Baker Suffers Heart Attack Before Hearing

Teamster Aide Rushed to Hospital, Where He's on Critical List

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Barney Baker, burly 284-pound Teamster Union handyman, was rushed to a hospital here today with a heart attack about an hour before he was to undergo renewed questioning by the Senate Rackets Committee.

A hotel physician who treated Baker before he was taken to Washington General Hospital expressed belief he was in "critical condition."

Dr. Sanford J. Randall stated he thought Baker had suffered a coronary attack. He believed there was "no question of malingering at all."

Randall said he was called to Baker's hotel room about 8:15 a.m. EST. He said Baker was promptly taken by ambulance to the Washington Hospital Center.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy announced Baker's illness after a 10-minute delay in the start of today's hearings.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said he hoped Baker would have a "speedy recovery" and be available soon for testimony.

The hearing proceeded in Baker's absence with a Union-plagued businessman testifying he paid $1,125 to Baker.

Ever Do a Decent Thing?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Rackets investigators asked alleged Teamster strongarm artist Joseph Bonmarito if he ever did one decent thing in his entire life. Bonmarito paused. Then he declined to reply on grounds that the answer might tend to incriminate him.

George F. Callahan Jr., operator of the Exhibitors Service Co. trucking firm at McKees Rock, Pa., conceded that the money was paid "in a sense" for Baker's "influence as a labor leader."

Callahan also admitted he sent three separate shipments of $1,000 in $100 bills to one of his company's agents last fall.

The committee said the agent, Edward Weinheimer, was known to be staying at the same hotel or motel as Baker at the time two of the money shipments were sent.

Callahan said he did not know that Baker got the $1,000 "expense" shipments from Weinheimer, but did know that the agent was going to see Baker on one occasion when the money was dispatched.

He said he personally gave or sent cash to Baker several times, including three occasions when the hulkish Teamster visited Pittsburgh in connection with Callahan's labor difficulties. He also sent

Man Throws Off Clothing, Money to Find Peace

ROCHELLE PARK, N. J. (AP)—Police said a man left his car parked at a tavern early today and began walking down a four-lane highway, scattering parts of his clothing and over $200 in cash as he went.

"I don't want to carry any money, all I want is peace of mind," officers quoted the man, Peter Kapsalaris, 40, of Norwich, Conn., as saying. He was held for observation.

Police picked him up after a night watchman said he saw him strolling down the road, disrobing as he walked along and tossing away bills and coins. Officers found four $50 bills, two $10s and about $2 in change scattered in Kapsalaris' wake.

They said he still had about $150 and several articles of clothing to go.

An Editorial

As this is written, Pontiac Motor is on strike. We believe employment stops because of the whims of a few. If every employee of the Pontiac Motor Division (and the wives) cast a secret ballot, we feel there would be no strike. That's an opinion based on our own observation and informal talks with quite a few people on "both sides."

The employees are losing $100,000 a day in wages and the general community is losing this same amount also, as it would be spread throughout the area for goods, services and other wages.

This is a blow ANY TIME. It's especially tough right now.

Employment has been light for a considerable period of time and the current moment is an unhappy period to cut off so huge a sum each 24 hours. Everyone feels it—workers and employers in all lines. Everyone's living will soon be affected.

The Union charges that management "fails to bargain in good faith."

We doubt this.

We doubt it because we know the character of the men running the Pontiac Motor Division. They will never refuse to bargain in good faith with anyone WHEN THERE'S A CAUSE FOR BARGAINING. George Watson, Pontiac official tells The Press that a dozen men sat around a table at Tuesday's negotiating session and the Union representatives solemnly recited a list of grievances.

"Most of them," said Watson, "have already been considered and decisions reached one way or the other. I believe Union officials understand this. The other grievances are minor affairs that can be handled routinely through grievance procedure. This is just a deliberate attempt to hamper the Corporation."

"The Union thinks these tactics will help REUTHER. The reason for the strike is unimportant."

Also, the Union charges some employees get overtime while others are laid off.

"This is true," says Watson. "There are a few skilled workers whose occupations are essential and it would be impractical to lay them off and bring in others. However, the total is so small it couldn't be any part of the reason for a strike. We regret this circumstance as much as the Union. We're sorry it has to be that way. Most of the complaints are just words. They talk in circles to justify the strike."

General Manager S. E. KNUDSEN says 23,000 workers across the country will be affected shortly if the main plant doesn't open. KNUDSEN labels it a costly demonstration.

"We have no contract with the Union now and employment has been so light the corporation itself has cut the bargaining committee's paid time in half," says Watson. "We feel this is more than they need but they resent it. I doubt whether the others are willing to lose $100,000 over this cause."

Do local employees want to give up their wages over the whims of a few?

The Press would like to ask union officials if this is the pathway to better times, better business, more employment—or a better union? The $100,000 a day pay which is lost will never be reclaimed. If Pontiac doesn't build automobiles for the buying public, other plants will. Competition in the automobile business has never been so fierce.

The butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker are hurt. So are their employees. And so are all the families.

This is change-over time.

The cessation of work at this precise moment may please the private fancies of some local officials, but The Press does not believe it reflects the opinion of the complete roster of workers. Even when serious strike votes are taken, usually a small percentage of those entitled to vote shows up.

The balance stays quietly at home.

We find little sympathy around the community for this strike.

Landslide Vote 7 to 1

Alaska Happy to Be State

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Alaska said today it was more than willing to become the 49th State of the Union and emphasized it with seven cheers and a "Tiger."

As more votes of Tuesday's red letter day election were counted, it became obvious Alaskans favor statehood by a landslide margin of seven to one.

Tabulations of about two-thirds of a record-breaking vote, estimated to total 40,000, showed 22,214 for statehood and only 4,291 opposed.

Harrelson, Mary Thon, Herman Jailed

QUIZZED IN FIRE DEATH PROBE — Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamster Local 614, and Mrs. Mary Ann Thon (above), his close friend, were jailed last night pending further questioning in the torch-death of Frank Kierdorf. Frank's uncle, Herman Kierdorf, who has denied any knowledge of how Frank got to Pontiac after the fire incident, also was jailed for further questioning. Lower picture shows him being booked at the jail last night.

Harrelson's Activities Under Study

By PETE LOCHBILER

Any connection that might exist between the fatal burning of Flint Teamster Frank H. Kierdorf Aug. 3 and the activities immediately afterwards of Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamster Local 614, and of Herman Kierdorf, the victim's uncle and a former Detroit Teamster, may be investigated by the proposed one-man grand jury, according to officials.

Key witness, Adams said, would be Harrelson's ex-wife, Iris, whose statement to authorities yesterday rocked Harrelson's and Herman's alibis and brought new life to the three-week-old case.

Adams said Mrs. Harrelson had volunteered "a wealth of information" in a 45-page typewritten statement.

The petition will be prepared today by Adams, Ziem and Solicitor General Samuel Torina for submission before Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland late today or early tomorrow.

Ziem said he "concurred 100 per cent" with Adams' move. Adams said the principal crime to be probed is the destruction of evidence, "particularly Frank Kierdorf's clothing."

The 56-year-old Teamster business agent staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early Aug. 4 wearing only a bathrobe and shoes. He died three days later. His clothes have never been found.

With testimony by Mrs. Harrelson that her husband and Herman knew of Frank's burns early Aug. 4, Adams said, "there is every indication here that there has been a conspiracy to obstruct justice."

He said that the evidence is very strong that the arson and certain acts committed in Oakland County afterwards are tied together. He named Harrelson as one person involved in the suspected activities and Herman, a Madison Heights resident, as another.

The attorney general said that the prosecution of the grand jury (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Cloudy and Showers for City Tomorrow

The weatherman predicts partly cloudy and southwesterly 12-15 mile an hour winds tonight for the Pontiac area. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with showers and turning cooler.

For the next five days, temperatures will average three to five degrees below the normal high of 79 and normal low of 59. Tomorrow's high is expected to reach 75-80. Tomorrow night will be fair and cooler.

Friday and Saturday will be a little warmer with Sunday cool again. Precipitation will average one-half to three-quarters of an inch in showers Thursday and again Saturday.

Ex-Wife Tells of Unhappy Life Spent With Leann Harrelson

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

An indignant former wife of Pontiac Teamsters president Leann Harrelson last night told how her former husband left her "holding the bag."

"I thought of killing him many a time. Perhaps if I had a gun I would have," an angry Iris Harrelson told reporters.

She consented to an interview last night in Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor's office.

The ex-Mrs. Harrelson, divorced from her husband in 1952, related the unhappy details of her 17 rocky years of marriage, and charged Harrelson, 46, had "tricked" her in believing they were still married after the divorce.

Iris N. Harrelson yesterday suddenly rekindled the investigation of the Frank Kierdorf torch death when she placed Harrelson with Frank's uncle, Herman, a half hour before the Flint Teamsters organizer staggered into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with burns from head to foot.

"Why did you all of a sudden decide to talk about your former husband?" a reporter asked her.

"I guess probably because he hurt me so much. I want to forget him altogether," was her answer. She said she planned to resume her maiden name of Wuefling "because I want no part of him."

She described how newspaper accounts of the fire last week in the apartment of Mary Ann Thon, 28, Harrelson's close friend, "made it look like I was like her."

"She's no friend of mine. She never has been," she said.

She was asked if she had any ideas who might have set fire to Mrs. Thon's apartment at 60 Douglas a week ago.

"One of them could have done it. I thought of doing worse things than setting her apartment on fire, but not to her, but to him," she replied.

The blonde, five-foot, 40-year-old operator of a poolside snack bar at Oakland Hills Country Club told how she and Harrelson continued to share their 13-room $20,000 colonial home at 26 Delaware Dr., despite being divorced.

"He always led me to believe that I was his wife until I checked with my lawyer," she said.

"It certainly wasn't by my request that he came back. He came back on his own."

She said her former $150-a-week (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Ex-Wife of Harrelson Links Him With Uncle of Victim on Aug. 4

A one-man Oakland County grand jury will be asked to probe events following the fatal burning of Frank Kierdorf.

Decision to petition for the grand jury was made just before noon by Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem and Attorney General Paul L. Adams.

The petition is being prepared for submission to Circuit Court Judge H. Russell Holland late today or tomorrow. If granted, selection of a grand juror would be made by the entire bench.

The petition will ask specifically for investigation of events which may have occurred in Oakland County following the fire in a Flint cleaning establishment the night of Aug. 3 in which Frank Kierdorf is believed to have suffered fatal burns.

Such an investigation might involve Frank's uncle, Herman Kierdorf and any others who were involved in helping the victim reach St. Joseph Mercy Hospital about 1:30 a.m. the morning of Aug. 4.

"We feel there is indication of conspiracy to obstruct justice in this phase of the torch death probe," Adams said today.

The latest development comes on the heels of a possible link between Leann Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, and the Frank Kierdorf mystery torch death, made by Harrelson's ex-wife.

Revelation that Mrs. Harrelson had made extensive statements to Pontiac police regarding the possible tie-up was made late Tuesday afternoon in the 23-day-old investigation of the torch death.

Mrs. Iris Harrelson repeated yesterday to Michigan Attorney General Paul L. Adams an account of the early morning hours of Aug. 4, the same day Frank Kierdorf, Flint Teamsters organizer, stumbled near death into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

She told of a call received by Leann soon after midnight Aug. 4 from someone who said he was Herman Kierdorf, following which Leann dressed and left the house hurriedly. Within an hour or so Frank Kierdorf stumbled into St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, critically burned.

Her account of the telephone call was as follows:

She said she and her former husband (who was still living at 26 Delaware Dr.) retired around midnight on Aug. 3.

The telephone rang about a half hour later. She answered it and the voice at the other end of the line identified himself as Herman Kierdorf. He said he had "an important call" and wanted to speak to Leann.

As the result of the call, Leann hurriedly dressed and left the house. He called back during the course of the night to advise Mrs. Harrelson that he "was around and about," Adams quoted her as saying.

Hamarskjold Flies to Jordan

Tries to Calm Mideast So U.S., Britain Can Withdraw Troops

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Dag Hammarskjold arrived in Jordan today for the first round of talks to stabilize the Middle East enough for U. S. and British troops to go home.

The U. N. secretary general was greeted at the Amman airport by Premier Samir Rifai. They went directly to King Hussein's hilltop palace, Hammarskjold declined to discuss his peacemaking mission with reporters.

Hammarskjold and three aides flew to Amman from Beirut in a U. N. courier plane. During an overnight stop in the Lebanese capital, he conferred only with U. N. officials.

After a side trip to Geneva Saturday for the opening of the second arms-for-peace conference, Hammarskjold is expected to visit Cairo next week for talks with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. He will return to Beirut to discuss withdrawal of the American forces, will also visit Baghdad and may go also to Saudi Arabia.

The secretary general flew into Beirut from New York last night shortly after a gunfight on the road from the airport into the capital. All was quiet again when he drove into town under escort of Lebanese armored cars and security police.

The U. N. General Assembly last Thursday unanimously approved an Arab resolution calling on Hammarskjold to make arrangements to facilitate the early withdrawal of U. S. troops from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan. He also was asked to consult with the Arab states on plans for Middle Eastern economic development.

Hammarskjold's overnight stay in Beirut was billed as a rest stop, and his talks on the American withdrawal were left for his return. No Lebanese or American officials were at the airport to greet him.

The airport road clash reportedly was between Lebanese security forces and agitators in a Palestine refugee camp located within rebel lines. Hospital sources said two Lebanese were killed and six injured.

A Canadian sergeant in a white jeep of the U. N. observer group was caught in the crossfire and seriously wounded. His name was withheld.

Other Middle East developments: Iraq's new revolutionary government and the feudal regime of Yemen pledged to stand together in strengthening Arab and world peace. The pledge was signed by Iraqi Premier Abdul Karim Kassem and Yemen's Crown Prince Sali Al Badr, who concluded a four-day visit to Baghdad.

Showers Pelt Atlantic Coast; Fair Inland

By The Associated Press

Showers hit areas along the Atlantic Coast, the northern Midwest and central Rockies today but generally fair to partly cloudy weather prevailed in the major part of the nation.

Skies were cloudy along the Eastern Seaboard from Maine southward to Florida, with showers confined mostly near the coastline. Heavy rains fell in a few areas after general rainfall yesterday from Cape Cod southward.

The rain along the Eastern coast was an offshoot of Hurricane Daisy, located more than 200 miles off Florida's east coast. Rough seas were forecast for the next 24 hours along the shore from Cape Hatteras, N. C., to northern Florida.

Skip the Pepper—World Needs Apple Sauce

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Flator: "What this world needs most today is a little more flattery, a revival of the good old art of apple sauce."

A great deal of ridicule has been directed at the "yes man," but he fills a great need in society. We might do well with a few more of them.

Colleges now teach everything from bridge playing to how to cook an omelette. Why don't they have a course on the technique and use of flattery?

There is a saying that "flattery will get you nowhere." That saying is out-of-date and inaccurate.

The truth is that the pendulum has swung the other way. If flattery won't get it for you, nothing will.

SMOOTHLY WAY

Flattery is the banana oil that grazes the wheels of progress, and it never was more needed than right now. Mankind today is homesick for applause, and crying for a pat on the back.

We live in a century which, for one reason or another, goes in for too much self-hate. Practically everyone is afflicted with a sense of guilt—from panhandler to millionaire—and has a secret feeling he's a bum.

Even women are becoming infected with this general sense of unworthiness. Well, some women, anyway. Perhaps they reason that if men feel like bums they have an equal right to feel like bums, too.

Time was when most people knew their own motives were pure but suspected the motives of others. They liked to think of themselves as being just a bit better than their neighbors—a more honest, more sincere, more charitable, more moved by tolerance and good will.

No longer. Everybody seems to suspect himself first of all now. He needs no accusers. He not only casts the first stone—he casts it at himself. If he does a good deed, he asks himself cynically just what dark reason is really behind it.

SELF IS VILLAIN

The new psychology has turned us from self-applause to self-criticism. This wouldn't be bad in itself, if we didn't go overboard. But we have gone overboard. We are in danger of going on from self-questioning to self-hate. We are in danger of forgetting we are potential heroes as well as potential villains.

This mass sense of guilt has some odd aspects. The fat man becomes afraid to enjoy a good meal, for fear this shows he may be harboring a secret desire to commit suicide. The wealthy man hesitates to endow a charity, for fear he may really be doing it only to show off.

What we need now is a return to common sense and self-respect—and maybe a few career admirers to tell us we aren't really as bad as we think we are. We've run ourselves down long enough.

PASS APPLE SAUCE

Flattery, apple sauce, banana oil—call it what you will—it's what we need. It's far better than tranquilizers.

Everyone at heart today is yearning for someone to clap him on the shoulder and say: "Pal, you're real. The world wouldn't be the same without you."

If you can't get someone else to tell you that, tell it to yourself, over and over. In time you'll come to believe it, and feel better.

One last-ditch measure provides for segregation of classes should a school be forced to admit students of another race into the building.

Political observers expect the bills to be passed by the House and Senate today and to be signed by Faubus tomorrow.

The shows will be carried by Lansing and Cadillac stations and will center on newspaper clippings gathered by Mrs. Nancy Williams since her husband entered public life.

The books are said to be one of the best files of government and political events in Michigan in the past 10 years.

Pan American College, in Edinburg, Texas, is the southernmost four-year college in the United States.

Representatives Gayle Windsor Jr. and J. H. Cottrell Jr. prepared a bill for introduction today permitting school districts to lease their buildings to individuals or groups for operation as private schools, presumably to teach students whose public schools had closed.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The American Bar Assn. urges that appointment of federal judges be removed from politics.

He told reporters his weight had varied between 420 pounds and 285, but that he now was around 300. He testified about one reducing course that took "four or five inches of fat off my heart."

On one point Baker was firm: "I never got paid no $1,000" to arrange labor peace between the Teamsters Union and the Esco Motor Exhibitors Service Co., of McKees Rocks, Pa.

Away from Capitol Hill, a dispute was building up between two groups created to help cleanse corruption from the Teamsters Union. One is a court-appointed board of monitors; the other a group created by the union's president, James R. Hoffa. Republican former Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio heads the group set up by Hoffa.

Monitors spokesmen told a reporter they plan to seek a meeting next week with U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts to protest against what they call Hoffa's outrageous move in setting up his own cleanup group.

Letts appointed the monitors earlier this year in a compromise settlement of a suit by a group of Teamster members who had sought to block Hoffa from taking over the union presidency.

The monitors demanded that Hoffa give them a full explanation of the Bender commission he created. They asked for such an explanation by tomorrow.

Baker is an aide to Teamster Vice President Harold Gibbons, who bosses the union's activities in the St. Louis area.

The Senate committee heard testimony yesterday linking Gibbons with violence in St. Louis area labor disputes. Gibbons is listed to testify later in the week.

Grand Jury Requested to Probe Torch Burning

Harrelson left home. Burns covered 85 per cent of his body.

Mrs. Harrelson said her former husband didn't return home until 5 a.m. when he told her he had been with Herman Kierdorf and that Frank had been "badly burned up" in a fire, Adams quoted Iris Harrelson further.

(Herman Kierdorf had told investigators that he didn't learn of his nephew's burning until mid-morning Aug. 4 when called by a newspaper reporter.)

She was warned by Harrelson not to say a thing to anybody about the incident, she told reporters last night.

Adams said Mrs. Harrelson told also how her ex-husband informed her that he and Herman had disposed of Frank's charred clothing.

As the result of this new development, Adams and police last evening ordered the arrest of Harrelson, Herman Kierdorf, and Mrs. Mary Ann Thon, to be held for questioning.

At the same time, Adams indicated he was now "giving very serious consideration" to calling a grand jury investigation.

Samuel J. Turina, Michigan solicitor general, and considered an expert on such investigations, was with Adams in Pontiac as the new light was shed on the case.

Mrs. Harrelson's story came to light as Pontiac Police Detectives James F. Bale and Robert Wachal were investigating last Wednesday's arson attempt on Mrs. Thon's apartment at 60 Douglas St.

Wachal said during a 2½-hour talk with her Saturday, she was at first reluctant to say much. "She kept saying she didn't know who she could trust," Wachal said.

The operator of a snack bar at the Oakland Hills Country Club told newsmen she decided to be cooperative because newspaper publicity about the apartment fire "made it look like I was like her (Mrs. Thon)."

Mrs. Harrelson, the former Iris N. Wuefling of Pontiac, before her marriage to Leam in 1935, refused to say anything about her ex-husband's alleged connections with Herman Kierdorf when she consented to a news conference last night.

However, Adams said before reporters spoke to her, that "she has given us the whole story all over again. It's the same story almost right straight through, and it gives every evidence of being the straight story."

"I'll buy it," Adams said.

The ex-Mrs. Harrelson's story tore apart previous accounts given by Herman and Harrelson.

Herman, 67, of 2908 Spoon St., Madison Heights, supposedly had been cleared by a three-question lie-detector test last week. His passage of the test then exploded beliefs of police that he was a major link in the torch case.

But Adams pointed out last night "how careful" Herman had been, in consenting to take the test, not to go past midnight Aug. 4 in answering questions.

Herman Kierdorf, an ex-Teamsters official awaiting a repeat performance with the Senate Racke's Committee, dropped from sight around dinner time Aug. 4. He turned himself in Aug. 17, saying he wanted to get away "until things quieted down."

Harrelson, for six years Pontiac's Democratic representative in the Michigan House of Representatives before becoming 614 president in 1952, had been questioned several times in the Kierdorf case. Investigators apparently found no connection.

However, they discounted Harrelson's appearance around 2:30 a.m. Aug. 4 at the Pontiac police station inquiring whether his son, Leam Jr., had been arrested.

GM's Curtice Speaks for Donner, Gordon

The following statement was made today in Detroit by Harlow H. Curtice:

"The personnel and labor relations policies and practices of General Motors have been conceived and developed on the basis of what is sound and fair for our employees and all whose interests are involved."

"The record of 12 years of labor peace in General Motors speaks for itself. It has been a period of unprecedented progress for our employees."

"I speak on behalf of the newly-elected chairman of the board, Frederic G. Donner, and president, John F. Gordon, in saying that the consideration of what is sound and fair will continue to govern General Motors' approach to personnel and labor relations."

"Both Donner and Gordon have been close to past negotiations and they have followed the current negotiations from day to day."

"These negotiations have not resulted in a settlement so far because of the union's continuing insistence upon economic package demands that would cost General Motors 48 cents per hour per employee. This rigid union position has not changed since the agreement was terminated May 29."

"General Motors will continue to strive for a peaceful settlement that will be fair to our employees and sound from the standpoint of all concerned."

Harrelson, Sgt. O'Farrell said, became angry when he returned to the hall and asked, "What's this going to be, more questions about my 'love nest'?"

Later as Kierdorf examined his commitment papers at the jail, he remarked bitterly, "Those ... they think they're going to break me down." Sgt. Herb Dolby quoted him as saying.

In contrast, Kierdorf had only 367 on him while Harrelson had $780 when they were booked by Dolby.

Mary Ann Thon was taken to the Women's Division on the third floor of the jail.

Wachal said Harrelson inquired whether she had been arrested as the detectives booked him at the Pontiac police headquarters.

Shortly afterwards, Wachal said Harrelson's son called and asked if his father had been arrested. It was not the first time the elder Harrelson had been arrested.

His last arrest came in March of this year when he was arrested for showing obscene movies in an Auburn Heights VFW hall to raise funds for his campaign for president of Local 614. He and four others later pleaded guilty to a lowered charge of disorderly conduct and paid $37 each in fines and costs.

Harrelson was elected this past May in a union election after James R. Hoffa, Teamsters-International president, decided to lift his three-year-old trusteeship over Local 614.

Past Teamsters president Dave Beck had appointed Harrelson president of the 3,500-member local in 1952 under Hoffa after two former top officers, Daniel J. Keating and Louis C. Lintean, of the local were convicted of extortion.

Harrelson's criminal record also shows 15 days for simple larceny (1934), 90 days probation for burglary (1937), dismissal of a rape charge (1938), and 10 days and $15 costs for reckless driving (1938).

He was also once charged with grand larceny, but the complaint failed to press the charge.

The he a v-y-s-e-t, chubby-faced Teamsters president was first elected state representative in 1948.

Ex-Wife Tells of Life With Harrelson union husband had been going with Mrs. Thon, a divorcee with three children, for three years "off and on," even though he would not admit it.

"He didn't have to," she snapped, "I knew where he was."

She continually refused to discuss details of Harrelson's hurried departure from home Aug. 4, the day Frank Kierdorf was left at the hospital, in response to an "important" call from Herman Kierdorf.

Mrs. Harrelson related how her husband had told her, but not in a threatening manner, not to discuss his alleged connection in the mystery burning.

"I think I should have some protection now," she replied to a question about being afraid. She has been given this by State Police.

Mrs. Thon called her, Mrs. Harrelson said, to the Oakland County Boat Club bar two days before the apartment fire "to straighten out who should be going with him (Leam)."

"He naturally chose her," Mrs. Harrelson said bitterly.

However, things were not always too rosy between Harrelson and his friend, she said.

"She once burned 15 of his suits and some of the cufflinks I gave him in the incinerator because I guess she was mad because he probably was going out with somebody else."

She said he never discussed Teamsters business with her, but that they had entertained Herman Kierdorf, Daniel J. Keating, Louis C. Lintean, all ex-Teamsters and ex-convicts, and others in their home.

"He (Harrelson) really put on the dog for these guys. But it was always me that was left holding the bag."

She told how she had paid for sending him to the Detroit College of Law in 1948 by working for her father in a Detroit trucking firm.

Mrs. Harrelson had come to the prosecutor's office directly from work. She was still attired in a white waitress uniform and white work shoes.

Questioned as to what Harrelson did for a living before he was elected state representative from Pontiac in 1948, Mrs. Harrelson smiled and answered: "I should say nothing."

"But he always seemed to have plenty of money," she said. She said her ex-husband "played the horses" and could be described as "an excessive drinker."

But he managed to pay $64 a month mortgage payment on their home, besides $160 each month for paying for a 1953 black Cadillac.

"Let me ask you one final question you don't have to answer," one newsmen asked as a halt was put to the questioning. "How old are you?"

"I'm 40," Mrs. Harrelson unhesitatingly answered.

"And my husband said I was too old for him," an embittered Mrs. Harrelson added.

Arkansas Races to Block Court

Speeding to Pass Bills for School Segregation Before Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department will file a brief in the Little Rock school integration case with the Supreme Court tomorrow morning.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature, raced the clock today to pass a sheaf of anti-integration bills before the U.S. Supreme Court meets to take up the Little Rock school controversy.

A special House Education Committee last night whipped through and approved 12 measures aimed at blocking forced integration and at crippling the effectiveness of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People in integration lawsuits.

The Supreme Court meets in extraordinary session tomorrow to rule, in effect, on whether the Little Rock school system shall receive a breathing spell of months or perhaps years before it integrates a second time as it did last fall.

It was to block a possible Supreme Court ruling demanding immediate integration that Gov. Orval E. Faubus convened the Legislature yesterday.

The key measure he placed before the lawmakers gives the governor power to shut the doors of any schoolhouse the federal government seeks to integrate by force or court order. A followup bill would permit students thus displaced to carry their state school funds to a school of their choice.

One last-ditch measure provides for segregation of classes should a school be forced to admit students of another race into the building.

Political observers expect the bills to be passed by the House and Senate today and to be signed by Faubus tomorrow.

Representatives Gayle Windsor Jr. and J. H. Cottrell Jr. prepared a bill for introduction today permitting school districts to lease their buildings to individuals or groups for operation as private schools, presumably to teach students whose public schools had closed.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The American Bar Assn. urges that appointment of federal judges be removed from politics.

He told reporters his weight had varied between 420 pounds and 285, but that he now was around 300. He testified about one reducing course that took "four or five inches of fat off my heart."

On one point Baker was firm: "I never got paid no $1,000" to arrange labor peace between the Teamsters Union and the Esco Motor Exhibitors Service Co., of McKees Rocks, Pa.

Away from Capitol Hill, a dispute was building up between two groups created to help cleanse corruption from the Teamsters Union. One is a court-appointed board of monitors; the other a group created by the union's president, James R. Hoffa. Republican former Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio heads the group set up by Hoffa.

Monitors spokesmen told a reporter they plan to seek a meeting next week with U. S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts to protest against what they call Hoffa's outrageous move in setting up his own cleanup group.

Letts appointed the monitors earlier this year in a compromise settlement of a suit by a group of Teamster members who had sought to block Hoffa from taking over the union presidency.

The monitors demanded that Hoffa give them a full explanation of the Bender commission he created. They asked for such an explanation by tomorrow.

Baker is an aide to Teamster Vice President Harold Gibbons, who bosses the union's activities in the St. Louis area.

The Senate committee heard testimony yesterday linking Gibbons with violence in St. Louis area labor disputes. Gibbons is listed to testify later in the week.

He told reporters his weight had varied between 420 pounds and 285, but that he now was around 300. He testified about one reducing course that took "four or five inches of fat off my heart."

The Day in Birmingham

Halloween Party's Fate Rests on C. of C. Survey

BIRMINGHAM — The fate of Birmingham's annual Halloween party may be decided by a Chamber of Commerce survey. It was requested by Roland Reese, chairman of the event.

Members of the group will be polled on whether they approve the present method of running the party and whether they are willing to support it financially.

Last year 6,000 youngsters from pre-school through high school age participated in the gala affair. Despite efforts to keep expenses for food, prizes and entertainment at a minimum, there was a $400 deficit last year, Reese said.

Begun in 1936, the community party and parade was sponsored primarily to curb mischief in the city. From the start it proved a success.

During the past few years, there has been a tendency for children to hold individual parties, according to Reese. Several groups have dropped out of the community celebration, mainly because they are on the outskirts of the school district and are required to travel too far, Reese said.

At last year's committee meetings prior to the party, Reese questioned the advisability of continuing the annual event. He said he feels that as the only community-wide celebration, it is worth the great deal of effort to keep it going. It has practically eliminated the typical Halloween pranks and damage in the city, he said.

A waitress at the Kingsley Inn is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital being treated for possible skull fracture after an assault and attempted rape.

Bloomfield Hills Police said the young woman was assaulted as she entered her car yesterday morning in parking lot behind the building.

She told police her assailant had been hiding in the back seat of her car, and attacked her as she prepared to drive off. When she resisted, he struck her over the head with a bottle and drove her car with her in it to Pontiac.

She said she jumped from the auto after reaching the city and notified Pontiac Police.

Her purse was found yesterday in Pontiac by a child, and the car located parked on a Pontiac street.

The three senior citizen groups at the Birmingham Community House will get into their full schedule next week.

The Senior Activities Group, made up of men and women, will meet at 7:30 p.m. the first and third Mondays for a cards and social hour.

Women in the Senior Work Shop will meet each Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to work on hospital projects.

The Senior Men's Club, co-sponsored by the Recreation Board and Community House, will meet from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays and Fridays. Card games, shuffle board and horse-shoe pitching, as well as occasional field trips and speaker programs, are scheduled.

money by mail to Baker in Washington, D. C., Detroit and Chicago. He said Baker wanted the money "on a loan basis."

"I may be criticized for this statement," Callahan said, "but frankly I liked Barney Baker. I also felt if the time came when he could help me, he would."

Teamster president James R. Hoffa arrived at the hearing room after Kennedy's announcement that Baker was stricken.

Baker, a tremendous eater, had told the committee last week of spending thousands of dollars on reducing courses at hospitals.

He told reporters his weight had varied between 420 pounds and 285, but that he now was around 300. He testified about one reducing course that took "four or five inches of fat off my heart."

Marlette Girl Wins Bean Queen Crown

MARLETTE — The new Sanilac County bean queen is blue-eyed, brunette, Sally, Hobson, 17, of Marlette.

Sally was crowned by last year's bean queen, Mary Garlick, also of Marlette, Saturday night at the closing program of the Sanilac County 4-H Fair.

Winner of second place in the bean queen contest was Betty Lansburg, 17, of Sandusky, and third was Shirley Dorland, 23, of Decker.

Queen Sally is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee G. Hobson, who operate a 185-acre farm at 4165 Van Dyke Rd., three miles south of Marlette.

She is a senior at Marlette Community High School, majoring in commercial courses. She enjoys singing, taking all parts in the choir of the Marlette Methodist Church and glee club.

Physician Warns of Blackout Peril

Spacemen Face Dangers on Returning

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

AMSTERDAM—Coming home to earth could hold the greatest danger of blackout and disaster for spacemen, a U.S. Air Force physician reported to the International Astronautical Federation today.

The danger would result from the sudden speedup from the earth's pull of gravity after the weightlessness of outer space.

This change is apparently tougher on the human system than going from the dragging weight of rocket takeoff into weightlessness when a ship is flying in space, said Dr. Harald J. von Beckh of Holloman Air Force Base, at Alamogordo, N.M.

Volunteers were photographed and analyzed as they rode in the rear cockpit of jet fighters. The planes pulled out of dives — simulating the terrible gravity pull of rocket takeoff—then arched in weightless flight, then sped up again.

With heavy gravity pulls, the passengers' faces became distorted as by sudden age. The men became confused. Their chest hurt. They felt faint or blacked out. The pilots were protected by gravity suits.

All volunteers said they felt the gravity effects more keenly after being weightless. Von Beckh reported. Some were experienced jet pilots; some had never flown before.

Defects in circulation, in muscular control, vision, and judgment likely will occur at lower accelerations and probably will continue a longer time in space flight than in normal flight, Von Beckh added.

Blackouts could be fatal, with the uncontrolled space ship turning into a flaming meteor.

Alaska Waited Enough: Dinner Before Ballots

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans waited 91 years for statehood and the women election judges at nearby Revilla precinct figured another few minutes wouldn't matter.

His new owner, Mrs. Margaret Pederson, of Watsonville, Calif., helped replace the loss of his mother's feeding by weaning him on a doll's bottle. Now, 4 months old, Sparky still enjoys a nibble at the tiny bottle. He lies back in a baby doll buggy most of the time to gobble up the contents.

Say Animal Tumors Retarded by Fungus

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — The lowly puffball, a fungus commonly found in Michigan woods and meadows, has been found to have tumor-inhibiting properties in mice, scientists were told today.

A team of researchers from Michigan State University and the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research reported the finding to the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

The investigators said the discovery is primarily of theoretical interest and that specific substances responsible for retarding the animal tumors have not yet been isolated.

MSU and the Sloan-Kettering Institute have collaborated for more than a decade in the study of tumor-inhibiting substances in plants. The work is continuing.

Where They Originally Started Hotels Returning to Roadsides

(With American motorists traveling as never before, United Press International decided to find out how all these tourists were being accommodated. Travel officials and heads of motel and hotel organizations throughout the country reported that not only is there a boom in motel construction but that hotels are actively entering the motel field. The following, one of two dispatches, describes the motel boom.)

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI) — A U.S. travel revolution is putting the hotel industry back by the side of the road—where it started in Biblical days.

With the public turning more to autos, airplanes and buses for travel, motels are springing up at a rate of about 5,000 a year, on highways and super-highways, in suburbs, at resorts and even in busy downtown areas.

The total number of motels stands at nearly 60,000 today, twice the number of hotels. The editors of the American Motel Magazine predict there will be 95,000 motels by 1970, and only 32,500 hotels.

Some new motels are being built with hotel-type facilities, including even ballrooms and banquet halls. And many hotels are becoming more like motels, with parking space near every room, special automobile entrances, an accent on informality—and no tipping.

The changes are coming in such a way that a brand new hybrid with a centuries-old name is emerging.

It is the roadside inn, or highway house. Its prototype dates back to Old Testament times, when parking spaces were provided for camels and burros. English travelers still use ancient inns. Western U.S. travelers parked their ponies outside a log inn on the Santa Fe Trail in the 1860s.

Today's version, when not described as a motel, is called a motor inn, and the highways leading to it are paved with gold, as far as the management is concerned.

Accommodations at the modern inn bear little resemblance to those of ancient times—or even to the first motels that began serving American tourists in the 1920s. Some of those tourist courts had neither bedding nor running water. Patrons brought their own blankets and hauled water in pith helmets and buckets.

Tonight, more than 1,500,000 Americans are staying in 1,197,000 motel rooms, according to H. H. Mobley, executive vice president of the American Motel Assn. at Kansas City, Mo.

That's an estimated 80 per cent of the domestic traveling public, Mobley said.

He predicted there would be 2,000,000 motel rooms by 1968.

According to a survey made by the Tourist Court Journal of Temple, Tex., travelers spend $5,600,000 a day for motel accommodations ranging from one-room "shacks" to a $130-a-day suite in a Sarasota, Fla., skyscraper hotel. Most of the motels are individually owned, but more and more chains are being developed.

Some of these travelers receive room service by jeep. Some listen to piped-in music, play shuffleboard, swim in pools with retractable plastic domes. Dance, play golf, bathe in sunken, mosaic-lined tubs in replicas of Roman baths, play an electric organ or buzz off by helicopter-taxi for a show in town while a motel-provided baby sitter watches the kids.

An Oklahoma City motel provides travel-tense guests with gentle foot vibration massages as they register. A Wisconsin motel has beauty and barber shops. A rumpus room, instead of a lobby, is going into a Tonawanda, N.Y., motel. And another Sarasota motel will paint a room any color a guest wishes, if he is staying at least a week.

When the Out of This World Inn opened in Miami, the first guests were greeted by models in space helmets. A New Jersey motel will have an ice skating rink. Every room is different at the International Motel in Rochester, Minn., where the Mexican room has beds hanging by chains from the ceiling and the Egyptian room contains a mummy.

That is how far the motel has come since the first tourist court to bear the name was opened in San Luis Obispo, Calif., in 1926, according to American Motel Magazine historians.

No one will speculate on how long the motel boom may last. Every new highway provides a potential market, and with 41,000 miles of federal super highways now in the making, the industry is looking forward to its first three-billion-dollar year within the next decade.

In Florida alone, motel building permits have been issued so far this year at a rate of one a day.

The motel industry passed the two-billion-dollar mark last year, having catered to a total of 554,558,733 guests, who used facilities representing a total investment of more than $8,000,000,000, according to the Tourist Court Journal survey.

The American Motel Magazine reported motels used 65,640,000 bath mats, nearly 6,000,000 towels and more than 3,500,000 glasses in 1957.

Mobley said that until the 19th Century, travel accommodations always were along roads. Then the development of vast rail networks put hotels in downtown areas, near terminals, he said. Hotels also served the large port cities, where ships docked.

"With the wane of railroad travel and the increase in travel by automobile," he said, "we just went back to a new edition of the old inn."

Now, with the jet air travel age dawning, motel-type facilities are being planned for most of the major airports.

Elmer Jenkins, national travel director of the American Automobile Assn., said the better motels today have all the facilities that can be found in the average hotel. Some, he said, actually rival the country's best hotels.

"Thus," he said, "in the short space of two decades, the humble tourist cabin, with its lone spigot of cold running water, has graduated to the deluxe motor hotel with all the conveniences and luxuries of modern-day living and such trills as swimming pools, TV in every room, combination tub and shower baths, wall-to-wall carpeting, children's playgrounds, air-conditioning, and so forth."

Seeks to End Strike of Mexican Students

MEXICO CITY (AP)—President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines stepped in last night to seek the end of a five-day university student strike protesting bus fare increases in Mexico City.

His secretary Benito Coquet met with a delegation of about 25 students while another 30,000 demonstrated peacefully in front of the presidential palace.

The students said Coquet asked for a 24-hour truce in the student violence which flared over the weekend into bus burnings and other destruction. Ruiz Cortines will try to solve the dispute during the truce, Coquet reportedly said.

There was no immediate indication whether the students would accede to the request, but the delegation said only one point in the student demands still was pending. It did not specify which one.

The students have asked for government control of the bus system, annulment of the 5 centavo (less than half a cent) increase and removal of soldier guards from around the university grounds.

Space Scientist Tells How Satellites Could Erase Radioactive Band

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (AP)—"Sweeper" satellites could houseclean away the dangerous band of radioactivity high above the earth, a space scientist suggested today.

This radiation is the mystery halo discovered by Explorer satellites and Sputniks. It apparently could be deadly to humans.

But sweepers could clear a channel so humans could safely zoom off on space trips, Dr. S. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland told the International Astronautical Federation, meeting here this week.

Or space ships might escape it by taking off over the poles, where there are apparently natural holes in the belt, he continued. As another idea, space ships might be equipped with magnetic screens to fend off the radiation. All these schemes would avoid tremendously heavy lead shielding.

The radiation band, he continued, probably stretches 40,000 miles above the earth before it dwindles away.

The radiation band might even extend all the way to the moon, Dr. Fred Whipple, Smithsonian Institution astronomer, told a reporter.

Singer said the radiation appears thinner at higher latitudes and nonexistent at the poles. He theorizes it is made of protons—positively charged atomic particles—trapped in the earth's magnetic field.

The space sweepers could be satellites, about 30 feet in diameter, circling the earth above the equator, and soaking up the protons faster than they are being formed.

Divorces Wife
After 8 Years

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The eight-year marriage of actor Ernest Borgnine and his wife Rhoda is ended. The divorce, granted Mrs. Borgnine yesterday, will cost Borgnine at least a third of a million dollars in the next 15 years.

She charged cruelty, and the Academy Award winner did not contest her suit. Custody of a daughter, Nancy Allison, 6, was awarded to Mrs. Borgnine.

Borgnine agreed to pay $115 monthly child support, give Mrs. Borgnine the $45,000 family home and pay her 12½ per cent of his gross income or a minimum of $2,000 monthly for the next 15 years.

Give Big Boost —to California

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP)—It wasn't Jeanie Gehm's fault that her good will efforts in behalf of Florida failed. The guy in the audience should have eaten his orange and kept his mouth shut.

Jeanie, 14, of Miami, was a contestant in the Miss Majorette Princess of America contest here. In the finale of her act she tossed out a handful of recently purchased oranges to the audience. On each orange was a piece of tape bearing Jeanie's name and the state she represented.

It was fine until one man in the audience stripped away the tape and let the cat out of the bag. They were California oranges.

Smashes 14 Cars, Boy, 10, Takes Fifth

DETROIT (AP)—Ten-year-old Desmond McDuffie had an argument with his widowed mother last night and decided to return to his former home in Memphis, Tenn.

Desmond got out his mother's car and left. He got about two miles from home before he gave up. Police said the boy struck at least 14 parked cars before crashing through a fence and flattening the back porch of a house. Desmond fled on foot.

Police found him hiding under a pile of cartons at a nearby grocery. They said the boy told them: "I ain't talking. I'm taking the Fifth Amendment."

Agree on Plan to Pay Debt

$72,800 Owed U. S. to Be Returned Over 35-Year Period

City Commissioners decided last night to take more than 35 years to pay the federal government a $72,800 debt incurred for public housing six years ago.

Under a scheme that was suggested by federal officials, City Manager Walter K. Willman said, the money will come out of Lakeside Housing Project revenues after that project has paid for itself.

The debt represents federal advances made for Pontiac Housing Commission studies of other possible sites for another low cost rental project in 1952 and 1953. Roy M. MacAfee, housing director, said.

The advances were to have been paid back out of revenues from the new project, but since it was never built the revenues were never forthcoming.

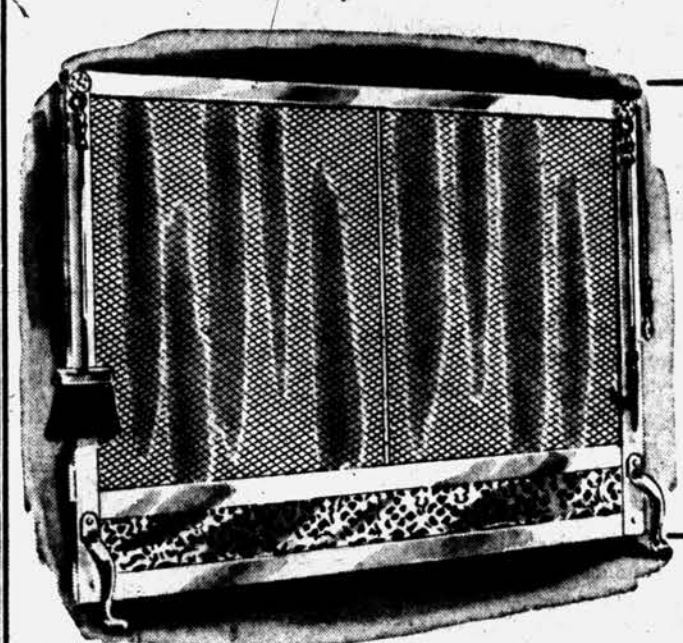

Willman said the city and Federal Housing Administration have been negotiating the debt ever since.

MacAfee estimated it will take 35 to 40 years before the Lakeside project pays for itself and by that time, he figured, that $72,800 and its accumulated annual interest will amount to around $144,000.

How soon the debt can be paid off is "anybody's guess," MacAfee said, since Lakeside profits vary from $15,000 to $35,000 a year in good years to no profits at all in bad ones.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry objected to the arrangement, saying that it was an "unfair burden" to place on the Lakeside residents of three or four decades from now.

Other commissioners and Willman, however, argued that since the debt involved public housing, it should be paid back out of housing revenues.

MR. and MRS. HARRY D. DEARBORN

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Rev. John J. Hoar, pastor of St. Benedict's Church, Pontiac, performed the Saturday marriage ceremony uniting Delores Ann Gottschalk and Harry D. Dearborn.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gottschalk of 3859 Cooley Lake Rd. Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dearborn of 1107 Airway Dr. are the bridegroom's parents.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of tulle and lace over taffeta with a Peter Pan collar and sequin-covered bodice. She wore a fingertip veil secured by a seed pearl headpiece, and carried white orchids and white rose on a Bible.

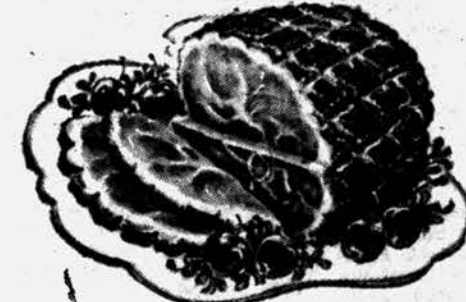

Barbara Jean Gottschalk, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor. Another sister, Jacqueline; Eldonna Dearborn, sister of the bridegroom, and Betty Jean Dobson, all of Waterford Township, were bridesmaids.

Best man was Richard Magman of Waterford Township. William Gottschalk, brother of the bride, Kenneth Morrow of Waterford Township seated the guests.

A reception was held at the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Following a northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside in Waterford Township. Melvin Karrian of Pontiac and

GM Corporation Will Continue in Hands of Energetic Leaders

Although still "young, strong and vigorous," HARLOW H. CURTICE bows before a General Motors edict and lays aside the reins he has held so firmly the past five years. As a matter of fact, he has been with the Corporation just six years short of a half century and he has had an assertive finger on those same reins for many additional years.

Newspapers will never let the public forget that Mr. CURTICE got his first job in answer to a want ad for a bookkeeper and thereafter his rise in General Motors was swift and certain for he "had what it takes" from the beginning.

The bulk of his time was spent with the Buick Motor Company and he never relinquished his residence in Flint. The sight of his airplane crossing Oakland County from Flint to Detroit is familiar to thousands of our residents, although many of the spectators didn't realize that the head of the largest corporation in the world was currently passing above.

Mr. CURTICE has been a tireless worker and the clock was simply a "piece of equipment." He never sought the limelight and remained in the background which the sheltering protection of the General Motors Building provided. He possessed enormous capacity and it was always at work.

ALBERT BRADLEY, Chairman of the Board, also retires. Mr. BRADLEY was not as well known in Pontiac and he has been actively connected with the financial maze which confronts a corporation the size of General Motors. It's a breath-taking operation. Scholarly, almost diffident, he had a warm smile and friendly approach. He has been in New York, although he once lived here and he graduated from the University of Michigan.

Frederic G. Donner, originally a Michigan resident and a Phi Beta Kappa graduate from the University, becomes Chairman of the Board. Mr. Donner will carry the great honor of "head man" with dignity and an easy savoir-faire that bespeaks top flight representation for the corporation. Associates talk glowingly of his ability and of him personally. Although he is currently a resident of New York, this city hopes to become better acquainted with him in the days ahead. In both finance and production circles he is amply equipped and prepared.

Oakland County's JOHN F. GORDON is the new President of the huge corporation and is backed by a steady succession of splendid and brilliant achievement in previous posts. A graduate of the Naval Academy, he is now second in command of the biggest corporation in the world and he is eminently qualified. This is a signal honor, and one obviously reserved for only a few. Incidentally, Mr. GORDON now ranks a 21 gun salute from the entire U. S. Navy.

James E. Goodman, another well known Oakland County man, succeeds Mr. Gordon and his latest elevation will be warmly acclaimed in Pontiac where he has many personal friends and where he has attended several civic functions. He should rank as the hourly employees' hero for he came up the hard way, without benefit of a college education. Mr. Goodman has always been very popular.

Surely time marches on. It wasn't so long ago that Mr. CURTICE was named President and Chief Executive officer. It wasn't so long ago that JOHN F. GORDON left Cadillac and became an official in the GM building.

This is a swift age and it takes men of tremendous capacity to "match up" to the requirements of the shifting, changing panorama. Top flight executives today must be fluid, alert to the new and constantly in quest of better methods. Back in antediluvian days, a turtle whipped a hare in a celebrated sweepstakes, but those days are gone forever. Today the plodding turtle wouldn't even get untracked until they were pressing the laurel wreath on the brow of the winner.

Fortunately for Pontiac, General Motors is loaded with aggressive, capable, and brilliant top flight personnel.

A RECENT rare case of metamorphosis: A vicuna coat became a hair shirt.

The Man About Town Not for 33 Years Has There Been a Snake Bite Death in Michigan

Speed cop: Who's trying to save our lives — in spite of ourselves.

Suspicion of propaganda for the sale of snake bite cures is engendered by television publicity. I have checked with both S. C. Whitlock of the Michigan Department of Conservation, and Dr. F. S. Leeder who is in charge of such matters with the Michigan Department of Health, and find that there hasn't been a death from this cause in the entire state in 33 years. Quite persistently in the Pontiac area television publicity is being released that seeks to make us believe that we are infested with rattlers.

The nature of the weather and moisture conditions this summer have caused some snakes to come out of their usual haunts in our swamps, and appear on higher ground, which might make some timid souls think they are on the increase. But even then a rattlesnake is not as dangerous as your own automobile.

An employee of the dietary department of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, Bonnie Brookshear has everything else besides good looks to make her the ideal peach queen that she is.

It also is a great year for the weeds, according to Karl Hylandson of Waterford, who measured a burdock (in a neighbor's yard) that tops nine feet.

If the notorious ragweed is the hay fever culprit that some people claim, the Pontiac area should be a better haven for the sufferers than some of our neighbors. Thanks to Chairman

Soi D. Lomerson and other members of our County Road Commission, it is not allowed to grow along our highways to the extent that it thrives in neighboring counties.

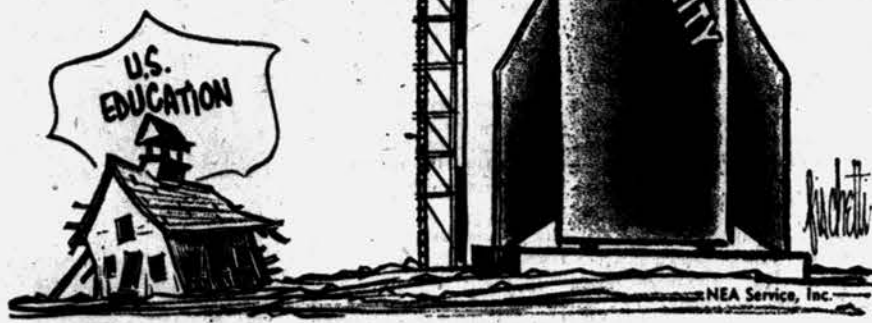

Chairman of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce committee, Clyde R. Haskill points out that it will be easy to get out the vote if everybody will only do his (or her) plain duty. It's up to you.

Money Alone Isn't Going to Get That Thing Launched

David Lawrence Says:

Millionaires to Battle for Office

WASHINGTON — There was a time in American politics when a rich man found his wealth a handicap to candidacy for high office.

But it isn't true today. In New York, for example, Nelson A. Rockefeller has just won the Republican nomination for governor and will oppose Governor Averell Harriman, Democrat. Both come from wealthy families.

Oddly enough, the advantages of the rich man as a candidate are now pointed to as being distinctly of benefit to the electorate. This follows the reasoning of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, who once wrote a magazine article in which he said that, unless a man had accumulated an estate of $100,000—so that his income would make him independent of his salary—he would not make as successful a public servant as one who possessed that particular advantage.

RESIST TEMPTATIONS

The theory is that the rich man will resist temptations in the performance of his public office, because he has already accumulated enough wealth so that he doesn't have to think of what he will do once he leaves office. Hence his point of view is likely to be more closely attuned to the public welfare.

Men of wealth have often entered into politics, but in recent years the men of riches in public life have been largely those who have inherited wealth. There is no doubt that money-making itself has no lure for Rockefeller or for Governor Harriman. They find a greater satisfaction in endeavoring to perform a public service for their fellow men.

More interesting perhaps than the wealth of these two gubernatorial candidates is their ancestry. Governor Harriman's father, the late E. H. Harriman, was the railroad king of America and a national and international figure in finance in the 1890s and early 1900s.

NEVER RAN

Although he never ran for or held public office, he was highly influential in the Republican Party during the administrations of McKinley and Theodore Roosevelt. He openly boasted that he could buy a sufficient number of senators and congressmen or state legislators to protect his interests, and, when necessary, could buy the judiciary.

Harriman was among those later to be denounced by President Roosevelt as "malefactors of great wealth." In 1904, even though Harriman mistrusted Roosevelt as the party nominee, the railroad magnate contributed heavily to the Republican presidential campaign.

In an effort to win Harriman's financial support, Roosevelt wrote a letter that became public in a sensation of those days. In it, the President had, in effect, asked Harriman to forget the attacks of the past because, as he said to Harriman, "You and I are practical men."

The grandfather of Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller on his mother's side was the noted senator from Rhode Island, Nelson Aldrich, longtime Republican leader and "boss" of the Senate. He was conspicuous as sponsor of monetary legislation, and headed the National Monetary Commission whose report to Congress in 1912 was later embodied in modified form in a law which established the present Federal Reserve system.

Certainly this campaign will be watched by the nation not only because New York is the country's most populous state, but because of the well known personalities who are the top contenders.

(Copyright, 1958)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Too Much Relaxation Causes Blood to Stagnate

In a recent column, I said: Everyone who wants to enjoy good health and vite must learn that an adequate reserve or store of calcium in the body makes for youth and flexibility. Depletion of the calcium reserve makes for stiffness and decrepitude. . . . Depletion of the calcium reserve is rapid and often disastrous when a person past 40 is immobilized for several weeks. . . .

I want to impress upon you the fact that a reasonable amount of general exercise — equivalent to walking 3 to 6 miles a day—helps maintain the calcium reserve, just as lack of exercise helps to deplete it. . . . I am walking, not lolling. . . . Walking to and from work, office, school.

With this decline of the store of calcium (largely to the bones), in a person confined to bed or chair for weeks or months, there is a loss of tone, firmness, elasticity in the muscles—not only the voluntary muscle but also the involuntary muscle of the heart, arteries, stomach and intestine.

Muscle tone is comparable with elasticity or stretch in rubber. When rubber loses elasticity, it is no longer efficient functionally. Bear in mind that all the deleterious effects of prolonged rest in bed or in chair occur, through perhaps less obviously, in every one who does not get a reasonable amount of general exercise daily.

Do not confuse healthy muscle tone with strength or big muscles. The purpose of good physical training, which boys and girls should get in school, is to develop muscle tone, alertness, agility. Many boys who are permitted to evade physical education in school, later spend time and money on "courses" of weight lifting and similar freak activities that usually stifle any athletic attainment the boys might have had.

In health the normal contraction of the muscles, as in walking briskly, aids the circulation by pumping blood from the capillary bed, after it has oozed through the tissue, where it gives oxygen to the cells and takes on a load of carbon dioxide, through the smallest veins (venules) and on through the larger veins back to the right side of the heart, which pumps it to the lungs for re-oxygenation.

If the muscles are not sufficiently used, the tendency is for blood to stagnate in the capillary spaces, and in the venules, so that the body cells do not get enough oxygen or nutritive material to function well.

Next time you drive your chariot or take a streetcar, subway, taxi or bus when you might get there on your own power, remember the bad effects to excessive rest.

Here in Yankeland we make a fetish of relaxation. Professional people, white collar workers, business people and students suffer from too much rest or relaxation. What they need is a brisk two or three mile walk to shop, school or office every morning and another walk home every evening.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Love Develops With Proper Fuel

Read Virginia's true confession given in my office. It is typical of every similar case where two people who respected each other and held similar ideals, got married, even without the ecstatic type of love before the wedding ceremony. For love can be developed. But please pick A-1 matrimonial "merchandise" before your marriage.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE 2-303: Virginia R., is the uncertain girl who debated marriage, as described yesterday.

You will notice that her surname has changed, for two months have elapsed.

"Dr. Crane, I can't thank you enough," she began enthusiastically.

"You may recall that I was teetering on the verge of marriage but felt I wasn't sure that I loved my fiancé."

"Well, you gave me the psychological 'push' that tipped the scales, and I got married the very next day, while my courage was still high."

"And it is the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me. I can't understand why I ever debated so long!"

"It must have been that spinsters' indecision that you mentioned, for now I am happier than I have ever been in my whole life."

"Marriage is marvelous and I recommend it to everybody who can find a person with similar ideals and background."

"My love keeps growing greater every day and that is the truth!"

'Red Diplomatic Relations Weakens Moral Position'

Patrick Henry said during an outstanding crisis that "The question before the House is one of awful moment to the country." Moscow's spying gangsters in the United States are a matter of "awful moment" to the people. Russia is in no hurry, but to us time is essential.

The chances are that there will be no shooting war. Russia knows that in this event, life would be extinguished and no nation nor peoples left to be communized. But China and the Kremlin believe a cold war over a period of about 25 years will wipe out the value of our money. The atomic bomb is not so much to be feared as the slow attrition of our Constitutional free enterprise system.

Why do we continue diplomatic relations with Moscow and her captive countries? This weakens our moral position all over the world. Why drink with the Red Russians and not the Red Chinese? A nation with spies, posing as diplomats at our Capitol, should not be invited to our diplomatic teas. They continue to plot iniquitous deals to destroy our institutions while drinking our wines.

We must realize communism is a merciless force that is used to destroy the principles of our republic. The League of Nations expelled Russia for much less than the Reds are doing now. Recognition of the Reds is no longer consistent, nor supportable, with our nation's self-respect.

U.S. Can Only Speculate on Red Chinese Plans

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the penalties this country pays for nonrecognition of the Red Chinese—which means we have no representative in China to talk with them—is that we don't know what they're up to. We guess.

And there's been no end of guessing these past few days on why the Chinese Communists on mainland China are blasting away at Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on the offshore islands, like Quemoy.

Since one guess looks as good as another, here are two:

1. The Reds may wind up just trying to grab a couple of tiny, insignificant islets to boost their prestige a bit.

2. They may also be doing this to help the Soviets put pressure on the United States to get its troops out of Lebanon.

The Chinese Communists didn't start the fireworks against the offshore islands — Chiang's main place is on Formosa—until after Soviet Premier Khrushchev visited Peking a few weeks ago.

The United States is now sufficiently concerned about the Red Chinese tactics to put the 7th Fleet on the alert around the Formosa Strait.

So long as American troops remain in Lebanon, there could be an explosion. So long as there is shooting near Formosa, the United States might get mixed up there.

The last thing this country wants is to have to fight in two places at once, and two places as far apart as Lebanon and the Formosa Strait.

So—the Soviets may have felt a rumour around Quemoy might be added inducement for the United States to get out of Lebanon. Formosa and the islands of Quemoy and Matsu are heavily defended by Chiang's forces. For the Red Chinese to try to take the islands would be a bloody task. It might involve shooting with the United States.

If they tried to take Formosa—since the United States has a treaty with Chiang to come to his assistance—there almost certainly would be war with the United States.

The Chinese Reds would have an easier time snatching a couple of tiny and lightly defended islets held by Chiang off the China coast. It's unlikely the United States would fight for them.

And since this country let the Reds grab the Tachen Islands a little further up the coast a couple of years ago, and without a fight, the Reds may feel they can acquire a little more real estate, the islets, without trouble.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

your major insurance for a happy wedded life!

I'd much rather see two strangers marry, who hadn't even met each other till the wedding day, but who had similar interests, ideals and religious background, than to see a loving pair wed, with unlike religion, ideals, and background!

For two people of reasonable attractiveness and similar ideals and background, can soon become ardently in love.

I'm not exaggerating. I have personally pushed such couples into marriage, and seen them wildly in love within a matter of weeks, just by having them follow the proper sexual techniques and Marriage Charts.

For love can develop rapidly, even in a matter of days or weeks. But you cannot erase serious differences in background, even in a matter of years.

A Catholic should thus not marry a Protestant. And it is unwise to cross biased racial lines.

It is not even smart to match an extreme introvert with an extrovert, despite the fact they may be ardently in love.

For such religious, racial or personality differences of lifelong duration, are VERY difficult to compromise and harmonize.

LOVE VS. INFATUATION
A lot of so-called true love is merely sexual infatuation. That may turn to hate the next day after the wedding.

But mutual respect and idealism, similar religion and hobbies, these not only are far better insurance for permanent love, but also insure a more culled and second-rate goods. You pay full price, so get topnotch stuff.

Then teach yourselves to fall in love by going through the proper motions of respect and compliments, plus caresses and gallantry.

Send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit), for use after the wedding. It can help you change casual attraction to ardent love.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover printing and mailing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Monroe to Observe Its 141st Anniversary

MONROE (UPI) — Citizens in this southeastern Michigan community Sept. 4 will observe the 141st anniversary of the naming of Monroe in honor of President James Monroe.

The Michigan Historical Society will dedicate two historical markers. One commemorating the discovery of Lake Erie will be placed at Sterling State Park. The second, honoring the establishment of the State of Michigan, will be dedicated at the tourist plaza on U.S. 24 north of the Ohio line.

A luncheon will be held in the park hotel. A regent of the DAR chapter, Mrs. Henry S. Cowgill, will present a bronze presidential medal commemorating the naming of the city for Monroe.

Lovers to Stand Trial for Murder of Husband

IONIA (UPI) — Mrs. Marion McNinch will go on trial with her 17-year-old lover charged with killing Mrs. McNinch's middle-aged husband, Robert.

A sanity commission reported to Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis yesterday that Mrs. McNinch, 26, was sane now and at the time her husband, Robert, 52, was killed in April.

Police said the woman and Larry Fisher, 17, of Midland, gave McNinch a moonlight burial three days after he was killed.

No trial date has been set.

Possible Healing Aid Studied

Believe Fungus Assists Burn Victim to Recover

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
AP Science Writer
BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Nearly a year ago, a five-year-old boy was so badly burned in a gasoline fire that his chances of recovery were poor.

Three days after he was taken to the University of Missouri Hospital, doctors discovered a strange cotton-like white fungus growing over his wounds. Surprisingly, the boy recovered more readily than burn cases normally do.

Dr. John E. Peterson, Missouri botanist, today identified the fungus he said apparently facilitated recovery and told of other studies under way to determine its possible healing aids.

The boy's body apparently picked up the fungus when his father rolled him in the dirt to smother the flames.

The plastic surgeon, Dr. Thomas J. Baker Jr., who performed the first cleanup operation on the boy, credited the fungus with easing this task, said Dr. Peterson.

Dr. Baker thought the fungus might have produced a substance which insulated the crust from the healthy tissue underneath, Dr. Peterson said.

It was a portion of this crust which came under study by Dr. Peterson and it was this study he reported to the American Institute of Biological Sciences meeting on the Indiana University campus.

Now, said Dr. Peterson, a study was under way to determine the substances secreted by cultural descendants of the original fungus. A second study is aimed at isolating the fungus from the soil in which the boy was originally rolled. He identified the fungus as fusarium roseum.

In another paper, a University of Michigan zoologist suggested that music as we know it may have been born in its infancy from certain sounds of birds, amphibians and insects.

All of Dixie Awaits High Court Decision

Little Rock Integration Reaches Climax

By The Associated Press
The South's deep-seated resistance to integration is being tested in the courts and applauded in the emergency states' rights meeting of the Arkansas Legislature today as the U.S. Supreme Court prepares for its historic session.

The nine justices meet tomorrow.

At stake is whether the high court will grant Little Rock's Central High School a breathing spell in its year-old integration program or force immediate acceptance of Negroes into its classrooms.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas asked the opening session of the Legislature yesterday for power to close the schools rather than bow to any federal race-mixing order. He said integration never could be constitutionally enforced upon a school.

As a last-ditch measure, the governor offered the lawmakers a bill to set up segregated classrooms within an integrated school. Within hours, a special House Education Committee recommended passage of a total of 12 segregation bills.

The Little Rock school board filed a brief with the Supreme Court saying it would be unable to operate Central High under present conditions in the city.

At Gainesville, Fla., in the Deep South, the University of Florida announced that a Negro had qualified for admittance this fall to do graduate work.

So far there has been no integration violence.

Many developments on the integration front featured legal maneuverings by courts and school boards as the opening day of school approached. They included:

Virginia—The state's policy of massive resistance to integrated schools suffered another setback when U.S. Dist. Judge John Paul declined to approve in its entirety the school districting plan of the Charlottesville school board.

Tennessee—Fifteen Negro first-graders enrolled without incident for desegregated classes in seven Nashville city schools.

North Carolina—The Charlotte school board rejected the applications of 23 Negro children for transfer to white schools. At Winston-Salem, 135 pupils at the white Easton Elementary School, where three Negroes have been assigned for the fall term, asked for transfers to other white schools.

Oklahoma—Two Negro children showed up at Preston Elementary School and became the first to attend that previously all-white school. At Muskogee the NAACP filed suits charging integration was being avoided in two other Oklahoma school districts.

Alabama—In Montgomery, a Negro petition for admittance to all-white parks was rejected.

Mississippi—A constitutional amendment to strengthen segregation laws won overwhelming ap-

GOP's 'Bumbling' on Roads Scored

THREE RIVERS (UPI) — "A bumbling, ineffective, politically inspired Republican highway administration" has been replaced by "Democratic leadership that is determined to build roads," Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today. Williams, speaking before the Three Rivers Elks Club, said the state's problems "should be voted into control of state government."

"In contrast with the confusion which existed under Republican auspices, this Democratic highway program is clear-cut and open to public inspection," he said. "Can this job (of bringing diversified industry to the state) and other major tasks be accomplished by the Republican leadership which has spent all its time running down the state of Michigan — or by the Democrats who have done their best to build Michigan?" he asked.

Fire Another Rocket to Explore Radiation

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Another advanced research rocket has been fired to investigate radiation in the earth's atmosphere. The rocket, a five-stage missile fired under the auspices of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, blazed aloft late last night and disappeared high in the sky in seconds.

Romeo Ready to Launch Gala Peach Festival Friday

Queen's Ball in the Evening

Parades Will Highlight Gay Event Which Lasts Through Labor Day

ROMEO—Beauty, pageantry and fun will mark the 26th annual Romeo Peach Festival which opens at 9 p.m. Friday with the Queen's Ball at the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center.

The 1958 Peach Queen, Bonita Brooksbeare of Waterford Township, will make her first official festival appearance at the dance. She will receive the key to the village from Romeo's village president, Joseph E. Rymill, and will lead the grand march with her escort, followed by members of her court.

While the ball is in progress, the younger set will attend a teenage dance at the Lions Community Field.

Saturday's program will open at noon with a Little League All-Star game, after which American Legion baseball teams from Rochester and Richmond will play at 3 p.m. All games are scheduled to be played at Romeo Memorial Stadium.

A street dance has been planned for 9 p.m. at the A & P parking lot.

Highlights of Sunday's program will be a sacred concert at 7 p.m. and the coronation of the Peach Queen by Gov. Williams at 8:30 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the Romeo Council of Church Women and will be held in the Congregational Church yard on N. Main street.

The coronation, marked by traditional pomp and ceremony, will feature music, colorful costumes and 11 beautiful girls, including the queen and members of her court. They represent nine communities in northern Oakland and Macomb counties.

Monday is parade day in Romeo, beginning with the appealing children's parade at 10 a.m. It will form at the North Grade School and proceed down Main street to Church street, around two blocks and back to the school.

The giant floral parade, which attracts crowds up to 30,000 to Romeo on Labor Day, is scheduled to start at 2 p.m. at the Crosswell Street School. It will proceed up Main street to Gates where it will disband.

Due to popular demand, the Mummies Parade, which had provided the comic element for the festival for many years, has been revived again this year. It will start at 7:30 p.m. and follow a route from the railroad, west on E. St. Clair street to Main street and return on N. Bailey street to the Lions Field. There the finale of the festival, a fireworks display, will be staged later that evening.

The carnival and special booths will be open all three days, and free acts will be staged on the grandstand at regular intervals throughout the weekend program.

Rains Improve Crop Prospects

Reporting Service Says Lack of Soil Moisture No Longer Problem

LANSING (U) — General rains over the state have improved late crop prospects, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today. A lack of soil moisture was threatening to become a serious problem to farmers in central and northern lower Michigan. Recent rains, however, were enough to alleviate drought conditions and carry most crops through to harvest.

Chief farming activities during the past week were harvesting oats and cutting second hay crops in the northern areas and taking in hay and preparing ground for wheat in the south.

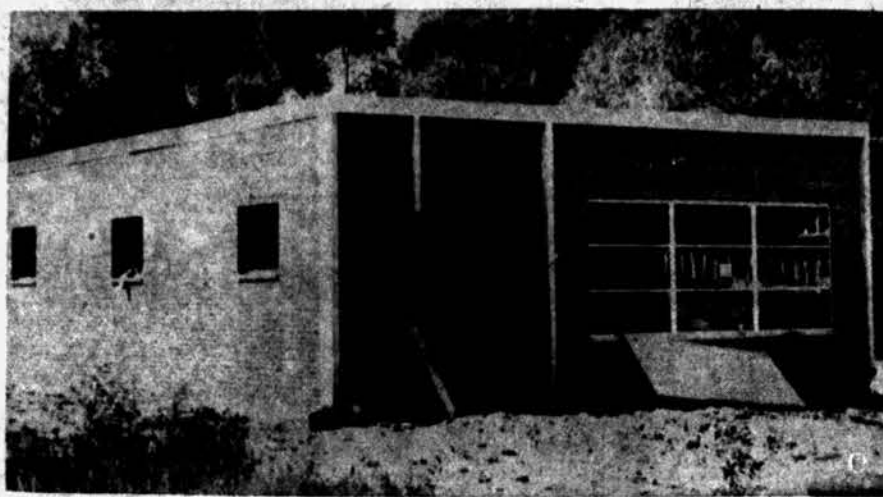

About three-fifths of the corn was reported in or past the roasting ear stage. Rains improved prospects, especially on lighter soils. Late fields of dry beans also benefited from the good showers.

Sugar beets were reported in good condition and non-irrigated potatoes showed considerable improvement. The harvest of the early potato crop in Bay County was nearing completion.

Soybean prospects were good but a growth of rank weeds was a problem in some areas.

The rain also gave new life to parched pastures and meadows. Fall grazing was improved and prospects appeared good for a third cutting of hay in some areas.

Peaches were moving to market in heavy volume. The wealthy variety of apples also was available in volume quantity.

BRING ON THE CHRISTMAS MAIL — The yule mail rush this year should prove a snap for Keego Harbor Post Office employees. The city's modern, new post office, across from Roosevelt Elementary School on Cass Lake road, will have twice the floor space of the present building, and all new equipment. Completion is expected by Oct. 1.

Opening Scheduled Oct. 1

New Keego Post Office Nearly Ready

KEEGO HARBOR — Construction of Keego Harbor's new post office, is nearing completion and should be ready for its scheduled Oct. 1 opening, according to Paul Beyett, acting postmaster.

All that remains is the interior work, landscaping and installation of parking lots.

The new 30-by-90-foot building contains twice the floor space of the present post office at 3021 Orchard Lake Rd. All new equipment will be installed in time for the opening, Beyett said.

The new location will afford Keego Harbor residents ample parking space. There will be a large blacktopped area in front of the building and a 122-by-200-foot lot at the north side of the post office for public parking.

In addition, there will be a black-topped area at the rear of the building for employee parking and for postal trucks to reach a 10-foot loading platform attached to the building.

Only meter parking is allowed in front of the present post office. Parking will be free at the new location.

Owner of the new building is Elmer C. Dieterle, Keego Harbor attorney, who will lease it to the Post Office Dept.

Beyett, who was appointed acting postmaster on Aug. 8, said the new building will provide the space needed to provide good service to city residents.

There also is adequate room for expansion at the new post office site, Beyett said.

Rochester Sets Rezoning Action

Village Council to Rule Sept. 8 on Mill Pond Area's Development

ROCHESTER—Final action will be taken Sept. 8 by the Rochester Village Council on the request of White Brothers Real Estate, Waterford, for rezoning of the Mill Pond area for a multiple housing and commercial development.

The first reading on the proposal, which, when adopted, would clear the way for a $2½ million project, was held Monday. The firm's request for extension of Fifth street to Elizabeth was approved at this time.

Clearing of the 20-acre site, at the end of E. Fifth street, already is under way.

The first reading and public hearing on another rezoning proposal — the changing of the R. J. McCormac property at 1385 N. Main St. from residential to commercial — has been scheduled for Sept. 22.

The request was made by Verne A. Pixley, who plans to purchase the property.

Nine homeowners on Helen street appeared at the Monday night Council session to seek curbing between Fairview and Helen streets.

They were told by Village Manager Paul A. York that it is too late in the season to begin the project. However, he said the village plans to resurface the street this summer with two inches of asphalt.

George Schmidt, of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May of Ann Arbor, engineering consultants, presented a resume of Rochester's water situation, and recommended a bond consulting service be retained to study the possible financing of a secondary sewage plant.

York was instructed to apply for a government aid grant to help finance the plant.

Schmidt later will present plans and specifications for construction of a water storage tank to increase water pressure in the village.

MRS. JOHN HENKE

Judith A. Hook, John Henke Wed in Lutheran Rite

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Marriage vows were repeated Saturday afternoon at St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Pontiac, by Judith Ann Hook and John Henke. Performing the rite was the Rev. Ralph Claus, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lottie E. Hook of 5174 Farm Rd., Waterford Township, and Floyd Hook of Pontiac. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson of 5063 Pontiac Lake Rd.

For her wedding the new Mrs. Henke chose a white sheath dress, a lace headpiece with a fingertip veil and elbow-length gloves. She carried a white orchid on a white prayer book.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Henke of Pontiac, whose husband served as best man. The reception was held in Farmington following the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home at Fort Knox, Ky.

Since the end of World War II, railroads in U.S. have placed in service 24,532 units of new locomotive power, of which 24,042 are diesel units.

Area Girl Seeks State Fair Title

Sharon Dreyer, 17, Vies for Queen Honors at Detroit Saturday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Sharon Dreyer, 17, winner of the West Bloomfield Township Kiwanis Club sponsored Apple Queen contest last year, will compete for the title of "Miss Michigan State Fair for 1958."

She will be in the grand opening day parade of the Michigan State Fair and Exposition. The parade will begin at 11 a.m. Friday at the City-County Building in Detroit.

There will be 20 or more Michigan queens competing for the title. Winner will be selected by the judges at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit.

Sharon, who lives at 3717 Ward's Point Dr., is a graduate of West Bloomfield Township High School. She plans to study at the Wayne State University Music Department this fall.

Sharon has built up a national reputation as a baton twirler, having won the National Orange Bowl title in Miami in 1956 and the National George Washington Memorial this year at Arlington, Va. She also teamed up with two sisters, Arlene and Marilyn, to win the National Trio title at the South Milwaukee Spectacle of Music held last July.

2, 4-D Spurs Growth, Latex Output of Trees

NEW YORK — The chemical compound, 2,4-D, long used as a weed killer, is being tried experimentally as a growth stimulant for rubber trees. Tests with 2,4-D in Indonesia and Malaya are reported to have increased latex yields 25 to 40 per cent. Less than an ounce of the chemical is applied to each tree.

Suzanne F. Cline Wed in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Christ Lutheran Church was the scene Saturday evening of the wedding of Suzanne Frances Cline and Raymond A. Campbell. The Rev. Arvid Anderson officiated at the candlelight service.

Parent of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roger R. Cline of Maceday Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Campbell of Waterford street, Waterford Township.

The bride's gown was of white tulle with an Alencon lace bodice and chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held by a pearl cap and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Bruce Burmeister of Williams Lake was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Edward Doyle and Mrs. Robert Stasiak, both of Crescent Lake, Mrs. Larry Wigner of Monroe, Mrs. Lane Vander Hoek of Watkins Lake, the bridegroom's sister, and the bride's cousin, Ann Marie Johnson of Milan.

Flower girl was the bride's cousin, Mary Sue Johnson of Milan.

Don Jones of Otter Lake was best man. Ushers were Lane Vander Hoek, of Watkins Lake, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Larry Wigner of Monroe, Kerry Keating of Ypsilanti, Robert Stasiak of Crescent Lake and Charles Shonta of Detroit.

Following a honeymoon to New York and Canada, the newlyweds will make their home in Ypsilanti where the bridegroom is attending Eastern Michigan College. The bride is a graduate of Eastern.

MRS. RAYMOND A. CAMPBELL

Judge 4-H Livestock on Campus of MSU

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Livestock were groomed in Spartan Stadium today as judging got under way in most classes at the 43rd annual 4-H Club Show on the Michigan State University campus.

Most of today's activity centered on competition on showmanship and skill at farm tasks, with the emphasis on beef and sheep showmanship and a tractor operators contest.

Ronald Kuhl, 19, Manchester, was the first contest winner of the show. He won the sheep shearing contest yesterday and will represent Michigan at a national contest in Chicago. Larry Cotton, Portland, was second, and Larry Kain, Coral, third.

Leadership citations and achievement trip winners will be announced tonight.

U. S. Industry Imports
More Raw Materials

NEW YORK — Some of the principle United States industries are depending more and more on overseas sources of raw materials. The steel industry, for example, now imports 18 per cent of its iron ore, virtually all its essential ferroalloys; and the aluminum industry imports 70 per cent of its bauxite. Imports of nonferrous ores and metals are up 70 per cent in six years.

Reduced Edsel Line
for 1959 in the Cards?By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — When 1959 model cars are introduced later this year the Edsel line may be somewhat narrower.

Industry sources hear that instead of four series of cars the Edsel line may be reduced to two, Ford Motor Co. has not confirmed this but it has not denied such plans are in the making.

Ford does not plan to discontinue the Edsel line. It may drop the higher-priced Citation and Corsair models and continue the lower-priced Ranger and Pacer models.

When Ford brought out the Edsel line last year at a cost of about 250 million dollars it explained the cars were designed to provide Ford with cars in all price groups, and put Ford in a better position, and put Ford in General Motors.

But the Edsel came out at a time when a sales lag already had appeared in the car market. Edsel sales left something to be desired. A separate division that was set up to produce and distribute the Edsel was discontinued before the car was a year old. It was combined with Ford's Mercury and Lincoln divisions into what was named the M-E-L Division.

Combined retail sales of the Mercury, Edsel and Lincoln lines in this year's first half came to slightly more than 108,000 units. In the first half of 1957, before the Edsel line was introduced, Mercury and Lincoln accounted for about 154,000 deliveries.

Mercury sales were down from 144,000 in last year's January-June period to about 71,000 in this year's like period.

Obviously the advent of the Edsel line did not account for Mercury's sharp decline. Excepting American Motors, every U.S. car maker lost volume this year.

Mercury retailers did not welcome the Edsel line. They said it would reduce their sales.

To some extent it probably did. Elimination of the two higher priced Edsel models undoubtedly would reduce, if not eliminate the competition with Mercury.

Surveys indicate an increasing number of Edsel franchises have been dealt with Mercury and Lincoln dealerships. Some of these replace exclusive franchises given up by larger dealers in major cities.

Edsel's approximately 22,000 unit sales in the first half of 1958 gave it 13th place among 18 makes of cars. It was not far behind Chrysler and DeSoto and ahead of Studebaker, Lincoln, Imperial, Metropolitan and Packard.

It takes years of planning to develop an entirely new line of cars and bring it to the market.

Had the Edsel been born in a more prosperous era for the auto industry there undoubtedly would have been much less uncertainty about what lies ahead of it.

Unionist's Residence
Damaged by Bomb

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A bomb exploded late last night outside the home of John R. Stevenson, first vice president of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters.

Two windows were broken and a storm door was damaged. The house was unoccupied. Stevenson and his wife were away on vacation.

Police said preliminary investigation indicated a dynamite bomb. Lt. C. Richard Cane said he could not tell whether it was thrown or planted.

Neighbors reported seeing a man walking near the house about two hours before the explosion. Stevenson was president of a local union in Chicago before coming to international headquarters here as second vice president in 1941. He became first vice president in 1953.

State Profiting
by Postal Hike

It Means Pay Boost
Totaling $7,602,000 in Michigan Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michiganites, like everybody else, are digging a little deeper for postage stamp money because of the postal rate increases that went into effect Aug. 1.

But the bill passed by Congress to boost rates also provided an increase in pay for postal workers. And that means thousands of additional dollars pouring into Michigan's economy.

The Post Office Department estimates that about 15,500 postal workers in Michigan will be paid $82,130,000 annually under the new salary structure compared with $74,528,000 before the increase—a boost of $7,602,000.

The increase for the first six grades of postal workers was 10 per cent. Those grades include mailmen, postal clerks and about 95 per cent of all postal workers.

The annual salary for Grade I now is $3,170 to $3,860 depending upon seniority. Grade VI salaries were set at $4,620 to $5,550. Grade VII employees received a 9 per cent boost, pushing their pay into the $4,900 to $6,019 bracket.

Personnel in Grade VIII, mostly supervisory workers, are enjoying a 7 1/2 per cent increase. The pay scale is $5,385 to $6,525.

Wisest Investment of Them All!

Count the blessings of Cadillac ownership—and you will find them as plentiful as they are wonderful.

There is, for instance, the thrill of commanding its fine performance . . . the joy of being surrounded by its Fleetwood luxury . . . and the pleasure of riding with its marvelous comfort.

And yet, outshining all of these pleasures—and adding an extra lustre to each—is the fact that they all derive from motordom's soundest investment.

For a Cadillac—from any consideration—is among the most practical of motor cars to own and to drive.

In original cost, a Cadillac car is surprisingly modest for so prized a possession.

Its dependability . . . its endurance . . . and its remarkable freedom from repairs are world-famed.

And in resale value, it is in a class all of its own.

In fact, a new Cadillac's only rival—from a standpoint of investment—is a used Cadillac!

Surely, this happy circumstance merits your own personal investigation.

Why not pay your Cadillac dealer a visit soon—and make motordom's wisest investment yours?

Gives In to Tear Gas

DETROIT (AP) — Captured after a tear gas siege Monday, Lionel Kemp, 68, pleaded guilty Tuesday from his hospital bed to a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He was arraigned by Recorder's Judge Gerald Groat who set bond at $10,000 pending examination Sept. 3. Kemp fired two shotgun blasts before surrendering to police.

Postmen Take 'Kick' at Dogs

Considering Request for Anti-Bite Law, Making Owners Liable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nation's postmen, taking a verbal kick at unfriendly dogs, are considering a request for an anti-bite law.

The National Assn. of Letter Carriers opened its annual convention Monday with consideration of 348 resolutions covering everything from more comfortable seats to a 30-hour work week.

Postmaster General Arthur Sumnerfield was praised for instructing postmen not to deliver mail to homes where unruly dogs run loose.

Some delegates thought Sumnerfield has not gone far enough and drafted a resolution urging that owners of such dogs be held criminally liable.

Delegates also will vote on two resolutions asking protection against radioactive packages and radioactive fallout.

In a business session, the convention voted to seek better pay and working conditions and approved a resolution opposing "right to work" laws.

Firemen Save Station

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — Flames destroyed the empty Majestic Theater yesterday, but firemen were successful in keeping the blaze from spreading to an adjacent building — the fire station.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plates dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEST, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Bob Considine Says:

Russian Foreign Service Has Edge on U.S.

NEW YORK — In one noteworthy respect, the Soviet Union's foreign service is more effective than our own. Top posts in our diplomatic corps traditionally go to the more affluent and socially acceptable backers of a winning presidential candidate. The Reds use the merit system, or their reasonable distortion of same.

More often than is really healthy, our ambassador has not the foggiest comprehension of the language and idiosyncrasies of the people to whom he is sent as U.S. representative. Living his cloistered embassy life, he seldom sees persons below his own protocol level, is not encouraged to get out among the others.

His Russian counterpart knows the language of the land to which he is dispatched; can spell its premier's name backwards. He has been bonded and honed in the land's customs, strengths, weaknesses.

In the Arab countries, he speaks fluent Arabic; members of his staff often are practicing Russian Moslems. He attempts to locate the country's slighted intellectual class, or a disgruntled colonel, and does what he can to fan the flame of revolt.

In that particular area, we tend to go along with the policy that there's no resident wickedness or gnawing problem that cannot be cured by the gift of another half a dozen Cadillacs to the royal family.

It's easy to get tickets to the London staging of "My Fair Lady," starring Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews. Just send $1.245 to Betty Murray, Showplane Party, care of TWA, New York City, or go now, pay later.

There are a few extras thrown in for the $1.245, according to a dazzling dossier from the young lady. La Murray, a reformed press agent, is the attractive inventor of the business of taking plane-loads of people across the Atlantic to see shows. She and her latest crop, half a dozen married couples and a few strays, left on the current 17-day hitch last Friday.

Just about now they should be backstage of Vivien Leigh's "Duel for Angels" ... "at a gay champagne party for Showplanners, where you'll meet the distinguished Lady Olivier, and Claire Bloom, Fred Jackson and other members of the cast."

Murray's meandering and moonish-laden matinee-goes put up at the Savoy in London, had cocktails at Les Ambassadeurs before trooping to see "My Fair Lady," met the principals, breakfasted with the lord mayor at Mansion House, lunched with the Duke and Duchess of Bedford at Woburn Abbey and hobnobbed with other nabobs before the final night of the Leigh show.

In Rome they'll dine at the Palazzo, the pleasure dome Mussolini built for a babe, watch the filming of Sam Zimbalist's heroicized "Ben Hur" ... try on the costumes, chat and pose with the star, Charlton Heston, and pretty well be "in the movies" for a day! There is also a beach party ... with Van Heflin and his wife as hosts.

Nothing much doing on the Riviera except to "be a guest aboard the yacht of Aristotle Onassis. Can you believe it?" Then Paris. ... where Olivia de Havilland will be your hostess for lunch at the Tour d'Argent.

Gentlemen must provide their own after-dinner cigars. I knew there was some catch.

Next time New Yorkers get sore at the kids for hanging on the telephone so long, consider the "lady" who answers calls into Meridian 7-1212. "She," who is made up of three circular drums which are part of an intricate talking clock contrived by Bell Laboratories, answers 90,000 calls a day.

She can talk to 1,500 callers simultaneously. More people worry about the time between four and five o'clock in the afternoon than during any other period—as any office manager could tell you.

Bell hasn't yet perfected a mechanical girl capable of giving out world series scores. It uses the good old fashioned kind. During the 1952 Yankee-Dodger series they answered 1,205,347 fans. That's almost as many as now see the Dodgers play in a whole month.

Use Plastic Suit to Reduce Pain in Childbirth

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A plastic decompression suit is being used at Witwatersrand University to speed up labor and minimize the pain of childbirth.

Research workers say reduction of atmospheric pressure lessens pain and benefits the child because of shortened labor and less strain.

The expectant mother operates a valve which activates a pump and reduces the atmospheric pressure on her abdomen.

Scientists explained that the abdomen enlarges under decompression. This enlargement relieves muscular pressure on the spine and abdomen, thus minimizing pain.

The suit, made of chemically treated nylon, is used only during the first stage of childbirth.

There is a town, an active market for trading in western Tibet called Gartok. This is believed to be the highest inhabited town on earth. It stands 15,100 feet above sea level, an altitude which the National Geographic Society says is higher than the tallest mountain in the United States.

Thus Defeating Labor Checks

Charges Unions Rule Dems

CHICAGO (AP)—Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa) told members of the Republican National Committee today that Democratic leaders in Congress blocked all labor legislation this year to please union bigwigs.

"Walter Reuther, David McDonald and other bigwigs in the labor hierarchy did not want restrictions imposed on their reckless activities," Simpson said, "so they simply passed the word down to those who serve them in the Senate and House."

Simpson, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, echoed a keynote sounded earlier by GOP Chairman Meade ALCORN for this fall's campaigns.

ALCORN said before the two-day meeting of the party's 147-member National Committee that the failure of Congress to pass any measure to curb labor racketeering "is a dramatic demonstration of the need for a Republican Congress."

Keep 'Round-the-Clock Air Watch Over Straits

U.S. Jets Guard Formosa Against Sneak Red Invasion

(A veteran United Press International correspondent, who has accompanied both sea and air patrols in the Formosa Straits separating Formosa and Communist China, here describes how U.S. flyers stand on 24-hour guard against a Communist sneak invasion of Formosa.)

By LEROY HANSEN
OVER THE FORMOSA STRAITS (UPI)—You are aboard a U. S. Navy jet and prop-driven Neptune bomber skimming 80 feet over the choppy Formosa Straits.

Twenty miles to your left, plainly and ominously visible, is Communist China's Fukien Coast, where the Reds have built up an impressive force of Russian-built MIG-17 fighters and Soviet-made jet bombers.

Your pilot, Lt. (j. g.) Everett

2 Dem Incumbents Win in Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Rep. William Colmer, dean of Mississippi's congressional delegation, and Rep. Arthur Winstead headed for new terms today, sweeping to easy victories in the Democratic primary.

A constitutional amendment designed to bulwark state segregation laws shared top billing on the ballot yesterday and was adopted by almost a 5-1 margin. Colmer, who has represented the 6th Dist. since 1932, piled up a 14,000-vote margin before his nearest rival, Dist. Atty. Boyce Holleman, conceded defeat.

Returns from 328 of the district's 385 precincts gave the 68-year-old Colmer, chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, 31,544 votes and Holleman 17,998. William P. Davis and Wayne T. McClure ran far behind.

Winstead, who has represented the 5th Dist. for 16 years, gave Charles Mosby Jr. of Meridian and Anne Blakeney of Taylorsville a sound beating.

Returns from 328 of the district's 385 precincts showed Winstead with 20,425 votes, Mosby with 4,667 and Blakeney with 671.

2nd Wife of Joe Louis Suing for Annulment

NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Louis' second wife is suing him for an annulment on the grounds that he didn't want children and failed to provide a home for her.

The former heavyweight boxing champion's lawyer, Ralph Accoo, says Louis will not contest the suit.

His wife, Mrs. Rose Morgan Louis, is a wealthy Harlem beauty shop operator and cosmetics manufacturer. She and Louis were married Christmas Day, 1955. They have been separated since November 1957.

Mayo (of Kilgore, Tex.), spots a freighter that must be checked. He presses the stick forward and the Neptune noses swiftly down.

In a matter of seconds the Neptune is skimming only 500 feet above the waves. Then 400 feet, 300, 200, 100. When the altimeter reads 80 feet the thought flashes through your mind that the freighter could be armed and you ask yourself, "What in hell am I doing here?"

The Neptune swoops over the freighter at 180 miles an hour. Crew members report to Mayo a detailed description of the ship and you're relieved to learn it was a routine sighting.

Had it been necessary to use that parachute you strapped on before takeoff, it wouldn't have done much good at that low altitude.

Seventeen times during the 9-hour patrol the bomber sweeps low over the water to check tankers and freighters and each time you secretly breathe a sigh of relief when nothing happens.

With the men of VP-4, the 'round-the-clock watch has become routine. But the situation they are sitting on top of is hot as the exhaust from their bombers' jets.

Chances are that some day the Communists may take a potshot at one of the patrolling Neptunes.

Yet so long as the bombers sweep up and down the Red Chinese mainland coast they are effectively diminishing chances of a Communist sneak invasion which could bring the United States into war.

Fishing Boat Marvels at Answers to SOS

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The fishing boat Skipper II, sinking off San Nicolas Island, sent out an SOS. The fishermen marveled at the response, which included:

The cruiser USS Los Angeles.

The aircraft carrier USS Bonhomme Richard.

The freighter B&T Adventurer.

Two Coast Guard cutters, which towed the craft and fishermen John Marcus and Robert E. McInerney of Los Angeles to port here yesterday.

Seals in Dog Pound

DETROIT — Animal Trainer James Reynolds of Logansport, Ind., retrieved his two seals from the dog pound late Tuesday and said he hadn't abandoned them. Residents attracted by the seals' noisy barking had called police. Reynolds said he fed and exercised his seals, then parked them in his truck while arranging a booking for the act at the Michigan State Fair. The seals performed Sunday at the Police Field Day.

Fear Dangers of Soviet Subs

Missile-Firing Vessels Could Hit U.S. Cities in '60s, Experts Say

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of experts warned today that by the early 1960s missile-firing Soviet submarines will be capable of devastating American cities.

"A massive attack with such weapons could level our entire urban society," said the Undersecretary of Defense. The group was formed to advise the Military subcommittee of the House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee.

In its 16-page report, the panel painted a picture of grave peril ahead for the United States unless this nation's own submarine and antisubmarine programs are pushed with more vigor and on a much larger scale.

"In a future war," the report said, "the ocean could be our enemy as never before."

Therefore, said the panel, it was making these recommendations for meeting the danger:

1. The Navy should proceed with all speed with construction of submarines capable of firing the 1,500-mile Polaris ballistic missile. Present plans call for the first of these submarines to be available in 1960.

2. The Polaris submarine program should be kept separate from the Navy's regular ship budget. Present money requests should be determined by the secretary of defense and the National Security Council as part of the nation's over-all strategic deterrent budget.

3. There should be a significant increase in the rate and scale of building attack submarines—the ones that track down enemy subs. The report described as too small a Navy goal of some 75 attack submarines by 1970.

4. The Navy's research and development budget for undersea warfare should be doubled, with substantial increases year by year. There should also be a substantial increase in the Navy's budget for basic research.

5. Greater use should be made of universities, private research centers and industry for grappling with undersea warfare problems.

The report was released by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), chairman of the Military subcommittee. Sections of the report were censored by the Defense Department.

Negroes Continuing 'Sitdown' Campaign

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A Negro youth group's leader said a "sitdown" campaign for food service in a downtown luncheonette will continue into its fifth day today.

Barbara Posey, 15, secretary of the city's NAACP Youth Council, acknowledged a stalemate apparently existed with the management of John A. Brown's department store, where 85 young Negroes are asking food service alongside whites.

"Both sides are holding out," Miss Posey said. "I guess both have hopes yet. We will keep trying."

She said the group did not plan to go to another store "at this time."

White schools at Atoka, Fort Gibson, the Graham district in Carter County and Preston School in Okmulgee County accepted Negroes yesterday for the first time.

Soviets Don't Want War—Mme. Chiang

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"The Russians do not want war," says Mme. Chiang Kai-shek.

Newsman asked her last night about the Chinese Reds' intentions.

"The Communist mind is so devious," said the wife of the Nationalist Chinese leader, "that we can never be sure just what their plans are."

She said renewal of the Red Chinese attacks on Quemoy may only be a probing operation but that the possibility of an all-out invasion cannot be ruled out.

Mme. Chiang, who arrived from New York by plane for an address before the American Bar Assn. convention, said a firm stand by the free world would offset Red gains.

"That was proven in the Berlin airlift and in the Mideast," she said. "The Russians do not want war."

Home Loans Analyzed

CHICAGO—Roughly 35 per cent of the home loans made by the nation's 6,000 savings-and-loan associations in 1957 were used to finance new homes. The remainder was used to purchase existing homes.

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(9)—Dinner in Space

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) Once men achieve prolonged flights in orbit around the Earth, next to solving the problem of air supply, providing a means for removing carbon dioxide and body wastes, and recirculating air and water, the problem of food will be of prime importance. Most foods will have to be taken in a liquid state, sucked through a tube as this Air Force man is demonstrating in a test. Foods in squeeze tubes are also being considered.

(2) In a condition of weightlessness, dinner in space could be a hazardous adventure. Unless magnetized, utensils would float in mid-air. Knives and forks could still be used, but for any kind of solid food a modern version of chopsticks may perhaps be devised. Any cooking would have to be done in entirely closed containers.

(3) Another space hazard of no less importance is that of sudden decompression. In the vacuum of space, unless protected with a space suit, a man's blood would boil and the air explode from his lungs, tearing his throat and nose tissues. Air Force man in decompression chamber illustrates what happens to a bottle of water suddenly opened at low pressure. The same thing would happen to the body fluids in space.

(4) Even in a pressurized, thick-walled space ship or orbital station, the danger of sudden decompression will be ever present. This space station has been punctured by a large meteor, allowing air inside to rush out with explosive force. Automatic devices immediately seal off the punctured section. Although a collision with a meteor this large is expected to be a rarity, the possibility will always exist. And men will not know how great that possibility is until they actually go into space.

Next: Loneliness of Space.

Fireworks Plant Blast Kills 23 on Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—A firecracker factory working overtime to produce toy atomic cannons blew up today in central Formosa, killing 23 persons and injuring 13. Most of the victims were teenage factory girls.

The blast shattered 10 neighboring houses. A 9-year-old schoolboy playing several blocks away was killed by flying bricks.

The factory owner was at home when the explosion occurred. He was held for questioning.

Don't Like Sack Dress Down on the Farm

DES MOINES (AP)—The sack might look fine as a feed bag, but Iowa farm girls don't think it looks nice on them.

Very few sack dresses were entered in girls 4-H Club competition at the Iowa State Fair in progress here. In fact, reports Esther Whetstone, state 4-H leader, the girls were discouraged from making the sack.

Another dressmaking note Miss Whetstone imparts is that feed sacks are poor material and not adaptable to modern farm living.

Danish Flint Develops Useful Road Material

COPENHAGEN — Danish flint, transformed in kilns at a temperature of 1,000 degrees centigrade, has developed into a useful road-making material. After pulverization the grains are consolidated by means of asphalt. As the road surface is worn it becomes bright and reflects auto headlights.

An Historic First in Fuel Technology:

Mystery of engine rumble answered at new Research Laboratories, Cranbury, N.J.

Cities Service First to Announce

ANTI-RUMBLE GASOLENE!

Finds both cause and solution of the newest problem and biggest mystery confronting motorists!

New ultra-high compression engines are now confronting the American motorist with a new mysterious phenomenon which automotive engineers are calling "Engine Rumble."

"Rumble" is a low vibrational sound that makes you think the engine is coming apart.

RESEARCH SCIENTISTS at Cities Service have discovered that although it appears to be the engine that is causing "rumble"—it is actually today's motor fuels, great as they are, causing an accelerated rise in pressure in engines with 10 to 1 compression ratios or higher. This accelerated pressure rise sets off structural vibrations heard as "rumble."

Cities Service researchers found that "rumble" could not be eliminated by increasing gasoline octane or any other common method of dealing with engine problems. Instead, they saw the need for an entirely new kind of protection—and so they perfected ANTI-RUMBLE.

CITIES SERVICE ANTI-RUMBLE—newest gasoline improvement—is contained exclusively in Cities Service NEW SUPER 5-D GASOLENE.

Perhaps you have experienced "rumble," perhaps you have not. But in either case, no longer must you run the risk of "rumble" in your automobile. Now, AT NO INCREASE IN PRICE, you can get exclusive Anti-Rumble protection plus maximum octane and all other top performance features with Cities Service gasoline.

Ask for it by name—NEW SUPER 5-D, at the price of ordinary premium gasolines... now at Cities Service stations, where true luxury driving begins.

New Anti-Rumble

now added to the five other top performance features found only in Cities Service SUPER 5-D Gasolene.

Mrs. Harry Henderson, president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County, was photographed with two candidates at the annual picnic sponsored by the federation. At left is Paul D. Bagwell, candidate for governor, and at the right is Donald A. Brown, candidate for lieutenant governor.

They Cry on Her Man's Shoulder

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband is a good-looking lawyer. Some attractive woman is always pouring out her domestic problems to him in the process of getting a divorce. I am sick of these love-starved, mistreated women who use my husband as a wailing wall. "He says it's all in a day's work but they call him up at night and cry some more. Shall I tell him I don't want him taking any more divorce cases for women under 50?"

JEALOUS: Any woman whose husband is exposed to attractive females as part of his daily routine should have more confidence in herself and more faith in her husband. Don't give him an ultimatum. The women of whom you are jealous are probably far more jealous of you. Skip it.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a married man for three years. He swears he loves me and the only reason he goes home is to see his children. He says he has nothing to do with his wife but she has a baby every year and I don't know what to make of it.

"He keeps telling me he is saving up for a divorce and I am saving too, but I am beginning to think he is just stringing me. Do you think he is being unfaithful to me with his wife? Should I go to his wife and settle it once and for all? I really love this man, Abby. Please help me."

MIXED UP: DEAR MIXED UP (and you ARE Mixed Up): Leave his wife alone... and leave HER husband alone, too. Women who get involved with married men can find sympathy under "S" in the dictionary. Straighten up and fly right.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that I have been told I snore so loud that I am afraid to travel by rail at night because of the complaints I get from the whole car the next morning. Hotel clerks have told me the people in rooms below me, above me and on either side of me have complained because I kept them up with my snoring all night. I don't dare doze off for a nap in the commuter or anywhere else because of this. I must travel for a living and it is a real handicap. Can you suggest something?"

LOUD SNORER: DEAR ABBY: Go to a doctor. Many problem snorers have been silenced by a bit of minor surgery.

DEAR ABBY: What can you do with a husband who loves to talk? I mean really talk! I sent him to the corner for a can of pork and beans and it took him 57 minutes. He said he ran into some friends and they talked. Yesterday we went into the drug store for a package of razor blades and I stood on one foot and then the other while he held the floor for 35 minutes talking to the druggist. "I hate to go shopping with him because he always finds people in the store to talk to and more than once we've been

Have You Tried This? Sweet Pickle Juice Adds to Macaroni Fish Salad

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

We heard about an unusual way of fixing macaroni to use in shrimp salad and immediately got in touch with the cook. Mrs. M. M. Rickner is an old friend of ours and we know what a good cook she is.

Whatever time Mrs. Rickner has free from her job she spends with her grandchildren. She enjoys playing bridge.

MACARONI SHRIMP SALAD

Mrs. M. M. Rickner
2 cups chopped celery
2 medium onions, chopped
6 hard cooked eggs
1 can shrimp (6 1/2 ounce cans)
1 cup macaroni rings or tiny shells
Sweet pickle juice
Mayonnaise
Cook macaroni and drain. Let stand overnight in enough sweet pickle juice to cover; add chopped onions to mixture first. The pickle juice will all be absorbed.

Just before serving combine rest of ingredients with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Season to taste. Serves 6-8 people.

You Were Cheeky to Ask

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I went to the theater. Our seats were rather far back and I had forgotten to take my opera glasses with me. There was one particular person on stage that I was very anxious to get a close-up of.

"The woman seated next to me had opera glasses which she was not using at that particular moment, so I asked her if she would mind if I glimpsed through them a second. She handed them to me and I returned them promptly with a 'thank you.' My friend thoroughly disapproved of my action and thought I showed very bad manners. I certainly see no harm in what I did. Am I wrong?"

Answer: I am inclined to agree with your friend that it was cheeky of you to ask to use a stranger's opera glasses. This would depend to a great extent on your personality and the manner in which you made your request.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A young woman I've been seeing frequently lives on the third floor of an apartment building. We've discussed and disagreed as to where I should leave her when saying good-night and it is too late to be invited in. I think I should go up with her to her own front door; she believes downstairs."

Answer: In a building that has a doorman or a serviced elevator you would leave her downstairs. But in an unprotected building or one with a self-service elevator, it would be best to see her up to her own door.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a man and woman are seated at a table in a restaurant, should the man rise and remain standing only when a woman comes over to the table, or does he do the same for a man?"

Answer: Usually he rises only for a woman, but he would also show this courtesy to a much older man.

Doctor Interprets Youth's Concepts

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. This is the fifth of six excerpts that will appear during her absence from "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child" by Hilde Bruch, M.D., copyright 1957 by Hilde Bruch. Used by permission of the publisher, Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, Inc.)

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The trend of our time is to give formal sex education to children as part of biology. As sex education comprises a wide range of emotional, spiritual, social, esthetic and intellectual experiences, care should be taken that this does not proceed along the line of barnyard sex.

In the twenties there was a great deal of talk about the right of young people to live out their love for each other by sexual expression. A real reversal has taken place. Today sexual expression comes first and may overshadow the experience of love and intimacy.

DATING IS PRIMARY

To have a date, to permit petting often precedes the feeling of loving expression even if they know that or being loved. Dating has become a scoreboard of popularity. In order to be sure of a date, a certain degree of sexual permissiveness is considered necessary.

Many young people have lost or never had the concept that sex has a proper time and place. They have become convinced that it is the only thing that matters in any relationship. Sex is an urge that needs to be fulfilled for its own sake; it is essential for establishing one's status in the group. There is a compulsion to find a partner in order to avoid the mysterious dangers of restraint, for our present generation is afraid that lack of sexual outlets might be harmful.

The real conflict is that many young people are deeply imbued with traditional and puritanical concepts. They permit themselves sexual expression even if they know that they will pay for it with guilt and confusion.

The modern young woman will consider that the worst epithet that can be applied to her is "Victorian prudish." The simple question: "What's the matter with you?" may be sufficient to make her more permissive than her inner standards, her emotional or bodily readiness demand.

If she refuses sexual advances, she feels forced to apologize. As to the young man, he suffers the fear of premature involvement, of acquiring responsibilities which are beyond his age.

What they need is help in developing discrimination so that they can differentiate their longings for the permanency of love and beauty from romantic and momentary thrills.

Socorro Pena Becomes Bride of Jack Mendoza

Socorro Maria Pena and Cpl. Jack Roy Mendoza were married Saturday morning at St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Rev. James Sheenan, officiated at the Nuptial Mass before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pena of Franklin road and Mr. and Mrs. Arnulfo Nerio of Saginaw.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over skinner satin, featuring a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was accented with tiers of ruffles and lace alternating with accordion pleated nylon tulle. Ruffles continued the length of the gown forming a cathedral train.

Her Belgium mantilla was held by a pearl crown and she carried a cascade bouquet of carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bridegroom's sister, Gloria Mendoza, was maid of honor, and matron of honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Tomas Pena. Bridesmaids were Nina Paramo, Janet Villa and Frances Maria Cervantes.

The attendants were dressed in Nile green iridescent taffeta gowns with owl necklines. Their headpieces were Nile green crowns with circular veils and they carried bouquets of white carnations.

The bride's niece, Maria Elena Pena, was flower girl.

Tony Pena was best man and ushers were Michael Berregon, Dennis Paramo and Robert Ayala, the bridegroom's cousin from Saginaw. Juan Alvarado, the bride's nephew was ring-bearer.

held at Helenic Hall for 400 guests. Mrs. Pena wore a burnt sugar Chantilly lace dress with beige accessories. Mrs. Nerio wore a light blue satin dress with scattered seed pearl designs and accessories to match. Both wore orchid corsages.

When the couple left for northern Michigan honeymoon the new Mrs. Pena was wearing a gold and beige suit with off-white accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bridegroom is serving with the U.S. Marines in Palms, Calif.

SEASONAL CHANGE

Regardless of what the weather man says or how bright the sun... Labor Day stamps the "end" on summer whites in the fashion world.

Prove your fashion awareness by accepting this rule as final: Don't try on a dress because you are still sporting a super suntan.

You will find darker transition tones equally flattering and cotton-cool. Or take this opportunity to wear bright colors that are their very best in cotton fabrics.

It's a wonderful time to take stock of your wardrobe before fall weather arrives.

Dustless Rooms Help Allergies

Many devices have been suggested to help allergy sufferers stay sneeze-free in bed. Keep the bedroom clean of dust, of course. Nylon mattress and pillow covers have been found helpful.

Investigate the allergenic properties of all blankets or sheets before you buy them. And don't allow your mattress to get too old.

A tight new mattress is much safer for anyone with a dust allergy to sleep on — to say nothing of the fact that it is much more comfortable!

Undergarments Must Be Clean

It's an important day in a girl's life when she buys her first bra and grown-up garter-belt. And mother should stress the fact that no girl can be dainty unless her undies are, too.

That a bra should be sudsed after each wearing. That a garter belt should be kept immaculate. The girl who develops the habit of cleanliness and daintiness early in life will certainly be a more attractive individual all her life.

Hospitalization Short

Abrasion May Help Scars, Freckles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Already this week I have brought you information from prominent members of The American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery concerning sandpaper surgery and dermal abrasion with special reference to the treatment of acne scars with this technique. Today I want to tell you more about this comparatively new skill.

One of the most effective uses of dermal abrasion is to minimize scars caused by injuries.

In such cases, the treatment is an adjunct to surgical incision. Before the scar is excised the surgeon routinely abrades both the scar and the surrounding skin. The regenerated skin then covers the incision and gives a smoother, less conspicuous result.

Many girls and women are unhappy because they have freckles. This defect is not in the same class with the acne scarred face. However, it can be disfiguring when it is extreme.

The indiscriminate removal of freckles by abrasion is not recommended by plastic surgeons. In certain instances where they actually are disfiguring and a source of great embarrassment and unhappiness, abrasion is performed. Although the freckles will not return if abrasion is complete, excessive exposure to sunlight may cause other freckles to develop. Luckily some young adults lose this childhood tendency to form multiple freckles. Removal of existing freckles in such cases is considered worthwhile.

Some birthmarks are affected by irritation. In fact irritation may even be a factor in cancerous changes. Others, which do not reach deep into the skin, are not more affected by irritation than normal skin. This latter type may be abraded but the surgeon usually confirms his diagnosis by a biopsy examination performed by a pathologist. Results vary and a trial abrasion often is helpful in this instance. Only a limited number of birthmarks respond to dermal abrasion. These are usually the flat pigmented type and do not include the marks.

Plastic surgeons believe that when the area to be abraded covers only a few inches the procedure may be carried out in the office under local anesthesia. If the whole face is to be treated, the surgeon prefers a hospital and a general anesthetic.

The patient usually goes to the hospital the day before surgery and needs to remain only about 24 hours after the operation is performed. During the first day he remains on a liquid diet and his entire face is bandaged. Lighter dressings usually remain on for a week.

When the patient first sees his face the skin is red, somewhat swollen and crusty. Men may shave after the crusts are removed but are advised to use an electric razor for the first few days. Women may wash with ordinary toilet soap two to three days after the dressings are removed. Both are advised to avoid too much sunlight for two or three months since the new skin is sensitive.

Redness usually disappears completely in six weeks to three months. Six months to a year often is necessary for evaluation of the final result.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM LUNDBY

Donna Irene Morell Wed

Gladioli and palms banked the altar of Central Methodist Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Donna Irene Morell and William Michael Lundby.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Morell of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lundby of New Hudson.

The bride selected a floor length gown of nylon tulle and lace featuring a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented with a back detail of tulle and lace tiered ruffles.

Her hand-rolled veil fell from a tiara of pearls and sequins. On a prayer book she carried a white orchid with streamers of stephanotis and ivy.

ATTEND BRIDE

Carol Ann Morell of Cass City was maid of honor. She wore a light blue tulle dress trimmed with peacock blue and featuring a fitted bodice. Her headpiece was a matching tiara.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donald Hartel of Cass City, Dianne Murdock of Detroit, and Mrs. Dean Parmenter. They were dressed in peacock blue dresses with matching tiara headpieces. They carried birdcage baskets with bird of paradise and streamers of Hawaiian foliage.

Best man was Robert Trinka of Detroit, with ushers Stewart Murdock and Edward Fisher, both of Detroit, and Stanley Otulakowski of Grosse Pointe Shores.

To receive guests at a reception held at K. of C. Hall, the bride's mother chose a dress of gray lace over pink tulle with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue dress with gray accessories. Both had glamelia corsages.

honeymoon to Mackinaw Island and northern Michigan, the bride was wearing a blue-print dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Jacket Lengths Are Up and Down

The length of this season's jackets will be up and down. In some costume suits, the jacket will be very brief with half-belt under the bustline. In others it will be tunic length, reaching all the way to the knee. Between these extremes are the box jacket and the finger-tip length shaped in a pretty oval.

Gracious Manner Still Mark of Lady

By RUTH MILLETT

A recent magazine article raised the question of what is a lady.

The term isn't used as much as it once was. We seem to shy away from it as being old-fashioned.

Yet in our own minds we still judge a woman by whether or not she is a lady.

Here, in a few words, are my ideas of what qualifies a woman to be generally regarded as a lady.

When you meet her you look at her instead of her clothes.

When she is talking to you, people across the room don't pause in their own conversations to listen. This is because she doesn't speak loudly enough to attract attention.

She doesn't talk about the things she does for others. She does her good deeds quietly and without fanfare.

She doesn't try to impress you with who she is or what she has. And on the other hand she isn't apologetic about what she doesn't have. She accepts you as a human being and expects you to do the same.

She has a certain amount of reticence about personal matters. She will listen sympathetically to someone else's troubles but isn't inclined to unload hers on anybody.

She gives other people the benefit of the doubt and doesn't go around criticizing and condemning or spreading malicious gossip.

She knows how to give a soft answer, instead of meeting insult with insult or cattiness with cattiness.

She chooses her friends without consideration for their social standing, bank accounts, or their possible usefulness to her.

If she is your friend, you are lucky because she will not let a friend down. After all, she's a LADY.

MR. and MRS. MARVIN E. BAKER

Marvin E. Baker Claims Delores Fellows as Bride

A floor-length gown of embroidered tulle was worn by Delores Mae Fellows for her marriage to Marvin E. Baker Saturday at the First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. Wesley Wibley performed the ceremony before 250 witnesses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Fellows of East Montcalm street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Baker of Hartford drive.

The bride's gown featured a portrait neckline, and she carried an arrangement of white carnations centered by a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Barbara Fellows, was maid of honor, wearing a gown of lavender crystallette and carrying a semicascade of lavender carnations.

Bridesmaids Barbara Baker, sister of the bridegroom, and Karen Underwood, cousin of the bridegroom, were gowned in waltz-length gowns of yellow and aqua crystallette respectively. Their bouquets were cascades of yellow and aqua carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM Earl Davis, the bride's brother-in-law, was best man. Ushers were Jim Sexton, John Wibley, and Bill Engstrom.

Mrs. Fellows wore a purple print taffeta dress and corsage of yellow roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Baker was gowned in pink and brown chiffon over printed taffeta and wore a corsage of pale pink roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Roosevelt Temple. Before leaving

Think of Children When Buying Toys

When you buy toys, think of the child who is going to use them. Are they within his range of interests? Can he handle them safely and properly? Can he get the most benefit out of them?

Considering your toy purchases in this light is extremely important. For well-selected playthings contribute tremendously to children's knowledge, abilities and character, while a haphazard choice of toys can be harmful—as well as uneconomical.

Getting a preview of the fun they'll have at All Saints Cooperative Nursery School which begins Sept. 15 are (left to right) Mary McGeen, Rickey Newton and Gary Knudsen. Classes will be held five mornings a week for children from three to five years of age.

Nursery School Set to Open

All Saints Cooperative Nursery school on West Pike street will begin its fall semester Sept. 15. Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for the week of Sept. 8.

The nursery school sessions will be held five mornings a week for children from 3 to 5 years old. The younger children will attend two mornings and the older ones three mornings.

The school has two teachers and one assistant, plus regular aid from mothers of the students.

Mrs. George Newton of Woodbine drive may be contacted for further information about registration.

Rainbow's Limit in Home Decor Survey Shows

NEW YORK (UPI) — Colors other than white are taking over in home decor, a survey shows.

The use of white for walls and exteriors has declined steadily since 1950, although more white is used for woodwork.

Green is the most popular color for interiors. Beige is the favorite among neutral hues, which make up more than half the interior flat paints sold.

Increasing in popularity are chartreuse, gray, yellow, pink, peach, flame and raspberry. Blue-green remains a top accent color.

White still ranks first for outside of homes, but green, yellow and orange are coming up, the Association said.

New Slim Lines

The blouson silhouette will be seen in the new slim lines with a low drawstring to suggest a gathered waistline or in the spoon-back dresses with fullness gathered into a band low on the hips.

Mix and Match Suits Men Fine, Service Reports

DURHAM, N. H. (UPI) — Men are buying more and more mix-and-match clothes and continue to prefer wool as a fabric, the University of New Hampshire Cooperative Extension Service reports.

Sales of separate sports jackets and trousers showed a one-third increase from 1951 to 1956.

Industry production figures demonstrate man's preference for all-wool fabrics or those made with a woolen base.

More than 90 per cent of the regular weight suits made between 1951 and 1956 were wool or primarily of wool. Wool also was used in 35 per cent of the lightweight suits made in 1951.

Fur lends an air of elegance to the season, appearing as trim on hats and as small collars on coats and suits. This season the long coat with long-haired-fur shawl collar is new.

Guild Claiming Gls Nonpaid Actors

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The Screen Actors Guild is up in arms over reports that Gls are being used as actors in a commercial television series being shot in Germany.

SAG President Leon Ames wrote Rep. Joe Holt (R-Calif.) that "under no circumstances should Army personnel be allowed to perform without remuneration in commercially sponsored filmed TV programs."

Ames said the series is called "Citizen Soldier" and uses Army personnel as actors without paying them beyond their military salary.

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts.

Virginia County Caught Between U.S. Order, State Law on 'Mixing'

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The Arlington County School Board, caught in an apparent conflict between a Federal Court desegregation order and state law, says it will ask Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan to show it the way out.

The Board said last night it would ask Bryan next Tuesday—two days before schools are scheduled to open—what it should do about 30 Negro children seeking admission to Arlington white schools.

Several hours earlier, in Harrisonburg, Federal Judge John Paul handed another setback to the state's massive resistance to integration doctrine by refusing to approve in its entirety the redistricting plan drawn up by the Charlottesville School Board.

Charlottesville created a new district around Jefferson School, a Negro school and all 30 Negro applicants to white schools live in that district. Judge Paul said he felt some phases of the redistricting were not discriminatory but that he was troubled over other phases of it.

The Arlington School Board earlier yesterday filed a "request for guidance" in Bryan's court in Alexandria. It said in a motion then that unless he directs otherwise the 30 Negro pupils will attend Negro schools as assigned by the State Pupil Placement Board.

Arlington, unlike other Virginia localities facing federal desegregation orders, next month, has been told to admit specific Negro pupils to specific white schools. Seven Negroes were ordered admitted to white schools, but two have since decided not to attend Arlington schools.

Twenty-five other Negro pupils have applied for admission to white schools and on Monday the State Pupil Placement Board assigned all 30 to Negro schools.

Virginia law requires the closing of any public school which becomes integrated.

In Norfolk authorities continued reviewing applications of 151 Negroes seeking admission to white public schools. Federal Judge Walter E. Hoffman has told them to reconsider all the applications—particularly 16 he deemed rejected because of race.

Hollywood Headlines

Goldwyn Goes to Office, Nixes Birthday Dinners

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer
Second of 2 Articles

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There will be no special celebration for Samuel Goldwyn on his 76th birthday today.

"I'll be at my desk at 9:30 in the morning," the producer said. "I'll spend the day watching the start of rehearsals for 'Porgy and Bess.' I'll have a birthday cake at home with my grandchildren. That's all I want. I turned down all the requests for luncheons and dinners to celebrate with."

"It's not that he's against birthdays, he said; he firmly believes everyone should tell his right age, a rarity in the movie business. The main thing is that he's too busy producing a picture to take time out for celebrations."

How does he maintain such an active life at an age when most men are retired? He answered by telling his daily regimen, interspersed with his own philosophy. He rises in his Beverly Hills mansion at 6, reads the morning papers and takes the coffee which is his only breakfast. "Most people eat too much; I get along with very little food," he says. He spends half an hour on the floor doing exercises, then gets a half-hour rub-down.

He is at his office by 9:30 and runs through his appointments briskly. "I never keep anyone waiting; I figure their time is worth more than mine." He has lunch at 12:30, usually fruit and cottage cheese. Then he takes an hour's rest.

"I don't always sleep," he explained. "The important thing is to have some time when you are alone. A man needs to commune with himself. That's why I take long walks alone when I am not making a picture."

He leaves the studio at least by 7— "To keep your servants happy, you've got to maintain regular hours." After a light dinner, he reads the New York Times, Herald-Tribune and Post, possibly a book, retires by 11 or 12. Twice a week, he runs a picture — "I love movies." During production, he allows himself only one night out a week.

On weekends, he spends six to eight hours a day on the croquet court, which has become a mania with him.

"I never take pills," he said. "I've never taken a vitamin pill in my life. I only see a doctor about twice a year, and he tells me I have the strongest heart in Hollywood. He says that morning exercise is the best thing in the world for me; he wishes he could do it."

There can be little doubt about what makes Sam run. It is the pursuit of a love that began 45 years ago — the making of motion pictures.

He is relentless in his devotion to making films the best he can and has worn down many a younger man with his drive. He shrugged off the Pandora's box of problems and personality clashes that arose with "Porgy and Bess."

"Sure, I lost some sleep over them," he admitted. "But if you look back on all my pictures, you will see that they all have had stormy times. I am interested in only one thing — getting quality on the screen."

Before returning to work, he offered this observation on his 76th birthday: "I often wonder about what keeps me going, and I believe it is spirit. It is spirit that spurs you on to undertake big things. I think a great deal about our Founding Fathers and the courage and drive they had to create this nation. If I can have the same spirit of '76, I'll be able to accomplish the many things I have left to do."

His eyes crinkled and his mouth formed the famous V-shaped smile as he showed his obvious pleasure in what he had remarked.

Woman Patient Shelling Peas to Get Well

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Rosa Bozeman, a peppery 76, says "idleness is for old folks."

She found she had too much idleness, however, while hospitalized here recovering from a stroke. So she has her husband, a farmer bring her a mess of black-eyed peas every day and she sits and shells them.

"That's the best therapy she could have," one doctor said. "It'll keep her hands active, and it's something she enjoys doing."

She gives the shelled peas to the nurses who care for her.

Welland Canal Key to Seaway

AAR Says Toll Must Be Based on Capacity of Big Ditch

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Assn. of American Railroads told the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. yesterday that if the seaway is to be made self-liquidating shipping tolls will have to be based on the capacity of the Welland Canal.

On that basis, the AAR said, tolls will have to be higher than those that have been recommended.

The corporation recently held hearings on proposed toll charges for the seaway. The AAR's views were expressed in a supplementary statement filed with the corporation.

The AAR said the U.S. Tolls Committee has placed the Welland Canal's effective cargo capacity at 60 million tons a year, or, according to the AAR, nearly double the canal's practical capacity.

The railroad organization said an analysis shows that the physical capacity of the Welland indicates "the maximum usable on effective capacity of the canal will not at any time even reach 40 million tons of cargo for a navigation season."

The statement maintained further that this estimated annual maximum capacity will not be fully used every year because of general business fluctuations.

Celluloid Made in 1870 of Camphor, Collodion

CHICAGO—The manufacture of the first synthetic resin, celluloid, began in 1870.

It was made by adding camphor to collodion under heat and pressure. Its first uses were for billiard balls and men's collars. A little later, pyroxylin plastics were applied to broadening markets and the plastics industry was born.

AP Newsmen Ensz Ejected From Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Associated Press correspondent Reinhold G. Ensz was ordered by the government to leave Jordan today.

Ensz was escorted from the press room at the government press office to the Amman Club Hotel to pack his things.

The reason for his expulsion was given as his reporting of speculation among Western diplomats here that the current Middle East crisis, combined with Jordan's perpetual poverty, might lead King Hussein to European exile and partition of Jordan among Israel, Saudi Arabia, Iraq and the United Arab Republic.

Ensz's last dispatch from Amman was filed today, reporting the arrival here of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld on his Middle East peace mission.

Cash and Cigarettes Stolen by Burglars

Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives are investigating the break-in yesterday of an area concession stand which netted thieves $288.40 in cash and merchandise.

Deputies reported Tuesday that The Big House, located at 4560 Center St., Independence Township, had been broken into through a rear window.

Detectives found the door panels ripped off six pinball machines and a juke box. A total of $225 in change was taken from the pinball machines while $45 was reported missing from the juke box.

Also stolen from the stand was $18.40 worth of cigarettes. Detectives said the money in the machines was to have been collected Tuesday.

"Dancing the beans" — polishing cocoa beans by treading them under foot — is a popular chore for Trinidad's field workers in the West Indies. They sing and joke while dancing on the beans.

Dog Is Doomed to Be Blown Up in Welsh Hills

MOUNTAIN ASH, Wales (UPI) — Ken Savage, 28, a postman, faced a doglover's nightmare today. He must lead an explosive team to a mountain crevice so it can destroy his three-year-old dog, Chincock.

Savage and Chincock were hiking through the mountains when the dog slipped and fell into a crevice 60 feet down, within hearing distance.

Savage, who twice has rescued dogs from similar but wider fissures in the mountains of Glamorgan County, was able to approach within 30 feet of Chincock but could not save her.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals ruled that she must die violently today rather than face death by slow starvation.

Grandpa, Grandma Set to Kick Up Their Heels

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Grandpa and grandma are going to kick up their heels.

They left yesterday for a 10-day jaunt to the Emma Kaufmann camp in Harmony, Pa., about 30 miles from here, where they'll sing, dance, swim, play checkers and canasta and see movies.

Nation Rich in Rubber, Tin

Malaya Federation Unites
11 Jungle-Covered States

WASHINGTON — The young Federation of Malaya, independent since August 31, 1957, has brought something new to the family of nations — an Eastern monarchy along Western lines. Its "Supreme Ruler," Abdu Rahman, was a figure of traditional Oriental splendor at a recent celebration in the capital, Kuala Lumpur. Above his gold and be-medaled costume, the diamond crescent of Islam glittered on a brocaded headdress. From his belt protruded the ceremonial kris, or Malay dagger, that symbolizes royal power.

Yet behind the color and pageantry, Malaya's machinery of government is a practical, constitutional one. Its king was not born to the throne but elected to it for five years. As in the West, the prime minister of this former British protectorate holds the government reins.

UNION OF 11 STATES

separate states of the slim, jungle-smothered peninsula that dangles from the Southeast Asia mainland. Singapore remains a crown colony.

As a sovereign entity, the Malaya Federation has remained within the British Commonwealth of Nations. Its relations with Britain are unusually friendly. Unlike neighboring Indochina and Indonesia, Malaya emerged from colonialism without the bitterness of war.

On the economic front, the Federation has inherited the country's famous trade in rubber and tin. It looks forward to potential wealth in forest products and mineral resources, such as iron and uranium.

But the young nation faces large problems in this tropical, rain-drenched land. Dense jungles, rugged mountains, and swamp areas where houses stand high on stilts, are barriers to communications and development.

INCLUDES MANY RACES

vided by different racial, religious, cultural, and linguistic backgrounds. The population of some seven million includes more than two million Chinese, and nearly 750,000 Indians and Pakistanis.

To take its place among modern nations, the Malaya Federation has launched a five-year development program in many fields. Major objectives are an increase in food products, especially rice; the establishment of diversified secondary industries; improvement of port facilities, and increased trade with Asian neighbors whose governments, populations, and economies are also changing and growing.

Fish to Stay on Land?

HONOLULU (U)—A forgetful fish asked police for help after he misplaced his aqua lung. Duane B. Fish told authorities he lost his underwater breathing device somewhere in Kaneohe, a town near Honolulu.

Walled Lake Junior High to Open Late for Some

WALLED LAKE — Due to a delay in completing renovation of the Walled Lake Junior High School building, school will not open for junior high students until Monday, Sept. 8, Sup. Clifford H. Smart announced this morning. All high school and elementary pupils will report for classes Sept. 8 as scheduled.

Peaceful Use of Atom by American Industry Is Gaining Momentum

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—With American nuclear submarines making headlines on both sides of the Atlantic today, industry is stepping up its interest in the atom on the home front.

Commercial atomic surface ships and submarines are still in the talking stage.

But some commercial nuclear power plants already are in operation and others are being built.

An operating nuclear research reactor built by Atomic International, a division of North American Aviation, is being set up in Geneva for the second International Conference on Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy, opening next week.

Six 30-watt nuclear research reactors are being built by that company at Canoga Park, Calif., for use by educational institutions and industrial research laboratories.

Curtiss Wright has a general purpose nuclear installation at its research development center at Quakana, Pa., offering laboratory and radiation services for industry.

It is building a reactor at Watertown, Mass., for the U.S. Army to test an atomic food irradiator. The aim is to process

Hikes Reward Check but He'll Pay for Act

NEW YORK (AP)—Leopold Goetz, 67-year-old Greenwich Village newsstand employee, won't be able to enjoy the $75 reward he got for returning a woman's lost wallet which contained personal papers but no money.

He's charged with raising the $75 reward check to $175 and cashing it.

foods so that they may be kept fresh under field conditions for the military forces.

North American built a research reactor for Armour Research Foundation at Chicago, American Machine & Foundry supplied one for Battelle Memorial Institute at Columbus, Ohio.

In the field of atomic power plants, Westinghouse will complete one in 1960 at Rowe, Mass., for the Yankee Atomic Electric Co., using experience gained in the plant in operation at Shippingport, Pa. It has under way a study with the Carolinas Virginia Nuclear Power Associates to find the type of reactor best suited to the group's needs.

North American Aviation will complete in 1961 nuclear power plants at Piqua, Ohio, and Hallam, Neb. And it has a research and development program under way on an advanced epithermal thorium reactor for the Southwest Atomic Energy Associates, representing 15 electric utility companies in Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

Airtight Bag Kills Tot

ELLENVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A 5-month-old boy was suffocated yesterday by his favorite plaything—a plastic food bag. Mrs. Michael Luis gave the bag to little Michael Jr. when she tucked him in for his afternoon nap. Two hours later she found him dead with the bag pulled over his head.

It will build a nuclear steam supply system at Eureka, Calif., for Pacific Gas & Electric. The utility will also use power generated at GE's Vallecitos nuclear laboratory in California, which will be completed this fall.

It is also building a 50,000-kilowatt plant for Industrial Testing Reactors, Inc., Charlotte, N.C. Consolidated Edison plans a nuclear power plant just north of New York City.

Expense has been the chief deterrent to rapid growth of the civilian use of the atom. Conventional power utilities see the day far off when nuclear power will be competitive. But starts are multiplying.

12-Month Use No Solution

By THOMAS D. BAILEY
Florida State Superintendent of Public Instruction

The all-year school is no panacea for the nation's school building problems.

With increasing school enrollments and the renewed public emphasis on education since our entrance into the satellite era, proponents of the year-round school plan have become more vocal. And the lure which they offer, the theoretical savings of millions of dollars, becomes more attractive.

But the savings are illusory. Wherever the program has been tried in the past (as far back as the early 1900s) it has been abandoned as both educationally and financially unsound.

Briefly, the all-year school plan calls for 12-month operation of schools, with the school year divided into four quarters of three months each. Students would start school at different times of the year, attend three quarters, and take their vacation in their fourth quarter.

Thus, three-fourths of the children would always be in school while one-fourth of the children would be on vacation.

Operating schools on four-quarters means dividing the school, grade by grade, into four sections as nearly equal as possible. Therefore, this plan actually means dividing the school into four schools, starting at different times and having examinations and graduations at different times.

But all schools do not divide neatly by four. What of the schools with only 40 students in a given grade or a given subject? Dividing by four means four teachers with only 10 pupils each and there is no financial savings there.

In order to divide an elementary grades 1 to 6 school, for instance, into four educationally and economically sound quarters, it takes a minimum enrollment of 720 pupils, able to be divided in fairly equal portions grade by grade. There are few schools so perfectly constituted, and this automatically eliminates all elementary schools smaller than 720 in enrollment.

Our studies show that to soundly apply the all-year plan in a junior high school, the enrollment must be at least 1,300 pupils. In a senior high school 2,400 pupils. (Nationally, 13,142 of the 23,746 high schools have less than 200 pupils.)

When you eliminate all the schools which are too small for the year-round plan, you reduce the theoretical savings. In the Florida study, the theoretical savings of 160 million dollars is reduced to $3,882,400.

But even this savings is illusory because of other costs which increase under the all-year plan.

Occupancy in Hotels

Now Runs 63 to 73 Pct.

ATLANTIC CITY — Large hotels in the United States have been averaging 73 per cent occupancy lately and small ones 63 per cent. Most of them can break even if 60 to 65 per cent of their rooms are occupied all the time.

HALF ACRE CASTLE

Mrs. H. E. Dodge II Cools Off in Clink

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Horace E. Dodge II of the Detroit automobile family was jailed yesterday on drunk and battery charges after a violent row with police officers and matrons.

Her companion, Chicago Sun-Times columnist Irv Kupcinet, was booked on a drunk driving charge.

She and Kupcinet were released later on bail, pending appearance today.

Mrs. Dodge, 35, the former Gregg Sherwood, film actress, used violent language, spat on one officer and spat on and struck two matrons, Policemen Lawrence Brown and Kenneth Bernard reported.

They said they noticed her first on La Cienega boulevard when she shouted at them: "You guys get off the streets. You're drunk."

Brown said that later at Lincoln

Heights Jail Mrs. Dodge struck policewoman Marilyn Sperry in the jaw and spat on policewoman Gale Rice.

Mrs. Dodge and her husband have rented a home in the Bel-Air section here formerly occupied by Dominican Republic playboy Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. She is a former "Miss Wisconsin" from Beloit and has returned to Hollywood to resume her acting career. She was a starlet five years ago before she and Dodge were married.

Packers Use Enzymes for Tenderizing Meats

CHICAGO — United States packers are using more than 20,000 gallons of enzyme meat tenderizers a month to break down tough connective tissues and muscle fibers. The enzymes are derived from figs, pineapples, and papayas. One packer is even experimentally injecting enzymes into steers shortly before slaughter.

Two 'Old Pros' Pace Local Amateurs

Draper, Kocsis Qualify for National Meet

Indiana Dentist Ahead of State Entries at Pine Lake

By BILL CORNWELL.

Two old "pros," when it comes to qualifying for the U.S.G.A. Amateur golf championship, were joined by a couple of newcomers Tuesday in 36-hole sectional trials at Pine Lake Country Club.

Richard Weyand, 19-year-old golfer from Birmingham, and Anthony Lopucki, a design engineer from Romulus, made the grade for the first time yesterday over Pine Lake's tree-lined 6,825 yards.

Birmingham's Tom Draper and Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, old hands at this business, succeeded in qualifying for the 15th and 13th times, respectively.

Rounding out the list of six players who earned a trip to the west coast for the national tournament are Dr. W. R. Aldrich, the golfing dentist from Angola, Ind., and another Birmingham player, Ray Lovell.

The National Amateur tourney is scheduled Sept. 8-13 at San Francisco's Olympic course, site of the 1935 U.S. Open.

Pine Lake's par 36-72 layout was no picnic for the 45-man starting field. Only three of the six qualifiers — Aldrich, Kocsis and Lopucki — managed to equal or better regulation, not to mention 28 other luckless golfers who officially went the distance.

Dr. Aldrich won medal honors yesterday as he qualified for the 5th time. The 37-year-old Hoosier opened with 72 and closed with 71 for a 36-hole total of 143, one under par.

Kocsis, who first qualified for the U.S. Amateur in 1930 and went to the national finals in 1936 before losing to Harvie Ward, stood even with par at 144 on rounds of 75 and 69. His finishing 69 was the day's best individual round. Lopucki matched Chuck's total with a scorecard of 74-70.

The 4th low qualifier was Weyand, who failed last year in his first try, although he gained an alternate berth. Young Weyand was not to be denied again, however, as he carded 74-71-145, only one stroke above par.

Lovell qualified for the second time in his golfing career by shooting 76-71-147. Draper finished 6th with a score of 75-74-149.

Perry Byard, Gene Woodard and Lou Wendrow, who fired 151s, and Dick Norton, Dave MacHarg, John Fauster, III and Fred Wilt, all with 152, captured alternate berths in that order after a sudden-death playoff. Wilt automatically placed last by leaving the course before the playoff.

State Amateur champion Glenn Johnson was the day's biggest casualty. Only three over par at the end of 27 holes, Johnson took 47 strokes on the back nine and shot himself out of contention. His final score was 75-83-158.

14 Trotters to Run in Hambletonian Today

DUQUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Fourteen well-matched 3-year-old trotters line up for the 33rd Hambletonian Stake today in a Midwest setting that includes fair weather and one of the country's fastest tracks.

At stake is the fourth richest purse in harness racing history, $108,719.24. The winner's share $52,750.92—is the second highest for the sulky sport.

Post time for the four fillies, nine colts and a gelding is 3 p.m. EST. The one-mile race is over the native clay track of the DuQuoin Fairgrounds where parimutuel betting is banned.

Tulsa Youth Fired 135 for Amateur Berth

Ex-Caddie Champ Qualifies

By The Associated Press
Jerry Pittman couldn't be blamed today if he felt like a caddy all over again. His 36 holes finished, he was still waiting for someone to tell him just how good he did.

The 21-year-old former National Caddie champion posted a nifty 7-under-par 68-67-135 yesterday to lead qualifiers for the U.S. Amateur Golf Championships.

But today 99 late-starting Chicago area hopefuls went after the 11 remaining berths and a round that would take the national qualifying medal honors away from the Tulsa lad who picked up a diploma and a lot of links knowledge at Southern Methodist University.

Jerry put the golfing knowledge to work at Southern Hills Country Club at Tulsa and his round included an eagle and seven birdies, good for a one-stroke edge over two other contenders, Ed Tutwiler, West Virginia amateur champ shot a 136 at Huntington and Bill Deupree Jr., of Fort Mitchell, Ky., matched it at Cincinnati. Both were 68-68.

Only five others got in under 140 as qualifying scores went as high as 158 as 1,360 amateurs went after 157 available berths at 29 sites yesterday. Seven had previously qualified at Seattle and Honolulu and another 25 were exempt, bringing the national amateur field to 200.

The big test is Sept. 8-13 at Olympic Country Club's Lake Course in San Francisco.

Defending champion Hillman Robbins is among the exempt group which includes members of the U.S. Canadian and Mexican American Cup teams and six others.

Pittman plans on enlisting in the Army after the national tourney, but before he can take the crown along with him he'll have to turn back some stiff opposition. It will include Don Bisplinghoff of Miami Beach, Fla., who made the list with a 69-68-137 at Jacksonville; Glen Fowler, Oklahoma City, 70-69-139, who was runner-up to Pittman at Tulsa, where both mastered the course that threw some of the top pros during the National Open last June; and Eli Barreau of Santa Cruz, Calif., whose 72-67-139 led the biggest qualifying field at Palo Alto, Calif. There 18 berths were on the line and among 161 entries.

It will probably be several years before George Boutell of Phoenix can seriously challenge Pittman—not to include exempt players Robbins, Harvie Ward Jr., Charlie Coe, Billy Joe Patton, Dr. Bud Taylor or Rex Baxter Jr.—but his is a name to remember. At the age of 14 yesterday he shot a 70-74-144 to gain one of five qualifying slots at Phoenix.

An old Southwest foe of Pittman's, Phil Rodgers, a LaJolla, Calif., resident who won the 1958 NCAA championship for Houston, made the big one with rounds of 75-73-148 at Los Angeles. Former public links champ Gene Andrews also qualified at LA with a 87-78-144.

Rain hit several sites, including Brookline, Mass. A tragic note struck there when veteran Fred Wright of Watertown, Conn., suffered a fatal heart attack on the 13th tee.

Jimmy McHale, Harold Everitt and Tim Holland were respected amateurs who failed to qualify, and Dick Foutche, last year's medalist with a 133, missed out at Huntington when he soared to 156.

THE WEAKER SEX? — "Wee" Tamara Tyshevitch of Russia puts everything she has, and that's over 200 pounds, into her throw in the shotput event of the European Track and Field championships. She was upset by Marianne Werner of Germany who tossed the put 51-feet and 7.68 inches.

row over San Francisco as Lew Burdette, back in form for a return match with the New York Yankees in the World Series, whipped the Giants for the 11th time in a row.

Robin Roberts, riding a comeback spurt, won his 14th as Philadelphia whipped the Chicago Cubs 10-3, and Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 6-4 in the other NL games.

The Bucs wrapped it up on Frank Thomas' two-run, 34th homer for a 4-1 lead in the third inning. Don Gross (5-5) won it in relief of rookie George Witt. Sad Sam Jones (11-10) was the loser, lasting only three innings. Gene Green hit his 10th homer, with a man on, for the Cards.

The Pirates now have 66 games with 29 to play. They won only 62 all last season, and haven't won more than 66 in one year since 1949, when they were 71-83 and finished sixth.

Burdette (15-9) who hasn't lost to the Giants since Sept. 16, 1934, picked up his 100th victory in the majors with a six-hitter while packing away a 9-2 record since the All-Star Game. He lost a 3-0 lead when Willie Kirkland hit his 12th home run in the fifth inning and Willie Mays hit his 23rd with a man on in the sixth. But Eddie Mathews then cracked the first of his two home runs for a 4-3 edge in the seventh off loser Ruben Gomez (7-11).

Del Crandall hit his 18th homer in the eighth, and Mathews then hit his 27th and Wes Covington smacked his 23rd in the ninth.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

"I was lucky." Those were the modest words of personable Butler Cooper after he won the City Medal Play Golf Championship recently at Pontiac Municipal course.

Maybe so, but if the law of averages means anything, the likeable Cooper was due to have his day in the annual city tourney. For 10 years or more, Butler has been diligently trying to win the title. He finally made it.

Cooper wasn't wearing his knickers, a familiar part of his makeup, and he didn't say why. But the one king-sized Cooper trademark was ever present — his cigar.

Butler never deserted it through 36 holes of competition. No matter where he was during the whole affair — tee, green, fairway or rough — Cooper was puffing on his cigar and enjoying every puff.

It must have aided his concentration because the way his putts were falling into the cup, the greatest golfer in Oakland County would have had a hard time beating him.

He took only 53 putts for the 36-hole distance and one of them was a 40-footer from off the green for a par four after he had muffed two straight shots. It's difficult to beat that.

Dick DeWitt, who finished in 2nd place two strokes behind Cooper, gave his best tournament performance thus far. But Cooper had erected a big lead and he wisely guarded it with conservative golf towards the end.

One other thing about Cooper — he pulls the Satchel Paige act.

Harold Brink, veteran Grand Rapids amateur, came up with a new type of golfing complaint last weekend during the Michigan Open at Atlas Valley. After shooting a four-under-par 68 on opening day, Brink wailed "I don't like the shape of my divots."

A sports achievement certificate has been awarded to Mrs. June Dearing of Pontiac in recognition of her recent hole-in-one at Pine Lake, Detroit's Rudy Kaste scored a hole-in-one at North Hills with a 3-iron shot on the 185-yard 6th hole.

Stag Day honors at Tam O' Shanter were distributed as follows: Guest — H. Hamilton, low gross of 71, J. Damore, high gross of 150; Members — Paul Yarrows, low gross of 75, Phil Kopman and Max Brose, high gross of 109 each.

Mrs. Frank Syron, wife of Pontiac Country Club's pro-owner, gave a putting lesson to ladies in the Fairway League during loop play at PCC. She sank chip shots on Nos. 10 and 18 and one-puttered four other greens for a total of 11 putts for nine holes.

After 16 years of trying, Stuart Schwartz is the new club champion at Franklin Hills. Schwartz finally won the crown by defeating eight-time champ Art Thorne, 2 up.

The Cuban National Sports Commission will stage a $45,000 international golf event Nov. 13-16 at Havana. Forty pros and 120 amateurs have been invited to the four-day 72-hole outing.

Physicals for Vikings

Candidates for the Walled Lake High School football team will be given physicals at the school Thursday starting at 9 a.m. Practice sessions will begin Monday with two drills slated each day by coach Dave Smith.

Valdes Up in Ratings

Shake Heavyweight Ranks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Champion Floyd Patterson was named "fighter of the month" today and his victim, Roy Harris, was dropped from fifth to seventh as the ring magazine gave its heavyweight ratings a thorough shake-up.

Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex., suffered the two-notch drop because he was knocked out in the 12th round of his title fight with Patterson at Los Angeles last week.

Big Nino Valdes of Cuba rose from sixth to fourth because of his second victory over Mike DeJohn. Valdes replaced veteran Archie Moore, who slipped a peg to fifth because of his draw with Howard King.

Sweden's unbeaten Ingemar Johansson, European champion, who fights second-ranked Eddie Machen next month, rose from seventh to sixth. Sonny Liston of Philadelphia returned to the ratings at number nine because of his one-round kayo over Wayne Bethea.

Canadian George Chuvalo sank from ninth to 10th, and Harold Carter of Linden, N.J. — on a losing streak — was dropped from the top 10.

Vet QB's in Lions-Giants Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
 Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Three of the top veteran quarterbacks in pro football will appear on the same card Friday night at Briggs Stadium when the Detroit Lions face the New York Giants. The Lions of course have Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote and the Giants have 37-year-old Charlie Conerly who in 10 seasons in the league has hit for 134 touchdowns.

This puts him in third position in the all-time TD production department.

Layne, who is also in his 11th season, is close behind Conerly with a total of 129 scoring passes and not too far behind is Rote who has hit 100 times for pay dirt.

The trio has thus pitched for 353 touchdowns in regular season play in pro football.

A couple other quarterbacks will also figure in the game Friday night including Don Heinrich and ex-Lion Tom Dublinski.

Dublinski jumped to Canada in 1955 after three years under Layne. Last winter he was released by Toronto after two seasons during which time the Lions had court action taken against Canadian league. It resulted in damages totalling $10,000 awarded Detroit.

The Giants have a 1-1 record in pre-season competition, having downed San Francisco 19-10 and losing to Los Angeles last week, 38-10.

Frank Gifford, Alex Webster and Mel Triplett still make up the brunt of the potent New York running attack with newcomer Phil King of Vanderbilt doing well.

Defensive halfback Gary Lowe appears to be the only Lion who will not be in action as result of a knee injury suffered against the Browns last week.

Coach George Wilson is expected to cut at least three more players this weekend before the team heads for Dallas for the exhibition against the Bears the following weekend.

NFL NOTES: Buddy Parker named Earl Morrall to quarterback the Steelers against the Bears Sunday in Pittsburgh. . . . First fights marked the Green Bay scrimmage for the second time and Ken Gray, a rookie tackle was sent to the hospital. . . . The Cleveland Browns released Dave Kaiser, ex-MSU ace kicker and sent 270-pound tackle Don Goss to the Giants for a future draft choice.

BIG AMBERJACK — The 89-pound, 8-ounce amberjack, taken by Joe Migon (1) in Miami, Fla. waters was 5-feet, 3-inches long, and is believed to have been one of the largest of the species to have been caught in the Miami area. It was shown with the aid of Capt. Jim Albury (r) after being boated.

Bigger Budget Swayed Myers

Left Iowa State Job Because of Financial Stringency

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Jim Myers, central figure in tug-of-war between Iowa State and Texas A&M last winter, says the main reason he took over the football job at A&M was because the school had a larger athletic budget.

"My whole reason for leaving Iowa State was the matter of finances, and I don't mean my personal finances. True, I received more money when I went to Texas A&M. But that wasn't the reason for my decision.

"At Iowa State, I had very little money to develop my athletic dreams. There was little money in the budget, little money for recruiting athletes and not much in the way of facilities to attract the athletes we could contact.

"This isn't a rap at Iowa State; it's just a statement of facts. And when you are competing in the same league with Oklahoma, you can't get by on little or nothing."

Underwater Shenanigans! Skin-Divers Aid in Studying Waterfowl

HICKORY CORNERS — This November several Michigan State University graduate students will don skin-diving outfits and slip into autumn-cold Wintergreen lake.

Quietly they will string about eight inner tubes mounted with red blinker lights across the upper end of the 40-acre lake and slowly maneuver them toward the lower end.

The flashing red lights will alert hundreds of wild ducks and geese—not enough to make them fly away—just enough to make them paddle to the far end of the lake, where they will be caught in a trap, banded and released.

The operation will be typical of the ingenuity displayed and the pains taken in studies of wild life at MSU's Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, near Battle Creek.

For while the song writer's "heart knows where the wild goose goes," Roswell D. Van Deusen, director of the sanctuary, and graduate students who study there have to find out scientifically.

This means that the birds have to be captured so they can be identified with a band around the leg. Then they have to be provided for so they will stay where they can be watched.

Hope for Title Bout at Wisner

Promoter Tony Bellesaire of Pontiac has matched Detroit's Henry Hank and Lefty Walker of Saginaw for the Wisner Stadium fight program September 8th with the hopes of getting approval from the state to make it a Michigan middleweight title bout.

The fight is scheduled for eight rounds but should the state boxing commission approve the request, it will be a 10-rounder for Perry Drugs, and Hub clothes, championship.

In a bout already matched, Ronnie Warshensky of Pittsburgh will face Eddie O'Hara of Milwaukee in a light heavy encounter. Tickets of sale at various locations in the city are selling for 89 cents. They are available at the Michigan middleweight

Demonstration Sessions Open SMOTC Fall Work

Preparations for the fall operation of dog training classes under direction of the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club are well along, and first sessions will begin in early September.

SMOTC's Reg Armstrong today announced dates for preliminary demonstration sessions at three area sites. Persons planning to attend these first meetings are advised not to take their dogs. Regular training classwork will be instituted the week following the demonstrations.

First demonstration is at Waterford's CAI building on the evening of Sept. 17. For information regarding this session, interested persons should contact Jim Richmond at OR 3-3810. Daniel Whitfield school meeting is on Sept. 18 and Armstrong may be called for information (FE 2-7749). For the Bloomfield Hills High School demonstration on Sept. 22, call MI 7-0155.

Registrations for classes will be received at all three sessions. All persons interested in dog training are welcome, says Armstrong.

Hearing Stated for 'Doping' Charge

DETROIT (UPI) — A hearing will be held Friday into the first case of thoroughbred stimulation of the Michigan racing season.

Stewards at the Hazel Park Race course announced yesterday that routine tests of Miss Wilma Van, winner of last Saturday's fourth race, revealed she had been stimulated by caffeine. The horse was owned and trained by M. H. Van Berg, who has a string of 35 horses at the meeting here. Van Berg has been the first or second leading trainer in Detroit since 1949.

Coldwater Man Seeks Permit for Falcons

LANSING — David Bradley of Coldwater became the first applicant for a falconry permit when the conservation department received his recent request to import and possess a rough-legged hawk from Idaho.

Others have requested permission to keep hawks, but Bradley's request is the first specifying use for falconry.

State law was changed recently to permit development of the age-old sport in Michigan, under controlled permission from the department.

Unseeded Star May Shift Status in Singles Test

NEW YORK (AP)—The U. S. National Singles Tennis Championships had quite a different look today from a year ago, and after the first day of play Friday a few faces may be red.

One reason is the exclusion of Philadelphia Vic Seixas from the top seedings. The former U. S. Davis Cup kingpin ranked No. 1 in the U. S. last year was left off the lists because of his inactivity this year.

But he drew seventh seeded Kurt Nielsen of Denmark as his first round opponent and a seeding may be irrelevant.

Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper drew the top two spots. Anderson, the defending champ, was unseeded a year ago.

Not Enough Docks

According to figures from boating sources, there are seven million recreational boats in use across the nation. Owners of these craft face similar intractable parking problems, to those of automobile drivers, in inadequate docking facilities.

Two members of the Detroit Tigers are from suburban Detroit towns. Pitcher Al Cicotte is from Melvindale and catcher Charlie Lau is from Romulus.

HEADPIECE—Johnny Michelson, University of Pittsburgh coach, models a new type of clear plastic football helmet.

Back to 'Boot' Again

EAST LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan State University soccer squad this year will have at least two top returnees.

Angelo Filitis and Al Sarria, both members of last year's All-America squad picked by the National Soccer Coaches Association, are scheduled to be on the Spartan kickers' roster again next season.

Jensen, Turley and Cerv Top Choices

Who Will Be MVP in AL?

By The Associated Press

If that American League pennant "race" leaves you cold, try warming up on this: Who is the league's most valuable player? Jackie Jensen of the Boston Red Sox? Bob Turley of the New York Yankees? Bob Cerv of the Kansas City Athletics?

Those three appear to be the leaders. Jensen because of his 33 home runs and league-leading runs batted in for the third place Sox. Turley because he has become the ace and steady guy on a championship staff, leading the majors in victories and topping the AL in complete games and strikeouts. Cerv because of his batting bat—the man who carried the A's most of the season despite all sorts of serious injuries.

Each faces a jinx. No Boston player has won the MVP award since Ted Williams in 1949. No Kansas City player ever has won it, and no A's man has done it since 1952, when Bobby Shantz took it with the Philadelphia Athletics.

And while a Yankee has been the winner in the last four years, no pitcher has won since Shantz, the little lefty now working for the Yankees.

Turley added to his credentials last night, winning his 19th with a 6-2 decision over the A's. He gave up eight hits, two of 'em by Cerv, who moved within .002 percentage points of idle leader Pete Runnels of the Red Sox.

the final out and blanked the A's on six hits the rest of the way. The Yankees collected 14 hits, all but one of 'em singles. Consecutive singles by Bill Skowron, Norm Siebern, Elston Howard and Jerry Lumpe and a passed ball gave the Yanks a 3-2 lead in the second and handed Jack Urban an 8-9 record. Tony Kubek, who doubled in the first, singled home two more runs in the fourth as Turley edged closer to becoming the Yanks' first 20-game winner since Bob Grim in 1951.

14 Blind Golfers Vie for Honors

TORONTO (UPI)—The Canadian Blind Golfers' Association yesterday announced the names of the 14 totally-blind golfers who will participate in the 1953 International Blind Golf Championships at Brantford's North-Ridge municipal golf club Sept. 5-7.

A seven-man American team will be back to defend the team championship. It won last year. The members include Peter Bell of Oak Park, Mich.

SPORTS

Negro Open Play Begins Today

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Defending champion Ted Rhodes of Chicago seeks his fifth Negro National Open championship today as the professionals of the United Golf Assn. open play in the 23rd annual tournament and the amateurs enter the third round.

The pros play 18 holes today and tomorrow and 36 holes on Friday when the championship will be decided.

215-Pound Mainsail on U.S. Cup Defender

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The mainsail on one of the 12-meter sloops competing recently for the right to represent America against the British Sceptre in 'The America's Cup' match race starting Sept. 20 weighs 215 pounds.

The cost of outfitting one of the 70-foot yachts with a suit of sails is about $25,000.

Here's what each sloop, with an 80-foot mast, requires:

- Two mainsails.
- Three large genoas (light, medium and heavy cloth).
- One No. 2 genoa.
- One No. 3 genoa.
- One storm jib.
- One balloon jib.
- One spinnaker staysail.
- Three nylon spinnakers.

Pests Provide Summer Targets

NEW YORK — Summer offers many opportunities for shooting practice on live and inanimate targets.

There is excellent crow shooting in most communities and woodchuck shooting is replete with thrills.

"Crows are pests which inhabit the farmer's woodlots and damage his corn crops and he is glad to see the crow shooters," reminds Henry P. Davis, an authority on shooting. "And this wary black bandit is capable of testing the stalking, calling ability and marksmanship of the seasoned gunner."

"Chuck hunting is a fascinating sport that brings benefit to the farmer. It requires knowledge of habit and habitat, skill in stalking and marksmanship. Chucks are good eating, too."

"An inexpensive hand trap, a supply of 'clay' targets and an upland game or wildfowling gun keep the shotgunner's eye in on every sort of wing shot."

Birmingham Horse 2nd

Joe Racine of Birmingham tied for second place with Kora and Miss Chek-Ette in the paired jumpers event.

State Committee Backs Harvest of Does, Fawns fawns, he said, "are nothing but a meat-hungry, bloodthirsty, greed bunch of hunters." With others, he argued that doe seasons gradually are wiping out the deer herd.

Seasons on Woodcock to Run Concurrently

Woodcock hunting season, in Michigan, this year will run concurrently with ruffed grouse seasons in the Upper Peninsula and the northern Lower Peninsula, as in 1957.

In the southern Lower Peninsula, the season on woodcock will be Oct. 20-Nov. 9. The dates for seasons in the two northern zones are Oct. 1-Nov. 9.

GLENN'S AUTO SALES

952 WEST HURON ST.

A black and white photograph of a car dealership named 'Glenns Motor Sales'. The building has two large signs, one on each side of a central entrance. Both signs display the business name, the address '952 W. Huron', and the phone number 'FE-47371'. A striped awning is visible over the entrance. In the foreground, several vintage cars from the mid-20th century are parked in a row. The image is grainy and has a high-contrast, somewhat dark appearance.

The location changes . . . The friendly business methods do not. Glenn's Auto Sales will continue to handle only the best in used cars at the most reasonable prices. We believe you receive more value per dollar at Glenn's and our continual growth during 12 years in business in Pontiac is a sure measure of our good reputation.

So we invite all of our old friends to come in and see our new lot and service buildings. Of course we want to make a host of new friends too, so please stop and get acquainted. Stop today!

GM President Mum on Plans

Smiling Gordon Says He Doesn't Take Over Until Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — The new president of General Motors Corp., smilingly declines to talk about what he'll do in the job.

John F. Gordon, who was elevated in New York Monday to one of the big corporation's top posts, returned to Detroit by plane yesterday.

But he would not answer questions as to any immediate plans for major changes in the corporation, whose president, Harlow Curtice, retires Sunday.

"Don't forget, I don't take over as president until Sept. 1," Gordon told newsmen.

He also said he didn't care to discuss matters relating to deadlocked auto negotiations, efforts to win a bigger share of the car market for GM or company expansion plans.

Also aboard the company plane were James E. Goodman, who will succeed Gordon as vice president and group executive in charge of GM's Body and Assembly Division, and Roger M. Kyes, GM vice president who is a former deputy secretary of defense.

Frederic G. Donner, newly named board chairman and chief executive officer, remained in New York City but was expected in Detroit later this week.

Commercial woodlands in the U.S. are growing enough sawtimber every day to fill a train of box cars 530 miles long.

Actor 'Featured' in Commercials

Allan Swift Can Brag About Being Hot Stuff as Cup of Instant Coffee

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK — Allan Swift thinks he probably turned in the greatest television performance in his life when he was a liquid lead pencil.

But he admits that as a cup of instant coffee he was also pretty hot stuff.

EXTREMELY BUSY

In recent months Swift has been extremely busy as a three-way lamp, a glass of beer, a pack of cigarettes and an assortment of human beings, ranging from old and female to child and male.

Some of his more delicate assignments recently, he says, have been to do the talking for tennis champion Pancho Gonzalez, golf champ Cary Middlecott and bowling champ Don Carter.

The lads were doing cigarette testimonials for TV commercials but their voices weren't quite right for their jobs.

Swift, a former standup comedian of the night club and vaudeville circuits, is the voice on some 400 commercials. He says his income is higher than "the hottest television performer in the business." The gross exceeded $200,000 last year.

With the vogue for animation continuing, he expects to do better this year.

"I'm a pretty good mimic," he confesses, "but I think the trick to doing voices lies in a sensitive ear."

Over the years, he says, he has assembled quite a number of tools with which to construct a wide range of voices.

"You start with a child's voice," he explains. "It is light, with a breathiness and tendency to over-articulate. In adolescence, its tone goes down, cracks a bit, with some breathiness. The young man is lower, with an even mixture."

"And around 50 or 60, there's a sloppiness of articulation. In old age, the overarticulation starts again — this time to compensate for a loss of breath."

Along with these basic ingredients, Swift mixes in, as needed, a raspy, foggy, strained, nasal or sinus quality.

Swift thinks he's solved the perennial problem of the actor. As long as he can talk, he can eat.

"I'd drop the whole thing like a shot if I got a chance for a good role in a Broadway play," he admits.

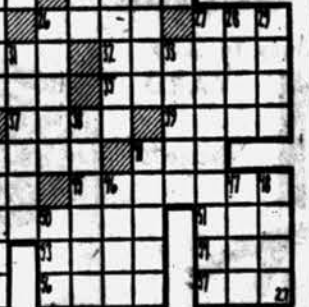

Being Gassed in War Launched His Career

BOYLSTON, Mass. (UPI) — A gas attack in the Argonne Forest in 1917 was the beginning of a long career in the postal service for H. Lloyd Brigham.

Brigham, who is now 64 and in his 34th year as rural free delivery mail carrier in this tiny Worcester County town, was a soldier in the Yankee Division in France during World War I.

After being gassed, he was hospitalized and ordered to an Army postal express school for non-combat duty.

The training he received there served Brigham well. Thirty-four years and millions of letters later, he is still on the job.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Old Glory will boast another star next year to represent America's newest and biggest state, Alaska.

But where the star will be placed in the national flag has not been officially decided.

Congressional sources say President Eisenhower may announce a study on how best to rearrange the 48 stars that have represented the states. However, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said he knows of no plans for such a study.

By law enacted in 1818, another star must be added to the flag next Independence Day—the first July 4 following admission of the new state.

There has been no established procedure for re-arranging the flag. In 1912 President William Howard Taft approved the present 48-star design which was recommended by an Army-Navy board after Arizona and New Mexico joined the Union.

Before that, the military services generally decided on the flag's design and others just followed suit, without presidential order.

During the session of Congress just ended, the House approved a bill by Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) spelling out general procedures for rearrangement of the flag. The measure died in the late rush for adjournment.

The bill would have called on the President to take steps toward effecting any necessary redesign.

Supporters of the legislation said there should be no obstacle to the President proceeding even without congressional authorization.

Incidentally, citizens won't have to throw away their flags after next July 4 if they are not of the new 49-star variety. A presidential order allows flags on hand when a new state is admitted to be used until they become unserviceable.

Broadway Actor Tells of Being 'Contestant'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A certain Broadway actor grabbed me and told me a little story that I believe. "I got a call from a guy at a quiz show," he said, "asking if I wanted to make $75 being a contestant."

"You win a Packard car," the guy says to me, "which you give back." Was I gonna say no? I owed my landlord and had $9 in the bank.

"You sit in the audience," the guy says, "and bid $2,500 on the car. Some other guys bid more, but the m.c. said, 'The car goes to this gentleman right here!' I went up on stage and acted surprised. I jumped up and down with excitement."

"Not only that," the man said, "but you also get this beautiful stole . . . and this precious pearl bracelet." I hammed it up good. I was practically crying.

"It was a benefit for some Chinese or Korean relief some years back. Jim Farley and a Chinese diplomat was there."

"I wrote a $2,500 check for the car. That was supposed to go to Chinese relief. Under the table, the program slipped me a $2,500 check to deposit in the bank so MY check for the car would be good."

"So I got $75 — less deductions — and a comb and brush and some hair perfume from the sponsor. That's what I really won. Then my landlord called me in."

"He says, 'I saw you on my favorite program. By the way, where did you get the money to buy that car? You say you're too broke to pay me my rent?'"

"I told him I hated to disillusion him, but . . ."

"He started screaming at me, 'Don't tell me that show's a fake! Anybody can see it's on the up-and-up.' He was so heart-broken, he forgot to press me for the rent."

"Anyway," I said to the Broadway actor, "the Chinese relief got some money out of it."

"Hah!" scoffed my friend. "Later on my bank—where I got my $2500 deposited—called me. The banker said, 'You know that $2500 check you got from the TV program?' I naturally said, 'Yeh, sure.' The banker said, 'It bounced.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mike Todd had a date with Max Reibelsen to discuss a $2,000,000 life insurance policy — the week after he was killed. He repeatedly told the broker, "Don't rush me!" . . . Bernie Kamber, the Tyler Hill, Pa. Clark Gable, is passing himself around between Martha Hyer and Nicole Maurey, lucky girls . . . Pres. LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Passengers on a polar flight from London to Los Angeles turned to prayer to avoid panic yesterday when their crippled airliner hunted for a landing field near the U.S. Canadian border.

The tense, prayer-filled hour was described yesterday by passengers on the Trans World Airline plane forced to make a flaming, emergency landing at a World War II landing strip near Cut Bank, Mont.

The 61 passengers and crew of 10 were brought on to Los Angeles by another four-engine Constellation after a 12-hour stay in Cut Bank.

"The prayer was the most noticeable thing," said Floyd Allen, 46, a missionary from French Camaroun, Africa. "Everyone tried to keep quiet and natural and calm. Everyone was quite courageous, I thought."

"People talked quietly to each other," said another passenger, Thomas Pomposo, 28, Pittsburg, Calif. "The stewardess kept coming back and forth, first instructing us to put on our life jackets when we thought we would land over water, then letting us know we were over Montana."

"A lot of people prayed — mostly older persons and children."

The airliner, piloted by Capt. Earl Flee, was directed to the remote airfield by radar units at Cut Bank, Havre, and Malmstrom, Montana.

"If it hadn't been for the radar units, I would have been forced to make a crash landing," Flee said.

"Our number three propeller fell off. Then the number three engine caught fire. If we hadn't landed, we might have gone in two or three minutes."

The veteran pilot said he first noticed the plane's propeller was acting up near Swift Current, Canada, but had to fly 110 miles before finding a field large enough to land the plane.

An emergency chute was rigged for exit from the plane. Some passengers got out through an emergency door and jumped to the ground from the wing. One person was injured slightly.

Quiz Program Probe Ends

CBS Reports Inquiry Fails to Turn Up Any Improper Procedure

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System says its intensive week of inquiry into all quiz shows currently carried by the TV network has failed to turn up any improper procedure.

The probe was begun, CBS said, because of newspaper accounts that the Manhattan district attorney's office has evidence of irregularities in quiz programs being broadcast.

CBS' statement was in a telegram to David S. Worgan, executive assistant to Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan.

Dotto, a TV quiz, suddenly was withdrawn from the CBS and NBC television networks 11 days ago by its sponsor, the Colgate-Palmolive Co.

An investigation was begun by the district attorney's office after a standby contestant reportedly complained to the Federal Communications Commission that another Dotto contestant was fed answers.

Worgan's office said its investigation is continuing but that it is too early to come to any conclusion.

Neither CBS, NBC nor the sponsor of Dotto has yet explained the program's cancellation.

CBS' telegram to Worgan, signed by Hubert Robinson Jr., executive vice president in charge of TV network programs, asked the prosecutor to "make available to us any information which you may develop with respect to any irregularity on any quiz show on our network so that we can take appropriate action."

A spokesman for the district attorney's office says it is not presently probing any quiz shows other than Dotto. Any leads uncovered in the Dotto case, however, will result in the investigation of practices on other quiz shows, the spokesman added.

Spray of Oil, Alcohol Prevents Rusty Tools

CHICAGO — Expensive tools kept in basements are likely to rust. To keep them free of rust, fill a dispenser bottle of the type used for window-cleaning fluid, using four parts of lubricating oil to one part of wood alcohol. With this you can spray a thin coat of oil on your tools. Wait till the spray has settled out of the air before lighting a flame.

Limping Bandit Indicted by Jury

Saginaw Man Arrested at Mexican Line After Robbing Bank in East

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Federal Grand Jury has indicted Benjamin Glenn Barney, 27, of Saginaw, Mich., as the limping bank bandit who robbed a bank of $38,500 July 16.

The robbery was staged at a branch of the First National Bank of Southern Maryland in the Washington suburb of Marlowe Heights. Barney is being returned to Baltimore from Laredo, Tex., where he was arrested last week as he returned to the United States from Mexico.

The five-count indictment returned against Barney yesterday included a charge brought under the Federal Hostage Law, which carried a possible death penalty. He is accused of endangering the lives of three persons, including carrying out the robbery.

The FBI said Barney's limp stems from polio in childhood. He had been working until April of this year, the FBI said, as a collector and credit investigator in Saginaw and Detroit.

Barney is charged with forcing Seltzer to accompany him to the bank and of threatening a woman teller and a customer—who entered the bank while the holdup was in progress.

The bandit rented a station wagon in Washington, the FBI said, under the name of a recent college graduate from Hartford, Conn. Agents said that after the holdup he went to Los Angeles, where he underwent plastic surgery on his face.

Navajos' Leaders Frown on Unions

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — The Navajo tribal council has moved to halt union organization efforts among the Navajos.

The council yesterday unanimously approved a modified "right-to-work" law forbidding employers to discriminate against union members or nonmembers. The tribal leaders said they will not permit union membership solicitation on the reservation for the time being.

The council said it acted because the Navajo lacks the educational attainment to understand complex union affairs and could be exploited.

The Navajo reservation, largest in the nation, has a population of more than 23,000 and an estimated work force of 8,000 to 10,000. The reservation has 600 producing oil wells, a large sawmill, several mines and processing mills.

Hurricane Daisy Moving Slowly East of Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Daisy, a powerful but sluggish storm, drifted north slowly today, 290 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla. Highest winds were estimated at 100 m.p.h.

Conditions remained favorable for Daisy, the season's second hurricane, to turn away from the U.S. mainland, but the movement was not definitely established.

The Weather Bureau said in its advisory at 5 a.m. EST, that Daisy was expected to move north at about 9 m.p.h. for the next 12 hours, gradually accelerating its forward speed — then turning toward the north-northeast.

No important increase in intensity was expected during the 12 hours. Weathermen said the area of gale winds was likely to increase slightly.

Gales may approach within 100 miles of the Georgia and Carolina coasts during the next 24 hours, the Weather Bureau said. Swells will cause rough seas near shore.

Small craft from Cape Hatteras south to extreme northeast Florida were advised to remain near shore.

Exclusive Harmony House Patterns

Inlaid Linoleum Sale

• Wax-sealed surface resists soil, stains
• Thick and resilient, rosiul underfoot
• Inlaid colors go clear through to back.

Fascinating textured effect gives a luxurious impression of a "carpet of color" underfoot. Easy and economical to install because it pastes direct to floor. No extra lining is needed. The patented felt back is built right into the linoleum. Choose yours from 3 patterns.

STEREO HI-FI CONSOLES

What Is Stereo?

STEREO—Short for Stereophonic — is the highest of hi-fi

Ordinary recording captures half the sound you hear in person. Stereo picks up all the sound . . . in full dimension. How? By using two microphones in recording . . . and playing back through two identical but separate sound channels. Stereo reproduction requires two amplifier speaker systems . . . because when you hear stereo, you hear two separate sound tracks simultaneously. Stereo simulates nature, in other words, by using two "ears" where ordinary recording and reproduction use only one. Even without stereo records, you will find that your Granco stereophonic music system greatly increases enjoyment of your present record library by better distribution of sound.

The Imperial Stereo Hi-Fi Provincial Console in selected veneers and solids of provincial cherry.

$449⁹⁵

- Plays new stereophonic records
- Plays standard manual records
- Automatic 4-speed changer (33 1/3, 45, 78, 16 RPM)
- Flip-over stereo cartridge with diamond stylus
- 2 push-pull amplifiers (total 40-watt peak output)
- 2 separate speaker systems
- Centralized stereo control panel — separate controls for each amplifier
- Connection for companion external speakers
- FM-AM tuner for complete radio reception
- Tape recorder connection

IT'S GOT TO FIT 5 WAYS

before we let your child wear it!

It's our only system. No gimmicks. Just experience. Our managers average 11 years of fitting children's shoes. They, and the men they've trained, know their business. Big selection, too. Many new styles. And they'll last as long and do as much for growing feet as shoes costing 2 or 3 times more! C'mon in and bring the kids! Boys' 3.99-6.99; Girls' 2.99-4.99
