Tax Fight Shifts to House-Senate Confabs Today

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's tax fight shifted to the House-Senate conference phase today after majority Republicans pushed their one cent use (sales) tax increase through the Senate a third time.

The bill, heart of the GOP Senate revenue program, cleared last night on 20 to 11 vote amid new signs of political jockeying over details of a final settlement.

Left behind by GOP strategists was the business activities tax (BAT) revision bill and a two million dollar addition to intangibles tax paid by banks.

The BAT measure carries the last hope of Democrats for making business shoulder part of the new revenue load. The House approved it with a two per cent surtax on corporation profits.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), calling GOP tax shots, said what is done with the bill, and when, "depends on developments" in conference bargaining on th use tax increase.

p He wouldn't amplify, but seemed to mean Republicans might yield to a token bite on business generally — not just corporations — if Democrats softpedaled arguments that GOP senators are coddling corporations.

FOR SMALL BUSINESS

After huddles with House leaders last Friday, Morris drafted a proposed BAT formula, not yet disclosed, that he said would give "some" relief to concerns making little or no profits.

In debate last night, en. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) raised GOP revenue sights for fiscal 1959-60 another 10 million dollars. This was on top of a three million revenue increase he forecast last Thursday.

Geerlings cited record high July sales tax collections, and a guaraded forecast by Revenue Commissioner Louis M. Nims that sales tax receipts could hit 318 million dollars.

Booming business was bound to pump up predisctions on yields from other revenue sources, he argued.

As their part in the jockeying, Senate Democrats withheld votes needed to give the use tax increase immediate effect. They admitted trying to counter GOP strategy.

Besides boosting the use (sales) tax to four per cent, the Senate bill would apply the higher levy to hotel and motel rooms, telephone

Pontiac Keeps Production Lead

Tops Medium - Priced Field as Auto Industry Report Output Increases

From Our Wire Services

Pontiac Motor Division continued to lead the medium-priced field as automakers reported their July production was up more than two-thirds from the same month a year ago.

Auto companies said 555,384 cars were assembled last month and a total 3,838,401 so far this year.

By comparison, last year in July 321,130 cars were built and the seven-month total stood at 2,561,433.

All five companies reported hefty increases over 1958 figures.

General Motors Corp. reported 1959 production was running nearly a half-million units ahead of 1958.

GM said there were 41,586 Pontiacs assembled last month, bringing the seven-month total this year up to 289,229. There were 16,490 Pontiacs assembled during July of last year and 136,675 during the first seven months of 1958.

Pontiac production figures for July were topped only by the low-priced Chevrolet, Ford, Plymouth and Rambler.

Other July production figures released by GM included 162,130 Chevrolets, 38,115 Oldsmobiles, 16,836 Buicks and 14,124 Cadillacs, compared with 111,188 Chevrolets, 23,292 Oldsmobiles, no Buicks and 11,825 Cadillacs produced in July, 1958.

CHEVY TOPS MILLION

In the first seven months of this year, GM built 1,047,676 Chevrolets, 264,144 Oldsmobiles, 158,426 Buicks and 103,568 Cadillacs, compared with 823,682 Chevrolets, 202,678 Oldsmobiles, 133,111 Buicks and 88,876 Cadillacs built in the same period a year ago.

Ford Motor Co., which nearly doubled its output of Ford cars last month, reported its best July since 1955, when the industry enjoyed its greatest production year.

Ford turned out 143,516 Fords and Thunderbirds, 12,316 Mercurys, 1,971 Edsels and 1,850 Lincolns and Continentals last month, compared with 72,879 Fords and Thunderbirds, 7,899 Mercurys, 596 Edsels, and 1,185 Lincolns and Continentals in July last year.

For seven months this year, the company has built 969,732 Fords and Thunderbirds, 95,060 Mercurys, 25,270 Edsels and 17,747 Lincolns and Continentals, compared with 577,853 Fords and Thunderbirds, 72,161 Mercurys, 7,540 Edsels and 16,018 Lincolns and Continentals in the same period of 1958.

CHRYSLER UP

Chrysler Corp. said its output this year is 141,015 units ahead of last year.

Chrysler produced 51,240 Plymouths, 12,007 Dodges, 2,837 De Sotos, 5,464 Chryslers and 53 Imperials in July, compared with 34,886 Plymouths, 10,115 Dodges, 3,089 De Sotos, 5,300 Chryslers and

That's the advice from the weatherman who says it'll be warm and humid tonight in the Pontiac area with a chance of thundershowers. Skies will be partly cloudy.

Scattered showers or thundershowers are possible Wednesday and Thursday with the high reaching 88 tomorrow, the weatherman said. Today's 6 to 12 mile an hour winds will be briefly higher in thunderstorms tomorrow becoming light variable at night.

Scattered showers with warm, humid temperatures are forecast for all of Michigan tonight and tomorrow. Temperatures throughout the state will register in the 80's.

Teacher Given Jackson Term

Free on Bond Pending Appeal of Conviction on Gross Indecency Charge

Minutes after he was sentenced to 2 to 5 years in Jackson Prison, former Waterford Township High School mathematics teacher was out on a $1,000 bond pending an appeal to the State Supreme Court, on his gross indecency conviction.

Arthur C. Mooney, 50, returned to a farm he is living on in Imlay City as his attorney, Carlton S. Roeser of Pontiac, prepared legal papers opposing his May 6 conviction by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury of eight women and four men.

Mooney, formerly a principal for a Chicago elementary school before coming to Oakland County, appeared this morning before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty for his often-postponed sentencing.

He was pale and thin after spending seven weeks at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Dearborn with a liver ailment.

He took the pronouncement of the prison term calmly while standing beside Roeser.

Mooney, formerly of Commerce Township, was charged with gross indecency after an investigation into an accident last December in West Bloomfield Township in which one of Mooney's students was killed.

Three other students in the car said in a statement to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem that Mooney purchased two six-packs of beer for them before the accident from a grocery near his home, using their money.

At the same time, two of the three survivors of the crash told of having immoral relations with Mooney in his Pontiac Township motel apartment in February of last year.

Later he was cleared of a second charge of furnishing beer to minors. Pending still are his appeals of convictions of drunk driving, and driving with a revoked license.

VISIT TO BE REPEATED — President Eisenhower, who yesterday announced his intention of trading visits with Soviet chief Nikita Khrushchev, will be no stranger to Russia. The then Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower rode with his Soviet counterpart, Marshal Georgi Zhukov, on a tour of Leningrad during a 1945 visit to the Soviet Union at the end of World War II. Marshal Zhukov, later Russian defense minister, since has been demoted. The President said he will visit Russia following Khrushchev's trip to this country next month.

Bemoans Ruined Parts of Warsaw; Decorates Polish Grave Site

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon visited the site of mass executions during World War II today.

Then he made a plea for the end of racial prejudice as he stood on the spot of Warsaw's destroyed Jewish ghetto.

He coupled his pleas with the warning there must never be another war because cities such as Warsaw would be destroyed.

Nixon plans to fly back into Washington tomorrow at 2:30 p.m., (EST), ending his 15-day European trip.

Today, he stood before the remains of a bombed-out building where Jews fought in their last bunker to resist "the almost indescribable suffering of the Jewish people in Poland and other countries."

"As we move into what we hope will be a period of peace and of good will, whatever be our economic or social philosophies, we must all unite to fight against prejudice and racial hatred because here is what happens when such passions are released," Nixon said.

Earlier he had gone to Palmiry Forest where he laid a wreath on the site of graves of 2,200 Poles slaughtered in Nazi mass executions early in World War II.

He laid a special wreath on the the grave of Janusz Kusocinsk, Poland's 10,000-meter run winner in the Los Angeles Olympics in 1932.

Red Boss Would Be Here When U.N. Convenes

Exchange Will Raise U.S.-Soviet Diplomacy to Summit Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speculation on the precise date for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to the United States ranged today from Sept. 8 to Sept. 16 The choice depends at least in part on the Communist chief's own planning for use of a worldwide sounding board.

Krushchev has expressed interest in being in this country when the United Nations General Assembly convenes in New York Sept. 15.

Officials close to the negotiations for an exchange of visits between Khrushchev and President Eisenhower insist nothing so exact as an arrival date has been decided.

The White House and the Kremlin, in announcing the plan yesterday, spoke only generally of mid-September with a stay of two or three days in Washington and a 10-day tour of the country.

Informants say such details are usually left up to a high-level visitor.

On that basis, officials considered the date could depend on Khrushchev's own choice: to start off in this country with a bang in the General Assembly, or to get a build-up and background out of conferences and travels in advance.

In any event the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange of visits raises U. S.-Soviet diplomacy to the summit level, whether or not it results in a formal summit conference on a broader scale.

His exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and an earlier trip to Europe to confer with heads of the major western Allies will give Eisenhower direct contacts with the participants in any later summit meeting.

A generally favorable reaction, both in this country and elsewhere in the world, greeted Monday's announcement that Khrushchev has accepted Eisenhower's invitation to visit the United States next month.

HOPES EXPRESSED

Many expressed hope that East-West tensions would be eased if Khrushchev were impressed first hand with the nation's strength and peaceful intentions.

Talks with Eisenhower and a 10-day tour of the country are among the plans for the Khrushchev visit. Reports from Moscow said the Soviet Premier is expected to bring along his wife, son and daughter.

With most details still uncertain, there has been no announcement whether Mrs. Eisenhower will accompany her husband to Europe.

The Khrushchev announcement overshadowed Eisenhower's plans for an earlier series of meetings with British, French, and West German heads of government. These could bear importantly on his talks with Khrushchev.

U.S. officials said details of the newly announced travels must be

Khrushchev Takes Risks in Accepting Invitation

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is taking a calculated risk in accepting an invitation to visit the United States.

His exchange of visits with President Eisenhower will permit an unusual calm to settle over the main arenas of the cold war for a couple of months. But there is no reason to suppose that peace has broken out.

Khrushchev has long indicated he badly wanted the invitation to America. He maneuvered industriously to get it. But why was he so eager?

Khrushchev's projected few days in Washington and President Eisenhower's in Moscow will be in effect a meeting at the summit, a two-sided meeting with other countries on the outside.

The Western Allies are being reassured and are making noises like they are welcoming the exchange. By the time Khrushchev gets through, they possibly will be wondering what really went on behind closed doors.

The idea that Khrushchev is thinking along such lines cannot be discarded, for he is known to have entertained a notion of splitting the Allies by hinting at a possible two-way deal to keep the world in its place.

But there is some risk for Khrushchev himself. The same uneasiness he may seek to arouse among the Western Europeans also can be provoked among the Chinese Communists. A Moscow-Washington display of peace, friendship, and all's right with the world can hardly make Peiping sublimely happy.

Red China is in no position to flirt with the idea of world peace. It has too far to go, straining every muscle to make its own revolution succeed. It needs an American enemy.

Coming on top of the obvious failure of the Big Four foreign ministers to agree on Berlin and Germany, the sudden outbreak of exuberant good will might be viewed as an unexpected, highly welcome ray of light.

But the Berlin affair is working out as predicted by those familiar with Soviet ways. Khrushchev issued an ultimatum. To carry through on it would have been a grave risk. To back down would MOSCOW (UPI)—The climate of Soviet - American relations improved sharply and suddenly with the announcement that President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev will exchange visits.

A sampling of man-in-the-street opinion in Moscow indicated a general feeling that "nothing but good can result" from the visits. It also revealed considerable good will for Eisenhower.

"We respect President Eisenhower for his wartime leadership and apparent devotion to peace," said a student from Moscow's electrical institute.

"Comrade Khrushchev said the President knows what war means and that he honestly fulfilled his (wartime) agreements with us. Need more be said?"

Warrick Assets Being Checked

Internal Revenue Men Probing Possibility of Tax Evasion

Pontiac police today were still without a motive, and a murderer, in the slaying of Dr. W. Carleton Warrick, while federal treasury agents were making an investigation into his financial assets.

"When we find the motive, we'll find the murderer," predicted George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor.

Meanwhile, James F. Deane, assistant director of the Detroit district office of the Internal Revenue Service, said agents were making a "routine" investigation.

"We make such an investigation wherever there appears a possibility there may have been an income tax evasion," Deane said.

He would not comment on a report that agents found an estimated three-quarters of a million dollars in stocks and bonds in the Pontiac office of Dr. Warrick, at 24½ E. Huron St.

The 71-year-old doctor was shot in his office on the evening of July 24 by a bandit, whom he later described as having a "very red face" and who announced he intended to rob the doctor.

However, Taylor believes robbery was not the motive because officers discovered $100 strewn about his office. Another $1,400 was found in the doctor's trousers.

Although he would not go into detail about what they were investigating, Taylor said there was "some question about the doctor's background."

Cleared after he passed a truth serum test administered Sunday was Lloyd J. Tunnell, 53, who operates a rest home at 1755 Williams Lake Rd. Tunnell had been

GMC Is Only Bidder Seeking DSR Contract

GMC Truck & Coach Division was the only bidder yesterday seeking to sell 150 to 300 new buses to Detroit's DSR bus system.

The Division's bid was $25,417.80 for each bus, with air conditioning costing $4,193.18 extra per coach.

The DSR Commission took the bid under consideration and decided, informally, to ask Mayor Louis C. Miriani whether extra money should be spent on air conditioning.

Action on the bid is expected within 10 days, said Leo J. Nowicki, DSR general manager.

Blind Cigarette Girl at Courthouse

Hears All but Tells Nothing

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

Ada Dodson has done business with some of the most influential men in the county . . . with some at the other end of the pole, too.

She has overheard confidential conversations of judges and criminals alike.

She can be trusted. Ada hears all, knows all and tells nothing. She sees nothing. She has been blind for 17 years.

Ada has the cigarette, candy and soda pop concession in the Oakland County Courthouse on Saginaw and Huron streets.

Her counter occupies a small corner on the first floor, situated in a good vantage point to both entrances of the building. This month marks Ada's 10th year in that spot.

She recognizes voices easily and a day doesn't go by that each of the courthouse employes doesn't have a cheery word for her, and she for them.

Ada says, "I know the voice of almost every lawyer in town."

But, it's more than just "Hi," she says.

Ada's counter is the conversation corner in the old building. It is a place to congregate and discuss old news, current happenings or simply the weather.

Ada is kept well informed, and more observant, say her friends, than many people who have sight.

"People ask me for directions all day," says Ada. "When it's right there in front of them, I still have to point out the drinking fountain, the telephone or the stairway. I guess they just don't look."

Ada makes change by "feel." She can tell a dime from a penny by its rough edges, a nickel by its size and thickness, and a quarter from a half dollar by its rough edges. She will change a dollar bill, but nothing higher.

"Some blind people say they can tell a dollar bill from a five dollar bill," says Ada, "but I don't believe it. They must be fibbing. There's no difference in size. They must be able to see a little bit."

Ada went totally blind at the age of 17, during her senior year in a Tennessee high school. She doesn't know how it happened or what caused it. "I guess I studied too hard," she says.

She came to Pontiac in 1943 and learned of her present job through a friend in a braille class.

"This is the first job I've ever had in my life," says Ada. "I guess I'm a lazy one."

She says she doesn't miss the use of her eyes.

CIGARS, CANDY AND PLEASANTRIES — This might well be the motto of Ada Dodson's stand in the Oakland County Courthouse. Her cigarette and candy counter is probably the most popular spot in the courthouse. Although being blind since she was 17, Ada's disposition and cheery outlook on life could serve as an example for all.

FBI Hesitating in Cases on Probers' Perjury List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Justice Department officials said today the FBI still is investigating only six of 42 cases submitted by the Senate Rackets Committee for possible perjury prosecution.

The six cases involve 17 individuals.

Most of the other cases, many involving Teamster Union officials, were dropped on the grounds that there was not enough evidence to get a conviction. There have been no convictions among the 42 cases.

Assistant Attorney General Malcolm R. Wilkey explained that while contradictory testimony before the committee may show someone was lying, court proof of perjury is another matter.

The department went to court with charges against two Union officials — Teamsters' organizer Clyde C. Crosby and James G. Cross, president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union.

OUT OF BOUNDS

But it lost out in both cases, when the judge ruled that the rackets committee had asked questions which were not relevant to its legislative purpose.

Wilkey pointed out that it is perfectly proper for the committee to fire "multiple-barreled" questions at witnesses testifying under oath. But such questions, he said, would be out of bounds in the courtroom.

"We have to have a question," Wilkey said, "that will stand up in court. It has to be proper."

"Naturally," he continued, "the committee does not tailor its questions for possible perjury . . . since its objective is not to nail a witness for prosecution."

The government's role, he added, however, is to prove "by clear, convincing evidence to the satisfaction of 12 men — who was lying. It also has to have two witnesses to make its point."

HARD TO PROVE

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Rackets Committee has been sympathetic to the department on this score. He recently told reporters he realized the difficulties in proving perjury despite conflicting testimony.

But rackets committee counsel, Robert F. Kennedy, has fired some barbs at the Justice Department. Last year, he criticized the department for taking "no action" on perjury cases referred to it.

Security Force Plans for Mr. K

Expect Protests While Red Boss Visits U.S., Eisenhower Concerned

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Worried security officials worked today to devise airtight arrangements to protect Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev during his visit to the United States next month.

One local police official, accustomed to guarding VIP visitors, said Khrushchev's visit was likely to touch off protests by organized groups and individuals "who just plain don't like the guy or Russia."

The official said Khrushchev was sure to attract more demonstrators than his deputy premiers Frol R. Kozlov and Anastas I. Mikoyan, who visited here recently, because the Russian leader is much better known in this country. A major international incident would be caused if Khrushchev was harmed while in the United States.

State Department security officers will have primary responsibility for guarding the Soviet chief. They will be aided by the Secret Service, FBI, local police here and in other cities Khrushchev will tour, and the Russian's own guards.

The State Department security forces held the first of a series of planning sessions within hours after President Eisenhower announced yesterday that Khrushchev was coming. District of Columbia police held a similar planning meeting.

One veteran security chief said if any incidents do happen, "it won't be for lack of trying" to prevent them.

Eisenhower is known to be concerned about the security problem and anxious to avoid any incidents. He told reporters in announcing the visit that Russian officials had been alerted to the fact that there were "uncontrolled individuals" in this country. He said he was certain "that we can control this matter."

The President has told friends that public opinion in this country must be prepared carefully to avert anti-Khrushchev demonstrations.

Waterford Area Board Also Plans Addition to Main Fire Station

A water main contract and a proposed $5,000 addition to the Fire Dept. Building was the main order of business last night at the Waterford Township Board meeting.

The Allard Contracting Co. of New Hudson was awarded the $5,513 contract for a 640-foot water main extension to the Stringham School. The Allard Co. was the low of four bidders.

The Board also took under consideration a proposed $4,699 addition to its main fire station on M59 at Crescent Lake road.

The addition would house a new fire engine and offices for a full-time chief, both expected in September.

Patrol cars of the Waterford Township Police Dept. logged 14,644 miles during July while officers answered 787 calls.

Chief of Police Millard J. Pender reported to the Township Board that 28 persons were ticketed during the month for traffic violations within the township limits.

The monthly record also showed 24 arrests made for crimes committed, 19 of them adults and five juveniles.

Of the total calls answered, 78 of them were for accidents, while 709 were miscellaneous.

The arrests made included two for safe burglary, two for breaking and entering, one for leaving the scene of an accident, one for auto theft, one for malicious destruction and others of a minor nature.

Baldwin Library Plans Accepted by Commission

BIRMINGHAM — The city commission voted at last night's meeting to accept final plans prepared by architect Linn Smith for the proposed addition to Baldwin Library.

Smith estimated construction costs for the addition would be approximately $115,000 and that 33 per cent more space would be available.

Linn Smith Associates will receive $500 from the city for plans prepared for the Birmingham Fire Dept. training tower, the Commission decided.

Construction of a training tower was first considered in 1957, but as matching funds were not available the project has been dropped for the present, according to City Manager L. R. Gare.

The commissioners named Edward R. White, of Berkley contractor for the Birmingham 1959 P-3 paving project. White bid $14,601.61 to build the N. Woodward avenue access drive from Redding street south, extension of the Southfield road access drive at Wakefield street and the Maple-Bates alley.

Commissioners alto authorized an appropriation of $8,500 for removal and replacement of concrete pavement on Maple avenue immediately west of the Rouge River.

The commission decided not to purchase false arrest insurance at this tie. According to R .S. Kenning, asst .city manager, such insurance offered too limited coverage and the premiums were too high.

Proxy appointments were authorized by the commisscon to t Michigan Municipal League annual meeting to be held Sept. 11, at Mackinac Island. The league will vote upon a resolution to extend its corporate term which expires in 1960 to 30 years.

The quarterly parking meter survey submitted by Police Chief Ralph Moxley showed a slight increase in average meter revenues over July 1958. According to Moxley, a reduction in the number of meters may account for the increase.

He credited the sharp rise in revenue for the four-hour meters in municipal parking lot No. 4 to "the large number of good movies shown in the local theaters lately." The average per meter jumped from $.83 in April to $1.35 in July.

In its final action of the night, the commission confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Ogden W. Vogt to the Baldwin Library Board.

Ed 'Petrovich' Sullivan Wows 'Em

Russians Applaud Variety Show

By ALINE MOSBY

MOSCOW (UPI) — Ed "Petrovich" Sullivan, speaking haltingly in Russian instead of English, opened a Soviet tour last night with a gala premiere of a variety show staged as part of the American exhibition here.

The show was approximately the mixture Americans are accustomed to seeing on television — jugglers, pretty singers in tight, low-cut dresses, a contortionist and a magician, among other acts.

Ballerina Nora Kaye and operatic soprano Rise Stevens, singing "Getting to Know You" in Russian, provided a spice of culture to the bill.

An audience of intent, smiling Russians applauded every act, although in some cases it wasn't certain that they got the point. The turns they liked particularly were called back repeatedly for bows.

A critic for the official Tass agency said the audience "accepted the performance in a very warm, friendly manner."

Sullivan's show, specially tailored for Russian audiences, is scheduled to play two weeks in the outdoor theater in Moscow's Gorky Park. He plans also to play Odess and Tbilisi (Tiflis) before returning home.

The TV master of ceremonies, whose father's name was Peter, adopted "Petrovich" (Peterson) as his middle name for the duration of the tour.

(A Russian's middle name customarily identifies him as his father's son.)

Sullivan delighted the audience by introducing the acts in halting Russian, a language he learned during a recent three-week stay in Las Vegas.

"I was the only person in Las Vegas studying Russian roulette," he quipped last night.

In addition to the Misses Kaye and Stevens, hits of the show included dancers Marge and Gower Champion and a team billed as Janik and Arnaut featuring a girl contortionist who coiled around her partner like a snake.

The Barry sisters, in white dresses so tight they could hardly walk, drew gasps of delight with a jazz version of the Russian song "Dark Eyes."

The girls also sang a medley of western songs, wearing pink-and-white, sequined "cowboy dresses," but Americans in the audience weren't sure the Russians got the point.

John and Bonnie Shirley made a hit with the balloon-loving Russians by twisting balloons into animal shapes and floating them out into the audience. The Russians swarmed out of their seats to grab at the balloons.

The Russians also liked soprano Margaret Tynes, who sang songs from "Porgy and Bess"; Hawaiian tenor Charles Davis, singing in his native tongue, and Eddy Mannon, who played Rimsky-Korsakoff music on a harmonica.

A Russian orchestra directed by Elliot Lawrence and paced by American drummer Conrad Buckner played American popular tunes.

Dr. Killian Has Long History of Service to Nation, Education

The Board of Directors of General Motors yesterday elected Dr. James R. Killian Jr. a member of the board.

Dr. Killian is chairman of the Corporation of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a member and former chairman (1957-59) of the President's Science Advisory Committee.

He is a leading figure in the fields of education, science and public service. He holds honorary degrees from 27 of the nation's leading colleges and universities as well as a doctor of applied science degree from the University of Montreal.

Dr. Killian was graduated from M.I.T. in 1926 and became assistant managing editor of the Technology Review at M.I.T. the same year. He was editor of the Review from 1930-39. From that position, he advanced to various executive posts at M.I.T., becoming the Institute's tenth president.

Among the many public service posts Dr. Killian has held are chairman of the Army Scientific Advisory Panel, 1951-56; special assistant to the President of the United States for science and technology, 1957-59; member of the Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy, 1953-55; member of the Committee for the White House Conference on Education, 1954-56; and a member of the President's Board of Consultants on Foreign Intelligence Activities, 1956 to the present.

He has been a trustee of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation since 1954.

Dr. Killian is a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a holder of numerous awards for his public service contributions.

State Is Broke Again After Paying Some Debts

LANSING (AP) — The state treasury was flushed out again today, speeding 15½ million dollars to universities, welfare recipients and the state's longest overdue suppliers and contractors.

The state administrative board ordered the money dispatched yesterday hours after $14,900,000 in tax revenues were checked in. At a special meeting, it decreed this distribution:

1. Two million dollars to state contractors, suppliers and servicemen. This triggered release of 5,000 state warrants (checks) held for lack of funds. In a few cases, it meant payment of contractors' bills dating back to December, including some who halted work on state projects.

2. Six million dollars to complete 1959-60 appropriation installments for three major state universities — three millions to the University of Michigan, $2,300,000 to Michigan State and $700,000 to Wayne State.

3. About $4,100,000 to Wayne to wipe out arrears for the fiscal year ended June 30.

4. Transfer of $3,200,000 to apply against current monthly welfare payments to the aged, blind, disabled and dependent children.

"What'll you have left?" state treasurer Sanford A. Brown was asked.

"We'll have nothing left. We're flat. Nothing but bills," he replied.

Brown said the payout would leave the state about 85 million dollars in the hole and actual accumulated debts of about 60 millions.

The university allocations came too late to prevent two of them from borrowing to meet last week's payrolls. The U. of M. borrowed $1,000,000 and MSU $1,500,000 against September tuition payments.

Wayne, with restricted borrowing powers, received $500,000 of its July installment last week.

Of the two million dollars for contractors and suppliers, one million was to cover release of 5,000 warrants (checks) held by Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski for amounts of less than $50,000. They will come off the bottom of the stack.

This will cut Szymanski's backlog down to about 23,000 warrants totaling five million dollars.

The other million was to be applied against larger obligations. These include $771,000 in payments to contractors on the Boys Vocational School (BVS) at Whitmore Lake, the Plymouth State Home and Training School, and an expansion of the state power plant at Kalamazoo.

Some $200,000 was routed to the Henry deKoning Construction Co. of Ann Arbor, prime contractor on the BVS project.

DeKoning and associate contractors on the job suspended operations last month after first threatening to cancel their contracts.

Committee Handling Tax Confabs Today

bills and materials sold for use on federal projects.

Geerlings, who last week priced the package at 116 million dollar, shoved his yield estimate last night to 127 millions.

He said this would supply money needed to balance the 1959-60 state budge and leave 15 millions over for reduction of the state's 100 million dollar deficit.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan of Detroit, Democratic floor leader, ridiculed Geerlings' revenue data. He called the GOP bill unfair, inequitable, insufficient and unconstitutional.

FOR BIG BUSINESS

Sen. Stanley Novak of Detroit, assailed the GOP package as designed to protect corporations making the highes profits in history.

Sen. Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain) renewed his argument that the Republican effort was to destroy Gov. Williams politically. He predicted it would "backfire."

Answering a contention by Ryan, Geerlings said that if the bill were held unconstitutional Democrats were to blame for their refusal to allow a statewide vote April 6 on a sales tax increase.

"I stood here and pleaded for the one Democratic vote needed to get this thing on the ballot," he said.

In his revenue report yesterday, Nims said that the stles tax could hit 318 millions if the trend reflected in July sales tax collections continued.

But he cautioned that the figure would have to be cut back if the steel strike lasted into the fall months.

Khrushchev Takes a Calculated Risk

have been awkward. What better solution than to leave the whole matter up in the air while Khrushchev lumbers about the United States trying to look like a pigeon of peace?

Khrushchev probably has other reasons for wanting to come to America.

It's likely he wants to measure the climate of American opinion. This was done for him by two first deputy premiers, Anastas I. Mikoyan and Frol R. Kozlov. But possibly Khrushchev believes neither deputy and wants to see for himself.

Khrushchev possibly considers Americans suckers for a broad grin and hearty handshake. He may think they will be eager to forget all about the cold war by the time he is finished with them.

But the United States has much to gain by the exchange. Vice President Richard M. Nixon's reception in the Soviet Union and Poland already has indicated this.

There is no possibility of converting Khrushchev from his belief the Communist revolution must triumph throughout the world. But Khrushchev represents a fading generation of one-track mind Bolsheviks. The Russians now are going to have a close look at Eisenhower, the leader of a government they have been told is intent on devouring them. For the Russians, it cannot help but be a healthy experience.

Nixon Bemoans Ruins in Warsaw; Sees Ghetto

Nixon was the first foreign dignitary to visit the site.

In his statement on the spot where the ghetto stood, Nixon said "this should help us realize the destruction another war would bring the world. Nothing would be left in a great city such as this if atomic bombs hit their mark.

MUST AVOID BOMBS

"This nation has suffered enough. These people have suffered enough. All this makes it most important to avoid anything that would allow Poland to be bombed again."

Nixon also visited a huge steel mill about 15 miles north of the city, before he went to Warsaw University to talk with the faculty. Students gathered outside in the courtyard to cheer him.

Announcement in the Warsaw press today that President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would exchange visits brought a question immediately from politically conscious Poles: When will Eisenhower come to Warsaw?

There was speculation that Polish President Aleksandr Zawadzki was drafting an invitation to the U.S. President which Nixon would take back with him.

Zawadski, in a toast at a reception he gave for Nixon Monday night, noted that Eisenhower had visited Warsaw at the end of World War II. He said there had been a great deal of reconstruction here since then.

Nixon in reply said: "I wish he (Eisenhower) could be here today to see what the Polish people have done in rebuilding this city."

Nixon's program today, his last full day in Warsaw, was devoted largely to sightseeing.

HANDS OF FRIENDSHIP? — Vice President Richard Nixon and Poland's Communist chief Wladyslaw Gomulka begin to extend their hands to each other as Nixon is distracted for a moment. The two officials conferred for three hours after an enthusiastic welcome by the Polish people yesterday.

No Date Set for Nikita worked out. But they spoke in terms of Eisenhower's attending a Western Big Three summit meeting in Paris, plus talking separately with the British and French chiefs and with Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Eisenhower was expected to go to Paris in the latter part of August. Khrushchev is due here in September, perhaps around midmonth. No date has been fixed for Eisenhower's own later visit to the Soviet Union.

From the standpoint of diplomatic troubleshooting, Eisenhower's trip to Western Europe shaped up as a picnic compared with the tough task of dealing with the Russians on East-West issues.

Eisenhower will be returning to the area where he served many years as an international military commander. The Allies, despite some differences, see eye to eye on most problems.

The largest exception in this harmony scene is the towering figure of French President Charles de Gaulle, whose ideas about France's destiny have caused concern in the Western camp.

De Gaulle has demanded a voice for France in the use of atomic weapons, has withdrawn the French Mediterranean Fleet from NATO combat command, and has embarked on a controversial campaign to quell the Algerian insurrection.

SNUBBED INVITATION

Eisenhower has not met with De Gaulle since he took office. Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Adenauer both have been to Washington this year. But the nationalistic Frenchman has brushed aside invitations to visit.

The European journey gives Eisenhower a chance to talk with De Gaulle without obviously going out of his way to do so.

Eisenhower recently said he and De Gaulle "are old friends, comrades of the war and since," who might be able through personal talks to make special progress in smoothing out differences between the two governments. He noted that many of the differences have to do with defense.

U.N. diplomats expect Khrushchev will address the General Assembly in New York. He could do that without an invitation, as a member of the Soviet delegation.

Where else he will travel during his 10-day tour of the United States will depend on where he would be properly received and what he wants to see. U.S. officials were sounding out local leaders in various parts of the country to see if they would cooperate in a Khrushchev visit to their area.

Blind Girl Tends Courthouse Stand

sudden I'd be scared to death," she exclaims. And then with a laugh, "If I could see again I'd really have to get out and work.

"Then, too," says Ada, "I have a lot of friends and I get a lot of attention."

And she gives a lot of attention.

An officer of one of the courts approached the stand and asked Ada for "the usual." She picked two of his brand of cigars from a box (all arranged so that she knows where each brand is in the counter).

She handed the cigars to the man and said reproachfully, "Johnny, you smoke too much."

Ada doesn't know yet whether space will be allotted for her stand in the new courthouse to be constructed. It might pose too great a transportation problem, too, from her home at 219 Rapid St., where she lives with her aunt.

During the course of 10 years Ada has made many close friends. "I sure hope they have room for me when they move," says Ada. The others do, too.

the only suspect arrested so far in the slaying.

He was the first person to discover the wounded doctor, who died the following night at Pontiac General Hospital. Tunnell was arrested later for investigation of narcotics violations.

During the truth serum test he admitted receiving frequent prescriptions from Dr. Warrick for the narcotic drug Demerol.

Pontiac Police Det. William Nesbitt said records of the doctor's patients at Romulus Hospital were being checked for possible clues to the shooting.

He said he would also look into a $20,000 lawsuit filed in 1956 against Dr. Warrick by a Pontiac couple charging negligence in professional services.

Backs Up His Boast

WIGGINS, Miss. (UPI) — Authorities today searched for an escape artist who they said picked a lock to get out of the city jail, sawed three bars to free his wife from the county jail, then picked an auto dealer's lock to steal a pickup truck. C. B. McNair, 29, of Hattiesburg, Miss., had boasted earlier "There ain't no jail that can hold me."

Herter to Return to U.S. by Special Jet Thursday

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter plans to leave Geneva at 9 a.m. (3 a.m. EST) Thursday for his return trip to the United States. The foreign ministers' conference is scheduled to end here tomorrow.

Herter is to fly home in the same special jet which brought him here for the second half of the Geneva conference nearly four weeks ago. The plane will make a refueling stop at the Azores Thursday and Herter and his party will have lunch. It is due in Washington at 4:15 p.m. local time Thursday.

Asks Hearing in Wife's Death

Pontiac Man Charged With Manslaughter in Auto Smash

A 20-year-old father of two has demanded examination on a charge of manslaughter arising from the death of his wife in an auto accident Thursday morning.

Delbert Zimmer of 219 Willard Ave. appeared yesterday before Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

His examination has been scheduled for Aug. 12. Zimmer was returned to the Oakland County Jail with bond set at $2,000.

He is charged with forcing his wife into a car and driving at high rate of speed into another auto at Judson and Paddock streets where police said Zimmer admitted failing to see a stop sign.

His wife, Sophia, 17, who planned to divorce him, was killed instantly. Zimmer and two occupants of the other car were injured.

Witnesses told police the Zimmer car was traveling 70 to 90 miles an hour before the crash. The husband admitted he had been drinking, police said.

Won't Override Ike's Veto of Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP — Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) reported today the Senate Housing subcommittee had rejected by a 5-4 vote his proposal for an attempt to override President Eisenhower's veto of the housing bill.

Douglas, who left the meeting before it was finished, said Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala), the subcommittee chairman, and Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) joined three Republicans to defeat the motion.

This suggested the Senate Democratic leadership had decided against any effort to reject the veto and instead had decided that a new compromise housing bill should be written.

Steel Meetings Step Up Pace

3rd Joint Session Set for Today but Federal Mediator Shrugs

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry and union chiefs—each side blaming the other for prolonging the three-week-old steel strike — have stepped up the pace of their negotiations.

The third joint session since the strike began was called for today. A joint session Monday failed to break the deadlock that has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, is sitting in on the talks.

Asked if he had noticed any change in the attitude of either side as a result of criticism of both industry and union by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Finnegan said: "I didn't discern any particular impact. Both sides are aware of the statement."

Monday's joint negotiations had been arranged by Finnegan before Mitchell accused both sides on Saturday of failing to make serious efforts to settle their contract dispute.

Finnegan said that an exchange of viewpoints Monday convinced both sides that another joint session today would be worthwhile.

R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp., and David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelmakers of America, issued public statements aimed at each other.

To Seek New Bids for Courthouse

With hopes they can get down to earth soon building a new courthouse, Oakland County supervisors will convene tomorrow in a rare summer meeting to scrap old construction bids and ask for new ones.

Wednesday's meeting — which is expected to produce many empty chairs due to summer vacations —was prompted when two contractors announced they were withdrawing their bids submitted back in April.

This was not all disheartening news to county planners as it was followed by a promise that a lawsuit against the county, waiting an appeal decision in the State Supreme Court, would be dropped if a previously accepted bid of Pontiac builder J. A. Fredman, Inc. was killed.

Besides their concern with speeding up courthouse construction tomorrow, supervisors will be confronted with another timely topic —that of the sanitary sewer system for Michigan State University Oakland.

Planners of the $660,000 project —the county's Department of Public Works — are eyeing the calendar closely in hopes the sewers and plant will be completed when classes commence late next month.

SEEKS DRAIN LOAN

Tomorrow, supervisors will be asked to permit the DPW to borrow $100,000 from other drain funds owed the county, and initiate a $370,000 revenue bond issue to meet a portion of the costs of the system.

DPW officials emphasized that "these bonds will be strictly revenue bonds payable solely from the net revenues of the system. They will not be a general obligation of the county."

Before getting into the MSUO sewer matters, supervisors are expected to set a new date when prospective bidders in the general construction and mechanical fields will be asked to submit new bids for the proposed $3,000,000 courthouse.

The Fredman company decided it couldn't afford to wait any longer in holding its $2,116,740 bid firm. Winning mechanical contractor — R. L. Spitzley — decided the same with its bid.

However, top electrical bidder —Schultz Electric Service — has already signed its contract with the county.

Delays were encountered while the county awaited word from Lansing of action on an appeal by a Royal Oak man, Frank P. Scruggs Jr., in a lawsuit protesting the county's awarding the larger of three contracts to Fredman instead of the low bidder, A. Z. Shmina & Sons Co.

Three county circuit judges had ruled earlier that the supervisors were legally correct in awarding the top contract to Fredman.

Williams Offers Data on State

Would Prove to Fellow Governors Michigan Is No Worse Than Others

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) — Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams spoke with the authority of experience today when he reported to the Governors' Conference on state tax and revenue problems.

He offered 40 pages of charts, graphs and statements to show that Michigan is not alone with its fiscal woes.

Williams noted that 35 states considered tax increases this year.

The nation's senior governor, who hinted yesterday he may seek a seventh term as Michigan's chief executive, said tax problems in all states can be laid to explosive population growth, expanding technology and mushrooming cities.

Williams also figured in a five-governor committee that proposed to the Governors' Conference today a combined federal, state and local effort to provide civilian protection against radioactive fallout as "a major contribution to peace."

The committee was headed by New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, but its recommendations did not go as far as a New York state advisory committee which recently proposed to him that fallout shelters be compulsory for all New York state residents.

Others members of the governors' committee besides Williams are Edmund Brown of California, and Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina, all Democrats, and J. Hugo Aronson of Montana, a Republican; as is Rockefeller.

Their report called for state educational campaigns on the dangers of fallout, and for federal, state and local campaigns to help individuals protect themselves against fallout by shelters and other means.

Ad Man Reports Layouts Stolen

Advertising layouts of a product believed ready to go on the market next year were reported stolen from a Birmingham executive's car, it was revealed today.

Robert J. Hungerford of Campbell, Ewald & Co., an advertising firm in the General Motors Building, Detroit, discovered the layouts missing from his car yesterday morning as he started for his office. He reported the loss to the Birmingham Police.

The car had been parked on the street overnight in front of his home at 599 Westchester Way, Birmingham. Thieves had forced a window of the car to open the door.

The stolen layouts were encased in a three by two and a half-foot leather folder.

Birmingham Police Lt. Merlin Holmquist said he didn't know what the advertising layouts pertained to.

Hungerford had taken them home to work on over the weekend.

GMC Offers Sports Cab

A sports cab that fits over the cargo space of the GMC wideside pickup truck is now being offered by GMC truck dealers, it was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division. It can be installed in a matter of minutes, he added.

For sportsmen, campers or vacationers, the GMC wideside pickup with sports cab offers roomy, overnight accommodations for up to five persons. The interior measures 53 inches high, 74 inches wide and 98 inches long, has hardwood paneling, wide storage shelf and two six-footer bunks with thick cotton mattresses.

The exterior is all aluminum, finished in automotive enamel. The body is fully insulated with one-half inch fiberglas. Roof ventilator and easily positioned windows provide excellent ventilation. Two interior lights give ample illumination.

A drop-out rear section is easily removed for the loading of bulky cargo, or can be elevated for a sun-shade.

The sports cab fastens securely to the wideside box with six bolts. Two skyhooks on top the cab permit hoisting on or off quickly.

One minute you have a load-carrying pickup and the next it's ready for recreation. The cab also serves as a big, weather-proof carrying space for tools, displays or exhibits.

NBC Offering Nikita 'Time' to Answer Dick

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Broadcasting Company is offering Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev "equal time" to answer Vice President Richard M. Nixon's Russian radio-TV speech, the network said yesterday.

NBC said it suggested that Khrushchev record a speech using the equipment displayed by Radio Corporation of America at the U.S. Exhibit in Moscow — the same equipment before which Khrushchev and Nixon carried on a portion of their public debate on the exhibit's opening day.

Nixon's broadcast to the Russian people was highly critical of communism's expansionist aims.

Herter in Confabs Over Reds in Laos

GENEVA (AP) — Christian A. Herter conferred with his British and French colleagues here today on the Communist rebellion in the little southeast Asian country of Laos.

The U. S. secretary of state met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville, the French foreign minister, for nearly an hour. Their talk was described officially as a general exchange of views on the situation in Laos.

Lloyd told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko in a quickly arranged conference two days ago that Britain is concerned about the alarming state of affairs in Laos.

Britain and the Soviet Union are charged with overseeing the terms of the armistice that settled the Indochinese war and set up Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam as independent states in 1954.

British informants said Gromyko failed to give any assurances that the Soviet Union would use its good offices to prevent interference by Communist forces from outside Laos in the internal affairs of that country.
