Fireman Dies in Blaze

AT WASHINGTON — Firemen carry Capt. George Flaherty from an early morning fire in Washington today. He later was pronounced dead. Seventeen other firemen were overcome by smoke in fighting a blaze in a shoe repair and hardware shop. Ten persons in apartments were routed and one man, 50, was rescued. Origin of the fire, seven blocks from the Capitol, was not immediately determined.

School Building State Loan Plan Gets Senate OK

Needs House Approval This Week for Spot on Ballot April 4

LANSING (AP)—A plan for a 100 million dollar state bond issue to underwrite local school construction was reached in the Senate and rushed over to the House today to meet a fast-approaching deadline for action.

The Senate, reversing a previous 21-8 defeat of the measure, passed it 25-7 under heavy pressure from the school lobby and Republican leaders.

The House must act this week on the plan if it is to be submitted to the people at the April 4 election.

The reversal was accomplished by four senators.

Sens. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) and John Minnema (R-Traverse City) switched from their previous negative votes. Sen. Arthur Dehmel (R-Unionville), who did not vote the first time, voted affirmatively yesterday and Sen. Don Vanderwerp (R-Fremont) was rushed back from a Detroit meeting by sponsors of the plan to cast a cinching vote.

Under the plan, the state will issue bonds and loan money to hard-pressed school districts for classroom construction. Only districts levying 13 mills on equalized valuations for debt service would be eligible.

They must continue to levy that amount until the state is repaid. Districts could also refund existing bonds to get lower interest rates.

Negative votes were cast by Sens. Frank N. Beadle (R-St. Clair), Lewis G. Christman (R-Ann Arbor), Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland), Clarence F. Graebner (R-Saginaw), Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) and Charles T. Prescott (R-Prescott).

Sen. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) attacked the measure, although he voted for it. He said

SEATO Moves to Strengthen Asian Defenses

8 Nations Implementing Treaty Against Commie Attacks, Subversives

BANGKOK (AP) — Manila Pact nations took specific steps today to implement the Southeast Asia Defense Treaty against Communist aggression and subversion south of Red China's borders.

The eight-nation conference set up a Council of Representatives with ambassadorial status and headquarters in Bangkok.

Then the member nations approved the formation of a committee on military affairs. Military attaches attending the meeting went right to work, although few of them are expected to be on the permanent committee which will be named later.

With that out of the way, the delegates swung into a discussion of antisubversion action and over-all economic problems in this part of the world.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles told the conference that a general answer to Red subversion would not be found in the present meeting. But he said the United States would be prepared to designate a security representative to sit with representatives of other nations and work out details of future plans.

A working paper submitted to the conference called for mutual assistance, exchange of information on suspected persons and their activities, propaganda, and exchange of information on the movements of known Communists.

The antisubversion subcommittee would meet anywhere in the SEATO area when called upon.

Three economic plans were submitted.

One, from Pakistan, suggested a separate economic body meet in Karachi for its first meeting. The Philippines submitted a modified economic plan, and France submitted a third.

A spokesman said none of the plans had been adopted.

Dragging River for Lost Pair

Police, 200 Volunteers Hunt Saginaw Children Who Disappeared

SAGINAW (AP)—State Police and some 200 volunteers began dragging operations today of the snow-swollen Flint River in search for two children who disappeared yesterday from their farm home some 10 miles southeast of Saginaw.

More than 150 volunteers scanned the area all night after foot prints believed to have belonged to the youngsters were found on the banks of Pine Creek where it empties into the Flint River.

Missing are 10-year-old Charles Schram and his 8-year-old sister, Georgianna. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Schram, said the children came home from school yesterday, went out to play, and disappeared.

A boat for dragging operations was brought from Bay City while State Police as far north as West Branch and the Tawases were ordered on the scene.

Senate Sticks With Own Plan for Highways

Bipartisan Bill Calls for Placement on Michigan Ballot April 4

LANSING (AP)—The Republican-controlled House and Gov. Williams rushed action on a bipartisan highway program today, while the Republican-controlled Senate went off in a different direction.

After Republican and Democrat caucuses, House members agreed to pass a bill calling for an April 4 referendum on a 1½-cent per gallon gas tax increase and a 25 per cent increase in truck license fees, the money to be divided on the present highway distribution formula—44 per cent to the state, 37 per cent to the counties and 19 per cent to the cities.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), Republican floor leader, said the Senate would go ahead with its plan for a 1½-cent a gallon gas tax increase and a 25 per cent boost in truck license fees, the money to be split 75 per cent to the state and 25 per cent to local units.

Unlike the House plan, the Senate proposal would not be submitted to the voters.

Coleman said the Senate plan would provide 28 million dollars next year for trunklines, while Williams' compromise would provide only 16.8 millions.

Coleman charged Williams had abandoned his determination to build up the arterial system.

The House bill would give the State Administrative Board power to issue bonds for highway construction. State and local units could use their share of the extra money for pay-as-you-go construction or to finance revenue bonds.

Devised during a meeting between Gov. Williams and key members of the House Roads Committee, the House bill repre-

Colder Weather Is Expected Here

Spring will have to wait a little longer. The brief warm spell will end and much colder weather with occasional snow will arrive tonight and tomorrow, according to the weatherman.

Following temperatures in the 30's, and even into the 40's last weekend, the mercury will drop to a low of 12 to 16 tonight, rising to a high of only 22 to 26 tomorrow. Cloudy skies will be evident most of today and tomorrow, continuing into Saturday, the U. S. Weather Bureau says.

Friday night's low will be from 16 to 20 with rising temperatures expected Saturday.

Yesterday in downtown Pontiac the mercury ranged from 20 to 36 degrees with sunny skies most of the day. Today at 8 a.m. the thermometer reading was 30 degrees, rising to 40 by 2 p.m.

Both Sides Eying Victory in Tax Cut Ballot Today

WASHINGTON (INS)—House Democrats appeared to be holding their own today against stubborn Republican opposition to an income tax cut of $20 for each man, woman and child.

Both sides predicted victory in the fight which comes to a showdown vote late today on the floor of the House but key Republicans conceded privately that the Democrats hold the upper hand.

The final vote on the measure could be delayed until tomorrow, if debate is prolonged.

GOP leaders, heartened by President Eisenhower's vigorous attack on the tax-cutting proposal, called Republican House members to a 9:30 a.m. (EST) closed-door pep talk against the Democratic move.

Assistant minority floor leader Charles Halleck (R-Ind) hesitatingly predicted defeat for the tax reduction. He said a poll of members shows a few defections and forecast that the outcome will be "10 votes either way."

The chief executive branded the Democratic proposal an "insidious thing" which would hurt the whole country. He declared: "We simply cannot have this kind of thing in responsible government."

Eisenhower, however, refused to rule out a tax reduction next year and denied that further taxpayer relief must wait until the budget is balanced.

However, both House speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and majority leader John McCormick (D-Mass) confidently predicted approval of the income tax cut which

Raise of at Least 50 Pct. Assured for Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A pay raise of at least 50 per cent was assured today for senators and House members. A 67 per cent boost—as voted by the House—appeared probable.

The Senate yesterday rolled up a big vote, 62-24, in favor of an increase in congressional pay from the present $15,000 to $22,500.

The measure was at once sent to conference with the House, which last week voted 283-118 for a $25,000 salary.

Both versions include boosts of $7,500 to $10,000 for all the approximately 400 federal judges.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) and Sen. Potter (R-Mich) were among the 62 senators who voted for the raise.

The five Senate conferees on the bill include several members who favor at least a $25,000 salary. This seemed to make it quite likely that the House figure would be accepted in the end.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn), heading the Senate group, told a reporter, "We will defend the Senate position as strongly as we can." But he added if House conferees are adamant, "we will have to make some adjustment."

The three House conferees all

Missouri Crash Kills 9 Airmen

2 Crewmen Parachute to Safety as AF Craft Plunges, Explodes

WINDSOR, Mo. (AP)—A four-engined Air Force tanker plane on a refueling training mission caught fire shortly after takeoff last night, crashed and exploded. Nine of the 11 men aboard were killed.

Two crewmen parachuted to safety as the flaming craft neared the ground.

None of the crew was from Michigan.

The plane, which took off from the Sedalia Air Force base, crashed on a farm about six miles northwest of this central Missouri town.

A conductor riding in a caboose on a Rock Island freight train saw the huge craft flaming in the air.

"In a matter of seconds it had burst into a regular torch," said Asa Gunn, 62, Eldon, Mo., "and then it disappeared over a knoll ahead of the engine.

"There was an awful flash—it went way up in the air. I knew then the plane had crashed and exopided, though I couldn't hear the noise because of the train."

Paul Gregory, a farmer who lives near the scene, said one of the survivors told him the fire first appeared in the tail and that pressure made it difficult to open the doors to jump.

"They said they had parachuted from the plane at an altitude of less than 75 feet," Gregory said. "One of them said he landed on his head and the other said he landed on his feet."

Later, however, the crewmen told Air Force officials they parachuted from altitudes of between 200 and 300 feet.

Second Speaker Named for Fluoridation Meeting

An added speaker, Dr. Chester V. Tossy, associate chief of the dental division of the Michigan State Department of Public Health, will appear at tonight's public meeting on fluoridation in the Pontiac High School auditorium. The meeting is set for 8 p.m.

Dr. Tossy is assistant to Dr. Fred Wertheimer, chief of the State Health Department's dental section, who will be the principal speaker for tonight's meeting.

CARE Relief Halted to 8 Europe Nations

NEW YORK (AP) — The relief agency, "CARE," announced today it is halting its shipping services to eight Western European nations because they now are able to stand on their own feet.

Paul Comly French, the agency's executive director, said that 85 per cent of the current shipments to those countries are "luxury packages," instead of actual relief items.

Countries to which shipments are being halted are Great Britain, France, Belgium, Austria, Norway, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany, with the exception of Berlin.

Arms Debate Opens in Bonn

Predict House OK on Pacts Giving Germany Role in Defense Plan

BONN, Germany (AP)—Overriding a Socialist motion for postponement, the lower House of the West German Parliament today opened a crucial three-day debate on the Paris treaties to arm 500,000 Germans in Western defense.

Most observers agreed with government predictions that the pacts would win final approval.

Armed antiriot police guarded the Parliament building against possible demonstrations as the Bundestag brushed aside the opposition Socialist move on a show of hands.

Socialist Deputy Chairman Carlo Schmid said ratification of the treaties would wreck any chance of reuniting divided Germany. He said the Socialists were more convinced than ever that Russian readiness to settle the German problem should again be tested by the Western powers at the conference table.

Replying for the government, Christian Democrat Deputy Kurt Kiesinger declared the only way to reunification was through ratification. West Germany must first achieve security before it can restore freedom and security to the 18 million Germans in the Soviet zone, he added.

Adenauer and members of his Cabinet were on hand as the session began. Diplomatic and press galleries in the chamber were packed.

Electronic Brain Finds Jupiter's Wandering Moon

NEW YORK (AP) — An electronic brain has "rediscovered" in record time the eighth moon of Jupiter, unsighted by astronomers since 1941.

Use of the electronic device—the Univac—was announced yesterday at a news conference by Dr. Paul Herget, director of the Cincinnati Observatory.

Computations made by Univac, Herget said, enabled the eighth moon to be sighted from the Mt. Wilson, Calif. Observatory on the night of Jan. 25.

In 20 minutes, Herget said, the calculator plotted the astral path of the "missing" moon up to 1980.

50th Anniversary Observed

Dr. Farnham Tells Rotarians to Look to Young Members for Future Service

Warning that Rotarians could not rest on laurels earned over the past half-century, Dr. Lucius A. Farnham last night told the Pontiac Rotary Club he looked to the young members to carry the organization's service record to "a higher plateau."

"I talked about old fellows tonight, and I didn't enjoy it," he told 135 Rotarians and their wives at Devon Gables.

"I'm interested in the young fellows and what they are doing. I hope they will reach a higher plateau where the work will be of greater value to us, to Pontiac and to the U.S.A."

Dr. Farnham, one of 22 charter members of the Pontiac club 33 years ago, was principal speaker at the local observance of the international group's golden anniversary.

He revealed some of his intimate memories of his fellow charter members, most of whom are now deceased.

Prior to Dr. Farnham's talk, the original members were officially recognized by Dr. Harold A. Furlong, club president.

Special recognition went to the local club's first president, Hiland H. Thatcher. Thatcher, now retired, was given a plaque as a memento of his years of service.

Entertainment was furnished by the Pontiac High School senior girls' ensemble.

DR. LUCIUS A. FARNHAM

CHICAGO (INS) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and Arthur H. Compton, Nobel prize winning physicist, have called for world brotherhood and understanding as the best defense against atomic destruction.

Both Summerfield and Compton also told 900 guests at the Rotary International Golden Jubilee dinner in Chicago last night that Americans must work for peace.

Summerfield, citing the destructive power of the H-bomb, said the greatest challenge to the Rotary is to help bring about world brotherhood for peace. He added:

"Peace must be worked for, it must be earned, it must be won, day by day, with perseverance, with imagination, with the strength and confidence that comes from the deep faith of our people."

Lenten Services Open Here

Lent is a serious, sacrificial season of the church year. It is a time when Christians give thought to a closer relationship with God through acts of self-denial and spiritual study.

The traditional Ash Wednesday services were held here yesterday in the Roman Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal Churches.

All churches are stressing extra religious services with guest speakers, special study and music.

During the Lenten season, the First, Central, Oakland Park and Wilson Avenue Methodist Churches are holding meetings and family suppers on Wednesday nights. Guest speakers and religious films will be a part of the programs.

The First Assembly of God Church is holding meetings on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights this week with foreign missionaries as guest speakers. The Rev. and Mrs. Leonard M. Nipper, missionaries to Japan, will report on their work at Kobe this evening at 7:45.

Friday night the Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Horst, missionaries to China and the Philippines, will tell of their experiences.

An evangelistic Crusade will be sponsored at the Covert Methodist Church from Feb. 27 through March 6, with the Rev. Arthur Howard of Fenton the guest preacher.

John Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be presented Sunday at 4 p.m. at Kirk in the Hills on W. Long Lake Rd. It will be sung by the Cathedral Choir with soloists Norma Heyde, soprano, Arlene Sollenberger, contralto, Harol Hough, tenor and Stanley Kimes, bass.

This meditation on the Sacred Passion will be directed by Frederick Marriott, organist and choirmaster. The Rev. Harold C. DeWindt will conduct the service.

All Saints Episcopal Church of Pontiac and St. James Episcopal of Birmingham will join with Christ Church Cranbrook in sponsoring four lectures to be given by Bishop Richard S. Emrich at Christ Church on the first four Thursdays in March. Supper will be served at 7 p.m. and the meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the church.

Other churches that are having special services during Lent and Holy Week will announce them later.

Endicott Will Hearing Slated

Paper Has Been Filed in Probate Court for Late Hills Man

A will valued at upwards of $85,000 has been filed in Oakland County Probate Court by attorneys for John Endicott, 87, of Bloomfield Hills, who died Feb. 6.

Hearings are slated for May 9 before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Endicott, a Detroit business man and civic leader since the turn of the century, was operating a 115-acre dairy farm at Quarton and Chesterfield Rds. at his death.

The petition for probate listed real estate holdings estimated at $35,000 plus stocks and bonds valued at $50,000. The complete listing is expected to run the total higher.

In the will, Endicott left everything in equal shares to his three children, Mrs. Stanley E. Read, of Vancouver, B. C.; Dr. Elizabeth T. Endicott, of Cleveland; and Robert R., of New York City.

House and Williams Push Highway Bill

sented a major concession on Williams' part.

Williams conceded the House bill was not what he wanted, but said it would give the arterial system a "good start."

Highway experts estimated the House bill would finance an 250 million dollar bond issue.

The biggest problem facing backers of the bill was how to get it through the Senate in time for a place on the April ballot.

The bill would not be eligible for passage by the Senate until Tuesday, at the earliest. This is beyond the original deadline, but leaders hoped the deadline could be extended.

Senate leaders gave the House bill only a slim chance of passing. Coleman said there is still no interest in the Senate in a bond issue or in submitting any proposal to the voters this spring.

The Senate, Coleman said, will write its own bill and send it to the House, meanwhile receiving the House bill for study and amendments.

Republicans agreed in a Senate caucus yesterday to give two-thirds of the 25 per cent local tax increase to counties, and asked the Senate Highway Committee to consider using that for county primary roads only. The cities would get one-third of the 25 per cent.

This would give northern Michigan counties a "break," and compensate for the fact that the state's money would be spent principally on southern Michigan tr[illegible]nes, Coleman said.

100 on Buses Saved in English Storm

LONDON (UP) — Snowplows burrowed through giant drifts today and rescued 100 persons marooned all night in three buses in northern England. The passengers, trapped near Fimber in Yorkshire, were uninjured but cold and hungry.

Elsewhere in England snow continued to fall steadily. Many regions had drifts 10 feet deep for the first time in many years.

Seas were rough for small craft. For the third day in succession all fishing craft were kept in port at Bridlington on the east coast.

Three Rochester Men Charged With Breakin

Three Rochester men, charged with breaking into a grocery store last Feb. 7, were bound over yesterday for arraignment in Circuit Court by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

Held in Oakland County Jail under $5,000 bond are Jack Baker, 34, of 1007 W. Third, Thomas Bell, 31, of 1458 Courtland, and Charles Alverson Jr., 25, of 123 Woodward.

THOMAS J. BRADY

Thomas Brady Dies on Coast

Death Takes Former General Manager of Wilson Foundry

Thomas J. Brady, former general manager of the Wilson Foundry & Machine Co., and widely known in the industrial world, died last night after several months illness in Santa Barbara, Calif. The Bradys moved from here to California six years ago.

Mr. Brady was born in Covington, Ky., Nov. 11, 1890, and was married in Detroit in 1936 to Helen Barron of Windsor, Ont., Canada.

Coming to Pontiac in 1920, he was employed at the Wilson Foundry, where he was later general manager. He was exalted ruler of Elks BPOE Lodge 810 on two different occasions, president of Michigan State Elks and also commander of Cook-Nelson Post of the American Legion.

Mr. Brady was one of the original members of the trial board for the city of Pontiac.

He is survived by one son, Thomas Vale, at home; two sisters, and one brother, Sister M. Pauline of the Order of Notre Dame of Philadelphia, Pa., Mrs. John Wylie, and Lawrence Vale Brady, both of Santa Barbara.

The Rosary will be recited at the family home in Santa Barbara Friday evening. Funeral service will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. from Old Mission Church.

Both Sides Eying Victory in Tax Fight

would become effective Jan. 1, 1956.

Republicans label the plan "irresponsible" because it ignores the budget needs of the nation and called it a "political maneuver."

Republicans clearly counted on the President's strong position to pull them through what Halleck said will be a "tough battle." Halleck told newsmen Eisenhower's remarks "had a tremendous impact on the country."

The proposal, which would cost the government about two billion, 100 million dollars in revenue a year, is tied to a measure extending present rates on corporation income and excise taxes due to go down April 1. Failure to extend these rates would mean a loss of about three billion dollars in revenue.

About five million persons would be relieved of paying any federal income taxes at all by the Democratic proposal. Republicans say they will use this as one of the main arguments against the proposal on the grounds that they believe everyone should pay at least some taxes.

School Building Plan Gets Senate Okay

he only did so because the people would make the final decision.

But, he said, the people should be warned the plan is really an "outright subsidy" for local schools since the loans probably will never be repaid.

This was denied by Sens. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), the sponsor, and Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek).

Coleman said the proposal specifies the borrowing districts must repay the loans. The legislature might "get generous" 25 years from now, he said, but that is not the intention of the present sponsors.

Christman argued it would be better to amend the 15-mill tax limitation to let school districts borrow for longer periods and thus obtain lower interest rates.

Young Slayer Moved to Jail

Floyd Diamond Ordered Held Here for March 2 Hearing

Floyd Diamond, 16, confessed slayer of 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin, of Farmington Township, was moved from the Oakland County Children's Home to the county jail last night on orders of Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

A series of psychiatric examinations, given the youth since last week were reported completed yesterday.

Diamond, who admitted the killing within three hours of his capture last Thursday, had been held in the children's home, where the tests were given.

Explaining the order to hold the youth in jail instead of the home, Judge Moore said Diamond's stay at the home wasn't proving "good for the other children," held for minor infractions and as products of broken families.

The move was made for the "protection of the children and to prevent talk among them," he added.

Diamond is scheduled to appear at a hearing before Judge Moore Wednesday when decision will be made on a petition by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, asking that the youth be tried as an adult instead of a juvenile.

Pay Hike Assured by Senators' Vote

were strong backers of the $25,000 salary in that body.

Kefauver told the Senate yesterday he thought a $25,000 salary was "fully justified," and Senators Kilgore (D-WVa) and Dirksen (R-Ill), other conferees, have supported a $27,500 figure recommended last year by a special commission.

The salary boost will be the first since 1946 for the lawmakers. However, since then they have voted themselves an income tax deduction of up to $3,000 for living expenses in Washington. This is not affected by the pay legislation.

* * *

The Senate bill contains one bonus not included by the House. This would allow expenses for five trips to members' home states each year, in addition to the 20 cents a mile they now receive for one round trip.

Vice President Nixon and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) are assured of a $5,000 raise to $45,000 each. Both bills contain this.

Cheeks Demands Exam on Charge

William Cheeks, 20, of 20848 A Court, Ferndale, demanded examination yesterday when he appeared before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle. He is accused of manslaughter in a traffic accident which killed the wife of a former Pontiac police chief.

Mrs. Ella Rhodes, 62, died shortly after arrival at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital. Charles F. Rhodes, police chief here from March 5, 1938 to July 1, 1950, was treated for injuries received in the collision at Eight Mile and Southfield Rds. Feb. 20.

Police said Cheeks ran a stop sign. He is charged with not having his car under control.

Drayton Church PTA to See Movie Tonight

DRAYTON PLAINS — Parent-Teacher night of the junior department of the Community United Presbyterian Church Bible School will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the church.

In addition to providing an opportunity for parents and teachers to discuss matters of mutual interest, there will be a motion picture dealing with the value of religious training in the family. Parents of children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades have been invited.

PTA Study Group Set for Panel Talks Tonight

WILLIAMS LAKE—"Understanding of Self and Others," will be discussed at 8 p.m. tonight by the PTA study group at Williams Lake School. This is topic two of the University of Chicago adult education course, "Parenthood in a Free Nation.."

Mrs. George Underwood is chairman of the panel, and will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Spraker, Mrs. Leslie Pickup, Mrs. Glen Byington and Mrs. Marion Shipman.

The U.S. death rate in 1954 has been estimated at 9.2 per 1,000 people.

Gigantic A-Explosion Expected Tomorrow

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—The atomic proving ground north of Las Vegas was idle today because of unfavorable weather.

But if the weather turns good a big "shot" will be touched off tomorrow.

It will be the third blast in the current series of nuclear tests and will be about twice as powerful as the A-bombs that wrecked Hiroshima and Nagasaki during World War II.

The bomb will be fired from a 500-foot steel tower and some 1100 troops, stationed in trenches only 4000 yards from the tower, will take part in the test. One hundred aircraft also will participate.

Tobacco Heir Abandons Yacht

Craft Sinks When Fires Force Reynolds, Wife Into Lifeboat

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP)—Tobacco heir Richard J. Reynolds and his wife were forced to abandon their 53-foot yacht Scarlet O'Hara early today because of a series of fires which broke out while the luxury craft was at sea.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds took to a lifeboat with the yacht's captain and safely reached the beach by rowing and spreading a tarpaulin as a sail. The Scarlet O'Hara burned and sank.

The Coast Guard said a fuel leak developed and fire broke out at 2 a.m. while the vessel, known in boating circles as an express cruiser, was five miles off Miami Beach en route here from Nassau.

* * *

Reynolds and the captain extinguished the blaze. Another fire blazed up and was extinguished. As fast as one blaze was put out another flared up. The fire extinguishers were soon empty.

* * *

Reynolds assisted his wife over the side and he and the captain joined her.

A Coast Guard rescue craft was dispatched but the Scarlet O'Hara disappeared in the darkness. It was located at daybreak, sunk except for the bow rising above the surface. An effort was being made to get the derelict into shallow water because of its hazard to navigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds went into retirement after reaching land.

Exam Is Postponed in Felonious Assault

The examination on a felonious assault charge of Williamina Purdy, 28, has been postponed until March 31 on request of her attorney, according to Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Miss Purdy is charged with firing a .22 slug which wounded her niece, Mrs. Eleanor M. LaRousa, 33, of 714 Raeburn St., Jan. 28.

Mrs. LaRousa went to the Purdy home at Whipple Lake, Independence Township, about 3 a.m. and demanded entrance, State Police said. The shot was fired after the victim had broken a door window with her fist, they explained.

Miss Purdy claims she did not know it was her niece and became frightened when the window was shattered.

Driver Avoids Duck, but Wrecks Auto

A Bloomfield Hills motorist, who swerved his car in an attempt to avoid hitting a white duck in the road early today, was treated for injuries after losing control of his auto which struck a culvert, overturned and caught fire.

Melvin Sterner, 38, of 4873 Keithdale Lane, an engineer with Holly Carburetor, was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for cuts and bruises following the accident on Sixteen Mile road, west of Dequindre in Troy Township.

Passing motorists and neighbors who noticed the blazing auto tried to put out the fire. But Troy Township firemen had to be called when the fire got out of control.

Official birthdays of British sovereigns usually are observed in June and Queen Elizabeth II celebrates her birthday that month, although her real birthday is April 21.

Abraham Allen Dies in Detroit

Funeral Service Set Friday for City Scrap Dealer

Abraham Allen, 63, a scrap dealer in Pontiac for more than 50 years died yesterday at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. He lived at 214 E. Iroquois Rd.

ALLEN

Born in Poland Feb. 16, 1892, he was the son of Samuel and Gertrude Server Allen and was married to Dora Feinberg of Pontiac.

Samuel Allen, his father, organized S. Allen & Sons Inc., 22 Congress St., in 1905 and the three sons were associated with him. Abraham was the secretary.

Mr. Allen was a member of Congregation B'nai Israel, B'nai Brith and a member of Scrap Iron Institute.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Jack Flashberg of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Jack Soble of Rochester, N.Y.; one son, Daniel, at home and four grandchildren.

His two brothers, George of Detroit and Herbert of Pontiac, also survive.

The funeral will be held Friday at 12:30 p.m. from the Ira Kaufman Chapel, 9419 Dexter Blvd., Detroit.

In lieu of flowers, the family has asked that donations be made to the cancer fund.

Mrs. Charles H. Nicholson

Mrs. Charles H. (Julia Dankler) Nicholson, 45, of 2154 Avondale, Sylvan Lake, died suddenly early this morning at Pontiac General Hospital.

Born in Mt. Olive, Ill., Dec. 23, 1909, she was the daughter of John H. and Emilie Saussenthaler Dankler. She was married Oct. 11, 1930 in Litchfield, Ill.

Mrs. Nicholson came here from Detroit three years ago. She was a graduate nurse.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Julia Goetsch of Royal Oak and Nancy Nicholson, at home.

Friends may call at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home, 2904 Orchard Lake Ave. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

John Edward O'Rourke

John Edward O'Rourke, 64, of 2038 Knollwood Ave., died suddenly at his home last night.

Born in Sanilac County March 22, 1891, he was the son of Thomas and Mary Weisenberger O'Rourke and married Sophia Koblinski Jan. 10, 1910 in Gaylord. Coming here from Gaylord 30 years ago, he was a member of the St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church and was last employed as an arc welder at the GMC Truck & Coach Division where he had worked 25 years.

Besides his widow and mother, he is survived by five children, Sgt. Raymond with the United States 5th Army in Chicago, Frank of Clarkston, Edward, Mrs. Steve (Eleanor) Kenjalo, Mrs. Thomas (Agnes) McVay, all of Pontiac and two grandchildren.

Also surviving are: one sister, Mrs. Alice Nowaczyk of Pigeon; seven brothers, Michael and William of Vanderbilt, Vincent, Joseph and Marcus of Gaylord, Steven and Clement, both of Silverwood.

Arrangements will be announced later by the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home.

Ernest Adelbert Power

Ernest Adelbert Power, 61, of Bitely, a former Pontiac resident died Tuesday at St. Rita Hospital in Lima, Ohio.

He was born in Pontiac Aug. 2, 1893, the son of Delbert H. and Clarabelle LaMontain Power.

Delbert, his father was connected with the Oakland County Savings Bank and helped organize the Pontiac Commercial & Savings Bank.

A manufacturer's agent, Mr. Power was a member of Baldwin Lodge F & AM of Baldwin and Dwight Clinton Consistory of Grand Rapids.

He is survived by a brother, Robert, of Frankfort and a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Honsberger of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The funeral will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. from the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home with burial in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

The Day in Birmingham

Roll Call Drive Lagging as Deadline Approaches

BIRMINGHAM — With the deadline coming up Monday and the Community House Roll Call drive of $52,400 still lagging, Russell B. Robins, campaign chairman, emphasized that all contributions are tax deductible.

As of last night, $21,830 had been turned in, but Robins said most solicitors have not yet turned in their collections.

However, Robins and Harold Hagen, who heads business solicitations, urged businessmen to return their pledge cards or donations immediately.

In this, the final week of the campaign, 19 special solicitors have been named to try and contact every mercantile and commercial enterprise in the area.

"As the community grows, so does business in the area increase," Hagen said. "But then too, the needs of the Community House are greater. In order to reach our goal we need the strong support of every area business."

Tomorrow's World Day of Prayer observance will be marked by a special service here at 10 a.m. at St. James Episcopal Church. Sponsored locally by United Church Women, the program will include Mrs. Lynn Russell, president of the First Methodist Church Women's Society.

She will tell of the projects, mostly foreign, which will benefit from the offering. Rev. Harold Towne will administer Holy Communion. All persons have been invited.

* * *

Exchange Club members honored their fellow member, Ray Palmer, at this week's luncheon, also attended by city officials. Palmer holds the distinction of having served as Birmingham mayor, city commissioner and Board of Education member.

He has been a member of the local Cemetery Board and helped establish the Recreation Board, City Employe's Retirement Board and Community Council.

* * *

City Commissioners at a hearing this week found no public necessity for the debatable T-shaped alley which was proposed for the western end of the block bounded by Maple, Henrietta, Martin and Bates.

Lawmakers pointed out that all but two property owners involved would have the necessary access-egress requirements if B. Siegel Co. of Detroit completes plans for a branch on Bates between Maple and Martin. Services for the other two could be provided from Maple.

Quarton School gymnasium has been transformed into a storybook land for the PTA's Animal Fair to start at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow. Besides fun for the adults, children will see the movie, "Seal Island," and find a variety of games, magic, rides and surprises.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Robert C. Wyatt and Mrs. Vaughan Greene, added that there will be an evening meal for all.

* * *

A $500 reward has been offered for information leading to the return of Robert L. Perry, 50, of 1145 N. Woodward. The Detroit advertising man disappeared Feb. 2 and his abandoned car was discovered near the mouth of the Rouge River.

* * *

A breakin at McCallum & Dean, television and radio store at 409 E. Maple, netted thieves $645.58, police said today. Of the total taken from a cash register $407.04 was in checks.

Entry was gained through breaking the window in a rear door. Nothing else was disturbed.

French Cabinet Knuckles Down

Assembly Ends Crisis by Election of Faure as New Premier

PARIS (UP)—Faced with a mass of accumulated big problems, ministers in Premier Edgar Faure's new government plunged today into the task of learning their jobs quickly in advance of urgent decisions.

The National Assembly ended a 19-day governmental crisis last night by approving 309-210 Faure's bid to head France's 21st post-liberation government.

But only 4 of the 20 ministers picked by Faure, a Radical Socialist (moderate), for his conservative-toned Cabinet served in the previous government of Pierre Mendes-France. And two of the four have different jobs.

While most of the ministers have had previous Cabinet experience, they must catch up on the details of their new posts before venturing far in policy decisions.

Faure held the Foreign Office in the closing days of Mendes-France's term, after previously serving as finance minister. He must check out Antoine Pinay, the new foreign affairs chief, on international questions.

Motorist Returns Missing Vote Book

DETROIT (INS) — The case of the missing voters registration book was partially cleared up last night when 22-year-old Rogan King Dubose returned it.

But Dubose told police he found the book in a gutter (at Labelle and Woodrow Wilson) while "driving around" about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday. It had been stolen from a patrolman's car which the officer was loading with voting materials from Precinct 27 of Ward 10 at St. Mark Church.

Still unexplained were two telephone calls to election officials at City Hall Tuesday inquiring about a reward for the book. The caller hung up after City Clerk Thomas Leadbetter had offered $50 for return of the book.

Dies of Feb. 13 Injuries

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mrs. Norma Van Wagoner, 27, of Grand Rapids died Wednesday at Butterworth Hospital of injuries suffered in a traffic accident Feb. 13 near Ada, Kent County. Her husband, Carl, was killed in the accident.

Six men have used the office of Secretary of State as a stepping stone to the Presidency of the United States: Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Van Buren, and Buchanan.

Sends Rat Poison Case Back to Justice Court

IONIA (AP) — Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis yesterday remanded to justice court the case of Mrs. Edith White, 34, of Clarksville who is accused of putting rat poison in sandwiches she prepared for her husband, Floyd, 38.

The action was on petition of defense counsel on the ground Mrs. White was not represented by counsel when she waived a hearing on her arraignment before Justice of the Peace Richard Dodes. The hearing before Dodes is scheduled for next Wednesday.

Magic Eye to Check Veteran Documents

MILWAUKEE (UP)—The Veterans Administration has come up with a "magic eye" to replace the old "eagle eye" in inspection of documents for irregularities.

The VA said the new electronic eye could easily spot scratch-outs, obliterations, erasures and the like in documents relating to VA-administered benefits for veterans and their families.

Previously the VA depended on eye detection or a costly and time-consuming process of infra-red photography, often with inconclusive results. The VA said that the new "eye" can immediately spot any irregularities whether in ink, pencil or typing.

Under the device, which looks like a television camera, tampered portions of papers stand out in strong contrast. If a signature has been changed, the original signature will stand out clearly.

The device, according to the VA, was adapted from the infra-red "magic eye" used on world war II sniper rifles with built-in telescopes.

Howling Dogs May Need Help of Psychologist

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — A howling dog may be frustrated, and should be given psychiatric treatment rather than a beating, according to a noted animal psychologist.

Clarence E. Harbison, author of books on animal training, said dogs are no different from human beings when it comes to fears, frustrations and inner attitudes. He added that a dog's problem can be treated and a cure obtained just as with a human.

For instance, if a dog sulks, Harbison advised, don't run for the dog medicine. Could be a matter of neuroticism requiring a psychiatrist.

The animal expert said a pet's behavior pattern can be determined by probing the inner workings of his neural processes.

Through patience, kindness and understanding numerous creatures that might otherwise have had to be destroyed have been rebuilt into valuable pets.

Featured This Weekend Beef, Lamb and Chicken

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Prime ribs of beef, legs of lamb and fryers will be among the more popular weekend features in food stores across the nation this weekend.

And for Lent, stores will offer a wide variety of seafood, including haddock fillets, flounder fillets, swordfish steaks, smelts and shrimp. Frozen food men are looking for a brisk business, particularly in shrimp and fish sticks.

Prime rib prices will show a wide range. In some stores prices will be the same as a week ago while in others reductions of as much as 18 cents a pound will be posted.

Other beef items mentioned as specials by a number of markets include chuck roast, pot roast, sirloin steaks and hamburger. The lower prices reflect a slight decline in wholesale beef quotations.

Wholesale lamb prices are a bit lower this week and legs of lamb will be widely featured for Sunday dinner. There also will be scattered specials on lamb chops.

Not many stores will feature pork this weekend. In fact, one major chain plans increases of 4 to 6 cents a pound on center cut pork chops. There will be occasional specials on smoked ham.

Frying chicken prices are higher than they were a few months ago, but you should find good value where stores are featuring fryers.

Egg prices will be higher in some markets this weekend. They've risen considerably since Christmas and the prediction is that they will go higher still as the year progresses. Laying flocks have been cut back.

Norton Will Speak

David Norton, general manager of radio station WPON will address the Pontiac Exchange Club at its weekly luncheon meeting at 12:15 p.m. Friday at the Hotel Waldron.

Bill Proposes U.S. Aid to Fight Delinquency

A bill of interest to everyone perturbed by the problem of juvenile delinquency has been introduced in the Senate.

Sponsored by Tennessee's Sen. KEFAUVER, it is the fruit of an investigation conducted by a subcommittee he headed. Co-sponsors are Sen. LANGER, Republican, North Dakota and Sen. HENNINGS, Democrat, Missouri.

The measure is noteworthy for proposing a co-operative attack on this growing problem in which the Federal Government would assist the states and private egencies. Among other things S.728 would provide funds for improving State and local anti-delinquency programs and for helping train personnel for this field.

It also would create a Federal Advisory Council on Juvenile Delinquency and a new Office of Children and Youth in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The present Children's Bureau in the Social Security Department would be merged with this new office.

It's to be hoped that this bill, authorizing a first year appropriation of $5,000,000 will get the sympathetic consideration of Congress. Certainly the delinquency problem is one of the most complex and baffling now confronting the American people.

Reapportionment Gets Committee Approval

A 10 member committee of city and township supervisors has worked out a compromise proposal for reapportionment of Oakland County's governing body.

The proposal was made necessary by a State law passed in 1943 to accommodate Wayne County. That measure provides that when the number of city supervisors reaches 75, it is automatically cut back to 60 per cent.

The effect in Oakland County would be to reduce the present total of city supervisors from 64 to 30 leaving only a majority of five over the 25 township supervisors. That, of course, would be a grossly unfair division of representation between the cities and the townships.

When it first became apparent that the number of city supervisors might reach 79 this year, a stop gap proposal was advanced. This would have postponed operation of the State law until the county population reaches 750,000. It now is over 500,000.

Deeper study, however, convinced the committee that the situation called for a better solution. The compromise agreed on by all 10 members seems to be workable and equitable. It calls for strengthening the township representation by leaving the number of such supervisors at 25 and reducing the number of city supervisors from 64 to 43.

In addition, the committee approved a formula for future determination of the number of urban supervisors for cities up to 40,000. An additional supervisor would be allowed for each 25,000 of population over the 40,000.

This compromise was worked out under the co-chairmanship of Supervisor HAROLD K. SHONE of Oak Park and NORMAN BARNARD of Troy Township. It deserves the approval of the Legislature.

IT TOOK her 50 years to get that way—

Trade Act Up to Senate

In its overwhelming passage of the Administration's foreign trade program the House has set the Senate an excellent example.

The final vote of 295 to 110 doesn't reveal how stiff was the fight against the measure made by the protectionists. Their effort to open the bill to unlimited amendment failed by only seven votes.

Neither does it indicate how much harder the Administration will have to fight to get this all important measure through the upper chamber without crippling amendments.

Sen. GEORGE of Georgia predicts that the Senate will approve tariff reductions. However, he warned of the possibility of some changes in the legislation which will be open to unlimited amendments.

As it passed the House, the bill provides a three year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act. Also provided are tariff reductions of five per cent in each of the three years and cuts up to 50 per cent on some articles in return for concessions by other countries.

Once again the Democrats helped the Administration's cause. Of the 295 votes for the bill, 186 were cast by Democrats and 109 by Republicans.

The Senate should follow the House example for as President EISENHOWER said "this program is of tremendous significance to the economic health and security of the United States and our friends in the free world."

The Man About Town

Better Than Smog

Michigan Man Prefers the Odor of Burning Rubbish

Reckless driver: One who passes you when you're hitting 80.

President of the Michigan Association in Los Angeles,

Archie Gorton,

formerly of Howell, who has several relatives in Pontiac, writes the Los Angeles Times a letter in favor of allowing residents to burn their garbage and rubbish in their own back yards, a practice forbidden by city ordinance. He says the smell of the smoke would make people forget the smog. Michigan has one of the largest state associations in that city. It meets monthly and has many big doings coming up. Mr. Gorton's address is 7714 Walnut Drive, phone LA-9945.

No wonder airplane insurance is so cheap. A company that writes you a $50,000 policy on a round trip from San Francisco to Honolulu for two dollars has sold over a million policies without being called upon to pay a loss.

"Calcium chloride and salt may spot up the chrome on our cars," says

Alfred Noyes,

who drives over 100 miles every day, "but they make our pavements safe from ice—and that's what counts."

One phase of the remarkable growth of this area was brought out in a recent conversation with

William Roeser,

Supervisor of Southfield Township. He points out that in recent years a great many Detroit business and professional men have disposed of their homes in that city and built new ones in southern Oakland County.

Among our nation's five largest cities, a man who recently visited all of them tells me that Detroit has the highest taxicab charges.

"C'mon, Pick Up Your End"

David Lawrence Says:

Regulation of the Press Brought a Step Nearer

WASHINGTON—Regulation and control of the press, despite the protection supposed to be afforded by the Bill of Rights in the Constitution, has been brought one step nearer to consummation in America by the decision in the case of the Kansas City Star.

A jury obedient to the highly prejudiced instructions of a federal judge now has convicted that newspaper of violating the anti-trust laws.

There are some 180 cities in the United States where a single newspaper ownership exists and where conceivably a politically minded administration can do what the Truman regime did in an attempt to wreak vengeance on the Kansas City Star for its crusade against the Pendergast machine of the Democratic Party and its vote-getting frauds in that area.

Harry Truman, as senator, helped to bring about the appointment of the judge in the case over the objection of Roosevelt's attorney general—Francis Biddle—who questioned his fitness for the bench. The Star, by its vigorous crusade against the political henchmen of Mr. Truman, earned the latter's enmity.

The case was instituted by the Truman administration. The Eisenhower administration was unable to quash it, as the matter was already in the courts, and there would have been a cry of political influence in the opposite direction if the case had been dropped.

But it is obvious that a criminal trial before a jury in such a highly complicated and technical affair as an anti-trust charge can hardly resolve the issues for the guidance even of the defendant if convicted. For all a jury decides is whether the defendant is guilty or not guilty. It files no explanation or legal opinion.

There is also a civil suit pending against the Kansas City Star which has not yet been tried. Here a judicial opinion by a lower court and perhaps by the Supreme Court will be available for examination.

What is involved fundamentally is the right of a newspaper to set a selling price of its own for the editions it sells to the subscriber. In Kansas City, the evening, the morning and the Sunday editions are regarded by the Star's ownership as a single newspaper, and the rate is so low that the combination price is a bargain compared to that of similar-sized newspapers in other cities.

Shall it be the law that a seller of services involving products of the mind, such as news gathering, cannot set his own fee for that sale? If he cannot, then is some government commission to fix the price, as it does electric light and power rates? If this is done, can it be said that the governmental body will not strive also to regulate either the quantity or the quality of the contents of a newspaper and the price to be charged?

Then there is the matter of advertising rates. The Kansas City Star considers it is selling a single product in its around-the-clock service each day and, for reasons of economy, feels it can serve the advertiser best at a relatively low rate that gives the advertiser coverage in all the editions each day rather than in any one edition.

The right of a newspaper publisher to decide what he shall charge for one segment of a newspaper's content is as inviolate as the right of any seller of a patented article to do so.

But the issue raised here is whether, if the price is too low, it hurts a competitor, and whether it is then lawful to charge such a low price! Since when is a seller of goods to be penalized because he gives the public a lower price than a similar product is sold for in another city?

It has been alleged that the Star thus has defeated competition. But is it a crime to win out in a competitive battle, and must an inefficient competitor be kept in business and the prices of a subscription or an advertising page held high so that the competitor will not be injured? That's one way, to be sure, of controlling the press.

Now, no newspaper which also owns a radio or a television station has a right to penalize any prospective advertiser and compel him to use all his media or to give a discount to the users of all three. For this would be a tie-in of three separate businesses. While there were some instances of this in the early days, there are none known now, and, if any are discovered, they should be examined under the anti-trust laws.

The Department of Justice has sought in its civil suit to force the separation of the newspaper-publishing property in Kansas City from its television and radio station. This is supposed to be the job of the Federal Communications Commission, which can issue or revoke licenses if there's monopoly.

It so happens that there are several competing radio and television stations in Kansas City and the Star pioneered when TV was introduced. Now there appears to be an effort to impose a penalty for the enterprise and foresight shown by the Star.

The whole controversy will doubtless have to be finally settled in the Supreme Court of the United States, and it will be interesting to see how far the New Deal and Fair Deal philosophy is going to be accepted or rejected in what today appears as a palpable effort to rewrite the Constitution without the participation of the Congress or the people.

Voice of the People

James F. Flanary of District Six Advises Regular Citizens' Community Meetings

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

It is gratifying to see people take an interest in the affairs of their community, as was evidenced by the turnout at the citizens' meeting Monday evening.

The interest shown indicates to me that District Six would benefit by holding regular meetings to discuss our mutual problems. These meetings would keep us informed of the more pertinent happenings in the City Hall.

I therefore propose: A— That we hold regular meetings for the good and welfare of our district. B — That we each contribute a small sum of money to defray cost of a meeting place.

I will appreciate an immediate response from you, by card or letter, conveying your idea of this proposition.

Fluorine Information Taken From 1942 Book

In this column recently a student quoted statements from Dull's Chemistry book in the high school. However, the information was taken from a 1942 edition written before the research on fluoride as related to dental caries.

The 1953 rewritten and revised edition by Dull, Brooks and Metcalfe is available for reference in the classrooms until it replaces the 1942 edition as a textbook. A 1954 revised edition of "Chemistry for the New Age" by Carleton, Carpenter and Woline is also another reference book available to students.

CHRIST AND COMMUNION

"For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death."
I Cor. 11:26

He brake the bread and gave the cup . . . And said that when we dine or sup . . . Each time we should remember Him . . . But we have in the interim . . . Let this become a holy rite . . . For church-observance and lost sight . . . Of Christ's injunction that we think . . . Of Him each time we eat or drink . . . Why do we not in every case . . . Before we eat bow for a "grace"?

JULIEN C. HYER

These later books explain about fluoride more completely in the light of the recent research. In the latter edition, the following statements may be found:

"There is increasing evidence that fluorine plays an important role in the health of our teeth. Observations made thus far—indicate that dental decay of children was reduced as much as 60 to 66 per cent as compared to children drinking fluorine-free water.

"Fluorine occurs in the bones and teeth of humans. The element is present in tooth enamel to about 0.01 to 0.02 per cent, and the enamel is harder than simple calcium phosphate. Enough research has been done to prove that dental caries (tooth decay) is linked with a deficiency of fluorine.

"The evidence seems to indicate that about 1.8 ppm—somewhat less than the amount that leads to mottled enamel—will give greatly increased resistance to dental caries."

Policeman's Tasks Greater Than Welder's

I'm curious to know just how many tickets "Welder" has received by the police department to make him so bitter toward them. There must be some reason why he went to the trouble of writing a letter to the newspaper criticizing a pension plan when he obviously knew nothing about the circumstances surrounding it.

It seems there are always some people in any walk of life who can't stand to see anyone have anything or better themselves unless they get as much. They are always running people down that they know nothing about.

Perhaps if "Welder" was placed in the same position one of the police officers found himself in a short while ago when he had to disarm a holdup man who was attempting a robbery (in order to protect "Welder," "Factory Worker" and other citizens) he might realize the difference between police officers and welders.

The responsibilities and tasks placed upon every officer's shoulders in his job are those which in any other type of work would reap a very large salary as well as position.

No matter which way he turns there is always someone at his throat, but let trouble start and who do these people cry out for? The policeman, to handle their trouble and fight their battles.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Occasional Corporal Punishment Helps Teach Child to Cooperate With Others

Watch Terry most carefully for tomorrow's case record will show him as an adult. It will teach you overly indulgent parents how cruel you are to your youngsters. A little corporal punishment judiciously applied in childhood will save a lot of pain and crime in adulthood, for there is often a straight road between the high chair and the electric chair at Sing Sing.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-358: Terry V., aged 5, is a bright youngster, but please observe his behavior today so you can see what kind of man he became, when I give his adult story tomorrow.

"Dr. Crane, I am worried about Terry," his kindergarten teacher exclaimed. "He is so intensely selfish. For example, he rudely tears crayons and other materials out of the hands of the little girls.

"Of course, I try to point out his mistakes, but his parents laugh about it when I try to gain their cooperation. Terry has no sense of property right, for he will open the pocketbooks of other people, and take the coins therefrom.

"He appropriates the tricycles and other toys of youngsters in his block. But his father laughs and says it shows he has taking ways!"

Here are some more of the things which Terry does: He enjoys torturing kittens and puppies.

He tells his mother, "I hate you, you stupid fool!" and his father smiles, or says to her: "Shows he's got your number all right."

Terry's parents may mildly remonstrate occasionally, but he knows he has them coerced already.

They seldom go out together at night because Terry screams and refuses to stay at home with a baby sitter, so they knuckle down to his autocratic demands.

His parents have received protests from neighboring mothers about Terry's throwing stones at their children, or at the adult women themselves, but his parents simply reply "Boys will be boys," or at best, they will tell him: "Now, Terry, you mustn't do that any more."

Terry refuses to go to bed or stay there after he has been tucked in. He keeps the house in a hullabaloo most of the time, and demands to be down in the living room at late hours, especially if there are guests.

He has been permitted to assume dictatorial powers over his parents just because they love him and hesitate to crack down on his naughtiness.

He hasn't earned those powers by hard work or superior mentality. He is simply the "heir apparent," who takes advantage of the indulgent father and mother who figure he will grow out of his naughtiness.

But people never grow out of anything just by the sheer passage of time!

So you parents must recognize the bitter fact that if a child is naughty today, he will be naughty tomorrow, and on into adulthood until somebody teaches him differently.

A tyrant at the age of 5, will still be a tyrant at 15 or 25 or 55 years of age.

The proper time to make a congenial, cooperative husband at 25 or 35 years of age, is to housebreak him at 5 and even earlier.

It takes two good women to make a good husband and the first of these should be his mother.

If she permits her son to grow up into a temper tantrum brat, even an angel from heaven might not be able to remain happily married to him.

Persuasive words, fitted to his level of understanding, are very desirable in teaching a child correct behavior, but a few experiences with a hairbrush on his rear piazza are usually a good supplement.

Lacking corporal punishment, it is very difficult to teach a child to become a cooperative, obedient son or daughter, despite many sentimental would-be child psychologists to the contrary.

So don't think corporal punishment has gone out of style in modern scientific child psychology.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Victim of Heart Disease Is Better Off Staying on Job

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

From a study of 500 cases of heart disease in workmen, Dr. Cadis Phipps of Massachusetts Industrial Accident Board concluded that the workman with heart disease who continues working has a better life expectancy and later advent of incapacity than the workman with heart disease who quits his job and just vegetates in the delusion that physical activity, exercise, work is "dangerous" or "bad" for a "weak" heart.

Even doctors with 19th century training seem to harbor the notion that physical activity must be restricted or avoided altogether if the individual has any kind of heart disease. And some old timers have never learned that graduated exercise is essential in the successful treatment of most cases of heart disease, be it valvular ("leakage") incompetency, angina pectoris, coronary thrombosis or whatnot.

I told here about the 33-year-old man with aortic valve insufficiency (backward leakage) and mitral valve stenosis (narrowing or constriction of opening from left auricle into left ventricle)—either of which valvular defects entitles many a man, with the kind co-operation of his doctor, to retire on a partial disability basis—who has competed successfully in fourteen marathon races, always running the full distance of 26 to 54 miles and winning one, namely, the South African elimination race in the British Empire Games in '34. Case recorded in JAMA, 2, 10, '40).

This and other instances of tremendous physical effort and endurance by persons with valvular heart defects, angina pectoris or coronary occlusion (cited here from time to time) do not indicate that vigorous exercise or athletic competition or heavy manual labor is the best treatment for heart disease.

But they do indicate that there's something wrong with the advice so often given by nineteenth century physicians still in active practice, namely, that the individual with any kind of heart disease spend the rest of his life loafing, sponging on sympathetic relatives, walking on eggs and playing the invalid to evade all duties and responsibilities.

I have stated many times that graduated exercise is at least as essential as rest and/or medication in the successful treatment of any kind of heart trouble. This is not just my notion; it is the consensus of recognized medical authorities—as no one will venture to deny. But the truth doesn't cramp the style of the doctors who conspire with heart disease patients or embarrass the iatrogenic invalids who accept the incompetence imposed upon them.

What the heck is an iatrogenic invalid? You know us doctors—how we love to use words that you dumb laymen do not understand. You know me, too—how I love to use words that even N. Webster obstinately excludes from the lexicon, such as VITE and CRI. But iatrogenic is not my invention—to the best of my knowledge the word was first used five years ago in medical literature, and it means caused by the doctor. A doctor the cause of heart disease? Watch this column.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Oklahoma Coins Scheme to Make a Mint of Money

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The State Senate has figured out a way to make one million dollars for Oklahoma — by selling half dollars for $1 each.

The Senate passed a resolution yesterday asking the U.S. Treasury to issue two million half-dollars in 1957 commemorating Oklahoma's 50th anniversary of statehood. Then the state treasurer would be authorized to purchase the entire group at a cost of 50 cents each. Profit from the transaction would be used to pay for the celebration.

One senator proposed that $5 bills be turned out and sold at $10 each, "so we could make 10 times as much."

Ohio Considers Gas to Replace 'Chair'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capital punishment has become more "refined" since the crucifixion of Christ, an Ohio legislator says.

The legislator is Republican Rep. Joseph E. Lady, one author of a controversial bill to swap Ohio's electric chair for the more "humane" gas chamber.

Center of the hot dispute is Ohio's sturdy old oak death chair. Since 1897, 293 men and three women have been electrocuted in Ohio.

Lady said after beheadings and the crucifixion of Christ, execution "methods got a little more refined. . . . We should try to develop a more humane method of taking life."

Mother Draws 40 Years in Jail for Beating Child

CORONA, Calif. (AP)—For administering severe and repeated beatings to her 10-year-old daughter, Mrs. Trinidad Vera has been sentenced to 40 years in prison.

The 30-year-old mother's child Celia was permanently maimed. Superior Judge Mildred Lillie said the girl had been subjected to "hideous and terrible brutality."

The Board of Trustees of the yesterday ordered that sentences California Institution for Women on six counts of assault and mayhem are to run consecutively.

First Aid Is Theme for Pack 17 Session

Cub Scout Pack No. 17 held its monthly meeting last night at the Sarah McCarroll School. Theme for the meeting was first aid.

Dr. Leonard Blackwell spoke on the theme subject, and the cubs made first aid kits and pouches.

Den No. 6 reported perfect attendance for both cubs and parents. Twelve boys received Golden Arrow, Silver Arrow and Wolf Badges.

Senate Approves Plan for Payment by Check

LANSING (AP)—The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill substituting the check system for the state's 100-year-old method of paying bills by warrants.

Wonder if This Method Works With Oil Wells

FALLS CITY, Neb. (UP)—Give 80-year-old Howard Long a green switch from a tree, or even a copper wire, and he says he will lead you to water.

At least he claims to have done that some 50 times since 1909. Long aids friends and neighbors in finding good locations for wells.

The octogenarian found his first well on the farm of his brother, Fred, about four miles from here, 45 years ago. The men dug 33 feet and found water in a limestone formation. It has never run dry.

Long doesn't try to keep a secret. Simply take a Y-shaped green switch and hold it by the prongs, with the base pointing straight up. Then walk. He says the switch turns downwards as he walks over a water-ladened spot.

It can be done, he says, with a copper wire or with a dry switch, but he prefers a green one.

Long said he doesn't remember how many wells he's "divined" or "witched" since 1909, but he believes it is more than 50.

Top Off Meal With Plate

TORONTO (AP) — Dr. Elliott R. Danzig, a Philadelphia ceramics engineer, told the Society of Automotive Engineers that edible plates could be made of a gelatine substance. After holding the main course, they could be eaten as dessert, he said.

There are 32,542 rural routes in the U.S. serving 9,372,621 families and 33.8 millions of persons.

Accountant Gets Data From Wooden Blocks

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Accountant Leo Branch calls John N. Osborne Jr., a 31-year-old ditching contractor, his "most unusual" client.

So that wind won't blow away his notes and records, Osborne uses pieces of lumber — some rather large — on which to write up some transactions.

Usually he transcribes the notes to paper before giving them to Branch. But unusually good business recently caused him to fall behind.

And yesterday he delivered his "notes" to Branch — a bushel basket of wooden blocks.

Almost 70 per cent of National Guardsmen are between 17 and 21 years of age. Less than 5 per cent are over 35 years old.

OUT, THEN IN — Maj.-Gen. William C. Chase, who heads the big U. S. Military Advisory Group on Formosa, must, by law, retire on Feb. 28. But he'll go right on training Chiang Kai-shek's armed forces. That's because he's done such a good job that Army Secy. Robert Stevens will exercise his right to immediately recall him to active duty. By retirement date, General Chase will have completed 35 years' service.

Italy to Try Man for U.S. Crimes

Accused of Kidnapings, Murder While Living in New York in '30s

CALTANISSETTA, Sicily (AP) — A onetime emigrant who went to America to become a tailor and fell in with gangsters goes on trial here tomorrow for kidnapings and murder in New York City in the late '30s.

Ignazio Russo, 50, fled from America almost 17 years ago. He is charged with participating in the ransom abductions of three men in 1937 and 1938, and in the slaying of one of them who could not meet the "Sixth Avenue gang's" demands for ransom.

According to the charges, the murdered man, Arthur Fried, was shot to death and his body burned in December 1937 in the furnace of the Bar Ukraine where Russo was employed at 240 6th Ave.

The charges say the other ransom victims, also held in a back room at the bar and later released, were Benjamin Farber, held for $1,900 in April 1938, and Norman Miller, held for $13,000 in July 1938.

Under the Italian penal code, the Ministry of Justice can order an Italian citizen tried in Italy for crimes committed outside the country.

Russo went to New York at 15 and worked for four tailor shops, but after several years he became a handyman in the Ukraine bar and poolroom, operated by a Ukrainian named in the charges as Dimitrio Gula.

The charges against Russo name Gula, Giuseppe Stephen Sacoda, John Vurga and William Jakmis as other participants with Russo in one or more of the three kidnapings.

Russo fled to Naples Nov. 19, 1938. Police caught him for false entry and sent him to prison. They started a check with New York on his activities.

That investigation was still under way July 13, 1943, when Russo escaped from jail under the confusion of an air raid. He was recaptured Dec. 17, 1953.

Novelist Observed After Suicide Threat

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP)—Mystery novelist Raymond Chandler — creator of private eye Philip Marlowe — is under observation in the psychopathic ward of San Diego County Hospital.

The 66-year-old writer was taken there after police found him sitting on the floor in the shower bath of his home Tuesday with a revolver in his lap.

Police Capt. Bruce Weston said Chandler had fired two bullets into the ceiling after calling police and saying he intended to shoot himself. Weston said Chandler had been despondent since his wife's death in December.

Censor Colombia Paper

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—Government censorship has been slapped on the newspaper El Espectador because it printed a story that the 5-centavo loaf of bread would disappear and the 10-centavo loaf would be reduced in size. Although the story was later confirmed as true, the government information office said such reports injured the nation's economy.

Gas was not used for cooking to any great extent until about 1860. Gas ranges were regarded as an innovation at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1873.

Granddaughter to Play Role in Friml Operetta

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dian Friml has signed a Paramount contract to make her film debut in "The Vagabond King" for which her grandfather, composer Rudolf Friml, wrote the music.

Miss Friml, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf Friml, Jr., visited a friend at the studio, was noticed by director Michael Curtiz and producer Pat Duggan and was signed yesterday, the studio said.

She will have a supporting role with Kathryn Grayson and Oreste Kirkop. Her father, a former orchestra leader, now is a musicians' agent.

Shoes Hurt for 3 Years, Buyer Shoots Up Store

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three years ago Bernard Schwartz bought a pair of shoes. They began hurting hit feet.

He said the store where he purchased them refused to take them back. Small Claims Court also rejected his case. His feet still hurt.

Yesterday, police said, he returned to the shoe store, fired six wild shots from a gun. Nobody was hurt.

But 73-year-old Schwartz was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Retail Store Profits Reported Shrinking

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Delegates to the annual convention of the National Assn. of Retail Clothers and Furnishers were told yesterday that profits of retail stores have steadily declined since 1950.

Robert A. Roos Jr., president of Roos Bros., San Francisco, said that although the volume of retail sales has remained the same or increased during the last four years, profits have shrunk to an alarming degree.

She Was Good, Dutiful in 15-Minute Marriage

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Mrs. Rena Matthews Wallace filed suit for divorce in District Court yesterday, charging her husband of less than 15 minutes with incompatibility.

Her petition alleged her mate, Robert Arthur Wallace, deserted her within 15 minutes after they were married Feb. 16. She said she was a "good and dutiful wife" during those 15 minutes and gave the defendant no grounds for deserting her.

Why Not Drop Voting Age All the Way Down to 13

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone reflections of a Pavement Plato:

If Congress proposed a constitutional amendment making it illegal for anyone under 21 to drive an automobile, what would happen?

Millions of teen-agers would let out an outraged cry that would echo from here to Mars. They'd write endless chain letters of protest, make mass marches on the nation's capital, picket the White House by day and by night.

They'd fight by fair means or foul—even ask Dad and Mom to help—to preserve what they regard as youth's inalienable right to drive a motor car.

* * *

But several million teen-agers now have the opportunity to fight for the greatest single privilege of American democracy, and, by and large, their attitude seems to be one of indifference. I refer to their lukewarm reaction to proposals to lower the voting age from 21 to 18.

Youth has got President Eisenhower in its corner in this matter. He backs the idea of extending the ballot to 18-year-olds. But they themselves don't seem steamed up about it. Somehow, that's kind of sad, too.

* * *

Many older people, of course, feel that 18-year-olds are too lacking in judgment and responsibility to be given the right to vote.

That same fear in the early days of the Republic resulted in restrictions that limited the right of voting to property owners. The same fear kept women from having the vote for more than a century.

"Universal suffrage," contemptuously remarked Otto von Bismarck, "is the government of a house by its nursery."

But in 1836 a forward-thinking young lawyer of 25—fellow named Abraham Lincoln—had just the opposite thought.

* * *

"I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens," he wrote, adding he favored the right of suffrage for those "who pay taxes or bear arms, by no means excluding females."

Today, proponents of earlier voting point out, there are roughly five million citizens between 18 and 21 who are now taxed without representation. Youth is not exempt from taxes on thousands of items, any more than the elderly are.

About 1,500,000 are married and have set up housekeeping. And most of the men in that age group are, of course, subject to military duty.

* * *

Personally, I wouldn't give a hoot if every guy and his girl got to vote at 18. If we trust them out on a public highway in a 150-horsepower auto, why not trust them to show at least ordinary common sense in a voting booth?

Georgia has let its 18-year-olds vote for quite a spell now—it's the only state that does—and has survived the experiment in fine shape. And why not? Isn't anyone at 18, when patriotism and idealism and honesty are at their peak, as likely to cast a selfless vote as he would be at 45?

* * *

If we accept the logic of Abe Lincoln, we can hardly deny the ballot, merely on the grounds of age, to young men and women who work, pay taxes, and bear arms when called upon.

But it would be more heartening if our youth got all stirred up over the issue, marched on Washington, and really fought to win the right to vote. Teen-agers with the spirit to do that would be our democracy's true "hopes of tomorrow."

But things granted for the mere taking usually wind up being merely taken for granted. A stranger to our civilization might ask us puzzedly: "What do you really hold to be more important—the right to vote, or the right not to vote?"

* * *

Fewer than half the eligible people vote in many American elections. In the 1948 presidential election only 51.5 per cent of the population of voting age cast ballots. Even after the hot campaign of 1952 the figure climbed only to 62.7.

Since so many adult Americans hold their heritage in such slight esteem, perhaps it would be wise to drop the voting age not just to 18, but down to 13. You can bet the high school kids would have a better voting record than the grownups.

Tries to Reduce Childbirth Peril

Buffalo Hospital Studies Babies From Delivery to School Age

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Child Growth Study is an unique project being conducted at Children's Hospital here in an effort to reduce the dangers of childbirth and enable each baby to achieve fullest capacities.

The research project, begun in 1949, consists of detailed studies of 930 children from their delivery through early development stages. Continued studies until school age are being made in 500 of the children.

The purpose of the program is to study the effects of pre-natal and delivery conditions on the child and development of new techniques of delivery and care of the mother during pregnancy.

Three physicians, a psychologist and two specialized technicians are working on the project, which involves complete examination of 500 of the children every six months.

"Probably there is nothing in the life of a human being as vigorous as being born," said a project physician. "The squeezing, pushing and stress put on the tiny human body is terrific.

"An unborn child has a blood oxygen saturation of only about 50 per cent of that of an adult. Within minutes after birth this must be 90 to 100 per cent.

Notice of Intention to Construct Two-Inch Blacktop Pavement on Second Avenue.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held on the 22nd day of February, 1955 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct two-inch blacktop pavement on Second avenue from Joslyn avenue to Barkell street at an estimated cost of $3,918.75 and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public inspection.

It is further intended to construct said improvement in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that all of the lots and parcels of land fronting upon either side of Second avenue from Joslyn avenue to Barkell street shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $3,426.01 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $492.74 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Capital Improvement Fund.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, will meet in the Municipal Court on the 1st day of March, 1955 at 8 o'clock p.m. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

Village of 150 Boasts Daily Air Schedule

LAND O'LAKES, Wis. (UP) — This village of 150 population is the smallest community in the nation to have regular daily airline service.

North Central Airlines recently inagurated service to Land-O'-Lakes when the community enlarged its airport runways so the airlines twin-engine planes could land there. The town usually swells to several times its normal size during the summer resort season.

Land O'Lakes, located on the border between northern Wisconsin and Michigan's upper peninsula, is surrounded by dozens of Lakes and fishing streams and calls itself the "musky capital of the world."

Jets Collide on Hokkaido

TOKYO (UP)—Two American Air Force Sabre Jets collided over Hokkaido Island today and one pilot is missing, the Air Force announced. The other parachuted to safety.

U.S. Tourists Visit Mexico for Culture

MEXICO CITY (UP)—It may come as news to American tourists, but the Mexican government thinks that more of them travel south each year to gain culture than for any other reason.

The government's tourist bureau has made a special study of tourists' motives in visiting Mexico and this is what they've found:

Forty per cent leave the United States in search of culture, 25 per cent are wide-eyed at the prospect of Mexico's natural wonders, 18 per cent are eager to learn the who's who of this country's history and 10 per cent are students.

The remaining seven per cent just wander down for no other reason except to shop.

The tourists do 26 per cent of their spending on gifts to lug back home, 40 per cent goes for food and lodging, 17 per cent goes into airplane, bus and car fares to get them to resorts throughout the republic.

Only nine per cent of the tourists' dollars wind up in night clubs and at bullfights. The remaining eight per cent of spending is classified as miscellaneous.

2 More Glasses of Milk a Week Would Help U.S.

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP) — If every person in the nation had consumed just two more glasses of milk each week, the government would not own any dairy products now, according to Max K. Hinds.

Hinds is an extension economist with the livestock, dairy and poultry marketing branch of the division of agricultrual economies, Washington, D. C.

But if everyone had followed that advice, they would still not have consumed the recommended amounts for good nutrition.

Hinds said 15 per cent of the average food dollar in 1953 was spent for dairy products, with this return: 18 per cent of required calories, 25 per cent of protein, 25 per cent of fat in the diet, 20 per cent of vitamin to 50 per cent of the riboflavin and 75 per cent of calcium.

It is not until the second or third day after the new phase that the crescent moon can be seen.

The British tender Edward is memorable in American naval history because, being captured shortly after the Revolutionary War began, it was the first ship ever taken by an American commissioned naval officer.

NOTICE OF LETTING OF DRAIN CONTRACT AND REVIEW OF APPORTIONMENTS

Notice is hereby given, That I, Ralph A. Main, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, will, on the 7th day of March A.D. 1955, at the Drain Commissioner's Office, No. 1 Lafayette Street, in the City of Pontiac, in said County of Oakland, proceed to receive sealed bids until 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, when bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain Drain known and designed as "McIvor Drain," located and established in the Township of Waterford in said County.

Said drain is divided into one Section having the average depth and width as set forth:

Section No. One beginning at station number 0+00 at the lower end of said drain and extending to station number 7+00, a distance of 700 feet, and having an average depth of 2.7 feet.

In the construction of said drain the following quantities and character of tile or pipe will be required and contracts let for same:

676 feet of 12" C.P. C-14-41
24 feet of 12" C.P. C-76-41-2
2 Std. Manholes
2 Shallow Manholes
1 Special Inlet
Tapping 36" R.C.P. at 0+00

Said job will be let in one section in accordance with the diagram now on file with the other papers pertaining to said Drain, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland to which reference may be had by all parties interested, and bids will be made and received accordingly. Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving adequate security for the performance of the work, in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids, and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

The date of the completion of such contract, and the terms of payment therefor, shall and will be announced at the time and place of letting. Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the County Drain Commissioner a certified check or its equivalent to the amount of 5% of bid price as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bond as prescribed by law. The checks of all unsuccessful bidders will be returned after contracts are awarded. The payments for the above mentioned work will be made as follows: Drain Orders dated July 1, 1956.

Notice is further hereby given, that on Monday, the 21st day of March, 1955 at Drain Commissioner's Office, No. 1 Lafayette Street in the City of Pontiac, County of Oakland, or at such other time and place thereafter, to which I, the County Drain Commissioner aforesaid, may adjourn the same, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the "McIvor Drain Special Assessment District," and the apportionments thereof will be subject to review for one day, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. At said review the computation of costs for said Drain will also be open for inspection by any parties interested.

The following is a description of the several tracts or parcels of land constituting the Special Assessment District of said Drain, viz:

DISTRICT

Crescent Lake Park Sub
Lots No. 33-39, incl. exc. W. 50 ft. of each
Lots No. 40-46 incl.
Lots 47-53 incl. east 80 ft. of each
Lots 59-95 incl.
Golf View Park Sub.
Lots No. 1-5 incl.
Lots 6-10 incl. N ½ of each
Lots 204-225 incl.
Lot 226—E. ½
Lots 234-255 incl.
Oakland County at large
Waterford Twp. at large

Now, therefore, all unknown and non-resident persons, owners and persons interested in the above described lands, and you Lloyd L. Anderson, Supervisor of Waterford Twp; Lee O. Brooks, Chairman, Oakland County Road Commission; Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County Clerk are hereby notified that at the time and place aforesaid, or at such other time and place thereafter to which said letting may be adjourned, I shall proceed to receive bids for the construction of said "McIvor Drain," in the manner hereinbefore stated; and also, that at such time and place as stated aforesaid from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon, the apportionment for benefits and the lands comprised within the McIvor Drain Special Assessment Districts will be subject to review.

And you and each of you, Owners and persons interested in the aforesaid lands, are hereby cited to appear at the time and place of each reviewing of apportionments as aforesaid, and be heard with respect to such special assessments and your interests in relation thereto, if you so desire.

Dated this 18th day of Feb. A.D. 1955

Notice of Intention to Construct Two-Inch Blacktop Pavement on James K Boulevard.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held on the 22nd day of February, 1955 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct two-inch blacktop pavement on James K boulevard from Voorheis road to City Limits at an estimated cost of $11,216.70 and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public inspection.

It is further intended to construct said improvement in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that all of the lots and parcels of land fronting upon either side of James K boulevard from Voorheis road to City Limits shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $8,093.56 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $3,123.14 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Capital Improvement Fund.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, will meet in the Municipal Court on the 1st day of March, 1955 at 8 o'clock p.m. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

Chicago Station Raises Roof — Seven Acres of It

A 40-man crew raised the station's 10,000-ton roof one foot to allow clearance for dome passenger cars and double-deck suburban trains.

The crewmen used 50-ton hydraulic jacks and raised the roof a half inch at a time so that the entire roof was not free from its moorings at any time.

Sometimes It Doesn't Pay to Hook Into One

LACONIA, N. H. (UP)—Here's a fish story reported to the state fish and game department.

Reg Webster of Concord, fishing with Bob Bushnell of Manchester at a pond near here, hooked and started to reel in a chunky pickerel. Suddenly, according to the pair, a four-footer bearing marks of the pike family parted the water.

Webster's line went limp and he reeled in nothing more than the head of the pickerel. Shortly afterward, the unbelieving anglers said, the monster picked a pickerel off Bushnell's line.

Coffee defies all chemical tests for quality, which can be determined only by man's sense of taste and smell, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Notice of Intention to Construct Two-Inch Blacktop Pavement on Young Street.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held on the 22nd day of February, 1955 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct two-inch blacktop pavement on Young street from Montcalm street to Kennett road at an estimated cost of $5,445.00 and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public inspection.

It is further intended to construct said improvement in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that all of the lots and parcels of land fronting upon either side of Young street from Montcalm street to Kennett road shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $4,540.36 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $904.64 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Capital Improvement Fund.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, will meet in the Municipal Court on the 1st day of March, 1955 at 8 o'clock p.m. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

ORDINANCE REGULATING THE MOVING OF OLD BUILDINGS ORDINANCE NO. 29

The Township of Bloomfield Ordains:

1. Hereafter any building or structure, which has been wholly or partially erected on any premises located either within or outside of the Township of Bloomfield, shall not be moved to and be placed upon any other premises in this township until a permit for such removal shall have been secured under the provisions of the Zoning or Building Ordinances of Bloomfield Township.

2. Any such building or structure shall fully conform to all of the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance as to use area, and size of building, location on site and other matters in the same manner as a new building or structure.

Such building or structure shall not be used or occupied until a Certificate of Occupancy shall have been endorsed on the permit by the township building inspector and such endorsement shall not be made until the building inspector shall make an inspection of said building or structure and shall have found the same to be in a condition deemed safe for use and occupancy, and shall have made a written report setting forth the facts as ascertained by said inspection to the Township Board of Appeals.

4. The Building Inspector may also require that said building or structure shall be fumigated against disease and vermin under the direction of the Township Board of Health and may refuse a certificate of occupancy until said fumigation has been properly done.

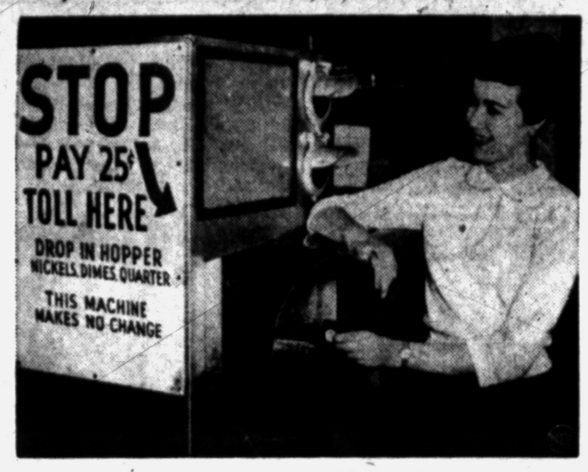

5. This ordinance shall not apply to portable farm buildings such as hog shelters and chicken coops which are hereby exempted from the terms of this ordinance.

6. Any person, firm or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each offense, or shall be punished by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days or by both such fine and imprisonment as provided herein.

7. This ordinance was made, passed and adopted and ordered to take effect thirty (30) days after the first publication of this ordinance as required by Sections 41.181 and 41.183 C.L. 1948, by the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield, County of Oakland and State of Michigan, in regular session convened on the 14th day of February, A.D. 1955.

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was passed by the Township Board of the Township of Bloomfield on Feb. 14, 1955.

ROBERT H. DUDLEY,
Township Clerk.

WHAT A GROUCH — An automatic toll taker that's a tough customer to cheat is tested by pretty Jane Beverly Barberie of Woodhaven, N. J. The device, installed on the Garden Gate Parkway in New Jersey, flashes a sign that says "Thank you, proceed," when it gets the right amount of money. But short change it and it rings an alarm, flashes red signals, photographs the license number and car, records the time of day and sends out a one-state alarm.

Mother Admits Grisly Murders

Tells of Dismembering Two Sons; Psychiatrist Believes She's Sane

HOUSTON (AP) —A psychiatrist said today he believes the 28-year-old mother who has admitted killing and dismembering her two sons is legally sane.

Dr. C. A. Dwyer, Harris County psychiatrist, examined Mrs. Ann Williams last night and planned to examine her again today.

* * *

Sheriff C. V. (Buster) Kern said he believed Mrs. Williams killed the two boys, Calvin, 9, and Conrad, 8, without an accomplice.

Mrs. Williams was arrested early yesterday after a young friend revealed he had unwittingly buried the youngsters' bodies, thinking they were spoiled deer meat. The dismembered bodies had been wrapped neatly in four packages and buried in a shallow grave near Algoa in Galveston County.

Kern said he ruled out the possibility of an accomplice because he does not believe she could have found anyone willing to aid in such a grisly killing.

* * *

Autopsy reports have blamed the death on skull fractures but the young mother contends she did not strike them intentionally.

Mrs. Williams told of first trying to kill her sons with an overdose of sleeping pills Feb. 16. When the pills failed, she said, she strangled each child with a handkerchief.

Actor Douglas Denies Remark, Asks Damages

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Paul Douglas, who denies that he said "The South stinks; it is a land of sowbelly and segregation," has filed a million-dollar damage suit.

His Superior Court action is against Paul Gregory and Gregory Associates, Inc., alleging defamation and injurious falsehood.

* * *

Producer Gregory canceled a national tour of "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial," in which Douglas starred as Capt. Queeg, after the remarks about the South were attributed to him in an interview in the Greensboro (N.C.) Daily News last Jan. 21.

* * *

A spokesman for Gregory said the company had been doing capacity business in the North but "found itself practically boycotted in the South after Douglas' remarks." The company had been scheduled for a seven-week Southern tour starting Feb. 14 in Charleston, W.Va.

* * *

Douglas denied the remark but the Daily News executive news editor said, "We think Douglas was correctly quoted."

Burmese Reds Running

NEW YORK (AP)—Burma's Ambassador James Barrington said in a speech last night the Communists in Burma "are on the run, disorganized and demoralized." He said order had been restored everywhere except in "a small local area on the Thai border where the last remnants of the Karen rebels hang out."

GOP Nominee Charges Fraud in Chicago Vote

CHICAGO (AP)—The Republican nominee for mayor of Chicago says that fraud was involved in the selection of his Democratic opponent.

Alderman Robert E. Merriam, GOP winner in Tuesday's city primary, told the City Council yesterday he had a photograph of a man erasing votes for Mayor Martin H. Kennelly, and a witness to the deed.

Kennelly lost the Democratic nomination to Cook County Clerk Richard Daley, who was supported by the party organization after it dumped the two-term incumbent.

Merriam said the votes changed in a West Side ward were switched from Kennelly to Daley.

State's Atty. John Gutknecht said he would refer the Republican nominee's charge to the Board of Election Commissioners "for such investigation as the law requires them to make."

Probe Reason for Tot's Rare Blood Disease

CHICAGO (AP)—A 15-month-old Nebraska girl, suffering from a rare blood disease, was in Presbyterian Hospital today for extensive tests to determine the cause and nature of the illness.

The girl's 6-year-old brother also is afflicted with the disease while a sister died from it 18 months ago at the age of 17 months.

The little girl, Peggy Lee Davis, was brought to the hospital by Dr. F. V. Vesely, 40, of Lewellen, Neb., who has treated her since birth. Dr. Vesely paid transportation expenses for Peggy and her mother Mrs. Joan Davis, 26. Her father Alvin, 31, remained at the home in Lisco, a ranching community near Scottsbluff, Neb.

Dr. Vesely said blood runs from Peggy's nose for as long as 24 hours at a time for no apparent reason. She has had 20 blood transfusions to stop the hemorrhages.

In conducting tests with Peggy, doctors hope to aid her brother Joe. He has had 53 transfusions, Mrs. Davis said.

OLD TIME FURNITURE—4
A Little "Dutch" Table

The German settlers in Pennsylvania always had cheerful tables on which they liked to serve coffee and thick cookies spread with apple butter. Here is a "Dutch" table you can make to go with the dresser and rocker.

You can color the table in the same shades as the "Dutch" dresser and rocker, either blue or red, with bright pink, yellow or orange tulips. The platter can be gray with red apples on it.

Paste them on stiff red or blue paper, to match the color you used for the table. Cut them out along the heavy outlines including the dark lines around the four tabs marked X. Fold the four sides and the four tabs down along the dotted lines. Paste the tabs to the sides so the table will stand solidly.

Put the platter in the center of the table and it will look like a "Pennsylvania Dutch" treat.

Cell-Life Offers Clue to Cancer

Scientist Finds Amoeba Splits After It Reaches Maximum Weight

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — The weight of an amoeba, a minute single-celled animal, has given a clue to cell growth which may be helpful in solving the cancer riddle, according to experiments made at the University of California.

David M. Prescott, a Ph.D. candidate, reported that he has observed that cell division occurs in an amoeba some time after it has reached its maximum weight. This runs contrary to previous theories that the size of the cell was the trigger that set off the process of cell division.

Prescott's findings, combined with other research, may be a key in solving the cancer problem, for scientists have found that cancer occurs when the process of cell division goes haywire and cell populations increase beyond normal size.

Weighing an amoeba during its growth cycle was quite a task because it is so small that it takes around 25 hundred million of them to weigh one ounce. Also, the tiny animals die when exposed to the air, so Prescott made all his weighings "under water" by measuring pressure increase as the animal grew.

Chain stores control more than 20 per cent of the retail business in the United States.

U.S. Farmers Adopting 'Automation'

DETROIT (UP) — "Automation" has hit the nation's farms as well as its factories.

As a result one farmer working a 40-hour week now can turn out enough food for 14 people. It formerly took nine farm hands working from dawn to dusk six days a week to produce enough for themselves and one city dweller.

Huge strides have been made in "automating" the farm within the past year as farm machinery manufacturers stepped up a production race rivaling that of the passenger car business.

Combines that can harvest more than 100 different crops have hit the market. One man on a tractor can operate a corn picker that will do everything but spoon the corn into the mouths of the consumers.

And the farm machinery that the big industrial plants have not as yet found time to make is being produced by the farmers themselves.

"The American farmer has become a highly-skilled technician," Irving A. Duffy, vice president and general manager of the Ford Tractor and Implement Division said today.

"He can use and repair complicated mechanical devices that make his life easier. He takes hydraulics and electronics in his stride. And when he can't buy a piece of equipment he needs, he makes it."

Pecan farmers in Georgia grew tired of knocking nuts out of trees with long poles. They made a device to fit the hydraulic gear of a tractor. Now they place the U-shaped end of the device against the Pecan trees, turn on the tractor power and shake the nuts to the ground with no physical effort.

Ford Motor Co., long a producer of farm machinery under the "Dearborn" trade mark, now is placing the Ford name on more than 125 items of farm machinery. The firm is competing with six or seven other producers in the farm implement race.

O. L. (Luke) Wigton, general sales manager of the Tractor and Implement Division, said the American farmer is now in his third major stage of progress. First there was the plow drawn by horse, mule or ox. Then came the early mechanical tractor which Wigton labels "nothing more than a four-wheel mule."

The current stage of progress, Wigton said, is the one in which the tractor does most of the farm work itself. The tractor is no longer a "four wheel mule" that merely drags another piece of equipment behind it.

"Through a system of hydraulics and normal engine power, the modern tractor now operates many implements in a stationary position without necessarily having to pull them across the ground," Wigton explained.

The field of electronics also has been placed at the disposal of the farmer.

While music piped into dairy barns makes for more "contented cows" and is credited with increasing milk production, electronic calculating machines keep a watchful eye on the animals.

Some state dairy associations use IBM machines to tabulate statistics on all herds in the state and in a single moment can spot a drop in production in any given area. The system has often proved valuable in spotting a dairy herd disease before it got out of control.

Up-to-date livestock barns now are cleaned automatically, feed is mixed and doled out by machine, and drinking water for livestock is kept at the right temperature by thermostat controls.

"Nearly every farmer I know can sleep until after daybreak now," he said.

Real Estate Data Is Part of Match Book Collection

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Just by looking through his collection of 1,000 match covers, 14-year-old Donald Meyer can tell you how to go about making a deal for an office building in St. Louis or a ranch near Houston, Tex.

Donald has names of real estate agents all over the country because his collection features covers advertising real estate concerns. He exchanges covers with other persons who share his hobby.

American Indians Used Tree Fibers for Thread

KENT, O. (UP) — When early American Indian squaws held a sewing circle, trees often supplied the thread.

Davey tree experts report that Indians made thread from stringy inner bark of the linden, the fibrous routs of the larch and other tree specimens. In the Southwest, squaws pounded sharp-tipped yucca leaves into fibers that were twisted into threads, with the points left intact for needles.

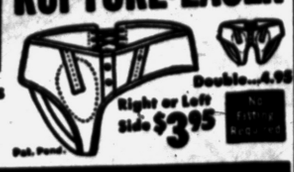

'Dog Lady' Dogless

GOP Picks John B. Martin as State Campaign Chief

LANSING (UP) — John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, the best Republican vote - getter in the November elections, has been named Republican campaign director for the April 4 election.

Selection of the former auditor general and state senator was made at a meeting of Republican nominees yesterday.

In accepting, Martin said he knew the spring election will be "a hard fought contest."

"We know the CIO Political Action Committee is preparing an all-out effort to seize control of the schools and is ready to spend a tremendous amount of money in this campaign," Martin said.

"I'm certain that the people don't want their schools to become a propaganda medium for the CIO-PAC."

John Feikens, Republican state chairman, said that party members from all over Michigan have been asked to meet at Lansing Friday to plan strategy for the campaign.

Among those invited was Arthur T. Iverson of Detroit, who opposed Feikens' bid for re-election as state chairman at the Republican state convention.

A special State Central Committe meeting on Saturday will follow the Friday get-together.

Extension Classes Plan Exhibit of Hooked Rugs

Plans are already under way for the annual Hooked Rug Open House, when an exhibit of all rugs turned out in the Oakland County extension classes last year will be put on display.

Mrs. Mary Hixon, county home demonstration agent, said the April 7 affair is slated for discussion at a committee meeting this Friday.

Sylvan Offices Close Saturdays

Follow Lead of Other State Cities in Move to 5-Day Week

Sylvan Lake next week will join the growing list of Michigan cities closing municipal offices on Saturdays, City Manager Ernest L. Ethier announced today.

Except during tax collection periods, the city hall will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and closed all day Saturday. The treasurer's office will be open Saturdays during tax collection periods.

Ethier reminded residents that Monday is the last day taxes, special assessment installments and sewer service charges may be paid at the city offices. Beginning Tuesday, they are payable only at the Oakland County treasurer's office in Pontiac.

Also in connection with taxes, Ethier said service veterans eligible for exemption from 1955 taxes must file exemption claims by March 8.

Beginning Tuesday, dog license fees will go up one dollar. Fee for male and unsexed canines will be $2, females $3. All dogs older than four months of age must be licensed, Ethier said. A certificate of rabies vaccination during the last 12 months must be presented.

Ethier reported that no objections were voiced at a public hearing for a special tax assessment roll for the city's water project last night.

The Board of Tax Review will meet March 8 and 9 to review the assessment rolls. Property owners wishing to discuss assessments may meet with the three-man board from 9 a. m. to noon or from 1 to 4 p. m. either day.

CONGRATULATIONS—Pontiac's Willis M. Brewer (center) last night was honored by some 450 persons at the Waterford CAI Building. Michigan Secretary of State James M. Hare (left) was on hand along with Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart (right) who was principal speaker. Brewer recently retired as Oakland County Democratic chairman after more than six years in the post.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart Addresses Testimonial Dinner for Willis Brewer

"The importance of belonging to a political organization" was stressed last night by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, speaking at a testimonial dinner honoring Willis M. Brewer, of Pontiac.

Hart asked 450 people gathered at the Waterford CAI Building to "think of the important things achieved through political action over the years."

He cited a recent Purdue University survey which found 82 per cent of parents interviewed saying they would disapprove of their children entering politics as a profession.

"Can you imagine a less healthy atmosphere?" Hart asked. "Politics is the tool we must use to improve our communities and our nation."

"Parties and politics don't create public policy. Laws don't establish it. It is just the crystallization of the sentiments and attitudes of the public.

But these sentiments and attitudes result from healthy conflicts between political parties, he stated.

"We must not be apologetic for being in politics for it is the daily housekeeping job of a democracy. Thus we applaud Willis Brewer as one who for so long has demonstrated the values of participation in political organizations."

There is both good and bad in politics, said Hart. But this applies to other occupations, he stated, and 82 per cent of parents don't ask their children to keep out of them.

There is less "fakery" in politics than in other areas less immune to criticism, the state officer pointed out.

"There is the temptation to be expedient rather than right." But the greater the public interest, the greater the realization will be that it is smart politics to be right.

"We need more of the kind of person who thinks more of the long-range verdict of history. Thus we must make political survival possible for that kind of official."

He urged the gathering of both Democrats and Republicans to not be ipteresied in politics only at election time, but put their participation on a continuing basis.

Speaking to Brewer, Hart said, "even when we thought you were wrong, we knew your motives were right and the balance sheet shows you were right more often than wrong."

In a short talk, Brewer said, "We need both political parties, that's what keeps everybody on their toes."

Secretary of State James M. Hare said his office was launching a campaign to help both parties by making "as nearly certain as possible" that each is equally represented among election booth workers.

Toastmaster was Carlos G. Richardson, new Oakland County Democratic chairman, who took over recently from Brewer after the latter had served over six years in the post.

The invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac.

Junior Achievement Drive Hits $7,000

With only 50 per cent of the firms canvassed reporting, more than $7,000 of the $10,000 goal set by Junior Achievement in Pontiac has been raised, it was reported today by Robert W. Emerick, co-chairman of the local drive.

Junior Achievement is a business-sponsored movement to acquaint high school youngsters with the workings of the capitalistic system of economy.

5 - Power Disarmament Meeting Will Open in London Friday

LONDON (UP)—The United States pledged today to seek an "honest and workable" agreement with Russia for reduction of nuclear and conventional weapons.

But it said it didn't see much hope for such an understanding.

* * *

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. delegate to a secret five-power conference on disarmament opening here tomorrow, told a news conference:

* * *

"When and if an honest scheme is developed, the United States will be in the lead in trying to live by it. In a matter that means so much to suffering humanity we must not overlook any possibility."

But Lodge warned that there is "not much ground for optimism." Tomorrow's talks will bring the United States, Britain, France, Canada, and Russia together to resume work as the United Nations disarmament subcommittee.

* * *

Russia's delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, conferred with British Minister of State Anthony Nutting just before the Lodge news conference.

Lodge challenged the Kremlin to live up to its Feb. 1 statement that "the people of the world are demanding that there be set up wider international cooperation for the peaceful uses of atomic energy."

The American delegate said:

"No one is more anxious to have international cooperation on the peaceful uses of atomic energy than President Eisenhower."

Pointing out that the U.N. has passed a resolution calling for the stockpiling of atomic fissionable material for peacetime uses, Lodge said:

* * *

"Wouldn't it make a wonderful impression if the Soviets would contribute some fissionable material to the stockpile which is being set up subject to the terms of the U.N. resolution?

"It would be wonderful if they would back their statement by some such concrete step which they can well afford to take."

Lodge recalled the United States already has decided to contribute 100 kilograms of fissionable material to the stockpile. Another 20 kilograms is coming from Britain.

Lodge avoided official comment on the Soviet call last week for a world disarmament conference and immediate abolition of atomic and hydrogen weapon stocks.

* * *

The American delegation is waiting for the Russian proposals to be spelled out in detail at the London meeting. The United States is opposed to unconditional atomic disarmament unless it is combined with a rigid inspection system which includes conventional weapons such as tanks and planes.

The Western powers fear that unless this system is followed, the Russians will be left with an overwhelming preponderance of military strength based on conventional weapons.

Split Seen in State Speed Limit Proposal

LANSING (UP) — The people of Michigan are split in their reactions toward a state speed limit, Michigan editors reported to the Michigan State Safety Commission.

C. D. Mc Namee, managing editor of the Muskegon Chronicle and chairman of the Safety Committee of the Michigan Press Association, polled editors attending a joint conference yesterday with the Michigan Safety Commission.

Six of the editors reported that people seem to favor a state speed limit or wouldn't actively oppose it.

Two said they did not think an arbitrary speed limit would be advisable because they feared the speed limit would be violated and this would lead to a disregard of other traffic laws.

State Police Commissioner Joseph M. Childs said he favored a limit of 50 miles an hour at night and 60 miles an hour in the daytime as a means of helping to cut down the accident toll.

The joint meeting of the MPA committee and the Safety Commission deferred making a recommendation on the proposal until an engineer's report is received from the state highway department.

A recommendation on a legislative bill to allow chemical tests to prove intoxication was deferred pending an opinion on the legality of the proposal from the attorney general's office.

The group also:

Favored the addition of 150 more men to the state police force.

Recommended that the Legislature appropriate sufficient funds to modernize the license control files of the Secretary of State's office so complete records can be kept.

Favored a community vehicle inspection program.

Voted to support the third annual traffic court conference to be held this spring at Michigan State College.

Report Russians in North Canada

Officials Say Scientists on Ice Cap Operate in Dominion Waters

OTTAWA (UP)—Canadian officials said today they have learned a Soviet team doing research work on the Polar ice cap operated last fall in far north waters claimed by Canada.

The officials said their information came from a recently acquired Russian pamphlet, and they had no reason to doubt it was true.

The Soviet Union has established two permanent research stations on Polar ice floes. One, known as North Pole III, was set up at 86 degrees N. latitude and 176 degrees W. longitude. Its last known position—September, 1954, —was 89 degrees N. latitude and 54 degrees W. longitude.

Presumably the drift station, in moving around the pole, was at one time in territory which Canada claims. The area is near the North Pole.

An authority here said it is possible the station will again move into Canadian territory. He added that no ulterior motive was suspected.

The Moscow government announced last July it had established the two "scientific stations" near the pole.

It said staffs deposited on drifting ice islands last spring were measuring the depth of the Arctic Ocean, studying atmospheric conditions and making geological surveys of the seabed. The stations maintain constant radio contact with Russia. They are supplied by air.

Denver Learns CD Evacuation Lesson

DENVER (NEA)—It was only a paper test—but Denver played it to the hilt.

Result: The first test of the evacuation of an American city theoretically struck by a hydrogen bomb has now been analyzed by officials and officially pronounced a success by Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson.

The family of George Swallow is typical of those who participated in the great civil defense exercise. Here is how the mock H-day, staged Dec. 5 and just brought to the nation's attention by Peterson, came to George, his wife and his two children as related in the Denver Rocky Mountain News.

The earth-shaking explosion of a hydrogen bomb shattered the early Sunday morning slumber of George Swallow at 2310 S. Ogden Street. Outside the ominous mushroom-shaped cloud, trade mark of an atomic explosion, billowed upward, darkening the sky.

His experience as a combat Marine on Iwo Jima helped Swallow plan through the first period of the crisis. Within minutes his wife and two children were loaded in the car. They joined 150,000 theoretical refugees streaming north from Denver.

At the same time 25,000 persons were fleeing southward, from the devastation of an atomic bomb dropped on Cheyenne.

By noon Sunday the 175,000 refugees were sheltered in town and rural homes, with the injured hospitalized.

* * *

The evacuation was completed without panic, and Civil Defense termed "Operation Welcome" a "success," although below "live" expectations.

The mass movement took place on paper, with the exception of 470 people from Denver, including Swallow and his family. The bomb detonations also happened only on paper.

The project — first test of its kind in the United States—was undertaken to "analyze the ability of . . . any rural section, to take care of evacuees from a large city," A. C. Tilley, regional administrator of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, said.

Denver residents were evacuated to the north because prevailing winds would cause contaminated air from radiation to blow south.

The operation was divided into two phases. Phase One was completely on paper and included movements of the evacuees from Cheyenne and Denver. This phase progressed smoothly with the exception of kinks in communications.

It indicated that Weld County, north of Denver, could feed and shelter 150,000 refugees for one month.

Phase Two was an actual rehearsal in which 470 Denver persons took part. They drove in 127 cars and a bus to a meeting point at nearby Brighton.

From there, under the direction of Civil Defense officials assisted by eight state patrolmen, three Civil Air Patrol planes and four mobile sound units, they were sent to eight dispersion centers.

The Swallows, like the other people taking part in Phase Two, arrived at Brighton at 9 a. m. They were assigned to the dispersion center at Johnstown, to which they were directed by Civil Defense workers.

They registered at a schoolhouse and were directed to the farm home of Mrs. Minerva Abrams, three miles west of Johnstown.

With true Western hospitality, Mrs. Abrams welcomed the Swallow children: Jim, 8; Susan, 6; Mr. and Mrs. Swallow, and their friend, Mrs. Dorothy Green, and her daughter, Shirley, 7.

There was a typical farm dinner: chicken, salad, two kinds of potatoes, gravy, homemade cake, and cream, milk and butter from the Abrams cows.

Analysis of the Weld mock evacuation proved that that county and two neighboring counties could feed 600,000 evacuees for 10 days.

SAFETY TRAFFIC JAM—The evacuees from Denver's large-scale test line up at a country dispersion center. From this spot, they were sent to nearby farms and homes as refugees.

MSC Test Studies Value of Fertilizer

KALAMAZOO (UP) — A 10-year experiment by Michigan State College shows there is no difference in the milk from cows fed from unfertilize fields or those fed from limed and fertilized fields.

The nutrition experiment was conducted on the W. K. Kellogg farm by nine MSC researchers.

Samples taken from two herds —one fed from unfertilized fields and one from fertilized fields— were fed colonies of rats to show the comparative nutritional effect.

Breeding efficiency of both herds proved poor, but male calves born to cows fed from unfertilized fields averaged 11 pounds heavier than those of cows fed from fertilized fields.

Sen. Aiken Welcomes Peace on Farm Front

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said today peace of the Senate farm front was wonderful.

Aiken, ranking GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, joined committee chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La) in transcribing a radio broadcast on farm affairs.

"Everything is peaceful. We couldn't find anything to disagree about," Aiken said.

Manslaughter Exam Postponed 3rd Time

The manslaughter examination of Mrs. Earlene Wagenshutz, of Metamora, blamed for the deaths of five persons in a headon crash on M 24's "Slaughter Hill Dec. 5, has been postponed a third time.

Mrs. Wagenshutz, 19, is scheduled to appear March 3 before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib. The hearing originally was set for today.

Leib said illness of Deputy Coroner Dr. Issac C. Prevette, whose testimony is necessary in the examination, necessitated the adjournment.

Parents Keep Checking on College Daughter

RIPLEY, Tenn. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Hal Wilson hear how their daughter is doing in college—by checks.

When the daughter, June, 17, writes a check, she jots a little note on the back telling her parents how she is getting along at Memphis State College.

Mrs. Wilson is a bookkeeper in the Bank of Ripley, and gets the canceled checks. Whenever one comes in, she calls her husband to come by and read the note.

June seldom writes regular letters, but her parents hear from her quite regularly. It seems that it takes quite a few checks for a girl to go to college.

Pooch Gets Around on 4 Legs, 2 Wheels

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP) — Dogs with three legs are no novelty, and a number of unfortunate pets go through life with two front legs and two wheels.

But Duke, a little German shepherd dog, had four legs and two wheels after being struck by a car in Cincinnati.

He was sent to the veterinary clinic at Ohio State University here, where it was determined he had suffered a fractured vertebra, putting pressure on the spinal cord which paralyzed his hind legs.

Duke's hind legs were put in a cast with wheels attached enabling him to get around while the injury healed.

Burglary Leaves Nothing in Home Worth Insuring

By MARGARET LATROBE

What first attracts a thief's attention? Why is a certain person, a certain house, singled out for robbery, and others ignored. Or do timing and circumstance, when favorable, cause crooks to rob whatever is at hand?

John and Susy couldn't figure it out. Why their house?

"Everybody knows we haven't got a nickel," John muttered, shakily. If his house looked trim and shipshape, well, he worked on it himself. Painting shutters, adding a garage—did it all himself. Why should a thief pick his house to rob?

He had a good enough job at the bank, sure—but every single month it took some neat juggling to pay the mortgage, the milkman, and all the rest. And insurance premiums—boy!

The police were nearly finished. A few more questitons. The porch door—sure it was locked? They thought so. Were any lights left burning while they were out? No. It was early in the evening, and besides, it costs money to burn electricity.

"You did write that letter about the household insurance?" demanded Susy, with one eye on the police scattering white powder, black powder for fingerprints. Every cupboard, every closet, every drawer had been rifled. She cringed at the thought of tomorrow, putting away the junk—for that was all that was left behind. Just the junk.

There wouldn't be any headlines—no fabulous jewels, no mink coats stolen. But they had had some good things, and they had worked hard to get them. The new camera, the golf clubs, their watches, her grandmother's earrings and pin in the box dated 1865. Valuable?. And their best winter coats . . . (Thank Heaven for that new policy, she thought.)

"You're sure you wrote that letter, John?" But he was busy talking to the detective and didn't hear. Poor fellow—he looked terribly worried. Her mother's fur coat was gone, too. She'd borrowed it to wear last Saturday night. Well, that would be all right. Mother could get a new one with the insurance money. The old one looked a little old-fashioned, anyway.

And the wedding presents? Susy sighed. Funny how people will give rafts of silver to kids getting married, when they won't be able to buy polish to clean it—not for a few years, at least. Hmmm—the floor waxer was gone, too.

The police were nearly through. "Well, mister," said one. "You were covered by insurance, I guess?"

John looked at Susy. "Honey, I wrote the letter all right, but I didn't mail it," he said limply. "I wanted to buy you the camera for your birthday—so I decided to wait another month on the insurance. And oh, brother! We won't need it now—we got nothing left to insure!

Newspaper Ad Locates Lost Articles—After All

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Lutie Combest lost her lawnmower and a fireplace grate. She put an ad in the Casey County News describing the loss and got no response.

She decided to try the ad columns again, however, to sell a pile of lumber behind her house.

Church Women to Offer Prayer

Theme of 1955 Service Will Be 'Abide in Me' by Senorita Lozada

Prayers for peace and understanding among nations will be offered by millions of Christians on Friday Feb. 25, the World Day of Prayer.

The day of prayer was begun 68 years ago by a small group of Presbyterian women in Brooklyn, N. Y. and gradually spread to other churches in the United States and overseas. In 1927 the first Friday in Lent was set aside for the universal observance.

The service was written this year by Senorita Jorgelina Lozada of Buenos Aires, an ordained Disciples of Christ minister. It has been translated into many languages and into Braille.

The theme of the 1955 observance is "Abide in Me" (John 15:4). The prayers ask not only for peace but for faith, courage and for the needs of others — the lonely, the hungry, the cold and the homeless.

The United Church Women of Pontiac will open the morning session Friday with registration at 10 at All Saints Episcopal Church. Mrs. Lewis C. Ball will give the Call to Prayer at 10:45. Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks will sing a solo and meditations will be given by Mrs. Edward D. Auchard and Mrs. Hector McClellan. Their subjects are, "I Am the Vine—Abide in Me" and "Create in Me a Clean Heart."

Mrs. H. E. Ryan will be in charge of the prayer period with Mrs. H. B. Harbage giving the benediction.

After the luncheon at 12 noon, Mrs. John Garrison will give the prayer of intercession. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Vernon Vie of the Salvation Army. Her topic is "Our Dedication." Mrs. Paul R. Havens will sing and Oscar Schmidt will present organ selections, both morning and afternoon.

Student Counseling Guild Program Topic

Pontiac Urban League Guild will hear a program on "Our Student Counseling In Action" when it meets on March 3 at 8 p.m. in the conference rooms of the Urban League in the Riggs building. The program will take the form of a panel discussion with Gerald G. Hunt; Pontiac Senior High Counselor as moderator. Other members of the panel will be members of the counseling staff. A period of open discussion will follow.

Opposes Harlan on U.N. Attitude

Senator Olin Johnston Fears Internationalism of Court Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) said today he opposes John Marshall Harlan's appointment to the Supreme Court because he fears the jurist would put the United Nations above the U.S. Constitution.

This view was disputed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). Another Judiciary Committee member, Sen. Daniel (D-Tex), said he intends to question Harlan on whether he favors partial surrender of national sovereignty to international organizations.

"Rather serious charges have been made against Judge Harlan, but whether there is any merit in them I don't know," Daniel said.

As it prepared to start closed-door hearings on Harlan's nomination, the Judiciary Committee said about 14 witnesses have asked to be heard

Winnie Supports Soviet Proposal on Disarmament

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill told Parliament last night Britain would support Russia's call for an international disarmament conference this year if East-West arms talks here produce agreement.

Delegates of Britain, Russia, the United States, France and Canada were gathering in London to resume sessions of a U. N. disarmament subcommittee tomorrow. Churchill said he expects Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to detail the Russian disarmament proposal at the talks.

• • •

Moscow's call for the disarmament conference, coupled with demands for freezing world armaments at present level and destruction of all atomic and hydrogen weapons, was broadcast Feb. 18. Churchill said it has not been delivered formally to the Western Powers.

Papers Thrive in 200 Prisons

Penal Press Editions Published by Inmates for Fellow Convicts

JACKSON, Mich. (NEA)—One of the oddest off-shoots of modern publishing is the so-called Penal Press.

For the most part unknown, this loosely-knit enterprise has a membership approaching 200 units, published regularly in United States and Canadian correctional institutions. Almost every such institution in North America brings out a weekly, monthly or quarterly publications.

Whether mimeographed on cheap newsprint, or presented in slick, multicolored editions, each one speaks for the prison inmate and occasionally for the administration.

Mainly, prison journals are worked up by male lawbreakers. However, women prisoners also publish such papers, turning out copy as lively if not livelier reading matter than their male counterparts.

A good deal of penal publication copy concerns "campus" and cellblock news. Occasionally, however, this Fourth Estate fringe minority puts into focus ideas which deserve serious attention and which don't get attention elsewhere.

Despite its relative obscurity, the penal press reaches an estimated 1,000,000 readers. Yet, it is a uniquely selective press, in that its primary audience has little influence.

Today, in these publications, censorship is less rigid than it once was. They can speak out on matters hoped to allay any erroneous impressions or confirm conditions pertaining to bad court practices and faulty prison conditions.

Penal press staffs are almost entirely untrained. And usually the mechanical equipment is out of style and pretty badly worn. Still, they get the paper out; and as each edition appears they see it as another triumph.

For the most part, the prison pays the way for its publication. In Michigan, however, The Spectator, a negroweekly tabloid, has been supported financially for the past 25 years by the Inmate Fund—profits accrued through sales of certain articles sold in the prison's Inmate Store.

Generally, prison publications are tied to a prison's educational department and are considered as aiding inmate rehabilitation as well as keeping the inmate personnel up on happenings inside and outside prison.

The prison publications have been a sometimes major source in alerting the public on prison events.

Jap Premier Hatoyama Stopped for Speeding

TOKYO (AP)—A policeman stopped a car going 60 miles an hour yesterday, the newspaper Asahi said, and asked the Japanese equivalent of "Where's the fire, buster?"

It was Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama, rushing from one speaking engagement to another in his whirlwind campaign for re-election.

Confused Taxpayer Clears His Conscience

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernest J. Sauber, Chicago director of the Internal Revenue Service, yesterday received $237.80 from a taxpayer who also sent a letter. It read:

"I am more confused than ever. But I must keep a clear conscience. I am sending you $237.80. C. Cleary.

"P.S.: The C is for Conscience and the Cleary for Clear."

Robbers Play Game

CHICAGO (AP)—Two robbers who left Dr. David Clark in his automobile after taking $30 wanted to forestall immediate pursuit last night. They took his left shoe and the key to his car and told him he'd have to hunt for them. Clark found the shoe with the key inside in a nearby alley.

Freedom Short-Lived

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Police were returning personal belongings to Jimmy Jones, 35, who had just finished a 30-day term for vagrancy when they noticed the name "W. D. Briscoe" on a leather jacket. Files showed the jacket was stolen from a car parked here by W. D. Briscoe, of Kansas City, in December. Jones went back to jail for another 30 days.

Gas Line Break Chills Kansans

Many Topeka Homes Are Left Without Heat in Subfreezing Weather

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Residents of this city of nearly 100,000 and seven other communities shivered in subfreezing temperatures today after a pipeline break cut off the area's gas supply.

The majority of homes use natural gas for heating.

Appliance stores reported a run on electric heaters. There also was a rush to buy ready-cooked foods.

* * *

The break in the 16-inch transmission line of the Cities Service Gas Co. was caused by a defective weld. It has been repaired, but it may be 24 hours before service can be resumed to all buildings.

Workmen had to turn off each individual connection and then turn them all back on again. The disconnections are necessary to eliminate all hazards when the gas pressure is restored.

Approximately 32,000 homes and business places were affected.

* * *

Heavy use of electricity in heaters and cooking ranges overloaded power lines. The power and light company appealed to residents to turn off all ranges not being used for cooking purposes.

Hospitals, most commercial establishments and industries have a standby fuel such as oil and were not affected.

Most schools were dismissed. They are heated by standby fuels but the city opened them to families as emergency shelters.

* * *

Other communities affected in addition to this state capital are Valley Falls, Oskaloosa, Ozawkie, Meriden, Perry, Lecompton and Grantville. All have populations of 1,500 or less.

Theodore Roosevelt took the oath of office of the President of the United States at the home of a friend in Buffalo, N. Y., after President McKinley's death.

Eskimo Scouts Keep Constant Watch Over Their Neighbors in Soviet Union

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Writer

FT. RICHARDSON, Alaska (AP)—On the farthest corner of America, U.S. soldiers keep watch on what goes on in Russia.

The men are members of a little known but highly valued organization—the Eskimo scouts of the Alaskan National Guard.

* * *

The place is the Diomede Island group astride the border between this country and the Soviet Union—Little Diomede in the United States, Big Diomede across a few miles of water in Siberia.

Little Diomede Island is the closest point to Red territory. But the area in which the scouts live and work stretches for almost 5,000 miles along the bleak, rocky coastline and islands facing out over sullen seas and ice toward Siberia.

* * *

The Eskimo scouts (actually some of them are Indians) are probably the only members of a reserve type organization who are always on active duty without being called up or inducted into federal service. What they do in their daily work—hunting, fishing, trapping—fits perfectly the mission they would have if on constant government duty.

If there is a stranger in their land, they are almost certain to know about it. Perhaps they see him. Or perhaps there are only tell-tale signs—footprints, marks on a beach where a boat has landed, or the attitude of nervous game, whose eyes and ears are even more sensitive than those of an Eskimo.

For generations, the Eskimo has lived by his skill at stalking food and fur animals. He has a natural and amazing skill in the art of camouflage, of moving fast, shooting accurately.

The U.S. Army has no illusions about using the Eskimo scout as a combat infantryman in a regular unit. He is neither armed nor temporarilly equipped for it. His great value to the Army is for patrol and, in some degree, guerrilla action. The scouts serve as a reconnaissance screen at the outermost perimeter of the defenses.

For years, the scouts were armed with obsolete Enfield and Springfield rifles, hand-me-downs from World War I. Only now are they being equipped with modern M-1 rifles. When the scout leaves his village for a hunting trip along the coast, he carries two guns—his own game rifle and his military weapon.

The scout keeps sharp watch not only afield but at home. On Little Diomede, American Eskimos could give an almost hour-by-hour report on the movements of their neighbors on Big Diomede, whom they watch by telescope.

On St. Lawrence Island, 150 miles to the south, the same vigilance is maintained, 24 hours a day, toward the approaches over ice or by water.

Scouts say there isn't much migration or travel between Soviet and American territory now. They do not say there is none. A few years ago fishing and hunting parties of Eskimos often crossed the boundary.

Alaska's Eskimos had other visitors from Asia 15 years ago. In 1940, they reported to the territorial government that a Japanese survey party had landed at one point, looked over the country and people and left. This was more than a year before Japan declared war and succeeded in gaining a foothold in the Aleutian chain.

The Eskimo reconnaissance force is organized into two battalions, one with headquarters at Nome, the other at Bethel. Organically, they have two missions: a territorial militia for home defense; members of the national guard which is a civilian component of the Army.

Although the Eskimo knows far more about the science of scouting and patrol in the arctic and subarctic than white members of a military organization, he must be trained to adapt his knowledge to the requirements and operational techniques of a regular military force.

Therefore, the Army operates at Ft. Richardson a three-week course at a noncommissioned officers school and a two-week course in radio. Here the scout NCOs learn to look for the specific intelligence the military needs and the forms of reporting information.

Margaret Is Sailing for Bahamas Today

PORT ANTONIO, Jamaica (AP)—Tanned by the Caribbean sun and hailed by her hosts as a royal success, Princess Margaret today reached the end of her visit to Jamaica.

She was scheduled to sail aboard the royal yacht Britannia for the Bahamas, her last stop before flying home next Wednesday. She began her tour of British possessions in the Caribbean 3½ weeks ago.

After shooting the rapids of the Rio Grande River on a raft yesterday, Margaret attended a festive beach party. Among the guests were Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for U.S. president in 1952 who is vacationing in Jamica, and playwright Noel Coward.

Operates Barber School 17 Years Minus License

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Frank Berry has operated a barber college here for 17 years. In that time he has graduated about 500 barbers.

Yesterday, the 74-year-old Berry was fined $10 in Magistrate Court. The charge: barbering without a license.

Berry said he will appeal.

China Releases 949 Jap POWs

Freed Prisoners Say Communists Lagging in Technology

MAIZURU, Japan (AP)—The Japanese repatriation ship Koan Maru docked at this central Japan port today with 949 Japanese back from Red China, where they had been detained more than 10 years.

That boosted the Japanese repatriation total to 28,175 since early last year.

Many of the repatriates who arrived today are technicians who said they were forced to work for China. One said China was "many years behind the Japanese level technically."

* * *

"The Communists are still trying to restore what the Japanese had built before the war," said Motnosuke Shimizu, an engineer. "It may take 10 more years for the Communists to restore the 1937 industrial output."

Dr. Seiryu Tsukino said, "Chinese medical science is at least 30 years behind the Japanese level."

Tsukino, who had been working at the Sian clinic in central China, said China had only 10,000 licensed doctors when the Communists took over.

* * *

"Medicines and drugs are also perennially short," he said. "British-made streptomycin is now being sold at 20 times the Japanese retail price."

Tatsuo Shiraki, correspondent for the newspaper Asahi who made a brief visit to Peiping, said, "Commodities are quite short in Red China."

Juro Ujiihe, 43-year-old repatriate from Kanshuk, said the slogan "Oppose America, Help Korea" is now completely replaced by "We must liberate Formosa."

Lawyer Eats Glass and Wins His Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Atty. Raymond G. Stanbury had to eat a glass sandwich to win his case in court.

Stanbury represents actress Esther Williams and her husband Ben Gage, who operate a restaurant where Ward E. Willcutt claims he was served ice cream containing glass particles. He asks $51,239 damages, claiming the glass injured him internally.

Stanbury, demonstrating for the jury yesterday, smashed a piece of glass, put the pieces between slices of bread and ate the sandwich to prove the glass wouldn't hurt him. The impressed jury voted in favor of his clients.

See New Job for Bonnet

BANGKOK (AP)—Informed sources said today Henri Bonnet, former French ambassador to the United States and head of the French delegation to the Manila Pact conference here, shortly would be appointed high commissioner to South Viet Nam. He would succeed Gen. Paul Ely, who presumably would remain as commander in chief of French forces in the Far East.

Bob Considine Says:

Dr. Sheppard Studies Criminology

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show:

Dr. Sam Sheppard, who was recently willed his murdered wife's estate, but can't accept it if his conviction for that slaying is upheld, wants to sweat out his appeal at the Ohio State Penitentiary, rather than the county jail in Cleveland—'tis said.

My informant is Helen Waterhouse of the Akron Beacon Journal, who covered the endless case last fall and winter and recently returned to the scenes of the criminal case for a second look.

Dr. Sam's colorful old lawyer, Bill Corrigan, told her that Sheppard has become a student of criminology and an authority on prisons through extensive reading and some first hand inquiries. He has tried to make a study of the past lives of inmates of his cellblock in quest of answers as to why they reached there.

Sam's father's house in Bay Village will become a nurses' home. Dr. Steve Sheppard and his wife vacationed in Caracas, Venezuela, after the father's death and the mother's suicide. Corrigan is editing down the 7,000 pages of testimony taken at the trial to present a more readable version for the court of appeals judges. The final appeal of the 31-year-old osteopath will be presented some time in April.

The long suffering male who pays for sheer nylons (and pays and pays and pays) but is bawled out if he looks at any others save those filled by the gams of his keeper, gets a break March 1. On that day something called Larkwood X-90 goes on sale coast to coast. The Chadbourn Hosiery Mills of Charlotte, N. C. will, at the same time, take a breath-taking gamble—as such things go:

Chadbourn guarantees in writing that if a gal buys two pair she'll have at least one full pair at the end of 90 days. Runs in nylons cause the average U.S. woman to use up 40 pairs a year. The anti-run X-90, the mills are betting, will cut that to eight pairs.

Nice woman named Lillian S. Labard sends me a pair of sun glasses equipped with rear-vision mirrors. She makes them. They're good, she writes, for detectives, patrolmen, mothers watching tots at play, arthritics with limited neck rotation, and horse players who can view their choice finishing ninth while looking through the regular lens at the winner.

The glasses have been seized from me, at ray-gunpoint, by a child named Barry. And just as well. They'd have worried me. Wearing them, I'd have perpetually recalled Satchel Paige's all-encompassing admonition:

"Don't look back. They might be gaining on you."

Another kid, Dennis, is in the hospital—after a one-point landing on his noggin while ice-skating. His mother, running for a plane that would bring her home from Florida, called him and said, all a'quiver, "Is there anything I can bring you, dear?"

"Yes," said the walking wounded, "bring me a live alligator."

Hours later, the child lapsed into a pensive state that worried his nurse.

"Are you sure you're feeling all right?" she asked.

"Oh, yes," he said. "I was just thinking: What'll I do with a live alligator?"

If the AEC is now going to shoot off colored A-bombs at Yucca Flat (they tried an orange one the other dawn) the fashion editors will want accreditation.

Word from the hat world is that Mr. John won't make a move until he's promised a shocking pink bomb.

This is Brotherhood Week and Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the U.N. trusteeship department, passes along these words:

". . . There is nothing so important in this world as people giving expression to the good that is in us all by amity toward each other, by respecting each other and by acting generally like civilized beings."

Although Panama has steaming jungles on the Atlantic side, the part of the country on the Pacific side is dry and open.

Last DSR Trollies Stir Up Argument

DETROIT (AP)—A proposal to convert Detroit's only three remaining streetcar lines to buses touched off a storm of protest last night.

Leo J. Nowicki, general manager of the Department of Street Railways, told the DSR Commission that the change-over would save $1,200,000 over the next several years. Nowicki long has been a champion of bus service.

Letter Sent Jan. 1, 1915, Travels .1 Miles a Year

SALISBURY, N.H. (AP)—Yellow with age, a letter dated Jan. 1, 1915 was received by Mrs. Harry Twombly recently. The letter, hidden behind a loose board, was found when new store-owner Norman Barton moved his branch postoffice to another section of the shop.

Sent by Mrs. Gladys Webster of Franklin the letter had traveled four miles in the 40 years.

Vermont Mines Most Asbestos

Biggest Quarry in U.S. Is Located on Mountain Near Canadian Border

HYDE PARK, Vt. (UP) — Perched on a mountain in Vermont, a state noted for its maple syrup and ski resorts, is the biggest asbestos mine in the United States.

The mine annually ships 50,000 tons of asbestos, called the "silk of the mineral kingdom," and accounts for nine-tenths of all U. S. production.

Starting out in rock that looks like granite, the fire - proof asbestos ends up as siding and shingles for house roofs, brake lining for autos, firefighting clothes and wall insulation. Housewives use it for broiling steaks and theaters use it for fire curtains.

Discovered by a wandering lumberjack in 1892, the open - face mine was bought in 1936 by Ruberoid Co., a leading manufacturer of asbestos cement building materials. Ruberoid also ranks as the country's biggest producer of asphalt roofing.

In mining asbestos on slopes more than a thousand feet high, expert workers blow as much as 250 tons of rock at one time with dynamite blasts. After tumbling down a cliffside, the asbestos rock is crushed in mills and shipped out in bags as fibre.

Asbestos mining is a big business. Ruberoid's facilities at Hyde Park are worth more than $4,000,000.

The nation's biggest asbestos mine is located only 20 miles south of the Canadian border in heavily forested country. Other asbestos mines in the United States are small ones located in Arizona.

Asbestos is best known for its fire - proof quality. But during World War II the Navy used asbestos fabrics for insulation on ships and special types of asbestos paint prevented gun corrosion.

More than 2,000 years ago the Romans used asbestos in napkins which were cleaned by fire and Greek doctors prescribed it as medicine.

Charlemagne is said to have averted a war by use of an asbestos tablecloth. When savage hordes threatened his empire, he called a conference and threw the tablecloth into a fire. After he drew it out unsinged his enemies decided not to fight with a man who had magical powers.

Bouncing Check Causes Judge to Increase Fine

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Paying traffic fines with rubber checks can be more expensive than double parking. Magistrate Luke M. McKenny fined an offender $25 because his $4 check bounced.

The judge got tough when the number of bad checks coming in the mail with traffic tickets increased to an average of 10 a month.

14 Lawsons in Hospital

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—Holston Valley Community Hospital was teeming with Lawsons recently. At one time, there were 14 persons by that name. Two of them, in the maternity ward to add a couple of more Lawsons, both were named Dorothy Marie. Nurses solved that one by calling them by their husbands' first names: George Washington and Andrew Jackson Lawson.

Volunteers Help Hunt Lost Tots

2 Children Disappear From Farm Home at Birch Run

SAGINAW (AP)—State Police and sheriff's deputies today led more than 150 volunteers in a search for two children who disappeared yesterday from their farm home about 13 miles southeast of Saginaw.

It was feared they may have drowned in the snow-swollen Flint River which runs behind their home near Birch Run.

The children are Charles Schramm, 10, and his sister Georgianna, 8. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Schramm, said the two youngsters came home from school yesterday and went outside to play about 4:30 p.m.

Neighbors reported seeing them about 6 p.m. near the bridge over the river.

Sheriff C. A. Kackemeister issued a call for volunteers soon after their disappearance was reported. Searchers, hampered by darkness, fanned out over neighboring farms and woodlands, but could find no trace of the children after several hours.

Sheriff Kackemeister said the hunt would be intensified today.

State Will Map Plan to Combat Budworm

LANSING (UP)—State and industrial foresters are scheduled to meet this week to seek an effective method of combatting the spruce budworm, a sleeping bug that is due to wake up with a big appetite.

Department of Conservation officials said millions of the pests are snoozing through the winter in trees in the Upper Peninsula and will start gnawing operations in that area in the spring.

The budworm has destroyed millions of cords of spruce and balsam woodpulp in the northwestern and northeastern U.S. in recent years and conservatioin workers said they fear the bugs may spread throughout the state's northern forests.

'LET'S GET GOING WITH THE MAIN DISH'—Dressed for the occasion, "Sparky" licks his lips as he waits for someone to pour his milk. Infinite patience got this picture for the photographer, Mike Ianetta, 17-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, high school student.

Says Civil Service Snubs Older Folks

LANSING (AP) — A Detroit senator accused the State Civil Service Commission today of deserting the merit principle in state employment and discriminating against persons over 45 years of age.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) asked the Legislature to set up a special committee to study Civil Service Commission practices.

He said state government should set an example for private industry in utilizing the constantly groing number of older persons.

Noting that the commission has absolute power to set standards for hiring state employes, Ryan said its own regulations say that the age limitations for state jobs should be between 21 and 65.

Yet, he said, commission announcements for civil service examinations frequently fix maximum ages at 35, 40 and 45 years.

Debaters Slated for Tournament Against Redford

WALLED LAKE — Walled Lake High School will be one of eight schools to participate in a state elimination debating tournament, to be held at Melvindale High School all day Friday.

Walled Lake debaters will be matched against a team from Redford Union High School. Winners will compete against winners of a contest between Northville and Melvindale High Schools.

Other schools pitted in the tournament will be Clarkston High against Utica; and Troy High against Lakeview. Each school has two teams, with either team eligible to debate.

In the final round, the two winning schools will compete for a place in the state quarter finals. Debaters on the two Walled Lake teams are Jane Clark, Mary Roach, Ed VanderVelde and Stanley Rock.

JACKSON (AP) — Rush W. McCutcheon was elected president of the National Bank of Jackson Wednesday. He succeeds W. McInally, who becomes chairman of the board.

Scientists Founding Peace Atom Group

DETROIT (AP) — More than 50 scientists and workers in the field of atomic energy named a committee last night to lay the groundwork for founding a Joint Council on Nuclear Science.

When formulated, the council will provide a clearing house for the exchange of ideas on peacetime uses for atomic energy. It is believed to be the first attempt in the nation to set up such a group.

Robert W. Hartwell, head of the Detroit Edison Co. atomic power project, was named temporary chairman.

Other committe members include Joseph J. Martin, Department of Chemical Engineering, University of Michigan, and Dr. Henry Gomberg, assistant director of the Phoenix Memorial Project at the University of Michigan.

Motorists Ask Tickets

ST. LOUIS (UP) — Police in suburban Kirkwood were dumbfounded when three persons within 10 minutes reported their own cars parked in no-parking zones and asked for traffic tickets. Later, officers learned a scavenger hunt was in progress. One of the required items was a parking ticket.

Mrs. Briggs Leaves Fund as Memorial to Industrialist Husband

DETROIT (AP)—The widow of the late industrialist Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Detroit Tigers, bequeathed $500,000 to the University of Detroit "as a fitting memorial to my great husband."

The bequeath was among several from Mrs. Jane Cameron Briggs, according to her will filed for probate yesterday. Mrs. Birggs died Feb. 13 in Florida, three years after he husband's death.

Mrs. Briggs left $10,000 to the Detroit Institute of Arts and various sums to educational institutions.

She left $6,500 and automobile stock to her only son, Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., ho now heads the Tigers.

Birggs Jr. and his brother-in-law, Phillip A. Hart, lieutenant governor of Michigan, were named executors of the will.

Mrs. Briggs' daughter, Jane, who is Hart's wife, was bequeathed a cottage on Bois Blanc Island on upper Lake Huron.

Mrs. Hart and her sisters, Mrs. Grace Robinson, Mrs. Elisabeth Fisher and Mrs. Susan Fisher, share in their mother's paintings and jewelry.

Mrs. Briggs also left $10,000 each to the widows of two brothers, Mrs. Frances Cameron of Birmingham and Mrs. Alice Cameron of Royal Oak. She left $5,000 to a third brother, Raymond R. Cameron of Detroit.

Up to this year, maybe there were reasons for wanting one of the higher priced cars. If you demanded something extra in driving fun . . . something really special in the way a car handled and felt and responded to your wishes . . . you simply had to pay a premium to get it.

Not any more! The Motoramic Chevrolet for 1955 has changed all that. In fact, it's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars on their own home-grounds—out on the highway.

Talk about excitement! You have 162 high-compression horsepower under the hood with the new "Turbo-Fire V8"! (180 h.p. is optional at extra cost in all V8 models if you want it.) Or you can take your pick of two new "Blue-Flame" 6's—the hottest, highest powered sixes in the low-price field! Any one of these three engines brings you all the good things that come from Chevrolet's long leadership in valve-in-head design.

As for drives, just name it. Chevrolet offers new Overdrive, Super-Smooth Powerglide (extra-cost options), or a new and finer Synchro-Mesh transmission.

You're headed for fun in the Motoramic Chevrolet! You're headed for a ride such as you'd expect only in highest priced cars. You're headed for "heads up" stopping, too, and easier steering. All this, with Chevrolet's traditional economy. Come in and put this "show car" on the road!

Quemoy 'Home' to Handful of GIs

Yanks Are Living Well Despite Red Shelling of Troubled Isle

QUEMOY ISLAND (INS) — A small group of American soldiers is living well on Quemoy Island despite shelling from Communist batteries and rough field conditions.

They are the U.S. Army's MAAG (Military Advisory and Assistance Group), military advisers to the Nationalist defenders of Quemoy.

The handful of officers and enlisted men live in a new, modernistic combination living quarters and recreation room structure. The high-ceilinged wooden building is shielded by a rocky mountain from Communist gunfire.

Like American soldiers everywhere, they have movies almost every night, ice cream, steak and chicken regularly. And they have a small bar with a refrigerator which provides ice for their drinks.

The dozen or so soldiers serving on Quemoy are hand-picked men from Formosa. Because of the hazardous nature of the duty, they serve four months then are relieved.

Maj. Gen. William Chase, chief of the MAAG on Formosa, has forbidden his men to say anything to newsmen.

For this reason none of the Americans serving on this lonely and dangerous post would provide their names for publication.

One other reason was advanced by the men themselves: They did not want their families to worry about them.

One thing was evident, however. These men have to risk their necks frequently to perform their duties. Anyone who tours the frontline emplacements faces a possible Communist shelling at any time.

The GIs never wear helmets, but they carry weapons at all times. Even when sitting around their country-club-like quarters they each pack a .45 automatic tucked into their belts.

Besides the rigorous duty and the frequent danger, these Americans must fight boredom. They live in a tight-knit group all by themselves, separated from Chinese units and cut off from family and friends.

All books of the Bible, except Daniel and Ezra, which were partly written in the Aramaic languate, were written either in Hebrew or in Greek.

Believes Stress May Be Greatest Man-Killer Today

MONTREAL (AP)—Dr. Hans Selye will tell you that stress may well be the greatest man-killer of modern times. He's a world authority on what pressures and strains can do to you.

A pipe-puffing scientist who looks like a poet, Selye says stress really can't be defined. "It's like life," but:

"Any motorist who swears in traffic, any housewife driven frantic by squalling children, any stevedore who broods in silent anguish over debts knows about stress.

* * *

"The businessman driving himself at breakneck speed certainly knows about stress. But when he dies prematurely at 50 years of age his 'weak heart' is blamed. It isn't understood that stress itself is fatal."

For 19 of his 48 years Selye has been studying stress. And he views it as a hidden enemy which strikes under the guise of heart disease, tuberculosis, insanity, blindness and a host of other ills. Selye holds that it causes chemical imbalances by setting off a glandular alarm system squirting substances which, unless counteracted, can fatally damage vital organs.

A naturalized Canadian of Austrian birth, Selye has directed the University of Montreal's Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery since it was opened in 1945. The institute is a clearing house for information on stress.

He has just published his fourth annual report on stress, a yearly follow-up to his major work on the subject, put out in 1950. Doctors have said Selye's theories, defining stress and measuring its chemical effect on the body, hold out prospective help for sufferers of a high-speed age. The answers are neither complete nor universally accepter, but their form has been recognized and applauded by medical journals.

Long before the hormone wonder drugs such as cortisone and ACTH were announced, Selye contended that a patient suffering from chemical imbalance caused by stress—from anything from cold feet to a gun at the head—could never recover unless the balance was restored, either naturally or artificially. He theorized then that the balance could be restored by injection of hormones or by operations on the pituitary and adrenal glands, main sources of the trouble. There has been progress since in both fields.

* * *

Selye showed in experiments with animals that prolonged physical stress produced such ills as heart disease, ulcers and arthritis —things which he said rarely if ever affected them in their natural state.

He is continuing his experiments with animals, mostly rats. Others have widened the study in clinical research to human beings.

Character Actor Sued for Divorce by 6th Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Character actor Douglas Fowley's sixth wife, the former Mary Ann Walsh, 24, has sued for divorce. She charged cruelty in her complaint yesterday and said they have reached a property settlement. They married March 28, 1954, in Riverside, Calif., and separated Feb. 16.

When Fowley, 43, signed his marriage application he stated he had been divorced five times but did not list the names of his wives.

High to Begin With

Baltimore to Get Meters

BALTIMORE (UP) — The nation's sixth largest city is going into the parking meter business. Baltimore City Council voted last night to authorize the installation of almost 3,000 meters on about 40 business streets.

REGISTRATION NOTICE FOR BIENNIAL SPRING ELECTION
MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1955

To the qualified electors of the City of Sylvan Lake, County of Oakland, State of Michigan.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City, not already registered, who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my office Monday, March 7, 1955, last day, the thirtieth day preceding said election, from 8 o'clock a.m. until 8:00 o'clock p.m. on said day for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said City as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ARMY GUINEA PIG — Troops at the AEC's Nevada test site examine an expendable self-propelled 155-mm. howitzer, which will stand exposed within 4,000 yards of 1955's first atomic burst. Troops will be huddled in trenches about 4,000 yards from the blast. Tanks will be used in this series for the first time to go forward with the troops after the detonation. Photo by U. S. Army.

Visits 'Nieces' and 'Nephews'

American 'Aunt' Tours Europe on Invitations of Those She's Aided

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — Mrs. Harvey Lisk decided that this past summer was a good time to visit her 25 "nieces" and "nephews" in England, Wales, Norway, Finland, Austria, Switzerland, Greece, Italy and France.

Her trip to Europe was in response to invitations received since the early postwar years of World War II.

Mrs. Lisk acquired the foster nieces and nephews through a children's club formed by her daughter, Faith. The six members of the club called themselves the Junior Joy Crafters.

In the days of hunger and want in Europe, Mrs. Lisk suggested to the club that they write to girls their own age in foreign lands. Soon letters were pouring back and forth across the ocean.

The local girls began sending presents of food and clothing, and collected items from neighbors.

Mrs. Lick acted as sponsor, and wrote her own letters, signed "Aunt Doris." In a short time, she was being addressed "Aunt Doris" in a dozen different languages.

The years passed and the original club members grew up, leaving the organization to younger girls.

Mrs. Lisk continued as sponsor, however, and the letters kept flying back and forth across the Atlantic. Then she decided to meet the writers and made the summer trip.

Radio Norway on Strike

OSLO, Norway (UP) — Seventy-three announcers and other staff members struck the government-run Norwegian radio network for higher wages yesterday. Two officials kept the network on the air with weather reports, recorded music and tape - recorded programs.

Displaced Person Moves Up Fast at Juniata College

HUNTINGDON, Pa. (UP) — A Russian-born displaced person who was given a job as janitor at Junlata College here in 1950 returned to the school this fall as an instructor in modern languages.

George T. Dolnikowisk, 36, who has also worked as a counterman, dishwasher and cook, received employment at the college through the efforts of the Church of the Brethren which arranged for him to come to the United States in December, 1949.

He enrolled in a course in American history, wishing to get acquainted with the background of the country in which he sought citizenship. In 1952 he was awarded an A.B. degree at Juniata.

Last June, Dolnikowski earned his master's degree with distinction in German literature at the University of Pennsylvania and now he has begun working on his doctorate.

Dolnikowski served in the Red Army during World War II and was a prisoner of the Nazis for more than two years. In 1945 when he was freed, he decided not to return to Russia and found work in Salzburg, Austria. Five years later he came to this country.

Bank of England Ups Loan Interest Rates

LONDON (UP) — The nationalized Bank of England raised its interest rates on loans today for the second time within a month to check the inflationary dangers Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler sees lurking in the British economy.

The rate was upped to 4½ per cent. On Jan. 27 it was raised to 3½ per cent from 3 per cent.

This step tends to tighten credit policies throughout the worldwide sterling area.

A spokesman for the bank said the new increase not only could be regarded as an inflation check move but also might help strengthen the pound on world money markets.

The pound recently has been dropping in its dollar exchange value and a few days ago almost reached its official legal floor here of $2.78.

A certain period in history was called the "Dark Ages" because of belief that European civilization made almost no advancement between the 5th and 12th centuries.

Claims Gen. Taylor Will Succeed Hull

TOKYO (UP)—Kyodo News Service said tonight it had learned that Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor will succeed Gen. John E. Hull April 1 as commander in chief of the United Nations Command and Far East Command.

Taylor, commander of U.S. Army forces Far East and the U.S. 8th Army in Korea, is in Washington where Army officials termed his visit routine.

Under Army regulations, Hull is scheduled for retirement before his 60th birthday May 26.

Celebrated on Oct. 8

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — The eighth day of October is a red-letter day in the Martin J. Murrett family.

The couple's first child, Mary Lynn, was born on that date in 1947.

Another child, Robert Brendan, was born on that date five years later.

And baby Paul Martin came along on Oct. 8, 1954.

Firm Buys Option on Uranium Mine

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP) —An investment firm today announced purchase of an option on the Ralston Creek uranium mine, a rich discovery made by a school janitor.

Eugene Williams, president of the Farmington Funding Corp. with headquarters here, said development of the mine near Golden, Colo., would be started immediately.

* * *

The ore deposit, described by an AEC spokesman as "one of the most significant" uranium strikes, was discovered by Fred Schwartzwalder, for years an amateur prospector during the hours he was not working as Golden High School janitor.

Neither Williams nor Schwartzwalder would say how much money was being paid for the option.

First Jet Ride Brings Pride, Panic

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

MITCHELL AIR FORCE BASE, N. Y. (INS)—I have just flown, in fact piloted, my first jet airplane — butterflies in stomach, heart in mouth, spine in 50-pound parachute, and faith in God and the U. S. Air Force.

I shall always look back on the experience with genuine pride and panic.

It was the 26th Air Division (defense) arm of the Air Force that invited me to go on a sub-sonic spree in a T-33 jet fighter-trainer, a rare opportunity for a woman who knows nothing more about sound barriers than what she hears on her old static-ridden radio.

So I put on slacks, per orders, and a jazzy yellow helmet equipped with earphones and an oxygen mask, and signed a paper which indicated that I—and none of my bereaved — should hold the Air Force responsible should my number happen to be up, as we fliers say, on this auspicious occasion.

Quietly, I was led onto the field. As they strapped me into the rear seat of the bullet-shaped two-place plane, a major and a captain and two maintenance men told me how there was nothing to it. Just remember, in case anything went awry, they said, these six simple precautions:

Pull the red ribbon under the right hip, then yank up the left armrest; now cock a lever under the right thigh and whip up the right armrest. You are now free of the plane, "having been shot through the plexiglass canopy?" they said. And all you have to remember then is to kick away the seat attached to your underside and pull the ripcoard.

"Got it?" said the pilot, Capt. Donald Feltey.

The canopy was lowered over me and Capt. Feltey, the rear of whose helmet exuded spiritual confidence, and the rasping sound of his breathing came through my helmet earphones. Presently he stopped rasping and spoke. "Okay now," he said. "I have just tested everything and it looks like we're in real good shape. Let's taxi out for take-off."

As we glided to the runway, there was a low-pitched rumble, as of a lion testing for a kill. "Okay, I have 90 per cent of our total power now," reported the Captain soothingly. "It's as simple as that. Absolutely no sweat."

At the head of the runway, the rumble swelled fiercely into a strange frustrated whine, as if the silver creature could contain itself no longer. I looked out at the slick fuel "tip-tanks" attached to either side of the plane suspiciously, but they gave no clue as to what was going on. All around the tight little cockpit the plane seemed to shiver, and the control stick that jutted up between my knees swiveled drunkenly.

Suddenly "Ready: Off we go" and the bullet was whistling forward. Buildings whipped backwards on the left. It seemed only a few seconds and we were off the ground, cutting into space whining ceased as we charged upward and, from 6,000 feet upward, the silver jet seemed to be at peace.

At 10,000 feet, droning along restfully, we passed a commercial airliner, apparently standing still. Capt. Feltey said, "Why don't you take over the stick." I held it, for a few moments, and followed orders: pulling back the stick to nose up, pushing forward the stick to nose down, prodding it slightly to right or left to go right or left.

"Easier than driving a car," droned Feltey.

With a sudden light-headed feling and a return of the quivering sensation of harnessed power, the T33 and the captain and I arrived at Suffolk, Long Island — 60 miles from Mitchell Field — eleven minutes later. We could have done it lots faster, but since it was just for pleasure, we dawdled.

As they extricated me from the 'chute and took away my borrowed oxygen, the pilot said, "Well? How do you feel?"

"Delighted," I replied, enigmatically.

(Tomorrow: Miss Battelle visits a hide-away headquarters for American Air Defense and pities the enemy planes which try to approach our shores.)

Electronic 'Cop' Controls Traffic

$250,000 Brain Keeps Cars Flowing Smoothly in Downtown Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—A $250,000 "traffic cop" is making a smooth-flowing operation out of sprawling Houston's downtown traffic problem.

The new "cop," an electronic brain controlling signal lights at 289 street intersections, enables traffic in downtown and adjacent areas to move over the city's system of alternating one-way streets at maximum speed consistent with safety and traffic density.

The flow of traffic itself regulates the "stop-and-go."

City Traffic Director Eugene Maier said the system is based on density of traffic. It provides progressive traffic flow (where the lights keep turning green as you reach them) at speeds of 18-22 miles an hour in the central business district and 18-30 miles per hour on streets leading into the area.

When the peak periods of traffic density in the business district are reached, signals automatically change to simultaneous timing in which all cars move in one direction on a series of green lights for 70-90 seconds and then cross traffic moves in a similar manner.

The new electronic brain has detectors, or "feelers," located at strategic downtown intersections to determine the flow of traffic and relay the needs to the central "brain." The impulses automatically adjust the signal timing.

Donor Repaid in Full

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (UP) — "You never know when you'll need an ambulance," remarked a passenger in Samuel Kilansky's car after giving the local First Aid Rescue Squad a donation. Minutes later the Kilansky car was in a head-on collision and five of its occupants were taken to a hospital in the squad's ambulance.

Claims New Drugs Cut Medical Costs

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Ninety per cent of all present day prescriptions call for drugs unknown to most doctors 20 years ago, according to John Zugich, assistant director of the University of Michigan Hospital.

Zugich, writing in an American Hospital Association publication said most of the world now is in the "golden age when man has provided more relief and freedom from suffering or bodily ills than ever before in his history."

Although many of the modern "miracle drugs" are expensive, Zugich said, they are cheap when compared with hospital expenses they eliminate.

He said a pneumonia case probably would have cost a patient $400 back in 1931, whereas today uncomplicated cases can be treated at home for only $60.

"We hear a lot about the rising costs of medical care," he said. "The truth is, the cost of a drug today is no measure of the cost of an illness."

Dobermans Guard Store

BOSTON (AP) — Two Doberman Pinscher dogs patrol a big department store here at night. The dogs are adept at sniffing out hiding thieves, store officials say.

Doctor Finds Resentment to Human Growth Study

NEW YORK (UP) — According to Edmund Bergler, M.D., one way for the scientist to make enemies is to "explain anything that has been taken for granted."

By "anything" he referred generally to human development and specifically to the phenomenon of artistic creativeness.

Regarding the former, he quoted the German dramatist, G. E. Lessing, that "the greatest miracle" is that "true and genuine miracles apear to us banal, every-day occurrences."

"The mircale of individual human development is a case in point," he said, "We see the baby; a score of years later we look at the man, observe that he has become an adult, and assume that he has 'developed,' taking the miraculous process quite for granted.

"There is a psychological enigma here; how did the transition—from passive, parasitic baby to actige, providing man—occur?"

This certainly, is an enigma worthy of scientific exploration, yet "explaining the 'self-explanatory' arouses resentment and uneasiness," he continued.

" 'Aren't there enough riddles in life?' the scientist is asked fretfully. 'Why make a mystery where there is no mystery by questioning the self-apparent?' "

His point was two-headed. From parasitic baby to active, providing man hardly is a process that is in any way self-apparent. Yet the one science which explains its intracacies and complexities—that science being psychoanalysis — arouses more hostility than any other.

Why it does is much more than an innate hostility to "explaining the self-explanatory," or rather, there are cogent and hidden reasons in the minds of all of us for insisting that some mysterious and strange phenomena are neither mysterious nor strange and so need no explaining.

And this brings us to Dr. Bergler's specificity—the phenomenon of artistic creativeness. That it is a phenomenon has always been recognized — Dr. Bergler quoted Plato, "Poets utter great and wise things which they do not themselves understand."

How did Shakespeare know more about man than most men have known before or since? He was neither scientist nor scholar—but a poet.

By "poet" Dr. Bergler meant the artistic creator unknowingly making use of mind-materials which we usually call "intuition" or "inspiration."

These mind-materials can be defined, and the definitions are part of the meat of Dr. Bergler's book, "The Writer and Psycholanalysis" which was first published in 1950, went out of print quickly, but it is now being republished in a second edition.

Medically Dr. Bergler finds creative writers to be persons who have found "self-cures" for specific neurotic illness—when the self-cures no longer work, the illness becomes active and its syndrome is "the writer's block."

But his book has much wider value—it is one of the clearest existing expositions of the geography of the human mind.

The emphasis is on the dynamics of the unconscious segments which influence the conscious even in the healthiest of minds.

Dr. Bergler is a psychiatrist and, of course, a psychoanalyst. His scientific standing is of the highest although, as he himself states plainly, some of his premises are not accepted by all his colleagues.

The layman misunderstands the controversies of psychoanalysis. They exist because it is a new science and many of its values are far from being fixed. But controversies do not destroy basic truths, since truth is indestructible.

The basic truth of psychoanalysis is that there is an unconscious mind in all of us, and it is actively at work all the time—for good or ill.

Story of Brer Rabbit Aids in Tooth-Pulling

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—When it comes to pulling baby teeth Mrs. Magie Aust, a teacher for 25 years, believes there's no better anaesthetic than the story of "Brer Rabbit."

And Mrs. Aust should know. She recently pulled her 1600th tooth and, as usual had the tooth dangling on a string while the tiny patient sat enthralled with the tale of the resourceful rabbit. In fact, says Mrs. Aust, the little student was disappointed that the tooth was out before the story ended.

Brothers Really Travel to Attend School in U.S.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Three brothers who use an airliner to get to school put Grandpa's two-mile walk to the little red schoolhouse to shame.

Eduardo, Alberto and Rodrigo Gonzales, of David, Panama, have completed their tenth 2,330-mile round trip between Panama and Miami since September, 1949. They have traveled an average of 23,300 miles each to get to school.

Eduardo is a student at the University of Alabama. Alberto is enrolled at Spring Hill College, Mobile, Ala., and Rodrigo is a cadet at the Staunton, Va., Military Academy.

Baby California condors are among the rarest of living birds. They stay in the nest as long as six months after hatching before trying their wings.

Tubes Give Off Hot Air

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A lot of hot air comes out of a radio or TV tube, A manufacturer heats half of a 200,000-square-foot building from 64 tube-testing sets. The sets "give off enough heat to warm 130 six room houses," company engineers say.

Earl Atkinson Stars at Stove

Silver Lake Resident Flips a Fast Hot Cake on Shrove Tuesday

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

From Mardi Gras to Lent . . . from feast to fast . . . that is the pattern of this week's activities and eating. All over the Christian world the day before the beginning of Lent is known as Shrove or Pancake Tuesday.

In the olden days, when the fast rules were considerably more strict than they are now, the Lenten eating of eggs, butter, lard and milk was forbidden. Homemakers used up their supply of these foods the day before in a pancake feast.

We have in the Pontiac area a man who, on his day off, always gets the breakfast. Pancakes are his specialty. Tuesday happened to be his day off this week. We just happened to have a Press photographer on hand to take a picture of Earl Atkinson making pancakes. He was the only one not in on the plans ahead of time.

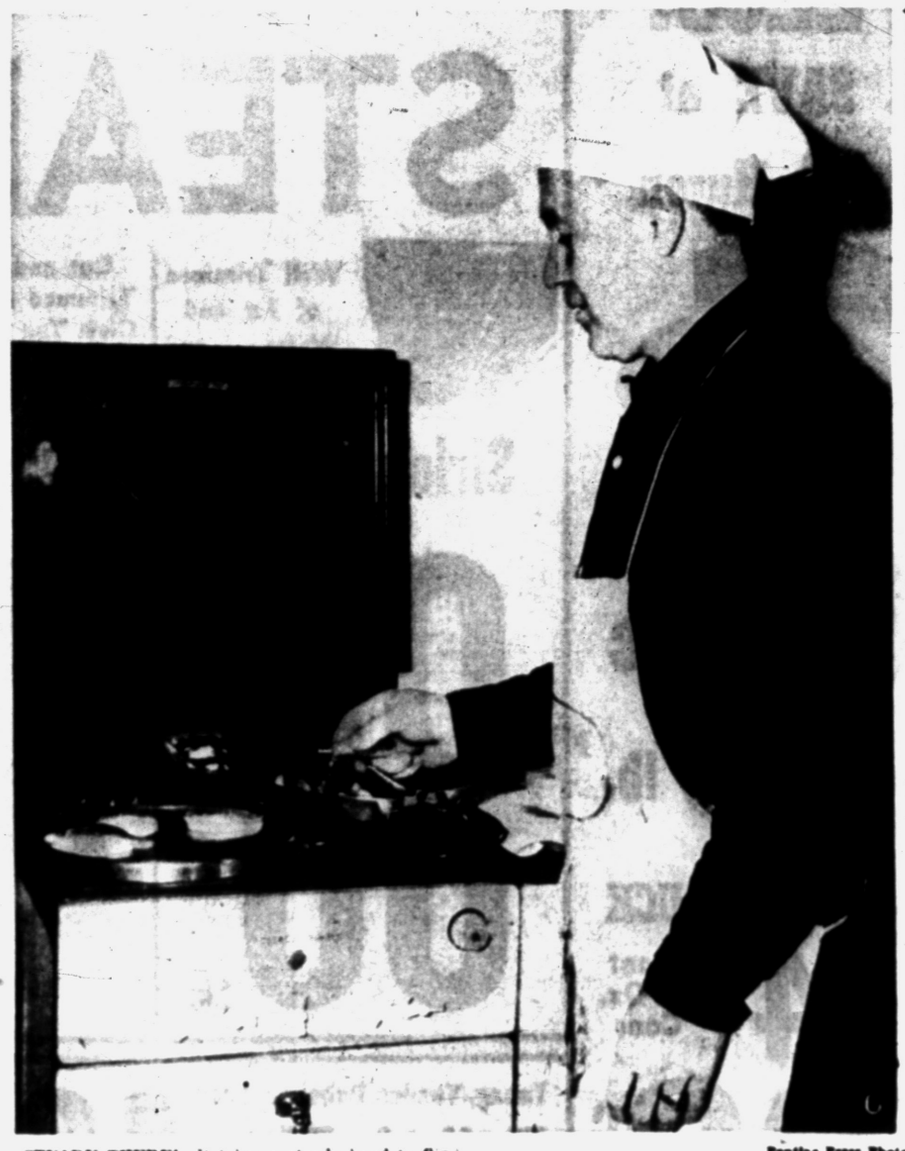

Earl says he taught his wife to cook. There seems to be a mild disagreement on this subject in the Atkinson household. At any rate, Earl is an old hand at cooking and enjoys doing it.

He shares with us his own pancake recipe. They must be good; the photographer stayed to sample them, and he's known to resist most food invitations when on an assignment.

EARL'S PANCAKES
By Earl N. Atkinson

1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon sugar
Salt
1 cup buttermilk
1 teaspoon soda
2 unbeaten eggs

Sift first four ingredients. Add soda to buttermilk and mix well. Add buttermilk mixture to sifted dry ingredients and stir until flour is dampened. Add unbeaten eggs, and stir well. Bake on a hot greased griddle. Makes 12-16 small pancakes.

Pontiac Press Photo

STEADY THERE!—It takes a steady hand to flip a pancake. Earl Atkinson of Normandale avenue has done it for so many years that he has the right technique. Our "cook of the week" was photographed on Tuesday, known as Pancake Tuesday, doing what comes naturally on that day—making pancakes.

Vegetables Pep Up Leftover Meat Loaf

Meat Loaf With Tomatoes And Peas

1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons flour
1 8-ounce can green peas
Salt and pepper
4 servings of leftover cold meat loaf

Put tomatoes into skillet (8- or 10-inch size), heat. Blend butter and flour with back of teaspoon; add to hot tomatoes. Stir constantly until thickened, breaking up tomatoes as little as possible.

Drain peas thoroughly and add; save liquid from peas for other use. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Cut meat loaf into slices that fit size of skillet and add. Cover skillet and heat gently about 10 minutes. Makes four servings.

Note: Half a meat loaf that made with 1 pound of beef will be fine for this dish.

When Baking Custard

When you bake custard, have the water in the outside pan as high as the custard in the cups. This will help to give the dessert the low even heat it needs.

Nutritious, Thrifty Salmon Lends Itself to Variations

It's National Canned Salmon Week—Feb. 23 to March 1, so for a lunch or supper that's literally bursting with nutrition, serve canned salmon, fresh vegetables, cottage cheese and hard rolls! It's colorful as an Easter basket, and nutritionally, it just can't be beat.

Nor does canned salmon need any primping before you serve it . . . just open the can, nest the contents on a platter of parsley, surround it with your favorite fresh vegetables, a few slices of lemon and there you have it . . . a meal that's nutritionally perfect and delicious as it is economical!

If preferred, the salmon may be spiced. To the liquid from the can, add a little vinegar and a few peppercorns and cloves. Let stand an hour or two.

Too few budget - bound homemakers realize the possibilities of canned salmon. It has a refreshing, not-too-rich and not-too-fishy flavor that wears well. Because there's an infinite variety of ways to serve it, canned salmon is not monotonous even when served several times a week.

Because of its rich color, canned salmon is both eye and appetite-appealing just as it comes from the can. It combines beautifully with vegetables or tart fruits in salads and can be served in dozens of different hot dishes.

As the winter wears on and body resistance is at its lowest point, it's well to look at canned salmon's nutritional qualities. Canned salmon combines the food elements usually obtained from several different foods.

It's a complete protein food, yet is rich in calcium, iodine and in vitamins A, B, and D. Surprisingly, nutrition experts say it's low in calories. You might call canned salmon a made-to-order food from this standpoint.

Tossed Salmon Salad

1 pound tall can salmon
1 cup celery, chopped
2 cups lettuce
¼ cup chopped pickles or relish
Salt and pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs

Break up the salmon, leaving it in large sized pieces. Pull lettuce apart or chop coarsely. Combine salmon, celery, lettuce, relish, salt and pepper, tossing lightly.

Serve in lettuce cups and garnish with wedges of hard-cooked egg. Serve with salad dressing or French dressing.

Can-Opening Advice

Know how to open a can of fruit or vegetable juice? Shake the can first, then use a three-cornered puncture - type opener on one side of the top; make a second opening opposite the first so the juice will pour easily.

Scald Milk to Be Used in Making Yeast Bread

Scald fresh milk to be used in making yeast breads. Then cool it to lukewarm before combining with yeast mixture.

Scalding stops the enzyme action which might otherwise cause some softening of the dough. Scalded milk makes a dough that is easier to handle. Scalding the milk also improves bread texture and flavor.

When a recipe directs that eggs be "slightly beaten" the eggs should be whipped just until the yolks and whites are combined.

Crust Boasts Coffee Flavor

If you took a trip around the world with your eyes closed, you'd still know when you had gotten to the U.S.A. by the fragrance of fresh-baked apple pie and good coffee drifting around at dinnertime. What a wonderful combination.

Now bring coffee even closer to apple pie by adding instant coffee to the pastry, and topping the crust with a quick coffee glaze. Add coffee flavor instantly by adding instant coffee, dry, in your cooking.

COFFEE APPLE PIE
Pie Crust

Add to your favorite pie crust mix 1 tablespoon instant coffee.

Prepare pastry for two-crust pie according to label directions. Line 8-inch pie plate with half the pastry.

Filling

Combine and toss gently:
6 to 7 cups tart apple slices, ⅛-inch thick
2 to 3 teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Fill pie shell with apple mixture. Dot apples with 1 tablespoon butter, cut up.

Place remaining pastry over apple mixture. Seal pastry edges.

Bake at 425 degrees for 40 minutes, or until apples are tender.

Instant Coffee Glaze

Combine and stir until smooth
1 teaspoon instant coffee
1 teaspoon boiling water
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Spread over top of pie. Serve pie warm, or reheat.

Thickens Less Easily

When you brown flour, some of the starch in the wheat product loses some of its thickening power. Take this fact into account when you are using browned flour for gravy.

Spinach Ryan Prepared With Cheese, Eggs

Now is the time that new menu ideas come in handy. This menu booster suggestion also combines budget wisdom with it.

The meatless main dish suggestion is a tasty combination of creamed canned spinach, eggs and cheese. A colorful and zippy dish to serve with it is Quick and Easy Pickled Beets.

Spinach Ryan

1 can (15 ounce) spinach
1 cup rich cream sauce
4 eggs
Grated Parmesan cheese

Combine drained spinach and cream sauce. Put into four buttered individual casseroles and make a nest of the spinach using the back of a spoon.

Put an egg in each nest and sprinkle with salt, pepper and cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes, until egg is done. Four servings.

Quick and Easy Pickled Beets

1 jar (12 ounces) cucumber bread and butter pickles
1 can (16 ounces) sliced beets

Use Thrifty Franks in Sandwich Spread

Hot Dog Sandwiches

1 cup ground frankfurters
¼ cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1 tablespoon prepared yellow mustard
3 tablespoons pickle relish

Mix together the ground frankfurters, mayonnaise, mustard and pickle relish. Use as a spread for sandwiches. Makes 1 cup.

Heat Rolls in Wrapper

Time saver tip — To heat rolls for the family's dinner, pop the whole package, cellophane wrapper and all, right into the oven. The wrapper makes a convenient container, and the rolls come out fresh and crispy. Bread, too, can be warmed in its cellophane wrapper — but for best results, do not heat the same wrapper more than twice.

A little grated orange rind does wonders for the flavor of buttered beets.

WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS

Diet Essentials Neglected by Many Senior Citizens

Today Uncle Sam is blinking in some surprise at two groups of the population . . . the millions of babies and the millions of folks over 65.

The year just ended saw the continuing trend of the longer life span and another birth record.

In other words, 1954 had the lowest death rate in history, while births climbed above the 4 million mark for the first time.

Nowadays many folks are "70 years young," thanks to medical science, improved diet, modern sanitation, better housing and working conditions. Long life is taken for granted, something to be planned on.

Yet many men and women in this older population group are not as healthy as they might be . . . and often the basic problem is food.

It isn't enough to suddenly become food conscious, for good health is not achieved by some magic process at 60. It is built up through a lifetime. Yet that isn't the whole story.

Two chief reasons why many elderly people are relatively undernourished are:

Limited or unwise diets.

Failure to supply body-building foods.

On the first point, diminishing food needs in later life point up the importance of careful selection. Each small portion must count.

There's less danger of omitting essential elements when a variety of foods is eaten each day. Less chance of boredom, too.

The "Basic Seven" is still a good daily rule. Be wary of food fads. Usually they limit the intake of essential foods.

As for point two, body building foods: Older folks have an idea that because they are through growing, the body no longer needs proteins. Yet the body is never static, at 16 or 60.

Actually older folks need more of the body-building foods, fewer energy foods as they become less active.

Complement Meat, Fish With Appetizing Relish

This appetizing relish is made without cooking and is delicious served with either meat or fish.

To prepare, put one large Winesap apple through your food chopper with one-quarter lemon, rind and pulp. Mix with one can jellied cranberry sauce and place in refrigerator one hour or longer to allow flavors tob lend. Makes 1 pint.

A 10¾ ounce can of spaghetti sauce with meat will be enough to serve with about 6 ounces of spaghetti (uncooked weight).

Mince Cookies Are Ideal Snack

Mincemeat cookies have just about everything it takes to qualify as the perfect snack. They are delicious. They are easy to make and they keep well.

They are versatile — good with fruit juice or milk, coffee or tea, ice cream or fruit cup. And they are just as appropriate for informal party refreshments as they are for lunch or dinner desserts or for a between-meal pickup.

One 9-ounce condensed package of mincemeat makes 48 cookies.

Add a little frosting, putting two together for a luscious cookie sandwich, and decorate others and you will have a really mouth watering variety of tempters.

Mincemeat snack cookies

3¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup shortening
1½ cups sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
1 9-ounce condensed package mincemeat

Sift together flour, salt and soda. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually. Cream together until fluffy.

Drop by teaspoonfuls, 2 inches apart, on greased baking sheet. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees) about 12 minutes.

Makes about 48 cookies, 3 inches in diameter.

Quick salad dressing for carrot-raisin salad ... equal parts of lemon juice and honey. Good on apple, celery, Waldorf salad, too.

SHRIMP FOR LENT—With this week bringing the start of the Lenten season, it's time to offer one of the most delicious of meat alternates, fresh or frozen shrimp. The above picture shows it served to suit everyone's taste, both hot and cold. The same sauce heightens the flavor of either kind.

Spice up the ham with sweet-sour sauce made with canned sweet cherries. Add sugar and vinegar to juice — thicken slightly.

Both coriander and cumin seed come in whole and ground form.

Blender Is Handy for Creamy Soup

Creamy Vegetable Soup

1 11-ounce can vegetable soup
1¼ cups stock
Dried crushed mixed salad herbs or curry powder
Salt and pepper

Empty soup and stock into electric blender. Blend thoroughly; pour into saucepan. Add a pinch of salad herbs or curry powder.

Heat. Add more herbs or curry if desired, along with salt and pepper to taste. Makes three servings.

Note: The stock may be made with the wing tips and giblets of a chicken, 1 cup water, celery leaves, onion and other seasonings.

Delicious, Pretty Salad

Hot 'n' Cold Shrimp Rates as Favorite During Lent

A box of colored toothpicks, a bowlful of a spicy sauce and plenty of hot and cold tidbits—and you're a success as a hostess. All your friends will gather 'round to help themselves.

And, of course, nothing breaks the ice more quickly than a crowd of people around a platter of tempting bits of food, everyone with a cocktail-pick in his hand.

High on the list of everyon's favorite bite-size food is shrimp, both hot and cold, just the right size for spearing.

In fact, shrimp is so popular that you might serve both hot and chilled shrimp in a divided dish, both to be dipped in the same sauce. Start the Lenten season right.

Hot and Cold Shrimp
Hors d'Oeuvres

Buy 2 pounds of fresh or frozen shrimp. Clean half the shrimp and cook it by boiling it in a quart of water to which a heaping teaspoon of pickling spices have been added. Drain and chill the shrimp.

Clean the rest of the shrimp, but do not cook. Beat an egg and add 1 tablespoon of water. Dip the shrimp in the egg mixture.

Then dip the shrimp in 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs seasoned with ½ teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper and 2 tablespoons paprika. Cook in deep hot fat (375 degrees) until brown, two to three minutes. Drain on paper toweling.

Shrimp Cocktail Sauce

1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tablespoons catsup
¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce
1 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt

Mix ingredients thoroughly.

Best Recipe Sought by Corn Canners

To celebrate Canned Corn Week, March 17-26, the canners are seeking the best recipe using canned corn.

They are offering a prize of $50 to the reader who sends it in and an additional $50 to the food editor who forwards it.

Readers who have good recipes using canned corn and who wish to enter them in this contest are asked to send them to Janet Odell, Food Editor, at the Pontiac Press, by March 4.

We, in turn, will choose the one we think is best and send it on to New York. If we win, everyone will know about it; if we don't, we'll just forget it.

Serve Creamy Chicken Soup, Curried Snacks

Cream of Chicken Soup

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 tablespoons flour
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed clear chicken soup
1½ cups water
Freshly ground pepper
½ cup heavy cream
Curried rice snacks

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Remove from heat.

Gradually add chicken soup and water, stirring after each addition until smooth. Cook and stir over moderate heat until thickened and boiling; cook several minutes longer.

Stir in cream and reheat but do not boil. Add pepper to taste.

Makes 4½ cups — enough for six servings in small soup or coffee cups. Serve accompanied by curried rice snacks.

Curried Rice Snacks

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon curry powder
1¼ cups crisp ready-to-eat rice cereal
Salt

Melt butter in 8 or 9-inch skillet over low heat; blend in curry powder.

Feature Frozen Fillets for Fasting Lenten Days

Pontiac Press Food Editor

From feast day to fast day . . . from Mardi Gras to Lent . . . for many people there is an abrupt change in meal planning this week. That makes it a good time to talk about fish.

Just recently we read an article on Lenten meals that talked about "meat alternates." We like that term better than "meat substitutes." After all, individuals often choose fish in preference to meat, rather than as a substitute for it. So let's talk about fish as a meat alternate.

Oakland County abounds in fish-filled lakes which makes catching, cleaning and cooking of fresh water fish a commonplace thing. But we are wholly dependent on the commercial fishing industries to supply us with salt water fish and seafood. Most of us have never had the opportunity to purchase fresh ocean fish.

Fish deteriorates more rapidly than meat and must be stored with care. Only recently a restaurant owner gave us a tip on keeping fish. "It is the juice from the fish which decomposes rapidly and gives off the unpleasant 'fishy' odor." She went on to say that fish should be put on some sort of perforated dish so that the juice may drain off. Never allow fish to stand in its juice for any length of time. Some fish dealers know this and take proper precautions. It is something for the observing housewife to note.

There is no such thing as a tough fish. Different fish vary in the dryness of the flesh; and there is a difference in flavor between the light and dark flesh. Long cooking is never necessary; that only hardens the fibers. All you need do is cook it long enough to coagulate the flesh. The Eskimos have eaten raw fish for centuries without any ill effects.

Fillets are wonderfully easy to prepare. We think you will like this recipe.

Baked Fillets, Pioneer Style

2 medium onions
4 tablespoons butter
Salt
4 fish fillets
Olive oil
Pepper
½ cup buttered crumbs
Chopped parsley
Crumbled crisp bacon (optional)

Slice onions very thin. Saute in butter until just transparent. Salt to taste.

Oil a shallow baking dish with olive oil. Arrange fillets on dish and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover with the sauteed onions and sprinkle with buttered crumbs. Bake in a 400 degree oven 12-15 minutes or until fish is cooked. Sprnkle with parsley and bacon Serve at once. Serves 4.

Here's an extremely simple recipe for preparing perch fillets. This one combines broiled fish with pineapple chunks and is suitable for whatever species of fillet you find in your grocer's frozen food cabinet.

Chili-Glazed Ocean Perch Fillets

1 package frozen fish fillets
Juice of ½ lemon
¼ cup chili sauce

Let fillets thaw on refrigerator shelf. Cut block of fillets into 4 parts. Arrange on aluminum foil on preheated greased broiler pan. Sprinkle blocks of fillets with lemon juice and spread with chilli sauce. Broil 2 inches from source of heat 8 to 10 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Serve immediately with pineapple chunks, buttered and broiled at same time fish is broiled. Makes 4 servings.

Dainty Cake Designs

Make your cake look pretty when you slice it! When you bake a cake in a pan that is 13 by 9½ by 2 inches, cut it crosswise into 3-inch strips. Then cut these strips into rectangles, triangles, diamonds squares, circles.

GOLDEN WHEAT STICKS—Improve upon grandmother's idea of pampering her family with hot breads and jam by making these Golden Wheat Sticks that have the jam baked right in. Their wonderful flavor and golden crispness are provided by whole wheat cereal.

Golden Wheat Sticks Give Family a Sweet Surprise

One of the reasons grandmothers are remembered as such world-famous cooks is because they pampered their families with lots of light, delicious hot breads and yummy jam.

You can improve upon grandma's idea by making Golden Wheat Sticks—an up-to-date hot bread that has strawberry jam baked right in.

Golden-crisp on the outside, these Golden Wheat Sticks are surprisingly good to eat. Good, because they're made with whole wheat cereal, the instant or regular kind with extra wheat germ added, which gives them extra flavor and food value.

And surprising when you bite into one of them and discover the hidden bits of strawberry jam, adding just the right amount of sweetness.

It takes only a few minutes to stir up the batter, using this easy recipe. Then bake your Golden Wheat Sticks in cornstick pans or regular muffin cups.

In 20 minutes you'll have a sure-to-please hot bread that is even better than the kind grandma used to make.

Wheat Sticks

2 eggs
2 tablespoons strawberry jam
2-3 cup milk
¼ cup cooking oil
1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
⅔ cup uncooked instant or regular whole wheat cereal

Heat oven to hot (400). Grease well 12 cornstick pans. Place in oven to heat. (If you do not have cornstick pans, grease 12 medium-sized muffin cups. Do not heat before filling.)

Beat eggs slightly with a fork in 3-cup bowl. Add jam, milk and oil. Mix well, using fork to mash any large pieces of jam.

Sift together into 10-cup bowl the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add instant or regular whole wheat cereal. Mix well.

Add egg mixture all at once to dry ingredients. Stir only until dry ingredients are wet. Do not beat or over-mix.

Fill hot cornstick pans three-fourths full (or greased muffin cups two-thirds full). Bake on center rack 20 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 12 medium-sized sticks or muffins.

Treat the Teen Crowd to Apple Sandwiches

Treat the teenage crowd to marshmallow apple sandwiches that are different and delicious. To prepare 10 sandiwches you'll need three crisp Winesap apples, peeled, cored and cut into quarter-inch rings. Saute apple rings in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine until tender.

Place an apple ring on a graham cracker, top with a marshmallow and slip under broiler long enough to brown the marshmallows. Top with a second graham cracker.

For Baking Success

For failure-proof baking: Use tested recipes. Follow recipes accurately. Use accurate measuring utensils, such as graded measuring spoons, liquid measuring cups, and nested measuring cups for dry ingredients. Always use level measurements.

Kitchen arithmetic: 4 cups of sifted all-purpose flour makes 1 pound.

Marilyn Will Ride Elephant for Charity

NEW YORK (AP)—If you attend the charity premiere here of the circus you'll see Marilyn Monroe riding on a pink elephant.

* * *

Showman Mike Todd announced yesterday that Miss Monroe will be the main attraction opening night performance March 30 of the Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Bros. circus at Madison Square Garden—on behalf of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

* * *

Todd said Miss Monroe will wear a leotard (a form-fitting theatrical costume) while the elephant will be "pinked up" for the event.

Radar Antenna of Special Value to Jet Aircraft

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Electronics engineers at the University of California have developed a new radar antenna for highspeed aircraft that will be of special value on jet planes.

The new antenna was developed by a graduate student, R. W. Bickmore, with Profs. L. E. Reukema and S. Silver in cooperation with the Office of Naval Research.

The inventors said the apparatus offers two principal advantages:

It can produce a "very sharp pencil beam of microwaves," a feature necessary for special types of radar scanning, and permits picking up greater detail than is possible when broader microwave beams are used.

Also, it is built flush into the plane, a welcome innovation for modern fighter planes which travel so fast any protrusion from the surface produces an aerodynamic drag.

The scientists said the antenna can be used on sea vessels as well as aircraft.

Boss Hires Funeral Bus

ST. LOUIS (AP)—About 60 machine operators asked their boss at the Gale-Sobel Clothing Co. for permission to take time off to attend the funeral of a fellow worker, Mrs. Gertrude Scofield. The firm's owners did better than that. They closed down the plant yesterday and chartered a bus to take the employes to the funeral.

Parisian Yanks Fly to New York Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Coming from Paris to Broadway to see a show, 22 persons, mostly Americans now living abroad, arrived by plane yesterday seven hours late but not too tardy to see the night's performance of the musical "Fanny," starring Ezio Pinza.

Bad weather diverted the plane from here to Boston to Pittsburgh to Washington before it made Idlewild Airport here.

After the play, the group, which purchased round-trip plane tickets, was entertained by Pinza at a backstage party.

Siamese Twins Now in London; Surgery Studied

LONDON (AP)—Margaret and Joan Gray, 25-day-old Siamese twins joined at the tops of their head, were in an undisclosed London hospital today pending a decision on whether to separate them surgically.

Mrs. Kate Gray, 36, wife of farm foreman David Gray, 38, gave birth to the twins a month prematurely in a hospital at Keighley, Yorkshire, Jan. 30. Hospital authorities kept the births secret until yesterday. The babies were brought in an ambulance to London three days ago.

"I don't want to say anything about the twins at this stage," their father said. "My wife and parents have been extremely upset. Naturally, we hope that any operation if performed will be successful."

Dr. Geoffrey Knight, a brain surgeon, said he had been approached to examine the twins but added, "Those arrangements now have been canceled—I don't know why, and I don't know where the children are."

The Grays have been married five years.

Rolling Barrels Barred

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (AP)—Rolling out the barrel in the early morning hours now is taboo. Police clamped on restrictions after they received a 2 a.m. call that a prowler was abroad. Investigation disclosed it was a citizen rolling out his ash barrels.

Two out of three of the world's radio hams are Americans, the National Geographic Society says. Only about one in 50 is a woman.

Alumnae Group to Hear Travelogue on Europe

A travelogue on Europe will be presented for members of the University of Michigan Alumnae Association of Pontiac by Mrs. E. R. Pettingill of Clarkston and Mrs. John Windiate. Mrs. Charles Harmon will be hostess at the March 22 meeting in her home on West Iroquois road.

The association held its February meeting at the Neome drive home of Mrs. W. O. Roeser. Assisting the hostess for the cooperative dinner were Mrs. Harry Richards, Maude Van Arsdale, Hazel Potts, Clara Conner and Florence Day. A patriotic theme honoring the birthday of George Washington was carried out in floral centerpieces of red tulips and white chrysanthemums.

Walter Barnett of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company was guest speaker. His address concerned ways the company is developing in "Speeding Speech." Mr. Barnett explained the phone divisions of the United States in the over-all project of long distance dial connections, introducing the use of toll credit cards.

He gave the group an enjoyable ten minutes of talking with Dr. William Gordon at his home on Dwight avenue and Dr. W. O. Roeser who was present in the room. This illustrated the new type receiver which is not held in the hand but functions in the manner of a public address system.

Mr. Barnett explained the system by which the company hopes in the near future to be able to handle all holiday calls without the period of waiting which is now necessary. An interesting fact was that more calls are made on Mother's Day than any other holiday.

During the Tuesday meeting, conducted by Vice President Helen Travis, a report was given by the scholarship committee. A letter was read from Mrs. James Lafer, chairman of the Alumnae Council, asking the support of the group for the production of the Junior Girls' play to be given March 26 at the Rackham Building in Detroit.

Violin Recital Presented by Derry Deane

Derry Deane, daughter of Mrs. Isabel Deane of LaMothe street, presented a violin recital Wenesday at University of Illinois, where she holds a fellowship.

Miss Deane has won certificates and prizes at Eastman, Fountainebleau and Tanglewood and has held a summer scholarship at a violin workshop with Mischa Mischakoff at the University of Colorado.

She is concertmistress of the University of Illinois student symphony orchestra and has also held this honor in the Eastman and Tanglewood Orchestras.

She has played three years in the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra and has made recordings in the Eastman-Rochester Orchestra. She has also enjoyed a season with the North Carolina Symphony with which she will play in April.

The young violinist has given recitals at the Eastman School, and concerts in Switzerland under the auspices of the American Embassy. She also took part in a recital by prizewinners of Fontainebleau in New York.

Mrs. D. H. Johns New Chairman of Registrars

Mrs. Donald H. Johns is chairman of registrars for the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross Pontiac area blood program.

She was appointed recently by Mrs. Adolph Magnus, Pontiac area blood chairman.

Bloodmobile registrars are those volunteer workers who meet donors and take down identifying information.

Registrars must be able to meet people easily, write legibly and work rapidly. Mrs. Johns points out that if she has a long enough list of volunteers to call upon, each will not have to work more than one day every few months.

More information may be obtained by contacting the chapter office on Franklin boulevard.

Blue Star Mothers Give Donations

Chapter Four, Blue Star Mothers met at the YMCA, Monday evening. Mrs. George Leinenger, past president, presented the chapter with an American Flag. Letters were read from the National Civil Defense chairman, Mrs. Ann Fetting, and from the National president, Mrs. Irma Hoffman.

Donations were made to veterans and a veteran's mother and also to the children at the state hospital. An invitation was received by the chapter to attend an anniversary celebration of Chapter Five in Highland Park on March 5.

WCTU Discusses Life of Leader

Emor L. Calkins Unit WCTU met Tuesday at Central Methodist Church. Helen Hilton spoke on the part christianity has played in the growth of our country. Mrs. Eleah Patten gave a short talk on the life of Frances Willard.

AAUW Planning All-Day Meeting in Detroit

Members of the American Association of University Women will attend an all-day meeting Friday in Detroit. The meeting was announced by State President Mrs. Helen Warren.

Mrs. Olive Burgess, president of the local group appointed a civilian defense committee at a recent meeting held in YWCA.

Members are Mrs. J. T. Peterson, Mrs. Olin Thomas, Mrs. Garnett Galbraith and Mrs. Lillian Davidson. Mrs. Burgess announced a meeting of all officers and study group chairmen to be held at her home on Hamilton court, March 18.

Hostesses for the affair were Viola, Amy and Cora Krueger. Refreshments were served by Florence Day, Rosamond Haeberle and Mrs. W. G. Sherman.

Friend Could Bring Wife With Him for First Visit

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "For many years we have been neighbors to a man who is a widower. We have always been very friendly, visiting back and forth and helping each other in whatever we can.

Several weeks ago he went to another city to be married. Before leaving he asked me to care for some plants during his absence. Upon his return he came over for the plants and visited with us for a short while.

I asked him why he didn't bring his wife along so that we might met her. He said that she thought it was up to me to go to see her first. I thought this utter ridiculous in view of the long established friendship with her husband, and that it would have been perfectly proper for her to have come over with him. What is your opinion?"

Correctly, your neighbor is right, but under the circumstances it would have been more friendly of him not to have stood on ceremony in waiting for you to make the first call.

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died recently and my brother and I are the only surviving family. My brother is married and I am not. I sent out all the acknowledgement cards signing both my name and my brother's name to them. I did not include his wife and now I understand she feels hurt over this. Was I wrong not to include her name?

No, it was really not necessary to include her name, unless she has been the wife of your brother for many years.

Dear Mrs. Post: There was a discussion the other day among my friends as to how, and when, demi tasse should be served. We would like to know specifically if it is served without cream and sugar, and also if it is served after dinner only, or may it be served after luncheon as well?

After luncheon as well as after dinner. Sugar is always served and in recent years cream is usually preferred too.

Gather Rosebuds

Rosebuds and pansies, scattered over fresh white cotton gloves, make a pretty look for the hand.

A junior equestrian's delight, the wonder horse with its galloping and jumping in response to its rider. Sturdily constructed of hardwood, it is suspended by four springs and painted a flashy red enamel with black mane and saddle. It measures 32 inches high and 36 inches long.

Plan Your Retirement Before It's Necessary

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Jeannette and Harry are in their early thirties, with two children in grade school, yet they are already planning for their retirement years.

If more young people would be so forward-looking, society would have less of a problem with its aging population.

"We know what we want," they told me, "and we don't want to wait for it till we're in our sixties."

Jeannette started the story.

"I love antiques," she said, "and I always have. Harry loves restaurants, and has always wanted to own one. But we had no capital at all when we were married, so both dreams were out of the question.

"Harry got a good job with a big company, and has been working hard and progressing nicely. Meantime, each bit of extra money has gone to buy a nice antique, nothing fancy, because we can't afford it, but an occasional bit of glass, or old table, or lamp base. We store these things in our spare room, and they are like money in the bank.

"We are also putting some money aside, but with two growing children, you can imagine it isn't very much. We are buying our house, and will own it outright in three years. We selected it because it is in a zone where business is allowed.

"So, in three years, when we own the house and have a decent stock of antiques on hand, I am going to set up shop in our spare room, right in our own home."

Harry took the story up from there.

"I plan to stay with my company another 13 years," he said. "That means I'll have enough saved up, plus the money Jeannette brings in from her shop, to open a small tea room. I am studying nights, and learning about the resaurant business. Summer vacations, we take motor trips and 'case' all the motels, restaurants, tea rooms and antique shops along the way.

"We haven't every detail planned, but it looks as though we'll be able, by the time we are 45, to own our own combination restaurant and antique shop, and make a living for years and years, doing just what we've always wanted to!"

It's never too early to start planning for retirement, and the earlier you start, the earlier you can get the opportunity to have the kind of life you want.

Childlike 8th Graders Annoy Girl

She'll Find They'll Calm Down in Time for High School

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I don't understand the boys in my class—the eighth grade. They act like little two-year-olds. I don't think they'll ever grow up, and our teacher says the same thing. Is it natural for them to act like that, or is something wrong?"

Eighth-grade horsefeathers are part of the process of growing up, really they are. The boys have lots of pep and no control. They're bubbling over with mischief and roughhouse, teasing and insults.

They're tough with each other and rough on the girls too. They save their manners for special occasions, their polite talk for their elders.

A girl who had put her rough and tumble days behind her and now considers herself a young lady would naturally consider such boys monsters. But it will pass.

They'll tone down next year when they start high school. And by the time they're juniors they'll be almost as grown-up as you are.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 14, in eighth grade, and very puzzled over many things. 1. My parents won't let me wear lipstick. Do you think I should? 2. I am told that a boy in my class likes me very much. But I'm not allowed to talk on the phone or see very much of him. I'm not sure I like him either. So what should I do? 3. I'm not very interested in dances or teen club, or such; I enjoy swimming and reading and square dancing. Should I give these up and spend more time on what other teen-agers are doing? 4. I haven't a large wardrobe, and what I do have is plain. Should I spend more money and more time on the latest styles and what other girls are wearing?"

There is the way you are — and the way you think you ought to be. There are the things and the people and the activities that you enjoy—and the ones you think you should like.

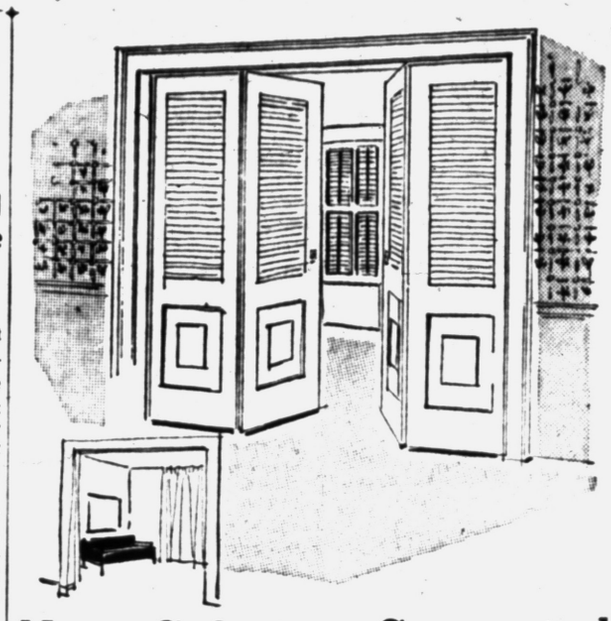

You compare your status quo with that of other girls and you suspect there's something wrong with yours.

There's a big difference in 14-year-olders. And there's a right moment for each one to be ready for lipstick and boys and dances and lots of pretty clothes.

That moment will come for you in high school, and you'll be happier if you don't rush things, but take them at a pace that's natural and comfortable for you.

Wear lipstick when it's appropriate and becoming—and not until then. Do something about a boy only when you like him and your family won't mind. Dances and teen club may prove congenial later. And there will be pretty clothes when you really need them.

Enjoy being as young as you are. You've a long time ahead of you to be grown up.

New Solution Suggested for Archway Problems

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

So many solutions to the problem of too-wide an archway are not solution enough. So often, as in Mrs. W. K.'s case, what is needed is more that a partial separation of the two rooms.

Mrs. K. writes, "We could have the two rooms we need instead of what is one in effect, if we knew what to do about the archway. Screens and draperies are not the answer. We really want something solid in the archway so the smaller area can be closed off completely."

Sketched are handsome louvered doors, Mrs. K., which do just what you want them to do to settle your problem.

They must be ordered to fit, and they should be hung carefully; but they require no remodeling of the existing archway frame or wall. And you'll agree that a doorway treatment like this is good added decoration.

These and others in equally good-looking designs are available both unfinished and in a wide range of colors and wood finishes.

Stair Tread Refinishing Done Easily

By HUBBARD COBB

Every time someone starts off to renew the finish on a flight of stairs they ask themselves, "If I refinish these stairs, how will I get up and down while the finish is drying?"

If they have two flights of stairs they have the answer and so they go to work and refinish one flight of stairs at a time. If they only have one flight of stairs, they go off and do something else like sit around and think.

If the stairs have a natural finish the first thing to do in refinishing is to sand off the old finish and get the wood smooth. As soon as you've done one tread, cover it with heavy paper so the fresh wood won't become soiled from footsteps.

If the stairs are to be painted, the old paint should be sanded lightly until it's smooth and then surface wiped clean with turpentine.

About the fastest drying finish you can apply to stairs—and speed of drying is important—is shellac. Shellac will dry hard enough for a second coat in about four hours.

It's best to apply about three coats to stairs, for they take quite a beating. Floor enamel is also good for stairs, as it wears well and dries quickly although not as quickly as does shellac.

If the stairs must be kept in operation while you are refinishing them, apply the finish to alternate treads and leave the heavy paper to protect those which have not been finished.

When the alternate treads are dry, the remaining ones can be treated. This alternate method of finishing will allow you to use the stairs but you'll have to take some rather large steps when going up and down because you'll only be able to use every other step.

Philatelist Will Like Box

This is a big title for today's TRY IT isn't it? Look at the drawing and you will see what it means.

After reading the wording in the drawing right under TRY IT you will have a new word to add to your vocabulary. You now know that the box shown is for collecting stamps. You usually collect your stamps, then after several weeks put them into your book. This box is for that storing.

Cover the lid and four sides with duplicate stamps, or stamps of which you have more than one. Paste these to the lid so they overlap. A cigar box is fine for this, but a heavy cardboard box may also be used. You can give these a coat of white shellac for protection. This makes a nice box for other things, too.

When you tear the stamps from letters be sure to make a large tear so that the stamp is not damaged or torn.

Danes Inspire New Decor Idea for Handy Man

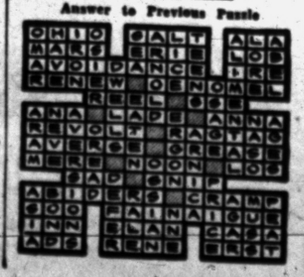

NEW YORK (INS)—A combination of Danish decorating ideas and the American aptitude for "do-it-yourself" can produce interesting results in home furnishings.

The latest Danish imports are high-priced in the original but can be copied by the budget-minded home handyman.

For example, take the wall storage unit designed by one of Denmarw's younger home furnishings experts, Finn Juhl. This piece consists of individual light pine panels, bought according to the size of the wall.

Between each panel is a row of notches running the length of the slat. These separate the pieces and make it possible to place shelves or cabinets wherever desired.

Visiting Teacher Discusses "Problems of Children"

Frances Priest, visiting teacher, acted as resource leader for Longfellow School's second discussion on the general topic, "Problems of Children".

"Forewarning of Delinquency" was the topic for the meeting attended Tuesday by mothers of Longfellow pupils.

In stating the topic, Miss Priest stressed that adults must remember their own childhood. They should recall the worries, hurts, things that made them happy, reasons for being naughty and their sensitive feelings.

If they can remember, it will be much easier to realize why children's feelings play such an important part in behavior.

Miss Priest pointed out that children go through various stages which include being fresh, demanding their own way, talking back, fighting, swearing and being possessive.

Children all want love, independence, support of people around them, and they want to learn.

"Knowing this," Miss Priest said, "it is easy to see that moderate, consistent discipline from infancy contributes more to good behavior in a child than the 'cracking-down' type of discipline which comes when a parent begins to see danger signals of delinquency."

It was pointed out that children tell parents their needs in many ways—not always through the use of words. They talk with their attitudes, body movements, habits, behaviors and longings.

The question for discussion was "What makes children want to fight and bully?"

In summing up the meaning of the various answers given by the mothers, Mrs. Priest said, "It is natural for children to fight at certain ages. They want to 'stick up for themselves'".

She pointed out warning signals that parents can watch for. She said that if the child continues fighting over and over again it is because he is unhappy and confused. Perhaps he is not getting enough attention and love from the ones he cares about most.

On the other hand, she said that there is a danger signal shown in that the child will not fight.

Clots Removed by Piano Wire

2 Los Angeles Doctors Develop Operation for Leg Artery Obstruction

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Two Los Angeles physicians have developed a procedure for pushing the clot from a leg artery with piano wire similar to the way a plumber clears a kitchen drain of obstruction.

The new technique was reported this week by doctors Jack Cannon and Wiley Barker of the Surgery Department at the University of California at Los Angeles.

They explain that they used X-rays to determine the extent of arterial obstruction in a leg. In the operation, they made incisions above and below the arterial block, then inserted a loop of piano wire to push the plug out.

The physicians said a danger of the method is that the artery might collapse, but they have not encountered that in 23 operations.

Cannon and Barker said their procedure takes about two hours of surgery, compared to the usual five to six hours for other types of operations for that condition.

They reported 20 of the 23 persons operated on in their method have had normal blood flow restored and have regained normal or almost normal use of their legs.

Blocking of a leg artery often occurs with hardening of the arteries. A fatty substance called cholesterol forms a plug and blocks blood flow. Gangrene and amputation sometimes are necessary if remedial action is not taken early in the case.

Blank Shells Power Jack

Texan Devises Gadget to Lift Automobiles by Using Gunpowder

DALLAS (INS) — A Texan who decided that gunpowder can be used for better things than shooting people has invented an automobile jack powered by blank .32 caliber cartridges.

Allen A. Burleson, 56, was operating a fleet of taxicabs in Houston about a year ago when he found need for an automobile jack that was more efficient and faster than those available.

At the time there was a series of fatal shootings in Houston and, says Burleson, "The idea came to me like a shot.

"I knew that if I could take that energy in a cartridge, hem it up and control it, it could be made to work, to help me instead of hurt them."

Thus came the cartridge-powered jack which Burleson made in his spare time in a machine shop. Working parts of the instrument include a firing device, gas chamber and lifting mechanism.

The jack is placed under the axle of an automobile, a blank .32 caliber cartridge is placed in the firing apparatus, all parts are tightened and the cartridge is triggered.

The pressure from the exploded cartridge thus forces the lifting apparatus upward. The lift is controlled through a valve on the side of the jack.

The operation does not produce any loud noise or odor of burned powder. Burleson says the device is absolutely safe and dependable.

Burleson says he plans to call his invention the "atom jack" or the "jet jack." A patent is pending.

St. Augustine, Fla. was founded in 1565.

Frisco Keeps Winning

Forddy Left Bradley Just in Time, Braves Drop 13th Consecutive Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You've got to give the award to Coach Forddy Anderson for the best reading of the writing on the wall since those scholarly chaps figured out the hieroglyphics on King Tut's tomb.

Forddy got out when the getting was good, shifting from Bradley to Michigan State as head basketball coach just three days after leading the Braves to a surprise second-place finish in the NCAA Tournament last March.

Anderson was faced with graduation losses at Bradley, where the fans are somewhat rabid. Michigan State was a greener pasture. All he had to do was improve on a 9-13 record.

* * *

Thus far, he has done just that (MSC is 11-9), while his successor with the Braves, Bob Vanatta, has had the expected tough row to hoe.

The Cinderella team of last March is back sweeping ashes again to the dirge of 13 straight defeats — the longest ever for Bradley. St. Louis made it a miserable 5-1 season to date for the Braves with an 82-74 victory last night. The Billikens poured it on in the final 10 minutes after being knotted at 56-56.

* * *

The Citadel lost its 17th straight decision in a winless season last night. Virginia Military did it 88-62 as the Keydets clinched the final spot in the Southern Conference championship tournament.

By way of contrast, San Francisco, headed for the NCAA shindig, and Lafayette, trying to get a postseason invitation, stretched their winning streaks to 19 games. San Francisco, once-beaten and No. 1 again this week in the Associated Press poll, smashed San Jose State 64-40 with All America prospect Bill Russell scoring 22.

* * *

Lafayette, beaten twice, had a tougher time. It was a pair of free throws by sub Stuart Murray in the last 21 seconds that set down Lehigh 49-48.

Last-chance foul shots also paid off for Penn and Cornell. The Quakers, kingpins in the Ivy, were bothered all the way by Syracuse before John Lavin, also a reserve, sank two from the foul line with 12 seconds left in a second overtime period for an 87-86 nonleague victory.

Cornell moved into third in the Ivy when Chuck Rolles, who scored 28, flipped in two free throws with 31 seconds remaining in overtime to edge Brown 60-59.

Elsewhere, NCAA champion LaSalle, No. 3 in the poll, took it easy while defeating Fordham 64-49.

Title Battles Mark Preps' Cage Finale

The regularly-scheduled portion of the high school basketball season ends for all Oakland County schools Friday night, with the exception of four Class A teams, and seven or eight area leagues still have to decide league champions.

Here is the league picture as the season closes:

INTER-LAKES — Berkley and Southfield tied with 7-2 records. Both play final games on the road with the Bears at Walled Lake and the Bluejays going to Farmington.

WAYNE-OAKLAND — The long-awaited return match between Milford and Clarkston, both 10-1, will settle this championship.

OAKLAND-B — Roseville is assured at least a tie and can win outright by beating Avondale. If the Wildcats slip, Troy can tie by hurdling Clawson.

EASTERN MICHIGAN — Birmingham and Mt. Clemens tied at 7-1. The Maples can gain a half-game lead with a victory over East Detroit. Bathers, who have a non-league game this week, must beat Port Huron before facing Birmingham on the Maples' court, March 4.

SOUTH CENTRAL — Imlay City has at least a tie and Mayville must beat Imlay Friday to keep the Spartans from a clear-cut title.

BI-COUNTY—Utica (10-1) takes it all by beating Lake Shore, but a loss combined with a South Lake (9-2) triumph over Center Line would leave the Chieftains and South Lake tied.

SOUTHERN THUMB — Almont (11-0) meets its only threat at Capac (10-1) and the game will decide if Almont wins alone or must share honor.

The only title already determined is the Suburban Catholic, which Pontiac St. Michaels' grabbed 2 weeks ago. The Shamrocks close their season tonight in a non-leaguer with Oxford.

Clarkston dropped a 68-52 decision in the first meeting at Clarkston, but any notion that the Wolves were merely to be lambs led to the slaughter was dispelled Tuesday night when Waterford socked the Redskins' with a 59-57 upset on their own floor.

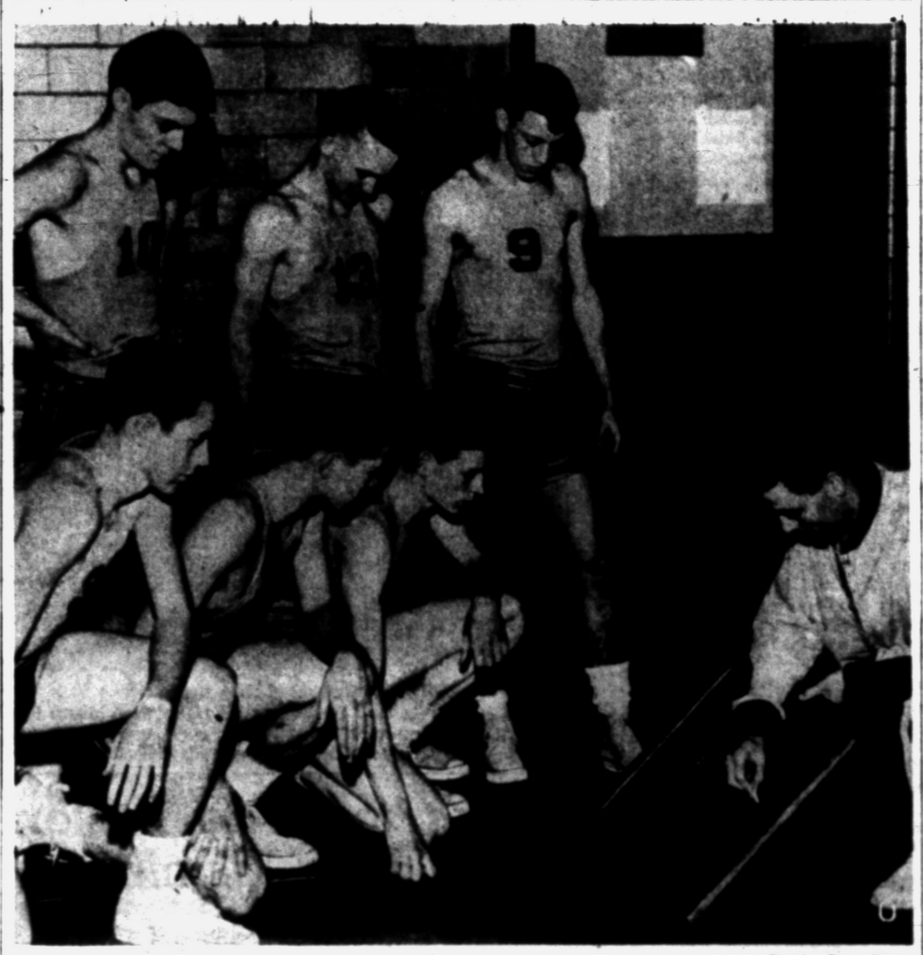

Some fine shooting by Chuck Gillis and Joe Umphrey, the free throws of Jerry Kruskie, and the outstanding work turned in by juniors John Woodman and Ken Weed enginered the victory for Don Beedle's Skippers.

Dom Mauti's Clarkstonians are quite capable of duplicating the feat. The Wolves will be badly outsized, but have speed and shooting ability. Bob Yahnke and Gordon Campbell are corner men, with Lanny Leak and George Lang or Pat Thompson in the backcourt and hard-working Dick Johnston at center.

Milford's point output comes largely from forward Jim Davidson and center Tom Gould, but their 42 points were enough Tuesday. Jump-shooting guard Fred Baker is a key figure. Joe Davis and either Don Perkuchin or John Sherwood round out the starters.

In non-title games Friday, Waterford goes to Van Dyke, Northville is at West Bloomfield, and Holly at Clarenceville. In non-league finales, Rochester plays at Lake Orion and Romeo hosts Lapeer.

Oakland County also has an interest in the Detroit city championship game as Shrine of Royal Oak will represent the Catholic First Division against Cass Tech, Metro League titlist, at the University of Detroit.

Shamrocks, Oxford Tangle Tonight on PHS Court

A fast-closing Oxford High School basketball team comes to Pontiac tonight to meet Suburban Catholic League champion St. Michael's in the final regular season game for both teams at 8 p. m. in the Pontiac High gym.

Since both teams appear in next week's district tournament action at PHS, the game will serve as a tune-up and help get the players acclimated to the big Pontiac court.

Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks already have played two games at PHS this season, beating St. Fred's, 46-40, and 56-31. Oxford has had little experience this winter on a large floor.

Probably the biggest court played on by Jean Harkness' team was at Troy, where the Wildcats were beaten, 74-49.

Since that loss a month ago, however, Oxford has won five games out of six to bring its season record to 10-5. The 'Cats most recent success was Tuesday night's 67-53 conquest of Rochester.

Meanwhile, St. Mike has had 9 days rest since bowing to St. Andrew in the Catholic League playoffs. The Shamrocks boast a 12-2 record.

Mineweaser may be without the services of center Bud Schwartz, who has been bothered this week with flu. Bill Hall, 6-1 junior, will be Schwartz' replacement, if necessary. John and Marty Keller, Joe Wilhelm and Bob Anderson round out the starting lineup.

Harkness' probable starters include Dwight Spiker and Mike Benedict at guards, Fred Bergin at center, and Larry Spencer and Dave Sweeney at guards.

Doc Middlecoff, Littler Favored in Houston Test

Tommy Bolt, Souchak Also to Be Watched in $30,000 Open

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Cary Middlecoff and Gene Littler were the favorites today as 155 golfers began a 72-hole chase for the winter tour's biggest prize, $6,000 in top money in the $30,000 Houston Open.

Middlecoff's habit of playing good golf in Houston made him a natural in the favorite's role. He held only a narrow edge, however, over Littler, the young Californian who is challenging the sprawling 7,200-yard, par-72 Memorial Park course for the first time.

Other long drivers who were expected to use the long, wide fairways to advantage included Tommy Bolt, the winner at San Diego and Tucson, and big Mike Souchak, the new Texas Open champion.

Then there were such name players as Marty Furgol, the 1951 Houston champion who had a final warmup 66 Wednesday and National Open titlist Ed Furgol, who had a 67.

The only name players missing were Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Lew Worsham and Bob Toski.

Middlecoff appeared pleased with a four-under 68 in his final practice round. The Memphis dentist, winner of the Bing Crosby Invitational, won the Houston tournament in 1950 and took a five-way playoff in 1953. He was runner-up by one stroke to Johnny Palmer in 1949 and by two strokes last year to Dave Douglas.

Littler and Bolt are the year's lone double winners, the California redhead having won at Los Angeles and Phoenix in beginning his first full swing of the winter tour.

Bolt complained Wednesday of illness and said he might be forced to withdraw. A virus infection took him out of the Texas Open at San Antonio last Saturday.

Scattered showers were predicted for today as a cold wave began pushing across North Texas.

Rough Rider Imports Mount for New Coach

OTTAWA (AP) — Ottawa Rough Riders new football coach, Chan Caldwell announced Wednesday he has signed halfbacks Jimmy Wade and Henry Moseley and center Carl McDonald, bringing to four the number of imports signed. The Riders previously announced the signing of Darris McCord, a 235-pound tackle from Tennessee where Caldwell coached last year.

Dibble Rated 6th Among Pass Catchers in NFL

Bears Out Parker's Prediction That He Would Star

DETROIT (AP)—It's official! Before the start of last football season, coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions predicted that end Dorne Dibble would become one of the outstanding ends in the National Football League.

The slender Michigan State graduate placed 6th in pass catching. He picked off 46 aerials for 768 yards and six touchdowns.

Dibble's mark of 46 catches was best turned in by a Lion receiver since 1950. Only Bob Mann's 66 receptions in 1949 and Cloyce Box's 50 catches in 1950 top Dibble's mark.

Pete Pihos of Philadelphia and Billy Wilson of the San Francisco 49ers shared the 1954 pass-catching crown. Each caught 60.

Next in line were Bob Boyd, Los Angeles, 53; Bill Howton, Green Bay, 52, and Dante Lavelli, Cleveland, 47.

Bill Bowman, rookie fullback of the Lions, was the team's 2nd leading receiver with 34 receptions for 288 yards. He was followed by Doak Walker with 32 catches for 564 yards, Jug Girard with 27 for 421 yards, Leon Hart with 24 for 377 yards, Bob Hoernschemeyer with 20 for 153 yards, Lew Carpenter with 16 for 145 yards, Jim Doran with 10 for 203 yards and Box with six for 53 yards.

Clarkston's Big Drive in Finale Brings Victory

City Leaguers Get 27 Points to Wipe Out 2 Point Deficit

Clarkston turned on the steam in the 4th quarter, scoring 27 points to sink Chuck's Shack, 77-66, in the Class A City League basketball game at Pontiac High School.

Chuck's had a 34-27 halftime lead, and still maintained a 2-point lead after 3 periods, but fell before the 4th quarter assault. Gus Birtsas, Ed Hintz and Bill Dunstan led the way in the winning rally.

Hintz collected 26 points and Dunstan had 17 for Clarkston, but Chuck's Tom Spencer was high with 28, 10 coming in the 3rd quarter.

In other City League games, unbeaten Griffs Grill got a scare in Class B, but hung on to take a 42-39 victory over Boys Club. Class D triumphs were scored by the Elks over Irwin-Rosa (73-33) and Lakesiders over Hawks (63-25).

Homer Harrison's 14 points led Griff's to its win. He had 12 of the 14 in the 3rd quarter. Dick Goldsworthy had 13 for Boys Club.

Felix Brooks had 20 points in the Elks' victory over Irwin-Rosa, while Gary Thomas was high for the losers with 10. Ed Ossburn registered 16 points for the Lakesiders, and Fred Brown had 10 for the Hawks.

2 County Trackmen on Michigan Squad

Two Oakland County athletes are members of Don Canham's University of Michigan track team this season.

Howard Liverance, 6-2 senior from Birmingham is one of the Wolverine high jumpers. His best effort has been 6-3. Bob Mansfield of Farmington, one of the best distance runners developed in the Inter-Lakes Conference, will run the two-mile for UM.

Mansfield, who has turned in a 9 minute, 58 second best time for the distance, is a sophomore.

Dons Rely on Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — San Francisco is a rarity in this current era of "point-happy" collegiate basketball teams. The Dons, ranked as the nation's No. 1 team in the AP Poll, have to attribute most of their success to their defensive prowess rather than their offensive ability.

According to NCAA service Bureau statistics released Thursday, San Francisco has the best defensive average among major-college teams. Offensively, however, the Dons rate no better than 130th in a field of 162 schools.

* * *

Figures include games of Feb. 19.

'Frisco has allowed the opposition only 50.4 points per game and stands a good chance to break the 3 year-reign that Oklahoma A&M has had on the national defense title.

The Aggies are standing by just in case the Dons should falter and rank second in the defense listings with a 53.6 allowance. They have won the defense crown 15 of the last 19 seasons and never finished lower than third during that span.

Furman seems a cinch to repeat as team offense leader and also better the record it set last season. The Paladins' have averaged 95.4 with one regular season game and tournament competition still remaining. Last year Furman compiled a 91.7 mark.

Virginia is runnerup in the offensive listings with 92.0 points per game, while Connecticut, the only other team above 90, is third at 90.9.

Harry's, J-A Playoff Victors

Beattie, Merchant 5s Bow in Recreation Play at Waterford

Second group of playoff games in the Waterford Recreation Basketball League were played at Crary Junior High Wednesday night with Harry's Recreation and Johnson - Anderson Engineering joining the winner's bracket.

Harry's, runnerup during the regular season, whipped Beattie Motors, 52-29. J-A, which won only one league game during the campaign, made its tourney start victorious by beating Waterford Merchants, 32-30.

Sam Frazer scored the winning basket with a minute and 15 seconds to play. The Merchants missed four foul shots in the final minute. Bill Newman of J-A had 12 points, while Bernard Heaney led the Merchants with 10.

Rex Egres had 12 points and Joe Boring added 11 in Harry's triumph. Jack Taylor collected 10 points for Beattie's.

Loser's bracket games will be played next Monday with Philgas meeting Manny's at 7:30 p.m. and Merchants playing Beattie's at 8:50.

Wes Santee Quits Pan-Am Team in Favor of Studies

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Wes Santee, racing against the calendar instead of a stop watch, won't run the 1,500 meters in the Pan-American Games next month in Mexico City.

The lean runner, America's fastest miler, says his degree in education at the University of Kansas is more important to him.

"I would have to miss school from March 7 to March 20," he said. "It would be foolish for me to take all that time when I need it on my studies.

"I go into the Marines this summer for two years and I might never get back to school. I want to get my degree before I enter the service."

* * *

Jim Kelly, chairman of the U.S. Track and Field Committee for the Pan-American Games, said Santee would be replaced in the 1,500 meters by Bob McMillen of the Armed Forces.

Santee holds the world record of 3:42.8 for 1,500 meters and the American mile record of 4:00.6.

Commenting further on his withdrawal from the Pan-American event, Santee said the timing of the games is "likely to be harmful to any competitor still in school."

"Unless he is a straight-A student, I doubt whether any athlete can spare two weeks at this time," he said.

Santee pointed out that his five races this winter in the East have geen on wekends, and he hasn't had to miss classes. Similarly, he can meet his future schedule of races at New York March 5, Milwaukee March 12, Cleveland March 25 and Chicago March 26.

The U.S. team still will be strong in the 1,500 meters next month without Santee. Besides McMillen, Fred Dwyer will run the metric mile. Dwyer, a serviceman, ran a 4:06.2 mile in beating Santee and Denmark's Gunnar Nielsen in New York Feb. 12.

McMillen, formerly of Occidental College, placed second in the event in the 1952 Olympics.

Eaglets End Regular Season With Victory

Orchard Lake St. Mary concluded its regular season basketball play Wednesday night by downing St. Ladislaus of Hamtramck, 57-53, on the Eaglets' court. It was the 13th victory in 15 games for St. Mary's, which meets Walled Lake in the Class B tournament at Walled Lake.

Vince Pernicki paced the Eaglet attack with 21 points, while Len Grabowski had 17 for St. Lads.

Three-Team Race!

NL Shows Indications of Hot Battle in '55

NEW YORK (AP)—As the clubs edge toward the March 1 training deadline, the National League has all the earmarks of a three-team race with three others close enough to make it interesting.

New York, Brooklyn and Milwaukee probably belong in the front row with St.Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia not too far back. Chicago, in the midst of a rebuilding program, should be better and Pittsburgh has hopes of escaping the cellar.

* * *

Few gave the Giants much chance last spring although everybody knew Willie Mays was back from the Army. They couldn't know that Dusty Rhodes would hit those pinch homers, that Marv Grissom would team with Hoyt Wilhelm in an unbeatable bullpen team or that Johnny Antonelli would become a 21-game winner.

* * *

Manager Leo Durocher is expected to field almost the same club this year with Mays back in center, flanked by Don Mueller and Monte Irvin. Shortstop Al Dark is the key man of an infield including Whitey Lockman, Dave Williams and Hank Thompson. Leo banks on Antonelli, Sal Maglie, Ruben Gomez and Don Liddle as the "Big Four" of his pitching staff with help from bonus baby Paul Giel, Allan Worthington and Jim Hearn.

Brooklyn is recovering slowly from the shock of losing the pennant in '54. Walter Alston, back for a second term as manager, counts on a greatly improved Roy Campanella, with a mended hand, to pep up the attack that faltered too often last season.

Milwaukee figures it never again can have as many injuries as it did last season when Bobby Thomson's broken ankle in spring training started the bad news.

* * *

Many regard St.Louis as a "Dark Horse" on the hope that Manager Eddie Stanky will come up with two rookies — third baseman Ken Boyer and outfielder Bill Virdon — on a par with last year's find, Wally Moon.

'Preacher' Says He's All Through

Roe Confirms Report About His Retirement From Baseball

BALTIMORE (AP)—Elwin Charles (Preacher) Roe, the colorful southpaw pitcher from Ash Flat, Ark., who compiled a .600 winning percentage in the big leagues, has announced his retirement from baseball.

Reached by The Associated Press early Thursday morning at his present home in West Plains, Mo., the veteran hurler confirmed a report that he was quitting.

"Call me back in the morning and I'll tell you all about it," the Preacher said.

Roe was purchased by the Baltimore Orioles last December from the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Orioles gave up $70,000 and two minor league players for Roe and third baseman Billy Cox.

Former Lion Named to K-State Staff

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Steven Sucie, head football coach at Bradley University and a former member of the Detriot Lions squad, is one of three new assistants on the Kansas State college football coaching staff.

Sucie, together with Ed Cavanaugh, assistant line coach at Kansas State last season, and Sol Kamph, former line coach for Winnipeg in Canada's Western Conference, were named yesterday to assist Bernard (Bus) Mertes.

Chief Tankers Beat Plymouth for Tenth Win

Wednesday's Test Last Home Appearance in 1955 Season

Pontiac High School's swimmers marked up their 10th win in 12 dual meets and closed their home schedule Wednesday night with a 50-34 triumph over a good Plymouth team in the PHS pool.

Des Boyce's tankers conclude their dual meet season on the road at Bay City, The Valley meet, March 4, and state Meet, March 11-12, end the campaign.

The Chiefs took first in 6 of the 9 events last night in beating Plymouth, which had been beaten only by Ann Arbor previously this season.

While star free styler Bob Lamson was having an off-night, Tom Cross and Bob Keavy turned in their best times in the back stroke and medley, respectively, and Dick Gavette did a creditable job in the 40-yard free style.

Keavy did the individual medley in 1 minute, 20.4 seconds, and also added a first in the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:07. Cross' time in the 100-yard back stroke was 1:04.4.

Other firsts were by diver Rennie Saigen and the medley relay team of Cross, Ken Scott and Dennis Simonson.

40-yard free style—Won by Gavette (P); Carney (P) second; Zukosky (Pl) third. Time: 20.4 seconds.
100-yard breast stroke—Won by Keavy (P); Conrad (P) second; Simonson (P) third. Time: 1 minute, 7 seconds.
200-yard free style—Won by Wright (Pl); Bob Lamson (P) second; Bill Lamson (P) third. Time: 2 minutes, 11.1 seconds.
100-yard back stroke—Won by Cross (P); Hampton (P) second; Packard (Pl) third. Time: 1 minute, 4.4 seconds.
100-yard free style—Won by Beegle (Pl); Gavette (P) second; Saigen (P) third. Time: 58.4 seconds.
120-yard individual medley—Won by Keavy (P); Lamson (P) second; Zubosky (Pl) third. Time: 1 minute, 20.6 seconds.
Diving—Won by Saigen (P); Losee (Pl) second; Walker (Pl) third.
100-yard medley relay—Won by Pontiac (Cross, Scott, Simonson); Plymouth, second. Time: 1 minute, 48.3 seconds.
200-yard free style relay—Won by Plymouth (Carney, Wright, Beegle, McKenna); Pontiac (Howse, Cornforth, Roeser, Mumbru) second. Time 1 minute, 21.7 seconds.

Tony Canzoneri Reminisces About 'Old Days,' Then Picks Sandy Saddler to Beat Red Top Davis

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP)—It was raining and a low fog hung over the Newark airport as the car sped over the slick roads toward Sandy Saddler's training camp. Tony Canzoneri, who held the featherweight title 20 years before Saddler first won it, sat in the front seat, watching the rain and talking about "the old days."

For Tony, the "old days" were the years between 1925 and 1939 when the kid from New Orleans cut a wide path through the ring records. He won the featherweight title and the lightweight twice. In between, he held a synthetic championship known as the junior welter, long since dead.

"I trained over here for Kid Chocolate and Jackie Berg," he began. He reeled off a long list of names ending with Frankie Klick. "The lady (Madame Bey) used to run the camp in those days. Remember that picture she used to have of her and President McKinley? I think it was the day he got shot but this was earlier and she was right in the middle of the picture. "See me and the President,' she used to say.

* * *

"Lou Ambers used to be a sparring partner for me and I remember how he used to try to get me to quit smoking. I always smoked cigars, even when I was fighting and Lou used to plead with me, 'Why don't you cut it out. Don't you know it's no good for you?' I'd tell him to remember I still could box his ears off in the gym. Later we fought twice for the lightweight title. The second time he beat me and after the fight he comes over to me with that silly grin and says, 'Tony, I always told you to cut out them cigars.'"

* * *

When the car arrived at the camp of the current feather champ, the sun was shining. Saddler breezed through four rounds in his final tuneup for Friday's defense against Red Top Davis.

Having observed Davis the day before, Canzoneri now made like an "expert" and picked Saddler, probably by a knockout. He didn't say it, but few would dispute that he could have licked them both the same night.

Hawks' Youthful Winger Leads in Calder Cup Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Youthful Eddie Litzenberger of the Chicago Black Hawks has a good chance to capture rookie-of-the-year honors in the National Hockey League.

The 22-year-old right winger, sold by the Montreal Canadiens to Chicago in early December, has been one of the bright spots for the tail-end Hawks. Litzenberger produced the three-goal "hat trick" last night to give Chicago a 3-3 tie with the Boston Bruins. The deadlock eliminated the Hawks from a Stanley Cup playoff berth.

Toronto Maple Leafs downed the New York Rangers 3-1 to solidify their grip on 3rd place. Leafs moved four points ahead of the 4th place Bruins.

Litzenberger topped the half-way mark balloting for the Calder Memorial Trophy award given to the top rookie. He has scored 21 goals and collected 20 assists for 41 points.

The Chicago-Boston game was at St. Paul, Minn., 1st NHL game ever played in the Twin City area. Doug Mohns scored twice for the Bruins and rookie Don McKenney caged the other Boston goal.

Chiefs Need Win to Clinch 3rd Place

Gavilan Not Convinced He's 'Over the Hill'

Kid Bows to Constance but Dislikes Decision in TV Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Kid Gavilan's defeat by Hector Constance hasn't convinced the once-mighty Cuban Keed that he's too far over the hill to fight his way back to the welterweight throne.

Constance, a smart, quick youngster from Trinidad, beat Gavilan to the punch often enough Wednesday night to score a unanimous 10-round decision over the former champion before a nationally televised audience.

Badly upset by the loss, Gavilan told reporters the decision was as "funny" as the one against him last Oct. 20 in Philadelphia, when he lost the title to Johnny Saxton.

This time, though, there weren't so many on the Kid's side. Of the 13 working newsmen at the ringside, seven voted Constance the winner. Five thought Gavilan won and the other called it a draw.

Yamil Chade, a Cuban banker who became Gavilan's manager recently, said the decision was "very bad" and would be appealed to the Miami Beach Boxing Commission and the National Boxing Assn.

Judge Gus Jacobson scored the fight 97-95 for Constance. Judge Morris Feingold had it 99-97 and Referee Cy Gottfried 96-95. The Associated Press gave Constance a 97-96 edge.

Gavilan said the loss had not affected his hopes of regaining the championship.

"Sure, I keep on fighting," he said. "I think I have another fight next month in New York. This funny decision not going to stop the Keed. I win every round tonight."

onstance, 24, who became a pro fighter in 1951 — about the time Gavilan was winning the welterweight crown from Johnny Bratton in New York — grinned when he heard of Gavilan's comment.

"The people on television all saw me win," he said. "Gavilan wasn't as tough as I expected him to be.

"Yes, it was the best fight of my career, but I expect to do better than that, as soon as I learn more about the American style of infighting."

Win Friday Over Wolves Target for PHS Cagers

Van Ryzin, However, Is Not Discounting Chance of Very Tough Tilt

Next to the last regularly scheduled contest for the Pontiac High School basketball team Friday provides the Chiefs with a target at which to aim, in hopes of clinching the Saginaw Valley Conference 3rd place.

Friday night's encounter with the Bay City Wolves, 2nd match between the clubs this winter, isn't expected to be any easy one for Pontiac. That's the opinion of Coach Art Van Ryzin, who pointed out this morning that "it can develop into a red-hot scrap. I notice that the Bay City team beat Saginaw High this week. So they may be definitely on the upswing and could give us a lot of trouble."

A victory Friday is needed badly. It would nail down the Valley's 3rd place, but a loss would leave Chiefs with the very tough job of trying to beat the leading Arthur Hill club next Friday night on the PHS court. 'Jacks have already clinched the league title.

For the Chiefs, Van Ryzin says he'll use Rod Treais and either Walter King or John James at forwards, and Walter Poe and Bob Johnston at the guards along with Dick Blacklaw at the pivot.

Johnson has fully recovered from an attack of flu and a bad ankle, and is ready to go, Van Ryzin reports.

Reserves of the two schools meet in a preliminary at 7 p.m. with the regulars taking over at 8 o'clock.

State Boosts Research Funds for Fisheries

LANSING (AP)—Michigan will have a full-scale warm water fisheries experiment station at Hastings as soon as funds are available, the state conservation department said today.

Conservation director Gerald E. Eddy said present plans call for shifting the entire present Hastings hatchery to warm water fish research.

In addition, warm water fish work will be stepped up at the department's Rifle River area and at the Ann Arbor Institute for Fisheries Research.

Twelve outdoor ponds will be utilized for the research work at Hastings. In addition, experimental work will be carried on at nearby lakes.

The Rifle River area will be used for expanded research on unproductive bog and marl lakes.

Bedridden Babe Doubtful Entry

Amateurs and Pros Vie for Golf Honors Over Rugged Sarasota Links

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Babe Zaharias, the defending titlist, was a doubtful starter Thursday in the annual Sarasota Women's Open Golf Tournament.

The Babe, who won the Sarasota title in 1953, was confined to bed at her Tampa home with a virus attack. She informed tournament officials she would try to make it.

The tournament is to be played on the 6,277-yard Bobby Jones Course with a par of 75.

* * *

It's hard to pick out a favorite, but all the winter circuit tournaments winners are here. These are Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, who won the recent Miami Beach Invitational; Patty Berg, Chicago, the St. Petersburg Open and Mrs. Jackie Pung, Honolulu, the Sea Island Open. Mrs. Zaharias won the Tampa Open.

Among the top amateurs to play in the 72-hole contest which ends Sunday are Pat Lesser of Seattle N.C., Wiffy Smith of La Canada, Calif., and Jean Hopkins of Cleveland.

Brooks to Ride Boston Doge in Rich Flamingo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The $139,800 Flamingo Stakes to be run at Hialeah Park Saturday took shape Thursday with 11 speedy 3-year-olds getting their final workouts and all jockeys assigned.

Jockey Steve Brooks accepted the mount on Paul Andolino's unbeaten Boston Doge to omplete the picture and make the winner of eight straight races, including two Hialeah stakes, a solid choice at 3-1.

The same figure was quoted on Hasty House Farms' Prince Noor, who closed with a rush under jockey Johnny Adams to win the Everglades on Feb. 12 at the Flamingo distance of a mile and a furlong.

Boston Doge took the Hibiscus at six furlongs and the Bahamas at seven but never has been asked to go a distance. Brooks, 33-year-old veteran from McCook, Neb., has never ridden the Andolino flash but is regarded as one of the most powerful finishers on a thoroughbred.

Belair Stud's Nashua, 1954 juvenile champion, remained the hot favorite at even money under jockey Eddie Arcaro. Nashua made his 1955 debut on Monday in a four-horse "no betting" race and beat C. F. Morriss' Munchausen to the wire in a performance that failed to impress the experts.

Many figure that Nashua and Boston Doge may burn each other out in the early running of the mile-and-a-furlong feature and a colt like the flop-eared Prince Noor could come on to take it all.

OCBC Is Remodeling

Oakland County Boat Club reports that new docks for 15 to 20 more boats will be constructed this spring. At the present, work is under way on the remodeling of the cocktail lounge.

Wrestlers for Pan-Am Picked

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The wrestling team to represent the United States in the Pan-American games at Mexico City next month has been determined and starting night the boxing team will be picked.

* * *

The wrestling trials wound up here Wednesday night with this contingent established for the Mexico City games March 12-26:

Evans and Kerslake were on the 1952 Olympic team.

Among the alternates are Frank Bettucci, Department of the Army, Ithaca, N.Y., 147.5-pound class, and Bradley Glass, U.S. Navy, Pensacola, Fla., 191-pound class.

Saunders Meets Barnfather in PTTA Feature

Two of the top teams in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association meet tonight in the featured match on the week's schedule at the Pontiac Boys Clubs.

These weekly matches have been well-attended each week.

The Furtney Drug - China City match tonight will bring together Sid Barnfather and Jerry Saunders in a standout contest at 10:30.

Barnfather, manager of the China City team, is the present city singles titlist, while Saunders, a GM Tech student is former Waterford High champion. He has beaten all the top players in the league this season except Richard Kuhn.

The remaineer of tonight's schedule matches Capitol Barbers and Fleet Carrier, Pontiac Varnish and Short's Variety, and Pontiac Cigarette Service and Huron Market.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — The scoreboard in the new Allen Fieldhouse at the University of Kansas is in step with the times.

It can record basketball scores up to 199 for each team.

MSC Plans 'Spectacular' for Its First Big Ten Meeting

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State is going all out to make a "spectacular" out of the Big Ten indoor track meet at Jenison fieldhouse March 4 and 5.

Its the 1st time MSC has hosted the conference track meet — the most important sports event nationally for Big Ten schools behind football.

The conference swimming meet probably would rate 3rd as a headline sports event for the league.

Athletic directors and other big brass of the conference also will be in to discuss such matters as the football television problem and eligibility.

Kellogg Center for Continuing Education has been booked nearly solid for that weekend by track teams and others flocking to the campus.

Athletic director Biggie Munn has cancelled all physical education classes scheduled for Jenison fieldhouse for the latter part of that week to give Cy Meerman and his ground crew a chance to pretty up the place.

The place will be gay with bright green artificial grass, multi-colored marking lines and pennants of the Big Ten schools.

To give the spectators a better break, MSC track coach Karl Schlademan has arranged to move more of the events toward the middle of the fieldhouse.

Dark Horse Added to Handicap Field

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—Longshot surprises are no strangers to the $100,000 added Santa Anita Handicap and Thursday another dark horse was added to the probable lineup for the 18th running of the mile and a quarter classic Saturday.

Six Fifteen, a lightly weighted and lightly regarded 5-year-old, joined the handicap ranks.

Clarkston, Rochester Open Tourney Play

By JACK SAYLOR

Clarkston and Rochester, with two of Oakland County's better records among Class B schools, will get the 1955 Michigan High School Athletic Association district tournament started next Tuesday night at Pontiac High School.

Coaches or other representatives from the 10 teams competing in the Class B and C test met Wednesday afternoon for the drawing with Robert F. Beauchamp, PHS faculty athletic manager, who also is tournament director for the 10th year.

Paired with Clarkston and Rochester in the upper bracket of the Class B event is Lake Orion, which drew the bye and faces the Clarkston-Rochester winner.

Oxford and Romeo are matched in the other half of the draw and the survivor will play Avondale, which also drew a bye.

In the 4-team Class C field, Pontiac's parochial quintets ended up in opposite halves of the draw. St. Fred's will face West Bloomfield, a perennial Class C district champion, while St. Mikes, the Suburban Catholic League champion, meets Armada.

The two 1st-round Class B games get the tourney started Tuesday night with Clarkston and Rochester playing at 7 p.m. and the Oxford-Romeo tilt set for 8:15.

The Class C eliminations are on Wednesday night, with West Bloomfield and St. Fred's meeting at 7 o'clock and St. Mikes tangling with Armada at 8:15. On Thursday night, it's Class B action again, with Lake Orion and Avondale meeting the first-round survivors.

The tournament takes a night off Friday while Pontiac High is playing Arthur Hill. The finals in Class C are set Saturday at 7 p.m., followed by the Class B windup at 8:15.

The Class B and C regional tournament also is scheduled at PHS from Tuesday, March 8 through Saturday, March 12. Pontiac's Class B district champion will be joined by winners of district tourneys at Troy, Brighton, Marysville and Walled Lake.

In addition to Pontiac, Class C district titlists will come from Ortonville, Van Dyke, Harper-Woods, Marysville, Hamtramck, Visitation and St. Charles.

Drawings for pairings in the Class B-C regional will be held Monday, March 7. Pairings also were determined at several other tournament sites in the Oakland County area this week.

At Walled Lake, a 4-team Class B field will playoff for a regional berth on Friday and Saturday nights, March 4-5. Walled Lake meets St. Mary of Orchard Lake, after Holly plays Northville. The winners play for the title Saturday.

At Livonia Bentley, Farmington and Redford Union clash and Bentley opposes Clarenceville in semi-final games next Thursday. The winners meet Friday night for the district title.

Team, Player Battles Equal Title Campaign

Only Half-Point Marks Difference for Gopher, 'Cat, Hoosier Stars

CHICAGO (AP) — Battles for individual and team statistical championships in the Big Ten basketball race are about as intense as the title struggle itself.

A mere half-point in averages separates three sharpshooters aiming for the scoring crown, according to official statistics today.

Dick Garmaker of league-leading Minnesota is ahead with a 25.9 average in 12 games. He is shadowed by Northwestern's Frank Ehmann with 25.5 and Indiana's Don Schlundt with 25.4. Schlundt has played one less game than the other two. He has been the Big Ten scoring titlist for the past two seasons.

John Miller of Ohio State, 5th in scoring with 20.5, is the leader in field goal accuracy with a .479 percentage. Schlundt, who is 2nd among the leaders with .447, is 1st in foul line percentage with .815.

Illinois has become the top scoring team with an average of 84.2 points per game. Minnesota, with an 80.3 average on offense, is tops on defense with a yield of 72.5.

By comparison, Iowa's Hawkeyes, who meet Minnesota Monday in what could be the title showdown, has an 83.2 scoring average and has limited opponents to 74.4. Iowa is No. 1 on field goal percentage with .417, followed by Northwestern with .414, Michigan State .394 and Minnesota .386.

Parks Selected to Head International Old-Timers

Election of officers highlighted the recent second meeting of the International Old Timers Baseball Association, at London, Ont.

Paul Parks of Pontiac was named for a two-year term to head the group he was largely responsible for organizing.

Named to aid Parks, are 1st vice president, Bud Bryson, London; 2nd vice president, Al Muller, Toronto; 3rd vice president and public relations, Jack Park, London; recreation secretary, William Livermore, London; and sergeant-at-arms, Dean Gee, Stratford, Ont.

Jack Ebert of Pontiac was named chairman of the by-laws committee. Vice chairman is John Drew, London.

Trustees of the newly formed association between American and Canadian oldtimers, were named from the top office holders. All but Jack Park and Gee were named.

President Parks, commenting on aims of the organization, says among the important objectives is to help promote "kid" baseball and aid in other youth programs.

He reported that the Canadian oldtimers last year contributed about $14,000 to aid crippled children.

Next meeting will be held Saturday, March 19, in the Pontiac VFW hall, beginning at 7 p. m.

Shamrock Reserves Seek Division Title

St. Michael's varsity basketball team has had a fine season, but its feats have been even surpassed by the Shamrock reserves.

The Jayvees joined the varsity in winning the Suburban Catholic title and won their first playoff game over St. Andrew's, 44-33. Now, the reserves meet Grosse Pointe St. Paul JV for the 2nd Division championship tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Holy Redeemer gym.

Chuch Brown has paced a well-at Baker Elementary, Highland balanced team to a 13-1 record. Alex Morris will handle the Shamrock reserves in tonight's cahmpionship game.

DIT and Adrian in Showdown

Winner to Represent State in NAIA Cage War at Kansas City

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tech and Adrian College basketball teams will square off next Tuesday night in a playoff to determine Michigan's representative in the NAIA (small college) basketball tournament next month.

The game will be played at Adrian, with the winner going on to the national tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

Adrian, with a 17-3 season record, currently is tied with Calvin for the MIAA conference lead. But the Bulldogs were chosen to meet Detroit Tech because Calvin met Lawrence Tech in a similar playoff last year. Tech has 13-5 record this year.

Adrian beat DIT, 69-63, in an NAIA playoff in 1953, but was eliminated in its 1st game in the national tourney at Kansas City. Lawrence Tech, after defeating Calvin in last year's playoff, was eliminated in its 2nd game at the 1954 tournament.

Both Adrian and Tech won games last night, Adrian overpowering Alma, 89-74, and Tech defeating Ferris Institute, 88-72.

Milford Will Vote March 22 on $1.2 Million Bond Issue

MILFORD — At a special election March 22, Huron Valley residents will be asked to approve a $1,250,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new 40-room senior high school.

Approval will be asked, at the same time, of a special millage to finance the bond issue.

The first in a series of special meetings of the Huron Valley School Board will be held tonight, to see plans for the new high school and discuss costs and location.

Architect Louis Kingscott and Associates of Battle Creek will present drawings of the proposed school at the meeting.

Details regarding the election procedure will be presented by Fred Thrum of Lansing, who will set up all necessary notices and advise the school board on presentation of the bonding table. Thrum has been school district bonding Attorney for the Huron Valley district for the past five years, according to Harold Hansen, superintendent.

Hansen explained that it will take the next three years to collect tax revenue to pay off the balance of the present $650,000 bond issue voted Sept. 29, 1952. After that, payments would begin on the new bond issue, but until that time, only interest would be paid on the proposed $1,250,000 bond issue.

At a special meeting recently, the site committee, headed by Mrs. Jerold Oaks, recommended that the new high school be located on a 42-acre plot between Milford and Highland. The school board accepted the recommendation, and negotiations have been started for acquiring the land, in case the bond issue is approved.

Hansen said that the plot is one of the few flat pieces of land in the Huron Valley district, and would be the most economical for building purposes. He also stated that with this much space, a large scrimmage field could be constructed, saving the big field in Milford for regular home games and band concerts.

There would be parking space available for approximately 700 cars. Officials estimate that the school and landscaping would cover about 4½ to 5 acres.

A new angle will be injected in the plans. The Board of Education has agreed that the present high school teaching staff and principal Erwin Johnson will work with the board and architects in planning the new building. The custodial personnel will also be asked to contribute constructive suggestions.

Superintendent Hansen said that if it is possible to build a multipurpose room at Brooks school out of revenues from the proposed bond issue, he would urge that it be done. This would permit the introduction of film strips as part of the visual aid program in the teaching curriculum there.

In the event that a new high school can be approved, it would release 22 rooms from the present high school in Milford, taking the pressure from the crowded elementary grades.

In the beginning, the high school would not be using all 40 rooms, but by 1960 every room would be utilized by high school students, officials estimate. These present empty rooms would be used now by part of the junior high group.

Voting in March will take place at Baker Elementary, Highland Junior High, and at the White Lake Town Hall.

Detroit Decides to Test Radar Speed Control

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit traffic officials decided yesterday to test electonic speed indicators in the Motor City next month.

Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins suggested the devices, which are now used in Detroit suburbs and other small communities throughout the nation, be given a trial because surveys showed speed was one of the major factors in traffic casualties in 1954.

Other Dairies Studying Detroit Creamery Cut

DETROIT (UP — Detroit dairies were "holding the line" on price cuts today but studying a cut offered yesterday by the Detroit Creamery Co.

The dairies were expected to follow the Detroit Creamery's example when it cut the price of regular milk one cent a quart and the price of homogenized milk two cents a quart. The cut brought the price of homogenized milk to the level of regular milk.

Check Is Sent From New York to Aid Zellers

Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean has received a $5 check from a woman in Auburn, N. Y., to aid the relatives of six Highland Township persons killed in an explosion Feb. 15.

Robert Zeller, 29, his, wife, Anita, 22, and their two small children Robert Jr., 19 months and Gloria Jean, 7 months, were killed when gasoline exploded in their basement home at 350 Woodruff Rd.

Also killed was Zeller's brother-in-law, Samuel Fowler, 29, and his daughter Jeannie, 3.

She saw a Pontiac Press photo of Zeller's sister Patricia, 16, and Fowler's wife Betty, 27, which had been transmitted by wire to a New York paper.

Hopes to Update Merchant Fleet

Maritime Administrator Says Work to Begin on 3 Types of Ships

BOSTON (UP—Maritime Administrator Louis S. Rothschild said today his agency expects to start work soon on three new types of merchant ships.

He said the agency hopes private shipping lines will build five others now on the drawing boards as a "new generation" of modern, high-powered merchant vessels.

In a speech prepared for the Boston Chamber of Commerce, he said a 400 million dollar program of shipbuilding and repairs, initiated a year ago, is beginning to put new work into the shipyards.

Saying the government itself will soon start building three new types of merchant ships, Rothschild described them as prototypes of ships "essential to mobilization plans." Two designated as "freedom" ships, would be freighters, each with the same hull design.

The third type contemplated under the new program, Rothschild said, would be a 20-knot tanker, to be the first of a new "pipeline" class of tanker, "extremely valuable to the Navy" as a fast big carrier of petroleum products.

The Maritime Administration, Rothschild said, has on its drawing boards five new classes of ships as "preliminary designs produced for the purpose of discussing with the steamship lines the replacement of ships now in operation." They included:

1. The "Clipper"—an 18-knot freighter, and the "Seafarer," also a freighter, which together would replace the type of cargo carriers which today form the backbone of the freighter fleet.

2. The "Bulk," a 16-knot common carrier for bulk cargoes such as ores and grains.

May Urge Williams to Run for President

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—A Williams - for - President campaign may be started rolling tonight at a $50 - a - plate testimonial dinner honoring Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

About 500 top Democrats and a few Republicans from throughout the state were scheduled to attend the banquet, first large event given in Williams' honor since his landslide victory for a fourth term last Nov. 2.

There were reports one or more resolutions urging him to seek the Democratic nomination for president in 1956 may be presented to Williams at the dinner.

Until recently it was believed that only leguminous plants can fix nitrogen from the air but a recent discovery indicates that a species of alder tree also can do it.

New Evidence May Be Given

State's Attorneys Hint Important Developments in Phenix Trial

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP—State's attorneys hinted at highly "significant" testimony to come today as they neared the close of their murder case against former Chief Deputy Sheriff Albert Fuller of Phenix City.

But they wouldn't disclose the nature of the new evidence they promised to develop against the 35-year-old former lawman on trial for his life for the killing of antivice campaigner A. L. Patterson.

Meanwhile, the state sought to show that Fuller told a state investigator of receiving huge profits from the multimillion-dollar gambling and vice ring that dominated Phenix City before Patterson was slain.

The investigator, Willie B. Painterl was on the stand when court was recessed yesterday. He told his story to Judge J. Russell McElroy after the jury had been excused.

Irons Declares 10-Point Program Nearly Complete

Sworn into office less than two months ago, Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons said yesterday that his 10-point program promised during his election campaign, is 90 per cent completed.

Speaking before the Berkley Exchange Club, Irons stated that his program is short one item, calling for a juvenile youth department for the county.

Among other things, Irons said so far he has abolished justice court hearings in the jail and kept out professional bondsmen from soliciting business in the county jail building.

He said he has wiped out a former practice of discrimination in calling of ambulances and wreckers to accident scenes and has issued an order preventing deputies from frequenting places where intoxicating liquors are sold.

"Furthermore, the entrance of intoxicating liquors into the county jail, has been prohibited," Irons said.

Indicating the need for such a department, Irons said: "Right now we have 45 youths ranging in ages from 17 to 21 imprisoned in the county jail. Our juvenile crime situation must be halted before these youngsters learn the ways of the hardened criminals and wind up on a road of no recourse."

Although the sheriff's budget permits hiring of 35 deputies, the department only has 29, Irons said.

"I'm proceeding slowly and discreetly in such a matter. I'm trying to screen prospective deputies carefully and won't hire questionable characters. You can rest assured that the department's personnel is the best of the applicants."

However, Irons said that the full-strength number of 35 men is inadequate to handle a county with 900 square miles.

Besides handling of normal duties, Irons said, the deputies are called out on strikes, asked to transport prisoners to Jackson Prison, and conducted various types of inspections throughout the county.

Tells Lawyers' Role in U.S. Industries

ANN ARBOR (UP) — A Washington attorney told a University of Michigan group last night that lawyers are playing an increasingly important role in the nation because of a "maze of government regulations facing American industry."

Walter H. Hamilton, speaking in the first of a series of five lectures at the university, said "the lack of security and threat to survival is naturally fusing industrial firms together."

He said lawyers are playing key roles in this "pairing off" of large corporations because they have to determine how far the consolidation can go and remain within the law."

Island Civilians Are Evacuated

Nationalists Withdraw 2,000 From Battered Nanchishan

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP—Nationalist China said today all civilians had been withdrawn from tiny Nanchishan, a Red-threatened island outpost 140 miles north of Formosa.

The withdrawal seemed an almost certain prelude to a military evacuation. The island is reported garrisoned by some 5,000 regulars and guerrillas.

There were approximately 2,000 civilians on Nanchishan, a three-square-mile island 23 miles off the Red mainland and the northern-most anchor of Chiang Kai-shek's island chain.

Army commanders had been pressing for a finish fight at Nanchishan, but the general staff overruled them because there was no possible hope of U.S. support in its defense.

The island is outside the Formosa Strait and, in the U.S. view, not essential to the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores, which President Eisenhower has promised to guard.

Earlier today, official sources denied Nanchishan was being evacuated. They said air and naval blows against the Reds had lessened, for the time being, the Communist threat there.

At the moment, the situation appears less menacing than it was two days ago, when Nationalist pilots reported sighting and attacking more than 200 armed, motorized junks near Peilungshan.

Lt. Gen. Roger Ramey, whose U.S. 5th Air Force maintains a squadron of F86 Sabre Jets on Formosa, conferred with top U.S. and Nationalist officials today.

More Bodies Taken From Plane Wreckage

RIETI, Italy (UP—Patrols today recovered bodies of 10 more victims from the wreckage of a Belgian Sabena airliner on a peak in the Apennines.

Leukemia Threatens Life of Troy Tot

By WILMA GREENWAY

There is a dread disease that attacks without warning, striking insidiously into the bloodstream of its victims, robbing them of energy, strength, and then, relentlessly, of life.

It is called leukemia, and pitted against this disease, are the medical scientists who work tirelessly in the search for a cure.

These scientists work against time, conscious that even as they battle for the miracle of a cure, the enemy leukemia is claiming its daily rations of victims.

Human lives hang on that question — and among them is the life of little Marie Mean, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mean of 1534 E. Wattles Rd. in Troy Township.

The winsome, brown-eyed Marie doesn't know it, of course. Nor does her little sister, Linda, whom she continues to mother and, sometimes, boss a little.

But Marie's parents know that she has leukemia — they learned the shocking news last month. They have been told that Marie has — at the most — two years to live.

"I don't know whether there are miracles or not," Marie's mother, Evelyn, said through her tears. "But I do know that God is here, and I believe he'll help us. We're not giving up."

Not giving up is more than simply a matter of mental courage. There are physical things to be done, also, many of them difficult for an ordinary workingman like Floyd Mean, an apprentice carpenter who must rely on his weekly earnings to pay the soaring medical bills.

There are, for instance, weekly trips to the blood specialist, with blood counts, laboratory work, medicine. There are three prescriptions to be purchased regularly, one of them, cortisone, costing $15 a bottle.

Later, as the disease progresses, there will be blood transfusions, hospitalization, more laboratory work, additional prescriptions.

Meanwhile Marie's mother, only 22 years old herself, and her daddy 26, watch the calendar and read the medical articles in the paper in the hope of finding news of a cure.

One thing the pretty Marie has gained by her illness, is a host of friends. Every day she gets cards in the mail, many of them from people she has never seen. Sometimes strange visitors call at the house, just to wish her well.

Neighbors have joined together and bought her a new television set to keep her amused during the hours that she feels too listless to play. The local Blue Star Mothers made a gift of $25 to help pay medical expenses.

And on March 11 a community dance will be held at Colerain School, John R. at 18 Mile Rd., with the proceeds earmarked as a gift for Marie.

"People have been wonderful," Marie's young mother said, "and we'll never be able to thank them enough. "But there is one gift that we value above all others — and that is the gift that can save Marie's life, the gift of prayer.

"Twelve churches have her on their prayer lists, and I know that hundreds of people are asking God to help her.

"If a cure is found in time, not only Marie but others like her will be saved.

LEUKEMIA VICTIM—While hundreds of people pray that a cure for leukemia may be found in time to save her life, three-year-old Marie Mean (left) of Troy Township hugs her little sister, Linda, 2, unaware that tragedy threatens their family. Marie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mean of 1534 E. Wattles Rd., has been given less than two years to live. She was discovered to have the disease, for which there is no known cure, last month.

Increase in Elk Worries U. S.

28,000 Animals in Two Wyoming Parks Create Population Problem

WASHINGTON — Twenty-eight thousand elk in northwestern Wyoming are giving the Federal Government one of its sharpest wildlife management headaches.

Elk are breeding too fast in the Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks area, creating an overpopulation problem more acute than anywhere else in the national parks. Oversized herds spell undernourished animals, depletion of vegetation, particularly aspen and fir trees, and even more serious, land erosion through overgrazing.

The government has tried shooting the elk, only to run into a return volley of criticism. It has tried a helicopter to frighten the elk out of Yellowstone Park into Montana where they were mowed down by waiting hunters. But an expenditure of $1,000 shooed out only 100 exhausted animals. The government opened Grand Teton National Park to deputized hunters, but in a month and a half during the recent September-October season only 12 elk had been killed.

Now national, Wyoming, and Montana authorities are wrestling with this problem to which there seems no easy answer as yet, says the National Geographic Society.

The Nation's two largest elk herds summer in the high country of Yellowstone Park. One, the north Yellowstone herd of approximately 12,000 head, hoofs northward in the fall and winter when a heavy canopy of snow restricts foraging in the semi-wooded uplands.

Winter drives the other, called the southern or Jackson Hole herd and numbering about 16,000 head, southward into Jackson Hole, a hospitable valley lying east of the Teton Mountains.

Many of the north Yellowstone elk remain in the park where hunting is forbidden, even in the worst winter weather. Park rangers have live-trapped some and removed them from Federal lands. But there have been few bids for live elk in recent years since the West is already overstocked.

Not all park officials are enthusiastic about using helicopters as "sheep dogs." For one thing, elk are extraordinarily obstinate creatures that refuse to be driven downhill from the Yellowstone heights. They persist in veering uphill. For another, it was distasteful to drive the animals into the muzzles of ambushed guns.

Some officials think the most practical method of reducing the herd is one tried in Yellowstone experimentally a number of years ago: Outright killing by rangers. Carcasses were cleaned on the spot and the meat given to charitable institutions.

According to some authorities, this method tended to increase the hunter kill outside the park in Montana. Many hunters figured that if the elk were to be killed they might as well do the killing. In the winter of 1942-43 nearly 700 head were shot in the park by rangers and almost 6,000 were killed by hunters north of the park in Montana where the kill runs sometimes as low as 425.

Model Industry Assn. Chooses Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UP—The National Model Industry Association had such a good convention in Grand Rapids during the last week that it's coming back again next year.

Association directors chose Grand Rapids as site for the 1956 meeting which will be held Feb. 22-26 and then named Chicago as site for the 1957 convention which will be held Feb. 1-7.

The directors had high praise for Grand Rapids' convention facilities and said it was the "most successful trade show we've ever had."

New Irving Berlin Song Was Written in Airliner

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—How's that again, Sam? You want to write a song hit? O.K. I just happen to have the secret.

Get on a plane in Miami. (It happened to be a National Airlines plane, but any plane will do). Think of a subject. (Always have a subject. Practically every song has one.)

You need a piano and the plane doesn't happen to have one aboard? That is an oversight. Oh, well, just hum the tune.

BERLIN

Three or four hours is plenty of time When you get to N.Y., phone Milton Blackstone, Eddie Fisher's manager, and get him to ask Eddie to sing the song in London at the Palladium, when he opens there. That all there is to it. Sure is simple, isn't it?

Oh yeah: One more thing. Make sure your name is Irving Berlin. I forgot that. (Berlin actually wrote his latest one — "I Can Make You Laugh, I Wish I Could Make You Cry"—just that way . . . and you'll be hearing it.)

Charge Negligence in Highway Death

LANSING (UP)—A blind lawmaker has accused the State Highway Department of "negligence" in the death of a blind student and his dog near the Leader Dog School in Rochester two weeks ago.

Rep. Robert Mahoney (D-Detroit) said officials of the school requested that a stop light be installed on the corner of Avon and Rochester roads because "terrific speed" of motorists "represented a danger to the students in training with their dogs at the school."

The school's director also requested signs be erected warning motorists of the school ahead, Mahoney said.

Mahoney quoted the director as saying "somebody would probably have to be killed before anything would be done."

"Two weeks ago a blind student and his dog were killed at this highway," Mahoney said. "Part of the blame for this tragedy can be attributed to the negligence of the State Highway Department for not erecting lights and signs."

In a letter to Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler Mahoney said:

"It seems to me, when your department erects signs warning motorists of cattle and deer crossings . . . you could be at least that considerate of the situation at the Leader Dog School.

In 1954, the infant mortality rate in the United States reached a new low of 26.7 per 1,000 live births.

Phoneless Life Terrifies Town

Isolated Laurel, Indiana, Can't Ring for Help in Times of Need

LAUREL, Ind. (NEA)—This is khat life in Laurel — the largest area in the United States on population basis without telephone service—can be like:

Mrs. Lutisha Dixon is a widow at 17. She had been married only seven months when her husband was killed in an auto acident.

"It took four hours to get word to relatives," she says. "The hospital notified state Police and they had to carry word to relatives by car."

For four hours, Mrs. Dixon was alone in tragedy.

Mrs. Edwin Chance's married daughter, Louise Frank, was visiting with her. Louise was ill and arose one night, then fell unconcious to the floor, gashing her chin badly.

There was no way, you see, to telephone for medical help.

That's because this town of 800 has had only one working phone for the past 14 months — and that one a private line in the New York Central Railroad freight office.

The village's phone system, at best a limping affair, bogged down completely in September 1953.

The batteries went dead and the plugs were pulled in the telephone exchange building's switchboard. They have never been put back — while phones hanging on the walls of scores of homes catch only dust, never the sound of human voices.

The system, known as the Hall-Laurel Telephone Company, never was a substantial money-maker since it was founded in 1903.

When it finally folded, its principal owner, Chauncey Duncan, an attorney, could offer no hope for restoration of service.

But without it, Laurel residents are fearful. Medical emergencies or fires are hard to cope with unless a phone is handy.

The women worry even more — most husbands drive the car to work at Connersville, leaving their families without transportation or communication.

The railroad phone now can be used for emergency purposes — but residents don't feel it is enough. Nor does telephone service at Alpine, three miles away, or Andersonville and Metamora, each five miles away, comfort them.

Relief may be coming to this little Indiana town, however. Two young Mooreland telephone construction men have announced intentions of going into the operation end of the business — in Laurel.

Paul L. Turner and Lilburn A. Park have already started installing a new system.

"We mean business," says Turner. "We are going to give Laurel a phone system. It will take time, but it will come."

Mrs. Chance was their first subscriber.

"It's bad, very bad," says Arthur Jones, president of the Town Board "But," he says, "we've een lucky so far. Nothing real serious has happened."

Mamie Claims She Won't Wed Ray Anthony

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marriage for Mamie? She says no.

When band leader Ray Anthony dashed off to Mexico for a divorce, folks naturally thought he'd return to claim Mamie Van Doren as his bride. They've been chums for some time. When I saw her in the U-I commissary, she was wearing, among other things, a jeweled pin in the form of a trumpet, which Anthony plays.

* * *

"When are you going to do it?" I asked.

"Do what?"

"Get married, of course."

"Oh, I doubt if Ray and I will ever marry. He's a lot of fun to be around, but I don't think we'll ever get serious enough for marriage."

Besides, there's her career. It's beginning to gain some steam. The blonde charmer recently finished "Ain't Misbehaving" and soon starts "The Second Greatest Sex" (don't ask me which it is). And she has a disc contract with Decca —she was once a band singer.

* * *

* * *

It's delightful to have Sir Cedric Hardwicke among us again. He's here for "The Vagabond King" and will stay over for "The 10 Commandments." Despite the seeming dignity of his title, he's a pixy. The assistant director bawled for him to report to the set, and I asked if he allowed such behavior.

"I guess I'm getting old," he sighed. "In the old days, I would have ordered the British navy to sail up the Los Angeles River and protect me. It's time we reclaimed these colonies."

Displaced Fuse Resists Attempt to Put It Back

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (AP)—Farmer Leland Baker backed his car into a power pole and knocked a transformer fuse out of position. Then he climbed the pole, grabbed the fuse handle and slammed it back. He, too, was slammed—by 7,200 volts. He was knocked from the pole into a soft pile of sand, escaping with a bad burn.

Power company linemen said it was the kind of fuse they touched "only with an eight foot pole, an insulated one used to shut such fuses."

Coffee Saves 8 Lives

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Coffee is important in the Navy. Chief Armand H. Kirouac, chief boatswain's mate says it saved his life at Pearl Harbor. He went into the galley early to pour some coffee and seven others followed. All men in the crew lounge they left were killed by a Japanese torpedo which struck the old cruiser Helena. Koruac likes his coffee, especially on December 7.

About two-thirds of all American households own at least one car.

Answering Letters in Lansing Requires Plenty of Patience, Humor and Topsoil

LANSING (UP) — Answering the state capitol's mail takes plenty of patience, a sense of humor and time to go digging in the garden.

"Dear sir: I would like to have all the free information you can give me. Yours truly."

The economic development department got this from a young lady:

"Dear sir: Please send me the name of a millionaire." The note added any millionaire would do, but preferably one who lived nearby.

Department officials talked the thing over and decided it wouldn't be good policy to send out lists of millionaires. They suggested a check with the local bank.

Joe Wells, Agriculture Department official, says he dug up half his garden last summer keeping up with his correspondence.

"We had a seige of soil maps," Wells said. "The kids wanted to have a sample of soil from every state. We got requests from all over for "half a cupful" or "a few teaspoons full."

Mindful of public relations, state officials try to answer all the letters. Most of the requests for information from school children can be handled with form letters and pamphlets, but thousands are answered individually.

One irate lady wrote to protest the location of the Soo Locks. Seems she and her husband drove from Chicago to the Straits of Mackinac, only to find they had to take a ferry and drive 50 miles more to see the locks.

Why, the woman wanted to know, couldn't such an interesting sight have been built closer to Detroit and Chicago?

One man had a bright idea for getting rid of sea lampreys, a form of eel that preys on fish. Why not tow a big rubber fish around the Great Lakes? The fish, soaked with poison, would be attacked by the unsuspecting lampreys.

"How would you like it if some deer came along and shot your wife and kids?" asked an 11-year-old.

One man suggested that department officials take a ship out to the middle of the Pacific, jump off and "with your dying breaths think of the helpless fawns you murdered."

Then there are the jokers—almost inevitable.

An Indian wrote the Conservation Department. "Dear unknown friend: I am entitled to four acres of Sault Ste. Marie . . ."

A letter like this one is a toughie to answer: "Dear sir: Would you please tell me why there aren't very many buffalo left? And would you tell me why there aren't any passenger pigeons left? And the birds that are scarce tell me why they are scarce."

Fish Catch On as Office Pets for Chicagoans

CHICAGO (UP) — A Chicago plant superintendent took two goldfish to his office a couple of years ago, and now there are fish all over the place.

The superintendent of the Bee Bindery Co., Mort Morita, an ardent aquarist, took the two goldfish to the office to see how his co-workers would react to the idea.

Everyone responded the way Morita hoped. At last count Morita and his fellow-workers were looking after four large aquariums filled with tropical plants, snails and a variety of exotic fish.

A special maternity tank and a hospital for sick fish were added. The company acquired a library on the care, feeding and diseases of fish as well as the planting and maintenance of an aquarium.

An enormous calendar on one wall of the office records the births and expected births, and daily bulletins are issued on whether a prospective mother fish has given birth to a new brood.

'Light' Dynamite Charge Can Do Heavy Damage

LANCASTER, Pa. (UP)—Workmen laying a gas pipeline into a clothing store said they used "only a light charge" of dynamite to clear away some rocks in the path of a line they were building. The blast left 400 homes without water and 150,000 gallons spread over the landscape while 35 workmen took 40 hours to repair a fractured water main.

Experts explained that the "light charge" must have hit the rock strata on which the water main rested.

Increase in Elk Worries U. S.

28,000 Animals in Two Wyoming Parks Create Population Problem

WASHINGTON — Twenty-eight thousand elk in northwestern Wyoming are giving the Federal Government one of its sharpest wildlife management headaches.

Elk are breeding too fast in the Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks area, creating an overpopulation problem more acute than anywhere else in the national parks. Oversized herds spell undernourished animals, depletion of vegetation, particularly aspen and fir trees, and even more serious, land erosion through overgrazing.

The government has tried shooting the elk, only to run into a return volley of criticism. It has tried a helicopter to frighten the elk out of Yellowstone Park into Montana where they were mowed down by waiting hunters. But an expenditure of $1,000 shooed out only 100 exhausted animals. The government opened Grand Teton National Park to deputized hunters, but in a month and a half during the recent September-October season only 12 elk had been killed.

Now national, Wyoming, and Montana authorities are wrestling with this problem to which there seems no easy answer as yet, says the National Geographic Society.

The Nation's two largest elk herds summer in the high country of Yellowstone Park. One, the north Yellowstone herd of approximately 12,000 head, hoofs northward in the fall and winter when a heavy canopy of snow restricts foraging in the semi-wooded uplands.

Winter drives the other, called the southern or Jackson Hole herd and numbering about 16,000 head, southward into Jackson Hole, a hospitable valley lying east of the Teton Mountains.

Many of the north Yellowstone elk remain in the park where hunting is forbidden, even in the worst winter weather. Park rangers have live-trapped some and removed them from Federal lands. But there have been few bids for live elk in recent years since the West is already overstocked.

Not all park officials are enthusiastic about using helicopters as "sheep dogs." For one thing, elk are extraordinarily obstinate creatures that refuse to be driven downhill from the Yellowstone heights. They persist in veering uphill. For another, it was distasteful to drive the animals into the muzzles of ambushed guns.

Some officials think the most practical method of reducing the herd is one tried in Yellowstone experimentally a number of years ago: Outright killing by rangers. Carcasses were cleaned on the spot and the meat given to charitable institutions.

According to some authorities, this method tended to increase the hunter kill outside the park in Montana. Many hunters figured that if the elk were to be killed they might as well do the killing. In the winter of 1942-43 nearly 700 head were shot in the park by rangers and almost 6,000 were killed by hunters north of the park in Montana where the kill runs sometimes as low as 425.

Model Industry Assn. Chooses Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The National Model Industry Association had such a good convention in Grand Rapids during the last week that it's coming back again next year.

Association directors chose Grand Rapids as site for the 1956 meeting, which will be held Feb. 22-26, and then named Chicago as site for the 1957 convention which will be held Feb. 1-7.

The directors had high praise for Grand Rapids' convention facilities and said it was the "most successful trade show we've ever had."

New Irving Berlin Song Was Written in Airliner

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—How's that again, Sam? You want to write a song hit? O.K. I just happen to have the secret.

Get on a plane in Miami. (It happened to be a National Airlines plane, but any plane will do). Think of a subject. (Always have a subject. Practically every song has one.)

You need a piano and the plane doesn't happen to have one aboard? That is an oversight. Oh, well, just hum the tune.

BERLIN

Three or four hours is plenty of time When you get to N.Y., phone Milton Blackstone, Eddie Fisher's manager, and get him to ask Eddie to sing the song in London at the Palladium, when he opens there. That all there is to it. Sure is simple, isn't it?

Oh yeah: One more thing. Make sure your name is Irving Berlin. I forgot that. (Berlin actually wrote his latest one — "I Can Make You Laugh, I Wish I Could Make You Cry"—just that way . . . and you'll be hearing it.)

Charge Negligence in Highway Death

LANSING (UP)—A blind lawmaker has accused the State Highway Department of "negligence" in the death of a blind student and his dog near the Leader Dog School in Rochester two weeks ago.

Rep. Robert Mahoney (D-Detroit) said officials of the school requested that a stop light be installed on the corner of Avon and Rochester roads because "terrific speed" of motorists "represented a danger to the students in training with their dogs at the school."

The school's director also requested signs be erected warning motorists of the school ahead, Mahoney said.

Mahoney quoted the director as saying "somebody would probably have to be killed before anything would be done."

"Two weeks ago a blind student and his dog were killed at this highway," Mahoney said. "Part of the blame for this tragedy can be attributed to the negligence of the State Highway Department for not erecting lights and signs."

In a letter to Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler Mahoney said:

"It seems to me, when your department erects signs warning motorists of cattle and deer crossings . . . you could be at least that considerate of the situation at the Leader Dog School.

In 1954, the infant mortality rate in the United States reached a new low of 26.7 per 1,000 live births.

But I wouldn't count the Anthony alliance out. She celebrated her 22nd birthday recently and he showered her with presents, including gold earrings from Mexico, an alarm radio and a remote control for her TV set . . .

It's delightful to have Sir Cedric Hardwicke among us again. He's here for "The Vagabond King" and will stay over for "The 10 Commandments." Despite the seeming dignity of his title, he's a pixy. The assistant director bawled for him to report to the set, and I asked if he allowed such behavior.

"I guess I'm getting old," he sighed. "In the old days, I would have ordered the British navy to sail up the Los Angeles River and protect me. It's time we reclaimed these colonies."

Displaced Fuse Resists Attempt to Put It Back

BRIDGEPORT, Neb. (AP)—Farmer Leland Baker backed his car into a power pole and knocked a transformer fuse out of position. Then he climbed the pole, grabbed the fuse handle and slammed it back. He, too, was slammed—by 7,200 volts. He was knocked from the pole into a soft pile of sand, escaping with a bad burn.

Power company linemen said it was the kind of fuse they touched "only with an eight foot pole, an insulated one used to shut such fuses."

Coffee Saves 8 Lives

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Coffee is important in the Navy. Chief Armand H. Kirouac, chief boatswain's mate says it saved his life at Pearl Harbor. He went into the galley early to pour some coffee and seven others followed. All men in the crew lounge they left were killed by a Japanese torpedo which struck the old cruiser Helena. Koruac likes his coffee, especially on December 7.

About two-thirds of all American households own at least one car.

Answering Letters in Lansing Requires Plenty of Patience, Humor and Topsoil

LANSING (UP) — Answering the state capitol's mail takes plenty of patience, a sense of humor and time to go digging in the garden.

You need patience most of all. Much of the mail comes from school children, working on class projects. They can be incomprehensible, funny and vague.

"Dear sir: I would like to have all the free information you can give me. Yours truly."

The economic development department got this from a young lady:

"Dear sir: Please send me the name of a millionaire." The note added any millionaire would do, but preferably one who lived nearby.

Department officials talked the thing over and decided it wouldn't be good policy to send out lists of millionaires. They suggested a check with the local bank.

"We had a seige of soil maps," Wells said. "The kids wanted to have a sample of soil from every state. We got requests from all over for "half a cupful" or "a few teaspoons full."

Mindful of public relations, state officials try to answer all the letters. Most of the requests for information from school children can be handled with form letters and pamphlets, but thousands are answered individually.

One irate lady wrote to protest the location of the Soo Locks. Seems she and her husband drove from Chicago to the Straits of Mackinac, only to find they had to take a ferry and drive 50 miles more to see the locks.

Why, the woman wanted to know, couldn't such an interesting sight have been built closer to Detroit and Chicago?

The Conservation Department gets more than its share of suggestions and queries.

One man had a bright idea for getting rid of sea lampreys, a form of eel that preys on fish. Why not tow a big rubber fish around the Great Lakes? The fish, soaked with poison, would be attacked by the unsuspecting lampreys.

Many of the Conservation Department's correspondents take a dim view of a special one-day deer season, when hunters can kill does and fawns.

"How would you like it if some deer came along and shot your wife and kids?" asked an 11-year-old.

One man suggested that department officials take a ship out to the middle of the Pacific, jump off and "with your dying breaths think of the helpless fawns you murdered."

Then there are the jokers—almost inevitable.

One of them wrote a letter on the deer problem. He started in black ink, gradually switched to red. His name (he said): Mr. Redder.

An Indian wrote the Conservation Department. "Dear unknown friend: I am entitled to four acres of Sault Ste. Marie . . ."

A letter like this one is a toughie to answer: "Dear sir: Would you please tell me why there aren't very many buffalo left? And would you tell me why there aren't any passenger pigeons left? And the birds that are scarce tell me why they are scarce."

Fish Catch On as Office Pets for Chicagoans

CHICAGO (UP) — A Chicago plant superintendent took two goldfish to his office a couple of years ago, and now there are fish all over the place.

The superintendent of the Bee Bindery Co., Mort Morita, an ardent aquarist, took the two goldfish to the office to see how his co-workers would react to the idea.

Everyone responded the way Morita hoped. At last count Morita and his fellow-workers were looking after four large aquariums filled with tropical plants, snails and a variety of exotic fish.

A special maternity tank and a hospital for sick fish were added. The company acquired a library on the care, feeding and diseases of fish as well as the planting and maintenance of an aquarium.

An enormous calendar on one wall of the office records the births and expected births, and daily bulletins are issued on whether a prospective mother fish has given birth to a new brood.

'Light' Dynamite Charge Can Do Heavy Damage

LANCASTER, Pa. (UP)—Workmen laying a gas pipeline into a clothing store said they used "only a light charge" of dynamite to clear away some rocks in the path of a line they were building. The blast left 400 homes without water and 150,000 gallons spread over the landscape while 35 workmen took 40 hours to repair a fractured water main.

Experts explained that the "light charge" must have hit the rock strata on which the water main rested.

Market Drops After High Start

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was slightly lower in early trading today.

Trading began quickly with prices generally higher at the opening. The ticker tape began to run late with the market still higher. Afterward, as the pace slowed considerably, small losses overshadowed the gains.

The Bank of England raised its bank discount rate for the second time within a month, this time a full percentage point from 3½ to 4½ per cent. The action caused a moderate shakeout in the London stock market.

Among the losers were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, American Telephone, Radio Corp., Boeing, Kennecott Copper, Baltimore & Ohio and Eastern Air Lines.

Higher were Curtiss - Wright, National Distillers, Admiral, Loew's and Consolidated Natural Gas.

Grains Nervous After Sharp Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains jumped about in a nervous manner on the Board of Trade today, showing some ability to hold after the sharp decline of the two previous sessions but still not being able to work to a full-scale rally.

Most cereals were higher at the opening. Best gains were shown in soybeans and wheat. Oats lagged. After the first few minutes of trading, however, buying dried up and soybeans fell back under the previous close. Wheat, corn and rye held on to a part of their gains.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent higher, March $2.18⅛; corn ⅜ to 1½ higher, March $1.46⅜; oats ⅛ to ½ lower, March 75⅛; rye ½ to 1½ higher, March $1.09; soybeans unchanged to 1 cent lower, March $2.69; and lard 2 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $12.45.

Spring to Test Business Boom

Industry Wonders How Much of Gains Due to Early Auto Spurt

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial leaders look to spring to test this winter's little business boom.

What they aren't entirely sure about is: How much of the gains are due to the auto industry's early timing of production? And how much of the spurt in auto output and sales is actually "borrowing from the future?"

The production race started two or three months early this time. Sales executives say that customers are buying early, too, and that the fast production pace is being justified.

The only question appears to be: Will the public's appetite for the new cars be satisfied early this time also?

Businessmen note no sign yet of any letup in these factors. Spring? In fact, should bring increased consumer spending in many lines in addition to automobiles.

Output of Electric Power Dips Slightly Last Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Electric power production declined slightly last week but remained 15.9 per cent ahead of a year ago, Edison Electric Institute said today.

At 9,912,000,000 kilowatt hours in the week ended Feb. 19, output compared with 9,922,000,000 kilowatt hours the previous week.

All sections showed gains over the year ago week as follows: New England 9.2 per cent; Mid-Atlantic 9.8; Central Industrial 15.9; West Central 9.9; Southeast 28.9; South Central 8.6; Rocky Mountain 16.4; Pacific Northwest 8.9; and Pacific Southwest 11.9.

Legion Meets March 26

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The state American Legion has set March 26-27 as dates for its spring conference here. About 125 Legionnaires from throughout the state are expected to attend the two-day conference.

Promotions Revealed at Fisher Body Here

Appointment of C. E. Nordquest as shift superintendent of the assembly plant at Fisher Body-Pontiac was announced today by M. J. Olson, plant manager.

Nordquest has been with Fisher Body Division since 1947 and prior to his transfer to Fisher-Pontiac in 1952 he held supervisory positions at the Fisher plant in Hamilton, Ohio and in Fisher general offices in Detroit.

Plant Manager Olson also announced the appointment of J. S. Harvey as shift superintendent of the fabricating plant here.

Harvey has been with Fisher-Pontiac since 1934 and has served in various supervisory assignments in the fabricating plant.

New Delco-Remy Plant to Be Built in Kansas

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors said today its Delco-Remy Division plans construction of a plant at Olathe, Kan., to produce automotive storage batteries.

A 75-acre tract in the southwest area of Olathe has been acquired. Construction is expected to get under way during May. The plant will be completed in the spring of 1956. As now planned it will provide employment for approximately 300 workers.

County Deaths

Guy Sutherland

OXFORD — Service for Guy Sutherland, 52, of 653 South Lapeer Rd., will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at Holy Cross Lutheran Church, with burial by the Flumerfelt Funeral Home in Ridgelawn Cemetery. He died today.

Surviving besides his widow, Edna, are two brothers, Meurl and Clark, both of Pontiac, and a sister, Mrs. Mare Olson, also of Pontiac.

The average worker in the United States loses seven-and-a-half work days a year because of temporary illness, reports a Twentieth Century Fund study.

Wolfson Talking Fight Strategy

Meets With Ward Co. Stockholders in Florida to Discuss Control Plan

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (INS) — Financier Louis E. Wolfson, who is fighting to gain control of Montgomery Ward and Co., will meet with Florida stockholders of the mail order house today to discuss details of his campaign.

The Jacksonville conference is the first of several scheduled throughout the country. Officials of a stockholder group sympathetic to Wolfson's efforts announced that another meeting is set for Los Angeles, March 2, and a third is listed for San Francisco, March 4.

Sessions are scheduled tentatively for Chicago, March 9, and for Detroit, March 11.

Meanwhile in Springfield, Ill., attorneys for Sewell Avery, head of Montgomery Ward, have filed an appeal with the state supreme court seeking a review of a Chicago judge's ruling that section 35 of the Illinois Business Corporation Act is unconstitutional.

This section permits the classification of directors and their election to staggered terms—considered a barrier to Wolfson's chances to take over Montgomery Ward.

Virtue Rewarded

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A prospective juror escaped service because he told the judge he wanted to sit with his sick mother-in-law.

"When a man wants to do something for his mother-in-law," commented Judge Otis T. Dunagan, "I will not keep him tied up here on jury service."

From its mouths on the Altantic to the farthest source of its myriad tributary streams, the mystic maze of the Amazon River leads 3900 winding miles westward across Brazil and southward through Peru.

All the Gabors Gang Up Sunday

'Grownup' Approach for Peter Pan; 8 Years for Lying Announcer

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Le Bowman gave a fine performance on Montgomerycast.

Shirley Booth has okayed "Producers Showcase" if a satisfactory vehicle can be supplied. Big pay.

"Lineup" has grown into what "Dragnet" should have—exciting realism without gimmicky mood or mannerisms.

On Sunday's Comedy Hour—Zsa Zsa, Eva, Magda and Mama will sail aboard the S.S. United States onto NBC-TV.

Honesty may be the best policy and all that but Milton Berle and Red Skelton celebrated George's birthday by filching the same old joke about Washington flinging a buck across the Delaware—"A dollar went further in those days."

The Rodgers and Hammerstein original score of "Connecticut Yankee"—a dandy—will be used in the Max Liebman "Spec" March 12 with Eddie Albert, Janet Blair and Gale Sherwood; could be an event.

NBC is stressing a "new gay, grownup approach" to "Peter Pan" in its March 7 Producers Showcasing.

The International Boxing Club monopoly may be down to one fight night a week next TV season.

Red Barber's off tonight for St. Pete and another Yankee radio-TV season. He'll fly back each Wednesday for his CBS-TV post-fight chattercast.

"Janet Dean, R.N." (Ella Raines) is nursing its cancellation.

A broadcasting pitchman in St. Louis got eight years in the federal pokey and fines of $1,600 for airing promises without fulfillment. Go east, you investigators, and knock off some of our irritations here. Please.

NEW FIND — Gia Scala, Hollywood's new Italian find, reportedly looks and talks like Ingrid Bergman. But she asks, "How could I be Ingrid if I'm Gia?" She says in Italy "girls who have respect for their families do not go into films."

Tells Details of New Detroit Bus Depot

DETROIT (AP) — Great Lakes Greyhound Lines has released details of the four-million-dollar terminal it will build in Detroit's riverfront civic center area.

The long, low terminal will be located across from the new city-county building.

"This ideal site meets all three prerequisites for our type of operation," said R. W. Budd, company president, yesterday at a luncheon for civic leaders. "It is handy to the main shopping center, it is convenient to excellent routes leading in and out of Detroit and it will not create congestion for ourselves or city traffic."

Budd said the depot will have parking decks to accommodate either 700 or 1,000 cars.

Greyhound will be the first private firm to locate near the civic center.

Nab Pickle Jar Thief

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The weight of the crime seemed all against an 18-year-old youth caught walking down the street at midnight. He was carrying a pickle jar containing $10.75 in pennies that the Chat & Chew Restaurant had reported stolen.

U.S. 131 Boosters Choose Leaders

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — U.S. 131 Highway Association, a group formed to promote development of U.S. 131 from the Indiana line to Petoskey, elected John English, Cadillac Chamber of Commerce official, as chairman last night. Robert Brown, Kalamazoo chamber official, was appointed vice chairman.

"We are not interested in making U.S. 131 a super-highway," Bock said.

The association will work in harmony with the Indianapolis chamber in the hope of getting a superior highway through Indiana southward, Bock added.

Suggests Gag on Lawmakers in 2nd Sessions

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Harry F. Hittle (R-East Lansing) suggested today that Michigan's lawmakers gag themselves a bit in their second annual sessions.

Since the voters amended the Constitution to allow the Legislature to meet every year, repeated efforts have been made to shorten the life of the added sessions which fall in the even-numbered years.

Hittle proposed the House and Senate agree to limit the second annual sessions to appropriation and tax bills and "emergency" measures cleared by a House and Senate rules committee.

If the committees turned thumbs down on a legislator's bill it could not be considered, Hittle said.

Lackland Quits Lackland

SAN ANTONIA, Tex. (AP)—Thomas G. Lackland, 68, has retired as chief of police at Lackland Air Force Base. The giant base, training center for all Air Force recruits, was named for his brother, Brig. Gen. Frank Lackland.

Asks More Aid for Highway 2 Beginning in Soo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Knox (R-Mich) wants to include the 2,178-mile U. S. Highway 2 between Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and Everett, Wash., in the national system of interstate highways.

This would make the highway eligible for more federal aid under President Eisenhower's highway construction program, Knox said in a statement yesterday.

"This is a strategic route important not only to the economy of the area it serves but to the national defense," he said. "It is the most northerly east-west highway in our nation and in the event of attack on the United States would be a vital route for the movement of troops an dsupplies."

Knox said Legislatures of Washington, North Dakota, Montana and Utah already have asked federal officials to add U. S. 2 to the national system.

He said he has urged the Michigan Legislature to take similar action.

About 2½ tons of diamonds are mined annually, about 90 per cent of which are sent to the United States.

Handcuffed Wife Revolts

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A woman complained in justice court her jealous husband made her wear handcuffs every night. Sometimes she said, she was chained to him by the handcuffs. Sometimes, he put both of the handcuffs on her wrists.

She wanted a divorce.

Goodwill Industries Inc. Builds Buffalo Workshop

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—Goodwill Industries Inc. will have one of the most modern sheltered workshops for handicapped employes in the country when a $350,000 addition to its present quarters is completed.

The managing director, Glenn W. Leighbody, said the Buffalo plant will have a "meditation room," an air-conditioned, soundproof place on the second floor where the handicapped workers can go when they wish to think out a problem or just sit and meditate.

The four-story structure, which will provide room for a boost in the employment of handicapped persons from the present 250 to about 350, is specially designed to meet the requirements of the handicapped.

Pulp Edges Out Textiles as Chief Maine Industry

AUGUST, Me. (UP)—Pulp and paper manufacturing has taken over as Maine's largest industry after half a century of leadership by textiles.

Official figures show that pulp and paper products in the state last year were valued at $285,000,000 compared to $256,000,000 for textiles.

In 1952, textile goods produced in Maine were worth $273,000,000 while the paper-pulp mills turned out $248,000,000 in products.

A long-range expansion program by the paper industry and the steady transfer of the textile industry to the South were credited by business analysts as the causes of the change.

Wants Tough Treatment

WEST HAVEN, Conn. (UP)—Robert E. Lee, 18, stopped after a 20-mile high-speed ride on his motorcycle, told the arresting state policeman, George Cirishiola: "Be tough as you can on me, because I realize it is a serious charge.
