

Hoffa Losing Nationally, Wins Here

Cost of School to Be Lower Than Estimates

Firms Bid $3,025,000 to Build Upper Grade Structure in City

The new Pontiac high school will cost about $3,025,000, three per cent less than the architect's estimates on the basis of bids opened last night. The figures will be presented to the Board of Education tomorrow night.

Eight firms bid on the general trades portion of the building with the low bid of $2,043,000 submitted by Spence Bros. of Saginaw.

Next lowest bidder was Bryant and Detwiler, of Detroit, $2,047,055.

The low bidders' prices on four alternates to basic specifications were as follows:

Alternate 1 (steel sash instead of aluminum), $8,000 more.

COSTS MORE

Alternate 2 (terrazzo corridor floors instead of asphalt tile), $29,000 more.

Alternate 3 (a 300-car parking lot), $26,000 more.

Alternate 4 (acoustical corridor ceilings), $9,500 more.

Bryant and Detwiler's bids on the same alternates were: 1. $9,622; 2. $23,402; 3. $26,154; 4. $8,090.

Eleven bidders sought the mechanical trades contract, with the low bid of $592,500 coming from Brodell Plumbing and Heating Co., Roseville.

The firm's price for Alternate 3 was $4,230.

The electrical trades brought seven bids with the low one of $333,154 offered by Hamill Electric Co., of Detroit. For alternate 3 the firm asked $4,000 more, while for alternate 4 they subtracted $600.

A separate item, not included in the high school cost, was for kitchen equipment. Low bidder was Gold Star Products, of Detroit, with $43,781. Six bids were received on this contract.

METAL LOCKERS

Another separate item was metal lockers. Lyon Metal Products, Inc., of Detroit, was low with a bid of $23,400 among the three submitted.

Including some of the alternates, the total base bids were $3,025,000, compared with the advance estimate by Eberle Smith and Associates, of Detroit, the architects, of $3,125,000.

Construction of the new high school, with an initial capacity of 800 students, is expected to begin this year and completion is scheduled for the fall of 1958. The school will share the 107 acre site now occupied by Madison Junior High School.

Newspapers Get Major Edsel Ad Assignment

DETROIT — Newspapers "as usual" will get the major share of the advertising expenditure to be used this fall to launch the Edsel automobile, according to Robert F. G. Copeland, assistant general sales manager, Edsel Division, Ford Motor Co.

"When the budget is spent we will have more money behind this car than any brand new car has ever had put behind it," Copeland said.

Ike Lauds National Merger

Two Denominations Form United Church of Christ

CLEVELAND (AP)—A major new church — molded of the diverse elements of two historic old denominations — emerged on the American scene today.

President Eisenhower sent his commendations, saying: "Now, together, your services to God and neighbor will gain new strength and inspiration."

Merged into a single communion were the national bodies of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Affected are about 1,400,000 Congregationalists and 800,000 E. & R. Church members in 8,311 congregations across the country.

Their new denomination: The United Church of Christ. It was ushered into being last night with pomp and worship and solemn vows.

Standing before the assemblage, the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, a long-time leader in the unification move and now president of Harvard Divinity School, spread his hands and prayed.

"O Lord . . . speak peace and ever deeper mutual understanding to us in the years to come . . . Seal our covenant and bless our communion as we yield ourselves to Thee . . ."

Some Reject Merger

Five Congregational Churches in Oakland County have rejected the merger with the Evangelical and Reformed Church. They are the Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Lathrup and North Church of Southfield. Pontiac Faction Snubbed in Bid to Oust Chieftain

Insurgents Vow They'll Continue Their Fight to End Trusteeship

An officer of the Teamsters International has snubbed a faction of Pontiac Teamsters in their campaign to end James R. Hoffa's trusteeship over Local 614 here.

A spokesman for the insurgent group accused John F. English, secretary-treasurer of the huge union, of "passing the buck" to Dave Beck, Teamsters' president.

English wired a rank-and-file committee: "Trusteeships of local unions are not the jurisdiction of the general secretary-treasurer. Any decision with respect thereto must come from the office of the general president."

William F. Bellinger, of Drayton Plains, and a leader of the anti-Hoffa fight, said he believed according to the International Constitution English has jurisdiction.

"We feel that he has let us down in not taking some action," Bellinger said. "And he's passing the buck right back to the man we're trying to get around."

Leaders of the move charge international officers as far back as 1953 with refusing to sympathize with their grievances. They seek also an election from among their rank-and-file number.

Bellinger said the group would now appeal to George Meany, president of the Joint Council of the AFL-CIO.

"If we don't get anywhere here," he said, "we're going to have to rely on the McClellan committee to come here and bring things in the open."

The group had picketed the Pontiac headquarters at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd. for nine days seeking settlement of the grievances.

When union officers stood pat, they looked to English, reportedly Beck's number one foe, for the help that didn't come.

Showers, Storms Due in Area Tonight

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts scattered showers and thunderstorms this evening with a low of 53 to 58 degrees.

Tomorrow will be mostly fair with a high near 80. Temperatures are expected to average near or just below the normal 82 high and 61 low for the next five days.

Showers are likely again Saturday and Monday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 62. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 78.

Still Time to Guess Weather

Hear ye, Hear ye, all the local gentry! It's still not too late to submit that entry for the hottest moment in July contest.

You have until 2 p.m. this Saturday to mail or to deliver in person your forecast of the month's top mercury reading.

The take in this suspenseful guessing game is a bona fide $100 savings bond, and what one of us wouldn't sacrifice about 30 seconds to try for a stake that high.

It's easy and exciting!

All we need is your name, address, and forecast, a.m. or p.m., of the July high on a post card.

In case you've forgotten, the address is:

Weather Man

P. O. Box 40
Pontiac, Michigan.

Remember, only one entry per person. In the unlikely case of a tie the prize will be split.

Most of us have experienced enough Michigan summers to have some idea of the temperatures recorded on July's scorers.

Even a wild guess, and you just might nail the hot spot on the nose. Who knows?

That $100 Government Bond is just waiting to be eased into some lucky winner's wallet.

Federal Jury Again to Hear Cheasty Testify

Union Boss Accused of Planting Spy to Get Senate Unit's Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lawyer-investigator John Cye Cheasty, the chief prosecution witness, takes the stand for the second day today in the conspiracy trial of No. 2 Teamsters Union Chieftain James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa's federal court jury has received testimony the Midwest Teamster boss wanted checks made on his own lawyer and public relations adviser as well as investigating senators.

Hoffa and Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, are accused in the trial of planting Cheasty on the Senate Rackets Committee staff to feed Hoffa back its secrets, particularly what might be dug up on the Teamsters Union.

Cheasty testified yesterday that he and Fischbach went to Detroit to see Hoffa last Feb. 12.

He said Hoffa agreed to pay Cheasty $18,000 to get hired as a staff investigator of the Senate committee and slip Hoffa what he could find out.

CHECK UP

Among other assignments he got from Hoffa, Cheasty related, was to "check up" on Edward Cheyfitz, a lawyer-public relations man. Cheyfitz is associated with Edward Bennett Williams, Hoffa's attorney at the present trial. Cheyfitz formerly handled public relations for Teamsters President Dave Beck.

Also, Cheasty said, Hoffa wanted him to find out "what Bob Kennedy is doing visiting Ed Williams' home twice a week." This referred to Robert (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Teamster Brewster Guilty of Contempt

WASHINGTON (INS) — Federal Judge John J. Sirica today found Teamsters Union Vice President Frank W. Brewster guilty on 31 counts of contempt of Congress.

The judge announced his decision after rejecting a defense motion for further delay pending new arguments based on recent Supreme Court decisions on contempt cases.

Brewster was not present in the courtroom. He had been excused by the judge so he could attend a Teamsters Union conference on the West Coast.

The judge ruled that Brewster's $1,000 bond should be continued and delayed sentencing until he receives a report from probation officers, a general practice among district judges in Washington.

Brewster was charged with refusing on 31 different occasions to answer questions, produce documents, or identify documents or signatures before the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee in January.

Brewster's case next will be carried to the court of appeals and the labor leader will remain free on bond until the higher courts make a final ruling.

Police Officer Returns to Job

Suspended by Straley, Patrolman Put Back by City Manager

Suspension of Patrolman Louis Romeos by Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley was overruled by City Manager Walter K. Willman yesterday because of "a possible doubt as to the legality of the suspension," Willman announced today.

Romeos was ordered back on the job yesterday afternoon after a ruling of William A. Ewart, city attorney, Willman explained.

The suspension was protested by Paul L. Merideth, attorney for the Pontiac Police Officer's Association, who claimed the act specifies the suspension power rests with the appointing officer who is Willman and not Straley. Ewart agreed.

Willman said he plans no action against the chief for violating the law, but added, "He has my sympathy. I think the chief should have the power of suspension."

NO ASSIGNMENT

Romeos reported for his regular shift at 2:45 p.m. yesterday but was informed that he had no assignment. He returned to duty at 5:15, after Merideth and Willman talked over the law on the telephone.

Pontiac Awarded First Place Prize in Safety Contest

Pontiac has earned a first place tie with Roanoke, Va. in the 1956 National Pedestrian Protection contest sponsored by the American Automobile Assn.

City Commissioners last night were informed of the award. There were 197 cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 population class in which Pontiac's record was judged.

The commendation cited that a 45 to 50 per cent countrywide decrease in pedestrian deaths since 1937 was a "clear indication that improving pedestrian programs, such as yours, reflexes on a nationwide basis."

Crash Kills Pilot, Wife in Back Yard

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—A pilot and a farm wife were killed when a flaming Air Force jet training plane crashed near here yesterday, setting a farm house afire.

The victims were Lt. Donald G. Biedenbach, 25, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biedenbach, live at New Baden, Ill.; and Mrs. Slater C. Jones, about 70.

Mrs. Jones was feeding chickens in her back yard. Her husband, inside the house, was not injured.

The body of Biedenbach, his partly opened parachute still strapped on, was found about half a mile from the scene of the crash.

'Audrey' Menaces Louisiana, Texas

Hurricane Moving North

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Churning winds of the season's first hurricane moved menacingly toward the Louisiana and Texas coasts today, steadily increasing its punch to the 100-mile-an-hour mark.

The Weather Bureau, which placed the greatest threat along the Louisiana coast, estimated Hurricane Audrey's northward movement at about seven miles an hour and located the center more than 350 miles south of Lake Charles, in the western corner of the state.

The hurricane's movement was expected to veer toward the north-northeast tonight.

In an advisory at 5 a.m. EST, the center was located about 450 miles southwest of New Orleans, with indications pointing to a slow turn toward the north-northeast, the bureau said.

A hurricane watch was ordered along the Louisiana and Texas coasts yesterday and was continued during the night.

Winds hit the 100 m.p.h. mark late yesterday and a further buildup was predicted.

Gales extended outward 150 to 200 miles from the center and seas and tides were expected to increase along the Texas and Louisiana coasts. Small craft were advised to remain in port and ships in the path to exercise caution.

Chick Uses Initiative

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—W. B. Saxon says he placed an egg in a nest back of his house to lure his hens to use it. The hens refused and the egg lay there for several weeks, getting the hot sun almost daily. Late yesterday, he found a freshly hatched chick in the nest.

Where Canal Work Was Completed 130 Years Ago

Marker Designates Historical Spot

By JOE HAAS

The first of 49 markers to designate historical spots of statewide significance is being erected today at the Rochester state park. The work is a project of the Michigan Historical Commission.

This plaque marks the west end of the completed work on a canal that was to cross Michigan from Lake St. Clair to Lake Michigan. It was started near the mouth of the Clinton River 130 years ago.

FOLLOWED RIVER

The excavation was completed across Macomb County and into Oakland County as far as the present site of Rochester, largely following the course of the Clinton River. However, for several miles in Macomb County it left that stream and went directly across a rural section where it still remains as a big drainage ditch, with a highway along its banks.

This highway was originally the low path on which walked the horses and mules that provided the motive power for the canal boats.

While the marker is not located on the exact spot that the work was terminated, it is the logical location on account of being in the park and its ease of access.

PRINCIPAL PROJECT

The canal, which was to pass through Pontiac and be the principal project in a waterways system it was to be the outlet for Michigan's commerce was financed largely by capital coming from England.

It was abandoned with the advent of steam power and the coming of the railroad, which

Vice president of the state commission is Mrs. Donald E. Adams of Drayton Plains. Dr. George May of the state commission staff also comes here for the dedication ceremonies.

The Wisner Home on Oakland avenue in Pontiac is next in line among the Oakland County sites that also are deemed to have more than a local historical significance, and will later be given such a marker.

Ike Predicts 'Safe' H-Bomb

Experts Say They Can Perfect Nuclear Device 100 Pct. Free of Fallout

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower said today the nation's atomic scientists tell him that they will be able to build an H-bomb completely free of radioactive fallout if they can continue testing.

Eisenhower expressed hope that Russia also will learn to produce such a "clean" bomb so that there can never be the uncontrolled damage that could be spread by radioactivity in event of war.

The chief executive emphasized at his news conference, however, that he believes the United States should still go ahead working for an agreement for suspension of atomic tests.

He gave the impression that he may have changed his position somewhat on the pros and cons of the suspension issue after talking with three atomic scientists Monday.

ALSO COMMENTED

Eisenhower also had these comments on other subjects:

—There are no definite plans to reduce U.S. military forces in any country other than Japan, though conversion to modern weapons will eventually lower manpower requirements.

—Probably everybody has had very great trouble understanding some of the Supreme Court's recent decisions, but Americans should continue to respect the high tribunal.

—There is real danger of inflation unless both business and labor exercise statesmanship in holding off unnecessary wage and price increases.

By E. H. SIMS

For years people have argued the question whether the caterpillar can predict the kind of winter ahead. The argument has just about been settled.

The caterpillar, it seems, develops a wide brown band in the middle when a mild winter is ahead. That is what people have said for centuries, and no less an authority on weather than Eric Sloane, probably the most widely known expert on the subject, reports that scientific investigation of the old belief supports the folklore.

It is said that the caterpillar is one of the best of nature's clues to the coming winter. So look over the caterpillars before winter this year—or at least one of them.

If the brown band in his middle is wide, longer than the combined length of black on each end, then expect a warm winter. If the band is narrow, the coming winter will probably be severe. This caterpillar forecaster is known as the "woolly bear."

BREATHING RHYTHM — The pictures show the proper position of the head in breathing while swimming. Turn the head (top picture) out of the water and inhale through the mouth. Rotate the head (bottom picture) back into the water and exhale. This is repeated for each breath. The girl in the pictures used for illustration in the series has been Ann Pirochta, of 2785 Shimmers road, a Pontiac High School student.

Want to Get in the Swim? Learn Rhythmic Breathing

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a special series on swimming. Today's lesson will cover the mechanics of breathing while swimming, with discussion of the crawl stroke scheduled for Thursday and the backstroke for Friday.)

Having worked on floating and kicking, today we will cover breathing in the water — the final step before actual swimming instruction.

The key to correct breathing is establishing a rhythm which will allow you to exhale underwater and inhale while your head is out of water.

The first step is to pick the arm which you will breathe "under." As this arm comes up and out of the water in the stroke, your head turns to inhale, submerging as the arm cuts back into the water.

While that arm is pulling down and through, the breath is exhaled through the nose into the water.

As the arm finishes the propulsion stroke, it comes back out of the water and the head turns to inhale.

KEEP RHYTHM

This pattern is a steady, rhythmic progress, not a choppy, in and out movement.

To practice this breathing movement, again find some shallow water, about waist deep or so.

Bend forward until the top of the body is at surface level, as it will be while swimming.

Then slowly start the rhythm, inhaling on the recovery of your chosen arm and exhaling on its down stroke in the water. Gradually speed up the movement until

Patrolman Returned to Job by Manager

Service Commission said yesterday he did not think the commission would press charges against Straley for violating the act if Romeo was satisfied with Willman's decision.

Carlson, who was the first to declare Straley's action illegal, added the chief had violated the law in three aspects. He claims Straley has no authority to suspend an officer because that is the job of the city manager. Straley did not present the required list of charges to Romeo before he was suspended and, "in my opinion, I can't see any reason of insubordination."

"If certain people find themselves incompatible with the act, certainly resignations are in order," Carlson declared.

"The law is here to stay and we, as the commission, are determined to make it work. It's the only way we will get harmony in the department. Then the rookie can feel he has a chance to be chief as much as anyone else."

Wiersema's term will expire June 30, 1960.

New Member to Join Hospital Board, 2 Stay

Two former members were returned to the Board of Trustees of Pontiac General Hospital last night, along with a new member to replace veteran trustee Joseph Jones.

Re-appointed to new four-year terms beginning July 1 were the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach and Cecil J. Cosgrove.

Replacing Jones, of 85 Bagley St., and a member of the board since its inception in 1953, is Isaac Smoot, 40 of 246 S. Johnson Ave.

Asked why Jones failed to be re-named, Commissioner Roy V. Cooley, who nominated Smoot, said: "A little new blood is good now and then on the board."

NO SHAKEUP

He denied that the end of Jones' tenure signaled the start of a shakeup by the City Commission of the 11-member board which has often been rocked by dissension.

Rev. Allebach, pastor of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, and Cosgrove, a GMC Truck & Coach statistician, were two of four new board members appointed last December.

Smoot, a Pontiac Motor production worker and a shop committeeman for Pontiac Motor Local 653 UAW, will begin his four-year term July 1.

Jones is the first of the original seven members of the board to leave. He said he believed the change resulted from a hospital survey recommendation that no member serve more than two successive two-year terms.

Showers Pelt East, Midwest; West Stays Fair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain or thundershowers pelted parts of the East and Midwest today but mostly fair weather prevailed in the West.

Scattered showers and thundershowers broke out in parts of Minnesota and eastern North Dakota southward into northern Missouri and eastward across portions of the Great Lakes. Scattered thundershowers also developed in parts of Kansas.

Another band of rain dampened the North Atlantic coast states with occasional rain extending southward into sections of the middle and south Atlantic states.

Hurricane Audrey still made no contact with land in the Gulf of Mexico, but Texas civil defense authorities advised residents along the lower end of Bolivar Peninsula to evacuate because of possible high tides.

Girl, 10, Slain, Neighbor Held

Arrest Boy, 15, After Body Is Found at Edge of Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The body of a pretty 10-year-old Shirley Alice Kyle was found half a mile from her home on the north edge of Kansas City early today, and police arrested a 15-year-old neighbor boy with a record of molesting children.

The boy, Salvatore Joseph Falbo, was picked up in Kansas City after an intensive manhunt through the night.

Shirley's body was hidden in tall grass and underbrush of a ravine about six miles from downtown Kansas City.

Her green shorts and striped shirt were partly torn away. There were marks on her face, scratches on her arms and legs. Officers said there were indications she had been strangled and raped.

A throng of 200 searchers had hunted almost six hours after her mother, Mrs. Robert J. Kyle, reported her missing at 7:30 p. m. Deputy Sheriff John Pitts said an 11-year-old neighbor girl, Carol Clark, told him Shirley and a boy walked off toward a ravine after he told Shirley he wanted to show her something. Carol said she started to follow but the boy told her to go back. That was about 5:15 or 5:30.

Police checked Falbo's home. They reported his parents said he had come in about 6:30, cleaned up, dressed and left.

Authorities said his record of sex offenses goes back to 1954 and he has been under the care of psychiatrists. He was described as 6 feet tall and about 200 pounds. Shirley was about 4½ feet tall and weighed about 60. Her dark hair was in pigtails.

The girl customarily was left at home to care for a 5-year-old brother while her parents worked. Kyle, a mechanic, was in Columbus, Ind., on a reserve training mission with the 42nd Troop Carrier Wing.

Of Foreign Troops on Peninsula

Korean Reds Ask Pullout

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Communist North Korea today called for a broad international conference to arrange the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea and bring about a peaceful solution to the problem of the divided peninsula.

The demand, made at a meeting of the Joint Military Armistice Commission, was promptly rejected by the U. N. Command and as not a proper subject to be taken up at a military conference.

A few hours later Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, speaking to his Parliament in Peking, gave full support of the conference proposal and denounced U. N. policy in Korea.

The exchange between the U. N. and Communist officials took place across a narrow table in a hot, stuffy building in this truce village. Chung spoke for 15 minutes in Korean. His statement then was translated into Chinese and English.

The Day in Birmingham OK Fire Protection Action for City, Country Club

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — City commissioners have authorized Mayor William Roberts and City Clerk Irene Hanley to execute an agreement between the city and the Birmingham Country Club for fire protection service for that organization for the year ending June 30, 1958.

City and country club officers met last week to discuss continuation of fire protection and water service to the club, and an agreement was drawn up.

The country club has agreed to accept a slight increase in fire protection, bringing the fiscal rate to $640 for the coming year. The new fee is based on operating costs of the fire department's in-city service, pro-rated on the assessed valuation of the club as it would appear were the buildings within the city limits.

Lawyer on Stand in Hoffa's Trial

F. Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Hoffa told him, Cheasty said, he had arranged for "triple coverage" on the inside doings of the rackets probing committee headed by Sen. McClellan D-Ark. The two other sources, Cheasty said Hoffa told him, were to be "a fellow" on the staff of the late Sen. McCarthy R-Wis. and "one other."

Cheasty said Fischbach later told him "a girl on Capitol Hill" was feeding information to Hoffa.

Cheasty testified that as soon as he could, after returning from Detroit to New York following the conference with Hoffa, he secretly contacted the Senate Rackets Committee's New York office and told Kennedy all about his deal with Hoffa.

Sen. McClellan and Kennedy have said previously that they told Cheasty to "play along" with Hoffa. They allowed Cheasty actually to deliver secret committee files to Hoffa before he was arrested by the FBI on the present bribery-conspiracy charges.

For Sidewalk Superintendents:

'Watcher's' Club Reopened

NEW YORK (U)—A fancy club house for sidewalk superintendents will open July 2 alongside one of Manhattan's biggest holes in the ground.

There, construction buffs will enjoy their favorite pastime—watching other people work.

The hole has been dug for the foundations of the new 47-story Time & Life Building. The 70-million-dollar skyscraper will rise on 6th Avenue between 50th and 51st Streets.

The towers of Rockefeller Center are just across the avenue. The clubhouse marks the revival of the Rockefeller Center Sidewalk Superintendents Club.

PLUSH PAVILION

The plush pavilion will include a 65-foot-long observation deck covered with a candy-striped canopy and adorned with flower boxes.

Ten large picture windows will give "superintendents" a riveter's eyewall of the project.

A clubhouse hostess will hand out membership cards inscribed with the club motto: "The best pilots stand on the shore."

The club was founded in 1933 after a brush between capital and labor.

Capital, in the person of John D. Rockefeller Jr., stopped alongside a construction site in Rockefeller Center to do a little rubbernecking.

Labor, in the person of a construction worker, grabbed Rockefeller by the arm and growled:

"Keep moving, buddy."

Rockefeller went home and formed the club.

End British Control

Scotsman, Eight Irishmen Free Lakes of Killarney

PHILADELPHIA (U)—The Lakes of Killarney are free from British control for the first time in nearly 400 years, and it took a Scotsman and eight sons of the Emerald Isle to turn the trick.

Michael Francis Doyle, a Philadelphia lawyer who helped save Irish Prime Minister Eamon De Valera from the gallows back in 1916, disclosed over the weekend that he is one of nine new owners of the Kenmare estate, where two of the famed lakes are located.

the grounds as they have in the past.

The purchase price for the estate was reportedly about $240,000.

Doyle aided De Valera by finding a baptismal certificate in the records of a New York church in 1916. Since the certificate showed the Irish leader had been born in New York, the United States asked the British to commute the death sentence imposed on De Valera for his part in the Easter Rebellion of 1916. The sentence was commuted and "Dev" was freed next year in a general amnesty.

Chore to Find New Job for Long-Eared Worker

SANTE FE, N. M. (U)—Old Jack's job at the New Mexico state prison farm ran out and the chore of finding another job fell to state comptroller Ed Hartman.

To give Jack a break, Hartman tried the game department, to no avail.

So this week Hartman decided to sell Jack, all one mulepower of him, to Bill Kahn of Albuquerque. Jack was the victim of automation.

"It's getting a little embarrassing," said Hartman, a Republican. "We don't have much use for a Democratic mascot."

Allstate takes the red tape and high cost out of automobile insurance

Customer savings of more than 20% are commonplace

Founded by Sears, Allstate pioneered a new approach to insurance that has won nearly four million friends

You can buy over the counter at Sears, at Allstate Insurance Centers, or in your own home

You'll be a friend of Allstate's too, as soon as you become a customer—and realize the benefits you'll enjoy because of Allstate's new approach to auto insurance.

This approach, based on the small-profit, big-volume, low-overhead concept pioneered by Sears, boils down to this:

Cut red tape in paying claims . . . print policies in large type and plain language . . . make it easy to buy insurance in a relaxed manner.

How much can you save?

Allstate policyholders save different amounts, depending on different risk conditions and on where they live. The most common saving is 22% (some policyholders save as much as 38%) from rates charged by most other companies. You may save $25 or more.

How can Allstate do it?

Nearly $1 in every $4 spent with most companies goes to pay selling costs instead of to buy protection. Allstate's modern selling methods cut selling costs to the bone. You benefit by lower rates, bigger value.

Cuts red tape.

Allstate has more than 3,950 claims expeditors in the 48 states and Canada. Help is always as near as the nearest phone. And Allstate claims experts can often pay claims "on the spot."

Easy to understand policies.

Printed in readable type, understandable language. Illustrated, too. You know exactly what you're buying.

Low-pressure selling.

You can buy Allstate over the counter at Sears, at an Allstate Insurance Center, or in your own home. Allstate Agents are listed in the Yellow Pages of your phone book.

Today, with auto insurance costs rising, wouldn't it be wise for you to investigate Allstate before you renew your policy? Until you have the Allstate facts, you don't have all the facts about auto insurance.

This modern kind of automobile insurance brings these surprising benefits:

1. Allstate may save you up to 38%.
2. Allstate cuts red tape to pay claims faster.
3. An Allstate policy is easy to read and understand.
4. Allstate makes it easy for you to buy the convenient low-pressure way.

Philip Monaghan, 15, of Bloomfield Hills, practices for the Detroit Horse Show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Monaghan.

— the club mascot, and Mrs. E. W. Kreeger of Livonia. Both had youngsters entered in the team events.

McRae, historian; and Mrs. S. G. Warwick, parliamentarian.

Peter and Susan Fisher receive final instructions from Chuck Grant before they enter the team jumping event.

Area Riders Show Skill at Detroit Horse Show

By GRETA PORTER

They're off and running! That might well be the ringmaster's cry at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club. For this week the BOH is the scene of the Detroit Horse Show which began at the club Tuesday.

The show opened with junior equestrian teams competing in three divisions; the team jumping event, the junior "prix des nations" and the relay jumping teams.

The junior division provides competition and experience for young riders under simulated Olympic conditions. Some of the riders will be ready to participate in the 1960 Olympic equestrian events in Rome with seasoning such as is gained from the Detroit Horse Show.

These riders start their training early. Most of the junior equestrians began riding when they were about 10 years old.

Chuck Grant, who trains with the Irishmen—one of the teams entered in the team jumping event—explains that during the summer the youngsters work on equitation, jumping and dressage continually. His team, like many others, will ride in shows nearly every week from now until November.

BUSY SCHEDULE

To get an idea of a typical busy riding schedule, let's look at the Irishmen. They will ride in Jackson, Battle Creek and Metamora in the next three weeks.

Grant's team, which is headed by Olympic rider Howard Miller of Rochester, holds the North American junior equestrian championship. Rick Otto and Cynthia Campbell of Birmingham, together with Nan Barrett of Chicago (who is riding with the team just for the summer), comprise the Irishmen.

There are other equestrians riding in the Detroit Horse Show who are as well seasoned horsemen for their ages as the Irishmen.

Personal News of Interest in Area

Dr. and Mrs. Edward A. Christie are entertaining their daughters, Mrs. Harold Paul Mueller Jr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Bronsing, and their families at the Christie home in Bloomfield Village.

The Muellers and children, Michael, Harold Paul III and Tommy, are from Havertown, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Bronsing and daughter, Christine, are visiting from Berkeley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bronsing and children of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Bronsing Jr. and family from Whittier, Calif., gathered with the family for a picnic Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright of Birmingham celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with family and friends at a buffet luncheon.

Foundation to study at the University of Rochester in Rochester, N.Y.

He was one of 50 high school chemistry teachers throughout the United States selected to participate in the summer session.

Thomas G. Hawley, who was named outstanding actor of the year at Denison, has been awarded the Juliet Barker Sarett Scholarship for excellent academic work in theater arts at the Ohio university, according to Dr. Francis C. Bayley, scholarship chairman.

Thomas is the son of Mrs. Charles D. Hawley of South Cranbrook road.

Sheila Bals of Marquette street, a junior at Mercy

College in Detroit, was on the college's honor list for the semester which ended this month.

A son, Jeffery Armstrong, was born June 18 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Scott (nee Louise Waterbury) of DeSoto avenue.

Maternal grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Waterbury of Mark avenue. Roy Scott of Boyne City is the paternal grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Rindfusz of Nelson street are the proud parents of a daughter, Karen Patrice, born June 20 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bauley of Newport.

Take, for instance, Susan Foley, a 14-year-old from Birmingham, who has been riding since she was 10. Entering the team events for BOH, Susan rode "Steel Strike," a hunter horse.

There are Peter, 14, and Susan Fisher, 12. Both have been around the BOH for years despite their youth. Both Fisher youngsters, who live in Bloomfield Hills and train under Chuck Grant, rode in the team jumping event.

Peter rode his cousin's horse, "At Last," because his own "Reno Double Time," was lame. Susan was mounted on "Bumpy" for the jumping event.

Throughout the remainder of the week junior and senior classes and divisions of horsemanship will show some of the best riding in the country at the Detroit Horse Show.

Susan Foley mounted on "Steel Strike" waits her turn in the field jumping event at the Detroit Horse Show.

Tea Given in Honor of Mrs. Scantland

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Palack and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gazette gave a tea Sunday at the former's home on Squirrel court in honor of Mrs. Floyd Short president over the tea

The tea table was centered with a floral arrangement of sweetpeas and yellow daisies, flanked by tall tapered in crystal holders. Mrs. Malcolm Scantland who was re-

Family Labors for Dream House

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is an old proverb which says: "What will you have? quoth God: 'Take it and pay for it.'"

Much of the unhappiness I see around me comes from a desire to take it but not to pay for it. Unless we pay for it, we don't get it.

The other evening, for example, some people I know were talking about the joy of having a country place.

These are families with teenage children and fathers who work in the city. They get two, three or four-week vacations and go to the country; but they would all love to have country places where the wife and children could stay all summer and the husbands could spend weekends.

"But that, of course," one of them complained, "takes a small fortune."

COULDN'T HAVE IT
Mournfully, they all agreed that they couldn't have it.

The week before I had visited a family who have just such a set-up. The difference is, this family "paid for it." Their story is a perfect example of how to get what you want in this world.

The Smiths, as I shall call them, have three teenage boys. Mr. Smith's job calls for irregular hours, making it necessary for the family to live in the city.

However, the Smiths wanted country summers. They also wanted to invest in a place they could retire to, but on Mr. Smith's salary, and with three growing boys, there was little chance of building up enough capital to buy it.

So five years ago, they put their heads together and figured a plan. ROADSIDE STAND

They decided that if they could get a tiny piece of land on a well-traveled road in the country, they might set up a good roadside stand.

Mrs. Smith is an elegant cook and makes particularly good jams, jellies and preserves. She could make her specialties and the boys could grow things. By selling fruits, vegetables and preserves, they thought they might make a go of it.

For three years, they worked toward this goal.

They spent two vacations looking for a place. In her kitchen in the city, Mrs. Smith made small batches of preserves which she sold, putting the profits in the account for the roadside stand.

The boys got jobs, those three summers, and added their money to the project, too.

AN OLD BARN

Two years ago, they found the place—an old barn on a few acres along a good road. The boys and Mrs. Smith moved in and got things started. Mr. Smith came up on weekends to help.

Not a penny went to improve the living quarters; everything went toward the "business"—the roadside stand. The going was pretty rough for them, but they enjoyed every minute of it.

Today, they have a thriving business and now they are beginning to improve the house. But most important, they have what they wanted because the whole family paid for it!

If you're interested in a roadside stand, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet on this project. (Copyright 1957)

Wheat Prices Maintain Rally

CHICAGO (U) — Continued unfavorable prospects for the winter wheat crop in the South-west caused wheat futures prices to keep their rally going in early board of trade dealings today.

Prices weakened on profit taking after the early buying, however. Corn and oats were slightly weaker in early dealings. A weather bureau weekly summary indicating that corn planting is virtually completed caused some corn selling.

Soybeans showed little early price change. There are several bearish factors in this pit, including indications of a big crop and increasing receipts as farmers liquidate their large stocks.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to 1/2 lower, July $2.10; corn was 1/2 to 1/4 lower, July $1.29; oats were 1/2 to 1/4 lower, July 69 1/2; soybeans were unchanged to 1/4 lower, July $2.35; and land was five to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $13.00.

Old Cistern Serves Farmer as 'Shelter'

GRAND RAPIDS — Renovation of his old cistern as a tornado shelter may have started a trend for neighbors of fruit farmer Lyle Anderson of Sparta.

Anderson said the job hasn't cost a cent but provided a snug haven during a recent alert.

He pumped the cistern dry with a fruit spray rig and stocked it with containers of drinking water, blankets, tins of food and personal records and a transistor radio.

The underground chamber includes about 45 feet of floor space. It's enough for a kitchen chair and apple crates for seating occupants with sleeping space for the children. The cistern's former downspout serves as a vent.

The shelter is entered through the chimney-like cistern top. A discarded fruit picker's ladder forms the stairway.

The cistern is located at the southwest corner of the Anderson farm home. Anderson says he may cut another underground opening to allow entry from the house basement.

He says several neighbors have commented that they might dig out abandoned cisterns at their own homes and follow his example for economic shelter.
