Governor Learns He's to Preside at Dinner to Honor Scranton

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney says he will welcome all Republican presidential aspirants to Michigan and introduce them as they come.

The governor learned just yesterday, in a whispered advisory by an aide during a news conference, that he is scheduled to preside at a dinner for Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania at a Detroit Economic Club meeting on Feb. 10.

"I will introduce Scranton, if asked," first said Romney. Then press secretary Richard Millman showed Romney a copy of an announcement from the club of the speaking date, saying the governor would be presiding.

Romney emphasized he has invited all the Republican presidential potentials to Michigan and would introduce them all.

A spokesman said Romney had been consulted in the "build-up" for Scranton. Romney said he had not.

"I assume it is on an organized basis," he remarked. "I don't happen to be impressed by the fact that former President Eisenhower talked to him. He talked to quite a few people."

Romney said he also has extended invitations to visit Michigan to former Vice President Richard Nixon, New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

He did not extend an invitation to Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator from Massachusetts and now ambassador to South Vietnam. Romney said "because I gather he doesn't want to leave Vietnam at this time."

TEDIOUS WORK—Michigan Bell Telephone crewmen yesterday afternoon tackled a spaghetti-like mass of broken trunk lines to repair a five-hour service interruption in outside dial calls from the Oakland County area.

Workers for a private construction firm cut into the cable in Farmington Township, causing Bell to use operators to place calls on alternate trunk networks until service was restored.

Outlook Is Scrambled in Republican Poll Since Death of JFK

By REILMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

Richard M. Nixon's 1964 presidential stock has skyrocketed since President John F. Kennedy's death, while Sen. Barry Goldwater's has fallen sharply, a second poll of Republican county chairmen indicates today.

But Goldwater again led all potential nominees.

The poll, taken by Associated Press correspondents in all 50 states, brought replies from 1,381 GOP leaders, a majority of whom also participated in a poll in October.

Although still in front, Goldwater's vote was only about half the spectacular total he rolled up in the AP's October poll.

Then, 55.1 per cent of those participating named the Arizona senator as the party's "strongest candidate" against Kennedy. His figure in the second poll was 44.2 per cent.

Nixon, vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, showed the greatest gains and ran second to Goldwater.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Vietnam—barely mentioned in the October poll—was third, finishing ahead of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, only announced candidate for the nomination.

Those queried included some members of the national committee and city and town leaders.

Two questions were presented:

1. "On the basis of present conditions, in light of the death of President Kennedy, who do you consider the strongest candidate for the Republican nomination?"

2. "Who do you think the party will nominate?"

Results of the two surveys were:

Number participating: December 1, 1963, October 1, 1963.

Main Library Cuts Schedule

Short Hours Prompted by Budget Reduction

Pontiac's main public library, 60 E. Pike, won't be open as much after Jan. 1 due to a cut in the library's 1964 budget allocation.

A new schedule of library hours, which cuts 24 hours per week off the present schedule, was announced today by Phyllis Pope, head librarian.

New hours will be noon to 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and noon to 6 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Library hours are currently 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

There will be no change in the 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday schedule.

SAME SCHEDULES

The Adah Shelly, East Side, Franklin and Wilson branch libraries will continue with their present schedules, said Miss Pope.

Hours of the North Oakland Library Cooperative Office, at the Shelly branch, will also remain the same.

"The decrease in hours at the main library is caused by a budget reduction in the area of personnel," Miss Pope explained.

The library's allocation in the 1964 proposed city budget is $32,000 less than last year. Of this reduction, $27,975 is for salaries and wages of full-time personnel.

LEAST BUSY

"The hours reduced were taken from the least busy hours of the main library week," she noted. "Further economies will be achieved by setting up a centralized system of cataloging and processing."

Miss Pope said the schedule of Bookmobile stops will remain "substantially the same."

Advance notice will be given on any stops being canceled.

The proposed 1964 city budget must be adopted by the City Commission before Feb. 1. A public hearing on the budget is slated for the Jan. 21 commission meeting.

Snow, Colder for Tomorrow

Snow flurries may be expected in the Pontiac area through tomorrow.

The weatherman said temperatures, colder for the next five days, will average 3 or 4 degrees below the normal high of 32 and normal low of 22. The low tonight will be 18.

Twenty was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 26 by 2 p.m.

Living Costs Climb by .2 Pct. to Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs, as measured by the government, rose two-tenths of 1 per cent in November to a record high.

The Labor Department reported today that the increase resulted mainly from higher housing and food costs although prices of many other goods and services also advanced.

The November consumer price index, at 107.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average, was 1.3 per cent above a year earlier.

The figure means that consumer items which could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period now cost $10.74.

Food prices, which usually decline in November, increased 0.2 per cent. Advances in prices of fresh fruits and vegetables and sugar were the principal factors. Fresh vegetables were up 7.8 per cent, and sugar rose 6.7 per cent.

Housing costs advanced 0.3 per cent during November. Rents continued their gradual upward trend while coal and fuel oil prices rose seasonally. Household operation and house furnishing costs also increased. The housing index was 1.4 per cent higher than a year earlier mainly because of increases in costs of home ownership and those for housekeeping services and rents.

EARNINGS UP

In a companion report, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported a 2-cent rise in average hourly earnings of factory workers to $2.49 an hour.

As a result of the November increase, about 55,000 workers covered by labor contracts calling for living cost adjustments will receive wage increases of one to four cents an hour.

Auto Records Keep Falling

All-Time Level Kept by Pontiac Division

All-time high sales of 7.5 million new cars is the brightest and latest page added to the 1963 automotive record book.

The record was announced yesterday by Ward's Automotive Reports. It took the sale of 373,600 imported cars to top the long-standing 1955 record of 7.46 million total U.S. sales, Ward's said.

Pontiac Motor Division continues to send out a stream of new cars now totaling 600,800 through Dec. 20, the highest level in Pontiac's history.

Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager, said the Dec. 11-20 period accounted for 20,785 unit sales. A new mid-December record, it is also 14 per cent ahead of the 18,331 delivered the same time last year.

NEW RECORDS

"So far this year Pontiac dealers established 21 10-day sales records, eight in succession, since the introduction of the 1964 models," Bridge said.

Across the industry, more records are tumbling as experts expect the fourth quarter of 1963 to see a total production of 2 million units.

Sales during the second 10 days of this month amounted to 221,000 new cars, about 13,000 more than the same period of 1962.

Looking ahead to 1964, Ward's predicts first quarter sales will hit a record 1.85 million, bettering the 1955 mark of 1,770,500.

SALES 200M

Among other car makers reporting mid-December statistics, Ford Division reports car and truck sales of 59,362, Lincoln-Mercury Division reports Comet sales up 42 per cent over last year to 4,671, while Lincoln-Centennial sales were up 11 per cent to 1,575.

Oldsmobile reports 10-day sales of 16,130, highest in division history. Cadillac also set a record with 5,536 deliveries.

Chrysler Plymouth Division dealers delivered 16,439 units during mid-December.

Kelley Vows Rail Fight

Service Loss Threat to North of Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley yesterday vowed a legal battle against four rail carriers who, he said, want to "discontinue services in a substantial part of northern Michigan."

"Information has been received that, along with the request to abandon the Mackinac City to St. Ignace car ferry, the Pennsylvania, New York Central and Soo Line railroads will ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce substantially their services in this state," Kelley said.

He also said the Detroit and Mackinac Railroad is seeking halt its service to Cheboygan. Only the New York Central confirmed Kelley's statement that it plans to end service north of Gaylord to Mackinac City.

BOTH DENY
Both the Pennsylvania and Soo Line Railroads denied the accusations, except to say they want to discontinue the rail car ferry across the Straits of Mackinac. The ferry is operated by the Mackinac Transport Co. The Detroit and Mackinac Railroad declined to comment.

"If these requests are granted," Kelley said, "it will result in the termination of all railroad service north of a line from Alpena through Gaylord to Cadillac, except for a Chesapeake & Ohio service between Cadillac and Petoskey."

George H. Wyatt, general attorney for the New York Central in Detroit, said: "In event the Mackinac Company abandons its service, there will be insufficient traffic north of Gaylord to support a railroad; it is abundant that that trackage is almost a forewarned conclusion."

Wyatt said the NYC runs one train north and one south each day above Gaylord, servicing Wolverine, Vanderbilt, Indian River and Mackinac City whose combined population is about 4,000.

Kelley said long range effects of discontinued railroad service would hamper economic growth in northern Michigan. He said that without rail transportation, the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula and the northern half of the lower peninsula would be forced to sever economic relations.

The Pennsylvania Railroad provides service through Cadillac and Petoskey to Mackinac City, and the Soo Line has a branch from Trout Lake south to St. Ignace.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Light snow and snow showers tonight will spread from the Great Lakes area through the Appalachians and into New England. Snow showers also are forecast for the northern Rockies with rain on the north Pacific Coast. It will be colder east of the Rockies but with some warming expected in Florida.

TAKES SHAPE — Work on Pontiac's new Baldwin Avenue Junior High School continues throughout the winter. Located on a 25-acre site on the east side of Baldwin just inside the city limits, the new one-story school building is slated to be completed by next fall. The $1.5-million structure will house approximately 600 students.

First Baby of '64 Will Hit Jackpot

The annual race for first baby joined the well-wishers to begin on schedule at midnight Tuesday, but chances are it won't beat the 1963 baby derby speed record.

The first arrival of 1963, Terry E. McGilroy, checked in just 14 seconds past midnight at Pontiac General Hospital.

While no one expects a faster finish in 1964, the results should be the same.

Plans are being laid by area merchants to shower the 1964 contest winner with gifts.

WELL-WISHERS

About a dozen stores have already joined the well-wishers and the list is expected to nearly double by starting time.

Rules for entering the contest are as follows:

1 — Babies born after midnight Dec. 31, to married parents who live in Oakland County north of 14-Mile Road are eligible to enter the contest.

2 — Entries must be submitted through the family doctor to the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in the Riker Building.

FAMILY DOCTOR

3 — Entries must contain a statement by the family doctor listing the exact time and date of birth, sex, weight and name of the baby, together with the parents' name and address.

4 — All entries must be delivered by 5 p.m., Friday, Jan. 3 to "First Baby Contest" in care of the chamber.

The winner will be selected by a group of local civic leaders either Friday evening or Saturday morning.

Coch is Reassigned

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Merly J. Schlosser, head football coach at Western Michigan University for the past seven seasons, has been assigned to other duties in the physical education department, the university's president, James W. Miller, announced today.

British Troops On Guard

Cyprus Peace Uneasy

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British patrols moved through Nicosia today to keep the peace on explosive Cyprus, but disagreement delayed plans for Greek and Turkish soldiers to join them.

At the southeast port of Larnaca, a British soldier was shot and slightly wounded in the shoulder while on a similar patrol. The patrols are designed primarily for the protection of British civilians.

In Nicosia, however, the British were waved through roadblocks of both Greek and Turkish armed Cypriots, whose fighting in five bloody days beginning last Saturday caused grave international concern.

Commanders of the British, Greek and Turkish garrisons stationed on this eastern Mediterranean island met in the morning but were unable to agree on the composition of the mixed patrols.

BRITISH PROTECTED

"We have British patrols out, whose primary purpose is to protect British families," Lt. Gen. P. G. Young, British army commander on Cyprus, told reporters after the meeting.

Young said there were no Greek and Turkish army patrols out, and it would take longer to organize them because of language difficulties.

The small Turkish and Greek army garrisons remained at opposite ends of this capital. Their movement from their treaty bases into Nicosia Christmas Day led to fears of a showdown that might embroil Greece and Turkey, both members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Greek and Turkish Cypriots generally have observed the Christmas Day cease-fire, ending a conflict that began Saturday with an exchange of gunfire between a Greek Cypriot police patrol and Turkish Cypriots.

A FEW SHOTS

But a few shots still could be heard at times from the north-east sector of the border dividing the Greek and Turkish Cypriot sectors of Nicosia as the first British column entered the Turkish sector.

In the column were eight Royal Air Force regiment and rovers, or personnel carriers, escorted by armored cars. They were checking to make sure British civilians in the sector were all right. All vehicles carried large British flags.

Meanwhile, the first reinforcements ordered from Britain Akrotiri base. Their number was not given. A headquarters spokesman said they will replace troops in the base areas ordered to duty in Nicosia and elsewhere.

Johnson Eyes Crisis, Prepares for Erhard Visit

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was briefed on the Cyprus crisis today and began intensive preparations for talks with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany.

An intelligence briefing on Cyprus and other areas overseas was given the President by director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency.

McCone flew to the Johnson ranch shortly after midnight and was up early to join the Chief Executive at breakfast.

Johnson set up a series of conferences to go over key points that will be involved in the two-day Erhard meeting that begins tomorrow.

Erhard is the first major European leader to hold a full-scale conference with the new American President.

He flies into Houston late this afternoon and goes to the LBJ

New Community House Term

BIRMINGHAM — Two new and novel courses are included in the 28 offered during the Community House's winter class term, which begins Jan. 13.

For the first time, decoupage, a class in creation of decorative pieces, and study skills workshop, a course for high school students wishing to improve study habits, are to be available.

Classes in the winter term range from six to 15 weeks. Registration may be completed Jan. 6. Course fees must be paid in full at time of registration.

Included on the list of cultural, craft and hobby courses scheduled are art appreciation, bridge (beginning, intermediate and advanced), pottery, dancing (for adults), exercise (for women), flower arrangements, home accessories workshop and interior decorating.

Others are crewel embroidery, painting (oils and watercolors), sewing and tailoring, seamanship, silversmithing (including goldsmithing, enameling and casting), ballet (for all ages), modern jazz dancing (for teen-agers and younger) and language classes in French, Russian and Spanish.

Virgil E. LaMarre has been named chairman of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce selection committee to pick a new manager for the organization.

LaMarre of 227 Tilbury, Bloomfield Township, is director of community relations for Mac Manus, John and Adams, Inc., and vice president of the chamber. He was selected by William E. Roberts, chamber president.

LaMarre said the committee

New Number for Area Road

To Call M24 Portion
I-75 Business Loop

Square Lake Road, which will become a six-lane divided highway, is one of several Oakland County roads to be affected by route number changes as a result of Monday's opening of I-75 freeway from Pontiac to Madison Heights.

Now M24, Square Lake Road will be renumbered as I-75 Business Loop from the I-75 interchange at I-75 and Square Lake westward to Woodward Avenue (U.S. 10).

The new I-75 Business Loop designation then continues northwesterly on U.S. 10 Business Route into Pontiac and northeasterly on Perry Street (M24 Business Route) to the I-75 interchange at Lapeer Road.

Square Lake Road from Woodward Avenue (U.S. 10) to Telegraph Road (U.S. 24) will become U.S. 10 only.

CONTRACTS FOR WIDENING
The State Highway Department plans to let contracts in late 1964 for widening of Square Lake Road between Telegraph Road and the I-75 interchange just east of Opdyke Road.

The widening project, estimated to cost $2.5-million, will make Square Lake Road a six-lane divided highway between these two points.

Other Oakland County route number changes announced today by the State Highway Department are:
• M150 (Stephenson Highway) will be removed from the state highway system from 11½ Mile Road to the junction of I-75 with S 16 p.m. and on Rochester Road at Big Beaver Road.
• M150 (Stephenson Highway) will be reassigned as temporary I-75 from 11½ Mile Road south to Eight Mile Road.

REMOVED
• M24 (Opdyke Road) will be removed from the state highway system from Square Lake Road north to its existing junction with M24 Business Route (Perry Street).

The highway department said U.S. 10 and U.S. 10 Business Route will continue the same routing in the Pontiac area until Pontiac's perimeter road is completed.

he heads will immediately begin interviewing candidates for the post vacated early this month by Charles Mortensen.

Berliners Visit Family Graves

Burial Places Inside
Red-Controlled Zone

BERLIN (AP)—Many West Berliners crossing through the Communist wall for the first time in 28 months are spending part of their precious visits decorating graves in East Berlin. "It's the first chance they've had since the wall went up," said the manager of one cemetery.

"For many," he said, "it's also the first time they have ever visited their mother's or father's grave if the parent died after the wall was built."

"If this happened, they couldn't even attend the funeral."

WREATHS FACE WEST

At the Sophien Cemetery, whose western wall forms part of the barricade cutting Berlin in two, wreaths were leaned up against the wall facing the West. Each bore the name of someone buried behind the soot-covered red brick wall.

"Those were put there by West Berliners who for some reason can't get into East Berlin during the holiday season," said a West Berlin policeman.

The massive wrought iron gates at the East Berlin entrance to the Sophien Cemetery have been opened at a special weekday hours for visits by reunited families.

Visits to Sophien usually are permitted only on Sunday. But persons going there must count on the presence of armed guards patrolling the cemetery grounds with dogs to make sure none of the East Berliners try to scale the wall in a break for freedom.

At Odds With Romney

Mackie Holds Off on Patrol

LANSING (AP) — Highway Commissioner John Mackie Thursday gave up at least two days of his proposed highway department freeway service patrol and agreed to work with state police on the patrol's test run.

The decision came at a conference at which Gov. George Romney told Mackie that he will recommend to the legislature that state police do the job independently, leaving the highway department out of it.

"This is how spending programs get started, and I'm not going to have any part of it,"

AREA NEWS

Romney said. "It is a waste of money. You don't need two organizations to do the same job."

Mackie argued at a meeting with Romney and State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs Thursday that his patrol would replace state police for enforcement duty.

2 1/2-HOUR TASKS

The arguments went around and around for two and a half hours at the meeting called by the governor.

One small compromise was reached. Mackie agreed to postpone for two days a test of his experimental patrol program originally scheduled to start on Dec. 30.

The highway commissioner said he would get together with Childs and attempt to work out a coordination between his patrol and state police. If an agreement is reached, the highway department experiment will start with the new year.

Mackie originally had planned a six-month experiment.

24 ON PATROL

His new plan would put 24 men on duty patrolling 170 miles of 1-94 between Detroit and Muskegon for three months.

A meeting was scheduled for next Tuesday between Mackie, Childs and the governor to see if the agreement can be worked out. Romney insisted, however, that he should have veto power on any plan or that a two-thirds majority would rule.

"Thanks a lot," Mackie commented wryly.

Mackie said he would ask Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, a fellow Democrat, for an opinion on the legality of the highway department operating such a patrol. If the opinion is negative, the operation will be called off, Mackie promised.

"You are really reaching," shot back Romney. "You know you can get any opinion you want there. I have little confidence in such opinions or interpretations."

WILL RECOMMEND

Romney told Mackie he would recommend to the legislature an appropriation of $1,272,000 to provide 130 state police troopers a year for freeway patrol. Mackie had estimated it would cost $934,014 to put 148 highway department workers on the job to patrol the 1,100 miles of freeway yearly.

Mackie said his workers would cost only an average of $5,000 a year per man while state police would cost $7,500 per man.

"This isn't a valid comparison," countered Romney. "We have to have state police out there on enforcement duty. They are more highly trained men. And they can give the same kind of service to stranded motorists."

Childs said he had an average of 100 men on duty daily on highway patrol before a cutback was forced by a civil service decision ordering police on a five-day week. He now has about 33 troopers a day on the duty, Childs said.

NEVER PASS BY

The police commissioner said troopers traditionally have helped stranded motorists and never pass them by on freeways or other highways. When on patrol with the 100-man crew, Childs said, police each month averaged 3,000 traffic arrests and 90 criminal arrests and at the same time did three times as much work helping and advising stranded motorists.

"We don't check truck weight and we don't change a tire for an able-bodied man," said Childs, "but we always have helped out motorists."

State police might have to neglect the motorist service duty to go on an assignment to chase a criminal or set up a road block, Mackie said. This would very seldom happen and only in the case of a major emergency such as a multiple prison break, Childs retorted.

Mackie asked the governor how much money he planned to ask the legislature to divert from highway funds for state police patrol. Romney said he hadn't made up his mind as yet.

OPENS MONDAY — Utica's postal workers and services will be located in this new $200,000 building starting Monday. On the north side of Auburn just west of the downtown shopping area, the new structure provides more than three times the space of the present post office at 8322 Hall. Employees will handle up to 85,000 pieces of outgoing mail each day in the new one-story brick building.

Utica Postal Employees Set for New $200,000 Home

UTICA — Postal employees here are packing up for the short trek to their new $200,000 post office tomorrow and preparing to open for business Monday.

Located only some two-tenths of a mile away, from present quarters, the building is expected to boost the area's mailing facilities far up the ladder of efficiency.

No additional postal employees will be hired, but the 46 now working will move into a 12,000-square-foot building, which has three times the space now available.

The new post office is one of the largest in Michigan for a city of Utica's size. It is on Auburn near Davis, just east of the Clinton River.

COMPLETION DELAY

Original completion date of the work was Dec. 1, but due to a delay in heating equipment installation it was postponed to Monday.

The one-story building will serve residents in a 54-square-mile area, including Utica and Shelby and Sterling Townships.

"With the new place, we will be more efficient and be able to speed up both delivery and handling of the mail," Postmaster Erwin D. Clippard said. "We'll be right downtown now."

LEASED TO U.S.

Horton - Dorris Building Co. of Royal Oak is builder and present owner of the new post office. It will be leased to the federal postal service.

Outside the building, there is space for 12 cars at the front, and an additional 75 more in side and rear areas. A 2,000-square-foot loading and transfer platform is also behind the post office.

Today, the new facility is being inspected by engineers and other representatives from the U.S. Post Office Department's regional office in Chicago.

With their endorsement, the movers will start the transfer of equipment early tomorrow.

There is no reason to believe that the new building won't meet with their approval. Clippard said, "and we expect to be open for business Monday morning."

THIRD CAR

Another northbound car, driven by Glen W. Graybill, 48, of 4335 Territorial, Oakland Township, came over a hill and struck Morse, police said.

Graybill and his passenger Richard Vanderford, 33, of 4176 Pleasant, Attica, suffered minor injuries.

Life Savings Stolen From His Bathrobe

DETROIT (AP)—Auto worker John A. Bresinski, 33, kept $15,000 in life savings hidden in a sleeve of a bathrobe hung in a closet.

It was gone when Bresinski and his wife, Bernice, 48, returned home last night after a brief absence.

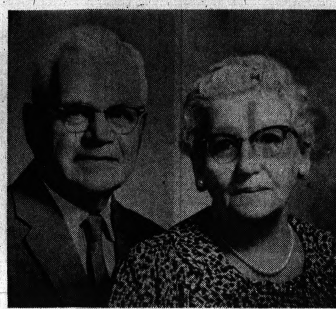

Someone had entered by breaking a window. Also taken was $200 from a glass jar left in a bureau drawer. The $15,000 was in $5, $10, and $20 bills.

Ayrshire Sets New Record Milk Output

METAMORA — A registered Ayrshire named Windrow Bingo's Margie, owned by Windrow Farms, recently completed a lactation record which ranks highest for milk for all senior 3-year-old Ayrshires in the state of Michigan.

Windrow Bingo's Margie's record of 15,382 pounds of milk and 612 pounds of butterfat, actual, was produced entirely on a twice-a-day milking, and did not exceed 305 days in length.

It was supervised by the Division of Records of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, Brandon, Vt., and Michigan State University.

WED 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Forest L. Ketzler, 6015 S. Main, Clarkston, will mark their golden wedding anniversary at an open house 2-5 p.m. New Year's Day at the Gingsellville Community Center on Baldwin. Married in Flint, the Ketzlers have three children, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. The family requests that gifts be omitted.

Income Tax Filing Time Near for Area Farmers

Farmers are reminded that another year has almost passed and it is just about income tax filing time again.

The Internal Revenue Service in Detroit poses two questions to determine when returns are due:

• Is at least two-thirds of your gross income from farming activities?

• Does your taxable year begin on Jan. 1?

If the answer to both questions is yes, the farmer has two choices as to when the return is to be filed.

He can either file his return and pay the tax by Feb. 15 or file an estimate of the tax due and pay it by Jan. 15.

In the latter case, he can file the tax return anytime through April 15.

So if the farmer files his estimate and pays the tax by Jan. 15, he can have an additional three months to file his income tax return.

Otherwise, both the tax return and the tax are due Feb. 15.

Information about farmers' special filing dates are in the "Farmer's Tax Guide" which can be obtained free of charge from county agricultural agents or local Internal Revenue Service offices.

U. S. Files Suit on Old Tax Bill

Ex-Utica Firm Head Named in Violation

DETROIT (AP) — A federal lawsuit charging a St. Clair man with dodging an 18-year-old $171,838 tax bill was filed simultaneously yesterday in Michigan and Florida.

The suit asks a judgment of $339,357, including 6 percent annual interest on the original bill.

The Internal Revenue Service charged in its suit that James H. Merritt Sr., 66, a former St. Clair resident who lives in Lake Worth, Fla., has owed the money in income tax since 1945 when he was president of the Nu-Way Supply Co., a plumbing and heating firm in Utica, Mich.

"The suit has been hanging fire for eighteen years due to a former policy that stopped all action to collect when an offer of settlement was made," said Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Ritzenstein.

He said the policy has recently been changed.

The government rejected two settlement proposals offered by Merritt in 1945 and 1957. Ritzenstein said Federal authorities seized Merritt's share in Nu-Way in 1960, sold it for $25,000 and applied the money to his debt.

Smog Finding Dims Hope for Mars Life

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON—There is new evidence that the planet Mars is crossed by great yellow clouds of toxic smog. If so, it could mean that earth's last chance of finding a life-supporting planet in this solar system is gone.

Some astronomers have conjectured that the yellowish clouds seen on Mars are mostly dust, and the planet's whites and blues have been associated with snow and water.

But Drs. Sebastian Karrer and Carl C. Kless reported today evidence that the clouds are mostly gases of compounds of oxygen and nitrogen—the same eye-burning, choking, toxic gases of earth-bound smog.

SPLIT LIGHT
They split the light from the planet's telescopic image by powerful spectroscopic techniques and found the pattern that is yielded by the gas nitrogen dioxide.

Nitrogen dioxide—a partnership of one nitrogen atom and two of oxygen—appears yellow—and in dense concentrations looks brownish yellow, changing to blue and white in frozen forms.

Karrer is a chemical consultant, a pioneer in the early processes that enabled U.S. industry to reap nitrogen from the atmosphere where it is some 78 per cent of the earth's gases. Kless is an astronomer at Georgetown College Observatory.

Before a meeting of the American Astronomical Society, they presented a paper discussing the properties of a number of nitrogen-oxygen compounds and their changing relationships and colors as they warm and cool.

Mars and Venus are earth's closest neighbors. And scientists in search of life on other planets have concentrated on them for, like earth, they are neither too close to the sun, nor too far from it.

But a U.S. space probe that flew past Venus indicated surface temperatures there were too high to support any known kind of life.

The United States hopes to learn more about the mysteries of Mars by directing two Mariner space probes at it next November. The probes are planned to fly by the planet in March of 1965.

A Soviet probe launched in November 1962 was to have provided a close-up view of the planet this past summer, but its radios fell silent millions of miles out in space.

In the death of RALPH T. KEELING, the community loses a highly respected citizen.

A graduate of the University of Cincinnati Law School, Mr. KEELING practiced law in Pontiac for half a century. He served five terms as Circuit Court commissioner and as onetime chairman of the Oakland County Republican Committee.

KEELING

Mr. Keeling was active in many areas of the community's fraternal and civic life, and no call on his services in the interest of mankind went unheeded.

A warm and outgoing personality had won him a wide circle of friends and his passing will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

New Recreation Area Indicated for State

A compromise plan on the Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore Project appears in the making.

The fourth major addition to the Federal park system to have been initiated in Congress this year, Sleeping Bear as conceived four years ago took in a 33-mile stretch of Lake Michigan shoreline north from Frankfort and encompassed 77,000 acres. The estimated cost was $17 million.

Because of the strenuous opposition of the Northwest area of the State, spurred to great extent by some 1,900 property owners who saw the park development as inimical to their interests, a Senate subcommittee held a final hearing on the project last summer.

As a result, the extent of the original plan, strongly supported by Democratic Sen. PHILIP A. HART, has been reduced to 40,000 acres and cost of $4.5 million. The revision, however, preserves the full stretch of shoreline within the park area.

The amended proposal has cleared the Senate Interior committee and now goes to the full Senate, with passage considered likely early next year.

Before the project becomes reality, however, it must also be passed by the House, where GOP Rep. Robert P. Griffin has had a rival plan pending. The Congressman's is still but half the extent of the one approved by the Senate, but many of his objections are thought to have been met by the modifications made.

Out of the prolonged hassle, indications are that a Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore meeting general approval will soon enhance Michigan's unsurpassed recreational areas and outdoor attractions.

Highways on Holidays Fraught With Danger

Along with a cheery wish for a Happy New Year must go a somber warning. For behind the joy and high spirits of the Holiday Season lurks a grim figure with a scythe bent on cutting down an appalling number traveling American highways.

And, as has been said repetitiously, alcohol might well replace the scythe in the symbol of death.

Drivers who think two or three drinks never hurt anyone behind the wheel are living in a fool's paradise, with potential tragedy an unseen passenger at their sides.

The National Safety Council warns that more than half the drivers in fatal accidents during past year-ends had been drinking.

So, for everybody's sake, including your own, if you're alcohol-minded when driving, put it in the radiator.

LBJ Request: No Pets, Please

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, a dog lover but still a man of prudence, has done the sensible thing again.

He has asked that Americans not flood the White House with gifts of dogs and other animals.

Specifically, the President accepted the gift of a white collie from a 9-year-old Illinois girl, but asked at the same time that others who want to send animal gifts to give them instead to children or institutions in their own communities.

The first family already had two Beagles, and two Beagles just by themselves are a lot of dogs.

DELUGED WITH GIFTS

Every first family has been deluged with gifts, some of them probably to the point of embarrassment. No one likes to return a gift, or to refuse one that is well-meant, even if it is not particularly wanted and has to be fed.

The John F. Kennedys, having two small children, were particularly showered with pets, but they always seemed to have room for one more.

In addition to three ponies, the Kennedys were honored with dogs galore, the most famous being Pushinka, the offspring of a Soviet space dog. She was a gift from Premier Khrushchev.

Other Kennedys included Charlie, a Welsh terrier; an Irish wolfhound, various cockers, a German shepherd and some pups born to Pushinka and Charlie.

FLAWS BOTH WAYS

The great interest Americans show in White House pets can flow both ways, it was demonstrated last summer, when 5,000 letters came in asking for the Pushinka-Charlie pups.

Out of those who asked, two were chosen to get the pups — a girl in Illinois and a boy in Missouri.

Dogs have always been the most popular presidential pets, beginning with George Washington. An exception to the dog-loving line was President Harry S. Truman, but his friends were always quick to point out that he had nothing against dogs.

A White House dog that figured in politics was Fala, a lively Scottie belonging to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. In the 1944 presidential campaign, some critics of FDR charged that a destroyer was sent to the Aleutian Islands at heavy expense to the taxpayers after Fala allegedly had been left behind in one of the President's trips.

TURNED THE TABLES

Roosevelt turned the tables in a radio broadcast, still remembered as a campaign masterpiece, which poked ridicule at politicians who stooped to attack "my little dog, Fala."

During the First World War, the White House grounds were pastured for a flock of sheep. President Woodrow Wilson had a double purpose: to help keep the grass trimmed and to provide wool that could be sold for the benefit of the Red Cross.

President William McKinley had a parrot which, so it has been chronicled, could whistle "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

And President William Howard Taft, owned a Jersey cow named Pauline.

Ask Not for Whom the Bell Tolls

President Hopefuls Inexperienced

WASHINGTON — The American system of government is relatively young — not even two centuries old — but it has rarely shown so conspicuously its lack of maturity as it does today.

To realize how little progress has been made in the field of responsible government, all one needs to do is to read about the prospective candidates for the presidency being brought forward to serve, if elected, in the highest office in the land.

Take, for example, the different men being talked about for the Republican presidential nomination.

For months, attention centered on two or three possible candidates. Then, as if these men had suddenly become politically ineligible, the search turned to persons relatively unknown — as if it would be easier to elect someone who hasn't become identified with any particular issues or controversial questions in the national field.

The fact that such newly discovered persons of prominence have not had any experience in a position of leadership or major responsibility in either the executive or the legislative branch of the federal government is regarded as of no importance by their political sponsors.

TV PERSONALITY

All that seems to count is that the prospective candidate performs well on television or appears to be a man of congenial and pleasing personality.

The quest is apparently for someone with no political liabilities. This is not unusual. It has happened before.

Our presidents have not always been the ablest of public servants. Often they have had little background but lots of courage.

Once a man is endowed with presidential power, he feels a sense of responsibility to be honest and fair.

There is, of course, little time in a four-year term in which to do a good job, when the first few years have to be spent in learning the ropes.

The record in a second term is often better than in a first term because a president has acquired experience on the job.

There is no convincing reason why candidates for the presidency should not be selected only from those men who have had substantial experience in leadership positions either the executive or legislative branch of the government.

The Constitution can be amended at any time to require this.

What America needs is a system that will insure the selection of a competent president of experience and not just a candidate with personal appeal but without prior training in the national government.

These are days when wrong decisions can mean war or national bankruptcy or other catastrophe to the American people.

As the population increases, the problem of government becomes more complex. Can one man be expected to rule effectively in the presidency?

Wouldn't it be better to pick from the most capable men inside government the presidential nominees of their respective parties and to put alongside of them — to be chosen in the same election — a cabinet of ten men, also well qualified in national governmental problems?

Wouldn't it be better to organize in this way an elected presidential council? These men then could appoint general managers for the various government departments, so that the cabinet secretaries themselves could sit at the side of the president in the executive office building available for daily conferences, as is the practice in so many successful business enterprises of the country.

Bob Considine Says:

Broken Toys, Nutty Ties Inevitable Yule Features

NEW YORK — The day or days following Christmas will be marked by certain tireless rituals:

Mamma dolls will stop saying "Mama" and "Mama" when burped.

The nation will be littered with the busted springs of unopened million toys.

A Charles Adams type kid CONSIDINE will figure out a way how to blow up the joint with his chemistry set, and do it.

All instructions on how to play a bewildering new game, based on Einstein's theory, or how to assemble the full scale Polaris submarine will be irrevocably lost.

Millions who expressed themselves as deliciously happy with presents they received will dump them back on the stores where the gifts were purchased, angrily demanding different sizes, shapes, colors, something completely different, or the raw dough.

The nutty ties will go back on the racks and remain there until repurchased next Christmas by our dear daft dams.

My friend, John A. Brogan Jr., a King Features Syndicate executive, is in recent receipt of two notes from overseas that highlight once more the universality of the emotion evoked by the cruel and senseless murder of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

The first is a message from Father Martin Brodies, a Franciscan based in Pathankud, Ranchi P.O., India:

"I was in an even more remote Indian village when the news came to us over the radio the day after his death. But even in that out-of-the-way place the local school was immediately closed and the Indian flags dropped to half-mast."

The second letter to Brogan came from his son, a career diplomat in Buenos Aires.

"As soon as the news flashed, people began to crowd the American embassy to extend their sympathy and condolences. In very short order about 100,000 pictures of the late President

More Comment on Indecent Literature

The teaching of morals is the responsibility of parents, but each of us influences those we come in contact with and it is our responsibility as citizens to provide good influences for young people.

I saw no "adults only" sign on the magazine rack in the store I mentioned.

If "R. B." disapproves of this indecent literature, why does he sell it? Is a few cents profit more important than principles?

Shocked Parent

The money a grocer makes on indecent literature helps to encourage the adults and the covers of these magazines are enough proof of the damage they can do to the mind—whether child or adult.

I disagree with the grocer's reply. He's encouraging the publishers to continue with immorality.

As a businessman the grocer has even a greater responsibility to the welfare of the community. Parents are not always to be blamed for the wrong a child does.

Blames Dallas Police for Oswald's Death

The shooting of Lee Oswald by Jack Ruby can be blamed to the Dallas police for the simple reason that they had promised the TV photographers he would be removed to jail at a certain time. The whole nation knew this time. That time could have been stated, but a secret time could have been given and then Jack Ruby wouldn't have been there. As it turned out the press and police bungled the job.

TV Statistics

Cosmopolitan

A housewife turned on the television set in front of her baby's playpen so that the infant might be distracted enough to remain calm while Mom did the housework.

Mom left the room, and the show was left completely to this swaddling captive audience. The TV set that the baby gazed upon, undoubtedly in semihypnotic puzzlement, was hooked up to a recording device inserted by a TV rating firm which automatically ticked off the total time the set was "on" and fully recorded the channel to which it was tuned.

This statistically absurd happenstance thereupon noted and listed in this cybernetic chaos as properly representative of what this one fleetingly abandoned little life was gazing at — but as statistics representing over 54,000 TV sets tuned to that particular station at that time.

The mechanical gadget reported it. Some program benefited by it. Other programs were ignored. And on this sort of accumulated chaos, TV shows rise and die, fortunes are lost, sensitivities are jarred, millions are bored. But is this the one lone chaotic exception to the famed Nielsen Ratings?

Indeed not. A similarly documented incident was recorded when one of Nielsen's little helpers went on record as having turned on her TV set so her dog would not be lonely while she was out shopping.

Television lives and dies, drinks and gags, vicariously operates and virtually breathes on the rating systems. You will find an occasional tarnished brass hat finding meager solace in the findings of smaller rating systems but that would be like an aspirin before major surgery.

Trip Called Off

The New York Herald Tribune

At last a Congressional junket has been called off before it was airborne.

Amid a flurry of criticism Rep. Adam Clayton Powell postponed a journey to Puerto Rico (where Mr. Powell happens to have a home) to investigate crowded schools and to the Virgin Islands to look into complaints that aliens are being used as strikebreakers. He was to be accompanied by members of his Education and Labor Committee and his staff.

Mr. Powell said the pressure of business and not the sting of publicity forced the postponement. One Congressman scheduled to go suddenly discovered that his important votes were to be taken on the floor of the House and another, who didn't get quite the same word, remembered some unfinished Christmas shopping.

Even an junket go this was set up to be a many-plundered thing, complete with a $2,000-an-hour military plane, a secretary and in one instance a secretary's secretary, an Air Force liaison officer presumably to maintain liaison with the Air Force, and $10 a day for those inevitable extras.

No law ever can be written to tell a Congressman when he is correctly using and when he is abusing the privileges of his office.

But in the case of Mr. Powell's latest adventure in junketeering it is significant that those about to embark on this four-day mission felt sufficiently guilty about public discussion of it to back out. A conscience stricken in time is the best safeguard against rashness.

Only Thing Fired Up

Is the Microphone

SOUTH MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dade County Commissioner Arthur Patten didn't realize how warmly he was debating proposed amendments to a Chamber of Commerce meeting until the microphone began smoking.

The debate was interrupted while the trouble was repaired.

Movie Exec Dead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Nathan J. Cohn, 61, sales executive for Columbia Pictures Corp., died yesterday in a hospital.

Cohn was the younger brother of the late Harry Cohn, co-founder and long-time president of Columbia.

Vandals Mar Preview for Detroit Club

DETROIT (AP) — Picketing by a union and vandalism against guests' cars marked the Detroit Playboys Club's 10th anniversary Thursday night.

Vandals slashed the tires and convertible tops of both guests' cars and other cars in a separate parking lot of nearby Christ Church.

Members of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union picketed the East Jefferson Avenue bar and restaurant in protest of what is called a "tips only" pay policy for waitresses and the scant, "bunny" costumes for waitresses.

Sam LeVigne, 51, a union business agent, was arrested after a scuffle with police. Police said he pickedetted the restaurant entrance in defiance of a police ban. He was released to his attorney.

Mort Puray, union business representative, deplored the vandalism. He said the union had no part in it.

Registration Ends Jan. 6

10 Days Yet Remain for Waterford Voters

With the deadline 10 days away, 2,056 Waterford Township voter registration cards still have not been returned to the clerk's office.

Some 3,449 cards were mailed Dec. 5 to residents who had not exercised their voting rights since 1961. By merely signing the card and returning it, the voter could reregister.

Recent legislation narrowed the vote requirement period from four to two years to maintain active registration.

Deputy Clerk Mrs. Clara Allen said that 1,028 of the cards have been properly returned.

Another 765 have come back unclaimed, according to Mrs. Allen.

The deadline for returning the cards is Jan. 6.

Area Road Victim in Fair Condition

Floyd Collins, 56, of 117 Giddings, Orion Township, who suffered possible internal injuries yesterday in a head-on crash in Pontiac, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Collins' car, after turning left from East Boulevard to Perry, collided with a northbound auto driven on Perry by John Soule, 22, of 2148 E. Woodlawn, Rochester.

Both drivers told police they didn't see the other's car approaching. The accident occurred at 5:50 p.m.

Soule suffered only a minor facial cut. He was not treated at the hospital.

2 New Mothers Keep Birth Date on the Dot

MANCHESTER, Iowa (AP) — When Mrs. Francis Deutmer and Mrs. Robert Forckenbrock gave birth to daughters the same day in Manchester Hospital, it wasn't the only special date they had in common.

The two women had also been married on the same day, in ceremonies held only an hour apart.

Zoo Officials Hire Dog as a Full-Time Nurse

OSIJEK, Yugoslavia (AP) — The tigress Goo of the local zoo was ill and unable to nurse her newborn cub. So the zoo brought in a female German Shepherd dog to do the nursing.

Such a friendship developed between the baby tiger and mother dog that the zoo finally had to buy the dog. It lives in the tiger cage, and still does the nursing.

Youth Is Off Target; Arrow Hits Awning

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A youth in the city recreation program fired an arrow into the air. It resulted in a claim for damages against the city and transfer of the program to a new park.

The arrow, it seems, came to earth perforating an awning at the home of Arthur Hartwig.

Killed in 2-Car Crash

MASON (AP) — John Robert Eldred, 30, of East Rapids, was killed Thursday in a two-car crash on US 127 within the city limits, state police reported.

Satisfactory After Truck, Car Collide

Roger Blain, 26, of 454 Gateway, Waterford Township, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered when his car and a truck collided yesterday in Waterford Township.

Blain told police he was driving southeast on M-10 at 1:10 p.m. when the truck, heading in the opposite direction, pulled in front of him.

Leon Camak, 25, of 10627 Deerwood, Ferndale, the truck driver, was treated at the hospital and released.

Camak, whose truck overturned, was doused with gasoline when the truck's fuel line broke.

Police put dry clothing on Camak before taking him to the hospital and firemen washed the gasoline from the road.

81st Birthday Brings Silver

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — John Schwartz, Casper, wanted to get something different for his mother on her 81st birthday, but it was hard to think of anything he hadn't already given her.

His solution? He badgered Casper merchants for several weeks until he collected 75 silver dollars— all dated 1882, the year of her birth.

Early Aide of Bell Dies

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Robert C. Burns, who as a boy helped in some of Alexander Graham Bell's early experiments with sound, died yesterday, three weeks after his 100th birthday.

Breeder Eyes Animal Chatter

Believes Conversation Carried On in Wild

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Taped recordings of animal chatter have been studied for years by Clem Haager of Potchefstroom, a poultry breeder and university graduate.

He concludes that animals and birds can speak, but "unfortunately they do not possess sufficient words in their vocabulary to hold interesting conversations."

Haager, a university graduate, became interested in animal conversation when he began recording animal sounds for the proposed library of the National Parks Board of South Africa.

He has eavesdropped on conversations by lions, hyenas, monkeys and baboons.

OBVIOUS SOUNDS
"I believe animals and birds converse using basic sounds connected with emotional factors of life. Mating, alarm and distress words are among the most obvious sounds," he says.

Haager's research has disclosed a variety of accents used by animals and birds in different areas.

He also plays back his recordings of animals sounds to study their reactions.

Lion talk, taped in the Kalahari Desert and replayed on a game reserve hundreds of miles away, has brought some lioness troops excitedly toward his car.

The same lion talk played back to monkeys excites them to a degree of panic.

New Wonder Drug Cosmetic Restores Young Look to Skin

Medical tests show Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine reduces wrinkles due to dryness and restores young tone to mature skin.

Now you can look younger. Medical research proves that the action of two vital female hormones, estrogen and progesterone, reactives specific skin cells. Wrinkles due to dryness are reduced. Young skin tone is restored.

The discovery that has made this possible is Helena Rubinstein's Ultra Feminine Face Cream, the only face cream with both vital female hormones. These are the very hormones that have helped shape every woman from Venus to the same hormones that abound in a young woman's skin.

The chart below shows you how mature reduces estrogen and progesterone supplies with maturity. Here's what happens when Ultra Feminine replaces estrogen and progesterone daily to your skin.

What the doctor report: Skin cells can hold maximum moisture again. These cells, plumped out once more, support the surface firmly. Lines smooth out. Wrinkles due to dryness are reduced. Young skin tone is restored.

Oil glands produce at a more youthful rate again. Tissue cells and skin surface both show an amazing increase in oil production. The skin is soft, dewy, protected.

Start using younger younger. In just 30 days, see your skin take on a definitely younger look.

HOW FEMALE HORMONE PRODUCTION DECLINES WITH AGE

These curves show the relative changes in the amounts of estrogen and progesterone during the life of the female. Note how rapidly they decline after 30 and stop altogether after 40. Note the proportion.

younger look. Such rapid results are possible because Ultra Feminine is an actual wonder drug cosmetic that works within the skin to replenish loss of physiological substances. The whole process, miraculous to behold, is like nature's own because estrogen and progesterone are the female hormones which power these cells in youth. Because your skin can't store up hormones for the future, you must use Ultra Feminine faithfully each night. This assures your daily hormone requirement.

This medically tested treatment costs only pennies per use. See your skin look young again, and stay younger looking.

Lifetime Guarantee
Helena Rubinstein states: "for full refund."

ONCE-A-YEAR SALE!

Because Helena Rubinstein is convinced that Ultra Feminine is her greatest cosmetic achievement, she makes this special offer so that you may discover for yourself that you can look younger. One jar will convince you!

Battle Fought by Smugglers; 14 Said Dead

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — A falling out among Filipino smugglers resulted in the slaying of four men and the probable death of 10 others in shark-infested waters, the Philippine news service reported today.

A dispatch from Jolo, in the southern Philippines, said the battle erupted on a motor boat over division of proceeds from smuggled goods from North Borneo.

The four men were killed with lead pipes and knives. The 10 others leaped overboard and were presumed to have drowned or been killed by sharks.

Indoor Humidity Tests

Weather Inside's Delightful

CHICAGO (U) — "How's the weather out," is a question weather bureaus have answered for years.

Now it's going to be "How's the weather inside."

Beginning Jan. 2, the Chicago Weather Bureau will issue reports on the indoor relative humidity several times a day during the remainder of the cold season.

The new service will be introduced on a test basis as a health benefit measure. Low humidity aggravates the nose and throat and is a source of discomfort.

The reports will tell the relative humidity outside air would have if heated to 72 degrees Fahrenheit.

Sir Alec Studies Request for Quiz on Ship Tragedy

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home is studying demands for a full British inquiry into the Lakonia ship disaster.

Latest figures issued by the ship's Greek owners put the number of known survivors at 901, the dead at 96 and the missing at 31.

The Greek Line said no official list of the dead and missing would be issued before Wednesday morning to permit double checking.

The prime minister agreed Thursday night to consider the demand of Patrick Gordon Walker, Labor party spokesman on foreign affairs, for a British inquiry.

PAPERS SUPPORT
Most British newspapers supported the demand.

The Daily Express said: "The public will be satisfied with nothing less than a full investigation carried out by British officials under British rules of evidence. There are many disturbing questions."

Gordon Walker said the British government should inquire into the tragedy because most of the Lakonia's 651 passengers were British and the cruise was organized by agents in Britain. The ship's owners have refused to answer allegations by some survivors that members of the Lakonia's crew behaved badly.

ABANDONED TOO SOON

Among the allegations are: No concerted attempt was made to fight the fire aboard the 20,314-ton liner.

The order to abandon ship was given before it was necessary. Fear-stricken and drunken crew members grabbed places in lifeboats that should have gone to passengers.

Lifeboats were not properly launched and some lacked provisions and other necessary equipment.

The ship's British nurse, Anne Storey, 23, who flew home with the first group of survivors Christmas Day, said only about 10 Greek members of the crew were responsible for the charges of panic and drunkenness.

"They looted the cabins," she said, "then took the first available lifeboats and made their getaway. The rest of the crew were brave and chivalrous."

Korea Letter Goes Astray

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—A letter sent from South Korea intended for someone in Formosa turned up in Newark.

Postal clerk James Chin, who reads Chinese, said the letter was sent from Seoul to Taipei.

How the letter got to Newark during the Christmas mail rush is a mystery.

LADY IN DISTRESS? — If you think this is a lady in distress and there's cause for alarm, you're only partly right. A fire in this department store in Limoges, France, caused the alarm, and the mannequin went all to pieces. Firemen had to remove her from the window display.

Christmas Is Day Late for 4 Chilean Orphans

MASSAPEQUA PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Christmas came a day late for four orphans from Chile but it's not one they'll soon forget.

They arrived at their new home in this New York City suburb, met their new parents, the William Quinns, and made friends with six new brothers and sisters.

Under the Christmas tree they found toys and other gifts the Quinns had wrapped in hopes the orphans would arrive by Christmas Day.

Quinn, 38, a production manager for National Broadcasting Co. news and public affairs, and his wife, Joan, plan to adopt the Chilean children, ranging in age from 1½ to 11. Their six children range from 2 to 11 in age.

LIKE CHILDREN

"We both like children," said Quinn at the John F. Kennedy International Airport as the family met the orphans with hugs and kisses.

Special Services for Antarctic GIs

NEW YORK (AP)—High-ranking Catholic and Protestant clergymen took part in Christmas Day services for sailors in Antarctica, the Navy said Thursday.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, first Roman Catholic cardinal to visit the Antarctic, delivered his Christmas message to the nation at a service on the U.S.S. Glacier, the Navy's largest ice-breaker.

Rear Adm. J. Floyd Dreith, Navy chief of chaplains, delivered the sermon at Protestant services on the ship.

Two Wed 40 Years Die Minutes Apart

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duynslager, who celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary last July, died of apparent heart attacks within 10 minutes of each other Thursday, police reported.

Duynslager, 63, died first. Police said Duynslager had been under treatment for a heart ailment, but relatives said his wife, Rose, 65, was believed to have been in sound health.

TO THE 1,185,000 FAMILIES SERVED BY DETROIT EDISON

People often ask if Detroit Edison is a part of any other electric company which has "Edison" in its name. The answer is no. Years ago, Thomas Edison licensed a number of newly formed companies to use his patented devices to generate and distribute electric power. In each agreement was a clause—long since expired—which stated that his name be a part of every company name. We are proud to continue this historic tie.

Detroit Edison serves Southeastern Michigan only. This being so, we are always deeply interested in the progress of the area. Edison employees are your neighbors and their concerns, as good citizens, are the same as yours.

About 110,000 individuals and organizations are Detroit Edison shareowners. Their dollars, working for the company, earn dividends at the current rate of about four per cent of the market value of the shares.

Nearly 73,000 Edison shareowners live in Michigan. Of this number, 63,000 are also Detroit Edison customers. So our company is very much a part of Michigan. Many insurance companies and retirement funds own Edison shares too. Thus other Americans, here and elsewhere, are indirect owners of the company.

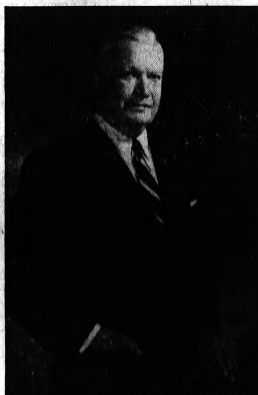

Investor ownership is basic to the American way of life and is largely responsible for the economic progress of the nation. Ours is an economic system which, more than any other in the world, supports and enlarges personal freedom. And it is an appropriate time, as an eventful and historic year draws to a close, to pledge ourselves anew to the cause of freedom.

May I, on behalf of my associates and myself, wish you a Happy New Year!

Sincerely,

Walker L. Cisler

WALKER L. CISLER, PRESIDENT

All That Glitters

Ah, San Francisco! But Take Closer Look

By HAROLD V. STREETER
Written for Hal Boyle
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ah, San Francisco—cable cars, bridges, Chinatown, Fishermen's Wharf.
Even Soviet Premier Khrushchev fell in love with the city by the Golden Gate, spawned back in 1849 by a capitalistic rush for gold.

Let's have a closer look. Now about those cable cars: At the turn of the century, 13 lines sent dozens of them clucking and clanging over the hills. Today there are 27 cars in daily service. And they are one big financial headache.

All repairs and all spare parts have to be homemade. It would be cheaper to use buses. A hard core of defenders, known as the Citizens' Committee to Save the Cable Cars, stands firm at the turntables just during anybody to junk them.

TOLL GATE CHECK
Bridges: More than 21 million car trips are checked off yearly at the toll gates of the 4,200-foot $55-million Golden Gate Bridge. More than 40 million are recorded over the 8½-mile $77.2 million San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. They're a life-blood trade artery, no question about that.

But there's another side of the picture. They doomed a city approach which was relaxed and eye-gripping—the ferries. And patrolmen are busy trying to keep people from jumping off them. Since the Bay bridge opened in 1937 and the Golden Gate in 1937, the known total death leeches exceed 30. It's an unavoidable price of progress.

Chinatown? You haven't really lived until you've been packed like a sardine amongst thousands in narrow Grant Avenue at the Chinese New Year parade—the man-footed, cloth-covered dragon; popping firecrackers splitting the eardrums.

Maybe you were among the couple of million who poured more than $115 million in tourist money into San Francisco this year. But if you stopped in a Chinatown store to pack off an oriental tidbit as a souvenir, turn it over and look at the bottom. The Red Chinese "bamboo curtain" being what it is, chances are you will read: "Made in Japan."

WHARF CHANGES

Over at Fishermen's Wharf, only the wharf stays the same. The fish and the men change. Time was when the bay shrimp were so succulent and distinctive that maestro Arthur Fiedler swore he could tell by the taste the difference between North Bay and South Bay shrimp. He can't any more. The bay shrimp vanished.

And the fishers after tourist coin got so out-of-hand that the San Francisco Port Authority commissioners cracked down on them this month. Said the place was getting "too Coney Island." Read the order: "Limit street sales on the wharf to fish or fish products."

One bit of San Francisco whimsy: It's one of few cities and maybe the only one to be talking about tearing down a freeway.

The Embarcadero Freeway winds around the famed waterfront, hiding many a view. And if there's one thing a proud old timer will not stand for it is blocking a view.

The next mayor, John F. Shelley, insists he will do all he can to get the freeway junked. If it does come down, it adds up to a $14-million mistake.

There's another mistake to be avoided. If you are talking about a railroad, okay; but if about the city—don't call it Frisco.

Fund Reaches $405,301 for Tippit Family

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Contributions in 1,500 letters processed Thursday raised the J. D. Tippit fund to beyond $400,000.

The total stood at $405,301 when counters quit for the day.

Police Lt. V. K. Hips-kind said the tabulation crew still has 7½ mail sacks to process. At an average of 3,000 letters to a sack, that means roughly 22,500 letters.

The fund is being raised for the family of the Dallas policeman who was slain as he questioned a suspect in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

Stassen Set to Tell Plans for '64 Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota says he plans to announce next month whether he will seek the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Stassen, a Philadelphia lawyer, said Thursday night that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has urged him, along with several others, to run for the nomination so the Republican party could have the widest possible selection of candidates.

"I do believe 1964 should see a very thorough and far-reaching discussion within the party leading up to the selection of a candidate and platform," Stassen said. "I feel there are quite a few men that would be able candidates."

Grand Jury Probes Sinatra Kidnaping

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal grand jury will continue deliberations Jan. 2 on the men jailed by the FBI and charged with the Dec. 8 abduction of the young singer.

The three are John William Irwin, 42; Barry Worthington Keenan, 23, and Joseph Clyde Amsler, 23.

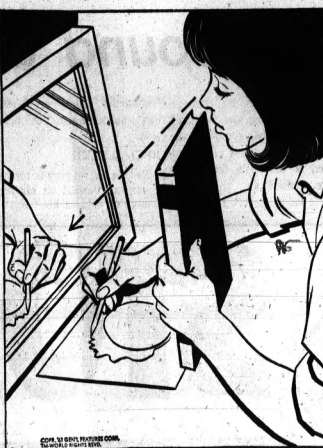

"It's the greatest Christmas present ever!"

Nothing says "Thank you" like a Long Distance call. Uncle Bob can actually hear Billy's excitement about the new telescope he sent him. And he can thank Billy, in return, for the gift necktie... "my favorite color." Best of all, Mom and Dad and Aunt Ellen too can all join in—have a wonderful family get-together by phone. LONG DISTANCE IS THE NEXT BEST THING TO BEING THERE.

Why not call tonight? A station-to-station call costs less than a "person" call. And it goes through faster, especially when you dial it yourself.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Through the Looking Glass.

NEEDED: Pencil, paper, mirror.

DO THIS: Make a circle on the paper, place the mirror behind the paper, then try to trace around the circle with the pencil while watching your movements only through the mirror.

It will be very difficult if not impossible to trace the circle in this way.

WHY? When you push the pencil away from yourself the mirror image of the pencil is coming toward you. This confuses ordinary muscular movement with what you see in the mirror. With practice and patience we could learn to coordinate our muscle movements with the mirror image, as we do when we tie a necktie or put on makeup.

UPSIDE DOWN

Another mirror stunt to try: Print the name Bob Brown in capital letters, lay it on the table in front of the mirror, and the word Bob will appear to be normal, while Brown will be upside down.

The collection of these experiments "Science Circus No. 2" is off the press. See it at your bookstore.

Wood Alcohol Kills 20 Men

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Homicide detectives are seeking the source of wood alcohol which has killed 20 men in the last four days on Philadelphia's skid row.

Dr. Joseph W. Spelman, city medical examiner, said he believed the alcohol came from a single source.

Most of the victims, said Dr. Spelman, were found in rooming houses or hotels. In many of their rooms investigators found liquor bottles containing small amounts of liquid which was 50 to 75 per cent wood alcohol, he said.

SUDDEN INCREASE

Spelman said that from Jan. 1 until last Monday there had been but three fatal cases of wood alcohol poisoning reported. He said the sudden increase led him to believe a single source was involved.

Last year, about 20 men were killed in New York City by wood alcohol poisoning.

Iran Prince Loses Suit Against Frat for 1959 Hazing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Iranian Prince Emil Shokohi, 28, has lost a $20,000 damage suit against Phi Sigma Kappa for injuries he claimed he suffered as a pledge.

Shokohi said he suffered permanent arm and back injuries and other indignities in 1959 during hazing. But Superior Court ruled in favor of the fraternity.

The fraternity chapter, at the University of Southern California, contended Shokohi was bitter because he was not accepted for membership.

Since the first census in 1790, data has been recorded for almost 350 million persons, some of them duplicated from census to census.

Goldwater Salvos Have Sound of '64 Campaign Gun

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's sudden salvo at President Johnson may be a signal that the Arizona Republican has decided to plunge into the 1964 presidential race.

"I guess the senator's running again," Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, remarked to newsmen at Austin, Tex.

Johnson, vacationing at his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., had no comment on Goldwater's charge that the President had unfairly put pressure on Congress in his fight over the foreign aid money bill.

Observers noted that Goldwater, figured by the polls as the front runner among possible GOP presidential contenders before the Nov. 22 assassination of

He referred to plans for a Senate meeting Monday to give final congressional approval to the $3-billion foreign aid money bill.

In a Dec. 5 interview, Goldwater announced a "major reassessment" of his plans and said that "shortly thereafter the Republican party will begin to praise or to criticize."

Noting that Johnson would start to establish his own record at that time, Goldwater said that "shortly thereafter the Republican party will begin to praise or to criticize."

At the same time, Goldwater said of Johnson:

"I like him, I think he has a chance to be a good president, a great president."

With Thursday's blast, sent to Senate Republicans from his Phoenix home where he is recuperating from minor surgery, Goldwater came out swinging at both Johnson's policies and his methods.

'VOTE STAMPEDE'

"I deeply resent the President's attempts to play politics with Christmas by stampeding votes on the highly questionable foreign aid bill," he said, adding that Johnson was "trying to treat congressmen as his personal errand boys."

LONDON (AP) — Two U.S. airmen drowned Thursday night when their car plunged into a canal 65 miles north of London as the winter's thickest fog enveloped Britain.

The Americans' car swerved off a traffic circle into the canal at Mildenhall. There was fog in the area and roads were icy.

Killed were Airman I.C. William McFarland, 22, of Hartsville, S.C., and Airman I.C. Thomas Franklin, 20, of Ryder, N.D., both stationed at nearby Lakenheath Air Base.

The House, in an unprecedented Christmas eve daybreak session, finally approved the foreign aid measure and eliminated a provision that would have banned any government credit for sales of U.S. grain to Communist countries. Johnson had protested against the provision.

HEEL SURGERY
Despite the surgery to remove a calcium deposit on his heel, Goldwater said in his telegram

he hopes to be present Monday "to vote against and speak against this excess in foreign economic aid and the underwriting of wheat sales which flood (sic) directly in the face of all practical experience in dealing with the Communists."

Later, however, he was quoted by CBS News in an interview as saying that he did not think he would be able to attend Monday but that even if he could, it would take an order from the sergeant-at-arms to get him there because he doesn't think the foreign aid legislation is that urgent.

Goldwater has indicated he will make a public announcement of his political plans before the Jan. 27 deadline for entering the Illinois Republican presidential primary.

think the foreign aid legislation is that urgent.

Goldwater has indicated he will make a public announcement of his political plans before the Jan. 27 deadline for entering the Illinois Republican presidential primary.

he hopes to be present Monday "to vote against and speak against this excess in foreign economic aid and the underwriting of wheat sales which flood (sic) directly in the face of all practical experience in dealing with the Communists."

Later, however, he was quoted by CBS News in an interview as saying that he did not think he would be able to attend Monday but that even if he could, it would take an order from the sergeant-at-arms to get him there because he doesn't

Now Real Furs Make Their Grand Entrance

For gala occasions, the long evening cape in Fouke-dyed black Alaska fur seal by Georges Kaplan, dramatic wrap in the height of luxury, shown over Sam's pale pink beaded evening gown.

Revillon lines a lift coat of Fouke-processed Lakoda, natural sheared Alaska fur seal with Mongolian kit fox for added warmth and achieves a very luxurious effect.

This dressy theater coat of Fouke-processed Kitova Alaska fur seal by Revillon is luxuriously trimmed with a squared off yoke collar and cuffs of natural ranch mink.

The furs have arrived in town and country. They have arrived with great bravado from their triumphs in the Paris and American collections.

For furs have learned to stand by themselves as fashion mainstays in the wardrobe. Furs from tip to toe. Furs from mere minuscule ascots to floor-length evening wraps.

Whimsical furs for active sports or the fireside. Hardy furs for country living. Elegant fur suits. Layered furs reversing.

Fur pullovers, fur dresses—you name it, any fashion is now available to the woman with the fresh new viewpoint that thinks of furs as clothes, beautiful, supple and as meticulously tailored as cloth.

Fashion has gone crazy over the spotted furs with leopard and jaguar and tiger burning bright. Walkaway jackets developed into sensational ski parkas in fitch, snow leopard, snowy lynx.

Little waistcoats of pony. Magnificent suits of silky broadtail or tawny Fouke-processed "lakoda," natural sheared Alaska Fur Seal.

Against gloomy streets nothing could look more charming than the beige minks chopped to new lengths. Furs are capes and tunics and trench coats in sable, chinchilla or ermine. And with all the flood of color in furs there's a storm of dark furs—natural ranch mink, black-dyed minks worked horizontally.

Velvety Fouke-dyed black or processed Matara or Kitovi Alaska Fur Seal, in inexpressible capes, coats dresses, floor flowing silhouettes or slim coats with ease. In other words, let fur flood your wardrobe for every occasion and enhance your every mood.

Hem Reveals Sewing Skill

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—The hem is usually one of the last details to be finished when making a dress.

Anna Marie Kreifels, clothing and textiles specialist at the University of Nebraska, said a good hem should be inconspicuous, and should not show signs of excess bulk.

On medium to lightweight fabrics, hem tape is not often used. In this case the raw edge of the hem is turned under about one-fourth to one-half inch.

If the raw edge is of a heavyweight fabric, a hem tape can prevent bulkiness. A lightweight tape is stitched on the fabric to cover the raw edge.

More Gifts for Mother Not Needed

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My daughter-in-law just had her first child and my husband and I gave our grandson a $50 bond. We also sent flowers to the mother in the hospital.

Is it necessary to give an additional gift to our daughter-in-law for having presented us with a grandchild?

A: A gift to your daughter-in-law is not at all necessary. Sending flowers to her while she was in the hospital and giving your grandson a present is sufficient.

Q: Three couples went to a restaurant for dinner. After having an appetizer and soup, one of the women, who has a very small appetite, could not eat her steak.

Her husband suggested she take it home. When the waiter came to the table to remove the plates she asked him to please wrap it up for her. Was this proper?

A: It is permissible to ask a waiter to please wrap up an unfinished piece of meat to take home to a dog, but certainly not an untouched portion to be eaten by oneself.

Q: After having lived in our present neighborhood all of our lives, we have bought a house in the suburbs. The seller told me all of the neighbors are very friendly and said that they would undoubtedly call on me when we moved in.

Since this will all be very new to me, please tell me what is expected of me when neighbors call? Do I offer them refreshment? Do I return their visits?

A: Their visits must be returned. It is not necessary to serve refreshments but it would be friendly as well as courteous to offer your visitors a cup of tea.

Or Is It Just a Rumor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: He is 55 and divorced. She is 50 and has never been married. This doesn't bother me, either—but it does bother my mother.

She has a fur-nished apartment and he lives in a rooming house. About a year ago she took him in as a "boarder."

She claims that there is nothing wrong with it because he is only a boarder and not a roomer. They go everywhere together.

Her father objects and so do her sisters and brothers. She is ruining the family name. What can be done about it?

A SISTER
DEAR SISTER: Nothing. It is entirely possible that the man is only a boarder, and the rest is only rumor.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and am engaged to marry a fine man of 29. He is a college graduate and very intelligent.

His one fault is that he isn't very particular about his appearance. Sometimes his shirts are not ironed, or he could have buttons missing from his shirt or jacket, or his shoes aren't shined.

Or maybe he will have a few spots on his clothing. This doesn't bother him, and it doesn't bother me, either—but it does bother my mother.

She says I should tell him he shouldn't go around looking like that. I think I should wait until after we're married, and then I will be his responsibility to see that his shirts are ironed, and his clothes are clean and have buttons. What do you think?

NOT BOTHERED
DEAR NOT: If neither you nor he is "bothered" about his careless appearance, wait until after you are married and then try to "neaten" him up.

But don't be surprised if you find him careless about his person in other ways.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Club Holds Yule Party

The Charles Fricks of Watkins Lake opened their home to the Pontiac Audubon Club Monday evening for their annual Christmas party.

Members of the planning committee included Mrs. Elmer Thorpe, Mrs. Daniel McGee, Mary Rubert and Marion Lehnner. They scheduled games, carols and a gift exchange for the meeting.

New officers for the coming year are, Floyd Radabaugh, president; Elmer Thorpe, vice president; Mrs. John Ziarnik, secretary; and Mrs. Norma Anderson, treasurer.

Group Sets Topic

"Eating Sensibly for Weight Control" is the topic for the Jan. 6 meeting of the Maecy Garden's Extension Study Group.

Mrs. Martin Downs, Tuill Road, will open her home for the meeting. Mrs. Frederick Johnson will be cohostess. Lap robes for infirmity patients will be made during the evening.

Polly's Pointers

For Gapping Dresses

DEAR POLLY — For dresses that gap at the front neckline and are too revealing, take a piece of whaleboning about six inches long, tack it just inside the middle of the front neck and tuck it inside the bra. This holds such a neckline in place satisfactorily for me.
MRS. M. L. S.

DEAR POLLY — To get more light from the ceiling light bulbs in your basement or garage, use an empty aluminum pie plate.

Place it upside down with the light bulb coming through a hole cut in the center of the plate.
The plate throws all the light down.
MRS. H. A. GIRLS — Be sure plate doesn't touch a brass or other metal socket.

DEAR POLLY — With our four lively youngsters and 16 years of doing laundry behind me, I still appreciate a trick learned long ago.

Whenever possible I buy all white socks, shirts, handkerchiefs, etc., so my wash days are not "blue." I can toss all these items in one load and there is no worry about sorting. If bleaching is necessary, there are still no worries.

Here is another addition to the useful tips on discarded garden hose. When we were youngsters, my dad always cut strips the length of our ice skate blades.
Slit the strips open along one side and then slip them over the blades. No cost and lots of protection as any skater knows.
MRS. H. W. D.

DEAR POLLY — When a child first starts to sleep in a bed, store the crib mattress under the bed and pull it out when he goes to sleep to help ease any possible bumps he may get from falling out of bed.

When typing a single copy of anything, the use of a backing sheet will make it easier to make any necessary erasures.

Wed Saturday in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Independence, Mo., were Eileen Mae Streling, daughter of the Alfred L. Strelings of Adelaide Court and Joseph Glenterry Turner, son of the Charlie Turners of Independence.

MRS. JOSEPH G. TURNER

Eileen Mae Streling Wed in Independence, Mo.

The Joseph Glenterry Turners who were wed Saturday in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Independence, Mo., chose New Orleans for their honeymoon.

Parents of the Warrensburg, Mo. newlyweds are the Alfred L. Strelings of Adelaide Court and the Charlie Turners of Independence, Mo.

For the candlelight ceremony performed by Elder Carl Mesle, the bride chose ivory satin applied with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Unpressed pleats controlled side and back fullness which swept into a cathedral train.

Her veil of ivory illusion and a silk headpiece were petal shape. She carried a sheaf of white roses bordered with holly.

Wearing Kelly green velvet with matching lace overskirts were Mrs. Compton K. Halluck of Lamoni, Iowa, her sister's honor matron, and bridesmaid, Mrs. David Draper of Independence. Holly fashioned their bouquets and circlet headbands.

On the esquire side were best man Russell Peniston of Independence; groomsmen Charlie Turner of Indiana, together with ushers David Draper and Compton Hallack.

The bride is a graduate of Graceland College, at Lamoni; Independence, Mo. Sanitarium and Hospital School of Nursing, and the University of Colorado. Mr. Turner attends Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg.

Catch Drip in Cap

You can solve the problem of wet floors and rugs when you water a hanging pot plant by slipping a plastic icebox dish cover (the kind that looks like a shower cap) over the bottom of the clay pot. Any excess water that runs through the drainage hole will be caught in the cap and can be emptied after the drainage drip ceases.

August vows are planned by University of Michigan alumni Louise Liu of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ang-Tsung Liu of Orchard Lake and Lance Jern Dakin, son of the Melvin G. Dakins of Baton Rouge, La. Her fiancé attends University of Chicago Law School.

Casual Dress Isn't Sloppy

Shopping is a tiring chore. No one expects you to don satin and lace to go forth for Sunday's chicken. But there's a world of difference between casual, comfortable attire and sloppy dress. Unfortunately some have overlooked this obvious fact.

A woman who wants respect and admiration from the men she encounters must first develop some respect for herself. Certainly no one needs a cigarette, so badly that she must puff away even when both hands are occupied.

There's no valid excuse for leaving the house with a head full of hardware, tied up in a scarf. A simple skirt and sweater are more comfortable than tight pants and a lot more attractive. And broken-down flats should be replaced by good-looking walking shoes before they ruin your feet.

Any woman can get decently dressed in 15 minutes. So lack of time can't be the reason for this awful get-up that has become the shopper's uniform.

It may be a man's world, but we don't have to dress like Rosie the Riveter to hold our place in it.

The Pan-American highway from the U.S. Mexican border to the Panama Canal is under way and is expected to be completed by the end of 1965.

Rotate Your Sheets

In caring for your bedding in your linen closet, remember to rotate the use of the sheets. The easiest way to do this is to place the freshly laundered sheets on top and take those for bedmaking from the bottom of the stack. Sheets will have a longer life through a rotation of regular use because prolonged creasing without use often weakens the fibers at the fold.

Keep Toothbrush

A discarded toothbrush may be used to apply home-permanent waving creams or lotions. It is also fine for applying color to the hair.

The J. Wayne Maguire of Meigs Street announces the engagement of their daughter Sue Ann to Daniel R. Taylor, son of the Daniel W. Taylors of Pensacola Avenue. She attends Eastern Michigan University and her fiancé is a junior at Michigan State University.

Style in Scarves

The head scarf goes elegant. Designer Bill Blass at Maurice Rentner, New York, shows long rectangles of silk chiffon or prints draped around the head with both day and evening ensembles. Typical: a solid apricot suit in linen with printed silk scarf and blouse beneath of the same printed silk.

Heavy Fog Blankets England During Night

LONDON (AP)—The heaviest fog since last winter enveloped London and much of England during the night.

Fog and ice along with reckless driving were blamed for many highway accidents which took the highest Christmas toll in four years—at least 84 dead since Christmas Eve. Thursday's deaths were still being counted.

The Census Bureau estimates that as of March, 1962, 86.3 per cent of paid civilian employees were covered by Social Security.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

FDA Probes Drugs for Public's Protection labeled; it also keeps tabs on the drugs we use. One of the worst abuses of the illegal traffic in amphetamine.

This drug which is legally sold only on a doctor's BRANDSTADT prescription is bootlegged as "pep pills," "bennies" or "stay-awake pills" to truck drivers and others.

Truck stops, drug stores and peddlers when caught bootlegging these pills are subject to heavy fines and the owners to imprisonment.

It is particularly dangerous for truck drivers to take these pills while driving because such side effects as impaired judgment and temporary mental derangement are common and can cause tragic accidents.

DELINQUENCY

In youths these pills are often the first step to juvenile delinquency or experimenting with dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A great variety of drug shipments were seized recently because they made claims that could not be substantiated.

A powdered whey was falsely labeled to indicate that it would neutralize stomach acids and promote digestion.

Vitamin products were seized because the label claimed they would do away with tiredness, loss of appetite, lack of energy, coated tongue, tooth decay, constipation, poor eyesight, bloated abdomen, heart disease, painful joints, heartburn, mental depression — "you name it; we cure it."

There is no drug or combination of drugs in the world that can do all these things.

NO CURE-ALL

The FDA is especially skeptical of alleged cancer cures because none has yet been proved to be effective.

Other seizures were made of drugs that were being sold after having been damaged in a fire or after the expiration date had passed.

Druggists were fined for re-filling prescriptions for non-refillable drugs.

ANTISEPTIC SEIZED

An antiseptic derived from pine was seized because it claimed falsely to be a cure for burns, ringworm, toothache and sore throat.

No mention was made of dandruff or warts.

Drugs imported from abroad and not yet given clearance for sale in this country were also withdrawn.

Let it be said to the credit of our legitimate drug companies that when a drug found to have dangerous side effects, the manufacturer not only voluntarily withdraws the drug but he also sends a note of warning to every physician and retail druggist in the country.

Oil Heiress Seeks

2nd Divorce From Man

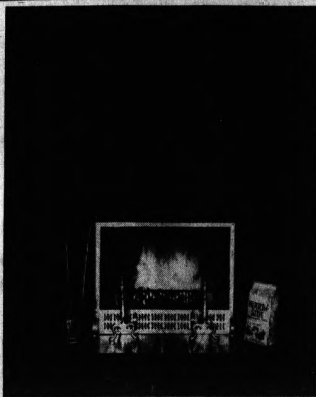

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Princess David Mdivani was sued for divorce Thursday by oil heiress Virginia Sinclair Mdivani. She charged cruelty.

It was the second time the daughter of the late oil tycoon, Harry Sinclair, has sought a divorce from Mdivani. He was divorced by silent film star Mae Murray in 1933.

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble

Hearken!
The massive red brick building seems deserted, a vestige of some long-ago industry.

Obviously forsaken in this age of automation, the structure stands on the outskirts of Holly.
But listen! Near the building a small "clink" is heard, then another, perhaps several in succession.

Joined by plunks and twangs, they fill the air with music related to, but very unlike that heard in concert hall or cabaret.

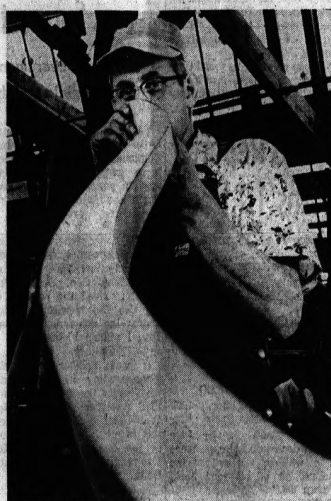

MUSIC BACKGROUND

For the tunes are played against a background of saws, hammers and similarly dissonant instruments.

And the theme is one of craftsmanship, harbored for 50 years here at the Grinnell Brothers piano factory.

Grinnell Piano Craftsmen

Sound of Music Takes Form in Holly

The smell of aged wood permeates the air of the building. It is a smell that has been with the plant for a half century.

Attesting to the structure's age are such remnants as a central power system by which a main shaft supplies power to wheels along it. The entire process has been altered little since Chopin's time.

There are other oddities to the found here. Seeing Robert McKinney (above) sighting down a board would not be unusual except that the board is curved.

Although carpenters are known for spending a good deal of their lives seeking out straight boards, McKinney is pleased with the one he's found to form the treble bridge.

SUPPORT PRESSURE

Gunnar Grefvin (below) assembles the back of the piano which holds the main frame and string board. Eventually, it will support 18 to 20 tons of pressure pulling from the strings.

As the piano begins to take a recognizable shape, it is fitted with its own string board. In the photo at left above, Ray Highfield (left) and the 88 strings their first tuning by tightening the pins and listening carefully for the results.

Grinnell's does not concern itself with making the keyboards. They are pre-assembled by a jobber. Plastic, whiter and less vulnerable to chipping, long ago replaced the traditional ivory for the keys.

Despite the fact that the factory has many antique touches, there is plenty of air and space to make for pleasant working conditions.

The Waldo family (below) feel quite at home here. Father Frank (left), son Clinton and mother Irene have worked at the plant a total of 40 years. They are seen using one of the pianos which they helped to make as a luncheon table.

The sedate building, just 6 years old when Grinnell Brothers took it over in 1913, houses the workshop of those concerned with the manufacture of a fine-quality, delicate piano.

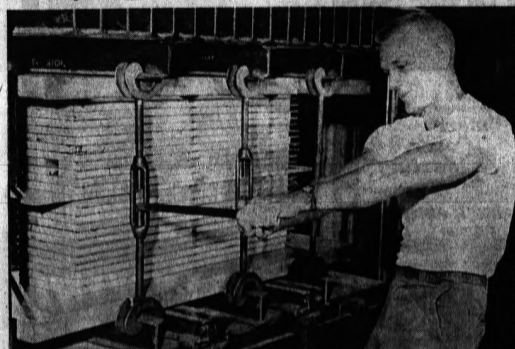

Once sold, these instruments are very apt to become prized family possessions. They add their part to gatherings in the home and will patiently watch generations of children practice chords and runs.

Then Joseph Zepp (right photo) sands the plank to a mirror finish, using the only correct technique.

The wood is slowly converted to its intended purpose. Not hastily can the job be done.

It is necessary to do much of the work by hand. However, automation plays an important part in areas where real craftsmanship is not required.

Such a process is that of veneering the wood. Ralph Green (above) operates the veneer clamp.

The boards, with fine pieces of veneer on their top sides, are subjected to some 3,600 pounds of pressure under the hydraulic press, driven by a motor that's antique in appearance.

The movie poster features a collage of scenes from the film. At the top, two women are shown in a playful pose. Below them, a man (Jack Lemmon) is depicted in a scene with a woman. The title "UNDER THE YUM-YUM TREE" is prominently displayed in large, stylized letters. To the right of the title, there is a small box that says "IN YUMMY COLOR". At the bottom, a man's face is shown in a close-up, looking upwards. The overall design is typical of mid-20th-century movie posters, with a focus on the lead actor and the promise of entertainment.

Chou Leaves for Morocco

ALGIERS (AP) — Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai left for Morocco today, continuing his 2-month African tour to win friends for Peking.

As he left, Tunisia announced plans to recognize Red China sometime next month when Chou visits that North African nation.

The Red Chinese premier, who arrived here Dec. 21 after a week in Cairo, was seen off at the airport by President Ahmed Ben Bella.

CONFERS PRIVATELY

Chou and Ben Bella conferred privately four times. No information was released on their meetings.

Chou was warmly but not enthusiastically received throughout his Algerian visit.

However, Algerian officials never hesitated to recall Chinese aid given the Algerian nation during their war for independence from France.

Chou's delegation was reported interested in earning French francs, received by Algeria through foreign aid, in order to buy French machinery.

Leveling Off in Church Numbers

NEW YORK (AP) — Church membership, which outran the nation's population growth by 14 per cent in the 1940's and 1950's, leveled off in the first three years of the 1960's.

The National Council of Churches issued figures yesterday showing that 63.4 per cent of Americans, or 117,946,002, belonged to churches in 1962. The percentage was the same as 1961's and lower than 1960's 65.6 per cent.

The gain in church membership of 1.6 per cent in 1962 was the same as the population increase.

Roman Catholics increased 2.3 per cent in numbers and made up 23.6 per cent of the population. Protestants gained 77 per cent and made up 34.9 per cent with 64,829,941 members.

BAPTISTS FIRST

The largest denomination was the Southern Baptist Convention with 10,191,303 members. It took first place for the first time, passing the Methodist Church, which had 10,153,003.

Jews numbered 5,509,000 and Buddhists 60,000.

Williams Gets First Choice

Swainson Wouldn't Run Against Him

IONIA (AP) — Former Gov. John Swainson, who plans to announce Saturday whether he will run for governor in 1964, said today he would support another former governor, G. Mennen Williams, if Williams wants the job again by radio station WION.

Swainson, a Democrat, commented on possible gubernatorial candidates in an interview broadcast by radio station WION.

He is awaiting the results of a medical examination at Ann Arbor before committing himself to the race for the 1964 Democratic nomination.

But, he said, "Very frankly, I would enjoy being governor of Michigan again."

ABOUT WILLIAMS

Speaking of Williams, the Democrat who was Michigan governor for 12 years before Swainson was in office, Swainson said:

"I would not oppose him for the nomination, and if he indicates that's what he wants to do, I would be his solid and enthusiastic supporter."

Williams now is assistant secretary of state for African affairs. He has said nothing about returning to Michigan politics.

Swainson said there are "more than strong indications" that Rep. Neil Staeber, Michigan's Democratic congressman-at-large, is considering the race for the nomination.

STRONG CANDIDATE

Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski would be "a formidable candidate for governor" if he decided to run, Swainson said, but added that Lesinski is more likely to seek nomination as a judge in Michigan's new appellate court system.

Lodge X-Way Jammed

With Minor Mishaps

DETROIT (AP) — A series of accidents, involving 28 cars, turned the jammed northbound John C. Lodge Freeway into a commuter's nightmare Thursday afternoon. Police said no one was injured, but traffic was backed up for five miles and it took more than two hours to clear the ice-slicked highway.

Discrimination Guilt Shows

Moscow Race Riots Tarnish Image

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The violent demonstration of African students against racial discrimination in the Soviet Union was an embarrassment to the Russians because it tarnished their image as champions of Black Africa.

It also came as a shock to many Russians who saw the demonstrators surge to the very gates of the Kremlin, within sight of Lenin's Tomb, in the first such outbreak in 40 years.

It led the Soviet News Agency Tass to warn that "anyone who does not want to abide by (our rules and laws) is free to leave our country at any time."

In the battle to win men's minds, both the Communist and the western nations have relied heavily upon education as part of their strategy.

The magazine East Europe, published by the Free Europe Committee, estimated in its March issue that there are about 30,000 foreign students in the Communist bloc, including Red China.

At the same time, it said there are 168,000 foreign students in the four principal western countries—the United States, Britain, West Germany and France.

On both sides of the Iron Curtain, the problems of the foreign student may have elements common to all. These would arise from differences of custom, and especially the sensitivity of the underdeveloped nations.

But in the Soviet Union and the satellites it is clear that many Africans are not getting the treatment they were led to expect.

STUDENT DEATH

In Moscow, the students were protesting the death of a Ghanaian student allegedly slain because he planned to marry a Russian girl.

The Russians said he had been drinking, fell down and froze to death.

It was not the first African protest against Soviet discrimination.

In 1960, when the Russians quashed an attempt to organize an all-African students' union, three of its leaders later published an "open letter" which declared:

WORST HYPOCRISY

"For Soviet leaders to pose before the world as champions of oppressed Africa while they oppress millions in their own country and their satellites is hypocrisy at its worst."

The students further declared their "wish to stress the great danger Communism is to true Africanism."

Among their complaints was one that the Soviet authorities refused to permit imports of books and jazz records.

But of deeper significance were other protests against Communist political indoctrination which denied diplomas to those not adept in the slogans of Marxist-Leninist doctrine.

PROTEST ISOLATION

In Hungary and Poland, African students have protested their isolation.

In Bulgaria 25 Ghanaian students left school protesting not only their isolation but also their discrimination and indoctrination to which they had been subjected.

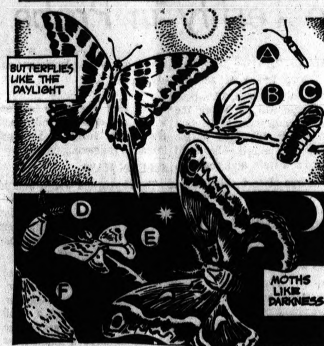

In Czechoslovakia, the official Communist newspaper found it necessary to warn against attacks on African students and to deny that they were living in luxury at the expense of the Czech people.

News of the Moscow incident received wide distribution in West Africa.

Nigerians daily accused the Soviets of preaching tolerance but practicing racial discrimination.

Research is in progress for a blood test which will detect allergies in patients before the administration of specified drugs.

Junior Editors Quiz on INSECTS

QUESTION: How does one tell a moth from a butterfly?

ANSWER: Moths and butterflies both belong to the important order of insects, the Lepidoptera, and resemble each other in many ways.

Both are caterpillars in the larva stage, and there is no general rule for distinguishing the moth caterpillars from the butterfly ones.

But the adult insects, except for one group, are quite different when they spread their wings.

The butterfly usually flies by day. When they rest, butterflies usually fold their wings, holding them up over the back. (B) Their bodies are thin; the thin antennae end in a knob. (A) Butterfly caterpillars make a hard shell, or chrysalis, in which they pass the resting stage before they emerge with wings. (C)

By contrast, the moth is a creature of dusk and darkness. He rests with the wings flat down. He has a thick, tubby body and has wide, feathery antennae.

Moth caterpillars spin a silken case, or cocoon. In general, butterflies have brighter and more jewel-like colors than moths, which generally are colored soft brown or gray.

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can find some cocoons or a butterfly chrysalis. Put them in a box with some twigs. When they emerge, it is thrilling to see them come out of their little cases, climb up a twig and dry their beautiful new wings.

Governor May Cut Prison Term

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney says he wants more information before making a decision on whether to commute the prison sentence of Benjamin Ritholz, 65, wealthy Chicago lensmaker convicted in 1962 of trying to bribe a member of the State Board of Optometry.

Ritholz, owner of the King Optical Co. of Chicago, is serving a two to four year term in Southern Michigan Prison. He surrendered to Michigan authorities last summer after a long series of court fights. "I'm not going to pardon him," Romney commented Thursday when queried at a news conference on the status of the case. "I could commute him but want more facts to go on."

Romney said he was particularly interested in learning "who initiated the series of events that led to the Marx brothers situation" of the original charge.

Ritholz was charged with giving marked bills to an optometry board member at a Lansing hotel room meeting. State police were in a room next door. In another room on the other side was a private detective hired by Ritholz to record the transaction.

Romney said he wanted to determine if it was a case of entrapment.

Romney said he would not commute the sentence on the basis of a plea of poor health. Attorneys have contended a prison sentence would be fatal to Ritholz, who suffers from a heart condition.

"As I understand, he is better off now than when he went in jail," said Romney.

ATTENDS MASS — Mrs. Marina Oswald, widow of accused assassin of President Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald, attended Mass on Christmas Eve in Grand Prairie, Tex. She spent a quiet Christmas Day with her children.

Oswald's Widow to Testify in Probe

DALLAS (UPI) — The Russian-born widow of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald will go before the Warren Commission early next year to help fill gaps in the commission's record of her husband's travels and dealings.

A source close to Mrs. Marina Oswald said she would testify before the commission, which is investigating President Kennedy's assassination. Chief Justice Earl Warren heads the fact-finding committee.

For Mrs. Oswald, the past month has been a lonely and uncertain one.

In a land where she has few friends and does not understand the native tongue, she has turned to religious devotion.

SOLENN MASS
The 22-year-old widow went to a solemn Midnight Mass Christmas Eve at a Greek Orthodox Church and then visited the grave of her husband Christmas Day.

The mound of dirt at Rose Hill Cemetery still is unmarked, but a source said that Mrs. Oswald ordered a small headstone for the grave. She hopes to have a small cross and some flower replicas engraved in the stone.

Mrs. Oswald and her children now make their home at an undisclosed motel. They moved to the Inn of the Six Flags shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated, but have moved again.

Secret Service men still guard the woman and her youngsters. It was in that motel room, somewhere in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, that the youngest Oswald child spent her first Christmas. There was a tree, toys, and even a visit from Mrs. Oswald's brother - in-law who lives 30 miles to the north in Denton, Tex.

Reports said Mrs. Oswald would be called on to testify in Washington sometime in January.

Off to Rose Bowl

Band Fulfills Dream

MELVINDALE (AP)—It took 24,000 boxes of candy and a lot of other salesmanship, but the high school band — "that plays for the people" will risk a year's probation to do just that on New Year's Day in Pasadena, Calif.

The Melvindale High School marching band left this Detroit suburb yesterday on the first leg of its 2,400-mile bus-train trip to fulfill the dream of many bandmen — a chance to play in the nationally televised Tournament of Roses parade.

The 177 musicians were accompanied by director Lincoln Naumoff, five chaperons, and 57 parents.

Tournament of Roses officials invited the Melvindale Cardinals to represent mid-America in the annual parade last summer.

$36,000 HITCH
But there were a couple of hitches. Melvindale would have to pay $36,000 to send its band, and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which accredits mid-western schools, raised an objection on grounds that the Melvindale band had not participated in statewide NCA band contests.

"We don't place much stock in contests," said Naumoff. "We play for the people."

But NCA threatened the school with a year's probation if it made the trip. The Melvindale school board voted to go.

It took Melvindale's 13,089 residents four months of hard work to raise the money, including more than $16,000 donated by local industries and businessmen.

Band parents sponsored a wrestling match, a spaghetti dinner, and a bait-wrangling contest and other events to help. And band members sold 24,000 boxes of candy with the help of friends and relatives.

Japan to Send Defector Back to Peking

TOKYO (AP)—Japan decided today to deport Communist Chinese defector Chou Jue-ching to Red China despite objections from Nationalist China.

The Nationalist Chinese government claims Chou, 44, was pressured by Communist Chinese sympathizers into reversing a decision to seek political asylum on Formosa.

The case has strained Japanese-Nationalist Chinese relations and prompted Japan to send Torao Ushiroku, chief of its foreign office Asian affairs bureau, to Taipei to explain the Japanese position.

Chou, an interpreter for a Red Chinese scientific mission, sought asylum at the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo Oct. 7. The Soviets turned him over to Japanese authorities.

'MADE UP MIND'
A justice ministry spokesman said the Japanese government had decided to return Chou to Red China because he had finally made up his mind he wanted to go back to Peking.

The spokesman declined to disclose Chou's travel plans, apparently to avoid possible incidents.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China said today the U.S. State Department has assured it the United States will plans to change its nonrecognition policy toward Red China.

The foreign office said the State Department reassurance was given to Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Tsingfu F. Tsiang in Washington to quiet concern resulting from a speech by Roger Hillsman, U.S. assistant secretary of state, in San Francisco Dec. 13.

Hillsman said President Johnson's administration planned to pursue an open door policy toward Red China coupled with firmness which would make foreign adventures by Peking unprofitable.

LONDON (AP)—British doctors have been warned against giving pregnant women ethionamide, a drug used to treat tuberculosis, saying it may be dangerous to the unborn children.

May and Baker Ltd., manufacturers of the drug, found big doses can produce deformities in the offspring of test animals.

NORMAL INFANTS
R. Wood, general manager of May and Baker, warned doctors in a letter to the Pharmaceutical Journal but said "the available clinical evidence indicates that those women who have received ethionamide during pregnancy have produced normal infants."

The firm puts out two preparations containing ethionamide

—Trescaty and Trescaide. Neither is on sale in the United States, the firm said.

Both can be bought without a doctor's prescription, but the firm is making arrangements to have them available only on prescription.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Communist China has placed a $20-million order for 200,000 bales of Mexican cotton for delivery during 1964.

The announcement was made Dec. 7.

Thursday by Chang Kuan-tai, head of a Chinese economic and commercial exposition, after a visit to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Chang proposed the exchange of Mexican rice, trucks and other manufactured goods for specialized machinery, chemical products and several types of textile machines made in China. The Chinese exposition opened Dec. 7.

Bears Frolic in Tuneup for Title Scrap

Yanks Closer to Net Trophy

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—Grimly determined Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, fighting tenaciously for every point, crushed Australia's famed tennis team of Roy Emerson and Neale Fraser in a bitterly fought doubles matches today and moved within one match of regaining the historic Davis Cup.

The American collegians battered their way to victory by storming the Cup-defending Aussie's weak link—30-year-old Neale Fraser—in the marathon four-set duel in 102-degree heat. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 11-9, 11-9.

The chunky, 22-year-old McKinley of San Antonio, Tex., and the slender, suddenly matured, 21-year-old Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., can clinch the best-of-five series of the Challenge Round by capturing one of the two final singles matches Saturday.

NFL Match-Up Bears vs. Giants

RECEIVERS — Giants have more depth, with Aaron Thomas the swing man at tight or wide positions. Split end Del Shofner balances Bears big gun Mike Ditka. An edge to New York.

QUARTERBACK — None greater this year than Y. A. Tittle. Give it big to N. Y.

RUNNING BACKS — Achilles' heel of Giants because Alex Webster is doubtful. Bears have strong set of four (even without Rick Casares) and Willie Galtmore and Bonnie Bull for long threat. Strong edge to Chicago.

LINEBACKERS — Big year for middle man Sam Huff of Giants. But Bear threesome—Joe Fortunato, Bill George, Larry Morris—is rated best today. Chicago rates strong edge.

SECONDARY — Bears are flashier, Giants are steadier. Bears have more agile set of safeties, Roosevelt Taylor and Richie Petitbon. Giants excel at corners with Dick Lynch, Erich Barnes. Standoff.

Chicago Team Races Through Cold Workout

Camp Is Confident; Halas Keeping Eye on Frozen Turf

CHICAGO (AP)—To the casual observer, the Chicago Bears might have been going through a routine practice drill in preparation for Sunday's National Football League title contest with the New York Giants at Wrigley Field.

But if the air Thursday resounded with laughter and frolic it was deceiving.

The Bears had returned to the field after a Christmas Day lay-off and were hard at work, running through offensive and defensive drills, punting, passing and going through calisthenics. Watched over by a half dozen assistant coaches, the players drilled with as much speed as they could muster because the air was cold and the ground frozen.

While their mood generally was genial, assistant coach Sid Luckman predicted the players will undergo a mental change, probably starting today, and by Saturday "they'll be all business and Sunday there won't be a thing on their minds but the Giants."

The entire squad is in excellent physical shape and, barring any injuries in the last two practice sessions, should enter the game in top condition.

Coach George Halas, leaving the players to his assistants, personally inspected the condition of the field, and all the tenacity of a geologist crawling through an aged glacial deposit.

A huge tarpaulin covered part of the Wrigley Field playing area and at the south end of the field motor driven blowers poured hot air under the tarpaulin in an attempt to keep the ground thawed. Halas is aware that a crust on the hard ground might give the Giants and their velocity of offense an edge.

None of Halas' coaching staff nor the players will give an estimate of what Sunday's final score will be. The Bears will win, there is no doubt, they say but by what score?

Linebacker Bill George, a 12-year man with the Bears, claimed to be the "most pickier in the world" and cited two important games of the past as examples of his negative ability.

"In 1956, I didn't see how we could lose to the Giants and New York won 47-7. Last year, the one game I was most pickier of was against the Baltimore Colts and we won, 57-0."

The weather is uppermost in the minds of players and coaches. Cold it will be, they concede, but will it snow or maybe sleet during the game?

Bork One of Three Repeaters on Squad

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Quarterback George Bork, the passing ace of Northern Illinois, is one of three repeaters on a 1963 all-star football team announced today by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

The others are tackle John Reese of Southwest Texas State and Rex Mithrie of Arizona State College.

Universal appeal, not the fancy equipment or the thrill of a 300 game or the big tournament prize, is what makes bowling so popular.

All ages, all nationalities and both sexes may compete and usually are able to keep up with the "Joneses" if the time, resources and interest are equal for both.

At the Elks 810 Temple on Orchard Lake there is a bowling league that meets every Thursday afternoon. The league does not have a big roster of bowlers, and rarely are two-thirds of the there.

But the 60-and-Over League, nonetheless, competes every week throughout the winter season with a low-pressure atmosphere that brings one back to the basics of the game — the ball, the lane and the pins.

Now in its sixth season, the league boasts 24 members. Every man is at least 60 years old and a member of the Elks. Everyone is not necessarily retired.

Due to the problems of health and transportation, no more than 16 are expected each Thursday. This doesn't bother the members, though; they pair off and start their bowling, with whomever is present.

Some league members have been bowling since the 1920's such as Wilbert Davies — who helped install the wiring at the Motor Inn Lanes and then bowled there — and Clarence Hunk and 'Pop' Davis.

The top average by a regular bowler presently is Orville Elks's 170; but Judd is a "youngster" at 68 and the more experienced fellows (those 70 and above) don't let his fancy average worry them.

Ex-Mate Promotes Defeat of Pistons

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Guard Kevin Loughery came back to haunt his former teammates Thursday night as the Detroit Pistons dropped a 110-106 National Basketball Association road squeaker to the Baltimore Bullets.

In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics blitzed the Los Angeles Lakers 126 to 110 in a battle between the Eastern and Western division leaders. Philadelphia came from behind to edge San Francisco 118 to 112, and New York held on to upset St. Louis 111 to 107.

EX-PISTON
Loughery, sent to the Bullets by the Pistons earlier this season, scored 22 points to combine with backcourt mate Rod Thorn's 19 to spark the Baltimore attack.

Baltimore, leading 71-52 early in the third period, held off a late threat spearheaded by Scottie O'Neil who took their third straight victory over Detroit. O'Neil, who led the Pistons with 27 points, put his team within two points of the Bullets, 68-66, with eight minutes to play, but an eight-point Baltimore streak boosted the margin back to 10. Thorn accounted for five of the markers.

Top man on the age chart is believed to be William Rick, a 37-year-old League secretary-treasurer Luther Foxdexter is 72.

Other current officers include Ken Eaton, president, and Joe Staff, the vice-president. The man credited with starting the group is J. Earl (Cap) Holliday, now deceased.

About a dozen of the original 27 are still participating. The group also enjoys social events together, promoted by the league treasury.

The members praise the chance for weekly fellowship and exercise. As one man put it:

"The league keeps the fellows active; they don't get stale."

The state bowling proprietors this year vowed to make inroads in the senior citizen groups but very little has been done to all appearances.

Wrestling World Loses Ex-Villain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gorgeous George, the gaudy, golden-haired villain who made wrestling fans furious while they made him rich, is dead of a heart attack.

George, who found the public's fancy easier to hold than his money, suffered a seizure Christmas night at his Hollywood apartment and died Thursday at General Hospital. He was 48.

George George, born George Raymond Wagner in Seward, Neb., grew with television in the post-war years. Wearing elaborate attire and gold hairpins, cluffed in outlandish orchid-colored robes and attended in the ring by a valet, he became a king in a sport cluttered with clowns.

FORTUNE
He once said that in 1951 alone he made $100,000 as a wrestler and $25,000 more from the sale of turkeys raised at his ranch near Beaumont, Calif.

But the fortune and ranch had both slipped away by 1962, when he announced his retirement from wrestling. He had his last

COACHES, SQUADS READY FOR BLUE-GRAY CONTEST

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — North and South gridders lumbered through final warmup drills today as their coaches doled out optimistic expressions for Sunday's Blue-Gray All-Star football game.

The Southerners have a slight weight advantage, a troop of good running backs and some top-notch passers.

BETTER PASSING

But the Yanks have superior passing attack, at least on paper, and that's enough to give them the edge.

Southern fans, however, are showing an utter disregard for the touted passing threat, and they claim their Grays have the best team assembled in recent years. They're confident the Grays will keep the Yanks from making it five victories in six years.

To back up their argument they point to Georgia's quarterback, Larry Rakestraw, who was called "terrific" by Blue Coach Rip Engle.

Charlie McClendon also has four fine ends, all of whom he says are "nice sized targets and fast." He singled out Mickey Babb, another Georgian, as being able to "catch with the best of them." The others are Mike Morgan of LSU, Jake Adams of VPI and Ronnie Carpenter of Texas A&M.

McClendon, of LSU, who had been working his team twice daily until Thursday, said his gridders "have caught on real fast. They're just going over things again."

Engle, brain behind the Blue operation who's been sticking with one-day drills all along, praised Michigan State's Hubert Benson as a "real quick guard" and said Iowa State halfback Dave Limerick has looked good in practice also.

The Penn State coach said he was "very pleased with our ends," Ed Lowther of Michigan State, Dick Anderson of Penn State, Tony Rocco of Indiana and George Burman of Northwestern.

BOWLING

The 259-211-667 bowling of Lyle Mission topped all individual efforts Monday night in the West Side Lanes Classic League.

George Chicovsky's 233-228-664 pace was the only other series mark over the 500 mark. Dwight Pugh (244), Bob Murphy (246) and Paul Rodriguez (242) had good games, also.

The 300 Bowl team continues in front of the 16-man field with an 88-40 log, seven games better than Colonial League.

At Lakewood Lanes Sunday the top performance was Bill Johnson's 225-215-643 for the Lakewood Lounge team in the Moose League.

The rather limited holiday bowling period also had a 245-619 performance by Dan Adams in the Pontiac Motor Tempest League at Airway Lanes last week. Sonny Santacruz came up with 223-219-623 scores in the same circuit.

The 801 team game and 2283 team weekly by the Strikers Monday in the Four Towns

Methodist Church League at Airway help boosts its pace-setting total to 37 points.

Marie Bruce had 208-506 to top the women's efforts while Betty Prout posted a 200.

The Airway First League last week saw Betty Boudard roll 200-557 scores to take top individual honors. Rochon's Country Shoppe leads the league by ten points presently.

This week's contestants on 300 Bowl's Make That Spare program will be Robert Field, Dennis Violette, Hobart Doerr and John P. Kukuk. Starting time is 12:45 p. m. Sunday.

Group Sees A's Owner

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City Athletics has an appointment today with City Manager Carleton F. Sharpe in the bitter contract stalemate which led Finley to move the club's equipment from Municipal Stadium.

Finley made the appointment for 3 p. m., EST, after the city council agreed to his request to meet with him as a body.

Pat Friday, A's general manager, spent the day looking at sites in rural areas where a temporary stadium could be erected. Finley threatened to have the club play next season in a cow pasture.

Southern Star Shoots Ahead

Miami's 6-7 Barry Top College Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — A meteoric rise has placed a southern star at the top of the college basketball scoring race.

Rick Barry, 6-foot-7 junior of Miami (Fla.), is pouring in points at nearly twice the rate he did last season.

National Collegiate Athletic Association figures released today show Barry has a 39.9 point scoring average through seven games. He finished 64th in scoring last season with a 19-point average.

Barry's 50-point performance against Rollins boosted him ahead of last week's leader, Howard Komives of Bowling Green, who didn't play the past week. Komives holds down second place with a 35.5 average. Princeton's Bill Bradley is third at 32.6 points per game.

Player	Team	Points
1. Rick Barry	Miami	78.75
2. Howard Komives	Bowling Green	68.75
3. Bill Bradley	Princeton	68.75

But Don't Be in a Hurry

It's Okay for Mother to Return to College

By LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason: I am a farm wife, 27 years of age, with three children, ages 6, 8 and 2. After serious thought and with my husband's approval I have decided that when my youngest son enters school, I want to return to college and get my degree.

I would like to become a secondary school teacher.

I majored in English and history and maintained an A-B average for two years.

Many have commented on my patience with children and I am sure I would make a good teacher. However, cost of the two additional years of college presents a problem. What help is there for me?

Mrs. H. G., — III.

Answer: I do not recommend full-time college for the mother of three school-age children, but suggest that you start taking courses, starting with one at a time and increasing the load as you see your way clear.

Preparatory courses for teaching, taken while you are rearing your family, will prove profitable and interesting. The combination should make you an excellent teacher when the time comes. Don't push it too fast.

Dear Dr. Nason: My parents want me to go to college and I want to go, too, but I don't know yet what I want to be.

I am a sophomore and very interested in outdoor life activities such as fishing, hunting, plants and soil, and have a B average.

Would a college major in these outdoor life activities prepare me for a job in the Conservation Department of our state?

K. J., Old Bridge, N. J.

Answer: Work of a conservation department is based upon a sound background of science. Write your state department of conservation or search the catalogs of your state colleges for information regarding preparatory work for a job in this field.

Humboldt State College in California specializes in forestry and conservation. Students expecting careers in hunting and fishing, or the like, are rudely awakened by the seriousness of the scientific background they must acquire.

about. Can you give him a helpful suggestion?

Mrs. K. L., Crestview, Fla.

Answer: Your son's reading aloud is affected by the worries and pressures regarding it that have built up over the years. His mistakes should be minimized. I suggest that he practice reading a single article over and over. Each time he reads it he is to concentrate on a different element — correct enunciation, emphasis, rhythm, etc.

As he becomes more proficient his mind will be filled with plans of how each new article should be read.

These plans will drive back the fears and allow him to be a good reader.

(You can write Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. He will answer in his column questions of widest interest.)

The classic nine spot falsecard was made by Harry Fishbein of New York some 20 years ago. Or maybe it has been 30 years. Harry has been playing for a long time.

In any event, it was before the days of scientific bidding and South arrived at six diamonds in two shakes of a bridge player's tale.

Harry won the opening heart with the ace and returned the jack of spades. South won with the ace and laid down the king of diamonds. West played the five and Harry dropped the nine.

South continued with the queen and is still complaining about his tough luck.

He is justified even though at least 20 years have gone by. Not because of the bad break in trumps, but rather for the bad break in opponents.

Had Harry simply dropped the six or seven of spades South would have reasoned: "If West started with four trumps to the jack-nine I won't be able to make the hand."

"The wise man controls his destiny. The foolish man is controlled by it." — Aristotle (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Excellent for social activities, attending theater, dining out. Gift from friends may prove most surprising.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to May 20): Don't go overboard in spending. Celebrate New Year's Eve. May 20 to June 20: Active, especially while traveling or in your own home. An attribute of your own home.

TAURUS (May 21 to June 21): Cycle of the sun. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight.

MEANING (May 21 to June 21): Cycle of the sun. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Meaningful discovery indicated. Comes through reading, contemplation. Use resolution. Be truthful with potential. Drive to live. 25 to 28: Active, especially while traveling or in your own home. An attribute of your own home.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Fortune if you are not too demanding. Means survey situation. But don't attempt to jump on first "bandwagon." Others will follow. Change. Wait. Make decision. Be discriminating.

SCORPIO (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Face your own destiny. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight. Remember, you must face your own destiny. Balance the air tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Being could be mistaken. Make sure others realize you do know where you are going. (Important) — 20 to 23: Display knowledge, capital strength in your side. Know what you are doing.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY your methods are original. You attract money. Be wise. Be wise. Be wise.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Good sign for CANCER, LEO, VIRGO, SCORPIO and CAPRICORN. Give extra attention to member makes both of you.

"If East started with that annoying holding I can simply lead to dummy's ace. West will show out and I will have a proven finesse."

When Harry dropped the nine all this changed. Now South could play his queen and if Harry showed out there would be a proven finesse against West.

It looked as if East was more likely to be short in trumps than West and South fell into the trap.

Q- The bidding has been:

	North	East	South	West
1st	1♣	Pass	2♦	Pass
2nd	2NT	Pass	3♦	Pass
3rd	3NT	Pass	4♦	Pass

You, South, hold: ♦ A 7 6 ♦ K 5 4 ♦ Q 10 9 4 ♦ Q 9 3

What do you do?

A — Pass. Your partner doesn't have four diamonds. He doesn't have much of a hand. He obviously has something in hearts. Settle for the sure game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You open the bidding with one diamond, holding: ♦ A Q 9 7 ♦ K Q 7 5 ♦ A Q 8 3 ♦ A Q 2

Second hand overcalls with one heart and it is passed around to you. What do you do?

Creative Spirit Awakened

'63 Big Film Year; Some Good

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The year's movies—

This has been a big year for American movies, size-wise, at any rate. Never has the public been greeted with so many immense and expensive attractions. The situation is not likely to be repeated, since the film companies have been busy licking their financial wounds. As for quality, 1963 was not a vintage year, nor was it a drought. On the whole the year represented an awakening of the creative spirit, an attempt to experiment and seek new vistas.

Here is how the top English-language movies stacked up for this reviewer:

"TOM JONES"

1. "Tom Jones" was a rare and imaginative stunt, using every trick in the movie books to bring a literary classic to pulsing life.
2. "America, America" represented the height of Elia Kazan's powers as he depicted his uncle's flight to the land of promise.
3. "Lilies of the Field" boasted unabashed sentiment and an inspired performance by Sidney Poitier.
4. "Love With a Proper Stranger" caught the temper of big-city life.
5. "Cleopatra," for all its immensity, presented a fascinating spectacle.
6. "Hud" was a tough and realistic view of the modern West.
7. "How The West Was Won" was hokum of the best kind.
8. "The Great Escape" was another piece of top-notch film-making from familiar materials.
9. "Charade" offered that old smoothie, Cary Grant, in top form.
10. "The Ugly American" strove valiantly, though not always successfully, to deal with U.S. problems abroad and featured a strong performance by Marlon Brando.

Among the top films I enjoyed the least were "Irma La Douce," "Under The Yum Yum Tree" and "The Victors," which seemed to vie for the bad-taste award. The latter is just released, but the former two were box office successes. No comment.

Singer's Beach Advice: No Place to Stroll Solo

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Kitty Kallen, the hit singer, has become a "Paula Revere" . . . sounding an alarm to women about taking unescorted strolls on winter resort beaches lest they be attacked in the current lawlessness wave. She says she ventured 300 yards from her hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico, last Sunday afternoon — a few steps beyond a wall supposed to be the end of a strolling zone.

A young would-be assaulter, trying to tear off her swim suit, pushed her head under water three times, says Kitty. Reports she escaped by pretending to assent and pointing to the beach. Then she screamed, and fled. Kitty and her husband, Budd Graessli, the recording producer, are back home in Englewood, N.J., very shaken. They reported it to police who, they say, were indifferent.

WILSON

Barbra Streisand's Christmas card was unique. First, it was dated "Dec. 26, 1969," and bears the printed names "Rose and Armando Miller," crossed out, with the rubber-stamped name, "BARBRA STREISAND" under it. . . . During the depression, I saved senders' cards and sent them back to the senders the next year. Barbra is doing practically this in her year of greatest prosperity.

TIP: Now's the time to buy theater tickets: Due to the "ice" probe, and seasonal slump, only "Barefoot in the Park" is sold out. . . . Geraldine Page, now Mrs. Rip Torn, and expecting, admitted at the "Marathon '63" opening party at Gallagher's that she's torn about what to call her baby if she has a daughter. What nice girl's name goes with Tony?

The sensational new comic in the June Havoc show, Lee Allen, is the husband of pretty little Edith Dean, N. Carolina singer, model and actress in the same show. They've played around the country. . . . Marlon Brando and wife Movita loved Albert Finney and "Luther"; said so in a note.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Nippy Russell has been a delight on daytime TV recently (on the "Match Game" and "Missing Links") and is spearheading the Negro break-through in TV as I forecast last summer. Bravo to the producers. . . . A nasty burglar broke into Gary Mason's WIGS store, Broadway and 53d, near Celebrity Court, and made off with 16 ladies' hurried haircuts. . . . A Salvation Army Santa was using this pitch on 6th Av. "Just look how George Washington fits into the pot. Pull out a $1 bill, and fold it and I'll show you how it fits in."

Broadcasting Firm Buys Two Stations

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Gilmore Broadcasting Corp. announced today it has purchased television station KGM-TV and radio station KGM in Albuquerque, N.M., and radio station KVSE in Santa Fe, N.M., subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

The corporation, headed by former Kalamazoo Mayor James S. Gilmore Jr., acquired all of the assets of the New Mexico Broadcasting Co. These include the three broadcast facilities and an FCC construction permit for channel 2 television in Santa Fe.

Sukarno of Indonesia to Visit Philippines

MANILA (AP) — President Sukarno of Indonesia will arrive in Manila Jan. 7 for a 5-day official visit, the Philippines foreign office announced. The announcement said Sukarno's visit will be devoted mainly to talks on economic cooperation between Indonesia and the Philippines.

Man Crushed in Plant

JACKSON (AP) — Frederick Gutwaks, 46, of Jackson, suffered fatal injuries Thursday when he was crushed in the cooling drums of a machine he was operating at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. plant here, police reported.

School Dean Is Dead

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Martin Tolleson, 69, dean of the Drake University Law School from 1940-63, died in a hospital yesterday of cancer.

Burroughs Closing Plans Stun Detroit, Union Heads

DETROIT (UPI) — Government and union leaders were still a bit stunned today over the announcement that Burroughs Corp. was shutting down its Second Avenue plant, with a loss of 1,500 jobs.

The two-year "phase out" of the long-time Detroit plant will affect "about 1,500 jobs" according to company spokesmen.

Burroughs President Ray R. Eppert said the changes which will take place gradually over the next two years are the result of several years' study and "will enable us to keep pace with technological changes and to meet our competition effectively and efficiently."

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh said he hopes the announcement "will not have an adverse effect on Detroit's image." Cavanagh said, "It is difficult now to determine what effect it will have on Detroit because of the uncertainty over the loss of jobs."

"DEPLORABLE"

Joseph McCusker, codirector of UAW Region 1A, said the "elimination of jobs is always deplorable. It adversely affects not only the workers forced into unemployment, but their families and the community as well."

The UAW recently won a long battle to unionize Burroughs, and some workers at the plant, who refused to be identified, grumbled that this was one of the reasons that the plant was shutting down.

Still other workers laid the blame on the colleagues who they charged did not "work hard enough to put out a good day's labor for a day's pay."

Adding machine production, which first started at the plant nearly 60 years ago, will be dropped entirely. Work on computers and other commercial equipment produced there will be transferred to the firm's Plymouth plant.

SOME DEFENSE WORK will be moved from Second Avenue to the Tremen Avenue Detroit plant.

Effective Jan. 1, the Detroit and Plymouth divisions will be consolidated into a single operating unit known as the Michigan Manufacturing and Engineering Division.

Burroughs employment in the Detroit area is currently between 9,500 and 10,000.

"High costs of manufacturing adding machines in the Detroit area make it impossible for Burroughs to market competitively and profitably in the United States," the firm said.

Overseas plants have been served by Burroughs plants in Scotland. These plants will now make adding machines for export to the U.S. and Canada.

A Philadelphia plant is also being closed down and will be consolidated with one in Plainfield, N.J., and will be known as the Electronic Components Division.

Cuba Planning Sliding Wages

To Penalize Workers Who Miss Quota

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government has announced plans for sliding industrial wages scales that will penalize workers who fail to meet production quotas and reward those who produce more.

Industries Minister Ernesto Guevara told a nationwide radio and television audience Thursday night the program is the Communist regime's solution to a problem of high salaries inherited from imperialism as a result of the union's fight for better wages.

Guevara said eight industrial salary categories will be established with workers paid according to "technical ability."

If "they increase that ability," they will be raised to a higher category and if they "surpass their production quotas," they will receive premiums, Guevara said.

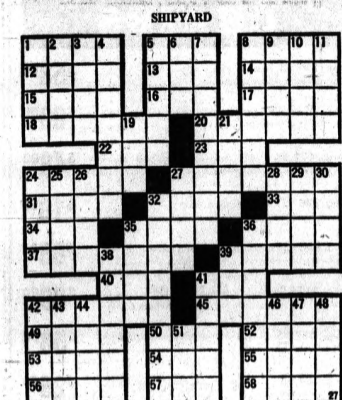

But he also said salaries will be reduced for those who do not meet quotas. He warned the reductions will be greater than the premiums.

Guevara conceded that in most cases the new wage scales are lower. But he said the government will not reduce wages unless it would cause resentment.

However, Guevara said salaries will be based on the new scales rather than the prevailing higher wages while the penalty reductions will be based on actual salaries.

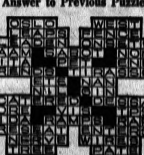

Guevara admitted Cuba was suffering from "low productivity" but blamed "technical norms left by imperialist-created industry." He said the nation was only now recovering from these problems.

Labor Minister Augusto Martinez Sanchez said the new salary scales will become effective in a few days.

Registration at OU Center to Be Jan. 2

Registration for the winter term at the Michigan State Graduate Center at Oakland University begins Jan. 2.

A two-day registration period, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., will be conducted, said Fred J. Brive, director of the MSU extension service.

The center is open to graduates only, he added, with most of the courses being in the field of teacher education. The MSU center is located in the south foundation hall on the Oakland University campus. Classes meet there in the late afternoon and evening.

Brive said the winter term courses will get underway Jan. 6.

Found: One Lost Saint

NEW YORK (AP)—How did a life-sized statue of St. Anthony, to whom many people pray when they're lost something, happen to be found in a Manhattan subway station?

The Transit Authority got an answer Thursday night. Etienne Agnan, a Haitian, said he had done statue repair work at St. Theresa's Roman Catholic Church in Manhattan, and church officials, pleased with his work, gave him the statue.

He said he headed for the subway, but realized the statue was too big for a subway train, and he left it on a mezzanine while he went outside to seek other transportation.

Before he returned, transit officials ordered it taken away. Agnan will get it back today and take it to Haiti.

Main Library in Pontiac to Cut Schedule

Pontiac's main public library, 60 E. Pike, won't be open as much after Jan. 1 due to a cut in the library's 1964 budget allocation.

A new schedule of library hours, which cuts 24 hours per week off the present schedule, was announced today by Phyllis Pope, head librarian.

New hours will be from 9 p.m. Monday and Tuesday and from 6 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Library hours are currently 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

There will be no change in the 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday schedule.

SAME SCHEDULES
The Adah Shelly, East Side Franklin and Wilson branch libraries will continue with their present schedules, said Miss Pope.

Hours of the North Oakland Library Cooperative Office, at the Shelly branch, will also remain the same.

"The decrease in hours at the main library is caused by a budget reduction in the area of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Auto Records Keep Falling

All-Time Level Kept by Pontiac Division

All-time high sales of 7.5 million new cars is the brightest and latest page added to the 1963 automotive record book.

The record was announced yesterday by Ward's Automotive Reports. It took the sale of 773,000 imported cars to top the long-standing 1955 record of 7.46 million total U.S. sales, Ward's said.

Pontiac Motor Division continues to send out a stream of new cars now totaling 600,890 through Dec. 20, the highest level in Pontiac's history.

Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager, said the Dec. 11-20 period accounted for 20,795 unit sales. A new mid-December record, it is also 11 per cent ahead of the 18,331 delivered the same time last year.

NEW RECORDS
"So far this year Pontiac dealers established 21 10-day sales records, eight in succession, since the introduction of the 1964 models," Bridge said.

Across the industry, more records are tumbling as experts expect the fourth quarter of 1963 to see a total production of 2 million units.

Sales during the second 10 days of this month amounted to 221,000 new cars, about 13,000 more than the same period of 1962.

Looking ahead to 1964, Ward's predicts first quarter sales will hit a record 1.85 million, bettering the 1955 mark of 1,770,500.

SALES ZOOM
Among other car makers reporting mid-December statistics, Ford Division reports car and truck sales of 50,362, Lincoln-Mercury Division reports Comet sales up 42 per cent over last year to 4,671, while Lincoln-Continental sales were up 11 per cent to 1,575.

Oldsmobile reports 10-day sales of 16,130, highest in division history. Cadillac also set a record with 5,936 deliveries.

Chrysler Plymouth Division dealers delivered 16,439 units during mid-December.

Governor Learns He's to Preside at Dinner to Honor Scranton

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney says he will welcome all Republican presidential aspirants to Michigan and introduce them as they come.

The governor learned just yesterday, in a whispered advisory by an aide during a news conference, that he is scheduled to preside at a dinner for Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania at a Detroit Economic Club meeting on Feb. 10.

"I will introduce Scranton, if asked," first said Romney. Then press secretary Richard Millman showed Romney a copy of an announcement from the club of the speaking date, saying the governor would be presiding.

Romney emphasized he has invited all the Republican presidential potentials to Michigan and would introduce them all.

A spokesman said if Romney had been consulted in the "build-up" for Scranton, Romney said he had not.

TALKED TO OTHERS

"I assume it is on an organized basis," he remarked. "I don't happen to be impressed by the fact that former President Eisenhower talked to him. He talked to quite a few people."

Romney said he also has extended invitations to visit Michigan to former Vice President Richard Nixon, New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater.

He did not extend an invitation to Henry Cabot Lodge, former senator from Massachusetts and now ambassador to South Vietnam, Romney said "because I gather he doesn't want to leave Viet Nam at this time."

Next Five Days Will Be Colder; Flurries Tonight

Light snow flurries may be expected in the Pontiac area through tomorrow.

The weatherman said temperatures, colder for the next five days, will average 3 or 4 degrees below the normal high of 33 and normal low of 22. The low tonight will be 18.

Precipitation for the period will total less than one-quarter inch.

WINDS
Winds westerly will continue mostly northwest to west at 15 to 20 miles per hour through tomorrow.

Twenty was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 28 by 1 p.m.

TEDIOUS WORK—Michigan Bell Telephone crewmen yesterday tackled a spaghetti-like mass of broken trunk lines to repair a five-hour service interruption in outside dial calls from the Oakland County area.

Workers for a private construction firm cut into the cable in Farmington Township, causing Bell to use operators to place calls on alternate trunk networks until service was restored.

Seek to Patch Cambodia Rift

Philippines Mediate Squabble With U.S.

MANILA (AP)—The United States and neutralist Cambodia have agreed to try to settle their dispute with the help of the Philippines.

"Initial contacts have been made and will continue," Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez of the Philippines said today. "So far the situation seems encouraging."

U.S.-Cambodian relations deteriorated rapidly after the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, announced Nov. 19 he would accept no more American aid and ordered U.S. military and economic personnel to leave his Southeast Asian nation.

There have been fears in the West that Cambodia is drifting toward Communist China.

CONFERS TWICE

Lopez said he conferred twice with U.S. Ambassador William E. Stevenson, and the Philippine Ambassador in South Viet Nam has been in contact with the Philippine consulate general in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

In Washington, U.S. sources said Filipino President Diosdado Macapagal offered the use of his good offices last Friday.

But indications are the United States is approaching the matter cautiously.

Bulgarians Attack U.S. Sofia Legation

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Several thousand anti-American demonstrators smashed all windows on the first three floors of the U.S. legation in Sofia, Bulgaria, a legation spokesman reported by telephone today.

The demonstrators also overturned four American cars outside the building.

The demonstration was in protest against alleged U.S. employment of a former Bulgarian diplomat, Ivan Christof Georgiev, as a spy.

Georgiev, No. 2 man of Communist Bulgaria's U.N. delegation from 1959 to 1961, pleaded guilty yesterday before Bulgaria's Supreme Court for spying for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency. He implied that he expected the death penalty.

The legation spokesman said he felt Bulgarian police "took their time" in getting to the legation to drive off the demonstrators. He pointed out that a militiaman is stationed in front of the building at all times and has a telephone with which to summon aid if needed.

But Goldwater Still 1st in Poll

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

Richard M. Nixon's 1964 presidential stock has skyrocketed since President John F. Kennedy's death, while Sen. Barry Goldwater's has fallen sharply, a second poll of Republican county chairmen indicates today.

But Goldwater again led all potential nominees. The poll, taken by Associated Press correspondents in all 50 states, brought replies from 1,361 GOP leaders, a majority of whom also participated in a poll in October.

Although still in front, Goldwater's vote was only about half the spectacular total he rolled up in the AP's October poll.

Then, 55.1 per cent of those participating named the Arizona senator as the party's "strongest candidate" against Kennedy. His figure in the second poll was 44.2 per cent.

Nixon, vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, showed the greatest gains and ran second to Goldwater.

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam—barely mentioned in the October poll—was third, finishing ahead of New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, only announced candidate for the nomination.

Those queried included some members of the national committee and city and town leaders.

Two questions were presented:

1. "On the basis of present conditions, in light of the death of President Kennedy, whom do you consider the strongest candidate for the Republican nomination?"

2. "Whom do you think the party will nominate?"

Results of the two surveys were:

Number participating: December 1, 1963, October 1, 1963.

Foolproof System Proves Pair Fools
FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Two would-be safecrackers have tested the theory that the way to get away with a crime is act as though you're not doing anything wrong.

The theory failed to pass the test Thursday night.

For a while, it worked fine, as the pair rolled a safe belonging to Bedford Furniture Co. down the street. Pedestrians ignored them. Two policemen didn't.

Issue Permits for Wheat Sale
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department has issued conditional licenses for the sale of $40.6 million worth of wheat to the Soviet Union—but whether there will be a deal remains to be seen.

The two licenses—for $20,320,000 each—were issued yesterday to two unnamed American firms.

The permits allow the sale of the U.S. grain provided various conditions are met.

NEED RED OK
If the Soviet Union agrees to these terms, then the two U.S. companies have permission to go through with the sale, a Commerce Department spokesman said.

Commanders of the British, Greek and Turkish garrisons stationed on this eastern Mediterranean island met in the morning but where unable to agree on the composition of the mixed patrols.

DEAR POLLY — For dresses that gap at the front neckline and are too revealing, take a piece of whalebone about six inches long, tack it just inside the middle of the front neck and tack it inside the bra. This holds such a neckline in place satisfactorily for me.

DEAR POLLY — To get more light from the ceiling light bulbs in your basement or garage, use an empty aluminum pie plate.

DEAR POLLY — With our four lively youngsters and 16 years of doing laundry behind me, I still appreciate a trick learned long ago.

Whenever possible I buy all white socks, shirts, handkerchiefs, etc., so my wash days are not "blue." I can toss all these items in one load and there is no worry about sorting. If bleaching is necessary, there are still no worries.

Here is another addition to the useful tips on discarded garden hose. When we were youngsters, my dad always cut strips the length of our ice skate blades.

Slit the strips open along one side and then slip them over the blades. No cost and lots of protection as any skater knows.

MRS. JOSEPH G. TURNER

Eileen Mae Strehling Wed in Independence, Mo.

The Joseph Glenterry Turners who were wed Saturday in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Independence, Mo., chose New Orleans for their honeymoon.

Parents of the Warrensburg, Mo. newlyweds are the Alfred L. Strehlings of Adelaide Court and the Charlie Turners of Independence, Mo.

For the candlelight ceremony performed by Elder Carl Mesle, the bride chose ivory satin applied with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Unpressed pleats controlled side and back fullness which swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of ivory illusion and a silk headpiece were petal-shaped. She carried a sheaf of white roses bordered with holly.

Wearing Kelly green velvet-trimmed matching lace over-skirts were Mrs. Compton K. Hallack of Lamoni, Iowa, her sister's honor matron, and a bridesmaid, Mrs. David Draper of Independence. Holly fashioned their bouquets and circlet headbands.

On the esquire side were best man Russell Peniston of Independence; groomsmen Charlie Turner of Indiana, together with ushers David Draper and Compton Hallack.

The bride is a graduate of Graceland College, at Lamoni; Independence, Mo. Sanitarium and Hospital School of Nursing, and the University of Colorado. Mr. Turner attends Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg.

Catch Drip in Cap

You can solve the problem of wet floors and rugs when you water a hanging pot plant by slipping a plastic icebox dish cover (the kind that looks like a shower cap) over the bottom of the clay pot. Any excess water that runs through the drainage hole will be caught in the cap and can be emptied after the drainage drip ceases.

Governor May Cut Prison Term

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney says he wants more information before making a decision on whether to commute the prison sentence of Benjamin Ritholz, 65, wealthy Chicago lensmaker convicted in 1956 of trying to bribe a member of the State Board of Optometry.

Ritholz, owner of the King Optical Co. of Chicago, is serving a two to four year term in Southern Michigan Prison. He surrendered to Michigan authorities last summer after a long series of court fights.

"I'm not going to pardon him," Romney commented Thursday when queried at a news conference on the status of the case. "I could commute him but want more facts to go on."

Romney said he was particularly interested in learning "who initiated the series of events that led to the Marx brothers situation" of the original charge.

Ritholz was charged with giving marked bills to an optometry board member at a Lansing hotel room meeting. State police were in a room next door. In another room on the other side was a private detective hired by Ritholz to record the transaction.

Romney said he wanted to determine if it was a case of entrapment.

Romney said he would not commute the sentence on the basis of a plea of poor health. Attorneys have contended a prison sentence would be fatal to Ritholz, who suffers from a heart condition.

"As I understand, he is better off now than when he went in jail," said Romney.

Oswald's Widow to Testify in Probe

DALLAS (UPI)—The Russian-born widow of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald will go before the Warren Commission early next year to help fill gaps in the commission's record of her husband's travels and dealings.

A source close to Mrs. Marina Oswald said she would testify before the commission, which is investigating President Kennedy's assassination. Chief Justice Earl Warren heads the fact-finding committee.

For Mrs. Oswald, the past month has been a lonely and uncertain one.

In a land where she has few friends and does not understand the native tongue, she has turned to religious guidance.

SOLENN MASS The 22-year-old widow went to a solemn Midnight Mass Christmas Eve at a Greek Orthodox Church and then visited the grave of her husband Christmas Day.

The mound of dirt at Rose Hill Cemetery still is unmarked, but a source said that Mrs. Oswald ordered a small headstone for the grave. She hopes to have a small cross and some flower replicas engraved in the stone.

Mrs. Oswald and her children now make their home at an undisclosed motel. They moved to the Inn of the Six Flags shortly after President Kennedy was assassinated, but have moved again.

Japan to Send Defector Back to Peking

TOKYO (AP)—Japan decided today to deport Communist Chinese defector Chou Hung-ching to Red China despite objections from Nationalist China.

The Nationalist Chinese government claims Chou, 44, was pressured by Communist Chinese sympathizers into reversing a decision to seek political asylum in Formosa.

The case has strained Japanese-Nationalist Chinese relations and prompted Japan to send Togo Ushiroku, chief of its foreign office Asian affairs bureau, to Taipei to explain the Japanese position.

Chou, an interpreter for a Red Chinese scientific mission, sought asylum at the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo Oct. 7. The Soviets turned him over to Japanese authorities.

'MADE UP MIND'

A justice ministry spokesman said the Japanese government had decided to return Chou to Red China because he had finally made up his mind he wanted to go back to Peking.

The spokesman declined to disclose Chou's travel plans, apparently to avoid possible incidents.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist China said today the U.S. State Department has assured it the "United States has no plans to change its nonrecognition policy toward Red China."

The foreign office said the State Department reassurance was given to Nationalist Chinese Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang in Washington to quell concern resulting from speech by Roger Hillsman, U.S. assistant secretary of state, in San Francisco Dec. 13.

Hillsman said President Johnson's administration planned to pursue an open door policy toward Red China coupled with firmness which would make for adventures by Peking unprofitable.

LONDON (AP)—British doctors have been warned against giving pregnant women ethionamide, a drug used to treat tuberculosis, saying it may be dangerous to the unborn children.

May and Baker Ltd., manufacturers of the drug, found big costs can produce deformities in the offspring of test animals.

NORMAL INFANTS

R. Wood, general manager of May and Baker, warned doctors in a letter to the Pharmaceutical Journal but said "available clinical evidence indicates that those women who have received ethionamide during pregnancy have produced normal infants."

The firm puts out two preparations containing ethionamide.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Communist China has placed a $6-million order for 200,000 bales of Mexican cotton for delivery during 1964.

The announcement was made Dec. 7.

Thursday by Chang Kuan-lai, head of a Chinese economic and commercial exposition, after a visit to President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Chang proposed the exchange of Mexican rice, trucks and other manufactured goods for specialized machinery, chemical products and several types of textile machines made in China. The Chinese exposition opened Dec. 7.

Band Fulfills Dream

MELVINDALE (AP)—It took 24,000 boxes of candy and a lot of other salesmanship, but the high school band "that plays for the people" will risk a year's probation to do just that on New Year's Day in Pasadena, Calif.

The Melvindale High School marching band left its Detroit suburb yesterday on the first leg of its 2,400-mile bus-trip to fulfill the dream of many bandmen — a chance to play in the nationally televised Tournament of Roses parade.

The 177 musicians were accompanied by director Lincoln Naumoff, five chaperons, and 57 parents.

Tournament of Roses officials invited the Melvindale Cardinals to represent mid-America in the annual parade last summer.

$36,000 HITCH But there were a couple of hitches. Melvindale would have to pay $36,000 to send its band, and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, which accredits mid-western schools, raised an objection on grounds that the Melvindale band had not participated in statewide NCA band contests.

"We don't place much stock in contests," said Naumoff. "We play for the people."

But NCA threatened the school with a year's probation if it made the trip. The Melvindale school board voted to go.

It took Melvindale's 13,000 residents four months of hard work to raise the money, including more than $16,000 donated by local industries and businessmen.

Band parents sponsored a wrestling match, a spaghetti dinner, and a baton-twirling contest and other events to help. And band members sold 24,000 boxes of candy with the help of friends and relatives.
