Snowstorms Kill 16 in Middle West

CHICAGO — This first day of winter found Californians basking in mid-80 degree temperatures and in South Dakota the mercury dipped to 20 below zero.

At least 16 deaths were attributed to the stormy weather, which erupted in the plains and spread eastward rapidly. The storm deaths included 7 in Illinois, 5 in Ohio, 3 in Michigan and 1 in Missouri.

The blustery, snowy cold spread from the eastern Rockies into the Northeast in the wake of a snowstorm which left foot-high falls in the Midwest.

Subzero readings were reported from the Northern Plains into Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois. It was 20 below zero at Huron, S.D. and -18 at Williston, N.D. in the pre-dawn hours.

The temperature soared to 86 degrees at Miramar, Calif., Tuesday and the sunshine boosted the thermometer into the 80s again today. The same pattern appeared in all Southern California, but there were locally gusty winds in some areas. Tuesday's 81 in Los Angeles was the warmest Dec. 20 since 1933.

In upstate New York the snowfall continued today with the new fall in the northern portion up to 8 inches and 5 inches in the Buffalo area.

The speed limit on a large section of the state's throughway was reduced to 35 miles an hour because of road conditions. Most of Connecticut had rain, although there was sufficient snow in the area to close schools in Norfolk.

The winter storm lost some of its force in crossing the Alleghanies. In early morning, Newark, N.J. had a temperature reading of 42 degrees, a rise of 16 degrees since midnight. And, a steady rain eliminated icy spots on most of the state's highways. The rain was expected to stop by the time the thermometer dropped below freezing later in the day.

Snow mixed with sleet and rain began last night in Western Maryland and continued through the morning. Central Maryland got some light snow. The snow was followed by sleet turning to rain. Road conditions in the western part of the state were hazardous.

In Ohio, the snow accumulated up to 10 inches, distrupting traffic and normal activities throughout the state. At least five deaths were attributed to the weather, three from an auto collision.

Schools were closed in most sections of the state. Highways were snow-covered, but the traffic flow was being maintained, although slowed down.

The snow in Kentucky ranged

Ship Rips; 39 Tossed Into Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—A large American tanker was broken in two today by violent seas off Cape Hatteras, N.C. The Coast Guard reported some of its men in the water and others clinging desperately to the drifting stern section.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard said the stricken craft was the 10,417-ton Pine Ridge owned by the Keystone Shipping Co. Its home port is Wilmington, Del.

The Coast Guard said the ship carried a crew of 37. However, New York agents put the number at 39, including the skipper.

Coast Guard, Navy and commercial vessels in the area went racing to the scene, 90 miles east of Cape Hatteras.

The Coast Guard said the Pine Ridge, carrying only ballast, was en route from New York City to Corpus Christi, Texas.

The tanker was described as being 523 feet long, propelled by turbo-electric equipment and among the larger sizes of such vessels. She was built in 1943.

A Coast Guard plane flying overhead radioed the report of the breakup and said:

Next Five Days Seen 12 Degrees Below Normal

Snow Flurries Forecast Through Thursday With High of 15

With enough snow already on the ground to assure a white Christmas, winter will arrive today on icy wings of zero weather in Pontiac.

At noon the Weather Bureau warned that the low tonight would likely be zero or lower in the Pontiac area, with a high of 15 Thursday.

The forecast for Lower Michigan is zero to 10 below tonight and a high tomorrow of 5-16 above.

The early morning forecast had called for a low of only 5-10 degrees in the Pontiac area tonight.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures for the Pontiac area the next five days will average 12 degrees below a normal high of 34 and normal low of 21.

Although winter's official coming out party wasn't to commence until 3:27 p.m. today, it sneaked in early yesterday with a layer of about 3 inches of snow in the Pontiac area.

Driving last night and early today was hazardous, police said.

The forecast was for snow flurries through Thursday but with no further significant accumulation, the Weather Bureau said.

PORT HURON SHUDDERS

The hardest hit area of the state was Port Huron, which only last week had endured a freak storm that dumped 16 inches on the city.

The overnight snowfall was again 16 inches and drifts piled up as high as 4 feet along Lake Huron and the St. Clair River.

Snow already on the ground in the upper portion of Michigan received a fresh layer as the fall abated in Southern Michigan early today.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 11. The mercury reading at 2 p.m. was 19.

Quesada Criticism Grows Over Probe

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK—The Federal Aviation Agency today rushed to complete the transcript of the last recorded words between the airport towers and the pilots of two airliners which collided over New York Friday killing 134 persons.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, criticism was mounting against FAA chief Elwood R. Quesada for announcing "before the ashes had cooled" that one of the planes was 11 miles off course.

The latest anti-Quesada blast came from Airline Pilots Association (ALPA President Clarence N. Sayen, who called the FAA boss' preliminary statements on the crash "an irresponsible abuse of public office."

"Certain tentative facts have emerged but have not been verified in relation to other facts and the over-all problem," Sayen said.

'SHEER SPECULATION'

"To issue statements at this time which even inler that certain events led to this accident is sheer speculation."

An FAA spokesman said the pilots' conversation transcript, which may shed additional light on the cause of the world's worst air disaster, should be ready for release sometime during the afternoon.

The FAA originally planned to release the records of the pilots' last words at 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) but spokesmen said stenographers were still transcribing the tape recordings made in the planes prior to their crash.

The 60-page transcript of the conversations is expected to provide clues in the mystery of how the planes collided in a snowstorm while under ground radar observation and instrument flying rules.

The colorful and controversial Quesada was criticized earlier by United President W. A. Patterson, Capt. John McDonald, veteran accident investigator of the ALPA, and in effect by Civil Aeronautics Board member G. Joseph Minetti, who will direct the government inquiry into the disaster.

A United DC8 jetliner and a TWA Constellation collided. The United plane crashed in a Brooklyn street. The Constellation came down on Staten Island.

The United jet was "in line

Inquiry Court Tours Shell of Burned-Out Carrier

NEW YORK (AP)—A navy court of inquiry today toured the aircraft carrier Constellation, ravaged in a fire that did an estimated $75 million damage and claimed 48 lives.

The spectacle that confronted the party was one of devastation. Desks buckled weirdly from the heat of fire. Walls were blackened and bent. Ceilings were charred and sagged in places. The ship's wiring system appeared in ruins.

The blaze scorched the ship from stem to stern, buckled plates, twisted beams, and set back the carrier's completion date by at least a year.

Damage was estimated at $75 million.

The high Navy officers went aboard about 8:30 a.m. and remained for more than two hours moving through the fire-razed passageways and compartments of the 1,047-foot long, 60,000-ton ship.

The combat information center on the ship, a section containing radio, radar and other communications and electronic equipment, was almost destroyed. It is considered the "nerve center" for the operation of the huge warship, the world's longest.

The three-man Navy court of admirals is expected to start open hearings this afternoon.

In Washington, a second naval group, this one composed of four technical experts, will inquire into "possible fire hazards to ships under construction at navy and private shipyards."

The Navy said the panel will consider specifically the substitution of metal for wooden floors for staging or scaffolding, among other things.

This was the center of the city's criticism. Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said there would have been "a substantial difference in the intensity and extent of the fire" if metal rather than wooden scaffolding had been used.

The Fire Department requires the use of metal scaffolding on city pier projects, but the Constellation was being built at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and was out of the city's jurisdiction.

Cavanagh commented angrily on the disaster at a Fire Department

Girls Still Want Dolls; Boys, Guns

By JANET ODELL

Children's wants don't change much from year to year. Little girls still want dolls and little boys ask for trucks and guns. A more modern note creeps in now and then with a request for a helicopter or some special hair curlers.

Here are some items we have seen that might please the younger set.

How about a totem pole kit? Or an Eiffel Tower kit? Or the visible V-8 engine? There's a heap of fun as well as learning in the myraid of kits available.

England sends us a plastic puppet mobile using the Disney characters.

Oh, to be a little girl again and get a tea set complete with chafing dish; or a Currier and Ives set with a milk glass covered hen dish. They're charming.

Today's boys will take missile launching sets in their stride. They'll love the miniature auto races. Older boys and girls too can enjoy a telescope.

Books are always in order for Christmas giving. But have you ever thought of a Bible story viewer?

Consumers Manager to End 35-Year Career

Edward L. Karkau, Pontiac district manager for Consumers Power Co., will retire Jan. 1 after 35 years of service, 30 years of it in the Pontiac area.

Karkau's retirement under the company's regular retirement program was announced by David H. Gerhard, division manager of the company's Southeast Division, Royal Oak.

EDWARD L. KARKAU

Gerhard said Karkau will be succeeded by Charles F. Brown, 511 Jamaica Drive, Troy, who has been assistant to the division manager since 1958.

Karkau, a native of Lansing and a graduate of Michigan State University, joined Consumers at Jackson in 1925 as an investigations engineer, later serving with four affiliated companies, the Commonwealth Power corporation, Allied Power & Light, Stevens & Wood and the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation.

In 1929 Karkau went to Pontiac as a power and illumination engineer for Consumers and rose through a series of assignments in the engineering and sales areas to the position of assistant to the division manager, in 1945.

In 1954, after the reorganization of the company's rapidly growing Southeast division and the establishment of district headquarters in Pontiac, East Detroit, Royal Oak and Plymouth, Karkau was named Pontiac district manager.

Karkau in World War I was with the 85th division, assigned to the Northern Russian Expeditionary Forces.

He and Mrs. Karkau live at 230 Oneida Road. He has long been active in many Pontiac area community affairs and is a member of the Pontiac United Fund budgeting committee, the Engineering Society of Detroit, Oakland County Engineering Society, Detroit Sales Executives Club, and other organizations.

Snag 2 Suspects in Bank Heist

Captured 3 Hours After $14,224 Taken From Richland Teller

RICHLAND (AP) — A bandit pair armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol robbed the Richland branch of the American National Bank and Trust Co. of $14,224 Tuesday after threatening to blow a woman teller to pieces.

A 100-man police dragnet captured two men in a swamp five miles northeast of here about three hours after the holdup.

The men were identified as Arleigh W. Kranich of Portage Township, near Kalamazoo, and Donald Anglin of Brady Township, also near Kalamazoo. The men, both 23, offered no resistance.

Both were taken to the Kalamazoo County Jail for investigation. Officers said they denied the holdup.

Kalamazoo Undersheriff Howard Johnson said he found Anglin hiding in a gulley. Near him, Johnson said, was part of the loot, wrapped in a raincoat and buried in the snow.

Police found an abandoned car, and tracked two men over freshly-fallen snow. Police said the car was stolen earlier in the day at Kalamazoo. No guns were found on the men, police said.

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone & Telegraph Co. today raised the annual dividend on its common stock to $3.60 a year from $3.30.

Deputy to McNamara

Gilpatric Defense Aide

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today chose a deputy secretary of defense and then joined with the new administration's secretary of the Treasury, C. Douglas Dillon, in talks on the federal budget.

Kennedy announced selection of Roswell Gilpatric, who was undersecretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, to the No. 2 position in the Pentagon under Robert S. McNamara, the secretary - designate. Gilpatric, 54 - year - old Democrat, is a New York lawyer.

The president - elect also disclosed that McNamara, who is resigning the Ford Motor Co. presidency to head the defense department, had offered Mississippi's former Gov. James P. Coleman a high position in the department. But Coleman turned it down, Kennedy said, "feeling it was impossible for him to leave Mississippi at this time."

★ ★ ★

The president-elect did not say which defense post was offered to Coleman, who backed Kennedy for the presidency against a Mississippi faction protesting the Democratic party's strong Civil Rights platform.

There were reports the administration, seeking to build political strength in Mississippi, wanted the former governor to be an assistant secretary of defense.

Dillon, a Republican now serving as undersecretary of state, met with Kennedy shortly after the president-elect started day-long conferences at his home on planning of the new administration's budget.

The planning was against a background of Kennedy concern about the business slump — a fall-off which also is worrying the outgoing Eisenhower administration.

Dillon, who has been vacationing at nearby Hobe Sound, Fla., attended today's conference only briefly.

Discoverer XIX Taking Earth's Temperature

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Discoverer XIX is in orbit today to take the earth's temperature. This knowledge will help future Midas satellites detect any hostile missile firings by reporting flashes of heat above the normal level.

The 81-foot two-stage Discoverer rocketed southward through scattered clouds from its seaside launching pad Tuesday afternoon. The 25-foot, 2,100-pound second stage went into a 93-minute egg-shaped polar orbit 130 to 400 miles out.

Other Discoverers have carried a recoverable capsule but not this one. Instead, it has a load of electronic gear to measure the earth's normal heat radiation.

Forthcoming Midas — missile defense alarm system — space craft will have infrared "eyes" to spot the heat of enemy launchings. Eight to 12 Midases will provide continuous coverage of the world's surface.

Will Face Charges

Captured Auschwitz Officer in Frankfurt

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Richard Baer, handcuffed and demanding treatment as an officer, was brought here today to face charges of murdering thousands of Jews in the gas chambers of Auschwitz concentration camp.

Baer, 49, was Auschwitz's last commandant.

German police arrested him Tuesday at Dassendorf, near Hamburg, where he had been working as a master lumberman under an assumed name.

★ ★ ★

"I am an officer," he asserted when arrested. "Treat me accordingly."

RICHARD BAER

He was manacled, and with a heavy guard, put on a train for Frankfurt.

Baer succeeded Rudolf Hoess as Auschwitz commandant in 1944. Hoess and another Auschwitz commandant were executed after the war for crimes committed at the camp.

State Atty. Heinz Wolf said Baer is charged with murdering Jews in the camp and also during a retreat from the camp in January 1945 as Soviet soldiers approached.

LEARN BAER ALIVE

Authorities learned last October that Baer was alive and offered a reward for his capture.

More than 100 tips poured in from all over Germany, Wolf said.

★ ★ ★

It was learned a master lumberman named "Neumann," who lived at Dassendorf, on the Prince Bismarck estate, might be Baer. Samples of his handwriting were obtained for checking.

★ ★ ★

This disclosed "Neumann's" true identity, which he at first denied.

Wolf did not say when Baer's trial will start. Sixteen former guards are in custody on charges stemming from the Auschwitz slaughter. Authorities indicated more arrests may be made.

The Auschwitz force worked under Adolf Eichmann, now held in Israel for trial on charges of being a mass exterminator of Jews.

Eichmann fled to Argentina, where he was captured and taken to Israel.

This is the 15th year the bank has presented a daily concert for downtown shoppers. Each noon a choral group from a different school performs. Today, the group was from Madison Junior High. Tomorrow Webster School children will sing and the final program Friday will be by Longfellow School fifth and sixth graders. Eleven groups were scheduled for this year's program. Navy Plane Crashes Off Newfoundland

Rescue officers said there apparently were no survivors. The plane, a P2V, normally carries a crew of five or six. It was based at the U.S. Navy's base at Argentia, Nfld.

The bomber went down in the Atlantic about 17 miles northeast of Cape Race, Nfld. Rescue planes and ships were dispatched from Argentina.

Weather in the area was clear. The cause of the crash was not known.

Community National Reveals Personnel Shifts, New Office

Personnel changes and establishment of a branch office at the Oakland County Service Center were announced today by A. C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

Building the branch office near the site of the new county courthouse represents the first public facility to be built there, Girard said.

★ ★ ★

He said approval has been granted for the office by the Treasury Department. Negotiations for an exact site are still going on with county officials, he said.

TAYLOR

OSMUN

The bank president said that W. Arthur Taylor, Carroll L. Osmun and John P. Niggeman had been elected senior vice presidents; Gordon M. McLeod a cashier; Willard V. Johnson, Charles R. Harris and Edward S. Ladd, vice presidents; and Horace W. Lodge Jr., assistant vice president.

Recognizing the increased importance of data processing, Girard said, it was deemed advisable to elevate Jack D. Crawford to systems manager.

Donald D. Taylor, Robert Norberg, Paul R. Breininger, I. Jay Clark, and Roger R. Rummel were appointed assistant cashiers, Girard said.

The board of directors announced with regret the retirement of Lawrence M. Kelly, vice president in charge of the bank's Romeo branch office.

Girard said as soon as the bank settles on a location at the Telegraph Road center, work would proceed on the new branch office.

Construction of the new courthouse there was "80 per cent of the reason" why the bank decided to establish a branch. Girard also mentioned the proposed shopping center at nearby Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Roads.

Pontiac Groups Send Pleas for a Short-Haul Cleveland Run to CAB

Messages supporting the North Central Airlines bid for short-haul service between Detroit (Willow Run) and Cleveland were to be delivered to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in Washington, D. C. today.

The messages were from the City Commission, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and Community National Bank, representing Pontiac government, business and commerce.

The messages stressed the community of interest between Pontiac business and industry and northern Ohio industrial centers. The CAB was urged to consider the importance and reliability of the one-plane service which North Central has promised between Pontiac, Willow Run and Cleveland.

North Central, now serving Pontiac on a seven-stop route between Willow Run and Sault Ste. Marie, was once authorized by the CAB to serve the Willow Run-Cleveland segment as part of the same route.

But the authorization was temporarily withdrawn after three trunk carriers objected. A final decision may be reached by the CAB before the first of the year.

Members of the city's air transportation committee, in a final drive in behalf of the North Central bid, obtained the supporting messages yesterday and air mailed them to Washington for special delivery today.

City Near One of Poorest Traffic-Accident Marks

BIRMINGHAM — This city will have one of its poorest traffic records if the present trend continues, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reports.

Traffic accidents during November increased substantially over October and also increased over November 1959, Moxley noted in his monthly accident summary.

There were 77 accidents during November as compared to 65 in October and 60 in November 1959.

The greatest increase has been in personal injury mishaps totaling 22 in November this year as contrasted to seven such accidents in the same month last year.

There have been 781 traffic accidents, 177 personal injury accidents in which 263 persons have been injured and one fatal accident in which one person was killed so far this year, the chief of police says.

"Right of way" violations and "following too closely" were again the leading causes of accidents in the city, according to Moxley.

He is advising all officers to be exceedingly alert for these violations in their routine patrol, in an effort to reduce these accidents especially during the hazardous month of December.

The Junior High Fellowship of the Congregational Church will carol tomorrow evening, visiting homes of shutin members of the church. Following the sing, the Rev. and Mrs. Mead M. Bailey, minister of education, will serve refreshments to the group.

A caroling eve is planned by the combined freshman and senior high fellowships of the church Friday. Participants will sing at homes of church members and others, then they will return to the church for a party and refreshments.

The annual Christmas Eve service is set for 11:15 Saturday.

Madrigal singers will sing traditional Christmas hymns accompanied by Mrs. Fred LaLacheur who also will present Christmas selections on the organ.

A family Christmas service will be at 9:30 Sunday morning, so all the children may hear the program. Church school will not meet.

The Rev. Raymond Fenner will tell the Christmas story, followed by hymn and carol singing by those attending.

'JUST NO EXCUSE'

"You may hear more about yesterday's fire when investigations are held," he said. "There is just no excuse for these things that go on happening."

Urging fire inspectors to get tough, he said: "Get these slobs out of business. That goes for official slobs as well as civilian slobs. There is no magic in these great agencies."

When Cavanagh learned that reporters had been present, he explained that he wasn't trying to tell the Navy how to operate and said the service has its own experts who "undoubtedly will come up with the same answers I've got in mind."

Navy Secretary William B. Franke, who came to New York for a personal inspection of the damaged $250-million carrier, said the use of wooden staging was standard naval procedure.

He said he sees no reason to change unless such a move is recommended by the inquiry court.

However, Vice Adm. Charles Wellborn Jr., 3rd Naval Dist. Commandant, said he would recommend metal scaffolding on future Navy projects.

Franke said that as far as he could tell, neither carelessness, poor housekeeping, nor economy measures could be blamed for the fire.

The Navy has said a "pure accident" started the blaze: A fork lift sheared off the plug on a tank of fuel, and the volatile liquid poured into a compartment where a welder was at work.

Junior High Group to Sing at Jefferson

The Jefferson Junior High School fine arts department presented a program, "The Christmas Story," today in the school gymnasium and will repeat the program tonight at 7:30.

"The Christmas Story" will be told in music and dance with students from all grade levels participating.

Performing will be the school's choral groups, directed by Albert Shaw, vocal music teacher, and the band, conducted by Fred Smith, instrumental music teacher.

Art and special effects are directed by Mrs. Charlyn Stasiuk and Fred Carter, speech and art teachers.

U.S. Scientists Can Go to Conferences

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department has decided to let federally employed scientists participate in international conferences at which Red China and other "unrecognized regimes" are represented if it is made clear they do not speak for the U.S. government.

★ ★ ★

This was disclosed by Daniel M. Singer, general counsel for the Federation of American Scientists. He released a letter on the subject from Walter G. Whitman, science adviser to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

However, Whitman said the State Department still reserves the right to refuse permission for such attendance unless it is certain that the "national interest" is being served.

Whitman's letter said specifically that scientists of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare could attend the Fifth International Biochemistry Congress to be held in Moscow next August, at which a large number of Red Chinese delegates are expected.

Russ Protest Move to Make All Share Congo Cost

U.N. Assembly Ends After Fund Tiff

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N. General Assembly recessed its turbulent 15th session early today after approving a resolution requiring all members to share in the cost of the 1960 U. N. Congo operation.

The Soviet Union vigorously opposed the plan. It made it plain it would defy the assembly majority by refusing to supply any part of the $48.5 million to be raised by assessments. The vote was 46-17 with 24 abstentions.

The assembly also authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to spend up to $24 million for the Congo operation during the first three months of 1961.

The 99-nation assembly adjourned at 12:57 a.m. to begin an 11-week recess that will end March 7.

HIGHLIGHTED BY K.

The stormy three-month session, which opened Sept. 20, was notable chiefly for the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the bitter Soviet campaign against Hammarskjold.

The session also felt other impacts of the Congo crisis, the uncertainties of the U. S. presidential election, and the growing pains that came with the admission of 17 new members, 16 of them African.

These factors resulted in prolonged debates, paralyzing deadlocks and a general slowdown of work that forced postponement of action on many major items, including disarmament, until the second part of the session.

The final hours were devoted mostly to budgetary and other crucial issues raised during the session persisted.

SLAP AT DAG

Soviet Delegate A. A. Roshchin told the assembly just before the postmidnight vote on the Congo budget: "One of the main causes of the situation as it now prevails in the Congo is to be found in the fact that the secretary general, on his own initiative and without any authorization from the Security Council, has set up a United Nations command . . . consisting mainly of United States nationals and nationals of other countries in NATO."

The Russians indicated they would continue their attack. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin called a news conference today to review the work of the session.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth commented that the 99-nation body had been working "in a period of crisis which has tested the United Nations—and is still testing it—to its very foundation."

MAKES DECISION

Although the assembly deferred action on many issues, it did make several positive decisions, including these:

1. It called for steps to bring "to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."

2. It declared the Algerian people have the right to independence and the United Nations has a responsibility to help bring it about.

3. It called on the nuclear powers to make every effort to reach an agreement banning further nuclear test explosions. It also called for a permanent agreement to prevent dissemination of nuclear weapons to countries which do not have them.

Murphy Slides Ready for Use

City-Made Snow at Park

It snowed twice as much yesterday at Murphy Park as it did in the rest of Pontiac.

While three inches of snow was falling from the sky, another inch or so was being produced by the homemade snowmaking machines of the Parks & Recreation Department.

The accumulation meant that the toboggan and sled slides were ready for use today and probably will be in good shape for the Christmas weekend, city officials said.

Meantime, the city has been freezing the rinks at Murphy and 18 other locations throughout the city.

It is expected that all will be ready by Friday night, said David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director.

Ewalt said the public can learn the conditions at individual skating rinks by telephoning the department at City Hall.

A new feature at Northside skating rink will begin Monday evening, said John H. Ridgway, chairman of the Northside Community Club.

He said skating instructions for novices—both children and adults — will begin then. The schedule of twice-weekly sessions will be posted at the rink, he said.

from about 1 inch in the southern part of the state to 7 inches in the mountainous eastern area. All roads were slick.

Main highways in Indiana were open in new snow up to 8 inches, but badly drifted side roads caused the closing of many schools in the central and northern parts of the state. There were drifts up to 5 feet across Central Indiana. At midmorning it was 4 below zero in Lafayette, Ind., and 2 above at Indianapolis.

In Lower Michigan the snowstorm left a fall of 3 to 12 inches. Three traffic deaths were blamed on the storm. Highways were slippery and temperatures near zero.

It was 7 below zero in St. Paul and Minneapolis, the coldest of the season, but there was no snow of consequence. O'Hare Airport near Chicago posted a -5 mark.

Area Woman Suffers Injuries in 3-Car Crash

A Birmingham woman was injured in a three-car crash yesterday afternoon on Telegraph Road, opposite the Pontiac state police post.

The victim, Mrs. Edna Terry, 54, of 2525 E. Maple Road, was in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with scalp and arm cuts.

Drivers of the other cars, Donald Green, 30, of Garden City, and James Breckenridge, 30, of 6365 Snowapple Drive, Clarkston, escaped injury.

State police said Mrs. Terry's car skidded on the snow-covered highway, crossing the centerline to strike the opposite-bound cars.

She said she was attempting to stop for a red light at the state police service drive and Telegraph Road.

Gold is generally used to coat materials of lesser value, but in Bangkok, Thailand, a solid gold statue of Buddha was once covered with plaster to conceal its true value from invaders. The Buddhist priests died without betraying the secret, and the gold was not revealed until an accident cracked the plaster in 1956.

shape," according to the chairman of a five-man CAB investigating team.

The plane was overhauled in United's San Francisco maintenance base four days before the mishap.

A victim of the collision carried $550,000 in life insurance, the insuring company reported in Newark, N. J.

The company refused to disclose the policy holder's identity. It said several policies on the victim's life contributed to the total.

FEAR HOLIDAY AREA

Hugh Thornton, a spokesman in New York for the FAA, said United and American air lines have refused to use the Preston air holding area on approaches to New York area airports.

Thornton said both lines had asked alternate holding areas and that they would be assigned alternates.

The United jet involved in the Friday accident had been assigned to the Preston area.

Quesada had told President Eisenhower in a personal report on the crash that the United DC8 was 11 miles off course when the collision occurred.

Patterson, president of United, said it was "out of order to make public statements until the facts are made known."

"We cannot permit such an impression to exist," Patterson said.

Minetti, the CAB member, warned in Washington that only his agency was authorized to investigate air crashes.

RECEIVES COMPLAINTS

He said he spoke out because of 'complaints that statements concerning the probable cause of the midair collision have been issued."

Asks Big Overhaul of Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The new president should undertake a major overhaul" of the National Security Council, the top-secret board that advises the president on matters of national life or death.

This was urged Monday by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery. Jackson's group made a year-long study of the NSC, calling on expert witnesses from both political parties.

The NSC is made up of the president, the vice president and the heads of key departments concerned with national security. Its subordinate machinery drew some of the strongest criticisms in the subcommittee's report. This is the NSC planning board, made up of assistant secretaries of the same departments, and the operations coordinating board, at the undersecretary level.

The report said the NSC's committee-type structure tends to arrive at "lowest common denominator solutions" to critical problems.

"If, in the interest of 'agreed solutions,' such committees blur the edges and destroy the coherence of these proposals, they do the president a disservice," the study said. "There is strong reason to believe this is now the case."

The NSC was conceived as a small group which would argue differing viewpoints before the president, the report said, but many of its meetings are attended by 30 or 40 persons. The report said this appears to limit and dilute the quality of debate.

Moreover, it added, "many of the most critical questions affecting national security are not really handled within the NSC framework."

It said the planning board too often produces weak compromises between the views of departments seeking to guard their own interests. As for the coordinating board, the study said the case for abolishing it is strong.

Both Parties' Liberals Back Kennedy Against Filibusters

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Kennedy's statement Tuesday in Palm Beach, Fla., that he feels a simple majority of senators should be able to limit debate "gives our cause a tremendous boost."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N. J., called Kennedy's stand heartening. He said in a separate interview it is "consistent with the Democratic party platform" as well as with Republican campaign pledges to make every effort to change the existing rule.

Hart is one of about 40 Democratic senators invited by Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., to caucus Dec. 30 to organize a new attack on the Senate's so-called filibuster rule.

NEEDS TWO-THIRDS OK

As the rule stands, two-thirds of those voting must approve before debate can be limited on civil rights or other measures.

Clark said in a statement Tuesday that Kennedy's comment should provide "a shot in the arm" for efforts to change the rule.

"I predict that we will succeed in restoring majority rule in the Senate in 1961," he said.

Kennedy told a news conference he and Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson agree that it is up to the Senate to decide what changes, if any, it wants to make in the rule.

But Kennedy added he feels it should be possible for a simple majority of senators to shut off debate. This is consistent with his Senate record.

Two years ago Kennedy joined Democratic and Republican liberals who sought to make such a change. They lost, 67-28. He also was on the losing side of a 58-36 vote on a proposal to permit three-fifths of those voting to limit debate.

WOULD SETTLE FOR LESS

Hart said that while he would prefer a debate limitation invoked by a majority of those voting, as Kennedy suggested, he personally would be willing to settle for something less. He said he would regard as satisfactory a rule under which 51 members—a majority of all elected senators—could cut off debate.

★ ★ ★

Hart and other Democratic liberals are expected to support an effort at the opening of the new Congress to adopt new Senate rules by a majority vote under a procedure by which a majority of those participating could halt any filibustering efforts.

These Democrats, backed by Case and other liberal Republicans, contend the Senate is not a continuing body and, like the House, must approve its rules at the start of each congress.

But nobody involved believes a Senate majority would approve any such ruling. In fact, 54 present members of the Senate — including Johnson—went on record two years ago against it.

Despite the prospect of failure, Case said the liberals should go ahead with their move.

Predict a Rise in Stock Market

Firm Says Industrial Average Enters Second Year of 'Plateau' Area

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff, Inc., predicts that the Dow-Jones industrial average low for 1961 will be between 570 and 600, and the high between 670 and 700. Spear also says the average is entering its second year of a "plateau" area which is likely to extend into 1962.

"The Trend Analyst" notes that in all of the last 10 years the Dow-Jones industrial average has risen from Dec. 15 to Jan. 7. While this year could be the exception, it says, the evidence in favor of a generally rising pattern for the next three weeks is so overwhelming that it cannot be ignored.

As a trading recommendation for this week, J. W. Sparks & Co. favors international Tel & Tel as a candidate for near-term capital gains. The issue has constructed an extremely favorable technical pattern and Sparks suggests purchase at the market.

Investors Advisory recommends five stocks for 1961: American Broadcasting-Paramount, Chesebrough-Ponds, McCall Corp., Phillips Petroleum and Winn-Dixie Stores.

★ ★ ★

"Investing for financial independence" recommends Murphy Corp. for the young investor, National Acme for the middle-aged and Southwestern Public Service for those retired or soon-to-be retired.

Bomb-Scare Prank Gets Youth 2 Years

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A lanky, 17-year-old Tampa youth who telephoned a bomb scare message to an elementary school last month "just to see what would happen," found out when a judge sentenced him to two years in prison.

★ ★ ★

It is believed Kitchen is the first person to be sentenced under a new state law which makes bomb scare calls a felony with punishment up to 10 years in prison.

Grayson, admitting the term was stiff, said if he let Kitchen go, others would "get the idea they can scare the fire out of their teachers by doing the same thing."

BECOMES A PRINCESS — Thelma Jeanne Williams of Nashville, Tenn., stands beside Prince Mircea Gregory Carol as they are married Tuesday in the little French village of Saint-Maur wearing traditional crowns. Prince Mircea, 38, is the son of the late King Carol of Romania. It was the second marriage for the prince, who has a 12-year-old son. The bride is in her 20s and is the niece of Woodland Kahler, heir to a New York banking fortune.

To Suggest Revising Sales Tax Provisions

LANSING (UP) — A Democratic legislator says he will propose revisions in the sales tax law next year that would net the state $4 million annually.

Rep. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, said one measure would eliminate sales tax exemptions on all agricultural production but feed, seed and fertilizer.

This, he said, would bring an additional $12 million to the state treasury under the new four per cent sales tax rate that will go into effect Jan. 1.

Bowman also proposed sales tax purchased by persons over 65 years old who are living on social security and old age assistance income. The exemptions would cut sales tax revenue by an estimated $8 million, he said.

Little Girl Fixes Things for Mary and Joseph

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (UPI)— When someone stole the Christ Child out of the Nativity scene erected by the chamber of commerce along a street, 4-year-old Jamine Fisette took things in her own hands.

* * *

The little girl wrapped her doll in a blanket and placed it on the straw between the figures of Mary and Joseph.

"Mary and Joseph looked so lonely with their baby gone," she explained when officials asked about her action.

Cubans Say Nix, but Nicky's St. Nick

'Tis the Blight Before Christmas

By RICHARD VALERIANI

HAVANA (AP) — No, Maria, there is no Santa Claus. Not in Fidel Castro's Cuba this year.

Santa vanished along with good will toward the United States, another victim of Castro's anti-American blizzard.

The more typically Cuban gift-bearers, the Three Kings, arrive as usual Jan. 6. Good children will awaken to find toys from Communist China and Czechoslovakia.

* * *

The displacement of Saint Nick by Uncle Nikita is evident elsewhere on the Christmas landscape. Many Cubans will sit down Christmas Day to turkey brought from the Soviet Union.

But for many Cubans, it won't seem like Christmas without their traditional lechon — roast pork — garnished with rice and black beans. Shoppers report lechon scarce.

An underground newspaper mocked the shortage: "For the first time the Cuban peasant won't eat lechon for Christmas. Gentlemen, how good communism is."

Black beans are also hard to find. There are no apples and grapes—popular holiday fare. But the government promises Czechoslovakia will send the fruit for the holidays.

In addition to food shortages, bitterness and personal unhappiness hang over this second revolutionary Christmas.

On the night before Christmas —and throughout the holiday season—not an anti-Castro Cuban is to stir in celebration. They have quietly adopted a protest policy of nonobservance, except for a toy or two for the kids.

The mass exodus of Cubans unable or unwilling to live under Castro has left many families broken for the holidays.

'Ugly Justice' Flees Castro

Supreme Court Judge Wouldn't Vote Censure of Chief Cohort

HAVANA (UPI) — Francisco Alabau Trelles, one of the "Nine Ugly Justices" of the Cuban Supreme Court who openly defied Premier Fidel Castro, has fled to Florida by small boat, it was reported today.

* * *

(The refugee jurist could not be located immediately.)

It was the second time Alabau had to flee to the United States to escape the wrath of a Cuban government. On the previous occasion, he fled after indicting a high official of President Fulgencio Batista's police force on charges of murder.

* * *

He was appointed to the Supreme Court by the Castro regime on the strength of his anti-Batista record, only to have the "ugly" label pinned on him by the Castroite press when he voted against a resolution censuring former Chief Justice Emilio Menendez for seeking diplomatic asylum.

* * *

Alabau also refused to sign a statement saying he had never been coerced (by the government) in his judicial duties.

The 30-member court approved the resolution censuring Menendez —who left by air Monday for Argentina—by a vote of 12 to 8. The other nine justices went into hiding rather than take a stand on the issue.

Alabau was the second of the nine justices who voted against the resolution to quit the court. Augustin F. Silio Rodriguez resigned some time ago, but so far has not left Cuba.

Central Wins Coveted Math Club Charter

The Pontiac Central High School Mathematics Department has received national recognition with the granting of a charter by Mu Alpha Theta, a national high school and junior college mathematics club.

* * *

Charter membership is granted only after careful study of courses offered and the staff in high school mathematics.

Michael M. Andonian has been named faculty adviser for the club. Members must have at least a B average in at least four semesters of solid mathematics and an over-all B average in other subjects.

"Your community has every reason to be proud of your very fine mathematics department, and of the students who receive this national honor for their superior accomplishments which is symbolized with the granting of a charter and charter memberships," said Mrs. Josephine Andree, national secretary-treasurer.

Puerto Rico's Governor Advises on L.A. Affairs

To that end the Governor has met with Rep. Chester Bowles, a foreign affairs consultant for President-Elect Kennedy, as well as with Jose Figueros, former president of Costa Rica and Jose Antonio Mayobre, new Venezuelan ambassador. These men represent democracies opposing Castro.

As a very successful Governor of Puerto Rico, Munoz Marin helped lift an American Commonwealth out of hopeless poverty by his "Operation Bootstrap." His enlightened policy has earned him the right to speak for both Latin America and the United States.

Armed intervention in Cuba, says Gov. Munoz Marin, would give the United States a black eye in other Latin American countries. It would be unethical unless provoked by massive Russian military aid to Cuba and it would be illegal unless approved by other Latin American nations.

To many Latins Castro is a hero who freed Cuba from an oppressor. That image is being destroyed by Castro himself as he assumes the trappings of tyranny and his onetime supporters flee to other countries for asylum. The Governor's advice to the U.S. is to avoid direct intervention in Cuba and to support democracies rather than dictators.

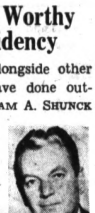
★ ★ ★

The U.S. must not lose sight of the larger view. The anti-Communist struggle in Cuba is not just for that small island but for a whole continent.

We must watch and wait.

School Official Worthy of MASA Presidency

Taking his place alongside other area citizens that have done outstanding jobs is William A. Shunck who just recently was elected to the 600 member Michigan Association of School Administrators.



Shunck

We feel that the association made a splendid choice when they picked Shunck who has so efficiently headed the Waterford Township School District for the last 15 years.

★ ★ ★

Waterford Township has grown by leaps and bounds with the population explosion we have experienced in this area. Superintendent Shunck started with just a few small antiquated buildings and has developed what is considered one of the finest school systems in this part of the state.

★ ★ ★

Internal Sewer System Favored in Bloomfield

Bloomfield Hills residents for the second time have approved a $1.5 million bond issue for construction of a sewage system to serve the residents of the area.

★ ★ ★

Over the years the sewage problem has been handled by septic tanks, but with the increased growth it becomes advisable to abandon this antiquated and unsanitary method in favor of sewers.

The Press feels that the voters have used good judgment in voting to install a new internal sewer system. The majority vote for the second time should leave no doubt as to the wishes of the citizens in the area.

"If there's any doubt about an egg being bad, there's no doubt about it's being so."—Author unknown. The same line of reasoning may well be applied to the question of whether or not the U.S. has lost prestige in recent months.

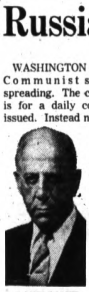
David Lawrence Says:

Russians Infiltrating Well Abroad

WASHINGTON — World War III, Communist style, seems to be spreading. The custom in wartime is for a daily communique to be issued. Instead nowadays the news items telling of bloodshed and death are received in piecemeal fashion. The over-all effect is lost on the public.



LAWRENCE

Here is the story as it probably is being told to Khrushchev by his aides in the Kremlin:

"1. Ethiopia—We took advantage of the absence of Emperor Haile Selassie and started a revolution in the capital. We aligned his son with our side.

"He was reluctant, but he had no choice. What we hoped to do was to weaken the U.N. in the Congo, for there are Ethiopian troops in the U.N. forces and we wanted to get them out. The emperor is back in power again. But we have started a wave of internal dissension. Look how, by working from the inside, we got control in Guinea.

"2. Laos — The battle, goes on, though the rightists, aided by the United States, are giving us quite a lot of resistance. The U.S. Embassy was fired on by some on our side.

"A few artillery shells will wake them up. We note that the U.S. has announced it will openly assist the rightists. We have our agents all through the area as well as troops available just across the border in China and North Viet Nam, if they are needed. The other side is on top for the moment, but we are not through yet.

"3. Algeria — We are operating successfully here. We have infiltrated the independence movement effectively, and we have managed to hurt the prestige of General de Gaulle as the whole country is plunged into the chaos we have planned.

"4. Nepal — We are busy here. The king has taken over. The premier has been arrested and parliament dissolved. We Communists are 'getting the upper hand' here. The king says he'll be 'neutral' between the East and the West. We'll see.

"5. Leopoldville, Congo — One of our planes has landed in our stronghold of Stanleyville with arms for soldiers who are loyal to our friend Lumumba. Lumumba's right-hand man, whom we trained in Moscow, has asked Nasser of the United Arab Republic for 'urgent shipment of arms, volunteers and food.' We must help promptly.

★ ★ ★

"6. Latin America — We have managed to provoke riots in Chile and disturbances in Ecuador. We are gaining ground particularly in Guatemala and in Venezuela, and one or both of these can come into our hands any day now.

"Central America is quiet on the surface, but we are penetrating it rapidly. Our efforts with 'students' are paying off. Cuba is our most valuable base.

"7. Canada — We have friends here. The dollar is still all-important to the businessmen, some of whom seem ready to help us break the U.S. embargo on Cuban goods.

"8. Western Europe—We manage to keep France divided, and NATO gets weaker because France is no longer a solid partner. De Gaulle wants France to be a nuclear power, and he will not give NATO the support that has heretofore been given. The talk among the Western governments is about making NATO a nuclear entity, but we shall see.

"We can infiltrate some of those countries, and we have the support already of the 'left wing' in the British Labor party. The NATO foreign ministers met in Paris the other day but got nowhere."

This kind of warfare can go on for years, but it will not be won merely by sending tens of millions of dollars to underdeveloped countries, important as it may be to get at the poverty which is the source of great discontent. It will be necessary for the governments aided by the United States to agree to exterminate the subversive elements.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Avoid Alcohol and Tobacco and Keep Your Good Health

Anyone in A-1 nutritional condition and good health feels just fine and dandy.

He or she will have no need for a stimulant, tonic, bracer, nerve-steadier or warm-upper.

DR. BRADY

So, unless he has inherited some mental or character defect, he will never drink.

He (or she) will be a total abstainer, first because alcohol can do him or her no good, and second because it is his or her duty to abstain, as an example for youth.

After all, why should any one with good health and a good conscience want to fool with alcohol or dope? Such indulgence appeals only to people with an inferiority complex. When these people are quite sober and not under the influence of sedative, tranquilizer or narcotic, they are aware of their inferiority and not as happy as they'd like to be — not as happy as people who are in A-1 nutritional condition. Hence they readily indulge in alcohol or dope.

I neither smoked nor drank before I was 21, primarily because I had good health and hence didn't feel the need of alcohol or tobacco. Also I had taken the pledge not to use alcohol or tobacco before I was 21. Thanks to the WCTU, of which my mother was a member and officer, and to the bishop when I was confirmed.

There were times when, had it not been for my pledge, I probably would have joined the boys in drinking parties when I was in medical school.

I received my MD degree two or three weeks after my 21st birthday. After that, being in debt, I just couldn't afford to drink or smoke.

A good many young stinkers do not like me very well because I do not trust one who smokes or drinks while still dependent on parents for support. Some of these stinkers may have had poor bringing up, but most of them are stinkers despite the fond hopes of their parents or guardians.

In the prayer which Christ taught his disciples we ask for our daily bread and other things. Among the things for which I thank the Lord is the good health I have enjoyed all my life.

Maybe I just don't know human nature, but it seems to me that a person who enjoys good health and a good conscience will not feel the need for dope or drink, in any circumstance.

Whatever the excuse or occasion for drinking may be, one must always remember that alcohol is a narcotic, never a stimulant, never a tonic.

Although I couple smoking with drinking, in this harangue, I must say that, in my judgment, moderate smoking is comparatively harmless to grown men and women. Moderate smoking, not crapulent smoking.

Contemplating the frightful amount of crime, disease, deprivation, cruelty to children, degradation, misery and unhappiness chargeable to drinking, I like to think what a boon it would be to America if every 10-year-old child should take the pledge not to drink and keep the pledge for life.

Mrs. S. C.

Thinks Orion Board Acted Undemocratic

According to a recent issue of the Orion Review, the board of education moved that representatives from the Rural Bible Mission no longer be permitted in the Carpenter, Webber and Proper Schools. The article stated that this action was taken in answer to a request from Rev. R. Vincent Myrick of the St. Joseph Catholic Church.

In the same paper was a notice that the board of education paid (out of public school funds) the fee for sight and hearing testing at St. Joseph's School. No other parochial school in the area was given money for the testing.

If Rev. Mr. Myrick is against Bible stories in public schools, why should he accept public school funds? If he believes in a separation of religion and public education, let's have a separation that works both ways. Let's use public funds for public education.

Why did the board put itself in a position where it had to decide such an important matter on the request of one religious leader? Wouldn't it be more democratic to consult all the religious leaders in the community and act according to the desires of the majority?

Feels Ike Could've Done Better Job

One of the most important goals Ike was able to accomplish was to nearly bankrupt our farm population. Their income has steadily decreased since he took office, but food prices have increased just as steadily.

Another good job done by his administration is our great unemployment which averages four to six million yearly. This represents a loss to our nation of at least $25 billion each year.

The last thing done for our country is the fact that Fort Knox is no longer necessary. There is hardly enough gold in it to guard.

As gloomy as the national outlook is, the part I find hardest to believe is that nearly half of the voting public seem to want more of the same kind of administration. Ike and his administration couldn't stand for the two good years we had in 1955 and 1956.

I can agree with Ike when he says, "I prefer to be remembered as a soldier and not as a president."

'Send Unruly Pupils to Private Schools'

Why should 20 to 30 pupils be punished for one or two bad children in a public school? If the parents or teachers cannot control these children they should be expelled and sent to a private school, where they would get special attention.

When parents begin to teach their children respect for a teacher, principal and their school, they will get a much better citizen.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Group Studying Is More Effective

Heidi has advanced a new idea that I haven't encountered previously, so I am passing it along. Group study is more stimulating than individual work, so follow her example. Organize a study club and use these psychological materials. Or have your Sunday school staff meet at a "teacher's institute" on Saturday night to plan the strategy for the next day's lesson. Take advantage of this column and the educational bulletins offered herein.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-457: Heidi M., aged 35, is a member of a woman's club.

"I am enclosing 20 cents and stamped envelope for a copy of your booklet on 'Sex Problems in Marriage,'" she wrote to me recently.

DR. CRANE

"Each member of my club sends in for a different booklet and then we pass them around so that we get to read them all.

"We have based our discussion periods on many of your educational booklets.

"I also teach a Sunday school class and employ many of them there. Although I have purchased several books by which to improve as a teacher, I can honestly tell you that I get more specific help from your Case Records in the newspaper.

"In fact, I have come to agree with your statement that the newspaper is the chief instrument of adult education among people after they leave the school system."

SMART STUDENT

Heidi's suggestion about having various club members order separate booklets is a good one. Then you can exchange with one another.

In that way, you can get the benefit of a dozen booklets without having to send your 20 cents for each one.

You young people might take note of this plan and thereby save yourself money. These booklets are non-profit educational material so pass them around as widely as possible.

I think Heidi's idea of having group discussions on some of these vital problems is likewise helpful.

★ ★ ★

You can organize what amounts to an extension college class in Applied Psychology by using this column and the booklets offered in connection with it.

That motto is being applied by many of our state universities, which are organizing extension departments in various large cities throughout the state.

Thus, the college is being brought to you practical minded adults who don't have time to spend on the college campus but who wish to study at night.

Actually the newspaper is truly the chief educational instrument for us adults after we have quit the formal school system.

Even we college professors and professional men seldom have time to read much except the daily paper!

Our ideas about war and political science, medicine and psychology, current history and finance, are often founded on today's newspaper.

USE QUIZ METHOD

If you ladies want to have some fun at your clubs, make a 100-point quiz on the contents of the newspaper for the past few days. Use the "multiple choice" plan of citing four answers, among which is the correct one.

And organize a home teacher's institute among the Sunday school staff. Get together on Saturday night for group discussion and formulation of human interest quiz programs about the forthcoming lesson.

Use my Compliment Club idea, or the "Tests for Sweethearts" or other pertinent bulletins, as the basis of class discussion on current practical religion.

By such methods you can pep up the teaching and therefore the attendance.

Send for my booklet on "How to Pep Up Sunday School & Party Games," enclosing 20 cents and a stamped return envelope. Good teachers use good psychological strategy, for Jesus was the world's foremost applied psychologist.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

PATERNITY SUIT PRINCIPALS — Dennis Crosby (right), son of Bing Crosby, poses in Los Angeles Tuesday where he appeared in Superior Court in connection with a paternity suit. Marilyn Scott (left) holds 3-year-old Denise, outside the court. She claims Dennis is the father of the child, born Nov. 24, 1957. The attorney representing Miss Scott says the only issue in the suit is to determine whether Crosby is the father of the child.

To Recommend Metal on Ships

Carrier Fire Not Nearly So Bad 'Without Wood Scaffolding'

NEW YORK (AP) — The commandant of the Third Naval District said today he will recommend that the Navy use only metal scaffolding in its shipyards.

Vice Adm. Charles Wellborn Jr. said one fact that has emerged from the aircraft carrier Constellation fire Monday is that the Navy's custom of using wood scaffolding should be changed.

Fire Chief George David earlier had said the fire would not have been nearly as extensive if metal scaffolding was used —as is required on city pier construction.

Plywood interior work and cans of paint also nourished the fire.

An ironical note was added by a Navy fact sheet on the carrier. "Fireproof and fire resistant materials have been used throughout . . ." it said.

Double Holiday for Ike Grandchildren

There'll Be Joy at White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The holiday season at the White House is especially festive for two of the Eisenhower grandchildren.

* * *

Mary Jean Eisenhower is five years old today. Her older sister Susan Elaine will be 9 on Dec. 31.

Their birthdays will be remembered when the family assembles in the executive mansion on Christmas Day for a traditional dinner.

* * *

Exactly one month from today, Secret Service agents will cease guarding the youngest Eisenhowers at school and play.

* * *

For 12-year-old Dwight David Eisenhower II, this will mean the loss of an adult playmate who was always available for a game of catch in baseball or football season.

No new assignment has been announced for John Eisenhower but it's doubtful if any Army job will give him the same access to world leaders that he received during his tenure as assistant staff secretary in the White House.

* * *

He also has been a guest at several White House dinners and the Army colonel and his wife accompanied the chief executive on the goodwill tour to India a year ago.

John Eisenhower has the reputation among White House regulars of being a rather shy but approachable young man.

* * *

On one occasion, recently, he visited the office of James Rowley, head of the White House secret service detail, and chatted with the presidential bodyguards for hours.

His wife Barbara is highly regarded by fathers among the press corps for the gentle but effective way she can discipline the president's beloved grandchildren.

The John Eisenhowers have tried —by moving to Gettysburg — to keep their youngsters out of the limelight in preparation for the years ahead when they will not be showered with attention at every turn.

Laos Rebels Dig In for Showdown Battle

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pro-Communist Capt. Kong Le's rebel forces, bolstered by Soviet air-drops of arms and ammunition, apparently are digging in for a showdown battle with the pro-Western forces that drove them from this battered Laotian capital.

The paratroop captain and his force, estimated at 800 men, reportedly have halted their retreat and are taking positions along a line stretching from Boun Phong, 35 miles north of Vientiane, to Vang Vieng, 110 miles north of the capital, these sources said.

Two Soviet transport planes are shuttling military supplies to Boun Phong and Vang Vieng, presumably from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam, eyewitnesses have informed Western sources.

The area, a V-shaped valley cut into the foothills north of Vientiane, is a Pathet Lao stronghold. Vientiane itself, scarred by four days of shelling and street fighting, is slowly coming back to life.

An estimated 5,000 homeless are billeted in refuge camps or overcrowded homes. According to conservative estimates, more than 150 persons were killed and 500 wounded in the fighting. Most were civilians.

★ ★ ★

American, British, French and other relief planes are shuttling rice, milk and medicine from Bangkok and Saigon.

★ ★ ★

Burned-out areas are being bulldozed, but reconstruction work has not started.

Urban Renewal Agents Hired

Lawyer, 2 Realtors to Handle Acquisition of Property for City

Three professional men have been hired by the city as agents in acquisition of property in the urban renewal area.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission last night approved contracts with Hayward Whitlock, a Pontiac lawyer, and with two Pontiac realtors, Carl W. Bird and William H. Knudsen.

It will be the realtors' job to secure options on the nearly 400 pieces of property to be acquired and Whitlock's to close the deals.

All three will be paid out of federal urban renewal funds at standard federal rates.

SET STANDARD SCALE

It was emphasized by the city administration that Bird and Knudsen are the only two realtors working as agents for the city.

Commissioners also set a standard scale of payments to individuals, families and businesses forced to relocate.

Payments to individuals and families will range from $16 to $82, depending on the number of rooms of furniture moved.

Individuals and families have the option of submitting a bill for actual moving expenses, not to exceed $200.

Business concerns are eligible to submit a bill for moving expenses, not to exceed $3,000.

Claims are to be submitted to the urban renewal coordinator and must be approved by him, the city manager and finance director.

Staebler Sees Collins in Post

Likely Dem Chairman; Jackson Man Managed Swainson Campaign

LANSING (AP)—J. Joseph Collins, young Jackson insurance man who managed the campaign of Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson, today appeared to be the probable choice to succeed Neil Staebler as Democratic state chairman.

Staebler, who is retiring after 10 years in the post, has said he expects Collins to win the post at the Democratic State Convention in Grand Rapids Feb. 3-4. Collins announced this week that he would be a candidate.

Collins, 26, closed down his insurance business to manage Swainson's campaign. He said he was establishing a new insurance business and that he would rely on the state central committee staff to do much of the work performed by Staebler, a wealthy Ann Arbor contractor.

Staebler receives no pay for his work. The deputy state chairman, Billie S. Farnum, earns about $15,000.

★ ★ ★

Early speculation on a successor to Staebler centered on Alfred V. Meyers, Detroit schoolteacher and chairman of the 17th Congressional District Democratic organization.

The Mothers' March is scheduled for the evening of Jan. 31.

Mrs. Neldrett is a former president of the Michigan Congress of Parent-Teachers Associations.

Chairman of the speaker's bureau for the county chapter will be Glen F. Hartman, speech and dramatics instructor at Washington Junior High School.

Asks Canada Business to Cut Foreign Funds

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Finance Minister Donald Fleming Tuesday night took new budget steps to encourage Canadian business in the current economic slowdown and to reduce the influx of foreign capital investment.

Fleming also told Commons he anticipates a $286 million budget deficit for the current fiscal year ending next March 31.

Wolves Attack Dancer, Prancer Up in Lapland

Ravenous packs and bloodthirsty lynx have ravaged the reindeer herds of frozen Lapland in the north of Sweden. The slaughter is the worst in memory, government officials said.

The Lapps keep guns and knives close at hand to protect Dancer and Prancer and Donder and Blitzen. This year, the Lapps reported, the native predators have been reinforced by wolf packs from Russian Siberia.

For the wolves — eastern and western—the hunting is good. Unusually heavy snowfalls have driven the Lapps' valuable reindeer herds from the safer, mountain area of Lapland to the valleys in search of food. There the wolves and lynx lurk.

Settlement Is Granted to Ex-Spouse of Cugat

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Mrs. Lorraine Stalford, former wife of musician Xavier Cugat, was granted a divorce and $553,500 cash settlement from her husband of six years, Beverly Hills banker Stanley M. Stalford.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stalford, 41, will receive $283,500 in alimony during the next 10 years and an additional sum of $270,000 in seven installments regardless of whether she remarries.

MEA Headquarters to Rise in E. Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Education Association (MEA) has decided on East Lansing as the site for its new $1-million headquarters, it has announced.

The MEA has been considering several sites, including one at St. Mary's Lake near Battle Creek, where it has a conference center.

The decision was announced by Dr. Fred J. Vescolani, MEA president.

Present headquarters for the group and its more than 60-member staff is in downtown Lansing.

The MEA had enjoyed tax-free status on the property in Lansing since 1929 but recently was told by the city it must start paying taxes.

The MEA contested the ruling to the State Tax Commission but was overruled. The group also will have to pay taxes on the East Lansing property.

Ethel Merman Asks Divorce From Air Chief

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI) — Stage and screen star Ethel Merman has filed suit in Civil Court for a divorce from Robert Six, president of Continental Airlines.

The judge of the court in which she filed suit said he will grant the divorce. Miss Merman returned to New York. She does not have to remain in Juarez for final action on the divorce. Her lawyer can pick up the signed papers.

Big Titan Missile Fails Test at Cape

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

On another section of the Cape, scientists began taking apart the Project Mercury "man-into-space" capsule which wrapped up its test program for the year one day earlier in an historic unmanned flight of 235 miles over the Atlantic.

He Confers With Vinson

No Early Reorganizing Planned by McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, defense secretary designate, said Tuesday he plans no early reorganization of the Defense Department. He said he will first take time to see what changes are needed.

McNamara made the statement after a 40-minute conference with Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee.

The veteran Georgia Democrat was understood to have advised McNamara against rushing into any big defense reorganization, especially one as sweeping as that proposed to President-Elect John F. Kennedy by a study commission headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

McNamara said all the service secretaryships and other top civilian posts that would be abolished under the Symington plan will be filled under the Kennedy administration.

He said he does not anticipate any reluctance on the part of those designated to accept these posts because of fear the jobs might later be abolished.

"I will undertake no major reorganization of the Defense Department in the immediate future," McNamara said.

Asked how long this might be, he added:

"Not until I have a chance to understand the need for any change."

SAYS HE'LL BE TOPS

Vinson, after talking with McNamara, said, "I predict he'll make the best defense secretary the country has had."

"He is young, brilliant, and has vision and determination," Vinson added. "He will devote his entire time to proper administration of the Defense Department."

★ ★ ★

McNamara, it was learned, conferred Monday in Winder, Ga., with Vinson's counterpart in the Senate, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Kelvinator Range Back at Grand Rapids Plant

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—George H. Beld, manager of American Motors Corp. Kelvinator Division works here, announced Tuesday component manufacture and assembly of Kelvinator electric range models will be returned to the Grand Rapids plant.

Beld said the move would stabilize employment at the plant, where about 2,200 persons now work.

A firm outside the AMC organization had been doing the work because of lower competitive costs.

George Romney, AMC president, had said last fall, there would be no future for Kelvinator operations in Grand Rapids unless production costs were lowered. Beld's announcement was taken to mean the cost had been lowered sufficiently to warrant future operations.

Southern pine growers have topped their own reforestation records with about 66 million seedlings planted. Louisiana was first, Alabama second and Arkansas third.

Lost Hikers Fast Asleep — at Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Eleven carloads of rescuers spent a long night in the cold —while the two "lost" hikers slept comfortably at home.

Worried wives of Al Moore, 44, and Sam Hanson, 55, both of Phoenix, called the sheriff's office and then joined deputies Sunday in a search when their husbands failed to return at nightfall from a hike over the Estrella Mountains.

The deputies and wives searched all night.

Shortly after 6 a.m. Monday, the sheriff's office received a telephone call.

"Hear you're looking for someone," said the voice.

★ ★ ★

"Well, this is Al Moore."

"Where you been?"

"Home. Asleep all night. Got lost for a few minutes, then we hitchhiked home."

"I see," said the deputy.

"Say, do you know where our wives are?"

"They've been at the mountain all night waiting for you."

"Oh."

"We'll bring 'em home."

"Well, thanks," said Al Moore.

ILA Boycotts Cuban Cargo

Dockers Punish Castro for His Toughness on Island Labor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A boycott by the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) against all cargo traveling to or from Cuba started Tuesday.

William Bradley, president of the ILA, said this step was taken because of "repressive measures against labor" by Fidel Castro's regime.

The Canadian Division of the ILA said it would follow the Canadian government line and refuse to ship goods of strategic importance or goods that originated in the United States to Cuba.

Trade between Cuba and the United States has declined considerably since Castro came to power. Trade between Cuba and Canada is light at this time of year since many Canadian ports are frozen up during the winter.

U.S. Envoy Fled Through Window

Ethiopians Slew 15 From Cabinet

ADDIS ABABA, Ethopia (AP)—Rebels armed with machine guns burst into a room of the imperial palace last week and mowed down 18 cabinet ministers, it was disclosed Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Richards said he was conferring with 20 ministers at the palace when the rebels broke in. The ambassador escaped through a window.

Richards was in the palace helping to negotiate a truce.

"I was not exactly acting as an intermediary, but as someone recognized by both sides to carry messages. I was asked by both sides to help in this way," he said.

After bursting into the room and machinegunning the ministers, the rebels reportedly returned three times to riddle the bodies with more bullets.

Fifteen of the ministers were killed. Three were seriously wounded. Two were unhurt.

"When the shooting started, I jumped straight through an open window and got clear away from the palace," Richards said.

Expect UP Jobless to Hit 7,500 by '61

LANSING (AP) — Unemployment in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is expected to reach 7,500 by the end of the year, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

★ ★ ★

This figure represents about 7.9 per cent of the labor force, an increase of about 2.7 per cent since October. The MESC said the increase primarily is the result of seasonal layoffs of workers in construction, mining, retail trade and agriculture.

Report Eichmann 'Will Admit the Facts'

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann "will admit the facts but plead not guilty" at his trial in March, his German defense lawyer, Dr. Robert Servatius, said.

★ ★ ★

The attorney saw the jailed Nazi Tuesday for the first time since their initial meeting in October. As director of Hitler's program of exterminating Jews, Eichmann is held responsible for about six million deaths.

★ ★ ★

Servatius told newsmen Eichmann had to carry out orders but now saw World War II events in a different light.

Wants Ministers Conference

West Sees No Summit With K for Long Time

PARIS (UPI) — The Western foreign ministers forsee no summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a long time, authoritative diplomatic sources said today.

Instead, they favor a foreign ministers conference with the Soviest, if there must be a conference, sometime next spring to explore what Russia is up to.

Khrushev is expected to resume pressure for East-West negotiations early in the new year, shortly after the inauguration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

Berlin appears to be the next issue on which Moscow will want urgent talks with the West.

★ ★ ★

Western ministers now hold that such negotiations should first be tackled by foreign ministers and not by the heads of governments which is what Khrushchev wants.

A year ago European nations were pressing for direct talks between western leaders with Khrushchev.

But at the three-day NATO Council meeting which ended Sunday, the consensus was that the big three Western leaders — the United States, Britain and France — should not allow themselves to be dragged unprepared to the conference table.

The trend of Allied thinking presently favors negotiations with the Soviet on lower levels to establish whether or not concrete results are likely to emerge from direct talks with Khrushchev.

EVEN BRITISH SHIFT

Even the British view has shifted to a more cagey attitude.

The new U.S. administration was understood here to be in on mood to rush into heads of government talks. The French have never liked summitry.

But, indications have reached the West that Khrushchev may try to force the pace. He is reported angling for a United Nations heard-of-government meeting in New York early in the new year.

Once in New York he would, the sources believe, go out of his way to meet with Kennedy — which is what he wants more than a formal four-power conference with Britain and France.

Betty Hutton Will Say 'I Do' Fourth Time

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Betty Hutton says she and jazz musician Pete Candoli plan to marry in Las Vegas the day before Christmas.

They announced their engagement several weeks ago, called it off once, and now the wedding is on again.

Thruston B. Morton to Quit GOP Post

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., indicated Tuesday he will leave his post as chairman of the Republican National Committee next spring.

Morton said he planned to remain at the job through the beginning of the new session of Congress, but added the post "obviously is not an indefinite job."

Morton said he was "looking" for a successor for himself, but added the actual selection would be up to the committee. He took the party post in 1959.

Ike Will Light National Tree Friday Afternoon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will light the national Christmas tree near the White House Friday afternoon between 5 and 5:30 p.m. EST.

The White House said the president will make a brief talk at the ceremony.

For many years, it has been the custom for the president, whether in or out of Washington, to light the tree by pressing a button.

The Eisenhower's plan to spend Christmas in the White House.

Damage to Carrier Is Set at $75 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Fire damage Monday to the mammoth aircraft carrier, Constellation, under construction in the Brooklyn Navy yard, was estimated by the Navy at $75 million. All of the loss will be borne by the Navy.

A spokesman for the Navy said the work was being done by civilian workers paid by the Navy and working under Navy supervision. No insurance was carried on the carrier.

De Gaulle Will Negotiate

Starts New Campaign to Win Over Nationalist Rebels in Algeria

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle Tuesday night opened his campaign for public endorsement of his policy of Algerian self-determination and made a new offer to negotiate with the nationalist rebels.

In a speech broadcast throughout France and Algeria by radio and television, he asked for "massive and forthright" approval of his policy in next month's referendum.

About 30 million voters will be asked to endorse local autonomy and eventual self-determination for Algeria in a referendum in France Jan. 8 and in Algeria Jan. 6-8. De Gaulle will make two more speches before then.

* * *

Repeating previous offers to negotiate with the leaders of the nationalist rebellion which in six years is estimated to have taken 150,000 lives, De Gaulle said: "At any moment we are ready to receive the delegates of those who fight us."

But De Gaulle again made clear that until peace is restored to Algeria, his government will negotiate with the rebels only on a military ceasefire and will not hold the political talks the rebels demand.

Ike Gives Thanks to Servicemen in Yule Message

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today thanked the nation's far-flug servicemen in his final Christmas message as commander-in-chief for their sacrifices as "defenders of peace."

* * *

Peace, he said, "is the absolute necessity of our time."

In his 250-word message, the President said Mrs. Eisenhower joined him in "sending our thanks and Christmas greetings to you, with best wishes for a happy new year.

"God bless you all.

Eisenhower's remarks will be broadcast to U.S. servicemen all over the world on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day by the Armed Forces radio network.

Former Mayor Dies

BOYNE CITY (UPI) — Funeral service was held today for Wiley P. Vought, 83, former five-term mayor of Boyne City and a former member of the City Council.

Seeks Tax Hike for Segregation

Louisiana's Gov. Davis Pushes for Passage of Bill in State House

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration, hit by new federal court action, today seeks House passage of a controversial sales tax raise pegged to the school integration fight.

The $28-million tax increase hits the house floor in a four-bill package under top priority. The Senate returns at 7 p.m. to act on the package if it passes the House.

* * *

The bill would rise the 2 per cent tax to 2 per cent throughout the state for eight months starting Jan. 1. Some cities, which now have a 3 per cent levy, would then have a 4 per cent tax.

Backers of the tax raise claimed it is needed for the state's program to keep white children from going to school with Negroes. The number of opponents among the 101 state representatives is unknown.

* * *

As a tax raise, the measure needs a two-thirds majority in each chamber of the legislature.

Revenues from the tax would be dedicated to grants in aid to parents who wish to send their children to private school cooperatives.

* * *

* * *

Many contended House Speaker Tom Jewell, Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock, and Education Supt. Shelby Jackson were in contempt when they refused to pay employes at two New Orleans schools integrated by federal order.

The familiar pattern continued Tuesday at the two integrated schools, William Frantz and McDonogh No. 19.

Eight white children and one Negro attended classes at Frantz and three Negroes were alone at McDonogh.

Well, He's Displaying Good Will to His Foe

POINT REYES, Calif. (UPI) —Bank teller Betty Adams received a Christmas card from a stranger named William Williams, but she had no trouble remembering him.

Williams took $14,300 from her during the holdup of a Bank of America branch here last August. He later was captured and confessed.

Israel N-Bomb to Scare Arabs?

U.S. Fears Reds May Step In and Pledge to Aid Their Defense

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American officials fear that reports of Israel's possible nuclear weapons efforts may frighten the Arab countries into the arms of the Russians.

* * *

There is deep concern in official quarters here that the Arab states, in panic at the prospect of their arch enemy developing atomic weapons, might move into the Soviet political orbit in return for a Kremlin pledge to defend them against Israel.

In any event, officials said, the mere possibility that Israel is developing an A-bomb is bound to have a disturbing effect on the precartious peace of the Middle East.

U.S. authorities discounted suggestions that Arab countries might decide to attack Israel before it gets any further with its atomic development.

These authorities said the Arabs presumably are aware that the tough and efficient Israeli military forces probably are too much for them to overcome.

American officials were concerned about the long range political implications of the reported Israeli construction of a big nuclear reactor in the NEGEV desert with French cooperation.

President Eisenhower and his top aides were reliably reported to have discussed the subject in some detail at Tuesday's meeting of the National Security Council.

* * *

Israel and French officials have said the plant is for strictly peaceful applications. But U.S. officials say it is far too big to be passed off as that.

Orville Freeman Visits Benson, Sees Office

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Minnesota Gov. Orville L. Freeman called Tuesday at the Agriculture Department where he will take charge under the Kennedy administration.

* * *

Freeman spent 75 minutes with the outgoing secretary, Ezra Taft Benson. Freeman appeared buoyant and Benson politely cordial as they meet in the secretary's big office and posed for pictures.

* * *

Johnson After Liberals' Help

See VP-Elect in Try to Wop Support for '68 Presidential Race

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many Congressional Democrats agreed privately today that Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson has started to woo liberal support for a bid for the 1968 presidential nomination.

* * *

They cited as the latest evidence of such a move the announcement that the Texas Democrat will take charge next month of the federal drive to eliminate discrimination against Negro workers, by firms with government contracts.

Many, but not all, Democrats in Washington reacted with surprise to President-Elect John F. Kennedy's announcement in Florida Tuesday that he had assigned to Johnson the job of overseeing the work of the government's Antidiscrimination Contract Compliance Committee.

None of the Democrats who saw in the move a bid by Johnson for liberal support in 1968 would allow their names to be used.

Johnson would be 60 years old in 1968, 17 years older than Kennedy is now but two years younger than President Eisenhower was at the time of his inauguration in 1952.

* * *

The suggestion that Johnson is seeking the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination is based on the assumption that Kennedy will run for re-election in 1964 and win. He then would be barred from trying for a third term.

If Kennedy lost in 1964, he could run again in 1968, virtually ruling out any future Johnson nomination on grounds of age.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is now chairman of the Contract Compliance Committee, which has a staff of about 30 persons. The group's task is to eliminate discriminatory hiring practices by companies handling government contracts.

Eisenhower to Receive Annual Hoover Medal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower will receive the Hoover Medal, an annual award from the engineering profession for distinguished achievement.

Walker Cisles, president of the Detroit Edison Co., will present the medal at a dinner in the Statler-Hilton Hotel here on Jan. 10. The White House announced the award Tuesday.

$72.9-Million Budget Approved by U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly Budget Committee voted 54-9 Monday for a $72.9-million gross budget for 1961. It is nearly $10 million more than the 1960 figure.

About $5 million in cash income will reduce the 1961 total.

The Soviet Union, reiterating its insistence that $50 million is enough, voted against the budget.

Kellogg Foundation Donates $8 Million

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The W. K. Kellogg Foundation spent over $8 million on some 170 projects last year, and more than $1.4 million of the total was spent in Michigan.

Some $500,000 went to the Battle Creek Board of Education toward development of a campus for Kellogg Community College.

More than $800,000 was awarded the University of Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State universities. Other Michigan grants went to Traverse City Munson Hospital for a chronic care program, and to a Kent County program dealing with problems of the aging.

The foundation said 78 per cent of last year's grants will be used in the United States. Latin America received 10.5 per cent, Europe seven per cent, and Canada and Australia about five per cent.

King Mohammed Plans African Summit Parley

Presidents Nasser of the United Arab Republic and Sekou Toure of Guinea have been invited to attend, they reported.

12 African Countries Plan Defense Treaty

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (UPI) — Twelve French-speaking African states have agreed to sign a mutual defense treaty next month.

Ivory Coast President Felix Houphouet-Boigny, who presided over the five-day African "summit" conference, released a communique which said under the treaty all members would supply military aid to any member that is attacked.

The communique urged the Cold War be kept out of the African continent and took a swipe at the Soviet veto of Mauritania's application for admission to the United Nations.

British Army General for Years Dies at 82

LONDON (UPI) — Gen. Lord Jeffreys, 82, who spent a lifetime of service in the British army and became known as the army's Mr. England, died Monday.

The towering officer of the Grenadier Guards was a general and division commander before he was 40. He was a Conservative in the House of Commons for 10 years, and after he rose to the peerage he was active in the House of Lords.

Chief Executive Officer Quits at Republic Steel

CHICAGO (UPI) — Charles M. White has resigned as board chairman and chief executive officer of Republic Steel Corp.

White, 69, Cleveland, Ohio, will stay on as a director and as honorary chairman of the board. He has been with Republic for 30 years and has been its chief executive officer since 1955.

Thomas F. Patton, president of Republic, will also assume White's post as chief executive officer.

Voters Nix College for Downriver Area

DETROIT (UPI) — Plans for a community college to serve the downriver area received a setback Monday when voters in three districts rejected the proposal.

The total vote in Southgate, Flat Rock, Trenton, Wyandotte and Riverview was 4,119 to 3,084 against establishment of a college.

Against Dual Con-Con Vote

GOP Legislators Take Dim View of Picking Delegates in April

LANSING (AP) — A Republican House committee Tuesday took a dim view of a proposal to hold a primary election for selecting delegates to a constitutional convention at the same time as the statewide vote on calling a convention.

George Romney, American Motors Corp. president and chairman of the Coordinating Committee for Constitutional Convention, suggested two weeks ago that the legislature clear the way for a primary election to select delegates at the same time as the regular election.

This, he pointed out, would save the cost of a special election, estimated by state elections officials at more than $500,000.

MAY NEVER EXIST

"Is it fair to ask a person to run for nomination, in some cases in an area covering many counties, to an office that may never exist?" said Rep. Robert E. Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe.

He is chairman of a committee appointed by House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, to study the need for legislation leading up to a convention.

★ ★ ★

The committee, writing to Romney, also raised these other objections:

1. A primary coinciding with a vote on the convention question would "tend to unduly favor those working for the proposal."

2. A concurrent primary and general election for choosing candidates for other offices might be confusing to the average voter.

3. The convention issue is "important enough to our people to take things one step at a time rather than doubling up on procedure which could well confuse the question and prevent full and complete discussion.

Romney also is head of Citizens for Michigan, a statewide, nonpartisan group helped win voter approval last month of a proposal to put the convention question on the April 3 ballot.

Lansing-to-Mackinac Road Nearly Done

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — State Highway Commisioner John C. Mackie says the Lansing-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway will be completed within two years.

More than 90 per cent of the route already is open to traffic or under construction, he said Tuesday at ribbon-cutting ceremonies marking the opening of a 13-mile section from Alma to Mount Pleasant.

Mackie said that when the freeway is completed it will induce a "tremendous increase" in tourist traffic to Northern Michigan.

"I predict tourist travel in Michigan will increase by almost 50 per cent the first full year the system is in operation," he said.

Women's Press Turns Sour on Sweet Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In 1954 Debbie Reynolds won a golden apple from the Hollywood Women's Press Club for being cooperative. But Tuesday she got a sour apple, meaning least cooperative.

"She was just never available," the women said, explaining Debbie's new status.

Among actors, they awarded a sour apple to Elvis Presley—not because of him but because of his manager, Col. Tom Parker. They called Parker "impossible."

Golden apples—for most cooperative—went to Nanette Fabray and Janet Leigh (a tie) and to Jack Lemmon.

The club's 160 members voted the awards.

Sewage Plans Get Approval

OK Given $3.53 Million Expansion and Bond Issue to Finance It

City commissioners, as expected, last night told City Manager Walter K. Willman to go ahead with plans for a $3.53 million expansion of sewage treatment facilities and a general obligation bond issue to finance it.

Willman said some revisions and additions must be made in the original plans before submission to the State Health Department, hence the added $200,000 cost over the $3.3 million bond issue that was turned down by voters in 1958.

The plans are being readied by Jones, Henry and Williams, a Toledo engineering firm.

Willman said he expected the bond issue would be offered for sale around April 1, in time to have financing ready to let contracts by June 1, deadline under the Circuit Court order obtained by the Water Resources Commission to halt Clinton River pollution.

Because of the court's intervention in the case, the city is now able to issue the bonds without a public vote.

The Jones, Henry and Williams plan calls for additions at the present plant site plus new facilities at a new site at Auburn and Opdyke roads.

Willman has reported that State Highway Department plans for Auburn (M59) have been altered to the city's satisfaction.

At one time the highway department planned to cut across the Auburn-Opdyke site with a northern extension to Auburn.

Jordon Reports Plot by Nasser

Accidental Bomb Death of Man Reveals Store of Explosives

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — An official statement said Tuesday a new plot against Jordan by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic has been discovered.

Jordan authorities alleged that the key man was a Jordanian, Rafiq Rashed Khuzai, 33. They said he accidentally killed himself and two of his children when a time bomb he was making exploded Dec. 13 at Mafraq, 80 miles north of Amman.

His wife and their third child, aged 2, were seriously injured. The house was demolished, the statement said.

More time-bombs and explosives were discovered under the debris. The statement said Khuzai was a government official in the Ministry of Public Works who has been supervising the distribution of American gift wheat.

The statement said that investigation revealed that Khuzai frequently visited Syria and had returned from that region of the UAR the day the bomb exploded.

Premier Haza Majali and 10 other persons died last Aug. 29 when time bombs exploded in government buildings.

Here's Your Chance to Name a New College

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The board of control for a new state college in West Michigan today offered a four-year tuition scholarship to the school for a "descriptive, appropriate" name for the institution.

Dale Stafford of Greenville, chairman of the board's name contest, said the winning name will be selected by board members.

Winner of the contest may use the scholarship or designate some other person for the award.

"In the bill establishing the new four-year college in West Michigan," said Stafford, "the Michigan Legislature identified the school as Grand Valley College.

MANY LIKE NAME

"Many people like that name but quite a few others have suggested that a more descriptive name might be found.

"We would like to determine if another name might be more appropriate and decided to hold the contest to consider a wide variety of titles."

Stafford said anyone can enter the contest by mailing a name suggestion to "College," Box 135, Greenville, Mich.

The contest will run for one week, from Jan. 3 - 10.

★ ★ ★

The college is expected to be built in the Grand Rapids area and will serve the counties of Kent, Muskegon, Ottawa, Allegan, Montcalm, Ionia, Barry and Newaygo.

Retired Military Pay on Increase

U. of M. Report Shows That $47 Billion Will Be Paid Out by 1983

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired military personnel will receive more than $47 billion during the next 23 years if the present laws remain unchanged.

This was the conclusion of a special report by a University of Michigan research group for the Senate Armed Services Committee. It was made public by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

Stennis said preliminary projections clearly indicated a "tremendous increase in costs of retired military pay" in the years ahead. This item now runs considerably under a billion dollars a year at about $775 million for 1960.

If there are no increase in retirement benefits, the Southern lawmaker said, the growing number of men on the retired lists will cause the cost to rise to $1 billion in 1964, $2 in 1972 and $3.4 billion in 1983.

Stennis said the Michigan group had been asked to study whether the present retirement ages — in many cases under 55 — should be revised and whether the interest of the services are best served by the present policy.

Other topics to be considered:

—The possibility of military personnel conttributing to their retirement systems as civil employes do.

—A comparison of military and civil retirement benefits.

AIDING THE NEEDY — The paddy wagon of the Pontiac Police Department is hauling Christmas baskets as well as prisoners during the Yule season. Some 40 food baskets are being distributed to large, needy families by the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) and Family Service of Oakland County, which has received some of the PPOA baskets to distribute. Here, Patrolmen Billie L. Irwin (center) and Patrolman William F. Moore load up the wagon, with Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren (left) looking on.

Another Japanese Prince Looking for Princess

Nobuyoshi Uriyu, vice chief of the imperial household board, said today "It is about time Prince Yoshi picked a princess."

Marks 100 Years

Old-Style Christmas Not Vermonters' Wish

GRANBY, Vt. (AP) — Candlelight in the austere little church. From an old stove, the crackle of burning wood. And in the air, an incense combining odors of candles, faint wood smoke, and the fragrance of a fresh Christmas tree.

The light wavers on young heads bowed over worn books of Christmas carols. Above the crackling of the stove rise the young voices blending with the chords of an old organ. They sing of the first Christmas.

This is no stage set. This is real. This is Christmas in a corner of 20th Century America. The Vermont towns of Granby and Victory have no public power for electric lights—or for television sets.

Besides the time and effort involved in giving their children a community Christmas, there is a calculated risk. Townsmen seated in the worn, brown pews cast worried glances at the candles of the tree. Buckets of water and sand stand handy. Outside are shovels beside banked-up snow.

The villagers, in two years, have raised $2,000 to bring electric lines to their hamlets. It will cost much more. But they keep hoping that next year they will all have their best Christmas present — electricity.

Holidays Find U.S. Taking to the Trees

WASHINGTON (AP) — During this holiday season, Americans are expected to buy more than 40 million Christmas trees worth $50 million.

Will this huge harvest of trees harm the nation's forests? Not at all, says the National Wildlife Federation in its current issue of "Conservation News."

"Trees harvested in the wild are generally cut to release better trees, or high valued species, from undesirable competition. As such, the harvest of natural grown trees is a vital tool in good forest management."

Most trees harvested for Christmas are grown in forests. About 13 per cent come from commercial Christmas tree farms.

Some 12 million trees will be imported from Canada. Almost all the others will come from the West Coast, Northeast and Middle Atlantic states.

Farm Group Seeks to Boost Milk Status

NEW YORK (UPI) — Milk needs to have its status raised to that of a social drink, the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station reports.

The report is based on interviews with teen-agers and young adults in one Pennsylvania city. The teens said soft drinks are more appropriate than milk on dates, when dining out or at parties. The Pennsylvania report recommended special attention be given to party use of milk to improve the liquid's status.

A report from Beryllium International Corp. notes that the firm has acquired 19 beryllium claims in Utah's Topaz Mountain area.

The claims reportedly total 1,900 acres and have attracted interest from a number of other firms. It wasn't long ago that uranium fever swept the West with Utah in the center of it all.

Covert Students Care and CARE for Hong Kong

Pontiac Press Photos

Because they care and hope for peace on earth and good will to all men, children at Covert School are sending CARE packages to Hong Kong this Christmas. With consultant Mrs. John Hsu of North Johnson Street (center) are students (from left) Jacquelyn Shastal, Rhonda Babka and Stephen Kidwell.

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Youngsters at the Waterford Township Covert School are proving they really CARE for less fortunate children in far-away China, by sponsoring a CARE project—Hong Kong School Kit.

The Covert pupils are collecting funds to purchase kits of brushes and ink pads for writing and the Chinese theme has spread throughout the school in decoration and study.

Motivated by the mental picture of ill-clad urchins, with shacks or streets for homes, victims of political upheaval, disaster and poverty, the school staff sought ways to create interest in the project.

Just inside the foyer of the school, a bulletin board has been transformed into a giant CARE package, complete with label and postmark. It's tied with strong twine.

LIBRARY A MUSEUM

The library has become a Chinese museum. Chinese lanterns, dolls, fans, calendars, fish, toys, kites, mats, jewelry and clothing are displayed in the room. A reading table features Chinese stories and in each classroom other projects are under way.

The fourth grade has planned a Chinese shadow play—creating the characters and story. The little drama by the children has been performed repeatedly.

★ ★ ★

Movies have been shown explaining the operation of the CARE program. Other movies have been provided on Hong Kong and the Chinese.

★ ★ ★

Chinese art is to be seen everywhere. As the pupils became familiar with this land of the Far East, they learned the arts of paper folding and block printing and have made colorful kites, papier mache animals and collage decorations.

A story was written by one of the teachers and her pupils about a refugee Chinese family forced to flee to Hong Kong where it received help from Project CARE.

The program is aimed at gaining a greater understanding of the culture of this oppressed country, and of the true satisfaction found in giving assistance to others—especially during the Christmas season.

"As far away as this string indicates, as close as your warmth and love shrink it," explains Mrs. Hsu in pointing the destination of their CARE packages to Covert students James Stormer (at left) and Darrell Greene.

John Wheeler (at left) gets into the spirit of Covert School's oriental Christmas theme by donning a colorful kimono. Assisting him with the neck closing is student Sandra Ammons.

Clear Up Atmosphere by Letter

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: I was engaged last year and that time told my girl friend that I would like very much to have her as attendant of honor at my wedding. She accepted and seemed very pleased.

However, shortly after that her attitude toward me changed and I saw less and less of her. Whenever I asked her to go anywhere with me, or invited her to my house, she was always busy.

Now that I have set the date for my wedding, I am very much concerned as to what I should do about this situation. Should I ask someone else to fill this position? I would certainly appreciate your help in this matter.

Answer: Having asked her, I think that you will have to write her a note and say, "Because of the change in your manner toward me, I can hardly help feeling that you no longer want to be my maid of honor and that you are expecting me to fill your place." And then wait a reasonable time for her to answer before asking someone else.

Question: I was married two weeks ago and received several telegrams the day of the wedding. I would like to know if it is necessary to write personal notes of thanks for these messages.

Answer: While it is not necessary to acknowledge all telegrams, it is polite to do so. You should answer certain special ones, such as those from people who live at great distances and whom you are not likely to see. Those whom you see often, you can thank verbally.

Question: Someone told me that if a guest at table makes a mistake—such as using the wrong implement—the hostess should do the same in order to save the guest embarrassment. Will you please tell me if this is a rule of etiquette?

Answer: No. To copy a guest's mistakes would really be a false kindness.

Following a gift exchange, plans were made for the Dec. 26 annual Christmas bird count covering the Lake Orion-Rochester area assigned the Pontiac group. Members will meet for a luncheon at the home of Mrs. John C. Plassey in Lake Orion.

The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vivian Tubbs on Tubbs Road. Mrs. John F. Naz will present a book review.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Even if you wear the right kind of shoes for your buying expeditions, your feet will be tired when you return after long hours in the stores. They may even be swollen. When you return if you will take a little time for a footbath and a short period of relaxation, you will find it most refreshing.

Take off your shoes and stockings and change to a robe. Spread a towel or bathmat in front of your favorite chair. Fill a pail (two pails are better) with hot, soapy water. Then sit down, dunk your feet and enjoy yourself. There is nothing like it for an invigorating pick-up.

A 10-minute soaking eases the tension in foot and leg muscles and that feeling of allover fatigue disappears. The soapy water also softens the skin and prevents the formation of calluses.

No matter how well your shoes are fitted the skin of the feet feels abused after miles of walking.

This was planned for the mop, with soapy water in one side and rinsing water in the other, but it serves well for a quick and easy footbath.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"The coat pattern I am making tells me to completely interline the entire coat with hair canvas. I have done this but am not satisfied with the way it now looks. The whole coat is stiff looking and the sleeves look like they had cardboard in them. Why do you think the pattern said to do this"

Mrs. S.S.E.

Many of the new cape-type coats are stiffened with an interfacing throughout to obtain a "fashion" effect. You must always consider the type of fabric you are working with before you proceed with such things. If your fabric is already heavy and has a lot of body, hair canvas would definitely make it too stiff.

I don't especially like hair canvas for this however, because it has a tendency to make the seams too stiff looking and thick. In most instances, I would suggest you use a firm, woven type of interfacing as an interlining. For the sleeves, use silk organza.

In either case, baste the interlining to your coat fabric and treat as ONE piece of fabric.

"Dear Eunice,

"When you lay the pieces of a pattern on the material, does it matter if the pattern is upside down? Several girls in my neighborhood sew and there is a mixture of opinions. We decided to write you for the answers."

Mrs. W. T. T.

If you are cutting the garment with the fabric folded, it doesn't matter whether the patterns itself is facing up or down.

If you are cutting the pieces singly, you must cut one piece face up and the second piece face down.

If your pattern has any pieces marked CUT ONE, RIGHT, OR LEFT, these pieces must be cut with the patters right side up and laid on the RIGHT side of your fabric, otherwise these pieces will be in reverse.

"Dear Eunice,

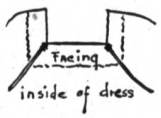
"I have found that a square neckline is the most flattering to my face and figure. The only trouble with them is that they have a tendency to bulge at the neckline. Is there any way this neckline will lay down smooth?"

Mrs. R. P.

There is a rather simple way of making the square neckline lay perfectly flat in front.

After the facing has been applied to the neckline and it has been understitched and pressed, attach a piece of ¼" wide elastic at an angle, as close as possible to each corner. Hand whip about ½" on each side of the elastic to the facing.

After you have attached a separate piece of elastic to each corner, you must determine the length of the elastic. Slip your dress over your head and shoulders then bring both ends of the elastic under your arms to the middle of your back and mark the exact spot where they cross. Don't pull this elastic too tight or it will pull the front of the dress out of shape.



Now apply a hook on one end of the elastic and the eye on the other. This is hooked to itself and will hold a square neckline firmly close to your body. The lower the neckline, the better this works.

Thoughtfulness Is a Two-Way Street

By RUTH MILLETT

Aside from making wives more critical of their husbands than they already are—the questions the wife is supposed to answer to find out whether or not her husband is "thoughtful" aren't even quite fair to the unsuspecting husband.

The poor man who doesn't even know that his wife is busy testing his thoughtfulness instead of cooking his dinner or ironing his shirts.

For instance, there's question No. 1: "Does your husband seem interested in what you say?"

A. "No" answer here scores against the husband. If a husband has fallen into the habit of tuning out his wife's conversation, it could be because it is so dull he has to in self-defense.

* * *

Question No. 2 isn't much fairer. "Does your husband usually come to meals on time?"

Well, that probably depends on whether his wife calls him to dinner when he is tinkering with his car, is watching his favorite TV program, is in the middle of cleaning his guns or whether she is the kind of understanding wife who holds the dinner until the man of the house is ready to eat.

No. 3 also is a loaded question. "Does you husband appreciate your efforts to please him?"

Lots of women claim they are trying to please their husbands when they actually are pleasing themselves. They may fool themselves but they rarely fool their husbands. So it's hardly a black mark against a husband's "thoughtfulness" if he doesn't jump for joy when his wife cleans out his closet and throws away such prized possessions as his old fishing hat and his shabby but comfortable dressing gown. Then when he roars his protest she says pathetically: "I thought you'd be pleased."

But why go on. Any wife who has to take a test to find out whether or not she has a thoughtful husband doesn't deserve to have one.

Abby Has No Sympathy

You Like Hot Tamales?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend is very jealous. My wife doesn't give me any trouble, but my girl friend checks every move I make. She calls all over town tracing me and hangs around the hall when we have union meetings.

ABBY

I don't know how many people she has watching me. I would like to get rid of her but she sticks like flypaper. I am 37 and she is 24 and a hot-tempered, suspicious Latin American, if that helps you any.

She has threatened to kill me if I look at any woman (outside my wife) and I think she would do it. Can I get any help from the law?

WANTS OUT

DEAR WANTS: The "law" is pretty busy protecting its law-abiding citizens. You get no sympathy from me. He who feasts excessively on hot tamales should expect to suffer from indigestion.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Admittedly, I am not the brightest student in our high school, but I would like to know why, if people are so interested in the education of their youth, they allow thick-headed football coaches to masquerade as teachers of math, science, literature, etc.

One of my teachers is a swell coach, but he knows less about his subject than some of the students. I heard he went through college on an athletic scholarship and flunked all his subjects. THIS is a teacher?

JUST INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: I hope you are "interested" enough to investigate your coach's teaching credentials. Be prepared to be thrown for a 50-yard loss. One who has "flunked all his subjects" is not teaching anywhere.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I sent 25c for a celestial map of the planets. It was offered by a reputable manufacturer of canned goods. However, I made the mistake of writing for it in our son's name.

Today he received literature from a publishing company urging him to get out and sell their comic books. I refused to allow him to do this, however, since he is only 6 years old.

Abby, what can be done about this selling of children's names to such companies? What assurance do parents have that this will not lead to other types of literature we don't want in our homes? Must we simply forbid our children to send for anything.

CONSTANT READER

DEAR READER: If you receive ANYTHING in the mails for which you did not send, including advertising for questionable literature, send it to POSTMASTER GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON 25, D.C. And be sure to enclose the envelope in which it came.

Fabrics of synthetic fibers usually benefit when stains and heavily soiled areas on necklines and cuffs are pretreated. Home economists suggest you rub a thick paste of detergent and water, or a concentrated liquid detergent, into the soiled area. Do this with a soft brush or sponge, rinse thoroughly, then proceed with washing.

Identify With Others to Keep True Values

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The year 1940 was a terrible and magnificent one for my generation.

It was terrible because every day saw another piece of Europe fall into the blaze of Hitler's madness. It was magnificent because we said to ourselves as he marched implacably toward us:

"Has our disconnection from Europe helped to set loose this maniac? Have we Americans been too involved with ourselves?

"Why did we think we could stand aside from Czechoslovakia's agony? Why didn't we know we would feel this machinegunning of Polish women and children in our own flesh? For we do feel it.

"It is now clear that instead of being safe from the fate of the Poles, the French, the Dutch, the British and Czechs, we are inextricably involved with it."

The parents of young adults must recall this conclusion. We must also recall the fact that as we accepted identification with the people of Europe, we recovered the sense of meaning we had lost to disconnection.

In the terrible, magnificent year of 1940 under the threat of Adolf Hitler, we Americans lost our self-centeredness and regained our souls.

We need to recall this stirring experience for young people deeply troubled by the Soviet Union's threats. Over and over they say to me:

"What's the use? Tomorrow the Russians may drop the H-bomb. Why should we study and work to become something when there may be no world left for anyone to be anything in?"

I am learning to answer:

"In 1940 my generation discovered we were one with the peoples of Europe. In 1960 you are discovering that you are one with the people of the world.

"As Adolf Hitler forced us to identify ourselves with the Poles and the Dutch, Nikita Khrushchev is forcing you to identify yourselves with the people of India, Indonesia, The Congo. Accept this fact. Stop being afraid of it. Do something about it."

What I've been asking them to do is to get in touch with the American Committee on Africa, 801 Second Ave., New York 17, N.Y.

This organization has been created not only to inform us about the struggle of the African peoples but to tell us ways in which we, as individuals, can help them.

If you remember 1940, your own year of identification, you will urge young adults to take this action.

It is their frustrated sense of identification that troubles them. Khushchev, like Hitler, has made self-centeredness intolerable.

Troy Sets Up Top-Level Confab on Water Plan

Completion Could Bring 30-Year Detroit Contract

TROY — A top-level meeting between Troy officials and the city's bonding, engineering and legal consultants will be held here Jan. 3 to discuss a master water plan being drawn up for the city.

City commissioners are awaiting completion of the master plan before making a final decision on signing a 30-year contract which would allow Troy to be supplied water from Detroit.

City Manager David E. Firestone has been holding preliminary contract talks with Detroit officials on some points to which commissioners have objections in the long-term agreement.

The commission hopes to sign the contract soon so an extra source of water will be available in Detroit by summer.

Troy's only source of supply currently is a system of municipally owned wells which have been operating near peak capacity the last few summers.

City water is not available to many residents here. They are supplied through privately owned wells. Others have tapped in to city water mains with private lines.

Because of the importance of the water problem in Troy, Firestone said he expects a good representation of residents at the meeting, which is slated for 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall.

Attending the session beside Firestone, City Commission members and City Engineer Joseph Schugarth will be James Pollack, bonding consultant; Stratton Brown, bonding attorney; and a representative from Pate-Hirn Associates, bonding consultants.

ASKS X-WAY NOTICE

In connection with the water problem, the City Commission said it wants to be given notice ahead of time on any change in the route of the proposed Chrysler Expressway through Troy.

Commissioners said any change in the route would disrupt the city's plans for water and sewer pipes.

In a letter to the commission, the State Highway Department stated that it expected to send a representative to the commission before final alignment of the expressway route is made.

★ ★ ★

The increase, effective Jan. 1, will boost Firestone's annual salary to $10,500.

Phone Exchange Planned in Area

Will Serve 1,230 Now in Milford Setup; Mostly North of M59

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—Plans for the creation of a General Telephone Co. exchange in the White Lake area of Highland Township were announced today by the company's Milford manager, Robert M. Keefer.

"This construction will provide expanded and improved telephone service to customers in this area," Keefer stated. Featuring dial and direct distance dialing service, the White Lake exchange is scheduled for operation by early fall or next year.

Architectural and construction contracts for a general telephone building at White Lake have been awarded to Smith, Hinchman and Grylls of Detroit and Emmett J. Bissel of Milan, respectively. The $64,900 structure is to be started this month and be completed late next spring.

Installation of $162,100 of automatic dial equipment, which will provide 800 lines and 1,500 main station telephones, will begin as soon as the building is completed, Keefer said.

He indicated outside plant and facilities necessary to create the new exchange would involve an investment of $277,500.

"This activity is part of General Telephone's 1961 multimillion dollar expansion and improvement stated.

State Treasury Back to Normal

Drops Priority System as Manageable Deficit of $40 Million Reported

★ ★ ★

Gov. Williams and the State Administrative Board decided there was no longer any need to approve all major expenditures from the state's general fund coffers.

"The cash crisis is over, and has been for about four months," said State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown.

"We now have a manageable deficit of about $40 million," he said. "As long as it stays at about that level or below there is no need for the administrative board to use a priority system for spending state funds."

The board set up the priority expenditure method in May 1959, at the peak of the so-called "cash crisis" when the state treasury hit bottom and state employes missed a payroll.

Rochester C. of C. Elects New Officers

★ ★ ★

Other officers elected at last night's organizational meeting were Jack Burr, vice president; Keith Crissman, treasurer; Betty Levick will again serve as secretary.

New members of the group are Fred Weihe of Goodison Manufacturing Co.; Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., attorney Harry Huber, Robert Swainson of Michigan State University Oakland; and Crissman of Crissman Chevrolet.

★ ★ ★

Joseph Watson, insurance agent, was named to fill the unexpired term of Charles Dillman.

Dillman was named to the post earlier this year.

Brucellosis Defense

Urges Calfhood Needles

Most of the replacement calves in Michigan's cattle herds will be eligible for calfhood vaccination against brucellosis within the next four months, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Dr. C. H. Failing of 2270 Metamora Road, Oxford Township, who is the Federal-State Department of Agriculture veterinarian in Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and Livingston counties, urges calfhood vaccination.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of cattle and has cost Michigan cattle owners millions of dollars over the years in loss of calves, sterility, and reduced milk production. Under certain conditions man may contract the disease through infected animals. This is sometimes known as undulant fever.

Dr. Failing also stated livestock owners should continue calfhood vaccination against brucellosis even though the number of infected herds has been greatly reduced in recent years through the Federal-State program.

★ ★ ★

"Dairymen and beef breeders should keep in mind," said Dr. Failing, "that calfhood vaccination provides excellent protection against brucellosis, increases the sale value of the animal, and could easily mean for a dairyman or beef breeder the difference between profit and loss. There is no known treatment for the disease."

★ ★ ★

Losses in herds officially vaccinated with Strain 19 vaccine by a veterinarian are almost unknown, Dr. Failing said.

He added that calfhood vaccination provides the cheapest income insurance a cattle owner can buy.

To Ask Broader Aged Benefits

Senator Wants More Liberal Plan Owing to Program's Low Cost

LANSING (AP)—The chairman of a Senate committee studying Michigan's medical care program for the aged says he will ask for expanded benefits next year.

Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, R-Scottville, said cost of the program, shared by the state, federal and county governments, has been less than anticipated.

Stephens stated since the program was authorized by a special legislative session in September, only 2,596 aged patients have been approved for participation.

He said he will ask for a liberalization of the plan by the 1961 Legislature.

The present program could be expanded, he said, by adding nursing care at home, by use of nursing homes following acute care in hospitals and by increasing the amount of money a couple is allowed to have while still qualifying for benefits from $2,000 to $2,500.

Many other states are watching developments in Michigan because it was the first state to adopt the maximum federal formula, he added.

"From the experience to date, we believe the new provisions will not increase state costs but actually result in long term savings," Stephens concluded.

Cost of the program in Michigan for a fiscal year is estimated at $10.8 million.

The federal government will pay 50 per cent of the cost, the state 40 per cent and counties 10 per cent.

Church to Host Play

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — A play entitled "What Does Christmas Mean to You?" will be presented at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Dixie Baptist Church, 8585 Dixie Highway.

Recitations by Sunday School children will follow the play, which will be staged by the church's adult Bible class.

Plan Christmas Eve Candlelight Service

ROCHESTER — A family candlelight Christmas Eve service will be conducted in the First Congregational Church at 8 p.m. The Nativity scene will come alive with Christmas carols and pageantry woven together by narration.

Both the Chancel Choir and Junior Choir will set the mood with Christmas music.

The Junior Pilgrim Fellowship shall become a live Nativity scene being visited by angels, shepherds, and kings. The Rev. Robert Jacobson will narrate.

A nursery for small children will be provided. The service will last about 45 minutes.

Consumers' Hearings Delayed Till Jan. 5

LANSING (AP) — Hearings on a Consumers Power Co. request to increase gas rates $13.5 million a year will be resumed here Jan. 5, the State Public Service Commission has announced.

Company attorneys asked the commission to adjourn the hearings Tuesday. They said they would present witnesses to argue against the testimony of commission staff members who recommended an increase of about $5.6 million a year.

Consumers has some 533,000 gas customers in 30 Lower Peninsula counties.

Southfield Woman Charges Charter Violations

Fear Suit to Delay $1-Million Project

SOUTHFIELD—A former Southfield Township deputy clerk has threatened suit against Southfield that could delay the city's $1-million improvement project for at least two months.

Mrs. Thomas E. Yoki of 22500 W. 11-Mile Road is challenging the council's policy of "doing just as it pleases."

Specifically she charges that council members have not followed the city's charter in determining the method of financing a $50,000 water line that would run past her house.

The council has scheduled a second public hearing on the water line near Mrs. Yoki's home. It will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 1 at the Southfield Ten School, Southfield and Berg roads.

★ ★ ★

All water, sewer and paving projects in Southfield have been lumped together in one $1-million project. By doing this city officials say they can get lower interest rates than by having to finance several smaller projects.

The only hitch is that no one will loan Southfield the money during the time a suit threatens any part of it.

Mrs. Yoki and her neighbors are protesting that they shouldn't have to pay the entire cost of the 16-inch water line in front of their property.

They argue that the city should pay for the transmission line, instead of the property owners, because it will serve the city-at-large rather than just those who live along 11-Mile Road.

CITES OTHER LINES

They point out that the city has financed other transmission lines along Nine Mile, 10-Mile and Telegraph roads as well as other main arteries.

In these cases, the cost of the water lines has been paid by water revenues from all over the city.

City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said he sympathizes with Mrs. Yoki's stand, but he indicates that the city has already reached its debt limit on water revenue bonds.

★ ★ ★

An exception could be made by dipping into surplus water funds, but the council fears this would set a precedent and other requests would follow, according to the administration.

★ ★ ★

He stated that the immediate need for water north of 11-Mile and west of Lahser prompted the city council to propose the special assessment plan.

There could be about a three-year delay before any new revenue bonds could be sold, said McNutt.

According to Mrs. Yoki, there wouldn't be much difference in the amount she had to pay under either plan. But by special assessment her payments would start now and with revenue bonds, they would begin when she taps into the new line.

★ ★ ★

The former deputy clerk has forced the new hearing on financing the transmission lines because of an alleged charter violation.

★ ★ ★

She said that the assessment roll approved by the city council at its first hearing was not the same as the one filed for public inspection before the hearing. It is on this point that she bases her threat of suit.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Yoki could hold up the planned bond issue at the time when the money is actually borrowed. This would be after the city asks the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission for approval to borrow the $1 million in March.

Oakland Twp. Hopefuls Circulating Petitions

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Nominating petitions for the first primary election ever held in Oakland Township are now being circulated by candidates, according to Township Supervisor Frank J. Voll Sr.

Candidates formerly were chosen in a caucus held in the township hall until the Township Board voted to change the election procedure two years ago, Voll said.

The supervisor reported that the deadline for filing nominating petitions for public offices in the township is 4 p.m. Jan. 2.

The petitions are to be returned to Township Clerk Mrs. Lucy Alt at 1800 Buell Road.

Voll, who has been supervisor for seven years, said he is running for re-election himself.

Another veteran township official, Treasurer Walter T. Barkham, said he will not be running this year, according to Voll. Barkham has been township treasurer for 28 years.

Oakland Township residents will get their first chance to vote in a primary for the positions of township clerk, trustee, justice of the peace and constable in addition to the supervisor and treasurer posts.

Voll said the township board decided to do away with the horse-and-buggy caucus because it believed the primary election was a more democratic method of selecting candidates.

★ ★ ★

"Only the people present in the township hall could vote in a caucus," Voll explained. "A person could get himself elected by packing the hall with only those who would vote for him."

★ ★ ★

Voll recalled that this led to some fairly stormy sessions around election time.

Services Listed for Lutherans at Brooklands

BROOKLANDS—Holiday services for the next two weeks have been announced by Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Brooklands, according to the pastor, the Rev. Norman Kuck.

Christmas observance will be ushered in with the traditional children's service beginning at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Eve. At 11 p.m. worshippers will gather for the midnight service which will include the celebration of the Holy Communion.

On Dec. 25 the regular Sunday schedule will be followed with the exception of Sunday School which will be canceled for the day. Both the 8:15 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. Christmas Day services will also provide the sacrament of Communion.

A special New Year's Eve vespers has been planned to start at 7:30 while the New Year's Day schedule will follow the usual Sunday form with the observance of Holy Communion in both services.

Sunday School will meet at the customary hour and newly elected church officers, as well as incumbents carrying over, will appear in a body in the late service to be commissioned for duties in the new year.

The pastor announces that junior catechumen instruction will be canceled for the one session Dec. 24 to reconvene Dec. 31 at 9:30 a.m.

A new greenhouse tomato variety, Spartan Red 8, has just been released by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State University.

SET TO SING — The annual Christmas program at Clarkston High School will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Little Theater. The Senior Chorus under the direction of Martha Jetter, which is pictured here, will offer both secular and Christmas selections, and the newly organized Girls' A Cappella Choir will sing a special arrangement of "Little Drummer Boy." Willie Knox will be the featured tenor soloist in the men's quartet, singing "Mary Had a Baby." The drama department will portray the Christmas story in tableaux and song, under the coaching of Miss Lorna Wildon. The concert is open to the public.

Martin Co. Enters New Era; Leaves Airplanes Behind

MIDDLE RIVER, Mr. (UPI) — In 1909, only six years after Orville and Wilbur Wright's frail flying machine wobbled into the air, the Martin Co. offered its first airplane for sale.

Tuesday, 51 years and 12,400 planes later, Martin closes its books on aircraft production and turns its full attention to the future—to missiles, electronics and space exploration.

The company invited newsmen and government officials to attend the delivery of its last plane — a P5M-2 Martin flying boat to be turned over to the Navy at the Strawberry Point seaplane hangar.

From the 12 horsepower Martin biplane put on the market in 1909 to the last mighty P5M-2, many famous planes have rolled off the company's production line to write their tales of glory in the sky.

Announces Defense Cuts

Russia Presents Record Budget for Peacetime

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government today presented a record peacetime budget of 77.5 billion new rubles to finance an 8.9 per cent increase in industrial output in 1961.

Finance Minister Vasilli Garbuzov told applauding deputies of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet parliament, that defense expenditures are being cut "thanks to the unilateral reduction of the Soviet armed forces." They make up 11.9 per cent of the total budget, compared to 12.9 per cent for 1960.

* * *

Garbuzov said, however, defense costs will remain relatively high "until agreement on general and full disarmament can be reached."

The 1961 cost of the armed forces was put at 9.22 billion new rubles. The Soviet Union has declared that the new ruble, to become effective Jan. 1, will be worth $1.11. Though the old ruble was officially valued at 25 cents, the new ruble is rated as containing 10 old ones.

OLD AND NEW

The record budget therefore is equivalent to 775 billion old rubles and the defense budget equals 92.25 billion old rubles.

* * *

Western experts usually figured the worth of the old ruble at 10 cents—the rate the Soviet government gave to foreign tourists — or less. But Western experts consider that Soviet military budget figures are highly misleading since many items of armament production are included in allotments for ostensibly civilian projection.

* * *

Premier Khrushchev studied the figures in a light blue notebook as Garbuzov pointed out that the total budget is 6.7 per cent higher than last year's previous record of 745.8 billion old rubles. The 1960 defense budget was 96.1 billion old rubles.

Garbuzov said scientific expenditures will be 15 per cent higher this year.

* * *

During the initial separate sessions of the Supreme Soviet's two houses, Western newsmen were surprised to see Alexei A. Kirichenko, dismissed from the Presidium of the Soviet Communist party last April, on the platform in the House of Nationalities with top leaders.

Plan Strongest Magnet in Building at MIT

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—A new $9,502,000 laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology will house the world's most powerful magnet.

The laboratory will produce a continuous magnetic field of 250,000 gauss—more than 500,000 times greater than the earth's magnetic field, which causes a compass needle to point north.

Sees Continued Commerce Dip

United Business Service President Also Expects Upturn in Spring

BOSTON (UPI)—Paul T. Babson, president of United Business Service, predicted today the business recession will continue but there will be a turn for better in the spring.

* * *

Business and finance figures in 1961 will not vary widely from 1960, he told the executives' club of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce.

STEEL: Ingot production about the same as this year—100 million tons or 65 to 70 per cent of capacity. With a 7.2 cents an hour wage increase to go into effect next October, moderate steel price increase are probable.

AUTOMOBILE: Production should total about 6.4 million cars and 1.2 million trucks compared with 6.7 million cars and 1.2 million trucks this year. Fewer cars will be imported in 1961.

BUILDING: Total new construction should hit a record high of $57 billion, with new housing starts up to at least 1.3 million.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION: A low of around 103 in the FRB index in the first quarter and recovery to around 110 by yearend.

LABOR: Election-inspired union aggressiveness vs. stiffer management resistance probably will cause more strikes than in 1960.

COMMODITY PRICES: Firmer, with the average up 1 or 2 per cent.

AGRICULTURE: A gain of 1 to 2 per cent in farm cash for a total of around $34 billion.

STOCK MARKET: The likely range for the Dow-Jones industrial average during 1961 will be 570 to 685. The range for the Standard & Poor average of 425 industrial stocks will be 55 to 67.

Take Bethlehem Stone to Coventry in England

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—A boulder which rested on a hillside overlooking Bethlehem when Christ was born is nearing the end of a long journey to Coventry Cathedral. The freighter Norman Prince ferried it from Beirut.

Out of the three-ton stone a font will be carved, symbolizing the link of the new cathedral with the birthplace of the Christian faith.

The font will rest on a pedestal beneath a great window in the cathedral, rebuilt on the ruins of the medieval church razed by German bombs in World War II.

TRADE STAMPS FOR BUS — Orphans from the Westview Boys' Home in Hollis, Okla., pour their stamp-filled books into a large pile at Oklahoma City Monday in payment for a $5,957 school bus. The boys brought more than 4 million trading stamps pasted in 2,375 books to Oklahoma City. People from all over Oklahoma contributed stamps to the home, supported by the Church of Christ. In the midst of the boys stands Supt. John Cannon from Westview.

But Women NEVER Will

'Let's Quit Sending Cards!'

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The SACC didn't get anywhere and I didn't think it would. It is an admirable society, however, with noble objectives. It should prosper. The SACC is the Society for the Abolition of Christmas Cards.

★ ★ ★

Many persons will consider the society to be subversive. Some of my neighbors will caution their children to come indoors when I pass by.

Old friends may cut me dead. Nevertheless, the Christmas card must go. It is the costly vermiform appendix of the Christmas season.

These cards annually cost almost as much as the common cold; more than a Polaris submarine. Moreover, the annual avalanche engulfs and entraps the regular mail, causing more important matter — such as letters containing checks — to be lost in the shuffle for weeks or, even, for all time.

TALK OF WASTE!

Talk about waste! The stamp bill alone would build a lot of schools. For printing, more is spent than for stamps. The patient postmen are hump-backed for lugging sacks of cards, and they suffer fallen arches, corns and bunions by reason of the extra mileage our Christmas whimsy imposes on them.

There are upright citizens (your correspondent is one) with the courage to chuck the shackles of Christmas cardery but who regularly receive cards in shoals.

More in sorrow than in anger we know that among our loving friends are some with the lint-picking habit of card indexing the whole Christmas card shambles so that during the days immediately following Dec. 25 there occur in living rooms across the lands such scenes as this:

★ ★ ★

The Little Woman: Oh, Frank we got cards today from the Richerts, the Stones and the Eggers. The Stones' is real pretty.

Frank: Yeah, they must have mailed 'em after they got ours.

The L. W: Look in the index, dear, and see if they sent to us last year. Bet they didn't.

The L. W: No, leave 'em on, but let's send a real cheap card next year and mail it after Christmas.

It is the women, of course, who keep the Christmas card business going, wailing before, during and after the process of selecting and addressing their offerings that it is an infernal chore.

If women had the courage of their convictions and the slightest gift for collective action among themselves, the Christmas card would be dead and gone.

Perhaps women will gain the courage some day. But gain the gift of collective action, never! It isn't in them.

There are women — the smartest of their sex — who know and concede this lack among themselves and their sisters. Hence the popularity and membership of another organization long well-established here, the SPWGIGMTT.

The SPWGIGMTT is translated: The Sodality for Preventing Women Gathering In Groups of More Than Three. In clubs, leagues and such, women do gather, of course, beyond the proper numbers.

But the record of the journals and minutes of their meetings would demonstrate the futility of feminine collectivity. Else, they would have squashed the Christmas card, long since.

Backs Youth Corps Plan

Gen. Hershey Sees No Conflict Between the Draft and Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Lewis H. Hershey, the man responsible for calling millions of Americans to arms, has endorsed a plan to send young men overseas to work for peace.

★ ★ ★

Hershey, director of the Selective Service system, said he saw no conflict between the youth corps idea—backed by President-Elect John F. Kennedy—and the manpower needs of the draft.

The draft boss addressed a panel of educators, government officials and representatives from private organizations studying the feasibility of the peace project to send young people to work in underdeveloped nations.

Hershey warned, however, that a system should be set up to insure that well trained young people were selected for the youth corps. He said the wrong youngsters could cause more trouble than no program at all. He urged that the State Department direct the youth corps.

Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wis., told the meeting that the Kennedy administration had a mandate from the American voters to send young Americans abroad "at a soldier's pay in the real war—the war against poverty and ignorance."

Dow Will Hike Prices of Its Polystyrene

MIDLAND (UPI) — Dow Chemical Co. will increase polystyrene prices about one cent a pound in general on Jan. 1. At the same time the company will revise its pricing standards.

The new price of general purpose natural granules will be 19 cents a pound. The company said the new schedule will be above the prices of other manufacturers in most categories.

Accent Is on Youth in Kennedy's Cabinet

The 43-year-old Kennedy, youngest man ever elected to the White House, selected cabinet members with an average of 47.3 years, youngest in the 20th Century.

This compared with an average age of 57.1 years for the official family of 70-year-old President Eisenhower, oldest man ever to serve in the White House.

Kennedy is the first person born in the 20th Century to be elected president.

Of his 10 cabinet members, only 62-year-old North Carolina Gov. Luther H. Hodges, named Commerce secretary, was not born in this century. Five cabinet appointees are under 50.

The youngest member of Kennedy's cabinet is his 35-year-old brother Robert, named attorney general. Robert is the second youngest attorney general in history. President James Madison named Richard Rush to the post at the age of 33.

Douglas Dillon is the only Kennedy cabinet selection older than the man he will succeed. The 51-year-old Dillon, now undersecretary of state, will take over from 50-year-old Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson.

Some Dem Senators Get Bids to Talkfest

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than half of the Democrats who will control the Senate next month are getting bids to take part in an advance strategy session planned by party liberals here on Dec. 30.

★ ★ ★

Aides of Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., said today about 40 Democratic senators who will sit in the Congress that convenes Jan. 3 have been invited.

★ ★ ★

"Of course, we can't know just how many will attend, but we hope it's a majority of the majority," said one.

Douglas and Clark say they are anxious to cooperate closely with President-Elect John F. Kennedy, who has been their colleague, but the theme of their prosession organization huddle clearly is a stronger voice for party liberals in the Senate leadership.

They, with some help from Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., publicly challenged some of the broad leadership powers exercised in the recent past by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D-Tex.

India's industrial output has increased 60 per cent in the last 12 years.

Deadeye Charlie Gets the Bird With Shotgun

"A likely lad, that one," said a gamekeeper as he watched the heir to the throne hit a cock pheasant at a difficult angle.

The shoot took place at County Kent home of Lord Bradbourne. Charles was armed with a .410-gauge double-barreled shotgun. Accompanying him was his gun dog, Flash.

Did It Pay Off?

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UPI)— The shrimp trawler Two Sons made a heavy haul on its maiden trip to the Gulf Coast shrimping grounds. The Two Sons snared an airplane engine in its nets.

A covered bridge in Lucerne, Switzerland, built in 1333, is believed the oldest such structure still standing.

March of Dimes Goal $45 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Foundation today set up a $45 million goal for its 1961 "March of Dimes" drive to aid victims of polio, arthritis and birth defects.

★ ★ ★

The foundation also announced that it will set up a clinic in January at Children's Hospital here for diagnosis and treatment of youngsters with birth defects affecting the central nervous system.

★ ★ ★

Two similar clinics sponsored by the foundation are in operation at Children's Hospital, Columbus, Ohio; and Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

The 1961 "March of Dimes" drive will be conducted during the month of January. The $45 million goal compared with $30 million the foundation collected last year.

Science Adviser Plans Return to Classroom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of President Eisenhower's Science Advisory Committee said Monday he will return to teaching at Harvard after the inauguration.

Dr. George B. Kistiakowsky, the chairman, said it will be up to President-Elect John F. Kennedy to decide whether the group will continue to function, Kistiakowsky expressed hope that it would.

Antimissile Missile Still a Year Away

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Nike-Zeus, a United States missile seen as the only practical killer of enemy missiles, is about a year away from full dress rehearsal firings, its Army boss said.

Lt. Col. Glenn Crane, chief of the Antimissile Missile and Space Defense office in the Army Rocket and Guided Missile Agency (ARGMA) at Redstone Arsenal, discussed the program with newsmen in Grand Rapids.

He was in the city to visit Lear, Inc., which is among about 70 prime contractors, with Western Electric Co. and Bell Telephone Co., in the Army ordnance-industry team working on the million dollar a day development.

London to Get Needed Carlton Tower Hotel

LONDON (UPI) — London will receive a badly-needed Christmas present shortly after the first of the year — a new hotel.

The hotel Corporation of America says it will open its newly built 17-story hotel, the Carlton Tower, Jan. 4.

The hotel will have 318 rooms, with accommodations for 450 guests, and will ease the strain on hotel housing in London where hotel space has been at a premium since World War II.

Slate Defense in Vote Hassle

37 Landowners Said to Have Threatened Eviction for Ballots

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Thirty seven Haywood County landowners, charged by the government with planning the evict sharecroppers because the Negroes wanted to vote, today were expected to present their defense.

The Justice Department charged the white landowners under the 1957 Civil Rights Act and asked Judge Marion S. Boyd for an injunction forbidding eviction of about 300 Negroes.

Defense attorneys indicated during Tuesday's cross-exmination of government witnesses in U. S. District Court that the landowners would contend modern farm machinery has reduced the need for tenants and sharecroppers.

One witness, James Avery, testified he had received a letter from his landlord, T. Crowder Chapman Jr., saying "he didn't think he could give me another crop on the farm." Avery, 48, father of three, said the letter came shortly after he had registered to vote.

"Don't you know Mr. Chapman has gone in for modern machinery? a defense lawyer asked.

First witnesses for the government were white persons who testified about an alleged conspiracy to deprive Negroes of the right to vote.

Blaze at Vacant Hotel Threatens Mayo Clinic

ROCHESTER, Minn (AP) — A spectacular fire swept the 75-year-old unoccupied Damon Hotel early today threatening the new Mayo Clinic building and the Kahler Hotel across the street. Firemen fought the blaze in 10-below zero weather.

The three-story building, one of the oldest hotel landmarks in southeastern Minnesota, is being torn down to extend clinic parking facilities.

Canada Cracks Down Hard on Foreign Investors

OTTAWA (AP)—The Canadian government has wiped out all special tax concessions for foreign investors in an effort to slow down foreign investment in Canada.

In a special budget message to the House of Commons Tuesday night, Finance Minister Donald Flemming decreed a 15 per cent tax on all dividends paid to U. S. and other foreign owners of stock in Canadian companies or Canadian government bonds.

The tax on interest paid nonresident holders of provincial guaranteed bonds was raised from 5 per cent to 15.

The tax on dividends paid to foreign parent corporations by wholly owned Canadian subsidiaries also was raised from 5 per cent to 15.

These taxes went into effect today. But existing bond issues or new issues for which terms have been agreed upon were exempted from the increase.

Effective Jan. 1, foreign companies also will pay a 15 per cent tax on all profits from branches in Canada. The government hopes, as a result, these companies will incorporate in Canada.

U. S. investors will be hit particularly by the new regulations. The U. S. Commerce Department on Dec. 11 estimated that Americans invest $2 billion annually in overseas branches, subsidiaries and affiliates. More than one-third of this goes to Canada, the department said.

Flemming said industrial development in Canada has been accelerated by foreign investment but the time has come to help the Canadian economy achieve an improved equilibrium with the outside world.

Rights Commission to Be in New Orleans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Civil Rights Commission will resume hearings in troubled New Orleans next March into charges that some Negroes have been denied the right to vote in Louisiana.

Chairman John A. Hannah indicated that Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion and other state officials would be asked to testify before the commission.

The commission took sworn testimony last fall from 35 Negroes. They said their right to register and vote had been denied on racial grounds.

Noting that the state attorney general and other officials had rejected an earlier invitation to testify, Hannah said "The commission feels it is now necessary to hear from these officials and others."

Control-Tower Life Hectic

Radar Job Is Hell

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK (NEA)—"Listen. I wouldn't take a job operating airport radar. Not in a million years. Not after what I've seen in those control towers." The fellow talking was still visibly rattled over the in-air collision of two passenger planes over New York.

He has recently finished an assignment to define air traffic congestion problems. His official report is in. He does not want his name mentioned.

"You can go crazy in those radar rooms," he said. "Especially on the morning shift when the passenger traffic really begins piling up.

"If you're in New York, you pick up a blip of an incoming plane at is begins its descent somewhere around Allentown, Pa. You have to identify the blip and follow it while earlier blips are coming in and later ones are being picked up.

"If somebody asks you for a cigarette or if you want a cup of coffee and you look up for five seconds—well, a jet liner can go a mile in those five seconds.

"Once the planes get close enough to the airfield, their blips get moved to the close radar screen.

"You can lose a blip for several seconds. Or you can find one that you didn't expect—another couple seconds of distraction.

"You think that kind of a job isn't enough to tense you up? A great combination—tension and tedium. And all for about $5,000 a year.

"A couple of hours off for some other duty and a couple of hours back on. It's some help. But not much.

"And then you get a visibility-zero morning like this one and those blips are piled up until your eyes are swimming. And there's no machine that can do the job nearly as well as a radar operator who's willing to work for $5,000.

"I put enough time in those radar rooms to know I don't want to fly again.

"But of course, I do fly. You just cross your fingers and tell yourself you don't remember."

Frightened ostriches may lie flat, but they never bury their heads in the sand. Instead, they sometimes meet trouble head on with a powerful forward kick. Their feet are armed with sharp three-inch toenails.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—New Jersey has become the third state in the country to ratify a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution giving residents of Washington, D. C., the right to vote in presidential elections.

The State Senate passed the amendment 20-0 Monday. The State Assembly had passed the measure last month. It does not require the governor's signature.

The amendment would give the District of Columbia three votes in the Electoral College. Hawaii and Massachusetts approved the amendment before New Jersey. Ratification by 35 more states is required.

Postman Finds Yuletide Mail Too, Too Much

★ ★ ★

People kept telling him he was delivering mail to the wrong address, and it "confused and upset" him. So he threw 66 pieces of mail down a sewer, he told a U.S. commissioner at a hearing Monday. Most of it looked like Christmas cards anyway, he added.

★ ★ ★

The mail was recovered and after being dried out will be delivered.

Vance was held in $500 bail.

Actor Donald O'Connor Ruptures Blood Vessel

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Donald O'Connor ruptured a blood vessel in his throat Monday while making a motion picture in Tunisia, his studio said.

Embassy Pictures Corp. said O'Connor was making a film called "Wonders of Aladdin" in Kairouan, Tunisia, when the blood vessel ruptured. He was taken to Rome.

Carrier Chap Says: 'I Prayed for Miracle'

NEW YORK (AP) — Six hours alone, trapped in a ship that had become a steel furnace. That, says John Woytovich, 57, is being "very, very alone."

When fire broke out he was three decks below with a crew working on a refrigeration unit. He helped the other men out of the compartment first, then became lost in the blinding, choking smoke as he tried to follow.

"Somehow I ended up in a chain locker," he said. "I felt a draft around my ankles. There was air down there, so I lay down on my stomach with my face against this vent. That's what saved my life.

"I wanted to be home for Christmas and . . . I'm going to be now. It's just a miracle. Lord knows, I lay there and prayed for one.

By the time rescue workers got Woytovich out, he was purple in the face from the heat, but Tuesday night his condition was described as good.

MSU Prof Tapped as Engineers' Prexy

EAST LANSING — Arthur W. Farrall, professor and head of the department of agricultural engineering at Michigan State University, is the nominee for president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of his nomination was made in the society's journal. Voting on the nominated officers will be by letter ballot to be mailed to voting members in February.

Acceptance of the nomination is tantamount to election in the society, since only one candidate is nominated for presidential office by the nominating committee.

Farrall is a native of Nebraska and received his bachelor's and master's degrees with a major in agricultural engineering from the University of Nebraska.

In 1955, the University of Nebraska gave him an honorary Doctor of Engineering degree.

He has been an ASAE member since 1925 and was elected a fellow in 1955. He helped establish the Michigan section of the society.

He has been a member of the ASAE Forward Planning Committee since 1959, and served as chairman of the Chicago section in 1945 and of the college division in 1949.

Waterford Man's Son Killed as Car Skids

The 16-year-old son of a Waterford Township man was killed last night when his car skidded off a snow-covered road and hit a tree about 18 miles north of Lapeer.

Dead on arrival at Lapeer County General Hospital here was Danny L. Clifton, 16, of 9677 Main St., Clifford. His father is Thomas J. Clifton of 3110 Rosann.

Reported in satisfactory condition following surgery today at the hospital is Daniel Johnson, 18, of 9556 Main St., a passenger in the car driven by young Clifton.

Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies said the youth was driving on Castle Road (M90), about one mile east of M-24, when the car hit a slippery spot, skidded 48 feet off the road and crashed into the tree.

The car was hurled 18 feet by the impact.

A third occupant of the car, James Clothier, 16, of 9838 Main St., Clifford, escaped without serious injury. He was released after treatment at the hospital.

Bandits Wound Clawson Man

Shot Grazes Shoulder as Pair Rob Detroit Home of $392

A gas company meter reader from Clawson was wounded and another man was slugged by a pair of bandits who forced their way into a Detroit home early today.

★ ★ ★

Police said the intruders fired two shots as they attempted to make the two men and a woman housekeeper lie on the floor while they ransacked the home.

Leslie said he was just leaving the home of Jacob Pittman, 56, when the bandits met him at a side door and forced him back inside.

★ ★ ★

Leslie, Pittman and his housekeeper, Eunice Wallis, 57; were ordered to lie on the floor. Pittman was struck by one of the bandits when he refused, and fired the shots.

★ ★ ★

The bandits tied up the three victims, who freed themselves after the pair left.

AF Plane Drops Engine; Hobbles Into Bermuda

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An Air Force pilot landed his four-engine Super Constellation safely in Bermuda today after propeller trouble and a fire almost forced him to ditch 400 miles out in the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Joseph T. Long of Falmouth had radioed Otis AFB he was going to crash land in the ocean. He brought his plane down to 500 feet, but at that point the engine fell off into the ocean, taking the fire with it.

★ ★ ★

Long got the plane back to 1,200 feet and headed for Kindley Field, Bermuda. One tire blew out landing there. None of the 15 men aboard the big radar plane was injured.

Long originally was from Houston, Tex.

'Blessed Art Thou, Mary' . . . Chapter Three

Holy Ghost Appears to Frightened Bride

(Editor's Note: The Annunciation of Mary is one of the dramatic moments that led up to the first Christmas nearly 2,000 years ago. Here, adapted from noncanonical documents highly regarded by the early church, is an account of how that event may have occurred.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A shaft of sunlight poured down from the high window, Mary sang softly to herself as she moved the shuttle to and fro, filling the weft of the true purple.

Her heart was high. Her work was good.

She tilted her head from side to side with the cadence of her singing. How nimbly raced her fingers, how richly sparkled the velvet. It grew with each crossing of the yarn, as if it, too, had life and promise.

The memory of his fond leave-taking brought color to her cheeks.

"I go away to build my buildings," he had said, "and I will come again unto thee." He looked down on her warmly, his bronzed brow knit with protective concern. "The Lord shall watch over thee."

Musing contentedly, she paused in her weaving. She leaned back her head, her eyes closed, her face upturned, caressed by the cascade of sun. At that moment, she started.

★ ★ ★

She sat up, sharply attentive. She had heard, but heard not. Here in her private chamber, alone with her thread and thoughts, she sensed some further presence, some calling round about, some unfallen footstep.

She quit the loom and hastened across the floor to the doorway. She pushed the portier aside, listening. There was nothing except the smoke curling from the brazier, a cup left empty on the table.

She frowned, pressing her fingers to her temples. She must have dreamt it. O Lord, shield thy servant from vain imaginings. Assuredly, her idle reflections had brought that twinge of fantasy.

She sighed and strolled back to her yarn basket, running her fingers meditatively through the soft texture. It soothed and tingled the flesh like featherdown. A delicate gift for her Lord.

She was greatly honored that the priests had appointed her to weave the true purple for the Temple halls. Five other virgins of Nazareth, Rebecah, Zipporah, Susanna, Abigea and Cael, also spun and embroidered Temple draperies.

SHE PRAYED

But they wrought the blue, the golden, the fine linen and silk, while to Mary had gone the distinction of fashioning the scarlet and true purple. She clasped her fingers under her chin. O Lord, pray that these hands ever please thee.

She noticed the slant of the sun, the ninth hour. Each day, she customarily prayed until the third hour in midmorning, then wove until the ninth in midafternoon.

Thereafter she attended to the household of Joseph, the duties of grinding grain, cultivating the garden, kneading dough, baking, cleaning, washing linen for his children.

They were loving little taphs, Simon, James, Joses and the others. She drew on her veil, picked up the waterjar, and perching it on her head, went out of the house and down the hill toward the well.

Plumes of smoke drifted from open doors of the limestone houses. Birds darted and trilled in the sunlight. A group of women washed and carded wool. In the distance, she could hear the clang of tools in metalshops, the lowing of kine.

She savored the peace and beauty of it all. How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts. The green valley stretched away below the fig orchard, and children shouted at play in the leafy arbors.

★ ★ ★

The day, its joy and peace, transported her, and she moved on, skipping gleefully a step or two. Ach! She braced her waterjar precariously, laughing.

And then it came again, that stabbing, unsubstantial thing.

Hearken, Mary! Give heed!

Her body stiffened, and her gaze cast about, but she saw no one. It was as if some spirit approached, some form she could not discern, some voice she could not comprehend. O Lord God, have mercy . . .

Something had bewitched her, some uncanny power. She walked on rapidly, her face white and strained. She would be done with girlish rhapsodizing. She must fetch her water and be on with her work.

Other women passed, turning to stare at her perplexedly, as she rushed on. O Lord God of Abraham, Father of us all, lend thy help.

★ ★ ★

She lowered her jar, and with trembling fingers, fastened the rope to the handles. She let it down, her lips moving soundlessly.

The jar filled slowly, exasperatingly slow. She bit her lip, her eyes darting desperately about. She still was aware of some throbbing in the air, some rigorous, overwhelming constraint, lancing her to the very center of her being, a gathering force charging over her like a rush of wings. God, Lord God!

Hail!

Hail, thou that are highly favored!

She dropped her jar, throwing her arm over her eyes against the light, and fled blindly back toward the house.

★ ★ ★

The presence, the inexorability of it, clung to her as she ran, stumbling, crying, racing in terror. In her chamber, she fell to her knees, covering her face, and again the visitation spoke.

The Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women!

She crumpled to the floor, shaking.

"O Lord," she cried "bow to the prayers of thy slave."

Her voice was a frightened wail.

"Hear me and deliver my soul, you who are the God of my salvation."

Fear not, Mary.

A silence and then again that commanding reassurance.

Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God!

Slowly, and at length, her body became less rigid, but sobs still rose from deep within her.

Behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call him Jesus.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High . . .

She shook her head, bewildered, trembling, not intending to speak, yet speaking, her voice like a puzzled child's, simple, detached. "How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?"

. . . the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee.

Again, her voice seemed to rise by its own force, remote, yet inward, controlling, without question. ". . . Be it unto me according to thy word."

She was pulled, hurled; she had flung herself into an unexplainable, deeply personal and profound unknown.

The full shock did not come to her until later. That night she cried and tossed on her couch until dawn, alternating ecstatic, incredulous and frightened. Shortly afterward, she packed a few belongings and fled Nazareth.

No one there, no relatives, nor friends, could hope to understand. And the thought of Joseph returning now filled her with panic.

She went to a mountain settlement where now dwelt the old priest, Zechariah, who had schooled her since childhood in the mysteries of God, and his wife, Elizabeth, who had comforted her through youth.

Mary buried her face on her cousin's breast, and as the older woman stroked her hair, the fright subsided, and a pent-up joy burst in her.

She remained there three months, and held her head proudly.

But dread again came over her when she returned to Nazareth, and she hid herself in the house. When she faced Joseph, on his return, she had been with child for six months.

Chatterbox Satellite May Go On for Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Explorer VII, the American satellite that refuses to shut up, may well go on "braying like a donkey" for years to come, Space Agency officials said Tuesday. The 91½-pound sphere, launched Oct. 13, 1959, was supposed to have had its radio cut off automatically two months ago.

Selassie Suspicious About Revolt

Foreign Plot in Ethiopia?

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (UPI) — Ethiopian officials questioned army officers and civilians today to find out whether a foreign power had anything to do with the attempted overthrow of Emperor Haile Selassie last week.

The frail, bearded emperor hinted at the possibility of foreign intrigue Tuesday but declined to say whether such indications pointed to the East, the West or some neutralist country.

A Moscow Radio broadcast said the fact that U.S. Ambassador Arthur L. Richards was conferring with rebel leaders in the palace when loyalist troops stormed it last Friday "proved (he was) involved in the putsch."

Richards insisted he had no part in it. He said he merely had acted as go-between for the rebels and loyalists, "something like the Red Cross might do," and that no American personnel were involved in the revolt in any way.

NARROW ESCAPE

Richards narrowly escaped death by jumping through a palace window when the shooting started.

The 68-year-old emperor made it clear he had no "direct evidence" of any foreign intervention, saying it merely was a possibility. Asked if Communist tactics had been used by the rebels he replied only that some of their declarations "were confusing to us. To understand them takes time."

Selassie absolved both his son Crown Prince Asfa Wassan, and Ras Imru, former ambassador to the United States, India and Russia, of responsibility for the uprising.

He said the rebels had forced them to issue statements supporting the coup.

(Capt. Carl Gustaf von Rosen, a pilot who flew 50 Scandinavians out of Ethiopia Tuesday, said in Malmoe, Sweden, that Wassan had a gun pressed to the back of his neck when he denounced his father over Addis Ababa Radio.)

The army continued to scour the countryside for refugee rebels. The governmemt has estimated that only about 100 are at large but other sources said as many as 2,000 may have escaped.

("Five times I saw people being hanged," said one, Torsten Adenby. "They were shot first and then hanged. Gallows with hanged people were to be seen in many places. It was terrible.)

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Can you give me some advice on what to do to prevent the kidney disease that attacks older dogs? Mrs. F. Wagner, Long Island, N.Y.

A. It is always wiser to prevent a disease than to cure it. Three years old is not too late to start thinking about preventing kidney disease in a dog.

★ ★ ★

There seems to be a general agreement that one of the causes of kidney disease in older dogs, is a very slight infection of leptospirosis sometime during the dogs earlier life. At times it is so slight that it goes unnoticed. Leptospirosis vaccination, given annually, will help.

★ ★ ★

To lessen the strain on his kidneys, see that he receives a nutritious diet, free from highly spiced foods. Allow him plenty of exercise to prevent overweight and heart disease. Following these preventative measures will certainly help to prolong your dogs life.

The idea of decorating the Yule tree probably stems from the ancient custom of hanging foodstuffs high on the branches of evergreens to keep them out of the reach of prowling animals.

They Channel Gifts and Make Them Systematic

Christmas Bureaus Help Needy Families

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

At first glance it may seem alien to the joy of giving to organize it in platoons of statistics on just who needs what.

But in practice, it brings order out of the mighty seasonal confusion resulting from the burst of generosity that strikes people at yuletide.

This mammoth Santa is the Christmas bureau.

It is set up long before Christmas to act as a confidential agent between people who want to give and people who need help.

Suppose Joe M. at the county home for old people needs a set of dentures. Someone tells the local Christmas bureau. A community women's club turns in $150 as a gift for the needy and Joe gets his false teeth.

A probation officer told a Syracuse, N.Y., bureau about 15-year-old Jimmy, who was buying a second hand bike for his newspaper route. Then it was stolen when he still owed $20.

A couple who annually give through the Christmas bureau bought Jimmy the present he wanted most—a new bike.

Every year more employe groups give up office Christmas parties and exchanges of inter-office greeting cards. One such office collected $700 and turned it over to the Christmas bureau which used the money for gifts, clothing and turkey dinners for eight large families.

Individual wants were considered and agency volunteers delivered the gifts so the parents could act as Santa Claus.

There may be critics who complain of a cold heartedness in organized Christmas giving. But there are plenty examples of disorganized generosity.

SOME IRREGULARITIES

The Milwaukee Christmas Bureau reported 743 potential gift duplications. Another said that without checking, two families would have had help from four different donors and 11 by three donors—while other needy cases were ignored.

Six different service clubs may descend on a single children's home with quantities of candy, mittens and toys. Two blocks away a family can live in real want, unnoticed at holiday time.

Contributions to parties for needy children may make a merry few hours for all concerned.

Contrast that, agency people say, with the lasting good of money to pay for braces for the crippled; picnic baskets, box cameras and folding chairs for a club of elderly persons; play equipment for the often forgotten youngsters in detention homes.

There is a wide range of ideas for gift giving where it counts. One group of school children turns in pennies to buy a food scale for a 12-year-old diabetic boy; a men's club reconditions TV sets at an orphanage; people give trading stamps to a Christmas bureau to buy toys and clothing.

There are some 200 Christmas bureaus throughout the nation, developing from a program started more than 40 years ago. They offer a giant pack for would-be Santas to fill.

Bentley's Campaign Cost Alarms Ohio Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio senator says he thinks it is rather frightening that "millionaire Republican Alvin Bently spent more than $400,000" in his unsuccessful race in Michigan for U.S. senator.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said "This tremendous expenditure is symbolic of what is going on in many contests for election to the United States Senate."

"It is startling, in fact, rather frightening. The writer is more persuaded than ever before not to be a candidate for re-election in 1964 but to retire to private life; returning to Cleveland and the practice of law."

Bently, a member of the House until his term expires next month, was defeated by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Young said Bentley, according to his own accounts and those of his campaign committees, spent more than $400,000 in the campaign.

★ ★ ★

"A highly placed federal official informed the writer that the actual expenditures for the Bentley candidacy exceeded $750,000," Young wrote.

Opposition in Ghana Tells of 30 Arrests

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Ghana opposition leader Joseph Appiah claimed Monday night that 30 members of his United party have been arrested by Ghana police.

Appiah said he feared they had been detained under the Preventive Detention Act, which permits the detention of "political undesirables" for up to five years without trial.

Appiah, son-in-law of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, is Ashanti regional chairman of the Ghana United party and the party's deputy leader in Parliament. By such measures as the Preventive Detention Act, President Kwame Nkrumah has made the United party and other opposition elements largely ineffective.

DISTAFF DIPLOMACY —Mrs. Dean Rusk, wife of the Secretary of State designate, discusses her favorite topic, her children, during an interview Monday in the Rusks' Scarsdale, N. Y., home. The Rusks have three children, David, a student at the University of California, and Richard and Peggy, who live in Scarsdale. When asked if her husband consults her about his work, Mrs. Rusk said, "Well, sometimes I can tell him something. I'm an avid newspaper reader."

'Bomber' Will Get Psychiatric Hearing

A psychiatric hearing was ordered for Pavlick.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert Rust said Monday that Pavlick is violently anti-Catholic and favored turning himself into a human bomb at the Palm Beach Catholic Church while Kennedy was attending Mass.

The white-mained, stocky retired postal clerk said he wanted to kill Kennedy because of "the underhanded way he was elected. Kennedy money bought the White House and the presidency."

Pavlick is held in a total of $250,000 bonds on charges of twice threatening Kennedy's life and transporting dynamite across state lines with intent to destroy property.

Casualty—One Thumb

CASTLETON, Vt. (UPI) —David C. Mosher, 21, escaped with only a burned thumb in a freak accident. He was using his car's cigarette lighter when a spark fell on the front seat. As he brushed it away, the car swerved off the road, over a culvert and into a swamp.

Deception Keeps Couple Unaware of Son's Fate

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A charitable deception will keep Christmas 1960 a happy one for an elderly couple who don't know their son was aboard a plane shot down by the Russians last July.

There is a gaily wrapped package under the tree for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Posa, both 80, and they will believe it came from their son, Air Force Capt. Eugene Posa.

They don't know the Air Force has reported him missing and presumed dead. He was one of seven men aboard an RB47 weather reconnaissance plane shot down over the Barents Sea July 1.

But Capt. Posa's older brother, Philip, still believes his brother may some day be found alive. That's why he has carried out the deception.

★ ★ ★

Each week Philip reads them a letter that supposedly came from Eugene in England. The Posas, Italian, know little English.

Tins Cans Less Tinny

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The steel industry is meeting the threat of the aluminum can by cutting more tin out of the tin can. Where a ton of tin plate to make cans required 31 pounds of expensive pure tin in 1939, it now takes only 12 pounds.

Unlikely to Go Red, Claims Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — President Jose Velasco Ibarra asserted today there is no danger Ecuador will swing into the Soviet Union's orbit despite anti-American demonstrations here.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations, touched off by U.S. refusal to back Ecuador in a border dispute with Peru, "should not frighten anybody," Velasco Ibarra said in a letter to a Quito newspaper. The president said Ecuador's safety from communism is guaranteed "by the antipathy which the great majority of our people feel for communism."

★ ★ ★

Ecuador should not look upon the United States as an enemy, he added.

Pilgrims Hear Bells of Bethlehem

They congregate before dawn to sing, pray and meditate. In one glance they can see the entire landscape which Jesus knew so well — the little town where he was born and the city where he died.

In the mists of dawn they see the rooftops of the birth town, now owned by Jordon, which has been in an official state of war with Israel since 1947. Pilgrims can go there only by making applications which must be approved by both governments.

But in the open fields on the Israeli side of the border, as the sun rises higher in the eastern sky, little groups strain their ears to catch the sound of bells from the Church of the Nativity down in Bethlehem.

Throughout the Israeli and the Jordanian sides of the Holy Land many special services are held on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Americans living here have an advantage over many others because they can see day-by-day all the places where Jesus lived.

They can attend Mass in Nazareth where He prayed and stroll the streets where He spent his youth.

They can go freely across the border, closed to people of both sides, and spend the holy night in the grotto where he was born.

The busiest man in Jerusalem on Christmas probably will be Herbert L. Minard, director of the YMCA, the most popular and by far the best-equipped club in the Israeli capital.

Minard, who comes from Sacramento, Calif., and his wife Marcella from Fresno, Calif., will be too busy on Christmas day to go to Bethlehem.

Celebrations at the "Y" go on for a whole week. There will be a party for some 400 children of all Christian religions, a Christmas Eve carol service and many other activities.

★ ★ ★

At midnight the carillon will ring out from the top of the 152-foot Jesus Tower. The day after Christmas there will be a dinner for 100 guests.

Jack Tells Governor Senate Preference

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has communicated his views on filling a Senate vacancy in Wyoming to Democratic Gov. Joe Hickey, a spokesman for the president-elect said Monday.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy telephoned Hickey recently.

The senator made his views known," Salinger said, ". . . So there's no mystery about them to the governor."

The Republican Senator-elect, Keith Thompson, died after the election and the governor is expected to name a Democrat, probably Teno Roncalio, Wyoming Democratic state chairman.

★ ★ ★

Explaining why Kennedy called the governor, Salinger said, "It is a matter of interest to the administration who is appointed to the Senate."

Tooth decay among Puerto Rico's children has been decreased 65 per cent with the help of fluorine chloride in the drinking water.

Would Slow National Economy

Sees Drop in Car Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department predicts a 13 per cent drop in auto production in 1961 and says such a decline would slow down the nation's entire economy.

★ ★ ★

Another factor that could further increase the impact of the auto production decline is the larger share of the market claimed by compact cars.

These smaller cars require less raw material, so that the effect on the industry's use of raw materials might be even greater than a 13 per cent drop.

The Commerce Department in its annual outlook summary Tuesday, said 1961 output will total about 5,800,000 cars compared with the 1960 total of 6,700,000.

It said the decline will have its greatest impact in the first half of 1961.

Such a decline in auto production would be the first since the 1957-58 recession. The 1961 forecast was based on big dealer inventories of about a million unsold cars, as well as the high unemployment situation and unsettled business conditions.

In spite of all this, the department said 1961 would be a good year for the auto industry. Even with a 13 per cent drop in production, it said, sales will be helped by a "favorable public attitude, high personal income, the continued trend toward suburban living, better roads and adequate financing.

The report said that in one respect 1960 was an abnormal production year. Because of the steel strike in 1959, dealer inventories were down 30 per cent. To make up for this, the industry added 400,000 autos to normal production in the first three months of 1960. No similar buildup can be expected in the coming months of 1961, the report said.

In Detroit none of the auto companies had any immediate comment on the Commerce Department forecast.

Canadian Car Man Dies

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — William H. Canteion, 74, president of Auto Specialties Manufacturing, Ltd., Windsor, Ont., died here Tuesday.

He was in St. Joseph to attend the funeral of J. W. Tiscornia, president of Auto Specialties Corp., the firm's U.S. counterpart. Tiscornia died last Friday.

Rigid Drug Patents May Face Curbs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators plan to ask Congress to curb the rigid patent control some pharmaceutical manufacturers now hold over new wonder drugs they develop.

The legislation, still in the drafting stage, is aimed at spurring competition in the drug industry and bringing down the prices of prescription medicines.

Drug companies now are permitted to hold exclusive rights to a life-saving medicine for 17 years if a patent is granted by the government.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., chairman of the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, believes the patent procedure is one of the major reasons why drug prices are high.

BRAVE GIRL — Five-year-old Marie Clement manages a smile for police who rescued her after five days alone in an unheated Boston tenement. Last Wednesday her mother was taken to the hospital suffering from pneumonia. But stretcher bearers didn't know the little girl was hiding in another room. The mother recovered enough to ask about Marie Monday night, and police who then found the child said she was the "bravest little girl you ever saw."

Hits American 'Imperialism'

China Declares It Will Try to Put a Stop to 'Intervention' in Laos

TOKYO (AP)—Red Chinese Defense Minister Lin Piao declared today that Communist China will do all it can to "put a stop to U.S. imperialism's intervention and aggression in Laos."

Peiping radio said Lin's pledge was made in a message to Vo Nguyen Giap, vice premier and defense minister of Communist North Viet Nam. The message saluted the 16th anniversary —on Dec. 22—of the founding of the North Vietnamese army.

The broadcast did not say how far the Red Chinese would go in aiding pro-Communist Laotian forces opposing the forces of pro-Western Gen. Phoumi Nosavan and Premier Boun Oum.

Phoumi's forces won control of Vientiane, the Laotian administrative capital, last week.

Lin charged the United States and "its lackeys the reactionary authorities in Thailand" with "blatantly intervening by force of arms and fomenting civil strife in Laos, menacing peace in Southeast Asia."

★ ★ ★

He said Communist China and its people "are determined to exert their utmost efforts alongside the government and people of the (North) Viet Nam democratic republic to safeguard the Geneva agreements and put a stop to U.S. imperialism's intervention and aggression in Laos."

★ ★ ★

Lin's message praised the "great achievements" of North Viet Nam's Red forces and said the Chinese army is "your closest comrades-in-arms."

Rumor Foreign Help to Ethiopian Rebels

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie said today some rebel actions raised suspicion they might have had foreign help.

★

"We are investigating this question very carefully," the emperor told a news conference, "and such investigations take time. But so far there is no clear evidence that any foreign hand was involved."

★ ★ ★

The emperor refused to be more specific. He revealed, however, that ambassadors of both Western and Communist countries had called at the palace to express their sympathy and understanding after he returned from a state visit to Brazil.

Hoffman Likes Brother Bob

State Republican Says Young Kennedy Likely to 'Go After' Reuther

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clare E. Hoffman, R-Mich., said today he thinks Robert F. Kennedy will "go after" Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers Union, when Kennedy takes over as attorney general.

Hoffman, whose admiration for President-Elect John F. Kennedy's brother contrasts with his longtime dislike of Reuther, told a reporter he is convinced both Kennedys "will do something about Reuther."

"He (Robert Kennedy) is honest," Hoffman said, "He has courage, integrity and ability . . . you read his book, 'The Enemy Within,' and his brother's 'Profiles of Courage,' and you'll see what kind of men they are."

Hoffman said he has not discussed his feelings about Reuther with Robert Kennedy, but would like to do so sometime.

Hoffman's office now is engaged in bundling up "50 or 60 copies" each of Robert Kennedy's book and another one entitled "Power Unlimited — the Corruption of Union Leadership," by Sylvester Petro, for shipment back to Michigan.

"I'm sending them back to various individuals in my district," Hoffman said, "I want them to know what kind of man Kennedy is and something about the union problem."

Hoffman a staunch Republican, nevertheless has frequently expressed admiration for Robert Kennedy's work as counsel for the Senate Labor-Management Rackets Investigating Committee. "The Enemy Within" is an account of that investigation.

Hoffman also has issued many a public blast at Reuther over a period of years, particularly in connection with the long Kohler Co. strike in Wisconsin.

Billy Graham Wants Prayers for Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham wished President Eisenhower a Merry Christmas Monday and later told newsmen he believed Protestants should pray for President-Elect John F. Kennedy, a Catholic.

Graham, who also saw Vice President Richard M. Nixon, said the election results showed there was not "as much religious bigotry as some people thought."

A LIVE CHRISTMAS TREE — Students at Waterford Township's Pierce Junior High School decided to have a Christmas tree all year long, so they planted a live tree in the plaza of the school building. A student council campaign to raise funds was stopped when Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cleland of 4474 Rural Road donated two large pine trees to the school. Shown (from left) putting the finishing touches to the Christmas tree decorations are students, Donald Carter, Melvin Patterson, Linda Tarlton and Janet Shipman.

FCC Men View Teacher Plane

Flying Classroom Will Transmit to Schools in 6 Midwestern States

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission got a firsthand look Monday at a "flying classroom" which will beam lessons by television to more than 500,000 pupils in six Midwestern states.

* * *

Dr. John E. Ivey Jr., president of the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction (MPATI), gave the group a progress report on the experimental project.

Ivey said MPATI hopes to begin the first full academic year of televised instruction in September 1961.

He said the group hopes to start early next year transmitting sample lessons to schools which have signed up for the project.

* * *

MPTI, with headquarters at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., has more than 526,000 pupils in nearly 17,000 classrooms scheduled to participate in the program, Ivey said.

* * *

When in operation, the plane will fly at 23,000 feet several hours daily over Montpelier, Ind., and transmit lessons to schools in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Meteor crater, west of Winslow, Ariz., is large enough to provide playing space of 20 football games at one time and two million spectators could watch from its sloping sides.

There are nearly 200 islands in the Sulu group lying to the south of the Philippines and together they comprise an area of about 1,600 square miles, recent surveys indicate.

Plane Victim Stephen Buried After Simple Rite

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Stephen Baltz, 11, who for some 24 hours was the only survivor of last Friday's tragic air collision over New York, was buried Tuesday.

* * *

* * *

Stephen died of burns and injuries Saturday, the 135th victim of the crash of two airliners. He was among the 84 passengers on one of the planes.

Stephen was buried after simple services in the Methodist Church where he was baptized and in whose boys choir he sang. Three hundred persons filled the church.

* * *

The Rev. Dr. Harold Bosley said: "Birth and death are part of God's plan. . . Love and loss go hand in hand." The pastor made no mention of the air disaster.

* * *

There were some tears among the mourners and a few muffled sobs. But Stephen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Baltz, and his sister, Randee, 9, sat dry-eyed and soberly attentive. His younger brother, William, 4, did not attend the services.

Better Plane Control Urged for England

LONDON (AP) — A Laborite member of the House of Commons urged the British government today to place all ground control of both civil and military flights in Britain under a single authority.

Tom Driberg said the Aviation Ministry should review air traffic control arrangements at British airports immediately "in view of the constant increase in air traffic and the recent disasters in New York, Munich and elsewhere."

Military flights in Britain are generally routed away from civilian airlanes and are controlled by the Royal Air Force. Civilian flights are controlled by the Aviation Ministry.

Security Medal Is Awarded to Robert Murphy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has presented the National Security Medal to Robert D. Murphy, 66, retired U.S. diplomat, the White House announced.

Murphy's citation said he had made an outstanding contribution to U.S. security and was "a man of legendary achievement in the cause of freedom during World War II."

Murphy is the career foreign service officer who went ashore from a submarine to help prepare the political climate for the allied invasion of North Africa.

He has served as ambassador, deputy undersecretary of state, and undersecretary for political affairs during a government career which spanned almost 45 years.

Save Out Eggnog for Desserts

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Can you spare a little of that holiday eggnog to make some desserts? The popular milk beverage, available only at this season, lends richness and good taste to any dish it touches. Your guests will wonder what the magic ingredient is.

Eggnog Fruit Dessert looks complicated, but it is really simple and easy to make. To show it off to best advantage, you will need a spring form pan. But it could be made in a deep cake pan and served on individual plates.

Eggnog Fruit Dessert

12 lady fingers
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 can (20 ounces) fruit cocktail
2½ cups commercially prepared eggnog
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Split lady fingers; cut off one end to stand upright and place around sides of an 8-inch spring-form pan. Drain fruit cocktail; measure 1 cup of the syrup.

Sprinkle gelatine on syrup in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; add eggnog, salt and vanilla. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

Fold in 2 cups of the drained fruit cocktail; fold in whipped cream. Turn into prepared pan; chill until firm. To unmold, release spring and remove sides of mold carefully. Garnish with additional whipped cream and remaining fruit cocktail. Yield: 12 servings.

The Danes make a Rum Pudding with lots of milk and eggs. American home economists have revised this traditional recipe to use dairy eggnog.

Danish Rum Pudding

1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
⅓ cup water
2 cups eggnog
⅓ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon rum extract
1 cup whipping cream

Raspberry Sauce

1 cup (10-oz. pkg.) frozen raspberries, thawed
⅓ cup currant jelly
2 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup orange juice

Sprinkle gelatin over water to soften. Heat eggnog. Mix sugar and cornstarch, add to eggnog and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in gelatin until dissolved. Cool. Blend in rum extract.

Beat whipping cream until stiff, then fold eggnog mixture into it. Pour into custard cups and chill several hours or overnight. To serve, unmold and top with Raspberry Sauce.

Make Raspberry Sauce by heating ⅔ cup raspberries and currant jelly together until simmering. Mix cornstarch with remaining ¼ cup raspberries, add to hot fruit mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in butter until melted. Cool. Stir in orange juice, chill until serving.

★ ★ ★

Or how about a pie? Again you will use a gelatin mixture with the eggnog and whipped cream added. The topping is flaming cranberry sauce.

Flaming Cranberry Eggnog Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 cups eggnog
1 cup whipping cream, whipped
Baked 9" pie shell or crumb crust

Flaming Cranberry Sauce

(8½-oz.) can whole cranberry sauce or jellied cranberry sauce
¼ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon lemon extract

Dissolve gelatin in cold water. Gradually stir in eggnog. Warm over direct low heat until gelatin is completely dissolved. Chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Fold in whipped cream. Chill again 5 to 10 minutes until mixture mounds and heap into baked pie shell. Chill 2 to 4 hours.

To make sauce: Combine cranberry sauce and brown sugar in saucepan or chafing dish. Simmer about 5-8 minutes or until slightly thickened. When ready to serve, add lemon extract; don't stir. Light the extract. When flame goes out, spoon warm sauce over individual servings of pie. Makes 6 servings.

Our last recipe is the easiest one of all. You make up a package of coffee cake mix with half a cup of eggnog.

Eggnog Coffee Cake

1 package Coffee Cake Easy Mix
1 egg, unbeaten
½ cup eggnog
Red candied cherries

Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees F.). Place egg and eggnog in large bag of mix. Squeeze top of bag to force air out. Close top of bag by holding tightly between thumb and index finger. With bag resting on table, mix by working bag vigorously with fingers. (Mix about 40 seconds or until egg is completely blended.)

Squeeze bag to empty batter into special aluminum foil pan contained in package. (Do not grease pan.) Sprinkle topping contained in smaller bag over coffee cake batter. Bake in preheated oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

Decorate top of coffee cake with pieces of red candied cherries. Open corner folds of pan for easy cutting and serving. Makes 8 servings.

EGGNOG FRUIT DESSERT — During the holiday season when eggnog is featured by local dairies, use the milk and egg-rich beverage as the custard base of a decorative Bavarian cream dessert. The eggnog combined with whipped cream and canned fruit cocktail has a light chiffon texture when molded via unflavored gelatine and the refrigerator.

Champagne Is Festive

During the Christmas holiday season, when stop-by callers make any visit a celebration, a bottle of champagne in the refrigerator is all you need to pop a party in sixty seconds. The quickest new holiday party starts the drink that once aws the symbol of the most formal and elegant occasion, in a new penny-wise role.

The plan is simplicity itself. Stock up on several bottles of inexpensive champagne from California's vineyards, white and pink; keep some cold, ready for the unexpected holiday need. When the doorbell rings, your welcome will be cordial and generous. Out comes the bottle of champagne, some Christmas-trimmed glasses, and a wreath made easily by assembling whatever tid-bits are handy in a circle on a platter or tray.

For extra fun, trim the glasses with two tiny Christmas balls strung on a length of tinsel ribbon. Make a bow, then tie the holiday garland around the stem of the glass. This is easy to remove and re-use, too.

Serve the champagne plain, or, if you like, pour it over fruit: orange slices, frozen raspberries or strawberries, cherries or pineapple sticks in syrup. Or, for a champagne cocktail, mash together in the bottom of the wine glass a cube of sugar and a dash of bitters. Fill with champagne and stir well. A pineapple stick makes a fine cocktail swizzler, adds sweetness and tart fruit flavor that blends delightfully with the champagne.

Arrange refreshments in a Christmas wreath of delicious tid-bits that always seem to accumulate during the holiday season. For sweet delicacies, round up a tray of dried and glaced fruits; nuts, grapes, slices of fruit cake or cookies. For a savory assortment, offer crackers and cheese, deviled ham spread, sliced smoked turkey, salted nuts.

Winter May Bring Some Emergencies

Coping with winter emergencies is something you learn through experience. But the learning can be easier if you provide yourself with the proper supplies ahead of time.

Consider the possibility of a power failure. Provide yourself with flashlights located in accessible places. That gasoline lantern you thought you wouldn't be using until you go fishing again should be kept handy.

If you own a camp stove, so much the better.

If your water supply is pumped in from a well, as it is in many new suburban as well as older rural communities, you'll have to be prepared to melt and filter snow and ice for your water.

If you have a fireplace that works, be sure to have a supply of wood on hand. But make certain that it's in working order now, before you need it.

Nut Covered Cheese

Delicious addition to a fruit salad: chill five ounces of soft cheddar cheese. Next step is to take up teaspoonfuls of the cheese and roll into small balls. Last lap: roll the balls in a half cup of finely chopped toasted nutmeats.

For a Brown Roast

Like your roast meat to have savory brown color when you serve it up? Use the old-fashioned method of rubbing the outer surfaces of the roast with a mixture of flour, salt, pepper and paprika before it goes into the oven.

Plenty of Time to Make Last Minute Fruit Cake

Are you beginning to wonder whether you'll ever find the time to make that home-made fruit cake you promised the family for the holidays? Or are you hoping to give this traditional Christmas delicacy as a personalized gift to some one, but, with so much to do, just can't seem to get around to it?

Well, don't give up. Here's good news in these crowded days, a recipe for a light, moist fruit cake that takes just less than three hours to prepare and bake. More important still, this "Last-Minute Fruit Cake" can be eaten the minute it is popped out of the oven, or it can be put aside to mellow in the stainless steel handy-pans you bake it in.

The recipe we suggest produces two 2-lb. loaves of fruit cake, and is baked in one of the three sizes of these new handy-pans, the 1-quart size. It can be baked in the 2-quart and 1-pint sizes, too, with the proper dividing. If you really want to make a hit, give the cake away in a bright, shiny handy-pan tied with a bit of red ribbon.

Time was, remember, when there was ample time for Christmas baking. It was a family affair with one day for preparing the ingredients and another for the baking. The kitchen was replete with exciting smells from far-off lands, for the molasses came from the West Indies, the fruit from Spain and Italy, the raisins and currants from the Mediterranean and the spices from Java. Today we can have home-made fruit cake without two days work in the kitchen.

Last-Minute Fruit Cake

1 package white cake mix
3 tablespoons shortening
½ teaspoon cinnamon
⅔ cup boiling water
2 eggs
2 tablespoons cold water
1½ lbs. prepared mixed candied fruit
½ pound white raisins
½ pound cut-up nuts (about 2 cups)

Empty white cake mix into a 4-quart mixing bowl. Add shortening and cinnamon and stir. Add boiling water and stir until ingredients are moistened. Let stand about 30 minutes.

Line two 1-quart handy-pans with wax paper. Prepare nuts. Beat cake batter vigorously with spoon for 2 minutes by clock. Add 2 eggs and 2 tablespoons cold water, then beat 2 more minutes. Stir in prepared mixed candied fruit, white raisins and cut-up nuts.

Spoon batter into prepared pans. Bake two hours in slow oven (300 degrees F) until wooden pick thrust in center comes out clean. Turn out on cake rack. Remove paper. Cake may be eaten at once or, stored 2 to 4 weeks to mellow. Makes two 2-lb. loaves.

Holiday Relish Is Fruity and Spicy

DATE CHUTNEY: A delicious relish which combines chopped dates with peaches, pears and spices. It's different, and will add a little spice to your holiday meal.

Date Chutney

2 pounds peaches, fresh, frozen or canned
2 pounds pears, quartered and cored
1 large white onion, sliced
1 clove garlic
1 cup white raisins
2 7½-ounce packages chopped dates
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon mustard seed
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 cup white vinegar

Combine all ingredients in heavy saucepan. Cook until thick, stirring occasionally. Store in refrigerator in covered jar. Makes about 3 pints. Serve with meat, poultry and curried dishes.

Cooked Artichokes Are Unusual Hors d'Oeuyres

Cook fresh artichokes in salted water, to which ¼ cup olive oil has been added, until tender; add 1 teaspoon lemon juice during last 5 or 10 minutes; drain upside down. Serve on platter with bowl of well-seasoned French dressing — guests can pull out leaves one by one, dip in dressing and munch leaves, discard on platter.

★ ★ ★

If fresh artichokes are not available, cook frozen artichoke in olive oil — use no water at all. When tender, sprinkle with lemon juice and salt. Serve in this dressing as an hors d'oeuvres, sprinkled with garnish of minced parsley, minced stuffed olives and minced pistachio nuts or almonds.

Honey Dipped Bananas Served on Toothpicks

For dessert serve on picks, tempting tidbits as they are made in the beautiful Islands: Take ½ cup honey, 2 tablespoons nuts, or 1 cup macaroon crumbs. Dilute honey with water.

Peel and cut bananas into 1-inch pieces. Dip each into honey mixture and roll in either coconut, nuts or crumbs until well coated. Place on waxpaper-covered tray and refrigerate. Makes 4 servings.

Chocolate Cups Hold Red Berry Ice Cream

Melt 1 pound of milk chocolate over hot water in double boiler. When almost melted, remove from heat and beat until smooth. Add 1 tablespoon melted butter, mix well, and cool. Use 1 to 2 tablespoons of chocolate to swirl inside of eight muffin cups. A tablespoon helps in thickly covering sides of cups to prevent breaking. Refrigerate 1 hour or until ready for use.

Before serving, peel off paper adhering to chocolate; fill with scoop of red raspberry ice cream. Garnish with a few frozen berries, nuts or marshmellow sauce.

Celery With Oysters

A famous New York oyster bar always adds celery salt to their oyster stew. Could be that this practice originated with the New England way of adding finely diced crisp white celery to panned oysters made with cream and sherry.

Corned Beef in Salad

Cooked corn beef leftover and you don't want to make hash? Dice the meat and add it to a Sunday-night supper salad of crisp greens, tomato wedges, sliced cucumber and celery crescents. Garnish with slices of hard-cooked egg and julienne strips of cheese. Just before serving, toss salad and garnish together with French dressing.

Old-time supper worth repeating: fried salt pork, baked or boiled potatoes and fried eggs. This comes from New England.

To Open Champagne

To open champagne with a flourish, set the chilled bottle on the table. Unwind the foil at the neck, gently loosen the wire casing that holds the "cork." Place a napkin over the bottle top and firmly hold the cork with one hand. With the other hand, carefully twist the bottle to ease the cork out. Soon you'll feel the pressure of the cork and know exactly when it is ready to pop.

When you are planning to serve bacon with liver, you can fry the liver in the bacon drippings.

Use Up Extra Egg Whites in Easy Drop Cookies

Watch these chocolate almond goodies disappear like magic. To make the easy drop cookies, beat 2 egg whites until stiff. Gradually beat in ½ cup sugar and add ¾ teaspoon almond extract and dash salt.

Melt a 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces. Fold into egg whites together with 1 cup each chopped almonds and shredded coconut. Drop by small spoonfuls onto cooky sheets and bake in slow oven about 10 to 15 minutes.

Bacon Wraps Appetizers of Water Chestnuts

Drain the water from a can of water chestnuts and spread them onto two thicknesses of paper towels so the moisture is absorbed. Cut slices of bacon in half. Wrap each water chestnut with ½ slice of bacon and skewer with a wooden pick.

Saute over medium heat, or broil until both sides are brown and crisp. Drain on paper towels and serve piping hot. These will hold well in a medium oven for two or three hours.

Eagles' Coach Hoping for Dry Field Next Monday

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Young Ken Leece, 28-year-old auto worker who travels daily from Pontiac to his job in Detroit, had a date he couldn't miss last night.

"I've never won anything in my life, in fact I still can't believe that I've got $535 in my hand," he said after accepting the checks as the Pontiac Press Bowlerama champion.

It was the largest first place amount won in four years of the tournament and Leece did it the hard way. He was the first bowler in the tourney ever to be the high qualifier and then the champion.

In the past, the high qualifiers always finished up at the bottom of the list in the finals. An example is that of Tom Shara, who twice took qualifying honors and ten ended up way down the list of finalists.

"Next time I'd like to be at the bottom of the qualifying list and on top of the finals," said Shara.

For Leece it didn't matter. "I was just happy to make the finals of a tournament. That was a big thrill for me, since it was the first time I had ever entered any tournament," he said.

"Winning it had never seemed a possibility for me. I'll never have two hot weekends like that again probably," he added.

Why hadn't he entered the Bowlerama in the past?

"I really don't know," he said, "I guess I didn't have any confidence as a high handicap bowler. But I won't miss it again. I now realize what a terrific chance any handicap bowler has in a tournament like this."

After rolling a 166 in his first game of the finals, it appeared that Leece would join the ranks of the top qualifiers who finish in the lower half of the finals.

Then he came through with the best single game in the tournament, a 276 and followed with a 191. His total was 23 pins better than the runnerup.

Leece noted something that other bowlers at Lakewood might consider.

"I must have been on the lucky alleys. Three of the four top prize winners bowled on alleys 3-4," he noted, "those must have been the money alleys."

What will he do with the $535?

"Gee, I've been so excited I never gave it a thought," he said, "I feel shaky though carrying so much money. Maybe I should get a body guard."

Some of the other bowlers who picked up large checks had body guards—their wives. Leece is unmarried.

Pontiac Press Photos

SMILE OF A CHAMP — Ken Leece (left) the 1960 Pontiac Press Bowlerama Champion, accepts a pair of trophies and a pair of checks amounting to $535 dollars from Press sports editor Bruno Kearns. Leece, a high qualifier, won the tournament with a 725 total Sunday at Lakewood Lanes.

BEST IN ACTUALS — Two of the Pontiac area's better bowlers Paul George (left) and Bill Bull were a happy pair yesterday when they received the trophy awards and bonds as the leading actual bowlers of the Press Bowlerama. George took the Invitational Actual's title with a 674 total and Bull was second with 637.

Troubles (OSU) for Titan Coach

DETROIT (AP) — What runs through a coach's mind the day before a game with college basketball's supreme ruler, Ohio State?

Troubles and more troubles.

Bob Calihan, who has guided Detroit into the eighth position among the nation's cage powers, has them—a basketfull. The assignment of meeting the unbeaten Buckeyes on their court Thursday night is enough to give Calihan the shivers.

★ ★ ★

Detroit hardly has played like the eighth best team in the country in its last three outings.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with DeBusschere," said Calihan. "But he looked tired against Nebraska last Saturday and again against Gonzaga Monday. He was flat-footed at times. But don't forget he's been going 40 minutes in every game. This physical is just a precautionary measure.

"I plan to have Dave guard Jerry Lucas (Ohio's All America) and I don't see any reason why he won't be able to play."

DeBusschere, averaging 20.8 points a game, scored a career low of eight against Nebraska. In the first half against Gonzaga, he scored nine, but appeared dead on his feet. He snapped out of it in the second half and paced Detroit to an 80-75 triumph, its fifth in six games, finishing with 27 points.

The Titans haven't lost at home in two seasons. Their road performances have been flecked with disappointment against most better than average opponents. Two nights after they upset fourth-ranked Indiana in double overtime at home, the Titans fell before Purdue 83-64 on the road.

"I don't think there's such a thing as a road jinx," Calihan said. "Most teams consistently better at home than they are on the road. We're no exception."

But Calihan remembers all seven defeats last year were on foreign courts.

"I don't think we've jelled as much as I'd hoped for at this stage," said Calihan. "We were ready for Indiana and have had a letdown since. We haven't done well at all in our last three games.

"But as a result I think we'll be ready for Ohio. I don't say we'll beat them. But I say we may and can beat them.

Passing Attack Is Big Weapon, Says Buck Shaw

Packers Have Excellent Running and Blocking Game for Wet Turf

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles said today he hoped for a dry field Monday in the National Football League title game against Green Bay because a muddy field would be advantageous to the Packers.

As he cast a long eye toward the weather, Shaw explained that a muddy field would give Green Bay the advantage "because of their overall running and blocking."

While he conceded that the Eagles have never been a good blocking team, Shaw called the Packers "the best in the league."

"The better the field, the better we can operate," he said, adding that the Eagles' passing by quarterback Norm Van Brocklin "far overshadows our running."

Shaw also was quick to point out that generally the Eagles' offensive line has given Van Brocklin pretty good protection.

"They play a pretty standard defense," Shaw said, "normally a 4-3 setup. When a team feels they're not capable they do a lot of crazy things defensively. But the Packers have a good, substantial defensive team and whatever they show you, they usually do. They don't start playing around such as Washington did against us last week."

Shaw said he was well pleased with the Eagles' one-hour practice session in Philadelphia Stadium Tuesday which was devoted entirely to offense, particularly passing. Shaw said he might install a few new plays. More of the same non-contact work was on tap for today. Defense will be emphasized in drills Thursday and Friday with a light workout on both scheduled for Saturday. The Eagles will have Christmas Day off.

"Shaw said he hoped to work outdoors the rest of the week but snow forecast for today could force the team inside.

Meanwhile, work crews completed clearing a tarpaulin covering Franklin Field, the game site, of snow which fell last week. The tarpaulin was partially lifted and a quick examination showed the field to be dry.

Shaw reported that physically the team was in pretty good shape with the exception of linebacker Bob Pellegrini, fullback Clarence Peaks and offensive tackle J. D. Smith.

Pellegrini is definitely out. He underwent a knee operation Tuesday for the injury suffered against Washington in the final game Sunday.

Shaw said, however, that he expected to have Smith, who suffered a badly cut finger against Washington, ready for full offensive duty.

Peaks, who suffered a fractured bone above his right ankle Nov. 13 probably will be ready for spot duty, Shaw said. The big fullback has been runing in drills.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Detroit Pistons finally downed the Los Angeles Lakers, coming from behind in the final quarter for a 97-94 National Basketball Association decision last night.

It was the first victory for the Pistons over the Lakers in five tries this season, and while it nominally left Detroit in the cellar of the Western Division, it also put Detroit, Cincinnati and Los Angeles almost even in the race for second place.

The Pistons went into the final quarter trailing 75-69, but put on a 28-point burst for the victory. Meanwhile the Lakers, forced to play cautiously lest the bonus foul rule destroy them, could manage only 19 points in the period.

Bailey Howell led the victors with 31 but Elgin Baylor of the Lakers again took scoring honors with 37. Gene Shue had 21 for Detroit.

Tom Hawkins, ex-Notre Dame player now with the Lakers, suffered a re-injury to a split finger and had to leave the game. Hawkins said later that he should be ready to go again for the Lakers' next game Dec. 26.

The Pistons led through the early stages of the game, but faltered in the third quarter, getting only 19 points in that period, before unleashing their final rally.

New York, in last place, trails the third place Syracuse Nationals by 4½ games after putting on a hot fourth quarter Tuesday night to beat the Nats, 122-112. It was the third straight defeat for Syracuse.

Rushing Title to Jim Brown

Fourth Straight Year Cleveland Back Gains Top Yardage

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great back, has won the rushing title in the National Football League for the fourth straight year.

He is the first four-time winner since Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1945, '47, '48 and '49.

Brown's gains against New York in Sunday's finale and the decision of the Green Bay team to emphasize passing instead of Jim Taylor's running nailed the title for the Cleveland fullback.

Brown finished with 1,257 yards on 215 attempts, an average of 5.8 yards a carry. Taylor gained 1,101 yards for a 4.8 average. John Crow of St. Louis, Nick Pietrosante of Detroit and J. D. Smith of San Francisco followed in that order.

Top Rated College Quints Add to Victory Columns

By The Associated Press

Jim Hadnot suddenly has become unbeaten Providence's "has all" in leading the Friars to their last four victories, three of 'em cliffhangers.

Hadnot, a 6-foot-10 junior, scored 29 points Tuesday night but the final two came with one second remaining and pulled out an 81-80 victory over Gonzaga.

Last Saturday, he got the clinching basket with 10 seconds left as Providence beat Canisius 53-50 and his two baskets in an overtime period against San Francisco, gave the Friars a lead they never lost in a 54-47 victory. His first half scoring helped sink Santa Clara 65-59 two nights before that.

Providence gets its next big test against St. John's Redmen in New York's Holiday Festival next week St. John's, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, moved its record to 5-0 with an 87-56 victory over Pitt Tuesday night.

Indiana, ranked fourth, defeated Notre Dame 74-69 for Coach Branch McCracken's 300th basketball victory as Hoosier head coach. None of the other top teams were in action.

Another Big Ten power, Purdue, led by Terry Dischinger's 43 points, beat Evansville's NCAA small college champs 84-75. Don Kojis led Marquette to a 70-62 victory over Iowa State while Northwestern's 53-45 victory over Washington cracked a four game losing streak.

In moving to the finals of the National Invitation Tournament last year, before losing to Bradley, Providence relied on the steel-nerved Lenny Wilkens to provide the vital spark. Wilkens has graduated and Hadnot, teaming sometimes with the flashy Johnny Egan, has been the take charge man in helping Coach Joe Mullaney's men to a 7-0 record this season.

Providence had to make up an 8-point deficit with 10 minutes to play against Gonzaga. Hadnot put the Friars ahead with two free throws, 77-76, with 1:49 left. But Frank Burgess' field goal at the six second mark apparently put Gonzaga in the van, 80-79. After calling time out with two seconds left, Providence's Dennis Guimares passed half the length of the court to Hadnot, who fired from 20-feet out for the winner. Burgess led Gonzaga with 32 points.

St. John's early 12-1 lead killed Pitt as All America Tony Jackson and LeRoy Ellis took command early. Each scored 15 points in the first half with Jackson getting 25 in all, and Ellis 20. In the opener of the doubleheader, Fordham came from behind to beat DePauw 78-72.

Walt Bellamy, like Dischinger a member of United States Olympic champions in Rome this summer, scored 29 points for Indiana (5-1). Gary Long and Bellamy choked off a late Notre Dame rally for only the Hoosiers second victory in the last six games with the Irish. Tom Bolyard's 18 points led Notre Dame.

Dischinger hit for 17 field goals, personal and school record, missing only six shots from the field. He got 11 straight points late in the second half to stamp out a 61-60 Evansville lead. P. M. Sanders paced the small college champs with 23 points.

Kojis' 23 points and the same number of rebounds beat down Iowa State and gave Marquette its fifth victory in six games. Brad Snyder sent Northwestern in front for good with 5:34 to play and led the Wildcats meager, but balanced attack, with 10 points. Clint Names scored 20 for the Huskies (3-4).

Brigham Young held high-scoring Kansas star Wayne Hightower to only two field goals in an 80-70 victory while little Max Perry scored 27 points in Utah State's record-breaking 110-88 win over Los Angeles State. Wisconsin won over Nevada 89-56, Connecticut upset Brown 85-71, The Citadel beat Georgia Southern 90-84, East Tennessee State surprised Georgia 69-67.

PNH Matmen Lose Only 1 Match in Win Over PCH

A victory by Pontiac Central's Tom Eichhorn in the heavyweight class prevented the Pontiac Northern wrestling team from scoring a complete sweep Tuesday night at PNH as the Huskies chalked up an impressive 37-3 triumph.

The Huskies won 11 of 12 matches from their crosstown rivals in their first meeting on the mats this season to pick up 50 points in the race for The Pontiac Press All-Sports Trophy currently held by PCH.

It was Northern's first win over the Chiefs in any sport this year. Another 50 points in the struggle for the traveling award will be at stake Jan. 17 when the two city foes stage a rematch at PCH.

Other impressive victories were posted by sophomore Allen Wadley in the 95-pound division, Ken Kimmel (112) and Gene Graves (133).

It was Northern's 2nd dual meet triumph of the season in as many starts. The defeat was the first for the Chiefs in dual meet competition following triumphs over Waterford and Fitzgerald.

Avondale Loses to Fitzgerald in Close Game

Eagles Survive Last Quarter Rally, 55-53; Utica Triumphs

Ferndale kept its cage mark unblemished, Birmingham Seaholm won its first game and Holly strengthened its Wayne-Oakland lead in area basketball games last night.

A last second shot by Grosse Pointe's Dave Veenendaal rolled off the rim or the Blue Devils would have tied Ferndale. The Eagles had gained a 29-23 halftime lead only to see it slowly cut in the second half.

Larry Tregoning, a 6-4 senior, had another hot night for Ferndale. He poured in 27 points and led his team in rebounding. Veenendaal scored 23 points.

Southfield couldn't stop 6-7 Harry Dunne. The big Seaholm center dropped in 27 points. Gene Schmidt tallied 15 for the Maples. High for Southfield was John VanBurit with 22 points.

Holly remained unbeaten and upped its W-O record to 4-0 behind a 44 per cent shooting mark.

Ron Morlan paced Holly with 16 points. Game honors went to Brighton's Fred Dymond who scored 22 of his team's 42 points.

Avondale lost a chance to tie for first in the Oakland B League. Trailing by two points with a minute and a half to play, Fitzgerald took advantage of two missed Avondale free throws to tie the game and then used Yellow Jacket miscues to rapidly pull away.

It was the first loss for Avondale, now 2-1. Fitzgerld moved past the Jackets in the standings with a 3-1 mark.

Utica led all the way in downing South Lake 57-51 in a Bi-County test. Dave Kraft paced the winner with 29 points.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows had its winning streak snapped at three games by Utica St. Lawrence, 62-53. Gary McLean tossed in 26 points in a losing cause.

Tom Griffin scored only six points for New Haven but the last three were big ones. He made a foul shot to tie the game, then missed his second try. New Haven grabbed the rebound and Griffin fired the basket that beat Memphis 44-42 in the Southern Southern Thumb game.

The victory kept New Haven tied for first with Brown City, victor over Armada, 55-45, as Gary Gorslin scored 16 points.

Ralph Helebr[illegible]k of Anchor Bay and Dryden's Jerry Conn each scored 28 points but Anchor Bay won, 78-49. Capac whipped Almont 78-37 in the other league game.

By The Associated Press

Hillsdale defeated Eastern Michigan 63-61 and Ferris downed Flint Junior College 85-77 in the first round of the seventh annual Flint Christmas Tournament.

Alpena Community College outscored Northwood Institute of Alma 87-80 and Soo Tech ran over Northwestern Michigan 80-63 in the Soo Tech tournament at Sault Ste. Marie.

Hillsdale, trailing 30-26 at the half, staged a second half surge and overhauled Eastern Michigan in the final two minutes.

Dave Simmons of Pontiac paced Hillsdale with 23 points. However, scoring honors for both teams went to Ed Gallup of Eastern Michigan with 24.

Ferris jumped to an early eight point lead and beat off a second half rally by Flint. Ferris' Mike Bohnet and Flint's Nicky Atkinson each scored 31 points.

49ers Present Hickey a New 3-Year Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers got a new three-year contract today at a boost in salary.

★ ★ ★

"But the contract itself was an anti-climax," Morabito said. "After we walloped the Colts last Sunday, 34-10, I went up to Red in the dressing room and told him I was tearing up his contract and giving him a new one at such-and-such a figure.

★ ★ ★

Hickey had identical 7-5 records in his two seasons as 49ers head man and his team this year finished tied for second in the Western Conference.

MacKay and Buchholz Join Kramer's Troupe for 3 Years

SYDNEY (AP) — U. S. Davis Cup Stars Barry MacKay and Earl (Butch) Buchholz agreed to three - year $50,000 professional contracts with Jack Kramer today and took a slap at amateur tennis hypocrisy.

"I feel wonderful for the first time," said Buchholz, who at 20 is the youngest player ever to join a tour.

"All our lives we are taught honesty. It gives us a dirty feeling to take money under the table as amateurs.

"What makes it worse is that amateur tennis officials know that these abuses are taking place and they accept them.

MacKay, 25-year-old graduate of the University of Michigan, said he gave the matter plenty of thought before making a final decision.

"I decided that if I was to continue tennis I should continue it on its highest level—that is professionally where the competition is keenest.

"I have no responsibilities nor obligations.

"Amateur tennis as now constituted is a farce. I think the future of the game lies in professional tennis."

Rickey, Now 79, Has Eye on New Career

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey Sr., who retired from baseball last summer when the Continental League folded, has just turned 79 and he has his eye on a new career.

"I expect to keep busy," Rickey said Tuesday on his birthday. "I have other things in mind—perhaps write a word or two. Perhaps it may be published."

Rickey, the founder of baseball's farm system and former Pittsburgh Pirate board chairman is spending the holidays with his family at his suburban Fox Chapel home.

Advances, Disappointments Mark Conservation Year

Deer Hunters' Opinions Influenced Commission

BY DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

The Michigan Conservation Commission, admitting that it was influenced by "public opinion," recently announced that there would be no "antlerless deer" season in 1961 except in a few crop damage areas.

★ ★ ★

Should a mild winter cause the deer herd to increase beyond its range of limitations, the commissioners stated, then a special season might be needed.

Public opinion plays a big role in conservation commission decisions. Hunting and fishing license fees pay the bulk of the conservation department's bills. The public buys these licenses.

Letters received by this writer from Oakland County deer hunters reveal they are opposed, by about a 15-1 ratio, to the "any deer" system used by the department.

Bob Carter, 1800 Ormond Rd., Highland, feels that permits should be made available for purchase by camps of five or more hunters for taking one doe.

"It would bring the conservation department extra revenue . . . this would take a toll of the deer herd, but not nearly as much as now . . . it would be the most logical way of stopping a great amount of violating."

Thomas J. Dillon, a former resident of Cadillac who now lives at 2067 Devonshire Rd., Pontiac, also favors the camp permit idea. He suggests a fee of $25 for these permits.

"I propose that our Legislature abolish the conservation department," writes Grover Kite, 2021 Scott Lake Rd., Pontiac, "and leave the deer hunting in the hands of each county's board of supervisors."

"Three years ago I thought the conservation department was out to ruin our deer herd," says Bill Mersino, 1239 Wooley Rd., Oxford, "and now they have ruined it . . . take control of our deer out of the hands of the conservation department."

Also against the shooting of does and fawns is Clyde Throop Jr. of Oxford. "I would be willing to pay a little more for a license if it would help . . . feed the deer more. Deputize about one out of every 50 hunters to keep a closer watch on violators."

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Ostrander, 1027 Brown Rd., Pontiac, do not agree with reports that antlerless deer seasons in Wisconsin and Pennsylvania have been successful.

"We have talked to hunters from both states . . . and they all said the same thing; antlerless deer seasons in their states have ruined the deer herd." The Ostranders claim the Michigan conservation department doesn't "have any business comparing our state with other states because conditions are not the same."

"The killing of doe should be decided in each county involved," is the feeling of Fred Liming, 2178 Kohler St., Drayton Plains. The decision should be made "by a panel of local residents who really know the local situation."

K. V. Mapletoft of Dryden returns to his native Baraga County in the Upper Peninsula each season. He reported seeing fewer deer than ever before.

★ ★ ★

"It isn't a question of feed in that county," he writes, a private concern is "cutting pulp and burning the tops because there isn't enough deer to feed on them. The natives . . . would like to see a closed season for two years."

★ ★ ★

C. V. Flake, 3123 Grove St., Keego Harbor, has "always been against" antlerless deer seasons. "There were enough does killed when there wasn't a season on them."

"I say if there are any more doe seasons," writes Frank Gingell, 3404 Gregory Rd., Pontiac, "the deer hunting might just as well be ended."

Glenn Jones, 1923 Marie Cir., Pontiac, has sent several suggestions to the conservation department's game division. One would be to change the method of sampling used in surveys. Another is going back to the one buck law "until we can replenish our stock and come up with a better plan." Change the bow and arrow reason to Oct. 15 through Dec. 10, open to either sex, and run the general season, open to bucks only, from the Friday after Thanksgiving Day to Dec. 10.

★ ★ ★

"This slaughter (of deer) can, in part, be blamed on hunters using automatic rifles," says David A. LeBarre of Troy. "When a string of deer break into the open . . . it sounds like machinegun fire when hunters open up with their automatics."

R. E. Greenwald, 1545 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, believes the "any deer" season is a "good idea, and I have complete trust in the conservation department."

"Starving to death is not a pleasant way to die," he continues. "I have seen deer that were nothing more than skin and bones. By cutting down on the herds and leaving more food for the others, I believe is for the best."

Oakland Projects Included

Plan Improvements for State Lands

Parks and recreation areas in Oakland County are in line for expansion and improvement projects during 1961, according to the conservation department.

★ ★ ★

Money received from the sale of parks stickers will be used to finance much of the work. The parks entrance sticker requirement begins Jan. 1.

Land acquisition projects are planned for Bald Mountain, Proud Lake, Pontiac Lake and Holly recreation areas. Impoundments are scheduled for all but Pontiac Lake where consolidation is the goal.

Island Lake recreation area, part of which is in Oakland County, is also included in land purchasing plans.

★ ★ ★

Entrance and parking facilities will be improved in the Holly area. The Trout Creek impoundment is scheduled for Bald Mountain. Dodge Bros. No. 4 will get a complete bathhouse and concession building and utilities.

★ ★ ★

Teeple Lake in the Highland area is going to receive a picnic area water system, sanitation and utility facilities. A bathhouse and utilities are set for Wildwood Lake in the Holly area.

Annual and daily stickers will be needed to enter any portion of Dodge Bros. No. 4 state park. Some parts of the Highland, Holly, Island Lake, Ortonville and Pontiac Lake areas will be closed to cars without stickers.

Dodge Bros. No. 5, Bloomer No. 1 and the Proud Lake unit in the Proud Lake recreation area will require the tags. So will the Rochester and Utica units and Dodge Bros. No. 8 in the Rochester-Utica area.

The sticker plan will finance a bonding program to be used in the improvements at each area.

The main idea behind the improvements, according to conservation officials, is to cut down on the number of campers turned away each year. The department estimated that 42,000 camping families failed to find sites the last two years.

Admission Fee for Parks Use Finally Passed

License Sales Decline Slowed Land Purchases; Poor Deer Season

LANSING (AP) — Approval of a state parks admission fee plan, new moves to restore lake trout to the Great Lakes and a court ruling protecting public interest in submerged lands topped advances in conservation during 1960.

A comparatively poor deer season and drops in hunting and fishing license sales were the big disappointments.

Generally, speaking, it was a fairly significant year.

After wrangling for several years, the legislature gave the state parks system a badly needed financial boost by approving a windshield sticker admission plan which takes effect Jan. 1. For the first time, Gov. Williams didn't veto it.

Proceeds will finance a $3 million improvements and land acquistion program planned for next year and pay for a continuing program through the years.

Nearly 150,000 camping permits in state parks were issued this year, a new record. Daily attendance topped 18 million, second highest in history.

The conservation commission approved a proposed federal trout hatchery in the Jordan River valley in the northwest Lower Peninsula. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service expects to produce two million trout a year in the million-dollar facility for planting in the Great Lakes.

State and federal fish experts, meanwhile, pressed their chemical warfare against the lamprey. The state conservation department produced some 2,275,000 green lake trout eggs for planting inland lakes and for planting stock for the upper Great Lakes.

The state supreme court last fall definitely established the state's trust title to Great Lakes submerged lands as supreme to riparian rights. It thus reaffirmed the state's right to control filling of bottom lands and construction of docks, piers and other structures for the public interest in ruling on a dispute involving the National Gypsum Co.'s big loading dock in Tawas Bay.

Other developments in the conservation area last year included:

Transfer of regulatory powers over the commercial fishing industry from the legislature to the conservation commission in a move to establish closer contact between the industry and its governing body.

Less encouraging was this side of the picture:

The deer kill dropped from 115,000 in 1959, second biggest on record, to about 88,000 this year. As a result, the conservation commission this month announced its intention of banning anterless deer hunting next year in all but crop damage areas.

LOT OF FUR — Henry Mullins displays the 90-pound beaver he caught in a trap on his farm near Otterville, Mo. Most North American beavers average about 35 pounds when full grown. Missouri conservation officials said they knew of no larger being caught in the state. It measured five feet from the top of the nose to the end of the tail.

Moose May Be Increasing in Upper Peninsula Areas

LANSING (AP)—The lordly moose, a rare and magnificent member of Michigan's animal kingdom, is still holding out in the rugged wilds of the Upper Peninsula and may be on the increase.

★ ★ ★

Speculation is based largely on the growing number of Moose sightings reported in the last year or two.

"Moose apparently are adding rather than multiplying," said Ilo H. Bartlett, game expert with the state conservation department. "Even with increases, I would estimate that there are no more than 60 of them in the whole Upper Peninsula."

As in past years, most of the recent sightings were reported in the eastern counties of the Upper Peninsula. Most probably are immigrants of Canada that swim across the lakes and rivers seperating the two nations or cross the ice in winter.

Very rarely are moose seen west of Marquette. This year tracks were spotted near Panorama in northern Marquette County for the first time in many years.

In this country, Isle Royale National Park in northern Superior is one of the nation's last moose strongholds. Recent aerial surveys put the number in the herd on the 210-square-mile island at about 600.

Moose are thought to have migrated to the island about 1912 or 1913. There numbers steadily increased until they hit a peak in the early 1930's of about 3,000.

Then suddenly, the first of three die-offs practically decimated the herd. The last was in 1949-50

★ ★ ★

"They apparently overbrowsed the range," said Ray Schofield, state game biologist. "Moose are rather finicky eaters. They require things like balsam fir and aquatic plants."

★ ★ ★

In a move to repopulate the Upper Peninsula with moose, the conservation department began live-trapping the big animals on Isle Royale and shifting them to the mainland. A total of 71 were released in three years but the experiment didn't take.

Lately, timber wolves have been trimming the herd slightly, but their kill is mostly confined to calves and animals too old to defend themselves. The effect on the herd is not noticable.

In recent months, National Parks Service officials have talked of transporting moose to the sprawling national wildlife refuge south of Serrey in the Central U. P. Some of the flooding projects there offer fine feeding conditions for the moose.

★ ★ ★

"Probably these would be brought in from Yellowstone or Glacier National Parks since the number on Isle Royale isn't regarded as excessive," said Bartlett.

They've been protected in Michigan since 1889.

'They Are Best Eating'

Drayton Plains Hunter Likes Arkansas Ducks

There is no duck that is better eating than a plump mallard shot over the rice fields and pin oaks of Arkansas. Just ask Jack Greathouse.

The veteran hunter, who lives at 4458 Louella Dr. Drayton Plains, recently returned from his seventh straight trip to the waterfowl capital near Stuttgart, Ark.

Greathouse, a former outdoor columnist, had eight plump mallards with him when he reached home. Twelve more are being shipped. Hunters can legally take 20 ducks from the state.

"There is one thing about an Arkansas Mallard," said Greathouse, "you have no trouble giving some of them away. They are the best eating of all ducks."

Greathouse and six hunters from Battle Creek stayed at Art Beauchamp's Duck Club at Des Arc, 35 miles north of Stuttgart. Beauchamp is a former international duck calling champion who lives in Flint. He also manufacturers duck calls.

★ ★ ★

Very few mallards found in Arkansas this time of year are raised there. Large flights begin pouring into the rice and pin oaks from the Canadian breeding grounds late in November. Flights of 300 or more can be seen hovering over the feeding areas.

It isn't unusual to see 10,000 ducks in the air at once.

"We had excellent hunting in the pin oak flats," said Greathouse. "This is the seventh straight year I've gone to Arkansas and it has been good each time."

In addition to the ducks, Greathouse also reported good quail and rabbit hunting.

Two County Lakes Closed to Spears

Wildwood and Valley Lakes will be closed to spearing during January and February, according to the conservation department.

The lakes are located in the Holly recreation area on the east side of U.S. 10. Muskies were stocked in the two lakes several seasons ago and this is the reason for the spearing ban.

Both lakes are open to regular hook and line fishing.

Mapping of State Lakes Is Planned

Nearly 100 northern Michigan lakes are scheduled for mapping this winter to aid conservation department fisheries research and management.

Some 36 Upper Peninsula lakes come under the department's mapping plans. Another 60 lakes are listed in the northern Lower Peninsula. Mapping crews will be made up of men from the department's lake and stream improvement section in Lansing and its Institute for Fisheries Research at Ann Arbor.

Most of the waters to be mapped have public fishing sites and/or present fisheries problems which call for more information.

Jerry Thornton, 25, of Syracuse, was sentenced by County Judge Donald Mead after he pleaded guilty.

Officials said Leroy Stokes, now a fugitive, broke Thornton's wrist with a wooden implement and the pair signed statements the injury was caused by a fall down stairs at Jamesville Penitentiary.

Thornton filed a $100,000 claim against the county. Stokes also was indicted on a conspiracy charge.

Roll of Names on Constellation to Honor Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) The — names of the men who lost their lives in the fire aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation will be entered on a Roll of Honor placed on the ship, the Navy said.

★ ★ ★

Plans for the Honor Roll were announced by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations. In a statement he described the delay caused by the fire in the Constellation's joining the fleet a severe blow.

★ ★ ★

"But this is something we can regain," he added. "Repairs can be made. New wiring can be installed. New machines can be built.

"But, there as absolutely nothing that can replace the dedicated men who gave their lives during the construction of this ship.

"The Navy will try in every conceivable way to ease the pain and the burden of the families of these men. I can assure them that sacrifice of their men will be known to all who sail in the Constellation — their names will be placed on a Roll of Honor which will be placed in the ship and will remain with it for the duration of her service to our nation."

Victim of Earlier Crash Rooted for Stephen Baltz

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Among the millions who pulled for 11-year-old Stephen Baltz in his plucky but vain fight for life after last week's New York aviation tragedy, no one pulled harder than Louis Matarazzo.

The 36-year-old Matarazzo could put himself in Stephen's place. In fact, he was in exactly the same spot just a year ago—the sole survivor of an airline crash.

Matarazzo, like Stephen, was badly burned. Unlike Stephen, he lived through it.

He was one of 26 aboard a twin-engined Martin 202 Allegheny Airlines plane the morning of Dec. 1, 1959, as it circled in heavy fog over the Williamsport, Pa., airport.

The pilot made a bad initial approach, gunned his engines and banked sharply to the left to swing around for another try. He should have banked to the right. His course took him into a mountainside.

Flames engulfed the plane but the impact cracked open the fuselage beside Matarazzo's seat. He stumbled out and crawled from the flames. All the other 25 passengers and crew were killed.

He has not returned to his job as general manager of a sports wear firm. He has had a series of plastic surgery operations More are to come

A family friend says Matarazzo "thanks the good lord" he is alive and that he will be with his wife and children for Christmas.

U.S. Still Waiting for Israeli Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is still awaiting a reply to a request to Israeli 10 days ago for information on whether that country intends to become a nuclear power.

The State Department said that Secretary Christian A. Herter made the request to Ambassador Avraham Harmon Dec. 9. Israel is reported to be working with France on plans to build a large atomic reactor.

Israeli spokesmen have said publicly that Israel's atomic activities are peaceful.

Russian Grain Down in 1960

For 2nd Year, Nikita's Pet Project Falls Short; Heads May Roll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Moscow disclosures indicate that for the second successive year one of Premier Khrushchev's favorite projects has run into trouble.

The disclosures came in the announcement of the Soviet budget for 1961 and the report of the state planning committee which significantly omitted figures for Soviet grain production in 1960. The report admitted "great difficulties" in meat production.

Since agriculture, and particularly development of the Soviet Union's "virgin lands," is Khrushchev's particular pet, it seems certain that some political heads will roll.

The ax already has fallen on one Alexander Petukhov, first secretary of the agricultural region of Bryansk southwest of Moscow. He had been criticized previously for "not coping with his work."

Another victim may be Soviet Agricultural Minister Vladimir Matsketitch who also has been under fire.

★ ★ ★

On Dec. 10, Moscow Radio hinted at the possibility of a shakeup with the announcement that a meeting of the party central committee had been postponed from Dec. 13 to January. Agriculture was to have been a chief topic.

Tuesday's announcement before the Supreme Soviet (parliament) said only that output and purchase of grain had been greater than in 1959, a disappointing year in which production fell as much as 26 per cent in some areas.

In contrast to the banner year of 1958 in which the state received more than 56 million tons of grain, 1959's output fell to about 47 million tons.

The greatest failures occurred in Kazakhstan, second largest of the Soviet republics. It is located in Central Asia bordering China and had been selected as a showplace of the virgin lands scheme. The decline, however, was general and included the bread-basket area of the Ukraine.

★ ★ ★

It was clear that not all of this year's disappointing harvest could be blamed on the weather.

Party Life, an official journal of the central committee of the Communist party, accused some provincial officials of "deceiving the state."

'Give Us This Day . . .'

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Michael has rescued Quisenbricker from a trunk at the bottom of the sea and has left him, safe from the clutches of the Monster of the Deep, in friendly Turtle City. Now he is free to dive into the water and continue his search for the black pearl aboard the sunken ARADOON.

CHAPTER 15

Not so far from the Turtle City Michael saw the blue-shadowed hulk of the ARADOON looming ahead of him. Swarms of fish hovered around the prow and thousands of mussels clung to the naked masts.

Michael grasped the anchor chain and something snapped around his fingers. He drew back in alarm. A lobster was clinging to his hand. He flung it off and kicked at the chain. Dozens of lobsters tumbled off of it.

He swam over the half-collapsed railing and stood on the buckled deck. Shivering, he milde his way to an open hatch and glided into a great tunnel leading down.

He passed the cook's galley with its shattered pottery scattered everywhere. He swam through the crew's quarters and the cargo areas and came at last to a closed cabin with CAPTAIN written on the tilted door.

SEES THE TRUNK

He kicked at the door and it fell off its hinges and floated away. In the blue darkness he saw the shape of a trunk wedged under the captain's bunk.

★ ★ ★

"There it is!" he thought joyfully. But as he reached out, the whole bed seemed suddenly to come alive and an enormous arm swung down and wrapped itself around the trunk.

For a moment Michael thought the ghost of the captain himself was rising from the bed. Then two other arms slid toward him and he saw that it wasn't the captain but a giant squid guarding the treasure.

Seven of the creature's arms were missing, and, staring at the other three, Michael knew that here was the 3-fingered Monster of the Deep come to keep his vow.

★ ★ ★

He backed against the wall. The squid's arms followed him. Scarcely breathing, Michael edged to the doorway and turned to flee.

★ ★ ★

Propelling itself with bursts of black ink, the squid jetted after him. Slimy arms slapped at Michael's legs as he slipped through a yawning hatch and dived into the crushed-in hold. Sand scraped his chest and his shoulder lung banged against the ship's broken ribs.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly he found himself wedged into a crevice and could go no further. Twisting around in panic he saw the eye of the squid staring at him through the crevice.

"What shall I do?" moaned Michael, as he clutched the ship's ribs, a jagged silver suddenly broke off in his hands and, without stopping to think, he plunged the tip through the crevice and speared the unsuspecting squid through the heart.

Quickly he squeezed out of the crevice and sped away. Happy as he was to have killed the squid, he knew the Monster of the Deep still had two lives left and he must hurry.

He returned to the captain's cabin, and kicked off the rusted locks of the iron trunk. He threw back the top and stared wide eyed at the hundreds of pieces of gold that lay before him.

★ ★ ★

Lying among the gold was a silver box and in the box was the precious black pearl. Michael took out the pearl and slipped it inside his face mask. Then, with a last look of longing at the gold, he slammed shut the trunk and turned to leave.

★ ★ ★

"I'm free!" he thought happily as he came out on the deck. "I've escaped the Monster after all!"

But even as he spoke, a 3-eyed viper fish slipped through the buckled deck and darted toward him.

Lying in the trunk was the precious black pearl.

Backs Ruling About Hogging Phone Line

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — The New Jersey Supreme Court Tuesday upheld the conviction of a woman for refusing to give up a party line telephone for an emergency call.

★ ★ ★

By a 6-0 vote, the court upheld conviction of Mrs. Mary C. Zielinksi of Millburn, who was fined $200 in Essex County Court.

She was charged with refusing to give up her party line when Dr. Marvin Becker of Newark tried to call an ambulance for a woman heart patient.

★ ★ ★

The New Jersey law was passed in 1955 and Mrs. Zielinski was the first person convicted under it. Twenty-eight other states have passed similar laws.

Lie Detector Frees Royal Oak Couple

HOWELL (UPI)—A Royal Oak couple was released from the Livingston County Jail Tuesday after a lie detector test indicated the two didn't know they aided a jailbreak during the weekend.

John Pace and his wife Vonnie, both 27, were arrested after they admitted driving Thomas Sargent and his wife Brenda Ann to Flint and then to Elkhart, Ind.

They had been picked up originally because they were seen driving around the Livingston County Jail Friday night with Mrs. Sargent.

The stocky blonde Mrs. Sargent, 20, ran panting into the Livingston County Jail Sunday, drew a revolver from under her carcoat, and forced a turnkey to release her husband.

His escape was the first in the history of the Livingston County Jail.

Business and Finance

All Grain Futures Stay in Same Range

CHICAGO (AP)—All grain futures were in a uniformly firm range today in early transactions on the board of trade.

Brokers said there appeared to be little more commercial buying but that the support was linked mainly to broader establishment of long positions by speculative dealers.

Export interests bought nearby wheat deliveries against an expected good volume of overseas business. Spain took about three million bushels of red wheat but went to Australia and Argentina for about the same amount.

★ ★ ★

The Department of Agriculture continues accepting subsidy bids on liberal amounts of corn for overseas shipment. Its announcement today covered almost two million bushels more on bids running to seven cents a bushel for grain to be shipped in April. Earlier shipments range upward from two cents.

Eight persons living in apartments above the Bird Town Pet Shop fled safely. One tenant was carried down a ladder by firemen.

The store owner, Alvin Spoth, said he had stocked more than 2,000 mice, 300 birds, 600 fish and a monkey. All died amidst the billowing smoke and searing flames.

★ ★ ★

Cause of the blaze was not determined. Fire officials set damage at $20,000. Spoth said the animals were worth between $8,000 and $10,000.

Market Future Still Muddied

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued active and irregular early this afternoon. Oils advanced. Gains and losses of fractions to about a point prevailed among key stocks.

Yearend transactions still muddied the trend and brokers believed this type of trading would prevail until the end of the week.

Oils were helped by a prediction by the president of Standard Oil (New Jersey) that his company's 1960 sales will set a new high and that earnings will be the largest since 1957.

Some chemicals and selected issues made progress. Autos were moderately lower following the Commerce Department statement that next year's car assemblies would be about 13 per cent lower than this year's.

★ ★ ★

Several large blocks at the opening reflected typical yearend portfolio changes of big investors. The ticker tape ran late in heavy trading at the start and once again for a couple of minutes around midmorning when prices were on the upbeat. The drive vanished amid the confusion of miscellaneous trading.

Corn Products raised the dividend and proposed a 2-for-1 stock split but the action drew little attention and the stock merely jogged up fractionally.

Jersey Standard responded to its president's statement with a rise of more than a point. Gains of close to a point were made also by Texaco and Royal Dutch.

Autos did not seem unduly upset by the Commerce Department prediction. Ford was off about a point. American Motors eased. Slight losses were shown by General Motors and Chrysler.

★ ★ ★

Chock Full O' Nuts spurted about 2. DuPont, Radio Corp., Certainteed and American Cyanamid advanced about a point each. Allied Chemical lost more than a point.

Martin Co. and American Smelting were down about a point each. American Telephone was active and about a point higher.

Pontiac City Affairs

To Amend Bowling Law

The City Commission next week will pass a law allowing bowling tournaments on Sunday.

Commissioners last night authorized preparation of an ordinance amendment for adoption Tuesday night.

For many years it has been city policy to allow such tournaments through waivers of the law that prohibits Sunday bowling.

In recent weeks, though, there has been talk of altering the law so that waivers wouldn't be necessary.

A waiver request from Westside Lanes, Inc., 199 Orchard Lake Ave., to accommodate the Elks Ladies National Tournament Jan. 7-22 brought the question to a head last night.

City Commissioner Wesley J. Wood announced that as a matter of principle he won't vote for any more waivers, although he'd approve a change in the law.

After Wood's announcement, the rest of the commission decided to make the change next week.

There was little other activity at the next-to-the-last commission meeting of the year.

Hearings were scheduled for Dec. 27 on assessment rolls covering the cost of proposed grading and graveling of Howard McNeil Street, Gillespie to Warner, and of the alley west of Baldwin Avenue, Parkdale to Merrimac.

Scheduled for a hearing Jan. 17 is a proposed ordinance change rezoning from residential to commercial six lots on the south side of Auburn Avenue, Russell to Clifford.

been invited to the anual banquet of the Pontiac Real Estate Board Jan. 10, the commission meeting regularly scheduled for that date to Jan. 9.

Grand Rapids Has Yule Big-Sales Lag

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Christmas sales are lagging slightly this season, according to downtown council executive secretary Philip R. Young who says it matches a national trend.

Young today reported downtown Grand Rapids merchants claiming sales at the end of last week were down three per cent compared to the same period of last year.

Young explained that the sales decline from 1959 levels follows the current practice of Americans to reduce their personal debts. "They're buying a lot of little items, but the bigger ones aren't moving," he said.

Stabs Self With Scalpel

Tells Police About Holdup

A Pontiac man admitted from his hospital bed today that he drove a holdup man's getaway car in the armed robbery of a local grocery store two weeks ago.

Pontiac detectives said Flath stabbed himself with a scalpel several times in a hospital operating room early Tuesday after calling police officers and telling them he took part in the robbery of Mazza's Market, 663 Joslyn Ave., on Dec. 6.

The stab wounds were superficial. Flath is in satisfactory condition.

Flath named another Pontiac man, Paul M. Loulakis, 30, 1091 Joslyn Ave., as the bandit who held up the grocer, Frank Mazza, 57, escaping with $764.

★ ★ ★

Today's statement was made to representatives of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office. Orders for warrants charging Flath and Loulakis with armed robbery were immediately issued.

Lt. Raymond E. Meggitt, detective bureau commander, said Loulakis is believed to have fled to New Hampshire. A pickup order has been sent there.

A tip that the revolver used in the holdup was Flath's provided the key for detectives to cracking the case.

He was questioned by officers for the first time Monday night.

He said he knew nothing about the robbery.

"But he told us that Loulakis had asked him to help in a stickup—and had even mentioned Mazza's grocery," Meggitt said.

Officers went with Flath to his room at the Roosevelt Hotel. There they found Flath's revolver—which fitted the holdup weapon's description, and a blue bandana.

After tape recording a statement at the Public Safety Building, Mazza was released with instructions to return in the morning.

At 2:35 a.m. he called Meggit.

"I lied. I had a hand in it, and I'm going to take my life," Meggitt quoted Flath as saying.

"I've written a note that will explain," Flath said. He hung up.

Officers, after checking his room, raced to the hospital. They found Flath on the sixth floor clutching a scalpel. He surrendered it a half-hour later.

He had with him the note for Meggitt.

In it he said he planned to kill himself because of "shame and remorse."

Robert K. Boggs Off to Indonesia Jan. 3 on Job With State Department

Indonesia will be the destination Jan. 3 for Waterford Township resident Robert K. Boggs, who recently completed two months of orientation for his new State Department job.

Boggs, of 2771 North Lake Drive, will leave next month for a two-year assignment as a foreign service officer with the International Cooperation Administration (ICA), a branch of the State Department.

The 44-year-old former Chrysler Corp. worker, and rehabilitation director at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, will be based at Djakarta, Indonesia, where he will work with that country's people in trying to assist them in their education, cultural, industrial and agricultural development.

The ICA is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the technical cooperation phase of the U.S. mutual security program. The government agency provides assistance to some 60 undeveloped countries.

Boggs, who'll arrive in the country Jan. 13 after stops in Honolulu, Tokyo and Manila, said his wife and two sons will join him later on his first assignment.

Subcommittee Hits ICC, CAB

Senate Oversight Unit Drops Parting Bomb of Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House subcommittee that exposed the TV quiz show scandals has fired a parting salvo of criticism at the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

★ ★ ★

It was learned Tuesday night that the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, which goes out of business Jan. 3, adopted the critical report of its staff at a secret meeting Friday. The report is to be made public today.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Steven B. Derounian, R-N. Y., was one of several subcommittee members who protested making the report public. Derounian called it "unfair, unjudicial and beneath the dignity of a congressional committee supposed to be seeking the facts."

★ ★ ★

"It isn't very American," Derounian added, "for the committee to make the report public without first holding hearings to determine whether the charges are true and give the people concerned their day in court."

There was no immediate comment from CAB or ICC spokes men.

CHARGES LISTED

The charges in the report were in general terms and made few specific allegations against individuals. Among subcommittee charges:

1. The ICC was lax in renewing the operating certificate of Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc., a New York truck company that hauls garments, despite the company's "long history of violations of ICC regulations."

2. Alleged close relations between a trucking trade association and ICC officials in Texas and alleged favored treatment for the association in enforcing regulations. No names of companies or individuals were specified except for last names of some ICC personnel and others in several letters quoted by the subcommittee report.

3. The CAB's findings of probable cause of air accidents "are conditioned on the effect such findings may have on the promotion of civil aviation." Also, the CAB takes too long to decide economic proceedings before it and certain CAB officials have received "unusual hospitality from air carriers. . . . "Again no names were specified.

Cadillac Breaks Sale Record Set in '55 With 151,000 Figure

DETROIT (AP)—About 7.92 million automobiles and trucks will be produced in the United States in 1960, according to the Automobile Manufacturers Assn.

The figure includes 6.72 million passenger cars and 1.2 million trucks and buses. In 1959, domestic production totaled 6,728,644 units including 5,591,243 cars and 1,137,401 trucks and buses.

Cadillac Division of General Motors said Tuesday it has broken its all-time sales record of 143,611 cars set in 1955 and that it expects to reach 151,000 deliveries by the end of this month.

Between 1902 and 1950 Cadillac sold 1,000,694 cars. From 1950, when sales first topped 100,000 in a year, through 1959 sales totaled 1,249,000.

In Memoriam 2

MARBLE — IN LOVING MEMORY of a dear husband and father, George Marble, who passed away Dec. 21, 1959.
Gone dear husband, gone forever.
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember,
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still;
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by wife, Ruth and daughters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WARREN C. Kennedy who passed away 2 years ago today, December 21, 1958.
Till memory fades
And life departs
You live forever in our hearts.
Sadly missed by wife, son, daughter and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOE E. Brown, who passed away Dec. 20, 1959.
One long, lonely year has passed away,
Since our great sorrow fell;
The shock that we received that day
We still remember well.
We thought when leaving home,
You would no more return;
That you in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow;
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
—Sadly missed by Mother, Dad and family.

TO TAKE KENNEDY'S SEAT — Benjamin Smith II, 43, the man Gov. Foster Furcolo says he will appoint to the U.S. Senate seat replacing President-Elect John Kennedy, sits in his Gloucester, Mass., home Tuesday night surrounded by his wife and five children. Smith is a box manufacturer and former mayor of Gloucester. He and Kennedy were roommates at Harvard University. The Smith family is (from the left rear) Susan, 15; Benjamin, 13; Barbara, 17; and R. Russell, 19; seated on the arm of the chair is Cathleen, 10.

Report Japanese People's Living Comforts Are Up

TOKYO (UPI) — A government survey showed today that the majority of the Japanese people are enjoying more living comforts than they have ever known as a result of the nation's economic prosperity.

The economic planning agency, in a "white paper" on national living, said a "consumption boom" was sweeping the country.

The agency cited as proof that Japanese families were spending freely for such durable goods as television sets, washing machines and cameras, statistics showing one in every two or three households has such items.

Tree Whiz Khrushchev, It's Only Once a Year

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda was critical today because Moscow, a city of more than five million people, has an allotment of only 160,000 holiday trees under a forestry conservation program.

"You can put Father Frost (Santa Claus) and Snow Maiden on the television set and you can hang other decorations on the lamp shade, but how can you celebrate New Year's without a tree?" the newspaper asked.

Air Annual Discloses Facts on New Russian, U.S. Developments

LONDON (UPI) — The Russians have completed tests of a rocket capable of boosting a 10-ton spaceship into orbit and are mass-producing missiles of the type they say downed Francis G. Power's U2, it was reported today.

British experts skilled at evaluating the scantiest scraps of information about Russia placed this interpretation on the report on Soviet rockets appearing in the new edition of Jane's "All the World's Aircraft."

The air annual was able to assemble only three pages of data on Russian rockets, most of it culled from Soviet publications, against 34 pages on U.S. rocket developments.

Jane's also noted "persistent reports" that Russia has submarines capable of launching nuclear missiles while submerged.

European military writers were interested in Jane's report that the United States is developing a pilotless plane which could be used in germ and chemical warfare.

★ ★ ★

Jane's said the Drone, designated as the SD2, is being built for the U.S. Army by the Aerojet-General Corporation.

It is smaller than the smallest light aircraft, Jane's said, and could carry more than 200 pounds of germ agents as much as 115 miles.

Experts said the range undoubtedly could be increased if necessary.

The SD2, said Jane's, is designed to be launched by two rocket boosters from an army trailer, to be directed by remote control and to fly at a speed of 345 miles an hour.

State Employes' Pay Hike Called Grossly Inadequate

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Civil Service Commission was urged today to reconsider its decision to grant the state's 31,000 civil service workers an across-the-board 3 per cent salary increase.

★ ★ ★

Terming the pay boost inadequate, the Michigan State Employes Union said the commission's action Thursday meant that those who need an increase the most will get the least.

The new pay scale, which will cost about $5 million, also was criticized by another organization, the Michigan State Employes Association, which claims to represent some 13,000 workers.

MSEA President Arthur A. Mauk said, "We are bitterly disappointed, and we will find it necessary to appear before the commission at the earliest opportunity to request that additional adjustments be made more in line with our original seven and one-half per cent request."

★ ★ ★

He added that while the MSEA recognizes the financial problems confronting the state, 3 per cent "is an obvious compromise which must be termed insufficient."

Both groups said the increase failed to compensate adequately for increases in the cost of living.

In a letter to the commission, MSEU Director Robert C. Grosvenor said the commission should reconsider the matter at its January meeting and take action to provide what he termed a "realistic across-the-board pay boost that state employes can live with and live on."

He said the MSEU vigorously protested the proposed percentage increase as being "grossly unfair, unrealistic and opposed to the best interest of the state and its employes.

"I think state employes are entitled to the increase, but I'm wondering if this isn't the first step toward another tax increase," said Sen. John H. Stahlin, R-Belding.

"We're either going to have to find more money, or we're going to have to trim expenses in some other area," he said. "It could be education, mental health or some other field, but we'll have to cut somewhere."

Early Christmas Gift Kills Detroit Girl

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Susan Hooker, 9, was shot and killed in her Detroit home Tuesday night when a Christmas shotgun her brother, 13, was holding discharged.

Michael said the gun didn't seem to work correctly Tuesday night, and he was checking it over when it suddenly went off. The charge struck his sister in the head.

Report Finding Entrance to Tomb of Alexander

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (UPI) — The entrance to the tomb of Alexander the Great has been found by a Polish archeological mission at work on the outskirts of this city, it was reported.

The mission said in a statement it had uncovered a series of massive domed walls, four and one-half feet thick, close to the old walls of Alexandria. The area has been sealed off.

NBC Presents Polished Rehash of Sit-In Struggle

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Maybe the name of the "NBC White Paper" series should be changed to "NBC Power Loom."

In its two offerings thus far, the public affairs series has shown an admirable talent for weaving the warp and woof of rough, sprawling news stories into tight, dramatic, smooth-faced fabrics.

First came "the U2 Affair." And last night, it was "Sit-In," the story of nonviolent, direct action by Negro students against lunch-counter segregation in Nashville, Tenn., including the support, opposition and results it engendered.

Fresh interviews with sit-in leaders, their friends and foes, were interwoven with newsreel film of the sit-in operation in action, complete with violent scenes that were touched off in some instances.

This technique was the most inventive and striking aspect of the program. As we watched the youngsters in action, passions flowing at full pitch during the sit-ins, we also met them as they now appear, in calmer moments.

And they commented on their thoughts and actions as we watched the older newsreel clips with them.

"Sit-In," written and produced by Al Wasserman, directed by Robert Young, was effectively put together. Solidly conceived touches included watching people as they discussed the situation around a card table, in a college gym, or in a barber shop. Many facets of the story that were not previously publicized were brought out.

TURNING POINT

Near the close of last night's program, narrator Chet Huntley spoke of the turning point in the Nashville story, after a Negro leader's home had been dynamited and thousands of Negroes joined to march on city hall to confront Mayor Ben West.

Said Huntley, ". . . Soon afterward, a committee of merchants and students met and worked out a plan for desegregating the six lunch counters that had been sit-in targets.

The economic boycott was withdrawn and Nashville became the first major city in the south to permit whites and Negroes to eat together in public places."

That development deserved more attention. The fact that lines of communication were established, or restored, between the whites and Negroes may lack the drama and excitement of the sit-in, but the program might have made a greater contribution if it had elected to focus on the work of those committees.

SAHL STALLS

"Thriller" went in for off-beat casting last night and took an off-cast beating. Mort Sahl, a tremendous talent as a commentator, went dramatic in a mystery called, "Man in the Middle."

He worked as if he had studied acting at Gardner McKay's classroom. I hope the experience provided Sahl with good material for his next record album—just so the workout shouldn't be a total loss.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: "The Nation's Future" for New Year's Eve on NBC-TV originally planned as a high-level discussion about comedy between Sahl and Alan King, will be between Sahl and Steve Allen instead.

Sahl asked for the change. King has called the switch "a gross insult."

Lillian ("I'll Cry Tomorrow") Roth and Robert Q. Lewis have dramatic roles in the Thursday, Dec. 29 "Witness" on CBS-TV, a study of the career of Dutch Schultz.

George Burns has agreed to supervise script work for the syndicated series, "Mr. Ed," which stars Allan Young and a "talking horse." The series makes its debut early in January.

Scentless Paint Among Products Making Debuts

Asks Big Ben Be Stilled From Midnight to 6 A.M.

LONDON (AP) — The government's ministry of works was asked today to silence Big Ben, bell of the Westminister Palace clock, from midnight to 6 a.m. daily.

Rupert Speir, a conservative member of the House of Commons, said the bell's clanging, every 15 minutes, seriously disturbs patients of nearby St. Thomas's Hospital. The works ministry promised a reply.

Some Couldn't See Him, but They All Love Santa

★ ★ ★

He brought them music even though some could not hear the notes, some could not see the instruments, some could not sing the carols, some could not rise to clap.

The heart-tugging scene was Monday's sixth annual Christmas concert by the National Symphony Orchestra for handicapped children from 33 Washington area institutions.

The children are mentally retarded, disturbed, blind, deaf, crippled and underprivileged. Some were in braces and some were in wheelchairs.

Five-year-old Coleen Brashear, a cerebral palsy victim, exclaimed with delight, "Santa wears glasses just like me."

★ ★ ★

The program ranged from lively classical pieces to "Jingle Bells" and Christmas carols. When orchestra director Howard Mitchell invited Santa to play the cello, the children squealed in surprise.

Santa was Maurice Schones, cellist with the symphony.

Deaf and hard-of-hearing children were among the most enthusiastic. "They can feel the vibrations," a teacher explained.

The youngsters clapped and slid to the edge of their seats when the drum section played extra loud. Two little girls, their legs in braces and brown hair straggling in their eyes, solemnly conducted with their hands.

★ ★ ★

Congo Likened to Spanish War

Nehru Asks Combined U.N. Effort to Solve Troubled Situation

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru today likened the Congo situation to the Spanish civil war 30 years ago, with "big powers" outside aiding local contestants with arms and otherwise."

"It is a tragedy," Nehru told Parliament, "that while the United Nations looked on helplessly in the Congo, big powers helped different local contestants."

Nehru said all nations should back the U.N. effort in the Congo, beaause "if the United Nations fails in the Congo, it fails in the whole world."

The Indian leader expressed opposition to Ghana President Kwame' Nkrumah's proposal for an all-African force to police the Congo. He said such a force would not be under any unified organization and might even open the way to a civil war.

★ ★ ★

Nehru said he had no present plans for the withdrawal of Indian personnel from the U.N. force in the Congo, but if conditions there become "impossible," he will have to reconsider the matter.

Religious Issue Southern Baptist Banner Story

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—The religious issue of the national political campaign was the top story of 1960 for Southern Baptists.

The Baptist Press, Southern Baptist Convention news agency, Monday announced that only one of the 32 editors participating in the annual poll failed to vote the story No. 1.

★ ★ ★

Four of the 28 state Baptist conventions passed resolutions the news agency said could be construed as opposing the election of John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, as President. Nine others meeting since the election have offered him support, but reminded Kennedy of his promise to maintain separation of church and state.

Egypt Threatens to Get Bomb, Too

CAIRO (AP) — An editor close to President Gamal Abdel Nasser wrote today that "the U.A.R. will get an atomic bomb—whatever the price—any time Israel happens to possess an atomic bomb."

★ ★ ★

The article by Mohamed Hassanein Heikal of Al Ahram was the first published reaction in Cairo to reports that Israel is working secretly with French help to produce an atomic bomb. Both the Israeli and French governments denied the reports, insisting their joint nuclear research was for peaceful purposes only.

Heikal minimized the reports, citing the "tremendous financial difficulties that would obstruct such an Israeli project."

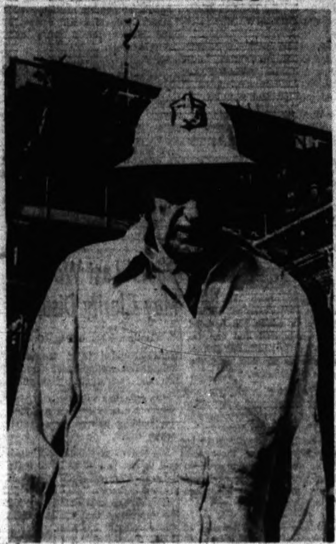
Pilots' Last Words Studied

Why Did It Happen?



AP Photofax

GRIM INSPECTOR — Navy Secretary William B. Franke is deep in thought as he leaves the seared aircraft carrier Constellation still wearing coveralls and helmet. He has just completed a personal inspection of the fire damage that has been set at $75 million.

Inquiry Court Gathers to Sift Carrier Ashes

NEW YORK (UPI)—A naval court of inquiry convenes today to study the disastrous fire that struck the aircraft carrier Constellation. Expected to be on its agenda is the City Fire Department's sterm criticism of naval safety procedures aboard the big vessel.

Two more charred bodies of workmen were recovered from the Constellation Tuesday, bringing to 48 the number lost in Monday's fire.

The blaze scorched the ship from stem to stern, buckled plates, twisted beams, and set back the carrier's completion date by at least a year.

Damage was estimated at $75 million.

In Washington, a second naval group, this one composed of four technical experts, will inquire into "possible fire hazards to ships under construction at navy and private shipyards."

The Navy said the panel will consider specifically the substitution of metal for wooden floors for staging or scaffolding, among other things.

This was the center of the city's criticism. Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said there would have been "a substantial difference in the intensity and extent of the fire" if metal rather than wooden scaffolding had been used.

The Fire Department requires the use of metal scaffolding on city pier projects, but the Constellation was being built at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and was out of the city's jurisdiction.

Cavanagh commented angrily on the disaster at a Fire Department promotion ceremony, attended by reporters without his knowledge.

'JUST NO EXCUSE'

"You may hear more about yesterday's fire when investigations are held," he said. "There is just no excuse for these things that go on happening."

Urging fire inspectors to get tough, he said: "Get these slobs out of business. That goes for official slobs as well as civilian slobs. There is no magic in these great agencies."

When Cavanagh learned that reporters had been present, he explained that he wasn't trying to tell the Navy how to operate and said the service has its own experts who "undoubtedly will come up with the same answers I've got in mind."

Girls Still Want Dolls, Boys Guns

By JANET ODELL

Children's wants don't change much from year to year. Little girls still want dolls and little boys ask for trucks and guns. A more modern note creeps in now and then with a request for a helicopter or some special hair curlers.

Here are some items we have seen that might please the younger set.

How about a totem pole kit? Or an Eiffel Tower kit Or the visible V-8 engine? There's a heap of fun as well as learning in the myraid of kits available.

England sends us a plastic puppet mobile using the Disney characters.

Oh, to be a little girl again and get a tea set complete with chafing dish; or a Currier and Ives set with a milk glass covered hen dish. They're charming.

Today's boys will take missile launching sets in their stride. They'll love the miniature auto races. Older boys and girls too can enjoy a telescope.

Books are always in order for Christmas giving. But have you ever thought of a Bible story viewer?

They're even making bridge sets for junior now. If you're taking a trip during the holidays, you might consider a tote bag full of games for the children.

Your young man may take to baths more readily if he has his own soap mit.

Give the children their hearts' desires if possible. But do try to give them some gifts that will stimulate their imagination.

Richland Teller Says Pair Warned They'd Blow Her to Pieces

RICHLAND (AP) — A bandit pair armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol robbed the Richland branch of the American National Bank and Trust Co. of $14,224 Tuesday after threatening to blow a woman teller to pieces.

A 100-man police dragnet captured two men in a swamp five miles northeast of here about three hours after the holdup.

The men were identified as Arleigh W. Kranich of Portage Township, near Kalamazoo, and Donald Anglin of Brady Township, also near Kalamazoo. The men, both 23, offered no resistance.

Both were taken to the Kalamazoo County Jail for investigation. Officers said they denied the holdup.

Kalamazoo Undersheriff Howard Johnson said he found Anglin hiding in a gulley. Near him, Johnson said, was part of the loot, wrapped in a raincoat and buried in the snow.

Police found an abandoned car, and tracked two men over freshly-fallen snow. Police said the car was stolen earlier in the day at Kalamazoo. No guns were found on the men, police said.

Teller Marjorie Mason, 41, said the bandits, armed with a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol, entered the bank and ordered two other employes and two patrons down onto the floor.

She said they thrust a pillow case at her and one of the men shouted:

"Open all the drawers and put all the change and all the bills in here or I'll blow you to pieces."

Mrs. Mason said the case broke and money spilled on the floor, but the bandit ordered her to pick it up and replace it.

Winter Season Riding In on Thick Snow Carpet

By The Associated Press

Blustery, snowy and cold weather ushered in the winter season today from the eastern Rockies into the Northeast.

The snowstorm which buffeted the Midwest, with foot-high falls in some areas, spread into the Ohio Valley during the night, dumping heavy snow in many areas.

Powered by strong winds, the storm headed eastward into western and central parts of the Mid-Atlantic seaboard states and extended eastward over the Great Lakes region and southwestward through the Ohio Valley.

At least nine deaths were attributed to the stormy weather, which erupted in the plains and spread eastward rapidly. The storm deaths included five in Ohio, three in Illinois and one in Missouri.

The broad blanket of snow in the Midwest, plus strong shifting winds and sharp drops in temperatures, made it look and feel like midwinter before the official arrival of winter. Winter's three-month seasonal stand was timed for 3:27 p. m. EST today.

Numbing cold gripped the north central region as the mercury plunged below zero across the snow-covered sections of the midlands. The cold air dipped southward into Texas and the Gulf Coast.

It was 13 below zero in Aberdeen, S. D., and the subzero sting was felt in northern Illinois with —2 in Rockford. Chicago, covered with a record prewinter snow carpet of 12 inches, shivered in near-zero readings.

The heavy snow covering appeared to guarantee many areas a white Christmas on Sunday. No general immedate break in the cold weather was indicated.

Travel, both by motor and air, was sharply curtailed throughout the snowbelt. Snow diminished to flurries in most Midwest areas, and cleanup crews were on 24-hour schedules clearing streets and highways.

Chicago's Midway Airport, called the world's busiest, was closed for more than 12 hours as workers cleared the runways of the heavy snow. Airports in Cincinnati also were closed.

Ohio and Pennsylvania battled the storm. Falls of 8 to 14 inches were expected in western Pennsylvania, with 7 to 10 inches in Pittsburgh. A half foot of snow fell in a four-hour period in the small town of Somerset, Pa.

In Ohio, more than 8 inches of snow snaried traffic in Columbus and a 10-inch fall was expected in Cleveland. Falls of 3 to 6 inches were reported in most northern areas, with lesser falls in the southern part of the state.

Snow mixed with rain and sleet pelted areas in New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia and western North Carolina, with snow on the way in some areas. The snow-sleet mixture in Newark and Trenton changed to heavy rains. New York City, hit by heavy snow last week, was in the path of the storm.

Consumers District Manager to Retire

Edward L. Karkau, Pontiac district manager for Consumers Power Company, will retire Jan. 1 after 35 years of service, 30 years of it in the Pontiac area.

Karkau's retirement under the company's regular retirement program was announced by David H. Gerhard, division manager of the company's Southeast Division, Royal Oak.

CHARLES F. BROWN

Gerhard said Karkau will be succeeded by Charles F. Brown, 511 Jamaica Drive, Troy, who has been assistant to the division manager since 1958.

Karkau, a native of Lansing and a graduate of Michigan State University, joined Consumers at Jackson in 1925 as an investigations engineer, later serving with four affiliated companies, the Commonwealth Power corporation, Allied Power & Light, Stevens & Wood and the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation.

In 1929 Karkau went to Pontiac as a power and illumination engineer for Consumers and rose through a series of assignments in the engineering and sales areas to the position of assistant to the division manager, in 1945.

In 1954, after the reorganization of the company's rapidly growing Southeast division and the establishment of district headquarters in Pontiac, East Detroit, Royal Oak and Plymouth, Karkau was named Pontiac district manager.

Karkau in World War I was with the 85th division, assigned to the Northern Russian Expeditionary Forces.

★ ★ ★

He and Mrs. Karkau live at 230 Oneida Road. He has long been active in many Pontiac area community affairs and is a member of the Pontiac United Fund budgeting committee, the Engineering Society of Detroit, Oakland County Engineering Society, Detroit Sales Executives Club, and other organizations.

In 1952 he received the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Com-

FAA to Release Vital Transcript This Afternoon

May Shed Light on Collision of Airliners; Quesada Assailed

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — The Federal Aviation Agency today rushed to complete the transcript of the last recorded words between the airport towers and the pilots of two airliners which collided over New York Friday killing 134 persons.

An FAA spokesman said the transcript, which may shed additional light on the cause of the world's worst air disaster, should be ready for release sometime during the afternoon.

FAA chief Elwood R. Quesada was under attack from three sides for announcing "before the ashes cooled" that one of the planes was 11 miles off course.

The colorful and controversial Quesada was criticized by United Air Lines President W. A. Patterson, Capt. John McDonald, veteran accident investigator of the Airline Pilots Association, and in effect by Civil Aeronautics Board member G. Joseph Minetti, who will direct the government inquiry into the disaster.

A United DC8 jetliner and a TWA Constellation collided. The United plane crashed in a Brooklyn street. The Constellation came down on Staten Island.

Three possible causes of the disaster have been put forward:

1. The ground radio navigation equipment that guides a plane in its holding pattern may have been at fault.

2. There could have been a brief but critical lapse in radar surveillance from the ground of the two planes that collided over Staten Island.

3. A passenger on the United jet may have knocked awry delicate navigation equipment in the plane by using a transistor radio or a portable dictation machine.

The FAA originally planned to release the records of the pilots' last words at 10 a.m. (Pontiac time) but spokesmen said stenographers were still transcribing the tape recordings made in the planes prior to their crash.

The 60-page transcript of the conversations is expected to provide clues in the mystery of how the

Picks No. 2 Pentagon Official

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy today picked Roswell Gilpatric, 54, who was undersecretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, to be deputy secretary of defense.

Kennedy announced selection as he started day-long conferences on planning of the new administration's budget against a background of concern over the business slump—a slump also bothering the outgoing Eisenhower regime.

Gilpatric, a New York lawyer, will be No. 2 man at the Pentagon under Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who is resigning as president of the Ford Motor Co, to join the Kennedy administration.

Gilpatric was undersecretary of the Air Force in 1951-53. In 1956-57 he took part in a study of the defense establishment financed by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund.

In 1958 he was named by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., to the advisory panel of the joint congressional subcommittee on military applications of atomic energy.

He won a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholarship at Yale. He was graduated from the law school there in 1931 after serving as editor of the Yale Law Journal.

Another member of the Kennedy Cabinet, Secretary of the Treasury-Designate Douglas Dillon, turned up in Palm Beach today as Kennedy opened budget talks with the experts he has named to advise him.

Dillon, a Republican now serving as undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration, told reporters he did not know whether he would sit in at the budget conference.

Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, told a news conference that Kennedy plans to resign soon from the Senate.

Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts announced Tuesday night he will appoint Benjamin A. Smith II of Gloucester, a former Harvard roommate of Kennedy, to the Senate seat when Kennedy gives it up.

Salinger said, as Furcolo had earlier, that Kennedy suggested appointment of Smith. Smith was active in the campaign.

A Cold, White Christmas Likely in Pontiac Area

Winter jumped the gun and arrived 24 hours early, bringing with it not only promises of a white Christmas but a cold one.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures for the Pontiac area the next five days will average 12 degrees below a normal high of 34 and normal low of 21.

Although winter's official coming out party wasn't to commence until 3:27 p.m. today, it sneaked in early yesterday with a layer of about 3 inches of snow in the Pontiac area.

Driving last night and early today was hazardous, police said.

The forecast was for snow flurries through Thursday but with no further significant accumulation, the Weather Bureau said.

Tonight's low is expected to dip to around 5 to 10. The high Thursday is expected to hover between 14 and 18.

PORT HURON SHUDDERS

The hardest hit area of the state was Port Huron, which only last week had endured a freak storm that dumped 16 inches on the city.

The overnight snowfall was again 16 inches and drifts piled up as high as 4 feet along Lake Huron and the St. Clair River.

Snow already on the ground in the upper portion of Michigan received a fresh layer as the fall abated in Southern Michigan early today.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 11. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 18.

Deputy Agrees: That Big Dog Lacks Etiquette

He was attacked by the dog.

As she opened the door, Cumberworth's huge black German shepherd lunged at McGee, sinking its teeth into the officer's jacket sleeve.

McGee and the dog pulled simultaneously. The sleeve gave, and McGee beat a hasty retreat to his nearby patrol car.

He was nursing a bruised arm when he returned to the county jail, and lamenting damage done to his $40 jacket.

The deputy was to see Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Deiterle today for permission to destroy the dog.

McGee said he is convinced the dog poses a threat to the community.

Discoverer XIX Taking Earth's Temperature

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Discoverer XIX is in orbit today to take the earth's temperature. This knowledge will help future Midas satellites detect any hostile missile firings by reporting flashes of heat above the normal level.

The 81-foot two-stage Discoverer rocketed southward through scattered clouds from its seaside launching pad Tuesday afternoon. The 25-foot, 2,100-pound second stage went into a 93-minute egg-shaped polar orbit 130 to 400 miles out.

Other Discoverers have carried a recoverable capsule but not this one. Instead, it has a load of electronic gear to measure the earth's normal heat radiation.

★ ★ ★

Forthcoming Midas — missile defense alarm system — space craft will have infrared "eyes" to spot the heat of enemy launchings. Eight to 12 Midases will provide continuous coverage of the world's surface.

Captured Auschwitz Officer in Frankfurt

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Richard Baer, handcuffed and demanding treatment as an officer, was brought here today to face charges of murdering thousands of Jews in the gas chambers of Auschwitz concentration camp.

Baer, 49, was Auschwitz's last commandant.

German police arrested him Tuesday at Dassendorf, near Hamburg, where he had been working as a master lumberman under an assumed name.

★ ★ ★

"I am an officer," he asserted

RICHARD BAER

when arrested. "Treat me accordingly."

He was manacled, and with a heavy guard, put on a train for Frankfurt.

Baer succeeded Rudolf Hoess as Auschwitz commandant in 1944. Hoess and another Auschwitz commandant were executed after the war for crimes committed at the camp.

State Atty. Heinz Wolf said Baer is charged with murdering Jews in the camp and also during a retreat from the camp in January 1945 as Soviet soldiers approached.

LEARN BAER ALIVE

Authorities learned last October that Baer was alive and offered a reward for his capture.

More than 100 tips poured in from all over Germany, Wolf said.

★ ★ ★

It was learned a master lumberman named "Neumann," who lived at Dassendorf, on the Prince Bismarck estate, might be Baer. Samples of his handwriting were obtained for checking.

★ ★ ★

This disclosed "Neumann's" true identity, which he at first denied.

Wolf did not say when Baer's trial will start. Sixteen former guards are in custody on charges stemming from the Auschwitz slaughter. Authorities indicated more arrests may be made.

★ ★ ★

The Auschwitz force worked under Adolf Eichmann, now held in Israel for trial on charges of being a mass exterminator of Jews.

Eichmann fled to Argentina, where he was captured and taken to Israel.

Navy Plane Crashes Off Newfoundland

★ ★ ★

Rescue officers said there apparently were no survivors. The plane, a P2V, normally carries a crew of five or six. It was based at the U.S. Navy's base at Argentia, Nfld.

The bomber went down in the Atlantic about 17 miles northeast of Cape Race, Nfld. Rescue planes and ships were dispatched from Argentina.

Weather in the area was clear. The cause of the crash was not known.

CAROLERS AT BANK — The LeBaron School Mixed Glee Club sang carols Tuesday at the Pontiac State Bank on South Saginaw Street under direction of Rosemond Haeberle. This is the 15th year the bank has presented a daily concert for downtown shoppers. Each noon a choral group from a different school performs. Today, the group was from Madison Junior High. Tomorrow Webster School children will sing and the final program Friday will be by Longfellow School fifth and sixth graders. Eleven groups were scheduled for this year's program. Other groups that have already performed were from Jefferson, Washington and Eastern Junior High Schools, St. Frederick and St. Michael High Schools, Pontiac Northern High and Waterford Township High schools.

Community National Reveals Personnel Shifts; New Office

Personnel changes and establishment of a branch office at the Oakland County Service Center were announced today by A. C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

Building the branch office near the site of the new county courthouse represents the first public facility to be built there, Girard said.

★ ★ ★

He said approval has been granted for the office by the Treasury Department. Negotiations for an exact site are still going on with county officials, he said.

TAYLOR OSMUN

The bank president said that W. Arthur Taylor, Carroll L. Osmun and John P. Niggeman had been elected senior vice presidents; Gordon M. McLeod a cashier; Willard V. Johnson, Charles R. Harris and Edward S. Ladd, vice presidents; and Horace W. Lodge Jr., assistant vice president.

★ ★ ★

Recognizing the increased importance of data processing, Girard said, it was deemed advisable to elevate Jack D. Crawford to systems manager.

Donald D. Taylor, Robert Norberg, Paul R. Breininger, I. Jay Clark, and Roger R. Rummel were appointed assistant cashiers, Girard said.

The board of directors announced with regret the retirement of Lawrence M. Kelly, vice president in charge of the bank's Romeo branch office.

Girard said as soon as the bank settles on a location at the Telegraph Road center, work would proceed on the new branch office.

Construction of the new courthouse there was "80 per cent of the reason" why the bank decided to establish a branch. Girard also mentioned the proposed shopping center at nearby Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph Roads.

Pontiac Groups Send Pleas for a Short-Haul Cleveland Run to CAB

Messages supporting the North Central Airlines bid for short-haul service between Detroit (Willow Run) and Cleveland were to be delivered to the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) in Washington, D. C. today.

The messages were from the City Commission, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and Community National Bank, representing Pontiac government, business and commerce.

The messages stressed the community of interest between Pontiac business and industry and northern Ohio industrial centers. The CAB was urged to consider the importance and reliability of the one-plane service which North Central has promised between Pontiac, Willow Run and Cleveland.

North Central, now serving Pontiac on a seven-stop route between Willow Run and Sault Ste. Marie, was once authorized by the CAB to serve the Willow Run-Cleveland segment as part of the same route.

But the authorization was temporarily withdrawn after three trunk carriers objected. A final decision may be reached by the CAB before the first of the year.

Members of the city's air transportation committee, in a final drive in behalf of the North Central bid, obtained the supporting messages yesterday and air mailed them to Washington for special delivery today.

City Near One of Poorest Traffic-Accident Marks

BIRMINGHAM — This city will have one of its poorest traffic records if the present trend continues, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley reports.

Traffic accidents during November increased substantially over October and also increased over November 1959, Moxley noted in his monthly accident summary.

There were 77 accidents during November as compared to 65 in October and 60 in November 1959.

The greatest increase has been in personal injury mishaps totaling 22 in November this year as contrasted to seven such accidents in the same month last year.

There have been 781 traffic accidents, 177 personal injury accidents in which 263 persons have been injured and one fatal accident in which one person was killed so far this year, the chief of police says.

"Right of way" violations and "following too closely" were again the leading causes of accidents in the city, according to Moxley.

He is advising all officers to be exceedingly alert for these violations in their routine patrol, in an effort to reduce these accidents especially during the hazardous month of December.

The Junior High Fellowship of the Congregational Church will carol tomorrow evening, visiting homes of shutin members of the church. Following the sing, the Rev. and Mrs. Mead M. Bailey, minister of education, will serve refreshments to the group.

A caroling eve is planned by the combined freshman and senior high fellowships of the church Friday. Participants will sing at homes of church members and others, then they will return to the church for a party and refreshments.

The annual Christmas Eve service is set for 11:15 Saturday.

Madrigal singers will sing traditional Christmas hymns accompanied by Mrs. Fred LaLacheur who also will present Christmas selections on the organ.

A family Christmas service will be at 9:30 Sunday morning, so all the children may hear the program. Church school will not meet.

The Rev. Raymond Fenner will tell the Christmas story, followed by hymn and carol singing by those attending.

Quesada has said the UAL jet was off course from a prelanding holding pattern by at least seven miles.

Patterson, president of United, said it was "out of order to make public statements until the facts are made known."

"We cannot permit such an impression to exist," Patterson said.

Minetti, the CAB member, warned in Washington that only his agency was authorized to investigate air crashes.

RECEIVES COMPLAINTS

He said he spoke out because of "complaints that statements concerning the probable cause of the midair collision have been issued."

Minetti did not mention Quesada by name and an aide denied that the statement was aimed at the FAA head.

Persons familiar with the backstage feud between the CAB and FAA felt there was no doubt Minetti's statement was a crack at Quesada.

McDonald said the FAA chief's announcement was "the fourth time in about a year Mr. Quesada has announced the solution of the air crash before the ashes cooled."

"As usual, he blames it on a dead pilot who cannot defend himself," McDonald said.

Russ Protest Move to Make All Share Congo Cost

U.N. Assembly Ends After Fund Tiff

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The U. N. General Assembly recessed its turbulent 15th session early today after approving a resolution requiring all members to share in the cost of the 1960 U. N. Congo operation.

The Soviet Union vigorously opposed the plan. It made it plain it would defy the assembly majority by refusing to supply any part of the $48.5 million to be raised by assessments. The vote was 46-17 with 24 abstentions.

★ ★ ★

The assembly also authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to spend up to $24 million for the Congo operation during the first three months of 1961.

The 99-nation assembly adjourned at 12:57 a.m. to begin an 11-week recess that will end March 7.

HIGHLIGHTED BY K.

The stormy three-month session, which opened Sept. 20, was notable chiefly for the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the bitter Soviet campaign against Hammarskjold.

The session also felt other impacts of the Congo crisis, the uncertainties of the U. S. presidential election, and the growing pains that came with the admission of 17 new members, 16 of them African.

★ ★ ★

These factors resulted in prolonged debates, paralyzing deadlocks and a general slowdown of work that forced postponement of action on many major items, including disarmament, until the second part of the session.

The final hours were devoted mostly to budgetary and other crucial issues raised during the session persisted.

SLAP AT DAG

Soviet Delegate A. A. Roshchin told the assembly just before the postmidnight vote on the Congo budget: "One of the main causes of the situation as it now prevails in the Congo is to be found in the fact that the secretary general, on his own initiative and without any authorization from the Security Council, has set up a United Nations command . . . consisting mainly of United States nationals and nationals of other countries in NATO."

★ ★ ★

The Russians indicated they would continue their attack. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin called a news conference today to review the work of the session.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth commented that the 99-nation body had been working "in a period of crisis which has tested the United Nations—and is still testing it—to its very foundation."

MAKES DECISION

Although the assembly deferred action on many issues, it did make several positive decisions, including these:

1. It called for steps to bring "to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."

2. It declared the Algerian people have the right to independence and the United Nations has a responsibility to help bring it about.

3. It called on the nuclear powers to make every effort to reach an agreement banning further nuclear test explosions. It also called for a permanent agreement to prevent dissemination of nuclear weapons to countries which do not have them.

Murphy Slides Ready for Use

City-Made Snow at Park

It snowed twice as much yesterday at Murphy Park as it did in the rest of Pontiac.

While three inches of snow was falling from the sky, another inch or so was being produced by the homemade snowmaking machines of the Parks & Recreation Department.

The accumulation meant that the toboggan and sled slides were ready for use today and probably will be in good shape for the Christmas weekend, city officials said.

Meantime, the city has been freezing the rinks at Murphy and 18 other locations throughout the city.

★ ★ ★

It is expected that all will be ready by Friday night, said David R. Ewalt, parks and recreation director.

Ewalt said the public can learn the conditions at individual skating rinks by telephoning the department at City Hall.

A new feature at Northside skating rink will begin Monday evening, said John R. Ridgway, chairman of the Northside Community Club.

He said skating instructions for novices—both children and adults — will begin then. The schedule of twice-weekly sessions will be posted at the rink, he said.

★ ★ ★

The snow machines consist of simple rigs that cross two streams of pressurized air and water. They were assembled at a nominal cost.

Carrier Inquiry Will Begin Today

Franke, who came to New York for a personal inspection of the damaged $250-million carrier, said the use of wooden staging was standard naval procedure.

He said he sees no reason to change unless such a move is recommended by the inquiry court.

However, Vice Adm. Charles Wellborn Jr., 3rd Naval Dist. Commandant, said he would recommend metal scaffolding on future Navy projects.

★ ★ ★

Franke said that as far as he could tell, neither carelessness, poor housekeeping, nor economy measures could be blamed for the fire.

The Navy has said a "pure accident" started the blaze: A fork lift sheared off the plug on a tank of fuel, and the volatile liquid poured into a compartment where a welder was at work.

Announcement of his nomination was made in the society's journal. Voting on the nominated officers will be by letter ballot to be mailed to voting members in February.

Acceptance of the nomination is tantamount to election in the society, since only one candidate is nominated for presidential office by the nominating committee.

Farrall is a native of Nebraska and received his bachelor's and master's degrees with a major in agricultural engineering from the University of Nebraska.

In 1955, the University of Nebraska gave him an honorary Doctor of Engineering degree.

He has been an ASAE member since 1925 and was elected a fellow in 1955. He helped establish the Michigan section of the society.

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—An Air Force pilot landed his four-engine Super Constellation safely in Bermuda today after propeller trouble and a fire almost forced him to ditch 400 miles out in the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Joseph T. Long of Falmouth had radioed Otis AFB he was going to crash land in the ocean. He brought his plane down to 500 feet, but at that point the engine fell off into the ocean, taking the fire with it.

★ ★ ★

Long got the plane back to 1,200 feet and headed for Kindley Field, Bermuda. One tire blew out landing there. None of the 15 men aboard the big radar plane was injured.

Long originally was from Houston, Tex.

Asks Big Overhaul of Security Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new president should undertake a major overhaul" of the National Security Council, the top secret board that advises the president on matters of national life or death.

This was urged Monday by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery. Jackson's group made a year-long study of the NSC, calling on expert witnesses from both political parties.

★ ★ ★

The NSC is made up of the president, the vice president and the heads of key departments concerned with national security. Its subordinate machinery drew some of the strongest criticisms in the subcommittee's report. This is the NSC planning board, made up of assistant secretaries of the same departments, and the operations coordinating board, at the under-secretary level.

The report said the NSC's committee-type structure tends to arrive at "lowest common denominator solutions" to critical problems.

"If, in the interest of 'agreed solutions,' such committees blur the edges and destroy the coherence of these proposals, they do the president a disservice," the study said. "There is strong reason to believe this is now the case."

The NSC was conceived as a small group which would argue differing viewpoints before the president, the report said, but many of its meetings are attended by 30 or 40 persons. The report said this appears to limit and dilute the quality of debate.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, it added, "many of the most critical questions affecting national security are not really handled within the NSC framework."

It said the planning board too often produces weak compromises between the views of departments seeking to guard their own interests. As for the coordinating board, the study said the case for abolishing it is strong.

Public Office Aspirants Face Filing Deadline

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—The deadline for candidates filing nominating petitions for public office in the township is 4 p.m. Dec. 30, Township Clerk Mrs. Deloris V. Little said today.

All candidates must have their petitions returned before that time to be eligible for the Feb. 20 primary election, she said.

Say Trujillo Boycott Is Pushed by U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Organization of American States (OAS) was under pressure today from a group of its members, reportedly led by the United States, to clamp a partial economic boycott on the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

The proposed boycott would ban the shipment of petroleum, petroleum products, trucks and truck parts. The sanctions were reported to have been suggested by the U.S. delegation.

The OAS council could accept the proposal, reject it or modify it. No date for a council meeting has been set.

Both Parties' Liberals Back Kennedy Against Filibusters

★ ★

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Kennedy's statement Tuesday in Palm Beach, Fla., that he feels a simple majority of senators should be able to limit debate "gives our cause a tremendous boost."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N. J., called Kennedy's stand heartening. He said in a separate interview it is "consistent with the Democratic party platform" as well as with Republican campaign pledges to make every effort to change the existing rule.

Hart is one of about 40 Democratic senators invited by Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and Joseph S. Clark Jr., D-Pa., to caucus Dec. 30 to organize a new attack on the Senate's so-called filibuster rule.

NEEDS TWO-THIRDS OK

As the rule stands, two-thirds of those voting must approve before debate can be limited on civil rights or other measures.

Clark said in a statement Tuesday that Kennedy's comment should provide "a shot in the arm" for efforts to change the rule.

"I predict that we will succeed in restoring majority rule in the Senate in 1961," he said.

Kennedy told a news conference he and Vice President-Elect Lyndon B. Johnson agree that it is up to the Senate to decide what changes, if any, it wants to make in the rule.

Two years ago Kennedy joined Democratic and Republican liberals who sought to make such a change. They lost, 67-28. He also was on the losing side of a 58-36 vote on a proposal to permit three-fifths of those voting to limit debate.

WOULD SETTLE FOR LESS

Hart said that while he would prefer a debate limitation invoked by a majority of those voting, as Kennedy suggested, he personally would be willing to settle for something less. He said he would regard as satisfactory a rule under which 51 members—a majority of all elected senators—could cut off debate.

★ ★ ★

Hart and other Democratic liberals are expected to support an effort at the opening of the new Congress to adopt new Senate rules by a majority vote under a procedure by which a majority of those participating could halt any filibustering efforts.

These Democrats, backed by Case and other liberal Republicans, contend the Senate is not a continuing body and, like the House, must approve its rules at the start of each congress.

But nobody involved believes a Senate majority would approve any such ruling. In fact, 54 present members of the Senate — including Johnson—went on record two years ago against it.

★ ★ ★

Despite the prospect of failure, Case said the liberals should go ahead with their move.

Predict a Rise in Stock Market

Firm Says Industrial Average Enters Second Year of 'Plateau' Area

NEW YORK (UPI) — Spear & Staff, Inc., predicts that the Dow-Jones industrial average low for 1961 will be between 570 and 600, and the high between 670 and 700. Spear also says the average is entering its second year of a "plateau" area which is likely to extend into 1962.

★ ★ ★

"The Trend Analyst" notes that in all of the last 10 years the Dow-Jones industrial average has risen from Dec. 15 to Jan. 7. While this year could be the exception, it says, the evidence in favor of a generally rising pattern for the next three weeks is so overwhelming that it cannot be ignored.

★ ★ ★

As a trading recommendation for this week, J. W. Sparks & Co. favors international Tel & Tel as a candidate for near-term capital gains. The issue has constructed an extremely favorable technical pattern and Sparks suggests purchase at the market.

★ ★ ★

Investors Advisory recommends five stocks for 1961: American Broadcasting-Paramount, Chesebough-Ponds, McCall Corp., Phillips Petroleum and Winn-Dixie Stores.

"Investing for financial independence" recommends Murphy Corp. for the young investor, National Acme for the middle-aged and Southwestern Public Service for those retired or soon-to-be retired.

Bomb-Scare Prank Gets Youth 2 Years

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A lanky, 17-year-old Tampa youth who telephoned a bomb scare message to an elementary school last month "just to see what would happen," found out when a judge sentenced him to two years in prison.

★ ★ ★

It is believed Kitchen is the first person to be sentenced under a new state law which makes bomb scare calls a felony with punishment up to 10 years in prison.

★ ★ ★

Grayson, admitting the term was stiff, said if he let Kitchen go, others would "get the idea they can scare the fire out of their teachers by doing the same thing."

PATERNITY SUIT PRINCIPALS — Dennis Crosby (right), son of Bing Crosby, poses in Los Angeles Tuesday where he appeared in Superior Court in connection with a paternity suit. Marilyn Scott (left) holds 3-year-old Denise, outside the court. She claims Dennis is the father of the child, born Nov. 24, 1957. The attorney representing Miss Scott says the only issue in the suit is to determine whether Crosby is the father of the child.

To Recommend Metal on Ships

Carrier Fire Not Nearly So Bad 'Without Wood Scaffolding'

NEW YORK (AP) — The commandant of the Third Naval District said today he will recommend that the Navy use only metal scaffolding in its shipyards.

Vice Adm. Charles Wellborn Jr., said one fact that has emerged from the aircraft carrier Constellation fire Monday is that the Navy's custom of using wood scaffolding should be changed.

Fire Chief George David earlier had said the fire would not have been nearly as extensive if metal scaffolding was used —as is required on city pier construction.

Plywood interior work and cans of paint also nourished the fire.

An ironical note was added by a Navy fact sheet on the carrier. "Fireproof and fire resistant materials have been used throughout . . ." it said.

Double Holiday for Ike Grandchildren

There'll Be Joy at White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The holiday season at the White House is especially festive for two of the Eisenhower grandchildren.

* * *

Mary Jean Eisenhower is five years old today. Her older sister Susan Elaine will be 9 on Dec. 31.

Their birthdays will be remembered when the family assembles in the executive mansion on Christmas Day for a traditional dinner.

* * *

Exactly one month from today, Secret Service agents will cease guarding the youngest Eisenhowers at school and play.

* * *

For 12-year-old Dwight David Eisenhower II, this will mean the loss of an adult playmate who was always available for a game of catch in baseball or football season.

No new assignment has been announced for John Eisenhower but it's doubtful if any Army job will give him the same access to world leaders that he received during his tenure as assistant staff secretary in the White House.

* * *

He also has been a guest at several White House dinners and the Army colonel and his wife accompanied the chief executive on the goodwill tour to India a year ago.

John Eisenhower has the reputation among White House regulars of being a rather shy but approchable young man.

* * *

On one occasion, recently, he visited the office of James Rowley, head of the White House secret service detail, and chatted with the presidential bodyguards for hours.

His wife Barbara is highly regarded by fathers among the press corps for the gentle but effective way she can discipline the president's beloved grandchildren.

The John Eisenhowers have tried —by moving to Gettysburg — to keep their youngsters out of the limelight in preparation for the years ahead when they will not be showered with attention at every turn.

Laos Rebels Dig In for Showdown Battle

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pro-Communist Capt. Kong Le's rebel forces, bolstered by Soviet air-drops of arms and ammunition, apparently are digging in for a showdown battle with the pro-Western forces that drove them from this battered Laotian capital.

★ ★ ★

The paratroop captain and his force, estimated at 800 men, reportedly have halted their retreat and are taking positions along a line stretching from Boun Phong, 35 miles north of Vientiane, to Vang Vieng, 110 miles north of the capital, these sources said.

Two Soviet transport planes are shuttling military supplies to Boun Phong and Vang Vieng, presumably from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam, eyewitnesses have informed Western sources.

★ ★ ★

The area, a V-shaped valley cut into the foothills north of Vientiane, is a Pathet Lao stronghold.

Vientiane itself, scarred by four days of shelling and street fighting, is slowly coming back to life.

An estimated 5,000 homeless are billeted in refugee camps or overcrowded homes. According to conservative estimates, more than 150 persons were killed and 500 wounded in the fighting. Most were civilians.

★ ★ ★

American, British, French and other relief planes are shuttling rice, milk and medicine from Bangkok and Saigon.

Burned-out areas are being bulldozed, but reconstruction work has not started.

MEA Headquarters to Rise in E. Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Education Association (MEA) has decided on East Lansing as the site for its new $1-million headquarters, it has announced.

The MEA has been considering several sites, including one at St. Mary's Lake near Battle Creek, where it has a conference center.

The decision was announced by Dr. Fred J. Vescolani, MEA president.

Present headquarters for the group and its more than 60-member staff is in downtown Lansing.

The MEA had enjoyed tax-free status on the property in Lansing since 1929 but recently was told by the city it must start paying taxes.

The MEA contested the ruling to the State Tax Commission but was overruled. The group also will have to pay taxes on the East Lansing property.

The judge of the court in which she filed suit said he will grant the divorce. Miss Merman returned to New York. She does not have to remain in Juarez for final action on the divorce. Her lawyer can pick up the signed papers.

Urban Renewal Agents Hired

Lawyer, 2 Realtors to Handle Acquisition of Property for City

Three professional men have been hired by the city as agents in acquisition of property in the urban renewal area.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission last night approved contracts with Hayward Whitlock, a Pontiac lawyer, and with two Pontiac realtors, Carl W. Bird and William H. Knudsen.

It will be the realtors' job to secure options on the nearly 400 pieces of property to be acquired and Whitlock's to close the deals.

All three will be paid out of federal urban renewal funds at standard federal rates.

SET STANDARD SCALE

It was emphasized by the city administration that Bird and Knudsen are the only two realtors working as agents for the city.

Commissioners also set a standard scale of payments to individuals, families and businesses forced to relocate.

Payments to individuals and families will range from $15 to $82, depending on the number of rooms of furniture moved.

★ ★ ★

Individuals and families have the option of submitting a bill for actual moving expenses, not to exceed $200.

Business concerns are eligible to submit a bill for moving expenses, not to exceed $3,000.

Claims are to be submitted to the urban renewal coordinator and must be approved by him, the city manager and finance director.

Big Titan Missile Fails Test at Cape

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

On another section of the Cape, scientists began taking apart the Project Mercury "man-into-space" capsule which wrapped up its test program for the year one day earlier in an historic unmanned flight of 235 miles over the Atlantic.

Staebler Sees Collins in Post

Likely Dem Chairman; Jackson Man Managed Swainson Campaign

LANSING (AP)—J. Joseph Collins, young Jackson insurance man who managed the campaign of Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson, today appeared to be the probable choice to succeed Neil Staebler as Democratic state chairman.

Staebler, who is retiring after 10 years in the post, has said he expects Collins to win the post at the Democratic State Convention in Grand Rapids Feb. 3-4. Collins announced this week that he would be a candidate.

Collins, 26, closed down his insurance business to manage Swainson's campaign. He said he was establishing a new insurance business and that he would rely on the state central committee staff to do much of the work performed by Staebler, a wealthy Ann Arbor contractor.

★ ★ ★

Staebler receives no pay for his work. The deputy state chairman, Billie S. Farnum, earns about $15,000.

★ ★ ★

Early speculation on a successor to Staebler centered on Alfred V. Meyers, Detroit schoolteacher and chairman of the 12th Congressional District Democratic organization.

Asks Canada Business to Cut Foreign Funds

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada's Finance Minister Donald Fleming Tuesday night took new budget steps to encourage Canadian business in the current economic slowdown and to reduce the influx of foreign capital investment.

Fleming also told Commons he anticipates a $286 million budget deficit for the current fiscal year ending next March 31.

Wolves Attack Dancer, Prancer Up in Lapland

★ ★ ★

Ravenous packs and bloodthirsty lynx have ravaged the reindeer herds of frozen Lapland in the north of Sweden. The slaughter is the worst in memory, government officials said.

The Lapps keep guns and knives close at hand to protect Dancer and Prancer and Donder and Blitzen. This year, the Lapps reported, the native predators have been reinforced by wolf packs from Russian Siberia.

For the wolves — eastern and western—the hunting is good. Unusually heavy snowfalls have driven the Lapps' valuable reindeer herds from the safer, mountain area of Lapland to the valleys in search of food. There the wolves and lynx lurk.

He Confers With Vinson

No Early Reorganizing Planned by McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Robert S. McNamara, defense secretary designate, said Tuesday he plans no early reorganization of the Defense Department. He said he will first take time to see what changes are needed.

McNamara made the statement after a 40-minute conference with Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee.

The veteran Georgia Democrat was understood to have advised McNamara against rushing into any big defense reorganization, especially one as sweeping as that proposed to President-Elect John F. Kennedy by a study commission headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

McNamara said all the service secretaryships and other top civilian posts that would be abolished under the Symington plan will be filled under the Kennedy administration.

* * *

He said he does not anticipate any reluctance on the part of those designated to accept these posts because of fear the jobs might later be abolished.

"I will undertake no major reorganization of the Defense Department in the immediate future," McNamara said.

Asked how long this might be, he added:

"Not until I have a chance to understand the need for any change."

SAYS HE'LL BE TOPS

Vinson, after talking with McNamara, said, "I predict he'll make the best defense secretary the country has had"

"He is young, brilliant, and has vision and determination," Vinson added. "He will devote his entire time to proper administration of the Defense Department."

* * *

McNamara, it was learned, conferred Monday in Winder, Ga., with Vinson's counterpart in the Senate, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Kelvinator Range Back at Grand Rapids Plant

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—George H. Beld, manager of American Motors Corp. Kelvinator Division works here, announced Tuesday component manufacture and assembly of Kelvinator electric range models will be returned to the Grand Rapids plant.

Beld said the move would stabilize employment at the plant, where about 2,200 persons now work.

A firm outside the AMC organization had been doing the work because of lower competitive costs.

George Romney, AMC president, had said last fall, there would be no future for Kelvinator operations in Grand Rapids unless production costs were lowered. Beld's announcement was taken to mean the cost had been lowered sufficiently to warrant future operations.

Southern pine growers have topped their own reforestation records with about 66 million seedlings planted. Louisiana was first, Alabama second and Arkansas third.

Lost Hikers Fast Asleep — at Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Eleven carloads of rescuers spent a long night in the cold —while the two "lost" hikers slept comfortably at home.

Worried wives of Al Moore, 44, and Sam Hanson, 55, both of Phoenix, called the sheriff's office and then joined deputies Sunday in a search when their husbands failed to return at nightfall from a hike over the Estrella Mountains.

* * *

The deputies and wives searched all night.

Shortly after 6 a.m. Monday, the sheriff's office received a telephone call.

"Hear you're looking for someone," said the voice.

"That's right," answered the deputy.

* * *

"Where you been?"

"Home. Asleep all night. Got lost for a few minutes, then we hitchhiked home."

"I see," said the deputy.

"Say, do you know where our wives are?"

"They've been at the mountain all night waiting for you."

"Oh."

"We'll bring 'em home."

"Well, thanks," said Al Moore.

ILA Boycotts Cuban Castro

Dockers Punish Castro for His Toughness on Island Labor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A boycott by the International Longshoremen's Association (I.L.A) against all cargo traveling to or from Cuba started Tuesday.

* * *

William Bradley, president of the ILA, said this step was taken because of "repressive measures against labor" by Fidel Castro's regime.

The Canadian Division of the ILA said it would follow the Canadian government line and refuse to ship goods of strategic importance or goods that originated in the United States to Cuba.

Trade between Cuba and the United States has declined considerably since Castro came to power. Trade between Cuba and Canada is light at this time of year since many Canadian ports are frozen up during the winter.

U.S. Envoy Fled Through Window

Ethiopians Slew 15 From Cabinet

ADDIS ABABA, Ethopia (AP)—Rebels armed with machine guns burst into a room of the imperial palace last week and mowed down 18 cabinet ministers, it was disclosed Tuesday.

* * *

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Richards said he was conferring with 20 ministers at the palace when the rebels broke in. The ambassador escaped through a window.

Richards was in the palace helping to negotiate a truce.

"I was not exactly acting as an intermediary, but as someone recognized by both sides to carry messages. I was asked by both sides to help in this way," he said.

After bursting into the room and machinegunning the ministers, the rebels reportedly returned three times to riddle the bodies with more bullets.

* * *

Fifteen of the ministers were killed. Three were seriously wounded. Two were unhurt.

"When the shooting started, I jumped straight through an open window and got clear away from the palace," Richards said.

Expect UP Jobless to Hit 7,500 by '61

LANSING (AP) — Unemployment in Michigan's Upper Peninsula is expected to reach 7,500 by the end of the year, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

* * *

This figure represents about 7.9 per cent of the labor force, an increase of about 2.7 per cent since October. The MESC said the increase primarily is the result of seasonal layoffs of workers in construction, mining, retail trade and agriculture.

Report Eichmann Will Admit the Facts

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann "will admit the facts but plead not guilty" at his trial in March, his German defense lawyer, Dr. Robert Servatius, said.

* * *

The attorney saw the jailed Nazi Tuesday for the first time since their initial meeting in October. As director of Hitler's program of exterminating Jews, Eichmann is held responsible for about six million deaths.

Servatius told newsmen Eichmann had to carry out orders but now saw World War II events in a different light.

Against Dual Con-Con Vote

GOP Legislators Take Dim View of Picking Delegates in April

LANSING (AP) — A Republican House committee Tuesday took a dim view of a proposal to hold a primary election for selecting delegates to a constitutional convention at the same time as the statewide vote on calling a convention.

George Romney, American Motors Corp. president and chairman of the Coordinating Committee for Constitutional Convention, suggested two weeks ago that the legislature clear the way for a primary election to select delegates at the same time as the regular election.

This, he pointed out, would save the cost of a special election, estimated by state elections officials at more than $500,000.

MAY NEVER EXIST

"Is it fair to ask a person to run for nomination, in some cases in an area covering many counties, to an office that may never exist?" said Rep. Robert E. Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe.

He is chairman of a committee appointed by House Speaker Don R. Pears, R-Buchanan, to study the need for legislation leading up to a convention.

★ ★ ★

The committee, writing to Romney, also raised these other objections:

1. A primary coinciding with a vote on the convention question would "tend to unduly favor those working for the proposal."

2. A concurrent primary and general election for choosing candidates for other offices might be confusing to the average voter.

3. The convention issue is "important enough to our people to take things one step at a time rather than doubling up on procedure which could well confuse the question and prevent full and complete discussion.

Romney also is head of Citizens for Michigan, a statewide, nonpartisan group helped win voter approval last month of a proposal to put the convention question on the April 3 ballot.

Lansing-to-Mackinac Road Nearly Done

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie says the Lansing-to-Mackinac Bridge Freeway will be completed within two years.

More than 90 per cent of the route already is open to traffic or under construction, he said Tuesday at ribbon-cutting ceremonies marking the opening of a 13-mile section from Alma to Mount Pleasant.

Mackie said that when the freeway is completed it will induce a "tremendous increase" in tourist traffic to Northern Michigan.

"I predict tourist travel in Michigan will increase by almost 50 per cent the first full year the system is in operation," he said.

Women's Press Turns Sour on Sweet Debbie

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In 1954 Debbie Reynolds won a golden apple from the Hollywood Women's Press Club for being cooperative. But Tuesday she got a sour apple, meaning least cooperative.

"She was just never available," the women said, explaining Debbie's new status.

Among actors, they awarded a sour apple to Elvis Presley—not because of him but because of his manager, Col. Tom Parker. They called Parker "impossible."

Golden apples—for most cooperative—went to Nanette Fabray and Janet Leigh (a tie) and to Jack Lemmon.

The club's 160 members voted the awards.

Sewage Plans Get Approval

OK Given $3.53 Million Expansion and Bond Issue to Finance It

City commissioners, as expected, last night told City Manager Walter K. Willman to go ahead with plans for a $3.53 million expansion of sewage treatment facilities and a general obligation bond issue to finance it.

Willman said some revisions and additions must be made in the original plans before submission to the State Health Department, hence the added $200,000 cost over the $3.3 million bond issue that was turned down by voters in 1958.

The plans are being readied by Jones, Henry and Williams, a Toledo engineering firm.

Willman said he expected the bond issue would be offered for sale around April 1, in time to have financing ready to let contracts by June 1, deadline under the Circuit Court order obtained by the Water Resources Commission to halt Clinton River pollution.

Because of the court's intervention in the case, the city is now able to issue the bonds without a public vote.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero ordered the expansion completed by June 1, 1963.

The Jones, Henry and Williams plan calls for additions at the present plant site plus new facilities at a new site at Auburn and Opdyke roads.

Willman has reported that State Highway Department plans for Auburn (M59) have been altered to the city's satisfaction.

At one time the highway department planned to cut across the Auburn-Opdyke site with a northern extension to Auburn.

Liz Taylor Ready for Work, Off to London

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor and husband Eddie Fisher leave today for London following several weeks of rest here and in the desert resort of Palm Springs.

She was reported rested and ready to return to work.

Will Open Bids Jan. 4 for Costly Interchange

LANSING (AP) — Bids for a freeway interchange expected to cost some $4 million will be opened Jan. 4.

The State Highway Department said the interchange will be one of the largest in outstate Michigan and will be at the junction of the Detroit-Muskegon and Ohio-to-Soo freeways just east of Brighton.

Jordon Reports Plot by Nasser

Accidental Bomb Death of Man Reveals Store of Explosives

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — An official statement said Tuesday a new plot against Jordan by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic has been discovered.

Jordan authorities alleged that the key man was a Jordanian, Rafiq Rashed Khuzai, 33. They said he accidentally killed himself and two of his children when a time bomb he was making exploded Dec. 13 at Mafraq, 80 miles north of Amman.

His wife and their third child, aged 2, were seriously injured. The house was demolished, the statement said.

More time-bombs and explosives were discovered under the debris. The statement said Khuzai was a government official in the Ministry of Public Works who has been supervising the distribution of American gift wheat.

★ ★ ★

The statement said that investigation revealed that Khuzai frequently visited Syria and had returned from that region of the UAR the day the bomb exploded.

Premier Haza Majali and 10 other persons died last Aug. 29 when time bombs exploded in government buildings.

Here's Your Chance to Name a New College

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The board of control for a new state college in West Michigan today offered a four-year tuition scholarship to the school for a "descriptive, appropriate" name for the institution.

★ ★ ★

Dale Stafford of Greenville, chairman of the board's name contest, said the winning name will be selected by board members.

Winner of the contest may use the scholarship or designate some other person for the award.

"In the bill establishing the new four-year college in West Michigan," said Stafford, "the Michigan Legislature identified the school as Grand Valley College.

MANY LIKE NAME

"Many people like that name but quite a few others have suggested that a more descriptive name might be found.

"We would like to determine if another name might be more appropriate and decided to hold the contest to consider a wide variety of titles."

Stafford said anyone can enter the contest by mailing a name suggestion to "College," Box 135, Greenville, Mich.

The contest will run for one week, from Jan. 3 - 10.

★ ★ ★

The college is expected to be built in the Grand Rapids area and will serve the counties of Kent, Muskegon, Ottawa, Allegan, Montcalm, Ionia, Barry and Newaygo.

Retired Military Pay on Increase

U. of M. Report Shows That $47 Billion Will Be Paid Out by 1983

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Retired military personnel will receive more than $47 billion during the next 23 years if the present laws remain unchanged.

This was the conclusion of a special report by a University of Michigan research group for the Senate Armed Services Committee. It was made public by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

Stennis said preliminary projections clearly indicated a "tremendous increase in costs of retired military pay" in the years ahead. This item now runs considerably under a billion dollars a year at about $775 million for 1960.

If there are no increase in retirement benefits, the Southern lawmaker said, the growing number of men on the retired lists will cause the cost to rise to $1 billion in 1964, $2 in 1972 and $3.4 billion in 1983.

Stennis said the Michigan group had been asked to study whether the present retirement ages — in many cases under 55 — should be revised and whether the interest of the services are best served by the present policy.

Other topics to be considered:

—The possibility of military personnel conttributing to their retirement systems as civil employes do.

—A comparison of military and civil retirement benefits.

AIDING THE NEEDY — The paddy wagon of the Pontiac Police Department is hauling Christmas baskets as well as prisoners during the Yule season. Some 40 food baskets are being distributed to large, needy families by the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) and Family Service of Oakland County, which has received some of the PPOA baskets to distribute. Here, Patrolmen Billie L. Irwin (center) and Patrolman William F. Moore load up the wagon, with Acting Police Chief Joseph Koren (left) looking on.

Old-Style Christmas Not Vermonters' Wish

GRANBY, Vt. (AP) — Candlelight in the austere little church. From an old stove, the crackle of burning wood. And in the air, an incense combining odors of candles, faint wood smoke, and the fragrance of a fresh Christmas tree.

The light wavers on young heads bowed over worn books of Christmas carols. Above the crackling of the stove rise the young voices blending with the chords of an old organ. They sing of the First Christmas.

This is no stage set. This is real. This is Christmas in a corner of 20th Century America. The Vermont towns of Granby and Victory have no public power or electric lights—or television sets.

Besides the time and effort involved in giving their children a community Christmas, there is a calculated risk. Townsmen seated in the worn, brown pews cast worried glances at the candles of the tree. Buckets of water and sand stand handy. Outside are shovels beside banked-up snow.

The villagers, in two years, have raised $2,000 to bring electric lines to their hamlets. It will cost much more. But they keep hoping that next year they will all have their best Christmas present — electricity.

Holidays Find U.S. Taking to the Trees

WASHINGTON (AP) — During this holiday season, Americans are expected to buy more than 40 million Christmas trees worth $50 million.

Will this huge harvest of trees harm the nation's forests? Not at all, says the National Wildlife Federation in its current issue of "Conservation News."

"Trees harvested in the wild are generally cut to release better trees, or high valued species, from undesirable competition. As such, the harvest of natural grown trees is a vital tool in good forest management."

Most trees harvested for Christmas are grown in forests. About 13 per cent come from commercial Christmas tree farms.

Some 12 million trees will be imported from Canada. Almost all the others will come from the West Coast, Northeast and Middle Atlantic states.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Dean Rusk, who will succeed him in the Kennedy administration, conferred at the State Department Tuesday.

Herter had been in Brussels and Paris throughout the week. Rusk has been designated by President-Elect John F. Kennedy for the State Department post when the new administration takes over Jan. 20.

Troy Sets Up Top-Level Confab on Water Plan

Completion Could Bring 30-Year Detroit Contract

TROY — A top-level meeting between Troy officials and the city's bonding, engineering and legal consultants will be held here Jan. 3 to discuss a master water plan being drawn up for the city.

City commissioners are awaiting completion of the master plan before making a final decision on signing a 30-year contract which would allow Troy to be supplied water from Detroit.

* * *

City Manager David E. Firestone has been holding preliminary contract talks with Detroit officials on some points to which commissioners have objections in the long-term agreement.

The commission hopes to sign the contract soon so an extra source of water will be available in Detroit by summer.

Troy's only source of supply currently is a system of municipally owned wells which have been operating near peak capacity the last few summers.

* * *

City water is not available to many residents here. They are supplied through privately owned wells. Others have tapped in to city water mains with private lines.

Because of the importance of the water problem in Troy, Firestone said he expects a good representation of residents at the meeting, which is slated for 7:30 p.m. in the City Hall.

Attending the session beside Firestone, City Commission members and City Engineer Joseph Schugarth will be James Pollack, bonding consultant; Stratton Brown, bonding attorney; and a representative from Pate-Hirn Associates, bonding consultants.

ASKS X-WAY NOTICE

In connection with the water problem, the City Commission said it wants to be given notice ahead of time on any change in the route of the proposed Chrysler Expressway through Troy.

Commissioners said any change in the route would disrupt the city's plans for water and sewer pipes.

In a letter to the commission, the State Highway Department stated that it expected to send a representative to the commission before final alignment of the expressway route is made.

* * *

* * *

The increase, effective Jan. 1, will boost Firestone's annual salary to $10,500.

Phone Exchange Planned in Area

Will Serve 1,230 Now in Milford Setup; Mostly North of M59

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP—Plans for the creation of a General Telephone Co. exchange in the White Lake area of Highland Township were announced today by the company's Milford manager, Robert M. Keefer.

The new exchange will serve 1,230 customers, now a part of the Milford exchange, primarily north of M59.

"This construction will provide expanded and improved telephone service to customers in this area," Keefer stated. Featuring dial and direct distance dialing service, the White Lake exchange is scheduled for operation by early fall or next year.

Architectural and construction contracts for a general telephone building at White Lake have been awarded to Smith, Hinchman and Grylls of Detroit and Emmett J. Bissel of Milan, respectively. The $64,900 structure is to be started this month and be completed late next spring.

Installation of $162,100 of automatic dial equipment, which will provide 800 lines and 1,500 main station telephones, will begin as soon as the building is completed, Keefer said.

He indicated outside plant and facilities necessary to create the new exchange would involve an investment of $277,500.

"This activity is part of General Telephone's 1961 multimillion dollar expansion and improvement stated.

Southfield Woman Charges Charter Violations

Fear Suit to Delay $1-Million Project

SOUTHFIELD—A former Southfield Township deputy clerk has threatened suit against Southfield that could delay the city's $1-million improvement project for at least two months.

* * *

Mrs. Thomas E. Yoki of 22500 W. 11-Mile Road is challenging the council's policy of "doing just as it pleases."

Specifically she charges that council members have not followed the city's charter in determining the method of financing a $50,000 water line that would run past her house.

The council has scheduled a second public hearing on the water line near Mrs. Yoki's home. It will be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 1 at the Southfield Ten School, Southfield and Berg roads.

* * *

All water, sewer and paving projects in Southfield have been lumped together in one $1-million project. By doing this city officials say they can get lower interest rates than by having to finance several smaller projects.

The only hitch is that no one will loan Southfield the money during the time a suit threatens any part of it.

Mrs. Yoki and her neighbors are protesting that they shouldn't have to pay the entire cost of the 16-inch water line in front of their property.

They argue that the city should pay for the transmission line, instead of the property owners, because it will serve the city-at-large rather than just those who live along 11-Mile Road.

CITES OTHER LINES

They point out that the city has financed other transmission lines along Nine Mile, 10-Mile and Telegraph roads as well as other main arteries.

In these cases, the cost of the water lines has been paid by water revenues from all over the city.

City Administrator Robert J. McNutt said he sympathizes with Mrs. Yoki's stand, but he indicates that the city has already reached its debt limit on water revenue bonds.

* * *

An exception could be made by dipping into surplus water funds, but the council fears this would set a precedent and other requests would follow, according to the administration.

* * *

He stated that the immediate need for water north of 11-Mile and west of Lahser prompted the city council to propose the special assessment plan.

There could be about a three-year delay before any new revenue bonds could be sold, said McNutt.

According to Mrs. Yoki, there wouldn't be much difference in the amount she had to pay under either plan. But by special assessment her payments would start now and with revenue bonds, they would begin when she taps into the new line.

* * *

The former deputy clerk has forced the new hearing on financing the transmission lines because of an alleged charter violation.

* * *

She said that the assessment roll approved by the city council at its first hearing was not the same as the one filed for public inspection before the hearing. It is on this point that she bases her threat of suit.

* * *

Mrs. Yoki could hold up the planned bond issue at the time when the money is actually borrowed. This would be after the city asks the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission for approval to borrow the $1 million in March.

A new greenhouse tomato variety, Spartan Red 8, has just been released by the Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State University.

Oakland Twp. Hopefuls Circulating Petitions

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — Nominating petitions for the first primary election ever held in Oakland Township are now being circulated by candidates, according to Township Supervisor Frank J. Voll Sr.

Candidates formerly were chosen in a caucus held in the township hall until the Township Board voted to change the election procedure two years ago, Voll said.

The supervisor reported that the deadline for filing nominating petitions for public offices in the township is 4 p.m. Jan. 2.

The petitions are to be returned to Township Clerk Mrs. Lucy Alt at 1800 Buell Road.

* * *

Voll, who has been supervisor for seven years, said he is running for re-election himself.

Another veteran township official, Treasurer Walter T. Barkham, said he will not be running this year, according to Voll. Barkham has been township treasurer for 28 years.

Oakland Township residents will get their first chance to vote in a primary for the positions of township clerk, trustee, justice of the peace and constable in addition to the supervisor and treasurer posts.

Voll said the township board decided to do away with the horse-and-buggy caucus because it believed the primary election was a more democratic method of selecting candidates.

* * *

"Only the people present in the township hall could vote in a caucus," Voll explained. "A person could get himself elected by packing the hall with only those who would vote for him."

* * *

Voll recalled that this led to some fairly stormy sessions around election time.

State Treasury Back to Normal

Drops Priority System as Manageable Deficit of $40 Million Reported

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's State Treasury went back to "business as usual" Tuesday.

* * *

Gov. Williams and the State Administrative Board decided there was no longer any need to approve all major expenditures from the state's general fund coffers.

"The cash crisis is over, and has been for about four months," said State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown.

"We now have a manageable deficit of about $40 million," he said. "As long as it stays at about that level or below there is no need for the administrative board to use a priority system for spending state funds."

The board set up the priority expenditure method in May 1959, at the peak of the so-called "cash crisis" when the state treasury hit bottom and state employes missed a payroll.

Gov.-Elect Swainson will take over the reins Jan. 1.

Rochester C. of C. Elects New Officers

* * *

Other officers elected at last night's organizational meeting were Jack Burr, vice president; Keith Crissman, treasurer; Betty Levick will again serve as secretary.

The chamber of commerce definitely decided upon an increased dues structure.

New members of the group are Fred Weihe of Goodison Manufacturing Co.; Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., attorney Harry Huber, Robert Swainson of Michigan State University Oakland; and Crissman of Crissman Chevrolet.

* * *

Joseph Watson, insurance agent, was named to fill the unexpired term of Charles Dillman.

Dillman was named to the post earlier this year.

Brucellosis Defense

Urges Calfhood Needles

Most of the replacement calves in Michigan's cattle herds will be eligible for calfhood vaccination against brucellosis within the next four months, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

* * *

Dr. C. H. Failing of 2270 Metamora Road, Oxford Township, who is the Federal-State Department of Agriculture veterinarian in Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and Livingston counties, urges calfhood vaccination.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease of cattle and has cost Michigan cattle owners millions of dollars over the years in loss of calves, sterility, and reduced milk production. Under certain conditions man may contract the disease through infected animals. This is sometimes known as undulant fever.

Dr. Failing also stated livestock owners should continue calfhood vaccination against brucellosis even though the number of infected herds has been greatly reduced in recent years through the Federal-State program.

* * *

"Dairymen and beef breeders should keep in mind," said Dr. Failing, "that calfhood vaccination provides excellent protection against brucellosis, increases the sale value of the animal, and could easily mean for a dairyman or beef breeder the difference between profit and loss. There is no known treatment for the disease."

* * *

Losses in herds officially vaccinated with Strain 19 vaccine by a veterinarian are almost unknown, Dr. Failing said.

He added that calfhood vaccination provides the cheapest income insurance a cattle owner can buy.

To Ask Broader Aged Benefits

Senator Wants More Liberal Plan Owing to Program's Low Cost

LANSING (AP)—The chairman of a Senate committee studying Michigan's medical care program for the aged says he will ask for expanded benefits next year.

Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, R-Scottville, said cost of the program, shared by the state, federal and county governments, has been less than anticipated.

Stephens stated since the program was authorized by a special legislative session in September, only 2,596 aged patients have been approved for participation.

He said he will ask for a liberalization of the plan by the 1961 Legislature.

The present program could be expanded, he said, by adding nursing care at home, by use of nursing homes following acute care in hospitals and by increasing the amount of money a couple is allowed to have while still qualifying for benefits from $2,000 to $2,500.

Many other states are watching developments in Michigan because it was the first state to adopt the maximum federal formula, he added.

"From the experience to date, we believe the new provisions will not increase state costs but actually result in long term savings," Stephens concluded.

Cost of the program in Michigan for a fiscal year is estimated at $10.8 million.

The federal government will pay 50 per cent of the cost, the state 40 per cent and counties 10 per cent.

ROCHESTER — A family candlelight Christmas Eve service will be conducted in the First Congregational Church at 8 p.m. The Nativity scene will come alive with Christmas carols and pageantry woven together by narration.

Both the Chancel Choir and Junior Choir will set the mood with Christmas music.

The Junior Pilgrim Fellowship shall become a live Nativity scene being visited by angels, shepherds, and kings. The Rev. Robert Jacobson will narrate.

A nursery for small children will be provided. The service will last about 45 minutes.

Consumers' Hearings Delayed Till Jan. 5

LANSING (AP) — Hearings on a Consumers Power Co. request to increase gas rates $13.5 million a year will be resumed here Jan. 5, the State Public Service Commission has announced.

Company attorneys asked the commission to adjourn the hearings Tuesday. They said they would present witnesses to argue against the testimony of commission staff members who recommended an increase of about $5.6 million a year.

Consumers has some 533,000 gas customers in 30 Lower Peninsula counties.

Services Listed for Lutherans at Brooklands

BROOKLANDS—Holiday services for the next two weeks have been announced by Gethsemane Lutheran Church in Brooklands, according to the pastor, the Rev. Norman Kuck.

Christmas observance will be ushered in with the traditional children's service beginning at 7:30 p.m. Christmas Eve. At 11 p.m. worshippers will gather for the midnight service which will include the celebration of the Holy Communion.

On Dec. 25 the regular Sunday schedule will be followed with the exception of Sunday School which will be canceled for the day. Both the 8:15 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. Christmas Day services will also provide the sacrament of Communion.

A special New Year's Eve vespers has been planned to start at 7:30 while the New Year's Day schedule will follow the usual Sunday form with the observance of Holy Communion in both services.

Sunday School will meet at the customary hour and newly elected church officers, as well as incumbents carrying over, will appear in a body in the late service to be commissioned for duties in the new year.

The pastor announces that junior catechumen instruction will be canceled for the one session Dec. 24 to reconvene Dec. 31 at 9:30 a.m.

SET TO SING — The annual Christmas program at Clarkston High School will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Little Theater. The Senior Chorus under the direction of Martha Jetter, which is pictured here, will offer both secular and Christmas selections, and the newly organized Girls' A Cappella Choir will sing a special arrangement of "Little Drummer Boy." Willie Knox will be the featured tenor soloist in the men's quartet, singing "Mary Had a Baby." The drama department will portray the Christmas story in tableaux and song, under the coaching of Miss Lorna Wildon. The concert is open to the public.

Yule in Other Lands Means Many Things: Different, Interesting

In the Catholic Philippines, Christmas is celebrated with all its religious significance. In Buddhist Japan, it is a time for a rip-roaring night on the town.

The Republic of Korea sees Christmas most clearly in the American tradition.

Filipinos start off the Christmas season early on Dec. 16 when they rise early and attend the first of a nine-day series of Masses called "Misa de Gallo." It is climaxed by midnight Mass Christmas Eve and ends Jan. 6, the day the Three Magi visited Jesus in the manager and brought their precious gifts of gold, myrrh and frankincense.

★ ★ ★

After the ninth day Mass, there is a reunion of all members of the family over a sumptuous table laden with fruits, roast pig and other delicacies in what is known as "noche buena."

★ ★ ★

In some towns near Manila, an old custom is kept alive. It is called "panunuluyan," or the search for shelter. It depicts the search for shelter by Mary and Joseph in the town of Bethlehem the night Jesus was born.

A Filipino man and woman dressed like the holy couple go around town knocking vainly from door to door while a crowd gathers around. The procession ends when the couple is received at the church where the nativity scene is re-enacted.

The atmosphere is completely different in Japan. The most important holiday of the year for Japanese is New Year's Day. In contrast to western New Year's celebrations, Japan is quiet Jan. 1. It is a time to visit reatives and exchange gifts. It is not a time for rousing celebrations.

The Japanese make up for it Christmas Eve. Tokyo's famed Ginza area is crowded with celebrants, and loud speakers blare out Christmas carols.

Not missing a trick, Japans' department stores take advantage of the Christmas season to promote sales. Huge Santa Clauses appear in the stores or sales girls sport Santa Claus uniforms.

TIPPLER'S DELIGHT

Christmas Eve in Japan is the tippler's delight. There were so many last year that an organization of housewives sent out patrols to remove drunken men from the streets so they wouldn't be injured. Police also send out special drunk patrols that night.

Under the martial law government of Pakistan President Ayub Khan, Dec. 25 was declared a national holiday, the birthday of founder Mohammad Ali Jinnah. Dec. 25 has become a day of prayers and visiting of mosques throughout Pakistan.

On Dec. 24 all shops are ablaze with colored lights. Government buildings are lighted throughout the night and movies-houses, shops and night clubs do a brisk business.

Although less than 3 per cent of Formosa's population is listed as Christian, many Chinese observe the yuletide with exchange of cards and gay dancing parties Christmas Eve.

The drinking and merry-making suggest the spirit of America's New Year's Eve rather than the Christian holiday.

★ ★ ★

But Chinese, long in contact with the western world, exchange Christmas cards illustrated with Santa Claus or the Babe in the manger in a spirit of friendship rather than religious observance.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Singapore Christians celebrate Christmas in much the same manner as in western nations. But it comes during the rainy season when the temperature usually is in the mid-80's.

Children are not taught that Santa comes on Christmas Eve and delivers them presents. They are told that Santa is the spirit of Christmas.

★ ★ ★

Preparations for Christmas already have begun in Singapore. They include tidying up the house, with every member of the family being assigned a specific task. New paint is applied, old curtains replaced, walls whitewashed and floors polished.

★ ★ ★

In cosmopolitan Singapore, Christmas is accepted and respected by all non-Christians, many of whom participate in some of the celebrations. Christmas is a national holiday just as are all the major Moslem, Hindu and Chinese holidays.

Christmas ranks in importance with Moslem Hari Raya celebrations, but does not have the islandwide impact of the Chinese New Year.

Subcommittee Hits ICC, CAB

Senate Oversight Unit Drops Parting Bomb of Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House subcommittee that exposed the TV quiz show scandals has fired a parting salvo of criticism at the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

★ ★ ★

It was learned Tuesday night that the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, which goes out of business Jan. 3, adopted the critical report of its staff at a secret meeting Friday. The report is to be made public today.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Steven B. Derounian, R-N. Y., was one of several subcommittee members who protested making the report public. Derounian called it "unfair, unjudicial and beneath the dignity of a congressional committee supposed to be seeking the facts."

★ ★ ★

"It isn't very American," Derounian added, "for the committee to make the report public without first holding hearings to determine whether the charges are true and give the people concerned their day in court."

There was no immediate comment from CAB or ICC spokesmen.

CHARGES LISTED

The charges in the report were in general terms and made few specific allegations against individuals. Among subcommittee charges:

1. The ICC was lax in renewing the operating certificate of Interstate Dress Carriers, Inc., a New York truck company that hauls garments, despite the company's "long history of violations of ICC regulations."

2. Alleged close relations between a trucking trade association and ICC officials in Texas and alleged favored treatment for the association in enforcing regulations. No names of companies or individuals were specified except for last names of some ICC personnel and others in several letters quoted by the subcommittee report.

3. The CAB's findings of probable cause of air accidents "are conditioned on the effect such findings may have on the promotion of civil aviation." Also, the CAB takes too long to decide economic proceedings before it and certain CAB officials have received unusual hospitality from air carriers. . . "Again no names were specified.

NEW YORK (AP) — A device to simulate a mother's heartbeat so that infants will cry less and sleep better is among new products this week.

★ ★ ★

The "heartbeat simulator," made by Sonotone Cour., Elmsford, N. Y., is in a plastic case the size of a small table radio and is placed next to the baby's crib, reproducing the sound of a mother's heartbeat at the level of soft conversation.

'Blessed Art Thou, Mary' . . . Chapter Three

Holy Ghost Appears to Frightened Bride

(Editor's Note: The Annunciation of Mary is one of the dramatic moments that led up to the first Christmas nearly 1,960 years ago. Here, adapted from noncanonical documents highly regarded by the early church, is an account of how that event may have occurred.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A shaft of sunlight poured down from the high window. Mary sang softly to herself as she moved the shuttle to and fro, filling the weft of the true purple.

Her heart was high. Her work was good.

She tilted her head from side to side with the cadence of her singing. How nimbly raced her fingers, how richly sparkled the velvet. It grew with each crossing of the yarn, as if it, too, had life and promise.

The memory of his fond leave-taking brought color to her cheeks.

"I go away to build my buildings," he had said, "and I will come again unto thee." He looked down on her warmly, his bronzed brow knit with protective concern. "The Lord shall watch over thee."

Musing contentedly, she paused in her weaving. She leaned back her head, her eyes closed, her face upturned, caressed by the cascade of sun. At that moment, she started.

★ ★ ★

Mary!

She sat up, sharply attentive. She had heard, but heard not. Here in her private chamber, alone with her thread and thoughts, she sensed some further presence, some calling round about, some unfallen footstep.

She quit the loom and hastened across the floor to the doorway. She pushed the portier aside, listening. There was nothing except the smoke curling from the brazier, a cup left empty on the table.

She frowned, pressing her fingers to her temples. She must have dreamt it. O Lord, shield thy servant from vain imaginings. Assuredly, her idle reflections had brought that twinge of fantasy.

She sighed and strolled back to her yarn basket, running her fingers meditatively through the soft texture. It soothed and tingled the flesh like featherdown. A delicate gift for her Lord.

She was greatly honored that the priests had appointed her to weave the true purple for the Temple halls. Five other virgins of Nazareth, Rebecah, Zipporah, Susanna, Abigea and Cael, also spun and embroidered Temple draperies.

SHE PRAYED

But they wrought the blue, the golden, the fine linen and silk, while to Mary had gone the distinction of fashioning the scarlet and true purple. She clasped her fingers under her chin. O Lord, pray that these hands ever please thee.

She noticed the slant of the sun, the ninth hour. Each day, she customarily prayed until the third hour in midmorning, then wove until the ninth in midafternoon.

Thereafter she attended to the household of Joseph, the duties of grinding grain, cultivating the garden, kneading dough, baking, cleaning, washing linen for his children.

They were loving little tasks. Simon, James, Joses and the others. She drew on her veil, picked up the waterjar, and perching it on her head, went out of the house and down the hill toward the well.

Plumes of smoke drifted from open doors of the limestone houses. Birds darted and trilled in the sunlight. A group of women washed and carded wool. In the distance, she could hear the clang of tools in metalshops, the lowing of kine.

★ ★ ★

She savored the peace and beauty of it all. How amiable are thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts. The green valley stretched away below the fig orchard, and children shouted at play in the leafy arbors.

★ ★ ★

The day, its joy and peace, transported her, and she moved on, skipping gleefully a step or two. Ach! She braced her waterjar precariously, laughing.

And then it came again, that stabbing, unsubstantial thing.

Hearken, Mary! Give heed!

Her body stiffened, and her gaze cast about, but she saw no one. It was as if some spirit approached, some form she could not discern, some voice she could not comprehend. O Lord God, have mercy . . .

Something had bewitched her, some uncanny power. She walked on rapidly, her face white and strained. She would be done with girlish rhapsodizing. She must fetch her water and be on with her work.

★ ★ ★

Other women passed, turning to stars at her perplexedly, as she rushed on. O Lord God of Abraham, Father of us all, lend thy help.

★ ★ ★

She lowered her jar, and with trembling fingers, fastened the rope to the handles. She let it down, her lips moving soundlessly.

The jar filled slowly, exasperatingly slow. She bit her lip, her eyes darting desperately about. She still was aware of some throbbing in the air, some rigorous, overwhelming constraint, lancing her to the very center of her being, a gathering force charging over her like a rush of wings. God, Lord God!

Hail!

Hail, thou that are highly favored!

She dropped her jar, throwing her arm over her eyes against the light, and fled blindly back toward the house.

★ ★ ★

The presence, the inexorability of it, clung to her as she ran, stumbling, crying, racing in terror. In her chamber, she fell to her knees, covering her face, and again the visitation spoke.

The Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women!

She crumpled to the floor, shaking.

Her voice was a frightened wail.

"Hear me and deliver my soul, you who are the God of my salvation."

Her face was smothered in her knees. Her shoulders heaved.

Fear not, Mary.

A silence and then again that commanding reassurance.

Fear not, Mary, for thou hast found favor with God;

Slowly, and at length, her body became less rigid, but sobs still rose from deep within her.

Behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call him Jesus.

He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Most High . . .

She shook her head, bewildered, trembling, not intending to speak, yet speaking, her voice like a puzzled child's, simple, detached. "How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?"

. . . the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee.

Again, her voice seemed to rise by its own force, remote, yet inward, controlling, without question. ". . . Be it unto me according to thy word."

She was pulled, hurled; she had flung herself into an unexplainable, deeply personal and profound unknown.

The full shock did not come to her until later. That night she cried and tossed on her couch until dawn, alternating ecstatic, incredulous and frightened. Shortly afterward, she packed a few belongings and fled Nazareth.

No one there, no relatives, nor friends, could hope to understand. And the thought of Joseph returning now filled her with panic.

She went to a mountain settlement where now dwelt the old priest, Zechariah, who had schooled her since childhood in the mysteries of God, and his wife, Elisabeth, who had comforted her through youth.

Mary buried her face on her cousin's breast, and as the older woman stroked her hair, the fright subsided, and a pent-up joy burst in her.

She remained there three months, and held her head proudly.

But dread again came over her when she returned to Nazareth, and she hid herself in the house. When she faced Joseph, on his return, she had been with child six months.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Can you give me some advice on what to do to prevent the kidney disease that attacks older dogs? Mrs. F. Wagner, Long Island, N.Y.

A. It is always wiser to prevent a disease than to cure it. Three years old is not too late to start thinking about preventing kidney disease in a dog.

There seems to be a general agreement that one of the causes of kidney disease in older dogs is a very slight infection of leptospirosis sometime during the dogs earlier life. At times it is so slight that it goes unnoticed. Leptospiriosis vaccination, given annually, will help.

To lessen the strain on his kidneys, see that he receives a nutritious diet, free from highly spiced foods. Allow him plenty of exercise to prevent overweight and heart disease. Following these preventative measures will certainly help to prolong your dogs life.

The idea of decorating the Yule tree probably stems from the ancient custom of hanging foodstuffs high on the branches of evergreens to keep them out of the reach of prowling animals.

They Channel Gifts and Make Them Systematic

Christmas Bureaus Help Needy Families

By NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

At first glance it may seem alien to the joy of giving to organize it in platoons of statistics on just who needs what.

But in practice, it brings order out of the mighty seasonal confusion resulting from the burst of generosity that strikes people at yuletide.

It is set up long before Christmas to act as a confidential agent between people who want to give and people who need help.

Suppose Joe M. at the county home for old people needs a set of dentures. Somcone tells the local Christmas bureau. A community women's club turns in $150 as a gift for the needy and Joe gets his false teeth.

A probation officer told a Syracuse, N.Y., bureau about 15-year-old Jimmy, who was buying a second-hand bike for his newspaper route. Then it was stolen when he still owed $20.

A couple who annually give through the Christmas bureau bought Jimmy the present he wanted most—a new bike.

Every year more employe groups give up office Christmas parties and exchanges of inter-office greeting cards. One such office collected $700 and turned it over to the Christmas bureau which used the money for gifts, clothing and turkey dinners for eight large families.

Individual wants were considered and agency volunteers delivered the gifts so the parents could act as Santa Claus.

There may be critics who complain of a cold heartedness in organized Christmas giving. But there are plenty examples of disorganized generosity.

SOME IRREGULARITIES

The Milwaukee Christmas Bureau reported 743 potential gift duplications. Another said that without checking, two families would have had help from four different donors and 11 by three donors—while other needy cases were ignored.

Six different service clubs may descend on a single children's home with quantities of candy, mittens and toys. Two blocks away a family can live in real want, unnoticed at holiday time.

Contributions to parties for needy children may make a merry few hours for all concerned.

Contrast that, agency people say, with the lasting good of money to pay for braces for the crippled; picnic baskets, box cameras and folding chairs for a club of elderly persons; play equipment for the often forgotten youngsters in detention homes.

There is a wide range of ideas for gift giving where it counts. One group of school children turns in pennies to buy a food scale for a 12-year-old diabetic boy; a men's club reconditions TV sets at an orphanage; people give trading stamps to a Christmas bureau to buy toys and clothing.

There are some 200 Christmas bureaus throughout the nation, developing from a program started more than 40 years ago. They offer a giant pack for would-be Santas to fill.

Bentley's Campaign Cost Alarms Ohio Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Ohio senator says he thinks it is rather frightening that "millionaire Republican Alvin Bently spent more than $400,000" in his unsuccessful race in Michigan for U.S. senator.

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, said "This tremendous expenditure is symbolic of what is going on in many contests for election to the United States Senate."

"It is startling, in fact, rather frightening. The writer is most pursuaded than ever before not to be a candidate for re-election in 1964 but to retire to private life; returning to Cleveland and the practice of law."

Bently, a member of the House until his term expires next month, was defeated by Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Young said Bentley, according to his own accounts and those of his campaign committees, spent more than $400,000 in the campaign.

★ ★ ★

"A highly placed federal official informed the writer that the actual expenditures for the Bentley candidacy exceeded $750,000," Young wrote.

Booze Big Business

NEW YORK (UPI) — Twenty-six years after repeal of the 18th Amendment, the liquor, beer and wine industry in the United States represents an investment of $9 billion and has 1.2 million employes at producing, wholesale and retail levels, according to Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc.

Opposition in Ghana Tells of 30 Arrests

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Ghana opposition leader Joseph Appiah claimed Monday night that 30 members of his United party have been arrested by Ghana police.

Appiah said he feared they had been detained under the Preventive Detention Act, which permits the detention of "political undesirables" for up to five years without trial.

Appiah, son-in-law of the late Sir Stafford Cripps, is Ashanti regional chairman of the Ghana United party and the party's deputy leader in Parliament. By such measures as the Preventive Detention Act, President Kwame Nkrumah has made the United party and other opposition elements largely ineffective.

DISTAFF DIPLOMACY — Mrs. Dean Rusk, wife of the Secretary of State designate, discusses her favorite topic, her children, during an interview Monday in the Rusks' Scarsdale, N. Y., home. The Rusks have three children, David, a student at the University of California, and Richard and Peggy, who live in Scarsdale. When asked if her husband consults her about his work, Mrs. Rusk said, "Well, sometimes I can tell him something I'm an avid newspaper reader."

Bomber Will Get Psychiatric Hearing

A psychiatric hearing was ordered for Pavlick.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert Rust said Monday that Pavlick is violently anti-Catholic and favored turning himself into a human bomb at the Palm Beach Catholic Church while Kennedy was attending Mass.

The white-maned, stocky re postal clerk said he wanted to kill Kennedy because of "the underhanded way he was elected. Kennedy money bought the White House and the presidency."

Pavlick is held in a total of $250,000 bonds on charges of twice threatening Kennedy's life and transporting dynamite across state lines with intent to destroy property.

Casualty—One Thumb

CASTLETON, Vt. (UPI) —David C. Mosher, 21, escaped with only a burned thumb in a freak accident. He was using his car's cigarette lighter when a spark fell on the front seat. As he brushed it away, the car swerved off the road, over a culvert and into a swamp.

Deception Keeps Couple Unaware of Son's Fate

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A charitable deception will keep Christmas 1960 a happy one for an elderly couple who don't know their son was aboard a plane shot down by the Russians last July.

There is a gully wrapped package under the tree for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Posa, both 80, and they will believe it came from their son, Air Force Capt. Eugene Posa.

★ ★ ★

They don't know the Air Force has reported him missing and presumed dead. He was one of seven men aboard an RB47 weather reconnaissance plane shot down over the Barents Sea July 1.

But Capt. Posa's older brother, Philip, still believes his brother may some day be found alive. That's why he has carried out the deception.

★ ★ ★

Each week Philip reads them a letter that supposedly came from Eugene in England. The Posas, Italian, know little English.

Tins Cans Less Tinny

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The steel industry is meeting the threat of the aluminum can by cutting more tin out of the tin can. Where a ton of tin plate to make cans required 31 pounds of expensive pure tin in 1939, it now takes only 12 pounds.

Unlikely to Go Red, Claims Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — President Jose Velasco Ibarra asserted today there is no danger Ecuador will swing into the Soviet Union's orbit despite anti-American demonstrations here.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations, touched off by U.S. refusal to back Ecuador in a border dispute with Peru, "should not frighten anybody," Velasco Ibarra said in a letter to a Quito newspaper. The president said Ecuador's safety from communism is guaranteed "by the antipathy which the great majority of our people feel for communism."

★ ★ ★

Ecuador should not look upon the United States as an enemy, he added.

Pilgrims Hear Bells of Bethlehem

They congregate before dawn to sing, pray and meditate. In one glance they can see the entire landscape which Jesus knew so well — the little town where he was born and the city where he died.

In the mists of dawn they see the rooftops of the birth town, now owned by Jordon, which has been in an official state of war with Israel since 1947. Pilgrims can go there only by making applications which must be approved by both governments.

But in the open fields on the Israeli side of the border, as the sun rises higher in the eastern sky, little groups strain their ears to catch the sound of bells from the Church of the Nativity down in Bethlehem.

★ ★ ★

Throughout the Israeli and the Jordanian sides of the Holy Land many special services are held on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Americans living here have an advantage over many others because they can 'see day-by-day all the places where Jesus lived.

They can attend Mass in Nazareth where He prayed and stroll the streets where He spent his youth.

They can go freely across the border, closed to people of both sides, and spend the holy night in the grotto where he was born.

★ ★ ★

The busiest man in Jerusalem on Christmas probably will be Herbert L. Minard, director of the YMCA, the most popular and by far the best-equipped club in the Israeli capital.

Minard, who comes from Sacramento, Calif., and his wife Marcella from Fresno, Calif., will be too busy on Christmas day to go to Bethlehem.

Celebrations at the "Y" go on for a whole week. There will be a party for some 400 children of all Christian religions, a Christmas Eve carol service and many other activities.

★ ★ ★

At midnight the carillon will ring out from the top of the 152-foot Jesus Tower. The day after Christmas there will be a dinner for 100 guests.

Jack Tells Governor Senate Preference

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy has communicated his views on filling a Senate vacancy in Wyoming to Democratic Gov. Joe Hickey, a spokesman for the president-elect said Monday.

★ ★ ★

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said Kennedy telephoned Hickey recently.

The senator made his views known," Salinger said, ". . . So there's no mystery about them to the governor."

The Republican Senator-elect, Keith Thompson, died after the election and the governor is expected to name a Democrat, probably Teno Roncalio, Wyoming Democratic state chairman.

Explaining why Kennedy called the governor, Salinger said, "It is a matter of interest to the administration who is appointed to the Senate."

A LIVE CHRISTMAS TREE — Students at Waterford Township's Pierce Junior High School decided to have a Christmas tree all year long, so they planted a live tree in the plaza of the school building. A student council campaign to raise funds was stopped when Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cleland of 4474 Rural Road donated two large pine trees to the school. Shown (from left) putting the finishing touches to the Christmas tree decorations are students, Donald Carter, Melvin Patterson, Linda Tarlton and Janet Shipman.

FCC Men View Teacher Plane

Flying Classroom Will Transmit to Schools in 6 Midwestern States

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — The Federal Communications Commission got a firsthand look Monday at a "flying classroom" which will beam lessons by television to more than 800,000 pupils in six Midwestern states.

★ ★ ★

Dr. John E. Ivey Jr., president of the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction (MPATI), gave the group a progress report on the experimental project.

Ivey said MPATI hopes to begin the first full academic year of televised instruction in September 1961.

He said the group hopes to start early next year transmitting sample lessons to schools which have signed up for the project.

★ ★ ★

MPTI, with headquarters at Purdue University in Lafayette, Ind., has more than 526,000 pupils in nearly 17,000 classrooms scheduled to participate in the program, Ivey said.

★ ★ ★

When in operation, the plane will fly at 23,000 feet several hours daily over Montpelier, Ind., and transmit lessons to schools in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Meteor crater, west of Winslow, Ariz., is large enough to provide playing space of 20 football games at one time and two million spectators could watch from its sloping sides.

There are nearly 200 islands in the Solo group lying to the south of Mindanao and together they comprise an area of about 1,600 square miles, recent surveys indicate.

Plane Victim Stephen Buried After Simple Rite

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Stephen Baltz, 11, who for some 24 hours was the only survivor of last Friday's tragic air collision over New York, was buried Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Ironically, an airliner droned above the snow-covered pine trees in Memorial Park Cemetery in suburban Skokie as the boy's body was lowered into a grave.

Stephen died of burns and injuries Saturday, the 135th victim of the crash of two airliners. He was among the 84 passengers on one of the planes.

Stephen was buried after simple services in the Methodist Church where he was baptized and in whose boys choir he sang. Three hundred persons filled the church.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Dr. Harold Bosley said: "Birth and death are part of God's plan. . . . Love and loss go hand in hand." The pastor made no mention of the air disaster.

★ ★ ★

There were some tears among the mourners and a few muffled sobs. But Stephen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Baltz, and his sister, Randee, 9, sat dry-eyed and soberly attentive. His younger brother, William, 4, did not attend the services.

Better Plane Control Urged for England

LONDON (AP) — A Laborite member of the House of Commons urged the British government today to place all ground control of both civil and military flights in Britain under a single authority.

Tom Driberg said the Aviation Ministry should review air traffic control arrangements at British airports immediately "in view of the constant increase in air traffic and the recent disasters in New York, Munich and elsewhere."

Military flights in Britain are generally routed away from civilian airlanes and are controlled by the Royal Air Force. Civilian flights are controlled by the Aviation Ministry.

Security Medal Is Awarded to Robert Murphy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has presented the National Security Medal to Robert D. Murphy, 65, retired U.S. diplomat, the White House announced.

Murphy's citation said he had made an outstanding contribution to U.S. security and was "a man of legendary achievement in the cause of freedom during World War II."

Murphy is the career foreign service officer who went ashore from a submarine to help prepare the political climate for the allied invasion of North Africa.

He has served as ambassador, deputy undersecretary of state, and undersecretary for political affairs during a government career which spanned almost 45 years.

Eagles' Coach Hoping for Dry Field Next Monday

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Young Ken Leece, 28-year-old auto worker who travels daily from Pontiac to his job in Detroit, had a date he couldn't miss last night.

"I've never won anything in my life, in fact I still can't believe that I've got $535 in my hand," he said after accepting the checks as the Pontiac Press Bowlerama champion.

It was the largest first place amount won in four years of the tournament and Leece did it the hard way. He was the first bowler in the tourney ever to be the high qualifier and then the champion.

In the past, the high qualifiers always finished up at the bottom of the list in the finals. An example is that of Tom Shara, who twice took qualifying honors and ten ended up way down the list of finalists.

★ ★ ★

"Next time I'd like to be at the bottom of the qualifying list and on top of the finals," said Shara.

For Leece it didn't matter. "I was just happy to make the finals of a tournament. That was a big thrill for me, since it was the first time I had ever entered any tournament," he said.

"Winning it had never seemed a possibility for me. I'll never have two hot weekends like that again probably," he added.

★ ★ ★

Why hadn't he entered the Bowlerama in the past?

"I really don't know," he said, "I guess I didn't have any confidence as a high handicap bowler. But I won't miss it again. I now realize what a terrific chance any handicap bowler has in a tournament like this."

After rolling a 166 in his first game of the finals, it appeared that Leece would join the ranks of the top qualifiers who finish in the lower half of the finals.

★ ★ ★

Then he came through with the best single game in the tournament, a 276 and followed with a 191. His total was 23 pins better than the runnerup.

Leece noted something that other bowlers at Lakewood might consider.

"I must have been on the lucky alleys. Three of the four top prize winners bowled on alleys 3-4," he noted, "those must have been the money alleys."

What will he do with the $535?

"Gee, I've been so excited I never gave it a thought," he said, "I feel shaky though carrying so much money. Maybe I should get a body guard."

Some of the other bowlers who picked up large checks had body guards—their wives. Leece is unmarried.

Eastern Conference Team Named

Van Brocklin Is All-Star

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Quarterback Norman Van Brocklin of the Philadelphia Eagles Tuesday topped an all-star array of Eastern Conference players for the National Football League's annual Pro Bowl game here Jan. 15.

Western Division personnel will be announced Thursday.

This is the ninth time Van Brocklin has been picked. A virus kept him out of one game.

The squad of 34 was chosen by the six Eastern coaches. Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, the retiring Eagles' coach, has been named to coach the East and Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers will coach the West.

★ ★ ★

Philadelphia, the Cleveland Browns and the New York Giants each landed seven men on the squad. The St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Steelers each placed five and the Washington Redskins three.

The east squad:

Decisions Logan Again

BOSTON (UPI) — Unbeaten heavyweight Tom McNeeley Jr. may have earned himself a ranking among the top title contenders on the basis of his bloody victory over George Logan of Boise, Ida. last night.

McNeeley, 199, of Arlington, Mass., was given a unanimous decision in the 10-rounder at Boston Garden, his third straight victory over the hard punching Idaho fighter.

BEST IN ACTUALS — Two of the Pontiac area's better bowlers Paul George (left) and Bill Bull were a happy pair yesterday when they received the trophy awards and bonds as the leading actual bowlers of the Press Bowlerama. George took the Invitational Actual's title with a 674 total and Bull was second with 637.

Troubles (OSU) for Titan Coach

By The Associated Press

Jim Hadnot suddenly has become unbeaten Providence's "has all" in leading the Friars to their last four victories, three of 'em cliffhangers.

Hadnot, a 6-foot-10 junior, scored 29 points Tuesday night but the final two came with one second remaining and pulled out an 81-80 victory over Gonzaga.

Last Saturday, he got the clinching basket with 10 seconds left as Providence beat Canisius 53-50 and his two baskets in an overtime period against San Francisco, gave the Friars a lead they never lost in a 54-47 victory. His first half scoring helped sink Santa Clara 65-59 two nights before that.

Providence gets its next big test against St. John's Redmen in New York's Holiday Festival next week St. John's, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, moved its record to 5-0 with an 87-56 victory over Pitt Tuesday night.

Indiana, ranked fourth, defeated Notre Dame 74-69 for Coach Branch McCracken's 300th basketball victory as Hoosier head coach. None of the other top teams were in action.

Another Big Ten power, Purdue, led by Terry Dischinger's 43 points, beat Evansville's NCAA small college champs 84-75. Don Kojis led Marquette to a 70-62 victory over Iowa State while Northwestern's 53-45 victory over Washington cracked a four game losing streak.

In moving to the finals of the National Invitation Tournament last year, before losing to Bradley, Providence relied on the steel-nerved Lenny Wilkens to provide the vital spark. Wilkens has graduated and Hadnot, teaming sometimes with the flashy Johnny Egan, has been the take charge man in helping Coach Joe Mullaney's men to a 7-0 record this season.

St. John's early 12-1 lead killed Pitt as All America Tony Jackson and LeRoy Ellis took command early. Each scored 15 points in the first half with Jackson getting 25 in all, and Ellis 20. In the opener of the doubleheader, Fordham came from behind to beat DePauw 78-72.

Walt Bellamy, like Dischinger a member of United States Olympic champions in Rome this summer, scored 29 points for Indiana (5-1). Gary Long and Bellamy choked off a late Notre Dame rally for only the Hoosiers second victory in the last six games with the Irish. Tom Bolyard's 18 points led Notre Dame.

Dischinger hit for 17 field goals, personal and school record, missing only six shots from the field. He got 11 straight points late in the second half to stamp out a 61-60 Evansville lead. P. M. Sanders paced the small college champs with 23 points.

Kojis' 23 points and the same number of rebounds beat down Iowa State and gave Marquette its fifth victory in six games. Brad Snyder sent Northwestern in front for good with 5:34 to play and led the Wildcats meager, but balanced attack, with 10 points. Clint Names scored 20 for the Huskies (3-4).

Mark Dumars, a 5-10 sharpshooter, sparked Penn State with 36 points in a 77-58 victory over Syracuse. Jeff Cohen scored 27 points for William & Mary's 80-50 lacing of winless Virginia. The Cavaleers are 0-7 this year and have lost 21 of their last 22 games.

Brigham Young held high-scoring Kansas star Wayne Hightower to only two field goals in an 80-70 victory while little Max Perry scored 27 points in Utah State's record-breaking 110-88 win over Los Angeles State. Wisconsin won over Nevada 89-56, Connecticut upset Brown 85-71, The Citadel beat Georgia Southern 90-84, East Tennessee State surprised Georgia 69-67, Assumption College (Mass.) won the Bluenose Classic in Halifax, Nova Scotia, beating Acadia University 77-52, and Akron University beat Youngstown 79-63 to win its own tourney.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Detroit Pistons finally downed the Los Angeles Lakers, coming from behind in the final quarter for a 97-94 National Basketball Association decision last night.

It was the first victory for the Pistons over the Lakers in five tries this season, and while it nominally left Detroit in the cellar of the Western Division, it also put Detroit, Cincinnati and Los Angeles almost even in the race for second place.

The Pistons went into the final quarter trailing 75-69, but put on a 28-point burst for the victory. Meanwhile the Lakers, forced to play cautiously lest the bonus foul rule destroy them, could manage only 19 points in the period.

Bailey Howell led the victors with 31 but Elgin Baylor of the Lakers again took scoring honors with 37. Gene Shue had 21 for Detroit.

Tom Hawkins, ex-Notre Dame player now with the Lakers, suffered a re-injury to a split finger and had to leave the game. Hawkins said later that he should be ready to go again for the Lakers' next game Dec. 26.

The Pistons led through the early stages of the game, but faltered in the third quarter, getting only 19 points in that period, before unleashing their final rally.

New York, in last place, trails the third place Syracuse Nationals by 4½ games after putting on a hot fourth quarter Tuesday night to beat the Nats, 122-112. It was the third straight defeat for Syracuse.

Passing Attack Is Big Weapon, Says Buck Shaw

Packers Have Excellent Running and Blocking Game for Wet Turf

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles said today he hoped for a dry field Monday in the National Football League title game against Green Bay because a muddy field would be advantageous to the Packers.

As he cast a long eye toward the weather, Shaw explained that a muddy field would give Green Bay the advantage "because of their overall running and blocking."

While he conceded that the Eagles have never been a good blocking team, Shaw called the Packers "the best in the league."

"The better the field, the better we can operate," he said, adding that the Eagles' passing by quarterback Norm Van Brocklin "far overshadows our running."

Shaw also was quick to point out that generally the Eagles' offensive line has given Van Brocklin pretty good protection.

"They play a pretty standard defense," Shaw said, "normally a 4-3 setup. When a team feels they're not capable they do a lot of crazy things defensively. But the Packers have a good, substantial defensive team and whatever they show you, they usually do. They don't start playing around such as Washington did against us last week."

Shaw said he was well pleased with the Eagles' one-hour practice session in Philadelphia Stadium Tuesday which was devoted entirely to offense, particularly passing. Shaw said he might install a few new plays. More of the same non-contact work was on tap for today. Defense will be emphasized in drills Thursday and Friday with a light workout on both scheduled for Saturday. The Eagles will have Christmas Day off.

"Shaw said he hoped to work outdoors the rest of the week but snow forecast for today could force the team inside.

Meanwhile, work crews completed clearing a tarpaulin covering Franklin Field, the game site, of snow which fell last week. The tarpaulin was partially lifted and a quick examination showed the field to be dry.

Shaw reported that physically the team was in pretty good shape with the exception of linebacker Bob Pellegrini, fullback Clarence Peaks and offensive tackle J. D. Smith.

Pellegrini is definitely out. He underwent a knee operation Tuesday for the injury suffered against Washington in the final game Sunday.

Shaw said, however, that he expected to have Smith, who suffered a badly cut finger against Washington, ready for full offensive duty.

Peaks, who suffered a fractured bone above his right ankle Nov. 13 probably will be ready for spot duty, Shaw said. The big fullback has been runing in drills.

Top Rated College Quints Add to Victory Columns

By JERRY GREEN

DETROIT (AP) — What runs through a coach's mind the day before a game with college basketball's supreme ruler, Ohio State?

Troubles and more troubles.

Bob Calihan, who has guided Detroit into the eighth position among the nation's cage powers, has them—a basketfull. The assignment of meeting the unbeaten Buckeyes on their court Thursday night is enough to give Calihan the shivers.

★ ★ ★

Detroit hardly has played like the eighth best team in the country in its last three outings.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with DeBusschere," said Calihan. "But he looked tired against Nebraska last Saturday and again against Gonzaga Monday. He was flat-footed at times. But don't forget he's been going 40 minutes in every game. This physical is just a precautionary measure."

★ ★ ★

"I plan to have Dave guard Jerry Lucas (Ohio's All America) and I don't see any reason why he won't be able to play."

DeBusschere, averaging 20.8 points a game, scored a career low of eight against Nebraska. In the first half against Gonzaga, he scored nine, but appeared dead on his feet. He snapped out of it in the second half and paced Detroit to an 80-75 triumph, its fifth in six games, finishing with 27 points.

The Titans haven't lost at home in two seasons. Their road performances have been flecked with disappointment against most better than average opponents. Two nights after they upset fourth-ranked Indiana in double overtime at home, the Titans fell before Purdue 83-64 on the road.

"I don't think there's such a thing as a road jinx," Calihan said. "Most teams consistently better at home than they are on the road. We're no exception."

But Calihan remembers all seven defeats last year were on foreign courts.

"I don't think we've jelled as much as I'd hoped for at this stage," said Calihan. "We were ready for Indiana and have had a letdown since. We haven't done well at all in our last three games.

"But as a result I think we'll be ready for Ohio. I don't say we'll beat them. But I say we may and can beat them.

Phillies Sign Player

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday signed pitcher Ray Culp, 19-year-old right-hander, to a 1961 contract.

Culp compiled a 6-7 record last year with Des Moines, Iowa, of the Class B Three-I League.

Rushing Title to Jim Brown

Fourth Straight Year Cleveland Back Gains Top Yardage

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great back, has won the rushing title in the National Football League for the fourth straight year.

He is the first four-time winner since Steve Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1945, '47, '48 and '49.

Brown's gains against New York in Sunday's finale and the decision of the Green Bay team to emphasize passing instead of Jim Taylor's running nailed the title for the Cleveland fullback.

Brown finished with 1,257 yards on 215 attempts, an average of 5.8 yards a carry. Taylor gained 1,101 yards for a 4.8 average. John Crow of St. Louis, Nick Pietrosante of Detroit and J. D. Smith of San Francisco followed in that order.

PNH Matmen Lose Only 1 Match in Win Over PCH

A victory by Pontiac Central's Tom Eichhorn in the heavyweight class prevented the Pontiac Northern wrestling team from scoring a complete sweep Tuesday night at PNH as the Huskies chalked up an impressive 37-3 triumph.

The Huskies won 11 of 12 matches from their crosstown rivals in their first meeting on the mats this season to pick up 50 points in the race for The Pontiac Press All-Sports Trophy currently held by PCH.

It was Northern's first win over the Chiefs in any sport this year. Another 50 points in the struggle for the traveling award will be at stake Jan. 17 when the two city foes stage a rematch at PCH.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Other impressive victories were posted by sophomore Allen Wadley in the 95-pound division, Ken Kimmel (112) and Gene Graves (133).

It was Northern's 2nd dual meet triumph of the season in as many starts. The defeat was the first for the Chiefs in dual meet competition following triumphs over Waterford and Fitzgerald.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Larry Cutright, a 19-year-old catcher from Detroit, Mich., has signed his 1961 contract with the Philadelphia Phillies, the club announced today. It was the second received by the Phillies, who Tuesday signed bonus pitcher Ray Culp.

Avondale Loses to Fitzgerald in Close Game

Eagles Survive Last Quarter Rally, 55-53; Utica Triumphs

Ferndale kept its cage mark unblemished, Birmingham Seaholm won its first game and Holly strengthened its Wayne-Oakland lead in area basketball games last night.

A last second shot by Grosse Pointe's Dave Veenendaal rolled off the rim or the Blue Devils would have tied Ferndale. The Eagles had gained a 29-23 halftime lead only to see it slowly cut in the second half.

Larry Tregoning, a 6-4 senior, had another hot night for Ferndale. He poured in 27 points and led his team in rebounding. Veenendaal scored 23 points.

Southfield couldn't stop 6-7 Harry Dunne. The big Seaholm center dropped in 27 points. Gene Schmidt tallied 15 for the Maples. High for Southfield was John VanBurit with 22 points.

Holly remained unbeaten and upped its W-O record to 4-0 behind a 44 per cent shooting mark. Ron Morlan paced Holly with 16 points. Game honors went to Brighton's Fred Dymond, who scored 22 of his team's 42 points.

Avondale lost a chance to tie for first in the Oakland B League. Trailing by two points with a minute and a half to play, Fitzgerald took advantage of two missed Avondale free throws to tie the game and then used Yellow Jacket miscues to rapidly pull away.

It was the first loss for Avondale, now 2-1. Fitzgerld moved past the Jackets in the standings with a 3-1 mark.

Utica led all the way in downing South Lake 57-51 in a Bi-County test. Dave Kraft paced the winner with 29 points.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows had its winning streak snapped at three games by Utica St. Lawrence, 62-53. Gary McLean tossed in 26 points in a losing cause.

Tom Griffin scored only six points for New Haven but the last three were big ones. He made a foul shot to tie the game, then missed his second try. New Haven grabbed the rebound and Griffin fired the basket that beat Memphis 44-42 in the Southern Southern Thumb game.

Ralph Helebruck of Anchor Bay and Dryden's Jerry Conn each scored 23 points but Anchor Bay won, 78-49, Capac whipped Almont 78-37 in the other league game.

49ers Present Hickey a New 3-Year Pact

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers got a new three-year contract today at a boost in salary.

★ ★ ★

"But the contract itself was an anti-climax," Morabito said. "After we walloped the Colts last Sunday, 34-10, I went up to Red in the dressing room and told him I was tearing up his contract and giving him a new one at such-and-such a figure.

★ ★ ★

Hickey had identical 7-5 records in his two seasons as 49ers head man and his team this year finished tied for second in the Western Conference.

U.S. Net Stars Become Pros

MacKay and Buchholz Join Kramer's Troupe for 3 Years

SYDNEY (AP) — U. S. Davis Cup Stars Barry MacKay and Earl (Butch) Buchholz agreed to three - year $50,000 professional contracts with Jack Kramer today and took a slap at amateur tennis hypocrisy.

"I feel wonderful for the first time," said Buchholz, who at 20 is the youngest player ever to join a tour.

"All our lives we are taught honesty. It gives us a dirty feeling to take money under the table as amateurs.

"What makes it worse is that amateur tennis officials know that these abuses are taking place and they accept them.

MacKay, 25-year-old graduate of the University of Michigan, said he gave the matter plenty of thought before making a final decision.

"I decided that if I was to continue tennis I should continue it on its highest level—that is professionally where the competition is keenest.

"I have no responsibilities nor obligations.

"Amateur tennis as now constituted is a farce. I think the future of the game lies in professional tennis."

Rickey, Now 79, Has Eye on New Career

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey Sr., who retired from baseball last summer when the Continental League folded, has just turned 79 and he has his eye on a new career.

"I expect to keep busy," Rickey said Tuesday on his birthday. "I have other things in mind—perhaps write a word or two. Perhaps it may be published."

Rickey, the founder of baseball's farm system and former Pittsburgh Pirate board chairman is spending the holidays with his family at his suburban Fox Chapel home.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Michael has rescued Octambrites from the bottom of the sea and has left him, safe from the attentions of Mr. Monster of the Deep, in friendly Turtle City. Now he is free to dive into the water and continue his search for the giant pearl aboard the sunken ARADOON.

CHAPTER 12

Not so far from the Turtle City Michael saw the blue-shadowed hulk of the ARADOON looming ahead of him. Swarms of fish hovered around the prow and thousands of mussels clung to the naked masts.

Michael grasped the anchor chain and something snapped around his fingers. He drew back in alarm. A lobster was clinging to his hand. He flung it off and kicked at the chain. Dozens of lobsters tumbled off of it.

He swam over the half-collapsed railing and stood on the buckled deck. Shivering, he made his way to an open hatch and glided into a great tunnel leading down.

He passed the cook's galley with its shattered pottery scattered everywhere. He swam through the crew's quarters and the cargo areas and came at last to a closed cabin with CAPTAIN written on the tilted door.

SEES THE TRUNK

He kicked at the door and it fell off its hinges and floated away. In the blue darkness he saw the shape of a trunk wedged under the captain's bunk.

★ ★ ★

"There it is!" he thought joyfully. But as he reached out, the whole bed seemed suddenly to come alive and an enormous arm swung down and wrapped itself around the trunk.

★ ★ ★

For a moment Michael thought the ghost of the captain himself was rising from the bed. Then two other arms slid toward him and he saw that it wasn't the captain but a giant squid guarding the treasure.

Seven of the creature's arms were missing, and, staring at the other three, Michael knew that here was the 3-fingered Monster of the Deep come to keep his vow.

★ ★ ★

He backed against the wall. The squid's arms followed him. Scarcely breathing, Michael edged to the doorway and turned to flee.

★ ★ ★

Propelling itself with bursts of black ink, the squid jetted after him. Slimy arms slapped at Michael's legs as he slipped through a yawning hatch and dived into the crushed-in hold. Sand scraped his chest and his shoulder lung banged against the ship's broken ribs.

★ ★ ★

Suddenly he found himself wedged into a crevice and could go no further. Twisting around in panic he saw the eye of the squid staring at him through the crevice.

"What shall I do?" moaned Michael, as he clutched the ship's ribs, a jagged silver suddenly broke off in his hands and, without stopping to think, he plunged the tip through the crevice and speared the unsuspecting squid through the heart.

Quickly he squeezed out of the crevice and sped away. Happy as he was to have killed the squid, he knew the Monster of the Deep still had two lives left and he must hurry.

He returned to the captain's cabin, and kicked off the rusted locks of the iron trunk. He threw back the top and stared wide eyed at the hundreds of pieces of gold that lay before him.

★ ★ ★

Lying among the gold was a silver box and in the box was the precious black pearl. Michael took out the pearl and slipped it inside his face mask. Then, with a last look of longing at the gold, he slammed shut the trunk and turned to leave.

★ ★ ★

"I'm free!" he thought happily as he came out on the deck. "I've escaped the Monster after all!"

But even as he spoke, a 3-eyed viper fish slipped through the buckled deck and darted toward him.

(Next: The Man of War)

Lying in the trunk was the precious black pearl.

Lie Detector Frees Royal Oak Couple

HOWELL (UPI)—A Royal Oak couple was released from the Livingston County Jail Tuesday after a lie detector test indicated the two didn't know they aided a jailbreak during the weekend.

John Pace and his wife Vonnie, both 27, were arrested after they admitted driving Thomas Sargent and his wife Brenda Ann to Flint and then to Elkhart, Ind.

They had been picked up originally because they were seen driving around the Livingston County Jail Friday night with Mrs. Sargent.

The stocky blonde Mrs. Sargent, 20, ran panting into the Livingston County Jail Sunday, drew a revolver from under her carcoat, and forced a turnkey to release her husband.

His escape was the first in the history of the Livingston County Jail.

Cadillac Division of General Motors said Tuesday it has broken its all-time sales record of 143,611 cars set in 1955 and that it expects to reach 151,000 deliveries by the end of this month.

Between 1902 and 1950 Cadillac sold 1,000,694 cars. From 1950, when sales first topped 100,000 in a year, through 1959 sales totaled 1,249,000.

Leading Issues Move One Point

NEW YORK (AP)— Large blocks were traded as the stock market continued mixed and active early today.

Leading issues showed slight changes mostly, some going a point or so either way.

★ ★ ★

The list was continuing to move along turbulently, lacking any particular direction as yearend transactions were conducted apace by large investors.

Motors edged off moderately following the commerce department prediction that next year's auto assemblies would drop 14 per cent below this year's. Steels were fairly steady as news of holiday shutdowns continued.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) continued active and advanced a fraction following a statement by its president that 1960 sales will set a new high. Texaco gained more than a point and Royal Dutch a fraction.

Gains of about a point were made also by DuPont, American Cyanamid, Certain-Teed and Chock Full O' Nuts.

★ ★ ★

Aircrafts edged lower, Martin Co. dropping about a point. Tobaccos eased. Drugs and rubbers were mixed. Nonferrous metals were ragged, Anaconda and Kennecott losing fractions while International Nickel gained slightly.

To Amend Bowling Law

The City Commission next week will pass a law allowing bowling tournaments on Sunday.

Commissioners last night authorized preparation of an ordinance amendment for adoption Tuesday night.

For many years it has been city policy to allow such tournaments through waivers of the law that prohibits Sunday bowling.

In recent weeks, though, there has been talk of altering the law so that waivers wouldn't be necessary.

A waiver request from Westside Lanes, Inc., 199 Orchard Lake Ave., to accommodate the Elks Ladies National Tournament Jan. 7-22 brought the question to a head last night.

City Commissioner Wesley J. Wood announced that as a matter of principle he won't vote for any more waivers, although he'd approve a change in the law.

After Wood's announcement, the rest of the commission decided to make the change next week.

There was little other activity at the next-to-the-last commission meeting of the year.

Hearings were scheduled for Dec. 27 on assessment rolls covering the cost of proposed grading and graveling of Howard McNeil Street, Gillespie to Warner, and of the alley west of Baldwin Avenue, Parkdale to Merrimac.

Scheduled for a hearing Jan. 17 is a proposed ordinance change rezoning from residential to commercial six lots on the south side of Auburn Avenue, Russell to Clifford.

been invited to the anual banquet of the Pontiac Real Estate Board Jan. 10, the commission meeting regularly scheduled for that date to Jan. 9.

Grand Rapids Has Yule Big-Sales Lag

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Christmas sales are lagging slightly this season, according to downtown council executive secretary Philip R. Young who says it matches a national trend.

Young today reported downtown Grand Rapids merchants claiming sales at the end of last week were down three per cent compared to the same period of last year.

Young explained that the sales decline from 1959 levels follows the current practice of Americans to reduce their personal debts. "They're buying a lot of little items, but the bigger ones aren't moving," he said.

The freight train was headed for Jackson from Pontiac.

Neukam was alone in the car.

Deputies said that there were no blinker signals or gates at the crossing.

The other collision, in which two women were injured, was at the Decker Street crossing, two miles east.

Both women were in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. They are Mrs. Paul H. Kroesing, 20, of 1804 Payson Road and Mrs. Charles E. Kaufman, 60, 1811 Payson Road.

ROY J. ALEXANDER

Dean at MSUO Will Quit Jan. 1

Roy J. Alexander Says He Wants More Time to Spend With Family

Roy J. Alexander, dean of students at Michigan State University Oakland, has announced he will submit his resignation to the university this week. It will be effective Jan. 1.

MSUO Chancellor D. B. Varner said he would accept the 40-year-old dean's resignation with "deep regret and great reluctance."

Alexander cited the "tremendous amount of pressure" of his post as the reason for leaving the university. "I want to spend more time with my family," he said.

He said he has no plans for the future.

Alexander's appointment as director of student services for MSUO in the summer of 1958 was the first full-time administration post filled by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, which governs the new university.

A year later when MSUO opened — in the fall of 1959 — he was named dean of students.

Alexander formerly was with the continuing education staff of Michigan State University and also served two years as the head of an MSU mission at the University of Ryuku on Okinawa.

At MSU, Alexander served as assistant to Varner, who then was a vice president of the East Lansing university.
