New Hoffa Hearing Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ordered a new hearing for Teamsters President James R. Hoffa on his 1964 federal mail fraud conviction. The hearing, the court said in an unsigned opinion, will be for purposes of determining if Hoffa's trial was affected by admitted government eavesdropping on a co-defendant.

If the federal court in Chicago finds that Hoffa's conviction was tainted by the eavesdropping, the Supreme Court said, "it would then become its duty" to grant him a new trial.

Hoffa drew a five-year prison sentence on the mail fraud conviction. The court's action today has no bearing on his unrelated conviction for jury tampering.

8-YEAR SENTENCE

He is currently serving an eight-year sentence on that conviction in the federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa.

The court acted on a 7-1 vote. Dissenting Justice Hugo L. Black noted that he favored hearing arguments before the Supreme Court on the case.

Justice Byron R. White, a former deputy U.S. attorney general, took no part in the case.

The subject of the admitted FBI eavesdropping was S. George Burris, 69, a New York City accountant convicted with Hoffa.

On April 13 the Justice Department told the court FBI agents had overheard Burris discussing his "personal financial problems" with Benjamin Sigelbaum of Miami, Fla.

Consumers Cuts Electric Rates

Electric customers of Consumers Power Co., Pontiac Division will realize lower electric rates next month, Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager announced today. Total savings for local customers will average $46,000 annually.

The new rates go into effect starting with accounts billed as of June 2.

Brown said the rate decrease is due to recent action of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The commission recently approved a request from the Detroit Edison Co., which supplies Consumers with wholesale electricity for distribution, for rate adjustments. These rate changes will affect several classes of power he explained.

Brown added that these new rates automatically apply to local Consumers Power customers because of a company agreement with the city stating that Consumers will supply electricity at the same rate as Detroit Edison.

REDUCTIONS

Rates for residential customers using more than 550 kilowatt hours per month will be reduced by a total of $2,300.

The reduction to residential customers who also use service for water heating will be $5,000.

Small commercial and industrial users including commercial space conditioning will share a decrease of $39,500.

"The rate decrease is modest. It will only mean a few pennies per month to homeowners," Brown said.

100 Golfers Battle Weather as Press Tourney Opens

Chilly, breezy weather greeted the 100 county area high school golfers this morning as they teed off in the 16th annual Pontiac Press Invitational Tournament at Pontiac Country Club.

Tricky greens combined with the uncomfortable weather to cause putting problems for the boys, but Royal Oak Kimball's Mike Sheridan did equal par with a 36.

However, Waterford Township's Skipper appeared to have the upper hand in the battle for the over-all team trophy, after nine holes.

Cofavored with Kettering, WTHS had three players in the 39-42 range led by Rod Skelton with a 39.

Pontiac Central had Gary Beckman and Dave McNeely in with 41s, while ROK's second best total was a 43.

SECOND PLACE

Currently in second place fighting for medalist honors is Avondale's Gary Balliet, a junior. He carded a 38 for his first nine holes.

Tied with Skelton at 39 were Kettering's Dave Mollanen and Southfield's Bob Scheuer. The fast greens, though, are expected to put the tournament record of two-under-par 70 out of everyone's grasp except for perhaps Sheridan.

A record is certain, however, in the team total since for the first time the tournament has four-man instead of five-man lineups.

Defending champion Bloomfield Hills has won the tournament the past three seasons. But its ace Bill Scott (40) is the only Baron entry currently under 43.

Charges Fly Early at Auto Hearings

DETROIT (UPI) — Lawyers for the auto industry and the federal government began squabbling today as soon as they gathered for a hearing on the most controversial of the new federal safety standards.

Robert M. O'Mahany, attorney for the National Traffic Safety Bureau, accused the auto makers of refusing to give him a preview look at industry exhibits designed to demonstrate the inability of car makers to meet the standard.

Lawyers for the Automobile Manufacturers Association and General Motors Corp. denied it and said they couldn't understand O'Mahany's complaint.

O'Mahany told the hearing officer that in view of the mixup he would cross-examine industry witnesses today and tomorrow. The cross examination had been scheduled separately, at a hearing in Washington Wednesday.

The argument broke out before the first witness had a chance to take the stand. The public hearing was called by the government's safety agency in the wake of complaints by all four U.S. auto makers that they could not possibly meet the "interior impact" standard in the time allowed.

The standard, one of 29 scheduled to go into effect on all new cars next Jan. 1, is designed to protect car occupants from injury in case of a crash.

O'Mahany said he arrived Saturday and asked the car makers to give him a preview of their exhibits. He said he was shown a book with pictures and was told the AMA had no other exhibits.

"I was incredulous then," O'Mahany said. "I am incredulous now. This has left the bureau counsel in a dilemma on how we would proceed today."

Lloyd N. Cutler, AMA lawyer, said, "We had no intention of surprising him (O'Mahany)." Frazer E. Hilder, a GM lawyer said O'Mahany "is not as badly off as he thinks."

TOUR OF EXHIBITS

"For two hours, we gave Mr. O'Mahany a tour of all exhibits and outlined in detail what the exhibits would be used for," Hilder said. "We are at a loss to understand his problem."

The standard relates to interior hardware in a car, including seat belt and shoulder harness anchorages and protrusions such as window levers, door handles, and mirrors.

It also sets a three-dimensional area for the body of an occupant restrained by a seat belt to be able to move without sustaining serious injury in the event of a crash.

Seven Killed in Manhattan Train Collision

NEW YORK (AP) — Two freight trains collided head-on in an upper Manhattan railroad yard today and at least seven dead were reported in a piled-up tangle of wreckage of engines and freight cars.

Fire swept the wreckage, and police said more bodies might be found.

Fire department officials had reported at least a dozen others were injured.

The two three-unit railroad engines smashed into each other on the north-bound express track of the 130th Street yard of the New York Central Railroad, near Riverside Drive. The collision occurred near West 148th Street.

The engine units were piled three deep at the point of impact, and a dozen freight cars were derailed.

NO EXPLANATION

There was no immediate explanation of why the trains, one bound for a terminal at 33rd Street, south of the scene, the other northbound for the Selkirk Yard near Albany, were on the same track.

The tracks were so torn up by the collision and buried under wreckage that it was difficult immediately to determine the positions of the trains before the crash.

A box car loaded with bundled paper bags had telescoped, bursting into a mountain of litter.

Pontiac Welcomes Exchange Mayor

Pontiac city officials rolled out a welcome mat today for visiting Mayor Morton R. Cohn of Monroe.

Cohn, one of hundreds of mayors across the state switching cities in observance of Michigan Week, was greeted by Pontiac Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson in a reception at the city limits on Woodward Avenue.

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., meanwhile, toured Monroe, southernmost large city in Michigan and located on the shores of Lake Erie.

Local itinerary for Cohn included a formal reception at City Hall, motorcade through Pontiac, lunch in the executive dining room at Pontiac Motor Division and tours of the Pontiac plant and the Oakland County service center.

The visiting mayor was accompanied by his wife.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

In other Michigan Week activities today, five former Michigan governors joined Gov. George Romney and Lt. Gov. William Milliken at a luncheon on the shores of Lake Erie.

Warming Trend Expected in Area

Today's sunshine is expected to launch a warming trend for the Pontiac area. The weatherman forecasts five days of temperatures likely to range four to seven degrees above the normal highs of 61 to 70 and the normal lows of 38 to 45.

The high today will be between 58 to 63 with tonight's low 38 to 45.

Tomorrow and Wednesday fair skies will boost temperatures into the 70s.

Low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 39. By 2 p.m. the mercury climbed to 58.

Also on tap today were radio and television appearances in Chicago by Michigan's agricultural queens, opening of the ninth annual Mid-Michigan art exhibition in Midland, and open-house programs at newly built municipal buildings in Walled Lake and Petoskey.

A sports Hall of Fame banquet in Detroit tonight will pay tribute to three or Michigan's outstanding athletes of the past — Doak Walker, Detroit Lions halfback; Sid Abel, Detroit Red Wings general manager and coach; and the late Jacob Mazur, one of the state's finest "pioneer" basketball players.

U.S. Planes Ignore Reds' Cease-Fire

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes ignored the Communist cease-fire for Buddha's birthday today and raided Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. Pilots reported shooting down one MIG jet.

The Soviet news agency, Tass, said the planes subjected northern and southern sections of Hanoi "to massive bombings." The U.S. Air Force did not say what targets were attacked. The Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported from Hanoi that the North Vietnamese capital was without electricity and water following Sunday's U.S. air raid on a power plant. Most of the plant was damaged, CTK added.

The Communists ushered in their two-day cease-fire with a dozen heavy mortar attacks before the deadline and a later attack on a U.S. force killed 15 Americans and wounded 71. The Communists also blew the

WWII Ace Bags 3rd, 4th MIGs in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Col. Robin Olds became the leading MIG killer of the Vietnam war over the weekend, shooting down his third and fourth Communist jets in the skies over North Vietnam.

The 44-year-old World War II ace became the first pilot of the war to knock down three MIGs when he got a MIG-17 40 miles northeast of Hanoi Saturday.

COL. ROBIN OLDS

Olds also was credited with a probable kill, and the Air Force said today the "probable" had been confirmed. Now Olds needs only one more MIG to make him a Vietnamese War ace.

During World War II, Olds, a West Point graduate, was credited with knocking down 24½ enemy planes. The half represented a kill he shared with another pilot.

FIGHTER COMMANDER

Olds is married to former actress Ella Raines and is the father of two teen-age girls. His family lives in Washington, D.C. He was a football star at West Point and now commands the 38 Tactical Fighter Wing based in Thailand. The wing is credited with shooting down 22 of the 54 MIGs claimed by Air Force pilots over North Vietnam.

Navy and Marine forces claim 16 more MIGs.

Olds sat out the Korean War with the Air Defense Command and arrived in Southeast Asia last October. On Jan. 2 he made his first kill — a MIG-17. U.S. pilots shot down seven MIGs that day in a sweep led by Olds.

AIR KILLS

All of Olds' kills have been made with air-to-air rockets.

Seconds after he knocked out the first MIG on Saturday, Olds reported, he was flying only 100 feet above the ground when he launched another missile at a MIG as it headed over a ridge line.

Injuries Fatal to Area Youth

A Walled Lake youth died yesterday morning in Pontiac General Hospital of injuries received in an accident Saturday.

On Williams Lake Road in White Lake Township, Ronald McClelland, 20, of 206 Spring Park was a passenger in a car driven by Karmeth Gray, 19, of 992 Daffodil.

Waterford Township police said the Lake police said left the road and rolled over after striking another car.

McClelland died at 9:22 a.m., hospital authorities said.

White Lake Police Sgt. Tom Carl said witnesses told him the Gross car and a second vehicle were traveling south on Williams Lake Road at a high rate of speed when the mishap occurred.

He said Gross' car skidded more than 180 feet on the pavement and came to a stop some 150 feet from the road.

No one else was seriously injured, according to a hospital spokesman.

Carl said the accident is under final investigation pending final disposition by the county prosecutor's office.

tracks from, beneath a South Vietnamese military train nearly three hours after their 48-hour cease-fire was to have been effective at 7 a.m. Saigon time, or 7 p.m. EDT Sunday.

South Vietnamese and allied forces had said they would not begin their 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday until one minute after midnight tonight, or 12:01 p.m. EDT today. The Communists caught a unit of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division as it was moving out on a sweep mission in the central highlands 33 miles southwest of Pleiku and at 7:02 a.m. opened up with intense mortar and rocket grenade fire.

U.S. headquarters said the American infantry battled an estimated Red battalion of perhaps 500 men for four hours. Thirty-two of the enemy were reported killed.

Under the generally understood ground rules for cease-fires in Vietnam, the Reds could have considered the U.S. sweep as an offensive action and their attack as self-defense.

Rate Cutback Due for Some AAA Drivers

DETROIT (AP) — More than one sixth of Michigan's auto owners stand to save about $10 million in insurance costs under an Automobile Club of Michigan rate reduction—the first in 10 years.

The AAA announced Saturday that a combination of premium refunds and rate reductions would go into effect July 1.

The cuts won't affect motorists who are insured under the assigned risk plan or those insured by an AAA subsidiary, Motor State, a company spokesman said.

Motor State insures drivers who have had more than the average number of accidents.

As policies expire, refunds of 10 percent of the cost of 1966-67 policies will go to each insured.

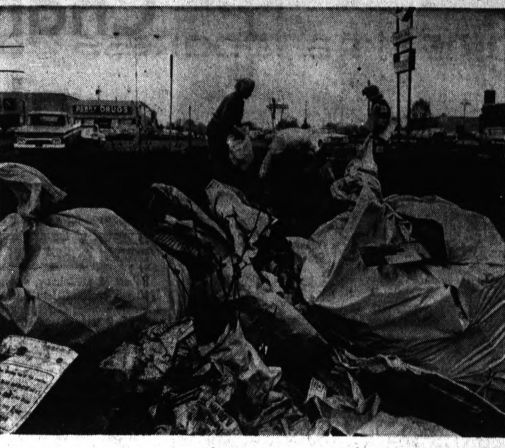

The Auto Club exchange sets higher premiums for marginal drivers, younger drivers and parents of young drivers, with some rates running as high as $500.

Refunds will average about $15 per year, but could go as high as $50 for those who pay the big premiums.

Premium refunds will total about $9 million, according to Richard R. Dann, executive vice president of the club's Insurance Exchange.

A reduction in rates for uninsured motorist coverage and comprehensive protection will account for another $1 million, Dann said.

Dann said the cuts and refunds are possible because "We feel our concentrated program of positive safety education has had an influence on our members."

2 GIs Die in Bombs Laid to N. Koreans

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Two U.S. soldiers were killed early today by explosions which shattered their Quonset barracks near the Korean demilitarized zone.

The United Nations Command blamed the blasts on North Korean infiltrators and called for an Armistice Commission meeting Wednesday to protest what the command termed "a flagrant violation" of the armistice agreement.

Sixteen American soldiers of the 2nd Infantry Division were injured along with two South Koreans attached to the unit.

A U.N. Command spokesman said five North Korean delayed charges, including a satchel charge which failed to detonate, destroyed two Quonset huts at a compound north of the Imjin River about a mile and a half south of the demilitarized zone.

Romney Gets Scroll From Utah Backers

From UPI Wire Story

A group of prominent Utah Republicans today gave Gov. Romney a 1,500-foot scroll signed by 5,000 backers of the new "Utahns-for-Romney" committee, the fourth Romney-for-President state committee.

The Utahns, led by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett and Reps. Laurence J. Burton and Sherman P. Lloyd, also showed artwork of Romney-for-President and bumper stickers.

Romney, greeting the Utah delegation in the living room of his home in Bloomfield Hills, smiled and said his likeness on the poster artwork was excellent. But he didn't commit himself to run for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

Romney sat in the middle of the room while the delegation gathered around him. Telegrams were read from other Utah Republicans, all endorsing Romney for president.

The scroll was presented by Robert B. Young, an insurance executive and former chairman of the Davis County, Utah, Republican organization who heads the Utahns-for-Romney group.

DATED LENORE

Romney chuckled when one said he dated Romney's wife, Lenore before the governor met her. The Romneys are Mormons and have deep family ties in Utah.

Preceding the visit of the Utah delegation, the Romneys were breakfast hosts to a group of nine Japanese governors here on a seven-state visit as part of an exchange program between the National Governors' Conference of the United States and the Japanese Governors Association, sponsored by the Department of State. Romney was delegation that visited Japan in 1965.

The five outstanding first-year Jaycees in the U.S. will be selected at the convention.

Supervisor of suggestions and ECR (error cause removal) at Pontiac Motor Division, Stricklin recently was elected internal vice president of the Waterford Township Jaycees for 1967-68.

Spoke stands for service, participation, orientation, knowledge and enthusiasm.

In the Michigan chapter, first-year Jaycees from chapters throughout the state were judged in three areas: activities in and out of Jaycees during their first year, a written examination and an oral review board.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Eleven planes searched over 8,000 square miles of open water between here and Cuba today for a missing red and white plane flown by the top aide to the 4th Army commander.

"Purely and simply it's a case of former employees of the CIA—a large number of them Cubans — having a venomous reaction from the 1961 Bay of Pigs episode . . . certain individuals with a fusion of interests in re-gaining Cuba assassinated the President," Garrison says.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Central Intelligence Agency said the organization would have no comment on Garrison's remarks, made last night in a 23-minute interview with newsmen Bob Jones on WWL-TV.

Garrison said the CIA knows "the name of every man involved and the names of the individuals who pulled the triggers" to kill John F. Kennedy.

He says the CIA has "infinitely more power than the Gestapo and the NKVD of Russia combined." He referred to police organizations of Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union.

Both the Coast Guard and the FAA referred inquiries to Washington where spokesmen for the Pentagon and State Department said they were unaware of the incident.

Senate Dem Denies Probe Manipulation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., says certain federal agencies out to get him are behind reports he misused his Senate investigative committee in an attempt to keep the Senate's Union President James R. Hoffa out of prison.

Long said tonight's agenda will be consideration of a sidewalk construction program for this summer. William Killeen, city engineer, points out no program was carried out last year due to heavy workloads.

The department hopes to carry on a project in an area between Maple, Adams, Fourteen Mile and the eastern city limits.

Arabs Threaten West Oil Sites

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Arab workers will blow up Western oil installations in the Middle East and strike against all Western air and sea traffic if war breaks out between the Arabs and Israel, the secretary-general of the Pan-Arab Federation of Labor Trade Unions declared today.

Hashem Ali Mohsen made his threat at an emergency meeting of the federation's executive council in Damascus, the Syrian capital, as more Arab forces were moved up to Israel's borders and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant prepared to fly to Cairo in an attempt to ease the Middle East crisis.

The threat to blow up Western oil installations in the Arab world has been made frequently. Syria blew up the Iraq Petroleum Company's pipeline crossing the Suez war in 1956.

Opening the labor conference, Syrian Chief of State Nureddin el-Atassi said Syria and Egypt are prepared to repel any Israeli aggression and "start the final liberation battle" against the Jewish state.

Asked in an interview if the Internal Revenue Service, one of the targets of the committee's probing, might have wanted to retaliate, Long replied, "I don't want to make that charge, but agree that's very interesting."

"DEFINITELY UNTRUE"

The senator termed the Life article a "smear" and said the magazine's accusations "are definitely untrue." His subcommittee, he said, had no interest in the Hoffa case.

He spoke on KMOX-TV, a St. Louis television station.

Champion Frog Is Bumblebee Fancier

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — A bumblebee-fed frog named after an Air Force missile has outjumped 3,000 of his cousins from around the world to become the new "celebrated jumping frog of Calaveras County."

With three mighty leaps before a crowd of 60,000 Sunday, Sidewinder IV showed his flickering

webfoot to such also-rans as an Australian entry with a kangaroo jump, an invisible Hawaiian frog that disappeared into the stands and a human "frog."

Sidewinder's leap of 17 feet, 11 inches makes him not only celebrated, but with the $300 title money, about the richest frog around.

Owner Mike Voitch, Stockton, Calif., tavern owner and 25-year frog veteran, promised his entry such rewards as escape from the Monday morning frying pan, rest and all the bumblebees he can handle.

HAS OWN POND

"I've been jumping frogs for 25 years," Voitch declared after the victory. "I've got my own pond. First you find them, then you feed them bumblebees, then you start training them two weeks ahead of time. I won't let you rest. It's a professional secret."

Grandson Mike Guisto, the trainer, offered a hint to success: "You hit the floor behind him and if he won't jump, you tickle him."

A legal hassle swirls around Victor B. Bonamour of Bordeaux, France, who appeared in an all-green outfit and jumped 19 feet, 10 inches.

"I've got a court writ from San Francisco attorney Melvin Bell that certifies I'm a frog," insisted Bonamour, a 22-year-old student at Hayward, Calif., Junior College.

"The fifth dictionary definition of a frog is a Frenchman — and I want to jump," he declared.

Officials said he wouldn't qualify unless he could stay under water for 15 minutes and leap from all fours. Bonamour, a scuba diver, offered to do so but his claim was disallowed.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is forecast tonight for the mid-Atlantic states, sections of the south Atlantic Coast and the northern Plains. It will be mild in the Plains and cooler in the Southeast.

Romney Entertains Nine Japanese Governors

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney entertains a delegation of nine Japanese governors today after breaking for them his long-standing practice of not conducting official business on Sundays.

Romney overruled what he has termed a religious conviction of avoiding official work on Sundays by greeting the Japanese at a reception and dinner Sunday night at Detroit's Hotel Ponchartraine.

"He felt that since he was the host it was his duty to attend the reception," a spokesman for the governor explained.

The Japanese governors flew into Michigan as part of a swing through six states in an exchange program between the National Governors Conference, The Japanese Governors Association and the State Department.

Romney visited Japan with seven other governors in 1965. Sunao Ikeda, governor of the prefecture of Saga, said the Japanese delegation was confident that Romney would win the 1968 Republican presidential nomination. Romney is considering whether to declare himself a candidate for the nomination.

Romney made no political answer to the statement, though he welcomed the delegation to the dinner, sponsored by the Economic Club of Detroit, and narrated films touting Michigan as a tourist attraction.

Pointing out that Michigan has no plush governor's mansion, Romney invited the Japanese to a simple breakfast this morning at his home in Bloomfield Hills.

LANSING LUNCHEON

Romney also is showing the Japanese the State Capital to day, introducing them to Michigan officials and lawmakers at a luncheon in Lansing.

Earlier in the weekend, Romney turned his attention to local elections and unions.

"SOFTEST JOB"

"Neither has the softest job in collective bargaining in America," said Romney, a former president of American Motors.

"He can play one company against the other," he said.

The UAW has an unfair advantage over the four automobile companies, said Romney, urging that the "excessive concentration of bargaining power" be broken up.

Though Ford, GM, Chrysler and American Motors "are exchanging information and some collaboration," said Romney, the UAW is a single monopolistic unit.

Romney's appearance before the Iowa group was his first before a chain of Romney-for-President committees being organized across the nation.

Brighton Man, 30, Dies in Drag Race

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Dick Sawallich of Brighton, a veteran 30-year-old drag racer, was killed Saturday night when the impact of his parachute broke his car apart at 100 miles an hour, witnesses said.

Sawallich was thrown from the car in the race at Motor City Dragway near his Detroit suburb. He was pronounced dead on arrival at a Mount Clemens hospital.

Sawallich's wife and three children were among some 4,500 fans who witnessed the accident.

Boy, 6, Tells of Ordeal in Utah Desert

LEHI, Utah (AP) — To a barefoot, shirtless and lost 6-year-old boy, the chilly Utah desert at night becomes a frightening world of creatures and noises.

"I was scared. Real scared. And I started crying," Mike Fowler of Lehi said. He spent 11 hours walking 10 miles in the desolate Jerico sand dunes area of west-central Utah.

He wandered from a campground Saturday night and some 200 searchers with horses, jeeps and motorcycles spread out through the desert in moonlight to find him.

Mike said, "I got sand in my eyes and went the wrong way."

"SO THIRSTY"

"First I walked one way and then another. I got so thirsty I couldn't spit."

He said at one point a big lizard walked across his path, and he finally picked up a stick to protect himself against "some growly things."

"I saw a fawn deer and I started crying and it scared him away."

RESCUE

Among the searchers was motorcyclist David Spencer, 31, of Draper, Utah. He and some 40 other cyclists were holding an obstacle course race in the area before the call for help was issued.

Spencer found Mike about 2:30 a.m.

"The boy was shaking but wasn't crying," Spencer said. "He was just a cute, skinny, tired little kid."

Shoplifters Get Diet Punishment

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Municipal Court Judge John B. Lawrence sentenced two 16-year-old girls convicted of shoplifting to a fine, one day in jail, two years probation and a crash diet. A 165-pound girl was ordered recently to lose 15 pounds and a 145-pound girl must lose 10 pounds in six months or they face jail for 28 more days.

The judge said, "I thought that making them do without sweets awhile would sting, and that everytime they went without a meal they would remember they are being punished."

Character of Lapeer County Is Changing

(Editors Note: This is the first of a two-part series on changes under way in Lapeer County and specifically the city of Lapeer.)

By JEAN SAILE

LAPEER — Where the wealth of the land once lay in its ability to grow food, Lapeer County administrators are awakening to the fact that the product is becoming bedrooms.

The character of the county and with it, the city of Lapeer, is changing.

The population of the county, about 45,000, is almost evenly split between those who farm and those who don't, surveys show.

And of those who don't, about half seek employment in industries outside the county, according to Lyle F. Stewart, county clerk.

It has posed a problem for the administrators, he admits.

FARMER BOARD

The County Board of Supervisors, top-heavy with farmers, has been forced to plan for a future that will largely exclude them.

They are not giving up quietly however.

Stewart reveals that agricultural men across the state are seeking a change in the assessment law that would give farmers some relief from heavy land taxation.

He tells the story thus.

$800 AN ACRE

"Somebody comes out of the metropolitan area and buys 120 acres that he figures will be worth quite a bit in the future. He pays $800 an acre for it, but he does not develop it."

"The state law says we must assess at half the market value."

"What about the 45- to 50-year-old farmer next door whose family has farmed the land for generations? Who is just making ends meet now?"

Stewart affirms that the average farmer is past 40 years of age.

YOUNGER MEN

"All of the younger men are leaving the land," he insists.

"What are we supposed to do?" he asks.

"The law says the land must be assessed equitably. Are we formation of a County Planning Commission, its first duty the formation of a land-use program.

The Detroit firm of Parkins, Rogers and Assoc. has been employed in the preparation of a master plan.

The county commission, made up of representatives of agriculture, recreation, education, government, industry and commerce, has realized that federal funds are there for those who have the plans to put them to use, Stewart said. He also serves as secretary of the planning group.

LAND-USE PLAN

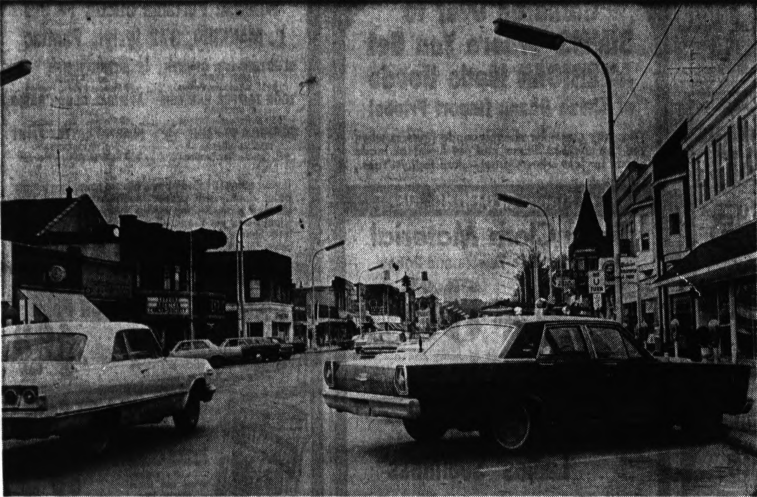

Along with the land-use plan under preparation is the consideration of several other items which administrators believe vital to the health of the county.

Detroit water is now being piped through the area. A movement to provide sewage service is afoot. There is a study of land-fill solid waste disposal now under way.

Annexation studies have occupied the county board both as pertains to Lapeer City and to outlying villages. Incorporation moves are in preparation.

"Things are changing," said Stewart.

In Commerce Township

Recall Campaign Near

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Petitions seeking a recall election to give the township an elected supervisor rather than an appointed one will be circulated next week.

Arthur Lange, who is heading the petition drive, said the petitions will be available Wednesday at his office, 9545 Commerce.

The petitions, he said, will seek a special recall election because "the people have been deprived of their right to a duly elected supervisor rather than an appointed one."

Lange is objecting to the fact that a supervisor was recently appointed by the Township Board to replace Supervisor Thomas Tiley, who resigned for health reasons, rather than allowing residents to elect a replacement.

They have pointed out that the law specifically states that the township board is empowered to appoint a replacement.

Lange also said he feels that if the people were given a chance to elect a "young, aggressive form of government" attempts to annex part of the township to Walled Lake might be prevented.

Petitions are already in to the boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors seeking the annexation.

"If we had an aggressive form of government, we wouldn't have trouble with other communities moving in," said Lange.

Annexation problems have also cropped up in Wolverine Lake, an incorporated village within the township.

ELECTION SOUGHT

Three sets of petitions have been filed seeking an election to annex the entire village to Walled Lake.

Officials say action will be taken to stop the attempt but they will not elaborate at this time.

Tax OK Sought

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Approval of a 1-mill tax to build and equip a new library is being sought today of township voters.

The proposed library, to be shared by the township and the city of Farmington, would be located on 12 mile between Orchard Lake and Farmington roads.

Rochester JCs Elect President

ROCHESTER — Robert Jasinski, 821 Castlebar, Avon Township, is the newly elected president of the Rochester Jaycees.

He was elected Thursday night to succeed Alex Formicola and will take office July 1. An installation dinner and awards ceremony is planned for June 17 at Fortino's in Pontiac.

Named with Jasinski to the leadership of the club were David Okun, internal vice president; A. L. Larson, external vice president; Roger Wall, director; Anastas Pavezic, treasurer; and Gary Carver, secretary.

Present for the election meeting were Jaycee national director, Louis Wint of Clarkston, and incoming district vice president, Leonard DePauw of Lake Orion.

Fete for Retiring Principal Tonight

WALLED LAKE — Walled Lake Elementary School Principal Floyd D. Chowen, who will end 40 years of service in the field of education in June, will be honored at a dinner tonight at Walled Lake Junior High School.

More than 300 former pupils and other friends are expected to attend the dinner sponsored by Walled Lake Elementary School PTA at 7 p.m. Entertainment will be provided by pupils in the district.

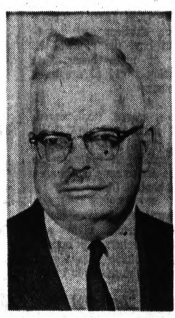

Of his 40 years in education, 29 have been as teacher and principal in Walled Lake. He came here in 1938 as mathematics teacher at Walled Lake Junior High School.

In 1944, he was appointed elementary principal of Walled Lake, Union Lake and Commerce schools.

A graduate of Michigan State College and Central State Teachers College, he began his teaching career in a one-room rural school in Presque Isle.

ACTIVITIES

Chowen is past president of the Oakland County Department of Elementary School Principals, a member of the Michigan Audio-Visual Association, the Michigan Education Association, the National Parent-Teachers' Association, the Teachers' Federal Credit Union, Walled Lake Rotary Club and Walled Lake Masonic Lodge 528, F&AM.

FLOYD D. CHOWEN

Millage Question Aired in West Bloomfield Twp.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A vote to renew or increase the township's operating millage is currently being considered by the Township Board.

Supervisor John Warren said a 1-mill tax, voted five years ago, is due to expire this year.

"Now we're trying to decide whether this should be renewed or increased and when such a vote should be held, if it is appropriate," he said.

Recent discussions have covered the needs, the time limits of proposed millage, the number of mills needed and whether it should be one package to cover general operating costs or divided with a portion going for police, a portion for fire and a portion for roads.

Warren said a number of citizens are being contacted for advice on the matter.

He said a decision will have to be made by July 1 if a vote is to be held this year.

Rezoning Fails to Get Support

AVON TOWNSHIP — The planning commission has recommended denial of rezoning to allow a trailer park on 17.5 acres on the north side of Avon Road, east of John R., and took under study a second request for a variance which would permit such a park on 103 acres on Auburn Road between Crooks and Adams.

A recent public hearing produced two objectors to the proposed Avon Road Park. The second request was referred by the zoning board of appeals.

A public hearing to allow apartments on the south side of Walton between Rochester Knolls and Rochdale subdivisions produced three objectors and was recommended for approval to the township board. The petitioner is Superior Investment Co. of Shelby Township.

ROMEO — Walter Werth, 69, of 148 Church, was expected to lay aside his work apron and his fireman's hat for the Heritage Day Civic Luncheon here tomorrow.

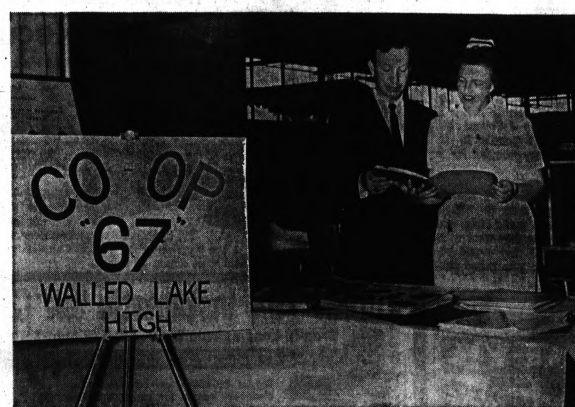

For 41 years a member of the Romeo Volunteer Fire Department and the last 27 years as its chief, Werth was due for Community honor.

Chosen "1967 Citizen of the Year," he was to be guest of honor at a luncheon of community leaders during the village's celebration of Michigan Week.

Owner and operator of Walt's Radiator Service, Werth has required the use of few words in his conduct of private and village business.

A tactician man, he does recall the big fires when the Knust grain elevator burned in 1928 and the Rumsey Woolen Mill burned in the 1930s.

Married, he is the father of two children. A son is in the typesetting business in Kalamazoo and a married daughter lives north of Romeo.

Must Be Young, Have $25,000

Dino's Country Club to Be Very Selective

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — If you like to play golf, are young and vigorous and happen to have $25,000 handy, you might be able to join the Dean Martin Country Club.

Then again, you might not. There are only 600 memberships available, and you also have to come equipped with THOMAS good character. That is also going to be the criterion at the Dean Martin CC.

Having a golf-and-tennis club named after him is the latest development in the amazing saga of Martin, born Dino Crocetti 50 years ago June 17, son of a Steubenville, Ohio, barber. He talked about it at the Bel Air Hotel as he fipped martinis and watched old movies on television between location shots for his latest film, "The Ambushers."

"Well, this here club is going to be the greatest," he explained.

"No, I'm not putting any money into it; just lending my name. The money is coming from some very good sources which I can't divulge at this time. Later I will.

"The setup is this: We're selling 600 memberships at $25,000 apiece. That's $15 million, which is what it will take to build the course. We'll also have 10 tennis courts, and those memberships will go for $5,000.

"I don't think we'll have any trouble selling 'em. People come up to me every day and say they want in. But we're not just taking everybody. We're screening each applicant not only on their ability to pay, but most of all on their character. There are ways of finding that out."

"What we're looking for is young people on the go. Not just actors, but lawyers, doctors, people from every walk of life. They don't have to be billionaires, either. We're working it out with my adviser, Al Hart of City National Bank, where a fellow can pay $5,000 down and the rest over a period of years.

"The accent is going to be on youth. The trouble with most golf clubs is that they're filled with old guys sitting around playing gin rummy and waiting to die. I got nothing against old people, but they just don't make for a lively atmosphere at a golf club."

Martin emphasized that membership will be open to those of every race, creed and derivation. "That was one thing I insisted on," he said. "Anybody can join—white, Negro, Catholic, Jew, Italian." It has long ranked Martin and other stars that actors have been barred out with my adviser, Al Hart of City National Bank, where a

Anthropologist Worries About Motherly Males

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — It seems that something is always bugging Margaret Mead. I don't know how the poor woman stands it.

We all have worries, of course. But most of us worry about the same old stuff, year in, year out.

Will Mickey Mantle's knees hold up for another season? Is there a cure for crabgrass? Will the new detergent get a shirt whiter than white, especially if it happens to be a blue shirt? Things like that.

Dr. Mead, on the other hand, is a one-woman worry-of-the-month club.

Her activities as an anthropologist include writing a magazine column and in each issue she finds something different to worry about.

This month she is worrying about the way American men are turning into homebodies.

ENTHUSIASTIC PAPAS

Since the development of bottle feeding and baby food, Dr. Mead observes, "men have taken to the care of little babies with great zest and enthusiasm."

"They find watching the development of their small children an engrossing occupation, one worth hurrying home from the office for every evening."

This is bad? Well, Dr. Mead seems to think so. She says men are becoming "so delighted and preoccupied with their home and children," they tend to lose interest in their careers.

This is changing the traditional family structure and "may be destroying the set of motives that have made men the great achievers and innovators of civilization," she warns.

Very well. In the next scene we visit the home of George and Phyllis Clipchpin. It is mid-afternoon and Mr. Clipchpin has just walked in the front door.

"George! What are you doing home at this time of day? Is something wrong?"

"No. Everything's fine. I just thought I would come home and feed the baby."

"But aren't you supposed to be in Minneapolis for an important business conference?"

"Yes. I walked out of the meeting and caught a jet home."

"But, George, you shouldn't be doing this. You have your career to think of."

"Oh, hang the career. Why should I waste time being a great achiever and innovator of civilization when I could be home feeding the baby?"

"For a very good reason, George. You seem to have forgotten I'm a nursing mother."

"YOUR HEALTH"

PINCHED NERVES
By Dr. H. H. Alexander

If you are nervous, irritable, suffer with frequent headaches, dizziness, experience pain in your neck, shoulders, arms, back or legs or often feel a tightness and pain in your chest and in between your shoulder blades — the chances are you have pinched and irritated nerves.

Often falls, sprains and faulty posture cause misalignments of the spine, which results in pinched nerve roots. And pinching of these nerves as they leave the spine can cause trouble in the organs and limbs serviced by them.

Chiropractic has specialized in the analysis of spinal disorders and misplacements of vertebrae that cause pinching and irritation of nerves. Consult your chiropractor in cases where nerve pains are suspected. Treatment is directed towards lasting correction by removal of the spinal misalignments.

Soviet Settlements on Stilts

'Oil Cities' Tap Caspian Sea

BAKU, USSR (UPI).—The green waters of the Caspian Sea lap at derrick stilts, rippling the film of oil which rides in rainbow whorls on the surface of the huge salt lake.

On the wooden trestles above, more than 3,000 men work and live 65 miles from land in an artificial atmosphere of hostels, cafes and gymnasiums. Even trees have been planted in tubs to recall the shoreline out of sight below the horizon.

The real skyline at Neftchany Kammi (Oil Rocks) is hundreds of derricks. This is "oil city" built by the Soviet Union in the middle of the Caspian to tap the vast reserves of black gold lying beneath the sea floor.

The Texas-style project has been so successful that fully half of the approximately 25 million tons of oil produced last year by the Soviet Republic of Azerbaijan came from the sea.

Oil Rocks is the biggest project. It has 3,600 workers and 124 miles of wooden trestles winding like tentacles in and out of the oil derricks.

ALTERNATE SHIFTS

The workers spend seven days "at sea" and take the next 10 days off with their families in Baku.

While working, they live in two-story hostels clustered on one wooden platform. A project to build an 11-story hostel — possibly the world's tallest sea structure — is to start soon.

Another "oil city" — Artyemneft (Oil Peninsula) — employs 500 men on 40 miles of trestles outside Baku. But Oil Peninsula is linked to the land by a rocky, half-mile causeway, and its workers take the bus home every night to their special housing project three miles away.

Oil Peninsula was built in 1947 and Oil Rocks two years later. Until recently, they were off limits to all foreigners except the occasional expert.

TOURIST ALLOWED

Today, any tourist can visit the two sites, although the visitor to Oil Rocks needs luck to find an extra seat aboard the boats or helicopters which service the isolated colony.

In the stormy Caspian, it is hazardous work and the men at Oil Rocks get a 60 per cent bonus as hardship and danger pay.

A storm in 1967 killed Mikhail Karverevichka, the "city's" builder, and a number of his co-workers, but officials report there have been no fatal accidents in the past decade.

At the first sign of a storm, anyone walking the trestles in bad weather must take two other men with him.

It can't be much fun, but the workers say they are volunteers. Some have worked at Oil Rocks since it was built 18 years ago.

It is man's work. A cold wind blows and the smell of oil is strong. Despite the Soviet emphasis on equality between the sexes, the women stand for little nonsense about female rights on the derricks.

Of the 300 employees at Oil Peninsula, for instance, only 34 are women. None is in a rough-neck job.

The first woman telephone operator was hired in Boston, Mass., in 1878. Previous operators were men.

Detroit Lawyer Says Ruby-CIA Link Is Ill-Founded

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit attorney said today he can disprove statements by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison that presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald, Jack Ruby and Clay Shaw were employed by the Central Intelligence Agency.

Alan Adelson, an attorney for the family of the late Jack Ruby, said Garrison told him of the CIA link in New Orleans last week. "It just isn't true," Adelson said. "I know for a fact that Jack Ruby never met or knew Oswald or Shaw, and I can prove it in a court of law."

Adelson termed Garrison's investigation of President Kennedy's assassination a "sneaky" slandering witnesses who were "paid off, doxed or hypnotized."

He said he asked Garrison the most obvious question: "If Ruby was employed by the CIA to kill Oswald, why didn't he do it when he saw him for the first time Friday night instead of waiting?"

"It kind of stumped Garrison," Adelson said. "He didn't have an answer. In my opinion this knocks hell out of his whole case."

ASKS TO ASSIST

Adelson said he has asked attorneys for Shaw, former director of the New Orleans International Trade Mart and linked by Garrison to President Kennedy's assassination, if he could assist them in Shaw's defense.

Adelson said he wants to join New Orleans attorney Ed Wegman in the defense of Shaw "because of the horrible false charges Garrison is making against Ruby."

Chairman Picked

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prof. William J. Oliver, M.D., has been appointed chairman of the department of pediatrics and communicable diseases at the University of Michigan Medical School. Oliver has been a member of the school's faculty since 1953. He replaces Dr. James L. Wilson who is retiring.

Sky Divers Hit; 1 Dead, 1 Hurt

ZARAGOZA, Spain (AP) — One member of the U.S. Air Force's Blue Masters sky diving team was killed and another critically hurt today in a 6,500-foot fall after colliding during an exhibition jump.

The two, with eight companions, had started a free fall demonstration from 13,000 feet and were half way to earth when they became entangled while passing a baton. One man's parachute opened partially but the two crashed hard.

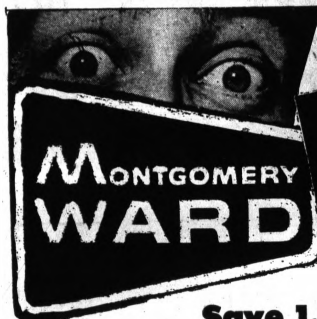

'Hawk' Navy Flier Yields

TOKYO (AP) — A U.S. Navy pilot who advocates all-out war in Vietnam said today he had accepted a "punitive letter of reprimand" for airing his views. He could have turned it down and requested a court-martial.

Thus the possibility of a trial for Lt. Cmdr. Laurence Baldauf, 33, of Coronado, Calif., was eliminated, and the case was virtually closed.

Rear Adm. Frank L. Johnson, commander of U.S. Naval Forces in Japan, sent Baldauf the letter of reprimand Friday after a three-month inquiry.

A Navy spokesman said contents of the letter were private but that it gave Baldauf three days or accept it or reject it and "demand a court-martial."

Two Area Bridal Pairs Take Saturday Vows

Woessner-Windeler

The Washington Memorial Chapel in Valley Forge, Pa. was the setting for vows Saturday morning for Candace Jane Windeler and Walter J. Woessner, Jr.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler of Hatchery Road and the Walter J. Woessners of Philadelphia, Pa.

The bride wore a classically styled gown of rose mouseline de soie combined with Alencon lace and frosted seed pearls.

Matching lace accented her fitted bodice and lifted waistline. Lace medallions edged her full train. She carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Sharing duties as honor attendants were Susan Windeler and Mrs. Bill Jamnick of Williamsburg, Va.

Joran Kay Ramsey of Florida was a bridesmaid with Elizabeth Cary of Ann Arbor. Tamara Jamnick was flower girl. Dale A. Ling of Norristown, Pa. was best man.

Ushers were Arthur Heath of Phoenixville, Pa., Richard Whitney of Willow Grove, Pa. and Ralph and Greg Windeler, brothers of the bride.

A reception in the Historic

Bull Tavern, Phoenixville, followed the ceremony.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents is planned for Friday from 7-9 p.m.

The couple will honeymoon in Montreal.

Broadwell-Coleman

Mary Susan Coleman and Edward Hiram Broadwell exchanged wedding vows Saturday in the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac.

For the afternoon rite, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza with an empire bodice, and trumpet sleeves of Chantilly lace.

Her full skirt and attached chapel train were banded in a deep panel of matching lace and scattered medallions. The bride's headpiece was a double Chantilly lace mantilla.

CASCADE BOUQUET

She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids, ivy and lilies of the valley.

Claudia F. Cobb, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mallory F. Coleman of Wards Point.

Bridesmaids were Angela Kontos, Mrs. James E. Pindexter, Mrs. Gerald M. Nester. Flower girls were cousins of the bride, Cynthia Jo and Cheryl Ann Dolan.

John C. Broadwell was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram W. Broadwell of Birmingham.

James W. Broadwell, another brother and N. Brian Westover, John D. Loney and Kenneth Erickson were ushers.

A buffet supper in the church parlors followed the rite. The couple are on a wedding trip to Montreal, Canada and Expo '67.

Call for Plastic Surgeon

She's a Middle Square

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and a divorcee. I have a good figure and spend a lot of time at the beach in the summer. Last year I wore a bikini for the first time and got lots of compliments on it, but it also gave me a complex because several people asked me what was wrong with my navel.

ABBY me what was wrong with my navel.

I never paid much attention to navels before — mine or anybody's else, but now I am very self-conscious about mine. You see, it's not round like other people's, it's more "square." And it doesn't go "in" like a dimple — it pops out! I keep a dime stuck in it to make it look "round" and to keep it from popping out.

Is there anything I can do about getting it fixed at my age? I'd like to have a navel I wouldn't have to be ashamed of.

FUNNY NAVEL

DEAR FUNNY: Take the dime out of your navel and call a plastic surgeon. He'll round out a solution in no time.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding a recent article in your column in which a woman was confused as to what to do about a "gift" for a clergyman who had rendered her a service:

As a Baptist minister, I have something to say about this matter. After a wedding or funeral if I am asked, "How much do I owe you?" I invariably reply, "Nothing. My life is a ministry, not a job." Many clergymen do not receive adequate monetary compensation for the services they perform, but they would rather do without the money than put a price on it.

If people wish to compensate a clergyman, let them do it with dignity by placing the money in an envelope, and handing it to him with a soft "thank you." (The amount depends upon how much the person can afford and how much he wishes to give.)

I have yet to hear a clergyman complain about the amount of a gift.) Only one who is seeking the cheap way out will ask a clergyman, "How much do I owe you?"

There is always the danger that after years of indigestion from swallowing his pride, one clergyman will have the gumption to set an hourly rate for "services rendered" and will answer these people accordingly.

Married Saturday evening in the Atlanta Congregational Church were Mary Ellen Meston and Pvt. Gale Arthur Hargrave USA.

The bride wore a princess style gown featuring an A-line skirt with chapel train. Her crown headpiece with pearls secured an illusion veil with lace appliques.

She carried red and white roses in a cascade with ivy. Matron of honor was Mrs. R. A. Pageout of East Lansing.

Mrs. E. A. Callard of Swartz Creek was a bridesmaid.

Philip N. Hargrave of St. Clair Shores was best man for his brother. Robert V. Teets, Ralph Hoxie III and Douglas Hoxie of Flint were ushers.

An open house in the home of the bridegroom's parents on Sunday honored the newlyweds.

The couple will reside in Fort Eustis, Va. where the bridegroom will attend officer candidate school.

Grant Solt, a retired sheet metal worker from Yeadon, Pa., thinks men should wear miniskirts. "Comfort is the main thing," says Solt. He made the miniskirt he is wearing here and has designed a minijacket for men, featuring a bare midriff. Solt said he took his miniskirt around to a couple of Philadelphia manufacturers of clothing.

Buyers for Babies

Caters to Grandma Set

NEW YORK UP — The baby boom has burst.

So businesses catering to little ones have turned to a new market: doting grandparents.

The nation's baby crop dropped to 3,629,000 last year, the smallest since 1950.

That still means a big pile of diapers, but it is 25 per cent less than the number of births 10 years ago.

GRANDMOTHERS

Some businesses dealing with babies are in trouble. Others, which have discovered grandmothers, report soaring sales.

Hot cereal sales are down, and so is milk consumption.

Two major producers of baby food, Gerber and Beech-Nut, report earnings have slid.

Alger B. Chapman, Beech-Nut chairman, blames the decline on falling birth rates, lowering prices and increased competition.

A company in the preschool toy field, Fisher-Price, is reaching out now for school-age children, increasing its market.

Hallmark, the card maker, has pared its line of birth announcements 15 per cent.

"Not only are there fewer babies, but parents are sending fewer announcements when they have a new arrival," Hallmark reports.

"With big families out of fashion, the new mother and dad are less inclined to boast about the birth."

Hallmark adds, however, it is selling more expensive cards than before the stark slowed down—including a $1 announcement for affluent grandparents to send.

Lord & Taylor, the New York department store, set up a grandmothers' boutique about four years ago.

"Grandmothers are a significant share of the baby market," said Melvin E. Dawley, Lord & Taylor president.

Dawley is something of an expert: He once worked in the baby department and now is a grandfather himself.

"You are susceptible to all suggestions for your grandchildren, more so than if you are a parent," he said.

"You are a little more affluent, and want the very best you can find. You are apt to

Working Teen May Still Be a Dependent

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

This summer a lot of parents will find themselves, for the first time, trying to explain to their job-holding teen-agers the intricacies of earnings vs. income taxes, and who withholds what.

MARY FEELEY

That is, if the Department of Labor's predictions come true. According to Secretary Willard Wirtz, almost 13 million boys and girls age 16 to 21 will be looking for work during June, July, and August. That's 400,000 more, he points out, than there were a year ago.

Among them may be your own teens. Sometimes parents are confused about a couple of tax angles. One is: "Will my child's earnings affect my own tax picture, so that I can no longer claim the $600 exemption for a dependent even though I'm still actually supporting him?"

Another is: "Is $600 the maximum my child may earn without having to pay income taxes?" And: "Will an employer withhold tax money from my child's earnings—even though she may not earn more than $600?"

In today's mail, Mrs. L. M. of Antioch, Illinois, wants to clear up a few points way in advance of struggling with her 1967 tax return.

Dear Mary Feeley: Our daughter has taken an after school job and earns about $20 a week. She is 16 and a junior in high school.

She will use her pay for clothes and savings. It will add up to about $600 by the end of the year. How can we prove we are supporting her?

Should she earn up to $600 and quit? I don't want her to quit her age to have something to keep them busy. But still, we don't want to get charged for any more tax than is necessary. Please advise us.

Dear Mrs. M.: Forget that idea of your daughter quitting at the $600 mark. First, she's entitled to earn as much as $600 without having to pay income tax (assuming this is her only income). And second, what irony it seems to tell a 16-year-old that it's too expensive to work!

Dinner Setting for Jewel Rites

The Hawaiian Gardens was the setting Thursday for a jewel pin ceremonies dinner for members of Alpha Alpha chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha society.

New members taking part in the program were Mrs. Robert Kraud, Mrs. Ernest Male, Mrs. LaMaie White. Newly installed officers for the coming year include Mrs. B. P. Tompkins, Mrs. Richard Falls, Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. William Kay.

Laundry Lightener

Use place mats instead of heavy tablecloths during the hot summer months to lighten your laundry. Better still, use plastic ones that you can wipe off with a sudsy cloth or sponge.

Even if there were a few dollars penalty for learning how to be independent, don't you think it would be worth the price in the long run? To sell her the idea now that ambition and hard work just aren't worth the candle seems like a dangerous risk to me.

As for the $600 she may earn tax-free in a year, $600 of it is the exemption she is entitled to take for herself. The remaining $300 is the Minimum Standard Deduction the young wage earner may claim in addition.

But not because she is a full-time student, as some parents believe—but because this deduc-tion is designed to aid the low-income groups.

A wage earner may decide to take the flat $300 deduction or, instead, deduct 10 per cent of his earnings—which ever is greater.

Since your daughter will be saving most of her money, as you say, and helping out with her clothing expense to some extent, you're still supporting her—providing housing, food, medical costs, school expenses, etc. So you can claim her as a dependent for whom you're supplying more than half the livelihood.

Newlyweds to Reside in Clarkston

Wed Saturday afternoon in St. Stephen Lutheran Church were the Kenny Bushmans (nee Susan Jean Rhames).

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rhames of Meigs Street and the Robert Bushmans of Kohler Drive.

For her vows, the bride wore a gown of full length silk organza, featuring lace inserts at the midriff and on the cathedral train.

A headpiece of pearl and crystal secured her short bouffant veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses.

Deborah Rhames was maid of honor for her sister, Carol Bushman and Patricia Simmons were bridesmaids.

Linda St. Dennis was flower girl and Tommy Hill, ring-bearer.

Charles Frank was best man. Ushers were Gene Hoban and Frank Rhames Jr. (brother of the bride).

Following a reception in the Bemis Olsen Amvets Hall, the couple left for a wedding trip to Indianapolis, Ind. They will reside in Clarkston.

By ELIZABETH POST

The following letter has been chosen as the most interesting one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to the writer who asked that her name be withheld.

Dear Mrs. Post: At this time of year when many invitations are extended, I believe the following is a timely topic.

When an invitation is extended to a single or widowed woman, it would be a thoughtful gesture on the hostess' part to plan ahead to see that the "unescorted" lady isn't treated as such.

I'm a widow, and was recently invited to the home of a relative. When dinner was over, guests were set up for the other dinner guests—all couples. When this happens, the single one becomes a baby-sitter or an onlooker.

As I do not drive, the host had earlier offered to take me home. Suffice it to say, I came home by cab, called by the host, because the game would have come to a halt until he returned.

May I suggest to relatives and friends, unless you are prepared to treat the "unescorted" individual with the same consideration you give the rest of your guests, you haven't done your duty.

We don't expect folks to bend over backwards for us or handle us with kid gloves, but by the same token, neither are we freeloaders looking for a meal ticket. When my late husband lived, entertaining in our home included the unescorted individual, and whenever possible, an escort was on hand. Mrs. K. M.

Der Mrs. K.M.: You have described, extremely well, a situation which is sad, and all too common today. And you are absolutely right—hostess should never consider one guest more than another in planning the evening.

In many communities it is impossible to find an escort for a single friend, but an "even number" is not essential at all.

When an odd man, or woman, is included, all that is necessary is to plan games or entertainment which can be enjoyed by the whole group or uneven segments of the party. Or it can be just a sit-and-talk party which is no planned program necessary, the lowest of any country.

If the present Paris fashion trend to industrial zippers, nailheads, riveted nameplates and wired-together plastics continues, French girls may need carpenter's kits, not needle and thread, for repair jobs. Currently, young fashions have been hammered together in the nearest hardware store.

Riots Flare for 11th Day in Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP) — Pro-Communist Chinese clashed bloody with police today in the 11th day of rioting and anti-British demonstrations in Hong Kong.

Police used riot sticks to drive back one crowd and fired volleys of tear gas to break up another. One group hurled acid from rooftops at police trying to restore control in the main business and financial district.

A dozen other Chinese groups, ranging from gangs of 100 to mobs of 1,000, roved both Hong Kong Island, the British colony's business and government center, and industrial Kowloon, on the mainland across the harbor channel.

The renewal of violence shattered government hopes that the colony's Communists might be easing their pressure. Such hopes had risen because most of the mobs Sunday avoided clashes with the police, and there were no serious injuries on either side.

20 INJURED

At least 20 demonstrators, about half of them women, were injured today when they charged a police line guarding Government House. They were driven back by baton-swinging riot police.

In Kowloon, a greatly outnumbered police patrol fired volleys of tear gas to break up a mob of nearly 1,000 bearing down on it.

Three courts scheduled to try Chinese arrested in rioting last week were besieged by howling crowds of 500 to 700.

Other pro-Communist groups converged on Kowloon's Mong Kok district, a traditional tinderbox of Chinese violence which exploded into savage rioting a year ago.

Police reinforcements, directed by a helicopter overhead, were moved into threatened areas. The government had all 10,000 police in action or on the alert. Some 7,000 troops of the British garrison also were alerted.

By midday more than 100 Chinese had been arrested. Some 50 demonstrators and a score of policemen had been injured.

The disorders began May 11 when demonstrators in front of the British Consulate there Sunday erected a flower factory. The Communists in Hong Kong and the Red Chinese government in Peking whipped up anti-British fever with charges of police brutality and demands for the release of those arrested in the disturbances, compensation for the injured and guarantees of no further "racial suppression of Chinese."

The demands were markedly similar to those to which the Portuguese government of neighboring Macao capitulated earlier this year. But the British government gave no indication of bowing to the Chinese pressure.

Some 13,000 Macao Chinese demonstrated in front of the British Consulate there Sunday.

Crime Panel Seeks Rights for Ex-Cons

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential crime commission report recommends that ex-convicts be given the right to serve on juries, hold public office and vote.

And contrary to the views of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, the report says rehabilitation is the key element in successfully returning a convict to society.

The issue "is not simply whether new correctional methods amount to 'coddling,'" the report said. "The ultimate goal of corrections under any theory is to make the community safer by reducing the incidence of crime."

The best way to do that, the report said, is to reintegrate the convict into normal life.

FAILURES CITED

Hoover recently said there is a tendency "to ignore punishment as a deterrent to crime and to stress more and more theories of rehabilitation." But, he added, rehabilitation "has been a failure both in methods used and in the offenders chosen for it."

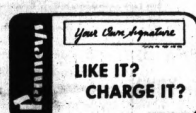

The report made clear that rehabilitation is not a success because it is not being stressed enough. It said state and local governments spend $1 billion annually keeping prisoners behind bars and only $200 million on rehabilitation. Ninety per cent of the personnel at correctional institutions are guards, 3.6 per cent are on treatment staffs and 5.9 per cent do academic and vocational work, it said.

N. Viet Reply to DMZ Push Awaited

SAIGON (AP) — By moving with Washington. There is no question that some Marines, and some soldiers, would have brought the allies' front line about three miles closer to Hanoi. It seems likely this push will only momentarily upset the military balance along the sensitive 17th Parallel that separates the two Vietnams.

Few doubt that the Reds will lose some bases in the southern half of the zone, dig their artillery in a little deeper elsewhere and continue the bitter war of attrition that is costing the Marines heavily.

If the Marines want a spoiling battle, they will have to go deeper. And that decision rests with the U.S. Air Force. The U.S. Air Force hopefully believes it can alter that seeming stalemate in a short period when the bad weather over North Vietnam clears with the changing of the monsoon season, due any day. In the face of Hanoi's fantastic supply deployment, however, that view is problematical. It appears certain the air war is curtailing the supply flow. Thus far, Hanoi and its allies have been willing to make up the difference.

The arrival of the SAMs that far south caused the U.S. Air Force to stop B-52 raids in the zone area at a time when they were needed. The high-altitude Strategic Air Command bombers were too vulnerable to Red missiles like those that once downed a U-2 over the Soviet Union.

The ability of the North Vietnamese to bring the SAM to the border despite constant U.S. air pressure emphasizes their infiltration capabilities and why the war is the way it is today.

The Marines, fighting near Red supply points, have caught the brunt of things. Further south, supply problems limit the Vietcong to less frequent attacks. But month in and month out the American intelligence estimate of Communist troop strength throughout South Vietnam has remained fairly stable — some 285,000 guerrillas, hard-core Vietcong and North Vietnamese regulars.

Startling one-sided victories are scored but the Red units reappear, their ranks filled increasingly with replacements.

Tents Emerge When School Bond Issue Fails

CALIPATRIA, Calif. (AP) — Green fields give way to ramshackle stores and dusty brick buildings as you pull into Calipatria.

Bumpy streets, lined here and there by small palms that yield precious little shade, lead to tiny suburbs. The 1 p. m. temperature stands at 85, and promises to go higher.

Just west of town, cooking brown under the desert sun, is the city airport. Flimsy-looking biplanes sit idle between crop-dusting chores.

Across the street, sitting dull green on a plot amid vivid green fields is the Big Calipatria High School building, empty, useless. And there, too, are the tents.

Here in the Imperial Valley, where blazing sun and Colorado River water have converted sage and sand into a vast, profitable vegetable garden, the high school population of Calipatria is getting its education in tents.

"The kids have been real good about it," said Supt. James Stevens. "and the teachers have taken it pretty well too."

Donald Archibald, now in his 22nd year on the faculty, quipped: "I once said I could teach math with just chalk and a blackboard, but I never thought I'd have to prove it."

And the students?

"It's okay. You get used to it. We're not liking it, but we're not hating it," said Kathy Layaye, a junior.

Stevens said abandonment of the old buildings was recommended after two firms "found that the old high school building was dangerous, that it might collapse in our next earthquake." Much of the Imperial Valley is laced by earthquake faults.

WORRIED

"We haven't had an earthquake in quite a while," Stevens said, "and that's something to worry about. When we have a bunch of small quakes we feel all right, but when there are none, it may mean a big one is coming."

Junior Editors Quiz on SAVINGS BANKS

QUESTION: How did banking start?

ANSWER: In the ancient world, money was taken on deposit, currencies exchanged and loans made by the temples and private firms.

After Rome's fall, this early banking disappeared, but was revived in Renaissance Italy. Money changers sat on benches in Italian streets; from the Italian word for bench, banco, we get our word bank.

The Banco di Rialto, founded in Venice in 1587, is said to have been the first modern bank. It took deposits in coin, paid bills of exchange, but it did not make loans.

Present day banks use the money deposited in them to loan to other people and businesses, charging interest. From this interest, the banks receive the profit needed to keep operating.

In one kind of bank, depositors can write checks to pay bills.

In another, the savings bank (lower picture), the depositor does not write checks. He takes his money to a savings bank with a pass book (1). The bank invests the money (2). Getting interest on its investment, the bank keeps some and credits some to the depositor's account.

This is why Jerry, drawing some of his money out later, is looking so pleased.

STUDENTS HAVE TENT CLASSROOMS

Miss USA's Beau: Dated Prettier Girls

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — question in any more detail. Miss USA's boyfriend admits he's already asked her to marry him but says he's dated better-looking girls.

And Miss USA, Sylvia Hitchcock, said her high school chums passed her over twice in choosing homecoming queens. Both times she was just a runner-up.

But the judges and an enthusiastic audience agreed Saturday night that the University of Alabama junior was the fairest of the contestants.

"Well," hedged the boyfriend, when asked if Sylvia was the most beautiful girl he has ever dated. "She's the most natural and down to earth girl I've ever dated."

A tall-dark-and-handsome football player, Herbert (Skip) Hunter, a 21-year-old student at the University of Miami, said he met Sylvia at a library.

"I just saw her, walked over in front of her and said hello," he said.

"That was in September and it wasn't until December when I called her up," he grinned.

Miss Hitchcock, who wore a ring handed down from her grandmother and carried a carved statue of Buddha for good luck, goes to New York Tuesday.

DETROIT (AP) — Revco D.S. Inc., Midwest drugstore chain, today announced plans to purchase the Peck Drug Stores Inc. of Grand Rapids. The 12 Peck stores in Michigan and Ohio will be converted into Revco Discount Drug Centers, said Sidney Dworkin, of Detroit, Revco president.

Cool Sparrow Homesteads Freezer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A sparrow evidently heard that the new home three weeks ago, won't budge.

There are 38 to 39 degrees below zero and the bird, who found his combe, who loads and unloads produce at the warehouse. Workmen have left the door open for hours so the bird could get out but nothing doing. He just peeks out curiously and stay where he is.

Bill Faces Fight in U. S. House

School Aid Debate Set Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The debate on federal aid to education is at stake in House today as the bill to extend President Johnson's school aid program.

The bill faces a fierce challenge from a Republican proposal to shift the major responsibility for carrying out the program from federal to the state level.

Democratic leaders are looking for a narrow victory. Debate begins today and is expected to last two or three days. It is likely to have religious, racial and political overtones.

The big question is whether federal aid should flow directly to school districts to meet specific local needs or be given in lump sums to the states for distribution.

1965 LAW

The historic Elementary and Secondary School Act passed by Congress in 1965 follows the first course. A bill by Rep. John Brademas, D-Ind., would authorize $3.5 billion to continue it until June 30, 1969.

Most of the money is for upgrading the educational opportunities of children from low-income families. The rest is for purchasing textbooks and library materials, establishing supplemental education centers and strengthening state departments of education.

The Republican alternative by Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., would authorize $3 billion for the same general programs but let the states determine what local districts should get it.

Johnson has accused the Republicans of a reckless attempt to rewrite the law for partisan advantage and says they risk opening the old church-state fight that has wrecked earlier school bills.

CONTROVERSY QUIETED

The 1965 act quieted the controversy by earmarking money for programs to aid poor children and requiring that eligible parochial school children be included in the programs.

Quie insists he has written in guarantees that will keep the states from interfering in the existing relationship. But he has failed to convince some Catholic educators.

One weapon against him has

Dodd Unsure About Funds

Political Money May Be Declared Income

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says his lawyers will decide whether to declare as income the political funds he allegedly used for personal purposes.

"I don't know just what the steps are," the Connecticut Democrat said. "But whatever is right to do I want done."

Dodd allegedly diverted to his personal use at least $116,083 in campaign and political testimonial funds, according to a census resolution brought forth by the Senate ethics committee. The Senate will begin debate June 13 on whether to censure him.

Dodd appeared Sunday on CBS "Face the Nation."

DELAYED RETURN

He said he did not know whether he would file a delayed income tax return for the money in question.

But Dodd repeated what he had told the ethics committee during its hearings last month—that his conscience is clear and he is not morally guilty of any wrongdoing.

Dodd maintains he gained no personal profit from a series of four testimonial events, the last one held March 6, 1965, which raised about $190,000. He did acknowledge some of the money was used for his country club charges, liquor, personal gasoline accounts for his family and plane tickets for pleasure trips.

"It never should have been spent that way," Dodd said.

It came about, Dodd added, because his Washington bookkeeper, Michael V. O'Hare, sent bills to Dodd's Hartford, Conn., office without specifying the nature of the expenses.

ment "falls altogether to provide adequate assurances to protect the rights of children in private schools."

Also due for airing is the subject of school desegregation in the South. Each side needs Southern votes if it is to win, and the Southerners are bidding for legislative changes that would slow the pace of desegregation.

Fire Investigated

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Authorities today sought the cause of a four-alarm fire which leveled a one-story frame warehouse, then gutted a two-story brick building in Windsor Sunday.

The blaze, fed by exploding paint cans and fanned by gusting winds, raged for several hours before being brought under control by some 40 firemen.

Two Missing Children Found Safe

PORT HURON (UPI)—A pair of adopted children, missing since Saturday night, were found unharmed yesterday under the porch of a neighbor's home.

Joseph Marenich, 9, and his sister Mary 10, were reported missing Saturday night from their Port Huron Township home, police said.

Searchers looked until early yesterday in nearby fields, woods and riverbanks but failed to turn up a trace of the missing youngsters.

The children of Mrs. Elinor C. Marenich were located unharmed underneath the porch of a neighbor's home, police said.

Columbia Fills Institute Post

Newspaper Facility Aide Is Promoted

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter Everett, managing director of Columbia University's American Press Institute (API), becomes executive director July 1, it has been announced.

He will replace J. Montgomery Curtis, who is leaving API to become vice president for development of Knight Newspapers, Inc., of Miami.

Everett, 57, became managing director two years ago after 15 years as associate director. Before going to Columbia he was an editor and a reporter for daily newspapers for 15 years.

API is a professional center for improvement of newspapers. Financed by newspapers in the United States and Canada, it conducts seminars throughout the year for newspaper executives and staffs.

The API is currently in its 22nd year, during which time 5,192 newspaper men and women representing daily papers in all 50 states and nine Canadian provinces have attended its seminars.

In addition, the institute holds special seminars for foreign newspaper executives under grants from the Ford and Rockefeller foundations.

For the first year since records have been kept, not a single fatal streetcar accident was reported in 1966.

Rip Van Winkle Has Long Drop

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Frank Shelly, 64, of Connersville, awakened from a nap in the back seat of his son's motor car. He opened the door, stepped out — and fell 8 feet. Luckily, although knocked unconscious, he suffered no serious injury.

It turned out that his son had left the car at a service station and the attendants had hoisted the vehicle on the grease rack. The son had left his dad in the car without awakening him.

International Family Affair

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Tom Reynolds of Dallas, who for the past 12 years has taught modern agricultural methods in five different countries under the U.S. Agency for International Development, has an international family.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds had one daughter, Carol, now 22, when he started working abroad.

During his first stint, in Jordan, they adopted a Jordanian infant, now 12-year-old Mary Diane.

In Korea, the family adopted two Korean babies, Ricky and Kevin, now 6.

In Nigeria, where he is presently working, another little girl, Jana, was added to the Reynolds roster.

His Weather Stays Same

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ear-muffs and longjohns aren't unknown in this sunny, southernmost U. S. city.

They're part of the standard clothing George Risko wears when he goes into an ice storage chamber to carve from ice.

Search for Youth

FLINT (AP) — Police today sought an 18-year-old youth who witnesses said fled the scene of a fatal shooting Cecil Nelson, 31, of Flint, during an argument Sunday in a restaurant.

A self-taught sculptor and Navy veteran, Risko says requests for fancy pieces of ice from groups holding parties in big hotels are increasing.

FEATURE AT MONTREAL — Expo 67 promises to be a great tourist attraction this summer. Campers and trailer hobbyists have been provided for by the hospitable Canadians. This huge inverted pyramid, an Expo 67 focal point, is the Katimavik (Eskimo word for "meeting place").

Going to Expo 67 This Summer?

Computer Finds a Camp Site

By JIM CROSSLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
This is the year the Great Outdoors began to be taken over by the computer.

Trust Canada not to leave anything to chance. As a result, the pavement will be smooth for all campers who are planning to visit Expo 67 as part of a summer trip.

There will be many such visitors. Montreal should be just about the most popular destination in the East this summer and fall.

And lucky? Thanks to the computer, camping sites within a 100-mile radius have been organized into an interlocking network.

A year has gone into preparation. Locations are available among 20,000 camp and trailer sites, providing a delightful combination of big-city excitement at the Expo and calm, refreshing relaxation between visits amid beautiful surroundings.

WRITE TO COMPUTER
That computer even has a name. It is Logexpo. And imagine, you can write to it.

In fact, that's how you get reservations.

If he cares to, a camper can write directly to a camping ground in the area he's familiar with, of course. Those unfamiliar with the area write:

Logexpo,
Camping Section,
Expo 67,
Mackay Pier,
Montreal, Canada

Act quickly if you wish to have a list of approved camps and trailer parks in order to pick your own site. Logexpo will make the reservation when the request is returned.

Or a general request for a certain kind of accommodation can be made to Logexpo right away. Expert that he is, he'll select an available campsite.

RESERVATIONS FORWARDED
Reservations are forwarded to the camp owner and to you. They'll be confirmed when the camp owner receives payment for the first night.

There are no reports of site shortages as yet. However, to be safe, better get off any messages to Logexpo right away. It takes him three to four weeks to reply.

Actually, Logexpo is supposedly ready for any who drive to Montreal with NO reservations, though it isn't encouraged.

Kiosks along main highways will provide telephone and telegraph services so that travelers can be directed to the best areas for accommodations on that particular day.

Speaking of luxury, some of the camping and trailer sites offer extras such as bus service to the Expo and baby sitters. Costs of sites range from $2 to $3.50 a day.

U.N. Missions Housed in Mansions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — By a strange ideological twist, some Communist nations are housing their missions to the United Nations in old homes linked by close family ties to some of the wealthiest capitalists in American history.

Most prominent among the moguls of business and finance whose money went into these handsome Manhattan town houses is Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, founder of the great Vanderbilt fortune.

A number of foreign governments have bought old homes in a fashionable East Side district just off Fifth Avenue for use as headquarters for their U.N. delegations. The homes are considered the choicest residential real estate in Manhattan, and many have been singled out by the city for designation as historic landmarks.

are turning increasingly to the stark functionalism of steel and glass, these town houses are being preserved as distinguished examples of styles of architecture and construction of a bygone era.

CONVENTIONAL OFFICES
The U.N. missions that use old homes are in a minority among the 122 member nations, however. Most have their headquarters in conventional office buildings. Only three delegations—the United States, Britain and France—have office space in the U.N. buildings, and these small, inconspicuous rooms are by no means their main quarters and are used sparingly.

The Soviet Union at one time owned a five-story, Neo-Georgian mansion on Park Avenue but became cramped for space in 1963 and bought a modern 12-story apartment building for its headquarters.

The Park Avenue mansion, which the Russians owned for more than a dozen years, was built in 1909 for Percy Rivington Payne II. His fortune came from the estate of his grandfather, a Moses Taylor, a trader in Cuban sugar, a speculator in rails and utilities and a partner with Cyrus W. Field in the first Atlantic cable company.

Taylor left an estate of $40 million when he died in 1882.

TOWN HOUSES

The town houses owned by Communist Romania and Yugoslavia appear to be the most highly regarded among the 16 homes now used by U.N. missions and chosen by the city for designation as landmarks.

The others among the 16 are the missions of Austria, Cuba, France, Greece, India, Indonesia, Iraq, Israel, Mali, Pakistan, the Philippines, Poland, Senegal and Tunisia.

three-story stone building in what is said to be French 18th century revival style, was built in 1829 for Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, the divorced wife of William K. Vanderbilt Jr., a great-grandson of the commodore.

The Yugoslav mission, on Fifth Avenue, was built in 1903 for R. Livingston Beckman, a former governor of Rhode Island. It later was owned by Emily Vanderbilt Sloane, granddaughter of Commodore Vanderbilt.

THE INDIAN MISSION

A larger building, the Indian Mission, was erected for Marshall Orme Wilson, whose father, Richard T. Wilson, a reference work says, made a fortune as a merchant during the Civil War.

The oldest former home now used as U.N. mission is that of the delegation of Senegal. A five-story brick building, it was put up in 1877, but landmark commission records do not show the original owner.

The Greek mission was built in 1907 for George L. Rives, a prominent New York lawyer who was a trustee of the New York Public Library.

The Polish mission was originally owned by Charles Scribner of the widely known New York publishing house that bears his name. It was built for him in 1909 at a cost estimated at $85,000.

PHILIPPINES MISSION

Next door is the mission of the Philippines delegation, which also is Poland's neighbor in the alphabetical list of U.N. members. It was built in 1916 for Harris Fahnestock, a member of a wealthy family of New York investment bankers.

Indy '500' Field Set

U.S. Drivers in Front

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—American drivers will fill the first 15 spots in the record-smashing 33-car field of the 51st 500-mile auto race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

But they'll know some never-quit European Grand Prix drivers will be charging up from far back in the field.

Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., defending U.S. Auto Club champion, took speed honors with 168.982 miles per hour and the $2,000 top qualifying prize in 18-mile elimination runs concluded Sunday.

The only unfinished business is a protest that the car of Jochen Rindt of Austria was below the weight limit. The protest was filed by J. Marshall Robbins, owner of the car driven by Lucien Bianchi of Belgium.

The drivers from the world in road racing circuit took the applause for sheer determination.

LAST ROW

Graham Hill of London, the 1966 Indianapolis winner, will have to start in the last row but it appeared unlikely he would be in the lineup at all. He used two Lotus Fords and a garage full of engines before qualifying at the third-lowest speed of 163.317 m.p.h.

Jackie Stewart of Scotland, who had the '66 race won until his engine failed with 25 miles to go, was "bumped" from the lineup after qualifying at a low 162.221.

He broke a connecting rod Sunday morning in his backup Lola-Ford but got a new engine and made the field at a brisk 164.099.

Rindt, of Vienna, also had to qualify two cars before sticking in the lineup. He finally made it in an Eagle Ford at 163.051. He was No. 2 in the Grand Prix races last year.

The protest against Rindt said his car was below the 1,300-pound limit for Speedway cars. U.S. Auto Club officials impounded the car and said it will be weighed today.

Bianchi's car is the first alternate for the race. If Rindt's car was disqualified because of the weight, Bianchi's car would be inserted in the starting lineup.

Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., who also was stopped by engine trouble on the first qualifying weekend, was fastest qualifier of the last two sessions with a run at 165.563 Saturday in an Eagle-Ford.

Champion Wins Opener

Teamsters 614, the defending city men's baseball champion, had a score but opened the 1967 season last night at Jaycee Park with a 4-3 triumph over the R.T. Clippers.

Veteran hurler Don Sackett whiffed the final hitter in the game with the tying run at third base and the winning run on second.

The union nine led most of the way, holding 2-0, 3-2 and 4-2 leads, before the Clippers made their final bid in the seventh aided by Felix Brooks' run-producing single, his third hit of the game.

Errors and cool weather marred the opener. Only the first two Teamsters' tallies were earned runs, and they came on five free passes and a wild pitch in the second.

Mike Dodge lifted a sacrifice fly for the third run in the fifth, snapping a brief 2-2 tie. The losers had knotted the count in the fourth on three singles and a two-run misplay in the outfield.

The deciding marker came on a steal of home by center

Two Waterford Squads Sharing Favorite's Role

Field of 100 Players
After Team, Individual Honors in 16th Event

A record score was a certainty this morning as golfers from 25 high schools teed off at Pontiac Country Club in the 16th Annual Pontiac Press Invitational.

Under a new format established this year, each school entered a four-man team.

So the winner today will leave a record for future teams to shut at.

And while a record was a certainty, it was almost a certainty that a new champion would be crowned when the firing ended.

Defending champion of Bloomfield Hills, five-time winner of the event, headed into today's play looking for its fourth title, but the Barons were expected to yield the top spot to a couple of Waterford teams.

SHARE ROLE

Sharing the role of co-favorites as played today were Waterford Township and Waterford Kettering.

The Township squad captured its regional Saturday with Kettering finishing a stroke off the pace and both have been impressive in dual action this spring.

Another big reason for showing that pair into the favorite's role is that they'll be playing on their home course.

Among the individuals expected to be near the top were Bill Scott of Bloomfield Hills, Gary Balliet of Avondale, Hershey of Waterford, Rod Skelton of Waterford and Gary Quittiquit of Kettering.

Herron and Scott bagged medal honors in Class A regional play Friday.

Tigers Inch Closer to First Place

Doubleheader Split Helpful

Horton Bounces Back
With Power Display

DETROIT (AP)—Earl Wilson "didn't have much stuff," and Joe Sparna was "flat," but the Detroit Tigers inched closer to American League-leading Chicago by splitting a doubleheader with the New York Yankees Sunday.

Wilson won the first game, his fifth victory, with tight relief pitching from Fred Gladning and a pair of solo home runs off the bat of Dick McAuliffe.

New York took the nightcap 6-5, ending a four-game Detroit winning streak and snapping a Yank losing string at five. Detroit's split, combined with Chicago's 5-4 loss to Kansas City, left the Tigers 11 percentage points out of first place.

"I didn't have much stuff," said Wilson who shut out the Yanks for six innings before a pair of two-run homers by Horace Clarke and Mickey Mantle bounced him from the game.

"I the seventh, I lost what little bit I had," added Wilson. "On the pitches to Clarke and Mantle, I put both pitches exactly where I didn't want to put them."

Gladning was strong in relief, fanning four of the 10 batters he faced. It was his sixth save of the season.

PULLED OUT

Al Kaline drove in two runs and rapped two hits before leaving the first game for a pinch-runner after hitting a double in the fourth.

Kaline said Manager Mayo Smith had told him he would play only one game.

"We were seven runs ahead, so I asked him to take me out," said Kaline. "I figured I could play the second game."

Kaline drove home one run on a sacrifice fly in the first inning. Yankees starter Whitey Ford left the game with a sore elbow and Detroit jumped on reliever Jim Bouton for five runs in the second. Bill Freehan cracked his ninth homer.

Four straight hits, a walk and Mantle's two-run, bases-loaded error accounted for the other four runs.

McAuliffe slammed his homers in the fourth and eighth innings. "I'm off to my best start in home runs," said McAuliffe, who has seven this year. "But my second year up I was leading the league in hitting for two months — over .400 I think."

Willie Horton, who blasted a homer in each game, gave the Tigers a scare when he crashed into the left field wall chasing Joe Peppone's double in the fourth inning of the opener.

Horton collapsed in a heap but recovered and played both games.

"I thought he was hurt bad," said Smith. "But he just had the wind knocked out of him."

Horton said, "I heard my (Continued on Page C3, Col. 4)

Becomes One-Man Team

Pontiac Joins Cage League

By JERE CRAIG

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Pontiac was accepted by the North American Basketball League as its ninth member and promptly became literally a one-man team Saturday at the annual league meeting.

Representatives of the Pontiac Football Company applied and were accepted unanimously into the semi-pro cage circuit that includes seven Michigan teams, Chicago and Columbus. Pontiac joins 1966-67 champ Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Benton Harbor, Lansing, Battle Creek and Holland as state cities represented in the high-scoring league.

The league's other eight members permitted Pontiac to draft one player among four active and inactive players listed by each team prior to the regular college draft.

The new team selected only

Muskegon's Joe Maddrey, a 6-5, 220-pound spring-legged center who has played five seasons in the NABL and is its forerunner, the Midwest Basketball League.

Maddrey played his collegiate basketball at Niagara University and is regarded as one of the better rebounders in the NABL. He is married, the father of one child and presently lives and works in Grand Rapids.

FIRST PICK

Pontiac was given the first pick in the collegiate selections and also two choices in the second round. The No. 1 pick was Michigan State's 6-7 center Matthew Alitch, another rugged rebounder.

In the second round, Pontiac selected Toledo star Bill Backensto and Central Michigan's Willie Iverson. However, there's doubt as to Iverson's eligibility for the draft.

Detroit area residents also chosen for the Pontiac negotiating list included Marty Lemmann (Wayne State), Bobby Joe Hill (Texas Western), Chuck Thomas (Gonzaga), Myron Brown (California State), Don DeClerq (Morehead State) and Mel Daniels (New Mexico).

Alitch and Rutgers' All-American Bob Lloyd were both drafted by the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association and the local team selected them in hopes of having one or both optioned or released to it by the NBA club.

Albion's Tom Gerow and local city recreation star Scott Maentz (former Michigan grid star) completed the Pontiac draft list.

Maddrey at present is the only player under contract to the Pontiac franchise.

Preakness Winner Going to Belmont

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — "The winner of the Preakness is cordially invited to test his mettle at a mile and a half," reads a newspaper ad. "The Belmont, June 3rd. R.S.V.P. Aqueduct."
"I accept," Damascus said Sunday through his trainer, Frank H. Whiteley Jr.

The Belmont winds up the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds. Damascus saw to it Saturday with his authoritative victory in the Preakness that this is another year without a colt sweeping it. Citation was the last to win all three 19 years ago.

The triumph put Damascus firmly back in the running for selection as the best 3-year-old of 1967. It was by 2½ lengths over Reality and 6¼ over Proud Clarion, the Kentucky Derby winner.

1-16 miles was only three-fifths of a second slower than the Pimlico record set by Nashua in the 1955 Preakness.

HENRY ACRES

College Group Appoints Head

ALBION (UPI) — Henry A. Acres, assistant president of Hofstra University, Hempstead, N.Y., has been named president of the 12-campus, 20,000 student Great Lakes College Association for the 1967-68 academic year.

Appointment of Acres was announced yesterday by Antioch College President James P. Dixon.

Acres succeeds Dr. Eldon Lee Johnson, first man to head the 6-year-old association, who now is vice president of the University of Illinois.

Members of the association are Albion, Antioch, Denison, De Pauw, Earlham, Hope, Kalamazoo, Kenyon, Oberlin, Ohio Wesleyan, Wabash and Wooster.

Expected to pool resources of its 12 member colleges in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana to launch programs the single colleges could afford, the association now has nearly a dozen cooperative projects going.

"NO MORE" — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York City said yesterday he has "no intention" of running for any elective office when he finishes his job as mayor, adding "there are a lot of other things one wishes to do in this life."

11 From State Jailed in Ohio War Protest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eleven persons from Michigan today faced arraignment in Toledo Municipal Court on charges of disturbing the peace after allegedly demonstrating against the war in Vietnam during an Armed Forces Day program.

Seven demonstrators, who identified themselves as members of a University of Michigan Students for a Democratic Society group, were taken into custody Sunday after they ran into a simulated Vietnam stronghold that was under mock attack by military reservists.

Military police carried members of the group away from the scene.

About 20 other demonstrators circulated through the crowd and passed out flowers, candy and cookies.

Four persons who said they were only passing out leaflets were also charged with disturbing the peace.

Held on $50 bond were: Donald Larkin, 26, Grand Rapids; James T. Russo, 20, Dearborn Heights; Michael Dover, 18, Grosse Pointe Farms; and Rita Leasure, Detroit.

The others, all from Ann Arbor, were: Theodore Steege, 27, Stanley Nadel, 22, Milton E. Taube, 20; Tim Schragar; Terry Duenzer, 28 and his wife, Tina; and Michael Meyers, 21.

All except Nadel and the women were identified as U. of M. students.

California Man Discovers Way to Hold False Teeth

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — A new discovery called Acryline is big news. Users say it fits plates so beautifully they can't believe it. Acryline uses a startling new vacuum principle. It flows on plates and forms an airtight seal. Users say this feels akin to natural teeth. This wonderful feeling lasts six months before a new application is necessary. Acryline is available at all drug counters.

BUOI CAT, Vietnam (AP) — Bulldozer driver Richard Friend lay half stunned on the clay highway. His eyes focused blurry on the 13-ton armored carrier ahead. Then he saw a figure slip onto the highway and begin running.

Spec. 4 Friend, a sturdy 28-year-old with red hair, pulled himself to his feet. The roar of battle was around him. His Jeep, hit moments before, was burning at the roadside.

Gunfire cracked in the air. Men screamed in pain. Friend began running at a crouch toward the armored carrier 300 yards away. The vehicle seemed to be the only island of safety. And the figure dashing toward the carrier — dressed in fatigues with a pistol at his hip, a rifle in hand and carrying a bag — was obviously a Vietcong.

Friend, from Oakland, Md., was in the middle of a Communist ambush that destroyed an eight-vehicle convoy from the U. S. 11th Armored Regiment in 15 minutes Sunday morning.

The bulldozer driver was attached to an engineer company and was riding with the convoy. He heard the shout "Ambush, Ambush!" over the jeep radio as they spun along at 40 miles an hour on Route 1, 40 miles east of Saigon.

Friend saw snipers in the trees and at the roadside. Shells exploded around the convoy. Then came a direct hit on the jeep's front wheel. It careened into the underbrush, and Friend was thrown out striking his head against a tree.

When he came to, he started running for the armored carrier.

"I ran past three Vietcong lying in a hole," Friend said a few hours after the battle. "I bent my head down instinctively. I told myself that this was the end. I wasn't armed. All I had was my knife. But incredibly, they didn't fire at me. Maybe they didn't see my ammo bag."

A few yards farther on, Friend was struck in the chest by a bullet fired from the other side of the road. It pierced his flak vest and lodged against an ammunition clip in his pocket, splintering the bullets, but did not wound him.

Just ahead of him, the Vietcong was starting to climb on the armored carrier that apparently had been stopped temporarily with a rocket hit.

"As I got nearer," said Friend, "I could see he had something in that bag, an explosive, a satchel charge. All I had on me was the knife, a hunting knife with a four-inch blade that I'd used to skin rabbits I'd shot back in Maryland."

"I pulled it out from the sheath, I had to do it," Friend reached up and grabbed the Vietcong sapper by the collar.

He raised his arm and drove the knife between the man's shoulder blades.

falling from his shoulder, the bag of explosives from his hand. Friend glanced at the handle of his knife and the blood. He did not bother to retrieve it.

As he moved around the carrier, 2nd Lt. Ted Hendrickson of Rock Island, Ill., met him and pulled him aboard. The carrier started up with a roar.

"We picked up a few more wounded," said Friend, his face bruised but otherwise unhurt. "That lieutenant really saved us. He moved out of there fast."

For his part in saving the armored carrier, Friend has been nominated for the Silver Star.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY
Jim: "Books seem to be arriving from all directions these days."
Oswald: "Here's one called 'Killing Defense at Bridge' by the Scottish expert H. W. Kelsey."
Jim: "He stresses counting as the basis of good defense and starts with the sort of elementary hand that looks easy when you see all the cards but should be just about as easy at the table."
Oswald: "Mr Kelsey does not comment on West's choice of the ace of clubs as his opening lead. He just points out that West does make that lead. Nor does he comment on East's choice of his lowest club."

Jim: "His, Mr Kelsey's, comment on the first trick is that West opens the ace of clubs. East plays the four and South the three. He does not discuss the merit of that lead since he is concerned with West's problem at trick two."
Oswald: "He points out that if West reviews the bidding he will expect South to hold at least ten cards in the majors and that there will be little or no chance to defeat the contract unless the defense can pick up two diamond tricks. He suggests quite correctly, that West should lead his three diamonds and go after those two diamond tricks right away."

Jim: "The diamond shift produces those two tricks and South will also have to lose a heart later on."
Oswald: "He fails to point out that if West reviews the bidding he will expect South to hold at least ten cards in the majors and that there will be little or no chance to defeat the contract unless the defense can pick up two diamond tricks. He suggests quite correctly, that West should lead his three diamonds and go after those two diamond tricks right away."

What do you do?
A—Bid six spades only. Conceivably there will be no play at all for seven.
TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding three spades your partner bids two clubs over your one spade overcall. What do you do now?

Welfare Statistics Disprove the Big Lie

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.

The myth that "people on welfare are 'chiselers' who don't want to work has been repeated so often that it falls into the technique of the Big Lie—repeat a lie often enough and people will believe it. Every time a politician wants to make a hit with the news-papers, he goes back to the old welfare chiselers routine.

Now they will have to find another horse to flog, because a White House official has made the figures on welfare recipients and they show that only 50,000—less than 1 percent—are able to work.

There are 7.3 million people

In the U. S. getting some form of welfare. A little over 5 million are aged, 700,000 are blind or handicapped, 2.5 million are children, and the rest are the parents of these children who are unable to support them. Almost a million are mothers who can't leave their kids to go to work, while most of the 150,000 fathers on welfare are handicapped in one way or another.

These people don't sound like chiselers to me or to any other fair-minded person. They are victims of a system which has failed them and they are people who may have met with misfortune in life, but they must be accorded the basic dignities due all human beings.

The present welfare system treats them in a manner which robs them of dignity and frustrates efforts to make them self-sufficient.

BREAKS FAMILIES

This nation reveres the family and everyone agrees that a strong family unit is essential to society, yet the welfare system actually helps break up many families. Children who receive welfare in the Aid to Dependent Children program often pay for the aid by losing their fathers. That's because of the "man-in-the-house" rule which forbids assistance to the children if there is an able-bodied man living with them. So many fathers must leave their families to keep their children from starving. The rule is enforced by Gestapo-like raids, usually in the middle of the night, to check on whether a man is home.

There are many other abuses—most states pay benefits which don't even come up to their own standards, payments average below the federal poverty standards, eligibility is often denied on unfair grounds, clients must submit to harassment and humiliating investigations, and incentives are dimmed because benefits are cut by a dollar for each dollar earned by anyone in the family.

There is also another myth about welfare—that Negroes gravitate to big cities because welfare payments are better there. This is false.

Only about a third of welfare recipients are Negro, and those who go to the cities are doing what millions of immigrants before them did—they go in search of work and they go to escape the brutal repression, which still exists in large sections of the United States. They are no different from the white families who leave poverty-stricken areas of the South or the Appalachian region in search of jobs and dignity.

SAVES MONEY
New York's welfare commissioner, Mitchell I. Ginsburg, recently said that the welfare system was "designed to save money rather than people, and the tragedy is that it does neither."

We will have to find a better way to assist those in need. Through no fault of their own, millions of our fellow Americans are unable to get even the basic necessities of life, and they need help.

There are few businesses, farms, or banks, which don't receive subsidies in one form or another. Subsidies to human beings are at least as legitimate as these government subsidies to property or to business which amount to billions of dollars yearly.

The problem facing us now is to provide the basic necessities no human being should be deprived of, while allowing recipients to maintain their dignity and providing incentives to restore them to self-sufficiency wherever possible.

It is obvious that the nation needs an economic security program which will insure that all individuals, as a matter of right, will be guaranteed minimum payments to keep them above the poverty line, while all who can work will find jobs, with the government acting as an employer of last resort if necessary.

Medical scientists chronically complain that the public and some practicing physicians do not have enough respect for drugs.

Steinhuber's and Hagedorn's were the newest in a long string of warning voices.

They told about a woman who had been taking a well-known tranquilizer, (Mepro-mate), four times a day for eight years.

In the month before she was put into a psychiatric ward she was taking it eight to 10 times a day. Then suddenly she stopped taking it.

That gave her a "withdrawal reaction" which amounted to hallucinations, delusions and paranoid ideas.

She was restored to normal by judicious use of another tranquilizer. In the other instances normality was restored by giving up the abused drug.

Dems Urge Halt to Viet Bombing

KALAMAZOO (AP) — President Johnson has been asked by Democratic leaders in the predominantly Republican 3rd Congressional District to call a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam.

"Cease bombing North Vietnam and try U Thant's proposals leading to negotiations," urged a telegram signed by former U.S. Rep. Paul H. Todd Jr. and the county chairman of the five counties within the district. Todd is now district Democratic chairman.

Ex-Governors in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — A group of F. Kelly, G. Mennen Williams, former Michigan governors, came to Lansing today for a joint legislative session, but they weren't greeted by a "full House."

The past governors are on a two-day tour of the state as part of Michigan Week festivities.

But a total of 22 House members—20 of them Democrats—were excused from the legislative session to celebrate Government Day with their constituents.

The session was called to state ex-govs, Wilbur M. Brucker, Murray D. Van Wagoner, Harry SAGINAW (AP) — A 50-year-old Saginaw man today was in fair condition in a Saginaw hospital after allegedly fatally shooting a Saginaw policeman and then falling under a hail of bullets from the wounded officer and his partner.

The policeman, Leonard Scott, 37, died of a wound in the chest after Eddie Gaines reportedly fired a shotgun at him in a Saginaw barbecue restaurant Saturday.

Car Exec Thanks Reuther—for Bond Aid

DETROIT (UPI) — It's not drumming up support for the every day that the president of Ford Motor Co. writes a letter of thanks to the president of the United Auto Workers Union.

But it happened earlier this month. The subject though wasn't the coming contract negotiations, or auto safety or politics. It was about U.S. savings bonds.

Ford President Arjay Miller is holding down a high-level position in this year's savings bond drive.

His letter to UAW President Walter P. Reuther expressed his thanks for Reuther's efforts in

Tax Vote Breaks State Senate Tradition

LANSING (AP) — The Republican Senate just a few bitter years ago wouldn't recognize the place today.

chapter of Michigan's somewhat repetitious financial story differs from the outcome of previous years, that will have to rank among the most important reasons.

Things were different in 1963. And 1962.

The House passed income tax bills in 1963 and 1969, but representatives had put their heads on the political chopping block for nothing.

The bills died in the Senate. The Senate passed its own income tax bill temporarily in 1962 — but reconsidered and killed it the next week.

Probably the wisest session of all time was '59, when the Legislature — all but buried in tax proposals, negotiations, attempts at compromise, fruitless votes — convened on 175 working days between Jan. 14 and Dec. 19.

Many of the news stories written during the turbulent session sound a little familiar these days.

The cash level in the state's general fund was going steadily down.

'HARD LOOK'

The governor threatened to take a "hard look" at cutting state services and jobs unless the Legislature provided new revenue.

The key issue was the governor's request for an income tax.

The governor then was Democrat G. Mennen Williams although the "hard look" phrase is a favorite of the current governor's as well.

The Senate was different then, too.

The House, 190 calendar days after the session began, finally approved income taxes of 2 percent on individuals, 5 percent on corporate and 7 percent on financial institutions.

The Senate killed them.

With the year nearly over, the state's first payless payday behind them and the general fund nearly $100 million in the red, wary legislators finally settled on a $49 million package of "temporary" taxes on alcohol, tobacco, telephones and telegrams.

In 1962, it looked like the jinx had been broken. A band of eight out of 23 Republican senators, styling themselves "moderates," broke with tradition and joined 15 Democrats to approve required income taxes of 3 percent on persons and 5 percent on banks.

New York

National Airlines figures out vacations you can brag about.

Our way to Hawaii.

We wait everyone to fly.

Carriers Find It Hard to Please

Riders Talking Back to Airlines

(First in a series)

NEW YORK (NEA) — Pacific Air Lines recently said in a full-page advertisement: "Most people are scared with less of flying."

Well, Pacific may or may not have a point there. It does support the statement, however, with other bits of sharp copy. Examples:

"Do you wish the pilot would knock off that jazz about 'That's Crater Lake coming up on the left' down there, ladies and gentlemen, and tell you instead what the devil that funny noise was you just heard?"

... People are concerned about a great deal more than whether they should have steak or lobster when they fly. They are sure.

ENJOYING BOOM

Of course, most people would not set foot in a plane unless they assumed their aircraft is in first-class condition and the pilot and crew are clear-eyed professionals down to the last stewardess.

They are apparently making that assumption. The airline industry is currently enjoying a boom which may never peak.

A Gallup poll conducted for Trans World Airlines reveals that as of December 1966, 47 million people, or 42 percent of the United States population, have flown on a commercial airliner.

In 1966, U.S. carriers sold 45.9 million air tickets; last year, the figure was 108.3.

NEW CUSTOMERS

The airlines, assuredly, "Want everyone to fly" and are therefore aiming advertising campaigns at prospective new customers without taking their eyes off the bread-and-butter, the businessman traveler.

Yet, with the possible exception of the first-time, or "white-knuckle" flyer, many an air traveler is talking back at the carrier about shoddy service, phony frills, the mess at the airports and the very real danger presented by clogged air lanes and jammed airport approach patterns.

The jaded veteran traveler would probably consider Pacific's no-nonsense appeal to be just another fly-with-us-we're-better gimmick.

And every traveler knows of at least one airline on which he will never fly again.

One businessman, for example, will reroute through another city to avoid flying a certain line while another will get out of his way to be booked on it.

A group of livid businessmen once formed a loosely knit organization called WHEAL—"We Hate Eastern Air Lines." Although that was back in the days before Eastern upgraded its service image sharply.

Complaints about air service to the Civil Aeronautics Board are at an all-time high.

According to the Wall Street Journal, the CAB got 1,216 complaints from passengers in the six months ended Dec. 31, about 55 percent more than in the like period the year before.

The board expects some 2,500 by June 30, compared with 1,610 the previous year.

The airlines, too, are being deluged with angry letters although, the industry points out, they do receive a good percentage of nice ones, too.

Reports Joe Clay, vice president-passenger service for TWA: "We received 10,000 letters in December of 1966. We answered all of them."

"In the main, the letters are valuable. You can tell what appears to be an honest letter."

USUALLY APOLOGETIC

The answers, many of which are signed by TWA President Charles Tillghast, are usually apologetic.

Aviation Week reports that airline management is highly sensitive on the subject of complaints.

"Not only do complaints refect on a carrier's public image," the magazine comments, "but airline officers are concerned that the CAB may propose corrective steps in trade on what airlines consider management prerogatives."

"Airlines are also keenly aware that if the level of complaints against a carrier gets high enough, it could have an adverse effect on the airline's application for new routes."

EASILY SPOOKED

"With the CAB now considering who gets the rich Pacific air routes, carriers are easily spooked."

Airline goafs which spur letters are late flights, missed connections, canceled flights, "overbooking" when the person has a ticket for a flight but no seat, incorrect information and baggage problems.

The airlines maintain that the vast increase in air travel has far outstripped facilities.

Carriers are hard-pressed even to meet schedules and service, despite advertising claims, occasionally suffers. "The act of God," sighs Clay, "is not accepted by the average customer."

Soviet Writers Are Told They're Making Mistakes

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Communist party told Soviet writers today that despite good work in upholding Communist ideology, some of them are making mistakes.

The party secretary in charge of ideology, Pyotr N. Demichev, told the first nationwide writers' congress since 1959 that "some problems need to be solved, some tendencies need to be overcome" in Soviet writing.

The congress had been delayed by a long struggle between liberal and conservative writers, now muted because of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

The presiding committee elected for the congress in the Grand Kremlin palace was heavy with conservatives.

'ONE-SIDED VIEW'

Demichev said that "unfortunately some writers give a rather one-sided view of our reality and our history." The Communist party, he said, is trying to establish "criteria" to guide writers along the proper lines.

His remarks apparently criticism of party-inspired criticism of liberal writers for focusing on problems and personal impressions rather than portraying the glories of the new Soviet man in the Communist state.

Leaders attending the opening session included Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Delegations from North Vietnam and the Vietcong were given standing ovations.

Party men and literary conservatives on the 69-member presiding committee include Nobel Prize winner Mikhail Sholokhov, who has defended a harsh treatment of dissident writers.

Among the few liberals are poet Andrei A. Voznesensky, who has been touring the United States, and Alexander T. Tvardovsky, the controversial editor of the liberal magazine New World.

The body of Gloria Jean Baker, 17, Hazel Park, was found floating near the overturned 14-foot aluminum boat Saturday.

Report Says N. Viet PTs Have Avoided U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam's torpedo boats have avoided battle with the U.S. Navy for nearly a year, it was learned today.

The last time Red PTs made any threatening passes at American warships operating off North Vietnam was in early July last year, the Pentagon said.

On that occasion, three of the high-speed torpedo craft were sunk by carrier-based jet fighters-bombers after the craft were spotted on what the Navy said was an attack course aimed at a U.S. destroyer on patrol.

Since then, the American Navy has become much more active off North Vietnam. U.S. destroyers and cruisers have been prowling close to the North Vietnamese coast, intercepting southbound Communist supply vessels and bombarding major targets.

NO CHALLENGE

Navy sources said the North Vietnamese PTs have made no effort to challenge the destroyers or cruisers on Operation Sea Dragon, or to interfere with any of the three carriers launching air strikes against North Vietnam from positions farther out in the Gulf of Tonkin.

According to the latest intelligence information, there are about 20 torpedo boats in the North Vietnamese fleet, which lacks any major warships.

These boats are based mostly in the Haiphong area. One PT-boat command just outside that port city was hit by U.S. raiders in March.

The first U.S.-North Vietnamese armed clash was in August 1964. The U.S. government claimed they were attacked by Red PTs on the destroyers Maddox and C. Turner Joy steaming in the Tonkin Gulf.

RETAILIARY RAIDS

Johnson ordered retaliatory air attacks on PT bases. Four of these bases were bombed and hit with rockets.

The United States said about 25 torpedo boats were destroyed in those first strikes against North Vietnam. That left about 15 PTs in fighting shape. The Soviets reportedly provided some replacements.

The diesel-powered, 50-ton PT boats are capable of speeds in the 45 mph an hour range. They mount twin torpedo tubes and 37mm guns.

In addition to the aluminum-hulled PTs, the North Vietnamese have about 22 motor gunboats, four built by the U.S. and four Soviet-made subschasers, plus a number of small auxiliary patrol craft.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Novelist Pearl Buck has announced in Philadelphia that she will give her estate and most of her earnings—more than $7 million—to the Pearl S. Buck Foundation to further the welfare of half-American children living in Asian countries.

The Nobel Prize-winning author, about to celebrate her 75th birthday, is preparing to make a trip to Korea to set up an opportunity center in Seoul. The center will educate some 3,000 children a year and help their mothers find jobs.

PEARL BUCK Miss Buck, who began the foundation in 1964, has 10 children — nine of them adopted American-Asians. Born of missionary parents, she grew up in China.

Her foundation, she said, is "a tool for the American people so they can assume responsibility for these innocent children, the children of our American sons."

Round-the-World Voyager Said Ailing

Sir Francis Chichester, Britain's intrepid yachtsman, was reported suffering from an abscessed elbow on the last lap of his solo, 26,000-mile round-the-world voyage.

Chichester, 66, was getting daily radio messages from a doctor on how to deal with the abscess.

A spokesman for the sailor's wife said yesterday: "He may be in pain, but we do not think his condition is serious. We don't think it will delay his arrival."

Top British Scientist Takes U. S. Job

Dr. Peter Murray, one of Britain's leading atomic scientists, said yesterday he is taking a job in the United States with Westinghouse Electric Corp.

Murray, 47, assistant director of the government's atomic energy research establishment at Harwell, England, said, "This is a very much better post in many aspects, including salary."

Murray gets about $12,000 a year, plus bonuses, working at the British research center. He declined to disclose the salary offered by the American firm, but a friend said it is believed in the region of $42,000.

Senator Has Warning for Graduates

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., warned students graduating yesterday from Monticello College in Godfrey, Ill., to guard your tongues and be careful in your protests.

The Senate minority leader accepted a bust of himself done by a former Monticello student, Madeleine Dinges of Denver, Colo. The statue was made for the Garden of Patriots in Cape Coral, Fla.

Dirksen said he was pleased by the statue and noted, "I'm familiar with the subject matter."

Pop Group Leader Gets 'Generated'

Mick Jagger, leader of England's Rolling Stones pop group, said the feeling emanating from the fans sometimes makes him feel violent.

Jagger, 23, interviewed last night on British television said, "I get a strange feeling on stage. I feel all this energy coming from the audience."

"I feel quite violent sometimes. I quite often want to smash up the microphone or something because I don't feel the same person on stage as I am normally."

Romney Raps Young Hoffa's 'Big Guns'

DETROIT (UPI) — Republican Gov. George Romney lashed out at the supporters of James P. Hoffa as one of the biggest and costliest legislative campaigns in Michigan history climaxed with weekend appeals to the voters.

Addressing a rally of about 300 persons Saturday night, Romney accused Vice President Hubert Humphrey and Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., of "be-meaning" the political system by their support of the 36-year-old son of imprisoned Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa, a Democrat, faces a relatively unknown Republican Arthur G. Licata, tomorrow in a special election that will break a 54-54 deadlock in the State House of Representatives.

In an urgent pitch for Licata, Romney accused the Democrats of "rushing in all their big guns because they are worried."

"We've had Hubert, the consummate politician, a man who within a matter of weeks could throw one arm around a segregationist governor in the South and the other around a Democratic labor candidate in Detroit," Romney said.

BOBBY ENDORSEMENT

"We've had Bobby, a man who spent many years of his life prosecuting a certain national labor leader and then came to Michigan to endorse his son..."

"I'm not suggesting that the son should be judged by his father," Romney said. "Every person is entitled to be judged on his own merits."

"I am suggesting that the example of this kind of endorsement beneath our political system and especially the man who made it," he added.

Hoffa was endorsed by both Humphrey and Kennedy when they made recent trips to Michigan.

UNION SUPPORT

Criticizing Hoff's bid for support from union groups, Romney said the "might and main of the Democratic party-union boss power bloc has been brought to bear on this single legislative district."

Romney, a leading candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, admitted it would be a "political miracle" if Licata wins the election. But he said he believed in "political miracles," and gave himself as an example.

Hoffa replied yesterday with a charge that Romney deliberately set dates that barred many persons from registering to vote in both the April 25 primary election and the general election.

"When announced that I was running for office, I immediately... tried to register and found that the rolls were closed,

Hoffa said. State law prevents anyone from registering to vote during the 30 days prior to an election, Hoffa said. He said the election dates set by the governor were less than the 30-day requirement.

New Champ Likely in Press Golf Event

The crowning of a new champion looked like a sure bet as a field of 100 high school golfers teed off this morning at Pontiac Country Club in the 16th Annual Pontiac Press Invitational.

Bloomfield Hills' Barons, who have won the title three times in a row and five times over-all, have had their troubles this season and were expected to take a back seat today to Waterford Township and Waterford Kettering.

Waterford won its only Press crown in 1956. Kettering has never won and the two township rivals went into today's action sharing the favorite's role.

Expected to stay close to Kettering and Waterford in the battle for the team trophy were Pontiac Central, Rochester and Royal Oak Kimball.

Garrison: CIA Knows Oswald Not JFK Killer

NEW ORLEANS (U) — Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison says Lee Harvey Oswald did not kill President John F. Kennedy and that the CIA knows who did.

"Purely and simply it's a case of former employees of the CIA—a large number of them Cubans—having a venomous reaction from the 1961 Bay of Pigs episode . . . certain individuals with a fusion of interests in regaining Cuba assassinated the president," Garrison says.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Central Intelligence Agency said the organization would have no comment on Garrison's remarks, made last night in a 22-minute interview with newsmen Bob Jones on WWL-TV.

Garrison said the CIA knows "the name of every man involved and the name of the individuals who pulled the triggers" to kill John F. Kennedy.

He says the CIA has "infinitely more power than the Gestapo and the NKVD of Russia combined." He referred to police organizations of Nazi Germany and the Soviet Union.

Arabs Threaten West Oil Sites

BEIRUT, Lebanon (U) — Arab workers will blow up Western oil installations in the Middle East and strike against all Western air and sea traffic if war breaks out between the Arabs and Israel, the secretary-general of the Pan-Arab Federation of Labor Trade Unions declared today.

Hassem Ali Mohsen made his threat at an emergency meeting of the federation's executive council in Damascus, the Syrian capital, as more Arab forces were moved up to Israel's borders and U.N. Secretary-General U Thant prepared to fly to Cairo in an attempt to ease the Middle East crisis.

The threat to blow up Western oil installations in the Arab world has been made frequently. Syria blew up the Iraq Petroleum Company's pipelines during the Suez war in 1956.

Warming Trend Expected in Area

Today's sunshine is expected to launch a warming trend for the Pontiac area. The weatherman forecasts five days of temperatures likely to range four to seven degrees above the normal highs of 61 to 70 and the normal lows of 38 to 45.

The high today will be between 58 to 63 with tonight's low 38 to 45.

Tomorrow and Wednesday fair skies will boost temperatures into the 70s.

Low temperature reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 39. By 1 p.m. the mercury climbed to 62.

MAKE OVER PAGES Hearings Opened on Car Impact Rule

DETROIT (UPI) — The auto industry today opened two days of hearings to demonstrate why it says it cannot meet the controversial interior impact safety standard laid down by the National Traffic Safety Agency.

The standard relates to interior hardware in a car, including seat belt and shoulder harness anchorages and protrusions such as window levers, door handles, and mirrors.

It also sets a three-dimensional area for the body of an occupant restrained by a seat belt to be able to move without sustaining serious injury in the event of a crash.

The standard sets specific standards relating to head and knee impact against the car instrument panel or head above the windshield.

The auto companies contend that while they can meet some parts of standard 201, they cannot meet other parts in time for the 1968 models, and in other cases they do not know what the standards set forth mean, or that no procedures or systems have been developed for testing.

ONE OF 20 STANDARDS

Standard 201 was one of 20 standards established by the National Traffic Safety Agency which are due to become effective Jan. 1, 1968.

The companies have said that they can meet the other 19 standards, some of which were revised to meet certain objectives, but that they cannot meet all 201.

In addition to filing the objections on which the hearings are being held, the companies also have filed a federal court suit, contending that standard 201 is illegal, in that it goes beyond the legislation setting up the Traffic Safety Agency.

The legislation directed that the agency establish standards based on those originated by the General Services Administration for purchase of government cars.

The companies contend that 201 includes some standards not even mentioned in the GSA specifications.

Hearings today and tomorrow have been given over to direct testimony by auto industry engineers together with actual exhibits and picture slides to demonstrate industry objections.

A third day of the hearings was scheduled in Washington Wednesday, when government attorneys are scheduled to cross-examine the auto company engineers.

Chief witnesses at the opening session today were George Ryder, assistant chief engineer of General Motors' Buick Division and Edwin H. Klove Jr., engineering chief of GM's Fisher Body research and development section.

Consumers Cuts Electric Rates

Electric customers of Consumers Power Co., Pontiac Division will realize lower electric rates next month, Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager announced today. Total savings for local customers will average $46,800 annually.

The new rates go into effect starting with accounts billed as of June 2.

Brown said the rate decrease is due to recent action of the Michigan Public Service Commission.

The commission recently approved a request from the Detroit Edison Co., which supplies Consumers with wholesale electricity for distribution, for rate adjustments. These rate changes will affect several classes of power he explained.

Brown added that these new rates automatically apply to local Consumers Power customers because of a company agreement with the city stating that Consumers will supply electricity at the same rate as Detroit Edison.

REDUCTIONS

Rates for residential customers using more than 550 kilowatt hours per month will be reduced by a total of about $2,300.

The reduction to residential customers who also use service for water heating will be $5,000.

Small commercial and industrial users including commercial space conditioning will share a decrease of $39,500.

"The rate decrease is modest. It will only mean a few pennies per month to homeowners," Brown said.

Monroe Mayor Here in M-Week Exchange

Pontiac city officials rolled out a welcome mat today for visiting Mayor Morton R. Cohn of Monroe.

Cohn, one of hundreds of mayors across the state switching cities in observance of Michigan Week, was greeted by Pontiac Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson in a reception at the city limits on Woodward Avenue.

Pontiac Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., meanwhile, toured Monroe, southernmost large city in Michigan and located on the shores of Lake Erie.

Local itinerary for Cohn included a formal reception at City Hall, motorcade through Pontiac, lunch in the executive dining room at Pontiac Motor Division and tours of the Pontiac plant and the Oakland County service center.

The visiting mayor was accompanied by his wife.

Class Rates 'A' for Attendance

BRISTOL, Tenn. (U) — The countdown has started for Mrs. Betty Combs' sixth-grade class at Bristol's Chinquapin Elementary School.

"R-Day" — "record day" — is Saturday, June 3, when the school year ends.

Mrs. Combs' 22 pupils hope to finish the entire session of 175 school days without a single class member having missed so much as one day of school.

A few days ago one of the sixth-graders fell and suffered a severe hand cut after school hours. The children held their breaths — but he showed up next day with a big bandage on his hand.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

In other Michigan Week activities today, five former Michigan governors joined Gov. George Romney and Lt. Gov. William Milliken at a luncheon of the Economic Club of Detroit.

The five — Wilbur M. Brucker, Murray D. Van Wagoner, Harry F. Kelly, G. Mennen Williams and John B. Swainson — then planned to fly to Lansing for a special joint session of the Legislature.

Also on tap today were radio and television appearances in Chicago by Michigan's agricultural queens, opening of the ninth annual Mid-Michigan art exhibition in Midland, and open-house programs at newly built municipal buildings in Walled Lake and Potomac.

A sports Hall of Fame banquet in Detroit tonight will pay tribute to three of Michigan's outstanding athletes of the past — Doak Walker, Detroit Lions halfback; Sid Abel, Detroit Red Wings general manager and coach; and the late Jacob Mazer, one of the state's finest "pioneer" basketball players.

Red Cease-Fire Is Ignored as U.S. Jets Bomb Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes ignored the Communist cease-fire for Buddha's birthday today and raided Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital. Pilots reported shooting down one MIG jet.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, said the planes subjected northern and southern sections of Hanoi "to massive bombings." The U.S. Air Force did not say what targets were attacked.

The Czechoslovak news agency

CTK reported from Hanoi that the North Vietnamese capital was without electricity and water following Sunday's U.S. air raid on a power plant. Most of the plant was damaged, CTK added.

The Communists ushered in their two-day cease-fire with a dozen heavy mortar attacks before the deadline and a later attack on a U.S. force killed 71 Americans and wounded 71.

The Communists also blew the tracks from beneath a South Vietnamese military train near three hours after their 48-7:30 a.m. opened up with intense mortar and rocket grenade fire. U.S. headquarters said the American infantry battled an estimated Red battalion of perhaps 500 men for four hours.

South Vietnamese and allied forces had said they would not begin their 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday until one minute after midnight tonight, or 12:01 p.m. EDT today. The Communists caught a unit of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division as it was moving out on a sweep mission in the central highlands 33 miles southwest of Pleiku and at 7:30 a.m. opened up with intense mortar and rocket grenade fire. U.S. headquarters said the American infantry battled an estimated Red battalion of perhaps 500 men for four hours. Thirty-two of the enemy were reported killed.

Under the generally understood ground rules for cease-fires in Vietnam, the Reds could have considered the U.S. sweep as an offensive action and their attack as self-defense.

WW II Ace Bags 3rd, 4th MIGs in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Col. Robin Olds became the leading MIG killer of the Vietnam war over the weekend, shooting down his third and fourth Communist jets in the skies over North Vietnam.

The 44-year-old World War II ace became the first pilot of the war to knock down three MIGs when he got a MIG 17 four miles northeast of Hanoi Saturday.

Olds also was credited with a probable kill, and the Air Force said today the "probable" had been confirmed. Now Olds needs only one more MIG to make him a Vietnamese War ace.

During World War II, Olds, a West Point graduate, was credited with knocking down 24 enemy planes. The half-represented he shared with another pilot.

FIGHTER COMMANDER

Olds is married to former actress Elaine Rains and is the father of two teen-age girls. His family lives in Washington, D.C. He was a football star at West Point and now commands the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing based in Thailand. The wing is credited with shooting down 22 of the 54 MIGs claimed by Air Force pilots over North Vietnam. Navy and Marine fliers claim 16 more MIGs.

Olds shot out the Korean War with the Air Defense Command and arrived in Southeast Asia last October. On Jan. 3, he made his first kill — a MIG 17. U.S. pilots shot down seven MIGs that day in a sweep led by Olds.

AIR KILLS

All of Olds' kills have been made with air-to-air rockets. Seconds after he knocked out the first Red jet on Saturday, Olds reported, he was flying only 100 feet above the ground when he launched another missile at a MIG as it headed over a ridge line.

A two-piece swimsuit, made from a special satin fabric that the makers say will not get wet, went on sale recently in Paris.

2 GIs Killed in Blasts Laid to N. Koreans

Rate Cutback Due for Some AAA Drivers

DETROIT (AP) — More than one sixth of Michigan's auto owners stand to save about $100 in insurance costs under an Automobile Club of Michigan rate reduction—the first in 10 years.

The AAA announced Saturday that a combination of premium refunds and rate reductions would go into effect July 1.

The cuts won't affect motorists who are insured under the assigned risk plan or those insured by an AAA subsidiary, Motor State, a company spokesman said.

Motor State insures drivers who have more than the average number of accidents. As policies expire, refunds of 10 per cent of the cost of 1966 policies will go to each insured.

The Auto Club exchange gives higher premiums for marginal drivers, younger drivers, and parents of young drivers, with some rates running as high as $500.

Refunds will average about $15 per policy, but could go as high as $50 for those who pay the big premiums.

Premium refunds will total about $9 million, according to Richard R. Dann, executive vice president of the club's Insurance Exchange.

A reduction in rates for uninsured motorists coverage and comprehensive protection will account for another $1 million, Dann said.

Dann said the cuts and refunds are possible because "we feel our concentrated program of positive safety education has had an influence on our members."

ing Wednesday to protest what the command termed "a flagrant violation" of the armistice agreement.

Sixteen American soldiers of the 2nd Infantry Division were injured along with two South Koreans attached to the unit.

A U.N. Command spokesman said five North Korean delayed charges, including a satchel charge which failed to detonate, destroyed two Quonset huts at a compound north of the Imjin River about a mile and a half south of the demilitarized zone.

SET BY INFILTRATORS

The spokesman said the charges were set by North Korean infiltrators but declined to elaborate. He said a detailed account would be given at the Armistice Commission meeting at Panmunjom.

The area is close to Panmunjom and is about 35 miles northeast of Seoul.

In a series of clashes along the armistice line in the past seven months, seven American soldiers and a South Korean were killed and about the same number of North Koreans have been reported killed.

The 2nd Division, the only U.S. division in Korea deployed on the front line, guards the western sector of the 151-mile-long demilitarized zone.

Greek Military Regime Promises Constitution

ATHENS (AP) — Greece entered its second month under a dictatorship Sunday with a new crown prince and a royal promise that a new constitution would be written by the end of November.

In his first speech to the nation since the military coup April 21, King Constantine announced in a broadcast Sunday night that the regime had assured him of a six-month deadline for drawing up a new constitution.

Gore: China's Stand on War Entry Not New

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., says Communist China advised the United States some time ago it would go to war with the United States if American troops invaded North Vietnam or the present Hanoi's capitulation in Vietnam.

Gore made the statement in a broadcast Sunday for Pennsylvania television and radio stations. His hosts were Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa.

Gore said he and Clark, as members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "have known for a long while that the Red Chinese leaders have advised this country that they would go to war" if the U.S. land invasion or Hanoi's capitulation developed.

Scott referred to a series of widely distributed newspaper interviews written by Simon Malley, in which Chou En-lai, the Red Chinese premier, is quoted as saying China will not permit North Vietnam to negotiate a truce with the United States.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Eleven planes searched over 8,000 square miles of open water between here and Cuba today for a missing red and white plane flown by the top aide to the 4th Army commander.

Maj. Richard Harwood Pearce, 36, of Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., and his 5-year-old son were aboard his plane, a nearly new Cessna 150 with four hours fuel, according to a flight plan filed by the pilot before takeoff Sunday.

The major and his son had checked out of their motel after a three-day stay. They left on what Pearce said was a one-hour sightseeing flight, according to the motel records.

A Coast Guard spokesman in the Miami search center said the Coast Guard was checking out the possibility the divorced officer had flown to Cuba.

Both the Coast Guard and the FAA referred inquiries to Washington where spokesmen for the Pentagon and State Department said they were unaware of the incident.

City Commission to Air Parking Ban for Maple

BIRMINGHAM — The proposed plan to eliminate parking on Maple during rush hours has aroused both opposition and support.

The city commission will consider the proposal at tonight's meeting at 8 at city hall.

Opposing the move is the Birmingham-Bloomfield Chamber of Commerce. It lists several points on which objections are based.

The chamber fears a better traffic flow will encourage more through traffic such as trucks.

Senate Dem Denies Probe Manipulation

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., says certain federal agencies out to get him are behind reports he misused his Senate investigating committee in an attempt to keep Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa out of prison.

LONG — "It's gotten back to me more than once that members of these agencies have said, 'We'll get Sen. Long, and I suppose that's where the whole thing started,'"

He referred to a Life magazine article that charges he manipulated an investigation of wiretapping and federal snooping by his subcommittee on practices and procedures to keep Hoffa out of jail.

After Hoffa was convicted—he alleges it was on the basis of wiretap evidence—Long tried to have the verdict reversed, the magazine said. Hoffa lost an appeal for a new trial May 10 in U.S. District Court, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Asked in an interview if the Internal Revenue Service, one of the targets of the committee's probing, might have wanted to retaliate, Long replied, "I don't want to make that charge, but agree that's very interesting."

"DEFINITELY TRUE!" The senator termed the Life article a "sneer" and said the magazine's accusations "are definitely untrue." His subcommittee, he said, had no interest in the Hoffa case.

He spoke on KMOX-TV, a St. Louis television station.

The six were identified as Ronald Seaton, 21, Flint; Charles Artis, 20, Lansing; Anthony Holt, 18, Albion; Fred Whitney, 18, Albion; Current Wade Jr., 17, Lansing; and Ralph Clay, 18, Albion.

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — A bumblebee-frog named after an Air Force missile has jumped 2,000 of his cousins from around the world to become the new "celebrated jumping frog" of Calaveras County.

With three mighty leaps before a crowd of 60,000 Sunday, Sidewinder IV showed his flickering

webfoot to such also-rans as an Australian entry with a kangaroo jump, an invisible Hawaiian frog that disappeared into the stands and a human "frog."

Sidewinder's leap of 17 feet, 11 inches makes him not only celebrated, but with the $300 title money, about the richest frog around.

Owner Mike Voith, Stockton,

"I've been jumping frogs for 25 years," Voith declared after the victory. "I've got my own pond. First you find them, then you feed them bumblebees, then you start training them two weeks ahead of time. I won't tell you the rest. It's a professional secret."

Grandson Mike Guisto, the trainer, offered a hint to success: "You hit the floor behind him and if he won't jump, you tickle him."

A legal hassle swirls around Victor B. Bonamour of Bordeaux, France, who appeared in an all-green outfit and jumped 19 feet, 10 inches. "I've got a court writ for San Francisco attorney Mel Bell that certifies I'm a bumblebee," Bonamour said. "I'm a 22-year-old student at Hayward, Calif. Junior College."

"The fifth dictionary definition of a frog is a French and I want to jump."

FEATURE AT MONTREAL — Expo 67 promises to be a great tourist attraction this summer. Campers and trailer hobbyists have been provided for by the hospitable Canadians. This huge inverted pyramid, an Expo 67 focal point, is the Katimavik (Eskimo word for "meeting place").

Going to Expo 67 This Summer?

Computer Finds a Camp Site

By JIM CROSSLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. This is the year the Great Outdoors began to be taken over by the computer.

Trust Canada not to leave anything to chance. As a result, the pavement will be smooth for all campers who are planning to visit Expo 67 as part of a summer trip.

There will be many such visitors. Montreal should be just about the most popular destination in the East this summer and fall.

And lucky? Thanks to the computer, camping sites within a 100-mile radius have been organized into an interlocking network.

A year has gone into preparation. Locations are available among 20,000 camp and trailer sites, providing a delightful combination of big-city excitement at the Expo and calm, refreshing relaxation between visits amid beautiful surroundings.

WRITE TO COMPUTER

That computer even has a name. It is Logexpo. And imagine, you can write to it.

In fact, that's how you get reservations.

If he cares to, a camper can write directly to a camping ground in the area he's familiar with, of course. Those unfamiliar with the area write:

Logexpo,
Camping Section,
Expo 67,
Mackay Pier,
Montreal, Canada

Act quickly if you wish to have a list of approved camps and trailer parks in order to pick your own site. Logexpo will make the reservation when the request is returned.

Or a general request for a certain kind of accommodation can be made to Logexpo right away. Expert that he is, he'll select an available campsite.

RESERVATIONS FORWARDED
Reservations are forwarded to the camp owner and to you. They'll be confirmed when the camp owner receives payment for the first night.

There are no reports of site shortages as yet. However, to be safe, better get off any messages to Logexpo right away. It takes him three to four weeks to reply.

Actually, Logexpo is supposedly ready for any who drive to Montreal with NO reservations, though it isn't encouraged.

Kiosks along main highways will provide telephone and telegraph services so that travelers can be directed to the best areas for accommodations on that particular day.

Speaking of luxury, some of the camping and trailer sites offer extras such as bus service to the Expo and baby sitters. Costs of sites range from $2 to $3.50 a day.

Newspaper Facility Aide Is Promoted

NEW YORK (UPI) — Walter Everett, managing director of Columbia University's American Press Institute (API), becomes executive director July 1, it has been announced.

He will replace J. Montgomery Curtis, who is leaving API to become vice president for development of Knight Newspapers, Inc. of Miami.

API is a professional center for improvement of newspapers. Financed by newspapers in the United States and Canada, it conducts seminars throughout the year for newspaper executives and staffs.

The API is currently in its 22nd year, during which time 5,192 newspaper men and women representing daily papers in all 50 states and nine Canadian provinces have attended its seminars.

In addition, the institute holds special seminars for foreign newspaper executives under grants from the Ford and Rockefeller foundations.

For the first year since records have been kept, not a single fatal streetcar accident was reported in 1966.

Rip Van Winkle Has Long Drop

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Frank Shelly, 64, of Connersville, awakened from a nap in the back seat of his son's motor car. He opened the door, stepped out — and fell 8 feet. Luckily, although knocked unconscious, he suffered no serious injury.

It turned out that his son had left the car at a service station and the attendants had hoisted the vehicle on the grease rack. The son had left his dad in the car without awakening him.

International Family Affair

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Tom Reynolds of Dallas, who for the past 12 years has taught modern agricultural methods in five different countries under the U.S. Agency for International Development, has an international family.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds had one daughter, Carol, now 22, when he started working abroad.

During his first stint, in Jordan, they adopted a Jordanian infant, now 12-year-old Mary Diane.

In Korea, the family adopted two Korean babies, Ricky and Kevin, now 6.

In Nigeria, where he is presently working, another little girl, Jana, was added to the Reynolds roster.

His Weather Stays Same

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ear-muffs and longjohns aren't unknown in this sunny, southernmost U. S. city.

They're part of the standard clothing George Risko wears when he goes into an ice storage chamber to carve from ice.

A self-taught sculptor and veteran, Risko says requests for fancy pieces of ice from groups holding parties in big hotels are increasing.

11 From State Jailed in Ohio War Protest

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Eleven persons from Michigan today faced arraignment in Toledo Municipal Court on charges of disturbing the peace after allegedly demonstrating against the war in Vietnam during an Armed Forces Day program.

Seven demonstrators, who identified themselves as members of a University of Michigan Students for a Democratic Society group, were taken into custody Sunday after they ran into a simulated Vietcong stronghold that was under mock attack by military reservists.

Military police carried members of the group away from the scene.

About 20 other demonstrators circulated through the crowd and passed out flowers, candy and cookies.

Four persons who said they were only passing out leaflets were also charged with disturbing the peace.

Held on $50 bond were: Donald Larkin, 36, Grand Rapids; James T. Russo, 29, Dearborn Heights; Michael Dover, 18, Grosse Pointe Farms; and Rita Leasure, Detroit.

The others, all from Ann Arbor, were: Theodore Stogee, 27, Stanley Nadel, 22; Milton E. Taube, 20; Tina Schragger; Terry Daezner, 28 and his wife, Tina; and Michael Meyers, 21.

All except Nadel and the women were identified as U. of M. students.
