League of Women Voters Has Information Bulletins on 7 Primary Candidates

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Swinging rapidly into action to aid residents of Birmingham, the local League of Women Voters has completed information bulletins on the seven candidates running in the Jan. 21 primary election.

The bulletins will be available at five local super markets and two banks Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday preceding the Thursday vote to choose which of four Republicans and three Democrats will be placed on the Feb. 11 special election ballot.

The election was called to fill the post of state representative for the third district, vacated by the resignation of Howard Estes of Birmingham.

The bulletins provide non-partisan factual information concerning each candidate with the League's objective to inform the voters so they may make a wise choice at the polls.

While most residents are complaining about the weather, Birmingham's Boy Scouts are praying for snow, and lots of it by tomorrow morning.

That is what is needed to make a success of the District 1 "Klondike" to be held at Pontiac Recreation Area, starting at noon tomorrow. The "Klondike" consists mainly of sledging racing among patrols, with sleds built by the troops.

Senior High School Group of the Congregational Church will meet at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the west Brown street home of Mrs. John A. Watkinson.

House is more doubtful. What-over they do about their own pay, the legislators are almost certain to raise judges' salaries.

The commission, headed by Bernard G. Segal, an attorney of Philadelphia, agreed unanimously that members of Congress and federal judges should get higher salaries as a means of "assuring the nation top-flight leadership." There was some difference of opinion, however, as to how big the increases should be.

The compromise recommendation it finally adopted would cost the taxpayers a total of $1,336,000 a year. Some four million dollars of this, however, would be paid back in the form of income tax.

The proposed salary scale would give associate justices of the Supreme Court $39,500 a year, compared with the present $25,000. The chief justice would continue to get an extra $500. Federal district judges would be raised from $15,000 to $27,500. Appeals Court judges from $17,500 to $30,500.

Congress' last increase in compensation was in 1946. At that time the lawmakers raised themselves from $10,000 a year to $15,000.

Telephone censors interrupted the call.

Woman, 2 Men to Be Arraigned

Mother-to-Be, Others Charged With Larceny; Marine to Get Lie Test

A felony warrant charging two men and an expectant mother with larceny from a building was approved by Oakland County Prosecutor's Office today and an AWOL U. S. Marine was scheduled to take a lie-detector test after denying he was involved.

Scheduled for arraignment today in Pontiac Municipal Court were Mrs. Betty Marie Shubert, 21, who rooms at 75 Thorpe St., her husband, William Shubert, 20, of 145 W. Wilson Ave., and Doyle Ray Goff, 19, of 29 Hillside Dr.

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor Farrell E. Roberts said that Pfc. Richard Inglesbe, 22, of 806 Orlando Ave., would be given the lie test at the Redford State Police Post. He will either be charged later or turned over to Marine Corps authorities, said Roberts.

According to Roberts, Mrs. Shubert said she has been lifting merchandise from stores since last December when her husband stopped supporting her.

All four were arrested Tuesday after a Pontiac merchant tipped off police that Inglesbe was in the store at the time trying to get refund for a dress reported missing from the store.

Would Put Limit on State Speed

18 Senators File Bill for 65 Travel Rate in Day, 45 at Night

LANSING (AP)—Eighteen senators, a majority of their chamber, proposed today to abandon Michigan's long standing policy of no highway speed limit.

Headed by Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma), the group filed a bill to impose a speed limit of 65 miles an hour on highways during daylight hours and 45 miles at night.

The votes of the sponsors are enough to pass the bill through the senate.

For years, Michigan law has avoided a specific speed limit and simply requires motorists to keep their cars under control at all times.

Sen. A. P. Decker (R-Deerfield) touched another controversy with a bill to abolish the discretionary power now allowed the state conservation commission to fix deer hunting seasons and bag limits.

The discretionary power law was forced through the legislature by sportsmen's groups and will expire after the 1954 season automatically unless extended.

Courtney said support of the bingo drive is growing rapidly. He said organizations supporting the campaign have just about doubled in Wayne County alone.

Glen Thom, former president of the Detroit Fire Fighters Association, warned the group they must check the membership of each new participating organization carefully. The fundraising must also be closely watched, Thom said.

"You will get cheats that will ride on your coattails and use your name," he said. "One bit of bad publicity can ruin your whole campaign."

Michigan GOP Jeers at Gloom

But Democrats Cheer Williams' Dark Outlook on Economic Affairs

LANSING (INS) — Republican majorities in the 1954 Legislature jeered today Gov. G. Mennen Williams' gloomy economic forecasts while Democrats hailed as a "masterpiece" a State of the Commonwealth address delivered before a joint session.

The governor yesterday unveiled portions of his hoped-for legislative program for the current session along with a record $365,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year.

He asked important employment reforms, an emergency program of public works—with the emphasis on highway construction—and wholesale revisions in the state's scale of jobless benefits.

Republicans, however, pinned the "New Deal" tag on portions of Williams program and called it "creeping socialism."

The GOP also denied Williams' claims of credit for a balanced budget. Instead, party spokesmen credited Republican-sponsored tax measures a year ago for the state's currently brighter fiscal position.

Among Williams' other remedies for the freely predicted period of financial depression since the end of the Korean War were:

An agricultural marketing program, a state labor relations department to function in place of a similar federal agency, boosting jobless benefits, hikes in workmen's compensation insurance, a dollar per hour minimum wage, mediation of public workers' disputes, extensive highway development utilizing some $30,000,000 in available federal aid, promotion of risk financing of small business ventures and promotion of Michigan's tourist attractions.

Display Depicts U. S. Crimes

Best Known Felonies Recorded in Library Exhibit at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR — From a fugitive slave in Marshall, to a murder in Connecticut — records of these and other "American crimes" will be on display through February in the University of Michigan Clements Library of Americana.

The exhibit contains rare and valuable books, "broadsides" and pamphlets giving colorful descriptions and reports of 17 of early America's best known crimes.

Back in 1843, a Kentucky slave, Adam Crosswhite, escaped with his family to Marshall, Mich. There his master found and tried to seize him in 1847. Certain Marshall citizens helped the slave escape once more, this time to Canada.

When the master returned in 1848 to continue his pursuit and found the slave gone, he promptly sued certain persons for $1,900. According to records displayed in "The Marshall Statesman," the town's citizens all chipped in and paid the fine.

Murder and suicide enter the display via a broadside containing the moral poem "Cruel Murder." The poem was based on the story of a husband who murdered his family and then killed himself in their Weatherfield, Conn., home in 1782.

During the days of early America, Indians frequently took white captives and held them hostage. Children were considered the best prizes. In "Little Osage Captive," on display at the library, a missionary tells of the rescue of such a captive child in 1817.

The exhibit may be viewed in the library from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Reds Oust Wife of Ceylon Leader as U. S. Agent

COLOMBO, Ceylon (U)—Ceylon's Communist party today accused Roda Miller, the American wife of a Ceylonese Communist leader, of being a secret agent for the United States. The Reds picked up her party membership card last week on "ideological grounds."

The woman, married to Joe de Silva, lived formerly in Bridgeport, Conn., according to Red sources. They said she and her husband came recently from Communist Poland.

The party recently blamed her for a split in its ranks and ousted her and four others from membership Jan. 7.

The Communist Journal said today that Party Secretary S. A. Wickremasinghe had been tricked "by the apparently sincere Communist Roda Miller." The paper acknowledged that a book she wrote about the executed atom spies, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, had been "an excellent exposition of American policy and frameup tactics." But the paper termed the book a facade to hide her "spying" and said it was "very reminiscent of American psychological warfare board strategy."

2-Headed Baby Set to Leave Hospital

INDIANAPOLIS (U)—Indiana's two-headed baby, now 33 days old, was reported in satisfactory condition today and ready to leave Riley Hospital whenever the parents are able to take him.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hartley of near Petersburg, in southern Indiana, have said they wanted to take their son home as soon as possible. However, their family physician, Dr. Joseph W.

Their log cabin, three miles from Petersburg, has no electricity, plumbing or running water, and the back road leading to it is impassable much of the winter.

Bossing Children No Good but Exceptions Prove Rule

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS)—I'll wager a brand new aluminum frying-pan against some Bolivian tin that despite the last minute switch to "parental blessings," Don Antenor Patino laid up a lot of future heartache for himself by trying to keep his young daughter from marrying her young English swain.

For even though everybody kissed and made up after Papa Patino's official court orders and private detectives, he obviously operated all along on the theory that "Papa knows best."

This is the type of parent who winds up sooner or later feeling pretty sorry for himself and learnedly spouting "how sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child," as if he were "King Lear" himself.

Whether or not 18-year-old Maria Isabella really is too young to marry, her millionaire father still was practicing one of the most dangerous games of interference any father or mother can play.

My private name for that game is, "Parents' Penny Ante," because each time the chips go down, the risk seems small, but over the years the total lost can tote up quite a hideous sum.

To advise our children, to counsel, to talk things over in the attempt to bring up sensible and mature young men and women—these are the jobs and joys of parenthood.

But to try to take the reins for too long a stretch, to issue commands instead of suggestions—that's about the surest way to arrange for broken families and a lonely old age, with your children paying duty visits twice a year on Thanksgiving and Christmas Day.

The mother who tells a child, "Don't play with Molly—she's not nice enough for you," the father who throws a fit when his boy doesn't want to go into business with him, the folks who forever say, "I never even thought of that when I was your age"—these managing fathers and mothers are acting like drill sergeants, instead of good sane parents.

Do child psychologists, then, disapprove of all parental control? Of course not. They don't even object to an occasional burst of temper and a spanking at the moment of seeing red.

In fact, they say that parents who always act like angels with little tin wings, are doing their youngsters no favor at all, for life isn't run by angels with little tin wings, and to bring up a child to expect any such malarkey is no preparation for reality.

Now you might, just for fun, glance at that inward mirror which is yourself. What kind of a parent are you?

A desert may be hot, like the Sahara, or cold, like the tundras of Siberia.

New Television Tube Boosts Power 50 Pct.

NEW YORK (UP)—One new TV development is a transmitting tube designed to boost the area covered by low-power stations by 25 to 50 per cent.

The 25,000-watt tube is said to be the most powerful commercial model which can operate on all standard or very high frequency TV channels (General Electric Co.).

Train Cuts Firemen's Hose—Building Burns

HAMMOND, Ind. (UP)—Firemen at nearby Griffith probably would have saved a burning railroad bunkhouse if it hadn't been for a train.

They were just getting the blaze under control yesterday when a passenger train roared by, cutting their hoses.

The bunkhouse was destroyed before tank trucks arrived.

Straits Bridge Bonds on Sale

National Underwriters Begin Financing 5-Mile Mackinac Span

NEW YORK (UP)—A $79,800,000 bond sale was scheduled to get under way today to finance construction of a five-mile toll bridge spanning the Straits of Mackinac.

Norman S. Downey, vice president of Union Securities Corp., said yesterday the bonds would be put on sale by over 150 firms comprising a nationwide underwriting syndicate. Union Securities Corp. heads the underwriting group.

The bonds are 4 per cent tax-exempt maturing in 1994. Downey said they were to be priced at 99 to yield about 4.05 per cent return to investors.

Last month the underwriters bought $99,800,000 of the revenue bonds from the Mackinac Bridge Authority at a new interest cost of 4.349 per cent. Both series A and B bonds were included in the purchase.

However, only series A bonds were to be offered in today's sale.

Downey said there were no present plans for offering the remaining 20 million dollars worth.

Downey also said that the offerings would be contingent upon a Michigan court suit challenging the validity of the bond floating. The court has so far held up both distribution of the bonds and payment to the bridge commission.

Chiang Inscriptes Tablet for Lutheran Church

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP)—Dr. Arne Sovik of Minneapolis and Northfield, Minn., announced today that his new Grace Lutheran Church here has received "something of historic as well as religious and decorative value, a gift from China's most famous Christian." The pastor said Nationalist China's President Chiang Kai-shek a Methodist, had written the inscription "Jung Yao Kwei Shen," meaning "Glory to God," for a large wooden tablet to be suspended over the altar in the church.

Special Educators Outline Week for Longfellow PTA

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac Schools introduced a panel especially qualified teachers who discussed their specific educational services at Longfellow School PTA meeting Thursday. The discussion was in observance of Health Month.

Mrs. Evelyn Gottschalk, hearing consultant, explained the feeling of frustration and inadequacy the partial loss of hearing can make. Thus the child is taught to let his eyes compensate for his hearing loss, she said.

Mrs. Ma Mae Roback, speech consultant, stated, "For any correction, you first must build confidence and desire for better speech in the child."

Articulation, rhythm or stuttering, voice disorders, all are to be watched for and corrected as early as possible. Their key to correction lies in hearing, seeing and even feeling sound.

Eleanor Traut, physical therapist, described her orthopedic program as a way to make the handicapped children as independent as possible. Treatment and lessons go hand in hand, with the re-educational exercise under doctors' orders and improvements reported to them as progress is made. Each child participates in regular classes when possible to speed his feeling of independence.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pepple stressed that open-minded acceptance of the mentally handicapped is a big step in the right direction. The "Opportunity Room" that she directs is keyed to ease tension and to let the children work at a speed consistent with their individual abilities.

The goal is to help in character and personality development.

Teacher and parent conferences and a screening committee are employed to decide upon admission to this class.

Allan Copley, visiting teacher, explained, "The impact of emotion on living cripples the learning power of the child. Feelings get in the way of adjustment at school, thus repair of emotional damage by understanding and interest of the teacher can create within the child's life a greater confidence."

Mrs. Helen Campbell, sight-saving consultant, told of the improvement being made with the partially blind children. Those who qualify and have normal learning ability have special equipment to facilitate education with the average child as soon as possible.

Dictaphone, typewriters and talking books all aid them to their goal of education. Eye hygiene and safety are also taught. When possible these children, too, are placed in the regular classroom to help adjust to the normal world.

Josephine Seeley, health coordinator, correlates the work of the other teachers and supervises the placement of children with defects in the proper departments. A recent survey in the Pontiac Schools shows an increase in percentage of children being guarded by immunization for diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox, she said. Mr. Cox closed the discussion with the observation that, "As there are physical differences, so there are mental differences that must be accepted as part of the person and dealt with accordingly to create as near a normal and happy life of independence as possible."

Second grade children of Mrs. Leon Bogan's room demonstrated by song and skit the correct foods and care for healthy teeth in conjunction with Health Month.

Mrs. Robert Howey was elected to act as recording secretary for the remainder of the year, upon the resignation of Mrs. Clifford Threlkeld.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Mrs. Edward Bilalik and Mrs. Charles Peterson, with Mrs. Francis Crews and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell presiding at the tea table.

Whitfield PTA Hears Reasons for Delinquency

Reasons for the present upswing in juvenile delinquency were presented to mothers and teachers of Daniel Whitfield PTA Wednesday by Gertrude Barrett, Oakland County policewoman.

Mrs. Barrett, speaking from her personal experiences in the work of the Sheriff's Department, suggested ways to reduce delinquency.

Mrs. Walter Schroder presented her report on the recent Pontiac PTA Council meeting, and Mrs. Arthur Webster reported that the acting superintendent, Cecil Clark, will examine methods of improving the school driveway and parking facilities.

The group voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop if parents show sufficient interest.

A dessert luncheon was served in the school dining room preceding the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Cronis, chairman; Mrs. George Attwater, Mrs. W. C. Pfahler and Mrs. Rudolph Buchmann.

DeMolay Given Robe Donation

Pontiac White Shrine Wednesday approved a contribution to DeMolay Club for the purchase of robes. The group met at Roosevelt Temple with Mrs. Lloyd Wait, worthy high priestess, presiding.

Mrs. E. J. Ziem announced that White Shrine will sponsor a card party Jan. 27 at Roosevelt Temple, beginning at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Bernice Cover was appointed chairman for refreshments and Mrs. Alfred Martini may be contacted for tickets.

Refreshments were served following the meeting by Mrs. Tommy Pruitt, chairman, and Mrs. Charles Rhodes, Mrs. Arthur Sharpe and Mr. Pruitt.

Council Votes
Sewer Funds

Money to Go for Work in Brentwood Heights Subdivision

ROCHESTER — At a special meeting last night, the Village Council voted $7,789 for sanitary and storm sewer outlets and a storm sewer for the proposed Brentwood Heights subdivision.

Since the sewers will be on property outside the subdivision, the Council made the stipulation that the subdivider must obtain the right of way and deed it to the village.

"Of the amount voted, $2,769 will go for a storm sewer on First street which will pick up water before it hits the subdivision," Manager Robert Slone said today.
"The money voted last night is the only expenditure the village will have to make in connection with the subdivision," Slone added.

The subdivision is wholly within village boundaries and the H. M.
Seiden Co., subdividers, will furnish concrete streets, curbs and gutters, sidewalks, and storm and sanitary sewers.

The 51-home subdivision will lie south of First street.
"My impression is that work will begin as soon as the final plat is approved by the village, the county and the State," Slone said.

Wheat Gaining Strength Slowly

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat eked out slow gains in a dull market on the Board of Trade today. Other cereals totaled a little higher in sympathy with wheat.

The bread cereal's early strength was far from spectacular. But it managed to climb in view of fairly liberal shipments of cash wheat from Chicago, reports the government was swapping red wheat for hard and a statistical picture which grain analysts regard as bullish.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ cent higher, March $\$2.10\frac{1}{2}$, corn $\frac{1}{4}$ lower to $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, March $\$1.52\frac{1}{2}$, oats unchanged, March $\$1.20\frac{1}{2}$, soybeans unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, January $\$3.04\frac{1}{2}$ and lard five cents lower to seven cents a hundred pounds higher, January $\$16.40$.

MAKE OVER THE SNOW-JAMMED

Valley Folks Fearful If Block Breaks; Toll of Lives Now 148

VIENNA (U)—An avalanche-blocked river in Austria's British zone brought new flood danger today to 1,000 residents of the Soek valley of Southern Austria. Rescue crews rushed to the area.

The Soek river, a tributary of the Enns, was dammed up for a mile by a 400-foot snowslide. Officials feared the water might break loose to take a new toll of lives.

The death toll from west Austria's avalanches rose to 116 persons today, and 9 others still were missing. With 24 dead in Switzerland, 6 in Germany and 2 in Italy, this brought the toll for the four countries to 148.

Austria counted more than 100 injured.

In west Austria's stricken Wals valley, where hope was about gone for the nine still missing there, heavy new snow falls halted rescue efforts today. Rising temperatures brought danger of new avalanches. Some rescue crews were reported temporarily cut off.

A new avalanche alarm also was issued in the Tyrol.

The Communists were having their weather troubles, too. Radio Budapest reported that road traffic in Hungary was almost completely paralyzed by heavy new snows.

The flood threat in the Soek valley was caused by the worst avalanche in 40 years. Rescuers, including demolition workers, rushed to Groebming in an effort to make their way through immense snow drifts to the avalanche site. While they hoped to get the river flowing again, a main concern was the removal of a number of sick persons who were without medical aid.

A small Swiss reconnaissance plane was dispatched to look for signs of life from a skier reported marooned almost a week without food in a hut near the top of the 8,660-foot Rote Wand peak near the Wals valley. The pilot was to drop food and supplies if he found the man alive.

Husband Is Freed in Death of Bride

OMAHA (U)—Towering Joe Kuykendall, whose friends call him the "best horse-shoer" in his part of the country, was free today after a 6½-week trial for first-degree murder.

The 34-year-old Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., horse trainer was acquitted of murder last night in connection with the death of his helmsman bride of three months, Ardash (Noni) Kuykendall, 30.

The charge was filed after his wife was found dying in their house trailer here last June 18, during the 1953 Omaha racing season.

Investigating officers said she appeared to have suffered a beating, but in the long trial there was lengthy testimony to show she could have suffered her injuries in a fall. There also was testimony that she drank excessively, used drugs and appeared to be intoxicated only a short time before her death.

Wives Advised to Check Hubby's Pension Plan

CHICAGO (U)—A wise wife should examine more than her husband's paycheck. She should know the terms of his company's pension plan.

Commerce Clearing House, publishers of a new pension plan guide reports that some employers are adopting plans under which pension payments will be continued to surviving widows.

Most pensions now are paid only during the lifetime of the worker. The guide says coverage against income loss is less than 25 per cent effective for aged widows.

Most widows drawing benefits now get them from social security, not from private plans, the guide said.

It explained the new pension problem as follows:

"Since many men marry women younger than themselves, and since the life expectancy of women is greater than that of men, it is important to decide whether a pension is to be paid for the lifetime of the husband or the lifetime of both husband and wife."

Teachers Day Is Sunday

LANSING (U)—Gov. Williams today proclaimed Sunday, Jan. 17, as teachers day in Michigan and urged all citizens "to pay tribute to the teachers who have always played an outstanding role in making the United States a leader among the nations of the world."

Woman Legislator Feels Unwelcome in Her Post

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — Sen. Florence K. Murray, only woman in the Rhode Island Senate, gave this description yesterday of her life as a legislator: "You're not wanted, you're not invited, you just go. And if you stay home, you're not missed."

For bees, the latest prefabricated housing is an artificial comb made of specially treated plastic. It is said to be the first non-wax comb that bees have filled with honey.

Illinois Father and Son Span Nation's History

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (U)—Two generations—father and son—have spanned the history of the United States. And the son still is living.

He is Charles E. Bonham, 84,

Mount Carmel, whose father, a War of 1812 veteran, was 80 when Bonham was born.

"My father and I could have shaken hands with every U. S. president from Washington to Eisenhower," Bonham said.
