McCarthy Told He's 'Out of Order'

Johnson's View, but Now Denied, Bothers Senator

Watkins Bangs Gavel, Refuses Side Issues and Recesses Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee wound up its first censure charges against Sen. McCarthy today with the chairman banging the Wisconsin senator into silence and thundering he was "out of order."

McCarthy and his attorney, Edward Bennett Williams sought to raise the question of whether the committee's vice chairman, Sen. Edwin Johnson (D-Colo) was quoted truthfully or not in a Denver Post story of last March.

The newspaper said Johnson, in an interview, had declared:

"In my opinion, there is not a man among the Democratic leaders of Congress who does not loathe Joe McCarthy."

Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) ruled that Johnson's right to sit on the committee had not been challenged and that even if it was the committee itself couldn't act on it. He said the matter was irrelevant to the hearings and that McCarthy and Williams could get from Johnson himself any statement on whether the Post quotes were true or false.

Prior to the flareup, Johnson had read a statement denying that on March 12 or any other time he had said that he personally "loathed Senator Joseph McCarthy."

McCarthy asked "Are we entitled to know whether the quotations of March 12 are correct or incorrect?"

Watkins told him he could get that at some other place than the hearing.

"Mr. Chairman—" McCarthy began again.

"Just a minute," Watkins broke in. "You have filed no challenge."

"I should be entitled to know," McCarthy started once more.

Cracking down with his gavel, Watkins stopped him.

"The senator," he thundered, "is out of order."

McCarthy made another try.

Once again Watkins stopped him, declaring "we aren't going to be interrupted by these diversions and sidelines."

"The committee," the chairman declared, "will be in recess."

Johnson, in his brief formal statement, recalled that his March 12 interview with the Denver newspaper was shortly after Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) criticized McCarthy in a Senate speech March 9.

He added:

"The Flanders speech on the Senate floor which was the fore-

Allied Leaders Rush to Mend Plans for EDC

French Reject Treaty for 6-Nation Defense of Continent

PARIS (AP)—The Western coalition against communism reeled today under France's crushing rejection of the European army plan, but Allied leaders rushed forward new rescue plans.

By a 319-264 vote the French National Assembly voted last night to postpone debate indefinitely on the six-nation European Defense Community Treaty, signed 27 months ago after long and troublesome negotiation to add German soldiers to Western military strength.

The vote on the procedural motion was a clear-cut death blow to the plan which France herself originally proposed. It would have joined 12 German divisions in an internationally controlled force with French troops and those of Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg and The Netherlands.

For three years EDC had been a keystone of Western defense policy. President Eisenhower termed the French vote a "serious setback" to the free world. Moscow's Communist party organ Pravda was jubilant.

There were sad and troubled French legislators today who said now no one could be sure whether West Germany could be kept oriented to the Allied side with a fighting force the North Atlantic command has been seeking for so long.

Only limited steps can be taken immediately unless the United States and Britain take a bold decision to go ahead without France.

Many of the same French deputies who voted down the plan to put German soldiers into a European army have declared they would vote also against any immediate rearming of West Germany, even if she were to pledge her troops to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

But sources here were aware that American vexation already has been reflected in congressional curbs put both on the quantity of money voted for Europe and the manner in which it could be spent.

With the idea for a centrally controlled European army derailed, American, British, West German and French officials prepared to find a replacement as quickly as possible.

A British Foreign Office spokesman said that talks would be arranged immediately to give Germany her independence, which up to now has been dependent on creation of the European army.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France already has said he would go along with the speedy restoration of sovereignty to West Germany, but he has emphasized that this endorsement does not include rearmament.

Streets Flooded, Electric, Phone Lines Leveled

One Man Electrocuted, Another Drowns, One Is Blown From Stairs

BOSTON (AP)—A howling hurricane accompanied by fiercely driving rain struck New England with its full fury today setting adrift a loaded ammunition barge in Narragansett Bay in Rhode Island and causing a state of emergency to be declared in Providence, R. I., and New London, Conn.

The Weather Bureau, meanwhile, advised residents along the coasts of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island to leave for high ground.

This applied particularly to Narragansett Bay, Buzzards Bay and Cape Cod.

Streets were flooded in Providence with the water rising steadily. The Coast Guard reported the ammunition barge adrift and loaded.

Shortly before noon the wind velocity at the Harvard Blue Hills Observatory was steady at 70 to 72 miles an hour and rising. Five-second gusts of 80 miles an hour were reported.

The death toll was believed to be three. A man was swept from a fire escape at Worcester, Mass., another was reported drowned at Dartmouth, Mass., and a third was electrocuted in New Jersey.

The 6,000 ton motor vessel Rosario, of Liberian registry, requested assistance off Nantucket Shoals, reporting she was in "very serious" condition. She carries a crew of 30. The message to the Coast Guard said the engine room was taking water.

The schooner Ventura was reported aground at Marblehead, on Boston's North Shore. Eight yachts were reported grounded in the City Point area of Boston Harbor.

Skiffs were blown from their moorings in Rhode Island.

Room and Board Fines Slated for Young Drinkers

A compulsory sentence of four days in the Oakland County Jail carried with it a $25 fine "to pay for room and board" Monday when Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum sentenced Claude Rogers, 29, of 258 Elm St.

Rogers, arrested by Pontiac Police vice squad members Friday night, pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to a minor.

Said McCallum:

"If we must throw violators in jail as a result of our 'get tough' policy, then they can pay for their food and lodging. They have enough money to buy beer for kids; why should the city support them."

McCallum said he will make the "room and board" fine a part of the get tough policy on youthful drinkers and others furnishing beer to minors.

Dulles Departs for Manila to Discuss Asian Alliance

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles leaves today on a flight to Manila for what may be a make-or-break conference on present U. S. foreign policy.

Dulles, as head of a top-flight delegation of foreign policy specialists, hoped to achieve a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization binding the free nations of the area together without specific military commitments.

He consulted with President Eisenhower at the White House yesterday.

Behind him, the secretary left the wreckage of the European Defense Community—scuttled yesterday by the French National Assembly. Failure of EDC, although forecast for some time, was a serious blow to U. S. leadership in the free world.

Dulles hoped to regain prestige for America at Manila where Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines and Thailand will also participate in talks on defense against any fyuture Communist aggression in that area.

The Philippine government, however, was prepared to demand a much stronger pact than the U. S. is proposing, and Thailand and Pakistan were certain to call for a military alliance.

Meahwhile, the Manila Bulletin published what it claimed was the full text of the U. S. draft for the Southeast Asia alliance, or SEATO. The American-owned newspaper said the draft follows the lines of the ANZUS defense treaty between the U. S., Australia and New Zealand.

State Department spokesman Henry Suydam said that basic work on the Southeast Asia treaty has been completed in a voluminous exchange of notes among the eight powers concerned.

Last week, the Philippines handed a draft treaty to the State Department which immediately classified the document.

The island republic advocated inclusion of the principle that an

Arrest Peddler for Second Time

Salesman Awaits Trial Wednesday, Now Faces Repeat Charge

Marvin R. Rubinstein, 18-year-old seminary student and part-time ice cream salesman, was arrested for the second time Monday afternoon for ignoring an ordinance banning ice cream sales on Pontiac streets.

Police said they arrested Rubinstein, who is scheduled for trial on the same charge Wednesday, after he reportedly ran over a child's foot with his truck. The child, Tawny Loper, 5, of 313 Seward St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital. She was one of several children gathered around the truck, at Seward and Osmun Streets, police said.

Rubinstein, studying to become a rabbi, was arrested Thursday for violating the law amended last week by city commissioners. He stated that he has been selling the ice cream to help pay education expenses.

Released on $40 bond, Rubinstein is scheduled to be arraigned in Municipal Court today on the second charge.

Commissioners said the ordinance was strengthened to prevent possible traffic accidents and to foster public health by preventing city streets from being littered with wrappers, cones and confection sticks.

Paul W. Harty, Detroit attorney for Rubinstein and another defendant Sol Greenwald, 35, of Detroit, said he would take the case to circuit court or higher if either man is convicted.

He said an identical case in River Rouge was thrown out of court after a Wayne County circuit judge ruled the ordinance unconstitutional.

Police said the injured child's parents withheld charges after Rubinstein paid hospital expenses for treatment of the girl's bruised right toe.

Scoring Low at National Skeet Shooting Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

At the halfway mark in today's 2nd round of action in the 15th annual National Skeet Shooting Association championship at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club there were two 90's scored in sub-caliber competition.

Otherwise the morning scoring was low, chiefly because of a very tricky cross-wind. The birds dipped and jumped, making runs difficult.

The two leading shooters among the early squads completing their rounds were Col. Salvadore T. Roig of the San Juan, Puerto Rico, police team and W. M. Link of Bentonia, Miss.

The Puerto Ricans, with their colorful uniforms, were the hit of the day. They are the only completely-uniformed squad.

Other scores reported at noon today included members of the Puerto Rico team as follows: Capt. Alberto Guerrero, 84; Jaime Loyola, 88; Angel Gonzales, 74; and William Fernandez, 87;

Additional scores:

Ed Simmons, Cloverland Park, Kans., 75; Hugh Miller, Olathe, Kans., 65; Capt. W. D. Wilkinson, Wichita, Kans., 82; Fred Farah, Flint, 85; Frank Cabell, Jackson, Miss., 86; Sgt. R. S. Turk, Aurora, Colo., 82; Sgt. Bob Reay, Ft. Worth, Tex., 80.

Trial Set Oct. 20 for McKeighan

Ex-Flint Mayor Mute During His Arraignment on Conspiracy Count

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—William H. McKeighan, 68-year-old former mayor of Flint, will stand trial Oct. 20 on an eight-year-old gambling conspiracy charge.

McKeighan stood mute at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Elton H. Noe yesterday and a plea of innocent was entered for him. His previous bond of $25,000 was canceled and a new one for the same amount issued.

McKeighan's attorneys, James E. Haggerty of Detroit, and James C. Daner of Mount Clemens, posted the new bond.

A three-count indictment returned Sept. 7, 1946 stems from an investigation by Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke's Macomb County graft grand jury.

McKeighan returned to Michigan from his residence in Miami Beach, Fla. He said he had not returned previously because of a heart ailment which he said doctors told him would be fatal if he traveled.

Only one witness against McKeighan still is alive. He is Arthur Sauve, who officials say is living in Florida. His appearance in court against McKeighan would have to be voluntary.

Ike Pays to Make Iowa Fair Speech

DES MOINES (INS)—President Eisenhower paid his way into the Iowa State Fair at Des Moines where he delivered a short address last night.

And he laughingly noted that it was the first time he had "ever paid for the privilege of making a speech."

Before Eisenhower began his address, he said he had seen "some anxiety if not irritation" in the press about whether he would have to pay 50 cents to get through the gates.

The President, stating that he wanted to end that "anxiety," handed Gov. William S. Beardsley a $1 bill, admission charge for himself and former President Herbert Hoover, his guest.

Beardsley tried to hand the money back but the chief executive refused it, so the governor gave it to Fair Secretary L. B. Cunningham.

Fire at Lapeer Hits Lumberyard

Damage Is Estimated at $25,000 to $50,000; Office, Paint Saved

The M. and R. Lumber Co. lumberyard in Lapeer was destroyed by fire last night, with damage estimated at between $25,000 and $50,000.

A passing truck driver turned in the alarm at 11:10 p. m.

Firemen had the blaze under control at 12:15 a. m. No one was injured.

Although the entire lumber supply was destroyed, the company's office, containing paint, was undamaged.

Co-owner Bernard G. Rasch, who estimated the damage, said he had no idea how the fire started. His car and a delivery truck were consumed by the flames.

Rainfall on Light Side

August Enjoyable Month, Temperature Near Normal

August weather left little to be desired for comfort, with temperature averaging close to normal for the month in this area. Predictions for more than usual rainfall failed to materialize.

Temperatures averaged 70.58 degrees as compared to the normal of 71.3. Only 12 days went over the 80-degree mark. Last year during August 22 days hit 80 or more.

With 10 expected days of 90 degrees or over, last month brought only two such scorchers to the Pontiac area.

July had seven, three above the average for that month. Seven such days were recorded for August of last year.

The highest temperature during the month was 95 and the mercury twice dropped to a low of 50.

Rainfall failed to reach the normal of 2.62 inches predicted for August, totaling only 1.33 inches, slightly less than the 1.54 inches recorded for the same period last year.

Cool weather coupled with partly cloudy skies is predicted for tonight. Temperatures are expected to drop to a 48-52 low tonight with a high tomorrow of between 72 and 78 degrees, United States Weather Bureau forecasters said.

Monday the mercury rose to a 69-degree high after a dip to 59 during the night. In downtown Pontiac today the temperature reading was 56 at 8 p.m. By 2 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 71 degrees.

City and Schools Welcome New Teachers Here Friday

Friday will be New Teachers' Day in Pontiac public schools.

A special know-your-community program, the first of a three-day pre-opening school conference, will present the City of Pontiac, its schools, officials, churches, business and civic leaders to the 80 new teachers who will instruct in the local schools for the first time this year.

Assistant Superintendent J. Cecil Cox said today that there will be 40 more teachers on the Pontiac school staff this year than last and due to the extension of vocal music to all elementary schools this year, there are 57 replacements.

"With schools completely staffed," said Cox, "this year's beginning should be a good one."

Joint meetings with old and new personnel will be held on Sept. 7 and 8 with secondary and elementary schools opening their classrooms on Sept. 9. Kindergarten begins Sept. 13.

Cox will preside at Friday's session. Extending greetings to the new teachers will be: Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, named this summer as Pontiac's new superintendent of schools; Glenn H. Griffin, president, Pontiac Board of Education; William W. Donaldson, Pontiac Mayor and Milo J. Cross, president, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Others who will meet the new teachers are John Benson, president, Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Paul Gorman, president, Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs; Rev. George L. Garver, from the Pontiac Ministerial Association and Gerald E. White, president, Pontiac Principals' Association.

At noon, a luncheon program will be held at the Cass Lake home of ex-superintendent. Frank J. DuFrain. The afternoon will be devoted to tours of the buildings in which the new people will be teaching.

City OKs Assessment Plan to Resurface Five Streets

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — After more than two hours of heated discussion with Quarton Lake Estates area residents who jammed the city commission room last night, commissioners approved creation of a special assessment district to finance the pavement resurfacing of five streets in the subdivision.

Commissioners gave no commitment on what eventual plans call for, but instructed city engineer L. R. Gare to proceed with engineering studies for the Pine street sewer, and north-south lateral sewers.

Besides the Quarton Lake Estate subdivision, the Pine street sewer would serve the area west of Chesterfield.

A group of residents, with Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr. as spokesman, had petitioned some time ago for street improvements, but the lawmakers opposed any such plan until proper drainage facilities could be provided.

The resurfacing that was approved last night for Fairfax, Suffield, Pilgrim, Puritan and Lake Park, is a base coat, to which the final surface can be applied later, after the sewer problem is solved.

Several residents present last night opposed any resurfacing, saying it would encourage speeding; but at a final straw vote most of them were in accord.

The ever-present sewage problem continued to highlight the meeting, as commissioners approved Birmingham's share of the allocation of capital costs for the proposed $2,740,000 Evergreen interceptor sewer.

Meanwhile, a written agreement whereby Birmingham would treat Bloomfield Township sewage until January, 1956, when the proposed sewer would be completed, was discussed.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert was instructed to continue negotiations with the township, to lessen Birmingham's share in initial improvement costs and to compensate the city for treating township sewage since last year, at no charge.

One of Birmingham's major headaches, the parking problem, will be somewhat alleviated after tomorrow when the Wabeek-Jacobson Corp. opens its new off-street parking facilities.

Harold B. Kuder, secretary of the Wabeek Corp., said National Garages will operate the lots behind the Wabeek Building and Jacobson's on W. Maple, in addition to the new lot between Bates street and Woodward, north of Willits.

All-told, the lots will accommodate close to 300 cars, Kuder said. An attendant will be at each one from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. A 15-cent charge will be made for the first hour, and 10 cents for each additional hour.

All-day parking provisions have been made for tenants and employees, Kuder said, and a portion of the large lot will eventually be used for that purpose.

"We feel we have ample space for present requirements," said Kuder. "Eventually, if there is a greater demand, we will go into ramp parking, but not at present."

Richard Lance, 20, of 121 N. Lafayette Ave., and Theodore L. Scafe, 19, of 3414 Meinrad Dr., Drayton Plains, will appear in justice court for arraignment later today.

Scafe was arrested by Waterford Township Patrolmen William Stokes and Merrille Finkle when he stopped early Saturday in front of a closed gas station on W. Huron stret. Police, checking Scafe's car, found rocks piled on the front seat.

Police said the youth broke down under questioning and admitted breakins in Macomb, Oakland, and Lapeer Counties and implicated Lance who was arrested at his home later Saturday.

In all of the breakins, a rock was thrown through a door or window to gain entry, police said.

A Pontiac Prison Camp fugitive, who walked away from the farm in White Lake Township Sunday evening, was arrested early yesterday in Saginaw 12 hours after his escape.

Tully, sentenced to one and one-half to five years for breaking and entering in the nighttime in Saginaw County, was due for parole consideration in May, according to James Chandler, acting supervisor of camp control at Jackson.

According to Chandler who returned Tully to Jackson, the fugitive will be tried on an escape count, and if convicted, will serve a one and one-half to four and one-half year term after he completes his present sentence.

Bootleg Liquor Trials Are Set

Eight Are Arraigned in Court After Series of Weekend Raids

Five men and three women arrested in a series of raids by Pontiac Police vice squad officals over the weekend were arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of violating the state liquor law and city ordinance.

An additional 16 men, charged with loitering in the establishments, paid $20 fines each after pleading guilty before Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. Failing to pay the fine, another man was sentenced to five days in the Oakland County Jail.

Steve Poulos, 64, of 152 Chandler St., was sentenced to 30 days in jail after pleading guilty to illegal sale of liquor under the city ordinance. He was unable to pay a $100 fine.

Charged under state law were Mrs. Ruth Iva Jackson, 41, of 206 S. Parke St., and Durant Anderson, 53, of 153½ Wessen St. Both demanded examinations set for Sept. 8. Anderson was freed on a $1,000 bond.

Mrs. Jackson was also charged with soliciting. She pleaded innocent and was returned to jail when unable to post a $200 bond.

Her husband, Howard T., 41, of the same adress, pleaded innocent to aiding and abetting the illegal sale of liquor. Jackson also failed to post a $100 bond, pending trial Thursday.

Jess Brown, 50, of 392 Howland Ave., was released on personal bond, pending trial Sept. 9, after he pleaded innocent to illegal sale.

Margie C. Watkins, 62, of 391 Highland Ave., was placed on 90 days probation when she pleaded guilty to aiding and abetting. William Gantt, 58, of the same address, pleaded innocent to the same charge and furnished a $100 bond, pending trial Sept. 9. Also pleading innocent to the charge was Mrs. Mary Mayer, 45, of 452 Arthur St., who posted a $50 bond. She is ordered to return for trial Sept. 9.

Howling Hurricane Hits New England

much of suburban Boston were without electricity. Telephone lines were down in scores of cities and towns in southern New England.

In New London, Conn., City Manager Edward Hinkle ordered a state of emergency. Thousands of homes lost their power, scores of trees were uprooted blocking highways and tearing down utility lines. All along the shore, residents were asked or ordered to leave their homes.

Norwich and New London were among the areas hard hit in Connecticut. Both communities reported general power failure. The rising waters of the Shetucket wich business center. Many who River closed a bridge in the Norattempted to cross it had to be rescued. Norwich officials reported many sewer lines were blocked threatening flood conditions.

At the state owned Boston Airport, gusts of 80 mph were recorded at the control tower at 11:30 a.m.

Since no planes were flying, the tower crew abandoned the glass enclosed building and took refuge in the terminal building. The wind broke hundreds of panes of glass in the big terminal.

Earlier planes scheduled to land in New York and other eastern airports have been diverted to Boston.

Wind-downed power lines plunged an estimated 50,000 homes and offices in New York City into darkness, as well as many more thousands in Long Island, New Jersey and New England. Many telephones likewise were out.

Operations of the Long Island Rail Road, largest commuter line in the world, were curtailed almost everywhere by trees across the tracks and lack of power.

Signal circuits were cut at many points on tracks throughout the island, thus adding to the difficulties. Engineers moved their trains with extreme caution, with warnings to watch carefully for track obstructions.

However, a spokesman said the bulk of the morning passenger traffic reached the city before the force of the storm began really to play havoc with operations about 9 a.m. EDT.

It was feared much damage had been done crops on Long Island, a big potato and truck garden center.

Final Approval Expected on Hospital Building Vote

Final approval is expected tonight by Pontiac City Commission of a citywide vote Nov. 2 on issuance of $3,000,000 in bonds to expand Pontiac General Hospital.

Approval was held up last week because of a legal involvement requiring slight changes in wording of the necessary ordinances.

A 60 per cent "yes" vote by property owners is required to authorize a city general obligation bond issue.

Other scheduled action includes discussion of an order to show cause and a bill of complaint filed against the city in Oakland County Circuit Court by Everett E. Phelps, owner of a fruit stand at 1500 N. Perry St.

Phelps has been ordered to stop selling until he obtains a license to operate from the city. He claims $1,500 in produce will spoil if he is forced to close until a license can be secured.

Communist-U.N. Body Exchange Includes 193 GIs

SEOUL (AP)—Bodies of 193 Americans killed in the Korean War will be returned from Communist North Korea tomorrow morning for final burial on U. S. soil, the Communists said today.

The Reds also advised the U.N. Command they will return seven Allied bodies of unknown nationality during the first daily exchange of bodies. The transfer is expected to run more than a month.

The Allies will give the Reds 500 Korean bodies and 100 Chinese bodies tomorrow.

The Allies have disinterred more than 14,000 Communist war dead from battlefield cemeteries in South Korea to exchange for 4,011 Allied bodies the Reds have promised to deliver.

Maj. Gen. E. J. McGaw, commander of the Korean Communications Zone, said the Army has decided to relax its ban on photographing the bodies and to "share the responsibility" with the press for the impact of the exchange on families of soldiers missing in Korea.

The Reds are expected to turn over rosters identifying the bodies they return, but U. S. officials said the names of Americans will be announced in Washington, and only after positive identification is established—a process which takes months.

Rochester Man Injured in Car-Truck Crash

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Beryl Boughner, 34, of Rochester, is reported in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, today, following a rear end auto collision at Square Lake and Devon roads last night.

He suffered a fractured nose and ribs, face cuts, and possible internal injuries.

Police said Boughner's car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed, when it crashed into a slow moving truck driven by Joseph F. Kuss, 49, of Fraser.

Legion Readies Gigantic Parade

Washington Will View Biggest Display Since Civil War Days

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rain or shine, the American Legion lined up today for what promised to be the biggest parade in the nation's capital since Civil War days.

Thousands of war veterans, many approaching the rocking chair age, were ready to risk blistered feet, sunburned necks and perhaps a drenching by marching down historic Pennsylvania and Constitution avenues.

The parade, high spot of the Legion's 36th annual convention, was billed as a 12-hour affair, starting at 2 p.m. EDT and continuing into the wee hours of Wednesday morning.

The Weather Bureau said there is a chance of showers, but National Adjutant Henry A. Dudley said the Legion will march "rain or shine."

For Washington, it is expected to be the largest event of its kind since 200,000 victorious Union troops marched in the capital at the end of the Civil War.

The parade brought most other convention functions to a halt. After the opening session at the National Guard Armory, which was addressed by President Eisenhower, the Legion called off further meetings until Wednesday.

As for the parade, Legion officials said that 75,000 would march, ride, and even cavort along the broad avenues. At least a half million persons were expected to watch part or all of the spectacle.

The estimated 40,000 Legionnaires in the parade will be heavily reinforced by marching units of the nation's armed forces, including mechanized vehicles. These units included detachments of men and women from all services, plus the National Guard.

Marching airs are to be provided by 350 drum and bugle corps and military bands, which came to Washington from all over the nation to compete in the Legion's annual contests.

While most of the Legion veterans are parading and frolicking, the serious business of the convention will still be going on, however.

Many delegates who are members of 10 top committees will be hard at work behind closed doors sifting through more than 800 proposed resolutions on world and national problems on which the Legion will act before adjourning Thursday.

Races Integrate Without Trouble

New Mexico City Ends Segregation in Schools Peacefully

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) — With the possible exception of the kids — who regret the end of vacation — everybody breathed easier today as studies began in earnest in Hobbs' desegregated schools.

About 6,000 children, 400 of them Negroes and the rest white, trooped back to class without incident yesterday, easing the fears of adults that violence might come with the end of segregated schools.

"I thought the pople would abide by the law," said the Rev. William Carter, Baptist minister who led the anti-desegregation fight.

"There was no trouble whatsoever," said Charles L. Mills, superintendent of the seven-school system.

Carter had predicted last week that this southeastern New Mexico oil community of about 15,000 population would "explode into violence" if the desegregation plan was put into effect.

Even after Friday's registration passed quietly, Carter predicted, "There is definitely going to be trouble."

The furor at Hobbs was in sharp contrast to the end of segregation in other New Mexico schools at Artesia, Clovis, Las Cruces and Carlsbad.

Second Day Skeet Firing Under Way events were to follow the subsmall gauge competition.

For Wednesday, the opening competition will be the national small-gauge championships which also include the women, senior, sub-senior, industry and 2-man team events to be shot concurrently.

Probably the most interesting of Wednesday's shooting will be the national "Champion of Champions" event. Competitors in this feature are current state and territorial champions in sub-small, small, 20-gauge and all-gauge and—or in the high over-all competition.

Defending champion will be Alex H. Kerr of Beverly Hills, Calif.

One of the interesting personalities at the national here is Fred King, 70-year-old shooter from Wichita Falls, Tex. Oil-Man King starting shooting in 1906 and has visited the Grand American at Vandalia, O., and the national skeet shoot each year.

In 1947, King broke a world's record at the Grand American, when he smashed 99x100 (24 yards) in the GA Handicap.

He also won the GA high overall the same year with a total of 881x900. He is here with his son, Rufus, who also is prominent in both skeet and at the traps. When Rufus was 14, in 1931, he outshot the best in the country to win the Grand American title.

The Kings are shooting in a number of events.

Downtown Sidewalk Rebuilding Started

Work began yesterday on East Pike street in front of the City Hall on an extensive downtown sidewalk rebuilding program, City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said today.

Sections will be replaced along Saginaw street from Carleton court south to Auburn avenue and on sidestreets in an area from Parke street on the east to the Grand Trunk Railroad on the west, Wrenn explained.

"The crew will tear out sections to be rebuilt during the night and pour new concrete in daylight hours," he stated. "We intend to work rapidly in order to cause as little sidewalk obstruction as possible during business hours."

Cost of the program has not yet been estimated, Wrenn added.

Asks Examination in Auto Offense

Charles G. Karabes, 17, of Franklin Hills Country club, was freed yesterday on $500 bond after he demanded examination on a charge that he unlawfully drove away an auto without intent to steal.

Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy, who heard the case, set the examination for Sept. 9.

Karabes was quoted by Lefurgy as stating that his father, Stephen, 50, a doorman at the country club, gave the boy permission to drive a car owned by Avery Trewern of 15761 Stout, Detroit, Aug. 23.

Karabes testified that he thought his father had permission to use the car or to let the boy drive the vehicle.

Acetylene, Oxygen Taken in Welding Firm Breakin

Thieves took an undetermined amount of oxygen and acetylene gas from a welding company at 585 S. Telegraph Rd. during a breakin over the weekend, Pontiac Police said.

The owner of the Genesee Welding Co., who reported the theft Monday afternoon, said entry was gained by removing the window from a rear door. The amount of loss will not be determined until an inventory is made, he said.

College Receives $1 Million From Wallace Estate

KALAMAZOO (INS)—Kalamazoo College today announced receipt of a $1 million endowment, the school's largest, from the estate of the late Winifred D. Wallace, who died last Jan. 1.

Mrs. Wallace, daughter of the founder of the Kalamazoo Stove Co., also gave legacies for a public library and to the Kalamazoo Children's Home, Lake Farm Boys' Home, Smith College and the Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra.

The will was probated yesterday in Kalamazoo County Circuit Court.

The bequest had been held up by Mrs. Wallace's estranged husband, William K. Wallace, who had asked that the will be probated in New York where he would be entitled to half of the $1,800,000. The college, a Baptist liberal arts institution, made an out-court settlement with Wallace for $250,000.

Sen. McCarthy Told He's 'Out of Order'

runner of my March 12 statement pertained to the question whether or not Senator McCarthy be removed from the chairmanship of a Senate committee. My position then and now is that that matter should be decided by the majority party in charge of the organization of the Senate and that it was not the business of the Senate Democratic party at all.

"I have full faith in my ability to weigh the charges which have been made against Senator McCarthy together with whatever evidence that may be presented without prejudice."

In the 2½ hour session before the recess until tomorrow, the Senate group did little more than lay the groundwork for its hearings.

Much of the time was taken up with reading into the record correspondence related to a charge that McCarthy was contemptuous of a Senate subcommittee on elections and privileges of the Senate Rules Committee.

That subcommittee looked into McCarthy's financial affairs in 1952 but never got him before it as a witness as to his transactions although it made several requests for his appearance.

This first charge for the new hearings is labelled: "Incidents of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee."

Plans for the organized support of Republican candidates in the November election will be discussed, Kushman said. All interested persons are invited to attend the open meeting.

In addition, the company told police that nine truck cab side windows had been peppered with shot. A spotlight and rearview mirror were also smashed.

Dulles Journeying to Asia Conference

attack on one treaty power is an attack on all. This is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization plan which the U.S. hopes to avoid in the Pacific.

The Manila government has also advocated a standing army of 100,000 men to be on guard in areas that border Communist China. The U. S. also opposes this.

The U. S. has argued that it does not want flat military commitments which would allow the Communists to decide when and where American and allied troops would fight.

However, the Far Eastern nations who are attending the conference want specific security guarantees and this issue may prolong the Manila meeting.

Dulles hopes to be able to wind up essential details in a week, then attend a conference on implementation of the U.S.-Philippine defense treaty.

By EDDIE CANTOR

It was in the early thirties when the late Rufus Le Maire, Hollywood casting director, brought a little girl to my dressing room on the Samuel Goldwyn lot. Would I audition her? Of course I would! Not having a piano in my room, we walked over to the music department.

On the way over, this little girl took my hand and said, "Mr. Cantor, I hope you're not nervous!" I kissed Deanna Durbin. Yep, that's who it was.

And after she sang, with that glorious voice and that angelic face, I had to pull in my eyes to let her walk out of the room.

Deanna was an instantaneous hit—not only on my radio program, but in her pictures. It is said around Hollywood that "Three Smart Girls," Deanna's first picture, saved the Universal company.

I can remember Deanna's first trip to New York. She was a kid. I told her when we got on the train at Los Angeles that she could have anything she wanted—just to ask me for it.

Well, on the second day out, she came to my drawing room with a pretty worried look for a girl 11 years of age. She said, "Uncle Eddie, I have a confession to make. You know last night when you thought I was asleep?" I said, "Yes."

She said, "Bobby Breen and I"—(Bobby was a member of our company too at that time) "Well, Bobby took me into the dining room and we had a big scoop of ice cream and a bottle of ginger ale, and when the train stopped at Albuquerque we got out and Bobby bought me two magazines and a chocolate bar."

"Well, so what?" says I. And then she told me. "Bobby wants to know, could you let him have ten dollars. He wants to buy me an engagement ring."

For months I had a tough time to keep these two from eloping. Imagine, Deanna—11, and Bobby—9! Both of them put together weren't half the age of one of my jokes.

State Declared in Emergency Over Weekend

LANSING (UP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams has declared a state of emergency in Michigan over the long Labor Day weekend in an effort to reduce an anticipated high traffic death toll.

Williams signed an emergency declaration yesterday giving legal status to his previous act of calling out units of the Michigan National Guard to aid in patrolling state highways.

Michigan led the nation in highway deaths over the Fourth of July weekend with 33 fatalities.

During the emergency period, from noon Friday to noon Tuesday, Sept. 7, intensive air and ground patrols will cover state highways to seek out traffic violators.

Some 700 state National Guardsmen have been mobilized. They will draw full federal pay and allowances and will serve with local law enforcement agencies.

Rio Pilgrimage Site Still Part of the Bay

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UP)—The site here for the 36th Eucharistic Congress, expected to draw two million Roman Catholic pilgrims next July, doesn't yet exist.

It is still part of beautiful Guanabara Bay, around which Rio de Janeiro spreads.

Before next June municipal and church authorities hope to fill in more than 131,000 square yards of land in the bay, only a short distance from the heart of the city. Here the pilgrims will meet and pray before a gigantic altar of Brazilian wood.

The reclaimed area — ultimately to stretch for 1.2 miles along the shore — will eventualy be a site for highways, parks and housing developments.

Job Applicant Is Told to Wait—Steals $50

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—A man walked into the Shively insurance agency and asked for a job.

George Hill, a partner in the agency, told the man to wait.

When Hill came back, the man —who had been standing by the cash register—was gone. So was $50.

The loss wasn't covered by insurance.

Hoover and Ike Keep Fish Date

Travel to Ranch High in Rocky Mountains for 3 Days of Camping

DENVER (UP)—President Eisenhower and former President Hoover today keep "a very important date with a few finny comrades" on a trout fishing expedition high in the Rocky Mountains.

The President and Hoover, both of whom love to fish and are good at it, scheduled an early start on a 70-mile drive northwest to Fraser, Colo., on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

For the next three days they will live in rustic cabins close to 10,000 feet high in the snow-capped Rockies. They will fish swift-running St. Louis Creek and Eisenhower will do most of the cooking.

Eisenhower interrupted his Colorado vacation to fly to Washington and address the American Legion convention yesterday. On the return trip to Denver—with a stopover in Des Moines at the Iowa State Fair—the President was accompanied by the 80-year-old Hoover.

At the fair, Eisenhower concluded an informal foreign affairs speech by saying with a chuckle:

"Now, my friends, Mr. Hoover and I have a very important date with a few finny comrades up in the high Rockies, and it is about time we were getting along."

Going along too on the trip to Fraser was the chief executive's youngest brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University.

The party will be the guest of a couple of old friends of the President, Aksel Nielsen and Carl Norgren. They own Byers Peak Ranch at Fraser, where Eisenhower has vacationed the last two summers.

Handicapped Painter Works on Flagpoles

AKRON, O. (UP) — Jesse Mattox should be an example to the handicapped, particularly to those who may be reluctant to try to adjust their lives to overcome misfortune.

The 38-year-old native of Nicholasville, Ky., an itenerant flagpole painter since he was 14, lost his right hand in a hand grenade accident during World War II in the South Pacific. He returned to the job he knows and likes, made a few adjustments in the gear he uses and went to work.

He climbs poles by tying a rope to each leg, then hooking both lines around the pole and, with his weight straining against the ropes, he walks up the pole.

"No one is handicapped if you give him a chance," he said.

Philippines Will Seek Ironclad Defense Pact

MANILA (UP) — Ironclad guarantees of immediate U.S. assistance in case of attack or invasion will be asked by the Philippines in its mutual defense talks with the United States here Sept. 4, informed sources reported today.

The Philippines is placing prime emphasis on its defense pact with the United States because of the slim chance such guarantees will be provided in the Southeast Asia collective security alliance to be forged by eight nations starting Sept. 6 in Manila.

Taft-Hartley Act Was Not Kept

CHICAGO (UP)—Rapping the Eisenhower administration for its labor-management record, Adlai E. Stevenson said yesterday a Republican campaign promise to revise the Taft-Hartley Act was not kept

For the Eisenhower administration, he said, this has been a year of "futility, or worse," in meeting problems of labor-management relationship.

"Politics dropped to a new low in connection with the revising of the Taft-Hartley Act following the Republicans' great promises of a change," the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee said.

Addressing some 3,500 delegates at the 25th convention of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Stevenson said:

"The Republican candidate in that campaign (Eisenhower) said what he called 'union-busting provisions' should be removed. They haven't been. Consider the series of events in which the White House produced some reasonable proposals, then withdrew them under such obvious pressure that labor's sole Cabinet representative (Martin Durkin) resigned in protest."

Stevenson extended his criticism to include the National Labor Relations Board, saying that Eisenhower had appointed three men who are representative of management and that one, he said, has described himself as a "union buster." Stevenson said they were interpreting the labor laws to destroy advantages which he said had been given to unions during previous Democratic administrations.

Tots in Boston Replace Donkey With Dinosaur

BOSTON (AP) — Erudite tots who go to Boston's Children's Museum play a new game called "Pinning the Blade on the Stegosaurus."

Limber Up Your Arm, GI, Off-Base Saluting Is Back

WASHINGTON (UP) — Start loosening up your saluting arm, soldier! It's going to get a bitter workout from now on.

Henceforth, officers will rate a brisk, snappy salute at all times —on or off the post.

For the first time since World War II days, the Army revives Wednesday the ancient, sometimes arm-wearying, military tradition of requiring enlisted men and officers to exchange salutes whenever and wherever they may meet.

That means on duty or off duty, on the street or on the base.

Gone are the days when the salute was required only on Army reservations, and the private could "snub" the general off post by keeping his hand at his side.

The Army figures this double standard for saluting has resulted in downright discourtesy at times. By requiring a salute at all times it hopes to increase esprit de corps and enhance a soldier's pride in wearing the uniform.

The new regulation comes as no surprise to the soldiers. For weeks now in training courses, they have been told the salute is a traditional military courtesy, the equivalent of the civilian courtesy of tipping hats.

(But, soldier, don't go raising your hat as a form of greeting to a civilian. That is specifically prohibited in the new regulation. You may, however, salute a civilian "when appropriate.")

The no-salute-off-base regulation was an ill-fated experiment in "democratizing" the military. The requirement that salutes must be given at all times was dropped in March 1948 after a board headed by Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle recommended various steps to make the armed forces more "democratic."

However, during the past year the generals and admirals have been coming more and more to the conclusion that "democracy" and "military discipline" don't necessarily mix.

There has been a general return to military traditions and more emphasis on discipline in an attempt to revive military morale and combat effectiveness.

An interesting parallel is that the Soviet Army in its early days did away with the insignia distinctions between officers and men and bandoned the salute. Now the Russian Army has returned to the salute and imposed more rigid distinctions between officers and men than exist in the American Army.

The only holdover from the postwar experiment in military democracy is the Air Force, which followed the course of the Army in abandoning off-duty saluting in 1948.

The Air Force, however, is considering a return to the traditional salute customs. The Navy and Marines claim that officially they have never dropped the requirement for a salute at all times.

START TAKING O-JIB-WA NOW

Don't wait until rheumatism and arthritis becomes crippling, preventing you from fully enjoying life. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has proven to thousands of sufferers that there is help from such ailments as rheumatism, arthritis, neuritis and sciatica. Read how Mr. Rutherford Mead, 1549 E. Hamilton Ave., Flint, found new health with O-JIB-WA BITTERS.

"Arthritis in my spine, back and legs had me crippled up for over five years, and several times forced me to bed for days at a time. For a while I just couldn't do anything because the pains were so bad, and spent over five weeks laid up completely. I had to have help come in to take care of things, and frankly didn't have much to look forward to. One day I read in the newspaper about how O-JIB-WA BITTERS had helped others, so I decided to give it a trial. I took it a short time ,and quit, but realized after that I hadn't given it a chance. I started taking it again, and took it about a month before I saw much results, but at least I knew for sure that it was helping. Well, to make a long story short, I haven't had to use a cane for over four months now. I sleep like a log and get up feeling great. I take care of the house by myself and just recently painted my garage and parts of the house, which I would have thought impossible just a few months ago. I would say that I am about 75% better and get around fine for a man 77 years old. I certainly want to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to everyone because of the good that it has done for me."

Guatemala Lets Refugees Leave

Supporters of Former Pro-Red Regime Begin Exodus Into Exile

GUATEMALA (AP)—Supporters of ex-President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman who have been granted safe conduct to leave Guatemala are starting their exodus into exile.

Police said 17 others who "escaped" from foreign embassies where they hid out during last June's revolt against the pro-Communist government have given themselves up and been imprisoned in a jungle camp.

Seven followers of Arbenz left the Mexican Embassy for Mexico yesterday.

Arbenz and several of his top left-wing supporters still are believed to be among the hundreds of refugees in the Mexican compound.

The military government headed by President Carlos Castillo Armas has said the ex-President and top leaders of his regime who are wanted on criminal charges would not be allowed to leave the country.

In Buenos Aires, the Argentine government announced that five air force planes will fly to Guatemala Wednesday to pick up 120 refugees from the Argentine Embassy. They will be flown to the Argentine capital.

The remaining 72 refugees in the embassy will be taken to Argentina as conditions permit, an Argentine communique said.

Officer's Trial in Second Day

Four More Ex-POWs Due to Testify Against Lt. Col. Fleming

FT. SHERIDAN, Ill. (AP) — Four American soldiers have testified Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, their fellow prisoner in a North Korean POW camp, made propaganda broadcasts and led discussion groups for the Communists.

Fleming's trial before an Army general court-martial on charges he collaborated with the Communists entered its second day today with four more ex-POWs due to testify against him.

One of the witnesses yesterday, Air Force Maj. David F. MacGhee of Falls Church, Va., told the military court Fleming once went to the Communist camp commander and reported, "MacGhee has double-crossed you."

Fleming, first American officer brought to trial on charges of aiding the Reds while a prisoner, sat impassively during the testimony. A slightly built man of 46 with close-cropped grey hair and four rows of ribbons on his dress uniform, he was a prisoner 34 months.

Fleming's wife Gloria, their daughter Patricia and son-in-law, Navy Petty Officer John Madden, sat in the courtroom.

Fleming, who has denied the charges, faces a maximum penalty of life imprisonment, dismissal from the service and loss of pay if convicted.

MacGhee said he once prepared a broadcast for the Reds' Peiping radio in which he had coded a message, using the first letter of each word, which said: "Five thousand men at Pyoktong near Yalu River need medicine and clothing."

The Air Force officer said an American private tipped the Chinese Reds to the code and that Fleming then went to the Red commandant and told him that he, MacGhee, had double-crossed the Communists.

Soon after that, MacGhee said, he was tranferred to a particularly brutal prison camp known as "The Caves."

Under cross-examination, MacGhee admitted that he had written what he called slanderous statements about 20 Senior Air Force generals in order to save his life in a moment of panic.

MacGhee said Fleming had urged other prisoners to sign propaganda leaflets urging United Nations forces to surrender.

Our Chief Justice Speaks

Chief Justice Warren has crystallized in a few words one of the big problems facing the world of free peoples.

He was speaking during services dedicating the American Bar's new national center at Chicago. He said he looked forward to American cooperation with other Nations in the task of learning how, in these ever changing times, the never changing principles of freedom can be applied.

It is fitting, he told his audience, that the dedicatory services were held in a house of God — the University of Chicago chapel. "Here we give notice to all," the Chief Justice added, "in the world struggle between the forces of freedom and the godless totalitarian state, we rededicate ourselves to the principle that God's way is our way."

Continuing, Mr. Warren viewed as fitting the fact that the dedication was next door to one of the world's great universities. This, he said, is a reminder to us to insist upon man's right to knowledge and the free use thereof, the right to explore at will, to disagree with and even to dissent from the opinions of the majority.

Finally, the Chief Justice called for correction of defects in our system which have been of much concern to the bar — delays in litigation, violations of civil liberties, legal pettifogging and loose court procedures.

There should be assurance for every one of us in the fact that the head of one of the three branches of our Government expresses so well the religious spirit motivating our concept of freedom and justice.

Nehru Policy Under Fire

In a speech delivered in India's parliament, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar proved that not all leaders in that government share Premier Nehru's dream world.

The leader of 60,000,000 untouchables who broke with Nehru three years ago, criticized him for his hostility to the United States. He also assailed Nehru's insistence that co-existence with the Communists is the only alternative to war.

Dr. Ambedkar added that Nehru's hostility toward the United States and repugnance to anything suggested by America explain his refusal to have anything to do with the SEATO meeting at Baguio.

Declaring that the Premier also fears Russian reaction, Ambedkar said "the keynote of our foreign policy is to solve the problems of other countries but not our own."

It is good to know that there is at least one realist in New Delhi aware of the grave weaknesses in Nehru's policy.

Seaway States Organize

A preview of the impact the St. Lawrence Waterway will have on the economy of the entire Great Lakes area came from two recent events.

One was the Great Lakes conference at Chicago. There, thanks to the foresight of Michigan's Attorney General Millard, an organization of eight Great Lakes States and Ontario was launched.

Its announced purpose is to deal with the manifold problems created by the project which eventually will transform major lake ports into ocean ports. Participating States are Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Initiative in paving the way for such an organization was taken by Michigan when the Legislature approved a measure authorizing the State to join a compact of seaway States. The act further provides that such an organization should include five representatives from each State and Ontario.

At the Great Lakes conference it was decided that the compact should deal with such problems as erosion, diversions, water levels and related matters. The next step in the organization will be taken when a study committee reports to the December meeting of the conference.

Similarly, five counties of southeastern Michigan, including Oakland, are considering an organization to handle common problems which will be intensified by the seaway. Among them are water supply, sewers and waste disposal, roads, recreation facilities and port development. Other counties interested are Wayne, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw.

Such an organization undoubtedly would base its planning on a population total Detroit Councilman Edward Connor says may double in the next 20 to 25 years.

That it is none too early to prepare for the seaway is emphasized by the calendar. Already plans are in the making to get Congressional approval for extension of the 27 foot channel to Detroit and lake ports beyond. The present timetable calls for the deep channel to reach Lake Erie by the opening of navigation in 1959.

The best place to be when an atomic bomb explodes is 10 or more miles away, in any direction.

Nature in the Raw

State Park That Has It Is Popular Vacation Spot

Daffynition

Teen age: The age that ages parents.

Many local residents are getting as close as possible to nature in the raw on their vacations. Most primitive among Michigan's 60 odd state parks is the Wilderness, on the shore of Lake Michigan, just southwest of Mackinaw City. Its 8,000 acres has everything in wild life and vegetation. It is rightly named. Except for the many miles of driveways that have been built through it, and a few cottages and camping grounds, it is untouched from its primeval stage. Caretaker says it has more than doubled its attendance this year, the greatest percentage of increase among the state parks. Oakland County license plates are numerous within its quiet confines.

Grant H. Wykhuis,

Flexible Controls—Answer to Another Surplus Problem

Voice of the People

Parents Require That 'Wanted' Feeling More Than Offspring, Reader Believes

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Much is being said and written about teenagers these days. The poor dears. The experts tell us they need love and a feeling of being wanted. I think poor mom and pop are the ones who need the love and the "wanted" feeling.

The kids these days have had too much, want too much, and expect too much (and all for nothing, too).

Mom beats her brains out, goes without, cooks, washes, etc., pop works hard to try to feed the vitamin packed giants (much bigger than poor harassed dad) and the only thanks we get is griping from the kids and blame for everything, from a hangnail to burning down the schoolhouse from the authorities.

I hope I live to see the day when the experts get the boot and the good old days return when dad was master of the house and kids were "seen and not heard."

The child experts have had their way and made a mess out of things, nervous wrecks of the parents and lazy loafers out of the kids.

Tired Mother

Adults Base Opinion on Wrong Percentage

In regard to the letter from "A Confident Mother" about her confidence in teenagers, I give three cheers. Maybe if a few more parents had as much confidence in their kids, they wouldn't have as many gripes and complaints about their behavior.

In comparison there are more good teenagers than there are bad. For example, a school has roughly 1500 students. If all of these kids, or even half of them were bad, believe me there would really be something to talk about. But as it is, there are only a few compared to the vast number of students who do abide by the rules. And these few, in the eyes of adults, represent the teenagers.

This should not be, as the other 90 per cent, or whatever it is, will be the future Presidents of the U. S., fight in the Army, own the corner store and be the future citizens of America.

So please don't condemn the teenager before he is given a chance!

A Teenager

Adequate

"I trust, Miss Tappitt," said the kindly employer to his stenographer, "that you have something in reserve for a rainy day." "Yes, sir," answered the young woman, "I'm going to marry a man named Mackintosh."

Case Records if a Psychologist

Learn Ways of Paying Compliments; You Can Double Your Popularity

Rosalie isn't popular for she imitates the Sphinx. You must learn to chatter away gaily if you want to win friends, but fill your chatter with a liberal dose of honest compliments. If you wish to double your popularity and jump your salary remarkably, follow the advice below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-302: Rosalie M., aged 19, is typical of many young women.

"Dr. Crane, nobody seems to like me," she protested miserably.

"Girls don't invite me to come to their homes to spend the night, though they ask other girls who don't seem to have as good clothes or as much beauty as I have.

"So what is wrong? I'd like to be friends with girls, as well as boys, but I feel like a misfit. Are some people just naturally born popular?"

Psychology is a science and all science is really based on a few simple axioms or laws.

Human beings are born with this motto across their chests: "I want to feel important." Rosalie has it and so do her school mates. She wants them to make her feel important by inviting her into their clubs or homes. But they, in turn, are waiting for Rosalie to make them feel important.

In this dilemma, you must recognize the fact that somebody needs to break the social "ice".

Two lonely snobs may be seated on the same bench, each longing to be friendly with the other. But if each constantly waits for the other to speak first, there will be a continuing pause.

And the longer the silence, the more haughtily each will turn up her nose in disdain and affect a snobbish indifference. Ultimately, they will drive each other farther apart by their social frigidity. Each will soon dislike the other.

In such a dilemma, you can work miracles by tooting your neighbor's horn. To do this, pay her an honest compliment.

There are various methods for complimenting people. You can bluntly praise their hat or frock or artistic fingers or lovely complexion or melodious voice or well behaved children.

Or you can ask them for advice, which is a surefire but indirect way to pay a compliment. And if you thus make the other person feel more important, that individual will immediately think you have good judgment.

So you will rise in prestige and your neighbor will soon pay you a compliment in return. That means you get your horn tooted, too.

Therefore, learn to open your mouth in pleasant conversation, liberally dotted with words of praise for the virtues of your companions.

Then they will like you and even love you, for liking is only the half-way point along the pathway to love.

The Sphinx never causes poets to address love ballads to it, for it has never said a word. Thus, it has failed to inflate the ego of its spectators.

So don't pride yourself on being a strong silent man or a close mouthed woman.

It is the chattering kind of people who generally rate the highest awards in popularity contests, especially if they intersperse their chatter with liberal doses of compliments for their companions.

Naturally, Rosalie wasn't liked or invited to house parties for she was too much like the Sphinx.

But when she resolutely launched upon the "compliment club" strategy, she gained dozens of friends in a few months.

So send for the "compliment club" materials, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Learn the five laws for paying compliments. They can double your popularity and also your salary.

West Germany Must Be Allowed to Join NATO

WASHINGTON — Nationalism, which burns so fiercely in the hearts of men in the smallest as well as the largest countries of the world, has not died in France.

This primarily is why the European Defense Community agreement failed of ratification in the French Parliament.

The wonder is that the British and American officials who wanted France to ratify it have not realized how the same nationalism which fights for freedom against colonialism in Morocco and Tunis and Egypt and Indochina cannot be submerged in a superstate when a democracy as old as France is asked to give up its sovereignty.

Neither Britain nor the United States, if the tables were turned, would agree to any such structure as a merged military force with a supranational parliament above it.

But the Eisenhower administration felt committed to the so-called "EDC" (European Defense Community plan) as it was sponsored by the Truman administration. The British government felt it had to urge France to ratify EDC to please the United States, but actually had no heart for the plan either and never joined it.

Soldiers fight best under their own flag and not under some hybrid banner. They fight with the greatest spirit under their own commanders as a separate army.

Military men in every country in Europe as well as in the United States have felt that the idea of a single army rather than a federation of armies was a mistake, but they have maintained a tactful silence in deference to their political leaders.

Thus, valuable time has been lost as an impractical plan has been dragged through some parliaments only to be snagged finally in the French National Assembly.

Now the course before Europe is clearer than ever before. The EDC plan was the first step toward a politically united, single legislature for the continent, to be known as "the United States of Europe." The analogy to the United States of America has always been a fallacious one, for the simple reason that in this country many generations of European nationals intermarried and hence enabled a homogeneous nation of Americans to emerge.

Arbitrarily to merge Frenchmen and Germans, for example, in different countries in a single government and to deny them the aspiration of their national pride and patriotism, was a dream of some internationally minded Frenchmen with more theory than practicality in their makeup.

True enough, the defense of Europe now has suffered a body blow because of the defeat of the latest plan in the French Assembly. Incidentally, without the bloc of 100 Communist votes there, EDC would not have been defeated.

Soviet Russia, of course, gains from these developments, but it is at best a temporary victory. For what the French have done must inevitably awaken Britain and America and West Germany as well as France to the importance of forging at once an effective alternative.

The real answer lies in the immediate admission of West Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It may be a risk to restore full sovereignty to the West Germans, but the French cannot, on the one hand, refuse to let German troops come into their territory as a part of a European defense army and at the same time object to the building of a German national army to stand between France and the invader from Soviet Russia.

Either the Germans are to be trusted or the Communists will rule Central Europe and threaten France from a vantage point on the Rhine.

Germany can be trusted as long as she retains a Republican form of government. She would have been able to prevent a Hitler from grabbing power in 1933 if the western nations had not stood off and declined to give the necessary economic and moral support to the Weimar Republic of Germany.

Britain and France and America have their chance now to solidify Europe's defenses or to aggravate the weakened condition of the continent, which may tempt the Red Army to march as did Hitler. Such a miscalculation could bring on a third world war.

That is why, with the EDC out of the way, the decks have been cleared for action on an alternative — returning Germany to an independent position in Europe. It's a chance to take, but not nearly as dangerous a chance as leaving Europe at the mercy of Soviet Russia today.

Cheat Foods Are Composed Mainly of Refined White Flour and (or) Sugar

By WILLIAM J. BRADY, M. D.

In 72 hours recently I aged 72 months, I believe, because (1) low back pain, tenderness and stiffness from no apparent sprain, strain or injury made me afraid to roll my usual morning somersaults—and I calculate physiological age on that, you know; and (2) I got into an insane stamping rage at this statement attributed to Brady, the newspaper quack:

"The children are lucky to receive such good food" (plain wheat slowly steamed till the grains begin to pop open and mixed with milk in electric juicer to what the children call a cocktail) "instead of the cheap foods . . ."

It was only after my adrenals and arteries had been subjected to great abuse that I discovered it was neither a typographical error nor a deliberate alteration of my copy, but my own fault, for I had written cheap when I meant cheat. You know what cheat foods are—refined carbohydrate items, foods composed mainly of refined white flour and/or refined white sugar.

While I was down with senility there came a lot of letters and clippings of newspaper stories and comments about the unfortunate child who suffered from uncontrollable bleeding after tonsillectomy.

It is distressing enough to think of a child in such a plight. It is much, much worse when you keep asking yourself, "Was that tonsillectomy really necessary?"

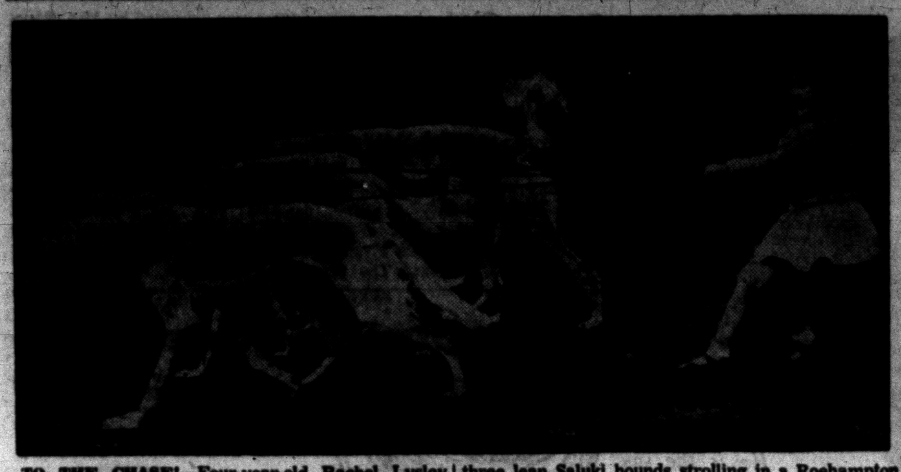

This is one of the things that make this job seem to some of my medical colleagues all beer and skittles, and so it might be if I were not Irish. After all, why should I feel more emotional about that particular victim of tonsillectomy than do doctors who commit tonsillectomy as a routine, in the belief that neither the safe and painless X-ray or radon (radium emanation) treatment nor the minor operation, instantaneous tonsillotomy (slicing off the obstructing portion, but only the radical removal of every bit of tonsil tissue by prolonged dissection of the throat will give satisfactory results.

Not that tonsillectomy is less likely to start uncontrollable bleeding than is the major operation, if the patient happens to be a bleeder (hemophilia) by inheritance or subject to delayed clotting from other cause.

Still, it takes something out of me whenever I hear or read about a tonsillectomy tragedy — and I hear or read of so many such fatalities. I have studied the question for many years, inspired by the Hippocratic injunction: Do Good If You Can But Do No Harm, and by what I believe is God's will. I just can't understand why doctors continue to subject children to tonsillectomy when we know from experience that the comparatively safe, minor operation, tonsillotomy, or the painless, conservative X-ray or radium treatment is entirely adequate.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Chinese Failing With Collectives

Reds Trying Mightily to Make a Success of Cooperative Farms

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists are still striving mightily to collectivize their farms but without much success.

The Central Committee's paper, Peiping Peoples Dail, says 65 per cent of the agricultural cooperatives are not succeeding. They are producing less than under private farming. Unless greater effort and better management are found, there is "danger of disintegration . . .before autumn harvests."

These are hard facts for Peiping to face during a year of flood and food shortage, but it has been clear for two years that the Chinese peasants didn't like collectives.

The People's Daily gives the usual generalized reasons—inadequate management, "failure of the peasants to comprehend the cooperative movement," failure of party cadres to work with the poorer cooperatives, "uncontrolled unbalanced development of cooperatives," backwardness of farmers who so recently were "individual peasants."

As usual in such confessionals, the People's Daily lets a cat out of the bag down in Paragraph 238:

"There are also cases. . .where the movement for cooperativization (sic) of agriculture is crowded out by collection of tax and purchase of grain (by the state at the state's own fixed prices) and by antiflood work."

In short, heavy taxes and nationalization of grains are working against the collective. Taxes are too high and the prices are too low, both for the independent farmer (the fellow who has managed to stay out of the collective) and to the man in the cooperative.

The Red solution boils down to the familiar remedy—production must be increased. Taxes must be collected and grain must bring a profit. Otherwise the whole scheme of modernization will fade, the army may have short rations and an unsafe number of people may have to go hungry.

Super Highway Planned From Tokyo to Kobe

TOKYO (AP) — Japan plans to build a super highway between Tokyo and Kobe in western Japan, financing the project through toll charges.

This was disclosed by the Construction Ministry, which said 5,700 miles of highways will be built under a five-year plan financed by a gasoline tax. The ministry said only 20 per cent of Japan's roads were suitable for vehicular traffic.

Summer Panel Show Job Is Passport to Anonymity

NEW YORK (AP)—"Where have you been keeping yourself?" my friends have been asking lately. "Haven't seen or heard from you in ages. You hiding from somebody?"

This burns me up. Hiding? Not exactly. I've just been appearing weekly on a summer replacement radio show.

Maybe that is a form of hiding. They say that the two most anonymous jobs in the entertainment world are: 1 Acting as a stand-in target for a professional knife thrower or (2) filling in on a radio panel show during the height of the vacation season.

Have you ever heard how they pick (1) a pretty, witty, charming girl, (2) a smart clever girl, (3) an anchor man who is good at wisecracks and (4) the "uh-uh" man.

The "uh-uh" man plays a vital role. If he answers, it is by accident. His duty is simple and stern. He must know so little that any member of the audience can turn to his wife and say, "Listen to him, honey. I thought you always said I was the dumbest guy in the world."

I am not going into the reasons why I was picked for the panel. But at the end of the first show the engineer said admiringly, "Boyle, your last 'uh-uh' was worthy of a Barrymore."

The program got off to a good start. "Variety," the Bible of the entertainment field, gave it a fine pat on the back. All the letters the network received — including the 27 I wrote in longhand myself—were highly favorable.

In fact we thought we might last as long at "Uncle Tom's Cabin" until last week, when we were told:

This is the last one, kids. Sorry. You're terrific, great, wonderful. But you're only sustaining, and a sponsor wants this time for another show. Maybe we can try again at a later date—maybe next summer."

Well, if it was to be the last performance, I decided it should be our best. I did my part. I managed to get in 43 "uh-uh" a new record for a half-hour panel quiz show.

When we were off the air, I leaned back expectantly. What would happen now? Everybody knows the show-must-go-on tradition. What about the show-has-to-go-off tradition?

Frankly, I thought the door would open and Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, head of RCA would enter followed by a battalion of NBC page boys carrying champagne and caviar sandwiches.

Then, wiping away his tears, Sarnoff would lift his foaming glass high and say brokenly:

"To a great quiz panel! You have raised radio to new heights . . . brought fresh cheer to America in her hour of stress . . . written an immortal chapter in the history of the industry . . . and you shall be back, I promise you, if I have to go out and find a sponsor myself."

And I had my reply all ready:

"Uh . . . uh . . . Don't take it so hard, Dave. It's . . . uh . . . uh . . . all in the luck of the game. Won't you join us in singing 'Auld Lang Syne'?"

But the door didn't open. We panelists looked at each other and said tentatively, "Well . . . been nice. Be seeing you." The engineer said "so long."

That was all. So brief a parting. I felt oddly lonely as I walked alone down the hall. I passed two teen-age girls who had been in the studio audience a few moments before, and one said: "Who's he?"

4 Important Reasons why you should buy a PONTIAC RIGHT NOW!

1 Pontiac is One of the Greatest Cars Ever Built!

Match today's Pontiac with America's finest cars and you'll get a dramatic picture of Pontiac value. First of all, Pontiac is big—bigger, in fact, than many cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Pontiac is beautiful—with its distinctive Silver Streak styling. Inside, you'll find genuine fine-car luxury and appointments—along with the roominess and comfort that come only with a long wheelbase. But the really big surprise comes when you get behind the wheel and test Pontiac's performance. See how alert it is to every demand in traffic, how it handles and corners almost without effort, how it takes to the open road with plenty of power to spare and saves you money every mile.

2 Pontiac has the Best Resale Value in its Price Class!

Along with all its fine-car size, luxury and performance, Pontiac has a very special attribute no car at any price can beat—its unsurpassed reputation for year-in, year-out dependability. Pontiac's carefree, economical long life and its proved record of amazingly low maintenance expense are so widely known and acknowledged that it commands the highest resale value in its price class. Because Pontiac is America's most desirable used car, your original investment comes back in greater measure when you trade.

3 Pontiac is Priced Just Above the Lowest!

After you've convinced yourself of Pontiac's value, after you've considered all the good things you've heard about its dependability—see how it compares dollar-wise. Despite the fact that it's a fine car in every sense of the term, Pontiac is priced so near the lowest that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac.

4 We'll Make You a Deal You Can't Afford to Miss!

Right now we're making such liberal trade-in allowances that you just can't afford to pass up the greatest opportunity you ever had to become a fine-car owner. Come in and get the facts.

There's No Age Limit on Allure

Dache Analyzes Glamor

Lilly Dache, a woman who knows whereof she speaks in terms of feminine allure, has some provocative and challenging things to say about glamor after 40. Here are some of her pointers:

"Glamor has no nationality—and no age limit. Glamor is mental as well as physical—in fact you cannot have truly a glamorous body without a glamorous mind.

"What is a glamorous mind? It is a mind that is awake, alert, eager to learn new things. A glamorous face is alive; the eyes sparkle. A dull, disinterested look doesn't even suggest glamor.

"The time to start worrying about glamor is at 16, not 40. My pet beauty rule is 'Preserve, not erase.'

"Every young girl should develop a daily beauty routine and stick to it as faithfully as she brushes her teeth. Beauty is a matter of discipline, and neglect is its greatest enemy.

"Many women get frugal just at the age when they need to take special care of themselves.

"The housewife who prefers to buy a new knick-knack for a crowded shelf and go without face creams is making a big mistake. Her husband wants her to look prettier, not the shelf.

"Don't let yourself get too thin if you're middle-aged. There's a tense, nervous air that goes with being skinny."

Mrs. Bush wore a brown and white print dress with a white hat and a corsage of cornflowers and daisies. Mrs. Halsted wore a costume suit of gray alpaca with a white hat and a gardenia corsage.

Nurses Mix Care, Advice

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

Just who is the industrial nurse and what does she do?

An employe might tell you that she's the one who's always on hand down at the plant to dispense first aid and aspirin, but at the same time he might not be aware of the responsible role she assumes in health conservation.

He might not realize that she's trained to recognize signs of serious disease and can be instrumental in saving many lives.

On the other hand, an employe might tell you a great deal about the industrial nurse's duties and explain how essential she is.

In an interview with Mrs. Clara Lamb and Frances Siple, two such nurses at Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, we learned much about the duties of an industrial nurse.

We also saw how she carries out her work under the most modern setup including an examining room, an X-ray room, a laboratory and an operating room which is complete for emergency cases.

With the demand for cars what it is today, the industrial nurse realizes the importance of keeping men on the job.

It is her duty to screen the patients who come to the department for treatment. Because she is well trained in the analysis of work habits and medical case histories, the industrial nurse is able to determine the condition of the patient — whether he can be cared for in the first aid station or whether he should be removed to the plant hospital.

"You develop acute observation for symptoms and you direct them into proper channels," Miss Siple explained.

"Industrial nursing is more on the order of emergency nursing," Mrs. Lamb told this reporter, and she added, "in this type of nursing there are no set rules that cover every situation, you have to employ a lot of common sense along with theoretical knowledge."

An employe may come to one of the seven stations throughout the plant to have an injured finger treated, or he may have questions pertaining to his home, little problems to solve.

The nurse is always willing to listen and attempt to help ease the employe's mind, as she reasons that a man with cares and worries can not do justice to his job. Then too, she remembers her oath to love and serve humanity — and she just can't help caring.

Serving as a counselor, the nurse often is instrumental in preventing accidents, the kind that occur when an individual is preoccupied with disturbing thoughts.

Mrs. Lamb's service record at Pontiac Motor best explains her feeling for industrial nursing. She was first employed in 1937, serving until 1943 when she joined forces with Uncle Sam as an Army nurse. Three years later —with a captain's rank — she returned to Pontiac Motor where she has since remained.

And Miss Siple, who just last year completed her nursing training, is just as enthusiastic about her job.

We visited other hospitals and first aid stations throughout this tremendous plant and on one of the stops we talked with Mrs. Gretta Scott, who has been employed at the plant for 12 years.

While we were there an employe came in to have a cut treated. Mrs. Scott moved quickly from us and began her treatment with such sincerity and confidence that we wondered what profession could be more noble than this.

All too soon our tour of the first aid stations had ended, but we felt we had learned a great deal from these nurses and of their care for employes of Pontiac Motor Division.

So, in this little city of its own which employs 17,000, the industrial nurse moves quietly about performing her duties — whether it be mending a cut or helping some employe gain greater satisfaction in his work.

A series of stories about students who will be attending college this fall is being prepared by the Women's Department of the Pontiac Press. Mom-to-Be May Attend Ceremony

She Should Dress Inconspicuously for Friend's Wedding

By EMILY POST

A mother-to-be writes: "A very dear friend of mine is going to be married next month and my husband and I have been invited to the wedding. I would like to go to the wedding but my husband thinks it would be in very bad taste for me to go as I am expecting a baby in the not too distant future.

"In this modern day I don't think anyone would criticize. However, I promised to write you and abide by your decision."

Answer: It is entirely proper for you to go. Wear an inconspicuous dress.

Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think friends could possibly feel obliged to send our new baby gifts if we send them birth announcements?

Most of these people have been to showers given for me during the past months and have bought gifts for the baby. I wouldn't want them to feel they must send anything more.

Answer: The people who have already sent you presents are the ones to send the announcements to, and I can't imagie that they would feel it necessary to send another present.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered bad manners to take a sip of coffee while there is still some unswallowed food in the mouth? I had a sandwich and coffee the other day for lunch and took a sip from my cup before completely finishing what I had in my mouth.

My girl friend, who incidentally is a perfectionist, said it was wrong to drink anything while there is still food in the mouth. Is it, Mrs. Post?

Answer: It is entirely proper to drink while you have an unnoticeable amount of food in your mouth.

If the mouth were too full (which it shouldn't be) it would be bad.

Give Strapless Bra Special Care

The spots most likely to collect soil on a strapless bra are the top curves of the cups. These edges pick up the make-up and oils from the skin.

Squeeze the bra through thick, warm soapsuds and scrub these upper edges with a soft, sudsy brush before rinsing.

Scrub, Don't Snag

When shampooing your hair, try to avoid tangles. This will give the suds a chance to wash each strand of hair as clean as possible.

Taut and tapered are these trousers by Neiman-Marcus Awardee Emilio Pucci, who will come to America from Italy Sept. 6 to receive the Texas store's award at the annual Fashion Exposition in Dallas. With the trousers of lightweight Marzotta wool, the famed Emilio of Florence and Capri designs a sculptured shirt in bright blue wool.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Dolls Scarce in Childhood but Plentiful in Later Life

It seems ironical that all my childhood I yearned for dolls and seldom got them and now, when I'm too old to play with them and have little time besides, I own several hundred, made of everything from buttons, fleas and kitchen-pan cleaners to coconut and cactus.

The nice thing about mine or any collection is that there is never any end to it. Some day, for instance, I'd like to acquire a coal doll like the one carved by a Pennsylvania miner who worked 200 hours on the jewel-like finish.

MISS McBRIDE

Another I covet is worth $25,000 and belongs to Mary Lewis, former president of the doll collectors. It's a portrait of Queen Victoria as a child with a pursed-up mouth, round, plump face and brown corkscrew curls.

In my own collection is a portrait doll of me, done by the famous Ravcas, but it's not worth $25,000; none of my dolls cost much.

One, however, is more than 200 years old and probably came to this country on a clipper ship from England. Several others are 100 years old—and dressed accordingly.

The ones I love best, though, are oddities like the Eskimo doll that some father fashioned from a walrus tusk for his little girl up in the far north and the Indian poppet that has a dried apple for a head.

My flea dolls are a bride and bridegroom complete with veil and orange blossoms and to see them you have to look through a microscope.

I'm especially fond of an Amish family—Papa with a square-cut beard, hard round hat, tight trousers and coat fastened with hooks and eyes; the wife in a bonnet, long dark skirt and shawl, and a son and daughter garbed exactly like the grownups. Every time I look at these I remember visits to Lancaster County with its big red barns and the markets where the Plain People come in their buggies bringing sauerkraut, pepper nuts and shoo-fly pie.

Patience, my 150-year-old doll, was given to me by a friend who said the little china-headed creature had been handed down in her family from mother to daughter for generations. I got her because there were no more daughters to pass her on to.

A demure miss, hand-knitted from head to toe, was done by a woman who has crippled hands and made herself learn to manipulate yarn and needles.

An exotic dancer from the South Sea islands and a Moro with trailing pigtail were contributed by a newspaper woman who started round the world with $50 and a typewriter. She made her expenses by selling stories and collected dolls for fun, including a curious-looking fan shaped like a figure from Bali where there were no dolls until tourists brought the idea in.

I am sad about two things. First, I can't get little girls to show any interest in my collectors-item poppets—they like cuddly dolls that nobody tells them not to touch.

And second, I never see my treasures because, for lack of room in my city apartment, I have to keep them in a storage warehouse.

The formal suit for fall is a bright red velveteen sheath, with matching jacket lined with white satin. White pearl buttons decorate the front of the jacket.

Legs Take Looks With Exercise

To fill hollow thighs, try this exercise. Lie flat on your back and raise the legs high in the air. Use your arms and place your hands on your hips to support yourself.

Then, swing your legs as far apart as possible. Bring them together in scissor fashion. Do this ten times daily, increasing to 50 in several weeks time.

Brown's on Brows

As a choice for an eyebrow pencil, most women will find that dark brown is good. Excepting the very dark brunettes who require a black pencil and light blonds and redheads that look better with light brown brows.

Bustline Improves With Exercise

Here's a good exercise for improving the bustline. Stand with feet apart, and hold a heavy book between your fingers, keeping elbows bent and arms at shoulder level.

Press hard against the book with your hands, release the pressure and press again. Do this with fingers pointed down and upward while holding the book. Do this exercise 20 times altogether.

The large rhinestone buckle is making a comeback on fall shoes again. It's seen on the delicately-heeled black pump for dress-up wear.

The real secret of hospitality lies not nearly as much in what you have to offer the guest as in the spirit in which it is offered.

It is better to offer a cup of tea and a slice of toast without apology than to offer nothing, with the explanation: "If I had just known you were coming I would have baked a cake."

Secretary, 69, Shows Alibi Is Weak

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Two comments which occur with heartbreaking frequency in my work are: "But I'm too old to start over," and "At my age, it's too late to learn new skills."

Usually, none of this is true at all. Such statements are merely the excuses women give themselves to get out of making any effort.

Most of us can get a start in the business field, regardless of our birth date, if we really want to. And Grandma Moses, among many others, is proof that we can keep on learning as long as we live.

Here is a wonderful letter from a woman in the Midwest which bears out this theory:

"I am employed as secretary to several lawyers, and naturally have a good deal of work and variety. Apparently I am getting along okay, and they seem to be pleased with my work.

"But I feel like an ignoramus, and these men seem to be far above me intellectually. I want your help in recommending some textbooks which will help me.

"You see," she continues, "I was out of the business world for 45 years during my married life. Then my husband died, and I had to get out and dig.

"Before my marriage, way back, I was secretary to a very prominent businessman. All during my married life I only took care of a family and tried to be a good wife.

"When I was forced to it, I plunged out into the business world again and resumed secretarial work.

"I am doing very well and like it very much. I am 69 years old (!) and apparently in the best of health and quite able to do an eight-hour-day job as well as my co-workers, who are much younger than I am.

"I have lost no time through sickness during the three years I have been employed here."

This woman goes on to ask my advice on books which will enable her to have a better understanding of law, better ease with business English, and a broader understanding of the whole business world.

And I bet she'll study — and learn — with just as much zest and effectiveness as any woman 30 years her junior.

In fact, her tendency to keep living and learning probably accounts for her wonderful health and stamina.

Next time you find yourself excusing yourself from any effort because you're not as young as you used to be, remember this: Your age — your working age — is pretty much up to you.

4-H Winner to Try Luck at State Fair

Janet Long's White Bread Rises to New Heights

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Competing this next week with bakers from all over the state at the Michigan State Fair will be Janet Long of Milford. An eighth-grade farm lass, Janet won a special award at the 4-H Fair for her white bread. It is this bread that she will enter in the Detroit competition and for which we obtained the recipe.

Thirteen year old Janet has won other blue ribbons for her cooking. Another of her yearly projects was the care of a cow and a calf.

WHITE BREAD
By Janet Long

2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
1 cup scalded milk
1 cup boiling water
1 cake yeast, dissolved in ¼ cup lukewarm water
6 cups sifted flour

Put shortening, sugar and salt in large bowl. Add liquids. When lukewarm, add dissolved yeast and 3 cups flour. Mix thoroughly with knife or spoon. Add 2 cups flour. Mix with knife. Add remaining flour gradually, using just enough to prevent sticking. Turn on floured board or cloth. Knead until mixture is smooth and elastic. Return to bowl. Cover with clean cloth and let rise until double. Toss on lightly floured board. Knead. Shape and place in greased pans, having pans nearly half full. Cover, let rise until double and bake 15 minutes in a 425 degree oven. Reduce oven to 375 degrees and bake 30-35 minutes longer. Makes 2 medium loaves.

Girl Unwise to Broadcast Yen for Boy

She's Told to Get Better Acquainted With Him First

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: When I first met Pete, though my best friend told me he was very nice, he was quiet and didn't appeal to me at all.

"The next day, though, he came to visit the boy next door and he was very nice then. I decided I liked him.

"I've never liked a boy seriously before. And now that I do, my friends don't believe me. How can I make them believe I really like him?"

Seems sort of silly to bother. What good will it do you to convince your friends? Do you need their approval, their permission, their encouragement, their cooperation? Do you think they will tell Pete and insure his liking you in return?

It should be the boy who takes the initiative. A girl can get left in the lurch if she broadcasts her yen before the boy in question shows any interest in her. It makes her look so silly, so eager.

You've had two good looks at Pete, only one of which was favorable to him. Wouldn't it be more to the point to get better acquainted with Pete, and show him by your interest and friendliness that you like him?

If he responds, your friends will be able to see with their own eyes what's going on.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I met Bill a year ago—he liked me and I liked him. Recently a friend of ours had a party and invited Bill and me.

"At the party Bill introduced Tom to me, and the minute I saw Tom I knew he was the boy for me. Now, how can I tell Bill without hurting his feelings?"

What is there to tell Bill? You met a boy at a party and found him very attractive. Your imagination leaped ahead and started you day-dreaming about going out with Tom.

It started you wishing and hoping. But is that anything to tell anybody?

Now, if Tom were to show any interest in you, and bombard you with phone calls and requests for dates, then you would have an explanation to make to Bill. Until then, don't jump the gun with what may be bad news to him.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Yesterday I went on a picnic, and Frank paid a lot of attention to me. I was thrilled to death.

"He even kissed me, and I nearly died of excitement. How can I let him know that I'm crazy about him and will love him forever?"

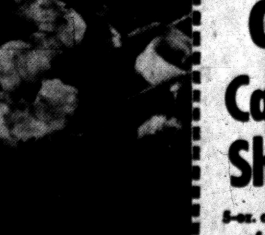

That's a secret you'd better keep. Particularly if your overwhelming devotion was caused by his kiss. That was just one of those things.

Save your breath-taking announcement until you've had at least a dozen dates with him!

Furious Gunfight Awakens Town

One Hurt Near Boston Minutes After Brink's Suspect Shows Up

BOSTON (INS) — One man was reported wounded today in a furious gunfight in Roxbury, five minutes after a long-time suspect in the Brink's robbery surrendered for questioning in the escape of Elmer "Trigger" Burke at Charles St. Jail on Saturday.

The exchange of gunfire aroused the neighborhood, only a few blocks from the Dudley Street Police Station, but cruisers scoured the area for half an hour without finding any of the participants.

A neighbor reported to police he spotted two men running through his backyard and heard one moaning, "my arm, my arm, don't grab my arm, I've been shot."

Police immediately speculated that Burke or some of his mob had invaded the area where Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe and his missing pal, John H. Carlson, once used as their stamping ground in their bookie days.

First word of the shooting was flashed to police as Capt. Patrick O'Reilly was talking to Anthony J. "Tony" Pino, long-time suspect in the unsolved $1,250,000 Brink's robbery. Pino walked in with the comment "I hear you're looking for me."

He was booked on a charge of "suspicion of aiding an escape." Pino is awaiting deportation to his native Italy and his appeal is before the courts.

Meanwhile police continued their hunt for Burke, the notorious New York machine gun artist who came to Boston in an attempt to rub out O'Keefe. Hunted with Burke were the three armed and masked pals who delivered him from the jail in mid-afternoon Saturday.

Following a reception on the lawn of the bride's parents, the newlyweds left for a trip into Canada. They will reside in St. Clair Shores.

Pontiac Water Output Hiked

Two New Wells to Up Daily Pumpage Here by 5,000,000 Gallons

Well construction this summer will have increased Pontiac's daily maximum water pumpage by about 5,000,000 gallons when two new wells begin pumping soon, City Manager Walter K. Willman said today.

This practically rules out chances of late-season sprinkling restrictions, Willman stated.

The last of three new wells built at Silver Lake will probably begin pumping in two weeks, said Willman, at 600 gallons per minute.

Another well under construction in Beaudette Park has been pump tested and will produce up to 1,400 gallons per minute, the city manager explained.

Willman feels, however, that well building can only be a temporary measure and the city will eventually have to tap some outside source, possibly Lake Huron.

Air Tours Planned for County Areas

Planes will take off every half hour from Pontiac City Airport Wednesday to carry farmers aloft for the Oakland County Soil Conservation District Air Tour, according to County Agricultural Agent Ed W. Alchin.

Directors of the Soil Conservation District report that ticket sales have been lively, but a few tickets are still available.

The 30 minute flights will cover any of three areas of the county, the southwest, northwest and northeast quarters, so that farmers taking the filghts can observe their own areas.

Richard Druillinger, Soil Conservation District Farm Planner, reminds farmers that whether or not they are going to take a flight, they will be able to attend the brief sessions at which time colored pictures of the area to be flown will be presented.

In case of bad weather, the event will be held Thursday.

New Way to Stop Bleeding Piles Without Surgery
New York, N. Y.—(Special)—Medical research has developed a harmless, pleasant, quick-acting wonder drug called RECTORAL that is taken internally and goes right to the seat of the trouble. It does away with the old-fashioned messy, disagreeable-to-use ointments, suppositories, etc., that give little or no relief. Usually in just a few days, bleeding with any accompanying irritation and soreness begins to disappear and in a few days more is completely gone. It has been tested in thousands of cases without any return of bleeding, even years afterwards.
RECTORAL can now be obtained without prescription at Simms; J-V; Hallman Drug; Luttrell Pharmacy; Walgreen's; Thrifty; Sankster & Jones; Dunseith; Cole's; Furtney's; Rule; Quality; Keego Drug, Keego Harbor; Drayton Plains; Auburn Heights.

Plight of the Schools

Dangerous Overcrowding Faces America's Pupils

By JACK V. FOD

NEW YORK (UP) — The nation's public schools open their doors next week to 30,673,500 youngsters — a million and one-half more than last fall.

They will swing open on a dangerous picture:

Too few teachers, substandard teachers, classes too crowded for individual attention, salaries at a shameful level.

School building heavy but still so far behind the population surge that thousands again will attend in shifts, hold classes in corners of school cafeterias, study in shop showrooms, churches, synogogues, private homes, steel-frame "portables" and in one Virginia town in a converted chicken coop.

The twin shortages, teachers and classrooms, have inevitably led to troubles. One of the worst is rowdyism and a breakdown of discipline so bad in big cities like New York that thousands are moving to the suburbs rather than expose their sons and daughters to unhealthy associations.

Such a migration, in turn, leads to new teacher and building shortages.

The United Press has surveyed public school conditions in 20 cities from coast to coast, ranging in size from Portland, Maryland, to New York. It showed a most unpleasant situation, though a spotty one.

Hartford, Conn., for example, has a satisfactory school housing situation as a result of a long-planned expansion and the fact it has no great population boom. So does Memphis.

But in Omaha conditions are "terrifically overcrowded." In Los Angeles 40,000 to 50,000 grade shcool pupils will not be able to attend full time.

Pittsburgh has 121 school buildings of which 46 should be replaced immediately. In Cleveland the housing situation it "touch and go," in Seattle worse than last year.

The Federal Office of Education estimates there will be 800,120 qualified teachers for the elementary schools this year compared with 816,800 last year. It says 924,600 are needed. The shortage of almost 125,000 must be made up from "emergency" teachers.

In 14 of the 20 cities, teachers' salaries have been raised during the past year. But they are pitifully small for professional people with college degrees. They range from a minimum of $2,624 and a maximum of $3,805 in Little Rock to $3,700 to $6,750 in San Diego.

Educators say sadly that in this richest of all nations they can't seem to convince people that they must have more money. The case of Pittsburgh is typical.

H. H. Rothrock of the Pittsburgh Board of Education recalled the fight the board put up to get more state aid.

The school board asked the Legislature for an additional $2,100,000. The Legislature granted $50,000. A referendum was called seeking to raise the grant to $2,000,000.

"We tackled the job with sleeves rolled up," he said. "Citizen aid came from all sides.

"In fact support seemed to come from everyone but the voters. The referendum was defeated 4 to 1."

Lobster Can Tell His Way Around

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The primitive lobster has a mechanism that flashes "tilt," tells him whether he's going up or down, and contains a built-in speedometer, according to Melvin Cohen, zoologist at the University of California at Los Angeles.

The mechanism is known as a statocyst and functions somewhat like a human's inner ear, he explained.

It consists of a sac containing grains of sand, fluid and tiny hairs. Pressure of sand and fluid against the hairs sets up nerve impluses that carry messages to the brain.

The delicate mechanism sends out four types of messages. One tells whether the lobster is moving up or down, another furnishes direction (left or right, frontward or backward), a third signals tilt and rate of movement, and the fourth picks up vibrations from the ocean floor.

Clague Is Named to Assist Mitchell

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics since 1946, has been named a special assistant to Secretary of Labor Mitchell to deal with economic and statistical problems.

Clague's term expired Aug. 19 as head of the bureau whose best-known function is the compiling of the cost of living index. Mitchell had urged his reappointment but it was held up because of a tentative objection by Pennsylvania's two Republican senators, Martin and Duff. Clague's last voting address was in Philadelphia.

Mitchell announced yesterday there will be no recess appointment of a commissioner until Congress reconvenes in January. President Eisenhower then is expected to name Clague to a new four-year term.

H-Burned Jap Reported Dying

One of the Fishermen Injured in March Test Is in Critical Condition

TOKYO (AP)—One of the 23 Japanese fishermen showered by radioactive ash from an H-bomb test at Bikini last March was reported near death today.

Doctors said the condition of Aikichi Kubomama, 39, was critical and "worsening." He is in a deep coma.

The fisherman's wife Suzu told a crowded news conference she had "given up hope" for her husband's life and said he had been blind since last night.

Informed observers said that if Kuboyama dies, friendship between Japan and America will sink to the lowest point since the end of World War II.

They said his illness has drawn Japan's 80 million people closer together than any incident since the war. Hundreds milled outside the hospital waiting for news.

Many Japanese were said to feel the United States has treated the case of the burned fishermen too lightly.

The United States has offered compensation for the fishermen and for tuna catches destroyed because they were judged dangerously radioactive.

Japan has barred U. S. medical experts from helping to treat the injured fishermen and has permitted only occasional limited examinations.

The 23 fishermen were aboard the vessel Lucky Dragon which was approximately 80 miles from Bikini when the United States touched off the first of a series of hydrogen explosions March 1. The boat was showered by fine white ash which was highly radioactive.

All the men have been hospitalized since their return, but they had appeared to be recovering from the effects of radiation sickness, an ailment characterized by inability of the body to manufacture white blood cells.

Japanese doctors said today all of the men are suffering from yellow jaundice, induced by repeated blood transfusions.

The doctors said Kuboyama, wireless operator on the Lucky Dragon, took a sudden turn for the worse early yesterday.

Dr. R. H. Holmes of the U. S.-operated Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission examined Kuboyama and was quoted by the Asahi Evening News as saying his condition is critical.

Princess Margaret Warned by Phone

EDINBURGH, Scotland, (UP)—An unidentified man telephoned an Edinburgh newspaper today to "warn" Princess Margaret to stay away from a Shakespearean performance here tonight.

Police said they are taking normal security measures but they generally believed the man was a hoaxer.

The Princess, vacationing in Scotland, will be an honor guest at the Edinburgh Festival premiere of the Old Vic production of "Midsummer Nights Dream," which will tour in the United States this fall and winter.

The man who called the newspaper warned that "the nationalists will be there," at the Empire Theater opening.

Nationalists is a term applied to persons wanting Scottish independence or home rule, but they are not cohesively organized.

Traffic Death Toll Drops for Seventh Straight Month

CHICAGO (INS) — The national safety council announced yesterday that the nation's traffic toll dropped again in July—making it the seventh consecutive month this year deaths showed a decrease compared with 1953.

While the July death toll was 3,150 — the largest toll for any month this year—the council pointed out it was still three per cent below the July, 1953, figure.

As of Aug. 1, the 1954 traffic death toll stood at 19,450—down an encouraging five per cent from the 20,500 figure for the corresponding period last year.

Council president Ned H. Dearborn pointed out the lower death total was achieved "in the face of increasing travel" by Americans, and added:

"This proves that careful driving and conscientious effort by officials can save lives."

Dearborn noted that cities have been the leaders in compiling better traffic records this year. They showed an overall improvement of eight per cent as compared with three per cent for the entire nation during July.

Norfolk, Va., with a whopping 62 per cent cut in deaths, led the lists. Newark, N. J., was next (59 per cent) and then Portland, Ore., (49 per cent); Fort Worth, Tex., (46 per cent) and San Antonio, Tex., (44 per cent).

Portland with a population of 373,600, was the nation's largest city to go without a traffic death in July. Next were St. Paul, Minn., and Oklahoma City, Okla.

For the entire seven months, 138 of the 492 cities reporting to the safety council had no deaths. The largest cities with perfect records were Richmond, Calif., Fresno, Calif., and East Orange, N. J.

Brown Named to Head Special Education Setup

BY HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

By a vote of three to one this summer, Oakland County became the first in the United States to endorse local support and administration of a special education program for handicapped children.

This new program — via the creation of the Oakland County Special Education Dept. — swings into action Sept. 7.

William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools, announced today that Deputy Supt. Kenneth W. Brown will administer the program.

Appointed as director of special education for this program is Paul Thams (Toms).

Formerly an assistant professor of education at the Illinois State Normal University, Thams field of specialty is the education of the mentally retarded. He has served as critic instructor for special education teachers.

He has a B. S. degree in psychology and an M. A. in special education from the University of Michigan. He has had additional work in special education from Michigan State Normal College and the University of Illinois.

PAUL THAMS

Thams taught at the Wayne County Training School near Northville and acted as an assistant instructor while working on his doctor's degree at the U. of M.

A captain with the 20th Air Force during World War II, he served three and a-half years with the Army Air forces.

Named by Emerson to the position of referral consultant in the new program is Mrs. Helen Sanford. She has been a visiting teacher in the county during the past eight years.

First function of the newly created department, said Brown, will be "to find and classify all atypical children in the county."

"We will be assisted by the Oakland County Health Dept. and local school authorities in determining who these children are and where they live," said Brown.

The one-half mill voted for this program will not be available until next March.

"Therefore," said Brown, "contracts with local boards of education having programs now in existence will extend the benefits of Public Act. No. 18 (special education act) starting in Sept., 1955."

Boards not having special education programs, will have the benefit of the survey findings before making a contract with the county Board of Education, administrators of the program.

Two years ago educators and lay groups in Oakland County initiated a proposed special education program.

County Superintendent Emerson headed a survey to determine the number of children who did not receive an adequate education in this county.

They drafted a proposal to finance and administer a program on county basis.

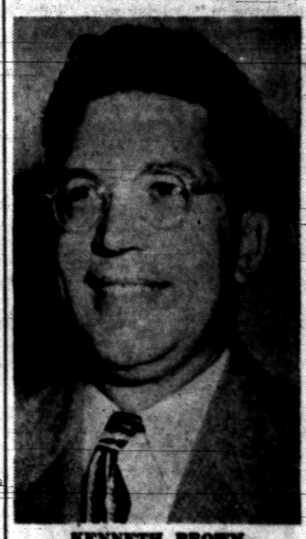

It was commended by the State Department of Public Instruction and presented for legislator approval by Oakland County Representative William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak.)

Unanimous endorsement was given the Special Education Act No. 18 by both the House of Representatives and the Senate and then approved by Governor G. Mennen Williams, who hailed the proposal as "one of the finest programs I have reviewed."

School superintendents from the county who worked during the formulating of the special education program have been asked by the Oakland County Board of Education to serve as an advisory committee. They are: Milbourne P. Anderson, Berkley; O. E. Dunckel, Farmington; Donald C. Baldwin, Rochester; Roy E. Robinson, Ferndale, William Shunck, Waterford Township, and Glenn Schoenhals, Southfield Township.

Brown has announced also that Mrs. Elizabeth Bathes will serve the program as a visiting teacher during this coming year.

The department's headquarters are on the sixth floor, county building.

Legionnaires May Leave New Hat Style in Capital

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — What's new in Washington.

If the legion leaves nothing else behind at this convention, it perhaps will leave a new design for ladies' sun hats.

The chapeau is called a parasol hat. Shut, it looks like a closed, small umbrella without a handle. Opened, it becomes a hat.

The new commander-to-be will have to get used to nothing but fried chickens, peas, mashed potatoes, and ice cream. When he is touring around the several states, according to the retiring chief, Arthur J. Connell of Connecticut, that's just what they serve.

Connell, incidentally, shook so many hands during the past year, that he thinks it will take him a year of soft living to get rid of the calluses.

Jack Cejnar, assistant director of publicity for national legion headquarters in Indianapolis, likes to tell about the day before he and other officials left for Washington.

A headquarters telephone operator, Margaret Campbell, stepped into the push-button elevator with a lady with fluttery hands.

Margaret asked the stranger which floor and she said "Two, please." The telephone operator pushed the "two" button and said, politely, "You look like somebody I know."

"I am," answered the guest.

It was Zazu Pitts.

Members of the legion were not too much worried about the threat of a hotel strike when they arrived ahead of convention time. Seaborn P. Collins, of New Mexico, one of the candidates for commander, told me:

"Any doughboy or GI who doesn't know how to make a bed or lug a duffle up a few steps doesn't deserve to be here."

In the old days, hotels used to cut the corners out of the paper laundry bags to keep the legionnaires from pitching the sacks out of windows (full of water) onto the heads of those below. The hotels didn't think it is necessary this time.

Many of the drum and bugle corps are so proud of their appearance that they brought their own tailors and pressers for pants and coats. Plus boot-blacks.

One official of the legion estimated that the initial cost for the drum and bugle corps ran well into the millions. That is just for the uniforms and bugles.

Some of the fanciest of uniforms cost as much as $300 apiece. That doesn't count transportation and about $17 a day per man for board and bed.

The office of Theodore John Christensen, which contracted to put up all of the bunting for the convention, ran into a little trouble when it opened up temporary headquarters in Georgetown.

Tables were necessary. So were a lot of phones. The neighbors looked in and the cops came. The cops thought it was a new bookie joint.

Barefoot Girl With Coat of Mink

Many Men Drawn to Ava

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—"Quick," whispered Mickey Rooney to an MGM studio press agent, "I want that girl's telephone number."

Love again had found Andy Hardy.

And U.S. headline writers discovered an irresistible Ava Gardner. She had just been introduced to film star Rooney on her first tour of the MGM studio after being signed there — the year was 1941—as a $50 a week Hollywood starlet.

The press agent got Ava's number for Rooney—and it's obvious quite a few other gentlemen, from movie profiles to millionaires and Spanish bullfighters, have written it down on two continents during the past 13 years.

Courted by many men, gorgeous, green-eyed, brown-haired Ava has married three of them — Rooney, Artie Shaw and Frank Sinatra. Now it's rumored that bullfighter Luis Miguel Dominguin will be husband No. 4.

The men in her life have meant many things to Ava Gardner and may explain many things about her.

She married Rooney in 1942, over MGM's objections, and divorced him in September of the next year. In a 1947 interview she told me:

"Being married to Mickey was like being married to a child."

She has also said: "We didn't have a chance. We were babies. There was even a studio press agent with us on our honeymoon."

But to pint-sized Rooney, Ava throws a garland for helping her on the tough highway to movie stardom. "He didn't understand marriage but he sure understood show business. He taught me everything," she says.

Just a year after marrying much-married Artie Shaw in 1945, Ava asked for Divorce No. 2. High-brow Artie who plays low-brow music, it developed, made a serious mistake.

He tried to educate Ava, who admite she had read only one book, "Gone With the Wind," before she became Mrs. Shaw.

They took books with them on their honeymoon and later Ava was so impressed that she enrolled in a college correspondence course.

She still laughs about the day she bought "Forever Amber" and brought it home. "Artie saw it and made me throw it away, saying: 'I don't ever want you to read such trash'."

It was a howl for Ava when Shaw later married the book's authoress, Kathleen Winsor.

When Artie and Ava's marriage cracked up, she told friends she was near a nervous breakdown and went to a psychoanalyst. In the divorce court, she said:

"He told me to leave, so I left." A month after the marriage, she further testified, "his attitude toward me changed. He became completely utterly selfish."

But the headlines inspired by her two marriages and divorces were mild compared to the Page One team of Ava and crooner Frank Sinatra, whom she married in 1951 after he divorced Nancy, his wife of 11 years.

First it was their hectic romance, with poetry-writing bullfighter Mario Cabre getting into the act as a rival suitor while Ava was starring in "Pandora and the Flying Dutchman" in Spain.

There were headlines at the time of the wedding when Frank threatened photographers, and more headlines when attorneys questioned the validity of his Nevada divorce.

And there were headlines for two years and nine months as Ava and Frank fought and made up in Hollywood, in New York, London and in Spain, at hotels and at airports.

Front page news stories told about:

Ava's announcement in Acapulco that she was "fed up with his profane word fights with reporters and photographers" (after the crooner destroyed some film of them taken in the Beachcomber night club).

A police-refereed row at Sinatra's Palm Springs home when the singer asked both Ava and Lana Turner to leave. Ava's appearance with Frank a few nights later at a political rally and her introduction of him as a "wonderful, wonderful man."

Frank's quotes from New York: "We're having oral battles, but I'm nuts about her."

Ava's quote in answer to motherhood rumors: "I just wish I were expecting." A friend's announcement: "She really wanted to marry Mario Cabre."

All of her ex-husbands—Rooney, Shaw and Sinatra—worked in Nevada night clubs during her six-week residence and Frank's only comment about the final crackup of the marriage:

"Remember, I have a career, too. And I have a temper, too. That's all I can say."

(Tomorrow: Ava Gardner as Hollywood sees her.)

FIRST LOVE — Ava's husband No. 1 was Mickey Rooney. Here they are in 1942, when Mickey plunged her into the headlines.

MILLIONAIRES TOO—Men in Ava's life have included millionaires like Howard Hughes. She's come a long way since her date with him in 1946, when the photographer listed her only as "unidentified girl."

RETIRED, BUT WORKING—Leigh Young, retired University of Michigan professor retired recently, but didn't like it. He now enjoys life working as a parking lot attendant for the City of Ann Arbor.

Former Forestry Professor Now Tends Parking Lot

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Leigh Young smiles quickly when you ask him about his new job. "A man has to be useful," he says.

Young, who retired as a University of Michigan forestry professor last year, felt that the end of his active life shouldn't come at 70.

He had been an Ann Arbor alderman for seven years, mayor for four years, president of the city council for another four years, and one time director of the Michigan Conservation Commission. He had been associated with the university since 1911.

Today "Brig" Young tends the newest parking lot of the city's progress system in the downtown section. Inside his booth a clock ticks off the minutes and hours.

But meeting his friends as they drive in to park their cars is more than a job to Young. For more than a year he looked for a way to splice together a life of public service.

He felt that he was still able to be of service, even though he had run into the university's arbitrary retirement age. "I come from a line of long-lived ancestors," he says.

Young tried California. He and his wife, Frances, even went to Florida. But Young looked across the vacationlands and said, "what can I do with myself here."

So when they returned to Ann Arbor to be near their children and their grandchildren, Young was asked by city engineer George Sandenburgh: "How about working for me—I worked for you long enough."

For Young it meant meeting old faculty friends and associates under new circumstances. But it also meant the end of idleness he didn't want.

Now five and a half hours a day, six days a week, he walks or drives the two miles to the lot.

He plays golf in the afternoons despite a near fatal heart attack in 1947.

Young says that the game of golf teaches a man how to hold his temper and be patient. He still pars holes on the tough, long university golf course.

New County Cancer Unit Organized Here

By GEMMA STRIFFLER

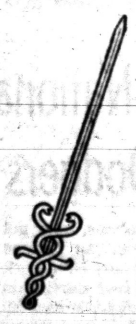

Nearly 100 persons gathered last night to approve the organization of the North Oakland County Unit of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the American Cancer Society.

The group met at the Pontiac offices of the society at 66 West Lawrence St. and heard the report of the planning committee.

The committee has been working for some weeks on the type of permanent organization which was thought to serve best the interests and needs of the North Oakland County area.

The following will be the first to act on the board of trustees, with other names to be added shortly:

Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Dept.; Dr. Richard Olsen, Bloomfield Twp.; Mrs. Robert Waters, Clarkston; James Farley, Commerce Twp.; Mrs. Walter E. Lentz, Holly; Jay Leipprandt, Lake Orion; Edwin Johnson, Milford; Mrs. Lee Van Wagoner, Oxford; Mrs. Charles Burgess, Rochester; Howard Parr, South Lyon; Mrs. Ray Kingsbury, Waterford Twp.; Mrs. Clarence Patterson, West Bloomfield Twp.; Norman Buckner, Mrs. Ted Koella, John Madole, Francis Miller, Dr. Kenneth VandenBerg and Mrs. Harry Striffler, all of Pontiac.

Mrs. Koella is temporary chairman of the board, which will meet soon to elect permanent officers.

Edward W. Tuescher, of Detroit, executive director of the Southeastern Michigan Division of the ACS; Miss Beb Adams, field coordinator, and Miss Elizabeth White, director of services for the division and Miss Esther Kelley, national representative from New York City, have assisted the local committee in forming the permanent organization.

Dr. Monroe opened last night's meeting, with Dr. Harry M. Nelson, former president, and a member of the executive committee of the National American Cancer Society, discussing the work of the organization.

The sole purpose of the society, he stated, was the control of cancer. Although the society was founded only 40 years ago, much progress has been made, especially in the last nine years.

The national society collects statistics on mortalities and cures, and encourages cancer research. Nearly 1,800 grants and 85 clinical fellowships have been awarded by the ACS.

It also has a training program for physicians, dentists and nurses to aid them in the detection and diagnosis of cancer.

The ACS encourages and fosters the establishment of detection clinics and also has a service program promoting aid to the individual victim of cancer.

Research and statistical work with other countries is part of the national work. The society feels that eventually all of these combined goals will effect the control of the disease.

Dr. Nelson brought it to the group's attention that only $18 million is being spent in the U. S. yearly on cancer research whereas the U. S. in one year spent $40,000,000 on hoof and mouth disease.

He stated there are 225,000 cancer deaths each year in the U. S. and that 23,000,000 citizens of the U. S. who are alive today will die of cancer if the present rate continues.

The research on the relationship of cigarette smoking to cancer is far from conclusive, he said. Work on the survey is being continued, conducted by volunteers, as the cost would be prohibitive for the society otherwise.

Dr. Olsen, co-chairman of the Oakland County Medical Society's Cancer Committee, outlined the cancer control facilities now available to North Oakland County residents, and the needs of the area.

He reviewed the dark ages of cancer when victims concealed their troubles and doctors could only stand and watch. Eventually, the public was awakened by a surge of publicity. He stated that cancer attention must not wait for symptoms but that each suspicion must be acted upon.

Relative to this county, the doctor said that approximately 50 per cent of the cancer cases could be cure; that there are adequate X-ray machines available with fine technicians; that physicians are good and that the public is now interested.

The county lacks a setup for smear examinations on a routine basis, not just for suspect cases, as now, Dr. Olsen said. And much more education is needed which could be accomplished via films and talks, he added.

He emphasized especially that interest and consideration must be shown in those cases which are incurable.

Tuescher spoke on the ways in which the ACS can help to meet the needs of the area and the work ahead for the North Oakland Unit, especially the necessity for committees in the various localities, such as education, service and publicity.

The ACS is a member agency of the Pontiac United Fund and a substantial portion of its budget comes from this source.

All those interested in the work of the American Cancer Society are invited to contact the offices at FE 2-5620. Many hours will be needed from volunteer workers.

Cement Truck Kills Man

LEONIDAS (AP) — Marshall Trumbull, 67, of nearby Athens, was fatally injured Monday when his car was struck by a cement truck on a rural road, four miles from Leonidas near the Branch-St. Joseph County line. Police said he drove in front of the truck while turning left into a driveway.

Beats Cardinals

Johnny Antonelli NL's First 20-Game Winner

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Johnny Antonelli stands today as the National League's first 20-game winner this season and the front-running New York Giants' first southpaw to reach the magic number in 17 years.

The lefty turned in his 20th win, against only three defeats, last night as he held the St. Louis Cardinals to four singles for a 4-1 victory.

Antonelli, only 24, came to the Giants in a deal last Feb. 1 with Milwaukee as outfielder Bobby Thomson went to the Braves. With Milwaukee last season, he racked up a 12-12 record.

Carl Hubbell, now in the Hall of Fame, and Cliff Melton were the last New York southpaws to turn in 20 wins. Both accomplished the feat in 1937.

Bob Lemon of the American League Cleveland Indians is the only other major league pitcher to win 20 this season. He turned the trick on Sunday.

Antonelli, who has pitched five shutouts and seven one-run games among his victories, said in the clubhouse the mark was "the big thrill of my life."

"Twenty victories is the mark of stardom," Johnny said, "I don't remember when I first started to want to win 20 games, but it has always been my aim."

An odd twist to the Antonelli-Thomson trade in the winter developed when Thomson smacked a 3-run homer to help the Braves beat second-place Brooklyn last night and restore the Giants to a 2½ game lead after a doubleheader split on Sunday had cut it to only 1½ lengths.

Remember?

This star ball player of the 1930s hit an even .300 in his 1st full season in the major leagues and was a World Series star the same year. Always known for his hustle and base-running ability, he also was a fine hitter. He bettered .300 7 times during his playing days, all with the same National League team. His identity is found on today's final sport page.

New Mexico 11 Will Try New Jersey Numbers

'Contour' Digits to Be Used by Lobo Gridders for Easy Spotting

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—The University of New Mexico football team will conduct an experiment with jersey numbers this fall that may change the usual practice of using block digits.

New Mexico university art professor Ralph Douglass maintains so many of the figures have the same block origins and outlines, that, when a jersey becomes wrinkled or dirty, a three can look like an eight, a two a five.

Members of the UNM athletic department were intrigued with the idea.

They secured permission from the national rules committee to use the "spotter" numbers on an experimental basis, provided opponents on the Lobos' home schedule didn't mind.

Opponents in the Skyline Conference and non-conference foes were contacted. They gave their permission and the Lobos will wear the new numbers this year.

It's all done by contours.

Unwelcome Perfume!

LANSING (AP)—John Weiler, manager of the Algonac State Park, regretfully reported to the State Conservation Department that conservation law violators can now smell him coming as he makes his rounds.

Weiler explained that his car was christened by a skunk.

"It's hard enough," he wrote, "to catch violators under ordinary circumstances. Usually, they either see you or hear you, but now they can smell trouble approaching. I'm thinking of selling my car for the good of the service."

New Yorker Captures 1st NSSA Championship

By H. GUY MOATS

While the sub-small gauge experts and the sub-junior and women's junior shooters were busy today shooting for these coveted honors, one Nathional Skeet Shooting association champion has his honors tucked away for this year.

Igor Pezas, 30-year-old shipping operator in New York outshot a really fine field Monday to capture the National Gun Handicap title with a fine 98x100. Shooting at the elusive "blues" on a windy day was a real job, but Pezas was good enough to beat a field of 150 shotgunners of quality. Four shared the runnerup spot with 96s.

Dividing second money were Willard Moshimer, Detroit; Dick Hocker, Muskegon; Leslie B. Ponder of Amita La., and Bill Schaeffer, Bridgeport, Conn. A 5-way split occurred for third, with Pontiac's Bob Thiefels breaking 95 for a share with Charlie Balch, Tulsa Okla.; Dr. Ward Williams, Rochester N. Y.; R. J. Lytle, Detroit and B. E. Williams, Davison.

Mrs. C. A. McDowell, Shreveport, La., one of the national's prettiest contestants, shot her way to the top of the feminine contingent with a sparkling 96x100.

The pros were paced by duck-hunter Wilbur Cox, Wilmington, Del., who fired 87x100.

Tempo of the 15th annual championships at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford, was expected to quicken greatly today and Wednesday. But the big "blow" was due to arrive in full power Friday when most of the "big shots" will be in action. They were arriving today in droves.

Private automobiles, trains and planes were bringing the country's finest scattergun exponents. So heavy has been the air-travel that OCSC's committee, headed by Jim Ashmore, chairman, has arranged a regular shuttle service to pick up and deliver contestants at the scene of the circus-atmosphere event on Townsend Lake.

Looks like there's a good story, with a lot of human interest about everywhere a nosy reporter turns, out at the site of this unusual, colorful affair.

For instance, more than 5,000 cards bearing names of NSSA members are in the files of the association, and all are right there ready for perusal. "Perhaps few, outside the NSSA," says Mrs. George White, (Dallas, Tex.) who handles the records, with her husband, "know that we have active members in Sweden, Venezuela, South Africa, Hawaii, Germany, and Japan, besides those in Canada, Mexico and Porto Rico." Many service teams are represented in the memberships.

"Just because the nationals are held here" Mrs. White added, "we have had hundreds of new members signed up out here."

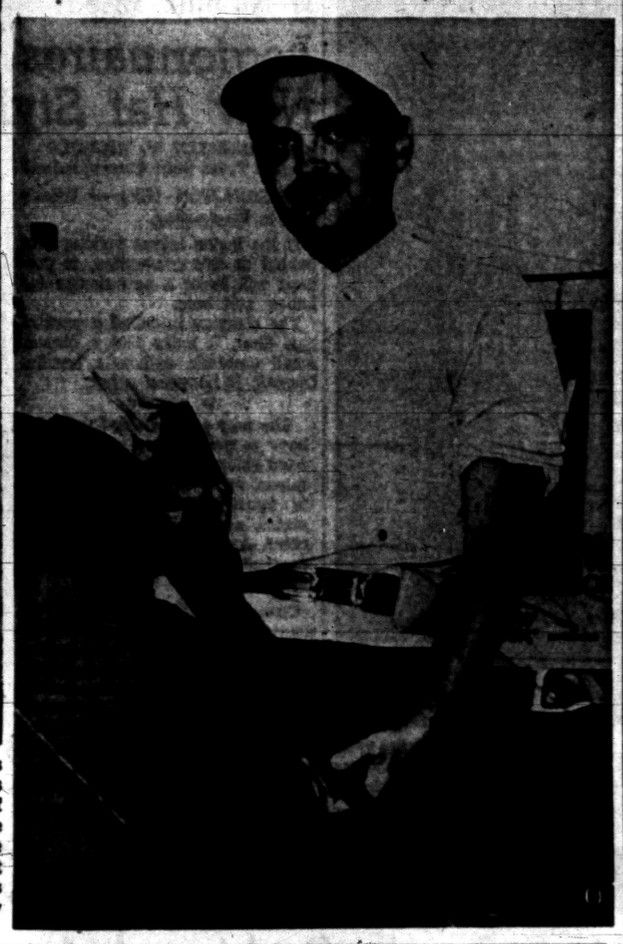

Close to $18,000 worth of sterling silver and gold trophies decorate a large niche in the OCSC clubhouse. This reminded a NSSA official that Sen. Joseph George of Maryland, one of the "fathers" of the association, has won so many trophies that his collection has been insured for $10,000. The former legislator is well up in the seventies, but still shoots along with the field. He's here now, but believes there are others in the list here who could lay claim to more years that he carries so lightly. A couple of these veterans are A. C. Weaver of Seattle, Wash., and S. H. Gripp of Houston Texas.

They've everything in the line of championships at this tremendous event. Such as the husband-wife division, title to which is held by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alford of Dallas, Tex., and who are here to make defense of that coveted crown.

They go all the way down to 9-year-olds. And an Oakland County boy can claim the honor of being the youngest, and the smallest shooter. But little Edward Brown, one of three skeet-shooting sons of William A. Brown, 916 Suffield, Birmingham, handles a shotgun like a seasoned veteran. He didn't have to take a back seat, Monday, for anyone. His capable brothers are Leland (call me Bud), 11 and Bill, 12, the oldest. Their father is no tyro at the skeet fields, either.

BIG GUN, LITTLE ONE—Comparative sizes of the shotgunners competing in the 15th annual National Skeet Shooting Association's championships is shown above. The big fellow is Graham Steele of Ft. Sumner, New Mexico. He is 6 feet 5½ inches tall. The little fellow is 9-year-old Eddie Brown of Birmingham. Graham is the NSSA's tallest and Eddie is the meet's littlest and youngest. At right is the first champion determined in the current test. He is Igor Pezas of New York Cty. Pezas won the National Gun Handicap, Monday with 98x100.

High Guns for NSSA Opener

Top shooters in Monday's round of the National Skeet Shooting Association's 15th annual championships are as follows:

Winner, National Gun Handicap—Igor Pezas, New York, 98x100.

Women's high gun—Mrs. C. A. McDowell, Shreveport, La. 96x100.
Professional—Wilbur Cox, Wilmington, Del., 87x100.
Other scores from this area:

W. A. Brown, Birmingham, 90.
Leland Vandenwater, Waterford, 89.
Bob Wagner, Perndale 88.
Sam Schmidt, Hazel Park, 83.
Ruth Van Kirk, Birmingham, 82.

Red Sox Star Suffers Injury

Ted Williams' Birthday Marred by Bad Bump on Left Shin

BOSTON (AP)—Slugger Ted Williams is a doubtful starter tonight as the Boston Red Sox try to shake a three-game losing streak against Chicago's White Sox at Fenway Park.

Williams' 36th birthday celebration was marred yesterday as he suffered a bad bump on his left shin in the fifth inning of the 5-4 loss to Cleveland.

Ted drew two walks and then singled before getting hit by a foul ball off his bat in the fifth. Williams finally grounded out but had to leave the game.

Red Sox physician Dr. Timothy Lamphier and Trainer Jack Fadden said the shin ballooned up with a lump as big as a baseball, but X-rays were negative.

Oddly enough Williams' birthday is listed in the official American League Red Book, Who's Who in Baseball and the Baseball Register as Oct. 30, 1918, not Aug. 30.

Pollard Won't Return to NFL From Canada

Fleet Halfback Center of Dispute Between BC Lions, Philadelphia

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Al Pollard, fleet halfback whose longest run so far this season has been from Philadelphia to Vancouver, said last night he wouldn't return to the National Football League team he jumped "no matter what."

Pollard is the center in a dispute between the NFL Philadelphia Eagles and the British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

The Eagles, who have Pollard's name on a 1954 contract, said earlier yesterday they would sue the Lions and Coach Annis Stukus for damages over an alleged breach of contract. They said they would take the case before a United States bench because Eagle Secretary Joseph Donaghue said, his club "cannot expect justice in Canada."

"They'll have to get me down there first," Pollard said. "What's wrong with them anyhow? They've got lots of good players. They're just trying to stop me from making a living."

Pollard, who provided needed backfield spark for the Lions, picked up about 60 of the 98 yards they gained rushing against Winnipeg Blue Bombers Saturday night. Last night he caught four passes as Lions dropped a 17-0 decision to the Saskatchewan Roughriders.

The 195-pound backfielder said he had been in contact with Lions officials earlier this summer, but remained with Eagles "to see if I got a fair shake. I did not, so I left them." He did not elaborate.

"I'm not going back, you can be sure of that," he said.

Writers Visit State Elevens

Touring Scribes Get Preview of Candidates at Michigan, MSC

By UNITED PRESS

A delegation of Midwest sports writers was given a preview today of the football candidates at Michigan State college and the university of Michigan, the state's two members of the Big Ten.

Kenneth (Tug) Wilson, Big Ten commissioner, escorted the visiting writers onto the practice fields at Ann Arbor and East Lansing for the traditional interviews and picture-taking that herald another football season.

Delegation first called on coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his squad at the University of Michigan, then moved on to East Lansing for a session with Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty's Michigan Staters.

Oosterbaan introduced a 68-man squad that included 19 returning lettermen.

Daugherty, who inherited a championship team from ex-coach Biggie Munn, had nearly 70 players on parade for the newsmen.

'Kid' Ready for 8th Defense

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and challenger Johnny Saxton moved into town today both planning to take things easy until they meet at Connie Mack Stadium tomorrow night in their scheduled 15-round title bout.

Gavilan, 28, is at least a 2-1 favorite to turn back the title bid of Saxton, sixth ranking welterweight challenger. The champion will be making his eighth defense since becoming welter boss in May, 1951. He holds a big edge in experience with 116 fights, 98 victories, 14 defeats and 4 draws. Saxton, 24, has won 44, lost 2 and drew twice in 48 outings.

Promoter Herman Taylor estimated a crowd of 15,000 will pay some $80,000 to witness the nationally televised fight (CBS). The Philadelphia area is being blacked out of the television circuit for a radius of 90 miles with the exception of New York. Radio broadcast is local only.

The champion is reported in fine condition. His handlers say the Cuba Keed has had no difficulty paring down to the 147-pound welterweight limit and that the hand he claims to have injured while training for last April's middleweight title fight with Carl (Bobo) Olson has healed.

Gavilan, who reportedly lost a lot of money recently, operating a song and dance troupe in his native Cuba, will draw 40 per cent of the net gate, plus a goodly share of television and radio money. Saxton is to receive the usual 20 per cent challenger's cut.

However, although Taylor—promoting the bout jointly with the International Boxing Club of New York—says he has no knowledge of any personal financial deal between opposing managers, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, pilot of Saxton, says he has guaranteed the Gavilan camp $40,000 in lieu of receiving both fighters' shares.

The Brooklyn challenger's only pro defeats were at the hands of Gil Turner, who was kayoed by Gavilan in 11, and Del Flanagan, the No. 2 ranking welterweight. Saxton has scored 19 knockouts in his brief career, while Gavilan, not noted for a chilling punch, has finished off 27 opponents.

Georgia Tech's Dodd Has Wealth of Grid Talent

By MERCER BAILEY

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgia Tech's 1954 football fortunes, like those of many other Southeastern Conference schools, are tied to a hard core of veterans and a supply of shining sophomores.

Coach Bobby Dodd has a wealth of talent to work with—provided the youngsters come through—and he plans to put more emphasis this year on a two-team system of substitution.

Standouts among the veterans are All-America center Larry Morris, guard Franklin Brooks and halfback Billy Teas. Tech coaches rate Brooks as one of the greatest linemen they have ever seen. Teas, a strong, speedy runner who last season for the first time developed a good sense of balance, can go all the way, inside or out. As for Morris, who shines brightest as a linebacker, his All-American ranking as a junior speaks eloquently enough.

Losses of several key players weakened Tech — by about two touchdowns, Dodd says.

Kennedy Shooting for 13th Straight

DETROIT (AP) — With only a draw marring his record, unbeaten Alan Kennedy of Bay City, Mich., shoots for his 13th straight victory tonight in the featured fight at Motor City Arena.

Kennedy meets Ralph Capone of Chicago in a six-round welterweight scrap. Capone's pro record is 13-3-1.

In a six-round co-feature, Yama Bahama of Bimini, Bahamas, goes against Chicago's Carlo Sarlo, who has won all 12 fights as a pro. SPT.

Gromek, Fricano Draw Fines for Starting Brawl Sunday

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit Tiger pitcher Steve Gromek was fined $100 yesterday by the American League for his part in touching off a 5-minute brawl Sunday which spread to fist-swinging between the Tigers and the Philadelphia Athletics.

Also fined $150 was A's pitcher Marion Fricano who was on the other end of the Detroit incident.

Gromek charged at Fricano during the 1st game of a doubleheader Sunday after Fricano hit him in the ribs with a pitched ball.

Fricano also hit Cass Michaels of the Chicago White Sox Friday night. Michaels is in a hospital with a skull fracture as a result. It is expected to sideline him for the rest of the season. Gromek and Michaels, who both live in Detroit, are good friends.

American League President Will Harridge wired Tiger Manager Fred Hutchinson in Washington that Gromek was being fined "for his conduct in charging Fricano which precipitated a brawl."

In a similar telegram to A's Manager Eddie Joost, Harridge said:

"Although the umpires do not charge Fricano with deliberately throwing a so-called beanball, their reports definitely charge him with throwing at the batters. If this practice continues it can only result in serious consequences and tactics such as employed by Fricano will not be tolerated in the American League."

Fricano and Gromek wrestled on the ground as players from both teams swarmed onto the infield and staged a free-for-all. Both pitchers were ejected from the game.

Fricano said he didn't throw "dusters" at Gromek and Harvey Kuenn, Detroit's shortstop who narrowly escaped getting hit earlier.

"How can they say I was throwing at batters?" he asked. "Are they mind-readers? As a matter of fact I did not throw at either Kuenn or Gromek Sunday. Anyone observing closely in the 1st instance or following logic in the 2nd, would know that whatever happened was not intentional."

Detroit Lions Cut Roster to 40 Men

YPSILANTI (UP)—Detroit Lions departed for an exhibition tour in the West today with their football roster cut to 40 players, seven over the limit.

Coach Buddy Parker announced Monday the Lions had sold defensive ends Frank Wodziak of the University of Illinois and Harold Turner of Tennessee State to the Cleveland Browns for a draft choice and an undisclosed amount of money.

Meanwhile, the world champion Lions asked waivers on Cecil Buster Graves, a tackle.

Giants Will Be Leading National League Friday When They Clash With Dodgers at Polo Grounds

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

No matter what happens now, the New York Giants still will be in first place when they collide head on with the Brooklyn Dodgers in their three-game showdown series starting Friday in the Polo Grounds.

The margin might be as small as two percentage points. It could be as much as 2½ games. But big or small it will be the Giants on top with the Dodgers trying to climb.

The Dodgers, who had been burning up the West like a prairie fire, ran afoul of an old Brooklyn killer from several seasons back last night and dropped a 7-5 decision in Milwaukee.

The Giants whipped St. Louis 4-1 with Johnny Antonelli becoming the first National League pitcher to win 20 games. New York is now 2½ games ahead of Brooklyn.

The Cleveland Indians, who put their 4½-game American League lead on the line against New York in a three-game series starting in Yankee Stadium tonight, wound up the Boston end of their season yesterday with their 11th victory in 11 starts against the Red Sox at Fenway Park.

They came from four runs behind to nip the Sox 5-4 with a five-run rally in the seventh. Baltimore won its third straight from Washington 3-1 and Cincinnati made it five in a row with a 5-1 triumph over Philadelphia in the only other major league action.

Aging Heinie Majeski, slashed a three-run homer during the Cleveland uprising. Five of Cleveland's 10 pitchers saw action, starting with rookie Ray Narleski and ending with Mike Garcia.

Bob Turley of the Orioles had a no-hitter working until Jim Busby bunted safely in the sixth, but he had to strike out pinch hitter Maury McDermott with the bases loaded in the ninth to preserve his 11th triumph.

* * *

Another one of those three-run homers that figured prominently in yesterday's games came in the Cincinnati victory over the Phils. Jim Greengrass hit this one during a four-run Redleg rally in the sixth.

Yesterday's Stars

PITCHING — Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants, gave up only four singles in beating St.Louis 4-1 for his 20th victory. He is the first National League pitcher to win 20 games this season and the first Giant lefthander to win that many in 17 seasons.

BATTING — Bobby Thomson, Milwaukee Braves, hit a 3-run homer that brought the Braves from behind to a 7-5 victory over Brooklyn.

Brundage Finds Russian Sports Really Amateur

Olympic Chief Gets Information in Trip Through USSR

NEW YORK (AP)—As far as Olympic chief Avery Brundage, one of the world's foremost proponents of pure amateurism, is concerned, there is no taint of professionalism among the Russian athletes who will participate in the Olympics.

Brundage collected his information first hand during a three-week trip through Russia.

He told a news conference yesterday that he had been assured by Russian sports chief Nicolai Romanov that the country's gigantic sports program abides by amateur rules.

"And I saw nothing on my trip to make me question this," he said. "Of course, there undoubtedly are some abuses in Russia as there are in all countries. Everywhere in the world I am reminded of American college football scholarships and asked if that is pure amateur sport."

* * *

He said he presented Romanov Western European papers stating with clippings from American and that Russian athletes are supported by the state.

"Romanov denied any professionalism," Brundage said. "He said Russian athletes must place their education and their jobs ahead of sports.

Brundage said that the Russians are not even committed to participate in the 1956 games at Melbourne. Diplomatic relations between Russia and Australia have been broken off because of a spy case. When Brundage asked Romanov specifically about 1956, the Russian merely said:

"It is a long way off and many things can happen in between."

Indians Hoping to Sweep Set, Clinch Pennant

Stengel Confident His Men Will Again Come Through

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cleveland Indians came roaring into the big town today intent on leaving Thursday night with the scalps of the New York Yankees hanging by their belts and the American League pennant wrapped up in a neat bundle.

If the Indians sweep the three-game set starting tonight, they will have increased their lead over the Yanks to 7½ games, and it will be next to impossible for Casey Stengel's Yanks to catch them with time rapidly running out.

At the moment the Indians are 4½ games in front and the heat is on the Yanks. To stay in the running, they must take at least two out of three against the big three of Manager Al Lopez's pitching staff — Early Wynn, Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon.

In fact, the Indians have only one disadvantage. The remaining schedule favors the Yanks somewhat. After they pull out of New York, the Tribe heads directly for Chicago.

"Our schedule doesn't worry us," said Lopez. "We're just taking them as they come day by day. That's the way we look at this next Yankee series. We're rolling along fine. There's no sign of strain and we are confident we'll win.

"While you're looking at the schedule, you might notice how many games we have at home after Labor Day. Once we leave Baltimore after the holiday doubleheader, we have only three games left to play on the road. These are in Detroit."

In the enemy quarters, Stengel gazed out at the leaden skies and snapped:

"We've already picked up two games on the losing side since we came back to New York. These men have come through for me every year for the last five, so why shouldn't they come through the sixth year?"

Fake Injuries Out

EAST LANSING (UP) — The Michigan High School Athletic Association has adopted a resolution by the NCAA opposing the practice of feigning injuries to gain a time advantage in football, Dave Arnold, assistant director of interscholastic athletics announced today.

Michigan State has a whiz of a pitcher in sophomore Eddie Hobaugh, of Ford City, Pa. He has five no-hitters to his credit.

Mrs. Fries, O'Dell Win Sunday Races

Mrs. Glenn Fries Jr. skippered "Jo-Dee" to victory Sunday in the Lightning class feature of the Watkins Lake Yachting Association races.

Sheldon Covert finished 1st among the small boats and Don Zannoth won the Thistle Class.

Larry O'Dell swept both the morning and afternoon races at the Pontiac Yacht Club. Charles Buck and Andy Roualet were 2nd and 3rd in the morning race and Roualet and Al Oberson placed 2nd and 3rd in the afternoon event.

Satterfield Kayos Daniels, Now Aims for Title Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Win or lose, belting Bob Satterfield does it sensationally.

Action plus is the motto of the dynamite-fisted, china-chinned Chicago light heavyweight contender. Either he knocks the other guy out or he winds up on the deck himself.

So far this year, 30-year-old Bob has had five fights. He was flattened in two by Ezzard Charles in February. Since then he has racked up four straight victories via the kayo route. Frankie Daniels of Bakersfield, Calif., became No. 4 last night at 2:44 of the seventh round at St. Nicholas Arena.

Now ranked as the No. 6 contender among the 175-pounders, Bob said he'd like to meet champion Archie Moore or any of the five ahead of him — Harold Johnson, Joey Maxim, Paul Andrews, Floyd Patterson and Boardwalk Billy Smith. If not them, any of the heavyweights, especially Hurricane Tommy Jackson.

Satterfield, who weighed 179, staggered the bicycling, clowning Daniels in almost every round but he couldn't floor him until the seventh.

Troublesome Senators Play Hosts to Tigers in 3-Game Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit Tigers, hanging in 4th place in the American League by only four little percentage points, tonight take on the Washington Senators, a troublesome package since the season started.

While the Tigers remained idle yesterday, Boston Red Sox, a team which has been crowding them for 4th place for a month, gave Detroit a boost when they were beaten by the league-leading Indians, 5-4.

However, the fact that Washington is in 6th place, 4½ games behind Detroit, doesn't seem to bother the Senators. They have beaten Detroit 10 times in 17 meetings.

Detroit also will meet Washington Wednesday night and Thursday before returning to Briggs Stadium for a three-game series with Baltimore Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

Van Dyke Fitzgerald Boasts 2 Championship Coaches

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Some high schools are having difficulty lining up football coaches for the coming season.

Not so with Van Dyke Fitzgerald. Here's a school that has not one, but two championship coaches on its staff.

Head coach is Paul Smarks, who directed the Spartans of Van Dyke Fitzgerald to a share of the Oakland B Conference last fall. As an assistant he will have Jerry Udell, former fullback at the University of Detroit and Central Michigan College who last year piloted Detroit St. Joseph to the City Parochial League's First Division championship in Detroit.

A coach at Flint Tech until 1951, Udell steered St. Joseph to the East Side baseball title in 1953. This past spring his St. Joseph team tied for the East Side diamond crown, but lost in a playoff.

Smarks is a veteran of 25 years in the state's prep ranks.

When he coached at Lapeer, he developed Johnny Wilson, who later became a star at Michigan State.

Smarks, who last spring declined a bid to become an assistant coach at Michigan State, hopes to win one more championship for the Van Dyke fans, who built him a football field and plant costing more than $21,000.

The little bachelor is eligible for retirement, but is expected to become a full-time athleic director in 1955, a job he now handles in addition to his football coaching chores.

Aussie Coach Praises Hoad

Declares He's Much Better Player Than He Was in '53

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—No one would be so brash as to call Australian Davis Cup Coach Harry Hopman "Happy Harry," because that's one thing he is not.

Hopman, however, saw cause to day to throw a few compliments to Lew Hoad, the strong boy of his allstar delegation at the National tennis championships which entered their third session with all the seeded players still in the running.

"I think Hoad is a much better player today than he was a year ago," said the usually reticent Hopman. "Some people find that hard to believe, but he is."

This came in the wake of Lew's narrow squeak over Sid Schwartz in his first appearance of the year on the polished center court at the West Side Tennis Club Sunday. Hoad had to huff and puff and finally won out at 10-12, 6-0, 6-4, 6-4. It was a second round match since both drew first round byes.

National PGA Tourney at Meadowbrook in '55

DETROIT (UP) — The 1955 National PGA championship golf tournament will be held at Meadowbrook Country Club July 20-26, the club announced today.

Dates for the tourney were arranged mutually by the PGA and the country club. Meadowbrook vetoed the Fourth of July weekend, the regular date for Detroit's major pro tourney.

Don't make the mistake of regarding yourself as another Lew Worsham, but the wedge is one of the prime attacking weapons of modern good golfers.

It should not be employed for distances of more than 100 yards.

It is essentially a finesse club.

It is used in sand traps and from places just off the green, depending on how high the grass is.

In each case, it is used differently. In sand, hit behind the ball with maximum power. Get through the sand to give impetus to the ball.

The wedge can be valuable when you are overlooking a downhill green because you get backspin and less roll.

Another in a series written by the U. S. Open champion for NEA Service. Next: The putter.

Today's Identity

A member of the St. Louis Cardinals' "Gas House Gang," he played briefly with the Cards in 1928 and '30, but was a full-fledged rookie in 1931. After batting .300 while the Cards won the pennant, he wrote his name among the all-time World Series greats by leading the 7-game victory over the Athletics. He stole 5 bases, batted an even.500 and his 12 hits included 4 doubles and a homer as he scored 5 runs and batted in 5. It's the "Wild Horse of the Osage," John (Pepper) Martin.

Victory for Layne

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP) — Rex Layne, displaying unusual stamina, carried the fight to young Chuck Woodworth of Provo, Utah, for a full 10 rounds last night to win a unanimous decision.

Layne weighed 208 to 180 for the former Joplin, Mo., fighter. Woodworth, although considerably outweighed, made a fight of it all the way, with hit and run tactics.

Jim Hill, returning to pro football as halfback with the Cleveland Browns, was nicknamed "Iron Claw" in his college days because he was almost infallible as a pass receiver.

Tenseness or Fear Result in 'Shanking' Golf Drive

By SAM SNEAD

Of all the bad shots, the shank is the worst. But even the best players will occasionally shank a ball — hit it weakly to the right. What happens is that the ball is struck with the shank, or the neck, of the club.

There are two reasons for a shank — tenseness, and fear of swinging the club. Both should be easily overcome. Here are some things you can do about it.

After much talk about bringing the club back inside the line of flight, perhaps you're bringing it back too far inside. Maybe you have picked a club not quite suitable for the distance, and you lunge at the ball in a fit of overanxiousness.

Sometimes you can shank when you fail to pivot, or when you suddenly think you need more distance at the top of the backswing and hurry your downswing.

And one final thing to check. If you are shanking, your left arm may be getting away from your body—it may be too far away from your body at impact. Today's player is keeping his left arm (A) properly close to his body on the downswing. His weight is on his heels (B) so he won't lean over the ball too far.

Noren, Snider Retain Top Hitting Spots

NEW YORK (AP) — As the 1954 season swings into its final month, Irv Noren of the Yankees and Brooklyn's Duke Snider still remain ahead in the major league batting races.

Noren, who found himself pressed by Minnie Minoso of the White Sox a week ago, again has taken a comfortable lead in the American league. Yankee outfielder is hitting .341 and is 10 points in front of runnerup Bobby Avila of the Indians.

Snider withstood a challenge by Stan Musial of the Cardinals and currently tops the national league with a .349 mark.

Michigan Man Alternate on Antelope Hunt Team

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — Fred Bear of Grayling, Mich., will be an alternate on a four-man bow and arrow team which begins the annual one-shot antilope hunt tomorrow.

Another four-man team with rifles also will compete against the bowmen. The hunters are given only one arrow or bullet with which to kill their antelope.

Phillies' Robin Roberts May Wind Up With Title of 'Gopher Ball Leader'

NEW YORK (AP)—Robin Roberts, the hard-working Philadelphia Phillies' righthander, who has led National League pitchers in many categories the past few years, could well wind up with a title he doesn't want this season—"Gopher Ball Leader."

Roberts, in 275 innings, has yielded 30 homers, the senior circuit's top total, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today. He has already given up as many home runs as he did throughout 1953.

In the American League, rookie Arnold Portocarrero of the Philadelphia A's has been the softest touch with 23 homers allowed. He has worked 195 frames while compiling a 7-15 won-lost record. Detroit's Ray Boone has been Arnold's particular nemesis with five "home runs off."

Roberts, his league's pace-setter in games won in 1952 and '53, has been tagged for eight homers by the Brooklyn Dodgers and seven by the St. Louis Cardinals. He has won 18 games and dropped 13.

Warren Hacker of the Chicago Cubs, the National League's leader last season with 35 gophers, and Brooklyn's Carl Erskine are tied for second with 28 each.

Steve Gromek of Detroit is runner-up to Portocarrero in the American League. He has permitted 22 homers in 218 frames and has a season's 15-14 won-lost slate.

Mike Garcia, of the Indians, has given up the fewest homers among regular major league moundsmen—three.

Detroit claims to be the hottest golf center in the U.S. with the United States Golf Assn. deciding (Aug. 23-28) for the eighth time its 1954 amateur championship at the Detroit Country Club. Twenty major golf titles have been decided on that course.

DETROIT (AP)—Richard "Dixie" Blandy of Dayton, Ohio, calmly shifted from one foot to another today atop a 50 foot flagpole at the Michigan State Fairgrounds.

Blandy, 52, a former flagpole painter, climbed up on the pole yesterday. He stands on a small two feet square platform and says he will not come down for at least eight days. He was hired to publicize the state fair which opens Friday.

"I'll stay on top of the pole until my feet swell so badly I can't take it any more," Blandy says. "then I'll come down and go to a hospital for treatment."

MGM to Cast Van and Gene in Musical

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—I laughed when I was told by MGM that Van Johnson will be teamed again with Gene Kelly in the new musical, "Music to the Ear."

Considering that Van is just half way through "End of the Affair" with Deborah Kerr in England, then has "River of the Sun" to make in South America in conjunction with the Brazilian government, and is also nominated for either "Picnic" or "Pal Joey" at Columbia, I asked:

"Pray tell me when Van and Gene will do this musical?"

The answer made sense—it isn't scheduled until '55. The idea of re-teaming Van and Gene came following the previews of "Brigadoon" in which both boys are so good.

Olivia De Havilland had to wear a patch over her eye all the time she was before the camera in "That Lady" in London.

Now she'll have to turn blonde in "Not as a Stranger" and talk with a Swedish accent.

Livvy arrives here Sept. 12 and she told Stanley Kramer that she will not wear a wig. She prefers to dye her hair. Also, she'll have intensive coaching in acquiring a Swedish accent.

Edna and Edward Anhault, who adapted "Not as a Stranger," turned in a 150-page movie script from the 945-page novel.

What's going to really happen to Dick Haymes? That's the question many people asked me in New York and in my home town. Dick's now in Nevada with Rita Hayworth, but the minute he steps foot on the California side he'll be nabbed by officers who are waiting to put him in jail for failure to pay child support to Joanne Dru for their three children.

How did Dick, who made a lot of money, get in such dire circumstances? How did Rita Hayworth get so mixed up that even her closest friends throw up their hands?

I felt sorry for both of them in the beginning. I still feel sorry for them, but I do think that Rita owes it to her children to get out of this mess.

Here's the 999th story about Greta Garbo since she's been in town. Seems G. G. was dining at Holiday House and asked Boniface Dudley Murphy if he knew of a suitable beach house she could rent.

Whereupon Garbo smiled and cracked, "But Dudley, I don't want to be alone!"

2 Girls Touring America, Eating and Sleeping in Car

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

GLACIER NATIONAL PARK, Montana (INS)—"For our first 12 days of touring," the pretty girl said, "we only laid out 50 cents between us for lodgings!"

Thus began one of the high spots in my information-gathering of the summer, and fittingly enough, it came at Heaven's Peak on Glacier's famous "Going to the Sun Highway," when we got talking to two girls from our home state.

Lois Kirby, 24, and Barbara Collins, 22, were both from Lewiston, N. Y. Lois taught first grade, and Barbara had recently been graduated from State Teachers College at Buffalo. In their gay sports outfits they were both cute-looking enough to get whistled at from coast to coast, and probably had.

"Whew," I said after the 50 cent tidbit. "How'd you manage the other times — tents, or family friends en route?"

They took us around to the rear of their '49 Plymouth coupe, raised the luggage compartment lid and revealed how they'd solved their housing problem for a two-month tour of the whole U. S. A.

"Lois' dad did it," Barbara said —"It" being an inch-thick plywood platform the width of the car and stretching right through the innards from rear bumper to where it hit the front seat.

"Here's our air-mattresses," Lois said, "and air-pillows. And dad also rigged up this canopy of netting to keep us from being eaten alive."

"It's just so cozy," I said. Then I went stern all over, and asked, "What was that 50 cents extravagance for?"

The girls laughed. "That was a fee in a state park," Barbara said. As a rule, they both agreed, they "liked state parks better than the national parks—you don't feel so crowded and jammed together, and there's free wood for fires."

The girls then took my sons and me around to "their front door." Inside the coupe, we saw a small ice-box, a Coleman stove, and a stack of cans, boxes and utensils —all fitted into every available inch of space.

"We buy ice at 2 or 3 cents a pound," Lois said, "and sometimes we get a lump free." The stove used white gas, whatever that is, and their menus were usually "hamburgers, beans, lots of bread, milk, coffee—not fancy, but just great if you feel starved."

What about laundry, hair-do's, manicures and such all summer long I wanted to know—as if practicalities like those could possibly faze either of these bright-eyed young adventurers.

"I shampooed my hair," Barbara said, "in a mountain stream last night."

"Right here in Glacier? But the water's icy—"

"I heated up enough water," she said. "Once, we both went swimming at dawn in a municipal fountain—that was in the Middle West, though, and hot!"

Manicure and laundry presented no more insoluble a problem than showers or shampoos. "It's the most fun," one of the girls ended, "at any price, that either one of us ever dreamed of having."

"At what price, for instance?" I explained that writers really did have to dig for brass tacks—"Everybody who ever wants to tour the country on a real budget," I said, "would love to know."

"It comes to $5 a day for us, and $5 a day for the car—just a real 50-50 deal."

They'd left home with $500 in Traveler's Checks, and their pantry stocked up for the first week or so. They expected to get home, after two months of seeing the great scenic wonders of the nation, with mighty little left but experience and joy.

"Do your parents worry about you at all?".

"Heavens, no," they said. "We promised to write at least one card every night—and we kept our promise."

"Good girls," I said, and I meant it in more ways than one.

The average American who has reached 50 years of age can expect to live to be 75 years old.

SIDE GLANCES — by Galbraith

Grains Showing Some Pressure

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains tilted a little lower in an uneventful trade on the board of trade today. Losses were limited to fractions in most cases.

There wasn't any real selling pressure. However, several brokerage houses were recommending that customers accept profits accruing from the recent price advance. Meanwhile, export business and commercial support for the market remained disappointingly light.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to ⅞ lower, September $2.14¼, corn ½ to 1 cent lower, September $1.66¼, oats ⅜ to ⅝ lower September 74¾, rye 1 to 2 cents lower, September $1.31¼, soybeans 1 to 2¼ lower, September $3.02½ and lard 12 to 47 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $16.40.

Mart Lowered by Fast Selling

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market slumped today with trading hitting a fast pace.

In the early afternoon, prices were down 1 to 3 points in many sections of the list.

Trading stepped up to a pace better than two million shares. Yesterday's total in a falling market was 1,950,000 shares.

Aircrafts were under selling pressure early in the session, and the steels soon joined them as selling targets. The railroads a little later took their place on the selling side.

All other major divisions of the market were lower but without running into any selling distress.

The fall was regarded as part of the reaction which started last week after the market reached a 25-year high. So far in the reaction, there has been no urgency about selling.

Among stocks down 1 to 3 points were Boeing, Bell Aircraft, General Dynamics, Republic Aviation, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Southern Railway, Katy preferred, Seaboard Railroad, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, and Montgomery Ward. Also lower were American Telephone, Radio Corp., Westinghouse Electric, and New York Central.

Northville Oil Production Limited by State Order

LANSING (AP) — An emergency order limiting the production of oil and gas in the new Northville field has been issued, Conservation Director G. E. Eddy said today.

To protect the field from possible waste of pressure, operators of producing wells were limited to 200 barrels of oil per day and 1,000 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil.

The emergency order is effective for 21 days. It may be followed by a permanent order after a public hearing in Lansing Sept. 17.

The three producing wells in the field have been limited in recent weeks by an informal agreement among the operators.

Starting Weight Was 75 Pounds

He Got His 'Bolo' Punch by Cutting Sugar Cane as a Child in Cuba

NEW YORK — Kid Gavilan was born in Palo Seco, Camaguey Province, Cuba. His real name is Gerado Gonzales; ring name was given him by his manager after he turned professional—his manager owned a cafe called "El Gavilan," i.e. "The Hawk."

The first Cuban ever to win a world boxing title, Gavilan started fighting as an amateur at the age of 12—he's now 27. He weighed only 75 pounds when he started fighting but had a tremendously powerful pair of arms as a result of swinging a two-handed knife in the sugar cane fields since the age of nine. Gavilan won his first title at the age of 12—in a government-sponsored tourney.

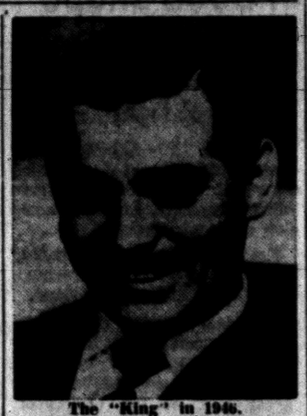

After the first tournament amateur boxing interest died in Palo Seco, but fighting was now Gavilan's main love and he became an itinerant amateur. He fought throughout Cuba, mainly for meals or trophies. He pawned prizes to make traveling and living expenses. Gavilan started fighting as a professional in 1943 winning four bouts, two by knockout. After a siege of malaria he returned to boxing late in 1944. In 1945, after 16 bouts in Cuba, he went to Mexico, lost his first pro match in that country but a month later reversed the decision.

Gavilan came to New York in 1946. His first fight here was a six round preliminary bout in Madison Square Garden.

He won the world welterweight crown in May of 1951 from Billy Graham in Madison Square Garden. He won on a split decision. After Graham, Gavilan defeated Bobby Dykes in Miami, Gil Turner in Philadelphia, and Billy Graham, again, in Cuba. After Graham, Gavilan beat Chuck Davey, Carmen Basilio and Johnny Bratton. He will be making the seventh defense of his welterweight title when he meets Johnny Saxton Sept. 1.

Gavilan's most famous punch is his "bolo," probably learned while cutting sugar cane. He brings his right hand up in a wide arch carrying it around and aiming it at his opponent's stomach or chin. Another fistic characteristic: the rhumba step he sometimes uses when he's ready to throw a punch.

Gavilan is rated the fastest puncher active in boxing today. His ability to take punishment has also been demonstrated. He's been knocked down only twice, once by Ike Williams and once by Carmen Basilio. He has never been knocked out. Gavilan's professional record includes 117 fights — 99 wins, 14 losses and 4 draws. He has scored 27 KO's.

Court to Decide on Immunity for Cpl. Batchelor

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An official in the court-martial trial of Cpl. Claude Batchelor must decide today this controversial question:

Did the Army promise immunity from prosecution to the corporal if he would return to the Allied side after deciding to stay with the Communists in Korea.

Batchelor's attorneys contend that such immunity was promised and have moved, therefore, that all charges against him be dropped.

The Army has maintained it never promised immunity for actions of POWs while they were prisoners of the enemy in Korea.

Lt. Col. Donald L. Manes Jr., law officer or "judge" in the court-martial, must rule whether Batchelor should be freed. The trial opened at Ft. Sam Houston here yesterday.

Batchelor, captured by the Communists in Korea, was one of an original group of 23 Americans who decided not to come back. While in Indian custody at Panmunjom, Korea, last Jan. 1, he changed his mind and returned to the Allied side.

THE DAIRY FARMER AND MILK MARKETING

Just what part does the dairy farmer play in supplying that always available bottle of pure fresh milk, without which our enjoyment of life would be seriously impaired?

We all know that milk comes from cows but it's a long way from the cow to the tables of the great majority of us. Not too long ago, there was a time when most people either owned a cow or obtained milk from a neighbor who did. But since the turn of the century, our population has been centering rapidly in cities until today a dairy cow is as remote from most of us as are foreign lands.

But with milk it is not so—milk is a part of our daily lives—on milk we depend for 30 per cent of the food consumed—and we know that milk is fresh, and pure wherever it is obtained in the Detroit area and environs.

The marketing of his milk supply is not a simple problem for the average farmer, especially if he is serving a big city where health regulations are strict and the greatest of care must be used in producing milk of highest quality and purity.

Of course there is an answer to these problems, otherwise, the dependability of your milk supply might not be certain as it is today.

That answer comes from dairy farmers banding together in a democratic way and maintaining an organization to cope with their marketing problems after they have produced their milk in accordance with all of the health provisions laid down by City, State and Federal authorities.

The vast majority of dairy farmers supplying the Greater Detroit market depend upon their cooperative organization in the disposition of their milk from the time it is placed on a hauling truck at their milk houses until the check for payment is received. The farmers have complete control of their association—only actual dairy farmers have a voice in its management and operating policies.

The Michigan Milk Producers Association is the dairy farmer's own answer to his marketing problem—"self-help" it could well be called through the medium of working together to attain a common goal.

Briefly here are some of the things Michigan dairy farmers are doing for themselves through collective effort:

Guaranteeing themselves a market for all of the milk they produce.

Guaranteeing themselves prompt payment in full every month for all milk shipped, with their own reserve fund for use in emergencies.

Operating their own quality control program, constantly seeking to produce higher grade products by means of research and education.

Checking both weights and butter fat content of milk shipped to insure accurate payments for both quantity and quality.

Operating under a plan of equalized production which levels the supply of milk throughout the year and protects consumers from shortages during the winter months when supply naturally is down. This method of production control, known as the "base and excess plan" has worked to the great benefit of the consuming public, as well as the producers, in the past, and has been widely copied throughout the country. It was adopted by the Michigan Milk Producers Association more than 20 years ago.

Maintaining a highly efficient transporation system.

Operating nine milk receiving depots throughout the producing area, which insures all dealers and distributors an adequate supply at competitive handling transportation costs.

Operating two manufacturing plants to process surpluses of milk whenever necessary. There always is a "flush season" in milk production and without these "stand-by facilities," large amounts of milk might be lost to the farmer members.

There are many other "self-helps" provided through this method of cooperation in a non-profit association—things which no individual farmer could do for himself. But, collectively, these farmers have solved many of their problems, which from the consumers' standpoint means orderly marketing at lowest possible wholesale cost of the most important of all foods—milk and dairy products.

Dairy farmers are using every means at their command to increase sales and provide an outlet for the high production brought about largely through the urging of our Federal Government. Until such time as production and sales are brought more nearly into balance, dairy farmers feel it necessary to look to the Government for some assistance in helping to solve the problem it was so largely responsible in creating. To have a sound total economy, the farmer must have prices for his products in keeping with labor's wages and the prices of all other manufactured commodities.

PARITY AND FARM PRICES

Parity means Equality. Parity is a word often used and almost as often misunderstood. Parity for Farm Products refers to a price to the farmer in keeping with the prices he must pay for all other commodities he purchases. Guaranteeing the farmer a percentage of parity makes it possible for the farmer to remain solvent, provided that percentage is great enough to let him break even on the crops he produces. Breaking even means survival at about the lowest level. It doesn't include increases in wages, extra pay for overtime nor paid vacations.

As of June 15, farmers were receiving an average of 88 percent of parity on all farm crops but MILK and DAIRY PRODUCTS brought only 82 percent of parity. With city wages still climbing, the farmer is getting less and less for his labor.

Dairy price supports have been severely criticized. Out of more than six billion dollars investment in farm commodities by the Commodity Credit Corporation on May 31, 1954, only $257 million was in storage butter or a drop in the bucket compared to the total.

Converting industry from a wartime basis cost the Government $65 billion. The Government's investment of about $6 billion in farm products compares with a $25 billion write-off on the wartime industrial accumulation.

Farming is an industry just as is building tanks or airplanes—increasing production rapidly is expensive—getting back from a wartime basis also takes time and money—the same protection is merited by the farmer as was and is being given to all other industries—that is Democracy.

New Color TV Line by CBS-Columbia

CHICAGO — A line of three, big-screen color television receivers, which start at $950 and utilize the CBS-Colortron "205" picture tube, was introduced here today by CBS-Columbia, the television and radio receiver manufacturing division of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The CBS-Columbia receivers are the first to take full advantage of the unique performance features of the CBS-Colorton "205" picture tube, which delivers a picture closest in size to the popular 21-inch black and white tube.

The line of color receivers consists of a table model receiver, an open-faced console, and a full-door, deluxe console.

CBS-Columbia president, Seymour Mintz, declared that the industry might conceivably produce 30,000 color receivers by the end of this year. He tempered this optimism, however, by pointing out that availability of color components was still a big obstacle to color production plans. Mr. Mintz said 30 to 40 million color television receivers may be sold by the end of 1960. Thereafter, he said, replacements can be expected at an approximate rate of six million per year.

State Military in Good Shape

Michigan's Guard and Reserves Could Put Up Plenty of Fight

DETROIT (AP)—Although President Eisenhower said yesterday the nation was lacking in reserve military strength, Michigan could give an invader trouble.

The biggest outfit, and one of the closest to battle preparedness, is the Michigan National Guard.

The 46th Infantry Division is the main unit in the guard. It has a complement of 9,899 officers and men and boasts a great part of the equipment necessary to ready it for the field — even 105-milimeter howitzers.

Michigan also has a National Guard Air Wing with 1,235 officers and crewmen in regular training.

The 70th Infantry Division, an Army Reserve outfit, is next on the ready list. Only key officers and men are necessary before the outfit could take the field against an enemy. Two regiments of Indiana troops are included in the 70th.

Michigan's Air Force Reserve, the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing, is one of the largest in the nation. More than 600 men are on the rosters, flying and maintaining modern jets.

The state also has a potent Naval Reserve with 1,800 officers and men attending regular drills in Detroit alone. Michigan boasts 15 Naval Reserve training centers.

There are also thousands of inactive reservists in the state. Every man drafted into military service since 1948 is automatically placed on the inactive reserve lists for eight years. They can be called back to active duty at any time during the eight years by presidential proclamation.

Local Resident Pays $115 in Traffic Fines

Henry Thomas, 24, of 85 Gillespie St., pleaded guilty yesterday to two traffic violations and was given fines and court costs of $115 by Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback.

Reckless driving cost Thomas a $75 fine and $15 costs, and a second charge of not having an operator's license brought him a $15 fine and $10 costs.

Faces Concealed Weapons Charge

Gordon B. Dean, 23, of 1769 Porter Rd., Milford, faced a second charge of carrying a concealed weapon Monday after Pontiac Police found in his possession a homemade dagger Sunday night when he was injured in a three-car accident at Telegraph Rd. and Orchard Lake Ave.

Dean suffered minor injuries when he struck two halted autos. He pleaded innocent to drunk driving and demanded examination on the weapons charge. Failing to post a $100 bond on either count, he was returned to Oakland County Jail pending trial Sept. 9.

Police said the dagger was hidden in a toy doll, enclosed by a zipper.

Two motorists complained to police that Dean failed to stop while they were waiting for a traffic light change. He struck the rear of both cars at the same time, police said.

Overheated Motorist Cools Off Forcefully

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A policeman who spotted a motorist whamming away at his stalled car with a baseball bat in 98-degree heat got a simple explanation.

"It got overheated," said the driver. "I guess I got overheated, too."

"I've cooled off now," the motorist told Officer Lyle Fagan as he drove away.
