Calls for 1958 Wage Freeze by Building Trades Unions

Miss Front Page for December

December brings us another in our series of Miss Front Page beauties.

Every bit as charming as the 11 who have reigned in the preceding months of this year, she is Carolyn Kay Henry, 18, of 75 Alice Ave., Bloomfield Highlands.

A graduate of Waterford High School, she is an honor student in her second year at Eastern Michigan College. She is majoring in business studies, and summers can be found in the accounting department at Consumers Power Co.

Miss Henry has many interests, including swimming and other sports, dancing, traveling and piano, but her chief interest is in marksmanship.

She is known throughout the state in rifle competition and holds the "distinguished rifleman" rating of the National Rifle Association, top rating for her age classification. As a team member she helped establish a new international women's team record in 1956.

★ ★ ★

She is a daughter of Elvis C. Henry, a Pontiac Motor Division foreman, and Elsie K. Henry, who is employed at GMC Truck & Coach. She developed her love for shooting under her father's direction, and is a member of the Blanche R. Wilson Rifle Team and the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club.

Lucky 13 Hoped as Pot-O-Gold Now Has $1,300

Here's one number 13 that's lucky. That's the thirteen hundred dollars in Pot-O-Gold this week.

If you come up with the right answers for this week's puzzle, we can almost guarantee you'll no longer look on that number with suspicion.

The 13th puzzle since the last winner appears on page 16 of today's Press. Of course, if you're one of those people who never read rules, you might just as well stop right now.

An entry that's disqualified because of rule infractions is worse than no entry at all, so be sure to read the rules as well as the puzzle clues.

2 Dead, 4 Hurt in M24 Crash

Ortonville Man, Youth Killed, Others 'Serious' in Head-On Collision

An Ortonville man and his stepson were fatally injured and another youth and three men seriously injured in a head-on collision of two cars on M24, one mile north of Lapeer, at 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dead are Ynes Benitez, 40, and William Grappen, 18, of 80 Church St., Ortonville.

In the Lapeer County General Hospital with serious injuries are Patrick McNulty, 15, of 3940 Davison Lake Rd., Ortonville; Wallace Carter, 38, of 2900 Corinthia St., Rochester; Ray Bishop, 27, of 962 Pridemore St., Lake Orion, and Charles Canterbury, 43, of 3350 Lexington Dr.

The McNulty youth was a passenger in the car with Benitez and his stepson. The other men were passengers in the car driven by Carter.

Benitez died shortly after being admitted to the hospital. His stepson died about 10 a.m. today.

The Lapeer County Sheriff's department, which investigated the accident with Lapeer City Police, said Benitez apparently was attempting to pass another auto when the collision occurred.

1,100 Evacuated as 90-Mile Wind Batters Hawaii

One Man Electrocuted; 24-Inch Rains Flood Coastal Area of Kauai

HONOLULU (AP) — Some 1,100 persons were evacuated from the coastal areas of Kauai today as gale winds of up to 90 miles an hour from Hurricane Nina battered that northernmost of the Hawaiian Islands.

Those evacuated, mostly fishermen and cane field workers living near mouths of swollen rivers, were moved to public schools.

Rampaging rivers flooded the towns of Hanapepe and Hanalei but there was only slight damage and no casualties were reported.

Heavy rains and strong winds continued to batter the island which is 85 miles northwest of Oahu, the site of Honolulu.

Two small rivers near Hanalei—the village that took the brunt of last spring's tidal wave—overflowed and blocked roads. Phone service to the island capital of Lihue was disrupted.

★ ★ ★

The Kilauea lighthouse at Mokuaeae, on the north shore of Kauai, reported winds of 90 m.p.h. at 2 a.m.

24-INCH RAIN

Two feet of rain was registered in a seven-hour period on Kauai—traditionally the wettest spot in the islands.

★ ★ ★

The Navy submarine rescue vessel Couchal was expected to pick up the three crew members of a sinking 43-foot fishing sampan, the Setsu Maru. The Coast Guard said the vessel, reported missing earlier, was sinking 10 miles east of Kawaiho Point and Niihau Island.

The rest of the islands got only buffeting winds and a good soaking. At Honolulu rain during the last 48 hours totaled 2.94 inches.

Honolulu Harbor was reopened at 5 p.m. yesterday after being closed all day.

Airlines resumed regular flights to the United States at 5:30 p.m. yesterday and flights west were scheduled today.

Seven Areas Seek Highway

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie's plan for curtailing the extension of Northwestern Highway to build a $48 million north-south expressway past Pontiac has drawn the ire of seven southeastern Michigan communities.

Representatives of Flint, Fenton, Linden, Owosso, Milford, Midland and Mt. Pleasant will meet with Mackie Dec. 10 at Fenton to protest his decision.

Originally, Northwestern was to be extended to meet U. S. 23 at Fenton, as a superhighway.

In announcing a 10-year highway plan for the Detroit area recently, Mackie said Northwestern now would be made a superhighway only to 11-Mile Road, just outside Detroit, and then cut west along 11 Mile, connecting with U. S. 16 north of Farmington.

When Oakland County and Pontiac officials protested Mackie's failure to include a north-south expressway in his future plans for the area, Mackie blamed a commitment to extend Northwestern Highway, which was made before he was elected.

He later shelved the Northwestern plans, and announced a north-south expressway from 11-Mile Road through northeast Pontiac, eventually connecting with the Fenton-Clio expressway leading northward to the Mackinac bridge.

The project would be eligible for 90 per cent federal aid, Mackie said, and could be under contract in about two years and be a reality in five "if we have no trouble." Mackie said earlier in announcing the project.

The Northwestern extension is not abandoned, Mackie has said, but delayed for at least 10 years.

The stretch from Eight Mile to Eleven Mile will either be built or under contract by 1962, at an estimated cost of $21 million, Mackie has said.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five million dollars in bonds had been sold for the Northwestern extension when Mackie asked Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh if he could delay the project and substitute another.

Kavanagh ruled that if Mackie thought the Oakland County expressway was more for the public good than the extension of Northwestern, Mackie was legally entitled to build it.

'I'll Help Beat You,' Parker Yells at Wilson

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Pittsburgh Steelers coach Buddy Parker was termed a "bitter, frustrated" coach today for his critical attack on Detroit Lions coach George Wilson.

In a stormy scene in a private Philadelphia club last night, Parker said:

"I helped the Chicago Bears and the Baltimore Colts beat the Lions this year.

"I'll help other clubs beat you too."

Those in the club said Parker left the table where he had been drinking for his tirade at Wilson and the remainder of the Lions party in Philadelphia for the draft today.

Wilson, restraining himself, said to Parker:

"I just wish we were both 21 years old and could settle this on the football field."

★ ★ ★

Parker had opened the attack with personal slur directed at Lions' scout Bob Nussbaumer. Wilson, who was sitting with Nussbaumer, spoke up for his aide when Parker made the remark.

It was then Parker told Wilson, "You're no coach" and boasted of helping other teams beat the Lions.

Hot-Rod Driver Killed

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (INS)—Howard Stamp, 51, was killed Sunday when his hot-rod overturned while going 157 miles an hour on the Famosa drag strip, 20 miles north of Bakersfield. Officials, who noted the speed as Stamp whizzed through the electric timer, said his throttle apparently stuck and he attempted to broadside the car to a halt.

President Gray Proposes Move to Fight Inflation

Head of AFL-CIO Unit Says Action Would Prove Labor Sincere

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS — Richard J. Gray, President of the AFL-CIO Building Trades Department, proposed today that the 19 building trades unions declare a moratorum on wage increases for their 3,500,000 members in 1958 as a means of checking inflation.

Gray made this proposal at the opening session of the 50th anniversary convention of the department. The convention precedes the full-dress AFL-CIO convention, which opens Thursday.

Gray questioned whether efforts to gain further wage increases would not "mean more tight money, more inflation, less construction and more unemployment for our people?"

He said he plans to propose at a meeting of th department's executives in January that heads of all building trades unions declare a moratorium on wage increases during 1958.

He said: "This first step will demonstrate our sincerity of purpose to the nation and other important segments of the construction industry."

★ ★ ★

Gray backed down from what was reported to be his plan to try to lead the 19 building trades unions out of the AFL-CIO as the result of a jurisdictional battle with the old CIO industrial unions over construction work.

PROPOSES DEADLINE

However, he proposed that unless an agreement is reached in the jurisdictional controversy by March 31, the presidents of the building trades unions should hold a special meeting for the purpose of "drafting an appropriate course of action."

President Harry Bates of the Bricklayers, and Joseph Keenan, leader of the Electrical Workers, reportedly had a major hand in persuading Gray to abandon

Scientists Agree Carrier Fell

But Widely Separated Reports Come In as to Where Rocket Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. and British scientists say there is every indication Russia's satellite rocket — which put Sputnik I into orbit Oct. 4 plunged to its death Saturday night.

But where it fell, and when, remained a mystery in the face of widely scattered claims to seeing it fall.

Sputnik I still is circling the earth, as is the Soviet dog-carrying satellite Sputnik II, which was launched Nov. 3.

U. S. scientists, meanwhile, continued their preparations for firing the first American satellite into space this week, possibly Wednesday.

There were several reports of flaming objects being sighted over the weekend. One of these, from Fairbanks, Alaska, coincided with the predicted passage of the rocket over that city, and it was being investigated further.

PROBABLY METEOR

But the other sightings apparently involved something other than the rocket. Some experts also discounted the Fairbanks report, saying the object probably was a giant fireball, or meteor.

Russia has had nothing official to say about the rocket's fall. But a Moscow radio broadcast said the rocket had completed 894 orbits as of 10 p.m. yesterday. An earlier broadcast said the rocket would be visible today.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said the rocket's end may have

Mail Yule Gifts Now to Those Relatives

By JANET ODELL

It's high time we were getting that Christmas package off to the relatives in Kansas. We can get all their gifts in one shopping spree if we have our list completed at home.

Let's start with Uncle Louie instead of leaving him to the end. Maybe he'd like one of those miniature vacuum cleaners to spruce up his suit every morning and get rid of the dog hairs on it.

Or he might like a new tie rack. Even if he has a tie rack he can probably use a second one. Most men we know have as many ties as a teenager has rock 'n' roll records.

Aunt Suzanne if she enjoys getting gifts for the house, will like a clear glass dish with a silver spoon for serving jelly. If she prefers something personal, send her a silk scarf of the palest pink. It will go with almost any color.

Young Edward, who's in grade school, will surely like a colored sand paint set. All he has to do is put some adhesive on the picture to be "painted," then sprinkle colored sand on it. He should be old enough to keep the sand where it belongs!

Cousin Eleanor is quite a young lady now. She'd simply adore one of those imported musical jewelry boxes. And don't overlook a huge stuffed animal for her bed. She can take it to college with her.

Little Louis is old enough now to handle crayons. Get him a book of farm animals that can be colored, wiped off and colored again.

An interesting gift for the whole family would be a cookie jar that looks like a gingerbread house. Aunt Suzanne and Eleanor can fill it with cookies for the rest of the family to eat.

Better get that package mailed right away!

Police Doubt Identity of New Gein Skeleton

PLAINFIELD, Wis. (INS) — Law officers doubted today that a skeleton unearthed near the human butchering shed of Edward Gein was that of a man who disappeared while hunting near the Plainfield Ghoul's farm.

The skeleton was buried in a garbage pit near the confessed slayer's disheveled house and the shed where nine skulls and parts of bodies were strewn beneath the hanging body of a woman.

The 51-year-old odd jobs man now undergoing mental tests confessed shooting and butchering the woman. He also admitted the similar slaying of another Wisconsin woman who had been missing for three years.

Weather Outlook: Colder With Snow

Mostly cloudy and colder with occasional snow flurries is the U. S. Weather Bureau's prediction for the Pontiac area tonight, following the clear and sunny skies that began the day.

The low tonight will be near 25 degrees.

The outlook for tomorrow is continued cold, with light snow and a high near 35.

On Wednesday, the weather will continue cold with cloudy skies.

The mercury fell to a low of 28 in downtwn Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climed to 36.

Fatal Shot Accidental

BRIMLEY (AP) — Gary Teeple, 16, of Brimley, was shot to death accidentally Saturday when a .12 gauge shotgun discharged and struck him in the neck. Sheriff's deputies said a gun held by the victim's cousin, 17-year-old Gerald Teeple, went off by accident in Gerald's home near here.

Terse Report Marks Final Exodus to New Building

Police End 20 Years at Pike Street Station

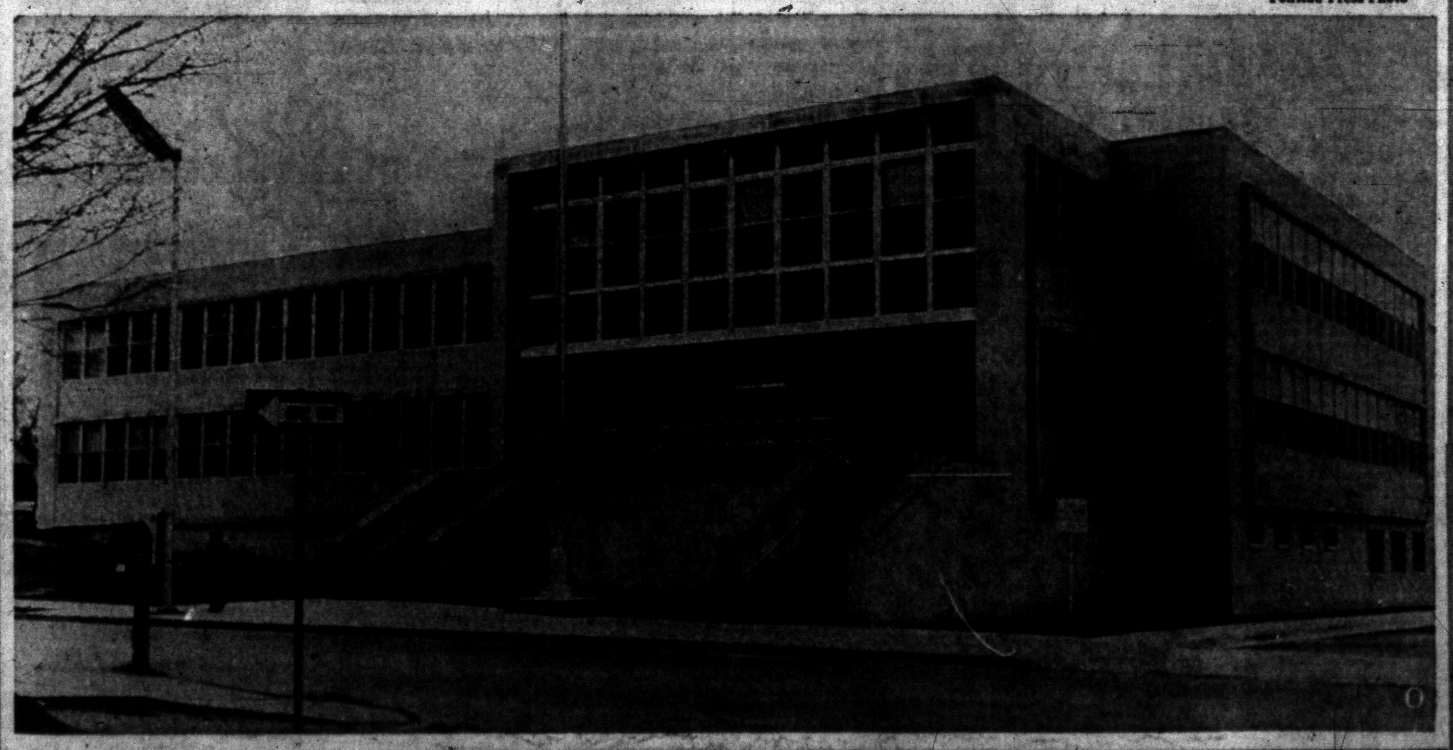

On the Pontiac Police Dept.'s platoon reports, there appears this entry by Sunday's shift:

"Finale—This entry marks the end of 20 years spent in this building by the Pontiac Police Dept. At 7 a.m., Dec. 2, 1957, the third platoon under the supervision of Lt. George T. Scott and Sgt. Telton E. Rogg terminated police service at this location, and the first platoon, under the command of Lt. Donny Ashley and Sgt. Fred Goines will inaugurate police service at the new $950,000 Public Safety Building, located at 110 E. Pike St."

This brief announcement formally served to inform members of the force that they were now in their new quarters. With them are the entire Municipal Court staff, which moved this weekend along with the police.

Today is being spent largely in final unpacking, in arranging files and desks and setting the patterns of operation which may govern the department for the next 20 years.

Prof. Alfred Lovell, director of the radio telescope station at Jodrell Bank, England, also said he concludes the rocket no longer exists. Lovell discounted the Moscow radio reports, and said the Russians "were probably fishing for information."

* * *

Japanese astronomers also said they did not spot the rocket and they expressed the belief it had fallen.

* * *

Other reports included:

1. A terrific explosion, a green ball and a white flash over northeast Montana. The object reported looked something like a comet or a meteor, and there was nothing to indicate it might be the rocket.

2. An exploding object spotted at 5:39 a.m. yesterday over Portland, Maine.

3. German police reported to the Hamburg observatory that an unidentified glowing object was seen plunging into a moor south of Hamburg.

Urges Wage Freeze by Trades Unions

the idea of a walkout. However, delegates to the building trades convention are reported to be up in arms as a result of their feud with the old CIO unions. An explosion reportedly is possible.

Meanwhile, Gray attempted to lead a revolt among the building trades unions against the proposed explusion of the giant 1,500,000-member Teamster's Union, which is affiliated with the department.

SIDES WITH TEAMSTERS

He denounced the proposed expulsion of the Teamsters as "extremely unfair" and "un-American." He said that the expulsion plan, led by AFL-CIO President George Meany and other top-ranking federation leaders, was based only on unproven charges made before the Senate Rackets Committee.

* * *

Gray called on all delegates to the building trades convention to "not only vote against expulsion of the Teamsters but to go out and actively work among our non-building trades friends to get as many votes against expulsion as possible."

He took issue with Meany's contention that corruption in the labor movement is the federation's most pressing problem.

He said: "I disagree—I disagree most emphatically. The time is long past due for the top leaders of our parent organization to pay more attention to achieving the objectives for which we exist, namely, organizing the unorganized."

* * *

Gray recalled that Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee had accused some labor leaders of "stealing" and "embezzlement."

* * *

He said: "If these charges have substance, then why is it that steps are not taken to indict and let the courts of our land decide whether the charges are true or false."

CROWD-PLEASER — This drum majorette from Waterford Township High School was one of the many features of the parade Saturday which welcomed Santa Claus to Pontiac.

Thousands See Santa Arrive in Pontiac

By DICK SAUNDERS

Thousands lined Saginaw street and Oakland avenue Saturday as the 1957 "Christmas on Wheels" parade ushered the Christmas season into Pontiac.

* * *

The parade made up of nearly 50 units, drill teams, bands, floats, officials' cars and various groups representing many area organizations began moving up South Saginaw street from its assembling point a Turk street.

The street was lined with parade watchers five deep along the one-mile route, faces peered from the windows of nearly every store and building window and some managed to scramble onto the tops of buildings for an aerial view.

Pacing the parade was the official car of the Downtown Pontiac Assn., which sponsored the event this year. Then the Pontiac High School Band got the parade off to a happy, high-stepping start to the tune of "Jingle Bells."

* * *

This was followed by a multitude of floats built around religious themes, donated by various church groups. One of the parade's most outstanding floats, "Faith of Our Fathers," came in this group.

It was sponsored by the Orchard Lake Presbyterian Church and used as its props original pews from its first chapel.

OTHER CHURCHES

Among the churches represented by floats were First Methodist, First Presbyterian, Bethany Baptist, Central Methodist, First Baptist, Trinity Baptist, All Saints Episcopal, Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren, First Christian, and the Holy Name Society of Pontiac Catholic parishes.

* * *

Intermingled in the procession school marching bands from Avondale, Lake Orion, Walled Lake and Clarkston, along with the Land O' Lakes Majorettes and various officials' cars.

More official glitter followed with the 4-H Club car carrying its queen. Then came the car carrying the "Pontiac Ice Queen of 1957," Sandra Stockton, 17, of 76 S. Avery Rd., a member of the Northside Community Club.

With Sandra were two club members, Jane Bentham, 16, of 241 Nelson St., and Karen McAleer, 10, of 351 Auburn Ave., all in glittering attire.

The Pontiac Sports Car Club followed with a display of new foreign cars. The crowd then saw an all-girl drill team, the Rae-vens and Rae-Venettes, and the quick-stepping Oxford High School Band.

SCHOOL FLOATS

A float sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce then ushered in a stunning array of floats sponsored by area schools.

* * *

The schools represented were Mark Twain, Bagley, Will Rogers, LeBaron, Eastern Junior High and Fairlawn. Also represented were the Pontiac Boys' Club and the YMCA.

Setting the kids' floats off were the Waterford Township High School Band, the Chief Pontiac and the Waterford Saddle Club.

Clearing the way for the big finale were two mail trucks from the post office, reminding people to mail their gifts and cards early, and the Pontiac junior high schools massed band.

* * *

Snow Dumped in Northern Section

December Chills the East as Far South as Florida

CHICAGO (INS) — December opened in the Eastern part of the nation with a cold wave yesterday, dumping snow in the North and carrying freezing temperatures as far South as Florida.

* * *

While most of rest of the country enjoyed fair weather, strong north winds pushed cold air through the Southeast, dropping the mercury in Miami to 40 and tumbling temperatures all the way to Cuba and Central America.

The chilly winds scattered snow through the Northeast, leaving an inch or 2 in parts of western New York state and Pennsylvania, and covering northern Maine with as much as 6 inches.

Except for rain and a little snow in the Pacific Northwest, generally fair weather reigned over the West, Central and Southern states.

* * *

Temperatures climbed in areas from the Rockies to the Great Lakes and lower Ohio Valley. Early morning temperatures were generally above freezing in North Dakota and 60-degree levels were recorded through the plains as far north as Nebraska.

Cold continued in northern New England last night, with below zero readings as the rule. The frigid winds are expected to subside slowly today.

Temperatures will average about three degrees below normal for the next five days. Normal maximum 38, normal minimum 26. Rather minor day-to-day changes in temperature until colder Saturday. Thursday likely the warmest day.

Precipitation will total around ¼ inch or less as snow Tuesday and Thursday and flurries other days.

Ike's Progress Still Excellent

Will Be Able to Attend Cabinet Meeting Today After Farm Weekend

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower got another excellent progress report from his doctor today at the start of his second week of recovery from his mild stroke a week ago today.

* * *

The report strengthened the prospect that Eisenhower will be able to take part in an afternoon Cabinet meeting in Washington.

The latest word from the President's farm home came a bit in advance of his scheduled departure by automobile for Washington. He spent the weekend at his country place on the edge of town.

Attendance at the Cabinet meeting would be Eisenhower's first trip to the executive office area of the White House since he was stricken.

LIGHT WORK ROUTINE

Convalescing rapidly, Eisenhower has been handling a light work routine since last Wednesday. He still is under doctors' orders to take it easy for several weeks.

* * *

Yesterday morning the President bundled up in a heavy navy blue overcoat and went for a 40-minute drive in cold but sunny weather.

* * *

During the afternoon the President and Mrs. Eisenhower visited with their four grandchildren and the parents of the youngsters, Army Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower. The children and their parents spent the weekend at their own home located on a corner of the President's farm.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission to Act on Light Agenda Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — What appears to be a light agenda faces Birmingham city commissioners tonight. Only one public hearing, that of the proposed relocation of the easement across the YMCA property, is listed.

Detroit Edison Co. has a plant located within the easement but does not object to the proposed vacation, providing a utility easement is granted across the southerly 12 feet of the YMCA property. The area parallels the southern line of Lincoln avenue between Edgewood and Floyd streets.

Included in the city manager's report will be his summation of a resolution covering changes in parking lots. The plan includes relocation of parking meters to provide wider time ranges in the various lots.

Commissioners also will consider the question of an easement across city property necessary for the construction of the North Evergreen Intercepter Sewer.

The Chamber of Commerce this week informed Birmingham motorists of the adoption of a new license plate policy. The 1958 plates, in the event of a trade-in, would be removed from the car and transferred to the new vehicle.

If a car is sold directly, plates cannot be transferred. They must be removed and returned to the Secretary of State.

Service yesterday at Lutheran Church of the Ascension saw Douglas Carr, James and Paul Kokones and Albert Smith performing their first service as acolytes. Reinstalled to office were Steve Hunt, George Kinna, and Bob and Garry Simanecek.

MRS. LESTER LUDWIG

Service is pending at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home for Mrs. Lester Ludwig, 44, of 18227 Amherst Rd. She died this morning at William Beaumont Hospital after a short illness.

A native of Gowrie, Iowa, she came to Birmingham from Detroit seven years ago. She was a substitute teacher in the Birmingham School System and a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a daughter, Karen Ann, and a son, Gary; four sisters, Miss Marian Anderson, and Mrs. T. E. Sandstrom, both of Rock Island, Ill., Mrs. Francis Dixon of Gowrie and Mrs. Gerald Matson of Michigan City, Ill., and a brother Duane Anderson, of Gowrie.

A Honolulu City worker, Herman J. Palenapa Jr., 33, was electrocuted while testing a power line. He was the only fatality.

An unidentified person at Hanapepe on Kauai suffered minor forehead cuts from glass when a tree came through a picture window in his home.

The major hotels were in no danger and surf board riders were out yesterday for some of the best rides of the year.

The Weather Bureau reported that although damage was light thus far, heavy winds could be expected to topple trees from the rainsoaked island ground.

The storm center was expected to come no closer to the islands than 50 to 60 miles west of Kauai, the Weather Bureau said. It is traveling northward.

Thugs Beat Policeman; Then Car Hits Him!

MONTREAL (AP) — A constable was badly beaten by three men in a lane yesterday and then run down by a car accidentally as he tried to reach a call box to summon help.

★ ★ ★

The policeman, Norman Dufresne, 22, suffered severe head and body bruises and concusions. He was unconscious for several hours after he was brought to a hospital.

★ ★ ★

Dufresne told detectives three men jumped him when he investigated suspicious noises.

Police said Dufresne was struck by a car driven by Yvon Gosselin as he crossed Rosemount Boulevard.

Sir Francis Drake explored the coast of California in 1579.

Many sawmills now use high-pressure jets of water to strip the bark from logs about to be processed.

Discuss Appeal of Girard Case

Japanese Prosecutors Don't Agree on Asking Stiffer Penalty

TOKYO (INS) — Top Japanese government prosecutors have failed to reach an agreement on whether to appeal the suspended three year sentence for GI William Girard, but another meeting is planned before the midnight Tuesday deadline.

Prosecutor General Tadashi Hanai, the counterpart of the attorney general in the U. S., told newsmen no decision was made on the appeal question during today's 1½-hour meeting with the trial prosecutors who favor an appeal.

He added, however, that "the public's fever over the Girard case has died down considerably" and said "another trial would set it afire all over again so I doubt if another trial will be held."

An appeal is permissible in Japan even though the government won its case. The idea of an appeal—tantamount to a new trial—would be to try and get a heavier sentence from another court.

★ ★ ★

Should the government decide against an appeal, the 22-year-old Ottawa, Ill., soldier will be permitted to return to the U. S. with his Japanese wife. He was convicted of manslaughter last month in the death of a Japanese woman shell picker on an Army firing range.

Muscular Dystrophy Marchers Out Tuesday

Doorbells will ring throughout the Pontiac area Tuesday night as volunteer workers for the Muscular Dystrophy campaign seek funds to help wipe out the disease.

About 300 marchers will be stationed in all parts of the city to visit residents between 7 and 9 p.m. One fourth of the funds collected will remain in Oakland County to aid patients.

Heading the night march will be William J. Brown, 110 S. Tilden St., and Mrs. N. Reid Graham, of 705 Joslyn Ave. The Waterford Township area will be under the direction of Mrs. W. G. McIlroy, of 97 Ascot St.

President's Mild Stroke Stirs Old Dispute

When Does Vice President Take Over!

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nothing happened this time. Nobody took President Eisenhower's powers away from him. Atty. Gen. Rogers said no one had to. But the fact Rogers got into the picture at all revives an old dispute.

Vice President Nixon, after Eisenhower's mild stroke last week, told newsmen Rogers had informed him and other Cabinet members that no delegation of powers to anyone else was necessary.

Rogers, asked how he came to give such an opinion, said he was requested to do so by the White House staff. He said he stated his views after a "full discussion" with Eisenhower's doctors.

The doctors had reported the President's slight stroke — they avoided use of the word stroke — was apparently "mild and transitory" and that his reading, writing and reasoning were not affected.

But asking Rogers at all for his opinion — even though he is the highest legal officer in the government — raises a critical constitutional question about the future:

If at some other time Eisenhower suffers an illness that makes his ability to carry out his duties questionable, who decides that he can or can't do his job? The attorney general?

There's nothing in the Constitution which says the attorney general has or has not such power. The Constitution is vague on this whole question.

All the Constitution says is that if the President can't perform his duties, the vice president steps in. But there never has been agreement on these questions which spring from the vagueness:

When and how and by whom is the decision made that a president can't do his job and that the vice president should step in And, if the vice president does step in, is it temporary or permanent?

Does he step back into the vice presidency if the President recovers? And who decides that a president has recovered? Or is a president automatically out of office once his vice president takes over his duties

And further: Suppose a president knows he's too disabled to do his jo ut refuses to let the ice president carry out his duties? Or suppose he's disaled and unconscious. Who decides then?

Eisenhower himself sought to clear up this constitutional mess earlier this year by asking — Brownell — an amendment to carry out two basic proposals he made.

New Zealand Head Adds Plea for A-Test Ban

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand's Prime Minister-elect, Walter Nash, today joined Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi in calling for a ban on nuclear weapon tests.

★ ★ ★

Nash, whose Labor Party won control of Parliament in elections Saturday, came out against the tests at a state luncheon in honor of the visiting Japanese Premier.

U.S. Welcomes Morocco's King

The sudden illness of President EISENHOWER placed the burden of Washington conferences with King MOHAMMED V of Morocco on Secretary of State DULLES.

Among things to be discussed will be the future of U.S. bomber bases leased from the French in 1950 before Morocco achieved its independence. In October, 1956, the U.S. renounced its extraterritorial rights held in that country since 1878.

King MOHAMMED V and President BOURGUIBA of Tunisia are allies of France as well as leaders in the Arab world. They represent moderate groups in contrast to those supporting NASSER of Egypt.

Both King Mohammed V and President Bourguiba have proposed mediation toward settlement of the Algerian question. The French government hastily and emotionally rejected the offer but Foreign Minister Pineau and others seem inclined to listen. It is stressed that the National Liberation Front in Algeria is interested in independence, not sovereignty.

★ ★ ★

King MOHAMMED is the religious as well as the political leader of 8 million Moslems who are friendly to the West. He is welcomed in this country as a symbol of orderly change and progress in North Africa.

High Court to Decide Offshore Oil Dispute

In a suit before the Supreme Court, the U. S. Department of Justice contends that no state's claim to offshore oil should go beyond the three mile limit.

The controversy has been going on for years and was complicated further in 1953 when Congress, backed by the Administration, turned over offshore oil lands to the states by passing the Submerged Lands Act. The question of where those boundaries are in the Gulf of Mexico was not decided at that time.

★ ★ ★

Traditionally the distance is three miles out into the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. That has been our position in international law. But Congress said that in the area of the Gulf of Mexico it might be ten miles. Final decision was left to the courts to establish where the state's alleged ownership ends and the Federal Government takes over the right to exploit to the end of the continental shelf, in some cases 150 miles.

★ ★ ★

Settlement of boundaries in the Gulf area is most important. Huge sums have been spent by oil companies in developing wells beyond the three-mile limit. The question to be decided is whether the revenues derived from these sources shall go to the Federal Government for the benefit of the whole country, or to the states involved.

Tiger Trade Leaves Much to Be Desired

Our talented colleague, Brother KEARNS, Pontiac PRESS Sports impresario, probably disagrees completely, but the current Tiger deal leaves some of us strangely disaffected.

Ignoring the riff-raff and granting the two clubs came out even there, it simmers down to MARTIN for TUTTLE. TUTTLE was a pretty sorry figure at the plate last season, clubbing a dismal .251 which really is tantamount to abject surrender on the part of the outfielder.

At the same time, he is the second finest defensive outfielder in the two major leagues. Boston's Piersall outpoints him, for Piersall outpoints everyone.

Oddly, Martin has the same batting average as Tuttle. Martin is a "holler guy" and the Tiger team played most of last year in a polite and disinterested calm. If Martin can shake them out of their summer-long lethargy, it will be worth something.

★ ★ ★

However, the net result of all this doesn't ring any loud bells or give cause for 21 gun salutes. The Detroit newspaper headline which said "Tigers Set Sights on Flag in '58" is a big smile.

★ ★ ★

We hope it's true.

We hope so devoutly. We like baseball and the Tiger ball park isn't far away. But off season enthusiasm mustn't dull all sense of values.

Pennant? If the Tigers are any part of a threat for the pennant it will be because they award flags for finishing fourth.

The Man About Town

Christmas Trees

Traffic Opens With Home Grown on Market

Politics: What a certain man's illness causes most of us to forget.

The annual Christmas tree trek has started. Truck loads of them on the Dixie Highway are numerous. In a few days 'twill average a truck a minute.

A glance at the map will show you that most of these trees from Northern Michigan that are bound for Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and other large metropolitan districts come through our county.

Christmas trees grown in the Pontiac area will be on the market this year in larger numbers than ever before. They generally are from seedlings started 15 to 20 years ago, and usually are better proportioned and more symmetrical than those from the north which often are one-sided from their crowded growth. Home grown trees also do not show the effects of being so tightly packed for the long trip.

Our county uses about 100,000 Christmas trees each year, but the number transported through it runs over a million.

All entries in our postage contest who reported more than 700 combinations are requested to send in how each combination was secured, if they have not already done so. Please do so at once. Awarding of the prizes awaits your reply.

A few of the very small lakes in the Pontiac area have a thin skim of ice on them, but none is safe. It will require some near-zero weather to make them so. I've promised that I'll let the public know when the ice is safe. Take no chances. Watch this column. I'm watching the lakes.

David Lawrence Observes:

Russian People's Fear Deters War

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Russian people's fear of another war is today the greatest deterrent of war. It is the chief reason why the Kremlin will not risk steps that can provoke a war.

This simple truth is both the assurance of peace and the key to peace.

Sometimes, with all the hysteria that arises when there is introduced on the scene a spectacular weapon of devastating force, such as the intercontinental missile, there is a tendency to fail to see the forest for the trees.

People — not weapons — are the key to peace.

This challenging fact was borne in on the writer over the weekend as he conversed with a taxi driver in New York City who spoke with an accent that was evidently European.

★ ★ ★

"What country did you come from?" I asked.

"The Ukraine," he answered. "I left there when I was 18. I was a soldier in the czar's army when the revolution happened in 1917."

"Did you and your people expect the revolution?"

"No, we were positive it couldn't happen. We hoped for it, but we were convinced the czar was the strongest man in the world and that his army would crush any revolution quickly."

"But were the people dissatisfied —and had they been talking revolution?"

"Oh, yes," he said. "They were bitter. They didn't like the war. The separation of families and the casualties were terrible. The people were hungry and they thought a revolution would give them all the land the czar had. They were uncivilized—I mean uneducated."

★ ★ ★

"What do you think are the chances of a revolution now?"

"Much better. The people are educated now. They have heard what freedom is like—they can't help learning about it somehow as they get more education."

"What would bring about revolution?"

"If they become afraid of another war—they just won't stand for war."

★ ★ ★

The foregoing is typical of what many prominent refugees have been telling this writer. It is a reflection of the feeling of people in any country as they face a tyrannical government. They will endure hardships. They will refrain from overt acts as long as they can.

But once the threat of destruction appears, revolution becomes preferable. Desperate measures then are inevitable as the army itself joins the people in revolt.

This psychological behavior is well established by historical experience. But, strangely enough, those who direct or control our propaganda do not take advantage of it. Maybe it is because they don't get enough cooperation from the spokesmen for American policy.

★ ★ ★

Certainly America pulled a "boner" on the "Sputnik" episode —but not the kind generally supposed. The error wasn't just the fact that Russia launched the satellite first or that the United States was allegedly caught napping.

The "boner" was in America's failure to take advantage of the opportunity to tell the people of Soviet Russia what new dangers the "Sputnik" really created for them.

It is a safe bet that if the United States had shot the first "Sputnik" into outer space, the Moscow propaganda machine would have worked around the clock for days and days broadcasting to the Soviet people the accusation that a "warmongering nation" had begun a new era of intimidation.

Belatedly the Moscow broadcasts have begun to criticize severely the U.S. Senate Investigating Committee for its effort to accelerate the production of missiles as a countermove.

This is clear recognition of a basic truth—that, as more and more deadly weapons are produced, the fears of the people in Russia will grow and top rulers there must find the only justification for war in the doctrine of self-defense.

★ ★ ★

America must repeat constantly that it will never attack first. The Soviet people who know the arbitrariness of their rulers must be reminded that the real danger is that their own leaders will miscalculate and plunge the world into war.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Avoid 'Spray Infection' When Visiting Flu Victim

In a recent symposium of doctors, one expressed the opinion that the Asian flu vaccine may not be so safe or so efficacious as the exploiters believe it is.

DR. BRADY

One reason is that several types of virus or germs have been found responsible for the illness in different areas and in the same area. So a vaccine that might be useful against one type of flu would be ineffective or maybe dangerous in other types.

As nearly as I can learn from medical journals, the safe and sensible course to pursue under the threat of Asian flu or any other respiratory infection is the course I have always tried to teach here:

(1) Keep well. It takes just two words to say this, a cyclopedia to tel you how—The Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, in 23 volumettes, each a Little Lesson to carry in purse or pocketbook and read in what would otherwise be idle moments.

(2) Be aware of the 5-foot range of moisture spray of ordinary conversation. Across a desk, aisle, room or the back fence is generally beyond range — but shouting, loud laughter, sneezing or coughing may reach a target 10 or 12 feet from the muzzle, so you may share with your neighbor whatever you've got.

★ ★ ★

I believe droplet or spray infection—germs or virus carried in moisture droplets, perhaps invisibly, and impalpably fine droplets as well as roplets you can see or feel—given off from mouth or nose of one who has the disease or is coming down with it—accounts for most cases of measles, scarlet fever, whooping - cough, diphtheria, influenza, tonsillitis, epidemic meningitis, poliomyelitis, mumps, chicken pox, smallpox, pneumonia, tuberculosis.

Knowledge of spray infection and how to avoid it is essential for prevention of the CRI. Cri is a coined word, pronounced kree. It means Common Respiratory Infection.

Favorite places to give or take the cri: At your dentist's hair dresser's, barber's, manicurist's, oculist's, optometrist's. Every day a lot of grief is passed back and forth at the teller' or ticket seller's window.

Droplet or spray infection is the usual way in which the flu, Asian or American, spreads. We should use the same precautions against it as we do against whooping cough or diphtheria.

'Flint Has One; Why Can't We?'

Recently I noticed that Flint had a U. S. Weather Bureau office. Why can't Pontiac get in the big leagues and have one? People are just as interested in weather here as they are in Flint. Many times it rains in Detroit and not Pontiac. Consequently our report is untrue.

'It Just Doesn't Seem Very Fair'

It's no wonder poor people turn to communism and socialism and such.

The other day I ran across a New York paper in a library and it showed the home of a New York society lady and her dining room set for Thanksgiving dinner. It told about her walls paneled in pale blue porcelain to match her ceilings, and I showed her big fancy crystal chandelier and silver and china and whatall.

I suppose I'd do the same thing with my money if I had that much, but I wonder what all those poor people in the New York slums thought when they saw that, when they couldn't even afford to buy enough to eat. The price of just a fork or spoon from that table would probably buy enough to feed most families. Somehow it doesn't seem fair.

'Can't Something Be Done to Roads?'

I know the Township is very short of money, but isn't there something Waterford can do about the miserable roads out there? You could almost drop out of sight in some of the holes in the streets. But on the other hand, I guess it's a good way to keep local economy up. Our area depends a good deal on the sale of cars, and you have to buy a car about twice as often when you drive over roads like that every day.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Family Should Share Problems

Lorna hated her father. Yet he had made his mistake in good faith. Like millions of dads, he had tried to carry too much of the family load. So organize a family council. Indulge in a group confessional. And tactfully lean upon your kids for more help and advice.

★ ★ ★

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-361: Lorna P., aged 13, is now a problem child at school.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, she seems very hostile to her father," Lorna's teacher began.

"And her mother is dead, so she apparently lacks the emotional security at home which a teenager needs.

"Would you mind seeing her for a few minutes after your lecture to our student assembly this morning?"

WRONG CODDLING

In my interview with Lorna, I found that she felt almost hateful toward her father.

"He fibbed to me," she finally burst out and began to cry.

"He sent me off last summer to spend a few weeks with my cousins in California.

"For he said he and Mother wanted to take a pleasure trip alone. Well, I didn't mind that.

"But later I found out that Mother had cancer and was really going to the hospital for a dangerous operation.

"And she died while I was still in California!

"Dr. Crane, if only I had known what was going on, I would have been much nicer to her those last few months of her life.

"And I certainly would never have deserted her to go on a vacation trip to see my cousins in California.

★ ★ ★

"So I feel resentful at my father because he tricked me like that. Why didn't he let me know what was going on so I could have tried to help?"

FAMILY TEAMWORK

"Lorna, your father made a mistake," I admitted, "but he did it with the best of intentions. He wanted to shield you. And so did your mother.

"He was worried and so distressed he probably couldn't sleep at night. So he simply felt there was no sense in keeping you upset and fearful, too.

"Like many a good father, he was trying to carry too much of the load in his mistaken idea that he would be making you happier that way.

"Millions of other wonderful dads would have done exactly what he did, so take my 'Test for a Good Dad' and go home tonight and rate him thereon.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sure you'll find that he is super in most respects, even if he failed to encourage proper teamwork in the family."

LEAN ON CHILDREN

Parents, beware lest you stunt your child's emotional growth!

Don't concentrate so completely on vitamins, polio shots and other medical aids that you forget the spiritual and psychological needs of youngsters.

What good is a big, strapping body if it houses a pygmy soul or a stunted emotional life?

"Man does not live by bread alone," Jesus stated, and that means we require more than material food and medicine.

So lean upon your children more often, this will bolster their ego and give them the feeling of importance.

Too often we make our children "leaners." We tie them to our apron strings and mollycoddle them, though unwittingly.

So share your family troubles. Have a family council meeting at the dinner table and encourage this type of group confessional.

Then your kids will realize why they can't have as many luxuries as some of their playmates. And instead of blaming you, they will cooperate with you to solve your family dilemmas.

And let them rate you parents on my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents." Enclose a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit) for your copy.

As they rate you, they will begin to realize more of your responsibilities and also tend to assume a larger share of the load.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

Malinovsky Hopes There's Reds Out 'Thar'

VIENNA (INS)—There's a story going the rounds here, and probably elsewhere, that the Americans have a new roeket called "The Civil Servant." It won't work and you can't fire it.

As the end product of a long line of government employes, I have lodged a formal protest with Chancellor Raab.

In a little informal talk with Marshal Malinovsky, after the Hearst interview with the new Soviet defense minister, one of us said to him:

"Looks like the only thing that tant Hi-Fi recording center. The big American recording com-Americans together again as allies would be the approach to-ward earth of an armed flying saucer from outer space." The marshal considered this in his ponderous way and then said very seriously:

"I would first want to see his papers before firing."

Mally apparently thinks there might be some party members out there in space.

If the Vienna telephone company isn't the last word in thoughtful service it will do until something truly adequate comes along.

In addition to being able to dial numbers that tell him the time of day and predict the weather for the next few days, the Viennese phone user can get the latest skiing information, the dope on what plays and movies are in town and times of performances, bedtime stories to lull a child to sleep, the top popular tune of the week, a practice dictation period for students of shorthand, and an authentic "A" for persons musically inclined.

But our favorite here is to dial the number 1563. The voice that answers is the recorded bleep bleep bleep of the Sputnik.

Vienna has become an important Hi-Fi recording center, the panies have recently discovered its charms, the charms being, let us say, more than somewhat based on the fact that you can get a fine musician here to work three hours for $9, about one-twentieth of the cost of one of Petrillo's boys in New York or Hollywood.

English is a beautiful language, too beautiful to have missed out on words as touching as sympatico and auf wiedersehn.

One of the more haunting memories of our trip will be that of the tomb of Lenin and Stalin.

We stood in Moscow's frigid, snow-swept Red Square an hour before our part of the silent and endless line reached the door.

Two stone faced young soldiers stood like statues on either side of it, their rifles at parade rest. The visitor turns left, goes down a flight of black marble steps, turns right again and enters the eerie room where the Red leaders lie.

They are in identical, large hermetically sealed glass caskets, their faces and tunics rather brightly lighted.

Each head has pressed a neat indent in the black silk pillows. Lenin wears an odd black jacket, with large breast pockets. Stalin is in uniform with six rows of ribbons and two orders of Lenin. Four armed guards face them, still as death. The crowd files past, like mute sheep and soon you are bent against the Arctic blasts of Red Square once more.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOTHER GOOSE

QUESTION: Was there ever a real Mother Goose?

ANSWER: For more than 200 years there have been verses and jingles for children known as "Mother Goose Rhymes." The first of these were gathered by a Frenchman named Perrault and published in 1695. At one time it was said that the teller of these tales was Queen Goosefoot, the mother of King Charlemagne, a lady celebrated for her collection of wonderful tales. From France the stories were carried to England, translated and published by John Newberry, the first person to bring out books there for children. It seems certain that the English poet Oliver Goldsmith took an active part in producing this work. In America, the authorship was attributed to Elizabeth Goose, the mother-in-law of a Boston publisher. So, today, it isn't certain who Mother Goose was or whether she really existed. But her rhymes have delighted children for generations.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Color this picture, paste it on cardboard, cut and fold back the easel ends so that the panel will stand up. You will want to look up a book of Mother Goose stories and read some of them again.

Ike Sends Ships To Mardi Gras

Tasmanians Get Wish

HOBART, Tasmania (AP) — Parishioners of Bellerive, a small Hobart suburb, wanted a U.S. warship in town for their annual Mardi gras.

★ ★ ★

They thought U.S. sailors would add fun to their festival, so they asked President Eisenhower to send one of his ships.

Then they realized there would be heavy port costs. The government would not help them.

So the parish priest of Bellerive, the Rev. R. Lee-Archer, and the secretary of Roman Catholic organizing committee, J. W. Cootzee, wrote Eisenhower another letter:

★ ★ ★

"Don't send your ship Mr. President," they said. "We might not be able to meet the port costs."

"Don't worry about the money — the ships are coming anyway," the President wrote back in effect.

Today four ships of the U.S. 52nd Destroyer Division arrived in Sydney after a 5,000 mile cruise from America on their way to Hobart.

They are the destroyers Brown, Duncan, Brinkley-Bass and Bradford.

Commodore W. Finn, in charge of the division, said in Sydney he had received orders from Honolulu to go to Hobart for the Catholic Mardi gras to be held at Bellerive Dec. 6-7.

★ ★ ★

The parishioners of Belerive are delighted at the turn of events.

"Four ships!" exclaimed Father Lee-Archer. "We are sure to have a wonderful Mardi gras now."

Cadillac

A Masterpiece...Even by Cadillac Standards!

The Cadillac car for 1958 is, without any question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac . . . a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no adequate precedent insofar as beauty and majesty are concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury, or so many passenger conveniences in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own extraordinary pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, its improved power steering and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are a revelation.

In the way it looks, in the way it rides, and in the way it drives—this is Cadillac's finest!

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to investigate all three aspects of this magnificent new Cadillac very soon.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on each of Cadillac's twelve beautiful new models for 1958, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham.

Officer in Navy Shot by Posse

Kelly Killed 1, Injured 2 Before Death; Shooting Started at Club

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—A chief petty officer who had been in the Navy 22 years was shot to death in an exchange of gunfire with a sheriff's posse at a remote area early yesterday.

He was William H. Kelly, 39, who killed another Navy man a few hours earlier and wounded two men in a desperate bid to escape.

★ ★ ★

Kelly opened fire from a range of six to eight yards as the posse of about 40 officers approached him on a road in Osceola National Forest at about 2 a.m.

"It was a miracle that no one was hit by Kelly from that short distance," Cmdr. T. C. Dean of Sanford Naval Air Station said.

Dean, base administrative officer and a member of the posse, said Kelly was cut down by a shotgun blast after firing four shots with a pistol.

Kelly, who had been drinking, shot and killed C.P.O. Floyd E. Dobbins, Jr., 36, during an argument in the chiefs' club at the naval air station Saturday night, Dean said.

Cmdr. Lewis D. "Tammy, base executive officer, said the slaying apparently stemmed from an argument 10 days ago at the club. Dobbins worked at the club when off duty. He had refused to serve Kelly when the latter took a friend to the club who was not entitled to admittance.

While trying to leave the base after shooting Dobbins, Kelly was confronted by C.P.O. J. R. Van Landingham 28, who was on duty as a gate guard. Kelly shot Van Landingham. He was listed in poor condition at Orlando Hospital.

The wanted man fled in a car to the national forest, 10 miles from the base. At the forest entrance he shot Ranger W. H. Jones of Maitland. Jones attempted to stop Kelly while making a routine check of all vehicles entering the forest. He was listed in good condition in a hospital.

★ ★ ★

Kelly's car left the road and overturned, Dean said, and he was injured. The posse, aided by bloodhounds, was moving up a road when Kelly opened fire while crouched in a ditch. He shot four times and six were returned by the posse. Members of the posse fired six shots, one a buckshot blast from a shotgun which caught Kelly just above the left eye.

★ ★ ★

Dobbins, who had been in the Navy 17 years, was a widower with five children ranging in age from 12 to 3 years. They visited him at the base Thanksgiving Day. Four were here when he was killed. The youngest child returned to Sebring Saturday, where the five have been living with Dobbins' mother.

Kelly was married and the father of a 5-year-old son.

London to Be Ingrid's Home for Next Year

LONDON (AP)—Ingrid Bergman said today she is taking an apartment in London and will live here for at least a year.

The Swedish-born actress, who separated from Italian producer-director Roberto Rossellini last month, explained she has two more films to make in Britain. Her current picture, "Indiscreet," which she is making with Cary Grant, is scheduled to be finished in early February.

★ ★ ★

Miss Bergman said she would spend Christmas in Rome with her three children by Rossellini, then bring them to London and put them in school. She added that she and the children probably would return to Italy for a summer vacation.

★ ★ ★

The actress' lawyer is due in London tonight from Rome. She said he is coming in connection with negotiations on a film contract but added he possibly wanted to discuss some details of her separation agreement. Miss Bergman and Rossellini have announced no plans to get a divorce. Her husband is now in Rome.

Girl, 6, Finds Bodies of Two

She Spots Murdered Men in Back of Auto Near Home

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—A curious six-year-old girl peered into the back of a sedan parked here yesterday and found the bullet-riddled bodies of two former dock workers.

The child, Kathy Percussi, came upon the blood-spattered four door sedan in front of her home.

The dead men, victims of a gangland style assassination, had been dead for three days, and police said they were apparently shot elsewhere.

They were identified as Patrick ("Paddy the Priest") Martinetti, 45, and Marino Romito, 28.

Police here said they knew of no motive for the double shooting but said it could have involved revenge for a gambling debt or may have been connected with the transportation of bootleg liquor.

In New York, Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm announced that police there would "make inquiries" into the slaying to see if it shed any light on the assassination last October of gangland chieftain Albert Anastasia.

State Traffic Deaths Still Below 1958

LANSING (AP) — Michigan last month continued to improve on its traffic safety record as measured by reduced fatalities, provisional state police figures for November showed today.

Deaths chargeable to November reported to date numbered 123, or 22 fewer than for November, 1956.

The first 11 months' comaprison, using provisional figures subject to upward revision for October and November, listed 1,367 deaths this year and 1,689 in 1956, a reduction of 222.

This put the state well ahead of its goal for 1957 of cutting deaths 175 or 10 per cent below last year.

State police said fatalities have shown a decline in each of the last 20 months as compared with the corresponding month a year earlier—with the exception of June, 1957 and September, 1956.

Warren Crash Victim Dies 2nd, Final Time

DETROIT (AP) — John D. MacFarland, 58, of suburban Warren, died yesterday of injuries suffered Nov. 21 when his car struck a tree.

The day after the accident MacFarland's heart stopped beating for 90 seconds. Surgeons opened his chest and massaged his heart until it began pumping again.

NINE DIED — A head-on crash on U. S. 89, seven miles north of Nogales, Ariz., Saturday night left nine persons dead and two injured. Six of the dead were airmen from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, traveling in the car at the left. The accident was called the worst in the history of the highway by authorities. AP Facsimile

The meat of a hippopotamus is good to eat, tasting something like beef. Plenty for leftovers.

British Post Office $8,643,428 in Red

LONDON (AP)—The British post office today reported its first postal deficit in 35 years.

Postmaster General Ernest Marples blamed the shortage of 3,086,938 pounds ($8,643,428) to staff pay raises during the year totaling 4,700,000 pounds ($13,160,000). Postal and telephone charges were recently increased to offset the pay grants.

Southfield Attorney Named to State Post

James Clark, Southfield Township attorney, was named today by Gov. G. Mennen Williams to the State Water Safety Study Commission.

His appointment brings to three Oakland County appointees on the commission which is charged with devising a safety code for Michigan's inland lakes.

Other Oakland members are Donald Adams and Marshall Johnson, of Waterford Township.

Clark is a member of the Oakland County Democratic Committee and heads the Southfield Township party group.

3 Soldiers Found Asphyxiated in Motel

NORTH AUGUSTA, S. C. (AP)—Three Army privates on a weekend pass from nearby Ft. Gordon, Ga., were found dead in a motel yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Army doctors performed autopsies and said the deaths resulted from carbon monoxide poisoning.

City police identified them as Edward W. Lloyd 23; Norman A. Roberts, 18; and Rodney W. Davidson, 18.

The motel proprietor said he turned the automatic natural gas heater on "low" when the soldiers checked in Saturday.

Pravda Says 700,000 Youths Go to Siberia

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda, Communist party newspaper, said today 700,000 Soviet youth volunteers have been resettled in recent years on new lands in Sibera and at construction sites.

The paper cited the figure as evidence that young Communists are cooperating in building Soviet strength.

ALBION YOUTH GETS 4-H AWARD — Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson, center, presents the National 4-H Citizenship award to Wendell Crites, 18, of Albion, and Wildon Story, 19, of Garden City, Ga., at a session of the National 4-H Club Congress now in progress in Chicago. Awards, made possible by trust fund established in honor of Mr. Wilson, consist of $400 scholarship each to winning boy and girl. Each also receives silver trophy and an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Congress.

600 See Dedication

ROCHESTER — Some 600 area people attended the dedication of the new Rochester High School Sunday afternoon. Ceremonies, held in the newly completed gymnasium, opened with music by the Rochester High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Ward T. Reid. Monte Clute, president of the Student Council presided.

★ ★ ★

Homer Wing Post No. 172, American Legion, presented a beautiful American Flag in the opening ceremony, followed by the national anthem played by the band, with the audience participating.

Donald C. Baldwin, Superintendent of Schools, introduced the special guests who have had a vital part in the building of the new school. They represented the Curriculum Planning Committee, Citizens Advisory Committee and the architects and construction companies directly responsible for the new buildings.

Included in his introduction was former superintendent of Rochester Schools, E. Dale Kennedy of Lansing.

Dr. William Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools, said: "This is a happy and memorable event at a school which will serve you well and I bring you congratulations and greetings from Oakland County and your sister schools of Oakland County."

Harlan Johnson, principal of Rochester Senior High School, spoke briefly and enumerated the specific gifts which had been presented by various classes of the high school, local organizations, clubs and individuals.

Dr. Clifford Erickson, dean of the School of Education of Michigan State University, said in his address that "Oakland County is a county of great interest to us at present, and has been very helpful to MSU. In a short time, we can invite all of you to our birthday party."

★ ★ ★

National unity and political stability in this country are responsible for our good schools, and we do not have to make any apologies for our schools of today," he said. "There are more students in Michigan schools than in the whole of England," he adedd.

He congratulated the people of Rochester and its surrounding area for their foresight and determination to have good schools.

Area Youths Injured in Romeo Accident

ROMEO—Two area young people miraculously escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when their car hit a railroad crossing and rolled over several times, landing in a field.

The accident occurred on Romeo Plank road, near 33 Mile road. Lewis Langtry, 20, of 1940 Lakeville Rd., Oxford, and his companion, Carol Rowe, 18, of 11655 West 31 Mile Rd., Romeo, both suffered lacerations of the face and head. They were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Langtry was ticketed for reckless driving by Romeo State Police.

Civilian to Take Over as Cyprus Governor

LONDON (AP)—Sir Hugh Foot flew to Cyprus today to take up his new post of governor of Britain's troubled Mediterranean island colony.

★ ★ ★

Foot, 50-year-old former governor of Jamaica, succeeds Field Marshal Sir John Harding. The soldier was sent to Cyprus two years ago when the EOKA underground's guerrilla campaign for union with Greece was at its height.

★ ★ ★

Many observers view Harding's replacement by a civilian as a sign that the British hope a peaceful solution of the Cyprus controversy is in the offing. Recently, however, there have been signs that the violence might flare up again.

Commerce Methodists to Hold Steak Dinner

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Building Committee of Commerce Methodist Church has completed plans for a swiss steak dinner to be held from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Committee members have extended an open invitation to the public. The dinner will be served in the dining room of the new church.

Funds realized from the project will be used to reduce the church debt.

Among church members who will take an active part in staging the dinner are Mrs. Mike Kinport, Mrs. Clayton Wideman, Mrs. Edward A. Beaupre, Harry Colestock, Mrs. Howard North and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wheeler.

Leslie Thomas is chairman of the Building Committee.

Jenner Withdrawal Puzzles Politicians

Jenner made his announcement in a two-paragraph letter made public by Robert W. Matthews, Republican state chairman.

Jenner, 49, declined to amplify it and told The Associated Press: "There are many reasons. Most of the reasons are personal. At any rate—they're all mine. Some might be misunderstood if I elaborated on the statement."

★ ★ ★

Jenner said he will practice law in Indianapolis with Jack C. Brown, who resigned recently as federal district attorney.

Democratic leaders asserted he was retiring because he foresaw defeat in 1958, but most observers felt his chances of victory would have been at least even.

Republicans had counted on him to lead the state ticket next year.

Village to Solicit on Wednesday in New Chest Drive

NORTH BRANCH — A North Branch village and township Community Chest drive was launched this week at a meeting held at the local high school. Solicitation for funds will begin Wednesday.

A goal of $3,200 has been set.

Until a permanent organization has been established, the following officers will serve: chairman, Duane Welke; vice chairman, Mrs. Mary Schmidkt; secretary, Mrs. Alma Naracon; treasurer, Stewart Butterfield, and rural director, Gabrielle Swoish.

★ ★ ★

The drive will give local backing to Scout work, Salvation Army, State United Fund program, Red Cross, polio and cancer drives.

Adenauer Recovering From Influenza Attack

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today was reported making good progress toward complete recovery from an attack of influenza which put him to bed.

A spokesman said the 81-year old Chancellor no longer had any fever and that the course of the illness was normal. Adenauer has been confined to his home for five days.

The spokesman added Adenauer would be able to attend the NATO summit meeting opening in Paris Dec. 16.

French Author Wins Award for 'La Loi'

PARIS (AP)—Roger Vailland, 50-year-old author with several best sellers to his credit, today was awarded the Prix Goncourt, France's top literary award.

The Goncourt jury picked his latest book, "La Loi" (The Law), a vivid and detailed description of day-to-day life in a small port of southern Italy.

The prize itself only amounts to about $12 but insures a sale of about 200,000 copies, and royalties usually of more than $100,000.

New Slates for Approaching Year

Area Clubs Elect Officers

With the new year just around the corner, many area clubs and organizations are electing new slates of officers. Here are some of the new officers who will be guiding their groups:

Metamora

Newly elected officers of the Metamora Hunt are Ben Colman, president; Charles K. Backus, first vice president; James A. Beresford, second vice president; Joseph J. Marshall, secretary; Graham J. Graham, treasurer; Edward C. Parker and Thomas E. Wilson, Joint Masters of Foxhounds.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-six Girl Scouts of the recently organized Metamora scout troop received their investitures recently at a PTA meeting held in the school. Scout pins were presented to the girls by their leaders, Mrs. William Hobbins and Mrs. Edward Brecht, at a candlelight ceremony.

Lapeer

The Lapeer County Farm Bureau Women's Committee recently elected the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Adrian Butler, citzenship; Mrs. Richard Balabon, safety; Mrs. Harold Hovey, legislative; Mrs. Herb King, sunshine chairman and member of CC kitcher committee, and Mrs. Logan Harris, reporter. The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 13 at the Lapeer County Center Building.

★ ★ ★

The Lapeer County 4-H Service Club announces the following newly elected officers: Donald Coenen of Imlay City, president; Harold Molzon of North Branch, vice president; Rose Ann Langferman of Fostoria; secretary; Charlotte McNish of Fostoria, treasurer, and Nancy Carpenter of Lapeer, reporter. The club also selected 31 new members to be initiated at the next meeting.

Almont

Twenty members have joined the newly organized 4-H Leathercraft class. Dale Marsh was elected president; Bill Scully, vice president; Barbara Dunbar, secretary-treasurer, and Lee Brooks, reporter. Mrs. Phillip Pittenger will act as leader with Mrs. Frank Carpenter and Mrs. Irvin Brooks, assistant leaders. Dale Marsh will be junior leader.

Dryden

St. Ann's Guild of St. Cornelius Catholic Church of Dryden has elected new officers. They are Mrs. Alma Hadley, president; Mrs. Dorothy Murray, vice president; Mrs. Marilyn Rheaume, secretary, and Mrs. Eileen Smith, treasurer.

Yule Tree Market Needs Organization

Christmas tree marketing in Michigan needs more organization, according to a new bulletin put out by Michigan State University's forestry department.

Titled "Resurvey of Christmas Tree Marketing in Michigan," the bulletin is a study on the problems of the Michigan Christmas tree grower and what can be done about them.

It points out that the marketing channels for Christmas trees in Michigan are too complex. It is hard for producers and dealers to get together, which points up the need for organizations to iron out the kinks in the marketing chain.

The bulletin also goes into the problems of how to select the proper species of trees to grow, how to compete with trees imported from other areas, and the importance of quality in tree production.

Copies of "Resurvey of Christmas Tree Marketing in Michigan" are available free of charge from the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service office, at 12600 West Blvd., Pontiac.

Waterford Board to Discuss Lighting

A special assessment for street lighting in Waterford Township will be the main topic for discussion and action when the board meets at 7:30 tonight.

★ ★ ★

There are 230 parcels of lands included in the proposed special district, located on M59 near Forest street, and all are in the Watkins-Lakeland, Watkins - Crescent and Highland Subdivisions.

At a hearing held last Wednesday, only three township residents showed up to object to the special assessment which will cost taxpayers $5.71 for street lighting installation.

★ ★ ★

There is no other business slated for tonight's meeting, according to Elmer Johnson, supervisor.

Aerial Tanker Explodes at Yokota Air Base

TOKYO (INS) — The Fifth Air Force said today that AKB-50 aerial tanker, loaded with some 9,000 gallons of fuel, caught fire and exploded early Sunday evening at Yokota Air Base near Tokyo.

There were no casualties.

The Air Force said the fire and explosion were touched off by an electrical short.

S.Sgt. John W. Griffin of Spartanburg, S. C., crew chief, and A.2.C. Eugene R. Essex, Roseburg, Ore., mechanic, who were working in the plane when the accident occurred, were not injured.

MR. AND MRS. VIRGIL V. VANDIVORT

Milford Woman Weds

DAVISBURG—White Lake Presbyterian Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony uniting Bessie Freda Helmer of Milford, and Virgil V. VanDivort of Toledo. The Rev. Robert R. VonOeyen officiated at the rite.

For her wedding Miss Helmer wore a beige faille cocktail dress with a bolero jacket and matching shoes. She wore a hat of white sequins and pearls and carried an Eastern Star Bible with a corsage of talisman sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Oscar Vanden Bosch served as the bride's matron of honor. Oscar VandenBosch of Toledo was best man. LaVerne Crooks of Milford and John Wirick of Toledo were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at East Highland Recreation Hall.

The bride formerly lived at 2630 East Highland Rd., Milford, and was the operator of White Duck Restaurant. The bridegroom, son of Mrs. L. K. VanDivort of 3640 Douglas Rd., Toledo, is city circulation manager of the Toledo Times.

After a two-week honeymoon to Chicago, the newlyweds will live at 4163 Dorchester St., Toledo.

GAIL ANN BENNETT

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon F. Bennett Jr., formerly of Drayton Woods and now of Holly, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gail Ann, to Charles L. Rachor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Racher of Flint. Both the prospective bride and bridegroom are students at Central Michigan College, Mt. Pleasant. A fall wedding is planned.

Summerfield Sees GOP Win by Selling Public on Job Done

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asserted today that the Republicans can win in '58 and '60 "if the administration starts selling the wonderful job it has done."

★ ★ ★

The cabinet officer believes that President Eisenhower's recent cerebral occlusion will have absolutely no effect on next year's Congressional race, and certainly none on the 1960 presidential contest when Ike is barred by law from seeking reelection.

A self-made millionaire by dint of his own expert salesmanship, Summerfield is deliberately setting an example for his cabinet colleagues by means of an inexpensive 15-minute film which tells the post office story.

Insiders predict that other departments of the executive branch may shortly follow suit.

★ ★ ★

Summerfield, in an exclusive interview, disclosed that he has absolutely no plans to retire from government and will certainly stay on until the postal rate increase passes Congress." He believes he can "win that battle" in the next session.

KEPT PLEDGE

Summerfield's blue eyes light as he talks about "selling administration successes." Pointing out that President Eisenhower came to power on a pledge to sweep out corruption, Communism and deficit, he declared:

"You never hear of those things any more, because we've done the job we promised. We've balanced the budget for three years, while granting the largest income tax cut in history. The administration has done a great job, but perhaps the people take it too much for granted."

"We can elect a Republican Congress next fall, and a Republican president in 1960," he added, "if we'll just do as good a selling job as we did with the clean-up campaign."

★ ★ ★

Sipping his daily glass of protein in skimmed milk, the former General Motors dealer spoke with pride of the 16 mm film, "Men, Mail and Machines," which in only two months has already reached an estimated 37,369,798 viewers.

PINPOINT NEEDS

Summerfield, using the technique he employed as chairman of the Republican National Committee, sticks colored pins in a huge U. S. map to indicate exactly where the film has been shown. The white gaps remaining pinpoint precisely where the film should next be concentrated.

"The response has been spectacular," the postmaster general beamed. "Floods of letters prove that people who formerly took their mail delivery for granted now see the crying need for modernization."

Summerfield, who proves himself no mean actor in the opening and closing reels, said the National Association of Postmasters took over the film for its own project.

★ ★ ★

The postmaster general's modernization program has attracted worldwide attention, and as a result 268 postal representatives from 56 countries have beaten a path to his door to discover the know-how.

Pair Cites Torture in Mexican Prison

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP)—The two American killers of a Michigan couple claimed yesterday they are being mistrated by the warden of the prison in which they are serving a 30-year term.

★ ★ ★

William Andrew Shelton of Dallas, Tex., and Joseph Patrick O'Brien of New York filed a petition with the Tampico District Court asking protection from "inhuman torture and mistreatment."

The petition accused Warden Francisco Lerma Blanco of the State Prison in Ciudad Victoria and said the pair feared for their lives. The court ordered an investigation.

Shelton and O'Brien were convicted Aug. 7 of murdering Mr. and Mrs. Everett Barton Kennison of Detroit on March 12, 1956. The Kennisons came to Mexico for a vacation. Their mutilated bodies were found in the woods near here.

Hold Confessed Thief, 15

ROYAL OAK (INS) — Juvenile authorities were holding a 15-year-old Royal Oak boy today who admittedly robbed a dry cleaning shop clerk of $90 at knifepoint. The youth told police he robbed Mrs. Edith Kaufman because he needed $21 to pay a debt.

Steer Classes Judged Today

World Livestock Show in Chicago Is Packed for Three Days

CHICAGO (INS)—Judging of all breeds steer classes and selection of the champion wether dominated attention today at the international livestock show in Chicago.

The nine-day show has garnered an estimated 90,000 spectators during its first three days at the southside amphitheater.

★ ★ ★

Among competitors in the hereford summer yearlings class was a 1,000-pound steer, junior champion Honeymoon, owned by a young New Goshen, Ind., couple.

Honeymoon is a top contender for grand champion honors if it can survive the yearling event. The show's grand champion will be selected tomorrow.

Highlighting yesterday's events was the collegiate livestock judging contest. Illinois University senior Carl Becker, 20, of St. Elmo, topped 19 students from 39 colleges in the event.

Thousands of spectators walked among 15 acres of pens and exhibit booths to see the prize animals—more than 10,000—entered in the 58th annual exposition.

Will Hold Open House at New Library Site

HOLLY — In its new location in the Williams building at the southwest corner of Saginaw and Maple streets, the Holly Township Library will hold open house Friday.

Members of the Library Board will serve tea from 2 to 5 p.m. The library has been moved from its Martha street location where for a great many years it was housed in a building donated by the late W. P. Webb of Pasadena, Calif., a Holly jeweler for more than 50 years.

Commends Modest, Sensible Behavior of Star

London Paper Lauds Princess Grace

LONDON (AP)—Princess Grace of Monaco received high praise from a frequent critic of royalty today for being a sensible girl with her feet on the ground—and no fancy notions of grandeur.

The compliment came from the London Daily Mirror, hard-boiled tabloid which claims the world's largest daily circulation, about 4,600,000.

The pro-Labor Mirror likes to prick bubbles of pomposity, and frequently lectures royalty — including Britain's—in plain language. But it approved heartily of the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia for the modesty of her demeanor on her present private visit to London.

"Her Serene Highness is here with her husband, His Serene Highness Rainier III, sovereign prince of Monaco," the Mirror said.

"Exalted titles.

"But there is nothing high-falutin or flamboyant about Princess Grace.

"She was Grace Kelly, the film star. What a change from other film stars who parade themselves around, seeking every opportunity to catch the public eye.

★ ★ ★

"With her husband, Princess Grace is here for a quiet holiday.

"No fuss.

"No flashy display.

"When they lunched with the Queen (last week), they slipped into the palace almost unnoticed.

"They do their Christmas shopping, quietly, like other couples.

"They go to a show, quietly, like sensible people.

"No hitting the night spots. No painting the town red. Modest restaurants and off-beat places for them. Just an unassuming couple on holiday.

"It is grand to have Princess Grace and her husband in London.

"We hope they will come again."

MR. AND MRS. JESSE ROBINSON

St. Anne Church was the scene of the November wedding of Janice Francis and Jesse Robinson. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Francis of Ortonville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, also of Ortonville. The Rev. John Hardy officiated at the morning ceremony.

Persons who receive stainless steel gifts should never use ordinary scouring pads to remove caked spots. Usually extra soaking loosens the material. If scouring is necessary, use stainless steel wool pads.

Charged With Death of Mother's Lover

Father to Plead for Son's Life

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (INS)—Charles Lee Guy Jr., is scheduled to make his final plea tomorrow for the life of his 19-year-old son, who is on trial charged with the Aug. 15 shotgun death of his mother's lover.

A Santa Monica Superior Court jury of 10 women and two men will decide whether Charles Lee Guy III killed Guy F. Roberts, 49, meat packing firm executive, while he slept in a motel room, or whether, as he claims, he confessed to murder to protect his mother, six-times married Nina Miles, 37.

TRIANGLE SORDID

Testimony in Judge Allen T. Lunch's court has brought to light a sordid love triangle involving the mother, the slaying victim and William Miles, her current husband.

The red-haired mother was the common-law wife of Miles until she became infatuated with Roberts last summer and moved into his motel apartment.

After Roberts' slaying, she returned to Miles. They legalized their relationship with a marriage ceremony in Tijuana, Mexico, Nov. 3.

Four of Mrs. Miles' husbands have figured in the trial. The youth's father, her first husband, and John Angus, her second husband, are defense attorneys.

★ ★ ★

Her third husband appeared as a defense witness. Her sixth husband, Miles, was a prosecution witness.

Mrs. Miles was a strong prosecution witness, testifyiig that her son had confessed to her that he killed Roberts.

Her son denied point-blank from the stand that he shotgunned Roberts.

He testified he had take clothes, two shotguns and other belongings from the death room on the night he stumbled drunkenly in to find Roberts' body.

COVERS UP

The youth said he was trying "to cover up for my mother."

He indicated he believed his mother was involved in the slaying and that he wanted to make it look like robbery.

Under cross-examination by Deputy District Attorney David N. Fitts, he testified:

I thought that either my mother or Miles had killed Roberts," and added:

"She would write on the mirror at Miles' house 'I Love You,' and then she'd go up to Roberts' place and write the same thing on the mirror. It was a mess."

★ ★ ★

In response to a question the youth replied:

"She was living at both homes."

Fitts, while conceding that Mrs. Miles is an unlikely candidate for "Mother of the Year," has asked the jury to return a first degree murder verdict.

"We don't try to make this boy's mother out a decent woman," he said, "and we admit she is not a woman of virtue, but her testimony is true just the same."

Wealthy Oil, Cattleman Facing Assault Charge

LOS ANGELES (UP) — William Moss, 35, wealthy oil and cattleman, is accused of repeated assault and battery in a $106,000 suit filed by Mrs. Virginia White, 36, onetime actress and model.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. White charged in a complaint filed in Superior Court yesterday that Moss, ex-husband of actress Jane Withers, on Jan. 2 and Feb. 9, 1957, caused her to suffer head, face, body, arm and leg injuries.

★ ★ ★

Moss, onetime movie producer, and Miss Withers were divorced in 1954. Mrs. White divorced theatrical agent William B. White in 1955.

Excavation of the Roman town of Aguntum in Tyrol recently unearthed a Roman mainstreet. A 2nd Century tombstone also was found.

The Highway Ride of 1975 is Here!

New Fenton-Clio Expressway takes fullest advantage of safety through modern design and use of skid-resistant concrete.

Smooth Driving Ahead...on concrete

There's a new thrill awaiting you on Michigan's newest concrete highways. Expressway design makes driving easier and safer . . . and the concrete pavement is smoother than ever before.

Years of research and testing, plus improved construction methods, make new concrete roadways the finest of all pavements. You get a new smoothness and quietness in your ride.

New concrete pavement not only gives the best riding qualities but has improved durability. These wonderful new roads will last 50 years . . . and more.

This added service life and traditionally lower upkeep cost means tax dollars go further when invested in concrete.

Michigan's newest concrete expressways are keeping the Wolverine state's reputation for leadership in highway building. They will carry heavy truck loads safely and efficiently because they are scientifically engineered.

Drive one of these new concrete highways and you'll agree you never had a smoother, safer ride.

Concrete is Safer, Too!

Easy-to-drive concrete highways are safer. Concrete's gritty texture offers better traction and reduces skid danger. You get a smooth, quiet ride and your tires grip better. And at night, your visibility on concrete is up to four times better than on dark asphalt surfaces. Wet or dry, daylight or dark, concrete is the safety pavement.

Prize Money's Now at $1,300 in Pot-O-Gold

There's nothing unlucky about the number "13" when it's thirteen hundred dollars you're talking about, especially if your chances of winning it are as good as anyone's. Come up with the right answers for this week's puzzle and we can almost guarantee you'll no longer feel "13" is one of the unluckiest numbers you ever heard.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent post card. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 79 must bear a Tuesday, Dec. 10 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest canot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are anounced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Hammarskjold Talks in Jordan

Clash Could Break Out Wednesday if Israeli Convoy Is Stopped

By TOM MASTERSON

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold continued talks with Jordanian leaders today but there was no indication of compromise in the dispute U.N. sources feared might bring an open clash with Israel.

Trouble could break out Wednesday, when an Israeli convoy again is scheduled to go to Israeli-held Mt. Scopus, inside Jordonian territory.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Hammarskjold said that shooting might result if Jordan continues to refuse to allow convoys through and Israel insists on sending them.

"This thing could get that serious if it is not settled," he declared.

Hammarskjold arrived from Beirut yesterday and soon after talked at length with 23-year-old King Hussein, had two long sessions with Foreign Minister and Deputy Premier Samir Rifai and met briefly with Premier Ibrahim Hashem.

★ ★ ★

A communique said Hammarskjold and Jordanian leaders discussed "problems relating to the strengthening of the position of the U.N. truce supervision organization . . . particularly in the Mt. Scopus demilitarized area."

Hammarskjold flew to the Middle East last week after Jordan turned back two Israeli convoys to Mt. Scopus and also demanded that U.S. Marine Col. Byron Leary be removed as chief U.N. truce observer.

★ ★ ★

The Jordanians charged that gasoline carried by the convoys constituted military supplies barred by the Palestine armistice. Israel contended that the gasoline is needed for an electric generator on Mt. Scopus, a low hill inside the Arab-held Old City of Jerusalem. The hill, occupied by Israel ever since the Palestine War, is the side of Hadassah Hospital and the Hebrew University.

Jordan claimed that Col. Leary was biased in Israel's favor and announced it would no longer accept him as a mediator. Hammarskjold in reply expressed full confidence in the Marine officer.

★ ★ ★

Jordan officials said Rifai in the talks with Hammarskjold adamantly refused to compromise either issue. U.N. officials feared particularly that the question of the convoys, which supply Israelis guarding the hospital and university buildings on Mt. Scopus, would touch off fighting. Some observers fear that unless the Jordanians relent, the Israelis may try to rush a convoy through with military force.

★ ★ ★

Clashes also have increased on the Israeli-Jordan border in recent weeks. Israel reported two outbreaks yesterday and said an Israeli guard was wounded in one.

An Israeli military spokesman claimed infiltrators from Jordan fired on a watchman and threw hand grenades in the Adulam development area of the south Judean foothills. The spokesman said other Jordanians fired on laborers in an olive grove near Ramat Rachel, south of Jerusalem, but no casualties were reported.

★ ★ ★

Jordan denied that its forces had attacked Israelis anywhere. The Amman government charged Israel with 21 truce violations in a memorandum to Hammarskjold.

The Israeli Cabinet met to discuss the latest border tensions. Hammarskjold is scheduled to arrive in Israel tomorrow and will go to Damascus afterward.

★ ★ ★

U.N. spokesmen have said Hammarskjold may use the Damascus visit to discuss the months-old Syrian-Russian charges that Turkey has concentrated troops to invade Syria. Turkey has denied it.

Egyptian National Guard commando units have reached Syria, the Egyptian armed forces magazine reported in Cairo. It did not disclose the number or location of the troops.

Court Approves Contract for TV's Lennon Sisters

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The four singing Lennon sisters, acquiring show business fame on the Lawrence Welk television show, have court approval today of a new contract paying each $203.50 a week for three years.

★ ★ ★

Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes approved the deal for the minor girls, directing them to invest 20 per cent of their earnings in U.S. Savings Bonds.

★ ★ ★

William H. Lennon, father of Diane, 18; Peggy, 16; Kathy, 14; and Janet, 11, said the contract permits the girls to accept other engagements which do not conflict with the television schedule. Their mother, Mrs. Isabella Lennon, said the youngsters have a nest egg of $19,000 and are buying annuities which eventually will pay each one $50,000.

Selective Membership Upheld

Frats Defend Right to Choose

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — The National Interfraternity Conference yesterday gave unanimous approval to a report which declares college fraternities have a "fundamental American right" to choose members according to their own standards.

★ ★ ★

The report was made by a special autonomy committee. It defends selective membership practices of social fraternities.

The report said "choosing of ones own friends and associates is a social right which cannot be confused with civil rights."

Sixty-one national and international fraternities, acting through delegates to the annual conference here, instructed the organization's executive committee to carry out the report's recommendations.

★ ★ ★

The fraternities instructed the executive committee to:

1. Circulate the report to fraternity chapters and alumni.

2. Encourage fraternity representatives to contact college officials and legislators personally to persuade them that "each college fraternity is a social organization, voluntary in membership, and is entitled to exercise its fundamental American right to choose members in accordance with its own standards."

★ ★ ★

It was charged in the report that an effort to force college fraternities to remove restrictive racial and religious clauses is a planned move "to reduce Greek-letter socities to a position of impotence, if not to eliminate them entirely."

The report added there is presently agitation in more than 50 colleges against the clauses.

J. Edward Murphy, conference treasurer, described the restrictive clauses as examples of "the good old American right to select our friends."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Houston T. Karnes, professor of mathematics at Louisiana State University, was elected chairman. He succeeds Francis S. Van Derbur of Denver.

Gov. Milward L. Simpson of Wyoming told the more than 700 delegates to the convention he is against federal aid to education and that "nobody wants Uncle Sam sitting on the local school board."

★ ★ ★

Simpson said if the federal government wants to get into education "tell them to provide scholarships and fellowships—particularly in the fields of science and engineering—on a loan basis with the student having a moral obligation to pay the loans back after graduation. Such loans would pay off with security for America as the interest."

Mario Lanza Super-Thin; Sings Best in New Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Over the weekend, Alfred Hitchcock put his John Hitchcock (pardon) on a contract to produce and direct for MGM a modern spectacle taking in a background of the Central Intelligence Agency, the distant early warning line between Alaska and Russia and — a trip to the moon!

And, for this fantastic opus my friend Hitchy wants Cary Grant, Audrey Hepburn and Yul Brynner.

Based on an original story by Ernest Lehman, who is also writing the script, the picture is tentatively titled "North by Northwest," which will be changed for sure. Locales are New York, Detroit and other strategic points in the U.S.A. — and the moon. It starts in the spring.

CROSBYS STALL WEDDING

There won't be another marriage in the Crosby family, at least this year. The big romance between Gary Crosby and Gaby Spenard in Germany has simmered down to where there is no longer any talk about wedding bells.

He's going to be a busy boy during the holidays. First, Gary appears on Johnny Grant's big show for our GI's in Frankfurt where Gary's stationed. Johnny wanted him for his entire tour of holiday shows in Germany, Italy and France, but the Army has other plans for Bing's eldest. They have special shows of their own they want Gary to headline — but Johnny tells me he is delighted to get him for the Frankfurt shindig.

LANZA'S SUPER—THIN

From Rome comes a letter from a friend who caught the preview (yes, they have them there too) of Mario Lanza's "Seven Hills of Rome," and he reports:

"It's pure entertainment, a sort of Roman travelogue set to the most magnificent music. All you can say about Mario is that he sings as he has never sung before — and he's super-thin. This is not an expensive picture you know, but it gives the impression that a lot of money has been spent due to some outstanding camera work.

For instance, a fifteen minute — yes, that's right — it lasts all that time — helicopter tour of Rome includes spectacular shots of the Coliseum, Forum — and Marisa Allasio — Mario's leading lady."

PALM SPRINGS REVISITED

Spent Thanksgiving this year with my daughter Harriet and my cousin Margaret, both of whom have houses in Palm Springs. The weather during the day was so warm that we sat by the pool. Palm Springs is a place of many memories for me, because when I was here thirty years ago there was one general store. Now the place has become a small city. There are many new houses, all beautifully modern.

I went to the El Mirador's Wednesday Bavarian beer dinner, an idea Ray Ryan brought back from Munich. He, himself, wore a real Bavarian costume.

Dancing and having more fun than anyone were Lillian and Walt Disney, who did a German polka and sang the German songs. Lillian and Walt have the most attractive house and we went there for a cocktail.

HOLLYWOOD SNAPSHOTS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: The Dan O'Herlihys expect their fourth baby in July. With two girls and a boy, they're hoping for a boy.

The ex-Mrs. Alan Livingston moves to New York to live with their small daughter, part of the compromise settlement whereby son Peter remains in the custody of his father and Betty Hutton.

Frank Sinatra gets the sun, the moon and the stars for his two week engagement at the Fountainbleu in Miami in March after which he goes into The Sands in Las Vegas.

Ingrid Goude's new fella is Charles Straus, head of talent for CBS.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Adlai May End Role This Week

Not Certain Yet on His Going to NATO Parley in Paris

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson may end this week his work as an adviser to the Eisenhower administration on NATO policies.

Conceding the end was coming "a little sooner than expected," Stevenson said last night he has no plans to join the U.S. delegation to a Dec. 16-18 meeting of the heads of state of North Atlantic Treaty countries, at which closer Allied scientific and defensive collaboration will be sought.

Stevenson did not foreclose the possibilities he still may go to Paris, saying he "would certainly consider" any request from the administration that he participate. But he said a Paris trip hasn't even been discussed.

The State Department announced that Stevenson will sit in on at least part of a White House meeting with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders tomorrow. That general discussion of defense and foreign policy will include talks of plans for the forthcoming Paris NATO conference.

The State Department said Stevenson "has been invited to be present for the NATO presentation and has accepted."

It was only two weeks ago today that Stevenson moved into a State Department office to help give a bipartisan approach to NATO planning in the face of Russian satellite and missile gains. He subsequently was named formally as a consutant and put on a $48.80 daily rate of pay, plus expenses. There was no annoucement then how long he would remain.

He's Alive—Thanks to Wife Worrying

PITTSBURGH (AP) — John P. O'Hagen, 61, was alive today — thanks to his wife's worrying.

While working at Columbia Hospital last night, Mrs. O'Hagen phoned her husband at their apartment two times but got no answer.

★ ★ ★

Worried, she called a neighbor, Jack Miller, who said he hadn't seen O'Hagen. Then Miller heard the sound of a car motor.

"Just a minute," he said, "maybe your husband is in the garage."

★ ★ ★

Miller went to the garage and found O'Hagen unconscious on the floor beside his auto. The car hood was up, indicating that O'Hagen had been tinkering with the motor. Only a small side door of the garage was open.

O'Hagen was reported in fair condition, suffering from carbon monoxide poisoning.

Robbery Fits Weather

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Police searched for burglars who broke into a women's apparel shop here on the coldest morning of the year and stole 50 coats and a mink stole. The loss in the break-ins was set at a minimum of $2,335.

Better Take Up Bird-Watching... It's Small Price to Pay for Peace

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married a year and a half now and this is our problem. Every morning at exactly 5:45 a. m. there is a noise on the outside of our house. I say it is a woodpecker and my husband says it isn't.

Now I have heard enough woodpeckers in my life to know one when I hear it. This causes an argument and puts us in a bad mood for all day. How can we settle it?

STAN AND ADELE

DEAR STAN AND ADELE: It would pay you both to get up one morning and go outside and investigate the noise. This is a small price to pay for peace in the family.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My roommate and I have a problem. We share an apartment and it is nicely furnished. Our landlord lives in the same building and whenever they have guests, they bring them up to see our apartment.

We never know when they are coming as they have their own key and just unlock our door any time. Please advise us on how to tell them tactfully that we want our privacy.

INVADED

DEAR INVADED: Ask your landlord to please telephone you when he wants to bring guests up to see your apartment. You are entitled to more privacy than you are getting. Girls . . . Speak up!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and go with a kid the same age. We were fooling around and I happened to see some of the jokes that fell out of his wallet. They were just terrible, so I broke off with him for this reason.

My girl friend thinks this was a foolish reason, but I am a nice girl and was shocked. Did I do the right thing?

DOTTY

DEAR DOTTY: The "jokes" a fellow carries around in his wallet are no laughing matter. I think you used extremely good judgment.

DEAR ABBY: If there is a bigger hypocrite in this world than my husband I would like to see him. He can quote passages from the Bible, but he lives like a sinner.

He punishes our children severely for the slightest lie, but he tells them so big I blush when I hear him. He is a big "doer" in our church and everyone thinks I am lucky to be married to him—but between you and me, you can have him.

A FAKER'S WIFE

★ ★ ★

DEAR WIFE: No thank you! Since he is so close to the church, he should get closer to the clergyman.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JOHNNY: Familiarity breeds attempt. Watch it!

★ ★ ★

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Writer Phyllis Battelle to Wed Radio Newsman

NEW YORK (INS)—Phyllis Battelle, International News Service columnist, and Arthur Van Horn, veteran newscaster for the American Broadcasting Company, will be married Friday.

★ ★ ★

The wedding will take place at 2 p.m. in Christ Church, New York. The ceremony will be private with only members of the family and close friends attending.

They will depart immediately for a brief honeymoon in Nassau.

Miss Battelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Battelle of Dayton, Ohio, has been writing "Assignment: America" for INS since January 1954.

STARTED IN OHIO

A graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio, she began her career as a reporter-columnist for the Dayton Herald. She joined INS in 1947 as a reporter.

She later was named women's editor, a position she held until taking over the column. In 1951, she won the New York Newspaper Women's Club prize for the best domestic reporting of the year.

Van Horn is the son of Mrs. M. V. Honnold of Escondido, Calif. After graduating from the University of California, he became a newscaster for San Francisco radio stations.

★ ★ ★

During World War II, Van Horn served in the U. S. Army. He was producer of the famous star-studded program, "Command Performance." For the past decade he had conducted his own radio program. He is presently conductor of the daily ABC radio program, "Midday Composite."

MAJOR REPORTING

Both Van Horn and Miss Battelle have covered many major stories in the U. S. and abroad.

It was at one — the 1956 Democratic National Convention in Chicago—that they met.

Vacation Bound?

If you're planning to hit the winter vacation trail, toss your washable nylon, dacron or heavy canvass suitcase covers into your washer and automatic clothes dryer for a quick clean-up. Musicale Unit Holds Program

The South Tilden avenue home of Denise and Beverly Patton was the setting Sunday for a meeting of Matinee Musicale.

★ ★ ★

A special program dealing with opera and ballet was presented by Daniel Addis, music teacher with Waterford Township schools.

Connie Griebach presented a history of ballet and played a number from "The Sleeping Beauty Ballet" by Tschaikovsky.

OTHERS TAKE PART

Mr. Addis presented a film and narration on "The Nutcracker Suite." Linda Lottner danced "The Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy."

Other children participating in the program were Sally Wilson, Beverly and Denise Patton, Nancy Boardman, Sharon Moore and Catherine Francis.

Mrs. Frank Antrobus assisted as cohostess. A Christmas motif was used at the refreshment table.

There'll be fun at Will-O-Way for new students who enroll in the winter term at the Apprentice Theater. Celia Merrill Turner, director of the year-round school, has added four ponies and saddles, a cart and a quarter-mile of fenced-in track.

Jack Boesen, violinist; and Norman Gifford, pianist, are shown working with Conductor Francesco di Blasi at his home. They're practicing the Haydn "Concerto" which will be performed Tuesday at the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra concert. The program will also include Respighi's "Pines of Rome."

Betrothal Revealed by Knechts

BIRMINGHAM — At a cocktail party Friday evening in their home on Pilgrim road, Mr. and Mrs. John William Knecht announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to John Carl Peirce. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Wilmot W. Peirce of Mansfield, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Mary is a senior art student at the University of Michigan and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Her fiance was graduated from the same university where he is affiliated with Delta Tau Delta. He is now a senior in the U. of M. Medical School and a member of Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity.

★ ★ ★

Dr. and Mrs. Peirce came from Mansfield to attend the party.

Mary Whiting to Speak Vows on January 18

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Whiting of Wing Lake road gave a cocktail party Saturday evening at Red Run Golf Club to announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kay, to Alfred William Resetich of Birmingham. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Resetich of DePue, Ill.

Mary Kay attended St. Mary College of Notre Dame and her fiance was graduated from Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.

A Jan. 18 wedding is being planned.

Tenor to Be Guest Soloist With Musicale's Chorus

Tenor Donald Nelson will be the guest soloist at the concert to be given by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus Dec. 10 in Grace Lutheran Church.

★ ★ ★

An instructor in the University of Michigan School of Music, Mr. Nelson is tenor soloist at Kirk of the Hills and also appears frequently as soloist in recital and oratorio over the university radio station. He currently is working on a Ph.D. in musicology at Michigan.

Mr. Nelson's accompanist will be Frank Murch, pianist and teacher of piano and conducting in Detroit.

PROGRAM SELECTIONS

Included in the program will be the selections "The Holly and the Ivy," "Wassail Song," "Touro-louro-louro," "Lullaby of the Christ Child" and "I Wash My Face in a Golden Vase."

★ ★ ★

A second group of the chorus will sing "A Babe Is Born," "I Wonder as I Wander" and "Panis Angelicus."

Mr. Nelson's program will include "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley Shall Be Exalted," recitative and aria from Handel's "Messiah"; "The Shepherds" and "The Kings" from Weihnachtslieder; the songs, "Allerseelen," "Traum durch die Dammerung" and "Zueignung," by Strauss, and three Shakespearean songs, "Come Away Death," "O, Mistress Mine" and "Blow, Blow, Thou Winter Wind."

★ ★ ★

Director of the chorus is Mrs. G. H. Putnam, who received her musical training at Mansfield State Teachers College, Mansfield, Pa., and Columbia University Teachers College, receiving from the latter an M.A. degree in music education.

Washington Pitches In for Charity

Bazaars, Benefits Are Big Business in the Capital

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The capital is bazaar and benefit-mad and the fund-raisers are making money like crazy. Charity is sweet, big business, with everyone of importance from the First Lady on down pitching in.

★ ★ ★

White House, congressional, military and diplomatic wives not only freely lend their names as sponsors to many of these affairs, but often take a personally active part in them. This is the season for giving, and socialites are making the most of it.

AIDED BY MAMIE

Mrs. Eisenhower spent nearly an hour at a bazaar for the House of Mercy (home for unwed mothers).

★ ★ ★

She not only opened the event, but donated a cake and four dozen Mamie Pink carnations which sold for 50 cents each. That isn't all, she bought two Chinese rice bowls and several other small items.

A painting by Mrs. Sherman Adams, wife of the presidential assistant, was purchased by Budget Secretary Percival F. Brundage for $85.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Eisenhower, the President's daughter-in-law, opened an antique show in nearby Alexandria, Va., where she and Maj. Eisenhower and their four children are now making their home. She made one purchase but begged it be kept secret. "It's a gift," she explained.

ALWAYS EAGER

Embassy Row wives are always eager participants in local fund-raising events, lending their names to the patrons' lists, contributing exotic gifts and native foods to the bazaars, modeling native costumes, and working and buying as well.

★ ★ ★

At the International Gift Mart, items made by refugees in 11 countries sold like hot cakes. Tea was served on different days by women from the German, Chinese, Indian and Greek Embassies.

At the local YWCA's ninth annual International Food Fair and Bazaar about half of the 68 nations in which the YWCA operates took part.

★ ★ ★

Embassy chefs, and in many instances the ambassadors' wives themselves, prepared the special dishes in their own kitchens. The event, held on four floors, began at 11 a.m. and by mid-afternoon was completely sold out.

MOST SPECTACULAR

Plushiest and most spectacular shindig of the season so far was the fabulous International Ball, which drew some 900 socialites at $30 a head. Many flew in from various parts of the country.

★ ★ ★

The former U.S. ambassador Luce, was guest of honor at to Italy, glamorous Clare Boothe Luce, was guest of honor at the affair, which was a prelude to the International Race at the Laurel (Md.) track.

Fake Fur in Fashion for Fellows

NEW YORK (INS)—They're making fur coats for men now, in imitation "silver tip" bear or white polar bear, no less.

★ ★ ★

The male fur coats, the manufacturer explains seriously, are for the sports car set. Apparently if you own a sports car, it's only a short step to wearing fake polar bear coats.

The single-breasted, convertible-collar coats come in regular sizes 36-46. Sleeves are set in and cuffless for easier driving; length is standard for car coats or just above the knees.

★ ★ ★

The "silver tip" model (it's really a sort of frosted charcoal gray) is the best seller at $130. The "polar" model costs about $150, and can be had in matching Mr.-and-Mrs. versions too.

All the "fur" coats are actually Dynel pile. The only real fur any red-blooded American male seems ready to wear out in public is good old raccoon.

Built-in Whistle

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — It wouldn't be surprising if 9-year-old Judith Ingram should whistle when she hiccups. She inhaled at the wrong time and swallowed a small round whistle. Doctors decided it would do no harm and sent her home, whistle and all.

Thursday marks the annual Kard Kapers and bazaar of Soroptomist International Club of Pontiac. Talking over last-minute details for the event, which is to be held in Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building, are (left to right) Mrs. Arnold Hillerman, Taimee Surola, Mrs. Raymond Swackhamer and Mrs. Harold James.

Pontiac Press Photos

Checking the invitation list for Thursday's event are Mrs. Richard Paschke, Mrs. Kenneth Wright and the refreshment committee chairman, Mrs. Maurice Wileox.

She Carefully Co-ordinates Costumes and Makeup

Dietrich Values Perfect Grooming

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I asked Max Factor, adviser to Hollywood stars, to give me a few of his observations concerning beauteous Marlene Dietrich. We all can learn from them. Mr. Factor said:

1. "Marlene is a perfectionist Regardless of how many times some women are told that beauty and glamor are composed almost entirely of faultless grooming and cleanliness, they never learn.

"Marlene didn't have to be told. She knew! When this glamorous woman is preparing for a picture she spends three months getting her clothing and makeup ready for two weeks' work."

(We can't all do that but most of us could improve our grooming and give more thought to the details of our wardrobes than we do.)

★ ★ ★

2. "Her coiffures are perfect. Even though Miss Dietrich has excellently textured and beautiful hair herself, she often wears wigs which duplicate her hair exactly so that her motion pictures will be right in every detail. In real life, she has her hair shampooed and set every few days so that she never has that 'almost-ready-for-the-beauty-shop' look which so many women have."

FLAWLESS MAKEUP

3. "She never steps out of her boudoir until her makeup is flawless. Furthermore, it is applied so perfectly and naturally that few people have ever seen her in the unflattering process of touch-ups. She is so meticulous with her makeup technique and application that it lasts for hours.

4. "Costumes and makeup always agree," says Factor. "If Miss Dietrich steps into the Hollywood salon in slacks in the morning, her makeup is far different from that you will find her wearing at a Hollywood premiere. Likewise, when she comes into the salon in the late afternoon, added touches of glamor accompany her dress. She has this knowledge because she has studied her beauty with care.

5. "Every stitch of clothing Marlene wears becomes the costume. There are no mismatches in her wardrobe. Whether she is wearing a casual dress, slacks, or a beautiful evening gown, her hose, shoes, gloves, headdress and wrap are color coordinated.

She claims that she had rather have one complete costume in her wardrobe than a dozen which are incomplete. She says that when women say they have nothing to wear it is because they have no clothes which are completely coordinated to wear together."

(Even on a moderate budget, a woman can correlate her accessories and costumes.)

FASCINATING SUBJECT

Thousands of words have been written about Marlene Dietrich. She is an especially fascinating subject because she is full of contradictions. For instance, she is one of the world's most glamorous women, but she loves to cook and is an eager babysitter for her grandchildren.

She is the essence of femininity but is famous for her strong will and brilliant mind. Of necessity she lives a large part of her life in the glare of fanfare, in glitter and make believe, yet she is not only a warm, generous friend but is quick to help anyone in trouble.

Miss Dietrich is a wonderful subject for a column because she seems to have a monopoly on the fountain of youth. She never looks any older. With this in mind I asked Max Factor, world-famed Hollywood beauty authority, what the fabulous Marlene has which other women lack.

Mr. Factor said, "She has an unusual ability to draw into herself everything that is beautifying and to let the power of this beauty flow out over others in great abundance and generosity. It is the give and take of beauty that makes her what she is. There is nothing stagnant or aging in her entire approach to life."

What a wonderful thing to have said! I long have suspected that perhaps the main reason for Marlene Dietrich's youthfulness is the fact that she never has thought in terms of age at all. She has been too busy and interested and excited about living.

It seems too bad that so many women are so conscious of their birthdays that they practically think themselves into premature aging and rob themselves of years of enthusiastic living.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT BASHAW

Married Wednesday in Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church were Martha L. Boatright and Robert L. Bashaw. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Boatright are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bashaw.

Martha Boatright Speaks Vows in Candlelight Rite

White gladioli and chrysanthemums banked the altar of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church for the wedding of Martha Lee Boatright and Robert L. Bashaw. The Rev. Edmond Watkins performed the candlelight ceremony Wednesday evening before 250 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Boatright of East Beverly avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Bashaw of Luther road.

For her wedding the bride chose a silk taffeta gown fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice and long pointed sleeves. The decollete neckline featured Chantilly lace scallops decorated with tiny clusters of seed pearls.

The empire waistline, formed by a small band of silk taffeta ending in a front bow, had a smooth panel of Chantilly lace which formed a bouffant skirt at the hipline and ended in a chapel train.

The bride wore a pearl crown which held a fingertip veil of illusion. The bridal bouquet was composed of stephanotis and a white orchid on a prayerbook.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. B. J. O'Rourke was the matron of honor; Claudia Borders was the bridesmaid, and Helen Boatright, a sister of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. All were gowned in ballerina-length powder blue chiffon dresses fashioned with bouffant skirts. They wore hats of daisy braid design trimmed with tiny pearls and featuring circular veils.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Joseph Hicks was best man. Dave Galloway of Ferndale and Robert Powers seated the guests.

★ ★ ★

For a reception in the church parlors Mrs. Boatright wore a rose lace sheath dress with an orchid corsage, and the bridegroom's mother chose a blue lace gown with an orchid corsage.

Before leaving on a trip to Chicago the new Mrs. Bashaw changed to an aqua wool sheath dress with black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will live on Mechanic street.

Newlyweds Traveling in the East

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the 7 p.m. wedding Friday of Shirley J. Conant and William C. Stokes. The Rev. William Marbach performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Conant of Ypsilanti avenue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Clayton Stokes of Lake Orion and the late Mr. Stokes.

For her wedding the bride chose a cocktail-length dress of pink taffeta and lace and carried a colonial nosegay of white carnations.

Mrs. John Stinson, matron of honor, wore a cocktail-length dress of beige lace and carried a colonial nosegay of pink carnations.

Serving as best man was Robert M. Stokes of Atlanta, Ga., brother of the bridegroom.

★ ★ ★

Currently on a trip through the Eastern states, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

Heated Pan Must Be Used for Batter

Mrs. Morris' True Yorkshire Pudding Comes From Wales

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you are having roast beef for one of your holiday meals, you may want to serve the traditional Yorkshire pudding.

In the olden days when meat was roasted in front of the fire, the baking pudding was placed underneath it for the last few minutes to catch the rich meat juices as they dropped.

Mrs. Walter Morris of Rochester was born in Wales. Her recipe for this meat accompaniment is a modern adaptation of the one used in her childhood home. The secret, she says is to get the pan very hot, then melt the fat before pouring in the batter.

YORKSHIRE PUDDING
By Mrs. Walter Morris

2 cups biscuit mix
1½ cups milk
Salt and pepper
2 beaten eggs

Mix all together. Set 9x13 inch pan in oven to get very hot. Put in 2 tablespoons fat (not butter or salad oil) and let it melt. Pour in the thin pudding batter.

Bake 15 minutes in 350-degree oven. This will not rise much. Cut in squares and serve with roast beef and gravy. Makes about 6 servings.

Weed Juice Used

A few score years ago, when scientifically prepared, ready-to-use eyedrops were not available, the blue-eyed mountain girls of the Southern Appalachians used juice from the Jimson weed as an eye application. The juice was thought to enlarge the pupil so that only a thin rim of the blue showed. Today the dictionary defines the wed as being "intensely poisonous." Its use definitely is not recommended, say researchers.

May Woman Pay Check at the Table?

She's Afraid That Masculine Guests Might Object—

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Occasionally I would like to invite a mixed group of friends out to dinner. But there is that old question of a woman alone paying the check.

"I don't belong to any clubs and have no charge accounts in restaurants. I'm wondering, in this day of frankness about everything, whether you think men would care if I paid the check at the table?"

Answer: Probably not as long as they are part of a party. Certainly not if you are also much older than your guests. However, if you wish to do this often, I think you are underestimating the advantages of having a charge account in one or two restaurants.

Signing the dinner check and writing in the amount you wish to give the waiter would not only eliminate any possible embarrassment but would greatly simplify matters for you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it correct, when eating a soft fried egg, to put a small piece of bread on the end of the fork and dip it into the yolk and continue doing this until the yolk is eaten up?"

Answer: Certainly.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I arrived in this country about six months ago I was astonished at receiving a letter from a business firm addressing me as 'My dear Mrs. Jones.'

"At home we only used the 'My' for our most intimate friends. Will you please tell me what is correct as I certainly want to conform to the customs of this country?"

Answer: In this country "My dear Mrs. Jones" is the most formal address possible. "Dear Mrs. Jones" is far more intimate.

To save overalls, spread a washable sponge rubber pad in the bottom of Junior's red wagon. It saves wear and tear on his clothes and cushions bumps.

Our designers dreamed up these formals for the queen. If she can show her small waistline, why should you hide yours?

The spring and resort formal fashions still show the full-skirted dress, and as long as it remains as pretty and flattering, whether in floating chiffon or dramatic print, it has a place in fashion—and it does make the waistline seem smaller.

Assembly-Line Methods Make for Sewing Speed

DALLAS (INS) — Assembly-line methods with your scissors and sewing machine will help you assemble back-to-school wardrobes for your children in a jiffy.

Cut two to four dresses or shirts at the same time by folding the material together and cutting all the pieces as one. On smaller pieces be sure to keep the grain of the fabric straight and going in the same direction.

Boys' shirts usually are all cut alike, and you can quickly whip up a whole wardrobe of different colors and prints.

The same is true of slips and panties for the girls.

In making dresses you might cut at least two from the same pattern—one in a print and the other in a solid, for instance—and make variations in the trim.

It's much easier to sew together the pieces cut from one pattern than to figure out how to sew together a second, and chances are your little daughter will not even realize they are cut alike.

Sewing the pieces together can be simplified by stitching all sleeve seams at once, all side seams, all darts, and so forth on the several garments.

Moisture Secret of Dewy Complexion

Achieving the youthful, "dewy" complexion that has been the mark of the English beauty for centuries is a mere matter of skin moisturizing. What the English foggy, foggy dew does naturally for complexions must be achieved cosmetically here.

But it's easy. First, wash the face often with warm water and mild soap. Rinse well. Avoid harsh, high alcoholic content astringents that tend to dehydrate the skin. Rather use a mild skin freshener like a good quality witch hazel. Pat dry. This stimulates facial muscle tone and at the same time provides an excellent foundation for makeup.

Meet Saroyan—World's Gentlest Playwright

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — William Saroyan is allegedly the world's gentlest playwright, its Pollyanna philosopher, whimsical lover of people wherever you are.

"That's what I'm supposed to be," Mr. Saroyan says, "a guy who likes everybody.

"Well, I don't like most people.

"I do like the human race, I must say. It's a monstrous mess, the human race, I admit that. But when I find people who loathe themselves AND the world, I say they should go into hiding.

Mr. Saroyan smiled, with a rakish lift of his moustache.

"But it would be pitiful if I—or you—didn't hate some people. Loathing is a good thing. Like yeast. It ferments, and makes ideals grow."

★ ★ ★

The Pulitzer-winning playwright, whose outrageous sense of humor and blandly spoken forthrightness are apt to become confusing to the listener, went on. About people.

LIKES INDIVIDUALISTS

"The people I tend to like more than anyone else," he remarks, "are those with strong individual manifestations of the human race.

"The others—if they are people who are just there, doing what all the other people are doing—well, my feeling that they are dull is usually confirmed with greater acquaintance."

★ ★ ★

"However . . ." and Saroyan paused thoughtfully over a swig of espresso . . . "anybody is worthwhile who survives. This is my opinion. Whether I like or hate them, I have to say with respect, 'Look at that guy. He's hangin' on too.'"

Saroyan has gladdened readers' and audiences' hearts since the '30s when his first Broadway play, "My Heart's in the Highlands," confused the critics and delighted a public weary of the depression's depression.

That was followed shortly by such happy dramas as the Pulitzer Prize play, "The Time of Your Life," and subsequently "The Beautiful People," "The Human Comedy," and his latest, "The Cave Dwellers," a bouncing hit.

OVERLOOK HUMOR

"Isn't it strange," he says, "most of my stuff is funny—and hardly anybody gets it." Not even the critics? "You couldn't call most of them critics. Most of them are reviewers.

"But the reviewers of my plays have been generally wrong, yes."

Of his new play, a sellout which the New York critics—ah! reviewers—generally raved about, Saroyan says this:

"On the whole, it's fairly impressive. But no. It's not right."

Saroyan himself did not direct it. And he feels that "if the writer directs a play, the whole texture, line and movement would be different. Therefore, there are a lot of funny lines in there ("The Cave Dwellers') that are thrown away, and a lot of inflections that lose emotion.

"But as I say, nobody realizes I'm writing humor. Which is, by the way, the human race's best chance to get back its health."

(More about William Saroyan tomorrow.)

Make Doll Chests From Match Boxes

Want to make some furniture for doll houses at practically no expense?

Take large match boxes, remove the drawers and glue the main sections together stacking one upon the other. Then give them a coat of paint or enamel. Also enamel the ends of the drawers.

When the drawers are dry, make handles for each with string, using a heavy crochet cord and a darning needle. Insert drawers and you have a chest that will please any little miss.

For another chest, use small match boxes in the same way. Make two tiny chests and glue them together for a double chest that has 10 tiny drawers.

★ ★ ★

For a clothes closet, take a shoe box, put holes on each side about two inches from the top and through these holes run a wooden dowel. Then cut hangers from paste board and hang on the wooden rack. Enamel this to match the chests.

In Seeking to Improve Ties With West

Egyptian 'Perfect Envoy'

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

A shrewd bargainer who has been described as the "diplomat's diplomat" is playing the key role in Egypt's efforts to improve its strained relations with the West.

He is Dr. Mahmoud Fawzi, Egyptian foreign minister and the only member of pre-revolutionary governments to hold an important post under President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

ARRIVES IN U.S.

Fawzi arrived in New York yesterday on a surprise journey after spending only about a week in Cairo. He was said to have been instructed by Nasser to seek improved relations with the western powers.

The balding 57-year-old career diplomat promptly conferred with U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Informed sources say Fawzi also hopes to meet American officials to discuss ways of clearing the stormy atmosphere churned up by last year's Suez crisis.

Difficult assignments do not faze the urbane, mild-mannered foreign minister. After the lightning Sinai invasion last fall, he pressed Egypt's case in the intricate U.N. negotiations that finally led to Israel's withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Fawzi is widely regarded as the perfect diplomat. A man of infinite patience, he also is polished, witty, tactful and foxy.

But his best known trait, many diplomats and reporters believe, is his ability to parry rapid fire questions. He can "talk around" a subject or skilfully evade direct answers to the frustration of more than one listener. For this Fawzi has been termed the "master of ambiguity."

Fawzi's abilities are known to envoys the world over. He served as vice counsel in New York and New Orleans in the late 1920's, then moved on to Kobe, Japan, Athens, Greece, and Liverpool, England.

He held several important posts in the ministry of foreign affairs and in 1945 became ambassador to Washington. Later he headed the Egyptian delegation to the U.N. Security Council and at several General Assembly sessions.

Fawzi kept up his studies throughout his diplomatic career, attending the Royal University of Rome, Liverpool University and New York's Columbia University. He speaks perfect English and French, in addition to his native Arabic. The minister also can converse fluently in Spanish or Italian and knows some Greek and Japanese.

He is married and has two daughters and a son.

Pontiac's New Public Safety Building Opens Today

Pontiac's new Public Safety Building, the second structure in the Civic Center area, opened for business today.

Sharing a hilltop site with the new City Hall, the structure houses the police department, municipal court and the fire chief's office.

Constructed and fully paid for with money from the city's capital improvement fund, the $950,000 building is of stone and light buff brick, designed to blend with the adjacent City Hall.

The Public Safety Building consists of three floors on a split-level design. The basement is on grade at the rear and below grade at the front.

The first floor houses the major police department facilities, plus the fire chief's office. Located there are the front desk, the detective bureau, records and identifications bureau, offices for the police chief, inspector and other top officials, and various showup and interrogation rooms.

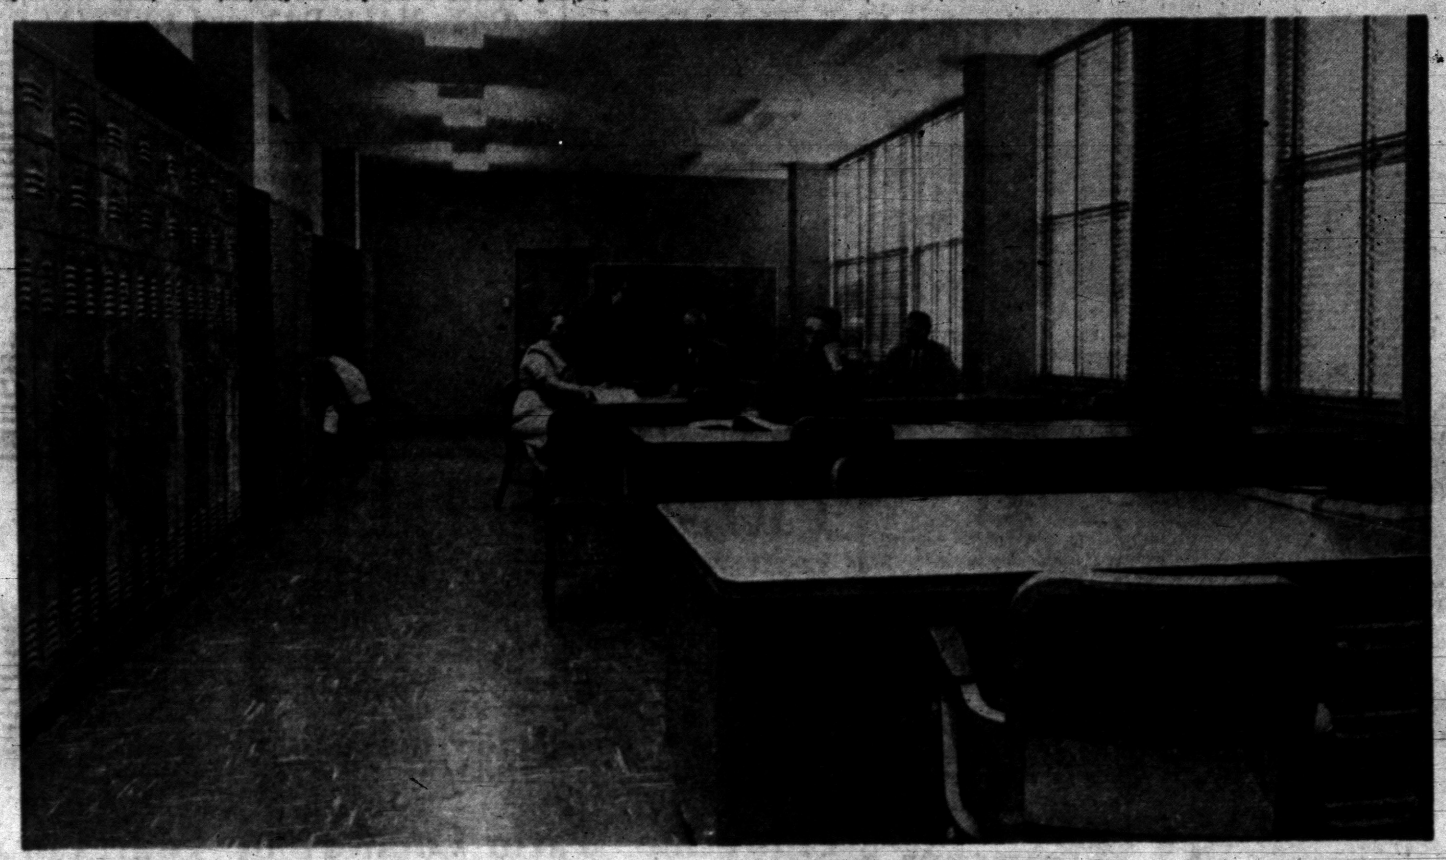

Other major areas are for the violations bureau and the traffic division.

The second floor contains the new jail, with facilities for some 26 men and women, along with a kitchen to feed the prisoners. Also on that floor is the municipal court area with two court rooms, judges' chambers, attorney's room, constables' room and the court clerk.

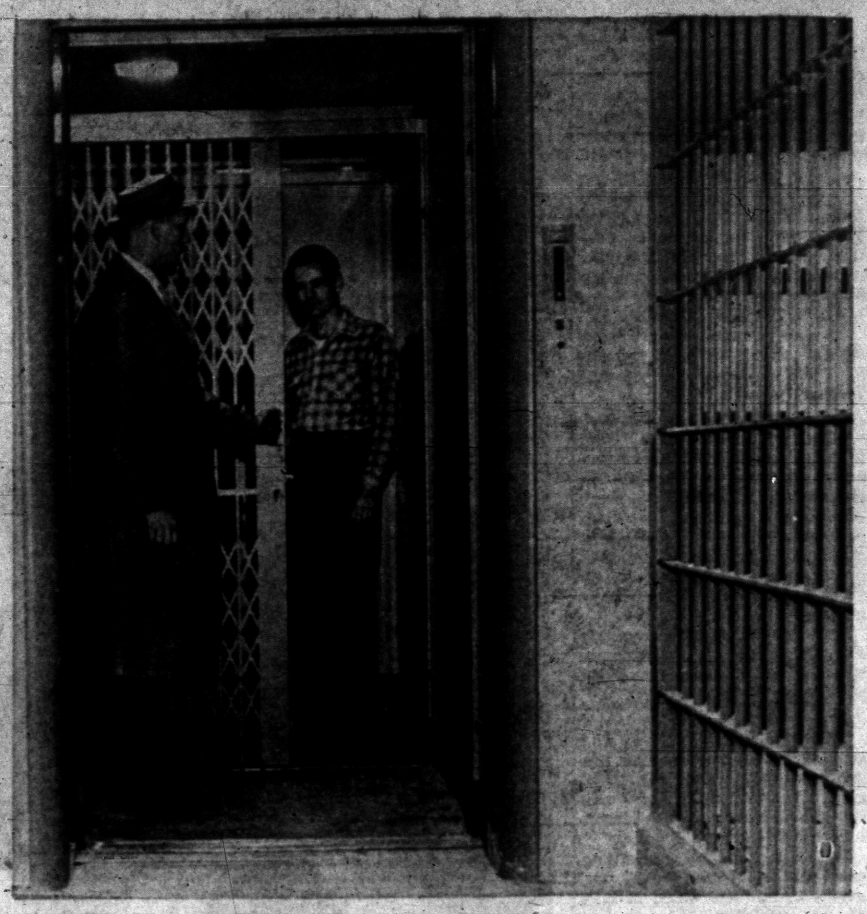

Sharing the second floor are the police juvenile squad, women's division, vice squad and weights and measures.

The basement contains a small gym, a 125-man locker room, a sergeants' report room, two classrooms, communications room and a large garage for vehicle repair and maintenence.

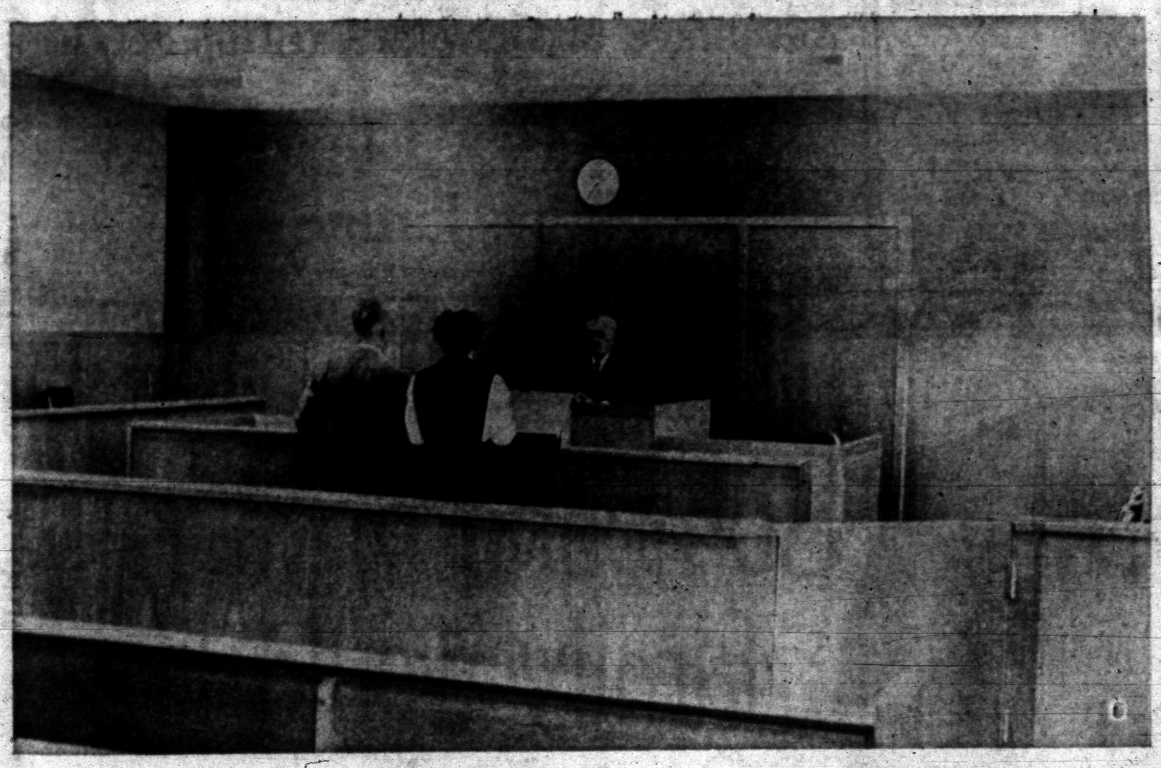

A police shooting range is provided but left unfinished for now as an economy measure. A special elevator enables officers to bring prisoners from the basement directly to the detective bureau or to the second-floor jail.

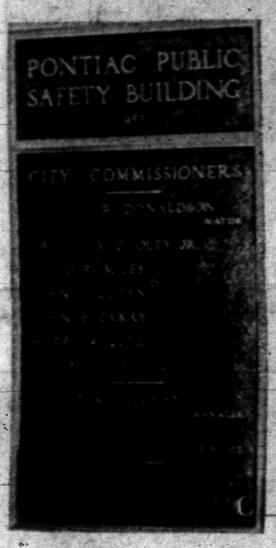

DETECTIVES BUREAU — One of the largest rooms in the building is this detectives bureau, located in the southeast section of the first floor. Off the room to the left are three interrogation rooms and offices of the lieutenant in charge of the detective squad.

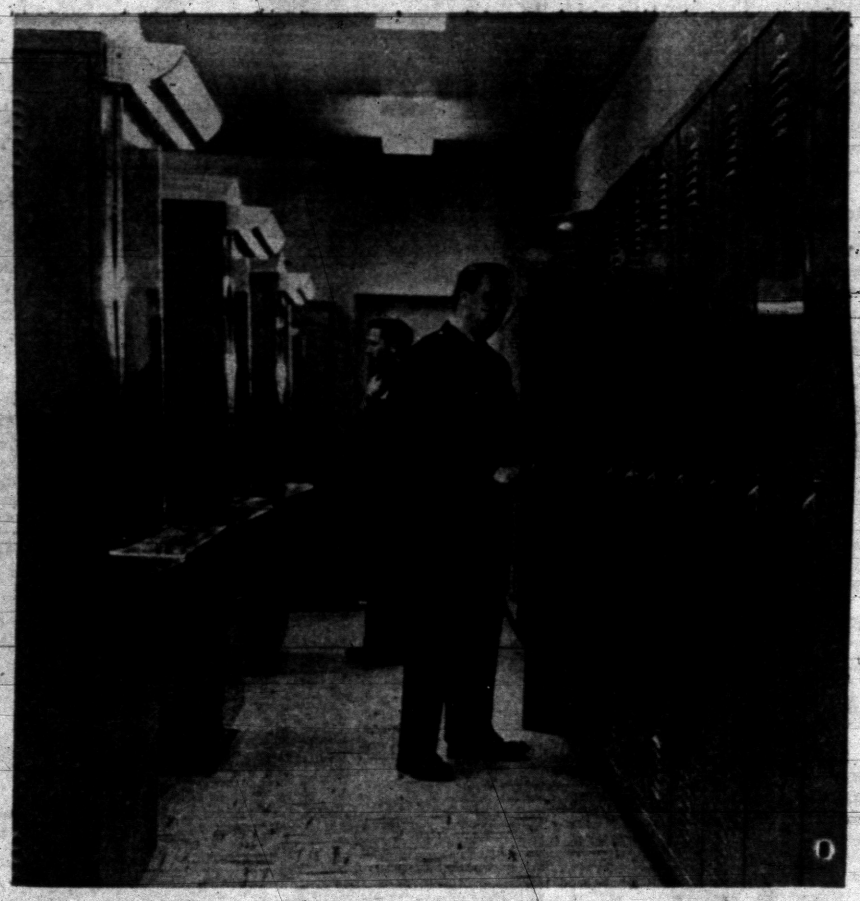

NO PLACE TO BE — This is one place in the new building you'll want to stay out of. This is the prisoners elevator off the emergency squad room on the ground floor. It will be here that police vehicles will unload their suspects, lead them through the barred entrance (right) and into the elevator. In this way prisoners will at no time come in contact with the public.

MUNICIPAL COURTROOM — Judge Cecil B. McCallum tests out one of the two municipal courtrooms on the second floor of the new Public Safety Building. Both rooms will seat about 50 spectators. The panel to the rear of the judge leads to a corridor housing judges' chambers and attorneys offices and library.

LOCKER ROOM — When a new squad of patrolmen and officers come on duty they will give their uniforms their last minute examination in this ground floor squad locker room. It has provisions for 125 men. The door to the rear leads into a large gymnasium where the new squad will fall in for inspection before going on duty.

IN DURANCE VILE — For the first time, Pontiac has its own city jail in the Public Safety Building. Prisoners before were housed in the Oakland County Jail at the city's expense. The men and women's cellblocks contain both individual cells and large six-person cells, one of which is shown above. Some of the cells are special types for violent prisoners. Total city jail capacity will be 26. A kitchen will serve the prisoners' food and laundry will be contracted to a private firm.

PAY YOUR TICKET HERE — You won't go to 40 E. Pike anymore to pay your traffic tickets. They will be paid here in the traffic violations section of the Public Safety Building. It is located immediately off the Pike street first floor entrance. Here also you will take your written driver license examinations.

No Rosy Hopes of Cut in Tax

Inflation and Defense Spending Will Keep Income Levy Up

WASHINGTON (AP) —American taxpayers were cautioned by a congressional tax authority today not to entertain rosy hopes of income tax reduction next year, or possibly even for some years to come.

★ ★ ★

In an address prepared for the American Tax Foundation in New York City, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark) said "the bitter realities of inflation and the Soviet scientific advances" afford little promise of immediate tax relief.

He declared the prospect is for steadily rising defense spending that will probably eat up any Treasury surplus.

★ ★ ★

With the national economy likely to be spurred by new defense-generated activity, Mills said, the circumstances "call for the greatest caution in avoiding hasty tax reductions, either on the basis of a temporary surplus in the budget or a temporary letdown in the over-all level of economic activity."

Only if the nation's economy expands faster than government spending can the nation look forward to lower taxes, he said.

★ ★ ★

Mills' statement gave strong support to indications that congressional tax thinking has undergone a reversal since Soviet missile achievements, and the launching of two earth satellites.

Mills is second-ranking Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee, which initiates all tax legislation.

Says Arming Europe Will Boost Tension

LONDON (AP) — George F. Kennan, former top policy maker in the U.S. State Department, says arming Western Europe with nuclear weapons probably would turn any minor incident into a major conflict.

★ ★ ★

"I do not see how it could fail to produce a serious increase in the existing military tension in Europe," Kennan said last night in the fourth of his series of talks over the BBC.

"To place those weapons in the hands of a number of countries is practically to ensure that there can in future be no minor difficulty in Europe that does not develop into a major one," he asserted.

The former ambassador to Moscow said if plans to supply tactical nuclear weapons to the NATO allies of Western Europe are carried out, it also would virtually rule out any possibility of a Russian troop withdrawal from Eastern and Central Europe.

Rossellini Visits His Youngsters After Hiding Out

ROME (AP)— Roberto Rossellini, back from three weeks of mysterious seclusion, played today with his three young children in the apartment he shared with Ingrid Bergman before they were legally separated.

Rossellini vanished Nov. 7, the day he and his tall Swedish wife parted. After his return yesterday he declined to tell newsmen where he had been.

Rossellini was reported—without confirmation—after his disappearance to be headed for Paris. An airline had said Sonali Das Gupti, an Indian script writer with whom Rossellini had been linked romantically in India, flew into Paris earlier. There was no indication they met in the last three weeks.

Miss Bergman went to London on Nov. 10 to make a movie but said she would be back for Christmas.

Rossellini said he found the children well and that he was happy. The main reason he returned home, he added, was to see them. Except for that, he had little to say.

★ ★ ★

The actress said in London yesterday there is no chance of a reconciliation with her husband. She said the question of divorce had not arisen because the Roman Catholic Church does not recognize divorce.

Canadian senators are nominated for life by summons of the governor-general, but members of the house of commons are subject to direct election at the hands of the people.

Deskmates at Office Are No Gayer Than Her Friends

Wives Who Envy Hubby's Job Don't Know

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—Many American women chained to the care and feeding of home and children suffer from the delusion that their husbands lead more interesting lives than they do.

★ ★ ★

Getting her goodby kiss in the morning, the wife turns drearily back to the breakfast dishes while her husband, she is convinced, rushes off to the office and an outside life rich in human experience.

When a husband points out that his business life is often nothing but routine, pressures and monotony, a wife will frequently say:

"Yes, but at least you have people—adults, different adults to talk to, to stimulate you. Who (most agitated wives aren't grammatical) have I got—the baby, the mailman, the neighbor women with their exciting talk about new rhubarb recipes?"

★ ★ ★

I can't help this wife with her baby, mailman or rhubarb raconteurs, but I can tell her she isn't missing anything. The people we men meet in our business life don't exactly scintillate either. Ask any man in a large office, and I believe he'll agree his desk mates fall into definite fixed types, none of them out of a Noel Coward play. Here are some:

The office evangelist. He's always trying to convert you to his latest enthusiasm—power bench saw, model boats, vacation in Canada, giving up smoking or not giving up smoking.

★ ★ ★

The office conspirator or rumor-spreader. This guy can't talk to you about the weather without talking behind the back of his hand, eyes darting to and fro like a pitchman watching out for a cop.

The office hypochrandriac. He has diseases the American Medical Assn. never heard of.

The office quack. He has cures the AMA never heard of. Whatever troubles you, this boy has a pill, powder, exercise or diet to fix it.

★ ★ ★

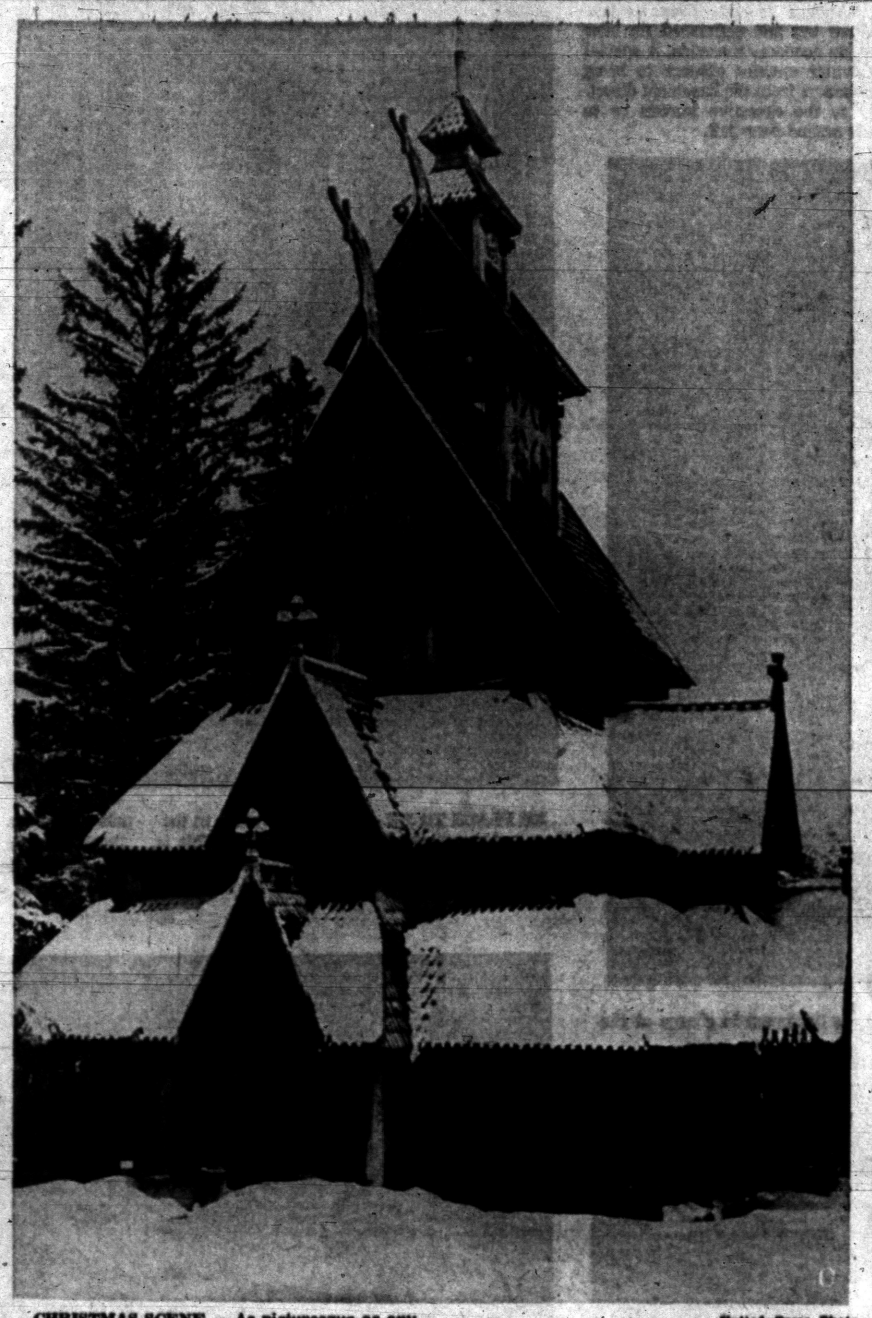

The office paranoiac. Beware. If you're too busy to go to lunch with him, be sure you can prove it. This boy is convinced that every time two men collect at the water cooler they're talking about him.

The office wolf. All bark, no bite. Probably no teeth.

The office "miracle man." It's miraculous that he has not only endured with the company 35 years but climbed to fourth vice president without ever having made a single decision.

★ ★ ★

The official greeter, celebrant, mourner and tax collector. This is the power behind all moves to set up and finance office Christmas parties, "get-acquainted" lunches for new hands, farewell parties for old hands, burial parties for the late hands.

United Press Photo

CHRISTMAS SCENE — As picturesque as any Christmas card, this quaint Oslo, Norway church, its roofs covered with snow, looks like something brought to life from out of a fairy tale. Called the Col Stav Church, the venerable wooden structure, built about 1150, will be filled to capacity when the bells ring out on Christmas Day.

$20 Million in Sales Seen for December

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Chamber of Commerce predicts Americans will buy about 20 million dollars of goods this month, compared with $19,400,000 in December a year ago.

★ ★ ★

But most of the increase over last year will represent price increases, with the sales volume remaining about the same as December 1956, the Chamber said.

★ ★ ★

"The picture adds up to this: While some recent developments in unemployment and the stock market may have made consumers a little more cautious, chances are that when the Christmas fever sets in, December sales should be the biggest yet, or at least tied for first place with 1956," the Chamber added.

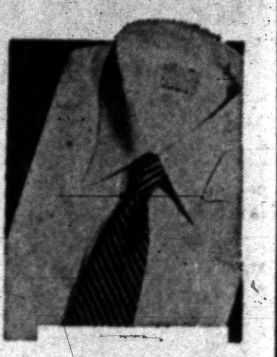

Atlantic City, N. J., is built on an island, about one mile wide and 10 miles in length. Its famed "Boardwalk" is 5½ miles in length.

Will Film Airlift Story

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — British film producer Emeric Pressburger plans to make a movie based on the allied airlift that broke the 1948-1949 Soviet blockade of West Berlin. It is to be filmed in West Berlin and West Germany next year, with English actors starring, as a 10th anniversary production.

Civil Defense Developing Warning Device for Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The head of the nation's civil defense today told a national convention of mayors, "We are developing and testing a simple home warning device that can be plugged into any electrical outlet."

★ ★ ★

"We hope," said Leo A. Hoegh, federal civil defense administrator, "to see a workable device of this usefulness installed in every home in America that is served by a central power system."

★ ★ ★

In an address prepared for delivery before the American Municipal Assn., the former Iowa governor said: "As a result of the launching of the Sputniks and the possibility of Russia having our planning has anticipated), civil defense has become a far more timely subject for discussion than ever before . . . In some cities, civil defense plans which have been mothballed and put on a standby basis will have to be activated."

★ ★ ★

Hoegh called the principal roadblock a federal civil defense law "that became archaic long before it was seven years old."

He said he considered "extremely vital to the improvement of every level of civil defense" which comes before the Senate when it reconvenes. The bill's key provision authorizes the FCDA to assist directly and financially in establishing efficient working organizations "at every level of government."

Hoegh listed five key requirements of an effective civil defense program and commented on each:

★ ★ ★

1. Warning. "We can transmit warnings to 200 key points in every state within 90 seconds . . . we are continuing to strengthen this system."

2. Communications and control. Communications now are primarily teletype and telephone. "We are in the process of backing these up with radio communications."

3. Survival planning — shelter studies. "We are financing in most of the nation's critical target areas, involving 45 states and three territories, detailed operational survival plans. These plans will be completed within the next seven months." A shelter program, based on Nevada atomic tests, is being pushed.

4. Recovery. "Our medical supplies in stockpiles will treat five million people for three weeks. We need more."

★ ★ ★

5. Research and education. He mentioned the home plug-in device under this category. "We are determined to reach every individual with information and guidance that may mean the difference between living and dying in this nuclear age."

Had No Luck Shooting, but Hit Deer With Car

DALLAS (AP)—R. L. Parks and F. B. Beckwith spent a day deer hunting but didn't spot a thing.

★ ★ ★

On the way home from Llano County, however, they were cruising down a lonely stretch of secondary road when a buck leaped a fence beside the road and ran headlong into the side of the car.

★ ★ ★

The collision killed the buck, but the car was stopped safely. A game warden gave the hunters permission to keep the deer, which dressed out at 172 pounds.

Army Prepared to Give Up GI

Detroit Man Accused of Murder May Be Turned Over to Japan

TOKYO (INS)—The U. S. Army said today it is prepared to turn over to the Japanese for trial—if they so request—a Michigan soldier accused of murdering the Japanese wife of a U. S. sailor presently in California.

The Army ruled that Japan has "primary jurisdiction" over Specialist Third Class Gregory J. Kupski, 23, of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Army authorities said Kupski has confessed to strangling Mrs. Kazue Eikawa Wescot, 25-year-old wife of Aviation Mechanic First Class Robert Wescott, of Vineland, N. J.

Both the Army and Japanese legal authorities have charged Kupski with murder.

The woman's body was found nude in a Yokohama alley Nov. 17. A blouse was around her neck and her underpants were stuffed in her mouth.

★ ★ ★

The Army's decision that Japan has primary jurisdiction over the soldier was based on the fact that her husband, although with the U. S. military forces, is not in Japan.

Wescott is presently stationed at the China Lake naval facility in California.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Floridan Confesses Killings Via Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — A Florida farmer telephoned his brother-in-law in Detroit last night and said he had killed his wife and a neighbor and planned to take his own life.

The Detroiter, Orville Dalzell, reported the call to Detroit Police, who radioed authorities in Hendry County, Fla.

Sheriff Bill Maddox of Hendry County said the farmer, Arthur Peters, 66, also slaughtered the livestock on his farm, then stayed at his home near LaBelle, Fla., for several hours before surrendering.

Maddox said Peters gave no reason for killing his wife, Kitty, 60, and the neighbor, Frank Gibbs 65 and had made no attempt to kill himself.

The farmer is being held at the county jail pending a sanity hearing.

AF Transfers Ballistic Missile Program to SAC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced today that its ballistic missile programs have been transferred to the Strategic Air Command.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said responsibility for both the intercontinental and intermediate-range ballistic missile programs had been transferred this week from the Air Research and Development Command, where it formerly rested.

White also announced, in a talk prepared for the National Press Club, that the initial missile division has been transferred to the SAC and the entire resources of the Air Force depot at San Bernardino, Calif., have been made available to support the ballistic missile programs.

"We know where we are headed," White said.

Keep All Tiny Objects Away From Children

For a happy, safer family holiday keep tiny objects away from small children.

A little child should never be given anything small enough for him to swallow. This includes parts of toys and hard Christmas candies. Also he should be discouraged early from tinkering with festive decorations.

Consider Long Wear

In buying for yourself or others, consider long wear. In a tricot garment, buy a closely knit tricot in a heavier weight for long wear.

As 2 U. S. Airmen Sent to Prison

Justice in Japan Attacked

TOKYO (INS) — Japanese justice was criticized today for the heavy prison terms given two U.S. airmen who committed a lesser crime than the one for which GI William Girard won his freedom.

The airmen, both 20, were sentenced by a Yokohama Court yesterday to four years and three and a half years, respectively, for hitting a taxi driver on the head and fleeing without paying their 64-cent fare.

GIRARD FREE

Just 10 days earlier Girard was given a suspended three-year sentence for the slaying of a Japanese woman with his Army M-1 rifle which hurled a cartridge shell from an attached grenade launcher into the back of Mrs. Naka Sakai, the mother of six.

★ ★ ★

Found guilty of hitting a cab driver on the head with a beer bottle and fleeing without paying the 64-cent fare were Airman Second Class Andrew N. Hartman of Hogansville, Ga., and Airman Third Class Phillip W. Morris of North Platte, Neb. Hartman got the six-months heavier sentence because he swung the bottle.

The court said a small head wound inflicted on the taxi driver healed in 10 days. The airmen made an out-of-court settlement before their trial and paid their victim's doctor's fees.

In sentencing the men, the Japanese trial judge said he was actually being lenient because the law calls for a sentence of from seven years to life imprisonment for the crime of wounding through robbery, with which the pair were charged.

BOTH DRUNK

The court ruled that although the two were apparently drunk at the time of their crime they had not suffered "a total loss of mental capacity." The courts usually do not convict a person even for more severe offenses if it is proved that the actor was unaware of what he was doing.

The Asahi Evening News, a large-circulation newspaper, immediately attacked the sentences. It declared:

"This case graphically points out irregularities in the Japanese criminal code, under which persons charged with such a minor crime (robbery is a felony in the U.S.) as these two servicemen receive heavy prison terms while others, such as Girard, who commit much more serious offenses, are let off with suspended sentences." Girard was convicted of manslaughter.

Like Girard, the two airmen have 14 days from the date of sentence in which to appeal. Girard's attorney said however that he would not appeal by the Tuesday midnight deadline unless the prosecution does. This is permitted under Japanese law even though the government wins a conviction.

If the sentences against the airmen stand, they will serve their time at hard labor in the Japanese prison at Yokosuka which has a special section for American servicemen convicted in Japanese courts under the U.S.-Japan Status of Forces Agreement.

Lake Orion Couple Hurt in City Crash

A couple was injured yesterday when their car plowed into the rear of another waiting to make a left hand turn from N. Perry into Kettering street.

Elmer Childers, 42, of 810 Luna Ct., Lake Orion, and his wife, Louise, 40, were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital at 1 a.m. today. Childers had fractured ribs and his wife a possible concussion. They are in satisfactory condition.

The driver of the other car, Mrs. Helen F. Coverse, 23, of 965 Kettering St., was shaken up. She is to see the police today about signing a complaint against Childers.

Buy Children's Toys With an Eye to Safety

Toy manufacturers include many safety features in play items. But wise toy buying calls for some caution.

Be certain the toy has true, lasting colors and non-toxic paint is used. This is especially important with toys for young children, since youngsters like to put things in their mouths.

Broken China Quite Popular Among Danes

In Denmark nobody minds if some glass and china is broken during the Christmas festivities. The Danes have a use for the pieces just a week later.

On Dec. 31 they welcome the New Year by throwing all the broken china and glassware they can find against the front door of their best friend. The person who has most smashed crockery on the front path net morning is the most popular person in town.

Twin Sisters Drown as Thin Ice Breaks

ANTIOCH, Ill. (AP)—Twin sisters, 11 years old, crashed through thin ice on a lake near their home and drowned yesterday.

Dead were Mary Jane and Hazel Jean Beaman, daughters of Samuel Beaman.

A boy who saw the ice break under their weight summoned Beaman. Beaman ran onto the ice and plunged through. A neighbor pulled him ashore with a rope. The girs' bodies were recovered an hour later.

Passengers on major trans-oceanic airlines can now get salt-free, vegetarian, oriental or kosher meals as well as regular fare served while in flight.

Navy Special Project Chief Optimistic

Calm in 'Missile Crisis'

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Rear Adm. William F. "Red" Raborn, fast-talking, fast-acting chief of Navy special projects, remains calm in the midst of today's urgent "missile crisis"—because he thinks he may have the ace that will put the U. S. back in the lead.

The reason for his optimism is the Navy's 1,500-mile, underwater-launched "Polaris" that will give America's atomic submarines a long-range nuclear punch.

ZOOMING BACK

As of now, he thinks that the U. S.—thanks to Polaris—has an excellent chance to zoom back into the missile leadership within a year or two.

Free from radar detection, because radar will not penetrate water, a submerged submarine is possibly the only remaining military vehicle that can rely on stealth for protection. Once they get the Polaris, the atom subs will never need to surface, even to attack.

And Raborn says the Polaris is 'closing fast on the operational dates" of the land-based long-range missiles, Thor and Jupiter, which will be ready in 1958-59.

NATIVE OF TEXAS

Raborn, 52, is a native of Decatur, Tex., and a 1928 graduate of Annapolis. He wears the Silver Star—the nation's fourth highest military decoration—for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity" as executive officer when a Japanese bomb hit the fight deck of his carrier the USS Hancock April 7, 1945.

The citation accompanying that award said Raborn "actively directed the firefighting and damage control units despite blinding smoke and large fires that were threatening ammunition on and around the flight deck." Possibly as a result, the Hancock is still afloat.

Raborn was in command of an even more gruelling situation on May 26, 1954, when a forward hydraulic catapult exploded on the U.S.S. Bennington 75 miles off Newport, R.I., killing 103 men and injuring more than 200.

★ ★ ★

But the Bennington survived to become one of America's modernized, 27,000-ton carriers, and Raborn again was decorated—this time with the Bronze Star.

The admiral is married and has two children, William F., Jr., and Barbara. The daughter may be considered an example of military unification, since she is married to an Air Force Lieutenant, E. J. Richardson.

Prince Rainier Plans to Buy Spanish Yacht

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Waterfront reports here say Monaco's Prince Rainier plans to buy the three-masted Spanish yacht Costa del Cielo Heavenly Cost from Navicoas Maritime Co. of Sevilla for $59,500.

It is a 500-tonner, 135 by 36 feet, and until recently carried Malaga oranges to France.

It will replace the Rainier-Kelly honeymoon yacht. The reports say it will be reitted and christened Deo Juvante III.

Gap Widening in Navy, Marine Dental Needs

NEW YORK (INS)—The toothy grin on Navy and Marine recruiting posters may be nothing more than a flash in the pan.

Three experts from the bureau of medicine and surgery, Department of the Navy, say the Navy is at sea when it comes to meeting dental health needs of sailors and marines.

The gap is an ever-widening one, they report in the December issue of the journal of the American Dental Association.

The lament:

"An average of 616 fillings are needed for every 100 recruits. Ony a fourth of this number are provided.

"Almost 90 per cent of the personnel leaving the Navy and Marine Corps are in need of dental treatment."

Claims Ex-Reds Hold U. S. Jobs

Russian-Born Scientist Doesn't Clarify Remark to Senate Probers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Some former Soviet secret police have obtained jobs in Washington, a Russian-born scientist testified here yesterday, but it was not clear what kind of jobs he meant.

★ ★ ★

The witness, Valintin L. Sokolov, told the Senate Internal Security subcommittee he himself had been unsuccessful in trying to get a Washington job in his field.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb), who presided at the public hearing, said afterwards in Washington that the testimony was not clear.

"My idea," Hruska said, "is that the witness meant that the defectees are interrogated by intelligence agencies in Washington and are paid for their time. But that was not clear."

★ ★ ★

The subcommittee went into closed sessions briefly to obtain names of such "employes" from Sokolov. The witness said he had fled to the West and arrived in the United States in 1954. His address, employment and other personal details were not revealed.

Cape Canaveral Home of Awesome Sights

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS)—What goes on at the U. S. Missile Test Center on Cape Canaveral, where long-range rockets take off at more and more frequent intervals, is enough to alarm a saucer-riding Martian.

Even earthman's everyday performance is now out of his world. And the firing of a ballistic missile is an awesome sight not to be eclipsed by anything less than a hydrogen bomb.

The favorite vantage point for watching these flaming leaps into space is Port Canaveral, three or four miles away. Despite security, outsiders aided by a boat have obtained excellent telescopic motion pictures from as little as two miles away.

VETS KNOW HOW

Veteran watchers know the procedures. They take up landward posts or take to boats only when the Air Force has hoisted the "yellow ball" to the top of a 90-foot flagpole.

The "yellow ball," which is five or six feet in diameter and looks red through binoculars, emerges through the roof of a wooden shed. Mainly to warn shipping, this means that a missile is being prepared for firing.

The various steps are taken during a long, tedious count down, which may run six hours in action time, but with frequent "time outs" and sometimes new starts that could stretch the preparations over days or even weeks.

COUNTING HEARD AFAR

A man in the control tower sings out at irregular intervals early in the game. Sometimes when the wind is just right his voice can be heard at Port Canaveral, and the count has been picked up by radio.

"T' minus three hours two minutes, and counting," the control operator may say. After a pause he may add: "Fuel selector in off position," and another voice will replay in exactly the same words and tone: "Fuel selector in off position."

Then through the control tower microphone may come the words: "'T' minus three hours, and holding," which means that time is being taken out to make some adjustment. There are hundreds of checks, and six hours is the time they would take if everything went perfectly.

Eventually the time grows short: The control tower voice sings out every minute. Huge trucks drive up to the missile's "gantry," the scaffolding-like lift that surrounds it. Tons of fuel are pumped into the rocket.

America's present ballistic missiles burn liquid oxygen, which is liquid only at highly refrigerated temperatures — 297.4 degrees below zero, or lower. This causes a plume of white mist to rise from the top of the rocket while the fuel is being pumped in. Occasionally the missile can be seen to frost up like an ice cream bar.

Finally a petcock at the top is twisted, and the plume of mist suddenly disappears. Firing is now very close. The control tower goes on "automatic count," in minutes and then seconds. Nothing can stop the test after fueling unless someone pushes a "panic" button.

ONLY MINUTES AWAY

The rocket must be fired within twenty minutes after fueling, and the sooner the better. The idea is to accomplish this within a few minutes after the gantry is pulled away and the last man scurries from the launching pad.

When the fuel is ignited by remote control from a blockhouse a quarter of a mile away, the missile rises, slowly at first, for 15 or 20 seconds in majestic silence as observed from Port Canaveral.

Then there is an ear-splitting clap of thunder—like thunder except that the missile's deep-throated roar continues without letup for a minute or more.

The missile, rapidly gaining speed and trailing a great tail of fire, streaks toward the continent of Africa, while its comparatively slow-moving sound rumbles 25 or 30 miles inland.

Experts at first were inclined to doubt that these missiles were seen from Miami, 190 miles south of here. From Miami they looked like bright shooting stars crazily travelling in reverse—up instead of down.

VISIONS WERE VALID

A checkup showed that this time no one was seeing things. The tested 1,500-mile missiles were probably 300 miles away and, at altitudes of 150 miles as viewed from Miami, but since this would be within their three-minute burnout time and they would still be belching flame they undoubtedly were seen as reported.

And although a fleet of screaming jets cannot be heard from the ground when they fly at an altitude of only eight miles, there seems to be no question that the missiles' epochal roar has traveled clearly over as much as thirty miles of countryside.

Science outlook — Robert Haviland, General Electric's space wizard, is urging four equally-spaced weather satellites that would follow the equator at an altitude of 4,000 miles. These "moons" would be in communication with each other, and would furnish forecasters with a constant measure of the amount of cloud cover on earth.

Actor Legalizes Name

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Louis Jourdan of the screen is now Louis Jourdan legally in private life. Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes granted the actor permission yesterday to discard his real name—Louis Gendre. He is a native of Marseilles, France.

About 15 million motor vehicles use the Holland under-water tunnel each year. The tube was the first to be built and was opened 30 years ago.

Little Trouble for NFL Leaders

Browns, Colts Point for Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ceveland Browns, winners of three of the last seven National Football League championships and Baltimore, which has not even won a Conference crown, are moving in the direction of a Dec. 29 title encounter.

★ ★ ★

The path, however, appears much smoother for the Browns.

With only two weeks of the regular season remaining, Cleveland can win the Eastern Conference title with a tie or victory in either of its games with Detroit or New York. The Browns meet the Lions next Sunday and the Giants a week later.

The Colts, with a one game lead in the Western Conference, will be on the road for their remaining two — against San Francisco and Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

Both leaders had little trouble moving ahead yesterday. Cleveland crushed the Chicago Cardinals 31-0 and Baltimore defeated Los Angeles 31-14. San Francisco tied idle Detroit for second place in the Western Conference by surprising the Giants 27-17.

In games of lesser importance, the Washington Redskins beat the Chicago Bears 14-3 and the Philadelphia Eagles downed the Pittsburgh Steelers 7-6.

The Browns, who won the NFL crown in 1950, 1954, and 1955, got another standout performance from Tommy O'Connell, the circuit's leading passer. O'Connell threw 65 and 23 yard scoring passes to Ray Renfro and set up Lou Groza's 13th field goal of the season with a 40-yarder to Darrel Brewster.

The triumph may have been costly, however, since O'Connell was carried from the field with a twisted ankle midway through the third period. The Cards managed to get inside Cleveland's 30-yard line only once.

★ ★ ★

Long-legged Lenny Moore got away for three touchdowns for Baltimore. The Colts snapped a 14-14 tie in the third quarter on Steve Myrha's 36-yard field goal. Three of the Colt touchdowns came on the end of passes by John Unitas, giving him 22 scoring tosses for the campaign. A crowd of 52,060—largest in Baltimore's pro football history — watched the game.

★ ★ ★

In five previous seasons in the NFL, Batimore never has finished over the .500 mark. It's current record is 7-3.

Rampaging San Francisco was helped by five Giant fumbles in the first half. The inept play of the New Yorkers disappointed a throng of 54,121, largest of the year in Yankee Stadium. Gene Babb, Joe Perry and Billy Wilson scored the 49er touchdowns goals of 13 and 37 yards.

Washington scored the first time it had the ball on a 72-yard drive in nine plays capped by Ed Sutton's four-yard run. Ed LeBaron added another first quarter by tossing a 10-yard pass to Jim Podoley. It was the first time since the opening game of 1955 that the Bears failed to score a touchdown.

A second period touchdown pass from Sonny Jurgensen to Dick Bielski and Bobby Walston's conversion for Philadelphia offset two field goals by Pittsburgh's Gary Glick. The Eagles' triumph evened the season's series between the teams at 1-1.

Cards Get 1st Two Selections Due to Ruling

Plan to Grab Rice's Hill; Richards Also Likes Spartan Trio

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Football League coaches gambled with the future today as they gathered to draft 49 college football players, including the bonus choice, at the pros' preliminary player selection meeting.

Commissioner Bert Bell presided over the session which was to be followed by an executive meeting of owners expected to solve such pressing problems as the Players Association.

Bell says he will ask the owners to approve recommendations he sent them in October which would meet player demands for exhibition game pay, a minimum salary and an injury protection clause. The commissioner said he recognized the association earlier in the year before a congressional committee.

The first order of business will be the bonus selection, an out-of-the-hat draw initiated in 1947, in which the winner gets first crack at any available college player of its choice. Under the rules which eliminate each team from the draw after it has won the bonus, only the Chicago Cardinals are left. So, coach Ray Richards of the Cards automatically gets the big prize today.

Richards has indicated he'll select quarterback King Hill, the fine quarterback of the Rice Owls, Southwest Conference champions and Cotton Bowl foe of Navy New Year's Day.

The Cards' coach also is considering such outstanding collegiate backs as Walt Kowalczyk, Michigan State; Phil King, Vanderbilt; John Crow, Texas A.& M., and Jim Ninowski, Michigan State, and tackles Lou Michaels, Kentucky; Charley Krueger, Texas A.&M., and Dan Currie, Michigan State center.

Richards may, in fact, select Hill and other of the other outstanding players mentioned above since, by coincidence, he will be making the first two selections at today's session.

The rules provide that after the bonus choice is made, each club in turn makes its selection in inverse order of its standing in the league. And when the final whistle blew on NFL competition yesterday, the Cardinals were in last place in the league.

More TV Worries for Minors

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Sunday television of major league baseball posed a new worry for minor league baseball executives at their annual meeting today.

The television issue was pitched into the convention of the National Leagues by the International League directors.

They said in a resolution they were "very concerned" about a reported plan for a Sunday TV game of major league ball "inasmuch as attendance in the minor leagues is dependent upon Sunday attendance."

George Trautman, Association president, said at a news conference he had heard talk of the Sunday TV game "but at this time I don't know it to be a fact."

★ ★ ★

International directors instructed their president, Frank J. Shaughnessy, to hire a lawyer and "to commence and maintain whatever litigation is necessary to determine and protect the rights of the International League in this matter."

Shaughnessy voiced he reaction of other minor executives with the angry declaration "Sunday's the only decent day we have — now they want to take that away from us too."

Ed Doherty, President of the American Assn., said he was in full sympathy with Shaughnessy but added that his league had not taken a stand.

Pacific Coast League directors were called to a meeting today to talk over the latest damage settlement offered by the Giants and Dodgers of the National League for taking over the San Francisco and Los Angeles territories.

★ ★ ★

The National League clubs have offered $600,000 to the Pacific Coast League, to be paid over a three-year period from gate receipts. The PCL president, Leslie M. O'Connor, said he couldn't divulge the offer but added: "When we do make a settlement it will be for a substantial amount. It won't be for $50,000 a club, I promise you that."

★ ★ ★

The PCL, which has been demanding one million dollars, was reported ready to compromise.

★ ★ ★

The realignment of the PCL points to Spokane taking the place of Los Angeles and Phoenix replacing San Francisco. Hollywood would be replaced by Salt Lake City or Long Beach, Calif.

★ ★ ★

Ways to stop declining attendance were a prime concern at the convention which has scheduled a clinic late today to consider building more interest in baseball. Charles A. Hurth, president of the Southern Assn., will lead the discussion.

Champ Brown 3-1 Choice Over Lopes Wednesday

CHICAGO (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown, a 3-1 favorite to defeat challenger Joey Lopes in their title bout at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night, ends his workouts today.

Brown, making a third defense of the title he won from Bud Smith more than a year ago, will spar for two rounds today.

★ ★ ★

Trainer Bill Gore says the 31-year-old champion is down to the 135 pound limit and will be in top shape for the fight. The match, schedued for 15 rounds, will be nationally televised (ABC, 10 p.m. EST) with Chicago blacked out.

Bookmakers are laying 2½-1 that Brown will win by a knockout even though the same Lopes held the champion to a 10-round draw in a non-title battle in the same ring last August.

★ ★ ★

In his other title defenses, Brown stopped Smith in 11 rounds of their return bout and followed up by halting Orlando Zulueta in the 15th round.

Brown will take a 66-14-9 record into the ring. He has scored 28 kayos. Lopes has a 41-13-3 record with 17 kayos.

Brown's last fight was less than a month ago when he beat Kid Centella in a 10-round non-title match at Houston, Nov. 12.

Lopes already has ended his drills and is trying to put on weight for the bout which gives him his big chance. The 27-year-old Lopes is down to 131 pounds but would like to add a couple of pounds before entering the ring.

The fight will be scored on the five-point must system, a round winner receiving five points and the round loser fewer points. Both fighters earn five points on even rounds.

Duke Dominates All-ACC Team

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Six teams placed men on the Associated Press Atlantic Coast Conference all-star football team announced today, with Orange Bowl-bound Duke gaining three positions.

Conference champion North Carolina State, ineligible for bowl play because of NCAA restrictions, won two berths and came up with the player selected as the No. 1 performer of the conference, halfback Dick Christy.

Maryland and North Carolina also placed two men on the honor eleven, with Virginia and Clemson each winning one position.

Here's the lineup:

Beats Leader, but Big Buck Isn't Eligible

Paul Gilbank of Lennon, community northwest of Swartz Creek, thought he had a winner for The Pontiac Press big deer contest that closed Saturday.

But Gilbank discovered, after a telephone call to this department, that his 215-pound 10-pointer was not eligible. His deer, shot near Wakefield in the Porcupine area of the Upper Peninsula, was one pound heavier than the current leader, a 214-pounder entered by Don Behrend of Walled Lake.

Full-time Oakland County residents only are eligible for the $150 U.S. Savings Bond award.

Entries close at noon (12 o'clock) Tuesday, and the winner will be announced Wednesday, Dec. 4.

Louisville Will Meet Drake in Sun Bowl

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The University of Louisville was picked last night to play Drake in the Sun Bowl football game at El Paso, Tex., New Year's Day. Drake accepted the invitation last week.

E. V. Kollmer, Sun Bowl chairman, made the offer and it was accepted by Louisville Athetic Director Bernard "Peck" Hickman.

Expect Bryant to Join Alabama

Daughter Gives Out Word to Birmingham Sports Editor

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) —The nearest thing to an announcement that Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Texas A&M is going to the University of Alabama as head football coach came yesterday from his 21-year-old daughter.

★ ★ ★

Mae Martin Bryant, fresh from a Thanksgiving visit with her parents in Texas, said her mother would begin house-hunting at Tuscaloosa — site of the university — about Dec. 19.

★ ★ ★

'Mama said I could call you when I got back and tell you that we were all looking forward to being back home together in Alabama soon," the Birmingham school teacher told Bob Phillips, executive sports editor of the Birmingham Post-Herald.

★ ★ ★

This feminine directness contrasted with weeks of evasiveness on the part of Bryant and university authorities as to whether he will succeed J. B. Whitworth as Tide head football coach. Whitworth's contract expired yesterday and was not renewed.

★ ★ ★

Phillips said Bryant is expected to sign a contract with Alabama officials Wednesday or Thursday, and not later than Friday of this week.

Hanks Finishes 3rd in Last Auto Race

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (INS) — Sam Hanks, king of American speedways, drove his last race Sunday. He finished third.

Hanks, who won the 500-mile Indianapolis classic in record time last Memorial Day, saw Jerry Unser, of the famous racing family, become the national stock car racing champion by winning the 250-mile feature at Riverside.

Hanks flouted superstition of not mentioning his "final race" and before the contest said flatly he was ending his career of 22 years on tracks from coast to coast.

Yardley's Big Splurge Wasted

Pistons Edged by Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — A 39-point scoring rampage by George Yardley failed to pull the Detroit Pistons through in last night's game with the New York Knickerbockers who downed Detroit, 109-102, in a National Basketball Assn. contest at Madison Square Garden.

The lanky Yardley, Detroit's high scoring ace all season, made 15 field goals and nine free throws as the Pistons tried to overcome a third-quarter surge in which the Knickerbockers sank 10 straight points.

New York never was headed as it throttled several Detroit rallies in the last half of the game. The heavy artillery in the Knickerbocker attack was Willie Naulls who scored 25 points.

The Knicks staged their 10-point splurge while leading, 59-58 with two minutes gone in the third period. That made it 69-58, a margin the Pistons were not able to make up although they managed to close the gap to 99-96 with four minutes left in the game.

The Pistons tied the game in the second quarter on Chuck Noble's one handed two-pointer and were behind the Knicks by only one point, 55-54, as the half ended.

The defeat was the first for the Pistons in three games with the Knicks this season. Detroit is in third place in the NBA's Western Division with a record of seven victories and 10 defeats.

The Knickerbockers are in last place in the conference's Eastern Division with a 7-11 record.

Michigan Grid 'Bust' Will Honor 16 Seniors

DETROIT (AP) — Annual University of Michigan football bust honoring 19 graduating seniors will take place in a Detroit hotel tonight.

Vic Heyliger, who was Wolverine hockey coach for 13 years until retiring last spring to enter the restaurant business in Colorado, returns to be toastmaster. The affair is sponsored by the Michigan Club of Detroit.

CHICAGO (AP) — Defending champion Brown, led by skipper Robert Turner, won the Timme Angsten Trophy yesterday in dinghy competition at Belmont Harbor.

Lou Little Calls 'em

By LOU LITTLE

What has been perhaps our great season of football ends, as it began, with surprises, and with renewed evidence that in the present day game the way to play it is with two units if the men are available. Unfortunately many colleges don't have enough qualified men for the two-unit plan, and as a rule the teams without it won't win when they meet it.

★ ★ ★

Coach Eddie Erdelatz of Navy, who has the men, said it early in the year.

"Football is no longer an eleven man sport," he said. "One good team is not enough. You've got to have the reserves to give the regulars a rest, and we aim to do it by alternating the first and second units whenever possible."

That's the way Navy played it against Army at Philadelphia. Navy's alternate unit was a capable group, good enough to be entrusted with the job of stopping Army when the Cadets threatened to score in the second quarter. When Ned Oldham and his unit came back in after a Navy punt had put the play out in midfield again, they were rested and ready to go at top speed, knowing they would be relieved again whenever their coach thought it wise.

Meanwhile, the Army regulars had no such relief and in the heavy ground conditions the sustained duty which was required of them took increasing toll. Under such conditions men tire in the soft going much more quickly and they just can't go too long at top speed.

Army deserves credit for the fact that Navy failed to score from scrimmage during the second half, when Oldham's return of a punt scored his and Navy's second touchdown. Oldham was an outstanding runner on this play, using his blockers well, changing pace as a good open field runner must.

Even without that touchdown, even if Navy had won only on the first-period score, the victory would have been a decisive one. This was apparent when in the third period Army had its chance on the recovery of a fumble punt on Navy's 19-yard line. The four plays that followed were a capsule of the game. Bob Anderson was stopped outside with one yard; he failed to gain inside; Pete Dawkins got four to the outside, and Dave Bourland's pass to the end zone was intercepted.

★ ★ ★

Navy's line, with its varying defenses, Tom Forrestal's well-called passes and, most importantly, Navy's more plentiful man power, accomplished the mission. The manner in which the Navy line and supporting secondary bottled up one of the best running teams in the country means that the Midshipmen well deserve national rating as one of our top defensive outfits.

LONG STRETCH — Baltimore Colts' end Jim Mutscheller (84) stretches high to take a pass thrown by quarterback Johnny Unitas that was good for a 23-yard gain in the 3rd quarter at Baltimore Sunday. Los Angeles Rams' defensive back Don Burroughs (25) leaps in effort to break up the play. The Colts won, 31-14, to remain atop the Western Conference of the National Football League. AP Wirephoto

NOT THIS TIME — Washington Redskin end Tom Braatz tumbles to the turf attempting to catch a 2nd period pass at Wrigley Field in Chicago Sunday. Ball was batted down by Chicago Bear back J. C. Caroline (25) who was bowled over on the play. The Redskins won, 14-3.

Wilson For International Events

Favors Athletic Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Assn., said today the United States should promote more international athletic events to stir up interest in sports among American youth.

Competition in this country among the world's best performers, Wilson said, would not only "help condition our athletes but help stimulate interest in many more sports from the level of the public."

Wilson, who also is commissioner of the Big Ten collegiate conference, made his comments as the Olympic Association opened a two-day meeting.

Delegates representing a multitude of sports organizations convened to lay the groundwork for U.S. participation in the 1959 Pan American Games and the 1960 Olympics.

They were prepared to adopt a number of revisions in regulations affecting U. S. contestants. One would ban athletes who take any kind of dope, either to pep up or calm down, from the Pan American games at Chicago or the Olympics at Rome.

Another set of changes would clarify restrictions on the writing of articles or radio-TV appearances by competitors in connection with the games. Approval of the Olympics committee must be obtained for any publicity agreements.

The amendments recalled the case of Cliff Blair, Boston hammer thrower who lost his amateur status just prior to the 1956 Olympics as a result of "letters" he wrote to a Boston newspaper. A committee spokesman said, however, the revisions now up for consideration are merely to clarify curbs which have existed since 1948.

Another proposal would open the field for new coaches and other managerial personnel by limiting duty in such capacities to one Olympic or Pan American games.

The Olympic group met after the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) closed its 70th annual convention.

In a windup action the AAU voted to allow its district associations to decide whether headgear should be used in boxing tournaments. This discretion will hold for all but the national championships, for which the AAU boxing committee will make the decision.

Nick J. Barack of Columbus Ohio, outgoing boxing committee chairman, proposed the new regulation as a means of giving soldiers, sailors and marines AAU ring competition. The armed forces now require their men to wear headgear, which has not been permitted in Golden Gloves or international events.

The AAU installed Dan Ferris as honorary secretary in order to retain his services as an adviser. Ferris, 68, retired as secretary-treasurer after 30 years on the job.

James F. Simms, who has been with the AAU since 1920, was promoted from assistant to secretary-treasurer to suceced Ferris.

Spartans Host to Butler for Season Opener

Seven Non-Conference Games Scheduled; 'M' Begins Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Basketball takes over the sports scene in the midwest tonight with seven Big Ten teams swinging into action. Illinois and Minnesota draw the toughest foes in pre-conference intersectional games.

Illinois is host to Marquette, a team expected to return to power after a poor year last season. Minnesota takes on Southern Methodist, one of the top teams in the Southwest Conference and the No. 4 team in the nation last season.

Indiana and Michigan State, defending co - champions who again rank high, are home to Ohio University and Butler. The Hoosiers shouldn't have too much trouble with Ohio but Butler again could prove pesky against Big Ten opponents.

Northwestern opens at Western Michigan, Miami of Ohio is at Purdue and South Dakota goes up against Wisconsin.

Iowa waits until Tuesday night and is host to Southern Methodist. Michigan and Ohio State open Wednesday night. Michigan will be at Pitt and Ohio State, rated a title contender along with Indiana and Michigan State, faces the toughest test of the week against Kentucky.

Indiana takes the wraps off sophomore Frank Radovich, who at 6-8 stands equal in height with scoring champion Archie Dees. Radovich and Dees could give Indiana the strongest one-two scoring punch in the Big Ten.

Michigan State has star center John Green back along with last season starters Larry Hedden and Jack Quiggle. Other lettermen who will bolster coach Forddy Anderson's club are Chuck Bencie and Dave Scott. The Spartans blend a balanced attack with good height and have one of the nation's strongest defensive teams.

Pick VMI Star Southern Loop's Player of Year

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia Military Institute's do-it-all halfback — Bobby Jordan — today was named football Player of the Year in the Southern Conference.

Jordan, called by VMI Coach John McKenna the "most underrated" player in this area, was a runaway choice in voting by members of the Southern Conference Sports Writers Assn.

The 180-pound senior from Redford, Va., was named on 18 of the 35 ballots returned. His nearest challenger was West Virginia guard Chuck Howey, who got six votes.

CAPTAIN — Pete Dawkins, 19 - year - old second classman from Royal Oak, Mich., was voted captain of Army's 1958 football team at a meeting of lettermen in West Point, N. Y., Saturday. He's the 1st halfback to hold the honor since Glenn Davis, who was co-captain with Doc Blanchard in 1946. Dawkins played his prep football at Cranbrook.

So. Conference Campaign Starts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Conference basketball teams launch the 1957-58 campaign tonight with four non-league contests and an exhibition game, and West Virginia's Mountaineers have a chance before this week is out to take over what they expect to be the top spot for the rest of the season.

The Mountaineers play two of the four league games this week, both at home. They entertain Virginia Military Institute on Tuesday and Furman on Saturday and are expected to win both.

Tonight's non-conference action has the Citadel's sophomores playing host to Newberry, Furman at Tennessee, William and Mary entertaining Virginia of the Atlantic Coast Conference and Davidson at Wake Forest of the ACC.

The exhibition contest has Richmond's Spiders taking on the Phillips Oilers at Portsmouth, Va.

Honored for TKO of Boyd

Calhoun 'Fighter of Month'

NEW YORK (AP)—Rory Calhoun's second round technical knockout of Bobby Boyd today earned the White Plains, N.Y., middleweight contender "Fighter of the Month" honors in the latest monthly ratings of Ring Magazine.

Calhoun is the third ranking contender behind Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer, a couple of former middleweight champions. Boyd was dropped from the elite list for his quick defeat.

Although several commissions have either retired Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson or hinted that he should quit, the Ring listed Jackson tenth among the heavyweight contenders. Ring Editor Nat Fleischer said the fact that Jackson, who was the No. 2 contender not many months ago, went ten rounds with both champion Floyd Patterson and top contender Eddie Machen, entitled him to a ranking for at least another month.

College Grid Bowls Filled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Conference titles are settled, the bowls are filled and all that remains in college football for 1957 is the selection of the national champion and the All-America team.

The national champ will be named tomorrow in the final Associated Press poll of the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters. The AP All-America will be announced Thursday.

Unbeaten, untied Auburn, considered a good-field, no-hit outfit until last weekend, beat the drum long and loud in a final bid for the national championship with a 40-0 rumble against Alabama Saturday. The Tigers (10-0) took over the No. 1 spot in last week's ranking with Ohio State second and Michigan State third.

Both Ohio State, bound for the Rose Bowl as Big 10 champ, and Michigan State completed their regular seasons a week earlier than Auburn.

Auburn took its first Southeastern Conference title, but the Tigers are on NCAA probation and ineligible for bowl play. That left the SEC's spot in the Sugar Bowl for runnerup Mississippi, which tied Mississippi State 7-7 Saturday.

The bowl search was finished Saturday after three other season-closing games—Navy's 14-0 victory over Army, Rice's 20-0 breeze over Baylor for the Southwest Conference crown, and Tennessee's 20-6 victory over Vanderbilt—which set up this year-end schedule:

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.—Ohio State (8-1) vs. Oregon (7-3).

Cotton Bown at Dallas—Rice (7-3) vs. Navy (8-1-1).

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans Mississippi (8-1-1) vs. Texas (6-3-1).

Orange Bowl at Miami—Oklahoma (9-1) vs. Duke (6-2-2).

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.—Tennessee (8-3) vs. Texas A & M (8-2).

The Gator Bowl, greeting Tennessee and A & M for the first time, is set for Dec. 28. The others are New Year's Day classics.

Arizona State (10-0), the only other major unbeaten, untied team, finished its season with a 47-7 victory over Arizona, but is barred from bowl play by a school rule.

Tennessee, the only 1957 bowl team back for another shot (the Vols lost to Baylor in this year's Sugar Bowl 13-7), will be making its 11th appearance in a major bowl, but has only a 3-7 record to show for it. The Vols, who have played in the Rose, Orange, Sugar and Cotton Bowls in the past, haven't won since 1951, when they defeated Texas 20-14 at Dallas.

This will be Tennessee's fifth bowl run-in with a Southwest club, and the Vols have come off second best in the previous meetings (1-3).

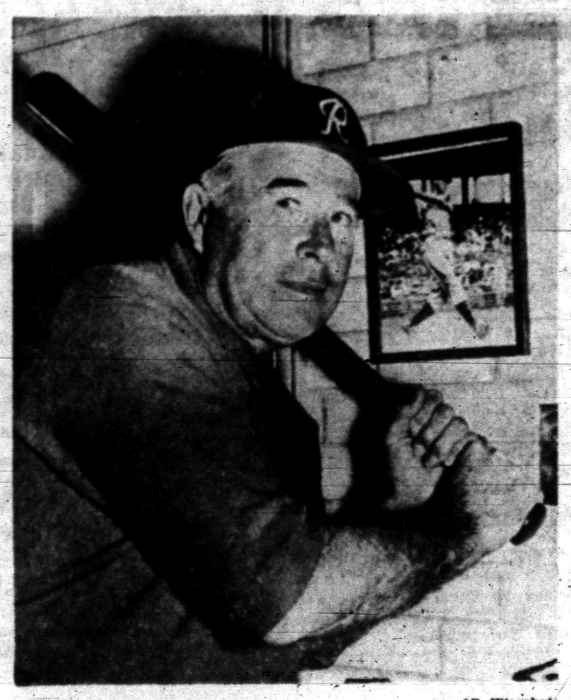

Texas A & M, absent from bowl play since 1944's 19-14 defeat by Louisiana State at the Orange Bowl, has a 2-2 post-season record.

Rice is the only bowl-bound club with a perfect bowl record (4-0). This will be the Owls' fourth trip to the Cotton Bowl, where they knocked off Alabama 28-6 in their last post-season game.

Navy has appeared in only two other bowl games, defeating Mississippi 21-0 in the 1955 Sugar Bowl, and tying Washington 14-14 in the 1924 Rose Bowl.

This Rose Bowl game will be the 12th in the Big 10 - Pacific Coast rivalry, which has been more than one-sided. The Big 10 has a 10-1 edge (the PCC winning in '53 when Southern Cal beat Wisconsin 7-0) and Ohio State has hung up two of the victories (17-14 vs. California in 1950, and 20-7 vs. Southern Cal in 1955). The Buckeyes' only other bowl game was a 28-0 defeat by California in 1921.

Oregon is 1-2 in bowl play, losing 7-6 to Harvard in its last trip to the Rose Bowl (1920) and beaten 21-13 by Southern Methodist in the 1949 Cotton Bowl game. The Ducks defeated Penn 14-0 in the 1917 Rose Bowl.

RESIGNS POST — Francis (Lefty) O'Doul, posing at his home last night, attempts to emulate the batting stance he used in 1933 when he played with the New York Giants. O'Doul resigned yesterday as manager of the Pacific Coast League Seattle Rainiers, but said he had no plans of retiring from baseball. He said he may for a time confine his activities to business interests, but would be interested if a good spot in baseball opened up.

PHS Season Cage Ducats Go on Sale

Southern Conference Names Top Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

West Virginia guard Chuck Howley was the "lineman of the year" and VMI halfback Bobby Jordan was the "back of the year" in 1957 Southern Conference football.

These additional honors came to Howley and Jordan today as the record book was closed on a conference season chock full of surprises.

Both Howley and Jordan proved easy winners in balloting conducted by the Associated Press among conference coaches, newspaper sports writers and radio-TV sportscasters to determine the lineman and back of the year.

Baseball TV Fight Looms

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A television battle between the New York Yankees and Philadelphia Phillies shaped up today with the report that both clubs will televise games simultaneously into the New York area next season.

The Phills, according to a reliable report, have completed negotiations to televise all their games into the New York area which do not conflict with Yankee home games.

The Yankees, taking advantage of the departure of the Giants and Dodgers from the New York area, have quietly gone about arranging an all - out television program which would pipe nearly all of their 77 road games back to New York. At the same time they will continue to telecast all their 77 home games in the metropolitan area.

This would be the most ambitious television program ever attempted by a baseball club.

Brown, Lopes Called Fit for Title Bout

CHICAGO (INS) — A pre-flight medical examination has revealed that lightweight champion Joe Brown and challenger Joey Lopes are physically fit for their 15-round title struggle next Wednesday night at the Chicago stadium.

Brown, a New Orleans product who now makes his headquarters in Houston, Tex., and Lopes, of Sacramento, Calif., were examined yesterday by Illinois athletic commission physicians.

Three Captains Named for SEC All-Star Team

ATLANTA (AP)—End Jimmy Phillips of Auburn, tackle Lou Michaels of Kentucky and fullback Jimmy Taylor of Louisiana State are tri-captains of the 1957 All-Southeastern Conference football team announced today by the Associated Press.

They were unanimous choices of the AP's All-America advisory board of sportswriters and sportscasters.

Other members of the all-star first team: end Jerry Wilson of Auburn, tackle Gen Hickerson of Mississippi, guards Bill Johnson of Tennessee and Jackie Simpson of Mississippi, center Don Stephenson of Georgia Tech and backs Billy Stacy of Mississippi State, Jimmy Rountree of Florida and Bobby Gordon of Tennessee.

Michaels, Stephenson and Stacy are repeaters from last year's All-SEC team. Stacy and Wilson are juniors and the others are seniors.

Troubled Wings Fall to 5th Spot

AP Wirephoto

FRACAS — Goalie Marcel Paille of the New York Rangers waits on one while Norm Ullman (16) of the Detroit Red Wings prepares to score in the 1st period of last night's game between the New York Rangers and the Red Wings at Detroit's Olympia Stadium. Other players in the hassle are Dean Prentice (17), Harry Howell (3), Larry Popein (19), Lou Fontinato (8), all of New York, and Gordie Howe (9) of Detroit. The Wings took a 5-1 licking.

Rangers Blast Terry Sawchuk With 35 Shots

Take 5-1 Victory on Olympia Ice for Ninth Detroit Home Loss

DETROIT (AP)—"There's only one good team in the entire hockey league" said general manager Jack Adams.

Unfortunately it isn't Adams' Detroit Red Wings who last night fell back into fifth place after dropping a 5-1 decision to the New York Rangers.

Someone told a small joke in the Red Wing dressing room afterward and Adams mentioned that "there were a lot of jokes out there on the ice tonight—the Red Wings."

Adams says the Wings "are just as good as the other four teams in the league—but Montreal is the only real good team in the entire league."

The Detroit club had all kinds of trouble against the Rangers who ended a four-game losing streak by screaming 35 shots at goalie Terry Sawchuk. The Rangers outshot the Wings 35-23 and ended Detroit's come-from-behind hopes with three third-period goals.

Parker MacDonald, Larry Popein and Camille Henry took turns beating Sawchuk, the first two scoring on long shots that spun over the goalie's shoulder and Henry counting on a solo effort after taking the puck away from Metro Prystai at the New York blue line.

Norm Ullman got his seventh goal for the Wings in the first period on a power play and Bill Gadsby matched it three minutes later when Detroit was short because of a penalty.

The Wings disappointed the home crowd (9,074) for the ninth time. They have won only twice in 11 Olympia engagements.

"We're pretty hot on the road" said Adams. "That's a switch—a team is supposed to be better at home—but our club has 19 points this season and we've built up 12 of them on the road. Maybe we should play all our games away from home."

The Red Wings play an exhibition at Michigan State University Tuesday night and get back into NHL action Thursday at Boston. On Saturday they meet the league-leading Canadiens at Montreal and the following night have a return meeting against the Canadiens in Detroit.

13-Game Area Hoop Schedule Tuesday

A 13-game schedule sprinkled with interesting non-league battles and the openers of the Southern Thumb loop will make up the first full night of the 1957-58 basketball schedule tomorrow night.

Some of the teams already opened play last week and many more will debut Friday as the hoop season follows right on the heels of a flu-delayed football schedule.

Southfield at Cranbrook, Clarkston at Ortonville, Rochester at Milford and West Bloomfield at Clawson are among the major games on the docket.

The game at Cranbrook will feature opponents who lost their openers and are anxious to notch that all-important 1st victory. The rest will be just starting.

Orchard Lake St. Mary will also make its debut playing host to St. Stanislaus. Others doing the same are Holly at home against Fenton, Farmington playing at Wayne, Romeo hosting South Lake, Berkley at home to meet Dearborn Fordson and Millington playing Vassar at Millington.

A good early preview of what to expect in the Southern Thumb should come about in league battles matching defending champion New Haven and Dryden, Armada vs Capac and strong Almont against Brown City.

Brown City has had the advantage of playing one pre-loop contest, a defeat by North Branch during Thanksgiving week.

Pontiac, St. Frederick, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lake Orion and Ferndale are some of the teams which will get into action starting Friday.

Middies Save New Plays for Rice in Cotton Bowl

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Coach Eddie Erdelatz saved a couple of new plays he had ready for Army and is glad today because "Navy has another game."

The plays unnecessary in Saturday's 14-0 victory at Philadelphia may come in handy against Rice in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on Jan. 1.

Plans for supplementing them in practice aren't formulated yet. But if coach Erdelatz follows his pattern of 1954 before going to the Sugar Bowl to beat Mississippi, the Navy gridders will resume training about the middle of next week.

They'll take a Christmas leave around Dec. 20 and reassemble on Dec. 26.

It will be only the third bowl trip by Navy and such post season events had become a touchy question.

In 1955, Capt. Elliott Laughlin, then athletic director, wanted to rule out one regardless of that season's record. He was overruled, but Army made the debate pointless by winning 14-6.

After last year's 7-7 tie with Army, coach Erdelatz still wanted to accept the Cotton Bowl bid. But Admiral W. R. Smedberg II, academy superintendent, said no.

The tug-of-war threatened to overshadow the Army game.

This year it was made clear from the start Navy would go to a bowl if its season record was respectable and it beat Army. Erdelatz then went to work.

After winning the seventh game from George Washington and beaten only by North Carolina and tied by Duke, he asked the players if they'd like to go to a bowl. All but a couple said yes. Coach Erdelatz told them to forget the bowl, then, and go out and win over Army.

Calhoun Will Regain His Amateur Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Calhoun of Gary, Ind., and North Carolina, Olympic hurdles champion who was suspended from amateur competition for getting married on television, will get his good standing back.

The Amateur Athletic Union voted Saturday to restore Calhoun to good standing next Aug. 9, one-year from the date of his suspension.

Royals Roll On to Dump Lakers

Lovellette's Late 13 Point Blast Helps in 90-89 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Royals, who transferred their National Basketball Assn. operations from Rochester to Cincinnati, are giving their new fans something to shout about.

With big Cyde Lovellette in the starring role, the Royals have climbed to within 1½ games of the Western Division leading St. Louis Hawks.

Last night, Lovellette came up with a 13-point outburst in the last six minutes that helped hoist Cincinnati to a 90-89 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

In other games, the Syracuse Nationals handed the Boston Celtics their second setback, 118-109 and the New York Knickerbockers overcame the Detroit Pistons 109-102.

2nd Period Blast Wins Over Bruins; NY Beats Wings, Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Montreal Canadiens have scored the most goals and allowed the fewest—sure-fire ingredients for success in the National Hockey League.

The Canadiens had a most productive weekend. They won two games while the runner-up New York Rangers were splitting a pair with Detroit.

Last night, Montreal scored all its goals in the second period to beat the Boston Bruins 4-1. The Rangers crushed the Red Wings 5-1 and the Toronto Maple Leafs sent Chicago's Black Hawks spinning into the Cellar, 7-2.

* * *

Boom Boom Geoffrion, Henri Richard, Bert Olmstead and Phil Goyette each got the disc past Boston goalie Don Simmons. Real Chevrefils netted the Bruins' lone marker midway in the final session.

Toronto, which moved into fourth place, was sparked by rookie Frank Mahovlich's three goals.

Hamtramck Net Star National Champion

ST LOUIS (AP) — Chuck McKinley of St. Louis and Francis Castillo of Hamtramck, Mich., walked off with most of the honors in the junior and boy's U.S. indoor tennis tournament.

McKinley won the junior title. Castillo took the boy's championship and both shared in the doubles championships in their divisions. The final rounds were played Sunday.

Asks Delay in Carols

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The Wyoming Valley Council of Churches has asked valley merchants to wait until the second week of December to begin playing recorded Christmas carols. The council in letters to area businessmen said the carols "lose their beauty and meaning for people" when they are played too soon.

Wheat Price Range Narrow

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were mostly steady in mixed dealings on the Board of Trade today.

★ ★ ★

Traders reported large amounts of wheat changed hands in early transactions, but prices held within a narrow range. Most of the trading had to do with the expiring December contract, although there were stop loss orders in other deliveries.

Corn futures were mixed in a light trade. Processors were buyers against sales by commercial interests. Some commission houses bought March and sold May while others were reported taking July and selling May.

Soybeans tended slightly higher at the outset, influenced by steadiness in vegetable oils.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was unchanged to ⅛ higher, Dec. $2.18¾; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. 1.16¾; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. 66¾; rye ¼ to 1¼ higher, Dec. 1.36¾; soybeans ⅛ to ⅝ higher, Jan. $2.32½. ad lard was unchanged to 10 cents a hundred higher, Dec. $12.25.

28 Killed During 4-Day Weekend

States Spotty Weather for Thanksgiving Period Sears Traffic Toll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan traffic accidents claimed at least 28 lives during the four-day Thanksgiving Day holiday as thousands of motorists flocked to the state's highways in alternately blustery and pleasant weather.

Parts of the state were blanketed by snow over the weekend, making driving hazardous and causing an above-average number of accidents.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Latest reported accident victims included:

David Richards, 16, Rogers City was killed Sunday when his car rolled over in Presque Isle County.

Edward Groves, 22, Lincoln Park was injured fatally Saturday when his auto rammed into a utility pole southwest of Detroit.

Three persons were killed shortly after midnight Saturday in a two-car crash near Flint. They were: Doris Lewandoski, 18, Pose Kenneth Haywood, 20, Flint; and Billie Ray Gridder, 20, Flint.

Clyde E. Childs, 58, and his wife Lena, 57, of Battle Creek, were killed Saturday in a car-truck collision near Kalamazoo.

Bobbie A. Craig, 37, Detroit, died Saturday of injuries suffered in a collision near Ann Arbor Thursday.

Henderson Gaines, 42, South Bend, Ind., was killed Saturday when his car went off U.S. 31 in Berrien County.

Two persons were injured fatally in a head-on collision near Lapeer Sunday night. Dead are Ynes Banietz, 40, and his stepson William Grattan, 18, both of Ortonville.

Waterford Man Hurt as Car Hits Tree

A Waterford Township man suffered head injuries Saturday morning when his car ran off the road, turned over and hit a tree.

James Lynd, 59, of 3982 Pontiac Lake Rd., told Pontiac Post State Police, he did not know what happened. He was driving on Scott Lake road near Watkins Lake road when the mishap occurred.

He was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital where his condition is reported satisfactory today.

Dr. LaCore Will Speak at Mental Health Forum

An open forum on mental health problems will be held tomorrow, at 8:15 p.m. by the Oakland County Citizens Committee for the Pontiac State Hospital.

The meeting, at the hospital, will feature Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, superintendent. He will speak on "Community Psychiatric Problems."

★ ★ ★

A discussion period will follow the talk. Among the problems to be considered, according to Arthur Heaton, president, are emergency facilities for the acute mentally ill.

Knowland Planning Minimum Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today he isn't going to campaign intensively in California next spring in an effort to win two-party nomination for governor.

★ ★ ★

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said he expects to spend most of his time in Washington until Congress adjourns next fall.

Both Knowland and his prospective Democratic opponent, State Atty. Gen. Pat Brown, have announced they will file for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for governor in the June primary. Cross filing is permitted in California.

★ ★ ★

When he ran for re-election to the Senate five years ago, Knowland won both party nomination in the primary. But he said in an interview he doesn't believe that will happen in the governorship contests.

"I expect to win the Republican nomination and I assume Mr. Brown will win the Democratic nomination," he said.

Suit Opens to Try Hoffa Election Right

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial of a suit challenging the election of James R. Hoffa as president of the Teamsters Union opens today in Federal District Court.

Hoffa, currently on trial in New York City on criminal wiretap conspiracy charges, was not expected to attend early phases of the hearings here, although he may testify later.

★ ★ ★

He is charged in the New York trial with conspiracy to tap telephones in the Teamsters' Detroit office building between 1953 and 1957. That trial resumes today after a Thanksgiving recess.

The Washington action is a civil suit which does not require Hoffa's presence in court, although he and other officials of the union are named as defendants.

★ ★ ★

In addition to asking a permanent bar against Hoffa's taking over as president, the suit seeks to invalidate other actions of the Miami Beach convention Sept. 30-Oct. 5. These include changes in the union constitution.

Mixed at Start, Market Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved a little lower after a mixed opening today. Some issues held part of their initial gains.

Trading was active at the outset and then slackened. Price changes in most leading stocks were limited to less than a point.

★ ★ ★

Steels and rails quickly headed downward, although their losses were not large. Predictions that steel operations in December would be at a low for the year hurt this group. Layoffs by the New York Central and New Haven helped ease rails.

Some stocks associated with the missile industry continued to advance, but Douglas and General Dynamics showed small losses, Chrysler lost about a point.

★ ★ ★

Larger opening blocks included U.S. Steel, down ⅝ at 54 on 2,000 shares; Lorillard up ⅜ at 30⅞ on 3,300 shares; General Electric, down ¼ at 64⅞ on 1,500 shares.

Oils and metals generally were a little lower, but chamicals posted minor gains.

Pontiac Youth, 17, Held in Shooting of Hunter

A 17-year-old Pontiac youth is being held by police in Atlanta, Montmorency County, in the critical wounding of a Saginaw man Friday.

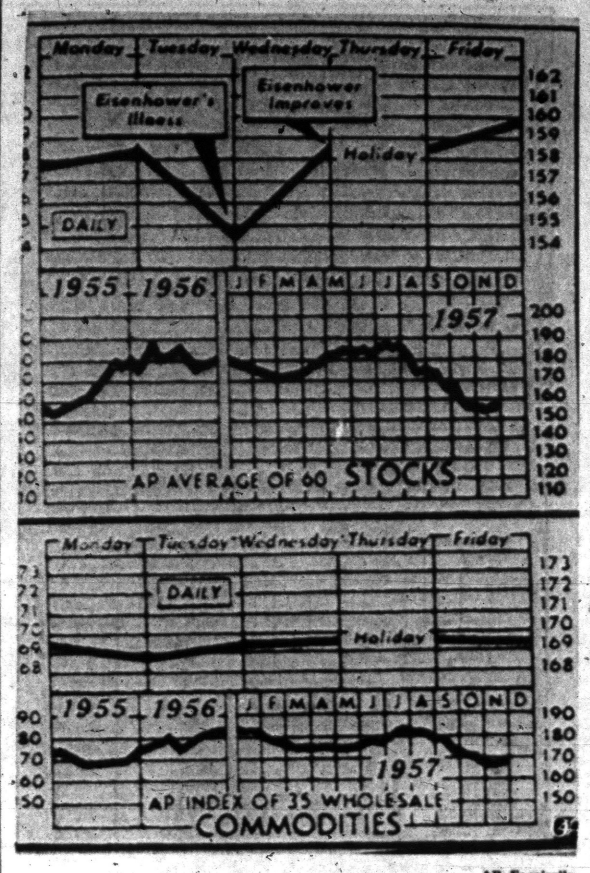

★ ★ ★

Police said Walter Skrine of 352 Central St., Pontiac, admitted firing at Edwin L. Seder, 38. Skrine said he thought Seder was a bear.

Seder was reported in an Alpena hospital with shotgun wounds in both legs.

Skrine was in a hunting party which left Pontiac last Wednesday night. With him were his father, Wendell, a brother and two uncles.

TRACING PRICES — President Eisenhower's slight stroke and his recovery from it were keys to fluctuations in stock and commodity prices last week. The President's recovery was regarded as responsible for the sharp rise in stocks. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at 159.9, over two points ahead of the 157.8 closing of the previous week. The Commodity Index remained unchanged at the close, repeating the previous week's 169.3.

New Law Forbids Aggression

Declare Cambodia Neutral

TOKYO (INS) —The Cambodian Embassy in Tokyo today issued a statement declaring Cambodia is a "neutral" country.

The statement said:

"A law has been promulgated which enounces Cambodia's international position.

"This law stipulates that: The kingdom of Cambodia is a neutral country.

"She abstains from binding military or ideological alliances with foreign countries.

"She will not launch an aggression against any foreign country.

"In case the kingdom is invaded by a foreign country, she reserves the right to defend herself militarily, to make an appeal to the U.N., or to a friendly country."

Phony Agents Rob Widow of Financier

DETROIT (AP) —The widow of a wealthy financier yesterday was robbed of two mink jackets and $200 by three gunmen who gained entry to her home by posing as government agents.

★ ★ ★

The robbery took place at the northwest Detroit home of Mrs. Anita S. Bray, 66, widow of Charles S. Bray, a financier who died last year.

Mrs. Bray said the men took out pistols after a maid let them into the house. She said they identified themselves as agents for the Internal Revenue Bureau.

★ ★ ★

The woman said they then ransacked three bedrooms and fled after tying and gagging Mrs. Bray, the maid and a guest, Mrs. Helen Dickinson, 60, of Detroit. None was harmed.

Wedding Music Is Furnished by Symphony

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—Two young American musicians were honeymooning in Nova Scotia today after a wedding ceremony for which their colleagues in the Halifax Symphony Orchestra provided the musical background.

★ ★ ★

Violinist Beverly Clare Shores, Cheyenne, Wyo., and bassoonist Thomas Emerson Groves, Flemington, Pa., were married in the First Baptist Church. Jonathan Sternberg, conductor of the orchestra, gave the bride away.

★ ★ ★

After a motor tour, they'll be back in their places with the orchestra for a performance Thursday night.

Charts Course for U.S. Cities

Steps to Lure Industry Outlined by Executive of General Electric

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five steps which the nation's cities can take to get their slices of new multibillion-dollar industry pie were charted here today by General Electric's Vice President Roy W. Johnson.

★ ★ ★

In a speech prepared for delivery to the American Municipal Assn., Johnson thus dangled the pie before the 1,600 delegates: "Annual investment in new plant and equipment of a nonpublic nature is expected to increase from the present 37½ billion annual rate to 55 billion dollars by 1967."

He underscored the cities' needs for more industry by saying:

★ ★ ★

1. The United States will have to find a place for 60 million more people in the next 18 years and most of them will be urbanized.

2. Revenue needs of cities already are at the bursting point—with traffic jams alone costing five billion dollars last year, "or more than our total investment in urban public transit."

He outlined five requirements in a city for attracting new industry:

★ ★ ★

1. Comprehensive down-on-paper planning—that provides for growth; is flexible; includes long-range capital improvements budgeting; and assures a fair tax burden distribution.

2. "A business-climate-minded attitude among elected representatives of the community at the local, state and national level."

3. A good quality and quantity of people showing "evidences of progress in raising general and vocational education standards and facilities."

4. The presence of "industrial neighbors-to-be" who contribute to charities and other municipal needs "with no bargains asked."

5. An aggressive leadership in the mayor's or city manager's office.

Little Lansing Girl and Dog Found Safe in Woods

REED CITY (AP) — Little Susan Bisard skipped into the woods with her grandparents' cocker spaniel.

Three hours later, wet, cold and frightened, she was found in darkness huddled with the dog against the light snow and wind last night.

More than 100 men moved into the search in the heavy underbrush before she was found by Charles MacWilliams, a gas station operator of Barryton, and Art McNeely, a farmer of Barryton.

Susan, 9 years old, blonde and blue eyed, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bisard of Lansing. She was with her family on a visit at the farm home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton MacMeachels, near Barryton in northwest lower Michigan.

State police said the girl and the dog, a jet black cocker named Skip, probably wandered as far as four miles from the MacMeachels home, then veered back until she was found about a mile from the home.

Firemen, state troopers, sheriff's deputies, conservation officers and residents of the area took part in the search.

Detroit Judges Reply to Black Charges

Uphold Winter Vacations

DETROIT (AP)—Two Michigan supreme court justices are stepping into a fast verbal battle outside the privacy of their chambers.

★ ★ ★

Justice Eugene Black of Port Huron, a frequent critic of supreme court procedure, started the fuss 11 days ago when he told a judicial conference in Saginaw that long vacation and half-day summer sessions in Detroit courts were "a disgrace."

Justice George Edwards, who advanced to the supreme court from Wayne County circuit court in Detroit, swung a counter punch in a speech before the St. Andrews Society in Detroit Saturday night.

"This pronouncement at Saginaw comes as a shock and a surprise to the Wayne circuit judges and to most of the supreme court itself," Edwards said of Black's statement.

★ ★ ★

Actually, said Edwards, the charge by Black was a slap at the supreme court because the "summer schedule of the Wayne circuit court has been approved by the court administrator, who is under the law the direct agent of the supreme court."

He said he wanted to disassociate himself publicly from the remarks made by Black.

LISTS OF WORKERS

Black, questioned after Edwards' speech, said he did not intend to accuse all members of the Wayne circuit of loafing on the judicial bench. He listed four judges he considered "workers"—Thomas J. Murphy, Frank FitzGerald, Wade H. McCree Jr., and Theodore Bohn and said there were others who were industrious too.

★ ★ ★

Edwards indicated that possibly there was room for improvement but pointed out several hardships shouldered by Wayne circuit judges.

★ ★ ★

The average Wayne circuit court judge has 1,100 cases filed per year as compared with 666 for outstate judges, he said, and even though population has grown from 1,800,000 to 2,800,000 since 1929, the number of judges still is 18.

FitzGerald, executive judge of the Wayne County circuit court, said Black's statements were the result of "improper information."

"I believe the charges were made without a full understanding of the situation," FitzGerald said. "The judges' six-week vacations in the winter, as we stagger them, is most efficient. In fact, it is as efficient as it could be."

FitzGerald also said complaints about the half-day sessions were meaningless.

"In the so-called half-day, the difference in actual trial work is only 45 minutes," FitzGerald said.

FitzGerald said a meeting to "thrash out" the complaints by Black is scheduled for Dec. 19 in Detroit.

The meeting, a preliminary to the regular regional meeting set for Jan. 11, will bring together Black, Edwards, Chief Justice John R. Dethmers and Court Administrator Meredith H. Doyle. They will confer with FitzGerad and other Wayne jurists and bar assn. delegations.

Interservice Competition Scored by Vannevar Bush

3 GOP Senators Cite Need of Unification

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican senators said today a Senate investigation into the missile program indicates the need for greater armed forces unification.

★ ★ ★

Senators Bridges (R-NH), Saltonstall (R-Mass) and Francis Case (R-ND) said in separate interviews they believe interservice rivalry has slowed down missile and satellite development.

Along the same line, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) proposed that a Defense Department coordinator be given authority to transfer various funds, to channel them into those missile fields that are most promising.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Vannevar Bush, former head of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee last week the missile program had been hindered by damaging and "sometimes disgraceful" competition between the services.

Plymouth Plant Reopens Today

Union Members Okay Terms of Settlement to End 3-Week Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Employes of the Chrysler Corp.'s strikebound Plymouth engine plant here are scheduled to return to work today and tomorrow following ratification of a settlement by United Auto Workers Local 51 yesterday.

★ ★ ★

More than 1,000 local 51 members approved the agreement with a show of hands during a two-hour meeting. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed although union officials said they generally were favorable.

Ratification climaxed negotiations between the company and the union over production standards.

The strike began Nov. 8 when 2,000 employes of the engine plant left their jobs. Resulting parts shortages idled other workers in Chrysler plants in Detroit and at Evansville, Ind.

★ ★ ★

A Chrysler spokesman said production will resume at the Evansville plant Wednesday or Thursday, depending on how soon engine supplies can be replenished. The plant was closed down Friday because of the strike.

Company officials said workers at Detroit-area plants will report for work on shifts starting this morning and tomorrow, depending on their operation.

The firm said that if the strike had continued some 38,000 Plymouth assembly workers would have been idled in Detroit, Evansville, Newark, Del., and Los Angeles plants.

28 Safely Removed From Antarctic Ship

LONDON (AP)—Twenty-eight antarctic-bound scientists have been removed safely from the British polar research ship Shackleton, which rammed an iceberg 1,000 miles south of Cape Horn. The Shackleton, her crew of 30 still aboard, headed for South Georgia for repairs.

The British navy ship Protector reached the Shackleton last night and took off her passengers.

Indonesia Hunts Grenade Killers

Reprisals Come After Attempt to Assassinate President Sukarno

JAKARTA (INS) — Reprisals came today as the Indonesiin capital was recoiling from the attempted assassination of President Sukarno on Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Seven persons were killed and 10 injured when would-be assassins hurled hand grenades at a school party attended by the President. Forty-six children were among the wounded, as well as three presidential aides and the wife of the minister of health.

Two persons were questioned in the bloody incident. Troops were posted at roadblocks near the scene and security police and explosives experts searched the area Sunday.

A special cabinet session was called to discuss the assassination attempt.

Press reports said a police inspector threw himself over the President as the first grenade exploded and saved him from possible serious injury.

Beck Checks Mayor With Moving Walks

DETROIT (INS) — A proposal made by Mayor Louis Miriani to demolish old City Hall to make way for an underground parking garage and new park met opposition from Council President Mary V. Beck.

Miss Beck countered with a proposal for moving sidewalks, operating on the conveyor belt principle. She declared:

"It's not so far-fetched as it may sound. The principle is in operation in several airport and railroad stations."

Miss Beck said if Detroit had moving sidewalks on Woodward and other streets in the business district, motorists would not mind parking several blocks from their destination.

She said she will ask Auditor General David V. Addy to study the practicality of her proposal when he returns from the San Francisco conference of the American Municipal Association.

Troy Man Injured in Rochester Collision

A Troy man was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital at 1 a.m. Sunday following a two-car collision at Crooks and Avon roads, Avon Township.

John J. Casper, 50, of 6615 Livernois Rd., suffered multiple rib fractures and possible chest injuries. His condition is satisfactory today.

His car collided with that of Kenneth B. Irwin, 22, of 119 Alice St., Rochester, at the intersection. Irwin was not injured.

Planning to Resume Mt. Rainier Search

MT. RAINIER NATIONAL Park, Wash. (AP)— Search for a young Seattle engineer missing since Saturday morning on storm-swept Mt. Rainier will be resumed today, weather permitting, Chief Ranger Al Rose said.

★ ★ ★

Lowell Linn, 23, who moved to Seattle six months ago from Minneapolis, was last seen by a fellow climber Saturday morning near Panorama Point, at the 6,500 foot level on the 14,402-foot mountain.

Chances of finding Linn alive are "very slim," Rose said.

★ ★ ★

Linn, an engineer with the Boeing Airplane Co., and a companion Harry Holcomb, 25, of Seattle, set out on snowshoes from Paradise Inn at the 5,500-foot level early Saturday morning. Holcombe carried skis. Holcomb left Linn about 10 a.m. and returned to Paradise at 3:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Snow, driven by wind, started falling before Holcomb reached the inn. Search parties were driven back by the howling storm.

Head-On Collision Sends Woman to Hospital

A headon collision of two cars at Crooks and Avon Rds., Avon Township, Saturday evening, sent an Ohio woman to the hospital.

Opal E. Strouse, 65, of Edgerton, Ohio, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with multiple lacerations. Her condition is satisfactory today.

Her car and that of Orville E. Dibble, of 3806 Coleport, Pontiac Township, hit at the intersection. Dibble was treated for scalp lacerations and released.

Navy Lays Keel for New Cruiser

Nuclear-Powered Ship to Use Guided Missiles, Atomic Weapons

QUINCY, Mass. (AP)—The keel of the Navy's first guided-missile, nuclear-powered surface ship was laid today at the Fore River shipyard of Bethlehem Steel Co.

The vessel will be the first U.S. cruiser to be designed and built from the keel up since World War II.

★ ★ ★

The cruiser—the Long Beach—will be armed with the most modern surface-to-surface and surface-to-air guided missiles, including Talos, Terrier and Regulus.

She will be 721 feet long, will have an extreme beam of 73 feet and a standard displacement of 11,000 tons.

Adm. Jerauld Wright, NATO supreme Allied commander in the Atlantic and commander in chief of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, was the principal speaker at keel-laying ceremonies.

He said ". . . We must insure that the seas are secure for Allied use, for on and over them lie the only channgels by which we:

"Maintain our access to those trouble spots of the world where a smoldering fire, if not contained, can readily burst into a world conflagration."

Adm. Wright said also: "This great ship whose keel we are laying here today will be able to contribute to each and all of the tasks involved in our control of the seas.

"Her guided missile battery will enable her to employ our most modern atomic weapons, both on defense and offense.

"Her antisubmarine battery will provide a major contribution to the destruction of the underseas menace to our lines of sea communications.

"Her nuclear power will take her to all parts of the world, independent of the fuel sources so necessary for other purposes and so inaccessible in emergency."

Toy Should Offer Challenge for Child

The urge to buy "do-it-yourself" toys is strong. Just as Daddy can't resist puttering around with home projects.

However, avoid too easy or too difficult toys of this type. Lack of challenge will soon bore a child. Too much challenge will be discouraging.

NOTICE OF HEARING — On establishing Normal Level, of Waters in Lakeville Lake, Addison Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

To whom it may concern:

Particularly: Garnet West, Charles Gunn, John and Edna Dunn, Grenville and Betty Ford, Gerald Dunn, Russell Randall, Anna Haddix, John and Gerald Dunn, Hayes and Agnes Dopp, Paul C. Johnson and Wife, and all owners of property fronting on, abutting or having access to rights in Lakeville Lake, or who are interested in having fixed and maintaining the normal level of said lake pursuant to the provisions of Act 194 Public Acts of 1929, as amended:

You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors has caused to be filed in this Court a petition praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal level of Lakeville Lake, said lake being located on Sections 15, 21, 22, 26, 27 and 28 of Addison Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

You are further notified that a hearing on the petition will be had in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland on Wednesday, the 15th day of January, 1958, at the opening of Court on that day at 9:30 a.m. or as soon thereafter as Counsel can be heard.

You are further notified that on said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the high level of said lake at 952.3 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 952.3 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause if any you have why

(A) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established;

(B) Why 952.3 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the high level of said lake;

(C) Why such other and further relief as to this Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to petitioners.

FREDERICK C. ZIEM,
Prosecuting Attorney
Oakland County, Michigan
By HARRY J. MERRITT,
Corporation Counsel, Oakland County, Michigan.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

To the Electors of Hawthorne Acres, Lots 6 through 41 inclusive, 46, 47, and 52 through 80 inclusive, all of which are on Allerton Road, Pontiac Township, Oakland County, Michigan:

Notice is hereby given, that a Special Election will be held on Monday, the 16th day of December, 1957, at the Township Hall, 3000 Opdyke Road, to establish a Special Assessment District for the purpose of ditching, grading and graveling Allerton Road at an estimated cost of $3,875.00 and the property within the District be subjected to a Special Assessment to pay therefor.

Notice relative to opening and closing of polls: On the day of any election the polls shall be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon and shall be continued open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon and no longer. Every qualified elector present and in line at the polls at the hour prescribed for the closing thereof shall be allowed to vote.

GRETA V. BLOCK,
Clerk
Nov. 30, Dec. 2, '57.

STATE OF MICHIGAN — In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland. Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Clifford Wm. Garska, Minor.—Cause No. 18583.

To Betty Garska, mother of child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabout of the mother of the said minor child is unknown and said child has violated a law of the State and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Oakland County Service Center, Court House Annex, 1200B West Blvd., in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 10th day of December, A.D. 1957, at Nine o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 27th day of November, A.D. 1957.

(Seal) ARTHUR E. MOORE,
(A true copy) Judge of Probate
GEORGIENA R. MURTHA,
Probate Register, Juvenile Division.

TV Role Solves Actual Problem

Comedian No Longer Has to Be Separated From Family

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—You ask Danny Thomas a simple question, and you get a monologue—a very entertaining one—as an answer.

Q.—Danny, why are you cast as an entertainer on your show?

A.—I first thought of playing the proprietor of a theatrical boarding house, then of using my old radio character of a postman. But I rejected both ideas.

So I called in a couple of people for suggestions. One was Mel Shavelson, the great comedy writer. I asked him to help. But he said he was too busy.

★ ★ ★

"Mel," I said, "I'm pleading for my life."

WHY YOUR LIFE?

"What do you mean, your life? You make $12,000 a week in the clubs."

★ ★ ★

"Mel," I said. "I'm doing fine financially. But I'm pleading for my life—for a decent life. I'm always on the road. My kids don't know me.

"I came home and my son called me Uncle Daddy.

I brought a doll for my daughter —I'd forgotten she was in high school. My dog bit me.

★ ★ ★

"Mel, that's what I mean — pleading for my life. I want to stay home with my family."

Mel looked at me. "That's it," he said.

★ ★ ★

"That's what?"

"That's the format of your show. Be an entertainer — the home life of an entertainer who never sees his home, the private life of a man with no private life."

"Mel, write it for me."

"Sure," he said, "I'll have it for you day after tomorrow."

And that's how it happened that I'm an entertainer on the show.

Next question.

Sheik Wants to Make Eleanor Wife No. 40

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An Arab sheik with 39 wives would like to marry Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, according to her son James, the California congressman.

★ ★ ★

Speaking at a State of Israel bond rally Roosevelt said that while he was in Israel a sheik formally requested to see him to make the offer.

★ ★ ★

Roosevelt jokingly turned aside the request by telling officials "I would agree to see him if the State of Israel would promise to pass a law saying that Arabs could add no more wives to those they already have."

Mackinac Span Has Big Month

Record Crossings of Hunters Earns Bridge $396,000 So Far

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Sightseers and a record number of deer hunters swelled Mackinac Bridge revenues in the first month of operation to $396,000, official said yesterday.

Prentiss Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said the sum was $42,500 more than the average monthly interest payment for November.

Brown reported that 104,500 vehicles crossed the 100-million-dollar structure since it opened Nov. 1. He said this compared with 79,200 crossings by ferry in November, 1956, for a gross of $290,000

Tolls average $3.79 for each vehicle during November. The toll rate is $3.25 for automobiles and more for larger vehicles.

★ ★ ★

Brown said the novelty of the new span and the annual deer hunters' exodus across the Straits of Mackinac contributed greatly to the volume of traffic in November.

"It would be overly optimistic to expect that such would be the case during the winter months," Brown pointed out. "However, we are extremely confident that spring and summer traffic next year will more than make up for the off-season travel."

Money collected until January, 1959, will go into a fund to provide a cushion for future interest payments. Original construction funds include money for interest payments until that date.

When the bridge starts making its own interest payments, any surplus will go into the cushion fund until it contains enough for two years of interest payments. After that, payments will start on retiring the bounds that finance construction.

Operation and maintenance of the bridge comes under the Michigan State Highway Department.

The span was subjected to snow and wind tests during its first month in service. Brown said the light snow that fell in November blew off and caused no trouble.

You Don't Get Service Like This Very Often

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some of those night flights between N. Y. and L. A. (on the champagne run) get real interesting. One night Mike Todd asked a stewardess to rub his feet to relax him and she did.

WILSON

Recently a passenger complained about the plane's electric razor. Stewardess Dodo Vaiksnor (of Canonsburg, Pa.) insisted on shaving him with her own razor, and since she had no shaving cream, she used cold cream. "He said it worked so well he's going to shave in cold cream from now on," Dodo told me.

Groucho Marx agreed to do a "Meet the Press" TV show here in January, but doesn't want to discuss his fellow comedians. On his own program he's just used his first bathing beauty contestant this week: Kathy Gabriel, "Miss Ohio, '57." Groucho was asked whether Las Vegas ever palled on him and retorted, "Not until the second day."

Dody Goodman's option is being lifted by NBC for the Jack Paar show; she goes up to $900-a-wk. Jack's bringing Trish Dwelley back Dec. 20 to sing "Holy Night."

White House Routine Continued When Ike Is Off by Sherman Adams

WASHINGTON (AP)—At the policy level, President Eisenhower's illness makes a difference at the White House. But the day-to-day operational routine goes on pretty much as usual.

★ ★ ★

The reason it does is that Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's chief of staff, still is very much on hand there. And that means no interruption of virtually any of the staff activities he directs.

Adams, of course, also has a big voice in policy-making. And he and other administration officials play an even bigger role in that field when illness hits the President.

For example, Adams sat in a meeting last Tuesday where he, Vice President Nixon and six other key men gave a final go-ahead for simultaneous production of the Thor and Jupiter, 1,500-mile range missiles. The President, Nixon reported later, had given tentative approval to such an action before he suffered a slight stroke Monday.

Government legal experts noted that presidents can and almost always have delegated some duties and powers of their office to other officials. But these experts say there are many presidential powers which cannot be delegated. In this connection, they cited the signing of legislation, the veto power and the granting of presidential clemency.

There appears to be general agreement that, in view of the absence of any statute on the subject, no president can delegate the office itself to another person.

Last April, Herbert Brownell, then attorney general, urged congressional approval of a constitutional amendment to clarify procedure in cases of presidential disability. Brownell said the proposal had the endorsement of Eisenhower.

Brownell expressed the view then that under the wording of the Constitution, and without a clarifying law on the subject, a vice president now has the power to determine and declare a president unable to continue in office, and to assume the reins himself without consulting anyone.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee said in Rome yesterday that he intends to propose legislation to set up a commission to determine when a president becomes incapacitated and replaceable by the vice president.

★ ★ ★

In the present situation, Nixon has spent considerable time at the White House since Eisenhower was stricken Monday. He has said he expects Eisenhower to return to full-time activity soon. In the meantime, Nixon has said he is not assuming any presidential duties.

★ ★ ★

The vice president has said there is no "little cabinet" or unofficial board of directors running things with the President unable to be on hand.

★ ★ ★

At the operational level, as distinguished from the policy level, there has been no discernible difference at the White House since Eisenhower became ill.

In the Army Since 1921—Draft Board Calls Once More

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—M. Sgt. Virgil D. Flynn, 55, a military man since 1921, thinks the Tacoma, Wash., selective service board has gone a little too far.

★ ★ ★

He received this week a postcard from the Tacoma board announcing he is available for order to active duty. This wasn't Flynn's first difficulty with a draft board.

In 1942, when he was with an Army Air Corps unit in Greenland, the sheriff called at his home in Omaha, Neb., to serve notice he was to appear before the local board for induction.

★ ★ ★

Flynn told the draft board then he was willing to leave Greenland but the Army couldn't see the trip as necessary.

He now is stationed with headquarters of the 33rd Air Defense Division in Oklahoma City.

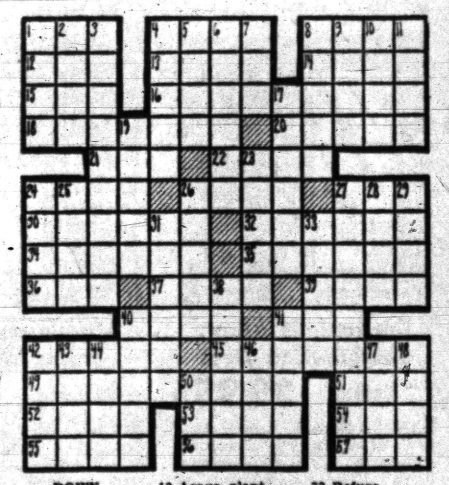

Potter Seeks to Set Up Federal Science Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) is planning to ask Congress to set up a federal technological agency with its chief in the president's cabinet.

The Michigan senator said in an article published Saturday that he also would like to see the establishment of a U. S. science academy similar to the service academies.

Writing in Western World Magazine, Potter said a federal technological agency would be able to keep "policy and planning in the United States ahead of the swiftly changing technological world."

Gary, Indiana has conducted tours for sightseers of its steel mills and oil refineries.

How Big a Man Is Dick Nixon?

By PETER EDSON
(First of Three Stories)

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Richard Milhous Nixon today stands committed to continue the policies of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Every speech, every action of Nixon since 1952 puts the stamp of an Eisenhower Republican upon him.

After criticism of the Eisenhower second term program began to rise in early 1957, Nixon began to make pleas for party unity. He asked Republicans to forget whether they were "modern" Republicans or old-fashioned, conservative Republicans.

In Congress as vice president, one of Nixon's behind-the-scenes activities was to try to bring the two factions of the party into harmony. He tried to develop a closer relationship between the White House and the Congress.

But even in this, Nixon's personal sympathies and his own ideas were much more in accord with President Eisenhower than they were with Senators Knowland, Jenner, Malone, et al.

This was not just the loyalty of a vice president for the President who had made him, given him every opportunity and trained him for the job of succeeding to the Presidency.

The important fact is that there is hardly a Nixon word or deed on record which shows him to have been in disagreement with President Eisenhower on any issue or occasion.

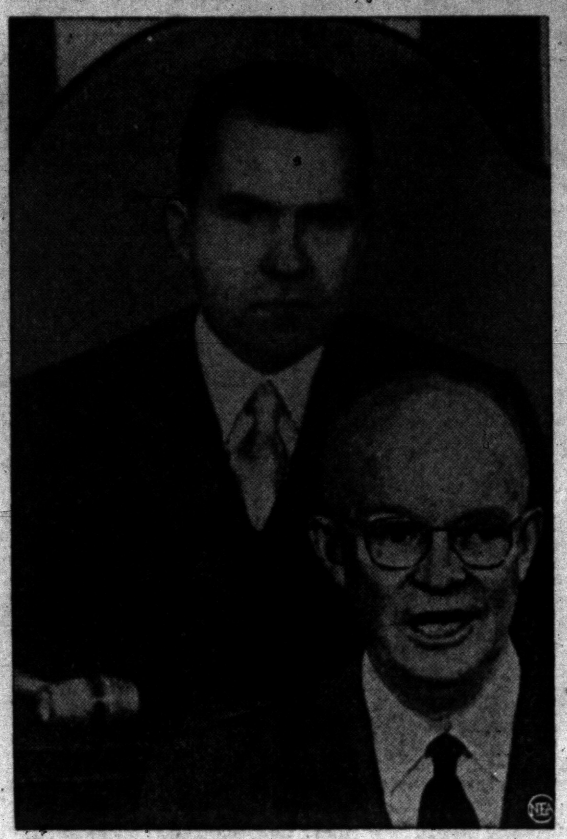

The one possible exception was in an off-the-record talk to the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington in 1954. Nixon said the U.S. would have to send troops to Indo-China if there were no other way to prevent its fall to the Communists.

This remark was widely criticized. Even Secretary of State Dulles, after conferring with the President, declared the use of U.S. troops was unlikely. And the next night the Vice President got back on the administration line.

At the 1956 Republican National Convention in San Francisco, this reporter submitted to Nixon the simple question:

"Are you a Taft Republican or an Eisenhower Republican?"

Back came the answer, without qualification, that Vice President Nixon considered himself an Eisenhower Republican.

THE MAN BEHIND IKE — Vice President Nixon sits on the rostrum behind President Eisenhower during State of Union message to a joint session of Congress last January.

Nixon cited the fact that he had been for Eisenhower for President in 1952 before the Chicago convention, not for Taft, Knowland or Warren. And his record was cited to show that he had been for Eisenhower and Eisenhower policies ever since.

Before 1952, as Senator and Congressman, Nixon's shading may have been different. He was first backed for Congress by California conservatives. He voted for the Taft-Hartley labor law. Labor leaders credited him with only one "right" vote in Congress. This was to outlaw the poll tax as a requirement for voting in federal elections, an orthodox Republican position. In general, Nixon was considered a right winger in Congress.

Ultra conservatives in the party have remembered that. And they have been counting on Nixon as "their boy" in case he should ever succeed to the Presidency.

So if now Nixon is an Eisenhower Republican, there are perhaps as many surprised and disappointed conservatives as there were early in 1957 when President Eisenhower unveiled his second term program as something the GOP Old Guard definitely did not want.

Throughout the 1956 Presidential campaign, Nixon appeared principally as top salesman for Eisenhower Republicansim.

Nixon put much emphasis on accomplishments of the first Eisenhower administration in cutting taxes by seven billion dollars, balancing the budget, stabilizing the dollar, checking inflation and cleaning up the government.

It is noteworthy, however, that Nixon made no promises that government spending would be cut further nor that there would be additional tax cuts in Eisenhower's second term.

In a speech before the U.S. Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Washington April 1957, Nixon gave an all-out defense of the Eisenhower budget for 1958. Nixon also declared that foreign aid programs were necessary for U.S. survival and should not be cut.

Nixon's record on all these points coincides with President Eisenhower's. It points to the policies he would pursue as President.

Next: Nixon's ideas on domestic policy.
