country four years trying to be President of the United States."

Plagued Day And Night with Bladder Discomfort?

Such a common thing as urinating or drinking may be a source of mild, but annoying bladder irritation—making you feel restless, tense, and uncomfortable. And if you're plagued with nagging backache, headache or muscular aches and pains due to over-exertion, strain or emotional upset, are adding to your misery—don't wait—try Doan's Pills.

Doan's Pills have three outstanding advantages—act in three ways for your speedy return to comfort. 1—They have an easing soothing effect on bladder irritation. 2—A fast pain-relieving action on nagging backache, headache, muscular aches and pains. 3—A wonderfully mild diuretic action thru the kidneys, tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. So, get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 65 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Choose Hospital Site

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The Grand Traverse County Board of Supervisors has voted 11-8 to locate a new 50-bed county hospital adjacent to Munson Hospital.

Health Center, if voters approve a $500,000 bond issue Nov. 6. The board decided on a new hospital rather than attempt to renovate the county-operated Boardman Valley Hospital to meet state fire marshal's orders.

Registrations Mounting

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — City Clerk R. Stanton Kilpatrick reported Wednesday voter registrations in Grand Rapids have topped the 85,000 mark and still are climbing.

He predicted earlier registrations would reach 95,000 before the deadline Monday.

One-third of women employees in Canada are married. Their average age is 37.

Vandalism Expensive

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Peter Gravenstick, chief of the city's Street Lighting Department, says vandalism by BB guns or rocks has cost Grand Rapids taxpayers about $5,000 in street light replacements in the past 12 months.

Winter sports enthusiasts at Mt. Olympus, Turkey will ride in 1957 in an overhead cable-carline carrying 40 passengers in each car. Cost of the line will be $77,142.

Alaskans Rely on Planes

Britain Cheers Bolshoi Dancers

Even Ballerina Fonteyn Calls It Too Magnificent for Words

LONDON (U)—The first appearance of the West of Moscow's 180-year-old Bolshoi Ballet brought high acclaim from British critics today for the company and for Galina Ulanova, at 47 still one of the world's greatest ballerinas.

The Bolshoi company opened a month's season in the British capital last night with a performance of "Romeo and Juliet" before a Covent Garden audience glittering with luminaries of stage, screen, society and politics.

Prime Minister Eden and his wife went backstage to congratulate the dancers.

Scalpers outside the theater did a brisk business in 2 guineas ($5.88) seats for five times their face value. Hundreds were turned away.

A. V. Cotton of the Daily Telegraph said the performance was "ballet treated in a way totally different from our Western style, yet finely effective as dance drama and in its characterization and pictorial effect."

Ulanova, Cotton declared, "revealed that she is an absolute dancer (the highest accolade for a ballerina). At an age when most ballerinas retire, she commands an art that enables her to create a perfect theatrical illusion."

Andrew Smith of the Daily Herald said he had "seen dances of many countries from America to Japan and all are dwarfed by the Bolshoi."

For Dame Margot Fonteyn, Britain's premier ballerina, the performance was "magical."

"I cannot even begin to discuss the dancing of Ulanova," Dame Margot exclaimed. "She is something so magnificent that I cannot put it into words."

Safety Begins at Home

NEWPORT, R.I. (U)—City manager Irving N. Beck inspected the police department's three patrol cars and found all three in poor condition, reporting that the brakes on one of the cars were so bad they would not pass a state safety test.

Six Arab nations will join in extracting potash from the Dead Sea, in Jordan.

Called Less Expensive

Gary, Ind., Builds New Schools With Own Steel

GARY, Ind. (U)—This steel city is using its major product to build a school that officials say is less expensive, faster to erect and can be bought on a down payment plan.

They say it could be an answer to the national problem of bulging classrooms.

Midwest educators are watching closely the building of the six-room, one-story Hosford Park grade school. Its steel construction, builders say, makes it fire-proof and nearly eliminates maintenance.

Calumet Township School District, after a lengthy legal tangle, obtained permission from the state to make a down payment of $15,000. The remainder of the $200,000 cost will be paid next year from the township's accumulated building fund.

The school was designed by Structo Schools Corp. of Boston in collaboration with the United States Steel Corp., which has huge plants in Gary.

Harold DeVault, township trustee, says construction of two schools earlier this year had exhausted the township's school building funds. The two schools—10 and 12 rooms—were built of brick at a total cost of about $450,000.

The new school is about the size of the 10-room school and in addition to its six class rooms has an office, activity room, teachers' room, boiler room, two rest rooms and several storage rooms.

It cost around $30,000 less than the 10-room brick building, DeVault says, and is expected to be completed by Nov. 1 five months after construction started on a part-time basis.

"We are absolutely overloaded with students beyond the capacity of our buildings," DeVault explained.

"It would have taken us a year and a half to accumulate the money needed to pay for the school outright. Like the rest of the nation, we need more school rooms today—not five years from now."

Structo Corp. says its down payment plan, as initiated in Gary, is expected to attract school districts with comparatively little cash on hand.

Rock 'n' Roll of Ages

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (U)—A time capsule sealed into the cornerstone of a new library at Evansville College this week included a recording of the rock 'n' roll singing of Elvis Presley. The capsule is scheduled to be opened in 2206.

When Is City Liable for Falling Coconuts?

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—Question: When is Miami liable for damage caused by a falling coconut?

Answer: When it has "had no time the coconut was about to fall."

Question: How can you tell?

Answer: "A reasonable man would assume it was about to fall when it turns brown," explained Asst. City attorney Jack Smith to city commissioners.

After that exchange, the commissioners okayed the payment of $300 to a woman whose foot was hurt by one falling from a city-owned tree.

Rooster Must Stop Noise or Be Cooked

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—An Oklahoma City family was ordered to find a way to keep their rooster from crowing or have a chicken dinner.

Municipal Judge Mike Foster directed the order to Mrs. Bessie Potter, 23, who was charged with violating the city anti-noise ordinance by permitting her young son's pet rooster to crow in the early morning hours.

Judge Foster, who was raised on an Arkansas farm, made a suggestion. He said if the perch was placed near the top of the coop the rooster couldn't raise its head high enough to crow.

North Branch Band Boosters Meeting Oct. 8

NORTH BRANCH (U)—The Band Booster Club here will hold its monthly meeting next Monday, in the school band room.

All parents who have children in the band are urged to attend this session.

The Entertainment Committee has announced a special program is planned.

Troopers Must Swim

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—A survey of 11 classes of Virginia State Troopers disclosed that one-third could not swim. State police decreed a course to teach all to swim and, additionally, will instruct the troopers in life saving.

Reuther Claims Ike Big Business Tool

BUFFALO, N.Y. (U)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, yesterday called President Eisenhower a "tool of big business."

In a speech to about 500 delegates at the annual convention of the International Chemical Workers Union, he said: "Big business is operating the government from the back room."

Reuther, also vice president of the AFL-CIO, pictured President Eisenhower as a man who should have a "long deserved rest back in Gettysburg."

"Either Mr. Eisenhower knows what is going on," he said, "or they give him just what they want him to know, then he goes out and peddles it."

President of Council to Speak to Pastors

The Rev. Samuel C. Weir, D. D., distinguished churchman of Dearborn, will address the Pontiac Pastor's Association on "The Ecumenical Church" Friday at 10:30 a.m. in the First Presbyterian Church. Pastor of the rapidly growing Littlefield Boulevard United Presbyterian Church, Dr. Weir served two years ago as moderator of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, the highest office within the gift of that body. At the present time, he is president of the Detroit Council of Churches. He gives many speeches to inter-church groups and on college campuses.

The Pontiac Pastors' program includes a missionary emphasis in November.

In December, the Congressman-elect from Michigan's 18th District will be the guest of the association and in January, Dr. H. H. Savage of the First Baptist Church will speak on "The Purposes and Program of the National Association of Evangelicals." Dr. Savage is a former president of the association.

Says Ike Given Farming 'Mess'

Benson Claims GOP Has Rebuilt Agricultural Economy Since 1953

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the Eisenhower administration "inherited a mess in agriculture" in 1953 and rebuilt the nation's agricultural economy "upon a solid foundation."

Benson in separate prepared speeches before the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and the American Butter Institute said this is the farm situation now:

1. Farm net income currently is 9 per cent higher than a year ago.
2. Farm prices are 6 per cent higher than last December.
3. The total value of all farm assets at 173 billion dollars is an all-time record high.
4. Farm foreclosures are near the all-time record low.
5. Three-fourths of the nation's farmers own their farms.
6. Total net income per person on farms last year was 15 per cent higher than in 1949.
7. Dairy farmers' cash receipts this year will be nearly 10 per cent above 1955.
8. Farm exports last year were the highest in 30 years.

Describing what he called the "mess in Washington," Benson said:

"In 1953, we inherited a bad situation throughout Agriculture—a large and fast-growing inventory of various farm commodities—and one of the steepest price declines in history. Farm prices dropped 9 per cent in the six months before we took over. We inherited a situation under which production controls could not be effective until 1954—because our predecessors had announced prior to Inauguration Day that no controls would apply for 1953."

2 New Schools to Open Monday

Cora Bailey, Walton Boulevard Units Set for Students

Pontiac's two newest elementary schools will open Monday morning. Schools' Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said today.

The classroom wing of the $416,960 Walton Boulevard School will be ready for over 300 children in kindergarten through sixth grade.

The two final sections of the Cora Bailey School will open for second and third graders, who have temporarily attended Winsor School.

The $71,000 school is built in four separate ranch-type buildings, two of which have already opened for kindergarten and first grade.

LOSE BUS RIDES
Children in the Walton Boulevard district, Whitmer said, will lose their bus rides every day. They have been temporarily transported to Willis School.

Three groups of children in the LeBaron School district, who have been transported by bus to Baldwin School, now will be transported to Willis School the rest of the semester, Whitmer added.

Accuse 2 of Arming Somoza's Assassin

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (U. S. P. — Two Nicaraguans — one an exile in El Salvador — have been accused of arming President Anastasio Somoza's assassin with a gun bought in New Orleans.

Luis Somoza, son of the slain strongman who succeeded to the presidency, said El Salvador would be asked to extradite Noel Bermudez, a former army officer charged with buying the revolver in the United States last April.

The army offered a $665 reward for the capture of Edwin Castro Rodriguez, 29, suspected of passing the weapon from Bermudez to Rigoberto Lopez Perez, who gunned down the elder Somoza at Leon Sept. 21. Perez was slain on the spot. Somoza died last Saturday in a Panama Canal Zone hospital.

SHE'S HEARING THROUGH HER EYEGLASSES

Here is the newest wonder in hearing aids for men and women. Incredible as it may seem, the pair of eyeglasses pictured above is a complete, self-contained transistor hearing aid. And yet to the casual glance, this is a pair of conventional eyeglasses. The Audiotone "hearing glasses" needs no cords, wires or exposed, nor any button in the ear.

The ladies' frames are fashioned styled, with many executive type styles for men. Now you may work and play normally with freedom of movement. You may dress as you wish. Your hearing aid is simply a pair of glasses.

"Hearing glasses" provides better hearing and in the most attractive manner. Arrange for free demonstration TODAY!!

'Rugged' Actor Succumbs at 74

George Bancroft Was One of Film's Rough, Tough 'Heavies'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U. S. P. — George Bancroft, one of the roughest and toughest of Hollywood's "heavies," died in a hospital Tuesday after an illness of three weeks. He was 74.

Bancroft was an actor most of his life. Even when he served for many years in the Navy he set up portable stages on deck and served as the impresario of all manner of programs, using Navy talent.

He went to sea as a teen-ager on merchant ships, later joined the Navy and was a gunner aboard the cruiser Baltimore in the Battle of Manila Bay during the Spanish-American War.

In 1900 when the USS Oregon struck a submerged rock off the China coast, Bancroft swam beneath the hull of the vessel to learn the extent of the damage. For this feat of daring and skill he received an appointment to Annapolis, but he found restrictions there too confining he resigned and headed for Broadway.

For 15 years he played important roles in many successful shows, and in 1922 launched his movie career. He became famous for his rugged characterizations and for 20 years was one of Hollywood's busiest actors.

He played in "The Pony Express," "Underworld," "The Wolf of Wall Street," "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," "Submarine Patrol," and many others. His last movie, "Whistling in Dixie," was made in 1942.

Bancroft was born in Philadelphia, and was married in 1913 in Buffalo, N.Y., to Edna Brothers, an actress. Three years later he was wed to Octavia Brooker, musical comedy star, who survives him.

AUGUSTA, Maine (U. S. P. — The nursery at Blaine House, the Maine governor's residence, will be bipartisan in spite of the recent landslide which swept the popular Democratic governor into another term Sept. 10.

Mrs. Edmund S. Muskie, who expects her third child in November, chose both gay elephants and donkeys for the wallpaper and the all-Republican Executive Council approved the redecorating expense without a murmur.

Dog Needs Company

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (U. S. P. — Instructors conducting an obedience class for dogs grumpily complained finally to little Joe that his pet "Butch" was taking too long to learn anything. "I know, I know," replied Joe. "He's deaf. I just want him to be with other dogs."

OKLAHOMA CITY (U. S. P. — Bob Jenni, curator of reptiles at the Oklahoma City zoo, says he thinks one of his giant turtles is 600 years old — but he can't prove it. The Galapagos tortoise, "Methuselah," weighs 450 pounds.

Pope Pius to Speak

To Beatify Innocent XI in Glittering Ceremony

VATICAN CITY (U. S. P. — Pope Innocent XI, a humble man who dared stand against powerful Louis XIV of France, will be beatified Sunday in St. Peter's Basilica.

Center of the glittering ceremony will be the silver-masked body of the 17th century Pope.

Pope Pius XII has given the pontifical robes to clothe the body of Innocent XI, and the papal ring that has been placed on his silver-covered hand. The crystal coffin will be exposed at the culminating moment of the solemn ceremony when the papal brief is read proclaiming Innocent one of the blessed of the Roman Catholic Church.

Pope Pius, from his Castel Gandolfo summer residence, will speak exalting Innocent's virtues. Later in the day, Pius will come to St. Peter's to lead in the first act of veneration of the newly beatified pontiff.

A solemn pontifical Mass will be celebrated by Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, French-born dean of Cardinals. At one time French authorities opposed Innocent's election to the papacy; later they opposed his beatification.

Innocent XI, born Benedetto Odescalchi May 16, 1611, at Como, northern Italy, was noted for his humility and modest way of life. In that period Catholic kings held broad powers in administrative matters of the church. Antagonism between Innocent XI and King Louis XIV reached a peak when the king's aides insisted on using the French embassy in Rome as a hideout for criminals and other persons evading the authority of the Pope as ruler of the Papal States.

One of Innocent's first acts as Pope was to reduce expenses. Within a few years he had eliminated the Vatican's long-standing deficit.

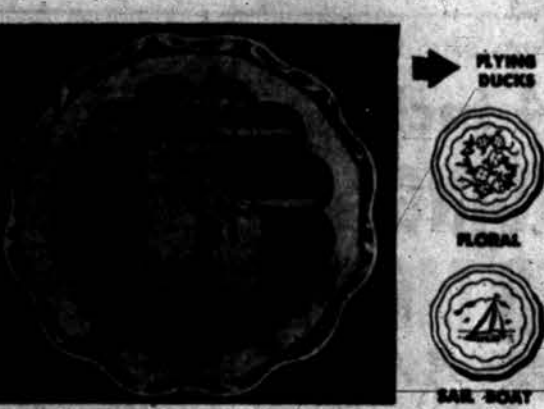

He was 78 years old when he

Brings New Hope to Other Victims

President's Heart Attack Did Big Job Educating Public on Recovery Chances

WASHINGTON (INS)—One little known and beneficial result of President Eisenhower's 1955 heart attack is the massive job of educating the public about heart disease accomplished in the months following the attack.

Heart specialist Dr. John A. Reisinger summed it up in his annual report to the Washington, D. C. heart association this way:

"It is certainly not extravagant to say that the heart disease education job that was done during the month's after President Eisenhower's attack was the equivalent of at least 10 years of effort under ordinary circumstances.

"The terms 'coronary thrombosis,' 'electrocardiogram,' and many others became household words. Periodicals, newspapers, radio, television, every medium of communication took up the task of explaining heart disease to the millions of people who wanted desperately to know as much as they could about it.

"Then with the President's progress toward recovery, the American Heart Association's philosophy of hope through knowledge was seen to be a solid reality—firmly based on fact."

HOPE FOR OTHERS

Heart officials say thousands of present or potential heart disease victims translated the President's experience into:

"If I like can recover from a heart attack, so can we."

When the chief executive's heart muscle stood up under major surgery less than nine months after the coronary attack, the new public optimism received another boost.

The President's case was a demonstration of the heart treatment approach of one man more than any other—Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist and consultant during the chief executive's convalescence.

Dr. White's philosophy can be summed up in these words:

GOOD MEDICINE

"Going back to work is good medicine for sick hearts."

An American Heart Assn. spokesman put it this way:

"Dr. White has long maintained that heart disease does not mean the end of the active, useful life. He advocates not only a return to work, but a return to the same work."

"For years he has been attacking the older idea that a heart attack means the victim 'has had it.'"

Most heart specialists had long ago junked the more conservative take-it-easy-in-a-wheel-chair approach to heart rehabilitation in favor of Dr. White's return-to-work therapy, according to Dr. Bernard Walsh, Washington, D. C. heart specialist.

MODERN WAY

Said Dr. Walsh:

"The President's case was indeed a convincing demonstration of the now widely-accepted 'modern' approach to coronary cases."

"But only the public was surprised by Dr. White's prescription; most doctors had already abandoned the 'on-the-shelf' approach."

Stone Age Had 3-D Pinups

Excavations Reveal Lovely 5,000-Year-Old Figures

ATHENS (INS)—Stone-age Greeks had no pin-ups but they went one better with curvaceous, pocket-sized figurines.

A terracotta figurine representing a standing nude woman was described by Professor John L. Caskey, of the American School of Classical Studies, as "the most striking discovery made during this year's excavations at Lerna, in southern Greece."

Professor Caskey explained that most neolithic figurines were fat and grotesque, symbolizing fertility with prominent sexual characteristics.

"Usually portraying women in a squatting position, they were fat and big-breasted," he said.

DIFFERENT FIND

Caskey's most recent find, however, is different.

This is how he describes it: "The body is erect and graceful; breasts small; arms folded across the thorax; waist, hips and haunches modeled with remarkable skill and anatomical observation."

"Legs long and tapering without rendering of knees and little attention to feet."

The headless figurine, which is anything between 4,500 and 5,000 years old, is eight inches long and originally had a burnished coating of fine red clay.

This has mostly worn off, probably, Caskey says, because it was rubbed as a fetish by its owner to stimulate its "magical properties."

Absent From Vacation

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mary Agnes Willis, 13, of nearby Glenside didn't miss a day of school all year. Two days after she finished seventh grade and was given a certificate for perfect attendance, she broke her leg in a collision at second base. She went to the hospital, absent from vacation.

Nine-Year-Old Calls Harried Mother's Bluff

BAYTOWN, Tex. (INS)—A Baytown mother decided to try a bluff after days of trying to curb her mischievous children.

"If you don't stop your fussing and your mischief, I'm going to leave," she warned.

When five minutes later they were still racing through the house, she decided she would carry out her threat.

She packed her suitcase and drove away. Thirty minutes later she returned and found a police patrol car at her home.

Inside, she learned that her fearless nine-year-old son had called police, reported that his mother had abandoned him and his six-year-old sister, and that he wanted something done about it.

Then, both he and his sister resumed their racing through the house.

Madagascar Opens Ocean Study Base

TANANARIVE, Madagascar—The No. 1 Oceanographic Station in Madagascar, begun in 1953, has been completed.

It was built to study the potentialities of commercial fishing, particularly for tuna, in waters northwest of Madagascar and to provide a base for marine research in French territorial waters of the Indian Ocean.

Equipment includes a boat fitted out for oceanographic studies and for fishing in tropical waters. The center has modern housing for personnel, service buildings, a large laboratory and library, and a 2,000-gallon aquarium.

Another laboratory is planned for the study of ocean currents, water-level movements, and sea life.

West Germany is starting atomic research.

Woman Medic Stays Calm in Center of Dixie Storm

MADISON, Fla. (AP)—You never would think to look at blonde, youthful Dr. Deborah Coggins that she is the center of a racial controversy which has rocked this area of rural North Florida.

The 32-year-old mother of three seems much more like a trim, attractive, suburban housewife than a county health officer who had a storm break about her head after she had a business luncheon with a Negro nurse.

Editor T. C. Merchant Jr. of the weekly Enterprise-Recorder, a staunch supporter of Dr. Coggins, has said she has been subjected to "the most vicious aspersions of lies, misrepresentation and slander that I have had occasion to witness in this community."

The young physician, however, preserved almost to the end an air of serene detachment.

It was unexpected when she blazed up at the Madison County Commission yesterday, calling its members "fools" and "cowards" for refusing to tell her whether she was being fired because of the luncheon with the Negro.

A short while later, she was her composed self again—able to discuss with rueful amusement the multiple firings she has experienced since the Aug. 22 lunch.

Since she served the three north Florida counties of Madison, Jefferson and Taylor as health officer, separate action was required from each.

Then commissioners of all three counties got together and decided to dismiss her if she didn't resign. Separate actions followed in each county. She journeyed to each county seat to hear herself dismissed.

In Jefferson and Taylor counties she sat quietly, addressing the commissioners respectfully and not forgetting the "sir" which springs automatically to the lips of a Southerner speaking to men in authority.

But Dr. Coggins, a native of Tampa, used no respectful title when addressing the members of the commission of her home county of Madison.

When they refused to explain the reason for asking the Board of Health to relieve her, she demanded in a rush of words: "Why are you such cowards? You must be afraid you're not doing the right thing. You're all fools, fools!"

She has no intention of leaving Madison, though. It's the birthplace of her husband and "it's our home."

There is nothing of the crusader or rabble-rouser about Dr. Coggins. She says she had no idea of breaching Southern social custom when she arranged the luncheon conference with the Negro.

But she insists with calmness and conviction that "health knows no color boundaries."

She refused, when questioned at one of her several "firings," to apologize for her action. Both she and her physician husband, soft-spoken Dr. Wilber J. Coggins, have declared the actions against her infringe on her personal freedom as a citizen.

Dr. Coggins, a graduate of the University of Florida and of the Duke University Medical School, plans now to go into private practice here, working in the same office with her husband. She has no fear that either will lack for patients despite bitter feelings voiced by some residents of the community.

For though she has without a doubt made violent enemies, she also has loyal supporters.

Amuses Grandchildren by Catching Sharks!

HONOLULU, (AP)—Mrs. Russell A. Greer, wife of a retired army colonel, has a novel way of entertaining her six grandchildren. She catches sharks for them from the sea-wall of her home on Kaneohe Bay.

Mrs. Greer has caught as many as eight hammerhead sharks, some two or three feet long, in one afternoon.

"My fishing for sharks keeps the children interested," she said. "It's a good way to keep them quiet when they come to visit."

American Dental Society Chooses New Officers

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Dr. William R. Alstadt of Little Rock, Ark., was chosen president of the American Dental Society yesterday.

Plan Road Service

JERUSALEM—A road-scout service similar to that operated by automobile clubs in Great Britain has been instituted on the Tel Aviv-Haifa and Tel Aviv-Jerusalem highways. The scouts, easily recognized by their yellow motorcycle sidecars, are equipped to aid drivers having mechanical trouble or in need of directions.

Under guidance of 12 American and Canadian universities, 5 American students will spend their next academic year in Formosa studying the Chinese language and customs.

Attempt to Cut Traffic Deaths

State Safety Officials Adopt Crash Program to Stem Fatalities

LANSING (U.S.)—State safety officials have started work on a "crash" program to stem the rising tide of highway fatalities.

"We are now at the critical point in our highway safety program: October, November and December will be bad months," State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs told the State Safety Commission.

The commission agreed to call an Oct. 16 meeting of law officers, prosecutors, judges and local safety councils to develop a crash program for holding down fatalities in the final months of the year.

This program, the commission agreed, should be aimed at slashing fatalities among pedestrians and on rural highways.

PEDESTRIANS INVOLVED
 Childs reported that more than 57 per cent of all urban traffic deaths and 13 per cent of rural traffic deaths involved pedestrians.

State police records show 156 persons lost their lives in Michigan traffic in September, but Childs said the figure will probably climb to 185 when all reports are in.

This compares with 159 traffic fatalities in September, 1935.

"The most significant thing about the September record is the great number of multiple-death accidents," Childs said.

Also reviewed by the commission was a special report on "run off road" accidents, the smashups which involve single cars on country roads and which Childs said are a growing problem.

The report noted most of these mishaps involve young drivers, drunk drivers or speeders. Most occurred during darkness, dawn or dusk.

Despite an increase in fatalities during September, Michigan's traffic record for the year is better than other states in its population class.

Fatalities for the first six months of the year dropped eight per cent from 1935, said Gerald Shipman, the commission's executive secretary.

This compares with a 16 per cent increase in California and increases of up to 30 per cent in some other states, he said.

Austria Braces for Soviet Visit

Reds Snap Up Casual Invitations Extended in Moscow

VIENNA (U) — Austrian government leaders are bracing for a visit this month from one of the Kremlin's shrewdest operators — First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

His prospective visit is the result of one of those casual invitations extended in Moscow at banquets or cocktail parties.

An Austrian government delegation was in Moscow 18 months ago to negotiate Soviet agreement to the long-delayed Austrian freedom treaty. They thanked the Russians for their hospitality and casually extended invitations right and left: "Come and visit us some time, too."

Then the Austrians, happily rid of occupation armies at last, forgot about this. But not so the Russians. In September the Soviet ambassador in Vienna called at the chancellery and remarked that Mikoyan was ready to visit Vienna.

Now they are trying to cook up a welcome that will put Mikoyan on the spot.

Officials would like to tell Mikoyan: Look, you Russians were the last to agree to giving us freedom. The Americans gave us millions of dollars worth of food and other aid and are still helping us. But to the Russians we had to pay a ransom to get our freedom and are still paying. How about cutting the bill?

To get their freedom, the Austrians had to sign up to deliver to the Russians 150 million dollars over six years. This was to be in exchange for the return of so-called "German assets" which the Russians had seized here. In addition the Austrians agreed to deliver to Russia one million tons of oil each year for 10 years.

Higher Retirement Pay to Affect 1,110 in State

WASHINGTON (U) — The Civil Service Commission estimates 1,110 persons in Michigan will retire during the next year under the higher annuities authorized by Congress earlier this year.

Nationally, the commission said, total retirements for the first year under the increased benefits may reach $2,000.

Ford Scholarships Open

DETROIT (U) — Its seventh competition for four-year college scholarships has been announced by the Ford Motor Co. Fund. The awards go to children of Ford employees.

Originally Planned for Governor's Home

Old White Elephant Mansion Plagues Eyes of Lansing Council Members

LANSING (U) — The Lansing City Council wants to know if the state is ever going to decide to build a governor's mansion.

This has nothing to do with politics and who wins the gubernatorial election. Rather, it's a matter of city pride to the council.

Back in 1948, when the late Kim Sigler was governor, the state leased the old Orlando Barnes mansion on South Capitol ave. for $1 a year with the idea of using the property for a governor's mansion.

"The property, on one of our most heavily traveled thoroughfares, is becoming an eyesore," Alderman Fred Kircher complained. "The interior has been gradually destroyed by vandals and someone will get killed in there some day."

The City Council agreed that city officials should meet with state officials to find out if the state has any plans for the property.

NO SOLID PLANS

A. N. Langius, director of the state building division, said the legislative capitol development committee still has no solid plans for a governor's mansion.

The Barnes mansion was built in 1876 for Orlando Mack Barnes, railroad and lumber baron and former Lansing mayor.

A huge, sandstone house, it has been termed by architects as "a perfect example of the bad taste of mid-Victorian architecture."

Others say it should be preserved as a classic American period piece "because it's so ugly it's beautiful."

A committee of architects estimated it would take $300,000 to remodel the mansion so it could be used as a governor's residence. The interior has since been damaged by fire and stripped by vandals.

"The grounds are beautiful if the legislature wanted the location," Langius said. "But some people think it's too near heavy traffic and a growing commercial area for the purpose."

The legislative committee also has been looking at sites still left among the new group of state office buildings rising to the rear of the capitol.

Another suggestion is for an apartment-type governor's home, possibly on top of one of the office buildings. A third idea is that the governor should have a home at a location removed from the capitol.

DEPENDS ON STATUS

"A lot depends on whether they decide to make it just a home or a combination residence, office and official state building," Langius said.

In 1955, the legislature appropriated $10,000 for planning a governor's mansion, not to cost more than $250,000.

Plans were submitted for a two-story brick and stone structure of conservative modern design to meet the price but nothing was done with them.

Gov. Williams has said he doesn't want the state to build him an official home while he is in office but thinks it would be a good thing for the future.

Williams rented a home for a while until it was sold under him. He finally purchased a rambling, three-story frame home on a side street near the Capitol ample for his family but nothing pretentious or showy.

Meanwhile, Lansing city officials are becoming anxious. They want to know what's going to happen to the white elephant the Barnes mansion is becoming.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

Baskets for Wong Su

Use your crayons to color these things to be carried by Wong Su, the Chinese boy we showed you yesterday.

You can make a pole of flexible twig or a piece of fairly stiff wire, and put this across his shoulders, behind his head, and in the slits that may be cut in his hands as indicated in yesterday's drawing.

Paste the drawings of the boxes on cardboard, punch holes in the knots at the top, and tie string through them so they can be attached to either end of the pole. Or, if you can, make two small boxes out of light cardboard and paste these squares to the front. The Chinese characters at the upper left corner can be drawn or painted on the other sides of the boxes.

Make another little box and paste the cricket cage on one side. Tie a string through the top and Wong Su can carry it in his hand. The basket can be pasted on to stiff paper, and folded up and pasted together as indicated. Cut some fish out of green paper to put in his basket.

(Brian MacWhinney, Riverside, Calif., first contributed this idea. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so send it in care of this newspaper and it may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Good Time to Check Social Security Fund

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan finance professor advises persons covered by Social Security to request an audit of their account from the government.

Prof. Wilford J. Elteman said few persons realize they can ask for an audit of wages credited to their Social Security accounts. Those who fail to have their credits checked periodically cannot have errors corrected by the government after a three-year period has elapsed without consent of their employer, Elteman explained.

He pointed out four of five Ann Arbor residents who recently requested an audit learned their government accounts of wage earning were incorrect.

Publisher Dreams Up Wise Guy's 'Fortune'

By PHYLLIS MATTELL

NEW YORK (INS) — Much of America has the quaint, non-sensical notion that extremely wealthy men and women have come up to their "fifty" financial status through blood, sweat, or inheritance.

"Two-thirds of that is a myth," says a young man who's living from hand to mouth at the moment. "Inheritance grants great wealth, yes. But the theory that hard work produces riches is a lot of moralist propaganda."

"Actually, most of the big money is 'smart money.' It's been gotten through fast thinking, smooth connections, bold moves and clever maneuvering."

So saying, George T. Orick whipped out a new magazine called "Smart Money," which he is editing and which will appear Oct. 9. "You might call it the wise guy's 'Fortune,'" Orick grinned.

After looking it over carefully,

"Confidential."

HELPFUL HINTS?

Within these pages are such helpful hints as (1) how to make money fortune-hunting; (2) How to profit from dope peddling; (3) The "Intimate" picture story of America's highest paid nude model; (4) How to clean up money on "rigged stocks," and the fascinating story of a man who became a "worry listener" for housewives at a nice fee.

"At the risk of sounding puritan," we said, "don't you think this magazine will encourage greediness—and give a lot of people new ideas for shady deals?"

"It might," he conceded, "but probably it's better that some of these shady deals come out in the open. We're not trying to be sensational, just practical. And you can never make greedy people greedy. That is an absolute word."

Admitting that there are already plenty of "sensational" magazines on the stands, the 33-year-old publisher made his position clear:

"Anybody who makes money is a subject for us, and you'd be surprised how thin the line is between the legal and the illegal.

We're not looking for the sensational and shady necessarily, but the quick way to make money.

"After all, it's ingenuity that gets a guy ahead in this world, and we're just trying to offer readers little nudges in that direction."

PERSONAL INGENUITY

It was ingenuity that made Orick decide to leave a much more slick, staid magazine ("Architectural Forum") where he had been assistant editor, to look for a new outlet where he could be his own boss.

"Personally, and maybe I'm a puritan like you, I don't think money is as important as accomplishment," he said thoughtfully.

"But in order to work for yourself, you have to have ideas. And I had this idea that money is a dream of almost everybody in the United States."

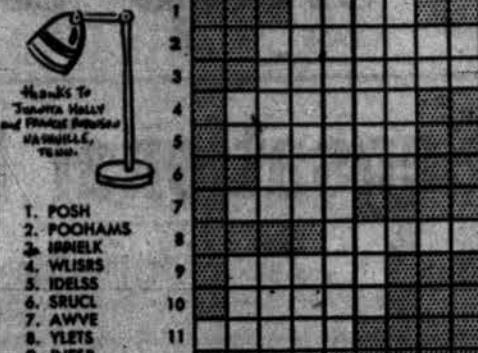

"Men dream about making money, and women dream about spending it."

On the way to their pots of gold, Orick says most of them stumble against ideas that are bigger, faster, smarter than their own.

The publishing business is a risky one these days, and our boy is not certain—since a magazine on this subject has never been turned out before—how long he will stay in business.

But if it does succeed, he will never run out of fodder for feature articles.

"Take any four city blocks in midtown New York City, and you'd find enough big money manipulations to fill up this magazine for the next 20 years," he said brightly.

Brennan Credits New Jersey System for Appointment

New Supreme Court Judge Dislikes 'Procedural Niceties'

By JOHN N. KOLESAR

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Justice William J. Brennan, who steps up to the U. S. Supreme Court within two weeks, is a judge who dislikes "procedural niceties" but can wax eloquent in defense of the legal rights of a penniless murderer.

Brennan credits the accomplishments of New Jersey's model court system for his surprise appointment to the nation's highest court. The 50-year-old State Supreme Court Justice is as a classic product of New Jersey's eight years under a reorganized court plan.

A Democrat, Brennan has never been active politically. One of eight children of an Irish immigrant, he worked his way to a law degree and the law has been his only adult profession. He became a judge almost simultaneously with the birth of the court system in which he takes such pride.

One of his major preoccupations in his home state has been the speeding up of the courts' everyday work.

"Justice delayed is essentially bad justice," Brennan believes.

"Witnesses die, memories fall and the right may not prevail when it takes years for a case to reach a decision," Brennan says.

How does Brennan feel about some of the important issues that will come before him when he replaces retiring Justice Sherman Minton? What are his views on segregation, Fifth Amendment witnesses? Is he liberal or conservative?

"How do you answer questions like that?" is Brennan's only rejoinder.

As a lawyer he will not comment on hypothetical cases. As a judge he will not pre-judge real cases. Brennan has written two majority decisions involving the Fifth Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination.

"The privilege of a witness against being compelled to incriminate himself, of ancient origin, is precious to free men as a restraint against high-handed and arrogant inquisitorial practices," Brennan said in a 1935 opinion. "... The price of occasional failure of justice under its protection is paid in the larger interest of the general personal security."

In both self-incrimination cases the witnesses claiming privilege lost his appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Brennan is a Roman Catholic. Like Frank Murphy, the last Catholic to serve on the U. S. Supreme Court, one of his specialties has been the field of labor relations law. During World War II as an Army colonel, he handled labor problems in defense industry. After the war, in private practice, he was attorney for a number of large corporations during the post-war wave of strikes.

Brennan said that as a lawyer in public utility strikes he advocated compulsory arbitration, which is now a feature of New Jersey law.

He spoke for the court majority when it struck down the city of Newark's efforts to bar a second burlesque house.

Brennan, a stocky, dynamic man, is also one of the most courteous on the bench. Like all appellate judges, he will probe for Brennan, in tones of outrage, pointed out that in civil suits, the defense can see the other side's evidence.

"It shocks my sense of justice that in these circumstances counsel for an accused facing a possible death sentence should be denied inspection of his confession which, were this a civil case, could not be denied," said Brennan.

Vanderbilt, in a speech before the state court Monday, said he hoped Brennan's "missionary zeal" for court efficiency would "burn bright in Washington."

Open Township Drive Oct. 6

Oakland Asks $2,000 This Year

Administration Costs Nil in '56, President Robert Barkham Says

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Robert Barkham, president of the Oakland Township Community Chest, announces that the Chest Campaign Drive will begin Oct. 6 and last through Oct. 31.

Campaign chairman, Wendell Kelly, assisted by Gladys Lyon, George Ennis, Phyllis Mitzel, George Bowen and Sue Kane will head the drive.

They have set the goal this year at $2,000. Last year the goal was set at $1,500 and they collected $1,791.75. One hundred per cent of these contributions were distributed to the following charities:

Goodwill Scout Committee, $125; Michigan Children's Aid, $71.67; South Oakland County Girl Scouts, $33.34; North Oakland County Girl Scouts, $23.34; Oakland Town and Country YMCA, $44.99; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, $66.67; Clinton Valley Council BSA, $310.02; Oakland County Chapter Red Cross, $366.70; United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan, $330.02; Total, $1,791.75.

The administration costs were zero for the year of 1935.

Barkham states, "The Chest Board appreciates the support of the township and hopes they will continue to support the drive this year as they have in the past."

Your PTA Is Planning: Annual Fairs Saturday at Stiles, Brooks Schools

AVON TOWNSHIP—Stiles School PTA is readying its annual "Pow Wow" to be held on the school grounds Saturday, starting at 11 a.m.

The event, "planned to be bigger and better" this year according to General Chairman Elmer Englehart, will feature pony rides and games for the youngsters.

Area Firemen Set Open House

Pontiac Township's 3 Stations Observe Fire Prevention Week

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP—The fire department here will hold open house at all three fire stations during the week of Oct. 7-13, from 7 until 9 p.m.

The event is being held in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

The fire halls are located: On Auburn road in Auburn Heights; one at Opdyke and Pontiac roads and another at Joslyn and Vinewood.

Five Pontiac Residents Among Inductees Who Left Wednesday

Five Pontiac men were among the 23 Oakland County residents who left Wednesday for Detroit to be inducted into the Armed Services, Local Draft Boards 65 and 67 said today.

Richard Zimmerman, of 96 Ottawa Dr., led the city men departing from Board 65. Others were Kenneth L. Carter, of 12 Downing Ct.; Clayton E. Marsh Jr.; of 35 Lorraine Ct.; Robert E. Martin, of 25 Monroe St.; and Andrew L. Carter, of 214 E. Wilson Ave.

The Board 67 inductees representing the outlying areas were led by Edson F. Gallaudet II, of Bloomfield Hills. Others leaving from outside Pontiac were: Leiland Matlock, of Clarkston; Jack E. Ford, of Lake Orion; William L. Holmes, of Farmington; John H. Cassner, Lowell S. Wright, and Donald R. Heber, all of Birmingham; Gordon L. Rickard, Waterford Township; and John R. Dunn Jr., of Lakeville.

Others: Asa J. Smith and Robert L. Reuter, both of Walled Lake; Richard F. Loomis and Leon D. Petzold, of Rochester; Francis D. Parsons, of Orion Township; Cecil A. Hawkins, of Rochester; Charles R. Cash, of Oxford; and Milton F. Mallender II and Francis Neri, of Detroit.

The entire group reported to Ft. Wayne for processing.

Woman Breaks Leg in Auto Accident

A 37-year-old woman suffered a broken right leg when the car she was in hit the rear of another on Elizabeth Lake road last night, Waterford Township police said.

Beatrice Pointer, 6855 Scott Lake Rd. was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, authorities said.

She was with Richard C. Steele, 20, of 5142 Oakcliff Rd. His car struck one driven by Shirley A. Coney, 21, of 1533 Moccasin St., who was stopped for a traffic light at Cass Lake road, police said.

The topic, "Student Problems" will be explored.

Program booklets will be distributed at this meeting.

The $730,000 bond issue, passed in April by a one-vote margin, also covered site acquisition, architects' fees, legal fees, and other contingencies.

September, 1938, is predicted now by school officials as date the school is ready for occupancy. If the next plans were approved, bids accepted and construction started shortly thereafter, the opening date possibly could be moved up to the beginning of the second semester in February, officials said today, but added that they were not optimistic.

The educators had originally set September 1937 as opening date.

Architects explained the cost difference as a change in their organizational personnel in the midst of the project.

Brandon Homecoming, Lights Dedication Friday

ORTONVILLE — Preparing for the Homecoming here Friday, Brandon Township High will also dedicate the new lights on its football field at the half, in the game between Oxford and Ortonville.

Oxford's 55-piece band, directed by conductor Gordon Marthey, will play, as will the Ortonville Band. Oxford will also march in the Ortonville parade which starts at 7 p.m. at the high school.

Merchants will have floats in the parade as well as some of the churches and the four high school grades. Persons with horses and bikes are invited to participate in the "show."

en at the dance at Brandon gymnasium following the game. She will be picked from the 9th to 12th grade representatives. Kay Uloth, Delores Arcand, Beverly Bailey and Veachel Bilyen.

Two queens will be present from Oxford to be a part of the queen's court, Brenda Miller, Brandon student council head, will crown the new Brandon queen.

A chili supper is being sponsored by the Senior class, at Brandon Grange hall from 5 to 7 p.m.

Float judges will be Mrs. Zada Newton, Mrs. Clara Sadler and Mrs. Allen Stevens; while Ralph Curtis, Robert Bower and H. B. Johnson will judge the queen.

Eliminate Further Danger

Boss Decides to Level Fallen Jackson Building

JACKSON (INS) — Hardbitten John J. Schweitzer, general superintendent for the construction project that ended in killing 10 yesterday, made the most difficult but most vital decision of his career this morning.

He ordered the remainder of the collapsed Consumers Power Co. building in Jackson demolished.

His decision was necessary to save salvage workers from possible injury or death as they picked through the rubble for six missing workmen. It wipes out the possibility of removing any of the six men alive.

Salvage workers were engaged in the seemingly hopeless task of searching for the bodies entombed in the wreckage.

Throughout the entire operation, the 45-year-old square-jawed Schweitzer had been the voice of authority. Even when the situation seemed the most chaotic, his quick, decisive orders were never questioned.

No directed a dozen different phases of the salvage like a general with his troops on a battlefield.

He said: "My decision to knock down the rest of the building was made when it was evident that the lives of the rescuers were in danger. If there was any hope that the trapped men were still alive I would not have given the order."

Schweitzer, a Battle Creek resident, has been with the Herlihy Co. about 20 years and a superintendent the past 10. He came up through the ranks of construction workers.

Just by Chance

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A search by Felix Vega of San Juan, Puerto Rico, for a brother he had not seen in 11 years ended successfully by a chance meeting of the two.

Vega came here after hearing that his brother, Rafael, was working in San Diego or Tijuana, Mexico. Felix searched for three weeks with no success. Then Felix and his wife walked into a hotel coffee shop, Rafael was working there as a busboy.

Italy now has 4 million automobiles, an increase of 15 per cent since 1933.

Polio Victim Cited by BPW as Civic Pride

LAPEER — Mrs. Martha Eastman, polio victim who does her housework from a wheel chair and who operates a telephone answering service for Lapeer firms, has been cited by the BPW group here.

The Business and Professional Women gave tribute to Mrs. Eastman "in recognition of her cheerfulness, initiative and aggressiveness in establishing a business in spite of great personal handicaps."

They added that she is a tremendous credit to herself and the BPW of the world in her devotion to duty and ability to make a concrete contribution to life in the Lapeer community.

Algerian Rebels Kill 23 French Draftees

ALGIERS (AP) — Algerian rebels killed 23 French soldiers — all of them 21-year-old draftees — in a fierce battle that raged for several hours last night south of Oran.

It was one of the heaviest losses suffered by French forces in a single clash since the rebellion started almost two years ago.

Named were: Mrs. Donald Tripp, Mrs. Marvin Acheson, Mrs. Marvin Schuster, Mrs. Ralph Sterns and Mrs. John Dunn.

A kick-off tea will be held on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., for all volunteer workers. At this time they will receive work kits and area assignments.

Re-Plan Romeo School

ROMEO—Architects of the firm Jensen and Keough, Detroit, were sent back to their drawing boards Tuesday by the Romeo Community Schools Board of Education to re-design plans for the new high school by Oct. 23.

At the same time, bids, lowest of which totaled $398,000 to the $600,000 designated for building and equipment, were rejected and the "good faith" checks returned.

The $730,000 bond issue, passed in April by a one-vote margin, also covered site acquisition, architects' fees, legal fees, and other contingencies.

September, 1938, is predicted now by school officials as date the school is ready for occupancy. If the next plans were approved, bids accepted and construction started shortly thereafter, the opening date possibly could be moved up to the beginning of the second semester in February, officials said today, but added that they were not optimistic.

Hollywood Headlines

Glittering Movie Careers Often Cut Short by Death

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD 48—The first anniversary of James Dean's death recalls other young stars whose careers have been cut short by tragedy.

Carole Lombard had reigned for a decade as perhaps the greatest light comedienne the screen has known. She was 32 when she died in a plane crash on a snow-capped Nevada mountain Jan. 17, 1942.

She was returning from a war bond tour in the East. Her death was a stunning blow to her husband, Clark Gable.

Another lively star was erased from the Hollywood scene Dec. 14, 1944, this time by her own hand. She was Lupe Velez, fiery Mexican actress. She had arrived in Hollywood at 16 in 1926, and her hectic romances kept her in the public prints.

She was so full of life Hollywood found it hard to believe she had killed herself. In a bitter farewell note, she accused French actor Harold Ramond of abandoning her and the unborn child she carried with her to death. She was 34.

Carole Landis did a lot of living in her 11 years in Hollywood. She was married and divorced four times. She was 29 when her body was found by actor Rex Harrison July 5, 1948, in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. An empty sleeping pill bottle was nearby. A note to her mother gave no indication as to why she chose suicide.

Robert Walker was a serious, intent-actor when he came to Hollywood with his wife, who later became Jennifer Jones. He found fame in "See Here, Private McGee." Then she won an Oscar, divorced him and married her producer, David Seznick.

Feeling "I didn't deserve happiness," Walker went on a lengthy bender. He sought psychiatric aid at Menninger's clinic in Topeka, Kan., and returned to pictures with apparent emotional stability. He died suddenly Aug. 28, 1951, at 32, following a freak reaction to a sedative.

Robert Francis was a postman's son who found sudden success as Willie Keith in "The Caine Mutiny." At 25 he was destined for a bright career when the light plane he was piloting crashed into a parking lot after taking off at Lockheed Air Terminal July 31, 1955.

Five days later, death again struck a young star. She was Susan Ball, whose valiant fight against cancer had cost her a leg, and then her life. Hopeful to the last, she died at 21.

How to Be Successful Without Winning Fame

LAWRENCE, Kan. (INS)—Dean Kenneth E. Anderson of the University of Kansas School of Education has come upon the following instruction, penned in 1809 by the school superintendent of Champagne County, Ill.:

"Do not rouse your pupils to aspire to the presidency of the United States, or the throne of Great Britain, but teach them how to become honest, self-reliant and intelligent men and women."

Like a Little 'Music to Steal Hubcaps By'

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—A Hell's Kitchenite claims Elvis Presley's singing is "music to steal hubcaps by." ... Would-be movie actor Rocky Marciano told me by phone from Red Skelton's Hollywood swimming pool that he took a dramatic lesson from Marilyn Monroe's ex-coach, Natasha. Red grabbed the phone to shout he didn't need it for his recent TV show. "That was all punch lines," howled Red. "He got the punches and I got the lines."

Screen star Michael Rennie is around with attractive Mary Gardner, who's divorcing Hollywood director Otto Preminger. ... Huntington Hartford got a minor nose operation but first asked the doc, "Hey, what's it gonna cost me?" ... Audrey Meadows de-glitzens her diamonds for TV by pancaking 'em.

When Her Grace and the Prince paid a second visit to the Harwyn I asked Prop. Ed Wynn how he addresses her. "As 'Your Highness,'" he said. ... Eibel Merman told Aristotle Onassis he ought to be a sport and buy another country. ... No wonder the Messmore Kendall Jr. bustled. The minister said, "Do you, Messmore, take thee, Skipworth?"

Comic Joe E. Lewis got Eli Basse to write an act for his gal, Karen Hanson. "What's you written for her so far?" I asked Eli, who replied, "A receipt for $2,000."

When asked to do something he doesn't want to, Billy Reed says, "I can't, I'm involved with TV." He doesn't explain that he means he's watching it. ... Funny what TV's done to speech. Seeing the Duchess of Windsor in person, a woman gasped, "That's the first time I ever saw her alive."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL ...

Bill Holden twirled his specs at El Morocco but the young dolls batted their lashes anyway. ... Joe Benjamin, Jack Dempsey's ex-sparring partner, got a bundle from RKO to permit use of his name in the Dempsey picture. His part is to "ruin Dempsey socially."

Judy Garland apologized at the Palace for her hoarseness, and sipped tea on stage. ... Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt will file for divorce. ... Eddie's anniversary gift to Debbie: A diamond pendant he designed. ... Carole Haney flew to Miami Sunday; husband Larry Blysen got lonely and followed three hours later.

Francisco Sagan, top French authoress, told her agent who she wants most to meet here: Elvis Presley. ... Gusle Moran and boy friend Ed Hand were at the Harwyn; her estranged husband, Tom Corbally, sat nearby. ... Wrestlers Kenny Ackles and Gene DuBague will study ballet at the June Taylor school. ... Jayne Mansfield's gowns for her first film cost the studio $35,000.

Rubrosa may start a new fashion trend with those tight pants. ... Lionel Hampton will unveil his new nose at Basin Street. ... New interior decorating stunt on the swank East Side: Wall-to-wall carpeting in the bathroom. ... Johnny Berardino, the ex-Cleveland Indian outfielder, goes into the 'B'way play, "Our Royal Past."

EARL'S TEARLS ...

This presidential campaign is a case of the candidates shaking hands and the voters shaking their heads.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "These days about the only thing a nickel will get you is a sneer."—Frank Mailester.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A famous jockey told his son, who's sprouting up, "I hope you realize you're growing yourself out of a million dollar job with every inch!" That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1956, The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Bonuses for UD Faculty

DETROIT 48—Some 225 faculty and staff members at University of Detroit will receive a $465 bonus as part of a program to raise the level of faculty pay. The Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, president, said the bonus was made possible by an operational fund provided by alumni and friends of the school.

Liz Taylor to Start Divorce Proceedings

HOLLYWOOD 48—Elizabeth Taylor, 24, says she plans a Nevada divorce from British actor Michael Wilding—but she declines to add whether marriage to producer Michael Todd, 48, will follow.

Miss Taylor said yesterday that she will go to Lake Tahoe early in November to establish the required six-week Nevada residence. She and Wilding, 44, were married Feb. 21, 1952, and separated three months ago. They have two sons, Michael Howard, 3½, and Christopher Edward, 1½.

Georgia to Woo Michigan Industry

ATLANTA 48—Gov. Marvin Griffin and 30 business executives will fly to Detroit next week on a mission of "selling" Michigan industrialists on the idea of locating plants in Georgia.

The group will meet with more than 100 Detroit executives at a luncheon Oct. 11 at the Detroit Athletic Club. Efforts will be aimed principally at getting an auto producer to set up an assembly plant in Georgia. The program is sponsored by the Georgia Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Charles T. Fisher, president of the National Bank of Detroit.

There are 48,309 foreign citizens now studying in U.S. hospitals and universities under the student exchange program.

Extra Dividend

READING, Pa. 48—Mrs. Emily DeLong had six pigeons stolen from a coop atop her house. She reported the theft to police who soon found the missing birds. Seven pigeons were returned to the woman. Count it as interest for your mental anguish, detectives told her.

APPLESAUCE BREAD — There's a lot of nutritious goodness represented in this photograph of Applesauce Bread, enriched with nonfat dry milk. "The heart of milk," and served with glasses of cold milk.

Applesauce Loaf Is Extra Rich

Cooler weather steps up appetites so snack suggestions are most appropriate at this time.

Enriched Applesauce Bread recipe makes nutrition taste mighty good, too, especially when it is served with glasses of chilled liquefied instant nonfat dry milk at snack time.

The nugget of enrichment hidden in this tasty recipe is one-half cup of instant nonfat dry milk powder — the equivalent of more than one pint of nonfat milk — added to the flour and other dry ingredients. Ordinarily, however, a recipe for applesauce bread does not call for any milk.

APPLESAUCE BREAD

1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder
1/2 cup applesauce
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup unsweetened applesauce
1/2 cup butter, melted

Sift flour, sugar, instant nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder, cinnamon and salt together 3 times. Combine eggs, applesauce and butter; add to dry ingredients, mixing quickly, until just blended. Turn into a greased (9x5x2 1/4-inch) loaf pan or 9-inch square pan.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until top is firm and browned. Cool before cutting.

If desired, decorate top of cake by sprinkling powdered sugar through a lace doily. Makes 1 loaf.

They'll Hurry Home to Eat 'Chili Mac'

Chili Mac in the menu is sure to bring the children home for lunch with no dillydally along the way. Keep it in mind for Saturday or Sunday night suppers, too.

Chili Mac

1/2 pound ground beef
1/2 green pepper, chopped
1/2 small onion, chopped
1/2 cup tomato catsup
1/2 cup cooked kidney beans
1/2 cup tomato sauce
Dash pepper
1/2 teaspoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup elbow macaroni

Brown beef, green pepper and onion in fat or drippings in heavy skillet. Add tomatoes and kidney beans. Combine salt, pepper, chili powder, sugar, vinegar and water and stir into meat mixture.

Cover and simmer gently 20 minutes. Add macaroni and mix well. Cover and simmer 30 minutes longer. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Stuff Green Peppers With Diced Ham, Rice

A little diced leftover ham and cooked rice plus diced celery cooked until soft in butter make a fine stuffing for green peppers. Cut off ends of pepper and scoop out seeds and membranes; parboil the peppers for about five minutes in lightly salted water, then stuff and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, in a pan with about a half-inch of water in it, until the peppers are tender and the tops browned—about an hour.

Whistle-Bait to Make 'Em Whistle While They Work

When that moon whistle sounds, it makes no difference whether a lunch box carrier takes his lunch from a locker at school, an industrial factory or even a desk drawer at the office. That Number 2 meal of the day plays an important role in providing part of the day's nourishment.

Avoid monotonous lunches day after day by tempting eager appetites with these little extras that add so much fun and flavor.

To ring a different note into lunchtime, use slices of Spicy Raisin Loaf with various spreads or fillings.

Cookies have always been meal-time favorites, and Alpine Nuggets will surely add importance to any lunch box.

Spicy Raisin Loaf
2 cups Pancake Mix

1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup raisins (2 1/2 cups) unsweetened chocolate, melted
3 cups oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked)

Sift together flour, salt and soda into a bowl. Add sugar, shortening, eggs, milk, vanilla and chocolate (cooled to lukewarm). Beat until smooth. Blend in oats.
Drop by spoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 13 to 15 minutes. Remove from cookie sheet. When cool, glaze as directed below. Makes 3 dozen.

Alpine Nuggets
1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup shortening, soft
2 eggs
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

For glaze, combine 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 1/2 cup maple syrup in a mixing bowl. Bring to boil over medium heat; boil 2 minutes.

Remove from heat and stir vigorously until glaze thickens. While glazing cookies, place pan over hot water to prevent too rapid hardening. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup chopped nutsmeats or top with pecan halves.

The size of an egg is not related to its quality, flavor or food value.

Cheese Tray No Trick

Fingers or cubes of nippy Cheddar cheese, thin slices of Swiss, wedges or cubes of tangy blue cheese, triangles of Camembert, scarlet-coated half moons made by slicing down through a Gouda— it's as simple as that to prepare a cheese tray for dessert.

Small fry love simple sodas made with ginger ale and vanilla ice cream. For an extra, hang a slit red maraschino cherry on the rim of each glass.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN
By Frank Kohler

Our Pickle Department is at work this week with GRANDMOTHER WILLIAM'S RELISH from Mrs. Georgia L. Lee, Oklahoma City Oklahoman Chapter. And here, lads, is a good rainy Saturday problem, Mrs. Lee says. "Most excellent—'tis a wonderful relish and comes from a very old family in Mississippi."

12 red sweet peppers
12 green sweet peppers
3 green hot peppers
2 large firm heads cabbage
1 peck green tomatoes
1 peck large sweet onions
1 gallon water
2 tablespoons powdered alum
1 gallon cider vinegar
1½ pounds sugar
1 cup salt
3 ounces celery seed
3 ounces white mustard seed
2 bottles prepared horseradish

3 ounces dry mustard
1 ounce turmeric
Grind peppers in one bowl, and all remaining vegetables except celery in another, using coarse blade of food chopper. In a large kettle, bring water to a boil with alum, then add all except the celery and pepper and simmer 15 minutes. Drain through a colander.

In the kettle, heat the vinegar and add sugar, salt, celery seed, white mustard seed, and let come to a good boil. Add drained cooked vegetables and the green peppers. Boil 10 minutes and add the horseradish and diced celery.

Make a paste of the dry mustard and turmeric with a little water, and add to the mixture. Simmer one more minute, remove from heat, and seal in hot jars.

An excellent HOT BACON DRESSING for green leaf lettuce particularly, or other desired greens, is from Harry T. Frazier, Beloit Daily News Chapter. And, with tender young fresh raw spinach leaves as the greens, this becomes a noble thing.

1 quart crisp greens
1 strip bacon, diced
1 cup finely minced onion and juice
1 tablespoon flour
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 cup soured cream

Wash and thoroughly dry the greens. Tear into small pieces and place in a bowl. Saute the bacon until nicely crisped, and remove bacon, leaving drippings in skillet. Separate yolk from white of egg and chop each fine.

Blend flour in with the bacon fat and stir and cook over low heat until smooth. Stir in sugar, salt, pepper and egg yolk, and stir and cook until smooth—stir in the vinegar and then the soured cream, and continue cooking and stirring until sauce is thickened and smooth—then stir in the onion and, finally, the bacon.

Toss chopped egg whites over the greens, then pour dressing over while still hot, toss well, and serve immediately.

Baste With Olive Oil

Olive oil gives chicken special flavor. Use the oil, along with minced parsley, for basting a broiling chicken. Or fry chicken pieces (dipped in seasoned flour) in a little olive oil, then use the drippings in the pan for a mushroom gravy.

Pour tomato aspic into a ring mold. Unmold and fill the center with canned drained whole-kernel corn mixed with French dressing. Surround the aspic with a pretty green—water cress or chervil.

Plentiful Poultry Eases Strain on Food Budget

Outdoor markets are another reminder that it is time to gather "the fruits of the harvest." Retail and farmers markets relate the same story. Shoppers can share the food bounty at reasonable seasonal prices. Poultry, grass-fed beef, eggs, apples, and potatoes are among the plentiful in keeping with the slimmest pocketbook.

MEATS—There is something to crow about. There could be no better time than now to take a long look at the poultry department. The top grades of beef are high, but there is plenty of chicken and turkey to ease the strain on the meat budget.

Not only is there a record amount of broilers-fryers in the October market, but this is also the time when retired layers become stewers. Both are being offered at the lowest prices yet this fall.

Seventy-six million more turkeys than in 1935 is keeping prices more attractive for consumers. Improved breeding and feeding is producing better finished turkeys. Ranging from 4 to 9 pounds, the small turkey easily fits the needs of the small family. For roasting, plan to buy ½ to ¾ pound of ready-to-cook bird for each serving.

The Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, reminds shoppers that all poultry will spoil rapidly. Use fresh poultry within 2 or 3 days after purchase. Cooked poultry should be used within 2 to 3 days also.

Cattle that have been feeding on grassy ranges are starting to come in from the pasture for the winter. Some head directly to market without further fattening.

This tender range beef will usually grade U. S. Standard or U. S. Good quality. This is the cue for the wise shopper—moisture and slow cooking are needed to tenderize the meat. Roasts, short ribs, and other cuts which can be braised are good protein eating at low cost. Grain fed beef of U. S. Choice and U. S. Prime quality is now 10 to 20 cents more per pound for the same cuts.

EGGS—Supplies of medium size eggs are increasing. Medium-size eggs weighing 21 ounces per dozen are now selling at 45 to 51 cents. Large eggs weighing only three ounces more per dozen are 65 to 71 cents.

Six small, five medium, or 4 large size eggs equal one cup. FRUIT—Apples capture the votes at the fruit counter. The best Michigan crop in 10 to 15 years is a challenge to all to use apples. During October apples have their best flavor and appearance.

For a good all purpose apple there are heavy supplies of the McIntosh variety. Even though it is now priced at a low of 8 to 10 cents per pound when bought in a three pound bag, those with storage facilities can buy apples more economically by the bushel.

VEGETABLES—Michigan grown vegetables are still new. This week will about finish the harvest of green beans, peppers and tomatoes.

Of all the vegetables, Michigan potatoes should be in the limelight. Not only do they wear slightly lower price tags again, but in many cases they are less than half the cost of those being shipped from out-of-state.

A serving of potato daily is one basic requirement of a good diet. One medium size potato contains about 100 calories.

Celery, cabbage, beef, squash and cauliflower rate more than second glances for the current market list.

CANNED FOOD—Be alert to the many canned vegetables and fruits now featured. Check labels carefully for can size and number of servings. A number 303 can holds 2 cups, a number 2 can, 2½ cups.

STEWED CHICKEN, NOODLES
4 to 4½ pounds plump hen
4 cups boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
1 herb bouquet
1 onion, sliced
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 package (8 ounces) noodles

Cut chicken into serving pieces. Place in kettle. Add water, salt, onion, pepper, and herb bouquet. (An herb bouquet consists of some celery tops, a small bay leaf, 1 sprig parsley, all tied into a cheesecloth bag, so you can remove it easily). Cover.

As soon as steaming point is reached, reduce heat to slow simmer. About 15 minutes before ready to serve, remove herb bouquet, add noodles, and simmer until tender, about 15 minutes. Place chicken on hot platter and surround with noodles. Pour a small amount of any remaining liquid over all. Serve at once. Serves 5-6.

Rock Lobster Goes International

Ever since the first trial shipment of South African rock lobster, a growing American public has demanded more of this flavorful food that is luxury-tasting at budget prices.

Last year over 3,000,000 pounds were either canned or frozen in South Africa and shipped some 6,700 odd miles to fill the demands of the United States market.

Here is a luxury food within everybody's means. Whatever the recipe, 4 ounces of rock lobster is more than a generous serving for one person. And in a dish such as currie, only 3 ounces is needed per serving.

An economy-minded homemaker can make a truly exciting—and foreign—meal for a large family with a very minimum investment of time and money.

During the Newspaper Food Editors Conference, exciting foreign seafood dishes were presented at the South African Rock Lobster Association's luncheon. Each of the dishes was an adaptation of a "classic" foreign recipe that has stood the test of time and experienced taste through generations.

Each, however, was a seafood dish that is new and different to most Americans. Each used as its basic ingredient rock lobster from South Africa.

Rock Lobster, Pan-American Style

4 to 6 (4 ounces) frozen South African rock lobster tails
1 cup tomato sauce
1 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup minced onion
1 cup minced celery
1 cup minced green pepper
1 cup minced stuffed olives
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon aromatic blend

Drop frozen South African rock lobster tails in boiling, salted water. Cook tails 3 minutes more than their individual weight in ounces. For example, cook a frozen 6-ounce tail 9 minutes. If tails are thawed, cook only 1 minute more than individual weight.

Drench with cold water, drain. Cut down both sides of undershell with kitchen scissors, peel off undershell.

Insert thumb, between shell and meat, gently pull meat from shell in one piece. Reserve shells. Chill meat and cut in large dice.

Mix tomato sauce with remaining ingredients. Add diced rock lobster meat and allow to marinate several hours. Serve in shells with toothpicks, as appetizer.

Note: The rock lobster may be heated, after marinating, and served as a main course with boiled rice. Serves 4 to 6.

Here's How to Recognize Quality Macaroni Product

What is a dessert sandwich? It is a confection usually combining fruits, preserves and nuts on enriched yeast-raised bread.

This, like any sandwich, may be served open-faced, closed or triple decker—hot or cold.

Serve it on a pretty plate at the end of a meal with coffee or other beverage—you guessed it—as dessert.

Sugar Apple Sandwich
6 slices enriched yeast-raised bread
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 cup apple sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
Dash each of cinnamon and nutmeg
3 tablespoons shredded coconut

Spread toast with margarine or butter. Top each slice liberally with apple sauce. Sprinkle with brown sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Top with coconut. Broil about 5 minutes until the coconut begins to brown.

Fruit and Nut Sandwich Loaves Remove crusts from 9 slices of enriched yeast-raised bread. Make 3 stacks of 3 slices each, filling with the Date and Nut and Peanut Butter Marmalade Fillings. Cut stacks in half. Frost with Cream Cheese Frosting.

Date and Nut Filling
Combine 1/2 3-oz. package cream cheese with 12 dates, chopped and 1/4 cup chopped nuts.

Peanut Butter Marmalade Filling
Combine 3 tablespoons peanut butter and 2 tablespoons marmalade. Blend well.

Cream Cheese Frosting
Blend 2 3-oz. packages cream cheese with 1 tablespoon orange juice and 1 teaspoon orange rind.

Foil for Fruit Dessert
Roll tiny squares of cream cheese into finely chopped salted nuts. Serve as a flavor foil for a sweet fruit gelatin dessert.

LOBSTER, PAN AMERICAN STYLE—Clever hostesses will serve hors d'oeuvres with a double foreign touch if they're as easy to make as these South African rock lobster tidbits, Pan-American style. The sharp tomato sauce is a perfect foil for the rather bland lobster. This is one of the dishes your Home Editor tasted in New York.

Coffee Enhances Donut Dessert

Few food combinations have the universal appeal of coffee and doughnuts from Army camp to home and office breakfast and mid-morning snack.

And now these popular favors can be delightfully combined in a delicious dessert to serve with luncheon or dinner, or as a refreshing tid-bit with hot or iced beverage.

In this "coffee and" dessert cookbook quality package doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department are served up with coffee flavored whipped cream.

It's a quickie you can make in minutes to refresh heat-wilted guests, or prepare ahead of time and store in your refrigerator for a scheduled dessert.

"Coffee And" Dessert
1 package cake quality doughnuts
1 pint whipping cream
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 teaspoons instant coffee
1 teaspoon vanilla

Split doughnuts in half crosswise. Combine whipping cream, sugar, instant coffee and vanilla in chilled bowl. Beat mixture until thick enough to hold its shape.

Put doughnut halves together sandwich-fashion with a thick filling of coffee-flavored whipped cream. Garnish with the whipped mixture.

Cut Rich Toppings to Whittle Calories

MADISON, Wis. (INS)—You need not depend on artificial sweeteners to help you cut down on calories, says Flora Hanning, foods professor at the University of Wisconsin.

By eating a smaller serving of dessert and doing away with rich icing and topping, Miss Hanning says you can whittle away at the calories.

Plain cake, without icing, has about 225 calories but it is at least double that with icing on the top and between the layers.

The foods expert said baked custard or a baked apple "coat" half the calories if they are left free of pie crust.

Fresh fruits served without sugar are about 100 calories—no matter whether they are fully ripe or slightly green, she added.

UNITED NATIONS COOKBOOK — Pictured here is a United Nations cookbook entitled "Favorite Recipes From the United Nations." Edited and kitchen-tested by the American Home Economics Association, this international cookbook contains 170 recipes from all 76 U.N. member nations.

U.N. Cookbook Represents 76 Nations

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Let's go international with our recipes. There is now available in bookstores a new cookbook called "Favorite Recipes from the United Nations." This 96-page spiral book is published by the United States Committee for the United Nations.

The 76-member nations contributed recipes which were then tested and written in American style by the American Home Economics Association. The foreword to the book makes note of the fact:

"Availability of ingredients for the average housewife—not always an easy problem to meet—was borne in mind, as well as size and number of servings for the average American family."

The Department of State helped to translate the recipes from many languages. Some ingredients were literally impossible to translate. But the final result is an interesting and unusual little cookbook.

Printed in two colors throughout, the book contains highly accurate eight-color reproductions of all the flags of the United Nations on the inside cover. Each page has the name of the country represented, a map of that country, its area and population and a drawing of a typical woman.

The recipes range from an appetizer from India, through main dishes from Ethiopia or Ecuador to desserts from Greece. The price of the book is $1.50. If it is not in your favorite bookstore, it is available from U.S. Committee headquarters, 816 21st Street, N.W., Washington 6, D.C.

You might try this dessert recipe from Brazil.

Brazilian Banana Tart

4 large bananas
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup white wine or juice of 1 lime
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 baked pastry shell or individual tart shells
Whipping cream

Peel bananas and press through sieve. Put pulp into saucepan with sugar, salt and butter. Stir and cook until mixture starts to boil. Remove from fire and cool. If firmer mixture is desired, one teaspoon softened plain gelatin may be added at this point.

When it is cool, whip in the wine or lime juice and nutmeg. Pour into baked pie shell. Top with whipped cream. Makes 4-6 servings.

Israel suggests Cheese Steaks to serve with fruit salad.

Cheese Steaks

1 pound cottage cheese (very fine and dry)
2 eggs
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon red pepper
2 tablespoons fat, or more if needed

Drain all excess moisture from cottage cheese. Mix all ingredients except fat. Heat fat in iron skillet.

Drop small portions of cottage cheese mixture 2 or 3 tablespoons at a time into the hot fat. Cook over low heat until golden brown on both sides. Makes 4 servings.

Broiled Lamb on Skewers is a kabob recipe from the USSR.

Kavaski Shaslik

1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup garlic, finely chopped
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
3 to 4 pounds lamb, cut in 1 1/2 inch cubes
2 firm tomatoes
3 medium onions, cut in chunks

Combine oil and seasonings and rub well into the meat. Cover and let stand 4-5 hours to marinate. Drain. When ready to cook, string chunks of meat on metal skewers alternating with pieces of fresh tomato and chunks of onion. Broil until brown, turning occasionally so that all sides are browned evenly. Makes 8 servings.

Tasty Pineapple Salad

Arrange drained canned pineapple slices on salad greens. Fill centers of pineapple with mounds of cottage cheese sprinkled with minced parsley. Serve with mayonnaise thinned with a little of the pineapple syrup and a bit of prepared mustard.

Baked Pear Dessert

Serve baked pear halves with a custard sauce into which berries have been folded.

A hard-cooked egg left over? Press it through a small fine strainer and mix it with French dressing for use on a vegetable salad.

Ham, Vegetable in 1-Dish Meal

When school is again in session and the fall days begin to get cool, you start to think about hot foods.

Active children and grownups alike require heavier more filling foods to satisfy their hunger.

Since Mother is quite busy at this time of the year, she is looking for quick yet very delicious and nutritious dishes.

A casserole of green beans and cut asparagus topped with yummy ham sauce is just the thing to serve along with a good tossed salad, rolls, fruit and cookies.

Smorgasbord Casserole
1 can (1 1/2 lb.) cut green beans
1 can (1 1/2 lb.) cut asparagus
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1 1/2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 cup chopped cooked ham
1 hard-cooked egg (finely chopped)
Grease an oblong 1 1/2-qt. casserole; arrange the green beans and asparagus in the bottom. Melt the fat in a saucepan, add flour and blend. Stir in the milk and cook until sauce is smooth and thick. Add salt, celery seed, and mustard to the sauce. Stir in the ham.

Pour over the vegetables and top with the hard-cooked eggs which have been finely chopped.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 25 minutes. Makes four servings.

Paprika Spices Salad Dressing

Paprika has found a permanent place in the American kitchen. Its mild, delicate spiciness accents food flavors and lends to dull foods the brilliant scarlet color that lures the appetite.

Let paprika add flavor flair to your salads with one of these dressings, and eye appeal with these interesting salad garnishes.

Spanish Dressing
1 teaspoon confectioners' sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
Dash cayenne
1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup olive or salad oil
Combine all ingredients; beat or shake well. Chill. Makes 1/2 cup dressing.

Next time you broil tomatoes, sprinkle the cut halves with sugar as well as salt and pepper. Extra good flavor!

Own Stove Looks Good, Home Editor Decides

Pontiac Press Home Editor
"So it's home again, and home again" . . . and how good it is. Luxurious living has its desirable aspects. I must admit; but even the kitchen stove looks good to me this week.

The day after I wired my story from New York we had an extremely long day. There were the usual number of daytime meetings (incidentally, we attended thirty-one meetings in five days!). Then, after a smorgasbord dinner at seven in the evening, we all went to see the Royal Danish Ballet dance "Romeo and Juliet."

At midnight we went back to the hotel to be served another smorgasbord! This was a reception and midnight supper, sponsored by the Danish Information Service, in honor of the Ballet members and the food editors.

One of the most interesting foods was named Danish shrimp, each shrimp less than an inch in diameter. I have read somewhere that women clean these minute shell fish and take great pride in getting them perfectly clean. It's a job I don't care for.

The smorgasbord table held the usual array of cold meats, jellied salads, fish and cheeses. Dessert on a separate table included some of the smallest petit fours I have ever seen. They just melted in the mouth, tempting us to eat more than we should have.

After that day—which began at eight in the morning and ended at two the next morning—I was not enthusiastic about any more smorgasbords. Oh, yes, we had an eight o'clock breakfast, as usual, the next morning.

Thursday's dinner had to be experienced to be believed. Robert Smallwood, president of the Lipton Tea Company, entertained some 300 guests at a facsimile of an eighteenth century English dinner. Extensive research had gone into the planning to make everything authentic.

We women were made to feel important, fragile and oh, so lady-like. Each lady had a tussie-mussie bouquet of roses and carnations, with a lace paper frill and ribbon streamers. There was a tuxedo-clad escort for each of us. We were piped down the stairs to dinner by a group of kilted Scotchmen playing the bagpipes.

For three hours one course followed another. The waiters were dressed in eighteenth-century costumes, as was the stringed orchestra. We weren't allowed to so much as lift the ladle from a bowl for ourselves.

The meal was heavy, consisting mainly of meat and fish courses. In the middle we had a sherbet instead of salad to "clear the palate." Each course was piped into the room by two of the bagpipers, leading four footmen who carried the food high on a tray.

The room itself was hung with

Pudding Packed With Sunshine

This easy recipe for California Fruit Pudding may well become Mother's "Special" dessert. Its spicy fragrance while baking is mighty appealing to the youngsters—they'll be begging for a taste before it's out of the oven!

California Fruit Pudding
1 1/2 cups drained Fruit Cocktail (if oz. can)
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup brown sugar

Mix drained fruit cocktail, nuts and grated peels in bowl. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add to fruit and mix. Beat egg yolks with vanilla, adding brown sugar gradually until thick and creamy; fold into fruit mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in a greased pan, 8x12 inches, at 325 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Variations for Pie

When you make apple pie, substitute 1 1/2 cups of well-drained crushed pineapple for 1 1/2 cups of apple slices and proceed as usual. And when you make raisin, cranberry or cherry pie, mix a cup or more of drained pineapple tidbits or crushed pineapple with the other fruit, or spread the pineapple in a layer on top of other fruit. You will like these combinations.

Rice Basis of Dessert

Mix cold cooked rice with whipped cream for a tasty dessert. Serve with fresh sweetened peaches or a thick sauce.

Gobelin tapestries, just as dining rooms in old castles were. Exquisite crystal and ruby glass chandeliers were put up solely for this affair. It was announced that they had once belonged to a maharajah.

After the dinner, the dancing and the program we agreed it had been the experience of a lifetime; but we were glad we did not have to face that much food every day.

After-thoughts of the conference: the thousands and thousands of white chrysanthemums and silver decorations in the Waldorf to commemorate its twenty-fifth anniversary at its present location; the appalling waste of food that goes on at dinners and luncheons;

The small red water carts in Central Park, labeled "Free water for horses"; the charm and poise and intelligence of our guide at the United Nations; the thrill of sitting in the Metropolitan Opera House for the first time; the surprise of liking turtle steak at the Jamaican luncheon; the endless hours of preparation and thought that went into this conference.

As the weeks go by I hope to bring you many of the ideas and recipes we received from the various food companies. That's the best way of sharing my week's experiences.

Use Economy Lamb Cut, Bake Two Meals at Once

A five-pound shoulder of lamb or cold! Browned Rice is a very welcome accompaniment. of our two-meal plan, which serves four.

First Day's Menu

Roast Lamb Shoulder
Cranberry-Sherry Sauce
Browned Rice
Glazed Minted Carrots
Armenian Bread or Corn Sticks
Stuffed Peaches with Cherries

Roast Lamb Shoulder, Cranberry-Sherry Sauce

5 pound lamb shoulder
Cloves of garlic
Seasoned meat tenderizer
1 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon dried mint
1/4 cup cranberry sauce
2-3 cups sherry wine

Make gashes in roast with sharp knife and insert slivers of garlic. Force slivers deep into lamb. Sprinkle entire surface of lamb with meat tenderizer, allowing 1/2 teaspoon per pound.

Pierce meat deeply with long-tined fork at one-inch intervals. Crush mint and mix with thyme. Rub well into surfaces of meat. Cover, refrigerate overnight or let roast stand one hour at room temperature before cooking.

Then, place on rack in roasting pan and cook 25-30 minutes per pound, or about 2 1/2 hours. During last half hour, cover roast with mixture of cranberry sauce and sherry wine. Delicious to serve hot or cold! Browned Rice is a very welcome accompaniment. of our two-meal plan, which serves four.

2 lbs. fat
2 cups rice
1 onion, diced
2 cups hot water
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 bouillon cube
1 tablespoon seasoned meat tenderizer

Heat fat in 2-quart saucepan. Add rice and onion. Brown, stirring often. Then stir in other ingredients. Cover pan tightly, bring to brisk boil, then turn heat very low and simmer about 15 minutes. Turn off heat and steam, covered five minutes.

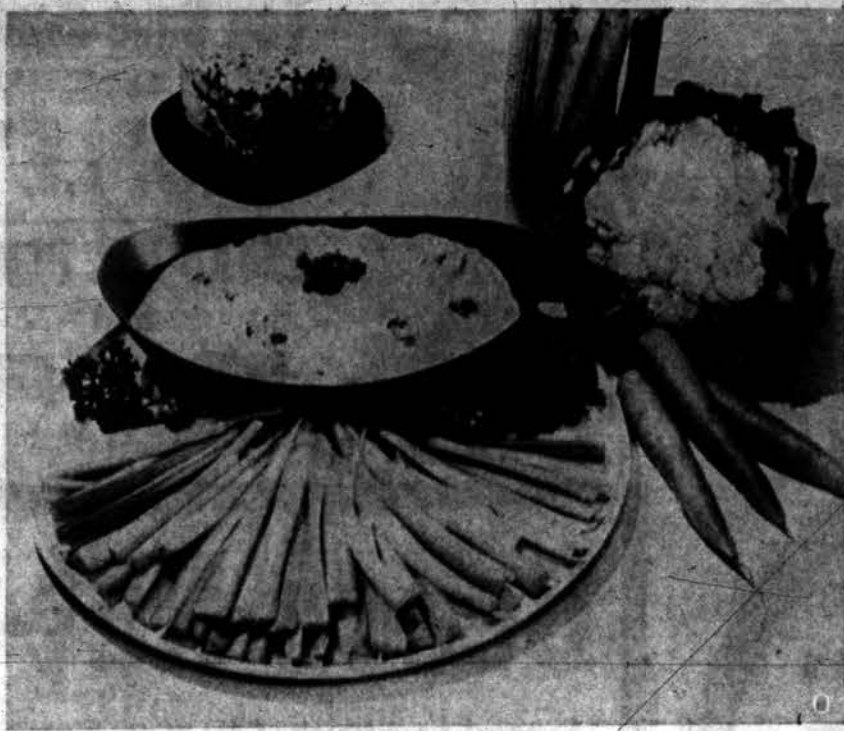

Glazed Minted Carrots

Pare, slice and cook until tender about 6 or 7 carrots. Drain, and while hot, cover with 3 tablespoons each of melted butter, and of lemon juice. Put into baking dish, cover with 1/4 cup honey and sprinkle with dried or fresh mint leaves. Bake covered, turning now and then, until carrots are glazed and sauce is almost absorbed.

Curry Sauce For Left Over Lamb

2 tablespoons butter
2 small onions, grated
1 clove garlic, chopped
1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup honey
1 cup milk
black pepper
1-2 teaspoons curry

Melt butter, add onions and garlic. Sauté until light brown. Add heat and add milk slowly.

BLUE CHEESE DUNK — The subtly sharp flavor of dunks made with American blue cheese provides a perfect contrast for bland vegetable dippers.

Let's Have Dunk Session With Vegetable Dippers

"The 'Big Dipper' need not apply to the world of astronomy alone. You can find it in the culinary world, as well. That is, if you take advantage of the bountiful supply of vegetables on the market.

Slender carrot sticks, long strips of celery or clusters of cauliflowerets all make interesting "big dippers" for cheese dunks.

Make the dunks from a base of American blue cheese and you'll have dunks that are extra tasty. For not only does the creamy, crumbly texture of blue cheese blend well with any number of ingredients, but the subtly sharp flavor provides a perfect contrast to the blandness of the vegetable dippers, as well.

Here are two easy-to-prepare American blue cheese dunks.

American Blue Cheese Chive Dunk

1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
1 1/2 cups package cream cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1/4 cup port wine or tomato juice
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish

Combine all ingredients; blend. Serve as a dunk for vegetables, as desired. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

American Blue Cheese Carrot Dunk

1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese

(about 3 ounces)
1 1/2 cups package cream cheese
1 cup grated carrots
2 teaspoons grated onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup milk
Combine all ingredients. Beat until thoroughly blended. Serve as a dip for vegetables, as desired. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Flecks of Chocolate Flavor Drop Cookies

Drop cookies with delightful brown sugar flavor.

Chocolate Fleck Cookies

1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/2 cup finely cut semi-sweet chocolate
1 cup chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter and brown sugar; beat in vanilla and egg thoroughly.

Stir in sifted dry ingredients until blended; stir in chocolate and walnuts. Drop by level tablespoonfuls a couple of inches apart onto greased baking sheet.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 10 to 12 minutes. Remove to wire rack with spatula to cool.

Spicy Sandwich Spread

Add curry powder and chili sauce to grated cheddar cheese. Use as a sandwich spread, mixing in a little mayonnaise if desired.

Hang Measuring Cups on Handy Steel Rack

Put up a narrow stainless steel rack (with hooks on it) in your kitchen. These racks are usually sold for mixing spoons, spatulas and so forth; but an extra one (with eight hooks on it) will be fine for hanging four graduated measuring cups and four graduated measuring spoons.

If you like to have two sets of the cups and spoons on hand, you can hang both sets on the hooks of the rack.

Cabbage Is Stuffed With Frankfurter, Cheese

For luxurious eating on a budget try this new version of stuffed cabbage. Spread a skinless frankfurter with mustard and wrap in a slice of American cheese. Roll into a cabbage leaf which has been precooked in boiling salted water, and secure with toothpicks.

Top with canned tomatoes, add salt and pepper, and simmer in a covered skillet or Dutch oven for about 30 minutes.

Consomme Cocktail

Here's a before dinner cocktail guaranteed to rejuvenate the laziest appetite. Combine 1 can (1 1/4 cups) condensed consomme, 2 1/2 cups tomato juice, 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish, 1 teaspoon grated onion. Chill and stir well before serving. The recipe makes 7 servings of 4 ounces each. Good, nibbly companions are crisp crackers and cubes of sharp cheese.

America now buys 60 to 65 per cent of India's pepper exports.

Pastry Turnovers Easy

It's easy to make turnovers filled with meat or fish, fruit or jam. Use a standard pastry-for-pie recipe based on 2 3/4 cups of sifted flour; cut out four-inch squares; put a dab of filling near the centre then fold into a triangle, seal and bake.

Don't crush those sandwiches you are planning to store in your freezer; pack them into a box. And serve them before two weeks go by.

The flying panel that starts at the tip of the rhinestone straps ingeniously covers the zipper panel; adds regal decor when draped over the back of a chair or swirled around your shoulders to protect you from air-chilled breezes.

Garden Club Program Set for Monday

Japan to Be Theme for Meeting at Home of Mrs. Widdifield

The program for the first fall meeting of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, to be held Monday at the home of Mrs. C. G. Widdifield on Ottawa drive, promises to be of particular interest to members and their guests.

The artistic achievements of the Japanese in various fields will be the theme of the meeting. Mrs. Charles Mattox will give a demonstration of Japanese flower arrangements, illustrating the excellence achieved in this field.

Having made a study of this art while living in Japan during her husband's service there as a U. S. Army officer, Mrs. Mattox is equipped to illustrate the Japanese principles of design in bouquets.

Adding to the program will be the exhibit of ceremonial dolls displayed by Mrs. Vernon Genn, a past president of the Bloomfield Hills branch of National Farm and Garden Association.

JAPANESE CUSTOM

This set of dolls is displayed in a particular way, and is customarily shown in Japan at the time of the Doll Festival or "Ohina Matsuri" in March.

The display is associated with social etiquette and when friends are received the dolls are presented in a ceremonial manner.

To add even more color to the Japanese theme, Mrs. John H. Patterson, program chairman, will show art objects brought from Japan.

Twelve new members will be introduced at the afternoon meeting.

Mrs. Wesley Named to Head EOWN Club

Mrs. Charles Wesley was elected president of EOWN Club recently. Mrs. Merritt Walker opened her home on Argyle avenue for the evening meeting.

Others elected to serve are Mrs. Olen Wright, vice president; Mrs. Walker, secretary and Mrs. John Laschinsky, treasurer.

Helps Muscle Pain

CHICAGO (INS) Baking soda, grandma's old kitchen standby is a pepper-upper in the bathtub.

A soda bath contains minerals found in many of Europe's swank health spas. It provides a mild alkaline bath which is said to remedy aching muscles.

An overblouse in velvet is styled here for young fashion plates, over a crisp white pleated wool skirt. Heirloom-type lace is used for the cherub collar and tiny cuffs on the short sleeves. The fully gathered waistband is elasticized for the snugest fit possible.

Businessman Can Profit by Taking Wife on Trips

She'll Help in Many Ways; Also Handy as Excuse to Skip Unwanted Invitations

By RUTH MILLETT

"Mrs. Douglas McKay, wife of the former secretary of interior now running for U. S. senator in Oregon, advises candidates' wives to accompany their husbands on all campaigning." Washington columnist Peter Edson said in a recent column.

According to Edson one of the reasons Mrs. McKay gave was that a man can often get away from a meeting faster if he has the excuse that his wife is waiting for him.

A wife often comes in just as handy on business trips as on campaign trips.

What husband who is used to taking his wife along on business trips and to conventions doesn't find her an asset?

She's there to remind him that 2 o'clock isn't really the shank of the evening and that he's got a speech to make in the morning or an important appointment to keep and that it is important that he wake up bright-eyed instead of bleary-eyed.

She can sometimes keep him from recklessly eating foods that don't agree with him or from drinking more than he should.

SOCIAL ASSISTANT

If she has a good memory for names he may depend on her to tell him that the couple heading toward them with bright smiles are the Joneses from Topeka whom they met at last year's convention.

Wives seem to have good mental filing systems that are handy for a man to depend upon.

A wife can also be used as an excuse if a husband doesn't want to be dragged into evening plans. A man alone has a hard time turning down an invitation. A man accompanied by his wife can always say: "I'm afraid Alice has made other plans."

Wives also are pretty handy when a man is trying to size up another man.

"I don't know why but I don't quite trust him," spoken by a wife who has intuitive insight, has caused many a man to dig a little deeper into another man's background and character.

Entertains Sorority

Mrs. John Kinzler of Sylvan Shores drive entertained the Alpha chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority Tuesday evening. Pictures of Northern Ontario and Florida were shown by Mrs. Arthur McKinnis. Mrs. Clarence Brindley was a guest of the group. The next meeting will be guest night at the home of Mrs. Lester Cross of Lexington drive.

Ingrid Bergman of Today Still Misses Daughter, Jenny Ann

Role in 'Anastasia' Won't Take Star to U.S.

(This is the last of four articles appearing as "Anastasia" up-to-date look at Ingrid Bergman, by Hollywood's top reporter.)

By LOUELLA G. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor
HOLLYWOOD — The afternoon was waning, it was past the cocktail hour and getting close to dinner time, when I was ready to say au revoir to Ingrid Bergman in London.

There had been many things I meant to ask her, but Ingrid had done much of the talking.

I noticed she wore no jewelry with the exception of her wedding ring, but her taste has always been simple.

On the table were flowers with a Russian Easter egg sent her by Helen Hayes, for whom she has an enormous admiration.

"I would like to know," I said to her, "what made you change your mind about making the American film 'Anastasia'?"

ZANUCK 'SOLD' IDEA
"That's simple. Darryl Zanuck is a good salesman. He came to see me in Rome and outlined the story, which I liked very much. I particularly liked the role of the Russian princess."

"When I met Mr. Zanuck again at the festival in Cannes, we talked further about who would play the grand duchess and who would be in the cast. When he told me that Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes were set I was delighted."

"Then later Buddy Alder, who is producing the picture, came to me. I had broken the ice really when I toured with 'Joan at the Stake' and since I am an actress, I wanted to have a chance to make what I hope will be a really great picture."

I couldn't resist telling Ingrid that I was sorry she had been quoted as saying that Hollywood was a dull place and dinner conversation so limited that it was unbearable.

REMINDED OF AWARDS
I had to remind Ingrid that in Hollywood she had won an Academy Award for "Gaslight" and the New York Critics' Award for "The Bells of St. Mary's" and also as the woman doctor in "Spellbound."

Very quietly she said, "I have been accused of saying many things I never said. It was only natural that I should have resentment and bitterness about the things that were written about me in the American newspapers, but that is in the past."

"I shall be perfectly happy when I see my daughter Jenny

Ann again. Happy as any human being can be."

Ingrid does not say that she never will return to America but she does say there is no chance of her coming back in the immediate future. She has too many commitments in Europe.

I believe if she could be sure of a warm welcome and not expect such as she suffered in Sweden she might one day return to see her daughter.

ALL PRAISE HER

One thing remains true of Ingrid—not one of the actors with whom she has co-starred has anything but the highest praise and the most gallant things to say about her.

In London Gary Cooper, with whom she made "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and "Saratoga Trunk," told me that he considered Ingrid Bergman one of the finest actresses with whom he has ever worked. He and Mrs. Cooper were among the old friends to see her first in Rome at her country place.

"She has so much vitality and she puts so much into every character she plays," Gary said.

Charles Boyer admired her tremendously when they made "Gaslight." Yul Brynner, with whom I talked when I was in London and with whom she is making "Anastasia," said that she makes Anastasia come alive.

'ADMIRATION AND AFFECTION'
Gary Grant, who just returned from six months in Spain, was delighted that "Notorious" which he made with Ingrid Bergman 10 years ago, recently was shown on TV. Gary said, "Ingrid has my admiration and affection and I am devoted to her and always will be."

As I said when I started writing this series, it is not my business to moralize. I do think Ingrid has paid dearly for any mistakes she made.

I don't believe she would ever have gone as far with Rossellini as she did if she had not believed that Dr. Peter Lindstrom would give her the freedom she begged for all the many months she was in Stromboli.

WON'T LEAVE EUROPE
Since "Anastasia" she has had many other offers, but for the time-being at least, she will not make any pictures outside of Europe. As we said "Goodbye," she told me about a comedy she made called "Elena and the Men."

"At least that is what they called it in Paris," she said. "I liked it because it reminds me of 'Saratoga Trunk.' It's so gay. I don't know what it will be called in America."

In concluding, I will take no soap-box to ask my readers what they think about Ingrid's return. That is taking unfair advantage and neither am I, as I said before, condoning anything she did. I am merely reporting the facts.

Hotel Waldron was the setting for the October dinner meeting of Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.
The Rev. Edward Auchard, associate pastor of First Presbyterian Church was speaker for the evening. In speaking of Robert E. Lee, Mr. Auchard referred to him as "the great American and the greatest soldier of all times."

New members who were initiated included Martha Boatright, Mrs. Claude Dodge, Mrs. Paul Burke, Mrs. James Lewis, Maxine Davidson and Mrs. Betty Ann Sheridan.
Attending the national convention being held in Denver, Colo., are Mrs. Dorothy Brooks, president; and Mrs. Hester Welch.

Lots of fur hats from Paris in fox, beaver, ocelot, leopard or colored Persian lamb.

The lightweight black furs are perfect for casual and dressy wear; the long-haired furs are strictly dressy.
Russian broadtail lamb and Persian lamb too, look sleek and feminine with all the elegant new clothes. Can be worn over sumptuous formals and over tweed skirts and sweaters. Fox is a much dressier fur.

Mink Sticks to Glamorize Hair Styles

NEW YORK (INS) — Want a real traffic-stopping hairdo? It's easy — with mink sticks in your hair.

PEARLS, TOO
Officially, they're labeled chignon sticks, which means you're supposed to stick them in your chignon. The 10-inch metallic sticks are topped with white, pastel or black mink, and the mink is topped with pearls.

The $5.95 mink sticks, which will be in stores next month, are meant to be worn exactly the way a steno jabs a pencil in her hair — any place it slides in best. You can have the mink bobbing on top or at the side; at any angle it's an eye-catcher.

Girls who want more mink than a mink stick carries can try another mink hairpiece: the mink-tail chignon cover. This is six mink tails stitched together in the center with rhinestones to cover your chignon like a snood. It costs $25 in various colors of mink, and is adaptable in size to cover big or little buns.

Story League Hears Report

Julia Dalzell, delegate to the 16th biennial convention of the National Story League, held at Tampa, Fla., reported on the convention at the recent meeting of the Pontiac Story League. Mrs. Robert K. Boggs of Crescent Lake was hostess to the group.

A constitution prepared by Laura Cobb, Mrs. J. R. Shaffer and Mrs. Boggs was adopted by the local group, and Mrs. W. M. Twichel was received as a new member.

Impromptu stories on subjects assigned by Mrs. J. Wendell Green, program chairman, were told by members. The group will meet with Mrs. Elmer Hutson of Ferry avenue for the October session.

JEAN GIBBS

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gibbs of Birmingham announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Richard L. Beer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Beer of Berkley. There are no immediate plans for the wedding.

New Tones for Bedroom

NEW YORK (INS) — The combination of blue and green is becoming increasingly popular in today's modern bedroom color scheme.

This combination, particularly interesting in bedrooms and dens, also is used in the living room in sofas and matching draperies, in toss-pillows and artificial flowers.

But the colors seem really to come into their own in the bedroom. One New York Department store shows several bedrooms done up in varying shades of blue and green. One bedroom display even has a blue-green fireplace to match blue-green bedspreads and another carries the blue-green effect from big splashy plaid curtains to bedspreads and floor coverings.

Another bedroom has two entire walls of brilliant blue pecky-cypress opposing two walls of deep green.

The color scheme is relieved by bright red scatter pillows. But the spreads are blue-green and the curtains gracing the windows are blue figures shot with touches of grass green.

Riebling Directs Village Players

Rehearsing for 'Solid Gold Cadillac'

Rehearsals for "The Solid Gold Cadillac," the Broadway comedy hit by Howard Teichmann and George S. Kaufman, are under way this week at the Birmingham Village Players' Chestnut street Playhouse.

This first public show of the Players' 34th season will be presented Oct. 19, 20 and Oct. 26, 27.

Directing it will be Albert Riebling, of Birmingham, a player whose Little Theater career goes back to 1923 when he founded and became managing director of the famous Detroit Playhouse.

This organization began staging plays in the Art Institute and took over the scripts of the old Provincetown Playhouse in New York when it went out of business during the depression.

PLAY BECAME OKLAHOMA

For three years, Riebling's group tried out new plays, averaging six a year in 1930, '31, and '32. These tryouts resulted in the sale of "Green Grow the Lilacs" to the Theater Guild—a play which later became "Oklahoma!"

Riebling, now a writer-director for a Detroit corporation, has a long career in radio, including directing 1,000 radio dramas and writing "Hernani's Cave," popular on radio.

Three years ago he directed "Ticket of Leave Man," a melodrama that broke a record for long runs in the Players' recent history. Before that Riebling wrote and directed a Christmas melodrama entitled "A Fatal Forgery."

B'nai B'rith to Meet

Mrs. Carl Berg of Middlebelt road will be hostess to the suburban chapter of B'nai Brith at the Tuesday evening meeting. Robert Kohler of Detroit will speak at the 9:30 o'clock meeting. Mr. Kohler, who is consultant and coordinator for the anti-defamation league program throughout Michigan, will also show the film, "The High Wall."

Fifty Attend Meeting of Medical Unit

Fifty members attended the dinner meeting of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society held Wednesday evening at Devon Gables.

Mrs. John Williams, president, welcomed members and presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg, ways and means chairman, emphasized the necessity of all members to start on their creative arts and crafts in order to have them ready for display and sale at the Christmas bazaar.

The nurse recruitment program was explained by Mrs. Ivan LaCore, chairman. One of the auxiliary's outstanding projects each year is to give a three-year nursing scholarship to a worthy high school graduate. This is the fourth year the group has sponsored the scholarship.

Mrs. Homer Stryker of Kalamazoo was a guest at the meeting.

Male Chorus Names Officers, Sets Meeting

The MacDowell Male Chorus of Pontiac has named its officers for the 1956-57 season. Under the direction of George H. Putnam the chorus will be headed by Fred Koppin as president.

William Knoll is first vice president; Harold Dudley, second vice-president; Ivan Long, third vice-president; William Bower, treasurer; Phil Zimmerman, secretary; and Ken Young will serve again as governor.

The group, which took part in an International Concert of the Associated Male Chorus of America held in New York last year, will present a concert in Chicago and a spring concert here in Pontiac this season.

Men from Pontiac and the area are invited to attend the first meeting of the chorus Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Pontiac High School.

Dinner Date on Train Is Proper

Woman Traveler May Accept, Pay Her Own Check

Dear Mrs. Post: "On a long train trip, if a woman happens to get into a conversation with a man and later he asks her to join him in the dining car, may she accept? If you say 'yes' to this, should she ask to have her own check?"

"I travel a good deal and so often it would be pleasant to go to dinner with a companion this way, if it were not for the fact that it is not always pleasant to feel under obligation to a stranger."

Answer: Say before you go into the dining car, "I would be very glad to sit with you at dinner, but of course I'll pay my own check." If he persists then, you do not have to join him.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I was engaged about a year ago, and as I had a diamond ring I did not want another. Instead of an engagement ring my fiancé gave me a lovely and very expensive pin. Unfortunately I lost the pin a short while ago. "As I knew my fiancé would be very upset over it I did not say anything to him at the time, although I had planned to tell him later. In the meantime, however, our engagement was broken and my fiancé has asked me to return it to him, or give him the money for it. I really do not have the money to pay for it. Will you please tell me what to do in this situation?"

Answer: You owe it to him and you should give him as much as you possibly can afford toward it.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I have just returned from a year's trip through Europe. All of my friends think that I should have called them up on my return. I think it was their place to call me to say hello and ask about my trip. Will you please let me know who is right?"

Answer: You should have telephoned any of your friends who might not otherwise know of your return. Those who knew you were back should have called you.

Tips to Help Men Keep Appearance

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Several times a year I give a day or so to the men who read this column. Recently I wrote about the tendency to slump in standards in good grooming from middle age on. There is an important correlation between an interest in personal appearance and morale and self-respect.

I think you will be interested in the following tips about dress for men which comes from Francis Pratt, president of the American Institute of Men's and Boy's Wear. Here they are:

1. Avoid extremes. For example, narrow-brimmed hats are the current rage but they may not suit the shape of your face.

The mortality rate from coronary artery disease and from other degenerative heart conditions is one and one-half times greater in overweight men.

Homburgs or wider brimmed hats may be more becoming.

2. Favor blue, dark blue-grey and grey tones if your hair is grey.

3. Go along with current trends if they compliment your appearance. Do not think that they were designed strictly for the younger set.

4. Be bold about colors. Unless your selection is too vivid, color is usually on your side in the battle of the ages.

5. Avoid drab, uninteresting selections in sportswear. For instance, sport shirts in plaids are currently the vogue and look well on the 40-plus group.

6. Avoid tight fitting garments, particularly if you are on the portly side. Looser garments, perhaps single breasted styles, may not quite succeed in creating the illusion of a svelte line but will help de-emphasize the middle-aged spread. Pullover sports shirts and sweaters should not hang on you but should not be so snug that you appear to be holding your breath.

Practically everyone now knows that overweight is a definite threat to a long, vital life. This is just as true of men as it is of women. High blood pressure is more than twice as common in obese men than in those of average weight. The death rate from diabetes among men 25 per cent overweight is eight times that of men of normal weight or underweight.

The mortality from coronary artery disease and from other degenerative heart conditions is one and one-half times greater in overweight men. The death rates from liver and gall bladder disease are much higher in the obese.

There can no longer be any doubt that overweight hastens deterioration. So while thinking of good grooming, also remember those extra pounds.

If you would like to lose from 7 to 14 pounds in 12 days time you may want my Tubby Hubby Diet. If so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Volunteer Work Pays Off in Charm

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There are many good reasons for entering volunteer work: the great need for volunteers in most of our hospitals and community centers; the feeling of participating in life and doing your part for your fellowmen; the opportunity to find an outlet for your talents which your regular job may not offer; the opportunity to meet different kinds of people and broaden your horizon.

But of one thing I am sure, the right volunteer job can revolutionize your personality better than any charm school in the world.

It may sound farfetched, but let me tell you about Mrs. J. She was widowed in her late twenties and had a small son to provide for. She was one of those women to whom homemaking was an art.

She had lavished her talents on her home, her husband and child and in entertaining her husband's business friends.

TOOK JOB

After her husband's death, she took a job and moved into smaller quarters with her mother who ran the household and took care of the little boy.

Although she invited all of the men from the office to dinner and mended for the bachelors she didn't seem to be getting close to her goal of having a home of her own again.

Then she took a volunteer job in a home for underprivileged teenage girls. She met them two evenings a week.

HELPED THEM PLAN

Periodically she helped them

plan parties for their families, the staff of the home, or their boy friends to test their new skills.

Almost without realizing it, she stopped mothering the boys in the office. Now that all of her domestic and maternal talents were being used she didn't long so terribly for a home of her own. She felt she had her life in hand.

And the next thing you know, she was married and had her own home again.

In selecting your volunteer job, be certain you pick one that is "right" for you.

SELFISH APPROACH

Some of my readers have chided me on this point and maintained that it is a selfish approach to a volunteer job.

But I have learned that you can make all contribution to a volunteer job unless you do use your own untapped resources and abilities. Furthermore, you won't stay at it unless it is a source of satisfaction to you and contributes to your personal growth.

Far from being selfish, it's the most unselfish choice you can make.

If you would like to have my suggestions on picking your volunteer job, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I will send it to you.

French to Introduce Glove Styles in U. S.

PARIS (INS) — Instead of "hands across the sea," it's now "gloves across the sea." The French are sending a fashion ambassador to tour the United States, and showing the latest from Paris in these feminine accessories in some 20 American cities.

The lady is no less than Countess Lorenzo de Morelos, the former American-born swimming champion Brenda Helser.

As an old friend of the sports-minded Kelly family of Philadelphia, it was Brenda who presented the long white gloves embroidered with the royal crest that Princess Grace wore on her wedding day.

Brenda Helser de Morelos recently visited 12 French glove factories and is a real expert on the subject.

"You can wear white gloves around the year," she said, "but for winter they must be made of leather. White fabric gloves look summery."

NEW LENGTHS

There are, according to the Countess, new glove lengths and new glove shades setting trend in Paris for 1937.

The most striking news in chic with gloves in any of the glove-length is an eight-button model worn as the new "suit-beaver," she added.

It is shown in the top Paris fashion houses as accessory to the autumn and winter suits which have shortened sleeves.

Shorties, according to Brenda, are reserved for sports wear and worn in Paris mainly by young girls.

"Beige is the latest shade for elegant afternoon gloves," she said. "The most remarkable new glove color is the purplish shade of grapes."

"Grey daytime suits look most chic with gloves in any of the brown fur shades, mink, mole or beaver," she added.

Chain Letters to Get Out Vote

Mrs. Adlai Stevenson Jr., Mrs. Fred Vinson, Mrs. Howland Sargeant (Myrna Loy), Mrs. Jesse Donaldson, Mrs. Todd Duncan and Mrs. Harold Ickes are a few of the women who have volunteered their services to help launch "Democratic Mail Call"—a nationwide personal letter-writing campaign to get people to the polls on Nov. 3.

Mrs. Gladys Tillett of Charlotte, N. C. is national coordinator of the campaign, working out of Washington D. C.

"Each person receiving a letter will be urged to continue the chain by writing to at least five other persons," Mrs. Louchheim said. "In this way, we can reach thousands of people, and in a few free minutes out of every day, every Democrat can do effective work for his party."

Mrs. Hursey Feted

Mrs. James Hursey of Dick street was honored recently at a pink and blue shower. Members of the Joy-Deaux Club were hostesses for the affair, held at the home of Mrs. William Bergemann on River-view drive in Drayton Plains.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Things are bubbling with enthusiasm in the state of Michigan for the coming weekend.

The pitch is so high that even the World Series will have to take a back seat as far as Michiganders are concerned this Saturday afternoon.

One of the greatest collegiate football crowds in history, 101,001, is sure to jam Ann Arbor for the Michigan-Michigan State battle.

Unofficially, the largest crowd ever to witness a college game is recorded for the Notre Dame-Southern Methodist clash held November 26, 1927 when 120,000 jammed Soldiers Field in Chicago. This was an estimated crowd.

If there were 200,000 seats available Saturday, most likely they would all be filled, at least this year for certain.

For those checking the odds, it's MSU favored by three, but for those figuring the favorite, save your money.

This is one game where the give and take points go out the window.

Looking over both teams can be just as confusing. The Spartans have better depth, and more speed. They are faster in the line.

Michigan is bigger, up front and in the backfield, and the Wolverines have come up with a couple of equalizers of their own.

If Walt Kowalczyk is not up to par it will hurt State, but along with Clarence Peaks, Dennis Mendyk and Don Gilbert there's plenty of help from Bob Handloser, Don Arend and Jim Wulff.

John Herrstein and Bob Ptacek are in to stay for Michigan, and with Jim Pace and Terry Barr still around, things should be interesting.

End play should get plenty of attention with Ron Kramer and Dave Kaiser shooting for honors. Both do the placement kicking for their teams and both are highly touted receivers and defensive men.

Put it on paper and it points to State. We want to put to the toes, however, that is, the kicking toes of Kramer and Kaiser. So let's venture to say, Kramer's toe by two—21-19 for Michigan.

DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

Looks like the Tigers may get a new publicity director to go with their new regime.

Rain Halts Series, Newk Hurls Friday

NEW YORK (U)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick today ordered the postponement of today's second game of the World Series between Brooklyn and the New York Yankees because of a light rain and "menacing weather."

The decision came at 11:03 a.m. after a conference of Frick with managers Casey Stengel of the Yankees and Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the umpires.

Brooklyn dugout at Ebbets Field while a light sprinkle fell on the diamond, which was covered by a tarpaulin.

"These conditions are all right for playing," the commissioner said, "but the forecast for general, and possibly heavier rains, this afternoon have forced us to call off the game."

Dodgers Paid $1,000 for Sal

Maglie Was Bargain

BROOKLYN (U)—Sal Maglie cost the Brooklyn Dodgers $1,000, not $10,000, the waiver price, in baseball's bargain basement. Today you couldn't get him for $100,000.

The swarthy, 33-year-old castoff, waived out of both major leagues and considered "washed up," pitched the Dodgers to the National League pennant with a great stretch performance and then yesterday sent them off to the lead in the World Series by taming New York Yankee power, 6-3.

Here is the bizarre story of Flatbush's greatest bargain:

On May 15 of this year, Buzzy Bavasi, vice president of the Dodgers, called Walt Alston, the manager.

"Say, Skip," said Bavasi. "If I got a chance to get Maglie cheap would you want him?"

Alston pondered only a moment and then replied, "Sure, I saw him a couple of weeks ago in our exhibition with Cleveland. He looked like he had a lot of stuff. He'd do us some good."

"He's yours," said Bavasi. Maglie had started his baseball career in 1933 with Buffalo, had gone to the Giants in 1943 for $3,200, later jumped to the Mexican League and then returned to the Giants in 1950 under Commissioner Happy Chandler's amnesty edict.

After a brilliant career with the Giants, particularly as the nemesis of the Dodgers, whom he beat 23 times, he was discarded in mid-1955 as an expensive luxury. Waived out of the National League he was bought by Cleveland just to spite the Yankees.

With Cleveland, he was a costly luxury, too, earning $38,000 to sit on the bench. From July 31, 1955, he didn't win a game for the Indians while losing two.

It was in early May that Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians, called Walter O'Malley, president of the Dodgers. "This Maglie is no use to us, but he might help you," Greenberg said.

So waivers were asked again on Maglie and he wound up in a Brooklyn uniform, the uniform he used to hate with a vengeance.

The waiver price is $10,000. But insiders say the Dodgers paid Cleveland only $1,000 and offered to forget a small minor league deal with Cleveland amounting to another $1,000.

Brooklyn's Don Newcombe and New York's Don Larsen, a pair of non-winning World Series right-handers, will face each other in the second game of the World Series as the underdog Dodgers seek to make it two in a row over the Yankees at Ebbets Field.

Although beaten 6-3 in yesterday's opener by the incredible Sal Maglie, the Yankees still remained a 6-5 favorite to win the series although for Friday's game it was 11-10 take your pick. Only once before had the Dodgers won the first game of a World Series. That was in 1952. The Yankees rebounded to win that one in seven games.

Baseball's biggest winner this year (27-7), the 30-year-old Newcombe has started three series games and lost them all, two in 1949 and one in 1953. All were to the Yankees. His first defeat, however, was a 1-0 decision in which Tommy Henrich hit a home run in the last of the ninth. Newk was knocked out of the box in his other starts.

Larsen (11-5) lost his only World Series appearance. He started and lost the fourth game to the Dodgers last year, giving up five hits and five runs in four innings. Big Walt Alston, pleased with the way Gil Hodges has been hitting in recent weeks, said the first baseman would continue in fifth spot with Carl Furillo batting either ahead or behind Amoroso. Roy Campanella will be dropped from seventh to eighth. It was Hodges' three-run homer in the third inning that provided Maglie with the margin of victory after Jackie Robinson had gotten the Brooks started with a home run off loser Whitey Ford the previous inning.

There were heroes galore for the Dodgers yesterday but the biggest one of all was Maglie, the 33-year-old mound master with the old head and the young arm.

In his most recent three starts, Maglie the Magnificent, pitched, in order, the first no-hitter of his career, hurled the Dodgers into first place a day before the season ended, and now his first World Series victory after two previous failures as a member of the New York Giants. The only thing left for him is to pitch the Dodgers into a world championship.

Lions Must Stop Shaw in Clash at Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. — The "Old Pro" of the Detroit Lions, Bobby Layne, will face one of the National Football League's finest young stars, George Shaw, when the Detroit Lions and Baltimore Colts meet Saturday night in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

Both quarterbacks played key roles in their team's victories in league openers last week. Shaw was the big gun as the Colts dumped the Chicago Bears, 28-21, while Layne sparked the Lions to a 20-16 decision over Green Bay.

Shaw, the Colts second-year signal-caller, connected on 19 of 25 aerials, including a string of twelve straight, to roll up 253 passing yards, good for two touchdowns.

Layne, playing only part of the game, completed seven of 12 passes for 129 yards, scored one touchdown himself, kicked a 12-yard field goal and two extra points in Detroit's victory.

Shaw's passes will severely test the Lions' sturdy defensive unit but the Colts also present dangerous scoring threats in fullback Alan Ameche, and halfbacks L. G. Dupre and Lenny Moore.

Moore is a sensational open field runner and pass receiver from Penn State, while Dupre is a second-year veteran from Baylor with tremendous speed.

Layne's offensive corps may be hampered by injuries in the Colts game. Fullback Bill Bowman is still suffering from a pulled leg muscle and probably will not be available for major action, but Coach Buddy Parker expects Leon Hart will have sufficiently recovered from a charley horse to carry the load.

Thumb League Elects

Officers were elected in the Southern Thumb Athletic Association recently with Jim Snyder of Brown City chosen president, Bill Louisselle of Armada is vice president, Don Wadsworth, Brown City is secretary and Jack Fisher, Armada is treasurer.

Almont was recipient of the 1955-56 All Sports trophy.

IOC Suspend Anti-Pro Pledge

Olympic Body Decides to Return to Old Vow on Amateurism

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (U)—The controversial anti-professional pledge, which had threatened to split Olympic ranks, has been suspended for the Melbourne Games.

The IOC executive board last night decided after a three-hour session to return to the old Olympic vow which requires only that each athlete declare he is an amateur. The words "and to remain" (an amateur) were suppressed at least as far as the Melbourne Games are concerned.

Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the IOC and leader of the fight for the new rule, expressed satisfaction over the committee's action.

"The spirit remains," said Brundage. "What we want is to keep the Olympic Games pure and honest. That is all that matters."

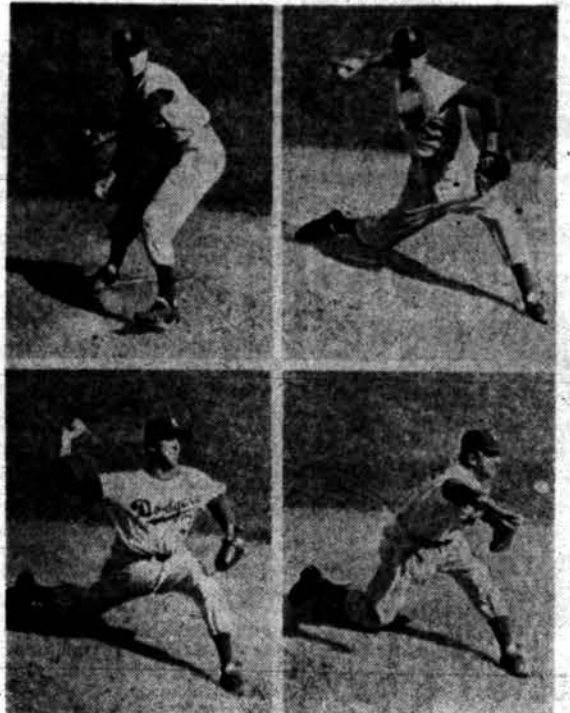

The board said its action in returning to the pledge used during the 1952 games at Helsinki was motivated by insufficient notice of the new pledge, which first appeared in the Olympic rules published in July.

2 Chiefs Place in Top Eight, but PHS Loses

Although two PHS barriers finished in the top eight, in this week's 2nd regular cross-country match, Chiefs came out on the loser's end of a 21-37 (low score wins) count against Royal Oak.

Acorns Evans Webb was first home (at Royal Oak) with 9:58, followed by teammate Jerry Keyes (10:02). Roy Coats (10:03) was close on Keyes' heels, with another PHS runner, Pete Cox next (10:29). Chiefs' Don Evans, Charley Johnson and Tom Sampey finished 9:10-11.

Coach Mike Andonian's barriers will not be seen in action on the home course, until Oct. 18 when the Saginaw Valley meet takes place at the Beaudette Park layout.

MAGLIE PULLS THROUGH — Old pitching master, Sal Maglie, had a few rough moments against the Yankees yesterday but "The Barber" of Brooklyn managed to stick in there and score a 6-3 victory of the Yankees. He had 10 strikeouts after giving up an early 2-0 lead to New York in the first inning on Mickey Mantle's two-run homer.

Beat Calgary, 5-1

Wings Keep Victory Pace

CALGARY (U)—The Detroit Red Wings completed a triumphant exhibition tour of Alberta last night when they defeated the Calgary Stampeders of the Western Hockey League 5-1 before 7,619 fans.

The National Hockey League club, which Tuesday night beat its WHL farm club, Edmonton Flyers 6-1, led 3-1 at the end of the first period and held a 5-1 bulge at the end of the second. The Stampeders, however, outshot the Red Wings 27-19.

Temperatures on edge throughout and referee Merv Duffley was kept busy while handing out 16 penalties—nine to the Red Wings.

Prystal shot the Red Wings ahead at the five-minute mark of the first period when he took a pass-out from Ferguson and drilled one behind Edwards. The Red Wings went ahead 2-0 a minute later when Delvecchio beat the goalie from close range after being set up by Gordie Howe.

The Stamps got on the scoreboard midway in the period when Scott picked one out of the air and deflected it past Glenn Hall. The Wings regained their two-goal lead late in the session when McNeil slid one behind Edwards after taking a two-way relay from Marcel Pronovost and Ullman.

Ferguson scored at the three-minute mark of the final frame when he sifted in from the side and blasted one into the far corner. Late in the period Ullman put the Red Wings four goals ahead when he came down the center and drove in an eight-footer.

Olson-Walker Bout Off

Bobo Quits Fight Business

PORTLAND, Ore. (U)—Carl (Bobo) Olson is hanging up his gloves.

Retirement of the former middleweight boxing champion was announced by his manager, Sid Flaherty, on the eve of his scheduled 10-round main event bout with Sammy Walker here tonight.

"His reflexes are too slow and he hasn't felt like his old self," Flaherty said of the once tireless-punching, durable Olson, who is 28.

The manager said he would try to establish Olson in business in their home city, San Francisco. The two left for there after the announcement.

Tommy Moyer, Portland promoter, cancelled his entire fight card and began making ticket refunds.

Flaherty said the decision was made after consultation with Portland physicians.

"We dislike very much," he said, "to call off the Walker bout on such short notice, but I would never permit a fighter of mine to enter the ring unless he was absolutely sound."

Olson's career, which started as a 15-year-old preliminary boy in Hawaii, reached his peak Oct. 21, 1933, when he battered out a decision over Randy Turpin of England to win the world title.

Olson then defended his championship successfully three times and won seven other fights before challenging light-heavyweight king Archie Moore in June, 1955. Moore knocked out Olson in the third round, and he has been on the downgrade since.

He looked unimpressive in non-title victories over Jimmy Martinez and Joey Giambra. Then Robinson, whose vacated championship Olson won during Ray's retirement, regained the title Dec.

NEW YORK (U)—Kerby Farrell, who led the Indianapolis Indians to an American Assn. pennant and little world series victory this season, will succeed Al Lopez as manager of the Cleveland Indians, the Associated Press learned last night.

At the same time, the AP also learned that Jack Tighe, coach of the Detroit Tigers, will be elevated to the manager's post, a job recently vacated by Bucky Harris.

Both announcements are expected to be made either during the world series or soon after.

Farrell, a former Major League infielder with the Boston Braves and Chicago White Sox, has been at the helm of the Indianapolis club for the past few seasons and is regarded as a capable field strategist and handler of men.

Farrell succeeded Birdie Tebbetts and led the Indianapolis club to a pennant in 1954, his first year at the helm, but lost out in the playoffs.

This year he won the pennant and playoffs, leading the Indians to a four-game sweep over Rochester in the Little World Series.

Tighe managed Buffalo in the International League in 1953 before coming up to the Tigers as coach. He has been a member of the Detroit organization since 1936.

"We haven't talked to anyone yet," said Detroit farm director John McHale, "but Tighe is very well thought of. He is an astute baseball man. I realize that he is not widely known but neither was Walter Alston nor Mayo Smith before they received their chance in the big leagues."

Battle on Walled Lake Gridiron

Jays-Vikings Match Ground Power

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Two high-powered offensive units, in two different classes, yet fighting for the same thing, the Inter-Lakes Conference title, take the spotlight as one of the key games in the area Friday night.

It will be Southfield (3-0) against Walled Lake (3-0) on the Viking gridiron in a clash which could open the way for the winner to the I-L crown.

Southfield, a Class A team, listed among the top 20 in the state, and Walled Lake, rated 12th in B ranks, have shown strong ground attacks this season.

Both teams have averaged around 350 yards rushing per game, and neither has shown a highly concentrated aerial weapon.

Oakland County's leading scorer, left halfback Ron Brewer is the Jay that Walled Lake will have to stop. Brewer has tallied 48 points on 8 TD's and has accounted for more than one-third of the yardage.

Both lines will be equally matched, but in the backfield Southfield can claim the weight advantage and Walled Lake the speed.

Along with Brewer, the Jays have a top runner in Fred Rankin at right half, and it will be mammoth Jim Zurcher, 250 pounds, at full-back.

Jay quarterback Ed Foster and Viking signal caller Larry Dion should provide an interesting battle trying to outwit each other.

Both have been outstanding factors for their respective teams.

Walled Lake under coach Dave Smith has good balance with Don Yeagan and Frank Fink at the halves and one of the area's top halfbacks, John Walker.

Fink, an explosive runner, picked up 137 yards in six carries against Berkley last week. Walker is the team's power runner. Both teams are physically sound, and it will be Southfield's wing attack against Walled Lake's split-T.

Old Tourney Abandoned, New One Set on Saturday

By H. GUY MOATS

One of the golfing institutions of the Pontiac area has taken a new lease on life, adopted a new title and has a brand new, handsome trophy for the contestants to shoot at.

The venerable (since 1941) Irving Babcock Industrial Championship will officially pass out of the Pontiac links picture this weekend. In its place will bloom a new event—but one that carries on the tradition of the old. Tourney will be over the Pontiac Country Club course, at 18 holes of medal play.

New title is the Philip J. Monaghan Industrial Trophy championship. Mr. Monaghan, GM Truck & Coach general manager is the trophy donor. The big Babcock trophy has been retired. It was won three times by GM/shot-makers, and is now in permanent possession of the Coach plant. Last year the GMC team set a new tourney, 4-man team total of 286, a 10-under par (for Pontiac CC) effort.

Six teams are entered for Saturday's test. They include GM Truck & Coach, Pontiac Motor, Bell Telephone Co., Baldwin Rubber, Fisher Body and American Forge & Socket.

Pairings and starting times (which must be adhered to strictly) are as follows:

1:30—Joe Bergdorf (Bald), Stan Savaga (PNC), Chuck Capell (GM Truck), Harley Hyatt (Fisher).
1:35—B. Kuchela (Forge), J. Hamm (Bell), Wall Latona (GMT), Pat Halverson (Bald).
1:40—D. Featherstone (Forge), Ed Tarchalnik (Fisher), D. DeLong (Bell), C. Gosh (Bald).
1:45—Ed Wask (PNC), Paul Bada (GMCC), Ed Novak (Bell), Ron Robinson (Fisher).
1:50—George Gerlach (Bell), Larry Graplin (Baldwin), W. Bowers (Forge), Lyle Wincombe (PNC).
1:55—Jim Hanes (PNC), Merle Mathews (Forge), Chuck Barker (GMCC), Jack Ross (Fisher).

Sports Briefs

Ted Kroll ran his golf earnings for 1956 to $72,855 following his $50,000 victory in the Tam O'Shanter world championship in Chicago.

Success against the Philadelphia Phillies helped the Pittsburgh Pirates during 1956. The Pirates beat their Keystone State rivals 15 times in 22 meetings.

Syracuse and Penn State began football competition in 1922 and have met every fall except in 1944 when Syracuse suspended football because of the war.

During pre-season football practice at the University of Washington, new coach Darrell Royal put his squad through morning workouts beginning at 6:30.

Beginning early in 1958 Baseball Writers' Assn. of America members of 10 years' standing will select former players for Baseball's Hall of Fame. Previously elections were held annually.

EQUALLY GOOD — Johnny Walker, powering fullback at Walled Lake who also does as well playing basketball as he does football, will be a key to the Viking running attack in the big game with Southfield Friday night. Walker is a 175-pound senior.

Myrt Power Pleased With Brooklyn's Win

Mrs. Myrt Power, the 72-year-old baseball expert who attracted national attention on "The $64,000 Question" is covering the World Series for International News Service. In the following article, dyed-in-the-wool Dodger fan Myrt predicts that her favorites will make it two straight over the Yankees.

By MYRT POWER
NEW YORK (INS) — Well, I feel very good about the Dodgers' victory over the Yankees in the first game of the World Series. It turned out about as I expected.

I felt sure Sal Maglie would stop the Yanks in the Dodgers' home park, and know something? I think he will come back and win a second game.

I said before the series began that I believed Maglie would win two games and Carl Erskine and Don Newcombe one apiece. I saw nothing in the first game which would cause me to change my mind.

I think Don Newcombe will beat Don Larsen Friday, not because Newcombe is pitching on his home grounds but because I think he is the better pitcher.

Some people have asked me if I think the Dodgers will win four straight games, and I say "no." The Yanks will be harder to beat when they get back to Yankee Stadium.

I think Whitey Ford, who was knocked out yesterday, will come back to take one game from the Dodgers, and I think my friend, Tommy Byrne, also will win one from the Brooklyn club.

The way I see it, the Dodgers just have to stop two men — Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra — to wrap up another world series.

That Mickey has so much power it looks as if he could bunt a home run. No pitcher can afford to make a mistake with him or Berra.

'M'-MSU Both Want Role of Underdog

ANN ARBOR — The trouble with the Michigan-Michigan State game this Saturday is that both teams want to be the underdog.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan insists that the Michigan State squad is too deep, better than last season and full of untested power. Coach Duffy Daugherty says that Michigan will give State its roughest battle of the year.

The Michigan squad that is the actual, but slight underdog, is seemingly improved from last season. It has more depth and better runners, but the main question is "has Michigan a good passing attack?"

Last week in whipping UCLA 42-13, the question wasn't answered by Oosterbaan.

Sophomore left halfback Bob Ptacek heaved a short pass to the old Michigan transcontinental play to quarterback Jim Van Pelt. Van Pelt also scored.

But with these two exceptions, Michigan never relied very strongly on its passing against last year's Pacific Coast Conference champs.

If the Wolverines are to return to the old single wing as advertised, they will certainly bank on the forward pass to loosen up the line defenders of Michigan State.

Ptacek and Barr will likely be the big guns.

Ptacek, a quarterback in high school, was given the left half post-

tion, primarily for his passing ability. Although he's a bruising runner, he is not the fastest.

Barr got his job because his speed enables him to get through the quick holes of the enemy's weak side. He replaces Tony Brannoff who was left handed and could run easily to his left and still be in a position to throw. Barr who will be forced to run to his left too, is right handed.

Daugherty will be striving Saturday for the one big football prize that has so far eluded him.

The Michigan State football boss has been "coach of the year." He's had a Rose Bowl champion. But he has yet to beat Michigan.

Patterson Reports 'Pats' Shy in Lower Peninsula

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer
ALPENA—Had time, just before sunset Tuesday evening, to do a little research on our personal partidge census of the Lower Peninsula. Tried a favorite area on some family property west of Otsego Lake and collected one bird—but the pickings were pretty slim for what usually is very productive cover.

Back at Bruce Annett's Lake Horicon lagoon, where we spent the night, we found that late afternoon operations in that region hadn't produced. Got arm-twisted into a three-cornered gin game with Bob Oliver and Glen Griffin which took up half the night.

About the time the game folded, Arnold Jerome and Ian Killie dropped up from Grayling presenting a situation which called for light refreshments, and that took up most of the rest of the night. There was little enthusiasm for a break-of-dawn sortie into the field Wednesday morning. We gathered that pat hunting around Grayling is just fair.

After the rest of the group left Annett, Lee Hunt, Eddie Maguire, Eddie's pointer "King" and the writer set out to cover some of Tuesday's unproductive ground just in case any bird had wandered into the area overnight. We put up about 15 pats in an easy hour's hunting, which is added proof that partridge are past masters at the old shell game. We nailed one bird, missed some others and it wasn't due to thick cover.

Down at Houghton Lake Ben Jerome, Bob Swanson, John Donaldson and Dr. Gasow of Farmington ran into easy limit duck shooting the last two days of the season. Houghton has always been a pretty good spot for early shooting, but it's at its best a little later when the divers are every newswoman in the Brooklyn dressing room yesterday asked each Dodger what he had said to President Eisenhower, or what the President had said to him, in chats before the World Series opener. Catcher Roy Campanella said, "He told me I don't know where this is going to go, just before he threw out the ball. He said 'Don't make me look bad.'"

"It was a real good toss," Dodger Manager Walt Alton, with only a hint of a smile, said. "He asked me how the vote was going to do in Daartown (Alton's Ohio home)."

"Really?" asked the newsmen. Alton laughed. "No, he probably never even heard of Daartown."

Dodger Captain Pee Wee Reese, coveting a fielder's glove the President signed for him, said, "I asked him if he couldn't spring Podres (Johnny Podres, inducted into the Navy after winning two games for the world champs in the 1955 World Series)."

"How about that?" was the reply from the newsmen. "Did you really say that, Pee Wee?"

Reese howled. "Of course not! You think I'm nuts?"

Jefferson Trims Eastern in Junior High Football

Jefferson continued to look like Washington's top challenger for the Pontiac Junior High League football title this season with a convincing 27-0 victory over Eastern yesterday at Wisner Stadium. It was Jefferson's 2nd straight win.

While the stout Jefferson line was holding Eastern's attack to almost a standstill, the Warriors were chalking up touchdowns in every quarter but the 3rd to win in a breeze.

Jeff scored twice in the 1st quarter. A blocked punt was recovered in the end zone by Willie Driver for the 1st touchdown and Henry Robertson cracked over from one yard out for the next TD.

Willie Ratcliff sprinted 40 yards up the middle in the 2nd period and Allen Howze, Warrior quarterback, bootlegged 17 yards in the final stanza to complete the scoring. Charles Brown placekicked three extra points.

Arnold Hill and Burt Stockwell each hit pay-dirt as the Lincoln Junior Varsity defeated Madison, 13-0, at Lincoln's field Wednesday.

Today's varsity league game at Wisner matches Lincoln and Madison.

3 Area Horses Race in Jackson Events

Three harness horses from Pontiac and Birmingham were in the fields at the Jackson Raceway, last night, but there wasn't a winner in the group. Several are listed as starters in tonight's events.

Flo McDonald, standard-bred mare owned by Iva Boston of Pontiac, was 3rd in the Class 24 pace, back of Frisky Boy, the winner (2:12). Benny Volo (Birmingham) was last in the Class C pace, won by Miss Lake City (2:09 3/5).

Royal Gallon, Calvin Mc. Golden Glean, Birmingham-owned horses race on tonight's card.

Beecham Is Victor in Unpopular Scrap

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—Jimmy Beecham, the 21-year-old welterweight from Philadelphia, made his television boxing debut last night but he was no hit with the fans as he outpointed the Trinidad veteran, Hector Constance, in a boring 10-round bout.

"What an awful fight," a ring-side fan commented. "Think how lousy this must look on TV."

Most of the 2,116 who saw the fight in the Miami Beach Auditorium seemed to agree with that appraisal, for they booed intermittently throughout the fight.

The crowd paid a gross gate of $7,019 to see the fight, which was televised and broadcast nationally.

Filly Is Rated Solid Favorite for Futurity

LEXINGTON, Ky. (U)—A filly hasn't won the Kentucky Futurity since 1937 but the only Miss in this year's renewal, Nimble Colby, was a solid choice to capture the $33,731 feature today at the Lexington Trots.

Making her last start before her retirement, Nimble Colby was a 2-1 choice, partly on five straight stake victories and partly on her 2:00 2-5 record, the season's fastest time for a 3-year-old trotter. The principal challenger among 14 colts appears The Intruder, who won the Hambletonian in an upset but has raced only once since pulling up lame in the Goshen classic.

Weekend Grid Choices

Following are the predictions for this weekend's college football games. INS experts picked on 29 of 40 selections last week for a season's batting average of .694 with 50 right, 22 wrong.

SOUTHWEST

Texas A. & M. 21, Texas Tech 6... Aggies now up and coming.
West Virginia 14, Texas 7... Mountaineers much better all around.

Texas Christian 21, Arkansas 9... Horned Frogs outclass Razorbacks.

Rice 9, LSU 6... Rice rested and should squeeze by.

FAR WEST

Pittsburgh 20, California 6... Pitt's one of the best.
Illinois 7, Washington 6... Ill-fated Huskies.
Oregon 28, UCLA 21... Webfoot has speed to burn.

SOUTH

Vanderbilt 21, Alabama 6... The tide won't change its course here.
Kentucky 7, Florida 0... Wildcats bloody but unbowed.
Baylor 14, Maryland 6... Bears out for sweet revenge after 1935.
Tennessee 20, Duke 14... Vols will scare Tech and Ole Miss with this one.

Miami 20, Boston College 7... Bosseler and company in an easy win.

EAST

Army 14, Penn State 13... both powerful, could go either way.
Navy 21, Cornell 7... Navy line to contain Cornell's fast backs.
Yale 21, Brown 14... Yale will have to be at top for this one.
Princeton 27, Columbia 6... A soft touch for the Tigers.
Colgate 27, Holy Cross 21... Colgate to outspeed rugged Crusaders.

Dartmouth 20, Penn 14... Penn coming back but not quite far enough yet.

MIDWEST

Tulane 21, Northwestern 14... Green Wave too strong.
Notre Dame 28, Indiana 7... Irish back on victory trail.
Iowa 21, Oregon State 14... Hawkeyes in for rugged game.
Michigan State 21, Michigan 14... Duffy Daugherty team has power.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

(Saturday Night)

Cleveland 21, Pittsburgh 14... Browns come to life.
Baltimore 21, Detroit 20... Colts upset again.
Philadelphia 14, Washington 13... Tossup.

(Sunday)

Chicago Bears 21, Green Bay 7... Bears return to form.
Los Angeles 30, San Francisco 21... California earthquake.
New York 28, Chicago Cardinals 10... Giants head east.

MSU Alum Club Plans Pre-Game Kickoff Friday

The Michigan State University Alumni Club of Oakland County is holding a pre-game kickoff this Friday night at Sylvan Glen Golf Club. It has been announced by Don Borgeson, club president.

Films of last Saturday's MSU-Stanford game will be shown and dancing is planned for the program on the eve of the annual Michigan State-Michigan game.

On Saturday, Oct. 20, the Green and White special train will leave Detroit for South Bend to carry MSU alumni to the Notre Dame game.

Bill Page of Birmingham, train chairman, announces that the train will stop at Royal Oak, Birmingham and Pontiac enroute to South Bend. The train will depart from Pontiac at 7:40 a.m.

Harris Signed for Boston Job

Ex-Tiger Pilot 'Will be 'Special Assistant' to Cronin

BROOKLYN (AP) — Stanley R. (Bucky) Harris, a 39-year-old veteran of more than three decades in the major leagues, has been signed by the Boston Red Sox as a "special assistant" to General Manager Joe Cronin.

"Harris will be stationed in Boston and will be a general trouble shooter," Cronin said yesterday in announcing the signing.

Harris, who resigned last week as manager of the Detroit Tigers, will serve as an aide to the man who replaced him as field manager of the Red Sox at the end of the 1935 season.

His appointment to what amounts to assistant general manager confirmed 2-week-old reports that the baseball-wise veteran was headed for Boston.

Another report has been that he is destined to succeed Cronin if and when San Francisco obtains a major league franchise. According to speculation in baseball circles, Cronin would get an executive post with San Francisco, which now is a Boston farm in the Pacific Coast League.

Both Cronin and Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey have denied the reports. However, Yawkey said in approving acquisition of the San Francisco farm that the move was "to protect that territory for the American League."

Bronco Football Booms

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Football is on the up at Western Michigan College and the turnout for freshman football proves it. More than 125 candidates showed up for freshman practice.

Among this number are 25 players who have been in the service since graduating from high school.

Off the Grapevine

The grapevine out of Clarkston was a hum-steer last week because it was unanimous that the Wolves were going to lose to West Bloomfield. But it did not turn out that way.

This week things really got tough with a couple tough ones like Walled Lake and Southfield, Rochester and Utica and Ferndale and Birmingham.

It will be a bunch of sour grapes on the grapevine after Friday if these games don't go according to Hoyle.

All Aboard! Grid Fans

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Eight special trains will bring football fans to the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday.

Three of them will be pulled up to Michigan Stadium by steam locomotives which haven't been seen in the Ann Arbor area in many years. They'll run on the Grand Trunk Western railroad and originate from Saginaw, Bay City and Grand Rapids.

The other trains will operate with customary diesel engines.

Soviet Workers Can Change Jobs With Notice

MOSCOW (U.P.)—Workers in the Soviet Union may now change their jobs, or quit, on two weeks' notice but this freedom of action does not extend to members of the Communist party.

Party Life, monthly theoretical organ of the party's Central Committee, spelled out the distinction in its "letters-to-the-editor" department.

The Soviet government earlier this year removed wartime labor restrictions forbidding a worker to change jobs without express approval of his employer.

Apparently there has been some question as to how this affects Communist party members. A. Afonin, secretary of the party organization of the Leningrad machine tractor station in Leningrad, asked Party Life if the Communist party has the authority to force a party member to stay on the job against his will. "A Communist can move from one job to another only with the consent of the party organization concerned," the editors replied. "Any violation of this regulation is considered a rude violation of party discipline."

Agent to Receive Award

ALLEGAN (U.P.)—Arthur D. Morley, agricultural agent in Allegan County since 1929, has been named by the National Assn. of County Agricultural Agents to receive a distinguished service award Oct. 25 when the group meets at Houston, Tex.

Spray Is Pocket Size

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Now available is an aerosol dispenser small enough to be carried in the pocket to provide asthma sufferers with an easy, effective way of orally administering a measured dosage of finely atomized medication.

Thousands to Vie for Scholarships

EVANSTON, Ill. (U.P.)—Thousands of seniors from 13,000 high schools are expected to enter the 1957 competition for scholarships conducted by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

The corporation, in announcing that today, said the first test will be a screening examination Oct. 24. It advised students who want to try for a scholarship to ask their high school principals for details.

The corporation was founded in 1955 with funds of 20 1/2 million dollars, the bulk of it from the Ford Foundation, to get the brightest high schoolers into college regardless of their financial means.

The corporation said checks totaling $315,000 have been mailed to the 556 winners of the 1956 competition or to the colleges they now are attending.

Bob Considine Says:

High Taxes Encourage Bootlegging Boom

NEW YORK (INS) — An estimated one gallon out of every four gallons of booze consumed in this area during the World Series—and everywhere else in the country—will be bootleg stuff.

The distillers of the grog will pay no federal, state or city taxes. They gyped these agencies out not about $6,000,000 in taxes from 1935 until last year. They're doing better than ever this year.

Bootlegging has returned to this country in a big way chiefly because the government and other tax-collecting agencies have gone hog wild taxing the legitimate producers.

The whisky business is considered fair game by every aspiring politician. He knows that there will be more boosters than knockers if he claps another levy on Demon Rum, even though DR is as legitimate in this country as the ministry or Pabulum.

If Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth announced this week that commencing with the 1937 models their $2,000 numbers would cost $7,750, because taxation on automobiles was brought up to the level of taxation on spirits, the howl of protest would shatter plate glass windows on Madagascar. Yet that is the comparative situation that exists.

KEEP GOING UP

It costs about $2 to make, store and age a gallon of whisky. The federal tax on each gallon is $10.50. State and city taxes bring it to $13.56.

In 1941 the federal tax was $4 a gallon. It went to $6 in 1942 and to $9 in 1943. Congress that year promised that the $3 hike would be removed six months after the end of hostilities.

At the same time Congress noted that if war shortages had not put a crimp on such things as copper and sugar the $9 bite on whisky would generate countless bootleggers. But the levy never was removed.

When the Korean War broke another $1.50 was added. It, too, was a "temporary" measure. It is still there, and the illicit still operators never had it better.

Some of the top Prohibition mob fellows who went into seamy business with their dough when repeal intruded are now going back to their first and most prosperous love.

FEWER AGENTS

The Treasury Department's Alcohol Tax Unit investigators numbered 1,022 in 1946. Now there are 943. They knocked off the incredible number of 23,714 out-of-bounds stills last year.

There has been an increase of 117 per cent in seizures in the past 10 years. Treasury figures show a 15.9 per cent increase this year over last. The inference is that with limited enforcement, more and more stills go unnoticed and unchallenged than are smashed.

Judges show comparatively little interest in sentencing faceless employees brought to court after a seizure. The big guys are hard to tag, though Dwight Davis, the chief revenue officer of the government, has performed wonders with his midget army.

The public still thinks of the moonshiner as one of those bearded mountaineer characters out of Equire. It should know that most of the moonshining now is done on a huge scale in the northeast section of the U.S. and by big operators. They leave rot and corruption in their wake.

A four-story building, housing $100,000 worth of distilling equipment, was knocked off in Brooklyn. Another still with an 8,000-gallon capacity was built aboard a barge which changed its location in New York's East River nightly.

BUY UP BOTTLES

Legitimate bars are required to break all whisky bottles. There is no such restriction on private parties, caterers, hotel housemaids, etc. The moonshine mob now pay five cents a bottle, 25 cents for one whose government stamp and brand name have been steamed off.

The age of hijacking has returned. Trucks are being ambushed not only to get the legal contents in the bottles but the bottles, stamps and labels. As for the contents, they can be "spread" to make 10 times as much. About 100 people have died of poisoned booze in the past year.

Sales are mainly to after-hour

Fake Scotch with renowned names is sold at "bargain" prices from door to door in case lots and is represented as "just off the boat and didn't go through customs."

Employment on the Rise

GRAND HAVEN — The committee for Economic Development reported employment rose to a total of 4,978 in the Tri-Cities area in September, a gain of 389 more than at the end of August. Much of the increase was attributed to the return of 173 striking workers at Challenge Machinery Co.

Live Coral Displayed

HAMILTON, Bermuda—The Bermuda Government Aquarium is said to be the only one in the world that display live coral. On display are both pink and white and the unusual brain coral.

Stevenson Rooter Drives Ike Aides to Distraction

WASHINGTON (INS) — A brief flurry of consternation swept through the White House yesterday when a car was seen parked in the driveway with an ostentatious Stevenson sticker on the windshield.

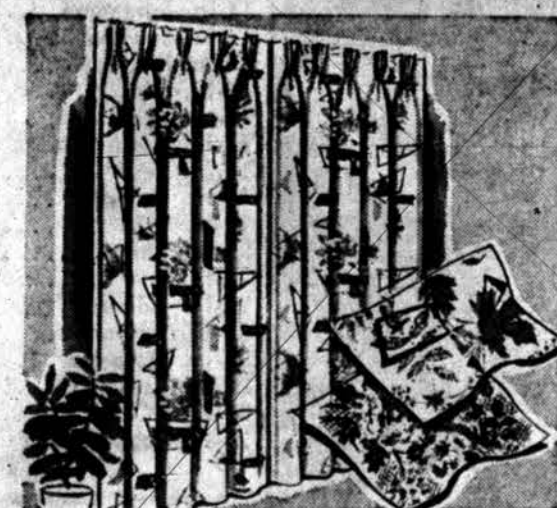

Some of those around the White House who noticed the car wondered if Stevenson forces were moving in before the election.

Investigation, however, revealed the driver was Miss Alla Clary, secretary to Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), a staunch Stevenson supporter.

She was there to escort some guests on a sightseeing tour through the White House.
