JFK Tells Labor of Trade Needs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—President Kennedy told organized labor today it must back the effort to build up America's foreign trade or face the loss of jobs.

In an address prepared for a convention of the AFL-CIO — many of whose members have been less than enthusiastic about some phases of his proposals for freer world trade — Kennedy stated his view bluntly.

"In short, we are confronted with a very basic decision: Are we going to export our goods and crops — or are we going to export our capital and our job opportunities? Are we going to be the free world's greatest merchant trader — or merely its temporary wealthiest banker?" is the way he put it.

Meany Urges Economic Spurt

Tells Labor Convention Growth Necessary to Preserve U.S. System

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (U)—AFL-CIO President George Meany, saying American workers want jobs rather than handouts, called today for a big increase in the nation's economic growth rate.

Meany said in a keynote address to the opening session of the AFL-CIO's biennial convention that "we cannot preserve our American system unless we can step up our economic growth."

He said the stark fact is that 1,500,000 new jobs must be created each year during the decade of the 60's in order to maintain the expanding work force.

Meany also said, that in the present cold war controversy with Russia, American union members must "think of themselves first as Americans and secondly as trade unionists."

"We have a greater obligation than any other segment of American society," Meany said, "to see that America is strong — strong economically and strong militarily."

Meany said organized labor is dedicated to preserving the values which make most of our U.S. organizations are dedicated to promoting material things.

The AFL-CIO chief said that recent improvement in the employment situation is only temporary. He predicted a worsening job picture next winter.

Meany urged labor unions to step up efforts to end racial discrimination. He said that as believers in democracy it was their duty.

Meany, referring to policy AFL-CIO differences, said "Frankly the appetite of some of our people for combat never ceases to amaze me."

He acknowledged that AFL-CIO internal differences must be dealt with and "can't be swept under the rug."

But he issued an appeal that AFL-CIO problems not be exaggerated or permitted to prevent the federation from carrying on its main objectives.

Varner Denies 'Split'

'62 Bright for MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland Chancellor D. B. Varner said today he looked forward with confidence to the new year in which MSUO will continue to rise among the major universities of the nation.

Varner also commented on a published report charging a split among the faculty, as to the institution's basic goals.

"T'WAS SNOWING FOR SANTA—Old Santa, who is a guest at Waite's store, stepped out doors early today to welcome Oakland County's first snowfall. The wind blew and the snowflakes flew but it didn't bother 7-year-old Dennis Nugent of Milford and his favorite friend of the year. However, pedestrians that filled Pontiac's main street pulled babushkas tighter and wrapped their coats closer to keep out the gusts of snow and wind.

They Remember Well: Pearl Harbor—1941

A majority of persons interviewed in downtown Pontiac yesterday remember well the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor which took place 20 years ago today.

Several recalled exactly what they were doing when they heard the news of the incident which led to a declaration of war against Japan by the United States.

Surprisingly enough, however, three of the 12 persons interviewed by a Pontiac Press reporter had forgotten the significance of Dec. 7, 1941, described by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt as "a date which will live in infamy."

All were asked what anniversary was being observed today by our country.

A traveling salesman and a machine shop owner both answered that it was Armistice Day. A third man replied that he didn't know.

Except for one person, a waitress in a Pontiac restaurant, all those questioned were adults or teenagers in 1941. The young waitress replied correctly that it was Pearl Harbor.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Brooklyn supreme court judge, a former assistant U.S. district attorney and three other men were indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of conspiring to "fix" a bankruptcy case in federal court.

CHARGE FALSE

"The charge that more than half the student body flunked out after the first six months of operation is completely false. MSUO's rate of attrition, which included not only flunk-outs but also those leaving for all other reasons, was less than the national average," the chancellor said.

Varner added that faculty senate elections held yesterday completed a month-long process of reconstituting the senate, a process which had been provided for by the year the institution opened.

Ammo Dumps Bombed; U.S. Plane Hit by Bullets

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (U)—U.N. jet fighters today struck at Katangan ammunition dumps six miles outside Elisabethville and explosions rocked the heart of the capital.

Katangans launched another attack against the U.N. headquarters just outside the city at daybreak after a tropical thunderstorm brought firing to a halt during the night.

The U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville said an American Air Force Globemaster was fired on over Elisabethville, and the U.S. airlift was suspended while commanders in Leopoldville and Washington consulted on security arrangements for the American planes.

U.S. Confers on Resuming U. N. Airlift

WASHINGTON (U)—The State and Defense departments started consultations today on how to resume operation of the U.S. airlift in support of United Nations forces at Elisabethville, capital of the secessionist province of the Congo.

The airlift was suspended after one of the six U.S. Air Force planes flying out of Leopoldville was fired on as it approached the airport at Elisabethville.

State Department press officer Joseph Reap said the suspension was ordered by the American Air Force commander at Leopoldville and confirmed by Washington.

"We are now discussing with the Department of Defense," he said, "how to get the planes flying again."

Apparently, officials hope that United Nations forces will be able to establish such control over ground positions along the approaches to the airport at Elisabethville that there will be no danger of the U.S. transport aircraft being shot at.

Reap said he did not know what effect the airlift suspension would have on the position of the U.N. forces on the ground at Elisabethville. The United States hopes to get the planes flying again in the shortest possible time, he said.

Read said the State Department had reports that one of the transports had been hit by small arms fire. He added safely, he said.

"We are now assessing the military situation in the vicinity of Elisabethville airfield," Reap said. "Pending such an assessment, some flights have been diverted to Kamina, and others have been delayed."

Kamina is about 250 miles north of Elisabethville. Supplies "nobody seems to want it." He said the consuls would try again today.

Another consul said diplomats in the city had tried to arrange a cease fire Wednesday night but "nobody seems to want it."

Both the U.S. government and the U.N. command denied that American planes were involved, but Hoffacker stayed at home today.

Moving Toward Manhood

FIRST HAIRCUT — There comes a time for every boy to become a man. Twenty-month-old Jimmy Easter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easter, 3882 Oak Knoll, Waterford Township, took that step this week. His reactions to his first haircut with dad as the barber are graphically portrayed on page 19.

Yanks Reach Berlin Despite Red Threats

BERLIN (UPI) — The vanguard of a combat-ready U.S. Army battle group rolled into Berlin today after a 110-mile trip across Communist East Germany in defiance of Soviet and East German warnings against "possible consequences."

The Communist claimed the United States had no right to use the highways linking Berlin with West Germany for such troop movements.

There was no trouble. But the highway was closely guarded by East German soldiers and police trucks carrying Soviet and East German soldiers traveled along the Helmut-Berlin autobahn at the same time as the U.S. convoy.

Other Communist troop movements were reported elsewhere in East Germany in apparent new military maneuvers.

The U.S. military convoy, 172 troops in 23 jeeps and trucks, was the advance element of the 1,500-man strong 1st Battle Group, 19th U.S. Infantry.

It was cleared through the Soviet border control point at Marienburg and crossed through Communist territory to Berlin without incident.

On the way, it passed a convoy of the 1st Battle Group, 18th U.S. Infantry, being transferred back to West Germany from duty in Berlin.

The advance units of the 19th's battle group was commanded by Capt. John Keeley, 32, of Fort Sheridan, Ill. The group commander is Col. Ira Palm, of Mount Vernon, N.Y.

West German police drivers told West Berlin police that East German army and police patrol cars were stationed at every road leaving the highway and at secondary road bridges over it.

There was no damage to the inside of the store or to the Scotch pine trees on top of the marquee, according to James L. Willett, the store's assistant manager.

The fire decorations were guaranteed fireproof by the company which sold them to Waite's, Willett said.

Michigan had its first taste of winter weather today.

Snow fell over much of the state overnight with a light sleet in the Pontiac area. Local snow flurries are expected to diminish tonight.

Temperatures will dip to a freezing 24 and climb to near 30 tomorrow.

Temperatures throughout the state stayed below freezing, making driving conditions hazardous in snow-covered areas.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported salt trucks were working on slippery spots in the Orion-Oakland areas and Highland, Holly and Milford areas.

Morning northeasterly winds at 20 to 30 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

Thirty was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac, prior to 8 a.m.—The mercury had dropped to 27 at 2 p.m.

12-Town Bonds Bought by Bank

Bonds totaling $35,675,000 for construction of the 12-Town Storm Drain in South Oakland County were sold yesterday to the Chase Manhattan National Bank of New York at an interest rate of 3.82 per cent.

Bids to the low bidder gave the way for construction of the $35,675,000 drain to begin by Jan. 1, County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry said. The project's completion is scheduled for 23 months later.

The giant sewer is designed to relieve 14 communities of storm water during heavy rains and dump it into the Red Run Drain, which empties into Lake St. Clair.

City Plan Liked by Commission

Development Blueprint to Mean Face Lifting for Many Areas

A master plan for the future development of Pontiac was unveiled at City Hall last night.

The city planning commission unanimously recommended adoption of the Pontiac General Development Plan.

Under study by the planning staff for almost a year, the plan proposes a major face-lifting job for Pontiac in future years.

It is a blueprint for the future development of the city.

It approved by City Commissioners as expected, it will be used by every department of city government as a basis for future planning.

NEW CHANGE MAP

Adoption of this general plan by the planning commission and City Commission will result in a need for changes in our zoning ordinances and map," said James L. Bates, planning director.

The plan proposes "strip" type of commercial development.

One of its major promises is that commercial activity be concentrated into three basic types of shopping units: Local shopping districts, fringe districts and comparison districts.

DOWNTOWN TO BE HUB

The hub of all commercial activity will be Pontiac's downtown central business district.

The plan separates residential areas into 30 "neighborhood units." Each is built around an elementary school.

The plan proposes that industrial land be increased to 12 per cent of the total city acreage. It is currently 7 per cent.

Much of the increase would be for expansion of General Motors Corp. facilities. Some residential areas would have to be rezoned for industrial use south of Fisher Body Division and north of Pontiac Motor Division.

In addition, considerable vacant land would be needed for light industry, according to the plan.

Japanese to Mark Attack

TOKYO (UPI)—Eighty-one former members of the defunct "Greater Imperial rule association," used by the late Gen. Hideki Tojo to launch Japan on the Pacific war will celebrate the 20th anniversary of Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor by dedicating a "fools' monument" in a small mountain village northwest of here.

Russell Predicts Military Forces Will Be Reduced

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., predicts the size of the U.S. Army may be reduced considerably by spring although the Air Force will continue to expand and the drain quotas will be increased.

Russell, speaking Wednesday on a video-taped program to be shown later on educational television stations throughout the nation, said many Reservists will be released. Drafts will replace them in some cases, he said.

The senior Georgia senator said he has received many complaints about calling up large numbers of Reservists and said the Senate Armed Services Committee, which he heads, will investigate the entire military manpower program when Congress reconvenes.

Volunteers and Grants Help Carver Children Get Health Shots

It was the first time many of the children had seen a doctor.

Some cried, some moved along quietly, some gazed right-eyed at the glistering instruments.

By 4 p.m. yesterday, about 800 of the children of Oak Park's George Washington Carver Elementary School had taken one more step toward better health, better education, better jobs.

The children ranged from kindergarten through grade eight.

Within three hours, they had been examined by 75 doctors who volunteered their services to the county medical society. The children had been given shots against polio, smallpox, diphtheria and tetanus by volunteers from the Pontiac U.S. Naval Reserve Station. The vaccines were provided by the Oakland County Health Department.

Hart Proposes Refugee Plan

Senator Would Relocate Cuban Exiles but Needs Federal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has suggested relocating many of the Cuban refugees who have clustered in Florida.

Hart is chairman of a Senate Judiciary subcommittee, which he is holding hearings Wednesday on the Cuban refugee problem. The hearings continue today.

It was clear, Hart said, that the primary hope of the refugees was to return to Cuba.

"The problem we have," he said, "is how we can arrange relocation without destroying that hope among the refugees. I think we can spread out the refugees without disturbing that hope."

SETTLE IN FLORIDA

About 40,000 Cuban exiles have settled in Florida's Dade County, Miami leaders, appearing before the subcommittee Wednesday, called for relocation, but Dr. Jose Mirra Cardona, a spokesman for many of the exiles, said resettlement would be difficult.

Hart said he thought the federal government has a responsibility in the refugee problem. "What we're doing now is on a patchwork basis, without any specific fund," he said.

The subcommittee is seeking legislation to help it next session to provide additional federal assistance for the refugees.

SCHOOL BUILDING PROJECT GETTING TOP, FAST STUDY

BIRMINGHAM—Top priority is being given by the Birmingham Board of Education and administration to carry out the building program made possible with voters approval of a $4,915,000 bond issue.

Evidence of this is shown by the fact that the school board and staff members spent seven hours in a special study and discussion session recently, said Supt. Otis M. Dickey.

"We are hoping to complete as much of the planning phase of the building program as possible at this time in order to have most of the elementary school projects completed by the fall of 1962," Dickey added.

In all, over 40 items were discussed about the relationship during building construction of the school district, architect and contractors and their respective responsibilities.

Also discussed were the educational specifications for the new school building to be built on the Valley Woods site. The specifications, presented by Daniel Nesbitt, deputy superintendent, are the result of extensive planning and study by teachers and administrators.

STUDYING SPACE

"One of the most important problems with which we are confronted," said Nesbitt, "is how to provide teaching space which will not only serve our present program, but also will be sufficiently flexible so it can be adapted to the school program economically and efficiently in the foreseeable future."

Preliminary sketches of the Meadow Lake Elementary School were submitted to the board by architect Llan Smith. The drawings reflected the trend toward more audio-visual and electronic teaching in the future as well as

Oil Executive Stresses Diversification in State

"Diversification would stimulate growth because of its influence on the stability of the community." That statement was made by J. Danzell, II, president of the Ohio Oil Co., which this year is making capital investments of $14 million in Michigan.

Michigan industry is diversified, the Michigan Economic Development Department points out, but it is encouraging even greater diversification. "Danzell, II, president of the Ohio Oil Co., which this year is making capital investments of $14 million in Michigan."

Michigan industry lists more than 80 per cent of the skills recognized by the United States Department of the Census. That means skilled workers are available for virtually any industry.

It means that present industry can expand into new operations or that a new industry can locate in Michigan and be assured of trained workers.

Even greater diversification is desirable, the department points out, to offer greater stability to Michigan's economy. With Michigan research facilities, new industries have available great technical assistance. Present industries have this same opportunity for assistance in developing new products, the department added. Diversification is good for com-

Ike Will Take Encyclopedia Advisory Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has accepted the post of chairman of the editorial advisory board of the Encyclopedia Americana.

In an announcement Wednesday, Vincent E. Battiti, publisher of the encyclopedia, also said the Dwight D. Eisenhower International Peace Scholarship Fund was being set up.

The fund will provide 10 annual scholarships of $3,000 each to graduate students here and abroad.

As head of the advisory board, Eisenhower will meet periodically with American editors to discuss broad editorial policy. He also will be consulted on administration of the fund and in the selection of students. Neither post pays a salary.

Reserve Group Writes Protest

43 Members of Unit Sign Letter Gripping About Alabama Post

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Forty-three reservists recalled to duty Oct. 19 complained today in a letter to the Kansas City Star about their duties at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

They are members of the 70th Chemical Maintenance Co., Kansas City, Kan. Most of them live in nearby Wyandotte and Johnson counties in Kansas.

The letter said that in the five weeks they had been on the post they had received only six hours of chemical training, and all of that was on a smoke generator, a weapon they described as now obsolete.

"This post was not ready for the reserve troops, our travel pay was late, our monthly pay was late and the clothing allowance is inadequate," the letter said.

They complained that much of the training was the same as that they had undergone in basic training. The number signing the letter represented about half the unit.

Capt. Warren R. Ellis, the company commander, expressed surprise at the letter when contacted by the Star.

"It comes as a surprise to me," the Star quoted him as saying. "It's the first I've heard of. There have been no complaints as far as I know."

Tree Ascribed to St. Winifred

Been Added Early by Martin Luther

In the 9th Century, the good Saint Winifred traveled about Northern Germany, preaching Christianity. One Christmas Eve, he came upon a group of people gathered around a huge oak tree to offer human sacrifice to their pagan gods.

According to legend, Saint Winifred hewed down the great oak, and as it fell, a tall young fir appeared in its place.

The appearance of the tree was hailed far and wide as a miracle, and from that day on, it became the custom for German families to gather about a tall evergreen on Christmas Eve.

Some historians trace the origin of lighting the Christmas tree to Martin Luther, who lived from 1483 to 1561. It is said he was strolling through the countryside one Christmas Eve, awed by the beauty of the evergreen forest under the starry sky.

When he came home, he tried to re-create the scene for his family by attaching some lighted candles to a small evergreen.

These customs spread to the Scandinavian countries in the early 19th Century, and from there to France and England. Records show that 35,000 Christmas trees were sold in Paris in 1891.

Yet the evergreen was symbolic in religious rites — even before the birth of Christ. Ancient Egyptians, when they observed the winter solstice, brought green date palms into their homes, as a symbol of "life triumphant over death." When the Romans celebrated the feast of Saturn, a part of the ceremony was the raising of an evergreen bough. And the early Scandinavians also did homage to the fir tree.

To these peoples, the evergreen — tall and lush when everything around it had succumbed to winter's frost — was a wondrous thing... enjoying special favor from the gods.

'Smoke-Filled Room' Still Stands in Ohio

MENTOR, Ohio (UPI) — One of the earliest smoke-filled rooms in American political history stands intact in this small town, 23 miles east of Cleveland.

A one-room farmer's cottage was the national headquarters of the Republican Party 80 years ago. It was the campaign office of James A. Garfield, elected 20th President, and it was only a few steps from the porch from which he made his speeches. GOP bigwigs crowded into the single room headquarters on the night Garfield was elected.

FEDERAL DEPT. STORES DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

To a Hopeful Young Grandma Moses: Use These Rules for Your Yule Gifts

By HENRY GASSER

Of The National Academy
Fluffy pillows of snow nestle beneath the stark trees . . . Christmas green, green dance on doors and windows.

The beginning artist who is enchanted by Nature's wintry face can create novel Christmas gifts
... snowscapes, each featuring the home of a friend or relative.

No need to brave the cold to capture your scene. You can use a photo of the home and landscape. A full-size picture will do . . . your artistic imagination providing snowdrifts and white-crowned lawn!

If you take the snapshot yourself, order a 5x7-inch enlargement, or better. The more easily you can distinguish the details, the easier they will be to copy.

Most students use cotton canvas
... although more-expensive linen is also more permanent. A rough texture is suitable for landscape work.

Purchase a prepared canvas already stretched of the size needed.
For example, a 16x20-inch canvas will accept an enlargement of your

is essential . . . for variety of strokes, and for switching from broad areas to minute details of color.

For your snowscape, you will need the following basic colors:
Alizarin crimson, Cadmium yellow light, Grumbacher red, French ultramarine, ivory black, light red, Thalo green, Thalo blue, yellow ochre and Superba white. From these, innumerable shades can be mixed.

Limit yourself to quality materials, if you want paintings to hold their vivid color and remain in good condition without yellowing, cracking or fading.
Your art supply dealer will be glad to discuss your needs.

With your photo and canvas ready, you're ready for "squaring up." This is a method of copying used by masters Da Vinci and Picasso . . . it produces a far more accurate picture than you're likely to get by freehand drawing.

With ruler and pencil, mark your 5x7-inch photo with 1/2-inch squares — by drawing horizontal and vertical lines half an inch apart over the entire surface. (If you must preserve the photo unmarked, tape very thin tracing paper over it and draw your squares on top.)

Mark your 16x20-inch canvas with 1 1/2-inch squares in the same manner.

When both photo and canvas have been ruled with the same number of squares, enlarge your subject on canvas by copying — square-by-square what you see in the photo. A pencil drawing will suffice.

If you prefer using charcoal, dust excess from the canvas before applying paint. Grumbacher's tuffin spray applied over the charcoal drawing dries quickly and keeps it from smudging.

Since it's a winter scene you're painting, give your entire canvas
a thin stain of Thalo blue oil color which has been greatly thinned with turpentine. This stain will impart a wintry quality to your

YES, STEP BACK!

When this dries, step back and start to paint. Yes, step back! The large masses of color should be applied while grasping the brush near the center of the handle and holding it at arm's length.

A common error is to grip
the brush by the ferrule, or metal portion of the handle. Oils are meant to be seen from a distance. It is by painting them
"at a distance" you achieve a convincing representation of your subject.

Indicate first the general areas of color and shade.

Shadows and highlights require care and consistency. Decide from what angle light is striking your scene. Every surface facing that light source will be highlighted.
All surfaces not facing the light will be shaded in varying degrees.
Remember, too, that three-dimensional objects always cast a shadow on the ground or on other objects.

SHADOWS CHANGE
Children usually grow up thinking shadows are black. Some people become artists before they realize very few shadows are black, in fact champagne-like they change color wherever they fall. Paint shadows as a darker shade of the surface on which they occur.

It's all right to paint them deep and then lighten them . . . oil colors are easily brightened by the addition of a little white or other color.

Because of the Thalo blue under-tone, your painting will retain a chilly mood, accenting the snows that fall beneath your flying brush.
No matter how bleak your wintry scene, devise ways to use warm rosy reds and golden yellows—in lighted windows, Christmas wreaths, sleds, mailboxes or sunsets. Your snow will look whiter and colder—by contrast!

Details and corrections can be pointed on the canvas at closer range, and holding the brush near the bristle tip.

Snowdrifts sketched into place, a candle burning brightly in the window, and a wisp of chimney smoke completing your masterpiece in oils . . . the canvas is ready for a week's drying in a well-ventilated room.

A coat of good artists' varnish will then make a glass cover unnecessary when you fit the picture into a frame.

Your gift is one that doesn't need wrapping or ribbon . . . its

Nothing Attempted, Nothing Gained

Sending Peace-on-Earth Card to Nikita?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Are you sending a Christmas card to Nikita this year?

The Soviet premier has made the Yuletide mailing list of at least one American family. And they asked today that their fellow citizens join them in flooding the Kremlin with some unprecedented Christmas cheer.

"There's room in the world for a gesture of love, and this is the season for it," said Norman Odell of suburban Garden City, N. Y., sponsor of the idea. "It might accomplish nothing—but what can be lost?"

Odell said the card he, his wife Lois and two daughters had picked out for Khrushchev concentrated on the theme "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

MASSIVE EVIDENCE

"Such a gesture, if made by even 10 per cent of us, would provide massive evidence of our genuine desire for peace," he said.

Odell, a 50-year-old advertising executive, presented his proposal in a letter to the editor appearing in the Herald Tribune.

The cost of postage for the cards can be as little as 5 cents if they are unsealed. Sealed first class would run 11 cents and a half-ounce airmail would cost 25 cents.

Odell suggested sending the cards to: Nikita Khrushchev, the Kremlin, Moscow, U.S.S.R.

"I think that if people really did make a point to make Khrushchev an added name on their mailing lists—and thought about why they were doing it—they would be acting more sincerely than they do about a lot of their routine 'reciprocity cards,'" he said.

A connected idea on using Christmas cards to help make a dent in the Cold War was announced at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

A group of 30 men students invited President Kennedy and Khrushchev to be contributors to a "Christmas Cards for Orphans" drive. They asked that the cards be mailed to their dormitory, "Snyder Penthouse," for relay to orphanages.

Odell expressed hope that the "Christmas Card for Khrushchev" campaign might just be the thing to "get us out of our jam" in relations with Russia.

He stressed that those considering adding the extra name to their mailing lists shouldn't worry about whether their card will get to Russia in time.

"After all, they don't send cards over there," he said. "So what if some get to him Jan. 10?"

Top NAACP Officer
Lauds Administration

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A top official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says action by the Kennedy administration in the area of civil rights has been "gratifying."

Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, also praised the mass rejecting media for what he termed bringing the race issue to the public in an understandable manner.

Wilkins spoke Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of the Philadelphia chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

First patent law in the U.S. was enacted in 1790.

Almost Gooled
in Factory Sale

DETROIT (AP)—Edward Land, representing a group buying the old Chrysler Imperial plant here, almost picked up a $300,000 bonus with the property Wednesday.

Land said the contract for the sale was all ready for signing. It provided that all machinery, etc., on the property would go to the buyers.

Then someone from Chrysler Corp. discovered that 52 brand new Imperial autos were stored in the building. A quick change was made in the contract.

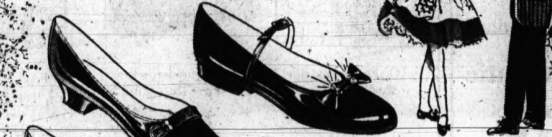

Canada's land area is 3,846,000 square miles and its population estimate now exceeds 17 million.

Seen Beneficial

State Dept. Says Jets Help Yugoslavia Remain Independent of Moscow

WASHINGTON (U)—The State Department describes the sale of 238 jet aircraft to Yugoslavia as beneficial to the United States because the planes help the Yugoslavs maintain their independence from Moscow.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex. Wednesday made public a letter in which Brooks Hays, an assistant secretary of state for congressional relations, asserted "it is clear that Yugoslavia's independence and resistance to Soviet imperialism have directly benefited the United States."

The letter, dated Nov. 28, was in reply to Tower's request for a recapitulation of the history of the Yugoslav aid program. The senator said there had been complaints from his state against the sale and against the training of Yugoslav pilots in Texas in the use of the jets.

Hays said the contract for sale of the jet aircraft was signed last March after approval by both the State and Defense departments on the grounds it was in accordance with the best interest of the United States.

He said the aircraft are outdated from the standpoint of U.S. military needs and any assumption that they have any strategic significance to this country is ill-founded.

Since the date of the letter, Hays has been shifted from the State Department to President Kennedy's White House staff.

Searchers Display
Need for Practice

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Pima County searchers got in a lot of practice recently when high schoolers Larry Wooster and Daniel Feldman became lost in the Catalina Mountains.

Shortly after the two boys were found unharmed, a 22-member contingent of the search operation became lost.

"They" wandered out later, but it was realized that two more searchers were still missing.

They, too, were found after another search.

Funds from Waterford Township's 15th annual Goodfellows drive will soon be on their way to deserving families.

Captain Clayton Sorenson of the township fire department, president of the Goodfellows, reported that some 100 volunteers had sold over 3,000 copies of The Pontiac Press Saturday, clearing about $2,000.

Some gift grocery gift cards will be issued to needy families. And when canned goods are collected in three township schools, the Goodfellows will pack and deliver some 150 baskets of essential food to the families.

Menninger Urges Unity of Clergy, Psychiatrists

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Karl Menninger urges unity between psychiatrists and clergymen, saying their common purpose is to help man.

Menninger, a psychiatrist, spoke Wednesday at a symposium conducted by Yeshiva University's National Institute of Mental Health Project.

When the two do irritate each other, Menninger said, it is usually because either the psychiatrist or clergyman, or both, may "lack humility and aspire to omnipotence."

Chinese, Italian, Mexican

Snacks Go International

If you would make your Christmas open house unusual, serve appetizers from many nations.

This is the suggestion of Margaret Spender, home service consultant for the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn.

Italy, China and Mexico might be represented in the appetizers your guests will enjoy with their punch.

The decoration for the buffet table might also carry out the all-nations theme with flags of the countries represented.

For Christmas pizza, roll the pizza dough into a long rectangle, big enough to cover an 11x25-inch baking sheet. Make three varieties on one sheet by arranging slices of sausage along one side, mozzarella cheese down the center and rows of anchovies along the other side.

IN SMALL STRIPS

Instead of the customary pie-shaped wedges, serve the pizza in small strips. The giant pizza should be baked in an oven preheated to 450 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Then cool the oven and turn the control to 225 degrees until serving time.

For Chinese shrimp balls, shell, de-vein and mince a pound of shrimp. Mix with a slightly beaten egg, one teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon sugar. Heat two cups of oil in a small saucepan. The temperature for frying in deep fat should be 375 degrees.

Use a teaspoonful of shrimp mixture for each ball. Fry until golden brown and drain on absorbent paper. Get the oven at 175 degrees to keep hot until served.

In Mexico, a popular dish is a spread made of black beans. Combine a can of black bean soup with an eight-ounce can of tomato sauce, one cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese and one-half teaspoon chili powder.

Cook over medium flame until cheese is melted. Pour into a serving bowl, surround with corn chips and hold in oven at 275 degrees until serving time.

NEW FOR THE young musician is this upright toy piano with a see-through plastic panel. The miniature pianist will have the fun of watching the keys in action as she plays. It will amuse her for hours on end!

Be Caged in '61;
Give Bird Gift

Pretty Boy and His Home Will Last Long After Yule is Over

With a mighty chorus of "Pretty Boy" rising from an estimated 14 million parakeets across the nation, birds and novel bird houses are sure to make welcome gifts. Add the canary coloratura section, the off-side remarks of the parrot population, and include in the total the various other feathered pets, and you have birds aplenty.

These demand reckoning in today's Christmas gift-giving picture.

Cage creations in which to house the gift of a bird are coming off the assembly lines in a variety of designs.

Both bird and home will be appreciated by young and old alike for your gift will live on long after the tinsel and Christmas balls have vanished, giving a touch of living beauty to the home.

Personal Note on Yule Card Means So Much

A few words in your own handwriting can mean a lot on a Christmas card.

The custom of remembering friends with cards at Christmas is a fine one, but if the card is to carry the warm feeling of friendship intended by the sender, it should bear something more than a printed message.

Add the warmth of a message in your own writing, even if it is no more than a few words saying, "He remind you that you are in my thoughts at Christmas."

If one's cards are ordered well in advance of the holiday season, there will be time to write personal messages.

Here's a suggestion from Jerlyn Madison, consumer consultant of a pen company.

Don't try to write all of your Christmas cards at one time. Divide them up and do a few at a time, perhaps in the evening when you can turn on your hi-fi and enjoy your favorite music while you write.

Have your address book, fountain pen and blotter on your writing table and give thought to each message.

Some Plain Talk on Runaways

Has Overseas Filming Hurt Hollywood?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Much ado about runaways.

Last week's congressional hearing developed some heat but not too much light on the complex matter of American film production overseas. Here is some plain talk about runaways as observed by this reporter at home and abroad.

Q. Has the trend to overseas filming cut Hollywood production drastically?

A. Yes. Of the 38 American films currently shooting, 25 will be made wholly or in part away from Hollywood. Fifteen years ago, less than 10 per cent of American films were shot on location.

Q. Does this make Hollywood a ghost town?

A. No. Employment is at the highest peak in three years.

WHY THE FUSS?

Q. Then what is all the fuss about?

A. Because high employment is due largely to the 100 TV film series. Theatrical filming is at a minimum.

Q. Why do American film companies shoot abroad?

A. For cheaper costs, foreign subsidies and authentic locales, in that order.

ARE THEY CHEAPER?

Q. Are films that much cheaper to make abroad?

A. Spectacles are. Hollywood labor has priced itself out of competition in the world film market. American extras get up to $20 a day for doing what the Roman extra does for $3. Sets are cheaper, too.

Q. How do the foreign subsidies work?

A. Movies made in a country might get a kickback from a box-office tax. Foreign films may be taxed or admitted by quota only.

UNFAIR COMPETITION

Q. Is this unfair competition?

A. Possibly, since the United States imposes no such restrictions, nor does it subsidize its own film industry.

Q. Is Hollywood's plight a serious one?

A. It is getting to be. Runaway films, TV production and selling real estate have kept the big companies in business. But these are stopgap measures that don't meet the big problem: how to maintain creativity in making the kind of a continuity of film making in America.

WHY CARE?

Q. Why should we care about this?

A. Because though they often exasperate us, Hollywood and the film industry are a national asset and have won us more friends abroad than all the diplomats of history.

Q. What can be done?

A. By the government—study of the film industry's plight, with possible measures to insure fair competition abroad. By the film industry—more leadership and day-to-day to allow prisoners to view movies dealing with crime, and time TV viewing.

Permits Prison Inmates to Watch Crime on TV

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—The North Carolina Prison Commission has decided its inmates probably won't pick up any more bad habits just by watching crime movies and television.

The commission voted Wednesday to allow prisoners to view movies dealing with crime, and to take away from prison officials the right to censor night-time TV viewing.

U.S., Allies Must Find Agreement on Katanga

Hill Bros
125 West Huron

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and its chief European allies may find themselves trapped in serious disagreement over U.N. operations in the Congo unless some way is found soon to end the conflict in Katanga Province.

Beyond Allied considerations, the way the United Nations deals with the Congo situation is a challenge to its own future.

The problem of coordinating attitudes on the Congo problem seems likely to be one of the issues discussed by President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan when they meet in Bermuda Dec. 21-22.

Meanwhile authorities here are somewhat worried over the evidences of drifting apart which have recently become more apparent. The latest sign of differences of approach in London and Washington developed Wednesday in almost simultaneous government announcements.

URGES NO FORCE

In London a British government spokesman, discussing the Katanga crisis in Parliament, declared that the United Nations should not impose a political solution in the Congo by force. However, he said that U.N. military units there have the right of self defense.

In plain language, the British position is that the United Nations has no right to use military forces to compel Katanga President Moïse Tshombe to end his secession. The United Nations must rather seek to effect a negotiated solution of his break with the central Congo government at Leopoldville.

In Washington the State Department announced that the U.S. Air Force would make available up to 21 more big transport aircraft to enlarge the American airlift of six transports already ferrying reinforcements for the U.N. military operations around Elisabethville, Tshombe's capital.

Both U.S. and British officials here said there is no basic difference over the policy of Congo unification; both governments support it.

HOPE IN UNITY

State Department officials said, in fact, that the Western European allies, including Belgium and France, now agree that the only hope for the Congo's future lies in unity and that the split between Tshombe and the central government must somehow be ended.

Officials here say the Kennedy administration would not consider or if it was in any case for the United Nations to try to unify the Congo by force. The State Department draws a fine distinction between forceful measures to compel Tshombe's white advisers, which would deprive him of one of his most effective elements of military power, and the use of force for the purpose of uniting Katanga with the Congo.

Washington's positive support for Congo unity is based on several considerations. One is that if Katanga is not put under the power of the central government further secessions of other provinces will follow.

Another is that the wealth of Katanga is necessary to the economic health of the country. A third is that a strong united Congo has far more chance of surviving future Communist efforts to gain influence and power in Central Africa than would a weak and divided country.

Jackson Soldier Dies in E. Maine Woods

DEBLOIS, Maine (AP) — An Air Force staff sergeant, who was found unconscious today after spending two nights lost in Eastern Maine woods, died shortly after being airlifted to the Dow Air Force base hospital.

Doctors said Sgt. Robert Zantop, who had been missing since Monday, was spotted from the air by a helicopter participating in a massive search operation. He was lying near a clearing about four miles from the base's bombing range.

Nehru Labels Existence of Goa 'Intolerable'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru said today India will not tolerate the present situation in the Portuguese coastal enclave of Goa. He claimed there is "no solution except for the Portuguese to leave."

He told Parliament that India has always been reluctant to solve problems by force but declared Portugal's attitude "has been exasperating to the extreme and it is difficult to restrain our feelings."

Road Crews Ready for Snow With Equipment and Salt

Like nearly everybody else, but with a little more concern, Oakland County Road Commission workers have been wondering what's been holding back the snow.

Snow Removal Getting Cheaper

Decreasing Price of Rock Salt to Benefit Pontiac This Winter

The cost of melting away the snow and ice from the 230 miles of streets within Pontiac this winter will be cheaper than it has been in several years.

Pontiac, like other municipalities across the country, is benefitting from decreasing prices for rock salt, according to Clyde Christian, the city's superintendent of public works.

The cost of rock salt, which was about $2.50 per ton during the winter of 1958-59, has been steadily dropping during the past few months, said Christian.

The latest figure quoted by major suppliers for rock salt is only $2.50 per ton.

Beside the lower cost, the DPW superintendent said a new chemical additive is now being put in rock salt which allows it to be stored for several months without hardening.

This allows the city to stockpile large amounts of rock salt without the necessity of using pneumatic drills and large hammers to break up the material when the first storm of the winter hits.

350 TONS STORED

A 350-ton pile of rock salt — enough to supply the DPW for one good-sized storm — is now stored in the city's Lake Street yards. More can be shipped here in a matter of hours from Pontiac's suppliers in Detroit and Windsor, Ont.

Also available in the DPW storage yards at 117 Lake St. are four road graders, 12 snow plow blades, nine rock salt spreaders and two snow loaders.

The blades can be attached to DPW trucks quickly and used with the graders to push the snow off city streets. From 50 to 60 men also are available for snow and ice removal, Christian said.

When his department mobilizes after a snow storm, Christian said the five state trunk lines which run through Pontiac get top priority from DPW crews.

When the trunklines are cleared of snow, workers then move on to thoroughfares designated by the city as major streets. Residential streets, because they carry less traffic, are the last to be cleared.

CARRIED TO RIVER

The snow and ice, moved to the curb by the graders and plows, are loaded onto trucks and carried to the bridge next to the Pontiac Armory on Water Street.

The accumulated slush then is jumped over the bridge into the Clinton River. If the river is ice picked up from the streets and frozen, the trucks carry snow and dump it on a municipally owned property throughout the city.

The DPW has approximately $77,150 available for snow and ice removal this winter. The ultimate cost, of course, depends upon the amount of snow-fall.

Christian is hoping for another winter like last year's when 2,306 tons of rock salt were poured on city streets.

The winters in the two previous years were considered to be more normal, Christian said. Over 4,000 tons of rock salt was used during 1958-59 and 1959-60.

Plan 2 Courses on Boat Safety in Waterford Twp.

The Waterford Township Recreation Board last night approved two courses for boat safety, with the Oakland County Sheriff's department director, Donald Kratt, in charge of the program.

There will be a four-week course started in February and another four-week course in March. Purpose of the project is to acquaint both residents and boaters on the importance of safety on the water.

From now on, if participants in the men's basketball league have registered to move from the township, they may still continue to play. Before the rule was changed last night, those leaving the township were automatically eliminated from league play.

Not that they've begged for its arrival—far from it—but the men of the army against the elements can be compared to the rookie on the bench just waiting for the word from his coach.

Now, with snow arriving, they're ready for action.

The "coach" in this case is Elmer Hess, radio dispatch operator at the commission's Pontiac Lake Road offices. Hess must pull 125 men from their homes, and sometimes, their beds, when the heavens start dumping the white stuff in sufficient quantities.

And the army, its men and trucks, has been ready, according to Hiland M. Thatcher, road commission chairman.

The 60 trucks and 12 graders have been waiting. The plows are ready to be attached.

Crews have erected snow fences to keep the drifts off the roads.

More than 2,300 tons of salt are stockpiled—one pile for state highways the commission cares for and the other for county roads.

And its the same old chrome-corroding salt, reports Thatcher. "The salt is here to stay unless they come up with something else," he said.

The commission will experiment with a mixture of salt and calcium chloride which is supposed to keep the ice and snow off the roads for a longer period, Thatcher said.

Hess contacts the Weather Bureau two or three times daily for forecasts. If heavy snows are predicted during the day crews are forwarded to be on standby.

"With some of the trucks already loaded with the salt and sand we can have the entire crew on the road in from 45 minutes to an hour," Hess said.

They work by districts with substations located in Lake Orion, Davisburg and Milford. Radios in all the trucks and cars help speed up the operation.

A MOUNTAIN OF SALT — This is the stuff you'll hate when trucks of the Oakland County Road Commission take to the roads, but it does keep them free of snow and ice. Oscar Loomis, general maintenance superintendent for the commission, examines part of the 2,300 tons of salt stockpiled behind the Pontiac Lake Road commission garage.

TEST RUN — Checking to see that the blades on this large snow loading vehicle are operating properly is Morris Cucksey, 326 Bellevue St., Orion Township, an employee of the Pontiac Department of Public Works. The strange-looking machine scoops up snow with the blades shown here in front and empties it into trucks following behind through a conveyor at the rear. It is one of two such machines used by the DPW for snow removal.

LET IT SNOW — When the white stuff finally started dropping this morning, Sherman Van Deusen and George J. Frantz were ready. Van Deusen, 1285 Airport Road, Waterford Township, and Frantz, 1611 Hood St., were part of a crew of Oakland County Road Commission workers who had installed miles of snow fence to prevent drifting upon county roads.

They Have No Solution

Youngsters Have Their Say About N-Bomb

By HANBY FERGUSON LONDON (UPI) — Now that almost every adult in the world has put in his two-bits' worth about Nikita Khrushchev and his 50 megaton bomb, let's hear what the kids have to say.

They were invited to write at any length on Khrushchev's bomb. They did not come up with any solution to the problem, but came to think of it, who has?

BARBARA WOOD — "In years to come, babies and animals may be born with two heads, or things like that. You see, the bomb can spoil things even before they are born."

STEPHEN JAMES — "Once I saw a book a place where one of the bombs had been left off in the desert. The sand had turned to green glass all around the hole. We will all die if they do not stop letting them off."

RUTH MATHIESON — "It doesn't seem to me that the bomb should be dropped at all because it could cause a very serious accident."

SHEILA KEELEY — "The papers said that people sat on the ground in a 'ban-the-bomb' movement but it doesn't seem to have made much difference."

MARY WHITAKER — "When I grow up I shall say 'keep the bomb' because other countries would be afraid to land one on us in case we dropped one on them and put an end to them, too. Anyway, who wants to go and sit outside Buckingham Palace and keep saying 'Ban the bomb'?"

CHRISTINE TURNER — "Nervous people get very frightened about such things and may even become very ill. It is very wicked."

CLIVE TREACHER — "Anger starts all this just like with children. I think they should all make peace. If one starts, the whole lot will."

WON'T WORRY

SUSAN OLDCORN — "I am not going to let myself worry about the bomb at all."

LYNDA CLARK — "There are people who just live for the day when war will come and then they will be able to go and fight. But once they get on the battle field I expect they will want to get off of it. I have never experienced it, but I have read a few stories about it."

PAUL DEANE — "I wish the bomb was never invented by the scientists."

ANN HAYNES — "I suppose the Russians are trying to frighten us into doing just what they want. They will not succeed."

No grades were given and no winners were announced, but this correspondent is inclined to award first prize to 10-year-old Martin Blank who used only five words to state his views: "The world is going crazy."

Project Planned Near Cheboygan Company That Initiated Miracle Mile Behind New Development

Edelman Associates of Detroit, who began the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, have initiated another multimillion-dollar land development project, this time near Cheboygan.

The firm has sold 6 square miles of forest, hills, valleys and rivers to be transformed into a model year-round community.

The Wildwood Development Co., Inc. has bought the area and plans to develop several thousand lakefront lots.

The land is located in Nunda Township, Cheboygan County, and is only one of several large tracts of Michigan land owned or once held by Edelman.

Announcement of the purchase was made recently in the office of Gov. Swainson who reviewed the plans of the development with Clarence Head and Ellis Mavis, representing the developers. Bernard Edelman and Grant Silverfarb of Edelman Associates, Elmer Bouchard, supervisor of Nunda Township, Thomas Schweigert, state senator, and John Kilborn, state representative.

The center of this development will be a 100-room lodge, fully equipped with restaurant, guest accommodations and convention facilities. The lodge will overlook a golf course.

Head has designed ski lifts and other facilities to be installed for winter sports enthusiasts.

As a part of the summer recreational facilities, tennis courts, boating, water skiing and a riding stable with miles of winding trails are planned.

So-called "foam rubber" is urethane foam, a petroleum derivative. Besides work as a cushion, it is used as an insulator and in transporting frozen foods.

No Housing Bias at MSU: Hannah

University President Replies to Charge by Negro Student

EAST LANSING 10—There is no discrimination in student housing controlled by Michigan State University, President John A. Hannah declared today.

Hannah, chairman of the Federal Commission on Civil Rights, spelled out the university position after a Negro student said he had been discriminated against in off-campus housing approved by the university.

"University policy is clear and precise," said Hannah. "There is no discrimination in university owned or operated housing. University-approved housing must be based on a no-discrimination basis. If the rule is violated, the housing will lose its approved status."

The complaint was made by Ernest G. Green, 20-year-old senior majoring in social science, and serving as public relations director for the campus chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People (NAACP).

Green was the first Negro to graduate from Little Rock, Ark., Central High School, a tumultuous period during school segregation struggles several years ago.

"If landlords don't want to rent to broad-nosed people with dark hair and dark skins, they should be honest about it and put a sign out," Green said.

Granddad Buys Welsh Terrier for Caroline

CHESHIRE, Mass. (AP)—of a 10-week-old Welsh terrier to Joseph P. Kennedy for his 4-year-old granddaughter, Caroline, was reported Wednesday by a local kennel.

Dorothy Lahey said the black and tan pup was sent to President Kennedy's summer home at Hyannis Port Thanksgiving but announcement was delayed until the dog was approved by a veterinarian.

Mrs. Lahey, who operates Terriholm Kennels, said she had intended to keep the puppy for exhibition at shows but yielded on learning the Kennedy family was interested in obtaining a male Welsh terrier.

School Bars Girls Dressed in Heavy Slacks

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Annette Jones, 11, has been barred from suburban South Security Elementary School because her parents insist on dressing her in slacks, principal James Bolin said Wednesday.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jones, said they dressed the girl—a former hepatitis victim—in heavy slacks to keep her warm in chilly weather.

Bolin said the girl will not be admitted to school unless she wears a dress. School policy requires dresses "to help make young ladies" of the girls, Bolin added. "We feel this is an important right we have."

The father retorted, "When I think my daughter is ready for charm school, I'll send her there."

CPA to Be Sentenced for Failing to Pay Tax

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A certified public accountant said he was so busy preparing income tax returns for other people he didn't get around to filing his own.

Roy W. Hunt, 47, of suburban San Carlos, was convicted by a federal jury Wednesday of willful failure to file his return for 1956 through 1958. The government said he owed taxes on a gross income of $48,239 for three years.

Judge Albert C. Wollenberg set Jan. 3 for sentencing.

Jimmie Tells Army 'No,' Because He's a She

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Army issued its call, but James F. Farnam said no dice. James, who goes by the name of Jimmie, is the wife of Richard L. Farnam.

She said she got her confusing name when her father died shortly before her birth and her mother named her in his memory.

U.S. Military Has Changed Greatly Since Pearl Harbor

BY ELTON G. RAY
Staff Writer
WASHINGTON — If you just want men, ships and guns, the U.S. military isn't much bigger now than when war came 26 years ago today at Pearl Harbor. Actually, the Army then had more men and more divisions. The size of the combat fleet then and now is not drastically different.

But there are differences big ones. The total firepower of today's men under arms is thousands of times greater by reason of nuclear weapons.

What did the U.S. armed forces have when the Japanese hit Pearl Harbor and the Philippines 26 years ago and what do they have now?

In round numbers, the manpower then was 2,060,000; today it is 2.5 million.

The Army had 1,640,000 men, 38 divisions. Today, Army manpower is 1 million, the number of divisions 16.

The Army of Pearl Harbor day included, however, 285,000 men in the Army Air Corps. The independent Air Force of today has 444,000 men. The Army Air Force of 26 years ago had 13,000 planes of all types; the present USAF has an inventory of 29,000 aircraft.

On the morning of Dec. 7, 1941, the Navy had 345 combat ships in operation — including eight carriers, 17 battleships, 37 cruisers, 172 destroyers and 111 submarines. Thirteen were knocked out of operation by Japanese planes which struck the fleet anchorage at Pearl Harbor.

MAJOR COMBAT FLEET
 The major combat fleet today is composed of 381 warships, including 26 carriers, 13 cruisers, 25 destroyers and about 120 submarines, among them six Polaris missile ships. Battleships are out of style.

U.S. armed forces were in moderately good state at the start of the war because the possibility this country would become involved had been foreseen when the European conflict began in 1939. Only the attack on Pearl Harbor was a surprise.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt already had begun expanding the Army, building more ships and planes as the battle raged in Europe.

In those days, the Army's artillery was built around such ordnance as the 155 millimeter Howitzer, the eight-inch Howitzer and 80 millimeter Howitzer. Ring, of conventional battlefield ranges.

Today, the Army's ordnance includes a family of missiles using atomic warheads, with ranges of up to 20 miles.

In the Navy, the battleship was queen. Her 16-inch guns could lob a shell up to 20 miles. The eight carriers in the fleet were rated second in the category of capital ships—until the Pacific campaign quickly proved their major value in air strikes on enemy warships and land targets.

CARRIERS, SUBS TOP
 Today, carriers and ballistic missile submarines are prime. Both deliver nuclear weapons. Polaris submarines can put nuclear devices equal to 16 million tons of TNT on targets more than 1,500 miles away.

The biggest operational plane of the Army Air Force was the B-17. It could carry a five-ton load, had a range of 1,500 miles.

Today's B-52 reportedly can carry two 28 megaton nuclear bombs. The total explosive force of a thermonuclear bomb exceeds that of all "atom" bombs dropped by the belligerents of World War II. The blast destruction area of a 20 megaton bomb is measured in miles. The "black-bomber" bomber of World War II spread destruction hundreds of feet.

Today's military men have the intercontinental ballistic missile and its 9 on a 11.7 footers. It would take only 30 minutes for a rocket to travel from Russia to the United States—or the other way around.

Radar was in its infancy when Japan launched her carrier-based strike at Pearl Harbor. Ordnance was optimally aimed. Today, radar is basic to even small field artillery and mortar fire. And the United States relies on radar for the few minutes possible warning of ICBM attack.

But many of the weapons used today are like those in the hands of fighting men when this country entered World War II. Only in recent months has the Army begun to replace the M1 rifle, to replace weapons used 26 years ago and earlier.

Santa to Pay Visit to Christmas Party

Entertainment will include live acts, a magician and movies.

Accuses President of Maligning Him Over Socialism Charge

EAST LANSING — A Michigan State University professor let loose another blast at MSU President John A. Hannah Wednesday in an argument over conservative and liberal views on campus.

John N. Moore, associate professor of natural science and an adviser to the MSU Conservative Club, said Hannah was trying to "beamish, malign and therefore discredit my personal integrity."

Moore had made statements to the Michigan Farm Bureau that conservative elements on the campus were being nurtured and that socialism was the predominant theory being taught on campus.

Hannah replied it was difficult for the university to protect itself "when people in its employ set out to crucify the institution."

Hannah also said that problems arise "when there are people who think they are a Communist behind every bush."

"I do not feel I should be falsely accused of crucifying this institution just because I happen to disagree with the present administration," Moore shot back.

"It's very difficult, of course, for me to speak out against these attacks," Moore said further.

"What they recently did to Prof. Charles Rogers — another conservative — is still fresh in my mind."

Rogers was removed from his post as assistant director of the MSU Labor and Industrial Relations Center after he charged the center was pro-labor.

Boy, 8, Is Hurt When He Darts Into the Street

An eight-year-old Birmingham boy was seriously injured yesterday when he was struck by a car after running into the street on his way home from school.

Douglas K. Johnstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnstone, 459 Bonaventure St., is in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a concussion and fractures of both legs.

The youngster was on his way home from Pierce School, according to Birmingham police, when he started to run across Southdown Street at the Edgewood Street intersection and was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Marshall G. Wickes, 1992 Shipman St.

Mrs. Wickes told police that she had just picked up her children from the Pierce School and had just turned off Pierce onto Southdown when the boy darted in front of her car.

She said she tried to stop when the boy started to run but he was "too quick."

Mrs. Wickes was released after making a statement to police. No ticket was issued. The accident occurred about 3:15 p.m.

Readies Eichmann Plea; Assumes Death Verdict

Cloonan's Drugs Is Celebrating 50th Birthday

Stephen J. Cloonan, owner and manager of Cloonan's Drug Store, 72 N. Saginaw St., today celebrates the store's 50th birthday.

At 56, Cloonan, who started working in the store as a delivery boy and broom operator, says he's looking forward to the store's next 50 years.

His uncle, Martin J., opened the drug store in 1911 as the Beach and Cloonan Drug Store. In 1935, after finishing the pharmacy course at Ferris Institute and working in the store for 17 years, Cloonan became manager.

Last year, he bought the remaining interest in the store from his uncle's estate.

"The pharmaceutical business has changed a lot in the last 50 years," he said. "For one thing, I don't work the hours I used to. Now, since the hospitals have their own pharmacies, there is less need to be on 24-hour duty, although we are for emergencies."

"The future looks just as good to me as the past does," he said. He lives at 4361 Forest St., Waterford Township.

Stop News Barrier on President's Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Aviation Agency officials say their clampdown on news of presidential flights was all a big mistake.

The FAA revoked the order Wednesday night on instructions from the White House only hours after the new policy had become known.

FAA officials said the original order had been "inadvertently" published Nov. 22 without the approval of the White House. It forbids all FAA personnel from giving out any information before, during and after any flights of President Kennedy, his family, and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

To Question 3 Youths in Cabbie's Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—Police held three teen-age boys for questioning today in the robbery slaying of Raymond Goodenough, 35, a cab driver.

Goodenough was found shot to death early Wednesday near his parked cab.

Lawrence Moore turned his 16-year-old son Ronald over to police after he learned the youth was being sought.

Police held the youth along with Charles Couser, 17, and Robert Jenkins, 15, for investigation of murder.

Find Dinosaur Skeleton 151 Million Years Old

CAPE TOWN (UPI)—A British and South African scientific expedition reported today it has uncovered a dinosaur skeleton estimated to be 151 million years old. The find was made in the Herchel district near Bantoland.

MRS. DEES — Mrs. John Alex McCone, 33, wife of the new director of the Central Intelligence Agency, died Wednesday in Washington en route to a hospital in an ambulance. The apparent cause of death was a heart attack, a spokesman for her husband said.

Mrs. Roosevelt Recalls That Infamous Day, 20 Years Ago

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt still has vivid memories of that fateful day that changed the world.

"I had just finished lunch with guests in the White House when an usher informed me of the Japanese surprise attack. The President was upstairs alone in his study.

"Cabinet members and staff of the White House began arriving," recalled Mrs. Roosevelt. She retired to her sitting room and tried to busy herself with her mail.

"Just before dinner I got in to speak to Franklin," she said. "He was very tired, but on the whole very calm and chiefly interested in what he was going to do next."

"The worst had happened. He had hoped we would not be engaged in a two-front war—and now we were. There was nothing to do but to meet it."

"Tired as he looked, I could feel the certainty was easier for him to accept than the uncertainty before. It is always easier when you know what you face, and can make plans, than to have to live with uncertainty."

ALWAYS CHEERFUL
At 77, widowed 16 years now, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt still meets the uncertainties of this world with grace and charm and courage and an unflinching cheerfulness.

Seated in her East Side apartment on a crimson sofa flanked by photos of Adlai E. Stevenson and Prime Minister Nehru of India, she said: "I try to cut down on my schedule, but I don't seem to be able to do much about it."

She still makes four or five public appearances a week, writes a thrice-weekly newspaper column, a monthly magazine column, and freely gives of her time to scores who come to her for advice or comfort.

Make Doghouse Cozy for Pooch

Metal Beds Best for Puppies as They Chew Wicker Ones

A man's home may be his castle or, at times, his dog house, but a pup's bed is a place of refuge when he wants to snooze or just be alone to contemplate the world. What better gift for the family pup than a cozy bed and mattress for his repose?

One kennel man says it's best to know just what type of bed to give your dog. If he's a young puppy, the best idea is to give him a metal bed. They're available in sizes for every dog, from a toy breed to a Great Dane.

Puppies, like babies, go through a gnawing period when they're teething and will generally make shavings out of a wicker bed.

However, the wicker variety is most attractive and will blend well wherever they are placed in the home. For the older dog, these are a good choice.

Another point to make sure of is that the bed is raised off the floor. Look for a bed with high enough sides and back to prevent the dog from being exposed to drafts which may result in colds.

A slipped cover for the pillow is best, as it is easily cleaned by washing and, in the long run, will be less expensive than a cushion that will have to be disposed of once it's soiled.

The size of the bed should definitely be suited to the size of the dog.

Enjoy Cheer of Candlelight Without Drips

There may be "fire," but there needn't be any smoke when your candles glow this Christmas! If you take precautions, you can enjoy the soft cheer of candlelight without the nuisance of smoke and dripping wax.

The preventive measure is as simple as soapuds. Just work up a light lather on your hands.

Then roll the entire taper (but not the wick) of each candle between your palms until it is coated with creamy suds. When the suds dry, they will not be noticeable.

Actually, at Christmas time there's no reason why they shouldn't be noticeable, because very thick suds dry to look like snow. For this seasonal effect, whip up stiff meringue-like suds by beating a lot of soap (or detergent) and a little water with an egg beater or electric mixer.

Roll each taper, as before, in this thicker mixture, and then add a second coating to produce a textured effect with little "drifts" along the shaft.

Had Computer in 1915

NEW YORK (UPI)—The first analog computer ever used in industry was made in 1915 by the Ford Instrument Co. and was used in a range finder for naval guns. It was not an electronic device, however.

HOLIDAY TIME is party time. For those festive dress-up occasions she'll be delighted to find an antiqued, gold-decorated crown bottle of perfume under the tree on Christmas morning—the finishing touch of glamor.

HOTTEST NOVEMBER IN FORD HISTORY!

And here's what started the heat wave!

Last month more Americans bought Fords than in any November in history. The blazing success of the long Ford line was end-to-end, all across the country and up and down it, too. Everywhere the people flocked into their Ford Dealers and bought smart new Falcons and the new Falcon Squire, the glittering swift Galaxies, the famous Ford Station Wagons and the hot Thunderbirds. And they poured in to see and buy up the brand-new Fairlans just introduced. ■ There are four magic reasons why behind the smashing success of the long Ford line for 1962. First of all is utterly modern styling, the fresh crisp lines that are now being so widely copied by other car-makers, the smart look that dominates the industry. Second is absolute power in eleven kinds of engines, giving you anything you could want in engine options.

Third is total economy—every Ford model is priced directly at your pocketbook, and every Ford, large, medium or small, gives you gasoline mileage outstanding in its class. Fourth is the service-saving concept—every Ford car is built to cut down maintenance worries and problems, with service-saving features other cars may have some day. ■ Ford leadership from Falcons to Thunderbirds is founded on trend-setting innovations . . . The hot ideas come from Ford. And at the heart of Ford success is an almost revolutionary new concept of quality . . . most serious and direct concern with the actual part-by-part quality. For the hot trends in the hot cars, for a new experience in quality, and for the best buys on the American Road, see your Ford Dealer.

PRODUCTS OF FORD MOTOR COMPANY

NOW THERE ARE FOUR CLASSES OF CARS ...AND ONLY FORD HAS ALL FOUR!

COMPACT CLASS:

FORD FALCON

This class includes cars with 106- to 114-inch wheelbase. Most popular by far (a million happy owners!) is the Ford Falcon. Falcon is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car, set a 25-year record for Stres or Eight in last spring's Mobilgas Economy Run, gives you a choice of 13 models, including the Futura and new Falcon Squire wagon.

FAIRLANE CLASS:

FORD FAIRLANE

The Ford Fairlane is the first member of a new class which combines the advantages of both compacts and big cars . . . you get big car room, ride and performance . . . compact savings and maneuverability. Priced below many compacts, Fairlane even rivals some in gas economy. Has twice-a-year maintenance introduced by the Galaxie.

FULL-SIZE CLASS:

GALAXIE BY FORD

The class for families who want big car comfort, performance and prestige. Value leader is the Ford Galaxie—which has every essential feature of far costlier fine cars. With the optional Thunderbird 390 V-8 engine, a Galaxie will outperform America's most expensive luxury cars. Requires servicing only twice a year, or every 6,000 miles.

LUXURY CLASS:

FORD THUNDERBIRD

The top class—cars for people who want the very finest. First of the trim-size luxury cars, the 4-passenger Thunderbird is the most distinctive car in this class. Its styling set the trend for an entire generation of cars and now finds a new elegance in the Landau. And Thunderbird's performance is just this side of flight.

State AMVETS to Honor Dead of USS Arizona

DETROIT (UPI)—Some 1,102 servicemen who died on the U.S. battleship Arizona 20 years ago at Pearl Harbor will be honored today by the Michigan Department of American Veterans (AMVETS).

The state AMVETS will enroll 1,102 members as a living honor guard for the heroes.

The honor guard members' names will be placed in a sealed time capsule to be deposited next Memorial Day at the AMVETS memorial being built at Pearl Harbor.

Alternate Proposals Eyed by Sen. Morris

To Offer State College Building Plans

LANSING (UPI)—Legislation proposing alternative plans to start a $100 million-plus construction program at state colleges and universities will be introduced in the 1962 legislature, says Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo.

Morris, chairman of a Senate interim committee studying college building needs, told presidents of nine institutions of higher learning Wednesday that he would sponsor the two proposals.

One bill, he said, would set up a pay-as-you-go financing plan;

the other a long-range bonding program.

Morris has talked of financing the program with two or more of the so-called nuisance taxes on beer, telephone, cigarettes and other items that expired last year. They would be earmarked for college construction.

Gov. Swainson described Morris' plan as "gratifying," but added caustically that he had tried unsuccessfully last year to convince Republican legislators of the urgent need for new buildings at state colleges.

"REAL ADVANCE" "I am gratified that there now is a recognition of the need in this area," he said. "This is a real advance from last year."

The governor declined to say whether he would support Morris' plan to pay for the construction with nuisance taxes. He has consistently opposed them all.

The senator described as "realistic and down-to-earth" the proposal by the council of state college presidents for a $125 million, five-year construction program to be financed by bonding.

The size educators called for creating a state agency to handle the financing and asked the legislature to pledge between $15 and $20 million a year to pay the cost.

Under their plan, the legislature would retain the authority to set the cost for each project and establish a priority schedule for construction. They opposed a pay-as-you-go financing plan as unreliable and unnecessary.

GI Dependents to Get Checks

Clerks Work Overtime to Process Allotments Before Christmas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dependents of 14,000 soldiers who filed their applications late should still get their November allotment checks before Christmas, according to the Army.

These applications were received at the Army Finance Center, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., between Nov. 20 and 26, and are being processed at a rate of 1,500 to 2,000 a day, a spokesman said.

He said the finance center is working many hours overtime, and all the checks should be in the hands of dependents by Dec. 20 at the latest. Applications received after Nov. 30 apply to the December pay period, and are payable in January.

A headquarters spokesman said he could not confirm reports that late filing of applications was due in some cases to a shortage of allotment forms. He said this conceivably could have been the case temporarily at a local level.

He said the Army had anticipated that there would be some delays because of the call-up of 119,000 reservists and the increased draft in October.

Big Wolf Haunts Doors in Plush New York Suburb

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)—This is a wealthy New York suburb—but the wolf at the door was real.

Mrs. John Green called police Tuesday and said a wolf was at her home on Greenbriar Lane. Sure enough, there was a 150-pound wolf, but police couldn't catch it.

FROM DOOR TO DOOR

Later, another resident called. The wolf now was at his door. Police found the animal was owned by Adalbert Von Gontard Jr., a New York banker, who kept it as a pet. The animal went by the name of Tommy.

Chief David W. Robbins had Tommy shot, saying, "My decision was based on the approach of nightfall. It was dangerous to have a wolf prowling the neighborhood after darkness."

MOVES UP LADDER — This is a photograph of the first scientific reconstruction of the prehistoric Neanderthal Man which is being moved up the social ladder by anthropologists. The cave-man, long regarded as a low-browed brute who bashed women with a club, now is pictured as artistic, religious, inventive and kind to the elderly.

Free Bus Plan
Shocks Lausche

Ithaca, N. Y., Applies
for $120,000 to Set Up
'Research' Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Wednesday he was "shocked" by a proposed Ithaca, N.Y., experiment which would use federal funds to help provide free bus transportation in the city. The Ithaca City Council has applied for a $120,000 grant under a transit law which set up a $50-million fund to help rehabilitate transportation systems and finance research programs.

"I do not mind saying to you that I am shocked," Lausche wrote to John C. Kist, federal urban transportation administrator.

"Where will this program end," he asked. "If Ithaca is entitled to free transportation what about the other communities of the country?"

The Ithaca grant was requested under the research phase of the law which was intended to stimulate new creative experiments in moving commuters to and from work.

Ithaca, a city of 30,000, claims that under present traffic conditions it will have to build 300 to 500 parking spaces which would cost nearly $1 million.

Lausche, who voted against the transit aid law when it passed last year, said he did not believe it was to include programs to provide free urban transportation.

Clubs in Lansing
for Three Days

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's youngest and, according to some, hardest-working — legislators convened in Lansing today.

They are high school students, all members of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs, who will make up the annual youth legislature, sponsored by the YMCA. Some 330 youngsters and their advisers will participate in the three-day event.

Rep. Don Peary, R-Buchanan, speaker of the House, will address the opening session this afternoon. Other speakers include Gov. Swainson, constitutional convention delegates Alvin M. Bentley, R-Owosso, and Dr. Charles Anapach, R-Mount Pleasant, president emeritus of Central Michigan University. Anapach is chairman of the state Y board.

Texas has a dozen periodicals with Spanish sections, while a number of other newspapers print sections in Czech. A Swedish language newspaper is published in Austin, Dallas has the Italian Texas Tribune and the French Le Bayou literary quarterly is published in Houston.

Civil Right Con-Con Idea Gets Stepped On

LANSING — A proposal to let agents to sell real estate owners in Michigan their property to whomsoever they wish has been denounced as an attempt to "constitutionalize bigotry and discrimination."

Criticism of the proposal, sponsored by Weldon O. Yeager, R-Detroit, was voiced Wednesday to the constitutional convention on grounds that it reaffirms a civil right which has been the basis of our capitalist enterprise system by defining the right to own and dispose of property as the owner sees fit and to be able to instruct an agent to do so for him.

It is aimed at overriding the controversial "Race 9" under which real estate brokers are barred from practicing discrimination.

Spokesmen for more than a score of organizations belonging to the civil rights said the proposal would not only elevate bigotry and discrimination to the level of a constitutional principle but that it would "seriously damage the reputation of the United States in its role as a leader of the free world."

One witness, Leslie Schmier, a Detroit attorney for the anti-discrimination league, said adoption of the proposal would transform Michigan into "the Mississippi of the North."

"This is a cynical proposal that would release the forces of bigotry rather than contain them," Schmier declared. He warned that adoption of such a provision would so deeply shock the people that they probably would vote down the new constitution no matter how well written it might be.

In a telegram to the committee, United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther flayed the proposal as a "shocking attempt by bigots to deny the equal protection of the law to all" and to "legalize sin against democracy."

The chairman of the coordinating council, Edward M. Turner of Detroit, said passage of the amendment would reverse the direction of attempts in Michigan to afford every man equal opportunities and would "set us back at least 100 years."

Turner said the council also was opposed to the proposal because it is statutory in essence and intent and has no place in the constitution, it violates the 14th Amendment of the federal Constitution and it would result in "chaos and confusion among our present laws pertaining to real property."

The convention adopted a timetable Wednesday aimed at final adjournment by March 31. Under a ruling by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams, the convention must finish by April 1 to get the proposed new constitution on the ballot in November 1962. Otherwise, Adams ruled, the proposal will not be voted on until the April 1963 general election.

Says Africans Getting Wrong Idea of America

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is a country where most people are cowboys and the rest are millionaires, no one has to work, and all Indians wear feathers and want to fight.

Or so it seems to most Africans, says Victoria Mutswairo, an African school teacher from Southern Rhodesia.

BOTH ARE WRONG

And, she adds, "I think Americans have just as wrong an impression of Africa."

Mrs. Mutswairo is one of 15 women educators from nine African nations who are winding up a three-month tour of this country.

"My biggest surprise in this country was that Americans work hard, they actually sweat," she said in a news conference Wednesday.

And where do Africans get their ideas about the United States?

"The children at home admire Americans and American ways," Mrs. Mutswairo said. "They try to copy them, and their models are the films they see on television. The girls try to walk the way American girls walk, and the boys want to wear American style trousers with narrow leg bottoms."

If the Africans were surprised by the real Americans, Mrs. Mutswairo said, many Americans were equally surprised by a true picture of Africans.

"When I talked to your school children," she said, "they were amazed that I could speak their language, that I was fluent in it. As I talked it was as if a veil were being lifted from their eyes."

"Afterward they had a million questions to ask me. They wanted to know what Africa was really like."

She was one of eight of the visiting educators who took part Wednesday in a panel discussion at the headquarters of the National Education Association.

Loi Earns Decision

ROME (AP) — Italy's Duilio Lol, world junior welterweight champion, stopped Epiphane Akono of Paris on cuts in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight Wednesday night. Both weighed 145.

Suggest Tax Break on Big Purchases

NEW YORK (AP) — A University of Michigan economist has proposed that tax credits be allowed for purchases of houses, automobiles and other big purchases, and also to families undertaking additions to and repairs of their homes.

George Katona, program director of the economic behavior program of the university's Survey Research Center, outlined his idea in the December issue of Challenge Magazine, a publication of New York University's institute of economic affairs.

Katona suggested that large consumer purchases be viewed as investments rather than as expenditures. He said tax benefits could then be granted them just as they are for business investments.

In this way, he said, individual spending would be spurred, economic growth promoted and fuller employment realized.

To Offer Program in Sculpture at Local School

Beginning Jan. 8 the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation will offer an eight-week sculpturing program for the first time.

The course will be open to all adults interested in learning the basic fundamentals of clay sculpting.

This program will be conducted at Washington Junior High School, Room 118, every Monday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. Gene Shacklett will conduct the sculpturing program. All adults interested in participating in this program should call the Parks and Recreation Department and register.

There will be a $1 registration fee for the eight-week period. If the interest warrants it, this sculpturing program will be continued throughout the rest of the school year.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia and Florida fishing licenses now are both valid along the 102 miles of the St. Marys River which forms

Complex Gadgets Are Their Dish

Young Space Explorers Courted

NEW YORK (NEA)—The scientists and space explorers of the future will be busy this Christmas morning.

In living rooms around the country, rockets will be blasting off into space (or at least into the Christmas tree) and youngsters will be building their own rocket ships instead of constructing model airplanes, an ancient craft at best. The toy industry, you see, has discovered the small toy's interest in outer space and has produced for junior almost every conceivable kind of science toy.

There's a four-stage rocket made of unbreakable plastic in which the three preliminary stages actually fall away after launching, leaving the final stage to fire a rocket or man-made moon into the air.

If you want, you can have the missile mounted on a special trailer-truck, a scale model of the ones actually used by the armed forces to transport rockets and launch them.

There is also one launching device which comes with four satellite reproductions that can be rocketed into space. Once launched, they soar into a graceful arc. If something should go wrong and a window is broken, the child has a perfect alibi: "But mom, all satellite launchings are not successful."

The space toy boom has produced a miniature duplication of the U.S. rocket center at Cape Canaveral, Fla. It's electronically operated, has its own count-down apparatus, and rockets that fire.

Works this way: When all's ready for a launching, a warning siren sounds, a lever is pulled . . . the doors of the launching pad swing open . . . the rocket moves slowly skyward into firing position . . . then the automatic count-down clock ticks off 10-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 . . . at count-down, the rocket and satellite blast off automatically. (Remember when the big thing was a whistle on the electric train?)

JET FIGHTER, TOO

For the youngsters preferring, for the moment, to halt at the edge of space, the toy makers have provided a jet fighter plane with a junior-sized cockpit equipped with electronic controls, a radar screen, and rubber-tipped rockets that can be aimed and fired at the enemy. (Babysitters beware!)

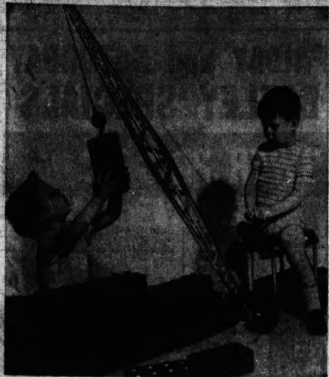

The boys and girls more interested in the mysteries of outer space have not been neglected by the toy manufacturers.

With the flick of a light switch and the turn of a dial a youngster can have his own planetarium, bringing the outer reaches of space into his darkened room. The constellations that have guided explorers for centuries are suddenly projected within the four walls of the child's private world.

Young star-finders may be entranced by a new astronomical toy that has eight plastic plates, each one etched with the pattern of an important constellation.

The young astronomer merely slips a plate into the frame holder and snaps on the light in the base of the toy. This immediately illuminates the star pattern which our future scientist then moves across the heavens until he lines it up with the real constellation up there in the sky.

Wrap a small package in embossed gold foil, fringe the ends and tie up with gold and red ribbons to resemble a child's party snapper.

SEPARATE CONTROLS—The tiny "master builder" can now have a jumbo polyethylene plastic crane built to ride. Its steering mechanism operates at the touch of a finger. There are separate controls for the boom and loading hook. The hook has a magnet that picks up metals as well as large plastic bricks. The bricks, of course, are also polyethylene.

You've got nine Chevy II models to choose from. This is the Nova 400 Sport Coupe.

Luxury and low price were never blended so beautifully

Who but Chevrolet could've done it? Price, spice and everything nice! A car that's bustin' with room, zoom and richness. One that's deep in convenience and comfort. One that won't let you squander a thing but affection and may well have you dreaming up every excuse under the sun for getting in and going. That's the beautiful new Chevy II Nova for you. Look it over here. And light out in it right soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

CHEVROLET

NEW CHEVY II NOVA

EASIER GOING, RIDE. New Mono-Plate rear springs take the place of squeaky, old-fashioned multi-leaf springs. Big and tough—but ever so gentle—they help give you a ride that puts you in mind of the big Chevrolet—and you know how smooth that is.

A SIX WITH V8 SCAT. You take a throaty, thrifty Six (120 hp. strong), team it with a car hundreds of pounds lighter than the big jobs—and, partner, you've got yourself some real Gal!

☆ RICH REFINED INTERIORS. Here's where you sit in the lap of luxury. Leatherlike vinyl upholstery. Foam-cushioned, of course. Carpeting and scuff mats. Vinyl overhead. Chrome trim. That's the inside story on every Chevy II Nova Convertible, Sport Coupe or Wagon.

◇ EVEN BUCKET SEATS IF YOU LIKE. And like you probably will—not just because they fit the mood of Chevy II performance, but also because they're contoured for full support, padded with thick deep-foam cushioning, covered in rich leather-grained vinyl. Yours at extra cost in the Nova Sport Coupe and Convertible.

STRIKING NEW STYLING. This one's lines are no wisp and clean, we're tempted to call them "elegant" (except that sounds very expensive, and Chevy II is anything but that!).

BROILED STEAK — Your family won't need more than one call to the dinner table when they know that steak is the dinner entrée. If this steak is planned for company service, perhaps you would like to serve a Mushroom Kabob Garnish.

Simply alternate small fresh mushrooms, stuffed olives and small cooked onions on six-inch metal skewers. Brush the vegetable kabobs with melted butter or margarine and broil until lightly browned, about 5 to 10 minutes.

Can of Spaghetti Hastens Dinner

Are you one of the many homemakers whose days are filled with house, club and community activities? A full day of various activities before six means a quick dinner with the least amount of effort.

This quick-and-easy ground beef dish will be a great help to you on these days. You can prepare it in 15 minutes, says home economist Reba Staggs.

- Spaghetti Hamburg
- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 1 can (2 ounces) mushrooms, stems and pieces, drained
- 1 can (15 ounces) spaghetti in tomato sauce

Brown ground beef lightly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add salt, pepper, onion and mushrooms. Fold in spaghetti in tomato sauce and heat until the flavors are blended. 4 servings.

Note: Additional herbs and spices may be added to the ingredients. Use family's likes.

Good Coffee Possible Only With Clean Pot

Do you recognize a good cup of coffee when you taste one? Perhaps not, for only a small percentage of the 150 billion cups a year consumed annually in this country qualify as "good," and you may never have been lucky enough to happen on one of these.

Now there are several reasons why good coffee is hard to come by. Coffee flavor elements are highly volatile. Once the roasted shell of the bean is broken by grinding, aroma, body, flavor and strength evaporate when exposed to the air as rapidly as high-test gasoline. And being highly absorbent, ground coffee is just as quick to pick up foreign flavors and aromas as it is to part with its own.

The secret, therefore, to beating coffee at this give-and-take game is to buy only the amount you can use up in a short period of time. Don't, for example, buy a full pound if there are only two light coffee drinkers in the family.

And be wary about opening the coffee can. Keep it open only long enough to spoon the coffee out of the can and into the pot which should be filled with water and all ready to brew.

Another means of improving the flavor of America's favorite drink is to keep the coffee-maker clean. Every time you make a potful of coffee a fine, invisible, almost indissoluble film of oil clings to the sides of the utensil. This will impair the flavor of all subsequent brews, contrary to the opinion of our great-grandmothers who believed cleaning the pot destroyed the accumulated aromas of a thousand makings.

Because the film penetrates so deeply, it's impossible to soap or detergent. Only soda bicarbonate (baking soda) seems to have the ability to cut that film. You can either scour the pot with dry soda as is done twice daily at the Palmer House in Chicago, which is famed for its fine coffee, or you can run your coffee maker through its regular brewing cycle using two tablespoons of baking soda in place of the coffee. This latter method is not recommended for aluminum pots, however, as soda will darken the metal.

Just a Bit Different
Baking sugar cookies? Brush the tops with an egg white beaten slightly with a teaspoon of water and sprinkle with a mixture of finely chopped walnuts and grated lemon rind.

Rainbow Stuffed Dates Get Color From Gelatin

Gummies from your kitchen make very welcome gifts during the Christmas season. They're fun, too, when all members of the family get into the act. Simple to assemble, yet with a touch of luxury, are gift-boxes of fresh California dates with a variety of stuffings. Insert in pitted dates your choice of blanched or unblanched whole almonds, walnut halves, chocolate squares or pastel foodstain mints at least twice weekly.

(If mints are large, break in half and insert broken side down). For added color and piquancy, roll some or all of the dates in different flavors of gelatin powder before stuffing.

Broccoli, Cream Cheese Blend Into Hot Loaf
NEW YORK (UPI) — Broccoli bakes puts protein into a vegetable plate lunch or dinner. Blend 1 (3 ounce) package of cream cheese with 1 1/2 cups of milk. Add 2 eggs, beaten, 1 tablespoon of lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon of salt and 1/4 teaspoon of nutmeg. Add 1 tablespoon of chopped parsley and 3 cups of chopped cooked broccoli. Pour into a 9-by-5-inch greased loaf pan. Bake 1 hour in a preheated 325-degree oven. Serves 6.

Have Fun With Christmas Cookies

Positive Press Home Editor

It wouldn't be Christmas time if we didn't give you some new cookie recipes. Despite the unusually warm weather, it is December. You really should get started on Christmas baking.

We did a few cookies last week. First of all, we made the dough for spice cookies. It has to sit in the refrigerator for at least 10 days. Then we made some sugar cookies in the traditional Christmas shapes. A third batch was chocolate refrigerator cookies. Oh yes, we've made one batch of Sprinkles. But we've just begun.

The picture with this article shows ginger cookies, sugar cookies and Swedish Spritz. You may like to use the ginger cookie dough for your cut-out cookies as a change from the white ones. You can use it for gingerbread men too.

Ginger Cookies

2 1/2 cups sifted, all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 1/2 teaspoons ginger
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1 egg, beaten

Sift flour, once, measure, add salt, salt and spices and stir again. Cream butter with sugar until light and fluffy. Add molasses and egg. Beat in blend. Add flour and blend. Chill dough.

Roll out on floured pastry cloth to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with flower cookie cutter. Place on buttered baking sheet and bake in moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 2 dozen cookies.

Sugared corn flakes make a crunchy coating for Christmas cookies filled with dates and nuts.

Marshmallow cherry syrup adds a different flavor to these cookies. If someone in your family can't eat nuts, try substituting fine-grained coconut. Grapenuts or wheat germ are acceptable substitutes too, we find.

Cherry Crunch Cookies

2 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 tablespoons marshmallow cherry syrup
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup finely cut pitted dates
1/2 cup chopped marshmallow

Roll teaspoonfuls of dough in crumbs. Place on greased baking sheets. Press 1/4 of cherry lightly into top of each cookie. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 15 minutes.

Spanish Baked Fish Is Christmas Eve Treat

Among the Spanish, it is the custom to serve stuffed baked fish on Christmas Eve. The dish, called Nochebuena, is made as follows: a 2- or 3-lb. fish, such as sea bass, is opened and the backbone removed. The filling is made by cooking two chopped onions and 1 garlic clove in 2 tablespoons Spanish olive oil until soft, then add 1 teaspoon tomato paste, 1 chopped pimiento, a teaspoon of minced parsley, 2 tablespoons white wine and salt and pepper to taste. Simmer 10 minutes.

Fill fish with this mixture, place in well-oiled casserole, brush with 1/4 cup Spanish olive oil and bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve either hot or cold.

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Blend butter and sugar, add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Mix in marshmallow cherry syrup. Add sifted dry ingredients, nuts, dates and chopped cherries. Mix well. Cream overall slightly.

Roll teaspoonfuls of dough in crumbs. Place on greased baking sheets. Press 1/4 of cherry lightly into top of each cookie. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) about 15 minutes.

Yield: 2 1/2 dozen cookies, about 2 1/2 inches in diameter.

May we suggest, as we always do, that you forget how messy the kitchen can get and let the children help you decorate the cookies. Their ideas of decorating are often weird, but does it matter? For that matter, the children could help you make Cherry Crunch Cookies.

For a flavor delightfully good and different, try cardamom. This member of the ginger family is rather potent so use it with a restrained hand. Try it in this Swedish cookie recipe.

Fru Monbons Kake

Cookie Cake
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon ground cardamom
1 cup (2 sticks) butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
3 tablespoons coarse granulated sugar
1/2 cup chopped blanched almonds

Soft together flour, baking powder and cardamom. Set aside. Cream butter or margarine and gradually blend in sugar. Beat in egg yolks. Sift in flour mixture. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into the mixture. Spread batter 1-inch thick in buttered 8x10-inch pan. Sprinkle top with the 3 tablespoons granulated sugar and almonds. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 40 minutes or until light brown. Cut into squares. Yield: One 9-inch coffee cake. Do share the results of your cookie baking with some one who can't or doesn't make them and who would appreciate them.

new! Gerber Meat Sticks For Toddlers

Think of it! Teeny-weenies for toddlers and just about the easiest finger food ever. Gerber Meat Sticks are made from selected, lean Armour Pork and Beef plus nonfat dry milk solids for protein palors and other important nutrients. Important: Gerber Meat Sticks are mildly seasoned... extra low in fat. Serve them slightly warm or at room temperature. Your tot (and older children) will love them.

Sirloin Strips With Peas Good for Buffet Meal

Any excuse is a good excuse to plan a party... Especially in this season of exhilarating sports, brisk-weather sharpened appetites and luring appeal of an evening around the cozy warmth of the fireplace... buffet dinners are a favorite way to gather congenial friends for an evening of bridge or good conversation.

Planning... and preparing... the dinner is fun when you adhere to the advice of Brillat-Savarin.

Bread Sticks Help Stir Dip

Are you a hostess that likes to serve your guests something just a little different? If you are, then here is a Hot Cheese Dip that will be a conversation piece as well as good eating. Like cheese fondue, this hot cheese dip takes drinking, or actually stirring, as a necessary part of the cooking process. By gently swirling the end of a bread stick around in the mixture, you get a little of the cheese dip on the end of the stick for eating and also keep the mixture from separating or sticking to the bottom of the chafing dish.

Hot Cheese Dip is also ideal for a spin-of-the-moment snack for teen-agers. It's easy enough to have all of the ingredients on hand and it takes about 10 minutes to prepare. Serve with bread sticks which have been arranged in a basket or large glass bowl and everyone has fun eating from the same dish.

Hot Cheese Dip
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons finely minced onion
2 teaspoon mayonnaise
1/2 cup tomato juice
2 cups (1/2 pound) shredded processed American cheese
2 cans (3 1/2 ounce) deviled ham
Dash Tabasco

In top of double boiler over direct heat, saute onion in butter until onion is transparent but not brown. Place double boiler over boiling water and add remaining ingredients. Stir until cheese is melted and ingredients are well combined. Transfer to chafing dish or candle warmer.

To serve, swirl bread stick in mixture until lightly coated. Makes 2 cups dip. Add more tomato juice if dip becomes too thick.

PEAS AND SIRLOIN — When can you make one pound of peas serve six people? Marinated in an Oriental type sauce, served and combined with peas and mushrooms, it is a tempting treat for both a dinner party and a buffet. Serve this simple, but elegant meat course on mashed potatoes.

It's Traditional in Holland at Christmas

Named after the Amstel River which flows through Amsterdam, these "flappen," or fritters, make an ideal, tangy finale to a holiday meal.

Appel Flappen

4 large apples
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 bottle beer
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon white sugar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
Vegetable oil
Confectioner's sugar

Peel, core, and cut apples into 1/2 inch slices. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and set aside. Heat vegetable oil in skillet. Mix flour, salt, white and brown sugar in a bowl. Make batter by stirring in 1/2 bottle beer a little at a time, but as quickly as possible to retain carbonation. Then quickly stir batter with remaining beer.

Dip apple slices in batter taking care that the batter covers them completely. Fry in hot oil until fritters are golden brown. Drain, sprinkle with confectioner's sugar and serve with raspberry sauce. Serves 4.

Tripe Will Vary Family's Diet

Looking for a "new taste" to heighten interest in your winter menu? Let tripe — broiled, pan-fried, braised or sauced — be the nutritious meat to do it!

Tripe, one of the lesser-known variety meats, is esteemed by gourmets the world over. Many famous chefs have made its reputation with this meat. The soft white meat, the lining of the first and second stomachs of beef, is available fresh, corn or pickled, reports the American Meat Institute.

Honeycomb tripe, the lining of the second stomach, is the most popular version. Plain and pocket tripe (so-called because it is so shaped like a pocket) are also available. Most of the tripe in cans is the plain variety.

Fresh or pickled honeycomb tripe may be purchased precooked and needs only brushing with melted fat and five minutes under the broiler to ready it for the table. Tripe also may be pan-fried, braised or served in a sauce.

English Walnuts Came to California from East

Over 30 per cent of all walnuts come from California, where about 140 million pounds are harvested each year. They are sometimes referred to as "English walnuts" — a nickname that came about because walnuts were a popular trade item carried on English ships.

Walnuts originated in Biblical times along the Mediterranean. They eventually reached Italy, Spain and France where they are still grown. Spanish missionaries brought them to California where the climate and soil proved ideal for growing.

America's First PURE VANILLA

Chopped Ham Fills Potatoes

Call it potato, potato, potet, tartuffo, Kartoffel or just spud. But among all countries, the potato is a common kitchen denominator.

The king of vegetables is accorded universal approval of its versatility, economy and energy supply. The creative and imaginative housewife can serve potatoes in literally hundreds of ways. Start today since the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports the tubers in plentiful supply.

For new potato cuisine, try potato-stuffed frankfurters, turkey salad with potatoes, potato biscuits, potato and celery stuffing, creamed potatoes with bacon, cream of potato soup, potato fondue, or potato scones.

Fall and the tangy smell of burning leaves paves the way for smoky-tasting pork with waxy light potatoes. To prepare Ham-Stuffed Baked Potatoes, bake large potatoes. Split the top and scoop out the center, leaving the potato-shells.

Mash potato with milk, egg yolk, salt, pepper and finely chopped ham. Fold in beaten egg white and pile lightly into shells. Pop in oven just long enough to top the filling golden brown.

They Need More Care

Remember that cream cheese and cottage cheese are rather perishable because they are soft, unripened variety of cheese. Store them in the refrigerator and try to use them within a few days after you buy them.

Women Honored at Dinner

Some 300 women, members of St. Benedict Church's parish guilds, were honored at a Christmas dinner Tuesday planned by the pastor, Rev. Richard W. Thomas.

Tribute was paid to the newly organized St. Thomas Unit whose president-elect Mrs. Jeannie Willett was presented a corsage by the combined guilds' president Mrs. Ralph Spadafore.

Also present for the dinner in the church hall were Rev. Richard Schoenbery, assistant, and Rev. Edwin Schroeder, spiritual director of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The St. Benedict's Girls Choir, in red and white attire, sang Christmas carols with Claudia Myers as soloist. Piano accompanist was James Huellmannel.

A local travel service sent representatives Nancy Thomas and Patricia Parent to the dinner with the film "Variations on an Italian Theme."

Mrs. Spadafore, general chairman, was assisted by Mrs. Raymond Bellemur. St. Bernadette's Unit members were hostesses. Decorations were by the St. Joseph's Unit.

Don't Envy 'HER Clothes' Develop Your Own Style

By ALICIA HART

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. When girls discuss their friends at school you'll often hear the remark, "Who wouldn't look terrific in HER clothes?" Well, it's not necessarily so!

You may admire another girl's wardrobe, but that doesn't mean the same clothes would look well on you. Each figure is different. Chances are, in her dresses you'd look all wrong.

Each teen-ager must dress to flatter her own figure. And all the money in the world won't cultivate good clothes sense.

The cut of the dress, you choose can make or break your appearance in it. If you are tall and slim, choose a style that will cut your height. If you are short, a patterned or striped fabric, be sure it's not a vertical one.

Should your hips or waist be bigger than your bust, choose a dress that draws attention to Wherever skiers gather, you'll see White Stag fiber filled quilt parkas. Judy Porter of Walled Lake is wearing a diamond quilted stain glass print in grape tones. Her black pants are Xtra-stretch by White Stag. Cosack hat of fox fur and boots by Henke.

Friends Honor New Grandma

Friends and neighbors feted Mrs. John Andrews at a "grandmother's shower" Tuesday in the Motorway Drive home of Mrs. William Pyles. The occasion celebrated the birth of Mrs. Andrews' first grandchild, a daughter, born recently to Mrs. James Zukosky of Dearborn, formerly Janet Paquin of Pontiac.

Bringing gifts for the infant were Mrs. Roland Halquist, Mrs. Robert Morse, Mrs. Kenneth Stanick, Mrs. John Maturo, Mrs. Robert Smelser, Mrs. Thomas Atkinson, Mrs. Donald Brown and Mrs. Donald DeWoe.

Bells, Bells, Bells, Bells

"Bells at Home and Abroad" was the theme for Junior League of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicales Junior Clubs' meeting in the Chippewa Road home of the James B. Formans.

Mrs. J. L. Bennett, guest speaker, displayed various bells, and gave complete descriptions of them.

Mrs. Howard Heldenbrand and Mrs. E. M. Peterson also were guests at the Sunday meeting. Junior league members performing were Nancy Gately, Beverly Patton, Diane Goss, Cindy Jones, Judy Eames, Alan Benson and Ann Todd.

A piano duet by Miss Eames and Miss Todd was followed by a flute duet played by Martha Forman and Cheryl Smith.

Assisting the hostess with refreshments were Mrs. C. E. Patton and Mrs. Ron Chandler.

Skiers No Problem When Shopping for Yule

If your Christmas shopping list contains avid skiers, you have a ready-made answer to gift selections. Confused about equipment and its function? By switching to fashions you'll be shopping on familiar ground with full assurance that your gift is sure to be appreciated.

The expanding facilities at local ski areas are attracting hordes of new fans and local merchants' stocks are bulging to meet needs of this new breed of sports enthusiasts.

Dazzling color combinations and long-line parkas are making ski apparel news this season. New polyester fiber-filled quiltings offer comfort and feather-weight warmth, especially welcome locally where skiing at night under the lights is so popular.

Laminated foam rubber-backed fabrics also offer warmth without weight, important to hearty ski slope skimmers.

VERY IMPORTANT Remember, avid skiers are as concerned with the fit of their pants as they are with the wax on their skis, and wise shoppers will check the wool content of stretch pants, an important factor in continuing sleek fit. Stretch pants have come into their own in lighter-weight fabrics for after skiing and are being adopted by the fireside snow bunnies, too.

Local fashion and ski stores have fine selections of these garments and many others sure to delight the skiers on your list. Well-informed sales people are ready to offer technical assistance on equipment at area sporting goods shops, too!

Fun fashions in the fast developing line of Apres (or after) ski wear for lounge abound in both fashion and ski shops.

Big hats of frankly fake fur, conversation piece belt-line pouches, insulated ski socks, identification plates for skis, and knitted liners to tuck inside leather ski mitts top skiers' "Santa Claus" list in the accessory category.

Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated at the candlelight vows of Carolyn Joyce Mills to Gerald D. Campbell, Saturday evening in the First Congregational Church. Altar flowers were red and white carnations.

Joining the newlyweds at the church reception were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin W. Mills of East New York Avenue and the Stanley C. Campbells of West New York Avenue.

The lustrous bridal gown of white peau satin was styled with bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves of Alencon lace. The full skirt fell into a chapel train. A jeweled crown caught the bride's veil of illusion. Red roses rested on her white Bible.

MAID OF HONOR: Red net hair lined with pearls complemented street-length red taffeta dresses for all attendants. Linda Underhill was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Gale Campbell, sister of the bridegroom, Shirley Parent, Sharon Baker and Jean Nelson. They held white Bibles topped with white carnations and red roses.

The bride's niece, Diane Mills, carried red rose petals in a white basket for her role as flower girl. Danny Gerber, cousin of the bride, served as acolyte.

Kenneth Hoffer was best man. Seating guests were Leo Andrews and the bride's brothers John, Terry and Dennis.

For the honeymoon in northern Michigan, the bride donned a brown and black wool tweed suit. The couple will reside in Pontiac.

Shoulder corsages of mint green carnations and white roses complemented a mint green sheer wool dress for Mrs. Mills and a cerulean blue wool dress for the mother of the bridegroom.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The battle of the sexes starts in the cradle and even there the females are winning a victory of sorts.

The Diaper Service Industry Association said its records show that baby girls learn earlier to require less changing and use from two to five fewer diapers a day than baby boys.

Table Settings Shown by Birmingham Club

"Heralding the Holidays" is the theme for the traditional Christmas show staged by Birmingham Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association in Birmingham Community House. Open to the public, the exhibit, which opened Wednesday afternoon, closes at 9 this evening.

Veteran blue ribbon winners and schedule chairmen, Mrs. Seth B. Slawson and Mrs. Lewis C. Dibble collaborated and executed a contemporary tea table featuring vertical slabs of glass in deep blues and greens. A mantel arrangement complemented their invitational dual entries.

Shaggy white felt donkeys on black napkins and a black wrought iron centerpiece for a children's Christmas table won a blue ribbon for Mrs. J. P. McCoskie.

Dried globe artichokes and magnolia leaves formed a base for Mrs. R. B. Pokorny's Bethlehem scene, a blue-ribbon entry.

Pomegranates, prickly pears, grapes and greens complemented a copper coffee-maker on Mrs. C. E. Nickel's prize-winning buffet table covered with green linen. Her manger scene with miniature Youngsters Phoebe Hunter and straw animals also won a first. Among other first-prize winners are Katherine Lawton for a topleary tree of acorns, nuts and cones for a hallway, and Mrs. Fred Madsen's alabaster boy figurine in a holly setting.

Is Word 'Fitted' Confusing

NEW YORK (NEA) — Suits and costumes by American designers reflect, even now, the return to the fitted look indicated by the recent Paris collections.

To clear up any confusion about this word "fitted," it should be explained that this is not fit in the old sense of the word. It's a new fitted look, one which indicates the body lines rather than fitting in the way that a swimsuit does.

The result is a silhouette that flatters the figure in a manner both casual and subtle. You'll be seeing more of this as the winter progresses.

Both suits and costumes are done in unusual combinations of different weights and textures of wool.

Lodge Will View Feats of Magic

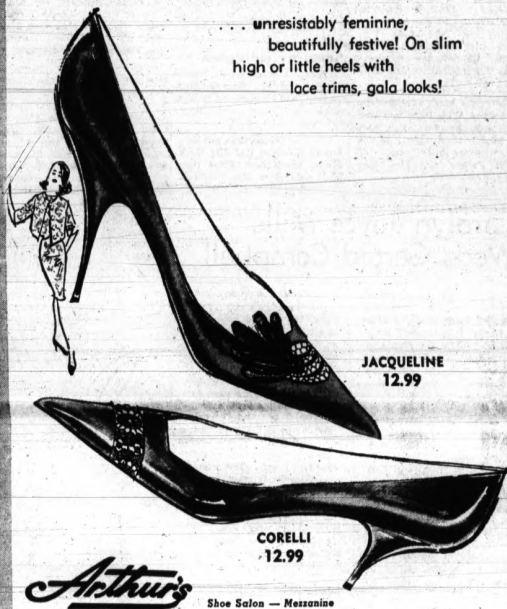

A magician will entertain when the Scandinavian Vasa Lodge celebrates its annual Christmas party and dance Saturday at the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voochels Road. Serving on committees for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Erick Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Nyberg and Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Gustavson.

The proved reserves of natural gas in the United States reached a figure of about 211.7 trillion cubic feet which was a peak at that finding.

Things You Should Do

Try Sticking to This List

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Do you count to 10 before you speak, and eat meals because you are supposed to? I'm crazy! I like snails. Forget about counting to 10.

Do you get enough sleep?

Do you indulge in daily exercise in addition to that which your housework provides?

Do you adjust to new leisure by adding new interests to your list?

Do you have fun — real fun — every day?

Do you go on roller coasters, swim at dawn or by moonlight at midnight, climb mountains, wake up to watch the sunrise in order to "belong" — "belonging" is even more hazardous than "togetherness."

Do you take a serious interest in fine nutrition and apply it to your menus every day?

Do you forget grudges and slough off small irritations without blowing your top?

Do you always politely let the other fellow have the last word?

Do you listen for hours to others without ever having the urge to tell a joke or promote an opinion or idea of your own?

Do you always maintain your perfect weight, without a wobble, and carry yourself beautifully on all occasions?

Are you always perfectly groomed?

If you do all of these things, you are a better woman than I! Let's all try, though.

Hairdressers Set Christmas Party

The Pontiac Hairdressers Association's annual Christmas party is slated for 7 p.m. Saturday in the Avon Lounge.

Dancing will follow the dinner. Betty Croteau or Thomas McCleary may be contacted for reservations.

The group's regular meeting will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Mr. Thomas Hair-Fashion Salon. Plans will be made for Beauty Salon Week, and delegates will be appointed for the North American Beauty and Fashion Show Feb. 11-13 at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

More than 70 per cent of all U.S. families own automobiles.

Gold Star Mothers Plan Gifts

Committees for the coming year were appointed at Wednesday's meeting of Chapter 34, Gold Star Mothers of America, in the Bemis Olsen Armory Post on Oakland Avenue.

Named by Mrs. Edward McDonald were Mrs. Leone Hagberg, ways and means committee; Mrs. Cecil Briggs, sunshine; Mrs. Clarence Sutton, social; Mrs. Eva Welch, hostess; Mrs. Elva Riddle, Americanism; and Mrs. Luisa Mayotte, legislative.

Mrs. Carl Rutherford was appointed membership chairman; and Mrs. Olive Burgess, publicity director. Mrs. Mayotte was installed as banner guard.

Members voted to send a Christmas donation to veterans' administration hospitals and to the Michigan Facility at Grand Rapids. Holiday plans also were made for veterans at the Oakland County Tuberculosis and Pontiac State hospitals.

The group's Christmas dinner at Greenfield's Restaurant will be followed by a gift exchange at Mrs. Burgess' home.

Mrs. David Bickenstaff was a guest at the meeting. Hostess was Mrs. Briggs.

During the past year the chapter sewed 1,172 cancer dressings.

Warm Up Kitchen

One way to add warmth to any kitchen decor is by hanging wall plaques made of polystyrene finished in shining colors. These come in charming Early American and other scenes.

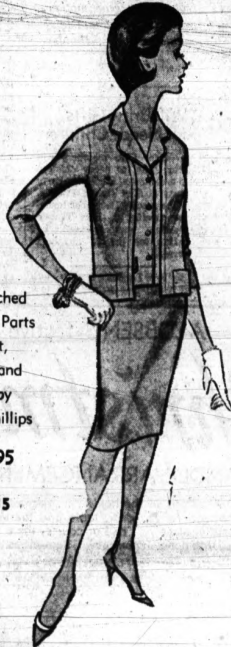

Since the non-tarnish finish requires no laborious polishing the only upkeep needed is a weekly or semi-weekly wipe-off with a sudsy sponge.

Write Son to Tell His Wife

Q: My son was married two months ago and since then has returned to his Army base. His bride is living with her mother until he is released from duty. So far she has not written thank you notes for wedding presents.

This is most embarrassing to me as many of my friends have been asking whether or not she received their gifts. She is a very nice person but I'm afraid is not too well versed in the proper thing to do. Will you please tell me how I can get her to write these notes without seeming critical and hurting her feelings?

A: It would be a mistake for you, her mother-in-law, to say anything to her about this, but you could write to your son and tell him that some friends have been asking whether or not their wedding presents were received and ask him to please ask his bride to write thank you notes as quickly as possible.

Q: A young couple had planned to be married the middle of last month and their invitations were ready to be mailed when the bridegroom had an accident that sent him to the hospital.

The wedding had to be postponed. Now they're ready to be married and wondered if they could write in the new date on the original invitations.

A: If done neatly, it would not be impossible. After all, a majority will be going to their families and friends who, knowing the circumstances, will surely understand.

Q: I cannot afford to buy both the medium-sized and dinner-sized knives and forks and wonder which you would suggest as being more useful until I can have both.

A: Those of medium size would be more useful since they can perfectly well be used for the most course, whereas the big ones are over-large for other courses.

Unit Hears Review of Maccabees

Rabbi Stanley Greenberg reviewed "Maccabees I," one of the books of "The Apocrypha" before the Sisterhood of Congregation B'Nai Israel Tuesday afternoon in the synagogue. He was introduced by Rabbi Israel Goodman.

The book reviewed explains the origin and history of the current Jewish holiday of Chanukah which represents the first recorded successful religious revolution.

The speaker has worked with Youth Aliyah in Israel and is director of organizations for the Jewish Council of metropolitan Detroit.

A New Year's Eve party with the theme "A Night in Bermuda" was announced, also a donor theater party for a performance of "The Tenth Man," Jan. 19, at the Cass Theater, Detroit.

Opening and closing prayers were read by Mrs. Irving Schlystone and Mrs. Lazarus Herzhowitz respectively.

Garden Club Holds Christmas Party

Members of the Dirt Gardeners' Club gathered Monday for the annual Christmas luncheon in the home of Mrs. Ray O'Neill on West Walton Boulevard. Mrs. Vivian Tubbs and Mrs. Rose Thomas assisted the hosts.

Mrs. Chester Dlugoszewski, who presided in the absence of the president, announced a Christmas workshop Tuesday beginning at 11 a.m. in Adah Shelly Library.

Novel Christmas centerpieces, corsages and ideas for home decoration were shared by members who also exchanged gifts. A donation was approved for The Salvation Army.

Club Holds Musicales, Tea

A Christmas tea followed a musicale for members of the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. K. K. Kreitz at Watkins Lake. Hostesses were Mrs. J. A. Rammer, Mrs. M. L. Lamb and Mrs. T. C. McFetridge.

Mrs. Chandler Benton, lyric-dramatic soprano of the Dearborn Chamber Chorus and member of the Detroit Opera Theatre presented a group of three "Irish Country Songs" by Herbert Hughes.

Included in her program were "Romance" by Debussy, also three sacred Christmas numbers, "Little Lullaby" by Baldwin, "Oh Men from the Fields" by Hughes and "The Christ Child" by Cornelius. Mrs. Addison Oakley was her accompanist.

New members accepted into the club were Mrs. Frank Parks, Mrs. R. E. Surgeon, Adeline Hook, Mrs. Lulu Buckler, and Mrs. Bradley Scott.

Mrs. John Ford presided at the tea service.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice,
"This suggestion sounds too 'crazy' to be true, but it works wonders for me and I would like to share it with all your readers. Most of us consider dark and soiled a 'quest' in our wardrobe, but practically wear them out by continuously brushing off the lint that sticks like glue. Now your problems are over."

"Take a regular size turkish towel and sprinkle it with a little water, just about the same amount you would use if you were dampening something for ironing. Now place, this slightly dampened towel and your dark dresses, suit or coat in the clothes dryer."

"Turn your dryer on for no longer than 8 minutes, remove your garment immediately and it will look pressed and have absolutely no lint on it. We've tried it and it works."

MAKE YOUR BUTTONS

Dear Eunice Farmer,
I have noticed these corded buttons that are made of self fabric on some of the oriental type blouses as well as very dressy suits. Can I learn to make these myself or must one have them professionally made?"

Mrs. M.E.G.
These buttons are called "Chinese ball buttons" and aren't too difficult to make. The size of the finished button depends on the thickness of the cord you cover with your bias strip of fabric. They can be made in a ball or shaped flatter depending on the effect you desire. The instructions for making them are included in my leaflet No. 4 which also includes instructions for spaghetti straps and rope belts. This leaflet may be obtained by sending a large stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents to Eunice Farmer, in care of this newspaper.

TREATED AS ONE PIECE

Dear Mrs. Farmer,
"What is jacket stiffening and when should it be used? My pattern mentions this jacket stiffening and also says 'optional.' If I use this stiffening do I also use a separate interfacing. Your columns are very useful and enjoyable to all the women who like to sew."

Mrs. H.W.B.
The jacket-stiffening the pattern refers to is the same as under-lining. In other words, the garment fabric and your under-lining are treated as one piece. Different weights of under-lining are used, depending on the effect you wish to achieve. A boxy coat or jacket of loosely woven fabric, would require a heavier type than a soft light weight fabric.

Often silk organza is used for suits, or you may use varying weights of woven type interfacing fabric. If you use anything but organza, it would also be necessary to use a heavier type interfacing fabric for the collars and facings of your garment.

The trick of using under-lining is getting both of the layers of fabric exactly the same size, otherwise you will have a puffy look to your garment. If you will follow these instructions in the order I have given them, you won't have any trouble.

1. Cut your under-lining the same as your garment, you will not need to under-line the facings.

2. Lay your under-lining on a flat surface and then lay your garment right side up over the under-lining.
(a) Hand baste the two layers of fabric together by basting diagonally. This will keep them even.

(b) Baste through the center of all darts. In this way, you will not take more fabric out of the under-lining than you will out of your garment fabric when stitching darts.

(c) Last, baste around all the outer edges of each piece. Hand basting will keep the two layers from pulling out of shape.

From this point on, you will proceed as if you only had one layer of fabric.

Bring Wife to Earth, Says Abby

Put Your Foot Down, Mister!

ABRAHAM VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I really got a kick out of "Church Widow." I am a preacher's husband. My home runs itself, and of late it schemes me to come home. Twenty-minute meals, no real cleaning, beds made until she hears my footsteps and, worst of all, children left on their own.

ABBY
My crusading wife is determined that "the world must be warned of the imminent end of this system of things" and is devoting practically all her time to this cause. I am seriously thinking of taking a second look at someone I have avoided for many years. My wife can recite the Scriptures, but, may I ask, is not the proof of goodness in daily living? Have you the courage to print this?

"FATHER"

DEAR "FATHER": I have the courage to print it, but don't won't solve anything. Have YOU the courage to bring your wife down to earth? I couldn't agree more that "the proof of goodness is in daily living." Your wife could be more than "dedicated." She could be ill.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl and I don't know how to kiss a boy. I mean I know HOW to kiss all right, but I don't know who is supposed to stop the kiss, the boy or the girl? Please put the answer in your column as I think I will have a chance to use it soon. Thank you.

LACKING EXPERIENCE
DEAR LACKING: A kiss should "end" just as it begins. In unspoken mutual agreement.

DEAR ABBY: Christmas is coming and I am on the brink of telling my parents and in-laws what to give my children. At every gift-giving occasion I am simply FLOORED by their selections. We have 3 children under 5 and our budget is so tight we aren't able to buy big blocks or riding tops that provide lasting enjoyment.

At Christmas time well-meaning grandparents squander good money on a lot of little poorly-made wind-up toys and stuffed animals to be dragged on the floor to gather dirt. (I've yet to get one that is machine-washable.)

Most have glass eyes that can be swallowed, felt tongues that fade, small toy cars with metal that bends in your fingers or wheels that fall off.

Miniature housekeeping kits with thumb-sized "soap" and cloths are ideal for a child to stick up his nose or swallow.

Please ask parents to consider the practical side of giving. Give one good thing that will last at least until New Year's.

Don't embarrass me by using my time. Sign this "ME."

CONFIDENTIAL TO CURLY: Tell her the truth, and don't worry about the consequences. She'll NEVER believe it!

quizzes. She'll NEVER believe it!

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, The Pontiac Press.

After 168 Hours on the Phone

MSU to Cut It Short

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Reaction from state legislators to Michigan State University students' six-day telephone call for the approach of final examinations led to a decision today to stop the call at 168 hours as planned.

Bob Ball, Detroit spokesman who placed the time in a Butterfield Hall phone last Thursday night at 11 p.m., said the talk-show would stop tonight "in light of all the bad comments."

Participants in the lengthy conversation also admitted they were running out of things to talk about. The initial goal of the talk show was one full week.

Final examinations begin Monday at MSU.

Republican Gets Bridges' Seat

Gov. Powell Appoints Young Conservative to Senate Position

CONCORD, N.H. (U-P) — Gov. Wesley Powell today named a young conservative Republican to succeed the late GOP Sen. Styles Bridges, who died at the age of 63.

In naming Atty. Gen. Maurice J. Murphy, 34, to the post, the governor said he wanted someone who shared the late senator's philosophy of government.

Bridges was known as an ultra-conservative and a spokesman for that wing of the party in Washington.

Murphy, a Portsmouth attorney, only recently became state attorney general. He was named by Powell, a Republican, to serve a one-year interim appointment until the next state election in 1962.

Powell Wednesday took himself out of contention by announcing he would not take the interim appointment and would not run next year for the four years remaining in Bridges' term.

Fowell said he considered Murphy's age since Bridges had entered the Senate as a young man and was able to build up seniority.

At his death Bridges was the Senate's senior Republican. Since the senator's death, the two names that had been most frequently mentioned as possible successors were Powell himself and Mrs. Deloris Bridges, the senator's widow.

High Seas Halt Search for Boat of Ex-Area Man

High seas and swirling snow has halted search attempts by the U.S. Coast Guard for a 23-year-old former Clarkson man and two companions aboard a missing fishing vessel some 200 miles south of Anchorage, Alaska.

Al search was abandoned for the 70-foot vessel "Ruth L." last week after heavy weather set in and no wreckage or debris was sighted.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parent of 7281 Clatskanie Road, parents of David J. Parent, returned recently from the scene of the rescue attempts.

Parent attended Clarkson High School. After serving six months with the U.S. Marines, he moved to Alaska in 1957.

Red Leader Fined for 'Leftist' Driving

YONKERS, N.Y. (UPI) — The U.S. Communist leader Gus Hall pleaded guilty today to a charge of failing to keep to the right.

The admission, however, had nothing to do with Hall's issue with the United States government over the Communist party's refusal to register as an arm of the Soviet government—a charge he will answer in Washington Friday.

Hall, general secretary of the American Communist Party, appeared in Yonkers Traffic Court to answer charges of crossing the center white line on a city street, driving without a New York State license and failing to have proper registration for his car.

"I'm left in politics so I suppose it affects one's driving," Hall said. Judge Albert Fiorelli imposed a $25 fine.

Snow Reported From Lakes Area to New England

By The Associated Press Snow flurries were reported in a wide area extending from Wisconsin to the northern Appalachians today, but most other parts of the nation had clear skies and seasonal temperatures.

Most of the snow fell in the Great Lakes area. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., reported an accumulation of two inches. A slow moving mass of Canadian air dropped temperatures in northern and central states, particularly in Montana and North Dakota. Havre, Mont., reported a reading of 6 above.

Temperatures stayed above freezing during the night in the Pacific Coast region and the South, most of the Southwest, and the Atlantic Seaboard as far north as Maine.

Light rain and drizzle dampened northern Washington and the coast of North Carolina.

Partial Aid From State to Help Districts Meet Payroll Before Yule

LANSING (U-P) — A partial state aid payment to schools will be sent out early to enable school districts to meet payrolls and other obligations before the Christmas vacation begins, Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said today.

Some $28 million will be distributed about Dec. 15, 10 days ahead of schedule, he said.

The sum is approximately half of the December payment. The rest is unavailable because tax revenues have not been adequate recently, Bartlett said.

Schools needing additional revenue generally borrow against anticipated state aid.

JFK is Cheered by Young Dems in Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U-P) — President Kennedy told a cheering, clapping crowd of Young Democrats today that they will be helped to shape the destiny of the United States during "the most hazardous period in the human race."

Speaking in a hotel hall where the Young Democratic Clubs of America are meeting in national convention, Kennedy said he wanted their help, not so much for the elections ahead but in demonstrating that this country is in fact the leader of the free world. Kennedy rode down Collins Avenue from the Indian Creek Country Club, where a helicopter landed after bringing him here from Palm Beach.

Man Kills 2 Women, Turns Gun on Self

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — A woman and her daughter were shot to death on the campus of Mary Hardin-Baylor College today by a man who then killed himself, Ralph Jeffers, Bell County sheriff, said.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Weidman Dunlap; her 20-year-old daughter, Miss Marie Dunlap, and Leroy Cockrell, all lived at nearby Salado, Tex.

Jeffers said Mrs. Douglas Holland, a teacher at the Baptist girls' college and a witness to the shooting, gave this account:

She saw two women sitting in a parked car on the campus. A second car drove alongside the parked car and the driver shot the two women. Then he turned the rifle on himself.

Blind Golfer Scores on Ace in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U-P) — Charles Tooth, blind since the age of 5, scored a hole-in-one Wednesday.

Tooth, 57, of St. Petersburg and Hamilton, Ontario, recorded what is believed to be the only ace ever scored by a blind golfer. He used a five wood on the 161-yard hole at the Pasadena golf course.

He formed the Canadian Blind Golf Association in 1948 and was its president until 1957. He was a Canadian champion in 1945-46 and 1957.

Adm. Sides Sounds Warning at Pearl Harbor Observance

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP)—"In this missile and thermonuclear clear age, it would be foolhardy indeed to assume that surprise attack will never be a possibility."

This warning was in a speech prepared for delivery today by Adm. John H. Sides, commander of the U.S. Pacific Fleet, at ceremonies marking the 20th anniversary of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Ceremonies were held on a platform above the waters along "Battleship Row." Activity throughout the naval base halted momentarily in memory of that Black Sunday—Dec. 7, 1941.

The ceremony was timed to coincide with the exact moment—7:55 a.m.—when the first Japanese planes swooped low over the battleships lining the northeast shores of Ford Island.

SYMBOLS OF WAR

Below the memorial platform for the U.S. Arizona, center of today's ceremonies, was the rusting bulk of the warship and the remains of 1,102 crewmen who went down with her. The Arizona and her crew are symbols of those hours when war came to the United States.

South of the Arizona the old battleship row was vacant. But between the flag flying above the Arizona and one beside Ford Island's administration building—less than a mile away—nearly 2,000 men died on a Sunday morning.

"The lessons learned (that day) are recorded in blood," said Sides in his memorial address.

"The important thing for us here today, and for all Americans, is to pledge anew that our country shall always remain strong and shall always be ready to defend the freedoms for which we stand and for which these men fought and died."

Cambodia Chief Holds Big Key to Southeast Asia's Fate

Editor's Note: — Robert L. Sihanouk, a free lance writer, has been an observer of Southeast Asian events for 10 years. His close friendship with the Cambodian royal family dates from 1951.

BY ROBERT L. SIKANOUK

Written for UPI

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia — A feast permeating even to the top level here is that the whole of Southeast Asia—Laos, South Vietnam, Thailand and Cambodia—will fall to Communist control within less than two years.

Cambodian Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk put it to me this way:

"Dien first, Sarit, second, Sihanouk third."

The reference was to President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Vietnam, Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat of Thailand and finally to himself in the predicted order of their overthrow.

I returned to Cambodia this month, at the invitation of Sihanouk, toured the provinces with him and now make this report, at a strategic moment in history when power blocs are prevailing for a showdown in Southeast Asia.

Sihanouk's ability to maintain political-economic neutrality is a major key to the fate of the whole Indo-China peninsula.

Without question, Sihanouk is personally strongly non-Communist. Communism could never tolerate Sihanouk's prodigious popularity among the people and Sihanouk knows it. That's what he means when he says, "I am ready to die for my country . . . that my country might live."

ABDICATED IN '54

Sihanouk, descendant of a long line of Khmer kings, abdicated his throne after Cambodia won its independence from France in 1954. Then, in free elections, became the country's first premier in an overwhelming landslide election.

Today, as he travels the razor's edge of political neutrality in history's moment of crisis between East and West, Sihanouk is more than a royal personage whose face might appear on a postage stamp or in a frame in a school classroom.

He is seldom out of sight of his 5 million people, clustered mainly in the Mekong and Tonle Sap River basins of the under-populated land.

The common bond of the country's progress via the people takes him continually through the provinces, inaugurating projects, opening buildings, industries, schools. Twenty-two per cent of the national budget is dedicated to education.

Cambodia's five-year plan, now in its second year, has already surpassed its final goals in cotton production and in many areas of education.

Sihanouk is here with the agricultural stations in Battambang, Cambodia's second largest city, show an eight-fold increase in rice production per acre since 1950.

He is in the fields with the farmers showing them new grain.

He is mobbed by students at school buildings he has built with his own money in Siemreap. In regularly scheduled sessions of manual labor, in T-shirt and work pants, he takes shovel and hoe to build a bed for a railroad that will connect his new harbor with projected coal and iron mines in the under-populated northern regions.

WORK WITH HIM

The people work with him by the tens of thousands of men hours of donated labor. Cambodia is building not only its own country, but its national pride.

The rhythm of the people is work . . . and play. Plant rice, then dance. Harvest, then dance. Swing baskets of clay in a road gang, then swing to age-old rhythms of the "ram-vong," a dance in a circle.

This is the new Cambodian way of life.

It has borrowed from the capitalist West via French and American traditions. It has taken up the ideal of pure democracy and converted all these fragments into an entire people which has made Cambodia one of Asia's most dynamically progressive, politically harmonious, culturally strong, economically upsurging nations. The cities, villages and hamlets are clean, the people healthy.

Fervent activity characterizes today's Cambodia, even under war clouds on the border. Swampy bogs have become gardenized boulevards in the capital.

Conference halls, model villages, four-lane highways, infirmaries, schools of Khmer arts and crafts, forestry, agriculture, music and theater are no empty dreams, but working realities.

"I hope," Sihanouk declared, "we will allow the time to complete our dream, that we will be able to escape from the occupation of the anti-Communist countries."

"We are very close to China, but we are not close to communism."

"Laos has chosen internal division and war."

"I prefer to have no more for-

"We have chosen peace and sign add rather than to have our policy dictated from the outside way of nonalignment means free-

"When one is faced with life and death for my country, and I like death, dollars don't count. The freedom. I know the meaning of "freedom." I don't wish to be I offer my life for my people. What interests me is that my country (Chinese premier) or Khrushchev, try will live."

Geoff Norman to Head Instructional School

'New' Alpine Valley Gets 'Newer'

Alpine Valley Ski area starts only its second year of operation, but the picturesque resort on M-50, just 10 miles west of Pontiac will have almost everything new this year.

The new face heading the Alpine Valley instructional school will be Geoff Norman, a certified Canadian ski instructor who has been teaching for the past six years at Mont Tremblant, Quebec and Mont Snow, Vermont.

This will be Norman's first assignment as head of a ski area school and with him he brings a wealth of teaching talent in Chester Schmidt, Theodore Kiska and Ingerberg Fetter, all of Vienna.

Schmidt, of the St. Anton ski school is coach of the English Olympic Ski team. Kiska, hailed as an outstanding teacher's teacher is from the Kitzbuhel Red Devils Ski School.

There are four new T-bars to carry skiers to the top of the 250 foot slope, and the beautiful Chalet is preparing to offer well prepared meals in its cafeteria.

A larger and more complete ski shop, operated by Norm Archer, will offer a greater selection of domestic and imported skiing equipment and clothing.

At the first consistent sign of cold weather, the snow machines will go into use. Norman has set tentative opening.

Norman, who hails from the Channel Islands off the coast of Normandy in France, will offer class lessons, along with private and semi-private instructions.

Presently, instructors have been grooming the slopes and the road leading into the Alpine Valley parking area from M-50.

These are the low rates and ski times for Alpine Valley for the forthcoming season:

All areas - Monday through Friday-10:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. - $2.00. Evenings-$2.50. Saturday, Sunday and Holidays-8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. - $4.00. Beginner's area, any day or evening $2.00. Ski rental equipment is available at prices for adults and children. The phone number at Alpine is 887-4180.

Many Changes at Mt. Holly for 1961-62 Season

Dixie Highway Resort Has Improvement Plan of $150,000

Mt. Holly celebrates its 6th birthday in a big way. The popular ski resort north of Pontiac on Dixie Highway is completing a $150,000 face lifting to bring more luxurious and complete facilities to skiers in Southeastern Michigan.

A completely new beginners' area with three ropetows has been added, along with a new intermediate slope, layed out so as to receive complete wind protection from ridges.

A new T-bar has been added to go with the big double chair lift and the capacity of the snow making machines has been enlarged to 600 horsepower which makes it one of the largest in Michigan.

"Any hill will receive artificial snow coverage in one night," according to owner Mort Graddis. Mt. Holly takes credit for having the first snow machine in Michigan.

To help smooth out the ride, the chairlift now has fluid drive. "It used to start with a jerk," said Graddis, "now it starts and rides smoothly all the way."

The pride of Mt. Holly's extensive building program is the new Swiss Chalet, with its circular fireplace and its capacity to hold three times the number. These are the low costs and Gerry Monod, former head of the Grampian Mt. ski school, is now director at Mt. Holly. Monod was at Grampian for five years and he spent much time in St. Christof, Austria, perfecting the Weiden ski technique under the direction of Professor Kruckenhauer, founder of the system.

These are the low costs and times for Mt. Holly this season: Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.—$3.00. Beginner's area—$2.00. Evening, 6 p.m.-11 p.m.—same rates. Saturday, Sunday and holidays, 9 a.m.-6 p.m.—$4.00. Students (school days only) 3 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.—$1.50.

Follow Rules and Skiing Will Be Much Safer

LANSING (UPI)—Skiing isn't a very dangerous sport, the Michigan Tourist Council said, but here are some tips to make it an even safer sport.

Get in shape for skiing by exercising regularly to tone up muscles before starting on an outing.

Get professional instruction; most injuries are caused by poor technique.

Learn how to fit ski equipment and use safety straps on bindings to prevent runaway skis.

Dress warmly to keep muscles warm.

Wear ski goggles to prevent snow blindness.

Give a moving skier the right of way and find a ski patrolman in case of accident; he is trained in first aid.

Records show most accidents occur late in the afternoon because skiers are tired, slopes become faster and shadows tend to conceal treacherous spots and hills.

WARMING UP — Jeff Norman, the new ski pro for Alpine Valley, puts some flame in the fire place in the beautiful lodge at the ski area hoping to get the season started real soon. Norman, who hails from the Channel Islands off the coast of Normandy in France, doesn't mind the warmth inside the lodge but he is hoping the weatherman will soon bring some encouragement to the skiers with a forecast of snow.

Grampian Expects Big Year

New Director of Ski School to Be Named

Best Season in Four Years Anticipated by Lakeville Road Area

Grampian Mt. Ski area, with its popular widened slopes for competitive skiing, as well as spacious runs for skiers from the experts to the beginners, has its large capacity snow machines ready for operation.

According to owner Joe Kosik, improvements have been made throughout the ski area in Lakeville Road in anticipation of its best season in four years.

With five runs and two beginner's areas, Grampian has five rope tows and a Poma lift.

One of the features at Grampian in the past has been the instructional school. Many beginning skiers have learned their fundamentals in the Grampian school and Kosik has indicated that this area will continue its fine instruction policies.

A new director of the instructional school at Grampian is expected to be named very soon. A delay resulted in getting a head instructor when an outstanding German ski professional incurred personal problems in his plans to come to this country.

There is a possibility, according to Kosik, that a topflight Austrian ski teacher will become the director of the Grampian school. A more complete pro shop, operated by Norm Archer, will be available to skiers.

A ski school for classes or for private and semi-private instruction by appointment will again be available for adults and children.

One of the features of the Grampian Mt. ski area are the annual races which attract many of the top skiers from lower Michigan each January.

These are the low rates and times at Grampian this season: Monday through Fridays, day rates—$3.00, evening rates $2.50. Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays—$3.50. Beginner's areas — $2.00.

Mt. Christie Groomed and Awaiting Skiers

"We're all set and ready to go," says Mt. Christie manager Bob Jackson.

The attractive Swiss Chalet resort on Davison Lake Road just north of Oxford is completing numerous changes to make the forthcoming season more pleasant and attractive for Southeastern Michigan skiers.

"We've enlarged our snow making facilities to a great extent and will be able to make snow faster and more often," said Jackson.

"One thing we have concentrated on," he added, "is the grading and seeding of areas so that we can have more expert skiing on less amount of snow."

Now in its 4th year of operation, Christie has been a popular ski spot not only for skiing but social activities for skiers.

The starting area has been improved to aid skiers using the rope tows and Poma lift.

Inside the lodge, bright colors have been used to re-finish and re-decorating.

Mt. Christie expects shortly to name the ski pro who will head the instructional school. A veteran among the certified instructors who will assist in the school will again be Dr. Lynn Smith of Pontiac.

Fully equipped night skiing, Mt. Christie will again operate a seven-day and night basis.

Should colder weather arrive and stay, there is a possibility that the snow machine will be in operation this weekend. Information on the availability of skiing can be obtained by calling Mt. Christie at OA 8-3857.

DeBusechere vs. Dischinger in Top Battle

Titans Play Tonight, but Await Purdue Saturday

University of Detroit and Dave DeBusechere may be looking ahead to Saturday's big basketball battle against Purdue at Lafayette, but the Titans better not overlook tonight's clash against Missouri Valley Conference team Tulsa.

U. of D. is 2-0 for the season and Tulsa is 1-1, but the Titans have had a couple of breachers and should be well aware of what caliber of basketball is played in the powerful Missouri Valley. DeBusechere was a member for six years.

In the first half of last year's game at Purdue, DeBusechere suffered a groin injury and missed the second half. He was never at peak effectiveness after his return.

Dischinger had a sensational night, scoring 31 points and nabbing 18 rebounds as Purdue routed Detroit, 83-64. DeBusechere scored just 15 points and managed only nine rebounds.

This season, both seniors are off to good starts. Dischinger scored 31 points in Purdue's opening victory over Pittsburgh.

Most pleasing aspects in the Titans camp are the fine performances turned in by sophomore Ed Ferguson (6-8) and guard Al Cech (6-3). Ferguson has averaged 22.5 and 15 rebounds while Cech has scored 21.5 and 11.5.

Veteran guard Frank Cholewicki (6-1) is hitting at a 14 clip and is averaging 11.5 points and 11.5 rebounds.

Hope College rode to a 73-63 basketball victory over Wheaton on the high scoring of Jim Vandell and Glen VanWeyden. Each tallied 21 points.

Roger Johnson led the Illinois team with 20 points.

Hope now has a 1-2 record. Wheaton is 1-1.

DePaul romped over Lawrence Tech 102-79 as three players hit 20 or more points for DePaul.

Top scorers for Lawrence Tech were John Bradley with 28 and Clayton Pethers with 22.

Western Michigan made use of its reserves in breezing to a 103-49 basketball victory over Assumption of Windsor, Ont.

Western led 50-23 at halftime and its starting five saw only brief action in the second half.

Adrian showed surprising strength in leading most of the way to defeat Albion 64-38 in an MIAA basketball game.

Albion took a 22-21 brief lead in the first half but Adrian pulled away and led 29-25 at halftime.

Top scorers for Adrian were John Johnson with 18 points and Don Numbers with 15. Dennis O'Neil was high for Albion with 23 and his teammate, Bruce Vandras scored 18.

Calvin went on a scoring spree and overpowered Hillsdale College 91-67 in a non-conference basketball game. Calvin led 44-35 at halftime.

Henry Demola and Carl De Koster led the Calvin scoring with 19 points each.

Chicago Helped by Double Bill

Majors Triumph, Gain Full Game on Leaders and Runnerup

By The Associated Press

What the Chicago Majors need to get into first place in the American Basketball League's Eastern Division is more doubleheaders like the one at Chicago Wednesday night.

When the doubleheader started, the Majors—in third place—placed second place Pittsburgh by 1½ games and first place Cleveland by three. A few hours later, they had gained a full game on each club.

Los Angeles, runner-up team in the Western Division, opened with a 104-83 victory over Pittsburgh as Bill Spivey scored 24 points. Then the Majors whipped Cleveland for the second straight night, 101-83.

Herschell Turner scored 22 points, Governor Vaughn 19 and Kelly Coleman 18.

Los Angeles' third place was a consolation, since it cost the Jets the playing seasons of player-coach Bill Sharman for about two weeks.

The former Boston Celtics star suffered a broken middle finger on his right hand.

Gay Brewer Among Top Money Winners

And runnerup Arnold Palmer took a big step in his bid to overtake the money-winning pro, South African Gary Player, who has quit the tournament trial for the season.

Palmer won $1,900 in the West Palm Beach Open. Player, with winnings of $6,540 for 1961, Palmer now has $60,732.

Brewer, who wasn't among the top 10 last week, moved into the eighth spot with total winnings of $29,240. Bob Rosburg, 10th last week, dropped off the list.

Doug Sanders, who won $306 in the West Palm Beach tournament for a 10th place finish, is third on the list with $37,069. Bill Casper Jr. is fourth with $37,766 and Jay Hebert fifth with $35,383.

UCLA Picks Same Place for Drills as Huskies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Washington worked out in Long Beach before the 1960 and 1961 Rose Bowl games, and won both times.

So UCLA, possibly hoping some of the magic rubs onto it, will drill in the nearby oceanfront community, too.

Coches Billy Barnes said Wednesday the Bruins will work out at Long Beach City College Dec. 27-30, and will stay at the Lafayette Hotel, a duplicate of the Husky arrangements.

UCLA will have two vacations during its preparation for Minnesota: Dec. 23-25 for Christmas and Dec. 31—the day before the game.

Baylor's Point Spree Continues Against Nats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Monday night, Baylor, on a six-week reprieve from duty while he awaits his recall — scored 50 points and led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 131-120 victory over Syracuse.

Tuesday night, Baylor scored 45 points, 10 in a row at a late stage, and the Lakers whipped the Nats 125-120.

Wednesday night, at Los Angeles, the Lakers beat Syracuse in overtime, 123-121. Baylor scored 47 points, including 7 of his team's 30 points in the overtime period.

The three-game streak has helped the Lakers build their NBA Western Division lead to 5½ games over runner-up Cincinnati, which lost 103-102 to the Boston Celtics, Wednesday night.

In other games, St. Louis, with Bob Pettit scoring 31 points and newly-acquired Vern Hatton providing backcourt help, beat Philadelphia 137-132; and Detroit crushed New York, 133-97.

The Celtics blew most of a 21-point lead before beating the Royals, who outscored Boston 27-23 in a just-miss fourth quarter. Bill Russell scored 26 points and Frank Ramsey 24 for Boston, which again got only limited service from ailing Bob Cousy.

Hatton, former Kentucky star recently cut loose by the Chicago Packers, found time to do some play-making and scored 21 points, including the go-ahead basket as St. Louis overpowered Philadelphia with 46 points in the last quarter. Hatton hit a shot with about four minutes left that broke a 118-all tie. The Warriors, led by Wilt Chamberlain's 39 points, had led by as many as 16 points.

Rookie Johnny Egan, former Providence star, provided Detroit's spark — getting eight straight points just before the end of the half, when New York had pulled to within three.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ego Bobby Walston of the Philadelphia Eagles is well aware he needs only eight points to surpass Don Hutson's National Football League career scoring record. He'd love to do it against the New York Giants here Sunday in the top game of the week.

"But first and foremost in my mind is winning," said Walston in viewing the crucial battle which could lead to the Eastern Conference crown. The Eagles and Giants are tied for the lead with 9-3 marks. Each club will have one game remaining after Sunday's contest.

The 33-year-old Walston, also a place-kicking specialist, rounded out his 11th year with the Eagles, has 818 points going into the game. Hutson racked up 820 points during an outstanding career with Green Bay.

And runnerup Arnold Palmer took a big step in his bid to overtake the money-winning pro, South African Gary Player, who has quit the tournament trial for the season.

Palmer won $1,900 in the West Palm Beach Open. Player, with winnings of $6,540 for 1961, Palmer now has $60,732.

Brewer, who wasn't among the top 10 last week, moved into the eighth spot with total winnings of $29,240. Bob Rosburg, 10th last week, dropped off the list.

Doug Sanders, who won $306 in the West Palm Beach tournament for a 10th place finish, is third on the list with $37,069. Bill Casper Jr. is fourth with $37,766 and Jay Hebert fifth with $35,383.

PUBLIC INVITED In the past the queen's contest was held weeks before the celebration and a winner of the title and two honor maidens were chosen then. Now the public is invited to witness the judging and the crowning that will follow. Other features of the daylong program will be the exhibition of growers' best rhubarb which will be judged for prizes, a cooking school, rhubarb smorgasbord and auction and rhubarb hot for teenagers girls. Another special attraction will be the competition for the "Best Cook" awards among 4-H Club members, future homemakers and housewives from all over Macomb and adjacent counties. Prizes are given in both junior and senior divisions. Since the first Rhubarb Festival held in 1955, Utica has become even more widely recognized as the "Hothouse Rhubarb Capital of the World."

U.S. Worries About Meals for Teen Girls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department is concerned about the food habits of teenagers, particularly girls. Dr. Mary M. Hill, nutritionist for the department's institute of home economics, said studies show that the food habits of the youngsters are poor in comparison with the food habits of other age groups. "Most of these young people will be parents in the next decade," she said, "and many of the girls are not as nutritionally fit for the physical demands of motherhood as they could be." This is the same group from which must come a goodly proportion of the armed forces and the nation's leaders in the uncertain years ahead. Dr. Hill said. Their creativity and productivity will depend, in part, on their physical and mental health.

Observing Week for Leader Dogs

Lions Call Attention to Work of Training Animals to Aid Blind. The Lions Club, known for its sight conservation and blind work, is marking Leader Dog Week which ends Saturday — as proclaimed by Gov. John B. Swainson. During Leader Dog Week attention is called to the important rehabilitation program being conducted at the Leader Dog School in Rochester. The nonprofit school, Leader Dogs for the Blind, was founded in 1939 by Lions of Michigan, and has since trained over 1,700 leader dogs. Leader dogs are furnished without charge to all eligible applicants. A leader dog enables its owner to enter fully, despite a handicap, into the life of the community — to live an active and contributive life of his own. Lions arrange the enrollment of every eligible person who expresses an interest in obtaining a Leader Dog. Lions sponsor projects that are largely responsible for the success and growth of the unique school that provides happiness and confidence to blind men and women. In addition to furnishing financial help, Lions are always looking for good friendly German Shepherds and Labrador Retrievers, between the ages of one and two years, that can be trained as leader dogs. All dogs are contributed — none are purchased. Anyone knowing of a blind person interested in training with a leader dog — or of someone who has a dog to contribute — is invited to see a member of the Lions Club or to write — Leader Dogs for the Blind, Rochester.

Everyone has Ipswitch written on his shoe, explained the shoemaker.

The ministers stared at King Ferdinand in astonishment.

"An IPSWITCH?" exclaimed the minister of war. "What is an Ipswitch?"

"It's a city somewhere — I forgot just where," said the minister of education importantly.

"No, no," protested a doctor of medicine. "It's a kind of nervous feeling — or jitter!"

"I thought it was a special kind of preserves," said the palace dietitian.

NAME ON HEEL

King Ferdinand coughed for attention. "The Ipswitch I am talking about," he declared, "is a giant with enormous feet and it stepped with its enormous left foot into the middle of the public square. That is what about the town and made the hole in the garden. Its name is printed on its heel and if you want to see for yourselves come in the tower and look."

Trying not to show how pleased he was with himself for his detective work, King Ferdinand led the ministers to the top most tower of the palace where they saw that what he said was true and they really had been visited by a giant named Ipswitch.

The ministers were very impressed with the King's discovery and they thought perhaps he was not so simple-minded after all. Then the palace shoe maker who, unknown to anyone, had trailed along behind them, tugged at the King's sleeve and said:

"Your Majesty, if the giant is an Ipswitch, we are all the same!"

"What do you mean?" asked the King.

The shoe maker bent one leg and showed the bottom of his foot. "You see, sir, everyone has Ipswitch written on his shoe. It's the name of the heel."

The King looked at his own heel and all his ministers looked at their heels and sure enough "Ipswitch" was printed on every one. The King blushed at his mistake. But he quickly recovered and said, "Well, anyway, the heel in the public garden is certainly the largest heel in the world, and, as such, deserves to be known as the one and only real Ipswitch even if everyone in the Kingdom is a little Ipswitch."

THEY FELT BETTER

"To this everyone agreed because it made them feel ever so much better to have a name for their enemy. It made it all less mysterious and easier to cope with somehow. Then one of the ministers said:

"If the Ipswitch is so enormous why is it we could not see him as he passed by?"

This stumped them all but the King, who was used to all kinds of mysteries having read so many detective stories, said, "Perhaps he moved too fast or perhaps he was invisible or perhaps he was very, very thin."

"What are we to do?" finally asked the minister of action.

The King had never felt so wise and important. "It seems to me," he said simply, "that if the left foot landed here the right foot had to land somewhere else. Therefore we have only to track the footprints and we'll come to the Ipswitch."

The ministers thought this a brilliant idea and they set out at once to find where the right foot of the Ipswitch had landed. They were not too long in finding it because just as they set out word came from a distant province that a forest of pine trees had been suddenly crushed to earth.

And from a still further province word came that a large lake had inexplicably overflowed its sides the way a bathtub full of water would do if a fat man suddenly leaped into it.

The strangest thing was that all the tracks were made by a left foot!

The King and his ministers followed the left footed trail until they came finally to a great ocean and here the tracks ended.

"Ah," said the King. "It has

Would Sportsman Like Nautical Gift?

The nautical-minded sportsman will be delighted this Christmas if St. Nick leaves a new-type sailing craft under the tree.

The rubberized, kevlar craft is a watertight hydrofoil, four by eight feet. It is steered by trimming its 86 square feet of nylon sails and by crew weight.

"Lateral stability of the 'chip sailboat' is provided by two side fins which act as sled runners while launching or beaching.

Only 108 pounds, the craft can carry three crew members. It can be rigged for sailing in five minutes shore to give a full day of pleasure to both the aspiring sailor and old salt.

Family All Set for Jam Fun

An Instrument for Each One Could Make for Interesting Harmony

Christmas is a good time to start your own family philharmonic by exchanging musical gifts.

An accordion for Junior, a ukulele for Sister Sue, song flutes or inexpensive rhythm instruments for the younger set, a harmonica for Dad, and a recorder for Mom — and you're all set for jam sessions.

All of these instruments are easy to play and versatile enough to fit all sorts of family musical occasions. In fact, Junior can pick simple carols on Christmas day.

Musical educator point out you can attain reasonable skill on all of these instruments quickly and start making music together right away. You won't threaten your community symphony immediately, but you'll have lots of fun.

Whether it's the mellow tones of Mom's recorder taking the lead in an old folk song, or Sue's ukulele leading its intimate tune to a popular song, Junior's accordion will be right in the center of things.

Because it unites melody, harmony and rhythm, the accordion can give out a solo rendition of an old favorite or provide background harmonies for other instruments.

Sister Sue will find it easy, too, to make good music on her ukulele. She'll quickly learn simple chords and accompaniments for folk and popular songs, and with practice will branch out into more difficult melodies.

And Mom's recorder, an ancient woodwind instrument finding increasing popularity among amateur musicians, has soft bird-like tones ideal for harmony.

With these three, plus the harmonica that Dad probably played when he was a boy, and the small rhythmic instruments, you will have a family ensemble that will add musical merriment to all kinds of family activities the year round.

Reds Use Blackmail in Attempt to Better U.S. Relations

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Feature News Editor

It was with a remarkably boldness of timing that Communist Hungary chose this week to call for an improvement in Hungarian-United States relations.

There was not, however, anything remarkable in the fact that a regime which rose to power by a combination of brutality and treachery now should turn to blackmail as a natural means of restoring friendly relations between the two countries.

It was blackmail when the Hungarians suggested they might be willing to pardon Rosa M. C. C. Cardinal Mindszenty as part of a package deal for full U.S. recognition of the Soviet puppet regime of Premier János Kadar.

There is still no rule of law in Hungary, nor are the Hungarians people permitted to exercise the right of self-government, he wrote. He added:

"Despite adversity and repression, Hungarian national feeling remains alive, to the evident discomfort of the regime."

The Communist offer to barter for Cardinal Mindszenty's freedom, simultaneous with publication of his report, makes fitting a brief review of the tragic events of five years ago.

Moving Toward Manhood

FIRST HAIRCUT — There comes a time for every boy to become a man. Twenty-month-old Jimmy Easter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Easter, 382 Oak Knoll, Waterford Township, took that step this week. His reactions to his first haircut with dad as the barber are graphically portrayed on page 19.

They Remember Well: Pearl Harbor—1941

A majority of persons interviewed in downtown Pontiac yesterday remember well the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor which took place 20 years ago today.

Several recalled exactly what they were doing when they heard the news of the incident which led to a declaration of war against Japan by the United States.

Legislators Predicting More Taxes

LANSING — Legislative leaders are predicting that state taxes will go up next year.

They are expected to forecast the amount or the source, but most agree that lawmakers have no choice but to scrape up some new revenue. And new revenue usually means new taxes.

To explain the situation, legislators and state finance experts merely point to the increasing drain on an already overburdened state treasury.

Last June 30, six months after the sales tax went up from three cents to four, the general fund deficit stood at $71.5 million. Since then, tax revenues have continued to fall below expectations and the debt has mounted.

EXPECT $85 MILLION

By next June, it probably will exceed $85 million.

This is the unhappy situation facing Gov. Swainson and state

Varner Denies 'Split'

'62 Bright for MSUO

Michigan State University Oakland Chancellor D. B. Varner said today he looked forward with confidence to the "new year in which MSUO will continue to rise among the major universities of the nation."

Varner also commented on a published report charging a split among the faculty, as to the institutional basic goals.

"The basic goal of this institution has been, is and will be, to provide a liberal education of the highest quality. Since MSUO's truly exceptional, brilliant young faculty has been drawn from the great universities of this country and the world, such a charge is nonsense," he said.

"If there is any one thing on which the entire faculty is united, it is this goal of highest quality. There naturally is, and we hope always will be, a healthy, vigorous and continuing debate on how best to achieve the common goal."

'CHANGE' FALSE

"The charge that more than half the student body flunked out after the first six months of operation is completely false. MSUO's rate of attrition, which included not only flunk-outs but also those leaving for all other reasons, was less than the national average," the chancellor said.

Varner added that faculty senate elections held yesterday completed a month-long process of reconstituting the senate, a process which had been provided for the year the institution opened.

Flashes

CONCORD, N.H. — Atty. Gen. Maurice J. Murphy Jr., today was named to succeed the late Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H.

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced today it would send a military delegation to Communist North Viet Nam "in the near future."

Yank Soldiers Defy Warnings to Reach Berlin

Vanguard of Battle Unit Makes 110-Mile Trip Across E. Germany

BERLIN (UPI)—The vanguard of a combat-ready U.S. Army battle group rolled into Berlin today after a 110-mile trip across Communist East Germany in defiance of Soviet and East German warnings against "possible consequences."

The Communists claimed the United States had no right to use the highways linking Berlin with West Germany for troop movements.

There was no trouble. But the highway was closely guarded by East German soldiers and police. Trucks carrying Soviet and East German soldiers traveled along the Helmsdorf-Berlin autobahn at the same time as the U.S. convoy.

Other Communist troop movements were repudiated elsewhere in East Germany in apparent new military maneuvers.

CLEARED AT BORDER

On the way, it passed a convoy of the 1st Battle Group, 18th U.S. Infantry, being transferred back to West Germany from duty in Berlin.

The advance units of the 195th Airborne Division, commanded by Capt. John Keeley, 32, of Fort Sheridan, Ill. The group commander is Col. Ira Palm, of Mount Vernon, N.Y.

All were asked what anniversary was being observed today by the group.

A traveling salesman and a machine shop owner both answered that it was Armistice Day. A third man replied that he didn't know.

SHE KNEW

Except for one person, a waitress in a Pontiac restaurant, all those questioned were adults or teenagers in 1941. The young waitress replied correctly that today is the anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack.

TWO SONS IN WAR

"I don't think anyone could forget it," said an elderly woman whose two sons later served in World War I.

Another woman, Mrs. Harold Hackett Jr., of 303 Hilltop St., Waterford Township, recalled that she had just returned from

AFL-CIO Leaders Confer

Recession Power Quarrel Looms Eyed by Kennedy at Labor Parley

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — President Kennedy told organized labor today he will ask Congress for standby power to launch public projects that would put men to work in case of a recession.

Kennedy, in a speech prepared for a AFL-CIO convention, also touched a sore spot in the labor federation as well as some employers when he said that discrimination against Negroes "is a blot on our democracy and a drag on our economy."

The President announced that November employment reached a new high for the month at 67,349,000. Moreover, he said, unemployment in November fell below 6.8 per cent of the labor force for the first time in a year. The rate was 6.1 per cent.

Carrying on a campaign for broad authority to negotiate reciprocal tariff cuts, Kennedy also told the union leaders he would propose measures to help communities, industries and a working man hurt by competition from imported goods.

He rejected "permanent government paternalism," advocating instead a program that would add to and coordinate present plans for areas already hit by unemployment for small business incentives to investment in new plants and the retraining and compensation of jobless men and women.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported salt trucks were working on slippery spots in the Orion-Oxford areas and Highland, Holly and Milford areas. Morning northwesterly winds at 20 to 30 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

Thirty was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 27 at 1 p.m.

Industrial and Building Unions at Odds Over Settling Jurisdiction

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—A family squabble over how to settle jurisdictional disputes loomed today as the AFL-CIO prepared to open its 1961 national convention.

Industrial unions have insisted that they will fight for adoption of a tough dispute settlement system. The system is opposed stoutly by rival building trades.

Convention delegates took time off from routine business matters today to hear an address by President Kennedy.

Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president and chief spokesman for the industrial unions, denied Wednesday that there was any compromise agreement between the rival union groups.

He accused the building trades of "non-sense and name-calling while stealing our jobs."

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo — U.N. jet fighters today struck at Katangan ammunition dumps six miles outside Elisabethville and explosions rocked the heart of the capital.

Katangans launched another attack against the U.N. headquarters just outside the city at daybreak after a tropical thunderstorm brought firing to a halt during the night.

The U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville said an American Air Force Globemaster was fired on over Elisabethville, and the U.S. airlift was suspended while commanders in Leopoldville and Washington consulted on security arrangements for the American planes.

(The embassy denied making any official statement that the airlift of equipment to U.N. forces in Elisabethville had been suspended, but it was understood high-level consultations were going on as to whether it should continue.)

In Washington, State Department officials said U.S. Air Force cargo planes flying in the Congo undoubtedly will have to be given fighter escort.

They said the decision on operation of the planes was up to local commanders.

Fighter escorts would not be U.S. planes, officials said, but would come from smaller nations which have sent jets to the Congo.

American sources said the small arms firing came from the official residence of Katanga President Mose Tshombe while the Globemaster was coming to land at Elisabethville Airport.

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE

Several bullets hit the fuselage but no serious damage was caused. Tshombe's plane is one of the approaches to the airport.

The Globemaster was one of six heavy transports carrying reinforcements and supplies to U.N. forces in the Katanga capital. The report from Leopoldville said the United States agreed to the airlift on condition that the transports would be given full protective cover.

Foreign Minister Kvarstad Kimbo claimed U.S. Counsel Lewis Hoffacker, 38, under house arrest, charging that U.S. planes made the U.N. raids Wednesday on Katanga bases at Kolwezi and Jadville.

Both the U.S. government and the U.N. command denied that American planes were involved, but Hoffacker stayed at home today.

Another consul said diplomats in the city had tried to arrange a cease fire Wednesday night but "nobody seems to want it." He said the consuls would try again today.

The spokesman accused Katanga officials of putting out false information "in order to spread confusion about the actual situation."

He said anti-U.N. statements broadcast by Radio Katanga were evidence that the "Katanga propaganda machine is in high gear."

Fire Catches Waite's Display

Short Circuited Wiring Blamed for Blaze; Traffic Rerouted

Sparks from short-circuited electrical wiring touched off a blaze to a four-story display of Christmas decorations in front of Waite's Department Store yesterday evening.

Traffic was rerouted around Saginaw and Huron streets from 2:30 to 6:30 after the fire broke out atop the marquee of the store at 70 N. Saginaw St.

Lt. Junior Dineen of the Pontiac Fire Department said the blaze was brought under control minutes after firemen arrived at the scene.

FIRE MARSHAL

Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said today the strong winds which hit the Pontiac area last night apparently fanned the spark caused by the short circuit and set the decorations on fire.

There was no damage to the inside of the store or to the Scotch pine trees on top of the marquee, according to James L. Willette, the store's assistant manager.

The fire decorations were guaranteed fireproof by the company which sold them to Waite's, Willette said.

The fire marshal today warned other Pontiac merchants that only fireproof decorations are allowed and that Christmas tree lights must be off when their businesses are closed.

Seeks Support for Congo Plan

Thant Wants Approval for Action to Bring Katanga Under Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Bolstered by U.S. support, acting Secretary General U. Thant today sought wider approval for his sweeping new plan to bring the breakaway Congo province of Katanga under U.N. control.

U.N. sources said Thant would submit the plan to his Congo advisory committee before making it public.

Thant disclosed earlier that the plan aims at carrying out U.N. resolutions on the Congo, including the Security Council's directive of Nov. 24 authorizing him to use force if necessary to expel Katanga, the estimated 200,000 foreign mercenaries serving with President Mose Tshombe's army and air force.

Thant outlined the plan Wednesday night in a 10-minute briefing at U.N. headquarters with Adlai E. Stevenson, the chief U.S. delegate to the U.N.; G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs; and Edmund A. Gullion, U.S. ambassador to the Congo.

'U.S. VERY PLEASED'

"The United States is very pleased with the plan of the secretary general to bring Katanga under control," Stevenson said.

A U.S. spokesman said the plan included use of force to end the fighting in Katanga and a blueprint of action designed to restore peace throughout the Congo.

Williams returned to Washington to fill the state department slot vacated by Thant's plane. Gullion returns today to his post in Leopoldville.

Cables from Sure Limer, chief U.N. representative in the Congo, kept Thant abreast of the military action in Katanga. A U.N. spokesman said Limer's reports indicated the U.N. operation was going well.

The spokesman accused Katanga officials of putting out false information "in order to spread confusion about the actual situation."

Development Blueprint to Mean Face Lifting for Many Areas

A master plan for the future development of Pontiac was unveiled at City Hall last night. The city planning commission unanimously recommended adoption of the Pontiac General Development Plan.

Under study by the planning staff for almost a year, the plan proposes a major face-lifting job for Pontiac in future years.

It is a blueprint for the future development of the city.

It approved by City Commission as expected. It will be used by every department of city government as a basis for future policy.

MAY CHANGE MAP
"Adoption of this general plan by the planning commission and City Commission will result in a change for changes in our zoning ordinances and map," said James L. Bates, planning director.

The plan proposes "strip" type of commercial development.

One of its major promises is that commercial activity be condensed into three basic types of shopping units: Local shopping districts, fringe districts and commercial districts.

DOWNTOWN TO BE HUB
The hub of all commercial activity will be Pontiac's downtown central business district.

The plan separates residential areas into 30 "neighborhood units." Each is built around an elementary school.

The plan proposes that industrial land be increased to 12 per cent of the total city acreage. It is currently 7 per cent.

Much of the increase would be for expansion of General Motors Corp. facilities. Some residential areas would have to be rezoned for industrial use south of Fisher Body Division and north of Pontiac Motor Division.

In addition, considerable vacant land would be zoned for light industry, according to the plan.

Also elected for 1962 were: Secretary F. Michael Sheridan, M.D., of Royal Oak; treasurer John L. Barrett, M.D., of Royal Oak; directors Bruce D. Bauer,

M.D., of Hazel Park, and Zachary F. Endress, M.D., of Pontiac.

Elected to represent the county society in the state society's House of Delegates were:

Delegates—Dr. Merle Haasey of Pontiac, Dr. Paul Lahti of Birmingham and Dr. Vincent P. Russell of Royal Oak.

Justice Offered Police Post Bid

Detroit's Mayor - Elect Asks George Edwards' OK as Commissioner

DETROIT (UPI)—Mayor-elect Jerome Cavanaugh has offered Michigan Supreme Court Justice George Edwards the post of Detroit police commissioner.

Cavanaugh said Wednesday night, "I have considered Mr. Edwards for this position and I have discussed it with him. He is presently considering its acceptance."

The Detroit Free Press said in a copyright article by its managing editor, Frank Angelo, that Edwards has not given final acceptance.

Edwards was quoted by the Free Press as saying:

"The mayor has talked to me about the job. I am considering it. I think the office of police commissioner of Detroit is one of the most important in the State of Michigan and a tremendously challenging one."

"My problem is that I'm engaged in work I love and it, too, is tremendously important."

"It won't be long before I make up my mind. I certainly plan to make a decision within a week."

Edwards has been a member of the Michigan Supreme Court since 1956. His term runs through Dec. 31, 1967.

Hart Proposes Refugee Plan

Senator Would Relocate Cuban Exiles but Needs Federal Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., has suggested a plan for relocating many of the Cuban refugees who have clustered in Florida.

Hart is chairman of a Senate judiciary subcommittee which began hearings Wednesday on the Cuban refugee problem. The hearings continue today.

It was clear, Hart said, that the primary hope of the refugees was to return to Cuba.

"The problem we have," he said, "is how we can arrange relocation without destroying the hope among the refugees. I think we can spread out the refugees without dashing that hope."

SETTLE IN FLORIDA
About 80,000 Cuban exiles have settled in Florida's Dade County, Miami leaders, appearing before the subcommittee Wednesday, called for relocation, but Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, a spokesman for many of the exiles, said resettlement would be difficult.

Hart said he thought the federal government has a responsibility in the refugee problem. "What we're doing now is on a patchwork basis, without any specific fund," he said.

The subcommittee is seeking information to help it assess legislation in the next session to provide additional federal assistance for the refugees.

THE DAY IN BIRMINGHAM
BIRMINGHAM—Top priority is being given by the Birmingham Board of Education and administration to carry out the building program made possible with voters approval of a $4,315,000 bond issue.

Evidence of this is shown by the fact that the school board and staff members spent seven hours in a special study and discussion session recently, said Supt. Otis M. Dickey.

"We are hoping to complete as much of the planning phase of the building program as possible at this time in order to have most of the elementary school projects completed by the fall of 1962," Dickey added.

"In all, over 45 items were discussed about the relationship during building construction of the school district, architect and staff members and their respective responsibilities."

Also discussed were the educational specifications for the new junior high building to be built on the Valley Woods site. The specifications, presented by Daniel Nesbitt, deputy superintendent, are the result of extensive planning and study by teachers and administrators.

Oil Executive Stresses Diversification in State

"Diversification would stimulate growth because of its influence on the stability of the community." That statement was made by J. C. Donnell, II, president of the Ohio Oil Co., which this year is making capital investments of $14 million in Michigan.

Michigan industry is diversified, the Michigan Economic Development Department points out, but it is encouraging even greater diversification.

Michigan industry lists more than 80 per cent of the skills recognized by the United States Department of the Census. That means skilled workers are available for virtually any industry.

It means that present industry can expand into new operations or that a new industry can locate in Michigan and be assured of trained workers.

Even greater diversification is desirable, the department points out, to offer greater stability to Michigan's economy. With Michigan research facilities, new industries have available great technical assistance. Present industries have this same opportunity for assistance in developing new products, the department added.

Diversification is good for community and a state where diversification is encouraged in a good place for industry, the department noted.

A Small Girl Wonders—
Is There a Santa Claus?

At the request of one of our subscribers we are reprinting one of the most famous Christmas editorials of all time.

Eight-year-old Virginia O'Hanlon wrote the New York Sun in the fall of 1897 to say that some of her little friends had claimed that there was no Santa Claus and to ask for "the truth—is there a Santa Claus?"

The Sun's answer, printed Sept. 21, 1897, said:

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy."

"Alas, how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence."

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not even the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond."

"No Santa Claus? Thank God, he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, may ten times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

World Will Soon Know
Fate of Eichmann

The crimes against humanity for which ADOLF EICHMANN stood trial are so massive and so revolting that it is only fitting that the reading of the judgment will take about three days beginning on Monday, Dec. 11. The verdict of the three Israeli judges will be preceded by the court's announcement of whether EICHMANN has been found guilty of 15 criminal charges, 12 of which carry the death penalty.

Eichmann's part in the murder of six million Jews during World War II was painstakingly detailed during the trial that began last April 11 and ended Aug. 14. His only defense was that he had only been a small cog in the Nazi command and had done no more than carry out orders from above. We can't help but feel that this was relatively no defense at all.

In the eyes of the world he was guilty as charged. He should be punished accordingly. After the court hands down its verdict, and before sentence is passed, prosecution and defense council will argue for and against the death penalty.

The high moment of the drama in the entire trial could come when EICHMANN addresses the court before sentence is pronounced. He will not be speaking for himself alone, but also will be giving his final word on the whole Nazi era that went on trial with him.

How Can Ex-Presidents
Help Con-Con Delegates?

Asking former Presidents DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER and HARRY S. TRUMAN to speak to the con-con delegates in Lansing is just so much window dressing. We doubt if either man can really help the delegates. Their speeches will amount to pep-talks. "In these troubled times, you delegates are facing an enormous problem in . . ."

Ex-President HERBERT HOOVER is more worthy as a con-con source person. His recommendations for improving the Federal Government had merit. But even what he has to add could be supplied in a succinct report.

If the delegates are going to meet their deadline, they're going to need all their time, without wasting any on Government celebrities and prestige visits.

David Lawrence Worries:

U.N. Mustn't Go Soft on Red China

WASHINGTON — It is not generally realized that the debate in the United Nations as to whether Red China should be admitted to membership goes to the heart of the issue of moral law in the world today. In the background is an age-old question: Why do wars come? Primarily because one side is confident that the other is too weak to resist effectively or because one side will not fight—even if strong. The reasons are numerous but among them is the central fact that Red China has never repented of its aggression. The American spokesmen at the United Nations have just finished telling the world in clear-cut terms to the General Assembly why Red China should not be admitted to the United Nations.

Voice of the People:

'People in New York State Ready, Willing to Gamble'

New York State's racing season just closed and the betting totaled $1,061,041,531. That's how ready people are to do a little gambling. Incidentally, the State of New York received $10 million, which ain't hay—even in a horse barn.

The Lottery Control Commission in New York reports 31 million people have spent $10 million in this favorite church sport and received $75 million in prizes in three years.

I read that 1961 has been a "slow" year, but it wasn't very slow for the people that voluntarily wanted to risk a few bob on a game of chance. A federal lottery for a billion dollars with a hundred million in tax exempt cash prizes would find long lines forming at the window for fear the deal would be over-subscribed. The whole sum could go to tax reduction.

And—don't forget—those that aren't in favor can stay home and never risk a copper. The rest will take part unasked.

'Radio Broadcasting Needs Attention'

Help, help. We are all done with rain barrel broadcasting and now it's back and it sounds more garbled and messy than it did before. Won't someone do some thing? S. I.

Avondale Athletics Interest Citizen

Someone else is concerned about athletics at Avondale. The lack of participation at Avondale is appalling. I'm for an intramural and varsity program. This business of 27 boys playing football at Avondale is disgusting.

Avondale's track team completed 1/7 of a point in a league track meet and many of their better players left the team to play with the boys' club because of better sponsorship and enthusiasm.

I won't vote for another cent of millage until they clean up this phase of education. Also Concerned

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Give That Final, Tactful 'Push'

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE K-70. Russell Hirschman is a topnotch Indiana Bell Telephone executive. "Dr. Crane," he phoned me recently, "I am mailing you some cases that should be of special interest."

"Dick Musser is the manager of our sales department and to show our girls the difference between a 'clerk' versus a real 'salesman,' he recently conducted a unique experiment."

"He sent them out on a shopping expedition with instruction to buy ONLY if the department store sales person ASKED them to buy."

Here are some of the reports from the Bell Telephone sales girls. Janie Stanley went three places and couldn't get rid of any money! Her first stop was the "Five and Ten" candy counter. "Here the clerk didn't even ask if she could be of help."

At lunch, the waitress merely took Janie's order and made no suggestions at all. When Janie reached the department store, looking for a head scarf, the clerk simply pointed to them and let her take care of herself.

Eileen Thompson went to a department store, stopping at the hosiery counter. The clerk did comment "What size? What color? They're 98 cents."

Then Eileen went to the purse counter, telling the clerk she was interested in a straw bag, but didn't know exactly what she wanted, so was open to suggestions. The clerk said, "They're over there. If you find anything you like, let me know." Eileen did meet a real sales person, however, in the lingerie section.

Eileen said she wanted a $3 gift, so the store clerk replied that she could offer a lot of pretty things and asked for a description of the one who was to receive the gift.

From Eileen's description, the clerk then suggested some shortie pajamas, pointing out some of the salient features and concluding, "If I were you, I'd take these because I'd like to have them myself."

So Eileen bought! Janet Friedley patronized the glove counter where the clerk showed some salesmanship and closed the sale.

Jeannette Roberts got an excellent "pitch" from a courteous clerk in the notions department. The clerk did a good selling job for 10 minutes but Jeannette to close!

So Jeannette came back to Bell Telephone with her money, unspent. Ben Huffman had a similar experience . . . the clerk put on a glowing sales talk but never made an attempt to close the sale.

Lacy Durham and Connie Griffin then tried some small stores. A clerk sold Lacy a skirt but Lacy later failed to buy shoes and cosmetics in a department store for lack of a positive sales closing.

Connie, however, found a shoe salesman who not only closed the deal for a new pair of shoes but then demonstrated a purse to match.

Judy Morrison had no luck buying shoes or cosmetics, but the clerk in the handbag section sold her. Elizabeth Bradford went "grand shopping" for a hat for a boy. The clerk sold her dangle earrings and a shirt by some positive salesmanship. Bell Telephone girls thus learned the vital importance of closing the sale.

So send for my booklet "Sure-fire Sales and Advertising Strategy," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Even clergymen can't get converts unless they ASK for such positive action!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. All letters are read and answered. Self-addressed envelope and 20 cents in U.S. funds are required when you send for my psychological check-up booklet.

STEPHEN J. CLOONAN

Cloonan's Drugs Is Celebrating 50th Birthday

Stephen J. Cloonan, owner and manager of Cloonan's Drug Store, 72 N. Saginaw St., today celebrates the store's 50th birthday.

At 56, Cloonan, who started working in the store as a delivery boy and broom operator, says he is looking forward to the store's next 50 years.

His uncle, Martin J., opened the drug store in 1911 as the Beach and Cloonan Drug Store. In 1935, after finishing the pharmacy course at Ferris Institute and working in the store for 17 years, Cloonan became manager.

Last year, he bought the remaining interest in the store from his uncle's estate.

"The pharmaceutical business has changed a lot in the last 50 years," he said. "For one thing, I don't work the hours I used to. Now, since the hospitals have their own pharmacies, there is less need to be on 24-hour duty, although we are for emergencies."

"The future looks just as good to me as the past does," he said. He lives at 4361 Forest St., Waterford Township.

Stop News Barrier on President's Flights

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Aviation Agency officials say their clampdown on news of presidential flights was all a big mistake.

The FAA revoked the order Wednesday night on instructions from the White House only hours after the new policy had become known.

FAA officials said the original order had been "inadvertently" published Nov. 22 without the approval of the White House. It forbids all FAA personnel from giving out any information before, during and after any flights of President Kennedy, his family, and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

To Question 3 Youths in Cabbie's Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—Police held three teen-age boys for questioning today in the robbery slaying of Raymond Goodenough, 35, a cab driver.

Goodenough was found shot to death early Wednesday near his parked cab.

Lawrence Moore turned his 16-year-old son Ronald over to police after he learned the youth was being sought.

Police held the youth along with Charles Cusby, 17, and Robert Jenkins, 15, for investigation of murder.

Find Dinosaur Skeleton 151 Million Years Old

CAPE TOWN (UPI)—A British and South African scientific expedition reported today it has uncovered a dinosaur skeleton estimated to be 151 million years old. The find was made in the Herchel district near Basutoland.

SHE DIES — Mrs. John Alex McCone, 53, wife of the new director of the Central Intelligence Agency, died Wednesday in Washington en route to a hospital in an ambulance. The apparent cause of death was a heart attack, a spokesman for her husband said.

Free Bus Plan
Shocks Lausche

Ithaca, N. Y., Applies
for $120,000 to Set Up
'Research' Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said Wednesday he was "shocked" by a proposed Ithaca, N.Y., experiment which would use federal funds to help provide free bus transportation in the city.

The Ithaca City Council has applied for a $120,000 grant under a transit law which set up a $50-million fund to help rehabilitate transportation systems and finance research programs.

"I do not mind saying to you that I am shocked," Lausche wrote to John C. Kohl, federal urban transportation administrator.

"Where will this program end," he asked. "If Ithaca is entitled to free transportation what about the other communities of the country?"

The Ithaca grant was requested under the research phase of the law which was intended to stimulate new creative experiments in moving commuters to and from work.

The city apparently feels it would be economical to provide the free bus rides to encourage more persons to use public transportation rather than drive their automobiles.

Ithaca, a city of 30,000, claims that under present traffic conditions it will have to build 300 to 500 parking spaces which would cost nearly $1 million.

Lausche, who voted against the transit aid law when it passed last year, said he did not believe it was to include programs to provide free urban transportation.

Clubs in Lansing
for Three Days

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's youngest—and, according to some, hardest-working — legislators convened in Lansing today.

They are high school students, all members of Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs, who will make up the annual youth legislature, sponsored by the YMCA. Some 200 youngsters and their advisers will participate in the three-day event.

Rep. Don Pears, R-Buchanan, speaker of the House, will address the opening session this afternoon. Other speakers include Gov. Swainson, constitutional convention delegates Alvin M. Bentley, R-Ontonio, and Dr. Charles Anspach, R-Mount Pleasant, president emeritus of Central Michigan University. Anspach is chairman of the state Y board.

GENERAL MANAGER

First Jap Prisoner Laughs at 'His Short War'

TOYOTA, Japan (AP)—Kazuo Sakamaki laughs today about being the first Japanese prisoner captured by the Americans in World War II.

He was the skipper of a midge submarine assigned to sneak into Pearl Harbor on that Sunday morning two decades ago—Dec. 7, 1941—and torpedoed the battleship Pennsylvania.

Sakamaki's attack turned into a fiasco that ended with him being washed up nearly drowned on the feet of a U.S. Army sergeant on a sandy seashore in Hawaii at dawn the next day.

PRETTY SHORT WAR

Now the well-to-do chief of exports for Japan's largest automobile manufacturer, Toyota Motor Co. Ltd., Sakamaki looks back at his two-day war against the United States and says: "Pretty short war. The Pearl Harbor attack started World War II for me—and ended it."

It wasn't until this year that he got a look at Pearl Harbor—aboard a cruise ship.

The Japanese government declared him dead rather than admit that an imperial navy officer had submitted to the disgrace of capture.

Sakamaki said he and his single crewman, Petty Officer Kiyoshi Inagaki, left Japan's Kure naval base on Oct. 16 aboard "mother sub" No. 24 bound for Pearl Harbor.

Their midge sub, 78 feet long and packing two 18-inch torpedoes, was strapped on No. 24's deck. They surfaced off the harbor the evening of Dec. 6. Four other two-man subs already had arrived aboard other mother subs.

"We could see the stars twinkling. There were many lights visible for the shore," he said. "I listened to music from a Honolulu radio station."

All hands were issued sake for a farewell party. About midnight Sakamaki and Inagaki climbed into the midge sub and set off for Pearl Harbor, seven miles away.

The midge ran into trouble the moment it was launched. Its steering gear went out of order and the sub bucked through the sea "like a wild horse."

"Every time I started the engines the nose popped up to the surface," Sakamaki said. "So for three hours Inagaki and I carried heavy lead ballast from the stern to the bow. This exhausted us."

ATTACKED BY PATROLS

When the sub finally got on course Sakamaki put up the periscope and saw "two American patrol boats so close I could see the seamen running on the deck." The Americans dropped depth charges "and the sub was twisted violently this way and that." Both Japanese received minor wounds

Display Collection of Surgical Tools

A collection of antique surgical and medical instruments is now on display at the Pontiac district office of Michigan Blue-Cross-Blue Shield, 1054 W. Huron St.

Many of the instruments are more than 100 years old. One of the instruments reflects the ancient medical myth of blood-letting as a basic treatment for almost every disease. It was the exposure of modern medical practice in which the patient is given more blood through transfusion. The exhibits are the property of the University Hospital at the University of Michigan.

enter the harbor and dash into a battleship and explode the torpedoes that way," Sakamaki said. "Then the sub hit a coral reef just outside the harbor and came to the surface. Sakamaki saw an American destroyer close by and U.S. guns on the shore."

TOO CLOSE TO SHOOT

"An American officer told me later the destroyer was too close to shoot at me with its big guns," Sakamaki said. He quickly backed the sub into deeper water to wait until darkness for another attempt to enter the harbor.

"By this time the bad air and gas in the sub and the tension had almost killed us," Sakamaki said. Repeated attempts to enter the harbor the night of Dec. 7 failed and Inagaki argued they should withdraw to take part in future attacks on San Francisco, Manila, Singapore and Sydney (Australia).

Sakamaki agreed and headed the sub for Laysan Island, south-east of Pearl Harbor, where they were to be picked up by the mother sub.

"At dawn on Dec. 8 we surfaced off what we thought was Laysan," Sakamaki said, "but it turned out we were near the northeast coast of Oahu Island—way off course."

"We hit another reef and were unable to float off so we set the sub on fire and jumped overboard. I was so exhausted I was unable to swim, so I just floated on my back. Inagaki tried to swim to shore and I learned later he drowned."

"I felt unconscious while floating and the next thing I remember I was being picked up on the beach by an American Army sergeant."

Even in the jungle, chimpanzees perform stamping dances, pound rhythmically on hollow trees and sometimes adorn themselves with leafy branches and flowers.

Measles and Chicken Pox Up Sharply Last Month

Cases of chicken pox and measles reported to the Oakland County Health Department rose considerably during the month of November.

In Pontiac, the number of new cases of chicken pox increased from 3 in October to 39 in November as compared with 2 new cases in November of last year. Reports of new measles cases rose from six in October to 25 in November, against 3 last November.

Dr. Bernard Bernman, deputy director of the Oakland County Health Department, cautioned against misinterpreting the statistics. He explained that the viral diseases normally increase during the late fall and winter months.

Frequency of these diseases seems to follow a seasonal and yearly pattern, he added. Ninety new cases of chicken pox and 241 of measles were reported for the county outside of Pontiac as compared with 53 and 74 for October and 72 and 40 for November of last year.

Stolen Building Is Found After Long Search

BAXTER SPRINGS, Kan. (AP)—Police have caught up with a stolen building—6 miles away in Oklahoma.

The two-room structure, valued at $1,200, belongs to James Hunter. He used it as an office on property he owns south of Baxter Springs. The building disappeared in August. Jim Shaw, Cherokee County attorney, said investigators found it was moved several miles and used as an office at a junk yard operated by Charles Rogers of Baxter Springs.

Shaw said it was sold later to two Baxter Springs businessmen who moved it to the shore of Grand Lake in Oklahoma for a fishing cabin. Officers found it at the lake Wednesday.

Rogers and Glen Riley of Joplin, an associate, pleaded innocent to grand larceny charges Wednesday night and were released on $1,500 bond for a preliminary hearing Dec. 19.

Blind Golfer Scores on Ace in Florida

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Charles Tooth, blind since the age of 9, scored a hole-in-one Wednesday.

Tooth, 57, of St. Petersburg and Hamilton, Ontario, recorded what is believed to be the only ace ever scored by a blind golfer. He used a five wood on the 187-yard hole at the Pasadena golf course.

He formed the Canadian Blind Golf Association in 1918 and was its president until 1957. He was Canadian champion in 1945-46 and 1957.

School Payment to Be Sent Early

Partial Aid From State to Help Districts Meet Payroll Before Yule

LANSING (AP)—A partial state aid payment to schools will be sent out early to enable school districts to meet payrolls and other obligations before the Christmas vacation begins. Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said today.

Some $20 million will be distributed about Dec. 15, 10 days ahead of schedule, he said.

The sum is approximately half of the December payment. The rest is unavailable because tax revenues have not been adequate recently, Bartlett said.

Schools needing additional revenue generally borrow against anticipated state aid. "It is very possible that revenues collected between now and Feb. 25, the date of the first payment in the new year, will permit a full state aid payment," Bartlett said.

Swim Frustration Ends for PNH Against PCH

Pontiac Northern swim coach Ed Dauw was given a bath last night. Not that he needed it, but it seemed to be the thing to do after Pontiac Northern defeated Pontiac Central 61-44 in a swim meet at PNH. After all, the victory came after trying for six previous meets. The Huskies took seven firsts and set two varsity records in defeating the Chiefs.

Individual honors however went to Bob Lorenz who won his two free style events for the second meet in a row. Lorenz was a double winner in the 100 and 200 yard free style last week against Flint Northern and he repeated his performance again last night.

Len Ferrell set a varsity record for PNH in the breast stroke with a time of 1:12.8 and the Northern medley relay team won by minutes flat for a varsity mark.

Lou Cassadon started the meet for PNH with a victory in the 400

Even JFK Can't Find Out Ernie Davis' Future Plans

NEW YORK (AP)—Even President Kennedy couldn't find out Wednesday what are the pro football intentions of Syracuse's Ernie Davis, the nation's No. 1 college player—but he tried.

"What are your future plans, Ernie?" the President asked, as he shook hands with the strapping, 210-pound halfback in the west lobby of the grand ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

"I play in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia Dec. 16, sir," Ernie replied. "After that, I haven't made up my mind."

The coal miner's grandson from Elmira, N.Y., and the President passed pleasantries for 45 seconds at the insistence of the Chief Executive.

NCAA, AAU Study Plan to Compromise Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—College and the Amateur Athletic Union studied today a plan to compromise their dispute over control of U.S. basketball. The proposal by Louis G. Wilke of Bartlesville, Okla., sets up a delicate power balance between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. It also provides representation for other groups interested in amateur basketball.

All groups present at Wednesday's meeting here will report their views on the proposal to Wilke before Dec. 27. Wilke, vice president of the Federation of International Basketball Associations (FIBA), was chosen by FIBA to mediate the dispute. When he gets the reaction of

Record 751 Schools Await Hoop Meet

LANSING (AP)—A record number of schools will be competing in the annual high school basketball tournament next year, the State Department of Public Instruction reported today.

There will be 751 teams in action throughout the state, a jump from the 744 in the last tourney.

In addition, 20 public schools from Detroit are competing in the tourney next year for the first time since 1959.

The association announced the classes assigned, entertaining schools and locations for 93 Lower Peninsula district and 18 regional tournaments.

District tournament will be held March 6-10 and the regionals will be played off March 13-17.

Quarter-final locations will be announced prior to the March 21 date. The semifinals and finals will be held at Lansing and East Lansing March 23 and 24.

Upper Peninsula district and regional locations will be announced later.

Both Sides Expect Bout to Go Route

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Both sides predicted Wednesday that the 15-round Gene Fullmer-Benny (Kid) Pareit midweight title fight Saturday will go to the distance.

Marv Jensen, manager of Fullmer, the 160-pound champion, said: "We've been thinking about knockouts in our last 10 or 12 fights but it hasn't happened to often. When a man is in good condition, it's pretty tough to knock him out."

Fullmer, his training camp nearly ended, scheduled only one light workout Wednesday and the same end of the week.

Pareit planned four fast rounds Wednesday and loosening up sessions through Friday.

17 Grid Teams Finish Without Losses or Ties

Seventeen college football teams completed their regular seasons without a loss or tie, an Associated Press check showed Sunday.

Alabama, which made Auburn its 10th victim 34-0 Saturday, and Rutgers, which closed out a 9-0 state a week ago, were the only major colleges on the list.

Italian Cup Hopes Revived by Defeat

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Italy's Davis Cup hopes revived sharply today when giant Orlando Sirola showed an amazing reversal of form during the Victorian Championships.

Partnering teammate Nicola Pietrangeli, Sirola helped make the tough Australian pair of Rod Laver and Jimmy Shepherd fight all the way before they won the doubles quarterfinal 7-9, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4.

Davis was in the midst of a photo and newsreel session at the Carlton Athletic Club, prior to a press luncheon, when word came that the President was anxious to see him.

The star Syracuse halfback, Syracuse official Val Pinchbeck and two officials of the athletic club grabbed a taxi and rushed to the Carlton Hotel, where the President was staying. They ran into security regulations and by the time they got near the hotel the President was being driven away. They got only a fleeting glance

DeBusschere vs. Dischinger in Top Battle

Titans Play Tonight, but Await Purdue Saturday

University of Detroit and Dave DeBusschere may be looking ahead to Saturday's big basketball battle against Purdue at Lafayette, but the Titans better not overlook DeBusschere's clash against Missouri Valley Conference team Tulsa.

U. of D. is 2-0 for the season and Tulsa is 1-1, but the Titans have had a couple of breathers and should be well aware of what caliber of basketball is played in the powerful Missouri Valley. Detroit was a member for six years.

Going into tonight's game, DeBusschere is averaging 24.5 points per game.

Saturday's struggle against the Bollermakers will put together DeBusschere against another All-American star Terry Dischinger at 2:00 p.m.

"Disch" tallied 21 and gathered 20 rebounds.

In the first half of last year's game at Purdue, DeBusschere suffered a groin injury and missed the second half. He was never at peak effectiveness after his return. Dischinger had a sensational night, scoring 31 points and nabbing 18 rebounds as Purdue routed Detroit, 83-64. DeBusschere scored 15 points and gathered only nine rebounds.

This season, both seniors are off to good starts. Dischinger scored 31 points in Purdue's opening victory over Pittsburgh.

Most pleasing aspects in the Titan camp are the fine performances turned in by sophomores Ed Ferguson (6-8) and guard Al Cech (6-7). Ferguson has averaged 22.5 and 12 rebounds while Cech has scored at a 12.5 rate. Veteran guard Frank Chikowski (6-1) is hitting at a 14 clip and fifth starter Harrison Munson is averaging 8.5.

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Hope College rode to a 79-63 basketball victory over Wheaton on the high scoring of Jim Vanderlip and Glen VanWeiren. Each tallied 21 points.

Roger Johnson led the Illinois team with 20 points.

Hope now has a 1-2 record. Wheaton is 2-1.

The first half but Adrian pulled away and led 28-25 at halftime.

Top scorers for Adrian were John Johnson with 18 points and Don Numbers with 16. Dennis Groat was high for Albion with 23 and his teammate, Bruce Vandrais scored 18.

Calvin went on a scoring spree and overpowered Hillsdale College 91-67 in a non-conference basketball game. Calvin led 44-35 at halftime.

Henry Demots and Carl De Kulp led the Calvin scoring with 19 points each.

Chicago Helped by Double Bill

By The Associated Press
What the Chicago Majors need to get into first place in the American Basketball League's Eastern Division is more doubleheaders like the one at Chicago Wednesday night.

When the doubleheader started, the Majors—in third place—traded second place Pittsburgh by 1½ games and first place Cleveland by three. A few hours later, they had gained a full game on each club.

Los Angeles, runner-up team in the Western Division, opened with a 104-93 victory over Pittsburgh as Bill Sivey scored 24 points. Then the Majors whipped Cleveland for the second straight night, 101-85. Herschel Turner scored 22 points, Governor Vaughn 19 and Kelly Coleman 14.

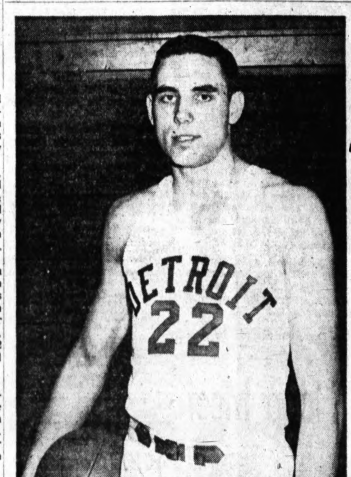

Los Angeles' victory was a costly one, since it cost the Jets the playing services of player-coach Bill Shuman for about two weeks. The former Boston Celtics' star suffered a broken middle finger on his right hand.

Gay Brewer Among Top Money Winners

And runner-up Arnold Palmer took a big step in his bid to overtake the money-winning pastmaster, South African Gary Player, who has quit the tournament trail for the season. Palmer won $1,800 in the West Palm Beach Open. Player, who has winnings of $61,540 for 1961, Palmer now has $69,732. Brewer, who wasn't among the top 10 last week, moved into the eighth spot with total winnings of $29,240. Bob Rosburg, 10th last week, dropped off the list.

Doug Sanders, who won $306 in the West Palm Beach tournament for a 10th place finish, is third on the list with $57,069. Bill Casper, Jr. is fourth with $37,706 and Jay Sato, Dec. 23-25 for Christmas and Dec. 31—the day before the game.

BACK IN OLD FORM — Dave DeBusschere, one of the most sought after prep basketball players in Michigan several years ago, is hitting 24.5 points per game at the University of Detroit. He has been one of the top scorers and rebounders in the country. Tonight the Titans face Tulsa at home, but Saturday the big showdown game between Detroit and highly ranked Purdue will feature DeBusschere against another All-American, Terry Dischinger.

UCLA Picks Same Place for Drills as Huskies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Washington worked out in Long Beach before the 1960 and 1961 Rose Bowl games, and won both times.

So UCLA, possibly hoping some of the magic rubs onto it, will drill in the nearby oceanfront community, too.

Coach Billy Barnes said Wednesday the Bruins will work out at Long Beach City College Dec. 27-30, and will stay at the Lafayette Hotel, a duplicate of the Husky arrangements.

ACCEPTS TROPHY — The Associated Press

instituted a grid trophy last night in memory of the late Glenn MacDonald, former editor of the Bay City Times. The trophy was presented to Bay City Handy, the AP's Class A state football

Baylor's Point Spree Continues Against Nats

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Elgin Baylor, possibly the best basketball player in the world, probably will be an outstanding soldier if the Army decides to take him back. And, after what's happened the last three nights in the National Basketball Association, you can't blame coach Alex Hannum of the Syracuse Nationals for urging Baylor to start proving it.

Monday night, Baylor—on a six-week reprieve from duty while he appeals his recall—scored 50 points and led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 131-120 victory over Syracuse.

Tuesday night, Baylor scored 46 points, 10 in a row at a late stage, and the Lakers whipped the Nats 125-120.

Wednesday night, at Los Angeles, the Lakers beat Syracuse in overtime, 122-121. Baylor scored 47 points, including 7 of his team's 10 points in the overtime period.

The three-game streak has helped the Lakers build their NBA Western Division lead to 5½ games over runner-up Cincinnati, which lost 103-102 to the Boston Celtics, Wednesday night.

In other games, St. Louis, with Bob Pettit scoring 31 points and newly-acquired Vera Hutton providing backcourt help, beat Philadelphia 137-132; and Detroit crushed New York, 135-97.

The Celtics blew most of a 21-point lead before beating the Royals, who outscored Boston 27-13 in a just-missed fourth quarter. Bill Russell scored 28 points and Frank Ramsey 24 for Boston, which again got only limited service from ailing Bob Cousy. Oscar Robertson's 31 led Cincinnati.

Hutton, former Kentucky star recently cut loose by the Chicago Packers, found time to do some play-making and scored 21 points, including the go-ahead basket as St. Louis overpowered Philadelphia with 46 points in the last

Does Ziva Know More About Marriage Bustup?

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—If you want to talk about that Dinah Shore-George Montgomery bustup, better speak to that beautiful Israeli sexpot, Ziva Rodann, who may know more than she Ziva was George's leading lady three months in the Philippines... traveled with him to Tokyo and Hong Kong... even had dinner here a week ago when he confided that the marriage situation looked very bad.

"We were only good friends," the curvy brunette said, claiming on a visit to the Wilsons' apartment.

"But George seemed to know something was going to happen," she says. "Though I never expected this."

Perhaps, she said, a European fan magazine did it worse. It printed stories that her Italian admirer, Prince Orsini, arriving in Hong Kong, found her lunching with George Montgomery and suggested a duel. Though a phony story, it bore Dinah's picture—and might have been seen by her, Ziva says.

"George was always talking about Dinah," says Ziva. "I helped him buy her a vicuna coat..."

Insisting she isn't a home-wrecker but only trying to start a home of her own, Ziva said "It's true I want a husband... but only mine... nobody else's... so I wouldn't be interested in Dinah's."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

George Wood of the Win. Morris office is set to unveil a French juke box with built-in movie screen. Sid Caesar's investing in a syndicate building art. house... Cesar Romero's design suits for a men's clothing firm...

Harry Golden and Carl Sandburg'll tour bookstores, autographing the volume Golden wrote about Sandburg.

EARL'S PEARLS: A small Midwest town abandoned its curfew law. Seems the bell rang at 9 p.m., and woke everybody up.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Have you seen the newly bred turkeys with dotted lines? They're for inexperienced carvers—Arnold Glasow.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: One of the quickest ways to meet people is to pick up the wrong drink at a bar—Sam Pascal.
Taffy Tuttle's getting very fussy about getting presents. Someone gave her a gift certificate—and she exchanged it... That's earl, brother.

Dorian Gray Portrait Was Too Crowded

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—A rush of brushwork spurred across the TV canvas and presto! Out came a compact, postage-stamp impression of "The Picture of Dorian Gray."

The season's first "Golden Show-case" dramatic special on CBS-TV was a one-hour version of Oscar Wilde's eerie morality play which evokes the imagination by transferring the wages of one man's sin from his flesh to his portrait—until the grim finish sets matters right in so compelling a fashion.

For this hedonistic, he-dunnit, executive producer David Susskind imported John Fraser, a handsome British actor, for the title role. George C. Scott, no stranger to roles shaded in villainy, took a stab at being the diabolical Lord Henry; Louis Hayward took charge of the artist's role, Basil Hallward, and succeeded as one else in the cast did in putting meat and bone into the part.

Since the stars were denied sufficient time to grab hold of their roles, you can imagine how much less was left for the rest of the cast, which included Susan Oliver, Margaret Phillips and Robert Walker.

Fraser was technically effective as Dorian Gray, but the bounding script cut his scenes into fragments. Scott, who normally takes to "heavy" parts the way Susskind takes to British literature, didn't get the opportunity to make his sardonic influence felt. Cordie Hardwicke was the narrator. His speech makes me think I'm going deaf.

The production was simultaneously true and false to the original story. True insofar as it followed Wilde's idea, false where mood and depth were concerned. But we can't have everything with our TV adaptations, can we?

"The Picture of Dorian Gray" needed its richer hues to be spread upon the canvas at a more leisurely pace. Unfortunately, it was drawn on blueprint paper with the precision of the draftsman Wednesday night.

Counterfeit record albums are upon us. Now I'm checking my album covers to see if Shelley Bayman's coloring is sharp and Frank Sinatra's ring-ding is loud and clear.

CD Unit Hears Training Plans

Minister and Oakland Radiation Officer Speak at Council Meeting

ROCHESTER — A minister and radiation defense officer were the main speakers at Saturday's meeting of the Northeast Oakland Civil Defense Council.

Emphasizing the importance of having trained personnel in an emergency, was County Radiation Defense Officer Irvin Schreiber.

However, Rev. Robert H. Jacobson of the First Congregational Church warned that CD organizations must be careful not to give people a false sense of security and lead them to believe they are prepared for war.

The church, he said, cannot condone an attitude that terrorism is a tolerable simply because there is some place to hide.

"If the government deems it necessary, the church will support civil defense operations," Rev. Jacobson said. "However, the primary concern of this kind of civil defense must be preservation of our human ideals and democratic institutions, not only of individuals."

OUTLINES PLANS

Schreiber outlined plans to train 300 to 400 people within a year in Oakland County in radiological monitoring. This job would mean that in attack of any nature or in industrial accident, the county would be in position to have men trained in reading radiation measuring instruments and send them into emergency areas.

"These people would be sent to various parts of the county," he said. "Their information would then be sent to a central location which would then be able to determine how bad radiation is."

"In this way, the people can be informed how long to stay in shelters in case of an attack and what precautions to take in an industrial accident."

"We will have to live with atomic power as with electricity whether we have war or not," Schreiber said. "The need for trained personnel applies even to peace time and the industrial accident."

Twenty-five people have been trained already. Expansion of the program is expected to train more. Other personnel also have been trained by various municipalities in addition to the county training program.

Members of the Northeast Oakland County CD Council are from the villages of Rochester, Lake Orion, Oakfield, the township of Oakland, Avon, Addison, Oxford and Orion and the city of Troy.
