THINK YOU HAVE TROUBLES? — Calumet, way up in the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula on the shores of Lake Superior, is taking this season's snowfall in stride. The people in this rugged Copper Country area are used to the idea. Even so, snowfall this year up to Feb. 9 was just below the 1950-51 record fall of 257 inches at 217.5. At top, snow almost completely covers a barn. At the bottom, Arthur Lepisto uses his roof as a ski run.

Hernia Surgery on Sec. Dulles Called Success

Doctors Delay Report on Findings Regarding Cancer Recurrence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today underwent a hernia operation which was pronounced successful, but doctors delayed a public report on whether they found a recurrence of cancer.

Walter Reed Army Hospital, where the surgery was performed, has elaborate arrangements for quick findings on an examination of tissue for malignancy.

At least preliminary results often are provided to the surgeon before he finishes operating. In Dulles' case an announcement was put off until noon Saturday.

Dulles was operated on in 1956 for removal of a cancerous portion of his lower intestine. Doctors said in advance of today's surgery they had found no sign of a recurrence.

Word of the success of the operation itself was relayed quickly to President Eisenhower by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who was one of those in the operating room.

About the time of the report to the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty again emphatically denied reports that Eisenhower is sounding out members of Congress regarding a possible successor to Dulles, who will be 71 on Feb. 25.

State Department press chief Lincoln White announced the surgery was successful and Dulles' immediate postoperative condition was quite satisfactory.

White said tissue and fluid were removed during the operation "for microscopical examination."

Such an examination would be to determine whether there was a cancerous condition.

White said Dulles was on the operating table less than an hour. The operation was performed there by the hospital commandant, Maj. Gen. Leonard D. Heaton.

White said three members of Dulles' family were at the hospital during the operation and afterwards. They were Mrs. Dulles; Mrs. Allen W. Dulles, the wife of the secretary's brother, and Mrs. Eleanor Dulles, the secretary's sister.

White said the long word used by the doctors in describing the operation — herniorrhaphy — could be translated into laymen's language to mean "repair of hernia."

Officials at the hospital said the tissue and fluid were removed from the ruptured part of Dulles' lower left abdomen.

Here's GMC's Latest for City Bus Riders

Urban Patrons Will Get Luxury in Coach Travel

Glamour in sleek styling will come to city bus riders this year in a complete new line of transit coaches developed by the GMC Truck & Coach Division, it was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the division.

City bus passengers will look out of picture windows while relaxing in an inviting interior atmosphere of fluorescent white light, patterned Melamine panels and anodized aluminum that has the appearance of expensive leathers, Monaghan said.

A new, enlarged heating and ventilating system will provide warmth and comfort in the winter, while air conditioning is available as an extra-cost option that can be integrated in the same air system for hot summer months.

An added new safety factor is the windshield which has nearly three times the area of previous models and will give maxmium visibility to the driver.

In all, the total glass area of the bus is 93 per cent greater than in former models and gives city passengers the same unobstructed views that intercity patrons have in parlor coaches.

A new V-6 Diesel engine produces 190 horsepower and a greater torque output that improves acceleration. The V-6 engine concept, new to the industry this year, gives the same cubic capacity as the 6-cylinder in-line, but is more compact and considerably lighter.

Four models ranging in capacity from 45 to 53 passengers comprise the new GMC transit fleet. There will be two 45-passenger models, one 96 inches wide and the other 102. There also are two 53-passenger models of the same widths.

"These new coaches are the first completely new models for city use that we have had in 19 years," Monaghan said.

"They are an important result of the forward engineering development program now under way at GMC Truck and Coach to give both coach and truck operators the latest designs that GMC scientific know-how can produce.

"Passengers in our new busses will find commuting a comfort and pleasure, with streamlined styling, bright metal, fluted and anodized aluminum giving the modern look on the exterior.

"Inside, new materials, new lighting and new colors offer an inviting atmosphere for the busy commuter."

Air suspension was introduced in GM coaches in 1953 but in the new models an improved and simplified system gives an even softer ride and decreased maintenance costs.

All vertical loads are taken by single convolution air springs with lower ride frequency.

Water Blocks Many Roads, Rain Predicted

Rivulets in Basements May Turn to Deluge in Next Week

Rain and thaw threatened today to inundate Pontiac and Oakland County with widespread flooding.

The entire state had flood jitters as officials gravely predicted one of the worst February thaws in 10 years.

Drizzles today plus three-quarters of an inch of rain by early next week loomed for the area, as the Weather Bureau forecast weekend temperatures that could unlock the blanket of snow and ice building up throughout the state since Jan. 1.

Complaints of flooded basements and streets began trickling in after last night's heavy rain. Authorities feared the trickle would turn into a deluge within the next seven days.

Major county highways were temporarily blocked or nearly impassable in several low spots last night.

Flood waters still lingered today in many locations, slowing traffic to a crawl.

About a foot of water swirled over the intersection of Franklin and Square Lake Rds., Cass Lake road in Keego Harbor was covered by several inches, and Haggerty road between West Bloomfield and Commerce townships was giving drivers trouble in numerous low places.

South of Lake Orion, M24 was flooded in low spots by one or two inches of water.

Side streets everywhere were in bad condition, most of them still ice-coated, many of them flooded in places by water and slush.

Schools were closed in six districts because icy roads made driving dangerous for school buses.

Shut down were schools in Rochester, Armada, Brandon Township, Milford, Romeo and Dryden.

The Scotch Elementary School in West Bloomfield Township was closed after freezing caused a broken water main, cutting off the children's water supply.

Complaints of flooded basements were few, but Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry feared the worst in the next few days.

Barry set out on an inspection of the southeastern part of the county, where ground waters on flat

Ice Jams, Rain Menace Indiana

Regions Hit by Floods Eligible for U.S. Aid, Says Eisenhower

By The Associated Press

Huge ice jams and more rains were potential danger marks today in flood menaced sections of Indiana as overflows in northern Ohio subsided.

Wet weather dampened the two states as well as most other sections in the eastern half of the nation.

The major flood peril appeared ended on the upper Wabash River above Delphi, Ind., after driving thousands of persons from their homes. West Terre Haute was in line as the next major target of the flood waters.

President Eisenhower today declared Indiana regions hit by floods this week a major disaster area eligible for federal aid.

The declaration applies to the Wabash River area and other regions of northeastern Indiana.

Meanwhile, evacuated families in Logansport and Wabash prepared to return to their homes. The Wabash also dropped rapidly at Peru, one of the communities hardest hit by the midwinter floods.

In Ohio, the Maumee River, after overflowing in several places along a 20-mile stretch southwest of Toledo, dropped back to normal after a huge ice jam moved into Lake Erie.

Residents were returning to their homes in other northern Ohio communities. Hardest hit cities were Fremont, Findlay, Warren, Van Wert, Paulding and Ottawa, but the overflows did not cause as extensive damage as the floods in January.

14 Candidates to Vie in Judicial Primary

Fourteen candidates bidding for five Oakland County Circuit Court judge seats will be trimmed down to 10 when county voters go to the polls in Monday's primary.

Voters then will vote for not more than five of the 14, the 10 receiving the highest number of votes being declared the nominees. Their names will appear on the April 6 ballot, which means there will be two vying for each of the five judge seats.

The 14 are incumbent Judges H. Russel Holland, Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer, and Frederick C. Ziem, Verne C. Hampton, Ralph F. Finley, James C. Allen, James Renfrew, Wendell Brown, Stanton G. Dondero, Maurice E. Finnegan, Maurice A. Merritt, Milton F. Cooney and Theodore F. Hughes.

All are bidding for judgeship terms beginning Jan. 1, 1960 and ending Dec. 31, 1965.

The four current Circuit Court judge positions — now held by Judges Holland, Adams, Beer, and Frank L. Doty—expire the last day of this year.

Judge Doty, on the bench since 1927, is not eligible for re-election since state law prohibits judges from trying for another term after they reach 70 years of age.

The unexpired term of the late Judge George B. Hartrick, which is one of the four expiring Dec. 31, 1959, has but its present occupant, Judge Beer, seeking to fill out the term.

So, since Judge Beer has no competition, he will automatically continue in his present job until the term ceases Dec. 31. He will continue after that should he be one of the five elected in the April 6 balloting.

"The only possibility that Judge Beer will not finish out Judge Hartrick's term—and it's a very remote one—would come about if he is defeated by write-in votes," explained Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election clerk.

Mrs. Child added that it is conceivable that Oakland County could have a new Circuit Court judge

Clyde Beatty Slashed by Angry Lion

DETROIT (UPI) — Lion tamer Clyde Beatty was slashed by a lion last night during his act at the Shrine Circus, had 12 stitches put in his right arm and announced the show will go on again tonight.

"Caesar," an African lion stripped Beatty's leather glove from his left hand with one swipe of his paw. Beatty's chair and pistol were sent flying across the cage.

With a second swipe, Caesar slashed downward, ripping Beatty's right arm between his elbow and wrist.

Beatty called it "only a scratch," prodding the lion with a pole after the attack.

'Heck of a Way to Do' —Mayor Said Mouthful!

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — City bus service in this city of 128,000 stopped abruptly in Evansville this morning because "the company cannot continue to absorb the losses."

Mayor William Davidson said he learned of the decision to stop service at midnight and commented: "That's a heck of a way to do."

The city coach line has had a $125,000 loss in the last 18 months.

Joking Gossip Can Maim, Author Learns Hard Way

By ELAINE ST. JOHNS
Author and Housewife

I grew up on the Ninth Commandment—literally. (The Eighth Commandment in the Roman Catholic and Lutheran churches.)

When I was 7, without anyone's permission, I "borrowed" my mother's jade earrings to play dress up, and lost them. When they turned up missing, I insisted I had seen my younger brother take them from mom's jewel box.

Billy said he didn't; I said he did. Billy got a licking.

When I heard him yell, I beat my fists against the locked bathroom door and sobbed that I had done it. My dad, knowing my very real love for my little brother, didn't believe me; he thought I was trying to take the blame.

Elaine St. Johns

My mother, with that eighth sense mothers have, knew I was telling the truth. With the wisdom of Solomon, she denied me the purgative pain of a worse licking.

Instead she let me smart under Billy's hurt, accusing eyes, and try to win back his trust and respect the best way I could. Never since that day have I told a deliberate falsehood against my neighbor.

When I was a very young married woman, I lived on a block with a lot of other young married women, and one elderly spinster named Miss Coote.

Miss Coote was the only different thing in the neighborhood. She wore high-button shoes to church. When she went shopping she carried an outsized, old-fashioned reticule and was always accompanied by the ginger cat on a leash.

STORIES GREW

We didn't resent her. She was a sweet old thing, quiet and timid. We just thought her odd and had fun building up her eccentricities.

The stories grew as time went on. There were reports that she only weeded her petunias by the full moon, that she fed her old dog Red on tenderloin steaks, twice ground, and the ginger cat on

Vote For Wendell Brown for Circuit Judge

County Group Also Endorses Judges

Dems OK Williams' Plan

Gov. Williams' tax plan, two Supreme Court incumbent justices and four candidates for Oakland circuit judges received the stamp of approval from Oakland County Democrats last night.

Local Democrats, prompted by what Oakland Republicans had done, lifted the political barrier on judicial candidates and endorsed Justices George Edwards and John D. Voelker for re-election April 6.

"They have made the present Supreme Court a court for all the people of the State of Michigan," their resolution stated.

It was one of 13 offered and approved without discussion as Democrats massed in Pontiac to draw up their list of 125 delegates to the Feb. 20-21 state convention in Grand Rapids.

NONPARTISAN BASIS

Also getting the nod from local Democrats were incumbent Circuit Judges Clark J. Adams, William J. Beer and candidates James C. Allen and Maurice E. Finnegan.

All Supreme Court and Circuit Court judges are currently elected on a nonpartisan basis, although both parties lately have been inclined to place a "favored" tag on them.

Appearance of Maurice E. Finnegan, Pontiac municipal judge, apparently caught Democrats by surprise as he was overlooked in introductions and omitted in an endorsement resolution of the local judges and candidates. However, he later was spotted in the audience and introduced, and his name added to the pre-prepared resolution.

A crowd of more than 200 gathered in the Supervisors Room to hear a battle plan for coming county elections offered by keynote speaker Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state, formerly from Waterford Township.

"Don't go into these elections with the old attitude you are the underdogs," Farnum urged. "This time you are not the underdog, you are the top dog."

He produced votes for Secretary of State in Oakland County which showed that after five losing years to the Republicans for this office, last year Democrats won by a margin of 99,823 to 91,219.

Farnum criticized the "political steamroller" method used by state Republicans in organizing the House and making committee assignments in the GOP-controlled Senate.

"They didn't even have the common courtesy to notify Lt. Gov. Swainson when the Senate was meeting for committee assignments," Farnum said.

After repeating proposals of the governor's proposed state income tax plan, Farnum called for Oak-

News Flash

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will spend the night of Feb. 18 at Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, Tex. en route to Acapulco, Mexico, for talks with Mexico's new president.

In announcing this today, the White House said the President has no plans to visit Mrs. Eisenhower in San Antonio, Tex., or elsewhere on the trip to and from Acapulco. This statement was prompted by reports in San Antonio that the Eisenhowers would rendezvous there — the city of their courtship.

Dems Propose $50 Million Loan

If Voters Approve Hike in State Debt Limit, Plan Will Avert Crisis

LANSING (AP)—With "collapse day" at the State Treasury shoved back at least until mid-April, a 50-million-dollar borrowing plan was thrust to the fore today as a means of averting financial disaster.

Whether legislative Republicans would buy the Democratic suggestion was far from clear.

An outpouring of advance tax payments by big business cleared the way for the state to raise its debt ceiling and borrow up to 50 million dollars, if voters approve, Gov. Williams said yesterday.

The Veterans Trust Fund, he said, might not have to be mortgaged to rescue the state from its cash emergency if the legislature follows the borrowing course.

The Governor said he did not necessarily endorse the idea, and warned that his mortgage proposal must be held in readiness for quick passage if the borrowing plan does not go through.

City, County Facing Danger of Floods land traditionally flow into basements causing the worst flood damage in the county.

Barry reported that flood waters were ponding in many locations and feared that thaw and rain would cause widespread flooding.

Much of last night's rain remains a potential threat, absorbed in the snow, he warned.

"When that starts melting, then our troubles will really be under way," he said.

Barry ordered maintenance crews into action, along the county's roads, hoping to get as many catch basins cleared of ice as possible to prevent backed up flood waters.

In some places, basins are covered with a foot of ice, he said.

The Road Commission reported only one intersection flooded enough to be impassable, and this was only a small subdivision corner in Bloomfield Township.

"But the situation is evidently going to get much worse throughout the county before it gets better," warned Paul Van Roekel, Road Commission engineer.

Ponding was building up dangerously in Commerce Township, threatening houses in many low areas, reported Thomas C. Tiley, township supervisor.

Large puddles were developing near cottages along the township's lakes, he said.

Stores in Drayton Plains complained that melting snow and ice were causing flooding, said Waterford Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

Icy side roads plagued Independence Township and at least one basement was flooded, said Supervisor Duane Hursfall. This was his own.

City Manager Walter K. Willman believed that improvements in the Clinton River and Pontiac Creek would help the city weather the flood threats.

"However, the low areas that are traditionally struck by flooding will probably suffer again if the thaw comes upon us suddenly instead of gradually," he warned.

State officials said the worst flood threats are in the Saginaw River basin and the Grand River valleys, affecting Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Lansing, Bay City and Saginaw.

State and federal agencies such as the Civil Defense Administration, U. S. Corps of Engineers and State Water Resources Commission went on the alert.

Civil defense officials planned to move quickly with local agencies to evaluate flood threats in all 83 counties.

"A gradual thaw would be ideal," said Laurence B. O'Leary, engineer for the Water Resources Commission."

But a fast thaw, accompanied by heavy rains, would do widespread damage, he warned.

Advertising Serves Entire Nation

By ERNEST A. JONES, PRESIDENT
MacManus, John & Adams, Inc.

This is "Advertising Week," and the slogan is: "Advertising Works For You—more jobs, better products, lower prices."

Assuming this to be true, just how hard does advertising work and what does it do for the individual? It is difficult to imagine a United States without advertising. We have come to accept advertising in newspapers and magazines; on television and radio; in the mail and on billboards.

There are any number of instances where successful companies stopped advertising due to a change of management or to try to save money. Most of them have gone out of business, for, by the time they realized their mistake it was too late to do anything about it.

Someone else had stepped in with a new product and taken over the market. But those were companies. Of course, the people or individuals who worked for these companies lost their jobs, but they were just some of the people, not everyone was affected.

Probably the best recent example of the part advertising plays was the strike against the newspapers of New York City in December. In spite of the fact that all other advertising continued — on TV, the radio and direct mail—millions of dollars in sales were lost to the stores and businesses in that city.

New shows which opened their doors during the strike, played to almost empty houses. Show people didn't know whether they had a hit or a flop until the papers resumed publication and the public could read about them and be reminded through advertising that the show was playing.

What usually happens when a man needs a suit? He and his wife look in the papers to see what prices are, then go and look at the suits which are advertised. Most housewives make up their grocery shopping lists at home, before starting to the store.

Want to buy a good used car or sell your own? You turn to the want ads. Want to rent an apartment or buy a home? Again you turn to the want ads or to the display ads picturing new homes and new developments.

The fact remains that without newspaper advertising — in New York City, people didn't buy. New Yorkers apparently just didn't get the Christmas spirit without newspapers.

But we can cite another good or bad example of life without advertising.

No less an authority than our Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has made a graphic illustration between the American standard of living compared with that of Soviet Russia where they have not had advertising (we understand that they now are permitting some advertising.)

Here's the comparison:

"For a worker to buy a pound of butter in New York, it takes 27 minutes of work; for a similar worker in Moscow, it takes over 6 hours of work.

"For a pound of sugar, 3 1/3 minutes in New York; 84 minutes in Moscow.

"For a quart of milk, 7 minutes in New York; 42 minutes in Moscow.

"For a dozen eggs, 25 minutes in New York; nearly 3 hours in Moscow.

"For a cotton shirt, 1 hour in New York; 22 hours in Moscow.

"For a man's suit, 3 days in New York; 47 days in Moscow.

"For overshoes, 1 day in New York; 13 days in Moscow.

"For a woman's wool suit, 22 hours in New York; 22 days in Moscow.

"For a cake of soap, 3 minutes in New York; 30 minutes in Moscow."

These are evidences of advertising's contribution which can be understood and appreciated by the buying housewife; yet we do not tell her about them often enough.

It is unfortunate that some recent books and articles have maligned the advertising profession. Actually it is a very serious business. There may be rare instances which live up to the fictional advertising man as he is pictured, but if there are we haven't met them.

minced clams, what with prices and all.

"I think she's a shoplifter," one of the girls giggled. "I can just see her popping diamond rings into that outlandish reticule, and then pussyfooting around to the hock shop. Who would suspect such a sweet old thing?"

I knew Miss Coote had once owned all the land on which our houses stood, and could quite well have fed her pets caviar if she had wished. But I didn't want to spoil the fun; it was harmless, amusing prattle and we all enjoyed it.

STUNNED

A week later, at a neighborhood boy's birthday party, I was stunned when one of the mothers informed me, authoritatively, that old Miss Coote was a known shoplifter with a prison record. The fact that half a dozen little boys immediately pricked up their ears didn't help.

"Oh, I'm sure not," I began, intending to defend her with the truth about her financial position, when another woman cut in: "I don't think she's a thief, I think Miss Coote's plain crazy."

Immediately the boys began to chant: "Crazy Coote! Crazy Coote!"

The next time I heard that chant I saw three boys standing before Miss Coote's house, pounding on the pavement with sticks, yelling "Crazy Coote! Crazy Coote!" On the other side of the low picket gate stood Miss Coote, crying.

DOG DEFENDS HER

Before I could move, the sticks were thrust toward her, and the dreadful chant changed to "Thief! Thief! Crazy Coote's a sneak thief!" Miss Coote turned and tottered toward the refuge of her old house, and at that moment her mongrel Red charged from the back yard and bit one of the boys.

"Vicious old dog!" said the neighborhood. "Horrid old woman!"

So violently was the community aroused that it was front page news that old Red was to be destroyed. Before that happened Miss Coote went away.

My husband when called on to console my tortured conscience, displayed absolutely no sympathy.

"I've seen the same thing done in business and politics," he said sternly. "Baseless rumors growing unchecked to ruin lives. Do you still think there's such a thing as 'idle' gossip?"

SILENCE A SIN

I opened my mouth but he didn't give me a chance to speak. "All right, you didn't say anything. But you listened, which is just as bad, and you knew the truth and kept quiet, which is worse. I wonder where Miss Coote is now?" he said.

I couldn't answer because I never knew where she went, but I think of her often, when I listen to gossip or lack courage to tell the truth or am tempted to lie.'

Then, years later, came a still deeper understanding of the Ninth Commandment. I was in a personal depression. If I wrote a story and the editors didn't like it, they were stupid. I labeled my neighbors "snobbish" or "dull"; my children were "difficult"; my creditors were "heartless."

Then a friend pointed out to me one day that the answer to my negative life lay in the Ninth Commandment. I should practice the affirmative idea of bearing true witness toward my neighbor and God, rather than just avoiding bearing false witness.

"Picture God as perfect," he said, "and man as being created in His likeness."

The end result was that editors became channels for God's intelligence; my neighbors, channels for His love; my children were His children; my creditors were motivated by His justice.

When I learned to bear witness to the Godlike qualities in my fellowmen, the Ninth Commandment became a source of challenge and joy.

Bar Board to Meet on Trombly Problem

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI)—The executive board of the Macomb County Bar Association will take up the case of Probate Judge Joseph Trombly at a special meeting Monday.

Trombly, under fire for his handling of the juvenile court, first submitted his request for retirement then withdrew the petition this week and announced he was taking a leave of absence.

The bar association has passed a resolution asking the state bar commissioners and the Probate Judges Association to investigate Trombly.

Frank E. Jeannette, president of the local bar association, said Monday's meeting is being held "to see what further action is necessary."

Jeannette said his group would meet the problem "head-on." The board probably will discuss stronger, more definite action at next week's meeting.

County Dems OK Tax Plan, Judges

land's support of the plan which he called "fair and sound."

The graduated income tax and corporations profits tax were backed, except by Daniel F. Foley Jr., delegate from New Hudson.

At the end of the convention, when most delegates and others had already left the room, Foley called for a vote opposing the graduated income tax. He was loudly shouted down by those remaining.

Before adjournment, Mrs. Irene Murphy, University of Michigan regent from Birmingham, introduced another resolution supporting a movement for a constitutional revision based on the 55-55 division in the House. It was passed.

The Democratic Party had opposed last year's constitutional convention proposal because, Democrats said, Republicans would have an unfair representation based on the heavy GOP Senate apportionment.

Mrs. Murphy, who said she had favored the "principle" behind the last proposal, hoped her new suggestion might get statewide Democratic backing at the state convention.

Oakland Democrats will go into this convention in a week urging the nomination of two Orchard Lake men to the new six-man Wayne State University Board of governors. Endorsed last night for these posts were Joseph S. Radom, 2617 Cove Lane, and Albert W. Marble, 7242 Buckthorne St.

To date it appears Radom and Marble are the only Oakland County residents in line for 14 statewide positions up for nomination at Grand Rapids.

Democrats last night also:

1. Endorsed the re-election of Lynn M. Bartlett, incumbent state superintendent of public instruction.

2. Favored the appointment of members to the Oakland County Democratic Committee by precinct and township delegates, as opposed to the present method whereby successful county nominees do the selecting.

3. Applauded the committee's appointment of Frank J. Sierawski, 35, of 821 Breckenridge St., Ferndale, as executive assistant to County Chairman Carlos G. Richardson.

Elected chairman of the convention last night was Mrs. Harriett Phillips of Huntington Woods, a member of the State Central Committee.

Polio Clinics to Open Monday

300 PTA Volunteers to Aid Pontiac Program for Children, Adults

More than 300 volunteers will work on the first series of polio clinics next week, sponsored by the Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.

To date, more than 6,000 residents from 19 county communities have returned coupons printed in The Pontiac Press several weeks ago. Purpose of the coupons was to obtain an estimate of the number of persons who plan to receive a Salk anti-polio shot at one of the clinics.

Plus the lay help, 70 registered nurses and eight doctors have volunteered to be on duty at the clinics.

Chairman of the entire project is Mrs. William Anderson, president of the Council. Mrs. William White and Josephine Seeley are codirectors.

Other committee chairmen include: Mrs. Albert Stevens, Mrs. L. D. McLauchlin, Donnie Smith and Mrs. Lyle Dusenberry, publicity; Mrs. Howard Dell, medical personnel; Mrs. William Simpson, nursing personnel; Mrs. Peter Garland, vaccine and equipment; Mrs. Leonard Saari, lay personnel; Mrs. Robert Lake, finance; Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, distribution of materials; and Mrs. Roland Stephison, records.

The clinics, open to any county resident over one year of age, will charge $1 for each injection. First, second, third and booster shots will be given. Clinics to follow up the injections given next week are planned for the future.

The clics will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. on Monday at Madison Junior High School; Tuesday at Wilson Elementary School; Wednesday at Bethune Elementary School and Thursday at Owen Elementary School.

Monday, the program will be ready to handle 12,000 persons, according to Josephine Seeley.

She added that no one will be turned away since there will be an ample supply of vaccine and more can be obtained on 12-hour notice.

2 Die in 3-Car Crash South of Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP)—Two utility firm employes were killed and five persons were injured today in a three-vehicle crash on U.S. 16 five miles southwest of Muskegon.

An automobile carrier and a Consumers Power Co. crew truck collided on icy pavement and a passenger car piled into the wreckage.

Dead are Paul R. Borgeson, 25, of Muskegon, and Jack D. Garvey, 35, of Spring Lake, crewmen for the utility company.

The injured are: Harold Modeen, 51, of Muskegon, crewman, hospitalized with critical injuries; Henry Kooiman, 26, and Howard Bailey 39, of Muskegon, also crewmen whose condition was listed as fair; Roy E. Olin, 47, of Grand Ledge, driver of the auto carrier, condition fair, and Alice Reeths, 25, of Grand Rapids, who was driving alone in the car.

Dem Meeting Postponed

The Day in Birmingham

DPW Crews in All-Out Effort to Clear Streets

BIRMINGHAM — Driving conditions on side streets here are miserable, DPW Superintendent Tom Brien reported today.

Crews are scattered throughout the city on an over-all improvement program, he said.

The main concern is opening catch basins which have been buried under snow and ice, from 4 to 8 inches deep. In some areas, channels have been cut through the ice to permit drainage and have left deep ruts hazardous to driving.

Brien said workers would remove the ice as quickly as possible.

He thanked residents who have uncovered catch basins to permit the run-off of standing water.

"So far flooding has been no trouble because the ice has melted gradually under the sun. A heavy rain, and we may have trouble," Brien said.

The city's stockpile of salt is right now adequate to handle "one major sleet storm or two or three light icings," the superintendent added.

Residents needing sand for drives or walks may get it at the DPW yards on Eton road. Yards were kept open last night and 52 residents stopped by for "a bushel or two," Brien concluded.

The Teen Club Housing Committee, headed by Heber C. Hizar, has three sites to consider for the club's headquarters. Facilities of the YMCA building, certain areas of the Community House and high school have been made available.

The Junior Board presented a complete report on the three locations on which the committee will base its decision.

Chuck Hartung and Robert Girardin, junior and senior board chairmen respectively, have scheduled a meeting for 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Community House. All committee reports will be reviewed.

Girardin said this morning that a site would be selected and the club would be in full operation by the second week in April. Thanks were extended to the citizens of Birmingham for their help.

The Board of Deacons and Deaconesses of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will honor the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond A. Fenner and Dr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Grey at a tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the church.

The Rev. Fenner will begin his pastorate at the church Sunday. Dr. Grey has been serving as interim pastor since last September.

Open to the public, the tea will have several prominent church executives from the state as special guests.

Eight Birmingham families will spend the weekend at Camp Ohiyesa. This will take the place of the regular family night program for the month.

Birmingham Rotary Anns will meet Monday at the home of Mrs. John Wakevainen, 507 Linden Rd., for a 1 p.m. luncheon and program. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Peck, Mrs. Frank Kurtz, Mrs. Clarence Kroft and Mrs. Adam Ladd.

Valerie Stephens of V. S. Interiors, home decorating shop, will speak on "The Changing Scene in Furnishings."

The first United States patent was granted to Samuel Hopkins of Pittsford, Vt., in 1781 for the manufacture of pearl-ash.

Vote Monday to Cut 4 Judge Nominees

on the bench for but six months, beginning July 1.

When Gov. G. Mennen Williams last April signed the bill creating the county's fifth judgeship, a provision was that the judge would take office for a preliminary six-months term beginning July 1, 1959.

This supposedly was what won Gov. Williams' approval of the bill, which was not a part of a similar one which he vetoed the year before. The governor desired the new judge to take office immediately.

When the Dec. 29 deadline for filing as candidates for this short term, Judge Hartrick's unexpired term, and the five regular six-year terms had passed, only two had submitted for the short term.

They were Cooney, Pontiac attorney, and Hughes, former state representative from Berkley.

One of these men definitely will be the first to fill Oakland's fifth judgeship beginning July 1. The winner will be chosen at the April 6 election.

According to County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr., however, this winner possibly may not be elected to continue his job with the regular term commencing Jan. 1, 1960. Both Cooney and Hughes also filed for the regular term.

Should the April 6 victor not gain this term, he would have to relinquish his seat—after only six months service—to the new fifth judge Jan. 1. This might even be the loser in the Cooney-Hughes battle for the short term.

Some have questioned the necessity of the short term because of these unusual possibilities. But it is in the bill and must be obeyed, they say.

'Nothing Short of Tragic,' Says Health Leader

3 of 4 Miss Out on Fluoridated Water

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only one out of every four people in the United States drinks water fluoridated to prevent tooth decay.

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, says this fact is "nothing short of tragic."

He told a news conference this week that millions of children were being denied tooth decay protection because a "militant minority" thwarts water fluoridation programs.

"Controlled fluoridation has been proved over and over again to be an inexpensive safe means of preventing 65 per cent of dental decay," Flemming said.

Flemming stressed the "decline in progress" of the program in connection with the fact that President Eisenhower has proclaimed this week as National Dental Health Week.

The secretary said that the program was blocked despite the fact that it was backed by the American Dental Assn., the American Medical Assn. and other professional groups.

He also pointed out that public opinion polls reveal that the majority of the people who are informed about fluoridation "are favorably disposed to the idea."

Flemming said he respected the views of those who oppose fluoridation as a "matter of principle," but he added that on the basis of scientific evidence he could not agree with their conclusions.

He said that some of the "most vocal opponents" of fluoridation are persons who have been charged by the food and drug administration with making "false health claims for nostrums and devices."

Flemming compared the opposition to fluoridation to similar attacks 50 years ago against chlorination of water and pasteurization of milk.

He's 'Fed Up' With Secrecy of Universities

LANSING (AP)—Rep. John J. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit) says he's "a little fed up" with secrecy surrounding expenditures by the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

That, he said, is the reason he wants the state constitution amended to require all state supported colleges and universities to submit to the Legislature detailed accounts of all their income and expenditures.

As separate constitutional bodies, both Michigan and Michigan State rely on the Legislature only for their appropriations. They deem it their privilege to withhold some financial data from legislators in justifying appropriation requests.

Panama Canal toll collections between July 1, 1957, and June 30, 1958, were $42,834,000, about $3,180,000 higher than the year before.

Summerfield Can't Attend GOP Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield has received his invitation to the Michigan State Republican Convention but still won't be able to attend.

Summerfield told newsmen earlier this week he had another commitment which would prevent his attending the Detroit convention Saturday, and added he hadn't been invited anyway.

This statement drew a telegram from the Michigan Republican organization, announcing Summerfield had been invited.

Summerfield confirmed receipt of the invitation today. He said a form letter of invitation, and two platform tickets, finally reached his desk yesterday.

Summerfield, a Flint auto dealer who has served as national GOP chairman, said he felt the invitation came to him in a "somewhat impersonal" way, but that he did not believe Michigan Republicans intended any deliberate affront.

Keep to the Right

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI)—Driving on the wrong side of the road causes more fatal accidents than any other traffic violation except speeding. Because of this, New York State now has a law requiring drivers to keep to the right for 100 feet before coming to a railroad crossing, a bridge, a viaduct or a tunnel.

STEPS DOWN — Ervin Perry of Waterford Township admitted to having a "lump in his throat" yesterday as he left his big Diesel engine at the Grand Trunk Railroad yard. Perry stepped down at noon after 40 years of service. A banquet honoring him is being planned for the near future.

40 Years a Railroader, Waterford Man Retires

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

It was unusually quiet out at the west end Grand Trunk field office yesterday as Ervin F. Perry stepped down from the cab of his big Diesel engine for the last time.

After 40 years—and more than one million miles—with the railroad company Perry has retired, and the silence that prevailed among his fellow workers was a tribute to one of the company's most well-liked employes.

Perry took one long look at the engine, turned around and entered the small office for a cup of hot coffee with his friends to ponder the occasion.

That 120-ton Diesel engine outside was a far-cry from the old locomotives that Perry first rode as a rookie fireman in his hometown of Caseville.

Coal—10 tons of it—was shoveled into the belly of the old steam engines on an average run, and the heavy black smoke that belched out of the stacks was enough to choke a man, Perry recalled.

A Diesel fireman is now required to check automatic signal lights, keep the cab slicked up and the windows clean. In the summer the cab is air-conditioned, with never a hint of the fuel oil powering the mighty engine.

Back in the old days there were no speed restrictions on noisy locomotives going through towns or cities. "We could barrel right through the heart of Pontiac at 50 miles an hour, and motorists stopped because they could hear us coming," Perry said.

In all of his forty years as round-houser, fireman and engineer, records show that Perry never was involved in a fatal or injury accident.

He admitted, however, to having smashed into several cars stalled on the tracks and "sending a few cows over the moon."

Perry can't remember just when he got the "bug" to become a railroad engineer, but when he was 16 years old he went to work as a section hand for Grand Trunk, repairing and laying track.

He was soon promoted to the back-breaking job of shoveling coal into tenders and engine firepots, and 13 years later he passed the examination as an engineer.

"Promotion was slow in those days," Perry said. "Now a fireman only has to work three years before taking his examinations."

Perry figures he may have traveled the equivalent of circulating the world 40 times, without leaving the Michigan area.

Now, the 65-year-old "Caseville Jones," plans on taking care of his 4,000 tulips planted on his one-half acre patch at 216 Hickory Lane in Waterford Township.

Every three years the bulbs have to be dug up and replanted.

"This is the year for that job and I'm really looking forward to spring," Perry said.

Car Kills Boy on Sled, Another Critically Hurt

JACKSON (AP) — Thomas Lukomski, 13, of rural Jackson, was killed and a neighbor buddy, Michael Brockie, 10, critically injured yesterday in a sledding accident.

The boys were sledding on a driveway at the Brockie home, about eight miles north of here, when the sled coasted into the street and into the path of an oncoming auto driven by Fred Grimes, 53, of Gregory.

Don't Give Up Too Soon on Something You Lose

MASON (AP) — Ingham County Sheriff William P. Barnes got his lost Petoskey High School class ring back yesterday.

The school's Lost and Found Department sent it here with a note that it had been turned in a few days ago.

Barnes is glad to get the ring back, but he's still curious.

He lost it in Petoskey 30 years ago.

Prominent in Insurance and in Republican Party State Politics

DETROIT (AP)—Walter B. Cary, who rose from a $15-a-month job to become prominent Detroit insurance executive and an influential figure in Republican politics, died yesterday. He was 73.

Doctors said pneumonia was a major cause of death.

Cary, who was born in Muskegon, quit school at 14 to take a $15-a-month job on a steamboat sailing between Muskegon and Chicago. He gradually moved into the insurance business and in 1908 began the Michigan Insurance Agency which has sold more than 10 billion dollars of insurance.

Cary helped organize Contilargest single stockholder of Detroit Edison Co.

He also held stock in the early days of General Motors which he estimated would have been worth $200,000,000 in 1958 if he had not lost it. The stock was lost when he mortgaged it to support W. C. Durant in Durant's fight for control of GM. Durant lost the fight.

Cary helped organize Continental Motors Corp., now located in Muskegon, and Detroit Gear, now a subsidiary of Borg-Warner Corp. He sold his interest in the companies in their early days.

Cary headed the Michigan Republican Party in 1940.

Vice President Nixon Handed Important Job

In naming Vice President NIXON as chairman of a special Cabinet committee to study inflation, President EISENHOWER has given him another opportunity for public service.

"The prime purpose of the committee," says Mr. Nixon, "is to conduct studies and make recommendations to business, labor and Government for action which will assure maximum economic growth." As chairman, his economic views suggest that he will be a liberalizing influence.

This Cabinet Committee on Price Stability for Economic Growth (a cumbersome name) urged by Secretary MITCHELL, will look into the vast fields of employment, production, purchasing power and price stability. It will be concerned particularly with both business and labor factors in relation to cost rises.

A serious problem for the committee is the fact that recovery from the recession has not yet been matched by recovery in employment. Increasing automation may widen the gap if remedies are not forthcoming. Harvard Economist Galbraith calls attention to another problem — the disparity between the prosperity of the business side of the nation and the poverty of certain vital services such as schools, housing, highway construction and everything that is provided by taxes rather than free enterprise.

The committee's study probably will offend both business and labor but it can make a substantial contribution to smoothing out the economy if it takes its assignment seriously.

Aid for Development a Good Investment

As a result of studies and recommendations made by Congress, the Development Loan Fund was established two years ago with wide support. Its purpose was to help underdeveloped nations to help themselves by lending them money instead of giving it to them.

The Administration had asked for a three year authorization of $2 billion and was given two years and $300 million for the first year instead of the $500 million requested. Last year only $400 million was appropriated. The President this year asks for $700 million.

The Fund has received applications totaling $2.9 billion and has approved loans of $670 million to 31 countries. It has a backlog of $1.8 billion in sound projects with the prospect that this figure may reach $3 billion in the near future.

In the past three years Russia has paid out $1.7 billion in long term loans for economic development. It is sending more and more technicians abroad and Communist trade with underdeveloped nations has increased 50 per cent in two years.

Undersecretary CHRISTIAN HERTER backed by Secretary DULLES and assistant C. DOUGLAS DILLON, is urging one billion a year and that only if the Fund "has continuity over a period of years" so as to avoid the wastefulness of inadequate planning.

The United States is working to combat Communism on many fronts throughout the world. Aid to backward countries is perhaps the most important—and least expensive.

Scandinavia Studying Common Market Idea

The governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland announce progress on an agreement to develop a common market and customs union among themselves.

This move was inevitable for protection against the European Common Market, with its 170 million people, but had been delayed in the hope that a free trade area of 17 nations would evolve from the European six nation market. However, Britain, for reasons of Commonwealth ties, and high protectionist France, so far have not come to terms for the expanded area.

With a combined population of 20 million, the Scandinavian countries also hope to maintain and expand their Atlantic and European trade ties. Sweden is the most industrialized but Norway has the bulk of the outside trade. Final agreement however will call for concessions from both countries in the interests of all. Despite trade relations with the Soviet Union, Finland finds itself able to participate.

It will be some months before agreements can be completed for this economic union. Much depends on the effect the European Common Market will have on Scandinavian trade.

The Man About Town

About Our Suburb

History Brings Out Some Very Interesting Facts

Valentine: A missive to inflate ego—or puncture it.

A short, but well covering history of Lake Angelus, written by its Village Clerk for the past 18 years,

Robert W. Hodge,

bound in neat hard covers, deftly delves into the innermost archives of that beautiful next door suburb of Pontiac in an entertaining way.

Surrounding that scenic spring-fed lake of the same name, it is Oakland County's smallest municipality in population; (123 in the 1950 census), but in ideal homelike and wholesome atmosphere, no other city or village can surpass it.

It has been and is today the home of doers who make that atmosphere possible. Their civic pride and desire to exercise it makes the village stand out as a friendly beacon in a world far too short on what they stand for.

The compact and word sparing history has a list of the present registered electors, also a list of those who in the past have contributed more than the average to make the community what it is. Both lists have many eligibles for a national who's who. Congratulations to Bob, and congratulations to Lake Angelus.

The office hunter for odd facts discovers that Friday, the thirteenth, never can happen in any two consecutive months except February and March when it isn't a leap year.

The Pontiac city directory lists nine Valentines, all of whom admit that they take some kidding about this time every year. In my last talk with of Birmingham, he said he never sent or received one in his 54 years.

Among our neighboring counties, Lapeer has the Best road chief, of Metamora having recently been appointed chairman of its road commission.

Harry Best

An Old Lyric

David Lawrence Says:

Politicians Forget Unity, Patriotism

WASHINGTON—The age-old controversy over the kind of individuals who should be appointed as ambassadors agroad — those with political influence or "career" men — has bobbed up once more.

LAWRENCE

Strange vaporings of piety are issuing from the holy precincts of the Democratic Party on Capitol Hill, especially from the supposedly unpolitical and unpartisan membership of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Theoretically, anyone who has a hand in influencing our foreign relations should be nonpolitical. But, to help accomplish such a Utopian state, it would be necessary to ordain that members of the Foreign Relations Committee should themselves take some kind of Socratic oath to bar politics from their comments on world policy, particularly in moments of international tension like the present.

Those who have attended the secret conferences between the President and some of the Democratic members of the Foreign Relations Committee say they have heard no more captious or vitriolic criticisms of the Government's policies than are voiced by Democrats in those meetings.

If the advice of some of them were followed, America would gradually appease the Communists by a series of "disengagement" moves that spell "peace at any price." But it is not harmful for such opinions to be expressed in private, obviously partisan as they are.

What is more damaging is when public speeches give and and comfort to the Communists and encourage them to believe they can drive a wedge between the American Government and the people.

Unity and patriotism seem to be obsolete words among the politicians today. Politics, it has often been said, should end at the water's edge, but this is not an era when much attention is being paid to that estimable maxim.

As for political ambassadors, the Democrats had better be careful what they do lest they discourage the flow of campaign contributions in 1960. Many a successful businessman who is close to the age of retirement likes to thing of an appointment to an embassy abroad where he and his wife can see something of the diplomatic whirl.

The record will show that tens of thousands of dollars were contributed in past campaigns by Democrats who became ambassadors later on. Many of them were really successful at their jobs and some stayed on as "career" men.

As a matter of fact, a man of wide business experience, accustomed to dealing with people in large transactions, has a more acute knowledge of human nature sometimes than a diplomat trained for foreign service work as a lifetime occupation.

It is true that some of the politically appointed ambassadors are duds, but the percentage is small. It might be added that some of the "career" men are not always as effective as they should be, despite their years of training.

There are many able men who have come up from the ranks as "career" men in the diplomatic service. Some of them have reached top posts and have distinguished themselves in tough situations. Many of them are unsung heroes whose accomplishments are rarely the subject of publicity.

But it is also true that some of the ambassadors appointed from the business or academic world have throughout American history rendered valuable service and won the admiration of foreign governments.

The so-called "politically appointed" ambassador always has at his side a number of trained diplomats in his embassy and no ambassador worth his salt would take important steps without consulting his counsellor and other high officers of the mission.

The so-called "risks" in political ambassadorships have often been exaggerated.

Theoretically, politics shouldn't have anything to do with the operation of government. But if that precept be taken litterally, the first people who ought to practice self-denial are the members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Modern Doctors Debunk 'Calcium Deposit' Boogy

Ten or 15 years ago many readers informed me that physicians or medical authorities (unidentified) warned that "too much" calcium was dangerous—might lead to "calcium deposits" in arteries, heart, joints.

DR. BRADY

Rarely if ever does a physician of standing utter such a warning today. The doctors are beginning to learn about nutrition.

It is not just my notion or theory but the consensus of nutrition and medical authorities that the diet of most Americans provides insufficient calcium to maintain good health.

In the booklet "The Calcium Shortage" I mention a dozen common complaints which are manifestations of calcium deficiency and recommend (1) high calcium diet and/or (2) supplementing the everyday diet with adequate rations of calcium and vitamin D.

Vitamin D is essential for good assimilation and utilization of calcium, whether the calcium is in the form of milk, nuts, cheese or greens or in the form of calcium capsules.

Please don't tell me you have "tried" high calcium diet or calcium tablets unless you have followed the diet faithfully and/or taken the daily ration of calcium and vitamin D for three months. If you choose to take calcium tablets without vitamin D you are not following my advice.

"According to Meltzer, the best way to deprive the body of calcium is to give magnesium . . ." I'll name the source of this statement for physicians only. I quote it to indicate that frequent use of Epsom salts (magnesium sulfate) or milk of magnesia (magnesium hydroxide) is not as harmless as you oldtimers thought.

To indicate how useful calcium (chloride, gluconate or lactate) is in medicine, a single dose injected directly into a vein may give immediate relief to the pain of lead colic, the colic of black widow spider bite, renal (kidney) colic, biliary (gallstone) colic or the pain of inoperable cancer.

Calcium regulates neuro-muscular irritability, that is, it moderates or controls excitability of nerve fibres and nerve centers. Thus an adequate daily intake of calcium (and vitamin D) is not only a tonic to the heart but minimizes the likelihood of angina or other coronary accident.

Now if you begin to see what I'm driving at, send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and I'll send the booklet above mentioned.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Proof that people can live in peace under trying situations is the fact that some families do where there are several channels and only one TV set."

Voice of the People

Readers Are on Warpath About Michigan Finances

There should be an amusement tax on Williams and Reuther, they both have such entertaining ideas.

One is Reuther's idea of sharing the profit but not the risk if there's a loss. Then there's 40 hours pay for 30 hours work. It would be just as sensible for manufacturers to ask us to pay for two cars and get one.

As for his idea of the unemployed marching on Washington, he's facing his puppets in the wrong direction. He should wind them up and turn them toward Lansing. He's blaming the wrong man for Michigan's unhealthy condition.

Dumb Belle

Republicans are against Williams' tax bill, but it's fairer than a sales tax raise. The poorest families pay most of their sales tax on groceries and clothing because that's all they can buy. The Governor's bill gives them a chance to live before they pay more taxes. Those who make more pay more, but not much.

Many Republicans blame Williams for the state's bankruptcy, but he's had a Republican house since he's been in office.

And he isn't to blame for industries moving. They went where they could get cheaper labor and an open shop. Tell workers to get wise and join the union.

Arnold Rawlings
771 St. Clair

An expanding population makes a tax increase logical but I protest the selectivity of the proposed tax plan. If we're going to be selective, let those who voted for Soapy bear the brunt. Or how about making sanctimonious supermen who've been able to quit smoking pay a tax? Or how about collecting one-fourth of the state income tax from legalized gambling, as Nevada does? Sound good? I may run for Congresswoman.

P. W.

Clarkson isn't running in the wrong direction; he just isn't one of Williams' sheep. It's refreshing to find a Democrat in Lansing who gags on Soapy's sugar-coated pills.

As for Not From Southfield, he must not be able to read. Clarkson used the Federal income tax as an example of what can happen in Michigan. He said the tax started as a "soak the rich" tax but ended with 85 per cent of it being paid by those earning $6,000 or less.

Not From Southfield Either

Our Government gets more Socialistic every day. Either the poor humbugs who believe in soaking the rich aren't using their noodles or the union has really been talking turkey to them.

How many millionaires do they think are left today? But millions of stockholders work hard, save money, go without luxuries so they can go South when the weather is hard on their health. Maybe they drive a nice car. I don't envy them but respect them because I know it took hard years of hard work and an intelligent mind that taught them to be thrifty.

Where would we be without these people to invest their money so we can all work and save so we, too, may some day be as fortunate? I hope the four-cent sales tax will be the solution. Why should we be prejudiced to the size of one's purse and family? After all, who is it that's donated to all the charities, churches and schools.

Once a Democrat

If Reuther, through Williams, spends the state's income (according to VOP columns) why are Republican legislators falling over each other to introduce bills for more taxes?

Harry W. Fowler
Drayton Plains

A VOP letter said greedy rich men cause inflation. That's partly right but car dealers and middlemen in business or farming are mainly responsible. Things would be much better if the manufacturers could sell cars to us from their factories.

I get sicker every time businmen holler unions cause inflation or high prices by demanding decent wages to catch up with cost of living and runaway prices. They can't catch up because their hands are tied up in three or five-year contracts while manufacturers raise car prices every year.

Big businessmen should wake up before they destroy themselves and us. Unions wouldn't ask for raises if big business didn't raise car prices each year. Recall the OPA and it will save us all from misery.

Theron Morse
Barnsburg St.

Why not mortgage union funds to aid State finances instead of taking money from boys who protected us and gave their lives? Why didn't Williams explain the State's finances before the election? We had a candidate who told us the situation, but too many voters listened to the smooth political speeches for our long term politician.

Interested Taxpayer

Rockefeller has the gall to ask for a $250 million tax increase for New York's coming years, and in a state that already has an income tax and a payroll tax. Poor Soapy. He only wants $140 million. Let's hope enlightened lawmakers will vote for whatever tax increases are necessary to get the State out of its financial dilemma.

I don't enjoy paying taxes any more than the next fellow, but neither do I believe in anarchy and government must have sufficient capital to operate.

We live in a wonderful State and judging from increased population, others think so. Let's support Michigan.

Michigan Booster

Let's fight Williams tooth and nail if need be. Don't let him take the veterans' money. He wants to be President. How can he expect to handle 49 states if he can't handle one? God pity people if he should be elected President.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

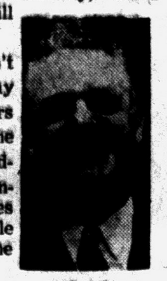

Don't Let Fat Kill Romance in Life

Opal is a jolly wife and very plump. But she says her husband gives her dutiful pecks on the cheek instead of thriller-diller sweetheart kisses. He treats her like a sister! So she wants to know how to revive his ardor. I showed her that dieting is not as difficult as many people think. Notice the follow-up tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case A-453: Opal G., aged 36, is a jolly wife but quite heavy.

"Dr. Crane, my husband likes me," she began anxiously, "but I wonder if he still loves me.

CRANE

"For he doesn't treat me the way he did ten years ago. Now he kisses me goodbye in the morning but his kisses are dutiful little pecks on the cheek.

"And he regards me more like a sister than a sweetheart. Yet he is only 37, so he shouldn't be too old for romance, should he?

"What can I do to perk up our love life?"

FAT KILLS ROMANCE

Opal weighed 118 when she was a bride. Now she tips the scales at 158, which is too much for a height of 5' 3", so I urged her to diet.

"Men associate romance with slender girls," I warned her. "A fat, waddling female doesn't inspire ardent ideas in the usual male.

"He regards such a woman as a motherly type but not as a siren or sweetheart."

Well, Opal decided to start on my 10-day diet by which you can lose 10 Lbs. in 10 days. It requires women to restrict their calories to 800 per day, while men start with 1,200.

After the first 10 days, during which both men and women will lose an average of 10 lbs. apiece, the wife can move u pto 1,200 and the husband can then eat 1,600 calories per day till the desired goal has been reached.

But the chief virtue in this diet is the fact it kills your hunger without the use of drugs.

For you restrict your total fluid intake to one glass of liquid the first day; two glasses the second, and then stay on three glasses from the third through the tenth days.

In cool weather this is no severe burden to most people. If you are engaged in heavy physical labor and perspire a great deal, you would need more liberal fluid intake.

But when your mouth becomes dry and cottony, your stomach likewise seems to produce less acid, so you aren't terrifically hungry.

Your thoughts then go to ice water rather than to pie and cake! And this is very helpful when you must stay on a low calorie intake.

All dieters should remember, too, that they have plenty of sugar and fat under their skin but no suplus of protein.

So eat at least 400 calories worth of cottage cheese, meat, peas, beans or other protein menu items to keep your muscles from shrinking.

The first day you may suffer from a caffeine headache if you have been a heavy drinker of coffee, tea and cola soft drinks.

To prevent this, use part of your liquid as your morning coffee and take an aspirin.

Don't tantalize yourself by having big platters of food in the center of the table. Dish up your menu in the kitchen and have no other food available.

Some patients find that ice is far more helpful than plain water during this first 10 days, so pour your glass of water into an ehtire ice tray.

Then place an ice wafer on your tongue when you are thirsty. It will kill much of your thirst.

Mrs. Crane and I have often dieted off as much as 30 pounds by starting with this 10-day dehydration process.

It is a great tonic to your morale to see so many pounds removed, even though part of the loss is fluid.

So send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return evelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

This is the easiest diet I have ever found, if you want to diet without drugs.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

CELEBRATING GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — An open house at their home will mark 50 years of marriage for Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rouse of 6248 Waldon Rd. Sunday. Residents of Clarkston for more than 30 years, the couple has seven children, 20 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren — all living "within five minutes" of the Rouse home. Friends and relatives have been invited to visit between 2 and 5 p. m.

2 Just Escape Death at Tracks

Leap From Car Only Seconds Before Train Demolishes It

WALLED LAKE — Death took a sudden swipe at two men here and narrowly missed yesterday.

They were approaching the Grand Trunk Railroad crossing at Ladd road in their car as a lumbering freight train roared to meet them. Otis Duncan, 19, of 1646 Lakeview Dr., stomped down on the brakes and the car went into a skid.

Both he and his passenger, Harvey Doak, 30, of 1752 McCoy St., leaped from the careening vehicle seconds before it was rammed broadside by the fast-moving freight train.

The car was pushed down the ice-slicked track forty feet before being shoved aside in a crumbled heap as the train continued on its way to Ann Arbor.

The train conductor, who was riding in the engine cab at the time, said "We saw what was going to happen and knew we couldn't stop in time."

Both Duncan and Doak, owner of the car, escaped without a scratch but the vehicle was a total loss.

Walled Lake Honors Harry Carlson

WALLED LAKE — Harry R. Carlson of 1111 Minda Ct. last night was named "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" here as winner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's Distinguished Service Award at a banquet held at Rotunda Inn.

Carlson was selected from a group of nominees submitted to judges Mayor William Nixon, Mayor Pro Tem Waldo Proctor and Chief of Police Al Decker. Proctor made the presentation.

Among the reasons given for Carlson's selection were his zeal in promoting education, his devotion to church activities and the "fine" work he has done for the Jaycees.

Presently, he is assistant principal of the Walled Lake School, and has been named by the Board of Education to become principal beginning next fall.

A majority of Carlson's out-of-school time is devoted to work with the Shepherd of the Lakes Evangelical Lutheran Church of which he is a charter member.

He is also a member of the church council, superintendent of the Sunday School, chairman of religious education and a member of the building committee.

Largely due to Carlson's efforts as membership chairman of the Jaycees there has been a 200 per cent increase in members since July. He also is a member of the board of directors.

A native of Pontiac, Carlson received his B.A. degree from Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill. and his master's degree from Wayne State University, Detroit.

He is married and the father of two small children.

Robert Green of 1364 N. Pontiac Trl., past president of the Jaycees, member of the board of directors and presently fund raising chairman, earned the "Key Man" vote of his fellow members.

Under Green the club raised $800 in the past three months. His citation was read by Russell Mack, last year's winner of the Distinguished Service Award, who was banquet chairman and toastmaster.

In addition to the two awards, the Jaycees honored their bosses by having them as dinner guests. Guest speaker of the evening was Herbert Auer of the Department of Continuing Educational Services at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The group also heard Bruce Enfield, Jaycee president, briefly map out plans for the year.

Hospital Guild Meets

ROCHESTER — The Avon Center Hospital Guild will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Avon Township Library here. The cancer film scheduled for last month's meeting but postponed will be shown at this time.

2 Slightly Injured as School Bus and Car Collide

ROMEO — Icy road conditions were blamed for the head-on collision yesterday of a car and a Romeo Community school bus, State Police here reported today.

The driver of the car was slightly injured, and one pupil was shaken up in the mishap, according to police.

The accident occurred on 33-Mile road, west of Fisher road and about three miles northeast of here.

Driver of the car was Paul E. James, 38, of 5775 W. 33 Mile Rd. He suffered a lacerated left knee. The pupil shaken up was Robert Haskell, 11, of 296 Townsend Rd. Both were treated by their own physicians.

The school bus driver was Mary Jane Cline of 277 Morton St.

Both Mrs. Cline and James said they saw each other approaching on the narrow road and applied their brakes, but were unable to stop, Police said.

State Curbs Parking on Rochester Road

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Michigan State Highway Department has set up regulations governing parking on the newly widened section of Rochester road (M150) within both the village limits and the township.

In a letter to the township board, highway officials said there would be no parking at any time between Avon road and a point 225 feet south of Second street. This section was improved and the new Southhill Bridge erected last fall.

Four County Youths Held, Admit 21 Area Break-ins

Area law authorities believe the arrest of four youths Thursday may clear up a string of recent burglaries in Waterford Township.

Township Police, working with Oakland County sheriff's deputies and state police for several days, said the three 17-year-old youths and a juvenile have admitted to 21 break-ins during the past two weeks.

The suspects were identified by police as Timothy Pettingill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Pettingill, of 296 Leota St. Waterford Township; James Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jenkens, of 8832 Arlington St., White Lake Township and Armand Inkel of Detroit.

Inkel, formerly of 1039 Monica St., Waterford Township, has been living with his father, Armand, at 1021 W. Lafayette St., but had planned to move back to the township to live with his mother in the near future. His parents are divorced.

Detectives said the three will appear on breaking and entering charges before Waterford Township Justice Donald E. Adams later today.

The juvenile, a 15-year-old Waterford Township boy, will be turned over to Oakland County juvenile authorities.

Police said the youths had been watched for several days. The break-ins, 10 of which were reported one night last week, occurred mostly at gas stations.

Sheriff's Department detectives said they were still questioning the suspects this morning in an effort to see if they were responsible for any more than the 21 police said the youths admitted committing.

OK 1,000 Books at Northern High

Whitmer States Now North Central Assn. Will Accredit School

Two appropriations for Pontiac Northern High School were approved last night by the Board of Education.

The Board approved an expenditure of $3,500 for the purchase of 1,000 additional library books for the Pontiac Northern library.

Superintendent of Schools Dana E. Whitmer recommended the appropriation after being informed by the Michigan Reviewing Committee of the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools that the new high school would be accredited after 1,000 more volumes were purchased.

The Board's 1958-59 budget contained a $6,100 appropriation for the purchase of 1,500 books, which provided one and one-half books per student.

The new addition will raise that level to two and one-half books per student.

Whitmer said the 1959-60 school budget will contain an appropriation for the purchase of 2,000 more books.

The Board also appropriated $5,500 from its current operating budget to purchase football equipment for Pontiac Northern.

"That's more than we've had in any decade in modern history," said Johnson. "And there won't be another one like it for 400 years, either."

Dentists to Launch Insurance Program

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The secretary of the American Dental Association says a national insurance program will be launched next year to take care of dental expenses.

Dr. Harold Hillenbrand of Chicago disclosed at a press conference yesterday that major breakthroughs leading to the proposed dental coverage were the success of water fluoridation and the drawing up of a deductible-type policy.

Hillenbrand did not say what company would handle the insurance policies, nor dide he elaborate on how the deductible-type coverage would work.

Charity Racketeer Picks Wrong Door Bell to Ring

DETROIT (AP) — Arnold A. Perkins, 39, rang the doorbell to ask for funds for the Salvation Army. It was the wrong doorbell.

Salvation Army Capt. William Roberts, 36, invited Perkins in and called police. He had noticed Perkins was dressed in a fake uniform.

Perkins was charged with attempting to obtain money under false pretenses.

Auto Production Up

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News says the auto industry will turn out 117,950 cars and 25,500 trucks this week. The industry built 114,305 cars and 24,703 trucks last week. The paper says the increased output stems mainly from stepped-up Dodge, Rambler and Studebaker production.

Half of the fresh oranges exported from the United States last year were sold to Canada. Most of the rest went to the Netherlands, Belgium and West Germany.

liams' tax bill, but it's fairer than a sales tax raise. The poorest families pay most of their sales tax on groceries and clothing because that's all they can buy. The Governor's bill gives them a chance to live before they pay more taxes. Those who make more pay more, but not much.

Dumb Bellc

Many Republicains blame Williams for the state's bankruptcy, but he's had a Republican house since he's been in office.

And he isn't to blame for industries moving. They went where they could get cheaper labor and an open shop. Tell workers to get wise and joint the union.

Arnold Rawlings
771 St. Clair

We're a leading State, and things have come to pass that reflect on each of us as poor managers of our affairs. People we elect to conduct affairs in a businesslike way act like a gang of nitwits, both Democrats and Republicans.

It's about time we demand and get proper action. Elected officials should start using their heads instead of blowing off at the mouth. Let's get busy and get Michigan back on the right track.

Aaron W. Keeley
1916 Woodland Ave.

Ten states collect seven cents gas tax; 20 more collect six cents and another ten collect five. The national average is a tiny shade under six cents. Michigan might just as well raise the gas tax, collect some painless taxes and take a justified share from the out of state tourists who will pay it without protest as they're used to it in other localities, including their home states.

Ada Jones

The party line followers in Lansing are to blame for Michigan's condition and not Williams. They were not elected to play politics, or were they?

Albert Smith
Clarkston

Everyone's interested in how Michigan is going to raise new revenues. I'd like to know why new revenues are needed. One law is interesting because of its extravagances. It's the law regarding necessity of designing public schools individually by qualified architects with the architect guaranteed six per cent of the cost as his fee.

Some school board members feel this isn't necessary and indicated a good basic design might serve more than one school system. If so, we might save three to five per cent of our school building money by repealign this law.

Merrill Ray
Clarkston

What's wrong with Republicans anyway? They don't seem to have any backbone. This would be the perfect time to show people what Democrats are really like, and how Williams and his gang of loudmouthed schemers got back in is beyond me.

Not only Michigan but the whole country's in a mess and the Dems are responsible. They'll do as they like budget-wise as they have a majority and are taking advantage of it, regardless of the outcome. Heaven help us if people vote in a Dem President.

G. B. C.

Prices have doubled since 1940 so if you make $5,000 it's worth $2,500. Deduct an average family's taxes and you have only about $2,000.

In 1940 you paid about $100 a year in sales tax and now on the doubled prices you pay about $200. Property taxes have doubled or tripled and we have excise taxes and so now you have about $1,500 a year by 1940 standards.

Now they propose more taxes and it's time lawmakers in Lansing and Washington wake up before we all become slaves to the tax collector. A man making $5,000 has to really scrimp, scratch and save to make ends meet. If you don't believe it, figure it out.

Elmer Srock

Everything begins to add up. A few weeks after the election a Detroit paper headlined the Governor seeking peace with industry and in the same paper was the story of Kelvinator moving, hundreds of workers losing jobs.

Did the Governor know he would ask business to bail him out? Paul Bagwell must have told the truth. The Governor should have realized he shouldn't kill the goose that lays the golden egg.

The one-cent sales tax increase seems the most logical approach with no added administration cost and the rich would pay more because they spend more, the tourist aiding considerably.

Cuban Barbers Appeal for End of Beard Craze

HAVANA (UPI) — The barbers' union, concerned by slackened business, has appealed to Cuba's revolutionaries to abandon the "shaggy-dog look" which has become their trade mark.

"The post-revolutionary new look should be smooth cheeks and cropped hair," the resolution said.

Attention Bloomfield Township Voters

Continue Good Government by Re-Electing These Men!

Arno L. Hulet
Supervisor

Mr. Hulet has been associated with the government of Bloomfield Township for the past 26 years. He has served as Justice of the Peace for 17 years, Township Treasurer for 6 years, Township Supervisor for 3 years, to fill vacancy created by the death of David E. Anderson; and a member of the Township Board continuously for the past 26 years.

He is a graduate of Holly High School and received his B.A. degree at Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. In addition Mr. Hulet has done graduate work at the University of Detroit. He is a Veteran of World War I having served from 1917 to 1919, with one year in France.

Mr. Hulet was a teacher in the Pontiac School system for 19 years.

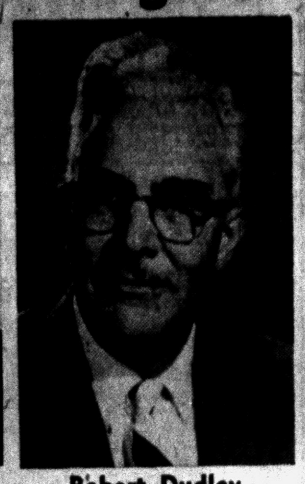

He served as Superintendent of the Oakland County Juvenile Home from 1944 to 1949.

At present he is a member of three important committees on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors as follows:

1. Chairman of Boundaries of Cities and Villages.
2. Member of the Legislatice Committee.
3. Member of the Welfare Committee.

In addition Mr. Hulet has served as President of the Pontiac Lions Club; Commander of American Legion Post No. 20 of Pontiac; President of the Pontiac Hi-12 Club and President of the State Associations of Hi-12 Clubs.

He is a member of the First Congregational Church of Pontiac and lives with his wife at 2355 Franklin Road. Mr. Hulet has two sons, Claude who is an assistant Professor at UCLA and Ross who is with the Ford Motor Company in the experimental department.

Robert Dudley
Clerk

Mr. Dudley has been a resident of Bloomfield Township since 1940, having moved here from Detroit. Prior to being elected Township Clerk in 1947, he was active in the formation and early affairs of the present Bloomfield Estates Improvement Association.

Following graduation from Pratt Institute in Industrial Chemical Engineering, he became associated with Metal and Thermit Corporation (formerly United Chromium Inc.) and has been continuously employed by them from that time. At present he is Regional Manager of the Chemicals, Plating and Metals Division.

He resides at 4510 Charing Cross Road with his wife and son, Robert, and daughter, Virginia.

One of the responsibilities of the Township Clerk is the maintenance of voting lists and records. This was a fairly simple task eleven years ago when the township had one precinct, approximately 3,000 residents, and less than 1,800 registered voters. Today, the Township's population is approximately 20,000, about a seven-fold increase in eleven years.

There are 9,500 registered voters in nine precincts and predictions of thirteen precincts by 1960. Up until recently these records and rolls were kept in simple ring binders which were very inadequate. However, with the multitude of voters we now have a speedy method of checking lists was necessary.

This was accomplished by Ann Birrell, our very efficient deputy, with the installation of Revo files which enable one to check a voter's registration almost instantaneously. This is just one example of how the Township's office operations have been modernized to give economical service. We feel these accomplishments justify your continued support.

Homer Case
Treasurer

Mr. Case has served as Township Treasurer for the past 3 years taking over at the time Mr. Hulet was appointed as Supervisor to fill vacancy due to the death of David Anderson. The Township has witnessed tremendous growth in the past 3 years. By installing modern, up-to-date equipment he has continued to operate the Treasurer's office with not one new employe being added to the payroll.

In addition to his duties as Treasurer, Mr. Case is the Superintendent of the Water and Sewer Department. This department has grown to the point where the Township now serves over 2,000 home owners. In the past 3 years he has helped promote the construction of 5 miles of sanitary sewer. He is completely cognizant of the need for still more expansion of these services and the past 3 years experience in handling these problems makes him a ready and qualified man.

Mr. Case is a high school graduate, also a member of the American Landscape School, a life member of the Michigan State Horticultural Society and a State Licensed operator for Class M water treatment. He is active in the promotion of an outside source of public water supply to serve the Township.

His efforts are largely responsible for the expansion of Police and Fire protection. One new fire hall was completed and equipped last year and another is scheduled for 1959.

Mr. Case is active in church affairs, being an Elder of the Birmingham Church of Christ. He is also Vice-President of the Bloomfield Lions Club and prior to his duties as Treasurer he successfully owned and operated his own business in the Township for a number of years.

He is 43 years of age, married, father of 3 children and is aware of the present school issues! His home is at 7125 Wing Lake road.

Your Support and Vote in the Election, Monday, February 16, Will Assure Bloomfield Township of Continued Good Government

Pontiac School Board Ups Sick Leave for Teachers

The Board of Education last night increased the number of sick-leave days which Pontiac teachers can accumulate from 60 to 100, starting with the 1959-60 school year.

Since teachers accumulate 10 sick-leave days yearly, it will be four years before any instructor in the Pontiac School District can accumulate the maximum number.

The Board's action fell short of demands sought by the Certified Personnel Committee, a teacher organization. The teachers had asked an immediate increase in sick-leave days from 60 to 80 this year, with an additional 10 days added in 1959-60 and 1960-61.

Commenting on the teachers' request, Supt. of Schools Dana P. Whitmer told the board that granting an immediate increase would constitute a "breach of faith" with other employe organizations which had been told no changes would be made during the current school year.

Asst. Supt. Philip J. Proud said that in any one year there probably would not be more than two or three cases where teachers entitled to extended sick leave would need it.

He said that in the cases of two teachers with extended illnesses this year, the cost to the board did not reach the maximum number of sick-leave days because the teachers had not been here long enough.

Whitmer also told the board it appears doubtful that "much in the way of an increase in wages and salaries can be provided in 1959-60."

He said granting the sick-leave increase had the advantage of offering more protection to teachers without a large expenditure of school funds. "It would also indicate the board is doing everything in its power to further the 'welfare of our teachers,'" he said.

The board decision to grant the increased number of accumulated sick-leave days was unanimous.

Armed Bandits Hold Up Grocer

2 Escape With $175 From Pontiac Store as Owner Is Closing

Two armed bandits held up a 65-year-old Pontiac grocer last night and escaped with $175.

Louis Fedonis, owner of Spiro's Market, 94 Oakland Ave., told police he was preparing to close his store when the bandits walked in.

While one stood guard at the door, the other stepped up to the grocer and whipped out a blue steel automatic revolver.

The gunman ordered Fedonis to lie down on the floor behind the store counter, and bound the grocer's hands and feet with adhesive tape.

After turning off the store lights, the bandits took $175—the day's receipts—from the cash register.

The grocer told police the pair also stole 19 cartons of cigarettes.

Fedonis worked himself loose shortly after the thieves fled and called Pontiac Police.

Fedonis described the holdup men as between 18-20 years of age. No one entered the store during the robbery, he said.

Pontiac Central Graduates Earn Honors at MSU

Four Michigan State University students, all graduates of Pontiac Central High School placed on the MSU honor roll the past term, the Board of Education was told last night by Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel.

"Excluding Detroit because of its size, and Lansing and East Lansing because of their proximity, Pontiac Central was one of two schools with more honor students at MSU than any other city in the state," Proud pointed out.

Waterford Man Injured in City 2-Car Collision

Charles R. Swift, 40, of 5853 Andersonville Rd., Waterford Township, was injured yesterday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Saginaw and Lawrence streets.

Swift was treated for head and chest contusions at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

The car he was driving collided with one driven by Leonard P. Robbins, 51, of 3060 Simmons Ct., Pontiac Township.

A Minneapolis fireman named Louis Rober is credited with inventing the game of softball in 1895.

Urge Reuther to Seek a Shorter Work Week

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, is being urged to seek a shorter work week from the auto industry's big three to relieve unemployment.

A petition signed by 1,000 members of UAW Ford Local 600 was sent to Reuther yesterday urging Reuther to negotiate immediately with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler for a shorter week. The workers said they wanted to ease unemployment through fewer work hours with no cut in pay.

Carl Stellato, local president, said the request to reopen three-year contracts with the big three was not union policy.

She's Rather Young to Be Driving a Car

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. Henrietta Graves left her automobile engine running Thursday when she stopped for an errand. She also left her 17-month-old daughter, Layra, on the seat.

But Layra didn't stay there. She crawled to the floor, pressed the acceleator and the car lurched forward, smashing the wall of a motel.

Damage: a lump on Layra's head, $1,500 to the motel and $250 to the car.

Temperance Fund to Pay Youth $10

WAKEFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Donald T. Young, 23, stands to collect $10 from the town of Wakefield for abstaining from liquor and tobacco.

The money comes from the Jonathan Nichols Temperance and Tobacco Fund administered by the town.

Nichols set up the fund in 1883 to pay young men $10 for abstaining between the ages of 16 and 21.

Young applied Thursday, the first to do so in five years. The fund was popular in the Victorian era but only 10 have applied in the past 44 years.

Find 3-Foot Stowaway From Land of Bananas

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Frank May, who unloads bananas from freight cars, came face to face Thursday with two little beady eyes peering over a stalk. Behind the eyes was a three-foot boa constrictor.

The Museum of Science, which had no boa, was delighted. It added the snake to its collection.

Bob Considine Says:

Obituary Page Is Too Readable--Too Close

NEW YORK — I'm getting to the age where the obituary page of the newspaper is becoming more readable. It used to be something to thumb past noisily en route to the sports section. Now more and more it concerns a friend or, worse, friends.

"They're hitting all around us," Runyon used to say out of the corner of his mouth as he stood with the fight mob on the pavement outside Campbell's after a colleague had been tucked away. Runyon's long since gone, but his comment certainly still holds.

Five friends of mine died this past week. It was like a war.

Gen. Bill Donovan taught all who knew him the priceless treasure of quiet modesty. "Wild Bill" was one of the gentlest men of our time.

Great hero in World War I, winner of the Congressional Medal of Honor, internationally known and revered attorney between wars, architect of the great OSS of World War II—Bill had so much to be proud of, could have sounded his horn a thousand times a day . . . but never did. It never occurred to him.

Mrs. Carter Barron, widow of a lovable guy who played great football at Georgia Tech and made such a mark in Washington's theatrical and civic life that the amphitheater in Rock Creek Park bears his name.

Mrs. Barron — Chic — suffered for years from TB, lived only for their fine son Cracker. Cracker dreamed of joining the Navy and going to sea when he finished Georgia Tech.

Chic never latched on to the boy, put up the brave front, urged him to go. Chic "felt fine." She died knowing her son had achieved a goal.

Gen. Jim Newman was a great engineer who served with distinction but without a lick of publicity through a great war that had the most urgent need of his talents.

Jim Newman could build an airdrome or patch up an enemy strip we had earlier destroyed as fast as a George Patton could move across the face of Europe. He "kept 'em flying." What would we have done if they hadn't?

The general and his wife Robbie —yes, the famous Frances Robinson of the early days of the New Deal and Hugh Johnson's NRA— offered a haven for many a soul who stumbled upstairs from the depths of the TV and radio studios NBC once maintianed at Washington's Sheraton Park Hotel.

Jim and Robbie lived there and were never too busy to provide food, drink and a constructive view of the program just committed.

Bertrand Robinson was a writer of plays and before that an actor. We tend to regard people of the theater as incapable of standing the wear and tear of everyday life with its hardssips and untinseled realities.

We sometimes measure the whole wondrous craft by one maverick ham, or an actress who might be barred from the Westminster Dog Show, a frustrated or "angry" writer, a producer who should have stayed with the French postcards.

But then there was Bert Robinson. He and his Kathleen were married 30 years. Ten years ago he was wheeled into St. Barnabas Hospital, in the Bronx, and he did not leave that bed until the end of his life. Arthritis.

Nobody ever heard him beef. He had his big old office-style typewriter mounted on a board, vertically. It would be moved to his bedside. He'd pick up a thin stick (with a padded end) and with this he could touch the keys . . . and create.

Then Carl Helm, the greatest libel lawyer of our time. New York can be a cold town to the newcomer. Carl and Betty Helm helped to warm it for us when we came. There is no estimating his contributions to two generations of writers and newsmen.

Carl was never a man to gild a story about a person or a situation when the matter demanded blunt treatment in print. He had the reporter's background.

As a young captain of infantry, fresh out of World War I, he moved into the thick of a hardier day on the New York newspaper scene and brought in astonishing beats to Mr. Hearst's memorable American. His wisdom and skill saved us millions.

It was especially poignant to see Carl Helm's health fail. He was a magnificent physical specimen. In his mid-fifties he could hit a forehand drive, in tennis, as hard and true as almost any player you'd see at Forest Hills.

He worked so hard, so well. Carl arranged the legal details attending the adoption of two children we know. Each mentioned him in their prayers at night, as each mentioned Bert. We will too, and all the others we miss so much.

Governors Like Rum

FAIRFAX, Vt. (UPI)—When Guy Butler, 85, retired as doorkeeper of the Vermont House of Representatives, he said, "I've seen nine governors come and go and they're like rum. They're all good, only some are better."

Junior High Vocal Festival to Top Musical Events

Concert Set Wednesday in Pontiac

1,000 Students Will Join in Chorus at Central High

Next Wednesday evening a chorus of 1,000 students, under the direction of George H. Putnam, will present the fourth annual citywide Junior High Vocal Music Festival.

The concert by the eighth grade students of the five Pontiac junior high schools will be presented at 7:30 p. m. in the Pontiac Central High School gymnasium.

GLEE CLUBS TO SING

In addition to the 1,000 students in the massed chorus, special numbers will be presented by the Boys Glee Clubs from Eastern Junior High, directed by Leonard Griffin; Lincoln, directed by Julius Middledorf; and Washington, with Jerry Libby as conductor. Girls groups from Jefferson and Madison schools will be directed by Mrs. Eleanor Pyles and William Coffing respectively.

Other instructors who will either direct or accompany are Margaret Snyder and Mrs. Florine Tompkins, Eastern; Susan Eckley and Roland Richter from Lincoln; David Stimac from Madison; and Julia Hollyer from Washington.

The program will include songs that teenagers particularly enjoy singing. The program will open with "Music Alone Shall Live" and will end with "Hail to Our Country" (the American Hymn) by Mathias Keller.

SACRED MUSIC

Among the sacred songs are: "O Rest in the Lord (Elijah)—Mendelssohn, "Little Brown Church in the Vale," and the spirituals "Were You There" and "Joshua Fit de Battle ob Jericho."

"Old Man Noah," a sea chantey, by the boys' voices; "Charlie My Darling," a Scottish folk song; and the calypso number "Sambalele" will round out the concert.

"The Children's Marching Song," from the movie "The Inn of the Sixth Happiness," will be featured and other special selections will be "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane," and "Tell Me Why."

This type of program provides an opportunity for teenagers to enjoy music together as they present their songs for the pleasure of parents and friends in the audience.

The public is invited and tickets may be purchased from any eighth grader.

Cranbrook Slates Jazz Pianist

French Jazz pianist Bernard Peiffer, also known as "Le Most" and "Le Greatest," will appear in a public concert sponsored by the Cranbrook Music Guild at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Cranbrook School auditorium, Bloomfield Hills.

M. Peiffer was the first non-American to win France's Grand Prix de Disque in jazz which he won twice. He also won the International jazz Award twice.

He was born in Epinal, France and studied classical mucic at Marseille Conservatory and the Conservatoire National de Musique in Paris.

HEARD FATS WALLER

A Fats Waller record was his first contact with American jazz. He quit his career in classical music and took up jazz when he realized he could express his own rhythmic and improvisional talents much better through jazz than through the forms of classical music.

He was an underground jazzman throughout the occupation years in France. Leading a gypsy-like existence as a musician after the war, he played in Paris, Nice, Brussels and Monte Carlo.

BERNARD PEIFFER

He came to this country in 1956 and played in Chicago, Washington, Philadelphia and New York City where he now lives. In 1957 and 1958 he played at the Newport Jazz Festival.

Playing with him, Tuesday evening will be Gus Nemeth on bass and Gerry Segal on drums. Both are said to have a feeling for the blend of classical and jazz idioms which characterize Peiffer's work.

TO PLAY OWN WORK

He will play several of his own compositions Tuesday evening, including his well known 'Black Moon' and his arrangement of George Shearing's prelude, fuge and trio on "Lullaby of Birdland."

The concert will feature a flute sonatina by Mark Wessel, Orchard Lake composer and piano instructor, as well as several works by other American composers.

OPEN TO ALL

The public is invited to the free recital.

"We hope this first concert will attract many other local musicians and singers," Mrs. Kasperzak explained.

"We are scheduling future programs for hospitals and schools," she added, "and we're hopeful that our more informal group will provide an outlet for those musicians who can't find time to join our local orchestras."

Among those who will perform at the first concert are: Mrs. Kasperzak, Minuru Yamasaki, Mrs. R. F. Killeen, Mrs. R. W. Kutscher, Mrs. W. H. Hohmeyer, Mrs. W. R. Conrad, Marianne Albert, Mrs. J. S. Hansen, and Linda Talli.

The Birmingham Junior League Chorus, the "Leagaires," also will sing.

MARK WESSEL

Fat Children Eat to Ease Insecurity

DETROIT (AP)—Many children overeat as a defense against insecurity or over-protectiveness, says Dr. John Howard of Kansas City.

He spoke here recently at the American College of Osteopathic Pediatricians Convention.

Howard said less than 5 per cent of overweight children have glandular defects. He said most fat children eat too much simply because they have emotional problems.

An overly-protected child kept from normal play is likely to stay home and read, watch television and eat, he said. He added that a child who doesn't get enough parental love is apt to eat too much.

Wash Material Before Stenciling

Before you begin to do any stencil painting on fabrics, be sure to launder the material first.

Use plenty of hot soap or detergent suds and rinses to preshrink the fabric and to remove the sizing.

Has Birthday Party

Velda Lee Ellefson of Rundell street celebrated her 17th birthday with a pajama party at her home. Ten guests attended.

Sorority Holds 40th Banquet

Travel Talk Given for 3 Chapters of Beta Theta Phi

Mrs. Harry Whittaker of Metamora spoke on the subject "An American Courier in Spain" when members of Alpha, Beta, and Gamma Chapters of Beta Theta Phi Sorority held their 40th annual banquet Thursday at Old Mill Tavern.

Mrs. Whittaker has been acting as special hostess and courier for European tours for a travel service in Washington, D.C., the past four years. She arranges for groups of 10 or 12 people to meet tourists when landing on the continent and to stay with them during the entire de luxe tour.

This year she will assist the agency as courier for the International Conference of Business and Professional Women from throughout the United States, taking place in Paris this summer. Mrs. Whittaker told of her experiences on the French Riviera and in Spain the last summer, and showed pictures of Spain and the castle of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace of Monaco.

First officers and original charter members of the group—Mrs. Emil Mailahn, Mrs. Walter Kinzler and Mrs. Charles Andrews, president, treasurer and secretary respectively—were introduced.

HISTORIES GIVEN

Histories of each chapter for the past year were given by Mrs. Cecil Denison, Alpha Chapter; Mrs. A. A. Kaiser, Beta Chapter; and Mrs. Roscoe W. Lund, Gamma Chapter.

Mrs. Orben D. Wilkins was general chairman and toastmistress for the banquet. Others planning the event were Mrs. Frank Coad, program; Mrs. Harold Davidson, Mrs. Floyd Oswald, and Helen Turek, decorations; and Mrs. Leon Reene, place.

The Anchorettes, a quartette from Waterford Township High School, provided entertainment for the group. Vocalists included Laura Upchurch, Connie Barron, Judy Harnack and Beverly Wells.

Dads! It's Your Job to Raise Fine Sons

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to young fathers:

If you want that baby boy of yours to grow into a real man you had better realize right now that the responsibility for what he becomes is mainly yours—not your wife's.

For a long while now mothers have been blamed for everything wrong with the family picture—including weak, irresponsible sons.

But a new study has revealed that whether or not a soldier is a good fighter or a failure when the going gets rough depends largely on the kind of father he had, not on the kind of mother.

The good fighters, scientists making the study for the U.S. Army discovered, had fathers around until they were at least eighteen years of age. And the fathers of the good fighters, in addition to being around, had a number of things in common.

They ran the family instead of turning over the pants for Mama to wear.

They disciplined the boy instead of turning that chore over to Mama. And their discipline was consistent. Junior knew what would happen if he disobeyed or got out of line.

The fathers of the good fighters weren't side line sitters. They were churchgoing leaders in their communities.

So if you young fathers want your sons to grow up to be men instead of sissies—you had better be sure you are acting the role of he-men yourselves, not only in your own home but in your community.

And you certainly had better face the fact that Junior is more your responsibility than his mother's. It might be easier to let Mama take over and blame her for spoiling your son if he doesn't grow into the kind of man you hoped he would.

No Harm in Asking About Gift

Close Friends May Be Bridesmaids but Not Matrons

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was married about two months ago and received many lovely wedding presents. One present, which was rather expensive, was a duplicate, and the person who gave it to me suggested that I give it back to her and that she would exchange it while we were on our wedding trip. She asked me what I would like to have in its place and I told her we needed an electric iron.

"We have been home for quite some time now and have seen this friend twice but nothing has been said about the present. We need this iron very badly and I don't know whether to go out and buy one or not.

"My husband thinks I should ask her about it. I think this would be improper and might embarrass her. Will you please tell me what to do?"

Answer: It should not embarrass her to have you ask if she has been able to exchange her lovely gift for the electric iron that you really need.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have two very close friends both of whom are married. I was maid of honor at both their weddings and would like to have both of them as attendants at my wedding. I don't want to show partiality to either one. Would it be permissible to have two matrons of honor?"

Answer: No, two matrons of honor are impossible. They can both be bridesmaids even though they are married and, if you have a sister or other close relative, she can be your maid, or matron, of honor.

Younger Child Can't Always Be Protected

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

We were waiting for the department store to open—I, the woman beside me and her two little boys who might have been 5 and 7.

The 5-year-old wore a gun holster. He was a redoubtable child. During our 15-minute wait he must have poked his pistol into his older brother 20 times.

He poked him in the back, the shoulders, thigh, neck and stomach. Each time he was poked, the brother, his eyes fixed dreamily on a side window display of toys, would move out of range. He moved automatically, circling his mother again and again.

Not once did he appeal to her for aid. Not once did he try to aid himself. It was hard to watch.

I wanted to say, "Oh, for goodnes sake, bang your brother, little boy!"

I'm glad I didn't. It would have confused him badly. For just as the doors opened, he did make a painfully constricted, tentative little grab at the pistol, and his mother said sharply, "That will do, Joe. Leave your little brother alone."

It is very easy to scare older children out of their right to defend themselves against the aggressions of younger brothers and sisters.

When the younger ones are very young, they need our protection. We can't allow the unwitting toddler who grabs the older child's doll blanket or ball glove to get struck. We have to say, "I know it, but you can't hurt the baby, Joe."

But toddlers do not stay toddlers. They grow; and like other people then have to start learning that their aggressive actions produce unpleasant consequences. If we continue to demand special privileges for the younger ones, our older children gradually give up all hope of their right to defend themselves.

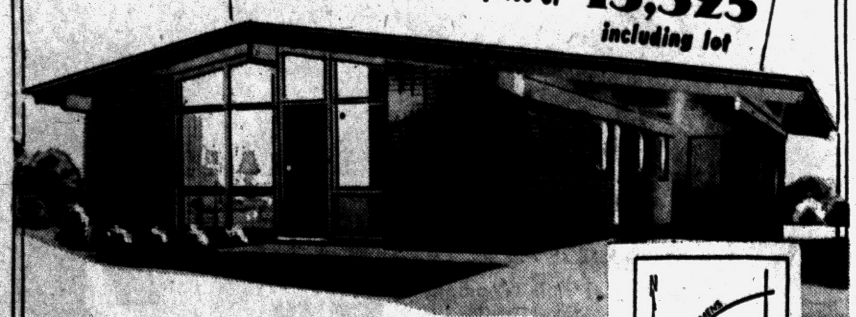

The thing is, the younger, freer ones don't give up hope. Like Joe's little brother, they go on teasing and persecuting in the hope of exploding something human and interesting from their over-disciplined big brothers and sisters.

So let's go easy on these demands for special privileges for younger children. In our anxiety to protect them against bumps and scratches, we can lose them their brothers and sisters. We can segregate our squabbling children so efficiently they may never get back together.

Can't Elude Landladies—Abby

Irresistible Widower on the Move

"DEAR ABBY: I am a wandering widower through no fault of my own. I have had to move from nine different places in the past two years because every rooming house where I go, the landlady tries to marry me.

ABBY

"I am a friendly type and am nice to everyone but the women seem to take me wrong and before I know it I have to pack up and find myself another room. I tell them from the beginning that I am not looking for a wife, but they all think they can change my mind. Have you any suggestions?"

ON THE MOVE

DEAR ON: There is something about the way you are saying "No" that makes them think you mean "maybe." Get yourself a room at the "Y" or a Men's Club and you won't be bothered by the landlady.

"DEAR ABBY: Last Friday I had a date with a boy (he is 19) and he put me on Cloud Nine with all the wonderful things he had to say to me. He said he never met anybody like me and that he fell in love with me the minute his eyes met mine. He even talked of marriage.

"On Monday I met him for lunch and he said he had 'lost interest' in me. Could he have meant all those things he said to me, Miss Abby, and then lost interest in me over the weekend? I still love him and want to know how to get him back like he was last Sunday." MIMI

DEAR MIMI: If you try to "get him back" your week-end is your head! He was handing you a line. Lose him.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband went into a business recently with a friend of his. It took practically all we had. My husband refuses to ask him for a partnership agreement on paper. He claims he can trust him. We argue about this constantly. I say maybe he can trust the man, but if something should happen to him we wouldn't have a chance of getting anything from his wife. Please tell me if I am right?" POLLY

DEAR POLLY: You are right. No matter how strong the friendship—when it comes to "business"—get it in writing.

"DEAR ABBY: Why is it I have to make my dentist and doctor appointments two months in advance and when I get to the office they keep me waiting for an hour sometimes? Nobody apologizes for keeping me waiting, either. And they act like they are doing you a favor by seeing you. Then they send you a big fat bill. There. I feel better now." NORMA

DEAR NORMA: Dentists and doctors are usually behind schedule because some poor soul has had an emergency and must be worked in. If you ever have to be "worked in," you'll understand it better.

Electrolysis Will Work

No Easy Way to Remove Leg Hair

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "My trouble is superfluous hair. I did shave my legs but I got tired of doing that about two times a week. I then used a hair removing liquid that was supposed to be long lasting. It lasted for about three days and then I had to resort to the razor again. Can you tell me what to do to have hair-free legs? I want something easy to use, inexpensive, and effective for a long time."

A. There isn't any such animal! Electrolysis is the only permanent method of removal. You either can shave your legs or use a depilatory on them. The increased attractiveness of your legs will be well worth the trouble!

Q. "I often have heard that a perfectionist makes life difficult for himself, but I think it is even worse for those with whom the perfectionist lives. What do you think?"

A. It is difficult to know the answer to your question since I have never had to live with a perfectionist, thank heavens, and am about as far from being one myself as anybody you can imagine. I think that either way it would be pretty grim. You probably are thinking of a housewife who strives for perfection in her home to such an extent that she is exhausted most of the time and nobody can be comfortable or relax when in her house.

This same woman usually is loathe to entertain unless every detail is perfect. As a result she does not have her friends in often and when she does she is so tensed up that nobody has much fun.

Q. "Can you give me a recipe for making freckles fade? Here it is winter and I still have some I got last summer. I was out in the sun much oftener than usual and for much longer periods of time. This just spoils my skin which always has been good."

A. There are freckle creams on the market and cucumber and lemon juice are recommended. These are probably some help, but so far as I know the real remedy is time. When a woman does not usually have freckles, they will fade out, given time, unless you spend a lot more time in the summer sun.

Many brown spots and freckles occur which would not otherwise appear because of exposure to the summer sun. This seems to be especially true from middle age on.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 6½ inches tall. I weigh 135 pounds. My bust measures 36 inches, waist 27 and hips 37. I have a medium frame. Am I overweight?"

A. You are a little overweight but not much. Your measurements are about perfect. Leave off some of the in-between meal snacks and do not take seconds until you have lost about five pounds, no more.

WALLED LAKE MASQUERADERS — Getting ready for the "Mardi Gras Masquerade," a dance to be held Feb. 21 by Walled Lake High School varsity and reserve cheerleaders, is this foursome. The dance is a "girl-ask-boy" event. This an extra special reason to get those costumes made. From left are Karen Tuttle of 8387 Golf Lane, Commerce Township, a senior who will be Popeye, and Sally Collins of 7294 Colony Dr., a senior, still at the machine making a creation. Dot Cavin of 720 Fansworth St., and Chris Fish of 1243 Clearwater St., Commerce Township, both seniors, are going to the dance as two backward sailors.

Words, Music Both Original

Mrs. Mildred Wiersma Is Composer of Official School Song

By COLLEEN ADAMS

Pontiac Northern High School students have been humming or singing a particular song this week for they now have an official fight song.

It was written by Mrs. Mildred Wiersema, an English teacher here. She not only composed the words, but also wrote the music.

Many schools have written words to the tune of a famous college melody but at Northern, the song is exclusively ours.

Here are the catchy and meaningful words:

Let's sing of Northern, Our valiant Northern;
For her the North Star points the way;
Let's pledge to Northern, our stalwart Northern,
The best of all we do or say;
Let's cheer for Northern, our mighty Northern,
For her we'll work with all our might;
Let's fight, fight, fight, fight, fight, for Northern Huskies;
Fight for Northern's Red and White! (spoken—Let's fight!)

Next week, class rings are to arrive at PNH. Three types of rings are being purchased—mother of pearl, ruby, and smoked.

The second payment for the Senior boat trip was made this week by 55 students.

20 SIGN UP

Twenty students signed up for the Student Union during the second semester. They include; Ron Burtch, Douglas Lake, Donna Wassemuler, Lois Reynolds, Rhoda Jerry Colling, Sharon Bratt, Gayle Lightcap.

Others are Mike Kuralkoowski, Jerry Cling, Sharon Bratt, Gayle Sumner, Joel Brown, Jo Anna Ross, Joan Lemon, Shirley Kenepp, Dan Kimmel, Rose Towonen, Sandra Rose, Bonnie Plumner, and Richard Axford.

Staff officers of the Student Union are: Bill Kath, business manager; Judy Thiese, assistant business manager; Carreen McClement, typist and Priscilla Jones, cashier.

WRITES SCHOOL SONG — Pontiac Northern High School has a fight song with original words and music written by Mrs. Theodore Wiersema, PNH English teacher, seated. Students Bob Cohoe of 637 Raskob St., a junior, and Kay Tuichel of 162 W. Ann Arbor St., a senior, look like they are concentrating real hard to memorize the song.

Northern to 'Get-Acquainted'

Prepare for Masquerade Dance at Walled Lake High

By SALLY COLLINS

Students at Walled Lake High School are busy this week, especially the girls, preparing their costumes for their "Mardi Gras Masquerade."

The dance, open to all students of the school belonging to the Inter-Lakes League, is a "girl-ask-boy" affair.

It will be held Feb. 21 beginning at 8 p.m. in the high school's gynasium and prizes will be given to the best costumed couple.

Schools in the league include Berkley, Southfield, Walled Lake, Farmington, Waterford Township and Van Dyke high schools.

The dance is planned as a get-acquainted event for Pontiac Northern High School.

Committee chairmen of the event are Sandra Capel, refreshments; Rosemary Kreza, records; Linda Chabot, sponsors; Louann Pirtle, publicity; Karen Tuttle, decorations, and Carol Sommer, tickets.

ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

A new organization, the Political Science Club, has been formed at WLHS. Jim Havel is temporary chairman.

A four-man committee consisting of Karen Eastty, Judy Hamilton, Havel and Renee Thibodeau are writing the group's constitution.

The club's purpose is to promote interest in international governments through field trips, discussion of current events and by helping in school elections.

Sharon Saxton has been nominated for secretary of the Detroit Tri-County League for Nursing by the Future Nurses Club at St. Michael's.

Sharon and Jane Rindfusz, president of the local club, will attend the tri-county meeting of the group in Detroit Feb. 21.

Tickets can be obtained at the door.

3 Area Schools Compete in Music Fest Tomorrow

Students from three area high schools will be among the 27 southeastern Michigan high schools participating in a music festival tomorrow at Wayne State University.

Representing Pontiac Northern, Pontiac Central and Waterford Township high schools, they will compete in singing and piano, as soloists and in ensembles.

Richard Meyer, choral music director at WTHS, is festival chairman.

The program, conducted by the University's music staff, will be held from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the music building of the University.

Awards will be presented to the best performers in various classes by the sponsor, District 4 of the Michigan School Vocal Association.

Honor Two Central Scholars

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

Two Pontiac Central High School seniors, Richard Parr of 2959 St. Joseph St. and Patricia Watson of 39 Franklin Blvd. are the victorious runner-ups in the National Merit Scholarship Corporation's qualifying examination.

The contest was held last spring for more than 487,000. The two PCH students received letters of commendation from Principal Francis W. Staley for placing in the upper two per cent of the contestants.

The PCH Band also was honored this week. Several members of the band attended the annual district solo and ensemble contest in Detroit Saturday.

First division ratings went to Ann Barnett, Dick DeBolt, Carol Petroff, Georgianna Kieffer, clarinet quarter; Sheila Kinder, Ann Barnett, James Williams, Deanna Begovich, Gary Dalley, woodwind quintet; Mary Coleman, Nancy MacAfee, Sheila Kinder, flute trio; Mary Coleman, Nancy MacAfee, flute duet; and Charles Parmenter, cornet solo.

These students are now eligible to compete in the state competition.

TOP BOWLERS

Members of the Bowling Club, under the sponsorship of Michael Andonian, recently received trophies for their play last season, at a luncheon held at West Side Recreation.

Championship trophies were awarded to Art Silverthorne, Joe Parks, Char Johnson, and Karen Antolich. The winner of a trophy for the highest game bowled by a boy was Frank Lovse. Betty Legare bowled 185 in winning her trophy for the highest game bowled by a girl this season.

Winning trophies for having the highest averages were Diana Rigotti and Eugene Hubbuck, bowling 136 and 171.

Tomorrow, PCH will be among the many schools represented in the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival of the Michigan School Vocal Association held at Wayne State University. By participating in this festival, students gain experience and broaden their knowledge of music by seeing and listening to others perform and also by the evaluation of their own number.

Soloists and ensembles are judged on tone, intonation, interpretation, diction, selection, and appearance.

Ensembles performing will be the Senior Girls Ensemble, Junior Girls Ensemble and the "Song Spinners." Soloists participating will be Wilma Moore, Mary Schroeder, Susan Dunlap, Phyllis Suhr, Sally Vogel, Sally Warren, Barbara Holder, Janet Walkerdine, Char Osmun, Judy Canterella, John Watson, Dennis Zimmerman and Judy King.

Others will be Linda Olds, Gloria Lacey, Charlene Groves, Elizabeth Ballard, Marlene Beale, Carol Chamberlain, Karen Oxley, Marilyn Vernon, Diann Meyers, Kay Jerome and Sharon Pike.

Twenty-five members of Michael Dempsey's second hour Mixed Chorus enjoyed a trip to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra concert this week at the new Edsel Ford Auditorium.

Ima C. Hook's four Latin classes are busily selling candy this week to finance their annual trip to Miss Hook's cottage in Canada early in May. Plans are now being made for the Easter edition of the Epistolae Scholae, the Pontiac Central Latin students' paper, now in its 35th year of publication.

Another of the Latin students projects is collecting money for the remodeling of the Moses Wisner home. Each day students put pennies, nickels, and dimes into a jar labeled "Minerva's Money for Moses." Already the combined classes have donated $20 to the home.

Ron Hoekman, Biology Club president, spoke to the club at their meeting last night on the topic "Differentation of Cells." The club discussed projects for their annual Science Fair to be held March 13 and 14, and their forthcoming visit to the Parke-Davis Company.

Sherry Fink, editor of the Epidermis, the club paper, chose Donna Helmcamp, Lois Arndt, Jeanne Glisky, Barb Griffin, Mary Shadley and Barb Shadley as new reporters.

Alpha Cribros Hi-Y will sponsor a Valentine Dance, "Cupid's Capers," tomorrow night in the YMCA gym.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

SAUNDERS

FIVE ACES: Riding high in first place among local best sellers this week is "Stagger Lee" (Lloyd Price), according to record dealers. Not far behind in second spot is "Hawaiian Wedding Song" (Andy Williams).

"Goodbye Baby" (Jack Scott) moves up a notch from fourth last week to third. Happily defying the law of averages, "Petite Fleur" (Chris Barber's Jazz Band) bounces its way into fourth place.

Fifth of our five aces is "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" (The Platters), rapidly falling out of sight.

New discs looking like big hits include "Venus" (Frankie Avalon), "She Say" (The Diamonds), "Tall Paul" (Annette), "Don't Take Your Guns to Town" (Johnny Cash), and "Charlie Brown" (The Coasters).

Record buyers who like their music from WAY down south should find a bumper crop of new albums to their liking at area shops.

By far the best among latest releases is "A Night at the Tropicoro" (Cook 1187sd) by Lito Pena's Orquesta Panamericana. The Cook people, famed for their authentic material and fabulous recording techniques, have outdone themselves.

This LP is one of Cook's first examples of a new process they call "Vector-Stereo." No matter what the name, it's great. And you can't get any more authentic. The entire LP was cut at the Tropicoro Club in the new $7½ millionHo Club in the new $7½ million Hotel San Juan Intercontinental, in San Juan, Puerto Rico. It's also available on monaural.

Others of milder interest are "Brazilian Cocktails" (T-10122) by Leo Perrachi and his Orchestra and "Mexico: Its Soundds and People" (T-10185) both on Capitol, and a Columbia release, "Malaguena" (CL-1267), music of Cuba (in a more peaceful era) by Percy Faith.

THE JAZZ NEST: Recent Columbia releases are marked by one miserable failure and two worthwhile efforts. The flop is "Legrand Jazz" (CL-1250) by Michel Legrand and his Orchestra.

Columbia is the first to point out that the album "must be considered experimental." Outside of being faintly interesting, and the fact that trumpeter Miles Davis gets off several good licks, the LP is a distortion of jazz and possibly "too" polished.

In broad contrast is Kai Winding's "The Swingin' States" (CL-1264). Winding and his brass ensemble swing out with some nice stuff here. Aside from the usual songs of statehood, a new title "At Last Alaska," makes the whole session a gas.

Far and away the finest show album this year is the "Flower Drum Song" (Columbia OL-5340) by the original Broadway cast. It's selling like rock 'n' roll records everywhere. Just starting to show on sales charts is "A Hundred Million Miracles" (CL-1280), a batch of 12 selections from the same show served up by Andre Kostelanetz on one LP.

At Holly's First Assembly

Compares German, American Schools

By JUDITH WOOD

Holly Area High School's first of six assemblies this semester featured a talk by Christianna Zinnert, an exchange student at the school from Germany, yesterday.

Christianna explained that Germany does not provide co-educational schools, but she thought boys and girls were taught how to get along with and talk to each other much better through the American system.

She also pointed out that German students do not date as much as American teenagers, nor do they place as much emphasis on clothes.

Other assemblies scheduled for the semester include: Holly Area High School A Cappella Choir Contalent show, March 10; Fenton High School A'Capella Choir Concert, March 24; discussion of Russia by Mrs. Aron Kirkorian, a native of the Ukraine, April 7; a talk on court procedure by Donald Bremmer, Holly attorney, April 17.

The junior class is in the midst of plans for the annual Junior-Senior Prom slated for May 16.

PLANNING PROM

"Sayonara" is the theme of the dance and will include oriental decorations, according to Linda Coale, decoration committee chairman.

Chairman of the banquet preceding the prom is Marilyn Young. Pat Boncher is in charge of the orchestra committee.

A committee headed by Sharon Gavette is taking a student poll to determine whether students are in favor of selecting a king and queen to reign over the dance.

A Detroit to Mackinaw Island cruise has been selected by the seniors as their class trip this spring. The group is trying to make arrangements to be on the same boat as seniors from Milford and Walled Lake high schools.

Committees and chairmen for the Senior Variety Show March 5 and 6 are Judy Myers, makeup; Ray Graves, scenery; Bill Hayes, costumes; John Perry, prompters, and Mary Jean Schoenhales, programs.

Others are Doratha Suber, ushers, and Carl Watson, lighting.

It was during the Mexican War from 1846 to 1848 that an unknown U.S. Marine wrote the lines, "From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli."

Rhee Government Threatens to Resist Move

Japan OKs Repatriation to North Korea

TOKYO (AP)—Japan agreed today to let poverty-stricken Koreans here go to Communist North Korea in defiance of a South Korean government warning that it would resist the transfer "with every power at its disposal."

The deepening crisis threatened to create new divisions between two of the firmest friends the United States has in the Far East. Both governments held hurried consultations with American representatives in Tokyo and Seoul.

There seemed little or no likelihood that the quarrel, so far confined to verbal blasts and implied threats from South Korea, would blow up into a shooting conflict. But there was a danger of a break in economic relations and in diplomatic negotiations going on between the two countries.

The United States, whose voice is the dominant one in the U.N. armed forces in Korea, would be sure to stop South Korea from using either its navy or air force in this dispute. They are under U.N. operational command. South Korea has only a small coast guard.

The Japanese government was moving cautiously in an obvious effort to placate—or at least not further arouse — President Syngman Rhee's government.

Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi and his Cabinet after a long meeting approved Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama's recommendation for the repatriation but in effect tossed the whole scheme into the laps of the International Red Cross.

Kishi told Parliament the critical issue would be approached "on the basis of the basic human right to freedom of residence."

Presumably North Korea will charter ships to transport those cleared for repatriation. It is understood Japan will not furnish ships, and all Japanese companies whose ships operate between Japan and South Korea have canceled sailings because of the crisis.

Rhee's government has charged that the 600,000 or more Koreans living in Japan — most of them poverty stricken and 95 per cent of them originally from South Korea—are being cajoled, threatened and bribed by North Korean sympathizers to go to the North. The South Koreans charge they will be sent into Red slavery.

At the end of World War II there were about two million Koreans in Japan. About half had been brought here as laborers by the Japanese.

In a mass repatriation directed by the occupation forces, about 1,300,000 went home. The overwhelming majority went to South Korea.

The number involved in the present repatriation scheme has not been firmly established. Estimates range from 43,000 to 117,000. After a Red Cross screening, the figure may drop sharply. Most of those who have indicated a willingness to go to the Communist North said they were attracted by promise of work.

The United States said it was maintaining a hands-off attitude in the dispute unless both sides ask her to act as a mediator and the chances of success were good.

Says U.S. Leaders Should Scare Us

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) says the American people cannot respond to the Russian economic challenge "if we continue to sweep unpleasant facts under the rug of a complacent optimism."

Humphrey told the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan last night that this nation needs leaders "who can impress us with the deeper meaning and urgency" of the Russian threat.

Americans, he said, cannot respond "if we are content with smooth words and soothing syrup from a man whose main task should be to jolt us from our lethargy."

Suburban Bus Firm Seeks Fare Increase

DETROIT (AP)—Great Lakes TransitCo., whose buses serve the Detroit suburban area, said yesterday it planned to ask the State Public Service Commission for a fare increase.

Glen Crawford, general superintendent, said the request would be made in a few days. He blamed "decreased revenue and increased costs" for the proposed five-cent fare increase.

Pan Am Airline Strike Ends After Six Hours

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three thousand Pan American World Airways ground workers struck for six hours Thursday. There was little or no delay in flights.

Porters, mechanics and flight attendants went back to work after a conference between the Transport Workers Union, their bargaining agent, and Pan Am.

Audrey Hepburn Returns to Work Early in March

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Audrey Hepburn is recovering from her fall from a horse last month and will return to work early in March, a spokesman says.

The actress suffered two fractured vertebrae on location for "The Unforgiven" being filmed at Durango, Mexico, Jan. 28.

Clever Pigeon Picks Up $7,000 Diamond Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Blonde Brazilian singer Rosina Pagan said she placed her 6½-carat diamond ring, valued at more than $7,000 on the window sill of her Manhattan apartment Thursday while she polished her fingernails.

Along came a pigeon, she said, and whisked the ring away.

She said the ring was a gift from a Texas oil man.

"I'm going to sue the city. I'm going to sue somebody," she said, adding that pigeons never do things like that in Brazil.

U. of M. Tightens Belt on Purchasing

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan said it has discontinued purchase of several basic inventory items and is critically reviewing all purchases of equipment and the filling of staff vacancies in an effort to meet its reduced budget.

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, university president, said 209 staff positions have been eliminated, extension courses cut and the U. of M. radio station at Flint closed since the Legislature cut the school's appropriation one million dollars last summer.

He said student enrollment has been held near the 1957-58 level, salary budgets reduced an average of three per cent and non-salary budgets cut 10 per cent.

U. of M. is living off supplies at hand, Hatcher said, having discontinued purchase of coal, chemical supplies and other inventory items.

Tourist Assn. Urges Action

West Michigan Group Asks Members to Back Legislative Program

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. urges members toward immediate action in gaining legislative support for a four-point program to aid the tourist industry.

Letters from the WMTRA to members said:

"If you are in accord with this program, you should let your representative, your Senator, the Governor and others in authority know that you expect them to support it."

The program, as indorsed by Michigan's four regional tourist organizations, recommends:

1. Rescinding legislative action of last year which denies the highway department authority to publish an official highway map for the state.

2. Support of a program to improve state parks and expand the state park system, including acquisition of land for future development.

3. Restored appropriation to the Michigan Historical Commission of at least $25,000 for marking historical sites.

4. Support for a Michigan tourist council appropriation of $535,000, adequate to provide for increased advertising of Michigan's vacation advantages.

Steve Allen in Hollywood to Make 'The Big Circus'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Look who's back in the movies—our old TV friend Steve "Steverino" Allen who, five minutes before I wrote this, signed for an acting role in "The Big Circus." Producer Irwin Allen tells me that Steverino plays a TV star who saves the circus for Vic Mature by putting it on his show.

That luncheon Don Murray and Hope Lange had with George Glass and Marlon Brando Sr., at the Paramount commissary was to discuss Romaine Holland's classic, "Jean-Christophe." Don owns the rights.

Now that 20th has made no plans to film the classic, George Glass says because of Don's fine performance for Pennybaker in "Shake Hands With the Devil," the Brando company is very interested in making the picture. If the deal goes through Hope as well as Don will be in it.

A distinguished beauty is making her screen debut in the new "Thin Man" chapter, and I mean Audrey Clark, daughter-in-law of famed World War II Gen. Mark Clark. I met Audrey at a party not long ago and I agree with MGM that she's a beauty with a future.

Inger Stevens telephoned me from New York to say she is feeling much better and eager to get back to Hollywood. She says her only trouble is her leg and foot but they are responding to treatment.

"I'd love to play Holly Golightly in 'Breakfast at Tiffany's'," she said. "I've read the story and I'd love to do it." She said she's worked with John Frankenheim and would love to have him direct her—he's the director of "breakfast."

Isn't Diane Varsi over-doing the eccentric bit? The young actress who clicked so big in "Peyton Place" and who is a shining contender for stardom at 20th, showed up at the studio the other day in bluejeans and barefooted for a conference about her TV series, a "whodunit" being produced by Dominick Dunne.

I don't always agree with James Roosevelt, in fact, I've found myself on the opposite side of the fence many times. But I do wholeheartedly agree with him that Marlon Brando would be the worst possible casting for F.D.R. in "Sunrise at Campobello."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Despite many rumors, there is no romantic interest between famed Attorney Arnold Grant and Actress Audrey Meadows.

Maurice Chevalier definitely turned down "Lolita" with a typical Chevalier crack: "I am a Frenchman who admires woman. Not an old man who chases little girls."

Is Linda Christian in hiding? She's said to be registered at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas under her real name of Bianca Welter. For a girl who adores publicity this is an enigma.

Red Wings Snap 5-Game Losing Streak

Detroit Blanks New York, 1-0, on Olympia Ice

McIntyre Scores Lone Goal as Wings Crawl Out of NHL Cellar

DETROIT (AP) — They said it couldn't be done—but the Detroit Red Wings did it.

They broke their five-game losing streak last night by shutting out the New York Rangers 1-0 before a crowd of 9,839, some of whom must have attended out of sheer curiosity to see how bad the Red Wings really are.

But the Wings looked something like a hockey club especially when they broke a goal drought that had gone 87 minutes and 33 seconds.

Jack McIntyre scored the only goal. It came at 8:03 of the final period after the two clubs had gone more than 48 minutes with no scoring, no fist fights and only a minor threat or two toward scoring.

For what it is worth, the Wings now are in fifth place, one point ahead of the Toronto Maple Leafs whom they will play Sunday night at Olympia Stadium. But Detroit still is six points behind fourth-place New York, and the Wings have only 17 games left in the regular season.

There must be greater improvements if the club expects to make the Stanley Cup playoffs. The Red Wings have scored fewer goals than any other team in the National Hockey League—124 to 152 for their opponents—and for a time last night it appeared the string might go on indefinitely.

Detroit had not scored since the early seconds of the third period last Sunday against Montreal. The Wings missed a multitude of chances against rookie Ranger goalie Bruce Gamble, subbing for the injured Gump Worsley.

In the only other game, the Boston Bruins won their fourth in a row by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 5-4 on Bronco Horvath's goal with three minutes left. The Bruins are now only one point behind runner-up Chicago.

Bunning in Fold; Cleveland Offers Jim Brown Contract

3 Tiger Pitchers Unsigned

DETROIT (AP)—No-hit Jim Bunning has signed his 1959 contract with the Detroit Tigers, leaving only three pitchers outside the fold.

Bunning agreed to terms yesterday with acting general manager Rick Ferrell. A 20-game winner in 1957, the right hander slumped to 14 victories against 12 defeats last season.

But one of his victories was a no-hit game July 20 against the Boston Red Sox.

Rookie George Alusik, Sally League batting champion last year, also agreed to terms yesterday. The young outfielder hit .325 at Augusta and was brought up to the Tigers at the tailend of the season.

The Tigers now have 28 of their 40 players under contract.

Several of baseball's other salary battles have now moved up into the stratospheric stage.

That's the stage in which each party suggests, as tactfully as possible, to the other that he go fly a kite.

Jackie Jensen and the Red Sox fit into that general category today. So do Warren Spahn and the Braves, and Roy Sievers and the Senators among others.

Jensen, Spahn and Sievers each have said "no" to two offers already and all three of them don't give the slightest inclination of yielding even though their respective teams begin spring training within the next two weeks.

"I won't budge," says Jensen, who was the most valuable player in the American League last season and is said to be asking $40,000.

The Red Sox feel Jensen is being stubborn.

"He has set a figure and he's being stubborn about it," says general manager Bucky Harris. "Jackie's a fine boy and I like him, but he'll find others can fight, too."

San Francisco announced it had reached agreement with shortstop Daryl Spencer, who was the 32nd player to come to terms with the Giants. Spencer, who batted .256 last season, is ticketed for a trial at second base this spring.

The Red Sox corralled pitchers Frank Baumann, Tom Borland, Mike Forneiles and Dean Stone along with infielder Frank Malzone.

In Cleveland, Frank Lane offered Jim Brown, the Cleveland Browns' all-pro fullback, a spring trial with the Indians.

"We're not in this for publicity as the Cincinnati Reds were in the case of Terry Brennan," Lane said. "We're interested in Jim Brown the baseball player, not the football player."

Brown, according to Lane, was a fine outfield prospect before concentrating on football.

Ginsberg Signs With Baltimore

Catcher Myron "Joe" Ginsberg today signed his contract with the Baltimore Orioles, according to general manager Lee McPhail.

Ginsberg, who works in a Pontiac clothing store during the off-season and lives in Royal Oak, is the 23rd member of the 39-man Oriole squad to sign.

ONE GOAL — VICTORY — Jack McIntyre (16) falls to the ice after scoring the lone goal which won for the Detroit Red Wings last night over the New York Rangers, 1-0. Player moving out of picture on the left is Andy Habenton who tried to check McIntyre, while John Hanna (6) and Gordie Howe watch the disc go into the net.

Bay City Five Here Tonight

Chiefs Clash With Wolves on PCH Floor

Pontiac Central Hopes to Deadlock Northern for Valley Lead

A first place deadlock and a championship showdown — those will be the objectives of the Pontiac Central basketball team here tonight.

Bay City Central—lowly but dangerous, bloody but unbowed—goes against the Chiefs of Art Van Ryzin this evening in the PCH gym in an important Saginaw Valley Conference game. Tipoff time is 8 o'clock.

At stake for the Chiefs will be a tie for Valley leadership with Flint Northern and a collision of title proportions with the Vikings next Friday night at Flint.

Very little has gone well for young Bill Ullenbruch and his Bay City quintet this season. Apparently blessed with a wealth of veteran material, Ullenbruch has seen his cagers stagger through a losing campaign.

Expected to be contenders for the Saginaw Valley crown in preseason analysis, the Wolves currently share the league basement with Arthur Hill on a 1-6 record. Altogether, they have won only three of nine games.

Despite their unimpressive won-lost mark, the Wolves are distinct threats to Pontiac's title ambitions and the Chiefs must not take them too lightly. The Wolves are tall and strong on the backboards and aggressive at all times.

The Chiefs are gunning for their 7th SVC victory of the season against a lone setback at Flint Central, a 53-52 overtime loss a week ago tonight.

PCH rebounded impressively here Tuesday evening with a 53-46 conquest of rugged Highland Park. Pontiac's overall record is 10-1.

Northern presently holds 1st place by half a game with a 7-1 mark. The Flint Vikings are idle tonight, thus leaving the door open for the Chiefs to win and create a tie for the lead.

Arthur Hill and Saginaw High resume their city feud tonight on the Hillite court to round out the Valley slate. Flint Central goes to Midland for a non-conference contest.

Golden Gloves Finals Tonight and Tomorrow

Area Fighters in Tournament

GRAND RAPIDS — The cream of the crop of 780 fighters who appeared in regional tournaments during the past few weeks will begin action in the state championships of the Golden Gloves tonight in Grand Rapids.

More than 100 finalists will appear in 86 bouts today and tomorrow with a team title to be decided on total points scored by boxers representing Lansing, Grand Rapids, Pontiac, Bay City, Flint, Battle Creek Muskegon and Jackson.

Individual titles will be decided in 16 divisions of the open and novice classes. The eight open champions of the tourney ending Saturday night will form a Michigan team which enters the National Golden Gloves tourney in Chicago March 2-3-4.

A 14-squad team came out of the Pontiac regionals and left this morning for Grand Rapids. There were six from Pontiac and eight from Port Huron on the team being sponsored by the Pontiac area Jaycees.

The Muskegon contingent is being hailed as one of the strongest team entries. Weighing in started at noon today and the draws for tonight's matches are scheduled to take place later this afternoon.

Flint and Bay City have sent full 16-man squads to the tournament, Benton Harbor has a 10-man squad, Jackson 11-man squad and Grand Rapids 14.

The Lansing squad won the team title last year which carries with it the Stephen Griffin trophy. The trophy, emblematic of the state championship, was set up by Griffin, a Pontiac businessman, 20 years ago.

A crowd of 4,000 is expected for tonight's matches and more than 5,000 for tomorrow night's finals in the Civic Auditorium.

Pontiac's "green" contingent is not expected to fare strongly in the tournament. Best chance for an individual victory lies with middleweight Dave Blower in the open class.

Others in the open division who have made the trip are Gino Hernandez (Port Huron), Larry Kidd (Port Huron), Wesley Kidd (Port Huron), Mel Beach (Port Huron) and Joe Anderson (Pontiac).

Novice entries include Alex Trevino (Pontiac), Frank Brown (Pontiac), Eric Price (Port Huron Larry Saiz (Pontiac) Gary Armstrong (Pontiac), Carlton McMillian (Port Huron) and Bill Fischer (Port Huron).

Mangrum Wants Less Amateurs in Tournaments

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's time professional golfers stopped letting amateurs play in their tournaments, Lloyd Mangrum said in an interview today.

The 44-year-old Apple Valley, Calif., veteran said he plans to drop off the current pro golf tour after the Tucson Open because the courses are too cluttered with players for his liking.

"It's ridiculous to have amateurs—and I mean local amateurs as well as those on tour—competing in the tournaments," he said. "They are supposed to be professional tournaments. Why clutter them up with amateurs?"

He said the first day of a tournament the course is fine but after that "they are all chopped up."

Rex's Quintet Loses No. 10 in 'B' Loop

It's been a long season for Rex's Standard in the Class B City Basketball League. Rex's cagers are still looking for their first win and last night they took it on the chin for the 10th time this year.

Glenn's Motor quintet administered the latest defeat, a 58-43 beating at Pontiac Central. Three players hit double figures for the winners with Tom Hollis tops on 15 points.

Griff's Grill strengthened its hold on 2nd place with a 72-59 victory over Field's Landscape in yesterday's other Class B game. Al Hart tallied 20 points to lead the Grill and Roger Nosek made 19 for the losers.

Pistons Make Yardley Trade

High Scoring Cager Goes to Syracuse for Ed Conlin

DETROIT (AP)—George Yardley, highest scoring player in National Basketball Assn. history, was traded by the Detroit Pistons today to the Syracuse Nationals for Ed Conlin.

The balding Yardley set the NBA season scoring record last year with 2,001 points. He is in his sixth season in the pro ranks after starring at Stanford.

He has been hampered by injuries much of this season and the Pistons' fortunes have sagged without him. Recently he suffered a fracture of the middle finger of his left hand and was idled with a heavy cast.

The trade was completed only after a doctor's examination today when it was decided Yardley's heavy cast could be replaced with a lightweight one that will allow him to play.

Tommy Shannon Third

Gibson 'Old Pro' Champ

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

DUNEDIN, Fla., — Duke Gibson of Kansas City, Mo., broke out in a rash of birdies yesterday to win the PGA Quarter Century Golf Tournament with a 36-hole total of 139.

The tourney is limited to players who have been members of the PGA for 25 years or more.

Tom Shannon of Orchard Lake led three area golfers in the tournament by turning in the best second round, a 69, which put him in third place with a 144.

Billy Graham of Bloomfield Hills Country Club was bracketed at 146 along with Gunnard Johnson of Minneapolis and Frank Commisso of Rochester, N. Y.

Gibson birdied the 15th, 17th, 18th holes and wound up with a three under-par 69 to go with his 70. He took $300 top money.

Clarence Doser of Vero Beach, Fla., yesterday's leader with a 68 had putting troubles and finished with a 73 for a 141 total and second place money of $200.

Shannon took $150 for his third place position. Behind Shannon were Henry Bontemp of Springfield Mass., and Tom Mahon of Beverly, Mass., with 145's.

Al Watrous, defending champion from Oakland Hills, added a 76 to his 72 to finish far down the list and out of the money.

Daugherty to Return as Coach for East

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty of Michigan State will be head coach for the East in the Shrine East-West football game again next year and Bill Meek of Southern Methodist will coach the West, it was announced last night.

Coffman said the game earned a record $253,656.97 for the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children.

Pancho Feuds With Fans

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Pro tennis king Pancho Gonzales three times threatened spectators while losing a match in the Adelaide Tournament Thursday night to Tony Trabert.

Trabert, from Cincinnati, beat Gonzales 6-3, 1-6, 11-9 while the champion was carrying on a running war with boisterous fans.

One spectator particularly kept yelling at Gonzales. In the first set Pancho walked over to promoter Jack Kramer and said, "If he doesn't shut up I'll do something drastic."

Kramer approached a policeman who went to the stand where the fan was sitting.

During the second set Gonzales stopped play and called to another fan: "Come on to the court and we'll have it out."

At intermission the big pro king walked to the rear of the stands and spoke to still another spectator. But police stood guard and there was no incident.

In other matches Mervyn Rose defeated Rex Hartwig 6-3, 6-3, and Lew Hoad downed Mervyn Rose, 6-8, 14-12, 6-4.

IF YOU WERE THE UMPIRE

By BEN OLAN

It's tough enough to lose any ball game. But among the toughest are those that do not go the regulation nine innings. Victories in abbreviated games, of course, are most welcome.

Here is a simulated case in which a game is called because of the weather. Give yourself an "E" for expert if you decide correctly.

The Boston Red Sox lead the Kansas City A's 2-0 in the last of the fifth inning at Kansas City. It is raining quite hard as Roger Maris opens the inning with a single. Bob Cerv follows with a home run, tying the score 2-2. At this point, however, the game is held up because of the downpour. After an hour's wait, the game is called.

Do you think that:

a. It is a tie game?

b. Boston should win 2-0?

c. It is not a regulation game?

Answer: A—It is a tie game. If the home team scores in its incomplete fifth inning, as many or more runs than the visiting team has as its total than the runs scored in the last of the fifth count. It is a regulation game.

It is indeed gratifying to note that the voters of the Holly school district approved a proposed tax boost of six mills for the 1959-60 school year. Their willingness to support the increase no doubt saved Holly High's athletic program.

We don't wish to burden any taxpayers with additional and unnecessary taxes. Everyone pays enough already. But in this case the majority of voters who support the Holly Area Schools have shown their wisdom by approving the measure.

Athletics at Holly High School—and all other extra-curricular activities as well—were in danger of going out the window during the 1959-60 school year if the issue before the voters failed to pass. The financial situation in Holly's school system had become desperate.

Last week the taxpayers were asked to approve a six-mill boost for one year only in order to meet the dollar crisis head-on. Of the additional six mills, 5½ would be used to finance the current program while the remaining half mill would go toward the deficit.

Ray Barber, Holly's principal since 1947, declares that the Holly Area Schools were $70,000 behind operating costs at the end of the 1957-58 year and would be an extra $30,000 in the red next June for a total deficit of 100 grand.

"We had no intention of making the athletic program a whipping boy," Barber stated. "All school functions of an extra-curricular or recreational nature entailing needless expense and not vitally important to education would have been equally affected," he said.

"If the voters reject the six-mill proposal, we will be forced to follow the cut-down program officially adopted by the Board of Education," Barber said prior to the Feb. 5 date at the polls. "If the voters approve, the board will seriously reconsider its stand," he added.

The board's plan would have changed Holly from a 6-3-3 system to an 8-4. Half of the junior high building would have been closed, the 7th and 8th grade students would have returned to the elementary level and 9th graders would have joined the three upper classes.

Sports would no longer be financed by the school and band along with all other forms of extra-curricular activity, would also get the axe.

All of this seems like mighty severe action, particularly in view of the new $1 million building which was opened last September, but the Holly schools were being forced to operate beyond their income and drastic moves appeared necessary.

Strictly from the standpoint of fundamental education, athletics are not a necessity. They are not a part of the basic three R's. But they — and many other functions — do have a definite place. They are important.

Voters in the Holly school district deserve a pat on the back. They have acted wisely concerning the educational welfare of their young people.

Tournament Fever Nears

The regular season still has a couple of weeks to go, but already the annual plague known as "tournament fever" is starting to hit Oakland County high school basketball players and fans alike.

Beginning March 3 and ending March 21 in MSU's Jenison Fieldhouse at East Lansing, schoolboy cagers throughout Michigan will conduct the mad dash for coveted state titles in classes A, B, C and D.

The tournament will run in the usual manner. District playoffs will get the ball rolling, then the regionals, quarter-finals, semi-finals and finals will follow, in that order.

Class A schools wade into district play for the 2nd straight year after waiting until the regionals in previous years. The steady addition of new "A" schools made district action in that class a necessity last year.

Eight locations have been designated as Class A district tourney sites — Southfield, Birmingham, East Detroit, Midland, Trenton, Ypsilanti, Kalamazoo, and Grand Rapids.

Four teams will be declared winners in each "A" district and they enter regional activity the following week with only one team surviving at each regional center. This is the same Class A formula as a year ago.

Oakland County's greatest Class A representation is concentrated at Southfield and Birmingham.

Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Farmington, Waterford, Walled Lake, Southfield and Rochester, a newcomer to the "A" ranks are among the 11 schools in the Southfield district.

Birmingham, Berkley, Ferndale, Oak Park, Royal Oak Dondero, Royal Oak Kimball and Hazel Park are part of the 11-team field at Birmingham. Utica goes to the East Detroit district after playing at Southfield last year.

County Class B schools are concentrated at Bloomfield Hills, Pontiac Central, Troy, Milford and Fenton. Avondale, Clarkston, Lake Orion and Oxford comprise the "B" field at PCH with Clarkston returning to Pontiac after a district trip to Grand Blanc in 1958.

Oakland's biggest Class C collection also will be at PCH, featuring Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. Michael, St. Frederick, Royal Oak St. Mary, and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows. Hartland, a non-county school, completes the "C" field here.

Ray Is Named Carroll Coach

Former U.D. Aide Takes Over Monday as Head Cleveland Mentor

CLEVELAND (AP)—John W. Ray, former assistant football coach at the University of Detroit, has been named head coach at John Carroll University and begins his new job Monday.

Ray, 33, succeeds Herb Eisele, coach of the Blue Streaks for the last 12 years, who will devote full time to his job of athletic director.

Ray was the regular center at the University of Notre Dame in 1944. Following his return from World War II duty, he was a three-letter winner in football at Olivet College and also did some coaching there.

He was on the Detroit football staff until two weeks ago—as top aide to Wally Fromhart last season.

Ray was considered a likely candidate to succeed Fromhart when the latter was fired in December, but Jim Milleer, an assistant at Purdue, was given the job.

Ray was offered another job at U-D but declined the offer. He said he preferred to remain in coaching.

Northern Wrestlers Trounce Waterford

Pontiac Northern overcame an opening defeat to trounce Waterford 33-13 while Walled Lake was dropping a hard-fought 26-18 verdict to Dearborn in area wrestling last night.

Capt. Mike Hubbell, 133, won the 1st match for Waterford but visiting Northern pulled away after that despite two quick pins for the Skippers. It was Northern's 4th win against four losses.

A forfeit and a defeat on riding time cost Walled Lake a chance to post its 2nd triumph. Gary Esklinen gained the only Viking pin as Mike Cosgrove, Bob Christian and Jim Teddy took decisions. Jim Balkwell and Marty Richardson were in draws.

The Northern-Waterford summary:

95—Rick Sherman (W) pinned Dan Scott, 57 seconds.
103—Bob Featherston (W) pinned Reg Richards, 44 seconds.
112—Carl Bills (P) won over Dave Sherman, 15-3.
120—Bud Beals (P) defeated Don Morgan, 3-2.
127—Dan Hertel (P) downed Jerry Cosey, 4-0.
133—Mike Hubbell (W) defeated Ralph Clausen, 5-3.
138—Bob Hocking (P) over Jack Comas, 7-0.
145—Jerry Fields (P) pinned Marv Brackett, 3:47.
154—Maurice Lackey (P) decisioned Bob Akerley, 4-0.
165—Don Davies (P) pinned Bob Murphy, 3:15.
175—George Graves (P) pinned Carl Koehler, 1:10.
Heavy—Bill Green (P) decisioned Bob Black, 6-3.

Giant, Cub Players Cause Caribbean Tie

CARACAS, Venezula (AP) — Solid hitting by Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants and Tony Taylor of the Chicago Cubs has helped throw the Caribbean baseball championship series into a three-way deadlock for first place.

Cepeda drove in three runs with a pair of singles as Puerto Rico trounced Panama 9-2 in the opener of last night's doubleheader. Taylor's home run touched off a rally that enabled Cuba to defeat Venezuela 11-1 in the second game.

The results left Puerto Rico, Cuba and Venezuela with 2-1 records, Panama is 0-3.

Gendron Calls Eastern Loop Deal a 'Farce'

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Viger Gendron, who was traded by the New Haven Blades last week to the Charlotte Clippers, today denounced the Eastern Hockey League transaction as a "farce."

Gendron said he and teammate Gary Luyben, who swapped places with two Clippers, were released the same day they arrived in Charlotte.

"I feel that this recent deal was about the lowest thing that ever happened in hockey," Gendron said.

Gendron said he discovered last Saturday that he and Luyben would remain on the Blades' payroll while in Charlotte.

Suggs Fires Hot 69 to Lead St. Pete Open

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Louise Suggs hoped for continued success with her putter today as second round play began in the $7,500 St. Petersburg Women's Open golf tournament.

The veteran Sea Island, Ga., golfer had a steady putter as she fashioned a 69, three-under-par, to grab the first round lead yesterday.

Tucson Putters Are Hot

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Veterans wielding hot putters were the big show in yesterday's first round of the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Marty Furgol, who has been playing golf 31 of his 41 years, sank eight putts of from 5 to 15 feet for birdies and an 8 under par 31-31—62.

That was the finest score in his 18 years of pro play and sent him into today's second round with a three stroke lead.

Fifty four pros made the most of the El Rio Club's good greens to better par 35-35—70 for the 6,434-yard layout. Another 13 had par.

Sharp play on the greens netted 5 under par 65s for Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., Gene Littler, Singing Hills, Calif., Henry Williams Jr., Fleetwood, Pa. and Joe Campbell, Knoxville, Tenn., the only youngster among the leaders.

Eight players, including Wally Burkemo were tied at 67, while other Michigan qualifiers including Bob Gajda of Forest Lake with 70, John Barnum of Grand Rapids and Ernie Fortner of Sault Ste. Marie each with 71 and Larry Tomasino of Ann Arbor with 72.

Pettit's Jump Wins for Hawks

Grabs Victory, 106-105, in Last Minute; Royals Edge Lakers

By The Associated Press

Don't scoff at any of these National Basketball Assn. teams which happen to fall behind by a few points during a game — say 26 or 27.

At least don't scoff at the St. Louis Hawks if they are the victims. They have a ready answer. It is Bob Pettit. His jump shot in the last 26 seconds last night gave the Hawks a 106-105 victory over the New York Knicks after St. Louis trailed by 27 points with 16 minutes gone.

It was a similar situation, but on a smaller scale, at Portland, Ore., where Cincinnati trailed the Minneapolis Lakers by eight points in the first quarter. But a second period splurge put them in the van for good, as they beat the Lakers 119-114.

These were the only NBA games. The Hawks victory coupled with Minneapolis' loss reduced St. Louis magic number to one—a St. Louis win or Laker loss—to give the defending champs their third consecutive Western division title.

PNH, Skippers and St. Michael Will Play Away

St. Fred Home, Maples and Avon vs. Leaders; Key Games in W-O

There will be plenty of prep hoop action on tap for area schools tonight with several of them playing away from home.

The travelers will include Pontiac Northern, Waterford, Rochester, St. Michael, Avondale and Holly. Birmingham, St. Frederick, Walled Lake, Clarkston, West Bloomfield and Lake Orion will be among the local quintets competing at home.

Northern will be seeking its 4th triumph of the season and 2nd over Thurston in a game at Detroit. The Huskies turned in their best showing of the year in winning the earlier meeting 63-45 here.

Waterford will have a good chance to enter the role of "spoiler" going south to Berkley to meet Oakland County's only unbeaten team. The Skippers gave the Bears one of their toughest games last month. Walled Lake is host to Southfield and Farmington vs. Van Dyke elsewhere in the Inter-Lakes League.

Rochester will be hoping for a return to peak form needing a victory at Lapeer to get even again with Romeo in the Tri-County standings. Romeo will be visiting Utica.

St. Michael goes to Farmington to meet Our Lady of Sorrows while St. Frederick entertains St. Francis de Sales in pre-tourney warmups.

Avondale, whose followers don't know what to expect next after opposite showings against Fitzgerald and Rochester, gets a chance to dump front-running Troy in the big Oakland B tussle. Orion hosts Madison and Fitzgerald meets Clawson in the others.

Holly's nine-game victory streak gets a severe test tonight at Northville. Another Bronco win and a Clarkston upset of Brighton at Clarkston would bring a tie for 1st in the Wayne-Oakland. West Bloomfield takes on Milford and Bloomfield Hills vs. Clarenceville.

Birmingham gets a chance to dump Port Huron out of a three-way tie for the Eastern Michigan lead while Mt. Clemens has the same opportunity against East Detroit. Ferndale, the other pacesetter, is idle while Royal Oak Kimball invades Hazel Park.

Millington is at Oxford and Class C state leader Imlay City visits North Branch in the South Central. A full Southern Thumb slate lists Almont at Capac, Anchor Bay at Dryden, New Haven at Memphis and Armada vs. Brown City.

Royal Oak Dondero hosts Highland Park, Country Day is at Lamphere and South Lyon is guest of Pinckney.

Wlodkowski is top scorer with 234 points for a 13-game average of 18.

McDaniel Has 23.3 Average, Palmer 2nd

Holly Star Still Top Scorer

A 31-point performance against Bloomfield Hills Friday kept big Holly star George McDaniel in the Oakland County individual scoring lead with Ferndale's Toy Palmer, the newest big threat for taking over the top slot.

The Eastern Michigan ace has swished 93 points in his last three outings to increase his average to 22.5 while McDaniel is 23.3.

Former leaders Doug Stott of Oxford and Merv Gallup of Birmingham rank 4-5 behind graduated PCH star Charley Barge at 22.1 and 21.

The 6-6 McDaniel continues to hold a big lead in total digits with 303. Eight others have bettered 200 now.

Red Wings Send Strate Back to Hershey Squad

DETROIT (AP)—Defenseman Gordon Strate, who played in 11 games for the Detroit Red Wings, has been returned to the Hershey club of the American Hockey League.

The National Hockey League Red Wings called up the 23-year-old Strate a month ago when Red Kelly was injured. He stayed on when Gus Mortson was waived to New York. That spot now has been filled by Rookie Lou Marcon, who was called up from Edmonton.

Wolverines Spell Trouble for MSU

Do-or-Die for U. of M.

EAST LANSING (UPI)—To Michigan's Bill Perigo it's "do-or-die" and to Michigan State's Forddy Anderson it's "a mass of trouble" but either way, tomorrow night's Michigan-Michigan State basketball game ranks as one of the best of the Big Ten season.

"This is a 'do-or-die' game for us," said Perigo whose Wolverines are in third place with a 4-3 mark to MSU's first place 6-2 record. "If we can win we'll bein the title picture right down to the end."

"Michigan has been greatly underrated," Anderson said. "We don't expect anything from them but one mass of trouble."

While it's a "must" game for Michigan, the Spartans can't afford a loss either. Perigo pointed out that his club has an easier schedule after tomorrow's game in comparison to State's.

The Spartans must face Northwestern and Indiana on the road in addition to hosting Purdue and Iowa—the two teams that beat them—and Wisconsin.

But Perigo called the Spartans "more consistent" than the other title contenders.

"There won't be any secrets to victory in this game," Anderson said. "Forty minutes of real hard basketball will tell the story." Last year the Spartans unveiled a zone defense for the first time in the season to clip Michigan 79-69 in their only meeting.

Michigan's chances of an upset may be hampered by the uncertain health of its backcourt pair—sophomore John Tidwell and Terry Miller, each of whom has played nearly every minute of every game. Tidwell missed the last heavy workout for treatment of his injured leg and Miller has been bothered all week by a heavy cold. Tidwell carries a 15.1 scoring average.

The meeting of Michigan and Michigan State, the only one of the season, will be highlighted by the tangle between the conference's two leading rebounders — MSU's Johnny Green and Michigan's M. C. Burton.

Burton also is the league's top scorer with a 24.1 average and Green is sixth with a 20.2 mark. Green has grabbed 134 rebounds in eight games to 119 in seven for Burton.

Ex-IBC Prexies Work Together

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two presidents of the once-dominant International Boxing Club are teaming up to translate the oft-discussed Moore-Robinson fight into reality.

Truman Gibson of Chicago and Jim Norris of Miami conferred here last night with Sugar Ray Robinson, his managers, and Jack Kearns, manager of Archie Moore whose light heavyweight title would be at stake.

Gibson said after the conference that "it looks now like a matter of arithmetic."

New York's Just Wild About Willy

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Editor

The man-of-the-week: West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt.

The place: Washington and New York.

The quote: "I know now that our American friends are strongly behind us. You can rely on us just as we know we can put our trust in you."

This is an age of official travel. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles can scrawl the phrase, "Dulles was here," in more places even than the much-traveled and legendary Kilroy of World War II fame.

Two official visitors to the United States in the last few weeks have represented widely separated ideological beliefs. The first was Anastas Mikoyan, deputy premier of Soviet Russia.

Mikoyan smilingly said Soviet Russia and the United States had two alternatives: Friendship or war.

He also repeated the Communist demand that the Western powers get out of Berlin,

When he got home to Moscow, Mikoyan said the people of the U. S. wanted an end to the cold war, and reported he saw a chance for a thaw.

Ticker tape parades are a traditional part of New York City's welcome to a visiting foreign dignitary or a national hero. There was no ticker tape parade for Mikoyan.

But he should have seen the one for Willy Brandt. It was a cold, rainy, miserable day in New York. But the crowds turned out anyway.

And as West Berlin's mayor rode up Broadway, they cheered him. "Good luck, Willy," they yelled, or "Good boy, Willy."

Late that day, Brandt left for Washington and a meeting with President Eisenhower. But the next day he was back in New York again, this time for a mammoth reception in his honor.

"The President gave me firm assurance that the United States will defend the people of West Berlin against any threat to their freedom," he said.

And he said the President told him: " 'A coward has to die 1,000 times and a brave man only once.' "

It is part of U.S. national history that this nation forgives its enemies. It also is part of the national nature to cheer for the underdog.

Both of these characteristics may have played a part in the reception for Willy Brandt.

But sympathies aside, there are two characteristics of the 44-year-old West Berlin mayor about which there is no doubt.

He hated and fought Adolf Hitler's Nazism.

And he hates and continues to fight communism.

In Berlin last month, he told the city parliament:

"Free Berlin belongs to the free world."

And he added:

"We Berliners have no weapons but we have the right to live and work and we have good nerves."

So far as he is concerned, he has no further need to prove that either.

At the age of 20, he fled Hitler's Gestapo to Norway. When the Nazis captured Norway in 1940, he escaped the Gestapo again in the guise of a captured Norwegian soldier and went on to aid anti-Nazi underground movements in Sweden.

He returned to Germany after the war and entered politics.

In the last Berlin election, the Communists made the issue of a free or Communist Berlin the chief plank of their campaign platform. The vote that kept Willy Brandt mayor went against the Reds by more than 98 per cent.

Ike Nominates Jimmy Stewart

Sen. Goldwater Also Boosted for Air Force Reserve General's Post

WASHINGTON (UP)—Screen star Jimmy Stewart was nominated by President Eisenhower for a second time yesterday for promotion to brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve.

A simlar nomination failed to win Senate approval two years ago. It was blocked mainly by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

Also nominated to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve was Sen. Barry M. Goldwater (R-Ariz). Both Goldwater and Stewart now have the rank of colonel.

Stewart, now 50, was on active duty with the Air Force for nearly five years in World War II, rising from private to the rank of colonel.

Goldwater, who turned 50 last Jan. 1, served during World War II. His missions included a flight over the "Hump," as the mountain barriers were called, to China.

Says: Get Ye Busy

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—The president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce told some 400 business leaders from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan yesterday to stop griping about labor's participation in politics and become more politically active themselves. In a speech at a chamber workshop here, William A. McDonnell accused businessmen as a group of political timidity.

Polishing cocoa beans by treading them underfoot is called "dancing the beans" in Trinidad.

Grains Falter, Then Pick Up

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market steadied itself quickly today, after opening irregular to weak, in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade.

Rye and soybeans, with gains into major fractions of a cent, led the advance, and nearly all other contracts were up slightly. The rye support was in the nearby deliveries while the soybean demand was for the new crop months.

Israel bought two cargoes of hard wheat, about 700,000 bushels and a cargo of corn. Europe also bought small parcels of corn, and Japan was understood to be buying 6,000 tons of soybeans.

Wheat was up ½ to ¾ cent a bushel near the end of the first hour, March $2.00½; corn ⅛ to ½ higher, March old type contract $1.14¼; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 66½; rye ½ to ⅞ higher, March $1.38¼; soybeans ⅛ lower to 1⅛ higher, March $2.20⅜.

Reuther Sued in Union Dispute

Somerville Employes Claim They Didn't Get Severance Pay

BOSTON (AP)—A huge damage suit has been filed against Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, and other union officials by workers who lost their jobs when Ford Motor Co. closed its Somerville assembly plant.

The suit was filed yesterday by three representatives of 1,100 men who were idled by the plant closing. The suit contended the UAW failed to obtain severance pay for the men.

No amount of money was mentioned in the suit filed in Suffolk Superior Court but counsel for the plaintiffs said it would involve one million dollars.

The suit, filed by UAW local 901 members, claims the international union, at a time when the closing of the Somerville plant became evident, promised (the local) it would refrain from negotiating further contracts unless severance pay was given to local 901 members. Ford, at the time, was building an assembly plant at Lorain, Ohio.

The suit charges the defendants "and other members of the international have planned, schemed and conspired together to injure the plaintiffs by favoring special groups and that the plaintiffs have suffered substantial damage by being deprived of their severance pay."

The suit contends the plant was closed March 14, 1958, and Reuther and his associates have failed to live up to their agreement although the international allegedly obtained severance pay for other UAW locals.

A preliminary hearing is scheduled for Feb. 27.

Named in the suit along with Reuther are: Kenneth Bannon, Charles H. Kerrigan and Robert Walkinshaw, international representatives; and Angelo De Nado of Brooklyn, national negotiator for the UAW.

Listed as plaintiffs are James Marton of Boston, Clarence V. Hay of Medford, and William Caton of Somerville.

Oils showed an early resumption of their weakness of yesterday on word of lower prices for crude, then steadied.

The aircraft section continued lower as fear spread that the government may seek alleged excess profits from other firms beside Boeing which faces justice department plans to recoup some 20 million dollars on 1952 defense contracts.

Boeing and United Aircraft dropped fractions, North American aviation was off about a point.

Gulf Oil and Standard of New Jersey were off fractionally while Royal Dutch was unchanged. Texas Co. and Standard of Indiana were about unchanged.

Ziem to Hear Roberts' Charge

Ex-Officer Says Oak Park Police Let Others Resign After Crimes

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem this morning awaited a visit from suspended Oak Park Police Lt. Joseph W. Roberts, who yesterday charged that members of the force have been discharged or permitted to resign rather than face criminal charges.

Ziem said, "We will stick strictly to the possible criminal charges.

"I will eliminate from my investigation all those things which are of a disciplinary action," he added.

Roberts asserted that some officers were allowed to resign after such offenses as accosting a woman driver, assault on a 14-year-old girl and firing guns in a police station.

He was suspended last December on a charge of firing his service pistol into a tavern jukebox while allegedly being intoxicated.

One officer, Roberts charged Thursday, was demoted after the theft of 100 pounds of lead from an impounded car.

Roberts said he was making these charges public at this time because neither he nor his attorney, James G. Hartrick, were given the chance to present them Monday at a hearing before the Trial Board headed by Mayor Protem R. J. Alexander.

Another hearing has been set for next Wednesday.

Meanwhile, other officers were prepared to refute Roberts' charges and to present files on cases involved to Ziem.

"I'm trying to prove the inconsistency in Leonard's actions," said Roberts in reference to Public Safety Director Glenford S. Leonard.

The "inconsistency," Roberts said, is why other officers "who had committed worse acts than mine" were allowed to resign while he wasn't.

Gangsters Take Over, Probers Told

Ask Aid in Jukebox Racket

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of a New York City jukebox operators association told the Senate Rackets Committee his industry is "frantically in need of help" to fight off gangsters.

At the same time the committee placed in formal records a list of 10 men it said are in the coin machine business and were delegates to the alleged crime convention in Apalachin, N.Y.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the 10 men are:

Gerard Catena, Carmine Lombardozzi and Mike Miranda of New York and Brooklyn; John A. Demarco and John Scalish of Cleveland, Joseph Falcone of Utica, N.Y.; Michael Genovese, Gabriel Mannarino and John LaRocca, operating in Pittsburgh; and Frank Zito of Springfield, Ill.

The committee was told in testimony yesterday that high-ranking underworld characters reprieved Lombardozzi from a death sentence at Apalachin but fined him $10,000, apparently for getting out of line in the coin machine business.

Kennedy also told the committee that members of "the syndicate" in the Gary, Ind., area pulled 1,000 pinball machines out of bars and other places Wednesday night, apparently because of the committee's investigation.

Gary, he said, is "one of the most critical areas" involved in the committee's investigation. He said the machines were of a type that could be used for gambling.

Albert S. Denver, president of the Music Operators of New York, Inc., told of the need for help to combat gangsters in a statement placed in committee records.

Denver said his association speaks for 160 members operating 8,000 of the 11,000 juke boxes in New York. He said the 11,000 jukeboxes provide a return of more than 11 million dollars a year.

Gangsters, he said, view this business as "a field ripe for their intervention." The association is fighting them, he said.

Denver was the first of 10 witnesses scheduled to be called today for questioning about charges New York mobsters use phony union locals to exact tribute from the jukebox-coin machine industry.

Henry's Racial Suit Dismissed by U.S. Court

The last chapter of City Commissioner Milton R. Henry's long lawsuit against the Pontiac Board of Education, which Henry accused of segregation policies, has been written in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer informed the Board last night that Henry's appeal of a Federal Court decision had been dismissed by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals because Henry failed to file required appeal papers within a reasonable time.

Henry's suit, filed in September 1955, had asked $7,000 damages because his daughter was denied admission to an all-white shcool, he said.

In his decision, Levin ruled, "the fact that in a given area a school is populated almost exclusively by the children of a given race is not of itself evidence of racial discrimination."

IN MEMORY OF ALBERT L. Ashbaugh, "Gramps", who passed away 5 years ago today, Feb. 13.
Your life's such a wonderful memory,
To grieve that it's gone seems unfair;
Like grudging you more time in Heaven,
When our only hope is in meeting you there.
—Sadly missed by those who love you, Gramps. Your children, Sister & Grandchildren.

Playhouse 90 Presentation Earns 'Jolly Good' Rating

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS-TV's Playhouse 90 ticked off its 100th telecast last night with an admirable trifle, "The Second Man."

The play was the sort of thing I believe Britons refer to as jolly good theater. It is dead-end theater — predictable, fully charted, bounded by convention — but even so, it is a joy to watch when it's parceled attractively.

Last night it was bundled together by a group of mummers that included Maggie Leighton, James Mason, Hugh Griffith, Diana Wynyard, Kenneth Haigh and a stylish collection they were.

The players bit into this chunk with enormous relish and I must say I enjoyed every minute of it.

One early scene sticks out in my mind particularly as typifying the night: A conversation in which Mason toyed with a pipe, Griffith played with his pince-nez and Miss Leighton fiddled with a tea cup and various articles in her purse.

It was a little like watching a three-way jam session of virtuosos — terribly stagey, terribly busy and absolutely captivating.

SHORT SHOT: Danny Thomas went western last night on CBS-TV's Zane Grey Theater and he turned in a surfacey performance in a skim milk playlet about an immigrant who squares off against the town bully.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: If NBC-TV's Perry Como switches to Wednesday night next fall, the new one-hour adventures series, Riverboat, probably will move into Como's old Saturday slot.

NBC-TV's "Meet Mr. Lincoln" pulled an astonishing Trendex for a documentary on Wednesday—it registered a 25.9 while CBS-TV's Trackdown was coming in with a 14.3 and ABC-TV's Ozzie and Harriet with a 20.2.

Thunderbirds in Demand

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. says sales and customer orders for its four-passenger Thunderbird car amount to more than 65,000 units. The company said yesterday that in recent weeks the backlog of orders for the Thunderbird have reached nearly 12,000.

See Price Supports on Many Crops Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is formulating 1959 farm programs that are expected to set up lower price supports for a broad list of crops and possibly dairy products.

The programs will cover price support rates for corn, oats, barley, sorghum grains, soybeans, cottonseed, flaxseed, peanuts, rye, dry beans and possibly butterfat and milk used for manufacturing purposes.

The new supports must be approved by the board of the department's Commodity Credit Corp., the banking agency for the government's price support and surplus storage programs. Action by the board and public announcement of the rates may come later this week.

Thomas J. Dent, who has been coaching Dartmouth's varsity lacrosse team since 1927, was a soccer star in England before that.

THE KUERFURSTENDAMM — A great new city has arisen out of West Berlin's war ruins. It is a bustling city and a busy city. It is conscious of its role as a showcase of German democracy and achievement. It looks ahead to the future. Yet it remembers the bitter lessons of the past. Perhaps most impressive of all is Berlin's spirit of creative enterprise, commercial as well as cultural. Berlin's Mayor Willy Brandt foresees the day in the near future when the city will be completely self-supporting. Brandt is visiting the U. S. at the present time.

Soviets Say Civilian Traffic Won't Be Stopped

West Berlin Needn't Fear Blockade

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
Berlin AP Bureau Chief

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet embassy declared today West Berlin's 2,200,000 civilians have no reason to fear any Communist blockade.

An embassy spokesman said civilian traffic in and out of West Berlin would go on uninterrupted after expiration of Moscow's May 27 deadline for ending the four-power status of the city.

The spokesman accused Secretary of State Dulles and other allied leaders of seeking to stir false alarm by talking about a Communist blockade of the isolated city.

The spokesman left hanging, however, the question of what will happen to the supply lifelines of the American, British and French garrisons in West Berlin after May 27.

After that date the Soviets say they intend to transfer their controls over allied lifelines to the East Germans. The Allies say they will refuse to bow to East German controls.

"What will happen then," said the Soviet spokesman in reply to questions, "does not depend on us but on the way the Western powers react. We will only be giving up our functions.

"Until then, I hope, there will be enough time for talks and negotiations."

The Soviet embassy was commeeting on the decision of Dulles and other allied leaders to risk war rather than tolerate a Communist blockade of West Berlin.

"Much is being said at the present time about a blockade of Berlin," the spokesman said.

"It is well known that German civilian traffic to Berlin has operated without difficulty under the control of the (East) German Democratic republic. This traffic will not be affected by the proposed measures."

While the East Germans control West Berlin civilian traffic, the Russians have been obligated under four-power accords to guarantee and regulate allied military traffic on the rail and a highway link to this city, 110 miles deep in Communist East Germany.

Once both civilian and military traffic control is in East German hands, the allies fear, the East Germans will be in a position to squeeze the West out of Berlin.

Gives Women Chance to Gripe About Men

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — For Valentine's Day, I decided to give American women a wonderful present—an opportunity to tell "What I dislike about men."

And it wasn't easy. Because most women preferred to tell what they disliked about women.

But you naturally could trust my Beautiful Wife to come through.

"Men don't appreciate their wives . . . they're dazzled by some little blonde or redhead," she said. (She'd forgotten that she's now little, and a blonde one week and redhead the next.)

Actress Dorothy Stickney could hardly think of anything to criticize about her famous husband Howard Lindsay. "He won't open doors for me," she finally said. "I open them for him."

"Men forget to light your cigarettes — I carry a lighter because they're too slow on the draw," spoke up Diana Barrymore.

"Men are sloppy, badly-dressed, don't watch their nails or get haircuts regularly," said Hollywood actress Cara Williams, recently split up from Johny Barrymore Jr.

A pretty little wife named Jackie Oblinger from Bluefield, W. Va., offered a curious criticism.

"My husband," she confided, "put sugar on his cereal and then he stirs it all the way down to the bottom of the dish between bites. I always know he's going to stir it every bite!"

"Men are nastier drunk than women," yowled one female. "They want to beat you. Women drunks just get loving and happy.

"They're stingy," claimed a divorcee. "They bet big, they tip big, but yell about household expenses."

"They're so vain," protested an actor's wife. "Always primping, snipping out gray hairs, getting sun lamp treatments. Ugh!"

"They think nobody does any work but them," snorted a female whose voice sounded like the B.W.'s. "And they made a federal case out of not having a button on their overcoat or being unable to find fresh handkerchiefs."

They don't hang up clothes . . . won't walk the dog . . . never tidy up the kitchen after a snack . . . they mess up the paper when they read it . . . they snore . . . dance like a cow . . . think they're such wonderful drivers . . . claim women have no sense of humor . . . always spot their new ties . . . and they always let their wandering eye wander too much.

"And they're afraid of women as competitors," Cara Williams said.

"The man gets insecure if his wife plays chess well. He wonders why she can't be quiet and submissive like European women—whom he can't stand because they can't talk."

Paulette Goddard, now Mrs. Eric Remarque, had an eloquent offering.

"My complaint against men is that they're indispensable," she said.

And of course, they forget Valentine's Day. Anyway, Happy box of candy!

Oooh La La! Folies Bergere!

What Will Television Be Like in 10 Years?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Ten years from now the television industry will offer three-inch screens for beach parties and picnics and a thin, mural-sized screen for living rooms, Robert Sarnoff, chairman of the board of NBC, predicts.

"By 1969 we can expect live television to take up to London for the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace, or an interview with the prime minister," he said.

"We will see auto races in Monte Carlo, the bullfights in Madrid, the music festival in Edinburgh. We will witness the Olympics, the splendor of the papal court, the Nobel Prize Award dinner in Stockholm—perhaps even the Follies Bergere in Paris."

Sarnoff, speaking at the 36th annual installation banquet of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce last night, predicts in 10 years there will be 70 million TV sets in operation in 58 million homes.

Educational TV will be stepped up, and "it may be possible by 1969 to get most of a basic college education in television," he said.

Sarnoff said that the TV industry will continue to spur the economy.

He forecast a population in the United States of 210 million, compared to the present 176 million. The gross national product will leap ahead by 45 per cent to 675 billion dollars, he predicted.

Sarnoff said that technical advances will permit the industry to build a transistorized miniature TV set with a three-inch screen "that will work on the beach, in trains and on planes."

"For home use, the 1969 set will replace the present picture tube with a thin, flat screen that can be hung on the wall like a painting—up to mural size if you like—and the viewer will operate it from a small box at his side," Sarnoff said. "You will be able the show your home movies on the same screen.

"You will take them with your home videotape recorder, plug it directly into your TV set for playback and see them immediately in color and with sound."

If you are forced to miss your favorite show one evening, Sarnoff said, you will be able to "simply set a little clock and the instrument will tape record the show and play it back when you like."

College Credit Class on Network Is Smash

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's first college credit course offered on network television, its authors said today, was a smash hit in statistical terms.

The first semester of atomic age physics, which ended a week ago, was watched by an estimated 300,000 viewers from coast to coast, Edwin P. Adkins of State University Teachers College, Albany, N. Y., told a meeting of educators.

The Life of Lincoln

He often aroused the wrath of the Army by interfering with courts-martial—"destroying military discipline." But Lincoln left standing orders that, before his day closed, he must see everyone who came to him with a petition for the saving of a life.

He heard appeals at all times and places. One night he even got out of bed to go to the War Department to reprieve a 19-year-old boy who had fallen asleep on sentry duty. "Some of our generals complain," Lincoln once said. "But I go to bed happy."

Mitchell Says Dem Labor Packages OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell says he'll go along with the Democrats' two-package approach to labor legislation if it includes the full Eisenhower labor program.

"Whatever the packaging, it's the product that counts," Mitchell said Thursday.

He urged the public to keep pressure on the Democratic Congress leadership to see that it doesn't relax on labor legislation after adopting the proposed first step, a measure to provide for regular financial reports and to guarantee democratic processes in unions.

Mitchell said he wanted an eye kept on Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), author of the chief Democratic labor measure in the Senate. He said the two have the votes to enact any legislation they want.

Kennedy's measure matches the Eisenhower program in many respects, but omits the President's demand for outlawing secondary boycotts and "blackmail picketing" designed to coerce an employer to get his workers into a union.

U.S. Bridge Lead Cut to Four Points

NEW YORK (AP)—The lead of the Italian champions over the United States in the World Contract Bridge Tournament has been cut to four international match points after six days of play.

Italy led the United States 147 to 143 after the United States won 33 to 25 last night. Italy had a lead of 12 points at the start of last night's play.

Argentina, the other team in the tournament, is generally considered no threat for the 1959 world title. Argentina trails the United States 121 to 175 and Italy 118 to 150 at the end of 104 hands in the nine-day tournament.

Kids In, Dogs Out

ELFIN GROVE, England (UPI)—Mrs. Germaine Tuck and her four children moved out on Germaine Tuck last Friday. Mrs. Tuck complained that her husband gave more houseroom to his six pedigreed dogs than to his family. Tuck surrendered. Last night Mrs. Tuck and the little Tucks moved back into the house. The dogs had been moved outside.
