'Stars' Back to Showrooms

Auto Show Crowns Queen, in Closing Hours of '57 Run

It had been a real cinderella week-end—complete with admiring crowds and fairy princesses.

The 30 glossy products of the automaker's art had been serenaded and inspected from grille to tail-light for three days—it was time to go back to showroom floors and futures on the highways.

The fairy princesses? Well, one became a queen—specifically "Miss 1957 Auto Show." Her name is Margaret Hedden, 4607 Baldwin Rd. who won her crown during the show's closing hours to the blare of trumpets and the cheers of last-nighters.

The coronation ceremony climaxed a weekend of displays and entertainment which saw over 12,000 area residents flocking to Oliver Motor Sales' new service building.

The show was sponsored by eight dealer-members of the Pontiac Retail Trades Assn. Net proceeds will be donated to Pontiac General Hospital to aid in financing its new wing.

Miss Hedden, a 19-year-old brunette, is a second-term freshman at Eastern Michigan College were she is studing to become a teacher. She was awarded a $100 defense bond by the Community National Bank as one of her prizes.

By a coincidence, Miss Hedden is a cousin of Earlene Crisp, 106 S. Center St., who Friday was named the Press' "Miss Front Page" for February.

Displays were highlighted by the appearance of 11 different 1957 models, including the "dream cars" Buick Wildcat, and Pontiac's La Parisienne and Bonneville.

Show Manager Richard I. Moore described the show as a "huge success," and expressed the hope that similar shows will be presented on an annual basis. The last such exhibit took place 25 years ago.

Exhibitors included Braid Motor Sales, Central Lincoln Mercury Sales Inc., Cy Owens Inc., Jerome Motor Sales Inc., Matthews-Hargreaves Inc., Oliver Motor Sales Inc., Pontiac Retail Store and Reimenschneider Brothers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans were announced today for selecting two "Unknown Americans" who fell in World War II and in Korea for burial beside their World War I comrade in Arlington National Cemetery.

The Army, Navy and Air Force will share in a ceremonial selection, with re-interment scheduled for Memorial Day, May 30, 1958. Selections will be made by May 15 next year.

One will be chosen from among the graves of men killed in the Pacific, the other in Europe. One of these two then will be picked for reburial.

Bank Held Up in Grand Rapids

Two Force Employes, Customers Into Room, Flee With $17,000

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two gunmen forced personnel and customers into a back room of the Citizens Industrial Bank in downtown Grand Rapids today and fled with about $17,000.

Albert Buikema, bank cashier, said both men wore trenchcoats, light-colored pants and carried pistols in the holdup.

The bandits were unmasked and clean-shaven.

H. F. Rasch, bank president, said the holdup men entered at about 11:20 a.m. The holdup took only about five minutes, he said.

Buikema described the bandits as between 25 and 27 years old.

"They herded us into a directors' room, and forced us to lie on the floor," Buikema said. "There was no violence. They put us in the back room and closed the door.

"As soon as we thought they had gone," the cashier continued, "someone called the police from a phone in the room."

Besides Buikema and Rasch, bank employes included Mrs. Leonard Esakson, a stenographer. Two customers also were in the bank when the gunmen entered. They were herded into the directors' room with the employes.

Buikema said it was the first time the bank had been held up.

Citizens Industrial is located at 145 Ottawa, N. W., in the heart of Grand Rapids.

Soviet Officials Refuse to Name Mystery Patient

Discount Report That Man Under Treatment Is Kaganovich

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet officials and diplomatic sources today discounted a report that a mystery patient in a Moscow hospital is Deputy Premier Lazar M. Kaganovich. But there was still no disclosure of the stricken man's indentity.

An eminent German blood specialist flown here to help treat the patient, presumably a high Soviet official, described him as in critical condition.

The doctor said he was not informed of the ailing man's identity and did not recognize him.

It was pointed out that Kaganovich, a member of the Soviet Presidium, has been on a "grass roots" tour of Siberian cement plants recently. The German doctor reported that the unidentified patient had been ill for at least two weeks.

East German's official radio said today that Kaganovich visited a Soviet cement factory near Chelyabinsk, in southwest Siberia, over the weekend.

The opening tomorrow of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's Parliament, may give an opportunity to find out who he is.

Not even the German blood specialist summoned on the case, Dr. Hans Joachim Schulten of Cologne, knew the patient's name.

When Schulten was summoned, there was speculation the patient might be Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov, ailing for nearly two weeks. High Soviet officials said the sick man was not Shepilov or any member of the Communist party's powerful Presidium, successor to the old Politburo. A Foreign Ministry spokesman said Shepilov had recovered and was resting near Moscow.

Area Woman Killed as Train Hits Car

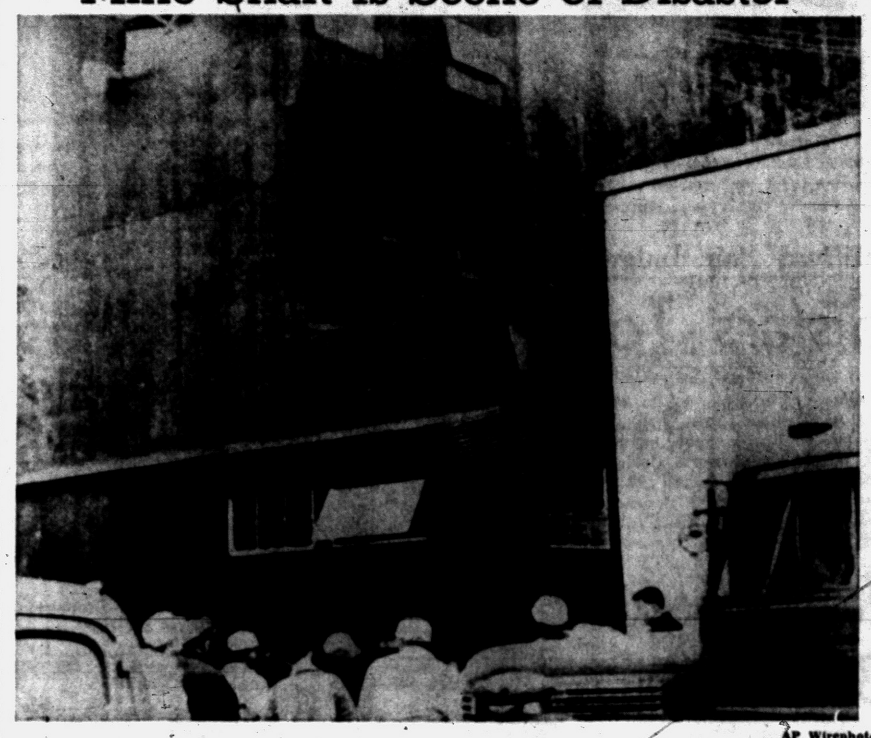

A Birmingham woman was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding was struck by a freight train at the C&O Railroad tracks at Lakeview road in Milford, one mile south of Highland Township.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital was Mrs. Vida Irene Wohlart, 42, of 23855 Samoset Trail.

Mrs. Wohlart's husband, Albert, 43, driver of the car, told Sheriff's deputies that he, his wife and 10-year-old daughter, Joan were returning from a fishing site at Pettibone Lake when they were struck by the train. Mrs. Wohlart was thrown from the car.

Wohlart said he did not hear or see the train. Both he and his daughter were uninjured.

Oakland County Gets 75 Miles

Reveal State Road Plans

Plans for more than 75 miles of new or improved Oakland County highways were announced today by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler as part of a record $560 million construction program proposed over the next three years.

Topping the 10-part area list is the 35-mile, four-lane proposed extension of Northwestern highway from Fourteen Mile road northwest to U.S. 23 in Livingston County.

Other main plans call for widening of Perry street in Pontiac, and of Orchard Lake avenue from Pontiac to Keego Harbor; routing of Telegraph road under the Orchard Lake underpass and the continuation of M24 as a four-lane highway north from Lake Orion seven miles.

Statewise, Ziegler described the proposed plans as "the biggest highway program that Michigan has ever seen."

The proposed program covers improvements of 2,270 miles of the 9,300 miles of state trunklines. Multi-lane divided highways would cover 800 miles of this total, and 360 miles of these would be limited access highways on the national system of interstate and defense highways laid out by state and federal authorities as the nation's primary highway network in the event of enemy attack.

Nearly half the total spending — 250 million dollars—would come in federal aid as the state's share of initial allocations to be made under the government's 50 billion dollar highway building program.

Current funds from gas tax money would add up to 160 million dollars, Ziegler said, and 150 million would be raised through the sale of bonds.

No total price was immediately available for Oakland County spending.

However, the Northwestern project has been estimated at $37 million. The initial expense would be shared by state and federal governments with the county paying the state $180,000 over a 20-year period.

County construction, as announced, would include 70.7 miles of four-lane highways and 17 miles of improved two-lane highways.

The Northwest project is planned as a limited access highway which would cut down congestion of Detroit - Flint traffic on Telegraph road and Dixie highway.

Perry street in Pontiac would be widened to a four-lane highway. Today's announcement did not allude to proposals the four - mile road be divided by a center boulevard.

Orchard Lake avenue also would be four-lanes. There would be approximately 2.5 miles of construction between Pontiac and Commerce road.

No date was set today on routing of Telegraph road under the Orchard Lake underpass. About one mile of four - lane construction is involved. The underpass, still awaiting completion, is not part of the three-year proposal.

The M24 extension would push the four-lane highway approximately to the county line. Whether construction would continue north from there was not specified.

Plans also call for four-lane construction on Rochester road from Eleven Mile road north five miles to Big Beaver road. Widening and surfacing of the same road for a half mile in and south of Rochester also is planned.

Resurfacing of M15 would affect some 15 miles of county road from Clarkston north.

The plans also call for four-lane construction on M218 for about .2 a mile north from U.S. 16 to the proposed Grand River superhighway.

Smoke, Fumes Believed to Be Biggest Menace

Disaster Site Located on Border of Virginia, West Virginia

BISHOP, Va. (AP)—A rumbling gas explosion trapped and killed 37 miners today in the cavernous Bishop coal mine that straddles the mountainous Virginia - West Virginia line.

Rescue teams said this number of bodies had been counted below ground. Apparently the entire crew working in a section of the sprawling tunnels fell victims to the whistling, dusty blast.

BISHOP, Va. (AP)—A rumbling explosion deep in the Bishop coal mine today killed at least nine miners. Twenty-seven others were missing in the miles of catacombs straddling the Virginia-West Virginia line.

The blast, probably from gas, roared through a level about five miles from the mine's entrance.

An elevator in the shaft of the mine was jammed at the top, forcing rescue operations to be carried out through a second entrance about 2½ miles away in West Virginia.

A spokesman for Pocahontas Fuel Co. owner of the mine, said he thought the explosion occurred in one of the mine's three sections where 42 men were at work. At the time the blast sent dust-laden air whistling through the tunnels, 84 men were underground.

No bodies had been taken from the mine eight hours after the blast.

Anxious friends and relatives crowded near the mine entrance near Bishop, a community of 900.

A dispatcher, R. P. Meade, said the rescuers had heard no cries from any of the missing nor had they been able to make any contact.

STILL SOME HOPE

"There is still some hope that some of the men will be found alive," said another dispatcher,

From a Shadow World Back to Reality

Many Victims of Nervous Disturbances Find Way to Health

(The following is the first of two articles on Recovery, Inc., a non-profit organization of persons who find that nervous, emotional or mental disturbances are sabotaging their happiness. Members follow a system of will-training and group therapy as a means to mental health and emotional stability.)

By WILMA GREENWAY

How does it feel to step beyond the curtain of the "normal" into the shadow world of sick nerves? To find oneself trapped on the treadmill of exaggerated fears, unable to break the vicious cycle of neurotic symptoms?

Maybe it's happened to you—for a few minutes.

Maybe you've been sent hurtling through space—watched headlights coming at you headon — faced a potential killer, or had similar terrifying experiences.

If you have—if you have ever been, literally, paralyzed by fear—then you have an idea of what the victim of "nerves" must endure when trapped by his own sick emotions.

But the panic that grips the emotionally disturbed person is not for moments. It goes on and on, robbing its victim first of normal happiness, then of physical health, hope, and finally, endurance. In its wake it leaves shattered human beings—jobless, tormented, at odds with the world. Often it leaves broken homes or family situations riven by quarreling and explosive animosities.

ROADS TO RECOVERY

But though the emotionally or nervously upset person may be helpless, he is not hopeless. There are roads to recovery. Besides professional psychologists and psychiatrists, there are home service agencies, outpatient clinics and other sources of help at little or no cost.

In addition to these, there is in Pontiac and many other cities another sort of help—Recovery, Inc.—a non-professional organization whose members, having themselves undergone the nightmare of nervous disorders, offer a friendly hand and a "method" for recovery to those whose nerves have got the best of them.

When leaders of the group asked The Pontiac Press to tell its readers about the movement, this reporter attended several meetings to watch Recovery Inc. in action. We found persons who were merely trying to overcome nervous tension; others so neurotic they were unable to work or live normal lives. On the "cured" side of the picture, we found vital, relaxed men and women ready to relate their experiences for the benefit of those whom they might help.

Their stories were incredible—many had lived for years in terror and hopelessness, a prey to their own neurotic fears.

Among the latter was "Verla" (her true name is omitted), a group leader, a vibrantly pretty woman of 28 whose well adjusted children and happy husband reaffirmed the story of her "cure."

Verla's recovery was a quick one—she had been in Recovery, Inc. only a few months when she started speaking at public meetings and leading a group. Yet before she joined the group, she spent 10 agonized years so mentally and emotionally sick that she lived in a world of fear and made her home a prison, cowering within its walls, terrified to venture out alone as far as her own mailbox.

Here is her story, as she told it to your Press reporter:

"It started when I was 15, a student in a Pontiac school. There was no apparent reason for it. I was into everything, always full of fun, had loads of friends. School was easy and I usually was at the top of my class. I took part in athletics, went to school dances and parties, sang in our church choir, got along well at home.

SUDDEN, MYSTERIOUS

"Then one day, in the school corridor on my way to a class, it happened—a feeling that the world was reeling and the ground going out from under me. I shook it off in a couple of minutes, but I was scared.

"It happened again a few days later—this time on the street. I thought I was going to die, all alone there . . .

"The doctor said I was anemic and put me to bed. I got iron, injections, vitamins, pills—and I got worse.

"The spells — I recognize them now as "panics"—came oftener—in church while I was singing, in school, at shows, on the street. I became obsessed with the idea that I'd die during one of the attacks, and refused to leave the house. I even insisted that my mother stay right in the same room with me.

"The little time I was able to be in school, I spent in terror—afraid to sit in my seat lest I have an attack; afraid to leave it for the same reason. Yet much of this I did not show outwardly—I think none of my teachers and classmates, or even my parents, realized the nightmare of fear under which I lived.

"This kept up for two years, with more time spent sick in bed than in school. I saw the doctor

Recovery, Inc., a non-profit project, is not affiliated with any church or political group. Information about it may be obtained by writing its Michigan leader, Mrs. Treasure Rice, Brighton, Mich. Schedule of meetings in this area appears with tomorrow's article in this series.

Recovery, Inc., is not for psychotic people—that is, persons suffering such mental illness that they do not have the use of their reasoning power. The Recovery way to mental well-being is not intended to replace the legitimate role of physicians, according to its leaders.

Ban on Parking Sought at School

Waterford Township Will Hear Requests at Meeting

Two requests from the Oakland County Road Commission will be acted on at tonight's weekly meeting of the Waterford Township Board.

The requests are for the banning of parking on Cass Lake road at the Isaac E. Crary Junior High School, and for the posting of a 40 m.p.h. speed limit on the same road from M59 to Pontiac Lake road.

The requests have been submitted for the safety of the school children, a commission spokesman said.

In other action tonight, Lloyd L. Anderson, township supervisor, will report on the approval by the county road commission of the sewage system in the Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake road area.

A report from the building department for the month of January, will be given.

Crews Abandon 2 French Ships

Freighter Hits Iceberg, Tanker Catches Fire, Both Off Nova Scotia

NEW YORK (INS) — The small French cargo vessel Petit Bras d'Or struck an iceberg at 8 a.m. today in the Atlantic 48 miles southeast of Cape Breton, N. S., and an hour and a half later the crew abandoned ship.

Coast Guard Eastern Area Headquarters in New York received a message from the ship's master. The master reported that the ship's engine room was flooded and that he required immediate assistance.

Coast Guard planes from Argentia, Nfld., were flown out to the site of the collision and cutters in the North Atlantic were to be diverted to help the Petit Bras d'Or.

Earlier, the oil tanker Maid of LeHavre, a fire raging out of control in her hold, was grounded a half-mile off gale-swept Cape Sable Light, N. S., and abandoned by her crew of seven.

The decision to abandon the ship came after the crew was unable to halt the blaze in the hold, where 5,000 barrels of oil were stored.

A dragger, the Sandra and Gerry, reported it was an hour away from the position given by the Maid of LeHavre — Barrington Bay, slightly northeast of Cape Sable Light.

Sells was found guilty today of drunk driving and ordered to pay $100 fine plus five days in the Oakland County Jail, or spend 30 days in jail.

Police reports the Sells auto and a car driven by Phillip R. Banycky, 24, of 5045 E. Columbia Ave. collided at the Joslyn and Madison avenue intersection.

Milford Pair Judged Best in County

Sisters Top Pie Baking Contest

Separated in points by an eyelash, two Milford sisters, Judy and Majorie Crawford, walked off with the honors in the annual Oakland County Cherry Pie Baking contest Saturday at Rochester High School.

Judy, 16, amassed 936.5 points out of a possible 1,000 to win the crown for the second year.

The second straight victory for Judy gives her another crack at the state title, the winner of which will go to the national contest Feb. 21 in Chicago.

THIRD PLACE

Third place county honors went to Grace Williamson, of Waterford Township, representing the Pontiac area.

Judy and Marjorie, representing the Milford 4-H Club are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crawford, 2535 S. Hill St., Milford.

Township Seeks Building Order

Independence Asking to Block Occupancy of New Homes

Independence Township and two residential buildings companies were set today for a courtbattle before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

The township board is asking for an injunction blocking occupancy of new homes until the companies have secured certificates they have met township building standards.

The township claims many new subdivisions surrounding Clarkston Village have been improperly built. Complaints include faulty plumbing, contaminated water supply a poor construction.

The building companies, High Haven Builders and Jared Builder both Detroit firms, have each countered with $250,000 trespass suits against the township, charging interference in private business.

HEADS CAMPAIGN — A. C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank, has been named chairman of the Crusade for Freedom for Pontiac, according to state headquarters. He also is a member of the state committee for the drive, which begins Feb. 12. The national goal of $10 million will be used to help support Radio Free Europe and the Free Europe Press.

Your Income Tax

TWO-WAY DIVIDENDS

Dividends received on stock you own must be included in income; however, each individual is entitled to exclude from income up to $50 of dividend income received from qualifying domestic corporations. If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife have dividend income, each one may exclude up to $50 of dividend income — but one cannot use any portion of the $50 exclusion not used by the other.

If the husband had $100 in dividends and the wife has $25, the exclusion would be $50 for the husband and $25 for the wife.

If the stock was jointly held — and the total dividend received was $125 — they would be entitled to a $100 exclusion — $50 for the husband and $50 for the wife. The exclusion does not apply to amounts received from such organizations as mutual savings banks, Federal savings and loan associations, or domestic savings and loan associations.

The Day in Birmingham

Tonight's Agenda Runs From Beetle to Rezoning

BIRMINGHAM — Another light agenda faces city commissioners tonight, and will include a petition for the rezoning of lots in the Bowers-Elm-Hunter section, from Harold K. Turner.

Turner asks a business 'B' use of the lots for the storage of new automobiles.

He points out that this is one of the oldest subdivisions in Birmingham, having been platted as the Campbell subdivision in 1891. Turner's request coincides with other use of that immediate section.

Commissioners also will consider the purchase of spray for the destruction of the Dutch Elm beetle, municipal building alterations, water ordinance and the city's contributions to its employees' retirement system.

AFL-CIO Heads to Attempt Ousting 3 Member Unions

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL-CIO charged three of its own unions today with corruption and failure to reform in a precedent-making ouster move.

Leaders of the merged AFL-CIO pushed for a showdown on charges against the Laundry Workers, Distillery Workers and Allied Industrial Workers Unions. The latter union has been the target of recent Senate investigations.

GEORGE A. DELANEY

Executive Finishes Long Pontiac Career

George A. Delaney, chief engineer for Pontiac Motor Division since 1947, retired Feb. 1 after nearly 23 years of service with the company. For the past five months Delaney has been on special assignment on the staff of S. E. Knudsen, Pontiac general manager.

A native of Centerview, Mo., and a graduate of the University of Missouri, Delaney is also retiring as 1956 National President of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Following service in World War I as a lieutenant in the Artillery, Delaney came to Detroit as a product engineer for Graham Paige Motors. In 1934 he joined General Motors and Pontiac as an electrical engineer and in 1939 was named assistant chief engineer. In 1942 he went to Fisher Body Division as supervisor of aircraft engineering and returned to Pontiac in 1945 as assistant chief engineer.

Largely responsible for the development of Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 engine introduced in 1955, Delaney's engineering know-how has long been regarded as a principal factor in the Company's success.

Four Teenagers Hurt as Car Hits Abutment

Four Detroit teenagers were injured late yesterday when their car hit an abutment on Gale road near Williams Lake road in Waterford Township.

Pontiac General Hospital reported as satisfactory the conditions of Elmer Wisley, 17, of 18466 Glastenbury, who suffered a back injury, and Patricia Peterson, 15, of 14166 Kentfield, with multiple lacerations.

Treated and released for their injuries were the driver, James Roby, 16, of 18456 Faust, and Patricia Moosic, 16, of 14109 Kentfield.

Roby told State Police troopers he failed to see a sharp left turn on Gale road in time and swerved off the right ride of the road into the abutment. Pontiac State Police reported that there is no sign warning of the sharp turn and said that steps will be taken to have one posted.

The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee accused the three unions, claiming a combined membership of 170,000, of looting welfare funds of millions of dollars.

The committee's reports were placed before the AFL-CIO Executive Council for action.

The council was reported divided between those disposed to give the three unions another chance to correct matters, and another council group, believed dominant, determined to make an example of the trio for other AFL-CIO unions.

The three unions were roundly condemned in a 1955 Senate Labor subcommittee investigation.

The secret reports of the Ethical Practices Committee, summing up findings of the 1955 Senate investigation as well as private union probes, said the unions have done nothing to insure honest welfare fund handling and are guilty of associating with gangster influences.

The reports, it was learned in advance, said this of the three unions:

Distillery Workers — The committee said an insurance broker, Louis B. Saperstein, Newark, N. J., kicked back about $647,000 to an indicted union official, Sol Cilento. It said gangsters George Scalise and Anthony (Little Augie) Carfano shared the loot.

Laundry Workers — It was charged that Eugene James, suspended secretary - treasurer, diverted almost a million dollars of welfare funds.

Saperstein figured as insurance agent in this case too, being accused of making rebates to James.

Driver of the car, Richard Lee Birker, 17, of 3473 Loon Lake Shores, Drayton Plains, told Sheriff's investigators he was on the wrong side of the road trying to avoid bumps when he struck the pedestrian.

Mine Blast Disaster Kills Thirty-Seven

Martin E. Martin. He attributed the explosion to gas accumulation. Martin said there was no cave-in and apparently the greatest danger was posed by smoke and fumes.

Rescue parties were seeking to reach the trapped men through the exit from which coal is brought out.

The last company officials heard from the miners was by telephone at 3:30 a. m. when Raymond Owensby called with the information his section was all right providing the smoke and fumes ceased.

The mine is located in Tazewell County, one of six mountainous southwest Virginia counties declared a disaster area by President Eisenhower last week after the section's worst flood rampaged through the area. The mine, however, was not flooded.

Rufus Trail, a motorman, said he was at the mine's tipple after taking two hauls of miners to their underground wrkings when a miner called. Trail quoted the miner as saying he thought "something was wrong" due to an accumulation of dust.

It was not determined immediately if the deaths occurred in Virginia or West Virginia. The area had not suffered a serious multiple-fatality mine disaster since 1946 when 2 miners were killed near Radford.

Examiner OKs 'Genuine' Label

Federal Group to Rule on Further Use of Term for Chevrolet Parts

WASHINGTON (AP) — General Motors Corp. will be permitted to continue use of the term "genuine Chevrolet parts" in its advertising if the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) upholds an examiner's recommendation.

Examiner James A. Purcell recommended yesterday the dismissal of commission charges that General Motors unlawfully used the term.

Purcell rejected a 1955 FTC complaint charging that use of the phrase disparages similar parts sold by other manufacturers without the "genuine" label.

Purcell said GM has a fundamental right to protect public good will and esteem for its products by terming "genuine" any parts made by or for the company to its own specifications. He said more than 99 per cent of all fast-moving Chevrolet parts come under this category.

The auto company, he said, has an interest in "protecting the consumer against 'counterfeit,' 'gyp' or 'spurious' parts and making it possible for the motorist driving a Chevrolet to identify replacement parts tested and approved by the manufacturer of his automobile . . ."

He said there is no evidence the company represented that all parts which it does not distribute are "counterfeit" and will not function as well as "genuine Chevrolet parts." But he said lawyers on both sides of the case agreed some manufacturers make replacement parts for use in Chevrolets which are inferior in design, materials or workmanship.

"No fraud, misrepresentation or deception is . . . attributable to the respondent as charged," Purcell concluded.

2 Appointees Named to United Fund Panel

William B. Hartman, president of the Pontiac Area United Fund, today announced the appointment of Mrs. Ralph G. Bump of Waterford Township, and Frank Skinner, a vice president of MacManus, John and Adams, to the UF's Public Relations Advisory Committee.

Mrs. Bump served as chairman of the Geographic Division during the fall 1956 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign.

Skinner was recently appointed vice president in charge of public relations at MacManus, John and Adams advertising agency.

The Public Relations Advisory Committee is a year around committee which advises the United Fund board on its public information policies and program.

Two Injured as Car Is Forced Off Road

Two persons were injured yesterday when their car overturned at 1464 Crooks Rd. in Avon Township.

Vivian Capps, 38, of 129 Edgefield, Detroit, is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital with severe scalp lacerations and fractured skull and right arm.

Driver of the car, Benson D. Martin, 40, of 653 Central, Lake Orion, was treated and released from the hospital for lacerations of the scalp and face. Benson told Sheriff's deputies an oncoming car forced him off the road as he approached a curve.

Ample Budget Assures City of Snow Removal

Despite the snowfalls that have plauged the city so far this season, the Department of Public Works has not expended its snow removal budget.

Joseph B. Jewell, department superintendent, said the city budgets for about 40 inches per year. "It cost us about $1,000 per inch to remove snow," he added.

Including November and December of last year, statistics reveal that close to nine inches of snow have fallen on city streets.

"We're a long way from having expended our budget at this time," Jewell said.

Brownell Requests Civil Rights Action

WASHINGTON (INS) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. said today that enactment of President Eisenhower's civil rights program could "make the difference between success and failure" in federal protection of civil rights.

The Cabinet member told the House Judiciary Committee that the proposals do not extend or increase the area of federal jurisdiction over civil rights.

He said: "Enactment of these proposed remedies would not enlarge or in any way clash with the constitutional limitation on the federal government to act in this field. It would rather permit the federal government to take civil remedial action instead of having to depend solely upon criminal procedures."

Brownell was the first witness in four days of hearings scheduled by Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) in the drive to push a civil rights bill through Congress this year.

Many Find New Help to Normal Health

once a week; had balance tests, basal metabolism, tonsils taken out, took medicine constantly.

"Finally I gave up school and took a job, but there again the pattern was repeated. I was terrified of the attacks—afraid to be on the street, afraid to go on a bus, afraid to stay at work, equally afraid to be at home.

"I met 'Bill' (correct name withheld), and when I was 18, a few months after I gave up my job, we were married. Bill was patient, but it's hard for a man to understand why his wife hasn't the courage to go into a grocery store, or on a picnic, or to a dance. Added to that, I was terrified to be left alone and I'd cry when he went off to work.

"During the next few years we had two children. By this time I was so afraid of the attack that I didn't dare walk out as far as my own mailbox, much less take the children out. For seven years I never ventured out of the house alone.

"I had every 'ailment' imaginable—palpitations, heart pains, tremors, a feeling of unreality, constant fatigue and depression. Our friends had long since stopped coming, and since I was afraid to sit in church I even began to feel God had deserted me, too.

"I felt so tired that it was all I could manage to keep up my housework and care for the children. Grocery shopping, even with Bill along, was a nightmare. I'd feel like my feet wouldn't stay on the ground, like I was going to topple over, that people were crowding in on me and it was a world of confusion—I seldom got past the bread counter.

"Yet if my husband offered to go in alone, I'd break into a flood of tears because I was afraid to wait in the car.

"Once I read about Recovery, Inc., but I was afraid to attend a meeting. I kept saying, 'I can't go on,' but somehow I always did.

"One thing I never stopped doing was praying. I guess God heard, because in the winter of 1955 I read another article about Recovery, and this time I told my sister and she wrote and got information about our local groups.

"It was one of the hardest things I had ever made myself do, but I went to a Recovery meeting. There I saw others like myself—men and women who had been through the same torture of fear and uncertainty. Some of them had come out victors. They were relaxed, happy, attractive. Others were less sure of themselves, but trying for mental health, encouraged by the success of their fellows.

"What they were doing, perhaps I could do too!"

Leukemia Takes Michigan Boy, 8

CHICAGO (AP)—An 8-year-old Protestant boy from Michigan whose mother sought a miracle cure for his leukemia at the Catholic shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes in France died of the dread blood disease yesterday.

Randy Eckman and his mother, Mrs. Helen Eckman, also a protestant and a divorcee, made the trip to France a year ago on funds subscribed by civic clubs and newspapers in the St. Joseph-Bentoon Harbor, Mich., area.

The boy had been in Mt. Sinai Hospital here since October. He celebrated his eighth birthday Jan. 26. His mother had been at his bedside the past week.

Hospital aides said that many professional entertainers visited Randy at his bedside and that his last months were spent comparatively pleasantly.

Dr. Marvin Strict of Benton Harbor, who first diagnosed Randy's illness as leukemia in March, 1955, said the boy lived "at least 18 months" longer than the average child who suffers from the disease.

The public subscription to send the boy to Lourdes came after Mrs. Eckman was quoted as saying she wished her son could visit the famous shrine and bathe in its waters. Many persons believe miracle cures have been effected at the shrine.

"We are wishing for a miracle," Mrs. Eckman said at the time.

NEW YORK (INS) — It is as plain as the nose on your grindstone that the people who take their vacations in summer are not especially cozy with the people who take their time-off in winter.

There is something about the return of a smiling, rested face with a tint of burnt banana (the shade after peeling) which tends to cause discord, sometimes downright nausea, in an office outside of which the temperature is nipping tempers.

"Man!" the pale summer people are wont to say, with more animosity than animation, "do you look healthy."

They then go on to remark to the winter vacationer about the weight he's gained and the good times he's lost — "Boy, you missed a great blow-out at Eddie's" — and finally the inevitable statement is thrown out:

"Look at that tan. Have you ever got a racket!"

Now this is a remark to which I, as one of those who wilts all summer in order to take on my ennui during the frostbite season, must take exception.

This attitude is at the root of the entire summer people-vs.-winter people problem, and is the direct cause of many third-degree sunburns, snobbery, conscience complexes, inferiority feelings, deceptions and, for all we know, the commercial success of Miami Beach.

ANALYZE THE PHRASE

Let us analyze that phrase, "Have you ever got a racket!"

First of all, it implies that the winter vacationer is either shady in character and dealings, or laden with money and a member of the privileged social strata. Secondly, it puts him immediately on the defensive about his well-being, special emphasis on suntan.

The result, as even the most belligerent summer sojourner should see, is arrogance. Since no one cares to admit to shady dealings, the winter man adopts the instincts and attitudes of one overburdened with wealth; and since a good offense is the best defense, he becomes obnoxious on behalf of his tan.

The conversation, then, is likely to proceed thus:

"Look at that tan. Have you ever got a racket!"

"Well, it cost plenty, but it was worth it. Those palm trees, this fancy hotel . . ."

The summer man, now feeling inferior and on the defensive himself, snaps back: "Whole year to your next vacation, hey? Well, you asked for work when you came here."

Where the conversation goes from there depends upon the degree of envy and enmity involved, but it's a cinch that the summer people will come out more convinced than ever that the winter people are snobs who get all the breaks, and the winter people will resolve that next year they'll get even darker tans — no matter what it costs in money and agony — for you may as well be hanged for a cannibal as a millionaire.

USUALLY BROKE

In these days of lightning travel, lightning living and bankroll-lightening hotel rents, any man or woman who comes home from a "rest" is usually spent. Both physically and financially.

I suggest that he deserves the right to slip into the office unnoticed and unquestioned, for there is a vacant look about his eyes and wallet and in his heart is no desire to work — or to associate with people who do.

B52s to Take Place of Outdated B36s

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining says the Air Force will scrap its B36 heavy bombers as they are replaced by the new all-jet B52s.

The Air Force chief of staff told the House Armed Services Committee yesterday that the B36s will be junked because no way has been found economically to convert them to transport or other use. Besides, he said, they are expensive to maintain.

Twining said the B36, a propeller-driven plane and the biggest aircraft ever flown, was "the best bomber in the world when it was introduced." But he said the B52 is "much better."

He testified that the 11 wings for which B52s are now on hand or planned will be as effective combatwise as 16½ wings of B36s.

Secretary of the Air Force Quarles said the switch to B52s also is permitting the Air Force to drop five strategic fighter wings because the fast B52 does not need as much fighter protection as the B36.

The '57 Chevy can give lessons on taking curves and holding the road to just about any car going. Few cars at any price are so beautifully balanced and so smooth, sure and solid in action.

A car has to have a special kind of build and balance to keep curves under control. And nobody outdoes Chevrolet in that department! It "corners" with all the solid assurance of an honest-to-goodness sports car. Chevy doesn't throw its weight around on turns because it carries its pounds in the right places.

And if the road should turn upward, Chevy can take care of that nicely, too. Horsepower options, you know, range up to 245.*

Woman, 82, Faces Judge Over 69-Cent Meat Theft

Emma Canoles was 82. Her knotty fingers stroked the brass bar in front of her. The charge was larceny: stealing 69 cents worth of meat from a northwest Baltimore food market.

A policeman stood on either side of her. They seemed to be supporting her — with more than physical support. Behind the officers stood four policewomen who had offered to pay the 69 cents.

The prosecuting witness — the meat shop proprietor — was saying shoplifting had reached "huge proportions," had become so bad that he had hired two private detectives. Theodore Edlow said he made up his mind the next case would be prosecuted, "no matter who it was."

Magistrate Milton Talkin interrupted:

"Usually, when you make a hard and fast rule, the wrong case comes along."

The storekeeper replied:

"We decided we had to draw a line, whether it was a 12-year-old or an 82-year-old."

He recited the facts calmly.

A package of meat was taken. He was suspicious of the little old woman. He followed her outside and asked her if she had taken it. He saw her drop the package from under her overcoat. He called police and ordered her arrest.

"Forgive me for being so cold blooded, but something has to be done."

With difficulty, the magistrate tried to get the old woman's side of the story.

Mrs. Canoles broke down. She admitted taking the meat. She said she didn't know why, that she didn't even eat meat. She was a widow living alone, she said, and wanted to pay a fine and go home.

"I treat an old youngster the same as I do a young youngster," said Magistrate Talkin.

His ruling: probation before a verdict, which meant that the woman would not have a conviction on her record.

The three escaped from the county jail at Topeka, Kan., Jan. 22 and from the county jail at Nebraska City, Neb., Saturday night. They were being held on burglary charges in both cases.

Dr. Conant Resigns

Dr. James B. Conant retiring Ambassador to West Germany, although not a career diplomat has earned distinction in that post.

President Eisenhower has accepted Dr. Conant's resignation with deep regret and expressions of gratitude for the magnificent job he has done for the U.S. at Bonn. The retiring diplomat has been a chemist, a top administrator, a Government scientist and an envoy.

Dr. Conant was president of Harvard when first called into public service. Because of his eminence as a chemist, he was chosen for a key role in the atomic energy research which led to the production of the A-bomb. The Administration named him High Commissioner for West Germany. Later his title was changed to Ambassador when the Germans gained freedom.

It is good news that Dr. Conant is re-entering the educational field. He will devote himself to special studies of public school needs.

New Caribbean Nation to Be Evolved in 1957

With British encouragement the 13 islands of the British West Indies, containing some 12,400 square miles of land, have agreed to federate in the coming year.

First reaction to the suggestion in 1945 was disinterest, even hostility. But the then Colonial Secretary, Oliver Stanley, urged the islands, spread across a thousand miles of the Caribbean and having a population of nearly 3,000,000, to take steps toward federation.

In 1950 an island conference, known as the Standing Closer Association, drafted a constitution. This document, somewhat modified, provides for a Governor General, appointed by the Crown, a Council of State to be named by the Governor and seven members nominated by the Prime Minister.

Also provided for is a Senate of 19 members and a House of Assembly of 50, elected on a basis of population. Jamaica would have 17 seats in the Assembly, with fewer numbers for Trinidad, Tobago, Barbadoes, five islands of the Leeward Group and four of the Windward. Grenada in the latter group is proposed as the capital.

Efforts are being made to provide for the rapidly growing population, a better balanced economy which now is based on sugar, rum and other tropical exports. So for the next ten years at least the United Kingdom will give special aid to cover deficits of local governments. Eventual Commonwealth status is expected.

With the completion of federation, very little of the old colonialism will remain in this hemisphere.

Never Ending Spy Hunt

Soviet spying in the United States did not end with the execution of the Rosenbergs. It simply was directed into other channels.

Last week the ever alert FBI arrested three more Red suspects, Jack and Myra Soble and Jacob Albam on charges of conspiring to steal documents connected with our national defense. There are indications the trio had links with a World War II spy organization in Washington.

Any judgment concerning the guilt of the accused must await the verdict. But the FBI always moves with great caution and these persons have been under surveillance for eight years.

It appears that the original warning concerning the defendants came from Canadian officials who worked on the famous Gouzenko case. Gouzenko, it will be remembered, was the code clerk at the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa who fled that embassy in September 1945 taking inportant documents with him.

These led to the arrests of Dr. Allen Nunn May, Dr. Klaus Fuchs, the Rosenbergs and their accomplices and a great many others. At the same time both the Canadian and American governments were rudely awakened to the extent of Russian espionage.

While there will always be Russian spying on our soil, we can be grateful that the FBI maintains ceaseless vigilance and so frequently wrecks Soviet espionage activities.

"Truman, Stevenson and Mrs. Roosevelt spearhead a committee formed to act in an advisory capacity to Democratic members of the Congress." — From a news story. For two reasons this trio will never be referred to as "The three wise men."

Quite Unusual Ad

Extends Thanks for the Chance to Buy Such Car.

Dough: Money — and you'll notice that it starts with "Do."

I noticed one of the most unusual ads in Friday's Pontiac Press that I've ever seen. Of course most of the ads in The Press are unusual and remarkable, but this was extra unique. My old friend, ran a ten inch (paid) advertisement thanking the Pontiac Motor Division and Fisher Body for the wonderful new Pontiac he has just purchased.

Archie Barnett

Archie is so enthused that he wants everyone in the two plants to know what he thinks about the '57 Pontiac. "It's the most fabulous car it has ever been my pleasure to own and drive," says the irrepressible Archie.

To which I add, "Quod Erat Demonstrandum."

During the past week, Pontiac Motor Division ran ten per cent ahead of the same week a year ago. This is the only GM division that showed an upswing during the same period.

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Won't Lift Bar on Red China

WASHINGTON — Every now and then a rumor is started that the Eisenhower administration is considering a change in its policy toward Communist China and will offer no objections to admission of the Peiping regime to the United Nations. This misinformation—for that's what it really is—spreads throughout the Far East and causes uneasiness in Formosa and Korea as well as in Australia and the Philippines, which, like the United States, do not believe in rewarding the Red Chinese aggressors with a seat in the Security Council of the United Nations.

The reports have lately been attributed to persons who are supposed to be close to President Eisenhower. But the best proof of the unaltered position of the President is in the fact that he has asked Walter S. Robertson, the assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, to remain on the job during the second term. Mr. Robertson is outspoken in his opposition to the admission of Red China to the U.N.

The basic question is not whether the Red China government controls a lot of territory or whether, under old customs of international law, such a government has sometimes been given diplomatic recognition. The real issue is whether a government with which the United Nations is in reality still in a "state of war" shall be rewarded for its aggression.

There are two methods which, combined, can prevent a world war—one is by building a deterrent military force and the other is by persuading all free nations to uphold moral force. To admit Red China is to abandon moral force and accept the thesis that aggression pays. Assistant Secretary Robertson outlined it this way:

AN OUTLAW NATION

"By every standard of national and international conduct, Red China under its present regime is an outlaw nation. Seizing power in 1949, it promptly repudiated all the international obligations of the Nationalist government.

"Within China, it confiscated without compensation properties of other nations and their nationals, valued well in excess of one billion dollars. It then demanded large additional sums as blackmail for granting exit visas to foreign nationals owning and/or operating these properties. It threw nationals of other nations, including ours, into prison without trial. Such was the first year's performance.

"In the second year—1950—Red China invaded Korea and was promptly denounced by a U.N. resolution as aggressor against the peace of the world.

STILL AGGRESSOR

"If Red China was an aggressor in 1950, it is an aggressor today. Its armies are still in military occupation of North Korea. Again showing complete disregard for its international commitments, it has flagrantly violated the armistice agreement signed in July, 1953, and has brought into North Korea some 700 modern airplanes and other combat equipment prohibited by the terms of the armistice.

"A similar pattern has been followed in Indo-China. There its puppet Viet Minh armies, trained and equipped by them, have been increased from 7 to 20 divisions, in violation of the Geneva accords of 1954.

"By what twisted process of reasoning can it be maintained that this aggressor, still enjoying the full fruits of its aggression, can qualify for membership in the U.N. under a charter which requires that a nation must be 'peace-loving'?

"Let no one contend that representation is being denied to 600 million Chinese. This regime was imposed by force, without mandate of the Chinese people, and, having liquidated some 18 millions of mainland Chinese in imposing its power, it can hardly be said to be representative of the Chinese people. It is equally difficult to justify giving the respectability of recognition to a regime which conforms to no law, national or international, except its own will. Both the Republican and Democratic parties registered approval of our policy by almost identical planks in their party platforms."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Fables and Labels Adorn Rheumatic Family Tree

The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation's 1956 Fact Sheet says 10,904,436 men and women over 14 years old suffer from arthritis and rheumatism.

Of these, 218,000 are completely disabled, 5,070,562 are disabled part of the time and the remainder lose little time from work. Of the nearly eleven million sufferers nearly five million have aye, sir, yes, sir, after all who am I to lift an eyebrow, rheumatoid arthritis.

That would leave six million persons suffering with plain arthritis or rheumatism. Just what chronic rheumatism may be, if anything, I have given up trying to find out.

Any ninny-hammer who thinks his trouble is rheumatic will probably tell you what it is, but not me. I'm too busy to listen. I'm trying to find a physician or medical authority who will tell me what rheumatism is.

OCCASIONAL ARTHRITIS

Chronic arthritis (long-lasting joint inflammation) occurs occasionally, but in most instances chronic joint disability of insidious development is not arthritis at all but rheumatiz, and I don't mean rheumatism.

Rheumatiz is physical degeneration of joint tissues, usually the consequence of long-continued nutritional deficiencies, particularly deficiencies of calcium, D, I and B, from childhood up to the present.

There is probably a point at which physical degeneration of joint tissues becomes irreversible. Certainly I can't tell by examination, though I may get some idea, whether the degeneration has advanced beyond that point—whether more of the functional tissue cells have died that can now be replaced with new cells.

MORE OPTIMISTIC

But I must say I am more optimistic about this than I was before I issued the pamphlet "Calcium and Rheumatiz," free if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, and the new booklet "Chronic Joint Disability," for which inclose 35c additional.

I suggest no medicine in the pamphlet or the booklet. I know of no medicine, other than painkillers, that I'd take if I had chronic joint disability. I have said before and I repeat that in my opinion the practice of giving such sufferers miracle medicines, such as cortisone, which in some instances "overnight produce spectacular results"—stop pain, relieve stiffness, enable the victims to get up and about for a few days—is refined cruelty.

When the effect of the drug wears off the poor souls are right back where they were before, in too many cases with some new trouble produced by the drug. Spectacular, dramatic, wonderful, miraculous! But never a cure. I say it is cruel and shameful.

I know no cure for rheumatiz either. All one can do about it is to try to reverse the degeneration process, bring about regeneration, by correcting, or in the first few months overcorrecting the nutritional deficiencies which caused the trouble.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

LI'L ONES

'Are They Tough on Those Who Assert Innocence?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Mr. Ziem stated in the paper that a person who feels he is not guilty should go to trial.

On or about December 2, I received a ticket from the Pontiac police on a charge which I felt was unjustified and I was not guilty. I pleaded not guilty and was given a trial date.

I went down on this date after losing time from work, only to find they had moved the trial date without notifying me. This same thing was done twice more with no notice of the movement of the date. I lost time from work three times to answer this charge. Three times it was moved without notifying me.

This leads one to believe if there is a question as to your innocence, they will make things tough on you and you will then be glad to pay the ticket to keep from being fired from your job because of loss of time.

Kenneth E. Wilson

Clarkston

'Must Take Stand Against Russia'

President Eisenhower, the new Congress and the United Nations should take a new look at the world situation in light of the recent massacre of Hungarian citizens by Russian military might.

History has recorded the facts that to some degree the U.S., Great Britain and France are responsible for this deplorable situation, because they have never attempted to stop them from the start.

The three free world powers have lost face with the rest of the world. Out of the three, I only have a semblance of faith left in one, the U. S. If necessary, the U. S. should go it alone. If the people of this nation had any real faith in the sincerity and integrity of their leaders and knew that they were not just giving lip service to the ideals of freedom and justice for all, they would back their government to the hilt. How can they be expected to do this when they doubt the sincerity and integrity of it at times, by facts and not hearsay?

If the U. S. is to regain its face, it must take a definite, firm stand now. The government should make both Russia and Red China concede to our demands that a truce team be sent into all Satellite nations held by them. If we ever expect Almighty God to help us keep a free nation, we must change our ways a lot. Lip service to truth and justice is not enough. But, if we atone for mistakes of the past, we can hope He shall help us.

'World Benefits With Ike in Office'

The President of the United States must be handling himself even better since election than he did before. Congress has supported his request for freedom to act in the East by 6 to 1 vote.

You can't get landslide support like that when Congress is split in the middle without having complete confidence of Congress and the people back home.

It's a crowning glory to the whole world having Eisenhower in the White House at this time.

'Authorities Should Eradicate Pigeons'

I agree with Businessman completely. Why do we let those pigeons muss the center of a city for no purpose at all? Why don't civic authorities eradicate the whole flock? It's their responsibility. Sanitation is their direct problem.

Several years ago someone suggested the two Wood brothers who are great hunters be authorized to shoot the whole flock in some manner which guaranteed safety to the citizens during the process. If that method is unsatisfactory, the city authorities should come up with something else. Maybe poisoned wheat is the answer.

We handle the pigeon problem even worse than we do the starlings for the pigeon thing is capable of solution.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Total Frankness No Adult Asset

Tact doesn't involve blurting out the truth, regardless. Sometimes it is more diplomatic to say nothing at all. The next time you hear an introvert rashly boasting about his perfect frankness and his policy of always saying whatever he thinks, just mail him a copy of this case record.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-391: Arnell R., aged 34, has a salaried position in an insurance office.

"But, Dr. Crane, he doesn't get along very well with people," his wife spoke unhappily.

"In fact, he failed to receive a promotion recently, and I think it was just because he doesn't know how to make friends.

"For he refuses to try any of your psychological experiments, and will not even join the Compliment Club. He is too frank in his conversation and actually takes pride in saying whatever he thinks, regardless of results.

TACT IS LEARNED

Whenever you meet a person who gloats over being perfectly frank and in always saying whatever he thinks, just remind such a juvenile adult that this indicates emotional immaturity.

For a child is perfectly frank, and usually quite tactless. Thus a kindergarten youngster will normally say "whatever he thinks," which is one of the problems of the school teacher in the first grade.

For children actually say what they think, and they tend to utter these thoughts aloud.

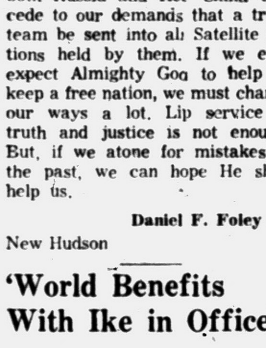

Speech and thought are thus almost synonymous with such youngsters. Only as they grow older and become trained to to whisper or move their lips curb their speech, do they learn silently when they are reading.

Ultimately they may attain the adult status wherein they can read or think not only without talking aloud, but even without moving their lips.

BEWARE FRANKNESS

The process of education thus begins with controlling not only these simple bodily functions, but by wisely avoiding naughty or tactless words and, instead, selecting those which are socially approved.

We likewise should practice the actions and habits which win praise and social acceptance, while conversely we avoid those which are not acceptable to our family and associates.

In fact, the process of growth from childhood to mature adulthood, is chiefly one of curbing our frankness and spontaneous thought or actions, in favor of more approved speech and conduct.

So whenever we psychologists hear a person boasting about his perfect frankness and insisting on saying whatever he thinks, we feel like asking him to put on a diaper and complete the process.

PUT UP FRONT

This country is full of people who are over 21 years of age by the calendar, but who are emotionally immature. They don't put up a tactful "front."

This insurance executive is a beautiful example. He is causing his wife to suffer from social ostracism, and is depriving her of the extra salary he could have procured by that promotion, except for his childish frankness and tactlessness.

The trained pianist doesn't hit all the keys with a spontaneous thrust of both hands. No, he studiously selects those keys which will bring forth harmony and melody, so he can produce music, not discord.

So it is with the intelligent adult. He selects his words carefully and also chooses those actions which will procure friends, happiness, salary increases, and good health.

But this requires years of study and practice, just as did the pianist's development into a skilled musician.

Psychology is now defined as the science of behavior. If you cannot win a sweetheart and a job, a salary promotion and many friends, then you better cease boasting about your juvenile frankness and alter your unsuccessful behavior.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Try Pot-O-Gold; Prize Growing for Lucky Entry

Money is mounting, making Pot-O-Gold much more exciting and fun to solve. Remember, the higher the money goes, the more apt there is to be a winner, because more people are trying to win. Get yours in now before someone else walks off richer, leaving you holding your pencil.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

'The FBI Story': Twenty-Fifth in Series

Hiss Case Erupts in Midst of Loyalty Program

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the twenty-fifth in a series of highlights from "The FBI Story," a book about the Federal Bureau of Investigation by Don Whitehead, Pulitzer Prizewinner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

From its inception in 1947, President Truman's loyalty program came under heavy attack from left-wing and Communist groups.

One of the first attacks was sponsored by the United Public Workers of America (CIO), which hammered on the theme that the entire program was a "witch hunt."

There was the usual mass meetings, petitions, fund-raising campaigns and efforts to discredit the program and the FBI.

"Who'll Investigate the Man Who'll Investigate You?" was the banner line on one pamphlet.

It was in this atmosphere that the Hiss case exploded, shocking the nation as no other case had before. Pudgy, rumpled Whittaker Chambers, a man with heavy jowls and heavy-lidded eyes, went before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in August, 1948, and confessed that he had been a member of the Communist Party from 1924 to 1937.

He said he had been a member, also, of a Soviet espionage apparatus dealing in stolen United States government documents. As one of his partners in this work he named Alger Hiss, a brilliant young diplomatic star in the Department of State before and during the war years.

STRANGE REVERSE

The script was all wrong. The handsome young intellectual who had rubbed elbows with the nation's great men should have been pointing the finger of accusation at the unknown, secretive-looking Chambers. But this was type casting in the Hitchcock manner.

As a dramatic stage play unfolds with surprise following on surprise, so did the Hiss-Chambers story.

There were the denials by Hiss; the "confrontation" of Hiss by Chambers; Chambers' producing the State Department documents which he claimed were handed over to him by Hiss to be given to Col. Boris Bykov, a Soviet agent; Hiss' admission that four handwritten notes among the documents were in his own handwriting; and Chambers' uncovering of the "pumpkin papers," two strips of microfilm containing photographs of original State Department documents and three rolls of undeveloped film.

The FBI's part in this controversy was to investigate the accuracy of the charges by Chambers and of the denials made by Hiss. In all, 283 agents at one time or another worked on the FBI's 52 field divisions.

On Dec. 15, 1948, a federal grand jury in New York City indicted Hiss for perjury.

His first trial resulted in a hung jury, but in the second trial he was convicted and sentenced to serve five years on each of two counts. In November, 1954, Hiss was released from prison.

The revelations by Chambers and other ex-Communists shocked the people of the United States.

But in the political uproar there were steady attacks on the FBI investigations as being something mysterious and sinister—particularly the use of confidential informants and the manner in which the FBI assembled its files of information.

FILES IN EVIDENCE

In all the controversy involving the Bureau and its operation, there was none which was worse, perhaps, than that which exploded in the government's espionage case against Judith Coplon in 1949.

For 25 years, Hoover had jealously guarded the integrity of the FBI's investigative files to protect informants and to protect innocent persons from the embarrassment of unevaluated reports, complaints, and insinuations accumulated in the course of an investigation, or received in unsolicited letters and telephone calls.

But in the Coplon case, Atty. Gen. Tom C. Clark overruled Hoover and permitted government attorneys to place in evidence documents from the "raw files" of the FBI to comply with a bench order by Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves.

Only a small portion of the information in the file was relevant to the government's case against Coplon. Much of it would have been tossed out as a matter of course.

The FBI files were ridiculed as a storehouse of gossip and the trivia was given prominence above all else.

HOOVER EXPLAINS

In a letter to his executive assistants and to special agents in charge at district offices, Hoover explained what had happened:

". . . I urged the attorney general to seek a mistrial or a citation for contempt rather than produce these reports with consequent devastating harm to the FBI's responsibility for internal security, as well as the disclosure of as yet uncorroborated information in our files concerning individuals.

"The first knowledge I had that the reports had been introduced in evidence occurred after they had been presented in court. The reports introduced in evidence were selected by the department and not by the Bureau . . ."

The Coplon incident did more than anything else to creat misunderstanding as to how the FBI's "raw files" were assembled and were later developed into a factual report giving a rounded picture of a case.

A file begins for any number of reasons — for examaple, when someone makes a complaint, or a confidential informant supplies information indicating disloyalty or a violation of federal law.

MIGHT BE ANYTHING

At this stage the information might be a case of mistaken identity, an illformed suspicion, a line of scandal or a shocking charge of disloyalty backed by what purports to be documentary proof.

The next step is the investigation. Information is supplied by confidential sources. Documents are assembled.

At this stage, the "raw file" may contain information that is false, trivial, or perhaps malicious. It also includes reports on administrative details in the investigation, the investigative techniques used, and the identity of informants.

For the incomplete file to fall into anyone's hands at this stage would be damaging to innocent people and perhaps endanger the life of an informant. For these reasons, the FBI has refused access to such files to outsiders.

The results of investigations are set forth in the agents' investigative reports. These are the reports containing the information which proves or disproves the allegations which brought about the investigation.

They are the refined product of the "raw files," supplying the information relevant to the prosecution of a case or for use in a loyalty hearing. A dozen or more of these investigative reports may be part of a single file — and it is necessary to view all of the reports in a given case to know whether the weight of evidence will indicate guilt or innocence.

YOUR DOG — 1

The Collie

For thousands of years dogs have been helpers of mankind. Once trained they aid in hunting, tending flocks or protecting people and places. Of course they are loyal pets, too. That's why dogs everywhere have been called "man's best friend."

This week we are bringing you several different dogs. You can have fun choosing a favorite. Or you can have a dog show.

Be sure, if you have a real dog at home, he is bright and healthy. A shining coat, bright eyes, pink gums and white teeth are signs of good health.

Today we have a collie. Originally the collie came from Scotland where he used to herd sheep. He has a long, narrow head and a shaggy coat with a white neck ruff. The collie is a fast runner, light and graceful. A full grown one weighs 60 to 75 pounds and stands about two feet tall.

The collie pictured here lives on a farm and is helping his mistress carry home the mail. Color the picture and paste it on cardboard. Cut along the heavy outline and fold back the left end panel at the stone wall. Now the picture will stand up.

Bob Considine Says:

Litvak Finds TV Strange, Exciting

NEW YORK (INS)—Anatole Litvak, the Russian-born American firm director who lives in Paris, naturally was chosen to direct that great Austrian tragedy, "Mayerling," to be seen in color on NBC tonight.

We had a drink with the colorful former U. S. Army colonel from Kiev the other night and he unburdened himself of several views pertinent to the matter.

This is his first TV show. It is the costliest TV show of its kind in the history of the medium. The one-shooter will cost at least $500,000. There are 200 in the cast, 30 set changes, 4 orchestras.

"It's a strange medium, this television," Litvak said, flicking away a fastidious ash. "You open and close the same night. I told Audrey (Hepburn) and Mel (Ferrer) and all the others at our first meeting, 'You can expect to work like dogs, day and night.'

"They have worked like dogs. They know they must do it right the first time. Because the first time is the last time.

"In Hollywood, or anywhere else where I make a 'picture,' mused the director of "Anastasia" and many other good ones, "you have the cushion called retakes. You photograph something until you feel it is right. That was how I did things 20 years ago when I made 'Mayerling' in French with Danielle (Darrieux) and Charles (Boyer.)

JUST ONE NIGHT

"But with the TV Mayerling, you live or die on one night. You are seen by 5 times as many people in 90 minutes as saw the original film in years of showing. It's exciting! A challenge! Your only chance!"

A close relative by marriage who reads Hollywood fan magazines at her hairdresser's place, and who had taken no part in the conversation until this point, said, "They say Mel treats Audrey like Svengali treated Trilby; that he directs her every move." The director sniffed.

"If he directed her through the three weeks of rehearsal, I didn't notice it—and I think I would have," Litvak said. "They help each other, are moved by the affection they have for each other.

"For example, there's a scene in there where he must treat her very roughly — push her to one side. For days, he will not give her more than a love pat. I tell him that I must see the real thing, must know what it is going to be like.

"I'll do it all right the night we're on the air,' he said. Well, I can't wait for that. I've got to know. I want to see everything in advance. So he was rough with her."

Then there was love to talk about.

"This love I've never seen between show people," Litvak, a specialist, swore. "When he cracks up in the story, she starts crying and it's hard to stop.

"I don't mean one rehearsal. I mean all rehearsals. I want a tear, sure. It's needed there. But Audrey weeps. It's wonderful."

TV has been after Litvak for years. The first time NBC approached him he stared at the man as if he had asked him to throw a rock at Mona Lisa.

Several years later, when asked, he said "Hmmmmmmm." Then "Maybe." Then, "If I could direct something important, something I know; say, a 'Mayerling.' A whole generation has grown up since the film . . . "That was it.

The Ferrers were interested but dubious, when Litvak accosted them in Paris. "I dug up a print of the old film from a kind of French modern museum and showed it to them," Litvak recalled. "They agreed."

ARENA REHEARSALS

The rehearsals have been held in St. Nick's Arena, aromatic from several generations of club fighters. But the McCoy will be televised from NBC's big place in Brooklyn.

There has been a run-through in full costume, " . . . so nobody will be missing a veil or a fan at the last moment." We asked the maestro if he had any misgivings as the hour approached.

"None, really, except one of the scene changes. One of the players has to age five years while running from one set to the next one. I just hope she isn't out of breath when she gets there. We've only got one roll of the dice.

Recognized Antarctica

It was an American naval explorer, Lieutenant Charles Wilkes, who in 1840 first recognized that Antarctica probably was a great continent, the National Geographic Society says.

Proclaims Greatest Navy in the World

'Banjo King' Boosts Recruiter's Morale

With this, Eddie "The Banjo King" Peabody exploded into Pontiac this week leaving those in his path remarking:

"That guy never slows down." "How does he do it?" "I wouldn't even try to keep up with him."

Aside from his normally hectic life as an entertainer, the wiry little man is kept constantly on the go as a captain in the Navy Reserve.

Peabody came to Pontiac to participate in the Navy recruiting program here.

Always ready with a smile and a raucous laugh, Peabody keeps his listeners in constant awe of a seemingly endless supply of energy. He doesn't wait to be interviewed.

"Right now I'm appearing at Yeamen's Supper Club in Detroit. Do three shows a night and don't get done till 2:30 a.m. I repeat, a.m. Then I rise and shine early in the morning to do bits for the recruiting stations.

"Why, yesterday morning I flew by jet to Cleveland to plug Navy there. Took us 18 minutes. Was back this way in time to do a show for lunch."

CAPT. EDDIE PEABODY

"If I am, I ain't gonna' tell nobody. I refuse to quit. I'll never retire from Navy work as long as I can be of any use whatever.

"Been 35 years in show business and 25 years in the Navy. Joined the Navy in 1917. I was 14 years old. Got paid $17.60 per month as an apprentice seaman. I tell ya, it's the greatest Navy in the world that lets an ordinary guy like Peabody to rise from an apprentice seaman to a four striper."

Taylor, Todd on Honeymoon

Tiring Affair Causes Change in Plans After Ceremony in Mexico

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Mike Todd honeymooned today at an unscheduled spot — a guest house on the estate of former President Miguel Aleman. It is only 10 feet from where they were married.

The couple had planned to leave Acapulco for a brief honeymoon somewhere else in Mexico. But they were up so late for the reception after the civil ceremony Saturday night they could not complete plans to leave.

Miss Taylor, recovering from a spinal operation, was said to have been exhausted after the excitement of the wedding and the party.

Most of the guests who flew in from the United States also stayed for the weekend. They wore the Tarascan Indian sports shirts Todd had made for them initialed "ET" and "MT."

A Jewish religious marriage ceremony had been planned to follow the civil ceremony, but Todd was unable to find a rabbi. He finally located a Protestant missionary who promised to officiate, but the minister arrived too late.

High point of the reception was a surprise hour-long fireworks display arranged by the Mexican comedian Cantinflas, costar of Todd's picture "Around the World in 80 Days."

Eddie Fisher, a best man along with Cantinflas, sang during the display. The entertainment also included music by a string orchestra and ballet dancing. The scene was lighted by flares set in coconuts cut in half.

Nashua Fire Destroys National Guard Armory

NASHUA, N. H. (AP) — The half-century-old National Guard Armory in Nashua was destroyed by fire yesterday, but already steps were taken today to replace the building.

Brig. Gen. Francis McSwiney, state adjutant general, said damage to the state-owned building was more than $300,000.

Fire officials said there was an explosion during the fire, but its source was not immediately determined.

Light Controls Roaches at Florida Police Office

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police Sgt. Steve Torda Jr. claims he has a remedy for roaches — keep the lights on.

Torda said the lights in the basement at police headquarters have been burning three years and the roaches don't come in — not even to lick the glue off envelopes, which roaches dearly love.

It's cheaper than insecticides, Torda said.

Haiti President Forced to Quit

Pierre-Louis Gives In to Political Pressure, Threat of Strike

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Bowing to demands of politicians, Joseph Nemours Pierre-Louis reportedly quit as provisional president last night in the midst of Haiti's colorful pre-Lenten carnival.

It was the second time in less than two months the post was vacated. Pierre-Louis' resignation followed radio broadcasts by two of the seven candidates for the presidency in this spring's elections threatening a general strike today if the Provisional President did not step down.

There was no immediate indication who would succeed Pierre-Louis as head of the Negro republic in the Caribbean.

It was a general strike — by all signs a spontaneous movement — that forced the resignation of strongman President Gen. Paul Magloire Dec. 12. Magloire went into exile and Pierre-Louis, chief of the Supreme Court, was made acting president to prepare for general elections.

The army, which played the chief role in Magloire's attempt to remain in office beyond his six-year term and then insisted on his resignation, stepped into the current political crisis in an evident attempt to bring order.

The chiefs of staff called together the seven presidential candidates at army headquarters. One, Sen. Louis Dejoie, refused to attend. He and another candidate, Dr. Francois Duvallier, had made the broadcasts in Creole and French demanding Pierre-Louis' resignation.

No decisions were announced after the meeting.

Duvallier said Pierre-Louis' main faults were that he had not abolished the Legislature elected during the Magloire regime and had failed to clean up the public administration.

Saul Pett Says:

Eli's Sons Turn Ever to Yale's Ivy Cloister

NEW YORK (AP) — People die. People are born. Things change. But not Yale men, not basically.

I have in hand the latest issue of the Yale Alumni magazine, a journal normally seen only by the white buckskin sons of Eli, whose hearts still turn every sundown toward New Haven with the eternal sigh, "For God, for country and for Yale."

Of the first four ads in the magazine, one is devoted to the problems of "squaring away" the family estate through a distinguished New York bank, one suggests the advancement opportunities at an aircraft company, one (by another distinguished New York bank) poses the question of "how do you select securities?" and the fourth is a testimonial to the naturalistic "good taste and individuality" of Brooks Brothers, tailors, by appt., to the Ivy League.

I was particularly taken by the report by a member of the class of '35, who writes in a breezy, open handed style that might be typical of back-slapping old grads. It began:

"What with one thing and another we failed to get around to dictating these notes to our good and willing secretary during working hours, and to our horror we find ourselves pecking away at our Royal portable that we bought freshman year. We hope that ye editor of Yam is on his toes and catches all grotesque and comical errors in spelling and typing as we find that we have only about one-third the ability to type we had freshman year.

". . . By a strange chain of circumstances we happened to be sipping a third scotch and soda in the lounge of the Dorchester in London last week when who should appear out of the foggy corners of the room but Jim Fulton. Jim is, as you probably recall, one of the legal eagles and bright hopes of Merck and Co. in Rahway, N.J. It appeared that he was in London to earn a few million for Merck by closing a spectacular deal with somebody."

"Income-wise," said a survey, "one-quarter of our class is earning between $7,000 and $9,000; about 18 per cent between $5,000 and $7,000; 16 per cent between $9,000 and $11,000; and 12 per cent between $3,000 and $5,000.

"Fifty-five per cent have bought appliances, etc., at a discount house within the last year."

It's nice to know that Yale men, too, are scurrying around in that magical land between wholesale and retail prices.

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

Thieves Ignore Lights, Rob New Jersey Safe

PATERSON, N. J. (AP) Thieves broke open a safe standing in the well-lit showroom of an auto agency.

According to police, the safe-crackers must have worked undisturbed in the glaring showroom of Streelman-Nash, Inc., for at least half an hour in full view of passers-by. They got $463.

Spinner Has Long Span

Are Rabies Clinics Socialized Medicine?

Is Fido a beneficiary or victim of "socialized medicine?" Are Oakland County rabies innoculation clinics undermining private veterinarians' practices?

The answer to these questions surrounding the rabies problem were discussed at a recent meeting of the Oakland County Veterinarians Assn. Invited guests were county supervisors and Dr. Frank B. Bates, director of the County Animal Shelter.

The veterinarians told the county officials they felt the period of rabies emergency which gave rise to the county clinics was over and there were ample private practitioners to handle dog vaccinations.

In reply, Dr. Bates stated the clinics were averaging 4,700 vaccinations a year, and he feared most of those animals never would be protected without the clinics.

Both sides agreed that the public cannot be assured of protection from a rabies epidemic unless 70 per cent of the county's dog population is vaccinated.

The county officials agreed that the clinics should not be allowed to compete with private practices, but felt under present conditions they should be continued to some degree until more people can be convinced they should have their pets vaccinated privately.

Both groups agreed that a stronger state law is needed to compel dog owners to seek protection for their animals.

Dr. O. L. Smith, association president, said, "We don't need the business," but on principle we object to the county doing work which free enterprise can do."

County officials agreed that free enterprise should be encouraged and the clinics halted as soon as feasible, but they intimated they would be continued, at least in more rural areas, until better vaccination legislation was enacted by the State Legislature.

Grist Mill Still Makes Flour After 175 Years

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — A 175-year-old grist mill, used to grind flour and once a vital part of this area's economy, is still in operation.

A turbine has replaced the old water wheel and modern equipment the stone grinding wheels, but the mill is still pretty much the same. It gets its power from Pine Creek just as it did in the 1780s.

Pinned by Truck, Driver Spends 21 Hours Waiting

MARSHALLVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Frank Hester, 49, spent 21 hours trapped between a tree and the door of a truck.

Doctors at Peach County Hospital in nearby Fort Valley said Hester suffered a badly mashed left arm, shock and exposure, but was getting along "satisfactorily."

Hester was reading meters for the Flint Electric Membership Corp. Saturday. He stopped his two-way radio-equipped truck and got out to look at a meter. The truck began to roll and an open door pinned him to a tree.

Three hours later he heard a broadcast of his disappearance on the truck radio but couldn't reach the microphone.

He blew the truck's horn until the battery went dead. Then he waited.

Two men found him about noon yesterday after an all-night search in four counties.

He Did Have Sufficient Grounds for Prejudice

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A court appointed attorney withdrew as defense counsel in a bad check case on the grounds he might be prejudiced against the defendant.

The attorney, John Ronis of National City, said that after studying the case records he found that the defendant was charged with passing a bad check at a market own by Ronis' brother.

Korea Ratifies Treaty for U.S. Commerce

There was no opposition and only 30 minutes of debate.

Among other things the treaty opens the way for American private investment into South Korea. It is the first such pact approved since South Korea became independent in 1948.

Foreign Minister Cho Chung Whan said the U. S. Congress will consider ratification of the treaty soon.

Republicans Bring Back Formality

Parties in Capital Call for White Ties and Ball Gowns

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower and his Republican administration took over from the Democrats in 1953, there were predictions of a return to the social formalities of past GOP regimes.

For the most part, those predictions have come true.

Those who knew the Republican social pattern were saying that evening white-tie invitations would mean white tie, not tuxedo, and that guests wouldn't be showing up at late-day receptions in business suits and street dresses either.

They would go home and change into striped pants and party frocks as they did in the days before the Democrats introduced informality.

Except perhaps for the striped pants, this fashion forecast has come to pass.

Ladies attending evening functions at the White House are expected to wear floor-length ball gowns and long white gloves. Most of them do, though over the past four years a number chose to wear cocktail-length dresses.

These gowns will be seeing additional wear throughout the coming months. Some official wives have announced they purchased their one and only new evening gown of the season, for the inaugural and that's that.

Since some of them have to attend all six of the season's late-announced White House functions, they expect to draw upon their wardrobes of past seasons for changes.

Long before the inauguration local merchants were sold out of white gloves. Protocol experts say white gloves are the most proper.

Black gloves if they run to 22 buttons are acceptable. Colored gloves never!

This last the First Lady does not always adhere to. She is fond of gloves that match her shoes, evening bag or the trimming on her gown.

Second Lady Pat Nixon is inclined the same way. At one white-tie shindig earlier this season she wore lime-colored gloves to match the trimming on her white lace gown, which incidentally was ballerina-length!

Here's How Judy Won Pie Award

Filling

Mix together in saucepan—two-thirds cup sugar and two tablespoons corn starch. Add 2¼ cups sour cherries and juice, one-eighth tablespoon red food coloring, and one tablespoon butter. Cook over moderate heat, stirring frequently until tickened. Remove from heat—add one-eighth teaspoon almond extract.

Crust

Sift into bowl—two cups sifted flour, one teaspoon salt and two-thirds cup shortening. Cut in with pastry blender. Sprinkle with four tablespoons milk. Mix together and form into ball. Divide dough. Roll out bottom crust (until ⅛-inch thick) to 2 inches larger than your 8½-inch pie pan. Fit it loosely in pan; trim excess leaving one inch overhanging.

Roll out remaining dough and cut into 10 strips ½-inch wide. Pour filling into pie shell and weave strips into lattice top. Turn in edge and seal. Flute edge.

Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes and then reduce heat to 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until brown.

Fete Mrs. McKellar at Stork Shower

Mrs. Malcolm McKellar was the honoree at a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. George Killen of Poplar street. Mrs. James Vincent was cohostess. Guests were Mrs. William Killen, Mrs. Don Vincent, Mrs. Jack Collier, Mrs. Emory Moul and Mrs. Charles Simpson.

Also attending were Mrs. Howard Cunningham, Mrs. Ralph O. Allen, Mrs. Robert Passineau, Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mrs. Max Richardson and Mrs. Robert Mosser. From Royal Oak, Mrs. Philip Theisen and Mrs. John Orosey attended.

Mrs. Sterling Back

Mrs. L. L. Sterling of Lorraine court, her son John, and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Havs of Franklin have returned to their homes from Shreve, Ohio, where they were called due to the death of Mrs. James Sterling.

State Hospital Group to See Film, 'Shyness'

The Oakland County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital will show the film, "Shyness," Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. in the hospital's staff auditorium.

The film recently won an international critics' award in the field of mental health. It effectively demonstrates how shyness is fostered in children, and its effects in adult life.

It indicates methods of overcoming shyness which may be applied in their broader aspects to adults as well as children. The film reveals how confidence-destroying demands of parents predisposes children to shyness, and how children can be and are guided in making social adjustments.

A discussion will follow the film.

Don Harrower, acting president of the group, said an election of officers will be held following the group discussion.

Learn to Tolerate Child's Crying

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dot and a friend were sitting on the living room sofa stringing themselves bead necklaces.

They were arguing the merits of two kinds of clasps when Dot's little sister Chrissy came downstairs from her nap. Almost at once she demanded the makings of a necklace, too. Fearing her 4-year-old clumsiness among the beads and wires, Dot said nervously, "No, Go away—or I'll tell Mommy you're bothering me."

In response to her shrieks, her mother came flying from upstairs. Angrily rebuking Dot for making her little sister cry, she caught Chrissy up in her arms—and retreating to the kitchen, diverted her interest from the slap to cookies and milk.

This was pretty impractical. Chrissy's aggressiveness toward Dot makes for continual friction in their home. If she's ever to learn to control it, her attention will have to be attracted to its painful consequences, not diverted from them.

ONLY ONE REASON

We "divert" a little child from what he's doing for one reason only: To preserve his safety.

Thus, if we find Johnny balancing himself on the porch rail, we may propose a piggy-back ride to divert him from his dangerous action. If we find Chrissy playing with our scissors, we may seek to protect her by diverting her interest to our tape measure.

But when we find her suffering from a slap got as a consequence of attacking her sister, we do not protect her by diverting her interest from it to cookies and milk.

Quite the contrary. Our soothing evasion of her hurt is destructive to her, interfering with the natural disciplines that belong to her as the result of what she has done.

Mostly I think we go in for this overprotective kind of "diverting" because we can't stand the noise made by a crying child.

It's not a glorious sound, I know. On the other hand, if we could bring ourselves to tolerate a full expression of Chrissy's injured feelings once or twice, she might decide to stop inviting injury.

Then we'd have really worked out our problem of the nasty noise. But to discover this is true, we have to find the courage to endure it.

Daughter's New Concern Makes Mom Feel Older

Teenage Girl Reverses Roles, Frets About Parent Being Left Alone

By RUTH MILLETT

Tonight I don't know whether to feel proud—or old. Because tonight for the first time my teenage daughter and I have reversed our roles. Tonight she is worrying about me.

The men of the family went on a hunting trip, leaving the two of us alone for a few days. Nothing seemed changed until my daughter was invited to a slumber party, one of those affairs when a giggling bunch of teenage girls get together for a night of record playing, talking, eating, talking, talking, talking. Why they call them slumber parties is a mystery to the parents.

But the minute the invitation came my daughter suddenly started to feel responsible for me. She wanted to turn it down because she thought I shouldn't be left alone.

When I argued that I never get lonely and had work to do, anyhow, she reluctantly agreed to go.

But before she left, she gave me as long a list of instructions as I have been used to giving her and her brother when I leave home.

"Be sure to lock the doors, Mom. If you need me for anything, the telephone number is such-and-such. I'll call you during the evening to make sure you are all right."

And she just called. As I've called so often to check on her. I even know the relief she felt as she went back to the party, reassured that she wasn't needed at home.

In a way I'm proud that she is grown up enough to feel responsible for someone else. But it isn't without regret that you realize for the first time that you and your child are starting to reverse roles.

When that happens, no matter what your age, you suddenly feel older.

Imagine her worrying about me, you think at first. And then you realize that in the years ahead it will often be that way.

But somehow I have a sneaking notion that I am not the only one who feels older tonight. I'm sure my daughter does, too.

Butter Cakes Are Topped With Nuts

Mrs. Flemington's Rich Little Cookies Have Two Layers

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Winter is tea party season. The next time you want to make cookies to serve with the "cup that cheers" try these dainty Tortellettes, as suggested by Mrs. Norman Flemington of Troy Township.

Two children in the family now and a third expected soon mean plenty of work at home for Mrs. Flemington. Her main outside interest is the Birmingham branch of AAUW and two of its study groups. Bridge and ceramics are her other interests.

TORTELLETTES

By Mrs. Norman Flemington

Grated rind of ½ lemon
1 cup sugar
¾ cup butter or margarine
2 egg yolks
1½ cups sifted flour

Grate lemon rind over sugar. Cream sugar and butter or margarine thoroughly. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time. Add flour gradually to make a stiff dough; you may need a little more than the amount specified.

Pinch off 1 teaspoon of dough at a time. Roll into a ball and flatten very thin. Place on cookie sheet and brush with 1 egg white, beaten with 1 tablespoon water. Sprinkle with following mixture.

1 cup almonds
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon salt

Blanch and shred almonds. Mix with other ingredients and use to top little cakes. Bake at 375 degrees until light brown. Makes about 40 cookies.

Excuses Used to Cover Laziness

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When I was little, I knew a very wise Chinese woman who used to say, "The lazy have always the very best reasons."

I think of her when I hear the reasons people give me for not doing something with their lives—as the saying goes.

Most of us know, at least in our own saner moments, that we ought to do more than just drag through the absolutely necessary duties.

We pause sometimes and wonder if we're ever going to accomplish any of the things we dreamed of accomplishing when we were young. But then, there's always a very good reason why we haven't so far.

If your life isn't what you'd like it to be, see if you're engaging in any of these "reasons" for your failure:

1. "I never had the opportunity to get the necessary education."

WORTHLESS EXCUSE

This is a common excuse, yet a little investigation will show you how worthless it is.

Most leaders in any field either had no formal education or had vastly less than the experts say is needed. Many top people in the arts as well as business learned most of what they know in the arena of life.

Moreover, anyone who wants an education, or needs it along certain lines, can manage to get it today pretty easily. So lack of education is not the ironclad excuse you think.

2. "I'm so busy with the ordinary chores of life, I honestly haven't time to do anything more."

This is a pretty deceptive excuse. Most of us are pretty busy, but the busiest people are usually the ones who can take on one more activity.

YOU'LL FIND TIME

Also, once you find something that really interests and absorbs you, chances are you will find time for it without any trouble.

Most of the people who use this "too busy" excuse are really just too bored and uninterested in life.

3. "I'm too old to take on anything new."

The other day a young woman of 31 told me she was "too old" to learn a new language! She was indeed too old, since she thinks life ends at 23.

ABILITY TO LEARN

Age has proved to be the most relative thing there is. Our capacity to learn diminishes very little after 40. Moreover, it's a case of which came first, age or the incapacity.

Many people tell themselves that they are old at 40. Thereafter, they are really old, can't accomplish things or learn things or even have the physical stamina they used to have.

Other people begin new lives at 50 or 60, and as a result, begin to feel, act and look like young people in the prime of life!

Next time you find yourself alibing your lack of happiness or accomplishment in life, check and see which of these excuses you're giving.

Then remind yourself that it's all in your own mind—and start doing something about it.

Claims 'Mayerling' Hero Suffered Death Complex

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Crown Prince Rudolf of Austria, ill-starred hero of "Mayerling," may have killed himself for love, but a distant relative of the nobleman said "he would have committed suicide anyway!"

The relative went even further and branded the whole sad lover's tale a fake.

Prince Rudolf gave the world what has long been regarded as one of the greatest love stories of all time when in 1889 he shot his young 17-year-old mistress, Baroness Vetsere, and then turned the gun on himself.

"But if he hadn't killed himself then," Lonyay said with conviction, "he would have surely done it a few years later."

'FICKLE PLAYBOY'

Lonyay, whose aunt was wed to Rudolf at the time of the famous suicide, also blasted another myth surrounding the tragic affair.

"Rudolf was a fickle playboy," Lonyay declared, "who had a score of young women on the string."

Lonyay wrote the first documented account of the tragic double death and has in his possession many valuable papers pertaining to the incident, including a photograph of Rudolf in his casket with a heavy bandage around his head.

"The bandage was never removed," he related, "because the shot made such a terrible wound."

The Count, who holds a doctor of psychology degree from the University of Vienna, said the suicide complex possibly was the result of much inter-marriage among the Austro-Hungarian nobility.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY

"Rudolf's cousin, King Ludwig of Bavaria, killed himself at the age of 30," Lonyay recalled and added:

"When Franz Joseph (Rudolf's father) was informed of his son's suicide, he immediately destroyed all the records he could get his hands on. The affair was extremely humiliating to him."

Lonyay also revealed that young Baroness Vetsere "sacrificed" her life for Rudolf.

"She knew of his death complex," Lonyay said, "and actually helped him kill himself by permitting him to shoot her first!"

The romantic story has twice been immortalized in motion pictures and on Monday will be dramatized over NBC-TV with Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer portraying the royal lovers.

Betrothal Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Faulman of Danforth drive announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Audrey N., to Harry F. Zering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zering of Oriole road.

Make Hours of Leisure Truly Rewarding

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Dr. Millard C. Faught is one of the most stimulating and magnetic personalities I have ever met. His interests and talents are so varied that it would be impossible to list them all here.

Just to give you an idea of his background—he worked his way through college to win A.B., M.S. and PH.D. degrees from Columbia University. He is consultant to concerning economics, national trends, business methods, community and human relations.

He has had may articles published by our most distiguished magazines and is the author of four books—some serious and some humorous. You may have read his "The Care and Feeding of Executives." He speaks before many professional and business groups and on television and radio programs.

Dr. Faught simply vibrates with enthusiasm and ideas and seems to have a special talent for sensing and understanding, ahead of the crowd, great social and economic trends and interpreting them in human values.

He is also president of the Retirement Council, Inc., in New York City. This was why I was especially interested in meeting and talking with him.

One of the most stimulating thoughts he presented is the fact that our high standard of living means not only increased dollars but increased leisure.

He points out that our standard of living consists of time values as well as money values, and that we have not yet recognized the fact that this additional free time can be one of the most rewarding dividends of our rising standard of living.

LONGER LIVES

Had you realized that we moderns have almost as much leisure time in our lives as our colonial ancestors had total time, for work and everything else, in their lives?

You can readily see how this can be when you remember that our life expectancy has been increased almost 50 per cent in the last 50 years, and that the work hours necessary for making a living have been cut almost in half. Think, too, of the many labor-saving devices available today.

Increased leisure and longer life expectancy should be wonderful and exciting challenges and blessings, but if we are trained only for our job of making money and not for the job of living vibrantly in our spare time, we are effective only during our work hours, which consitiute the smaller portion of our lives.

The use of time values applies to the woman in the home in an especially important way. I want to write about that today.

In the words of Millard C. Faught, "We can always, at any time, in any place, at any age, invest our extra time in getting more out of living, hour by hour, day by day, year by year."

Soon one-fifth of the citizens in the United States will be more than 65 years old. This should be an exciting challenge but we hear and read everywhere about "the problem of our aging population."

Dr. Faught feels that this is a problem only because we have not had time to adjust to this big change. Today a man can expect to live at least a decade after retirement and probably much longer.

Dr. Faught also feels that the United States is the greatest spectator nation in the world, that it has more leisure time "soaker-uppers" than any other, that when we don't have something to do we watch someone else do something.

He believes that we have had our interests, plans and thoughts so centered on our jobs that we are not prepared for the leisure we now have or the greater amount of free time we will have in the future.

For this reason retirement comes as a severe shock. He said, "Retirement and old age will haunt you unless you go out to meet them."

I know from thousands of letters from readers each year that many women in the home receive the same sort of shock when their children grow up and depart and when the stresses of daily life lessen. Often they are in the prime of life when they feel that life is over.

I asked Dr. Faught how they should fill the vacuum. He replied, "One way to fill it is to keep alive one's interest in learning, to keep one's curiosity bone flexible."

The idea that we should stop learning once we are out of school is a dreary one and yet many folks do just that. They allow the stresses and responsibilities of busy years to suffocate their curiosity and their individual interests and therefore impose on them a narrow outlook.

Adult education has a tremendous role to play in helping us adjust to the big change of more leisure and longer lives. Take advantage of it if you have classes in your community. If you do not have, prod your school board into giving them to you.

Start learning again, become aware of, and interested again, in the world about you.

Tomorrow: Hobby Should Provide Wings—Not Be a Crutch.

Items like automatic dishwashers have improved our standard of living — but also provided more leisure, a rewarding dividend.

An out-growth of the blouson and adding softness to slim sheaths is the action-back. It certainly minimizes the hippy look, the large rear view and fills in the sway-back. In linen or silk you'll wear it now and this summer.

5,000 Volumes Available

Book Review Club Aids Library

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our
Waterford Township Bureau

More than 5,000 books are now available to Waterford Township residents, absolutely free of charge, according to Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, volunteer librarian at the Community Activities Center.

There is no charge for a card, and no fines for damaged or overdue books, thanks to the Waterford Township Book Review Club.

This group of women have promoted and sponsored the library, even before it was located in the big southeast corner of the CAI building, ten years ago.

Every Wednesday, three women are assigned to the library in the morning and three in the afternoon. If there is an extra big project, as many as 15 regular workers bring their lunch and get down to the business of repairing and patching up worn books.

The Book Review club meets once every month. They buy a new book, assign it to a member, who makes a complete report, then it is turned over to the library.

About 90 per cent of the volumes are donated by people moving away, other book clubs, and individual donations, according to Mrs. Valentine.

There is a good supply of adult fiction, including 600 mysteries. From 600 to 800 youth books line the shelves, and this is supplemented by about 120 more books loaned from the state library, every six months.

Those using the library include the 5th and 6th graders, now attending school in the CAI building and on Saturday mornings, the volunteer workers put out more than 50 books from 10 to 12 a.m.

One organization known as the "Great Books Group" are in their seventh year as steady users of the library. Headed by Mr. Kay Rector, the 18 adults meet every other week and serious discussions on the classics are talked over. The next meeting of this group is Friday from 8 to 10 p.m. and any interested person may attend, Mrs. Valentine said.

Due to the volunteer help, special library hours have been scheduled. These begin on Tuesday from 7 to 9 p.m. and Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The library opens again on Thursday evening from 7 to 8, then on Saturday mornings.

Mrs. Valentine says that someday they hope the library will be under the jurisdiction of Waterford Township — as many small communities are supported by part of the township taxes.

Some efforts have been made in that direction, however, until the time comes that the free-reading source is self-supporting, the women of the Book Review club will continue to distribute the books to Waterford Township people.

'56 Figures Shadow Former Year

Book Lending Up at City Libraries

Some 61,438 books at the Pontiac City Library and its branches received plenty of use during 1956 as figures disclosed show that 8.5 per cent more persons borrowed books last year compared to 1955.

The book stock was increased 7.3 per cent, while the number of persons holding library cards went up 9.5 per cent over 1955.

Total circulation during the year at the main library, the East Side and Adah Shelly branches, the bookmobile and at the schools was 246,430, Miss Phyllis Pope, city librarian, said.

This figure was broken down in this manner: Main, 117,392; bookmobile, 75,855; East Side, 10,184; Adah Shelly branch, 29,354, and schools 13,645.

Some 19,908 persons looked to the staff of the library when they had questions they wished answered. This represented an increase of 40 per cent over the number of persons using this service the previous year.

Juvenile books proved extremely popular during the year as records show that 142,864 such books were borrowed. Adult non-fiction books numbering 53,747 and 49,819 adult fiction books were included in the 246,430 total.

There were 5,290 new books and 6,957 new borrowers added during 1956.

"The 31,711 library cards are frequently used by the whole family, so that the number of people who actually use the library is approximately 78,000," Miss Pope explained.

In October the library initiated a long-playing record borrowing service. Some 100 records were loaned to 225 persons.

Army's Olympic star, now out of service, won a 4th in the Olympic 100-meter event, ran on the world record 400-meter relay team, and only 10 days ago beat Duke's sensational Dave Sime in an indoor 70-yard event. McCarthy, Crawford Are Selected

Two Named to Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP)—Marse Joe McCarthy and Wahoo Sam Crawford are the newest members of Baseball's Hall of Fame.

The jut-jawed Irishman who managed the New York Yankees to new heights without ever playing a game of major league ball and the lefthanded outfielder who was a great power hitter in the "dead ball" days will be officially enshrined July 22 at Cooperstown, N.Y.

Paul Kerr, secretary of the special 11-man veterans committee that picks new members on alternate years, announced the election of McCarthy and Crawford yesterday. There will be no further selections this year.

The baseball writers who normally name new members yearly on a 75 per cent vote of their 10-year members won't get a chance until 1958 under the revised rules. Their field is restricted to players active in the last 30 years but retired for at least five.

The oldtimers' committee picks players who have been retired over 30 years and managers and umpires who have been inactive at least five years.

Election of McCarthy and Crawford was greeted cordially by baseball men in town for the meetings and annual baseball writers' dinner although the committee had a vast field from which to choose. No more than two can be picked at any one meeting of this veterans' committee.

From Tonawanda, N.Y. came word that McCarthy, 69, was "very happy." The retired manager has been living near Buffalo since he stepped down as skipper of the Boston Red Sox, June 23, 1950 because of poor health.

McCarthy played second base and managed in the minors from 1906 to 1920, winning two pennants at Louisville, before he moved up to manage the Chicago Cubs in 1926.

The Cubs won the National League flag under McCarthy in 1929, losing to the Philadelphia A's in the World Series. When McCarthy moved to Yankee Stadium in 1931 he hit the jackpot. The Yanks won eight pennants and seven World Series under Marse Joe, four of each in succession from 1936 to 1939. Until Casey Stengel came along to make it five in a row from 1949 to 1953, that was tops.

ENSHRINED—Joe McCarthy, 69, former Major League manager, was one of two old timers enshrined to baseball's Hall of Fame. Sam Crawford, 76, who played with the Detroit Tigers from 1903 to 1917 was honored.

Shot Put Mark Major Result of MSU Relays

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dave Owen, Michigan's mighty muscled track team captain from Milwaukee, is a sure bet to do a major rewrite job on the Big Ten records in the shot put this season.

Owen, conference shot put titlist, provided the top thrill of the 34th annual Michigan State relays Saturday night when he heaved the 16-pound ball a record-shattering 58 feet 10½ inches.

This was a meet and field house and American indoor dirt track record, topping the old toss of 57 feet 6¾ inches by Bill Nieder of Kansas here last year.

It also was more than two feet better than the Big Ten records of 56 feet, 3⅝ inches indoors and 56 feet 5 inches outdoors set by Michigan's Charlie Fonville in 1948.

Ohio State's Glenn Davis, 400 meet hurdles Olympic champ and world record holder in the event, won both the 75 yard intermediate hurdles and the 75 yard high hurdles although he ran with his left leg heavily taped to protect a pulled muscle.

Davis had a time of :08.3 in the intermediates, tying the meet and field house record set jointly last year by Aubrey Lewis of Notre Dame and Tirrel Buton of Miami of Ohio.

Dave Lean, a smooth-striding Australian who competed for his home country in the Olympics, paced Michigan State teams to victories in the two-mile relay and the distance medley relay.

Lean, running the half mile laps in both events, turned in a fast 1:51.8 for the distance in the two-mile relay. State's winning times were 7:47.8 in the two mile relay and 10:16.8 in the distance relay.

Detroit Keeps 3-Point Lead in NHL Race

Red Wings Come Back After Montreal Gets Three Early Goals

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT—It was by no means their best performance of the season, but the Detroit Red Wings managed to stay three points ahead of the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League.

The front-running Wings rallied to gain a 3-3 tie with the Canadiens last night before a standing room crowd of 14,892 at Olympia Stadium.

Sunday's game was similar to the one played here Dec. 23, Montreal's last previous visist to Detroit. The two teams also fought to a 3-3 deaodlock in that contest and the pattern was comparable.

Detroit trailed by a 3-1 margin at the end of the 1st period last night, compared to a 3-0 deficit before. The Wings scored in the 2nd and 3rd stanzas last night to earn their tie, compared to three 3rd-period goals previously.

The Red Wings tallied 1st, then lapsed into slipshod defensive play to allow the aggressive, fore-checking Canadiens three points before the period was ended.

Earl (Dutch) Reibel opened the scoring by taking Norm Ullman's pass near the goal crease and slipping it past Montreal's Jacques Plante. The time was 4:41, with Dickie Moore in the penalty box at the time for hooking.

Montreal struck back with three straight goals at 6:26, 8:20 and 16:18. A bouncing shot by Claude Provost dribbled into the cage to start the parade, then Maurice (The Rocket) Richard took brother Henri's pass directly in front of goalie Glenn Hall and punched it by him for the classiest goal of the evening.

Floyd Curry outskated Ted Lindsay to move in all alone on Hall, who was helpless to halt his blast.

Dough Harvey was penalized for slashing with only six seconds left in the 2nd stanza and it took Detroit just 47 seconds in the 3rd period to capitalize on the advantage. Alex Delvecchio tapped in Lindsay's pass for the trying goal.

In other NHL action Sunday, the Boston Bruins trimmed the New York Rangers, 4-1, and the Chicago Black Hawks conquered the Toronto Maple Leafs, 6-3.

1957 Season Challenges Rigney

Giants Need Replacements

By BILL RIGNEY

WALNUT CREEK, Calif. (AP) — I'm looking forward to the start of spring training with more eagerness than ever before. The reason for this is because this season is going to present a real challenge. We lost two of our most promising players — Jackie Brandt and Bill White—to the service and my job in spring training is to try to find replacements for these two youngsters.

If we can come up with adequate replacements, we should certainly have a chance to improve on our 6th place finish of last year. Except for first base and left field, plus one good hitter to hit behind Willie Mays, we're not in bad shape.

Everybody knows that Willie Mays is the best ball player in the league, that Johnny Antonelli is the best lefthander in the league and that Red Schoendienst is still the best second baseman in the league.

That's a pretty good nucleus. Show me one club that wouldn't like to have any one of them.

Except for the two spots I mentioned, we have a pretty sound club. Our catching is adequate, our pitching is pretty good, our defense is adequate. We could use a bit more power.

Bill Sarni and Wes Westrum will do the catching, unless, of course, young Bob Schmidt should come along faster than expected. Naturally, we could use more pitching but which club couldn't?

On the whole, however, I thought our pitching was good last year. Both rookies — Allan Worthington and Joe Margoneri —pitched great ball at times and figure to improve with experience under their belt. Worthington has fully recovered from a sore arm that hampered him last year.

Antonelli did a remarkable job for us in '56. Had we been able to score a couple of runs for John early in the year he could have been a 25-game winner. As it was, he won 20. Ruben Gomez had a bad year but I look for him to return to his 1954 form. He's a good pitcher.

Our two main relief pitchers, Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom, are getting along in years but Hoyt informs me he is in good shape and expects to be a lot better this year. We'll have to wait and see about Marv, but he's a tremendous competitor and may have one more year left.

Jackie Robinson's decision to retire is regrettable but at least it enabled us to regain the services of Dick Littlefield. He did a good job for us late in the season and together with John McCall, he should provide us with a good left-handed relief strength.

We also have several youngsters coming up who should help.

Jewelers Whip Canadian Team

The Jewelers, defending City League champions and undefeated this season, ground out a hard-earned 68-55 victory over Andy's Athletic Club of Toronto in a fast, rugged game.

Shaw's well-balanced attack had four players in double figures, with Don Williams leading the pack on 13 points. Dave Sebring and Dick Hall each made 11 while Fred Baker tossed in 10.

Donates TV Fee

Rocky Giving Louis $5,000

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) — Rocky Marciano declared last night he'll donate a $5,000 television fee toward settling Joe Louis' huge tax debt.

The son of a Brockton, Mass., shoemaker who retired as undefeated heavyweigh champion last April repeated no one has made him "a concrete offer' to come out of retirement and that "it wouldn't make any difference if they did."

Feted at the fourth annual Holy Name sports night in the Holy Rosary School by a crowd of more than 900, Marciano, 33, said, "I know I did the right thing" in retiring.

Before the affair, at which he received a plaque, Marciano said he had been approached by a national magazine and offered "big money" for exclusive rights to his story — if he decided to fight again.

"I told them to save it," he said.

Marciano told the crowd, "I've been approached by a TV program, 'What's My Line', and offered $5,000 tax free to appear for Louis and I'm going to do it."

Rocky said he understood other well known personalities in the sports and entertainment worlds also would appear on a show and donate their fees to Louis.

Players Unhappy Over NFL Benefits

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Football League has turned thumbs down on the players' association but at least one representative has indicated the group doesn't intend to knuckle down without a fight.

Informed Saturday night the NFL owners at their annual meeting had refused to recognize the association, Norman Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams said the association would try and find its own solution if the league didn't do something.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL said flatly "we won't recognite anybody as a bargaining agent."

The owners then wrote into the league book a number of fringe benefits for players. Van Brocklin expressed disappointment, saying, "my reaction is that they haven't done anything for us.

"We requested inclusion of an injury clause, which they haven't given us. We requested training camp expenses which they haven't given us. We requested minimum pay, which they haven't given us."

Last night Van Brocklin together with two other representatives of the players' association issued a statement in Cleveland saying one reason their group had been formed was because owners were using "a blackball system" on released players.

Creighton Miller, Cleveland attorney and former Notre Dame football star who has been active with the players group, and Kyle Rote of the New York Giants joined Van Brocklin in the statement.

The three said: "It is our information that a blackball system among owners has been used in order to prevent a player from being picked up by another team after being released.

"This was discussed with Mr. Bell as one of the reasons for the formation of the association. "He advanced the thought that the association could prevent this practice.

The new NFL program provides for transportation and expense money to and from training camps, all gave equipment to be paid for by the club, $9 a day for meal money and $12 a day for meals and lodging when it is impractical for the team to eat as a group, a $50 advance against salary after each pre-season game, and a shorter training period.

Bell said an injury clause was unnecessary. He said the league compensated players in full in such cases. Bell maintained a $5,000 minimum salary was rejected because there was no players in the league now making less than that.

Outlasts the Veterans

Casper Wins at Phoenix

Casper withstood all manner of pressure from three great money players to win the $15,000 Phoenix Open yesterday and, with the other traveling professionals, headed for the Tucson Open today richer by $2,000.

Casper is 25, a pro for 30 months and winner of only one major tournament, the 1956 Quebec Open.

But he performed like a real campaigner yesterday in shooting a three-under par 67 for a 72-hole score of 271, three shots in front.

Casper, from Bonita, Calif., in the near reaches of San Diego, had a one-stroke lead over Middlecoff starting out, two over Mangrum and three over Souchak.

If anyone thought he would roll over and die, Casper dispelled the idea on the first hole. He rapped in a 30-foot putt for a birdie.

Going into the final nine holes, this cool and nice looking young man was four strokes in front of Middlecoff, which just about ended any speculation about his collapsing.

Casper's threesome included Mangrum and Souchak, with Middlecoff just ahead. All knew what the other was doing, of course. The trouble was no one could do anything about Billy's 31-36—67 for the par 34-36—70 Arizona Country Club course.

Middlecoff, with a 69, and Souchak, a 67, tied for second and collected $1,350 apiece. Mangrum added $1,000 to his bank account.

Tied at 277 were the well established tournament pros Billy Maxwell, Arnold Palmer and Walter Burkemo and unsung Milon Marusic, winners of $787.50 apiece, and just behind at 278 were Texas' Don January and Al Balding of Canada. Bo Wininger's 65 and a 69 by Paul Harney gave them 279 and each $525.

Harbert's 281 Wins Puerto Rican Open

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Detroit pro Chick Harbert, $1,500 richer, moved on today for Caracas, Venezuela, and the last stop on the Caribbean winter golf tour.

Harbert collected the $1,500 first prize in the Puerto Rican Open tournament yesterday by registering a seven-under-par 281. Harbert's final round par 72 was good enough to stave off runner-up Roberto Devicenzo of Argentina, who had a closing 70 for a 283 total, worth $800. Bob Tosk, of Miami, Fla., was third with 287.

BC Fighters Slated for TV Bouts Today

Pontiac Boys' Club boxing entries have been assured of appearances on CKLW-TV (Channel 9) at 10 p.m. today. That's the word from Boys' club director, Bill Coulacos, who says the assurance was given because of the distance the BC fighters travel to appear in the Detroit Golden Gloves eliminations.

Boxers to make the trip today are Dick McDonald (147-pounds) and Larry Cosgrove (135-pounds). Their opponents were not announced this morning. Both are ready, after hard conditioning workouts daily at the boys' Club, for the past three months. Both are novices.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW . . .

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

LOU BOUDREAU

White always are threats to hit the ball over the relatively short left field fence.

Here's a case, however, in which a neat fit of strategy by Lou Boudreau enabled Kansas City to defeat the Red Sox at home. Would you have made the same move as the A's manager? Think it over . . . then see what really happened.

(Key: (R) righthanded)

Bob Porterfield (R) is pitching for the Red Sox who lead Kansas City 2-1 in the top of the eighth at Boston. Gus Zernial leads off with a base on balls. Mike Baxes runs for him and scores the tying run from first on Jim Finigan's single to center. Joe Ginsberg follows with another single, sending Finigan to third. At this point, Dave Sisler (R) replaces Porterfield. Joe DeMaestri (R) is the next batter with Spook Jacobs (R) and pitcher Lou Kretlow (R) to follow:

Would you:

a. Let DeMaestri swing away?

b. Put in a pinch-hitter for DeMaestri?

d. Order DeMaestri to try a squeeze bunt?

Brown Set for Title Defense on Feb. 13

Brown, out of action with a broken hand, has been working here for two months. He beat Smith for the championship at New Orleans last fall.

The 1941 Dodgers won the league pennant with 100 wins while the next year they were second with 104 wins.

Doubles Record in Elks Meet

Weekend Keg Activity Heavy

By CHUCK ABAIR

There was plenty of action on the local bowling front over the past weekend with three different tournaments going on here while 18 city women's teams were in Battle Creek participating in the Elks Ladies State meet.

It took a record high in doubles handicap play to make the only change among the leaders from the previous week as the Michigan Elks tourney completed its 3rd of eight weekends at the Elks and Huron Bowl.

A Plymouth duo of William Fann and Vern Miller stole the spotlight with their sparkling Sunday performance to surpass the old tourney top score by 23 pins. The pair combined for 1374. The previous best had been 1351, set in 1948 and equalled in '51.

Meanwhile, Dickie's Service of Pontiac continues to pace both team divisions as does Detroiter John Gavie in singles. There was no change among the 1st three in doubles actual. E. Walker-K. Haviland of Detroit lead this department.

Battle Creek star H. Zook also remained atop the heap in competition for the all-events trophy with his 1843 total.

The Fann-Miller record duo moved 53 pins past last week's leaders but there were few other changes in the handicap top ten.

There were new threats to Dickie's in both division but none came even close. Taylor Roofing of Plymouth took over 2nd in handicap and new Pontiac contender Sam Benson's moved into the runnerup slot in actual pinfall but both trail by wide margins.

Gavie, who has been singles king since opening weekend, had a close call in handicap play when Gus Clinton of Detroit turned in a 719, five short of a tie. Two other newcomers bettered 700 to move into the 1st five.

Another kegler making his initial appearance took over behind Gavie in actual score with an impressive 663 but John's 691 still is the mark to beat.

A total of 14 new entries moved in among the leaders in all divisions. Pontiac has 7 of the 13 high-ranking teams in both department, 4 of 14 in singles, and 2 of 13 in doubles.

One of the big surprises of the weekend was the failure of the 1956 doubles champions, E. Deeds-J. Bierwagen of Niles, to finish among the leaders in either doubles division. Two defending champs have already been eliminated from repeating.

'Y' Meet Cancelled

Scheduled swimming meet Saturday at Owosso YMCA, between Owosso and Pontiac's strong "Y" crew was cancelled because of an emergency appendectomy for Owosso's coach. Guerin-Hudson Team Tops

GMC Doubles Meet Ends

Ellsworth Guerin and Charles Hudson walked off with top honors in the 11th annual GMC Doubles Tournament completed yesterday by hitting 182 pins over their combined averages in a strong Saturday showing.

Their fine showing unseated the man-woman combination of Wilhelmina Bone-Paul Bada which had paced the initial weekend and finished 2nd best with 172 in the action-packed event at Pontiac Recreation.

Team and individual awards will be presented tomorrow at the General Motors Truck & Coach plant with the Guerin-Hudson combo heading the list with $100 in cash and a handsome trophy. Several other teams and individuals will be honored.

Although bowing out in doubles, Bada copped the high actual pinfall title for men with 247. Dick Carmichael finished with the high series with 659, while Roy Bone was 1st in most pins over average at 153.

Only one woman leader from opening week emerged a champion. She is H. Clark with the best series of 546. Other winners were Marge Roberts with a 214 for high game and Mary Smith, who hit 117 pins over average.

Wrestlers Win, Cagers Lose

Crane Athletes Go 50-50

Cranbrook lost a basketball game and won its first wrestling meet of the season Saturday in Inter-State League competition with Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh.

A 26-9 halftime deficit was too much for the Cranes to overcome as they dropped their opening Inter-State test, 45-35. The Shady Side cagers outscored the Cranes in the 2nd quarter, 19-2, to ice the decision.

Ed Eckhardt and John Birmingham led the winners with 16 and 12 points respectively. Chuck Harris made 10 points for the Cranes, whose overall record is now 1-8.

The Cranbrook wrestlers scored seven decisions and one pin to defeat Shady Side, 26-8. The losers also posted one pin.

Lead at 1074 in C-S Keg Tourney

Frank Phelps and Frank Molina combined for a 1074 to take an early lead in the Captain-Sponsor tourney which got underway at the Land-O-Lakes alleys over the past weekend.

The event will conclude next Saturday with the remaining doubles entries seeing action. A post-tourney banquet at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford will wrap up the three-day program.

No cash awards but several trophies and medals will be presented leading contestants and those performing unusual feats. All prizes will be given at the banquet.

Local 653 Club, Falcons Triumph in CIO League

Local 653 staved off a 4th quarter rally by Local 596 to gain a 42-39 victory in UAW-CIO League basketball activity Sunday afternoon at Jefferson Junior High.

The winners enjoyed a 32-34 lead entering the 4th period and the margin was too great for Local 596 to overcome. Al King's 15 point led Local 653 while Bill Pembroke notched 14 for the losers.

Ron Woodhull scored 19 points to pace the Local 594 Falcons to a 58-43 triumph over the Local 594 Vikings in yesterday's other CIO League game. Mel Taylor tallied 18 for the Vikings.

Navy, Miami, Clemson Meet Tar Heels' 11

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Three new opponents, Navy, Miami and Clemson, appear on the University of North Carolina's 1957 football schedule announced today by C. P. Chuck Erickson, athletic director.

The newcomers replace Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Georgia. Erickson said Notre Dame will return to the Tar Heels' schedule in 1958.

Janitor Finds Secret Papers

FBI Reports Recovery of Stolen Documents in Chicago Apartment

CHICAGO (AP)—A janitor cleaning an apartment building basement yesterday found "secret government documents" which the FBI said were stolen from a physicist en route to a South Bend, Ind., guided missile plant.

Donald S. Hostetter, Chicago FBI chief, said the discovery was reported by Edward A. Merk, janitor for a building located on the city's south side.

Hostetter described the documents as "mostly classified secret." He said they apparently "were discarded by a thief and are intact as far as we are able to determine."

Dr. Fletcher C. Paddison, physicist at Johns Hopkins University, Wednesday reported theft of a briefcase containing the documents to the FBI and police. Paddison, of Bethesda, Md., said the briefcase was taken while he was making a telephone call from the Illinois Central 63rd Street station. The station is a few blocks from where the papers were found.

The briefcase, Hostetter said, was not found.

Eisenhower Must Cope With Arab Family Feuds

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

President Eisenhower is undertaking a very tricky job in trying to restore peace to the Middle East. It involves venturing into Arab family feuds.

King Saud of Saudi Arabia, snubbed by the New York mayor to the distress of the State Department, went to Washington with his huge retinue to discuss the President's Middle Eastern policy.

The "personal diplomacy" exercised by the President will be put to its severest test in embarking on this mixing in Arab politics.

Britain has been involved in Arab politics for generations, and the British will watch the evolving American policy with great interest mixed with cynicism and anger.

King Saud, who stopped off in Cairo en route to Washington, officially represented the "Cairo group," which means he relayed the reaction of Egypt, Syria, Jordan and his own country to the new Eisenhower plan of curbing Red aggression while giving economic aid to the Middle East.

DISTRUSTS NASSER

But there are differences even among the members of the Cairo group. King Saud is said to distrust Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, the most violent of the Arab leaders, in his battle with the West.

Saud personally is interested in good relations with the United States because he is more antagonistic toward communism than Nasser, who has accepted millions of dollars worth of Red arms.

Saud gets a 50 per cent cut, or approximately $300 million yearly, in oil extracted by the Arabian-American Oil Company (Aramco). He has provided an air base for the Americans in his country.

Syria is accepting Soviet aid. Little Jordan is somewhat helpless in its dependence on the other Cairo group members for a subsidy to replace that which Britain has been giving.

Saud and the other Cairo group members energetically oppose the Baghdad Pact, which is composed of Britain, Turkey, Pakistan, Iran and Iraq.

EMISSARY TO U. S.

Iraq, only Arab member of the anti-Communist Baghdad organization, incidentally has sent an emissary, Crown Prince Abdul Illah, to the United States.

He is moving into Washington for talks after Saud. He and the two other Baghdad Pact members all welcome warmly the new Eisenhower policy for the Middle East.

The Baghdad Pact members, in fact, long have urged the United States to join their organization. They agree that there is a "vacuum" in the Middle East which the Soviet Union is trying to fill.

The Cairo group resents the term "vacuum" and say that if there is such a situation the Arabs themselves will fill it.

Of more immediate danger, of course, is the Arab-Israeli deadlock. All the Arab nations, despite their conflicting ambitions, are united in hatred of Israel and seek to destroy that state that U. S. diplomacy helped create.

Alabama Segregation Defense Starts Fund

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Door-to-door solicitations were underway today in an effort to raise a $60,000 legal defense fund for white persons arrested on warrants signed by Negro pro integration leaders.

The "Alabama segregation defense fund" drive began with passing out of collection buckets. An expected 100 solicitors will each approach 1,000 persons in Montgomery and adjoining counties, fund spokesman Jack Brock said.

Seven white men were arrested last week on charges of taking part in violence following the end of city bus segregation in Montgomery six weeks ago.

Furnace Gas Poison Almost Fatal for 5

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—A doctor inoculated the Howard Rasor family for influenza when they all complained of being ill simultaneously — but the trouble was in the furnace, police discovered.

Rasor called a physician at 3 a.m. yesterday when he and his wife, two children and a visiting cousin all awoke with aches and pains. The doctor diagnosed flu.

Several hours after the physician departed, a relative arrived for a visit and found the family unconscious. Mrs. Lyle Miller, Rasor's sister, smelled fumes, opened doors and windows and called a fleet of ambulances.

Stevens to Produce, Direct 'The Diary of Anne Frank'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Ever since George Stevens signed his contract with 20th Century-Fox a year ago everyone has known that Buddy Adler would give him a plum assignment to start the deal, and Buddy did—"The Diary of Anne Frank," the Pulitzer prize winning play.

Stevens will produce and direct as he did on "Giant," the picture which is cleaning up at the box office and is well in the running for an Academy award.

You can put it down in your little black book that when the casting on "The Diary of Anne Frank" starts, Susan Strasberg who achieved stardom in the play on Broadway, will be the leading contender. Playwrights Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich will write the script.

Just how poor Janet Leigh with a broken arm can start "Badge of Evil" with Charlton Heston today at U-I, I wouldn't be knowing. Her doctor has told her that the broken arm must be in a cast for six weeks, and that's that.

An incredible $20,000 a day is the amount of money paid in at the Paramount Theater in New York to hear Nat "King" Cole. After closing there, Nat plans two weeks at Havana's Tropicana and then two weeks at Miami Beach's Eden Roc. Then the King will start filming the life story of W. C. Handy in July at Paramount Studio, with Lena Horne as his leading lady.

The only wife who has not made a claim on Sir Alexander Korda's estate is Merle Oberon. Zolton Korda, his brother, who was to have planed out from London to help straighten out the estate, is in Cedars following emergency abdominal surgery.

The operation couldn't have come at a more inconvenient time, because there is complete confusion about the Korda estate. Zolton, his brother Vincent, Sir Alexander's first and third wives and his son Peter are all contending for the money and various holdings in England and other countries that belonged to the deceased producer.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: London is talking about the new musical "Grab Me a Gondola," said to be the story of Diana Dors, much as "Call Me Madam" was Perle Mesta's life.

Billy Eckstine's trademark, his moustache, is gone. He shaved it off to test for a role in "Band of Angels" with Clark Gable.

On February 14 two beauties, Irene Dunne and Deborah Kerr, will sit with the men on the dais with Jack Benny at his Friar's Club birthday dinner. There will be 40 candles on Jack's cake instead of the usual 39.

His Wife Was Dyeing, So Hubby Dyed, Too

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Yes, it's true I dyed my hair red . . . and I'm glad.

Why should women change their hair like dresses and men be forbidden to switch hues? My wife's latest simonizing job convinced me I should assert my independence. I heard of a friend who took a blonde to dinner one night quite forgetting that his wife had changed back to brunette. At least that was his story.

"First I'm making you a platinum blonde," Larry Mathews told me at Beauty City, the all-night spot in Times Square.

Sure enough, I looked like Jayne Mansfield, above the forehead. They threw gook on me and stung my scalp with liquids and eventually I became strawberry red—a little like Harpo Marx used to be.

"You look like an apricot poodle," Siri, the tall showgal, said. Dagmar, Tina Louise Gretchen Wyler, Gwen O'Hara and Zahra Norbo all insisted that I look "darling." They, however, didn't say darling what.

I'm going to leave it red for a few days to see if life is any more interesting to redheads. Then back to the beauty parlor for another dye job. I wonder how women keep going through it. And I also wonder about that funny smell that keeps hovering over my head.

Maybe Yul Brynner has the right idea.

State Police Arrests Upped by 49 Per Cent

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police made 235,931 arrests during 1956, a 49 per cent increase over the 157,976 arrests made in 1955, commissioner Joseph A. Childs reports.

State police enlisted strength stood at 1,019 men the close of the year, an increase of 250.

Of the arrest total, 15,358 were arrests made for offenses other than traffic. The total did not include the arrest of 8,328 juvenile traffic offenders and wayward and delinquent minors, were increased 41 per cent over 1955.

THEY APPLAUDED
Sunday, large audiences saw a great movie, "THE SILENT WORLD." They saw scenes of such exciting thrills and beauty they'll never forget. They saw bare-skinned divers battle man-eating sharks! They saw "fish-men" fight dread depth narcosis on the floor of the Red Sea's famed Marmar Reef! They saw the taming of a giant Grouper fish in the ocean depths off Assumption Island! They saw the amazing encounter with giant leaping porpoises in the Gulf of Eden! They saw daredevil divers explore the "Empire of Sunken Ships" with their electric undersea sleds—and at the end they burst into applause. Only once in a blue moon does spontaneous applause break out in a movie theater, but it was a sincere appreciation for a really good movie

Pontiac Press Photos

Special Election Due

Village Incorporation to Be Decided; Large Turnout Forecast

It is expected that a large percentage of residents in the Wixom area will appear at the polls between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday to vote for or against the proposal that Wixom become incorporated as a village.

Since the area in question lies in two townships, Novi and Commerce, the registered voters will go to either of two voting precincts.

Novi Township presently is eyeing city incorporation on one side of the railroad tracks which divide the village, and Commerce Township is visualizing city incorporation in its area, with a part of Wixom enclosed in that township.

Residents who live in the area belonging to Commerce Township will vote at the Wixom Elementary School, 301 North Wixom road. Those who reside in the section that belongs to Novi Township will vote in the Novi Community Building.

Both Hadley Bachert and Earl N. Garner, clerks of Novi and Commerce Township respectively, expect a large turnout because of the importance of the issue.

The area in question covers approximately 10 square miles. Roughly, the area is bounded by Loon Lake road on the north; the Novi-Lyon and Commerce-Milford township lines on the west; Twelve Mile road on the south, and Beck road on the east.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Sweetheart Ball Slated at Rochester's North Hill

ROCHESTER — The Woodward PTA will hold its seventh annual Sweetheart Ball, Saturday Feb. 9 in North Hill Elementary School multipurpose room. There will be both modern and square dancing from 9 to 12 p.m.

Chris Serre's Band will play for dancing and the caller will be Irvin Sheldon.

All proceeds from the ball will be used to buy books and bookcarts for Stoney Creek and the Woodward School. At present there are only 113 books for 290 students and because the availability of attractive library books encourage extra curricular reading the PTA feels that children should have a much wider selection of books from which to choose.

Mrs. Fred C. Phillips is general chairman of the ball and assisting her is Mrs. Arthur Weeber, decorations; Mrs. Roy Rewold, tickets; Mrs. Richard C. Jerome, refreshments and Mrs. Myron B. Littell, publicity.

Lake Orion

In keeping with their theme "Keep Your Eye on The Child" the Blanche Sims PTA program to be presented today at 8 p.m. will be "How Your Child Learns to Read."

Dr. Harry Hahn, director of the Reading Clinic of the Oakland County Board of Education will be the speaker.

The High School vocal department under the direction of Evelyn Micheleti will sing several selections.

Final action on the revision of by-laws; the report of the immunization program by the health chairman; and discussion of a spring carnival will complete the program.

North Branch

The meeting of the PTA, to be at 8 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 7, will be highlighted by a Founders' Day program by Margaret Banks of the school faculty. The program will honor the two co-founders and also the past presidents of the North Branch PTA.

An Americanization quiz will be under the direction of Mrs. Harry Sealey. Carol and Sharon DeGrow will have charge of special music.

After the business meeting lunch will be served in the Home Ec room.

Seek New Branch of City Post Office

According to Miss Patricia McMahon, 204 W. Chicago Ave., some 1,500 persons have signed.

Miss McMahon said the petitions would be submitted to acting Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean after a Feb. 15 meeting of the Wever - Owen - Hawthorne Community Club.

Mrs. George W. Gray Sr., 54 E. Yale Ave., president of the club, said the proposal would be discussed at this meeting.

Monday Club Host to 100 at Romeo Tonight

ROMEO—Monday Club members will play host to their husbands and special guests at their mid-winter special dinner and program tonight at St. John Lutheran Church.

Area Public Invited to Enjoy Rides

Ivory and Ponies Settle in Oakland

By STANLEY BOK
Press Correspondent

A short conversation with John F. Ivory leaves you with the feeling that he would be a success in any venture.

While the name is quite well known from coast to coast in connection with his long distance moving and storage business, Ivory is even better known around Detroit for his deep-seated fondness for people (especially children), horses and the sport of polo.

For years he brought the best polo teams in the country to Ivory Field at Eight Mile and Lasher roads in Detroit. In addition he provided free rides on ponies and horse-drawn vehicles to thousands of children in the area.

The scarcity of vacant property in Detroit finally reached a point where it was economically wise for Ivory to sell his Detroit polo site. This move, while it provided land for new homes in Detroit, could be described as Detroit's loss and Oakland County's gain.

For Ivory selected the old Pitchaven estate, at 9960 Cooley Lake road, as the new home for his prized stable of ponies and horses, also for a new polo field. The estate encompasses 140 acres of scenic terrain, featuring a private lake and a winding river.

Immediately he set forth into transforming the estate into the realization of a dream. He personally directed a face-lifting project that involved the removal of 2,500 big trees and the construction of about five miles of roads.

The roads were needed to insure absolute safety to a mild form of advertising—that of giving free rides to children and adults who visit the Ivory establishment on the week-ends.

There are no strings attached to an offer that anyone is welcome to enjoy a pony ride, a ride in an old-fashioned cutter or a ride in one of several large sleds. There is no cost and adults may stay warm in the Ivory home while the youngsters ride to their hearts' content.

Even though his free invitation is not widely known around Oakland County at the present time a recent Sunday found about 2,000 adults and children enjoying the rides.

Schools and social organizations are taking advantage of the Ivory facilities. Since the largest sleigh will hold from 30 to 50 persons, large groups are just as welcome as smaller ones.

As an added offer, Ivory is willing to transport his ponies to any worthy organization wishing to raise money by selling rides. There is no charge assessed to the organization.

'Too Few Inoculated' in Oakland Polio Drive

Although well over $42,000 was collected for the March of Dimes on the Mothers' March this year in South Oakland County alone, what good can all this money do when so many parents are neglecting to have their children inoculated?

This is the question posed by Ernie Goldsworthy of Ferndale, campaign chairman for South Oakland Mothers' March, who said, "Less than 50 per cent of our youngsters have not received their first shot." He also said that "Everyone connected with the drive spent considerable time and energy in doing so" and he wished he could thank them all in person.

However, "It's a shame to raise all this money and not have parents take advantage of it. Vaccine is free for the asking, yet somehow we can't seem to get that across to some people."

Goldsworthy, a member of the Ferndale Exchange Club, said that he and other members are working on a plan to bring the vaccine into schools in the Ferndale area so that each child would be certain to be protected against polio. They are hoping to get together with the American Medical Assn. and have their project under way as soon as possible.

If other communities would do the same, he added, not only would it insure better safety for our children, but would make worthwhile all the time and effort put forth by the volunteers for so worthy a cause.

State Mailmen Meet in City

Hear Leaders Voice Plea for Pay Increase to Postal Workers

More than 300 Michigan mailmen met in Pontiac Saturday evening to hear leaders demand Congressional action to boost postal workers salaries.

Featured speaker at the dinner meeting, held in the Congregational Church, was James Rademacher, regional representative of the National Association of Lettercarriers.

Rademacher urged support of Senate Bill 27 which would raise the starting pay for mailmen from the present $3,660 a year to $5,500.

He stressed the number of persons leaving postal service for higher paying jobs in industry and business to show need for higher wages and added that post office salaries have risen 110 percent since 1940 as compared with 150 percent for all other occupations.

Rademacher asked support, too, for Senate Bill 21 to increase pension benefits for retired postmen.

He announced that 300 rallies are planned Feb. 10-16 in congressional districts across the country to secure support for the two bills. Oakland County mailmen will meet Feb. 13 in Royal Oak for this purpose.

TROY — Surprise element is viewed for this evening as Troy city commissioners schedule their "no agenda" meeting.

"There is nothing new to come before the commissioners. They will meet, of course, and spend the evening 'tying up loose ends.'"

Bands Play 'Rock' at Athletic Events

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Rock 'n' roll music sometimes condemned as bad for juveniles, today was recommended by Illinois high school music teachers as a good way to arouse school spirit.

A band and chorus instructor from Chester High School, here with colleagues from throughout the state for the Illinois Music Educators Assn. conference, said rock 'n' roll is used to good effect particularly at basketball games.

"Without exception every band in Southern Illinois plays it at games," Wayne M. Thorne said. "It elicits howls and whistles and they think I've got a great band because of it."

Generally, instructors interviewed said they felt the "restless" quality in the music had no appreciable effect on students' morals or manners.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

'Time Not Yet' for World Bank —Food Director

WASHINGTON (INS) — The director-general of the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations is opposed to any creation now of a world food bank.

B. R. Sen, an Indian, told newsmen at the Agriculture Department that the global food reserve proposal, rejected by the FAO, imposes many difficult problems which are not easily solved.

He said "the present time is not opportune" for establishing any food stockpile in the world. He added, however, that continuous studies are being made by the FAO on all aspects of the problems involved.

Steels Reverse Early Downturn

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to a point or more to give a slightly higher tone to a previously mixed market. But there was a good assortment of losers.

The market was irregular at the start with leading steels continuing their decline of Friday. The steel group, however, staged a sudden reversal of its trend, erasing losses and establishing gains.

Other stocks advanced in sympathy. Coppers, which had shown little change previously, displayed a mingling of plus and minus sign

Reports of declining order backlogs for steel and of further price cuts in copper backgrounded early market action. There was no important news over the weekend to impel prices either way.

Bethlehem wiped out loss of about a point and rose fractionally. Youngstown replaced a fractional loss with a gain of a point or so. U. S. Steel went ahead after initial easiness.

General dynamics and Du Pont gained about a point each. International Paper, Westinghouse Electric, American Cyanamid and Douglas Aircraft were other gainers.

ONE-NIGHT STAND — Anatole Litvak, veteran movie director, is well aware that he has only chance to score a hit with the 90-minute color telecast of "Mayerling" tonight at 8 o'clock over NBC. Along with Audrey Hepburn and Mel Ferrer (above), who will star in the Austrian tragedy, Litvak has been striving to make the drama letter-perfect before air time.

Harpo and Chico Marx Illustrate Latest Trend in Video Selling

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Television commercials are going commercial.

It's been a long and—for viewers—tiresome process, but a gradually increasing number of video vendors seem to be learning that commercials with liberal coatings of entertainment will sell more beans, bricks or bustles than high-pressure chatter.

This is not to say, of course, that obnoxious commercials are extinct. They are as pernicious as anemia.

It sometimes seems, in fact, that some TV advertisers are dedicated to discovering how repugnant they can make their sales spiels without provoking mass suicide on the part of viewers.

But commercials with that certain quality of amusement that endears them to a weary public are becoming more and more frequent, which seems to indicate a brighter future for all addicts of the great glass eye.

Such milestones along the path of progress as the "Mr. Magoo" commercials, the beer-selling little beavers and those motor car ads with the long "O" are as encouraging as a reprieve to a condemned man.

VETERAN ZANIES

The latest decision in favor of John Q. (buying) Public was to replace misty-eyed models with those two veteran zanies, Harpo and Chico Marx, in plugging permanent wave goo.

The move, incidentally, put the boys in the same show with brother Groucho—"You Bet Your Life"—for the first time in more than a dozen years.

"But the object," explained Chico, "is to do something different in the way of a commercial — something the audience may not turn off.

"Now I saw a cigarette commercial the other night that would make you sick. The guy plays around lovingly with this cigarette and then puffs it with a look of ecstacy on his face.

"But you know darned well that if you gave him 10 cigarettes to smoke, he couldn't pick out the one he's plugging.

JUST ENTERTAINING

Naturally, Chico didn't go into commercials out of any desire to uplift the medium or out of any particular liking for permanent waves—except in the right places.

He's yearning to emulate brother Groucho as a TV regular, and he hopes the commercials "may lead to something."

Man Discovers Non-Existent Job Pays No Salary

ALBUQUERQUE (INS)—It started last November when E. L. Thomson and Mrs. Thomson ran on opposite sides of the ticket for the non-existent job of county school superintendent.

County schools were abolished years ago when the city school system grew. The post of superintendent, because of a state law, remained on the ballot but was never sought previously.

After election Thomson announced he thought the job was worth $7,200 a year and he would sue to get it.

When his first $600 check failed to arrive after Jan. 31 he found himself without anyone to sue.

His attorneys have petitioned district court to appoint a county school board so that Thomson sue it for his salary.

That Wasn't Cricket!

SIDNEY (INS) — Former Australian cricket star Ernie Toshack appeared today in a police court at Katoomba charged with stealing 59 coils of copper wire. Toshack, 39 and married, is employed as a lineman by the Australian Railways Department. The hearing was postponed to Feb. 18.

Open New Lead in Grimes Case

Teenage Gang Assault Brings Arrest to Boys; Admits Knowing Sisters

CHICAGO (INS) — A reign of terror by young gang toughs in a park near the home of the two slain Chicago sisters led police today along a new path of investigation.

Three members of a teenaged gang were arrested yesterday on charges of assaulting two brothers Jan. 24 in McKinley Park, just a block from the southwest side home of Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister, Patricia, 13.

A third beating victim, Gerald Gierut, a sailor, told police he was viciously assaulted while walking through the park on Dec. 29, the day after the sisters disappeared.

Two of the youths held, Richard Eyrnes, 18, and Robert Darding, 18, were arrested previously and questioned about the crime after it was learned they both knew the Grimes family.

Gierut and the other two victims, Kenneth Kenkart, 17, also a sailor, and his brother Robert, 18, all were hospitalized.

Police said they also learned a bowling alley employe had been run out of the neighborhood and another threatened by the young gang who stalked the dimly-lit park.

Whirlpool-Seeger Will Lay Off 280

ST. JOSEPH (INS)—Whirlpool-Seeger Corp. is layng off 280 employes following union rejection of a four-day week to spread out the work.

Local 1918 of the International Assn. of Machinists voted Saturday to hold the company to a contract calling for a 5-day work week.

The company said the "annual winter sales slump" in home appliances made it necessary to reduce the work force.

The Whirlpool-Seeger Division in St. Joseph makes automatic washers and combination washers-dryers. Its normal employment is about 2,400.

3rd Newsman Exits Peiping, Faces Quiz

MOSCOW (INS)—The third American newsman to defy the State Department's ban on travel in Red China has returned to Moscow.

William Worthy of the Baltimore Afro-American declined to make any comment on his arrival by plane from Peiping. He was expected to spend several days in the Soviet capital before leaving for home.

The other two newsmen, correspondent Edmund Stevens and photographer Phil Harrington of Look magazine, returned in late January. The State Department had announced in December the passports of all three would be revoked. However, the American Embassy reportedly was instructed to question the three men but not to take any action on their passports.

New Jersey has more motor vehicles than all of Africa.

Texas Pioneer Dies at Age 96

Trail Driver Wrote 9 Books, Fought Indians as Cattle Rancher

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Harry H. Halsell, 96, trail driver, Indian fighter and author who credited his long life to numerous guns and the ability to use them, died quietly in his home here yesterday.

Halsell, who said he got his first six-shooter when he was 7, was born Oct. 1, 1860, in Clarksville, Tex., and ranched in Texas and New Mexico many years.

Later he became an author and wrote nine books, including an autobiography, about life on the cattle trails in the 19th century.

"I realize now," he wrote in 1941, "that for three decades, from 1870 to 1900, the habit of being well armed saved my life on several occasions."

By the age of 11, he was a regular hand helping his father drive cattle north from Texas. He once helped drive a herd down Commerce Street here when Fort Worth was a frontier town.

He had driven his stock into a small valley with only one entrance and bedded them down. Near midnight he spotted a group of Apaches riding toward him in the moonlight.

Halsell said he mounted his horse, held the reins in his teeth and fired a six-gun in each hand as he charged the group. The Indians, believing a large band was attacking them, scattered and Halsell escaped. He said he later learned the famous Geronimo had been in the lead and the band had just ambushed a stage coach.

Halsell, who moved here from Lubbock in 1945, turned to writing when his trail days were over. He had nine books on Western lore published.

Cause of Crash Still a Mystery

Instruments Were OK, Says Pilot; Didn't Know Anything Was Wrong

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Alva R. Marsh says he doesn't know what caused his airliner to crash 12 seconds after takeoff. The crash claimed 20 lives.

Marsh's account of the crash was relayed to newsmen yesterday by Alfred A. Lane, vice president of Northeast Airlines. The 48-year-old veteran pilot is being kept "in seclusion" by the airline at an undisclosed location.

"I didn't know anything was wrong," Marsh said, until copilot Basil Dixwell "informed me the ground was coming up at us."

"I was looking at the instruments at the time. They were all working properly," he added.

More than half of the survivors were injured. Thirty-six remain in three hospitals, 14 of them on the critical list. Five victims were identified yesterday, bringing to 13 the number identified thus far.

The Marsh account contrasted with earlier remarks attributed to him that he experienced a "loss of power" immediately after taking off for Miami, the plane's destination.

Marsh also had been quoted after the crash as saying he thought the airplane had struck a pole on the island.

The Civil Aeronautics Board inquiry into the crash, meanwhile, continued without finding any official cause. Joseph O. Fluet, chief investigator in New York, said he hoped to open a public hearing within three weeks.

He did, however, tentatively rule out the possibility that the plane had struck a pole on the island. He said he toured the area closely with a helicopter and found "nothing to indicate" that the plane had struck a pole.

Chicago Strip Busiest

CHICAGO—Chicago's Midway Airport was the nation's busiest during the 1956 fiscal year. It handled 366,079 arrivals and departures exclusive of local flights. Second busiest, with 260,661 flights, was New York's La Guardia Field, and third was Washington's National Airport with 237,590.

One More Reduction by Soviet Head Men

MOSCOW (AP)—The Supreme Soviet of the USSR has changed the national emblem. It reduced by one the number of languages in which the Soviet motto, "proletarians of all countries, unite" appears on the emblem, to match the reduction in Soviet states from 16 to 15. At the year's end the popular magazine "Ogonek" printed a colored reproduction of the new emblem.

Oil Fumes Overcome Sunday School Class

ROBINSON, Ill. (AP) — Fumes from an oil heater in a church basement overcame a Sunday school teacher and 11 children yesterday and the incident was described by a pastor as "the work of the devil."

The Rev. William Frank Sipes, pastor of the Full Gospel Assembly Church, discovered the victims when he opened the classroom door. He summoned aid from others in the Church and the children and teacher, Jack Wells, were taken outdoors.
