Sits Tight in Cuba

K Holding the Aces

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — If birdwatchers will now fix their attention on that wise old owl, Premier Khrushchev, they may see him try to feather his nest.

The Russians could probably embarrass Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said Tuesday a Soviet presence in Cuba "cannot be accepted," if they asked him a simple question: What are you going to do about it?

At this time in the frustrated American government it is unlikely anyone has a firm or even clear idea how to force the Soviet troops out of Cuba or persuade Khrushchev to take them out.

He has promised to withdraw some of the 17,000 men President Kennedy says are on the island. But it's doubtful Khrushchev will pull them all off. They serve several purposes, one now and maybe others later.

DISCOURAGING INVADERS

Now—so long as they're on the island they discourage an anti-Castro invasion effort by Cuban refugees, backed by the United States, or directly by American troops. An attack on Cuba would price for their removal—not to be an attack on them. It could mean war.

Later—the longer their presence frustrates Americans, the more Khrushchev may hope to make a deal, to remove them if the United States will do the same with some of its forces which are somewhere else.

Berlin is an example, although that would be a big price for the United States to pay after all its promises to defend the city.

For five years Khrushchev has been demanding the Allies remove their forces from Berlin which is 100 miles inside Communist East Germany and is one of the biggest Soviet battlefields in the cold war.

If Khrushchev pulled his troops out of Cuba—because of a deal on Berlin or somewhere else—it raised a storm since President Kennedy's 1960 campaign are fairly defenseless against invasion.

WORTHWHILE TO REDDS?

But it might be worth it to the Russians, particularly in the case of Berlin, since the East German Communists are far more important to Russia than the far-off Communists of Castro, a comparative handful.

Or—Khrushchev may wish to keep his troops in Cuba until the States, or directly by American troops. An attack on Cuba would price for their removal—not to

Know Aims 1st, Waterford Told

Experts Advise Move; Then Tax Base Action

A panel of planning experts last night concurred that Waterford Township should first determine development goals before setting out to strengthen its commercial-industrial tax base.

The tax base question was one of three prepared by Township Planning Director Robert Dieball for open discussion at the annual Waterford Township Planning Dinner at Airway Lanes.

Panelists included William Roman, state administrator for urban planning under the 701 program, and Paul Reid, executive director, Detroit Metropolitan Planning Authority.

Other panelists were Brandon Rogers of Parkers, Rogers & Associates, planning consultants for Waterford Township; and James Clarkson, chairman of the Waterford Township Planning Commission. Dieball moderated the discussion.

Panelists were generally agreed that the township's present commercial-industrial tax base ratio of about 20 per cent of total property taxes was low. The average for communities in the metropolitan area is nearly double this figure.

Dieball pointed out that in the master plan now in progress for the township, a strengthening of this ratio, as well as a general upgrading of residential development plans, is specified.

All panelists agreed that with its many lakes Waterford would be a natural setting for research-type industries which generally seek scenic locations.

Reid and Roman both emphasized the importance of continually observing planning in surrounding areas to aid development.

Rogers pointed out that the master plan is scheduled for completion in June, 1964.

Officers of township service clubs as well as members of the township board and planning commission attended the dinner program.

tain comrades' top economic pressure on China. This was clearly Khrushchev's Russia.

"Disregarding international practice," it said, "they perfunctorily and unilaterally tore up agreements and contracts they had concluded with a fraternal country. These agreements and contracts in two or three or in scores, but in hundreds."

TITO TROUCAST

As for Yugoslavia President Tito, the paper called him a "renegade" and said reconciliation with him was "absolutely impossible."

Although Khrushchev was never mentioned by name, the statements attacked were those made by him and he was the Communist who staged the speech for reconciliation with President Tito.

The editorial accused Khrushchev of starting the squabble in the Communist camp by publicly taking sides with India on Sept. 9, 1959, over the then-developing China-India border dispute.

This apparently referred to a Tass statement issued that day urging both sides to settle the quarrel but refraining from giving full backing to China.

It was published just before Khrushchev left for his tour of the United States.

Peking said Soviet attacks on China and Albania picked up following the "Camp David talks" between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower—and have continued ever since.

NATO Unit Meets on Possible N-Force

PARIS (AP)—The NATO permanent council met today to discuss possible formation of a multinational nuclear force.

The permanent representatives of the alliance's 15 nations met in secret session, to hear French Ambassador Livingston Merchant outline the Kennedy administration's plans for a joint nuclear force.

The United States is seeking a new formula through which its allies can be "associated more closely with NATO's nuclear punch."

A. C. GIRARD

MRS. FRANK PRATHER

Chairmen Appointed for Cancer Crusade

The appointment of Alfred C. Girard of 2221 N. Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Hills, as crusade chairman for the North Oakland County Unit of Michigan Cancer Foundation was announced today.

Mrs. Frank W. Prather, 701 E. Liberty St., Milford, has been named chairman of the Women's Crusade Committee for the area.

The appointments were announced by Harold G. Warner, foundation general crusade chairman.

Girard, president of the Community National Bank, and Mrs. Prather will share the responsibilities of directing the activities of volunteer workers in this year's educational cancer crusade.

A fact-finding survey designed to fathom public knowledge and attitudes toward cancer and plans to improve the foundation's year-round program of cancer research, education and service in southeastern Michigan top this year's aims.

The foundation is solely supported by the Pontiac area United Fund and the United Foundation of Greater Detroit.

Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum today found Henry, 43, innocent of malicious destruction.

Both charges stemmed from an incident Jan. 7 when Henry reclaimed his car after it had been repossessed.

Pontiac patrolman Neil McCormick, 23, accused Henry of attacking him with his rose-colored Cadillac convertible as Henry left the garage where it had been stored for four days.

The malicious destruction charge was brought against Henry by J. Wendell Green, owner of the garage at 77 E. Huron St.

Justice McCallum said Green's accusation had no basis since he was not present.

He also pointed out that Henry had every right to his car since he had made his late payments earlier in the day to Associate Discount, Inc.

"Mr. Henry complied with the law," McCallum said.

"McCormick had no business interfering," added McCallum. "It was a civil matter. Associates was using police as bouncers. This is regrettable."

In regards to the assault, there is a question of fact that has to be decided," said McCallum. "Did he intend to hurt the officer? That is up to a jury to decide."

Folks Give Party for Liz Taylor on 31st Birthday

LONDON (UPI)—Actress Elizabeth Taylor today marked her 31st birthday here in the city she left as a child before the outbreak of World War II.

Miss Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Taylor, planned a small family party for her at the Dorchester Hotel. It was not known whether Welsh actor Richard Burton will attend the party.

Burton has been Miss Taylor's almost constant companion since they worked together in the movie "Cleopatra" in Rome. They are both currently involved in the filming of "Very Important Persons" at a studio outside London.

Monroe Voters Approve Five-Mill School Tax

MONROE (AP)—Voters yesterday approved a five-mill tax levy for the next two years to operate Monroe public schools. The vote was 1,936 to 1,609.

It was the fourth attempt to obtain voter approval of a millage rate on an assault and battery charge and placed him on six months probation.

He waited 16 Years Before Throwing Punch

DETROIT (AP)—Ivie Shelton, 36, hauled into court Tuesday for punching his wife in the face, confessed that after 16 years of bitter marriage, a man is entitled to throw two or three punches.

He lost the decision. Recorder's Judge John O'Hara found Shelton guilty on an assault and battery charge and placed him on six months probation.

Birmingham Area News

Citizens Stage Walkout on Board of Education

BIRMINGHAM — A walkout was staged at the board of education meeting last night when it was announced that school restructuring would not be discussed.

Many residents of the Harlan Elementary School area and the Westchester area left the crowded room when they learned the board's decision.

The group was there to protect a plan by School Supt. Otis M. Dickey under which students at Harlan would attend the newly named Berkshire Junior High School at 14-Mile near Evergreen, and Groves High School at 13-Mile and Evergreen.

Previously, Harlan students have attended Derby Junior High and Seasholm High School, closer to their homes.

Dickey said this move was necessitated by overcrowding at Derby and Seasholm.

Parents have complained that the restructuring will cause their children to spend 550 more hours on school buses than they would if going to closer schools.

Dickey has said that education before the bill comes up for a vote.

Possible changes include taking on a part of northeastern Wayne County instead of Livingston and Lapeer counties.

Another would be splitting Oakland County north and south instead of east and west and putting Lapeer and St. Clair counties in the new 19th District.

Michigan gained the additional congressional seat as a result of the 1960 census.

Lawmakers last year were unable to agree on a redistricting that former Gov. John B. Swainson would approve, and Democrat Neil Staeblel held the post in a statewide at-large election last fall.

Congressional seats are based on an average population of 411,000. The present 18th District (all of Oakland County) had a 1960 population of 690,693.

Under Hogan's plan, the 18th District would be the eastern 40 per cent of the county with a population of 434,000. The new 19th would have a population of 336,000 but would include areas where future population growth is expected to be greatest.

Hogan said his committee would try to keep all districts at 15 per cent of the 411,000 average in the final apportionment.

His plan also would make Macomb County a single district, take one seat away from the Upper Peninsula, which now has two, make a new district of Genesee, Shiawassee and Clinton counties and add Wayne County's six districts.

The plan would put Oakland County's two main centers of population—Pontiac and Royal Oak—in separate districts.

Roberts also introduced a bill today to reorganize the House, giving Oakland County nine state representatives instead of the present six.

This measure is similar to one now before Hogan's Apportionment Committee in the House.

In order to go into effect next year, House reapportionment must pass the House by March 1, which precedes the April 1 start of the proposed new state constitution.

If the constitution passes, any reapportionment bill would be nullified and apportionment carried out by an eight-man commission.

Roberts also introduced a bill to allow the governor to appoint a state mental health director and name a 12-member state advisory council on mental health.

Rolvaag of Minnesota Ahead of Governor

ST. PAUL (AP)—Karl Rolvaag, the Democratic candidate, carries a 35-vote lead in the third day of the Minnesota governor recount trial.

Rolvaag, former lieutenant governor, petitioned for the recount after the state canvassing board ruled in favor of Republican Gov. Elmer A. Anderson victor in the November election by 142 votes.

Two old rivals will not be competing for the post of municipal judgeship, it was learned today.

Walter R. Denison, until yesterday a candidate for both the judgeship and the city commission, has decided to run for only the commission post.

Under Michigan election laws, a candidate cannot run for two such offices.

Helping him make the decision, he said, was the fact that he had been previously defeated by incumbent Judge John C. Emery Jr. in the 1959 race.

Denison is a member of the city planning commission.

The Congregational Church is sponsoring a series of four Lenten potluck suppers every Thursday during March.

Speaker for the first program, March 7 at 6:30 p.m., is Dr. Reginald H. Heffrich, secretary of the Division of Services of the Board of World Ministries.

An authority on refugee, relief and rehabilitation service, he has worked with the International Refugee Organization of the United Nations, and the U.N. Korean Rehabilitation Organization.

Harry B. Leinbach Service for Harry B. Leinbach, 81, 857 Colonial Court, will be 100 tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Leinbach died yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was a retired realtor and a member of St. James Episcopal Church.

Surviving are his wife Bess; two sons, Harry B. of Cincinnati, Ohio and Chapin R. of Washington, D. C.; two sisters and four grandchildren.

Mantle Signs for $100,000

From Our News Wires

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Mickey Mantle signed his New York Yankees' contract today for $100,000, joining Willie Mays in the hundred grand class.

His teammate, Roger Maris, signed for $72,000, same as last year.

Mantle's $100,000 pay is about 15 percent more than he reportedly received last year.

The 31-year-old switch-hitter was named the American League's most valuable player and led the Yankees to the pennant despite a series of crippling injuries.

Maris, whose home run production slipped from a record 61 in 1961 to 33 last season, had sought a raise.

The combined $172,000 salary to be paid these two home run glamor-boys represents the highest amount ever paid two players on the same team in baseball history.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Light snow is expected tonight in the lower Lakes and the Ohio Valley with light rain and showers in the central and lower Mississippi Valley and southern Plains. There is a chance of some snow flurries along the eastern slopes of the Rockies, and occasional rain will fall along the north Pacific coast. It will be slightly warmer in the Ohio Valley and the area to the central Gulf coast. A turn to colder will be noted in the Plains and Rockies.

Burning of Reichstag Triggered Nazi Terror 30 Years Ago

(Editor's Note: Thirty years ago today, the Reichstag building in Berlin went up in flames, setting off a chain of Nazi crimes against the world. On hand was a veteran AP correspondent who is now chief editor of The Associated Press German language services in Europe. This is his story.)

By RUDOLF E. JOSTEN

BERLIN (AP)—It was a fantastic sight. The huge glass dome of the Reichstag building was aglow.

There was a sudden explosion and the glass cupola burst into fragments. Flames shot into the wintry sky. Sixty fire engines raced to the blaze. Hundreds of police and brown-shirted Nazi storm troopers encircled the area. The time: about 10 p.m.—Feb. 27, 1933.

History books mark this as the incident the Nazis used to unleash their reign of terror that led finally to millions of dead in World War II.

Since that date, no German parliament has sat in the Reichstag building. The Nazis used another building. War wrought further damage. The old Reichstag has become a symbol of the cold war which divides Germany, prevents the formation of an all-German parliament and keeps Berlin from regaining its status as capital of Germany.

Today, the Reichstag stands

Princess Grace Coming Home for Anniversary

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Princess Rainier III of Monaco and Princess Grace will visit Philadelphia April 19, their seventh wedding anniversary, officials announced today.

The royal couple will inaugurate the Monaco pavilion at a travel and vacation exposition in Philadelphia, home town of the princess, former actress Grace Kelly.

The Monaco pavilion will include historical documents from this tiny Mediterranean principality, samples of Monaco products, folkloric dolls, and Monaco postal cards and stamps.

Vet State Employee Fired for Violation

LANSING (AP)—A 14-year veteran of the Michigan Employment Security Commission has been fired because "he violated a rule of the commission," Commission Director Max Horton said yesterday.

Horton said Benjamin Parks, a liability examiner at the Detroit office of MESC, violated a requirement that "employees get permission for outside employment."

"There was at least some reason to believe he had made out some reports either on false information or had been in collusion making out reports that were false," Horton said.

Parks may appeal to the Civil Service Commission.

Promoted by Blue Cross

DETROIT (UPI)—Clifton R. Irvine, assistant director of the office management division of Michigan Blue Cross, yesterday was named director of the division. He succeeds Robert Koch who has resigned.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS

within yards of the Berlin wall built by the Communists who now occupy half the old capital and half of Germany.

That night the storm troopers refused to let me through although I showed my press pass. "I'm sure they set fire to it themselves," I heard a voice behind me as tens of thousands gathered to watch the blaze.

Black limousines drove up. I saw Adolf Hitler, propaganda chief Joseph Goebbels and Hermann Goering.

I struggled through the crowds back to the office to tell the world. As we worked all night, reports kept coming in that all leading Communists had been arrested.

I walked home at dawn, police were swarming over the offices of the Socialist newspaper, Vorwarts. I knew then the Nazis meant to weed out all opposition—no matter by what means.

Four weeks earlier Hitler had been appointed chancellor by the aging Reich president, Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg and Hindenburg.

LOST 2 MILLION VOTES
The Nazis were not yet firmly established. In the elections in November 1932, they had lost two million votes. Their seats in the Reichstag had been cut from 230 to 196; the Communists were the biggest gainers.

With the next general election just one week away, the fire could not have been timed better for the Nazis. Hitler called it the signal for a nationwide Red uprising. Hundreds of Communists were thrown into jail, many beaten to death or shot.

Marinus van der Lubbe, a 24-year-old Dutch worker and independent Communist, was arrested inside the burning Reichstag. He told police he had had no helpers in setting the fire. Within days, Ernst Torgler, parliamentary leader of the Communist party, and three Bulgarian Communists were arrested and charged with plotting the fire.

Van der Lubbe was sentenced to death by guillotining. Torgler and the three Bulgarians were acquitted for lack of evidence—courts had not yet been completely Nazi-fied.

Scores of books have been written about the fire. Some contend that Van der Lubbe was a Nazi stooge.

Ex-Col. Gen. Franz Halder, former German army chief of staff, said after the war he heard Goering boast of having laid the fire. Three years ago, Fritz Tobias, a German amateur historian who interviewed all survivors, theorized in a widely discussed book that Van der Lubbe acted alone and was a latter-day Guy Fawkes who wanted to alert the world to the Nazi danger.

While the Nazis blamed Communist German army chief of staff, for the fire, most historians believe the Nazis started it. I am convinced the fire was laid by the Nazis.

All the principals are dead. Dr. Ernst Oberfohren, alleged to have first exposed the Nazis' role in the fire, was found dead at his desk two months later.

Georg Bell, a Munich intelligence agent supposed to have known of ties between Van der Lubbe and the Nazis, was found dead in 1933 near the Austrian town of Kufstein.

Count Wolf Helldorf, the leading storm trooper in Berlin, was hanged as an anti-Nazi conspirator in 1944.

Goering, who committed suicide in the Nuremberg war crimes trial in 1946, insisted in his death cell that he had nothing to do with the fire.

Torgler, the former Communist leader who survived Nazi prisons, died last month. He said he was convinced Van der Lubbe was the sole arsonist.

One week after the fire, the Nazis polled 52 per cent of the popular vote in a general election. The Nazis were on their way to their "1,000-year Reich" which collapsed in the ruins of war in a little more than a decade.

For several years, a few workmen have slowly been restoring the Reichstag's bomb-pocked and shell-scarred exterior. The West German Parliament in Bonn ordered the work.

They work without much enthusiasm. As they climb the walls of the old building, they peer down on the concrete and barbed wire of the wall. They see police patrolling night and day to keep West and East Berliners apart.

"What's the use?" asked one old construction worker. "Germany will never be reunited. The Reichstag will never meet again."

State Group Tackles Migrant Woes

EAST LANSING — A new statewide, nongovernmental committee has been formed to tackle the problems posed by migratory farm labor.

Named the Michigan Farm Labor Management Committee, and composed of representatives of nine regional fruit and vegetable growers associations, the group's avowed purpose is to improve the lot of both the migrant laborer and the producer.

A committee spokesman, W. L. Larry Mainland, 2173 E. Commerce Road, Milford, said the group is attempting "to keep our own house in order" rather than create the necessity for legislation or the introduction of a domestic peace corps.

Four bills dealing with migratory labor have been introduced in the legislature this session, but none has emerged from committee.

Committee is still being organized yet is taking specific steps toward solving some problems of the migrants.

Committee representatives are meeting around the state with county grower organizations. Booklets dealing with housing and management relations are being passed out, and various problems are discussed.

The booklet on housing was prepared by Robert Maddox, an associate professor of agricultural engineering at Michigan State University, in consultation with an official of the Michigan Environmental Security Commission and the State Health Department. Another booklet deals with the human relations involved in the employer-employee relationship. According to Mainland, who is a retired builder, much of the information available in this field has not penetrated the farm manager as it has the industrial manager.

Posters explaining the proper use of tools and facilities to the migratory laborer also are being made available, Mainland said.

A system of reference cards, to be carried by the laborer and showing recommendations from previous employers, is also being developed.

The management committee was conceived last December at a series of breakfast meetings during the Michigan State Horticultural Society meeting in Grand Rapids, Mainland said.

Some subcommittees have been formed, Mainland said, and a third organizational meeting has been scheduled at East Lansing March 25.

Throughout the committee's growth, advice has been sought from the State Department of Agriculture, MSU, the Michigan Security Commission, state police, and the health department, although the committee has no official tie with any state agency or institution.

Mainland offered these observations on the committee's work: "We are not a recruiting group and we're not out to obtain laborers for the farming industry."

"We recognize that problems exist—living and working conditions, local law enforcement problems, transportation, earnings, poor productivity—and we're trying to work on the problems at the local and the individual level, rather than the governmental level."

NANCY ANN MASTEN

Announcement is made of the engagement of Nancy Ann Masten to Charles W. Kimbrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Kimbrell, 167 Alhambra St., Pontiac Township. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. L. D. Masten of Milan and the late Mr. Masten. No date has been set for the wedding.

Talk on Children Set in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Tonight's meeting of the Special Education Parents Unit for Retarded Children (SPUR) will feature a talk by Donnie Smith, diagnostician with the Oak Park Board of Education.

Smith will speak on the relationship between children, including shyness, fears, belligerence and other social adjustments.

The public is invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting.

School Bond Gets OK

HOLLY — The Holly School District has received approval to issue $550,000 in bonds for new construction by the State Department of Public Instruction.

Oxford Council Cheers

U.S. Grants Leeway

OXFORD—The Village Council last night heartily accepted a 90-day extension granted by the Housing and Home Financing Administration to complete preliminary plans for sewers here.

Manager Michael M. Kilgore had requested the delay so that the village's consulting engineers, Johnson and Anderson of Waterford Township, could have more time to prepare their preliminary plans for the council.

A proposed sewage plan has been submitted to the State Health Department.

In addition to meeting the requirements of that office, the sewage solution must be approved by the Oakland County Department of Public Works and the HHA before any money will be allocated for actual construction.

Cost of the program was originally estimated at about $554,000. This included a $394,000 sewer system and a $160,000 sewage disposal plant.

The village has received an $8,000 loan from the federal government, which it is using to finance the preliminary plans.

Next step in the planning will be a meeting March 14, when the council will discuss progress of the sewage program with the engineering consultants.

It is expected that the State Health Department will have rendered an opinion on the preliminary plans then.

The tentative preliminary plans call for the system to have sewer lines laid in all village streets but with the exception of two downtown blocks, where they will be placed underneath alleys.

A pumping station would be constructed in the southeast portion of the village. The design and location of the proposed sewage treatment plant is currently being studied by the Michigan State Health department.

Following the expected approval of the department, the plan will be presented to the council at the March 14 meeting.

Traffic Fine Collections Pose Problem in Holly

HOLLY — Village and township officials here are trying to settle their differences on how to collect traffic court fines.

At a meeting last night, Oakland County Justice Court coordinator Gerald Terrien met with Township Justices of the Peace Ival Paulsen, Jay Perry, and Village Police Chief William Wood to set up proper court procedure.

Electricity Off for 100 in Troy

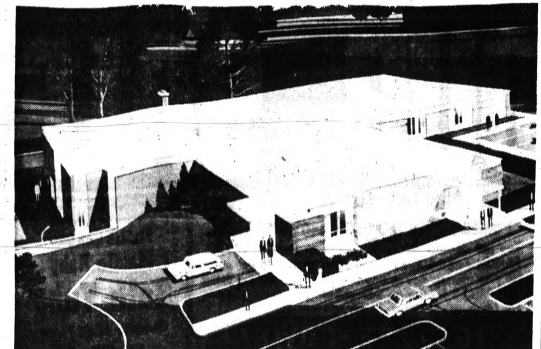

TROY — A snapped electric transmission line caused some 100 residents here to lose electric power in their homes for about an hour yesterday.

The power loss, starting about 3:30 p.m., happened when a crane working on the I-75 expressway accidentally broke a support pole's anchor line, straining and breaking the transmission wire, according to a Detroit Edison official.

The two-square-mile area affected is enclosed by Crooks, Marlines and Van Dyke Roads. The power loss was reported today.

State Road Toll at 162

EAST LANSING — Traffic accidents have killed 162 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 172.

50-BED HOSPITAL — This is an artist's sketch of the new hospital that will be built in Goodrich. Designed by Sedgewick-Sellers & Associates, Flint, the facility will cost a total of $580,000, of which some $341,000 has already been donated by residents of the Goodrich area.

Bids on 50-Bed Area Hospital Will Be Opened Tomorrow

GOODRICH — Tomorrow some 800 area families will see their dreams begin to materialize. Bids will be opened for construction of a new 50-bed general hospital which they will have paid for out of their own pockets.

Designed by Sedgewick-Sellers & Associates, Flint, the new facility will be built without any federal or state funds.

Total cost is an estimated $580,000. It has been three years since these area residents have had a hospital to serve them—not since their old hospital was closed after being declared a fire hazard by the state fire marshal.

To date they have donated about $341,000 toward construction of the new hospital, according to Richard Dorsett, administrator of the Community Health Foundation.

The drive for funds will be stepped up while the new facility is being built, he said. Construction is scheduled to start within a month, with completion set for early next year.

Facilities in the new building will include general patient care, pediatrics, obstetrics, surgery, x-ray, emergency rooms and out-patient care.

The building contains some 16,300 square feet of space on the first floor and 7,200 in the basement. It is designed to be expandable to a 100-bed unit.

The hospital will be named the Wheelock Memorial Hospital, Dorsett said, in honor of Dr. Amos Wheelock, builder of Goodrich's first hospital around the turn of the century.

The new medical facility will be located on M15 at the northern village limits of this little Genesee County community.

Bids will be opened at 8 p.m. at a special meeting of the Health Foundation's Board of Directors.

Youth Crushed Fatally Under Wheels of Truck

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — An 18-year-old Utica youth died early today of injuries he suffered when he was thrown from a car driven by his brother and run over by the dual wheels of a large van-type truck.

Frank Wichtner, 8155 Munrovia St., was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mount Clemens, after the car in which he was a passenger collided with the van on Van Dyke Road, just north of Timberline Road.

Shelby police said both vehicles were traveling south when driver Douglas Wichtner, 22, of 8676 Mills St., Utica, attempted to pass the truck.

He lost control when his car hit the shoulder, police said, and collided with the truck causing it to jack-knife. The impact sent his brother hurtling out of the car under the truck's wheels.

The accident occurred shortly before midnight. Driver of the truck was Robert H. Maxwell, 49, State Municipal Finance Commission, Detroit. Investigation of the accident is continuing, police said.

Another brother, Robert Wichtner, 26, of 8155 Munrovia St., Utica, was also a passenger in the car. He was not injured.

In Orchard Lake Church Flynnns Speak Vows

AVON TOWNSHIP — Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, was the setting for the noon wedding Saturday of Patricia Ann Parker and David Michael Flynn.

Rev. Michael O'Hara read the vows. Daughter of the William R. Parkers, 3065 Crooks Road, the bride wore pencil-slim sheath of peau de soie. It was fashioned with a front lace panel, oval neckline and bonnet over-ear skirt with a double bow in back.

A matching Dior rose held her bubble veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Carol Mazurek of East Lansing attended as maid of honor. Assisting his brother as best man was Thomas P. Flynn. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Flynn, 7207 Arrowwood St., Orchard Lake.

The guests were seated by Kenneth Lind of Big Rapids. A luncheon at Devon Gables followed the rites. The newlyweds will reside in Big Rapids where the bridegroom attends Ferris Institute.

U. S. Urging N-Ban Talks

Hope 17-Nation Body
Can Convince Soviets

GENEVA (AP) — The United States asked the 17-nation disarmament conference today to urge the Soviet Union to renew nuclear test-ban talks with Britain and the United States.

Urging the conference to reactivate the three-nation test ban subcommittee, U.S. delegate William C. Foster said:

"In this manner, the nuclear powers represented here can engage in careful and deliberate discussion of the specific issues remaining to be resolved if we are to achieve a test ban treaty."

The Soviet Union has refused to go back to this exclusive grouping, arguing that such talks would bog down in secondary detail. The Russians might, however, honor a request from the whole conference.

It is on details of the inspection procedure that the United States and Britain want to nail down the Russian position.

The Soviet negotiators have refused to tell the West what they understand by on-site inspection unless the western powers first commit themselves to an annual maximum of three such inspections on Soviet territory.

Foster has described this as an unacceptable Russian ultimatum. The western powers have been demanding eight to ten such inspections a year.

Study Shows Murder Hard on NY Wives

NEW YORK (AP) — Facts on murder in New York's five boroughs: it's mainly an indoor crime; it's harder on wives than husbands, and Saturday is the worst day of the week.

Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy released on Monday a "Study of Murder" in the city for 1962, during which 508 homicides occurred.

Some of the findings:

Nine of 10 homicides were solved by police.

Knives or similar weapons were used in 40 per cent of the city's killings, running far ahead of the total for firearms.

Killings most commonly resulted from arguments that erupted into "crimes of passion."

The study showed that Saturday accounted for 110 of the homicides, followed by Friday with 77 and Sunday with 74. May was the worst month, with 56 killings, followed by December with 52.

Thirty-one husbands killed their wives. Ten wives killed their husbands.

Iceland Kicks Out 2 Russians as Spies

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Iceland has ordered two Soviet diplomats out of the country on charges of trying to spy on the U.S. air base here.

The government said the two were exposed by a disillusioned member of the Icelandic Communist party whom they tried to enlist in their ring.

The Soviet embassy denied the charges against second secretary Lev Kisilev and attaché Lev Dimitriev. It called them provocative.

County GOP Committee Slates First Meeting

The 160-member county committee for the Oakland County Republican party will hold the first meeting of its 1963-64 term at 8 p.m. March 7 at Birmingham Community House. GOP County Chairman Charles L. Lyle announced today.

Membership on the committee includes two persons from each city and township in the county and at-large members appointed from each of the six legislative districts in the county.

Chrysler Lays Off 900 at Detroit Auto Plant

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler laid off 900 men at its Jefferson Avenue plant Tuesday in an adjustment of production schedules.

The plant, which makes Dodge, Chrysler and Imperial cars, was closed all of last week to reduce inventories. The plant's present employment is about 4,600.

Downtown Area Faces Big Pigeon Problem

Those pesky pigeons!
A few days ago, our Voice of the People department carried an indignant protest from an irate citizen who was sick of the mess. So are we.

The Pontiac Press has the misfortune to be a near neighbor of these pestiferous pests in their new locations. They seem to have adopted the Riker Building and the Presbyterian Church as their official sanctuaries, and the resulting "accumulations" are the current horror of our general neighborhood.

What should the City do?
Isn't it a civic problem?

Sanitary sewers are matters of public weal, and sanitation in general is a trust the communities place on delegated authorities. Is this any different?

If it is, and it places the problem on those afflicted, The Press recommends extermination measures, whatever they may be. One of our editors recalls a visit to Cincinnati a few years ago when he observed a few shotgun experts on the roof of a building adjoining his hotel in the early hours of the morning. They were really "mowing 'em down." He checked with hotel authorities and was advised that this was approved by the city, as the birds had become a menace.

They're a menace here.
In plain words, sidewalks around these two buildings are filthy, indecent and a hazard to health.

Is this a civic matter?

We Nominate Powell for Far Planet Job

Keeping up with the times is not easy, but when changes are needed, we stand ready to alter a previous position.

Recognizing true ability, we've decided to change our nomination for the first man to plant the U. S. flag on another planet.

New York Democratic Congressman Adam Clayton Powell is obviously the man.

Note that we don't say he should be the first man on the moon. The moon is much too close — 210,000 miles. He might even finance the necessary rocket himself, complete with "secretries," which would put some of the money he owes on back taxes or has spent on wild junkets, back into the government strongbox.

Perhaps President KENNEDY will support our nomination. He said at a recent news conference, "Congressman POWELL has proved in his life that he is well able to take care of himself."

Red Tape Breaks Up Positive Connection

How are we going to be first to the moon when educators continue to obstruct basic research?

Enterprising electrical engineering students at the University of Miami devised a kissometer, a gadget to measure the power of a kiss. Men and women students were holding an electrically charged probe and completing the circuit with a kiss.

Depending on the electric strength of the buss, the machine would either flash a "dead fish" sign, or ring bells and flash lights for the potent ones. The participants were obviously getting a charge out of it, but secular academicians tut-tutted about the shocking situation.

They blew a fuse and issued a degree to the brains who had sparked the whole idea: Complete future circuits by holding hands.

The whole idea just sort of shorted out after that.

Local Group Thrilled by Its Orphan Protege

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

A fine hands-across-the-sea project came to fruition recently when members of the Delta Alpha Class of the First Baptist Bible School saw and heard the Korean orphan

Kwon Oh Suk whom they have been supporting in a Pusan orphanage for ten years.

The occasion was the appearance at Ford Auditorium of the Korean Orphan Chorus of 34, accompanied by 10 adults, which is on a worldwide tour. The singers range in age from eight to 15 years.

The expense of the tour is underwritten by World Vision, Inc., a Los Angeles-based organization that has undertaken the establishment and support of some 200 orphanages around the world. Aid for this humanitarian project comes mainly from the United States and Canada.

A tender spotlight on the young singers is that they learn and sing clearly the words of the national songs of the visited countries without understanding the meaning.

Heading the local church group as president is Mrs. Thomas V. Racine of 116 Auburn Ave., while the treasurer is Mrs. Arthur B. Cote of 98 S. Tilden St. Lookers after the paper work and financial details in carrying on the distant philanthropy.

Karen Marie Fuller of 196 Mechanic St., 11-year-old St. Fredrick School student, believes in going to the top in whatever she undertakes.

When her class took up letter writing with requirement that letters be written to chosen addressees, to whom do you think she wrote. . . . Yep, you're right—no less than President John F. Kennedy.

The young lady told what a good president he is, and told a pretty wife he has—guess our student is majoring in political science!—sent a picture of herself and three brothers, and suggested one in return.

In due course came a warm and friendly reply from the White House accompanied by a photograph of the occupant thereof.

Any time the MAT has a particularly delicate bit of correspondence to engineer, he'll know whom to call upon.

An ancestral eye-opener comes from Fred Dowling

His grandmother was 42 years old when his mother was born, and she in turn was 42 when he was born.

Since George Washington died in 1799, it means that three generations have spanned the living Father of Our Country till the present . . . an arresting indication of the youth of our nation.

My West Coast scout reports that John Scripps newspapers'

Harry Green after returning home from a visit with his daughter in Pine Bluff, Ark., received a saucy letter from her that a lengthy call to Pontiac, Mich., had been charged to her phone during his stay.

The innocent parent was dumbfounded, but the mystery was soon solved. His 14-month-old granddaughter, playing with the phone, had succeeded in dialing a local mortuary direct.

From a good friend in Wall Lake comes a philosophic bit that caught her fancy: "Yesterday is a canceled check. . . . Tomorrow is a promissory note. . . . Today is cash—spend it wisely."

Tough On The Referee

David Lawrence Says:

Russia Threatens War; U.S. Silent

WASHINGTON — Tens of millions of dollars are appropriated annually to get America's story before the court of world opinion. Yet, when a golden opportunity comes to put the Moscow aggressor on the spot, it is deliberately ignored.

The defense minister of the Soviet government, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, made a startling speech last Friday to an audience of 6,000 in the Kremlin palace. Seated beside him, nodding approval, was Premier Khrushchev. Malinovsky said: "We would like to warn the aggressive circles of the United States that an attack on the Cuban republic would mean a third world war."

But who sent into Cuba those offensive missiles and weapons. . . . Together with at least 17,000 troops and technicians? No satisfactory explanation of the presence of this hostile armament and forces to operate it has been made by Moscow.

Should the American government continue to remain silent, or should it present the facts comprehensively to the world and formally accuse the Soviet government of a threatened aggression against the United States and the other countries of the Western Hemisphere?

Does the latest Soviet declaration mean that the United States must give up all plans to take any action against Cuba, even when American lives and property may be endangered, or when evidence is uncovered that Cuba is being used as a base to export guerrillas and arms to other Latin American countries to start revolutions there?

A direct threat now has been made by the Soviet government that it plans to engage in a world war even if the United States seeks merely to protect its own interests in this hemisphere.

World opinion could certainly be mobilized by a statement of all the facts showing such a dangerous step toward aggression was taken only a few months ago by the Soviet Union when its missiles were sent to Cuba.

The U.S. Information Agency, which has the task of distributing America's story throughout the world, can hardly be blamed. It is told what to say by the President or by the secretary of state.

If the official word is to ignore a speech such as Mr. Malinovsky made, the USA will remain muzzled.

The mystery is why nothing has been said in rebuttal by any high official in the government here. President Kennedy was at Palm Beach over the weekend, but he must have read the news dispatches.

He could have set in motion the whole process of reply making.

Why wasn't anything said or done here? The only conclusion is that maybe the Adlai Stevenson philosophy still prevails. He said the other day in a speech in Chicago that he would not be surprised if Mr. Khrushchev ultimately removes his troops from Cuba as promised "unless we make it too embarrassing for him to back down again."

But the embarrassment is one-sided. While fear of offending the sensibilities of the men in the Kremlin seems to be part of the reasoning in Washington, no such fear of offending the United States appears to bother the Moscow government.

The Soviets have given the world a dramatic example of potential aggression. Maybe it was considered tactful to keep quiet about this for a few weeks during the crisis last October, but now that the Soviet government through an official spokesman, the minister of defense, has voiced a threat of a third world war, it is difficult to understand why the government here need remain silent.

Bob Considine Says:

Lenten Denial Paves Way to Amazing Discoveries

NEW YORK—More good resolutions will be made today in the United States and Christendom at large than were made last New Year's Day. The odds are that more will be kept, too.

Ash Wednesday is the hallowed launching pad for 40 week days of various restrictions placed on Christians.

They pertain generally to fasting, abstinence from meat and the somewhat undefined matter of "penance."

I gave up smoking for Lent, 10 years and 20 pounds ago.

It was tough for the first few days, but then I made the stunning discovery that there are many things a person can do without popping a cigarette in his mouth.

I could even write a piece for the newspapers without lighting up after typing out my by-line.

The big test came after breakfast on Easter Sunday. I don't recall many greater delights than a smoke after a breakfast coffee.

All systems sounded off like air raid sirens as the last of the coffee went down the hatch. During the previous weeks of Lent I had lost that basic craving for it, but now the systems were saying "Lent's over, slob, have yourself a ball."

I got by until lunch, beat it back again, got by again at dinner, too, and haven't smoked since.

I still miss it, and find myself tending to stand closer to people who are smoking than people who are not.

Some of the bravest but most forlorn observers of Lent are those who have given up "the sauce" for the duration but whose way of life or nature of work throw them into the old familiar swing of Bloody Mary before lunch and a pot of martinis before dinner.

You see them, white-faced and withdrawn, at bibulous business luncheons, and standing dismayed in the din and fury of the typical New York cocktail party.

They never knew until stricken with sobriety just how noisy cocktail parties are, or how incoherent and basically senseless. They never knew how homely some of their friends and relatives are, unless observed through the blue haze of smoke and alcohol.

They never realized how much the average cocktail party story is in need of a good editor's blue pencil.

Good luck.

Journal Dies
Time Magazine

The odds against a newborn daily newspaper's surviving infancy are astronomical. In Phoenix, Ariz., those long odds overtook the nation's youngest metropolitan daily, the Arizona Journal. Scant weeks short of its first birthday, the Journal found itself out of print, out of money, heavily in debt, and laid out for burial. About all that kept the infant paper out of the grave was a flicker of outside interest.

The Journal's quickest march to disaster provided one more lesson in the brutal economics of daily journalism. Before starting the new paper, Publisher (and sometime Arizona attorney general) Robert Morrison, 53, raised $1.5 million. But merely getting the paper off the ground took all but $100,000 of that.

By the time the paper produced its first issue—which came out eight hours late—the Journal was already suffering from malnutrition. Eugene Pulliam, whose two conservative dailies, the Phoenix and the Salt Lake Tribune, are owned by Morrison, dropped to 20,000. Ad accounts evaporated.

Toward the end, the paper was losing $50,000 a month, and the toll was so high that Morrison borrowed money from his own loyal staffers—many of whom have not been paid since mid-December. The Journal's presses

Voice of the People:

Important for U.S., Canada to Keep on Friendly Terms

I agree completely with the editorial in The Press with reference to our position with the Canadians. I drive a truck through Canada and I'm talking with them all the time.

They don't cheer for Diefenbaker and they feel very friendly toward the United States. Most Canadians have the same impression of the two countries that the editorial expressed: two nations that think alike, act alike and have the same ideals. The Prime Minister was never in touch with the great masses.

Their one complaint is the differential in the currency and I agree with them. These two nations ought to exchange evenly for ever. Canada is a great country. Make no mistake about that.

State Constitution Is Popular Topic

I disagree with Romney on the apportionment provisions of the proposed new state constitution. If Mr. Romney followed his own advice to contrast the constitution with the facts, he would vote against it.

Look at those in control of the Michigan Legislature. The speaker of the House was born in Caro, 1960 population, 3,534; resides in Kingston, 1960 population, 456; occupation, "beef farmer."

The Chairman of the House Tax Committee was born in Hanover, 1960 population, 449; now lives in Horton, 1960 population, 300; occupation, "farmer." The occupation of 22 out of the 56 Representative representatives is "farmer." Imagine, 40 per cent in a state where heavy industry is predominant and where farms employ only 5.1 per cent of our workers.

Take Gov. Romney's advice—learn what is in the proposed constitution.

Independent

The Pontiac Press editorial on the proposed new constitution was a new approach to the many issues with which our good state will be confronted in the future. The Press is to be commended.

Perhaps some of the nitwits who canceled their subscriptions because The Press carries David Lawrence's column might reconsider. I don't agree with everything Mr. Lawrence writes, but we are still in America.

Keep up the good work. It has resulted in a superior editorial column.

Having read the proposed new state constitution, I feel we can't help but gain in the end. We must recognize that all things change. Our present constitution set down before the Civil War.

It stands now as it did then with the exception that we have had 89 amendments in 53 years. This alone points to our reason for change.

People concerned in this spent 273 days in debate and compromise to get us in accord with the present. We must get behind these staunch and dedicated persons. Vote "yes" on our new constitution. Granted there are faults in it, but for each fault we will gain by two.

'Saboteur to Blame for Missile Defects'

Congressman Gordon Scherer, Ohio, a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee, wrote an article for the American Legion magazine in which he said: "I am convinced that not all of the failures in our missile launchings are due to oversights by our scientists and technicians. I listened to witnesses under oath charge that defects found in a highly complex weapon resulted from sabotage in a plant where Communist activity is under investigation."

This would be sabotage by a single individual.

Today is Wednesday, Feb. 27, the 58th day of 1963 with 307 to follow.

The moon is approaching first quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Mars.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1860, Abraham Lincoln made his first speech in the East, and spoke on slavery.

In 1932, scientists were agog over the announcement that a British scientist discovered the neutron.

In 1939, the U.S. Supreme Court outlawed "sit-down strikes."

In 1942, the Battle of the Java Sea began. It was won ultimately by the Japanese, who sank 13 warships compared to a loss of two in their navy.

A thought for the day—Abraham Lincoln said: "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by its extreme of wickedness or folly, can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years."

Quite a Budget
The Tulsa World

The new national budget is a dandy, and it seems like hardly anything has been left out of same, except maybe new post offices for towns which went Republican.

Chilling Overtones
The San Diego Union

Red China pursues its relentless way. There must be more to meet the eye in the so-called ideological quarrel between the Chinese variety of communism and the Soviet Union version.

Red China is following a present course, antagonizing the Soviet Union with purpose and force. There can only be one answer: Red China intends to organize the Fourth Communist International. This will have chilling overtones. A Communist International dedicated to achieving the goals of communism by force and violence, if necessary, will plunge the nations of the West, the new emerging countries of Africa, and the disturbed peoples of Latin America, into bitter social ferment.

Red China will not war on the Soviet Union. The leaders of Red China have the obvious hope of forcing the Soviet Union to follow their leadership and abandon the more cautious policy now being followed by the Kremlin in fear of United States nuclear power.

Red China pours more propaganda into Latin America than Russia. Its advance agents are in Cuba and in Africa as well as Asia. They preach hate and violence, and action now. Russia may have no choice but to go along. To turn away would be surrender.

The fact that the leaders of communism in China have turned on the leaders of communism in the Soviet Union is no different than the Russians turning on each other. Some of them may not survive, but communism will survive, hardened and more dedicated than ever.

Mail-Order Peace Corps Well Used Abroad

By LEI FERICKSON

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—"How could we make it for ourselves?" asked nurse Ada Yarnall, writing from Kenia in the new West African republic of Mali.

Miss Yarnall asked precisely the kind of questions and described exactly the kind of problems DATA International was created to solve.

Nurse Yarnall wanted to know how to make oil of cloves for treating children's earaches and toothaches and sulphur ointment for scabies sores.

She also asked: Could she possibly compound from her region's native crops a baby cereal to combat the infant malnutrition everywhere evident among the district's children?

The answers Miss Yarnall needed were produced promptly by DATA International, a big-sounding computer-age name for a simple idea conceived by Will Rose, 31, a wounded Marine veteran of the Korean War.

The idea: Americans overseas constantly see fellow humans baffled by problems long ago overcome by American ingenuity.

Let Americans overseas report the problems they see to an exchange office that can transmit the problems to Americans at home who know the solutions.

MAIL-ORDER PEACE CORPS

The answers delivered by letter and diagrams show and tell the people in remote countries how to lick their problems by what they can do themselves.

The mail-order peace corps which Rose started in 1958 now enrolls 2,000 problem hunters in 108 countries and 1,000 volunteer consultants at home, ready and willing to deliver the solutions without charge.

DATA International has a budget of $60,000 a year, supplied by private donations. Aside from seven paid staff members in its headquarters at 437 California Avenue, Palo Alto, DATA's biggest expense item is airmail postage.

Rose, born on an East Townsend, Ohio, farm, and trained in communications engineering and photography, brought back his problem-solving exchange idea from a documentary film assignment which took him through Europe and the Near East. The

Army to Shift Troops From Oxford Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army notified Rep. Arthur Winstead, D-Miss., yesterday it is moving its troops out of the Oxford, Miss., army to other quarters in the area.

Troops have been stationed in the army since the riots at the University of Mississippi, last fall when Negro James Meredith was admitted to the University under court order.

Winstead said he was advised that the troops would move to some federal-owned agricultural lands in the area. He said he also was told the number of troops would be reduced slightly. About 300 are now at Oxford.

Princess Has Influenza

LONDON (AP)—A press spokesman for Princess Margaret said yesterday she has a mild case of influenza and is confined to her apartment at Kensington Palace.

film was a Los Angeles State College project.

"Everywhere I went Americans asked me if I knew about such-and-such, so they could help their new neighbors," Rose explained.

"They knew that somewhere back home there were answers to the problems they saw, but they didn't know exactly where.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG MAN

"All they needed was a clearing house, and that's what we are."

DATA's steadily growing export volume of practical person-to-person help around the world won California Junior Chamber of Commerce recognition for Rose last year as one of the state's five outstanding young men.

Letters from Mali, Madagascar, the Congo, the Philippines, and almost anywhere give clear testimony to the impact of DATA's problem-solving services.

Father Roland Bernier of the Mission Catholique at Antananarivo, Madagascar, sent a million thanks for suggestions on bridging a flood-scarred creek.

"The people here are very much impressed by all the work you have been doing for them," the mission priest wrote. "If a poll were taken here on American popularity and goodwill, I am sure it would hit 100 per cent."

Nurse Yarnall, expressing her thanks for the baby cereal recipes supplied by a team of nutrition experts, reported from her Mali mission: "We take in orphan babies who would otherwise die, and try to feed them as much as possible from native products."

"I am including a picture of five of our babies who would be dead if we had not been able to give them shelter."

Miss Yarnall's request for directions on preparing oil of cloves had been simple to handle. A DATA staff worker walked across the street to the drug store. The pharmacist wrote down the recipe.

SPINNING WHEELS

Finding old-fashioned spinning wheels for Dorothy Rees in the Congo reached all the way to Gujarat University in Ahmedabad, India.

John Dillon was the DATA consultant able to suggest the Gujarat school as a spinning wheel source.

The Gujarat registrar assured he could locate plenty of them.

The overseas problem hunters have called on DATA for ideas on controlling bats raiding guava groves in Mozambique.

Rat infestation is a widespread problem reported from India, Tanganyika, Japan, and several other countries.

Philippines rice farmers wanted a weeding tool and a design for a simple-to-build grain sorter.

DATA's load of incoming problems now has reached about 100 a month.

Rose is convinced that DATA International's way of doing good for others avoids the resentment and contempt sometimes aroused against do-gooders.

"People want to help themselves," Rose declared. "They resent people coming to improve their lot."

Rose advises Americans overseas: "Look for problems. That is the key. A man who has a problem is ready and willing to receive answers to his questions."

"Get him to ask."

State Measure Seems Sure to Pass

Real Estate Bill Forbids Discrimination

LANSING (AP) — An "open occupancy" bill which would forbid discrimination by real estate brokers has been filed in the State Senate.

With bipartisan sponsorship and the backing of Gov. George Romney, the measure is believed by most observers to have a good chance of passage. The bill was filed yesterday, just one day before the legislative deadline for the introduction of bills, by Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge.

Declaring that the state cannot dictate to a home owner as to whom he can or must sell his property, Fitzgerald said that nevertheless the state can lay down ground rules regulating the activities of those who control the housing market to a large extent.

In a message to the Legislature larging passage of the bill, Romney said:

"It is my basic personal conviction that the cause of sound human relations and elimination of human injustice is best served by a policy of open occupancy."

Explaining the bill, Fitzgerald said it would prohibit brokers and their salesmen from encouraging, suggesting or recommending discrimination on race, religion, color or national origin and from agreeing among themselves to discriminate.

STOP PANIC SELLING

"It is designed to stop panic selling based on prejudice and requires brokers to present any offer they receive, thus placing any discrimination which may occur directly on the individual property owner," Fitzgerald added.

"In the name of justice, equality and what is right, I join with Gov. Romney in hoping that the legislature will give the open occupancy bill prompt consideration."

The measure is designed to take the place of the recently overturned "rule 9" of the Corporation and Securities Commission. The rule was thrown out, 7-0 by the State Supreme Court, which said the commission exceeded its authority in banning discrimination by real estate dealers.

Romney said that despite the defects of "Rule 9," its basic objective was sound.

"In framing legislation," he said, "we have tried to accomplish this objective effectively, but without imposing discriminatory or improper burdens on brokers and without infringing on personal property rights."

Romney Names Trio to State Fair Unit

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has named three Detroit businessmen to the Michigan State Fair Authority, which governs operations of the State Fair in Detroit.

Named were Alfred Glancy Jr. of Grosse Pointe Shores, Detroit financier; Adam Ostrowski of Hamtramck, Detroit real estate broker, and Albert Chennault, also a Detroit real estate broker. All were named for four-year terms expiring in 1966 and require Senate confirmation. Romney previously named two appointees to the 20-member authority. One vacancy on the authority is yet to be filled by the governor.

Approve School Millage

PAW PAW (AP) — Paw Paw School District residents approved yesterday a requested millage increase to cover school operating costs. The proposal, which passed 55-27, sought 5.5 mills for three years.

House Raises Ceiling on Small Loan Rates

LANSING (AP) — Supporters of a higher ceiling and revamped interest rates on small loans let the opposition have its say in the House yesterday, and then rammed their proposed bill through by an emphatic 84-20 margin.

The vote ended five days of off-and-on debate over the bipartisan bill which would increase the legal limit on loans by finance companies from $500 to $1,500 and set up a new scale of interest rates.

Opponents of the controversial measure fought to postpone action by introducing a series of 16 amendments that would have compromised the increases, but in the end the bill went to the Senate without change.

Fifteen Democrats and five Republicans voted against it.

The bill is similar to one which former Gov. John Swainson ve-lowers in the long run by enabling them to get more money at a lower interest rate than if they take out three $500 loans from three different companies.

They say the interest rates, under the revision, would be lower for all loans except those between $400 to $500, the most frequently borrowed range.

The measure, in addition to providing a higher ceiling and new interest rates, would enable finance companies to sell or act as agents to offer credit life insurance to borrowers.

Few words were spoken in defense of the bill on the House floor yesterday because its supporters knew they had more than enough votes for passage, and were content to wait out the vocal opposition.

Ashes Placed on Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII had his forehead marked with ashes today in sign of humility and penance, as did millions of Roman Catholics throughout the world on this Ash Wednesday.

REMOVAL ORDERED — Justice Louis J. Friedman of the New York Supreme Court was ordered removed from office yesterday by the state's Court on the Judiciary for withholding records of his lawyer brother during an inquiry into ambulance chasing in New York City.

Fiscal Whittler Could Save Taxpayers Billions

Reform Ticket Tops Primary in Kansas City

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON —To cut, or not to cut; that is the question now absorbing the greater and lesser minds in Congress.

Like all Gaul, the lawmakers are divided into three parts: those who want a quick tax cut, period; those who want a tax cut only if government expenditures are similarly reduced; and those who see no justification for a cut while the public debt is constantly soaring.

The Council of State Chambers of Commerce, seeing eyeball to eyeball with the middle group

RUTH MONTGOMERY has released an itemized account suggesting where Congress could cut $5.8 billion from the upcoming budget.

Without giving blanket endorsement to the C. of C. proposals, we would like to present our own list of governmental extravagances without which we could still struggle along.

First, the Government Printing Office publishes millions of booklets under 25,000 different titles. The Agriculture Department is probably the slap-happiest of the booklet-issuers, and the few pennies charged for the tomes by no means cover the taxpayers' cost.

Among some current titles are "Isleta Paintings," "Hamster Raising," "How to Tailor a Woman's suit" and "The Lithographs of Childre Hassam."

Another governmental branch which seems to render itself superfluous is the Weather Bureau. Here at national headquarters, it seems unable after more than a hundred years even to call a correct shot for Washington.

Last Sunday's heavy snowfall was a typical case in point. The forecast said cloudy and warmer, only a few hours before a so-called gulf storm blanketed the Midwest, East and New England with two to six inches of the white stuff.

Until 1913 there was no Labor Department. Nowadays, despite its 9,000 employees and $700 million budget, its good offices seem unable to settle newspaper strikes that have blacked out New York and Cleveland for months, or to prevent wildcat strikes which jeopardize our space program.

BEHIND VEIL OF SECRECY
The administration requested and received a large increase for Secret Service operations this year.

Now a corps of agents is guarding Virginia's Rattlesnake Mountain on a 24-hour basis, although the presidential family will not move into the private house they are building there until April.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy's rented estate at Glen Ora also gets the round-the-clock treatment, as do the White House, Camp David, Palm Beach, and other sometimes presidential haunts.

Democratic Sen. Harrison Williams (D-N.J.), has pointed a way to make a new domestic peace corps unnecessary.

Sacrificing his holiday, the senator and some of his staff worked all day at Gum Springs near Mount Vernon, to clean up a down-trodden community whose occupants were faced with eviction.

This seems a more appealing outlet for surplus energy than accepting the President's challenge to hike fifty miles.

Since Williams seems to be the only senator who has accomplished anything since the start of the 86th Congress, we might give consideration to abolishing the Upper Chamber.

In its seven weeks of existence it has yet to engage in anything more productive than organizational fights.

FOREIGN AID . . . U.N.

We could pick up another two to three billion dollar saving by paying heed to investigators of our foreign aid program.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and three other senators, after an on-the-spot inspection of Southeast Asia, have issued a bipartisan report declaring that the five billion aid dollars poured into that area since 1950 have been wasted.

While reassessing foreign aid we could also take a new hard look at the United Nations, and question whether we should hereafter pay more than our per capita share of its operation.

Since we are more deeply in debt than any other nation in history, should be continue to pick up a third of the U.N. cost while 110 other nations share the remainder?

The administration claims that its tax reform program will help to offset the "planned deficit" of a tax cut, but GOP Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., has coined a tongue-in-cheek rallying cry: "The loophole you plug may be your own."

State Senator Takes Chair

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Pat McNamara, D-Mich., of the Senate Public Works Committee yesterday assumed the chairmanship of the group's subcommittee on flood control and rivers and harbors.

This is the subcommittee which handles bills to authorize water projects. In recent years, the subcommittee was headed by Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okla., who died Jan. 1.

It trounced an old foe and found a new one, a surprisingly strong Republican-oriented organization.

Democrat Ilus W. Davis, the association's candidate for mayor, led the ticket.

The runnerup was Dutton Brookfield, a Republican industrialist who sparked a revolt against the Citizens Association last month, charging it was dominated by Democrats and no longer bipartisan.

Two-term Mayor H. Roe Bartle, candidate of the Democratic coalition, was a poor third. Two independents trailed far behind. With all but 14 of 428 precincts reported, Davis had 28,534 votes; Brookfield 20,410 and Bartle 15,712.

Brookfield's total was a stunning surprise. After the Citizens Association denied him its endorsement for mayor, he organized the Independent Voters Association. Republicans made up most of his slate for the city council and they had official GOP endorsement, normally a liability in Democratic Kansas City.

Author, Boating Buff Succumbs at Age of 64

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur L. McCaffrey, author and boating enthusiast, died yesterday at the age of 64.

McCaffrey wrote radio scripts, magazine short stories and books, including "Cape Cod on the Subway," a story about boating.

He was educated at the University of Wisconsin, the University of Michigan and DePaul University.

French Cabaret Theme to Spark Spring Affair

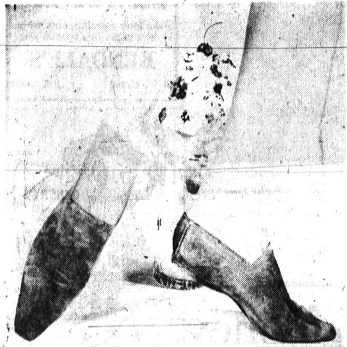

The women of Oakland Hills Country Club have selected a French cabaret theme for their opening spring affair March 8.

An evening of dining and dancing will follow an 8 p.m. showing of the latest spring and resort wear.

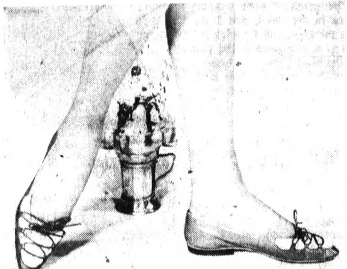

The music of Bert Dierkiss and his "Parisienne Trio" will accompany the models' promenade. Club member models are Mrs. Vincent Van Fleet, Mrs. William J. Wink, Mrs. N. J. Rakas, Mrs. F. J. Sehn and Mrs. John J. Ahern. Others are Mrs. Richard C. Oglesby, Mrs. William A. Prew, Mrs. Wesley J. Bearden, Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl Jr. and Mrs. John G. Piccu.

Working with chairman Mrs. Jesse P. Judd and her assistant Mrs. Jack J. Rinehart are Mrs. John E. Gray, Mrs. Robert M. Hodgson, Mrs. Kirk Horigan, Mrs. Neil K. Barber, Mrs. Orva B. Crego, Mrs. Steve L. Goodale Jr., Mrs. Avery G. Cameron, Mrs. John K. Martin and Mrs. Richard O. Reck.

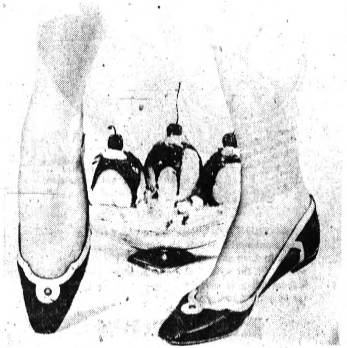

The gauntlet... a very new concept in footwear. It truly fits the foot and hugs it just like a glove. Made in unlined suede with a pancake accent to sportswear and so light to float around in.

The classic ghillie raring to go for spring in beautiful pastel kidskin, accented in white. Very new fashion note... the gentle arc too.

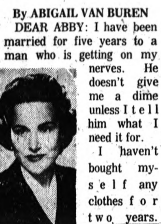

Capzio cradles the toe and gently opens the shank of this natural-shaped pump in butter suede with saccato trim in black patent leather... sitting pretty on a geometric shaped heel.

A most tempting little skitter by Capzio... in kidskin with side cutout and edged in contrasting color.

Husband Acts Peculiarly

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have been married for five years to a man who is getting on my nerves. He doesn't give me a dime unless I tell him what I need it for. I haven't bought myself any clothes for two years.

ABBY He says I don't need anything. If he wants something, he buys it. I don't know what he earns as I've never seen his pay check. He takes me to the local drive-in movie three times a year. That's my entertainment.

He has an ugly temper and when he gets mad he kicks everything in sight. He won't leave the house without sun-tan lotion on his face and dark glasses. Winter and summer? Is something wrong with him? Do you think he's dangerous?

SICK OF IT ALL
DEAR SICK: He is certainly peculiar, and could be dangerous. Ask your clergyman to help you get him to a doctor. And do it now.

DEAR ABBY: Our son is 16. He is constantly going up to his room and looking across into the neighbor's window where two teen-aged girls have their bedrooms. I told my husband, and he said it was "natural." I don't think so, do you?

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: Curiosity is natural, but this is bordering on the mischievous, if not pathological. Tell your son to cut out the peeping, and peep on him until you are sure he has.

MRS. LENNAH K. BACKUS

Federation Will Meet in Royal Oak

Oakland County Federation of Women's Club will meet in the Oak Ridge Woman's Club house in Royal Oak Friday.

The principal speaker will be Mrs. Lennah K. Backus, an associate professor and extension specialist in family life at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Backus, a former high school teacher, is also a past state president of the Michigan Child Study Association. Preceding Mrs. Backus will be a 10 a.m. coffee time with the business meeting and election of officers at 10:30.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my husband and I were invited to a sit-down dinner at the home of an officer of his firm. Everyone there was connected with the company. (Mostly executives and their wives.)

One man came without his wife, so I asked my hostess if the absent wife were ill or out of town. She whispered that she didn't invite the wife because she had place settings in china and silver for only 12 and didn't want to spoil her table with an odd place setting.

This hostess is a college graduate and supposedly intelligent. Did her reasoning make sense to you?

FLABBERGASTED

DEAR FLABBERGASTED: An odd place setting probably would not have been noticed. And if it had, no one would have cared. If the hostess actually excluded the man's wife for that reason, SHE is odder than the place setting.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MARYANN: Your skirt should be short enough to show you're a woman — and long enough to show you're a lady.

Today when the Christian world pauses to mark the beginning of the Lenten season, roses are a fitting symbol. They hold promise that spring is near at hand and the earth will soon come alive to produce flowers such as these scarlet-orange Florida tea roses.

Area Residents Back Concerts

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It was evident that residents of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area supported the benefit concerts at the Ford auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Werner Torkanowsky performed to an appreciative audience.

Friday evening was a benefit for the Detroit Adventure Series and Saturday evening was a benefit for the Oakland University scholarship fund.

Among those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Lynn A. Townsend, (Mr. Townsend was chairman for the Detroit Adventure Series benefit), Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Vanderkloot, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard T. Lewis, Dr. and Mrs. Warren B. Cooksey.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Hollister Mabley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. James

M. Booth with daughters, Ginger and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Stanford G. Stoddard and Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Johnson.

Mesdames: Robert N. Green, Teruko Yamasaki, F. C. Reith, June Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Varner, Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Colbert, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kyes, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Kiefer and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Guenther.

Boy Scout Volunteer Recognized by UF

For outstanding service to the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, the Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund has selected Harold B. Wright as Volunteer of the Month.

Currently serving as Pontiac district committee chairman, Mr. Wright supervises an area comparable to the Pontiac school district.

His committee is responsible for health, safety, finance, organization and extension, training, camping and public relations programs. In all, some 250 volunteers carry out this work.

Mr. Wright's long association with scouting began as a Boy Scout in South Lyon. In 1929 he became a committee chairman and spent four years as vice district chairman.

He was awarded the Silver Beaver Award in 1959 for "distinguished service to boyhood." This is the highest recognition a council can present to a volunteer scout leader.

Active on the Pontiac district committee since 1959, Mr. Wright has also served as district camping and activities chairman and spent four years as vice district chairman.

He enjoys fishing and hunting, but finds little time for hobbies.

"Maybe when I retire," he says.

He has been a letter carrier for the Post Office Department for 23 years. He and his wife live at East Huron Street. They have three grandchildren and a daughter, Mrs. James Schlink, also lives in Pontiac.

What brings all this about is the fact I've been cleaning out a closet of clothes and thinking in terms of what will go on into the future. Some of the contents I'm tempted to send back to you, because it's partly your fault they're just garments hanging there, not getting any wearing. Yes, partly mine, I'll admit, for falling for them — especially in view of all the fashion shows I've seen through the years. By now, I should be able to eliminate the duds before I say, "charge it" to the salesgirl.

OTHERS SMARTER I'd say take back your mink, like in the popular song, if I had one. But you can have back that sable-collared "walking suit" which I thought was a real bargain because it had gone through several markdowns in the dress shop. Now I know that some other women shoppers were smarter than I.

The suit is too heavy for our occasional mild winter days and not heavy enough for the cold ones. And just try tucking a sable-collared suit beneath a coat.

Take back your sleeveless dresses for winter. I bought one in a handsome double-knit wool jersey. It's been hanging more than office-going ever since the boss took one look at bared arms on one of the more frigid days and commented, "My Lord, it makes me cold just to look at you!"

IS THAT the kind of reaction a dress should draw from a male?

Along with his district work, Mr. Wright serves as a committeeman and institutional representative of Troop No. 5 at the First Congregational Church. This troop has served three generations of Pontiac boys.

What keeps Mr. Wright interested? "With such a need for volunteers in all phases of Scout work, I just kept working," he said.

"The program is a tremendous challenge in our society and I enjoy being a part of it."

His son, Bernard, now with the Missionary Alliance to Africa, Republic of Guinea, attained the rank of Eagle Scout in 1954.

"Right now," Mr. Wright said, "there is a need for developing Explorer groups for boys 14 years or older. I would like to see interest and leadership in Explorer programs that may stimulate future careers."

In addition to his scouting work, Mr. Wright is a member and past president of the Metropolitan Club, assistant secretary for the National Association of Letter Carriers, president of the Post Masters Club and member of the First Congregational Church and choir.

Hear Talks by Exchange Students

Three exchange students, Antigoni Karali of Greece, Gustavo Valadeo of Brazil and Cathy LaCore, a student from the United States to Norway, spoke to members of Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority Monday evening at the Saint's Episcopal Church.

Each student talked about the history and social conditions of the country with which he is familiar.

Mrs. Maynard Peters was in charge of the program, with Mrs. Elra Amidon, Clarabelle Amidon, Mrs. W. T. Humley and Mrs. William J. Christie assisting with refreshments.

Guests included Harold Diekmann, Albert Kohn, William J. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson and Mrs. Ralph Beebe.

ADK Gets Together for Area Meeting

Zeta, Rho, Epsilon, Alpha Lambda and Xi chapters were represented at the Alpha Delta Kappa area council meeting Monday evening.

Representatives met at the Waldron Hotel for dinner and a planning session.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. James V. Oxtoby, with son Wayne, leave this weekend for Tucson, Ariz. They are looking forward to a visit with their daughter Lynn at the Valley School. Lynn will be riding her new horse Coghie for the first time in the horse show at Valley.

From Tucson the Oxtobys will motor to San Francisco visiting friends and especially by Mr. Oxtoby's uncle, Dean Gordon Oxtoby of the San Francisco Presbyterian Theological Seminary.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Glover, N. Cranbrook Road, are at the Bali Cove hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The Howard Hallas of Orchard Lake are in Scottsdale, Ariz., and plan to visit the Fred L. Blacks, formerly of Bloomfield Hills and now residing at Sedona, Ariz.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: At club yesterday, we were all talking about the sleeve being cut on the bias which you wrote about some weeks ago. Everyone asked me to write and ask you if this can be done on any type of fabric." Mrs. J. M. Dear Mrs. J. M.: Sleeves cut on the bias are definitely the exception rather than the rule. If you have a large arm, you might feel that there is a little more ease when the sleeve is cut on the bias, rather than the lengthwise grain, consequently, it would be more comfortable.

This could also be a very attractive decorative detail if you are using checks or plaids.

Simply place the arrow (which indicates the lengthwise grain) on the true bias of your fabric. I would love to hear from you gals who try this, be sure to let me know whether you like it better or not. Thanks.

Mrs. H. G. says: If you have to wash clothes in hard water, there is a neat way to brighten up dull pearl buttons. Soak them in vinegar for three or four hours, then wash them. Occasionally you will have to scrub them with a cleaning pad as well, but they will come out bright and shiny.

Dear Readers: Here's a fun-trick I learned from our top designers collections which I saw a few weeks ago in New York. If your suit has a print bodice and lining for the jacket, make the skirt lining in the same print. It's gay, colorful, unexpected, and adds a courtier touch to your suit.

BUTTONS THEM DOWN

The idea of having to rip a collar on my husband's shirt in order to insert collar stays so the points wouldn't stick up put me in a real dither.

Suddenly an idea popped into my head, so I got busy and made buttonholes in each point of the collar and made button-down collars out of the shirts. It worked fine and now he wears the shirt all of the time.

Dear Eunice: Seems like every time I read anything about construction these days, I see the words "mounting," "under-lining" etc. How is this done, when, and what should we use?"

Mrs. R. W. Dear Mrs. R. W.: Wow! that's a big order, but I'll try a brief outline. Under-lining or mounting means that you have used two layers of fabric as one. The weight of the second piece of fabric would depend on the weight of your fabric as well as the style you are trying to achieve.

We use organza, muslin, all weights of woven type interfacing as well as hair canvas. The more body your garment needs, the heavier the fabric for under-lining.

The trick of using under-lining is getting both of the layers of fabric exactly the same size, otherwise your garment won't look smooth. Please follow each and every step in the order I have shown here.

1. Cut the under-lining the same as your garment, excluding facings.
2. Lay the under-lining fabric on a large flat surface, then lay the garment fabric (right side up) over the under-lining.

- (a) Baste the two pieces of fabric together from corner to corner (diagonally).
- (b) Baste through the center of all darts.
- (c) Last, baste around all the outer edges of each piece. This basting is done by hand, not sewing machine. Your basting will hold better if you will take a back-stitch every few stitches.

You are now ready to proceed with the construction of your garment and you will treat this as if it were only one piece of fabric.

Please let me hear from you, what are your sewing problems? I'll answer them in Sew Simple, using the ones of the most general interest.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out"! The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 30 nutrients.

Essentially balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

Peace of Mind Worthwhile Investment

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I are considering having his mother come to live with us. She is now living with his sister, but the two do not get along well and my husband worries a great deal about the situation.

I'm fond of my mother-in-law and am perfectly willing to have her live with us. But we are having rather a difficult time financially just now, and I'm wondering if we should take on the added expense.

My husband says three can eat as cheaply as two but I know this is true. And it wouldn't involve just food alone, of course. Is there any way I can estimate what our increased expenses would be?

Mrs. Tom P., Indianapolis

Dear Mrs. P.: Before we take up the subject of increased expenses, let me offer this piece of advice: take the plunge. Invite your husband's mother to live with you. Of course three can't eat as cheaply as two. And there will be other expenses.

But what you'll be buying with the extra money you will have to spend is peace of mind for your husband—and appreciation from your mother-in-law. They're a couple of pretty good investments, don't you think? Money should be managed for living and spent where it will provide the most happiness.

Why can't you have a friendly chat with your husband's sister, and give her an opportunity to contribute a modest sum? She might well be happy to take this out. Then start your ingenuity working.

Figure you'll be feeding only about 2½ people, since each person added to living expenses lowers the dollar rate per person. Then cut corners wherever you meet one. There are extra dollars to be found in small economies.

Turn out lights not needed, watch those dripping faucets, walk instead of riding when you can, make family wardrobes last longer by careful storage between seasons.

Put the household on a wash-wear basis—both clothes and furnishings. (When you buy washables, you need fewer items and the upkeep is at a minimum.) Make the most of free entertainment in your community.

If you have to give up something you now enjoy, remember you're exchanging it for love. That's a good trade.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I baby-sit almost every weekend and average from $3.50 to $5. But I never get to enjoy what I earn. My mother thinks I should put it all aside toward college expenses. Do you think this is fair?

Fourteen, Ossining, N.Y.

Dear Fourteen: Actually, no. But your mother understandably is suffering from far-sightedness. The rising costs of a college education are affecting her vision.

As a working girl, you're entitled to the pleasure of spending something of what you make. But be smart and put $3 a week into a savings account toward those college expenses. Then blow the rest with an easy conscience.

If you put $3 a week into a savings bank, earning 3½ per cent compounded quarterly, plus one-quarter per cent on money on de-

Computer Will Eavesdrop on Phone Calls

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — I don't have much use for electronic computers.

I don't understand them, and I have a feeling they don't understand me.

Like, I took a test to find out if I'm creative. It was the kind of a multiple-answer test a computer gives to prospective employees in industry. And you know how it came out? I'm not creative. If they'd had computers 15 years ago, I'd have had to go into riveting.

I especially object to the new electronic computers that are going to manage our future automatic telephone systems. They are nosy, busybody computers who'll check on who I'm calling, and who's calling me, 10 times every second, 24 hours a day.

What's more significant, if nobody calls, those insidious, infallible memory cells will record my unpopularity and remember it forever. That's computative cruelty.

Here's how the phone system will work, according to what I read . . .

In the central telephone office, where nice young and old ladies were wont to sit, too busy to eavesdrop or record a client's wall-flowerdom, there will be located a giant computer.

"Into this office will run the wires from your phone, along with wires from thousands of other phones in your area, and trunk lines from communities all over the country.

'SCANNER' TO HELP

Assisting the computer will be a device of dubious honor called a "scanner." This scanner will check every line in the office to see whether it's in use and feed this electronic gossip to the computer.

The scanner is fast. It doesn't fool around. It takes just one check of a second to check all the thousands of lines; thus, as I pointed out, your line and mine is tested for business or idleness 10 times a second, all day and all night.

When you pick up your telephone to make a call, there'll be no time to pause and reconsider. Within a few millionths of a second, the scanner will be on the ball, pushing you into action: First it checks its memory to see if a change was made when you picked up the phone.

Finding no record of your phone having been in use a second before, it'll check to see if your line is ringing; if it is, your picking up the phone would have been in answer to a ring; if there's no ringing, the system concludes that you picked up the phone because you wanted to make a call. Big deal.

Having reached this conclusion, the computer switches on the dial tone. While you're dialing, it writes your phone number on an electronic "scratch pad" memory circuit. As you finish dialing, it records that number too. Now it really gets frantic . . .

It steps up the number of times your line is being scanned from 10 per second to 100 per second. It will do this with the back of its hand, so to speak, while continuing to scan the thousands of other lines and deciding what action to take in THEIR interests.

Now it whips into more action — sets up the ringing connection on your line, while checking the line you're calling. When someone answers, the "brain" promptly sets up a talking circuit between the two lines.

The computer is so blamed efficient it also checks some 800 important voltages throughout its system, lists them on a teletype and then (presumably when it has one-millionth of a moment) repairs them itself. Just thinking about the process makes me nervous.

The electronic computer is no doubt efficient, but there's something so coldly, maliciously Frankensteinian about them.

When Alexander Graham Bell, 87 years ago, shouted into the first phone, "My God, Watson . . .!", I think maybe he'd had a vision of the future.

FOOT CUT OFF — Surgeons this week attempted to restore the foot of 12-year-old Brian Sayer of Saugus, Mass., after it was severed by the wheel of a moving freight train. Dr. Herbert Goldman of Saugus General Hospital says it will be two weeks before he can tell whether the operation was successful.

Construction Safety Laws Urged in State

LANSING (AP) — Labor representatives urged yesterday that the legislature pass a law to protect construction workers from hazards on the job which can result in death or disability.

Spokesmen for the construction industry generally opposed such legislation, arguing that voluntary education on safety rules is more desirable than compulsory inspection and enforcement.

The testimony came at a joint hearing of the Senate State Affairs and Labor committees just four days after two workmen were killed in a construction accident near Ypsilanti.

Stan Arnold, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, told the hearing that construction workers have been confronted with "a plague of death and injury."

Said Arnold, "There have been 206 deaths over the past five years . . . to say nothing of the 385 permanent or partial disabilities that have been incurred during the same period."

He added that the injury rate for the construction industry is 2½ times the rate for manufacturing.

Arnold said that as long as there are no rules and regulations to be enforced under law, "the construction worker will continue to be among the fatalities in unbelievable numbers."

Mason County Exempt From Sunday Closing

LUDINGTON (AP) — Mason County has joined the ranks of those exempting themselves from provisions of the state's so-called Sunday closing law which takes effect March 28.

The county board of supervisors voted 19-0 yesterday to exercise the exemption option.

A 10-year plan of economic development undertaken by the government of Chile calls for an expansion of 55 per cent in the production of food crops and 69 per cent in livestock by 1970.

What have we done for you lately?

Back in 1931 when Osmun's was new . . . charge accounts weren't.

But until recently there has been virtually no change in the routine: Your charge enabled you to buy a suit or a topcoat without immediately spending a cent of cash. Then, later, when the bill came, you paid. The whole amount. At one time. Today, though, your Osmun's charge can be as flexible as your needs.

Want to pay your bills in full as they fall due? Fine. Prefer to maintain a low monthly charge balance? A higher balance? Be our guest. We want to make your purchasing as easy and practical as possible.

That's why you can rely on Osmun's to continue to offer you the newest services as well as the very cream of America's brand name clothing and accessories . . . like "Botany" 500, Eagle, Petrocelli, Dobbs, French-Shriner, etc.

Incidentally, it only takes 4 minutes to open a convenient Osmun's charge. We can do it in three minutes if you're rushed.

After all, we're flexible, too.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Cigarettes, Lung Cancer Linked in Study

The fact that we can no longer ignore the hazards of cigarette smoking was pointed up by the recent ruling of the U.S. Air Force that free cigarettes would no longer be passed out to patients in Air Force hospitals or included in packaged lunches for personnel going on prolonged flights.

The relationship between smoking and the steady increase in lung cancer has been a holy argument and has not yet been completely settled. Those who say that the real cause of the increase in lung cancer is exhaust fumes from gasoline engines have suffered a real setback.

It has been shown that the incidence of lung cancer has increased with the greater use of cigarettes in several parts of the world where there are few, if any, automobiles.

The correlation between the number of cigarettes smoked per day and the number of years a person has been smoking with the increase in lung cancer is so close that any other explanation would be hard to imagine.

No evidence has yet been produced to show that cigarette smoking is not a major contributing cause of lung cancer. But if this is not enough, let's consider the recent study by Auerbach and Stout.

LUNGS STUDIED

These investigators made microscopic examinations of the lungs of 758 persons who died of diseases other than lung cancer. They proved beyond any doubt that cigarette smoking damaged the cells lining the respiratory tract.

The hair-like cilia, that set up a current propelling mucus along with dust and other foreign matter from the lungs in the direction of the throat, were first weakened then completely destroyed in chronically heavy smokers.

In time this interferes with the lung's ability to supply oxygen to the blood and this adds to the burden on the heart which must then pump more blood to the tissues to bring them enough oxygen.

Cigarette smokers not only had a higher rate of bronchitis than nonsmokers, but also a higher rate of tuberculosis and heart disease. Furthermore, they not only had a higher rate of lung cancer, but also of cancer of the mouth, throat and gullet.

The fact that all these hazards were higher among cigarette smokers than among those who had been heavy smokers but had quit smoking proves that it is never too late to stop.

Much of the early work done on this subject was done in England 10 or 12 years ago and although there was at first much skepticism about the reported results, the acceptance of these results is growing.

In this country, too, more and more doctors are giving up cigarettes. They are doing this for two good reasons: first to help safeguard their own health and second, to let their patients know that they are ready to practice what they preach.

Based on the evidence at hand, I would strongly urge all those, especially those young people who do not smoke, never to start. Those who smoke cigarettes do so entirely from habit, but this is not an addiction like the use of narcotics or the abuse of alcohol.

All that is needed to stop is a real desire to stop and a strong will. There are none of the agonizing withdrawal symptoms felt by a narcotic addict.

Romney Names Judge of Probate in Ingham

LANSING (UPI) — Lansing attorney James T. Kallman, 35, was named yesterday by Gov. George Romney as Ingham County probate judge.

Kallman was appointed to the $14,500-a-year job to replace Robert Drake, who was named recently as deputy administrator for probate courts by the State Supreme Court.

Latin Chief Takes Office

U.S. Vice President at Dominican Ceremony

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—This troubled Caribbean nation's first freely elected president in 38 years takes office today with U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on hand pledging American support.

Arriving for the inauguration of President-elect Juan Bosch, Johnson promised U.S. help in the island republic's "struggle for economic progress and social justice."

"We celebrate with you the rebirth of an authentic democracy," Johnson said.

Bosch, 53-year-old author-politician, easily won the nation's first fully free elections since 1924, coasting to victory by 300,000 votes last December on a campaign promising to help the little man.

MYRIAD PROBLEMS

Bosch takes over economic woes and political challenges from both the extreme left, represented by Communist agitators in nearby Cuba, and right-wing remnants of the toppled Trujillo dictatorship.

Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo ruled the nation with an iron fist for 31 years before his assassination May 30, 1961.

In 1969 hemispheric resentment against the Trujillo regime resulted in a call from the Organization of American States for political and economic sanctions against the Dominican Republic. Washington broke off diplomatic relations. So did most Latin American nations.

The OAS action followed reports of harsh police brutalities in suppressing anti-Trujillo plots and a charge by Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt that Trujillo masterminded an attempt on his life.

Sever Reunited Leg as Circulation Fails

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carleton E. Arnold's right leg, which surgeons tried to reunite, has been removed.

A doctor said Tuesday that attempted rejoining of the leg — severed by a power saw — was not successful because proper blood circulation could not be maintained.

"We were able to maintain the circulation down to the ankle, but the bottom of the sole and the toes had lost their circulation," said Dr. Oscar Camp, a specialist in vascular surgery.

Leaders Call It 'New Reformation'

Many Church Mergers Currently Under Discussion

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK—The newly advanced proposal for merger of Methodists and the Church of England in Great Britain comes in the midst of a worldwide effort to restore Christian unity.

Church leaders have referred to the trend as a "new Reformation," marking a reversal of the long series of denominational divisions.

It has involved every branch of Christendom — Protestant, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic—and emerged as the dominant note of the first session of the Second Vatican Council.

MANY MERGERS

Among Protestants, more than 50 merger negotiations are currently going on in 35 countries.

This was disclosed in a recent survey by the Rev. Patrick C. Rodgers, of Geneva, Switzerland, executive secretary of the Department of Faith and Order of the World Council of Churches.

"There are people all over the world terribly anxious to attain a greater measure of Christian Community," he said in a recent interview.

In the United States, several merger negotiations are now going on, and several have recently been successfully completed.

One series of talks involves the Protestant Episcopal Church (the American wing of British Anglicanism) in a consultation on church union with the Methodist Church and four other denominations.

Initial discussions were held last spring. Another round of talks is scheduled March 17-19 in Oberlin, Ohio.

OTHERS BUSY

Other denominations whose representatives are taking part are the United Presbyterian Church, the Christian Churches Disciples, the United Evangelical Brethren, and the United Church of Christ.

The United Church itself is a recent merger of Congregational Christians and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the first union in this country to combine bodies of different national origins.

The Congregationalist Christians stemmed from the British Pilgrims. The Evangelical and Reformed Church grew out of German Protestantism.

Both of these denominations were results of earlier mergers in the early 1930s.

In two years, eight branches of Lutheranism have united into two large bodies, the Lutheran Church in America and the American Lutheran Church. The United Presbyterian Church represents a recent merger of two branches.

Moves in Britain toward bringing Methodists and the Church of England together would likely have a stimulating effect on closer relations of the two communities in this country.

Methodists and Episcopalians stem from common background. The founder of Methodism, John Wesley, was an Anglican priest, and remained one throughout his life.

In some ways, American Methodism and the Episcopal Church are closer together than are the two bodies in Britain. American Methodists, like Episcopalians, have an Episcopal government with bishops, but Methodists in Britain do not.

The six-denomination unity talks are not the only such discussions going on in this country.

Negotiations on a narrower scale are going on between Disciples and the United Church, between Methodists and Evangelical United Brethren, between the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.

General talks also were launched last year between the Lutheran World Federation and the World Presbyterian Alliance, the first such conversations since the days of reformers John Calvin and Martin Luther in the 16th century. A major world-wide gathering of theologians of all major branches of Protestantism and Eastern Orthodoxy also is slated this summer in Montreal, Canada.

It will be the Fourth World Conference on Faith and Order, aimed at exploring the issues that keep churches apart.

Protestant and Roman Catholic meetings also are mushrooming across the country, in the wake of the spirit generated by the Second Vatican Council and Pope John XXIII's open-armed hospitality toward "my brothers in Christ."

Vehicle Check Clinics Slated for May, June

EAST LANSING — State police will assist again this year in the voluntary National Vehicle Safety Check Program in Michigan, the department reports.

The vehicle inspection clinics, held in May and June, include checks on brakes, lights, steering, turn signals, horn, glass area, windshield wipers, tires, rear-view mirrors and exhaust system.

Pontiac Area Economy Moving at Record Clip

The Pontiac area economy entered the new year at a record-shattering pace.

Pontiac banks started the year by easily topping records that were set and broken three times last year.

Banks recorded well over $102 million in business through customer's checking accounts in January.

The previous all-time high was $101.8 million the month before. In all, debits to customers accounts have now topped the $100 million mark four times in the last six months.

Before last August, the debits to customers' accounts had never reached $100 million.

PAY ROLLS UP

January industrial payrolls showed an increase of nearly $100,000 over the December total. Bu patronage also improved.

Postal receipts took their annual dip but remained well ahead of last year's pace, due largely to an increase in postal rates.

Construction was at a seasonal low, but due to several major jobs, the value of new building was at an unusual high for January.

Permits were issued for $3 million in municipal facilities that are already well toward completion.

Utilities suffered a normal drop in electrical consumption after the Christmas season, but colder weather boosted gas usage by nearly 200 million cubic feet.

BREAKDOWN

Figures indicating business trends for January were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, the Pontiac Post Office, Consumers Power Co.

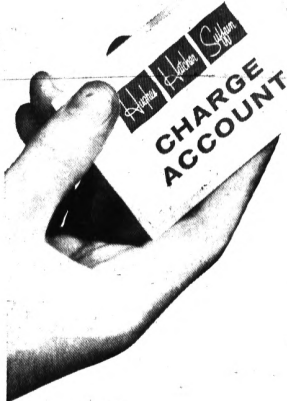

Also Detroit Edison Co., the city water and inspections departments, Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines, and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Old Enemies, Cold and Mud, Plague Army in Oxford, Miss.

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — It's a familiar enemy—cold weather and mud—for the soldiers still stationed in this university town. But even worse is the boredom. Of the 17,000 troops sent here early in October to quell the desegregation riots at the University of Mississippi, only 300 remain. The men have little to do when they are off duty. They aren't permitted passes for the Oxford area except for brief shopping trips. Movies are shown to the troops every night. There are cribbage games that never stop. Of course, there are the countless details of military life—among them kitchen police duty. EAT WELL. The soldiers eat well. They're served steak at least once a week. About 200 of them live in tents at the university-owned airport on the outskirts of Oxford. The Army planned to winterize the tents with wooden floors and sides but Mississippi authorities got a state court injunction to stop the construction work. About 100 are bivouacked at the National Guard armory closer to the university. Headquarters units and quarters for the officers are maintained inside the armory.

Junior Editors Quiz on PLANETS

QUESTION: What do scientists know about the planet Uranus?

ANSWER: Alan Gugel, who sent us this question, comments that people rarely mention this planet. Perhaps, Alan, this is because the average person is more interested in the planets on which like might exist.

Uranus lies far away from the sun, where the cold is too deadly for life as we know it.

This planet was discovered by the English astronomer Herschel in 1781 who thought it was a comet but noted that it had no tail. As he studied its motion, he realized it was a new planet.

Later, scientists found irregularities in Uranus' motion. They decided an unseen planet was influencing Uranus. Figure out just where it was, and when they opened up their telescopes on that spot, there was Neptune! Later, Pluto was discovered by the same method.

Uranus is tilted much further over on its side than is Earth; it takes 84 years to travel once around the sun. It carries 5 moons with it.

Like the other giant planets (Jupiter, Saturn, Neptune), Uranus has an atmosphere of poisonous gases. Under this is a layer of hydrogen, then ice and under this a rocky core.

The temperature is about 300 degrees below zero. When you go there, better take an extra suit of woolen underwear!

New Plastic Armor Tougher Than Steel

AZUSA, Calif. (AP)—Americans in the Korean War were somewhat disturbed to encounter a hand-held Soviet 14.5 mm rifle which bored holes through the armor of our newest tanks.

Now U.S. technology has come up with a new armor, lighter and tougher than steel, which stops the thumb-thick 14.5 mm bullet.

The new armor is made of plastic.

Unlike metal alloys, which stop projectiles by being dense enough to absorb their high-speed energy, the new plastic plays tricks on the bullets. It lets them penetrate slightly, then twists them sideways so they break into small pieces snugly pocketed within the armor panel.

This happens even when the bullet is fired head-on. DETAILS SECRET Inventor Harry King, a materials engineer at Aerojet-General Corp., says the armor is now being tested at the Army's Aberdeen, Md., proving grounds. Many of the details are secret.

"We can say that the plastic armor is approximately 40 per cent lighter than the conventional armor it would take to stop a given projectile," King disclosed.

"The speed of a bullet traveling 3,000 feet per second drops to zero after traveling half an inch through the armor."

The armor which stops the Soviet 4.5 mm antitank projectile is made of sheets of glass fiber and secret nonmetallic materials, bonded into panels about two inches thick.

Just how the bullet, traveling more than a half mile per second, is turned sideways and shattered is something that King himself isn't sure he knows.

"When I set out to make the panel, I predicted this would happen," he says, "but until the tests are completed I can't be positive why it happens."

Copenhagen, which means "Merchants' Harbor," was founded as a fishing village 800 years ago. Now a city of almost a million people, it is first port in Scandinavia and eighth in Europe.

Strong Yet Safe—Gives Hours of Continuous Relief from Minor ARTHRITIS PAINS

Reduces swelling and inflammation so it's easier to move afflicted limbs again

No cure as yet has been found for arthritis. But medical research has established that the strong yet safe medication in Anacin® gives hours of relief from arthritic minor pains—even such chronic pains arising from deep in joints. It has also been found an ingredient in Anacin has a special anti-inflammatory action that helps reduce swelling and inflammation—a basic cause of arthritis suffering. In minutes—pain is relieved so it's easier to move around and this helps keep joints from "locking" or "stiffening."

Anacin Tablets are like a doctor's prescription. That is, a combination of ingredients. Anacin contains the pain reliever doctors recommend the most, plus an extra ingredient not found in leading aspirins or buffered aspirins. Take as directed.

Poor Fish,
These Irish

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI) — Sen. James Slattery introduced a bill in the legislature Monday calling for equal rights for the Irish.

The bill promptly was referred for study to the Fish and Game Committee because, according to one senator, the Irish are considered fair game.

Inflation Dims Rosy Picture in France

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
A large portion of President Charles de Gaulle's continuing popularity among the French people in his undisturbed claim that they never had it so good.

But there also is a problem which could drastically alter the picture. The problem is creeping inflation, which has seen the cost of living jump 5.3 per cent in the last year and 17 per cent since de Gaulle devalued the French franc in 1959.

de Gaulle was able to remain fairly aloof from the problem and leave it in the hands of his experts. The French government is the nation's largest single employer, and it is the unions in state-owned industries who now are ready to make their bid.

The de Gaulle government has appealed to private employers to limit wage increases to no more than 4 per cent per year. But France has a labor shortage and the pressure of demand has in some cases forced wages up to more than twice the government ceiling.

of the Algerian war he pumped into wages instead of new armament. In deciding upon direct action tactics, the unions are taking a leaf from the book of the French farmers.

De Gaulle's determination to protect French agriculture was a prominent factor in his veto of British membership in the European Common Market.

Hunt Stolen Ambulance

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An ambulance crew went to suburban Coral Gables to pick up a seriously ill patient and take him to a hospital Tuesday night. When the crew came out of the house with the patient, the siren-equipped, light-studded ambulance was gone.

Flu Routes Senate Dad With Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., has come up with his own version of the hiking fad.

For the past week, he's been handling his 18-year-old son's paper route on foot.

It started when young Steve McGovern was stricken with the flu and was unable to keep up his route in nearby Chevy Chase, Md., for the Washington Post.

"It's a little difficult to get replacements," McGovern said, "so I took it over for him."

McGovern, 40, said the route is a comparatively small one with about 20 customers but the homes are scattered over a fairly wide area.

EARLY BIRD

"It's about a two-mile hike," McGovern said, "and you have to get up at 5:15 a.m. It took me about 30 minutes to make the rounds."

McGovern, who was a carrier for the Mitchell (S.D.) Daily Republic as a boy, said he packed all the papers over the entire route.

Post Office Will 'Airlift' Late Mail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office Department has announced it will "airlift" first-class letters which miss their trains.

Postmaster General J. Edward Day made the announcement in a speech to business and airline officials.

May Cut 7 Teachers

PORT HURON (AP) — Carl A. Krause, superintendent of the Richmond School District, said Monday the school board will be forced to cut seven instructors from the schedule for the coming year unless new revenue is available. Voters Saturday rejected a special tax for operating purposes.

He also announced experimental tagging of airmail stamps with "invisible" ink that will show up under ultraviolet lights to separate airmail and facilitate faster handling.

Although the farm population declines year by year, the number of farm accident fatalities does not decline proportionately.

Army Slates War Games

ATLANTA (AP) — Officers from 17 foreign nations will join the U.S. Army in simulated guerrilla-type warfare in an area around Ft. Stewart, Ga., March 4-22, the 3rd Army announced today.

The exercise, known as Water Moccasin III, will be conducted by the Army's special warfare center at Ft. Bragg, N.C., to provide field training after six weeks of classroom instruction.

Americans have tripled their demand for turkeys since 1950.

Driver, 19, Killed in Car-Train Crash

CLARKSVILLE (AP) — A lone motorist was killed yesterday in the crash of his car and a Grand Rapids-bound passenger train at a Clarksville crossing.

State police identified the victim as David L. Kauffman, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kauffman, of rural Clarksville.

Fellow employees at a grain elevator where Kauffman worked said he apparently fell from the approaching train as he left for lunch. They told police the warning flashers were operating.

Indonesia May Resume Ties With Netherland

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United Nations reported yesterday Indonesia intends to resume diplomatic relations with the Netherlands.

Indonesia broke relations in the dispute over Dutch West New Guinea, soon to be turned over to Indonesian control.

The National Better Business Bureau was founded by American business in 1912 to protect both itself and the public from deceptive, unfair, fraudulent or misleading advertising and selling practices.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Ration families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient, goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Didn't Result From 2 A. M. Challenge

Kennedy Friends 'Trained' for Hike Last Weekend

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON — Backstairs at the White House:
Now it can be told — the 50-mile hike staged last weekend by President Kennedy's brother-in-law, Prince Stanislaus Radziwill, and Charles Spalding, a Kennedy friend from New York, was a long-planned affair.

Original reports were that it began at 2 a.m. in Palm Beach with a taunting challenge by the Chief Executive.

This sounded as if "Stash" Radziwill, a chunky man 48 years old, and Spalding, a skinny heeppole of a fellow about the President's age, had derived great courage from a late night party.

Actually, their hike down the Sunshine Parkway from West Palm Beach to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., had its origins in a conversation in New York more than a week earlier.

They were talking with the President during his brief visit to Manhattan and both men vowed to take on the latest fad in Kennedy's physical fitness program.

In ensuing days they trained by going to bed early and laying off rich foods. They bought special hiking shoes. And last Friday afternoon, they went to bed in Palm Beach at sundown.

At 1:30 a.m. they were awakened and driven from Palm Beach to the Parkway on the mainland, after first getting permission to hike down the median, from which pedestrians normally are barred.

SEVERAL STOPS
They allowed themselves 20 hours in which to cover 50 miles by steady plodding. Radziwill and Spalding, normally a New York investment man, covered the distance with 22 minutes to spare. They stopped several times during the hike to rest and eat at service areas off the big arterial highway. Radziwill refueled on steak and Spalding drank a quantity of orange juice during the jaunt.

When the President drove down the highway to see them Saturday, they still had 15 miles to go.

Despite the inviting comfort of the Kennedy convertible, they bore up bravely and continued walking as he drove away, pleased that his men were displaying the kind of stamina Teddy Roosevelt envisioned many years ago when he prescribed 50-mile hikes for U.S. Marines.

Theft Turns Dutch Treat

ST. PAUL, Min. (AP) — Police have half a robbery on their hands.

Two men entered a service station Tuesday night as Lawrence Kelly, 80, was counting a stack of bills. The intruders grabbed one end of the stack, Kelly held on to the other. The bills ripped.

The intruders fled with their half of the $27 Kelly was counting.

WWII Bomber Crew to Share Single Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven airman who died together 19 years ago will finally be put to rest today in a single grave not far from the Tomb of the Unknowns.

The 11 were killed when their 5th Air Force B-25 crashed into the side of a tropical mountain in New Guinea on Feb. 1, 1944.

For 17 years their fate was a mystery. The plane had been on a ferrying mission from Dobo-dura to Port Moresby. The last word heard from the plane was that it had run into bad weather and was turning back. Then silence.

After a number of unsuccessful searches, a U.S. Army-Australian search party in April 1961 found the wreckage, and the remains of the men, 10,500 feet up on Mt. Keneni in the Owen Stanley Range. It was one of a dozen such wreckages found in the New Guinea wilderness since World War II.

"It's great to have vim, vigor and vitality, but it's what's up here that counts."

Recently, the Defense Department brought the crew's remains home, arranged for military honors and burial in Arlington National Cemetery, and brought the next of kin to Washington for the funeral today.

Catholic, Protestant and Jewish chaplains will take part in services at the Ft. Myer chapel and at the graveside.

An honor escort from the famous "gold guard" 3rd Infantry Regiment at Ft. Myer was assigned to make the march from the chapel to the grave located not far from the Arlington amphitheater and Tomb of the Unknowns. Two horse-drawn caissons will carry the two caskets.

4-Term Lawmakers

Would Be Lawyers

LANSING (AP) — Legislators who had helped write Michigan's laws for at least eight years would be allowed to practice as attorneys under a bill on file today in the State Senate.

The measure was introduced by Sen. Haskell Nichols, R-Jackson, a veteran of some 30 years in the legislature. Nichols already is a lawyer.

Under provisions of his bill, any person who had served a total of four complete terms in the State Legislature would not be required to attend law school or to pass a bar examination.

Sees Both Sides of Low, but Does the Judge?

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) — When Joseph K. Corey of nearby Southampton failed to show up before the judge on a charge of violating the weapons law, his attorney went looking for him. He found Corey in another courtroom in the same building — serving as foreman of a jury hearing a negligence case.

Creative Lenton sandwichery...dedicated to the proposition that the greatest sandwiches start with Star-Kist Tuna.

Sea Dogs

2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces) Star-Kist Tuna • ½ cup mayonnaise • 3 tablespoons sweet pickle relish • 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento • Salt and pepper • 6 hot dog buns

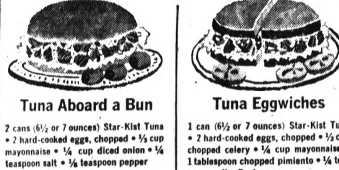

Combine ingredients. For cold sandwiches, fill hot dog buns with lettuce and tuna mixture. For hot sandwiches, heat mixture on buttered buns, wrap in foil. Heat in 400° F. oven 10 to 15 minutes. Makes 6 Sea Dogs.

Tuna Hawaiian on Toast

1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) Star-Kist Tuna • ½ cup pineapple tidbits, drained • ¼ cup mayonnaise • ¼ teaspoon salt • ¼ teaspoon curry powder (optional)

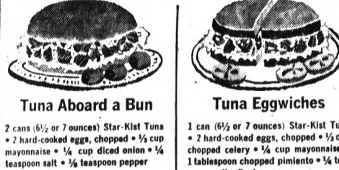

Combine ingredients. Make sandwiches with toast, lettuce and tuna mixture. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Tuna Aboard a Bun

2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces) Star-Kist Tuna • 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped • ½ cup mayonnaise • ¼ cup diced onion • ¼ teaspoon salt • ¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine ingredients. Spoon mixture on lettuce between 6 hamburger buns. Garnish with stuffed olives if you like. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Tuna Eggwiches

1 can (6½ or 7 ounces) Star-Kist Tuna • 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped • ½ cup chopped celery • ¼ cup mayonnaise • 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento • ¼ teaspoon salt • Dash pepper

Combine ingredients and serve on lettuce between toast or hamburger buns. Makes 4 sandwiches.

Food Images Don't Change With Public

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bread once was considered the staff of life. Now it represents the fear of fat. Wine is associated with foreign countries. Beer connotes robustness.

Images such as these, says Samuel Rivman, a man who has studied the psychological shopping drives of women, underlie the basic idea for the kind of food packages housewives like best.

Rivman, vice president of the Spencer-Packaging Co., believes that for vegetables, a package should convey a quality of earthiness; for bacon and eggs, the idea of a farm with freshness and cleanliness.

He noted no matter what doctors say, the consumer believes coffee is a stimulant and a substitute for liquor. Tea suggests a sedative.

Pepper stands for sex. Candy recalls the rewards and good things of life in childhood.

A package must be honest to sell a product, Rivman believes. But to be successful, it must have a direct association with the product it contains.

Less than one-seventh of America's population live on farms today. In 1850 almost two-thirds of the population was found on

Add Plums to Filling and Topping for Torte

There'll be hurrahs from family and friends when you "unveil" this "Regal Plum Torte" at a festive party.

It's a rich dessert suitable for any special occasion and well worth the time and effort spent preparing it. The filling between the layers of the three-tiered cake is hardly any trouble to make. It calls for packaged vanilla pudding and pie mix combined with canned purple plums, plum syrup, grated orange rind and butter.

The top layer is crested with a meringue enhanced by more purple plums.

Regal Plum Torte
1 can (1 lb. 15 oz.) purple plums in extra heavy syrup

1 package (3 1/4 oz.) vanilla pudding and pie mix
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
1 teaspoon salt
Red food coloring (optional)
1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Drain plums, saving 1 1/2 cups syrup. Remove pits and chop fruit.

In a saucepan, combine reserved syrup, pudding mix, 2 tablespoons butter, orange rind and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cook as package directs. Remove from heat and stir in food coloring to desired shade. Fold in half of plums and cool.

Cream together shortening, 1/2 cup butter, 1/4 cup sugar, egg yolks, vanilla and remaining salt; blend in flour. Divide dough into 3 equal parts; press into bottom of 3 round 9-inch greased cake pans. Bake in 350 degree (moderate) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool in pans, then remove.

Place one cake layer on oven-proof plate and spread with half of filling mixture; top with second layer and spread with remaining filling. Top with third layer. Whip egg whites with remaining sugar until stiff; fold in remaining plums. Spread over top layer. Bake in 500 degree (very hot) oven 2 or 3 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Cool before serving. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Gingerly Pears

To every cup of orange juice add 2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice, 2 tablespoons sugar and 2 tablespoons finely chopped ginger. Arrange pared, sliced, fresh pears in dessert dishes and pour the gingerly juice over them. Garnish with maraschino cherries. Chill for serving.

WINTER FRUIT MEDLEY—Golden bananas add good nutrition and delightful taste to a mingling of winter's fruits. Inviting as a salad course, it also makes a refreshing salad-dessert to round out a hearty meal.

Serve Frozen or Canned Fruit With Bananas in Winter Salad

It's that time of year . . . the mid-winter doldrums . . . when all seems dreary. Meals, too, tend to be humdrum. Hearty they must be, to provide the fuel needed to cope with the increased energy output the weather demands. But even more necessary is the daily complement of vitamins and minerals that only fresh fruit can bring.

Ready with good nutrition and the delightful taste at any season are golden bananas. A favorite fruit bowl staple for anytime snacks (only 88 calories, remember, in a medium banana), they bring tropical sunshine to a Winter Fruit Medley.

Crisp greens, and a new and interesting salad dressing, complete the inviting and delicious Winter Fruit Medley. Delightful as a salad course, it also serves as a combined salad-dessert to end a particularly hearty meal on a bright and refreshing note.

Winter Fruit Medley

Salad greens
3 oranges, peeled and sectioned*
1 grapefruit, peeled and sectioned*
2 red-skinned apples, cored and sliced
2 pears, cored and sliced
1/4 pound grapes, pitted, sliced
2 1/2 bananas, peeled

Line bottom of salad bowl with crisp greens. Arrange out-up fruit, except bananas, on the greens. Slice bananas crosswise, then lengthwise, and stand them upright around the inside of salad bowl. Makes 4-6 servings.

(*or use frozen or canned fruit)

Sunshine Salad Dressing

1/2 cup lemon juice
3 tablespoons apricot nectar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients and mix thoroughly. Chill. Makes 1 cup dressing.

Peanut Butter Is Acceptable for Breakfast Time

Peanut butter, all-American favorite, got its start as a dietetic food for invalids in a Battle Creek sanitarium years ago. Tasty, nutritious, and easily digested, peanut butter was ideal for perking sickly appetites.

Nowadays, families may find their perfectly healthy youngsters claiming they would "die without" delightful tasting peanut butter. According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, this is just one of more than 200 products made from peanuts.

Protein-packed peanuts and peanut products are among the plentiful foods reported by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service this month. Now is the time to pick up your peanut favorites. Give meals a nutritional bonus while highlighting them with new textures, flavor, and color by adding peanuts in form or another.

Even at breakfast time, peanut butter can be an appetite booster. If youngsters balk at the tidbits, adding water to make 2 cups; beat. Add a 3 oz. pkg. of raspberry flavored gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until partially thickened.

Add drained pitted cherries and pineapple tidbits; pour into a mold and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens. Combine 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 2 teaspoons lemon juice; serve on salad. Makes six servings.

Like Apple Betty

A delicious apple pudding with a new flavor twist is made with graham crackers, and is both quick and easy to prepare. Combine 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, 4 Winesap apples, pared and sliced, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1/2 cup brown sugar, the juice of 1 lemon and 3/4 cup water. Turn into well-greased casserole and bake, uncovered, in moderately hot oven (375 degrees) for 25 minutes or until apples are tender. Serve warm. Sprinkle with parsley.

Italian Soup Is Quick to Make

If you're looking for a quick hot lunch item—here's the answer. It's a spicy but speedy version of a favorite Italian soup. According to Italians, the soup must be thick enough to hold a spoon upright. This Speedy Minestrone version is that and more.

It's easy to prepare and almost hearty enough for a one-dish meal. Canned corn is one of its make-fast secrets. Bouillon cubes, instant minced onion and a bit of seasoning do the rest.

Try it on your family the next time chilly weather calls for bone-thawing nourishment. Along with a sandwich or crackers, steaming bowls of this corn-brightened soup will win applause.

Speedy Minestrone

1 12-oz. can vacuum-pack yellow whole kernel corn
2 beef bouillon cubes
1/2 cup uncooked macaroni
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 cup drained cooked lima beans or red beans
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Drain canned corn, reserving liquid. Add enough water to drained liquid to make 2 cups. Add bouillon cubes and bring to a boil. Stir in macaroni; cook about 10 minutes or until just tender. Add corn and remaining ingredients. Simmer 10 to 15 minutes. (Note: This is a very spicy soup.) Yield: 5 cups soup.

Fruit Filled Gelatin Is Family Style Salad

A fruit salad for the whole family is a molded cherry and pineapple. Drain syrup from a 1 pound can of light sweet cherries and an 8 oz. can of pineapple tidbits, adding water to make 2 cups; beat. Add a 3 oz. pkg. of raspberry flavored gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until partially thickened.

Add drained pitted cherries and pineapple tidbits; pour into a mold and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp salad greens. Combine 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg and 2 teaspoons lemon juice; serve on salad. Makes six servings.

Creamy and Good

A chilly day means soup for lunch. Try this tasty combo. Combine a can of condensed cream of chicken soup, a can of condensed green pea soup with 1/4 cup light cream and 2 cups (frozen) peas. Simmer for 25 minutes or until milk. Stir until smooth. Heat. Sprinkle with parsley.

Waterford Approves Recreation Funds

The Waterford Township Board Monday night authorized an appropriation of $20,634.95 as its share of the 1963-64 Township Recreation Department budget.

Allocation of a similar amount was approved last week by the school board.

In recent years the town governing units have been contributing on a 50-50 basis to the township recreation program.

The total recreation department budget for the year beginning July 1 is $33,460.

Income from fees is expected to provide $12,191.50, according to director Robert Lawyer. The balance will be contributed by the township board and school board.

Board members also approved a planning commission recommendation that the township hire a junior planner to assist planning department director Robert Dieball. A provision for additional personnel in this department is included in the current budget.

Another planning commission recommendation called for preliminary approval of a 14-lot subdivision on M-59 across from Central Methodist Church. It was accepted.

Board members heard three coin laundry owners complain of what they called high water rates in the township. But both the owners and board members agreed the problem could not be solved until present water systems are inter-connected. A new rate schedule may be prepared at that time.

At present the township has no rate discount for a volume user. Laundry owners pay the same as a small volume consumer.

In other business the board authorized the awarding of special citations to two 12-year-old boys and a registered nurse whose efforts saved the life of Cynthia Markee, 7, 4111 Baybrook St., last month.

The boys, David Miller, 4125 Baybrook St., and Thomas Sirbaugh, 4106 Baybrook St., took the girl down from a tree where her hood had become lodged between two branches.

Thomas' mother, Mrs. Robert Sirbaugh, then applied mouth-to-mouth respiration and restored the child's breathing.

The citations will be presented at next Monday's board meeting.

Captains' 48-42 Victory Over Waterford Lacks Sweet Taste

ANTICIPATION — Kettering's Bob Bogert (35) anxiously watches Rick Pankey (25) prepare to toss basketball his way during first half action last night in the Captains' gym. Waterford guard Chuck Swenson also is watching Pankey's maneuver, hoping for an interception. Bogert and Pankey accounted for 26 of the winners' 48 total points in a six-point decision over the visiting Skippers. It was Kettering's 10th victory of the season and atoned for an earlier 49-46 loss at Waterford High School.

'Cool' Wolves Post Easy Win Over Oxford 5

Clarkston's Wolves had a cool shooting night for three-quarters Tuesday, but still managed to outclass Oxford, 76-51, in a non-league basketball game.

Dan Craven led the Wolves with 20 points, Ken Miskin hit 14 and Bob Osgood 12 in the winners.

Although off in their shooting, the Wolves had little trouble staying ahead. They finally found the 'range' in the last quarter and blew the game open with a 30-point spree.

The contest was ragged at times, and both teams were guilty of many mistakes.

Clarkston led at the half, 30-24.

PCH May Face PNH

Pontiac Central and Northern (the Class A tourney at Pontiac, may battle for two championships) Northern.

in next week's district basketball tournament.

The Chiefs and Huskies were placed in opposite brackets for PCH will collide with Bloomfield Hills and Northern will meet Birmingham Seaholm in opening games next Tuesday. If the Chiefs get past the Barons as expected, they will play Birmingham Grove Thursday.

A victory over tough Seaholm would send Northern against Birmingham Brother Rice.

Should the two Pontiac schools meet in Saturday's championship game, not only the district title, but the city public school crown will be at stake.

Northern and Central split two games during the regular season.

POSSIBLE REMATCH
Another possible decisive third match was set up during yesterday's drawings when Waterford and Kettering drew into the same Class A bracket at Clarkston.

The Skippers must get past Clarkston Tuesday in order to get a shot at Kettering which drew a first game bye.

West Bloomfield, No. 6, and Clawson, No. 8, are in opposite brackets and are expected to sweep into Saturday's finale with ease.

In Class C at PCH, St. Michael's and Royal Oak St. Mary will be aiming for a title game showdown. The Mikemans must first get past Hartland and then they will face Farmington OLS.

The RSM-Orionville winner takes on St. Frederick.

Walled Lake drew a stiff test in Bellevue for its first round "A" game at Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti a week from Thursday. The winner of the game will advance to the district final against the Ann Arbor-Plymouth victor.

In Class D at Clarkston, Emmanuel Christian is favored to come out on top in a tourney involving four teams with losing records. The Lancers meet Flint Michigan School for the Deaf in the first round.

Waterford drew Flint St. Mary in the other half of Clarkston's "D" action.

AT ROCHESTER
Avalonide and Oxford, two teams that had plenty of trouble winning, will square off in the Class B tournament at Rochester.

The winner will play Romeo. Lake Orion and Shrine will meet to determine the other team in the championship game.

Rochester drew a first round bye in "A" at Lapeer. The Falcons will tangle with the winner of the Clio-Lapeer game.

PERNA'S PRIZE — Jerry Perna proudly displays the trophy he won last Saturday by taking first place in the Wonderside Classic. His 221 average in the four-game final (including 21 strikes in the last three) also earned him a check for $350.

Mighty Bearcats Roll; Wichita Needs Ruling

By The Associated Press
Since Ed Jucker became Cincinnati's basketball coach three seasons ago the Bearcats have compiled a phenomenal average by winning ten and all ways.

They've breezed and they've squeezed by, they've steamed from behind and they've led wire-to-wire. One way or another Cincinnati has won an average of 13 of 14 starts under Jucker—78.4 over-all for a 92.9 percentage—and has captured two straight national titles.

Tuesday night the Bearcats used what might be called come-from-behind-and-coast-in technique for a 72-61 victory over cross-town rival Xavier at Cincinnati Gardens. The Musketeers whipped to a 19-9 lead, but Cincinnati outscored them 28-9 in the next 12 minutes, 11 seconds before permission and ran its season mark to 22-1.

GOAL TENDING
Elsewhere, Wichita combined dazzling foul shooting and a last-second shot that was called good in the goal-tending rule for a 60-58 decision at Texas Western; Connecticut snarled up the Yankee Conference race by swamping New Hampshire on the UConn floor, 102-72; Eastern Kentucky's home court 101-84 romp against Morehead and East Tennessee's 80-79 squeaker at Western Kentucky scrambled up the Ohio Valley title fight and Santa Clara made it a three-way deadlock for first in the West Coast Athletic Conference, nipping San Francisco 66-65.

The Cincinnati-Xavier game produced a hectic second half, with four players fouling out and the Bearcats' George Wilson being ejected for swinging on a rival. Tom Thacker was high for Cincinnati with 21 points, while Steve Thomas had 29 for Xavier.

Wichita pulled a 4-minute stall with the score tied at 58-58, then gave the ball to Wayne Durham for a last shot which was grabbed by Texas Western's Jim Barnes. The referee called good tending on Barnes, however, as time ran out. The Wheatshockers pumped in 24 of 26 free throws, with Dave Stallworth hitting 15-for-15 and finishing with 31 points.

Wichita is headed for the National Invitation Tourney and Texas Western the NCAA.

Joseph and Golembiewski, current national men's game doubles champions, combined again for the classic two-man lead with a 1,378 series. Joseph, the former restaurateur from Lansing, Mich., was the headline in this episode, shooting 247, 278, 203—728, the best series in any category in the 11-day old tournament.

Joseph also took the lead in the classic all-events with a nine-game total of 1,925. In addition to his high double series, he had 588 in the team event and 609 in the singles.

Wildlife Conventions Scheduled for Detroit

Two major conservation conventions March 1-6 are expected to draw over 1,000 people to Detroit.

Management officials, educators, biologists and sportsmen will attend the National Wildlife Federation sessions Friday through Sunday and then stay over for the North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference the next three days.

Congressman John D. Dingell (Mich.), and Labor leader Walter Reuther will be featured speakers at the Federation's meeting to be held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

The former, an author of several important wildlife and conservation laws, will highlight conservation problems in the Congress. Reuther is expected to explain the position of organized labor in resource management.

Delegates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia will participate in regional round-table discussions and three workshop sessions during the meeting.

COMMON FRONTIERS

The North American Wildlife and Natural Resources Conference, at the Statler Hilton Hotel, will spotlight "Conservation's Common Frontiers" as its theme with some 50 of the continent's foremost authorities to speak on various phases of resource restoration and management.

Orville L. Freeman, Secretary of Agriculture, will talk on "Conservation for World Peace" as the featured speaker.

Other speakers and their subjects include: Harold A. Vogel, regional representative for North America, Food and Agriculture Organization, "Cooperation in Conservation."

Stephen H. Spurr, dean, School of Natural Resources, University of Michigan, "Resources Development through Education;" Edward A. Weeks, editor, The Atlantic Monthly, "Resources—Keys to Well-Being;" and Ira N. Gabrielson, president, Wildlife Management Institute, "The Job Ahead."

Wildlife scientists and technicians will report on last-minute research findings and management developments at six technical sessions.

DUCK SOUP—The Humane Society has complained that Orin Benson, Eagle, Wis., dog trainer, and his four retrievers are inflicting cruel punishment on 10 ducks in a sports show in Kansas City. Benson dresses the ducks in a sock-like harness and the dogs go after them. "They (ducks) couldn't care less," he said. No action was taken on the complaint.

Request Surplus Corn for Hungry Deer

Michigan's deer herd is starting to starve and needs federal surplus corn for emergency deer feeding. The grain will be made available from a storage bin at Newaygo operated by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The corn will be fed to the deer by groups approved by the department's district headquarters at Baldwin. The government was asked to

State Gobblers Doing Well

Studying Turkey Season

ALLEGAN — In a year or so, Michigan hunters should have a chance to make like the Pilgrim fathers — just as is pictured in the history books.

A select few will be able to shoulder the trusty gun and go out and knock off a wild turkey.

The good will have quite a job of plucking and cleaning, of course, plus the problem of fitting the big bird into the modern oven. But those turkey feathers make wonderful dusters.

This is another instance of successful experimental stocking by the state conservation department. There's a surplus of wild turkeys now and the department is already thinking along lines of eventually allowing a limited shooting or archery season.

It would take education first, a feeling-out of public sentiment, and permissive legislation.

"We have a good population established now," said R. A. MacMullan of the department's game division. "We're pleasantly surprised at how well they have done."

Michigan's last native wild turkey was shot before the turn of the century.

OTHER PLANTINGS

The first 50 adult wild turkeys were obtained from Pennsylvania in the spring of 1954 and were planted in the Allegan state forest. That fall, 154 poults were hatched from eggs and added to the flock.

There have been successive plantings in the Newaygo Lake area north of Grand Rapids and in the Ogemaw hills area between St. Helen and Roscommon.

Counting wild turkeys isn't an exact art, but the department figures there are now about 1,600 established in the state—some 700 in the Newaygo area and 500 each in the Allegan and Ogemaw areas. There are also smaller flocks on Beaver and Drummond Islands.

The Allegan state forest area, where the birds first caught on, seemed ideal for them. The turkeys fatten up on acorns and other nuts and scavenge along river bottoms. They also have prospered so far in the two other main locations.

There have been suggestions for trying the birds in the Upper Peninsula but the experts fear the winters there might prove too severe.

The birds are wary and aren't too often seen. Natives still know the best places to watch the flocks and will park in the evening in hopes of catching a glimpse of them.

In the spring mating season, the males can be heard and sometimes seen—strutting and gobbling and showing off their tails to attract the hens.

A few are hit by cars and some are taken by poachers.

The main threat to the turkeys, however, is when they become too tame and wander in to feed at barnyards with domestic fowl. Then they could pick up poultry diseases that could wipe out the entire flock.

Book Adds More Fuel

Pesticides vs. Wildlife

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The voices of combatants in the wildlife-versus-pesticides war have shattered the quiet of "The Silent Spring."

University of Michigan wildlife authority Karl F. Lagler, chairman of the department of fisheries in the school of natural resources, said today the battle may get worse.

"The Silent Spring" is a best-selling book by Rachel Carson in which the author describes how our lakes and streams are slowly being poisoned by pesticides.

Lagler said although evidence that chemical poison are killing or polluting wild life continues to accumulate, some individuals and industries appear to be trying to discourage the adoption of needed controls.

He said federal wildlife biologists specializing in pesticides have been "dis-invited" to give a number of talks, "indicating that a concerted effort is afoot to silence the anti-chemical people."

DUCKS KILLED

"Federal biologists recently pointed to traces of the pesticides aldrin and dieldrin as the killers of as many as 2,000 wild ducks, annually at three small industrial lakes near Denver," he said. "Many thousands of ducks carried sub-lethal doses of the poisons to their nesting grounds, where their reproduction may be impaired."

Take 2nd Place in Waterford Archery League

Captain Arlene Walters' Three Hits 'n' a Miss squad shut out Arrowettes, 5-0, to jump into second place in the Waterford Township Recreation Department winter archery league contest.

First place Lakeland dropped a 4-1 decision to the Chiefs.

Other results: Flintstones dropped from second to third place in losing a 3-2 verdict to Auto Electric; Drayton edged Four Musketeers, 3-2; and Hay Burners decisioned Untouchables, 3-2.

Field Trial Dates Announced by Club

The Michigan English Setter Club will hold its annual spring field trial March 31 at the Highland recreation area.

This trial and pretrial warmup March 24 near Farmington will be open to all pointing breeds. Orville Harper (GR 4-2180) of Farmington is trial chairman.

New officers are Marge O'Connell, president; Fran Clark and Bill Miller, vice presidents; Sharon Secord, secretary; Janet No-

Oakland County Paid $50,000 in Lieu of Taxes

Special To The Pontiac Press LANSING — Oakland County will receive the largest regional check as the Conservation Department's annual payment in lieu of taxes on state-owned land.

A total of $200,000 is being sent to 40 southern Lower Peninsula counties, with Oakland getting over $50,000. Smallest regional check, for $132, goes to Isabella County.

These payments, made on land purchased by the department since 1933, apply to public fishing sites and state park, game and recreation areas. They do not include any special assessments nor cover any improvements on the land.

Earlier this year, the bulk of some $600,000 in lieu of tax payments were sent to northern counties and mainly covered state forest land.

The latest series of disbursements are largely from the department's game and fish protection fund, while the earlier payments were mainly from the agency's general fund budget.

ROAM THE WOODS — This flock of wild turkeys moves through the woods in the Allegan state forest. The birds were stocked in this west Michigan area in 1954. There are now 1,600 gobblers in the state. Predictions are that a special hunting season will be held in the next year or two.

OK Buying Site for Fire Station

AP Photo/...

DELIVERED UP — Fellow French secret army members bound former Col. Antoine Argers, threw him in a truck and called Paris police to come and get him yesterday. His irate colleague blamed him for failure of an assassination attempt on French President de Gaulle.

City commissioners last night okayed the purchase of a site on Walton Boulevard for a future branch fire station.

The city will pay $9,420 for the parcel, about an acre in size. It is owned by Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

The 182- by 230-foot parcel lies immediately west of Swo-Bol Co., 25 W. Walton, near the intersection of Baldwin and Walton.

In the planning stage for several months, the branch station is to be designed much like the station on West Huron Street at Genesee Road.

No construction dates have been set for the proposed station. Preliminary estimates place the construction cost at about $120,000 to be paid from capital improvement funds over a period of several years.

The station will solve a problem long recognized by fire department officials here. Fire trucks from existing stations would have to cross railroad crossings to answer a call in Pontiac's most northerly sections.

GIVES REPORT

In other business, City Attorney William A. Ewart gave commissioners a routine report on the outcome of a taxpayer's suit challenging a pension to former Police Chief Herbert W. Straley. The suit was dismissed in Circuit Court. It had been filed by John J. Brandenburg of 665 N. Perry St.

The court dismissed the suit on grounds that Brandenburg was not qualified to file suit because he "is not a real party in interest and has not and will not be damaged."

The court however did not confirm the legality of the pension, which was ordered by the commission last May.

In other matters no objections were voiced at a public hearing on a resolution to vacate an alley in an area bounded by Walton Boulevard, Baldwin Avenue, Lehigh and University streets.

Final approval of the vacating was deferred until various deeds and agreements on easements can be completed with adjacent property owners.

APPROVE AGREEMENT

missioners okayed a deed agreement necessary for vacating part of an alley right-of-way bordering lots at Wisner Street and Oakland Avenue.

Commissioners previously approved reducing the alley right-of-way from 20 to 15 feet, pending approval of deed agreements with property owners.

An ordinance to rezone to commercial three lots adjacent to Pontiac Retail Store was introduced and scheduled for public hearing at the March 19 meeting.

A zoning request from Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, was referred to the city planning commission for consideration at its March 6 meeting.

Harrelson asked that the north-erly 200 feet of Lot 1, Assessor's Plat No. 75, be rezoned from residential to commercial.

The property lies on the east side of Telegraph Road between Hazel and Edna streets.

School Board in N. J.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — A record school budget for Atlantic City was adopted in record time.

The budget, calling for school spending of $3,377,329 in 1962-63, was approved one minute and eight seconds after the Board of School Estimate opened its meeting the questioning did the lie detector show he was lying.

Mate Passes Lie Detector Test

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police say a lie detector test shows that Douglas Watkins, 34, has no knowledge of what happened to his wife Jean, 26, who disappeared mysteriously Feb. 10.

Watkins, who voluntarily underwent the test yesterday, was questioned for more than an hour. Police said that at no time dur-

Mrs. Watkins was last seen in a laundromat near Brooklyn in southern Jackson County. The Watkins home is near Brooklyn.

OKs Hoffa Suit Against NBC

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was given the go-ahead in U.S. District Court here yesterday to proceed with a $2.5-million libel suit against the National Broadcasting Co.

Hoffa's suit is based on allegations that he was libeled by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, then counsel for the Senate Rackets Committee, when Kennedy appeared on a Jack Paar television show on the NBC network July 22, 1959.

Judge Theodore Levin overruled NBC's motion for dismissal of the suit. NBC argued the suit was invalid because the papers had not been served at its New York headquarters.

Hoffa also tried unsuccessfully to sue both Kennedy and Paar for libel, but Judge Levin ruled the papers served on Kennedy in Virginia and Paar in New York were not effective.

Hoffa charged that Kennedy said on the 1959 Paar show that "unless something is done, the country will be controlled by gangsters and hoodlums," including Hoffa in the statement.

File State Bill to Up Lobbyists' Fees

LANSING (AP) — A bill which would drastically increase the annual registration fee for lobbyists, upping the minimum from $5 to $200, was filed yesterday for introduction in the legislature.

Rep. Albert Horrigan, D-Flint, is sponsor of the bill, which would require payment of the annual $200 fee for each business or organization represented by a lobbyist.

Under present law, a lobbyist can represent as many different groups as he can handle by paying a single $5 fee to the secretary of state's office. The money goes into the State Treasury for the general fund.

Concepts Instead of Tricks

Words Help You Understand Mathematics

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

For a number of years, I was introduced as a mathematics teacher and the reaction was interesting to watch.

People felt called upon to explain that they really understood arithmetic in school. In fact, if they hadn't learned a few tricks, they might never have graduated!

Dr. Nason by many students don't even try to understand arithmetic.

They watch carefully as the teacher does a sample problem several reasons why:

so they can learn the procedure. But learning mechanics doesn't produce understanding! A boy named Bill came to me for help with his arithmetic homework. I asked him a few questions regarding the concepts behind the problems. He quickly became irritated.

"I don't want to know all that," he protested, "just show me how to work the problems!"

PUT IT IN WORDS

Bill was doing arithmetic the hard way. It would have been easier, and certainly more pleasant, to understand each step in the process.

Many students have been successful in mathematics by thinking about it in words. There are several reasons why:

When we put an idea into our own words, we really understand the idea. We have set up a thought pattern that will help us recognize this same situation when we see it again.

The teacher explains in words. When a student consciously pays attention to the teacher's explanation, and at the same time watches the problem being solved on the board, he is getting the idea through two senses. He is seeing and he is hearing.

When he watches only the mechanics of the solution, he must depend upon "seeing" the same situation at test time, or fail the question.

PRINT VS. ILLUSTRATION

The textbook has the printed explanation along with the illustrated example. The student who is consciously thinking about arithmetic in words will read these explanations.

In this way the textbook explanation strengthens the understanding gained from the teacher's explanation.

When a student studies for an examination by thinking in words: "What kind of problems have we had?" and "how do we tell them apart," he is ready to analyze problems given him on an examination.

The problems you will meet in real life will always be found in terms of words.

The most powerful test - taking tool in arithmetic, algebra, chemistry, physics or calculus is the ability to analyze problems in words.

Ask yourself: "What kind of problem is this?" "How should I solve it?" "How can I tell from the statement of the problem which principles and solutions apply?"

Dr. Nason will welcome your question addressed to him in care of this paper. Those of most general interest will be answered in his column.

SEATO to Meet in Paris

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — The council of ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) will convene in Paris on April 8-10, according to an announcement here.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Around 1860 an English writer proposed a whist problem with the story that the greatest player in Vienna had looked at the cards and remarked:

"Why, of course, South makes all the tricks."

None of the whist players of the day could see how the grand slam could be made and the hand has given us the name of the Vienna Coup for all similar plays. It is a classic among bridge players.

In whist clubs were trump and South would lead. In contract I have made South declarer at no-trump and, while it does not matter what card West opens, I have assumed a heart lead.

South wins in dummy and runs off four clubs. West cannot afford to throw a diamond or a spade

The South makes the Vienna Coup play. He plays his ace of spades and establishes West's king as the top spade. Incidentally, dummy will have dropped a diamond on the third club and either a diamond or spade on the fourth one.

Now South runs off dummy's last four hearts and discards the queen of spades and two diamonds from his hand. West has to hang on to the king of spades because of dummy's jack and must discard one of his three diamonds whereupon South finishes the diamond trick and makes three diamond tricks.

Trading on Slow Side

Stock Mart Moves Unevenly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly early Wednesday afternoon. Trading was slow.

Movements of most key stocks were small, some going to around a point.

Failure of a promising mid-afternoon rally Tuesday to follow through left brokers disappointed. There seemed no particular incentive for further advance.

President Kennedy's willingness to surrender tax reforms to get was the only strong performer in its group.

Issues were unchanged to easy. Nonferrous metals, aerospace issues, and electrical equipments, and rails were irregular.

American Stock Exchange prices were higher in moderate trading. General freighting and Procter & Gamble, advanced more than a point. Fractional gains were made by Kaufman & Broad Building, Molybdenum, Molybdenum warrants, Scurry Rainbow Oil, Creole Petroleum, Sinopec, and John Hancock.

British Petroleum, DuPont, and Hoffman International and American International.

American Stock Exchange.

Figures after decimal points are eighth.

Most Bond Prices Unchanged

NEW YORK (AP)—Government and corporate bond prices were mostly unchanged at the opening today. A few rail issues made gains of a point or more. Trading was light.

Over the counter dealer in U.S. Treasury bonds quoted some issues 1/32 higher or lower but said there were no strong tendencies in either direction.

In corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange, the biggest gain was a 2 1/2-point rise to 74 by Great Northern Railway 2 1/2s.

Freedom's His After 60 Years

BIVORG, Sweden (AP)—Mozart Lindberg Hansen is getting freedom at 82 after spending most of the last 60 years in prison—first as a petty thief and swindler, then as a kidnaper.

A district judge ordered Hansen's release on probation Tuesday.

The kidnapping of a priest in 1938 was the apparently most high-light of Hansen's criminal career.

He abducted the priest in a wood box on a truck, but released him unharmed the next day. He never quite explained his motive.

Five Top Aides Push Youth Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five cabinet officers appeared together yesterday to urge prompt Senate action on a bill to set up a youth conservation corps and home town service corps.

The delegation consisted of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., chairman of the labor subcommittee conducting a hearing on the proposal, said he believed this was an unprecedented number of department heads to appear in a group to support a measure.

Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., senior Republican on the subcommittee, had some rather caustic comments on the joint appearance. "If all this hearing amounts to is the making of a few statements and the issuance of a great number of press releases, then we really haven't accomplished much," Prouty said.

With 800,000 youths between 16 and 21 out of school and jobless, Prouty said, the committee is attempting to deal with "the greatest social problem of our time."

But he said the solutions proposed in the pending bill amount to enacting "two new programs which closely resemble the depression - born Civilian Conservation Corps and National Youth Administration."

"One wonders," Prouty continued, "whether the solutions of the 30's are adequate to cope with the problems of the 60's."

All of the five cabinet officers already has testified for the bill at House Labor subcommittee hearings.

Wirtz, who led off the presentation, said the joint appearance was a measure of the top priority which the President has assigned to this bill.

"We all want to urge that Congress pass it as promptly as possible."

The labor secretary said the post-World War II baby crop is beginning to enter the labor force and the increase in the number of youths needing jobs will be tremendous in the next few years.

He said that contrary to the beliefs of many, a smaller percentage of youths is dropping out of school.

Yemen Unrest Brings Bunche

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Palestine peacemaker, is heading back to the Middle East today in an attempt to calm tensions in embattled Yemen.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant ordered Bunche, his top troubleshooter, to the Arabian peninsula for talks with leaders of the Republican government that overthrew Yemen's feudal monarchy last September.

Bunche will attempt to quiet Arab hostilities that have also involved President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Jordan and the British in the adjoining colony and protectorate of Aden.

Yemeni republicans aided by Nasser's troops have tried to consolidate their hold on the south-west corner of the peninsula but have met continued resistance from royalist forces supported chiefly by Saudi Arabia.

Saudi Arabia suggested that a U.N. observer see that Nasser's troops leave the country. Nasser is seeking assurances that Saudi Arabia will not send in forces to topple the new regime.

Pontiac Area Residents Far From Letter-Perfect

Area postmasters are pulling their hair out over the number of misaddressed letters that pour into their mail rooms every day.

The rate is one of the highest in the country, and no amount of effort seems to reduce it significantly.

Pontiac superintendent of mail, Jack Featherstone, reports that some 10,000 pieces of mail must be rehandled each day.

Of these, some 1,700 letters are marked "not in Pontiac delivery area."

The crux of the problem is that a person living in a township, village or other geographic area is not always served by a post office carrying the same name.

Here is a sample of what the postmasters face.

An area resident sent away to Cleveland for a booklet, listing his return address as Waterford Township.

When the Waterford Post Office received the booklet in the mail they marked it "not served by Waterford" and returned it to the company.

The company president, angered over what appeared to be postal inefficiency then sent back both the book and the return address, along with a rather uncompromising note.

The postmaster, Mrs. Leona Amos, to avoid confusion, and more uncompromisingly, sent the booklet to the proper post office—Drayton Plains.

However, in an effort to get area residents to use correct addresses, a majority of the postal officials are stamping mis-addressed mail "no such address" and returning it to the sender.

In some cases this may amount to a delay of only a day or two. In some instances the letter may never be resented.

In any case, all area postal offices are urging residents to be sure to place correct mailing addresses, including return addresses, on all mail.

Thousands Hit by Flu Attacks

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
A massive outbreak of influenza covered 29 states today and kept thousands of students and workers home in bed.
The U.S. Public Health Service said the danger of Asian flu is expected to wane by the middle of next month, but many areas in the eastern half of the nation reported rising sickness rates.
The Communicable Disease Center (CDC) at Atlanta said Asian flu has been positively identified in 16 states and the District of Columbia. Other forms of influenza and kindred ailments felled residents of 13 other states.
"The latest and about the only recent trend is westerly," said a spokesman at the CDC.
Nearly 4,000 new cases of flu were reported in nine Alabama counties yesterday, putting the state total well over 10,000.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Light snow is expected tonight in the lower Lakes and the Ohio Valley with light rain and showers in the central and lower Mississippi valley and southern Plains. There is a chance of some snow flurries along the eastern slopes of the Rockies, and occasional rain will fall along the north Pacific coast. It will be slightly warmer in the Ohio Valley and the area to the central Gulf coast. A turn to colder will be noted in the Plains and Rockies.

Reveal Polls Much Used in '60 Race

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Those U.S. "prestige" polls which have raised a storm since President Kennedy's 1960 campaign are now available by the bushel.

In what it called a "significant departure" in information policy, the administration today made public 34 previously classified overseas public opinion polls on U.S. standing and other issues.

All are a year or more old. The major ones deal with the Eisenhower administration. Others take up such subjects as what the Burmese think of "rock and roll" and why Frenchmen have a low opinion of American women.

One 10-page study dated September, 1960, said people in Britain, France, West Germany and Italy had a "far-from-favorable" opinion of American youth and an only slightly better regard for American women.

European comments on American women included lazy, idle, shallow, vain, showy, frivolous, domineering, forward, oversexed, bad taste, no elegance, and "miscellaneous."

A "flash survey" made in 17 countries in January 1961, just after Kennedy's election, rated the new president 66 per cent in average "esteem" around the world. This ranged from 90 per cent in Lima, Peru, to 34 per cent in India.

Ford-Canton Plan Offered

twice vetoed proposed legislation because of legal interpretations. "The problem remains," he said, adding:

"Under the law as presently interpreted, while an employee off work as a result of a labor dispute in the same plant is almost automatically disqualified, no disqualification operates if the labor dispute is in a different plant, regardless of the potential benefit to the employee."

Romney said that the administration bill uses the language of the present law wherever possible, and makes these changes among others:

"It deals directly with the Ford-Canton situation by disqualifying a worker in one establishment (plant) who is unemployed as a result of a labor dispute in which he has a direct interest, even though the dispute occurs in another establishment (plant) of the same employing unit (company), provided it is functionally integrated with that in which claimant is or was employed."

"It eliminates the provision of the present law which disqualifies workers in the same establishment regardless of interest or involvement where a strike exists among workers of a different grade or class."

"In the single plant situation it employs the widely used criterion of 'grade or class' of workers to determine the existence of direct involvement on the part of the claimant, preserving the 20-year-old reference to 'department' or 'unit' to avoid payment of benefits in the face of a 'key man' strike."

Sits Tight in Cuba

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — If birdwatchers will now fix their attention on that wise old owl, Premier Khrushchev, they may see his feathers in the nest.

The Russians could probably embarrass Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who said Tuesday a Soviet presence in Cuba "cannot be accepted," if they asked him a simple question: What are you going to do about it?

At this time in the frustrated American government it is unlikely anyone has a firm or even clear idea how to force the Soviet troops out of Cuba or persuade Khrushchev to take them out.

He has promised to withdraw some of the 17,000 men President Kennedy says are on the island. But it's doubtful Khrushchev will

Chairmen Appointed for Cancer Crusade

The appointment of Alfred C. Girard of 2221 N. Woodward Ave., Bloomfield Hills, as crusade chairman for the North Oakland County Unit of Michigan Cancer Foundation was announced today.

Mrs. Frank W. Prather, 701 E. Liberty St., Milford, has been named chairman of the Women's Crusade Committee for the area.

The appointments were announced by Harold G. Warner, foundation general crusade chairman.

Girard, president of the Community National Bank, and Mrs. Prather will share the responsibilities of directing the activities of volunteer workers in this year's educational cancer crusade.

A fact-finding survey designed to fathom public knowledge and attitudes toward cancer and plans to improve the foundation's year-round program of cancer research, education and service in southeastern Michigan top this year's aims.

The foundation is solely supported by the Pontiac area United Fund and the United Foundation of Greater Detroit.

The charges against Henry stem from an incident Jan. 7 when Henry attempted to reclaim his car from a garage seven days after it had been repossessed.

J. Wendell Green, owner of the commercial garage at 77 E. Huron, testified yesterday that Henry damaged the garage doors when he took his car from the building.

Damage was estimated at $78, he said.

Henry has stated he was entitled to his car because he had made the payments that were in arrears and it wasn't legal to make him sign a waiver releasing the finance company from any liability during storage.

The felonious assault charge resulted from actions after Pontiac Policeman Neil McCormick and Ronnie Corbett arrested him.

McCormick has charged that Henry bumped him with his pink Cadillac while he was standing in front of it.

Corbett said he was bumped by Henry's car but jumped out of the way when it began moving forward.

Corbett said that he was in the hospital for several days after the accident.

Citizens Stage Walkout on Board of Education

BIRMINGHAM — A walkout was staged at the board of education meeting last night when it was announced that school redistricting would not be discussed.

Many residents of the Harlan Elementary School area and the Westchester area left the crowded room when they learned the board's decision.

The group was there to protect a plan by School Supt. Otis M. Dickey under which students at Harlan would attend the newly named Berkshire Junior High School at 14-Mile near Evergreen, and Groves High School at 13-Mile and Evergreen.

Previously, Harlan students have attended Derby Junior High and Seaholm High School, closer to their homes.

Dickey said 'this move was necessitated by overcrowded conditions at Derby and Seaholm.'

Parents have complained that the redistricting will cause their children to spend 500 more hours on school buses than they would if going to closer schools.

Dickey has said that educational benefits derived from the move outweigh travel inconveniences.

The board tentatively scheduled hearings on the matter for the March 26 meeting.

In other action, the board approved courses to be offered at the secondary school level in the 195-64 school year.

Two old rivals will not be competing for the post of municipal judge, it was learned today.

Walter R. Denison, until yesterday a candidate for both the judgeship and the city commission, has decided to run for only the commission post.

Under Michigan election laws, a candidate cannot run for two such offices.

Helping him make the decision, he said, was the fact that he had been previously defeated by incumbent Judge John C. Emery Jr. in the 1959 race.

Denison is a member of the city planning commission.

The Congregational Church is sponsoring a series of four Lenten potluck suppers every Thursday during March.

Speaker for the first program, March 7 at 6:30 p.m., is Dr. Reginald H. Hefflicher.

the hiring of five more full-time deputies.

He said the additional men are necessary to provide adequate guarding of prisoners appearing in circuit court.

Present court demands are forcing him to curtail road patrol activities in the county, Irons said.

LOSING PERSONNEL
Murphy said that pay scales in his department no longer are comparable with those in other counties, with the result that he is losing people as quickly as he trains them to do the work.

Skrabl posed the same argument earlier. He also is asking for two new positions to perform immediate research at the insistence of some of the county supervisors, he said.

This would comprise a study of the county's capital outlay needs as the result of population growth, Skrabl said.

Prout asked for a $20,000 increase in next year's salary appropriation to hire two more attorneys.

He said that the present 2,000 divorce cases that must be processed by his staff each year prevents them from carrying out an order by the State Supreme Court.

"The Supreme Court tells us we must check on the welfare of children in divorce cases over the past 18 years from time to time," he said.

There is a backlog of 10,000 such cases involving 20,000 children that has never been touched because we lack sufficient personnel, Prout said.

Assisted by the board of auditors, the ways and means committee will prepare the final draft of the tentative budget for presentation to the Board of Supervisors April 9.

The board will have until April 15 to act on the tentative budget before asking the County Tax Allocation Board for sufficient millage to finance the budget in 1964.

Any reductions in the proposed millage by the allocation board will have to be reflected in a revised final budget to be prepared before June 1 and around June 16 when it must be acted upon by the board of supervisors.

TITO THE OUTCAST
As for Yugoslav President Tito, the paper called him a "renegade" and said reconciliation with him was "absolutely impossible."

Although Khrushchev was never mentioned by name, the statements attacked were those made by him and he was the Communist who staged the spectacular reconciliation with President Tito.

The editorial accused Khrushchev of starting the squabble in the Communist camp by publicly taking sides with India on Sept. 9, 1959, over the then-developing China-India border dispute.

This apparently referred to a Tass statement issued that day arguing both sides to the giving of the quarrel but refraining from giving full backing to China.

It was published just before Khrushchev left for his tour of the Chinese and Albania picked up following the "Camp David talks" — between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower — and have continued ever since.

special services will be held each Wednesday in Grace Lutheran Church. At 6:45 tonight Pastor Wilbert Rusk Jr. of Concordia Lutheran Junior College will speak on "Vocation in the Church."

Following the regular vesper at 7:30, there will be a fellowship hour at which time the speaker will answer questions.

ST. STEPHEN'S
In addition to morning services today, there will be a observance of Holy Communion at 7:30 tonight in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 3500 N. Adams Road.

During the Lenten season, groups will meet in homes for a cooperative dinner before study and discussion.

Psalm 4:4
Today the Lenten season starts... On this Ash Wednesday and the hearts of Christians fold around... In humble love and praise abound... While sacrifice and self-denial...
