Williams Vetoes Bill Providing an Extra Judge

Claims Measure Would Furnish Oakland No Help for 19 Months

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today vetoed bills to provide one additional circuit judge apiece in Oakland and Saginaw counties.

He said the need for new judges in terms of crowded dockets was apparent but that the bills would "provide no relief whatsoever" for 19 months.

This, the governor said, was due to a clause in each of the bills providing that the newly-created vacancy on the bench would not be filled until the November 1958 election, with the judge being seated in January 1959.

The governor on Monday signed a bill for a new judge in Bay County and immediately filled the vacancy by appointing former state Rep. Richard G. Smith.

Discussing the Oakland bill, which made different provisions for setting up the new judicial officer, Williams said: "It has been well said that justice delayed is justice denied. By that measurement this bill denies justice to the litigants of Oakland County."

"The ground for so doing, while not stated, is a reluctance on the part of a Republican majority in the Legislature to give a Democratic governor the power to appoint a new circuit judge in Oakland County."

"This ground I reject as insufficient to make this bill a piece of good legislation."

Williams said in 1956 Oakland had the highest load of new cases for each of its judges of all counties in the state. He said its dockets fell further behind than that of any other judicial circuit.

Pontiac Is Cited for Safety Record

Pontiac, with no traffic deaths in the first four months of this year, was cited as one of the nation's safest cities today by the National Safety Council.

Detroit, with a death rate of 2.8 fatalities per 10,000 vehicles, had the best record of any city with over a million population in the first four months. Detroit's traffic death toll is 68 to date, compared with 91 in the same 1956 period.

Tomorrow We Present:

Miss Front Page for June

June is one of the year's happiest months, because of the pleasant things associated with this season... roses and the start of summer... brides... graduation... just to mention a few.

And now we have something more to anticipate. Another month has passed and we have... bet you've guessed it... another Miss Front Page.

We cannot tell you who she is or where she lives or what she looks like (she's charming, of course) until tomorrow. But one guess is safe: she'll be wearing a cap and gown.

"I Was Born in Paradise"

Freedom-Bound Slaves Aided Here

By ARTHUR POUND
(Continuing a story of early Pontiac, reprinted from the current issue of the University of Michigan Alumni Quarterly Review.)

I was born where the Pontiac Post Office now stands, in the old house on the southeast corner, now East Huron and Mill streets. My father owned that entire block and later built a new and larger house at the corner of Perry and East Huron streets. The old house remains in memory as more precious and interesting, perhaps because of some scary legends which clung around it.

Built by Dr. Silas Paddock, a pioneer physician, who came here about 1840 from Utica, New York, the old house was one of those low-hung, long-drawn-out dwellings common to rural New England, and to those parts of New York settled by the New Englanders—dwellings designed to defy cold weather and accommodate winter work under shelter.

Come On, June, Get Hot

Rise and Fall of Mercury Watched in Press Contest

Come on, June, let's have some hot days! Everybody wants 'em, and 2,353 weather fans are especially interested, for that number think they know the day, hour and minute when you'll be at your best.

That number had entered the Press June weather contest when the deadline was reached at noon Thursday.

Most of the prognosticators leaned toward the end of the month, with June 27 being the most popular date for top heat. But some hardy souls took a long chance with 5 expecting things to boil up to a record on the very first day.

Entries held under 50 on each of the first 15 days, stepped up in the following days, and ganged up on the latter days.

The Press will present a $100 savings bond to the person who named the date, hour and minute of the highest temperature here in June, or comes closest.

The recording temperature chart in the Press editorial office will be the official record. We'll report progress of the contest day by day.

Two Tornadoes Strike Colorado Farm District

WINDSOR, Colo. (AP)—Two tornadoes, hopping a destructive path across farms in northeastern Colorado, struck late yesterday. As many as 12 tunnels were reported seen.

Damage was spotty in an area 40 miles square, confined mostly to barns and granaries. Only one injury was reported.

One twister set down at Windsor High School, shattering windows and damaging roofs of two smaller adjoining school buildings. An estimated $10,000 damage was done to the school's farm building.

Bleachers from the football stadium were strewn over the field.

Bricks were torn from the wall of the farm building, and one struck Bill Olson, 45, operator of a Windsor cleaning plant, on the head. He was not seriously injured.

The first damage was reported on the Clarence Svedman farm 10 miles southeast of Fort Collins. The twister leveled Svedman's five granaries, garage and machine shop. It flipped his barn on its side.

Shepherd Held in Wife's Death

Awaits an Examination on 1st Degree Murder Charge in Knifing

James D. Shepherd, of Birmingham was arraigned today on a first-degree murder charge and returned to Oakland County jail to await trial.

Shepherd, 36, is charged with stabbing his wife, Elizabeth, 42, to death Monday night in their home at 1509 Pierce St.

Birmingham Justice John J. Gaffill scheduled a pre-trial examination for 9 a.m. June 19.

Gaffill signed a warrant ordered by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziern, who said Shepherd and his school teacher wife had had a history of domestic quarrelling since their marriage in January.

Ziern said the woman's two young daughters by a previous marriage told him that they saw Shepherd stab their mother as she attempted to flee the living room following an argument Monday night.

Shepherd maintains he "blacked out" from the time he went to bed at 9 p.m. Monday until about two hours later, when he discovered his wife dying on the living room floor.

Because of the charge that he faces, Shepherd will be held without bond.

Britain Reduces Control on Trade With Red China

New Strains Foreseen on Relations With U.S. as Result of Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new strain on relations between the United States and Britain was foreseen today as a result of the British decision to reduce controls on trade with Red China.

U.S. officials said the impact would be determined largely by the degree of criticism in Congress.

The British action—reducing China trade controls to the level of those applied to Russia and her European satellites—came while many members of Congress were away for Memorial Day.

Strong opposition was anticipated from some members.

Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, has been outspoken against any trade with the Chinese Communists, contending this would increase their war-making capacity. He declined comment last night on the British action.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, aimed his criticism at Eisenhower administration foreign policy, saying the British move—despite American warnings to the contrary—is "further evidence of our rather sterile policy toward China, with no prospects of it leading anywhere."

NOT RECOGNIZED

This country does not recognize the Communist Chinese government, although the British do. The United States also has no trade relations with the Red Chinese.

Brag of Monster Bomb

WARSAW (AP)—An H-bomb so big that it defies testing reportedly is claimed by the Soviet Union.

Poland's semi-official Publicity-Information Agency—API—reported Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev told a group of visiting Polish journalists about the monster bomb at a meeting in the Kremlin this month.

"This bomb is so big we cannot test it even inside the vast area of the Soviet Union. We couldn't even test it in the Arctic."

"If we set it off at the North Pole it would melt the icecap and send the oceans spilling over the world," API quoted Khrushchev.

If the polar icecaps ever thawed scientists have estimated ocean levels would climb more than 70 feet, flooding London, New York and other cities.

The API correspondent said Khrushchev told the group to explode the bomb in the most remote northern area of the Soviet Union "would have disastrous results for the whole of Scandinavia," and that one bomb of its size "would be enough for Britain or France."

Neither the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission nor the State Department in Washington had any immediate comment.

Showers May Follow Warm Temperature

The weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity is mild tonight with scattered thundershowers. After reaching into the 80s today, the mercury is expected to dip to a low of 58 to 62 tonight.

Tomorrow's forecast is partly cloudy with scattered showers or thundershowers ending, turning cooler late tomorrow. The high will average 76 to 80 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 56. At 1 p.m. the temperature was 80.

Flaming Aerial Tragedy Marks Memorial Display

Jet Crash Kills 1, Hurts 6

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The solemnity of a Memorial Day service for war dead was shattered yesterday when two Navy Panther jets collided while flying in an aerial tribute over a poppy-strewn cemetery.

Half a mile away, in a heavily populated section of northeast Minneapolis, a man and his wife were washing clothes in the basement of their home when a "funny, whirling noise" sent them running outside.

One of the planes plunged into the street in front of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Trost's home, rammed their car onto the front lawn and disintegrated.

The pilot, Cmdr. Newell Olson, 38, liaison and public relations officer at Wold-Chamberlain Naval Air Station, was killed. Six residents of the neighborhood were injured, one seriously. The pilot of the second plane, which crashed in a vacant lot, parachuted to safety.

FOUR HOMES BURN

The Trost home and three others burst into flame as fiery fuel from the plane sprayed over a wide area. A 50-caliber machine gun from the jet was hurled through a screen door and into the Trost living room. The second plane dug a six-foot crater in a vacant lot five blocks away.

The collision was witnessed by a thousand persons attending services at Sunset Memorial Cemetery. It occurred as a low-flying helicopter dropped poppies on the cemetery in a Veterans of Foreign Wars ceremony.

Lt. (j.g.) John Forsmark, 26, Minneapolis, a reservist, told newsmen later his left wing collided with the fuselage of Olson's plane as they and two other jets began a rolling maneuver in a final flourish over the cemetery. But he could give no explanation of the accident.

Residents found Olson's body in the street. His parachute was tangled in a tree.

The traffic victims: Leslie L. Streeter, 61, of Port Huron, was killed on U.S. 25 in Forrestville when he lost control of his auto and it rolled over three times. State Police said he apparently tried to pass a long line of cars while traveling at a high rate of speed.

Clarence J. Kohn, 29, of Houghton Lake, died when his car overturned on the outskirts of Houghton Lake after leaving M53.

Evangelos Ktenos, 65, of Metamora, was struck and killed by an auto while walking along M24, near Metamora.

Teamster Seen Aiding Probers

Action of John English May Have Flushed Out Beck Jr., Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — John F. English, a leader of cleanup forces in the Teamsters Union, may have accidentally or purposely helped Senate racketeers investigators locate a son and relatives of Teamsters President Dave Beck. They had been long sought for questioning.

English is the union's 68-year-old general secretary — treasurer and guardian of Teamsters' purse strings. His opposition to Beck is believed to be the main factor in Beck's recent announcement he is not seeking re-election as Teamsters president.

It was reliably reported today that English cut Dave Beck Jr. and three other relatives or friends of the elder Beck off the Teamsters payroll two months ago.

At that time Beck Jr. and two other Beck relatives were reported in Canada — out of reach of committee subpoenas seeking to compel their attendance at hearings here.

It is reported the group, cut off from Teamsters paychecks, finally ran out of funds and had to return to the United States where they recently were served with subpoenas on the West Coast.

The 37-year-old Beck Jr., Joseph E. McEvoy, husband of the elder Beck's niece, and Fred Verschueren Sr. are due to testify before the Rackets Committee here next Tuesday.

Beck Jr. and McEvoy have been linked in prior testimony to Beck Sr.'s complicated money deals. Verschueren is a top Teamsters Union auditor on the West Coast. Beck Jr. has been pictured by earlier witnesses as "a spoiled boy" whose father got him a lucrative beer distributorship from the Anheuser-Busch Co.

Does weather ever remain the same? In hot summer spells is the air over your town or city the same air that was there yesterday, or the day before?

Weather is never the same. The same conditions may exist, but the weather you are experiencing today—the gases that are above you—have probably come from hundreds of miles away in the past twenty-four hours.

In the United States the movement of weather is generally from west to east and seldom does a time come when this trend is not in effect. The air you breathe today was not in your vicinity yesterday. Experts have estimated that it usually was several hundred miles westward yesterday.

This does not mean that clear air hundreds of miles to the west cannot become moist or cloudy by the time it reaches you. Local conditions sometimes generate clouds and precipitation, but usually on a local scale. In general, if the air is clear to the west, it will be clear when it reaches you and it rains, it will bring clouds to your area. It passes over — though clouds sometimes dissipate as they move eastward, and the experts still cannot always predict these changes.

Assistance With Dishes Welcomed

But Woman Hears
It's Not Proper to Let Guests Help

By EMILY POST

A hostess writes: "When I invite relatives and intimate friends to an informal dinner, I welcome their help with the dishes. There is nothing that tends to spoil my evening as a hostess more than the thought of a sinkful of dirty dishes awaiting me after my guests leave. In a matter of minutes they are out of the way with help and I don't have to wash dishes far into the night."

"However, while visiting a niece of mine who lives out of the state, she refused to let me help, saying that guests should not be allowed to do dishes. I now wonder whether I have been terribly wrong in welcoming help from my guests?"

Answer: If your guests offer to help you with the dishes you may gratefully accept it, but you certainly can't suggest that they help you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been told that when wine is served at dinner, it is correct for the person serving it to pour a little in the host's glass first for him to taste before filling the glasses of others at the table. I have been to many houses where wine is served but never have seen this done. Is this proper procedure?"

Answer: It is not done under ordinary circumstances. But if it is an old vintage wine, then the host is supposed to taste it to see that it is not corked.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered bad manners to take a sip of coffee while there is still some unswallowed food in the mouth? I had a sandwich and coffee the other day for lunch and took a sip of coffee before completely finishing what I had in my mouth."

"My sister, who is a perfectionist said it is wrong to drink anything while there is still food in the mouth. Is it, Mrs. Post?"

Answer: It is a question of quantity. If you have a small amount of food in your mouth it is quite all right to take a sip of coffee, but not if you have a mouthful of food.

Makes Fun of All the Other Teenagers

'Most Beautiful Girl' Acts Unlovely

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "We have just elected the most beautiful girl and the most handsome boy in our school. Now all the other girls feel as though they are as ugly as homemade soap. We would like to have you give us some information about how blondes should wear their hair and so forth. The girl who was judged most beautiful makes fun of all of the other girls."

A. The way you wear your hair depends on facial contour rather than whether a girl is a blonde or a brunette. Evidently success has gone to the head of the most beautiful one in a most unbecoming way.

I do not think the rest of you need worry about her. At this rate she will not long seem lovely to anyone. If you would like to have my leaflet especially for teenagers, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Popularity" leaflet No. 55.

Q. "I am 5 feet 10½ inches tall and weigh 162 pounds. My bust measures 36, waist 29 and hips 40 inches. I feel that my hips and waist are too large. My bone structure is medium although quite broad through the hips."

"I weighed 146 pounds a few years ago and was often complimented on my figure. Is there any way I can lose 15 pounds and make sure that part of it comes off of my hips?"

"I feel certain that tall girls and women are puzzled by weight-height charts. The weight they usually give for a woman 5 feet 10 inches tall is about 155 pounds. Yet one very often sees pictures of models who are 5 feet 8 or 9 inches and weigh 125 pounds."

A. One hundred and fifty to fifty-five is about right for your height. One hundred and twenty-five pounds would be terribly underweight. Many models sacrifice health and bust looks for their careers since the camera makes them look much heavier than they actually are.

I do not think you should weigh less than 145 to 150. If you will take hip-slimming exercises while reducing it will speed the loss in inches in the hips.

Q. "I am 16 years old and have freckles on my back and shoulders. They are not small and light but big and dark. I hate to wear sleeveless blouses or go to the beach because of them. Are there any freckle creams which will take them away?"

A. I do not think there are any freckle creams which are very effective. Lemon juice and cucumber juice are supposed to be mild bleaches.

One way to dim and avoid freckles is to stay out of the sun-light. I certainly would not advise this because you would miss too much fun and health. Use one of the screening bases before you go to the beach and use a makeup to cover freckles when you dress up. They are not nearly so unattractive as you believe.

Tomorrow: "Exercise Is Only Answer for Big Bulge at Thighs."

Slim Gals Need Lightweight Foundations

NEW YORK (NEA)—The woman who needs a minimum of control in the girdle she wears is the lucky one. She's cool in summer and always comfortable.

Her girdles cost her less, too, than if she needs a full length, one-piece garment. She's the girl who can invest her pennies in a lightweight pantie girdle that offers freedom of leg movement right along with freedom from bulges.

Though slim, she does need a girdle, of course. Fashion models, who stay trimmed down nearly to the bone, always wear girdles for the smooth line they give.

The bicycle ride is one of Josephine Lowman's hip exercises. If you would like to have all her hip-reducing exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to her in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tart Salad Goes Well With Meat

Mrs. Thompson's
Jellied Slaw Has
Mayonnaise in It

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Let's make some Jellied Cole-slaw for dinner tonight. This is a recipe you will enjoy often in the warm days ahead. It goes well with any meat.

Today's cook, Mrs. Roy Thompson of Lower Straits Lake, is another do-it-yourselfer in the home building business. She is an active worker in the Commerce School PTA.

JELLIED COLESLAW

By Mrs. Roy Thompson

1 package lemon gelatin

1 cup hot water

½ cup cold water

2 tablespoons vinegar

½ cup mayonnaise

1 teaspoon salt

Dash pepper

1 teaspoon celery seed

Dissolve gelatin in hot water.

Add other ingredients to cold water, mix well, and add to gelatin.

Let cool to syrupy stage. Beat until thick and fluffy. Fold in following ingredients:

2 cups chopped cabbage

2 tablespoons green peppers, chopped

1 tablespoon chopped onion

Dash of seasoning salt

Mix well with gelatin. Pour into greased mold. Chill in refrigerator until set. Serves 8.

Prevent Wrinkling

Wrinkled clothing is no badge of beauty. Most wrinkles will hang out if you hang up your clothing as soon as you take it off. Wearing the same dress, suit or skirt day after day sets wrinkles. If you can avoid this, it will save on dry cleaning bills.

Flee From Belittling Man Before He Destroys You

Look for Someone Who Wants to See
You Happy, Who Builds You Up

By RUTH MILLETT

She is desperately in love with a young man who, in her own words, can "make me feel like about two cents."

"With most people I feel comfortable and at ease. But Jim can make me feel awkward and not quite bright and I think he enjoys doing it. Can you tell me why, since he says he loves me, he likes to make me feel inferior?"

No. But I can tell you one thing. Get away from Jim and his ability to make you feel small.

Stop and think a minute. If this young man, before marriage, has the power to make you doubt yourself and feel unhappy and unsure of your own worth, think what living with him day after day would do to you.

In a few years he'll have you a timid shadow, trying to please him to win his respect. But you will never be able to do either.

A PERFECT CHANCE

There will always be something for him to find fault with, something to criticize, to blame. The man who makes himself feel important by tearing down others has a perfect chance in marriage to build up his own ego at his wife's expense.

So run from Jim while you are still free to run. Then look for a man who wants to see you happy, who enjoys building you up, who thinks you are just about right the way you are.

You will need that much to start marriage confidently.

You are really lucky that you have seen this destructive quality in the man you love before marriage. It would be far more heart-breaking if you found it out afterward.

One last word. Don't kid yourself that marriage will change his attitude toward you. It won't.

Banks Hold Tempting Bait for Career-Minded Youth
By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (U)—Your son and daughter trying to make up their minds what to be when they get out of school? They can get all kinds of advice—even from your banker.
To meet a growing need for more personnel, banks today are trying all the recruiting angles—even to paying the going rate for clerical workers rather than holding to the old idea that "prestige" should make up for about half of it.
It may have been competition for clerical workers that first led banks to raise starting pay scales. But it is the growth of the banking system's operations that has led to more top-level jobs.
The American Bankers' Assn. says that each year the nation's 15,000 banks have about 1,000 bank presidencies and 4,000 other officer positions to fill. Since 1940 the banks' employe rolls have swelled by more than 250,000.
The association says this is because in the last 17 years the number of commercial banking accounts has doubled, the volume of bank loans and investments has tripled, and banking services have been greatly expanded.
To help the ambitious young man or woman to move up the ladder, the American Institute of Banking offers courses to prepare employees for jobs ahead. These are open to all bank employes, men or women, high school or college graduates.

Bank officers have another program to help them keep climbing. The American Bankers Assn. has a graduate school of banking, offering advanced studies. State bankers associations also sponsor special courses at some universities and individual banks provide on the job training for new employes and executive development courses for the ambitious.
Stressing the better pay lure, the ABA says that in the larger towns and cities now, a young person entering the business can look forward to earning from $8,000 to $15,000 a year—when he works up to an officer's post.

Homesick Milland Asks About California Weather
LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Can you imagine Ray Milland telephoning all the way from England to tell me that he was homesick and wanted to know what the weather is like in California?
While I had Ray on the wire, I asked him to give me some news. He said that he and Mal are flying home June 6 to attend their son Danny's graduation from Lawrenceville. Seventeen-year-old Danny, Ray said, is the youngest member of his class and goes to Stanford in the fall.
"Mal (Mrs. Milland) has gone to Paris with Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks to get some clothes," said Ray. "We come out to California, then I have to fly back to London."
