Accepts Asylum

Galvao Gives Up the Ship

Faces Charges From Owners and Passengers

Rebels Are Disarmed and Brazilian Marines in Command

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—Rebel leader Henrique Galvao conceded defeat today for his seaborne revolution aboard the Santa Maria and accepted asylum from the Brazilian government.

The decision was reached in negotiations with Brazilian authorities aboard the liner in Recife Harbor.

Brazilian marines were in command of the ship and Galvao's thin band of rebels was disarmed.

At the same time, Galvao faced legal action in a Brazilian court from the hijacked ship's owners, who want him charged with homicide, robbery and depriving passengers and crew of their liberty.

The government ordered the multimillion-dollar liner turned over to the Brazilian navy. A representative of the owners said he expected to get the ship back Saturday.

YIELDS TO INEVITABLE

Galvao capitulated to the inevitable in a conference with Adm. Dias Fernandes, chief of Brazil's 3rd Naval District, and other Brazilian officials.

The 610-foot liner's regular skipper, Mario Simoes Maia, disclosed there had been efforts to sabotage Galvao's voyage even though the regular ship's officers were under gunpoint at all times.

He said faucets were left open in an effort to deplete the fresh water supply, in an effort to force a landing. He indicated that Galvao's inexperienced navigator had been led astray at times.

Capt. Simoes Maia declared some of the Galvao band who seized the ship Jan. 22 had come from the Soviet Union and had been trained in Russian brigades. He said these rebels had been in Cuba recently.

"This was an authentic case of piracy," he asserted.

The last act of the high seas drama was expected in a con

Expect 3 Inches of Snow to Fall

The heaviest snowfall of the year was moving in on Pontiac and lower Michigan today, threatening to snarl afternoon and evening traffic with up to three inches of snow.

More than one inch had blanketed the area by 10 a.m., sending city and county road graders scurrying to keep highways open.

Respite from the storm at midday was followed by predictions that another two inches would fall before the day is out.

State police reported the forenoon traffic had slowed on all major highways, held to a creeping pace in some places.

The Weather Bureau warned of drift hazards as a result of predicted winds of up to 35 miles an hour.

Warming temperatures accompanied the snowfall, with a high of 20 predicted today. The mercury was expected to dip to 6 tonight, followed by a cloudy, cold Saturday, with a high of 16.

The heavy storm, moving up from Kentucky, struck about 7 a.m., the first big snowfall since two inches hit the area Jan. 3. There were steady flurries most of last night.

SALT TRUCKS OUT

Oakland County had 48 salt trucks on the highways before 8 a.m., 20 of them operating in the Pontiac area. Pontiac salt crews were followed by snow plows at 10:30 a.m. County plows attacked the highways about then, too.

Some schools were closed in the southernmost portions of the state when snow became too deep for buses to operate safely. Southern counties reported poor and sometimes dangerous highway conditions.

Oakland County school buses had delivered children to school this morning by the time the snow began to accumulate on side roads and highways.

Morning winds northeasterly at 8 miles per hour will become northeasterly to north at 15 to 35 miles late this afternoon and tonight.

Wind-Whipped Storms Bury East, Midwest

From Our News Wires

Two huge snowstorms, powered by howling winds that piled drifts up to 10 feet deep, battered the winter-weary Midwest and East today.

An uneven blanket that ranged up to a foot in depth trapped hundreds of automobiles and made thousands late for work. Many gave up the struggle to get there at all.

The new onslaught of winter piled deep snows on Chicago and St. Louis, tangled traffic and closed schools from the Missouri River to the Carolinas and raised heavy snow warnings along the Eastern Seaboard.

The twin storms, one shoving eastward across the lower Great Lakes region and the other exploding northward out of a Dixie ice storm, took a mounting toll of deaths.

★ ★ ★

A special weather bulletin warned that accumulations of up to a foot were expected in sections of Virginia, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey.

They Plotted and Fought —Yes, Even Fell in Love

By SAUL PETT

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—Some wept, some laughed, some shook with fear and tension. Some plotted, some fought, and some fell in love.

Of the near 600 passengers trapped aboard the Santa Maria for 12 harrowing days, those in the first and second class suffered nothing more serious than bad cases of the jitters before they were landed Thursday at this port on the Brazilian bulge.

Portuguese and Spaniards in third class, who complained they had been mistreated, were without water and had been given little food. Some said they feared for their lives.

Mrs. John Dietz of Gainesville, Fla., one of the first Americans to step ashore, summed up the feelings of the others as she exclaimed, "This is wonderful, you have no idea."

For Mr. and Mrs. David Crocket of Pompano, Fla., the end of the unscheduled, 2,800-mile odyssey came with a tinge of sentimental sadness. They had played cupid to a young Dutchman and a Spanish senorita who had met during the cruise, fell in love and plan to marry.

'STAY IN LOVE'

"Be happy, dears, stay in love," said Mrs. Crocket, her eyes moist, as she parted from William Vandarmeer of Amsterdam and pretty, brunette Laura Menendes of Oviedo, Spain.

Tensions rose to such a pitch during the final days at sea that two American men—not identified — swapped fisticuffs over something trivial.

What did most do to while away the trying hours?

Mrs. Floyd Preston, traveling with her husband, a University of Kansas professor, and their four children, said: "I sat and worried, talked and watched the children."

Her 14-year-old son, Harold asked if he enjoyed the trip, beamed—"sure."

Caroline Boyce, 60, a widow from Baltimore traveling alone, said the armed rebels stalking the decks made everyone aware the ship was being held by force.

Weather Can't Stop Nighttime Shoppers

Frigid weather failed to cast a chill last night over the inauguration of Thursday evening shopping hours in several major downtown retail stores.

After closing time at 9 p.m., merchants had optimistic reports of sales, despite the near zero temperatures.

Some said the shopper turnout was better than they would have expected even with good weather. Retailers indicated they would continue Thursday night hours, expecting trade to build up during the coming weeks.

Most downtown stores are open until 9 p.m. Mondays and Fridays as well.

Ex-Officials Sentenced

DETROIT (AP) — Harold L. Rippe, former Taylor Township supervisor, and Marvin Harkleln, who was his police chief, were serving 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction today for fraudulently registering voters in 1955. They were sentenced Thursday by circuit court Judge Edward S. Piggins.

Skipper Felt Hijack Was Bad Dream

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI) — Capt. Mario Simoes Maia was startled when a seaman rushed into his quarters, awoke him and said a crewman had been murdered by armed passengers who had taken over his ship.

Maia rubbed his eyes in disbelief and thought at first that he was having a bad dream.

But when he saw men armed with machineguns patrolling the corridors of the ship, he realized he was fully awake.

This was the way the skipper of the Santa Maria described the start of the most fantastic case of high seas hijacking in modern times.

Capt. Maia told a news conference that almost his entire crew decided to die together rather than join the rebels.

Maia said his crew had planned to win back the ship from the hijackers, but "We couldn't fight only with our hands against machineguns and grenades."

The skipper praised the 42 American passengers aboard the cruise ship, who declared they would not debark at Recife unless the entire crew was permitted to leave with them.

Centennial Headquarters to Open in New Library

The room has been reserved for use by the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission until after the official centennial celebration June 17-24.

LEO SPAETH

Headquarters manager will be Leo Spaeth, a representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., the Fostoria, Ohio, firm hired as professional consultants on the centennial program.

Spaeth is to remain in the city until the official celebration ends, coordinating the many phases of the giant undertaking for the centennial commission and its general chairman, Stuart E. Whitfield.

Spaeth has already visited Pontiac several times in recent months, meeting centennial leaders with Wallace D. Lafferty, a Rogers representative who has worked with city and centennial officials since plans began a year ago.

Spaeth, a Cincinnati, Ohio resident, has been with the Rogers Co. 28 years.

Among the bigger centennial observances he has managed for Rogers in recent years were those in Portland, Me. and Kansas City, Mo.

He managed the centennial of the Sault Ste. Marie locks in 1954 and the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase in New Orleans in 1953.

Pontiac Motor to Shut Down

Week Layoff to Enable Division to Align Sales, Production Schedules

Pontiac Motor Division will close down its manufacturing and assembly operations for one week beginning Monday, Feb. 13, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, general manager.

"The shutdown would enable the division to bring its production schedules in line with sales," said Knudsen.

The shutdown would lay off an estimated 12,500 employes at Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Division.

The layoff is typical of current trends in the auto industry. Pontiac Motor is one of the last of the major auto firms to make the move.

Boost Favorites at State Confabs

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

County Democrats convening in Grand Rapids tonight will be tooting their horns for their "favorite," Mrs. Harriett Phillips, while miles away in Detroit Oakland Republicans will be sizing up John A. Gibbs' chances for state chairman.

Whatever the outcome by late Saturday, in the interim the county's two political voices will be heard loud and clear at the biennial spring state conventions forming today in the Furniture and Motor cities.

150 Hurt in Maryland

Train Derails, Killing Six

From Our News Wires

BOWIE, Md.—A train derailment which turned a day at the races into a nightmare of death and suffering in snow-covered countryside is being investigated by Pennsylvania Railroad officials.

One rescuer who pulled victims from the wreck—on the 13th day of the race meet—commented:

"If it had snowed like it was supposed to, the races would've been canceled and this wouldn't have happened."

★ ★ ★

About 300 passengers were on the train, three miles from the race track, when the quietness of the mid-winter afternoon was shattered in a mass of twisted steel, broken glass and uprooted seats.

The double-unit diesel engine tumbled over on its right side. The seven derailed cars bounced along over cross ties or open ground, but did not topple over.

"All we felt was two sharp jerks," said a dining car steward, Eugene B. Webster. "One big sudden jerk, then a small one."

Carl Hartman of the Cottage City, Md., rescue squad, one of dozens of emergency units from neighboring towns that rushed to the scene northeast of Washington, described the scene when he arrived:

"Bodies were hanging from windows and people were either screaming or just moaning to be helped. One man, trapped under a displaced undercarriage of a car kept yelling, 'Oh, my God, help me.'"

Undeterred by the tragedy, many of the survivors trudged three miles to the horse races after helping the injured to safety. Even then, the ninth race was canceled when a small vacant pari-mutuel building caught fire, spreading smoke over part of the track.

★ ★ ★

The engineer, Howard W. Horner, 62, of Camden, N. J., told police the train was traveling at about 30 miles an hour when the brakes failed as he turned off the main line.

Kennedy Wires Mayor Rowston

Promises U.S. Help on Urban Renewal Work to Aid More Jobs

In a new move to ease unemployment, President Kennedy has asked Pontiac to speed its urban renewal programs and promised federal cooperation to "eliminate all delay."

"Our efforts to improve the employment situation can be helped considerably by increased urban renewal activity," Kennedy said in a telegram to Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

"There are many projects now under way, or whose plans have been approved, in many cities that can be speeded up, creating additional jobs immediately."

President Kennedy said he has ordered the Housing & Home Financing Agency "to cooperate with local authorities in beginning construction of projects at the earliest possible time and in maintaining steady efforts to complete them."

In reply, Rowston told the President in a telegram today that the city's two urban renewal projects "are being pushed as expeditiously as possible."

He said that "the city will be glad to work with you to move the projects ahead rapidly and to reduce unemployment."

News Flashes

NEW YORK (AP)—Trainmen of the Long Island Railroad notified the line today that they would not work over the weekend. They claimed equipment is not in proper operating condition.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said today that imprisoned former Premier Patrice Lumumba is "a factor" to be reckoned with in United Nations efforts to find a peaceful solution of the chaotic Congo situation.

Lumumbists Ambush U. N. Patrol

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — More than 1,500 Lumumbist troops ambushed and encircled an isolated United Nations unit in Kivu Province today.

★ ★ ★

Heavy casualties were reported among the rebels and at least one U.N. officer was killed in the day-long gun battle.

The attack followed a brawl late Thursday in which U.N. Nigerian troops killed six Congolese soldiers who had been drinking heavily before opening fire, according to a U.N. spokesman.

Incensed and seeking revenge, the Lumumbists fell upon a Nigerian platoon this morning on a country road.

During heavy fighting the Nigerians managed to withdraw to their barracks, where two further platoons joined in, making their total number about 200.

Kennedy Briefed on Laos; Envoy 'Still Optimistic'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy received a personal briefing today on the crisis in Laos from U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Brown who said he is still optimistic that a peaceful political settlement can be found.

* * *

Kennedy and Brown conferred for 40 minutes. The ambassador was noncommital about his talk with the President.

But when asked if he is still hopeful of a political solution of the cold war troubles in the tiny Asian kingdom, Brown smilingly told reporters: "I'm always optimistic."

Kennedy has pledged administration efforts to make strife-racked Laos an "independent . . . peaceful country." The kingdom has been the scene of fighting and the target of Communist invasion threats in recent months.

* * *

Brown told newsmen that he had had "a very pleasant chat" with Kennedy but declined to go into any details.

He said that he and Assistant Secretary of State J. Graham Parsons would meet with newsmen Saturday at the State Department.

The ambassador said no definite date has yet been set for his return to Laos but he expects to leave here in a few days.

Kennedy's meeting with Brown was the high point of a jam-packed working schedule which listed appointments at a clip of more than one an hour throughout the morning and afternoon.

Loan for MSUO Tentatively OK'd

Part of the $1.1 Million Would Be Used for Four Dormitories

Michigan State University Oakland has received conditional approval for a $1.1-million federal loan for the construction of dormitories on the campus.

* * *

Some $600,000 of the total would be used for four cottage-type dormitories, which could be built in 120 days if approval is given by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees.

The "L" shaped buildings would house 48 students each, with a resident advisor. MSUO officials said they favored the smaller dorm units over large housing units, because it permits more efficient use of the land, and gives students the advantages of small-group living.

Two of the units would be for male students, and two for female. They would be built directly northwest of the student center, near Walton Boulevard. MSUO already has 15 students living in two converted farm houses, and more than 100 students have shown interest in campus residency.

* * *

The units would be financially self-liquidating.

The remaining $500,000 of the federal loan would be used for expansion of dining facilities in the student center.

* * *

Ex-Resident Gets Clinic Post in RO

Dr. Imperi graduated from Pontiac Central High School and the University of Michigan Medical School.

She moved to Detroit from Pontiac in 1942.

"She is the first full-time medical director at a child guidance clinic in Oakland County in many years," said Dr. William Westmass, president of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, who announced her appointment.

Dr. Imperi interned at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She received her psychiatric training at Wayne County General Hospital, Receiving Hospital in Detroit and the McGregor Children's Center in Detroit where she was a staff member before assuming her new position.

She has also been a consultant to the Detroit Juvenile Court and Battle Creek Child Guidance Clinic.

The appointment was made by the board of directors of the Oakland clinic and the State Department of Mental Health.

Kennedy Wants Hannah to Keep Rights Unit Job

ing bodies of both parties, for the next two years.

At their caucus in the Pantlind Hotel Ballroom at 10 p.m. tonight, Oakland Democrats will try to prevent any bickering among themselves — they remember well a year ago — which might disrupt Mrs. Phillips' chances of clinching the vice chairmanship of her state party.

* * *

"I hear some people are going to actively demonstrate against my candidacy," she said.

She led the take-over of the party organization from the hands of a so-called old guard element last year with the help of a labor faction. There are those party members who still bear some resentment.

Mrs. Phillips, a 37-year-old Huntington Woods housewife with eight years State Central Committee experience, is considered almost a shoo-in to win Mrs. Adelaide Hart's old position, mostly on the strength that she has the support of Gov. John B. Swainson.

Mrs. Phillips left home yesterday for Grand Rapids for some preconvention strategy sessions to determine her vote pulling power.

Signs, placards and colorful balloons are ready for when Wayne County's 1st Congressional District yields to Oakland Saturday in the Civic Auditorium and Oakland Chairman James M. Ginn places in nomination the woman who helped him get elected chairman last August.

Through the poster lined corridors of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, delegates of the 149-member Oakland family will be sounding out other delegations buzzing over the hot race for Lawrence B. Lindemer's $21,000-a-year job as GOP state chairman.

Here, the fancy frills of any politician's campaign will be stacked and ready to shout the praises of Gibbs, 28-year-old executive secretary of the local committee, "should the opportunity present itself," according to one of his backers.

Gibbs, not an announced candidate but a possible draft candidate to take up where County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. left off, is considered a "compromise" candidate should the 1,508 state delegation split along liberal and conservative lines in trying to find a replacement for Lindemer among five announced candidates.

Elliott, county chairman since 1957, was rated top contender until he declined to run because of the "press of business." Gibbs is reputed to have been Elliott's right-hand man in developing a smooth-running party organization which captured 24 out of 27 races Nov. 8.

With Gibbs still a borderline candidate, Oakland delegates could move out front in campaigning for three late local entries for nomination.

First in was James C. Zeder, retired Chrysler Corp. vice president and director, seeking nomination to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

* * *

Richard H. McManus, 50, a civil engineer from Orchard Lake also seeks nomination for regent of the University of Michigan.

* * *

Just Wednesday James C. Covert of Waterford Township, superintendent of Royal Oak schools, decided to seek the GOP nomination to the state board of education.

* * *

Thomas B. Adams of Lathrup village, president of Campbell-Ewald Advertising Co. in Detroit, is bidding for nomination to the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

KELLY SHOO-IN

Sure of winning GOP nomination for another eight-year term on the State Supreme Court is former two-term governor and incumbent Justice Harry F. Kelly of Birmingham.

With one incumbent, Mrs. Dorothy Andrews of Clarkston, not seeking re-election to the State Central committee, a lively contest should envelop the Oakland caucus tonight to pick from among seven candidates, including incumbents Mrs. Betty Finegan of Birmingham, Gordon T. Getsinger of Bloomfield Township and James F. Preish of Royal Oak.

Other GOP candidates are Mrs. Robert Eoff and Mrs. Robert Lowry, both of Bloomfield Township, Miss Alice Schoenholtz, of Royal Oak, and former state representative candidate Richard I. Moore of Pontiac.

* * *

Democrats will act on four "recommendations" of a special screening committee for their state committee representatives tonight.

They are: Otis Lawrence, a UAW representative from Pontiac; Mrs. Walter F. Brinkman, a Waterford Township housewife; Mrs. Harold E. Shpiece, a Detroit attorney from Farmington; and William A. O'Brien, unsuccessful candidate for state representative from Clawson.

There were reports circulated that some "protest" nominations would be made from the caucus floor against the action of the nominating committee.

Opponents fear the prepared slate would be tantamount to election, thus usurping the powers of the 142-member Oakland delegation.

* * *

C. Allen Harlan, incumbent member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, is the only "favorite son" candidate for Democratic nomination to state offices. He was endorsed at the county convention in Pontiac two weeks ago.

Suit Adds to Chrysler Legal Tangle

Another court suit in the tangled legal web surrounding Chrysler Corp. and former executives was filed this morning in Oakland County Circuit Court.

* * *

Chrysler, in the suit, asked that Jack W. Minor, ousted marketing director for its Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division, be required to give an accounting between himself and four other firms while he was a Chrysler official.

Chrysler also asked that Minor, 39, of 1536 Dorchester Road, Birmingham, be made to pay Chrysler any profits secured through transactions with the firms.

The suit also asks that Minor and his attorneys be ordered not to prosecute pending the outcome of other court action, a $25,000 suit in which Minor demands return of cash he says he invested in a Chrysler stock-buying program.

ASK ACCOUNTING

Chrysler asks for an accounting of Minor's transactions with four firms with which he was connected —W & M Sales Co., Bel-Aire Process, Inc., Transportation Advertising Co., and Taxi-Ad Co.

The suit alleges that Minor held a 50 per cent interest in W & M Sales and that the firm received more than $80,000 in commissions from the other three companies.

Chrysler charges that Minor receiving such profits was in violation of his duties as a Chrysler executive.

The suit asked that W & M Sales be restrained from distributing Minor's assets and that the National Bank of Detroit be ordered not to distribute bonds and stock Minor claims is his under the stock program.

Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams set a show-cause hearing in the new suit for Feb. 14.

GOP Convention Holds Up Vote for Chairmen

DETROIT (AP) — Former State Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville was chosen temporary chairman of the Resolutions Committee at the Republican State Convention here today and selection of a permanent chairman sidetracked until such time as all 23 members are present.

Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso was nominated for permanent chairman, but an objection was raised that the former congressman might not be fully informed on all issues facing the party over the state.

There were 17 members at the committee's initial session.

Newsmen were barred from the committee session, but it also was learned that it will consider resolutions regarding education, elections, economic growth, highways and the courts.

Castro Purges Cuban Judges

120 Fired in Attempt to Remove Legal Blocks to His Rule

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today fired 120 judges throughout Cuba in the second phase of a sweeping court purge aimed at removing all legal obstacles to his rule.

* * *

One supreme court justice, the presidents of six provincial courts of appeal, 26 appeals magistrates and 87 other judges came under the ax, which fell for the second time in two months.

The government acted under a cabinet decree issued Dec. 20 suspending for 5 days a law preventing dismissal of court officers. In the December purge 13 supreme court justices were ousted.

OBJECTS TO DECISIONS

One of Castro's chief complaints against the courts has been that they often awarded owners of seized property too much compensation.

* * *

Antonio Nunez Jimenez, chief of Castro's agrarian reform program, warned as long ago as last spring that many judges would have to change their way of thinking or face the consequences.

The new dismissal decree, signed by Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos and Justice Minister Alfredo Yabur, said the jurists were thrown out to assure Cuba a more "revolutionary" application of justice.

It was not known how big a percentage of the judiciary was lopped off in the latest purge. Nor was any mention made of replacements for those fired.

Quadros had made the offer of political asylum to Galvao and his band of rebels earlier this week in hopes of getting them to unload the 620 passengers and 350 Portuguese crewmen.

Kennedy Children Snowbound in South

The little daughter and new son of the President and his wife were scheduled to fly in today from warm Palm Beach to the snow-encrusted capital to take up residence in the White House.

But with heavy snow falling here and more on the way, the White House canceled the flight. A new date will be picked when the weather clears up.

The storm started early this morning and the Weather Bureau warned there would be an accumulation of more than six inches.

Goldwater Seeks to End Recognition of Russia

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Thursday he would seek to have the United States withdraw diplomatic recognition of Soviet Russia.

Community House Sets Fund Goal at $50,700

BIRMINGHAM—A goal of $50,700 for the 1961 Community House fund drive March 6-20 was announced yesterday by the board of directors.

* * *

Eugene J. Barney, board president, said the goal was determined after an extensive study of present requirements and future needs.

* * *

"This goal is actually the minimum amount needed just to pay for repairs and maintenance, and to provide for the current services of the Community House," Barney added.

"Frankly we're hopeful that the citizens of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and the surrounding area will contribute more than the $50,700, enabling the Community House to increase and strengthen its services."

John K. Stevenson, fund drive chairman, explained that the goal represents 85 per cent of the amount needed to operate the service center. The remainder would come from income-producing activities such as rentals and adult education.

Stevenson revealed that two companies had anonymously donated a new brochure which "graphically describes the history, objects and services of the Community House."

* * *

The brochure, he said, will be mailed to large groups of area citizens before the end of the month. Others may obtain the booklet by sending their requests to the Community House, 380 S. Bates St.

"The need for such a brochure became apparent in a survey showing that many people in the area were not aware of what was going on at the Community House."

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held in the Bloomfield Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, at 8 p.m.

Each candidate will be alloted three minutes to state their platform. A question period will follow.

Members of the Birmingham Woman's Club will entertain their husbands at a 6:30 a.m. dinner meeting Tuesday at Showcase, Inc., 136 Brownell St.

Mrs. Matthew Cammareri, president of the club, will preside over the "Men's Nite" program.

Chuck Leonard, an accordionist, will entertain during the dinner hour. Following a brief business meeting, the members of the club will present a play written by Mrs. J. P. Bellefluer entitled "The Antique."

UAW Ruled Out as Bargainer for Cross Employes

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union Thursday lost its rights as bargaining agent for production workers at the Cross Co. automation machinery plant in nearby Fraser.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, 6th Circuit at Cincinnati, decertified the union as bargaining agent in another round of a long, sometimes bitter dispute.

The court held Cross was justified in a complaint the union had used misleading campaign material in a representation election three years ago.

The court, in an unanimous action, remanded the case to the National Labor Relations Board for further consideration "not inconsistent with the views" expressed in the order.

Baby Crop Reaches November Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—More babies were born in this country during November 1960 than during any previous November, the Public Health Service reported.

The estimated 351,000 births continued an upward trend which started in mid-1960. However, it was forecast that final 1960 figures would show little difference between the numbers of babies born in 1960 and in 1959.

For the first 11 months of 1960 there were an estimated 3,584,000 registered births, 0.4 per cent below the 3,599,000 in the similar 1959 period.

Seaway Is Termed Peril to Tourism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — St. Lawrence Seaway traffic is producing a problem which threatens the tourist and resort industry of Great Lakes states, Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Thursday.

Griffin said ships sailing in Lake Michigan are dumping garbage and raw waste into the lake. The debris is drifting ashore on beaches posing health hazards as well as threatening drinking water supplies of some communities.

The congressman said he recently conferred with Public Health Service representatives on the matter and concluded that new legislation may be necessary to deal with the situation.

Argentina's First Probe of Space 'Satisfactory'

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Argentina has launched its first "space probe," a single-stage rocket which soared to an estimated altitude of 65,000 feet Thursday before falling back to earth.

The Air Ministry said the rocket proved "ballistically satisfactory," but no signals were received from payload instruments which were supposed to report high altitude weather conditions to a ground station.

Soviet Challenges U.S. for Support on the Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U. N. Security Council members in behind-scenes talks today weighed the Soviet Union's challenge to the United States to support Soviet proposals for the Congo.

Council debate on the Congo was in recess until Tuesday and there was no answer from the Kennedy administration outlining its Congo position. There may be none until late next week, aides of U. S. delegation chief Adlai E. Stevenson indicated.

In a statement studded with harsh condemnation of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Valerian A. Zorin, told the council Thursday that it had followed the wrong road in dealing with the Congo.

Prescribing the same Soviet remedy as before — release from jail of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, convoking Parliament, ousting Belgian nationals from the Congo — Zorin said the Soviet Union is ready "to take all necessary steps" for measures to restore peace in the Congo.

AWAIT THE U.S.

He noted that U. S. Congo policy is under review in Washington and added: "Above all, we await an answer from the new representative of the United States whether he is ready to join us in following the new road.

Stevenson issued a statement later expressing regret that Zorin did not comment on Hammarskjold's request for power to reorganize the Congolese army and take it out of politics as a step toward averting civil war in the Congo. The U.S. delegate also expressed regret at what he called Zorin's "renewed and unjustified attacks" on Hammarskjold.

Diplomats were quick to point out that there was no sign of any change in the Soviet Congo policy, despite Zorin's talk of a "new road." But the Soviet delegate omitted lumping of the United States with the colonial powers and said he hopes that the policy review in Washington "expresses the desire of the new leaders of the United States to take a sound view of things and work for implementation of the Security Council resolutions.

'Says Release of Lumumba Essential'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Ceylon told the U.N. Security Council today political stability cannot be restored in the Congo unless deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba is released from prison.

But his captors in the Congo informed the United Nations Lumumba's fate is strictly the business of Congo authorities, and that for the time being "there should be no contact between Mr. Lumumba and the outside world."

H. O. Wijegoonewardena, Ceylonese delegate, praised Lumumba as the man who upholds the principle of unity and political independence for the Congo.

He said the United Nations could not permit Lumuba to remain in the hands of authorities of Katanga Province, which broke away from the central government of President Joseph Kasavubu.

There was no comment in the council on Hammarskjold's request, made Wednesday, that he be given authority to curb the Congolese Army's activity in politics as a first step to keep the Congo from exploding into civil war.

Adlai E. Stevenson, appearing as the Kennedy administration's chief delegate to the council for the first time, told the session Wednesday he was not prepared to comment. He indicated he would speak later in the week.

But Hammarskjold's request appeared headed for rough sledding from the Soviet Union, which has been assailing the secretary general for months and has refused to vote him new powers even in less controversial fields.

Republicans Hash Over Tax Proposals

LANSING (AP) — Republican hints that Gov. Swainson's program for a sweeping fiscal program reform might go on the April 3 ballot are being met with disdain by the governor.

A GOP caucus Thursday discussed Swainson's program — which includes a three per cent income tax—but decided to mull over several suggestions. Included among them were:

★ ★ ★

—Adoption of a resolution placing the income tax issue alone before the people.

—Passage of bills accepting the entire program, but with a provision that they be put to the public for a vote.

★ ★ ★

Swainson's program calls for elimination of the business activities tax, exemption of food and drugs from the sales tax, dropping of the nuisance taxes and revamping of the personal property taxes to help business.

If the legislature were merely to pass the income tax and ignore the rest of the package, Swainson would veto the bill.

As for asking the people to decide by a direct vote, the governor frowned on that suggestion also.

★ ★ ★

"It is the legislature's duty to consider the needs of the state," he said. "Then they appropriate money to meet those needs and levy taxes to get the money."

THE LAWMAKERS' JOB

Lawmakers, as representatives of the people, are charged with the responsibility under the Constitution for levying taxes, the governor added.

On the other side of the political fence, Republican Sen. Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo said he will introduce a resolution setting up a referendum vote on the governor's proposal for an income tax.

Morris, who led the fight against the income tax in 1959, said he wanted to place the issue "squarely before the people" in the spring election.

But the feeling was not unanimous in the Republican camp. Senate majority leader Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair said he was not in favor of placing the income tax issue alone on the ballot and he had serious doubts about asking the voters to decide on the tax package as a whole.

Novel Author Pleads Innocent in Assault

NEW YORK (AP) — Normal Mailer, author of the novel "The Naked and the Dead," pleaded innocent Friday to an indictment charging him with felonious assault in the stab wounding of his wife.

★ ★ ★

French Youth Gets Letters From Galvao

★ ★ ★

The news came in a letter to Albert Desmarias last week. By then, the youth was aware that Galvao was embarked on a strange pleasure cruise, indeed.

An avid geography student, the youth said he met Galvao on a French train a year ago and they struck up a conversation.

Albert questioned Galvao about Portugal and other countries he has seen.

When the two parted, Galvao produced a card and told the young student, "If you want more information, just write me."

"I've received about 20 letters from him," said Albert. "He never discussed politics. He always wrote about geography."

Pontiac Bids 'Farewell' to William H. Marbachs

Pontiac says an official "good-bye" to the Rev. and Mrs. WILLIAM H. MARBACH on Sunday. The Presbyterian Church has justly feted this popular and illustrious couple and the conclusion comes on the Sabbath. In a way, it's an unhappy day.

★ ★ ★

The Marbachs have been an integral part of progress and betterment for a quarter of a century. They have especially contributed to the spiritual and cultural side of the community and without advancement in these two essentials, any progress becomes empty and a hollow thing.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac PRESS is losing our nearest neighbor and a grand citizen in the retirement of a great religious leader. His Christianity is the practical work-a-day kind that touches everyone, by word and by deed.

★ ★ ★

These two citizens can face the balance of their lives with the supreme knowledge that they have played a rich and fruitful part in the progress of the world. Supreme satisfaction wells primarily from this source.

The peace of God will be with them — always.

Yugoslav Author Freed as Tito Changes Rules

The release of MILOVAN DJILAS from a Yugoslav prison is not in itself proof that Marshal TITO is about to follow a more democratic course. But it is a hopeful sign.

DJILAS, former president and head of parliament and the last of the country's major political prisoners, was an outspoken liberal and at one time a comrade in arms and a close friend of TITO. But in 1954 he went too far, politically speaking. In the party newspaper Mr. DJILAS demanded more democracy and free discussion. He was stripped of party rank.

After publicly announcing in 1956 that "the revolution in Hungary means the beginning of the end of Communism generally" Djilas was arrested and sentenced to three years. Another seven years were added when the manuscript for his book "The New Class" which told of totalitarian tyranny in Yugoslavia was smuggled out and published in the West where it caused quite a stir.

The fact is that Marshal TITO has promised most of the reforms DJILAS had advocated in a constitution to be adopted in 1962. Too many Yugoslavs agreed with the popular DJILAS and Western liberals criticized his trial and imprisonment.

Another indication that TITO may be changing strategy lies in the fact that the Communist government permitted another political critic, VLADIMIR DEDIJER, to go to England as a lecturer. Some efforts also are being made to end the cold war with the Vatican caused by the imprisonment of the late Cardinal STEPINAC.

Yugoslavia, of course, is a Communist state but a more or less independent one. Perhaps Tito means it when he says that the proposed constitution will consider "man as a producer and manager while the state should appear only as a coordinating factor."

President Emphasizes Use of Food for Peace

In a special farm message on Jan. 29, 1959, former President EISENHOWER made a plea for greater use of food surpluses for relief of friendly peoples throughout the world, "in short, using food for peace."

★ ★ ★

Now two years later President KENNEDY in his State of the Union message emphasized the need for expanding the program "to relieve hunger and help economic growth in all corners of the globe." Mr. KENNEDY also mentioned the establishment of world food banks, first suggested shortly after World War II by Sir JOHN BOYD-ORR, former head of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization.

★ ★ ★

Since 1954 nearly $10 billion has been committed to this purpose and another $1 billion has been asked for fiscal 1962. The President's task force has suggested this be raised to $2 billion. However, this large fund must be weighed against the fact that we are spending $1 billion a year for storage alone.

The broadened program sees the surplus not as a calamity but an opportunity to be used for the human needs of the world. It also includes larger distribution of food stuffs to needy Americans.

★ ★ ★

Previous programs have been hemmed in by numerous restrictions and have not resulted in a decline in surpluses. The new Administrator, GEORGE S. MCGOVERN, will have to use a great deal of ingenuity. Among pitfalls to be avoided is dumping of surpluses which disturb existing commercial markets. Our oversupply of food also must not be used in recipient countries to delay their own agricultural advancement.

★ ★ ★

The Administration already has moved quickly to help relieve the disaster induced famine in the Congo. For the time being, however, most of our efforts will have to be directed toward areas where there is a chronic shortage of food. From a purely humanitarian point of view there couldn't be a better use for our huge oversupply.

Just a Word of Warning—

David Lawrence Says:

Message Vague—Good in Spots

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy's latest message to Congress on the economic situation is in some respects the most important he has yet delivered. For it affords an insight into the kind of policies he intends to sponsor in the field of business.

The first part of the message is mostly theory. Who knows, for instance, what the national growth might have been in the last few years if the economy had realized its "possible" expansion?

Who can say just why there has been "a failure to use our full capacity"? Kennedy says, for instance, that corporate profits "could have been $5 billion higher" than they were in 1960.

LAWRENCE

But he doesn't tell how this could have been done in the face of declining business due to the after-effects of the steel strike.

In general terms, the President proposes now "to expand the nation's investments in physical and human resources, and in science and technology."

There is one point, however, which may afford a clue. The President, for instance, says pointedly that "long-term interest rates should decline" and that "a further decline in short-term interest rates, under present conditions, would lead to a further outflow of funds abroad."

SEES RELATIONSHIP

This means in its simplest form that Kennedy recognizes how much the international economy has become interwoven with the national economy and that artificially to depress interest rates within the United States might be good politics in one sense but can wreck the gold position of America by forcing foreign holders of money to transfer their funds to Europe, where they'll get higher interest rates.

Although the message contains many proposals for "pump priming" which are reminiscent of the blunders of New Deal days, there are certain items suggested that are necessary to alleviate immediate distress which are commendable.

It is in the long-range category — what shall be done to lift the economy out of its present downturn — that the President has made a very significant suggestion.

He has not described in detail his recommendation for what are termed "special tax incentives" to bring about "expansion and modernization of the nation's productive plant," but the fact that he recommends a modification of the tax laws to provide those "incentives for investment in plant and equipment" is highly important.

Most interesting of all, however, is the carefully phrased statement of the President about inflation and price stability.

He says:

"Government can help further by encouraging labor and management to find ways to smooth the adjustment to technological change . . . .

"Accordingly, I shall issue an executive order establishing the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy, with members drawn from labor, management, and the public.

"The committee is directed to advise the President with respect to actions that may be taken by labor, management, and the public which will promote free and responsible collective bargaining, industrial peace, sound wage policies, sound price policies and stability, a higher standard of living, increased productivity, and America's competitive position in world markets . . . .

'CANNOT AFFORD . . .'

"All of us must now be conscious of the need for policies that enable American goods to compete successfully with foreign goods. We cannot afford unsound wage and price movements which push up costs, weaken our international competitive position, restrict job opportunities, and jeopardize the health of our domestic economy."

The Man About Town

Middle of Winter

Annual Argument Is Now Renewed in Full Force

The annual argument is under way as to just when is the middle of winter. The old and long accepted theory that it is Feb. 2 is being roundly disputed.

That is Candlemas Day, which our farmers have found to be quite correct on "half your corn and half your hay," meaning the winter inside feeding period for cattle.

But it is pointed out that cattle forage for themselves out-of-doors until late in the autumn, but must eat inside until the grass has time to grow in the spring.

Figured on a fuel consumption basis, which to most of us is the correct way, my readers say that Jan. 15 to 20 of the average winter is the halfway point. So we now should be well into the second half.

One of our most devoted bird lovers and a long time generous feeder of our feathered friends, of Pontiac Lake, has discovered that she has been too kind to them. Continual feeding makes them lazy, just like some welfare patients, and they will not seek their feed in the usual way, even when there is no snow on the ground. In the future, she says, when the ground is bare so's the feeding board.

Mrs. Rose Arnew

The Country Parson

Dr. William Brady Says:

Fresh Orange Juice Tops for War Against Scurvy

In the 19th Century, before rapid transit, cold storage and electric refrigeration in the home, scurvy was by no means limited to bottle-fed infants. Mild or severe scurvy was quite common in older children and adults whose wintertime diet provided little or no fresh fruit, greens and fresh vegetables, preferably raw.

★ ★ ★

When I was an intern in Erie County Hospital, Buffalo, (the gray stone building is now on the campus of the university), there usually were 20 or more babies, left by their unwed mothers, for adoption. If not adopted in two years they were taken to an orphanage.

DR. BRADY

No babies, then or now, could receive better care than our babies received from nurses and doctors. Dr. Irving Snow, professor of Pediatrics in the Medical School, saw to it that every baby had an adequate daily ration of fresh orange juice to prevent scurvy.

This is the best antiscorbutic we have today. (Medical term for scurvy is scorbutus.)

The milk fed the babies was fresh milk from the institution's own herd. It was either parboiled or pasteurized, I forget which, though I don't remember seeing any pasteurizing equipment there.

SYMPTOMS APPEARED

Once in a while a baby would present signs or symptoms of mild scurvy, such as fretfulness, pallor, crying when handled, purplish swollen gums particularly above the upper central incisors, the first teeth a baby cuts.

With this perhaps the baby's knees would be sensitive to touch. When this occurred the scalding or pasteurizing of the milk would be stopped and only fresh raw milk fed.

Boiling or pasteurizing destroys most of the vitamin C in milk; scalding (bringing the milk quickly to but not over the boiling point and then quickly cooling) is less destructive to vitamin C. This, together with an increased ration of orange juice, invariably restored the infant to health.

★ ★ ★

In most instances inflammation, swelling and soreness of the gums in infants, children or adults is not a sign of scurvy.

In many instances the appearance of "black and blue" spots or discolorations of the skin on any part of the body, sometimes large in area, is characteristic of scurvy.

Such "black and blue" discolorations have led to unjust charges of brutality or mistreatment of young children or inmates of institutions.

Fresh fruit juices, fresh vegetables and greens are the best sources of vitamin C. Factory canned tomato juice or, better, fresh raw tomato juice is an excellent anti-scorbutic for the young infant or a person of any age, if fresh (not canned) orange is not available. Of course fresh fruit (or vegetable) is always preferable to mere fruit or vegetable juice to maintain health or prevent disease.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Truckers, Railmen Still Disturbed

Just a few years ago the railroads were almost out of business when the truckers took over. Did they holler? They invented a piggy back for the railroads which proved very successful and they have made a comeback.

Now it's up to the truckers union and Hoffa to invent something to put them on their feet again.

One Who Believes in Unity

There are so many who do not understand the practice of piggy back. It is hauling cars on railroads at cut rates.

The customer is being charged the freight rate granted to the trucking industry. The railroads are hauling them for cut rates. If the railroad doesn't make a profit they don't care. They have been subsidized by the government for years. Why should thousands be put out of work so the manufacturers can reap more profit?

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But if you will not listen, my soul will weep in secret for your pride; my eyes will weep bitterly and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock has been taken captive.—Jeremiah 13:17.

Pride is founded not on the sense of happiness, but on the sense of power.—William Hazlitt.

Families Worried About Blue Cross

Rules and laws in regard to doctors' and hospital fees can be plainly seen as the reason of the high rates of Blue Cross-Blue Shield insurance.

No one cares how much medication costs for the health of their loved ones, but when we cannot afford it, what are we supposed to do? If you don't like your doctor's fees you can go to another, but he'll charge you as much or more.

I Too Am Broke, Blue and Cross

There are innumerable families concerned about the Blue Cross-Blue Shield request for an increased rate. I am a widow with nine minor children, receiving social security as my income and accidents and hospitalizations are more than average. I cannot do without this insurance, yet, I cannot afford an increase.

I would appreciate it if the medical association would explain their rates, for it seems Blue Cross-Blue Shield does more than their share. There should be some other answer than a Blue Cross-Blue Shield increase when we are taxed beyond our limits now.

Quite Concerned

'What's Happened to Fishing, Hunting?'

I have lived in and around Pontiac for about 10 years and have never complained about The Pontiac Press, but it is time someone did. Why is it that the sports' page is practically always basketball, football, baseball, hockey or golf? Didn't you ever hear of hunting or fishing?

I enjoy fishing the year round and we have some wonderful ice fishing around here. If your reporter has cold feet they sell insulated boots downtown that will cure that.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

False Sex Notions Cause Jealousy

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case G-495: Norman N., aged 27, is the jealous husband mentioned yesterday.

"Dr. Crane," he admitted, "when I am rational I know that Janet is true to me, but every few days I grow insanely jealous of her.

"She is a friendly, sociable type, so I probably misconstrue her innocent smiles when we are out in company.

DR. CRANE

"But I cannot believe her protests of devotion, for she is rather frigid and indifferent to me.

"When I was a kid, I remember a traveling salesman told a bunch of us fellows about his escapades in a Chicago red light house.

"And he assured us that ALL women are not only wildly passionate, but even MORE passionate than men!

"Well, my wife isn't that way, so I figure I don't satisfy her, but somebody else might be able to do so. That's what keeps eating at me and driving me almost crazy.

"She is the sweetest girl I ever met, but sometimes I feel like strangling her because of my evil suspicions. Am I right, or do you really believe she is true to me?"

FALSE NOTIONS

A lot of false sex notions have carried over into modern life and still fetter human happiness.

Some of these include the erroneous idea that pregnant women can "mark" their babies by their fears or unsatisfied food hungers.

And many lewd men have tutored young fellows with exaggerated statements about the sex ardor of prostitutes.

When I was an intern at our old Wesley Memorial Hospital in Chicago, we had a number of such patients on our gynecology service.

And they often volunteered such information as this:

"Dr. Crane, we soon found out that unless a prostitute acted ardent and wildly excited, the customer was disappointed.

"That meant he would not give us a tip or ask for us the next time his convention met in Chicago.

"So we quickly learned that it was good business to make the men think we were very passionate."

★ ★ ★

And they also added the additional fact in most cases that they had NEVER been very much aroused by ANY man, though all their male patrons would probably have sworn affidavits to the contrary.

DR. KINSEY'S ERROR

The famous Kinsey Report made its most serious medical error by taking the mere opinions of women and then treating them as facts.

"Are you more passionate than your husband?" was thus answered in many cases with a "yes."

But that "yes" was not correct for the women didn't know whereof they were speaking. It was only their ignorant opinion.

Yet that mistaken opinion was then codified into supposed factual scientific evidence, thereby deluding millions of men such as Norman in today's case.

The average male far exceeds his wife's ardor. However, if her dwarfed erotic hunger is just tantalized but not satisfied, obviously she will seem more hungry for physical affection.

Send for the medical booklet "Sex Differences Between Men

It will straighten out the false notions of jealous folks and help stabilize marriage.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Skuttle K-711 HUMIDIFIER Assembly Kit

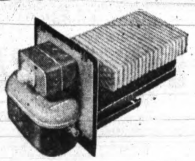
This automatic humidifier will keep your family comfortable at lower temperatures which results in fuel savings. Simple to assemble — easy to install in your furnace. The K-711 is a complete unit and includes 5 Vapoglas plates, stainless steel plate rack, brass fittings and copper tubing. You save money by assembling and installing the Skuttle K-711 Humidifier Assembly Kit.

VAPOGLAS EVAPORATING PLATES

Skuttle Vapoglas Evaporation Plates are patented. They are pure glass wool, made under special processing. To keep your humidifier operating at maximum efficiency, it is important, under normal conditions, to replace your vapoglas plates at least once each heating season. In hard water areas, more frequent plate replacement is suggested. Available in packs of 3.

Now you can dial "COMFORT ZONE" humidity in your home with the CORMAIRE 900 Skuttle's NEW ELECTRIC HUMIDIFIER



Yes, just by turning the control switch on the new Model 900 Cormaire you can get satisfying moisture comfort throughout your home. The Cormaire is designed to give you controlled humidification during the entire heating season. The Cormaire 900 utilizes 20 Vapoglas plates in a corrosion resistant pan under which an electric element is placed for added output. It can be used solely as a plate type humidifier for Spring and Summer, or as a controlled humidification system for year 'round "comfort-zone" moisture. When used as a controlled humidifier, the output is increased merely by setting the cycling switch, standard on all models, which controlls the electric heating element. The Cormaire 900 can also be equipped with a humidistat and relay transformer. These convert the Cormaire from an automatic unit into a fully controlled humidifier.

JFK and Ike to Share Dooley Fund Position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy Thursday accepted the honorary cochairmanship with former President Eisenhower of the Dr. Tom Dooley Tribute Fund for Medico.

The fund will be launched as a national campaign to continue the work of Medical, Inc., a nonprofit, nongovernmental group which establishes medical aid programs in foreign countries at the request of the government of the country involved.

The late Dr. Thomas A. Dooley and Dr. Peter D. Comanduras, cofounded Medico three years ago. Dr. Dooley, who sparked the organization, died of cancer in New York Jan. 18, the day after his 34th birthday.

Stage Is Set for Psychological Thriller

The Waterford Township Lakeland Players are set for the curtain call on their fifth production, "Ladies in Retirement," at 8 tonight and Saturday at the Community Center.

The mystery - murder play has been hailed on the New York stage and on the road as a perfect example of a psychological melodrama.

The story deals with an ex-actress, played by Mrs. Robert Rickard, and her companion, played by Patricia Hott.

A major crisis arises when the companion invites her two simple-minded sisters played by Mrs. William Aebersold and Patty Looman to visit her at the remote house and the two refuse to leave.

* * *

To complicate matters, a nephew of the house companion, played by Gene Scholler, arrives and borrows money from the ex-actress after having robbed a bank.

Other characters in the play are Mrs. Ralph Ellsworth and Ardella Bockelman.

* * *

James Starnes, who has had roles in three other Lakeland Players productions, is the director, and D. J. (Duke) Chaffee the producer.

The public has been invited to see the play, and new members have been encouraged to join the year-old organization.

There are about 27 million pet cats in the United States.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. I have a neutered male mixed Angora and Siamese cat which is in the house all the time. When he sees another cat, he goes wild. Please let me know your opinion on this. Mrs. J. W. Lehman, Columbus, Ohio.

A. Well, I guess if I were completely isolated from other human beings, I would go wild every time I saw another member of my species. The company of our own kind is essential to our well being.

★ ★ ★

While a few cats become so domesticated that they prefer the company of man, the majority of them would rather play with another cat any time. I'm sure your cat holds you responsible for his lack of social life.

★ ★ ★

So, for goodness sake, introduce him to some feline friends. Better still, take in another cat to keep him company. There may be a trying period of transition, but your cat's emotional life will stabilize once his social life is more satisfactory.

Senators Submit Aged Bill

Ask Home Care Under Med Plan

LANSING (UPI) — A bipartisan group of four senators Thursday submitted a bill to include home nursing and nursing home care in Michigan's new program of medical assistance to the aged.

The proposal would carry out recommendations of Gov. Swainson and a legislative study committee headed by Sen. Lloyd A. Stephens, R-Scottville, chief sponsor of the bill.

The medical care plan, approved at a special legislative session last September, limited home nursing care to those also receiving old age assistance. The revision would extend it to all eligible for the plan.

The measure also would relax the means test, raising from $2,000 to $2,500 the maximum income a couple could earn to qualify for benefits.

State Welfare officials said the addition of nursing services would increase the cost of the program "substantially." Because the program has been in operation only a few months, however, they declined to give a more specific estimate.

"We figure that in the long run it will cost less, than the present plan since more persons will be released from hospitals to nursing homes where costs are less," said Lynn Kellogg, state public assistance supervisor.

When the plan went into effect, the Welfare Department estimated 120,000 elderly residents would be eligible, including 80,000 old age recipients and 40,000 other medically needs who would receive standard Blue Cross-Blue Shield benefits.

However, there have been considerably fewer applicants certified than had been anticipated, Kellogg said.

Swainson called for a $4.32 million state appropriation to finance the program in the 1961-62 fiscal year. The federal government will pay 50 per cent of the cost, the state 40 per cent and counties 10 per cent.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, House minority floor leader, headed a group of eight Democrats who re-introduced an economic growth act first proposed by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and endorsed this year by Swainson.

It would create a council of economic advisors to gather information on economic development and trends, make recommendations to encourage economic growth and appoint advisory committees in fields affecting the state's business climate.

The governor would be required to submit a biannual economic report to the legislature.

A companion bill provides for a legislative committee of seven senators and seven House members to work in the same area.

Prisoner-for-Patient Swap Still Backed

LANSING (AP) — Members of the State Corrections Commission Thursday said they still think immediate steps should be taken to swap some 200 dangerous psychotic prisoners at Southern Michigan Prison for mental patients at the Ionia State Hospital.

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, said commission members were "interested" in a proposal to convert the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Howell to a mental hospital.

"Because of the urgent nature of the situation at the Southern Michigan Prison, we still think it would be better to make the exchange," Harrison said.

Commission members feel the Howell proposal would take too long to complete, he said.

DETROIT (UPI) — Paul M. Chandler, 41, announced today he was withdrawing as a candidate for Republican nomination for regent of the University of Michigan and would instead be a candidate for GOP nomination to the board of governors of Wayne State University.

Now Resides in Albion

Ruthann Carmean Weds

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Ruthann L. Carmean became the bride of Robert L. Porritt in recent candlelight rites performed by the Rev. William J. Richards at the Clarkston Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of E. Lee Carmean of 22 N. Tasmania, Pontiac, and Mrs. Judson E. Frankenfield of 6340 Pine Knob Road. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Porritt of 6595 Church St.

The bride selected a floor-length gown of Schiffli lace for her wedding. It featured a fitted basque bodice, a scalloped neckline and a multitiered skirt which extended into a chapel sweep.

★ ★ ★

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Vern L. Carmean was matron of honor. Carolyn Warrick, Sandra Gresham and Mrs. Patrick Thompson, all of Clarkston, were bridesmaids. Lezlie Marie Callahan of Clarkston was flower girl.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom's brother William E. Porritt was best man while Vern Carmean, brother of the bride, and Richard Caverley, both of Clarkston, served as ushers along with James Kreider of Okemos.

Police Seek Pontiac Man

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Romeo state police today were looking for a 47-year-old Pontiac man they believe to be the driver who fled the scene of a property damage accident on Auburn Road.

★ ★ ★

Police identified the man they were seeking as Gilbert G. Sandage of 101 Auburn Ave.

Gregory Holder, 22, of 2466 Barclay St., Utica, told police he was pulling out Tony's Drive-In at 2790 Auburn Road when his car was struck broadside by Sandage's auto early today.

Holder said both he and Sandage stopped their cars after the collision but that Sandage escaped from the accident scene. Holder told officers he then followed the other driver until Sandage's car broke down at Crooks and Adams roads.

When both cars stopped at that intersection, Holder made Sandage surrender his driver's license. Holder, thinking Sandage would be unable to leave since his car was disabled, then went after state police officers.

Scout Show Saturday and Sunday

UTICA — The annual Macomb District Scout Exposition, which was seen last year by over 19,000 persons, will open for a two-day run tomorrow at 1 p.m. at Utica High School.

Approximately 2,800 cub scouts, boy scouts and explorers and 1,100 adult leaders from the Macomb District are expected to take part in the exposition plus two troops from Sarnia, Ont.

The exposition, which will include a water show and 70 booths displaying scouting skills and hobbies, is open until 9 p.m. tomorrow. Doors will be open from 2 to 9 p.m. on Sunday.

Dr. David J. Rees, Macomb District executive committee member, reported that last year's attendance figure probably will not be equaled this weekend.

The 1960 celebration of the Golden Jubilee of Scouting helped boost spectator interest in the event, he said. Dr. Rees estimates a crowd of about 15,000 will attend this year's show.

Since some 5,000 spectators who came to see the water demonstration last year had to be turned away, the popular feature of the exposition will be presented every hour during the show.

The water show includes demonstrations of canoe and swimming safety and lifesaving. Each of the 70 units in the Macomb District will sponsor a booth in the display area of the exposition, which will be located in the gymnasium of the high school.

Romney Lauds U.S. Farmer

Says They've Written Terrific Success Story; but Adds Warning

EAST LANSING (AP) — American Motors President George Romney has praised the American farmer terming him, "a world champion — unsurpassed anywhere."

"He has written a terrific success story," Romney said at a Michigan State University farm management banquet last night.

But Romney went on to warn the United States to adopt a worldwide outlook in coping with its farm situation, and "stop trying to solve the problem on a nationalistic basis."

The industrial leader was one of the featured speakers listed on the program of the annual MSU Farmers' Week program, which ends today.

He said:

"We shouldn't sit on our surpluses or retired acres, but should work out a system to feed the half of the world that goes to bed hungry every night—not with handouts, but in a way that would allow them to participate in their own economic development."

The "food for peace" program advanced by President Kennedy and other plans have hinted at the method, but are not the answer, he said.

The idea of looking to a worldwide solution to America's farm surpluses problems, was expressed also in the expanding foreign markets ideas of former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who spoke on the MSU campus the day before.

★ ★ ★

Romney, who is chairman of Citizens for Michigan, called on rural voters to approve the constitutional convention provision which will be on the April ballot.

He said that, under present terms, predominantly rural outstate areas would be represented by 53 per cent of the delegates at a convention, compared with 47 per cent for the five most populous counties.

The April election would give voters "their best chance, and perhaps their last chance" to avoid "urban, one-party or group domination" of any constitutional revision, Romney stated.

3 Propositions on Romeo District Ballot

School Election Today

ROMEO — A $700,000 bond issue for school expansion hangs in balance as voters go to the polls today in a special election in the Romeo Community School District.

Polls in the three precincts of the 85-square mile school district will be open until 8 p.m.

Besides the bond issue, voters will decide on a three-mill operational tax which would be levied for seven years to replace the current four-mill operational levy.

The present operational millage was approved in a March election and expires this year, according to School Supt. T. C. Filppula.

"Actually, there are three propositions on the ballot," reported the school superintendent.

The first proposal contains the request for operational millage while the second and third concern the bond issue, he said.

Proposition No. 2 asks permission to increase the millage in order to pay off the bond issue, and No. 3, if approved, will give the board of education permission to use the funds for construction of 23 new classrooms.

Under state law, any qualified voter may cast his ballot on the first two propositions, but only properly owners and their spouses may vote on the third proposal.

Polling places are the Washington Township Hall here at 155 S. Rawles St., the township hall in Washington and Davis Elementary School at 59441 Romeo Plank Road, Davis.

Filppula said four additional special education rooms, financed with federal funds, will be built if voters approve the bond issue for construction of the other 23 classrooms.

SCHOOL, TOO

An elementary school containing seven classrooms and a special education room will be erected in a general area midway between Washington and Romeo if the bond issue is passed.

Seven classrooms and a special education room also would be added to both the junior high school and senior high school. A four-room addition would be built at the Washington Grade School, which also would receive alterations under the plan.

Filppula said the project, which also includes installation of a heating plant at the junior high school, is expected to handle the needs of the district through the 1964-65 school year.

According to a recent census, population in the school district is 9,253.

Hundreds to Miss Listing on Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Several hundred would-be candidates will fail to get their names on election ballots at the spring primary Feb. 20 for villages and townships, the secretary of state's office reported today.

Most are ineligible because they failed to file before the Jan. 2 deadline or because their township party did not file qualifying petitions as required by law, the Elections Divisions said.

Numerous calls have been received on the matter from both the Republican and Democratic state central committees, from independent local parties and individuals, the division said.

The division said several warnings were given on deadlines and calendars were mailed to all 1,258 townships in the state.

It estimated more than 5,000 township and village offices will be contested in the next election.

His appearance at the local churches will be divided equally. However, his time table has not been determined.

Rev. Reynders will conduct services Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. each evening through Thursday.

The program is part of a statewide "United Witness For Christ" mission being carried on by nearly 1,000 Methodist churches in Michigan.

Oak Park School Plan Wins Award

OAK PARK — The Oak Park School District's attempts to integrate special education students with regular students has earned an award for outstanding action in education.

Presentation of the award was made by Better Homes and Garden magazine in cooperation with the National Education Association and the National School Board Association.

Basis for the award was the integrated district program which permits special education students to take classes such as gym and choir with the other students.

The special education pupils usually have their own academic classes but integration is being effected wherever possible, school officials said.

A meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Community Building, at 90 N. Main St. All interested people have been urged to attend.

Tenth Chapter . . . Michigan's Role in the Civil War

Moses Wisner Appointed Colonel, Trained Boys in Pontiac

(Editor's Note: This is the 10th in a 15-part series on Michigan's role in the Civil War.)

By DR. PHILIP MASON
Archivist, Wayne State University
Written for the AP

Gus Smith was 32 when he enlisted as first lieutenant in the 22nd Michigan Infantry in July 1862.

The newly organized regiment was recruited from the counties of Oakland, Livingston, Macomb, St. Clair, Lapeer and Sanilac, which in 1862 consisted mostly of small farming communities.

Moses Wisner, a former governor of the state, was appointed colonel of the regiment and directed the two weeks' training in Pontiac.

On Sept. 4, after receiving a flag from the women of Pontiac in a colorful public ceremony, the regiment left for front-line duty in Kentucky.

The activities of the regiment are described in a series of 10 letters which Gus Smith wrote to his parents living on a farm near Howell between September 1862 and May of 1863.

Army censorship was not practiced in the Civil War and, hence, the letters show the grim, as well as humorous, side of army life.

They reveal a picture of soldiering that is not usually reflected in the romanticized, sentimental versions of the rebellion now popular on television and in magazines.

HIS FRIST LETTER

Smith's first letter to his parents, sent from Covington, Ky., on Sept. 22, 1862, indicated that he was finding army life a challenge.

"Here we are in the darndest dirty hole in the whole world. It is very dry and dusty here. We have to lay on the ground in the open air.

"We are bothered almost to death for water to drink, say nothing of washing ourselves and clothes. Haven't changed my shirt since I left Pontiac and I don't know when I can, as our baggage is 15 miles from here.

"We are the dirtyest set you ever saw. We have to drink water out of a common duck pond. It looks green when we dip it up. If we don't all get sick, it will be a wonder."

A week later, he wrote elatedly, "I had a treat tonight in the way of a good wash and a clean shirt, the first I have had since I left Michigan."

As the war dragged on, and as Union casualties increased by the thousands, without the promised Union victories, there was some public opposition to continuation of the war. Gus Smith must have heard about it, for on March 12, 1863, he wrote to his parents and sisters:

HATED TRAITORS

"Wish I could be home just long enough to shoot about a dozen of those cursed traitors that infest Livingston County. Damn 'em, if it was not for such Union men as they are, this bloody war would soon end, but just so long as such men are allowed to talk and act, treason only and boldly among you there at home, as they do, there is in my humble opinion, no prospect of a speedy termination.

* * *

"At best, be united, be a unit, and pull together, and we will whip them into subjection in short order, but place an army, as we are placed, with a fire in front, and great deal worse on in the rear, it is up hill business, and pretty sandy at that, I reckon."

Smith's parents apparently kept their son posted on the social life of Howell, for in one letter he wrote:

"Now a word about my own private matters, in regard to the two young ladies of whom you have so much to say. Allow me to assure you that it is not very likely that I ever shall marry either of them if I should live to return, you can rest assured of that fact. You need not put yourself to any extra trouble to circulate the fact however. If they want to think so, let them, that's all . . ."

Lt. Smith's letters reveal also that he thought often about his home and his parents. He reassured his mother and father in almost every letter that he was in good health.

He was particularly concerned about his father who had the full burden of taking care of the farm while his sons were in the Army. He began one of his letters in this folksy vein:

* * *

"Well, Mother, how are you all tonight? Wish I could drop in and see you this eve. Should like to eat breakfast with you tomorrow morning. Our living is pretty tough, some of the time, but I get along with it as well as any of the rest.

"We had hard bread and coffee without sugar for supper tonight. Should have made a fuss about it if I had have been at home. But as it was, I had to eat it, and make the best of it."

"Father, take care of what few traps I have, in case I do not return. My Saginaw property you can dispose of as you think best. You will find a good pair of buck gloves in my trunk, take and use them.

"Have you done your threshing yet? If so, how does the wheat turn out? How much are you going to sow this fall? Who have you got to help you? Tell me all the news about everybody. . . ."

"Wish I could be there to help you, but I cannot. And then I can help you almost as much here as I could there. I like the business very much, and have been tolerably successful so far, I think. I think I may well be proud.

"It has been a great school for me. I have already been amply rewarded, and I believe, I am thought something of here. And it is gratifying to me to know that the position I hold, I have fairly won.

* * *

This was the last of the letters his parents preserved and possibly the last one he ever wrote to them. On Oct. 11, 1863, Capt. Augustus Smith died of wounds received in action in the Battle of Chickamauga.

He was buried in the National Cemetery in Chattanooga, Tenn. Thus, he joined thousands of his comrades who gave their lives to preserve the Union.

What's in a (Bad) Name?

MIAMI (UPI) — Beverly Aadland, teen-aged companion of the late Errol Flynn quit her singing job at a much-raided Miami nightclub Wednesday, charging the place was giving her a "bad name."

Australians think that women with young children should not go out to work, but approve careers for young women without children. Asked "If a married woman has young children, are you for, or against, her taking a factory or office job if she wants to?" 78 per cent were against, 18 per cent were for, four per cent undecided.

The mean altitude of all North America is about 2,000 feet.

Portuguese Rebel's Kin Is Worried

LUANDA, Angola (AP) — Deu Delgado, 62-year-old sister of Portuguese rebel leader Humberto Delgado, says "there will probably be trouble for me over this business of the Santa Maria —and for my old mother in Lisbon."

Interviewed at her home in a Luanda suburb, Miss Delgado said she never supported any of her brother's political adventures and she was "amazed at his audacity" in the Santa Maria affair.

"But that doesn't mean I'm proud of his achievement. I wish I'd never even heard of the Santa Maria," she declared.

"I cannot say too much," said the woman, a clerical officer at a tuberculosis hospital. "I am a government employe, you know. But I think my brother's ambitions are going to lead to trouble.

"I don't know what might happen, but I am scared. It's not right to start things against the government, you never know what might happen — and I must not say too much to you.

★ ★ ★

"I have never ever sided with him in any of his doings," she said. "And this time, planning the capture of the ship and all that, I thinks he's gone too far. It was sheer madness and he won't get any sympathy from me if he lands now in serious trouble."

Do Not Eat Until You Phone First

By The Emily Post Institute

Question: We invited a couple to our house for dinner. The husband is a good friend of my husband's. However, the wife and I know each other only casually. They were supposed to arrive at 7 p.m. and I prepared my dinner so that it would be ready to serve by at least 7:15, allowing time for a cocktail.

We waited for them until eight and when they didn't arrive, we sat down to eat.

They arrived at 8:15 and the wife was quite annoyed because we had started to eat. She said that we were very rude and that we should have waited until 10 p.m. if necessary.

Needless to say it was a very unpleasant evening. I would like to know if we were wrong in not wating.

Answer: You were not wrong in assuming at eight that they must have forgotten your seven o'clock dinner, and that they were not coming. It would, however, have been more polite if you had telephoned to make sure.

First in Two-Part Heart Series

Wives: Help Husbands to Live

(Editor's Note: Following is the first of a two-article series, "How to Safeguard Your Husband's Heart," written for Newspaper Enterprise Association by the director of cardiovascular research at Chicago's Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center.)

By LOUIS N. KATZ, M.D.

What, if anything, can you do to safeguard your husband's heart?

At this time, the answer must be qualified and limited. No definite promises can be offered.

But some of us scientists and physicians believe that certain middle-aged husbands can move from a high risk category to a lower one by taking certain precautionary steps—with the help of their wives.

★ ★ ★

First, find out if your husband is in a high risk category. One out of every 8 males in this country between 45 and 65 years old is.

★ ★ ★

This determination should be made by a physician.

If he is in the high risk category, the chances are 1 in 2 that he will have a heart attack or stroke between the ages of 45 and 65. If he is considered a low risk, his chances are only 1 in 25.

Certain predisposing factors will indicate whether he might be a high risk.

HIS RECORD

The physician will consider a previous record of heart attack or stroke, heredity, blood pressure, physical fitness, emotional make-up, smoking and exercise habits, weight, character of diet and blood cholesterol level.

The risk probably will be greater if the physician finds that your husband has had a heart attack, stroke or certain other diseases.

★ ★ ★

One saving grace is that the victims of such attacks are so shaken by the experience that they learn to live more sensibly and follow their doctor's advice more faithfully.

Also, physicians can use drugs to reduce blood clotting to safeguard against repeat attacks.

If your husband's record indicates that his blood relatives and ancestors were affected by heart ailments, he may be predisposed. So heredity plays a part.

★ ★ ★

For the future, the possibility exists of altering hereditary transmitters (genes) or their chemical components to prevent clinical atherosclerosis, but at the moment little can be accomplished here.

★ ★ ★

But you can do something about high blood pressure, for example. High blood pressure increases the risk of a heart attack.

Doctors are better equipped to reduce high blood pressure, so make sure your husband knows this and carries out the doctor's orders.

PREACH MODERATION

A wife also can enforce the motto of moderation and regularity to build up her husband's capacities for exercise. But don't encourage him to be a weekend athlete who sits at his desk all week and then overdoes physical work in his spare time.

★ ★ ★

We are less physically active and more sedentary as a result of an automated civilization, but to compensate does not mean to go overboard. Moderate and regular exercise will keep us physically fit.

The role of emotional strain, whether inherited or acquired, is not established. More research, such as that made possible by the American Heart Assn., will improve doctors' judgment on this question.

Meanwhile, there is no harm in the wife helping her husband to be more tranquil and avoid tensions.

CAN SET EXAMPLE

She can set the example in engaging in activities that are enjoyable but, at the same time, are not so ambitious as to prove frustrating. She can suggest avocations for her husband.

★ ★ ★

A wife can help her husband cut down on cigarette smoking and point out the statistical risk involved to young people.

There is no doubt that excessive cigarette smoking (two or more packs a day) is associated with higher risk. We do not know why this is so.

★ ★ ★

Some revisions in the husband's way of life may be necessary as you can see. Most involve proper investment of time and restraint. It is a speculative investment but the rewards may be great.

★ ★ ★

Let me note that many doctors are following these precautionary steps, accepting the various inconveniences and changes, to safeguard their own hearts. Any time a doctor swallows the unpalatable medicine he so eagerly prescribes, you probably have something worthwhile.

(NEXT: Your husband's weight—and you.)

THE NIEUW AMSTERDAM TRIO

Famous Chamber Trio at Pierce High Tuesday

The harmonious blending of Vienna with the American scene in the world of music awaits Waterford Township area residents at a concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Pierce Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

The curtain will rise on three internationally famous artists, the Nieuw Amsterdam Trio, playing violin, cello and piano in a large repertoire of music.

Sponsored by the Waterford Township Civic Music Association, each trio member has a wealth of musical background. Edith Mocsanyi has been a soloist and pianist with many leading chamber music organizations in the United States and her native Vienna.

Violinist Joseph Rabushka appeared in his first solo recital at Carnegie Hall at the age of 17. Later he appeared in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Philadelphia. He also has toured England and other European countries.

Daniel Vandersall played the cello with the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra after his graduation from Louisiana State University. Later he was cello instructor at the Westminster Choir College in Princeton, N.J.

CALLED BEST

Acclaimed by music critics as one of the most distinguished and successful chamber ensembles, it has been called the best of its kind.

★ ★ ★

The trio performs literature of the French and the romantic period and the work of such modern composers as Shostakovich, Martinu, Piston and Ives.

Any member of a Michigan civic music association besides township members, in Michigan may attend this concert.

U.S. Laundries Provide Largest Service Volume

JOLIET, Ill. (UPI)—Professional laundries have become the nation's largest personal service industry, with an annual sales volume of more than $1.6 billion, the American Laundry Institute said.

The institute said the industry processed more than 5 billion pounds of laundry a week—including a weekly average of more than 50 million men's shirts.

In sprucing up the nation the industry yearly uses 150 million pounds of soap, 37 million pounds of starch and 950 million collar supports.

Let Him Take Shoes Off—Abby

Tell Him to Keep Shirt On

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 15 and her boy friend is 16. They are "going steady."

ABBY

I don't object to his making himself at home here, but I think he is overdoing it. He takes off his shoes, and even his shirt, in my living room. He goes to the refrigerator and helps himself whenever he feels like it.

I don't want to be an old stick-in-the-mud, but is this the way all teenagers act? If so, I'll keep quiet. If not, I would like to call it to a halt. Please advise me.

TEEN-AGER'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: No well-bred teen-ager (or adult, for that matter) goes to the refrigerator and helps himself. Most teen-agers DO take off their shoes, but I would certainly tell the young man to keep his shirt on.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I took a trip two years ago. While traveling, we met a very nice Australian couple. We exchanged Christmas cards and that was the extent of our friendship.

We just received a letter from them telling us they are naming us "godparents" for their newborn son. I thought godparents had to be present at the christening.

Does this mean we have to send a gift now and one every year on his birthday? It takes forever to get parcels from here to Australia unless they go airmail, which would cost more than the gift.

Is it possible to refuse to be godparents? Has anyone ever done it before? Should we decline?

SHIPS THAT PASSED IN THE NIGHT

DEAR SHIPS: It is. They have. And you should, (diplomatically.)

DEAR ABBY: Why do mothers of babies who are not able to talk insist on putting their little darling on the phone when people call to talk to their parents?

They will say, "Want to talk to Billy?" and before you know it, Billy is screaming into the phone. You are forced to talk baby talk and coo to him while the mother tries in vain to get him to say "Cookie" or "Hi" or something, while you just sit patiently and wait for it all to end.

Many of my friends are guilty of this boring fault and you'd be doing a public service to wake them up.

MOTHER OF THREE AND NOT GUILTY

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLE AT HOME": Someone once said, "Divorce is hash made of domestic scraps." Your "scraps" are too large to digest. Better talk it over with the clergyman who joined you two together.

Know His Failings, Don't Expect Much

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

During the last 12 years of her life my mother lived with me and my husband. Always my younger brother refused her any support on the grounds that he had children to raise.

Six months ago after my mother's death, he demanded her diamond ring, silver and other valuables. At that time I was so worn out with nursing and strain that I didn't say anything.

But now I feel such resentment at him that I'm getting afraid of my own feelings. If you could help me . . ."

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: You expected love from your brother, didn't you?

What caused you to expect it from him? What reason had he given you to trust his affection in your years of experience with him? You know what I'm talking about.

In this increasingly resentful state of yours, you must have recalled many, many old memories of your brother's disinterest in you. Now it's time to add them all up, not to more resentment of him but to the key question:

"Why did I trust a person that my own experience had proved unreliable?"

We always have to look into ourselves when we are shocked by another person's mistreatment of us.

Though a brother or sister has repeatedly demonstrated disregard of us, we will insist on believing that he loved us—and go to pieces when a situation like yours exposes what's more, we may remain in pieces until we are ready to see that it's been our dependent blindness, not the brother or sister who has been our undoing.

The truth you have been collecting can now make you free. Accept your brother as the person your memories have told you he is—and you will withdraw your unrealistic hope of love from him.

Your deep disappointment in him will collapse with the collapse of false expectations of him—and soon you'll be quietly able to start negotiation for the return to you of your share of your mother's belongings.

MRS. ALAN M. SHAVER

Shaver-Martz Nuptials Performed in Bloomfield

A reception at Devon Gables followed the marriage of Ellen Marjorie Martz and Alan M. Shaver of Lathrup Village Wednesday evening in Nativity Episcopal Church, Bloomfield Township.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence S. Martz of Oak Grove Drive, Bloomfield Hills. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leo Gase of Lathrup Village and the late Manila G. Shaver.

The bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over silk taffeta was styled with Sabrina neckline, three-quarter length sleeves and chapel train. A lace cap embroidered with seed pearls secured the fingertip veil of French illusion.

Honor matron, Mrs. Thomas R. Bambas of Birmingham appeared in bouffant emerald green silk chiffon styled with scoop neckline and soft cummerbund. A short green veil fell from a crown of green velvet leaves. She held a cascade of pale yellow cymbidium orchids with brown velvet leaves.

On the esquire side were A. James Sniderman of Flint, best man, with the bride's brother Richard E. Martz of Lyme, N. H., and Manila G. Shaver Jr. of Anoka, Minn., brother of the bridegroom, seating the guests.

After a New England honeymoon the couple will live at New Haven, Conn., where the bridegroom will continue his studies at Yale University Law School.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Martz chose a street-length dress of teal blue silk crepe with satin trim and corsage of Talisman roses. Moss green orchids complemented the dress of beige and brown silk chiffon chosen by the mother of the bridegroom.

Retread for Waistbands

Elastic waistbands in children's underwear often wear out before the rest of the garment. When this happens, thread a darning needle with elastic thread and run twice through the center of the old elastic. Use half-inch stitches and pull the thread to the desired size.

MR. and MRS. MAURICE E. FITZGERALD

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Fitzgerald will be observed Saturday with an anniversary Mass at 10 a. m. in St. Vincent de Paul Church. A reception is scheduled from 1 to 4 in the parish hall. The couple's children are Maurice E. Fitzgerald Jr. of Pontiac; Thomas G. Fitzgerald, Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Clem Sturm, Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Lyle Miller, Portland, Ore.; Mrs. Ivan Dennis, Lynwood, Wash.; Mrs. Francis Baker, Las Vegas, Nev.; John M. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Mac Hallenbeck, Drayton Plains. There are 26 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Say Vows at High Mass

At a nuptial high mass Saturday in St. Mary Magdalene Church, Hazel Park, Margaret Marez exchanged vows with Manuel F. Villarreal before the Rev. Norman Thomas, formerly of Pontiac.

Daughter of Pascual Marez of Madison Heights and the late Mrs. Marez, the bride appeared in a princess-line gown of white silk taffeta. Re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced the sweetheart neckline and the bouffant skirt styled with a circular cathedral train.

Her elbow-length butterfly veil was attached to a tiara of aurora borealis crystals. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and carried a cascade of white orchids, roses and lilies of the valley.

Their ballerina - length white taffeta dresses with white organza overskirts, were complemented by jeweled crowns with nose veils, and blue shoes. Blue-tinted roses comprised their semicascade bouquets.

MRS. MANUEL F. VILLARREAL

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Andrew Villarreal of East Pike Street and the late Mr. Villarreal, had Gilbert Garcia for his best man. Joseph E. Bateman served as groomsman, Raynaldo Travino and Henry Prall ushered.

After the reception in UAW-CIO Hall on Kennett Road, the bride changed to a sheer wool suit of winter white, and white fur capelet. The couple will be at home on Blaine Avenue. A honeymoon trip to Washington, D. C. is planned for summer.

Originally only the beet leaves were edible. Cultivation gradually increased the size of the roots until it is a root rather than a leaf vegetable.

Specialized Exercises Work

Yes, the Weight Will Off

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "I do not understand how alcohol can make one gain weight since I have read that the calories from alcohol are not stored as fat but are burned right up."

A. These calories are not stored as fat and are burned up rapidly, BUT they supply energy which otherwise would have come from food and therefore food is stored as fat which would have been used for the energy the alcohol supplied. See?

Q. "Will you please repeat your exercises for reducing the abdomen? I want to give them a try and misplaced the newspaper which had them in it. Will these flatten the abdomen and firm the muscles? Housework won't do it, I have found out."

A. It is true that special exercises use the muscles in a way housework doesn't. I will be glad to send my tested abdomen slimming exercises to any of my readers who send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with their request. Address me in care of The Pontiac Press. In the meantime here is a good one to begin with.

Lie on the floor on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Raise the right leg up to right angles to the body. Return leg to floor. Raise the left leg up to right angles to the body. Return to the floor. Knees must be stiff throughout this exercise. Continue, alternating right and left. This is an easy beginning exercise. The leaflet will give you more difficult ones.

Q. "I have a baby 7 months old and I am still not down to my normal weight. I'm 12 pounds over weight. My waist is three inches too large. Please give me an exercise for this and for my abdomen which is two inches too big."

A. You will have to count calories, too, since you are overweight, but exercise will speed the loss in inches in the spots you wish to reduce. Start with the abdominal exercise I already have given today.

This time bend to the right trying to touch the fingers of your left hand to your right toe. Raise trunk. Continue, alternating. If you cannot do this, bend over as far as you can with stiff knees.

Military Abroad Must Cut Spending

McNamara Adds 53 Planes to U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration's first efforts to improve the nation's defenses will add 53 planes, including the first jet transports, to the troop airlift fleet and reduce military spending abroad.

* * *

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has ordered 30 big C135 jets, each capable of carrying 80 fully armed men, with deliveries scheduled to start in June and continue at a rate of two a month.

In a drive to slow the critical drain on U.S. gold reserves, the approximately one million American military personnel and dependents overseas will be asked to cut their annual spending by an average of $80 each.

These were the major programs announced by McNamara Thursday when he held his first Pentagon news conference after only two weeks in office.

He said that the additional planes, to include 23 C103E turboprops as well as the jets, will require congressional appropriations of $172 million and transfer of an unspecified amount from existing funds.

Both the jets and the turboprops have intercontinental range. The turboprops, some of which already are in the fleet, also can carry 64 paratroopers each on shorter "tactical" missions.

The former Ford Motor Co. president, reminding the nearly 200 newsmen that he had sold his automobile stocks, said one way to reduce spending would be to cut down on the purchase of foreign cars.

He said it was entirely possible that the privilege of shipping foreign cars back to the United States at government expense would be withdrawn unless the program to reduce military spending showed satisfactory progress.

The economies are being substituted for the Eisenhower administration plan, canceled by President Kennedy earlier in the week, that would have cut the number of military dependents abroad from 487,000 to about 265,000.

AMC to Cut Output, Work Force Shortly

DETROIT (AP)—American Motor Corp. announced today it will halt auto production for one week beginning Monday and produce fewer cars thereafter. AMC has plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.

Some 20,000 workers will be idled during the week-long shutdown, a company spokesman said.

When work is resumed Feb. 13, the firm said, production schedules will be reduced 9 per cent and an unspecified number of employes will be laid off indefinitely. Current daily output is 1,755 units.

About 25,000 communities in the U. S. depend entirely for their transportation on motor vehicles. They range from tiny hamlets to Key West, Fla., with a population of 30,000.

JA to Close Big Week With Dance

Many Pontiac Junior Achievers will close out their celebration of National Junior Achievement Week tonight at their seventh annual Sno-Ball at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

The big dance will be held in the River Front Ballroom.

It will be attended by Junior Achievement members from throughout Southeastern Michigan and is open to the public.

During JA Week, which began Monday, some 16 JA business centers in Southeastern Michigan have sponsored trade fairs at which they displayed and sold their products.

HELD HERE, TOO

The dance runs from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Other highlights of the week included the JA President's Banquet held Wednesday in Detroit. Thomas B. Adams, president of Campbell-Ewald Co., was the main speaker.

* * *

Southeastern Michigan is one of the most active JA regions in the country. There now are 70,000 teenage members in 42 states and Hawaii.

1960 Ford Profits Drop 5.2 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. reports its 1960 profits totaled $427,855,958 — a drop of 5.2 per cent despite the second-best year in unit sales of cars and trucks in company history.

Henry Ford II, president and board chairman, said in an annual statement yesterday that net income per share amounted to $7.80 last year, or 44 cents a share less than 1959. He also said profits in the first quarter of this year will fall below those of the record first quarter of 1960.

Sales also dropped slightly last year, totaling $5,237,889,262 compared to $5,356,871,344 for the preceding year.

At the same time that profits and dollar volume sales dipped, Ford said unit sales for 1960 mounted to 2,225,859, compared to 2,091,106 in 1959. He said the unit sales were second highest in Ford history.

About one million Chinese built the 715-mile Burma Road in a year, using hammers and hoes and carrying gravel surfacing in wicker baskets.

Mobutu Rips Dag's Congo Army Plan

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Gen. Joseph Mobutu said today Dag Hammarskjold's plan to reorganize the Congolese army and keep it out of politics really means disarming the force and "we will never allow it."

* * *

"The United Nations is playing with fire," Mobutu told a news conference. "To disarm the ANC (National Congolese Army) would mean war."

* * *

The conference was called to reply to the U.N. secretary-general's Security Council speech suggesting that the Congolese army be reorganized.

SUPPORTS KASAVUBU

"All the ANC needs is money to buy planes for its paratroopers and arms for its soldiers," Mobutu said.

* * *

Northern Players Preparing for 'Pygmalion' Feb. 10-11

By DIANE MARY WALTER

Producing a play is not all "play." This fact is proven by the Pontiac Northern Players.

Long rehearsals after school outline the activities of the cast as curtain call for the production, "Pygmalion," draws near.

The Northern Players have been in rehearsal for about two months. This week they're putting the finishing touches on the George Bernard Shaw classic for performances next Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10-11.

Eliza Doolittle, a cockney flower girl whom Higgins seemingly transforms into a lady by teaching her to speak cultivated English, is played by Jean Isbell.

In the process of transforming a poor girl into a lady, Higgins changes a human life. By lifting Eliza above her own class and providing her with only the accessories or privileges of another, Higgins makes her unfit for both.

* * *

Eliza is characterized as a proud, stubborn girl, even though educated only by the crudities of poverty and the gutter.

She asks Higgins to make good his boast that he can pass her off as a duches within three months and offers to pay him for lessons which will take her off the streets into a position as saleswoman in a flower shop.

Months later, when Higgins has indeed proved his boast, she resents his indifference toward her and runs away to his mother, played by Sharon Bratt, who has befriended her.

Higgins' role is in contrast to that of Colonel Pickering, played by Ken Freeman, who finances the transformation. As a fellow phonetician, Pickering approves of the project as a scientific experiment, but as a gentleman he sympathizes with Eliza as a sensitive human being.

Jolene Hundell, student director of dramatics club, acts as Mrs. Hill, dominating mother to Diane Walter, who plays the role of Miss Hill. Dick Pointon too, is victim of the brow beating by Jolene, as he plays Miss Hill's brother.

* * *

Future journalists of the Pontiac Northern Polaris staff recently visited Seaholm High School in Birmingham for a news conference.

The conference was open to all high school students interested in improving their techniques of writing.

They attended lectures and also became better acquainted with the "dos" and don'ts" of writing, and the advantages and disadvantages of journalism.

Mrs. Ann Morrow is advisor of the news staff and also counselor at Pontiac Northern.

WORK CAN BE FUN — You'd never know it from looking at this picture, but these Pontiac Northern students are really hard at work. They've spent long hours rehearsing for next weekend's production of "Pygmalion." Running through an obviously funny scene are (from left, standing) Richard Panton, Barb Berryman, Sharon Bratt and Jean Isbell, who takes her work sitting down (in the bathtub).

HEADLINERS — These are a few of the headliners working out a routine for Emmanuel Christian High School's Minstrel Show. The program will take place at the high school next Tuesday night. There are many surprises in store for the audience. For example, if you look at this picture and see two boys and two girls — look again. Kneeling are Marilyn Wagner (left) and Judie Carie. Standing are Joanne Themm and John Miller. Marilyn does a special "Al Jolson Routine." All of the performers are seniors at Emmanuel.

To Stage 'Dixie Rhythm' Tuesday

Minstrel Show Is Slated at Emmanuel

By KATHY McKEE

Curtains will go up for the 31-member cast at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7th in the school auditorium.

Kay McCoy, senior homeroom teacher, will be director.

Tom Sutton and Jim Pittman are the lively end men. Comical skits will be presented by Jim Newbanks, Evelyn Chapel, Bob Hutto, Carolyn Brewer, and Jim Dennis.

Marilyn Wagner will be pantomiming "Swanee" and "Mammie," two of Al Jolson's hits. A boys' quartet composed of Jim Dennis, Wayne Young, Jim Newbanks and Joel Lauckner will also pantomime a popular spiritual, "Dry Bones."

Musical presentations will be given by a girls trio made up of Carolyn Martin, Judie Carie, and Carolyn Ludwig. They will sing "Shortnin' Bread."

The entire class will be singing in the chorus and participating throughout the event.

Tickets will be sold at the door. Admission is 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Principals Will Visit Three Pontiac Schools

Pontiac area high school and junior high school principals will be among the 650 Michigan principals attending the annual conference of the National Association of Secondary School Principals Feb. 11-15 in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

The conference will feature a tour of Pontiac Northern High School and Washington and Madison Junior High Schools in Pontiac.

SCIENCE FAIR SLATED

The Linnean Society has set April 14 and 15 as the dates for the annual Science Fair to be held in the Pontiac Central cafeteria.

Area students may enter projects on any aspect of science in the elementary, junior high and high school divisions.

Qualified judges from nearby colleges will view the projects and award a fair, good, excellent, or superior rating. Cash prizes will be given the best all-around project in each division.

ELECT CHOIR OFFICERS

Re-elected president was Ed Haroutunian. Other officers are Tom Murphy, vice president; Judy Hinkley, secretary; and Jackie Mullen, treasurer.

Students who assist in the chemistry lab during their free hour perform a valuable service to the school. These students assist in grading papers, setting out supplies, typing records and cleaning up.

Waterford Ski Clubbers Plan Big Weekend Trip

By BARB SECAN

"Caberfae, here we come!" These will be the words of anxious Waterford Township High School skiers next Friday as they head for the snowy slopes.

Spending an exciting fun-filled weekend of skiing will be ski-club members.

The club will board a ski train here and travel north to Caberfae for two days, returning late Sunday afternoon by train.

The club chose this popular ski area because of its excellent skiing facilities and partially because of its resort atmosphere.

Under the sponsorship of Dave Freeman, the group plans to lodge at the Manton Inn near Caberfae.

Aside from this adventurous weekend, the ski club also skis weekly at Mt. Holly. A large number of students belong to the club and everyone looks forward to skiing on Wednesday.

Drama Club Plans 1st Performance at St. Frederick's

By MARY ELLEN DETMER

The drama enthusiasts at St. Frederick High School are working hard on their first play, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Members of the Drama Club are gaining experience not only in acting but in costuming, props, set construction and make-up.

Shirley Green and Art Wagner are happy winners of the top cash prizes in the sale. Shirley received $15 for selling 115 cannisters, while Art received $10 for selling 84 cannisters.

Their sales, combined with the sales of the rest of the senior class made the drive a definite success.

Speakers Active at Oxford High

By LINDA JACOB

Four Oxford High School students have participated this year as active members on the school's debate squad.

* * *

On the affirmative team are Laura Pearce and Denis Boris. On the negative are David Kenny and Dennis King.

This season the negative team has not been able to win any of the league debates but the affirmative is doing quite well by winning two out of three of their debates.

Both the affirmative and the negative teams have won many of their practice debates.

* * *

Some of the schools that the Oxford team have met are North Branch, Romeo, Troy and others.

* * *

The Oxford team was host to the team from Harper Woods Notre Dame on Wednesday.

* * *

Forensics activities are also being planned at Oxford. Students interested in the program are allowed to choose from different categories according to their interests and abilities.

* * *

Forensics is a speech activity which gives high school students the chance to compete with other high schools in the area.

Honors and awards may be won by those students who participate in this program.

* * *

The Oxford Faculty will meet the Orion Faculty in a basketball game assisted by a friendly beast, the donkey.

The game should provide laughs and thrills to all who attend.

TO LEAVE HIS MAPS — Ernest J. Christie, holding weather maps in his New York office, retires after 12 years as chief forecaster for the U. S. Weather Bureau in the New York metropolitan area. Christie, 58, says: "There probably will be a million people glad to see me retire. They think if I leave, the weather will improve."

Gentleman Computer on Display

Age guessing has long been a favorite pastime, but there is a new space computer — called a digital computer — that takes all the guesswork out of it.

But the ladies — be they over 21 — needn't worry, because this computer, which will be on exhibit at Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, Wednesday through March 15, guards their secret well.

When given the correct answers to 10 questions, this computer, developed by Delco Radio Division of General Motors, will accurately announce a man's age.

On a 6-foot case which surrounds the tiny computer (It's one inch thick and 6 by 12 inches in area) are a series of pushbuttons requiring a "yes" or "no" answer to the 10 questions. Using circuit logic, the computer can calculate and report the age in seconds.

But there is a Question 11 and here's where chivalry steps in. "Are you female?" If there is an affirmative answer, the computer first ascertains she is no longer a teen-ager and then bows in gentlemanly fashion.

Cheaper in Hollywood, Says Producer

Fed Up With Film-Making in Europe

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Kirk Douglas blew $12 million on "Spartacus" and is delighted to say he spent almost every buck of it right here in movietown.

Douglas is dead set against squandering American dollars abroad, especially when the investment doesn't pay off.

The actor's feelings on the subject are so strong he has decided to make his next picture, "Montezuma," in Hollywood instead of on location in Mexico as originally planned.

His argument is twofold. Foreign production has become as expensive as local movie making, and the arrogance of natives abroad is becoming hard to take.

"On the first count," Douglas said, "I was advised to shoot 'Spartacus' in Italy to save money. Well, they spent $15 million on 'Ben Hur' over there. My cast cost more money than the 'Ben-Hur' company, so I didn't see where I could save any money in Italy.

"The only thing cheaper about filming in Europe is labor. But it takes so much time to get the movie finished it cancels out the savings.

"American crews are the best in the world, and we shouldn't penalize them because they have a higher standard of living.

"European hotels, food and everything else, including transportation cost more than in the United States, too," he added.

But cost isn't the only thing that rankles the jut-jawed star. The haughty attitude of the people is wormwood and gall to a man interested in turning out a movie.

MORE EXPENSIVE

"I've worked in as many different parts of Europe as any actor," he said. "I made 'The Vikings' over there because there is no place else in the world to find the kind of scenery I needed.

"I just returned from four months in Germany and Austria making 'Town Without Pity,' and while I was on the other side of the pond I learned that it is more expensive to live in London, Paris and Rome than in Hollywood.

"Europeans have a cocky attitude toward Hollywood pictures being made over there. Their favorite pastime is throwing barbs at American movies. It's the chic thing to do — and a great big bore.

"You have to listen to all the claptrap about the great artistic pictures being made by the so-called 'new wave.' I know they have 30 or 40 new wave pictures in France that they can't even sell. They never publicize those stories.

★ ★ ★

"Occasionally a good picture does come out of Italy or France, and everyone yells how great it is. But they produce only one or two top-flight pictures a year. Hollywood turns out dozens."

Because this country has failed to promote its own movie products, Douglas believes United States prestige has dropped tremendously.

"The upsurge in foreign production is interpreted over there as a downcurve in the quality of American pictures," he observed. "This isn't true. They forget a good many of the films that are made in Europe are produced by American companies.

"I've had it with the European point of view. Studios and producers here ought to evaluate the reasons for shooting abroad. They should reconsider. Economically, it costs more money, and they end up with more headaches and poorer quality pictures."

'Report on Hong Kong' Called Splendid Program

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — The way Hong Kong is grabbing TV shows this week, I expect the French to demand equal time for Paris.

On Monday, Barbara Stanwyck flickered through the fabled British crown colony to smash a Communist gang. Jack Paar's filmed show paid Hong Kong a visit on Tuesday.

Rod Taylor takes over the town every Wednesday, of course. And last night, William Holden finally took us on a guided tour of Hong Kong that meant something.

"Report on Hong Kong," as the CBS-TV hour was called, was a splendid program. It didn't give us that romantic rickshaw jazz, or Suzie Wong and her cheerful yum-yum companions from the Nam Kok Hotel. This visit, we moved past the street crowds and the harbor junks and dug into the lives of those faces in the crowd.

Holden began by telling us that Hong Kong has "an important story to tell." The story unfolded as we watched how three Hong Kong families lived.

We met a British banker, prosperous representative of British stability; a wealthy Chinese family that has lived in the colony for generations, and finally a family of Chinese refugees that lived in a flimsy sidewalk shack. Most of the hour dealt with this family's existence.

It was through the hard-working, long - suffering, patient family — parents, babies, grandmother—that Holden's theme developed and proved itself out.

Prolonged exposure to Hong Kong, said Holden, leads to a reaction pattern that goes something like this: first, utter sympathy for the squalid living conditions that so many of the city's three million population endure.

Then you become aware of their "magnificent energy and courage." And you come to admire them for the way they make do with so little — steady diets of rice, little water, no shoes, no money.

And then, said Holden, you suddenly realize that if this kind of energy and determination exists among a few million Hong Kong Chinese, what's going on behind those Kowloon Hills, where 600 million Chinese are busy? The twist was effectively thrown in.

Find 1 Body in Sunken Sea Tower

OTIS AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—Men trapped aboard the Texas Tower when it crashed in a raging storm off the New Jersey coast Jan. 15 may have had a few seconds warning that the giant radar platform was about to collapse.

★ ★ ★

Divers have found only one body inside the huge steel triangular structure now resting on the bottom in 180 feet of water. Another was discovered in the water.

A total of 28 Air Force and Civilian personnel died in the plunge of the tower, nicknamed "Old Shakey" by men who served aboard.

Since there were double doors between the living quarters and the outside decks the absence of bodies inside the structure may indicate the men made a frantic effort to save themselves just before the tower fell.

One body clad in a life jacket was found in the sea afterwards. A second body was sighted and lost in the stormy waves. No trace of the other 25 persons has been found.

Work has begun on installing at Australian National University (Canberra) a tandem electrostatic generator which will bring nuclear research facilities at ANU into world class; U.S.-made machine took two years to build, cost $1,125,000, is seventh of its type, three others being in U.S., two in U.K., one in Canada.

To Use TV in U. of M. Student Orientation

ANN ARBOR — Closed circuit television will play a part in the orientation of many among the estimated 1,000 new students about to enter The University of Michigan.

Among the activities next Thursday will be addresses to the new students by campus leaders.

Seem to Expect Hijacked Liner Back in Service

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UPI)—The Portuguese government apparently expects the hijacked luxury liner Santa Maria to be back on regular cruise service by March 1.

★ ★ ★

In a telegram to the Olivera Travel Agency here Wednesday, the Shao Brothers Shipping Co. said it was advised by the government that the vessel will make her regular departure from Miami next month.

★ ★ ★

However, the telegram added that if "unforeseen circumstances arise," the Santa Maria's sister ship, the Vera Cruz, would make the scheduled trip.

Only two out of five persons in the United States do not eat eggs regularly for breakfast.

OSU Brings 20-Game Streak to 'M'

By The Associated Press

Ohio State takes a 20-game winnng streak to Michigan tomorrow for a regionally televised basketball game (4:30 p.m.) between the Big Ten's leader and tailender.

Michigan, with an 88-58 victory over Western Ontario last night, has a season mark of 4-9 but has not won a conference game in three starts.

The Wolverines, however, have one of the finest scorers in the big Ten. He is John Tidwell, third among league sharpshooters with a 21.6 average.

The top-ranked defending champion Buckeyes have rolled up 15 victories this season, including five in Big Ten competition. They dominate conference statistics by averaging 87.4 points a game holding opponents to an average of 59.2 and having shooting percentages of 46.6 from the field and 82.0 from the foul line.

In other conference games tomorrow, Illinois (2-2) is at Minnesota (4-3), Northwestern (2-4) at Indiana (2-1) and Wisconsin (1-2) at Purdue (3-2).

Michigan State is at Northern Michigan for non-league action while Iowa, ranked No. 6 in the AP poll with a 12-2 mark, takes on Cincinnati in Chicago stadium.

The Wolverines led 46-26 at halftime and held a 34-point advantage at one stage of the second half. Coach Dave Strack used all 13 of his players.

Tom Cole, 6-7 forward, backed Tidwell with 18 points and led Michigan with 13 rebounds.

St. Bonaventure's blitzin' Bonnies, unchallenged No. 2 team in college basketball, have two celebrations underway today.

One, for a whopping 75-61 victory over third-ranked Bradley at New York's Madison Square Garden last night. The second, for word that the little school from Olean, N. Y., has accepted the earliest invitation in history to play as an at-large team in the National Collegiate Athletic Association post-season championship.

The Bonnies, who got 27 points from sharpshooter Tom Stith and brilliant all-around play from Whitey Martin, Fred Crawford and Orrie Jirele against Bradley last night, have won 16 of 17 games this season and their last 7 in a row. A 13-1 spurt midway of the second half shook off Bradley, and cost the Braves their second straight loss and third in 17 games.

Providence, with Johnny Egan and Jim Hadnot each scoring 31 points, pushed its winning streak to eight last night, 115-70 over Creighton, while fifth-ranked North Carolina and Utah won important conference tests, and Notre Dame nipped ninth-ranked St. John's 64-63.

North Carolina (14-2) won its 12th straight and tied idle Duke at 7-0 for the Atlantic Coast conference lead with a comeback 63-56 decision over Maryland. Doug Moe had 23 points and York Larese 17 for the Tar Heels, who used an 11-0 burst to overcome a 9-point Maryland lead late in the first half. North Carolina and fourth-ranked Duke play tomorrow night.

Armand Reo's tip-in with 12 seconds left beat St. Johns (11-4) for Notre Dame — the New York Redmen's third loss in only three games away from the big town this season. Reo had 20 points while St. John's All-America, Tony Jackson, was held to eight.

McKinley, Ralston Penalized

Davis Cuppers Slapped Down for Blowing Tops

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association has decided to be tougher on players who blow their tops on the court—and it has started off by slapping down the country's two top Davis Cup aces, Charles (Chuck) McKinley and Dennis Ralston.

The amateur rules committee Thursday night recommended that the suspension of McKinley be extended to May 1 and that both McKinley and Ralston be placed under probation for the rest of the year.

★ ★ ★

"We'd do the same thing to Barry MacKay and Butch Buchholz but they've turned pro and now are out of our jurisdiction," said one influential member of the committee.

The recommendation now goes to the USLTA executive committee, meeting here tonight. Approval by the higher body is a foregone conclusion.

★ ★ ★

America's tennis governors thus are sharply slapping the wrists of the Davis Cup team which came in for so much criticism during the recent campaign in Australia. The team captain, David Freed of Salt Lake City, was absolved of any blame.

"This won't deprive them of a chance to play at Wimbledon or to play overseas. It shouldn't hurt our Davis Cup chances."

That is a matter of some dispute. McKinley, 19, of St. Louis, and Ralston, 18, of Bakersfield, Calif., are the nation's chief Davis Cup hopes now that MacKay and Buchholz have turned pro.

With the probation cloud hanging over their heads, they may find it difficult to play their best and most relaxed tennis.

As one official put it: "The probation means that if one of them makes a bad move, he really gets it. He may be suspended for a long time."

Leafs Remain Tied for First With Montreal

Toronto Hands Detroit 4th Whitewashing of NHL Season

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Frank Mahovlich is unquestionably the top offensive gun for Toronto, but if the Maple Leafs succeed in dethroning the Montreal Canadiens as National Hockey League and Stanley Cup champions, the big left winger will have to share the glory with goalie Johnny Bower.

Bower, who has been nothing short of spectacular in the nets this season, turned aside 35 shots here Thursday night as the Leafs shut out the Detroit Red Wings, 5-0, before 13,630 cash customers at Olympia.

It was Bower's first shutout of the campaign and his stellar work saddled the punchless Wings with their 4th whitewashing this year, three on home ice. All the previous blankings were administered by the Chicago Black Hawks.

The triumph enabled the high-flying Leafs to remain tied for first place in the NHL with the defending champion Canadiens, who skated to a 7-5 victory over the New York Rangers last night at the Montreal Forum.

Boston's cellar-dwelling Bruins and the Hawks battled to a 2-2 tie at Boston Garden in yesterday's other NHL game.

Mahovlich triggered Toronto's rout of the Red Wings by scoring his 41st goal of the season at 4:59 of the 1st period and he was credited with an assist on Red Kelly's counter in the 5th minute of the 3rd stanza.

Dick Duff gave the Leafs a 2-0 first-period lead by whistling a 25-footer past Detroit netminder Terry Sawchuk in the 17th minute. Dave Keon connected for the Leafs in the middle session at 12:26, then Kelly and George Armstrong scored goals in the final period to finish the rout.

Sawchuk kicked out 27 shots, but he was virtually helpless on at least three of Toronto's five counters and Detroit's leaky defense made a large contribution to the successful Maple Leaf assault.

Bower was solid as a rock and his close-checking teammates greatly aided his efforts. The Wings really never did get an attack well-organized and even when it looked like they might penetrate Bower, Lady Luck would come to the rescue and make him more than equal to the occasion.

Loose pucks set up the first two goals. Mahovlich's 15-foot shot glanced off Sawchuk's left shoulder into the cage and Duff's blazer caromed off his right shoulder.

Keon's 2nd-period goal was made from 10 feet as he whacked home Eddie Shack's rebound. Kelly clicked after taking a perfect pass from Mahovlich and shooting at point blank range on the unprotected Sawchuk. Billy Harris' shot was flicked home by Armstrong at 15:47.

Referee Vern Buffey called a total of seven penalties, four against the Wings, but the infractions played no part in the scoring.

The Red Wings and Maple Leafs meet again Saturday at Toronto, then the Detroiters return to Olympia for a Sunday contest with the Canadiens.

Skowron Angles for Big '61 Contract With Yanks

By United Press International

Bill Skowron is more than a bit displeased with the New York Yankees today and also letting it be known that he doesn't think much of the Pittsburgh Pirates either.

The beetle-browed Skowron revealed yesterday that he has rejected a Yankee contract offer estimated at $30,000. It is understood that the rugged first-baseman, who hit .309 and drove in 91 runs last year, is angling for a contract in the $40,000 class.

That's bad news for general manager Roy Hamey of the Yankees but Bill had even worse news for Danny Murtaugh and his world champion Pirates: He thinks three clubs have a better chance to win the 1961 National League pennant than the Pirates.

"I don't believe they can," Skowron replied when asked whether he thought the Pirates will repeat. "I think the Giants or Dodgers, or perhaps Milwaukee, will win this year."

Skowron said that he and his wife are going to Miami for a two-week vacation and that then he'll return to his Hillsdale, N.J., home "to see how matters stand with the Yankees."

The Pirates, meanwhile, signed world series heroes Bill Mazeroski and Elroy Face, bringing their satisfied list to 16 players. No terms were revealed but each received a raise that placed him in the $25,000 to $30,000 bracket.

Mazeroski's ninth-inning homer gave the Pirates their 10-9 seventh-game victory and Pittsburgh its first world championship since 1925. Face appeared in all four Pirate series victories after a season during which he pitched in 68 games and had a 10-8 record.

The St. Louis Cardinals raised their satisfied list to 30 with the addition of hard-hitting all-around player Joe Cunhingham. Cunningham hit .280 last season and has a .308 lifetime batting mark.

Other clubs continued to round out their rosters as follows:

—The Minnesota twins announced the signing of rookie pitchers Fred Brucbauer, Ted Sadowski and Pete Cimino and rookie catcher Ron Henry.

—Lou Klimchock, highly-touted infielder, was among five players signed by the Kansas City Athletes. Klimchock batted .300 with the A's and .270 with Dallas last season. The others signed were pitchers Bill Kunkel, Ray Blemker and Joe Petrilovic and outfielder Jay Hankins.

—Pitchers Jim Bronstad and Billy Short and catcher Alan Hall signed with the Yankees. Bronstad and Short each pitched briefly for the Yankees in 1960.

Billy Klaus, reserve infielder with the Baltimore Orioles a year ago, agreed to terms with the new Washington Senators. Klaus batted .209 in 46 games last season.

Michigan State Relays Saturday

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Coaches from 24 midwest universities and colleges will test the strength of their track teams here tomorrow in the 38th Michigan State Relays.

★ ★ ★

"There are no titles or championships at stake," he said.

Nearly 400 track and field men were entered in the 18-event program. They come from independent schools and Big Ten, Big Eight, Mid-American and Missouri Valley Conference members.

Michigan was represented by MSU, University of Michigan, Western Michigan, Central Michigan, Detroit and Northern Michigan.

Buckner Wins 9th Straight Decision

Undefeated Buckner Finance, running away from everybody in the Class B City League basketball race, chalked up victory No. 9 last night at Pontiac Central by trimming the runnerup Auburn Heights Merchants, 57-46.

Buckner iced the decision with a 22-11 bulge in the 3rd quarter after being held to a 29-22 halftime lead. Jerry Paul paced the winner's well-balanced offense with 13 points. Gary Acker swished 16 for the Merchants, whose record now stands 5-4.

Felice Market, presently occupying 2nd place in the Class C derby, dealt Smith Fuel a 63-45 licking in yesterday's other scheduled game. Joe Pinkerton was the top scorer for Felice with 20 points while the loser's John Lovelace tallied 12.

Greek Merchants slammed R & R Motors 50-39 as Ernie Savas and Phil Felice matched 14-point efforts. Both were Waterford Class B contests.

Heating Upsets Flyers to Gain NL Hockey Final

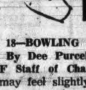
Underdog North Woodward Heating skated into the finals of the City Junior Hockey League's National division tournament Thursday night by conquering the Sylvan Flyers, 6-4, on Northside Park ice.

★ ★ ★

The favored Flyers fell behind, 5-2, in the 3rd period and the deficit was too much to overcome. Bob Piaskowski scored the hat trick for the winners and Ross Luther tallied two goals in a losing cause.

The Wooddard skaters will be underdogs again Saturday morning at 9:30 when they battle the unbeaten Mountain View Rangers for the National circuit championship.

Standard Forge and the older Rangers will complete Saturday's title doubleheader at the Northside ice rink by clashing for the American loop crown at 11 o'clock. Forge is a slight favorite.



BOWLING BEAUTY

NO. 18—BOWLING SLANG
By Dee Purcello
AMF Staff of Champions

You may feel slightly out of it when more experienced bowlers use the jargon peculiar only to the tenpin game.

As you do more bowling, you'll begin to use most of the slang. Here are a few of the more widely used words and phrases that will start you off:

TURKEY — Three strikes in a row.

DOUBLE PINOCHLE — The 4-6-7-10 split.

BABY SPLIT — The 3-10 or 2-7 leave after the first ball of the frame.

PICKET FENCE — The 1-2-4-7 or 1-3-6-10 spare leaves.

WASHOUT — The 1-2-10 or 1-2-4-10 spare.

LIGHT HIT — Ball that only hits a small part of the headpin on the right side.

RUNNING LANE — One that will produce a large hook or curve without much effort by the bowler.

STIFF LANE — One on which the bowler has difficulty making the ball hook or curve.

TAP — A single pin, usually the 7 or 10, that remains after a seemingly perfect strike.

FLAT APPLE — A ball that deflects and does little damage as it hits the pins.

FOUNDATION — Strike in the ninth frame.

END of series.

'Must' for PCH to Stay in 2nd

By BILL CORNWELL

The Chiefs of Pontiac Central try to keep their grip on 2nd place tonight when they tangle with dangerous Flint Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at Flint's Ballenger Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

Art Van Ryzin's PCH cagers will be gunning for their 8th victory in 11 starts and 5th league win against two defeats. They're currently tied with Arthur Hill for 2nd in the Saginaw Valley standings.

Flint Central, a much better team than its 6-3 over-all record and 3-3 SVC mark would indicate, is seeking revenge for an earlier 58-43 loss to the Chiefs on the PCH court.

A faint-hearted attempt by the Chiefs this evening will surely be fatal. It will take an all-out effort to conquer the run-and-shoot Indians of Joe Dowdy in their own teepee.

* * *

As a matter of fact, it was not until the 4th quarter of their first meeting that the Chiefs were able to pull away after being held to a slim two-point lead.

The two teams battled nip-and-tuck for three periods and the Chiefs led, 39-37, entering the final stanza. Then they spurted to wrap it up.

Flint Central is still stringing along with the same five boys who played against PCH the first time, but the personnel situation has changed on West Huron street.

Lanky Otto Kennedy, a 6-6 center, and 5-7 guard Roy Couser were promoted to the varsity squad during the interim and both started for the Chiefs in last week's 54-45 victory over Arthur Hill.

* * *

Van Ryzin is expected to start Kennedy and Couser again tonight with jumping jack George Fed, muscular Bradell Pritchett and sharp-shooting Clarence Douglas completing the top unit.

The Indians like to press on defense and this should be a vigorous challenge to the quick-moving Couser, who plays the "quarterback" spot.

Forward Cloyce Dickerson is the leading scorer for the Flint quintet and Jerry Roberson trails him by only one point. Jim Toles, Rick Moore and Dick Horning are the Indians' other regulars and all five have often scored in double figures to demonstrate their well-balanced offense.

The speedy Indians are a basketball-happy outfit. They have been averaging 70.8 points per game, scoring 98 one time and 80 another. Their 43 total at PCH was their lowest of the campaing.

In other Valley competition tonight, unbeaten and league-leading Saginaw High plays at Bay City Central and Flint Northern goes to Arthur Hill.

Royals' Coach Defends Wilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf of the Cincinnati Royals today voiced disagreement with coach Paul Seymour of St. Louis who had said that 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain has nothing going for him but his height.

"Just because he's 7-1 doesn't make him a good playen," Wolf said of the Philadelphia star after he had scored 45 points Thursday night to lead the Warriors to a 133-118 National Basketball Association victory over Cincinnati. Jack Twyman, with 25 points, and Oscar Robertson with 24, were high for Cincinnati.

"Swede Halbrook (of Syracuse) is 7-3 but he can't get the things done Chamberlain does," said Wolf. "The fact that Chamberlain is 7-1 and has ability makes him much greater."

The fourth-place Royals' loss in the nightcap of a Convention Hall doubleheader hurt their Western Division playoff chances. The loss left them two games behind Los Angeles, which defeated first-place St. Louis 116-115 in the opening game on Frank Selvy's foul shot in the last five seconds.

LEADS HUSKIES — Jerry Heard scored one of Pontiac Northern's three pins as the Huskies finished unbeaten against Inter-Lakes rivals by whipping tough Southfield last night. He has lost only one match all season.

PNH Matmen Roll On

Pontiac Northern completed a scweep of Inter-Lakes opponents by beating Southfield 27-15 as Walled Lake was taking Waterford by the same score last night. Pontiac Central took a 42-8 drubbing at Bay City Handy.

Successive decisions by Winfred Miracle and Dave Fox and Jerry Heard's pin enabled the Huskies pull away after Southfield had rallied to trail only 16-12 with four matches to go. A tourney loss for Heard is the only setback for the trio all season. It was Northern's 8th dual win in nine starts.

Falls by Wes Cottrell, Ron Wik and big John Van Sicklen paced Walled Lake which came from behind twice early to take command.

Barry Whittaker turned in his best showing of the season to get PCH off in front but it was all Handy from then on except for a 5-0 decision won by Curt Lee.

Hits $50,000 Hole-in-One

February Good for January

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Spokane's little known Al Mengert —trying to trade austerity in the North Woods for prosperity in the desert—held a slim and surprising lead today going into round three of the Palm Springs Golf Classic.

But the unrivaled conversation piece here was an even bigger surprise—a hole-in-one that could turn into a $50,000 stroke of luck for Don January.

* * *

January, a 31-year-old Texan who played golf for 24 years without scoring an ace, hit the jackpot on the fly Thursday at the 148-yard 15th hole on the Indian Wells Country Club course.

The sponsors of this 90-hole, $50,000 event have offered a $50,000 bonus to any pro scoring an ace, and if no one else makes it before Sunday night, January will have the plump prize to himself.

Mengert, also 31, shot a 6-under-par 65 Thursday at Thunderbird and came in with a two-day score of 133. The former amateur star was just a stroke in front of Bob Rosburg and Art Wall Jr., and only two strokes ahead of Fred Hawkins, Jay Hebert, George Bayer and Dave Marr.

January's hole-in-one, accomplished with an 8-iron, had several engaging aspects. One of them was that the slender Dallas golfer thought at first his ball was stuck in a tree instead of a hole.

There was actually a second hole in one Thursday—scored by Sam Tobias of Bakersfield, Calif., on the 217-yard 12th at Eldorado, but Tobias, unhappily, is an amateur, and all he gets for his rare accomplishment is a golf cart.

St. Fred Seeks 1st Loop Title in 19 Years, PNH Home

By CHUCK ABAIR

St. Frederick seeks the school's 1st league basketball championship in 19 years, Pontiac Northern goes after its 16th consecutive Inter-Lakes victory, highly rated Holly and Ferndale attempt to continue unbeaten.

Those are some of the headliners tonight on the 1st big area prep hoop schedule of February as the schools start thinking in terms of titles and tournament play.

The Rams, who won a district tourney trophy last March, are heavy favorites to wrap up the Suburban Catholic crown at St. Benedict although Coach Gene Wright is expecting more trouble than his charges had in a 52-34 December romp here.

Key Raven player Ron Bosman missed the earlier meeting and the club has improved as indicated in wins over St. Mike and Orchard Lake. St. Fred has looked good this week in drills.

A defeat tonight would leave a Feb. 7 contest at St. James as the decider. OL St. Mary and Royal Oak St. Mary could tie by winning their remaining games if St. Fred bowed twice. But a three-way deadlock would still mean a title for the Rams under the Catholic League setup.

The locals would take the crown on a comparative score basis between the trio if they tied, according to Wright. A two-way knot, however, would force a playoff Feb. 10 to decide which team would represent the loop in the Catholic playoffs beginning Feb. 12 at University of Detroit.

OLSM hosts St. Clement and Royal Oak entertains St. James while St. Michael, hoping for a 1st division berth, meets St. Rita at Madison Junior High.

The Waterford-Northern affair at PNH could be much more interesting than the earlier 52-24 flusky rout. The Skippers have not only won four of their last five outings but they have averaged 62 points per start in six games since the previous meeting of nearby rivals.

Ed Stigers, Dick Shipman and Gary Moran have sparked the turnabout. Stigers has averaged 21.8 in five games after totaling only 30 points for four. Shipman has gone 10.8 after bagging only 16 digits in three tilts. Moran has averaged nine after a slow start. Northern has won five in a row since taking a beating at the hands of Pontiac Central sparked by Mike Fedynik and good balance.

Holly's closest call this far was its 49-44 triumph at Bloomfield Hills. The Broncos hope to have it much easier in the return engagement. That was the only game Ron Morjan & Company have been held under 61. The Barons may have other ideas. They have a four-game victory streak going and have dropped only one of six since bowing to Holly in an excellent debut for new coach Ed Wichert.

Milford is at West Bloomfield, Clarkston takes on Clarenceville and Brighton goes to Northville rounding out the Wayne-Oakland slate with 2nd place seemingly the main issue left.

Avondale will be idle awaiting a Saturday invasion of Rochester while contenders for the Jackets' Oakland B lead battle. Oak Park is at Troy in the big one. Fitzgerald should stay alive by slamming Madison. Lake Orion should take its 3rd straight against Clawson.

Ortonville can match St. Fred's feat of being assured at least a tie tie by winning its crucial home contest with Millington. The Hawks have won six straight starting with a 57-56 verdict at Millington. The Cards have been successful their last eight tilts out. Oxford joins Southfield in another desperate bid for that elusive triumph No. 1 at North Branch in the other South Central duel.

Eleswhere, RO Dondero vs. Fordson, Utica is at Lake Shore, Farmington Our Lady tackles St. Francis Xavier, Lamphere visits Lutheran East, Birmingham Groves hosts Cherry Hill and Country Day vs. Huron. Emmanuel is at Grosse Pointe University School Saturday afternoon. Romeo goes to Mt. Clemens, Cranbrook is at home against Shady Side in its Inter-State opener and Royal Oak Shrine plays St. Patrick tomorrow night.

Pontiac Press Photo

Baptist Church Cagers to Play All-Star Team

Marimont Baptist Church which won the Pontiac area Christian Service Brigade basketball league championship, will meet the All-Star team of the league Monday, February 6th at 7:00 p.m. in the Hawthorne School gym.

In March, the Marimont team will enter the regional playoff against the Detroit winner and the victor will then go to Wheaton College for the National Christian Service Brigade finals.

23 Olympians in Melrose Games; Jones in Hurdles

NEW YORK (AP)—The 54th edition of the Millrose Games with 23 Olympians from five countries shooting for titles takes over Madison Square Garden tonight with two big questions to be answered:

1. Will John Thomas go all out to beat Valery Brumel's fantastic high jump of 7 feet, 4½ inches made in Leningrad last Saturday?

2. Is Istvan Roszavolgyi of Hungary ready to make a serious threat to break Ron Delany's 4:01.4 world indoor mile record?

As for Roszavolgyi, there is no question but that he will try to break Delany's record. The 32-year-old Hungarian army captain admits he goes for a record every time out and freely predicts he'll not only break Delany's standard, but probably become the first runner in history to go under four minutes for an indoor mile.

★ ★ ★

Mal Spence of Arizona State University and the British West Indies will defend his 600 title against Cliff Cushman of Kansas and George Kerr, also of the BWI.

Kennedy's Recession Remedy Poses Big Financing Problem

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—How to pay for President Kennedy's proposed crash program for braking the recession he says is with us and may get worse?

Industrial and financial leaders — and ordinary taxpayers — today are studying his economic message to Congress for a clue to that. More taxes? A bigger federal debt? More inflation?

★ ★ ★

Many agree with the President that the need to do something is more pressing than a temporary imbalance of the federal budget. Others fear this will just open the fiscal gates to still more spending and eventually to more monetary inflation and rising prices.

TO PAY FOR ITSELF?

The President says that in time the program will pay for itself—by stimulating the economy and thus providing the increased incomes which the Treasury will tap for larger tax returns.

★ ★ ★

His argument: the budget prepared by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower estimates Treasury revenue in the 1962 fiscal year of $82.3 billion. But if the economy was operating at its full potential, Kennedy says, the revenue would be $90 billion. This is because the Treasury gets the greatest share of its receipts from taxes on individual and corporate incomes—the more prosperous the economy, the greater the Treasury take.

★ ★ ★

The President further pledges that he would move to brake any resurgence of monetary inflation just as he now proposes quick federal spending programs to give consumers more money to spend and thus brake the recession.

President Kennedy also has his eye on new revenue sources for the Treasury. He will ask Congress for "measures to remove several unwarranted special tax benefits, and to improve tax compliance and administration."

Business and individuals will have to wait for him to spell out the so-called loopholes he proposes to close.

WON'T LIKE MEASURES

But industries affected won't like the measures, whether they be aimed at depletion allowances for oil and mining companies or at stock options and other auxiliaries to salaries for corporate executives.

And many will hope for a moderate course in another problem he describes this way: "Rapid technological change is resulting in serious employment dislocations, which deny us the full stimulus to growth which advancing technology makes possible."

The President suggests a study of the problem by a group drawn from labor, management and the public.

★ ★ ★

And he hopes Congress will help by modifying "the income tax laws to provide additional incentives for investment in plant and equipment." He thinks this should help price stability also since "price increases for many products and services have occurred because these industries have lagged behind the march of productivity and technological advance."

Some of his proposals — like increased unemployment benefits —should bring more spending money into the economy quickly. The President doesn't estimate how much.

★ ★ ★

Others—like lowering interest charges on home mortgages — would be longer in taking effect and only if it's a high carrying charge that is deterring home buyers, rather than high building costs or shrinking demand.

★

The bigger potential drain on the Treasury would lie in such plans as federal funds for education and Social Security benefits —and in the chance that proposed temporary measures become permanent.

But any increase in federal spending will stimulate some industries, no matter how it may fret some taxpayers.

Worried Treasury to Offer $6.9 Billion in Notes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A slumping economy and a worrisome gold problem were the factors weighing most heavily with Treasury officials who planned the Kennedy administration's first big financing operation.

The department announced Thursday that it will offer, on Monday, $6.9 billion of 18-month notes paying 3¼ per cent interest. The proceeds will be used to pay off a like amount of Treasury securities which mature Feb. 15.

In designing the terms, Undersecretary Robert V. Roosa and his colleagues wanted, in addition to raising the needed cash, to:

1. Make certain that the government had enough cash on hand at a time when the recession is hurting tax revenues.

2. Encourage American corporations to put money into the new notes, instead of seeking higher interest rates in Europe. A heavy flow of capital to Europe already has given Europeans millions of extra dollars which, in many cases, they have used to buy American gold.

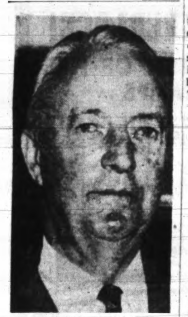
★ ★ ★

3. Cooperate with President Kennedy's program, announced Thursday in a special message to Congress, to encourage lower long-term interest rates. The President believes reductions here would help stimulate the economy.

Normally the Treasury refinances maturing securities by offering new ones in exchange. Owners of the issues coming due may demand a cash payoff or accept the exchange offer.

★ ★ ★

By side-stepping an exchange in this case, the department took no chances with a big demand for cash. Since revenues are in a slump, a large cash payoff might have necessitated an emergency borrowing later to replenish the Treasury's till.



DAVID K. E. BRUCE

Bruce Named to British Post

Former Contender for Secretary of State Is English Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—David K. E. Bruce, who was in the running for the job of secretary of state, has been named ambassador to Britain.

Bruce, 63, is tall, lean and quiet-spoken. He has long experience as a diplomat, wealth from an earlier business career and politics runs in his blood.

Bruce is the son of William Cabell Bruce, onetime U.S. senator from Maryland. He has served as U.S. ambassador in two other important capitals of Europe, Paris and Bonn, West Germany.

He has held high posts under Democrat Harry S. Truman and Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower. In 1956 he contributed $1,000 to the Democratic campaign and then was nominated by Eisenhower as ambassador to West Germany.

AIDE TO ACHESON

Bruce was named undersecretary of state to Dean Acheson in 1952, and before that was ambassador to France.

Bruce is Kennedy's first appointment of an ambassador to an individual country. He was one of the three top candidates for the job of secretary of state; Kennedy finally chose Dean Rusk.

The Court of St. James is one of the ambassadorships that costs the incumbent more than he earns in salary and expense allowances. Others have been said to spend as much as $100,000 a year of their own money while holding it. The last ambassador there was millionaire John Hay Whitney.

Rusk to Meet Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will hold his first news conference Monday at 11 a.m., the State Department announced Thursday.

Dies of Heart Attack While Driving Car

A 65-year-old businessman from Commerce Township died of a heart attack while driving to work in Detroit this morning. His car then crashed into a tree alongside Haggerty Road, about 2 miles from his home.

The victim, Charles L. Noland of 2222 N. Pontiac Trail, was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 8 p.m.

He was headed south on Haggerty Road when he apparently suffered the seizure. His car careened out of control, smashed through a fence and executed several circles in a field before crashing into a tree about 200 feet from the road.

Noland, who is survived by his wife Mable, 63, and two sons in California, was sales manager of Detroit Typesetting Co.

Two More Firms Join Gas Price Drop in Area

Pontiac area motorists will get a lift as major oil companies announce gasoline price drops locally.

Standard Oil Co. and Speedway Petroleum Corp. were the latest to reveal lower prices to their service stations in the metropolitan area today.

Gas station merchants, who set their own prices, indicated they will pass the savings, ranging from a penny to 1.6 cents a gallon, on to motorists if this has not already been done.

The latest chain reaction among the oil companies was initiated last week by the Shell Oil Co. Others, besides Shell and Speedway, are expected to make proportionate cuts in gasoline prices.

Shell and Speedway reduced the price .9 cents per gallon in Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Monroe, Washtenaw and Livingston counties and 1.6 cents per gallon in Wayne County.

Soybean Futures Hit Season's High

CHICAGO (AP)—Another flurry of general demand started soybean futures off sharply higher again today and at new highs for the season with gains running to seven cents a bushel.

The extreme gain was on the July delivery but other old crop months were up as much as five cents.

They settled back slightly, though, after the first few minutes but maintained a strong range throughout the list.

The grains were steady to firm in fairly active dealings which traders ascribed to reports of heavy snowfall over much of the Midwest. It was expected to hamper movement into commercial channels.

Will Sentence Parole Violator for Orion Spree

Donald G. Merritt Jr., a parole violator who terrorized a Lake Orion couple for nearly an hour Nov. 17 when he "holed up" in their home while fleeing the state, will be sentenced by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland Feb. 20 on a charge of armed robbery.

★ ★ ★

A Circuit Court jury today found Merritt guilty of taking food, a pair of shoes and 78 cents at gunpoint from Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tatu, 2730 Drahner Road.

During the escapade, Merritt fired a shot at Mrs. Tatu, but missed, as she attemped to flee the home.

Fleeing from authorities in Kalamazoo County, Merritt was arrested by state police Dec. 2 in a stolen car in Springfield Township.

Trading Heavy, List Dips a Bit

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's strong 1961 advance reached at least a temporary climax today in extremely heavy trading. Prices were mixed early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off slightly as it eased below its historic peak achieved at Thursday's close.

Profit taking on gains, some of them on stocks which began to rise last October, combined with switching and new investment to create turbulent cross currents.

The ticker tape ran as much as five minutes behind transactions most of the morning. Many large blocks of stock were traded. The aircraft-missile-electronics group, which has been strong lately on Washington news, was particularly active.

Little trend was apparent in most major groups although oils continued modestly higher on balance. Electrical equipments declined rather sharply in apprehension over damage suits arising out of the recent antitrust actions.

The great volume of trading apparently was compounded of broad public participation combined with heavy dealings by professionals. With 2.21 million shares traded in the first two hours, the battle between bullish and bearish sentiment seemed deadlocked.

Sunray Oil rose ¼ to 26½ on a block of 40,300 shares, highlighting similar gains by Jersey Standard, Standard of Indiana and others in the group. Texaco, which has been a consistently strong gainer, dropped more than a point on profit taking.

Boeing and Lockheed, both off about a point, also encountered profit taking on their recent strength which followed favorable news on missile performance and plane orders. United Aircraft and General Dynamics continued slightly higher. Avco was steady and active.

Auto Workers Talking

Dictate on Plant Location?

DETROIT (AP) — A United Auto Workers spokesman said Thursday night the big union may seek to limit the automakers' right to locate their plants.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The UAW contract with the Big Three automakers, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler, runs out this summer.

★ ★ ★

Bannon cited industry rumors that Ford is going to build two new cars, one smaller than the current compact Falcon and one larger.

"The new cars ought to be built right here in Detroit," Bannon said. "We have a lot of workers affected by automation. Why not help them?

★ ★ ★

"If Ford does not want to live up to its moral obligation, our people at the company say that, come the 1961 negotiations, we should put some teeth in the new contract on management's right to locate plants."

★ ★ ★

Denise did not respond.

Michigan has been hard hit by plants relocating elsewhere and lack of new industry in the state. The latest figures for the Detroit area show 165,000 persons unemployed, 11.8 per cent of the labor force.

The debate was staged by the Detroit chapter of the Industrial Relations Research Association.

Though maligned as pests, hawks prey largely on rodents and insects. It is estimated that a single hawk saves farmers about $110 a year in rodent damage.

June in January? Well, Not Quite

Farmers, Sledders Bothered by Dry Month

It may not look like it today, but Pontiac is missing quite a quantity of snow. And it wasn't stolen, either.

One thing was certain last month. Anyone looking forward to snow, snow and more snow, was disappointed. Only 3.5 inches fell.

It was less than in January of 1960 when only 6.7 inches of snow filtered down.

More like winter was January of 1959 (15.4 inches — enough to satisfy all but the most ardent snow enthusiasts.)

In January of 1944, only 1.9 inches fell, and the record low is 1.4 inches in January 1935.

The lack of snow meant that there's little protection for their crops from the cold. Also much-needed moisture for wheat meadows, pasture land and moist forage crops won't be forthcoming.

GOOD FOR IRRIGATION

Farmers also welcome snow because of its irrigation value.

It does not cause the erosion brought often by heavy spring rains and it helps crops to get better rooted to resist the erosion.

Sunny days proved the rule in January — and along with the sun, generally, came springlike temperatures.

The month's high of 53 was reached on Jan. 13. From Jan. 5-19, the mercury never fell below 10.

January offered light snow flurries eight days, heavier snow three days, 14 sunny and pleasant days, two fair days and four cloudy days.

★ ★ ★

Swainson Names Phone Co. Man to State Post

LANSING (AP)—Appointment of a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. official to the governor's staff in a new drive to promote the state's economic growth was announced by Gov. Swainson today.

Arthur Meyers of Brighton, executive assistant for the telephone company, is the first of a series of business and industrial officials who will be loaned to the state by the business community Swainson said.

Meyers, 44, will work for six months as a special assistant for liaison between the governor's office, the Michigan congressional delegation and federal departments in Washington.

Southern Crash Kills Royal Oak Woman

BENTON, Tenn. (AP) — A two-car collision in front of the Polk County Jail Thursday killed Mrs. Eva Thompson of Royal Oak, Mich., and injured two men, including Sheriff Buford Dixon.

Mrs. Thompson, 77, died in a hospital at nearby Cleveland, Tenn. Officers said she was housekeeper for Willard A. Broaddus, 72, of 417 S. Troy St., Royal Oak, who was seriously injured in the accident.

Broaddus was hospitalized in Chattanooga.

Credit Union Keeps President in Office

August Heider was re-elected vice president, Andrew Hoehn clerk and Richard Robichaud treasurer. Robichaud was re-appointed manager. Rudolph Stingle was appointed membership officer.

A dividend of 4 per cent was declared.

Wagar A. Glas Partner of Watling, Lerchen

Watling, Lerchen & Co., Detroit-based brokerage and investment firm with an office in Pontiac, has announced the admission of Wagar A. Glas as a general partner.

Glas joined Watling, Lerchen & Co. in 1946 as a registered representative, and has been with the firm's Ann Arbor office since that date. He is board chairman of the National Association of Investment Clubs.

Taken was $35.75 from Econ-O-Wash Laundromat, 1105 Joslyn road; $2 from Pontiac Coin Laundromat, 20 S. Saginaw St.; and an undetermined amount of change from the Quick Clean Laundry, 220 S. Telegraph road.

Charge Is Reduced, Man to Pay Fine

Charged with negligent homicide, Elmer Sanders, 57, of Detroit, yesterday pleaded guilty in Springfield Township Justice Court to a reduced count of driving while under the influence of alcohol.

He was ordered to pay a $100 fine plus $15 court costs, or spend 30 days in the county jail, by Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib.

Sanders was charged originally with the death of Elmer Blunt, 36, of Detroit. Blunt allegedly died from injuries received during an automobile accident in which Sanders was involved.

Assistant County Prosecutor Robert Carr requested that the charge be reduced after hearing witness' testimony during the examination yesterday.

Chrysler to Drop 30-M.P.G. Claim for Valiants

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chrysler Corp. has agreed to stop advertising that its compact car, the Valiant, gets 30 miles to the gallon.

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) announced Thursday that Chrysler has signed a stipulation barring it from making this and other advertising claims for the 1950 model Valiant.

The Valiants entered in the Mobilgas Economy Run did not obtain substantially greater gasoline mileage" than Ford Falcons and Chevrolet Corvairs entered in the test, the FTC said.

School Districts Get $19 Million

Release of Money by the State to Bring Aid Payments Up to Date

LANSING (AP) — A $19 million release today to local school districts will bring state school aid payments up to date, the state department of public instruction reported.

★ ★ ★

State aid checks totaling some $26 million were sent out last Dec. 15. This included a $7.5 million still owed from the August payment and $18.5 million on the December payment, about half the amount due.

The next aid payment due is $37 million, scheduled to be paid out Feb. 25.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said it is estimated between $25 and $26 million will be sent out at that time.

Increase Acreage for New State College

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Two Ottawa County communities have increased the size of land acreage they are offering for proposed sites for the new Grand Valley College, which will serve an eight-county area surrounding Grand Rapids.

Marne originally had proposed 364 acres of farmland and now raised that to 1,200 acres.

Recommendations made to the college board of control included a provision that the new college site be at least 600 acres in size. An original recommendation had been 400 acres.

Representing the Michigan Education Association will be Donald Giese.

Elect Area Man Prexy of Pontiac Trade Group

Frank J. Dickie of the Dickie Lumber Co., Keego Harbor, was recently elected president of the Pontiac Lumber, Fuel & Builders Supply Exchange, 7 Waldron Building, for 1961.

Dickie succeeds H. H. Smith of the Smith Oil Co., Pontiac, as head of the local trade association.

Nelson DeGarmo of the DeGarmo Lumber Co., Milford, and Robert VanHorn of VanHorn Brothers, Inc., Pontiac, were elected vice presidents. Mahlon A. Benson Jr. of the M. A. Benson Lumber Co., Pontiac, was elected treasurer.

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP) — A disaster evacuation plan set up by Lutheran Hospital authorities worked smoothly and efficiently Thursday night and about 100 patients were evacuated safely when fire swept through an old wing of the institution.

The first potatoes cultivated in North America were shipped from Bermuda to Virginia in 1621.

GOP Not Fighting JFK Money Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's proposals to put more money in the pockets of widows, needy old folks and jobless workers had such broad appeal to voters that GOP congressional strategists were reluctant today to take adamant stands against them.

This appeared to assure congressional approval of these parts of the Chief Executive's program for economic recovery and growth, sent to the Senate and House Thursday.

No congressional leader was ready to predict that the Kennedy proposals would emerge from Capitol Hill unchanged. Some Republicans talked of drafting alternate plans of their own.

But many lawmakers felt the broad outlines of the President's requests were likely to be voted into law.

In a package that would require more than $1 billion in additional taxes, Kennedy recommended that the duration of unemployment benefits be extended to a maximum of 39 weeks, 855,000 persons be added to the Social Security benefit rolls and Social Security benefits be increased for widows and persons receiving less than $43 a month.

Drivers to Seek Beer Contract

Detroit Local 38 Wants a Two-Year Pact With Area Distributors

First negotiations with Oakland County beer distributors for new, two-year contracts will begin next week, according to Hub Cassidy president of Brewery Drives and Helpers Local 38 in Detroit.

The present contracts, expiring July 1, were signed only after a 44-day strike in 1958. The contracts are with nine Oakland County distributors for Altes, Goebel, E&B, Pfeiffer and Stroh.

Cassidy said he would ask for the same terms included in contracts ratified this week with the breweries.

The two-year pacts call for an immediate 10-cent-an-hour raise for members of Bottlers Local 181, Brewers Local 3 and Drivers and Helpers Local 38. An added 15-cent-an-hour raise will go into effect April 1 of next year.

Enlarged vacations, hospitalization and improved life insurance benefits also are included, Cassidy said.

Not Socialistic, C. of C. President Says of Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce says of President Kennedy: "He doesn't have a socialistic bone in his body."

★ ★ ★

Arthur Motley made the appraisal at a news conference Thursday in discussing the Kennedy anti-recession measures. But Motley was critical, too, at times.

He said he was convinced that the administration's "pump priming" is designed to energize the nation's sagging economy, not destroy it.

★ ★ ★

Then he added: "I'm afraid, though, that President Kennedy doesn't have as much faith as I do in the capacity of the economy to roll with the punches. There is nothing wrong with the country today that a good dose of selling won't cure."

Atty. Gen. Adams Okays Oakland's Probation Plan

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams Thursday put a stamp of approval on a proposed probation system for justice courts in Calhoun County, which was originated in Oakland County.

The new system, already operating in Branch and Macomb Counties, as well as Oakland, is "a rather significant development," Adams said. It extends probation techniques to new areas, he said.

Replying to questions posed by Noble O. Moore, Calhoun County prosecuting attorney, Adams said that only the State Corrections Commission may appoint probation officers. Circuit Judges, not justices, may recommend an appointment, he said.

★ ★ ★

The Corrections Commission also sets up qualifications for officers. However, he added, there is no law preventing circuit judges from consulting with justices in their jurisdiction, or with the prosecutor and sheriff, before recommending an appointment.

Joke on Teens—Yolk on Squad Car

JACKSON (AP) — Six teen-agers in a car threw eggs at a passing automobile on a highway near here, scoring several direct hits.

★ ★ ★

But it turned out their target was a State Police patrol car. The troopers gave chase, caught the youths and took them to the post here.

★ ★ ★

Airmen Give Girl Baker, 11, Just Dessert

OAK PARK (AP)—Bonnie Weisberg, 11, was baking a cake as a surprise for her father when the sonic boom from a Selfridge AFB jet fighter rattled her home, flattening the cake.

★ ★ ★

Bonnie wrote the air base: "Would you please write me and tell me what you are going to do about my cake?"

Lt. Quenton Steele, claims officer, went to the food services squadron.

"To Bonnie from the 1st Fighter Wing."

★ ★ ★

After tasting the cake, Bonnie said the Air Force "can't help it if a little boom sneaks out once in a while."

'Doesn't Know' if K to Attend U.N. Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov says he does not know whether Premier Nikita Khrushchev will come to the United States this spring to attend the United Nations meeting.

★ ★ ★

"I have no information," the Russian ambassador said in response to questions from reporters following a 35-minute meeting with Undersecretary of State Chester W. Bowles.

★ ★ ★

Menshikov said his call on Bowles, which had been postponed Wednesday at the State Department request, was "just a courtesy visit — nothing more."

Minuteman Opens Frightening Era

Pushbutton War Age Dawns

By BEM PRICE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Warfare is now nearly at the point where one man by the simple movement of a finger can destroy nations.

★ ★ ★

This possibility is no longer a dream. For purposes of practical consideration it became a reality at 11 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Wednesday.

At that precise moment, the Air Force touched off a slender, three-stage missile, the Minuteman, which is designed to span 6,300 miles in less time than man can shave, shower and dress.

In its initial test at the missile range here, the Minuteman, trailing streamers of bright flame, traveled more than 4,000 miles. For a research vehicle, the launching was undoubtedly a success.

By its very success, however, Minuteman brought the United States face to face with a question it is going to have difficulty ducking.

Does this nation want these things scattered all over the front lawn, thereby setting the United States up as a prime target for surprise attack?

By the same token this successful leap toward the age of true push-button warfare bespeaks the beginning of a rapid shift in U.S. defense posture which may well have worldwide political and economic repercussions.

Under present Air Force plans 450 of these easily manufactured Minutemen will be buried across the northern tier of states and another 150 will be on special railroad cars by 1964. Ultimately there will be 2,000 on trains and in underground silos.

In warfare the primary objective of any armed force is the destruction of the enemy's armed force. The so-called civilian targets are secondary.

★ ★ ★

By placing hundreds of these missile silos in the United States, the nation suddenly finds itself in a position whereby an enemy surprise attack could knock out both military and civilian targets at the same time.

The entire weight of any attack would thus be concentrated against the United States proper.

The same thing applies to the Soviet Union but with a difference. The United States has pledged its word that it will never attack first.

Request Billion for Construction

State Agencies' 5-Year Bid Almost Certain to Be Cut by Legislators

LANSING (AP) — State agencies are asking for close to $1 billion worth of new construction over the next five years, Gov. Swainson reported today.

Capital outlay requests for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, totaled more than $201 million. Largest request was more than $90 million for education.

Swainson has proposed that new construction during the next fiscal year be financed by expansion of the state building authority and the issue of revenue bonds.

He indicated he would ask for financing of about $38.5 million in new construction in fiscal 1961-62.

The five-year total requested for capital outlay was $953,092,064. Of this, $644,845,615 was asked from general funds and $308,246,449 from restricted funds. The bulk of the restricted funds — more than $300 million — was listed for the highway department building program.

Air Wives Are Silent on Visit

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The distraught wives of two missing RB7 fliers today are either parties to high state secrets or still in the dark about the downing of their husbands' plane.

They wouldn't say which.

"Our talk was very personal. I can't say any more about Dean," Mrs. Dean Phillips, one of the wives, told newsmen after an hour-long talk with Capts. John R. McKone and Freeman B. Olmstead.

★ ★ ★

Olmstead and McKone are the only known survivors of the six-man crew of a strategic reconnaissance bomber which was shot down over the Barents Sea July 1. They were released last week from a Soviet prison. They were closely shepherded on their California trip by three colonels who would not allow the officers to talk to newsmen or even pose for pictures.

Mrs. Phillips told newsmen later she still is hopeful her husband may be alive.

They first flew to Fresno, Calif., where they circled for an hour before they could land through the thick overcast. They drove to Visalia to meet Betty Posa, wife of another missing California crew member.

Young Spanish Singer Alarmingly Wealthy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Kids are alarmingly rich nowadays—I ran into Joselito, the 13-year-old Spanish flamenco singer, entertaining an entourage of about a dozen adults at the Liborio restaurant, spending some of the $4,000 he'd made on Ed Sullivan's TV show.

WILSON

Fully 4-feet-6, weighing maybe 70 pounds, he stood there proudly in his red sweater with the double-J ("Jose Jiminez,") drank his coke and announced in Spanish:

"I'll take the check."

Joselito, son of an Andalusian migratory worker, who had six other childen, was given a home when he was six by a music tutor who trained his voice.

"Little Joe" has since made 9 movies, gets 25 per cent of the profits, hops from two homes in Spain to Venezuela, to Miami, to Mexico. He has a hobby: Shooting clay pigeons.

His father has a hobby, too: Not being a migratory worker.

When I was his age, Dad gave me a quarter and told me to make it last the week.

Special Shows Due Next Week

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The television networks have scheduled a busy week for viewers who don't want to miss the special shows.

★ ★ ★

Taking the listings day-by-day, there is another Jackie Gleason show on CBS tonight, and until that comedian decides just what he's going to do with his weekly half-hour, it's a show to keep an eye on 9:30-10 EST. And then there's Polly Bergen, Carol Lawrence and Paul Whteman in NBC's bi-weekly Telephone Hour 9-10.

★ ★ ★

Sunday brings a repeat of the NBC Opera Company production of Beethoven's "Fidelio" 3-5 p.m., followed immediately on the same network with an "Omnibus" dramatic treatment of the formative years of Abraham Lincoln 5-6.

ABC's "Close-up" Monday 10:30-11 p.m. is a filmed report on the final testing of the first space rocket ship.

NBC's Hall of Fame will do a 90-minute adaptation of Jean Anouilh's "Time Remembered" Tuesday 7:30-9 p.m. and later 10-11 there will be a dramatic special, "String of Beads," based on a W. Somerset Maugham story, with Chester Morris and Jane Fonda.

Arlene Francis and Jack Carson star in Wednesday night's Steel Hour on CBS 10-11 and in spite of the stars, it's not a comedy.

On Thursday — regrettably overlapping—there is NBC's musical special, "Remember How Great," starring song hits of the past 30 years, Jack Benny, Andy Williams, Connie Francis and Harry James, and the debut of CBS's new 60-minute Western, "Gunslinger" 9-10.

Hopes State'll Build Factories

Swainson Wants Law That Also Would Allow Leasing to Business

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson said he hopes the legislature will consider the possibility of passing a law allowing the state to build factories, leasing them to new businesses.

★ ★ ★

He made the remark in the wake of an announcement that the Borg-Warner Corp. will close its Muskegon Norge gas refrigerator plant and move the operation to Fort Smith, Ark.

Arkansas has such a program.

Swainson said he will do "everything I can to help" Muskegon overcome the loss of 1,800 jobs due to the closing.

"A strong effort will be made to get the company to reconsider its action," Swainson told newsmen.

The governor said the reasons for the move reportedly are various, including the fact that there has been a drop in the demand for gas refrigerators and that in moving to Arkansas the company expects to be closer to new markets where the gas rates are lower.

Red China Offers Aid to Ousted Laotian

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China pledged today to aid what it called the lawful Laotian government of ousted neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma, if he asks for it.

★ ★ ★

The pledge, made by Red China Foreign Minister Chen Yi, did not spell out what kind of aid would be offered. Chen Yi said that if Phouma asks for assistance, Peiping "will certainly give it."

Price of Gold Down

LONDON (UPI)—The price of gold in the free market dipped again today for the fourth consecutive session and lack of buying by speculators showed that President Kennedy's pledge on the dollar had hit home.

Americans spent a record $556 million for musical instruments in 1959.

Snowstorm Moving In

Expect 3 Inches to Accumulate in Area Today

Highway Traffic Held to Crawl Some Places in Lower Michigan

The heaviest snowfall of the year was moving in on Pontiac and lower Michigan today, threatening to snarl afternoon and evening traffic with up to three inches of snow.

More than one inch had blanketed the area by 10 a.m., sending city and county road graders scurrying to keep highways open.

State police reported the forenoon traffic had slowed on all major highways, held to a creeping pace in some places.

The Weather Bureau warned of drift hazards as a result of predicted winds of up to 35 miles an hour.

Warming temperatures accompanied the snowfall, with a high of 20 predicted today. The mercury was expected to dip to 6 tonight, followed by a cloudy, cold Saturday, with a high of 16.

★ ★ ★

The heavy storm, moving up from Kentucky, struck about 7 a.m., the first big snowfall since two inches hit the area Jan. 3. There were steady flurries most of last night.

SALT TRUCKS OUT

Oakland County had 48 salt trucks on the highways before 8 a.m., 20 of them operating in the Pontiac area. Pontiac salt crews were followed by snow plows at 10:30 a.m. County plows attacked the highways about then, too.

Some schools were closed in the southernmost portions of the state when snow became too deep for buses to operate safely.

Oakland County school buses had delivered children to school this morning by the time the snow began to accumulate on side roads and highways.

Morning winds northeasterly at 8 miles per hour will become northeasterly to north at 15 to 35 miles late this afternoon and tonight.

Weather Staggers the Nation

By The Associated Press

Stormy, cold weather—midwinter's most potent climatic weapons—staggered broad sections in the eastern half of the nation today.

A blowing, drifting snowstorm which blanketed Midwest areas with a carpet of white a foot high in some areas, sped eastward.

Much of the northeast quarter of the country remained locked in a numbing cold wave—the third week of zero weather in many border sections.

Sleet and ice storms broke out in southern areas as some of the icy air from the North dipped into the Carolinas and headed into northern Georgia. Snow, sleet and freezing rain pelted all parts of Kentucky.

The cold and snow disrupted and curtailed business and industry, closed schools, stalled hundreds of cars, and made millions miserable.

The snowstorm which hit Iowa Thursday piled to a depth of a foot in the northwest part of the state. Drifts measured four feet in Spencer.

St. Louis plowed through the heaviest snow of the season, with eight inches on the ground.

★ ★ ★

The storm, fanned by gusty east-northeast winds, swept into Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky and southern Lower Michigan. Falls of 4 to 7 inches were indicated in many parts of the storm belt.

Consultant to Manage Headquarters

LEO SPAETH

Opening of Pontiac's centennial headquarters Monday will turn the basement meeting room of the new Pontiac Public Library building into a bustling center of activity.

The room has been reserved for use by the Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission until after the official centennial celebration June 17-24.

Headquarters manager will be Leo Spaeth, a representative of the John B. Rogers Producing Co., the Fostoria, Ohio, firm hired as professional consultants on the centennial program.

Spaeth is to remain in the city until the official celebration ends, coordinating the many phases of the giant undertaking for the centennial commission and its general chairman, Stuart E. Whitfield.

Spaeth has already visited Pontiac several times in recent months, meeting centennial leaders with Wallace D. Lafferty, a Rogers representative who has worked with city and centennial officials since plans began a year ago.

Spath, a Cincinnati, Ohio resident, has been with the Rogers Co. 28 years.

Among the bigger centennial observances he has managed for Rogers in recent years were those in Portland, Me, and Kansas City, Mo.

He managed the centennial of the Sault Ste. Marie locks in 1954 and the 150th anniversary of the Louisiana Purchase in New Orleans in 1953.

Push Favorite Sons at State Conventions

Pontiac Motor to Shut Down

Week Layoff to Enable Division to Align Sales, Production Schedules

Pontiac Motor Division will close down its manufacturing and assembly operations for one week beginning Monday, Feb. 13, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, general manager.

"The shutdown would enable the division to bring its production schedules in line with sales," said Knudsen.

The shutdown would lay off an estimated 12,000 employes at Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Division.

The layoff is typical of current trends in the auto industry. Pontiac Motor is one of the last of the major auto firms to make the move.

Weather Can't Stop Nighttime Shoppers

Frigid weather failed to cast a chill last night over the inauguration of Thursday evening shopping hours in several major downtown retail stores.

After closing time at 9 p.m., merchants had optimistic reports of sales, despite the near zero temperatures.

Some said the shopper turnout was better than they would have expected even with good weather. Retailers indicated they would continue Thursday night hours, expecting trade to build up during the coming weeks.

Kennedy Wires Mayor Rowston

Promises U.S. Help on Urban Renewal Work to Aid More Jobs

In a new move to ease unemployment, President Kennedy has asked Pontiac to speed its urban renewal programs and promised federal cooperation to "eliminate all delay."

★ ★ ★

"Our efforts to improve the employment situation can be helped considerably by increased urban renewal activity," Kennedy said in a telegram to Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

★ ★ ★

"There are many projects now under way, or whose plans have been approved, in many cities that can be speeded up, creating additional jobs immediately."

President Kennedy said he has ordered the Housing & Home Financing Agency "to cooperate with local authorities in beginning construction of projects at the earliest possible time and in maintaining steady efforts to complete them."

In reply, Rowston told the President in a telegram today that the city's two urban renewal projects "are being pushed as expeditiously as possible."

He said that "the city will be glad to work with you to move the projects ahead rapidly and to reduce unemployment."

★ ★ ★

Armed Marines Unit to Prevent Rebel Mischief

Left With a Skeleton Crew, Galvao Officially Is Granted Asylum

From Our News Wires

RECIFE, Brazil — The Brazilian government officially granted political asylum to rebel leader Henrique Galvao today in preparation for seizure of the Santa Maria by the Brazilian navy.

The Brazilian foreign ministry said the rebels had laid down their arms and would formally surrender the ship to the navy at 2 p.m. (noon Pontiac time).

Armed Brazilian marines held control of the Santa Maria to prevent the rebel skipper from carrying out his earlier vow to scuttle the liner rather than surrender his multimillion-dollar prize.

But the Brazilian Foreign Ministry in Brasilia said that President Janio Quadros' new administration had control of the 20,906-ton liner and would act in accordance with international law—presumably meaning it would give the cruise ship back to its Portuguese owners.

President Janio Quadros had made the offer of political asylum to Galvao and his band of rebels earlier this week in hopes of getting them to unload the 620 passengers and 350 Portuguese crewmen.

Skipper Felt Hijack Was Bad Dream

RECIFE, Brazil (UPI) — Capt. Mario Simoes Maia was startled when a seaman rushed into his quarters, awoke him and said a crewman had been murdered by armed passengers who had taken over his ship.

Maia rubbed his eyes in disbelief and thought at first that he was having a bad dream.

★ ★ ★

But when he saw men armed with machineguns patrolling the corridors of the ship, he realized he was fully awake.

This was the way the skipper of the Santa Maria described the start of the most fantastic case of high seas hijacking in modern times.

Capt. Maia told a news conference that almost his entire crew decided to die together rather than join the rebels.

Maia said his crew had planned to win back the ship from the hijackers, but "We couldn't fight only with our hands against machineguns and grenades."

The skipper praised the 42 American passengers aboard the cruise ship, who declared they would not debark at Recife unless the entire crew was permitted to leave with them.

Stone Police Over Tyrol

ROME (AP)—Thousands of students hourled rocks at police around the Austrian Embassy today in the second day of demonstrations stemming from Italy's dispute with Austria on the South Tyrol. Three students and 15 police were injured and 40 demonstrators were arrested.

They Plotted and Fought —Yes, Even Fell in Love

By SAUL PETT

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—Some wept, some laughed, some shook with fear and tension. Some plotted, some fought, and some fell in love.

Of the near 600 passengers trapped aboard the Santa Maria for 12 harrowing days, those in the first and second class suffered nothing more serious than bad cases of the jitters before they were landed Thursday at this port on the Brazilian bulge.

Portuguese and Spaniards in third class, who complained they had been mistreated, were without water and had been given little food. Some said they feared for their lives.

Mrs. John Dietz of Gainesville, Fla., one of the first Americans to step ashore, summed up the feelings of the others as she exclaimed, "This is wonderful, you have no idea."

For Mr. and Mrs. David Crocket of Pompano, Fla., the end of the unscheduled, 2,800-mile odyssey came with a tinge of sentimental sadness. They had played cupid to a young Dutchman and a Spanish senorita who had met during the cruise, fell in love and plan to marry.

'STAY IN LOVE'

"Be happy, dears, stay in love," said Mrs. Crocket, her eyes moist, as she parted from William Vandarmeer of Amsterdam and pretty, brunette Laura Menendes of Oviedo, Spain.

Tensions rose to such a pitch during the final days at sea that two American men—not identified — swapped fisticuffs over something trivial.

What did most do to while away the trying hours?

Mrs. Floyd Preston, traveling with her husband, a University of Kansas professor, and their four children, said: "I sat and worried, talked and watched the children."

Her 14-year-old son, Harold asked if he enjoyed the trip, beamed—"sure."

Caroline Boyce, 60, a widow from Baltimore traveling alone, said the armed rebels stalking the decks made everyone aware the ship was being held by force.

UAW Ruled Out as Bargainer for Cross Employes

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union Thursday lost its rights as bargaining agent for production workers at the Cross Co. automation machinery plant in nearby Fraser.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, 6th Circuit at Cincinnati, decertified the union as bargaining agent in another round of a long, sometimes bitter dispute.

The court held Cross was justified in a complaint the union had used misleading campaign material in a representation election three years ago.

The court, in an unanimous action, remanded the case to the National Labor Relations Board for further consideration "not inconsistent with the views" expressed in the order.

150 Hurt in Maryland

Train Derails, Killing Six

From Our News Wires

BOWIE, Md.—A train derailment which turned a day at the races into a nightmare of death and suffering in snow-covered countryside is being investigated by Pennsylvania Railroad officials.

One rescuer who pulled victims from the wreck—on the 13th day of the race meet—commented:

"If it had snowed like it was supposed to, the races would've been canceled and this wouldn't have happened."

★ ★ ★

About 300 passengers were on the train, three miles from the race track, when the quietness of the mid-winter afternoon was shattered in a mass of twisted steel, broken glass and uprooted seats.

The double-unit diesel engine tumbled over on its right side. The seven derailed cars bounced along over cross ties or open ground, but did not topple over.

"All we felt was two sharp jerks," said a dining car steward, Eugene B. Webster. "One big sudden jerk, then a small one."

Carl Hartman of the Cottage City, Md., rescue squad, one of dozens of emergency units from neighboring towns that rushed to the scene northeast of Washington, described the scene when he arrived:

"Bodies were hanging from windows and people were either screaming or just moaning to be helped. One man, trapped under a displaced undercarriage of a car kept yelling, 'Oh, my God, help me.'"

Undeterred by the tragedy, many of the survivors trudged three miles to the horse races after helping the injured to safety. Even then, the ninth race was canceled when a small vacant pari-mutuel building caught fire spreading smoke over part of the track.

★ ★ ★

The engineer, Howard W. Horner, 62, of Camden, N. J., told police the train was traveling at about 30 miles an hour when the brakes failed as he turned off the main line.

Kennedy Children Snowbound in South

★ ★ ★

The little daughter and new son of the President and his wife were scheduled to fly in today from warm Palm Beach to the snow-encrusted capital to take up residence in the White House.

But with heavy snow falling here and more on the way, the White House canceled the flight. A new date will be picked when the weather clears up.

The storm started early this morning and the Weather Bureau warned there would be an accumulation of more than six inches.

Kennedy's Day Jammed; Turns Attention to Laos

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy's continuing reappraisal of American foreign policy turned today to Laos, one of the hot spots in the Cold War.

The President scheduled a conference with Winthrop Brown, U. S. ambassador to the strife-racked Asian kingdom, to discuss the administration's efforts to make Laos an "independent . . . peaceful country."

The meeting was part of Kennedy's jam - packed schedule which listed appointments at the rate of more than one an hour through the morning and afternoon.

The President's callers included McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs; Loy W. Henderson, recently retired deputy undersecretary of State; R. Sargent Shriver, Kennedy's Brother-in-law; Bernard A. Gufler, U.S. Ambassador to Ceylon, and Jerome Weisner, presidential science adviser.

Kennedy told his first presidential news conference Jan. 25 that Laos, where Western-armed government forces have been battling Communist - aided r e b e l s for, months, was "of great concern to us."

The President said this country was awaiting Russia's reply to the British proposal that the International Control Commission, set up in the Indochina war armistice, be revived to seek peace in Laos.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Thursday he hoped that the Kennedy administration would come up with suggestions for a new policy "that would be more appropriate" for settling the troubled Loation situation.

Chrysler Co. Tries to Halt Minor's Suit

The tangled legal affairs of Chrysler Corp. became more involved today as the firm took new steps in its battle with Jack W. Minor, ousted marketing director for its Plymouth-DeSoto-Valiant Division.

In a suit filed this morning in Oakland County Court, Chrysler sought to block a $25,000 suit against the firm Jan. 18 by the 39-year-old Minor, of 1536 Dorchester St., Birmingham.

Minor filed the suit to recover money he says he invested in a common stock program.

Chrysler Corp. asked that an order be issued restraining Minor and his attorneys from prosecuting their suit, filed in Wayne County Circuit Court, pending the results of the Oakland County court action.

Also named a defendant in the suit was the W & M Sales Co. of Detroit in which Minor was a partner, according to the suit.

The suit alleges that the sales company acted as agent for three other firms with which Minor was connected — Taxi-Ad Co., Bel-Aire Process, Inc., and Transportation Advertising Co.

The suit asked that Minor and the company be required to make an accounting of commissions received from the three other businesses, and that his earnings and profits from the firm be awarded to Chrysler.

Clark J. Adams set a show-cause hearing on the injunction for 9:30 a.m. Feb. 14.

Dr. Imperi graduated from Pontiac Central High School and the University of Michigan Medical School.

She moved to Detroit from Pontiac in 1942.

"She is the first full-time medical director at a child guidance clinic in Oakland County in many years," said Dr. William Westmass, president of the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, who announced her appointment.

Dr. Imperi interned at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She received her psychiatric training at the Wayne County General Hospital, Receiving Hospital in Detroit and the McGregor Children's Center in Detroit where she was a staff member before assuming her new position.

She has also been a consultant to the Detroit Juvenile Court and Battle Creek Child Guidance Clinic.

The appointment was made by the board of directors of the Oakland clinic and the State Department of Mental Health.

Osteopaths, Hospital Sued for $100,000

Two osteopathic doctors and Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital are being sued for $100,000 by a Pontiac woman in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The suit, filed by attorney Milton R. Henry on behalf of Mary V. Gibson, charges that a hysterectomy was mistakenly performed in October, 1960 on the woman, who says she actually was suffering from appendicitis.

Named as defendants in the suit were Drs. B. F. Dickinson and Jerry Margolis, the hospital and the Osteopathic Service Group of Pontiac, Inc.

Kennedy Wants Hannah to Keep Rights Unit Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy has decided to retain Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State University, in his post as chairman of the Civil Rights Commission, the White House said today.

Kennedy will ask Hannah to remain in the commission chairmanship when Hannah pays a call on Kennedy late today.

"I hear some people are going to actively demonstrate against my candidacy," she said.

She led the take-over of the party organization from the hands of a so-called old guard element last year with the help of a labor faction. There are those party members who still bear some resentment.

Mrs. Phillips, a 37-year-old Huntington Woods housewife with eight years State Central Committee experience, is considered almost a shoo-in to win Mrs. Adelaide Hart's o l d position, mostly on the strength that she has the support of Gov. John B. Swainson.

PLANS STRATEGY

Mrs. Phillips left home yesterday for Grand Rapids for some preconvention strategy sessions to determine her vote pulling power.

Signs, placards and colorful balloons are ready for when Wayne County's 1st Congressional District yields to Oakland Saturday in the Civic Auditorium and Oakland Chairman James M. Ginn places in nomination the woman who helped him get elected chairman last August.

Through the poster lined corridors of the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, delegates of the 149-member Oakland family will be sounding out other delegations buzzing over the hot race for Lawrence B. Lindemer's $21,000-a-year job as GOP state chairman.

Here, the fancy frills of any politician's campaign will be stacked and ready to shout the praises of Gibbs, 38-year-old executive secretary of the local committee, "should the opportunity present itself," according to one of his backers.

Gibbs, not an announced (and candidate but a possible draft candidate to take up where County Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. left off, is considered a "compromise" candidate should the 1,508 state delegation split along liberal and conservative lines in trying to find a replacement for Lindemer among five announced candidates.

Elliott, county chairman since 1957, was rated top contender until he declined to run because of the "press of business." Gibbs is reputed to have been Elliott's right-hand man in developing a smooth-running party organization which captured 24 out of 27 races Nov. 8.

First in was James C. Zeder, retired Chrysler Corp. vice president and director, seeking nomination to the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

★ ★ ★

KELLY SHOO-IN

Sure of winning GOP nomination for another eight-year term on the State Supreme Court is former two-term governor and incumbent Justice Harry F. Kelly of Birmingham.

With one incumbent, Mrs. Dorothy Andrews, of Clarkston, not seeking re-election to the State Central committee, a lively contest should envelop the Oakland caucus tonight to pick from among seven candidates, including incumbents Mrs. Betty Finegan of Birmingham, Gordon T. Geisinger of Bloomfield Township and James T. Preish of Royal Oak.

Other GOP candidates are Mrs. Robert Eoff and Mrs. Robert Lowry, both of Bloomfield Township, Miss Alice Schoenholtz, of Royal Oak, and former state representative candidate Richard I. Moore of Pontiac.

They are: Otis Lawrence, a UAW representative from Pontiac; Mrs. Walter F. Brinkman, a Waterford Township housewife; Mrs. Harold E. Shpiece, a Detroit attorney from Farmington; and William A. O'Brien, unsuccessful candidate for state representative from Clawson.

C. Allen Harlan, incumbent member of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, is the only "favorite son" candidate for Democratic nomination to state offices. He was endorsed at the county convention in Pontiac two weeks ago.

Brazil Will Seize Hijacked Vessel

The Brazilian navy had sent 50 marines aboard the Santa Maria after the passengers and crew went ashore, leaving only Galvao and his rebels aboard.

Government spokesmen in Lisbon have said repeatedly Portugal has not and does not plan to demand their extradition from Brazil.

The spokesmen have said it is entirely up to Brazil to bring them to trial if it wishes.

NOT ACT OF PIRACY

They said no one had suggested the rebels had seized the ship for private gain. And the key words relating to piracy in the Geneva Convention of 1958 are "for private ends."

Galvao's chief lieutenant and navigator, Jorge Soute Maior, a Spaniard, told newsmen in a shipboard interview that the men left on the liner—believed to number less than 30—were not enough to move the big ship from her anchorage only 300 yards from the Recife docks.

Most of the rebels joined 368 of the ship's crew and the nearly 600 passengers in rushing ashore by tug Thursday after Galvao finally brought the ship into harbor under mounting pressure of threatened mutiny and riot aboard the liner.

Mobutu Rips Dag's Congo Army Plan

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Gen. Joseph Mobutu said today Dag Hammarskjold's plan to reorganize the Congolese army and keep it out of politics really means disarming the force and "we will never allow it."

★ ★ ★

"The United Nations is playing with fire," Mobutu told a news conference. "To disarm the ANC (National Congolese Army) would mean war."

★ ★ ★

The conference was called to reply to the U.N. secretary-general's Security Council speech suggesting that the Congolese army be reorganized.

SUPPORTS KASAVUBU

"All the ANC needs is money to buy planes for its paratroopers and arms for its soldiers," Mobutu said.

Ford Wins Contract

DEARBORN (UPI)—Ford Motor Co. said today its Ford Division has been awarded a $1,623,406 government contract for 922 station wagons for the Navy, Air Force and Defense Department.

Castro Purges Cuban Judges

120 Fired in Attempt to Remove Legal Blocks to His Rule

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro today fired 120 judges throughout Cuba in the second phase of a sweeping court purge aimed at removing all legal obstacles to his rule.

One supreme court justice, the presidents of six provincial courts of appeal, 26 appeals magistrates and 87 other judges came under the ax, which fell for the second time in two months.

The government acted under a cabinet decree issued Dec. 20 suspending for 5 days a law preventing dismissal of court officers. In the December purge 13 supreme court justices were ousted.

OBJECTS TO DECISIONS

★ ★ ★

Antonio Nunez Jimenez, chief of Castro's agrarian reform program, warned as long ago as last spring that many judges would have to change their way of thinking or face the consequences.

★ ★ ★

The new dismissal decree, signed by Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos and Justice Minister Alfredo Yabur, said the jurists were thrown out to assure Cuba a more "revolutionary" application of justice.

★ ★ ★

It was not known how big a percentage of the judiciary was lopped off in the latest purge. Nor was any mention made of replacements for those fired.

Loan for MSUO Tentatively OK'd

Part of the $1.1 Million Would Be Used for Four Dormitories

Michigan State University Oakland has received conditional approval for a $1.1-million federal loan for the construction of dormitories on the campus.

Some $600,000 of the total would be used for four cottage-type dormitories, which could be built in 120 days if approval is given by the Michigan S t a t e University Board of Trustees.

The "L" s h a p e d buildings would house 48 students each, with a resident advisor. MSUO officials said they favored the smaller dorm units over large housing units, because it permits more efficient use of the land, and gives students the advantages of small-group living.

Two of the units would be for male students, and two for female. They would be built directly northwest of the student center, near Walton Boulevard, MSUO already has 15 students living in two converted farm houses, and more than 100 students have shown interest in campus residency.

The remaining $500,000 of the federal loan would be used for expansion of dining facilities in the student center.

★ ★ ★

Leaun Harrelson Fined for Driving Recklessly

He was fined $50 plus $15 court costs by Justice of the Peace Emmett J. Leib.

★ ★ ★

Community House Sets Fund Goal at $50,700

BIRMINGHAM—A goal of $50,700 for the 1961 Community House fund drive March 6-20 was announced yesterday by the board of directors.

★ ★ ★

Eugene J. Barney, board president, said the goal was determined after an extensive study of present requirements and future needs.

★ ★ ★

"This goal is actually the minimum amount needed just to pay for repairs and maintenance, and to provide for the current services of the Community House," Barney added.

"Frankly we're hopeful that the citizens of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and the surrounding area will contribute more than the $50,700, enabling the Community House to increase and strengthen its services."

John K. Stevenson, fund drive chairman, explained that the goal represents 85 per cent of the amount needed to operate the service center. The remainder would come from income-producing activities such as rentals and adult education.

★ ★ ★

Stevenson revealed that two companies had anonymously donated a new b r o c h u r e which "graphically describes the history, objects and services of the Community House."

★ ★ ★

The brochure, he said, will be mailed to large groups of area citizens before the end of the month. Others may obtain the booklet by sending their requests to the Community House, 380 S. Bates St.

★ ★ ★

"The need for such a brochure became apparent in a survey showing that many people in the area were not aware of what was g o i n g on at the Community House."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be held in the Bloomfield Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, at 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Each candidate will be alloted three minutes to state their platform. A question period will follow.

Members of the Birmingham Woman's Club will entertain their husbands at a 6:30 a.m. dinner meeting Tuesday at Showcase, Inc., 136 Brownell St.

Mrs. Matthew Cammarert, president of the club, will preside over the "Men's Nite" program.

Chuck Leonard, an accordionist, will entertain during the dinner hour. Following a brief business meeting, the members of the club will present a play written by Mrs. J. P. Bellefleur entitled "The Antique."

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers or snow flurries are expected to be scattered in eastern portions of the northern and central Plateau tonight with snow from the Dakotas into Oklahoma, in the mid-Mississippi valley, the northern Ohio valley, mid-Atlantic states and southern New England. Rain is most likely in the Carolinas with showers in northern Florida. It will remain cold in the East with a warming trend in the upper Mississippi valley and northern and central Plains.

June in January? Well, Not Quite

Farmers, Sledders Bothered by Dry Month

It may not look like it today, but Pontiac is missing quite a quantity of snow. And it wasn't stolen, either.

One thing was certain last month. Anyone looking forward to snow, snow and more snow, was disappointed. Only 3.5 inches fell.

It was less than in January of 1960 when only 6.7 inches of snow filtered down.

★ ★ ★

More like winter was January of 1959 (15.4 inches — enough to satisfy all but the most ardent snow enthusiasts.)

While the weatherman called January "one of those drier months," the meager snowfall wasn't the smallest for the period.

In January of 1944, only 1.9 inches fell, and the record low is 1.4 inches in January 1935.

Missing snow produces several crises.

The lack of snow meant that there's little protection for their crops from the cold. Also much-needed moisture for wheat meadows, pasture land and moist forage crops won't be forthcoming.

GOOD FOR IRRIGATION

Farmers also welcome snow because of its irrigation value.

It does not cause the erosion brought often by heavy spring rains and it helps crops to get better rooted to resist the erosion.

Sunny days proved the rule in January — and along with the sun, generally, came springlike temperatures.

The month's high of 53 was reached on Jan. 13. From Jan 5-19, the mercury never fell below 16.

Temperatures tumbled on Jan. 20, and after that it was cold the rest of January. The month's low —four below—came on Jan. 25.

January offered light snow flurries eight days, heavier snow three days, 14 sunny and pleasant days, two fair days and four cloudy days.

Kennedy to Go Step Beyond Ike's Policies

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has said enough now to indicate he intends to follow a moderate course and that the key-note to his presidency will be action and change—but not drastic change.

There are points on which he disagrees with the policies of his predecessor President Eisenhower. And these are apt to get more attention than the points on which he agrees.

★ ★ ★

But there are plenty of points of agreement between him and Eisenhower, as Kennedy disclosed further at his second news conference Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Some of the fields in which he does not see eye to eye with Eisenhower may have profound importance to the people affected.

Still, in one field after another, instead of proposing something completely new, he simply wants to go a step beyond where Eisenhower was willing to go.

FURTHER THAN IKE

For instance: Eisenhower favored a medical care plan for the aged. So does Kennedy. But Kennedy wants to tie it into Social Security, Eisenhower was unwilling to go that far.

He opened his news conference with the announcement he was reversing Eisenhower's critical cut in the number of servicemen's dependents allowed to go overseas with them. This affected the morale of the armed forces.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy also announced he had ordered, in an attempt to encourage increased home-building, a reduction from 5¾ to 5½ per cent in insured loans by the Federal Housing Administration.

These were definite reversals of Eisenhower policy. But in one field after another Kennedy showed agreement with Eisenhower thinking. He even went out of his way at times to note he was following Eisenhower policy. Some examples:

CRACKS DOWN

Asked why he had cracked down on belligerent speeches by high military officers, Kennedy said this was to avoid conflict with administration policy which has been non-belligerent. He pointed out Eisenhower had done the same.

Eisenhower was opposed to a tax cut to overcome the business slump. Kennedy said he is, too, at least at this time.

Eisenhower in his budget message to Congress last month — seeking new revenues to balance the budget — asked Congress to vote an increase in postal rates and the tax on highway and aviation gasoline.

Kennedy said he will do the same. In fact, he said he would ask for a change in only a few items in Eisenhower's budget.

When it was suggested to him that his State of the Union message to Congress last week was critical of Eisenhower "military policy and judgment," Kennedy said:

He is waiting, perhaps until the end of February, for his own aides to give him a report on America's military strength. And he added:

Until then "I would not attempt to make any criticism or suggest that we are going to have to change the plans made by President Eisenhower."

Nor has he backed away from any commitments made by Eisenhower in the foreign field. Asked his position on defending Berlin against Communist pressure, which Eisenhower was pledged to do, Kennedy said:

"My view . . . is the same as the view expressed by the previous administration . . . There is no change in our view on Berlin."

Jobless Pay Extension Could Climb to $1 Billion

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of the emergency extra unemployment benefits proposed by President Kennedy could climb to $1 billion.

★ ★ ★

The total would depend on how high unemployment remains and on the number of states voluntarily subscribing to the plan once it may be authorized by Congress. But officials estimate the cost could reach $1 billion.

On Capitol Hill, the plan apparently was set for early consideration by the House.

The measure was believed to have considerable bipartisan appeal, since a number of Republican House members represent districts where unemployment is critical. But some employer opposition was expected.

Money for the plan would come initially out of federal funds. It would be repaid later out of revenues realized from broadening from $3,000 to $4,800 the annual earnings base of workers on which employers pay payroll taxes to finance the system.

The plan, contemplated to last a year, would increase payment of regular weekly unemployment insurance benefits one-half again as long as their present maximum duration. Most states make such payments for a maximum of 26 weeks. The extra payments would extend for a maximum of 13 weeks.

Payments average about $34 a week. The amount would not be changed. Both amount and duration of benefits vary between the states.

Kennedy proposed that in the few states paying regular benefits for more than 26 weeks—there are nine such states—the government would take over the cost of benefits after 26 weeks, up to a maximum of 39 weeks, thus freeing state funds for increases in benefit amounts.

Put Prison Escapee on Most Wanted List

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today put William Chester Cole, a youthful escapee from a Fort Myers, Fla., prison camp, on its list of 10 most wanted men.

★ ★ ★

Cole, 22, escapee with six others from the Fort Meyers camp last Aug. 6 while he was serving a life term for a 1958 series of grocery and liquor store holdups in the Pensacola, Fla., area.

★ ★ ★

Dow to Build 2nd Plant in Louisiana Community

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. announced today that it will build a second polyolefin plant at Plaquemine, La. The first plant was completed in December.

★ ★ ★

The new plant will produce medium and high density polyethylene and thylene copolymers as well as polypropylene, the company said. All are members of the plastics family.

Dr. W. C. Goggin, manager of the Dow Plastics department, said construction is expected to start within 90 days with completion scheduled for mid-1962.

About 25,000 communities in the U. S. depend entirely for their transportation on motor vehicles. They range from tiny hamlets to Key West, Fla., with a population of 30,000.

By DIANE MARY WALTER

Producing a play is not all "play." This fact is proven by the Pontiac Northern Players.

Long rehearsals after school outline the activities of the cast as curtain call for the production, "Pygmalion," draws near.

The Northern Players have been in rehearsal for about two months. This week they're putting the finishing touches on the George Bernard Shaw classic for performances next Friday and Saturday, Feb. 10-11.

Eliza Doolittle, a cockney flower girl whom Higgins seemingly transforms into a lady by teaching her to speak cultivated English, is played by Jean Isbell.

In the process of transforming a poor girl into a lady, Higgins changes a human life. By lifting Eliza above her own class and providing her with only the accessories or privileges of another, Higgins makes her unfit for both.

Eliza is characterized as a proud, stubborn girl, even though educated only by the crudities of poverty and the gutter.

She asks Higgins to make good his boast that he can pass her off as a duches within three months and offers to pay him for lessons which will take her off the streets into a position as saleswoman in a flower shop.

Months later, when Higgins has indeed proved his boast, she resents his indifference toward her and runs away to his mother, played by Sharon Bratt, who has befrinded her.

Higgins' role is in contrast to that of Colonel Pickering, played by Ken Freeman, who finances the transformation. As a fellow phonetician, Pickering approves of the project as a scientific experiment, but as a gentleman he sympathizes with Eliza as a sensitive human being.

Jolene Hundell, student director of dramatics club, acts as Mrs. Hill, dominating mother to Diane Walter, who plays the role of Miss Hill. Dick Pointon too, is victim of the brow beating by Jolene, as he plays Miss Hill's brother.

Future journalists of the Pontiac Northern Polaris staff recently visited Seaholm High School in Birmingham for a news conference.

The conference was open to all high school students interested in improving their techniques of writing.

They attended lectures and also became better acquainted with the "dos" and don'ts" of writing, and the advantages and disadvantages of journalism.

HEADLINERS — These are a few of the headliners working out a routine for Emmanuel Christian High School's Minstrel Show. The program will take place at the high school next Tuesday night. There are many surprises in store for the audience. For example, if you look at this picture and see two boys and two girls — look again. Kneeling are Marilyn Wagner (left) and Judie Carie. Standing are Joanne Themm and John Miller. Marilyn does a special "Al Jolson Routine." All of the performers are seniors at Emmanuel.

Minstrel Show Is Slated at Emmanuel

By KATHY McKEE

Curtains will go up for the 31-member cast at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 7th in the school auditorium.

Kay McCoy, senior homeroom teacher, will be director.

Tom Sutton and Jim Pittman are the lively end men. Comical skits will be presented by Jim Newbanks, Evelyn Chapel, Bob Hutto, Carolyn Brewer, and Jim Dennis.

Marilyn Wagner will be pantomiming "Swanee" and "Mammie," two of Al Jolson's hits. A boys' quartet composed of Jim Dennis, Wayne Young, Jim Newbanks and Joel Lauckner will also pantomime a popular spiritual, "Dry Bones."

At this initiation, the new members were given a prop and were asked to present an impromptu-skit around it.

SCIENCE FAIR SLATED

The Linnean Society has set April 14 and 15 as the dates for the annual Science Fair to be held in the Pontiac Central cafeteria.

Area students may enter projects on any aspect of science in the elementary, junior high and high school divisions.

Qualified judges from nearby colleges will view the projects and award a fair, good, excellent, or superior rating. Cash prizes will be given the best all-around project in each division.

Waterford Ski Clubbers Plan Big Weekend Trip

By BARB SECAN

"Caberfae, here we come!" These will be the words of anxious Waterford Township High School skiers next Friday as they head for the snowy slopes.

Spending an exciting fun-filled weekend of skiing will be ski-club members.

The club will board a ski train here and travel north to Caberfae for two days, returning late Sunday afternoon by train.

The club chose this popular ski area because of its excellent skiing facilities and partially because of its resort atmosphere.

Under the sponsorship of Dave Freeman, the group plans to lodge at the Manton Inn near Caberfae.

Aside from this adventurous weekend, the ski club also skis weekly at Mt. Holly. A large number of students belong to the club and everyone looks forward to skiing on Wednesday.

Drama Club Plans 1st Performance at St. Frederick's

By MARY ELLEN DETMER

The drama enthusiasts at St. Frederick High School are working hard on their first play, "The Importance of Being Earnest."

Members of the Drama Club are gaining experience not only in acting but in costuming, props, set construction and make-up.

Shirley Green and Art Wagner are happy winners of the top cash prizes in the sale. Shirley received $15 for selling 115 cannisters, while Art received $10 for selling 84 cannisters.

Their sales, combined with the sales of the rest of the senior class made the drive a definite success.

Speakers Active at Oxford High

By LINDA JACOB

Four Oxford High School students have participated this year as active members on the school's debate squad.

★ ★ ★

On the affirmative team are Laura Pearce and Denis Boris. On the negative are David Kenny and Dennis King.

This season the negative team has not been able to win any of the league debates but the affirmative is doing quite well by winning two out of three of their debates.

Both the affirmative and the negative teams have won many of their practice debates.

★ ★ ★

A number of schools participate in these debate programs.

Some of the schools that the Oxford team have met are North Branch, Romeo, Troy and others.

★ ★ ★

The Oxford team was host to the team from Harper Woods Notre Dame on Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Forensics activities are also being planned at Oxford. Students interested in the program are allowed to choose from different categories according to their interests and abilities.

★ ★ ★

Forensics is a speech activity which gives high school students the chance to compete with other high schools in the area.

Honors and awards may be won by those students who participate in this program.

The Oxford Faculty will meet the Orion Faculty in a basketball game assisted by a friendly beast, the donkey.

★ ★ ★

The game should provide laughs and thrills to all who attend.

'Must' for PCH to Stay in 2nd

By BILL CORNWELL

The Chiefs of Pontiac Central try to keep their grip on 2nd place tonight when they tangle with dangerous Flint Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game at Flint's Ballenger Fieldhouse at 8 p.m.

Art Van Ryzin's PCH cagers will be gunning for their 8th victory in 11 starts and 5th league win against two defeats. They're currently tied with Arthur Hill for 2nd in the Saginaw Valley standings.

Flint Central, a much better team than its 6-3 over-all record and 3-3 SVC mark would indicate, is seeking revenge for an earlier 58-43 loss to the Chiefs on the PCH court.

A faint-hearted attempt by the Chiefs this evening will surely be fatal. It will take an all-out effort to conquer the run-and-shoot Indians of Joe Dowdy in their own teepee.

As a matter of fact, it was not until the 4th quarter of their first meeting that the Chiefs were able to pull away after being held to a slim two-point lead.

The two teams battled nip-and-tuck for three periods and the Chiefs led, 39-37, entering the final stanza. Then they spurted to wrap it up.

Flint Central is still stringing along with the same five boys who played against PCH the first time, but the personnel situation has changed on West Huron street.

Lanky Otto Kennedy, a 6-6 center, and 5-7 guard Roy Couser were promoted to the varsity squad during the interim and both started for the Chiefs in last week's 54-45 victory over Arthur Hill.

★ ★ ★

Van Ryzin is expected to start Kennedy and Couser again tonight with jumping jack George Fed, muscular Bradell Pritchett and sharp-shooting Clarence Douglas completing the top unit.

The Indians like to press on defense and this should be a vigorous challenge to the quick-moving Courier, who plays the "quarterback" spot.

Forward Cloyce Dickerson is the leading scorer for the Flint quintet and Jerry Roberson trails him by only one point. Jim Toles, Rick Moore and Dick Horning are the Indians' other regulars and all five have often scored in double figures to demonstrate their well-balanced offense.

The speedy Indians are a basket-happy outfit. They have been averaging 70.8 points per game, scoring 98 one time and 80 another. Their 43 total at PCH was their lowest of the campaign.

In other Valley competition tonight, unbeaten and league-leading Saginaw High plays at Bay City Central and Flint Northern goes to Arthur Hill.

Royals' Coach Defends Wilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Charley Wolf of the Cincinnati Royals today voiced disagreement with coach Paul Seymour of St. Louis who had said that 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain has nothing going for him but his height.

"Just because he's 7-1 doesn't make him a good player," Wolf said of the Philadelphia star after he had scored 45 points Thursday night to lead the Warriors to a 133-118 National Basketball Association victory over Cincinnati. Jack Twyman, with 25 points, and Oscar Robertson with 24 were high for Cincinnati.

"Swede Halbrook (of Syracuse) is 7-3 but he can't get the things done Chamberlain does," said Wolf. "The fact that Chamberlain is 7-1 and has ability makes him much greater."

The fourth-place Royals' loss in the nightcap of a Convention Hall doubleheader hurt their Western Division playoff chances. The loss left them two games behind Los Angeles, which defeated first-place St. Louis 116-115 in the opening game on Frank Selvy's foul shot in the last five seconds.

LEADS HUSKIES — Jerry Heard scored one of Pontiac Northern's three pins as the Huskies finished unbeaten against Inter-Lakes rivals by whipping tough Southfield last night. He has lost only one match all season.

PNH Matmen Roll On

Pontiac Northern completed a scweep of Inter-Lakes opponents by beating Southfield 27-15 as Walled Lake was taking Waterford by the same score last night. Pontiac Central took a 42-8 drubbing at Bay City Handy.

Successive decisions by Winfred Miracle and Dave Fox and Jerry Heard's pin enabled the Huskies pull away after Southfield had rallied to trail only 16-12 with four matches to go. A tourney loss for Heard is the only setback for the trio all season. It was Northern's 8th dual win in nine starts.

Falls by Wes Cottrell, Ron Wik and big John Van Sicklen paced Walled Lake which came from behind twice early to take command.

Barry Whittaker turned in his best showing of the season to get PCH off in front but it was all Handy from then on except for a 5-0 decision won by Curt Lee.

Hits $50,000 Hole-in-One

February Good for January

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Spokane's little known Al Mengert—trying to trade austerity in the North Woods for prosperity in the desert—held a slim and surprising lead today going into round three of the Palm Springs Golf Classic.

But the unrivaled conversation piece here was an even bigger surprise—a hole-in-one that could turn into a $50,000 stroke of luck for Don January.

January, a 31-year-old Texan who played golf for 24 years without scoring an ace, hit the jackpot on the fly Thursday at the 148-yard 15th hole on the Indian Wells Country Club course.

The sponsors of this 90-hole, $50,000 event have offered a $50,000 bonus to any pro scoring an ace, and if no one else makes it before Sunday night, January will have the plump prize to himself.

Mengert, also 31, shot a 6-under-par 65 Thursday at Thunderbird and came in with a two-day score of 133. The former amateur star was just a stroke in front of Bob Rosburg and Art Wall Jr., and only two strokes ahead of Fred Hawkins, Jay Hebert, George Bayer and Dave Marr.

January's hole-in-one, accomplished with an 8-iron, had several engaging aspects. One of them was that the slender Dallas golfer thought at first his ball was stuck in a tree instead of a hole.

There was actually a second hole in one Thursday—scored by Sam Tobias of Bakersfield, Calif., on the 217-yard 12th at Eldorado, but Tobias, unhappily, is an amateur, and all he gets for his rare accomplishment is a golf cart.

Dies of Heart Attack While Driving Car

A 65-year-old businessman from Commerce Township died of a heart attack while driving to work in Detroit this morning. His car then crashed into a tree alongside Haggerty Road, about 2 miles from his home.

The victim, Charles L. Noland of 2222 N. Pontiac Trail, was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 8 p.m.

He was headed south on Haggerty Road when he apparently suffered the seizure. His car careened out of control, smashed through a fence and executed several circles in a field before crashing into a tree about 200 feet from the road.

Noland, who is survived by his wife Mable, 63, and two sons in California, was sales manager of Detroit Typesetting Co.

Two More Firms Join Gas Price Drop in Area

Pontiac area motorists will get a lift as major oil companies announce gasoline price drops locally.

Standard Oil Co. and Speedway Petroleum Corp. were the latest to reveal lower prices to their service stations in the metropolitan area today.

Gas station merchants, who set their own prices, indicated they will pass the savings, ranging from a penny to 1.6 cents a gallon, on to motorists if this has not already been done.

The latest chain reaction among the oil companies was initiated last week by the Shell Oil Co. Others, besides Shell and Speedway, are expected to make proportionate cuts in gasoline prices.

Shell and Speedway reduced the price .9 cents per gallon in Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Monroe, Washtenaw and Livingston counties and 1.6 cents per gallon in Wayne County.

Missiles Active, Motors Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircraft-missile, electronics, and selected issues were very active as the stock market showed a mixed pattern in extremely heavy trading early today.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were small but a few secondary issues advanced from 1 to about 4 points.

Very large opening blocks were traded in some of the missiles and electronics. Some, after showing an early edge to the upside, began to retreat.

The week's advance seemed to be reaching some kind of temporary climax. Brokers said a corrective reaction was likely for the steady rise which has taken some market averages to historic highs.

* * *

Motors were mostly higher as auto assemblies were scheduled to move up. Oils, chemicals and utilities had an edge to the upside.

The aircraft-missile-rocket stocks and building materials which have been spurred by the news this week began to turn ragged.

Raybestos spurted about 4, Polaroid about 2, and Royal McBee around a point. Du Pont was up more than a point. Certain-Teed rose 1⅛ to 31⅛ on 8,000 shares.

Boeing and Lockheed showed fractional losses as the session progressed.

Moderate gains were held by general Motors, Chrysler, Radio Corp., Douglas Aircraft, Raytheon, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, Allied Chemical and Sperry Rand.

Auto Workers Talking

Dictate on Plant Location?

DETROIT (AP) — A United Auto Workers spokesman said Thursday night the big union may seek to limit the automakers' right to locate their plants.

* * *

* * *

The UAW contract with the Big Three automakers, Ford, General Motors and Chrysler, runs out this summer.

* * *

Bannon cited industry rumors that Ford is going to build two new cars, one smaller than the current compact Falcon and one larger.

"The new cars ought to be built right here in Detroit," Bannon said. "We have a lot of workers affected by automation. Why not help them?

* * *

"If Ford does not want to live up to its moral obligation, our people at the company say that, come the 1961 negotiations, we should put some teeth in the new contract on management's right to locate plants."

* * *

Denise did not respond.

Michigan has been hard hit by plants relocating elsewhere and lack of new industry in the state. The latest figures for the Detroit area show 165,000 persons unemployed, 11.8 per cent of the labor force.

The debate was staged by the Detroit chapter of the Industrial Relations Research Association.

Though maligned as pests, hawks prey largely on rodents and insects. It is estimated that a single hawk saves farmers about $110 a year in rodent damage.

Tennessee Auto Collision Kills Royal Oak Woman

BENTON, Tenn. (AP)—A two-car collision in front of the Polk County Jail Thursday took the life of a Michigan woman and injured Sheriff Buford Dixon.

Mrs. Eva Thompson of Royal Oak died late Thursday night in a hospital at nearby Cleveland, Tenn., of injuries received in the wreck.

Officers said Mrs. Thompson and her husband were riding in one car, Dixon and Willard Bioaddes in the other. All but Thompson were hospitalized and the sheriff was reported in fair condition.

Military Abroad Must Cut Spending

McNamara Adds 53 Planes to U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration's first efforts to improve the nation's defenses will add 53 planes, including the first jet transports, to the troop airlift fleet and reduce military spending abroad.

* * *

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has ordered 30 big C135 jets, each capable of carrying 80 fully armed men, with deliveries scheduled to start in June and continue at a rate of two a month.

In a drive to slow the critical drain on U.S. gold reserves, the approximately one million American military personnel and dependents overseas will be asked to cut their annual spending by an average of $80 each.

These were the major programs announced by McNamara Thursday when he held his first Pentagon news conference after only two weeks in office.

He said that the additional planes, to include 23 C103E turboprops as well as the jets, will require congressional appropriations of $172 million and transfer of an unspecified amount from existing funds.

Both the jets and the turboprops have intercontinental range. The turboprops, some of which already are in the fleet, also can carry 64 paratroopers each on shorter "tactical" missions.

The former Ford Motor Co. president, reminding the nearly 200 newsmen that he had sold his automobile stocks, said one way to reduce spending would be to cut down on the purchase of foreign cars.

He said it was entirely possible that the privilege of shipping foreign cars back to the United States at government expense would be withdrawn unless the program to reduce military spending showed satisfactory progress.

The economies are being substituted for the Eisenhower administration plan, canceled by President Kennedy earlier in the week, that would have cut the number of military dependents abroad from 487,000 to about 265,000.

1960 Ford Profits Drop 5.2 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. reports its 1960 profits totaled $427,855,958 — a drop of 5.2 per cent despite the second-best year in unit sales of cars and trucks in company history.

Henry Ford II, president and board chairman, said in an annual statement yesterday that net income per share amounted to $7.80 last year, or 44 cents a share less than 1959. He also said profits in the first quarter of this year will fall below those of the record first quarter of 1960.

Sales also dropped slightly last year, totaling $5,237,889,262 compared to $5,356,871,344 for the preceding year.

* * *

At the same time that profits and dollar volume sales dipped, Ford said unit sales for 1960 mounted to 2,225,859, compared to 2,091,106 in 1959. He said the unit sales were second highest in Ford history.

Negro Leader Is Honored With Award at Dinner

NEW YORK (UPI)—Negro integration leader the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King received the 1961 award of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) Thursday night at a dinner in the Hotel Astor.

* * *

Among the speakers at the ADA's annual Roosevelt Day dinner were Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., and Harvard economist John Kenneth Galbraith, an adviser of President Kennedy.

Clark said that under the senate's present rules, "Nineteenth century men . . . the Dirksens, the Goldwaters, the Bridges and the Byrds," could harass Kennedy's proposals by holding them in committee or filibustering them to death on the Senate floor.

He said the nation would face a major constitutional crisis if the "nineteenth century men" thus succeeded in blocking Kennedy's programs.

Swainson Names Phone Co. Man to State Post

LANSING (AP)—Appointment of a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. official to the governor's staff in a new drive to promote the state's economic growth was announced by Gov. Swainson today.

* * *

Arthur Meyers of Brighton, executive assistant for the telephone company, is the first of a series of business and industrial officials who will be loaned to the state by the business community, Swainson said.

Meyers, 44, will work for six months as a special assistant for liaison between the governor's office, the Michigan congressional delegation and federal departments in Washington.

Wagar A. Glas Partner of Watling, Lerchen

Watling, Lerchen & Co., Detroit-based brokerage and investment firm with an office in Pontiac, has announced the admission of Wagar A. Glas as a general partner.

Glas joined Watling, Lerchen & Co. in 1946 as a registered representative, and has been with the firm's Ann Arbor office since that date. He is board chairman of the National Association of Investment Clubs.

* * *

Watling, Lerchen maintains general and executive offices in Detroit with branch offices in Ann Arbor, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Birmingham and Dearborn, as well as Pontiac, and in New York City.

F. H. Heineman Wins Promotion at Swanson

J. Robert F. Swanson, president of Swanson Associates, Inc., architects, planners and engineers, Bloomfield Hills, has announced the appointment of Floyd H. Heineman as general manager.

Heineman will direct the business administration and contract activities for Swanson. An associate of the firm for the past four years, Heineman formerly was in charge of the field supervision and construction department.

Gadgetry Buries Weak Script of New Comedy

NEW YORK (UPI)—The gadgetry in "How to Make a Man," Thursday night's arrival at the Atkinson Theater, is sufficiently overwhelming to bury a much better script than this comedy by William Welch.

The play is a pedestrian attempt to have fun with the future prospect of robots being available to humans for various uses around the house.

Designer Harry Horner has been given a free hand to create this world of 1990, and his work is the dominant ingredient of the production presented by Dick Randall.

* * *

The author's humor generally is at the double-meaning level, as in the title, which is indication in itself that there can't be much wit or inventiveness involved in the script. It is based on a story by Clifford Simak.

AMC to Cut Output, Work Force Shortly

DETROIT (AP)—American Motor Corp. announced today it will halt auto production for one week beginning Monday and produce fewer cars thereafter. AMC has plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.

Some 20,000 workers will be idled during the week-long shutdown, a company spokesman said.

When work is resumed Feb. 13, the firm said, production schedules will be reduced 9 per cent and an unspecified number of employes will be laid off indefinitely. Current daily output is 1,755 units.
