Says Exchange Student

Cali Stay 'Enriching'

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, Pontiac Press

Making new friends and adjusting to the culture of a foreign nation is no easy task but Marjorie Hannah, 21, of Royal Oak, is finding it a gratifying and enriching experience.

Miss Hannah, an April 1964 graduate of Oakland University, is spending the year as an exchange student at the University of Valle in Cali, Colombia.

The South American university and OU are partners in the Alliance for Progress program following an exchange of delegations between Oakland County and the Cauca Valley in 1963.

John E. Madole, Oakland County's representative to Cali, is working closely with the exchange program.

"I admire the Colombians' approach to life," said Miss Hannah. "They are so gay and filled with the joy of living. And the pace they travel is much more leisurely than ours here in the United States.

NOT ALARMING

"For instance, if you have an appointment and you happen to arrive late, no one gets alarmed or upset. They are just glad you got there at all."

"Colombian girls are chaperoned when they date," she continued, "but, because I am an American, no one frowns when I go out with an escort unchaperoned.

"Though I will admit," she chuckled, "the taxi drivers usually call me signora because they can't get used to an unmarried woman and a man being together without a chaperone."

★ ★ ★

In addition to her studies, she is working with the Peace Corps teaching literacy to prisoners of the local jail in their own language, Spanish.

COMPLETELY ILLITERATE

"The man I am teaching now," she said, "is completely illiterate though he is 27 years old. He comes from a family of 12 children and has never had the opportunity to learn to read or write.

"Each teacher, assigned to one student, begins the literacy course by teaching the basic language sounds and how to print. We spend one hour a day, three or four days a week with our pupil.

"By the end of three months or a little sooner depending on the ability of the student, he can read his own language and write in manuscript.

★ ★ ★

"They are so eager to learn," she added. "And in teaching them, we instigate a chain reaction. The method is simple

Hearing Set on Machine at Junk Yard

A show cause hearing on a temporary injunction against Sam Allen & Son, Inc., 22 Congress, has been set for 9 a.m. Jan. 11.

Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart and 15 residents filed suit yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court against the scrap yard.

The suit seeks to curtail operation of a metal crushing machine at the junk yard and cites it as a public nuisance, disturbing the surrounding neighborhood.

Acting in behalf of the residents and the city, Ewart claims the machine is an enlargement of the nonconforming use restrictions on a portion of the scrap yard.

★ ★ ★

The suit also objects to the smoke, offensive odors and vibrations from the machine.

HEARING ORDERED

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Zeim today ordered the show cause hearing for Jan. 11.

★ ★ ★

The court action resulted from a lengthy dispute between the scrap yard and its neighbors over the machine's operations. The City Commission attempted to mediate the dispute, but finally ordered legal action.

New Guard Probe Charges

Viet Marine Patrol Ambushed by Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong ambushed 100 Vietnamese Marines today as they were opening graves believed to contain the bodies of four U.S. servicemen shot down as fighting continued around Binh Ghia.

A U.S. Marine captain was wounded in the ambush.

The Marines fought their way into a jungle area where a U.S. Army helicopter was shot down last night as it was covering Marines collecting the bodies of government troops. The helicopter burst into flames and exploded when it hit the treetops.

A Marine search company reached the crash site this afternoon and found four fresh graves next to the wreckage, presumably containing the bodies of the helicopter's four American crewmen.

The Marines reportedly were digging up the graves when a powerful Viet Cong unit ambushed them.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese losses were believed to be extremely heavy.

MARINES WITHDRAW

The Marine unit withdrew, taking their wounded with them, and late in the afternoon were preparing to attack the area again with the whole Marine battalion.

Government troops regained Binh Nghia, a town of 6,000 Roman Catholic refugees 40 miles east of Saigon yesterday, but fighting continued around it today for the fourth day. It was one of the longest actions of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The Defense Department in Washington listed the helicopter crewmen as missing, but it seemed almost certain that their bodies were in the graves by the wreckage.

"The Viet Cong have done this before — used graves of Americans as bait," one U.S. adviser said. "They know we have to go in to get them."

If the four were killed, their deaths would raise to 245 the number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

Military sources estimated government casualties at nearly 300 dead, wounded and missing.

A partial count showed at least 32 Viet Cong dead.

Congo Murder Is Described

White Hostages Tell of Rebel Savagery

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Rebel warriors performed a savage war dance of death on the stomach of American missionary William McChesney until he died, refugees said today.

McChesney, the sixth American missionary to be killed by Communists-backed rebels in the northeastern Congo in the past two months, was trampled to death at Wamba during almost a week of bloodletting last November.

After McChesney had died of internal bleeding, the rebels continued to vent their fury on his corpse, the refugees said and then flung his mutilated body into the Wamba River.

This tale of horror was pieced together from white hostages of the rebels rescued at Wamba two days ago.

They told how the rebels butchered 28 of their prisoners between Nov. 24 and 28.

★ ★ ★

The toll of white hostages massacred by the rebels rose to nearly 200 with the latest refugee reports.

★ ★ ★

The survivors told how McChesney, who served at a Protestant Mission near Wamba, was killed together with an unidentified British missionary aged about 50.

★ ★ ★

Ten other Britons are reported to be among 86 missionaries and other hostages kidnaped last weekend by rebels and taken from Wamba.

Slipper Drinking Is Loaded Problem

BOSTON (AP) — No more on New Year's Eve do gentlemen drink from ladies' slippers — for one big reason.

A more enthusiastic acceptance of public health standards has nothing to do with it, notes an article in the current issue of the Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin.

The basic problem, it says, is that these days "ladies' slippers and shoes are just too big to drink from.

"Once scarcely large enough to contain an aperitif, the shoe of the female has become a veritable tankard, holding 14 ounces or more.

★ ★

"The ability of the male to cope with libations has not kept pace with the explosion in the size of women's shoes."

DECLINE AND FALL

In an article titled "Decline and Fall of the Female Arch," Dr. Paul J. Davis lists several factors "which have contributed to the blossoming of the lady's foot from the fragile and finely drawn bud of the 1930s.

"The average female today is about 14 pounds heavier than her counterpart of 30 years ago. No matter how this

MARTINI NOT TEENY — Not convinced by the Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin, Daniel White of Boston, Mass., decides to try out the old custom of drinking from a lady's slipper. He uses showgirl Julie Daire in the experiment. The Harvard publication said nowadays ladies' shoes are just too big for anyone to be expected to drink from them.

Tax, Rebate Discrepancies Cited in Report

New Evidence Won't Affect Hearings on Officers' Suspensions

LANSING (AP) — New charges in the Michigan National Guard land, money and liquor scandal — including a possible $75,000 tax violation and an $18,000 rebate discrepancy in the post exchange operation — were announced today by Aud. Gen. Billie Farnum.

Farnum issued his final report in the case which broke Oct. 8 and which so far has resulted in the firing or suspension of three top Guard officers.

When the first 11 charges were unveiled, Gov. Romney fired State Adjutant General Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, Quartermaster General Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert and his executive officer, Lt. Col. Versel Case.

McDonald and Neifert were reinstated, then immediately suspended by their commanding general, C. L. Simmons. They are waiting a hearing in front of Romney.

★ ★ ★

Case has appealed his firing to the State Supreme Court.

COULD BE BASIS

The new charges will not affect the upcoming hearing but could be a basis for further hearings.

Farnum's report dealt with 29 categories of alleged irregularities.

Those previously covered included alleged illegal sale of state property at Camp Grayling, construction program irregularities and liquor, pay and travel voucher violations.

★ ★ ★

The final report charged Lt. Col. Joemax Smith, operator of the Camp Grayling Post Exchange, with witholding $18,-

State Leaders to Take Oath at Ceremony

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney begins his second term at noon tomorrow in inaugural festivities where he'll be surrounded by Democrats.

The hour-long swearing-in ceremonies for Romney and 24 other top state officials are only part of a day whose activities begin in the morning and should continue past midnight.

★ ★

The weatherman is mildly pessimistic, predicting cloudy skies with possible afternoon rain and a mid-day temperature of about 40 degrees.

Though officially outnumbered by Democrats, Republican Romney is the star of the inaugural show.

He'll deliver the only major speech of the day at the swearing-in ceremonies. It's expected to be short, with an emphasis on bipartisan cooperation in meeting state needs and keeping Michigan's economy moving.

Romney's running mate, William Milliken, will take his oath as lieutenant governor.

But 12 Democrats are scheduled to take oaths for eight Board of Education and four university board seats, and two Democratic incumbents, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secretary of State James Hare, will renew their oaths.

Nasser Feeling the Pinch?

Report Russia Getting Stingy With Aid

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser can expect little if any food from the Soviet Union if the United States cuts off its multimillion-dollar food aid program to the United Arab Republic, sources close to the Russians said today.

Soviet Deputy Premier Alexander Shelepin, one of the Kremlin's new leaders, told Nasser in effect that the Soviet Union is no Santa Claus, these sources said.

Shelepin returned to Moscow earlier this week after a 10-day visit to Egypt. He apparently took a hard look at the way Soviet military and economic aid is being spent here.

The sources gave this summary of Shelepin's conversations with Nasser:

The Soviet leader came to Cairo to assure Nasser that former Premier Khrushchev's pro-Egyptian policies are not being abandoned and that the Egyptian can expect continued fruitful relations with the Soviet Union —but only on a realistic basis.

PROBLEMS AT HOME

But Shelepin emphasized that the Soviet Union has problems at home, especially in agriculture, and vast commitments abroad.

"We are not a rich uncle like the United States and we cannot afford to throw our money around," one Soviet source said. "We must be sure we are getting full value for everything we give.

* * *

"Our relations will be on a more realistic footing in the future."

After a lukewarm start, Shelepin's travels and speeches around the country were given splash treatment in Egypt's government - controlled press The Egyptians broke precedent by inviting Shelepin to share the podium with Nasser during "Victory Day" celebrations at Port Said last week.

'GO TO HELL'

It was on this occasion that Nasser, probably with one eye on Shelepin, told the United States in effect that it could take its food aid program and "go to hell" if it did not like his support of the Congolese rebels.

* * *

The United States has been providing $140 million worth of flour and other food items annually to Egypt. Nasser's attack has raised demands in the United States to end further food shipments.

HAPPY HARMONY — All was smiles between Nikolai T. Federenko (left), Russia's ambassador to the United Nations, and U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Carillon Dedicated at Pontiac Hospital

A $3,000 electronically-operated carillon was dedicated at Pontiac State Hospital yesterday in memory of the late Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, medical superintendent of the hospital, who died last July.

Special guests at the brief ceremony, conducted in the chapel by Rev. Joseph Brady, chaplain of the hospital, were Mrs. Obenauf and her daughter, Rebecca, of 11200 Clark, Springfield Township.

Fr. Brady asked a blessing on the carillon, followed by a tribute to Dr. Obenauf by Dr. Donald W. Martin, present superintendent of the hospital.

Other special guests included conductors of the carillon fund drive Mrs. John Whiting of Franklin and Mrs. R. E. Crabb and Mrs. Glen James, both of Bloomfield Township.

Several hospital staff members also attended the ceremony.

During his four-year tenure as superintendent of the mental hospital, Dr. Obenauf often talked of the need for a carillon and the tranquil effect it might have on patients.

A memorial fund was established soon after his death, and the goal of $3,000 was reached in recent weeks through the efforts of volunteers, staff and patients.

Operated by magnetic tape and a time clock, the carillon can be set to play sacred or light classical music at designated times, as well as toll the hour and the call to worship.

It is also equipped to broadcast a siren-type disaster alarm by remote control and can be used as a public address system.

Named as Interim Medical Director

A 71-year-old physician has been named interim medical director of Pontiac General Hospital, succeeding Dr. John J. Marra, who resigned.

Dr. Clifford T. Ekelund, 35 W. Huron, has been on the staff of Pontiac General for more than two decades. He was chief of staff in 1941.

Dr. Ekelund replaces Dr. Marra, who resigned Dec. 16 because the medical directorship required more time than he was able to give.

'You'll Rue Drinking From Shoe'

new weight is distributed in our corset-based society, it is still supported in the same old way: by feet which respond to increased stress in pounds per square inch by spreading out.

"Shoe manufacturers and stylists have added to the apparent size of the foot, altering its natural and rather functional contours into something resembling an arrowhead.

* * *

THE OLD VIEW

"The average female has grown callous to the centuries-old reverence for modest and unpretentious proportions of the foot.

"Grandmother's feet, in her wedding pictures, discreetly were concealed beneath her wedding gown; today's bride hasn't a prayer of hiding her feet as she teeters down the aisle.

"Several aspects of our lives have been changed by the foot-shoe crisis:

* * *

"The dance has degenerated from a team effort into a stage of violent individual performance in which the male is all too happy to stand aside and away from flashing spikes and rapier-like toes.

RUGGED FLOORS

"Marble floors are in again since wood and synthetic floor coverings are hopelessly inadequate to cope with today's heels.

"Worst of all, the walk of the female is now a threnody of slouching, mincing, slinking, flopping, teetering, limping and crutch-walking."

Dr. Davis, a 1963 Harvard Medical School graduate, says his own foot-size 9C — "is perhaps what stimulated me to watch closely from the sidelines of life the inexorable expansion of women's feet into gunboats."

Soviet-U.S. Showdown Delayed by U.N. Recess

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly started an 18-day New Year recess today after closing out 1964 without a Soviet-U.S. showdown over the Russians' assembly vote.

The Security Council ended its year with a resolution calling for a cease-fire in the Congo, withdrawal of Premier Moise Tshombe's white mercenaries and further efforts by the Organization of African Unity to bring peace between Tshombe's government and the rebels.

The resolution was adopted 10-0—with France abstaining — after its African sponsors omitted condemnation of the Belgian-U.S. paratroop operation in November to rescue white hostages held by the rebels.

Instead, the resolution "deplored the recent events" in the Congo.

Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana recessed the 115-nation General Assembly yesterday night until Jan. 18 after persuading Jordan and Mali to split a two-year term on the Security Council.

This broke a deadlock that threatened to necessitate a formal vote, which would have brought a Soviet-U.S. showdown.

The split-term agreement enabled the assembly to finish all the necessary business of its first 30 days by general consent, without any voting on the floor.

Quaison-Sackey announced that Jordan would serve on the council during 1965 and Mali during 1966.

If the council is enlarged from 11 to 15 members next fall in accordance with proposed amendments to the U.N. charter, each will get a full two-year term.

Ford Vehicle Sales in 1964 to Set Record

DEARBORN (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today its 1964 car and truck sales will set a new record for the 61-year-old auto maker.

And Chairman Henry Ford II said the company is planning to build more cars and trucks in U.S. plants in the first quarter of the new year than in any quarter in history.

* * *

Ford said U.S. Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers will have sold more than 2.1 million new cars during 1964, topping the old calendar year record of 2,040,000 set in 1955.

The sales would top 1963's 1,928,000 by nine per cent.

Ford predicted its truck sales in the U.S. will exceed 410,000, exceeding by five per cent last year's record of 390,000.

This would give Ford a combined car and truck sales volume of more than 2.5 million units, compared with the 1955 record of 2,353,000.

* * *

Ford said its fourth - quarter sales are expected to set a new quarterly record, with October-December deliveries exceeding 570,000, compared with the old record of 564,000 in the second quarter of this year.

SHEER DESPERATION

"In the main, these prisoners face sentences that run from five to seven years. And I feel it was sheer desperation at not being able to earn a living that turned them to crime in the first place."

Miss Hannah also pointed out that the jail is operated along modern methods with the inmates learning skills in one of the institution's three factories.

She feels that coupling the new skill with literacy should help the prisoner adjust to a law-abiding society when he is released.

Judge Enters GOP Race in 14th District

Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle has announced that he will oppose Farrell E. Roberts for the Republican nomination for the 14th District State Senate seat.

* * *

Roberts has already filed for the post left vacant by the recent death of Sen.-elect Paul Chandler.

Ingle and Roberts, whose Senate term expires next week, were both unsuccessful in the Nov. 3 election in bids for judicial posts. Ingle sought an Oakland County Circuit Court judgeship and Roberts ran for the new Court of Appeals.

Three Democats from Livonia also have announced their candidacy for the Senate post.

A special primary election has been scheduled for Feb. 15 with the general election set for April 5

Area Man Dies in Trailer Fire

A 48-year-old man who apparently had been smoking in bed was burned to death yesterday in his Farmington Township house trailer.

The body of Richard D. Hunefeld was pulled from the smoke-filled mobile home in the LeBlanc Trailer Park, 21331 Hamilton.

Farmington Township police were called to the scene shortly after 10 a.m. Patrolman Richard Krueger was crawling through the 28-foot aluminum trailer on his stomach when firemen arrived.

They broke into the trailer and found the body in bed.

An employe of Star Cutter Co. in the township, Hunefeld lived alone.

Plane Lands in Field; 43 Safe

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP) — The sputtering of the twin engines was the first warning 43 passengers had that their Convair Airliner was in trouble.

Over the loudspeaker came the words of Capt. W. M. Wade:

"Prepare for an emergency landing."

On flashed the light: "Fasten safety belts. No smoking."

* * *

A stewardess took the cabin microphone and said:

"Grab your pillows. Put your heads between your knees."

PERFECT LANDING

The plane dropped through ragged clouds steeply, leveled out over farmland below, clipped a power line and then was sliding along in a muddy beet field in a perfect wheels-up landing.

Passengers hurried out and saw where they were: in a flat valley, a few miles wide and long, surrounded by the 50 miles of craggy hills that separate southern California and the San Joaquin Valley.

The passengers of a United Air Lines milk-run flight from Fresno to Los Angeles yesterday became the victims of one incredible coincidence and the beneficiaries of a second:

* * *

Both engines of their plane failed simultaneously over the only flat territory within miles.

Cause of the double engine failure is being investigated. The odds are one in thousands that such a coincidence should occur, aviation experts said.

Passengers attributed their escape to divine intervention, Capt. Wade's skillful flying — or both.

"I must compliment the pilot," said Rudolf Miller, 68, of El Centro, Calif., "and the good Lord was with us."

"The pilot did a pretty terrific job," said Gayland Smith, 22, of Fresno. "But there might have been someone else up there with the pilot . . ."

Wade said he was at 10,000 feet 15 minutes out of Los Angeles when "a power loss occurred in both engines."

"Under the circumstances," said Wade, a pilot 20 years, "it was no harder than a rough landing with wheels."

Two passengers were hospitalized for observation. The others proceeded to Los Angeles by bus.

Will Senate Liberals Push Filibuster Change?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate liberals appeared divided today over whether to push at the opening of the new Congress for a change in the rules to make it easier to halt filibusters.

Although Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has reported the matter under discussion, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., said he doubts that any all-out effort will be made. He said passage of the civil rights bill in the 87th Congress had cooled the controversy.

"Of course, I would vote for a change in the rules to make it easier to get legislation passed," Ribicoff said, "but I think most of the steam has gone out of the movement."

Americans for Democratic Action has written Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, urging him to support a proposal which would permit a majority of senators to limit debate after 15 days of discussion of any measure.

Mansfield has indicated he expects some move to be made at Monday's opening day session.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., a candidate for election as assistant leader, said in a separate interview he probably would vote to oppose any change in the present rule. It requires approval of two-thirds of those voting in order to limit debate.

★ ★ ★

"But the situation is entirely different now that the civil rights bill has been passed," he said. "This proposed rule change would no longer be aimed exclusively at the South."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a strong advocate of making it easier to end filibusters, is delaying any decision on possible action until his return from a Mexican vacation.

LIBERALS CAUTIONED

Sen. Paul Douglas D-Ill., was reported to have cautioned fellow liberals against raising an issue that might open old wounds and cost them support in opposing any fresh move to block court orders for the reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

Aides said Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., an opponent of rule changes, said he hopes there can be "an era of good feeling" in the Senate. He said a fight over the filibuster rule would start the session on a sour note.

★ ★ ★

Previously the liberals have tried to get a change in the rules by a majority vote at the opening of a new Congress. But they have failed to get a favorable ruling from the presiding officer that this was possible. Subsequently the Senate has voted down such proposals. Once the Senate readopts its old rules, a two-thirds vote is required to change them.

Hubert H. Humphrey, who has voted for rules change proposals in the past, will not take office as vice president until Jan. 20. Until that time, Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., who supports the present rule, will remain as the presiding officer.

JOHNSON

Even advocates of the rules change do not expect President Johnson to lend them any assistance at this point. Under these circumstances, the liberals appear likely to generate only minority support if they decide in the end to make a test of the matter.

Hope Tour Was Under Tight Guard

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I think we had the most security of all time," said comedian Bob Hope, just returned from a Christmas tour of U.S. military bases in the Far East. "I've never had my back scrubbed by a bayonet before."

Hope and his troupe flew into Los Angeles International Airport Wednesday to end a 15-day tour that included Guam, Korea, Okinawa, Thailand and South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Hope's lips were chapped from the countless outdoor shows he performed. Actress Jill St. John was nursing a limp: someone dropped a native crossbow on her ankle. No one suffered any serious mishaps.

Military authorities weren't taking any chance the Hope troupe might be the target of Red terrorists.

DESTINATION SECRET

Hope said "Our destination was such a secret we really didn't know where we were ourselves. Really!"

In Korea a helicopter carrying comic Jerry Colonna and band leader Les Brown developed engine trouble in a snow storm and had to make a forced landing outside Seoul.

"But the highlight was Viet Nam," said Hope. "We found out a lot of things. I never dreamed the Viet Cong was peppered all over the place. We saw a lot of destruction from the Viet Cong."

He praised the U.S. fighting men there.

Crash Caused by Pilot Error?

DETROIT (UPI) — Officials at Metropolitan Airport today theorized the pilot of a cargo plane which crashed killing four persons may have misjudged altitude while trying to land in heavy fog.

★ ★ ★

The crash before dawn yesterday killed the pilot, Alfred Fallon, 48, of Colisloga, Calif., the copilot, Hugo L. Bair, 30, Elmhurst, N.Y., and two crewmen, J. Ronald Reed, 21, of Mantario, Sask., and Dale S. Grisham, 32, San Antonio, Texas.

Their two-engine C46 cargo plane crashed into a clump of trees on the farm of Anthony Jaskolski in Huron Township about four miles short of the runway.

The plane was on a routine flight from cleveland to Detroit. It was owned by Zantop Air Transport, Inc., a cargo-only airline.

★ ★ ★

It was only the second fatal accident in the 12-year history of Zantop.

The plane did not catch fire, but the wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

Japan to Back U.S. During 1965---Sato

TOKYO (AP) — Japan will stand closely beside the United States during 1965, no matter what threats to peace the Chinese Communists or any other Asian people try to provoke.

This assertion was made by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press.

"Japanese reacted calmly to the explosion of a nuclear device by Communist China," the political leader of Japan's 100 million people declared, "because of the guarantees provided Japan under the security treaty with the United States."

Under the pact signed at the end of the World War II occupation, America is pledged to defend Japan until 1971.

★ ★ ★

"As to whether that treaty should be extended or strengthened," Sato said, "I do not see any need to consider any other alternatives for the time being."

3 CONFERENCES

Sato, who will visit Washington Jan. 10 and hold three separate conferences with President Johnson& had just completed a two-hour session with U.S. Ambassador Reischauer when he met with Associated Press representatives.

★ ★ ★

Asked what he planned to discuss with President Johnson, the prime minister said he expected the talks to include Red China, the general Asian situation and problems involving the United States and Japan.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on his plan to have Japan play a more positive role in Asian affairs, Sato said he hoped through economic and cultural aid to build up long-term stability in the Far East.

You won't get rich overnight buying U. S. Savings Bonds. But for the long run, they make an excellent investment.

You get a guaranteed rate of interest—3 3/4% when held to maturity —so there's no ups and downs to worry about.

You also get certain tax advantages since Savings Bonds aren't subject to state or local income taxes and the federal tax can be deferred until the Bonds are cashed.

But probably most important is that Bonds pay off in more than dollars. When you get your Bond investment back you know it has helped Uncle Sam strengthen the cause of freedom (your cause) all around this troubled world of ours.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds and own a share of America. It's a good outfit to do business with.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- √ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- √ You can get your money when you need it

OFFICIAL AT WORK — Rolland J. Langerman is one of the area's school administrators now getting ready to hire the new teachers who will be needed next fall. Here the assistant superintendent in the Walled Lake district shows a folder describing the area to a candidate. Most of Langerman's interviews are conducted on college campuses — some 10 in Michigan and 25 in other Midwestern states.

Big Drive Starts in February

Teacher Recruiter Warming Up

By PAT McCARTY

WALLED LAKE — Acting Supt. Rolland J. Langerman, like many another area school official, is warming up for next year's teacher recruitment campaign.

Also like his peers in other districts, Langerman has gotten in some preliminary practice filling the midyear vacancies which hit school systems.

Facing Langerman this year were eight resignations from teachers who had broken their contracts for valid reasons— marriage, pregnancy, illness and the like.

Therefore, the assistant superintendent has been spending the holiday period looking for teachers who can fill gaps now and preparing for the onrush of activity ahead.

★ ★ ★

"Recruitment now is a year-round job," he said, but he noted that the big push starts late in February.

CONTACTS SENIORS

Langerman's job is to contact college seniors when they're beginning to think about postgraduation employment.

Anticipating a 10 per cent staff turnover next fall, Langerman will need to hire 30 to 35 new teachers. About 75 per cent of them will come straight from college.

Langerman and four principals travel to 10 campuses in Michigan and some 25 in other Midwestern states.

They have 20 to 30 minutes to talk to each prospective teacher.

To set the pace for the interview, Langerman for the last five years has used a notebook he prepared to give a comprehensive view of the district.

Included are pictures of all Walled Lake schools and of homes and industry in the area.

Various maps illustrate the layout of the district which contains two cities, three villages and 22 lakes. Also emphasized is Walled Lake's proximity to activity and educational centers in Detroit, Ann Arbor, East Lansing and at Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

Langerman describes Walled Lake as a district where residents can "enjoy metropolitan advantages while living in a recreational area."

SALARY DATA

The folder contains salary schedules and other statistics and is topped off by one last visual aid.

Langerman, an amateur photographer, makes strong use of pictures in his presentation.

When preparing to visit the University of Michigan, for instance, he takes several shots of recent U. of M. graduates working in Walled Lake classrooms.

"We think this is very helpful to us," he said.

The acting superintendent noted that, while salaries aren't all-important, they should remain competitive.

Many colleges list positions available and salaries being offered in a given district. Students then sign up for interviews on the basis of these two factors.

"If salaries are competitive, then we at least get the chance to try to sell them on the other features," Langerman said.

★ ★ ★

He noted that the postwar teacher shortage has hit the elementary grades the hardest, along with certain secondary education areas.

OVERCROWDED

Social studies and boys' physical education are presently overcrowded, he said.

"There are shortages in almost every other area," he said. "There's a real demand in special education and there's now a need for vocational education teachers."

Schools now are recouping from the severe science shortage which was felt after the first Sputnik went into orbit.

The campus interview is the first step in the recruiting process.

"After talking to them, the next thing to do is to get them to come and see the district," Langerman noted.

The recruitment program is, of course, a two-way street. While interviewing candidates, Langerman also is checking their credentials — grades, recommendations, practice teaching report, extracurricular activities, offices and honors.

"What I really want are friendly teachers, those who don't get upset too easily," Langerman said. He added that a teacher, no matter how brilliant, must be able to get and keep the attention of his students.

Langerman labeled recruiting a "challenging responsibility," noting the universal truth remains constant — "education is no better than the individual teacher in the classroom."

Republican Competition Forces Romeo Primary

ROMEO — Competition between Republicans for five posts have made a Feb. 15 primary election necessary here to determine candidates for the March 8 general election.

★ ★ ★

No Democrats filed nominating petitions for village offices by Monday's deadline, but enough GOP petitions came in for the positions of village president, clerk and councilman to require the primary.

Village Clerk Norman Engel, who himself has filed for reelection, checked with village attorneys McLean & Davidson of Romeo on the primary question.

The attorneys pointed out that there are two candidates for the office of president, two for clerk and six for the three council spots.

★ ★ ★

Byron E. Nichols of 12548 S. Lane and Tony Galan of 288 S. Main filed for the presidency, and Ernest Maule of 421 N. Bailey submitted a petition to oppose Engel for the clerk position.

FILE FOR REELECTION

The other question arose from the filing for reelection by all three incumbent councilmen whose posts are at stake in the general election, plus petitions from three other candidates seeking to unseat them.

★ ★ ★

The incumbents are Stanley Holmes, Howard Pallister and Marvin Sieweke.

Challenging them for their spots are Jack McFadden of 221 Croswell, Merlin J. Kerr of 153 Croswell and Donald R. Mosher of 439 Benjamin.

Legal Ruling Favors Novi as 3-Year Land Case Ends

NOVI — A three-year court fight over the disconnection of a large tract of undeveloped property ended yesterday with Circuit Judge William J. Beer ruling in favor of the village.

Beer denied the petition of the Hickory Lane Land & Development Co., Detroit, to disconnect some 400 acres from the village and become part of Novi Township.

The ruling was basically the same as Judge Beer made when the petition for disconnection was originally submitted in July 1961.

The ruling was appealed, however, and the Michigan Supreme Court in January reversed the decision and remanded the case back to Circuit Court, saying that an error had been made by the court in dismissing the petition without hearing all the testimony.

★ ★ ★

The property in question is generally bounded by Napier, 12 Mile, Beck and 11 Mile.

FIRST FILED

When the petition was first filed it contained approximately 700 acres, according to Village Manager Harold Ackley, but since then portions of it have been sold.

Beer said in his written opinion that the land has not been used exclusively for agriculture for three years prior to the filing of the petition — one of the prerequisites for disconnection.

If the disconnection were allowed, Beer said, it would leave an irregular, ill-formed boundary line which would hamper the village in providing service.

★ ★ ★

Ackley said he considered the ruling "a major win" for the village.

TAX LOSS

"If we would have lost it was feared we would have had a flood of disconnections," the village manager said.

The tax loss on the property would have been minor because the property is not developed, only $516, but would have amounted to untold thousands if homes were built, according to Ackley.

★ ★ ★

Since becoming a village, eight parcels totaling about 500 acres, have been disconnected from the village. All the properties lie on the village boundaries, which is required if parcels are to be disconnected.

Troy Agrees to Pay Part of Road-Widening Cost

TROY—The city has backed down just a bit from its original stand on who should pay for widening 14 Mile Road from two to four lanes between Rochester and John R Roads.

The City Commission agreed with Sears, Roebuck Co. developer Jay M. Kogan that the city does benefit as a whole from the improvements to the road, and therefore should pay part of the cost.

Originally, Troy planned to raise almost all its $31,000 share of the cost by means of special assessments against the commercial properties adjacent to the improved road.

This would have meant $6.38 per front foot after a minor technical error in boundary descriptions was ironed out.

★ ★ ★

The commission has decided to lower the cost to the commercial properties to $5 per front foot and pay the remaining $1.38 per front foot with city funds.

LAST BIG MOVE

The decision was the last major move in a long series of sessions with Kogan, who had objected to the whole idea of being assessed.

Kogan had made arrangements to pay the county directly for the paving involved in the improvements.

The entire cost of the project was split, with the county paying 75 per cent and splitting the remainder up with cities benefiting from the work.

Under the new arrangement, Troy will have to dig up nearly $11,000 to make up the difference between the $20,385 it will raise from the assessments and its $31,000 share.

Actions Involve Troy Library

TROY—Several actions taken by the City Commission have important implications for the future of Troy's Public Library, most of them financial.

In view of an extra $3,430 received from the state by the city, the commission has given the library board permission to overspend its 1964-65 budget by $1,232.

Another $2,000 is likely to be put in reserve at the board's request, for the use of the library board at a time.

Another request from the library board, for a 10-year, one-mill tax to cover new facilities and operating expenses, has been tabled.

★ ★ ★

The proposal to put this issue on the spring general election ballot will be considered again at the commission's Jan. 11 meeting, at which time the capital budget will be discussed.

ITEMS RELATED

The two items are related because the library could be given funds from the city's capital improvement budget, not now used to the limit.

A report by Estol L. Swem, Madison Heights city engineer, indicates that, with modifications, the present city hall could serve as a public library when the new city hall is ready for use.

Dismisses Charges on Utica Man

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Bribery charges against Robert G. Dunn, fired last June as a State Highway Department weighmaster, were dismissed Wednesday.

Justice Edmund H. Schmidt threw out the charges in holding the prosecution had failed to show cause to believe contractors' gifts to Dunn were meant to influence his judgment on truck weight regulations.

★ ★ ★

Dunn, 33, of Utica, a Highway Department employe for six years, was fired after admitting he had accepted gifts.

At the same time, Dunn said contractors gave gifts and parties and supplied call girls for Highway Department and Macomb County Road Department employes.

REJECTS REQUEST

Macomb County Circuit Court rejected a request by Prosecutor George N. Parris for a grand jury investigation.

Dunn, of 43137 Fortner, the only person to be prosecuted as the result of his allegations, admitted he showed "poor judgment" in accepting the gifts but said they had no effect on the performance of his duties as weighmaster.

A weighmaster checks truck weights to determine if they meet road restrictions. He also issues violation tickets.

Shelby Twp. Man Hurt in Collision; Listed 'Serious'

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—A 71-year-old Shelby Township man is in serious condition today following an auto accident at 12:35 a.m.

Shelby police said that William H. Fox of 52943 Heatherway was southbound on Van Dyke Road, and attempted to make a left-hand turn onto 24 Mile Road.

His car was hit by another driven by Ronald Ringle, 32, of 11651 21 Mile, which was northbound on Van Dyke.

The impact threw Fox about 50 feet from his car. He sustained multiple rib fractures, a broken collarbone and internal injuries.

★ ★ ★

Both were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, where Ringle was examined and released.

Avon Couple Dies in Crash

AVON TOWNSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Porritt of 2954 Tienken were killed in an auto accident yesterday just north of Griffin, Ga.

★ ★ ★

The highway patrol said that the Porritt car pulled out from a restaurant on U.S. 41 in exceptionally heavy fog, and was struck broadside by another car.

The Porritts were apparently on their way to Florida for the winter.

Doctor to Tell of Congo Work

AVON TOWNSHIP — A chief surgeon and medical director of a 225-bed hospital in Kapanga, Province of Katanga, in the Congo, will be guest speaker Sunday at Elmwood Methodist Church.

Dr. Glen Eschtruth will preach at the 8:45 a.m., 11:15 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

These services will begin a six-week emphasis on missions at Elmwood including a school of missions each Sunday at 5:30 p.m. and a missionary speaker at 7.

Dr. Eschtruth, who has been head of Piper Memorial Hospital for the past five years, will describe his experiences treating the Congolese people who live 600 miles north of Elisabethville near the Angolan border.

To Catch Up on Her Mail

HOLLY — Edith M. Phipps now is planning to see some of the faraway places she's been sending mail to for the last 43 years.

Miss Phipps, 104 Washington, retired from her duties at the post office yesterday — two weeks before reaching the mandatory retirement age.

★ ★ ★

Now she plans to spend her time traveling and enjoying herself.

Miss Phipps has worked at the post office here since 1921. She began her career as a clerk and has served as assistant to Postmaster R. William Fagan since 1956.

Suit Against Baker Settled Out of Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil suit that triggered the Bobby Baker investigation has been settled out of court and may be dismissed, the attorney for the firm that sued the former Senate majority secretary said today.

★ ★ ★

David J. Carliner, representing Capitol Vending Co., said he will seek dismissal of the $300,000 suit in U.S. District Court today.

There were unconfirmed reports the suit had been settled for around $30,000.

Capitol Vending brought the suit against Baker and others in September 1963. It charged that Baker used his Senate influence to have Melpar, Inc., an electronics firm, cancel its contract with Capitol and place it with another firm. Baker and the other defendants — the Serv-U Corp., owned largely by Baker; its secretary, Ernest G. Tucker and Fred B. Black, a former Baker associate — denied the charges.

Baker resigned his influential post — where he had become a friend to many senators, including then Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson — rather than answer questions about his activities.

The Senate Rules Committee launched an investigation into Baker's variegated business activities. It's still going on.

Heroic Mother Dies Saving Son in Fire

BOSTON (AP)—An heroic mother died saving her 1-year-old son when a fire raced through a five-story apartment building last night.

Four persons died in the fire, including two of the woman's daughters.

The mother — Mrs. Hannah Perry, 26 — saved her son, Emmett Jr., by leaping from a fifth-floor window with him cradled in her arms.

She died of injuries in the fall. The boy apparently suffered only smoke inhalation.

Her daughters, Betty Jane, 3, and Shelly Marie, 2, perished in the blaze, as did Howard Allen, 42. At least six other persons, including a fireman, were admitted to Boston City Hospital for treatment.

Ron is suffering from bone cancer.

Detroit Warned on Racial Strife

DETROIT (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Detroit Urban League warned Wednesday of potential racial strife in Detroit.

In separate statements, leaders of the two groups made suggestions for improving what they suggested are deteriorating relations between the police department and the Negro community.

Francs Kornegay, director of the league, said there is a "growing and seething rise in tension, conflict and bitterness ... over brutality, unequal treatment, and the killing of persons without sufficient cause by policemen."

The Rev. James Wadsworth Jr., local president of the NAACP, was asked if Negro unrest over alleged police brutility could provoke a race riot. He replied:

"If we keep on like this we're going to have one."

The two groups have joined with 10 other organizations in urging that a civilian review board be set up to review charges of police brutality.

But Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said he saw no necessity for a review board if the mayor and police commissioner perform their duties.

Wadsworth also requested that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission hold a public hearing on police brutality charges, while the Urban League asked Cavanagh to name two civil deputy police commissioners — one of them a Negro—to ease the friction.

State Senate Committee Posts

DETROIT (AP) — Assignment of 20 committee chairmanships in the Michigan State Senate was announced today by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit Democrat.

Dzendzel said the assignments were worked out at a seven-hour Democratic caucus which broke up at 2 a.m. Democrats will take over control of both houses of the legislature next month.

Sen. Garland Lane of Flint was named chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, regarded as the most important committee on the list.

Sen. Joe Mack of Ironwood was named vice chairman. Other members will be Sens. Jerome Hart, Saginaw; Jan Vanderploeg, Muskegon; and Ed Robinson and Roger Craig of Dearborn.

STAFF TURNOVERS

Dzendzel said the caucus also discussed the turnover in staff assignments—secretaries, clerks and others—but did not complete the job.

Beryl Kenyon, who was first appointed by the Republicans, will remain in his position as Senate secretary.

Dzendzel said the Democrats, hoping for a harmonious session, decided to retain the ratio of four majority members and two minority members on each committee which went into effect during the 1963-64 session under the GOP.

Makeup of the appropriations committee, however, will undergo a slight change, Dzendzel said. There will be a 6-3 ratio, instead of the present 7-3 division.

★ ★ ★

Asked about the outlook for the coming session, which will see the Democrats in control for the first time in decades, Dzendzel said he expected one of the toughest tasks to be reorganization of state government from its present 120-plus agencies into 20 major departments. The state's newly adopted constitution requires the reorganization.

Other committee chairmanships:

Agriculture — Sen. Roger Johnson, Marshall.

Conservation — Sen. Carl O'Brien.

Corporations — Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit.

Education — Sen. Gerald Dunn, Flushing.

Elections — Sen. Coleman Young, Detroit.

Health and Welfare — Sen. Michael J. O'Brien, Detroit.

Highways — Sen. Stanley Rozycki, Detroit.

Insurance — Sen. Bernard O'Brien, Detroit.

Judiciary — Sen. Basil Brown, Detroit.

Labor — Sen. Sander Levin, Berkley.

Liquor — Sen. Stanley Novak, Detroit.

Municipalities — Sen. Terry Troutt, Romulus.

Public Utilities — Sen. Michael J. O'Brien.

Retirement — Sen. John McCauley, Wyandotte.

Senate Business — Sen. John Bowman, Roseville.

State Affairs — Sen. William Romano, Warren.

Taxation — Sen. George Fitzgerald, Grosse Pointe.

Tourist Relations — Sen. Charles Youngblood, Detroit.

Veterans Affairs — Sen. Charles Youngblood, Detroit.

California's Regents Show Proper Spirit

As an aftermath to the recent disgraceful riot and sit-in perpetrated by a faction of the student body of the University of California, we are relieved to learn that the school's governing body of regents has denied student-faculty demands that it abdicate its statutory authority to determine the university policy.

Such action was, of course, logical and predictable on the part of the regents and in line with traditional university administration in this country.

★ ★ ★

The board of regents of a state's university is either elected or appointed by the governor, which in turn appoints a president answerable to it.

Faculty-governed universities are a European phenomena, while the student-dominated school is a medieval concept and not contemporary (unless in Latin America and other seething social climates where students are synonymous with disturbance and subversion).

Whatever is wrong at Berkley cannot be set right by attempts to overthrow or hamstring legal authority vested in regents and university president. Such attempts are both futile and wrong; the more quickly and thoroughly they are abandoned the better. Only when the university is no longer disrupted by malcontents can constructive proposals for change, if change be needed, be rationally considered.

★ ★ ★

The alarming situation at the University of California but reflects, in greater degree, the atmosphere that increasingly pervades the generality of our large universities, where contact between the administration, faculty and student body is necessarily impersonal and rapport not easily maintained.

But if the management of our schools of higher learning is to surrender its proper authority on demand of a disaffected element of students or faculty, the academic outlook for the youth of America is indeed a dismal one.

Another Hidden Cost: Shoplifting Ups Prices

A statistic much at variance with the spirit of the season comes to light.

As 1964 Christmas shopping broke all records, so did shoplifting.

That undercover form of thievery, the FBI reports, is among the fastest-rising of all crimes — up 81 per cent in just the last six years.

★ ★ ★

Retailers' losses will range between $2-$3 billion for the year. Discount house saw an alarming 3.5 per cent of all sales go out the door unaccompanied by sales slips, while the "take out" department of department stores accounts for nearly 1.5 per cent of total sales volume. Supermarkets and grocery stores will "ring up" a $600 million loss from those who don't pay as they go.

Why the upsurge?

Experts attribute it mainly to the dramatic growth of self-service merchandise. Large expanses of open shelves and display counters invite not only the professional thief but also tempt the not-too-scrupulous amateur to help himself to a vast array of unguarded merchandise.

★ ★ ★

Retailers are fighting back with weapons ranging from "see-all" reflector mirrors which peer around corners and keep an eye on a store's "blind spots" to closed-circuit TV cameras which are installed at strategic locations and monitored by detectives. And many states are tightening anti-shoplifting laws to make prosecution of offenders easier.

There is a significant fact related to shoplifting, however, not generally realized. Since losses from theft have to be figured in the selling price of merchandise, shoplifters not only take money out of the pockets of merchants but out of the pockets of the preponderantly honest body of the citizenry.

★ ★ ★

Just to save money for himself, aside from the moral aspect, everyone should join the Nation's retailers in a war on pilferage.

RUSSIA has also launched a satellite with destination Mars. Some fear it will reach Mars, with perhaps a passenger or two, before the U.S. satellite Mariner 4 does, and that pictures taken by the latter may show signs reading, "Kilroyski Was Here."

U.N. Is Working by Pantomime

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The 115-member United Nations has been doing business by Pantomime. It's snarled in back dues, voting rights and face-saving.

The basic question: Does the Soviet Union have a right to vote in the General Assembly until it pays its share of the U.N. peace-keeping costs?

MARLOW

The roots of the trouble go back 14 years to 1950 when the North Korean Communists invaded South Korea.

The 11-member Security Council went into session. Five of these members are permanent: the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain, France, Nationalist China.

★ ★ ★

Anyone of the five has the veto power to kill any severe action by the council. But just then, by a freak, the Soviet Union was boycotting the group.

VOTED TO FIGHT

The council promptly voted to fight the invasion with U.N. forces. The Soviet Union returned, too late to undo this, and tried to be a bottleneck.

Then the United States thought it time to shift some of this absolute power away from the council.

It proposed that the General Assembly, made up of all the U.N. members and with no one holding a veto, should be able to take action against an aggressor.

The vote was 52 to 5.

★ ★ ★

In 1956 the General Assembly voted to send a U.N. peace-keeping force into the Middle East to prevent trouble between Arabs and Israelis. In 1960 it sent a peace-keeping force into the Congo.

OPPOSED MOVES

The Soviet Union opposed both moves. France opposed the Congo action. But sustaining a U.N. armed force costs millions. The Soviet Union and France fell behind in their share.

That's a rough sketch of the background.

By the time the General Assembly began its winter session this year on Dec. 1, the Soviet Union was behind $52 million.

The United States insisted, with approval by Congress, that the Soviet Union should be made to pay its dues or be prevented from voting.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union argued the U.N. operations in the Middle East and the Congo were both illegal. It says only the Security Council, where it has a veto, and not the assembly has authority to vote funds for peace-keeping.

COULD WRECK

Too much of a showdown between the United States and the Soviet Union could wreck the world organization.

★ ★ ★

So, when the United Nations opened Dec. 1, there was a kind of general tippy-toeing in a search for a solution and this was the embarrassing part of it.

Medicare 'Cure' Worse Than Ills?

WASHINGTON — The biggest of all human problems that will come before Congress for action in the new year is usually referred to as "Medicare."

LAWRENCE

Many aspects of the problem have not yet penetrated the minds of the voters. Indeed, some of the solutions being proposed may turn out some day to bring a "cure" which is worse than the disease.

The Senate passed a "Medicare" bill this year which failed of passage in the House. It called for hospital care starting at the age of 65 to be financed by an addition to the Social Security taxes of all citizens.

The bill passed by the Senate would cover everybody aged 65 or older, irrespective of income or whether they are retired from their jobs.

★ ★ ★

Eligible persons who require hospital care would have a choice of three plans. They could apply for payment of all costs for 45 days in the hospital. If they stayed up to 90 days, they would pay $10 a day for the first nine days, with a minimum of $20. As a third alternative, they would be able to stay 180 days in the hospital, paying the first two and one-half days of average costs.

SERVICES INCLUDED

The hospital benefits would include services such as nursing, drugs and supplies, fees for X-rays and anesthetics, but bills for a private doctor or the cost of a private nurse would not be covered.

For those not sick enough to go to a hospital or a nursing home, payment would be made for the cost of visiting nurses, up to 240 home visits a year, and for certain medical supplies.

Specifically excluded are physicians' and dentists' bills, medicines and drugs, and supplies and appliances used outside a hospital.

It is estimated that the outlay for the program of health care as provided in the Senate bill would amount to about $1.7 billion a year at the start.

★ ★ ★

This cost, of course, is over and above the existing Social Security payments of around $16 billion a year for old-age and disability benefits.

SEEMS LIKELY

All sorts of compromises are being offered in the event that the House does not approve a plan of this type, but it seems likely that a government-financed program of some kind will be adopted.

Although most of the plans today for government subsidy of individual medical bills are related to older people, experience in other countries shows that, once the government steps in to aid one section of the population, there is a demand that it be extended all along the line.

Unquestionably there is a role for the government to play in helping to coordinate the different types of programs. But the principle should be that the needy be given help by the government, and that those who are well able to provide for themselves should not be subsidized at the general expense of all taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

These issues have been debated for several years now, but in the coming session of Congress they will doubtless get a much more thorough exposition than ever before.

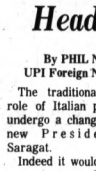
Italian President's Role Heading for a Change?

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The traditionally ceremonial role of Italian presidents may undergo a change under Italy's new President Giuseppe Saragat.

Indeed it would seem it must if any sort of political stability is to be restored to the young republic which, in order to name the new president, has just gone through 13 days of insults, name - calling and an incredible display of a lack of responsibility among Italian politicians.



NEWSOM

The contest which ran through 21 ballots of the National Assembly found Italy's largest party, the Christian Democrats, in total disarray and, in the end, the key ballots resting with the Fascists on the right and the Communists on the left.

It was with Communist help that Saragat finally won.

★ ★ ★

The exhibition put on by Italy's senators and deputies led the influential Milan newspaper, Corriere Della Sera, to compare the situation with the closing years of the French Fourth Republic.

DEMOCRATIC PROCESS

The newspaper said it was the failure of politicians who disbelieved in democratic processes, but still could not form an effective coalition, that led Italy to fall under the fascism of Benito Mussolini in 1922.

"Thus," the newspaper said, "the Italian Republic is consuming itself in factional struggle; thus the French Fourth Republic consigned itself to Gen. de Gaulle.

"And it was lucky because it could have done worse . . ."

Italy actually has known no political stability since the eight-year rule of Premier Alcide de Gasperi ended in 1953.

IMPORTANT ROLE

And it is the disarray presented by the fall of 25 or so governments since then that has led to the belief that the Italian president, elected for seven years, must take on a more important role.

It was largely the influence of such men as Saragat and Premier Aldo Moro, a Christian Democrat, that brought old-line Socialist Pietro Nenni into the government after nearly 20 years of opposition.

Nenni, allied with the Communists from the end of the war until 1957, broke with them over the repression of the Hungarian revolt.

Last year Nenni came back into the government on a program which included continued close alignment with the West, NATO and the Common Market.

Saragat, a firm friend of the West, may be expected to continue to press these policies, along with others to which the government is pledged.

It is likely in the days ahead, Saragat will need all his persuasiveness. His old job of foreign minister now must be filled and once more the fate of an Italian government will hang in the balance.

Shastri Shows Iron Fist

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Striking with unprecedented speed, Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri has decimated India's pro-Chinese Communist party with mass arrests.

More than 500 Reds were jailed in nationwide raids yesterday that the government said headed off nationwide sabotage and a violent revolution by men whose loyalty is to neighboring Communist China.

The Communists charge Shastri with a Fascist-like attempt to destroy his strongest political opposition at a time when his stock as India's leader is dropping and his economic programs are going awry.

There seems little doubt Shastri wanted to hit the Reds before they could hit him — and they had been planning an all-out campaign against him in the elections in Kerala State Feb. 15. Also, it is known, Shastri had been looking for a way to demonstrate forceful leadership.

★ ★ ★

Whatever the reason for the arrests, Shastri and his top aides clearly made an important — perhaps momentous — decision. Never before in independent India had a government cracked down so hard on a political party, left or right.

WIELD IRON FIST

Never before had Shastri, who traded on his shy, unassuming nature, wielded an iron fist so forcefully.

Shastri's predecessor, the late Jawaharlal Nehru, never jailed his opponents wholesale, even in the most turbulent days following independence in 1947, when it seemed India was about to come apart at the seams.

Shastri, an indifferent speaker with none of the political mystique of India's first prime minister, has been hard-pressed to maintain national momentum.

His own Cabinet, has poorly disguised its dissatisfaction with the way the government has been drifting. Newspapers, worshipful of Nehru, have been demanding "purposeful leadership."

Despite their ideological quarrels, India's pro-Peking and pro-Moscow Reds were planning a "united front" attack on Shastri's Congress party in the elections in Kerala, a southwest coastal state that has been a Communist stronghold for years.

In Washington:

World Situation to Get Worse

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It's a paradox. But the Red China-Soviet split, the restlessness of the East European satellites, the weakening of NATO and the rapid growth of U.S. and Russian nuclear power may result in a rash of wildcat brush-fire revolutions, guerrilla wars and riots around the world in the years ahead.

CROMLEY

With Russia, Red China and the United States inevitably coming in with military help on opposing sides, there will be more points at which the United States will be "fighting" Moscow or Peking. The chances for larger wars will therefore escalate.

These are the conclusions of an analysis on trends in the world situation circulated among policy makers in the Pentagon, the State Department and other national security agencies.

In the paper's words:

"The structure of world power . . . (is) undergoing major modifications. The fact that the two great powers have found it difficult to bring their very substantial military power to bear in order to achieve their objectives, or to project this power into parts of the world where they have an interest, has had important consequences.

"It has deterred the major powers from undertakings which might call their military capabilities into action. (In part, this deterrence has been from fear that the use of nuclear weapons might escalate into an all-out nuclear war. In part it has been because the United States does not have the proper weapons or the necessary forces trained in modern guerrilla warfare.)

★ ★ ★

"As a consequence of . . . the progressive disintegration of the two (U.S. and Soviet) power blocs, a pluralistic world order is rapidly coming into being. World power is proliferating . . .

"The (resulting) situation in most of the underdeveloped world is so disorderly that many situations are likely to develop from which the great powers will have difficulty controlling if they do get involved.

★ ★ ★

"Once outside powers do become involved, whether by accident or by design, crises can develop which will engage their prestige to a degree incommensurate with the intrinsic or strategic value of the area itself."

Under these conditions "often an event occurring through accident or irrational action will trigger political developments throughout an entire area and provide opportunities for political adventurers or revolutionaries who otherwise would have remained obscure or ineffectual."

★ ★ ★

Some of these adventurers will be owned by Peiping or Moscow. In addition, this study by a man high in the government says: "Individuals and groups calling themselves Castroites or Communists might stage revolutionary attempts or initiate guerrilla movements, not on the orders of Moscow, Peiping or Havana, but in the hope of gaining their support. Similarly, individuals and groups may organize or execute plots simply to gain U.S. support."

The reader should bear in mind that the foregoing represents only an analysis prepared for the private reading of policy makers. However, it should also be realized that it is against the background of position papers such as this that policy is made.

Long-Lasting Effect in New Tranquilizer

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

MONTREAL—Development of a long-lasting tranquilizer drug that helps mental patients for up to two weeks on a single injection—compared with one or two days for older drugs — was reported Wednesday.

Two researchers of the Squibb Institute for Medical Research at Brunswick, N.J., told about the drug in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science. The association's 131st meeting ends today.

★ ★ ★

Researchers J.C. Burke and A. G. Ebert said the drug, which is not yet available to doctors generally, had yielded "most gratifying results in most cases in a number of clinical trials in humans."

The drug is a new multiple-dose form of an older tranquilizer called fluphenazine to which scientists added a chemical designed to cause the drug to be released slowly but steadily in the body.

DRUGS ARE BOON

Burke and Ebert said older tranquilizers for the mentally ill have proved a tremendous boon but are of value only if taken regularly. Some patients have to take them several times a day.

★ ★ ★

"In some cases," they said, "patients have become very skillful at secreting the tablets or capsules while others forget or neglect to take their prescribed medication after leaving the hospital."

★ ★ ★

They said the new preparation also appears to offer possibilities of reducing demands on hospital nursing staffs and of eliminating risks of accidental overdosage or suicide from drugs self-administered by emotionally unstable people.

★ ★ ★

Undesirable side effects of the drug are either negligible or controllable, they said.

OTHER REPORTS

Among other reports to the meeting:

Women are literally "catty," and it has nothing to do with gossiping about neighbors, according to a research study among female prisoners in the Ohio State Reformatory for Women.

Flood Victim Digs Out In Willow Creek, Calif.

4 States Soaked

Rain, Snow, Hail Add to Flood Misery

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Thousands of victims of the billion-dollar flood that struck five Western states had little to celebrate this New Year's Eve, except that they were alive.

Adding to their misery, snow, rain, and hail pummeled Washington, Oregon, Northern California and Idaho and the Weather Bureau predicted the storm would go on through Friday.

★ ★ ★

A steady downpour hampered rescue and reconstruction efforts of 125,000 workers in the four states.

The most critical spot was in Northern California's Klamath National Forest where 500 persons were cut off from the outside by washed-out roads and four days of snow that has left three to four feet of pack on the ground.

MORE SNOW

Snow continued to fall in Yreka where helicopter rescue operations have been halted since Wednesday by the storm.

★ ★ ★

"If the weather keeps up we'll have a serious problem," said Civil Defense chief Bill Sowle. "The people in there have another week's supplies. It's still an emergency situation."

★ ★ ★

A one-lane road was opened 70 miles through the forest to the mountain community of Happy Camp, he said, but it is accessible only by four-wheel drive vehicles.

TAKE IN SUPPLIES

Food, gasoline and repair equipment were taken in. Despite lack of power and drinking water the situation was termed "very good", by Sowle.

"Indications are now we will come out of this without loss of life," Sowle said.

★ ★ ★

Many families trapped in the vast forest's innumerable valleys have asked to be evacuated, he said, but others are choosing to stick it out.

The coastal city of Eureka with its 30,000 inhabitants remained cut off except by air, and that was sporadic because of bad weather.

RAIN, HAIL

Rain and hail pelted the city Wednesday. It canceled helicopter operations along the Eel River to the south.

★ ★ ★

Two Army Engineer companies from Ft. Lewis, Wash., were bogged down in snow at Medford, Ore. The convoy of 250 men and 75 construction vehicles hoped to go on today to Cecilville, Calif., to erect a temporary bridge over the Salmon River. Residents of the Klamath River Valley have been isolated since last week.

★ ★ ★

Another Ft. Lewis unit was ordered to build a temporary ferry raft at Klamath, Calif., where the Klamath River bridge was out. The raft will become part of U.S. 101, the coastal route that links California and Oregon.

★ ★ ★

On the California-Oregon line U.S. 99 was closed by heavy snow and several truck-trailer rigs that jackknifed near the summit of the Siskiyou Mountains. More than 1,000 vehicles were halted in freezing temperatures for six hours before the highway was cleared.

DAMAGE SURVEY

An incomplete damage survey by the Red Cross revealed that 11,000 families in eight Oregon counties have lost their homes to the flood. Four thousand of these will receive nearly $2 million in federal aid.

Decision to Quit Is Final—Miller

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., said today his decision not to seek elective office again is final.

The defeated GOP vice presidential candidate, who will return to his upstate New York law practice after his congressional term expires Jan. 3, cited his age — 50 — and his family — he and his wife have four children — as his reasons for retiring from public life.

★ ★ ★

Miller, interviewed by telephone at his Washington home, said he is too old to move in and out of politics but still young enough to develop a thriving law practice.

"The choice was between reentering public life and trying to get a holding operation until an opportunity developed or to cut the ties completely and return to my law practice," he said.

CITES FAMILY

Miller cited his family and a desire to return to his law practice in announcing last Jan. 9 a decision to bow out of public life both as a congressman and as Republican national chairman, a post he held from June 2, 1961, until last July's Republican National Convention.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the defeated GOP presidential candidate, tagged him at that time as his running mate.

★ ★ ★

Miller accepted the vice presidential nomination despite his earlier announcement to retire but indicated today his decision won't change this time.

★ ★ ★

"We've made a down payment on a home in Lockport, and I intend to stay there and practice law and not move again," Miller said. "I'm sure of it."

★ ★ ★

Most of his children will be at a crossroads in life during the coming year and Miller said he is anxious to settle down for their sake.

★ ★ ★

His oldest daughter, Elizabeth Ann, 21, will be graduated in June from Newton College of the Sacred Heart in Boston. His second oldest, Mary Karen, 17, will be graduated in June from high school in Washington and plans to enter Newton College in September.

Delivery Men Her Game Makes Gossip Her Fame

DEAR ABBY: There is a rather homely, middle - aged woman in our neighborhood who likes delivery men—anyone who drives a truck, that is.

In the summer she offers them cold drinks, and in the winter she always has fresh coffee.

ABBY

Some have told me that they have accepted her invitations for a chance to sit down and have some refreshments, but when she starts giving them that song and dance about how "lonely" she is and all that jazz, they decide it's not worth it.

Is there some subtle way to let her know that the neighbors are on to her and we want her to cut it out because she's giving the neighborhood a bad name?

ON TO HER

DEAR ON: One swallow doesn't make a spring. And one cuckoo won't fowl up a neighborhood. Don't censure her. Pity her.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Darrell and I married young. He was 19 and I was 18, and we have been married for six years now. We have three adorable children whom Darrell adores.

My problem: I know I was wrong, but when Darrell was in the shower I looked through his wallet and I saw a note which read, "My name is ——. My phone number is ——. Call me if you get a chance." I asked him about it and he said it was from some little 15-year-old kid he met at the bowling alley. (He bowls for our church league.)

I asked him why he kept the note and he said he didn't know. But I noticed he didn't throw it away.

Three weeks later I looked in his wallet again and the note was still there. I asked him later if he still had the note and he lied to me.

I am heartbroken, Abby. I love him so much, and we used to be so close. Do you think he has been seeing her? What should I do?

SO HURT

DEAR HURT: No, I think he has NOT been seeing her. If he had, he wouldn't need to keep her phone number. He'd know it.

I suspect that you two are not communicating very well. Don't accuse him or cause a scene.

Try to reestablish that "closeness" by being understanding, sweet, fun, interesting, quiet, and very, very wise. (P. S. As for the latter —start by keeping out of your husband's wallet.)

Planning a March wedding are Nancy Carolyn Boomer, daughter of the Harold R. Boomers of Voorheis Road, and William O. Pitcock, son of the Lester E. Pitcocks of Southfield Road.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Showers

A trio of showers this week honored Saturday bride-elect Barbara Ann Shadley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley of Ottawa Drive.

Gifts of plastic kitchenware were opened at a bridal tea Sunday in the home of Susan Smith at Sylvan Lake. Cohostess was Sue Koprince.

Mrs. Lester Richey entertained at a luncheon and shower in her Detroit home on Tuesday.

Afternoon tea followed Wednesday's shower in the home of Mrs. B. B. Roush on West Iroquois Road.

The Robert Grauls of Alton, Ill. will host the rehearsal dinner, Friday, at Fox and Hounds Inn, for their son Timothy and his fiancee.

Rev. C. George Widdifield will perform the three o'clock ceremony in All Saints Episcopal Church.

Area Alumni Attend Game

The Arthur B. McWoods of Birmingham, recently of Bloomfield Hills, with the junior McWoods of Detroit, have been in San Francisco since Tuesday before going on to Pasadena for the Rose Bowl game.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lyddy (Jean Allen) of Brentwood, Calif. will entertain the foursome at a dinner-dance this evening in the Los Angeles Country Club.

The senior McWoods, their son, and Mrs. Lyddy are University of Michigan alumni.

The Lawrence G. Boughners of Wedgewood Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Lynn to David Michael Sanborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Sanborn Jr. of Kenmoor Drive. Both are currently attending the University of Michigan.

Jewelry Can Create Mood in Fashions

Today's woman can be as attractively jeweled as befits her personality. Careful selection of costume jewelry and the accompanying outfit is all-important to the finished look.

Selection should be based on time of day and occasion involved. A simple string of pearls is correct any time and anyplace.

Glittering pieces should be reserved for evening exclusively.

For informal daytime wear, bead necklaces are attractive when combined in the same or in contrasting colors of milady's outfit.

ONE BOLD PIN

A simple dress may call for ropes of beads, or try enhancing it with a striking bold pin.

One trick to emphasize a tiny waist is to attach a pin at the midriff. Pins can also be used as eye catchers for gloves, hats, shoes, and cuffs.

The manner in which jewelry is worn and its selection can mean the difference between a careless appearance and the smooth flawless look of fashion.

Wedding Plans

The engagement is announced of Joan DeBaene, daughter of Mrs. Walter T. DeBeane of Rochester and the late Mr. DeBaene, to Robert Leon Warrington, son of the Louis M. Warringtons of Winkelman Drive.

St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Rochester will be the setting for the Feb. 27 wedding.

Recipe Correction

About those Raisin Squares . . . . . there seems to have been an error. Mrs. Robertson did not give any water for the filling. But calls from readers have suggested that ½ cup is necessary and that the flour could be omitted.

We're sorry if you had trouble and appreciate your calls.

Welcome Here Jana and Pat

Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Cosgrove of Old Orchard Drive, announced the adoption of Patrick Christopher.

Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shingles, Oliver Avenue and Mrs. Lawrence Cosgrove of Colrain Drive.

Sheer glamour for the all-important New Year's Eve celebration is typified by Miss America 1965, Vonda Kay Van Dyke. Gracefully feminine and with that ever-becoming fluid look is the Grecian styled gown at the right, also in white and so sophisticated for that special holiday evening.

Expert View on Current Fashions

NEW YORK (NEA) — In her showroom at Pattulo-Jo Copeland on New York's Seventh Avenue, designer Jo Copeland talked about current fashion trends.

Surrounded by her own beautiful spring collection, Miss Copeland gave her views on such topics as pants above-the-knee skirts and the current trend toward nudity.

She is an articulate woman and her comments were sharp and to the point.

* * *

Re pants: "I don't understand all this hysteria about pants. They've been around for a long time. There's nothing wrong with a woman wearing them if she knows when, where and how.

"But they don't belong in the city or in a chic restaurant anywhere. And for formal wear, they are out of order entirely."

HIDE KNEES

On short skirts: "They're awful. Knees are ugly. Instead of exposing them, we should thank our stars it's possible to hide them with skirts."

Re cut-to-the-navel and little topless numbers: "I don't like vulgarity even when it's done expensively. In fact, I find it more offensive then.

"Anyone with a lot of money to spend on clothes should know better.

* * *

"But" said Jo Copeland, "a designer can't ignore the kooky style that make shock news in the collections.

"These shockers either find their correct niche eventually at the hands of designers or they die because they were no good to begin with.

"Take the sack. It's still with us — but all the bugs are out. The current relaxed silhouette is the result of the sack in its original form.

The Elmer Coles of Maple Hill Road, Avon Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Ann to Airman 1.C. William E. Coleman, son of the Edward C. Colemans of Highland. Her fiance is stationed in the Philippines.

September vows are planned by Yvonne Lydia Lang and John James Joseph, son of the Edgar B. Josephs of West Clarkston Road, Orion Township. She is the daughter of the Roy W. Langs of Lake Orion.

New Life Ahead

Oldster Should Marry

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE U-453: Jim J., aged 74, has been a widower for three years.

"Dr. Crane," he asked, "am I too old to consider remarriage?

"For I have met a very gracious widow, aged 68, and we enjoy each other's company very much.

"She belongs to the same church and is active therein. And it is very lonely for anybody who has been happily married for many years, to be suddenly left without a helpmate.

"My children veto any idea of remarriage, maybe because I am fairly wealthy and they think they'll lose some inheritance.

"But I shall remember them liberally in my will. So what do you advise?"

MARRIAGE FACTS

A married man lives several years longer than a bachelor. Why?

Well, he gets better meals and maintains more regular eating schedules.

Besides, he can relax by talking to his wife and even letting off verbal "steam" from irritations at the store, factory or office.

If ill, he has a devoted nurse who hovers around and coddles him.

If he should fall to the floor in a sudden heart attack, his wife will instantly call a physician.

Even the physical side of marriage may be productive of longer life, too, so when two people are congenial, marriage is in order.

WHAT ABOUT MOM?

"Yes, Dr. Crane," some sentimental children protest, "but isn't it a desecration to Mother's memory for Dad to consider remarriage?"

No, indeed!

On the contrary, it is a compliment to the memory of the departed mate when the survivor wishes to try marriage again.

For that proves his earlier marriage was so happy that he wishes a repetition of such congenial life.

* * *

So the opposition of the grown children to remarriage of their elderly parents is often unwise.

Sometimes, too, their argument about being untrue to the memory of the former mate, is really a smoke screen.

* * *

It serves as a "red herring" to divert attention from the selfish fears of the grown children that they may not inherit as big a portion of their remaining parent's wealth.

Actually, children seldom have contributed anything at all to their parents' wealth!

Be Aware of Others Waiting

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My husband and I dine out quite frequently. There are only two really good eating places in town and they are always crowded.

We almost always have to wait for a table. I don't mind this too much as the food is good and worth waiting for.

But I do get very annoyed when people who have finished eating just sit at the table talking and smoking instead of leaving promptly to make room for others who are waiting to be seated.

Don't you agree that such behavior is most inconsiderate?

A: Agreeable as it is to sit leisurely over coffee, cigarettes and perhaps a liqueur, diners in a crowded restaurant should be considerate of others who are waiting for tables and not linger unnecessarily after they have finished eating.

From Sylvan Lake to Inauguration

Sylvan Lake Mayor and Mrs. E. V. Geizer, Councilman and Mrs. Thomas J. McHugh and Mr. and Mrs. John D. McKinlay will attend Gov. Romney's inauguration on New Year's day.

Preceding the ball, the trio will be present at a cocktail party honoring the governor and his wife.

Rice-Ham Casserole

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

No more rich food for a while—after tonight and tomorrow, that is! So here's a good casserole recipe that will use up any leftover ham you may have.

Our cook today is Mrs. Leland H. Martin and this is one of the recipes submitted for the cookbook given to United Fund volunteers in the recent campaign.

HAM AND RICE CASSEROLE

By Mrs. Leland H. Martin

1 cup raw rice (not instant) pieces or slivers of left-over ham
2 cups milk
margarine or butter

Wash rice in cold water and put into buttered casserole with ham. Pour milk over all until rice is swimming in it. Dot with butter or margarine. No salt is needed.

Cover and bake for one hour at 350 degrees. Uncover toward end of baking period to let brown. If more milk is needed during baking period, warm it before adding.

Serve with butter or margarine. Makes 4 servings.

Obey Law or Lose Aid, Schools Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — School systems across the nation that fail to comply with the Civil Rights Act will have federal aid shut off.

This notice is being sent to school officials by the Welfare Department along with compliance forms which must be filled out by the heads of all state school systems and officials of institutions of higher learning which receive federal aid.

The forms are one step in new rules approved last month by President Johnson for administration of the Civil Rights Act. The new rules take effect Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Civil Rights Act directs that no federal funds can be used in any program where there is discrimination on the basis of race, color or national origin.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials will meet early next year with British, French and West German leaders to review Western policies with regard to a German peace settlement.

This new discussion, U.S. officials reported Wednesday night, will be a preliminary to making new proposals to the Soviet Union for an agreement.

★ ★ ★

Included in the discussions will be the problem of the German boundaries and a possible reunification of the divided nation.

U.S. officials said the Soviet government has shown no recent interest in a German settlement, but the United States believes such an agreement would contribute so much toward world peace that it is desirable to try once more to negotiate one.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Washington women and a New York man have been indicted on charges of contempt of Congress for their refusal to testify before a closed session of a House subcommittee on un-American activities.

They are Dagmar Wilson and Donna Allen, both Washington leaders of Women Strike for Peace, and Russell Nixon of New York, general manager of the National Guardian, which describes itself as a "progressive weekly."

The trio was called by the House subcommittee Dec. 7 in an investigation of a possible breach in enforcement of U.S. immigration laws. They said they would testify in open sessions but not behind closed doors.

The subcommittee was trying to question them about their part in trying to help obtain a visa for a Japanese professor, Dr. Kaouri Yasui, who was coming to the United States on a lecture tour last year.

The professor is a director of the Japan Council against A- and H-Bombs and was awarded the Lenin Peace Prize in 1958.

All bad bids don't lead to disaster. Sometimes you come out like the man who falls in the river and crawls out with a fish in each hand.

JACOBY

George Awad Jr. of Brooklyn sent me one of the really lucky hands of 1964 or any year. It seems that South decided to rebid hearts on a three-card suit after his partner's jump response to his sound spade opening, whereupon the partner took him up to seven hearts in three bids.

South decided to fight it out in hearts and the correct line of play produced all 13 tricks for him.

He started out by cashing dummy's top clubs and diamonds. Then he came to his hand with the ace of spades and discarded two of dummy's four little diamonds on the king of spades and queen of clubs.

Then he led a low spade and ruffed with dummy's eight of trumps after West showed out. One of dummy's two remaining diamonds was ruffed with the queen of trumps, another spade was ruffed with the nine, and the last diamond with the ace of trumps. Dummy's king and jack of trumps accounted for the last two tricks.

There had been many ways for South to go wrong in the play, but he had avoided all the pitfalls.

The result is really fantastic when you note that there is no defense against the heart grand slam, no play at all for the spade or diamond small slam and no play for the no-trump small slam if a defender opens a spade or if he shifts to a spade, if given the leading during the course of play.

Instead of passing over West's two clubs, your partner bids two spades. East passes. What do you do?

Romney's Win No. 1 in State

Reapportionment and Auto Talks Follow

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer

Republican Gov. George Romney's winning reelection against a Democratic tide has been voted No. 1 among Michigan's 10 top news stories of 1964.

It was the third straight year Romney has figured in the No. 1 story.

In 1963 adoption of a new State Constitution, which Romney helped write and for which he campaigned, was ranked No. 1, and Romney's defeat on tax and fiscal reform ranked No. 2.

In 1962 his breaking of a 14-year Democratic hold on the governor's office was chosen No. 1.

★ ★ ★

Not a single Republican, other than the independent-running Romney, won a statewide office in the November general election.

REAPPORTIONMENT

And it was the cause of this switch that ranked No. 2 among 1964's big Michigan stories. In a word, it was: reapportionment.

Here are the "Top Ten" chosen by editors and newscasters of Associated Press member newspapers and radio-television stations — the men nearest the news:

	Points
1. Romney's reelection	413
2. Reapportionment	333
3. New auto labor contracts	271
4. Macomb County tornado	228
5. Detroit newspaper strike	223
6. Booming Michigan economy	186
7. National Guard scandals	160
8. Essex Wire Corp. strike	159
9. Low levels of Great Lakes	140
10. Rose Bowl culminates University of Michigan's banner sports year	82

★ ★ ★

A No. 1 vote was worth 10 points; No. 2, nine points; No. 3, eight, etc.

24 STORIES

At least 24 stories received votes, but none came close to the 23 first-place ballots received for Romney's reelection.

Reapportionment was second in the No. 1 voting with nine. No other got more than two for top story.

A story which broke after some ballots were in — the alleged masquerade of Rep. Daniel W. West, D-Detroit—undoubtedly would have finished higher than its 14th place had it broken before voting began.

★ ★ ★

Finishing in order after the "Top Ten" and ahead of the alleged West masquerade were: auto plant expansions; proposed railroad abandonment in Northern Michigan, and marketing headache created by bumper cherry crop.

BOOMING ECONOMY

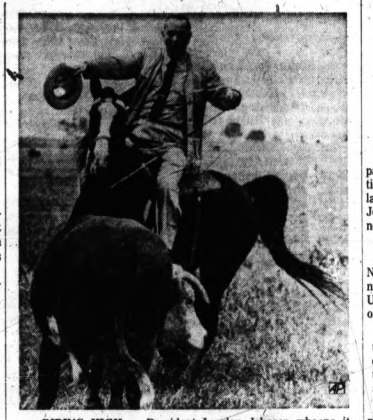
The booming Michigan economy, supported by smashing automobile sales, was a repeater from 1962 and 1963. Missing this time without a single vote was 1963's No. 7 story: racial demonstrations.

There was only one sports story among the "Top Ten" this time, compared with two a year earlier: Detroit's Olympic bid and suspension of Detroit Lion Alex Karras.

The University of Michigan's phenomenal sports rise was rated 10th among the top stories of 1964.

While Romney's victory was scored No. 1, it was, in effect, a defeat for him which ranked No. 2—reapportionment.

Romney insisted upon reapportionment as provided in the state's new constitution, but courts ordered both legislative and congressional districts redrawn "as nearly as practicable" equal in population.



RIDING HIGH — President Lyndon Johnson whoops it up on his Texas ranch after he won a landslide victory in the national election. Johnson was chosen top newsmaker of the year.

Review of Year

LBJ Is Top Newsmaker

By The Associated Press

The 36th president of the United States, Lyndon B. Johnson, has been chosen newsmaker of the year for 1964.

LBJ, who became President at the assassination of John F. Kennedy in 1963 and this year won the presidential election, was selected by editors of AP member newspapers and TV stations.

Johnson settled the railroad strike in April and sent planes to bomb PT boat bases in North Viet Nam after the boats had twice attacked American destroyers in Tonkin Gulf.

WOMAN OF THE YEAR

MRS. JOHNSON

He got his two major items of legislation, the tax cut and civil rights bills, through Congress.

★ ★ ★

Johnson entertained and campaigned for election Texas style, dancing with lady guests at the White House and throwing campaign barbecues.

He pulled the ears of his beagles, announced such economies as closing certain military bases and turning off the lights in the White House.

TWO SCANDALS

His administration was touched by two scandals, involving Bobby Baker and Walter Jenkins.

When Americans went to the polls Nov. 3, they elected Johnson by a larger plurality than they had given Roosevelt and Eisenhower, in fact the largest in U.S. history.

Nikita Khrushchev, who was ousted as Soviet premier and Communist first secretary, was selected by the editors as newsmaker of the year in foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev visited Hungary and toured Scandinavia for 18 days. He gave Egypt a huge loan and received her support for Russian foreign policy.

MADE A HERO

In April it was rumored he had died, but on his 70th birthday April 17, he was made a "hero of the Soviet Union," the country's highest award.

Then in October Khrushchev's portrait disappeared from a Moscow building and Tass announced he was being replaced by two of his lieutenants, Leonid Brezhnev as party secretary and Alexei Kosygin as premier.

Other winners in the newsmaker poll taken by The Associated Press are: science, Dr. Eugene Guthrie; business, Henry Ford II; labor, James Hoffa; religion, Pope Paul VI; sports, Cassius Clay; entertainment, the Beatles; literature, Ian Fleming; woman newsmaker, Lady Bird Johnson.

SMOKING PANEL

Dr. Eugene Guthrie, veteran Public Health Service medical officer, was staff director of the government's 10-man special advisory committee on smoking and health.

The panel, which took 14 months to evaluate more than 8,000 studies of the effect of smoking on health, reported Jan. 11 that cigarette smoking far outweighs all other causes of lung cancer and cancer of the larynx.

The Ford Motor Company, under Henry Ford II, this year introduced a sports car, the Mustang, which has been a big success; the company already has built 271,332 of the model.

★ ★ ★

Ford, who supported Eisenhower and Nixon, was one of the first from big business to endorse Lyndon Johnson for the presidency. Ford was divorced Feb. 13, 1964, and is rumored to be engaged to Italian-born Mrs. Christiana Austin, 35.

TEAMSTER BOSS

James Hoffa, president of the 1.5-million-member Teamsters Union, received his first conviction in five federal trials in seven years on March 4 in Chattanooga.

He was declared guilty of trying to rig a federal court jury in 1962, sentenced to eight years and fined $10,000. He appealed.

Pope Paul VI in January made the first papal plane trip, a pilgrimage to the Holy Land. In Jerusalem he met with Patriarch Athenagoras, first meeting in five centuries between leaders of the Catholic and Orthodox churches.

In December the Pope made the longest papal journey in history to attend the 38th International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay, India.

Cassius Clay, 22, self-proclaimed "the greatest," won the world heavyweight championship from 29-year-old Sonny Liston in the seventh round in Miami Beach Feb. 25.

THE BEATLES

The Beatles, mop-topped rock 'n' roll quartet from Liverpool, became the overwhelming idols of the adolescents in 1964.

Lady Bird Johnson, the most active American first lady since Eleanor Roosevelt, as woman newsmaker of the year, received her first honorary degree March 31, from Texas Woman's University.

Nikita's Ouster Is Ranked 2nd

By The Associated Press

Editors of AP member newspapers and radio and TV stations voted the campaign and landslide election of Lyndon B. Johnson as president the top news story of 1964.

★ ★ ★

The editors voted the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev as Communist party secretary and U.S.S.R. premier the No. 2 story of the year.

On Oct. 15 Tass announced that Khrushchev, 70, had requested his release from his two jobs because of advanced age and bad health.

Leonid Brezhnev, 57, was named secretary and Alexei Kosygin, 60, premier.

★ ★ ★

The No. 3 story was the continuing Civil Rights struggle. The story had many highlights.

★ ★ ★

Early in the year Northern cities organized school boycotts to protest racial imbalance caused by housing patterns.

WALLACE RAN

Gov. George Wallace of Alabama entered presidential primaries as a segregationist, did better than even he had expected and Americans learned the phrase "white backlash."

After an 83-day filibuster, the far-reaching Civil Rights Act passed Congress. The law banned discrimination in public facilities.

The bodies of three young men, two white, one Negro, volunteers in Mississippi voter registration drives were found buried near Philadelphia, Miss., on Aug. 4. The FBI investigated and on Dec. 4 arrested 21 men, most of them on federal conspiracy charges.

★ ★ ★

Other stories in order:

4. The earthquake which rocked Alaska at 5:36 p.m. Good Friday, March 27, was the strongest ever to hit North America and the second strongest recorded anywhere, next to Chile's quake of 1906.

114 KILLED

Dead numered 114; 4,500 were homeless; downtown Anchorage was a shambles and damage in the 49th state was estimated as high as $750 million.

5. The limited war in Viet Nam got hotter Aug. 1 when three North Vietnamese PT bouts fired on the U.S. destroyer Maddox, patrolling in the Gulf of Tonkin, 30 miles off the North Vietnamese shore.

The raid against the Maddox, joined in the bay by the U.S. destroyer Turner Joy, was renewed Aug. 4.

★ ★ ★

At the order of President Johnson, U.S. carrier planes then bombed the torpedo boat's bases and a petroleum depot. Red China threatened to retaliate but did not.

BLOODLESS COUP

In the often-changing government of South Viet Nam, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh came to power in a bloodless coup Jan. 30, was the target of a short-lived coup himself in September and in October a civilian government took over with Tran Var Huong, mayor of Saigon, appointed premier.

6. Red China on Oct. 16 exploded its first atom bomb, and immediately called for a world conference to discuss banning atomic weapons.

7. The commission under Chief Justice Warren that investigated the assassination of President John F. Kennedy made public its report in September.

★ ★ ★

It found that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, killed President Kennedy. It found no evidence that either Oswald or Jack Ruby, who shot him to death acted as part of any conspiracy.

CONGO UPRISING

8. In the Congo, Communist-supported rebels overran the northeast part of the country and placed some 60 Americans and 800 Belgians under house arrest "until U.S. and Belgium halt military aid" to Leopoldville.

Then on Nov. 24, 250 white hostages were lined up in Lumumba Square, Stanleyville, to be shot, just as Belgian paratroopers arrived.

By the end of the day, 700 terrified hostages were saved by the paratroopers and flown to Leopoldville.

★ ★ ★

After five days of U.S. and Belgian rescue operations in the area, more than 2,000 white persons had been evacuated. Ninety-seven were known dead and 500 or more were missing.

2 BILLS SIGNED

9. President Johnson promised, less than a week after the assassination of his predecessor, that the tax cut and Civil Rights bills be enacted as memorials to President Kennedy. They were.

On Feb. 26 LBJ signed into law the biggest single tax reduction in American history, a $11.5 billion cut in individual and corporate levies.

And on July 2 he signed, after a bitter fight in Congress, the country's most sweeping Civil Rights bill.

★ ★ ★

10. Legislative reapportionment is what they called it when on Feb. 17 the Supreme Court ruled, 6-3, that congressional districts within each state should be substantially equal in population, to end voting inequities.

★ ★ ★

What would it mean? Wholesale redistricting by the states, giving cities greater representation and shaking up the structure of many state legislatures.

BIG STORY — Men run clear of a falling section of a five-story building in Anchorage, Alaska, in March as an earthquake left the city in rubbles. The Alaska quake was chosen one of the top stories of the year.

New Record Set on Aussie Lake by Speed Ace

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Donald Campbell broke the world water speed record with 276.33 miles per hour today and became the first man in history to establish both land and water speed records in the same calendar year.

On the first run on Lake Dumbleyung he reached 283.60 m.p.h. and on the second run 269 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

Campbell already held the existing water speed record of 260.35 m.p.h., which he set up at Lake Coniston, England, in May 1959.

Last July he broke the land speed record for conventional direct drive cars with 403.1 m.p.h. at Lake Eyre South Australia.

Campbell set up his new mark on the anniversary of the death of his equally famous father, Sir Malcolm Campbell, himself a former holder of both land and water world records.

Ohio Quintet Repeats

FLINT (AP) — Bluffton of Ohio successfully defended its Flint Junior College Holiday Basketball Tournament championship by defeating Flint JC in the finals Wednesday night 98-76.

2 Cage Squads Run and Run and Run . . .

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The players thundered up and down the basketball court for nine straight hours and when the final whistle blew, the Catholic Youth Organization had edged a YMCA squad, 690-673.

The game was arranged by Asheville Catholic High School Coach Charlie Munday with the idea of setting a marathon record for basketball.

Tipoff was at noon Wednesday and all ten starters stuck it out until 9 p.m.

A five minute half-time was held at 4:30 p.m. for the players to change shoes, drink orange juice and eat a chocolate bar.

Otherwise the game continued uninterrupted.

★ ★ ★

Munday was satisfied with his production.

"The boys finished strong and played good defense," he said.

However, he wasn't particularly impressed with the offensive display.

Munday recalled that he played in an eight-hour contest in Canton 22 years ago in which the final score was 1,300-768, with high-scoring honors going to a teammate who tallied 500 points.

Wolverines Trying to Extend Rose Bowl String

Fred Stabley, Michigan State sports publicist, or by a more refined title "Sports Information Director," is a lousy paddle ball player, but he's the best in the business when it comes to selling MSU athletics to the press and public.

National attendance football figures were announced recently and the averages showed: 1. Ohio State (83,391) 2. Michigan State (71,233) and 3. Michigan (64,805).

This in itself is a tribute to Stabley, who in his 17 years with Michigan State must be given most of the credit for overhauling public opinion from the concept that the school was just an East Lansing cow college with a pasture and creek for a campus.

The genial native Pennsylvanian, who has a special cabinet for his green and white polka dot bow ties, did more than sell MSU football to the people of the state during the Spartan upstart days of the late forties.

He succeeded in convincing a lot of people that the institution on the banks of the Red Cedar belonged to the State of Michigan and not to the city of East Lansing only.

Certainly, it is much easier to promote success, and Michigan State athletic teams have had many great moments of glory in the past 15 years.

HAS NEWS VALUE

But, being a former newspaperman, Stabley operated along news value thinking in that news wasn't made, confined and accepted only within the confines of the city limits of East Lansing, or that Detroit had the only media for dispersing the news matter MSU had to offer.

★ ★ ★

This has been an accepted fallacy by Detroit athletic organizations, college, pro or otherwise. They have tried to sell Detroit teams to Detroiters rather than to Michiganders and we would venture to say that the biggest portion of the crowds of major athletic events still comes from areas outside of the Detroit city limits.

Of the 71,000 average for each MSU football game it wouldn't be hard to believe that the greatest proportion, possibly as high as 4-1 and better, were non-Detroiters.

The recent Detroit newspaper strike which curtailed information in the height of a big sports season and still produced record crowds for MSU, the Lions, Wings and other sports activities should prove the value of Stabley's line of thought.

He knows that the roads leading to MSU start from every corner of the state and along the way there are people in communications whose typewriters in one town are as important to him as those in the neighboring community.

By population and value, the 500,000 people of Acropolis are naturally more important to a publicist than the 5,000 people of Podunk, but Stabley has installed a bit of MSU in 10,000 Podunk towns of Michigan and herein lies the big reason for Spartan success in print and at the gate.

The 288,933 people at four home football games are proof.

U-M Eleven Routed Stanford Team, 49-0 in First Rose Battle

By BERNIE KENNEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan will be trying to extend its unbeaten Rose Bowl streak to four games when it takes on Oregon State Friday in the 51st renewal of the football classic.

Michigan last appeared in this, the oldest of the bowl games, in 1951 when it downed California 14-6.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverines' two previous appearances ended in 49-0 victories — over Stanford in the first Rose Bowl game in 1902, and against Southern California in 1948.

Oregon State will be making its third appearance in the bowl, having split in its other two starts. The Beavers edged Duke 20-16 at Durham, N.C., in 1942 and lost to Iowa 35-19 in 1957.

PLAYED IN '62

OSU last played in a bowl game in 1962 when Terry Baker scored the only touchdown in a 6-0 triumph over Villanova in the Liberty Bowl.

Friday's game shapes up as a defensive struggle between two of the top 10 teams in the nation.

★ ★ ★

The fourth-ranked Wolverines (8-1) blanked three opponents and allowed an average of 8.4 points a game.

Oregon State (8-2), ranked eighth in the final Associated Press poll, limited 10 foes to just nine points a contest, although the Beavers did not score any shutouts.

Michigan, which averaged 23 points a game, has the edge offensively. The Wolverines gained 3,040 yards in their nine games, 2,143 of them on the ground.

★ ★ ★

Oregon State picked up 2,668 yards, gaining 1,585 yards on the ground and another 1,083 in the air.

While Michigan has the power runners in halfback Jim Detwiler and fullback Mel Anthony, and the speedster in halfback Carl Ward, the offense as a whole revolves around All-America quarterback Bob Timberlake.

CAN SET MARK

Timberlake needs just 15 yards in the game to set a Michigan total offense record for one season. The mark of 1,395 yards is currently held by Bob Chappuis, who played in the 1948 Rose Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Timberlake has rushed for 574 yards and added 807 more on 63 pass completions in 127 attempts.

Oregon State also depends a lot on its quarterback, sophomore Paul Brothers. Brothers, who coach Tommy Prothro says will be better than Timberlake by his senior year, gained 1,036 yards passing and topped Beaver rushers with 451 yards.

Cliff Watkins, Brooker Washington and Charlie Shaw are the three Oregon State players trailing Brothers in the rushing department.

Orange Bowl Foes Guard Plans

BUMP ELLIOTT

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Orange Bowl game plans for Alabama and Texas are among the best-guarded secrets since the atomic bomb, but regardless of this the football contest is shaping up as a battle between blue ribbon running and passing attacks.

★ ★ ★

Alabama, which will put its national championship reputation and a 10-0 record on the line against the Longhorns in the annual football classic Friday night, is expected to keep the ball in the air.

On the other hand, Texas has no outstanding passer and will mostlikely test Alabama's questionable defense with the bruising ground game that carried it to a 9-1 record.

CLOSED DRILLS

Both teams have worked behind closed doors all week and how well each team adjusts to the unknown may spell the difference. Neither Alabama Coach Paul Bryant nor Texas' Darrell Royal would give a hint at what they had cooked up.

★ ★ ★

The big question in the game is Joe Namath, a young Hungarian from Beaver Falls, Pa., who can throw the football with such power and accuracy that he will become the highest paid rookie in history when the game is over.

★ ★ ★

Namath, who had seen but limited action this year because of a knee injury, came to Miami in peak form only to reinjure his knee and will see only spot duty against Texas.

SELLOUT

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. EST and will be witnessed by a sellout crowd of about 73,000. The game will be carried on national television (NBC) before what may be the biggest TV audience in history for a sporting event.

This will be the first night game in the 31-year history of the event and the weatherman says the weather will be perfect, with temperatures in the 70s.

Because Namath's status is doubtful, the odds on the game have dropped Alabama to a three-point favorite. Before Namath went down, the Crimson Tide was a solid touchdown choice.

Bryant will start Steve Sloan, who has played more than Namath this past season, at the quarterback spot. Sophomore Wayne Trimble and kicker Buddy French will back him up.

Sloan has an injured right knee too, but he was working in practice Wednesday as if nothing ever had happened, causing Bryant to smile a little for the first time in two days.

★ ★ ★

Royal feels the game could be decided by a field goal and has been working his kicker, David Conway, overtime.

David Ray, who set a national record for kicking this past season with 59 points by way of his toe, has been working hard at his specialty in the Alabama camp.

Namath spent about 20 minutes passing the football to team trainer Jim Goostree Wednesday and seemed to be having little trouble. However, he favored the right knee when he walked.

Arkansas vs. Nebraska

'Mediocrity' in Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP) — A couple of bowl-wise schools with mediocre records in post-season play — Arkansas and Nebraska — clash Friday in the 29th Cotton Bowl game.

Arkansas has a 2-4-2 record in bowl competition while Nebraska is 2-2. Arkansas never has won a Cotton Bowl game in three efforts. Nebraska never played in it before.

But both teams boast that kind of balance between offense and defense that warrants predictions of a close and exciting game when they battle it out in the big saucer that is the Cotton Bowl.

PERFECT RECORD

Arkansas brings an 11-0 record — it won the last game of 1963 and was unbeaten and untied in 1964 — while Nebraska is 9-1, still smouldering over losing the last game of the season to Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

It is that defeat that's expected to have much to do with Friday's game. Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas says it has made Nebraska doubly-tough since it will be trying to atone for the loss that marred a perfect record.

Arkansas, which shut out its last five opponents with one of the Southwest Conference's finest defenses, is a six-point favorite. Broyles does not subscribe to it and Bob Devaney, the Nebraska coach, says only that Arkansas should be favored because it won more games.

Nebraska has a slight edge in both offense and defense — in the statistics — but Arkansas has been the toughest to score against. The Cornhuskers gave up 75 points while Arkansas' stingy defense allowed only 57. And over the last few games, the Razorbacks were invincible.

There are a number of other things working for the Razorbacks. Ken Hatfield is the nation's leader in punt returns and Arkansas also has one of college football's finest place-kickers in Tom McKnelly.

The Nebraska offense is geared to a sophomore quarterback, Bob Churchich, who Boyles says has "the most poise of any sophomore quarterback I've ever seen."

The offense also hinges around the smallest fullback ever to appear in the Cotton Bowl — Frank Solich. He weighs only 155 pounds but has gouged 444 yards out of enemy lines. He also is the possible answer to Hatfield — he has run back punts and kickoffs 337 yards.

★ ★ ★

But Broyles concedes nothing to Nebraska in the way of quarterbacks. He calls his Fred Marshall "the nearest to a complete quarterback I've ever had."

Little Player Stands Tall With Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — When the regular season ended earlier this month for Louisiana State's football team, the stadium guards at Baton Rouge dipped into their wallets and bought a trophy for Billy Ezell.

★ ★ ★

The trophy — a big-as-life football mounted on a stand — has an inscription which reads: "Billy Ezell, team sparkplug 1964, LSU Tigers."

Billy, a handsome youngster from Greenville, Miss., wears the mantle of a hero lightly on his not-too-broad shoulders. He stands 5-11 and weighs 175 pounds.

CRITICAL FANS

At times, in the eyes of LSU's highly vocal and often critical fans, Ezell has been a scapegoat. Lately he's been getting fan mail.

★ ★ ★

"Somebody in New Orleans started sending me telegrams after each game," Billy said in an interview. "I even got a Christmas present in the mail from them."

Ezell, who was nicknamed Captain Easy after the comic strip hero, is expected to draw the starting quarterback assignment for LSU in Friday's Sugar Bowl clash in New Orleans against Syracuse.

★ ★ ★

"Billy has become a really fine field general," says Bayou Bengal Coach Charlie McClendon. "He just doesn't make mistakes and his leadership is an asset to the team."

Ezell will alternate signal calling chores with Pat Screen, the Tigers' injury-prone rollout artist.

When this season started, Screen was pronounced fit as a fiddle. Billy expected to play defense and spell Screen occasionally.

★ ★ ★

Then Screen hurt his knee in the third game of the season and once more McClendon called on Ezell.

"I was a lot more ready this time. That experience I got last year really helped," Ezell says.

Ezell was red-shirted his sophomore year and that made him eligible for the pro draft this year as a future. He was picked by Boston of the American Football League.

"I think I'm too small to play pro ball," said Ezell. "Of course, if I got an attractive enough offer I might think about it."

Local Skaters Win 6 Events at Rolladium

Pontiac roller skaters took six first places in the Rolladium's post - Christmas invitational meet that attracted 350 skaters from seven states.

Gerry McNeive teamed in competition for the first time with Sandy Consorta to win the senior dance. They also placed second in free dance.

John Odneal and Judy Michaels won free dance.

Scott Harrity carried off the juvenile boys figure skating title and Peggy Gardner was first in junior girls figures. Diane Downing took honors in novice ladies figures.

Intermediate dance winners were Dennis Horrall and Diane Downing.

★ ★ ★

Skaters from Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York competed in the ninth annual 22-event meet.

Invitational meets were originated at the Rolladium and this event is used as a measuring stick of skill and progress nationally by skating clubs. New events are originated, tested and judged each year at Rolladium for possible national use.

Southfield Wins Crown in Northwest Tourney

Southfield, Cranbrook and Northville were the only area prep basketball teams to garner victories last night in tournament play.

The win by Southfield was the biggest one since it earned them the championship of the annual Northwest Suburban Invitational Tournament at Redford Union. The Blue Jays beat the host team, 63-59, behind Ray Schlaff's 18 points.

★ ★ ★

Others of interest competing in that tournament were Walled Lake (a 69-58 loser to Ypsilanti), Farmington (64-56 victim of Livonia Bentley) and Berkley (77-68 loser to Wayne).

Cranbrook took fifth place in the Riverview tourney with a 57-51 triumph over Taylor Center. Jim Bailey hit 24 points and pulled in 18 rebounds to pace the winners (4-3 over-all).

Northville's Mustangs captured seventh place at River Rouge's Invitational as their junior-studded lineup clicked for a 58-50 verdict over Taylor Center. Mark Cushing and Jerry Imsland scored 14 and 13 to pace Northville's second win in seven tries.

Monroe whipped Detroit Thurston, 60-51, in another consolation game.

Defense Key in Gator Grid Classic

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "The key to it will be defense," said Coach Bill Peterson of Florida State as he sized up his team's chances against Oklahoma in the Gator Bowl football game Saturday.

★ ★ ★

"If we do present a problem to Oklahoma with our passing, they present a heckuva problem to us with their running," he said.

FSU's fine quarterback, 6-foot-5 Steve Tensi, and his favorite receiver, Fred Biletnikoff, paced the FSU attack to its 8-1-1 record this season after two mediocre years.

★ ★ ★

"It's difficult to build a passing attack in college because of the timing," Peterson said. "We just got it together this year."

Oklahoma, he pointed out, relies on power running. The Sooners use passes only as surprise weapons.

"This will be the toughest opponent we've faced this season," Peterson said of Oklahoma. "They have great individuals. Jim Grisham is big and strong. Lance Rentzel is fast. Carl McAdams is probably the best linebacker we've faced.

"All you need is three or four great players to have a great team," he said. "We will have to be real hot and play a great game."

★ ★ ★

Both coaches called for the kind of work this afternoon that will taper off from the heavy practice pace of recent days.

Jones scheduled a 45-minute drill in shorts for Oklahoma.

"We will review the kicking game and rehearse offensive and defense assignments," he said.

Films of a half-speed scrimmage Wednesday were rushed through the developer to be shown to the squad this morning and point out mistakes.

★ ★ ★

If the team takes the field Friday, it will be for at most 20 minutes to keep the players active.

Suggest Co-Op Slate for Milwaukee Fans

CHICAGO (AP) — Milwaukee Braves owner Bill Bartholomay has denied making a reported $1 million offer to permit the Braves to move to Atlanta for next season, rather than waiting for the 1966 campaign.

Bartholomay, a Chicago insurance executive, made the denial Wednesday amid suggestions that Milwaukee get a 1965 program of "borrowed" big league baseball by having different teams play there.

The two developments in the mixed-up Milwaukee Baseball picture were:

He branded untrue a published report in the Dayton Ohio News that the Braves will pay $1 million in a cash settlement to the Milwaukee County Board for release from 1965 contract to play in Milwaukee.

Owners Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs in the National League and Charles O. Finley of the Kansas City A's in the American League promised cooperation in any over-all major league program which might bring big league baseball at Milwaukee on a cooperative basis in 1965.

LEND LEASE

The lend-lease program might work like this: The Cubs, A's and other agreeable clubs would play a home stand in Milwaukee which would total about 50 games. In return, the Milwaukee County Board would free the Braves from their 1965 stadium contract and permit them to move to Atlanta in April 1965.

Although Bartholomay squashed the $1-million report in the Dayton News story, he said the Braves "recognize a financial obligation to Milwaukee and would be willing to meet an equitable settlement."

Wrigley and Finley have expressed a desire to help out the Braves by playing some games in Milwaukee in 1965.

* * *

In New York, however, Commissioner Ford Frick said the lend-lease program is "not feasible" if it's just a matter of filling in for one year. If all the National League clubs came in the matter would have to be brought up for league approval and if the American League is brought in, then it would become a matter for the commissioner's office."

Michigan Quint Squeezes By Bradley (Princeton), 80-78

Cazzie's Shot Ends Contest

Wolverines Overcome 14-Point Deficit

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Bradley sat hunched over on the Princeton bench, nervously twisting a towel, and watched the lead he had so spectacularly forged against the nation's top-ranked college basketball team slowly fade away.

When Michigan's Cazzie Russell tossed in a 20-foot jump shot with three seconds to go winning it for the Wolverines 80-78 — Bradley hurried to the dressing room.

* * *

An hour later the door was still locked.

"He doesn't want to see anyone," Princeton Coach Butch van Breda Kolff explained. "He doesn't want to talk to any one.

"What can I say? I really don't know. I asked the kids what I should say, but they couldn't tell me. Maybe I should have taken Bill out when he was tired and saved him. Maybe it's my fault."

SPECTACULAR

Bradley, Princeton's 6-foot-5 All America, Olympian and Rhodes Scholar, put on one of the most spectacular individual performances ever staged in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

The celebrated duel between Bradley and Michigan's Cazzie Russell in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival Tourney didn't really develop. It was more Bradley vs. Michigan.

* * *

When he left the game with five personal fouls, Bradley had these statistics: 13 field goals in 25 attempts, 15 of 20 from the foul line, 41 points, nine rebounds and four assists. And the man he guarded in Princeton's man to man defense, Oliver Darden, scored one point for Michigan. And he also brought the ball down against the Michigan press.

"He's tremendous," Michigan Coach Dave Strack said. "I saw him 20 minutes the other night and 40 minutes tonight, and he's just tremendous."

SHIFT DEFENSE

Michigan shifted from a zone press to man to man press, and Princeton's Gary Walters broke through for a layup that gave the Tigers a 77-63 lead. But that was their last look-in.

With Bradley gone, Michigan started stealing the ball, forcing Princeton mistakes, dominating the rebounding and slowly, steadily whittling away at the lead. They outscored the Tigers 17-1 the rest of the way.

KICKING ABOUT — Princeton ace Bill Bradley puts everything he has into this shot at the basket against Michigan last night in the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden. Bradley missed this shot but wound up with 41 points. Watching the kicking effort are Michigan's John Thompson (center) and Larry Tregoning. U. of M. rallied to win, 80-78.

Duke Downs OSU in Double Overtime

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eighth-ranked Duke battled stubborn Ohio State through two overtimes Wednesday night before defeating the Buckeyes 94-89. The Ohioans averted defeat twice by a matter of seconds before finally going down.

* * *

Duke's Steve Vacendak sent the Blue Devils into the lead for good with 1:20 remaining in the second overtime period and teammates Ron Herbster and sophomore star Bob Verga sewed it up with a pair of free throws each.

The regulation game ended at 71-71 after Ohio center Jim Shaffer scored and was fouled with five seconds left. Shaffer missed his opportunity at the foul line and the game went into first overtime.

At Los Angeles, UCLA had little difficulty subduing Utah but third-ranked Minnesota lost to Iowa 76-74 in the third-place game on Gary Olseon's two free throws with three seconds left.

The Bruins, meanwhile, rode Keith Erickson's 20-point effort to their ninth consecutive victory and handed the Utes their first defeat in 11 games.

But of all the tournaments, the one with the weirdest wind-up in this day of 100-point games was at Portland, Ore., where Oregon State held Tennessee to eight points in the first half and ended the Vols unbeaten string at seven with a 48-27 victory in the finale of the Far West Classic.

* * *

Here's the way the other tournaments wound up:

All-College at Oklahoma City—the granddaddy of all the tournaments went to DePaul. The Blue Demons, led by Jesse Nash's 20 points and the work of most valuable player Jim Murphy, defeated Oklahoma City 67-60 in the 29th renewal.

Big Eight at Kansas City — Riney Lochmann tipped in a basket with two seconds left, giving Kansas a 53-51 victory over Colorado. Lochmann wound up with 15 points, three less than teammate Al Lopez.

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans—Despite the poor play of 6-foot-10 star Clyde Lee, Vanderbilt rolled to an easy 80-47 triumph over Louisville with John Ed Miller leading the way with 20 points.

* * *

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. — Gary Keller, a 6-foot-9 sophomore, scored 20 points and led Florida to a 62-49 victory over Texas.

Montreal Six Nips Toronto, Takes Lead

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks must spend New Year's Eve trying to earn back a share of the National Hockey League lead.

Montreal pushed ahead of Chicago Wednesday night, edging Toronto 4-3 on third period goals by John Ferguson and Jean Guy Talbot. The victory gave the Canadiens 41 points to 39 for the Black Hawks, who were idle.

* * *

Chicago plays at Detroit tonight while Montreal rests.

The Canadiens spotted the Maple Leafs two goals in the first period but roared back for two in each of the last two periods. Talbot's goal at 11:05 of the final stanza was the difference after Ron Ellis tallied for Toronto with 16 seconds left.

Ferguson had snapped the 2-2 deadlock at 8:34 of the period.

Goals by Red Kelly and Dave Keon vaulted the Leafs into a 2-0 lead, but Claude LaRose and Bobby Rousseau fired in Montreal goals near the beginning and the end of the middle period for the tie.

Wilson Ponders Offers From AFL

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—George Wilson, former head coach of the Detroit Lions, said Wednesday night he would decide within 30 days whether to accept offers to coach teams in the American Footall League.

Wilson, 51, who resigned last week from the Lions without explaining his reasons, said in an interview that two AFL teams have offered him head coaching jobs. He said one team matched what he was being paid at Detroit and another "is offering me a great deal more."

He said, however, he would wait the 30 days to see if anything develops which would allow him to remain in the National Football League.

He did not rule out a job as head coach of the Chicago Bears.

NOTHING ON BEARS

At present, Wilson said, there was absolutely no truth to rumors that he will take over the coaching duties of George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears.

Halas is the only man in professional football who has been with one team, the Bears, longer than Wilson has been with Detroit.

* * *

Wilson declined to explain why he decided to resign from the Lions organization. He did not deny, however, that the release of five of his assistants was a factor.

He said wherever he went in coaching, he planned to take them with him.

These assistants are line coach Les Bingaman, Bob Nussbaumer, both here to help Wilson with the North squad of the Jan. 9 Senior Bowl, Aldo Forte, Don Doll and Sonny Grandelius.

Wilson, who has been at Detroit since 1949, became head coach in 1957 after the resignation of Buddy Parker, coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers. Wilson stressed that he was leaving the Lions on good terms with everyone in management, including millionaire owner William Clay Ford.

"My future is in football," Wilson said. "Fottball, and especially Detroit, has been good to me.

"I have no hard feeling against Detroit or anyone connected with the team. Detroit is a terrific sports town.

"I'm not telling my reasons for resigning because I don't want to cause a stir. This thing already has been blown out of proportion."

St. Louis Tops Detroit by 5

Coach DeBusschere Has 33 in NBA Loss

DETROIT (UPI) — The St. Louis Hawks Wednesday night won their second game in a row under new player coach Richie Guerin in defeating the Detroit Pistons 125-120.

Lennie Wilkens had 29 for the winners, Bob Pettit 28 and Chico Vaughn 27 as the Hawks won their third straight game. Pettit, who came back to play Tuesday night after missing eight games with a back injury, also had 18 rebounds.

* * *

Detroit player-coach Dave DeBusschere had 33 for the Pistons who led early in the game, 25-14. But Detroit was outscored 14-2 when St. Louis went ahead 28-27 at the end of the quarter. St. Louis led 63-57 at the half.

The Pistons pulled to within four points several times in the second half but usually a lay-up by Vaughn or Wilkens took off the pressure.

* * *

After the game, the Pistons announced they had released on waivers guard Willie Jones, a five-year veteran.

Russians Near Hockey Title

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Russia scored a 7-5 victory over Canada in the International Hockey Tournament Wednesday night to virtually sew up the championship.

* * *

The triumph gave the Soviets three victories in four games and six points in the tourney standings. Czechoslovakia, which meets Canada in the finale Thursday night, has a chance to tie Russia in the won-lost standings but the Czecks would have to score more than 12 goals to beat out the Soviets on a goals-scored basis.

* * *

Russia has scored 23 in four games. The Czechs have 11 in three games.

Major Hoople Sees Bowl Win for 'M'

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Originator of Bowl Games

Egad, friends, truly the cup runneth over for the football fans this New Year's weekend.

One might say you pigskin devotees are assured of several bowlsful of enjoyment. No fewer than five of the nation's top 10 collegiate powers — Michigan, Arkansas, Nebraska, Texas and Alabama — will appear in the bowl games.

Go on with the forecast, and a Happy New Year to all!

ROSE BOWL

Michigan 10, Oregon State University 0. It's the favorite score of the Wolverines who licked another OSU (Ohio State University) by the same margin to get into the Rose Bowl.

SUGAR BOWL

Louisiana State 15, Syracuse 9. Okey Bayou, this column's Louisiana correspondent, reports the stingy Tigers, who limited their opponents to a 7.9 point-per-game average, are ready for their supreme effort of the season.

ORANGE BOWL

Texas 21, Alabama 12. The best game of the day — ermake that night! And when the moon sets over Miami on Jan. 1, Texas will have rolled back the Crimson Tide!

COTTO NBOWL

Nebraska 16, Arkansas 10. The Hoople System's upset special. Nebraska's Cornhuskers, a six-point underdog, will prevail by just that margin — hak-kaff!

GATOR BOWL

Florida State 26, Oklahoma 23. The high-flying Seminoles will outlast the Sooners in a free-scoring contest.

Vikings, Rams Swap Players

Minnesota Completes Deal for Jack Snow

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings Wednesday acquired veteran end Jim Red Phillips and tackle Gary Larsen from the Los Angeles Rams.

★ ★ ★

The Vikings said it was part of the deal that sent Jack Snow of Notre Dame to the Rams.

Snow, brilliant end for the Irish, was Minnesota's first choice in the National Football League draft.

But when it was evident the Californian preferred to play in warmer climate the Vikings gave the Rams an opportunity to negotiate with him. San Diego of the American Football League also had drafted Snow.

★ ★ ★

Phillips, 28, is a seven-year veteran of the NFL. He is the third top pass catcher of all time with the Rams, having snared 333 for 4,953 yards and 27 touchdowns. During the past season the former Auburn star was bothered with a hand injury. He caught 17 passes, two for touchdowns.

SKIING SEASON CASUALTY — Iroquois Mountain ski lodge, 26 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie, was a bustling Upper Peninsula winter resort (above) until Monday night. Then some 40 persons had to flee as fire left very little (bottom) of the original structure. Damage has been estimated at $250,000.

All-Star Berth to Tom Petrie

Clarkson Ice Skater Continues Point Lead

Arrow Auto Wash scoring star Tom Petrie of Clarkston did not score Tuesday night as the Oakland County sextet in the Metropolitan Detroit Junior Hockey League improved its third place standing.

However, this blanking in the 8-6 win over Detroit General Sports did not cost him his lead in the over-all league scoring race. He has 22 goals and 14 assists.

★ ★ ★

Petrie also has been named to the circuit's All-Star team which will accompany the Detroit Red Wings Monday to Hamilton, Ont., for an exhibition double-header.

The Metro League stars will meet Hamilton's Junior B team while the Junior A sextet will tangle with the Wings.

Also picked on the All-Stars were Farmington's Tom Serbu and Royal Oak's Dave Durkin, both on the Arrow squad.

Weatherman Has Little Good News for Skiers

Michigan's recent wave of warm weather has spelled bad news for skiing enthusiasts in the southwestern part of the state.

Most of the ski slopes in the southeast section of the state are reported closed, or with poor conditions with a few exceptions.

The operators weren't able to make any snow until very early this morning. Despite the lack of good skiing conditions, several of the local areas will be open tonight.

This includes Mt. Holly, Pine Knob, Jack Pine Valley (and possibly Dryden) which will all welcome in the New Year whether or not there is skiing.

The Southeastern Michigan motorcycle ice racing will get underway Jan. 10 — weather conditions permitting.

★ ★ ★

Races have been scheduled for nine consecutive Sunday afternoons on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens. The ice course will be in front of the Blue Boat Inn on South River Road.

Feature events will be the Michigan Grand Prix Feb. 7 and the State Championship, Feb. 28.

Olympic Skier Favorite Today in Slalom Race

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Olympian Jean Saubert of Oregon State, nosed out in Wednesday's downhill, was picked to win today's slalom race at the Alpine Holiday Classic climaxing nearly two weeks of training by the nation's top skiers.

Miss Saubert, double medal winner at the Olympics in Innsbruck earlier this year, ran three-tenths of a second behind Sandra Shellworth, University of Colorado sophomore from Boise, Idaho, in the downhill.

Twenty-eight girls are entered in the slalom run on the Giant Steps course.

★ ★ ★

Jim Heuga and Billy Kidd, students at University of Colorado, were favored among the 74 men entered in their slalom race. Heuga and Kidd finished third and fourth in Wednesday's downhill behind winner Ni Orsi of Stockton, Calif., and Bill Marolt of Aspen, Colo.

Rhome Didn't Warm to Offer by Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler President Bud Adams said Wednesday Jerry Rhome passed up an offer of $106,500 over a four-year period plus an automobile before signing with the National Football League Dallas Cowboys.

Even so, Adams said the American Football League Oilers' failure to sign the University of Tulsa passing record-setter is "not a big loss."

He said the Oilers withdrew from negotiations with Rhome before he signed with the Cowboys because "we felt he was stalling."

★ ★ ★

Adams reported the offer to Rhome as $91,500 in salary over a four-year period, plus a $15,000 bonus and an automobile.

In total, it was the biggest offer the Oilers ever made to a rookie, but Billy Cannon, who signed a three-year contract at $33,000 per year for the first three years of the Oilers in the AFL, still holds the Houston record in salary per season.

★ ★ ★

Cannon, now the property of Oakland also is believed to be the highest paid pro football rookie until a reported New York Jet offer of $100,000 per year for three years, plus $89,000 bonus and a limousine, to Joe Namath of Alabama.

Players Claim NFL Boss Unfair in Money Matter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The National Football League players Association attacked league commissioner Pete Rozelle Wednesday for changing the method in which money from the NFL championship game is divided.

Ordell Braase of the Baltimore Colts, president of the association, said his group was unanimous in their opinion that Rozelle had been "grossly unfair in looking after league owners but failing to consult the players on this matter."

According to Braase, in 1962 and the years prior to that, the division of gate receipts, as provided by the league's bylaws, called for the league office to receive 15 per cent of the net receipts from the game.

CHANGES TAKE

In 1962, he said that amounted to $107,489. However, he said Rozelle took it upon himself to change the breakdown in 1963 by taking the 15 per cent, plus 10 per cent of the radio and television receipts.

This meant that in 1963 the commissioner's office took in $208,932 — $116,324 of it coming from the gate and $92,608 from radio and television.

This year it is expected that the league office will receive at least $300,000 from last Sunday's championship game between Baltimore and Cleveland, Braase said.

"This change is a flagrant abuse of the commissioner's powers and duties to represent the players as well as the owners," Braase said.

The association invited Rozelle to meet with them later this week to discuss the matter.

'M' Hockey Team Tournament Champ

BOSTON (AP) — Michigan's NCAA champions swept to their third straight victory and captured the Boston Arena Christmas Hockey Tournament with a 4-3 victory over Boston University Wednesday.

Harvard defeated Northeastern, 5-1, and won third place.

Michigan trailed 2-1 before the middle period ended, on Jim Quinn's first of two goals for Boston University. But the Wolverines tied it, then went ahead 3-2 in the last period on Alex Hood's second goal.

Will Martin, who set up the second hood tally, scored in an unassisted shot later in the final period for the eventual clincher. Quinn got his second goal at 18:27 of the finale.

MSU Reminds Fans 'M' Game a Sellout

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State's athletic department issued another reminder today that the basketball game against Michigan at Jenison Field House Jan. 26 is a sellout.

Ticket Manager Bill Beardsley said that his office continues to be deluged with ticket requests even though the sellout announcement was made almost a month ago.

Local Assistant Pro Fills Cleveland Post

Jim Chapman, assistant pro under Warren Orlick at Tam O'Shanter Country Club for the past four years, has been named head professional at the Chagrin Valley Country Club in Cleveland.

★ ★ ★

The head pro position is the first for the 28-year-old Chapman, a native of Scotland. The club at Cleveland has a membership of 500.

2 Sisters Share Award as Top French Athlete

PARIS (AP) — Christine and Marielle Goitschel, skiing sisters who won a gold and a silver medal each in the Winter Olympics, were named France's athletes of 1964 by the daily sports newspaper L'Equipe Wednesday.

The paper's choice annually rates near-official status. It is the first time that there have been two winners and the first time also that a man did not take the award.

Southerner Putt Champ

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (UPI) —John Connor, 26, of Greenville, S.C., has been named the 1964 putter of the year by the Professional Putter Association.

Connor, a postal clerk who holds the all-time record for 18 holes of 22 putts, will be honored Feb. 3 at the organization's winter convention at Miami Beach, association President Don Clayton announced Wednesday.

It's agreed! Pontiac should really go places in 1965.

The city's business, industrial and civic leaders are predicting a banner year for the Pontiac area.

In the industrial field payrolls are reaching toward the all-time high of August 1955. According to GM reports, hourly rated employes received an average weekly wage of $147.13 in the first nine months of the year.

The national average for all factory workers, according to figures released last month by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is $102.97 weekly.

Pontiac Motor Division General Manager E. M. Estes reports Pontiac producing cars at a record rate.

MAY BE BIGGEST

"December could well be the biggest production month in our history and the first quarter of 1965 should be our best ever," he added.

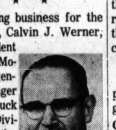
ESTES

Currently the division employs 18,000 compared to 10,500 just two years ago.

Estes pointed out that plant facilities are being increased. "When the program is completed, we will have increased manufacturing and warehousing facilities by nearly one-fourth," he asserted.

★ ★ ★

In projecting business for the coming year, Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, said the increased acceptance of GMTC's new models assures the division and its dealers they will continue to enjoy a high level of business activity in the coming year.



WERNER

ONE OF BEST

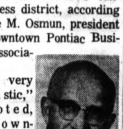
"GMTC sales," he noted, "were up approximately 15 per cent over 1963—five per cent greater than the industry-wide gain of 10 per cent.

"Thanks to a model line unsurpassed in our 62-year history, we view the coming months with great optimism," Werner summed up.

OSMUN OPTIMISTIC

The outlook is also bright for business in Pontiac's central business district, according to Monroe M. Osmun, president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association.

"I am very optimistic," Osmun noted, "about downtown Pontiac this coming year. It should be even better than 1964 for the following reasons:



OSMUN

- "The general economy is good and will continue to be good throughout 1965;
- "We will begin making headway on more off-street parking;
- "Many stores will begin remodeling both interiors and store fronts;

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

- "We will see the beginning of new developments within Wide Track Drive. Many new business developments are in the making now;
- "Urban renewal lands will be offered for sale, as much of the red tape which involves such undertakings will be behind us;
- "Last but not least, there is a marked optimism among downtown business people for the future. Many merchants are ready to put their shoulders to the wheel and help rebuild the central business district.

★ ★ ★

"This should be a year of progress if we all work together," Osmun summarized.

COMING DOWNTOWN

He pointed out that during the closing months of 1964, people were coming downtown again, and stores were busy.

He estimated a 10 per cent increase in business in most stores over 1963, and a similar increase for 1965.

★ ★ ★

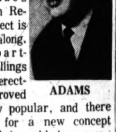
RECORD LEVELS

Pontiac industries are running at record levels, he commented.

Adams also pointed to the new Wide Track Drive which, he said completes the picture of Pontiac as an up-and-coming modern community.

"By far the greatest achievement of the year is the promise of a new College of Osteopathic Medicine for Pontiac," Adams noted.



ADAMS

"Pontiac's R20 Urban Renewal project is moving along. The apartment dwellings recently erected have proved enormously popular, and there are plans for a new concept which will bring added revenue.

1965 TO BE BETTER

"All things point to 1965 as being economically better than 1964," Adams concluded.

★ ★ ★

Howard M. Nelson, general manager of Sears Roebuck Company's downtown store reports business in 1964 as excellent.

It was "beyond all expectations — the highest since 1929 which was an overall record year of us," Nelson said.

NELSON

"We have made an even higher profit for the first six months of 1965, which is as far as we go in business projections at this time," he concluded.

★ ★ ★

Continued growth and development in the Pontiac area is evident in expansion plans revealed by Charles F. Brown, Consumers Power Company Pontiac division manager.

"Consumers Power Company's Pontiac Division is planning on another year of substantial growth activity in 1965. We will be adding another 5,000 gas space heating customers," Brown noted, "and installing over 100 miles of new gas main. There are also major revisions to our electric facilities serving our customers in Pontiac.

BROWN

"The growth picture for Pontiac and Oakland County, as it affects our planning appears excellent," Brown concluded.

★ ★ ★

Alfred C. Girard, president of Community National Bank of Pontiac, pointed to several factors indicating a healthy economic climate in the coming year.

FREEWAY CONSTRUCTION

"Due to the continued freeway construction there is a population expansion which is a very favorable contributing factor to our economic growth," Girard noted. "Such expansion acts as a stimulant to housing construction, the sale of consumer goods, and expansion in the service industry.

GIRARD

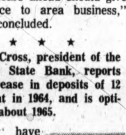
"Beyond these substantial indicators of economic optimism for the coming year there is also the factor of new employers moving into our area, as well as the expansion of those presently established.

"The greater Pontiac area and Oakland County has much to be thankful for as a result of an excellent business year in 1964. The outlook for 1965 and a number of years ahead should give confidence to area business," Girard concluded.

★ ★ ★

Milo Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank, reports an increase in deposits of 12 per cent in 1964, and is optimistic about 1965.

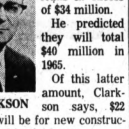
Loans have shown a proportionate growth, and Cross predicts a further increase in home building in the greater Pontiac area accompanying the increase in industry and general development now taking place.



CROSS

★ ★ ★

James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland reports 1964 as another banner year with approved realestate loans in excess of $34 million.



CLARKSON

He predicted they will total $40 million in 1965.

Of this latter amount, Clarkson says, $22 million will be for new construction of residential homes.

"It is our feeling that the next 10 years will show a phenomenal growth in Oakland County which will greatly affect all businesses in the county. We are very pleased to be a part of this tremendous growth," Clarkson said.

★ ★ ★

HUDSON'S TO TRIPLE

"The fact that the J. L. Hudson Company is tripling the size of its store at the Pontiac Mall and additional shops will be opened, is indicative of business at this center," said Robert Witbold, resident manager of the Mall.

The Mall had an average business increase this year of between 20 and 25 per cent over 1963.

An increase of five to 10 per cent is generally considered normal for a shopping center during its first two or three years, according to Witbold.

"There is no way to predict what the volume will be when the additions are open, but we do know that they are bound to attract more people to the area," Witbold said.

★ ★ ★

Speaking for the merchants of the Tel-Huron center, R. I. Mertz, manager of Kresge's store there, said that each year since Tel-Huron was opened business has increased.

'64 WAS GOOD

Mertz commented that "1964 was good and we feel 1965 will be better.

"With the addition of two new stores—Griswold Sporting Goods and Bill Petrusha & Sons; Appliances — we have an outstanding team of shops," Mertz said.

"Our customers find it easy to park and they know most of the stores and the people," he pointed out.

Ford Archives Change Hands

DEARBORN (AP) — The Henry Ford Archives, valued at more than $4 million and containing 14 million photographs, letters and other memorabilia of the first Henry Ford, changed hands Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The Ford Motor Co. donated the archives to the Edison Institute, founded by Ford in 1929 and operator of Greenfield Village, the Ford historical collection, and Greenfield Village School.

★ ★ ★

The archives' half a million photographs taken by Ford include pictures of inventor Thomas Edison, Harvey Firestone, the rubber tire magnate, and naturalist John Burroughs, all close friends of Ford. There are also historic Ford Motor Co. documents.

Edison Institute will make the collection available to research workers and authors.

The archives narrowly escaped destruction in the Ford Rotunda fire in 1962. They were stored in the Rotunda's north wing, unharmed in the blaze.

The said work will be done at the expense of the property owners unless otherwise provided, and shall be subject to the provisions of this ordinance.

3.2. The water mains of said system are and shall remain exclusively under the Township Board, and all persons other than those employed by the Township Board are forbidden to disturb, tap, change, or make connection with or interfere with them in any way.

Such applications shall be made on forms provided by the Water Department. The owner, user, and/or applicant for a tapping permit by such application impliedly agrees to abide by all rules and regulations of the Water Department in all respects, but more especially as may be regarding the responsibility for the payment of water charges or sewer billings.

For taps larger than listed above, the charge shall be the actual cost of installation to the Water Department at the receipt of the application for service required by the applicant who shall make or cause to be made an inspection of the work. If the work or materials are rejected for cause, the applicant will be required to deposit with the Board an amount which, in the judgment of the Board is sufficient to cover the charge therefor. 7.3. All meters shall be set horizontally in dry, clean, sanitary places, perfectly accessible, no less than 12" from floor level or more than 24" from floor level, with a minimum of 4" from any wall, 12" from top for reading purposes to immovable object, with a clear space on both sides of the meter, and where a small leak or the spilling of water will do no damage.

The accuracy of any meter installed in any premises shall be tested by the Water Department upon request of the customer, which shall pay in advance a fee of five ($5.00) dollars to cover the cost of the test. If, on such test, the meter shall be found to register more than ten per cent more water than actually passes through it, another meter will be installed and the fee of $5.00 will be refunded to the customer, and the water bill may be adjusted as hereinafter provided.

7.8. All persons are forbidden to interfere with or move a water meter without any service connection without first receiving permission from the Water Department. No person shall remove or break any seal on meters or by-pass valves.

Any inspector, foreman, or other employe of the Board shall be entitled to free access at any private premises, unless he carries with him such badge or credentials.

8.2. Any officer, inspector, foreman, or other authorized employe of the Township Board shall, upon refusal to exhibit of the badge or other credentials provided for in the next preceding section, have free access at all reasonable hours to any premises supplied with water for the purpose of making any inspection thereof, including the examination of the pipes and water supply connected therewith upon said premises. 8.3. No person not an authorized officer or employe of the Township Board shall have in his or her possession any badge or credential of the Board. It shall be the duty of each and every officer and employe of the Board upon resignation or dismissal, forthwith, to surrender and deliver to the Board all such badges and credentials of the Township Board.

Section 9. WATER CONSUMPTION RATES.

(a) In cases of multiple dwellings or multiple commercial premises which are under the ownership of one meter, such minimum quarterly charge shall be $4.00 for each separate residential or commercial occupancy of the premises, which charge shall permit quarterly usage of 1,000 cubic feet of water for each such separate occupancy. Such minimum quarterly payments will be made to compensate for vacancies which continue for a full month or more provided the owner of the premises notifies the Water Department of any such vacancies prior to the mailing of the water bill for such period.

(b) In all other cases, such minimum quarterly charge shall be computed on the basis of meter size as set forth below, which charge shall permit quarterly usage of the specified quantity of water without further charge, to-wit:

Meter Size	Minimum Charge	Water Usage (Cubic Feet)
⅝" or ¾"	$ 4.00	1,000
1"	8.00	2,000
1½"	15.00	3,500
2"	25.00	7,000
3"	40.00	12,000
4"	60.00	25,000

9.2. Should more water be consumed by any premises in any quarter than the quantity permitted for the minimum charge as specified above, then an additional water consumption charge shall be made for all water consumed in excess of those specified quantities, as follows:

For the first 50,000 cubic feet — 25c per 100 cubic feet
For the next 50,000 cubic feet — 22c per 100 cubic feet
For the next 900,000 cubic feet — 15c per 100 cubic feet
For all over 1,000,000 cubic feet — 13c per 100 cubic feet

9.3. The water consumption rates set forth in this section shall become effective as to water furnished in the first complete quarterly billing on and after April 1, 1965.

Section 10. DEBT SERVICE CHARGE.

On and after January 1, 1965, each premises connected to the system shall pay a quarterly debt service charge, computed on the basis of meter size as set forth below, such charge to continue until the total of such charges shall equal the principal amount of the above-mentioned contract with the County of Oakland, shall be paid or capital equalization charge computed upon the basis of meter size as set forth below. County DPW Looks Ahead Following Progress of '64

By BILL EASTHAM

The year 1964 was a big one for the Oakland County Department of Public Works, and 1965 promises to be even bigger.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said the department supervised the completion — or near completion—of nearly $19 million worth of sewer and water projects in the county this year.

Construction plans for next year include water and sewer projects which will cost nearly $24 million, according to Alexander.

The two biggest projects completed under DPW supervision during the year were water systems in Farmington and Bloomfield Township.

The Farmington job cost $2.6 million and the Bloomfield Township system cost $2.1 million. Both systems tie into the Detroit metropolitan area network which will eventually reach all the way to Flint.

LARGE PROJECT

The largest sewer project completed during the year was the Huron-Rouge-Novi system in Novi Township, costing $1.5 million.

Others included Section 1 of the 13 Mile Road Arm, $485,000; the 14 Mile Road and Maple Arm, $410,000; and the Sylvan Manor Arm, $240,000.

The department's largest project under way now is the $7.3-million Waterford Township water system, scheduled for completion next June.

★ ★ ★

It is independent of the Detroit system, utilizing wells for its source of supply.

TROY SYSTEM

Another sizable project now under construction is the Troy sewer system, which Alexander said will be completed in about 90 days at a cost of $3.3 million.

Also nearing completion are the Walton Heights Manor Arm, a $340,000 project near Oakland University, and the Tarabusi Industrial Arm, a $778,000 job in Southfield.

Nearly half of the cost of this year's projects was provided by the federal Accelerated Public Works Program.

★ ★ ★

Most of the remainder was financed by special assessment and revenue bonds, Alexander said.

TIED UP

Two projects which are ready to get under way but are presently tied up in court are the Southfield-Rouge sewer project, estimated at $1.75 million, and a $1.1-million sewer system in Lake Orion.

Both projects have been stalled by a dispute over financing, Alexander said, but will be started immediately if and when the court clears the way.

Scheduled to be started early next year are the Walnut Lake Arm, a $1.7-million sewer project in West Bloomfield Township; a sewer project in Wixom estimated at $2.5 to $3 million; and a $1.3-million water system for Pontiac Township.

★ ★ ★

Others are a $530,000 water system for Keego Harbor; a $520,000 extension of the Farmington Township water system, and a $6,000 extension of the Tarabusi Industrial Arm.

$13 MILLION

Scheduled for late next year or early 1966 is the Clinton-Oakland sewer system, a $13-million project designed to serve Waterford, Pontiac and Avon Townships.

Engineering plans are due for completion next month, Alexander noted, and acquisition of right-of-way and easements will be started in the next 60 days.

Difficulty in obtaining easements could stall the project, he said.

Partial financing will be provided by federal aid under the Water Pollution Control Act, according to Alexander.

Trend Is Usual

Mart Gains in Year-End Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market's "traditional year-end rally" became a fact today as stocks advanced on a broad front in active trading.

Gains in the averages by midday put them well ahead of their level of a week ago —thus maintaining the usual trend for prices to be higher on New Year's Eve than on Christmas Eve.

★ ★ ★

Key stocks rose from fractions to well over a point.

On the last day of 1964, the market continued its rally of yesterday with one outstanding exception — gold-mining stocks declined.

GOLD STOCKS

The gold stocks, typically the refuge of investors in times of market uncertainty, took some sharp losses. These were linked to a more optimistic feeling about Britain's financial situation, the strength of the pound sterling and, with it, the question of devaluation.

Steels, rails, motors, farm implements, aerospace stocks, chemicals, airlines, utilities, drugs and office equipments were among the gainers.

Prices were generally higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex was up about 2, Horn & Hardart Bakers more than a point and Molybdenum about a point.

LIGHT TRADING

Corporate bonds were mixed in light trading. U.S. Government bonds declined following announcement of plans to refund some $33.1 billion in short-term securities.

Vote Leaves Nigeria Torn

Old Wounds Opened; Could Split Nation

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Concern was widespread today that regional rivalries dramatized in a bitter general election campaign may split this most populous of African nations.

★ ★ ★

Candidates of the National Nigerian Alliance swept to a commanding lead as expected in returns from balloting yesterday, boycotted the opposition, for a new parliament.

One Lagos newspaper termed it a "half and half election." Millions of voters stayed away from the polls in the eastern and midwestern sectors and in Lagos, the capital.

They responded to a boycott plea by the United Progressive Grand Alliance.

★ ★ ★

A union of parties centered in these southern Nigeria areas.

CALLED VALID

Voters in the heavily populated, largely Moslem northern and western regions cast ballots. The leaders of the Nigerian National Alliance, whose power is based in these regions, insist the election is valid and will form the basis for a new parliament.

By midmorning, National Alliance candidates had taken 89 seats.

United Progressive candidates were credited with 23, despite the boycott.

★ ★ ★

Their leaders, however, had said before the balloting that any United Progressives who won would immediately resign to make the boycott complete.

Prosperity in 1964 Cleared All Hurdles

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Americans tonight can toast a departing year in which unprecedented prosperity proved so strong it overcame a string of surprises and threats.

The good guys definitely bested the bad guys in the American economic story. But there were perilous moments and uncertainties enough to stave off any boredom.

DAWSON

And there were dreams of future rainbows in space that kept Comsat stock gyrating to the wonderment of many. Auto labor wage gains in hand and steel pay increases in prospect raised the spectre of future inflation. But consumers mostly counted their blessings now — a tax cut, rising incomes, more jobs.

★ ★ ★

Defenders of our gold reserves staved off a further drain of dollars that kept the U.S. deficit in international payments high. More dramatically, they withstood the shock of the onslaught on the British pound that brought threats of its devaluation or of international monetary chaos—with the U.S. dollar, as the leading exchange currency, inevitably involved. A record $3 billion bail-out fund saved the pound — for the time being, at least.

UPSET MARKET

The fall of Nikita Khrushchev upset the stock market momentarily but businessmen and consumers alike went on their way confident that peace of a sort would continue — and with it the prosperity to which they have become accustomed during the 46 months of economic upswing.

★ ★ ★

The stock market recovered to hit new highs in November. But then it added to the underlying uncertainties by faltering. Even more disturbing, it failed to provide the year-end rally, dear to the heart of traditionalists. Still, this New Year's Eve, prices of most stocks, though not all, are nicely above their year ago levels — gladdening the hearts of the lucky holders.

Corporate profits hit new highs in 1964, and so did dividend payments. Mostly this reflected record output and sales, but also more productive factory operations. And demand for goods inspired corporate decisions to spend more for new plants and equipment.

Building of new homes slackened in the fall of 1964 and owners of some new apartment houses hung out vacancy signs. But industrial, commercial and government construction gave that industry a record year with the end not in sight.

EMPLOYMENT HIGH

This, along with record steel production and near-record auto output, helped lift employment to a new high. And in turn, this along with higher wage scales pushed the total of personal incomes to an almost unbroken series of records. Consumers responded by spending more than ever before for goods and services — some $400 billion. They saved a bit more than a year ago, thanks in part to the cut in federal income tax rates. But they paid as big a total tax bill, thanks to rising incomes and even more to higher state and local taxes.

The stock exchanges and the Securities and Exchange Commission hammered out some new rules for trading and for members' conduct. The public watched with interest, but for the most part didn't return to the market in the numbers that made 1961 a memorable year.

★ ★ ★

So, despite all the uncertainties at home — inflation talk, slowing down of the rate of economic growth, the future course of interest rates and of ease or tightness of money — and despite all the threats abroad — Viet Nam, Congo, the Red Chinese atom bomb, the shaky economy of Britain — Americans can count 1964 safely in the column of the better years, perhaps the best.

And wrapped in glowing prosperity they can wish each other a

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Joint Panel Seeks to Cut Ford Strikes

DETROIT (UPI) — A new panel set up by the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union may help cut down plant-level strikes like those which crippled the firm last fall.

★ ★ ★

Union and management have agreed to set up a joint four-man plant relations committee.

Ken Bannon, director of the union's Ford Department, said the committee will try to establish better relations at the plant level.

Bannon said the committee will travel around the country to improve relations where needed.

★ ★ ★

As a result, Bannon said he hoped that when the current contracts expire in 1967 "I hope there will be fewer problems" than there were in 1964.

Local strikes at several plants shut down Ford assembly lines in 1964 even though the two sides had agreed on a national contract.

Birmingham Store Completes Expansion

An expansion doubling its former size has been completed at the Atlantic Drapery Shoppe, 360 E. Maple, Birmingham, making it one of the largest drapery shops in Michigan, according to Lester Morris, who opened the shop three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Successful Investing

Q. "In reference to buying State of California tax exempt bonds, you say that I can save the sales fee by buying direct. Whom do I get in touch with, for I am interested in the 3½'s due 11-1-92?" J.K.

A. I think you are suffering under a misapprehension. What I said was that — if an investor wished — he could save the sales fee charged by tax-exempt mutual funds by buying good municipal bonds directly.

I mentioned State of California 3½'s due 11-1-92 which could then be bought through a bank or dealer at a fixed price including his moderate profit. These bonds have all been sold, but I find available some State of California 3½'s due 2001 offered to yield 3.50 per cent. I recommend that you buy these, if they are still unsold.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am 68 years old and retired — my wife is 65. Our house is paid for. Income from savings accounts, stocks, and Social Security is ample. I would like to invest about $2,000 in American Motors. Would you advise this?" J.C.

A. In a strong period of automobile sales, American Motors' earnings per share for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1964, were down 31 per cent from the fiscal period a year earlier. Profits came to $1.38 a share, down from $2.01 in fiscal 1963.

I do not look for the company to do any better this year, since I am told that the early registration trends for new Ramblers, since the 1965 models have been produced, are not impressive. The shares sell to yield 7 per cent, which in itself is an indication that the dividend is not entirely secure.

In your position, and at your age, you should not assume risk. As an alternative, I suggest Jersey Standard, yielding 3½ per cent.

Detroit Hotel Extends Pact

DETROIT (UPI) — One Detroit hotel won a one-week contract extension today but nine more faced a New Year's Eve strike threat.

The Royal Palm Hotel asked for the extension, and the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union said it would meet with the hotel Jan. 4 to negotiate.

★ ★ ★

The union represents 2,500 workers at the big hotels and threatened to strike tonight unless a contract settlement was reached.

State and federal mediators called the meeting between the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union and the Detroit Hotel Association. Both sides said they did not ask for the meeting.

The union represents workers at the Belcrest, Leland, Embassy, Park Shelton, Pick-Fort Shelby, Royal Palm, Sheraton-Cadillac, Statler-Hilton, Tuller and Whittier hotels.

UNION DEMANDS

The union demands include a minimum wage of $1.50 an hour for nontipping jobs such as maids and dishwashers, $1 an hour for tipping jobs like waiters and doormen, a pension plan and improved holiday and vacation benefits.

Donald W. Kah, 1066 Canterbury, has been named foreman. Kah is a graduate of St. Michael High School and has been with the firm since 1957.

Living Costs Dip for Detroit Area, Rise Nationally

Living costs were down slightly for the Detroit area but up for the nation, the U.S. Labor Department said yesterday.

Nationally, the consumer price index increased 0.2 per cent to 108.7, with auto prices leading the way. This means it cost $10.87 last month to buy goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's index dropped by 0.3 per cent and stood at 104.6 for November, based on 100 for the base period.

The area's lower living costs were attributed mainly to a decrease in transportation, food, clothing and upkeep costs. Housing, health and recreation were up slightly.

Building Under Way on Addition to Plant

AVON TOWNSHIP—Construction is now under way on a $70,000 addition to the Detroit Broach & Machine Co. plant at 950 S. Rochester.

The addition to the existing machine building will add 4,800 square feet to the plant, and will allow a new materials handling system and relocation of the welding facilities.

Junior Editors Quiz on Skunk

QUESTION: Why does a skunk have such bold black and white colors?

ANSWER: Many animals have what is called protective coloration; their coats and skins blend into their surroundings, making them hard to see.

Such coloring tends to protect the hunted animals from being seen, and it enables hunting animals to creep up on their prey unseen. The skunk's coat is startlingly different.

Its bold blotches of black and white in the strongest possible contrast tend to make it stand out against almost any kind of outdoor background. It is almost as if the skunk wanted you to see him.

He does! This is precisely the reason for his color scheme, as aggressive as an advertising poster. It seems to say "Stop! Here is a skunk!"

You are wise if you back away, for in the spray of nauseating liquid which the skunk can shoot at you from glands near the base of his tail he has a remarkable weapon.

A whiff of that sickening odor, and attacking animals lose their appetite. If the spray hits them, their lives will be miserable for days.

The next time they see that black and white signal, they know what to do—melt away into the background.

FOR YOU TO DO: To see how remarkably effective the skunk's warning color pattern is, hold this newspaper page away from your eyes and look at it as a whole. Our picture is quite small, but the skunk will jump at you!

Guns Taxi Driver

Teen Killer Took a Dare

WASHINGTON (UPI) — His brother and a friend claimed he "didn't have the guts" to pull off a robbery. So a 14-year-old Washington boy hailed a taxi and 10 minutes later shot the driver through the back of the head.

He then ran six blocks into a field and broke into tears. Overcoming his emotion, he returned to a party and watched television.

The man he murdered was Charles G. Rutherford, 46. He was a veteran of the Corregidor fighting and survived three years in a Japanese prison of war camp, and he died simply because of a teen-age dare.

Washington police unfolded the story yesterday with the disclosure that the 14-year-old — whose name was withheld — had admitted the killing of Rutherford, father of four sons, 10 days ago.

* * *

According to homicide detectives, the events that led to a senseless killing began at a teen-age party shortly after 1 a.m. on Dec. 20. The conversation at the gathering was not normal talk about the Beatles and such things. It involved street crimes and holdups.

FATAL DARE HURLED

It was the 14-year-old's brother, who is 16, and a friend who hurled the fatal dare. The 16-year-old was even more obliging. He gave his brother the gun, a 22-caliber revolver.

The youth left the party and hailed a cab. Rutherford was the driver. He was told to go to Talbert Street.

At the end of Talbert Street, Rutherford stopped. The youth in the back seat, had the gun in his right hand. What was going through his mind, he did not say.

What he did say is that he paid Rutherford the fare—$2, which included, of all things a hefty tip.

RAISED HIS GUN

Rutherford routinely started to enter the trip on his manifest. As he was doing so, the 14-year-old raised the gun and fired one shot. Rutherford dropped the manifest and collapsed over the steering wheel.

The 14-year-old grabbed the driver's wallet and change carrier, ran the six blocks to where he broke down and cried and discarded the change carrier.

He then returned to the party where he told his older brother and the friend that he had pulled off the robbery. Police said they either did not believe him or thought he was joking.

His arrest came because of a tip police received on Christmas Day.

'Shot Dad to Prevent a Beating'

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — A policeman's daughter, shot and critically wounded him in their Mineola home Wednesday night two hours after he learned that she and her mother had been arrested on shoplifting charges, police said.

Carol Ann DarConte, 15, sobbed to detectives that she pumped three bullets into her father, Martin, 41, because she feared he would continue to beat her for being arrested.

* * *

DarConte, a member of the Garden City, Long Island, police force since 1956, was listed in critical condition in Nassau Hospital with wounds of the abdomen, chest and side.

Carol Ann was charged with juvenile delinquency in the shooting. She had been charged similarly after she and her mother, Lillian, were arrested earlier in the day for allegedly shoplifting children's clothes from a department store at Roosevelt Field, near Westbury.

PETTY LARCENY

Mrs DarConte, who had been booked on a petty larceny charge, was released in her own custody after the shooting so she could go to her husband's bedside.

DarConte, the father of five, had secured his daughter's release after her arrest and drove her home. Police said Carol Ann told them he scolded her and slapped her on the way home.

Later, the father left the house to try to arrange bail for his wife. But when a hitch developed, he went home without her.

* * *

Police said he went looking for Carol Ann and as he opened her bedroom door, the girl fired at him with his revolver, which she had taken from a closet.

When police arrived at the home, summoned by a son, Martin Jr., 13, they found Carol Ann sitting on the floor holding her father's head and crying.

Detroit Woman Dies

DETROI T(AP) — Mrs. Eva Conboy, 30, of Detroit, died today of injuries suffered Wednesday in a car-pedestrian accident in Detroit.

City Man Listed Satisfactory After 3-Car Collision

Andrew Reed, 49, of 78 E. Fairmont is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with facial cuts suffered in a three-car collision yesterday at Montcalm and Edison.

* * *

Reed was riding in a car driven by Clarence Snider, 61, of the same address. Their car traveling west on Montcalm was hit by a car coming from the opposite direction driven by Jesse Fink, 23, of 45 E. Cornell.

* * *

The impact drove Snider's car into another westbound auto driven by David Villereal, 31, of 1154 Genella, Waterford Township.

Snider, who suffered only a minor injury, told police he looked up and saw Fink's car coming at him. Fink was treated for injuries at the hospital and released.

Chiang Wants to Destroy Red China N-Installations

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek said today Communist China's nuclear installations should be destroyed before the Reds complete the devlopment of nuclear weapons.

* * *

The 77-year-old Chinese leader said in a New Year's message that the Nationalists are determined to prevent the Communists from developing means of delivering their nuclear weapons.

Chaing did not disclose how he expects to stop the Communists from becoming an atomic power.

He said also Nationalist China is "not disturbed" by threats to its membership in the United Nations.

* * *

Chiang said the atomic blast the Reds set off in October is a "danger signal for our nation."

WON'T LET THEM

"We shall never let the Chinese Communists with their . . . monstrous mentality and adventurism complete their nuclear delivery system to speed devastation to all parts of the world," Chiang said in his annual New Year's message.

Red China tested its first nuclear device in the remote reaches of Western China Oct. 16. Western scientists doubt that the Peking Communists possess the bombers or rockets needed to carry an atomic weapon to a target.

Chiang said the 700 million Chinese living behind the bamboo curtain are suffering "economic and social exhaustion" while the Peking regime seeks to complete its nuclear program.

* * *

"For the sake of mankind, we should seize upon this opportunity to destroy their nuclear installations before they have a chance to complete development of nuclear weapons," the Generalissimo said.

"At the same time, we should foster an all out anti-Communist revolution on the (China) mainland and coordinate it with strong action . . . from the front in the Taiwan (Formosa) Straits."

Chiang, who was driven out of China by the Communists in 1949, governs some 12 million people on Formosa, an island 100 miles off the China coast.

The U.S. Navy and Air Force helps defend Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands from Red attack, but Washington never has agreed to provide ships and planes for a Nationalist invasion of the China mainland.

As in past New Year messages, the Nationalist President predicted that his troops would receive popular support if they landed on the mainland, making it possible to "bring an end to the spreading series of shooting wars in Asia and remove the threat of nuclear destruction now hanging over mankind."

Chiang has led the Nationalists since 1928.

Boy Suffers Concussion

A 4-year-old Pontiac boy, struck by a car yesterday on North Perry south of Madison, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a concussion.

Injured was Donald Clayton of 814 Melrose. He was struck by a southbound car on North Perry driven by Mary Bogle, 38, of 2334 Dryden, Metamora Township.

Miss Bogle told police the child ran in front of her car.

Must Strengthen Peace, LBJ Tells Reds

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has told Russian leaders that "the most urgent business for all of us remains strengthening the foundation of world peace."

Along with New Year's greetings and best wishes to the Soviet people and their leaders, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Anastas I. Mikoyan, Johnson said:

* * *

"We can and should move to limit the spread of nuclear weapons; to achieve a verified worldwide comprehensive test ban; to make a cutoff of fissionable material production for weapons coupled with measures to safeguard the peaceful uses of nuclear power; and to agree on a verified freeze in existing offensive and defensive strategic nuclear delivery systems.

"By progress in this critical area, our governments can help to make this a happier and safer world for all peoples."

The White House said the letters sent Wednesday to the Soviet leaders did not represent an exchange of greetings, because the customary New Year's message has not been received from the Soviet chiefs.

Johnson had no official visitors on his schedule today and planned work on his State of the Union address. George E. Reedy reported that work on the budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 now is 90 per cent completed.

"The whole thing will be wrapped up in a week or 10 days," he said.

Work on the Atomic Energy Commission budget was finished Wednesday and Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg told a news conference in Austin that it will be down a little from last year. He said, however, that spending will be higher on peaceful applications of nuclear energy ranging from reactors to physical and biological research.

SPENDING CUT

Seaborg said spending would be cut back on production of fissionable materials and weapons. This results, he said, from earlier announced decisions and did not involve new reductions.

The AEC budget for the present fiscal year is $2,624,000,000.

Another visitor, George McGhee, U.S. ambassador to West Germany, said Johnson asked him to stay on in Bonn.

* * *

McGhee also reported that Johnson told him he had asked David K. E. Bruce to remain as ambassador in London and that Bruce had agreed to do so.

McGhee also quoted Johnson as saying he shortly intends to ask Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to remain as ambassador to France.

Since McGhee went beyond his own post in relating a conversation with the President it seemed obvious that Johnson wanted to hush speculation that these three major diplomatic posts might be involved in shifts.

Within the next few months Johnson is expected to name 15 to 20 new ambassadors.

Seaborg said there has been no change in the goal of putting a man on the moon by 1970, but agreed with Dr. Donald Hornig, presidential assistant for science and technology, that "it'll be tough" to achieve.

He forecast great expansion in the use of nuclear energy in the years ahead — from propelling manned vehicles beyond the moon to producing electricity — but said this would mean no decrease in the use of conventional fuels for electricity. He said the growing demand for electrical power would offset the production by nuclear energy.

Johnson will deliver the State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress and the American people next Monday at 9 p.m. EST.

The budget message is due Jan. 19 — 15 days after Congress convenes — and the economic report the following day.

Because the inauguration takes place Jan. 20, Johnson is considering asking Congress to extend the deadline for the budget and the economic report.

Wirtz-Henning Squabble Affected Labor

Settle Family Row in LBJ Administration

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has quietly negotiated settlement of an embarrassing administration family fight that had jeopardized relationships among his administration, Congress and organized labor.

Under the settlement, it was learned today, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has withdrawn his demand for the resignation of Undersecretary of Labor John F. Henning.

★ ★ ★

Wirtz' attempt to fire Henning had drawn the wrath of AFL-CIO President George Meany and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., among others.

While Labor Department and AFL-CIO spokesmen said they had no details of the settlement, these details were learned from highly reliable sources:

To settle the Wirtz-Henning squabble, Johnson sent in a high-level mediator — Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, Wirtz' predecessor as labor secretary.

'GRACEFUL RETREAT'

It was Goldberg's presence at a meeting with Wirtz and Meany Tuesday that provided the basis for Wirtz to make what was described as "a graceful retreat."

Meany had been furious over Wirtz' demand for Henning's resignation and had threatened to withdraw the big labor federation's unqualified support of the Johnson administration.

★ ★ ★

The dispute between Wirtz and Henning was basically over a difference in policy approaches to important labor department programs, including what Johnson calls his war on poverty.

Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, had backed Henning in the dispute, expressing concern over the administration of the so-called antipoverty program if Henning should be fired.

HIGH REGARD

The dispute was particularly embarrassing to Johnson because of his high regard for Wirtz and his election debt to Meany, who had thrown the full support of the AFL-CIO's 13 million membership behind Johnson's successful campaign.

Goldberg noted for his finesse in settling tough disputes when he was secretary of labor, was handed the difficult job of resolving the impasse between Meany and Wirtz.

★ ★ ★

The details of the meeting were sketchy, but Goldberg reportedly had sided with Meany and Henning even before Johnson asked him to mediate the dispute.

Goldberg was AFL-CIO attorney before being named secretary of labor by the late President John F. Kennedy.

Henning is a former California AFL-CIO official who is held in high regard by most union officials as organized labor's most prominent spokesman in government.

Wirtz was undersecretary — the No. 2 job in the department — when Kennedy named Goldberg to the Supreme Court in 1962.

★ ★ ★

Wirtz at that time was promoted to secretary, and Kennedy picked Henning for the No. 2 job of undersecretary.

Wirtz reportedly was somewhat nettled because he had no say in the original appointment of Henning, and the two had clashed frequently on major policy matters.

The chief difference apparently was the broad-gauge, intellectual approach of Wirtz, a former lawyer and professor, and Henning's trade union approach. Most union officials thought Henning helped balance government programs concerning labor through his long experience in trade union matters.

Students End Dixie Project

Burned-Out Church Is Almost Rebuilt

RIPLEY, Miss. (AP) — College students who raised a new Negro church on the ashes of one that burned after a civil rights rally began packing for home today.

The new Antioch Baptist church stood unfinished but most of the major work is done. A modest steeple adorned the front.

"I just wish we could have completed it before we left," said Marshall Aronoff, a student at Oberlin College in Ohio.

The 28 white students still on hand — six left several days ago — joined a festive, three-hour civil rights rally in the church Wednesday night.

SHERIFF OUTSIDE

Sheriff Wayne Mauney stood outside during the meeting. He said he wanted to make certain everything was peaceful.

The new steeple was hoisted just a few hours before the rally. The benches were planks supported by concrete blocks. The light glared from bare bulbs hastily strung along the rafters.

The 200 Negroes who attended roared "freedom songs" and heard high praise for the students who turned their holiday into a "Carpenters for Christmas" project.

Some students planned to continue work here until Jan. 2 before heading back to class. The "carpenters" have had all the help they needed from Negroes in the area.

WORK LEFT

Dr. David Jewell, a member of the Oberlin faculty, said electrical wiring was not completed and plumbing and bricklaying must be done, in addition to finishing touches inside.

Oberlin was the moving force in the project. The work crew included students from Tulane, Yankton College, Northwestern, Massachusetts and Washington University at St. Louis.

Carol Set for Inaugural; to Carol 'Hello, Lyndon'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — FDR's favorite song really wasn't "Home on the Range" . . . Harry S. Truman undoubtedly got tired of hearing "The Missouri Waltz" . . . but it's certain now that Lyndon B. Johnson's most beloved song is "Hello, Lyndon!" — not to be confused with "Hello, Dolly!" —sung with any lyrics that Carol Channing wants to sing.

WILSON

"The President," one of his admirers just told us, "considers that 'Hello, Lyndon!' he never thinks of it as 'Hello, Dolly!'—is his song.

"After the band played 'Hail to the Chief' at some recent functions, he said 'Now why don't you play my song?' "

Respectful of LBJ's tastes in songs, Carol Channing will dash to La Guardia Airport Saturday night, Jan. 16, when the curtain rings down on "Hello, Dolly!" and fly to Washington to get plenty of sleep Sunday, and plenty of rehearsal Monday, to sweep into the Inaugural gala Monday night and sing, as it's never been sung before, HIS song, "HELLO, LYNDON!"

★ ★ ★

Now I do too love the Beatles! But gee whiz, when Mitch Miller calls them "the Hula Hoops of Music," geez . . . The "greatest rustler of the west"? Red Skelton said it was the cowboy who wore silk and satin Levis . . . Choo Choo Collins, the "baby Betty Grable," now attracting Hollywood producers, sounded like Marilyn Monroe when an interviewer asked what she wears around the house. "Just my false eyelashes," she said. (Edie Adams said, "All I have on when I greet my husband is my contact lenses.")

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Judy Garland and her boy friend Mark Merron hully-gully'd at Sybil Burton's private party for Dirke Bogarde . . . Xavier Cugat'll see his lawyer about getting custody of his dogs back from Abbe Lane. He says she left 'em with a sec'y while she went off heneymooning, and they're not getting the proper "parental love."

Duke Thanks MDs, All Well-Wishers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Duke of Windsor has expressed thanks to his doctors and the thousands who had sent him good wishes for his speedy recovery from abdominal surgery 15 days ago.

The 70-year-old former British monarch leaves Methodist Hospital today. With his duchess, for whose love he surrendered the throne almost 30 years ago, he checks into the nearby Warwick Hotel.

They will remain there about a week before returning to New York.

'Keep Fat From Hubby's Diet'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A heart expert told wives today how to keep their husbands living longer by more care with the food served him.

Stop serving him fat, juicy steaks and loading his foods with butter and animal fats, said Dr. Park W. Willis III, cardiologist and professor of internal medicine at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Willis also is president of the Michigan Heart Association. The association took this holiday period to make public a stern statement by Dr. Willis.

"Actually," Dr. Willis said, "the power to divert or delay heart attacks is largely in the hands of wives."

SCARY STATISTICS

Citing some scary statistics on the incidence of fatal heart attacks among American husbands, Dr. Willis said research indicates friend wife can do a lot to help by decreasing the fat content of hubby's diet.

Besides the fat juicy steaks, Dr. Willis vetoed "baked goods loaded with saturated fat, shortenings or lard."

★ ★ ★

Following Dr. Willis' advice, the thoughtful wife would do as follows:

"Serve chicken, fish or lean meat with the fat trimmed away. Cook with vegetable oils. Emphasize the use of skim milk and sherbets and minimize that of eggs, bacon and other high-fat foods."

Says Exchange Student

Cali Stay 'Enriching'

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, Pontiac Press

Making new friends and adjusting to the culture of a foreign nation is no easy task but Marjorie Hannah, 21, of Royal Oak, is finding it a gratifying and enriching experience.

Miss Hannah, an April 1964 graduate of Oakland University, is spending the year as an exchange student at the University of Valle in Cali, Colombia.

The South American university and OU are partners in the Alliance for Progress program following an exchange of delegations between Oakland County and the Cauca Valley in 1963.

John E. Madole, Oakland County's representative to Cali, is working closely with the exchange program.

★ ★ ★

"I admire the Colombians' approach to life," said Miss Hannah. "They are so gay and filled with the joy of living. And the pace they travel is much more leisurely than ours here in the United States.

NOT ALARMING

"For instance, if you have an appointment and you happen to arrive late, no one gets alarmed or upset. They are just glad you got there at all."

"Colombian girls are chaperoned when they date," she continued, "but, because I am an American, no one frowns when I go out with an escort unchaperoned.

"Though I will admit," she chuckled, "the taxi drivers usually call me signora because they can't get used to an unmarried woman and a man being together without a chaperone."

★ ★ ★

In addition to her studies, she is working with the Peace Corps teaching literacy to prisoners of the local jail in their own language, Spanish.

COMPLETELY ILLITERATE

"The man I am teaching now," she said, "is completely illiterate though he is 27 years old. He comes from a family of 12 children and has never had the opportunity to learn to read or write.

"Each teacher, assigned to one student, begins the literacy course by teaching the basic language sounds and how to print. We spend one hour a day, three or four days a week with our pupil.

"By the end of three months or a little sooner depending on the ability of the student, he can read his own language and write in manuscript.

★ ★ ★

"They are so eager to learn," she added. "And in teaching them, we instigate a chain reaction. The method is simple

Rebel Hostages Tell of Congo Savagery

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Rebel warriors performed a savage war dance of death on the stomach of American missionary William McChesney until he died, refugees said today.

McChesney, the sixth American missionary to be killed by Communists-backed rebels in the northeastern Congo in the past two months, was trampled to death at Wamba during almost a week of bloodletting last November.

After McChesney had died of internal bleeding, the rebels continued to vent their fury on his corpse, the refugees said and then flung his mutilated body into the Wamba River.

This tale of horror was pieced together from white hostages of the rebels rescued at Wamba two days ago.

They told how the rebels butchered 28 of their prisoners between Nov. 24 and 28.

★ ★ ★

The toll of white hostages massacred by the rebels rose to nearly 200 with the latest refugee reports.

FLOWN TO SAFETY

When 110 Greek, Cypriot, Italian, Dutch and Portuguese refugees were flown to safety, survivors of Wamba's days of carnage told confused and often conflicting stories.

Today, with the first shock of freedom behind them, they spoke more calmly.

The survivors told how McChesney, who served at a Protestant Mission near Wamba, was killed together with an unidentified British missionary aged about 50.

Ten other Britons are reported to be among 86 missionaries and other hostages kidnaped last weekend by rebels and taken from Wamba.

They were rescued yesterday by white mercenary soldiers who made an overnight dash across country to save them.

The kidnaped refugees had been taken to Mungbere, scene of an earlier massacre by the rebels.

The refugees from Wamba said the rebel army chieftain, "Lt. Gen." Nicholas Olenga, escaped from Mungbere as the mercenaries burst into the village.

U. N. Recesses Without Clash

Showdown Avoided on Soviet Assessments

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly started an 18-day New Year recess today after closing out 1964 without a Soviet-U.S. showdown over the Russians' assembly vote.

★ ★ ★

The Security Council ended its year with a resolution calling for a cease-fire in the Congo, withdrawal of Premier Moise Tshombe's white mercenaries and further efforts by the Organization of African Unity to bring peace between Tshombe's government and the rebels.

The resolution was adopted 10-0—with France abstaining — after its African sponsors omitted condemnation of the Belgian-U.S. paratroop operation in November to rescue white hostages held by the rebels.

Instead, the resolution "deplored the recent events" in the Congo.

Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana recessed the 115-nation General Assembly yesterday night until Jan. 18 after persuading Jordan and Mali to split a two-year term on the Security Council.

This broke a deadlock that threatened to necessitate a formal vote, which would have brought a Soviet-U.S. showdown.

The split-term agreement enabled the assembly to finish all the necessary business of its first 30 days by general consent, without any voting on the floor.

AIR COVER — An armed U.S. Army helicopter flies over Vietnamese Marines yesterday advancing into the village of Binh Nghia. One helicopter was shot down in the battle area, 40 miles east of Saigon, and four American crewmen were feared dead. Fighting between government troops and the Viet Cong continued today for the fourth day.

Sneak Attack Hits Area of Copter Crash

Losses Are Heavy as Fighting Continues at Important Town

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong ambushed 100 Vietnamese Marines today as they were opening graves believed to contain the bodies of four U.S. servicemen shot down as fighting continued around Binh Ghia.

A U.S. Marine captain was wounded in the ambush.

The Marines fought their way into a jungle area where a U.S. Army helicopter was shot down last night as it was covering Marines collecting the bodies of government troops. The helicopter burst into flames and exploded when it hit the treetops.

A Marine search company reached the crash site this afternoon and found four fresh graves next to the wreckage, presumably containing the bodies of the helicopter's four American crewmen.

The Marines reportedly were digging up the graves when a powerful Viet Cong unit ambushed them.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese losses were believed to be extremely heavy.

MARINES WITHDRAW

The Marine unit withdrew, taking their wounded with them, and late in the afternoon were preparing to attack the area again with the whole Marine battalion.

Government troops regained Binh Ghia, a town of 6,000 Roman Catholic refugees 40 miles east of Saigon yesterday, but fighting continued around it today for the fourth day. It was one of the longest actions of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

The Defense Department in Washington listed the helicopter crewmen as missing, but it seemed almost certain that their

Hearing Set on Machine at Junk Yard

A show cause hearing on a temporary injunction against Sam Allen & Son, Inc., 22 Congress, has been set for 9 a.m. Jan. 11.

Pontiac City Attorney William A. Ewart and 15 residents filed suit yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court against the scrap yard.

The suit seeks to curtail operation of a metal crushing machine at the junk yard and cites it as a public nuisance, disturbing the surrounding neighborhood.

Acting in behalf of the residents and the city, Ewart claims the machine is an enlargement of the nonconforming use restrictions on a portion of the scrap yard.

★ ★ ★

The suit also objects to the smoke, offensive odors and vibrations from the machine.

HEARING ORDERED

Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Zeim today ordered the show cause hearing for Jan. 11.

★ ★ ★

The court action resulted from a lengthy dispute between the scrap yard and its neighbors over the machine's operations. The City Commission attempted to mediate the dispute, but finally ordered legal action.

Slipper Drinking Is Loaded Problem

BOSTON (AP) — No more on New Year's Eve do gentlemen drink from ladies' slippers — for one big reason.

A more enthusiastic acceptance of public health standards has nothing to do with it, notes an article in the current issue of the Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin.

The basic problem, it says, is that these days "ladies' slippers and shoes are just too big to drink from.

"Once scarcely large enough to contain an aperitif, the shoe of the female has become a veritable tankard, holding 14 ounces or more.

★ ★ ★

"The ability of the male to cope with libations has not kept pace with the explosion in the size of women's shoes."

DECLINE AND FALL

In an article titled "Decline and Fall of the Female Arch," Dr. Paul J. Davis lists several factors "which have contributed to the blossoming of the lady's foot from the fragile and finely drawn bud of the 1930s.

"The average female today is about 14 pounds heavier than her counterpart of 30 years ago. No matter how this

MARTINI NOT TEENY — Not convinced by the Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin, Daniel White of Boston, Mass., decides to try out the old custom of drinking from a lady's slipper. He uses showgirl Julie Daire in the experiment. The Harvard publication said nowadays ladies' shoes are just too big for anyone to be expected to drink from them.

State Leaders to Take Oath at Ceremony

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney begins his second term at noon tomorrow in inaugural festivities where he'll be surrounded by Democrats.

The hour-long swearing-in ceremonies for Romney and 24 other top state officials are only part of a day whose activities begin in the morning and should continue past midnight.

The weatherman is mildly pessimistic, predicting cloudy skies with possible afternoon rain and a mid-day temperature of about 40 degrees.

Though officially outnumbered by Democrats, Republican Romney is the star of the inaugural show.

He'll deliver the only major speech of the day at the swearing-in ceremonies. It's expected to be short, with an emphasis on bipartisan cooperation in meeting state needs and keeping Michigan's economy moving.

Romney's running mate, William Milliken, will take his oath as lieutenant governor.

But 12 Democrats are scheduled to take oaths for eight Board of Education and four university board seats, and two Democratic incumbents, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secretary of State James Hare, will renew their oaths.

Nasser Feeling the Pinch?

Report Russia Getting Stingy With Aid

CAIRO (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser can expect little if any food from the Soviet Union if the United States cuts off its multimillion-dollar food aid program to the United Arab Republic, sources close to the Russians said today.

Soviet Deputy Premier Alexander Shelepin, one of the Kremlin's new leaders, told Nasser in effect that the Soviet Union is no Santa Claus, these sources said.

Shelepin returned to Moscow earlier this week after a 10-day visit to Egypt. He apparently took a hard look at the way Soviet military and economic aid is being spent here.

The sources gave this summary of Shelepin's conversations with Nasser:

The Soviet leader came to Cairo to assure Nasser that former Premier Khrushchev's pro-Egyptian policies are not being abandoned and that the Egyptian can expect continued fruitful relations with the Soviet Union —but only on a realistic basis.

PROBLEMS AT HOME

But Shelepin emphasized that the Soviet Union has problems at home, especially in agriculture, and vast commitments abroad.

"We are not a rich uncle like the United States and we cannot afford to throw our money around," one Soviet source said. "We must be sure we are getting full value for everything we give.

* * *

"Our relations will be on a more realistic footing in the future."

After a lukewarm start, Shelepin's travels and speeches around the country were given splash treatment in Egypt's government-controlled press. The Egyptians broke precedent by inviting Shelepin to share the podium with Nasser during "Victory Day" celebrations at Port Said last week.

'GO TO HELL'

It was on this occasion that Nasser, probably with one eye on Shelepin, told the United States in effect that it could take its food aid program and "go to hell" if it did not like his support of the Congolese rebels.

* * *

The United States has been providing $140 million worth of flour and other food items annually to Egypt. Nasser's attack has raised demands in the United States to end further food shipments.

* * *

The U.S. government announced Tuesday it was going ahead with existing food commitments to Egypt, but it indicated it may shelve a request by Nasser for an additional $35 million worth of food.

'Critic's Choice' in Art on Display in January

BIRMINGHAM — Work representative of regional art, selected by the University of Michigan's Michael P. Church, will be exhibited at the Birmingham Art Center in January.

The exhibit will open Sunday with a 2-5 p.m. reception for the public at the center, 1516 S. Cranbrook.

The "Critic's Choice" display can then be viewed from 2 to 5 p.m. daily except Mondays through Jan. 31.

Presented by the Bloomfield Art Association, the show will be chaired by Jean Brown of Royal Oak.

Church serves as U. of M.'s assistant director of cultural activities for the extension service.

ON ARTS COUNCIL

He is a member of the Detroit Arts Council and the Ann Arbor Civic Arts Commission. For the last 10 years, he has served as state secretary of the cultural activities board for Michigan Week.

Church was appointed by Gov. Romney to the Graphic Arts Committee of the State Council for the Arts.

He studied at the Wicker Art School, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, as well as in New York.

With his extension post, Church also is a lecturer in art in the U. of M.'s college of architecture and design.

* * *

He has organized the Upper Peninsula Arts and Crafts Council and the University of Michigan Annual Regional Exhibition.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Nursery School, a cooperative school for three- and four-year-old children, will accept applications for 1965-66 Saturday.

The school occupies rooms at Christ Church Cranbrook but is nondenominational. Applications can be made with Mrs. Hugh Mack, 671 Pilgrim, Birmingham, after 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Carillon Dedicated at Pontiac Hospital

A $3,000 electronically-operated carillon was dedicated at Pontiac State Hospital yesterday in memory of the late Dr. Walter H. Obenauf, medical superintendent of the hospital, who died last July.

Special guests at the brief ceremony, conducted in the chapel by Rev. Joseph Brady, chaplain of the hospital, were Mrs. Obenauf and her daughter, Rebecca, of 11200 Clark, Springfield Township.

Fr. Brady asked a blessing on the carillon, followed by a tribute to Dr. Obenauf by Dr. Donald W. Martin, present superintendent of the hospital.

Other special guests included conductors of the carillon fund drive Mrs. John Whiting of Franklin and Mrs. R. E. Crabb and Mrs. Glen James, both of Bloomfield Township.

Several hospital staff members also attended the ceremony.

During his four-year tenure as superintendent of the mental hospital, Dr. Obenauf often talked of the need for a carillon and the tranquil effect it might have on patients.

A memorial fund was established soon after his death, and the goal of $3,000 was reached in recent weeks through the efforts of volunteers, staff and patients.

Operated by magnetic tape and a time clock, the carillon can be set to play sacred or light classical music at designated times, as well as toll the hour and the call to worship.

It is also equipped to broadcast a siren-type disaster alarm by remote control and can be used as a public address system.

County Solons to Head Units

Two new state senators from Oakland County were among 20 named today to head Senate committees.

Assigned as chairmen were Sander M. Levin, labor committee, and Carl W. O'Brien, conservation committee. Both were e'ected to the Senate Nov. 3.

Levin, 33, formerly chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Party, represents the 15th district in South Oakland County. He lives at 1922 Edgewood, Berkley.

A Pontiac resident, O'Brien, 34, of 513 Moore, is the 17th District senator. The district includes Pontiac, seven Oakland County townships and Lapeer County.

Named as Interim Medical Director

A 71-year-old physician has been named interim medical director of Pontiac General Hospital, succeeding Dr. John J. Marra, who resigned.

Dr. Clifford T. Ekelund, 35 W. Huron, has been on the staff of Pontiac General for more than two decades. He was chief of staff in 1941.

Dr. Ekelund replaces Dr. Marra, who resigned Dec. 16 because the medical directorship required more time than he was able to give.

Viet Marines Hit by Cong bodies were in the graves by the wreckage.

"The Viet Cong have done this before — used graves of Americans as bait," one U.S. adviser said. "They know we have to go in to get them."

If the four were killed, their deaths would raise to 245 the number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

The Communists also captured two Americans and wounded nine others before withdrawing into the jungle when 49 U.S. helicopters landed a battalion of Vietnamese marines to reinforce the hard-pressed government forces at Binh Nghia.

Military sources estimated government casualties at nearly 300 dead, wounded and missing.

* * *

A partial count showed at least 32 Viet Cong dead.

VILLAGERS KILLED

Two of the villagers also were killed. Their Catholic families buried them yesterday. The villagers are refugees from North Viet Nam and militantly anti-Communist.

In another action, government troops surprised an infiltrating Viet Cong unit at Ban Thai, 15 miles west of Saigon, and killed about 42 guerrillas. Four government troops were killed and four wounded.

On the political front, talks continued in Saigon between Vietnamese civilian and military leaders and U.S. Embassy officials, but the deadlock over the fate of the government persisted.

'You'll Rue Drinking From Shoe'

new weight is distributed in our corset-based society, it is still supported in the same old way: by feet which respond to increased stress in pounds per square inch by spreading uot.

"Shoe manufacturers and stylists have added to the apparent size of the foot, altering its natural and rather functional contours into something resembling an arrowhead.

* * *

THE OLD VIEW

"The average female has grown callous to the centuries-old reverence for modest and unpretentious proportions of the foot.

"Grandmother's feet, in her wedding pictures, discreetly were concealed beneath her wedding gown; today's bride hasn't a prayer of hiding her feet as she teeters down the aisle.

"Several aspects of our lives have been changed by the footshoe crisis:

* * *

"The dance has degenerated from a team effort into a stage of violent individual performance in which the male is all too happy to stand aside and away from flashing spikes and rapier-like toes.

RUGGED FLOORS

"Marble floors are in again since wood and synthetic floor coverings are hopelessly inadequate to cope with today's heels.

"Worst of all, the walk of the female is now a threnody of slouching, mincing, slinking, flopping, teetering, limping and crutch-walking."

Old New Year's Greetings Will Mix With New Ones

NEW YORK (AP) — Fall out of an airplane, climb Pike's Peak, dance your feet off, throw junk out of windows or just stand around Times Square with a million other revelers — that's how some of the world will welcome in the New Year tonight.

On Long Island, at Eastport, N.Y., Frederick Wild, 33, and Frank Guzzman, 36, plan to fall out of an airplane at the stroke of midnight and pass a bottle of champagne between them as they drop from 12,000 feet to 2,000 feet. Then, hopefully, they'll open their parachutes.

* * *

The two sky divers have a combined total of more than 600 jumps to their credit.

In Colorado Springs, Colo., members of the Adman Club have figured out a way to get high and still stay sober. They will make their annual climb to the top of Pike's Peak and shoot off fireworks.

WEE HOURS

In various night spots around the world, music makers will play until the wee hours for those people who want to dance out the old year and dance in the new.

One Los Angeles club, the Whisky A Go Go, advertises it will provide "all the Watusi and Frug you can stand."

* * *

The Sands in Milwaukee is throwing in free baby-sitting service along with a complete evening of entertainment, for $35 a couple.

Many clubs are offering a continental breakfast — coffee and rolls — to help sober up the revelers before they start the drive home.

BREAKFAST IN BED

The Sahara Motel in Cleveland, Ohio, in addition to a night's entertainment, will even provide breakfast in bed the following morning — so you don't have to drive home — at $36 a married couple.

If you're in Rome, you can do as the Romans do — throw junk out of windows, although it's against the law. There are reasons of life and limb behind the police concern, as any pedestrian caught under the joyful bombardment can testify.

* * *

When the bells toll 1965, from an abundance of Italian balconies will rain forth a cascade of empty wine flasks, chipped china, rust-stained sinks and cracked toilets.

The old Roman custom symbolizes the removal of things old and disliked to make room for the bright and hopeful things of the new year.

'HANGOVER CLINIC'

For the morning after there's the "hangover clinic" of the Physician's Wine Appreciation Society of New York.

The society, composed of more than 200 doctors, will serve a concoction called a "French 75" to its members Friday at a midtown Manhattan restaurant. The drink is made of three ounces of French champagne and one ounce of cognac.

* * *

Dr. Herbert Gould of White Plains, N.Y., the society president, said "champagne and cognac, when mixed together, help restore energy and vigor in combatting indications of melancholy and depression. Just the thing for New Year's Day."

* * *

And if all hangover remedies fail, consider joining the Iceberg Athletic Club at Coney Island in Brooklyn. Its members will plunge into the frigid Atlantic on New Year's Day to start their 47th year of winter swimming.

SHEER DESPERATION

"In the main, these prisoners face sentences that run from five to seven years. And I feel it was sheer desperation at not being able to earn a living that turned them to crime in the first place."

Miss Hannah also pointed out that the jail is operated along modern methods with the inmates learning skills in one of the institution's three factories.

She feels that coupling the new skill with literacy should help the prisoner adjust to a law-abiding society when he is released.

Judge Enters GOP Race in 14th District

Farmington Township Justice of the Peace Allen C. Ingle has announced that he will oppose Farrell E. Roberts for the Republican nomination for the 14th District State Senate seat.

Roberts has already filed for the post left vacant by the recent death of Sen.-elect Paul Chandler.

Ingle and Roberts, whose Senate term expires next week, were both unsuccessful in the Nov. 3 election in bids for judicial posts. Ingle sought an Oakland County Circuit Court judgeship and Roberts ran for the new Court of Appeals.

Three Democats from Livonia also have announced their candidacy for the Senate post.

Area Man Dies in Trailer Fire

A 48-year-old man who apparently had been smoking in bed was burned to death yesterday in his Farmington Township house trailer.

The body of Richard D. Hunefeld was pulled from the smoke-filled mobile home in the LeBlanc Trailer Park, 21331 Hamilton.

Farmington Township police were called to the scene shortly after 10 a.m. Patrolman Richard Krueger was crawling through the 28-foot aluminum trailer on his stomach when firemen arrived.

They broke into the trailer and found the body in bed.

Plane Lands in Field; 43 Safe

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP) — The sputtering of the twin engines was the first warning 43 passengers had that their Convair Airliner was in trouble.

Over the loudspeaker came the words of Capt. W. M. Wade:

"Prepare for an emergency landing."

On flashed the light: "Fasten safety belts. No smoking."

* * *

A stewardess took the cabin microphone and said:

"Grab your pillows. Put your heads between your knees."

PERFECT LANDING

The plane dropped through ragged clouds steeply, leveled out over farmland below, clipped a power line and then was sliding along in a muddy beet field in a perfect wheels-up landing.

Passengers hurried out and saw where they were: in a flat valley, a few miles wide and long, surrounded by the 50 miles of craggy hills that separate southern California and the San Joaquin Valley.

The passengers of a United Air Lines milk-run flight from Fresno to Los Angeles yesterday became the victims of one incredible coincidence and the beneficiaries of a second:

Both engines of their plane failed simultaneously over the only flat territory within miles.

Cause of the double engine failure is being investigated. The odds are one in thousands that such a coincidence should occur, aviation experts said.

Passengers attributed their escape to divine intervention, Capt. Wade's skillful flying — or both.

"I must compliment the pilot," said Rudolf Miller, 68, of El Centro, Calif., "and the good Lord was with us."

"The pilot did a pretty terrific job," said Gayland Smith, 22, of Fresno. "But there might have been someone else up there with the pilot . . ."

Wade said he was at 10,000 feet 15 minutes out of Los Angeles when "a power loss occurred in both engines."

"Under the circumstances," said Wade, a pilot 20 years, "it was no harder than a rough landing with wheels."

Two passengers were hospitalized for observation. The others proceeded to Los Angeles by bus.

Will Senate Liberals Push Filibuster Change?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate liberals appeared divided today over whether to push at the opening of the new Congress for a change in the rules to make it easier to get legislation passed.

★ ★ ★

Although Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., has reported the matter under discussion, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., said he doubts that any all-out effort will be made. He said passage of the civil rights bill in the 87th Congress had cooled the controversy.

"Of course, I would vote for a change in the rules to make it easier to get legislation passed," Ribicoff said, "but I think most of the steam has gone out of the movement."

Americans for Democratic Action has written Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, urging him to support a proposal which would permit a majority of senators to limit debate after 15 days of discussion of any measure.

OPENING SESSION

Mansfield has indicated he expects some move to be made at Monday's opening day session.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., a candidate for election as assistant leader, said in a separate interview he probably would vote to oppose any change in the present rule. It requires approval of two-thirds of those voting in order to limit debate.

★ ★ ★

"But the situation is entirely different now that the civil rights bill has been passed," he said. "This proposed rule change would no longer be aimed exclusively at the South."

Aides said Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., a strong advocate of making it easier to end filibusters, is delaying any decision on possible action until his return from a Mexican vacation.

LIBERALS CAUTIONED

Sen. Paul Douglas D-Ill., was reported to have cautioned fellow liberals against raising an issue that might open old wounds and cost them support in opposing any fresh move to block court orders for the reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., an opponent of rule changes, said he hopes there can be "an era of good feeling" in the Senate. He said a fight over the filibuster rule would start the session on a sour note.

★ ★ ★

Previously the liberals have tried to get a change in the rules by a majority vote at the opening of a new Congress. But they have failed to get a favorable ruling from the presiding officer that this was possible. Subsequently the Senate has voted down such proposals. Once the Senate readopts its old rules, a two-thirds vote is required to change them.

Hubert H. Humphrey, who has voted for rules change proposals in the past, will not take office as vice president until Jan. 20. Until that time, Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., who supports the present rule, will remain as the presiding officer.

JOHNSON

Even advocates of the rules change do not expect President Johnson to lend them any assistance at this point. Under these circumstances, the liberals appear likely to generate only minority support if they decide in the end to make a test of the matter.

Hope Tour Was Under Tight Guard

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I think we had the most security of all time," said comedian Bob Hope, just returned from a Christmas tour of U.S. military bases in the Far East. "I've never had my back scrubbed by a bayonet before."

Hope and his troupe flew into Los Angeles International Airport Wednesday to end a 15-day tour that included Guam, Korea, Okinawa, Thailand and South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Hope's lips were chapped from the countless outdoor shows he performed. Actress Jill St. John was nursing a limp: someone dropped a native crossbow on her ankle. No one suffered any serious mishaps.

Military authorities weren't taking any chance the Hope troupe might be the target of Red terrorists.

DESTINATION SECRET

Hope said "Our destination was such a secret we really didn't know where we were ourselves. Really!"

In Korea a helicopter carrying comic Jerry Colonna and band leader Les Brown developed engine trouble in a snow storm and had to make a forced landing outside Seoul.

★ ★ ★

"But the highlight was Viet Nam," said Hope. "We found out a lot of things. I never dreamed the Viet Cong was peppered all over the place. We saw a lot of destruction from the Viet Cong."

He praised the U.S. fighting men there.

"Those kids are the greatest Americans — they're staging a great fight. I think we're holding our own."

Crash Caused by Pilot Error?

DETROIT (UPI) — Officials at Metropolitan Airport today theorized the pilot of a cargo plane which crashed killing four persons may have misjudged altitude while trying to land in heavy fog.

★ ★ ★

The crash before dawn yesterday killed the pilot, Alfred Fallon, 48, of Colisloga, Calif., the copilot, Hugo L. Bair, 30, Elmhurst, N.Y., and two crewmen, J. Ronald Reed, 21, of Mantario, Sask., and Dale S. Grisham, 32, San Antonio, Texas.

Their two-engine C46 cargo plane crashed into a clump of trees on the farm of Anthony Jaskolski in Huron Township about four miles short of the runway.

The plane was on a routine flight from cleveland to Detroit. It was owned by Zantop Air Transport, Inc., a cargo-only airline.

★ ★ ★

It was only the second fatal accident in the 12-year history of Zantop.

The plane did not catch fire, but the wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

Japan to Back U.S. During 1965---Sato

TOKYO (AP) — Japan will stand closely beside the United States during 1965, no matter what threats to peace the Chinese Communists or any other Asian people try to provoke.

This assertion was made by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato in an exclusive interview with the Associated Press.

"Japanese reacted calmly to the explosion of a nuclear device by Communist China," the political leader of Japan's 100 million people declared, "because of the guarantees provided Japan under the security treaty with the United States."

Under the pact signed at the end of the World War II occupation, America is pledged to defend Japan until 1971.

★ ★ ★

"As to whether that treaty should be extended or strengthened," Sato said, "I do not see any need to consider any other alternatives for the time being."

3 CONFERENCES

Sato, who will visit Washington Jan. 10 and hold three separate conferences with President Johnson, had just completed a two-hour session with U.S. Ambassador Reischauer when he met with Associated Press representatives.

★ ★ ★

Asked what he planned to discuss with President Johnson, the prime minister said he expected the talks to include Red China, the general Asian situation and problems involving the United States and Japan.

★ ★ ★

Commenting on his plan to have Japan play a more positive role in Asian affairs, Sato said he hoped through economic and cultural aid to build up long-term stability in the Far East.

Suit Against Baker Settled Out of Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil suit that triggered the Bobby Baker investigation has been settled out of court and may be dismissed, the attorney for the firm that sued the former Senate majority secretary said today.

David J. Carliner, representing Capitol Vending Co., said he will seek dismissal of the $300,000 suit in U.S. District Court today.

There were unconfirmed reports the suit had been settled for around $30,000.

Capitol Vending brought the suit against Baker and others in September 1963. It charged that Baker used his Senate influence to have Melpar, Inc., an electronics firm, cancel its contract with Capitol and place it with another firm. Baker and the other defendants — the Serv-U Corp., owned largely by Baker; its secretary, Ernest G. Tucker and Fred B. Black, a former Baker associate — denied the charges.

RESIGNS POST

Baker resigned his influential post — where he had become a friend to many senators, including then Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson — rather than answer questions about his activities.

The Senate Rules Committee launched an investigation into Baker's variegated business activities. It's still going on.

Heroic Mother Dies Saving Son in Fire

BOSTON (AP)—An heroic mother died saving her 1-year-old son when a fire raced through a five-story apartment building last night.

Four persons died in the fire, including two of the woman's daughters.

The mother — Mrs. Hannah Perry, 26 — saved her son, Emmett Jr., by leaping from a fifth-floor window with him cradled in her arms.

She died of injuries in the fall. The boy apparently suffered only smoke inhalation.

Her daughters, Betty Jane, 3, and Shelly Marie, 2, perished in the blaze, as did Howard Allen, 42. At least six other persons, including a fireman, were admitted to Boston City Hospital for treatment.

State Senate Committee Posts

DETROIT (AP) — Assignment of 20 committee chairmanships in the Michigan State Senate was announced today by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit Democrat.

Dzendzel said the assignments were worked out at a seven-hour Democratic caucus which broke up at 2 a.m. Democrats will take over control of both houses of the legislature next month.

Sen. Garland Lane of Flint was named chairman of the powerful appropriations committee, regarded as the most important committee on the list.

Sen. Joe Mack of Ironwood was named vice chairman. Other members will be Sens. Jerome Hart, Saginaw; Jan Vanderploeg, Muskegon; and Ed Robinson and Roger Craig of Dearborn.

STAFF TURNOVERS

Dzendzel said the caucus also discussed the turnover in staff assignments—secretaries, clerks and others—but did not complete the job.

Beryl Kenyon, who was first appointed by the Republicans, will remain in his position as Senate secretary.

Dzendzel said the Democrats, hoping for a harmonious session, decided to retain the ratio of four majority members and two minority members on each committee which went into effect during the 1963-64 session under the GOP.

Makeup of the appropriations committee, however, will undergo a slight change, Dzendzel said. There will be a 6-3 ratio, instead of the present 7-3 division.

* * *

Asked about the outlook for the coming session, which will see the Democrats in control for the first time in decades, Dzendzel said he expected one of the toughest tasks to be reorganization of state government from its present 120-plus agencies into 20 major departments. The state's newly adopted constitution requires the reorganization.

Other committee chairmanships:

Agriculture — Sen. Roger Johnson, Marshall.

Conservation — Sen. Carl O'Brien.

Corporations — Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, Detroit.

Education — Sen. Gerald Dunn, Flushing.

Elections — Sen. Coleman Young, Detroit.

Health and Welfare — Sen. Michael J. O'Brien, Detroit.

Highways — Sen. Stanley Rozycki, Detroit.

Insurance — Sen. Bernard O'Brien, Detroit.

Judiciary — Sen. Basil Brown, Detroit.

Labor — Sen. Sander Levin, Berkley.

Liquor — Sen. Stanley Novak, Detroit.

Municipalities — Sen. Terry Troutt, Romulus.

Public Utilities — Sen. Michael J. O'Brien.

Retirement — Sen. John McCauley, Wyandotte.

Senate Business — Sen. John Bowman, Roseville.

State Affairs — Sen. William Romano, Warren.

Taxation — Sen. George Fitzgerald, Grosse Pointe.

Tourist Relations — Sen. Charles Youngblood, Detroit.

Veterans Affairs — Sen. Charles Youngblood, Detroit.

Detroit Warned on Racial Strife

DETROIT (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Detroit Urban League warned Wednesday of potential racial strife in Detroit.

In separate statements, leaders of the two groups made suggestions for improving what they suggested are deteriorating relations between the police department and the Negro community.

Francs Kornegay, director of the league, said there is a "growing and seething rise in tension, conflict and bitterness over brutality, unequal treatment, and the killing of persons without sufficient cause by policemen."

The Rev. James Wadsworth Jr., local president of the NAACP, was asked if Negro unrest over alleged police brutility could provoke a race riot. He replied:

"If we keep on like this we're going to have one."

The two groups have joined with 10 other organizations in urging that a civilian review board be set up to review charges of police brutality.

But Mayor Jerome Cavanagh said he saw no necessity for a review board if the mayor and police commissioner perform their duties.

Wadsworth also requested that the Michigan Civil Rights Commission hold a public hearing on police brutality charges, while the Urban League asked Cavanagh to name two civil deputy police commissioners — one of them a Negro—to ease the friction.

Red, white, & blue chip investment

You won't get rich overnight buying U.S. Savings Bonds. But for the long run, they make an excellent investment.

You get a guaranteed rate of interest—3 3/4% when held to maturity—so there's no ups and downs to worry about.

You also get certain tax advantages since Savings Bonds aren't subject to state or local income taxes and the federal tax can be deferred until the Bonds are cashed.

But probably most important is that Bonds pay off in more than dollars. When you get your Bond investment back you know it has helped Uncle Sam strengthen the cause of freedom (your cause) all around this troubled world of ours.

Banner Year Seen for City

By ART SCHEIFLE

It's agreed! Pontiac should really go places in 1965.

The city's business, industrial and civic leaders are predicting a banner year for the Pontiac area.

In the industrial field payrolls are reaching toward the all-time high of August 1955. According to GM reports, hourly rated employes received an average weekly wage of $147.13 in the first nine months of the year.

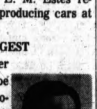
The national average for all factory workers, according to figures released last month by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, is $102.97 weekly.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Motor Division General Manager E. M. Estes reports Pontiac producing cars at a record rate.

MAY BE BIGGEST

"December could well be the biggest production month in our history and the first quarter of 1965 should be our best ever," he added.



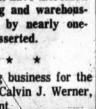
ESTES

Currently the division employs 18,000 compared to 10,500 just two years ago.

Estes pointed out that plant facilities are being increased. "When the program is completed, we will have increased manufacturing and warehousing facilities by nearly one-fourth," he asserted.

★ ★ ★

In projecting business for the coming year, Calvin J. Werner, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division, said the increased acceptance of GMC's new models assures the division and its dealers they will continue to enjoy a high level of business activity in the coming year.



WERNER

ONE OF BEST

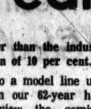
"Our broadened model coverage, increased application flexibility through more options and over-all greater product values combined to make 1964 one of our best years.

"GMTC sales," he noted, "were up approximately 15 per cent over 1963—five per cent greater than the industrywide gain of 10 per cent.

"Thanks to a model line unsurpassed in our 62-year history, we view the coming months with great optimism," Werner summed up.

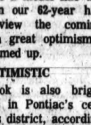
OSMUN OPTIMISTIC

The outlook is also bright for business in Pontiac's central business district, according to Monroe M. Osmun, president of the Downtown Pontiac Business Association



ADAMS

"I am very optimistic," Osmun noted, "about downtown Pontiac this coming year. It should be even better than 1964 for the following reasons:



OSMUN

● "The general economy is good and will continue to be good throughout 1965;

● "We will begin making herdway on more off-street parking;

● "Many stores will begin remodeling both interiors and store fronts;

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

● "We will see the beginning of new developments within Wide Track Drive. Many new business developments are in the making now;

● "Urban renewal lands will be offered for sale, as much of the red tape which involves such undertakings will be behind us;

● "Last but not least, there is a marked optimism among downtown business people for the future. Many merchants are ready to put their shoulders to the wheel and help rebuild the central business district.

★ ★ ★

"This should be a year of progress if we all work together," Osmun summarized.

COMING DOWNTOWN

He pointed out that during the closing months of 1964, people were coming downtown again, and stores were busy.

He estimated a 10 per cent increase in business in most stores over 1963, and a similar increase for 1965.

★ ★ ★

RECORD LEVELS

Pontiac industries are running at record levels, he commented.

Adams also pointed to the new Wide Track Drive which, he said completes the picture of Pontiac as an up-and-coming modern community.

"By far the greatest achievement of the year is the promise of a new College of Osteopathic Medicine for Pontiac," Adams noted.

"Pontiac's R20 Urban Renewal project is moving along. The apartment dwellings recently erected have proved enormously popular, and there are plans for a new concept which will bring added revenue.

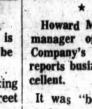
1965 TO BE BETTER

"All things point to 1965 as being economically better than 1964," Adams concluded.

★ ★ ★

Howard M. Nelson, general manager of Sears Roebuck Company's downtown store reports business in 1964 as excellent.

It was "beyond all expectations — the highest since 1929 which was an overall record year of us," Nelson said.



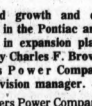
NELSON

"We have made an even higher projection for the first six months of 1965, which is as far as we go in business projections at this time," he concluded.

★ ★ ★

Continued growth and development in the Pontiac area is evident in expansion plans revealed by Charles F. Brown, Consumers Power Company Pontiac division manager.

"Consumers Power Company's Pontiac Division is planning on another year of substantial growth activity in 1965. We will be adding another 5,000 gas space heating customers," Brown noted, "and installing over 100 miles of new gas main. There are also major revisions to our electric facilities serving our customers in Pontiac.



BROWN

"The growth picture for Pontiac and Oakland County, as it affects our planning appears excellent," Brown concluded.

★ ★ ★

Alfred C. Girard, president of Community National Bank of Pontiac, pointed to several factors indicating a healthy economic climate in the coming year.

FREEWAY CONSTRUCTION

"Due to the continued freeway construction there is a population expansion which is a very favorable contributing factor to our economic growth," Girard noted. "Such expansion acts as a stimulant to housing construction, the sale of consumer goods, and expansion in the service industry.

GIRARD

"Beyond these substantial indicators of economic optimism for the coming year there is also the factor of new employers moving into our area, as well as the expansion of those presently established.

"The greater Pontiac area and Oakland County has much to be thankful for as a result of an excellent business year in 1964. The outlook for 1965 and a number of years ahead should give confidence to area business," Girard concluded.

★ ★ ★

Milo Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank, reports an increase in deposits of 12 per cent in 1964, and is optimistic aout 1965.

Loans have shown a proportionate growth, and Cross predicts a further increase in home building in the greater Pontiac area accompanying the increase in industry and general development now taking place.

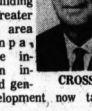
★ ★ ★

James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland reports 1964 as another banner year with approved realestate loans in excess of $34 million.

He predicted they will total $40 million in 1965.

Of this latter amount, Clarkson says, $22 million will be for new construction of residential homes.



CLARKSON

"It is our feeling that the next 10 years will show a phenomenal growth in Oakland County which will greatly affect all businesses in the county. We were pleased to be a part of this tremendous growth," Clarkson said.

★ ★ ★

HUDSON'S TO TRIPLE

"The fact that the J. L. Hudson Company is tripling the size of its store at the Pontiac Mall and additional shops will be opened, is indicative of business at this center," said Robert Witbold, resident manager of the Mall.

The Mall had an average business increase this year of between 20 and 25 per cent over 1963.

An increase of five to 10 per cent is generally considered normal for a shopping center during its first two or three years, according to Witbold.

"There is no way to predict what the volume will be when the additions are open, but we do know that they are bound to attract more people to the area," Witbold said.

★ ★ ★

Speaking for the merchants of the Tel-Huron center, R. I. Mertz, manager of Kresge's store there, said that each year since Tel-Huron was opened business has increased.

'64 WAS GOOD

Mertz commented that "1964 was good and we feel 1965 will be better.

"With the addition of two new stores—Griswold Sporting Goods and Bill Petrusha & Sons, Appliances — we have an outstanding team of shops," Mertz said.

"Our customers find it easy to park and they know most of the stores and the people," he pointed out.

Ford Archives Change Hands

DEARBORN (AP) — The Henry Ford Archives, valued at more than a million and containing 14 million photographs, letters and other memorabilia of the first Henry Ford, changed hands Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The Ford Motor Co. donated the archives to the Edison Institute, founded by Ford in 1929 and operator of Greenfield Village, the Ford historical collection, and Greenfield Village School.

★ ★ ★

The archives' half a million photographs taken by Ford include pictures of inventor Thomas Edison, Harvey Firestone, the rubber tire magnate, and naturalist John Burroughs, all close friends of Ford. There are also historic Ford Motor Co. documents.

★ ★ ★

Edison Institute will make the collection available to research workers and authors.

The archives narrowly escaped destruction in the Ford Rotunda fire in 1962. They were stored in the Rotunda's north wing, unharmed in the blaze.

County DPW Looks Ahead Following Progress of '64

By BILL EASTHAM

The year 1964 was a big one for the Oakland County Department of Public Works, and 1965 promises to be even bigger.

DPW Director R. J. Alexander said the department supervised the completion — or near completion—of nearly $19 million worth of sewer and water projects in the country this year.

Construction plans for next year include water and sewer projects which will cost nearly $24 million, according to Alexander.

The two biggest projects completed under DPW supervision during the year were water systems in Farmington and Bloomfield Township.

The Farmington job cost $2.6 million and the Bloomfield Township system cost $2.1 million. Both systems tie into the Detroit metropolitan area network which will eventually reach all the way to Flint.

LARGE PROJECT

The largest sewer project completed during the year was the Huron-Rouge-Novi system in Novi Township, costing $1.5 million.

Others included section 1 of the 13 Mile Road Arm, $485,000; the 14 Mile Road and Maple Arm, $410,000; and the Sylvan Manor Arm, $240,000.

The department's largest project under way now is the $7.3-million Waterford Township water system, scheduled for completion next June.

★ ★ ★

It is independent of the Detroit system, utilizing wells for its source of supply.

TROY SYSTEM

Another sizable project now under construction is the Troy sewer system, which Alexander said will be completed in about 90 days at a cost of $3.3 million.

Also nearing completion are the Walton Heights Manor Arm, a $340,000 project near Oakland University, and the Tarabusi Industrial Arm, a $778,000 job in Southfield.

Nearly half of the cost of this year's projects was provided by the federal Accelerated Public Works Program.

★ ★ ★

Most of the remainder was financed by special assessment and revenue bonds, Alexander said.

TIED UP

Two projects which are ready to get under way but are presently tied up in court are the Southfield-Rouge sewer project, estimated at $1.75 million, and a $1.1-million sewer system in Lake Orion.

Both projects have been stalled by a dispute over financing, Alexander said, but will be started immediately if and when the court clears the way.

Scheduled to be started early next year are the Walnut Lake Arm, a $1.7-million sewer project in West Bloomfield Township; a sewer project in Wixom estimated at $2.5 to $3 million; and a $1.3-million water system for Pontiac Township.

★ ★ ★

Others are a $530,000 water system for Keego Harbor; a $520,000 extension of the Farmington Township water system, and a $61,000 extension of the Tarabusi Industrial Arm.

$13 MILLION

Scheduled for late next year or early 1966 is the Clinton-Oakland sewer system, a $13-million project designed to serve Waterford, Pontiac and Avon Townships.

Engineering plans are due for completion next month, Alexander noted, and acquisition of right-of-way and easements will be started in the next 60 days.

Difficulty in obtaining easements could stall the project, he said.

Partial financing will be provided by federal aid under the Water Pollution Control Act, according to Alexander.

Alabama Youth Finds Wreckage of Plane Crash

URIAH, Ala. (AP)— A youth hunting squirrels in a swampy area northwest of here has found the wreckage of a light plane which crashed three and a half years ago.

The Evergreen Highway Patrol Post said Edmond Jerkins, 15, discovered the wreckage containing the skeletons of the two crash victims last night.

Identification from wallets and baggage in the plane showed the occupants to be John Leu, 21, of Nashville, Tenn., and Gene McGill, 18, of Mobile, Ala.

The plane was last heard from the night of June 18, 1961, as it was en route from Mobile to Birmingham. The pilot, McGill, radioed he was turning back because of bad weather. A week-long search failed to locate the wreckage.

Vote Leaves Nigeria Torn

Old Wounds Opened; Could Split Nation

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Concern was widespread today that regional rivalries dramatized in a bitter general election campaign may split this most populous of African nations.

★ ★ ★

Candidates of the National Nigerian Alliance swept to a commanding lead as expected in returns from balloting yesterday, boycotted the opposition, for a new parliament.

One Lagos newspaper termed it a "half and half election." Millions of voters stayed away from the polls in the eastern and midwestern sectors and in Lagos, the capital.

They responded to a boycott plea by the United Progressive Grand Alliance.

★ ★ ★

A union of parties centered in these southern Nigeria areas.

CALLED VALID

Voters in the heavily populated, largely Moslem northern and western regions cast ballots. The leaders of the Nigerian National Alliance, whose power is based in these regions, insist the election is valid and will form the basis for a new parliament.

By midmorning, National Alliance candidates had taken 89 seats.

United Progressive candidates were credited with 23, despite the boycott.

★ ★ ★

Their leaders, however, had said before the balloting that any United Progressives who won would immediately resign to make the boycott complete.

OPENED WOUNDS

The campaign opened many old tribal-regional conflicts. Most serious was the threat that Nigeria might be dismembered.

The premier of the northern region, Sir Ahmadu Bello, accused eastern regional leaders Tuesday of wanting to secede and form a separate nation.

Bello said the oil-rich eastern region felt it would be economically viable apart from the rest of Nigeria.

★ ★ ★

In a statement last night the United Progressives welcomed what they called Bello's suggestion that President Nnamdi Azikiwe call a conference to "break up the country and divide its assets."

A National Alliance spokesman said later Bello was not suggesting breaking up the country, but "has given an assurance that, if the eastern region wants to secede from the federation," the north would put no obstacles in its way.

Prosperity in 1964 Cleared All Hurdles

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Americans tonight can toast a departing year in which unprecedented prosperity proved so strong it overcame a string of surprises and threats.

The good guys definitely bested the bad guys in the American economic story. But there were perilous moments and uncertainties enough to stave off any boredom.

DAWSON

And there were dreams of future rainbows in space that kept Comsat stock gyrating to the wonderment of many. Auto labor wage gains in hand and steel pay increases in prospect raised the spectre of future inflation. But consumers mostly counted their blessings now — a tax cut, rising incomes, more jobs.

★ ★ ★

Defenders of our gold reserves staved off a further drain of dollars that kept the U.S. deficit in international payments high. More dramatically, they withstood the shock of the onslaught on the British pound that brought threats of its devaluation or of international monetary chaos—with the U.S. dollar, as the leading exchange currency, inevitably involved. A record $3 billion bail-out fund saved the pound — for the time being, at least.

UPSET MARKET

The fall of Nikita Khrushchev upset the stock market momentarily but businessmen and consumers alike went on their way confident that peace of a sort would continue — and with it the prosperity to which they have become accustomed during the 46 months of economic upswing.

★ ★ ★

The stock market recovered to hit new highs in November. But then it added to the underlying uncertainties by faltering. Even more disturbing, it failed to provide the year-end rally, dear to the heart of traditionalists. Still, this New Year's Eve, prices of most stocks, though not all, are nicely above their year ago levels — gladdening the hearts of the lucky holders.

Corporate profits hit new highs in 1964, and so did dividend payments. Mostly this reflected record output and sales, but also more productive factory operations. And demand for goods inspired corporate decisions to spend more for new plants and equipment.

Building of new homes slackened in the fall of 1964 and owners of some new apartment houses hung out vacancy signs. But industrial, commercial and government construction gave that industry a record year with the end not in sight.

EMPLOYMENT HIGH

This, along with record steel production and near-record auto output, helped lift employment to a new high. And in turn, this along with higher wage scales pushed the total of personal incomes to an almost unbroken series of records. Consumers responded by spending more than ever before for goods and services — some $400 billion. They saved a bit more than a year ago, thanks in part to the cut in federal income tax rates. But they paid as big a total tax bill, thanks to rising incomes and even more to higher state and local taxes.

The stock exchanges and the Securities and Exchange Commission hammered out some new rules for trading and for members' conduct. The public watched with interest, but for the most part didn't return to the market in the numbers that made 1961 a memorable year.

So, despite all the uncertainties at home — inflation talk, slowing down of the rate of economic growth, the future course of interest rates and of ease or tightness of money — and despite all the threats abroad — Viet Nam, Congo, the Red Chinese atom bomb, the shaky economy of Britain — Americans can count 1964 safely in the column of the better years, perhaps the best.

And wrapped in glowing prosperity they can wish each other a

Q. "In reference to buying State of California tax exempt bonds, you say that I can save the sales fee by buying direct. Whom do I get in touch with, for I am interested in the 3½'s due 11-1-92?" J.K.

A. I think you are suffering under a misapprehension. What I said was that — if an investor wished — he could save the sales fee charged by tax-exempt mutual funds by buying good municipal bonds directly.

I mentioned State of California 3½'s due 11-1-92 which could then be bought through a bank or dealer at a fixed price including his moderate profit. These bonds have all been sold, but I find available some State of California 3½'s due 2001 offered to yield 3.50 per cent. I recommend that you buy these, if they are still unsold.

Q. "I am 68 years old and retired — my wife is 65. Our house is paid for. Income from savings accounts, stocks, and Social Security is ample. I would like to invest about $2,000 in American Motors. Would you advise this?" J.C.

A. In a strong period of automobile sales, American Motors' earnings per share for the fiscal year ended September 30, 1964, were down 31 per cent from the fiscal period a year earlier. Profits came to $1.38 a share, down from $2.01 in fiscal 1963.

I do not look for the company to do any better this year, since I am told that the early registration trends for new Ramblers, since the 1965 models have been produced, are not impressive. The shares sell to yield 7 per cent, which in itself is an indication that the dividend is not entirely secure.

In your position, and at your age, you should not assume risk. As an alternative, I suggest Jersey Standard, yielding 3½ per cent.

Joint Panel Seeks to Cut Ford Strikes

DETROIT (UPI) — A new panel set up by the Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union may help cut down plant-level strikes like those which crippled the firm last fall.

★ ★ ★

Union and management have agreed to set up a joint four-man plant relations committee.

Ken Bannon, director of the union's Ford Department, said the committee will try to establish better relations at the plant level.

Bannon said the committee will travel around the country to improve relations where needed.

★ ★ ★

As a result, Bannon said he hoped that when the current contracts expire in 1967 "I hope there will be fewer problems" than there were in 1964.

Local strikes at several plants shut down Ford assembly lines in 1964 even though the two sides had agreed on a national contract.

Birmingham Store Completes Expansion

An expansion doubling its former size has been completed at the Atlantic Drapery Shoppe, 360 E. Maple, Birmingham, making it one of the largest drapery shops in Michigan, according to Lester Morris, who opened the shop three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Hope to Avert Hotel Strike

DETROIT (UPI) — A final meeting was scheduled today to try and avert a New Year's Eve strike at 10 major Detroit hotels.

Both sides were pessimistic and a strike by 2,500 employes seemed inevitable unless they were an unexpected breakthrough in today's negotiations.

State and federal mediators called the meeting between the Hotel and Restaurant Employes Union and the Detroit Hotel Association. Both sides said they did not ask for the meeting.

The union represents workers at the Belcrest, Leland, Embassy, Park Shelton, Pick-Fort Shelby, Royal Palm, Sheraton-Cadillac, Statler - Hilton, Tuller and Whittier hotels.

A union handbill passed out to workers yesterday called on workers to "prepare to battle strike is like a war."

UNION DEMANDS

The handbill listed union demands including a minimum wage of $1.50 an hour for non-tipping jobs such as maids and dishwashers, $1 an hour for tipping jobs like waiters and doormen, a pension plan and improved holiday and vacation benefits.

A strike deadline was set for 12:01 a.m. tomorrow.

Living Costs Dip for Detroit Area, Rise Nationally

Living costs were down slightly for the Detroit area but up for the nation, the U.S. Labor Department said yesterday.

Nationally, the consumer price index increased 0.2 per cent to 108.7, with auto prices leading the way. This means it cost $10.87 last month to buy goods that cost $10 in the 1957-59 base period.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's index dropped by 0.3 per cent and stood at 104.6 for November, based on 100 for the base period.

The area's lower living costs were attributed mainly to a decrease in transportation, food, clothing and upkeep costs. Housing, health and recreation were up slightly.

Building Under Way on Addition to Plant

AVON TOWNSHIP—Construction is now under way on a $70,000 addition to the Detroit Broach & Machine Co. plant at 950 S. Rochester.

The addition to the existing machine building will add 4,800 square feet to the plant, and will allow a new materials handling system and relocation of the welding facilities.
