

Romney Whips Swainson in 'Popularity Poll'

Roberts Wins Handily

By RON CANTERA

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts snuffed out the income tax as a political weapon against him yesterday by scoring an overwhelming victory over two fellow Republicans for the GOP nomination as state senator.

Roberts, criticized by opponents Richard D. Kuhn and Robert J. Huber for supporting an income tax earlier this year and later reversing his stand, walked off with 17,776 votes when unofficial tallies were compiled at the county clerk's office early this morning.

Kuhn was credited with 9,572 votes and Huber, the mayor of Troy, was given 4,602.

In the 1960 primary, in a two-man race with Roberts, Kuhn finished less than 4,000 votes behind. In yesterday's three-man contest, which would tend to weaken Roberts' chances of a big vote, the incumbent senator came close to matching his 1960 total of 19,500 votes.

EXCITED TO LOSE
Kuhn blamed his decisive defeat on the ballot designation carried by Roberts.

The con-con delegate from Waterford said a victory in his suit to declare ballot designation unconstitutional "could have made it a lot closer." After the State Supreme Court ruled against him, Kuhn said he "expected" to lose to Roberts. "I don't think you can beat ballot designation," he said.

In the 1960 contest between Roberts and Kuhn, Roberts was seeking his first term and did not carry ballot designation.

Kuhn, despite his vigorous attack on Roberts' program during the pre-election campaign, pledged to support the incumbent in his battle for re-election.

Roberts' senate opponent in the November general election, Leland H. Smith, collected 13,060 votes as the lone Democratic candidate in the senate race. Smith's total was the highest of any county Democrat.

"HONOR" SUPPORT
Roberts' support came largely from areas near his West Bloomfield Township home.

Birmingham voters gave him his biggest margin of the election—1,305 votes—with a total of 2,045 compared to 540 for Huber and 426 for Kuhn.

The senator's other high-vote communities were Royal Oak (1,574), Bloomfield Township (1,497), Pontiac (1,133) and West Bloomfield Township (762).

Even in Waterford Township—Kuhn's home ground—Roberts emerged the victor, chalking up 947 votes against 726 for Kuhn and 202 for Huber.

Roberts said the election went about as he predicted except that the vote was heavier. He said he had estimated he would outpoll Kuhn and Huber, 12,000 to 6,000 to 4,000.

Huber captured only one of the 46 communities balloting in the election. That was in his home town of Troy, where he collected 495 votes compared to Roberts' 284, which was next highest.

Kuhn was victorious in only four communities, including Berkeley, where his brother George Kuhn is mayor and heads the Vigilance Tax Committee opposing Detroit's income tax on nonresidents.

BEST SHOWING
On the Democratic ticket, the unchallenged Smith made his most impressive showing in Royal Oak (1,323 votes), his home town Oak Park (1,229) and Pontiac (1,135).

Roberts' overwhelming victory undoubtedly will quiet criticism of the pro-income tax stand he took during this year's senate session. Along with a group of so-called GOP moderates, Roberts voted for a tax but later reversed his stand when the pro-tax group resumed.

Ex-AMC Chief Ups GOP Hope for November

Impressive Vote Total Marks 1st Campaign for Major Office

By The Associated Press

Industrialist George Romney raised Republican hopes for victory in November with a strong "popularity contest" victory over incumbent Gov. John B. Swainson in yesterday's state primary election.

Michigan voters—deciding on a new look for the legislature—dislodged several veteran lawmakers in a primary which featured a number of surprise upsets.

Romney, former American Motors president, rolled up an impressive vote total in his first campaign for a major political office. He is regarded as a possible GOP presidential candidate in 1964.

With 5,195 of the state's 5,199 precincts reporting, including all of Wayne County, Romney's total was 446,326 while Swainson had 318,350.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders cautioned, however, against reading too much into the results of the "popularity poll." Two prominent and longtime members of the state Senate—Sens. Carlton Morris of Kalamazoo and Charles Freeman of Grand Rapids—were displaced by newcomers.

In the House, at least five representatives got the thumbs down treatment. They included veteran Rep. Harry Phillips, R-Port Huron, and four Wayne County Democrats—Rens, Joseph Jackson, 15th District; Edward Jeffries, 5th District; Chester Wozniak, 14th District; and Edgar Curran, 1st District.

The No. 2 lieutenant governor spot on the Republican ticket was captured by Clarence Reid, who held that post in 1953-54 and ran unsuccessfully for the job five years ago. Reid won over state Sen. John Stahlin of Belding and Rockwell Gust Jr., a Grange Pointe Farms attorney.

Swainson's running mate, who was unopposed in the primary, will be Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, a Detroit attorney.

Other nominees on the tickets will be chosen at party conventions Aug. 24-25. These include the secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer and auditor general.

FOR HOFFMAN SEAT
In a hotly contested race for the GOP nomination for congressman from the 4th district, former Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Farmington held off three other hopefuls for the job of retiring Rep. Charles Hoffman.

They were Chester Byrns, a St. Joseph attorney, House Speaker Don Pears, R-Buchanan, and Lee Boothby of Niles, a telephone technician in the recent constitutional convention.

The battle for the running-mate spot to Romney provided the only statewide contest in the primary. It pitted the quiet, handsome technique of Reid against some high-powered publicity and speech making followed by Stahlin and Gust.

The rush to get on the Romney bandwagon was not unanimous, however.

Taken opposition was launched against the former auto maker as the result of a state house vote on the 14th District Republican organization and a member of the ultra-conservative John Birch Society.

A handful of Durant backers, announced they were distributing "write-in" stickers in opposition to Romney, whom they said was too liberal in his views.

Although they announced that 10,000 stickers bearing Durant's name had been ordered, there were no reports of the tentative unofficial returns of any having appeared.

DOUBT 'BAROMETER'

'Ma' Duncan Executed at San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—

Elizabeth Ann (Ma) Duncan, an all-poseptive mother who hired the murderers of her son's pregnant wife, died today in the San Quentin gas chamber.

A last-minute petition for a stay of execution was denied Mrs. Duncan only five minutes before she was to enter the gas chamber.

Stays also were denied Augustine Baldonado, 28, and Luis Moya, 25, the men she hired to kill her daughter-in-law.

She was pronounced dead at 12:12. Pontiac time, eight minutes after the gas started.

She entered the chamber with faltering steps.

She said not a word as three guards strapped her into the metal chair.

She stared straight ahead, with eyes level, at the door through which she entered.

The governor's office reported her last word to the warden was "I am innocent. I want to see my son."

Her eyes blinked but she held her head level until a trembling shook her body as the lethal fumes started their effect.

Baldonado and Moya, tavern drivers who executed their murder contract in November 1958 by beating, strangling and burying 30-year-old Olga Duncan, were to be marched into the gas chamber at 3 p.m.

One Incumbent Defeated in Representative Races

Only one incumbent lost his bid for renomination as Oakland County yesterday named competitors for the November election of State Representatives—leaving familiar names to appear on the Pontiac and Waterford ballots.

The defeated incumbent was Democratic Rep. John C. Hitchcock of District 6 in southern Oakland County.

In Waterford (District 1), Lloyd L. Anderson, 54, the three-time Republican representative, with 3,425 votes, comfortably doubled the 1,280 in returns for his young opponent, Michael L. Carl, 27.

Anderson now faces Democrat John S. Coleman who won 1,798 votes yesterday, running unopposed.

In Pontiac, Rep. Arthur J. Law (District 2) was unopposed in the primary as was the Republican contender, Robert C. Smith. Law tallied 1,456 votes—nearly 200 behind Smith with 1,650.

In the only primary upset, Madison Heights Mayor Bill S. Huffman, with 2,270, displaced incumbent Democratic Rep. John C. Hitchcock who was after his third term as the 6th District's representative. Hitchcock polled only 1,726.

Two other Democratic candidates on the primary ballot were con-con delegate, Lee Walker, 1,384, and Thomas Kalezavich, 175. The latter did not campaign after declining to drop out of the race too late to have his name removed from the ballots.

GOP Incumbents Reap Wide County Margins

The only race on the Republican slate saw incumbent Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry defeat his challenger for the nomination Art Becker 19,538 to 11,305.

In two contests on the Democratic side, former Oakland County Sheriff's deputy Kenneth G. Hirt gained his party's nomination for sheriff and Roy J. Russell edged Daniel T. Berry for the drain commissioner spot on the ballot, 7,398 to 7,336.

Berry's backers said today he probably would seek a recount. Tally sheets show that Russell got only 19 of the 46 cities and townships in the county, but they added up to more than the 27 which Hirt claimed.

Russell, 32, of Pontiac Township, will be getting a second crack at Barry's job. He lost to the incumbent in the last election by some 25,000 votes. Barry, 39, is seeking his fourth term.

Hirt will be facing his old boss, Sheriff Frank Irons, who continued his history of leading the ticket for county offices. Irons polled 30,737.

Kept from the sheriff's spot on the November 6 ballot by 34-year-old Hirt of Ferndale were William A. Smith of Madison Heights with 4,629, and Oxford auto dealer Homer Hight, 4,418. Hirt polled 5,727.

It was northern Oakland County versus southern Oakland County in the Democratic sheriff's race.

Hight captured 15 of the 46 townships and cities in the county; they were all in the northern or middle part of the county, and couldn't offset the high South Oakland votes counted by Hirt.

LOST IN '60
Hight unsuccessfully opposed Irons two years ago in the general election, losing 25,694 to 34,624. Ballot totals for unopposed candidates were:

For prosecutor—George F. Taylor, Republican incumbent, 29,371; S. Jerome Bronson, D-Oak Park, 12,909.

Clerk-Register of Deeds—Daniel T. Murphy, R-incumbent, 28,057; David S. Lees, D-Troy, 12,991.

Surveyor—Ralph A. Main, R-incumbent, 28,454; Stanley F. Dunn, D-Bloomfield Township, 12,973.

Only 15.6 per cent of the county's 238,615 registered voters turned out for the primary.

County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy said an unofficial tally showed 53,528 persons voted here, where approximately 85,000 had been anticipated.

Fulkerson Gets Shot at Rep. Broomfield

George J. Fulkerson can thank voters in Pontiac and Waterford Township for paving his way to victory in the race to choose a Democratic nominee for U.S. Congressman from Oakland County.

In defeating fellow Democrat George E. Lennox, Fulkerson received nearly half of his unofficial winning margin of 1,632 from voters in the two area communities.

Final unofficial returns showed the 35-year-old Birmingham attorney with 7,435 votes compared to 5,803 for Lennox.

Congressman William S. Broomfield, running unopposed on the Republican ticket, polled 32,198 votes to lead all Oakland County candidates.

Broomfield drew 1,904 votes in Pontiac and another 1,765 in Waterford Township as little more than 10 percent of the registered voters turned out in each community.

INSURED WIN
While the Pontiac and Waterford totals were meaningless to the unchallenged Broomfield—except as a popularity index, Fulkerson used sizable margins in both areas to insure his victory over Lennox.

In Pontiac, Fulkerson drew his highest vote total and his biggest winning margin in any Oakland community, tallying 822 votes to Lennox's 478, a difference of 444.

Waterford voters gave the winner spread of 286 votes, 475 to 211. Fulkerson said the balloting went

Veteran Solons Fall by Wayside

Pair of GOP Senators, Morris and Feenstra, Lose Out in Primary

By The Associated Press
A handful of veteran Michigan legislators — including two of the key Senate spokesmen for the Republican party — fell by the wayside Tuesday in a state primary election highlighted by upsets.

Most incumbents in the Senate and the state House of Representatives won the right to seek reelection in November, but among the victims of unexpected defeat were Republican Sen. Carlton H. Morris of Kalamazoo and Charles R. Feenstra of Grand Rapids.

Morris, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and leader of the anti-income tax fight in the last legislative session, was split in the 6th District by Attorney Garry E. Brown of Schoolcraft, a former delegate to the constitutional convention.

Feenstra, a GOP leader in the Senate for the last 12 years, lost out to Robert VanderLaan, 32-year-old member of the Farris Township (Kent County) Board of Supervisors.

The House lost a number of familiar faces, among them Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-Port Huron, a 20-year veteran and one-time GOP floor leader, and five Democratic incumbents from Wayne County districts.

Phillips ran last in a three-man race for two seats, trailing Rep. Raymond C. Wursel of North Street and newcomer Donald Walmer Jr. of Port Huron.

In heavily-Democratic Wayne County all five incumbent senators survived the primary.

REPRESENTATIVES LOSE
But the voting took its toll of Reps. Edgar Currie, 1st District; Edward H. Jeffries, 2d District; Chester Wornat, 14th District; Joseph L. Jackson, 15th District; and Hugh Smale, 12th District.

In Allegan County, complete unofficial returns showed Rep. Ben E. Lohman, a Republican, was ousted in the primary by constitutional convention delegate James S. Farnsworth, 4,877 to 2,608. Jack Martin, Otsego, won the Democratic nod.

Rep. Clarence B. Meggison, R-Charlevoix, was far behind newcomer Don Gordon of Leland, but returns were still to come in at least half the precincts in the district which covers Charlevoix, Antrim, Lelanau and Benzie counties.

Other former constitutional convention delegates besides Brown and Farnsworth were making strong showings in the primary.

Former delegates won Democratic nominations in Wayne County's two vacant senatorial seats. They were Charles N. Youngblood in the first district and William D. Ford in the 2nd.

David F. Upton, another former constitutional convention delegate, won the Republican nomination for state representative from Berrien County's 1st District and will face Democrat James A. Simmons in November.

In the Houghton district encompassing four counties of the Upper Peninsula, Republican Ruth Butler, still another former delegate, was well ahead of all other GOP candidates in early returns, seeking the seat held by Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Houghton.

County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy said Clawson's report was not received at the courthouse until 1:30 a.m., 40 minutes after all other reports had been turned in.

Mrs. Cadger said she had reminded the council about the election in hopes they would reschedule it. "They more or less said 'so what,'" she said.

The only other primary race in which candidates were contested in both parties was in District 4. Here, incumbent Republican Rep. Raymond L. Baker, 5,035, will face Democratic nominee Albert A. Kramer, 1,608.

Baker, 45, who made good in 1960 on his first political try after retiring as a pharmacy owner yesterday turned aside competition from Terrence E. Nagle, 27, a manufacturer's representative making his first attempt at public office. Nagle totaled 3,462 votes.

In the opposing party, Kramer's candidacy was contested by teacher Archie H. Bailey, 1,425, and public relations man, Maxwell M. Gurman, 304.

In District 5, Republicans selected incumbent Rep. William Hayward as their November standard bearer with 4,888 votes over Donald W. Sargent who won 1,462.

Hayward is completing his second term as state representative, after being a Royal Oak city commissioner for 14 years and mayor for eight.

The Democratic candidate, Harold J. Robinson, was unopposed and mustered 1,526 votes.

In District 3, where there was no contest within the parties, incumbent Republican Henry M. Hogan Jr., with 9,115 votes, is opposed by Democratic candidate John F. Foley with 1,632.

Romney Surges to Top in Primary barometer of what may happen in November.

Democratic State Chairman John (Doc) Collins recalled that in every campaign except one, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams gained fewer votes than the GOP nominee in the primary. He declared:

"The Democratic party, except in primaries which involved major office contests, traditionally sets its sights on the ultimate victory. 'Now that the primary has shown Gov. Swainson maintaining traditional strength despite the low turnout of Democratic voters we can concentrate on the victory in November.'"

Romney, who retired while the early returns were still being tabulated, agreed that the results of the primary were not necessarily indicative of the future.

"Most of the issues in the races Tuesday were strictly local in character and thus any attempt to apply the vote totals to the statewide campaign for governor would be misleading," he commented.

Swainson said that all candidates should now get down to serious consideration of the issues.

"I am confident the record of my administration and the record of service to the people of Michigan by the Democratic party will bear the scrutiny to which it will be subjected in the coming months."

Swainson predicted a hard-fought campaign in the coming months. "On our part," he said, "it will be waged in accordance with the time-honored principle of honest debate. We will appeal to reason, not emotions. We will cite the record and the facts, not generalizations or conjectures."

Both Swainson and Romney have campaigned hard in recent weeks, sometimes following schedules that got them up before dawn and to bed after midnight.

the tax as a major campaign issue but Roberts later said he was opposed to an income levy.

Kuhn also criticized the incumbent for "riding George Romney's coattails."

Roberts' primary election victory put him in line for a second straight term in the senate if he can defeat Smith. He previously served two terms in the state House of Representatives.

Kuhn's loss was his sixth in a row in the Republican senate primary.

He said he did not consider if the end of his political career, noting that "Abraham Lincoln lost 11 times."

The Day in Birmingham

Noted Sculptor to Head Department at Cranbrook

BIRMINGHAM—Julius Schmidt, one of the country's leading sculptors, has been named head of the sculpture department at Cranbrook Academy of Art, it was announced today by Academy President Zoltan Sepesty.

He succeeds Berthold (Tex) Schwetz, who has resigned to work in his newly acquired studio in Florence, Italy. Schwetz headed the department since 1956.

Schwetz, who was a student of and later assistant to Carl Milles, will concentrate on figurative sculpture in his Florence studio and toward a planned second one-man show in New York City.

Schmidt, 39, received his bachelor's degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art in 1952; studied with Ossip Zadkine in Paris and at the Academie di Belle Arti in Florence before receiving his master's degree in 1955.

Following his graduation he went to the Kansas City Art Institute as head of the sculpture department. In 1958 he taught Sculpture at the Rhode Island School of Design. He returns to Cranbrook from the University of California Art Department.

MAJOR INFLUENCE
Schmidt has developed a number of techniques for working in cast metal sculpture. His cast iron sculpture has been a major influence in the revival of this medium.

He employs what he refers to as a "core-and" process where in a piece is carved in reverse in blocks of baked sand, creating a mold into which the molten metal is poured.

In a letter to the academy change, Donald C. Willett, 1733 Cornell Road, Southfield, has been named instructor in painting during the year's leave of absence granted Jack Madison for study in Japan.

Willett received his master's degree at Cranbrook Academy, studying with Sessely and has recently completed a year of study under a Fulbright grant at the University of Paris.

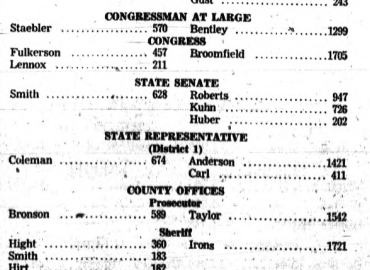

Satellite Bill Filibuster May Resume Friday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today the Senate probably will be in for another filibuster when the satellite communications bill comes back to the floor Friday.

The Senate was tied up for nearly a week by a talkathon by the opponents. The floor fight was halted by a temporary truce.

Clawson Chiefs Say 'So What' to Election

A storm turned the lights down and the city council turned their noses up on election proceedings Tuesday night, despite laying final ballots by an estimated two hours.

City Clerk Mrs. Gertrude Cadger said final election reports were not sent off to the county clerk's office until 1 a.m. today because she was required to attend a city council meeting last night between 8 and midnight.

Mrs. Cadger said she had reminded the council about the election in hopes they would reschedule it. "They more or less said 'so what,'" she said.

County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy said Clawson's report was not received at the courthouse until 1:30 a.m., 40 minutes after all other reports had been turned in.

Clean Out of Water, Unit Begs for Main

LANSING — About half a dozen householders at a new development in Pittsfield, Washington County, have no water except that supplied by neighbors and it is delivered by buckets or garden hoses.

Another 30 of the same 100 householders in the development have to ration their water and go elsewhere to do their laundry or take a bath.

Their plight prompted the State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday to grant priority consideration to a request by Pittsfield for approval of a $375,000 special assessment bond issue for water main construction.

Dr. Otto K. Engelka, county health officer, reported serious health conditions exist because of the lack of proper water mains.

Soviet Ship Brings Grain to Algerians

ALGERIA (AP) — The Soviet cargo vessel Uglichsk docked in Algiers today with Russia's first economic aid for independent Algeria.

First authorities said the ship brought 8,500 tons of grain. Other Soviet ships are expected soon with canned fish, milk, sugar and cooking oil. A month ago the Polish ship Huta Wroclna brought a cargo of food to Oran in Western Algeria.

Model of Polarix Falls Far Short of Planned Miles

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy launched an advanced model of the Polarix submarine missile for the first time Tuesday but termed the flight only partially successful because of second stage trouble.

Officials said the undisturbed upper stage difficulty caused the A3 rocket to fall far short of its intended 1,350-mile range. The A3 is scheduled for operational deployment aboard nuclear submarines. The A3 will have a maximum range of 2,800 miles, more than 1,000 miles greater than the A2.

Registrations of motor vehicles in the United States at the end of 1960 were estimated at 73,897,000.

Feenstra Endorses Man Who Beat Him

GRAN RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Robert Vandervander today had the blessing of veteran Charles R. Feenstra, whom he defeated for Republican nomination as state senator in Kent County's 17th district.

"I wish him well," Feenstra said last night after Vandervander, 32, won their primary election race by a count of 8,258 to 5,888.

A third GOP starter, Robert J. Blett, drew 2,642 votes while unopposed Democrat Perry M. Lawr received 4,346.

lives in 1954 and has served since 1950 as state senator. Feenstra said he had no immediate plans.

Shelter Volunteer Tired So Navy Has Him Stop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy released Thursday one of the 100 volunteers taking part in an underground shelter test after he began to show signs of heat exhaustion.

The man was treated at the Navy's hospital in Bethesda, Md., where the shelter is located.

Temperature within the shelter during the last 24 hours has averaged 91 degrees, with a high point of 92.5.

Educator Dies in Dixie

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Earl R. Glenn, 71, an educator for more than 45 years, died Tuesday. In 1917 he became an original member of Columbia University Teacher's College's experimental Lincoln School. Later he headed the science department at Montclair, N.J. State Teachers College. He was born near Vevay, Ind.

Doctors' Prescriptions at Opposite Poles

Real Economic Debate Isn't Publicized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The economic debate asked by President Kennedy in his Yale speech two months ago is going on but it is not easily heard.

Congress read the speech and showed no inclination to take a new look at government budget-making despite the President's complaint that there was too much mythology in federal bookkeeping. Former President Eisenhower led Republican critics who offered scornful replies.

The real debate is being carried on by economists but usually in unpublished speeches or articles which may turn up later in the fine print in the appendix of the Congressional Record.

Arthur F. Burns and Raymond J. Saulnier, who both served as chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors during the Eisenhower administration, are the authors of speeches already in the Congressional Record.

TO GET HEARING

Leon H. Keyserling, who held the same job in the Truman administration, put his thoughts in print in the New York Times Magazine last Sunday. Kennedy's own counsel gets a hearing before the House-Senate economic committee this week.

As could be expected, the Burns-Saulnier and Keyserling prescriptions are far apart. The doctors are threatening the same patient but one set orders him to stay in bed and the other prescribes brisk exercises.

All advocate tax reforms but...

I think that to those pragmatists who regard budgetary deficits as a more or less guaranteed formula for producing a brisk recovery, the present cycle must be a nightmare," says Saulnier.

Keyserling wants "a large and immediate tax reduction" mostly in low and middle income brackets and "a large and immediate increase in federal spending."

He says his formula would mean a federal deficit of $6.5 to $7 billion but would put the economy at the $300 billion a year level, far enough below capacity to avoid inflation.

With industry operating at less than capacity, Keyserling sees no need for further business tax concessions on top of the new depreciation schedules and the administration tax bill now in congress.

DENIES CHARGES

To Saulnier and Burns, Keyserling represents a school of thought with a program which would mean inflationary pressure and more trouble in dealing with the balance of payments problem. Keyserling denies both counts.

Burns says personal income taxes in middle- and upper brackets are too high to encourage incentive and that corporate tax rates are too high to leave business firms enough money to invest in needed new equipment.

Saulnier says economic growth depends on a higher rate of investment and that a squeeze on corporate profits has curtailed investment. He says the administration's guidelines aimed at keeping wage raises in line with increases in productivity should be revised to provide a catchup in profits.

The labor movement likes the Keyserling approach. Businessmen like to hear what Burns and Saulnier are saying. The amateur in economics can only wonder who has the best prescription for a prosperous and growing economy.

Solon Defends Test Ban Offer

Humphrey Denies U. S. Proposals Trials for Future Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., has told the Senate the administration's new nuclear test ban proposals are not "trial balloons" in advance of concessions to the Soviet Union.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic leader in the Senate, said Tuesday that new scientific findings on detection of underground tests justify a reduction in the number of inspection sites needed to police a test ban.

He insisted that critics who contend the United States is making concessions in its bargaining position are wrong.

What is being done, he said, is to adjust the American position in line with new scientific findings that underground nuclear tests are more difficult to conceal than previously believed.

Humphrey came to the administration's defense after Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., told the Senate the government is floating trial balloons in an effort to convince Americans that on-site inspection can be dropped as a treaty ban requirement.

The United States has contended that any effective treaty must be policed by internationally manned inspection posts. The Soviet Union has rejected this.

Details of the new U.S. proposals have not been made public but they are based on the new test-detection findings. Reportedly the proposals would ease American demands for inspection posts.

However President Kennedy has stressed that new information would not eliminate the need for on-the-spot checks.

The Press Welcomes Annual 4-H Club Fair

A warm welcome is extended to the 22nd Annual Fair of the 41 clubs of the Oakland County 4-H—symbolizing Head, Heart, Hand, Health.

This national youth-development program has had a long praiseworthy history. Its forerunner, dating back to the 1850-60 period, consisted of a couple of exclusively agrarian units: calf clubs and corn clubs.

It was not until 1914 that the organization as we know it came into being. Under the Smith-Lever Act, Congress created the Cooperative Extension Service as an educational branch of land grant universities. Federal and matching state funds were set up to provide supervisory and field staff.

The 4-H concept of character and talent development is a basic "tool." Each member selects a project from the variety of handicraft, agriculture, homemaking and personality categories, and under guidance pursues his specialty, at the same time broadening his outlook as result of general familiarization with the entire field of activities.

Oakland County currently has 1,500 members under direction of 250 volunteer leaders. Statewide, the totals are 71,000 and 13,000, respectively.

We express best wishes for a most rewarding and stimulating fair now in progress and the continued progress of the local and national 4-H movement.

Good News: Machines Haven't Beaten Us Yet

That tiny computer error that cost our missile program $18 million draws quite an audible gulp. After all, if a missing hyphen in an equation can lead to destruction of an Atlas-Agena rocket, what could a missing comma do?

It all brings out a very gratifying point: despite the ultra-precise electronic brains that are all but running this atomic age, there's still room for man's good old fashioned power of reason.

For all the amazing devices that put those capsules in space, it's the astronaut, the human factor, that guides them out of some pretty fatal-looking situations.

So don't sneer at human errors in experimentation. Man is known for getting out of what he gets into. That's more than you can say for machines... so far.

Another Nation, Jamaica Gains Independence

Recent ceremonies in Jamaica have changed it from a British crown colony to an independent nation. This is following in line with a world trend.

To appraise whether it is good or bad would certainly be presumptuous for an outsider. Yet, to one who has seen this tiny country it appears odd. Why not hang on with both hands to England?

This island which is 90 miles south of Cuba is only about the size of Connecticut. Just what the future is for economic development might be summed up by saying it appears cloudy.

The welfare of the 1.5-million natives is a problem. The population is either "haves" or "have nots," with absolutely no middle ground.

Aside from a few strikes and a little unrest the administration has been highly efficient. Being a British crown colony the government is patterned after England's.

Now Jamaica is breaking off this tie and has asked and been accepted as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations. It is not as though it was becoming completely independent. But it is a step in that direction.

The new head of the government is Sir Alexander Bustamante, the nation's first prime minister. At 81 he is a strong, vigorous man and owes his vast wealth to buying on the U.S. stock market after the crash in 1929.

He said on his last visit to the United States: "We are pro-American... we are anti-Communist. We belong to the West and we'll stay with the West."

At least for the time being there is no indication of any veering toward Castroism. This is good and we hope democracy can continue with these friendly island people.

a well-earned salute on the highly professional job done in staging the second Lions intra-squad scrimmage at Wineser Field last Saturday evening.

The entire production went off with precision and on time, every feature of it bearing the stamp of advance thought and planning. The crowd, despite the threatening weather, was near capacity—which should turn in a tidy little sum to swell the Chamber's Youth Activity Program. Moreover, the comments on all sides were unanimously enthusiastic with complete enjoyment of the program plainly apparent.

It is nice to report the prominent part played by a Pontiac family in the recent Lutheran Synods Conference in Detroit's Convention arena. The Danish, Finnish, German and Swedish bodies had met to formulate the organization of L. C. A. (Lutheran Churches of America).

Philip J. Wargelin of 338 Voorhes, whose father had been president before the brother of the Synod founded 75 years ago by the grand-father.

The recent interest in hoes brings a nice letter from Mrs. Grace McKinley of Lake Orion, who thinks she has the daddy of them all. Doing some fast computing, but without revealing any secrets, the MAT thinks the hoe must be about 70 years old.

The lady's early connection with the land goes back to the "John Sloan Farms," a couple of miles out of Clarkson. Now she has flower and vegetable gardens, uses the hoe daily and "wouldn't take a million for it."

Hurra-hurra-hurra! The weather contest closes at noon on Friday, Aug. 10. You can become the proud possessor of a $100 U.S. Government savings bond by merely making the most accurate prediction of date and time of the highest temperature registered between now and 6 p.m. on Labor Day. Dems Condone Criticism of FBI

WASHINGTON — Is there a faction in the Democratic party today which considers the fight against Communism as just a lot of nonsense?

If there is a renewed tendency in that direction, it is quite possible that the Democratic party itself will be facing again the charge of being "soft on communism" which led in part to its defeat in the 1952 presidential and congressional elections.

It seems strange that the 13-state conference of Western Democrats at Seattle should have given its time to listen to a speech by W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Fund for the Republic, denouncing as ineffective "egg-sucking" the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in fighting communism.

Ferry apparently differs with Attorney General Robert Kennedy in appraising the significance of the activities of the Communists in this country.

For the attorney general has repeatedly said in public speeches that Communist subversives cannot be ignored.

Ferry said in one part of his speech: "No one cares to have spies and saboteurs percolating through the republic, and if the FBI is not up to finding and prosecuting them, let us set up an agency that can."

Ferry talks as if the FBI has to do to get rid of persons suspected of Communist activities is to arrest them, and that they, when of course, be convicted and put in jail without much difficulty.

But the truth of the matter is that Communist agents are not only subtle and skillful in their methods, but they know American laws very well and they have the benefit of resourceful American lawyers who manage to keep them out of jail.

For the past two weeks newspapers have been publishing the story of Robert Soblen, who escaped from this country even though he was under $100,000 bail.

He was convicted spy sentence of life imprisonment. But the FBI is powerless when a man is granted bail who never should have been given even temporary freedom. The FBI doesn't control the courts.

Ferry has been quite a controversial figure, and has for years taken an active part in belittling the Communist menace in this country.

Not so long ago, he tried to combat the efforts of the New Hampshire legislative committee which investigated alleged Communist infiltration of educational institutions.

For that reason, it may be wise to consider the early signs of acute appendicitis:

Pain in the right lower region of the abdomen that may, as a matter of experience, first begin in the pit of the stomach before it settles down below; fever, however slight, perhaps only a few tenths of a degree above normal; tenderness when the painful region is ever so gently poked.

The Director

Mr. Ford was probably the best example of how one man can build up an individual enterprise that this country has ever seen.

He might never have made the success he did if American business had been regulated to the extent that it is today. It's strange how often the funds bequeathed by men who are pilloried as "big business" are used by so-called "liberals" to create antagonisms against business as an institution. (Copyright, 1962)

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY
And I tell you, you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my church, and the powers of death shall not prevail against it. — Matthew 16:18.

Persecution has not crushed the church; power has not beaten it back; time has not abated its forces; and what is most wonderful of all, the abuses of its friends have not shaken its stability. — Horace Bushnell.

Ferry said: "Industry should not be wooed, but watched, and tolerated, and reined in when it gets out of line... They (the corporations) are not there to be loved but to be used."

Ferry, as vice president of the Fund for the Republic, has a lot to say nowadays about how the money accumulated by the late Henry Ford should be spent.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Facts on Appendicitis! Deaths Still Run High

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Important facts you should know about appendicitis — compiled by surgeons at Massachusetts General Hospital.

Acute appendicitis develops in more than 200,000 Americans each year. It is accountable for over 2,000 deaths yearly.

When the inflammation is seen in its earliest phases, the death rate is less than one-tenth of 1 per cent.

When it is less a little later, after the inflamed appendix has burst, the death rate rises to 3.6 per cent.

And, if the operation is still further delayed, for whatever reason, and an abscess forms around the inflamed and burst appendix the death rate exceeds 12 per cent.

Despite great advances in surgical treatment, including use of miracle drugs, the death rate in the last group of appendicitis cases had not been significantly reduced.

And, what is especially important to prospective patients, the recent studies that persons with appendicitis are seen no earlier in their disease today than they were 25 years ago.

In their report, the surgeons tend to excuse referring physicians for this delay.

If their conclusion is correct, and if it is applicable to the country as a whole, then the cause for the continued mortality must rest with patients, especially the elderly, and with the parents of young patients who delay seeking medical consultation at a time when the inflamed appendix can be removed almost without risk.

For that reason, it may be wise to consider the early signs of acute appendicitis:

Pain in the right lower region of the abdomen that may, as a matter of experience, first begin in the pit of the stomach before it settles down below; fever, however slight, perhaps only a few tenths of a degree above normal; tenderness when the painful region is ever so gently poked.

And, in the case of infants and children too young to express themselves, whimpering and crying with a tendency to draw up the legs when approached.

Feels Abortion Justifiable in Thalidomide Cases

An abortion is justifiable in the unfortunate thalidomide situation, knowing beforehand that a child will be deformed. A mother, out of love for the life that she will bring into the world would be willing to sacrifice her life and health to prevent this tragedy.

Some of the do-gooders that say they are willing to take the child from its natural mother and bring it up, I think are seeking a public acclaim for their generosity which still doesn't help the child.

If the child is born with complete mental faculty, I'm sure he would never forgive his parents for bringing him into the world in that condition knowing that they could have prevented it.

And, please, let's not blame God for this diabolical situation. That would be bringing Him down to lower than man's level. The drug was made by imperfect men, but perhaps their motive was good. Who knows?

'Will Officials Have Their Way Again?'

Let officials "ram an unwanted airport down the throats of people." They rammed us with a "nonsense tax." Government is supposed to be "for the people, of the people, and by the people." Sends Answer About 'Retarded'

"Uncertain" has reason to be so. What was meant by the words "retarded child"? The word "retarded" gives no more meaning than does the word "fever." Everyone who has a fever does not have an influenza. We cannot pass judgment on the retarded as though all were in one category.

The problems of the child, the parent, the institutions, lack of community facilities plus legislation are so complex right now that one has to search mighty deep for an answer.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

President Kennedy emphasized "increased use" of plant capacity, but this is not the same thing as modernizing to compete.

Congress would almost certainly refuse to pass a corporate tax reduction without cutting personal income taxes. Economists are worried about the kind of slowdown would be a recession — only about a year and a half after the last one. Gross national product is running at a rate $15 billion below what the Administration hoped.

We think there should be a tax cut soon on both personal and corporate income, although whether it comes now or early next year is less important than the broader objective of reform. A cut should certainly not be limited to lower personal income brackets. That kind of cut would make the tax structure more top-heavy than it is now. The 91 per cent levy in the top brackets, where even liberal economists no longer defend, should be scaled down to around 65 per cent. We could have one tax cut this summer, with more to come next year in over-all tax reform.

Claims It's Costly to Ride Ambulance

Some months ago there were articles in The Press regarding ambulance services going broke because people don't pay. The common working man can't afford their rates.

One of the city ambulances took my son and myself to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, a distance of one-half mile and charged $25. I took my time paying. Every two months I received a phone call about it. Four years ago an ambulance service took my husband 10 miles to Pontiac General and charged $15, which is more reasonable.

Tax Cut

Life

The word is around that the President would like to ask for a tax cut before the middle of August but is worried about how Congress will react. Congress is jumpy because there has been no grass-roots clamor. Senate Finance Chairman Byrd, a budget-balancer from way back, is dead against it and Pennsylvania's Senator Clark, a "liberal" Democrat up for reelection, opposes a tax cut now and says, "I'm for a balanced budget."

It suggests that the U.S. may be at a big turning point in economic policy. There is more public interest in such policy than at any time since the Depression. Almost everybody agrees our tax structure is undesirable. If the principle that high deficits are also wrong has become politically popular, the way may be opening up for a real attack on federal expenditures, now running at 20 per cent of the national income.

Income taxes, corporate and personal, are way out of balance and have been for years. The tax structure is also responsive to the demonstrated ability of the federal government to spend as much money as it can get its hands on. It is a mess and something should be done about it — not, however, out of panic.

The most useful item in the financial news would be a cut in the corporate income tax from the present 52 per cent to, say, 47 per cent. Such a cut, as David Rockefeller wrote, would free investment money to modernize our industrial plant and make it more competitive. This would be a powerful psychological booster and would help get the federal deficit started back toward the 10 per cent rate this country once maintained.

Rule Assessment by Union Not the Same as Dues

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Union assessments cannot be considered the same as union dues under a labor-management contract, says the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Philip Forman, in a 30-page opinion Monday, ruled Food Fair Stores Inc. was in error in deducting a $15 union assessment from the paychecks of union members who declined union dues to help striking employees of another food chain.

The union involved is Local 1245 of the Retail Food Clerks Union. Most of its members, about 1,600, paid the assessment direct to the union. The local subsequently asked Food Fair, under its contract, to deduct the assessment.

Olsen Is Winner in Tight Squeeze

Outcounty Returns Put Wayne Incumbent in Lead Over Sullivan

DETROIT (AP)—In a tight squeeze, Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen won Democratic renomination in Tuesday's primary over Joseph B. Sullivan, 40, who resigned as Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's administrative assistant to make the race.

Complete but unofficial returns gave Olsen 58,464 to 52,766 votes for Joseph B. Sullivan, but another Sullivan, 70-year-old John L., polled a surprising 19,569 votes.

John L., resident of a small downtown hotel, was a political unknown when his name was entered in the prosecutor's race. Besides John L., five others contested with Joseph B. and Olsen. None was as close to the leaders as John L.

RAIDED WINS

Sheriff Andrew Baird, who is 82 and who has held the job 30 years, won Democratic renomination over 24 rivals. Complete unofficial returns gave Baird 34,517 to 29,531 for runner-up Philip J. Van Antwerp, a retired Detroit police inspector.

Olsen, if his victory is upheld in the official canvass, will be opposed in November by Republican William H. Ferguson. Unofficial but complete returns gave Ferguson a narrow 4,882 to 49,640 margin over Robert De Masco, a former U.S. assistant district attorney.

William G. Jeffries, with 28,412 votes, won Republican nomination to oppose Baird. Runner-up on the GOP ticket was Allan Casinelli, with 15,437.

COUNT CHANGED

Olsen trailed Joseph B. Sullivan in the ballot counting past midnight and well into today. At times Sullivan's lead was approximately 3,000.

But late outcounty returns began whittling that down, and Olsen edged to the front to stay about 3:15 a.m. He had expressed confidence that outcounty votes would get him home a winner.

Hold Grandmother in Burning of Home

DETROIT (UPI)—A grandmother who admitted trying to burn her house and kill herself and her 3-year-old granddaughter was held today by Detroit police.

Mrs. Marcella McGowan, 65, told officers she set fire to a mattress in a downstairs bedroom yesterday. The child, Kimberly Kenney, was asleep in the room. She then went upstairs with the intention of slashing her wrists.

She said she called neighbors, however, because the smoke bothered her and she rushed from the house with the girl.

Police are seeking an arson warrant against the woman.

Harmony Urged Among Nations of NATO by Ike

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower urged the NATO countries today to work together "despite differences" to combat the threat of communism.

The former president made the appeal at a homecoming given him at Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE), which he served as first commanding officer after World War II.

He visited SHAPE prior to lunching with French President Charles de Gaulle.

"The spirit of NATO... reaches into the recesses of all free countries," Eisenhower told ambassadors, military commanders and honor guards of NATO countries. "We are bound together by one devotion to a particular concept — the freedom and dignity of human beings."

Mrs. Finkbine, Doctor Confer

Abortion Application
Expected to Be Made
Early Next Week

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Mrs. Sheri Finkbine finally saw a Swedish doctor Tuesday and is expected to seek official approval early next week for abortion of the baby she fears has been deformed by thalidomide.

Her husband, Robert, told newsmen his wife, a Phoenix, Ariz., television personality, will see the doctor again Friday. He said the application for the abortion probably will be submitted to the Royal Medical Board one day next week.

ARRIVED SUNDAY

The Finkbines arrived Sunday to seek the abortion which was refused legal sanction by an Arizona court earlier. The 30-year-old brunette had taken the tranquilizer thalidomide during her early pregnancy. The drug has been blamed for the birth of several thousand European babies with deformed arms, legs and internal organs.

The Royal Medical Board has sanctioned abortions for seven other pregnant women who took thalidomide.

Finkbine said his wife, nearly three months pregnant, had not seen a doctor earlier because reports from American doctors on her condition had not arrived.

APPEARED RELAXED

After talking with reporters, the Finkbines met two American teacher friends who are vacationing here. Mrs. Finkbine wore a stylish red dress and appeared relaxed.

Tuesday night the couple checked out of their hotel and went to stay at the apartment of Swedish friends. Meanwhile in Oslo, government medical counselor Jon Egeborn said five deformed babies have been born in Norway to mothers who took thalidomide. The market was withdrawn from the drug in Norway last November. More than a thousand deformed births were blamed on the drug in Germany, where it was developed.

Billy Gets His Goat

NEVADA, Iowa (AP)—A want ad in the Nevada Journal said: "Found. One half-grown billy goat. Owner may claim same by paying for ad. One partly eaten sack of red clover seed, one chewed-up pony saddle, two bales of hay and a broken toe."

Economy in July Held Its Own

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The figures which will help President Kennedy decide whether to ask Congress for a tax cut this year generally show that the economy held its own in July.

In general, there were no sharp swings in the major business barometers.

Unemployment dipped slightly. Retail sales picked up a little. Industrial activity may have risen a little, perhaps showed no significant change. Job holding improved as expected.

As for what the economic upturn has run out of steam and needs a stimulant, the figures argue for tax reduction now.

Suing for Damages in Montrose Sinking

DETROIT (AP)—Damages of $3.5 million have been asked from the barge and tug involved in the July 30 crash which sent the motorship Montrose to the bottom of the Detroit River.

Montship Lines, Ltd., a Canadian firm, filed suit in federal court against the tug B. H. Becker, the barge ABL 502 and the Frank Becker Towing Co., alleging 18 counts of negligence.

The suit charges the tug and barge were not properly attended, that a proper alert and watch was not maintained, and that the tug and barge lacked adequate towing or running lights.

The $3.5 million includes estimated costs of raising and repairing the 441-foot freighter. The Becker firm was given until Sept. 4 to file an answer.

Federal Director Wins
GOP Senate Nomination

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Federal director Milton Zaagman, 36, of Grand Rapids, has won Republican nomination for state senator in Kent County's 16th District.

The seat becomes vacant in November with the decision of veteran incumbent Perry Greene, R-Grand Rapids, to retire.

Zaagman drew 7,640 votes in the primary election yesterday against 4,839 for opponent John R. Siles, a Grand Rapids realtor. Democrat Arthur H. Masterson polled 2,996 unopposed.

Estes Jury to Probe Solon's Bank Record

DALLAS (AP)—A federal grand jury convening today to investigate the affairs of Billie Sol Estes called for banking records of Rep. J. T. Rutherford, D-Tex.

Two brothers of Estes and individuals representing various firms with whom the bankrupt and indicted financier dealt also were among 25 witnesses subpoenaed for the inquiry.

Estes, onetime holder of multi-million dollar interests in farming and allied businesses, has been charged with fraud and theft.

Rutherford represents the 16th District in western Texas which includes Pecos, Estes' home town. The congressman has acknowledged arranging for Estes to confer about cotton allotment difficulties in Washington.

Little Things Count

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The morning-after breakfast in a west side tavern offers:

"Black coffee, two aspirin and our profound sympathy."

This impression was strengthened yesterday by Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon. In a closed-door session with the House Ways & Means Committee, Dillon said nothing to suggest that Kennedy would seek an immediate tax cut.

Dillon has opposed such action. It has been urged upon the President by several other advisers, including Budget Director David E. Bell, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Chairman Walter W. Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers.

Organized labor and business also have called for tax reduction this summer. But there has been no widespread enthusiasm for it in Congress.

Dodd Urges U.S.
Peace Corps to Curb Delinquency

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., appealed today for support of a bill that would establish a peace corps in the United States to help curb juvenile delinquency.

"It perhaps does not have the romantic appeal of the present Peace Corps, which sends technicians to work with the people of under developed nations."

"But it at least represents the spirit of selfless dedication with which the problem of juvenile crime must be approached," he said.

Dodd, who just concluded a two-day narcotics hearing in Los Angeles as chairman of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Committee, made his remarks in an address prepared for delivery before the American Bar Association convention.

Dodd also urged that a youth conservation corps, patterned after the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930's, be established through support of a bill pending in Congress.

Officials Probe Plane Accident

FAA Investigating Crash of Small Craft Near Fenton

FENTON (AP) — Aviation authorities planned to continue their search for clues today in the crash of a light plane that killed a Toledo, Ohio, race track operator and his park's maintenance chief near here yesterday.

State police said witnesses reported seeing the plane bank sharply before falling but could provide no explanation for the crash.

Killed instantly when their single-engine Cessna tore into a wooded area in northeastern Livingston County were Stanley Jechura, 48, president of Raceway Park, Inc., and Cecil J. Taylor, 45.

Wreckage was strewn over a 200-yard area as the plane's wings and propeller were blown off and the bulk of its fuselage flattened into a hulk.

The impact sent the engine hurtling about 35 yards. Federal Aviation Agency officials nearby yesterday said the plane and were to be joined today by investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board in Chicago.

The men had left on a flight plane taking off from a small field near Jechura's home. Police were told that the wives of both men were driving to Higgins Lake in northern Lower Michigan and they speculated that the men were trying to meet them.

Waterford Twp. Planning Dept. Budget Okayed

A proposed 1963 budget of $25,294.61 for the Waterford Township planning department was approved last night by the planning commission.

Included in the budget is a provision of $3,142 for the "701" general development program in addition to the $22,152 operating budget for the department.

An estimated $6,000 to $8,000 could be returned to the township during the first year of the "701" program, according to planning director Robert Diehl, as reimbursement for the township for planning related services.

The current budget is $18,700.

German Firm Hailed New Tranquilizer

Thalidomide Began as Wonder Drug

By PAUL R. ALLERUP

LONDON (UPI) — In the spotlight, busy laboratories of Chemie Grunenthal in the Rhineland city of Stolberg one day in 1953, there was a rattle of excitement.

There was every indication the German scientists had found something — a tranquilizing drug virtually free of any of the acute toxic effects so common to barbiturates.

If the indication was borne out by tests, here would be a remarkable new sedative. It could be taken with no after-effects of grogginess or nausea. It could be a sure sleep-inducer.

It was called thalidomide, a contraction of phthalimidoglutarimide, its scientific name.

Chemie Grunenthal, or Grunenthal Chemicals, one of the largest chemical firms in Germany, tested the drug for 3½ years on rats, guinea pigs, rabbits and cats.

In Grunenthal's own laboratories, the new drug passed every trial with an "A" mark. The company checked and further study were turned over to an independent research clinic.

Grunenthal was satisfied but required confirmation. The clinic's verdict: "The preparation is compatible. It is excellent." As required by German law, the government-licensed clinic issued a certificate approving the drug for public sale.

QUICK ACCEPTANCE
Contergan found quick acceptance from the public. Doctors recommended it as a sleeping pill or general sedative. Users awoke refreshed, with no morning-after headache or bad taste in the mouth. Doctors found that highly-disturbed patients were calmed by the drug.

And another important success for Contergan was discovered. It proved a boon to women in the early stages of pregnancy by easing the dread "morning sickness."

Sales boomed.
Meantime word of the new "wonder tranquilizer" had reached British chemists. In Britain the big Distillers Co. became interested, and as early as April 1956, before thalidomide went on the German market, the company began its own tests.

The British tests confirmed what the German clinicians had found. In April 1958, with the approval of the committee for the classification of proprietary drugs, thalidomide was put on sale in Britain under the trade name "Dista-val."

In the next three years the tranquilizer spread through much of the world, to Brazil in South America, to Canada, through most of Europe.

It was given many other names in the different markets, among them Soften, Sed-Lab, Lulamin, Neurodyn, Neurosyn, Algesodyl, Grippe, Valgraine, Kevadon, Asmarval, Expectarone. Some were imitations of the original but all contained thalidomide in varying proportions. Many chemical firms now were involved in manufacture and sale of the popular sedative.

DISTANT INCIDENTS

Second thoughts about thalidomide were slow in coming. When two infants were born in Germany late in 1960 with no arms and hands growing out of the shoulders, no one connected the cases with any drug. Such births are rare, but not unknown to the medical profession.

In the case of the German babies it was found they were victims of thalidomide.

St. Clair Republican Loses Out in Primary

PORT HURON (AP) — Former House floor leader Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-St. Clair, was defeated for re-nomination in the Republican primary last night after serving 20 years in the legislature.

Port Huron insurance agent Donald M. Wismer Jr. polled 10,914 votes to 9,913 for Phillips to gain his party's nomination with incumbent Rep. Raymond Wurzel, who scored 12,680 votes.

Wismer, who conducted a door-to-door campaign in his successful bid, would not claim victory nor would Phillips concede even when all but two of the district's 106 precincts showed Phillips more than 1,000 ballots behind.

Author Succumbs at 54

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Dr. Werner Leszynski, 54, an author of science fiction studies his own name and of mystery and detective novels under the name of Werner Schoeller, died Tuesday. He was born in Koenigsberg, East Prussia, and came to the United States in 1940.

time of phocomelia — or "sea-mel" in description of the flipper-like appearance the malformed sometimes takes. The name comes from the Greek.

But suddenly there were more births of phocomelia children — too many to be coincidence. In Hamburg, Germany, Dr. Widukind Lenz learned of 20 malformed infants had been born in Britain although only 50 had been officially reported.

The warnings did not bring immediate withdrawal of the drug. Somewhere in Italy there was no public awareness of the German and British actions until June of this year when doctors reported at a Turin meeting that three recent malformed births could be traced to thalidomide. That was on June 16.

On June 20 the Italian government suspended production and sale of seven tranquilizers containing thalidomide. A week later Italy banned the drug.

One by one, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, Sweden, Belgium, Portugal and Austria ordered the drug off the market.

France and Spain, among European countries, never approved use of thalidomide although in France it was reported to have been sold illegally.

WIDE PUBLICITY

One case has been as widely publicized in Belgium as that of Mrs. Sherri Finkbine in the United States and with even greater tragic consequences.

The West German health ministry has formally confirmed the worst of Dr. Lenz's fears and estimates there have been at least 4,000 malformed births in the country since 1961.

Distaval and four other preparations containing the drug also were withdrawn immediately by the British. The London Clinic Medical Journal reported that doctors believed at least 800 malformed infants had been born in Britain although only 50 had been officially reported.

The mother, 25-year-old Suzanne Colpel, was arrested, along with her husband, her mother, her sister and her doctor. The parents are accused of having administered the infant a fatal dose of barbiturates, and the doctor with conniving in the act.

Somehow, the story of thalidomide made no great impact in the United States until mid-July when the Washington Post disclosed the story of a woman doctor in the Food and Drug Administration and her determined fight to keep the drug off the American market.

While the drug had not been certified for general use in the United States, it was being tested on an experimental basis.

And suddenly, many women and some doctors remembered that they had obtained a new and effective sedative drug abroad and had received samples from a U.S. manufacturer. The labels may have said "Contergan" or "Dista-val" or "Kevadon."

However spelled, it was still thalidomide. Stories of deformities — fortunately few — cropped up in the United States, too, and a nationwide search began for all outstanding supplies.

Japan Hoping to Use Facilities of Telstar

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's postal affairs ministry said Tuesday the Japanese plan to open negotiations soon for use of U.S.-launched Telstar satellites.

The postal affairs ministry said Japan wants to sign an agreement similar to those West Germany, France, Britain, Italy and Brazil had signed with the U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Agency.

The Army's Nike Zeus antimissile missile now under development will be "steered" from the ground by electronic brains to intercept intercontinental ballistic missiles safely outside the city being defended.

Pros and Cons of Kennedy's Dollar, Business Policies

(Editor's Note — In general, the American business community distrusts the Kennedy administration. What are the reasons? What do administration spokesmen say in reply? AP reporter Robert Morin presents the arguments from both sides in this third of five articles.)

By REXMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has tried to convince businessmen that he is not "anti-business."

He meets them in groups. He exchanges letters with David Rockefeller, president of Chase Manhattan Bank, New York, outlining his economic policy and philosophy. Or he invites the individual businessman to the White House, seats him on the long sofa in his office, and says, "I'd like to hear what you think I should do."

But the impact on the business community as a whole has not been notably deep. In many quarters, the belief persists that he is "anti-business."

BELIEF PERSISTS

In some cases, the motivation is visceral, an instinctive feeling that Democratic presidents are unsympathetic to business. The more specific reasons that emerge in conversations with businessmen go like this—

- "I don't have any confidence in him. He says one thing but does another."
- "He never had to meet a payroll, so he doesn't know the value of the dollar."
- "Kennedy may be all right, but I'm scared stiff by some of the wild-eyed theorists around him."
- "I don't hold any brief for the way Roger Blough (chairman of the board of U.S. Steel) handled the price increase. But Kennedy's reaction was bound to frighten business."
- "He played mighty rough with management in the steel case, but I don't believe he will play rough with labor."
- "He says a budget deficit is just a 'myth.' (a reference to the President's speech at Yale, last June 11.)"

And these are the answers of government officers—

1. Business had confidence in President Herbert Hoover, but four recessions developed during their administrations. Business confidence is based, in fact, on the ability of the economy to invest, produce and consume.

GAVE TAX BREAK

2. Kennedy expresses concern over the outflow of gold and deficits in the balance of payments. He says the dollar will not be devaluated. And he recently gave business a tax break—long in the works—which was estimated at $1.5 billion, on depreciation of plant equipment. A Cabinet officer points out, "that break could have been given at any time in the past 10 years."

3. Policy advisors advise, but policy is made in the deliberations of many men who would not be described as "wild-eyed."

4. In the steel case, Kennedy considered the competitive position of American steel and the impact of steel prices on prices of other commodities. He calculated that the increase would take $3 billion from the economy. He also felt a "question of good faith" was involved, since the United Steel Workers had accepted a contract that the administration considered noninflationary.

5. A high-placed officer says, "I know of a lot of pressure on the unions." He points out that, in the steel case, the government began "evicting the public interest" by discussing the contract with the unions.

6. At Yale, Kennedy spoke of several "myths." He said one was that "federal deficits create inflation and budget surpluses prevent it." He noted that the post-World War II surpluses "did not prevent inflation and persistent deficits for the last several years have not upset our basic price stability."

PRESIDENT DISAPPOINTED

The President also called for a "serious dialogue" in all sectors of the American society on these questions. It has not developed and he is disappointed today. But his remarks did provide an exchange in hearings of the Senate Finance Committee between the chairman, Sen. Harry Byrd, D-Va., and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. It went like this:

Byrd — "What does this word 'myth' mean? It has been handled back and forth a great deal lately. We have been hearing about myths in financial matters. There is nothing mythical about debt so far as I can find out. You have got to pay it back with interest. So you don't regard it as a myth?"

Dillon — "I don't regard the federal debt as a myth, no."

Byrd — "You don't regard your requests as a myth?"

FISCAL PROBLEMS

Corollary to these intricate problems of fiscal policy, and the increasingly serious economic competition from overseas, is another question. It may be stated in two ways:

"What is the purview of government in labor-management negotiations that involve wages and prices, may cause strikes, or otherwise affect the American economy as a whole?"

Or, as businessmen put it, "How much is the government going to stand aside from the collective bargaining process. Labor and management were permitted to settle their problems alone.

Today, the picture is different. COMPETITION! The foreign manufacturer, sometimes with more modern equipment, is competing everywhere with the American producer. The European Common market is developing.

The dollar also is strained by American military commitments overseas, foreign aid, rising costs of equipment bought there, simply paying the American fighting men. Gold has been going out for several years.

In a speech last June 13, Solicitor General Archibald Cox noted these "changed conditions." He joined them with the question of the role of government in the collective bargaining process. He said government must have a voice, adding:

"Note that I speak not of a governmental veto but simply of giving the government an opportunity to be heard as a spokesman of the wider public interest. This was the real point at issue in the steel episode."

Kennedy was asked about this speech and he said he did not think he had read it. He added, "But this is a free economy... and we have to work out solutions on a voluntary basis."

As he has said on many occasions, there are no easy answers.

'Russ Sent Cuba 4,000 Troops'

Expert Claims Landing of Reds Reported by Travelers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban news specialist claims that more than 4,000 Soviet troops have landed in Cuba recently.

In a Spanish broadcast from Miami station Tuesday, Dr. Salvador Lora attributed his information to travelers from Cuba in a position to know. The program, "Voice of the People," broadcast by WMBC for Miami's refugee population, said the reported troops were sent in response to Fidel Castro's fear of rebellion.

An associate, Ramiro Boza, declined to name the source of the broadcast information, but said: "We know it is true when this source tells."

There was no immediate comment from the State Department in Washington.

HEARS RUMORS

The Associated Press Havana correspondent, George Arfield, said there had been rumors recently of Soviet troop landings, but none of them could be confirmed.

The Miami broadcast said that five Soviet ships landed 2,500 men July 29 at Mariel in western Cuba and four more vessels landed 1,800 troops at Havana July 30-31.

Arfield said no Russians in uniform could be seen in the streets of Havana. However, he said, Soviet ships docked Tuesday in Havana with what Havana papers called technicians.

Boza, a former editor on the Havana paper El Crisol, said the men the broadcast referred to "were not technicians. They were soldiers."

'COINCIDENCE'

Refugee leaders in Miami pointed out the coincidence between the time of the reported landings and the fact that the Cuban armed forces minister, Raul Castro, returned July 21 from a 10-day visit to the Soviet Union.

"The Russians rushed troops to Cuba because Fidel Castro fears a popular revolution soon," the radio broadcast said. "In order to distract attention, Castro will launch a new offensive exporting communism to the rest of Latin America."

Red Commander in East Germany Visits U. S. Post

HEIDELBERG, Germany (U)—The Soviet army's commander in chief in East Germany crossed into West Germany today for a courtesy visit to the U.S. Army's European headquarters in Heidelberg.

Gen. Ivan Ignatievich Yakovlev was returning a visit paid to him in East Berlin June 21 by Gen. Paul Freeman, commander of the U.S. Army in Europe.

It was the first visit by a Soviet commander in Heidelberg since Yakovlev's predecessor called on the U.S. Army headquarters in 1958, the year the Berlin crisis became acute.

The Soviet general also will visit French and British Army headquarters in West Germany.

Wanted: Dog Who Digs Fine Music

NEW YORK (AP)—Sponsors of the upcoming New York high fidelity show are howling for a dog who digs classical music.

The show, scheduled for Oct. 26, will have on display millions of dollars worth of new hi-fi equipment, including a doghouse equipped with high fidelity speakers for "the dog who has everything." Its purpose is to show how music can put a canine at ease.

The problem, however, is that not all dogs are put at ease by the same music. Like humans, they have tastes that run the gamut.

Since the sponsors plan to pipe symphonic selections into the miniature concert hall, they're looking for a dog with an ear for finer things.

U. S. Maneuvers to Begin Today

Swift Strike Biggest Peacetime War Games Since WW II

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—More than 70,000 Army and Air Force troops were poised in North and South Carolina today to begin the nation's biggest peacetime maneuvers since World War II.

The exercises, cloaked in secrecy to make them more realistic, were to begin with an air drop of units of the 82nd Airborne Division near here.

The 82nd Airborne, famed for its World War II exploits in Europe, will form part of the aggressor forces in Operation Swift Strike II.

The joint exercise will test the abilities of the new Strike Command, a unified Army-Air Force group capable of going anywhere to combat brush-fire wars.

The troops will make-believe war on 5,500 square miles of civilian land, mostly in South Carolina and in a section of North Carolina extending westward to Lumberton and Fayetteville.

DIVISION TO JUMP

The 82nd is part of an aggressor army of the mythical nation of Gatsuch, which is attempting to seize control of part of a neighboring nation called Renola.

After the aggressor attack, U.S. Strike Command forces will come to the aid of Renola, spearheaded by the 101st Airborne Division, which likely will stage a division-size jump Thursday or Friday.

Tuesday, one soldier was killed and three others injured in a jeep accident at a loading zone near Ft. Bragg. This brought to five the number of accidental deaths of men involved in the maneuvers.

Angry British Raid Nazi Camp

Fascists Routed by Villagers Seeking U. S. Party Leader

LONDON (AP)—Angry villagers led by the local publican stormed a Nazi camp in the English countryside Tuesday night in search of George Lincoln Rockwell.

They leveled the camp and routed the jack-booted fascists but found no trace of the self-styled American fuhrer.

The vigilantes from the Gloucestershire village of Guiting Power launched their attack in a woodland area known as Dead and Bury Hollow a few hours after the British government ordered the leader of the American Nazi Party deported.

STILL NOT LOCATED

Scotland Yard was ordered to find Rockwell, but the Home Office said today he still had not been located.

Rockwell slipped into the countryside over the weekend to attend a fascist rally at the camp organized by Colin Jordan's British National Socialist Movement in the rolling Cotswold Hills. Then Rockwell disappeared.

The villagers, however, wanted to see for themselves that Rockwell had not returned to the camp. Walter Morley, burlly landlord of the village pub, led the assault. At his side was Clement Timmons, 57, champion badger catcher of the Cotswolds. Behind them came 100 more villagers.

FLAG ELASTED

The invaders punched their way past cudgel-wielding guards and began tearing down tents. Fights broke out.

A shotgun blast shredded a big swastika flag fluttering above the camp. A villager ripped the flag down and carried it off as a battle souvenir.

The outnumbered Nazis, about 50 in all, fled into nearby woods and fields.

Stevenson Tells of His Information but Finds It Is Disputed

MADRID (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today he has been informed Soviet Premier Khrushchev will attend the United Nations General Assembly in October "and if he comes we can look forward to another threatening circus."

Stevenson, interviewed as he boarded a jet plane for his return to New York from a European vacation, said his information came from official sources while in Rome.

The chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations said the report may "not necessarily be correct," but added:

"It seems logical that Khrushchev will come to New York this fall in an effort to offset some of the bad publicity the Soviet Union is getting because of its resumption of nuclear testing."

"And if he comes it's certain many other national leaders will decide to attend, including some of the astrals as well as some of the Western heads of government."

"Khrushchev certainly wants to talk publicly about Russia's claimed economic advances, and to shout some more about colonialism to offset criticism on the Soviet Union's nuclear testing."

Told that there had been a denial in Washington that Khrushchev planned another visit to New York this year, Stevenson said: "That information may be later than mine but I was definitely informed in Rome that he would be coming."

It is estimated one-third of the world trade is carried in pounds sterling.

New Man Wins Over Old Guard

Pearson Defeats Arn in Kansas' Factional GOP Battle

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UPI) — U.S. Sen. James B. Pearson, a political newcomer, triumphed yesterday in a Republican factional fight by defeating Old Guard leader Ed Arn for the Kansas GOP senatorial nomination.

The primary election also saw the Democratic party saved from relegation to minor status in Kansas.

U.S. Sen. Frank Carlson led the Republican ticket in the state against token opposition to win nomination for a third six-year term.

The Democratic party was saved from losing its right to participate in primary elections in traditionally Republican Kansas by a write-in campaign for Richmond, Kentucky, Andy Gray for secretary of state.

His write-in votes exceeded the 18,147 votes needed by law to maintain major status for the Democratic party in the 1964 presidential primaries.

AN EASY VICTORY
Republican Gov. John Anderson swept to easy victory in his bid for nomination to a second term, swamping farmer-teacher Harvey Crouch by an almost 5-to-1 margin. Pearson, waging his first statewide political campaign, never was headed from the time the polls closed, although Arn fought hard. With 5,263 precincts of 2,370 reporting, Pearson had 103,161 votes to 63,273 for Arn.

The 42-year-old Pearson, serving by appointment in the Senate, won nomination to the remaining three years of the late Sen. Andrew F. Schoepel's term.

Arn, a 55-year-old conservative Republican and former governor, was making an attempt at a political comeback after seven years out of office. Pearson was considered a leader of the "Young Turk" GOP faction in the state.

Pearson will face Paul Aylward in the November general election. Aylward, an Ellsworth attorney, was unopposed in the primary.

Keep Mum on List of Those to Attend Rites for Marilyn HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The complete list of persons invited to funeral service for Marilyn Monroe has been kept secret. Spokesmen said "slightly more than 15" were invited.

Among those definitely scheduled to attend the rites are: Ex-husband Joe DiMaggio, second of her three husbands; his son by a previous marriage, Joe Jr., 21, a Marine; Mrs. Bernice Miracle, Miss Monroe's half-sister; Mrs. Inez Melson, her former business manager; Paula and Lee Strasberg, her drama coaches; President Kennedy's sister, Pat Kennedy Lawford, reportedly was flying here from Hyannis Port, Mass., to attend the services with her husband, actor Peter Lawford. Other celebrities expected to attend included Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin and Gene Kelly. DiMaggio, Mrs. Miracle and Mrs. Melson made the final arrangements.

Hamtramck Mayor Lets Deadline on Tax Pass

HAMTRAMCK 48 — Mayor Albert J. Zak did not veto the ordinance authorizing the deadline and residents and nonresidents alike will begin paying a one per cent tax on their income Oct. 1.

The ordinance had passed the city council in a 4-1 vote last week and Zak had said he would not veto the proposal if income tax revenues were used to reduce fiscal deficits and property taxes.

Consolidation Proposal Loses Out at Muskegon

MUSKEGON 49 — Proposed consolidation of Muskegon and Muskegon Heights into one governmental unit has become a three-time loser despite carrying by a three-to-one margin yesterday in Muskegon.

It required a majority in both communities to start formal moves toward a merger. The Muskegon vote was 3,192 yes, 1,032 no. Muskegon Heights scored 2,047 no, 1,220 yes.

St. Clair Okays Funds for IRS

Bond Measure to Build Center for Tax Revenue Office Passes

PORT HURON (AP) — St. Clair County voters yesterday approved two proposals to provide funds to erect a proposed building for an Internal Revenue Service processing center.

A millage increase proposal, which would increase millage 6/100 of a mill for 20 years, passed 10,589 in favor to 9,088 against.

A bond issue was favored by 16,589 voters, while 7,106 opposed it. The bond proposal will permit the borrowing of up to $2.5 million to acquire land and build the center.

The proposals had been backed by industries, labor, retail business, farm groups, clergymen and both major parties.

Port Huron has offered to build the center and rent it to the federal government for $1 a year. The area would get 2,000 jobs if the city was successful in getting IRS approval.

Early rivals for the center included 40 communities in three states. One of them is Pontiac.

The IRS has narrowed the field to "the Detroit Metropolitan area," which includes Port Huron.

Jail Term, Fine Given City Youth in Assault Case

A 15-year-old Pontiac youth who admitted assaulting another teen-ager in a fight July 4 was placed on one-year probation yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

Arthur D. Acord, 778 S. East Blvd., was ordered to serve the first 90 days of his probation in the Oakland County Jail and to pay $500 costs.

Acord pleaded guilty last month to aggravated assault against Terrence L. Farmer, 17, of 2074 Phillips Drive, Pontiac Township.

Farmer suffered a ruptured spleen after Acord allegedly struck him with a cactus bottle and kicked him.

Kent County Rejects Operating Millage Hike

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kent County voters rejected an operating millage proposal which was a feature on their ballot in the primary elections yesterday.

The vote was 21,855 no, 15,486 yes on a proposal to increase millage.

A companion proposal authorizing county supervisors to levy a proposed one mill for two years for general operating expenses was downed by a vote of 20,341 to 14,585.

Germany Seeks to Halt Import of 'Trick Food'

DUISBURG, Germany (UPI) — West German authorities are trying to halt the flow of Japanese-made "trick food" into the country and have attributed one death to the practical joke items.

Police said a 65-year-old Duisburg man died several weeks ago after eating a sandwich containing "trick Swiss cheese," a soft plastic material resembling the real thing.

Officials said imitation sausages and plastic scrambled eggs, mostly imported from Japan, also have been confiscated. They were distributed in West Germany from Hamburg, police said.

Authorities said they have asked Interpol, the International Police Agency, to help stop the flow of the items into this country.

Ministers Plan Albany Protest

First Contingent of 'Preacher Pilgrimage' Arrives in Dixie City

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — The first contingent of a promised "preacher pilgrimage" from other states has arrived in Albany to support integrationists in their battle for equal rights for Negroes.

"We do not intend to leave Albany until we have some word from the President," said one of the clergymen, Dr. Milton A. Reid of Petersburg, Va.

Reid was among 100 ministers who marched on the White House Monday in protest to Albany's segregation and to seek audience with President Kennedy.

The Baptist minister arrived in Albany Tuesday with three other Negroes—the Rev. S. H. Lagarde of Edenton, N.C.; the Rev. Virgil Wood of Lynchburg, Va.; and the Rev. Curtis Harris of Hopewell, Va.

All four are connected with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who is in jail for demonstrating against segregation policies of the south Georgia city.

Dr. W. G. Anderson, president of the Albany Movement, told a mass meeting of Negroes Tuesday night that by Friday he expected to Albany most of the clergymen who participated in the Washington march.

Reid said the White House demonstrators petitioned President Kennedy through his aides for consideration of these requests:

A "positive stand" on Albany by the President; a personal visit to this city by the U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy; a second emancipation proclamation outlawing all racial discrimination; and a nationwide television-radio appearance by the President on the racial conflict here.

Durant Crushed at Polls After Attack by Romney

GROSSE POINTE (UPI) — Republican leader Richard Durant, a John Birch Society member, suffered a crushing defeat and apparently lost his hold on the 14th Congressional District last night when he was beaten in his bid for precinct delegate by arch-rival Robert Waldron.

Durant's loss, by a stunning 3-to-1 margin, was a big victory for Republican gubernatorial candidate George Romney.

Last month, Romney demanded Durant's ouster as district head and said a Durant victory would be a repudiation of Romney's leadership.

Romney and Durant clashed over Durant's membership in the controversial John Birch Society. Waldron, a state representative, beat Durant, 460-147 in a head-to-head contest in Grosse Pointe's Second Precinct.

The Waldron-Durant feud had lost out by fewer than 800 votes in his bid earlier this year for a congressional seat in a special election.

Waldron also considers himself a conservative, but said he differs with Durant more in method than in political philosophy.

The breach between the two men came to a head this summer when Waldron announced he would be a candidate for chairman of the district's Aug. 15 convention at which district officers will be picked by precinct delegates elected in yesterday's balloting.

Although Durant is vice chairman of the district, he calls the signals for District Chairman Stanley J. Baldwin.

Romney's intercession in the district battle apparently turned the tide against Durant.

WCC Committee Discusses N-War, Catholic Council

PARIS (UPI) — The central committee of the World Council of Churches (WCC) moved today to a discussion of nuclear warfare and the coming Roman Catholic Ecumenical council.

"The two subjects are among the most important topics of discussion listed for the 10-day meeting."

The subjects are among the most important topics of discussion listed for the 10-day meeting.

They were presented at the opening session last night in the report of the WCC Executive Committee.

More than 300 delegates from 197 Protestant and orthodox churches in 100 countries have assembled for the meeting at University City.

The WCC represents most of the world's Protestants. The Central Committee is its policy-making body.

Crash Kills Salesman

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Clothing firm salesman Sidney Rattiner, 73, of Detroit was killed yesterday in a two-car collision which injured three others in nearby Paris Township.

Kent County Sheriff Arnold O. Plogors said Rattiner's car crossed the centerline of the road and added 142 feet into an oncoming vehicle. The injured were not immediately identified.

Bishop Asks Too Much?

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Bishop's Clothing Drive and the Red Cross Automobile visit coincided at Cordonat Parish, said the Very Rev. Magr. David P. Hickey in his announcement: "First we want the shirt off your back . . . then we want your blood!"

Only 3 Local Issues Approved at Area Polls

By JIM LADD

Only three of 15 local issues in seven area townships and two cities were approved by voters in yesterday's primary election.

FARMINGTON — West Bloomfield and Southfield townships approved proposals while others were turned down in White Lake, Highland, Independence and Shelby townships and the cities of South Lyon and Madison Heights.

Details on each community's vote follows:

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A one-mill tax to finance the construction of water and sewer facilities in the industrially zoned area of Farmington Township was pledged by voters.

The tax, which was approved by a 1,140 to 844 vote, will be levied whenever needed for the next 20 years at each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The township intends to extend water and sewer service into the industrially zoned area to attract new industry that can share the tax burden with residential property owners.

The tax will be spread only when revenue from industrial tap-ins did not cover the cost of paying off the bonds that will have to be sold to finance construction of the water and sewer lines.

The industrial area to receive the services is roughly bounded by Haggerty Road on the west, 9 1/2-mile Road on the south, Halstead Road on the east and 11-mile Road on the north.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A one-mill operating tax was rejected by voters in West Bloomfield Township.

The tax, first approved by voters in 1959, was continued for the next five years by a vote of 608 to 469.

The tax will be levied on each $1,000 of assessed valuation and will provide the township with about $20,000 annually.

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Authority to sell 12 vacant lots was given by Southfield Township voters. The proposal was approved 770 to 220.

The adjacent lots, each 20 by 116 feet, are located in Beverly Hills. The property was a former well site that was abandoned in 1960.

The township has not received an offer to sell the property, although present zoning requirements could be developed into two residential parcels.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A tax increase that would have allowed the construction of a new fire station was turned down by voters in White Lake Township.

The proposed 15 mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation was rejected with a 317 to 249 vote. A second proposal that would have given the township authority to exceed the 15 mill limitation in levying the new tax also was defeated 321 to 285.

Approval of both proposals was required if the tax was to be levied.

The township had planned to build the new fire station on the south side of the community, probably in the Dublin School area.

SOUTH LYON — Voters in South Lyon rejected a $20,000 bond issue to finance the construction of storm sewers on the west side of the city.

The proposal was defeated by a vote of 39 to 34.

The project, which would have relieved many flooded areas and not just those in the area the drains were to be constructed, would have cost property owners $2.50 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation for 20 years.

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — A new building code for Highland Township was turned down by a vote of 543 to 345.

The proposed ordinance also would have established the post of building inspector.

Following after the building ordinance used by Waterford Township for several years, it was first adopted by the township board in May.

During the 30-day period that is required before it becomes effective a group of citizens petitioned the township to place the proposed ordinance on the ballot so that voters could decide it.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — The annual township meeting will continue to be conducted in Independence Township.

The proposed abolishment of the 14-year-old meeting was turned down by voters 133 to 134.

Ten other county townships already have abandoned the meetings.

A 1955 state law gives voters in townships with a population of 5,000 or more the power to determine the date of the annual meeting.

MADISON HEIGHTS — Three proposed amendments to Madison Heights' City Charter were defeated overwhelmingly by voters.

The first proposal which would have increased the salary of the mayor from $150 to $2,000 annually and the six councilmen from $500 to $2,000 was turned down with a vote of 1,988 to 478.

A move to make the office of constable appointive rather than elective was rejected 1,939 to 835.

The proposed appointment of board of review members lost by a vote of 1,582 to 797. They are presently elected.

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Two proposals, the establishment of a charter township and the abolishment of the annual meeting, were defeated by voters in Shelby Township.

The charter township proposal was rejected with a vote of 1,025 to 811.

The annual meeting proposal was turned down 609 to 438.

Approval of the charter township status would have increased the township's bonding power from 2 1/2 per cent to 10 per cent of its tax base.

It also would have given the township authority to raise taxes from one mill to five mills for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

4-H Fair Off to a Rousing Beginning

Five days of 4-H fun and fanfare stepped off to a frolicking start yesterday as the first wave of visitors by the thousands invaded the fairgrounds for opening activities of the 1962 Oakland County 4-H fair.

Final touches were put on some 1,400 exhibits as the crowds began to stream onto the fairgrounds for the biggest event of the year for 1,200 4-H boys and girls from throughout the county.

Climax of the first day's program last night was the crowning of the 4-H king and queen, presentation of a Holstein heifer for outstanding club work and naming of a freckles champion.

Some 60 award winners in five categories of exhibits were chosen in first day judging.

An early evening 'rain' kept crowds slightly smaller than anticipated, although bright skies greeted the fair's opening in the morning.

Forecast for today, when the annual 4-H parade will come to Pontiac at 2 p.m., is mostly sunny.

4-H KING, QUEEN — Reigning over the fair as 4-H king and queen are Lyle McLachlan, 19, of Orion Township and Ricki Ann Hoxie, 15, of West Bloomfield Township.

Eleven-year-old Virginia Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Scott, 4891 Ramsey Road, Brandon Township, was presented with a Holstein heifer for outstanding 4-H club work by the Winifred Haas Foundation, perpetuating the memory of the wife of the late Joe Haas, Pontiac Press Man About Town columnist for many years.

The call is the offspring of the prize Holstein cow presented last year by Joe Haas to initiate the award. Winner was John Wilson, 15, of Oakland Township, who will take Virginia's heifer to the state show this summer.

A two-year veteran of the Seymour Lake 4-H Club, Virginia is raising two Holstein heifers but did not bring them to the fair. Her parents were named Oakland County Farm Bureau cooperators for 1961 and their farm is a seasonal farm that has been in the Scott family for four generations.

Freckles champ of the 4-H fair is 12-year-old Lyn Ann Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Warner, who live on a farm near Widesnap. Lyn Ann is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Roberts, 44 S. Midland St., Pontiac, this week.

A 4-H'er in Isabella County, the girl received a $50 savings bond from the Pontiac Press for topping everyone with freckles.

'WOULD BE THRILL' — "We thought it would be a thrill for her to enter," Mrs. Roberts said. "We figured if she didn't win, she would enjoy seeing someone with more freckles than she has."

Exhibits of vegetables and potted plants and in flower gardening, photography and entomology (study of insects) were judged yesterday.

Judging will continue today as 4-H'ers seek the coveted county awards and trophies for their year's projects. Scheduled for judging this morning were home economics and general exhibits, poultry and rabbits.

Also slated for today were a plowing contest, a tractor operator's contest and children's day. Tonight's program will feature a parade of floats around the show-

Bentley, Staebler See Hard Congressional Race

DETROIT (UPI) — Two old political pros will battle in November for Michigan's new 19th congressional seat, and both said today it would be a tough fight.

Former Rep. Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso made the statement in the face of his surprisingly strong showing in yesterday's primary.

Bentley was the Republican nomination for the at-large seat with a vote of over 300,000.

This compared with a vote of about 200,000 rolled up by Neil Staebler in winning the Democratic nomination. Both men had no opposition.

Bentley, who served four terms in the House during the Eisenhower Administration, was obviously pleased by his showing in the primary.

But he said that primaries "don't mean that much" and it's a "very dangerous thing" to try and compare a primary with a general election.

Bentley and Staebler agreed it would take a "concerted effort" to win in November.

"I see clearly the need for a lot of work," said Staebler, now Democratic national committeeman from Michigan and the man who ran the state organization during G. Mennen Williams' six terms in the governor's office.

MEMORIAL PERPETUATED—Lady Winifred, a Holstein heifer donated by the Winifred Haas Foundation to perpetuate the memory of the wife of the late Joe Haas, is presented to 11-year-old Virginia Scott (right) of Brandon Township at the 4-H fair last night by Joe Haas, the Press' Man About Town columnist for many years, to initiate the award.

Delegates Have Rough Primary

Many of 36 Who Ran Beaten by Veterans for Party Nod

DETROIT (UPI) — The value of the constitutional convention as a political springboard was somewhat in doubt today in the wake of the state's roughest elections in recent history.

Thirty-six of the 147 persons who served as delegates to the convention were on the ballot for major state office.

Rockwell T. Gust Jr., Grose Pointe Farms, one of three Republicans seeking the nomination for lieutenant governor, found his convention service no match for veteran Charles A. Field and Sen. John H. Stahlin, coming in a poor third.

In state Senate races, Democrat Charles N. Youngblood Jr., Detroit, came out two fellow delegates, Arthur J. Mac and Robert C. Hodges, for the 1st District nomination.

Edward A. McLagan, Flint, another delegate, won the dubious honor of opposing Democrat Garland Lane who has held his seat since 1949.

Others were not as fortunate. Jack Faxon failed to unseat Sen. Stanley Novak in a Detroit Democratic battle.

Charles Figg, who hoped to combine con-con experience, a long record of public service in agriculture and experience as mayor of Morenci, to defeat 26-year veteran Elmer R. Foster, Blissfield, in a 19th District Republican battle, fell in his primary attempt.

Ten con-con delegates won House nominations while seven others failed in their bids.

Area Dairies Fail to Follow Milk Price Hike

Independent dairies and a nationwide firm in the Pontiac area have failed to follow several Detroit dairies in hiking milk prices one cent per quart.

New prices from Twin Pines Farm Dairy, Detroit Pure Milk Co., Borden's and United Dairies went into effect today. Some outlets began the price increase yesterday after announcement of a hike by Gordon's and United.

In Pontiac, Detroit Creamery, distributor of Sealtest products, Maple Leaf Dairy, Dixie Dairy, Nye Dairy and the Richardson Farm Dairy made no price change today.

Retail prices in Detroit grocery stores yesterday varied from 22 cents to 27 cents a quart, and half-gallon prices ranged between 38 and 41 cents.

The dairies blamed the increase on a hike approved Aug. 1 by the Michigan Milk Producers Association and other smaller cooperatives representing dairy farmers.

A spokesman for the association said the increase is in line with regular seasonal boost usually made in August. He said the prices will go down again in February.

SCENE STEALER — A pinto gelding is caught in the act, not only nibbling the posies, but also stealing the scene from a startled Ricki Ann Hoxie, 15, and Lyle McLachlan, 19, just after the two were crowned 4-H king and queen last night at the 4-H fair.

First Day Winners Award Honors at 4-H Fair

Outstanding achievement in six project areas earned awards for some 60 Oakland County 4-Hers and several clubs on opening day of the annual 4-H fair yesterday.

The biggest division that was judged was vegetables with the East Orion Club and several of its members walking off with top honors.

Other classes included potted plants, flower gardening, flower arrangements, photography and entomology. Following is a list of winners:

Unit Against Proposed Constitution 'Fails on Two Basic Principles'

HOMER — The Michigan Farmers Union came out yesterday in opposition to the proposed new state constitution and urged its defeat.

The Farmers Union said that while the proposed document contains "progressive proposals," it fails to change the uniform tax base or to reorganize the state on an equal representative basis.

Headquarters of the Farmers Union here announced the stand in a newsletter signed by Ernest Sawyer, president. The newsletter said the action was taken by the board of directors at a meeting in Greenville Saturday.

A resolution adopted by the board said:

"Whereas, the proposed state constitution has cost the people of Michigan a large sum of money and contains some progressive proposals, it fails to meet the two most basic principles so vital to representative government.

"Its failure to change the uniform tax clause and to reorganize the state on an equal representative basis leaves the Farmers Union no alternative but to oppose this action.

"Therefore, we urge the electorate to reject the decision of the con-con delegates when it is submitted for their consideration."

Avondale Firemen to Pump Gasoline

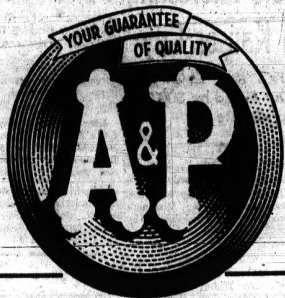

A "fire" sale on gasoline. That's what's coming up Friday and Saturday when Avondale firemen man the gas pumps at Everett's Bay Service, 2045 Auburn at Crooks roads.

Proceeds of the sale will go toward the purchase of uniforms for the 18-member volunteer Avondale Fire Department, according to Paul Landry, secretary of the fire department.

A 1936 fire wagon will be on display and a half dozen clowns (firemen in disguise) will promote the sale from noon Friday until closing time Saturday night.

FRECKLES CHAMP — The girls took over the lead in the annual freckles contest at the Oakland County 4-H fair last night with a visitor from Weidman, 12-year-old Lyn Ann Warner, topping the field of 15 contestants. She broke a two-year winning streak for the boys in the competition sponsored by The Pontiac Press. Girls won the title the first two years.

Geneva Conference to Hear Scientists

GENEVA — U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told newsmen today American scientists will arrive here next weekend to explain new western-backed proposals for outlawing nuclear testing.

Dean, the day's chairman of the 17-nation disarmament conference, said the scientists will be available to talk over the compromise measures with technicians and scientists who have accompanied other national delegations to Geneva.

The American scientists are associated with project Vela, probing methods for detecting nuclear blasts.

Detroit Voters Kill Loyalty Commission

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit voters abolished the city loyalty commission and the loyalty investigating committee in yesterday's primary.

Both groups were set up during the public furor over internal Communist activities in the late 1940s and early 1950s. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh recommended the boards be abolished to save $22,000 annually.

The vote was 35,442 to 42,442. James B. Givley, appointed by Cavanagh to be commission secretary, thereby lost the job.

Congressional Roundup

Fennville Man Wins in 4th District

By The Associated Press. Former State Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville beat out three other hopefuls Tuesday in the race for the Republican nomination for congressman from the 4th District.

The race was for the GOP nomination to succeed Republican Rep. Clare Hoffman, who is retiring from Congress after 29 years.

There were no major upsets around the state and all incumbents who ran were reelected. Hoffman supported Hutchinson in his race against State House Speaker Don Pears of Buchanan.

Hutchinson will face Leland D. Mitchell of Three Rivers, who ran unopposed in the Democratic primary.

Michigan's 19th congressman, coming as a result of the 1960 census gain, didn't produce a primary race. The legislature failed to come up with a districting plan which Gov. Swainson would approve and the congressman will serve at-large.

Republican Alvin M. Bentley of Orono, a former congressman, pulled 3,043 votes, with 5,148 precincts reported out of 5,149, running unopposed.

Democratic National Committeeman Neil Steeber, also unopposed, pulled 199,311 votes.

The four incumbent Democratic congressmen from Wayne County who faced opposition won re-election. Two other Democrats, Reps. Harold Ryan and Martha Griffiths, had no opposition.

Rep. Charles Diggs Jr. won one-sided nomination in the 13th District, polling 13,871. Jesse Stanton got 5,000 and Ivan Doty 2,582.

Diggs will face Republican Robert Blackwell, who drew 3,000 votes in the 1960 election. Rep. Lucien Nedzi trailed in early returns, but defeated Russell S. Brown Jr. 21,712 to 11,853. He'll face Republican Walter Crane, who bested Frank J. Skienicki 1,500 to 989.

In the 15th District, Rep. John Dingell rolled up 12,823 votes to 11,672 for Frederick Yates and 947 for David Boston. Ernest Richards won the Republican nomination and will face Dingell in November. Richards pulled 2,094 to 1,200 for Robert J. Robbins and 1,107 for William J. Benham.

Rep. John Lezinak won a run-away victory over two opponents in the 16th District. He drew 26,593 votes to 5,143 for Elizabeth Wideman and 4,049 for John Bobyk.

Laverne O. Elliott pulled 6,988 votes to beat out two competitors in the 18th District. Republican primary and will face Dingell in November.

Lots V. Nair won Republican nomination in the 14th to oppose Ryan and James P. O'Neil ran away from two opponents for the GOP nomination to run against Mrs. Griffiths.

Police Go to Stop Terrorism in Kenya

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Riot police were reported heading to the Nyanza region today to stop a wave of terrorism attributed by authorities to young members of the Kenya African National Union (KANU), whose president is Jomo Kenyatta.

Police said Kani members in the central interior had released prisoners held on tribal police posts and tortured nonparty members for alleged cattle rustling.

Members of the minority Luo tribe in the Nyanza region said they were "arrested" and beaten by Kani members, who also were reported to have held up a train at Maseno.

Vote Interesting in Kansas City

JFK's Man Long Way Out Ahead by 300,000 for Senate Bid

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — U.S. Sen. Edward V. Long, a champion of the Kennedy administration, walked away from his nearest opponent for Missouri's Democratic Senate nomination by nearly 300,000 votes in yesterday's primary.

The bitterest race came in the state's large Eighth Congressional District where Rep. Richard H. Ichard defeated Robert T. Donnelly for the Democratic nomination by more than a 3-to-1 margin.

Donnelly, who killed himself as a "Jeffersonian Democrat," was the nephew and law partner of the late Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

Ichard, a bitter opponent of the administration's foreign aid program, fought challengers by Donnelly that he was "unstable."

Democrats outvoted Republicans nearly 4-to-1, and easily renominated the state's nine other congressmen, including 65-year-old Clarence Cannon, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee who is seeking his 20th term.

Long was seeking nomination for a first term in the Senate. He was elected in 1960 to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Thomas C. Hennings.

With 419 of the state's 4,655 precincts reporting, Long led his nearest opponent, Jefferson City retired Army Maj. Lewis E. Morris, 212,890 to 31,514. Joseph R. Hartmeire, Kansas City businessman, trailed with 21,900.

The Missouri Democrat will meet R. Crosby Kemper, Kansas City banker, in the November general election. Kemper overcame four opponents by more than 3-to-1 margin.

John Galsworthy, the English author and playwright, received the Nobel Prize for literature in 1932, the year before his death.

Use Pectin in Jam Making to Shorten Cooking Time

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

Food for thought — and next winter's eating. You may not be enthusiastic about spending much time over a hot stove right now. But think how good those preserves will taste next January.

With liquid or powdered pectin, there is no long boiling, skimming and stirring while the fruit and sugar mixture approaches the jelly stage. Oh, we know some women still prefer to use the recipes they have always used. But we think cooking has become streamlined and needn't be so time consuming.

There's nothing prettier than a shimmering mound of bright jelly turned out into a serving dish. What's better with hot biscuits? But if you're making jam, do put some of it in interesting little jars.

Perhaps you like the shape of one some other food came in. Perhaps you like to growl through variety stores, just looking for unusual jam containers. You can decorate them for gift giving after they're filled. Just sterilize them before using.

Blueberry Jam brings a fabulous price in food specialty shops. Here is a recipe for a lightly spiced version.

Blueberry Jam
5 cups sugar
4 cups blueberries
1 box fruit pectin
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon allspice

Measure and set aside the sugar. Wash, rinse, drain, crush, and measure berries into large (4 to 6 qt.) kettle. Add pectin, lemon juice, salt and allspice. Stir to mix. Bring to boil, stir in sugar. Bring to fast rolling boil — one you can't stop by stirring — and boil 5 minutes.

Quickly skim off foam and pour hot jam to within about ¼ inch of top of half-pint fruit jars; seal at once with home canning caps. Let jars cool 25 or 30 minutes. If berries have risen to top, shake jar to redistribute them through syrup.

Pears and plums are both in the market now. Combine them in a yummy jam that will make breakfast more exciting all next winter.

Pear-Plum Jam
2 pounds ripe pears
1½ pounds ripe plums
¼ cup cold water
7½ cups sugar
1 6-ounce bottle liquid pectin

Peel and core washed pears. Put through food chopper using coarse blade. Pit washed plums; cut in small pieces and crush thoroughly with spoon or potato masher. Add water to plums, simmer, covered, for 5 minutes.

Combine fruits (there should be about 4½ cups) and sugar in large saucepan; mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over high heat. Boil hard one minute. Remove from heat, stir in pectin; skim.

Then pour into sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin! Makes 12 6-oz. glasses.

Last year we made some frozen peach jam which was the best "goop" to put on ice cream that we ever had. And it was so simple to make. If you have a large family who will eat this amount up in a couple of weeks, you can make it and store it in the refrigerator without freezing it.

Frozen Fresh Peach Jam
4 cups crushed fresh peaches (about 10 medium-size)
¼ cup lemon juice
1 package powdered pectin
1 cup light corn syrup
5½ cups sugar

Have ready clean, dry jars or freezer containers with tight-fitting lids. Wash, peel and cut peaches into chunks. Add lemon juice. Crush peaches fine. To crush, use meat-type potato masher or small can with both ends cut out.

Put peaches into 4-quart bottle. While stirring, slowly add pectin. Let stand 20 minutes. Stir every 5 minutes to perfectly blend pectin with fruit.

Add syrup. Blend in well. Add sugar. Blend in well. Cook over low heat until just warm to the touch (about 100 degrees). Do not allow mixture to become hot.

Pour jam into jars. Do not fill jars over ¾ inch from top. Cover jars at once! Let stand until jelled. Store in freezer until ready to use. Keep in refrigerator once jar has been opened. Makes 4 pints.

Melt Chocolate, Put in Whipped Cream

This delightful frosting will give a cake that is made from a mix that homemade touch.

Double Chocolate Cake
½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces
¼ cup hot water
1 cup heavy cream
2 round 8-inch chocolate layer cakes

Melt chocolate over hot water; remove from range and water. Stir in the ¼ cup hot (but not boiling) water; continue stirring. If necessary, until smooth; cool. Add to the cream; beat until stiff. Put cake layers together and cover top and sides with the chocolate cream. Refrigerate until serving time.

Pineapple Beets

The tiniest touches can put a vegetable in finery that will take it right to a dinner party. Heat canned small whole beets; drain. Add some pineapple preserves; mix lightly and heat. Serve sprinkled with chopped mint leaves. For such a simple touch, it's a really elegant vegetable dish.

Orange Flavors Banana-Nut Loaf for Good Eating

Make this good fruit-flavored quick bread into cream cheese sandwiches and carry in a vacuum bag for nibblers.

Banana-Orange Bread
2 cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup sugar
1 large egg
¾ cup (2 medium) mashed banana
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
3 tablespoons orange juice
½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg well. Stir in banana, orange rind and orange juice. Add sifted dry ingredients and mix; stir only until flour mixture is moistened.

Turn into greased loaf pan (8½ by 4½ by 3 inches); bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. (Bread will have center crack.) Turn out on wire rack; turn right side up; cool.

To slice thin, store overnight in tightly covered container.

Hand Tested

To judge proper heat for barbecuing, hold your hand above the coals at the same height the food is to be cooked. If you can keep it there for three seconds, the fire is ready. A too-hot fire will sear food on the outside, leave inside raw.

Wee Meat Loaf Bakes Quickly

With warm weather here, the homemaker will want to prepare "jitty meals" for her family, so she can spend more time out of doors. Ground beef fills the bill, since it is nourishing and can be easily made in a variety of interesting ways, such as unique 15-Minute Meat Loaves.

15-Minute Meat Loaves
2 beaten eggs
1 cup rolled bread crumbs
1 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons steak sauce
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk

Pre-heat oven to 450 degrees. Mix ingredients in order given and pack meat mixture level or slightly rounded into greased muffin pans. Bake 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

For a delicious dessert to go with this meal, try the following: Place a scoop of your favorite ice cream or ices into individual serving dishes. Sprinkle each scoop with ½ to ¾ teaspoon of undiluted instant coffee. It's a real taste treat!

Do You Make the Most of Outdoor Life?

Are you living outdoors more but enjoying it less? Is your patio protected by a bright colored aluminum awning to provide cool outdoor shade all day long and especially in the afternoon when the sun is doing its worst? Is the patio screened in to keep away pesky insects and permit you to enjoy it at night as well as during the day?

Do you have sufficient lights on your patio to enable you to entertain in the cool outdoors rather than in the warm indoors? Do you have such conveniences as outdoor electric, telephone and water outlets to reduce needless steps and give you more time to just plain relax?

Kelly to Be Speaker at Dem Convention

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelly will be the featured speaker Aug. 15 at the county convention of the Oakland County Democratic Party. The convention will convene at 8 p.m. in the Courthouse Annex, 1 Lafayette St.

Precinct delegates to the convention will elect delegates to the Democratic State Convention scheduled for Aug. 24 and 25 in Grand Rapids.

Delegates also will adopt resolutions outlining the convention's stance on current issues.

26 State Women 'of Age' Got Pills of Thalidomide

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze said yesterday that 26 women of child bearing age have received thalidomide tablets on an experimental basis in Michigan.

It was not revealed if these women were pregnant. Celebrezze disclosed that, in all, 219 Michigan patients had been treated with the drug. The European-developed tranquilizer, which causes a rare disease in the fetus when taken by an expectant mother, had been distributed to 36 Michigan doctors. Four of them still have the drug on hand with 487 tablets in their possession, Celebrezze said.

3 Young Swimmers Overcome by Gas

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three children were overcome by chlorine gas at a swimming pool Tuesday.

A safety plug in a filter tank at the Eastwood Swimming Club blew out, spraying the poolside with the gas. Tommy John Lauderdale, 7, was hospitalized. He was believed to be in good condition. Sheila Ann Cooper, 10, and her sister, Jeanne Ellen, 11, were treated by a private physician. Chlorine, commonly used as a sanitation agent in water treatment, can be lethal in gaseous form.

Jamaica Would Allow U.S. Base--No Strings Attached

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—If the United States ever needs a military base in newly independent Jamaica, it can establish one without commitment, Prime Minister Sir Alexander Bustamante said Tuesday night.

Bustamante told a news conference the United States has not asked for such a base nor should his statement be construed as an invitation to Washington to set one up on this Caribbean island, 90 miles south of Cuba.

Bustamante said the United States and Jamaica "are friendly nations and the United States can come in when and if it pleases."

The United States maintained bases in Jamaica during World War II under the destroyers-for-bases deal made by the United States and Great Britain. The bases were returned after the war.

Since then, the bulwarks of U.S. defense of the Caribbean approach to the Panama Canal have been Puerto Rico and the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

BRITAIN HAD CHARGE Britain handled Jamaica's foreign affairs before the island became independent Monday.

Bustamante declined to say whether he discussed an increase in U.S. aid to Jamaica with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, who led the U.S. delegation to the Jamaican independence celebrations.

He said Jamaica had "no immediate plan" to establish diplomatic relations with Cuba or with Iron Curtain countries.

Johnson appeared weary Tuesday from the nearly nonstop, campaign-style schedule he had maintained since Sunday.

Johnson made a helicopter visit Tuesday to the mountain camps of the Jamaican youth corps, where American peace corpsmen also are at work.

The Jamaican government announced that it has asked Washington to send 70 more Peace Corpsmen here because of the success of the present group of 35.

Congress to Leave Pile of JFK Legislative Wreckage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate tax revision bill until after that. Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today Congress still will be here in October if President Kennedy pushes a "must" legislative program.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the deputy Democratic leader, has outlined a 10-point program discussed at a White House meeting Tuesday. He said Congress can pass it and wind up its work by Sept. 15.

Dirksen and other candidates for re-election in the Senate and House are anxious to end the session and get home to campaign. In that situation, the Republican leader said there is likely to be "quite a bit of wreckage from the Kennedy program left behind" when Congress adjourns.

Dirksen made no predictions about the fate of a committee-approved mass transportation bill. The Democratic policy committee did not act on it Tuesday when it cleared the drug and farm bills for later Senate consideration.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hopes to take up the farm bill next week if the Senate can act by then on the communications satellite measure, which will return from the Foreign Relations Committee Friday noon. He said Saturday Senate meetings will be the order of the day for the rest of the session.

Mansfield said the drug bill will follow the farm bill. He would not go beyond that in scheduling any measures.

The Senate Judiciary Committee which is working on drug legislation is considering a number of tightening amendments proposed this week by Kennedy.

Businessman-Editor Dies

RIDGEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — Glenn L. Gardiner, 66, business executive, editor and author, died Tuesday. Gardiner, who recently suffered a stroke, was vice president and director of the Elliot Service Co. and for many years was editor of the firm's Management Information publication. He was born in Edgerton, Wis.

Two of the President's recommendations for further safeguarding the public against dangerous drugs were approved Tuesday.

One would permit the immediate removal of a drug from the market if the secretary of welfare found an imminent hazard to the public health in its continued use.

The other would require affirmative approval by the secretary before a drug could be marketed. At present an application to market a new drug becomes effective automatically in 60 days unless the government takes action of some kind on the application.

Mansfield said the 10 bill discussed at the White House do not necessarily have priority for congressional action. He noted that both houses have passed a higher education aid bill which has been stalled for weeks in a Senate-House conference committee.

He mentioned a House-passed postal rate increase measure. The Senate postoffice committee may attach a federal employee pay raise bill to it.

Besides Kennedy legislative proposals, the Senate and House have still to act on several regular appropriations measures. One of these, for foreign aid, promises to stir lengthy controversy.

Nowhere in the discussion by the leaders was there any mention of a possible Kennedy request for an immediate tax cut. This appeared to indicate the validity of reports there won't be any such request after the President has studied the July economic figures.

Former Judge Succumbs

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Armistead M. Doble, 81, former University of Virginia law judge, died Tuesday. Doble, associated with the university's law school 32 years, served on the U.S. Court of Appeals since 1939.

Rhino Hoofs, Zebra Legs

Worster Home Has Unusual Decor

By LINDA LAMARRE

What would you do if you had an old rhino hoof hanging around the den? Or a zebra leg, collecting dust?

Mrs. M. C. Worster, faced with this unusual situation, solved it, and several others, in a very practical manner. Rhino hoofs, minus the rhinos of course, make excellent ashtrays. The leg bones of a zebra (four zebras in the catalog) convert into eye-catching lamp bases and the hide may be used as rug, pillow cover or an attractive handbag.

The producer of this household bag is Mrs. Worster's husband, a doctor and part-time big game hunter.

Dr. Worster has literally, well, almost, brought home the bacon, but in its most edible form—skins, tusks and hoofs.

Most of the trophies occupy the lower level and the den of the house on Erie Road at Orchard Lake. Mrs. Worster managed to corral most of the menagerie in these two rooms though all of the house contains a tasteful blend of Mexican, Italian, Egyptian, African, and Hawaiian art treasures.

TWO CAMEL SADDLES

Two very comfortable-looking camel saddles in the living room sit before a coffee table from Mexico. On the table are items from Egypt, Africa and Hawaii. Talk about conversation pieces!

Descending the stairs to the lower level, the first thing to meet the eye is a rather flattened zebra—a rug. This room, also dated British East Africa, 1957, boasts the head of a 2500-pound Cape Buffalo, a Wildebeest (gnu to you), Kongoni or Hartbeestie and a Fringe Eared Oryx. Their big, south brown eyes look down benignly on a small stool made of an elephant's foot and a few rhino-hoofed ashtrays.

The gazelle families, Grant and Thompson, share the den with an eight-foot, six-inch leopard, a Greater Kudu sporting 54-inch long horns, Impala and the 10-foot, one-inch Bengal tiger (the largest on record is 10 feet, 11 inches).

TWO CHILDREN

Other occupants in the household? Pam, 13, and David, 16. Both attend West Bloomfield High School, and though David shoots with his father, none of the family has accompanied him on either trip to Africa or India.

Pierre, the French poodle, expressed an interest in the leopard's ears. He was soundly informed that he was re-placeable, the big cat was not, and he hasn't mistaken his spotted friend since.

A hunter all his life, Dr. Worster has taken up big game hunting during the past 12 years. He qualified for membership in the Shikar Safari, an international hunting club, which stipulates a prospective member must have hunted in either Africa or India.

Besides furnishing her split-level home with trophies and furnishings from all over the world, Mrs. Worster has acquired a full-length leopard skin coat, a stone marten scarf, and zebra skin handbags—thanks to the hunting prowess of her hunter-husband. Though she accompanied her husband to several Shikar Safari Club conventions, and recently returned from a two-month trip to Europe, Mrs. Worster confides she's "not a very good traveler... more of a homebody."

September finds her husband flying to Alaska to hunt grizzly bear, moose and caribou. On his return trip in the spring he'll be seeking polar bear.

Like most women with adventurous husbands, Mrs. Worster worries, but not about 5 or 6 tons of charging elephant or 10 feet plus of tiger. She worries about his flying.

For Better, for Worse

You Can Try, My Dear

By ARIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son was overseas for 18 months. When he arrived in San Francisco for separation, we eagerly awaited a phone call which never came.

Two days later he called from Los Angeles to tell us he had gone directly to see his "girl." We didn't even know he had a girl.

At his invitation we flew to Los Angeles to meet the girl and her family, as our son said they planned to get married as soon as he found a job.

She is a very ordinary 18-year-old girl who has a lot to learn. Her parents are common people but they tried to be very nice to us. The romance blossomed through the mails when his buddy gave him his sister's address, picture, etc.

Our son's college plans are now abandoned. We don't want to seem possessive, but how can we discourage this marriage? Our son is only 21.

SAD PARENTS: Ask the boy to defer marriage for six months to think about (a) foregoing college; (b) taking wife before finding a satisfactory job and (c) promising to love, humor and obey a pen pal!

If this doesn't slow him down, you've got a daughter-in-law for better or for worse.

DEAR ABBY: What does a girl do after she has just received an engagement ring? Does she stick it under every-body's nose? Or does she wait until somebody notices it and asks to see it more closely?

Puzzled: She usually waits for someone to "notice" it. And it shouldn't be difficult to "notice" because most newly-engaged girls suddenly become "left-handed."

DEAR ABBY: I have a hare-brained daughter who has been teaching school for nine years. She has been keeping company with a man who owns his own business.

They are not engaged and so far I haven't seen any signs of it. He has been taking up her time for five years. They are not kids. She's 31 and he is 29.

If she doesn't have sense enough to ask this guy when he is going to marry her, don't you think I should step in?

HER FATHER.

DEAR FATHER: A 31-year-old "girl" doesn't need her father to run interference for her. Sit tight, Daddy. Maybe daughter likes it this way.

DEAR ABBY: What's so wonderful about a 5-week-old baby turning over by itself and a 2½-year-old child doing the Twist? My baby did the Twist and turned over BEFORE he was born!

John D. Scrivens Fly to Arizona After Vows

For her marriage to John D. Scriven of Royal Oak Saturday in St. Benedict's Church, Judith Ann Warrilow chose a gown of candlelight Irish silk linen styled with bolero jacket and detachable chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was fitted to a pillbox hat and she carried a French rose of Mary Jo-roses. Her heirloom handkerchief was loaned by her grandmother, Mrs. Lynn D. Allen, and a diamond pendant was the bridegroom's gift.

Rev. Fabian Weber of St. Clement's Church, Center Line, performed the one o'clock ceremony before some 350 persons who were guests of the bride's parents, the David H. Warrilows of Dick Avenue at the church reception.

Matron of honor Mrs. Gary McGee and bridesmaids Mrs. Laurence Beamer, Connie Scriven and Carol Warrilow, sisters of the bride, couple, wore champagne taffeta with lace bodices and green velvet belts.

They carried colonial bouquets of tangerine carnations, Mary Jo roses and pompons.

The bridegroom, son of the Clare Scrivens of Oriole Road, had William Eisenbier of Chelsea for best man. Ushers included Laurence Beamer, John Oler and Peter Karner Jr.

The newlyweds flew to Phoenix, Ariz., for their honeymoon and will live in Royal Oak.

Admit Error and Write Right Now

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My son's engagement was announced six months ago to a young woman in a distant city. I've not met the girl or her family and as they are complete strangers, I never have written either to the girl or her mother. I wrote to my son, naturally.

A: Very definitely you should write at once. Much better now than not at all. The only way to bridge this gap is to face it and write. "All this time I have been waiting to hear from you and now I am told that I was the one who should have written." Also how do I explain my delay in writing?

Q: When entertaining at a rather large buffet supper, how can the hostess get her guests to go to the buffet table to help themselves to the food?

A: It seems the first is reluctant to be the first one to go to the table and they all sit back waiting for someone else to start. May the hostess lead the way so that others will follow.

A: She shows the way to the buffet table saying, "Supper is ready. Do come and help yourselves to anything you like."

Hudson-House Nuptials Held at Sylvan Lake

Marilyn Jean Hause exchanged wedding vows with Michael L. Hudson before Minister Clyde Baiderson Jr., Saturday evening in the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ. White and violet gladioli and carnations adorned the altar.

A reception in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland club rooms followed the candlelight ceremony. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hause of West Beverly Avenue and the Cordell Hudsons of Georgia Drive, Orion Township.

Could Be We Don't Want Simple Things

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Are you a little tired of trying to keep up an elaborate hairdo that requires constant care and keeps you from swimming, riding in an open car, getting out in the wind or rain?

If you are, you might be interested in what a New York hair stylist has to say on the matter.

He says he thinks any woman who isn't constantly making public appearances ought to leave elaborate hairdos strictly alone, except for very special parties.

Not only are they too trouble for a woman who can't afford the time or money to have her hair dressed everyday by an expert but such hairdos look out of place for everyday wear, the hair stylist maintains.

He says the woman who adopts an elaborate hair style doesn't realize that she is trying to copy for everyday wear a style that has been designed for special occasions and important public appearances of women in the limelight.

No wonder the average woman feels frustrated at what it costs her in time and effort to try to keep up such a fancy coiffure.

What the hair stylist recommends for Mrs. America is a simple, easy-to-manage hairdo she doesn't have to be a slave to—with now and then a more elaborate "set" for a special occasion.

But instead of that simple solution to the hair problem, what are women doing?

Niblick Golfers, Scottish Guest at Picnic Lunch

Mrs. Arthur Barnes of Motorway Drive, Elizabeth Lake, entertained the Niblick Golf Club Tuesday at a picnic lunch.

Thirty-two members and a guest from Scotland, Nancy Grant, were present.

During last month's meeting the group was entertained by Mrs. Norman Duercher of Bloomfield Hills. They visited Mrs. Duercher's summer home on Harsen's Island in Lake Huron and played golf at the Mid Channel Country Club.

At 'His and Hers' Shower Young Couple Honored

Jo Uligian, daughter of the Charles G. Uligians of Starr Avenue, and Lee Apin, son of the Arnold Apin of Crestview, Fla. were honored during a "his and hers" shower Tuesday.

Host and hostess for the Hawaiian themed party were Mr. and Mrs. Enar West of North Hammond Lake Drive.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Blamy Jr., the Ralph Strangs, the Edward Vieriechs and the Howard Powers.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucas of Ann Arbor, Judy West, John Blamy, Barbara Strang, Lynne Vieriech, Gerald and Robert Powers, Sue and Greg Uligian, and the bride-elect's parents.

The couple will marry Saturday in the First Congregational Church.

What's the Hurry? Golf Takes Time

Written for NEA
There is not, or shouldn't be, any rushing in golf. Unlike many hurry-scurry games that require instantaneous reflex action, golf is comparatively slow — sometimes tantalizingly so. Having time to think is one of the things that can make the sport so aggravating at times. But the time on your hands can be used to great advantage, if you employ it in thinking your way around and out of trouble. I play every shot mentally before taking my swing. As part of my mental picture, I try to see where the ball is going to land, and what is going to happen to it after it hits the turf. I try always to pick an exact spot where I want the ball to land and stop rolling. I play for position even from the tee. WAYS TO PLAY Just about every hole above par three offers at least two ways it can be played on the drive and from the fairway. From the fairway I always aim for the cup. If you try this you won't always make it, of course, but you'll be surprised how many times the ball will wind up in the hole. If you miss it, you'll be a lot closer to it than if you just try to reach any part of the green. Have confidence in every shot. If you have a pet club, use it whenever you can, even if it isn't the proper club according to the book. Write your own book in your own mind. Fewer businessmen would lose their shirts — if they rolled up their sleeves!

mothers of the couple, Mrs. Merritt Garnett and Mrs. Arthur J. Schumaker; Mrs. Jane Garrett of Berkeley, grand-mother of the bride-elect; and Mrs. Paul Tindall of Lapeer.

Others were Mrs. Harold Tank of Ortonville, Mrs. Walter Beals of Utica, Mrs. Robert Olasbeck of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Harold Tipton of Waterford. Attending from Pontiac were Mrs. John Harrington, Mrs. Lorena Adams, Mrs. Larry Sherwood, Mrs. Daniel Pruente and Mrs. Ransom Crane.

August, September, October
Miracle Mile to Celebrate

Festivities at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center have been scheduled for August, September and October, culminating with a birthday celebration Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

Miracle Mile has events planned to cover nearly every person and organization in Oakland County, including a beauty contest for girls 16 years and a birthday fair enabling organizations to operate money-making booths at the "Mile."

Miracle Mile shoppers will have a chance to win an all-expense paid three-day vacation for two to New York City or Washington, D. C., beginning Friday.

The trip, sponsored by the Hittner Travel Center, will be won by some lucky shopper whose entry blank is drawn on Sept. 1. Entry blanks will be available at all the shopping center stores.

The trip to Washington includes accommodations at the Sheraton-Park Hotel and visiting such places as the government buildings and memorials, Georgetown and Mt. Vernon.

In New York, the winner will stay at the Hotel Manhattan, just off Times Square.

He would have his choice of several tours and attractions, such as Broadway shows, dining at the Waldorf Astoria, a tour of the White House, a tour of the Lincoln Center, Radio City and the United Nations, and boat rides around Manhattan Island.

The winner in the drawing will have his choice between the two trips.

There is no age limit on the entrants. The contest closes Aug. 31 and the deadline for use of the prize is Nov. 30.

Red-Backed Festival Fun but Political Flop

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—The Communist-sponsored eighth world youth festival appears to have been successful as entertainment, but a failure politically. The delegations—about 14,000 youths from 144 countries—were leaving the capital of the north today. Most of them came here to enjoy themselves, and they did.

The official Finnish attitude was reserved but festive. Riots took place in the heart of the capital for four successive nights at the start of the festival. The police blamed hooligans and said they could find no evidence of local political organizations being involved.

The disturbances ceased when the police used tougher measures. Several nights of hard rains also helped.

U.S. Legal Body Elects Area Man

Woolfenden, Con-Con Delegate, Named Vesp of Judicature Society

Henry L. Woolfenden, con-con delegate from Bloomfield Hills, was today elected vice president of the American Judicature Society at its annual meeting in San Francisco.

Woolfenden, 35, of 1675 Kensington Road, succeeds Edgar N. Eisenhofer of Tacoma, Wash. The Oakland County lawyer is a former mayor of Bloomfield Hills and former president of the State Bar of Michigan.

Gift certificates will be awarded to the winner and runner-up in each category. For first place the prize will be a $10 certificate and for second, a $5 certificate.

Leading off the events a week from today will be a bicycle parade at 3 p. m., and a beauty contest for girls 16 years old at 7 p. m.

The bicycle parade will be held in the Miracle Mile parking area with contests held in two categories. There will be a contest for the best decorated bicycle, and for the best decorated foot powered by a bicycle.

The parade will form at the parking area in the center of the shopping area.

The twist contest will take place on the parade lot, and will be held in the middle of the shopping area. Couples may enter in one of two categories: over and under 13 years old.

The Miracle Mile contest is believed to be the first shopping center twist contest in the Detroit area. Contestants may wear any type of clothing and music must be provided by the contestants' own phonograph records.

To Toll Bell in West Berlin Over 'Wall'

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin's Freedom Bell will be tolled on Aug. 13 to mark the first anniversary of the building of the Red wall dividing Berlin, the city government said Tuesday.

All traffic lights will be switched to amber to bring street traffic in West Berlin to a stop for three minutes. Factories and offices are asked to stop work.

The sound of the bell will be broadcast over the wall to East Berlin by loudspeaker trucks. The Freedom Bell is a copy of America's Liberty Bell. It was an American gift to West Berlin.

Income Tax Question Goes to Dearborn Vote

DEARBORN (AP)—The Dearborn City Council last night agreed to ask Dearborn residents in the Nov. 6 election whether they prefer an income tax on a statewide basis or a city tax.

A 1 per cent tax similar to Detroit's new payroll tax has been drafted, but action on the ordinance has been held up pending further study. Dearborn residents who work in Detroit proper are subject to the Detroit tax.

The wounded were taken to five nearby hospitals.

Benton Harbor Track in Preliminary Stage

BENTON HARBOR (U)—A plan to build and operate a $2-million horse race track with pari-mutuel betting near Benton Harbor was in preliminary action stages today.

It was disclosed Monday night when retired farmer John Bury obtained permission from the Benton Township board to establish the proposed track on a 75-acre plot of his land.

The site lies about four miles north and east of Benton Harbor near the junction of expressways 194 and 196.

Bury told the board that a group of investors, represented at the meeting by Jack Vandevor of Chicago, had taken an option on his land and planned to build the track.

The board granted the investors 60 days to act on the option. Bury declined to identify the investors but said they included Chicagoans and Benton Harbor area residents.

Veterans Are Passing Up Big Benefits, VA Claims

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Half a million veterans and their survivors are passing up $33 million a year in increased pensions provided by a 1950 law, the Veterans Administration (VA) told Congress yesterday.

VA benefits director Philip N. Brownstein made the statement in testimony before the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

He said about 530,000 persons now covered by the pre-1950 pension law on non-service-connected disability could be collecting almost $7 million more each month if they switched to the new program.

Brownstein said the VA surveyed pensioners who delayed making the switch and found that 63 per cent did not know the facts.

Another 13.4 per cent had been misinformed about the new law, he said, while others had checked into the law and withheld their decision until they were sure a change would mean a pension increase.

Brownstein said only 19.3 per cent of those eligible for benefits of the new law had raised out by filing too late.

The estimate of monthly benefit losses was based on a VA survey of applications to switch programs.

It showed that 52 per cent of applicants would benefit by changing and that the average increase would be $13.69 per month for veterans and $12.28 for veterans' survivors.

Thus, he said, more than half of the 1,124,000 persons still under provisions of the old law were passing up better benefits despite "the widest possible publicity" given to the change.

The pension program covers needy veterans who cannot support themselves because of age or non-service-connected disabilities and the widows and orphans

BROKEN FLIPPER — Charlotte Carter, 6, ignores a broken arm to enjoy a swim in her backyard pool in Savannah, Ga. The youngster swims, dives and generally cools off twice daily despite the plaster cast. A plastic covering has been used over the cast to keep the plaster from getting soft.

'Hello, Central' Memories Make a Life Rich

NEW YORK (AP)—Life is a board of remembrances. The more you have to remember, the more you have lived; none is poor who is rich in memories.

You have made quite a journey through time if you can look back and remember when—

You had to crank a telephone to get the operator, and when she responded, "Hello, central"—and then told her who you wanted.

SILENT DAYS

Bob Hope was an obscure young song- and dance man living out of a vaudeville trunk.

Movies were silent, and background music was provided by a neighborhood piano teacher—usually dumpy and middle-aged, so the patrons wouldn't bother her. During exciting scenes she always played the "Overture from William Tell."

BY THE ALMANAC

Many a farmer made up his mind what and when to plant according to what the almanac said—and not by what the government ordered.

You could order a fine set of false teeth by mail. They might not fit very well, but then a fellow didn't have to wear them except in church, while attending a funeral, or other formal functions.

Every neighborhood had a few old ladies who enjoyed lighting up

Reds Say Apartments Okay, Private Houses Taboo

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has ordered a crackdown on the building of private homes.

A decree said money and materials should be channeled instead into the building of cooperative apartment houses, financed by the prospective tenants and by state credits.

The decree is aimed primarily at the capitalists of the various Soviet republics and other large cities, in all of which the housing shortage is especially acute.

Apparently the decree has a two-fold purpose:

1. To check the activities of speculators and others who invest their gains in private housing.
2. To get more people to contribute directly to the cost of their apartments.

Under the decree, the state bank will grant a credit of 60 per cent toward the financing of a cooperative apartment house. The remaining 40 per cent must be paid in advance by the individuals who will live in the apartment house. The tenants must repay the state bank credit within 10 or 15 years.

Last year 800 million square feet of urban housing were built in the Soviet Union—according to official statistics.

Of this, 610 million square feet were built by the government. The remainder was built either by private individuals or cooperatives.

LABOR STORY

A Moscow court recently sentenced Ivan Kostrov to five years at forced labor because he could not explain where he got the money to buy a private house.

The judge asked the wisecracking defendant how he had managed.

"I must confess, your honor, it was tough," he replied.

Pressed for an explanation he added:

"When I left my second wife she gave me ninety, excuse me, nine thousand rubles. For what? Well, just so I'd leave her in peace."

Press reports clearly implied that he was suspected of stealing from his employer—the state.

The home that he bought was priced at 25,000 rubles—$27,777 by Russian evaluation—which was more than his total earnings over the past 10 years. In addition he was reported to have spent about 66,000 rubles on household furnishings, a car and high living.

Politics Ignores Suburban Voter

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — The forgotten man in political America is the homeowner in suburbia.

Rural domination of state legislatures has been a way of life since the birth of our republic, although thanks to a Supreme Court ruling that courts can enter the "political thickets" of legislative reapportionment, it at last appears doomed.

The first law of politics is self preservation, and rural legislators will not give up easily.

One of the most significant political developments of the Seething Sixties, however, will inevitably be legislative reapportionment.

As the balance of power shifts from rural to urban legislators, the political make-up is also expected to change.

Farmers are historically Republicans, while the city dwellers are predominantly Democratic.

Some of the inequalities of the present system speak for themselves. A voter in the hamlet of Victory, Vt., has 10,000 per cent more representation in the lower house of his state legislature than his counterpart in Burlington. The latter city has a population of 35,000, the former 35, but each town elects one lawmaker.

Thanks to this hundred-year-old apportionment system, eleven per cent of Vermont's population elects a majority of the legislators.

In Michigan, Democrats won only 13 of 34 Senate seats, although they cast a majority of the ballots. This rural domination in the apportionment system regularly gives Michigan a Republican legislature to work with a Democratic governor, who is elected by popular vote.

It is this Senate apportionment which has been under attack in the courts through a suit filed by August Scholle, the state AFL-CIO president, and only a stay by U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart prevented all Michigan state senators from having to run at large this November.

DETROIT DOMINATION
If Scholle is successful in his drive, the Detroit area with its highly unionized population will be able to dominate the legislature. This would by no means be unique, since similar situations would develop in New York, Illinois, and other areas with tremendous metropolitan centers.

Practically every fair-minded person will agree that one house of each state legislature should be apportioned on a population basis, with each citizen having an equal vote.

Scholle and other labor leaders are trying, however, to force both houses to reapportion on that basis.

This would seem to run counter to the philosophy underlying the U. S. Constitution, since its framers deliberately set up only the House of Representatives on a population basis, and the Senate by political geography.

TWO SENATORS
Vermont, for instance, is entitled to two U. S. senators who vote equally with the two senators from New York, although the latter represent nearly 17 million citizens, and the Vermonters only 337,000.

The writers of our Constitution — men like Jefferson, Washington, Madison, Franklin and Hamilton — felt that the senators could act as a brake on the "rabble" in the House, who were elected by popular vote.

These Founding Fathers gave us a republic, not a democracy. They did not believe that every person should have an equal vote, regardless of ignorance, indifference, or station in life.

The Supreme Court may alter this conception by giving every citizen an equal vote for his state legislators and senators, regardless of geography.

If it does, the suburbanite will ultimately profit even more than the city slicker, because he has less representation than either his city or country cousins.

This fact is the one ray of hope for Republicans in the reapportionment upheaval. City dwellers, when they move to the suburbs, have a tendency to vote Republican.

With Laos 'at Peace,' What of S. Viet Nam?

SAIGON (UPI)—While an uneasy peace has settled over Laos, a war that claims a thousand lives a week rages on in South Viet Nam.

People here are now asking themselves whether the settlement in Laos—however uncertain—will make the struggle against the Communists in South Viet Nam any easier.

Many are sure it will be harder. They are convinced that the Communists can now turn their full attention from Laos to South Viet Nam.

As one American military man put it, "the whole northern part of South Viet Nam is now outflanked along a 170-mile border of jungle and mountains. The Viet Cong (the Communist guerrillas) can run back and forth across that border any time they want to. And we won't be able to do anything about it."

With the end of the fighting in Laos, officials fear that North Viet Nam will gradually shift its estimated 30 battalions—30,000 men—there into fighting in South Viet Nam.

The shift, in fact, has already begun. U.S. observers say 2,500 to 3,000 already have crossed over.

These officials confirm—despite denials from Washington—that there has been a marked increase in the infiltration of Viet Cong guerrillas across the border into South Viet Nam's central highlands since the truce and that the buildup of North Vietnamese regular troops continues in southern Laos.

(As Truong Vinh Le, president of the South Vietnamese National Assembly, put it, "I do not believe the Viet Cong will go home from Laos.")

Among the thousands of regular Vietnamese Communist troops in the Attapeu, Saravane and Tehepone areas of southern Laos are two regiments which helped defeat the French at Dien Bien PHU eight years ago.

Many observers here doubt—as does Thailand's foreign minister, Thanat Khoman—that the new Laotian government can keep its Geneva pledge that foreign troops will not be allowed on its soil.

As the Thai minister said, the Communist troops in Laos "may change their uniforms, but the weapons will remain."

The only difference between the Viet Cong and regular North Vietnamese units, officials say, is that the rank and file of the guerrillas are recruited in the south and trained either there or in Laos.

There are now indications that the main political arm of the Viet Cong—the so-called "National Liberation Front for South Viet Nam"—may ask for open assistance from North Viet Nam.

One indication was given in an NLF pamphlet published in Hanoi, in June, which said, "In case of necessity, the people of South Viet Nam and the South Viet Nam National Liberation Front will use their legitimate and effective right to appeal to the people and government of North Viet Nam . . . requesting that active support, including material and manpower, be afforded to the just struggle of the people of South Viet Nam."

The NLF has always gone to great pains to insist on its independence. It is known to be controlled by Hanoi.

Negotiate on Peiping's Terms?

China-India Border Fight Grips Nehru

By HENRY BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's angry territorial dispute with Communist China is forcing a difficult decision on Prime Minister Nehru.

He must decide whether to negotiate on Peiping's terms in the hope of ending aggression along India's mountainous northern border. The Chinese want to negotiate without withdrawing from the disputed territory they hold, as India has insisted.

Nehru's agreement to talks would imply renunciation of the disputed territory in bleak, three-mile high Ladakh which the Chinese already control. This is India lacks the force to evict the Chinese. The realization of China's dominant military position in Ladakh has come hard to New Delhi.

When the Chinese began pressing into Ladakh in 1957, India had no army troops in the area. By last spring India has managed to establish 3,500 to 5,000 troops in this area behind the world's two highest mountain ranges, the Himalayas and the Karakoram. This created a feeling of confidence in New Delhi.

It had been crossed recently when the government realized the Chinese had the ability to bring a superior force to bear any time they chose. This was what happened last month in the Galvin Valley of Ladakh when the Chinese rushed up hundreds of troops to menace an Indian outpost. The outpost's supply line is still threatened and the situation there remains explosive.

Recognition of the Chinese strength is believed to have been an important factor in India's note to China July 28 which Nehru made public yesterday. It said India was willing to hold discussions with the Chinese as soon as the proper atmosphere has been created.

An official spokesman was unable to clarify for correspondents later whether the requirement of a proper atmosphere meant Indian insistence on a Chinese withdrawal.

The note's failure clearly to state a demand for withdrawal of some members of parliament and newspapermen to conclude India had weakened its demand.

DISAPPOINTED

The Chinese reply, which Nehru called "rather disappointing," said Peiping is ready to have talks as soon as possible—without any preconditions, meaning no withdrawal from the disputed territory. Nehru said the Chinese note is under consideration.

There were signs in early 1960, when Chinese premier Chou En-lai visited New Delhi, that Nehru was willing to trade away a few thousand miles of Ladakh for settlement of the dispute, including the Chinese renunciation of the rest of their claim of 51,000 square miles. He found himself unable to do it because of angry public opinion.

Now public opinion is not so loudly heard. The sharpest critics in Nehru's governing Congress party have been silenced by giving them official posts. The non-Communist opposition parties are weaker. Only a few newspapers have spoken against negotiations without Chinese withdrawal.

One leading paper, The Hindustan Times, said "the hour of dishonor is near" unless public opinion halts what the editor considers the drift toward negotiations on Chinese terms.

Dodge Seeking Fifth Divorce

Auto Heir Trying to Shed Wife No. 5, Says She Assaulted Him

DETROIT (AP)—Auto heir Horace E. Dodge, whose four ex-wives netted millions of dollars in divorce settlements, is trying to shed wife number five, former showgirl Gregg Sherwood.

Details of the suit became public today when acting Executive Judge Horace W. Gilmore "disappressed" the suit because of reports of Mrs. Dodge's conduct when detectives tried to serve divorce papers on her in New York.

Mrs. Dodge, 46, whose face has appeared on 144 magazine covers by her count, dropped the papers to the sidewalk in front of the Four Seasons night spot and ran away screaming, the detectives reported.

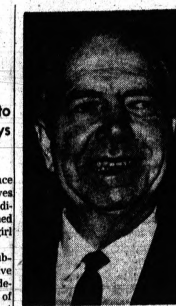

"Dodge, 62, alleges his present wife alternately assaulted him and ignored him and that she spent her time mostly outside Michigan.

He said she returned to the Dodge home in Grosse Pointe only to demand more money for her adventures outside the state.

Dodge asks custody of their eight-year-old son, John Francis. He alleges Gregg, whom he married Feb. 20, 1953 at Palm Beach, Fla., has a vicious, unmanageable temper.

Dodge alleges she inflicted physical damage that required medical attention, and that he feared for his safety.

The suit says the couple separated Aug. 4, 1961. The divorce action was filed Aug. 7, 1961.

Fortunes Look Dim for Phony Soothsayers

NEW YORK (AP)—Attention New York fortune tellers:

Sometime in the near future, a man will come to you for advice. You will give it to him, and he will pay you for it. You will accept the money, and then the man will give you a summons. He will be a detective.

This prophecy was made Tuesday night by City Markets Commissioner Albert S. Facetta, who ordered a citywide probe of fortune tellers, tea leaf readers, spiritualists and other soothsayers.

He said the probe follows complaints from astrologers that many disreputable characters purport to peer into the future. Facetta said an investigation of astrologers also is in the stars.

Urges Private Firm to Tie Global Media

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—David Sarnoff, board chairman of the Radio Corp. of America, today called for the unification of all American international communications systems into a privately owned company.

Sarnoff made the proposal in a speech before the annual meeting of the judicial administration section of the American Bar Association. The speech was delivered by Sarnoff's son, Robert, board chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., because the general is convalescing in New York from a recent operation.

"Such a unified company would be able to render a complete service to the public with all the advantages made possible by modern science and technology," Sarnoff said.

The nation's only communications satellite, Telstar, is owned and operated privately by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. NRC, a subsidiary of RCA, and the American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System, all have used the satellite to send and pickup television programs to and from Europe, via the satellite.

Sarnoff suggested that although the recently proposed communications satellite corporation establishes a form of legal monopoly, most of the companies authorized to participate in the project "will be in competition with each other."

He said the formation of a unified company at the same time would enable the U. S. firm to deal with foreign government communications monopolies on equal terms "for the first time."

"The ultimate in communications will arrive when an individual, equipped with a vest pocket transmitter-receiver, will connect by radio with a nearby switchboard and be able to see and speak with any similarly equipped individual in the world," Sarnoff said.

News Analysis

Angry cries of "appeasement" are beginning to be heard as signs increase that Nehru might negotiate. Critics assert that whatever influence India now has in Asia will evaporate if Nehru accepts the Chinese terms.

Nehru apparently is drawn towards talks, however. He once towards India and Red China, the world's two most populous nations, would stand together as the friendly heart of Asia. Now, in his weary old age, Nehru seems to want to make another, perhaps last desperate attempt to resolve the quarrel with Peiping.

'ARROGANCE' HIT

Rather than being cooperative the Chinese have been arrogant, he has said.

"No force in the world could oblige us" to withdraw from the disputed area, Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi said last week.

Bad Credit Ratings for FHA Costing Taxpayers Millions

By WILLIAM COTE

Ypsilanti Press Staff Writer

YPSILANTI (AP)—Credit rating abuses in the processing of Federal Housing Administration mortgages have cost the taxpayers millions of dollars, the Ypsilanti Press said today.

In a copyrighted story, the Press said a three-week investigation of rising FHA mortgage foreclosures in 25 southeastern Michigan counties, has revealed a problem which, "in terms of money lost, dwarfs any recent scandal involving the federal government—including the Billie Sol Estes case.

The Press said its investigations disclosed persons unable to obtain a vacuum cleaner on credit have been allowed home mortgages of $15,000.

Ypsilanti Township area mortgage foreclosures have totaled some $3 million in the last 18 months and some $630,000 this year.

The Press said similar foreclogures have been reported across the country.

In the Detroit area alone, the Press said, a list of 60 houses under foreclosure action was printed by the FHA. The government now is trying to sell the houses with a valuation of $5,240,870.

1,311 HOUSES

Throughout the Detroit FHA district, covering 26 southeastern Michigan counties, there were 1,311 houses taken over by the FHA on foreclosed mortgages.

FHA officials had no figures on what value these houses represented, but the Press said if the some 700 houses reported in the Detroit area, were representative, the total valuation would be nearly $14 million.

The cost to the taxpayers comes, the Press said, when the government attempts to resell the foreclosed houses. Sales when they occur are usually some $1,000 to $2,000 below the original mortgage.

Despite this, the Press said, the FHA in turn insures new mortgages on housing going up in the same areas. These new mortgages, further depress the resale market for the foreclosed houses.

The Press said the foreclosures and the millions of dollars they represent in housing are the result of a merry-go-round which ends at the government "pay window."

The FHA will guarantee 97 percent on loans on houses built to its specifications. The government insured loans have no trouble in finding buyers, the Press said.

All the builder need do is sell the house—sometimes on a "no money down, 40-year mortgage."

The lending institution makes its money on interest as long as the house payments are met.

The only one not protected in the long run is the FHA. It may wind up with the house—by this time probably badly run down.

The Press said the key to the problem all too often is the credit report issued on individual mortgage applications.

ADVERSE RATINGS

The Press said its investigation showed that of the 61 persons in the Ypsilanti area whose homes were foreclosed this year, 34 had adverse credit ratings at the time their mortgage was issued.

The Press quoted an Ypsilanti credit source as saying there were instances of credit companies calling up a person they were rating and getting a credit rating without a check of ledger accounts, merchants employment records and other means of establishing a record.

The Press said the FHA apparently has become aware of this situation. The federal agency, last July 1 instituted a new procedure for "grave inadequacies" in the former system.

"The new procedure is the culmination of nearly a year of tightening up on credit reporting,"

Dwight K. Haimborsky, Detroit FHA director, told the Press:

The Press said apparently the first report of trouble on home mortgages issued by the FHA came from the National Association of Mortgage Brokers two years ago.

The association, noting an upswing in foreclosures, made a report to FHA officials in Washington.

Haimborsky told the Press the problem was one of a coast-to-coast nature.

He said the first step in the new program of tightening mortgage credit rating requirements was to ignore such ratings from suspect agencies. He said today no credit rating report submitted by a seller is used by the FHA.

MAY ASK 2nd REPORT

Under the new system the FHA has specific agencies under contract to make credit ratings. The FHA said it will not reject a report from another agency, but may ask for supplemental report from the agency under contract.

The Press said the Detroit area agency is Credit Data Corp. of Detroit.

The Press asked Peter B. Fletcher if the new FHA credit reporting method will solve the problem.

"It's good that the FHA recognizes the scope of the credit reporting problem," Fletcher told the Press, "but it still does not insure that local reporting agencies will furnish the reports. No Detroit agencies can possibly have the credit information on Ypsilanti residents."

As widespread as the credit reporting abuse has been, it is still not the only phase of the recent snowballing foreclosure rates, the Press said.

The Press cited instances where "dealer" would give a family $100 or so for the deed to a foreclosed house. The "dealer" then would rent the house until the normal foreclosure routine—sometimes taking 18 months—was completed.

The Press cited the long time required for foreclosure proceedings to be completed as a big factor.

The Press mortgage companies will wait 90 days before starting foreclosures. They then must publish notices of foreclosure.

After publication of such notice, the foreclosed property deed is turned over for sale to the highest bidder.

In most cases the highest bidder is the Federal National Mortgage Association, government supporting agency for the FHA and Veterans Administration.

If the association obtains the mortgage, the government requires that persons originally holding the house be given 12 months in which to repay back payments and penalty costs.

The foreclosure must be halted if the delinquent pays up any time in that period.

Finally at the end of the year, the government will take over the property if the payments are not made.

The Press said the policy of the FHA in insuring low-cost, long-term mortgages puts it in the housing business.

The Press said the new FHA credit reporting system may be their answer to cutting down defaulted mortgages.

The Press quoted area businessmen as saying better information to prospective buyers on what foreclosure means and the institution of a double credit reporting system as backstop are other means of stopping the loss to taxpayers.

On Land, Not Sea, Daily Says

'Beware Sharks, Jackie'

ROME (AP)—Il Tempo, a major Rome independent paper, said in a front-page editorial today it hoped Jacqueline Kennedy would not be alarmed by reports two weeks ago of sharks in the Ravello waters—"the sharks have never eaten anyone in Ravello"—where she is to spend two weeks.

But "for scrupulous honesty," the editorial continued, "we must put La Signora Kennedy on guard against another danger."

"Italian men have always had the habit of giving somewhat audacious compliments to beautiful foreigners. It is a habit perhaps deplorable but completely innocent, and not a few queens have been victims."

"La Signora Kennedy should not have fear if she will learn that Italians would be ready to face the sharks of the Ravello seas to defend her, but before a beautiful woman they are absolutely incapable of containing their expressions of admiration."

Waterford Fire Dept. Had 52 July Alarms

The Waterford Township Fire Department responded to 52 alarms in July this year, five more than in the same month a year ago.

During the first seven months of this year the department handled 318 calls compared to 448 during the corresponding seven months of 1961.

Attendance Records Smashed in Waterford

Recreation Program Really 'Tops'

By JOE MULLEN

Waterford Township's vast summer recreation program is setting across-the-board attendance records this season.

Recreation director Robert Lawler reports an average weekly participation of 7,268 this year compared to 4,358 persons in the 1961 program.

"The only activity that hasn't shown a substantial increase in interest is the basketball instruction series," Lawler commented. "Final figures when compiled should about equal last year's 62 registrations."

Playground activities are the largest single phase of the summer program.

Director Paul Atkins and his staff of eight playground directors and eight assistants conduct activities at 13 elementary school playgrounds in the township.

Nearly 2,200 youngsters have registered at the playgrounds for the program which concludes Friday, last year's registration total was 1,971.

Playground activities include both outdoor events, such as softball and track, and indoor activities which include leathercraft, copper tooling and plaque painting.

The swimming program conducted at five-area lakes by director Fran Spencer and her staff of five expert swimmers has attracted 789 registrants this summer compared to 570 a year ago.

BASED ON ABILITY

Youngsters are divided into five groups based on their aquatic abilities and are instructed accordingly. Swimming also will end Friday.

Day camp activities are held in the Highland Recreation Area, White Lake Township, in a picturesque wooded site adjoining Teeple Lake where the campers take a daily dip.

Youngsters are instructed in woodcraft, nature study and fire building, and each week there is an overnight camp-out. Mrs. Warren Allen directs activities aided by five experienced assistants.

Camp registrations this year have reached 333. A year ago 271 youngsters registered for the camping program. Camp opened July 9 and will close August 17.

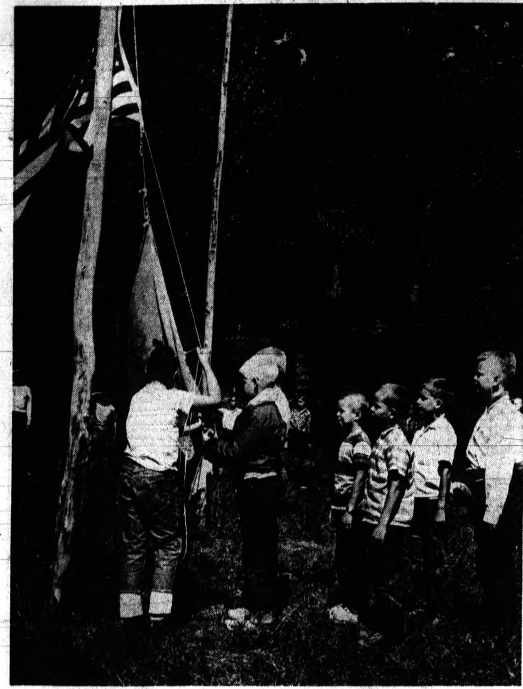

The 40 to 45 persons working in the summer recreation program are proud of the big increase in activity.

"I think the fact that the population of Waterford Township has risen is one reason for the big boost," Lawler explained.

MORE TIME TO PLAY

"We also had more time to plan and promote this year's program which may also be a factor, and the added activities this year such as the tennis instruction series certainly helped."

A midseason highlight of the recreation program was the Junior Olympic trials held last month. Teams comprised of youngsters from all 13 playgrounds competed for the right to represent Water-

CAMPERS LOWER FLAG — Youngsters at the Waterford Township Recreation Department's day camp in the Highland Recreation Area conduct flag raising and lowering ceremonies each day. Boys from Unit No. 3 at the camp take their turn lowering the flag as boys and girls from the other four units who have formed a large circle around the flag pole stand at attention and salute. A highlight of the children's week in camp is the overnight experience scheduled each Thursday.

Baldwin Rubber

Sets Picnic for Workers and Kin

The 14th annual picnic of Baldwin Rubber Co. UAW Local 125 at Walley Lake Park will be held for all active, layed-off and retired workers, and their families Saturday starting at 10 a.m.

Free rides, soft drinks, ice cream and hot rides will be available.

Contests and races for the children have been planned, including pie eating, penny scramble, relay races and an egg throwing contest.

According to Cameron Wilkinson, chairman of Baldwin Rubber's recreation committee, the races and contests will begin at 10 a.m. with the park rides opening at 11 a.m. The rides will close at 7 p.m.

Hikes Sugar Quotas

of Lands Paid Less

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department announced yesterday that it will increase sugar quotas for countries getting a smaller net price for their supplies. It said countries getting a higher price have not been making adequate deliveries to meet current heavy domestic demands.

The department increased by 241,734 tons the quantity which countries buying an import fee under a new sugar control program may send to this country by Sept. 30. This brought the total quota for what are known as global areas to 541,734 tons for the last half of the year.

The department said countries entitled to the full domestic price — except the Philippines — have supplied only 25 per cent of their total quotas for the last half of the year. The Philippines has supplied 66 per cent.

Sole Patron on Plane Finds Trip 'Chummy'

LONDON (U)—A British grandmother thrilled her neighbors yesterday with an account of how she enjoyed the world's most exclusive airline flight.

"There were 108 seats," said Margaret Nelson, 65, "and I was the only passenger. What a wonderful trip it was. Everybody made a great fuss over me."

Mrs. Nelson—flying from Montreal to Manchester aboard British Overseas Airways Corp. scheduled flight No. 646—was the only passenger.

There were five crewmen in the cabin and five stewardesses. Airline officials estimated the cost of the flight as $2,800. Mrs. Nelson paid $226.80.

ALL TOOK TURNS

Stewardess Margaret Muddle said: "We all took turns sitting with Mrs. Nelson. It was a real chummy trip."

"It was a bit lonely at first," said the grandmother, "but they asked me to move up front and I did. Then they gave me every sort of attention."

A BOAC spokesman said this was only the second direct Montreal to Manchester flight. It was started a week ago. On the same plane's outward flight, there were 101 passengers aboard.

"We can only hope that in the future this flight becomes more popular," the spokesman added. Mrs. Nelson was returning from a two-month visit with her son and his family in Vancouver.

Winged Missile Killed Head-On

Sparrow III Scores Unprecedented Hit; Both Faster Than Sound

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A missile launched from a fighter plane has knocked down a winged guided missile in a head-on interception, the Navy announced yesterday.

The Sparrow III, a missile which scored the unprecedented kill, was fired from a Navy Phantom jet fighter against a Regulus II guided missile while both were flying faster than the speed of sound.

The Regulus, a guided missile capable of flying about 1,400 miles an hour, was never put into production as a weapon. The Regulus missiles which already had been turned out before cancellation in 1958 have been used as target drones. Powered by jet engines, they are similar to fighter planes.

The Navy said the interception was made high over the Pacific Ocean in the test range area off Point Mugu, Calif.

It declined, on security grounds, to say at what altitude and speeds the test was conducted. The Regulus was completely destroyed, the Navy said.

The Sparrow is an air defense weapon designed for interception of enemy aircraft. It is 12 feet long, weighs 350 pounds and can reach a speed of 1,500 miles an hour. A Phantom fighter can carry as many as six Sparrows.

Waterford Teens in Combo to Play at Airway Lanes

The "Coronados," a five-piece band comprised of Waterford Township boys, will provide the music for dancers Friday at Airway Lanes, 425 Highland Road, Waterford Township.

Band members are Ricky Stockwell, Tom Evans, Bill Goddard, Bob Stalon and Schemel. All are from Waterford Kettering High School except Stockwell who attends Waterford Township High School.

The group has performed as a unit for more than a year and is planning its first recording session soon.

Dancing will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Coral Reef Room and continue until 11:30.

Waterford Police Handle 608 Complaints in July

Waterford Township's police department handled 608 complaints during July, bringing the total for the first seven months of the year to 3,800.

Misdemeanor complaints totaled 226, noncriminal matters 187, traffic 124 and felonies 121. There were also four fire bureau complaints and five in the accident-general category.

Ambassador to Iraq to Get Another Post

WASHINGTON (U)—The White House announced today that John D. Jerrold has resigned as ambassador to Iraq and will return to Washington for reassignment by the state department.

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said Jerrold is leaving Iraq at the request of the Iraqi government, which has asked the United States to withdraw its ambassador. This country, in turn, has asked the withdrawal of the Iraqi ambassador.

Israel Defying British Order to Return Soblen to U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Israel's state-owned airline stood firm early today in defiance of a British order to fly Dr. Robert A. Soblen to the United States by midnight tonight.

Israeli Ambassador Arthur Lourie expressed hope Tuesday night that the three-nation dispute over the fugitive American spy would "shortly be satisfactorily resolved." But an embassy spokesman indicated that no solution has been found for the international deadlock.

"If Britain wants to get rid of Dr. Soblen, it will have to change its attitude," the embassy spokesman asserted.

Home Secretary Henry Brooke has ordered the airline, El Al, to fly Soblen out of Britain to New York by midnight. The Israeli government told the airline to transfer him back to Israel only "and under no circumstances to New York."

WITHOUT SOBLEN

An El Al plane for New York left without Soblen Tuesday. The airline doesn't have another New York flight until Friday. However, it does have a plane leaving for Israel about noon today.

The Home Office said it was holding to its order to the airline to fly Soblen to the United States. "If El Al doesn't make a move by midnight, the home secretary will have to consider his next step," a spokesman said.

Soblen, 61 and dying of leukemia, remained in London's Brixton Prison, hoping to go to Israel. If he gets there, he plans a court fight to remain as a Jewish immigrant. If that is unsuccessful, he probably will go to Communist Czechoslovakia, which has offered him asylum.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail in

New York late in June and, using a dead brother's passport, fled to Israel to escape a life sentence for wartime spying for Russia.

The Israeli government has been under heavy fire at home for turning him over to a U.S. marshal without a court order. The prospect of the United States getting such an order is doubtful since Israel and the United States do not have an extradition treaty.

The British government also is hampered because the U.S.-British extradition treaty does not cover espionage. The government can return him to El Al, the airline which brought him into Britain without an entry visa. But any British attempt to turn Soblen over to another airline for deportation to the United States will set off another round of court action by Soblen's attorneys.

The United States meanwhile stepped up pressure on both Britain and Israel to get Soblen back to America quickly.

A bore is a guy who runs out of listeners before he runs out of topics. . . . A lazy fellow is generally itching for something he isn't willing to scratch for.

—Earl Wilson.

Ten Guerrillas Killed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (U)—A military source reported tonight government forces killed 10 Viet Cong guerrillas today in a search and clearing operation 25 miles southwest of Saigon. Vietnamese forces were lifted into the area by 10 U.S. Army helicopters.

Soviet Delegate in Bonn

BONN, Germany (U)—Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov returned today after three weeks of consultations in Moscow. Though the Russians were silent on the purpose of his trip, West German political circles speculated that it was linked with the Kremlin's recently increased attention to Berlin.

NO COURT ORDER

The Israeli government has been under heavy fire at home for turning him over to a U.S. marshal without a court order.

Fever Claims 70 Lives

BANGKOK, Thailand (U)—A hemorrhagic fever epidemic has claimed at least 70 lives in Thailand, the health ministry said today. Bangkok hospitals alone have treated 1,300 cases of the disease since January.

OSMUN'S AUGUST TOPCOAT SALE!

WORTH REPEATING!

A black and white illustration of a smiling man wearing a long, dark trench coat over a suit and tie. He is holding a fedora-style hat in his right hand. The background consists of a repeating pattern of the words "OSMUN'S AUGUST TOPCOAT SALE!" in a bold, sans-serif font. The phrase "WORTH REPEATING!" is printed in large, bold letters across the middle of the advertisement, partially overlapping the repeating text and the man's figure.

Ham and Peaches Souffle Sandwich

For summer entertaining, a hostess likes to have simple hors d'oeuvres that can be prepared ahead of time to eliminate that "last-minute rush" and still look party perfect when the guests arrive.

This recipe combines two summer flavor favorites — pickles and ham salad — to make colorful pink and green wheels. Cool d'oeuvres.

and crisp, these ham-stuffed pickle rings are an attractive addition to any hors d'oeuvre tray.

Ham-Stuffed Pickle Rings

12 whole large dill or kosher dill pickles

1 cup ground ham
2 tablespoons mustard
1/2 cup mayonnaise

Core pickles. Blend center meat from pickles with ham, mustard, and mayonnaise. Stuff filling into pickles. Wrap in saran and chill.

Remove from refrigerator, and cut into thick slices for hors d'oeuvres.

Line Up Orange Slices to Hold Ice Cream

For a summer spectacular serve the gang Fresh Orange Spills. Arrange cartwheels of fresh California oranges in a shallow dessert dish and top with three scoops of vanilla ice cream. Top each with a spoonful of frozen concentrate for fruit punch, using different flavors (Strawberry-Lemon, Grape-Lemon, Raspberry-Lemon, and Pineapple-Lemon).

For additional calories add marshmallow sauce and toasted coconut.

So You Want Quick Cooking Recipes?

Whether you're at a summer cottage or in the city, you may have need of this quick vegetable dish from the pantry shelf.

Quick Corn and Beans

1 can (1 pound, 1 ounce) cream-style golden-banana corn
1 can (8 ounces) cut green beans
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
White pepper to taste
In a 1-quart saucepan that you can bring to the table, mix corn, beans, nutmeg and pepper. Heat gently, stirring occasionally until piping hot. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Plant Herbs Nearby

A big kitchen window box planted with fresh herbs is useful for the charcoal chef. Fresh basil, chives, dill, parsley, and sage are all good choices. The man who presides over the wood-charcoal briquet fire will find them convenient for use indoors or on the patio.

Broil Fruit or Vegetable Along With Lamb Chops

Broiler meats, especially broiled lamb chops, are popular menu headlines on warm days. As colorful complements, tomato halves may be topped with grated cheese or buttered bread crumbs.

A peach or apricot half could be filled with a marshmallow. Both of these lamb chop partners may be broiled right with the chops as they finish cooking on the second side.

Cukes and Onions Naturally for Salad

Marinated cucumbers are always a delicious addition to Scandinavian-type buffet.

Simple Cucumbers

2 medium-sized cucumbers
1 medium-sized sweet onion
1/2 cup white vinegar
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
If possible, use long thin fresh cucumbers so they will be crisp; pare and slice thin. Peel onion and slice into thin rounds; separate into rings. Stir together the vinegar, water, salt and sugar until sugar dissolves; add cucumber and onion; cover and chill 1 hour or longer. Drain and serve. Makes 6 servings.

Smoke Cooking

If your barbecue has a spit, make a tent of foil over the spit to concentrate the smoke. Good for chicken and salmon.

Instant Tea Provides Base for Plain or Fancy Hot Weather Drinks

There is more than one way to serve iced tea. For example, in addition to the conventional method, it can be made with ginger ale or lemon-lime soda in place of water, topped with a scoop of lemon or lime sherbet, flavored with fruit juices, combined with fruit chunks for a complete snack in a glass or blended with ice for a frosty Italian-style beverage. The following suggestions, gathered from imaginative hostesses in various parts of the country, are easy enough for everyday enjoyment, yet gala enough for party occasions. The reason for their quick preparation is the use of new instant tea, the tea that dissolves instantly and completely in cold tap water.

Iced Tea
By the Glass: Place 1 teaspoon instant tea (more or less to suit individual taste) in a glass, fill glass half full with cold tap water and stir until tea is dissolved. Add ice and serve with sugar and lemon as desired.

By the Pitcher: Place 2 tablespoons instant tea in a large pitcher. Add 1 quart cold tap water and stir until tea is dissolved. Serve in ice-filled glasses.

For 30 Servings: Use one 5-ounce jar of instant tea and 5 quarts cold tap water.

Hot Tea
By the Cup: Place 1 level teaspoon instant tea (more or less to suit individual taste) in a cup. Add boiling water. Stir until tea is dissolved. Serve with sugar and milk as desired.

By the Pitcher: For each serving use 1 level teaspoon instant tea for each cup (6 ounces) of water. For each cup (6 ounces) of water, Or, measure the capacity of the teapot and allow 1 teaspoon instant tea for each cup of water.

For 30 Servings: Use one 5-ounce jar of instant tea and 5 quarts of boiling water.

Iced Tea Drinks
Sparkling Ginger Tea: Place 1 teaspoon instant tea in a tall glass. Fill about 2-3 of the way to the top with chilled ginger ale. Add ice cubes and garnish each serving with about 6 very thin slices of fresh lime. Makes 1 serving.

Fruited Iced Tea: Place 1 level teaspoon instant tea in a stemmed goblet. Fill about 2-3 of the way to the top with cold tap water. Add ice cubes and bite-size chunks of pineapple, whole strawberries, orange sections and a maraschino cherry. Garnish the rim of the glass with a lemon slice. Add a sprig of fresh mint and a long cocktail pick for spearing. Makes 1 serving.

Kewpie Tea Smoozy: Fill a tall glass half full with crushed ice, until dissolved. Chill. Serve in punch cups or short glasses.

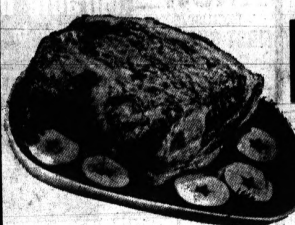

Lemon Sherbet Tea: In a large pitcher, combine 2 tablespoons instant tea, 1 quart water, 1 can (6 ounces) lemonade concentrate, and 1½ pint lemon sherbet. Stir until dissolved. Chill. Serve in punch cups or short glasses.

Looked Trim on Her Last Set

Marilyn Will Be Remembered as a Star

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Memories of Marilyn.

When I saw Marilyn Monroe for the last time, she had the figure of a starlet, but the unmistakable aura of a star.

It was two months ago on the set of "Some Like It Hot." She was giving and gave one of her last interviews.

Actually it was a conversation with an old friend, for she was warm and witty. She was still glowing from her tumultuous reception at President Kennedy's birthday celebration in Madison Square Garden.

She looked great. Gone was the pot tummy that she had died in recent movies. She had dropped 15 pounds and I asked her how she did it. "It helps to have a bad gall bladder," said Marilyn, who had been having a year ago. "The test is low cholesterol. Avoid animal fats. Who needs them? Exclaim, maybe. Not us."

She talked gaily of her forthcoming 36th birthday and said: "I like celebrating birthdays. I enjoy knowing that I'm alive."

She was doing a scene with two child actors who were playing her children in the film. Her concern for them was strangely touching. The boy was shivering after a swimming scene, and she wouldn't continue until an electric heater was installed to warm him.

Between scenes her conversation was punctuated with high laughter. Despite her exhilaration, there was an undertone of the trouble that lay ahead.

I mentioned that the studio was unhappy with her absence because she went to the President's birthday party, especially since she had been out of the picture for many days with illness.

"I told the studio six weeks ago that I was going," she snapped. "I consider it an honor to appear before the President of the United States."

It was shortly afterward that relations with the studio erupted with her firing and the burning of threats and lawsuits. Marilyn dropped into seclusion.

Everyone has his own memories of Marilyn Monroe. My own go back to her early days on the same lot, when she was a young and eager starlet. She seemed little different from the throng of starlets in the talent factories of that era, except perhaps that she gave a better interview.

And when you saw her on the screen for the first time—alighting on a couch as Louis Calhern's mistress in "Asphalt Jungle"—you knew that she had that quality that separates stars from starlets.

There were other times. When she appeared at an awards banquet in a clinging, eye-popping metallic gown and emcee Jerry Lewis expressed the thought of everyone: "Is she for real?" When she allied into another dinner, late and luscious, and evoked a tirade from Joan Crawford for "poor taste."

There were other places, other times, but there won't be any more. The Marilyn Monroe story is over.

It will long be debated whether she was an actress. No one will ever doubt that she was a star.

Methodists Call for Many More Missionaries

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Methodist Board of Missions has issued a call for 238 foreign missionaries and an almost unlimited number of persons to help in the home missions field.

"The continuing missionary outreach of the church demands a constant replenishing of missionaries and requires new workers for new tasks," the office of missionary personnel said in its appeal.

Of the 183 foreign openings, 183 are for regular career terms of three years.

The vacancies exist in 26 countries and cover various occupations, including secretarial, educational, medical and nursing professions.

8 Denominations Plan to Build Interfaith Center

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Eight Protestant denominations have organized to build an interdenominational church or ecumenical center on the downtown Mississippi riverfront.

The project was proposed by the Presbytery of St. Louis. Seven more denominations have since joined building efforts.

Cooperating denominations include United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., Presbyterian Church in the United States (southern), Baptist, Methodist, Episcopal, Lutheran, Disciples of Christ, the Evangelical and Reformed Church, and Congregational Christian Churches.

Bilingual Children Score Much Higher

ATLANTIC CITY N. J. (U) — What relation, if any, does the knowledge of more than one language have to intelligence?

Two McGill University psychologists say they are pondering this question after studies in which bilingual children scored significantly higher in both verbal and nonverbal intelligence tests than children knowing only one language.

The tests were given to Montreal school children of the same age and socio-economic level. Elizabeth Peal and Wallace E. Lambert reported at a convention of psychologists here.

Goes After Golf Balls, Has Mind of His Own

NOGALES, Ariz. (U) — Terrance Leonhardy's dog, Tammy, is trained to retrieve golf balls.

Leonhardy recently sent Tammy to fetch a shot into the rough. A half hour later Tammy returned. She didn't have the golf ball, but proudly placed a gopher at her master's feet.

City Chiefs to Consider Bids on Water System

An estimated $3.3-million in bids for improving Pontiac's water system will be up for consideration at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Bidding on the work to ready the city for getting Detroit water was completed last week with submission of a $1,000,000 low bid for construction of a service building, a pumping station and general grounds improvements.

The low bidder was the K. G. Marks Excavating Co. of Port Huron. Four other bids for the rest of the sum had been received June 24.

A report on requests for more taxicab licenses will also be given tonight by City Manager Robert A. Stierer.

The report will concern issuance of licenses to Pontiac Cab Co., which has been acquired by the Yellow Cab Co., according to Stierer.

TO HEAR PETITION

Also to be heard is a petition for traffic pattern improvements in the Pioneer Highway Subdivision, west of Telegraph Road.

The petition would involve making some streets into one-way streets and prohibiting left turns at a number of corners, according to Stierer.

A short-term lease, requested by Jerome Motor Sales for two city-owned lots to be used for storage space from the firm's present location at 250 S. Saginaw St., is also up for approval.

Commissioners also will be asked to approve a City Plan Commission recommendation for expansion of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland main office building at 761 W. Huron St.

A request to rezone from residential to commercial-1 an area at 26, 30 and 36 Union Street, behind the new Central Fire Station, again will be up for commission action.

A City Plan Commission report to deny the request was handed to commissioners a month ago. However, City Commissioner Dick M. Kirby requested the delay before action would be taken.

The Commission also will be asked to approve a resolution canceling a lease for Lot 6 at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

The area consists of eight sections each of which has a hangar built in 1936. Three of the hangars were damaged by a windstorm April 30, and the owner does not wish to rebuild, according to City Clerk Olga Barkley.

The big Professional Bowlers Association tournament at 300 Bowl is only eight days away now leaving little time for area men to attempt to qualify for the Open or Pro-Amateur tournaments.

Joe Puertas and his staff are still holding eliminations for both parts of the meet which combined will have a $28,500 purse.

Other Pro-Am qualifying sites are Auburn Lanes, Lakewood Lanes, North Hill Lanes, Howe's Lanes and West Side Recreation.

Advance tickets are on sale at 300 for spectators either for the individual sessions or the entire event. An economy tourney book is available.

The responses had been good as expected for the 10 berths held for local amateurs in the $3,400 main battle. But it is down in the one-night Pro-Am which has a $5,100 purse.

Some bowlers seem to go looking for returns not to enter meets that are so good for the community such as this one. It is probably the biggest sports contest ever to be held this close to Pontiac.

An excuse we have heard ever since it was known the tourney would be held has been: "I don't think I'll enter because I am not on my game this time of the year." The answer to that is no one else is either except a possible few who continued bowling in summer leagues. Most of the good ones quit at the end of regular play.

The Pro-Am, like The Press Bowlerama, is aimed at the average bowler not the star allowing the use of handicaps both in qualifying and in the main competition.

The $5,100 is all going to be divided among the amateurs because the pros cannot win money in that part of the meet. There is also the opportunity to bowl with the big names who will spend considerable time giving pointers to their teammates. It should be a wonderful experience for those who take part, money notwithstanding.

Pro tour action resumes this week after a layoff with the $20,200 Chicago Open.

Years of having "Mr. and Mrs. Proprietor's Bowling League" to promote more harmony among leading keg bosses drew interest from just two places — Colter Lanes and 580. Not surprising the way things have been going, some wouldn't give others the time of day. Government charges that ANRP, Brunswick and IFAA conspired to restrain building of establishments would not seem to apply here where keg people have blamed funds for installing equipment in too many nearby places.

WIBC has had rash of triplets including record 227. Three women in Texas Trio loop hit 368 same night. A couple did the trick at mixed tournaments in Ohio.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Edna Stengel, wife of New York Met Manager Casey Stengel, was bruised on the jaw when hit by a flying splintered bat during the Red Sox-Angels Dodger game Tuesday night.

The bat broke when Willie Davis fouled off a pitch in the fifth inning.

The upper part of the bat shied into the stands and hit Mrs. Stengel sitting in one of the front rows. The injury was not serious.

She was treated by Dodger doctors and driven to her home in nearby Glendale. She said she will join her husband in New York Sunday as previously planned.

Another woman, also sitting in one of the front rows, was struck in the eye by a foul ball off Frank Howard's bat in the seventh inning.

She was not identified. Dodger attendants led her to the city hospital for treatment.

GREAT COMER — Matt Mann II, who developed championship swimming teams at the University of Michigan and Oklahoma University, died Monday in Ontario. He coached the 1953 U.S. Olympic tank squad.

Memorial Service Thursday for Mann

ANN ARBOR 17 — A memorial service for a staff member seven years, his devotion to college athletics and young men was an inspiration to our entire department. He ranks with the great coaches.

Born in Leeds, England, Mann moved here for college around 1920 and then started his coaching career in 1926 at Syracuse University. He also coached teams at Harvard, Yale and the New York Athletic Club before the Duluth Boat Club brought him to the Midwest in 1929.

He coached several years at the Detroit Athletic Club and then went to the University of Michigan in 1935.

During his 28 years at Michigan, his teams won 18 Big Ten titles and 13 NCAA titles. He started from scratch in 1925 and had a Big Ten championship team by 1927.

Mann's Michigan teams never finished lower than second after 1926 in Western Conference and national intercollegiate competition. His record earned him a place in the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

After compulsory retirement at Michigan in 1958, Mann went to the University of Oklahoma, where his squads won eight straight Big Eight titles. He would have returned to Oklahoma this fall.

Mann arrived at Camp Chilop June 27 with his wife, Mary Lee, and family. He had planned to return to his home in Ann Arbor, around Aug. 20.

With him when he died were his wife; his daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Dawson of Ann Arbor, and his son, former Michigan swimmer Matt Mann III.

His son and daughter will continue running Camp Chilop.

TOP COACHES
Many of Mann's top intercollegiate swimmers went on to coaching. They included his own Michigan successor, Gus Stager, Tom Haines at Stanford, Ben Grady at Pittsburgh; Chuck McCaffer, Michigan State University, and Bob Muir, Williams College.

Track Authority Dead
PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Robert L. (Dink) Templeton, 65, one of Stanford University's most famed coaches and a world renowned track and field authority, died Tuesday of an acute heart attack.

Police guards were assigned to the shipyard area near the Netherland. The other America's Cup hopefuls, Easterner, Weatherly and Columbia, and the Australian Challenger Gretel, here for the races beginning Sept. 15, also will be guarded.

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — The America's Cup hopeful Netherland suffered slight damage early Tuesday when her two bow lines were cut—apparently by someone standing on shore.

The 12-meter yacht, built last spring at a cost of $300,000, swung around, with her stern lines still fast, and scraped against a fin pier at King Park.

A spokesman at the ship yard where the Netherland underwent an overhaul and repairs said the damage was minor. He said her stern was "chewed up a little" and the hull was scraped slightly above the water line.

Softball Playoffs Continue Diamond Action Light Because of Rain

Rain washed out the major portion of yesterday's city league baseball and softball games. Those that were played were in the early morning or late evening.

In junior action the Foodtown Hornets whipped the Cubs, 20-7 in four innings. It was a regulation game since it was called because of the 10-run rule.

In class F action of the National League, the Rebels won over Columbia Ave., 4-0 as Bob Games gave up two hits and struck out six.

In Major League action, Tom McWhetty pitched a no-hitter and struck out 12 as Pontiac Township defeated Madison Twp., 15-1. Auburn Heights Boys Club won a 7-0 forfeit from Cubs in the American League.

CITY SOFTBALL ACTION
In the playoffs of city softball, Arr defeated Elks No. 810 as Jake Mazur pitched a three hitter, 3-0. No player on either team managed more than one hit, but Arr had four doubles among its seven hits.

Lou Peay, Wes Roberts, Dutton Patterson and Mann had doubles. Mann also struck out 13 in his winning effort.

In "B" playoffs, Hi-Way whipped Howe's, 10-1 with Roger Reynolds getting the win. Pete Landino, Don Morhead and Bob Overcashier each with two hits, supplied the bat power for Hi-Way.

FEDERAL SAVINGS GAMES
The Red Sox edged the Angels, 10-9, in the American League of Federal Savings action yesterday.

Rich Jimenez scored the winning run when Alex Toshi bunted. Since being "traded" from the Orioles, Alex has won two games.

In the National League, the Mets won 4-3 over a team which was not named when the game summary was turned in, and the Giants defeated the Cubs, 5-4. It was brother versus brother as Kevin Dushane won for the Giants and Kevin Dushane lost for the Cubs.

Waterford softball action last night was rained out. The games will be made up tonight.

A & W meets Haskin Chevrolet with a chance to tie Bob & Larry's Bar for the regular season Class C crown. The root beer team is a half game behind B&L which has completed its schedule.

Should A&W win this contest, a playoff for the title will be needed.

In tonight's second contest, Stro's and Spencer Floors open the Class B playoffs.

Class A and B finals will be played tonight at Beaudette with the same teams meeting in the double elimination tournament.

The games at Northside were rained out yesterday and they will be played tonight in C-D playoffs.

Predicts Settlement in Amateur Dispute

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Executive Director Walter Byers of the National Collegiate Athletic Association said Tuesday he believes the group's differences with the Amateur Athletic Union will be settled before the 1964 Olympic Games.

Byers, here for the NCAA Executive Committee's annual meeting today and Thursday, told newsmen he hopes to see the Olympic team selected by a federation representing all segments of sports, including the AAU.

Most Olympic team members are currently chosen in meets directed by the AAU.

Byers said that within a year he hopes all amateur sports groups will recognize the value of the new United States Track and Field Federation. The Federation, governed by a council representing high school, college, post-graduate and armed service groups, plans to start operations Sept. 1.

Both the AAU and National Athletic Union, an organization of smaller colleges, have refused to join, (NATU).

Cut Bow Lines Cause Damage to Cup Yacht

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — The America's Cup hopeful Netherland suffered slight damage early Tuesday when her two bow lines were cut—apparently by someone standing on shore.

The 12-meter yacht, built last spring at a cost of $300,000, swung around, with her stern lines still fast, and scraped against a fin pier at King Park.

A spokesman at the ship yard where the Netherland underwent an overhaul and repairs said the damage was minor. He said her stern was "chewed up a little" and the hull was scraped slightly above the water line.

Police guards were assigned to the shipyard area near the Netherland. The other America's Cup hopefuls, Easterner, Weatherly and Columbia, and the Australian Challenger Gretel, here for the races beginning Sept. 15, also will be guarded.

Same Regulations on Ducks Expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—There will be small to moderate declines in wild duck flights in all four waterfowl flyways this fall, the Interior Department said yesterday.

This had news for duck hunters—indicating that already stringent limitations on the taking of ducks generally will be continued or possibly tightened for the 1962-63 season—was given the waterfowl advisory committee.

However there were indications changes to liberalize the bag and possession limit may be made in areas which have an over abundance of one or more species.

The department told the committee, meeting here to make recommendations on duck hunting regulations, that this summer's duck nesting population on the northern prairie—the continent's main "duck factory"—was down 17 per cent from last year.

It noted optimistic reports that a drought of several years duration in that vital duck-producing area may be breaking but nevertheless, the department added, there has been decreased production this season. This plus the limited improvements in water conditions indicate reduced fall flights.

57 PER CENT
Duck populations have been declining since 1956, the department said. This year's continental nesting population was estimated at 57 per cent of the 1956 number.

The forecast for fewer ducks was based on the extensive mid-summer waterfowl production survey made in the United States and Canada by the Fish and Wildlife Service's Bureau of Sports, Fisheries and Wildlife.

Announcement of the overall federal regulations is expected about Aug. 15. The states will fix their hunting dates within the framework of the federal rules.

Deer Issue Goes Before Commission

Opponents Seek to Continue Bucks Only Law

Conservation Experts Want Okay to Issue 87,000 Permits

Although the arguments will be the same as in the past, it is doubtful if anyone will get bored during the Conservation Commission's monthly meeting Thursday and Friday at Higgins Lake.

Reinstating an "any deer" season in Michigan will be the big issue.

The Conservation Department has recommended that the commission approve taking antlers deer during the coming season.

They will bring forth the same arguments as used in the past. Opponents want a round after the 1960 season when they convinced the commission that only bucks were to be taken last year.

The commissioners will hear reports and discuss findings on various proposals Thursday. The decision on deer probably will be held off until Friday's session.

SURPLUS OF 37,000
A system to harvest 37,000 "surplus antlerless deer" will be recommended to the commission.

Department spokesmen said the recommendation was "aimed at bringing the herd into better balance with the land."

The plan calls for taking a statistical one-half deer per square mile in the Upper Peninsula and 2.7 deer per square mile in the lower Peninsula.

The biologists said they found their recommendations for any-deer kills by about half "because of the public's concern over antlerless shooting."

Under the plan, antlerless take would be controlled under the permit system used in previous seasons.

Department officials estimated 35,800 permits would be issued to cover about 26,000 square miles of range in the northern two-thirds of the state which are classified as "food shortage" or "crop damage" areas.

Southern Michigan Quail Show Decline
LANSING—Southern Michigan's quail population is down about 30 per cent from last year, but the drop is far less than Conservation Department game men had feared in light of last winter's rugged weather.

Bobwhite numbers are still 32 per cent above 1960, their low point in recent years, according to the department's summer survey conducted along established routes in 31 southern counties.

Department counts averaged 28.4 quail per route this year compared with 26.4 in 1961. Highest quail numbers continued to show up in the southeastern counties.

Legislation has been introduced, but not passed, in recent years to open a short hunting season on these protected birds in the southern part of the state.

THEY LIKE IT WARM
A number of North American animals hibernate during the cold winter months, such as the jumping mouse, badger, bat, woodchuck, chipmunk, bear and some ground squirrels. Others, like the raccoon, are feline sleepers and they spend the winter in a state of torpor, but they may become aroused on warm days in winter.

Shooters After Perfect Score at Williams'

No shooter has ever run a perfect score in the Michigan Shotgun Championships at the Williams' Gunshot Club, fields near Davison.

The eighth annual event is scheduled this weekend. A preliminary event will be held Saturday starting at 8 a.m. The state championship shoot will get underway at 3 p.m. the same day and continue through Sunday.

Fred Baucum of Lapeer came close to a perfect score when he tied with two others at the end of the 15-target regulation shoot last year with a 74. Baucum pulled down on 25 clay birds each on the trap, skeet and bird fields.

Baucum, who shot only one practice round of skeet before the 1961 tournament, dropped one bird on the trap range where he had been doing most of his shooting.

He proceeded to set a record by running 50 straight in the bird field to win the championship in a shootoff.

This year The Pontiac Press stereotyper has been concentrating more on skeet during practice rounds.

Committee to Meet Aug. 20
Plan State Parks Study

LANSING (UPI)—An intensive person-to-person study of Michigan's state park facilities will be started late this month by a legislative committee.

Rep. Reimer Van Til, Holland Republican, was named chairman of a five-member interim committee on state parks and public lands.

"We will start with a meeting here in Lansing with officials of the Conservation Department, Water Resources Commission, and other agencies involved in preserving and protecting Michigan's resources while providing recreational facilities for residents and visitors," Van Til said.

The survey taken by the committee will tell them more about what facilities are most popular.

Park users will be asked to evaluate Michigan's parks in comparison with facilities in other states, what facilities are most needed, whether they would be willing to pay a "modest fee" for new services such as shuttle-bus or tennis courts, and what use they make of nearby community facilities while visiting the parks.

"I hope we can determine the relative importance of water from age at parks," Van Til said. "We know that shorelines and lake-fronts are important in the parks, but it would be interesting to know how much use would be made of a forest park."

Wolverine Match Set at Farmington
The sixth annual Wolverine Dog Training Club's Fun Match will be Sunday at Farmington High School.

Judging will get under way at noon and is expected to last six hours. Entries will be accepted until the starting time. There will be classes in all obedience work including graduate novice and brace.

The judges will be Earl Williams, Charles Frank, L. G. LeBlanc and William Kelly.

We hope to make a survey of parks to see how the uses they enjoy and expect, and determine

Scotland Yard Methods Used by Game Wardens

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (NEA)—California game wardens employ the combined methods of Scotland Yard, the FBI and Sherlock Holmes to crack down on illegal hunting.

Exhaustive legwork, scientific analysis and pure deduction lead to solution of most cases, according to Oscar A. Brunetti, assistant microbiologist in the Wildlife Investigations Lab.

"A warden knows that a suspect makes a career of killing deer out of season," says Brunetti. "He is smart and difficult to catch. Like Scotland Yard, the warden doesn't give up. One day in searching the violator's premises the warden finds a few shreds of fresh meat and some hair on a piece of board. The laboratory identifies the flesh and hair to be from a deer. A conviction."

In another case the head and legs of a recently killed deer were found where a violator had dumped them. His home was searched and a quantity of frozen meat found. The laboratory was able to match the bones in the frozen meat with the legs found. Examination proved two deer had been killed. The hunter was convicted for killing two deer, instead of one.

"A man suspected of killing pheasants out of season had no birds in his possession when apprehended," relates Brunetti. "There were a few spots of blood on a newspaper in his car and a couple of feathers. He claimed this was from pheasant killed during the season."

"The newspaper was dated much later than the close of the season."

Barbecue Is Planned by Lakeland League
Lakeland Conservation League will make plans for its first social event, a chicken-and-ouzo barbecue on Sunday, Sept. 9.

Committee assignments will be announced at tonight's meeting, which will be at 5 p.m. in the American Legion Hall on Lake Oakland where the barbecue event will be held.

Sec. Celebrezze Isn't Sticking His Neck Out in New Job

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Anthony J. Celebrezze sounds even more cautious than Abraham Ribicoff, the man he succeeded as secretary of health, education and welfare.

Ribicoff, a politician and now running for the Senate in Connecticut, never built any fires there that would make people mad at him.

He was a very mild member of President Kennedy's Cabinet. And he was quite a man for compromise. For example, the way he was willing to compromise with the conservatives in Congress on Kennedy's plan of medical care for the aged.

So far the most distinguishing mark of Celebrezze, five-time mayor of Cleveland, has been a great unwillingness since getting his new assignment to stick his neck out even a little bit on anything.

DECLINED OPINION
After the President had picked him, but before the Senate approved his nomination, Celebrezze declined to say where he stood on the big national issues.

This was understandable since he still didn't have the job and the Senate could be unpredictable.

But he's here now, with the job, and Tuesday at his first Washington news conference he had his first chance to say where he stood on the two biggest issues involving his department.

These were federal aid to public elementary schools (but not parochial schools) and medical care for the aged.

When the conference was over Celebrezze still hadn't said anything to make anybody mad at him or really to indicate exactly where he stood on those two touchy problems.

It would seem that between then and now Celebrezze, particularly since he was mayor of Cleveland and had school problems, would have had time to study the aid-to-education plan backward and forward.

But he told his news conference he hasn't completed a study of the problem.

He praised the Kennedy medical care plan on the grounds that its cost would be financed through Social Security taxes on workers covered by Social Security rather than at the expense of the general taxpayer.

This was a little hard to follow since the Social Security system now covers nine out of 10 working Americans, most of whom pay income taxes and Social Security taxes.

The Kennedy administration explanation for proposing its program was that the Kerr-Mills arrangement was much too inadequate to meet the needs of people over 65.

But the Kennedy program got smothered in Congress, along with Ribicoff's proposed compromise. Nevertheless, Celebrezze said, "Something must be done" and he is sure the next session of Congress will come out with some program.

AL this point it seems fair to conclude: Celebrezze would like to avoid the savage jungle of Washington politics, if he can, and try to operate as a manager of the department, which Ribicoff commanded.

Traffic Deaths in State Down

Safety Board Is Told

LANSING (UP)—Michigan's traffic death toll is below last year while the national fatality rate is climbing, the State Safety Commission was told here yesterday.

State police reported the latest count shows 820 deaths to date, 51 below a year ago at this time and about a five per cent drop.

The national total shows about a 7 per cent increase and if the trend continues the death toll for the year may reach a record 40,000, police said.

Commissioner Joseph A. Childs warned, however, that a few bad months could offset the gains.

"A lot of people think the bad accident months end with Labor Day," he said. "That just isn't so."

SAYS PROGRAM AIDS
Secretary of State James M. Hare, Safety Commission chairman, said he felt Michigan's intensive safety education program helped the trend in the state.

Hare said fewer drivers are being called in for his department's driver improvement programs.

He also noted that a recent speed check by the State Highway Department showed the average speed on the state's freeway system was 60.2 miles an hour—the lowest average recorded since the freeway daytime speed limit was raised to 70 miles an hour.

The commission cited Saginaw County, Mount Clemens, Wyomissing, Tecumseh and the Pershing Auto Club of Pershing High School in Detroit for excellent cooperation during a recent winter vehicle safety check. Saginaw reported 30,000 such vehicle safety inspections.

Grand Rapids and Dearborn have been honored by the American Bar Association for top traffic court programs in their population brackets.

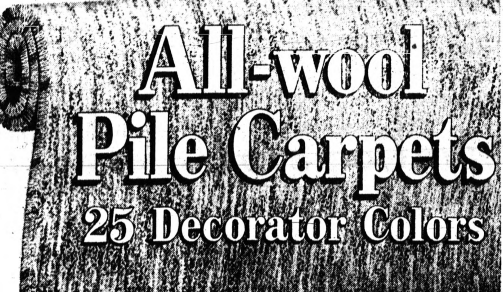

Detroit, Royal Oak and Midland won honorable mentions for continuing good programs, the commission reported.

Romney Surges to Top in Vote Tally

Roberts Wins Handily

By ROY CANTERA

Sen. Farrell E. Roberts snuffed out the income tax as a political weapon against him yesterday by scoring an overwhelming victory over two fellow Republicans for the GOP nomination as state senator.

Roberts, criticized by opponents Richard D. Kuhn and Robert J. Huber for supporting an income tax earlier this year and later reversing his stand, walked off with 17,778 votes when unofficial tallies were compiled at the county clerk's office early this morning.

Kuhn was credited with 9,975 votes and Huber, the mayor of Troy, was given 4,892.

In the 1960 primary, in a two-man race with Roberts, Kuhn finished less than 4,000 votes behind. In yesterday's three-man contest, which would tend to weaken Roberts' chances of a big vote, the incumbent senator came close to matching his 1960 total of 19,890 votes.

EXPECTED TO LOSE

Kuhn blamed his decisive defeat on ballot designation carried by Roberts.

The con-con delegate from Waterford said a victory in his suit to declare ballot designation unconstitutional "could have made it a lot closer."

After the State Supreme Court ruled against him, Kuhn said he "expected" to lose to Roberts.

"I don't think you can beat ballot designation," he said.

In the 1960 contest between Roberts and Kuhn, Roberts was seeking his first term and did not carry ballot designation.

Kuhn, despite his vigorous attack on Roberts' program during the pre-election campaign, pledged to support the incumbent in his battle for re-election.

Roberts' senate opponent in the November general election, Leland H. Smith, collected 13,060 votes as the lone Democratic candidate in the senate race. Smith's total was the highest of any county Democrat.

"HOME" SUPPORT

Roberts' support came largely from areas near his West Bloomfield Township home.

Birmingham voters gave him his biggest margin of the election—1,305 votes—with a total of 2,045 compared to 540 for Huber and 428 for Kuhn.

The senator's other high-vote communities were Royal Oak (1,973), Bloomfield Township (1,857), Pontiac (1,133) and West Bloomfield Township (782).

Even in Waterford Township—Kuhn's home ground—Roberts emerged the victor, chalking up 947 votes against 726 for Kuhn and 202 for Huber.

Roberts said the election went about as he predicted except that the vote was heavier. He said he had estimated he would outpoll Kuhn and Huber by 12,000 to 6,000 to 4,000.

Huber captured only one of the 44 communities balloting in the election. That was in his home town of Troy, where he collected 485 votes compared to Roberts' 284, which was next-best.

Kuhn was victorious in only four communities, including Berkley, where his brother George Kuhn is mayor and leads the Vigilance Tax Committee opposing Detroit's income tax on commuters.

BEST SHOWING

On the Democratic ticket, the unchallenged Smith made his most impressive showings in Royal Oak (1,363 votes), his home town Oak Park (1,220) and Pontiac (1,183).

Roberts' overwhelming victory undoubtedly will quiet criticism of the pro-income tax stand he took during this year's senate sessions. Along with a group of so-called GOP moderates, Roberts voted for a tax but later reversed his stand when the pro-tax group crumbled.

Seats Lost by Longtime Legislators

By The Associated Press

A handful of veteran Michigan legislators—including two of the key Senate spokesmen for the Republican party—fell by the wayside Tuesday in a state primary election highlighted by upsets.

Most incumbents in the Senate and the state House of Representatives won the right to seek reelection in November, but among the victims of unexpected defeat were Republican Sen. Carlton Morris of Kalamazoo and Charles R. Feenstra of Grand Rapids.

Morris, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and leader of the anti-income tax fight in the last legislative session, was upped in the 6th District by Attorney Garry E. Brown of Schoolcraft, a former delegate to the constitutional convention.

Feenstra, a GOP leader in the Senate for the past 12 years, lost out to Robert VanderLaan, 32-year-old member of the Parke Township (Kent County) Board of Supervisors.

The House had a number of familiar faces, among them Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-Port Huron, a 20-year veteran and one-time GOP floor leader, and five Democratic incumbents from Wayne County districts.

Beats Swainson in a 'Popularity Poll' Primary

Raises GOP Hopes for November Victory by Ex-AMC President

Industrialist George Romney raised Republican hopes for victory in November with a strong "popularity contest" victory over incumbent Gov. John B. Swainson in yesterday's state primary election.

Michigan voters—deciding on a new look for the legislature—dislodged several veteran lawmakers in a primary which featured a number of surprise upsets.

Romney, former American Motors president, rolled up an impressive vote total in his first campaign for a major political office. He is regarded as a possible GOP presidential candidate in 1964.

With 5,165 of the state's 5,199 precincts reporting, including all of Wayne County, Romney's total was 44,159 while Swainson had 31,478.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders cautioned, however, against reading too much into the results of the "popularity poll."

Two prominent and long-time members of the state Senate—Sen. Carlton Morris of Kalamazoo and Charles R. Feenstra of Grand Rapids—were defeated.

zoo and Charles Feenstra of Grand Rapids—were defeated by newcomers.

In the House, at least five representatives got the thumbs down treatment. They included veteran Rep. Harry Phillips, R-Port Huron, and four Wayne County Democrats—Rep. Joseph Jackson, 13th District; Edward Jeffries, 14th District; Chester Wozniak, 14th District; and Edgar Currie, 1st District.

The No. 2 lieutenant governor spot on the Republican ticket was captured by Clarence Reid, who held that post in 1953-54 and two years ago. Reid won over state Sen. John Smith of Belding and Rockwell Gust Jr., a Grand Rapids farmer attorney.

Swainson's running mate, who was unopposed in the primary, will be Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, a Detroit attorney.

Other nominees on the tickets will be chosen at party conventions Aug. 24-25. These include the secretary of state, attorney general, state treasurer and auditor general.

FOR HOFFMAN SEAT

In a hotly contested race for the GOP nomination for congressman from the 4th District, former Sen. Edward Hutchinson of Peppleville beat out three other hopefuls for the seat of retiring Rep. Clare Hoffman.

They were Chester Byrns, a St. Joseph attorney; H. Ross Brown, a Peppleville attorney; and Lee Douthett of Niles, a delegate to the recent constitutional convention.

The battle for the running-mate spot to Romney provided the only statewide contest in the primary. It pitted the quiet handsomely featured Reid against some high-powered publicity and speech-making formula followed by Stahlin and Gust.

The rush to get on the Romney bandwagon was not unanimous, however.

When opposition was launched against the former auto maker as the result of a clash between Romney and Richard Durand, vice chairman of the 14th District Republican organization and a member of the ultraconservative John Birch Society.

A handful of Durand backers announced they were withdrawing their support in opposition to Romney, whom they said was too liberal in his views.

Although they announced that 10,000 stickers bearing Durand's name had been ordered, there were no reports in the tentative news of actual returns of any having appeared.

DOUBT 'BAROMETER'

Although the comparative size of the Romney-Swainson vote was viewed with interest by political observers, some expected doubt whether it provided an accurate picture of the state of the state (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

CHECKS COUNTY RETURNS — George Romney, Republican candidate for governor, takes time out from breakfast at his home to study Oakland County election returns gathered by The Pontiac Press for today's paper. GOP Incumbents Glean Usual County Victories

Republican incumbents rolled up their usual wide primary margins in traditionally Republican Oakland County yesterday, overwhelming their Democratic counterparts by more than 2-1 margins in all balloting.

The only race on the Republican slate saw incumbent Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry defeat his challenger for the nomination Art Becker 19,338 to 11,365.

The two contests on the Democratic side saw former Oakland County Sheriff's deputy Kenneth G. Hirt gain his party's nomination for sheriff and Roy J. Russell edged Daniel T. Barry for the Drain Commissioner spot on the ballot, 7,388 to 7,338.

Barry's backers said today he probably would seek a recount.

Tally sheets show that Russell got only 19 of the 46 cities and townships in the county, but they added up to more than the 27 which Barry claimed.

Russell, 52, of Pontiac Township, will be getting a second crack at Barry's job. He lost to the incumbent in the last election by some 23,000 votes. Barry, 39, is seeking his fourth term.

Hirt will be facing his old boss, Sheriff Frank Irons, who continued his history of leading the ticket for county officers, Irons polled 30,737.

Kept from the sheriff's spot on the November 6 ballot by 54-year-old Hirt of Ferndale were William A. Smith of Madison Heights with 4,622, and Oxford auto dealer Homer High, 4,418. Hirt polled 5,679.

It was southern Oakland County versus northern Oakland County in the Democratic sheriff's race.

Hirt captured 17 of the 46 townships and cities in the county, they were all in the northern or middle part of the county, and couldn't offset the high South Oakland votes cast by Hirt.

LOST IN '60

Hirt was unopposed in 1960. He lost to Irons in the general election, losing 25,694 to 34,424. Ballot totals for unopposed candidates were:

For prosecutor—George F. Taylor, Republican incumbent, 29,371; S. Jerome Branson, D-Oak Park, 12,909.

Clerk—Register of Deeds—Daniel T. Murphy, R-incumbent, 28,877; David S. Lees, D-Troy, 17,981.

Treasurer—Charles A. Sparks R-incumbent, 28,135; Betty H. McVay, D-Birmingham, 12,682.

Surveyor—Ralph A. Main, R-incumbent, 28,454; Stanley F. Dunn, D-Bloomfield Township, 12,973.

Only 15.6 per cent of the county's 328,615 registered voters turned out for the primary, County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy said an unofficial tally showed 51,328 persons voted here, where approximately 85,000 had been anticipated.

Law and Anderson Win Spot on Autumn Ballot

The two incumbent state representatives from Pontiac and Waterford Township again will own a spot on the November ballot.

In Waterford (District 1), Lloyd L. Anderson, 54, representative, with 3,425 the 1,280 in returns for his young opponent, Michael L. Carl, 27.

Anderson now faces Democrat John S. Coleman who won 1,798 votes yesterday, running unopposed.

In Pontiac, Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-District 2) was unopposed in the primary as was the Republican contender, Robert C. Smith. Law tallied 1,456 votes—nearly 200 he had Smith with 1,159.

In the primary upset, Madison Heights Mayor Bill S. Huffman, with 2,270, displaced incumbent Democrat Rep. John C. Hitchcock who was after his third term as the 6th District's representative. Hitchcock polled only 1,726.

Two other Democratic candidates on the primary ballot were con-con delegate, Lee Walker, 1,394 and Thomas Kalszewski, 175. The latter did not campaign after declining to drop out of the race too late to have his name removed from the ballot.

Fulkerson Gets Shot at Rep. Broomfield

George J. Fulkerson can thank voters in Pontiac and Waterford Township for paving his way to victory in the race to choose a Democratic nominee for U.S. Congressman from Oakland County.

In defeating fellow Democrat George E. Lennox, Fulkerson received nearly half of his unofficial winning margin of 1,632 from voters in the two area communities.

Final unofficial returns showed the 35-year-old Birmingham attorney with 7,455 votes compared to 5,823 for Lennox.

CONGRESSMAN WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD, running unopposed on the Republican ticket, polled 32,198 votes to lead all Oakland County candidates.

Broomfield drew 1,904 votes in Pontiac and another 1,705 in Waterford Township as little more than 10 percent of the registered voters turned out in each community.

INSURED WIN

While the Pontiac and Waterford totals were meaningless to the unchallenged Broomfield—except as a popularity index, Fulkerson used sizable margins in both areas to insure his victory over Lennox.

One look at the combined county totals of both Fulkerson and Lennox should tell the new Democratic nominee that he faces an uphill fight against Broomfield in the Nov. 6 general election.

TOP DRAWING CARD

Together, Fulkerson and Lennox, mustered 13,238 votes, nearly 19,000 less than Broomfield. Fulkerson, however, has shown in the past that he is a top drawing card for his party.

Gas Chamber Awaits Mother

Mrs. Duncan Slated to Die Today at Noon for Hiring Killers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A last-minute petition for a stay of execution was denied Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan today only five minutes before she was to enter the gas chamber.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Elizabeth Ann Duncan, who paid two hired killers $300 to murder her son's wife, is condemned to die in San Quentin's gas chamber today for the crime inspired by her warped mother love.

Barring an unlikely last-minute stay, Mr. Duncan, 36, was to be strapped into one of the chamber's two death chairs at noon, Pontiac time.

Augustine Baldonado, 23, and Luis Moya, 23, the two tavern drifters who executed their murder contract in November 1959 by beating, strangling and burying 30-year-old Olga Duncan, will be marched into the gas chamber three hours later.

Frank Duncan, the handsome attorney son whom Ma Duncan could not bear to share with another woman, was turned down by Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court Tuesday in a plea to have his mother's execution postponed for a third time.

FUTILE PLEA—Duncan, now 33, and S. Ward Sullivan, Los Angeles lawyer, flew to Glenwood, Wash., where the vacationing Supreme Court justices granted the futile hearing.

The record now is that the U.S. Supreme Court has twice denied appeals, the California State Supreme Court has upheld the death penalty, and Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week refused clemency.

"Leave the room just as it is and don't let anyone else have it," the 11 times married Mrs. Duncan told Corona Women's Prison officials Tuesday before departing on the 40-mile auto drive to San Quentin.

"I'll be back," she declared, confident she would escape the California death chamber.

Clawson Chiefs Say 'So What' to Election

A storm turned the lights down and the city council turned their noses up on election proceedings in Clawson last night, delaying final balloting by an estimated two hours.

City Clerk Mrs. Gertrude Cader said final election reports were not sent to the county clerk's office until 1 a.m. today because she was required to attend a city council meeting last night between 5 and midnight.

Mrs. Cader said she had reminded the council about the election in hopes they would reconsider it. "They more or less said 'so what,'" she said.

County Clerk Daniel T. Murphy said Clawson's report was not received at the courthouse until 1:30 a.m., 40 minutes after all other reports had been turned in.

Mrs. Cader also blamed a storm which clouded lights in the city's headquarters for 2 1/2 hours delaying election proceedings.

Violent Storm Snaps Power

Many Pontiac Area Folk Without Electricity for Short Time Last Night

A brief but violent thunderstorm whipped along by winds estimated at 50 miles per hour—toppled trees, snapped power lines and left many Pontiac area residents without electricity and telephone service yesterday evening.

A large elm tree which fell across Oakland Avenue south of Baldwin Avenue caused the most extensive damage of the storm. The tree snapped two major Consumers Power Co. circuits in front of the Pontiac Motor Division Offices, 136 Oakland Ave. It also ruptured a water line leading to Spadare's Market, 137 Oakland Ave.

Consumers Power customers on the east side of Pontiac were affected momentarily, but many residents and voters at polling places on the west side were without electric service until 6:55 p.m., according to company officials.

Police were called out to remove traffic around the fallen tree on Oakland Avenue.

Detroit Edison Co. spokesmen reported scattered power failures in Pontiac, Troy, Milford, Addison Township and Independence Township. Edison crews had most service restored in 2 1/2 hours.

barometer of what may happen in November.

Democratic State Chairman John (Doc) Collins revealed that in every campaign except one, former Gov. G. Mennen Williams gained fewer votes than the GOP nominee in the primary. He declared:

"The Democratic party, except in primaries which involved major office contests, traditionally sets its sights on the ultimate victory."

"Now that the primary has shown Gov. Swainson maintaining traditional strength despite the low turnout of Democratic voters we can concentrate on the victory in November."

Romney, who retired while the early returns were still being tabulated, agreed that the results of the primary were not necessarily indicative of the future.

"Most of the issues in the races Tuesday were strictly local in character and thus any attempt to apply the vote totals to the statewide campaign for governor would be misleading," he commented.

"GIVEN TO ISSUES" Swainson said that all candidates should now get down to serious consideration of the issues.

"I am confident the record of my administration and the record of service to the people of Michigan by the Democratic party will bear the scrutiny to which it will be subjected in the coming months."

Swainson predicted a hard-fought campaign in the coming months.

"On our part," he said, "it will be waged in accordance with the time-honored principle of honest debate. We will appeal to reason, not emotions. We will cite the record and the facts, not generalizations or conjectures."

Both Swainson and Romney have campaigned hard in recent weeks, sometimes following schedules that got them up before dawn and to bed after midnight.

In heavily-Democratic Wayne County all five incumbent senators survived the primary.

But the voting took its toll of Reps. Edgar Currie, 1st District; Edward H. Jeffries, 5th District; Chester Womack, 14th District; Joseph J. Jackson, 15th District; and Hugh Smale, 12th District.

In Allegan County, complete unofficial returns showed Rep. Ben E. Lehman, a Republican, was ousted in the primary by constitutional convention delegate James S. Farnsworth, 4,577 to 3,608. Jack Martin, Otsego, won the Democratic nod.

Rep. Clarence B. Meggison, R-Charlevoix, was far behind newcomer Don Gordon of Leland, but returns were still to come in from at least half the precincts in the district which covers Charlevoix, Antrim, Leelanau and Benzie counties.

Other former constitutional convention delegates besides Brown and Farnsworth were making strong showings in the primary.

Former delegates won Democratic nominations in Wayne County's two vacant senatorial posts. They were Charles N. Youngblood in the first district and William D. Ford in the 21st.

David F. Upton, another former constitutional convention delegate, won the Republican nomination for state representative from Berrien County's 1st district and will face Democrat James A. Simmons in November.

In the Houghton district encompassing four counties of the Upper Peninsula, Republican Ruth Butler, still another former delegate, was well ahead of two other GOP aspirants in early returns, seeking the seat held by Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Houghton.

The Day in Birmingham

Noted Sculptor to Head Department at Cranbrook

BIRMINGHAM—Julius Schmidt, one of the country's leading sculptors, has been named head of the sculpture department at Cranbrook Academy of Art, it was announced today by Academy president Zoltan Sepeshy.

He succeeds Berthold (Tex) Schwitz, who has resigned to work in his newly acquired studio in Florence, Italy. Schwitz headed the department since 1956.

Schwitz, who was a student of and later assistant to Cast Mies, will concentrate on sculpture in his Florence studio and toward a planned second one-man show in New York City.

Schmidt, 39, received his bachelor of fine arts degree from Cranbrook Academy of Art in 1933; studied with Ossip Zadkine in Paris and at the Académie de Belle Art in Florence before receiving his master of fine arts degree in 1935.

Following his graduation he went to the Kansas City Art Institute as head of the sculpture department. In 1938 he taught sculpture at the Rhode Island School of Design. He returns to Cranbrook as head of the University of California Art Department.

Schmidt has developed a number of techniques for working in cast metal sculpture. His cast iron sculpture has been a major influence in the revival of this medium.

He employs what he refers to as a "one-and-done" process where in a piece is carved in reverse in blocks of baked sand, creating a mold into which the molten metal is poured.

Schmidt, who was represented in the 1950 "Sixteen Americans" at the Museum of Modern Art, has exhibited internationally and is represented in collections at the Museum of Modern Art, Art Institute of Chicago, the Nelson-Atkins Museum in Kansas City, the Cranbrook Art Museum at the University of Illinois, Museum of the University of Nebraska and Washington University in St. Louis.

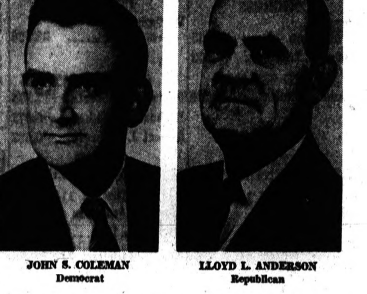

In another academy change, Donald C. Willard, 1733 Cornell Road, Southfield, has been named instructor in painting during the year's leave of absence granted Jack Madison for study in Japan.

Willard received his master of fine arts degree at Cranbrook Academy, studying with Sepeshy and has recently completed a year of study under a Fulbright grant at the University of Paris.

Officials Probe Plane Accident

FAA Investigating Crash of Small Craft Near Fenton

FENTON (U.P.)—Aviation authorities planned to continue their search for clues today in the crash of a light plane that killed a Toledo, Ohio, racecar operator and his park's maintenance chief near here yesterday.

State police said witnesses reported seeing the plane bank sharply before falling but could provide no explanation for the crash.

Killed instantly when their single-engine Cessna took into a wooded area in northeastern Lake County were Stanley Jechura, 48, president of Raceway Park, Inc., and Cecil J. Taylor, 45.

Wreckage was strewn over a 200-yard area as the plane's wings and propeller were torn off and the bulk of its fuselage flattened into a mile. The impact sent the engine hurtling another 35 yards. Federal Aviation Agency officials searched the crash scene yesterday and were to be joined today by investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board in Chicago.

The men had left no flight plan before taking off from a small field near Jechura's home. Police were told that the wives of both men had been in the area and they speculated that the men were flying to meet them.

German Firm Hailed New Tranquilizer

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the first of three dispatches on thalidomide—its development, its delayed action effects and of the steps being taken to safeguard against hidden effects of drugs.)

BY PAUL R. ALLERUP

LONDON (UPI)—In the spotlight of the world's attention is a new tranquilizer, thalidomide, developed by a German firm.

There was every indication that the new drug was something—a tranquilizer drug—virtually free of any of the acute toxic effects so common to barbiturates.

It was called thalidomide, a contraction of the Greek words "thalassa" (sea) and "dormo" (sleep).

It was called thalidomide, a contraction of the Greek words "thalassa" (sea) and "dormo" (sleep).

Chemie Grunenthal, or Grunenthal Chemicals, one of the largest chemical firms in Germany, tested the drug for 3½ years on rats, mice, guinea pigs, rabbits and cats.

In Grunenthal's own laboratories, the new drug was found to be safe.

The checking and further study were turned over to an independent research clinic.

Grünenthal was satisfied but required confirmation. The clinic's verdict: "The preparation is compatible, it is excellent." As required by German law, the government-licensed clinic issued a certificate approving the drug for public sale.

Grünenthal named it "Contergan," the federal health bureau registered the product—and in 1957 it was placed on the general market to be sold without prescription.

Contergan found quick acceptance from the public. Doctors recommended it as a sleeping pill or general sedative. Users awoke refreshed, with no morning-after headache or bad taste in the mouth. Doctors found that highly disturbed patients were calmed by the drug.

And another important success for Contergan was discovered. It proved a boon to women in the early stages of pregnancy by easing the dread "morning sickness."

Sales boomed.

Meantime word of the new "wonder tranquilizer" had reached British chemists. In Britain the big Distillers Co. became interested, and as early as April 1955, before thalidomide went on the German market, the company began its own tests.

The British tests confirmed what the German tests had found. In April 1955, with the approval of the committee for the classification of proprietary drugs, thalidomide was put on sale in Britain under the trade name "Distaval."

In the next three years the tranquilizer spread through much of the world, to Brazil in South America, to Canada, through most of Europe.

It was given many other names in the different markets, among them Solphen, Sed-Lab, Lulamin, Neurosed, Neurosedin, Algosed, Grippes, Valgraine, Kevalon, Asmarval, Expectoran. Some were variations of the original, but all contained thalidomide in varying proportions. Many chemical firms were now involved in manufacture and sale of the popular sedative.

THE SIDE EFFECTS

Second thoughts about thalidomide were slow in coming. When two infants were born in Germany in 1960 with no arms and hands growing out of the shoulders, no one connected the cases with any drug. Such births are rare, but not unknown to the medical profession.

In the case of the German babies it was found they were victims of phocomelia—a "sea-mollie" in description of the flipper-like appearance of the malformed limbs.

But suddenly there were more births of phocomelia; children too many to be coincidence. In Hamburg, Germany, Dr. Widukind Lenz learned of 20 malformed births. He questioned the mothers and learned most of them had taken Contergan in their early pregnancies.

In November 1961, Lenz spoke on the matter at a medical meeting in Dusseldorf, suggesting a drug—which he did not name—was linked to the strange births.

Lenz was convinced he knew the cause. On Nov. 14, 1961, he telephoned the Grünenthal firm and urged its directors to remove Contergan from the market.

Lenz predicted that Germany could expect between 50 and 100 malformed babies to be born each month.

TAKEN OFF MARKET

Grünenthal was not willing to take any chances either and on Nov. 19 Contergan was taken off the German market. By then some 100 million of the pills had been sold. In some places thalidomide also had been sold in liquid and suppository form.

The West German health ministry has formally confirmed the worst of Dr. Lenz's fears and estimates there have been at least 4,000 malformed births in the country since 1961.

Distaval and four other preparations containing the drug also were withdrawn immediately by the British. The London Clinic Medical Journal reported that doctors believed at least 800 malformed infants had been born in Britain although only 50 had been officially reported.

The warnings did not bring immediate withdrawal of the drug everywhere. In Italy there was no public awareness of the German and British actions until June of this year when doctors reported at a Turin meeting that three recent malformed births could be traced to thalidomide. That was on June 15.

On June 20 the Italian government suspended production and sale of seven tranquilizers containing thalidomide. A week later Italy banned the drug.

One by one, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, Sweden, Belgium, Portugal and Austria ordered the drug off the market.

France and Spain, among European countries, never approved use of thalidomide although in France it was reported to have been sold illegally.

St. Clair Republican Loses Out in Primary

PORT HURON (U.P.)—Former House floor leader Rep. Harry J. Phillips, R-St. Clair, was defeated for re-nomination in the Republican primary last night after serving 30 years in the legislature.

Port Huron insurance agent Donald M. Wismer Jr. polled 10,914 votes to 9,913 for Phillips to gain his party's nomination with incumbent Rep. Raymond Wurzel, who scored 12,680 votes.

Wismer, who conducted a door-to-door campaign in his successful bid, would not claim victory nor would Phillips concede even when all but two of the district's 106 precincts showed Phillips more than 1,000 ballots behind.

MRS. JOHN D. SCRIVEN

John D. Scriven's Fly to Arizona After Vows

For her marriage to John D. Scriven of Royal Oak Saturday in St. Benedict's Church, Judith Ann Warrilow chose a gown of candlelight Irish silk lined with bolero jacket and detachable chapel train.

Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion was fitted to a pillbox hat and she carried a French rose of Mary Jo roses. Her heirloom handkerchief was loaned by her grandmother, Mrs. Lynn D. Allen, and a diamond pendant was the bridegroom's gift.

Rev. Fabian Weber of St. Clement's Church, Center Line, performed the one o'clock ceremony before some 350 persons who were guests of the bride's parents, the David H. Warrilows of Dick Avenue at the church reception.

Matron of honor Mrs. Gary McGee and bridesmaids Mrs. Laurence Beamer, Connie Scriven and Carol Warrilow, sisters of the bride, wore champagne taffeta with lace bodices and green velvet belts.

They carried colonial bouquets of tangerine carnations, Mary Jo roses and pompons.

The bridegroom, son of the Clare Scrivens of Oriole Road, had William Eisenborth of Chelsea's best man. Ushers included Laurence Beamer, John Osler and Peter Karner Jr.

The newlyweds flew to Phoenix, Ariz., for their honeymoon and will live in Royal Oak.

Admit Error and Write Right Now

By The Family Post Institute

Q: My son's engagement was announced six months ago to a young woman in a distant city. I've not met the girl or her family and as they are complete strangers, I never have written either to the girl or her mother. I wrote to my son, naturally.

We seldom see him as he is working away from home. Now I learn that I should have written to the girl and possibly her mother and they are quite upset because I have not done so. Is there any way to make up for my mistake, and how in the world do I go about writing to complete strangers? Also how do I explain my delay in writing?

A: Very definitely you should write at once. Much better now than not at all. The only way to bridge this gap is to face it and write: "All this time I have been waiting to hear from you and now I am told that I was the one who should have written."

"I am very sorry, dear Jane, because I certainly want to know you and do hope that I will meet you very soon." (This of course is just a general idea.)

Q: When entertaining at a rather large buffet supper, how can the hostess get her guests to go to the buffet table to help themselves to the food?

It seems each guest is reluctant to be the first one to go to the table and they all sit back waiting for someone else to start. May the hostess lead the way so that others will follow?

A: She shows the way to the buffet table saying: "Supper is ready. Do come and help yourselves to anything you like."

MRS. MICHAEL L. HUDSON

Hudson-Hasue Nuptials Held at Sylvan Lake

Marilyn Jean Hause exchanged wedding vows with Michael L. Hudson before Minister Clyde Balderson Jr., Saturday evening in the Sylvan Lake Church of Christ.

A reception in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland club rooms followed the candlelight ceremony. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hause of West Beverly Avenue and the Cordell Hudsons of Georgia Drive, Orion Township.

Alencon lace applique accented the round neckline of the bridal gown of white silk tulle styled with a chapel train. A shoulder-length veil of illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and crystals. White gladioli, Stephanotis and white orchids comprised the bride's bouquet.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Sidney Colyer and bridesmaids, Mrs. Robert Carlson, Mrs. Thomas Reeling and Joyce Reynolds, wore lilac silk organza sheath dresses with overskirts. They carried lilac-pink carnations. Tamiela Lotan was flowergirl.

Douglas Black of Rochester was best man. Seating some 250 guests were the bridegroom's brother James Hudson, with James Hughes and Earl Brown.

After a northern Michigan honeymoon the couple will be at home in Drayton Plains. The bridegroom is enrolled at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Every gladiolus centered with orange rosebud centers accented Mrs. Hause's beige cotton knit sheath dress. The mother of the bridegroom wore yellow rosebuds in complement to her mint green linen sheath dress.

Could Be We Don't Want Simple Things

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Are you a little tired of trying to keep up an elaborate hairdo that requires constant care and keeps you from swimming, riding in an open car, getting out in the wind or rain?

If you are, you might be interested in what a New York hair stylist has to say on the matter.

He says he thinks any woman who isn't constantly making public appearances ought to leave elaborate hairdos strictly alone, except for very special parties.

Not only are they too much trouble for a woman who can't afford the time or money to have her hair dressed everyday by an expert but such hairdos look out of place for everyday wear, the hair stylist maintains.

He says the woman who adopts an elaborate hair style doesn't realize that she is trying to copy for everyday a style that has been designed for special occasions and important public appearances of women in the limelight.

No wonder the average woman feels frustrated at what it costs her in time and effort to try to keep up such a fancy coiffure.

What the hair stylist recommends for Mrs. America is a simple, easy-to-manage hairdo she doesn't have to be a slave to—with now and then a more elaborate "set" for a special occasion.

But instead of that simple solution to the hair problem, what are women doing?

They're beginning to buy wigs—and spending even more money to try to stay in style.

Niblick Golfers, Scottish Guest at Picnic Lunch

Mrs. Arthur Barnes of Monticello, Dr. Elizabeth Lake entertained the Niblick Golf Club Tuesday at a picnic lunch.

Thirty-two members and a guest from Scotland, Nancy Grant, were present.

During last month's meeting the group was entertained by Mrs. Norman Durocher of Bloomfield Hills. They visited Mrs. Durocher's summer home on Hansen's Island in Lake Huron and played golf at the Mid Channel Country Club.

At 'His and Hers' Shower Young Couple Honored

Jo Ulligan, daughter of the Charles G. Ulligans of Starr Avenue, and Lev Apkin, son of the Arnold Aplins of Starrview, Fla. were honored during a "his and hers" shower Tuesday.

Host and hostess for the Hawaiian-themed party were Mr. and Mrs. Earl West of North Hammond Lake Drive.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Blamy Jr., the Ralph Strangs, the Edward Vierende and the Howard Powers.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lucas of Ann Arbor, Judy West, John Blamy, Barbara Strang, Lynn Vierende, Gerald and Robert Powers, Sue and Greg Ulligan, and the bride-elect's parents.

The couple will marry Saturday in the First Congregational Church.
