Spy Agency Linked to War Rumor

'Rogers Isn't Angry at CIA'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has declined to go along with a suggestion that Secretary William P. Rogers is angry at the Central Intelligence Agency for putting out word that the Soviets may be thinking about an air strike on Red China's atomic plants.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey refused yesterday to take any side publicly in what he portrayed as competitive newspaper enterprise over a lunch CIA chief Richard Helms had with some reporters earlier this week.

Helms has been identified — by newsmen who were not at the lunch and therefore not bound by no-quotation rules — as the source of stories dealing with the possibility of such a Soviet attack and about CIA's claim of innocence in the Green Beret murder charges in Saigon.

CIA's longstanding practice is public silence on overseas developments and anti-CIA allegations poured forth daily by foes abroad.

When CIA feels maligned by stories over which other U.S. government agencies may have some control, it sometimes asks them to issue a statement which will put the CIA in a better light.

In the Green Beret case, the Army so far has refused to publicly disavow defense lawyer allegations in behalf of the arrested men that the CIA ordered the killing of a suspected Vietnamese double agent. CIA contends it issued no such order. The Army is keeping silent pending further investigation.

★ ★ ★

In the Sino-Soviet dispute, there is conjecture as to whether the Soviets themselves might be floating the notion of a possible attack on Chinese nuclear installations in order to scare Peking. It is also speculated that anti-Soviet Communist sources may be promoting the surprise attack idea for their own psychological warfare purposes.

The official U.S. government view is that a Russian-Chinese armed clash bigger than border flareups is both unlikely and undesirable.

McCloskey quoted a past Rogers statement to this effect, and when asked about what was attributed to Helms he would not subscribe to a suggestion that the CIA chief had damaged Rogers' efforts for U.S. neutrality in the Sino-Soviet quarrel.

While Helms himself was reported out of town Friday, CIA colleagues expected he would be embarrassed by his identification with the recent stories. It would not be CIA's first embarrassment in print. To take some examples from this decade:

● In 1960 the Soviets shot down a CIA U-2 surveillance plane deep inside Russian territory. A false CIA cover story was first issued through the State Department. President Eisenhower wound up publicly accepting responsibility for the spy flight.

● When the Cuban invasion failed the following year, Kennedy administration officials pinned much of the blame on CIA.

● More recently, CIA was the target of public brickbats upon disclosure that it had been paying secret funds to student and other organizations which were in competition with Communist agencies in foreign countries. The Johnson administration ended the practice, which CIA sources said had been assigned to them by government superiors early in the days of the cold war.

Judge Sued for Libel in Track Case

An Oakland County Circuit Judge who once investigated the Hazel Park Race Track was sued yesterday in Wayne County Circuit Court for $2 million by the corporation that runs the thoroughbred track.

The Hazel Park Racing Association alleged that Judge James S. Thorburn libeled and slandered the association in describing a 1967 plot to assassinate him while he was investigating the track.

In the suit, the association said Judge Thorburn accused the corporation "of having hired, enticed or in some manner retained an individual in an alleged plot" to kill him.

Thorburn, who declined comment yesterday, made the statement to a television newsman June 25. The account was later broadcast in Detroit and fuller accounts published in area newspapers, said William Weinstein, the attorney for the corporation.

ATTENDANCE DROP

The association said attendance at the track in Hazel Park dropped as a result of Thorburn's statements. The group also said the judge's statement caused potential harm in its relationship with the Michigan racing commissioner who assigns racing dates to the track.

Weinstein said his client requested a public retraction from Thorburn on July 3 and again, by telegram, on July 22. He claimed there was no reply from the Oakland County judge.

The law suit also contended that Thorburn accused the track "through its officers and directors, of being members of an alleged organized crime syndicate or group."

Both alleged accusations were strongly denied by track officials.

Waterford Teachers, Board OK Pact; Salaries 'Average'

Waterford Township teachers and school board overwhelmingly approved a new one-year teachers contract last night which brings salaries up to the county average.

The new contract, which runs from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, is estimated to cost the school district $7 million compared to last year's total of $6.4 million.

★ ★ ★

A total of 285 teachers voted for the pact while 30 cast votes against it. The school system has about 667 teachers.

At the same time, the board of education reviewed the document and approved it 5-to-0. Two members were absent.

SALARY RANGE

Salaries for teachers with bachelor degrees will range from $7,400, up $700 from last year, to $12,000 in 10 years, up $1,500.

The range for master-degree teachers will be $8,000, up $900, to $13,200 in 11 years, an increase of $1,700.

Four years ago, Waterford's teacher salaries were among the highest in the county, acting Supt. Dr. John Pagen noted. Last year they were among the lowest.

The new salaries now rank about in the middle of 28 school districts in the county which have settled salaries for the coming school year, according to Pagen.

RANKING COULD DROP

Waterford could be pushed down in the rankings when five districts still negotiating contracts settle on salaries, Pagen said.

Pagen admitted the teachers were given nearly everything they were negotiating for to avoid a teacher strike.

But as a result an additional estimated $100,000 will have to be trimmed from a $12.5-million austerity budget.

Pagen said it is likely supplies will be cut back, equipment won't be replaced as readily, teachers won't be reimbursed for convention or in-service training expenses, the number of field trips will be reduced.

PREVIOUS CUTBACK

This comes on top of a previous $1-million-plus cutback for the coming school year when 75 teaching positions were eliminated and elementary pupils were put on half-day sessions.

★ ★ ★

Teachers also won an agency-shop provision, paid health and life insurance for 12 months instead of last year's 10 months, and a 7 per cent salary raise to supervise extracurricular activities.

★ ★ ★

Under agency shop, all teachers in the system must join or pay dues of $101 yearly to the Waterford Education Association, their bargaining agent, or be fired.

The association had 612 members last year and now expects about 55 more members.

★ ★ ★

A tentative contract settlement was unexpectedly reached Thursday after six months of negotiations, a state mediator failed to settle the issues and called for fact-finding and a strike was close at hand.

Gals Beef, So They'll Raise It

RED OAK, Iowa (AP) — A Corn Belt cattle buyer angry at Eastern housewives' complaints about beef prices offered to send calves to two women to give them first-hand experience with the costs of cattle raising, and the women accepted.

"I'm delighted," said Mrs. Stephen Stophlett of Melbourne Beach, Fla., the leader of a group boycotting beef. "It's a sign that we're being noted."

Mrs. Mickey DeLorenzo of Levittown, N.Y., said her first reaction was "complete disbelief" but later she decided it would be a "marvelous experiment."

The offer was made by Eddie Collins of Red Oak, a cattle dealer who also conducts a syndicated radio program forecasting cattle market conditions.

TIRED OF COMPLAINTS

"It's not just me, it's a hell of a lot of ranchers across the country who are getting tired of women complaining about the prices of meat," Collins said Friday.

He said the offer was made as a reaction to meatless recipe campaigns in the East and a "meatless week" campaign in Oregon.

"It's time that if they're going to give beef a black eye the farmer should show them who's not coming out," Collins said. "I'm just going to send a calf, that's all, and tell them, 'You feed it and you tell me what it costs.'"

Each woman is to receive one calf late next week. Collins said the calves are being provided by two Nebraska farmers, Ronnie Rogers of Lexington and Frank Diercks of Gordon.

MORE SHIPMENTS

Later shipments will send calves to housewives in Denver, Colo., and Portland, Ore., he said, and added that he thinks as many as 200 calves could be found in 24 hours if others wish to join the experiment.

"People would like to prove the farmers don't have it so well," he said. "Everybody back there in the East thinks the farmer's rich."

Collins suggested that the women could feed the calves "right in their backyards."

Mrs. DeLorenzo said a town ordinance forbids keeping a calf in her yard, but town and county officials have offered to put hers in an animal shelter.

AP Wirephoto

RARIN' TO GO—Cattle buyer Ed Collins holds a Hereford calf similar to the two being shipped to housewives in Levittown, N. Y., and Melbourne Beach, Fla. The women, who have complained that producers are making too much profit, have agreed to feed the calves for market to learn firsthand the costs involved. Collins said the shipments are being made in reaction to meatless recipes.

Rain May Douse Holiday Ventures

Probabilities of precipitation are 20 per cent tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

A humid 71 was the low reading in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had soared to 92 by 2 p.m.

Syrians Free All Aboard in Near-Disaster Skyjack

From Our News Wires

DAMASCUS, Syria — The Arab hijack of a Trans World Airlines jet with 115 persons aboard missed by minutes being a disaster, the pilot said today, in the wake of a Syrian decision to release six Israelis who were aboard.

"We would never have made it if we had had to circle the airport one more time," said Capt. Dean Carter, the pilot.

★ ★ ★

The Boeing 707 not only had but a few gallons of fuel left when it landed yesterday at Damascus airport, there was the threat of a bomb aboard. Minutes after the passengers jumped from the plane it went off, ripping the cockpit wide open.

A young Arab couple seized the Boeing 707 as it was en route to Athens and Tel Aviv. They said they were members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab guerrilla group.

Authorities expressed belief the explosion occurred because the hijackers had been unable to defuse the bomb they used to threaten the pilot when they entered the cockpit over the Adriatic Sea.

Syrian officials said the passengers would be flown out on a special Alitalia airliner to Athens, from where they could proceed to their destinations. Syria said TWA can reclaim its plane.

Pressed by a stubborn lady schoolteacher from Los Angeles who refused to leave four Israeli women who were aboard, officials said they will release all 113 persons on the hijacked jet.

juries as a result.

"All of you, including the Israelis, will leave within the hour," a Syrian official told the 101 passengers and 12 crew members who were aboard the TWA Boeing 707 when it was hijacked yesterday during a flight from Rome to Athens.

TWA's 10 Pct. Tops Air-Fare Hike Pleas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trans World Airlines has called for a 10 per cent increase in domestic fares, the most daring rate hike proposal before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

At least 15 other airlines have requested fare increases.

★ ★ ★

The CAB will lift the lid on the simmering kettle of airline problems Thursday when it hears oral argument from the airlines and from opponents of any general fare increase.

In thee latter category are 20 western members of Congress, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who have asked the Board to suspend and investigate the fare increase proposals.

FINANCES DETERIORATING

In a 14-page defense of its proposal Eastern Airlines said the industry's financial position is deteriorating rapidly. Eastern said the airlines cannot hope to hold the linee on fares when all prices and wages it must pay have risen steadily.

Chairman John H. Crooker Jr., who is resigning, indicated the CAB would act swiftly, so that if an increase is permitted it may go into effect by Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

Crooker classified the major fare proposals in three groups. The prototype tariff fillings are:

- Continental — a flat increase on all tickets for flights of more than 400 miles. It would range from $2 additional, for trips of 400 to 499 miles, to a maximum increase of $9 on flights of more than 1,900 miles.
- United — a fixed terminal charge of $11 for each ticket, plus a flat line-haul charge of 5.7 cents a mile.
- Eastern — an $8.60 terminal charge with a variable line-haul charge ranging downward in four mileage blocks, from 6.7 cents a mile for trips up to 400 miles, down to five cents a mile for flights of more than 1,800 miles.

6 PCT. HIKE LOWEST

Continental's plan would raise fares an estimated 6 per cent, United's 6.6 per cent, and Eastern's about 8 per cent.

TWA said that in view of the industry's serious need none of the proposals was adequate, and a 10 per cent increase would be justified. TWA said it would support Eastern's 8 per cent hike as "minimal."

★ ★ ★

Continental said it would oppose any increase based on a formula, and said the CAB has no authority to impose upon it the fare structures proposed by United, Eastern or American without first suspending them and conducting an investigation as to their legality.

Courses Set in Community Fall Program

BIRMINGHAM —Residents will have the opportunity to eat while learning in the Connoisseur's Kitchen course offered in the Community House Fall Educational program.

Connoisseur's Kitchen, a course in gourmet cookery, will be taught by Madame Charity Suczek, a native of Austria, who has studied with chefs in such restaurants as Maxims, Tour d 'Argent and Les Pyramids.

★ ★ ★

Students will have the opportunity to sample the dishes prepared that day, taste wines and nibble cheese.

A course in braille transcribing will prepare students for volunteer work in transcribing children's books and other needed reading material for the blind.

DECOUPAGE CLASS

A class in the ancient art of decoupage will also be available. Decoupage consists of cutting, pasting, then applying several coats of varnish to a solid surface. Students will learn to adapt this knowledge to trays, wastebaskets, boxes, wall hangings, baskets suitable for handbags and other possibilities.

In the flower arranging course, students will learn simple line design and mass arranging plus instruction in mechanical aids, as well as the selection and conditioning of flowers.

★ ★ ★

Furcraft instruction will be given in restyling outmoded furs into stoles, bags, hats, collars or coats.

The pottery course offers a basic knowledge of raw materials, tools and techniques of ceramics, including hand construction, throwing on the potter's wheel glazing and decorating processes.

In sculpturing, a three-dimensional world will be opened when students learn to investigate different media, clay molding and carving assemblage. Beginning and advanced students are welcomed to the class with personal attention given to each individual project and student.

The underwriters attended sessions focusing on advanced life insurance planning techniques for businessmen and professionals at the week-long sales conference.

Private Talks May Free 3 in N. Korea

PROSPECT HEIGHTS, Ill (AP) — The chairman of the Remember the Pueblo Committee says three American helicopter crewmen held prisoner by North Korea can be freed through private negotiation without an apology to the Communists.

The Rev. Paul Lindstrom, whose committee was formed in January 1968 after North Korea captured the USS Pueblo, said Friday that the State Department would have to take "a certain series of actions," however, before the men could be freed.

★ ★ ★

Lindstrom did not describe the actions, but said that once they were taken at least one member of his committee would travel to Panmunjom, North Korea, to accept the release of the men Sept. 18.

In Washington yesterday, State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said he knew of no role being played by Lindstrom or the Remember the Pueblo Committee to win release of the men.

REDS' OFFER

The crewmen were captured Aug. 17 after their helicopter was shot down by North Korean gunners. North Korea said yesterday the crewmen are alive, and offered to exchange them for a confession and apologies from Washington.

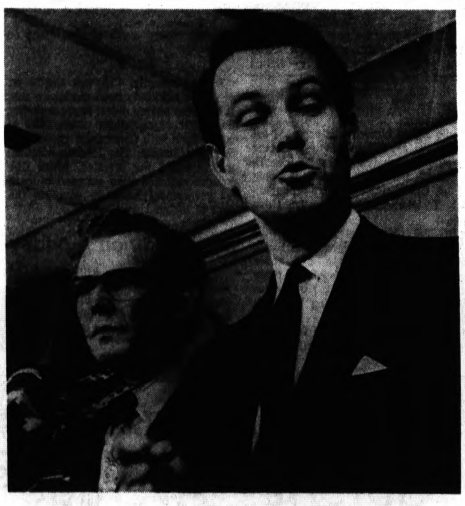

U.S. officials in Washington began drafting a statement they hope will be sufficient to induce North Korea to release the three crewmen.

Although previous similar negotiations at Panmunjom have been prolonged, there was some optimism that the three might be released before too long.

Washington officials said no time has been fixed for delivering the statement North Korea has asked. Presumably it will be sent to Panmunjom fairly soon.

Lindstrom said he and other persons were still negotiating for the release of the men.

Lindstrom said he could not give details of the negotiations "if our work is to be effective."

TV Debate With Bernadette Tuesday

2 Irish Unionists in U.S. 'to Tell Truth'

NEW YORK (AP) — Two leaders of Northern Ireland's ruling Unionist party are here to set the stage for a confrontation with Bernadette Devlin, the 22-year-old crusader for Ulster's Roman Catholic minority.

"This Fidel Castro in amini-skirt must be put into true perspective and that is what we hope to do," W. Stratton Mills, a member of the British House of Commons, told a news conference yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Mills and Robin Bailie, a member of the Ulster Parliamanet, flew in to Kennedy Airport, part of a three-man "truth squad" dispatched to counter Miss Devlin's activities. The third member, Captain L.P.S. Orr, was in Canada.

★ ★ ★

Miss Devlin is on a weeek-old North American tour to raise funds for victims of the recent Ulster violence.

★ ★ ★

She is scheduled to meet the truth squad on television here Tuesday. Miss Devlin declared herself undaunted by the 3-1 odds: "Their cause is three times, if not 300 times, less than ours so the odds are fair."

Mills and Bailie charged at their news conference that Miss Devlin has been "wildly irresponsible and totally inaccurate" in her presentation of the controvery to the American public.

★ ★ ★

Cuba Hits Spy Charge

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba says it was ridiculous for the United States to accuse two Cuban U.N. diplomats of being spies and to bar them from returning to this country.

★ ★ ★

Lazaro Eddy Espinosa and Alberto Boza Hidalgo-Gato couldn't possibly have been espionage agents, Cuban Foreign Minister Rauf Roa said yesterday in a letter to Secretary-General U Thant, because they were constantly "harried by dozens of CIA and FBI agents."

Blue Shield Seeks 16.7-Pct. Rate Hike

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Blue Shield insurance plan filed today for a 16.7 per cent increase in its rates, effective next Jan. 1.

The companion Blue Cross plan filed for a two per cent cut in rates for its so-called Blue Cross 65 coverage, designed to supplement medicare.

The new rate schedules were filed with the Michigan Insurance Bureau and would become effective with renewal of contracts in next year's first quarter.

They would be applied subsequently to those with contracts expiring in other quarters, but subscribers would be assured of no further increases for a year.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield said the increase would be only 5.6 per cent when applied to the cost of their combined coverage.

Blue Cross previously filed for a 4.1 per cent increase to become effective Oct. 1. Blue Shield said it had not increased basic rates since 1963, although the Consumer Price Index had gone up 24.1 per cent meanwhile.

The plans have approximately 4.8 million members in Michigan. Blue Cross assures hospital bill payments; Blue Shield the payment of doctor bills.

Blue Shield said its increase initially would apply to contracts of 274,000 members. Blue Cross said about 370,000 will be affected by its Blue Cross 65 reduction.

John C. McCabe, president, said it was impossible for Blue Shield to resist further "the continuing inflationary pressure common to our total economy."

Half-Day School Setup 'Illegal'

DETROIT (UPI) — A ruling that could, in effect, outlaw half-day school sessions was handed down yesterday by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman.

The ruling was on a suit brought by a group of Livonia parents against the Livonia Board of Education, which had planned to open school Wednesday with grades five through eight on half-day sessions because of a lack of money.

★ ★ ★

In adopting the half-day sessions, the Livonia board had cited a state law that prohibits deficit financing by local school boards.

But Kaufman ruled that the Michigan Constitution calls for free education and free education has been defined by the Legislature as meaning 180 full days of school each year.

ADMITTED CONFLICT

He admitted the deficit financing provision was in conflict with the constitutional provision, but added that the state must provide the funds for complete education.

★ ★ ★

The more than 150 persons attending the hearing yesterday broke into wild applause when Kaufman ruled in their favor that all children in the Detroit suburb would have to have full-day school sessions.

Meanwhile, Weinstein also is trying to learn the identity of a U.S. justice department employe who named two of the racing association's directors as Mafia members.

In a recent release from the justice department, Anthony J. Zerilli and Jack W. Tocco were listed as Mafia leaders.

★ ★ ★

The list was compiled last May by the department's organized crime division at the request of Sen. John J. McClellan, chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Zerilli, son of alleged Mafia boss Joseph Zerilli, is president of the association. Tocco, son of William "Black Bill" Tocco, is the association's executive vice president.

The fathers of the track directors were named in 1963 testimony before a Senate subcommittee as top bosses of the Detroit Mafia.

The younger Zerilli and Tocco have never been convicted of a felony.

★ ★ ★

Dominic P. "Fats" Corrado resigned recently as a director of the race track after he was indicted on charges of taking kickbacks involving a million-dollar loan from the Teamsters Union pension fund.

Corrado claimed he would be found innocent of the charge but was resigning to eliminate the possibility of any problems for the track.

Biggest Guard Unit in Viet Returns Home

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Squinting in glare from the runway, Spec. 4 Mike Dubbe, 21, thought of the big reception ahead and said quietly: "I wish they'd just let us go home."

The young soldier's sentiments were shared by others as Idaho's 116th Combat Engineers Battalion headed home yesterday after nearly a year in Vietnam — the largest nonregular Army group sent to the war.

The Guardsmen were released last night but had to report this afternoon for a fullscale review, complete with VIPs and brass, including Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. chief of staff and former commander in Vietnam.

Some 5,000 persons jammed the Idaho Falls airport yesterday to welcome the 421 Guardsmen.

DISABLED PLANE

Some well-wishers had longer waits than expected. One of three troop planes had engine trouble on the way from McChord Air Force Base, Wash., and had to turn back. It was near midnight before another plane could get some 140 men to Idaho Falls.

Some reunions were especially poignant. The planes carried home father-and-son teams and brother combinations.

The Guardsmen appeared philosophical about having been sent to Vietnam. "They could have done without us," said Spec. 5 Bruce Campbell, "but we did a lot of good."

The battalion was assigned the upkeep of two major highways.

Plans for today's formal review were not a big hit with the men. But the mayor had declared "116th Welcome Home Days," and the citizens committee had made plans.

Besides Westmoreland, the dignitaries included a lieutenant general three major generals, a brigadier general, Idaho's governor and threee congressmen.

Six members of the battalion were killed in Vietnam and 76 injured. Families of the dead received special invitations to the review.

Rabies Victim Aided Science

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Medical science kept Tommy Buchmann alive for five months after he was mauled by a rabid bobcat April 1. The little Lakeside boy, who died Friday, also helped medical science, his doctor says.

TOMMY BUCHMANN

Dr. Samuel T. Giammona of University Hospitals's pediatrics staff, said Tommy made important contributions before he died, two days after his third birthday.

* * *

"We certainly learned how to manage an acutely ill person over a long period of time," Giammona said of the intensive care given Tommy since he lapsed into a coma April 28, never to regain consciousness.

"This could be important when science is close to a cure for a particular disease and it is essential to keep a patient alive until it does.

RISK STILL PRESENT

"Secondly, it has stressed to us that even after being given the rabies vaccine there is a risk that a person still can contract rabies. We had not thought that before."

Tommy lived longer than any human rabies victim in medical history, surpassing the 63-day survival of a 13-year-old Elk City, Kan., boy last year. Why?

"It is hard to say," the doctor said. "He had a very strong constitution for a child and, of course, he had meticulous care."

Giammona said no new drug or treatment accounted for the boy's hold on life.

NO DOCTOR BILLS

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Buchmann, are poultry ranchers with two other children. They will not receive a doctor bill, a hospital spokesman said.

Private contributions, which have exceeded $20,000, the hospital's teaching fund and the Buchmanns will bear the $18,500 hospital room cost and special nursing charge of $13,200.

Shirley Temple Black To Be U.N. Delegate

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, became a millionaire at 12 and appeared in three dozen movies that made her famous to a generation of moviegoers. But she says President Nixon has given her "the thrill of my life."

The President named the former child star Friday as one of five representatives and five alternates making up the U.S. delegation to the September session of the United Nations General Assembly.

* * *

Mrs. Black, now 41, was fishing in Hawaiian waters when she learned the news via ship-to-shore telephone.

"I haven't heard the report," she told a newsman. "But I'll take your word for it. It's the thrill of my life. Thank you."

OTHER DELEGATES

Also named as delegates for the 24th annual session were Ambassador Charles W. Yost, the permanent U.S. representative to the United Nations; William B. Buffum, deputy permanent representative, and two congressmen—Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., and J. Irvine Whalley, R-Pa.

Selected as alternate representatives were Christopher H. Phillips, deputy representative of the United States on the U.N. Security Council; Joseph E. Johnson of Princeton, N.J., president and trustee of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, New York City; Rita E. Hauser, New York City, U.S. representative on the Human Rights Commission of UNESCO; Glenn A. Olds, U.S. representative in the Economic and Social Council of UNESCO, and William T. Coleman Jr., a Philadelphia, Pa., attorney.

CHARMED AUDIENCES

Mrs. Black charmed moviegoers of the 1930s and 1940s as the deeply dimpled, curly haired star of such films as "Little Miss Marker," "Curly Top," "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," "Dimples," "The Little Colonel" and "The Littlest Rebel."

Two years ago she lost to fellow Republican Paul McCloskey in a GOP congressional primary.

* * *

She is married to Charles Black the son of the late head of the Pacific Gas & Electric Co., one of California's largest firms.

Parents to Option on Sex Education

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Parents can keep their children out of a public school sex education class under a bill signed into law Friday by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

* * *

The measure prohibits public schools from requiring a pupil to attend a sex education class; requires that parents be given a chance to withhold their children from such classes, and requires that parents have a chance to review the instructional material to be used before a sex education class is held.

Traffic Toll Unchecked

A Michigan Automobile Club study of 2,353 traffic deaths in the State last year makes somber reading.

The death toll ran 11 per cent over that of 1967, three-quarters of which were alcohol-related. Other significant findings of the report are:

★ ★ ★

• Police patrols on streets and highways as well as general enforcement of traffic laws were at an all-time low.

• Traffic violators with records caused a disproportionate number of accidents.

• Almost three-fourths of all fatalities occurred on two-lane highways.

• Young drivers were disproportionately responsible for fatal accidents. Drivers under 21 years of age were involved in one-fourth of the fatalities investigated.

• The fatality rate of motorcycles and motorbikes increased faster than their actual numbers.

A related report, stemming from the Eighth International Congress of Gerontology praises the driving ability of senior citizens, declaring that "they may be among the best drivers on the highway."

Covering driving records of over-65 drivers in 30 states, the report points out that they comprised 7.6 per cent of all licensed drivers while accounting for only 4.8 per cent of all accidents.

They average 37 per cent fewer accidents totally than projectionable from their proportion of the driver population. Of the six age categories studied, ranging from 55-64 down to 25 and under, the over-65s had the best driving records.

★ ★ ★

The two studies taken together confirm the long-held conviction of highway safety experts: that personal responsibility and maturity of judgment are the two standout attributes inherent in safe driving.

Tax Reform Bill Aims High

Riding a surge of idea-whose-time-has-come popular support, the House Ways and Means Committee, chaired by Arkansas Democrat WILBUR D. MILLS, labored and brought forth not only the most comprehensive tax reform bill in history but one of the most equitable. The House passed it by a rousing vote of 394 to 30 and sent it over to the Senate.

Among other things, a chunk was taken out of the special tax privileges granted oil producers, reducing the depletion allowance from 27½ per cent to 20 per cent; nicked a lot of fat cats in the over-$100,000 bracket who have been escaping taxes entirely, and eliminated the 7 per cent business investment credit.

★ ★ ★

What began as a tax reform effort, however, gathered such momentum that it ended up as a tax-slashing spree, with hefty cuts not only for those in the lowest income bracket but for the tens of millions of so-called "forgotten Americans" in the $10,000-and-up category.

The result is that while the loop-hole closings are expected to bring in an extra $5.2 billion by 1972, the wide-ranging tax-cut bonanza totaling $9.3 billion would put the Treasury in the hole some $4.1 billion.

That fact alone has caused the Senate to greet the bill with tempered enthusiasm, if not some alarm. Other aspects of the bill are also meeting resistance, such as the depletion allowance cut, which some senators think is excessive and others think is not enough. Another is a dubious 7.5 per cent tax on private foundations. Nearly 200 tax bills or amendments have been filed with the Senate Finance Committee.

★ ★ ★

Lower taxes will be of little comfort if a massive budget deficit adds another kind of taxation. More take-home pay in the pocket won't mean much to consumers if business has to turn around and post higher prices to make up for the loss of its investment credit. Nor will the Country's crying social needs be met by giving everyone a little extra cash to the detriment of Federal programs in education, health, mass transit, urban renewal and all the rest.

★ ★ ★

Middle-income Americans may feel squeezed by taxes, but they are not hurting so much that they want tax relief at the cost of sound fiscal or domestic policy. What they have really been protesting in the past year is not just high taxes but high Government spending and waste, and the fact that not everyone has been paying his fair share.

The POWER of FAITH

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

Dell Shields, son of a Baptist minister, is expressing his activist faith through the modern medium of radio. As host on "Night Call" a national telephone interview program, he can reach from four to seven million persons nightly.

"Night Call" is produced by the Television, Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church and is released in cooperation with the National Council of Churches, the National Catholic Office for Radio and Television, The American Jewish Committee and the Urban Coalition.

In a nation where individual is estranged from individual and group from group, "Night Call's" purpose is to help people find reconcilation—to move toward solutions to problems through understanding. Each night, five nights a week, Shields has a qualified guest to discuss and answer telephone questions from listeners on issues and problems that concern both the black and white community today. The mild, soft-spoken Shields moderates the program with the firm hand of conviction.

The opening remarks of one program is typical of his belief: "If the black and white would listen with their hearts they could hear each other." That is what "Night Call" is all about.

Voice of the People:

Press Again Lists Rules for Writing VOP Letters

Here again are the rules covering letters to the Voice of the People. This feature has very high readership, as residents are anxious to know what their neighbors are thinking. Every letter must have a name and address. When the communication is not sharply critical of a private individual or firm, writers can use a pen name if they wish. However, if you want to assail someone, it isn't fair to your victim to hide behind an anonymous name.

★ ★ ★

Many letters contain statements which would subject the writers (and The Press) to libel suits. We recognize most of these but when we are in doubt we refer them to our attorneys and are guided accordingly.

★ ★ ★

We can't run letters that are purely personal matters between an individual and his favorite enemy or an individual and a firm at which he's "mad." Try and keep your letters within 200 words or less. Even then, to conserve space most letters will be edited.

★ ★ ★

We cannot publish letters of personal thanks or poetry, due to space limitations. Matters concerning race and religion must be signed. All subjects must be of genuine, communitywide interest.

Send in your thoughts.

They're welcomed.

'Hope Some Good Comes of Lazaros Affair'

I hope that some community good comes out of this Lazaros affair. Considering the expense of the two grand juries investigating his charges of official corruption, plus that of guarding him around the clock, the taxpayers stand to pick up a pretty steep check to pay for it.

★ ★ ★

Such controversy has come to light both in court testimony and public charges and countercharges related to the case that conclusive, judicial answers to the Mafia-oriented mess may be far off.

Question and Answer

I'm going east on Auburn to Wide Track. I pull into the left turn lane at Wide Track. There facing me between the two lanes is a sign, "No Left Turns." ? ? ? ? ? ?

NORTHERNER

REPLY

Either you're a mystic recalling things past or you're seeing things or you have your streets and directions confused. At one time there was a left turn prohibition at that corner, but there's been no sign to that effect at that corner for over a year. We drove the route you gave us and found no sign you could be referring to, and the City Traffic Department concurs.

Question and Answer

A couple of years ago I bought a diner's club booklet, one of those two-for-the-price-of-one deals. My husband and I enjoyed it so much. Do you know where or how I can purchase such a book again?

GRACE BROWN

REPLY

Metro Passbook, 12701 W. 10 Mile Rd., Oak Park, offers them at $8.95 per book, which includes restaurants, takeouts, sports, discounts at stores, etc. You can get them at Metro booths at the State Fair or send a check (no tax) to the Metro office. The phone is 398-4500 if you want more information before buying.

Confident Living:

Devotion to Task Will Pay Off

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Those magnificently brave men, Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, succeeded in reaching the moon. Whenever you hear someone say, "It's a good idea, but it will take too long to accomplish," think about the incredible efforts that have gone into our space program.

DR. PEALE

People have been talking about going to the moon for hundreds of years. They've been writing about it, too. Why, I can remember reading science fiction about space capsules and space men when I was just a little boy. And slowly, over many, many generations, we developed a body of knowledge and countless technical skills which we needed to make the dream a reality.

★ ★ ★

But I don't suppose that any of us really thought we could get to the moon in our lifetimes. Then, only eight years ago, back in 1961, President John F. Kennedy made his famous speech, saying that "the nation should commit itself to achieving the goal, before this decade is out, of landing a man on the moon and safely returning him to earth!" The key word in Kennedy's statement was "commit." We had to do more than want to get to the moon.

We had to decide that we would get to the moon, no matter how much the great venture cost in time, money and work. And we did commit ourselves. I don't know how many thousands of men and women — engineers, scientists, astronauts, technicians, doctors, secretaries, laboring men, and who knows all — have thrown themselves into the project heart and soul.

★ ★ ★

I do know this: These dedicated people have devoted themselves single-mindedly to the task. And now that all their long hours and all their hard work have paid off, space travel no longer seems incredible.

Whenever I see television broadcasts from space, I am amused and amazed by the results of weightlessness. One of our astronauts will say to another, "Hand me that so-and-so over there, will you?"

★ ★ ★

The second astronaut will pick up the object, no matter how heavy it is, and send it sailing gently over to him. The whole thing is easy, effortless. And it looks like a lot of fun, too.

If big, heavy objects down here on earth were weightless too, think of the things you could do! Ladies could move their furniture around to get at the dust with just a flick of the little finger. Construction men could build great buildings in no time at all just by tossing huge blocks of cement and sheets of glass to each other.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, things down here are not that simple. If you want to move a five-ton block of cement, for example, you can push and pull and tug away until you are blue in the face and you won't have budged it an inch. If you're like some people, you'll just give up.

"Can't be done," you'll say. But if you're like a lot of other people, you'll sit down while you catch your breath. You'll think to yourself, "there's just got to be some way of moving that doggone thing." You'll puzzle the problem through, and you'll come up with a really creative solution.

Maybe you'll go out and round up a hundred strong men to help you move the cement block. Or maybe you'll devise some sort of contraption to lift and haul it for you. But if you think the problem through — and I mean really through — you'll find the answer.

★ ★ ★

The determination to get what we want and the intelligence to find a means of getting it are what set the human race apart from any other species. They are what helped us invent everything from the wheel to the Apollo moonships. They are what is going to solve our problems here on earth, in the cities and the schools. And this determination and intelligence is going to help us solve the problems we'll find in outer space, too.

★ ★ ★

Maybe, when you come to think of it, weightlessness isn't such a blessing. Maybe without the struggle of getting what we want, the human race wouldn't have come so far so fast. And maybe we wouldn't get as far as I, for one, think we're going to get in the future.

Soviets Blocking U.S. Overtures

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

So belligerently defensive are the Russians in the wake of events in Czechoslovakia and on the China frontier that Moscow seems to have slammed the door to any approach from the United States, at least until it gets matters cleaned up in its own sphere.

RYAN

Embarrassed again by the extent of Czechoslovak resistance and angered by military clashes with the Chinese, the Soviet party appears to be looking for scapegoats. The Soviets are likely to uncover some in Czechoslovakia itself, but the tone of the Soviet press seems so nervous that it suggests political difficulty in Moscow itself.

★ ★ ★

Seldom in the cold war have the Soviet Communists been so much on the defensive as today. They profess to see heinous "imperialist" plots on all sides, real threats not only to their European empire, but to the political stability of the Soviet Union.

For these woes, Moscow makes Americans, past and present, the main villains. To hear the Soviet press tell it, Americans are trying to break the Communist front and to penetrate the Soviet Union itself with propaganda inflaming nationalist feelings in the Soviet republics.

SECRET ORDERS

An article this week in the government newspaper Izvestia claimed secret orders had gone out to U.S. propaganda services to support pro-Chinese Communists everywhere and to encourage Mao Tse-tung's Peking regime, so as to increase its potential for splitting the movement.

★ ★ ★

This prominently displayed article said Czechoslovakia's rebelliousness resulted from four years of intensive U.S. "bridge-building" efforts which were epitomized even recently by President Nixon's world tour. The article did not mention Romania, where Nixon was enthusiastically received, but it clearly enough suggested annoyance with Romania and its resistance to Moscow domination.

★ ★ ★

The Americans, said Izvestia, try to propagate the idea that there is not really much difference between capitalism and "socialism" in this era of technology, and that eventually the Soviet system will evolve into something like "capitalism without capitalists."

In Eastern Europe, it said, the Americans used "nationalism and revisionism" in efforts to erode "socialism" from within and to suggest that a reversion to capitalist methods is inevitable.

★ ★ ★

The Communist movement has suffered setbacks because of the Czechoslovak and Chinese developments. If the Russians intend to punish real and imagined "enemies" for all this, they can only make relations with the West even more strained.

But in any case, the Izvestia article and many other recent ones suggest little hope of a meeting of Soviet and American minds at the present time on any important issues.

Miniwar Fought With U.S. Weapons

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

WASHINGTON—The recent little war between Honduras and El Salvador raises an all-important question.

DIRKSEN

In the last 20 years the United States has supplied military assistance to both of those Central American republics, largely to help them contend with Communist-inspired violence and insurgency. Our help relieved them of the burden of making heavy military expenditures so that they would not be forced to divert and dissipate their economic resources in building up arsenals for war.

The miniwar of early summer then demonstrated that the two countries could use our weapons and other military-assistance supplies for war against each other; which we did not envision nor intend.

The question of what we should do about military assistance in the future is therefore raised, and it someday soon will have to be acted upon. A study of the conditions of the little war may help us to watch out for the future.

Sprawled along the Caribbean lies the Republic of Honduras with a land area about equal to that of Louisiana and with a population of 3.25 million people. Bananas, coffee, timber, cotton, tobacco and cattle are the principal crops. Honduras is mountainous. It has an abundance of minerals, but those have been generally undeveloped. It is a poor land.

★ ★ ★

The Republic of El Salvador, on the other hand, is small, and its area is about twice the size of Connecticut. It has a population of slightly over 3 million. El Salvador's problem is that it has too many people in too small an area that is essentially agricultural. It might be said that her principal export is people, for it is estimated that 15 per cent of all Salvadorans live abroad and that an estimated 300,000 live in Honduras, right next door.

The result is that the Salvadorans in Honduras quickly become candidates for jobs and land, and, under the land laws of Honduras, foreigners cannot own land. Hence, those migrants have moved in and farmed land to which they have no title. Tensions developed.

★ ★ ★

The border between the two countries has never been well defined. This and other alleged incidents have tended to raise the temperature of both countries.

It is hard to believe that a soccer game could trigger a miniwar, but that is what happened. In June, Honduras and El Salvador were to play a series of three games for the title in the regional championship match. The second of the games produced a riot that resulted in injury to many people and much property damage.

★ ★ ★

In quick succession came a break in diplomatic relations between the two countries, troop invasions, the bombing of villages and airfields.

Thus, a miniwar between Honduras, with an army of 2,500 soldiers and three dozen planes, and El Salvador, with an army of 6,700, including its National Guard, plus three dozen planes, got under way. And all of the weapons came from us. We do not want such a situation to occur again, especially with our military hardware.

Allies Launch Counterattack Near Da Nang

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese infantrymen launched a counter-offensive against an enemy division today in hills southwest of Da Nang. Initial reports indicated only light contact.

Elsewhere across South Vietnam, there was little activity. U.S. Headquarters said reports showed action overnight was the lightest in three weeks.

* * *

A communique from U.S. Headquarters said there were nine enemy rocket and mortar attacks overnight, the lowest number since six were launched Aug. 10. Five Americans were reported wounded.

Allied intelligence analysts said they are expecting another enemy "highpoint," a series of widespread attacks, in the next few days to coincide with North Vietnam's Independence Day Sept. 5.

ON FULL ALERT

In anticipation of increased enemy activity, South Vietnamese troops and police went on full alert at noon today in Saigon and 11 provinces around the city.

The allied counteroffensive was launched just after daybreak.

* * *

Associated Press correspondent Richard Pyle reported from Marine headquarters at Da Nang that about 1,500 Marines and South Vietnamese infantrymen moved into the Hiep Duc Valley between the Laotian border and South Vietnam's populous coastal lowlands 31 miles southwest of Da Nang.

Heavy fighting through 100-plus degree temperatures has centered in the region for the past two weeks, taking a heavy toll of American dead and wounded.

72 YANKS DEAD

By conservative count, at least 72 Americans are known dead and 322 wounded. Some infantry companies are operating with less than 100 men, roughly 50 per cent under their normal strength.

Allied commanders claim the North Vietnam's 2nd Division already has lost up to 1,000 men under a daily barrage of American bombs, napalm and artillery shells.

Since launching attacks on American patrol bases in the valley three weeks ago, the North Vietnamese now appear to have take up a defensive posture and are said to be retreating to old hideaways on high ground.

The main target of the allied task force is the center hill, a 1,276-foot peak called Deo Ram by the Vietnamese and Hill 381 on military maps. Marines lost 13 men killed and 42 wounded in daylong fighting on the slopes of this hill Thursday.

Field reports indicated that the task force did not plan a frontal assault on the hill. Instead, dive bombers and artillery continued to blast the thick, triple canopy jungle.

"If we can strip it with artillery and napalm, we can get at them (the enemy)," one Marine officer said. "There's not a commander alive who would call for another Hamburger Hill."

During 10 days of assaults last May on Hamburger Hill, farther north along the Laotian border, American paratroopers lost 55 men killed and more than 300 wounded. U.S. Congressional leaders heavily criticized the attack.

Miss Michigan State Fair, 18-year-old Gay Chipman, is escorted on a tour of the Fairgrounds by her fiance, Larry Walter. The young beauty queen's future plans include college, a try for the Miss Michigan title and, for the time being, continuing her job as a dental assistant.

Fair Win Boosts Ambition

Gay to Seek Miss Michigan Crown

A petite, blonde, June graduate of Wylie E. Groves High School was crowned Miss Michigan State Fair, 1969, Wednesday.

"I was very surprised that I was chosen," Gay S. Chipman admits. "I had someone else picked out."

But her fiance, Lawrence Walter, viewed the situation differently. "I knew that if they picked the most beautiful girl, it had to be Gay.

"Of course," he adds, "I guess you'd consider me somewhat partial."

* * *

Larry serves as Gay's official escort and is constantly at her side from early morning when the day's activities begin until the fair gates close.

"I wouldn't have it any other way," he states firmly.

A dental assistant, Gay was selected from a field of 55 in the 120th annual Miss Michigan State Fair contest.

The six judges based their decision on figure, face, poise, carriage, personality, charm, speech, and showmanship.

FAMILY

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Chipman of Carol Drive, Franklin, Gay was crowned after two days of competition. Her father is owner-relations supervisor for General Motors Corporation.

A married sister and a brother, Jim, 16, complete the Chipman family.

Gay entered the contest as Miss Senior Class — Groves High School. That was Gay's first title.

"Speaking of firsts," Gay inserts, "that was also my first year at Groves. I used to go to Southfield High.

"However, it was people right here at the fairgrounds who persuaded me to enter."

As Miss Michigan State Fair, she is the recipient of a $100 savings bond, a $25 gift certificate, a Wendy Ward gown from Montgomery Ward (one of the contest sponsors), and a year's lessons from the Sarah Paul Theatrical Arts Studio.

"And, of course, I get to keep my roses, trophy and crown," she adds. "The banner and crown have an added significance," Gay quips. "It means free food and rides — well, at least for the duration of the Fair, which runs through Labor Day."

Gay realizes also that her title involves responsibility the entire year of her reign.

She has radio and television appearances to make, in addition to visiting various county fairs.

"I'm also going to enter the Miss Michigan contest," she adds.

WEARYING

"Frankly, I find myself getting tired," she confesses, "but I have to admit it's a little price to pay for the pleasure I am getting. Each day is exciting and challenging. As the Fair's hostess, I am able to meet interesting and important people."

Gay's interests do not lie solely in the realm of beauty contests.

This 5'4", 103-pound 18-year-old, who measures 36-21-34, enjoys water and snow skiing and tennis.

Singing and writing are favorite pastimes during her free hours.

As to what the future holds, Gay has some definite plans but believes flexibility is the most important factor.

"I thoroughly enjoy my work as a dental assistant," Gay states, "so I will continue that for at least another year while I am getting settled. I would like to buy a car and increase my wardrobe."

* * *

She has also received offers from A-Plus Modeling Agency.

"But I definitely plan to go to college," she emphasizes. "I hope to major in psychology at the University of Colorado."

With a glance at the clock, blue-eyed Gay smiled and excused herself as she announced, "Guess I have to go now. I have another appearance shortly and would like to freshen up a bit."

Figure-Conscious Agency Okays Formal Scrutiny

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Treasury Department keeps a close watch on the state's money, but there's one thing it doesn't want to see anymore of — miniskirts.

"Unseemly short skirts" are on a list of women's apparel "specifically forbidden" for wear by the department's 1,570 employes under a directive by Carroll Newton, chief deputy state treasurer.

Reason for the decision barring pantsuits, pantdresses, culottes, slacks, shorts and the "unseemly" minis was the reported appearance of one woman employe in shorts.

* * *

"We can't allow people to dress as if they are going to a picnic," said Vincent Young, general services division director.

Newton was unavailable for comment but another department official denied miniskirts are necessarily banned under the appearance guideline.

Supervisors, according to Young, would have discretionary power to carry out the order. The general rule apparently would be dresses, skirts and blouses only for women, all a "decorous and tasteful length."

Men won't get off without some rules either. They're supposed to wear ties, at least, if not coats.

Employes who buck the regulations will be sent home to change and their pay will be docked for the time off, according to Newton's directive.

Invented Macaroni

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — Food historians say Marco Aroni, an 18th century innkeeper near Naples, invented macaroni when a young daughter took a lump of pasta to play with, stretching it out in the sun on a clothesline. Aroni retrieved it and was amazed when, upon putting it back in the pot, it failed to melt back into a lump.

He added tomato sauce—the customers loved it.

Rules on White Remain Same for the Bride

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: You advised an 18-year-old girl not to wear a white wedding gown just because she had had a baby prior to her marriage. Tell me, Mrs. Post, what is more important — tradition or a bride's happiness?

If that girl follows your advice she will only be advertising her misfortune to everyone at the wedding. Would you have her wear a sign around her neck stating "I am not a virgin?"

* * *

Many young girls have been intimate with their husbands before the wedding ceremony. They wear white gowns without feeling like criminals. Perhaps, as you said, a few impolite snobs will snicker if she wears white, but a lot more questioning eyebrows will be raised if she wears pink or blue.

A wedding is the most important occasion in a girl's life, and if wearing a white gown will add to her happiness, then I say wear it, by all means! — Mrs. S. M.

* * *

Dear Mrs. M.: Unless she has hidden the baby, or given it away, the guests at the wedding will all know of its existence. Although the attitude toward unwed mothers and babies born out of wedlock has greatly softened in recent years, a great majority of society still does not approve of that order of events, nor should they.

* * *

Certain standards must be maintained if the sanctity of marriage and the family is to be preserved.

* * *

I do not intend to judge the girls who find themselves in this position, but I firmly believe they show better taste to be married simply (and beautifully), rather than with an extravagant pageant which only serves to flaunt their situation or attempts to disguise it.

WEDDING RINGS

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother passed away three years ago, leaving me her wedding and engagement rings. I would like to have them cut down and wear them. My husband says "no." I do not want to have the stones put into a pin because I feel the rings are as sentimental as the stones. Please tell me if this is proper. — Sue

* * *

Dear Sue: You may wear your mother's engagement ring any way you wish — either above your own rings or on your right hand — but you should not wear her wedding ring at all. No matter how close you were, it is not your place to wear the ring given her as a symbol of her marriage.

California Honors Longest-Wed Pair

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — George Muller grinned an "aw shucks" sort of grin as if there wasn't anything special about being married to the same woman for 68 years.

"Raise a big family like I did," Muller, 94, confided. "That's the secret."

Mrs. Muller, 85, added her own prescription: "Get everyone to agree and get along with each other."

The Mullers live in Dos Palos, a farming town in California's central valley. They were honored by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke Friday as the California couple married longer than any other.

The search for the longest-married couple was conducted by the Commission on Aging and the California Bicentennial Celebration Commission.

Muller was the son of a Merced blacksmith. He married Madeline, his childhood sweetheart, in 1901.

They had seven children. Five are still living.

Muller acknowledged that he and his wife "always got along."

Tell News to Mom Yourself or Unthinking Friend Might

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last winter I had some extensive surgery and can have no more children. Fortunately I have a little six-year-old son. I didn't tell my parents about my operation at the time because they live far away, couldn't have come anyway, and besides my mother has a heart condition and I didn't want to upset her.

Now my parents are coming to visit me, and I plan to keep quiet about my operation. I've told all my friends and neighbors who know (and that includes about half the town) to please not mention it to my folks. Knowing my mother, she is sure to ask, "When are you going to get busy and have a little sister or brother for Junior?" I don't want to worry her about my condition, but what can I say that will be acceptable?

DEPENDING ON YOU

DEAR DEPENDING: Tell your mother the truth. If it's her heart you're concerned about, she'd be better off hearing the news from you at a time of your own choosing than from an absent-minded friend whose mouth works faster than her brain. And if you don't have at least one, you're the lucky exception.

DEAR ABBY: I am heartsick. My 14-year-old daughter has been picked up for shoplifting! She is a good girl and has never been in any trouble before. I can't understand what got into her. She gets a generous allowance, has never been denied anything she wanted or needed.

She was with two other girls, and all three were caught red-handed. The other girls were even better off financially than my daughter. I have tried to raise this child right. Where have I failed?

SHOPLIFTER'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Don't be so quick to accept the blame. You haven't failed. Your daughter has. She has failed to realize that shoplifting is a crime. She thinks it's a "game" . . . or a challenge. Or a new "sport." It's a strange new epidemic. I can offer seven rules for parents as a preventative to curb this new game:

* * *

- Explain to your youngsters that shoplifting is a crime, which leaves a criminal record. And a criminal record is a lifetime shadow.
- Emphasize that "Going along with the crowd" for fear of being "chicken" is the coward's way out.
- When youngsters go on a shopping expedition, know where your child is going, how much money he has and what he expects to buy.
- If your child comes home with more merchandise than he or she had money to buy, ask about it. And don't take any easy answers about where it came from.
- If your daughter goes shopping with an oversized purse, be wary.
- Outlaw all clothes swapping unless the parents on both sides know exactly what is being exchanged.
- Practice what you preach.

* * *

Woman Lifts Bar to Weighty Job

JACKSONVILLE, Fla (UPI) — Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. has eight days in which to promote a 39-year-old woman who proved she could do a man's work by lifting a 50-pound weight.

U. S. District Judge Charles R. Scott had ordered Southern Bell to give Mrs. Nellie W. Tuten tests to see if she qualified for a job as a telephone company switchman, a position normally held by men.

* * *

The 5-foot-3, 140-pound Mrs. Tuten applied for the job in January of 1967 and was turned down by Southern Bell, which said the job was too difficult for a woman.

* * *

Besides having to make night calls in bad weather, the job requires that she carry a 54-pound pound bottle of distilled water for routine battery maintenance and that she be able to carry 48-pound batteries and a 43 pound connector test set.

FILED SUIT

Mrs. Tuten filed suit Sept. 18, 1968, charging that she had been denied the job because of her sex and that Southern Bell was guilty of discrimination against her.

Under Scott's ruling Wednesday, Southern Bell must also pay her $1,000 in back pay.

She'll Keep Cobwebs off White House Ceilings

Peggy Carey, 55, a veteran housekeeping supervisor for the Nation's largest hotels, has her hair done in Long Beach, Calif., Friday after the announcement that she is to be the new housekeeper for the White House. She'll supervise menus and the housekeeping staff of 35 to 40 maids and housemen. Hairdresser is Fred Bailey.

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP — Peggy Carey of Long Beach, Calif., with long-time commercial hotel experience, was announced Friday as the new housekeeper at the White House in Washington.

She will take over the duties Sept. 3, replacing Mary Koltman of Austin, Tex., an expert food economist appointed by the Johnson administration, who left the post Aug. 1.

The job entails preparing menus and supervising the housekeeping staff for President and Mrs. Nixon at the White House.

Miss Carey has been with the Sheraton Hotel Corp. since March as regional supervisor and housekeeper, one of a string of jobs she has held with hotels over more than 20 years.

The Western White House press office of Mrs. Nixon announced Miss Carey's appointment but said that "for personal reasons, Miss Carey requested it initially be a temporary assignment."

The White House did not immediately name her salary.

Last year Miss Carey was administrative assistant to the vice president and general manager of the Pioneer International Hotel in Tucson, Ariz. For 20 years she was with the Hilton Hotel Corp., in Chicago and Boston as procedures analyst for the personnel, catering and sales department.

She is a graduate of the American Hotel Institute of Michigan State University.

Schedule Preview

The sculptures of Joseph Bulone and oils, lithographs of Ten Beng Chew will be on exhibit in the Little Gallery in Birmingham from Sept. 9 through Oct. 12.

A preview next Sunday from 3-6 p.m. will open the show in the gallery whose regular hours are 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

Milton Henry Is Sentenced in Contempt

DETROIT (AP) — Milton R. Henry, a Pontiac black militant lawyer, is under sentence to spend the next five weekends in Wayne County Jail for contempt of Detroit Recorder's Court.

But Henry, vice president of the separatist Republic of New Africa, says he will appeal the sentence of Judge Joseph A. Gillis Jr. when courts reopen Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Gillis sentenced Henry after citing him Friday for contempt last July 30, when Henry failed for a second time to appear for a hearing for one of his clients charged with pandering.

Henry who had offices at 518 Orchard Lake, insisted he had not been notified of the hearing date, but court attaches disputed this. Conviction followed a 2½-hour hearing.

WEEKEND SENTENCE

Gillis said he recognized Henry's duties and responsibilities to clients in ordering the sentence served on weekends, from 6 p.m. Fridays to 8 a.m. Mondays.

He could have been sentenced to 30 consecutive days and fined $250.

★ ★ ★

"I would have been here if I'd had knowledge of the court date," Henry said. Among evidence introduced by Charles Burke, attorney for the court, was a report by Western Union that a telegram had been read to Henry over the telephone and a copy delivered to his office.

Henry told newsmen he had been convicted "many times" of contempt, adding that "I have been subject to harassment by judges. Basically, it's hard for a white judge to deal with a black attorney in court. They resent my presence. My presence antagonizes judges."

★ ★ ★

While arguing that he didn't know he was scheduled to appear, Henry also said the client had paid him only $150 in legal fees and owes him "much more."

City Official Says Home Was Shot At

A City Commissioner told city police yesterday his house was shot at late Thursday night.

District 5 Commissioner Robert F. Jackson, 43, of 1075 Featherstone told police "two or three shots" were fired at his home about midnight Thursday.

★ ★ ★

A police investigation showed one of the bullets smashed through an upstairs bedroom screen and window.

Jackson said he heard a car race down the street after the shots were fired.

★ ★ ★

The commissioner's house was hit by three fire bombs Aug. 20, only 24 hours after he made an impassioned plea at a City Commission meeting calling for an end to fire-bombing incidents. Two youths were charged in connection with that incident.

SGT. CLYDE A. REITER

Mother Gets Valor Award for Dead Son

Army Sgt. Clyde A. Reiter, son of Mrs. Flora J. Reiter of 637 Benson, was posthumously awarded the nation's second highest award for valor in the Vietnam war in ceremonies Thursday at the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Command, Warren.

His mother received the decoration as well as the Purple Heart, in his behalf.

Sgt. Reiter, 23, was the ninth Michigan Army man to receive the award.

He won the Cross for actions while serving as an adviser to a Vietnamese patrol that came under attack. He was fatally wounded while administering first-aid and while carrying a wounded soldier to safety, on Dec. 28, 1968.

Sgt. Reiter was assigned to Company D, 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces.

Expanded Program Set for 'Troy Daze'

The second annual Labor Day celebration of "Troy Daze" will begin at 1 p.m. tomorrow and end at 6 p.m. Monday Sept. 1.

Heartened by the response to last year's one-day celebration, the 1969 committee has scheduled the two-day affair to be held at Boulon Park, Livernois at Sixteen Mile in Troy. The park will be open 1-8:30 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Labor Day.

★ ★ ★

The dual theme behind the festival will be "country fair" frolicking and "civic participation." All entertainment is free. There is no admission charge, although a $1 parking fee will be in effect both days. The Birmingham Civil Air Patrol will assist in parking cars and provide a security patrol.

There will be helicopter rides over Troy sponsored by the Troy Chamber of Commerce and pony rides for the children. More than a dozen chance and some 30 food and information booths will be spread throughout the park. Monday evening prizes will be awarded.

MORNING PARADE

More than 40 units, including 12 floats, will be in the 9 a.m. Labor Day parade. Among the marchers will be U.S. Marine and Air Force Color Guards; VFW DeWolfe Post Color Guard; Detroit Edison Calliope; Troy High School Band and the Detroit Clan McRae Bagpipe Band. The parade route, from Sixteen to Seventeen Mile Roads on Crooks will be closed during the parade.

The Troy Lions, Jaycees and Rotary and the Clawson-Troy Elks will have floats. Six fire trucks from the Troy department and members of the Jaquar Affiliates Group of Michigan will be spotlighted throughout the parade.

★ ★ ★

The events scheduled for the park include major, minor and pony league baseball games; a Ricky the Clown show; the Miss Troy finals and crowning; square dancing with professional callers; rock music groups and events and features designed especially for children.

Chrysler Plans Minicar Assembly by Spring '71

DALLAS (AP) — The "25 Car," Chrysler's intended entry into the field of subcompact automobiles, could be available as early as spring of 1971, Lynn Townsend, Chrysler chairman, said here Friday.

The subcompact field had been a high interest point during Chrysler's four-day national new car preview here.

Chrysler's subcompact would have a 91-inch wheel base, a 166-inch length and a 71.6-inch width.

The car would be smaller than Chrysler's Valiant but Townsend said it would be bigger than the Volkswagen.

AMERICAN CAR

"This will not be an import-derived car. It will be an American car developed to suit the American driver," Townsend said. The car would be produced at plants in the United States and Canada.

Townsend said the decision to go ahead with subcompact development was made last week.

The "25 Car" would come in two models, one for the Dodge division and another for Chrysler-Plymouth.

No hints as to the price of the car were given. During its four-day new car preview, Chrysler did not reveal prices on any models.

Townsend said price tags on the 1970 cars would probably be made next month along with warranty plans.

Drug Found to Keep Lab Rats Sober

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Scientist Irving Geller has found a way to keep rats from getting drunk on the test lab martinis he serves them.

Dr. Geller, chairman of the department of pharmacology and toxicology at Southwest Foundation here, reports the secret lies in a combination of the drugs diethanolamine-rutin.

A control group of rats, trained to perform certain tasks, was served large doses of grain alcohol. Their performance level dropped.

But an experimental group of rats was fed the drug combination and then the alcohol. They continued to perform their tasks.

Muslim Students Meeting at Alma

ALMA (AP) — Some 350 students, researchers and teachers gathered Friday on the campus of tiny Alma College for the 7th annual Muslim Students Association Convention.

The convention ends Monday. Numerous lectures and panel discussions will be offered through the weekend with a Sunday morning lecture by Dr. Mahmud Abuj Saud of Libya who will speak on "Islam: The Religion of Jihad." Jihad is roughly defined as the Muslim's fight or crusade for their beliefs.

Voters Week Set

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed Oct. 6-13 as Women Voters Week, noting that the League of Women Voters in Michigan and elsewhere has "provided Americans with information on candidates and issues, furnishing a nonpartisan platform from which all candidates may make themselves and their views known."

Suspect Is Sought in Rape, Robbery of Avon Woman

Oakland County sheriff's deputies today are searching or a man who broke into an Avon Township home last night and robbed and raped a woman there.

The victim told deputies she was startled by a noise in the house about 11 p.m. When she checked the house, she said she found a man standing in a bedroom who demanded all the money in house.

★ ★ ★

She said he took money from her purse, personal papers and 50 U.S. Savings bonds valued at $75 each. The total loss was listed as $3,930, deputies said today.

After her assailant beat her and bound her he raped her twice, she told deputies.

★ ★ ★

Investigators said the man apparently broke into the house through a bedroom window and fled out a back door. He is described as short and slender.

No matter how cold the air gets, there is still some moisture in it and this can fall out of the air in the form of very small snow crystals.

PFC. WILLIAM KAYGA

Area GI Killed in Viet Mishap

Army Pfc. William D. Kayga, 20, was reported killed in Vietnam Aug. 24 not as a result of hostile action.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Kayga of 2565 Forester, Pontiac Township, he was a 1967 graduate of Avondale High School. He attended Pontiac Business College and was a salesman for Acme Paints before entering the Army Sept. 4, 1968. Pfc. Kayga had been in Vietnam since March.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kayga said that they received information from the U.S. Army that their son was injured in a fall from an armored personnel car and died the next day.

Surviving besides his parents are a brother, Franklin, at home; two sisters, Diane and Susan, at home; and a grandmother, Mrs. Sylvia Wilcox of Pontiac.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete pending the arrival of the body.

Phones Promise Students Hope

HOLLAND (AP) — Students at Hope College should be the envy of telephone-conscious youths on campuses across the nation.

With the installation of a new 800-phone private branch exchange, Hope College offers telephones in every dormitory room.

Robbers Get $331 From City Man

A city man was robbed of $331 last night after he told three men he didn't have change for a one-dollar bill.

Dorsey M. Bugsby, 55, of 18 Lexington, told city police the three robbers approached him as he was walking to his parked car about 9 p.m. yesterday. The car was parked at 559 Auburn.

★ ★ ★

Bugsby said the men asked him if he had change, and when he said "No," he heard one of the men say "Let's get him."

He said the three wrestled him to the ground and stole his money clip and the cash. The robbers fled on foot, he told police.

Duo Importance

What comes out of your mouth on a date is very important, but what goes on your mouth is equally so. Iridescent, glow-in-the-dark lipsticks only give a garish look to your make-up. Subtle, warm shades are much more appealing.

REWARD!

The City of Pontiac will pay UP TO $1,000

For Information Leading to the Arrest of Persons Responsible for any of the Following Types of Crimes Committed in the City of Pontiac from January 1, 1969 through December 31, 1969:

- Arson (Includes all acts of firebombing)
- Interference or Attack on Firemen or their Equipment
- Serious misuse of firearms (Includes all acts of sniping)
- Serious assault or attack on any policeman or any other person
- Major theft
- Major burglary
- Murder
- Or any plotting or conspiring to commit any of the above crimes

The Pontiac City Commission has begun this reward system in an effort to further combat the increasingly serious threat of crime to every citizen in Pontiac. Use the following instructions to report a crime and collect the cash reward:

1. Type or print your information about a crime on a blank sheet of paper.
2. DO NOT SIGN YOUR NAME, but sign with any number of six figures or more.
3. Tear off and keep a corner of the sheet of paper containing the information on which is copied the same number.
4. Mail the sheet of information to P. O. Box 982, Pontiac, Michigan 48056.

If your information leads to an arrest, instructions will be published for collecting the reward without revealing your identity. Eligibility for reward will be determined and kept confidential by a three-man citizens committee appointed by the Mayor.

Oval Baby Pictures Of Browns' Three Daughters Hang Above Living Room Sofa

Colonial Is Their 20th Home

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Moving has become a science with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Farmington Township whose four-bedroom, three-year-old colonial is the couple's 20th home since their marriage.

This does not include the number of apartments they have lived in.

* * *

"Because of the moves," said Mrs. Brown, "we have to choose houses that our furniture will fit in."

Some pieces, however, have to undergo alteration to make them fit . . . for example, the pine dry-sink-hutch in the family room.

"We had the bottom made to use as a bar eight years ago when we lived in Farmington. It was fine. But we moved away and when we moved back three years ago, the pine dry sink just got lost on the wall.

"So I called the carpenter who built it and he came out and added the hutch, making the piece more compatible with its surroundings."

* * *

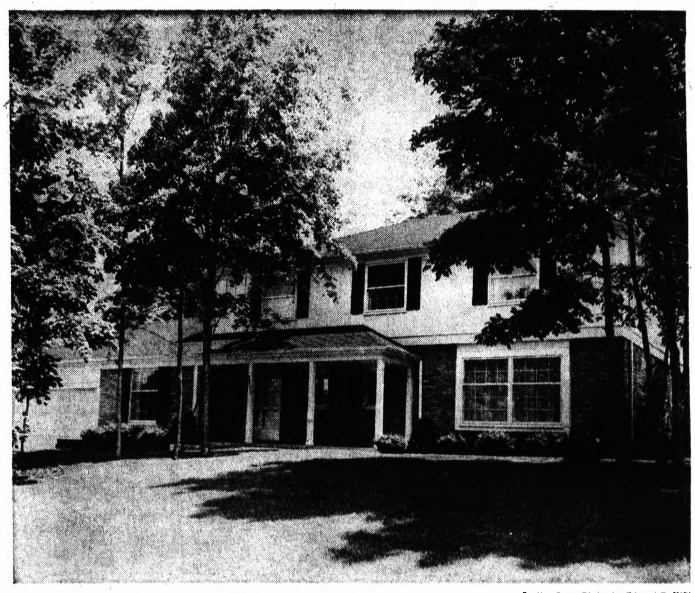

Paneled in walnut, the family room acts as a bridge between the kitchen's informal dining area and the screened porch and outdoor patio.

The wall above its sea-green leather sofa features original art including one done by the Browns' daughter Nancy when she was nine years old.

Artistically talented, Mrs. Brown has created the rooms' floral arrangements. In the family room are the dried arrangement in the milk can near the dry-sink hutch and the Williamsburg-type arrangement on the round coffee table's lazy Susan.

Ladder-back chairs with reed seats serve the round, pedestal game table lighted by a converted lamp of brass and copper.

Matching gold T-cushioned chairs in the living room are separated by a cherry Queen Anne coffee table topped by gold candles in brass candlesticks and a Williamsburg arrangement of statice, babysbreath, dried pods and yarrow.

American Backyards Are the Most Popular Summer Resorts

In any popularity contest among the world's summer resort areas, the handsdown winner, without a doubt, would be the American backyard.

Many million of families spend most of their leisure time during the summer months in their own private "resort" area, which is equipped in varying degrees for relaxation, play, entertainment, and dining.

More than a million families will join this throng this summer through the purchase of major equipment for an outdoor living area, according to James Rabbitt, an outdoor living specialist.

If you are among this group — either as a newcomer or as a seasoned zealot who is upgrading your facilities — here are some pointers on patio planning to help you maximize your backyard enjoyment:

● You usually don't have much choice as to patio location but insofar as possible you should consider wind and sun direction and easy access to kitchen-dining area.

SOUTH-FACING

Even a south-facing patio can be cool and comfortable when protected by a modern, aluminum cover. Include shrubbery and fencing in your planning if screening is called for.

● The patio should be designed to fit the pattern of family activity, with room for dining and entertaining. Its relation to outdoor grill or pool should be carefully worked out.

* * *

Remember that an outdoor fireplace has a second important use — to provide warmth and a campfire-like feeling on cool nights.

● Your aluminum patio cover can be built to fit the shape of the patio floor. Aluminum panels with white undersides provide a pleasantly diffused light, but more light in certain areas can be obtained by replacing some of the aluminum panels with translucent plastic ones.

Although most homeowners prefer bright, high-gloss colors, you can also get low-gloss, matte finishes that blend with roof or siding.

SCREENING

● If you don't screen your patio now, you should plan for the future by using patio cover supports that will permit easy installation of screen panels.

● Don't forget lighting. You don't have to light up every square foot of patio space.

* * *

You should provide diffused lights, well above eye-level for the central area. And don't forget plenty of electric outets for TV, radio, hot plates, coffee makers and so on.

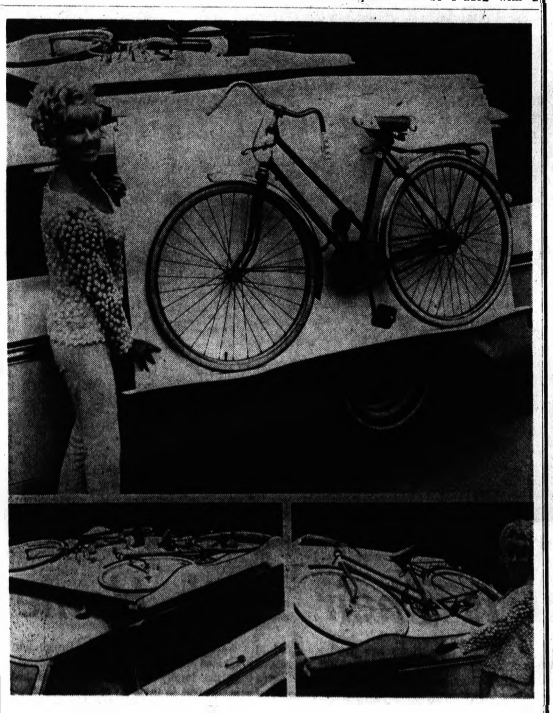

● Heating should be carefully considered. Heating coils can be installed when the floor is laid and connected with the home's heating system, or portable equipment can be chosen from a great variety of efficient models available.

● If backyard space is limited, a side patio or patio-carport can provide the shade retreat you need. Or a front porch can be shaded with a custom, aluminum awnings and screened in.

For further information on aluminum awnings and patio covers contact: Alcan Building Products Division, 100 Erieview Plaza, Cleveland, Ohio 44114.

BATH BEAUTY—Bright yellow, spring green and shades of hot pink set the mood for a colorful bathroom designed around a revolutionary new bathtub design molded of fiber glass. The unit is one-piece molded fiber glass combining bath and shower with three integral walls and optional ceiling top. Three shelves for toiletries are molded into the back wall—bath level soap ledge with drain, shower level soap ledge with drain and shampoo shelf. A 34" grab bar and towel bar for added convenience. Installation of the fiber glass unit is made during the framing of a home . . . everything goes in at once — tub and three walls. Its seam-free construction completely eliminates damaging water leadage.

TAKE THEM ALONG — Planning an autumn outing? Take along your bicycles so you can really get back to nature and enjoy the fall scene. This carrier makes loading and unloading the bikes a cinch. The design accommodates two bicycles, one loaded from each side. To obtain the easy-to-follow car carrying bike rack pattern number 457, send $1 (add 25 cents per pattern for air mail delivery) by currency, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. ## Plants Do More Than Grow

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

A garden of performing plants, of flowers that move, grow, or respond to something in little-known or unusual ways, can be an absorbing, year-round pleasure.

Those words are from a new garden book titled "Performing Plants," by Ware T. Budlong (Simon & Schuster), who says you need little more than seeds and soil to have such a garden.

Sketches by artist Grambs Miller illustrate fascinating items such as luminous mushroom, pitcher plant, compass plant and carnivorous plants, plants that respond to touch or gravity, and one that can be anesthetized with chloroform.

To make things easier, Budlong provides background information and sources of seeds and plants, some of which are hard to come by.

COMPASS PLANT

For instance, frontiersmen on Mississippi Valley prairies discovered in the early 1800s a sunflower-like plant, the sturdy leaves growing so that their edges pointed north and south while the broad upper and lower surfaces were exposed to the east and west.

Mimosa pudica is so sensitive it is commonly called sensitive plant. The leaves fold when you touch them.

Another plant has flowers jointed at the base so they may be turned as though they worked on ball bearings. The telegraph plant has leaflets that move up and down like the action of a telegraph key.

* * *

The gas plant on hot evenings gives off a vapor that will flash into flame if a lighted match is held near the stem.

Th oxalis shoots its seeds with a pistol-shot noise. Rattlesnake iris seeds rattle in the wind.

TIMETABLE

The author presents a timetable for plants with their specific hours of opening and closing. Four O'clock closes its blooms at 4 p.m.

There are walking plants, including a fern that sends out a long narrow frond that takes root where it touches the ground and starts a new plant.

* * *

Tulips will move to sunny spots. Directions are given for making a plant take a deep bow through "heliotropism" or "phototropism." Certain plants respond to water and to electric current, and to a source of heat.

Did you know that dandelion seeds are attracted by static electricity. Artist Miller illustrates with a comb.

PARTNERSHIPS

There are a number of "plant partnerships," plants that grow better when special friends are nearby. Roses and garlic are very compatibile. Many herbs benefit vegetables.

* * *

Budlong describes unusual methods of seed dispersal and scattering of plants, including some "hitch-hikers," and suggests a number of home experiments.

U.S. Timber Fills Housing Needs

Sixty per cent of U.S. softwood sawtimber is in federal forests, but less than one-third of the lumber and plywood comes from these lands.

Congress is shaping a funded plan for more roads and better management, so public timber can fill a bigger share of housing needs.

PICTURESQUE — To add a bright accent to your backyard landscape, build a windmill. To obtain the easy-to-follow, full-size Dutch windmill pattern number 397, send $1 (add 25 cents per pattern for air mail delivery) by currency, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. We Have A BETTER PLAN...

WE MAKE IT EASY!

Developed to Prevent Homeowners Like Yourself from Being Burdened With TWO Homes!

THE Bateman Guarantee HOME TRADE-IN PLAN . . . the modern way to Acquire Your Next Home

Without Our Trading Program
You Must Either
SELL BEFORE BUYING or
BUY BEFORE SELLING
Each could be an undesirable circumstance and you could be subjecting yourself to unnecessary hardships and sacrifices.

No Matter Where You Are Moving . . .
TRADING IS OUR BUSINESS
Member of International Traders Club
COAST-TO-COAST REALTOR

here's how the plan works:

1. You offer to purchase the home of your choice subject to a satisfactory trade-in figure from Bateman Realty Company.
2. Upon acceptance of this conditional offer by the seller we will appraise your home and issue a guarantee trade-in commitment to you. This is usually based on a 90-day closing which guarantees you the necessary funds to close your transaction.
3. When you accept the trade-in commitment your home is then listed and put on the market in this manner.
4. Your salesman will explain in detail the entire process especially the sliding scale method.
5. All homes processed through our trade-in plan are given special service. By this we mean open houses at least twice during the first thirty days, at least once during the second thirty days, special advertising and promotion, etc., etc.
6. If by any chance you are not completely and thoroughly satisfied with the trade-in figure and Bateman Realty should have to purchase your home, you have the privilege of buying it back for hundreds of dollars less than the figure Bateman Realty pays for it. This is done in writing through the exclusive Bateman "Sell-Back Agreement".
7. At the time of closing the transaction on your newly acquired home, you are credited with your entire equity from your old home, which is the guaranteed price less any encumbrances and costs of title work and miscellaneous costs.

Ten ways the Realtor takes the worry out of home buying!

Buying a home can be a barrel of fun. Or a peck of pitfalls. And that's where a Realtor comes in. . Even though you may know the difference between a dormer window and a bay, his expert help can open your eyes to other features you might never notice. And steer you clear of drawbacks you might easily overlook. Below you will find ten of the best reasons we know for starting your search for a home in the Realtor's office.

1. THE REALTOR SAVES YOU TIME, EFFORT AND HEADACHES. He discovers your architectural interests, learns something of your personal tastes — and tries to show you only the types of homes you want to see, within your price range.
2. THE REALTOR ADVISES YOU ABOUT NEIGHBORHOODS. His professional experience is invaluable to you in analyzing future trends and the potential value of your home as a long-range investment.
3. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SEE THROUGH INFLATED PRICES. Owners who try to sell personally, often tend to overprice a home. But homes listed with a Realtor — benefit from his knowledge of current market values.
4. THE REALTOR ARRANGES FOR DEFINITE INSPECTIONS. He makes appointments for your convenience. He will also see that you have plenty of time for a thorough, unhurried inspection.
5. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SHARPEN YOUR VISION. He inspects homes with you, calls your attention to improvements and advantages you could overlook. And points out any disadvantages his trained eye may spot.
6. THE REALTOR PROVIDES YOU WITH FULL INFORMATION. He will give you essential facts about taxes, maintenance costs, quality of construction, adequacy of public services, schools, churches — even introduce you to the neighbors.
7. THE REALTOR ACTS AS A NEGOTIATOR. Settling of the finer points of price and other differences can get pretty hetic. Your Realtor smoothes over the details and helps buyer and seller arrive at a mutually advantageous agreement.
8. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU STAY WITHIN YOUR BUDGET. He will help you analyze your financial situation, give you sound mortgage advice. Then, if you desire, he can recommend sources of mortgage funds so you can arrange financing.
9. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU KNOW FINAL FACTS AND FIGURES. At the closing of the transaction, you will need a complete financial statement, giving you an exact record for insurance, tax and other purposes.
10. THE TERM REALTOR is your assurance of competence, fair treatment and integrity. Display of the realtor seal is evidence of the pledge to uphold the Realtor's Creed.

Check Sound Control Features

If you're planning to buy a new home or apartment these days, make sure that it has built-in sound control features or it will be obsolete before you move into it, the United States Savings and Loan League.

The friendly warning was contained in the latest supplement to the gigantic Construction Lending Guide, a volume originally written to aid construction loan officers at saving and loan associations, but which was later made available to anyone interested in home building and homeownership.

★ ★ ★

"Contemporary living is noisy," the Guide states, "and today's electrical servants — washers, dryers, dishwashers, garbage disposers, refrigerators, vacuum cleaners, radios, TV and more—make life easier and more enjoyable but at the same time create noise problems."

The Guide pointed out that central heating and cooling equipment produce noise and carry it into every room.

Outdoors, noise levels have increased also, and sound created by high-speed roads, fast trains and jet airliners add to the problem.

CLOSENESS

Another factor is that today people live closer to their neighbors and engage in an increasing amount of outdoor leisure activity.

Commercial sound conditioning began some 30 years ago in churches, theaters and auditoriums; a little later it was used in classrooms, offices, hospitals, restaurants and other commercial buildings.

★ ★ ★

When it is preplanned in the design of a home or apartment, sound control can usually be accomplished inexpensively.

"However," the Gude pointed out, "after a building is completed, corrections in the construction to control sound transmission are almost always costly."

While the subject of sound is relatively technical, there are some facts about it that are easily understood by the laymen — particularly when he lives with sound (or noise as the case may be) every moment.

LEVELS

Sound levels, are expressed in decibels. A reading of zero decibels shows a sound level that is just slightly less than the faintest sound which can be heard by the human ear — and reaches the threshold of feeling.

Anything over 120 decibels then goes up from that point. For example, sound at 120 decibels causes a "tickling in the ear" sensation; sound as high as 180 decibels, generated by some rocket engines, can cause structural damage to buildings and can be fatal to humans.

Some examples of the decibel readings of sounds familiar to all of us. For instance, rustling leaves hit the scale at about 10 decibels — very restful; an empty theater or your own bedroom would register about equipment produce noise and 30-35; office background noise and normal conversation about 55-60; inside your automobile in traffic is around 80, and at 90 (or more) the hi-fi addict is happy; inside an airplane or walking through a noisy industrial plant registers about 100.

At 120 on the scale we reach the threshold of feeling — the passing of an elevated train for example. From the outside jet aircraft transmit 140 decibels to the listener, which, by the way is less than artillery fire, which comes in at about 130.

"Anything above 140," the Guide says, "puts the hearer definitely in the acutely uncomfortable hearing zone and prolonged exposure can be extremely dangerous."

TIPS

What should the homeowner watch for in the way of sound control in a new house or apartment?

First of all acoustical correction and second, noise reduction.

★ ★ ★

Acoustical correction involves the detailed planning and shaping of a room to establish the best hearing conditions for "wanted" sound. It involves engineering calculations and the use of acoustical and other finish materials. It requires the services of an expert.

Noise reduction involves the treatment of room surfaces with acoustical materials to lessen the discomfort and distraction caused by the reflection of sound "unwanted" within the space.

Among the most common noise offenders are ordinary smooth hard building surfaces which are highly reflective and throw back 98 per cent of the sound that strikes them.

REFLECTION

This reflection causes the sound to build up to a high level and to die out very slowly.

"When a sound absorbing material is placed over a hard surface in a room, sound does not build up as fast and will die out faster," the Guide said.

Among the many things which are effective sound control devices are acoustical ceiling tiles, insulation within the walls of the home, use of sound-absorbing material on the walls, etc.

Strangely enough, everyday carpeting is one of the most effective home sound control materials. In addition to this, draperies absorb a certain amount of sound.

Sound control is an even greater problem in multi-unit apartment buidings.

OWN NOISE

"The fact of the matter is," a spokesman said, "people can live very well with their own family noise, but they can't abide their neighbor's noise. What is the pattering of little feet in your apartment is a thundering herd of elephants when it takes place in the apartment above."

The home or apartment buying family discuss the sound problem freely with the builder. Ask what type of sound control is being used in the construction of the building itself and what type of acoustical materials will appear in the final product.

And if little or no sound control is being planned into your dwelling, perhaps you should look elsewhere.

Uniformity Is Big Help to Builder

Variety isn't always the spice of life. To assure top quality in building products, the emphasis is often on uniformity.

Nothing is more troublesome to a builder or do-it-yourselfer than materials that should match—but don't.

★ ★ ★

Even slight variations in colors or finishes in the same material may require hand matching. This means loss of time and labor—and sometimes less than satisfying results.

PANELING

One of the most difficult materials to match is natural wood paneling. The exception is hardboard paneling, an engineered wood product, manufactured for uniformity of grain, density, strength—and finish.

The uniform beauty of hardboard's grain and finish is achieved by a unique process.

★ ★ ★

For example, in manufacturing a walnut woodgrain finish, only the most eye-appealing grain sections are selected from as many as 150 walnut flitches.

These selected sections are then mounted on a 4 by 8 foot panel. The panel is photographed, etched on plates and printed in designer colors on a specially prepared hardboard base panel.

UNIFORM GRAIN

This process results in a uniform grain and color for all panels. No panel matching is necessary.

The same process is used for a variety of prefinished hardboards. In addition to conventional woodgrains, there are also panels in decorator colors, marbleized surfaces, embossed patterns and unusual textures, such as cane and burlap.

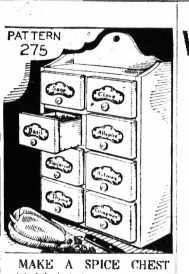

The composition of hardboards is also of uniform quality. Hardboards are made by refining wood to individual fibers which are formed into a uniform mat.

★ ★ ★

The mat is then compressed and bonded under heat and pressure. All grains, knots and other natural wood irregularities are eliminated. The decorative surface is then imprinted on the panels.

Because of their uniform density and strength, hardboards won't crack, check or splinter and are exceptionally resistant to dents, scuffs and stains.

These attributes make hardboard "wood at its best."

MAKE A SPICE CHEST with labeled drawers. Pattern 275 gives actual-size cutting guides and directions and a wide variety of printed spice and herb labels ready to paste on. Price 50 cents. This pattern also is in the Old-time Furnishings Packet No. 65 which is a big value for $1.50. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Box 50, New Windsor, N. Y. 12550.

Hold Brush Near Base of Handle

The best way to hold a paint brush is to grasp the brush comfortably near the base of the handle. Hold it rather loosely.

Do not bear down hard on a brush, but exert only enough pressure to make the bristles flex slightly toward the tip.

KING-SIZE BED—Custom-made in Georgia to blend with an antique Sheraton chest and antique rosewood desk, the bed in the master bedroom of the Robert Browns in Farmington Township is covered by an off-white quilted damask spread. Velvet throws in pumpkin, gold and green emphasize the room's accent colors. The candle stand in the foreground was made by Mrs. Brown of an old balustrade, board and salad bowl.

Brick House Needs Periodic Care Too

There's a fallacy about brick homes. The fallacy is that they are maintenance free. Certainly they don't require the complete painting every few years that the wood home demands.

But they do require occasional attention and just because you are not forced to paint them regularly is no reason to ignore them.

* * *

Crumbling mortar is the problem with brick homes, and the brick foundations of wood homes. Don't neglect bad mortar joints or you may find damp spots on indoor walls before too long.

One comfortable thing about repairing mortar joints -- it's a job you can do a little at a time.

INSPECTION

Occasional inspection of your home is the way to detect trouble before it becomes too serious. Use a screwdriver to probe mortar joints for loose material.

Use a hammer and chisel to remove loose mortar. Leave the sound portions alone. Clean out fragments with a wire brush.

* * *

Hose down the surface so that it is thoroughly wet. Never apply fresh mortar to a dry surface. If you do, it will dry too quickly and crumble.

Use a prepared mortar mix, adding water to small amounts and mixing only what you will need in a short time.

TROWEL

A pointing trowel is used to fill the joints with fresh mortar. Use the end of the trowel to indent the mortar slightly. This makes it look better and helps it shed water.

Keep some rags and bucket of water handy to wipe or wash away mortar that gets smeared on the brick.

* * *

New mortar joints should be kept wet for a few days.

Mortar can become loose in brick steps, too. But this presents another problem since the constant weight on the steps may loosen bricks. A loose brick also will crack easily.

PATCH

If wear is slight, just patch as you would for a wall. But bricks that are starting to crack or wobble should be attended to differently.

First, break away the mortar so that you can remove the brick. Then clean out the rest of the mortar and whatever hardened mortar is on the brick.

* * *

Set the brick to soak in a bucket of water. Cover the brick, except for the face that will show, with mortar and set it back in place carefully.

Finish filling the joints with mortar.

Allow the replaced bricks to stand for a time, whine smooth the mortar. Wet throurghly and continue to do so for several days.

Avoid using the steps, at least in the area of repair, until the new work is thoroughly set.

Storage Hint a Multi-User

Storage couches are great for family rooms. Build box frames of solid fir or pine boards, including one or two drawers in the base.

Seats are foam mattresses. Covered with a sturdy cotton plaid.

Make the couches six feet long to sleep the children's overnight guests.

The National Housing Center Library in Washington, D. C. is the world's largest library exclusively devoted to information on housing.

Preservative Helps Wood

Wood decks weather more evenly and quickly when finished with a clear water repellent preservative.

* * *

Deck boards can be soaked in the preservative before installation, or it can be brushed or mopped on after assembly.

Use as much as the wood will absorb.

Determine Heating Needs

If heating modernization plans are made at the outset of a home improvement project, the homeowner can save not only on the heating job, but on the over-all remodeling job.

* * *

Most remodeling jobs require some heating work, and it is easier to do it before other changes are made. Homes with hydronic heating are well suited for remodeling and the old steam heated Tudor-styled house can be easily updated.

POSTPONING YOUR HOME BUYING DECISION CAN BE COSTLY
HERE IS WHY: The cost of building a new home, of necessity reflects rising labor costs, and this goes beyond the increased wages which are being paid to the highly skilled "on-the-site" construction workers. Increased labor costs, which are incurred in the production of building materials and components are in one way or another passed along to the home builder, thus wages and salary increases granted workers in related fields have caused the price of all the materials which go into a modern home to inch ever upward, as the cost of new home construction increases, so does the valuation of and the demand for existing homes. The home which sells for $20,000 today will be wearing a $21,500 to $22,000 price tag a year from now. Whether you are considering buying a new home or an existing home, the time to buy is N-O-W!!! Higher labor costs is just one of the many reasons why postponing your home buying decision can be costly.

Ranch With Family Fitness Center

TRADITIONAL VERSION of four-bedroom ranch combines brick and wood shingles, with shuttered windows and appropriate details. Architect has also provided a contemporary exterior design, using brick and vertical siding, with no change in the floor plans.

FLOOR PLANS: While the family fitness center is a feature of this house, the room arrangement is excellent in its own right. Note that the family room is 2' longer than the living room, in line with a trend towards more spacious family rooms.

By ANDY LANG

September has been designated as "Family Fitness Month." To focus attention on the need for regular exercise, architect Herman A. York has designed a house around an area devoted to this idea.

* * *

The core of the floor plan's fitness center is a room large enough to accommodate several pieces of exercising equipment, such as motorized bicycles, lifting weights, etc. Also incorporated in the center are an outdoor exercise patio with a privacy fence, a sauna, a stall shower and a closet.

* * *

In layout out this area, the architect so arranged it that it would be adjacent to the informal family room and away from the formal living and dining rooms. This enables it to be left in a "lived-in" condition.

TWO-WAY FIREPLACE

The living room, to the right of the foyer and at the front of the house, has a two-way fireplace, on the other side of which is the family room at the rear of the house. The family room, 22' long, is separated from the kitchen-dinette by a wrought iron railing and has sliding glass doors leading to a lounging and dining patio.

Included in the kitchen area are several features which homemakers want, including a separate pantry, broom closet, mud closet, laundry with enough space for a separate sink, a nearby toilet and lavatory, and direct access to the two-car garage and rear yard. A large space at the back of the garage provides for 50 square feet of outdoor equipment storage wit hits own door to the rear yard.

* * *

On the other side of the house is the bedroom wing, with four bedrooms and two bathrooms. The owners' bedroom has a spacious dressing room, two regular closets and one large walk-in. One of the bedrooms is in a location which makes it easily possible to be used, if desired, as a library, with a door leading directly to the front foyer.

FAMILY FITNESS CENTER

Because of some of the unusual features surrounding the family fitness center, architect York decided to provide not only a traditional exterior design, but an alternative contemporary style for those who may want to reflect on the outside a greater degree of the inside layout.

From a cost standpoint, there would not be much difference between the two exteriors, since the over-all square footage of the habitable area, 2304 square feet, is the same in both instances.

In the traditional house, the arhitect has specified brick and wood shingles. For the contemporary design, he has indicated exterior stone and a vertical siding, with a choice of wood, aluminum or one of the new plastic-coated sidewall coverings.

With the increasing recognition of exercise in the continuous struggle to keep fit, this house affords an opportunity to engage in healthful activities with complete privacy. But even more important, it's a well-designed place to live.

How to Build, Buy or Sell Your Home

Full study plan information on this architect-designed House of the Week is included in a 50-cent baby blueprint. With it in hand you can obtain a contractor's estimate.

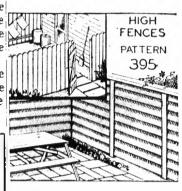

You can order also, for $1, a booklet called YOUR HOME—How to Build, Buy or Sell it. Included in it are small reproductions of 16 of the most popular House of the Week issues. Send orders to House Plans, The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Michigan 48056

S-8 STATISTICS

Design S-8 has a living room, dining room, kitchen-dinette, family room, four bedrooms, two bathrooms, laundry, lavatory, foyer and a family fitness center. Total livable area is 2,304 square feet. There is a rear patio with accessibility from the family room and a door just off the kitchen. Over-all dimensions, which include a two-car garage, are 87'4" by 49'5". The plans call for a basement, with a stairway in the kitchen area.

FOUR DESIGNS for high fences are given in Pattern 395. All your questions are answered including how to set posts so they will not rot out and how close to space them. So, whether you want to shut out a view or preserve privacy, go ahead with confidence. This pattern is 50 cents. It also is included in the Homestead Improvement Pact No. 30 with three other full-size patterns for $1.50. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P. O. Box 50, New Windsor, N. Y. 12550.

Check for Outdoor Features When Purchasing a Home

Whether you're looking for a new house or an old one, there are a number of exterior "plus" features you should watch out for.

These features, says Daniel Cantor, a home improvement specialist, make for greater comfort and lower upkeep. Many homes, however, are built without them.

* * *

If you can find a home that contains most of these "pluses," you are ahead of the home-hunting game, he adds.

First, says the specialist, is the doorway sheltered from the weather by a porch roof or a door canopy so that persons entering can insert the key or ring the bell without being drenched?

Does the land slope away from the house on all sides so that the basement or crawl space will stay dry?

ALUMINUM SIDING

A really big plus is aluminum siding. It means no more periodic repainting for 30 years or so and considerable cost savings in heating and cooling due to additional insulation protection.

And don't look for it only on older homes, Cantor says. An increasing number of new home builders are offering aluminum siding now.

Another plus is a well-planned front yard that's easy to mow and not an obstacle course with isolated trees, shrubs and flower beds.

Eaves and rain gutters. Eaves shade walls and windows, protect the house from rain. Gutters carry off the rain and protect the house from rot and dampness.

There should be several downspouts to prevent the gutters from spilling over in a heavy rainstorm.

GABLE, LOUVERS

Large-size gable louvers. The larger they are the better the ventilation in the attic area, a must for summer comfort. And openings should be screened to keep out birds and insects.

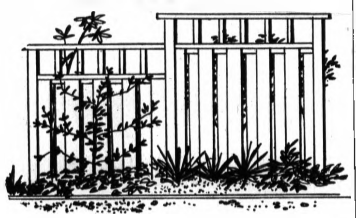

A light-colored roof to reflect the summer sun. The darker the roof, the more heat enters the house. Flashing should be clearly visible where roof meets chimney and other materials and in good condition.

A garage that's wide enough for two of today's standard-size cars. "Two-car" garages built a decade ago or so might only be able to hold two compacts.

A back yard that's private with a patio and patio cover. This is getting to be a "must" today with most summer entertaining being done outdoors.

Window awnings for a pleasing appearance, to keep the house cooler in the summer, and to protect furnishings from the sun's rays.

Hose connections on more than one side of the house to cut down on watering time and work.

PRIVACY—Board-on-board design of stepped screen makes an excellent privacy baffle between close neighbors, looks handsome on both sides. Use 1x4-inch cedar boards overlapping edges, 2x4 rails, 4x4 posts. Center nailing strip is a 2x2. Decorative crown is made with short pieces of 2x4 set edge out between top rail and a 2x6 cap.

IT'S A BREEZE that starts all the action. The mill whirls and the little man begins to saw wood at top speed. His dejected hound dreams hopefully of happier occupations. Pattern 202, which gives actual-size cutting and painting guides and assembly directions, is 50 cents. This pattern also is in the Windmill and Weathervane Packet No. 11 which gives four other designs all for $1.50.

Honored for Performance

For his first place performance in a skit with other teen-agers from the Eastside Church of Christ, Raymond Wiggins of 150 Orchard Lake was named Mr. Youth Conference during the 18th Annual National Youth Conference of the Church of Christ in Los Angeles, Calif. last week.

He was in competition with teen-agers from some 20 states.

Mrs. Leslie Seay, one of the youth counselors of the church, accompanied Wiggins, Kay Moore, Linda Moore and Belinda Shannon to the convention.

* * *

In keeping with the theme of the gathering, "Christian Youth Reactions and Actions in an Age of Revolution," the skit portrayed the philosophies of three well known black leaders of the Civil Rights Movement.

RECITES

Raymond Wiggins recited one of Dr. Martin Luther King's well known addresses titled "I Have a Dream."

Belinda Shannon summed it up by emphasizing "that neither black power nor white power is the answer to the problem. She insisted that "only living together in an integrated world will prepare us to live together in an integrated heaven."

* * *

The Rev. Andrew Carney is pastor of the Eastside Church of Christ, 168 Prospect.

PLAYS TROMBONE

A senior at Pontiac Central High School, Raymond plays trombone in Pontiac Central Band, sings in the Youth Choir of his church and is active in the church youth group.

* * *

A part time employe of Osmun's at Tel-Huron Shopping Center, Raymond plans to attend Michigan Christian College, Avon Township, for two years, then enter Western University and work toward a law degree.

Offer Prayers at Midnight

Jewish Holy Days Begin on Sept. 12

In anticipation of the Jewish High Holy Days, Jews offer penitential prayers during the month prior to the Holy Days which begin at sundown on Sept. 12.

* * *

A Selihot service, the best known of the penitential services, traditionally takes place at midnight on the Saturday prior to the sacred season.

The service is one of spiritual preparation for High Holy Days. Its purpose is to attune the thought, the mind, and the heart of the individual to the meaning of the Holy Days.

SELIHOT

A Selihot service is scheduled for 11 p.m. Sept. 6 at Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake, with Rabbi Philip Berkowitz, spiritual leader of the Temple, officiating.

* * *

The service will be augmented by special music adapted for choir and organ.

Prior to the midnight worship, the Sisternood of Temple Beth Jacob has planned a social hour beginning at 9:45 p.m.

* * *

BAR MITZVAH

Temple Beth Jacob will be the scene of a Bar Mitzvah ceremony for Bruce Karmann at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

* * *

Rabbi Berkowitz has chozen for his sermon, "What To Expect of the High Holy Days."

News of Area Churches

Sunday is Missionary Day at Messiah Baptist Church.

At 11 a.m. worship service Mrs. Thelma Spencer of Chapel Hill Baptist Church, Detroit, will be guest speaker.

The Rev. Bob Hart will speak at 11 a.m. and again at 7 p.m. Roger Ringbloom will play a cornet solo at the evening service.

A coffee hour and Bible study are set for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. All women are welcome.

BETHANY Baptist

Bethany Baptist Church will return to the regular Sunday morning schedule on Sept. 7. Sunday School is listed for 9:45 a.m. and worship at 11 a.m.

* * *

The first fall meeting of the Women's Society is set for Sept. 11 with luncheon at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Carol Stephenson, president of Detr It Baptist Women, will speak on "Circles of Concern."

'Crisis in Asia' Sermon Topic Tomorrow

Dr. Peter van Lierop, a Presbyterian fraternal worker at Yonsei University Korea, will speak on "Crisis in Asia" at 10 a.m. tomorrow in First Presbyterian Church, Huron and Wayne.

* * *

Following worship Dr. and Mrs. van Lierop will be greeted by friends and members of the congregation at the coffee hour with Mr. and Mrs. Lane Vanderhoek, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kneale, hosts.

A graduate of Hope College, Dr. van Lierop entered Pittsburgh Seminary receiving his degree in 1949.

* * *

After graduate work in Wayne State University and the University of Pittsburgh, he received his doctorate degree.

He was married to Eleanor Creswell whose late father was pastor of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church in 1943.

* * *

The van Lierops were appointed to Mission Service in Korea in 1949. During the Chinese attack they lived in Japan where he taught at North Japan College in Sendai.

Ordained a Presbyterian minister on June 27, 1969, he has accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church in Marlton, N. J.

Why I Go to Church

VERNA M. HAIRSTON

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the eighth in a series of articles written by Pontiac area citizens.)

By VERNA M. HAIRSTON
Tax Technician, U.S. Treasury Dept.

One of the values I find in attending church is the opportunity for a fuller Christian service. Another value of the church to its members is found in the opportunity it affords for fellowship.

God has not intended that His people should live in isolation, and the Church is the most important organization for promoting Christian fellowship. Every time we worship Christ in His church we are serving Him.

I go to church lest I forget to treat others the way I would like to be treated; lest I forget without the rain, sorrow and disappointments, trials and tribulations, grief and despair, I could not appreciate the radiant sun and all of the wonderful blessings that God bestows upon us daily.

When I count my blessings and name them one by one, it makes me aware that you can't beat God giving, no matter how you try. Count your blessings, name them one by one; count your many blessings and see what God has done for you.

Fall Festival Scheduled for Sept. 6-7

It's festival time!

That's the happy thought of hundreds of Oakland County youngsters who will soon be flocking to the Fall Festival held every year on the grounds at Sacred Heart Catholic Church and School, 3400 S. Adams, Pontiac Township.

* * *

This 21st annual event, scheduled for Sept. 6 and 7, will feature helicopter rides, musical entertainment, snack stands, kiddie rides, clowns, variety booths, game booths, a spaghetti dinner on Saturday and a roast beef dinner Sept. 7.

The spaghetti dinner will be served from 3:30-7 p.m. Saturday, priced at $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

The Sunday roast beef dinner will be served from noon until late in the day. The dinner for adults is $2.25 and $1.25 for children 5-12 years of age. Youngsters under 5 will eat free at both dinners.

* * *

The Rev. Henry Kreft, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, said there is no admission charge and everyone is invited to share in the fun. Carlem Conner is festival chairman.

Fall Schedule Set for Sunday Worship

The St. Andrew Lutheran Church, 6255 Telegraph, West Bloomfield Township, will begin its fall schedule of services on Sept. 7 with worship at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

* * *

The Sunday School will start on the same date with classes for three-year-old youngsters and up including adults.

On Oct. 1 the weekday Church School will begin for children in the fourth grade through ninth. Classes beginning at 4:30 p.m. will include religion, catechism, supper for all groups, and rehearsals for youth choirs.

Need Funds, Food, Bedding

Maj. Leslie Hall, the divisional commander coordinating the Emergency Disaster Service in Mississippi, reports to the Salvation Army in Detroit and Pontiac that upwards of 100,000 per day are being served food, bedding and clothing from the Salvation Army Central Distribution Station along a 70-mile coast line.

Emergency equipment of 50 canteens and trucks are reaching out to the people in areas where there is no transportation.

NEED MONEY

Funds are needed for operation as The Salvation Army has involved itself in an initial outlay of $500,000.

* * *

The urgent need now is in this order — funds; food (imperishables and canned goods) and bedding.

In response to the shortage of food for flood victims, a transport carrying tons of canned goods was dispatched from the Men's Social Service Center in Detroit on Aug. 23.

* * *

The Salvation Army truck made direct delivery to the disaster area in Mississippi.

BY TRUCK

The need for funds is urgent, contributions may be sent to The Salvation Army Hurricane Fund, 601 Bagley, Detroit 48226.

* * *

Food, bedding and clothing may be taken to Salvation Army, 118 W. Lawrence, Pontiac or Salvation Army, 1220 W. Lafayette, Detroit. Volunteers are assisting.

2 Services Listed for Atonement

Labor Day Sunday will be observed at the Church of the Atonement, 3535 Clintonville, Waterford Township with services at 8:15 and 10:45 a.m.

* * *

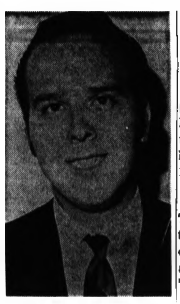

Pastor Crea M. Clark will preach on "An Abiding Faith—Monday Through Friday."

Church camping is listed for Friday through Sunday at Oakland County Park, Dixie Highway and Grange Hall roads. The early worship service will be held at the camp on Sept. 7.

The annual church picnic is scheduled for the same location on Sept. 6.

* * *

The first meeting of Youth Fellowship is planned for 7 p.m. on Sept. 7 for young people in grades 9 and above. All are welcome, the pastor said.

PAUL JAMES

Principal Named to Christian School

Paul James, teacher at Oakland Christian School last year, was appointed principal of the school this week.

According to James, Oakland Christian School with grades 7 through 12 will begin classes at 8:45 a.m. Thursday in the former Hickory Grove School, 165 E. Square Lake, Bloomfield Township.

* * *

James received his education from Detroit Bible College and Eastern Michigan University.

The school is operated by the Oakland Christian School Association.

* * *

Elected to serve on the board of education this year were the Rev. M. Donald Currey, the Rev. Theodore R. Aliebach, the Rev. Harold Cranston, the Rev. Arnold Q. Hashman, the Rev. Alger Lewis, the Rev. Hilding Bihl, James K. Allen and Theron Gabert.

Homecoming Set for Sunday

The Rev. Billy Morgan, pastor of Pine Knob Missionary Baptist Church, announces tomorrow will be Homecoming Day with services beginning at 10 a.m.

* * *

Dinner will follow at 1 p.m. There will be special music throughout the day and early evening. The church is located at 6013 Sashabaw, Independence Township.

Found New Church

REV. DEWEY M. KIFFER

The Rev. Dewey M. Kiffer, pastor, announces the founding of a new church in Pontiac. The congregation is chartered under the name of United Holiness Church of North America with headquarters in Grand Rapids.

* * *

The denomination was founded in 1966.

The congregation worships in the church building located at Auburn and Mariva, formerly known as the Evangelical Holiness Church. Sunday School starts at 9:45 a.m. with worship at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. each Sunday.

* * *

Mr. Kiffer explained, "The church is Wesleyan in doctrine. It endeavors to promote spirituality and simplicity in worship."

The pastor formerly served several churches in Northwestern Pennsylvania and has traveled as an evangelist in the United States and Canada.

* * *

Since coming to Michigan, he has assisted in the organization of several churches for the new denomination.

Howard L. Green Heads Congregation

Installation of officers will highlight the 8:30 evening service of the New Temple Friday. Services are currently held in the Birmingham Unitarian Church, Woodward and Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

* * *

Howard L. Green will be installed as president; Gerald L. Freedman, vice president; and Howard B. Packman, second vice president.

Richard Hendin, director of the religious school, will outline the religious education program and discuss its aims and goals.

* * *

A get-acquainted gathering Sept. 7 for new and prospective members of the New Temple will feature art work and musical entertainment.

The event will take place at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Mersky, 4731 Cove, Orchard Lake.

* * *

Rabbi Ernst Conrad, spiritual leader of the congregation, will be present to answer questions and discuss the philosophy of this newest reform congregation in Oakland County.

Guests are welcome. Old members will be happy to accompany prospective members to the party, Rabbi Conrad said.

DR. ANDREW SEBBON

Kirk in Hills to Hear Guest Pastor Sunday

The eighth and final guest preacher of the summer at Kirk in the Hills will be the Rev. Dr. Andrew Sebbon, minister of the historic First Presbyterian Church in Trenton, N. J.

* * *

Dr. Sebbon's sermon for the 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. services will be "Deny Yourself."

Dr. Sebbon has served congregations in New York City, Hackettstown, N.J., and is currently ministering in a church whose traditions go back to the days of the Revolution.

* * *

A graduate of Waynesburg College, Princeton Theological Seminary and Columbia University, Dr. Sebbon served as an exchange minister in Glasgow, Scotland and was invited to participate in conferences at Iona Community and at St. Andrew's University.

* * *

Dr. Harold C. DeWindt, minister of the Kirk, will return to the pulpit Sept. 7.

Conference Closes at Gull Lake Monday

Message and music ministries combine with rest and recreation at the Gull Lake Bible and Missionary Conference this Labor Day weekend.

* * *

Dr. Douglas MacCorkle, president of the Philadelphia College of Bible, leads the pulpit program. Dr. Larry Love is pastor of the Kalamazoo First Reformed Church and speaks twice on Labor Day.

Battle Creek pastor Henry Berends brings a brief message following the sacred concert tonight.

* * *

Clair Hess, first tenor in the Melody Four Quartet, is song leader. Merrill Dunlop, noted composer and recording artist, serves as organist, assisted by Ron Boud, pianist.

The Gull Lake Ambassadors Quartet also appears tonight.

* * *

The public is invited to the services in the historic Midland Park Tabernacle for the concert tonight at 7:30, Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m.; and Labor Day at 10:30 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

* * *

The conference is located on the eastern shore of Gull Lake north of I-94 and M-89 midway between Battle Creek and Kalamazoo.

Special Speakers at Sunday Services

Mrs. William Long of Newman AME Church will be guest speaker at the 3:30 p.m. program tomorrow in Providence Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley.

Alberta Chance and Mrs. Willie Reese are co-chairmen.

* * *

The Rev. Harold L. Carruthers of Greater Fairfield Baptist Church in Nashville, Tenn. will speak and sing for the 5 p.m. service sponsored by the Pastor's Aid.

The Rev. Mr. Carruthers was formerly manager and founder of the Famous Fairfield Four Singers of Tennessee, and operated a wholesale business known as Harold's House of Values.

Mrs. Dave Romman of Baton Rouge, La. will be soloist, and the Pastor's chorus will provide the music.

* * *

At 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Marie Causley will speak for the Sunday School and youth department with music by the Junior Choir.

Be rather bountiful than expensive; do good with what thou hast, or it will do thee no good.—William Penn, Quaker founder of Pennsylvania.

REV. RICHARD SCHLECHT

Rochester Pastor Named President

The Rev. Schlecht, pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, was appointed president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod this week.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Edwin C. Weber who was elected fourth vice president of Synod at the 48th Regular Convention in Denver, Colo. in July.

Pastor Schlecht received preministerial training at St. John's College and was graduated from Concordia Seminary in the class of 1945.

He served congregations in Cody, Wyoming and Royal Oak before accepting the call to the Rochester church in 1960.

Youth Active

Young people of Liberty Baptist Church, 250 Fisher are sponsoring a car wash, bake sale and picnic today. The day's events began at 8 a.m. Dinners will be for sale.

Auto Firm Orders Planes

GM Execs Join the Jet Age

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. executives have joined the jet setters at last.

GM, one of the biggest operators of executive planes in the country, is the last of the Big Three auto makers to provide jets for its executives.

* * *

For years plane makers have tempted GM top brass to get with the jet age and drop some of the props from their 17-craft fleet.

* * *

Grumman Corp., the same firm that built the lunar module to land Americans on the moon, finally got the order for GM jets—two $3-million jobs.

The twin-engine Grumman Gulfstream II's can go nonstop from Detroit to Los Angeles at nearly 600 miles an hour, or to Europe with only one stop.

READY WITHIN YEAR

They will be ready within a year, said a GM spokesman. Ford Motor Co. has had jets for its executives since 1961 and now has five, including two Gulfstream II's.

Chrysler Corp. has had one jet since 1967, and has a Gulfstream II on order for delivery in mid-September.

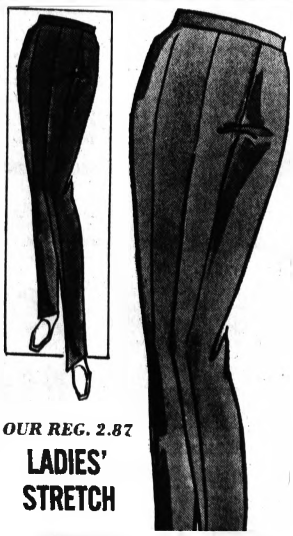

American Motors does not have an executive fleet.

The Gulfstream II, built by Grumman in Savannah, Ga., is the biggest jet executive transport on the market. It is 79 feet long, 24 feet high and has a swept wingspan of 68 feet. It normally seats 15 to 19 passengers in posh surroundings.

Maury Can't Find Handle for Dodgers

By the Associated Press

Oops,..Maury Wills made an error. Double oops...he made another. Triple oops...a third miscue for the Los Angeles shortstop.

Despite Wills' generosity, the Philadelphia Phillies—fifth in the National League East strictly on merit—still managed to lose to the Dodgers 6-5 Friday night.

★ ★ ★

It wasn't easy because Wills' two consecutive throwing errors in the fourth inning had led to three unearned runs for the Phillies. But the Dodgers pecked away at Woodie Fryman and finally overtook the Phils with a four-run eighth inning rally to win it.

That kept LA two games back of San Francisco, which blanked New York 5-0. Cincinnati, 1½ games off the pace, moved into second place by whipping St. Louis 8-1. Atlanta, also 1½ behind, slipped to third place by losing to Chicago, 2-1 while fifth place Houston fell five behind by bowing to Pittsburgh, 4-2 in 10 innings. San Diego blanked Montreal 3-0 in Friday night's other NL game.

TROUBLE STARTER

Fryman was still leading 4-2 going into the eighth inning against the Dodgers when he walked leadoff batter Willie Davis, who earlier had singled twice to extend his batting streak to 26 games.

Davis moved up on an infield out and reached third when the fourth ball to Andy Kosco was a wild pitch. Then Jim Lefebvre doubled for one run and Ted Sizemore's single tied the score.

★ ★ ★

Tom Haller followed with a pinch single, sending LA in front and Len Gabrielson's sacrifice fly gave the Dodgers the extra run they needed to stand off Rich Allen's homer in the ninth.

A wild pitch by Don Sutton, who also made an error, and singles by Fryman and John Briggs had helped the Phils to their three unearned runs following Wills' two straight errors in the fourth.

FOUR-HITTER

Juan Marichal pitched a four-hitter and Bobby Bonds' three-run homer in the first inning gave him all the offense he needed to beat the Mets.

It was the ninth straight victory for the Giants and ended a six-game winning string for New York.

★ ★ ★

Jim Maloney pitched his first complete game in almost four months, beating the Cardinals for Cincinnati. Maloney, 7-4, scattered eight hits and went the distance for the first time since he no-hit Houston April 30.

Alex Johnson and Pete Rose both contributed key hits to a pair of big innings for the Reds.

Jim Hickman snapped a tie with a home run in the seventh inning, giving the Cubs their victory over Atlanta and ending the Braves' five-game winning streak.

HOT WEEK

It was Hickman's fifth home run this week and 10th this month for the veteran outfielder.

Jim Bouton, making his first start for Houston, struck out 11 Pirates but Pittsburgh pushed across the tying run in the ninth inning on Fred Patek's single and then scored two in the 10th on Al Oliver's double to beat the Astros.

★ ★ ★

Joe Morgan doubled and scored Houston's first run and singled home the second one.

Al Santorini pitched a two-hitter and shut out Montreal for San Diego. It was the Padres' seventh victory in 10 tries against their expansionist counterparts and clinched the season's series.

Local All Stars Ready to Tackle King and Court

An All-Star team chosen from area softball leagues will oppose The King and His Court at Wisner Stadium Monday night.

With manager Carl Schell and coach Norm Aulseybrook at the helm, the All-Stars will bank their victory hopes on the arms of pitchers Bob Norquist, Jerry Thomas and Dick Schell, and will feature three Haywards in the lineup—Al at catcher, Bill at the hot third base spot, and Gary in the outfield.

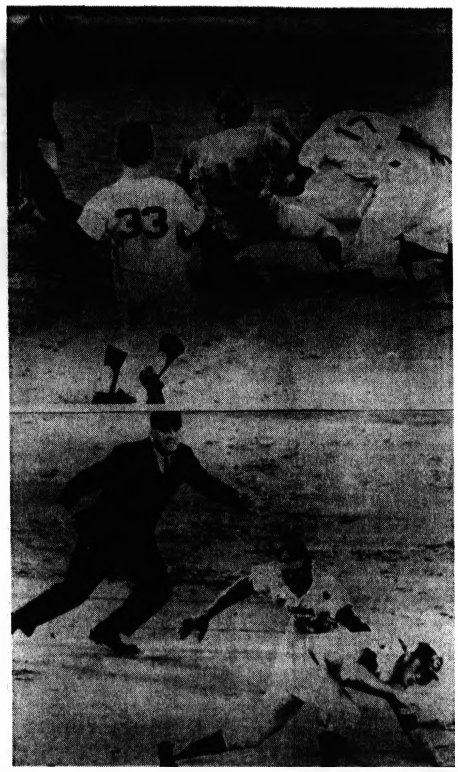

★ ★ ★

Other infielders include first basemen Al Smith and Cy Green, second sackers Rick Ryan and Dennis Delhin, shortstop Earl McKee, third baseman Paul Atkins and catcher Otto Sanack.

Outfielders Ted Wharry and Jim McClelland round out the squad that will try to forge a replica of a similar game in 1964, when the King and His Court went down to a 9-2 defeat at the hands of Pontiac's best.

★ ★ ★

Game time will be 8 o'clock, and ticket sales will begin at 4 p.m. Those who purchase tickets before 6:30 will be charged one dollar (75c for children eight to 14), and after that prices will be raised a quarter. Children under eight will be admitted free.

The Cubs won, 2-1.

Tigers Topple Seattle, 6-1

Lolich Breezes to 100th Win

DETROIT (AP) — The ball kept slipping out of Mickey Lolich's hand, but that didn't allow him to let his 100th victory slip from his grasp.

Lolich overcame a rash of wild throws to hurl a five-hitter, striking out 12, as the Detroit Tigers pounded the Seattle Pilots 6-1 Friday night. The victory gave the 29-year-old southpaw a 100-70 record in his seven-year major league career, and it upped this season's mark to 17-7.

Denny McLain, 20-6, who won his 100th earlier this year, was scheduled to pitch Saturday's game against Seattle's John Gelnar, 2-9.

"Another 100 and I'll retire — like hell!" Lolich said with a pause.

"A hundred ball games IS sort of a goal," he said. "You'd be surprised how many good pitchers there are today and yet there aren't too many with 100 wins."

Lolich threw three wild pitches, and one of them resulted in the Pilot's run. But he threw about half a dozen other pitches to the backstop when no one was on base.

★ ★ ★

"The ball just kept slipping out of my hand," he said in the humid Tiger dressing room. "I was sweating like a horse out there. I'm still waiting for the cool weather, but it just won't come."

The hard-working lefthander is traditionally a cool weather pitcher. Over the years he has usually won most of his games in the early part of the season and in September when the weather was cool. He was 14-2 going into this season's All-Star game but, until Friday he had been 2-5 since.

CELLAR DWELLER

The loss put Seattle alone in last place in the American League West since Chicago beat Cleveland to move into fifth. Baltimore, meanwhile, dropped a twi-night doubleheader to California to pull Detroit to within 12½ games of the first-place Orioles in the East.

With the victory, the Tigers' record climbed to 75-54 and the 21 games over .500 marked the best for the team this year.

Willie Horton knocked in two of Detroit's runs with a solo homer in the sixth inning, his 18th, and a single in the seventh after Al Kaline doubled.

The double was the 402nd of Kaline's career and moved him into third place on the all-time Tiger list ahead of Sam Crawford.

Detroit took a 1-0 lead in the third. Ike Brown and Lolich walked, then Mickey Stanley flied to shallow left field. Brown tagged up and slid safely into third after Tommy Davis made a weak throw from the outfield. Tom Tresh followed with a sacrifice fly.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers scored twice in the fourth when Don Wert singled, Jim Price hit a run-scoring double, and Brown tripled off the 415-foot mark in centerfield. Brown also hit a solo homer in the eighth.

Seattle scored its run in the fifth when John Donaldson walked, took second on a wild pitch, and scored on a single by Tommy Harper.

Bengal Changes Method of Traveling to Stadium

By the Associated Press

Mickey Lolich was noted for riding his motorcycle to every game he pitched last year at Tiger Stadium. But not this season.

Lolich, who picked up his 100th career win when Detroit beat Seattle 6-1 Friday night, has been driving his car to almost every home game.

"I used to take my motorcycle last year because a family could only park one car in the special lot," he said. "So my wife used to drive the car and I would leave for the park earlier on the motorcycle. When we left the park I would put the motorcycle on the back of the car."

★ ★ ★

"But now we have two kids and it's hard for my wife (Joyce) to get away," he added. "She has only seen a couple games this year, so I've been taking the car."

BUY HURLER

The Tigers Friday purchased husky pitcher Gary Taylor from their Toledo farm club. The 22-year-old righthander, who lives in Wayne, had a 12-5 record with the Mud Hens this season.

Taylor was the International League's Player of the Month in July. A product of Dearborn High School, he has attended both Ferris State College and Central Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

He signed with Detroit in August, 1965, and was on the team's spring training roster in both 1967 and 1968, but he missed most of the drills both seasons because of school and military duties.

Taylor also pitched with Statesville and Rocky Mount before moving up to Toledo this year.

DEAL MADE

Marvin Milkes, general manager of the Seattle Pilots, announced a two-for-one player trade with the Oakland Athletics Friday.

★ ★ ★

Veteran right-hander Fred Talbot, who compiled a 5-3 record after coming to Seattle from the New York Yankees, will join the A's. In return, the Pilots get Bob Meyer, 30, a lefthanded pitcher, and outfielder Pete Koegel, 22, a 6-foot-6½, 225-pounder who has 19 home runs for Birmingham of the Southern League.

Meyer, who had an 8-11 record with Des Moines of the American Association, joined the Pilots in Detroit.

Nine Games Today

Chiefs Dump St. Louis

By the Associated Press

Quarterback Charley Johnson of the St. Louis Cardinals stepped out of character...and stepped into a concussion.

Johnson turned defensive tackle for a moment and tried to haul down Jim Kearney, who had picked off one of his passes in the second quarter Friday night. The play set up a Kansas City touchdown and left Johnson dazed the rest of the game, as the Chiefs trumped the Cards 31-21 in a pro exhibition football.

The game was the only one Friday night. Nine more are scheduled for today and tonight and two more Sunday.

"All interceptions hurt you, especially when they're in your territory," said Coach Charley Winner of St. Louis. "But this one really hurt because Charley was the one who tackled Kearney and got conked on the head.

"From then on, he was kind of dazed. He said he was okay, but finally took himself out. He said he didn't know what he was calling."

Johnson's injury appeared not to be serious, however. Winner said he would probably play in the next exhibition game.

KNEE INJURY

More seriously hurt was another Cardinal, Chuck Latourette,who suffered a knee injury while running back a kickoff 29 yards. He was to undergo an operation today.

The bruising contest also resulted in a Kansas City injury when defensive tackle Ed Lothamer, suffered a possible fractured hand. He was at a St. Louis hospital.

"We just didn't want to come out with no injuries," said Winner. "We wanted to win."

Kearney's play was the key. He grabbed a Johnson pass toward John Gilliam and raced it back 18 yards to the Cardinal 13. Wendell Hayes ran for 11 and Mike Garrett punched over from the one to turn a 7-6 St. Louis edge into a 13-7 Chief advantage. The Cards never caught up.

Kansas City, only undefeated American Football League team, now is 5-0 in pre-season play. St. Louis, of the National Football League, evened its exhibition record at 2-2.

The Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants play today's only afternoon game in an NFL clash at Princeton, N.J., Other NFL games tonight include Washington vs. Detroit at Tampa, Fla.; Green Bay at Cleveland; and Atlanta at New Orleans.

QBs in Spotlight for Lions, Skins

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Lions and Washington Redskins will be testing quarterbacks when they clash in Tampa Stadium tonight.

Vince Lombardi, new at Washington this season, may use his No. 1 quarterback, Sonny Jurgensen, and try to find out who'll be Nos. 2 and 3 behind the veteran.

★ ★ ★

With Jurgensen will be backs Dick Smith, Larry Brown and Bobby Mitchell, and ends Charley Taylor and Jerry Smith.

Coach Joe Schmidt may start Bill Munson but will be sizing up his No. 2 and 3 quarterbacks, either of whom might beat out Munson when the regular season gets under way.

With Munson will be Mel Farr, Nick Eddy and Earl McCullough, with Charlie Sanders and Bill Malinchak.

SAME RECORDS

Both teams are two and one in exhibition games so far this season, and the Redskins are given a slight edge in this one.

With an advance ticket sale of more than 30,000, a capacity turnout of 46,471 was forecast despite a 60 per cent chance of showers in the area at game time, 6:30 p.m. (EDT).

The game will be televised nationally over CBS with a blackout within a 100-mile radius.

Racers Admit Secret Huddles; Deny Rumors of Strikes, Boycotts

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — Two weeks after a highly secret organizing meeting in Ann Arbor, Mich. stock car racing's Professional Drivers Association has put down rumors its members intend to strike or boycott racetracks not meeting its demands.

"Any talk along that line is strictly hearsay," said star Ford driver Richard Petty, president of the PDA. "We haven't talked about this whatsoever at our meetings."

Petty, along with drivers Cale Yarborough and Elmo Langley, stated publicly for the first time Friday the aims of the PDA. Objectives include increased insurance benefits, a retirement plan fo rdrivers, higher purses and improvements to racetracks.

TOUCHDOWN AHEAD—St. Louis Cardinals' Johnny Roland (29) heads around the left side of the Kansas City defense for an 18-yard touchdown jaunt in the first quarter of their exhibition game in St. Louis last night. Kearney (46) had a shot at Roland but missed. Chiefs' Jim Chiefs won, 31-21.

Pro Ace Barry Quits Oakland, Joins Warriors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rick Barry, the only man ever to lead both the National and American basketball leagues in scoring, average, may be going to court again to determine who gets his services.

Barry, San Francisco Warrior owner Franklin Mieuli and Barry's attorney announced Friday that the 6-foot-7 forward had agreed to a five-year contract with the NBA Warriors, the team that drafted him in 1965.

Dressed in tan, striped, bellbottom trousers and white silk shirt, Barry told a news conference he was returning to the Warriors after just one season as part-time player and part owner of the Oakland Oaks.

The Oaks were sold recently to Earl Foreman of Washington, D.C., who has said he'll move the ABA team east. Barry reportedly had a contract with the Oaks saying he didn't have to move with the team if it were transferred out of the San Francisco Bay area.

"Based on the fact that the Oaks are going back to Washington," Barry said Friday, "I don't feel compelled to go with them."

DIFFERENT VIEW

Foreman, on the other hand, said this week he felt that buying the Oaks meant he'd be getting Barry. And he reportedly is planning to fight a court battle over Barry's services.

Barry, the handsome all-American from the University of Miami, came to the Warriors in the 1965-66 season and the following campaign, led the league in scoring with a 35.6 points per game average.

EMU Grid Assistant Joins Detroit College as AD, Cage Coach

DETROIT (AP)—Mike Toney, assistant football coach and basketball recruiter for Eastern Michigan University, has been named athletic director and basketball coach at Detroit College.

He replaces Joe Lineman who resigned his position to become an assistant to the vice president at Obaditch Inc. of Detroit, a steel and textile company.

Toney's experience includes a 20-0 record while assistant basket ball coach for a McKinley, Ohio, high school team in 1961-62, and a 60-0 record coaching the Canton Ohio Police Boys Club from 1962-65.

Missing Game Back for Golf Pro Murphy

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — The thief who stole Bob Murphy's clubs in Philadelphia six weeks ago took his golf game as well.

A parcel post present from a friend in Florida brought it back.

★ ★ ★

"After my clubs were stolen, I'd be standing over a shot with a new club and I'd look down and it'd be all nice and shiny and you have to know you have a new club in your hand." Murphy said.

"You don't think about making a good shot. You start wondering, 'Which way is this one going to go bad?"

But very few went bad Friday as the roly-poly Murphy carved out a five-under-par 66 on the Wethersfield Country Club course and tied Joel Goldstrand and J.C. Snead—a nephew of Sam—for the first round lead in the $100,000 Greater Hartford Open Golf tournament.

BIG JAM

Eight more were bunched at 67, including R.H. Sikes, Phil Rodgers, Bob Smith, Bob Lunn, Roy Pace, Holland's Martin Roesink, Jerry Abbott and Hal Underwood.

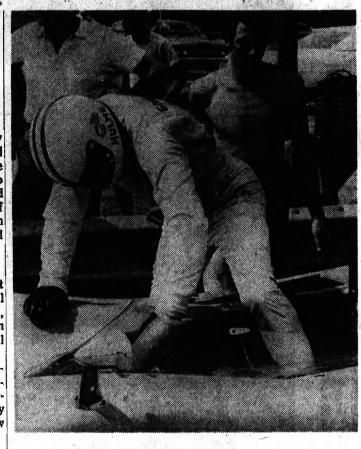

The big group at 68, three under par for the 6,568 yard layout, included Jack Nicklaus, former Masters champion Gay Brewer, Bob Charles of New Zealand and Dave Hill.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Billy Casper and Lee Trevino each had 70s. Bob Shaw, winner of last week's Avco Classic, and Masters champion George Archer had 71s. Frank Beard and PGA champ Ray Floyd were far, far back in the field at 72.

★ ★ ★

Murphy, a paunchy 26-year-old, went into a decline after the loss of his clubs, offered $100 a club for their return, then began acquiring new ones. He worked through three sets of irons and eight woods before settling on a set.

California Only Squad Holding Edge on Birds

Twins Topple Boston to Maintain Lead in AL's West Race

Baltimore Orioles couldn't care less who wins the American League West . . . since they know it won't be those devilish California Angels.

Of course, the Orioles still have to go through the formality of winning the AL East, but don't hold your breath waiting for an el foldo—even after Friday night's 6-2, 2-1 double loss to the Angels. If Baltimore wins 19 of its remaining 30 games, the runner-up Detroit Tigers would have to win all 33—to tie.

★ ★ ★

The Angels, third in the West but 22 games behind Minnesota and showing only a 55-71 record, are the only team to hold an edge over the Orioles—6-4 with two games left.

Elsewhere, Minnesota walloped Boston 10-4 to remain 3½ games ahead of Oakland, which blanked Washington 5-0, in the West; Detroit whipped Seattle 6-1, the New York Yankees downed Kansas City 6-1 and the Chicago White Sox shaded Cleveland 4-2.

★ ★ ★

California's sweep of Baltimore brought the Angels' record to 64-63 since Lefty Phillips replaced Bill Rigney as manager. The team has won six straight—longest of the season—1 of 13 and 14 of 20 in climbing from last place on Aug. 6 to third.

Andy Messersmith, 13-8 over-all and 13-3 since June 3, stopped the Orioles in the opener, with one inning of relief from Ken Tatum, as Bubba Morton and Fregosi knocked in two runs apiece.

★ ★ ★

A two-run single in the seventh by Roger Repoz—following an intentional walk to Bill Voss—won the nightcap for Jim McGlothlin, 7-12.

Dave McNally, 17-5, and Jim Hardin, 5-5 and the only Baltimore pitcher with a record as low as .500, were the losers as the Orioles lost for the seventh and eighth times in their last 11 starts.

Graig Nettles broke a 2-2 tie in the third inning with a three-run homer and Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew walloped consecutive shots in the sixth as Minnesota bombed Boston. Rico Petrocelli — No. 33 — and Mike Andrews connected for the Red Sox.

★ ★ ★

Dick Green led off the eighth inning with a triple and scored the first run of the game on Bob Johnson's pinch single to start Oakland over Washington. The A's scored twice in the eighth and three times in the ninth. Danny Cater's sacrifice fly, Sal Bando's RBI single and a bases-loaded error by Ken McMullen accounted for the other runs.

SCORELESS STINT

Jim Nash, making his first start since being placed on the disabled list July 15, hurled seven scoreless innings for the A's before leaving for a pinch hitter.

Melnyk Maintains Golf Lead

Third Round Sag Perturbs Florida Ace

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Steve Melnyk still leads the 69th annual U.S. Amateur Golf Championship by three strokes. You'd have never known it.

Perspiration dripping from his 235-pound frame, Melnyk looked like his words: "I'm disappointed."

★ ★ ★

He scrambled Friday to a 34-39—73 for a 54-hole total of 216, three strokes ahead of Allen Miller and Marvin "Vinnie" Giles. Miller shot 37-36—73 and Giles 36-36—72, both at 219.

Another two strokes back was Tommy Watson of Shawnee Mission, Kan., who fired a 36-36 — 72 Friday for a 221. Grouped at 223 were Dick Siderowf, a U.S. Walker Cup member from Westport, Conn., 38-35—71; John Farquhar of Amarillo, Tex., 36140—76, and Bruce Ashworth of Las Vegas, Nev., 39-37—76.

Bob Allard of Portland, Ore. 33-38—71, Walker Cupper Dr. Ed Updegraff 37-36—73, and Jim Rheim, Tulane Medical School student 38-38—76, all are at 224, eight strokes off the pace.

Why was Melnyk so dejected?

Well, the University of Florida senior charged around the front nine holes of Oakmont Country Club to a two-under-par 35. Miller, of Pensacola, Fla., his closest pursuer went two over, and when you looked at the big scoreboard Melnyk was six strokes in front.

NOT OVER

It's all over, they were saying. That was Melnyk's trouble. He thought it was over too.

"I felt I had the tournament won, that's why I played so badly the next five holes," he said. "I relaxed and that's what you can't do on this course.

"I looked at the scoreboard after nine and saw I had a six-stroke lead and I just cakewalked."

★ ★ ★

The 21-year-old Melnyk, of Brunswick, Ga., not only didn't have it won. He almost blew it. He probably would have, except that the trend over Oakmont's rugged 6,870-yard course has been to backup.

There have been only two subpar rounds in 54 holes of this tournament.

Golf Champion's Long Reign Ends

Mrs. Morton Wohlman won the Women's Club Championship at Tam O'Shanter yesterday, ending the reign of Mrs. Louis Schwartz, who had won the tournament for the last five years.

The three-day medal play tourney saw Mrs. Wohlman fire rounds of 86-86-80-262, good for a three-stroke margin over the 86-89-88-265 recorded by Mrs. Schwartz.

Bulls Name New G.M.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pat Williams, former business manager of the Philadelphia 76ers, was named general manager of the Chicago Bulls Friday.

U.S. Wins in Poland

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — A touring American track and field team won seven events Friday in an eight-nation meet at the Skra Club Stadium.

★ ★ ★

During the 1969 baseball season teams in the East and West divisions will play each other only 12 times. Teams in the same division meet 18 times.

N.Y. Suspends, Fine Slugger Joe Pepitone

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Pepitone, the hard hitting, but moody first baseman of the New York Yankees, has been fined $500 and suspended indefinitely.

General Manager Lee MacPhail and Manager Ralph Houk announced the fine and suspension in a hastily called press conference just before the Yankees took the field for Friday night's game against Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

The Yankees won the game 6-1, but the happenings on the field were secondary to the pregame activities in the clubhouse.

Pepitone, the Yankees' leading home run hitter with 24, incurred the disciplinary action when he left Yankee Stadium without permission for the second time this week. On Aug. 12-13 he also missed two games against Minnesota and was fined two days' pay.

★ ★ ★

Pepitone, who said then his absence was due to personal problems, left the club again in the middle of Wednesday night's game against the Chicago White Sox.

Ring Vet Rodriguez Gets Shot at Title

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miami middleweight Luis Rodriguez won the longest fight of his career Friday — a two-and-a half year battle for a shot at the world championship.

★ ★ ★

The dial was scaled here Friday between representatives of champion Nino Benvenuti and Angelo Dundee, the challenger's manager.

Possible dates mentioned were Nov. 29 and Dec. 6.

Benvenuti's lawyer, Leonard Gilbert, said the fight will probably be held in Italy, London or Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

Mishap Takes Life of Prep

CASTLEWOOD, Va. (AP) — A young football player was killed and nearly a dozen of his teammates were injured Friday when a goal post being carried onto the Castlewood High School field brushed against a high voltage power line.

★ ★ ★

Wayne Reynolds, a 17-year-old junior at the high school, was dead on arrival at a Lebanon hospital following the midafternoon mishap.

★ ★ ★

Pupils and the school's young football coach were hospitalized. Other members of the team received minor injuries and were treated and released at two hospitals.

★ ★ ★

School officials indicated coach Jewel Rhea had been doing repair work on the goal post and the team had chipped in to move it back into place on the school field when it brushed against the power line.

Baseball Winners Battling Today of AABC Tourney

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—Coldwater was scheduled to meet Flint and Kalamazoo was to take on Wyandotte in winners bracket games today in the North Central regional tourney of the American Amateur Baseball Congress.

★ ★ ★

Flint won its way past Muskegon Friday in a 17-inning, 3-2 contest which tied the tourney record for length of game, while Kalamazoo was whipping Saginaw 10-2 and Coldwater was clipping Dearborn 7-4 in a late-night game.

★ ★ ★

Wyandotte joined the other three in the winners circle with a 9-0 forfeit beating of Detroit, which was ousted from the tourney because it had two ineligible players, both men who had played pro baseball and never been reinstated as amateurs.

Coach Boisture Bubbling

Happy Days Ahead for Hurons

By DON VOGEL

YPSILANTI—Anyone listening to Eastern Michigan University coach Dan Boisture yesterday would figure that the Hurons are going to have a "great" season.

★ ★ ★

Boisture told a press day gathering at almost completed Rynearson Stadium that the new facilities are "great;" several players are going to be "great;" he has a "great" group of assistants; and "we expect to have a better team than last year."

★ ★ ★

He tempered this last remark, however, by pointing out that the Hurons may not match last season's 6-2 record because the schedule has been upgraded.

It's no secret around these parts that EMU is aiming for major university status in all major sports.

The sports complex along N. Huron Drive is progressing.

NEW DIAMOND

There is a new baseball field, the 12,000 seat football stadium is expected to be ready for the homeopener against Akron Sept. 26. The concrete stands were constructed in a slight arc so that the stadium could eventually be expanded to seat 64,000.

A 15,000 seat basketball layout will be started in the near future.

"Before anyone gets the idea that the only new construction going on around here is for athletics," sports information director John Fountain pointed out, "we also are expanding the campus educational facilities."

A new library has been completed, a classroom building capable of handling 4,000 students is being readied and a couple of other buildings are in the skeleton stage.

But the audience was interested in the coming football campaign which will include such opponents as Murray State, Indiana State, Kentucky State, Montana State and Tampa.

HOMECOMING FOE

The first game will be at Murray Sept. 20 and homecoming and dedication of the new $1.4 million stadium will be Oct. 25 against Tampa.

Boisture hopes are pinned on the return of 17 regulars among the list of 27 letterwinners.

"If we have a weakness it will be the offensive line," said the former Redford St. Mary coach who came to Eastern by way of an assistant's job at Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

In an attempt to bolster the blocking in the middle, offensive tacke John Sharp, a 6-3 and 245-pound senior from Warren, has been moved to center. Boisture said a tight end also is needed.

The backfield appears set with leading ball carrier Dennis Hewitt returning along with full back Mike Yankee and swing back Pete Yelorde. Don Stewart, a sophomore from Willow Run who had considerable action last year, steps in at quarterback replacing departed Arnold Fontes.

★ ★ ★

Yankee, a junior from Kimball, received high praise from Boisture for his blocking ability.

The coach also expects "great" things from defensive tackles Bob Lints from Brown City and Dave Purelfory from Ecorse. Boisture feels that Lints, a 235-pound senior, is a top pro prospect.

Clinch Soccer Crown

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Spurs clinched the North American Soccer League title Friday night with a 2-0 whitewash of the Baltimore Bays.

Boeing Miffed at Nixon Delay on SST Funding

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Boeing Corp.'s supersonic transport plane program director says he is disappointed by the report that the White House is delaying a decision on additional project financing.

The director, Bob Withington, added Friday that he sees no problem in overcoming the unresolved questions, including noise factors.

* * *

Boeing hopes to test-fly the SST in 1972 and put it into production in 1978. Thus far, the government has paid $600 million for research and design but Boeing needs at least that much more to build and fly two test prototypes.

* * *

Withington said he is confident the SST will meet permissible noise levels at airports during takeoffs and landings. He also said the firm has worked on the assumption the plane would be flown over land areas at subsonic speeds, thus the sonic boom shouldn't be an issue.

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe recommended last spring that the government continue financing SST development. Now, Volpe says, problems of sonic booms and domestic priorities are responsible for the President's lack of action on the recommendation.

Congressional foes of the program are against additional subsidizing of the aircraft industry because they say they feel the money should be spent on pressing domestic needs.

U.S. Expert's Study Shows

'Jetport Would Ruin Glades'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator says an Interior Department study concludes a proposed jetport in south Florida would harm nearby Everglades National Park and that an alternate site should be found.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said a report prepared for the department, which supervises national parks, says the huge jetport would ruin the unique tropical ecology of the park.

* * *

He said the report also recommends that the smaller training facility for commercial airline pilots now under construction at the site be moved.

Nelson called on federal agencies to stop construction of the jetport.

'UP TO ADMINISTRATION'

"In my judgment, it is now up to the executive agencies of the federal government to carry out the recommendations of the report, stop construction of the airport and require it to be moved to an alternate location where it will not harm the park," Nelson said.

* * *

Known as the Leopold report, it was prepared after months of study by Luna Leopold, chief scientist of the U.S. Geological Survey. The Interior Department has not made it public.

Nelson said "no further justification should be needed for federal agencies to halt all further activity aiding the planning and construction of these airports until another site is found." He urged that such a halt be immediately declared.

The Transportation Department some months ago made a $500,000 grant for planning the jetport and an additional $200,000 grant for a study of high speed surface transportation. A few weeks ago it made another grant of $163,000 for runway lighting.

* * *

The jetport was planned by the Dade County Port Authority and there have been reports that millions in federal aid would be sought for construction.

S. Viet Banker Says U.S. Aid Is Wasted

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese banker-economist said Friday night that his country has "recklessly and indiscriminately squandered" American aid, which has "righteously evoked complaints and displeasure from our benefactors."

Dr. Nguyen Van Hoa, director general of the Agricultural Development Bank, told the South Vietnamese Council on Foreign Relations: "We have been extremely wasteful in using that aid . . . We must assume the full responsibility for our unintelligent and unreasonable use of it and suffer the consequences."

* * *

Hoa said that U.S. aid is intended to make South Vietnam more self-reliant, but instead the nation has become increasingly dependent on American help.

Hoa told his listeners, who included South Vietnamese and American businessmen and officials, "The Vietnam economy is a paralyzed, agoizing patient which depends on oxygen generously provided by foreign aid, and which shall immediately die when deprived of it."

DEFENSE EXPENDITURES

He said efforts should be made to "prune down" defense expenditures which now absorb two-thirds of the national budget. He suggested, without going into detail, the establishment of a less expensive "people's army" which would be supported by a smaller regular army.

He's Charged in Attack on Meter Maid

DETROIT (UPI) — Attorney Kenneth V. Cockrel was charged yesterday with the careless and reckless use of an automobile last week when he allegedly tried to run down a meter maid who had ticketed his car.

Mrs. Juanita Minter said she ticketed Cockrel's illegally parked car in an alley on Aug. 19.

The attorney became enraged, she said, and called her a "stupid, dumb bitch," and then got into his car and tried to run her down.

An assault warrant against the attorney had been considered, but was dropped in favor of prosecution under the city ordinance, according to Michael J. Connor, assistant Wayne County prosecutor. Conviction carries a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail or a $500 fine or both.

Cockrel, a Negro, was charged with contempt of court in April after he called a white judge a "lawless, racist rogue, bandit, thief, pirate, honky dog, fool." The charges were later dropped.

Meredith Gives Rundown on a Talented Mod Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Meredith MacRae came to town and began talking about one of the most modern families in America — hers.

"I was on 'What's My Line?' with my sister Heather," Meredith said. "She had a fight with Henry Morgan on the Merv Griffin show and so she didn't speak to him. Why? Well, she thinks he's an uptight old man. He got kind of miffed when she said that.

"I don't object to my sister taking her clothes off in 'Hair,' I think it's cool," Meredith, the oldest daughter of Sheila and Gordon MacRae, herself a famous actress, said. Then she spoke of her brothers Bruce 13, and Gar, who's 20 and has been married a year.

WILSON

* * *

"Both my brothers have hair to their shoulders," Meredith continued. "Gar refuses to cut his and it makes it kind of hard for him to get a job. He's got just the right hair to play in 'Hair' but they have a long waiting list to get into that cast."

Meredith, vivacious and blonde, began boasting about her husband, actor Greg Mullavey, whom she married in a Hindu ceremony at Big Sur, Cal., in April. They both wore white. Brother Bruce, with hair to his shoulders, handed out roses.

"Greg," Meredith said, "played a group therapy psychologist in 'Bob & Carol and Ted and Alice' and also the lead in 'The Marigold Man.'

* * *

"Greg and I went to a group therapy 'Institute for Living' where the men and women take nude baths together, to do research. The idea is if you strip yourselves you reveal more of yourselves and are more honest with each other."

Con to Get Hearing on Food-Cost Gripe

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A prisoner has won a federal court hearing on his claim that prices at the South Carolina prison canteen are monopolistic.

Tommy Liles, 49, of Spartanburg, serving the 14th year of a 30-year term for manslaughter, claims a 30 per cent "administrative duty charge" topped by the 4 per cent state sales tax pushes prices far too high.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., agreed in an order filed Friday that Liles should have his day in court.

Hoffa Returns to Jail, Waits

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa departed here yesterday for his Pennsylvania jail cell to await a judge's decision on whether he will get a new trial on jury tampering charges.

Accompanied by a U.S. marshal, Hoffa was taken from the Hamilton County Jail for a return flight to the federal penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa., to resume his eight-year prison term.

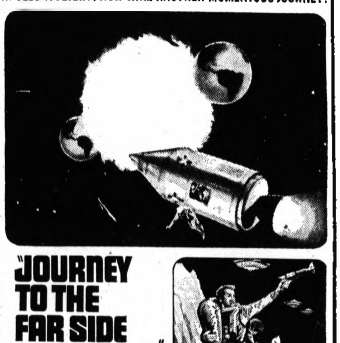

Federal Judge Frank Wilson took under advisement Wednesday new-trial motions for Hoffa and three codefendants. The men claim the Justice Department used illegal electronic surveillance to bring about their convictions.

Both sides were give 10 days to file motions relating to the seven-day hearing. Wilson promised the defense an opportunity to present further testimony if new evidence is discovered.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

There was nothing wrong with South's four-heart contract except that he wasn't able to make it. As he remarked afterwards, "On good days I would have made an overtrick."

East started out by cashing his two top spades. Then he looked around for other tricks and saw that there was one chance and only one chance to beat the hand. West had to come up with a trump trick and then give East a ruff somewhere.

* * *

That somewhere had to be in clubs and East proceeded to get into ruffing position by leading his singleton club right into dummy's ace-king-10. East didn't worry about killing a club honor in his partner's hand. He was looking at dummy and felt sure that if South did hold any club losers he would be able to get rid of them on top diamonds.

South could see what was about to happen to him and made a valiant effort to avert disaster. He won the club in dummy, led a trump to his ace and proceeded to run off dummy's three top diamonds. He discarded one club on the second diamond and was all set to make his contract if East had ruffed the third diamond, but East didn't fall for that.

* * *

East had done some counting. It appeared that South had started with two spades, six trumps, one diamond and four clubs. In that case a second club discard would be of little help. Therefore, East simply discarded in the third diamond.

South had done his best but it wasn't good enough. He had to lead a trump. West took his king and led a club for East to ruff.

THE BETTER HALF

"I know it's a weed, but I never start trouble with something that's bigger than I am."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Sunday

Good time to propose marriage, to become engaged or to celebrate a wedding. When moon is in Taurus, as it is today, people tend to brag about their possessions.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be receptive. Some calls provide useful information. Key is to be a shrewd observer. Get in spirit of celebration. Shake off any tendency to brood.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle is main. Best avoid foolish dispute over furniture or other household item. Sense of humor is your great ally today. Read and greet people with a smile.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Spiritual enlightenment is attainable. Be open within and answers will be forthcoming. Avoid extremes. Be specific. Remain in background as much as possible. Heed words of wise counsel.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent on how you relate to friends. Be sensible. Avoid argument which is based on petty objection. Key is to make intelligent concession. Then day glows with feeling of well-being.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 20): Some who depend upon you may make demands. Obtain hint from CANCER passage. If considerate, you will find others also are reasonable. Strive to smooth over flare-up misunderstandings.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with chance to be with those who have been at a distance. Make calls, catch up on correspondence. You may not find perfection, but there is satisfaction.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): What was missed in financial matter can now be viewed. Be responsible. Don't waste — but don't skimp on quality, either. Frank discussion with mate, partner, is necessary.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Be willing to face facts as they exist. Relationship which has been draining you requires review. Be realistic. Gain shown if you are bright, alert and up to date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Fine for getting together with those who share mutual interests. Express ideas in forthright manner. No day to be wallflower. Rise and shine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Emotions rise. Romance is on horizon. Satisfaction indicated through youngsters. Pursue creative hobbies. Offer congratulations to one who has performed brilliantly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are able to get on more solid ground. Be versatile. Realize that some around you need cheering. Entertaining at home is good idea. A reception for special occasion is indicated.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A short trip for purpose of visit with relative could be pleasant. Change routine. Break from tradition. Loosen reins of self-discipline in constructive manner.

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are entering new, exciting phase of activity. Be ready to accept opportunities and challenges. You are generally a fastidious person, usually aware of diet and health.

Lunar aspects provide MENU TIP which calls for substantial food. Cauliflower should be on the table and BRAGOLE could be spotlighted. This is a meat-and-potatoes night which should be topped (or started) with tangy salad.

For Monday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Holiday atmosphere likely to prevail. Get together with friends who can guide you to greater income potential. You are due to have favor returned.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle continues high. You can make headway, but must accept added pressure. Means the chips are down. Time to display most unique abilities. Dress for occasion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Trust judgment. You are on right track. This is true despite skeptical comments from associates. Aid granted from foundation, club or organization. Be co-operative.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): News is not all good. But you do gain access to valuable information. Key is to maintain balance. Friend who has had financial experience proves of immense aid.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): One in authority may be in contrary mood. Realize this is but temporary. You will get credit you deserve. Patience today is tremendous ally. Respond accordingly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Attend to matters which you have neglected. Time to outline advertising program, present formal or solidify publishing plans. Key is greater communication.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Truth about costly profits and losses is accented. Be practical, especially where property repairs are concerned. Some around you today could be careless with your possessions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Strain indicated in partnership or marriage area. Take special care with legal documents. Don't sign papers without thorough understanding of contents. Play waiting game.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may find more depend on you than was first imagined. Could create financial drain. Don't sacrifice quality. But do be on lookout for genuine opportunity for saving.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are able to successfully put finishing touches on important project. You are especially appreciated by young person. Turn on charm. You win if dedicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Cover some areas of activity. Not wise to reveal all you know. Older individual may act in stubborn manner. Be patient — but insist on fair deal.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may lack necessary papers for trip or quick change. You may have to utilize special contacts. One who promised a favor should be approached. Throw off false pride.

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY, this is an extremely important period. If single, there could be marriage. If married, business advancement is indicated. You are precise, creative and independent. Many claim they dislike you, but few ignore you. There are numerous persons attracted to you which creates feeling of envy in others.

Lumber May Face a Closer Shave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau is counting ballots in an election to see if there is general agreement on slicing a little more wood off each stick of construction lumber.

If the proposal is adopted, the standard 2x4—already not 2x4—will be slightly thinner and a little narrower in the future.

* * *

For more than 50 years, a nominal 2x4—both green and kiln dried—has left the mill measuring 1⅝ inches thick by 3⅝ inches wide. Green lumber shrinks as it loses moisture content.

The new standard would relate lumber sizes to moisture content so the green timber—initially a little bigger—would be the same size as the dry when it loses equivalent moisture.

NEW MEASUREMENTS

A dry 2x4—moisture content 19 per cent or less—would measure 1½ by 3½ inches. A green 2x4 would be planed 1 9-16 by 3 9-16 inches. Larger sizes would maintain the same dimensional differences. A 2x4 dry would be 1½ by 3¼ inches; green 1 9-16 by 3½ inches.

* * *

The new standard was recommended by the American Lumber Standards Committee, a government-industry organization. It has the approval of federal agencies and major organizations in the lumber and home building industries.

* * *

One dissenter is the soil pipe industry, contending its pipe would no longer fit in a narrower 2x4 studded wall.

* * *

The home builders say the answer is to use 2x6's in plumbing walls at an additional cost of $10 to $12 in an average house.

The over-all savings, on the other hand, in the smaller sizes are estimated in the lumber industry at about $166 per house.

* * *

The proposed new standard, along with ballots, was mailed this summer to about 5,000 firms and organizations selected as a representative sampling of the industries involved.

A "general concurrence," permitting the secretary of commerce to issue the new standard, requires acceptance by 75 per cent of those voting, with at least 70 per cent approval in each of three groups—producers, distributors, users.

* * *

Deadline for receipt of ballots was July 31. The Census Bureau has 60 to 90 days to report the results.

Labor Day Hails the Country's Work Force

Sweat Cakes John Thompson

Summer's Last Long-Weekend Fling

"But though labor is good for man, it may be, and unfortunately often is, carried to excess. Many are wearily asking themselves, "Ah, why should life all labor be?"

John Lubbock
British Science Writer

Indeed, the quest for less labor-filled days has been long-standing. Some countries; such as Australia, have a holiday called "Eight-Hour Day" signally the winning of an eight-hour day by the industrial workers.

* * *

In this country and in Canada, the first Monday of September is a national holiday paying homage to labor. The day here is a holiday for everyone, in contrast to similar days in Europe in which only laborers take the day off.

* * *

The Knight of Labor began a push for a labor holiday in the early 1800s by parading in the streets of New York City. By 1887, the first state, Oregon, declared a labor holiday.

* * *

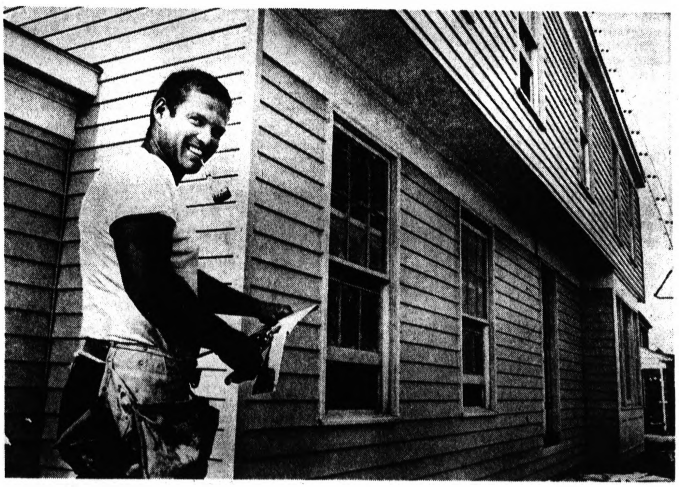

Seven years later in 1894, Congress passed a law making the first Monday in September a holiday in all states.

* * *

Now, however the labor significance is largely subdued as the date is more often associated with the end of summer, the beginning of football season and the kickoff for Christmas catalogues. It also signals the beginning of the school year, and many families take the long weekend to take what probably will be their last vacation trip of the year.

Tragically, therein lies the often has the highest toll for any weekend of the year. most recent association with Labor Day — a terrible carnage on the nation's highways that should make the weekend a truly enjoyable finale.

Crew Backs Sailor's Tale of Turtle Ride

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The hard-to-believe saga of Chung Nam Kim, rescued by a turtle, was backed up Friday by the Swedish sailors who found him at sea.

* * *

The slim Korean sailor arrived at Los Angeles Harbor aboard the Citadel as skeptical newsmen and turtle enthusiasts gathered at dockside.

* * *

Grinning and waving happily, Kim shouted answers through a translator from the rail of the freighter as newsmen jostled below.

* * *

Kim said he fell off a Liberian ship off Nicaragua after having a few drinks. He said he thought he was a goner until he felt an object in the water at his side and discovered it was a turtle.

TWO HOURS ABOARD

He spent about two hours aboard the turtle, described as nearly two feet across.

* * *

There was no doubt in the 27-year-old sailor's mind that it was definitely a turtle and the bemused members of the freighter's Swedish crew confirmed this, saying they saw him on the back of the creature.

* * *

"I thought I was dead. It was like a dream. And then I touched this thing, and I first thought it might be a shark and then I saw it was a turtle so I held on," Kim said.

* * *

The turtle, he said, moved slowly through the Pacific waters until out of the thick fog he saw the Citadel emerge.

After spotting the Sweish ship and seeing he had been sighted he said he slid off the turtle and it was seen no more.

* * *

When the Citadel inched into the dock, U.S. immigration, health and customs officials went aboard to inspect the vessel and the only man to come to America via turtle.

* * *

Kim said the turtle at no time attempted to fight him or shed him from its back. Kim added he tried not to lean on the turtle too heavily, lest it dive.

Lake Claims Four Victims Near Howell

HOWELL (UPI) — The weedy bottom of a shallow, unnamed lake yesterday yielded the bodies of a young father, his two sons and a half-brother, who had been missing for two days.

* * *

Sheriff's deputies identified the drowning victims as Jerry T. Allen, 30, Howell; his sons Al 5, and James, 4; and Allen's half-brother, Stanley Chapman, 14.

* * *

The Allens were from Howell and Chapman was from the Detroit suburb of Inkster.

Deputies said the foursome had gone to the little lake, just outside the city, to try out a new 14-foot aluminum boat Allen bought earlier in the week in Detroit.

* * *

The boat was not found immediately.

* * *

Dragging operations began Thursday when Allen's station wagon was discovered beside the lake.

'WHAT DO THE CRITICS SAY?'—Just a short time ago, Mutt was the happy and completely anonymous pet of movie dog trainer Ernie Smith (right). Today he is the canine star of a western film, sharing the spotlight with such as Lee Marvin, Jeanne Moreau and Jack Palance. That's show biz.

Mom of Quads: Those Diapers

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Janice Curtin and her four newborn boys were doing nicely and hospital attendants said the father was "worried enough for all six of them."

"What am I going to do about all those diapers," was Mrs. Curtin's comment.

The quadruplets, delivered Friday by Caesarian section, weighed from 4 pounds 8½ ounces to 2 pounds 10 ounces.

Their father, Robert Curtin, 35, is a bookkeeper for the Los Angeles Water and Power Co. The Curtins have another son, 6.

Dr. Charles Plows, who attended the 30-year-old mother, said she named each infant as he was born. But, he said, "no one could remember the names, in all the excitement." They remain unnamed today.

Cards, Flowers Bring Grief-- Unnecessarily

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — A phone call from Vietnam Friday ended four days of mourning by a Winston-Salem couple.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Bell had received a card of sympathy and flowers from 30 men at Ft. Hood, Tex., who served with Spec. 4 John C. Bell Jr. before he went to Vietnam.

That was the first the Bells had heard of their son's death.

An investigation by the Army revealed that a sergeant in Bell's unit, the 504th Military Police Battalion at Phu Bai, had seen him fall during a battle last week. The Bells believe the sergeant mentioned this in writing to Ft. Hood.

The soldier was told to call home and tell his parents he was all right.

18 at Bash Can Get Clean Slate

GARDNERVILLE, Nev. (AP) — A justice of the peace Friday told 18 teen-agers he would dismiss charges stemming from a back-to-school beer bash if they would spend the Labor Day weekend cleaning the site of beer cans and debris accumulated over many years.

"I'll go up there again Monday and cast a jaundiced eye'sl the place. If I like it, they are free," said Justice of the Peace Max Jones.

Fund Shortages Hit State GOP

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Republican Party is broke and the main reason is the top fund raiser for the party in recent years is busy in Washington and Detroit.

William McLaughlin, state GOP chairman, said today the party was $150,000 in debt and is hard-pressed to meet its payroll.

* * *

While being in debt doesn't mean the Republicans are going out of business in Mighigan, it does mean that the GOP can't really begin a kick-off of the 1970 campaign to boost Gov. William G. Milliken and the Republican ticket.

* * *

The loss of former Gov. George Romney to Washington has left the state GOP without a top drawing card. But the loss of Max Fisher, the Detroit industrialist who served as a top fund raiser during the Romney years, also has been a severe blow to the coffers.

MONEY TO WASHINGTON

"When Fisher left Michigan, so did our ability to raise funds in Michigan," said McLaughlin in an interview with Tom Greene of WJBK-TV's Lansing Bureau.

"Secondly, much of the Michigan money is now going to the administration in Washington rather than contributing to the state party. They find it necessary to send their dollars to the new administration," he said.

* * *

McLaughlin said there is an intense drive to find a replacement for Fisher, who he said has been devoting more of his time to New Detroit, Inc., and the United Foundation in Detroit.

The right man for such a fund raising job, he said, is a man who has the right contacts, who can call on people and get things done.

CAMPAIGN KICKOFF

With the unofficial kcikoff for the 1970 campaign set for the Republican Conference on Mackinac Island in mid-September, McLaughlin finds himself in a spot where the party can't function like it did in the Romney years.

Republican State Central Committee headquarters here has only 15 employes; McLaughlin would like 25.

They haven't missed a payroll yet for the staff employes, but the last two were nearly missed he admits.

"Outstate fund raisers, at the last minute, came up with enough money to meet the State Central payroll, but we can't count on that forever," McLaughlin said.

DEBTS MOUNT

"The election of 1968 was our best fund raising year in history, but we came out of the campign in Michigan $100,000 in the hole. And since the beginning of 1969, we've gone $50,000 more in debt," he said.

Milliken, aware of the problem, said he was working with McLaughlin to find a key fund raiser who can make the right contacts to fill the Michigan GOP war chest.

Lawn Trim Nets Teen Bullet Wound

COHOCTON, N.Y. (AP) — Steven Duell's decision to mow the lawn Friday left him with a bullet wound in the buttocks.

State Police said Doell, 14, of Rochester, and two other boys were visiting a summer cottage here.

* * *

The youths left a 22-caliber rifle with which they had been target shooting propped against the railing.

Steven decided to trim the lawn with a tractor mower.

* * *

Vibrations from the vehicle apparently knocked over the rifle, which discharged when it hit the ground. The bullet ricocheted, struck the tractor seat and then hit Steven four inches below the belt

He was treated at Densville Memorial Hospital and discharged.

Inflation Hits Washwoman

PARIS, Ky. (AP) — The cost of living caught up with the Irish Washwoman Friday.

The company, in a newspaper advertisement, noted that "property taxes have gone up 1,034 per cent, sewer rates are up 135 per cent and water rates have climbed 135 per cent."

* * *

But, said the automatic carwash firm, "We're just going up 50 per cent for our services, from $1 to $1.50."

Valiant Line Adds Two Sports Coupes

The Plymouth Valiant line features two additions for 1970. Now are a two-door coupe, the Duster, and a high-performance model sharing the same body, the Duster 340.

The new models and the restyled Valiant 4-door sedan go on sale Sept. 23.

Area dealers include Hahn Chrysler-Plymouth, 6673 Dixie Highway, Clarkston; Colonial Chrysler, 200 S. Main, Milford; Oakland Chrysler-Plymouth, 724 Oakland; Birmingham Chrysler-Plymouth, 2100 W. Maple, Troy; and Milosch Chrysler-Plymouth 6775 S. Lapeer, Lake Orion.

* * *

Featuring an attractive and youthful sports coupe styling theme, the Dusters have tip-open rear-quarter window glass and a ventless front-door glass.

Standard engine in the Duster is a 198-cubic-inch six-cylinder engine which achieves a compromise between fuel economy and high-level performance.

For a step-up in performance without major sacrifices in economy, the 225-cubic-inch six-cylinder and the 318-cubic-inch V-8 are optional. All use regular gasoline.

* * *

The youth-oriented Duster 340 is powered by the high-performance 340-cubic-inch, four-barrel engine as standard equipment. This engine features high-flow cylinder heads, manifolds and carburetor, and a high-performance camshaft.

DUSTER 340 — Plymouth brings high performance to the compact car field for 1970 with an all-new two-door coupe, the Duster 340. It is powered by a lightweight, high-performance 340-cubic-inch V8 with four-barrel carburetion. A new fully synchronized three-speed manual transmission with floor-mounted shift linkage is standard.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATFISH

QUESTION: How does the walking catfish breathe out of water?

* * *

ANSWER: Our picture does look fishy, but is really in accordance with fact. Several fishes, such as the mud skipper, have developed an ability to come out of the water for short periods.

The walking catfish is another of these. A tropical fish, it is in the news because it has appeared in Florida and is spreading so rapidly there that it is causing concern, for this fish is aggressive and may eliminate other valuable native fishes.

It seems the walking catfish arrived in Florida when imported for sale by dealers in tropical fish. Some of the catfish escaped and the species began to spread.

These fish have stiff spines in their pectoral fins which can dig into the ground and help them slither along. They bend their bodies and slash their tails as well. They walk to get them from pond to pond, a facility probably developed in areas where ponds dried up during certain periods.

In order to breathe on land, this catfish has developed organs behind the gills which work in much the way our lungs do, enabling them to extract oxygen directly from the air for short periods.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy was reported in "very good condition and resting comfortably" Friday night at Cape Cod Hospital in Hyannis, Mass., after a miscarriage Thursday.

JOAN KENNEDY

The hospital said Mrs. Kennedy, wife of the Massachusetts senator, may be released today. It was the third miscarriage since 1963 for Mrs. Kennedy, who will be 33 Tuesday. The Kennedys have three children, Kara, 9, Edward Jr., 7, and Patrick, 1.

Presley Top Drawing Card in Vegas

Elvis Presley, rock 'n' roll king of the 1950s, joins Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin as one of Las Vegas' top drawing cards, hotel executives say.

Presley made his first Las Vegas appearance in 13 years this month, drawing 101,500 persons in four weeks, the International Hotel said yesterday.

* *

In a conservative estimate, this means Presley brought in $1.5 million in dinner and cocktail show fees for the new hotel-casino, officials said.

British Star Held in Tiff With Police

British actor Richard Harris was arrested in London early today and charged with assaulting two policemen outside a West End cabaret.

Police said Harris, star of the movie "Camelot," was detained after a disturbance outside the Talk of the Town cabaret, where Sammy Davis Jr. is appearing.

* * *

Harris was officially accused of "assaulting two police officers in the execution of their duty," police said. Richard David Lock, described as Harris' assistant, was charged with obstructing police.

New LA Police Chief Seeks Peace

"Peace is our mission," said Edward M. Davis who—after 29 years with the force—is now Los Angeles' 46th chief of police.

Davis, 52, who took the oath of office yesterday, succeeds Thomas H. Reddin in the $34,625-a-year post as head of the nation's third-largest police force. Reddin resigned to become a local television newscaster.

The new chief pledged "courtesy and friendly good humor regardless of color, creed or economic circumstances." Force, he said, will be used only when persuasion and advice have failed.

Surfboard Fouls Warfare Game

HONOLULU (AP) — The destroyer USS Carpenter, searching the Pacific in an antisubmarine warfare exercise, came up with a strange target.

The ship's sonar spotted a drifting surfboard 120 miles south of Waikiki.

TV Show May Have Led to Student's Immolation

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — A television program may have led a student to set fire to himself as he dreamed during the night, a coroner said today.

David Lehmann, 18, son of a Cambridge University professor, soaked his clothes in turpentine and burned himself to death.

* * *

His mother told the court his last words were: "It was all a dream. Something made me do it. It was a dreadful mistake. I didn't know it would happen." He died next day in a hospital from burns over 90 per cent of his body.

City Coroner Dudley Durell said that before the youth went to bed he had been watching a television program on primitive religions in which were "vivid shots of men and boys dancing through the firelight and one shot of people walking through fire.

"I am told the shots were in no way horrific, but it may be that the program directly touched off ideas which led to this. In this case the boy got up, dressed himself and then for some reason it appears he soaked himself in turpentine and set himself alight."

The student's father, Hermann Lehmann, told the hearing: "David was artistically inclined and he had a vivid imagination.

"His painting showed this and so did his music. He was also inclined to do little experiments. He was not a sleepwalker."

New Styling Lights Dodge Truck Lineup

The new model year brings major engineering and styling changes to the Dodge Truck lineup, plus new engines for heavy-duty trucks, motor homes and compacts, according to Gwain H. Gillespie, Dodge Truck Operations general manager.

Area dealers are Lloyd Bridges Traveland, 1010 W. Maple, Walled Lake and Mike Canaan Motor City Dodge, 855 Oakland, Pontiac.

* * *

Featured on ½- and ¾-ton trucks is a new standard grille of bright anodized aluminum with a deep textured insert.

Side marker lights as well as reflectors have been incorporated into a combined lamp and reflector unit for a neater appearance.

INTERIOR CHANGES

Light-duty conventional trucks have three new instrument-cluster faceplates among their interior changes. In the standard cabs, there is a new silver and black plastic faceplate, while custom cabs have added a bright chrome trim to theirs. The top - of - the - line Adventurer features a plush contemporary wood-grained faceplate.

* * *

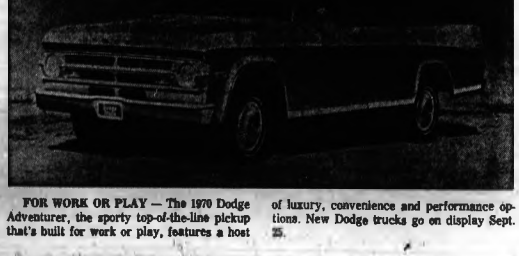

Developed for 1970 conventional trucks are four new transmission. A three-speed fully synchronized manual transmission is standard on all ½- and ¾-ton conventional trucks, Sportsman Wagons and vans with V8 power plants.

This is also standard on D-200 and W-200 crew cabs with six-cylinder engines.

A new improved transmission is standard on Sportsman Wagons and Tradesman vans and ½- and ¾-ton conventionals with six-cylinder engines. This is a rugged transmission with increased gear width and larger input and output bearings.

* * *

The newest entry, aimed at the special taxi, airport jitney, and small schoolbus market is the 11-passenger, 108-inch wheelbase Sportsman Wagon. Improved performance is provided by a new 198-cubic-inch engine which replaces the 170 - cubic - inch engine.

FOR WORK OR PLAY — The 1970 Dodge Adventurer, the sporty top-of-the-line pickup that's built for work or play, features a host of luxury, convenience and performance options. New Dodge trucks go on display Sept. 25.

Priest Killed by 2 Young Holdup Men

NEW YORK (AP) — An Episcopal priest who admonished two young holdup men after they accosted him and demanded money was shot to death Friday afternoon on the street near his Brooklyn home.

The Rev. Thomas P. Logan, 50, assistant pastor of St. Paul's Chapel in Wall Street area, at first thought the two were not serious in their demands, witnesses told police.

* * *

Father Logan, wearing a green business suit, then identified himself as a priest and told the youths they should not go around holding up people, the witnesses said. One youth pulled a gun, fired one shot in the priest's chest and both fled empty-handed.

Father Logan fell to the sidewalk a few doors away from his home.

* * *

St. Paul's Chapel is the oldest church edifice in the city.

George Washington was one of the many Colonial era figures who worshipped there. Its country-style churchyard is a well known landmark for tourists and financial workers in the area.

ONE COLOR Highgate "on the green"

Highgate "on the green" draws inspiration from the traditional 19th Century New England "Village Green" theme, with uncommon attention to exterior architecture.

A passive recreation area is provided by the 4½-acre private park set centrally in Highgate featuring 6-foot wide bike trails and a 6,000 square foot patio with play areas.

Special for Viewing Will Treat Ears, Too

More than just something to look at, a 90-minute presentation of the life and work of pianist Arthur Rubenstein Friday promises to be music to the ears of a great many area viewers.

The special presentation, to air on Channel 4 starting at 8:30 p.m., follows the great virtuoso around the world with Rubenstein himself doing the narration. Then he plays several selections by Beethoven, Brahms, Chopin, Liszt and Schuman.

★ ★ ★

Strains of a different kind are likely to attract just as much interest when the Detroit Lions face the Washington Redskins of coach Vince Lombardi today at 5:30 p.m. on Channel 2 in an NFL exhibition game.

This will be the Lions' first chance to show what they can do against Lombardi's Redskins.

CARTOON PREVIEW

Something for the youngsters is offered Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7 when "Super Saturday" previews the Saturday cartoon shows which will debut on Channel 7 Sept. 6.

Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare of "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" host a look at "Smokey the Bear" "Cattanooga Cats," "Hot Wheels," "The Hardy Boys" and "Sky Hawks."

★ ★ ★

A flock of Saturday cartoons on Channel 4 also will debut Sept. 6 and were previewed this morning.

The first appointment of a female member of the United States Cabinet is recalled in a special program Sunday at 4:30 p.m. on Channel 4. The presentation marks the 35th anniversary of the appointment of Frances Perkins as secretary of labor by President Franklin Roosevelt. Some of the major events during Mrs. Perkins' tenure are dramatized.

STILL A HIT

Baseball, still making a hit with viewers, comes up with a prime-time offering pitting the Chicago Cubs against the Cincinnati Redlegs Monday at 7 p.m. on Channel 4.

The Cubs' all-around performance as contenders in the National League Eastern Division is matched against the hitting which has made Cincinnati tough in the Western Division.

Arthur Rubenstein's life and works are explored on a program narrated by the great pianist himself Friday at 8:30 p.m. on Channel 4.

The Cover

Debbie Reynolds, on the cover of The Pontiac Press TV Schedule this week, debuts Sept. 16 in her first television series, playing the wife of a sportswriter, on Channel 4. The show will be each Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Snorky (left), Feegle and Bingo present a new season of gags and laughs when "The Banana Split Adventure Hour" begins its new season Sept. 6 at 9:30 a.m. on Channel 4.

Syrians Recant, Free Israelis

From Our News Wires

DAMASCUS, Syria — The Arab hijack of a Trans World Airlines jet with 115 persons aboard missed by minutes being a disaster, the pilot said today, in the wake of a Syrian decision to release six Israelis who were aboard.

"We would never have made it if we had had to circle the airport one more time," said Capt. Dean Carter, the pilot.

★ ★ ★

The Boeing 707 not only had but a few gallons of fuel left when it landed yesterday at Damascus airport, there was the threat of a bomb aboard. Minutes after the passengers jumped from the plane it went off, ripping the cockpit wide open.

A young Arab couple seized the Boeing 707 as it was en route to Athens and Tel Aviv. They said they were members of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab guerrilla group.

'COULDN'T DEFUSE'

Authorities expressed belief the explosion occurred because the hijackers had been unable to defuse the bomb they used to threaten the pilot when they entered the cockpit over the Adriatic Sea.

Syrian officials said the passengers would be flown out on a special Alitalia airliner to Athens, from where they could proceed to their destinations. Syria said TWA can reclaim its plane.

Pressed by stubborn lady schoolteacher from Los Angeles who refused to leave four Israeli women who were aboard, officials said they will release all 113 persons on the hijacked jet.

"All of you, including the Israelis, will leave within the hour," a Syrian official told the 101 passengers and 12 crew members who were aboard the TWA Boeing 707 when it was hijacked yesterday during a flight from Rome to Athens.

EARLIER PLANS

Earlier, Syrian officials said six Israelis — two men and four women — were being detained.

Miss Finne Perry, a chemistry and physics teacher, led a band of American passengers who had told the Syrians they refused to be separated from the Israeli women.

Passengers told a news conference today they had been "very well treated" by the Syrians.

The passengers also included Americans, Greeks, Cubans and a Filipino.

MOST WERE CALM

Most of the passengers remained calm until the woman hijacker threatened to blow up the plane.

"There was some panic then," one of the passengers said.

After the plane had landed and stopped, some of the passengers jumped off the wings in panic because of the bomb threat. Others dived into nearby foxholes. Two Americans suffered foot injuries as a result.

Many of the passengers at the news conference were still barefoot. Others were being fitted out with new shoes to replace those they left when they fled from the plane through the emergency chute moments before the cockpit blew up.

BROKE HER FOOT

Helen Vallas, an American from Lynn, Mass., had one foot in a plaster cast. She broke it when she jumped off the wing after the plane stopped.

Another American, Zachary Pace, 47, Oxford, Ohio, also broke his foot jumping off the wing. He and his wife ran to a nearby foxhole and jumped in, he said.

★ ★ ★

Noble said that from the point of view of the hijackers "the operation worked like clockwork. It was planned out."

He said when the woman hijacker addressed the passengers through the public address system shortly after the plane left Rome everybody was calm.

"She said no harm would come to us, if we remained calm and everybody did just that.

★ ★ ★

"But about 15 minutes before the plane landed, the woman hijacker appeared to be getting a little excited. She said she was going to blow the plane up and of course everybody became very anxious," Noble said.

"But then she said everybody would have to get out of the plane the moment it landed. There was some panic then," he added.

Judge Sued for Libel in Track Case

An Oakland County Circuit Judge who once investigated the Hazel Park Race Track was sued yesterday in Wayne County Circuit Court for $2 million by the corporation that runs the thoroughbred track.

The Hazel Park Racing Association alleged that Judge James S. Thorburn libeled and slandered the association in describing a 1967 plot to assassinate him while he was investigating the track.

In the suit, the association said Judge Thorburn accused the corporation "of having hired, enticed or in some manner retained an individual in an alleged plot" to kill him.

Thorburn, who declined comment yesterday, made the statement to a television newsman June 25. The account was later broadcast in Detroit and fuller accounts published in area newspapers, said William Weinstein, the attorney for the corporation.

ATTENDANCE DROP

The association said attendance at the track in Hazel Park dropped as a result of Thorburn's statements. The group also said the judge's statement caused potenail harm in its relationship with the Michigan racing commissioner who assigns racing dates to the track.

Weinstein said his client requested a public retraction from Thorburn on July 3 and again, by telegram, on July 22. He claimed there was no reply from the Oakland County judge.

The law suit also contended that Thorburn accused the track "through its officers and directors, of being members of an alleged organized crime syndicate or group."

Both alleged accusations were strongly denied by track officials.

Park Seeks 3rd Term

SEOUL (AP) — South Korean President Chung-Hee Park says any chief of state needs at least 12 years in office to effect any worthwhile changes and that's why he is pushing for a constitutional amendment to do away with a two-term limit.

The 51-year-old president, whose current four-year term ends in 1971, spoke today to convention delegates of his ruling Democratic Republican party. The party is backing him in his bid to tack on a third term to the presidency.

Waterford Teacher Pact Gets Final Okay

Waterford Township teachers and school board overwhelmingly approved a new one-year teachers contract last night which brings salaries up to the county average.

The new contract, which runs from Sept. 1 to Aug. 31, is estimated to cost the school district $7 million compared to last year's total of $6.4 million.

★ ★ ★

A total of 285 teachers voted for the pact while 30 cast votes against it. The school system has about 667 teachers.

At the same time, the board of education reviewed the document and approved it 5-to-0. Two members were absent.

SALARY RANGE

Salaries for teachers with bachelor degrees will range from $7,400, up $700 from last year, to $12,000 in 10 years, up $1,500.

The range for master-degree teachers will be $8,000, up $900, to $13,200 in 11 years, an increase of $1,700.

Four years ago, Waterford's teacher salaries were among the best in the county, acting Supt. Dr. John Pagen noted. Last year they were among the worst.

The new salaries now rank about in the middle of 28 school districts in the county which have settled salaries for the coming school year, according to Pagen.

RANKING COULD DROP

Waterford could be pushed down in the rankings when five districts still negotiating contracts settle on salaries, Pagen said.

Pagen admitted the teachers were given nearly everything they were negotiating for to avoid a teacher strike.

But as a result an additional estimated $100,000 will have to be trimmed from a $12.5-million maternity budget.

Pagen said it is likely supplies will be cut back, equipment won't be replaced as readily, teachers won't be reimbursed for convention or in-service training expenses, the number of field trips will be reduced.

PREVIOUS CUTBACK

This comes on top of a previous $1-million-plus cutback for the coming school year when 75 teaching positions were eliminated and elementary pupils were put on half-day sessions.

★ ★ ★

Teachers also won an agency-shop provision, paid health and life insurance for 12 months instead of last year's 10 months, and a 7 per cent salary raise to supervise extracurricular activities.

★ ★ ★

Under agency shop, all teachers in the system must join or pay dues of $101 yearly to the Waterford Education Association, their bargaining agent, or be fired.

The association had 612 members last year and now expects about 55 more members.

★ ★ ★

A tentative contract settlement was unexpectedly reached Thursday after six months of negotiations, a state mediator failed to settle the issues and called for fact-finding and a strike was close at hand.

Rain May Douse Holiday Ventures

There's a chance of showers or thundershowers dampening the Pontiac area over the weekend.

Here is the day-by-day forecast issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau:

TODAY — Mostly fair and humid, slight chance of thundershowers, high 85 to 92. Tonight partly cloudy and warm, chance of thundershowers, low 65 to 70.

★ ★ ★

Winds south increasing to eight to 18 miles per hour and tonight and south to southwest 10 to 20 miles tomorrow.

TOMORROW — Mostly cloudy and cooler, chance of thundershowers. High 82 to 88.

★ ★ ★

MONDAY — Chance of showers or thundershowers mostly during the morning, cooler.

Probabilities of precipitation are 20 per cent tonight and 30 per cent tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

A humid 71 was the low reading in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury had soared to 90 by 12:30 p.m.

Aide Denies Rogers Is Irked at CIA Sino-Russ War Hint

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has declined to go along with a suggestion that Secretary William P. Rogers is angry at the Central Intelligence Agency for putting out word that the Soviets may be thinking about an air strike on Red China's atomic plants.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey refused yesterday to take any side publicly in what he portrayed as competitive newspaper enterprise over a lunch CIA chief Richard Helms had with some reporters earlier this week.

★ ★ ★

Helms has been identified — by newsmen who were not at the lunch and therefore not bound by no-quotation rules — as the source of stories dealing with the possibility of such a Soviet attack and about CIA's claim of innocence in the Green Beret murder charges in Saigon.

★ ★ ★

CIA's longstanding practice is public silence on overseas developments and anti-CIA allegations poured forth daily by foes abroad.

When CIA feels maligned by stories over which other U.S. government agencies may have some control, it sometimes asks them to issue a statement which will put the CIA in a better light.

In the Greeen Beret case, the Army so far has refused to publicly disavow defense lawyer allegations in behalf of the arrested men that the CIA ordered the killing of a suspected Vietnamese double agent. CIA contends it issued no such order. The Army is keeping silent pending further investigation.

★ ★ ★

In the Sino-Soviet dispute, there is conjecture as to whether the Soviets themselves might be floating the notion of a possible attack on Chinese nuclear installations in order to scare Peking. It is also speculated that anti-Soviet Communist sources may be promoting the surprise attack idea for their own psychological warfare purposes.

The official U.S. government view is that a Russian-Chinese armed clash bigger than border flareups is both unlikely and undesirable.

Gals Beef, So They'll Raise It

RED OAK, Iowa (AP) — A Corn Belt cattle buyer angry at Eastern housewives' complaints about beef prices offered to send calves to two women to give them first-hand experience with the costs of cattle raising, and the women accepted.

"I'm delighted," said Mrs. Stephen Stophlett of Melbourne Beach, Fla., the leader of a group boycotting beef. "It's a sign that we're being noted."

Mrs. Mickey DeLorenzo of Levittown, N.Y., said her first reaction was "complete disbelief" but later she decided it would be a "marvelous experiment."

The offer was made by Eddie Collins of Red Oak, a cattle dealer who also conducts a syndicated radio program forecasting cattle market conditions.

TIRED OF COMPLAINTS

"It's not just me, it's a hell of a lot of ranchers across the country who are getting tired of women complaining about the prices of meat," Collins said Friday.

He said the offer was made as a reaction to meatless recipe campaigns in the East and a "meatless week" campaign in Oregon.

"It's time that if they're going to give beef a black eye the farmer should show them who's not coming out," Collins said. "I'm just going to send a calf, that's all, and tell them, 'You feed it and you tell me what it costs.'"

Each woman is to receive one calf late next week. Collins said the calves are being provided by two Nebraska farmers, Ronnie Rogers of Lexington and Frank Diercks of Gordon.

MORE SHIPMENTS

Later shipments will send calves to housewives in Denver, Colo., and Portland, Ore., he said, and added that he thinks as many as 200 calves could be found in 24 hours if others wish to join the experiment.

"People would like to prove the farmers don't have it so well," he said. "Everybody back there in the East thinks the farmer's rich."

★ ★ ★

Collins suggested that the women could feed the calves "right in their backyards."

Mrs. DeLorenzo said a town ordinance forbids keeping a calf in her yard, but town and county officials have offered to put hers in an animal shelter.

AP Wirephoto

RARIN' TO GO—Cattle buyer Ed Collins holds a Hereford calf similar to the two being shipped to housewives in Levittown, N. Y., and Melbourne Beach, Fla. The women, who have complained that producers are making too much profit, have agreed to feed the calves for market to learn firsthand the costs involved. Collins said the shipments are being made in reaction to meatless recipes.

TWA's 10 Pct. Tops Air-Fare Hike Pleas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trans World Airlines has called for a 10 per cent increase in domestic fares, the most daring rate hike proposal before the Civil Aeronautics Board.

At least 15 other airlines have requested fare increases.

* * *

The CAB will lift the lid on the simmering kettle of airline problems Thursday when it hears oral argument from the airlines and from opponents of any general fare increase.

In thee latter category are 20 western members of Congress, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who have asked the Board to suspend and investigate the fare increase proposals.

FINANCES DETERIORATING

In a 14-page defense of its proposal Eastern Airlines said the industry's financial position is deteriorating rapidly. Eastern said the airlines cannot hope to hold the linee on fares when all prices and wages it must pay have risen steadily.

Chairman John H. Crooker Jr., who is resigning, indicated the CAB would act swiftly, so that if an increase is permitted it may go into effect by Oct. 1.

* * *

Crooker classified the major fare proposals in three groups. The prototype tariff fillings are:

- Continental — a flat increase on all tickets for flights of more than 400 miles. It would range from $2 additional, for trips of 400 to 499 miles, to a maximum increase of $9 on flights of more than 1,900 miles.
- United — a fixed terminal charge of $11 for each ticket, plus a flat line-haul charge of 5.7 cents a mile.
- Eastern — an $8.60 terminal charge with a variable line-haul charge ranging downward in four mileage blocks, from 6.7 cents a mile for trips up to 400 miles, down to five cents a mile for flights of more than 1,800 miles.

6 PCT. HIKE LOWEST

Continental's plan would raise fares an estimated 6 per cent, United's 6.6 per cent, and Eastern's about 8 per cent.

TWA said that in view of the industry's serious need none of the proposals was adequate, and a 10 per cent increase would be justified. TWA said it would support Eastern's 8 per cent hike as "minimal."

* * *

Continental said it would oppose any increase based on a formula, and said the CAB has no authority to impose upon it the fare structures proposed by United, Eastern or American without first suspending them and conducting an investigation as to their legality.

Courses Set in Community Fall Program

BIRMINGHAM —Residents will have the opportunity to eat while learning in the Connoisseur's Kitchen course offered in the Community House Fall Educational program.

Connoisseur's Kitchen, a course in gourmet cookery, will be taught by Madame Charity Suczek, a native of Austria, who has studied with chefs in such restaurants as Maxims, Tour d 'Argent and Les Pyramids.

* * *

Students will have the opportunity to sample the dishes prepared that day, taste wines and nibble cheese.

A course in braille transcribing will prepare students for volunteer work in transcribing children's books and other needed reading material for the blind.

DECOUPAGE CLASS

A class in the ancient art of decoupage will also be available. Decoupage consists of cutting, pasting, then applying several coats of varnish to a solid surface. Students will learn to adapt this knowledge to trays, wastebaskets, boxes, wall hangings, baskets suitable for handbags and other possibilities.

In the flower arranging course, students will learn simple ine design and mass arranging plus instruction in mechanical aids, as well as the selection and conditioning of flowers.

* * *

Furcraft instruction will be given in restyling outmoded furs into stoles, bags, hats, collars or coats.

The pottery course offers a basic knowledge of raw materials, tools and techniques of ceramics, including hand construction, throwing on the potter's wheel glazing and decorating processes.

In sculpturing, a three-dimensional world will be opened when students learn to investigate different media, clay molding and carving assemblage. Beginning and advanced students are welcomed to the class with personal attention given to each individual project and student.

The underwriters attended sessions focusing on advanced life insurance planning techniques for businessmen and professionals at the week-long sales conference.

Private Talks May Free 3 in N. Korea

PROSPECT HEIGHTS, Ill (AP) — The chairman of the Remember the Pueblo Committee says three American helicopter crewmen held prisoner by North Korea can be freed through private negotiation without an apology to the Communists.

The Rev. Paul Lindstrom, whose committee was formed in January 1968 after North Korea captured the USS Pueblo, said Friday that the State Department would have to take "a certain series of actions," however, before the men could be freed.

* * *

Lindstrom did not describe the actions, but said that once they were taken at least one member of his committee would travel to Panmunjom, North Korea, to accept the release of the men Sept. 18.

In Washington yesterday, State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said he knew of no role being played by Lindstrom or the Remember the Pueblo Committee to win release of the men.

REDS' OFFER

The crewmen were captured Aug. 17 after their helicopter was shot down by North Korean gunners. North Korea said yesterday the crewmen are alive, and offered to exchange them for a confession and apologies from Washington.

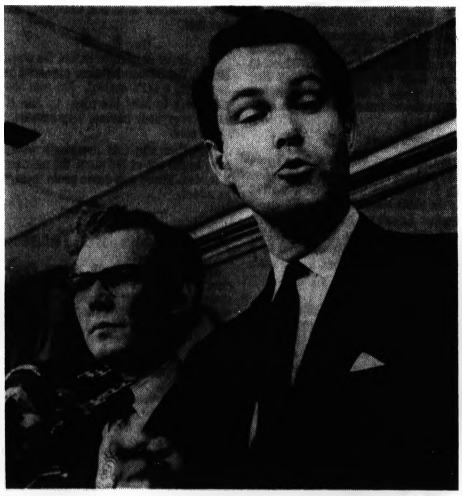

U.S. officials in Washington began drafting a statement they hope will be sufficient to induce North Korea to release the three crewmen.

Although previous similar negotiations at Panmunjom have been prolonged, there was some optimism that the three might be released before too long.

Washington officials said no time has been fixed for delivering the statement North Korea has asked. Presumably it will be sent to Panmunjom fairly soon.

Lindstrom said he and other persons were still negotiating for the release of the men.

Lindstrom said he could not give details of the negotiations "if our work is to be effective."

TV Debate With Bernadette Tuesday

2 Irish Unionists in U.S. 'to Tell Truth'

NEW YORK (AP) — Two leaders of Northern Ireland's ruling Unionist party are here to set the stage for a confrontation with Bernadette Devlin, the 22-year-old crusader for Ulster's Roman Catholic minority.

"This Fidel Castro in amini-skirt must be put into true perspective and that is what we hope to do," W. Stratton Mills, a member of the British House of Commons, told a news conference yesterday.

* * *

Mills and Robin Bailie, a member of the Ulster Partimanet, flew in to Kennedy Airport, part of a three-man "truth squad" dispatched to counter Miss Devlin's activities. The third member, Captain L.P.S. Orr, was in Canada.

Miss Devlin is on a weeek-old North American tour to raise funds for victims of the recent Ulster violence.

She is scheduled to meet the truth squad on television here Tuesday. Miss Devlin declared herself undaunted by the 3-1 odds: "Their cause is three times, if not 300 times, less than ours so the odds are fair."

Mills and Bailie charged at their news conference that Miss Devlin has been "wildly irresponsible and totally inaccurate" in her presentation of the controvery to the American public.

* * *

Blue Shield Seeks Big Rate Increase

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Blue Shield insurance plan filed today for a 16.7 per cent increase in its rates, effective next Jan. 1.

The companion Blue Cross plan filed for a two per cent cut in rates for its so-called Blue Cross 65 coverage, designed to supplement medicare.

The new rate schedules were filed with the Michigan Insurance Bureau and would become effective with renewal of contracts in next year's first quarter.

They would be applied subsequently to those with contracts expiring in other quarters, but subscribers would be assured of no further increases for a year.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield said the increase would be only 5.6 per cent when applied to the cost of their combined coverage.

Blue Cross previously filed for a 4.1 per cent increase to become effective Oct. 1. Blue Shield said it had not increased basic rates since 1963, although the Consumer Price Index had gone up 24.1 per cent meanwhile.

The plans have approximately 4.8 million members in Michigan. Blue Cross assures hospital bill payments; Blue Shield the payment of doctor bills.

Blue Shield said its increase initially would apply to contracts of 274,000 members. Blue Cross said about 370,000 will be affected by its Blue Cross 65 reduction.

John C. McCabe, president, said it was impossible for Blue Shield to resist further "the continuing inflationary pressure common to our total economy."

Half-Day School Setup 'Illegal'

DETROIT (UPI) — A ruling that could, in effect, outlaw half-day school sessions was handed down yesterday by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman.

The ruling was on a suit brought by a group of Livonia parents against the Livonia Board of Education, which had planned to open school Wednesday with grades five through eight on half-day sessions because of a lack of money.

In adopting the half-day sessions, the Livonia board had cited a state law that prohibits deficit financing by local school boards.

But Kaufman ruled that the Michigan Constitution calls for free education and free education has been defined by the Legislature as meaning 180 full days of school each year.

ADMITTED CONFLICT

He admitted the deficit financing provision was in conflict with the constitutional provision, but added that the state must provide the funds for complete education.

The more than 150 persons attending the hearing yesterday broke into wild applause when Kaufman ruled in their favor that all children in the Detroit suburb would have to have full-day school sessions.

He did allow the school board to delay the full-day sessions until a later date because they were not set up now to begin school on Wednesday with full-day sessions.

Bill Brown, president of the school board, said there would be an emergency meeting over the weekend to decide whether to appeal Kaufman's decision. There still is the problem of finding the money to conduct full-day sessions, he said.

Britain Outlines Peace Package

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British Home Secretary James Callaghan presented five proposals to end strife between Roman Catholics and Protestants in Northern Ireland then left today for London.

He promised to return in a few weeks to confer with British officials who will arrive in a few days to help Northern Ireland's government work out reforms in housing, jobs and election practices.

* * *

Callaghan dismissed demands of the Catholic-based Civil Rights Association calling for abolition of the provincial parliament and urged its early recall to speed work on reforms.

Unless his proposals are accepted, he warned, Northern Ireland could face chaos and anarchy. The proposals are:

- An immediate $600,000 grant from London to aid families whose homes and businesses were hit by fires and looting.
- A promise by Northern Ireland to appoint a government minister for communal relations.
- A British mission to Northern Ireland to consider economic and industrial improvement.
- A committee composed equally of Protestants and Catholics to investigate grievances.
- A British-Northern Irish team to investigate the causes of the dispute.

U.S. Plans Attack, Soviet Marshal Says

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of Soviet rocket troops charged today that the United States is planning a surprise attack on the Soviet Union, but he warned that "every launch pad, aircraft, ship, tank and gun" of the Soviet armed forces is ready to retaliate.

Marshal Nikolai Krylov said his strategic rocket troops have recently taken on responsibility as the "main force to hold back the aggressor and defeat it in war."

* * *

Krylov's belligerent remarks, published in the Communist party newspaper Sovietskaya Rossia (Soviet Russia), were among the toughest rocket-rattling aimed at the West seen in the Soviet press in two years.

Krylov, who is a deputy defense minister, said the "mass introduction of nuclear rocketry" has transformed the Soviet armed forces.

'DON'T BELIEVE IT'

And he warned the United States not to believe its own "propaganda" about nuclear war having no winners.

"Preparing for a surprise attack on the Soviet Union and other countries of socialism (Communism)," Krylov wrote, "the U.S. government long ago created a special unit, the department of planning for strategic purposes, which is busy working out plans for a mass nuclear-rocket strike on objects in our country and other countries of socialism."

He said he would like to remind "lovers of military adventure" that no aggression will go unpunished.

Biggest Guard Unit in Viet Returns Home

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Squinting in glare from the runway, Spec. 4 Mike Dubbe, 21, thought of the big reception ahead and said quietly: "I wish they'd just let us go home."

The young soldier's sentiments were shared by others as Idaho's 116th Combat Engineers Battalion headed home yesterday after nearly a year in Vietnam — the largest nonregular Army group sent to the war.

The Guardsmen were released last night but had to report this afternoon for a fullscale review, complete with VIPs and brass, including Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. chief of staff and former commander in Vietnam.

Some 5,000 persons jammed the Idaho Falls airport yesterday to welcome the 421 Guardsmen.

DISABLED PLANE

Some well-wishers had longer waits than expected. One of three troop planes had engine trouble on the way from McChord Air Force Base, Wash., and had to turn back. It was near midnight before another plane could get some 140 men to Idaho Falls.

Some reunions were especially poignant. The planes carried home father-and-son teams and brother combinations.

The Guardsmen appeared philosophical about having been sent to Vietnam. "They could have done without us," said Spec. 5 Bruce Campbell, "but we did a lot of good."

The battalion was assigned the upkeep of two major highways.

Plans for today's formal review were not a big hit with the men. But the mayor had declared "116th Welcome Home Days," and the citizens committee had made plans.

Besides Westmoreland, the dignitaries included a lieutenant general three major generals, a brigadier general, Idaho's governor and three congressmen.

Six members of the battalion were killed in Vietnam and 76 injured. Families of the dead received special invitations to the review.

Meanwhile, Weinstein also is trying to learn the identity of a U.S. justice department employe who named two of the racing association's directors as Mafia members.

In a recent release from the justice department, Anthony J. Zerilli and Jack W. Tocco were listed as Mafia leaders.

* * *

The list was compiled last May by the department's organized crime division at the request of Sen. John J. McClellan, chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee.

Zerilli, son of alleged Mafia boss Joseph Zerilli, is president of the association. Tocco, son of William "Black Bill" Tocco, is the association's executive vice president.

The fathers of the track directors were named in 1963 testimony before a Senate subcommittee as top bosses of the Detroit Mafia.

The younger Zerilli and Tocco have never been convicted of a felony.

Dominic P. "Fats" Corrado resigned recently as a director of the race track after he was indicted on charges of taking kickbacks involving a million-dollar loan from the Teamsters Union pension fund.

Corrado claimed he would be found innocent of the charge but was resigning to eliminate the possibility of any problems for the track.

Bridge Tricks From Jacobys

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

There was nothing wrong with South's four-heart contract except that he wasn't able to make it. As he remarked afterwards, "On good days I would have made an overtrick."

East started out by cashing his two top spades. Then he looked around for other tricks and saw that there was one chance and only one chance to beat the hand. West had to come up with a trump trick and then give East a ruff somewhere.

★ ★ ★

That somewhere had to be in clubs and East proceeded to get into ruffing position by leading his singleton club right into dummy's ace-king-10. East didn't worry about killing a club honor in his partner's hand. He was looking at dummy and felt sure that if South did hold any club losers he would be able to get rid of them on top diamonds.

South could see what was about to happen to him and made a valiant effort to avert disaster. He won the club in dummy, led a trump to his ace and proceeded to run off dummy's three top diamonds. He discarded one club on the second diamond and was all set to make his contract if East had ruffed the third diamond, but East didn't fall for that.

★ ★ ★

East had done some counting. It appeared that South had started with two spades, six trumps, one diamond and four clubs. In that case a second club discard would be of little help. Therefore, East simply discarded in the third diamond.

South had done his best but it wasn't good enough. He had to lead a trump. West took his king and led a club for East to ruff.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Sunday

Good time to propose marriage, to become engaged or to celebrate a wedding. When moon is in Taurus as it is today, people tend to brag about their possessions.

★ ★ ★

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Be receptive. Some can provide useful information. Key is to be a shrewd observer. Get in spirit of celebration. Shake off any tendency to brood.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle is high. But avoid foolish dispute over furniture or other household item. Sense of humor is your great ally today. Meet and greet people — with a smile.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Spiritual enlightenment is attainable. Be quiet within and answers will be forthcoming. Avoid extremes. Be specific. Remain in background as much as possible, heed words of wise counsel.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Accent on how you relate to friends. Be amiable. Avoid argument which is based on petty objection. Key is to make intelligent concession. Then day glows with feeling of well-being.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Some who depend upon you may make demands. Obtain hint from CANCER message. If considerate, you will find others also are reasonable. Strive to smooth over family misunderstandings.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Good lunar aspect today coincides with chance to be with those who have been at a distance. Make calls, catch up on correspondence. You may not find perfection, but there is satisfaction.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): What was hidden in financial matter can come into view. Be responsible. Don't waste — but don't skimp on quality, either. Frank discussion with mate, partner, is necessary.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Be willing to face facts as they exist. Relationship which has been draining you requires review. Be realistic. Gain shown if you are bright, alert and up to date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Fine for getting together with those who share mutual interests. Express ideas in forthright manner. No day to be wallflower. Rise and shine.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Emotions rise. Romance is on horizon. Satisfaction indicated through youngsters. Pursue creative hobbies. Offer congratulations to one who has performed brilliantly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are able to get on more solid ground. Be versatile. Realize that some around you need cheering. Entertaining at home is good idea. A reception for special occasion is indicated.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A short trip for purpose of visit with relative could be pleasant. Change routine. Break from tradition. Loosen reins of self-discipline in constructive manner.

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are entering new, exciting phase of activity. Be ready to accept opportunities and challenges. You are generally a fastidious person, usually aware of diet and health.

Lunar aspects provide MENU TIP which calls for substantial food. Cauliflower should be on the table and BRAGOLE could be spotlighted. This is a meat-and-potatoes night which should be topped (or-started) with tangy salad.

For Monday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Holiday atmosphere likely to prevail. Get together with friends who can guide you to greater income potential. You are due to have favor returned.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Cycle continues high. You can make headway, but must accept added pressure. Means the chips are down. Time to display most unique abilities. Dress for occasion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Trust judgment. You are on right track. This is true despite skeptical comments from associates. Aid granted from foundation, club or organization. Be co-operative.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): News is not all good. But you do gain access to valuable information. Key is to maintain balance. Friend who has had financial experience proves of immense aid.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): One in authority may be in contrary mood. Realize this is but temporary. You will get credit you deserve. Patience today is tremendous ally. Respond accordingly.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Attend to matters which you have neglected. Time to outline advertising program, present format or solidify publishing plans. Key is greater communication.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Truth about costs, profits and losses is accented. Be practical, especially where property repairs are concerned. Some around you today could be careless with your possessions.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Strain indicated in partnership or marriage area. Take special care with legal documents. Don't sign papers without thorough understanding of contents. Play waiting game.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You may find more demands on you than you first imagined — could create financial drain. Don't sacrifice quality. But do be on lookout for genuine opportunity for savings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are able to successfully put finishing touches on important project. You are especially appreciated by young persons. Turn on charm. You win if dedicated.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Cover some areas of activity. Not wise to reveal all you know. Older individual may act in stubborn manner. Be patient — but insist on fair deal.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You may lack necessary papers for trip or quick change. You may have to utilize special contacts. One who promised a favor should be approached. Throw off false pride.

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY, this is an extremely important period. If single, there could be marriage. If married, business advancement is indicated. You are precise, creative and independent. Many claim they dislike you, but few ignore you. There are numerous persons attracted to you which creates feeling of envy in others.

Lumber May Face a Closer Shave

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau is counting ballots in an election to see if there is general agreement on slicing a little more wood off each stick of construction lumber.

If the proposal is adopted, the standard 2x4—already not 2x4—will be slightly thinner and a little narrower in the future.

* * *

For more than 50 years, a nominal 2x4—both green and kiln dried—has left the mill measuring 1⅝ inches thick by 3⅝ inches wide. Green lumber shrinks as it loses moisture content.

The new standard would relate lumber sizes to moisture content so the green timber—initially a little bigger—would be the same size as the dry when it loses equivalent moisture.

NEW MEASUREMENTS

A dry 2x4—moisture content 19 per cent or less—would measure 1½ by 3½ inches. A green 2x4 would be planed 1 9-16 by 3 9-16 inches. Larger sizes would maintain the same dimensional differences. A 2x4 dry would be 1½ by 7¼ inches; green 1 9-16 by 7½ inches.

* * *

The new standard was recommended by the American Lumber Standards Committee, a government-industry organization. It has the approval of federal agencies and major organizations in the lumber and home building industries.

* * *

One dissenter is the soil pipe industry, contending its pipe would no longer fit in a narrower 2x4 studded wall.

* * *

The home builders say the answer is to use 2x6's in plumbing walls at an additional cost of $10 to $12 in an average house.

The over-all savings, on the other hand, in the smaller sizes are estimated in the lumber industry at about $166 per house.

* * *

The proposed new standard, along with ballots, was mailed this summer to about 5,000 firms and organizations selected as a representative sampling of the industries involved.

A "general concurrence," permitting the secretary of commerce to issue the new standard, requires acceptance by 75 per cent of those voting with at least 70 per cent approval in each of three groups—producers, distributors, users.

* * *

Deadline for receipt of ballots was July 31. The Census Bureau has 60 to 90 days to report the results.
