Mad Sniper's Shooting Spree Wounds 2; Capture Climaxes Terror Tour of County

Plan to Build Two Schools, Add to Others

All New Construction Expected to Be Finished for 1,200 Pupils by Fall

The Board of Education last night approved $1,531,237 in contracts for new construction that includes two new elementary schools and additions to two existing schools.

The construction is expected to be complete by the time school opens this fall, and will provide new classrooms for 1,200 pupils.

Included are a $443,428 school in the Herrington Hills subdivision and a $445,392 school on West Kennett road. Almost identical in construction, they will each house 360 pupils.

Also approved were contracts for construction of a 10-classroom wing for 300 pupils at Bethune School and six classrooms and a kindergarten at Malkim School, for 240 pupils.

Contracts for construction of multi-purpose rooms for gymnasium, auditorium and cafeteria were approved at both schools, making the total base price at Bethune $370,206 and at Malkim $272,011.

GOES TO CITY FIRMS

The contracts for general construction at all four schools was awarded to Schurrer Construction Co. of Pontiac at $1,074,661. Another Pontiac firm, Eames & Brown, was awarded the mechanical contract at $332,600.

Electrical contracts went to Fred W. Moote Co. of Pontiac, low bidder of $76,300 at the Herrington Hills and Kennett Road Schools; J. K. Martin Electric Co. of Pontiac, $23,376 at Malkim; and Great Lakes Power

Stocks Move Briskly but Break 2 Points Low

NEW YORK (AP) — A sinking spell worsened stock market prices today as turnover quickened.

Leading stocks, already lower in quite early dealings, broke as much as 2 points or so.

A number of "blue chips" hit new lows.

General Motors, selling ex-dividend, declined fractionally but enough to put it below 40, a downside barrier which has held sturdily since this stock was split 3-for-1 in 1955.

Other new lows were reached by Union Carbide, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Textron and Burlington Industries.

Alert Victim, 19, Aids in Capture by Description

An alert 19-year-old Bloomfield Hills girl who was its first target gave the important description of the rifleman who fired at eight others last night before his capture.

Shirley Eland, 200 Hickory Grove Rd., Bloomfield Hills, first reported the sniper's return when she was shot in the back while returning home from work.

The native of Bad Axe told the events leading to the shooting:

"I got off the bus at Woodward and Hickory Grove at 6:10 p.m. I noticed the time because we were early.

"I began walking home when I noticed a black and white Chevrolet turn off Woodward onto our street. My cousin has one almost

Confessed Gun Slayer of Singer Barron Tells of Jealous Rage

PORT HURON (AP)—A first-degree murder charge against Roger L. Fetting in the slaying of hillbilly singer Lonnie C. Barron was reduced to manslaughter yesterday after defense counsel argued the shooting was "a crime of passion."

Fetting, 36, of suburban Lexington Heights, testified at his examination that he "exploded" and shot the 25-year-old Barron after learning the one-time Mississippi farm boy had been intimate with Fetting's 32-year-old wife.

Barron was shot to death Jan. 9 in a tarpaper shack behind a dancehall he operated at nearby Muttonville. His body later was found slumped over cartons of fan mail from women admirers.

Justice Harry Nelson bound Fetting over to Circuit Court for trial on the lesser charge. No date was set for trial.

Fetting broke down and sobbed as he testified before the crowded courtroom.

His wife testified at the start of the hearing that she had been intimate with Barron on five occasions while her husband was deer hunting.

Fetting told the court: "When I asked him (Barron) if he had been intimate with my sister, too, he said, 'Yeah'."

Then, with fists clenched, Fetting broke down and cried.

"Lonnie sneered at me," Fetting went on, "Then my head just got big and everything exploded inside of me and I took a gun out of my pocket and shot."

Fetting's sister was president of the Lonnie Barron Fan Club and his wife was a member.

The state also called as a witness William R. Saunders, news director of radio station WHLS in Port Huron. Saunders said he obtained a confession of the slaying from Fetting after Fetting was jailed.

Hold Phone Calls to 20 Minutes

Kids Write Own Code

CEDAR GROVE, N. J. (AP) — Seventh and eighth graders at the grammar school here have proposed a "code of teenage behavior" in hopes of avoiding "obvious supervision" by parents.

The code bans dungarees, except on gym dates, ends dances by 10:30 p. m. and advises teenagers to avoid single dating.

The youngsters also agreed to limit phone calls to a "reasonable" 15 to 20 minutes, return at an agreed time from dates and sleep 10 hours a night if they are seventh graders, 9½ hours if in the eighth grade.

U. S. Paper Reports Rift Between Elizabeth, Duke

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Sun says London's cafe society is "talking openly of a rift between Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh."

A London dispatch by Sun correspondent Joan Graham reports:

"The whisper started last summer. It was then hinted by the know-it-alls that the Duke of Edinburgh had more than a passing interest in an unnamed woman and was meeting her regularly in the private apartment of Baron, the court photographer who died of heart trouble at the age of 46 last fall."

The dispatch said the gossip gained ground that the Queen's husband was "being got out of the country to cool off," when it was announced that he was too make a four-month round-the-world tour.

The Duke is now at Gibraltar on the last stages of his tour on the royal yacht Britannia. The Sun said it originally had been planned for him to return to London to spend a week with the Queen before she sets out for a state visit to Portugal, Feb. 18-21.

But these plans were dropped unaccountably, and the Duke was whiling away the time at Gibraltar until Feb. 15, when he will sail to meet the Queen at Lisbon.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH

The Queen evidently will spend a couple of days with him on board the Britannia before starting the state visit to Portugal.

The paper added that those who believe there is a rift think the Duke's tour was drawn out unnecessarily.

The Sun said the rumors that all is not well in the royal family had been going on for some months and "are now percolating down to the British masses who only know about the royal family what is printed in the British press."

No hint of a rift has appeared in British newspapers.

The Duke was on his tour at Christmastime. The Queen and her husband exchanged radio greetings.

"We pray, in words used thousands of years ago, that the Lord watch between me and thee when we are absent, one from another," the Duke's message said.

The Queen, in her Christmas broadcast to the British Commonwealth and colonies, said "You will understand me when I tell you that, of all the voices which we have heard this afternoon, none has given my children and myself greater joy than that of my husband."

The royal couple married Nov. 20, 1947. They have two children, Prince Charles, 8, the heir apparent; and Princess Anne, 6.

Pontiac Press Plans Another Theater Trip

Thoughts turn to vacations.

Many people have asked whether The Press plans to have another New York trip in 1957.

The answer is "YES."

A year ago, the original plan called for 75. This number was filled so rapidly, we increased the total to 100.

Encouraged by the enthusiasm and the marvelous time that everyone had, The Press plans to increase the total to 150.

The dates are September 9th to 14th.

The trip will be made by airplane with one of America's leading airplane companies and the finest planes will be especially chartered. The cost has not been determined, but it should run in the neighborhood of $160.

You get transportation both ways, fine accommodations at the Paramount hotel, tickets to five of the absolutely top shows playing on Broadway, and several other de luxe items which have not been determined but which will be announced well in advance.

Get Out Rain Boots and Bumbershoots

Pontiac area residents may reach for boots and "bumbershoots" tonight, as the weatherman forecasts occasional light drizzle or rain tonight through tomorrow.

Mild weather will continue with the mercury dipping only to 31 tonight and rising to 34 or 38 tomorrow.

Temperatures will average 4 to 8 degrees above normal for the next five days, predicts the U. S. Weather Bureau, with occasional periods of rain Saturday through Wednesday.

Preceding 8 a.m., Pontiac's lowest temperature was 28; at 2 p.m. the mercury read 40.

$700 in Pot-O-Gold Should Challenge Your Best Effort

Despite 8,463 tries at winning last week's Pot-O-Gold, no winner was found and that puts the money up to $700 for the one who sends in a correct solution for Puzzle No. 36 which appears on page 15.

We can't help but wonder just how rich some of our entrants are, because every week many of them pass up chances of winning the money by neglecting to mail their puzzle on time or by failing to follow the rule that says no entries will be accepted in envelopes.

This week 86 people wasted an opportunity to become richer, just by sending their answers too late. Late and incorrectly mailed entries aren't even glanced at, and you can't win that way.

To check your answers with the correct answers and explanations, turn to page 8. Then get busy on this week's Pot-O-Gold. You have until Tuesday to get it in.

Southfield Man Describes Urge to Shoot Women

Hold Factory Worker Gary A. Taylor, 20, as Phantom Gunman

Possible attempted murder charges faced a Southfield Township factory worker today after his rifle rampage turned portions of Oakland County into a shooting gallery last night.

Gary Addison Taylor, 20, of 16192 Marguerite St. admitted several .22 rifle shootings in the south Oakland County area before Christmas which brought him the title "The Mad Sniper."

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Taylor is being held on investigation of assault with intent to murder. Ziem added that he did not plan to make formal charges against Taylor until Monday.

The prosecutor said his office had not decided whether Taylor was to undergo a psychiatric examination.

Taylor was captured by two Royal Oak policemen around 9 p.m. last night after he erupted into a second series of shooting sprees. A 19-year-old Bloomfield Hills girl and an 11-year-old Southfield girl were wounded during Taylor's rampage.

Police today credited Miss Shirley Eland, of 200 Hickory Grove Rd., Bloomfield Hills, with providing the description of Taylor's car which led to his capture.

Ziem was to take a second statement from Taylor today in Royal Oak.

SNIPER APOLOGETIC

When apprehended in a driveway off Albert and Gardner, just south of 13 Mile road in Royal Oak, Taylor responded with "I beg your pardon" to orders of Sgt. Joseph Linville and his partner, Patrolman Howard Lester.

Prior to his capture, Taylor, a 11-month Navy veteran who received a medical discharge in May of 1954, had led some 18 police cars through a chase in southern Oakland County.

Later in the Royal Oak police station, Taylor told Assistant Prosecuting Attorney William E. Lang:

Two County Candidates Top Convention Nominees

Two Oakland County candidates appeared today among top contenders for nomination at the Republican state convention tomorrow in Detroit.

One is Mrs. Ethel Watt of Birmingham, who so far is running unopposed as a woman candidate for University of Michigan regent.

The other is Louis H. Schimmel of Pontiac, who Monday announced his candidacy for the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University.

The large Oakland County delegation, which has endorsed Mrs. Watt, is expected to give strong backing to Schimmel, county chairman Chad M. Ritchie said today.

The county's strength—it has 141 delegates, making it the largest single delegation, in control of about 10 per cent of the convention vote — may play a deciding role on another contest, Ritchie indicated.

This is for Republican state chairman, an issue outside of the convention's main business of nominating 11 candidates to run in the April 1 election.

A host of contenders and the feeling the new chairman can make or break party fortunes has focused increased interest on the race.

As delegation caucuses begin tonight, Oakland County will maintain its neutral policy, Ritchie said.

"We're going to sit back and look the situation over before we decide anything," he explained.

This means that when the delegation finally does give one candi-

Next Target: Girls on Ski Slides

Taylor Has Florida Record of Many Attacks on Women

Police uncovered past attacks on women by Gary A. Taylor today and plans for further assaults in the area.

Taylor was arrested last night after a three hour shooting spree that ranged from Bloomfield Township south to Birmingham, Clawson, Royal Oak and Southfield Township.

St. Petersburg, Fla. police today said Taylor was connected with 16 or 17 attacks on women in 1954 in that city.

Det. Lt. Earl Newberry said the confessed rifleman was arrested Jan. 22, 1955. He was acquitted later on a charge of assualting a woman with intent to murder.

Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor William Lang said today that Taylor confessed he planned to snip at female skiers on snow slides in the area with a new telescope-sighted deer rifle.

He told Lang:

"I went around to the skiing areas in Oakland county with a pair of binoculars and watched girls going down the slides.

"When I got the deer rifle I planned to shoot the women and and girls down from a distant hill. I bought a telescope for the gun and had the sights zeroed in. Lots of times I went on and practiced shooting at trees.

I knew that when I shoot from a distance I could get away easily, and no one ever would know who it was.

"It's all because I like to see women suffer. I like to hurt thm."

Lang also quoted Taylor as admitting he had brutally beaten two girls while in the Navy and had assaulted and robbed several women he picked up on Detroit streets.

Nab 'Mad Sniper' After He Wounds 2

"I just had the urge to shoot at women."

He said he had purchased a second .22 single-shot rifle Wednesday in Pontiac at the Rogers SC Sporting Goods Co. store. The first gun, another .22, he admitted he had dismantled and tossed in a field "somewhere in the county."

ADMITS YULETIDE SPREE

In his statement to Lang, Taylor admitted to the many sniper incidents in and around Royal Oak before Christmas. Included was the wounding of 14-year-old Cindy Estes of Royal Oak, the near-miss of a woman waiting for a bus Dec. 21, and an assault on a teenage couple.

Last evening's wild escapade began with the wounding of Miss Eland minutes after she had left Grove road in Bloomfield Hills at a bus at Woodward and Hickory 6:10. She suffered a flesh wound in the left shoulder. She was treated and released at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Heading south on Woodward, Taylor fired two or three shots at Mrs. Thelma Wilkerson, 83 W. Tacoma, Clawson, and Mrs. Lenore Van Bussum, of 1298 S. Eton Rd., Birmingham.

The bullets grazed the coat of Mrs. Wilkerson and made several holes in the coat and dress of her companion. Neither were injured.

After firing several shots at Betty Jean Shea, 18, in front of her home at 17375 W. 14 Mile Rd., Southfield Township Taylor fired a bullet at Mrs. Wanda Wasik in her home at 30675 Longcrest, also in Southfield Township. This was about 8:15.

After another shooting in the township, Taylor wounded 11-year-old Carol McCarthy in her parents home at 17866 Beverly. As she peered out the front window, a bullet struck her in the right cheek. She was treated and released last night from William Beaumont Hospital.

Another incident preceding these shootings, included a pot-shot at a station wagon near 14 Mile road and Woodward, police said.

Linville and Lester were first to spot Taylor's car based on the description given by Miss Eland. After ducking through side streets and alleys, Taylor stopped his car and got out. Both men said he put up no struggle nor did he attempt to flee.

Linville searched Taylor's black and white 1956 Chevrolet, with a broken tail light and discovered the .22 on the back seat.

Taylor admitted to Lang that he had left his job at the Great Lakes Tractor & Equipment Co. in Birmingham at 5 p.m. After consuming four beers and a shot of whisky. Taylor began the reign of terror, Lang said he admitted.

Taylor, who lives with his parents, was clean shaven and wearing a black and white jacket and blue trousers. His recently - trimmed brown, curly hair and tidy clothes substantiated his neighbor's claims that he is a "clean cut and polite youth."

"I've had this bug in me since I was a child," Taylor told Lang. "It's a sex drive compulsion."

"I'm relieved and glad it's all over. I'm sorry I did it. I had a desire to shoot women. I'm glad no one was seriously hurt."

The admitted gunman is the son of a Royal Oak drygoods merchant. The family has lived in Southfield Township since moving from Florida last April.

He attended Howe Military Academy in Indiana. He received his medical discharge because of migraine headaches.

Taylor's earlier potshots at women led Royal Oak police to check 57 .22's in ballistic tests in an attempt to find the marksman. "I guess we got a little too close," Edward Lietzau, chief of detectives, said trying to explain why Taylor dismantled the rifle used in the pre-Christmas snipings.

identical and at first, I thought he had come to pick me up.

"I noticed the left tail light was damaged. The car passed me and pulled into a drive about 100 yards past my uncle's house.

The girl said she was shot while walking up the driveway. She said it "felt like an icy snowball had hit me."

Police rushed the girl to St. Joseph Hospital where she was treated and released.

Neighbors of Gary Addison Taylor, who today frankly admitted "a sexual thrill connected with the shootings", claim the youth was "clean cut and polite" and "never did anything out of place."

Mrs. Frank Larson, clerk in the S. C. Rogers Sporting Goods Co., 24 E. Lawrence, who sold the rifle to Taylor Wednesday, agreed the youth was very courteous and soft spoken.

Taylor's shooting spree cost him, in dollars and cents at least, $18.53, for the gun and shells.

The clerk said he came in the store between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. Wednesday and asked to see a .22 caliber rifle, single shot. He then asked to see a bolt action rifle which would shoot five to six times without reloading.

"He left for about 10 minutes. He said he wanted to look around. He came back and bought the single shot rifle and a box of 22 short hollow point shells. There are 50 shells in a box," said Ms. Larson.

Taylor told police he used hollow nosed cartridges "because they crumble and are harder to trace through ballistics."

The woman said she realized, from the description on the radio, she had sold Taylor his weapon. She said he had given his name as Bruce Johnson, of Southfield Township when he purchased the gun.

& Control Wiring Co. of Detroit, $24,300 at Bethune.

The contruction represents all of the 1957 building programs planned for completion this year. It is in addition to a new $4,250,000 high school.

TO START IN SPRING

Construction of the first section of the high school, costing $3,250,000, will begin this spring, the board hopes, and be complete by the fall of 1958. Preliminary plans have been approved but final plans are still on the architect's drawing board.

The Herrington Hills School will be on Bay street between Mt. Clemens street and Featherstone road. The Kennett Road School will be west of Cloverlawn drive.

Both will be one-story and are designed with the possibility of eventually adding another wing to double the pupil capacity.

The board last night also approved purchase of a five-acre parcel at 661 Franklin Rd. for a future elementary school. The cost was $32,500.

Assistant Superintendent Dr. Otto C. Hufziger said he is negotiating for five adjacent acres. The site is near the Whittier School, which eventually will be used for junior high purposes, Hufziger said.

On Feb. 28, the Waterford Township Toastmasters Club will be host to the newly organized Toastmistresses Club at their monthly dinner-meeting.

Arrest Detroit Boxer as Convicted Killer

DETROIT (INS) — Federal authorities were to appear in court today with a warrant against Detroit welterweight boxer Calvin King, 28, charging he is a convicted killer who escaped a North Carolina prison camp three years ago.

Rufus McKinley Peoples, who boxed under the name of King, was arrested yesterday in Detroit where he had been living with his wife and two children since last summer.

The boxer was suspended by the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union Monday "because he looked like a pro," but later was reinstated.

Emergency Police Gain From Firearm Instruction

Both the City of Pontiac and GMC Truck & Coach Division have profited from a co-operative marksmanship training course launched about a year ago.

The city has gained 10 special policemen for use in emergencies and GMC has benefited by having qualified revolver marksmen guarding the U. S. Government Warehouse which it manages.

The program got under way last March when Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley assigned his range officer and firearms instructor, Robert W. Verhine, to train 10 GMC Plant Protection men in marksmanship.

Under Verhine's guidance, they met twice a month at the Pontiac Police Department's outdoor pistol range on Oakland Avenue to fire .38 caliber revolvers at stationary targets and moving silhouettes.

Their efforts bore fruit. At the end of the first year's activities in January, each man had scored enough bulls-eyes to become duly qualified revolver shots under official police marksmanship regulations.

All 10 also were sworn in as special Pontiac policemen.

As a further reward for their efforts, each man received an award from GMC Personal Director Earl A. Maxwell in a brief ceremony at the Government Warehouse on South Boulevard near Opdyke.

Those receiving awards were Louis A. Taylor, 344 Going St.; James C. Russell, Clarkston; Oakley L. Hackney, 58 E. Rutgers ave; Kenneth F. Rush, 4864 Jamm Rd.; Albert E. Hardebeck, 77 S. Marshall St.; Milton W. Dunn, Birmingham; Raymond L. Harttre, 94 N. Marshall St.; Adolph W. Rollin, 168 N. Mill St.; Edgar M. Hougon, Imlay City; and Henry F. Smith, 2151½ Kircher Crt.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Joseph Feldmenn

Mrs. Joseph (Mary) Feldmenn, 64, of 46 Bloomfield Terrace died Wednesday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Feldmenn is survived by two daughters, Mrs. M. J. Bohatch and Mrs. Marguerite Loughran, both of Pontiac; a brother, and a sister.

The recitation of the Rosary will be at 8:30 tonight in the Brace-Smith Funeral Home. Service will be at 11 a.m. Saturday from St. Vincent de Paul Church with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Dr. John W. Fox

Dr. John W. Fox, 85, a retired Pontiac physician, died at his home, 1000 Third St., North St. Petersburg, Fla. yesterday morning.

Dr. Fox started his practice in Orion, coming to Pontiac in 1912. In 1939 he moved to Florida. He was a life member of Orion Lodge No. 46 F&AM, and the Order of Eastern Star, Lake Orion, and the Westminster Presbyterian Church of St. Petersburg.

Dr. Fox is survived by his wife, Eva, and a brother, Thomas A. Fox of Balmoral, Manitoba, Canada.

Service will be at 3 p.m. Saturday from the Rhodes Funeral Home, St. Petersburg.

Scott M. Lueck

Scott M. Lueck, infant son of Donald M. and Sarah Hulett Lueck of 5028 Thornapple St., died four hours after birth Tuesday in Palmer Osteopathic Hospital, Detroit.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a sister, Connie Jo; and two brothers, Donald M. Lueck II and Thomas Allan Lueck, all at home.

Prayers will be offered at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home by the Rev. Perry Deyarmond of the Ortonville Baptist Church. Burial will follow in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Fine Arts Group to Give Dondero Gold Medal

Former Rep. George A. Dondero will receive a unique honor Tuesday from the International Fine Arts Council at a special luncheon in the Capitol Building, Washington.

The council will bestow on Dondero its 1956 gold medal of honor, making him the only person outside the fine-arts profession to be so honored.

A group of Dondero's friends have been invited, including Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The medal will be presented by Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, third vice president of the Washington National Monument Society.

The former congressman will also receive the star and cross of the American International Academy and a diploma from the Academic Council.

The honors will be paid Dondero for the campaign he carried out during his public career against subversive elements in the art world.

Arab-Asian Block Asks Boycott

Israel Defies U.N. Bans

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Israelis took a defiant attitude today toward an Arab-Asian decision to seek U. N.-backed restrictions against Israel.

Israeli sources said the 80-nation General Assembly could vote all the restrictions it wants, but Israel will keep her troops in the Gaza Strip and along the Gulf of Aqaba coast until Egypt gives guarantees of peace.

Dispatches from Jerusalem said Israel's determination to hold on was hardening rather than weakening.

A spokesman for the 27 Arab-Asian nations announced yesterday the group had decided to draw up a resolution condemning Israel for not pulling out of Egypt and calling for economic, financial and military restrictions.

Informed sources said some members of the group still oppose such a drastic step as an economic boycott.

"If the United States lays down full economic and financial restrictions against the Israelis," one high Arab source said, "Israel would be paralyzed in less than a month."

Question Police in Complaints

Speed Trap Charges Made by Flint Man Denied by Van Atta

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today had Waterford Township police officers questioned about charges they run a "speed trap" on Dixie highway.

He said he hoped to get to the bottom of complaints that police irregularities result in drivers being ticketed unfairly.

The officers this morning were called into Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long's office to hear complaints detailed. Charges include:

Officers up the actual speed of cars when ticketing violators; officers wearing civilian clothes ride in unmarked cars at night to fool drivers; and officers pounce on victims before they have time to slow down for speed zones.

These were the main complaints made by 64 persons whose names were furnished Ziem last week by a Flint department store owner, Jack S. Masin, who claims he has been ticketed unfairly twice.

Masin said people wrote or telephoned him after he publicly denounced the township police in Flint.

Police Chief Frank Van Atta has flatly denied the charges, stating the crackdown on speeders has saved lives and property and will continue.

Ziem said each officer will be questioned about complaints that have been traced to him. "We ought to be able to find out whether there's anything behind this," he said.

The investigation was requested, Ziem said, by Att. Gen. Thomas Kavanagh, to whom Masin first appealed.

Three-Car Accident Injures Flint Woman

Mrs. Ann N. Anderson, 55, of 522 W. Newell St., Flint, was injured in a three-car accident at Walton boulevard near US10 yesterday afternoon, Waterford Township Police reported.

Mrs. Anderson was driving north of US10 when her car collided with one driven by Thomas Frank Harmon, 50, of 67 Norton St., Pontiac, and a second car driven by Clarence S. Carlson, 62, of 334½ Main St. Rochester, police said.

Mrs. Anderson was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head and scalp lacerations. She was released. The other two men were not injured.

Dogs Bite 3 Postmen

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Three postmen were bitten by dogs yesterday and Postmaster Taylor Henry again asked residents to keep their dogs tied up. He said eight postmen have been bitten in 1957 and said the year's total would surpass last year's 23 if the trend continues.

The Day in Birmingham

'Present True Picture' Smith Advises Nation

BIRMINGHAM — International dislike of the U. S. seems to be the theme today, according to Carleton Smith, concluding speaker of this year's Birmingham Town Hall Series.

Smith, who has just returned from an extended European trip and who has visited nearly every country in the world, said that recently he had noticed an increasing dislike for what we are doing and how we are doing it.

"It is hard for us to understand," he said, "that when we give so generously to foreign countries, they resent it.

"In India we were criticized because we did not give spiritually. In Europe we were criticized on the same beam when readers of American magazines commented unfavorably 'on our many pictures of undressed women.'"

He said, "We are, to their minds, flaunting our wealth and prosperity without giving them a chance to really know us. They know the American people as a whole, only by what they see and hear on television and radio, and read in our publications.

"Russia wins her point by appealing to the minds of the people and it is up to us to rephrase our way of thinking and let the people know that, we too, have our sentiments and spiritualistic sides.

"Only until we can present a true picture, can we win the entire respect of the countries to whom we are sending help."

With over $1,000,000 worth of property endangered, fire losses totaled $410 in Birmingham last month, according to the report of Fire Chief Park Smith.

The department made a total of 20 fire runs; nine miscellaneous investigations and three for first aid.

James W. Morr

Mr. Morr, 44, of 100 Rugby Rd., sports car and aviation enthusiast, died Wednesday at Berz Airport, shortly after landing his plane.

A stylist at the GM Tech Center, he came here four-and-a-half years ago from Indiana. He has helped design prototype cars and was active in the production of the Gruman Wildcat plane, used in World War II.

He was a member of University Lodge F&AM, Detroit.

He is survived by his wife, Mildred; his mother, Mrs. Ruby Maxwell of Auburn, Ind., and four sisters. Service will be Saturday at 11 a.m. from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Funeral Co., with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery. University Lodge will conduct ritualistic services.

Mrs. Mary W. Stephan

Widow of the late Julius P. Stephan, Mrs. Stephan, 92, died this morning in Detroit. Since last October she had made her home at 9543 Whipple Shore Dr., Clarkston.

She had come to Birmingham from Cincinnati, Ohio, 30 years ago and was a member of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. James D. Rogers of Clarkston; a granddaughter, Shirley R. Miars of Bay Village, Ohio; a grandson, Jon B. Rogers of Germany and two great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Monday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with the Rev. Dr. W. Glen Harris of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Cremation will follow.

Two From County 'Top Bet' Candidates

date the nod, it may be the support necessary to decide the winner.

Ritchie hinted that as a result of pre-convention maneuvering, county support might go to a party leader whose name has not yet been mentioned for the spot. "At this moment," he said, "we're not going to name any names."

One of the first acts of the county caucus, he said, will probably give Schimmel Oakland's endorsement.

Schimmel, long identified with educational problems, is president of the Pontiac Board of Education. He is a Detroit investment banker and is considered an authority on municipal finance.

There are two seats open on the agriculture board, with one of them almost certain to go to an incumbent, Frederick Mueller of Grand Rapids. Several other candidates have been mentioned as opposition Schimmel may face for the other seat.

Mrs. Watt is a housewife whose activity for the University of Michigan won her the distinguished alumni service award in 1954. She was endorsed at the county convention Jan. 30.

So far, she is the only woman contender to replace another Republican woman who has not sought re-election to the board. This puts Mrs. Watt in a favorable position to win the nomination, Ritchie said.

Republicans will nominate candidates to fill this vacancy and one other on the state board.

SEES NO OPPOSITION

Ritchie does not see opposition to Schimmel and Mrs. Watt arising because both are from Oakland County.

"I don't think the political argument of spacing candidates geographically works when it comes to these posts," he said. "The candidates ought to be considered solely on the basis of their qualifications and I think the convention will keep that in mind."

Ritchie said candidates for other posts will be invited to speak to the Oakland County delegation in its Statler Hotel suite tonight.

"This was our procedure last fall," he said, "and it worked very well, giving us a good idea of what kind of people are running."

The convention will select candidates for the four university posts, plus state highway commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, and a member of the state board of education.

Candidates nominated for supreme court justice will run on the non-partisan ballot.

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

MORE THAN ONE-HALF IS A MUST

You are entitled to an exemption deduction for a dependent if you provided more than one-half the support and the dependent received less than $600 gross income. He must be a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, Republic of Panama, or the Canal Zone.

Must have lived in your residence for the entire year as a member of your household or was closely related in one of the following ways: Mother, father, grandmother, grandfather, brother, sister, grandson, granddaughter, stepbrother, stepsister, stepfather, stepmother, father-in-law, mother-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law.

The following may qualify if related by blood: Uncle, aunt, nephew, niece.

(Further information on income tax problems is available without charge at the Internal Revenue Service office, 53½ W. Huron St. Phone FE 2-0208.)

WCAR to Boost Power, Move Studios to Detroit

Radio Station WCAR has announced it will increase its power from 10,000 to 50,000 watts during daylight broadcasting hours.

when WCAR's staff moves from Pontiac into new studios in the Masonic Temple in Detroit. The present power of 10,000 watts will be maintained during evening hours. The station said a new transmitter is expected to be in operation by March.

U.S. Won't Push A-Plane Project

Furmas Cites Technical Reasons for Slowdown of Costly Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official disclosure that the atom powered plane project has been slowed down comes from the Pentagon, along with a hint that some guided missiles may be pared out of that weapon development program.

Dr. Clifford C. Furnas, assistant secretary of defense for research and development, told newsmen yesterday the reasons are technical rather than economical.

He was asked specifically about the project to perfect an airplane driven by the power of a nuclear reactor. Sen. Symington (D-Mo) told a TV audience Sunday defense officials have almost abandoned work on the project "because they don't want to spend the money." Furnas said the A-plane program "is being stretched out for technical reasons." He said, too, that "we originally were a little optimistic" about the program.

If there were money to push ahead full-scale on all projects, a newsman asked, would that be done?

Furnas replied that "you come to a time when all these missiles are all growing up at the same time." If you have 12 children all reaching college age at the same time, he added, "you are going to send the ones to college with the best prospects."

Loses Car, Gets Rabbit

STAMBAUGH (AP) — Donald McDonald was intent on hunting rabbits when his car ran off the road and overturned down an embankment. McDonald and his beagle hound walked out of the wreck, described as a total loss, and a few steys away the beagle flushed a rabbit which McDonald promptly shot.

Britain Approves Plans for European Trade Pact

LONDON (AP)—Britain officially has approved plans to mold Western Europe into a giant economic unit capable of competing with the United States and Russia.

The aim is to wipe out tariff barriers among 17 West European countries and join some 250 million consumers into a free trade area and common market for their manufactured goods.

The government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan announced its approval of the scheme in a White Paper and proposed that the Council of Ministers of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation establish the machinery to negotiate detailed arrangements.

The Council meets in Paris next week, with British Chancellor of the Exchequer Peter Thorneycroft presiding.

An OEEC study group already has announced that technically it would be possible to set up such a free trade area in association with the European common market now nearing formation by six West European countries.

France, Western Germany, Italy Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are putting the finishing touches to their common market treaty. Over a period of years it would blot out tariffs among themselves and set up common tariff rules for goods entering the area from outside.

In addition to the common market nations, the other 11 OEEC countries would be eligible to join. They are Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Portugal, Iceland, Greece, Turkey, Ireland, Austria, Switzerland and Britain.

Britain in the past has balked at joining an organization such as the free trade group she now proposes. One reason was that it might loosen her ties with her Commonwealth and colonies. Another was a fear that this country's high standard of wages and living might be pulled down to the level of the Continental partners.

But in a speech last month, Macmillan said Britain's "destiny" was in closer cooperation with her European neighbors.

Mistreatment Charge Regretted by Marine

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—A young recruit who has charged mistreatment by his drill instructor and is a central figure in a Marine Corps investigation says, "It looks like I've started something I didn't want to start."

"I'm up to my neck in this thing and I wish I weren't," said Pvt. David Lee Porter, 18, of Hartford, Vt.

Porter made the comment to a reporter last night in a telephone conversation about the new investigation of charges of maltreatment of recruits at the Parris Island Marine training base.

He declined to elaborate on the accusations that he and several other recruits have made against drill instructors at this boot camp. He said he would not discuss the case until he talked with his father.

The father, Nelson R. Porter of Hartford, Vt., arrived here late yesterday to talk with Marine base officials about the charges. He was told he would have to wait until today to visit his son.

The base did not list the other recruits filing the charges, but announced that four drill instructors in Recruit Platoon 399 were relieved of instruction duty pending outcome of the probe. No charges have been filed, nor names of the instructors revealed.

Young Porter, a six-foot 200-pounder in Recruit Platoon 399, wrote a letter to his parents saying he had been struck with an iron bar and was "forced to march with sand in his mouth."

The father wrote of his son's charges to Gen. Homer L. Litzenburg, the base commander, who ordered a preliminary inquiry.

Capt. James F. Mahoney, the base public information officer, said the preliminary inquiry revealed "nothing beyond the use of the hands" by two drill instructors and that nothing had been turned up to substantiate young Porter's charge that he was struck by an iron bar.

Vigil in Terminal for Couple Till Dog Is Found

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Until Sugar Ray is found, Mrs. A. L. Newcomer is making the Los Angeles Union Passenger Terminal her home.

"We're staying here until they find my dog," she said last night.

The "we" includes her husband, a boilerman in the Navy; their other dog, a young cocker spaniel named Peanuts; and their parakeet Baby.

"I've got 30 days leave," said her husband, "and if the dog doesn't show up, we'll spend it right here."

Sugar Ray is a 4-year-old female sheltie and Mrs. Newcomer, 29, said the dog is insured for $1,000. Sugar Ray was in a box with Peanuts in a train bringing the family from Oakland to Los Angeles Tuesday night.

"When the train slowed down at Berkeley to take on mail", said Mrs. Newcomer, "Sugar Ray got out of the box and jumped out the door."

She says she is going to wait at the station — not to spite the railroad — but because "when they find her, this is where they'll bring her."

When the train reached Los Angeles Wednesday morning, and she found that Sugar Ray was missing Mrs. Newcomer fainted.

The two dogs and the parakeet came to California when Newcomer was transferred from Pearl Harbor to Long Beach, where he is to report March 9.

"I was supposed to check into the naval hospital at Long Beach as soon as I got here," said Mrs. Newcomer. "I've got an infected kidney, and they say it's going to spread if I don't get it taken care of.

"But let it spread. I want her found before I check into the hospital."

new, safe All-in-One capsule plan for easy reducing

science now helps you take off your fat while you eat the foods you choose
Do you like sweets, candy, cake, butter, gravy, potatoes? Have you tried one thing after another to reduce, spent dollar after dollar for pills and tablets and in spite of everything you've tried you're still too fat? Well, be as skeptical as you like, but NOW, right NOW, there's a wonderful new kind of capsule that helps you take off pounds and inches of ugly fat safely, quickly and so much easier you hardly know what's happening. You don't suffer starvation dieting hunger, you take no drugs, you don't exercise. In fact, you don't even diet one bit more than you want to, because you automatically eat less and here's why...
counteracts hunger
Just recently a well known scientist perfected a new tiny capsule that combines not one but ALL THE RECOGNIZED proven aids to reducing. It combines the vitamins and minerals often lost when cutting off fattening foods containing these needed vitamins and minerals. It combines the vegetable cellulose that has no calories, yet expands when it absorbs water, thereby helping give the feeling of a full contented stomach. In fact, these tiny capsules are so packed with vitamins and minerals, protein and non-caloric filling food, they actually equal and exceed many a meal.
fat goes fast
You'll be surprised at the fat you lose the first week, the inches that disappear the first month. No hunger, no strict dieting, no drugs, no exercise. And the cost is absolutely nothing unless you grow slim, more youthful looking, more active and enjoy better health.
$2.98
80 Capsules
Economy Size, 100 Capsules $3.50

Half-Million a Day Isn't Peanuts

Three General Motors divisions in Pontiac spent $180 million last year in Pontiac and the Pontiac area. The sum comprised payrolls for the year and expenditures for supplies and materials purchased in the immediate area. The total was revealed by heads of the three divisions yesterday.

This astounding sum is another indication of the magnitude of the General Motors' operations in our community.

It is difficult for any one to visualize accurately how much money it takes to reach $180,000,000.

But broken down to smaller time periods, $180 million a year means that our three major automotive divisions poured almost three and a half million a week into the community.

Or, if you like it better this way, an average of about ONE HALF MILLION dollars a day, seven days a week, fifty-two weeks of the year.

The major share of this sum, $147,485,000, went directly to the 27,000 men and women employed by the division. (The average was 27,000; December saw 29,000 at work). The rest of the $180 million went to the many small firms and others in the area with which our GM divisions do business.

And all of it continues, week by week, to circulate, pumping life into our economic structure. The area is indeed fortunate to have these three major divisions as a part of our industrial community.

Top Authority Speaks on "Juvenile Criminals"

J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the F.B.I. is one of the most respected men in this country, and when he discusses crime and criminals, he speaks as a top authority.

Thus his pronouncement on the activities of the younger element carries unusual weight and significance. Mr. Hoover suggests it is high time we quit classifying these social derelicts as "juvenile delinquents" and properly tag them "juvenile criminals." That's what they are.

HOOVER

Who can better judge?

Who is a greater authority?

For a time, when the teenagers began their wanton acts, newspapers were charitable and lenient in covering their depravities. Their names were withheld and the accounts of their crimes were glossed over. The press of a nation hoped for the best and anticipated an improvement.

But none came.

The situation grew worse.

During the past twelve months—and longer—the extent of their criminal activities lengthened until today it is a very sobering thing. No one can view the record with anything approaching equanimity.

Mr. Hoover thinks it is time to stop coddling these young hoods and treat them as they deserve. This means a full revelation of their names, addresses and family connections. It means calling juvenile criminals exactly that. Why should they be "protected" by the erroneous and misleading classification of "juveniles?"

A thief is a thief.

He should be labeled accordingly.

This newspaper has been pursuing Mr. Hoover's edicts for some time. At the outset, we were moved by pity and sympathy. We believed the bulk of these youthful offenders could be reclaimed, and we acted accordingly. Now, unhappily, we aren't so sure. We're uncertain.

We feel they should be treated as society treats their brethren—neither worse nor better. They should be accepted on their own evaluation and on the basis of their own comportment.

When a man with Mr. Hoover's experience, skill and human understanding reaches conclusions in the fields of criminal activities, the balance of society can go along. We all accept the leadership of experience. Sometimes we all face an unhappy recognition of facts we have sought to repress, but there's always this day of reckoning.

For the juvenile criminals, it's here now.

As a rule, people don't say what they really think. They say what they think their listeners think they ought to think.

Asked if she would like to marry Bing Crosby, Kathy Grant replied, "Wouldn't anybody?"—Press report. No.

Perhaps the best prognosticator of them all is of Drayton Plains, who writes, "I have no more confidence in the weather statistics of former years than in the predictions of our present weather bureau."

A Pontiac dentist tells me that a plastic coating for teeth, now being developed, will knock a big hole in the nation's 1.5 billion annual dental bill.

"How do you go about it to get your name in The Man About Town column?" writes of Walled Lake, who continues, "Our dog gave birth to seven pups, all females. Is that sufficient?" Exceedingly and amazingly sufficient, Harvey.

Harvey Olenbach

Now living in Detroit,

Hardly the Man to Kick Around

David Lawrence Says:

Reporters to Red China a Violation

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This is a story concerning the parents and relatives of the 33,629 American boys killed and about the 103,284 who were wounded in the Korean War. Some of these boys were maimed. Some are still confined to beds or wheelchairs and will be for the rest of their lives.

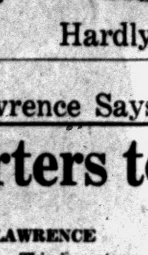

These young Americans — and the more than 1,000,000 who came back safely — were put into uniform and asked to serve the United Nations in repelling Communist aggression in Korea.

The sacrifices they made, the bravery they exhibited, the anguish their parents and relatives felt as word came of the tragic fate of so many of them at the hands of the enemy are not forgotten by the families of these soldiers and sailors, marines and airmen.

But has the rest of America forgotten them?

Today, as one reads a press dispatch from New York, there is reason to doubt whether even the publishers of some newspapers remember what happened in Korea. For it says that a group of publishers, constituting the board of directors of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, has passed a resolution declaring that American reporters should be allowed to travel "in any country with which the United States is not at war."

LAWRENCE

The stated purpose of the resolution was to petition President Eisenhower and the state department to lift the ban on travel by American newsmen who have been invited by the Communist government in Peiping to go to Red China.

The assumption in the resolution is that the United States is "not at war" with Red China's government. But it is a wrong assumption. It is surprising that such a resolution could be adopted and sent not only to the President but to the vice president and the Speaker of the House as representing the viewpoint of American newspaper publishers.

Not only is the United States still in a state of war with the Red China government but so also is the United Nations. In fact, the military forces of the United States are today stationed in Korea guarding the armistice line as the official agents of the United Nations.

No peace treaty with the Communist Chinese has ever been signed. The armistice terms have repeatedly been violated. No access to North Korea has been given by the Communists even to the inspection teams from the United Nations charged with the duty of observing whether the armistice terms are being violated.

AGGRESSOR STILL

On Wednesday of this very week, Walter S. Robertson, the assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, made a speech at Bloomington, Illinois, in which he said: "In 1950, having been in power less than a year, Red China invaded Korea and was promptly branded an aggressor against the peace of the world by United Nations resolution. That resolution is still outstanding. If Red China was an aggressor in 1950, it is an aggressor in 1957. Its armies are still in military occupation of North Korea.

It has shown complete disregard for international commitments made on its own account. Signing an armistice in Korea in July 1953 calling for the exchange of all war prisoners, it held back groups of our prisoners and later bargained for their release. It brought into North Korea hundreds of modern airplanes and other combat equipment prohibited by the armistice agreement."

Congress has by law forbidden Americans to engage in any trade or transactions with the Red Chinese. American correspondents who take American money into China violate the law of the United States.

LI'L ONES

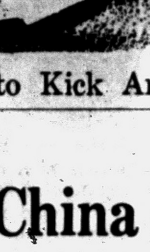

"Okay, but what'll we be friends about?"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Airy Creak in the Joint Is No Puzzler to Osler

"I work in a steel warehouse, and it is usually cold and damp there. I am 38 years old. The past several months my knees elbows, and wrists have been aching. It seems to be in the bones. During the day my joints reak but at night creak; at night my knee aches (C. C.)

BRADY

Doctor Osler would have understood your case, young man. The famous Dr. William Osler, later Sir William, I mean. His textbook Practice of Medicine, published in 1892, went through many editions before Osler left this country to join the medical faculty at Oxford.

The "Practice" was everywhere recognized as the No. 1 textbook of medicine, and it became a literary classic while Osler rounded out his American career as Professor of Medicine at Johns Hopkins.

At least nine other textbooks on Practice have been published since Osler's time; but a library without one or more editions of Osler is not much of a library, and a doctor who hasn't worn out at least one copy of Osler hasn't really studied medicine.

ONLY LABEL CHANGED

The only difference between Dr. Osler's view of chronic joint disability and the view or recognized medical authorities of today is in the label. What Osler called chronic rheumatism the present authorities call chronic arthritis.

Rheumatism doesn't mean anything in particular. The word formerly meant catarrh, a discharge, etc., and how it got associated with joint disability is anybody's surmise.

Arthritis means joint inflammation. But in most instances of joint disability labeled chronic arthritis, arthritis is a misnomer, for there is no sign of inflammation at any stage of the trouble, except from incidental injury or strain.

BETWEEN LINES

But between the lines Dr. Osler tells a good deal about chronic joint disability. It develops insidiously in persons past the acme, the pinnacle or peak of growth, development. Past the physiological age (never mind chronological age) of, say, 37 years, after which there's nowhere to go but downhill.

Decline is one name for it. Degeneration is another, physical degeneration. In order to get a wholesome idea of physical degeneration you should consult Webster for the medical definition of the term and send Brady a stamped, self-addressed envelope for that pamphlet "Calcium and Rheumatiz."

Please notice that I apply the term rheumatiz specifically to physical degeneration of joint tissues, and I warn you that if you insist on calling it either rheumatism or arthritis I won't know what you're talking about.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Son Not Suited to Father's Work

A nervous breakdown usually results from a deep-seated and prolonged emotional conflict between two antagonistic desires. Romantic frustration is one of the most common causes but Jerome's case illustrates a different background.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-395: Jerome M., aged 24, is a third year medical student.

"I wish you'd take Jerome in tow," a professor friend of mine urged me over the telephone.

"He is a fine chap and comes from an excellent family. His father is a prominent surgeon. And the boy has done good work for his first two years in medical school.

"Now, however, he has collapsed, scholastically. He sits around dreaming. He will not study. In fact, he is becoming so detached from the world that we must do something quickly or the boy may become a mental case.

"I'm going to recommend to his father that Jerome drop his medical studies, but I'd like to have your opinion and also have you talk to the boy immediately.

"The father will be broken up over the case, for his heart has been set on Jerome's becoming a surgeon."

DOMINEERING PAPA

It isn't infrequent for a professional student to collapse like this, and not from undernourishment or other physical causes.

Many dominant parents become so captivated by the idea of having their son join them so they can add the "& Son" to the name of the firm or clinic, that they often bulldoze a timid boy into following a career which is distasteful to him.

This is effectively demonstrated in Jerome's case. Jerome's mother is a quiet, music-loving woman. But her husband dominates her home.

Telephone calls, hospital staff meetings, conventions and consultations, emergency surgery—these keep the household in turmoil.

Everything must be arranged, therefore, around the doctor and his duties. The timid wife has meekly reflected his glory and gained her self-expression at the keyboard of their grand piano.

JEROME'S CONFLICT

Since it is rather difficult for two dominant personalities to monopolize the same stage, we are likely to find the children taking a secondary role whenever either parent is an agressive go-getter type of individual. A magnetic parent often means a shy child:

And so it was with Jerome. In high school he was a studious, quiet boy, with a great passion for sketching. His vocational preference lay in the realm of art. In fact, he wanted to attend art school.

But his father was determined that his son should follow in his medical footsteps. The father accordingly chose Jerome's course of study. The father pushed him along a scientific program, selected to suit the wishes of the father, not the son.

In fact, Jerome and his father had little in common, partly owing to the strenuous demands of the medical profession which kept the doctor away from home a great deal of the time during Jerome's boyhood.

WHY BREAKDOWNS OCCUR

So Jerome has been between the devil and the deep blue sea. He admired his father, and wished to avoid offending him. He also appreciated his obligations to his male parent, and naturally wished to make him happy.

But he disliked medical subjects. He had never wanted to be a doctor, anyway.

Once or twice he and his mother had timidly tried to state their viewpoint, and suggest that Jerome's talent lay in the direction of art, but the doctor pooh-poohed such an idea.

Of course, Jerome was going to be a great surgeon, just like his dad: For 25 years the father had cherished such an ambition. He would not let anything stand in the way of its fulfillment.

So Jerome took two years of pre-medical work at the liberal Arts college and then enrolled in medical school. However, the deeper he got into medicine, the more he longed for art. In this basic conflict, he finally broke down.

'We Must Stop Spending or We Cannot Cut Taxes'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Herbert Hoover is one of the really great Americans of this era. When he warns of inflation, it's sound advice coming from an expert. He says taxes must come down.

Well, to reduce taxes you must reduce spending and if the President wants to experiment further with a welfare state, we can't have any reductions. Nothing is free. There are enough jobs now to obviate the need for the womb-to-tomb "protection" that is ruining England.

Anti-Socialist

'Milky' Fund Up $1 on Joe Louis

I saw a letter in The Press signed "Milky." It asked that instead of sending dollar bills to Joe Louis to help with his back income tax, dollar bills be sent to him (or her) as he (or she) couldn't afford to buy milk for the children after paying their own tax bill. Enclosed is my dollar.

'U. S. Not Founded to Avoid Taxation'

In answer to "Tea Party Descendant," no, it is not true that U.S.A. was founded to avoid taxation! Rather it was to avoid unfair taxation without representation. However, that was only one injustice our forefathers sought to evade. Our country had far greater reason to be, among others tolerance, to all men, but does it follow? Are we true?

Questions Raise in Hospital Salary

As a taxpayer, I have been following with interest the fine coverage provided by The Pontiac Press regarding the recent increases in salaries of personnel at Pontiac General Hospital.

Since this institution is supported by taxes, I feel this action is of vital interest to the residents of Pontiac. What are the qualifications of the supervisor responsible for operating the hospital? Is she able to operate an institution of this size in an efficient manner, and is the recent increase in salary in line with capabilities?

Wondering

'Home of the Brave But What's Free?'

Yes, this is the home of the brave, but tell me, where is the land of the free? Due to limitations of this column, it would be impossible to list our present taxes and they are now talking of taxing the people $2.00 to enter a state park.

We are already buying and maintaining the state parks through taxation. I for one can say taxation has gone the limit. I can also say I will not pay to enter a state park. The tax the state would collect would be a couple of million dollars, but that wouldn't build a mansion for our already rich governor. We will have to have a special tax for that.

And don't forget our rich vice president. He demands a mention, too. "More taxes." Again I say, we sure represent the home of the brave.

Griped at Parkers Who Block Walk

I have a pet peeve I'd like to air in public. To people who park their cars all night and sometimes all day and don't bother to see if they are blocking someone's cross walk. It happens the year around. You clean off the sidewalks and when you go out to catch your ride for work, you have to go out into the street to reach the car, either in deep snow or puddles of water. I don't think people stop and see where they are parked.

'Park According to Marks? How?'

A good way to keep out-of-town people out of town is the parking lot on Lafayette. It was covered with ice and snow, no parking signs were visible.

I put a coin into the meter for two-hour parking, got a ticket for expired meter and was told by the clerk I should have parked according to the yellow markings. How?

Personal Political Experience Stirs Interest, Says Candidate

"If more people gained a personal experience in politics by attending a precinct meeting or a county convention, I'm sure they would be inspired to take a more active part in local government," according to a Waterford Township resident seeking his first public office.

Howard V. Rummell, 30, of 1869 Orchid Rd., got his start when he became a write-in delegate to last fall's county Republican convention. He had been active in the party for two years previously.

Currently he is seeking the GOP nomination in the Feb. 18 township pimary for the position of clerk. He is presently captain of precinct 6, containing some 2100 registered voters.

"I have seen in my travls around the township that many persons have a dormant interest in their local party activities, but have done nothing about it.

"They are uninformed about many local problems and situations, and this could be cured by a more active interest in the grass-roots levels of government," he added.

An accountant for General Motors Truck and Coach Division, Rummell attended Michigan State University, and was graduated from the Pontiac Business Institute.

And although local party activities take some of his time, Rummell finds time for his wife, two children, and his hobby, landscaping.

This weekend, howeve,r, he'll be following his own advice, and taking an active role in government. Alonng with many other county Republicans, he is a delegate to the state convention in Detroit.

Federal Judge Kocinski Plans to Retire April 1

DETROIT (AP) — Federal Judge Arthur A. Kocinski will apply for retirement April 1 — the date of his 70th birthday.

He announced his decision yesterday.

Kocinski was appointed to the post by former president Truman Aug. 7, 1945.

Federal judges may retire at 70 with full pension benefits.

Oil Price Boost May Be Justified

Senator Wants to Hear Full Petroleum Story on Rising Costs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barrett (R-Wyo) said today oil industry spokesmen may be able to "make a showing" for price increases wholly aside from effects of the Suez Canal closing.

Some members of Congress and others have accused the oil industry of price gouging in the wake of stepped-up demands for oil to be shipped to Europe. There have been suggestions for government action if the oil firms don't roll back their prices.

But Barrett told a newsman he wanted to hear the industry's side before reaching a conclusion.

He is participating in a Joint Senate Antimonopoly Public Lands subcommittee inquiry into recent fuel oil and gasoline price boosts, and operation of the emergency oil-for-Europe program sponsored by the government.

He said testimony yet to be presented might show that rising costs, unrelated to the Suez crisis, justified a hike in oil prices. Since early January crude oil prices have been boosted 35 cents a barrel and gasoline a cent a gallon.

Check Your Answers With These

The following are the answers and explanations to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 35 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. LINE is fine. A LINE marks boundaries and determines straightness, so a surveyor must be careful with it. A Link is one of many in a surveyor's chain, so it is the chain in general, not a single LINK, that would require the surveyor's care.

2. ROW is right. First Bow (debut) would be a repetitious phrase. Besides, even allowing for this, it is not only considered desirable, it is so. First ROW is considered desirable, as there is no obstruction of view, although some people prefer to sit farther back.

3. CLAW wins. Because a Flaw (imperfection) need not be a mark, you must choose CLAW. A FLAW can very well be a mismatching of wood or unevenness.

4. BURY is better. The elements only very seldom would Burn any city. An electrical storm would have to set fire to it for this to happen. But abandonment of a city to the elements (time, erosion, dust) suits well.

5. GAIN must be chosen. The curse of Cain is just another way of saying murder, and it is too much to claim that murder would not bother even a callous criminal. There is always the danger of being caught, which is enough to cause tension or fear. The curse of GAIN would be the evil accompanying ill-gotten GAIN. Obviously, this does not bother the callous criminal who chose to be one for just such GAIN.

6. GUARD is good. To GUARD a case skillfully would mean preventing the opposition from learning the proposed defense too soon, the surprise witnesses, etc. It behooves a lawyer to Argue skillfully in all cases, as his reputation depends on this.

7. LOW is better. A Lob shot is designed to "kill" the ball, as it is far over and beyond the reach of a man at the net. It is supposed to baffle the net player by falling too far from him to reach in time to return it. A LOW shot does not bounce high enough for a smash hit, is one that is difficult to return for the kill, and so is usually returned to be kept in play.

8. TOPIC works well. Proper vision, or grasp of a TOPIC, is essential if it is to be clear to anyone. An Optic, humorous designation of an eye, need not have proper vision to be clear. An OPTIC can be quite nearsighted and be perfectly clear (bright, not bloodshot, healthy-looking).

9. FOOT suits, FOOT, a measure, goes well with arithmetic, the elementary branch of mathematics. Root goes well with mathematics.

10. DOLL is right. The very use of the word Idol implies an adoration that has far surpassed the ordinary. A girl may adore her DOLL to excess, just as she may not do so. IDOL always implies excessive adoration.

11. PERCH is better. All birds have a way of PERCHING, or a PERCH they prefer. An eagle has a high PERCH, a rooster a low one, etc. Not all birds Chirp. Small birds can be said to CHIRP, but crickets also CHIRP. CHIRP indicates size, rather than other characteristics. PERCH indicates flight habits, preying habits, choice of nest, etc.

12. BICKER is better. Buyer and seller can Dicker (bargain) and still reach an amicable agreement. When they BICKER (dispute), they are unfriendly.

13. CANDY wins. All golfers who use one, hire a Caddy to save their energy. Some golfers may take CANDY for the quick energy it affords.

14. FEY, meaning elfin or otherworldly, is right. Girls with such characteristics would not be practical enough to make good wives. A man who dates Few girls, however, may well find just the right one among the FEW.

15. BAIL is okay. Jail is not merely considered effective, it is known to be effective in controlling criminals (preventing their escape). BAIL (amount of money required to guarantee appearance of a criminal on demand) is considered effective by authorities who set the BAIL. Nobody can say that JAIL is ineffective; some can say that BAIL is.

16. DUFFEL is correct. A Duffer is a novice, but you can't state that he can be spotted often by the DUFFER (another novice) he goes around with. He will always be spotted by him! A novice can often be spotted by the DUFFEL he goes around with. Often it is too elaborate, or too inadequate, or in some way betraying of the fact that he is a novice. Well-chosen DUFFEL, or equipment, is the sign of an expert.

India's Nehru 'Stood Up' by Singer Eartha Kitt

NEW DELHI (AP) — American singer Eartha Kitt missed her lunch date today with Prime Minister Nehru. It was not known whether she would get another chance.

The sultry American Negro singer was due here last night but failed to arrive. Finally she telegraphed from Tehran that she was delayed en route and was arriving tonight. She gave no explanation for the delay.

Elect Lumber President at Grand Rapids Meet

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Robert A. Dean of Traverse City has been elected president of the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers Assn., concluding its 68th annual convention.

Also named as new officers were:

James H. VanZylen of Grand Haven, first vice president, and W. T. Bulger of Flint, second vice president. Harold H. Hager of Lansing was reelected treasurer for his seventh term.

PAGE ONE NEWS — The front of the Mexico, Mo., Ledger's new building is designed to look like the front page of the newspaper. It is one of the most modern and efficiently designed small newspaper plants in the country. Interesting interior features include the Ledger's collection of 52 plaques, trophies and certificates won in national, regional and state newspaper contests. The Ledger celebrated its 100th anniversary in 1955. The line under the name on the facade reads: "Dedicated to the people's right to know."

New Radio Receiver Will Track Satellite

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Bendix Aviation Corporation has begun production of a radio tracking device so sensitive that it can hear invisible stars and detect radio noise originating on the sun.

The device is called Minitrack. It will be used to track and pinpoint the earth satellite to be launched next year as a part of Project Vanguard.

The Minitrack receiver was developed by the Naval Research Laboratory and is being built for the Navy by Bendix.

The start of production on the intricate equipment was announced yesterday by Edward K Foster, vice president and general manager of the company's radio division.

The receivers will be used to pick up the faint radio signals transmitted by the man - made moon as it circles the earth at a speed of 18,000 miles an hour.

Police Catch Vandals

PAW PAW (AP) — Police have caught up with two boys, 10 and 11 years old, whose vandalism was blamed for closing the Code school west of Decatur twice within a week. They boys overturned furnishings, smashed windows and hacked up a piano with a hatchet. Their parents were ordered to make the boys help clean up the wreckage.

Bob Considine Says:

Paul Revere Will Ride Once More

NEW YORK (INS)—Lots of People didn't like the midnight ride of Paul Revere. The British, to name one segment. Old Blabbermouth, they called him, upon apprehending him after he had covered only 21 miles and worked but eight hours.

Samuel Eliot Morison, Ester Forbes and others have taken issue with Longfellow for exceeding poetic license by insinuating that the midnight ride was the apex of a fruitful 83 years.

Joe E. Lewis, a historian who does some of his greatest thinking at the Copacabana saloon in New York, joined the list of doubters years ago. Appearing in Boston, Joe was asked to contribute to a new statue to the great patriot.

Joe is generous to a fault, and sometimes to a double fault. But this time the veteran track enthusiast put his foot down. "No," he said. "Not a penny. I didn't like the ride he give the horse. He took him wide at Lexington."

All of which is a thumb-cluttered way of relating that on the 24th of this month a Boston TV player named Rex Trailer, dressed like Revere, will mount the first of many horses and retrace Revere's greatest ride—indeed, one of the most significant associations between man and beast in any nation's annals.

BOSTON TO PHILLY

Revere's top ride was from Boston to Philadelphia, via New York, bearing the tremendous tidings of the Boston Tea Party. He was entrusted with that information by Sam Adams and other leaders of the "Sons of Liberty" who pulled the coup.

This was December 1773, whereas his more celebrated gallop was on April 17, 1775. The Boston-Philadelphia run did much to unify and encourage the then separate activities of men who strove for their liberty.

The New York Journal of Thursday, Dec. 23, 1773 ("printed and published by John Holt, near the coffee house") announced:

(Editor's note: The letter F is used here instead of the old English S.)

"Tuefday night an exprefs (Revere) arrived here from Bofton, who left it on Friday laft, and brings fundry Letters among which are the following viz . . .

" 'Gentlemen: Yesterday we had a greater meeting of the body than ever. The country coming in from Twenty Miles round, and every Step was taken that was practicable for returning the Teas.

" 'The Moment it was known out of Doors that Mr. Rotch could not obtain a Pafs for his Ship, by the Caftle, a number of People Huzza'd in the street, and in a very little time, every Ounce of the Teas on board of Capt. Hall, Bruce and Coffin was immerfed in the Bay, without the leaft Injury to private property.

" 'Spirit of the People on this Occafion furprifed all Parties, who viewed the Scene. We conceived it our Duty to afford you the most early Advice of this interefting Event, by Exprefs, which, departs immediately.' "

REPEATED RIDE

Anyway, Paul Revere Trailer expects to ride the distance by March 4 and will stay at three inns where Revere himself might well have stayed on his rugged trip.

Brooks Brothers is making him a costume copied from John Singleton Copley's famed portrait which hangs in the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. P. Mantos, Boston bootmaker, is doing his boots.

His destination, as it was before the birth of the nation, will be the Indian Queen Tavern. But this time the tavern is a reproduction, done to scale within Philadelphia's first new hotel in 30 years, the $15,000,000 Philadelphia Sheraton.

And watch that fork in the road at Yonkers!

Only whaling station in the U.S. is at Eureka, California.

African Railroad Offers Excitement

By NATHAN POLOWETZKY
(For Hal Boyle)

LONDON (AP)—If you want excitement, take a job running a railroad in Kenya.

There are lions to fight and elephants to dodge. Keeps a man fit all the time.

Malcolm H. Archer, public relations officer of the East African Railway & Harbors, Nairobi, idly reading about the troubles of railroading in some countries, recounted some of EARH's difficulties in a letter to the Times.

Out of the archives of his firm he dug up these historic messages:

From station master, Irima, to game warden, Tsavo Royal National Park, November, 1954: "You required urgently at Irima station to watch and kill notorious lion hunting railway staff after 6 p.m. daily."

Then there was one on Jan. 29, 1954, from the assistant station master, Kanga, to the district traffic superintendent, Mombasa: "Yard congested with about eleven elephants."

In August, 1955, there flashed this message from the station master, Voi, to district traffic superintendent, Mombasa:

"Urgent — assistant station master narrowly escaped from being caught by lion, assisted by traveling ticket examiner. All staff unwilling to do night working. Afford protection."

And in June, 1956, the station master, Bujoko, wired the district traffic superintendent, Kampala:

"One buffalo chasing gangman. Work stopped. Arrange early shooting."

It was the same — or even worse—back in the early 1900s.

One message in May, 1901, from station master, Tsavo, to traffic manager, Nairobi, stated: "Just a lion tried twice or thrice to break office and fencing doors, leaving office door on bell ringing half-hour. Myself and family, consisting of two wives and three children, narrowly escaping danger of life. Now seeking safety in office. Cannot dare give 'line clear' signal to oncoming train. Please arrange matter own personal satisfaction and dispose of two lions who great bane of my existence."

File Work Week Bill, 40 Hours for Policemen

LANSING (AP)—Policemen in all cities of more than 10,000 population would work a 40 hour week under a bill filed in the House.

Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain), its sponsor, said a similar measure failed to pass two years ago. "But we're going to get it through this time," he declared.

An average automobile consumes 8,000 gallons of gasoline in its lifetime. At present rates its owner will pay state and federal gasoline taxes amounting to approximately $600.

Seek Stolen Dynamite

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Eaton County Police today sought 500 pounds of dynamite and fuses stolen from the Road Commission gravel pit near Charlotte. Thieves took the explosives from a cement building. The theft was discovered Wednesday.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

YOUR DOG — 5
The Dachshund

The dachshund is a dog everybody recognizes. It has a long body, short legs, a cone-shaped head and long, drooping ears.

A strong, hardy dog with a good sense of smell, the dachshund is quick to find small animals hiding in holes in the ground. In Germany it once was used for hunting badgers. In fact, dachshund means "badger hound" in German.

A lovable companion for both children and grownups, the dachshund is easy to keep neat. His short smooth hair does not shed. Usually he is black or red brown with a black nose.

Here is Trudy and her pet dachshund, Pooky. On cold days Pooky wears a blanket. Sometimes he wears a sweater made for him by Trudy. As soon as Pooky sees his blanket or sweater he knows he is going out.

You can add Pooky to your collection by pasting this picture on cardboard and coloring with crayons. Trudy wears a cap with red trimmings. Pooky's sweater and blanket are blue.

Cut out the picture along the heavy outlines. Fold the left end forward on the dotted line, the right end back, to make the picture stand. Then cut out the three slots, two on Pooky's back and one under him. Push the tabs on the sweater into these slots and fold the two top ones down, the lower one up. Now Pooky is dressed to go out.

(Sonja Hansen, Fairbanks, Alaska, is the winner of the $10 award for sending this idea first. Send your suggestions to Junior Editors care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Red Cross Asks Aid to Clothe Refugees

An urgent appeal for clothing for Hungarian refugees has been received by the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The appeal, according to Rev. William C. Hamm, of Lake Angelus, chapter chairman, cited the arrival of thousands of additional refugees at the Joyce Kilmer Reception Center, Camp Kilmer, N. J.

The National Red Cross is asking the Oakland Chapter to supply items for 145 men and 65 women as its part of the national quota.

Needed are new or used clothing in good condition. For men the items required are suits, jackets, sweaters and overcoats. For women, suits, sweaters, skirts, blouses and winter coats.

The clothing should be brought to the chapter house, 118 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, Rev. Hamm said.

Before Christmas, the Oakland Red Cross Chapter sent some 400 pounds of clothing directly overseas for Hungarian refugees, but Rev. Hamm pointed out, this was collected by a general appeal and no quota was set. Now the need is more urgent than ever.

He said the national headquarters had informed him that the refugees were arriving with a bare minimum of personal effects, because they had left Hungary on foot, some walking as far as 70 miles.

You Still Have to Pay It

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—This city plans to hire 10 women as enforcement officers for parking regulations only. Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons says other cities have found lady ticketgivers "less likely to draw sarcasm or criticism from the motorists they warn or ticket."

NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN

It is necessary that all dog owners in Oakland County must produce a certificate that their dog (or dogs) has been vaccinated against rabies within the last 12 months before township residents or city residents of Walled Lake or Keego Harbor can receive a 1957 dog license from their respective treasurers.

If such owners do not possess such a certificate, the same may be obtained from their local Veterinarian or at one of the county-operated clinics which will be held at the following listed locations from 1-4 p.m.:

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9
West Bloomfield Twp. Hall—South Willow Beach Dr., Keego Harbor
White Lake Twp. Fire Hall—M-59 and Porter Road

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 10
Novi Twp. Hall—Novi Road, Novi
Waterford Twp. Hall—4995 Highland Rd., Waterford

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 17
Walled Lake City Hall—Walled Lake
Troy Twp. Fire Hall—2780 Rochester Rd.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 24
Ortonville Fire Hall—Ortonville
Oakland County Animal Shelter—1200 East Walton Blvd., Pontiac

The 1957 Dog Licenses will also be available at the above listed clinics.

License Fees:

Male Dog	$1.00
Female Dog	2.00
Unsexed Dog	1.00

ON MARCH 1, 1957 THE ABOVE FEES WILL BE DOUBLED

Fee for rabies vaccinations at county clinics is $2.00 per dog

Indigents or other persons who are unable to pay the vaccination fee will receive the services without charge provided reasonable proof is offered of their financial condition.

Quiet George Humphrey Raises Voice

By International News Service

The fact that George Magoffin Humphrey is campaigning against the high rate of government spending surprises no one who knows his economic conservatism. What does startle many associates of the treasury secretary is the fact that he's waging his campaign so publicly.

That's very unlike the Cleveland industrialist who came to Washington in 1953 warning reporters that "I have never been very strong for personal publicity." Friends called his remark an understatement, insisting that "George never made a public speech in his life."

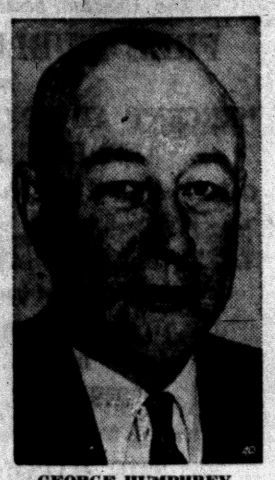

In fact, Humphrey once earned himself the title of "big mystery man." That was in 1948, when he was chief adviser to Paul G. Hoffman, then administrator of the Marshall plan, and would use the back stairs at Claridge's Hotel in London to avoid meeting newsmen.

When Humphrey was chosen President Eisenhower's treasury secretary, he was already one of the most important man in the country, although the public had hardly ever heard of him.

WORKED QUIETLY

Quietly, he was serving as chairman of the board of the M. A. Hanna Steel Company and as chairman of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., the world's largest producer of bituminous coal.

Quietly, he was looking after his interests in coal, steel, plastics, natural gas, rayon and banking, traveling some 100,000 miles a year and explaining "it's the easiest for the boss to travel because he has the least to do."

GEORGE HUMPHREY

Humphrey was born 66 years ago in Cheboygan, Mich., attended public schools in Saginaw and went through the University of Michigan, which awarded him a law degree.

In 1913, he married his childhood sweetheart, Pamela Stark, and they have three children. In 1918, he became general counsel for M. A. Hanna. In 1952, he worked for the Republican nomination of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio as president.

Now, four years later, Humphrey is one of the most important men in the government. Today, he is also one of its most outspoken, with his warnings of a "depression that will curl your hair" if federal spending is not reduced.

"When George speaks," Mr. Eisenhower has said, "we all listen."

Claims Safety Aided by Restricting Signs

LANSING (AP)—A State Highway Department official said today the cause of safety is served by restrictions against advertising signs along Michigan's roadways.

Harold Bauerle, acting director of the planning and traffic division, said he lacked scientific support for his view.

"But personally, I am convinced that by reserving the right of way for our own guide and warning signs they are more effective," Bauerle said. "This helps prevent accidents."

His views were sought after the department's policy on right-of-way advertising was indirectly called in question recently at a State Safety Commission meeting.

Make Fine Paying Easy —If It Could Ever Be So

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—By the end of the week motorists who are fined $1 for parking overtime in metered zones will find it a simple matter to ante up.

Altoona's city fathers have ordered 32 special collection boxes set up throughout the community. Policemen will include a "collection envelope" with their tags. All the erring motorists have to do is put a dollar bill in the envelopes and drop them in the new boxes.

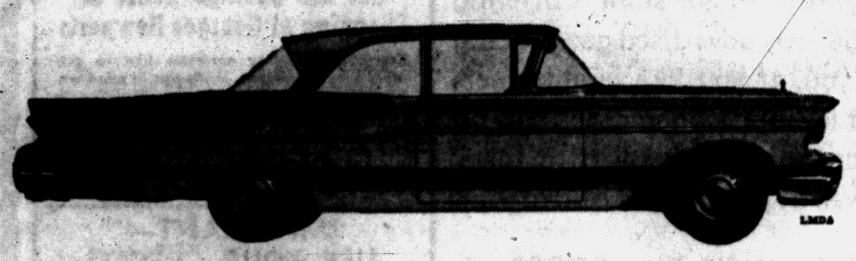

There have been no fortifications along the Canadian-American frontier anywhere since the war of 1812.

Start Meal With Dessert!

BRISTOL, R.I. (AP)—Dr. Nicholas Migliaccio, a dentist, suggests a good way to beat dental decay would be to begin meals with desserts and end with vegetables. This, he told a meeting of Rotarians, would wash away the deposits of sugar ordinarily left in the mouth at the end of a meal topped off by a sweet dessert.

"AERO-BATS" MAKE TRAINING PLANE — Several members of the newly re-organized Aero-Bats look over the model "Knight" plane to be used for air-minded trainees. Left to right are David Ostrand, secretary; Terry Ball, Jack Whiteside, G. H. Mosser, treasurer, Jim Wert and Bruce Bentley.

Flight Controlled From Ground by Line

Waterford Youths Build Model Plane

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our Waterford Township Bureau

A group of young Waterford Township "pilots" are busy constructing a scale model plane that will teach them how to fly everything from a single engine Piper Cub, to a big four-engine bomber.

Known as the "Aero-Bats", their current mission is to build a plane entitled, "Knight." Every Tuesday at 7 p.m. 20 or 30 youths get together at the CAI building and work on various parts that go into the training plane.

When the big model is completed, every one of the air-minded members will know how to fly a real motor-driven plane, according to E. A. Ostrand, founder of the club.

The "Knight" will be authentic in every minute detail and will have a .4 horse engine to power it on the end of a 50-foot line.

When completed, the plane will be able to stunt, loop and dive, by ground controlled operation.

Just one year ago, Ostrand revived the Aero-Bats club that had folded up in 1950 due to shortage of materials. G. H. Mosser is now the sponsor of the group.

All of the boys belong to the national organization known as the AMA (Aeronautical Modelers Association.

Activity goes on outdoors, summer and winter. The next meet of the winter season will be held from noon until four p.m. Sunday at the public boat landing on Pontiac Lake.

The young aeronauts will enter their models in the free flights, hand launched glider and tiny motor-driven ice boat events. Prizes will be given for the first three places in each event.

The AMA gives each member a license number to print on his plane. The owner must also have his name and address printed somewhere on the plane in case it is lost—and this is not an unusual occurance, according to Ostrand.

He explained that in the free flight, a gas-control device is set for approximately 10 seconds of air flight. After that the plane is supposed to glide to the ground.

Sometimes, however, atmospheric conditions create a rising air-draft which catches the plane and it soars up into the clouds and disappears.

The newest trend in model planes, is radio controlled, according to Ostrand. "A navigator on the ground controls his plane on a line from 26 to 80 feet in length. It works much like the Walkie-Talkie used in the war, and believe me, to work one of these little models is almost as much fun as really flying," he concluded.

Young People Lack Ambition, Says Magazine

NEW YORK — The perennial cold war between middle age and the young idea has taken a distinctly different turn in recent years. Now, the fifty-year-olds, the former firebrands and flappers of the Lost Generation of the twenties, are being deprived of one of the headiest compensations of middle age—the pleasure of telling the young to be sensible.

According to an article in a recent issue of a national magazine, among the generation born circa 1930, the quest for security seems to have taken precedence over ambition and self-expression.

Although they are taller, heavier, handsomer, and enjoy a certain scarcity value for industry and the professions, today's favored young often are apathetic and unambitious. One reason is their exposure to new techniques for the mass handling of people in which they are taught to "adjust to the group," and to develop personalities useful to the corporation. Pioneering is viewed as dangerous, and they fear not being liked.

APPARENT DECLINE

The rebellious intellectual explorers of Scott Fitzgerald's time view the apparent decline in the American tradition of protest as leading to a savoriess society, lacking in vitality or political responsibility. They cite business analysts who claim that opportunities for setting up independent businesses are going begging because young men today would rather be employed by a company that will shoulder all responsibility.

Recent polls show fewer young people aspiring to become doctors or scientists; the road looks too lonely and tough. The shortage is such that at least one manufacturer is offering a bonus of $1,000 to anyone on his staff who succeeds in recruiting a scientist.

To the generation born around 1930 money, too, seems to have lost its glamour; it has become merely a bookkeeping device. Married couples under thirty are primatily responsible for our $29 billion installment debt—and two thirds of these young families are continually in debt. Their apathy is such that credit men say many young marrieds don't even bother to ask what interest they are paying.

Leaves Cash to Museum

NEW YORK (AP) — George H. Heye, banker and explorer, left more than a million dollars to the Museum of the American Indian he founded here 41 years ago. Heye died Jan. 20 at the age of 82.

City Educators Meet Business Executives

Teachers Learn Aims of Industry

Bring people face to face and they will come away with a better understanding of each other than books alone can supply.

This simple philosophy is being put into action by the Pontiac Public Schools in an effort to enable teachers, administrators and counselors to acquire a greater knowledge of what industry and commerce want the young graduate to know.

In reverse, it gives personnel managers and other business and industry executives an opportunity to find out what the schools are doing to prepare their students for the task of getting and holding jobs.

In line with this program, 12 Pontiac school people will spend a day visiting Detroit Edison Co. facilities Wednesday in Detroit.

Their trip is one in a series planned jointly by the schools and the education committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce. At a later date they will have Edison personnel visit the schools.

The educators will tour Edison's Delray Power Plant and the service building in the morning. They also will hear Thomas J. Peterson, assistant sales manager, speak on "Highlights of Our Business."

After lunch, the group will meet with Preston I. Amerman, Edison director of employment, and Mattiegrace Sharpe, assistant director, for a discussion based on seven questions which were submitted by the educators in advance.

MAKING TRIP

Making the trip will be Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent; Dr. Russell Curtis, coordinator of secondary education; Dick Fell, director of vocational and adult education; C. T. Forsman, assistant principal of Pontiac High; and Mrs. Agnes Buckley, high school counselor.

Others will be Vernell Duffy, coordinator of apprentice training and vocational counselor; Philip Wargelin, Lincoln Junior High principal; Mel Staebler, assistant principal intern at Madison Junior High; Ada McDonnall, business education teacher; William Lacy, high school department head of business education; Yvonne Cousins, office practice coordinator, and Vernon Schiller, school director of financial management.

A similar trip to General Motors plants recently attracted the attention of GM top executives who see in it possibilities for other communities.

Red Cross Blood Unit

The Red Cross is seeking blood donors in the Pontiac area, Mrs. Leroy C. Johnson, chairman of the public relations committee of the Pontiac Osteopathic Guild, announced today.

The mobile unit for collecting blood will be at the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, 50 N. Perry St., on Monday, from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 8 p.m., she said.

Appointments should be made as early as possible, Mrs. Johnson added, by calling FE 5-4192.

Proposes New Plan for Delinquents' Care

DETROIT (AP)— The freshman member of the Michigan Supreme Court says teenagers in trouble with the law should be treated for their mental and social troubles, rather than punished.

Justice George Edwards told the Wayne County Civic League that he disagrees with the "ancient doctrine of crime and punishment" proposed by FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover.

Justice Edwards, who has had prior court experience in Detroit with juveniles, referred to Hoover's signed editorial in the FBI bulletin last week in which Hoover said:

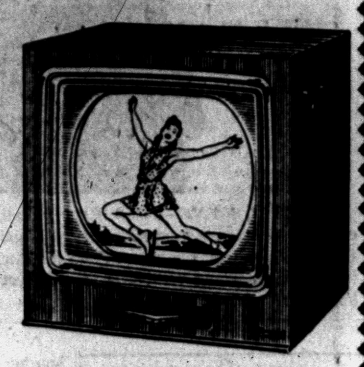

"The present appalling youth situation demands a vigorous new appraisal. No longer can we tolerate the 'tender years' alibi for youthful lawbreaking."

Justice Edwards said, "I believe deeply that there are possibilities for rejuvenation of criminals and youthful offenders that we dare not turn our backs on. The whole trend of the law is toward the treatment and return to society of the mentally ill. I venture to say that the trend is the same toward youthful offenders."

That's only a part of what we mean when we say OK Used Cars are

RECONDITIONED FOR VALUE

An important point in the purchase of a used car is the degree to which it has been skillfully restored—inside and out—to enhance appearance and protect against future wear. We refer to this process as "Reconditioned for Value" when we cite the six reasons why OK Used Cars are the thoroughbreds of the lot (read the other five below). At the sign of our red "OK," you'll find the skill, training and modern facilities required to give our cars that "almost new" look that everyone admires. Come in and see for yourself how our volume trading on the new Chevrolet (first in sales last year again) results in volume savings. You'll get a far greater selection of makes and models to choose from, too!

Try Pot-O-Gold; Prize Growing for Lucky Entry

Money is mounting, making Pot-O-Gold much more exciting and fun to solve. Remember, the higher the money goes, the more apt there is to be a winner, because more people are trying to win. Get yours in now before someone else walks off richer, leaving you holding your pencil.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3 To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be acepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 36 must bear a Tuesday, Feb. 12, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6 Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10 Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

U. S. May Furnish Britain Nuclear-Capable Arms

LONDON (AP) — Authoritative sources say the United States may furnish Britain both guided missiles and artillery weapons to be fitted with British-made atomic warheads.

Defense Minister Duncan Sandys, just back from talks with American defense officials in Washington, told the House of Commons the two goverpments are studying "a possible scheme for the adoption by Britain of certain American weapons."

Sandys declined to give full details, but the informants gave this picture of what may result from the talks:

1. The British will have to fit their own atomic warheads to any American weapons they obtain for use by strictly British military units. U.S. law prohibits turning over atomic weapons to other countries.

2. U.S. artillery units equipped with atomic warheads may be assigned to support British divisions or for temporary integration into British oufits.

3. The Americans agreed in principle to help Britain cut its four-billion-dollar annual defense budget and revamp its military manpower program. Details will be worked out.

4. Britain may streamline its four divisions in West Germany in accordance with requirements of the nuclear age. Their total may be cut from 80,000 men to 50,000.

The British Press Assn. speculated that Britain likely will get the U.S. Army's Nike Hercules, a ground-to-air missile said to have a 50-mile range, and the Navy's Talos, a surface-to-air weapon.

Ora Hallenbeck Outlines School Projects to DAR

Ora Hallenbeck spoke at the Thursday meeting of General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite on West Iroquois road.

Miss Hallenbeck, chapter chairman of the approved schools committee, told of the 13 schools being assisted by the National Society of DAR. Two of the schools, Tamassee in South Carolina and Kate Duncan Smith at Grant, Ala., are completely supported by DAR members. Schools that are given financial and other support include Lincoln Memorial University in Tennessee and Berea College in Kentucky.

Miss Hallenbeck has visited Kate Duncan Smith School and plans to visit Tamassee in the near future. The speaker related that the schools are all serving underprivileged boys and girls. The children in the two DAR schools are in districts where there are no other education advantages.

"Youngsters in the schools are given academic and manual arts training and often physical needs are served so that they may be better prepared for life after their education is finished," according to Miss Hallenbeck.

Judith Eldred of Watkins Lake will serve as a page at the State DAR Conference in Grand Rapids in March. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Eldred.

Assisting Mrs. Huthwaite for the afternoon were Mrs. M. H. Luttrell, Mrs. William Kalivitz, Grace Clark and Mrs. Porter Francis.

Try Exercises for Trimmer Hips

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I am 17 years old. My measurments are bust 32, waist 23, and hips 38 inches. I am built so small. Do you think I should take some kind of exercises?"

A. You did not give me your weight but I cannot imagine an overweight with a 23-inch waistline. Your hips are out of proportion. Do not diet to lose pounds but take hip-reducing exercises to lose inches there.

If you (or any of my readers) would like to have my hip exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to me in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "Please tell me if you think I am overweight and, if so, how much I should lose. I am 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh 196½ pounds. Some people tell me that I am too big while others tell me that I am not, and look nice in my clothes.

"I have tried dieting several times without success. I asked my doctor about this but he said he doesn't think I am too fat. I am 24 years old and unmarried. I would like to have your opinion."

A. I would guess either that your doctor didn't think that you would stay on a diet or that he is fatter than you are. You are at least 50 pounds overweight even if you have a large build. I urge you to lose this weight because I know how it must be affecting your happiness, especially at your age.

Eat a well-balanced diet and count your calories faithfully every day for several weeks. If you do not lose weight write to me again and I will advise you. It is possible to look good in your clothes even when overweight if you choose them carefully.

Q. "I have written to you three times and you have not answered yet. Don't get me wrong! I know you must have hundreds of letters but if you can, please answer this.

"I am 14 years of age, weigh 120 pounds and am 5 feet 3½ inches tall. My bust measures 34, waist 25 and hips 34 inches. Will you please tell me if my weight and measurements are correct?

A. I want to take this opportunity to tell my readers that I cannot answer all of my question box letters. If I lived a thousand years maybe I could, and I would like nothing better.

Do not let this deter you from sending in your questions. I will answer as many as I can but I feel obligated to answer those first which I think will interest the greatest number of my readers.

You have no problems. You might watch your diet a little, cut down a bit on those extras. You are slightly on the high side. Your measurements are unusually good for a young lady of your age. Your middle will streamline down in a few years' time.

Tomorrow: "Don't Overlook Simple Health, Beauty Routines."

If you are not overweight, but need some reduction in hip measurements, this exercise will do the trick.

Waterford Garden Group Hears Lecture on Shrubs

"Shrubs for the Home Garden in Michigan" was the topic discussed by H. L. R. Chapman Thursday afternoon when he addressed members of the Waterford Township Farm and Garden Association.

A specialist in horticulture, affiliated with the cooperative extension service of Michigan State University, Mr. Chapman pointed out methods of planting shrubs for best garden effects.

Those gathering at the home of Mrs. E. L. Windeler on Hatchery road heard the history of many shrubs.

An interesting recollection was the history of the lilac which, the speaker said, George Washington considered his favorite shrub, and which is known to be in this country since 1776.

Soil and light are the important factors in keeping plants alive, the speaker pointed out. For beauty of garden, he suggested members plant shrubs with foliage other than green hues. Purple and gray foliage varies the garden, he said.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Grant McDonald, Mrs. Charles Harrison and Mrs. Alton Banfield.

Announcement was made by President Mrs. Banfield of the next meeting March 7 at the home of Mrs. Ashton Emery on Dixie highway.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Rebecca Gould, Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Dalton Ettinger and Mrs. Harrison.

Lawmaker's Wife Leads Active Life

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — One of the busiest women in town is the peppy, blue-eyed wife of Rep. Lawrence Smith (R-Wis).

Besides working nearly full-time in her husband's Capitol Hill office, Betty Smith gets around to most of the parties to which she and her husband are invited.

She keeps a smoothly-running household. She's an excellent cook. But that is only part of the story of the Mrs. Smith who came to Washington!

Her interests extend beyond home and office, into politics and club work. She was president of the Congressional Club from 1953 to 1954 and supervised two of its nationwide cookbooks.

She's a former national president of the American Legion Auxiliary and is now a member of its national finance committee.

CAPITAL VETERAN

The Smiths came to the capitol 17 years ago, and Mrs. Smith has been working in her husband's office for the past 10 years.

Mostly she handles her husband's personal matters and some veterans' cases. She says she enjoys the work, and constituents like to see a familiar face when they come to town.

Cooking is second nature to the congressman's wife. Dinner guests in Washington are treated to dishes made from recipes her own family used for more than a century.

Guests back in Racine are treated to delicacies gleaned from all parts of the world. Because of her husband's membership on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the Smiths are invited to numerous diplomatic parties where the most exotic foods are served.

Mrs. Smith has had the unusual opportunity to sample cooking at literally thousands of dinners, teas and committee meetings.

Not only does she whip up tempting meals in her own kitchen, she often is called on to plan menus for organizations to which she belongs.

Widows Have Better Life Today

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Times keep changing. But as far as I'm concerned, most of the changes are for the beetter.

I think life is much better, in many ways than it was 20 years ago.

This is not a very popular attitude, because it's much more chic to deplore the passing of "the good old days." Occasionally, however, I hear from a reader who agrees with me, and Mrs. R. is one of them:

"When I was a little girl, some 40 years ago," she writes, "we had a maid who came in by the day, twice a week.

"She was a pathetic creature thin and old-looking, although not quite 40. She was treated well, at our house anyway, but she had no dignity or importance. She was paid peanuts and struggled to keep body and soul together.

LONG, DREARY LIFE

"In those days, that was what happened to a widow whose husband had left no money—she eked out a long and dreary life doing underpaid and unrespected work.

"But," Mrs. R. continued, "things are certainly different today. The same thing happened to me that happened to Mrs. Carroll—only I was even older.

"When I was 50, my husband died after a long and expensive illness. I was left pretty nearly penniless and, like Mrs. Carroll, had no education or experience in anything but homemaking.

JULIE HARRIS

"I had no children to support. Both of mine are married and on their own, but they couldn't help me, as they have all they can do to keep one step ahead of the wolf.

"But I have had a really very easy time—compared to Mrs. Carroll.

"I sublet the apartment, so that I could keep it, but not occupy it until I could afford to. I found good tenants and let them have it for a two-year term.

HOUSEKEEPING JOB

"Then I advertised in the paper for a job as housekeeper in a motherless home. I received many replies and took a very good job.

"I lived there, but had evenings free from 7 o'clock on, except Saturday and Sunday. I made a good salary, over and above all expenses.

"The young man I worked for was a gentleman and most grateful to get somebody like me, his two children were decently brought up and, on the whole, the job was very pleasant.

"Meantime, I signed up for a shorthand and typing course given in the evening by our local adult education program. Within the two years, I learned shorthand and typing and saved up a nice nest egg.

"I was lonely, and kept my nose to the grindstone, but it was just two years and it certainly paid off!

"Now I'm back in my own apartment, with an excellent secretarial job for a firm which values maturity instead of being prejudiced against it!

"Yes, times were never so good!"

Actress Looks at Role as Mystic Experience

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (INS) — Life upon the wicked stage was once considered something a nice girl shied away from—but Julie Harris says acting can be a spiritually moving and mystic experience.

The tiny, red-headed actress played a girl whose morals were a bit below part in "I am Joan of Arc in "The Lark" for six months on Broadway and five months on tour. She will star in an NBC-TV Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation of that play on Sunday.

Asked how she readies herself for the role, Miss Harris said:

"I like to think of it as a sort of mystery. If I make it too definite and talk about it the mystery goes out.

"Once you put an experience into words you're beyond it. Things that are penetrating—even painful—after a few years seem less important, even funny sometimes.

"But right now I have to try not to analyze," the actress continued, looking boyish and unglamorous in a pair of patched black corduroy slacks.

"Each time I play Joan I try to think of it as the first time—as though none of it had happened before, even though I played the part for 11 months."

The part, which Miss Harris classified as her "most unusual, most difficult and most rewarding," has its after-effect on her.

"If I'm really rested it gives me a good feeling, a hopeful feeling," she said, munching on a juicy red apple. "It's an affirmation of all things that should be wonderful in life. Of course, if I'm tired, it strains me."

Miss Harris said she has "gotten used to" the script changes necessary in transforming "The Lark" from a 2½-hour Broadway production to a 75-minute TV script.

"I had four weeks away from the play," she explained, "since the tour ended just before Christmas. Once I got the TV script, I didn't refer to the play. Instead I tried to accept this as the form in which it would be."

Don't Lose Your Bread in Fondue

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The publishing of a recipe for shrimp fondue last week led one of our readers, Mrs. Frank Murphy, to send in some interesting information about fondues. She has recently returned from Europe with a special chafing dish and a number of good fondue recipes.

Here is the Swiss recipe with English versions of the measurements.

SWISS CHEESE FONDUE
By Mrs. Frank Murphy

Rub an earthenware casserole with a clove of garlic which should then be crushed and left in the casserole. Grate into the casserole about six ounces of gruyere or emmental cheese for each person to be served (that's about 1½ cups per person).

Add 1 tablespoon butter and pour over the mixture ½ cup dry white wine per person. Place casserole over moderate heat and stir with a wooden spoon. If cheese forms into a thick mass, continue to stir and it will be re-absorbed. If it separates from wine, add a little vinegar and start stirring again.

As soon as mixture commences to cook, stir in a liqueur glass of kirsch in which is dissolved a teaspoon of flour and a little grated nutmeg. Salt and pepper to taste.

Keep fondue in chafing dish during the meal. Serve with French bread cut in thick slices. Spear a piece of bread with your fork, dip it into the fondue, stir and eat.

Mrs. Murphy adds a few rules about eating a fondue:

1. Never drink cold liquids with it or you may wind up with a tummy ache.
2. Don't worry about the alcoholic content of the dish. After wine has cooked for even a short period all the alcohol evaporates.
3. "He who loses his piece of bread in the fondue pays for a bottle of wine or donates the next fondue. Ladies are exempted from this iron rule; they pay for each lost piece of bread with a kiss."

Cream butter with minced chives or parsley. Use for spreading bread when you are making sandwiches of cold meat loaf or cheese.

Trick for Bride

A trick for the modern bride to try is to decorate two long-stemmed Venetian glasses with orange blossoms. It's an old custom and in days gone by glasses were used by the bridal couple to toast each other after the ceremony.

'With Big Bombs, They Don't Need Manpower'

Many Teenagers Regard the Draft as Unnecessary

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

How do young people feel about compulsory military service? Is the peacetime draft fair? Is it necessary? Should the term of service be shorter? Longer?

MANY TEENAGERS

These questions hit close to home with the nation's teenagers as they near draft age and see their friends entering service.

Our researchers, making this survey in various parts of the country, found boys and girls vitally interested in the draft but far from enthusiastic about it.

Only 46 per cent of the boys and 48 per cent of the girls thought the draft was necessary.

Most of their objections, however, seemed to center on a belief that atomic weapons and other nuclear-powered devices had outdated large armies and navies.

"The whole thing is a waste of time," protested a 16-year-old girl. "With the big bombs, they don't need manpower in the armed services."

PUSH THE BUTTON

Among those agreeing with her was a 15-year-old lad who lamented: "We're outdated. All we need is a couple of hundred trained guys to operate the machines and push the right buttons."

Surprisingly, more boys — but fewer girls — thought the draft fair than considered it necessary. Here the question was whether the system of selecting men for military service was being administered equitably.

Nearly half the boys, just over 49 per cent, considered the draft system fair, but only 32 per cent of the girls went along with them.

"My sister's husband was just called in even though they have a 3-month-old baby and he has a good job. It that fair?" asked one of the girls.

Both boys and girls favored deferments for men with physical handicaps or key defense jobs, but they were overwhelmingly against excusing baseball players and others with relatively short careers from military service.

Sports figures may be heroes with the younger set, but 70 per cent of the boys and 69 per cent of the girls thought they would look just as heroic in uniform . . . military uniform.

DRAFT GIRLS TOO?

And, speaking of fairness, four out of every 10 boys thought that compulsory military training should involve the girls too. Why not have the draft coeducational?

"Sure, girls should be drafted too," insisted a 17-year-old boy from the Midwest. "They're as strong as fellows, and besides why should they stay home while our lives are being shifted around?"

What did the girls have to say about that? Plenty, and it wasn't laudatory. "Only 4 per cent of the girls wanted to see themselves drafted. The rest were dead set against it.

"Women are the guardians of the home," answered a 16-year-old Manhattan bobbysoxer. "But all that would have to change if the girls went into the armed forces. Maybe the boys should stay home and have the kids. That would solve the problem."

Most of the boys favoring the draft as both fair and necessary cited the benefits of military training, strict discipline, community life and getting along with others.

SPECIAL TRAINING

"Military service," said a 16-year-old New York City boy, "provides longer term schooling, gives special training — and you can see the world for nothing."

Some youths favoring the draft spoke in terms of national defense and U.S. world obligations.

"The present draft system is absolutely necessary," said a 16-year-old boy in Richland, Wash. "After all, every country needs a strong Army. Why kid yourself?"

A New Haven, Conn., youth agreed with Teddy Roosevelt that this country should "speak softly and carry a big stick. That's the way it has to be and I don't mind the draft so long as I get my education too."

"It's the best way to keep the country out of war," chimed in a 16-year-old high school junior. "No one will dare attack us — and even if they do, we'll knock 'em flat."

'WE'RE THROUGH'

An 18-year-old boy, awaiting an invitation from his draft board, warned that "once the Army becomes undermanned, we're through, brother."

Among those polled, the Army won the popularity contest by a wide margin, with 43 per cent of the boys naming it their first choice. The Navy, with a 21 per cent showing, was a distant second. The Air Force, with 19 per cent, was next, and the Marines last, with only 17 per cent.

"A strong Army makes a strong country," said a 15-year-old Richland, Wash., lad in defending his choice. "A couple of years of rigorous training is good for a young kid."

An 18-year-old Chicago youth said he wouldn't "resent going into the Air Force . . . I'm interested in aeronautics and aviation."

The Navy found a fan in a 16-year-old Mamaroneck, N.Y., boy who said he was "looking forward to joining because it's a clean life."

FAIR AND NECESSARY

An 18-year-old Bostonian said the draft "is fair and necessary. I'm hoping to become an officer in the Marines."

His hope was not an unusual one. In fact, if teenagers have there hopes fulfilled, all branches of the service will have more chiefs than indians.

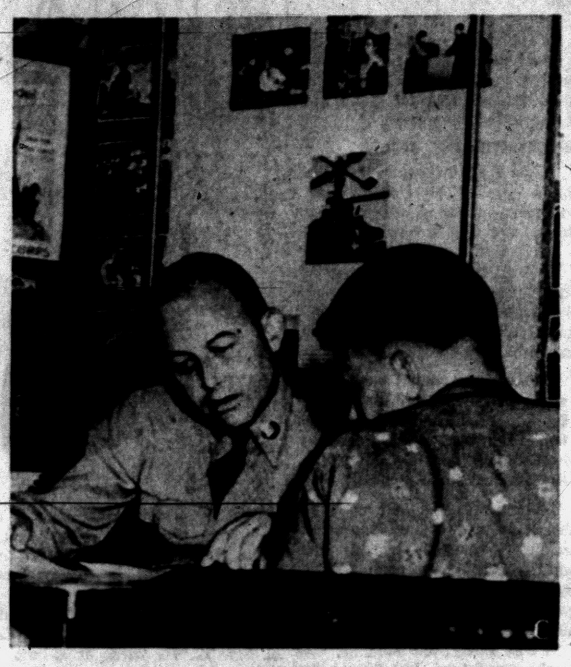

Nearly 78 per cent of the boys questioned said they intended to become officers when they entered service.

They cited their capabilities as officer material and let it be known that an officer gets a better salary and commands more respect than an enlisted man.

With nearly 8 out of every 10 teenagers expecting to become officers, the military life should be interesting for the remaining 2 out of 10. Will they wind up doing KP for the brass happy majority?

Perhaps they better get in step with the others so we can have an all-officers armed forces to handle the push button war that most teenagers are expecting.

It is surprising that the survey showed today's boys prefer the Army over other service branches.

This maternity dress has a nautical look of red, white and blue. Shiny brass buttons and side seam pockets are added features of this one-piece dress for the expectant mother. The fabric, of fine cotton and Cupioni, is sudsable.

Parents Eliminate Threat of Rowdy Gate-Crashers

Organize Teenage Dancing Club and Exclude Known Trouble-Makers

By RUTH MILLETT

Teenage parties in one Southern city were getting to be rather hectic affairs—especially for the parents of the teenager giving the party—until a group of mothers came up with a solution that seems to have the situation under control.

When the parties were given in individual homes, there were always the gate-crashers parents were reluctant to refuse admittance.

And the gate-crashers were invariably rowdy, no' above walking off with records, tossing food around, etc. If they were asked to leave, they made a nuisance of themselves by driving around annoying the neighbors with horns.

What the mothers did was organize a dancing club for teenagers and their invitation list carefully left out all known trouble-makers among the teenagers.

They made a list of rules for the dances and made it quite clear in their invitations that any member breaking any of the rules would be dropped immediately.

Then they set about to organize parties that would be fun, but at which teenagers were to come appropriately dressed for a party and were to behave like young ladies and young gentlemen.

The parties are a big success. The kids actually seem to enjoy being made to toe the mark on a few important points. With a committee of chaperons instead of two parents trying to manage a party alone, there is no trouble from gate-crashers.

An interesting sidelight on the experiment is that those who belong to the dancing club now look with pity instead of a certain amount of envy on the "tough" kids who are excluded.

As long as they were getting by with party-crashing and trouble-making they were heroes of a sort. But now they are outsiders and that's a different story.

What worked for one group of parents might work for another. So try the idea if you teenagers' parties are getting out of hand.

Those Applying for Piano Award Given Deadline

Pianists between the ages of 16 and 25 who wish to compete for the $1,000 Grinnell Foundation Piano Award must file application by Feb. 15, according to Lloyd G. Grinnell, vice president.

This award, given annually, is to discover the best young pianist in Michigan. The winner receives a $1,000 scholarship with the teacher or school of his choice.

Application blanks may be obtained by writing Mrs. Lloyd Scholl, auditions chairman, of Okemos, Mich. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and residents of Michigan for the last two years.

The Michigan Federation of Music Clubs will supervise and manage the competition, under the direction of Mrs. Gilbert Burrell. Auditions will be held within the period of March 1 and March 15.

Alpha Delta Kappa Hears State Hospital Educator

Elden Johnson, principal of Fairlawn School of Education at Pontiac State Hospital, discussed the school program with members of Alpha Delta Kappa Thursday evening. Mrs. Alton B. Madden opened her home on West Square Lake road for the meeting.

Mr. Johnson stated that the program began in 1953 and has been in a progressive stage ever since. Equipped to handle 60 children, there are 45 at the hospital at the present time with 32 enrolled in the school.

The program is centered around two areas, the home or ward and the school or academic area. The 4-H program, which includes farming and gardening, has a wonderful therapeutic value, Mr. Johnson remarked.

"Activity plays an important part," Mr. Johnson continued, "and through physical education the children can be taught citizenship and social life. An important part of the instructor's job is to help children to measure up, to feel adequate. All competition is against oneself, not against the class."

"As teachers, we must know the child and be aware of his personality. We must adjust so the child can adjust; no matter how we feel we must try to understand the child's position."

GOALS SET HIGH

Concluding, Mr. Johnson said, "As teachers we set our goals too high, we try to cure the child. Actually we can't, we can only help to make the necessary adjustments."

Preceding the meeting refreshments were served from a table centered with a cornucopia filled with flowers, the symbol of the sorority, surrounded by a large Valentine.

Red tapers in silver candelabra completed the Valentine decorative theme. Mrs. Hesper Polk, president, presided at the silver service.

Jean Lukens was a guest at the meeting. On March 7 members will meet at McMath Observatory, Lake Angelus, to hear Dr. Keith Pierce.

Rabbi Takes New Post on June 1st

On June 1, Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein will assume his duties as rabbi of the Reformed Jewish Congregation of Merrick, Long Island, N. Y. Rabbi Saperstein has accepted the appointment at the fairly new synagogue after eight years of service in Pontiac.

During his tenure here, the new Temple Beth Jacob was built on Elizabeth Lake avenue. He is currently rabbinical adviser to the Michigan State Temple Youth, and has served on the faculty and as dean at the Union Institute, Oconomowoc, Wis.

Rabbi Saperstein has participated in many community activities. He is a member of the board of directors of Family Service, on the executive board of the Pontiac Advisory Council and first vice president of the board of directors, Urban League. He also serves on the Pontiac Housing Commission with the City Commission.

His new congregation is six years old and the synagogue was built two years ago. The congregation totals 330 members.

Must Host Offer Ride to Visitors?

Wife Disapproves of Letting Company Take Bus or Cab

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter is from a man: "When friends who have no car come to visit us in the evening, my wife thinks I should drive them home when they are ready to leave. She claims that it would be very discourteous to our guests to have them take the bus or a taxi home when our car is standing out in the driveway.

"I can't see why I should be expected to do this. If there was no means of transportation that would be one thing, but it seems to me that they can go home the same way they arrived. To settle this matter once and for all, will you please tell me if I am right about this?"

Answer: Unless they live a great distance, it would seem very inconsiderate with the car standing in the driveway not to offer to drive them home. If the car was in the garage for the night you would not be expected to take it out to drive them home.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter is going to be married next month and in shopping for a dress for the wedding I came across a beautiful soft red satin dress. It looks very good on me and my daughter thinks I should buy it.

However, I am skeptical about the color. Do you think it would be in good taste for the mother of the bride to wear red satin? I have the dress put aside awaiting your answer."

Answer: It depends on the brightness of the red. If it is a soft rose it could be very pretty, but if it verges on scarlet it would be unsuitable.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it wrong for a man to tell a woman friend that her slip is showing, or is it best to let it go unnoticed? Might this cause her embarrassment?"

Answer: If it is very conspicuous he could, in a casual way, tell her so that she could fix it. If it shows very little it would be best to say nothing.

Acquaintance Club Plans Feb. 12 Party

Widows and Widowers Acquaintance Club held its Tuesday evening meeting at Malta Temple with 84 members present.

Plans were made for an open house Valentine party Feb. 12. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hudson were guests.

Tot's Affection Masks Resentment

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Since baby brother was born four months ago, John's devotion to his mother has pursued her like a bloodhound.

If he eats, she must hold the hand he's not using. If she sits, he must sit on her. She holds conversation with a neighbor clutched by the entwining arms of clinging John.

Though his attention once flattered her, it's begun to make her a little uneasy.

So it should. It is concealed resentment.

Unfortunately, she'll ignore it. She'll keep her uneasiness at John's affection-coated resentment vague and unrealized just under the surface of consciousness. Otherwise, she'd have to do something about his ugly feeling. She can't.

Unused to detecting and treating the same feeling in herself, she just doesn't know what to do about John's. So she'll pretend that his hostility toward her doesn't exist because she's been trained to pretend she never feels it toward her own nearest and dearest.

RESISTANT TO TRUTH

She'll ignore it in John just as she ignored what she felt yesterday when her mother boasted of the salary raise just given a younger daughter's husband—and said, "You better tell Jack to get a move on."

So resistant to the truth of what she feels, we can hardly expect her to want the truth of what John feels.

This is the weakness of the child guidance advice that tells us to "get the child's bad feelings out." Unless we're old hands at dredging up our own, we just scare John by diving after his.

What helps him discharge his hate into words is not second-hand psychiatry, but a state of development that has outgrown fear of hate because it knows it to be simply despair of love.

A small child does not always understand why we go to the hospital for another child. To him, mother is the creature who's been created for his sole convenience and comfort.

HATE CONCEALED

When she walks off defiantly to acquire another baby, he may begin to hate her for allowing him to commit the mysterious offense that has rendered him unsatisfactory to her.

But he will hide his feeling carefully from her lest she be offended again—and rush off to have still another baby.

He will cling to her in devotion that looks like love. Actually it's what a nervous policeman feels for the escaped convict he's got back in custody.

A dress to cook breakfast in and then come out to meet your family, should be as attractive as your party dress. Ask yourself, "Am I the type to wear pretty ruffles or do I feel wonderfully right in more tailored versions?"

PHS Student Union Benefits Swell Membership

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Pontiac High School Student Union has swelled its membership to more than 1,850 students so far this semester. Donald McMillen is the new advisor this semester, since Ralph Rostel has been assigned the head of the retailing and office department. The Student Union staff is Harry VanMatre, student manager; Pat Clark, treasurer; and Helen Seybert, cashier.

This organization gives its members benefits which would originally cost them more or which they would not receive at all.

Now that the PHS Debators have finished their schedule for this season, they are waiting for the outcome of the Detroit Metropolitan League Debates.

Pontiac Debators placed third in the Saginaw Valley Conference, but a first or second place in the Detroit Metropolitan League would put them in the regional finals.

At a recent debate at the Knights of Pythias Temple, four of our debators placed. Dennis Warren was first with Delores Gillespie, second; Beth North, third; and Andrew Hoover, fourth.

The new non-credit Biology III course is starting off at top speed. John Youngpeter and Wesley Maas have announced their selections for the class from the numerous applicants.

The members are Martha Hodge, Bill Hanson, Jim Livingstone, Alex Sekles, Jim Shaw, Emmanuel Williams, and Bob Tenny.

Monday, the class began with a discussion of the history of biology, which is generally overlooked in college courses. Wednesday they worked on their equipment, collecting bags and field notebooks which will be used on their field trips. Today they are taking a silent observation trip to Teeple Hill to collect specimens for their studies.

Michigan State Normal College of Ypsilanti will host the Pontiac High School Band there, with others from this area, for the annual District Four Solo and Ensemble Festival.

The festival is sponsored by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn., which includes instrumental solos and ensembles for junior high and senior high schools in the Southeastern section of Michigan.

Band members who will perform solos are: Donald Green, flute; Carolyn Beyer and John Howell, clarinet; William Scribner, bassoon; David Allen, baritone; and Roland Williams; David Davies, and Charles Green, tuba.

Instrumental ensembles are: William Scribner and Lillian Casper, bassoon duet; Pat Murphy, Barbara Moore, John Howell, and Tom Osler, clarinet quartet; Donald Green, Carolyn Beyer, Jim Shaw, Rod Larson, and William Scribner, woodwind quintet; Dick Lantz, Edward Justin, Pat Murphy, and Bill Bedford, saxophone quartet; Sharon Troxell, Jim Clancy, and Claudia Borders, Coronet trio; and Jim Clancy, Delmar Benson, and Charles LaVeque, coronet trio.

In the larger ensembles: Robert Wiles, Charles LaVeque, Rod Allen, and David Davies, a brass sextet; and Donald Green, James Clancy, Richard Dembinski, Larry Keivet, and Pat Norland, a mixed ensemble.

Jim Livingstone, PHS junior, was recently chosen to represent Pontiac High at the First National Science Youth Day, to be held Monday. The youth day is sponsored by the Alva Edison Foundation and Science Service.

It is planned to be an annual event to call the attention of the youth of our country to the opportunities in science and engineering. The full day program includes tours, demonstrations and discussions by prominent industrial and educational representatives emphasizing the applications of science and engineering.

One hundred seventy high schools were invited to send one outstanding junior to participate in the program.

Marion Lehner, adviser of the projectionist club, has announced that she now has seven new projectionists. They are: Lloyd Gretal, Loren Hines, Randall Cheek, Ken Dextrom, Gary Evans, James Watkins and James Pritchett.

In the announcement also are the committees to assist the club activities. Rex Harris is the chairman of the membership committee and is assisted by Joan Deter, Worley Smith, and Darlene Humphrey.

The social committee has Sharon Looney as chairman with Pat McAllister and Lona Lambdin assisting her. On the program committee are Jerry Bodnovich, Joanne Cargal, and Ted Johnson.

This new semester saw two new teachers on our faculty, Joan Anderson, a girls' gym instructor, and Yvonne Cousins, a retailing counselor.

Guy Bevington has chosen the students to attend the Eighth Annual Model United Nations General Assembly at Hillsdale College on March 22 and 23. The four chosen students, who will represent France, are Claudia Wasik, Gail Sedrick, Lynne Benter, and Mel White.

The cards sell for $4 and give the student admission to school events worth $6.35. Money from the sale enables the Union to buy blocks of tickets to these events at a discount.

Students Face Busy Schedule

High School Groups Resume Full Round of Activities

With sports, music and club activities is full swing, high school students find a busy schedule facing them during the new semester.

Tuesday evening, the faculty of West Bloomfield High School challenged the senior boys to a basketball game. Teacher John Collins started the game off and the faculty went on to a victory with a score of 50-26.

Merlin Asplin, teacher, was the hit of the game in his snappy uniform which featured shorts of green, with orange, yellow, pink and chartreuse stripes. He made a grand entrance.

Mr. Asplin has selected the vocal representatives to the all-league choir which consists of the select vocalists from all league schools. They will join together in a mass choir for the annual concert series.

Members of the Future Teachers Club visited the Roosevelt Elementary School in Keego Harbor on Friday, Feb. 1. They observed fourth through sixth grade classes.

AT ROCHESTER

Rochester High's spring play, "Onions in the Stew," adapted from the popular novel by Betty MacDonald, will be presented by the Dramatics Class Thursday and Friday, April 11 and 12.

AT LAKE ORION

The March of Dimes campaign throughout the school is really under way this week. Cash registers with open tops have been placed on the bulletin board, one representing each class, and totals for their grade are posted each day.

The Student Council toured the new high school this week in an effort to determine some of the projects the students could present as gifts. The school is more than 75 per cent complete.

The National Honor Society committee met this week to approve the final copy of the constitution.

The Homemakers of America Club met Thursday night at the Youth Center with the Oxford Club for a joint party.

AT WALLED LAKE

Great enthusiasm is shown by the students who are entering the spring contests sponsored by the Michigan High School Forensic Assn.

One talent show this week and another next will determine which acts will represent Walled Lake in the Student Council-sponsored Inter-Lakes League shows which will be held at various schools beginning the latter part of the month.

FACULTY VS. STUDENTS — West Bloomfield High School teachers took on the varsity basketball team in a cage tilt that had spectators roaring at times. The faculty triumphed, 50-26. The crowd enjoyed the antics of the faculty which included being carried off on a stretcher and dousing the gym lights.

WTHS Slates Mock Election

Seniors to Choose Leaders for List of Categories

By SANDY WHITE

Waterford Township High School's "Waterlog' staff will hold the annual senior mock election next week.

A ballot will be filled out by all senior students nominating those seniors best suited for the following catagories:

Most all around, most likely to succeed, most popular, best looking, most talented, best dresser, most valuable to class, flirt, best dancer, hair, eyes, smile, sophisticated, pessimistic, optomistic, manners, ingratiating, dramatist, most athletic, hot rodder, most shy, most humorous, always late.

The final vote will be on the three highest fellows and girls for each catagories. Then, the highest out of the three will have their picture in the annual yearbook.

"Cupid's night Out," sets the scene for the sophomores dance on Valentine evening. Dance time is from 8 to 11 p.m. Working as committee chairmen are: Paula Zizman, decorations; Milton Milke, tickets; Jim Smith, publicity; Fred Gross, entertainment.

Basketball Skippers are ready to meet the Southfield Jays tonight, at 7 p.m., in the gym. A dance will immediately follow.

Running until the end of February will be a ping pong tournament with sections for winners in singles, doubles and mixed doubles.

Sixty-four boys have signed up to play during the fifth hour lunch and 38 boys and 12 girls have signed up to play during fourth hour lunch.

Winners will be honored at the end of the season. Al Cuthrell, sponsor, will present the trophies and a Harvard man will present the gold medals.

A special committee was set up in Student Council to plan a local student exchange program, similar to last year's when two sophomores, two juniors and one senior spent a week at the homes of students of Handy High in Port Huron.

In turn, the Handy High students stayed with Waterford students and attended school here for one week.

Appointed to this committee were Frank Seed, Carolyn White, Ricky Erickson, Mike Ewre and Marlene Noe, chairman.

During the meeting, advisor, Howard Bennetts asked Student Council members to ask their homerooms if any members would be interested in having a foreign student in their home next year. The name of the family, which is interested, must turn their name in before Feb. 15.

Today, seniors are voting for one of the three announcements displayed in the showcase. These are senior announcements for graduation. The $4 deposit must be in by Feb. 15.

Tests Aid Career Choice

The 9-A students were busy Tuesday at Madison Junior High on the California Achievement Tests which test the 3-Rs nationally. The results will be given the students in terms of grade placement, and they will be able to talk over the results with counselors Charles Baty and Mrs. Lois Schneider.

The tests will enable students to more easily plan their 10th through 12th grade careers.

The Varsity was defeated by the Teacher Varsity by a score of 11-6. However the faculty livened things up considerably by swarming onto the court during the last few minutes. The game marked the first use of the new bleachers.

AT ROCHESTER

Rochester Junior High will hold its "Sweethearts Ball" tonight in the school gym, presided over by the Sweetheart queen.

The Sweetheart was chosen Tuesday by the student body, but her name will not be revealed until the dance.

AT LINCOLN

Now that regular classes are under way at Lincoln, the 28 clubs fly into action. Clubs meet twice a week for 25 minute sessions with their teacher sponsors. Each student has a chance to select the club of his choice, as long as the membership is not filled, and has an opportunity to develop hobbies, skills, and a pile of fun!

A popular club for the seventh graders is the Magicians' Club, sponsored by Beryl Roush for 25 potential Blackstones. They learn that the hand is faster than the eye as they master the parlor tricks which amaze their friends and even mystify each other.

The Railsplitters did more than railsplitting to get ready for the basketball game with Washington Junior High on Thursday after school. Dwaine Schramm, varisty captain, and Mike Fedymk, JV captain, have sent their squads through stiff drills to get ready for the struggle. Dick Hall and Tony Pizza are pleased with the diligent work of their teams.

The Boy's Glee Club, directed by Julius Middledorf, is singing for the Lincoln PTA meeting on Wednesday. David Odden, club president, says that 35 members are in rehearsal.

Students in Bobbie Comparoni's food classes are studying the basic seven foods for good nutrition. The classes use films, charts, class discussion, and texts to find more information on this fundamental study. Students make notebooks of class findings so this knowledge may be used at home now and in later years for better home-making.

More than 100 students get a special thrill every Monday morning when they see a preview of their planned trip to Washington, D.C. in the spring. These ninth graders are planning a four-day trip to Washington with Ralph Forman and their homeroom teachers.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale Junior High School will present the all-school Valentine Dance on Friday, Feb. 15. The dance will be held in the gymnasium from 7:30 until 10 p.m.

AT EASTERN

Once again, after beginning a new semester, things at Eastern have settled down to an almost normal routine. Classes have been reorganized, and new and old clubs are bustling with activity.

On Wednesday afternoon approximately 200 boys and girls accompanied by their music teachers, attended a youth concert presented by the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at Pontiac High School.

The Y-Teens Club with their sponsor, Mrs. Iris Ocetnik, enjoyed a field trip to Bell Telephone Co. on Thursday afternoon.

Plans are under way for a new student handbook to be presented to students entering Eastern next fall. The purpose of the handbook is to acquaint students and their parents with the policies, procedures and courses of study.

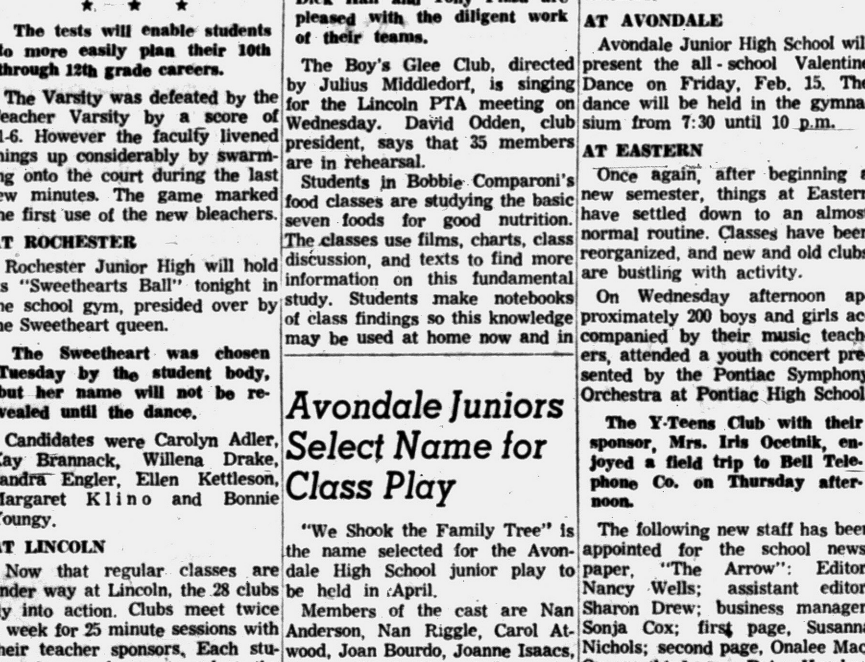

Avondale Juniors Select Name for Class Play

"We Shook the Family Tree" is the name selected for the Avondale High School junior play to be held in April.

Members of the cast are Nan Anderson, Nan Riggle, Carol Atwood, Joan Bourdo, Joanne Isaacs, Joanne Woodruff, and Bonnie Koschke.

Jerry Hale, Jerry Poynter, Frank Harris, Fred Spencer and Evans Armstead round out the cast.

Zadell Hysmith, Catherine Coney, Jack Poet, Pat Jones, and Jerry Hale were selected as understudies.

TEST RESULTS — Charles Baty, counselor, goes over California Achievement Test results with 9-A's Johanna Lampi and John Friedly at Madison Junior High School. The 9-A's took the test Tuesday. Results, given in terms of grade placement, enable the students to plan their academic careers in high school more easily by showing which subjects they know best.

St. Fred Holds Assembly

By MARGARET DRAKE

At a St. Frederick assembly on Monday morning Mike Malloy, president of the Senior Class, presented Mrs. Harold Brady, Polio Foundation representative, with $140 which was raised for the March of Dimes.

Members of the different high school classes related their experiences at the Training School of Sodality Action at the University of Detroit Feb. 2 and 3. More than 35 students availed themselves of the opportunities in the classes and workshops.

Staff meeting for the 1957 year book met at the home of Marie Lewandowski Monday evening. Last minute finishing touches were completed and the book will soon go to press.

Future Social Workers trip to Carmel Hall, Detroit, will be held Saturday.

Nicholas Pavlinac was chosen during the past week as the outstanding science student of St. Fred's.

Grade school faculty members attended the Teachers Institute at Gesu School, Detroit, on Thursday.

St. Fred's basketball team will meet St. Mike's in a real contest tonight at the Pontiac High gym. Games are scheduled at 7 and 8.

Collect Magazines for Hospital

St. Michael Juniors Assist Patients

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

The junior class at St. Michael High School spent the week collecting magazines for distribution to the local hospitals. The junior biology class resounded with "oh's" and "ah's' Monday as the dissecting instruments were carefully used on the frog.

The senior Rosary Club Organization held its meeting at the home of Judy Niedjelski on Monday evening. Those present were Mary Raymond, Judy Erickson, Carm Ginell, Dan Dropps, Kenny Rogers, Jim Barnowsky, Tom Payne, and Doug Turek.

Senior class meeting was held Wednesday morning. Nominations for king and queen for the Coronation Ball were made.

Today, the student body wore something of blue and grey to show their school spirit for St. Mikes and St. Freds game tonight which will be at Pontiac High, JVs at 7 and Varsity at 8. The cheerleaders led the student body in some of their cheers at the "pep" meeting.

The bulletin boards contain helpful suggestions for Catholic Press Month. For entertainment and school news in brief, read the "Michaelite."

Those who merited enough points to make the honor roll this quarter were: Seniors—Gary Sabourin, Loretta Lauinger, Pat Martin, Mary Raymond, Annette Courture, Sharon Moore, and Ralph Smith.

Juniors—Ronald Andrews, Michael Biallas, James Wyzgoski, Joseph Tatham, Rose Marie Flanigan, Francis Goulet, Kathleen Heitjan, George Budwit, Thomas Chapdelain, Helen Franzel, Mary Johnson, Elizabeth Klinck, Mary Puertas, Phyllis Raymond, and Constance Shindorf.

Sophomores—John Fortier, Delores Ardelan, and Judy Merithew.

Freshmen—Marilyn Biallas, Daniel Dunny, Catherine McCormick, Pete Messacessi, Carol Myers, George Drake, Barbara Ardelan, Philip Gouveia, Sue Heisler, and Loretta Heitjan.

State, County Officials at Holly

Install Addis in New Office

Circuit Judges, Sheriff Irons, Phil Hart Present; H. Powers Presides

R. E. ADDIS

HOLLY — The largest number of state and county officials, and others prominent in this area, ever to assemble in Holly were present Thursday evening at the inaugural ceremonies for the newly elected officers of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The event took place at a dinner in the elementary school, and Howard Powers, new president of the Pontiac City Chamber of Commerce presided at the induction of the new officers.

These included Raymond E. Addis as president; Louis Schwartz as vice president, and Leo N. Reed as secretary. Maurice H. Bennett, treasurer, was unable to be present on account of illness.

Remarks were made by Mr. Addis, Lieut. Gov. Philip A. Hart, retiring president Ted Creque, Chad Ritchie, Carlos Richardson, Joe McCall, Joe Haas and others. Keys to the village were presented to Hart, Powers and Ralph Norvel.

County or other officials present included Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty and Clark J. Adams, Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Prosecutor Fred C. Ziem, Register of Deeds D. T. Murphy, State Senator Harvey Lodge and Representative Lloyd Anderson.

Deputy State Treasurer Charles Lentz, Chairman of the Board of Managers of the Michigan State Fair Harry Garling, and Willis M. Brewer of Pontiac also were honor guests.

Congressman William S. Broomfield and Retiring Congressman George A. Dondero were scheduled to be present and talk, but were held up by flying conditions out of Washington. They will both appear at a later meeting.

In his inaugural talk Mr. Addis outlined some of the projects to be put under way in meeting current situations in Holly. In geographical location and otherwise, the area has become quite unique, and action is to be taken to properly meet the situation.

New President Chosen in Haiti

Selection Ends Crisis Brought On by Ouster but Defies Constitution

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Haiti finally has a new provisonal president after a five-day crisis. The Legislature picked Franck Sylvain, lawyer and presidential candidate, in defiance of constitutional requirements.

Sylvain, an authority on constitutional law, succeeds Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis. He was forced out Sunday by the current popular procedure of ousting presidents by means of a general strike.

Pierre-Louis' predecessor, Gen. Paul Magloire, fled into exile after the same treatment in December. Pierre-Louis, however, is expected to remain in the country.

The constitution says the senior justice of the Supreme Court shall be installed as president when the office is vacated. But senators and deputies called this clause 'obsolete and incompatible in the present political crisis."

Both houses voted to ignore the constitutional provision. Then they met jointly and picked Sylvain by a 23-16 vote. He once was a judge of a lower court but was dismissed by Magliore after ruling against one of Magloire's partners in a hotel venture.

Lahti Takes Fifth Post at Wixom

WIXOM —The name of R. W. Lahti was drawn by lot yesterday as the fifth member of the Wixom Charter Commission.

Lahti's name was drawn by Mrs. Sarah F. Garrett, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Canvassers to break last place tie with Jesse Birchard.

Both Lahti and Birchard received 182 votes in special election Tuesday whereby voters approved incorporation of Wixom as a village. The two candidates requested the board of canvassers break the tie, County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said.

Birthday Same as 'Abe'

CLYDE—Thomas Flynn, who has lived in the same house here for 30 years, will celebrate his 86th birthday on Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday.

Extension Club to Hear Talks

AVON TOWNSHIP — Oakland County Extension groups will meet at Pontiac State Hospital Monday, where from 1 to 3:30 p.m. they will listen to talks by Dr. James M. McHugh, of the hospital staff, occupational therapists and specialists who will explain their methods in dealing with emotionally disturbed children.

This will be followed by a conducted tour of the hospital.

Install New Job's Queen

FARMINGTON — At a recent installation of officers for Job's Daughters, Betty Ratliff took the jeweled crown and robe of the Honored Queen.

Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ratliff of 2664 Penna, Pontiac. Her installing officer was the retiring queen, Betty McNatt.

Presented with the sparkling diadems and capes were Catherine Barnes, senior princess, and Pat Wandoff, junior princess. Geraldine Menke, guide and Donna Sonnenberg, marshal, completed the elective officers.

Betty was presented with the cape and crown by the retiring queen and escorted to the East by her father and the association guardian, Delbert Brewer. Brewer also presented her with the gavel of authority.

Approximately 150 guests were present.

2 Families, 16 Children Occupied House

20 Destitute as Romeo Home Burns

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — Two families with a total of 16 children were left destitute yesterday afternoon when fire razed their home at 1161 Predmore Rd., about seven miles west of here.

Six pieces of fire equipment from the villages of Romeo and Washington and Shelby Township arrived on the scene shortly after noon. Firefighters found the two family frame dwelling in flames and several members of both families frantically trying to save a few articles of clothing.

Thirteen-year-old Eddie Houck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Houck, first discovered the blaze upstairs, apparently caused by an overheate dstovepipe. He sent his four-year-old brother Robert to a neighbor's house for help. The neighbor, Raymond Forbush, summoned firemen and quickly went over to the blazing house to lend his assistance.

Eddie tried to put out the fire with buckets of water before the fire departments arrived. His father was on his way home from Utica and his mother was working at Pontiac Motor Co. in Pontiac. Houck, 37, a mechanic, has been out of work all winter.

The Houck's have five other children, Marty, David, Jeanne, Andy and Mendy Marie, all at school in Romeo at the time the fire broke out.

The Thomas L. Boughners were the occupants of the other portion of the frame house. Mrs. Boughner, 31, was home with her five youngest children. They are Joan, 5; Betty, 4; Ricky, 3; Donnie, 2 and Bill, 13 months. Other children who were at school are Tom Jr., 10; James, 9; Robert, 8; and Geraldine, 6½.

Mrs. Boughner, who is expecting her tenth child was slightly overcome by smoke. She expected to see her family doctor last night.

Several firemen became ill from smoke fumes as did Forbush when he helped the youngsters before the fire department arrived.

Boughner told the Pontiac Press reporter that he had "just been picking up jobs all winter trying to make enough to get by". He said the family would probably have to split up now.

Boughner also reported that fire had started in the same room two weeks ago but was put out almost immediately by the Houcks. He said his family didn't know about it until the following morning.

As soon as word of the fire reached Romeo, several service organizations and clubs began clothing drives for both families. The local fire department initiated the drive, joined by the Rotary Club and Romeo Elementary Schools Club.

At 4 p.m., four hours after the fire was reported, several fire trucks were still at the scene.

Owner of the house is Anthony Peters of Detroit. The occupants were uncertain whether the dwelling was insured.

Exposure Killed Grimes Sisters

Theorize 2 Girls Kept in Deep Freeze, Later Dumped Along Road

CHICAGO (INS) — The Chicago American report that the two teenaged Grimes sisters died from exposure.

The paper, quoting a reliable source, said examining doctors still were confronted with the greater mystery of how the girls were forced to remain in the intense sub-zero cold until they died.

Four doctors concluded an intensive analysis, the informant said, which ruled out that Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister, Patricia, 13, were either gassed, beaten, electrocuted, poisioned by any unusual drug, doped, made drunk or wounded.

The doctors stated the girls died "relaxed" strengthening the theory that they died elsewhere and their bodies were dumped along the lonely road near suburban Willow Springs where they were discovered Jan. 22.

An earlier autopsy report said analysis of the stomach contents of the sisters showed they died a few hours after they disappeared on the night of Dec. 28.

The informant theorized the sisters may have been kept in a deep freeze "such as those found in hospitals and morgues," if they were not dumped along the road the night they disappeared.

The informant said investigators were awaiting the report of noted toxicologist, Dr. Walter Camp, in hopes that he may find some trace of a rare poison which would account for the the fact that the girls did not run away.

The slaying recalls the still unsolved murders of three Chicago boys whose bodies were found similarly stripped and thrown in a wooded forest preserve.

Couple Plunges Off Roof After Death of Daughter

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn couple, plagued for years by illness and financial woes, plunged to death today, apparently after their 5-year-old daughter died.

Police said they did not know whether the child died of illness or was slain.

Bloodstains in the family's apartment, in a quiet and reasonably well-to-do neighborhood, added to the mystery.

Police, noting the proximity of the parents' bodies in the courtyard, said it appeared they "went down holding hands together" in their plunge from the roof of the 15-story apartment house.

The dead are Joseph T. Kennedy, 46; his wife, Nan, 42, and the daughter Valerie.

Police Inspector James Lockhart said there was no mark of violence on the child.

Police said there were bloodstains on a shirt belonging to the father, which was found lying on a television set, and blood on a divan pillow in the living room.

Valerie was found dead in bed. She was dressed in blue jeans, brown jersey and shoes and socks. Police said she apparently had been dead since about midnight—three hours before the parents' death plunge.

Police said no note was found in the Kennedy top - floor apartment.

Kennedy was wearing a bathrobe over pants and shirt. His wife wore a dress and coat.

Police said the parents had been ill for years—the father of a stomach ailment and the mother of asthma—but neither had been in critical condition.

Kennedy had been out of work for years and had been living on funds from relatives. Mrs. Kennedy, the former Nan Pemberton, came here from Minneapolis.

Neighbors said that the Kennedys—despite all their troubles—kept their chins up and the father walked around every day whistling cheerfully. Father, mother and daughter took long walks around the neighborhood every day—once in the morning and again in the afternoon.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

INVITATION TO GOVERNOR — The Auburn Heights Rotary Club, formed less than a year ago, is planning a public square dance to be held on Saturday, Feb. 16, at Avondale Junior High. Here, club secretary, (left) Clayton O. Lovelace and Lawrence Scharer, Auburn Heights Junior High principal and program chairman for Rotary, send off a special invitation to Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Board Sets Requirements

Builders Must Comply

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—"Friendly Persuasion" was the keynote at the meeting of the Independence Township board this week.

A resolution was put before the board to accept the central water system and to issue occupancy certificates to the Hi-Haven and Jared Building Companies. The board members agreed to accept the resolution if certain ordinance requirements are complied with by the builders.

It is expected that with cooperation from both sides the matter will be settled out of court. The court proceedings are scheduled for Monday.

A resolution to establish a township library was presented by Mrs. Phillip R. Smith, president of the present library board. Copies of a proposed budget were submitted to all board members. Action was tabled until March 19. The Independence Township library presently is sponsored by the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

The next meeting of the Independence Township board will be at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 19.

GRANDAD GRAD — After 28 years of studies (with interruptions) Paul Stevens, a 45-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, grandfather, has just received his degree from Fenn College there. And not only that, he was a straight "A" scholar and was graduated Magna Cum Laude. "When I began college studies in 1929, I didn't dream I'd be a grandfather before I graduated" he said as he posed for this picture with his four-year-old grandson, Philip Markland. Married in 1932, he and Mrs. Stevens have two children, Philip's mother and a son, Larry, 13.

Legislature May Act to Make Up $1 Deficit

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—There must be an easier way to make up a $1 shortage than to require a special act of the Legislature, says the State Board of Control.

The shortage is in the hobby sales fund at the state prison.

"Maybe they can pass the hat or perhaps the superintendent could go without his lunch," said John M. Peirce, state finance director and board chairman.

All such claims okayed by the board must be approved by the Legislature.

Ann Arbor Bus Change

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Great Lakes Greyhound has notified the city of Ann Arbor that it will discontinue city bus service here March 5. The city is considering an offer by a 15-man Ann Arbor group to buy back the Ann Arbor City Bus Inc. If the city would take over the system from Greyhound. It has operated at a deficit for nine years.

She Doesn't Mind Because 'They've Kept It Clean'

Laundry 'Honors' Margaret Truman

By PHILLIS BATTELLE

KEY WEST, Fla. (INS) — On a romantic corner in this town, standing regally amid the poinciana primeval in the shade of the yellow hibiscus, is the "Margaret-Truman Launderette" — a detergent dedication to our last "First Daughter."

Margaret, who stands pretty regally herself in less sudsy circles, has never seen this emporium where, in her name, you can get wet wash done for eight cents the pound and fluff-dried for another dime.

"But I think it's hysterical," she said by phone in New York, "and I wish I were down there to take advantage of the service."

She said that unfortunately, or fortunately, depending upon how you look at husbands, Mr. Clifton Daniel Jr. is "a very conscientious spouse who never takes a vacation" from his job at the New York Times.

Advised that the Margaret-Truman Launderette will do her laundry for free if she'll just come back and visit Key West as she and Mama Truman used to do in her prenuptial days, Margaret let go one of those arpeggio laughs.

LAUNDRY WOES

"Just tell them," she said, "I'd appreciate it more if they could lend me a home washer. When you're married to a working man, you do your own laundry!"

It was four years ago, two seasons after Margaret paid her latest of many visits to Key West with her parents, that the launderette was established on the site of an old paint store, and named in her honor.

Nobody thought to consult the young lady on whether or not it was okay to use her name "although I don't mind at all —they've certainly kept it clean," she says), because the building stands on the corner of Margaret street and Truman avenue.

As the current owners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hass, put it: "There was no question of asking permission. The name Margaret-Truman Launderette is a hyphenated title, technically standing for the names of the two streets.

"Even if Margaret had objected, which everybody knew she wouldn't because she's such a sweet girl, there could have been no legal difficulties."

Still on the phone, Margaret revealed that she moved two weeks ago from the small hotel apartment which she and Cliff have occupied on Fifth avenue since their marriage last spring, into a duplex apartment on Park avenue.

She calls it an "unpretentious but comfortable place, with eight rooms, I think . . . I never know whether to count bathrooms and the foyer."

FIRST REAL HOME

They've had to buy new furniture, and if her husband does get any time off, Margaret says they're devoting it to working on this, their first real home. Which is why she could use one of the launderette's eight washers and dryers — even a jug of cleaning fluid if available.

Margaret asked us to describe the launderette, which she has seen only in pictures. It's a yellow stucco building, square and one-story high, dispensing a hygienically soapy smell onto balmy Truman avenue. And right now it has a special on 9 by 12 shag rugs, look-like new for only $6.00.

"It sounds so nice," remarked Margaret wistfully.

"They're doing a big business, too."

"That's fine."

There's room for at least one more shop on this colorful corner near the ocean, and it has been suggested that perhaps a swanky dress store or perhaps a sweets parlor be set up in Margaret — hyphen — Truman's name. Would she object?

"No other emporiums, please," she says. "I've got news for you, girl. I'd like my name to be on me and that's all."

It's one thing to have a laundry clean up on your reputation, but to carry it any farther: "No, thank you, No."

Moose, Bear, Elk—His Own Kill

Fetes Pals on Wild Game

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—State Rep. Tom Bolack, New Mexico's answer to Perle Mesta, tossed an informal little wild game dinner last night for an intimate gathering of three or four hundred guests.

This was a comparatively small effort for Bolack, an oil and gas man who has been known to feed as many as 2,000 persons on game that he personally has bagged. The guests were mainly Bolack's legislative colleagues and their friends.

He introduced House Bill 100 and tradition called for the dinner.

They dined on moose, caribou and white Alaskan sheep, all shot in Alaska; Wyoming buffalo; Colorado elk; and Barbary sheep, deer and black bear from New Mexico.

Bolack estimates he shoots about a ton of wild game a year in the Western states and Alaska.

Bolack is 38, with hair that has been snow-white for years. Highly successful now, he has known hard times. Legend has it that he was practically broke when the San Juan gas basin on which he had staked everything finally was brought in as a rich gas producer several years ago. Now people are predicting an oil boom.

Bolack, who rejected suggestions of fellow Republicans that he run for Congress, has always been an ardent hunter. He began giving his wild game dinners a dozen years or so ago, the first one being for the Elks Club of Winfield, Kan. Last month he fed 600 at his home town, Farmington, N.M.

The largest crowd he ever fed was 2,000 at a five-state meeting of firemen at Aztec, a year ago.

Bolack summarized a typical year's kill this way: a buffalo, 600 pounds of meat; a moose, at least 600; a caribou, 200 to 300; an elk, 300; and deer from various states.

"I killed everything worth serving, and packed most of it out on my back," he said, "especially in Alaska where you and your guide pack out everything."

Bolack was up at 5 yesterday morning, preparing the 400 pounds of meat that went into six ovens of La Fonda, hotel scene of his party.

"I work at cooking," he says. "When the grass was short, I had to batch. If you have to eat your own cooking long enough, you are inclined to try to improve."

Indict Coggins in Miami for 1st Degree Murder

MIAMI (AP) — Walter P. Coggins 3rd, 20, a Marine Corps corporal, was indicted yesterday for first degree murder in the Dec. 26 knifing of a middle-aged drinking companion.

Coggins was arrested at Flint, Mich., in the slaying of Raymond Devonshire, 57-year-old Miami railroad man. Police said Coggins drove to Flint, where he had relatives, in Devonshire's automobile after the slaying.

Investigators said Devonshire was slain in his home after a drinking party with Coggins, who was attached to the Miami Marine Corps air station.

7-Cent Argument Brings Probation —and Ban on Bars

BALTIMORE (AP)—A high-level discussion of low finance kept Patrick Duran out of jail but will also keep him out of a bar for some time to come.

Charged with disorderly conduct the 38-year-old Duran told Police Magistrate Simon Schonfield it all started this way:

Duran asked bartender James Tattersall to pay him 7 cents, the value Duran placed on an unfinished bottle of beer taken off the bar at closing time. An argument started and police were called.

Patrolman Tex Simms offered Duran a dime to forget the whole thing, but Duran refused, saying he wanted Tattersall to pay.

"For 5 cents I'll lock up up," Simms replied, whereupon Duran produced a nickel and was locked up.

Magistrate Schonfield barred Duran from the bar and placed him on probation.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The mail pile has been collecting on the sports desk. Many readers have moans, some are looking for answers and once in awhile we do get a kind word or two.

A '26 Chief writes:

Dear Sir:

Your paper is doing a good job on local sports coverage, but let's stop referring to the current Pontiac High basketball team as the first in history to go undefeated in six, seven, etc., games. The 1930 Pontiac team won every regular season game only to lose in tournament playoffs to Saginaw Eastern, beaten by the Chiefs twice in regular season.

Editor's Note — Our reference in regard to the present streak has been mentioned as going back to 1933 when Pontiac entered the Saginaw Valley Conference. We are attempting to find and would like to have any records prior to 1933.

Dear Sports Editor:

Don't "wanna" argue, just curious. I refer to a recent story on the sports page. If Lapeer's Tom Wilson hit 16 straight free throws and winds up with 17 of 19; scores 36 points, 17 on free throws — how did he score the other 19 — on field goals?

Just Curious
Waterford Township

Dear Mr. Curious — We were also curious. It was an AP story and we called it to their attention. Wilson had 14 field goals in that game and eight free throws. All we can say is — somebody goofed.

Dear Sir:

I have been reading your paper steadily and I am quite displeased with the information about the Wayne-Oakland League. You give all the other leagues a lot of attention and you never miss a story on Pontiac. It can't be that the competition is so poor in the Wayne-Oakland League. Northville is No. 5 in the state, and Clarkston is 8-3. How about more recognition.

Russ Soffredine
Clarkston

Dear Russ: We honestly felt we were giving more attention than ever to all the leagues involving area teams. We try to highlight all the key games according to area interest and bearing on the league itself. Of course, games involving the Oakland County schools in a league are given prominence.

Dear Sir:

Your prep sports coverage is now "the" best. It's something we've needed for a long time.

J. J. C.
Walled Lake

Dear J. J. C. — Thank you.

Dear Mr. Kearns:

Are you contributing to Joe Louis' help-my-income-tax fund? Those were quite some spending sprees Joe used to have during his playboy days around Detroit. Am enclosing two buttons.

Buttonless

Dear Buttonless: No one is obligated to donate to the fund started by friends of Joe Louis. After you figure out your own income tax, you may need your buttons.

'TV' or 'Not TV' Is Question on Sports Brawls

NEW YORK (AP) — When the TV camera flees a player brawl during a sports event and plants a patch of empty end zone or a fluttering pennant on your screen, is it simply "good taste?" Or is it censorship?

An Associated Press survey today found that's a tough question for TV executives. "Good taste," naturally, is arbitrary. "Censorship" is an ugly word.

But either way, it can be a pain in the neck to the armchair fan.

Funny thing is, if you ever have had the experience of missing a player scrap on TV because the camera looked the other way, two of the three major networks state you were seeing things, pal, when you thought you were seeing nothing. Seems they insist they have their cameras on all the hassles.

Only the National Broadcasting Co. frankly admits its cameras "would not stay of a fight" because of editorial policy concerning "good taste".

But as far as the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. are concerned, when one player puts the slug on another you'll see it.

It develops, however, that what is considered "not good taste" in one sport by CBS camera-crew director is perfectly all right for mamma and the kids to see in another sport, covered by another camera director.

Take pro football and hockey.

Bert Bell, commissioner of the National Football League, states that the sport wants to highlight "the clean play and sportsmanship of the game" and "if people want to watch fights, let them tune in on Wednesday nights."

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, however, says, "If a sport fan is willing to pay to see a game at an arena he will see everything that takes place — and the TV cameras should pick up everything, too."

CBS televises both sports and agreed with both Bell and Campbell.

Just last Saturday, TV fans had a whale of a look-in on a wild player melee during the New York Rangers-Detroit Red Wings hockey game. The TV cameras were focused on the whole show.

Yet it was CBS coverage of last December's bout between the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions for the NFL's Western Conference title that irritated many a TV fan. The game was full of fights and even the fans got into it at the end. CBS says, "No," but it sure looked like the TV camera was looking at something else most of the time.

Bell's comment on whether the NFL does or doesn't have a rule which "blacks out" player brawls on TV was:

"I don't believe for the best interest of football, or the best interest of the women and children who watch football on TV, player fights should be shown. We're selling a product, after all."

A CBS spokesman, while stating the network wishes to prepetuate pro football "in the same manner, with the same good taste of television in mind" as Bell, insisted, however, that no one ever has told CBS how it should cover a sports event.

"It's strictly a matter of good taste," he said. "In hockey, well hockey sells itself on fights. It uses fights for box office attraction. In football there isn't as much body contact as in hockey, and anyway, we do show player fights in football when they occur.

"In the 63 NFL games we televised last season, we showed 82 fights — somebody kept track of them. But when a fight starts looking like a mob scene, then we take it off the screen."

The CBS spokesman also explained that the network's various camera directors have different ideas on "good taste."

"We had quite a few directors on the football games, because of the regional areas we cover with the different games each week,

Toppazzini Hurt in Melee

Rookie Subdues Wings, 1-0

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings had heard rumors that Boston goalie Don Simmons was the hottest netminder in the National Hockey League.

Those wild, ugly rumors turned out true Thursday night when the rookie goaltender rammed a 1-0 shutout down the throats of the unwilling Detroiters in front of 13,620 fans at Olympia.

Obtained from the last place Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League two weeks ago as a replacement for the ailing Terry Sawchuk, the 25-year-old Simmons frustrated the Wings at every turn.

Center Don McKenney scored for Boston at 13:52 of the 1st period and that was enough for the Bruin goalkeeper. From then on he operated in the cage like a veteran of long standing.

Playing like a man possessed, Simmons made almost superhuman stops of everything that came his way, including some of the best by such established NHL stars as Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay.

Detroit finally reached the exasperation stage at the 17:47 mark of the 3rd period.

The fiery Lindsay exploded with a high sticking assault on ex-Detroiter Jerry Toppazzini during a scramble for the puck near the Boston goalmouth.

Toppazzini, flattened on the ice in the melee, was hurt and had to be carried off the rink. Howe drilled a shot into the net while Simmons was checking on his injured teammate, but time was out and the effort was wasted.

Lindsay was penalized with a five-minute major and a 10-minute misconduct was thrown in for good measure by referee Red Storey. It was Lindsay's 2nd high sticking infraction of the evening.

Boston coach Milt Schmidt later accused Lindsay of deliberately attacking the Bruin player, but Lindsay denied the charge. Toppazzini suffered severe facial cuts and complicated fractures and is probably sidelined for the remainder of the season.

Detroit lost three golden opportunities to cash in on Boston penalties. Simmons was peppered from all angles while his mates were shorthanded, but he refused to yield an opening.

The Wings bombarded Simmons with a total of 35 shots compared to 21 stops for Detroit goalie Glenn Hall.

Hall was almost as invincible as Simmons. He made several sparkling saves, a few at point-blank range, but McKenney tapped in balding Bob Armstrong's shot and the goal was just like an insurance policy for Simmons.

It was Simmons' 5th victory in six games since joining the Bruins and his 2nd shutout.

The New York Rangers twice came from behind to earn a 4-4 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks in last night's other NHL game. The deadlock enabled the Rangers to tie Toronto for 4th place.

WIDE OF NET — Boston Bruins' Leo LaBine (16) shoots for the net in the 2nd period of Thursday night's game at Detroit, but the shot was wide of the cage. Detroit goalie Glenn Hall waits at the net as Wings' Warren Godfrey (in front of Hall) attempts to break up the play. The other Boston player is unidentified.

Cards Lone Major Club With All Players Inked

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals are the only major league team with all players signed for 1957. Other clubs are having difficulty with spring training only three weeks away.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that the Cleveland Indians and the Philadelphia Phils are having the most trouble. Each has some 25 players unsigned.

General Manager Frank Lane completed signing Cardinal players when Stan Musial agreed to terms last week. His contract calls for a reported $80,000.

Among lagging Indians are Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Vic Wertz, Bobby Avila and Chico Carrasquel.

Phils out of the fold include Richie Ashburn, Curt Simmons, Willie Jones, Granny Hamner and Ted Kazanski.

The Milwaukee Braves list 20 players unsigned. Among the regulars are Warren Spahn, Lou Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley, Ernie Johnson, Dave Jolly, Lou Sleater, Jack Dittmer, Johnny Logan, Frank Torre, Bill Bruton and Wes Covington. Hank Aaron, National League batting champion, agreed to terms last night.

The New York Giants have not received seven contracts, while the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs still have six unsigned players each.

Only one member of the Brooklyn Dodgers is among the unsigned, Sandy Amoros. Cincinnati has two to go — Johnny Klippstein and George Crowe.

In the American League, the New York Yankees have signed up their top two money-makers, Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle, but they have a host of veterans among 22 players still unsigned. The list includes Don Larsen, Hank Bauer, Bill Skowron, Andy Carey, Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant, Bob Turley, Bob Grim, Elston Howard, Irv Noren, Tommy Byrne, Mickey McDermott and Tom Morgan.

St. Mike, Rams Struggle for 3rd Tonight at PHS

St. Michael will have two objectives tonight when the Shamrocks and St. Fredgrick renew their intra-city basketball rivalry in the Pontiac High School gym.

First and foremost is revenge. This will be a grudge match for the Mikes, who dropped a 57-48 decision to St. Fred at PHS on Jan. 4.

The second goal is 3rd place in the Suburban Catholic League. There's only one drawback—the Rams have the same objective.

Pontiac's two parochial schools are tied for 3rd position with 6-3 records. Since this is the final night of the 1956-57 SCL campaign, the winner automatically earns the berth.

St. Mike's chances for victory in the return bout are considerably better than they were the 1st time. The 2nd semester ineligibility of St. Fred's high-scoring Bill Mountain has sent Shamrock stock soaring.

The Mikes have an overall season mark of 7-3 while St. Fred's total record is eight wins and three losses. Game time tonight is 7 o'clock.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, still hanging on to fading title hopes, plays host to Royal Oak St. Mary.

With 2nd spot wrapped up on an 8-1 record, the Eaglets' only hope for a share of the crown is a St. Clement upset of unbeaten St. Benedict at Center Line, indeed a remote possibility. St. Rita entertains St. James in the other SCL game.

U. of D. Selects Grid Assistant

DETROIT (AP) — Appointment of John Shada, 41, as football backfield coach was announced today by the University of Detroit.

SHADA

Shada has been head coach of all sports at Detroit St. Anthony High School since 1949. Four times his teams reached playoffs for the Catholic football championship of the city.

In announcing Shada's appointment, coach Wally Fromhart disclosed that all members of last season's staff will return for the 1957 season. Expansion of the varisty coaching staff recently was approved.

In 1941-42 he was coach at St. Frederick High in Pontiac.

Shada played high school football at Grand Rapids Catholic Central and was a guard on University of Detroit teams in 1935-36-37.

He coached U. of D. freshmen in 1938, then went to Assumption University as head coach.

Jewelers Play Flint Quintet for Polio Aid

Shaw's Jewelers, defending Pontiac Class A champions, will play an exhibition basketball game this Saturday night for the benefit of the March of Dimes campaign.

Watson's Barber Supply of Flint will furnish the opposition and the contest is scheduled in the Avondale Junior High gymnasium. Starting time is 8:15 p.m.

Shaw's playing roster will include Bob McManus, Dave Sebring, Hal Trott, Tom Spencer, Cecil Hanes, Don Williams, Garland Townes, Dick Hall, Fred Baker, Dick Doyon and Bill Mountain.

The Jewelers, managed by Clint Plympton, are undefeated in nine City League game this season.

Pitching Biggest Headache

Kansas City Eyes 5th Place

(Last of a series of managerial views on the pennant races, written under the managers' own bylines—Kansas City Athletics.)

By LOU BOUDREAU

HARVEY, Ill. (AP)—We have set our sights on fifth place. That is our goal for 1957.

We had numerous disappointments last year, namely pitching, catching and a good second base combination. We were also handicapped by recurrent injuries and players who failed to live up to expectations. And yet, as bad as we were, I don't think there is any doubt that we have made improvements. I must admit the progress has been slow. We knew it would be slow when we started.

Yet here and there we have replaced players with better ones. We now have in Hal Smith the best catcher we have had since the club moved to Kansas City. Our outfield has been strengthened with the addition of Bob Cerv, Jim Pisoni and Lou Skizas.

In Cerv we have added more power and I think in our ball park he will hit 25 home runs. He batted .304 with the Yankees but never had a chance to play regularly with them. Pisoni is a rookie who can make it in center. I'm not worried about Skizas. He'll hit. So will Harry Simpson.

Pitching is still our problem but we've improved it and this could be an interesting year. We will have 22 pitchers in camp at West Palm Beach.

Among those who will help are Ned Garver, Lou Kretlow, Gene Host, Virgil Trucks and George Burnet. We also have Art Ditmar and Wally Burnette who should be among our best this year. Then there's Alex Kellner and Bobby Shantz.

Garver can win 10 or 12 games for us if his arm is as sound as we believe. It is my opinion that Kellner and Shantz will have very good years. They, too, have been bothered by sore arms.

Our reports on Host and Ed Blake, two newcomers, tell us that they will improve our pitching very much. Ditmar was a big loser for us last year but he won 12 games for an eight place club.

Burnette pitched fine ball for us and had a 2.90 earned run average, best on the staff, although his record was 6-8. And don't forget Tom Gorman, a valuable man both in relief and as a starter. He had a 9-10 record last year but lost some tough ones.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

A manager often switches his strategy depending on whether his team is playing at home or on the road. Some managers play a more daring game away from home. To others, it makes no difference.

In the following situation Pittsburgh Manager Bobby Bragan had to make a decision as Roberto Clemente approached the plate. Bragan's mancuver helped the Pirates beat the Milwaukee Braves.

Here's an opportunity to match wits with Bragan, who turned in a fine job in his freshman season in the major leagues. What would you have done under the same circumstances?

(Key: (R) righthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

The Pirates and Braves are tied 4-4 in the top of the eighth at Milwaukee. Rookie Bob Trowbridge (R) is on the mound for Milwaukee. Frank Thomas opens the inning with a single. Clemente (R) is the next batter with Lee Walls (R), Bill Virdon (L) and Dick Groat (R) to follow.

Would you:

a. Let Clemente swing away?
b. Try a hit-and-run (hitting behind runner)?
c. Put in a lefthanded pinch-hitter for Clemente?
d. Order Clemente to sacrifice?

Result: D — Clemente sacrifices, Thomas taking second. After Walls is retired, Thomas takes third on a wild pitch. Virdon walks and Groat beats out an infield single, scoring Thomas. Pirates win 5-4 (Aug. 28).

7th Captain-Sponsor Meet Ends With Fete Saturday

The final round of the 7th annual Captain-Sponsor Bowling Tournament comes up Saturday at the Land-O-Lakes alleys.

Doubles teams combining regular team captains and their season sponsors compete in the event sponsored by the Greater Pontiac Bowling Proprietors Association.

The present score to beat for tourney honors is 1074 compiled by Frank Phelps and Frank Molina last weekend.

All awards, which will include trophies and medals, will be presented Saturday night at a banquet at the Old Mill Tavern. Prizes for top scores, youngest and oldest kegler, most strikes, unusual splits and many others will be given out.

Detroit area bowling stars George Young and Lou Sielaff and Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Ziem will be guest speakers at the fete. The bowlers will also conduct a question-and-answer session.

President Genevieve Bradley and Peggy Bender, secretary, will represent the Pontiac Women's Bowling association. Local Burnswick-Balke manager Mark Baldwin is also expected to attend as well as many area keglers and alley operators.

The tournament is held each year to create better relations between the teams and sponsors. Champions will be crowned in both actual and handicap play. The sponsor of the year will also be selected.

BOWLING GUEST — Detroit bowling star George Young will be among the guest speakers at the annual Captain-Sponsor bowling banquet Saturday at the Old Mill Tavern following the completion of action in the 3-day keg tourney sponsored by the Greater Pontiac Bowling Proprietors Association.

Howie Johnson Leads With 64

Low Scores Plentiful at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Talkative Howie Johnson, a happy-go-lucky newcomer who licked a heart condition to play golf, led a tightly bunched field into the second round of the $15,000 Tucson Open today.

"Boy, I played good," he gloated over yesterday's 6-under-par 64 on the 6,434-yard El Rio course. "It's the first time I've ever led a pro tournament. I like it.

"I have a good time on the course. I talk all the time. It keeps me loose."

Johnson has had health problems since he was a youngster in St. Paul, Minn. Rheumatic fever damaged his heart, but he was able to play for the University of Minnesota golf team. Then heart trouble put him back in the hospital while he was in the Air Force during World War II.

The handsome rookie qualified as a pro last July. The highest he has finished until yesterday was 16th at Fort Wayne, Ind., and St. Paul.

Johnson came in late to edge Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and Joe Zakarian of Modesto, Calif., a three-year veteran of the pro circuit who has never won a major tourney.

Stranahan went over par on the simple 368-yard first hole, then chipped in from 30 feet, sank 15, 20 and 12 foot putts and turned in 31 on the front nine, or four under par.

Zakarian blew the lead when he drove over the 200-yard par-3 eighth hole and scrambled for a double bogey five.

Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y., one of the strong favorites, was one of a group of five starting today with 66's.

The others are Bill Casper Jr., of Bonita, Calif., surprise winner at Phoenix last week; Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., former U.S. Open champ; Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., the biggest money winner of 1957, and Jimmy Clark, Studio City, Calif.

Bob Inman of Detroit scored a 35-32—67 and Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Mich., fired a 34-34—68 in yesterday's first round.

Chisox Boss Order

No Basketball for Pierce

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice president Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox yesterday ordered star southpaw Billy Pierce to refrain from playing basketball with a group of Detroit baseball players.

Comiskey sent this wire to Pierce at his Birmingham, Mich., home.

"Learned yesterday of your joining Detroit baseball players' basketball team. Urgently request you do not jeopardize Wilt the Stilt's (Kansas cage star Wilt Chamberlain) reputation or your career and that you desist immediately."

Comiskey said he feared Pierce might suffer injury playing basketball. It was reported that shortstop Harvey Kuenn of the Detroit Tigers organized the cage team.

Jefferson Wins 5th

Jefferson romped to its 5th straight victory in Pontiac Junior High School play yesterday with a 47-28 walloping of Madison in the 1st loop game at the new Madison court. Dennis Vincent led all the scorers with 17 points. Madison's Jayvees gained a split for the school, handing Jefferson its 1st setback, 21-19.

Lions Play at Romeo

The Detroit Lions basketball team will meet the Romeo "R" Club quintet at the Romeo High School tym Tonight a 8.

Cranes Seek 2nd Win

Cranbrook's wrestlers take to the road Saturday meeting University School that afternoon in Cleveland.

I-L Showdown Heads Full League Slate

It's "league night" again tonight in high school basketball action throughout the Oakland County area.

Complete cards are scheduled in all eight leagues, with the Inter-Lakes showdown at Berkley between the Bears and Walled Lake stealing the limelight.

INTER-LAKES CONFERENCE

Walled, Lake, riding high on a 10 game winning streak, risks its 6-0 league record against runnerup Berkley, a slick-working quintet with a 5-1 mark.

The Vikings nipped Berkley 50-49 in a hectic 1st meeting on the Walled Lake court. At stake will be the conference crown as well as Walled Lake's No. 2 Class B state rating.

Waterford and Van Dyke, involved with Southfield in a three-way tie for the cellar, clash at Waterford, while the Jays entertain strong Farmington.

EASTERN MICHIGAN LEAGUE

Birmingham meets Hazel Park at Birmingham and the Maples will try just a little harder to win this one for Coach John Petrakis, who is in Racine, Wisc., for his father's funeral.

League-leading East Detroit takes on visiting Port Huron and Mt. Clemens moves into Ferndale.

OAKLAND B LEAGUE

Troy attempts to prevent Avondale from backing into 1st place by beating dangerous Roseville on the latter's floor while Lake Orion goes to Clawson and Madison invades Fitzgerald. Avondale, trailing the Colts by half a game, plays non-league Rochester.

WAYNE-OAKLAND CONFERENCE

To all intents and purposes, Northville has the conference title in the bag, so the race turns into a fight for 2nd place.

Clarkston, currently holding the runner-up berth, faces Brighton, its stiffest challenger for the position, on the Clarkston court. Clarenceville visits West Bloomfield and Milford plays host to the pace-setting Mustangs.

SOUTHERN THUMB LEAGUE

Almont, upset by Armada last Saturday in the finals of the league tournament but still unbeaten in regular loop action, tries to get back on the winning trail at Dryden. Brown City travels to New Haven and tourney champion Armada welcomes Memphis.

SOUTH CENTRAL CONFERENCE

It's all over but the shouting in this circuit as Imlay City, undefeated in 12 starts, continues to make a runaway of the race. The Spartans play an unpredictable Oxford team tonight at Imlay while last place Ortonville greets strong North Branch.

Tonight's Avondale - Rochester basketball game will be played at Avondale, not Rochester as originally announced. A schedule error caused the mistake in location and Avondale coach Dick Bye informed the Press of the difference in site.

Saginaw Valley Conference activity sends Pontiac to Flint Central, Flint Northern to Arthur Hill and Saginaw to Bay City. Suburban Catholic League attractions are St. Michael at St. Frederick, Royal Oak St. Mary at Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. James at St. Rita and St. Benedict at St. Clement.

Two in Bosox Fold

BOSTON (AP) — Pitchers Tommy Hurd and Leo Kiely today returned their signed 1957 baseball contracts to the Boston Red Sox.

Royals Upset by Boys Club

Boys Club turned in the City Basketball League's top upset of the season last night at Pontiac High with a 55-53 victory over the Lakeside Royals.

The Pike Street quintet, which had won only once in eight previous games and was next to the cellar in the American League standings, trailed by a 41-40 count entering the final quarter.

Marvin Caswell sparked the Boys Club with 17 points. Willie DeWalt meshed 20 for the Royals, who dropped their 4th decision in 11 starts. Lakeside led at halftime in the nip-and-tuck struggle, 27-25.

Shaw's Jewelers trampled Booth Homes, 98-57, for their 10th straight win. Half a dozen Jewelers scored in double figures, headed by Tom Spencer with 17 points. Bill Dunstan fired 20 for Booth.

Minor Hockey Trades

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League yesterday traded Al Dewsbury, captain and defenseman, to the Hershey Bears for veteran center Bob Hassard.

The rules of golf will remain the same in 1957, reports the United States Golf Assn.

Victory a Must for Chiefs

Big 'Ifs' in SVC Play

This could be a night of decision in the Saginaw Valley Conference basketball race. A couple big "ifs" hinge on the Pontiac-Flint Central and the Saginaw-Bay City Central games tonight.

Bay City with a 3-3 mark in the SVC could lose even its mathematical chances with a loss to Saginaw and a Pontiac win. This would keep Saginaw's hopes alive for at least a tie.

An upset by Central over the Chiefs, however, would be a big boost for Saginaw since Pontiac still has to meet the Trojans and Bay City, presently two of the hottest teams in the league.

Neither team has lost a game since losing to Pontiac. Bay City has now won five straight and boasts a 6-3 mark, while Saginaw has a streak of three going in its 8-2 record, and is also the 8th ranked team in the state.

The race could possibly end tonight if Pontiac should win and Saginaw should lose. This would give PHS a three game lead and leave only a mathematical hope for Saginaw and Bay City.

Coach Art Van Ryzin, however, doesn't care to pin any title hopes on what the outcome of the Saginaw-Bay City game.

Central will have two new faces in the starting lineup since the 64-48 loss to the Chiefs in Pontiac in December.

Tom Bell, a 5-10 senior, took over a regular assignment following the Pontiac game he currently is the 5th best scorer in the league with a 12.0 mark. Another newcomer is Felix Miller, a 6-2 sophomore, who has given the Indians additional scoring in the past three games with 34 points.

Game time at Bellanger fieldhouse tonight is 8:00 p.m.

TV Brawls Become Issue

while we have only one for hockey — and he's an old hand at covering hockey and knows that fights are part of the game."

But while CBS insisted "Bell does not ban player fights from our cameras" and "no clause in CBS contracts with the various NFL clubs states the TV camera can not pick up fights on the field," NBC's Lindsey Nelson said, "Everyone knows Bert Bell has had a long-standing rule against showing player fights on TV."

Nelson, assistant director of sports at NBC — which does not telecast pro football, added:

"You have to realize that Bell has brought pro football a long way. It once was considered a game for rowdies, a mill town sport. Bell has done a great job of selling football as an acceptable pro sport.

"Here at NBC we telecast boxing, pro basketball and college football. In the past we've telecast college basketball. No one ever has told us what to do one way or the other.

"Whether we keep cameras on a player fight is decided by our network policy, and by the directors of each telecast. Frankly, we would not stay on a fight — but we wouldn't ignore it, either. We'll tell you about it, and shoot the camera on the fringe.

"We feel we must do that. Why, anything can happen in a fight. A player's clothes might be completely ripped off. A newspaper photographer can make the picture and doctor it up — paint a pair of pants on the guy — before it's printed. In television, we don't have that editing opportunity.

"No one tells us what not to telecast. Our network policy supersedes anything even a sponsor wants — even to the placement of commercials."

May Fight on Feb. 14

Two Pontiac Boys' club boxers who have not fought in the preliminary rounds of the Detroit Golden Gloves tourney, may get their first starts next Thursday, tourney officials said today. They are Don Cole 160-pounder and Dave Blower, 175-pounds. Draw will be made next week, and bouts will be at Hackett Field House, Highland Park.

Dick McDonald, Boys' Club 135-pounder has fought once, and won. His next opponent has not been determined. Larry Cosgrove (135) has been eliminated by a decision.

THANK YOU!

Our sincere thanks to all for the many entries and splendid support that helped to make the Captain-Sponsor Tournament successful.

STILL IN FIRST — Members of the Dickie's Service Bowling team of Pontiac beam with pride at one of their impressive top-ranking scores rivals have failed to match in three weekends of keg action in the Michigan State Elks Bowling Tournament being held here. Pointing at the high handicap total of 3201 is Capt. Bob Dickie. Looking on, left to right, are Nel Fields, Howdy Fields (with ball), Ralph Puckett and Jay Clark. The locals also lead the actual pinfall division as the event heads into the 4th of eight weekends.

Pair Rookies in Tiger Fold

DETROIT (AP)—Rookies Kent Hadley and Ken Walters signed contracts with the Detroit Tigers yesterday, bringing to 32 the number of players to reach agreement with the club for the 1957 season.

Only 10 Tiger players, including Billy Hoeft and first baseman Ed Robinson, remain to be signed.

Hadley, a 6-foot-3 first baseman, finished last year at Syracuse, N. Y. in the 29 games he played there he hit .289, including six home runs.

Walters, a 23-year-old outfielder, hit 20 home runs and batted in 74, playing with Charleston W. Va., and Augusta last season.

Hughes Leads Scoring Race

Larry Hughes, Walled Lake's nimble center, is still leading the Oakland County high school basketball poinnt-making race.

Competition is keen for the classy Viking, but he continues to hang on to his advantage.

Hughes, sparkplug of the unbeaten Vikings, has scored 76 field goals and 44 foul shots in nine games for 196 points, a 21.8 average.

St. Frederick's Bill Mountain, who bowed out after nine contests due to 2nd semester ineligibility, follows Hughes with 191 points for an average of 21.2.

Two disastrous games dropped Waterford's Chuck Gillis from 2nd to 10th in the standings. Gillis is averaging 17.4.

Spectacular Tom Wilson of Lapeer is in a class by himself. He leads the entire Oakland County area in all four divisions —field goals, free throws, total points and average.

The eagle-eyed Panther forward has amassed 135 buckets and 93 charity tosses in a dozen outings for a 363-point total, a blistering 30.2 average.

USC Selects Football Coach

Ex-Trojan Aide Clark Takes Over Top Post With 4-Year Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A year's search for a football coach at the University of Southern California has ended with the selection of Don Rex Clark, an assistant to Jess Hill for the last six years. Hill advances to the post of athletic director this summer.

Clark is 33 and is assuming a head coaching job for the first time. He was a first rate guard for the Trojans, served with the 99th Division in World War II, won a battlefield commission in the Battle of the Bulge, played two years of pro football with the San Francisco '49ers, was drafted by Eddie Erdelatz of the Navy to design defense patterns, then persuaded to come back to USC by Hill.

Clark was given a four-year contract. The salary was not disclosed. Earl Bolton, university vice president, said he fully expects Clark to become "one of the outstanding young coaches of the nation."

Weather or Not!

Thaw Doesn't Halt Skiers

By H. GUY MOATS

Despite the "soft" weather of the last few days there still is fair skiing in the Pontiac area.

But in the upstate winter sports sections the outlook was spotty-fair to good. The farther north the better the skiing.

Mt. Holly yesterday reported a 12-inch base without any bare spots on the Dixie highway slopes. "Made" snow was blown last night to supplement the base. There has been no slush, and there was a total of 228 using the hills Wednesday night, more than 50 skiing at noon Thursday.

Mt. Holly's queen Susanne Devereaux and publicitor leave Friday for the Grayling winter sports carnival. Barry Bourbon (big St. Bernard), area mascot, outfitted with a new, inscribed blanket and Red Cross cask, will also make the trip.

The Mt. Holly area will not be the only representative of Oakland County in the northern state winter events. Between 5 and 60 former Alpena residents here will head for Alpena at 1:15 a.m. Saturday via Grand Trunk, as part of a big snow train expedition to Alpena's 23rd annual carnival. More than 600 from the Alpena Club of Greater Detroit were expected for the trip.

The excellent facilities at Mt. Holly continued to attract new customers. Latest group came from Dearborn, a number of policemen on their day off.

Reports on conditions:

KENSINGTON Metropolitan Park near Milford—Tobogganing and sledding. Skating depends on weekend weather. No skiing.

MIO MOUNTAIN near Mio—2.6 inch base. Skiing good.

BOUGHTON LAKE snow bowl—5 inch base. Skiing fair.

SKYLINE NEAR Roscommon—4 inch base. Skiing fair.

OGEMAW HILLS near West Branch—3-4 inch base. Skiing poor to fair.

BLACK MOUNTAIN Ski Area between Onaway, Rogers City and Cheboygan—4-5 inch base. Skiing good.

SNOW VALLEY, Waters Ski Village, Sylvan Knob, Au Sable Ranch and Ski Club, Gay El Rancho and Otsego Ski club, all near Gaylord—4-8 inch base. Skiing fair to good.

GRAYLING Winter Sports Park and Lovells Winter Playland near Grayling—4 inch base. Skiing poor.

PIONEER HILL, Roscommon—3 inch base. Skiing fair.

SHERIDAN VALLEY and Woodridge near Lewiston—2-4 inch base. Skiing fair.

GRISWOLD MOUNTAIN, Indian River—7-8 inch base. Skiing fair to good.

SNOW SNAKE MOUNTAIN between Clare and Harrison—Skiing poor.

SILVER VALLEY near Tawas—Skiing poor. Other facilities good.

Baritone Featured in Program Series

Bill Johnson, bass baritone, will be presented in the third program of the cultural series, sponsored by the Jewish Welfare Federation & Council of Pontiac. The song recital will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Congregation B'nai Israel, Oneida and Menominee roads.

Johnson began his professional career after winning seven medals in the Chicagoland Music Festivals. He will be heard in folk songs of many lands.

The remaining programs will be Trude Weiss-Rosmarin, humorist and raconteur, on March 9 and Irving Davidson, editor and educator, on April 6.

Mrs. Thomas Horwitz and Mrs. George Wyman are cochairmen for the series.

Open Dam in Thailand; One of World's Largest

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—King Phumiphon Aduldet last night opened Thailand's New Chainat Dam. One of the largest in the world, it will increase Thailand's rice production by more than a million tons—50 per cent of the country's present crop.

The dam 100 miles north of Bangkok was built by Thailand engineers at a cost of 58 million dollars. Advisers were furnished by a Scottish firm and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

Rosenbergs Executed Amid Outcries of Indignation From Communists

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the twenty-ninth in a series of highlights from "The FBI Story," a book about the Federal Bureau of Investigation by Don Whitehead, Pulitzer Prizewinner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

The British announced the arrest of Klaus Fuchs, the atomic scientist, on Feb. 3, 1950. Julius Rosenberg came to the Greenglass apartment and asked David to go for a walk.

"You remember the man who came to see you in Albuquerque?" Julius asked. "Well, Fuchs was also one of his contacts."

He figured that Harry Gold would be caught next, and that Greenglass had better leave the country.

After Gold's arrest, Julius urged David to leave as soon as possible. He gave David traveling instructions and $5,000 in cash. But Greenglass didn't go.

Greenglass testified that his wife used $1,000 of the money to pay household bills; $4,000 he sent to his lawyer after his arrest.

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and David Greenglass were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to commit espionage. Greenglass pleaded guilty and received a 15-year prison sentence. The Rosenbergs pleaded not guilty.

The trial opened on March 6, 1951, in the United States court house in Foley Square, New York.

The judge was Irving Robert Kaufman, who, at 40, was the youngest federal jurist in the United States.

STATES POSITION

Judge Kaufman made it clear from the first that he was aware of the profound implications in the case—the chances that prejudices, religious or political, might color a juror's thinking either for or against the defendants.

He questioned prospective jurors closely. Where he noted the slightest doubt of objectivity or any reluctance to serve, the prospect was excused by the judge himself.

The jury found the Rosenbergs guilty of violating the Espionage statute, which provided that those found guilty "shall be punished by death or by imprisonment for not more than 30 years."

The courtroom was hushed on the day Judge Kaufman was to pass sentence—April 5, 1951: "... Espionage, as viewed here today, ... is rather a sordid, dirty work—however idealistic are the rationalizations of the persons who engaged in it—with but one paramount theme, the betrayal of one's own country ...

"I consider your crime worse than murder. Plain deliberate contemplated murder is dwarfed in magnitude by comparison with the crime you have committed.

LONG DELIBERATION

"What I am about to say is not easy for me. I have deliberated for hours, days and nights. I have carefully weighed the evidence ... I have searched the records — I have searched my conscience—to find some reason for mercy ...

"It is not in my power, Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, to forgive you. Only the Lord can find mercy for what you have done. ... you are hereby sentenced to the punishment of death ..."

Before the Rosenbergs died as traitors in Sing Sing Prison's electric chair, their case was to be given one of the most careful and thorough reviews of any case in American criminal history.

It was reviewed 16 different times, on various points, by the U.S. district court. There were seven appeals to the U. S. circuit court of appeals; seven petitions for review to the U. S. Supreme Court and two applications to the President of the United States for executive clemency.

Judge Kaufman's decision stood.

"DIGNITY AND DECORUM"

Before the jury returned its verdict, Julius Rosenberg's attorney, E. H. Bloch, had seemed satisfied. Bloch told the judge and jury: "... I would like to say to the court on behalf of all defense counsel that ... we feel that the trial has been conducted ... with that dignity and that decorum that befits an American trial."

But two years later, Bloch seemed to have forgotten these words. At the Rosenbergs' funeral, he stormed: "... This was an act of cold deliberate murder ... I place the murder of the Rosenbergs at the door of President Eisenhower, Atty. Gen. Brownell and J. Edgar Hoover ...

"These sweet, tender, cultured people have been killed ... Insanity, irrationality, barbarism and murder seem to be part of the feeling of those who rule us."

What had happened between 1951 and 1953?

The Communist-front Civil Rights silent throughout the entire Rosenberg trial. There was only a bare mention of their conviction.

The FBI detected in mid-August of 1951 the first small warning of what was to come when the left-wing National Guardian, unofficial weekly publication of the Progressive Party, said, in part, "... there are strong grounds for suspecting the Rosenbergs are victims of an out-and-out political frame-up."

Five months later, the Communist-organized National Committee to Secure Justice in the Rosenberg Case opened headquarters in New York City.

The committee's first press release, on Jan. 3, 1952, said "It is significant that none of the jurors was Jewish."

WORKER IN FIGHT

The Communist Daily Worker joined the campaign with: "The Rosenberg case is a ghastly political frameup. It was arranged to provide blood victims to the witch-hunters, to open the door to new violence, anti-Semitism, and court lynchings of peace advocates and Marxists as 'spies.'"

The Communist-front Civil Rights Congress chimed in: "The lynching of these two innocent American Jews, unless stopped by the American people, will serve as a signal for a wave of Hitler-like genocidal attacks against the Jewish people throughout the United States ..."

Now the "Save the Rosenbergs" drive was in high gear. There were mass rallies, parades, and picketing at the White House.

Responsible Jewish organizations tried to stem the tide of Communist propaganda. The Bulletin of the Anti-Defamation league of B'nai B'rith said bluntly:

"The Communists aren't interested in the Rosenbergs as Jews. They are not concerned with the welfare of the Jewish community. They're yelling anti-Semitism for their own, partisan purpose."

EMOTIONAL INTENSITY

Judge Kaufman and two of the government's attorneys, Irving Saypol and Roy M. Cohn, were Jews. Lucy S. Dawidowicz, in the July, 1952, issue of Commentary reported: "A check of 156 names impaneled ... reveals that 15 names were obviously Jewish. Of these, 10 were excused by the Court for personal reasons, four were challenged by the defense and one was challenged by the government.

"There were probably other Jews on this panel, but only these 15 names were clearly Jewish."

The campaign achieved such emotional intensity that many honest men and women throughout the free world were disturbed; the line became blurred between appeals for clemency and protests against the trial itself as a frame-up.

The man on whose shoulders these pressures fell most fearfully was Judge Kaufman, but he would not bend.

And neither would President Eisenhower. The President said: "... The execution of two human beings is a grave matter, but even graver is the thought of millions of dead whose death may be directly attributable to what these spies have done."

Julius Rosenberg was executed at Sing Sing Prison at 8:05 p.m June 19, 1953. Ethel Rosenberg was executed 10 minutes later.

That was the end of the trail.

Welk's Very Thankful; Not Upset at Take-Offs

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — ME—"Has success spoiled Lawrence Welk?"

HIM—"We hope not. When I look back and see what little opportunities I had in a little town of 400 people, I have to be thankful!"

ME—"Now you have two TV shows—isn't that shortening your life on TV and also on earth?"

HIM—"I don't think so. I'm a firm believer in the idea that Americans like musical shows. You know what I think shortens your life? Sitting in one place, not doing anything. I get a lot of exercise due to the fact I dance a lot!"

ME—"Have you been upset by any of the impersonations Sid Caesar and others have done of you?"

HIM—"Anybody who gets upset when folks do takeoffs on them, they're very average. I don't think I've suffered, though my audiences sometimes resent it and write to me saying 'Why don't you hit back at those fellows? Why don't you do an impersonation of Sid Caesar?' You have to be an actor to do these things."

ME—"I understand you got a great reputation as a chewing gum peddler when you were a boy."

HIM—"Yes, years ago I couldn't get a sponsor so I found a company in San Francisco manufacturing Honolulu Fruit Chewing Gum.

"I had a special brand made up and named it 'Lawrence Welk Chewing Gum.' It gave the Lawrence Welk radio show the feeling it was sponsored. I'm always thinking of little gimmicks like that."

Welk leaned over and put a little shiny lapel button on my coat. I took it off and asked him what it was.

ME—"What the heck is that?"

HIM—"I figured you'd ask that. It's the Lawrence Welk Award. One of my little gimmicks."

Actress Nagel, Air Force Mate in Stalemate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Anne Nagel is in a legal dilemma as tortuous as some of the scripts she has enacted.

She wants $400 temporary alimony. Her divorce from Air Force Lt. Col. James H. Kennan, 44, isn't final..

Superior Court ruled yesterday that the 41-year-old Miss Nagel must (A) dispose of the inconclusive interlocutory decree she got from Keenan in 1951 or (B) withdraw her separate maintenance suit for $400 monthly.

Interlocutory divorces in California aren't final for a year, or until a final decree has been entered by the court. Keenan tried to get the final decree entered Wednesday, but Miss Nagel blocked this by testifying they reconciled the night of the day the interlocutory divorce was granted.

Reconciliation within the one-year period invalidates interlocutory decrees in California. The Keenans marital status today: stalemate.

Soviets Expel Two Americans

Charged With Spying, Illegal Use of Camera; 'Apparently Retaliation'

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet order expelling two more American military attaches will have little practical effect except as propaganda. One has already left the country and the other has transfer orders.

The Russians ordered out Marine Capt. Paul R. Uffelman, 31, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Navy Lt. William S. Lewis, Guthrie, Okla. The United States said they were attacked by a crowd in civilian clothes in Leningrad Jan. 25 and subsequently detained in a Leningrad police station despite their diplomatic immunity.

The American Embassy, where the two were assistant naval attaches, said Lewis has gone to West Germany on leave and will not return to Moscow. Uffelman has completed his duty tour here and has train reservations with his wife for Berlin Monday en route home.

The Soviet move appeared to be another retaliation for the arrest of alleged spies for Russia in the United States and the expulsion from America of Soviet diplomats accused of spying.

On Jan. 30 the Soviets expelled two other U. S. military attaches, Maj. Hubert Tansey, Alexandria, Va., and Capt. Charles Stockell, Jacksonville, Fla. They were charged with "engaging in activities incompatible with their diplomatic status."

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko claimed Uffelman and Lewis had tried to photograph an unidentified defense building in Leningrad. He also claimed they had struck Soviet citizens who tried to question them and refused to identify themselves to Leningrad police.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen gave a different version in protesting the incident to the Foreign Ministry. He said Uffelman and Lewis had gone to Leningrad on a routine visit with Soviet approval and that they were accosted in an "open" area where cameras are permitted.

This was Bohlen's account:

One Russian tried to see a camera Lewis was wearing around his neck while another Russian nearby cried out: "Spies! Spies!" In an ensuing struggle other Russians tried to grab Uffelman's briefcase and Lewis' camera. A militia captain who arrived on the scene did not try to restrain the attackers and refused to recognize the Americans' diplomatic credentials. The Americans went to the police station when a Russian military lieutenant colonel threatened to use force.

Hollywood Headlines

'Separate Tables' to Star Brilliant Film Foursome

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The cast Hecht-Hill and Lancaster have assembled for "Separate Tables" would make any producer do a little crowing. Let me tell you whom Producer Hecht has lined up:

Laurence Olivier will direct and play the role of the major. Deborah Kerr is signed for Sybil, Burt Lancaster is set for the labor leader who has to give up a high government position because he is divorced, and Vivien Leigh has agreed to play his ex-wife.

Larry and Vivien arrive here the 20th of this month to talk over plans, but the picture will not actually go before the cameras until October of this year. If this cast doesn't bring money into the boxoffice, I give up!

The year starts off auspiciously for Joan Fontaine, whose career has taken a great upward turn. She joins Jean Simmons and Paul Newman in the James Michener story "Until They Sail" at MGM.

Interestingly enough, Joan goes back to the studio which gave her her first big break when she played the teenage bride in the original version of "The Women."

In the Michener story she plays a girl who hates men. Now that wouldn't be Joanie in real life! The locale is New Zealand during World War II.

Joan just finished "Island in the Sun" for Darryl Zanuck.

MAIL FOR LAUREN

Lauren Bacall was up to her neck answering letters when I dropped in to see her a few days ago.

"You can't believe the size of the mail since Bogey's death," she said, "not only the usual fan letters, but people sending checks for the Humphrey Bogart Cancer Fund. I feel that anyone who goes to that trouble is entitled to a personal word from me, so each day I tackle as many letters as I can."

Betty says she won't make a picture for several months, and she wants to be sure she does something of which Bogey would approve. She says she wishes he might have seen "Designing Woman." "He was always so particular about what role I played," she told me.

The children, Stephen, age 8, and Leslie, 4½, were playing in the yard and came to greet me. Betty thinks Stephen looks like his father, but I think he looks as exactly like her and that the little girl resembles her father.

Elvis Presley says that his mother has just been released from a Methodist hospital where she underwent a complete checkup and was given permission to come here with his father in three weeks to visit him.

"I'm going to give them a real tour of the town," said Elvis, "because I can't say when I'll be called into the Army. It's anybody's guess as to when I'll be called."

I hear tell Presley's asking price for a picture now is $250,000 plus 50 per cent of the gross profits. But if he goes into the Army he may not even get another chance to make a picture for at least 18 months.

STORK RUMORS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Are Shirley Jones and Jack Cassidy awaiting a blessed event? That's what I hear rumored.

Anna Magnani is headed for New York where she'll spend an entire month before coming to Hollywood to do "Obsessed." She had little chance to see America when she was here last time.

I have never seen cuter children or better little actors than in Gene Kelly's "The Happy Road." Here's one picture Ma, Pa, the children and Grandma and Grandpa can see—and it has a lot of charm.

Bing Crosby is back in Palm Springs. He and Gordon MacRae, Peter Lind Hayes and Pete Pettito relaxed at Alan Dale's The Springs Restaurant after a hot and heavy golf tournament.

Lizabeth Scott sings a ditty with Elvis Presley in "Lovin' You," the Hal Wallis epic.

Dinah Shore opens at the Flamingo the 14th. While she's in La Vegas she will make three appearances on radio for the Heart Fund, bringing in disc jockeys to help her plug this worthy cause.

Stiffer Narcotics Bill Passes Texas Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A narcotics bill providing for tougher penalties than the federal law has passed its first test in the Texas state senate.

The bill, requiring a minimum 20 years to life imprisonment for anyone who sells or gives away narcotics in violation of the law, was passed by the senate jurisprudence committee. A second conviction provides for life imprisonment or the electric chair.

The minimum imprisonment for narcotics violations under federal law is five years.

Must Work for Welfare

Bean Easiness Unsettles List

CHICAGO (AP) — Easiness in soybeans unsetteld the rest of the grain list in active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Soybeans were down from the start and could not show much rallying ability. Corn opened firm, but had to give up its gains as trading progressed. After a steady opening wheat sank for fractional losses.

Selling in soybeans was based on weakness in soybean oil, which in turn reflected disappointment over the failure of export business to develop.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ⅝ lower, March $2.31; corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, March $1.29⅜; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, March 75, rye ¼ to ¾ lower, March $1.35¼; soybeans 1 to 1¾ lower, March $2.43¼, and lard 5 to 18 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.87.

Chrysler Shows Lower Profit

Earnings Down in 1956 but Swing Upward in Final 3 Months

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp.'s profits fell sharply last year but picked up in the final quarter and the No. 3 auto maker sees signs of improved profits this year.

The company's annual report yesterday showed net income for 1956 of $19,952,969 compared with 1955 earnings of $100,063,330.

Sales fell 23 per cent. The volume for 1956 was $2,676,334,431 compared with $3,466,222,350 for the boom year 1955.

Chrysler's earnings last year amounted to $2.29 per common share compared with $11.49 per share in 1955.

Bounding back from a third quarter deficit of $12,399,119 and sales of $429,657,648, Chrysler showed a profit of $13,681,000 in the final quarter. This was equal to $1.57 per share on sales of $817,897,000.

Business is continuing to improve this year, L. L. Colbert, president, told shareholders.

Piggins Ban on Book Up for Court Hearing

DETROIT (AP) — Circuit Judge Carl W. Weidman has under consideration today a plea for a court order voiding a police ban on the sale of John O'Hara's controversial novel "Ten North Frederick."

Counsel for the publishers yesterday described the police action in a court hearing as "coercion and intimidation of the book trade."

Nathaniel H. Goldstick, counsel for the City of Detroit, argued that police commissioner Edward S. Pippins rightly banned the book because he considered it "obscene." Goldstick said Piggins was enforcing the Michigan Obscenity Law. The Michigan statute currently is being tested before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Judge Weidman said it may be a month before he makes his ruling.

Board of Canvassers Re-elects Officers

Mrs. Sarah F. Garrett yesterday wes re-elected chairman of the three-member Oakland County Board of Canvassers.

Mrs. Minnie Sherwood was re-elected secretary. Both have served since 1944.

Carlos D. Richardson, the third member, has served on the board two years.

Children's Story Hour at Library Saturday

The third in a series of winter "Children's Story Hours" will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 at the Pontiac City Library, 47 Williams St.

City Librarian Phyllis Pope said the stories to be told include: "Tubby the Tuba," by Paul Tripp; "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," by Hans Christian Andersen; and "Away Went Wolfgang," by Virginia Kahl.

OK Visiting Teachers' Pay

The Oakland County Board of Education met Thursday evening and approved the payment of $104,000 to the local school districts for visiting teachers, which comes under the county's special education program.

Republicans Drop Plan to Up State Sales Tax

LANSING (AP)—Republicans have failed in their bid to organize a drive for an increase in the state sales tax as an answer to school money problems.

Hope for this as a solution evaporated yesterday when Republican senators, caucusing a second time on the subject, could find no ground for general agreement.

After the closed meeting, Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, caucus chairman, told newsmen "We've dropped the sales tax."

California is the second largest state in the Union with a total land area of about 156,000 square miles.

Market Moves Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was slightly lower in fairly quiet early trading today.

Pivotal issues declined fractionally but there were some small gainers.

Most leading steels, oils, utilities, rails, mail orders and aircrafts edged downward. There was an assortment of gainers among chemicals and manufacturers.

Chrysler was firm despite the report that its 1956 earnings were 80 per cent below 1955. Wall street sources said the report had apparently been well discounted by the market.

Burlington Industries and Textron were each down fractions on pessimistic reports from each company on dividend prospects.

Analysts still regarded the market as being in a critical technical position. The background of news was mixed. There was further news of easing in steel scrap but store sales were reported higher.

Area Students Tour Child Guidance Unit

Twenty-five members of the Future Socials Workers Club of Waterford Township High School toured the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic in Pontiac Thursday evening.

Madeleine Half, director, showed the group through the building and later held a discussion on the clinic's work.

The film, "Angry Boy" which describes the treatment of a disturbed child, was shown by a projectionist from the Navy Recruiting Office.

German Orphan, 2, Flies to U.S. Via Polar Route

LARKSPUR, Calif. (AP) — Two-year-old Hans Neffgen of Hamburg, Germany is with his new family after flying to the San Francisco Bay area via the Polar Route unescorted.

The orphan was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLeran. He made the trip under the watchful eye of stewardess Eva Nielson. The McLerans and a German-speaking friend, Emily Westhoff, met the tot at San Francisco airport.

Silver Lining Looks Dark to This Farmer

HENRY, S. D. (AP)—Nothing is so bad it couldn't be worse but Lester Florey has begun to wonder. He's doing his best to see the silver lining.

"I still have my wife and I'm thankful for the prayers for her from so many people," he said today.

But his pile of trouble is big. His wife had an abdominal operation last February.

Somebody stole a drag from one of his fields.

A wheel came off a silo wagon and the wagon was ruined before he could stop it.

He lost three cattle, victims of green alfalfa. "It could have been worse. All my cattle could have died."

On Sept. 15 his wife Hilda fell and broke her leg. While the leg was being set she suffered a stroke and was hospitalized. She was in a coma five days.

On his way to see his wife in the hospital Florey was arrested for going through a stop sign.

Back at the farm a badger got into his hen house and killed 150 chickens.

Then seven skunks moved in to live in the badger runways.

His dog ran away. Dry weather, then rain and hail storms damaged his crops. Wind blew down a lot of his corn.

His brother Charles died in August.

Finally, the other night, the clothes dryer in his house caught fire.

Medics on Stand in Montesi Case

Testify Italian Girl Died by Drowning, Refute 'Sex Orgy' Premise

VENICE, Italy (AP)—Medical experts testified today that 20-year-old Wilma Montesi died by drowning.

Two physicians who performed the autopsy expressed their belief that the dark-haired party girl "died of slow drowning, probably in water that was not very deep."

A third physician, the first to examine Wilma's body when it was found on Ostia Beach near Rome on April 11, 1953, said he thought Wilma "was not in the water a long time."

His opinion, he said, was "strengthened by the fact that Wilma's red polish on her fingernails was still very shiny."

The two experts who performed the autopsy testified also that Wilma was a virgin, and that she had eaten ice cream shortly before her death.

Defense attorneys for jazz pianist Gianpiero Piccioni, chief defendant in the case that has rocked Italy, contend that Wilma fell into the sea and later was washed up on the beach.

Piccioni, son of a former foreign minister, is charged with manslaughter. The prosecution charges that he took Wilma unconscious from a high society dope and sex orgy, believing her dead, and left her on the beach where the incoming tide finished her off.

The defense, and Wilma's family, advance the theory that she suffered from a foot inflammation, went to the beach to bathe her feet in salt water, and fainted.

Car Output Down Slightly for Period

DETROIT (INS) — Automotive News declared yesterday carmakers currently are running only 2.6 per cent behind the same 1956 period in calendar year production.

However, the trade paper said truck output is lagging 19.7 per cent behind last year

February car production was pegged at 570,000 units, according to Automotive News. The mark would be 11.2 per cent behind January's 642,090 assemblies, but still 2.6 per cent above February, 1956.

This week's output was estimated by the paper at 144,091 as compared to 140,411 last week.

Legal to Condemn Land to Build Parking Lots

LANSING (AP) — A city has the right to condemn private property to build a parking lot, the state attorney general ruled today.

Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh also said, however, that the householder can go to the courts to protest such action.

Blue Cross Will Aid 10

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross announced Thursday that it will award 10 nursing scholarships worth $300 each this year. Winners will be chosen by the Michigan League for Nursing from high school seniors and graduates. It's the seventh straight year the scholarships have been offered in a move to alleviate the shortage of trained nurses.

West Germany Footing Bill

Burned by Nazis in '33, Historic Reichstag to Be Rebuilt

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin today began reconstructing the historic Reichstag building, burned out in 1933 by the Nazis and bombed during World War II.

As workers started clearing away rubble around the 63-year-old structure, the city announced that the West German government has provided $595,000 for the first stages of renovation. More money is to be provided later.

The West German Parliament decided last Wednesday that a parliament building should be constructed in West Berlin, but postponed decision on whether it should be a new building.

The decision to begin renovation of the battered Reichstag comes at a time when the West German government is under pressure to begin moving its offices from Bonn to the traditional capital of Berlin.

Those who favor the move say it might speed unification of Germany. For security reasons, the West German government is opposing any wholesale move to Berlin, which lies 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain and is still an occupied city.

The Reichstag building stands in the British sector of Berlin, just a few yards from the border that marks Soviet-held East Berlin.

The Nazis instigated burning out the stone building shortly after they came to power in 1933. They blamed the fire on the Communists, and used it as an excuse for a drive against the Communist party.

5 Hurt as Plane Plummets in Air

Airliner Falls 200 Feet in Downdraft, Tumbles Passengers, Crew

CHICAGO (AP)— A big, four-engined airliner dropped sharply today in a massiave downdraft, injuring two crew members and three passengers.

The unexpected plunge jolted the Eastern Air Lines Super constellation into a drop of some 200 feet as it neared the end of a flight from Miami, Fla., to Chicago.

A spokesman for the air line said the drop probably was made more severe than the usual sinking "bump" such downdrafts usually cause, because the plane's power and momentum had been reduced for a letdown preliminary to landing.

The plane's purser told of "hitting the ceiling" in a "flip" as he sought to aid the stewardess who was tossed to the top of the plane compartment.

The pilot, Capt. Harold Riker, said the incident occurred about 100 miles south of Chicago just after he had trimmed the plane, carrying 23 passengers, for a descending approach to the city.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said there were scattered thunderstorms in the area where the mishap occurred. Such storms cause an unusual tubulence in the air, sometime with gigantic columns of rising warm air, surrounded by corresponding downrushes of colder air.

Nomally, a large plane under full cruising power, experiences only "bumps" when it enters such vertical currents.

Riker said he had lighted the "Fasten Seat Belts" sign in the passenger compartment, but most of the passengers were asleep.

He said Hanson and Miss Monroe were awakening them and asking them to fasten their belts when the plane was caught in the sudden downdraft.

Museum Is Popular

JORDAN, Ont. (AP) — More than 7,000 persons from all Canadian provinces and 13 other countries visited the Jordan Historical Museum last year. The museum is three miles west of St. Catherines.

Earnings

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (INS)—R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. reports record sales and earnings in 1956. Earnings climbed 16.2 per cent to $61,912,680, or $5.81 per common share. Sales reached a peak of $957,366,846 compared with $868,425,772 in 1955. The firm also said it produced and shipped a record number of cigarettes for the domestic market last year.

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (INS)—Philadelphia and Reading Corp. net income soared to $8,545,219, or $6.97 a share, in 1956, compared with a loss of $3,115,078, or $2.28 a share, the previous year. Sales climbed about $32 million to $80,734,879.

Ike, Saud Hold Final Meeting

Communique Expected to Sum Up Results of Their Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and King Saud, reportedly in full agreement on Middle East problems they talked over, hold their final meeting today.

Their White House conference was expected to bring forth a communique summing up results of their talks during the last 10 days.

Eisenhower then flies to a Georgia vacation and Saud prepares to leave tomorrow for Spain.

American and Arab officials indicated beforehand the Eisenhower-Saud communique would cover these key points:

1. Extension of the agreement under which the U.S. Air Force uses the Dhahran air base, possibly for five years.

2. Increased U.S. military aid. Saudi Arabia wants to double its 15,000-man force and modernize it with bigger tanks and jet planes.

3. Assurance of U.S. economic aid for development projects.

Utah Surveys Prison Damage

Probers Eye Long List of 'Suggestions' Asked by Rioters

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (AP)—Investigators descended on Utah State Prison last night in the wake of a 12-hour riot among more than 500 inmates.

The probers surveyed what Warden Marcel Graham termed "several thousand dollars" worth of damage and listened to "suggestions" from the quiet convicts.

Armed inmates captured 29 hostages, set fires in mattresses, smashed into the prison storeroom and looted the infirmary Wednesday.

When they yielded early yesterday after conferences with Gov. George D. Clyde and other state officials, the rioters controlled all but the administration portion of the six-year-old prison.

One guard and two convicts were hurt.

Guard Lt. Marion L. Coleman, stabbed in the stomach, was reported in "good" condition.

Comparative peace returned to the penitentiary as shotgun-armed guards herded straggling inmates back into their cells and locked them up.

At the height of the demonstration, convict negotiators summoned Gov. Clyde from Salt Lake City and presented him with a list of 43 "suggestions" for improving their lot.

A few hours after the prisoners returned to their cells the Utah Board of Corrections, a committee of legislators and others appointed by the Governor began separate investigations.

Janice Hibbard, David Stearns Speak Vows

WALLED LAKE — Before an altar decorated with chrysanthemums and carnations, Janice Hibbard became the bride of David Stearns, Rev. John Mulder performed the 7:30 ceremony on Saturday in the Walled Lake Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hibbard of Chasteen street here are the parents of the bride, and the late Mr. and Mrs. MacNeil Stearns were David's parents.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace over satin. A pearl tiara secured her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white shattered carnations centered with a pink camelia.

Mrs. John Salitskey of Pontiac was the matron of honor with James Tate of Pontiac as best man. Jerry Meade of Walled Lake seated the guests and Jimmy Meade was the ring bearer.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the wedding.

The newlyweds left on a motor trip to California where they will make their home in San Jose.

Prepare Smorgasbord

SASHABAW PLAINS — Public smorgasbord at the Sashabaw Feb. 9. Serving will be at 5:30, 6:00 and 6:30. Free will offering goes to the church building fund.

Utica Catholic Ceremony Unites Pair

UTICA — Rev. Fr. Edward DeKeyser performed the ceremony marrying Elaine Barbara Schmidt and Bertram L. Lozen in St. Lawrence Catholic Church here Saturday. The 10 a.m. service was performed before 145 guests.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert P. Schmidt of 47800 VanDyke here, and Bertram is the son of Mr. Bertram F. Lozen of 31 Fifth St., Mt. Clemens.

The bride wore a gown of silk taffeta trimmed with imported rose-point lace. The dress featured a sweetheart neckline with long sleeves, and a skirt of cascading teers in front falling into a chapel train. The head piece, a finger tip veil, was attached to a crown of seeded pearls and small mother-of-pearl button butterflies at the base of each loop. She carried an orchid on a prayer book.

Mrs. Della Gibbons of Mt. Clemens served as the matron of honor with Patricia Gibbons, Loretta Lozen, both of Mt. Clemens and Dolores Szymanski of Detroit serving as bridesmaids. Naomi Schmidt, sister of the bride, attended as junior bridesmaid, with Sandra Purzycki as flower girl.

Assisting his brother as best man was Norman Lozen of Mt. Clemens. Richard Peltier of Mt. Clemens, Paul Schmidt, brother of the bride, and Al LaPorte of Detroit seated the guests. The ring bearer was Mark Wisniewski.

Breakfast at the K of C Hall was attended by 145 guests and 400 were present for the evening reception in Utica.

The couple will spend a week in Poccono Mountains, Pennsylvania stopping also in New York City. They will reside at 88 Gibbs St., Mt. Clemens.

BARBARA INGWELL

Dr. and Mrs. Guy B. Ingwell of Knox, Ind. announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Lee, to G. Edgar Meads. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. George E. Meads of Oxford. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and he is affiliated with Sigma Chi. An August wedding is being planned.

Name Mrs. N. Smith as Marlette Delegate

MARLETTE — Mrs. Norman Smith has been named Marlette Township's delegate to the State Convention at Detroit, and Vernon Robinson was named her alternate, at the Sanilac County Republican convention.

Charles Rigney, chairman of the Sanilac Republican Committee, was named chairman of the county's delegation to Detroit.

Re-elect 2 Officers in Westacres Group

WESTACRES — Mrs. Stockton King and Mrs. Wendell Strait were re-elected president and secretary of the Westacres Child Study Club on Monday night. Serving with them next year will be Mrs. Lucille Young, vice president, and Mrs. Howard Scharfenberg, treasurer.

Mrs. William Duckwitz was hostess for the meeting and showed colored slides of a western trip. Mrs. Minor White and Mrs. James Blain conducted a silent white elephant sale to add to the club's program funds.

Orion Board Changes Meeting to Feb. 13

ORION TWP.—The Orion Township Board will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13 instead of Feb. 12 because of the Lincoln's Birthday holiday.

The School Board will meet the same night at 8 p.m. in the superintendent's office at Banche Sims School.

North Branch Vote Annexes Sweet School

NORTH BRANCH — At the election held Monday afternoon by the voters of the North Branch Township Area schools, 53 voted in favor, and five against the proposition to annex the Sweet Elementary School, thus re-voting the 4-mill debt service already carried, to cover North Branch and Sweet School's bonded indebtedness.

Of the 55 qualified taxpayers voting on the proposition to assume North Branch's pro - rata share of Sweet Elementary school's bonded indebtedness, 50 voted in favor of, and four in opposition to the proposition.

Postpone Town Board Meeting in Farmington

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The regular meeting of the Farmington Township Board scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 12 has been postponed to Thursday Feb. 14. Because Feb. 12, Lincoln's Birthday, is a legal holiday no official business by the township board can be transacted on that day. Township and city offices will be closed all day Tuesday, as well as the Farmington branch of the National Bank.

PUBLIC NOTICE

On January 14, 1957, the Joint Pontiac Municipal Airport Zoning Board acting under the authority of Act No. 23, Public Acts of 1950 (Extra Session) adopted a zoning ordinance to control the height of future structures and trees on the land located within a ten mile radius from the center of the Pontiac Municipal Airport. This airport is owned and operated by the City of Pontiac.

The effective date of this ordinance is Friday, March 15, 1957, at which time it will become necessary for property owners in the ten mile radius from the Pontiac Municipal Airport to obtain a permit from the Administrative Agency for this ordinance before erecting a structure or planting a nonconforming tree in excess of the filing height limits as provided for in the permit requirement section of this ordinance.

The permit application forms and copies of the ordinance will be available at the following offices:

HOMER D. HOSKINS,
Airport Manager
Pontiac Municipal Airport
Pontiac, Michigan

CARL ALT,
City of Pontiac
Building Inspector
35 South Parke Street
Pontiac, Michigan

EMIL GRISCHOW,
Waterford Township
Building Inspector
4993 West Huron
Pontiac, Michigan

ANDREW PLANO,
White Lake Township
Building Inspector
Route No. 2
Milford, Michigan

The Building Inspectors of the City of Pontiac, Township of Waterford and Township of White Lake have been designated to serve as the Administrative Agency for this ordinance.

LLOYD L. ANDERSON,
Chairman
Joint Pontiac Municipal Airport Zoning Board

Taxes, Cars Too Large?

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — A group of Somerville residents will meet Monday to discuss the possibility of obtaining tax abatements on their garages. They claim new cars are too big and too long to fit in some garages and they are forced to park them on the street.

Video Schedule Too Demanding

Tennesseean Now Does Six Half-Hour Shows Every Week

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Carrying more than his "16 tons" for NBC these days is likable Ernie Ford, generally known as Tennessee.

This is a great season for singing Tennesseeans (Elvis Presley, Pat Boone, etc.), and Ernie is no exception. He's been hitting it big in daytime TV for a couple of years, and last fall he made the big jump to a Thursday night show.

The result has been highly sucessful. Backed by the adept Walter Schumann Singers, Ernie has put forth a show that has attracted enthusiastic viewers. The ratings have been mighty good for a new show, especially one opposite the powerhouse Playhouse 90.

"I think we're hitting our stride pretty good now," Ernie opined between rehearsals. "I believe we've got a show that is good as well as commercial.

"It's a lot more commercial than when we started out. You know how it is—you always put down a bigger milk pail than the cow can give."

If Ernie looks like a pooped peapicker these days, it's understandable. It's no small matter putting on six half-hour shows a week. He gets some respite by kinescoping his Thursday daytime show. But the schedule keeps him tied down most of the time.

That doesn't set too well with Ernie, who yearns for his ranch in Lake County of northern California. Since the nighttime show began last fall, he's been there only twice—and then for one-day visits.

"I'm not the kind of entertainer whose career means everything," he remarked. "My boys are 4 and 7 now, and that's the age when they need some attention. If they don't think much of their father at this age, they ain't going to when they grow up either.

GREAT SEASON — Along with Elvis Presley and Pat Boone, other singers from his home state, Tennessee Ernie Ford has been making a big hit on television this year. Ernie stars on a daily show at 2:30 p. m. and a Thursday variety program at 9:30 p. m., both over NBC-TV.

What Should Auditorium Include?

Chamber Asks Clubs Advice

Questionnaires to help guide the Centennial Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce in planning the proposed civic auditorium, have been sent to 119 business, civic, fraternal, industrial, and educational organizations in Pontiac.

The questionnaires list 10 questions to determine how much the different groups might use the building, John W. Hirlinger, Chamber manager, said.

"These answers will help us determine how many, outside the main auditorium, smaller meeting rooms we will need and what sizes, Hirlinger said.

The questionnaires are part of a $15,000 grant from the Pontiac Foundation for the initial drawings, scale model and other plans for the building. These are expected to be completed May 1, Hirlinger said.

He has asked the 119 organizations to return their questionnaires by Feb. 22. They then will be turned over to the firm preparing the preliminary drawings.

Present plans are for it to be located in the Civic Center property near the City Hall and nearly-completed Public Safety Building. No price tag and means of raising the money has been determined as yet, Hirlinger said.

City Auto Club Group to Attend State Meeting

Eight representatives of the Automobile Club of Michigan, Pontiac division, will attend the annual state auto club conference held, in Detroit Monday, to discuss Michigan's 1957 motoring and touring problems.

Those attending are: Arthur J. Bogue, Pontiac division manager, Kenneth Long, Henry McNalley and Robert Taft, all district managers and Edward Tynan, Richard Warken, Virgil Keener and Charles Burns, membership counselors at the Pontiac office.

Representatives intend to outline the needs and problems of the Pontiac-area motorists, discuss highway construction, traffic safety and tourist accommodations and attractions.

YMCA Lad-Dad Night Talk on Philosophies

An old Indian proverb will be the theme of a YMCA Lad Dad Night held tonight at 7:30 p.m.

"The white man tells his son the way to go; the red man shows his son the way to go", will be the theme carried out during the evening when lads and dads work and play together.

The boys and their fathers will start activity in the gym, then on the woodshop and gun range and end up at the pool for a swim.
