Firing Reports True—Wilson

DETROIT (AP)—"It's true," Head Coach George Wilson says of the reported firings of three Detroit Lion coaching aides.

Wilson, over whose strong objections the firings were ordered, said the news wasn't supposed to have come out until today. News of the dismissals leaked out yesterday.

After confirming the firings, Wilson added: "I haven't any further comment to make. Any other statements will have to come from Mr. William Clay Ford."

Ford is owner of the Lions. He and General Manager Edwin J. Anderson declined comment on the firings. They scheduled a press conference for later today.

Those fired were Les Bingham, Bob Nussbaumer and Don Doll, all old-line members of Wilson's staff or playing roster.

The Detroit News speculated that Wilson also would go. It said: "Wilson still has a year to go on a three-year contract paying him about $47,000 annually, but knowledgeable observers believe his position has been rendered intolerable by the new developments."

"Wilson, who fought the order that Nussbaumer, Bingham and Doll be fired, now apparently must fight for his own job."

Speculation was reported building concerning a successor to Wilson.

Three names are being mentioned prominently. They are: Sonny Grandelius, backfield coach; Lion defensive captain, Joe Schmidt and former Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson.

The firing report broke yesterday afternoon, along with the report that Wilson had objected and been overruled by Ford.

The firings were said to have been ordered at last Friday's top echelon meeting from which came the announcement that tackle Alex Karras was not to be traded. Ford, Anderson and Wilson held the meeting.

The crown went to Miss Tarlton, who will be eligible to enter the state competition in February in Pontiac.

Explorer 26 Put in Orbit to Measure Radiation

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Explorer 26 satellite soared into orbit today to measure space radiation and the threat it poses to men and machinery flying deep into space.

The 101-pound windmill-shaped satellite shot aloft from Cape Kennedy at 4 a.m. aboard a towering Delta rocket which blazed brilliantly into the pre-dawn darkness.

The flight control center announced an hour later that tracking information indicated all three stages of the booster had fired with precision and drilled the payload into space.

Launch director Robert Gray said that "everything seems to be working just as expected."

Explorer 26 was aimed at a looping course intended to take it 15,000 miles away from earth before it swings back as close as 200 miles at the low point of its orbit.

Because of the eccentric path sought, the satellite was to make one global circuit every seven hours.

Officials said it would require several hours to determine accurate orbital figures. The newest in a long line of Explorer satellites is to carry on work started by its predecessors in probing basic scientific mysteries of space.

Press Offers '64 Recap in Book Form

"The World in 1964," a month-by-month recounting of the past year, is being offered to area readers by The Pontiac Press and The Associated Press. This newspaper is joining more than 300 other papers across the nation in presenting this king-size book, subtitled "History as We Lived It," to our readers.

The 9½-by-12½ inch volume is being produced by the same news experts who turned out the AP book "The Torch Is Passed" on the Kennedy assassination, and the AP "Warren Report" which The Press also offered.

Price of the volume is $3. It will be sold by coupon only. (See Page B-4.)

With a handsome red and gold hardback cover, "The World in 1964" will contain 300 pages of highly readable material, as well as reference sections.

With hundreds of the best news photos of the year, in color and black and white, it will provide a series of dramatic accounts of the year's big stories and the ones that most affected American newspapers readers.

Books will be delivered as soon as possible after the first of the year.

Weekend Fires Take Grim Toll

By The Associated Press

At least 66 multiple fire deaths have been recorded over the nation in the last three days with more than half the victims children.

House fires killed six and seven persons at a time as cold weather gripped parts of the nation in advance of today's calendar start of the winter. Home furnaces were pushed to near maximum capacity.

The death toll by days:

• Yesterday: At least 20 dead, 14 children and six adults. A mother and her six youngsters perished in one upstate New York blaze.

• Saturday: At least 26 dead, 23 children and three adults, with one fire in Warren, Mich., killing six youngsters, and two others claiming five each.

• Friday: Fire swept a nursing home in Fountainville, Ind., killing 20 elderly residents.

The upstate New York fire killed Mrs. Paul B. Breeden, 26, and her six children, aged 2 to 8, in their home in Palmyra, near Rochester.

RETURNED HOME

The 31-year-old father returned home from a business trip to Chicago an hour after the blaze was discovered. Two adjacent homes also were destroyed but the occupants escaped.

Also yesterday:

In Tiffin, Ohio, a home fire claimed the lives of Robert A. Church, 32, a widower, and his three sons, aged 6 to 13.

Near Pine River, Minn., while Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker were at a dance for the benefit of a couple who were burned out a week ago, four of the six Baker children perished in their flaming home. The victims ranged from ages 2 to 9.

The fire was blamed on overheating of the stove and chimney.

TRAPPED IN BEDROOM

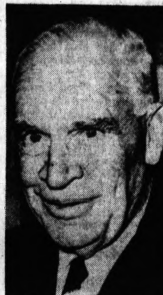

The oldest child, Janice, 14, saved the youngest, Perry, 1, asleep in his parents' bedroom. The other youngsters were trapped in a second bedroom.

An explosion and fire ravaged a two-story home in Wichita Falls, Tex., killing Wyletta Thornton, 3.

In New York City, separate house fires killed Isaac Watson, 75, and Francisca Cruz, 22.

LUTHER HODGES

Romney: Out of House Rift

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today he is taking no part in the fight for leadership of Republicans in the U. S. House of Representatives.

The Republican governor said he has read reports of his involvement in the contest between current House Minority Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana and Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan.

"I have not intervened in this contest in any way," said Romney. "Congressman Ford has not requested my advice nor was there any reason why he should do so."

Romney said both men "have rendered excellent service to the nation and party."

The governor said he hoped the contest would not become related to future Republican national leadership.

LEADERSHIP SPOT

Asked about Halleck's position that Republican leadership rests in Congress since the GOP does not occupy the White House, Romney replied: "The two elements of leadership being discussed are being confused."

"No one questions that the Senate and House must be responsible for positions on a day-to-day basis."

"But the fundamental party leadership and direction relates not just to positions in Washington, but to the total program on the national state and local level."

"That's what we deal with in Denver (at the meeting of Republican governors). I have yet to hear anyone question the soundness of what the governors unanimously agreed on in Denver."

Miller Says Dean Burch Should Stay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller, said after a conference with Sen. Barry Goldwater today that GOP Chairman Dean Burch should hang onto his job even if he has only a one vote majority of the 132-member National Committee.

Miller, the GOP vice-presidential nominee, told a curbside news conference after he and

Earlier Story, Page C-6

Rep. Bob Wilson of California had conferred with Goldwater at his apartment that the presidential nominee is standing firmly behind Burch.

Burch's replacement has been demanded by some in the party on the ground he represents a symbol of the disastrous Republican defeat in the Nov. 3 election.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, and others have said Burch should resign unless he can turn up a substantial majority in favor of his retention at a Jan. 22-23 showdown meeting of the committee in Chicago.

Miller said he does not agree with that viewpoint. He said if Burch can summon even a bare majority he should stay on the job because any replacement then would represent only a minority of the committee.

ASKS OPPORTUNITY

"I hope the members of the National Committee will give Mr. Burch the opportunity to demonstrate his ability to run the committee," Miller said.

Will Discuss Spending With 4 Key Aides

Officials Predicting Final Package to Be Below $100 Billion

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson gave budget-cutting top priority today as he settled down at the LBJ Ranch for the Christmas holidays. He planned to discuss spending with his budget director and three Cabinet officers.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy described Johnson as determined to reduce spending requests "as prudently as he can, and as far as he can within the limits of efficiency and effectiveness."

Many administration officials in Washington are predicting that by New Year's Day, Johnson will have worked federal spending proposals below $100 billion for the year starting July 1, 1965.

He has said this will be difficult, but he did it last year after making some negative forecasts.

Those on hand at the ranch included Budget Director Kenneth G. Gordon, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Dr. Donald Hornig, presidential assistant for science and technology.

UNIAPPY

The presence of Hodges and Udall indicated they were unhappy with some of the spending limits recommended by Gordon for their departments.

Hornig's presence might mean some of these recommendations involved scientific activities in the two departments.

A Budget Bureau official said in Washington Saturday that about 10 departments and agencies are appealing the spending limits recommended by Gordon, and that it's now up to the President to make the final decisions.

John T. Connor, who will succeed Hodges as secretary of commerce in January, also came from Washington with the President so he could sit in on discussion of the department's budget requests.

Prediction of Snow Shushers in Winter

Today is the shortest day of the year. Winter arrived at 2:50 p.m. and the days now begin getting longer.

Light intermittent snows or snow flurries tonight may cause return of hazardous driving conditions.

The high today will be a near normal 34 degrees, with a low tonight of about 22 degrees, the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts. The high tomorrow will be in the 20s.

The low for this morning was 22 degrees at 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. it was 34 degrees.

Toys Are Better Than Ever, for Children of All Ages

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Christmas is for kids of all ages. That's why adults get such a kick out of wandering through the toy departments whether they have children to buy for or not.

In the doll section, there are still the old standbys with a few new ones added.

This year the pint-sized mother can actually burp her baby after feeding her formula which seems to disappear from the bottle.

The teen-age model market now has a high fashion doll with clothing designed by the famed Oleg Cassini.

Toddlers and preschoolers will be tickled with the train top. At it spins, a miniature train goes round and round under its clear plastic cap.

If they are too young for a puppy of their own, youngsters will love the plush pup with a personality called Sniffy. He walks, wags his tail and raises his ears.

The junior general in your family will bark battle commands as he issues orders over the talking telephone. For the small do-it-yourselfer, a scaled-down tool kit will come in handy when he tries to help dad.

LIFTING WEIGHTS

Weight lifting equipment will help your teen-age son, grandson or nephew build the muscles he desires. And if he's fond of swimming, why not give him a water basketball game.

Skis sets come in all sizes from tiny tot to adult.

If your small fry like to follow dad around the golf course, encourage them with small-scale clubs and bag.

You will never go wrong with a teen-age daughter or friend if you add to her sweater collection. The new hand-embroidered variety are especially attractive. If she wears contact lenses, give her a gold lens case.

Purge Clouds S. Viet's Future

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The future of South Viet Nam's government and the war against the Viet Cong have been thrown into doubt by a weekend political purge by young Viet Namese generals.

The "Young Turks" dissolved the High National Council and arrested most of its nine members, plus more than 20 other leading politicians.

U.S. military and diplomatic officers made no official statement on the crisis—the country's sixth government upheaval in less than 14 months—but American displeasure was evident.

"This power play did not seem called for," said one U.S. official, "and basically we have to regard these generals as rebels against the duly constituted government."

Premier Tran Van Huong and Chief of State Phan Khac Suu were still nominally in power.

DECLARE CONFIDENCE

In a broadcast proclamation, the junta of young generals declared confidence in and support for both men.

U.S. officials said the latest assertion of over-all authority by the military badly damaged the civilian government's position.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Tin, commander of the 1st Army Corps, is the dominant member of the junta.

Gunmen Rob Bank Truck of $511,000 in New Jersey

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Gunmen robbed a bank truck of $511,000 in cash outside a church rectory today after making prisoners of three priests and waiting with them for the truck's arrival.

The bandits invaded the rectory of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church about 9 a.m.

LBJ Busy Trimming Spending

year is currently estimated at $97.2 billion.

Some reductions have been made in the spending requests, but by how much has not been disclosed.

These requests were only for existing programs and do not include new programs Johnson plans to recommend such as funds for the depressed Appalachian region.

Administration sources have said that none of the recommendations in Johnson's "Great Society" program will be specifically cut, at least in the first year.

INEVITABLE HIKES

Some increases in government spending are inevitable because of legally fixed outlays for such things as veterans benefits, interest on the debt and government pay raises.

There are indications Johnson may balance these by moving against such programs as space and atomic energy, but no one would expect such programs of lesser priority.

Work on the budget has to be completed by New Year's Day because it has to go to the printers then to be ready for Congress 15 days after the new session opens Jan. 4.

Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and their 17-year-old daughter, Luci Baines, and the various government officials, arrived at Bergstrom Air Force Base near Austin yesterday after a flight of just under three hours from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

From Bergstrom all except Luci flew by helicopter the 65 miles to the Johnson ranch, Luci got in some visiting with friends before driving to the ranch in company of a Secret Service agent.

and handcuffed and bound the three priests.

They seized the two truck guards as they arrived, disarmed them and then looted the vehicle, making their escape by car.

WORE MASKS

Police said three gunmen wearing Halloween masks went inside the rectory, but they said an alarm had been broadcast for a getaway car carrying possibly six men.

Truck guard Frank Fernandi said that as he and his partner, John Godley, entered the rectory, a gunman ordered them inside.

The guards, who carry revolvers, were handcuffed and left inside the rectory with the priests.

After the bandits escaped by car, an alarm was telephoned to police headquarters from the rectory.

ARMORED VEHICLE

John Anderson, vice president of the First National Bank of Passaic County said the bank's vehicle was of the conventional armored type.

"We still don't understand why the alarm didn't go off," Anderson said. "If the doors of the truck open without the alarm going off, then the alarm begins. The alarm can be turned off manually. As the police said, if you had a gun in your back, you'd turn it off too. Perhaps that's what happened."

Anderson said the bank's $511,000 was covered by insurance. Fernandi and Godley, both about 40 and veteran employees, were on a regular Monday route which included "cash pickups from three churches and deliveries of cash to three of the bank's branches, according to Anderson.

MAIN OFFICE

They started at the bank's main office where they picked up money for the branch banks. They had not made any deliveries to the branches before the holdup, Anderson said.

Deputy Police Chief William Ludwig said the crime was definitely the work of professionals who had studied the route and timing of the truck.

Two leather jackets were found lying on a main thoroughfare leading out of town. Police took the jackets to the rectory for identification.

FBI AGENTS

FBI agents from the Newark and Paterson offices joined in the investigation.

LATER CHECK

First reports said the church rectory safe had been looted also, but a later check showed the $1,100 still in the safe.

Reuther Ends Hospital Stay

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, operated on two weeks ago for removal of a spot on his right lung, left Henry Ford Hospital Sunday.

The United Auto Workers' president, chipper and smiling, said he had been informed the operation was a "complete success" and full recovery was assured.

Reuther, 57, underwent the operation Dec. 7. At the time it was described as surgery for removal of a small spot on the lung.

Reuther extended a "Merry Christmas" to hospital people and held a brief news conference. He then went home to convalesce.

THANK STAFF

The UAW chief thanked the hospital staff and doctors in a statement, and "thousands of friends" who he said had sent him best wishes. He said he hoped to be back to his union duties soon.

Hits Roosevelt Stand

Ike Raps War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Franklin D. Roosevelt's unconditional surrender policy in World War II was a mistake that may have cost lives and prolonged the war.

Eisenhower, former president and commander of the allied forces that defeated the Germans in the West, made his comment in an interview with the Washington Post.

The unconditional surrender slogan was first voiced by Roosevelt at a news conference in Casablanca, Morocco, Jan. 24, 1943, at the end of a 10-day conference with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The main thing wrong with it, Eisenhower said, was it seemed to be directed against the German people instead of the German warlords.

"Germany was defeated after the Battle of the Bulge," Eisenhower said. "By Jan. 16, 1945, it was all over and anyone with sense knew it was over."

HAD INFLUENCE

He continued: "But then there was this statement that President Roosevelt made about unconditional surrender in 1943. This certainly had some influence. The whole spring campaign should have been abandoned."

"Hitler used something from the mouth of our own leader and persuaded the Germans to fight longer than they might have. I have always believed that the war should have ended 60 or 90 days before it did."

Eisenhower acknowledged his views were speculation that could not be proved, but stressed that if the unconditional surrender policy had been aimed directly at Hitler — instead of the German people — the German Army might have been killed or jailed him, then asked for peace.

The former supreme commander said he complained about the policy privately and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, intimated he agreed, but like all American officers, backed the commander in chief.

Asked why he had not publicly stated his views on the policy before, Eisenhower replied: "Nobody ever asked me."

Scholarships Available for Journalists

The Inter American Press Association Scholarship Fund today invited United States and Canadian working newspapermen and journalism graduates to apply for one of its scholarships for a year of study in Latin America.

Although applications from North Americans are usually considered in the fall — nine were awarded scholarships last October — the fund may also study a few special cases in the spring.

For these cases the deadline for submitting applications will be Feb. 1, 1965, according to an announcement made today by the president of the fund, Harold A. Fitzgerald, of The Pontiac Press.

The Scholarship Awards Committee will meet in February to examine the applications and make recommendations to the directors.

Candidates may request information and application forms from Carlos A. Jimenez, secretary, IAPA Scholarship Fund, 667 Madison, Suite 704, New York, N.Y. 10021.

Applicants must have a working knowledge of the language of the country where they wish to study. Preference will be given to applicants with journalistic experience.

Says Johnson in Fine Shape

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is in fine shape to weather the next four strenuous and demanding years in the White House, his cardiologist said today.

Indeed, Dr. John Willis Hurst — who has been keeping regular tabs on the President's heart ever since his severe coronary attack in 1955 — indicated Johnson may even have an edge on many other men of his 56 years in coping with the physical and emotional stresses of life.

Hurst discounted any thought that the President, since taking office, has been maintaining a possibly "dangerous" pace, as at least one doctor not associated with his case has put it.

Dr. Hurst, professor and chairman of the Department of Medicine, Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga., made the statements in a telephone interview.

Earlier in the weekend, Dr. James W. Cain of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., pronounced the President in "excellent health. There is no health reason why he should not continue an active, vigorous life for many years."

Erment. Since Diem's death he has risen rapidly in the Vietnamese army.

BLOODLESS PURGE

Acting with him in Sunday's predawn, bloodless purge were Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, air force commander; Brig. Gen. Le Nguyen Khanh, Marine Corps commander, and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, 4th Corps commander.

About 70 staff officers who had been assigned to the chief of state's office were shipped off under guard to the mountains north of Saigon.

All had been on the staff of the former chief of state, Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and had been left at the disposal of his successor.

The military's rapid move caught leaders of the Buddhists' antigovernment campaign by surprise.

Their weekend of hunger striking and demonstrating was cut short and Buddhist followers were told "for the time being just pray and go home."

Pressure from the Buddhists appeared to have been lifted, at least temporarily.

Several of the politicians under arrest had been targets of the Buddhists, but several persons who had been associated with Buddhist extremists also were arrested.

The generals promised "impartiality vis-a-vis every religious and political difference," and said they were "ready to act as a mediator between all differences in order to achieve national unity, annihilate the Communists and safeguard the nation."

GAVE ORDER

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, chief of the armed forces and former premier, nominally gave the order to dissolve the council and carry out the arrests.

But reports said he was under close observation by the young generals and little more than a figurehead.

Batter Pacific States

Snow, Rain Lash West Coast

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Heavy snows choked mountain passes from California to Washington today while rains and gales continued to pound wide areas of the Pacific Northwest.

Eastern Washington and Oregon were under a snow blanket with home depths reaching 5 feet and more in some of the passes across the Cascades.

Whole gale warnings were up for coastal sections of the Pacific Northwest. Winds of 75 miles an hour lashed North Bend, Ore., this morning.

By an odd quirk the temperature early today was warmer in North Bend, Ore., than it was in San Diego, Calif.

Newport, Ore., got 1.27 inches of rain in six hours and Eugene, Ore., measured one inch. Heavy rain falling on a 7-inch snow blanket made Portland, Ore., a sea of slush.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 14 below zero in Havre, Mont., to 69 degrees in Key West, Fla.

The northeastern section of the nation also was stung by fresh snow, rain and falling temperatures.

At least 25 deaths were attributed to violent storms that followed a coast-to-coast cold wave.

Although the South and many of the middle states are experiencing a warming trend, the northern corners of the nation had no relief.

With eight inches of new snow today, portions of the Montana-North Dakota area were still digging out from the storm in an effort to save thousands of stranded cattle and sheep.

Ship Survivors Are Picked Up

Four Crewmen Killed;
 Vessel Cracked Seam

NEW YORK (AP) — The German freighter Mathilde Bolten steamed toward San Juan today carrying 34 survivors and four dead crewmen from the stricken American merchant ship Smith Voyager, which cracked a seam in mid-Atlantic.

The captain, his third mate and another crewman remained aboard the Smith Voyager after the others took to lifeboats Sunday in rough seas, the Coast Guard said.

One man was unaccounted for among the crew of 42 on the 459-foot, 7,600-gross ton cargo ship. It was carrying 10,000 tons of grain from Freeport, the Bahamas, to Cienfuegos, Spanish Morocco.

The Coast Guard cutter Rockaway was en route to the Smith Voyager about 820 miles east southeast of Bermuda at 7 a.m. (EST) today.

Four of the survivors taken aboard the German ship were reported injured. Extent of the injuries was not learned. The Mathilde Bolten has no doctor aboard, the Coast Guard said.

Through a vast computer system which keeps track of ships at sea and their complements, the Coast Guard was attempting to find one with a doctor and set up a rendezvous with the Mathilde Bolten. The latter was expected to reach San Juan by Wednesday evening.

The sea drama unfolded at 11:27 a.m. Sunday when the Smith Voyager radioed an SOS that she was sinking. A half-hour later came a second message — abandoning ship — and at 12:46 p.m. she reported, "All men getting away safely."

Three merchant ships sped to the distressed vessel. The Mathilde Bolten, first on the scene, radioed: "Voyager apparently cracked No. 4 hold. Main steam joint broken down. . . . Abandoned ship with 45-degree starboard list, increasing rapidly."

Seas in the area were reported at up to 15 feet with winds at 25 to 30 knots.

After dark Sunday night, an Air Force plane dropped survival kits to the men still on the Smith Voyager.

State Flier Is Victim

STEPHENVILLE, Nfld. (AP) — Tech Sgt. Lawrence F. Lane of Stephenville, Mich., flight engineer, was one of five crewmen to die when a U.S. KC-97 crashed on landing here Saturday and plunged into the sea.

GIFTS MEXICAN STYLE — Fourth graders in Judy Thiese's class at Woodward School, Rochester, are following many Mexican traditions in celebrating Christmas this year. One is the breaking of the pinata, gaily decorated container filled with candy and toys. Showing three pupils how it's done is Nancy Petaja, 20, (center) student at Oakland University who spent last summer in Mexico as a volunteer worker for the American Friends Service Committee. The three pupils are from (left) Cindy Hicks, Jill Jose and Bob Akeros. Class members also are sending toys to Tonatico, Mexico, instead of exchanging gifts among themselves this year.

Computers Aid Fruit Farmers

Get Fertilizer Data From Leaf Samples

EAST LANSING (AP) — Computers now are helping farmers figure out what fertilizers they need to grow better fruit.

First a complicated device known as a spectograph takes leaf samples from the farmer's trees and lets the computer know what nutrients already are available to the tree from natural sources.

Then the computer tells the farmer precisely what fertilizers are needed.

"Before the computers came on the scene this year, we seldom got this important information to growers before Jan. 1," said A. L. Kenworthy, a Michigan State University horticulturist. "The old method required us to draw a chart of the leaf analysis by hand and send a personal letter to the grower."

"Now it's possible for us to have the results of the leaf analysis on the way back to the farmer much earlier than in previous years," he said.

Will Present Yule Program

TROY — The Sunday school department of the Troy Assembly of God Church will present a Christmas program tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Featured will be recitations, songs, dialogues and an hour-long play, "It Took a Miracle," to be staged by the young people.

Smorgasbord, Sing Planned in Romeo

ROMEO — The annual carol sing and smorgasbord for the young people of the First Baptist Church is slated for 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The young people will go first by bus to sing Christmas carols to shut-ins of the church and at community rest homes.

Net Income $4,537, Farm Panel Reports

EAST LANSING (AP) — A panel of 100 Michigan farmers reports that each takes in an average of $28,563 a year—but keeps only $4,537 of that as net income.

The rest goes for labor, machinery, feed costs, interest on loans and other operating expenses, according to the farmers' reports to Michigan State University's Farm Credit Panel.

Myron Wirth and John Brake, U.S. Department of Agriculture economists based at MSU, surveyed the predominantly dairy group.

They found of the average gross income, 60 per cent came from the sale of farm products, 6 per cent from off-the-farm sources—including income from outside employment — and 25 per cent from loans.

Of this $28,563, the average farmer spends 47 per cent on operating expenses, 19 percent durable goods, Wirth and Brake said.

DEBT PAYMENTS — They said the payments on debt amounted to 13 per cent and the remaining one per cent represented an increase in cash balances over the beginning of the year.

When the average panel member bought land or made investments on land and buildings, he borrowed 90 cents of every dollar, Wirth and Brake found.

The survey showed the average farmer's total assets were $70,600 at the beginning of the year and his liabilities $18,200, giving him a net worth of $52,400.

By the end of the year, the survey showed, net worth increased by nearly $2,400 as assets increased to $78,600 and liabilities to $21,800.

In another survey, Wirth and Brake found that of 110 farmers across the state, all but 9 per cent were raised on the farm. And of those, half had wives who were raised on a farm, the survey showed.

Licenses to Be Sold at Keego City Office

KEEGO HARBOR — Motorists will be able to buy their 1965 automobile license plates at the Keego Harbor city office in January.

Weekend Road Toll Hits 14 in Michigan

By The Associated Press — At least 14 persons were killed Saturday in a two-car collision 15 miles north of Ann Arbor.

The Associated Press weekend tabulation of traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims included: Gerald Annan, 17, of Grand Rapids was injured fatally Saturday when the car in which he was riding and another auto collided in Grand Rapids.

STRUCK BY CAR — Mrs. Catherine Wrobel, 80, of Detroit was killed Saturday when struck by a car in Detroit.

David Katz, 17, and Mrs. Julia Drudge, 70, both of Detroit, were killed Saturday in a two-car collision 15 miles north of Ann Arbor.

Margaret Steinhebel, 9, of Brown City was killed Saturday when a car overturned on M53 south of Marlette.

Lena Herrman, 62, of Baroda was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Lincoln Township of Berrien County.

TWO-CAR COLLISION — Charles Harrier, 81, of Alma was killed Saturday in a two-car collision on Alger Road south of Alma. Harrier ran a stop sign, State Police said.

Fred Hoffman, 70, of Scottsville was struck and killed by a car Friday night on U.S. 31 while crossing the highway to a mailbox.

Hiram E. Pratt, 46, of Battle Creek was killed Friday night in a two-car collision on M37 north of Bedford. State Police said Pratt was trying to pass another car at the time.

Richard Stauffer, 25, of Snover was killed Sunday when he lost control of his car while attempting to stop for a stop sign near Snover and struck a pole.

George Hall, 46, of Grand Rapids was killed early Sunday when he apparently lost control of his semitrailer on U.S. 23 near Ann Arbor and crashed into a bridge support.

Ventia Leino, 63, of Ironwood was killed Sunday on U.S. 2 and M14 in Delta County when a car in which he was a passenger was involved in an accident.

David Hvarinen, 39, of Duffer was killed Sunday in Duffer Township, Chippewa County, when a car struck him as he was walking across M28.

Troy Will Hold Public Hearing

To Consider Rezoning for Apartment Units

TROY — Tonight's special City Commission meeting includes a public hearing on the rezoning of some 20 acres just south of the K-Mart at Livermore and Maple for apartment construction.

Detroit developer Herman Ross is asking the commission to change the zoning classification of the property from industrial to multiple dwelling for the apartments.

The property is already partly zoned for multiple use, as a strip of land some 200 feet deep fronting on Livermore is now classified multiple dwelling.

But behind that strip, the property is zoned for industrial use. If the rezoning request is approved, there would be a strip of industrial land between K-Mart property and the apartment area about 420 feet wide.

In a previous appearance before the commission, Ross said he would start building the apartments, in crescent-shaped buildings, by Jan. 1 if his rezoning request were approved.

Addison Twp. Fire Destroys Barn and Pigs

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — A fire of undetermined origin early this morning destroyed a barn and its contents, including 125 baby pigs and 19 brood sows, at $900 Homer.

The barn, which belonged to James Brazelton, burned to the ground about 1 a.m.

Addison Township and Oxford fire departments arrived at the scene to find all but the structure's frame destroyed, and could do nothing to save it.

Also in the barn were a tractor, corn planter, sprayer and numerous tool items.

No estimate of damage was available this morning, but, at least part of the damage is covered by insurance.

U.S. farms provide three times as many jobs and generate more investment in capital equipment than any other industry, reports the North Dakota State University College of Agriculture.

Censorship Debate Is Set for 1st Farmington Forum

FARMINGTON — The maiden effort of the Farmington Community Forum, to be launched Jan. 4, will be directed at censorship.

The idea of a community forum, where timely and controversial subjects can be debated in democratic fashion, has been developed by a small group of interested persons here.

Two men with divergent opinions on censorship have been picked for the opening night program.

Representing the affirmative view will be Dr. Alden Shaw, recently retired headmaster of Detroit Country Day School. He will touch on the need for censorship as it pertains to the adolescent mind.

Opposing him will be Thomas E. Hughes, a psychologist and director of professional services at Boys' Republic. Hughes has definite views on the effect of pornography on the young.

LEGAL STANDPOINT

Arguing for the affirmative from the legal standpoint will be a representative of the Oakland County prosecutor's office, not yet announced.

Erwin Ellman, Detroit attorney and chief counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union, will support the negative.

Moderator will be Lee Peel, Farmington High School journalism teacher.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. program now are available at the Book Corner in downtown Farmington and the Farmington Savings and Loan Association at the Farmington Shopping Plaza.

RESERVE FUND

Proceeds will be used for a reserve fund to defray expenses and import out-of-town speakers for future forums.

The initial program will be held at the Farmington Universalist Unitarian Church, 23604 Warner.

Store Damage Said $5 Million

DALLAS (UPI) — Neiman-Marcus, the mink-and-Stetson fashion castle of the Southwest, looked into the future through the smoke today, planning round-the-clock fire cleanup work in order to reopen in 20 days.

A five-alarm fire burned out part of the store before dawn Saturday morning, causing damage estimated by one of the owners at more than $5 million.

Fire authorities seeking the cause said there may have been an electrical short in an elevator cable.

Stanley Marcus, president of the "oil millionaire's general store," estimated that it will take 10 days of work in 24-hour shifts to clean up the charred, water-soaked building, "and another week after that to get the smoke smell out."

Marcus said he plans to reopen the store on Jan. 11. But many of the displays will be only temporary, he added, and it might be six months before "everything is back to normal."

FULLY INSURED

Marcus said the store is fully insured, including coverage on the lost business days, and will suffer no financial loss.

Thick clouds of black smoke filled every cranny of the store Saturday as the fire ate away at the upper three floors of the seven-story building.

Firemen poured in water at the rate of more than 1,500 gallons a minute from high-pressure snorkel towers, and cascades of water foamed through the lower floors, soaking the famous red plush carpet.

Firemen smashed out the stained glass Christmas windows to get hoses inside and tramped heavily through display rooms filled with imported fashions, fur coats, European wines selling for more than $6 a bottle and the world's most pampered cowboy boots.

NO FIRE SALE

But there will be no fire sale of slightly singed minks or smoky Diors, store officers said.

Campaign Set to Enroll

Collegians in GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A campaign to get college students to join the Republican party is being launched.

Jerry Dickson, chairman of Collegiate Young Republicans, announced last night that details of the campaign would be worked out at a Washington meeting April 16-18 of college Republicans from throughout the nation.

One of the greatest mysteries in the world is the success that lies in conscientious work.—Calvin Coolidge.

KEEPING AHEAD OF THE TIMES—It uses 600 horsepower and whizzes along with little more noise than a passenger car. Ford has this experimental truck on highways, testing it with an eye to the 1970s when superhighways will link 90 per cent of the nation's larger cities. Among other refinements in the cab are: thermostatically controlled heat or air-conditioning, a stove, hot and cold refreshment dispensers, sinks, bathroom, lounge chair-bed and television set (viewed only by the co-driver).

HOLIDAY HOSPITALITY Creations

...glamorous with pineapple

A stunning layered salad creation in Christmas colors. To make sure the two layers stick together when serving, run a hot knife briefly over the unmolded bottom layer to soften slightly before topping with the second layer. Bright pineapple chunks are the salad's gorgeous garnish.

Pineapple Crown Salad

- PINEAPPLE CREAM LAYER:
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 1 (1-pound 4 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple
 - 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 - 3 tablespoons lemon juice
 - 2 drops liquid red pepper seasoning
 - 1 cup dairy sour cream
 - Green food coloring
 - 1 cup whipping cream

Thoroughly blend gelatin with sugar and salt. Stir into undrained pineapple. Heat, stirring, until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat; cool. Blend in mustard, lemon juice, pepper seasoning and sour cream. Add green food coloring to give desired shade. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in stiffly beaten cream. Add a drop or two more food coloring, if necessary. Turn into 5 to 6 cup round pan (8 inches diameter, 2 inches deep). Chill 4 hours or longer.

- ROSY PINEAPPLE LAYER:
- 1 (13 1/2-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
 - Canned pineapple juice
 - 1 (6-ounce) package raspberry flavored gelatin
 - 1 1/2 cups boiling water
 - 1/2 cup lemon juice
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
 - 1 tablespoon finely chopped green onion

Drain pineapple. Measure syrup and add enough pineapple juice to make 1 1/2 cups liquid. Dissolve raspberry gelatin in boiling water. Add pineapple liquid and lemon juice. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in drained pineapple, celery and onion. Spoon into 5-cup fancy mold (about 8-inches diameter). Chill 4 hours or longer.

TO ASSEMBLE: When ready to serve, unmold Pineapple Cream Layer onto chilled serving plate. Run a heated knife or spatula over surface and immediately turn out Rosy Pineapple Layer on top. Return to refrigerator about 5 minutes to set. Garnish salad and serve with any desired dressing. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

The breathtaking flaming chicken lends a sensational splash of color to the dining or buffet table. Handsome golden slices of canned pineapple with ruby red fresh cranberries are combined with boned chicken breasts. The sauce is rich and spicy with cinnamon and cloves.

Red and Gold Chicken Flambe

- 1 (1-pound 4 1/2-ounce) can pineapple slices
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 sticks cinnamon
- 10 whole cloves
- 1/2 cup raw cranberries
- 6 large boned chicken breasts
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 1/2 teaspoons seasoned salt
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup rich chicken broth
- 1/4 cup white dinner wine
- 1/4 cup brandy

Drain pineapple, saving syrup. Combine 1/2 cup pineapple syrup, sugar, vinegar and spices. Heat to boiling; lower heat and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add pineapple slices and cranberries; cool. Remove skin from chicken. Blend cornstarch, paprika and seasoned salt together; dredge chicken pieces. Sauté slowly in heated oil and butter to a deep golden brown on both sides. Add broth, wine and 1/4 cup pineapple syrup. Cover; cook over low heat until chicken is tender, about 20 minutes. Remove chicken pieces and keep warm while finishing sauce. Boil liquid in pan rapidly until reduced about one half. Mixture thickens slightly and becomes rich in color. Discard spices from spiced fruit; drain syrup into pan liquid. Simmer 3 to 4 minutes. Taste and add a little more salt, if needed. Add chicken, pineapple and cranberries; heat a few minutes longer. Heat brandy over hot water. Pour over chicken and flame. Makes 6 servings.

The warmth and friendliness of hospitality extended during the holiday season is unsurpassed. It is no wonder then that pineapple, which has been the symbol of hospitality over these many centuries, should be featured in favorite foods served at these wonderful gatherings.

After pineapple had found a home in the Pacific, the Polynesians began a tradition of hanging this fruit in doorways as a sign of friendship and welcome. Sailors carried the tale of the tradition, along with pineapple, to the rest of the world, and pineapple became recognized as a symbol of hospitality.

Modern hostesses have added their own touch to this custom. They are known to spray handsome fresh pineapples with a can of gold paint to use in fanciful arrangements of greenery and baubles for holiday decorations.

The trend too is to use this magnificent fruit in its many canned forms in beautiful salad creations, taste tingling entrees, and hot and cold foods galore. Pineapple comes ready to use from the can as big golden slices, chunks, tidbits or crushed. Pineapple juice too is a favorite ingredient with party hostesses to use in punch bowl potables.

And for the pièce de résistance—a light and spicy pineapple and carrot steamed pudding taking its cue from Pacific Island hospitality. Its crowning glory is a rich brandied whipped cream sauce with just the right amount of sweetness to accent and enhance this beautiful dessert.

Surfers Steamed Pineapple Pudding

- 2 cups grated raw carrot
- 3/4 cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 large egg
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 (8 3/4-ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Place grated carrot in double thickness of paper towels and squeeze out excess liquid. Cream shortening, sugar and spices together until very light and fluffy. Mix in well beaten egg thoroughly. Resift flour with soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with undrained pineapple. Stir in grated carrot and nuts, blending well. Turn into greased 1-quart mold (mold should be 2/3 to 3/4 full). Cover tightly. Place on rack in large kettle of boiling water with water coming half way up sides of mold. Cover tightly and steam 4 hours. Keep water boiling and replenish as it evaporates. Remove cover from pudding. Cool 10 minutes before turning out. Serve hot with your favorite pudding sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Whipped Cream Pudding Sauce

- 1 (8 3/4-ounce) can crushed pineapple
- 1 cup canned pineapple juice
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/3 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/3 cup brandy
- 1 cup whipping cream
- 1 cup finely chopped candied fruit and peel

Blend undrained pineapple and pineapple juice with lemon juice, cornstarch, sugar and salt. Cook, stirring, over moderate heat about 10 minutes until mixture boils and becomes clear and thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and brandy. Cool, then fold in stiffly beaten cream and candied fruit and peel. Makes about 1 quart sauce.

Ex-Pontiac Physician Tells of His Year in Africa Wilds

BY HOWARD HELDENBRAND

The throbs of dark Africa's tribal drums could be felt as Dr. Joseph W. Christie, former Pontiac physician, reminisced about his year's service as medical missionary in Barotseland—a province of North Rhodesia that became Zambia at the time of its independence, last fall.

"Barotseland," explained the doctor who saw service in the Korean War before conducting a Northport (near Traverse City) hospital for 12 years, "is about twice the size of Texas, has 375,000 inhabitants and two—repeat, two—doctors, of which I was one."

Stationed at a hospital in Lukulu, he was 500 miles from the province's capital and 120 miles from the nearest gravel road.

"You don't need road maps there—just a compass," Joe observed.

With his colleague, who was to become a victim of a native's fire bomb that virtually cremated him, Christie cared for an average daily outpatient case load of 300.

The medic had warning of the violence and atrocities soon to envelope the Congo in the unheralded emergence last September of Prophetess Alice, who became a force in one of the two political parties contending for provincial supremacy.

LEADER OF TRIBE

Leader of the Wambas tribe, she employed every form of mysticism and idolatry in recruiting followers to oppose Dr. Kaunda, leader of the opposition then in parliamentary control.

"Little Alice beheld no more miracles in Wambas than I did in Prophetess Alice promised in Barotseland," said the eye-witness.

A week before the Oct. 24 formalization of North Rhodesia's independence, the antagonism between the parties flared into violence and bloodshed.

Casualties were put at 600, but Christie believes the actual total was nearer 6,000.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS

It was at this point, said the veteran of two wars puffing a medicinal cigarette, that he made two important decisions: That he was a prize-winning coward, and that he was going to prescribe a dosage of travel for his health—preferably to the United States.

praise of the people for whose welfare he worked and the continent they inhabit? It is not a happy one.

"In the main," he said, "illiterate millions, an untold number of whom still practice cannibalism, with 7-year-old mentality and belief in the weirdest forms of voodooism have been given a state of freedom and liberty for which they were totally unprepared."

YIELD TO PERSUASION

"As imperial powers in area after area yielded to world persuasion, befooled up by underground Communist maneuvering as a Cold War tactic, to grant independence to their protectorates, the white, trained administrators departed.

"This exodus left a vast executive vacuum which became a battleground for ambitious, cunning natives to establish themselves as rulers—to exert the same autocratic tyranny from which the peoples were presumably freed," was the humanitarian's summation.

The crying needs of the populace, which logically should have been supplied prior to emancipation from imperialism, are education, sense of security and medical and health provisions.

But ironically, the institution of imperialism has historically been slow to provide such benefits for subject multitudes that might someday fly the flag of independence, he mused.

"But with scant resources and virtually no industry to support the most meager standard of living for most of the quarter-billion Africans who daily struggle merely to exist," the doctor guessed that a couple of centuries must pass before the continent as a whole reflects the social image idealists visualize.

He pointed to the painfully slow advance made by native populations of Latin America in the 125 years since the yoke of Spain was thrown off.

After catching up on his local visiting, Dr. Christie goes next month to New York to take part in United Nations W.H.O. (World Health Organization) discussions aimed at setting up a 1965 health and medical program for the African continent.

Warren Mother Still Critical With Burns

DETROIT (AP)—A mother of nine children—six of whom perished when a flash fire swept through their home in suburban Warren Saturday—was reported in critical condition today in Holy Cross Hospital.

The woman, Mrs. Elbert Cox, 35, was burned and cut severely when she tried to save the children. Her husband, Elbert, 40, was at work at the time.

The three Cox children who survived were in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Home Blaze Is Fatal to Infant Near Alpena

ALPENA (AP)—The infant son of a serviceman stationed in Thailand died early Sunday in a house fire six miles south of Alpena on the Lake Huron shoreline.

The victim, William Erewin Smith, 2, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith. The child's mother, Marian, 22, married to rescue another son, 18-month-old Ronald. Smith is with the U.S. Army in Thailand, police said.

Negroes Raise $70,000 to Send Turkeys to Dixie

CHICAGO (AP)—Negro entertainers raised an estimated $70,000 Sunday night to airlift Christmas turkeys to Mississippi.

Sammy Davis Jr., Eartha Kitt and Dick Gregory performed before some 5,000 persons in Chicago's McCormick Place. Distribution of 20,000 turkeys is headed by Charles Evers, brother of slain integration leader Medgar Evers.

Evers said he hoped to have the turkeys delivered "to Negroes, whites and Indians" by Christmas Eve.

The project was described as an interracial, interfaith campaign, but Gregory said that "when the Ku Klux Klan finds out how many turkeys we sent, they'll burn enough crosses to cook an elephant."

English Prof, 62, Dies

FOREST PARK, Ill. (AP)—John Brennan, 62, a member of the Loyola University English department in Chicago since 1950 and a native of Escanaba, Mich., died Saturday in his home.

Ike to Attend Dinner in Honor of Murphy

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was scheduled to attend a $50-a-plate dinner tomorrow night at the Hollywood palladium in honor of Republican Sen. Elect George Murphy.

The dinner was expected to attract numerous Southern California civic, political and business leaders.

Italy Fails to Elect Leader in Stormy Vote

ROME (AP) — Italy's deadlocked parliament failed to elect a president of the republic again today amid a clamor of Communist sarcasm which almost brought legislators to blows.

It was the ninth ballot and sixth day of voting with no winner in sight. Three presidential election is the longest in the history of the republic, and voting threatens to drag on until Christmas.

Four parties—the Socialists,

Democratic Socialists and Republicans of the center-left coalition government, and the Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI) — refused to budge in protest over the stalemate.

The rival candidates of the badly divided Christian Democrat party, the largest party in Premier Aldo Moro's center-left coalition lost ground.

NEEDED VOTES

For election, 482 votes are required.

The Communists still gave Communist Sen. Umberto Terracini their full 250 votes, but put into motion a new maneuver intended to woo all the parties of the left into a common front.

The Communists proposed that the five leftist parties try to agree with the left wing of the Christian Democrats on a compromise candidate to break the deadlock.

Communist party leader Luigi Longo made his proposal in a letter to the secretaries of the Socialist, Democratic Socialist, Republican and far-left Socialist Party of Proletarian Union.

SOLID VOTES

Until last night the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans voted solidly for Democratic Socialist Giuseppe Saragat.

Saragat withdrew from the race yesterday, seeking to end the deadlock, but the three parties refused to vote for a Christian Democrat.

During the vote today the Communists applauded in sarcasm when the Socialists abstained. They applauded more loudly when the Fascists declined to vote.

UNESCO Sets Drive Against Illiteracy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Illiteracy is winning its race against education in many parts of the developing world. The U.N. Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) today announced details of a program to even up the race.

India, for example, found at the end of a 10-year fight against illiteracy, with thousands of new teachers and schools, that it had 6 million more adult illiterates than when it started.

The reason is the population explosion and the inability of governments in the new nations to provide the schooling to keep up with it.

UNESCO does not intend to take this job off their hands. It has turned down proposals for a sweeping, $2.9 billion campaign to stamp out illiteracy throughout the world.

It seeks instead to get more effective teaching programs going. U.N. agencies will provide some of the money, but the developing nations themselves will put up most of it.

ESTIMATES COST

John Bowers, head of UNESCO's adult literacy division, said eight developing nations will be chosen for the first five years of the program, which he estimates will cost between $24 million and $30 million.

UNESCO's program will be different because it will link literacy directly with practical uses for it.

The newly educated Africans, Asians, and Latin Americans will be able to use their knowledge immediately in reading agricultural instructions or simple blueprints in factories.

"The world is littered with the debris of literacy campaigns," Bowers said. "Hundreds and hundreds have been taught and given certificates. If they can make no use of their learning, in another year they're illiterate again."

"If there are no books or newspapers to read in their villages, if they do not need reading in their work, they lose the skill."

Bowers said that for this reason, UNESCO's teachers will concentrate on areas "where there is a motivation for literacy—where it can make a direct contribution to development."

When a man learns to read and finds out that it immediately makes him a better farmer or higher-paid worker, Bowers said, this is real motivation, "not a literacy for literacy's sake program."

The eight nations, which have not yet been chosen, will be watched carefully by UNESCO evaluation teams to see how increasing literacy aids their development.

Bowers, who has directed many similar programs in individual nations, believes there will be "direct economic results," including a larger pool of skilled labor, more efficient agriculture, and more advanced industry.

The problems in the literacy clude these:

• UNESCO figures show that 700 million adults—two-fifths of the world's adult population—are total illiterates, which means they cannot read or write a simple message in their native language.

• There are more than 2,800 languages in the world. About half of them have no alphabet, thus cannot be written or read. UNESCO experts have been at work for years devising alphabets and teaching them.

• In some countries in Africa, as many as 100 different tribal languages are in use. One country, for example, uses one language for its ministry of education's work and another for its ministry of information.

At the end of the program, Bowers hopes not only for concrete results in the eight countries but information on how to proceed with the war on illiteracy in the rest of the world.

Sit-In Decision, Tied to Prohibition Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled on a precedent established at the end of the Prohibition Era for its recent ruling that Civil Rights Act wiped out hundreds of pending sit-in convictions.

The ruling caused some confusion because of the long-established constitutional principle that a law cannot be used to convict a person for conduct engaged in before the law was passed.

Some thought that a parallel situation arises when the law is changed—that no one could rightly be let off unpunished for conduct engaged in before the change took place.

Speaking for the court, Justice Tom C. Clark cited many cases to show this parallel does not exist.

His view of the meaning of the Civil Rights Act and of Supreme Court precedents provoked a sharp 5-to-4 split among the justices. Each dissenter gave his own view separately in no uncertain terms.

Clark noted that the federal doctrine of "abatement" of convictions goes as far back as an 1801 opinion by Chief Justice John Marshall.

What did make the sit-in cases unusual was the high court's application of the doctrine to state proceedings.

After quoting Marshall, Clark dwelt at length on a 1894 decision dealing with two North Carolinians indicted on charges of transporting intoxicating liquor in violation of the National Prohibition Act.

By the time that case came up for trial, the 18th—or prohibition—Amendment had been repealed by the 21st Amendment.

DISMISSED CHARGES
The trial judge dismissed the bootlegging charges on the ground that repeal had deprived him of jurisdiction. The Justice Department appealed to the Supreme Court and was slapped down in an opinion by Chief Justice Evans Hughes.

Hughes quoted Marshall as saying:

"It has long been settled . . . that after the expiration or repeal of a law, no penalty can be enforced, nor punishment inflicted, for violations of the law committed while it was in force, unless some special provision be made for that purpose by statute."

"The law here sought to be applied was deprived of force by the people themselves as the inescapable effect of their repeal of the 18th amendment."

NOT ARCHAIC
"The principle involved is thus not archaic but rather is continuing and vital—that the people are free to withdraw the authority they have conferred and, when withdrawn, neither the Congress nor the courts can assume the right to continue to exercise it."

Congress made no reference in the Civil Rights Act to pending sit-in appeals, but Clark said that didn't matter.

He said the abatement principle imputes to Congress the intention "to avoid inflicting punishment at a time when it can no longer further any legislative purpose and would be unnecessarily vindictive."

There is an 1871 law called the "Federal Savings Statute" designed to prevent under some circumstances the erasing of convictions. But Clark said this law cannot be linked to the rights act, which "substitutes a right for a crime."

NO DIFFERENCE
The fact that the sit-in convictions came under state law, he said, is "a distinction without a difference."

This is because the supreme-any clause in the U.S. Constitution requires that a conflicting state practice of law must give way to the federal rule.

Among the various ideas propounded in the dissents was a doubt by Justice Hugo L. Black that Congress has the power under the commerce clause of the Constitution to abate state convictions.

Further, he said, "in what is perhaps the most extensive and careful legislative history ever compiled . . . not even once did a single sponsor, proponent or opponent of the act, intimate a hope or express a fear that the act was intended to have the effect which the court gives it today."

OWN FORCE

But Clark said that if the court held Congress did not intend to wipe out the sit-in convictions, "we would then have to pass on the constitutional question of whether the 14th Amendment, without the benefit of the Civil Rights Act, operates of its own force to bar criminal trespass convictions, where, as here, they are used to enforce a pattern of racial discrimination."

This is the great constitutional issue with which the court has grappled to little avail during the past three terms.

Clark mentioned what every reader of court opinions knows—that the justices hold differing views on the matter.

Now passage of the Civil Rights Act and the court's interpretation of it seem to have relieved them of the need ever to decide it.

Shelter Pets Are Gifts With 2-Way Joy

By BILL EASTHAM

Department stores offer a fantastic variety of toys nowadays for children of all ages.

Many are animated by battery power. But for liveliness that will gladden the heart of any child and doesn't wear out or run down, none can match a frisky pup or a playful kitten.

At this very moment the two animal welfare agencies in the Pontiac area have on hand some 225 dogs and cats, pups and kittens, that would be overjoyed to be given a spot under your Christmas tree.

Combine the joy of the animal at having a new home and the happiness it will bring a child (or children) and you can't miss.

The Oakland County Animal Shelter, located on the northeast side of the County Service Center, has an inventory of about 75 dogs and pups and 25 cats and kittens that are ready for adoption.

HAD SHOTS

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the animal shelter, says "ready for adoption" means they have had rabies shots.

They should, however, be vaccinated for distemper, hepatitis and leptospirosis, cautions Dr. Bates, to insure that they will remain healthy.

To subsidize the expense of the shelter, which operates on public funds, there is a charge of $3 for the dogs and $1 for cats.

The license, which can be obtained at the shelter, is extra, of course, and the combination shot is an expensive one—$15.

The other temporary home for pets who need a permanent home is the Michigan Animal Rescue League Shelter at 790 Featherstone.

Marsh London, county humane officer in charge of the shelter, said around 130 animals are available there.

Prices range from $2 to $3 for kittens up to $25 for spayed female dogs. But the higher prices include the cost of the combination shot.

The Rescue League, which is a charity organization, does not provide rabies shots, which the animals should have as soon as they are old enough.

OPEN HOURS

The Rescue League is open from 9 to 5 every day except Sunday. The county animal shelter's hours are 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

If you're shopping for a pet and aren't too concerned about its ancestry, the two animal shelters can provide almost as much variety as the toy stores.

While most of the dogs are of uncertain origin, some show signs of noble blood lines and may well have a pedigree somewhere in their background.

Northern Students Start Dixie Project

Whites Help Rebuild Negroes' Church

RIPELEY, Miss. (U-P) — On the muddy ruins of a Negro church at the edge of a cotton field, white college students from the North joined today with Negroes from Mississippi to rebuild a house of worship — a monument to their belief in brotherhood.

The college students and professors, who call themselves "Carpenters for Christmas," arrived Sunday from Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio. There were 26 in the first group; 6 more were expected today.

They traveled nearly 800 miles, the final lap over muddy, treacherous red clay roads to the desolate place where Antioch Baptist Church had stood. The frame building burned last Oct. 30 within hours after it was used for a civil rights meeting.

LAYING BRICK

"We can start laying brick by Tuesday and start the framing Wednesday," said Burrell L. Scott, 40, a mason contractor from Cleveland, Ohio.

Scott, a Negro, flew to Memphis — about 70 miles to the northwest — and then drove to the church site, which is about 10 miles from Ripley.

The Oberlin group plans to work through the holidays. "We have to be back in class Jan. 4," said dark-haired Marcia Aronoff, 29, Oberlin senior and spokeswoman for the group.

COCHAIRMAN

She is cochairman of the Oberlin Action for Civil Rights organization. A sociology major, she is from Middletown, Ohio.

Attired in mid-smear black boots, faded blue jeans and a red coat, she dug at the clay with a pick. She and the other students — and two professors — ignored a biting wind near freezing temperatures and the mud.

"The sky was overcast. A clump of red oaks stood forlornly behind the church site. Several old church pews, blackened by the weather, had been arranged around a fire of scrap lumber and the students warmed themselves."

Marcia Aronoff was asked why the group chose this church to rebuild.

Doctor Asked to Cancel Visit

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Samuel Rosen, a New York ear specialist, has been asked to cancel his plan to visit Red China "for the time being," according to Communist Chinese press reports.

Dr. Rosen, at the invitation of the Peking government, had planned to leave Wednesday with his wife for Paris, Moscow and Peking.

The New China News Agency was quoted Sunday as saving the Chinese Communist Medical Association cabled Rosen, 67, consulting ear surgeon at Mount Sinai Hospital.

The press agency denounced the U.S. State Department for making a "big fanfare" over the invitation to Rosen "in its efforts to whitewash the U.S. government policy of hostility toward China."

Earlier this month the State Department validated the Rosens' passports for travel to Red China, turning the trip "in the national interest."

Dr. Rosen planned to demonstrate in Peking the ear operation he has developed for restoring hearing.

"We sent some students down here to work with the Freedom Democratic party right before the election," she said. "There were 21 who came during a two-week period. Some of them were here at the rally the night the church burned."

The group hopes to have walls and a roof up by the end of the Christmas holidays. To help finance the project, the entire student body of 1,300 at Oberlin donated Friday's lunch money. Church meetings in Ohio and sale of Christmas cards helped raise funds.

Among the muddy workers were Dr. Paul Schmidt, head of the Oberlin philosophy department, and his wife Gail — who suggested the project. "We were just having a second cup of coffee at breakfast one morning," smiled Mrs. Schmidt, a small reddish-haired woman who wore blue jeans and a hooded jacket against the cold.

BURNED CHURCHES

"We were talking about how many churches had been burned in Mississippi and that it would be nice if some of us could rebuild one — as a token. I mean, it's a problem!"

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

BULLET-MARKED WRECKAGE — The twisted remains of a twin-engine U.S. oil company plane shot down near Alexandria Saturday ignored repeated orders to land.

shot down after it crossed the Sinai desert and refused orders to land. Two men were killed in the crash, an American pilot and Scandinavian copilot.

Claim Downed Oil Plane Ignored Orders

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government said today a U.S. oil company plane shot down near Alexandria Saturday ignored repeated orders to land.

Its American pilot and Scandinavian copilot were killed. They were identified only as Hoyt Williams, 44, of Texas, and Kejel Grup, 35, a Scandinavian.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said the plane, a twin-engine Fairchild C82, belonged to the John W. Mecom Oil Co. of Houston, Tex.

The plane was on a flight from Amman, Jordan, to Benghazi, Libya, to buy drilling detergent for Mecom's operations in Jordan, a company spokesman said.

OVER THE DESERT

The Egyptian government said two Egyptian MIG fighters intercepted the plane as it started across the Sinai Desert south of Aqaba, Jordan, and ordered it to land at Cairo Airport.

After starting to set down, official reports said, the plane resumed its northwesterly course. It was shot down over Lake Idku, on the shores of the Mediterranean, the government said.

The pilot apparently filed a flight plan an hour before taking off from Amman. Egyptian authorities normally take a week to approve a flight plan and there appeared little doubt that officials here were not promptly informed of the flight.

The U.S. Embassy said it had requested a thorough analysis and review of the incident. It said the U.S. and Egyptian governments were cooperating in the investigation.

Although embassy sources said they viewed the situation with the utmost gravity, both governments appeared to be trying to prevent the incident from increasing the strain in U.S.-Egyptian relations resulting from the sacking a month ago of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in Cairo by a mob of African students.

David Fritzland, U.S. consul general at Alexandria, visited the crash site Sunday. Eyewitnesses reported some of the wreckage appeared to be punctured by bullet holes.

W. Angie Smith, the Mecom company's foreign representative, left Houston for Cairo Sunday. Mecom, a multimillionaire Houston oil man, was reported to be "in a highly nervous and upset state" in Houston.

"Mr. Mecom is just too upset to make any statement just yet because he doesn't know for sure what has actually happened there," a company spokesman said.

Bullets Riddle Fleeing Auto

8 Shots Fired Into Car Carrying Four Youths

DETROIT (AP)—A pursuing gunman pumped eight bullets into a car carrying four youths Sunday night as the boys tried frantically to escape by driving at speeds of up to 110 miles an hour.

None of the youths was injured.

Michael Robinson, 17, the driver, told police he was out riding with Richard Anderson, Gary Myers, and James Beck, all 18 and all of Garden City, a West Side Detroit suburb.

Robinson, told officers they were passing through suburban Nankin Township when a car with three men in it in front of his car pulled off the road. He said that when he had passed the car it came up behind him with its bright lights on and then pulled alongside.

Robinson said there were eight 22-caliber bullet holes in his car trunk.

WARREN WOMAN HURT IN ACCIDENT

A Warren woman is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after a Saturday evening auto accident on I-75 in Pontiac Township.

Janet Ashbrook, 21, was a passenger in a car being driven by her husband, Tolget, 24, when the mishap occurred.

Sheriff's deputies said the car slid into a guard rail on the southbound lane of the Walton boulevard overpass.

FIRE DAMAGES PONTIAC HOME

Fire swept through a one-story frame home at 475 Arthur late Saturday afternoon, causing an estimated $5,000 in damage.

Firemen said the blaze was caused by an overheated furnace.

The occupant, Shirley Jackson, was not injured. The house is owned by Steven Mason of 403 Dison.

HERBERT WHITE
INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—Service for Herbert White, 63, of 5878 Clarkson will be 11 a.m. tomorrow at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Waterford Township. Burial will follow in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston.

An electrical maintenance worker at GMC Truck & Coach Division, Mr. White died yesterday after an illness of nine months.

His body is at Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home, Clarkston.

Santa Job Not All 'Ho, Ho, Ho' Cuba Executes 3 'CIA Agents'

(EDITOR'S NOTE—An Associated Press staffer decided to see what it was like to be a department store Santa Claus. Here's his report.)

By STEPHENS BROENING
BALTIMORE (AP) — A department store Santa Claus wears a $100 suit, works inside makes extravagant promises for which he never will be called to account.

He sits on what can only be described as a throne, admired by children and smiled on benignly by old ladies.

But the work is not without its hazards, as I discovered when I sat in for two hours in a downtown emporium for the regular Santa Claus.

As I dressed, the Santa supervisor quoted the price of the costume — $100 for the red velvet suit, another $100 for the white wig and whiskers and $22 for the black boots.

SPIRIT OF YULE
"Try to remember you're not only representing the store, but to the children you're the spirit of Christmas," the supervisor said. I said I'd try.
"Don't forget to give every one a balloon," he said.

The throne was surrounded by a squad of anxious children and impatient parents. "Ho, ho, ho," I said bravely, mounting the throne, "Merry Christmas."

At that a boy broke ranks and pounced on my lap. "I'm Randy," he said, preempting my first question.

BID FOR CONTROL
"Watcha gonna bring me for Christmas?" he demanded. "What would you like?" I countered, trying to gain control of the interview.

"Are you really Santa Claus?" he asked. "Ho, ho, ho," I said defensively. "'Cause if you are, how come you're asking me what I want? Didn't you get my letter?" he said.

It was clear this boy did not wish me well.

"Santa gets so much mail," the spirit of Christmas explained, "that sometimes it's difficult to remember just who wants what. Now, why don't you refresh Santa's memory."

BURST INTO TEARS
"You've forgotten," he accused, and burst into tears.

His mother dislodged him from my knee. He recaptured his composure long enough to whisper, "I wanna balloon."

The next customer was 4-year-old Sherrie. She wanted a talking doll and a wagon and a cap pistol. After her came Peter, another 4-year-old, and so on. It was easy sledding, so to speak.

During a lull, I noticed a small boy watching from a distance. His clothes were patched and soiled. He was alone.

I encouraged him to come nearer and finally coaxed him onto my knee. We established that he was James and he was 7 years old. "Well, James," I said, "what would you like Santa to bring for Christmas?"

SENSIBLE CHOICE
"A coat," said James. A sensible choice, I thought. "You like one like that?" I said, pointing to a rack of children's clothes off to the right.

"No, you don't understand," he said. "I want it for my mother. She needs a coat."

"I'll see what I can do," said Santa. "Wouldn't you like a balloon?"

When improvements have been completed the power of the 100-inch telescope on Mt. Palomar may be increased as much as 60 per cent.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three agents of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency were executed by a firing squad for "crimes against the nation's integrity and stability," Havana radio said today.

Other agents were sentenced to prison terms of one to 30 years, the radio said. It did not say how many others were involved.

The Miami-monitored broadcast identified the U.S. agents shot to death as Ricardo Ulloa Olivera, Daniel Montero Camalier and Desiderio Valladares.

Ulloa and Montero were formerly in the Cuban militia, the radio said. It said Valladares was one of the leaders in what it called a "CIA necktie of espionage named the Western Unique Fruit."

CIA RING
Havana radio said the CIA ring had been operating in Pinar del Rio province.

A process which produces an illusion of depth on a flat photograph has been developed. The result is blurry, but can be mass-produced.

Longshoremen Staying on Job as Threat of Dock Strike Eases

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Renewed threats of a dock strike from Maine to Texas eased but did not entirely abate today as contract talks continued and most longshoremen stayed on the job.

Nearly 100 members of the International Longshoremen's Association walked out in New York harbor Sunday night. An ILA official said it was a wildcat strike.

Negotiators for shippers and the Gulf and South Atlantic District of the ILA indicated they would keep on trying to work out a contract agreement here.

Longshoremen will continue working on a day-to-day basis, District President Ralph A. Massey said, while negotiations are in progress.

Massey said the union could order dock workers to leave their jobs at any time and there remained a strong possibility of a strike which would paralyze shipping on the Gulf Coast and the Eastern Seaboard.

An 8 p.m. deadline for a West Gulf strike passed before Massey emerged from a bargaining session to make his announcement.

In New York, pickets appeared at a Grace Lines pier and a state waterfront commission spokesman blamed a contract dispute between ILA Local 791, oldest in the port, and ship owners. Workmen stayed on the job at a pier in Brooklyn, the only other one operating Sunday night.

Anthony Scotto, an ILA international vice president in New York, branded the walkout "a wildcat strike in defiance of the international's instructions." In Boston, New England ILA Vice President John F. Moran said the stoppage was unauthorized. ILA leaders and the New York Shippers Association agreed on a new contract last week. Their pact normally sets the pattern for other districts.

Negotiations broke down in Galveston temporarily Saturday, however, with the size of work gangs apparently a major stumbling block. Dock workers want a minimum 18-man gang. Another topic listed for discussion was payment of wage boosts retroactive to Oct. 1, when the West Gulf area contract expired.

Representatives of longshoremen from Brownsville, Tex., to Lake Charles, La., then offered to discuss extension of their strike deadline if the West Gulf Maritime Association, representing shippers, would agree to take up unspecified union proposals.

After the agreement in New York, ILA spokesmen had said the old contract would remain in force for 20 days at other ports pending settlement of local issues.

NO MENTION

Massey made no mention of a 20-day extension Sunday night when he said a Texas to Maine strike remained a strong possibility.

A union spokesman in Savannah, Ga., said dock workers there would defer a strike decision pending the outcome of negotiations in Galveston.

In New Orleans, Local 1418

President Alfred F. Chittenden said he "didn't intend to break my word" on an agreement to extend the port contract through Jan. 11. The president of Local 1419, Clarence E. Henry, said his members did not feel duty bound to follow other locals.

Hospital Is New Location

Illness Doesn't Halt Santa

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Robert Quinn, the Santa Claus of East Plaza Avenue, is back at his old job but in a new location.

An engineer with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the stocky 32-year-old Irishman and his wife, Pauline, have no children.

So he bought a bright red Santa suit and made nightly rounds of his neighborhood, passing out candy canes to children and listening to their Christmas wishes.

Last Friday Quinn couldn't make it. He was hospitalized with a heart ailment.

The neighborhood missed Santa.

Quinn felt bad too. He asked his wife to bring his Santa suit to the hospital. And although his doctor didn't know it, the children's ward of the hospital had a visitor Saturday night — the Plaza Avenue Santa Claus.

Sweet Potatoes Are Good With Orange

An answer to the age-old saying: "I'm Insurance Poor"

How would you like to make your property insurance dollars buy 100 times as much protection — and at the same time save enough to buy several new hats?

It's not only possible — it's easy.

All you have to do is take advantage of the "deductible" options available in our Homeowners Package Policy.

Look at these figures:

For a frame house in Pontiac, insured for $20,000, the three-year premium is $153 for a Homeowners Policy under which the insurance company pays the full amount of any loss. By taking advantage of the $50 Deductible option, the premium on the same policy can be reduced to $105 — that's a savings of $48 — more than 30%.

In effect, that $48 — when used to buy full coverage — is getting you only $50 worth of insurance for three years.

Now it's likely that the value of the house has increased since that insurance policy was first taken out. By using $21 of that $48 saving — paying a total premium of $126 — the limit of coverage on the house can be increased by $5,000 and the premium is still $22 less than it was for $20,000 worth of no deductible coverage.

Al, you say, but what if something happens to the house?

I'd be out $50! You might — but chances are that you wouldn't.

First, if you consider all the perils covered in our Homeowners Policy — from fires to riots — which one do you think of first? Fire, of course.

Well, the deductible provision in your policy doesn't apply to losses caused by fire or lightning. The company pays the total amount of those losses, in any case.

And even if the loss is due to one of the other perils, the deductible portion may be less than $50 — perhaps nothing at all. The Homeowners Policy has what is known in the business as a "disappearing deductible." That means that the greater your loss, the smaller the deductible portion becomes. If the loss is $200, for example, the company pays all but $35.50. And if the loss is $500 or more, the company pays the entire amount.

SO WHAT'S THE GIMMICK?

There's no gimmick. What makes all this possible is that processing a small claim costs the insurance company about as much as processing a larger one. The deductible provision relieves the company of the cost of processing many small claims. And the savings are passed on to you.

Watch Michigan grow!

And watch Michigan Bell help!

How?

By laying hundreds of miles of new telephone cable to enlarge the communications network throughout Michigan. By adding telephone equipment and making improvements to meet the growing needs of Michigan's expanding business and increasing population.

This is a special tractor used for laying cables underground.

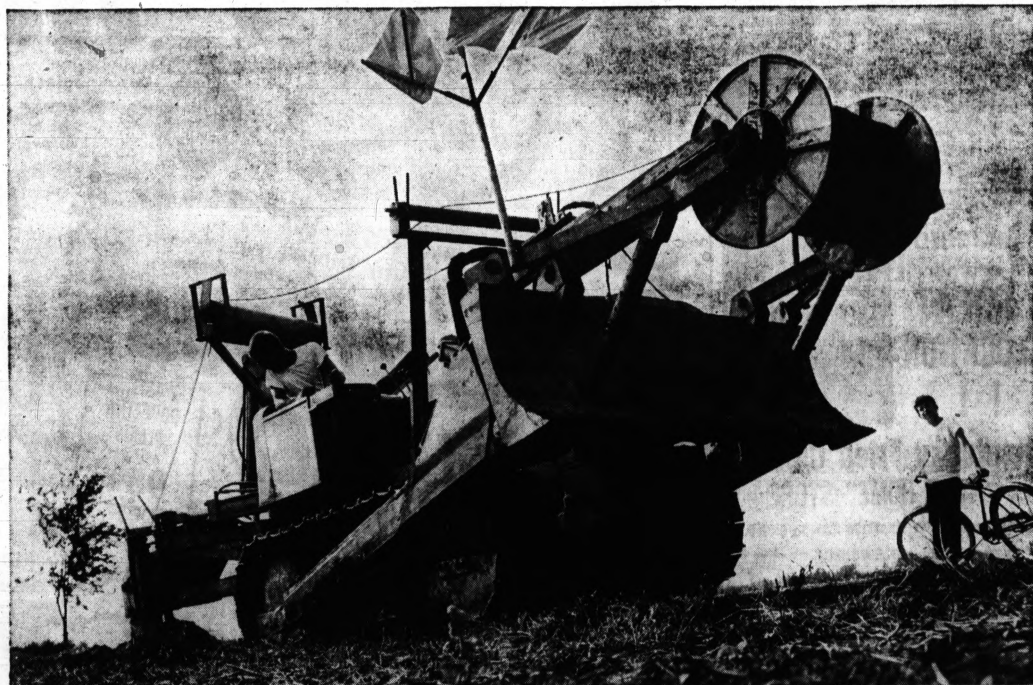

And by putting millions of dollars into Michigan's economy through the construction of new telephone buildings and additions to others. This year Michigan Bell will have spent a total of over 100 million dollars for its construction program.

By improving and expanding its telephone service, Michigan Bell is helping Michigan to grow, while growing right along with it.

30 More Whites Believed Massacred by Congolese

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (UPI) — Communist-led rebels are believed to have massacred 30 white men, women and children in the towns of Banalia and Bafwasende in the past three weeks, it was reported today.

The rebels' latest victims were said to include at least one American and one Canadian. Fifteen Britons, eight Dutchmen, four Belgians and an Australian also were among the missing.

White-led Congo troops reached the scene Friday in time to rescue 14 white women in the town of Bafwasende. In Banalia, however, all they found was bloodstained clothing.

"We heard the shooting, but we don't know what happened to the others," said Mrs. Chester Burk, 54, of Calgary, Alta., one of the women rescued in Bafwasende.

"I believe we were saved by a very narrow margin. The rebels from Banalia had already sent a messenger ordering the Simbas (rebels) to kill all remaining whites. The (white) mercenaries caught him and shot him."

HUSBAND MISSING

Mrs. Burk's husband was one of a group of 16 whites presumably shot by the rebels three weeks ago.

The survivors were flown by helicopter from Bafwasende to Stanleyville and brought here last night. In addition to Mrs. Burk, the survivors included Louise Rimmer and Olive McCarton, missionaries from London, and 11 Italian nuns.

The survivors tearfully told the story of their ordeal to newsmen at Leopoldville airport.

"After the fall of Stanleyville, they kept 28 of us prisoner in one room for three days," Mrs. Burk said. "Then there was an air raid by government planes, but I don't think anybody got hurt."

SIMBAS FURIOUS

"That made the Simbas really furious. They dragged us out of the house and said, 'We have to kill all of you.'"

"They forced us to strip. We were all in the nude."

For some unexplained reason, the group was divided. Mrs. Burk was separated from her husband.

"They took the others ahead of us out of sight," Mrs. Burk said. "I don't know what happened then. We heard one volley of shots. Then nothing more."

NO EXPLANATION

The Canadian missionary could not explain why they did not share the fate of the others.

"Later a rebel officer promised us they had not killed the others, but had taken them away to another village, Bakavi," Mrs. Burk said.

Troops led by Irish-born Maj. Michael (Mad Mike) Hoare, reached Bakavi yesterday but found no trace of the missing whites. It was believed they may have been murdered and their bodies fed to the crocodiles.

"We will probably never know what happened to my husband and the others," Mrs. Burk sobbed.

STILL MISSING

There was no word as to the fate of 11 Britons, including five children; one American, three Belgian nuns; and one Belgian priest who were last reported in Banalia.

"The mercenaries told us they found three bloodstained nuns' habits, one priest's habit and bloodstained clothes of white children at the slipway of the ferry of the Aruwimi River. There was blood on the slipway itself," Mrs. Burk said.

When Hoare's rescue column arrived in Banalia, 80 miles north of Stanleyville, they found the town completely deserted.

Rule No Bias for Solicitors at U.S. Units

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission said today only charitable agencies that operate under nondiscriminatory rules will be allowed in the future to solicit donations at federal offices or military duty stations.

Commission Chairman John W. Macy Jr., announcing the policy, said the effective date was set at July 1, 1965, to allow agencies which might be disqualified "a reasonable opportunity to consider a change in governing policies."

The new standards for agencies allowed to solicit from government employees and the military at their places of employment mean that such agencies must not discriminate because of race in giving service, hiring or naming governing boards and must not segregate those served on the basis of race, Macy said.

Magnets, easily detectable beneath deep snow, are to be worn into skiers' clothing by a manufacturer here to help prevent loss of life in avalanches.

Red Congress Now in Session at Peking

HONG KONG (AP) — Chinese Communist circles in Peking believe Mao Tse-tung may resign as chairman of the Chinese Communist party, a prominent Hong Kong Chinese reported today on his return from Red China.

The source, who declined to be identified by name, said Mao would remain the dominant figure in the party even if he resigns.

He said Mao's resignation may be announced at Red China's third National People's Congress, now in session in Peking.

The informant said Peking Communist circles report Mao, who will be 71 on Dec. 26, wants to devote more time to writing, particularly on the Chinese-Soviet ideological dispute.

OFFICIAL LINE
Although the official Communist line is that Mao is in good health, the visitor to Peking said many Communists there believe Mao's health is failing.

He said persons who saw Mao recently reported he has difficulty breathing and walking. Western visitors returning from Communist China via Hong Kong also have reported Mao in failing health.

Philippines Set to Ask Jurisdiction

MANILA (AP) — Foreign Secretary Mauro Mendez said today he is ready to ask the United States to let Philippine courts try two U.S. servicemen who, while on guard duty, killed two Filipino trespassers.

Mendez said President Diosdado Macapagal must give his approval before the request to waive jurisdiction is put to the United States.

Mauro's statement was evidently an attempt to calm ruffled feelings over the shooting and over a U.S. Embassy announcement last Friday that a mortar shell had been thrown into a schoolyard at Clark Air Base, where one of the Filipinos was shot. The World War II mortar shell did not go off.

Newspapers have called the embassy report an attempt to divert attention from the shootings.

The trespasser shot at Clark Air Base Nov. 25 was a 14-year-old boy who had been scavenging empty shells on a bombing range. Airman I.C. Larry D. Cole of Marshall, Mich., has been charged by the Air Force with unpremeditated murder.

SHOT TO DEATH
In the other incident, Gonzalo Vidello was shot to death Dec. 13 near a store of bombs at the U.S. naval air station at Subic Bay.

No charges have been filed in that case, and the name of the U.S. Marine guard involved has not been released.

Off-Duty Policeman Saves Boy From Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — An off-duty policeman rescued a 5-year-old boy from his burning home Sunday.

Patrolman Arthur Bischoff, 33, took James Guadagnola from an enclosed rear porch in his South side home. Bischoff had seen flames coming from the house and heard Susan Guadagnola, the mother, screaming that her son was inside.

Hay Falls Over Montana

Flying Barn Aids Snowbound Cattle

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—Flying Boxcar 53-7878 lifted off the snow-blanketed runway of Malmstrom Air Force Base bound for storm-stranded, starving cattle in Montana's ranching heartland.

Inside its barrel-like belly the plane carried five tons of hay, making it look and smell like an airborne barn. And that's exactly what it's been the last three days.

This is "Operation Hay-lift," where Boxcar 53-7878 and eight companion planes from California, Utah and Washington are dropping 65 tons of hay over an area where 361,000 head of cattle are snowbound in South-eastern Montana.

"This puts me right back where I started, hauling hay again," joked Lt. Col. Richard Barnes, 43, of Seattle, who flew 53-7878.

PITCHED HAY

The pilot and one crew member, Airman 1.C. Terry Rymer, 21, of Wittenberg, Wis., said they had pitched hay when they were growing up.

"I realize the situation—that when the cows die the farmers lose a lot of money," said Rymer, who volunteered for the hay-lift during his leave time.

In Montana, distress among the cattle is critical. The state's 2.6 million head of cattle outnumber the 700,000 humans almost 4-to-1.

The agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service estimates that subzero weather and lack of forage cause the loss of 20,000 cattle and 30,000 sheep valued at $3.4 million.

8-COUNTY AREA

The airlift by Flying Boxcar 53-7878 and its mates brought relief to an eight-county region.

Air Force bases in California contributed seven of the planes, called C119s. Another came from Ogden, Utah, while 53-7878 is from Washington.

Malmstrom AFB coordinated the disaster program from its site near Great Falls.

Four crewmen shoveled 100-pound bales of hay out two rear hatches as the plane made 20 sweeps over the ranch to discharge its load. Turbulence, wind, swirling snow and straw combined to harass the pilot, airborne "farmhands."

Beneath, some of rancher Delp's 600 head of cattle scampered after the bales, which broke upon impact with the snow.

"We got as low as 50 feet, maybe lower," said the copilot, Maj. Donald J. Sammons, 44, of Bellevue, Wash. "Our speed? About 150 miles an hour. But I wouldn't say there was any risk at all, we don't go any lower than is safe."

Malmstrom AFB officials say Monday's planned four air drops should conclude "Operation Hay-lift," since most of the area's roads were nearly closed.

CATTLE BLOCKED

Before the operation began, snow and subzero weather had blocked cattle from reaching hay stacks, or ranchers from reaching some of the cattle, for more than a week.

The weather warmed up Sunday to a high of -3 degrees at the Air Force base after a low reading of -36 degrees last Wednesday.

SANTA and the SINGING TURTLE

By LUCRECE BEALE

(Synopsis — George clutches Womp's nose so hard he dislocates his own jaw and cannot speak or sing. Santa agrees to let Womp play his flute. George is unable to warn Santa of Womp's plan to put the whole of Fairyland to sleep.)

CHAPTER FOURTEEN
Santa Claus led the fairies and the pixies and Storybook folk and all the visitors from the Animal Kingdom into the Fairy Queen's palace for lunch. They were as hungry as any creatures would be who had sung and danced all morning.

They gobbled up the clover salad, the corn and mushroom and pineapple sandwiches, the pecan pudding and peanut butter ice cream.

Between courses they talked over the morning's performances and argued about who was best.

Only two were quiet at the feast. One was Womp, the man-witch, who sat alone at a corner table nursing his bruised nose while he planned the tune he would play on his flute in the afternoon.

TOYED WITH FOOD

The other quiet one was Santa Claus.

He toyed with his food and could not make any conversation at all. He was troubled by all that happened. He felt in his bones that something was wrong.

"What was it," he wondered,

"that George wanted to say!"

Meanwhile, George himself was not at the feast. He was in the garden and the Snowman was working desperately to reset his dislocated jaw.

FIRST PRIZE

"Just suppose that Womp won Grand Musician to the Queen! It wouldn't do at all.

"Oh, George, whatever made you get yourself into such a fix?"

"Abhhhh!" groaned George. He shook his head violently, but he could not shake his jaws back into place.

"If you had hiccoughs I would know what to do," said the Snowman. "You could sniff pepper and you would sneeze and the hiccoughs would be gone."

MIGHT TRY

"Abhhhh!" said George.

"Say," said the Snowman. "We might try that anyway!"

Before George could groan again the Snowman dashed away to the dining room and snatched a pepper shaker right from under the nose of Womp, the man-witch.

When he ran back out Womp got up and followed.

BET THIS WORKS

"I bet this works!" cried the Snowman, running back to the turtle with the pepper shaker in his hands.

George looked up and saw Womp behind the Snowman.

He arched out his head and poked at the man-witch's feet crying "Abhhhh!"

The Snowman looked at Womp and he looked at Womp's feet and he saw at last what George had been trying so long to tell him.

PRINCE'S SHOES

"The Prince's shoes!" he cried. "Why he has on the Prince's shoes!"

He was so surprised he dropped the pepper shaker.

It crashed on George's back, spraying pepper over George's head.

"Kerchew!" went George. And so violent was the sneeze his jaw sprang back into place!

WARN SANTA

"Warn Santa!" he gasped as soon as he could speak. "He bewitched the Prince and he plans to bewitch Santa, too!"

"Good gracious!" gasped the Snowman, too astonished to move.

George rushed off toward the palace but though his feet were running he wasn't getting anywhere. Womp had leaped down and picked him up by the tail.

"I arrived just in time," said Womp. "It is fortunate I had finished my lunch. Now is my turn to wreak noise."

He reached out and grabbed the dumbfounded Snowman. Then he marched off into the woods carrying George upside down by the tail and leading the Snowman by his carrot nose.

41 Die in Mexican Train Crash; Mine Blast Kills 57 in Peru

VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico (AP) — A speeding freight train ramed into the back of a halted passenger train in dense fog near here yesterday, killing 41 persons and injuring 75. Three of the injured were American tourists.

Nils Werner of Alhambra, Calif., was reported in critical condition. His right arm had been amputated and he was in danger of losing a leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson of Fresno, Calif., were reported doing well. They suffered leg fractures and other injuries.

The accident occurred at the mountain village of Tacotalpa, 45 miles south of this capital of Tabasco State in southeastern Mexico. The area is about 600 miles southeast of Mexico City.

The Americans were on their way back to Mexico City after visiting the archeological area of Palenque, in nearby Chiapas.

APPARENTLY DOZED

Authorities blamed the wreck on the fog and lack of attention on the part of the engineer of the freight train. A member of the freight train crew said the engineer apparently had been dozing and did not see the stopped train until too late.

The engineer, identified as Miguel Sanchez Cruz, fled from the scene.

The passenger train had left Tenosique, in Tabasco, and was on its way to Coahuila in Veracruz State. It had halted for a 10-minute routine stop when the freight train hit it.

LIMA, Peru (AP) — An explosion in a U.S.-operated coal mine in central Peru yesterday killed 57 miners and injured two others.

Reports from the mine, near Cerro de Pasco 125 miles north-east of Lima, said gas and coal dust exploded. The mine's output is used to make coke for copper, gold and silver mining operations at Cerro de Pasco.

It is operated by the U.S.-owned Cerro de Pasco Corp.

While rescuers dug for bodies, officials of the government and the mining company tried to determine the cause of the accident.

Peru's President Fernando Belaunde Terry sent messages of sympathy to families of the victims.

Survivors said the blast shot a wall of flames through the shaft and supporting timber beams were splintered like matches. There was speculation it might have been set off by sparks from a pick.

'Man Not Meant to Fly'

By DICK WEST

United Press International WASHINGTON — Members of "The Man-Will-Never-Fly Memorial Society" held their annual meeting at Kitty Hawk, N. C., recently to celebrate the failure of the Wright brothers to get off the ground.

It might be argued in some quarters that a celebration of this type is out of order, owing to the fact that the Wrights are generally credited with having made the first powered flight.

While such an argument may have a certain validity, it is also true that on several occasions the Wright brothers did, in fact, fail to get off the ground.

In the opinion of the Memorial Society, these failures provided more cause for celebration than the subsequent take-offs. And they may be right.

Anyway, the society remains devoted to the principle that "birds fly, men drink." And there is no gainsaying that they are right about that.

Among other things, the Society awards a plaque each year to the man who does the most to discourage the idea of powered flight.

DESERVES IT

I haven't heard who won this year's award, but I sincerely hope it was Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. He certainly deserved it.

With one swoop, McNamara recently grounded the entire congressional contingent of the Air Force Reserve. He apparently is dedicated to the principal that "birds fly, congressmen pass laws."

What McNamara did was downgrade the status of reserve officers in Congress, one effect being that they can no longer draw military pay or take training flights to faraway places in military aircraft.

This is why I think McNamara deserved the plaque. Almost nothing discourages the idea of powered flight as much as the loss of flight pay or having to buy your own ticket.

NOT CONVINCED

There have been reports that the lawmakers involved might try to overturn McNamara's directive during the next session of Congress. But I am not convinced that this will happen.

If our congressional fliers read the papers, they are undoubtedly aware of what happened at Dulles Airport a few days ago. An airliner was landed by a computer.

That might not discourage the idea of powered flight, but it may discourage the idea that congressmen are needed as pilots.

For that matter, it may discourage the idea that congressmen are needed at all.

SIMPLE TASK

If a computer can land an airliner, it should be fairly simple to build one that could operate the U. S. Congress.

At any rate, when the Memorial Society meets again next year, it will have something additional to celebrate. Man, congressmen and computer will never fly.

Only Wanted Coins Tallied

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP) — A small boy presented a box of coins to a teller in a local bank and asked the man to count the money.

"You have $32.71 here," the teller announced, asking the lad for his bankbook so the money could be entered on the account.

$300,000 Blaze Hits in Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP) — A fire of unknown origin caused $300,000 damage to five business establishments in downtown Petoskey Sunday, State Police said.

No one was injured. Firemen said the blaze broke out at 10 a.m. and was brought under control three hours later.

Puff's Appliance Center and Russell Shoe Store were destroyed, police said. The Circus Shop, Welling Ready-to-Wear shop, and the First National Bank suffered smoke and water damage.

Area Child's Art Is Award Winner

What is the meaning of Christmas to a second grader?

One little lady, Paula Sue Duggan, of 2916 James, Pontiac Township, said, "To me, Christmas is the time for Santa and his reindeer to bring all the good boys and girls some new toys."

Paula illustrated her meaning of Christmas and entered her drawing in the tenth annual Christmas art contest sponsored by Michigan Bell telephone Co. for the children of its employees.

For her drawing and accompanying note, Paula was named a Merit Award winner, placing second among contestants in her grade level.

Paula, almost 8 years of age, is one of 655 children who submitted drawings in this year's contest.

And He's Glad of It

Peron's Political Career Said Finished

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Juan D. Peron is through with politics and glad of it — at least that's the reaction of the former Argentine dictator as reported by those who should be in a position to know it.

In the wake of his unsuccessful effort to return to Argentina, the Spanish government has told Peron he must avoid politics if he is to continue in exile in Spain.

One Peronist source here said Peron's letter accepting Spain's conditions marked the end of the ex-president's political career.

"There is no other future for him than to continue to live in Spain," this source said. "His prestige has definitely come to an end and Peronists will soon have to seek a new leader among those in our country."

FRUSTRATED ATTEMPT

When Peron made his frustrated attempt to return to Argentina some Peronists commented:

"He was forced to do so by members of the national committee for his return, despite his objections that the situation was not ripe."

They added — when he was sent back to Spain from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil:

"Now he will, definitely, be able to live quietly in Spain, far from any sort of pressure, and from the many, and big, problems he would certainly have had to face had he arrived in Buenos Aires."

SPANISH CONDITIONS

Some sources said Peron has accepted Spanish conditions "only until the situation permits him to plan his definite return." Others in a position to know intimated Peron agreed to the conditions "joyfully and forever, because that was what he was seeking."

Retired Exec Dies

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — James L. Cochran Sr., 79, retired executive vice president of Seiberlin Rubber Co., died Sunday. Cochran also was president of Cochran Industries, Inc., an export agency for several Ohio firms.

Peron at 69 is far from being the strong man he was 10 years ago. He had a prostate operation last March. His wife, Isabel Marzetti, appears to be happy with the life they lead in Spain, one associate says.

A Latin-American diplomat observed: "His disappearance can do Peronism and its political goals in Argentina a lot of good. Peron was obviously a handicap to these goals."

"The renunciation of the ex-president may give Argentina quite a relief and it is certain that Peronism will in the future cooperate in an all-hands effort and with more enthusiasm."

Ad Executive Dies

KENWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Henry Quimby Hawes, 76, former San Francisco advertising executive, died Saturday. Hawes was vice president of McCann-Erickson, Inc., and was in charge of the firm's west coast office from 1921 to 1959, when he retired.

Ex-Ambassador Dies

ROME (AP) — Ambassador Augusto Rocco, 79, a noted Italian diplomat during the period between the two world wars, died Sunday. Rocco had served Berlin, London and Moscow.

Greater Autonomy Sought for Factories

'Spirit of Enterprise' Growing in Russia

By JOHN BEST
Canadian Press Writer
KHARKOV, U.S.S.R. (AP) —
The profit motive and private incentive are rapidly becoming respectable notions in the Soviet Union.

Prof. Yevsey Liberman of Kharkov University predicts that, within the next two or three years, a system to free light industry from excessive centralized control will be more or less broadly used.

Liberman, 67, is the leader of economic liberals increasingly vocal in a movement to give individual factories greater autonomy and thus make production more responsive to the demands of consumers.

He said in an interview the concept of central planning —
"our greatest achievement" — would not be infringed by the new system, which he first advocated nearly six years ago.

LIBERATES DIRECTORS

But it would liberate factory directors from rigid production targets set by Gosplan, the central planning agency, and regional economic councils.

And it would introduce open market influences into the Soviet economy and give rise to what Liberman called the "spirit of enterprise" among workers and management.

Exponents also believe it would encourage development of new products and go a long way toward solving the problem of poor quality production.
Workers would have a material stake in doing good work in the form of bonuses derived from profits.

The new system is already in effect experimentally in a number of clothing factories.

WILL SPREAD

Liberman expressed belief the idea will spread to heavy industry as a better pricing system develops.

The interview took place in Liberman's office at the university, which he joined in 1946. He is a native of the Ukraine with a quick wit and an engaging smile. He speaks excellent English.

Use of economic methods of influencing production does not mean the Soviet Union "is going over to some kind of capitalist system," he said.

Except for the portions paid to factory personnel as bonuses, profits will not flow into private hands.

SALES JUDGEMENT

Factories will get their orders directly from stores, which presumably will act on the basis of retail sales judgment, and in certain cases from government and other institutional customers.

This does away — so goes the theory — with the scandalous waste of resources involved in state-directed production of goods that sit on shelves or clog warehouses because nobody wants them.

Liberman said many if not most Soviet economists now agree that central planning on the one hand and profit-seeking and private incentive on the other are "absolutely compatible" ideas.

The new Kremlin leaders have shown "a spirit of carefullness and objectiveness — an intention to use scientific principles more seriously than ever."

"This is favorable for economic life at all levels."

Both Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Communist party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev are industrial engineers.

The three cities with the most people are New York, Chicago and Los Angeles. The three with the most land are Los Angeles, Houston, and Oklahoma City.

Spinster Sisters
Found Dead

DETROIT (AP) — Two spinster sisters, both in their 50s, were found dead in their locked apartment Sunday.

Police said one died of apparent malnutrition and the other of an unknown cause. There was no evidence of foul play.

The two were identified as Reva Levine, 50, and Dora Levine, 50.

A brother, Harry Levine, 65, said he found the apartment door chained from the inside when he came to visit and entered with the aid of the apartment caretaker.

BED AND FLOOR

One sister was found lying on a bed and the other on the bedroom floor.

Levine said he supported Reva and Dora and had been concerned since they failed to come for their regular check from him Thursday.

Mrs. Martha Mabry, the caretaker, described the sisters as quiet women who kept to themselves.

Barry to Take Fresh Look at Burch Controversy at Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater takes a fresh look today at the controversy over Republican National Chairman Dean Burch at a high-level GOP strategy conference.

Invited to sit in with the defeated presidential candidate was his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, Burch, and the chairman of the party's two congressional campaign committees, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

Morton said Sunday night he did not expect to attend. "I just had a tooth pulled and a couple of minor things happened," he said in Louisville, adding he had another dentist appointment scheduled today.

There were signs Goldwater hoped to enlist support from Morton and Wilson in an active effort to save Burch's job. Moderate and progressive Republicans are trying to get rid of Burch in the wake of last

Ford Confident of GOP Victory

Maps Plans to Win Halleck's House Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford worked against a 14-day deadline today to build his "new spirit" campaign for the house Republican leadership into victory over Rep. Charles A. Halleck.

The Michigan Republican, who plunged into the battle Saturday, appeared confident that he could defeat the veteran Indiana GOP leader at the showdown Jan. 4.

Ford predicted that when the 140 Republicans who will serve in the 89th Congress assess the candidates, they will choose him.

Halleck, who has been vacationing in Florida, headed back for Washington to start organizing his campaign for reelection. His office said Halleck had no immediate comment on the Ford candidacy.

Ford's campaign organization, headed by Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., worked through the weekend to line up votes for the 51-year-old challenger.

FORD'S AIM

The aim is to build a "substantial" margin of victory, Ford said. He indicated he did not want to go through the kind of fight that Halleck had when he beat Rep. Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., for the leadership by four votes just six years ago.

Ford declined to "play the numbers game" when asked how many votes he had in the bag. To assure election, he would need 71 votes, although the caucus rules require only a majority of members present.

The campaign against Halleck opened on a high level, with Ford refusing to indulge in any criticism of the 64-year-old Hoosier who often is called the toughest "gut-fighter" in national politics.

Halleck has been accused of being too wedded to dogmatic opposition for its own sake and of refusing to consider new ideas to improve the Republican position. Ford made indirect reference to these criticisms by saying "We must begin a new chapter with new ideas, new spirit and new leadership."

Georgia's Own Santa Claus Is Moving Ahead

SANTA CLAUS, Ga. (AP) — Santa Claus is on the move this Christmas season.

"We're doing rather well in Santa Claus, we feel," Mayor Bill Salem said today. "We have our first street being paved — Reindeer Street."

The mayor said the population of the city has increased from 5 in 1960 to 28 at present. "We've issued permits for three or four new homes and are looking forward to an additional 12 to 14 soon," he said.

During the Christmas season, Salem said, letters from all over the world arrive to be post-marked.

EXPECT SHOWDOWN

A showdown is expected when the GOP National Committee meets Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Miller, who preceded Burch as national chairman, has been canvassing committee members in the latter's behalf. There was evidence the anti-Burch drive has made greater headway than expected.

Friends said that Morton and Wilson, who have publicly opposed Burch's replacement, are way of involving themselves actively in the chairmanship battle.

Morton particularly was reported convinced that the opposition to Burch is so strong that it is only a matter of time until the chairman will have to step down, even if he wins a conference vote at the Chicago meeting.

But Goldwater was depicted as having rejected all proposals for a compromise in a fight he has said is directed at him, rather than at Burch.

Wilson may calculate he has some more important work on his hands in the House revolt against the minority leadership of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. The campaign committee chairman has put himself on record in support of Halleck.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., announced Saturday he will oppose Halleck for the leadership post at a Jan. 4 caucus of the 140 House Republicans.

The principal claim Ford, 51, advanced for changing leadership horses was that he was a "new era" candidate who would present a younger image of the party than Halleck, 64.

Ford took pains to disassociate his candidacy with the effort to oust Burch. But his critics noted that he has worked closely with Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has taken a leading role in the "Burch must go" chorus.

Wife-Talk Can Be Powerful, Expensive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a widespread belief that the most important language in the world today is English.

A strong case can be made for this viewpoint, as more countries discover the general utility and adaptability of the English vocabulary.

However, there is in existence a language that is even more powerful and expensive. It is wife-talk.

To become a real scholar of this widespread form of communication, it is practically necessary for the student to be two things: male and married.

THROWN RICE

Taking her new husband firmly by the arm, she murmurs, "My, isn't it fun standing here up to our armpits in thrown rice?"

What she actually means, as any veteran husband would know, is "Let's get going, stupid. It's time to start our honeymoon."

That is the first thing a man has to learn about wife-talk. It never means what it says. It has to be translated.

Wife-talk is made up of hint and innuendo, gesture as well as spoken word.

An uplifted eyebrow may carry the impact of 500 words, sometimes even 1,000 words. A shrug may have more meaning than 10,000 words.

Another thing a husband needs to learn in dealing with his bride is never to take her oral expressions literally. Mystery between him and her begins at the altar and never ends. The rest of his life he will spend desperately trying to find out what the devil she is really trying to express.

They are having a meal together and she says sweetly, "Dear, won't you have some more steak?"

The recent bridegroom naturally thinks she is interested in his welfare and pleasantly replies, "Yes, sweetie-pie, thanks, I think I will."

INDIRECT DISCOURSE

What he doesn't realize is that wife-talk is always couched in the form of indirect discourse and that what his bride actually meant was, "I'm starved, stupid — pass me the meat."

It can be taken as a rule of thumb in wife-talk that any sentence used by a wife in addressing her husband carries the implied term "stupid," although only an insensible woman actually uses this word out loud to her spouse. She doesn't have to. Her tone should be able to do that.

At a cocktail party she says of a blonde the men are clustering around, "Isn't her hair lovely?" What she actually means is, "Stay away from that dyed hussy, Buster."

In a restaurant she says, "This is a cozy table — it's so much fun to hear the chatter from the kitchen." What she means is, "Well, stupid, why weren't you man enough to get us a table by the window?"

She says wistfully on a rainy day, "If anything should ever happen to me, dearest, I want you to marry again and be happy — do, stupid, I'll haunt you forever." What she means is, "If you er."

Still Long Way to Go for Negro, Survey Shows

A recent survey of Pontiac and 67 other cities by the National Urban League shows that the typical American community, while showing some improvement, still has a long way to go to wipe out poverty, illiteracy and unemployment among Negroes.

The survey, made of cities having Urban League branches, was based on U.S. Census data, according to Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the national interracial work organization.

Young pointed out that the survey was not made to pass judgment on the communities.

According to the survey, Negro home owners are improving their property rapidly.

In 39 of the 68 cities analyzed, more than 70 per cent of all Negro homes are now rated "sound" by the government. Nationally, this is about twice as many as in the previous decade.

Pontiac rates 16th in owner occupancy with 81 per cent sound homes.

In the majority of cities, more than half of all rental units occupied by nonwhites were regarded as substandard.

Commenting on the condition of nonwhite rental housing in Pontiac, Mrs. Anne D. Russell, director of health, welfare and housing for the Pontiac Urban League, made the following points:

"Urban renewal did not displace a large number of Negro families, but more white families. The number of deteriorating and dilapidated house occupied by Negroes has not changed substantially since the 1960 census."

IMPROVEMENTS

In regard to nonwhite owner-occupied housing, Mrs. Russell said, "growing economic improvement accounts for the number of owner-occupied houses in Pontiac."

"This is a vivid indication that Negroes, like others, want good housing and, when freed from discriminatory practices, will buy and keep their houses in good condition."

"Many Negroes have had to purchase homes in older neighborhoods," she noted.

As for employment, the survey showed that 12 per cent of Pontiac's nonwhite population is unemployed. In only 21 of the 68 cities surveyed, did unemployment drop below the 9 per cent mark.

LIVING IN POVERTY

Of 2,888 nonwhite families in Pontiac, the report listed 29.5 per cent as living in poverty, with incomes of less than $3,000 annually. Another 29 per cent earn more than $6,000.

Mrs. Russell commented that "Negro families have the greatest proportion of people in the poverty category. However, in actual numbers it is white families who are more often poverty-stricken, which points up the need for programs to reach the needs of both groups."

"It should be emphasized," she noted, "that a large portion of poverty found among Negroes is attributed to past racial discriminatory practices where education and employment opportunities are not available on an equal basis. This has not been true of whites."

In the $6,000-and-up category, the range was from eight to 45 per cent among the 68 cities surveyed.

Still on earnings, Pontiac was sixth from the top in median male income with $3,983.

"Even though there is evidence of improved economic conditions for Negroes," said Mrs. Russell, "research data comparing Negro family income with white family income, shows that the Negro still earns about 55 per cent of the total income of the white."

"The increase in income here represents a little breakthrough on the part of many Negro men and women into some of the better-paying jobs."

"It cannot be forgotten," she added, "that unions, especially the AFL-CIO, have played an important role by providing Negroes an opportunity to become situated in some of the better-paying factory positions."

WORK BREAKDOWN

Other figures for Pontiac show 140 nonwhites in professional and technical work; 45 in managerial and official; 178 in clerical; 67 in sales; 280 craftsmen and foremen.

The balance, comprising 74 whites, are operatives, household service and laborers.

In Pontiac, the survey shows that out of 6,432 nonwhites over 25 years of age, 153 have no schooling; 2,231 have only seven years or less; 1,671 have one to three years of high school, and 998 have completed 12 years.

There was a total of 78 per cent dropouts.

MISLEADING

Mrs. Russell, however, pointed out that the data on Pontiac dropouts in the national survey might be somewhat misleading.

"Many persons in this group are adults and children from the South who had dropped out of school before moving to Pontiac, but are included in the 1960 census."

"More complete data on dropouts can be obtained from the Pontiac Board of Education," she concluded.

Controversial TFX Fighter to Be Tested

FORT WORTH (UPI) — The controversial TFX fighter plane, which inspired some heated flights of political oratory, will make its own first flight some time this week — perhaps today.

Now dubbed the F111, the TFX made two high-speed taxi runs yesterday, as a warm-up for its maiden flight.

The General Dynamics Corp., which built it, said the sleek two-man jet fighter-bomber would take off for the first time "this week — probably in a day or so."

R. L. Johnson, General Dynamics test pilot, Val Prahl, in the co-pilot's seat.

What's new about Motorola Color/65 sets? To start with, the picture is rectangular, full, bigger, with a natural shape similar to color movies. All other sets commercially produced in America today use a round tube. Their pictures are smaller and rounded off. Look how much of the picture you'd lose! So why lose the extra enjoyment Motorola Color/65 sets can add to your viewing enjoyment?

Another important advantage is this: The new tube is about 5.2 inches shorter from front to back than ordinary round color tubes so Color/65 cabinets can be slim and trim. They fit back close to the wall... blend beautifully with other furnishings. Choose from many fine furniture designs including decorator sets designed by Drexel exclusively for Motorola.

Philippines Cool to U.S. Talks

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The Philippine government is not anxious to reopen talks on the U.S.-Philippine bases agreement until after its presidential elections next November.

But two recent fatal shootings by American soldiers of Filipino intruders on U.S. military installations and an attempted bombing of a U.S. dependent children's school at Clark Air Force Base last week has pushed the issue into the forefront.

Philippine Foreign Secretary Mauro Mendez said, "There is no question about a need for a revision of the treaty." But he added that "we would like to proceed on this question very cautiously."

Inevitably, the issue of court jurisdiction over crimes involving both Philippine citizens and alien Americans is charged with emotion.

Since negotiation involves compromise, the political results in Manila could be great. Any administration making concessions to U.S. military jurisdiction would be politically vulnerable to political attack for "selling out" Filipino interests.

On the other hand, the opposition could find its hands tied politically. It could be hamstrung by having to go along in the interests of continued good relations with the United States, or it could take an "anti-American" attitude which might hurt in the elections.

De Gaulle news conference: President Charles de Gaulle's next semiannual news conference is set for Jan. 15. But he is not expected to smash any diplomatic crockery this time.

Aldes say he has no sensations planned, as he has in the past.

His New Year's Eve radio-television broadcast to the French nation, however, is expected to be more political in content than usual.

Public Schools to resist: Britain's elite "public" schools — which in reality are fee-paying private schools — fear efforts will start in the new year to break down their present independence and exclusivity.

The Labor government is planning to set up a special body to see how these schools can be fitted into the state system.

But old establishments like Eton, Harrow and Rugby will fight back.

These places where the sons of the wealthy and aristocratic have been educated for generations will not yield easily — especially the ones with a religious background. And many of these schools have a close association with both the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church.

Collins Expects More Negro Unrest Next Summer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Le Roy Collins, director of the Community Relations Service, expects more civil rights disturbances next summer — both in the North and South — despite his agency's efforts to encourage communities to eliminate sources of unrest.

Racial problems in the north, said Collins, who heads the conciliation service created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act, are far more complex than they are in the South.

Ghettoes based on long-standing discrimination, Collins said, make solutions enormously difficult and complex.

"There will always be room for lawful protest where people are abused," he added. "Where this exists you are bound to have demonstrations. You can expect people to protest."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission says savings by individuals rose to a postwar record of $8.3 billion during July, August and September. This was $708 million more than the second quarter total and $1.5 billion higher than the July-September period last year.

Savings increased during the first nine months of the year by $22.5 billion, about one-third above the 1963 period, the commission added.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission exploded another underground nuclear device at its Nevada test site in its efforts to develop excavation techniques which conceivably might be employed to build the proposed sea-level canal through Central America.

The announcement late Saturday said the Friday blast was equivalent to about 100 tons of TNT.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Negroes holding high paying federal jobs has increased for the third year in a row.

The White House made public late Saturday in a minority census taken in June for the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which showed a 19.5 per cent increase — 32 persons — in the number of Negroes holding federal jobs paying from $10,250 to $24,500 yearly.

A three-year comparison for 1961-64 showed an increase of 1,300 or 125.4 per cent in Negro job holders in the highest pay categories.

The number of Negroes in all federal pay categories totaled 299,430 or 13.2 per cent of the total force, the report said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will be asked next year to make it possible for the American public to view a film prepared as a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said Saturday he will introduce a "sense of Congress" resolution urging the U.S. Information Agency to arrange for distribution of the film through domestic educational media and commercial television.

The film, "John F. Kennedy — Years of Lightning, Day of Drums," was prepared for showing around the world. The agency has no authority to release it for domestic audiences.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has announced plans to issue six new postage stamps and a commemorative post card next year.

They are: a commemorative stamp honoring the late President; Herbert Hoover; commemorative stamps for traffic safety, the Salvation Army, the Magna Carta and the Italian poet Dante; a reproduction of a John Singleton Copley painting, and a postal card commemorating the 175th anniversary of the Coast Guard.

Driving Lesson Ends in Death

Boy, 7, at Wheel as Car Kills Dad, Sister.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 7-year-old boy learning how to drive the new family car apparently confused the brakes with the accelerator.

David Brooks' father, Robert Brooks, 32, was standing nearby with sister Deborah, 6, begging her turn at the wheel.

The car slowed, said detective Sgt. Robert Frost, "and Brooks told the boy to put on the brakes. He apparently missed."

Across the parking lot at Hialeah Race Course Mrs. Brooks, angry that her husband was letting David drive, was walking home with two younger children.

SHOT FORWARD

She turned as the car shot forward. Brooks was killed instantly. Debbie died in surgery. Carleton Harper, who was flying model airplanes in the parking lot with friends, said "the man was pinned under the car. The little girl was lying on the other side and she was crying."

"When we got there, the woman was screaming for someone to call an ambulance. She got all the children together and took them away so they wouldn't look at the man."

No charges were contemplated by police.

Japan, South Korea Adjourn Their Talks

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and South Korea adjourned their normalization talks today until Jan. 18.

Negotiators Kim Dong Jo of South Korea and Nobuhiko Ushiba of Japan briefly reviewed issues discussed by three subcommittees that have been meeting since negotiations resumed Dec. 3.

The two nations have met off and on for the past 15 years to try to establish normal diplomatic relations. Informed sources said the negotiators failed again to make any substantial progress.

Russia to Decorate

'Good Neighbor' Finn

MOSCOW (AP) — President Anastas I. Mikoyan of the Soviet Union is en route from Moscow to Helsinki for a two-day visit to Finland.

He will present Finnish President Urho Kekkonen with the Order of Lenin for "outstanding services in the development of friendly, good, neighborly Soviet-Finnish relations," the Soviet News agency Tass said.

The nation has 250 ships, 100 submarines and 750 aircraft assigned to antisubmarine warfare. More than 85,000 persons are involved in the mission.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Candlelight Ceremony for Scott Wedding

Reception in the Kingsley Inn followed the marriage of Deanna Louise Satterfield to Jon Sherwood Scott, Saturday, at Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Dr. Harold DeWitt officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

LACE MOTIFS

Alencon lace motifs traced with pearls enhanced the bride's gown and court train of cameo ivory dulcette satin.

Lace petals caught her tiered veil of illusion.

Rhododendron leaves, ivy and white sweetheart roses comprised her bouquet.

Poinsettias in trumpet stitch accented formal gowns of ruby velvet for maid of honor Marcy Hofmann, and the bridesmaids Mrs. David Scott, Kalamazoo, and Laurie Crimley of South Haven.

On the esquire side were best man Cullen Henshaw, Ann Arbor, with ushers David Scott, John Callaghan, Northville; Fred Roedle, Kalamazoo; and Peter Blom, Grand Rapids.

The couple will honeymoon at a northern ski resort.

MRS. JON SHERWOOD SCOTT

Wed Saturday at Kirk-in-the Hills were Deanna Louise Satterfield, daughter of the William Satterfields of Ogden Drive, West Bloomfield Township, and Jon Sherwood Scott, son of the Sherman Scotts of Kalamazoo.

Musicians in Jr. Units Sing, Play

The Pontiac Junior Musicians gathered for a program of original Christmas melodies and poems, Saturday, in the home of the Oscar Schmidts on Utica Road.

Participating were Ruth Ann Garner and Debra Garner who was a guest, also Billy Garfield, Susan Sharrock, Kirk Lockhart, Lorine Pritchett, Mark Davis, Henry and Debbie Leopold, Shari and Becky Shepley.

Others were Douglas Edwards, Julie and Christopher Wright, Denise Roderick, Michelle Carney, Archie Hovsejan, Jimmy Kuhlman, Laurie Blakeney, Karen Reh and Susan Garfield.

CHOPIN CLUB

Twenty-six members of the Chopin Music Club attended the Christmas party, Sunday afternoon, in the home of Diane Palmer on Bow Lane Drive. Elizabeth Kimmins and Cheryl Bryan were cohostesses.

Mrs. Carl Clifford announced the program of piano solos and duets, also special arrangements of carols. Jean Ann Keefer was the accompanist.

Final Dance of '64

The Widows and Widowers club will host their last dance of 1964 Tuesday, 8 to 11 p.m. in the CAI Building. Round and square dancing will be featured for all interested adults.

They're Engaged

The James Brouns of Essererville announce the engagement of her daughter, Amie Burkle, to Kenneth Ames Wood Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Wood of Mayflower Court. The bride-elect is a graduate of Hurley Hospital School of X-ray Technology, Flint. Her fiancé attended Western Michigan University. A Feb. 27 wedding is planned.

Shirley Ann Conlan, daughter of Mrs. Ralph C. Conlan of Eileen Drive and the late Mr. Conlan, has set a May 8 altar date in St. Hugo of the Hills. She attended the University of Detroit and her fiancé, Thomas Evan Utter, is a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, with a master's degree from Michigan State University. His mother, Mrs. Wilma M. Utter, resides in Jackson.

'Best-Dressed' List Keeps Women on Their Toes

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK UPD — Those annual best-dressed lists serve one healthy purpose — they stimulate fashion. But they also skip a lot of the deserving, says one woman named so often to the lists she finally was elevated to a hall of fame and taken out of the running.

Aline Griffith, the Countess of Quintinilla of Madrid, so sums up the annual salute to style.

"There are thousands of women who are very elegant and eligible for the list," said the brunette beauty from Pearl River, N. Y., who married Spanish nobility shortly after World War II. She had been sent to Spain on a mission for the U.S. Office of Special Services (OSS).

"They're just far from the scene and so are never seen," said the countess.

"I find the list more of a symbol, to encourage women all over the world to fashion. The women cited have to live up to it, but I think this is a healthy thing — to keep them on their toes."

In 1962, the countess was moved on up to the hall of fame alongside such best-dressed perennials as the Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. William Paley and Princess Grace of Monaco, to leave space for new faces.

The newest international list, compiled from ballots circulated largely through the fashion world, is due in early January.

Her husband was glad to see her "retired," she smiled, because the clothing bill would be less.

The countess was a regular on the lists although she declares hers always has been a "small" wardrobe.

"Maybe four suits, a couple of them black, for we wear lots of black in Spain, two or three black dresses, several long evening dresses."

"I do have a variety of sports and country clothes because we do a lot of hunting and riding in Spain. I'm usually in skirt and sweater for the day, otherwise."

"I think if a woman has too many clothes, she doesn't put them together so well."

"If I like a dress, I don't hesitate to wear it over and over. But I do think that to be chic, your clothes have to be immaculate."

The countess said most of her clothes are designed by Pedro Rodriguez of Madrid — she does not cater to Paris labels.

Chic and elegance can be cultivated, she maintained, no matter what the clothing budget.

"Study line and color," she said, "and you learn unconsciously year after year. Maybe that's why the older women usually are the elegant ones; they've learned that quality and taste are beyond the exaggerated."

"The elegant woman never stands out in the crowd," she said. "See her time and time again and she does everything with perfection."

Countess Quintinilla's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Paley, are the Spending the pre-Christmas weekend with the Clifford McLeans of Elizabeth Lake Road were the Hal Conkeys of Caseville. Carol Conkey, niece of the McLeans, has just returned from Lausanne, Switzerland, where she has been attending school.

The James Griffins entertained at a brunch for 30, Sunday, in their home on Keithdale Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rogers of Fernbary Drive were hosts at an open house on Sunday.

Job's Daughters

Bethel No. 5, International Order of Job's Daughters, will meet this evening in the Pontiac Masonic Temple. A Christmas party will follow initiation at 7:30.

ents, Mr. and Mrs. William Griffith, still live in Pearl River and she and her husband, Luis, visit them each time they return to the United States.

This last trip, however, they'd left behind their three sons — Alvaro, 15, Luis, 14, and Miguel, 12.

I talked with the couple at the Wally Findlay Art Galleries where the count was having an exhibit of his paintings. He has painted, and collected art, since childhood and it's his signature also on the mural at the "Top of the Fair" of the New York World's Fair.

The countess is the writer in the family. She's putting together her second book, a novel built on her experiences in espionage. Her first, "The Earth Rests Lightly" (Holt, Rinehart and Winston), tells of her tracing the history of Pascualite in southern Spain, the palace and grounds which have been in the count's family for 700 years.

Antique Ornaments on Display

(Editorial note: perhaps some of our readers have the "recipe" for making these ornaments.)

By MADELEINE DOEREN
A most unusual antique Christmas tree stands in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lewis on Charlotte Street.

"It all began two summers ago," explains their daughter, Mrs. Ron Chandler of West Iroquois Road. "Jansacking the attic and a storeroom of the old family homestead in Boyne City turned out to be a treasure-hunt."

"There were boxes of clay ornaments, animals, fruits, Santas and stars evidently made in molds. They glistened slightly which leads us to believe that perhaps a little sugar had been added to the pour."

"When the Heritage Club was coming to my house for the December meeting, I had to come up with something antique and unusual," says Mrs. Chandler.

Finding a suitable tree, as it was early in the month, was a problem. Her immediate neighbors, the William Rogers' family came to the rescue, offering an artificial tree over 30 years old.

Mrs. Chandler's father who is some 70 years old can remember from his boyhood, these ornaments on the family Christmas tree.

Many of them are over a hundred years old and may have come from his mother's family for whom Case Street in Detroit was named.

His Family Calls On or Writes Hers

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Our son is engaged to be married. His fiancée showed him an article stating that the boy's parents are supposed to invite the girl's family to their house for dinner for the first time. So he says, but we haven't seen the article.

A: This is contrary to what I've heard during all of my years. May I please have your opinion?

A: There is no such obligation. The rule is that the parents of the young man go to call on the parents of his fiancée as soon as the engagement is announced.

When such a call is impossible, a letter from the man's parents to those of the girl may take its place.

Q: The night before last, friends of my mother and father dropped in to pay them a visit. I greeted them when they arrived and spoke with them a short time and then excused myself to go to go to my bridge club. When I was ready, I left.

The next morning my mother reprimanded me for not having gone in to say good night to her friends before I went out. She said I was very discourteous.

She is making such an issue of this that I am writing to ask if I was really wrong?

A: If you said good night when you left them to dress for your bridge club, that is all that was necessary. If not, you should have stopped in for a moment to say good night on your way out of the house.

Q: My daughter's future in-laws, who live in another city, are coming here several days before the wedding. They are complete strangers to me and I would like to know what my obligations are toward them.

A: They will be staying at a hotel. Must I invite them to take their meals at my house, give a party for them, or what?

A: It is not necessary to give a party for them, but you should invite them to at least one dinner at your house and do anything else you can to help make their stay in your city enjoyable and comfortable.

Krainers Travel to Austria

Skating trips will highlight a honeymoon tour of Austria and Spain for the Robert Edgar Krainers (Lynne Ann Ashby) who were wed Saturday.

Reception in the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian followed their vows pledged before Rev. Edward D. Auchard.

Parents of the couple are the John L. Ashbys of Westacres and the Edgar H. Krainers of Kirkway Drive.

A Chantilly lace overlay bordered the bride's Empire gown and cathedral-length court train of white pea taffeta. Her illusion veil was attached to a taffeta circlet. She held a single over-size red rose.

Wearing ruby red crepe gowns with velvet bodices were Marjorie Ashby, her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids Julie Vanderpool of Grosse Pointe; Diane Fuller, and Terry Ashby.

They carried miniature white roses, variegated holly and ivy. Whatarangi Winiata of New Zealand was best man. James Luke, Webster, N. Y.; Thom-

ship at Harvard University after Feb. 1. His bride has senior status at the University of Michigan School of Nursing.

MRS. R. E. KRAINER

Wed Saturday in the Orchard Lake Community Church Presbyterian were Lynne Anne Ashby, daughter of the John L. Ashbys of Westacres and Robert Edgar Krainer, son of the Edgar H. Krainers of Kirkway Drive.

You're Too Sensitive

Woman Is Thoughtless

DEAR ABBY: My daughter's mother-in-law invited my daughter and her family for Christmas dinner, which is no big deal, because she has a fine big home with plenty of help in the house and she won't have to stand in the kitchen and prepare it herself.

Well, she told my daughter to "bring her mother." I don't care for second-hand invitations and it wouldn't have hurt this woman to pick up a phone and invite me herself.

Just because I'm a poor widow and haven't a big splendid home to invite her back to is no reason for her to treat me like dirt.

What do you think of a person who is this cruel and stuck up?

A POOR WIDOW
DEAR WIDOW: I think you are looking for a reason to be "mad" at your daughter's mother-in-law. Be grateful that she asked your daughter to bring you.

The woman may be guilty of thoughtlessness, but don't label her as cruel and stuck up.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 12-year-old girl and I have a problem. A girl friend of mine came to my house very easily. She smokes, swears and wiggles. Her personality isn't too good and she isn't that pretty.

I don't smoke, swear or wiggle. I have a pleasing personality and I'm fairly pretty. How can I attract a boy without really trying?

UNSUCCESSFUL BOY-SEEKER

DEAR BOY-SEEKER: I don't recommend smoking, swearing or wiggling (at any age). You could work on developing your personality, but if you should happen to "attract" a boy at age 12, what on earth would you do with him?

DEAR ABBY: How does one tell a dear friend, who is also a handsome, well-groomed, refined gentleman that the next time he goes to his barber he should ask the barber to remove a large, unsightly, blackhead on his right cheek, near his nose? It detracts from his otherwise clean-looking appearance.

SAN CARLOS

DEAR SAN: I would never suggest that a barber remove anything from the face of a client. What makes you think a "blackhead" could be a mole, growth, discolored wart, or a number of other things which neither I nor a barber is qualified to diagnose.

If the man is a "dear friend," tell him to see a dermatologist for a professional opinion.

Senior Group Names Slate of Officers

1965 officers for the Pontiac area Council of Senior Citizens were elected Friday at the Community Services Building.

William Morris will be president, assisted by Richard Johnson, vice president; Charles Kokotek, secretary; and Mrs. Clarence Cross, treasurer.

Other officers are Arrie Barbee, Robert Brown and Mrs. Vern Swendsen.

No more meetings of the group will be held this year. The group will convene Jan. 8 at 1:30 p.m. in the Franklin Boulevard building. Membership is open to all senior citizens.

Holiday Fete for Sorority

Beta Theta chapter, Lambda Chi Omega sorority, held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Ralph Dawe on Osceola Drive.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Harold Sails and Mrs. Robert Campbell.

The evening's entertainment included Christmas music and games. Guests honored were Mrs. Elmer Huntley and Mrs. Hazel Pierce, honorary members.

Home Economics Dean Appointed at MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Jeannette A. Lee, professor of home economics at Michigan State University, has been named dean of MSU's College of Home Economics.

Her appointment, effective Dec. 17, was approved last week by the University's Board of Trustees.

Prof. Lee has been acting dean since July, 1964. She succeeds Dr. Thelma E. Porter who will retire July 1, 1965.

Dean Porter has administered Michigan State's College of Home Economics, fourth largest in the U.S., since 1964.

Under her administration the college has placed increased emphasis on research and continuing education. Its untraditional curriculum de-emphasizes manipulative skills and provides a balance between professional and general education.

FOODS PROF

Prof. Lee joined the Michigan State faculty as an instructor of foods and nutrition in 1937. She was promoted to full professor in 1963.

A native of Minnesota, Prof. Lee earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Minnesota. Before coming to MSU, she was a high school teacher in her home state.

The new dean is a member of the American Home Economics Association, the Adult Education Association, and Omicron Nu, Phi Upsilon and Pi Lambda Theta, home economics honorary societies.

Even the 'partridge in a pea-a-r tree' and his fine, feathered friends might like to nestle in this antique Christmas tree trimmed by Mrs. Ron Chandler of West Iroquois Road. Many of the ornaments are over 100 years old.

Dual Yule Design

A small tree made of glossy green boxwood, and rimmed with golden Garnette roses and a string or two of glistening baubles, is an ideal choice for a buffet table.

It also will brighten a shut-in's room at Christmas time.

Satin Gowns Are Worn by Girls in Wedding

Bridesmaids gowned in red slipper satin attended Cheryl Anthes Banghart at her marriage to Seaman 2.C. Kyle Stephen Bradshaw, Saturday, in the Waterford Community Church.

Her parents are the William F. Bangharts of Irwin Drive. The bridegroom is the son of the Sam Bradshaws of Judson Street.

CRYSTAL CROWN

A crystal crown and bouffant illusion veil complemented the bride's gown of candle-light slipper satin, made by her mother. White carnations and lilies of the valley comprised the bridal bouquet.

Beverly and Vickie Banghart attended their sister as bridesmaid and junior maid, respectively, along with Patricia Williams. Judy Smith was maid of honor.

At the ceremony performed by Rev. Robert D. Winne, Bob McGhee was best man. Kenneth Wright and Jerry McGhee ushered along with Gary Banghart.

After a northern honeymoon, Seaman Bradshaw will return to his base Norfolk, Va.

Keep From Drafts

Keep holiday season flower arrangements away from drafts, hot radiators, and direct sunshine, the Society of American Florists recommends. Resting them in a cool, dark place at night will refresh them and prolong their beauty.

Mother Claims Bubble Fame

An inventive mother had added this one to her list of suds - and - bubbles games for the children: cut out and discard the flat circle section from the plastic cover of a coffee can. Then dissolve a big "dose" of detergent in a pan of water.

The children can use this as a dip for the plastic ring, and then run so that the wind can blow a giant bubble through the ring.

Can Help Build Skills

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE U-452: Tommy D., aged 9, is a smart youngster. "Dr. Crane," his doting grandmother began, "what kind of presents are most appropriate for a boy of Tommy's age?"

"My husband wants to give him footballs, skates and other athletic equipment. "But are those appropriate for a grandmother to offer him?"

We human beings are combinations of body-mind.

And it is desirable to strengthen the body, as by stress on vitamins, etc., as well as physical exercise. Alas, however, many mothers (and grandmothers) become so obsessed with mere bodily health that they overlook the spiritual and mental calisthenics for their children.

Vitamin "R" (Religion) is thus far more important than any other medical vitamin.

Music and superb reading skill are also more crucial than bulging biceps muscles!

Don't get the wrong impression of what I am starting and thus think that we psychologists ignore physical fitness.

Quite the contrary! Too many children lack a knowledge of the athletic games of their age.

And many brilliant clergymen would be far more effective in the pulpit if they had earned an athletic letter at college!

But in ancient days a strong back, even coupled with a weak brain, could make you fairly successful. Nowadays, however, it is the strong (trained) brain that is of most vital significance.

Since the men of the family will usually see to it that children get baseball mitts or footballs, skates, skis, and other athletic equipment, you cultured women should emphasize the mental and spiritual "vitamins."

So give your child "Classics Illustrated," which are comic book portrayals of over 100 great novels in the field of literature.

And for kindergarten tots or first graders, add a "Picture Dictionary."

Keep Tree Safe With Non-Fire Precautions

Beware of fire during the holidays. With all the greens, lights and candles and other Christmas trappings around, your home is vulnerable so do take a few precautions.

Place your greens away from chairs where people may smoke away from candles and fireplace.

Station your tree where it won't block an exit or be near a fireplace, radiator, television or other heat-producing device. The tree should be kept in water so use a stand which provides for it by means of a well.

Inspect lights carefully before putting them up and dispose of any with faulty sockets or frayed wiring.

Cover the stand with foil or flameproof or fireproof material. Many people use an old sheet for this purpose.

It can be flameproofed by dipping in a solution of 9 ounces of pure borax, 4 ounces of boric acid powder and a gallon of water. Wring by hand, hang to dry and iron if you like. Ironing will not affect flame resistance. Use only glass, metal or fireproof trimmings.

Can Stand Out Against Child's Tantrums

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My boy, 7, had a hard early childhood because my marriage was unhappy. His father took his bad temper out on him as well as me.

I am now divorced and remarried to a man who gives us a good home.

My fear is that the boy inherits his father's bad temper. As a younger child he had screaming tantrums if I didn't give him his own way.

Now, if I cross him, he will kick the refrigerator door or even knock a dish off the table.

ANSWER: He has learned that he can scare you into giving him what you don't want to give him. Can you now defend your right to give to him only when you can give freely and gladly?

The ability to defend this right is the answer to children's tantrums.

The experts give us a million reasons for refusing to accede to tantrums' demands. Every one is based on their interest in the children.

Never do they tell us that we refuse their intimidating demands for our own sakes—to defend our right to give freely and gladly.

Yet it is only when we can respect this right that we can understand the pressure of the howls, the kicks, the flailing arms. And announce the meaning of our resistance by saying, "I will give you only what I can be happy to give you."

If, as I suspect you do, we feel that we have cheated a child by choosing a poor father for him, it may be especially difficult to defend our right to give to him freely and gladly.

We feel that we owe him a debt; and so any denying of his demands becomes uncertain and apologetic.

All he has to do is to reproach us by kicks and screams to arouse our apologetic feelings—and they resentfully produce the piece of cake, the dime, the privilege which he has demanded.

The problem is not the child or his bullying tactics.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Farnham of Milford announce the engagement of their daughter, Claudia Denise to Kenneth L. Emmerick, son of the Kenneth N. Emmericks of South Milford Road, Milford Township.

It is those apologetic feelings in us which will not allow us to consider, much less to defend, our right to give freely and gladly.

The tantrum exploits in us the same fear of unfulfilled debt that is exploited by a threatening bill collector. As the bill collector forces from us the $5 we cannot spare, so does the tantrum wring begrudged giving from us.

More Mileage for Mistletoe

To get extra dividends from your mistletoe, spray it with clear plastic or-drip the stem ends in melted wax. This will keep the leaves from shriveling and the berries from dropping, says the Society of American Florists.

Mats of Gay Felt

Even your youngest children should share in holiday preparations. Give them a pair of pinkish shears and some colorful green felt or construction paper; that's all they need to make Early American place mats in the shape of Christmas trees.

Polly's Pointers

Ornaments Hold Fast

DEAR POLLY—Last year I discovered a new way to fasten ornaments and light bulbs to the Christmas tree. Use the green wire fasteners for freezer bags and twist them around the tree limb.

Store them with the ornaments and they are ready for another year. —MRS. G. H. K.

DEAR POLLY—I sprayed gold paint on two old match-stick table mats and two shabby artificial gardenias. One gardenia was placed at the upper left hand corner of each mat.

An amber votive light holder with a bayberry candle in it was then put on the mat by the flower. Nothing could have looked more festive on a holiday table for a couple having Christmas dinner alone.

The flowers can be glued on or left loose if the mats are to be used on other occasions. A tiny bit of Christmas green tucked under one leaf of the flower makes the mat even more festive. —MARION

GIRLS—This table setting idea really appealed to me but I see no reason to confine its use to only two people. Such mats are not expensive if one has to buy the required number.

They could also be sprayed green or red, with a cluster of holly and red votive lights if that fits in better with other holiday decorations. —POLLY

I take a red or gold ribbon, tie a knot in the end and another next to the first to make a bell "clapper."

Draw the ribbon through the cap hole from the inside to the outside top.

Three or four of these make nice little bells to decorate Christmas packages. —MRS. W. H. K.

GIRLS—The tops of hair spray cans could be used to make larger bells for larger packages. —POLLY

"Child Chatter," "Painting Patter" and "Thrifty Hints" are three of the Pointer-packed chapters in Polly Cramer's 32-page booklet. To order your copy, send your name, address and 50c to: Polly's Pointers, in care of The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 480, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Electric hairdryer makers sold 7.5 million of their bonnet-types last year, 19 per cent more than 1962, but only 50,000 hand dryers, 88 per cent less.

Bamboo takes many forms. Some giants reach 12 inches in diameter and 120 feet high while dwarfs grow only a few inches tall.

Second Mortgage Can Be Financial Trap

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

If you're at a low ebb right now, wondering who's going to help you carry your heavy financial burden, you may be a sitting duck for some sharp operators. These unethical individuals or firms are in business for the sole purpose of making a profit out of your financial distress.

They suggest to you that a second mortgage on your property is the answer to all your problems. Maybe a second mortgage would prove to be a good idea at this point, but not the way these gyp artists set it up.

The gist of the matter is this: unethical brokers offering home owners an "opportunity" to reduce their heavy indebtedness say you can take out a loan from them, and pay off all the bills that are nagging you.

In return, you pay only a small monthly amount, much smaller than you are paying now on your collective obligations. As security, the overburdened home owner is required to give a second mortgage on his dwelling.

The terms sound just nifty until he multiplies the amount of his monthly payment by the number of months he must pay over a period of three to five years. It's then that he discovers he has obligated himself for a new debt up to twice as much or more than the debts he has consolidated!

CHECK BEFORE SIGNING

The Better Business Bureau recognizes the fact that there are substantial, reliable firms and individuals in the business of making second mortgage loans. Their plea is simply to make sure you know what you're doing before you step off the deep end.

Remember, you can check with the Bureau before you sign any contract, to learn what facts may be on record concerning a particular money-finder and his methods of operation.

Keep in mind that even the dishonest broker will quote the legal interest rate in that state. Often, all the customer is told before signing a contract is what the interest will be.

What the victim isn't told is that he will be stuck later for various service fees he didn't know were involved. These fees will become part of the total loan which he has contracted, unwittingly, to pay off.

For instance: the broker's placement or money finder's fee may range from $500 on a $1,000 mortgage to more than $2,000 on a $5,000 loan!

The Bureau cites the case of a woman in Ohio who borrowed $5,000. She found she had to pay back $5,500 over a five-year period, at $97.50 a month. In addition to the 6 per cent interest.

The placement or money finder's fee may range from $500 on a $1,000 mortgage to more than $2,000 on a $5,000 loan!

She found she had to pay back $5,500 over a five-year period, at $97.50 a month. In addition to the 6 per cent interest.

Mid-March vows are planned by Sharleen Esther Green, daughter of the Wilson W. Hamiltons of Pine Knob Lane, Independence Township, and Robert H. Irvin Jr., son of the senior Irvins of Sasabaw Road.

est charged, total settlement costs were as follows:

Searches, $35; credit reports, $20; investigation costs, $30; preparation of instruments, $50; placement fee, $1,575; brokerage fee, $450; recording, $20; appraisal, $45; closing costs, $50. Total, $2,975.

Some of the advertising done by these unethical brokers is very persuasive. They emphasize that the payments involved will be "a fraction of the amount" you are presently paying. It just doesn't turn out that way.

Before shopping around for a second mortgage, it's wise to talk to the financial institution that holds the first mortgage on your home.

They may not be authorized to make a second mortgage loan, but may be able to refinance the first mortgage. Or they may refer you to a reliable source of second mortgage money.

If refinancing seems in order, remember this: if your mortgage is 10 years old, say, the value of your property has probably gone up. So it can be reappraised at a higher value.

You can generally get a free appraisal. If you have to pay for it, the transaction will include credit reports and other costs comparable to those closing costs you had when you originally obtained your mortgage.

However, if you have an "open-end mortgage," you can avoid these costs entirely.

The best way to find out what you're agreeing to in any mortgage contract is to take the contract to a lawyer or to your local banker and have him go over it with you. Any legitimate money lender will let you take the contract away with you for this purpose, before you sign. If you can't get this privilege, be suspicious of the whole deal.

Chances for Orderly Development of Congo Are Dim as Ever

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Chances for orderly development of the Congo are dim as ever, four years after its independence. That key country in the heart of Africa may be winning the melancholy distinction of becoming the main arena in the Cold War.

In general, the U.S. aim in the Congo has been to keep it together and to keep the Communists out. If stability is the key to achieving this, it will be a tough struggle.

There is not much leadership to choose from. In the thin ranks of what is available, politics is a matter of every man for himself. The outs battle the ins, and the ins battle the outs.

Any Congo leader who is satisfactory to the United States will be opposed by the Communists, and probably also by many African leaders whose pan-African patriotism can cloak vaulting ambitions of their own.

GONE ALL OUT

Moise Tshombe came to power as premier last July. Since then propaganda of Communists and of leaders hostile to the United States has gone all out trying to turn him into the West's greatest liability.

Nerves are raw in Africa. Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak says black Africans seem to suffer from a deep inferiority complex. They are easily swayed by slogans and labels, easily convinced that all their woes trace to colonialism and imperialism. Thus, when Tshombe antagonized virtually all sides with his attempt to set up a secessionist state in rich Katanga Province, he was easily labeled a "colonialist tool."

When Tshombe's foes accused him of plotting the murder of Patrice Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, it was easy to make Lumumba a martyr and symbol of resistance to colonialism.

But Tshombe's departure into exile didn't save the Congo. Premier Cyrille Adoula's government was plagued by rebellions, supported and often inspired by Communists from outside. Moscow and Peking, though competing in the Congo for influence, both denounced Adoula as a man conspiring with the United States to crush "people's rebellions."

FELL TO REBELS

Finally, last June, Adoula

quit. Tshombe returned, this time to Leopoldville, with promises to form a "government of national reconciliation" and achieve "miracles within three months." No sooner had he taken over than Kindu fell to rebels in the east, and, soon after, Stanleyville.

Tshombe's army was in dis-sarray. Tshombe himself desperately tried to accommodate all sides, even the Communist-supported "Council for National Liberation," which would cheerfully have hailed his hide to the wall.

Late in November, Belgium and the United States mounted a rescue operation to save hostages from rebel savagery in Stanleyville. African leaders hostile to the United States joined a chorus of denunciation, contending Americans thought more of a white man's life than a black man's.

But the dreary debate which continues in the United Nations makes it clear that the intervention was not so much the target as Tshombe. Leaders with ambitions of their own portray him as a man who would reestablish colonialism.

There is small comfort for the West in the Soviet-Chinese competition in Africa. When Communist side gains, the West loses. And Communist propaganda of one sort or another is making headway. If the Communists gain in Africa, it is far easier to achieve than stability.

One detects in the United States a weariness with African diplomacy. America still has friends among the more mature African leaders. The weariness with the others can lead to growing sentiment for concentrating U.S. efforts on countries where they will be welcomed.

Plymouth UAW Unit OKs Pact, Ends Strike

PLYMOUTH (AP)—Some 300 United Auto Workers union members voted overwhelmingly Sunday to accept the terms of a new three-year contract with Whitman & Barnes of Plymouth, ending a 12-week strike.

Whitman & Barnes, a subsidiary of the United Greenfield Corp., produces twist drills and reamers. Its customers include the auto industry and others, and it handles some Army and Navy contracts.

Ringo Buys Painting of Beatles, Sailors

LONDON (AP)—Ringo Starr, the Beatles' drummer, has paid $270 for a painting which shows the rock 'n' roll quartet providing the music while three ancient jack tars do a hornpipe on a beach.

All four Beatles are shown as old-time British sailors, but their guitars, and Ringo's drums, are modern. Figures in the painting also include a nude girl, a girl in evening dress, a sailing ship and a balloon.

5 Killed, 45 Injured in Crash in Portugal

LISBON (AP)—Five persons were killed and 45 injured last night when a bus loaded with football fans plunged onto a railway track near Oura Village 265 miles northeast of Lisbon, police reported today.

The accident occurred on a curve where a bridge spans the railway. The bus and a truck loaded with vegetables collided on the bridge, and the bus hurtled through the side of the bridge onto the track.

Many Said 'Hazy' on Social Security

William E. LaRock, Pontiac district manager of the Social Security Administration, today pointed out the expanding benefits of Social Security.

"We are continually surprised by the number of people who still think of Social Security in terms of retirement benefits," he said. "Many people have more protection under Social Security than they realize."

NEWER ASPECT

Actually, retired workers account for little more than half of these on the total benefit rolls.

The younger worker has the Woman Saved After 'Strolling' Into Icy Water

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman out for a stroll yesterday fell through the ice of Brooklyn's Prospect Park Lake but was rescued by a helicopter.

Mrs. Frances Carbonaro, 33, approached the lake without realizing it. The lake, as well as the shoreline, was covered with snow. About 50 yards out, the ice gave way.

Twenty policemen, six firemen and several spectators ran to help Mrs. Carbonaro. Four policemen and two firemen were dunked in the icy water.

A police helicopter then appeared and hoisted Mrs. Carbonaro to safety. She was treated for exposure, as were her would-be rescuers.

reassurance of knowing that his Social Security contributions will also provide monthly benefits for "is widow and minor children in case of his death. These can total as much as $54 a month."

Nearly half a million widows under 62 are receiving those monthly benefits for themselves and the more than 2 million children in their care.

"Disability payments are one of the newer aspects of the Social Security program. The majority of the people we talk to know that we have such a program, but many of these have a hazy understanding of its provisions," LaRock said.

"In order to qualify for disability benefits, a worker must be unable to do any substantial work and must have worked under Social Security for at least five of the 10 years before becoming disabled."

Monthly benefits are payable to the worker if all the requirements are met, as well as to his children under 18 and his wife.

Many unemployed workers beyond age 62 are not aware that reduced benefits are payable at age 62 for both men and women. Benefits are also payable to a minor child under age 18 or to a disabled adult child regardless of age.

LaRock urged that anyone with questions about his rights under Social Security contact the Social Security Office.

Increased Activity Scheduled for Duke

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Increased activity was scheduled today for the recuperating Duke of Windsor, who underwent abdominal surgery in Methodist Hospital last Wednesday.

The 70-year-old former British monarch already has walked in the hallway outside his room with a minimum of assistance.

He sat for short periods, read newspapers and watched television over the weekend. He continued on a liquid diet.

The surgery was for removal of an artery blister known medically as an aneurysm.

Mezzo-Soprano Bible to Replace Male Singer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mezzo-soprano Frances Bible will replace male singer Russell Oberlin as a featured soloist in the San Francisco Symphony's Christmas performance of Handel's "Messiah."

The change is possible because Oberlin's counterpoint range is close to that of the woman singer's. Oberlin, who is ill, is one of the most famous of the counterpointers, who specialize in baroque and Renaissance music.

Ford Orders Firing of 3 Lions' Coaches

Wilson Admits Assistants to Be Dismissed

Schmidt, Yale Lary Rumored in Line for Coaching Posts

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Detroit Lions' coach George Wilson admitted that club president William Clay Ford ordered him to fire three assistants, Les Bingaman, Bob Nussbaumer and Don Doll.

Bingaman is defensive line coach. Nussbaumer is end coach and Don Doll handles the defensive backfield.

The news of the firings, which were supposed to be made known today, leaked out Sunday and neither Ford nor general manager Edwin J. Anderson offered any comment on the reports, but scheduled a meeting with Wilson and a news conference later today.

The contracts of the three assistants would not be renewed despite the protests of coach Wilson, who himself does not have assurance that he will finish the last year of his three-year contract at $45,000 annually.

Nothing has been said about the positions of backfield coach Sonny Grandelius and offensive line coach Aldo Forte, except that some players pointed an accusing finger at Forte for the poor offensive showing of the team this season.

Several players, including defensive Sam Williams who left the team after the opening San Francisco game, made outspoken remarks about the ball club, but things cooled off during season's play.

ASK TO LEAVE
Williams, Alex Karras, Gail Coghill, Milt Plum and several other players were mentioned as among those who asked to be traded because of displeasure with the team.

Joe Schmidt and Yale Lary were dismissed in line for player-coaching positions and it appeared that they had Ford's support.

Other names brought into the picture are Forrest Evashevski, Iowa Athletic Director, and Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma coach.

Schmidt dislocated his shoulder in mid-season and he had been contemplating retirement, but Ford, a close friend of the linebacker, was trying to persuade him to have a shoulder operation which would permit him to play in 1965 and also to double as coach.

Nussbaumer came to the Lions in 1954 as talent scout and last year he assumed the post of end coach when Russ Thomas was given the post of director of personnel with a staff of scouts.

Bingaman has been with the team for five years after a brilliant playing career and Doll joined the staff in 1963 after some college coaching at Notre Dame.

Wilson and Ford were to have conference today over the coaching and player situation. There is also a possibility that changes would be made in other areas of the club.

Confirmation Expected on UCLA Coach

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Official confirmation was awaited today for a new head football coach to replace Bill Barnes, who resigned.

Barnes apparently beat the university's plans to officially announce it was not going to renew his contract by disclosing his resignation Sunday.

UCLA Athletic Director J. D. Morgan was expected to officially confirm Barnes' resignation and the school's plan for the 1965 football season this week, possibly today.

Barnes said he knew "some people were not happy with our win-loss record (4-6) this year and that's the big thing of course."

SPORTS

Lindsay Sparks Wings Past Maple Leafs, 3-1

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings are more grateful than ever for Ted Lindsay's return from four years of retirement.

So, possibly, is Lindsay. The hard-nosed Red Wing veteran personally blitzed the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night in a 3-1 last minute victory that moved Detroit into second place in the National Hockey League, tied with Chicago.

Lindsay scored two goals, his second coming as he and Gordie Howe both beat former teammate goalie Terry Sawchuk in the final three minutes after a 1-1 deadlock that seemed ready to stick.

Ted's second goal was not only the winner but also moved him up to third place in the NHL's all-time scoring brigade.

SEVENTH GOAL
The score, Lindsay's seventh of his comeback season, was the 372nd of his interrupted career, or one more than Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal, Howe and Maurice Richard, former Canadiens, are well ahead.

High scoring Andy Bathgate suffered a broken left thumb in the third period after being barreled along the boards by Doug Barkley of the Wings.

Chicago's Black Hawks kept pace with the Wings by defeating the Boston Bruins 3-2. The Montreal Canadiens stayed in first place by winning from the New York Rangers, also 3-2.

The Red Wings' victory was only their second over Toronto in six games and their first over Sawchuk in four games. It was Detroit's second triumph in the last five games and third in the last seven.

SIDE ANGLE
Lindsay beat Sawchuk the first time at 4:42 of the second period, flipping in a shot from the side, only to have Bathgate tie it within five minutes with Ted in the penalty box after icing Don Stuart with a heavy block.

It stayed 1-1 until Lindsay got loose again at 17:22 of the last period. He shot high into the net past Sawchuk. Howe followed with his goal at 18:51.

Detroit's goalie Roger Crozier stopped several Maple Leaf shots that had "goal" written on them in a total of 25 saves. Sawchuk had 30.

Falcons Whip Detroit Five

Midwestern Baptist Seminary Falcons climbed into fourth place in the Michigan Christian College Athletic Association basketball standings with a 100-72 win at Detroit Bible College.

Continued man-to-man and zone presses finally wore down the host team in the second half after Midwestern had reached the halftime intermission with only a 44-42 lead.

Larry Thompson (31), Ralph Wingate (28) and Eddie Odom (21) paced the winners who are now 2-3. Wingate had 16 rebounds and Thompson 13. The Falcons hit 44 of 100 field goal attempts.

WEEKEND FIGHTS
RIO DE JANEIRO — Valdemiro Pinto, South Africa, outpointed Miguel Angel Boffa, Argentina, 15, in a ten-round bout.

MILAN, Italy — Nino Benvenuti, 1940, defeated Carlos Correa, 1946, of Argentina, 10.

IN CONFERENCE — Head coach George Wilson of the Lions was scheduled to confer today with club owner William Clay Ford on the reported ouster of three assistant coaches.

Tables Turned in AFL

By United Press International
The Buffalo Bills are the American Football League's Eastern Division champions because Jackie Kemp played his own game and made both the Boston Patriots and teammate Cookie Gilchrist dance to it. Kemp was the unchallenged hero Sunday when the Bills whipped the Patriots 24-14, to win the right to meet the San Diego Chargers in the AFL title game at Buffalo next Saturday.

He completed 17 of 24 passes for 286 yards and a touchdown and scored two touchdowns himself as the Bills beat the Patriots for only the second time in seven games under coach Lou Saban.

Behind the triumph, however, was the fact that Kemp repeated the strategy that caused the big blowoff between Gilchrist and his teammates on Nov. 15 — by making Gilchrist's running secondary to his own passing.

And he did it under the most difficult conditions imaginable — on a slippery turf during a snowstorm.

Gilchrist clinched his second AFL rushing title with 981 yards gained to 945 for rookie Matt Snell of the New York Jets but the 52 yards Cookie gained Sunday had little or nothing to do with the Bills' victory.

SPARKS NOVENSON
Back on Nov. 15 when the Patriots snapped the Bills' nine-game winning streak, the 250-pound Gilchrist walked off the field in a huff because Kemp wasn't calling his signal often enough.

Kemp sent the Bills off to a 7-1 first-period lead with a 56-yard scoring pass to Elbert Dubenion. His first one-yard plunge made the score 14-6 in the second period and his second 40-yard pass made it 21-6 in the third. The score increased to 24-6 in the fourth period.

The Patriots, who beat the

Welcomed Wolverines Get Down to Business

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Michigan football team, having received the traditional welcome to the Rose Bowl scene, got down today to the serious business of preparing for Oregon State in their New Year's Day clash.

The Beavers from Oregon are already established after their arrival Friday night and Coach Tommy Prothro had identical drill plans for his Pacific Eight Conference representatives at their training base at UCLA.

Coach Bump Elliott, who played in the 1948 Michigan triumph over Southern California, 49-0, lost no time giving his players a little exercise in Brookside Park.

WORSER AT HOME
The weather was bad, but it had been worse back in Ann Arbor, where the team was able to practice outdoors only once in four drills.

Elliott said he hoped Michigan was on schedule in its preparations, but added he honestly couldn't tell until later this week.

There have been distractions since the regular Big 10 conference season ended, such as midterm examinations. However, he seemed unworried about the mental or physical condition of the team.

Prothro seems unworried about his men, too. He planned to increase the Beavers' work schedule toward the end of this week.

CHIEF'S TRIUMPH
The Kansas City Chiefs dropped the Jets, 24-7, quarter-back George Blanda and flanker Charlie Hennigan sent AFL records as the Houston Oilers downed the Denver Broncos, 34-15, and the Oakland Raiders scored a 21-20 victory over the Chargers in other Sunday games.

Michigan Tech Team
GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — North Dakota and Michigan Tech, exchanging series sweeps, are western college hockey As the Western Collegiate Hockey Association.

North Dakota scoring four goals in the second period, completed its sweep 6-3 Saturday night. Tech had swept an earlier series.

Bowling Champs Crowned Ferdon Wins '64 Bowlerama

Lamson-Nicholai Duo Nabs Doubles Crown

Except for the team event, the 1964 Bowlerama is history and there is doubt of another tournament in 1965.

Bob Ferdon, a 21-year-old employee of GM Truck and Coach, bowled the highest actual series of his three years in the sport, 599 and added 109 pins handicap for a 702 total and the $500 singles handicap championship.

Runnerup was Gordon Biskner with 692 total and close behind, the 1963 champion on 601 Ledesma with 691.

In the doubles championship, Dave Lamson and Bill Nicholai put together a 1393 total to take the $250 first prize. They were followed by Dick Green and Gary Billington with 1286 and Ron Koontz and Homer Harrison with 1278.

The trophy and $50 for the Actual Invitational title went to Lee Lumberger, a 190 average bowler who rolled games of 237-248-138 for 674 total pins.

Lumberger, also employed at GMTC, has been bowling for 25 years and his 674 was the highest series he has ever hit.

For all of the top winners, the titles and first place in money prizes were their first.

TALKED INTO IT
Ferdon was "talked" into bowling in the doubles event by his partner. They qualified, but then "each took a crack at the singles. In their doubles final they hit 1146.

Biskner, a 24-year-old Pontiac Motor employee, and winner of the 1963 team tournament, fired 190-233-223-646 actual with 64 pins in his second place finish.

Ledesma, who won the title last year with 690, had one pin better and was the early leader until Ferdon came in. He rolled 215-247-225 — 687 with four pins handicap.

The tournament drew only 454 singles entries, and 132 doubles teams. Bowlers who missed cashing in either of these events still can try to qualify for the team event.

Any of the tournament houses will qualify teams until Wednesday night. One of every five teams will go into the finals at 300 Bowl next Sunday night with the payoff to 10 per cent of the total teams entered.

Illinois Takes Kentucky Tourney Title

By The Associated Press
Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats — true believers in southern hospitality — are glib hosts each December at the UK Invitational Basketball Tournament. There is only one house rule for visitors to Lexington — don't walk off with the silverware!

displeasure today with his cousins from Illinois.
The once-beaten Illini romped off with the tourney title last Saturday night, topping Kentucky 91-86 in the final despite a closing rush by the eighth-ranked Wildcats. It was Illinois' first victory over Kentucky since 1943 and the first UKIT title for a Big Ten team in nine tries. The host club had won seven of 11 previous tournaments.

BLEW MARGIN
Skip Thoren scored 27 points and Tai Brody 25 for the Illini, 6-1. They blew a 16-point margin late in the game before Brody and Bill McKown hit six straight free throws to pull away from an 83-82 edge. The tournament drew 23,300 fans, a record for the two-night, four-team event. Dayton beat West Virginia 77-67 for third place.

Three other tourney-stagers kept the home crowds happy. Ninth-ranked Vanderbilt edged Oklahoma State 66-58 in the Commodore's Tournament final at Nashville; Arizona State out-ran Murray, Ky., 107-86 to capture the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., and Evansville's giant-killers whipped Louisiana State 83-73 for the Evansville Holiday crown.

Larry Humes hit for 45 points as Evansville, the nation's No. 1 small college club, completed a season-opening five-game sweep of major opponents and won its tourney for the sixth time in nine years. The Aces beat Iowa, Northwestern and Notre Dame before knocking off George Washington and LSU in the tournament.

UCLA's defending major college champions belted Boston College 115-93 and Alabama surprised North Carolina 66-41 in the finals of the Milwaukee and Virginia Tech Invitationals, respectively.

POINT RUN
A run of 18 straight points at the end of the first half sparked the Bruins to their fifth successive victory after an opening loss at Illinois. Gail Goodrich topped UCLA with 35 points, one more than BC's John Austin, who sat out 10 minutes of the second half with an injured wrist.

Elsewhere, No. 1 ranked Wichita and No. 10 St. Louis won Missouri Valley Conference games while Minnesota, Indiana, Utah, Providence and Connecticut remained unbeaten.
Dave Stallworth's 25 points led the Wheatshockers past Drake 71-60 and Randy Albrecht's two free throws with three seconds remaining wrapped up the Billikens' 76-73 decision over previously unbeaten Bradley.

Benton Harbor Downs Tackers in NABL Game

The North American Basketball League early showdown Saturday night in Benton Harbor found the host Twin City Sailors subduing Grand Rapids 118-110.
Bob James (31), Larry Comley (27) and Jerry Harkness (19) led the winners' attack which overcame a Tackers' team effort that saw six players hit 14 or better. Nick Mantis' 20 topped the losers.

Grand Rapids led, 97-85, in the seasaw tilt when the host Sailors broke loose for 11 straight points midway through the fourth quarter and Benton Harbor was never behind thereafter.
Pontiac's Nationals were idle but will resume action Saturday night at last-place Muskegon.

U-M Plays Butler

Spartans, Titans Dumped

By The Associated Press
This may have to be a week of accounts-squaring for Michigan college basketball after rough weekend treatment by foreign foes.
Payoffs could come by mid-week.

Michigan State, 90-89 loser to Butler at Indianapolis Saturday night, meets Loyola of New Orleans at East Lansing Tuesday night.

The University of Michigan, idle since its two-point victory over No. 1 ranked Wichita Friday night, returns to action at home against Butler Wednesday night. The classy Wolverines once top-ranked, seek their sixth victory in seven games.

TITANS LOSE
Indiana's 108-89 thumping of Detroit, with the Hoosiers' VanArsdale twins in high gear, was an indicator of Big Ten overall power.

Generally, the competition from teams of other states has been severe.
Another to suffer was Central Michigan. The Chippewas lost in overtime to Northern Illinois in IAC action at De Kalb, Ill., 62-59.

On the other hand, Western Michigan won from Ball State in non-league play 83-83, capitalizing a stall into expensive Ball State fouls late in the game to clinch victory. The Broncos sank 11 free throws in the last three minutes.

Sub Tom Jones of Butler killed Michigan State's chances. Jones, entering play in the last five minutes with MSU ahead 77-74, sank four straight baskets and a free throw for the Bulldogs' squeaker victory.

MSU, now 2-3, was led by Stan Washington with 25 points, including 11 field goals on 25 shots.

Indiana's VanArsdales, Tom and Dick, were too much for Detroit although U-D made a close battle of it until the Hoosiers broke the game open late in play. Tom had 22 points and Dick 21.

Notre Dame Coach Gets Writers Vote
DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian was named coach of the year Sunday by the Football Writers Association of America.

Parseghian, who led Notre Dame to a 9-1 mark in his first season at the helm, received 60 per cent of the votes cast by more than 600 sports-writers across the country.

Tulsa, Utah 'Bowl' Over Gridiron Foes

By The Associated Press
Jerry Rhome and an unexpectedly tough Tulsa defense stunned Mississippi, 14-7, Saturday in the Bluebonnet Bowl football game.

Utah thrashed West Virginia, 32-6, under "ideal playing conditions" in the Liberty Bowl. The game was played indoors at the Convention Hall in Atlantic City, N.J.

Mississippi had given Tulsa's national pass champion Rhome a rough time in the early stages. He was thrown for losses eight times — but he scored the tying touchdown in the second quarter and won the game with a 35-yard pass to Eddie Fletcher in the third period.

And at the same time he tucked on two Blackwood records to his string of 17 NCAA marks.

Stunned by the unexpectedly deep Tulsa defense, the Rebels failed to get past the Tulsa 44-yard line in the second half.

Utah Coach Ray Nagel called the playing conditions "fantastic." The field was regulation size, except for the end zones, which were barely seven yards deep instead of the normal 10. The grassy sod turf couldn't be stretched any further because of a stage at one end and a balcony at the other. The short end zones had no effect on the play.

FAST START
Utah settled the game early, running up a 19-0 halftime lead and coasting in from there. The Beahm line opened huge holes in West Virginia's porous defenses and Utah's own defense, one of the best in the nation, throttled the Mountaineers at almost every turn.

Rookie in NBA Ready to Help

Warriors' Top Choice
Is Disappointment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Barry Kramer, first draft choice of the San Francisco Warriors and somewhat of a National Basketball Association disappointment so far, could be on the verge of helping the last-place club of the Western Division.

The 6-foot-4 rookie from NYU came off the bench Sunday night when the cause appeared lost and almost brought the Warriors even with the Philadelphia 76ers.

But the 76ers, behind Hal Greer's 30 points and the rebounding of Lucious Jackson, edged the Warriors 113-111 in the only game played.

With less than three minutes remaining Sunday, the 76ers held a 109-95 lead. Then Kramer went to work.

In the next two minutes Kramer stole two Philadelphia passes and scored six points on three quick field goals. His last steal and field goal left San Francisco trailing 100-107.

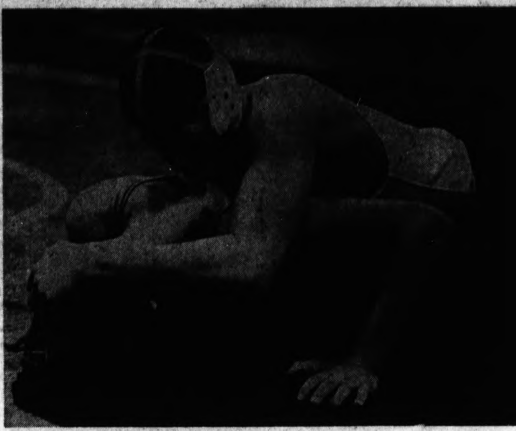

But the teams traded baskets until Greer put the 76ers ahead 113-109.

Wilt Chamberlain took high scoring honors with 45 points for the Warriors. But he failed to stop the 6-9 Jackson from taking 20 rebounds, Jackson collected 15 points, one of seven 76ers in double figures.

Junior Editors Quiz on CORAL

QUESTION: How is coral made?

ANSWER: This is the question Phyllis is asking herself as she admires a beautiful coral necklace her father gave her for a birthday gift.

Coral is so hard it looks like stone, indeed, it is limestone, but this has been formed by tiny animals called coral polyps.

The polyps look like minute flowers, but the petals are really tentacles surrounding a mouth which is on top of a sack-like body.

Needing protection and support, the polyps take calcium which is dissolved in sea water and deposit it around their bodies in the form of hard calcium carbonate.

It is the gathering together of billions of these little animals which made the famous coral reefs.

Corals need water at temperatures above 70 degrees, so they are found in tropical and sub-tropical areas.

Corals provide the foundation for many of the romantic tropical islands, some of which, the atolls, are circular in shape, with coral reefs surrounding an area of quiet water, the lagoon.

FOR YOU TO DO: The kind of coral used for jewelry, often red, rose or pink and beautifully polished, is called precious coral and comes from the Mediterranean Sea and Japan. See if you can swap to get a bit for your mineral collection.

New Senator Not Saying

Bunny 'Tale' May Be False

WASHINGTON (U) — Constituents, male, of Sen.-elect Joseph Tydings, D-Md., should know this before they flock to Washington — It isn't certain that a Bunny, platinum blonde type, will be working in Tydings' office.

Of course, Tydings didn't say that Mary Ellen Terzu wouldn't join his official secretarial staff — he said the staff hadn't been hired yet.

He did say "we would not hold the fact against the young lady... that she was a Bunny."

Mary Ellen, a nighttime Bunny waitress at the Baltimore Playboy Club, worked as a volunteer by day during Tydings' campaign and then told newsmen after he won she expected to drop her nightclub job and work full-time in the senator's office.

The senator discussed the situation yesterday on a Radio Press International recorded program.

Students Urged to Make Strong Vows

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
More than ever, the new year calls for strong resolutions by students.
No generation of students has been faced with so severe a challenge. There is more opportunity at the top; less room at the bottom. The need to prepare for lifelong learning is urgent.
Present-day students cannot afford to drift. Each should set a goal and work vigorously to ward it. Only through his own effort can he grow and develop the attributes of success.

Here is one basic resolution every student should make:
● Throughout 1965 I will strive to develop my learning skills. I will prepare myself to continue learning after the end of my formal schooling.
MEET GOAL
The following more specific resolutions will help a student meet his goal:
● I will develop the habit of independent study! I will learn as much as I can about each subject rather than just complete my assignments. I will use the library and read supplemental books.

● I will plan the way in which I study each course, reviewing the plan as the course proceeds! I realize mathematics should be understood in "words." I will study each principle of chemistry or physics and think about them until I have precise understanding. I will relate events of history to their locations and visualize them on a map.
● I will learn as much as possible during each class period! I will read ahead to get a general idea of what will be taken up in class, study the book developments in mathematics and science. In class, I will think about what is being said and fit it in with what I already know, and summarize the ideas presented.
● I will practice formulating and expressing ideas! While reading my assignments I will stop at the end of each section and restate the ideas in my own words. I will take a few minutes each day to think back over the ideas I have gained through reading and listening. In preparing for tests, I will practice formulating questions and answers.

● I will keep the over-all pattern of each subject clearly in my mind! Every few days, I will review each course from the beginning, attempt to state in as few words as possible the big ideas that have been covered, and "think" the details into place so they can be recalled readily at examination time.
● I will strive to improve my reading ability and my handwriting through practice! I know most of my new knowledge, especially after leaving formal schooling, must come through reading. I know ease in handwriting will enable me to transfer thoughts to paper in themes, tests and, later, in reports.

When today's hand was played at the Valley View studio in Richardson, Tex., about half the North-South pairs played the park-score contracts in no-trump or clubs while the other half reached the no-trump game and wound up making three or four odd depending on just how the defense went.
There is nothing noteworthy about the hand except that when Mrs. Jacoby and I held the North-South cards I invented a new bid.

With 16 high-card points, a five-card suit and two tens, I held a maximum no-trump, so after Mrs. Jacoby's two club response (Stayman), my two diamond rebid to deny a four-card major and her two no-trump rebid to show eight or nine high card points, I would normally have gone right to three no-trump.
Her two club response had guaranteed at least four cards in one of the majors and it occurred to me that if her four-card major was spades and she was weak in either

Court to Get Dearborn Case

Claim Officers Idle in Race Mob Attack

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Dearborn police officials were to be arraigned today in Federal Court on charges they failed to protect the rights of a citizen whose home was attacked by a mob during a racial dispute.

Police Chief Gargison Clayton and Safety Director George W. Lewis were indicted by a Federal Grand Jury Friday and ordered to appear in court today to face the charges.

The indictment charges Clayton and Lewis with not fulfilling their duty to protect Giuseppe Stanzone on Labor Day of last year when about 400 persons stormed his home in protest to the belief that Stanzone had sold to Negroes.

Stanzone said he rented the upper apartment of his home to a white couple who had hired two Negroes to move their furniture.

He said his neighbors mistakenly thought they were moving into the all-white neighborhood because the pregnant wife of one of the movers accompanied them.

MOB MOVED IN

It was while the movers were at work that the mob moved in, hurling eggs, bottles and vegetables at Stanzone's home. They also poured sugar into the gas tank of his car and slashed its convertible top.

The indictment states that Lewis and Clayton, who were on the scene at the time of the disturbance, witnessed "more than 100 persons" destroying Stanzone's property and assaulting and threatening to assault him.

The charge is a violation of the U.S. Code, which carries a maximum $1,000 fine or a year in jail, or both.

Stanzone charged that he was attacked by a member of the mob who had a bed rail in his hand. He said the police stood idly by while the incident took place and that his property was not protected.

6-HOUR SCENE

The mob demonstrated for nearly six hours. Three clergymen also were at the scene, but their pleas for the crowd to disperse were ignored.

St. Nick Dons Different Guises Around World

NEW YORK (UPI) — Santa Claus doesn't stop in every country.

The children in Germany, for example, receive their Christmas gifts from Kris Kringle, a young girl wearing a golden crown and carrying a tiny Yule tree.

In Denmark the elf, Jule-nissen, is the bearer of holiday gifts. Legend holds that throughout the year the elf lives in the attic to keep a sharp eye on the household.

Christmas dinner is never served until the "Nisse" has been treated to a bowl of rice and milk in his attic home.

In Poland gifts come from the Stara. In Hungary, the angels are the bearers of presents. In Syria, children wait for the "gentle camel."

YOUNGEST CAMEL

The legend is that the youngest camel carrying the Wise Men to Bethlehem lay exhausted from the long journey, and children brought water and wheat to revive him.

Ever since, the camel travels over the desert each Christmas with gifts for the young.

The Russian gift-giver is an old woman named Babushka who misdirected the Wise Men in their journey on the first Christmas.

Now, according to the legend, Babushka travels through the country during the holiday season, knocking at every door with her staff.

HOLDS CANDLE

She enters each home to hold a candle close to the faces of sleeping children. Then she places a toy under the child's pillow and rushes away on her unending search for the Christ Child.

Cuban Christmas Season Seems Brighter Than Last Year, Thanks to Government

HAVANA (AP) — Cubans seem to be enjoying a gay and better Christmas season than last year, thanks to significant government efforts to improve their lot.

Havana's downtown streets are clogged with shoppers. Of note has been the disappearance of lines outside stores, the usual sight in past years under the Communist government.

The government has imported thousands of tons of Spanish candy, olives, and nuts; Algerian grapes, dates and wines; Bulgarian apples and cheeses and other niceties which normally are unavailable.

The government also has granted extra food quotas for the holiday — including three-fourths of a pound of meat per person, an ounce of coffee, a pound of rice, a half-pound of black beans and a half-pound of olive oil.

CONSUMER GOODS

Consumer goods, both foreign and local, are plentiful. They include Japanese radios and record players, Bulgarian and German television sets and radios; Czech electric irons and other appliances; East European and Chinese textiles, and ready-made clothes and thousands of toys, including bicycles and others from Communist China and other Red bloc countries.

The government is enforcing strict rationing on consumer sales, including one electrical appliance for each family which did not buy one last Christmas.

SPIRITS LIFTED

The government's efforts for a less austere Christmas have markedly lifted spirits. On the whole, Cubans seem a little happier for the moment.

Block-long lines — the only ones seen now — form for table reservations for Christmas and

New Year's Eve. The reservations are limited to workers, soldiers and students.

A rush is also on at restaurants taking orders for the traditional Christmas paella of rice, sea food, olives, garlic, chicken and other ingredients. The government ordered Havana restaurants to sell 300,000 paellas without rationing, along with Spanish wine.

Te dark spot for habaneros is the government ban on the sale of pork, which means families in the capital will have to do without their traditional roast suckling pig. Prime Minister Fidel Castro decided that pork would be made available only outside Havana in an effort to save thousands of pigs needed to increase lard production.

Political slogans have largely vanished from store windows and other places. Radio stations, newspapers and other publications, however, are emphasizing the sixth anniversary of the victory of Castro's revolution, on Jan. 1.

There is an obvious effort on the part of the government to turn the Christmas and New Year's celebration into an anniversary festivity. It has scheduled a series of dances and rallies beginning Christmas Day and ending Jan. 1 to celebrate the Castro overthrow of Fulgencio Batista.

Gone from Cuba are any religious signs of Christmas, as well as Santa Claus, who has been denounced by Cuban newspapers as an "imperialist symbol." Very few Christmas trees are seen.

Turkey for Christmas is a tasty tradition you may want to follow this year... but make sure the turkey you serve is a Grade A Food Fair Turkey. Food Fair turkeys are deep through the breast, so there's lots of tender white meat... and the drumsticks are sweet and juicy. This Christmas feast on the extra plumpness and abundance of a golden Food Fair turkey.

7 Orphaned Girls Await Merry Yule

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "Hello, I'm Barbara." The voice was that of Barbara Schaefer, 10, one of seven orphaned sisters.

How did she feel? "Fine." What did she want for Christmas?

WANTS GAME

"A game, Crazy Clocks." The seven girls are happy and gay, excited about Christmas.

Eleanor, 12, the oldest, summed it up!

"There's a lot of anticipation for Christmas. Everyone is so excited. I want mostly clothes."

WISHES FOR CLOTHES

Linda, 11, wants clothes and a game "or something like that." Marie, 8, is wishing for a toy, Thimble City.

Janice, who was 7 Sunday, got a sewing set, color book and game for her birthday. For Christmas, her No. 1 choice is toy dishes.

Pamela, 5, is hoping for a toy dog. The youngest, George, 3, wants a real one.

SET FOR CHRISTMAS

"Let me say this," said the children's aunt, Liz Schaefer, 25. "We're prepared for Christmas. I hope and pray it is a merry Christmas for them."

Liz — the kids call her Buff — and her mother, Kate Schaefer, 67, have been caring for six of the girls since June 1961, when their father, George Schaefer, was killed in an auto accident. Three months earlier, their mother had died shortly after giving birth to George.

George lives with an aunt and uncle in Philadelphia. The girls are growing up nicely, said Liz.

"The sad part is over," she added. "Write something happy and gay because that's the way they are and that's the way I want people to see them."

Al Has Been Working on Railroad 70 Years

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (P) — Al Sherry, 70, has spent over 70 years as a railroadman and is still on the job. New York Central's oldest employee in point of service, he first joined Peoria & Eastern Railway as a telegraph assistant in 1892 at a salary of $10 a month. He has been NYC's agent here for the past 54 years.

'Fair Lady' Said 'Fairest' in Oscar Race

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The Oscar race is off and running to a musical list this year.

December marks the end of the nominations and the beginning of the heavy campaigning. All Oscar contenders must appear in a Los Angeles theater for at least a week before Dec. 31, and the Christmas season sees a number of hopefuls playing brief dates to qualify. They are bolstered by prestige-seeking ads which inform academy voters they can show their membership cards to gain free admittance.

This year most of the important contenders have appeared before Christmas and an unusual number are musical. Why is this unusual? Because heavy dramas usually draw the academy's favor.

At this point in the race, "My Fair Lady" seems the fairest of all the hopefuls. Its virtually unanimous praise makes it the film to beat in all departments.

IN CONTENTION?

Two other musicals may well be in contention for best picture award: "Mary Poppins" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" scored high as crowd-pleasers.

It wasn't a top-year for dramas, but two which look promising are "Night of the Iguana" and "Becket," both starring Richard Burton. "Dr. Strangelove," in a class by itself, is another strong entry.

OTHERS IN RUNNING

Others being mentioned for academy nominations: Geraldine Page for "Dear Heart"; Kim Stanley, "Seance on a Wet Afternoon"; Ava Gardner and Deborah Kerr, "Night of the Iguana"; Anne Bancroft, "The Pumpkin Eater"; Rita Tushnet, "The Girl With the Green Eyes"; Melina Mercouri, "Topkap"; Deborah Kerr, Hayley Mills, "The Chalk Garden"; Bette Davis and Olivia de Havilland, "Hush Hush, Sweet Charlotte"; Olivia for "Lady in a Cage"; Agnes Moorehead, "Hush Hush, Sweet Charlotte"; Mildred Dunnock, "Behold a Pale Horse"; Grayson Hall, "Night of the Iguana."

May Avoid Big Cash Outlay

Revised R20 Plan Boosts City Hopes

By L. GARY THORNE

A note of optimism has permeated city hall thinking on Pontiac's urban renewal program, replacing the occasional dark thoughts of the past.

City officials are molding new hope of avoiding actual cash outlay for the city's share of renewal costs.

This is a fresh out look, particularly for the larger and older R20 project.

Pontiac has two urban renewal projects—R20 and R4. The former is Pontiac's maiden effort in urban renewal.

The four-year-old project has been subject to trial and error and often some confusion.

CASH PAYMENT

Not long ago city officials feared Pontiac's cash payment to the federal government at the conclusion of R20 would reach $300,000.

However, a revised R20 plan now makes it likely the city may avoid the hard cash outlay.

According to Planning Director

James L. Bates and City Manager Joseph A. Warren, increased credits for the $2.5-million Clinton River Drain may substitute for cash.

Urban renewal is a joint federal-city operation. In R20 the federal government contributes two-thirds of the cost; the city one-third.

TWO METHODS

There are two methods by which the city can pay its share of urban renewal costs: A straight cash appropriation, or a noncash credit (money already spent on related improvements which the federal government agrees to "credit" toward the city's share of the renewal tab).

A revised R20 plan tentatively approved by the City Commission recently, must now be okayed by federal urban renewal officials.

Previously, the city was credited with only $300,000 for the river drain. The revised project would like the noncash credit by $1.6 million.

Thus, if the revised plan is okayed by federal officials, the city would receive credit for $2 million or about 78 percent of the total $2.5-million cost of the river work.

INCREASED CREDITS

Warren said the increased credits for the river are requested after a fresh look at the river improvements.

The lower credit had been allowed with the thought that the river project merely improved the drainage system for the downtown area, said Warren.

However, after consulting with Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA) officials, it was decided the project really re-made the downtown area.

"We hadn't looked at it in the proper perspective," explained the city manager.

REVISED PLANS

Bates said the revised R20 plan puts more of the river in the urban renewal project, which is further justification for claiming added noncash credits.

What are the city's chances of gaining the increased credits for the river?

Warren described them as "very good," although declining to estimate on a percentage basis. He indicated that HHFA officials encouraged the "new look" at the river improvements.

The original R20 project plan, conceived in 1960, called for a gross project cost of $6.1 million. However, the original plan has been revised several times as project costs exceeded earlier estimates and the resale value of urban renewal land dropped.

$11.4 MILLION

The latest proposed plan revision, subject to the approval of federal authorities, would place the gross cost at $11.4 million.

The sale of land is expected to bring $1.6 million, leaving $9.8 million to be split on a two-thirds ($6.5 million)—one-third ($3.3 million) basis.

In presenting the revised R20 plan, city officials also offered figures to reflect a likely change—elimination of the need for a $1.2-million parking structure to help pay the city's share.

PARKING STRUCTURE

City Manager Warren said that right now it would take a significant development downtown to justify financing the parking structure through revenue bonds.

Elimination of the parking facility would drop the gross project cost to $10.3 million, according to the revised R20 plan.

Kills Fellow Guard, Escapes to West

VOHNSTRAUSS, Germany (U)—A young Czech soldier fled to West Germany yesterday after killing another border guard on patrol with him.

The 19-year-old soldier escaped across the no-man's-land between Communist Czechoslovakia and West Germany's upper palatinate.

The youth reported the shooting when he registered his flight with border police. He said he first knocked out the other soldier when he tried to stop the escape. But the man came before the soldier reached West German territory, and they exchanged pistol shots.

Trusty, Two Others Don't Live Up to Name

HUGHESVILLE, Md. (AP)—Trusty and two other trusties walked out of Southern Maryland correctional camp Sunday night.

Police said the three trusties, Melvin E. Trusty, 24; Nathaniel S. Brewer, 32; and William M. Roundtree, 21, all of Baltimore, apparently walked out shortly after dinner.

MOMENT OF JOY — A brother and sister are reunited in East Berlin by a brief opening of the Berlin wall. West Berliners are allowed to visit relatives and friends behind the Iron Curtain during the Christmas holidays. The man was admitted through the Friedrichstrasse control point.

Yank Yule Decorations Raise British Eyebrows

COBHAM, England (U)—An American husband and wife who erected a six-foot tall illuminated Santa Claus on the roof of their British home — are stopping traffic with their Christmas decorations.

"Such things are quite usual in the states," said Mrs. Lynn Coughran. "I know it's raising some eyebrows hereabouts. The British are more restrained than Americans."

In addition to Santa on the roof, the Coughrans' decorations include:

- A sleigh painted with luminous paint.
- A team of reindeer nine feet long — also in luminous paint, and on the roof.
- A similar tableau on the lawn — highlighted by spotlights.
- Over the doors of a double garage an illuminated sign saying Merry Christmas.
- Two illuminated angels on each side of the Coughran's front door.
- Inside the house a gilt-painted Christmas tree — with lights that wink on and off — shines through the windows.

As some Britons think all Americans are millionaires, local gossip has it that the Coughrans' Christmas tree is made of gold and that it cost 2,000 pounds ($5,000).

The Coughrans come from Fresno, Calif. The husband works here.

When the American family switched on the lights of their Christmas extravaganza last week, local police hurried to their home and inspected the display to see if it caused a hazard to traffic.

BRITISH ABSTAIN

Up to this Christmas, the British have not gone in for outside-the-house Christmas decorations.

Student Pilot Stricken; Is Dead at Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — A student pilot was stricken with an apparent heart attack Sunday while flying a single-engine plane 800 feet above Detroit City Airport. The plane was landed by flight instructor Warren Besse, 25. The student, Joseph Jozewski, 23, of Trenton, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Detroit Fire Is Fatal

DETROIT (AP) — A man tentatively identified as Pedro Villa, 36, was burned fatally Sunday in a fire at a west side Detroit home. Two other men suffered burns in the blaze. Fire officials said the blaze apparently began in a couch.

CHILLY PROSPECT — Lin Hu, deck-hand on the Nationalist Chinese ship Vanfu, thinks of his warm homeland as he gazes at the Toronto waterfront. His ship is one of three foreign vessels trapped by ice in the St. Lawrence Seaway. Some of the crew will stay with the ship until the spring breakup of ice.

Despite Reduced Requirement

Russia Still Balking on U.N. Finances

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U.N. officials figure that the United Nations needs only $60 million or $80 million in voluntary contributions to pull out of the insolvency caused by $126 million in unpaid dues for peace-keeping operations.

But they are having trouble getting the Russians to help raise that much, even though the United States has cut $4.4 million off the sum it insisted the Soviet Union should chip in.

Secretary General U Thant and Alex Quaison-Sackey, president of the General Assembly, are negotiating with the two big powers in hopes of settling the dispute over peace-keeping assessments and voting rights before the assembly's Christmas recess begins Wednesday.

Some diplomats believed the assembly could resume Jan. 11 without risking a Soviet-U.S. clash over the issue. Others feared the assembly would recess until Feb. 8 or 15 to provide time for further negotiations.

NO VOTE

Article 19 of the U.N. Charter says any member two years behind in its assessments "shall have no vote" in the assembly.

The Russians are more than two years behind because they refuse to pay assembly assessments for financing the Congo and Middle East peace-keeping forces. They contend that the Security Council alone is authorized to start and finance such forces. After Jan. 1 about 20 other countries will be two years delinquent, many of them for the same reasons.

The negotiations are aimed at setting up a voluntary fund as a face-saving device into which the Soviet Union and other members can pay so as to provide money to liquidate the peace-keeping deficit.

SCALED DOWN

Outstanding peace-keeping assessments total almost $125 million, but by lopping off bills that do not have to be paid soon, U.N. fiscal officials have scaled the deficit down to between $80 million and $90 million. They figure that, since some bills can be postponed almost indefinitely, $50 million or $60 million in cash would give them enough to declare the United Nations solvent.

The United States used to insist that the Russians must pay around $24.5 million in cash, because on Jan. 1 they will owe that much in addition to their current two-year delinquency.

Now the United States says the Russians can vote if they only pledge about $17.1 million. The U.S. reasoning is that the other $24 million is a regular budget assessment, the Russians always pay these and if they make a pledge, they can be counted on to pay that too.

But the Russians are demanding that if they make one voluntary contribution, no matter what the size, all peace-keeping assessments charged to them shall be written off.

De Gaulle Announces Yule Amnesty for 173

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle today announced Christmas amnesty for 173 persons imprisoned for subversive activities.

The clemency will free 123 persons. Terms will be cut for the other 50. De Gaulle's action is in addition to an amnesty, voted by parliament last week. It freed about 350 persons.

MEASURING OIL IN HIS YARD — Rodion Slipyi and his wife use a long dipstick to measure the crude oil in their back yard seepage reservoir in Los Angeles, from which a truck hauls 2,000 gallons of the oil each Saturday. Slipyi, a 52-year-old mechanical engineer, says his home rests on a fault from which the oil springs. He says it nets him $500 a month.

Tunisia Regime to 'Get Tough'

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba has warned opponents of his program of progressive socialism they will be shown no mercy.

Bourguiba jailed 147 peasant farmers Sunday who took part in a noisy demonstration against government-imposed cooperatives. They will be tried on charges of sabotage.

Bourguiba accused "big proprietors" of masterminding the demonstration. "If the principles of Karl Marx, according to which cooperation with the bourgeois is impossible, are proved exact, we will adopt them," he said.

ZANZIBAR, Tanzania (AP) — President Julius Nyerere today visited America's only aid project on the island of Zanzibar, a $600,000 high school under construction.

No visit to the project had been scheduled for Nyerere's first state tour of Zanzibar but he drove past the site Sunday and is believed to have asked that it be included on his itinerary.

U.S. Consul Frank Carlucci told the president he hoped the first 80 students would be able to start lessons late in February. He said the completion of the project is expected by the end of 1965, and the school will accommodate 240 students.

JERUSALEM, Israel Sector (AP) — Acting Premier Levi Eshkol says he expects to have a new Israeli government ready by Tuesday.

President Zalman Shazar

asked Eshkol Sunday night to form a new Cabinet as the candidate of the Mapai party, Israel's biggest. The new government probably will be the same as Eshkol's Cabinet which resigned last Monday over a dispute between the premier and former Premier David Ben-Gurion.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Doctors in public health hospitals went on an indefinite strike for higher wages today.

Skeleton crews manned emergency wards, but the Medical Federation said they would be withdrawn Wednesday if the doctors' demands were not met.

Two railway unions also are struck, one for 24 hours and one for a two-hour work stoppage every shift. They also are demanding higher wages, pensions and fringe benefits.

CAIRO (AP) — The United Arab Republic and Iraq have formed "a unified political command" to coordinate their political, economic and military policies.

The 25-man body, made up of 13 Egyptians and 12 Iraqis, will also plan further steps towards unity, an official announcement said.

Firing Reports Shake Lions

DETROIT (AP) — "It's true," head coach George Wilson said today of the reported firings of three Detroit Lion coaching aides.

DETROIT (AP) — The reported firings of three Detroit Lion coaching aides — over strong objections from head coach George Wilson — stirred the Detroit pro football scene today.

Officially, there was no confirmation. The Lions' top brass, including owner William Clay Ford, declined comment.

However, authoritative sources said the ax had fallen on Les Bingham, Bob Nassbaum and Don Doll, all old-line members of Wilson's staff or playing roster. Their contracts are not to be renewed, it was said.

Linebacker Joe Schmidt was rumored, as one replacement.

An "announcement," its nature undisclosed, was reported to be forthcoming some time today from the Lions' front office.

The firings report came out yesterday, along with the report that Wilson had objected and had been overruled by Ford.

Fires Over Weekend Take Grim Toll Across Country

By The Associated Press
At least 66 multiple fire deaths have been recorded over the nation in the last three days with more than half the victims children.

House fires killed six and seven persons at a time as cold weather gripped parts of the nation in advance of today's calendar start of the winter. Home furnaces were pushed to near maximum capacity.

The death toll by days:

• Yesterday: At least 20 dead, 14 children and six adults. A mother and her six youngsters perished in one upstate New York blaze.

• Saturday: At least 26 dead, 23 children and three adults, with one fire in Warren, Mich., killing six youngsters, and two others claiming five each.

• Friday: Fire swept a nursing home in Fountaintown,

• The upstate New York fire killed Mrs. Paul B. Breiden, 26, and her six children, aged 2 to 8, in their home in Palmyra, near Rochester.

RETURNED HOME

The 31-year-old father returned home from a business trip to Chicago an hour after the blaze was discovered. Two adjacent homes also were destroyed but the occupants escaped.

Also yesterday:

In Tiffin, Ohio, a home fire claimed the lives of Robert A. Church, 32, a widower, and his three sons, aged 6 to 13.

Near Pine River, Minn., while Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baker were at a dance for the benefit of a couple who were burned out a week ago, four of the six Baker children perished in their flaming home. The victims ranged from ages 2 to 9.

TRAPPED IN BEDROOM

The oldest child, Janice, 14, saved the youngest, Perry, 1, asleep in his parents' bedroom. The other youngsters were trapped in a second bedroom.

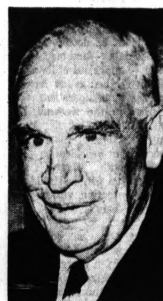

In East Wenatchee, Wash., fire swept the home of John E. Stall, 58, and his wife, Renee, killing them both.

An explosion and fire ravaged a two-story home in Wichita Falls, Tex., killing Wyletta Thornton, 3.

In New York City, separate home fires killed Isaac Watson, 75, and Francisca Cruz, 22.

Bank Truck Robbed During Church Stop

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — Police said an armored truck was held up as it stopped at a church rectory today by six gunmen who escaped with an estimated half-million dollars.

Details of the robbery were sketchy but police said the two truck guards and three priests were handcuffed and left in the St. Anthony's Church rectory while the truck was looted.

The gunmen entered the rectory before the bank truck had arrived and took the priests prisoner. They then awaited the guards.

When the two guards entered, they too, were seized and handcuffed. The truck had gone to the rectory to pick up cash, presumably from Sunday's church collections.

Police said the bandits forced a priest to open the rectory safe before the guards arrived.

The bandits looted the safe as well as the truck, a panel truck of the First National Bank of Passaic County. Police said the loot totaled $511,000.

Press Offers '64 Recap in Book Form

"The World in 1964," a month-by-month recap of the past year, is being offered to area readers by The Pontiac Press and The Associated Press. This newspaper is joining more than 300 other papers across the nation in presenting this king-size book, subtitled "History as We Lived It," to our readers.

The 9½-by-12½ inch volume is being produced by the same news experts who turned out the AP book "The Year Is Passed" on the Kennedy assassination, and the AP "Warren Report" which The Press also offered.

Price of the volume is $3. It will be sold by coupon only. (See Page B-3.)

With a handsome red and gold hardback cover, "The World in 1964" will contain 300 pages of highly readable material, as well as reference sections.

TOP PHOTOS

With hundreds of the best news photos of the year, in color and black and white, it will provide a series of dramatic accounts of the year's big stories and the ones that most affected American newspapers readers.

Books will be delivered as soon as possible after the first of the year.

Two Latin Tragedies Fatal to 98

VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico (AP)

A speeding freight train rammed into the back of a half-empty passenger train in dense fog near here yesterday, killing 41 persons and injuring 75. Three of the injured were American tourists.

Nils Werper of Alhambra, Calif., was reported in critical condition. His right arm had been amputated and he was in danger of losing a leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson of Fresno, Calif., were reported doing well. They suffered leg fractures and other injuries.

The accident occurred at the mountain village of Tacotalpa, 45 miles south of this capital of Tabasco State in southeastern Mexico. The area is about 600 miles southeast of Mexico City.

The Americans were on their way back to Mexico City after visiting the archeological area of Palenque, in nearby Chiapas.

APPARENTLY DOZED

Authorities blamed the wreck on the fog and lack of attention on the part of the engineer of the freight train. A member of the freight train crew said the engineer apparently had been dozing and did not see the stopped train until too late.

The engineer, identified as (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Will Discuss Spending With 4 Key Aides

Officials Predicting Final Package to Be Below $100 Billion

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson gave budget-cutting top priority today as he settled down at the LBJ Ranch for the Christmas holidays. He planned to discuss spending with his budget director and three Cabinet officers.

Press Secretary George E. Reedy described Johnson as determined to reduce spending requests "as prudently as he can, and as far as he can within the limits of efficiency and effectiveness."

Many administration officials in Washington are predicting that by New Year's Day, Johnson will have whacked federal spending proposals below $100 billion for the year starting July 1, 1965.

He has said this will be difficult, but he did it last year after making some negative forecasts.

Those on hand at the ranch included Budget Director Kermit Gordon, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the Interior Stewart L. Udall and Dr. Donald Hornig, presidential assistant for science and technology.

UNHAPPY

The presence of Hodges and Udall indicated they were unhappy with some of the spending limits recommended by Gordon for their departments.

Hornig's presence might mean that some of these recommendations involved scientific activities in the two departments.

A Budget Bureau official said in Washington Saturday that about 10 departments and agencies are appealing the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Winter in Warring Mood

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fresh snow, rain and plummeting temperatures stung the Northeast and Northwest today as winter made its official debut.

At least 25 deaths were attributed to violent storms that followed a coast-to-coast cold wave.

Although the South and many of the middle states are experiencing a warming trend, the northern corners of the nation had no relief.

With eight inches of new snow today, portions of the

See Story, Page B-10

Montana-North Dakota area were still digging out from the storms in an effort to save thousands of stranded cattle and sheep.

Hundreds of cattle suffocated to death as ice formed on their nostrils and mouths. North Dakota Gov. William Guy called a meeting with Civil Defense, National Guard and highway department officials to determine what can be done to help the snowed-in ranchers.

"I've never seen a storm like that one," said one North Dakota rancher. Some portions of the state were declared disaster areas.

Purge Clouds S. Viet's Future

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The future of South Viet Nam's government and the war against the Viet Cong have been thrown into doubt by a weekend political purge by young Vietnamese generals.

The "Young Turks" dissolved the High National Council and arrested most of its nine members, plus more than 20 other leading politicians.

U.S. military and diplomatic officers made no official statement on the crisis—the country's sixth government upheaval—but American displeasure heated in less than 14 months was evident.

"This power play did not seem called for," said one U.S. official, "and basically we have to regard these generals as rebels against the duly constituted government."

DECLARE CONFIDENCE

In a broadcast proclamation, the junta of young generals declared confidence in and support for both men.

U.S. officials said the latest assertion of over-all authority by the military badly damaged the civilian government's position.

Brig. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of the 1st Army Corps, is the dominant member of the junta.

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Christmas is for kids of all ages. That's why adults get such a kick of wandering through the toy departments whether they have children to buy for or not. In the doll section, there are still the old stand-bys with a few new ones added.

This year the pint-sized mother can actually burp her baby after feeding her formula which seems to disappear from the bottle.

If your small fry like to follow dad around the golf course, encourage them with small-scale clubs and bag.

You will never go wrong with a teen-age daughter or friend if you add to her sweater collection. The new hand-embroidered variety are especially attractive. If she wears contact lenses, give her a gold lens case.

Toddlers and preschoolers will be tickled with the train top. As it spins, a miniature train goes round and round under its clear plastic cap.

If they are too young for a puppy of their own, youngsters will love the plush pup with a personality called Sniffy. He walks, wags his tail and raises his ears.

The junior general in your family will bark battle commands as he issues orders over the talking telephone. For the small do-it-yourselfer, a scaled-down tool kit will come in handy when he tries to help dad.

Johnson Is in Fine Shape, His Cardiologist Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is in fine shape to weather the next four strenuous and demanding years in the White House, his cardiologist said today.

Indeed, Dr. John Willis Hurst — who has been keeping regular tabs on the President's heart ever since his severe coronary attack in 1955 — indicated Johnson may even have an edge on many other men of his 56 years in coping with the physical and emotional stresses of life.

Dr. Hurst discounted any thought that the President, since taking office, has been maintaining a possibly dangerous "frantic" pace, as at least one doctor not associated with his case has put it.

Dr. Hurst, professor and chairman of the Department of Medicine, Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga., made the statements in a telephone interview.

SECOND PHYSICIAN

He thus became the second physician among the President's team of doctors to give an up-to-date — and highly optimistic — appraisal of the chief executive's health as he approaches his inauguration.

Earlier in the weekend, Dr. James W. Cain of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., pronounced the President in "excellent health. There is no health reason why he should not continue an active, vigorous life for many years."

In fact, Dr. Cain added, "I think he's in better health than I've seen him in years."

Both physicians gave their appraisals on the basis of separate examinations — previously unannounced — each had made of the President at the White House during the past two weeks. Each stressed they had made the examinations only because they happened to be in Washington for other reasons.

FIRST CONTACT

Dr. Hurst said his first contact with Johnson was on that tense day, back in 1955, when the then Sen. Johnson — stricken by a coronary attack — was rushed to the Bethesda, Md., U.S. naval hospital where Hurst was then chief of the cardiology division.

Pointing out that about 94 years have now passed since Johnson's heart attack and that Johnson has shown no symptoms relating to his heart since his convalescence from the initial attack — Dr. Hurst said:

"Following his convalescence, he has been extremely active and vigorous — and this, of course, is his nature."

"Since he has had no difficulty from his heart in nearly 10 years, he is now in a very favorable group. It is my belief that his health outlook is that of any other apparently healthy individual of comparable age."

ADVERSE EFFECTS?

When asked about possible adverse physical effects from the apparently fast and rigorous pace the President has been keeping — especially during the recent campaign — Dr. Hurst said:

"I must remember that people react differently to different stresses of both a physical and mental nature. The President is unique in his ability to handle many complex problems that might be frustrating to someone else — and he is physically strong and tireless."

spending limits recommended by Gordon, and that it's now up to the President to make the final decisions.

John T. Connor, who will succeed Hodges as secretary of commerce in January, also came from Washington with the President so he could sit in on discussion of the department's budget requests.

ORIGINAL REQUESTS

Original spending requests of 70 departments and agencies totaled $108.5 billion. Actual spending during the current fiscal year is currently estimated at $97.2 billion.

Some reductions have been made in the spending requests, but by how much has not been disclosed.

These requests were only for existing programs and do not include new programs Johnson plans to recommend such as funds for the depressed Appalachia region.

Administration sources have said that none of the recommendations in Johnson's "Great Society" program will be spectacularly costly, at least in the first year.

INEVITABLE HIKES

Some increases in government spending are inevitable because of legally fixed outlays for such things as veterans benefits, interest on the debt and government pay raises.

There are indications Johnson may balance these by moving against such programs as space and atomic energy, cutting out unneeded installations and programs of lesser priority.

Detroit (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, operated on two weeks ago for removal of a spot on his right lung, left Henry Ford Hospital Sunday.

The United Auto Workers' president, chipper and smiling, said he had been informed the operation was a "complete success" and full recovery was assured.

Reuther, 57, underwent the operation Dec. 7. At the time it was described as surgery for removal of a small spot on the lung.

Reuther extended a "Merry Christmas" to hospital people and held a brief news conference. Then he went home to convalesce.

THANK STAFF

The UAW chief thanked the hospital staff and doctors in a statement and "thousands of friends" who he said had sent him best wishes. He said he hoped to be back to his union duties soon.

Hits Roosevelt Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says President Franklin D. Roosevelt's unconditional surrender policy in World War II was a mistake that may have cost lives and prolonged the war.

Eisenhower, former president and commander of the allied forces that defeated the Germans in the West, made his comment in an interview with the Washington Post.

The unconditional surrender slogan was first voiced by Roosevelt at a news conference in Casablanca, Morocco, Jan. 24, 1943, at the end of a 10-day conference with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The main thing wrong with it, Eisenhower said, was it seemed to be directed against the German people instead of the German warlords.

"Germany was defeated after the Battle of the Bulge," Eisenhower said. "By Jan. 16, 1945, it was all over and anyone with sense knew it was over."

HAD INFLUENCE

He continued: "But then there was this statement that President Roosevelt made about unconditional surrender in 1943. This certainly had some influence. The whole spring campaign should have been abandoned."

"Hitler used something from the mouth of our own leader and persuaded the Germans to fight longer than they might have. I have always believed that the war should have ended 60 or 90 days before it did."

Eisenhower acknowledged his views were speculation that could not be proved, but stressed that if the unconditional surrender policy had been aimed directly at Hitler — instead of the German people — the German Army might have been killed or jailed him, then asked for peace.

The former supreme commander said he complained about the policy privately and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, intimated he agreed, but like all American officers backed the commander in chief.

Asked why he had not publicly stated his views on the policy before, Eisenhower replied: "Nobody every asked me."

Scholarships Available for Journalists

The Inter American Press Association Scholarship Fund today invited United States and Canadian working newspapermen and journalism graduates or students to apply for one of its scholarships for a year of study in Latin America.

Although applications from North Americans are usually considered in the fall — nine were awarded scholarships last October — the fund may also study a few special cases in the spring.

For these cases the deadline for submitting applications will be Feb. 1, 1965, according to an announcement made today by the president of the fund, Harold A. Fitzgerald, of The Pontiac Press.

The Scholarship Awards Committee will meet in February to examine the applications and make recommendations to the directors.

Candidates may request information and application forms from Carlos A. Jimenez, secretary, IAPA Scholarship Fund, 667 Madison, Suite 704, N.E. New York, N.Y. 10021.

Applicants must have a working knowledge of the language of the country where they wish to study. Preference will be given to applicants with journalistic experience.

LIMA, Peru (AP) — An explosion in a U.S.-operated coal mine in central Peru yesterday killed 57 miners and injured two others.

Reports from the mine, near Cerro de Pasco 125 miles northeast of Lima, said gas and coal dust exploded. The mine's output is used to make coke for copper, gold and silver mining operations at Cerro de Pasco.

It is operated by the U.S.-owned Cerro de Pasco Corp.

While rescuers dug for bodies, officials of the government and the mining company tried to determine the cause of the accident.

Survivors said the blast shot a wall of flames through the shaft and supporting timber beams were splintered. The matches. There was speculation it might have been set off by sparks from a pick.

Commission to Discuss Traffic and Ordinances

BIRMINGHAM—Traffic problems and proposed changes in the city's zoning and sign ordinances will be under discussion at the City Commission meeting tonight.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will report to the commissioners on a survey made to determine how many motorists use Willis and Baldwin as a bypass around the western edge of the central business district.

"Due to the rather moderate volume of through traffic using Willis, we do not recommend the closing of any portion of Willis at the present time," Moxley said in the report prepared for the meeting.

Traffic Engineer J. J. Dobeles urged the commission to give serious consideration to any street closing in the area since it could disrupt traffic patterns for the entire area.

Moxley also will discuss restriction of parking on the north side of Harmon proposed by 11 residents in November.

Purge Clouds S. Viet Future

ernment. Since Diem's death he has risen rapidly in the Vietnamese army.

BLOODLESS PURGE

Acting with him in Sunday's purge, bloodless purge were Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky, air force commander; Brig. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, Marine Corps commander; and Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, 4th Corps commander.

About 70 staff officers who had been assigned to the chief of state's office were shipped off under guard to the mountains north of Saigon.

All had been on the staff of the former chief of state, Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, and had been left at the disposal of his successor.

The military's rapid move caught leaders of the Buddhists' antigovernment campaign by surprise.

Their weekend of hunger striking and demonstrating was cut short and Buddhist followers were told "for the time being just pray and go home."

Pressure from the Buddhists appeared to have been lifted, at least temporarily.

Several of the politicians under arrest had been targets of the Buddhists, but several persons who had been associated with Buddhist extremists also were arrested.

The generals promised "impartiality vis-a-vis every religious and political difference," and said they were "ready to act as a mediator between all differences in order to achieve national unity, annihilate the Communists and safeguard the nation."

LAKE ORDER

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, chief of the armed forces and former premier, nominally gave the order to dissolve the council and carry out the arrests.

But reports said he was under close observation by the young generals and little more than a figurehead.

SURVEY

A survey of the cars parked there indicates they are causing no serious obstacle to moving traffic and would have few other places to park, according to Moxley.

He also noted residents seem to be in disagreement about the kind of restrictions they desire.

City Planning Director William R. Brownfield will present to the commission minimum standards recommended under a proposed zoning ordinance amendment.

ACTION DELAYED

The amendment, designed to encourage the development of luxury apartments, would affect properties in the area generally bounded by Merrill, Southfield, Brown and Henrietta.

Action on the amendment was postponed following a hearing last week.

The proposed change in the sign ordinance concerns the distance billboards must be from churches, schools and similar buildings.

Alterations suggested are aimed at clarifying the intent of the ordinance — protect a person from attack by an assailant hidden behind a billboard.

Only Wanted Coins Talled

A small boy presented a box of coins to a teller in a local bank and asked the man to count the money.

"You have $32.71 here," the teller announced, asking the lad for his bankbook so the money could be entered on the account.

"Oh, I don't want to put the money in the bank; I only wanted to know how much I had in the box," the youngster replied.

Ship Survivors Are Picked Up

Four Crewmen Killed;
Vessel Cracked Seam

NEW YORK (AP) — The German freighter Mathilde Bolten, bound for San Juan today carrying 34 survivors and four dead crewmen from the stricken American merchant ship Smith Voyager, which cracked a seam in mid-Atlantic.

The captain, his third mate and another crewman remained aboard the Smith Voyager after the others took to lifeboats Sunday in rough seas, the Coast Guard said.

One man was unaccounted for among the crew of 42 on the 49-foot, 7,000-gross ton cargo ship. It was carrying 10,000 tons of grain from Freeport, the Bahamas, to Cienfuegos, Spanish Morocco.

The Coast Guard cutter Rockaway was en route to the Smith Voyager about 820 miles east southeast of Bermuda at 7 a.m. (EST) today.

FOUR INJURED

Four of the survivors taken aboard the German ship were reported injured. Extent of the injuries was not learned. The Mathilde Bolten has no doctor aboard, the Coast Guard said.

Through a vast computer system which keeps track of ships at sea and in the complements, the Coast Guard was attempting to find one with a doctor and set up a rendezvous with the Mathilde Bolten. The latter was expected to reach San Juan by Wednesday evening.

The sea drama unfolded at 11:27 a.m. Sunday when the Smith Voyager radioed an SOS that she was sinking. A half-hour later came a second message — abandoning ship — and at 12:46 p.m. she reported, "All men getting away safely."

Three merchant ships sped to the distressed vessel. The Mathilde Bolten, first on the scene, radioed:

"Voyager apparently cracked No. 4 hold. Main stowage joint broken down — Abandoned ship with 35-degree starboard list, increasing rapidly."

Seas in the area were reported at up to 15 feet with winds at 25 to 30 knots.

After dark Sunday night, an Air Force plane dropped survival kits to the men still on the Smith Voyager.

State Flier Is Victim

STEPHENVILLE, N.D. (AP) — Tech Sgt. Lawrence F. Lane of Ishpeming, Mich., flight engineer, was one of five crewmen to die when a U.S. K-97 crashed on landing here Saturday and plunged into the sea.

Shelter Pets: Are Gifts With 2-Way Joy

By BILL EASTHAM

Department stores offer a fantastic variety of toys nowadays for children of all ages.

Many are animated by battery power. But for liveliness that will gladden the heart of any child and doesn't wear out or run down, none can match a frisky pup or a playful kitten.

At this very moment the two animal welfare agencies in the Pontiac area have on hand some 225 dogs and cats, pups and kittens, that would be overjoyed to be given a spot under your Christmas tree.

Combine the joy of the animal at having a new home and the happiness it will bring a child (or children) and you can't miss.

The Oakland County Animal Shelter, located on the northeast side of the County Service Center, has an inventory of about 75 dogs and pups and 25 cats and kittens that are ready for adoption.

HAD SHOTS

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the animal shelter, says "ready for adoption" means they have had rabies shots.

They should, however, be vaccinated for distemper, hepatitis and leptospirosis, cautions Dr. Bates, to insure that they will remain healthy.

To subsidize the expense of the shelter, which operates on public funds, there is a charge of $3 for the dogs and $1 for cats.

The license, which can be obtained at the shelter, is extra, of course, and the combination shot is an expensive one—$15.

The other temporary home for pets who need a permanent home is the Michigan Animal Rescue League Shelter at 790 Featherstone.

Marsh London, county humane officer in charge of the shelter, said around 130 animals are available there.

Prices range from $2 to $3 for kittens up to $25 for spayed female dogs. But the higher prices include the cost of the combination shot.

The Rescue League, which is a charity organization, does not provide rabies shots, which the animals should have as soon as they are old enough.

OPEN HOURS

The Rescue League is open from 9 to 5 every day except Sunday. The county animal shelter's hours are 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

If you're shopping for a pet and aren't too concerned about its ancestry, the two animal shelters can provide almost as much variety as the toy stores.

While most of the dogs are of uncertain origin, some show signs of noble blood lines and may well have a pedigree somewhere in their background.

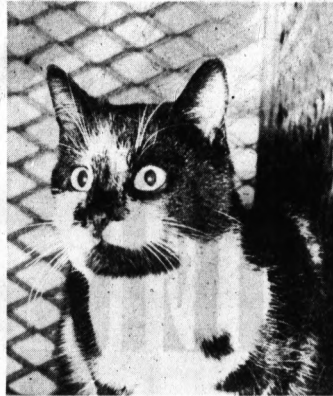

The cats, too, come in assorted shapes, sizes and colors, ranging from Halloween black to three-colored calico.

'C'mon, Mister, Take Me Home With You. I'll Be A Good Boy!'

'Get Outta My Way!'

'Listen! I Think I Hear Sleigh Bells!'

'Hold It, Photographer. I'm Not Ready Yet!'

'They're Supposed To Meet Us Here. Wonder Where They Are?'

'Move Over, You Big Lugs. I Want In This Picture, Too!'

Peron's Political Career Said Finished

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Juan D. Peron is through with politics and glad of it — at least that's the reaction of the former Argentine dictator as reported by those who should be in a position to know it.

In the wake of his unsuccessful effort to return to Argentina, the Spanish government has told Peron he must avoid politics if he is to continue in exile in Spain.

One Peronist source here said Peron's letter accepting Spain's conditions marked the end of the ex-president's political career.

"There is no other future for him than to continue to live in Spain," this source said. "His prestige has definitely come to an end and Peronists will soon have to seek a new leader among those in our country."

FRUSTRATED ATTEMPT

When Peron made his frustrated attempt to return to Argentina some Peronists commented:

"He was forced to do so by members of the national committee for his return, despite his objections that the situation was not ripe."

They added — when he was sent back to Spain from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil:

"Now he will definitely be able to live quietly in Spain, far from any sort of pressure and from the many, and big, problems he would certainly have had to face had he arrived in Buenos Aires."

SPANISH CONDITIONS

Some sources said Peron has accepted Spanish conditions "only until the situation permits him to plan his definite return."

Others in a position to know intimated Peron agreed to the conditions "joyfully and forever, because that was what he was seeking."

Peron at 69 is far from being the strong man he was 10 years ago. He had a prostate operation last March. His wife, Isabel Martinez, appears to be happy with the life they lead in Spain, one associate says.

A Latin-American diplomat observed: "His disappearance can do Peronism and its political goals in Argentina a lot of good. Peron was obviously a handicap to these goals."

Wife-Talk Can Be Powerful, Expensive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a widespread belief that the most important language in the world today is English.

A strong case can be made for this viewpoint, as more countries discover the general utility and adaptability of the English vocabulary.

However, there is in existence a language that is even more powerful and expensive. It is wife-talk.

To become a real scholar of this widespread form of communication, it is practically necessary for the student to be two things: male and married.

THROWN RICE
Taking her new husband firmly by the arm, she murmurs, "My, isn't it fun standing here up to our armpits in thrown rice?"

What she actually means, as any veteran husband would know, is "Let's get going, stupid. It's time to start our honeymoon."

That is the first thing a man has to learn about wife-talk. It never means what it says. It has to be translated.

Wife-talk is made up of hint and innuendo, gesture as well as spoken word.

An uplifted eyebrow may carry the impact of 500 words, sometimes even 1,000 words. A shrug may have more meaning than 10,000 words.

Another thing a husband needs to learn in dealing with his bride is never to take her oral expressions literally. Mystery between him and her begins at the altar and never ends. The rest of his life he will spend desperately trying to find out what the devil she is really trying to express.

The recent bridegroom naturally thinks she is interested in his welfare and pleasantly replies, "Yes, sweetie-pie, thanks. I think I will."

INDIRECT DISCOURSE
What he doesn't realize is that wife-talk is always couched in the form of indirect discourse and that what his bride actually meant was, "I'm starved, stupid — pass me the meat."

It can be taken as a rule of thumb in wife-talk that any sentence used by a wife in addressing her husband carries the implied term "stupid," although only an insensitive woman actually uses this word out loud to her spouse. She doesn't have to. Her tone should be able to do that.

At a cocktail party she says to a blonde the men are clustering around. "Isn't her hair lovely?" What she actually means is, "Stay away from that dyed hussy, Buster."

In a restaurant she says, "This is a cozy table — it's so much fun to hear the chatter from the kitchen." What she means is, "Well, stupid, why weren't you man enough to get us a table by the window?"

She says wistfully on a rainy day, "If anything should ever happen to me, dearest, I want you to marry again and be happy. — What she means is, "If you're stupid, I'll haunt you forever."

Barry to Take Fresh Look at Burch Controversy at Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater takes a fresh look today at the controversy over Republican National Chairman Dean Burch at a high-level GOP strategy conference.

Invited to sit in with the defeated presidential candidate were his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, Burch and the chairman of the party's two congressional campaign committees, Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky and Rep. Bob Wilson of California.

Morton said Sunday night he did not expect to attend. "I just had a tooth pulled and a couple of minor things happened," he said in Louisville, adding he had another dentist appointment scheduled today.

There were signs Goldwater hoped to enlist support from Morton and Wilson in an active effort to save Burch's job. Moderate and progressive Republicans are trying to get rid of Burch in the wake of last

Ford Confident of GOP Victory

Maps Plans to Win Halleck's House Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford worked against a 14-day deadline today to build his "new spirit" campaign for the house Republican leadership into victory over Rep. Charles A. Halleck.

The Michigan Republican, who plunged into the battle Saturday, appeared confident that he could defeat the veteran Indiana GOP leader at the showdown Jan. 4.

Ford predicted that when the 140 Republicans who will serve in the 89th Congress assess the candidates, they will choose him.

Halleck, who has been vacationing in Florida, headed back for Washington to start organizing his campaign for reelection. His office said Halleck had no immediate comment on the Ford candidacy.

Ford's campaign organization, headed by Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., worked through the weekend to line up votes for the 51-year-old challenger.

FORD'S AIM

The aim is to build a "substantial" margin of victory, Ford said. He indicated he did not want to go through the kind of fight that Halleck had when he beat Rep. Joseph W. Martin, R-Mass., for the leadership by four votes just six years ago.

Ford declined to "play the numbers game" when asked how many votes he had in the bag. To assure election, he would need 71 votes, although the caucus rules require only a majority of members present.

The campaign against Halleck opened on a high level, with Ford refusing to indulge in any criticism of the 64-year-old Hoosier who often is called the toughest "gut-fighter" in national politics.

Halleck has been accused of being too wedded to dogmatic opposition for its own sake and of refusing to consider new ideas to improve the Republican position. Ford made indirect reference to these criticisms by saying "We must begin a new chapter with new ideas, new spirit and new leadership."

Georgia's Own Santa Claus Is Moving Ahead

SANTA CLAUS, Ga. (AP) — Santa Claus is on the move this Christmas season.

"We're doing rather well in Santa Claus, we feel," Mayor Bill Salem said today. "We have our first street being paved — Reindeer Street."

The mayor said the population of the city has increased from 5 in 1960 to 28 at present. "We've issued permits for three or four new homes and are looking forward to an additional 12 to 16 soon," he said.

During the Christmas season, Salem said, letters from all over the world arrive to be postmarked.

EXPECT SHOWDOWN

A showdown is expected when the GOP National Committee meets Jan. 22-23 in Chicago.

Miller, who preceded Burch as national chairman, has been canvassing committee members in the latter's behalf. There was evidence the anti-Burch drive has made greater headway than expected.

Friends said that Morton and Wilson, who have publicly opposed Burch's replacement, are wary of involving themselves actively in the chairmanship battle.

Morton particularly was reported convinced that the opposition to Burch is so strong that it is only a matter of time until the chairman will have to step down, even if he wins a confidence vote at the Chicago meeting.

But Goldwater was depicted as having rejected all proposals for a compromise in a fight he has said is directed at him, rather than at Burch.

Wilson may calculate he has some more important work on his hands in the House revolt against the minority leadership of Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. The campaign committee chairman has put himself on record in support of Halleck.

Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., announced Saturday he will oppose Halleck for the leadership post at a Jan. 4 caucus of the 140 House Republicans.

The principal claim Ford, 51, advanced for changing leadership horses was that he was a "new era" candidate who would present a younger image of the party than Halleck, 64.

Ford took pains to disassociate his candidacy with the effort to oust Burch. But his critics noted that he has worked closely with Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has taken a leading role in the "Burch must go" chorus.

U.S. Financing Affected

Pound is Still Ailing

DAWSON

NEW YORK—The international financial doctors have taken the British pound sterling off the critical list but not off the ailing list.

And its continuing basic weakness still affects America's own financial status and planning.

In world trade, interest rates, balance of payments, the world price of gold, even the worries besetting the stock market.

methods which Britain is taking to try to cure the real ailment—its balance of payments deficit.

The latest move—postponement of the repayment of $13.1 million in interest and principal due the United States—has been a move on postwar loans—cuts the British deficit by that much.

It also increases America's own balance of payments deficit.

Estimates of this year's U.S. deficit, a bit in excess of $2 billion, were based on expectations of British payment, along with many other items. Postponement of payment will raise the U.S. deficit by $138 million. This may seem a small amount, but the deficit is the sum of many small amounts.

The United States has been affected directly by other measures the British government has taken in the last two months to fight off the financial peril.

First it slapped a 15 per cent surcharge on most of its imports. Americans may see some of their British market shrink.

Then the Bank of England boosted its lending charge to 7 per cent from 5 per cent. The U.S. comparable charge, the Federal Reserve discount rate, is 4 per cent.

Most financial authorities express confidence that Britain will work out of this crisis as it has out of previous ones since World War II. It's how she does it, and how long it takes that Americans are watching.

Close ties of the dollar and the pound as the world's standards of foreign exchange keep Britain's troubles close to American financial markets. And some of the uncertainty that still plagues is credited with causing at least part of the weakness that has plagued the American stock markets through most of December.

Has Jury Date

Will Joe Bananas Show?

NEW YORK (AP)—Missing Cosa Nostra kingpin Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno failed to show up for attorney's Manhattan office today as newsmen had been led to expect.

NEW YORK (AP)—Cosa Nostra chieftain Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno disappeared two months ago just hours before he was to testify before a federal racketeering grand jury. Has a date today with the jury.

The question is, will he keep it? And if he does, will he talk?

His attorney, William P. Maloney, who says he was present when two gunmen abducted Bonanno on Park Avenue Oct. 21, says his client will be on hand but "he will not talk."

Some Consumers Power Co. electric customers in Pontiac will receive electric service at slightly lower rates in 1965, due to a recent action of the Michigan Public Service Commission, according to Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager for Consumers.

Brown said the commission approved a request from the Detroit Edison Co., which supplies Consumers Power whole-sale electricity for distribution to the city.

These rate adjustments will automatically apply to the Consumers Power customers in the city because of an agreement with the city under which Consumers supplies electricity at rates the same as Detroit Edison's.

Maloney said Bonanno's kidnapping took place shortly after midnight of the day the Sicilian-born mobster was to appear before the grand jury. One gunman fired a warning shot at him, "Maloney said, before hustling Bonanno into a car."

After his disappearance, some officials believed Bonanno had been eliminated in a power struggle with other mobsters; others called it a hoax.

Maloney termed it "a legitimate kidnapping," and denied he was party to a hoax.

"I don't need exoneration," Maloney said. "I don't need Joe Bonanno to take me off the hook. I told the story of the kidnapping before the grand jury to the grand jury. I've been before them four or five times."

Maloney said he could give no reason for Bonanno's planned emergence or why he was held captive.

"Bonanno had been identified in U.S. Senate testimony as one of the top mobsters in the country," Maloney said.

Called "Planning for Profits Through Your Truck Trading Operation," the illustrated manual explores proved and sound use of truck merchandising fundamentals and develops a plan for profitable use of trucks.

It is based upon the concept that the most truck business is a part and parcel of the truck business— that a new truck transaction is not complete until the used unit is converted to cash.

Available only to GMC dealer with a valid outline five key areas deemed important to the successful operation of a truck department and then details specific steps to accomplish these ends.

TFX Fighter Will Fly Soon

Controversial Craft to Get Test Flight

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The controversial TFX fighter plane, which inspired some heated flights of political oratory, will make its own first flight some time this week—perhaps today.

Now dubbed the F111, the TFX made two high-speed taxi runs yesterday, as a warm-up for its maiden flight.

The General Dynamics Corp., which built it, said the sleek two-man jet fighter, bomber would take off for the first time "this week—probably in a day or so."

R. L. Johnson, General Dynamics test pilot, was scheduled to pilot the F111, with another veteran General Dynamics test pilot, Val Prah, in the co-pilot's seat.

Both are from Fort Worth. The takeoff was to be from the Carswell Air Force Base runways, located between the air base itself and the General Dynamics plant.

TFX BATTLES

The battle over the TFX centered on the fact that General Dynamics got the contract from the Defense Department to build it. Several congressmen said the contract should have gone to the Boeing Corp. of Seattle.

They charged that Boeing submitted a lower bid and General Dynamics got the contract because it was politically expedient.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, repeated the charges during the presidential campaign, picking a speaking appearance in Fort Worth to do it.

A Senate subcommittee investigated the contract for more than a year in other bitter hearings.

DEFENSE CHOICE

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara defended the choice of General Dynamics.

He said the General Dynamics version of the plane would save money in repair and maintenance costs.

When the first plane was rolled out of the factory in October, McNamara was on hand to praise it as the best tactical airplane ever built, "with the range of transport, the carrying capacity and endurance of a bomber and the agility of a fighter plane."

It was McNamara who fought hard for the basic principle behind the F111—a single plane that could be used by both the Air Force and the Navy, thus saving the expense of contracting for, building, maintaining, and training pilots for several different kinds of planes.

Man Has Many Uses for Wax

WASHINGTON—Modern butchers and bakers are indebted to a clever old candlestick-maker.

This craftsman, whose name is lost, worked in a New York City candleworks in the 1890s. On the way home from work, he frequently stopped at a market and bought fresh fish. It was wrapped in ordinary paper.

Long before the candlestick-maker reached his suburban home, the package would be soggy and odorous—and offensive to his fellow trolley passengers. They complained, often bitterly.

One day, the public-spirited candlestick-maker took paper to work and dipped it into molten wax. That night he wrapped his founder in the treated paper. No leaks, no odors, no complaints. Waxed paper was born.

Today about 80 per cent of the 1.4 billion pounds of wax produced annually in the United States goes into packaging, the National Geographic Society says.

Mart Week Has Good Start

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovery continued early today in active trading.

A moderate advance included most major sections of the list. Most gains were small.

Motors, rails, steels, rubbers, chemicals, electrical equipments, aerospace issues, building materials, airlines, oils and farm implements were among the gainers.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler made fractional gains.

Caterpillar, Du Pont and Metcalden-Mayer made gains of nearly a point.

Opening blocks included: Chrysler, up 1/4 at 62 1/2 on 15,000 shares; Benguet, off 1/4 at 14 1/2 on 3,000.

Prices rose on the American Stock Exchange.

Snow Blankets Madrid

MADRID, Spain (AP)—This capital and central Spain awake today to the promise of a white Christmas—more than six inches if snow from the season's first snow storm.
