Sonja Henie Dies of Leukemia

SONJA HENIE

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Sonja Henie, who put ice skating into show business and made millions, will be buried in her native Norway.

Miss Henie died last night aboard an ambulance plane bringing her home from a vacation in France with her third husband, shipping magnate Niels Onstad. She was 57 and had been suffering from leukemia for nine months, but the public and many friends did not know.

The condition of the three-time Olympic gold medalist suddenly worsened in Paris, and a doctor advised Onstad to take her home.

RETIRED IN MID-'50s

Miss Henie kept up her skating—and her 110-pound, 5-foot-2 figure—after she stopped performing in the mid-1950s, but after her marriage to Onstad in 1956 she devoted increasing time to the collection of modern art he had started.

In 1958, the Onstads gave Norway 250 of their paintings, housing them in the $3.5 million Høevikodden Art Center they built outside Oslo.

An American citizen since 1941, Miss Henie kept a mansion in Holmby Hills in Los Angeles and she and Onstad maintained an estate near Oslo and an apartment in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Her success story began with a family Christmas gift of skates in 1920, when she was a chubby 8-year-old.

She won her first world figure skating championship in 1927, her first Olympics gold medal in 1928, again in 1932 and 1936; the European championship every year from 1929 through 1936.

She turned professional in 1936, touring the United States in an ice show. Her skill and showmanship, her smile and brilliant technique, and her lavish productions of dance on ice captivated the public.

When her show reached Hollywood, the story goes, her manager breathlessly reported that producer Darryl Zanuck was at the arena.

"What shall I do?" he asked.

"Sell him a ticket," Miss Henie answered.

SHE HELD OUT

Zanuck offered her $10,000 a picture, but she held out for $100,000. Negotiations stalled briefly, then Zanuck's aide let her know that the producer wanted to see her.

"Then let Mr. Zanuck call me," she replied.

They finally got together, and her films reportedly grossed $25 million.

Miss Henie's first husband was millionaire sportsman Dan Topping, whom she divorced in 1946 after a 5½-year marriage. She married Winthrop Gardner Jr., son of an old New York family, in 1949. They were divorced in May 1956, and she married Onstad the next month.

Platform Start Hinted

7 Soviets in Orbit

MOSCOW (AP)—Two veteran Soviet cosmonauts blasted into space today to chase five orbiting comrades in what may be the most complex earth-orbit mission yet.

Tass news agency said all seven cosmonauts held fine and that equipment aboard the three Soyuz (Union) spacecraft is working normally.

Soyuz 7 and Soyuz 8 were expected to dock soon while Soyuz 6 maneuvers around them. The mission apparently is a step toward construction of an orbital space station.

Cosmonauts Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev, veteran of a Soviet manned space shot, nine months ago, rode Soyuz 8 from the central Asian Baikonur launch pad into orbit today.

PLATFORM MISSION

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, known for its reliable informants in Moscow, reported the cosmonauts will construct a platform that will be used as an orbiting laboratory and possible launch pad for deep space probes.

Tanjug said informants hinted some of the spacemen would be brought down while the rest would stay for a time to carry out more construction and experiments.

Allot, waiting for them, were Georgy Shonin and Valery Kubasov in Soyuz 6, launched Saturday; and Anatoly Filipchenko, Vladislav Volkov and Viktor Gorbatko, put into orbit yesterday.

Official announcements indicated today's launching was the last planned in this experiment. How much equipment will be left in space remains a mystery.

Each Soyuz spacecraft is believed capable of carrying four men, allowing for the possibility one ship could be left in orbit while four men return in one craft and three in the other.

The Soviet Union's last major first in manned space flight was Alexei Leonov's space walk in March 1965. The United States does not plan to put up an orbiting platform until mid-1972.

CO Cases Taken by High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The newly convened Supreme Court announced today it will rule this term on two major cases involving the Selective Service rights of conscientious objectors to the Vietnam war.

The eight justices also agreed to decide whether states may impose a ceiling on welfare payments to needy families.

The court indicated some of the fields it would rule on by a series of brief orders accepting and rejecting appeals for hearings of lower court decisions.

Among those accepted was the government's appeal of a ruling by U.S. District Judge Charles E. Wyzanski in Boston that a conscientious objector to the Vietnam war cannot be drafted for service there.

DRAFT CASES

Wyzanski's decision overruled the jury conviction of John H. Sisson Jr., a Harvard graduate, for refusing to be inducted solely because of his conscientious opposition to the Vietnam war.

The court also accepted for a hearing the claim of a Los Angeles draftee, Elliott Ashton Welsh II, who refused to report for induction on grounds of conscientious objection even though he is not religious in the generally accepted sense of the word.

Arguments before the court will be scheduled this fall or winter and decisions will be handed down later.

In the welfare case, the justices agreed to rule on a Maryland law which imposed a $250-a-month maximum on grants to families with dependent children.

Service to Open War Protest Here

A midnight mourners' service tomorrow in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church will initiate a daylong observance set by Pontiac area residents participating in Wednesday's national Vietnam moratorium activities.

Called the Ecumenical service for Peace in Vietnam, it is being supported by the Pontiac Area Pastors' Association.

According to Father Charles Rooney of St. Michael's Catholic Church, who is organizing the Pontiac Coalition to End the War, the service will include scripture readings and folk singing.

Wednesday's main demonstration in the city is planned for 4:50 p.m. at the north side parking lot of St. Vincent's, 150 E. Wide Track.

FORMING FOR THE FRAY — Club-carrying military police at Ft. Dix, N.J., leap a ditch, headed for a skirmish line to confront some 5,000 protesters who marched onto the post yesterday. The troops are wearing gas masks, steel helmets and flak vests. The protesters were under the banner of the "Committee to Save the Ft. Nixon Won't Bow to Viet Foes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon, refusing to bow to the planned Oct. 15 Vietnam moratorium demonstration, said today that "to allow government policy to be made in the streets would destroy the democratic process" and invite anarchy.

He said he cannot abandon his present policies in Vietnam "merely because of a public demonstration."

Nixon said the administration is already well aware that many Americans are deeply concerned about the war, that some consider U.S. participation immoral, that many want U.S. troops withdrawn immediately and unconditionally.

"Therefore, there is nothing new we can learn from the demonstrations," he added.

'DISSENT TO BLAME'

Earlier, Secretary of State William P. Rogers raised the possibility that dissenting Americans may have shattered the chances of a quick negotiated peace.

However, there were challenges to Rogers' position.

"For years we've heard the repetition of this same old fallow argument," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho said yesterday.

But, if there had been no dissent, Church said, "I don't think that the policy of accelerating the war would ever have been reversed."

And Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., said, "the purpose of our dissent is not to destroy a president. The purpose of

Kennedy to Offer Peace Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said today the present direction of Nixon administration policy will not achieve peace in Vietnam.

Kennedy told reporters he will offer his own ideas on how peace can be achieved in a speech he plans in Boston Wednesday, the day of the Vietnam moratorium.

The speech will be to the World Affairs

our dissent two or three years ago was not to destroy President Johnson; it was to destroy a fallacious policy that was causing the country great division, that was destroying the faith of our young people in this whole system and which was killing our young people off at very high rates, which was diverting our resources at $30 billion a year from the tremendous needs of our people."

Traffic Mishaps Kill 2 Area Men

An 80-year-old Waterford Township man and a Lapeer resident died in separate traffic mishaps Saturday night, police report.

Waterford Township police said a pedestrian, Anthony J. Barnowski, 45, died when he was struck by a vehicle on Elizabeth Lake Road at Norway about 10:58 p.m.

A witness told police the man was walking on the road against traffic as he was struck by a vehicle driven by Roger S. Sheffrey, 20, of Ann Arbor.

Sheffrey is not being charged by police for any traffic offenses, according to a police spokesman. Sheffrey told police his car rounded a curve at about 40 miles per hour when he saw the man in the middle of his lane. He said he hit the brakes but could not stop in time.

Police said his car skidded 98 feet and threw the victim 170 feet from the point of impact. Barnowski was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Davidson Township police in Genesee County reported that Verne Elson, 49, of 2090 Miles died in a two-car crash on M21 at Belle Mead Drive. No other details were available.

Prayer for those in Vietnam and a memorial for those Avon Township young men who have died there, as well as expressions of concern about America's involvement in Vietnam, will be included.

GOP Governors Spurning President's Economy Plea

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's plea to the states to trim spending to combat inflation is running into trouble at the statehouse level, and to the administration's embarrassment, some of it is coming from Republicans.

Last week, Govs. Harold LeVander of Minnesota and Tom McCall of Oregon, both Republicans, announced they were rejecting Nixon's request.

LeVander said he would not curtail highway spending and added there appeared little to be done in reducing other types of public construction in his state.

McCall said Oregon will make no cuts until the federal government begins its own.

On the Democratic side, Connecticut Gov. John N. Dempsey said he is "not going to take it sitting down," and Virginia's Mills E. Godwin Jr., declared, "there will be no cutbacks on highway funds."

'NOT NECESSARILY EFFICIENT'

Nebraska's Republican Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann said state level cutbacks are "not necessarily the most efficient way to fight inflation."

Alaska "absolutely will not cut back" on its spending for highways and airports, said Republican Gov. Keith Miller. The state simply has too much catching up to do, he said.

The governors' also said cutbacks would do no good unless all the states join in.

"If no other state did it, and Nebraska cut back everything, it would have no impact whatsoever," Tiemann said.

Florida's Republican Gov. Claude Kirk, who cut federally funded construction 75 per cent, hinted he may

Sewer-Project Company Sued

By JEAN SAILE

The Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor, under construction in this area, has run into trouble again.

A claim for damages — "substantially in excess of $50,000" — has been filed against Greenfield Construction Co. of Bloomfield Township, one of the contractors for the county's giant interceptor.

The suit, due for a hearing next Monday in Circuit Judge William J. Beasley's court, has been filed by Lakewood Realty Co. of Pontiac, according to its attorney, Irving Kenee.

The suit seeks payment for the repair of damages occurring to a 4-year-old building at 377 Elizabeth Lake, near M59.

'FLOOR IS SAGGING'

The building housing Oakland Child Guidance Clinics Inc., Vocational Rehabilitation of Michigan, and a Martinizing cleaning plant. All the tenants had to find temporary quarters as early as last August, Kenee said.

The suit charges that construction of the sewer has succeeded in lowering the water table causing the floor of the building to sag as much as 25 inches. The pumping operation used to dry the sewer installation site is blamed, even as it has been blamed for drying up shallow wells farther north in Waterford and Independence townships.

Nixon Hits Partisanship

Congress Is Wooed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked the Democratic-controlled Congress to put aside partisanship and produce a legislative record which would make the administration and lawmakers proud.

In a message aimed at quieting the combat that has been growing between Republicans and Democrats over the pace of legislation, Nixon promised to meet Congress "more than half-way" to accomplish what needs to be done.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield praised Nixon's statement as "temperate, restrained, understanding, in good taste and good form."

But House Majority Leader Carl Albert spiced his comment with some peppy phrases accusing the administration of being slow to get its legislative program before Congress and of having divided views on many important issues.

A DAY EARLY

The message was set for formal reading to Congress today but was released to the nation yesterday.

In it, Nixon stressed the idea of a working partnership between his administration and Congress to enact a program that will launch a new era of government reform.

"Let us resolve," he said, "to make the legislative issue of the 1970 campaign the question of who deserves the greater credit for the 81st Congress's record of accomplishment, not which of us should be held accountable because it did nothing."

Nixon acknowledged that partisans in both parties have been trying to blame each other for what the Republicans, at least, regard as the meager achievements of Congress to date.

'BOTH GUILTY'

"There may be merit in both charges," Nixon said. "Neither the Democratic Congress or the Republican administration is without fault for the delay of vital legislation."

This was not the kind of message the Democrats had expected, and some sharply worded replies that had been prepared had to be softened.

But the House feels it has a far more impressive record so far than the Senate, and Albert declined to drop all the counter-charges he had readied.

coordinating the Birmingham demonstration, indications point to a turnout of somewhere between 2,000 and 5,000 persons.

URGE IMMEDIATE PULLOUT

Demonstrators are calling for an immediate withdrawal of all troops and not token withdrawal procedures as the present administration is practicing, Hoppin said.

Participants in the march are asked to assemble at Harmony Park near the Oak and Woodward intersection at 3:30 p.m.

TO SPEAK AT RALLY

Stanley Stefancic, assistant pastor at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, will speak at a rally in Shain Park.

The 18th Congressional District New Democratic Coalition is organizing the demonstration.

Two Lapeer housewives are organizing a memorial service which will begin at noon in front of the Lapeer County Courthouse on Nepeessing.

From there participants will walk down Nepeessing to Monroe, the site of the Lapeer War Memorial, where the program will conclude with a prayer to those who have died in Vietnam.

British Troops Fight Off North Irish Protestants

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops fought 1,900 rioting Protestants in an exchange of tear gas and sporadic shooting in Belfast early today.

All the shooting came from the rioters. One soldier was slightly wounded, adding to a weekend casualty list of at least three dead and scores injured.

The Protestants threw a triple barricade across Shankill Road and for more than four hours faced the strongest force assembled since the British Army began policing Northern Ireland during the Catholic-Protestant warfare in August.

Armored cars spearheaded the force of several hundred troops with automatic and semiautomatic weapons. But the army used only tear gas on the crowd, which was protesting the shakeup over the weekend of the police force and the appointment of a Briton, Sir Arthur Young, as police chief.

MOB STORMS APARTMENTS

A Protestant mob raged down Shankill Road Saturday night toward a Catholic apartment block. British soldiers opened fire after they were the target of snipers and bomb throwers.

The government said three persons were killed, including one policeman. But some soldiers said seven persons were killed.

Most of the shooting at the army was the work of a single sniper.

"He shoots to kill and he does not miss," said one soldier.

WORST SINCE AUGUST

The weekend rioting was the worst since last Aug. 15-16, when eight persons were killed. But this time no Catholics were involved.

In a television broadcast, Prime Minister James Chichester Clark said the Protestant community feared the reorganization of the police force would weaken the defense of Northern Ireland. "Nothing is further from the truth," he said.

Looking tired and worried, Chichester Clark said it was an absolute tragedy that some of the people had gotten involved in shooting incidents with British troops.

"Let us not forget that they are our troops," he said. "Let us at all times remember that. They are here to help us."

Early this morning, after 48 hours of continual duty, the soldiers on Shankill Road were bedded down in damp, windswept streets with only a sleeping bag between them and the sidewalk or the concrete floors of makeshift billets. Many of them are griping about their routine—nine days of duty followed by three days in the barracks with no leisure time.

Lt. Harry Wormnest of the Waterford Township Fire Department, stationed not far from the sinking building, reported the whole area is nothing but swamp and that even the fire station has been settling ever since its construction in 1951.

'NO SIGNIFICANT CHANGE'

He said he had noticed no significant change lately, however.

Warren Solgot, now owner of a Standard Gas Station, 3419 Elizabeth Lake, near the Lakewood building, fears he could soon be out of business.

Within the last week, Solgot said, the pavement in front of his station has sagged as much as eight inches and underground tanks are now easily identifiable by the hump they make in the pavement.

Solgot said he has been told that, while remote, there is nevertheless a chance that a spark from a contractor's torch might travel along a water line the 200 or so feet from the construction site to the gas station.

MAY PRODUCE LEAKS?

Solgot is afraid shifting ground may produce leaks in his storage tanks, and that an explosion may result.

The fact that pumping operations began directly in front of the station Friday have added to Solgot's fears. Damage prior to that time had been caused by a pumping operation about 100 feet to the west, he said.

People's Food Market, located at 3415 Elizabeth Lake, reported a newly cracked floor, but so far no sinking ground.

R. J. Alexander, director of the County Department of Public Works which has contracted for the sewer, maintains any construction damage is solely the contractor's responsibility and that the contractor must carry insurance to meet any such responsibility.

State Time Issue Springs Up Again

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's annual time problem appears to be winding up again.

Last November, voters turned down a referendum which would have put the state on Daylight Savings Time along with the rest of the nation. A recount dug up widespread inaccuracies in the voting tally but did not change the results.

So in April, when New York and the rest of the Eastern Standard Zone moved their clocks ahead an hour, Michigan time remained the same, falling in line with the new times of Chicago and the Central Standard Zone.

Yesterday one Michigan lawmaker brought up the whole issue again.

"I have introduced a constitutional amendment to the Legislature which, if it passes by a two-thirds vote, would be put on the ballot in November 1970, to let the voters decide again to put Michigan in step with the rest of the country," said Sen. Raymond Dendzel of Detroit.

PETITION DRIVE
If the Legislature refuses to approve his amendment, the Detroit Democrat said his next move would be to gather 300,000 signatures in a petition drive for a time referendum.

Dendzel indicated he expected support from businessmen and suburban communities who value the extra hour of evening daylight.

He would have until the end of December for his referendum effort, since the petitions have to be presented to the Legislature 10 days before the start of the 1970 session.

Milliken to Get Stadium Pitch

Gov. William Milliken is expected to attend a meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Detroit to hear Pontiac's side of the professional sports stadium controversy. State Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, called the meeting. Also expected to attend are Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Harold Cousins, chairman of the Pontiac Stadium Authority. The meeting is set in the State Urban Affairs office.

Law said he intends to oppose the proposal to locate a new stadium for the Lions and Tigers sports teams on the Detroit riverfront west of Cobo Hall.

This proposal was called feasible by a study paid for by the Detroit Board of Commerce. Law said it is not feasible because of the expense involved. He said it would cost millions to relieve the crowded expressways in Detroit.

The Pontiac site is more relevant to population centers in the state, and its location would not create the massive traffic and parking problems that it would in downtown Detroit, Law said.

Teachers Put New Team in Pact Talks

BIRMINGHAM — The new Birmingham Education Association (BEA) negotiating team met twice last week with the board of education, the first sessions in more than two weeks.

At the first session Wednesday, the BEA submitted a preliminary list of teacher demands. Friday's meeting established ground rules for negotiation procedure.

The BEA team met all day Saturday and yesterday working on specific contract language and incorporating teacher demands into contract language and a formal package, for presentation at the next negotiating session.

The Birmingham Fire Department reported its monthly activity recently, revealing a $550,100 total in property endangerment and a $19,000 toll in building and contents loss during September's 34 fire runs.

The executive board of the 18th District Democratic Committee has endorsed the Vietnam Moratorium march and rally to be held in Birmingham Wednesday at 4 p.m.

"We urge all who are able to take part in the Birmingham march. It is vital that President Nixon be made fully aware of the growing public disenchantment with government policies in Vietnam," said Allen Zemmolo, Democratic district chairman.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Miss Lola Bellet Holmes, former FBI undercover agent, will speak on "The Revolution Is Planned!" at Bloomfield Center Hall, 1565 Woodward, Oct. 23 at 8 p.m.

Nimrods Too Inconsiderate

Farmers Hunting Privacy

LANSING (AP)—Hardware stores expect to do a brisk business in the next few weeks when landowners come in to purchase "No Trespassing" and "No Hunting" signs.
The ever-increasing horde of inconsiderate hunters who cut fences, leave gates open and permit livestock to escape, and shoot the weather-vane of the barn and fire on farm animals in the pasture insures that more and more farmers will turn thumbs down on hunters seeking land on which to hunt.

Some hunters, of course, don't bother to ask permission and the landowner, peacefully going about his chores, suddenly discovers that his one-placed property has been turned into a Vietnam-style free fire zone.

All of these unscrupulous activities — condemned by the true sportsman as well as the farmer — are common across the state each autumn.

INCREASINGLY DIFFICULT

Each year, farmers find it more and more difficult to protect their land from the ravages of inconsiderate hunters. The problem is illustrated in a situation involving a farmer known to this writer. The farmer had a pond which literally teemed with waterfowl.

One reason for the great number of ducks on the pond was that the farmer patrolled his farm zealously during the season and turned trespassers over to the authorities. The farmer was not always anti-hunter. In fact, some years before he had welcomed hunters. But then one zeroed in on his horse, and the property was placed off limits.

HUNTERS NOT SWAYED

That simple maneuver, however, did not deter hunters. They soon learned the farmer's habits and sneaked in to shoot a few ducks when he wasn't looking. It even got to the point where they would enter his woods to poach mushrooms while he attended church on Sunday morning.

It shows to what lengths some hunters will go in order to hunt. And it is this type of thinking that forces more and more farmers each year to deny permission to every person seeking permission to hunt.

Every fall, farmers buy more and more "No Hunting" and "No Trespassing" signs.

Some signs are put up for the first time, but many are purchased to replace the signs that were used for target practice the year before by hunters.

Czech Student in Troy

She's Learned 'Politics'

By TIM MCNULTY

TROY — A sweet 16 can learn a lot about politics — especially after the Russians "liberate" her homeland.

Lenka Valkova, a foreign-exchange student from Czechoslovakia studying at Troy High School, is beginning to understand the hard realities of Communist and Capitalist thought.

Lenka was at her home in Prague when the Russians invaded in August 1968. She and her family were in their apartment, next to a radio station which the captors took by tank.

"I was all packed for a holiday when my mother woke me and said, 'The Russians are here.' I thought she was kidding," said Lenka. When bullets smashed their windows, Lenka knew her mother was serious.

THEY 'SAVED' US

Lenka spoke of the invasion as something very far away, yet very close: "The Russian soldiers really didn't know anything about us or how we feel," she explained. "They really thought they came and saved us."
"Everybody thinks we escaped, but we didn't," said Lenka. "Next year I hope to go back to Czechoslovakia. I'll be a sophomore in high school there."

Taking senior high classes at Troy, Lenka is staying with Mr. and Mrs. John Vagnetti, 431 Kirkline, for her year in the United States. Her trip was sponsored by the Youth for Understanding teen-age exchange program.

The young lady knows what freedom means under three different systems. "Before the Russians came, it was really nice," explained Lenka. "It was shown in that period that not all we did since the beginning of communism was perfect. We used to have discussions on political thought on TV and radio. Now there is nothing."

WHAT IS TRUE?

Truth isn't always expressed in the same way, and Lenka has heard many sides on the Vietnam war. "Before I came here I didn't know anything except our point of view. Now I really don't know what is true. I'm a little mixed-up," she said. "Our press says the Americans invaded Vietnam, and my opinion is also that you invaded."
It's confusing for a young girl, untempered by the pragmatism in politics to see how two governments can say the same thing and mean something directly opposite.

"In my country the term 'free people' means Communists," Lenka said. "In our political system there are rich people and there are poor people, but in our country all are equal." As examples of our system, she cites a rich factory-owner's son who inherits the business without doing any work and the poor man who must work all his life.

Lenka was surprised to learn Americans put communism "on the same level as fascism, but we have learned fascism is much worse than capitalism. You speak about democracy and freedom — so do we, but in opposite situations."

MINIS, BELL-BOTTOMS

Lenka spoke of American culture: "We have miniskirts and bell-bottoms just like you, though maybe your fashions are a little more advanced, she said. "But one thing I don't understand is how you want to be original. Even if it isn't nice, you want to be original. That isn't our way."

Lenka first heard of the Russian order prohibiting travel to the West Friday.

"I hope... I'm sure it will only be for a short time," she said. "Before they came, I didn't think there was a difference between Russian and Czech communism," said Lenka. Now she knows.

Residents Concerned

Wixom Voter League Formed

WIXOM — Concern about alleged frequent secret sessions of the City Council and rumors that outsiders are being named to the police department have prompted several residents to form a League of Wixom Voters.

The concerns are expressed by temporary president Arthur Cronin, 1545 Nightingale, elected at a recent meeting when the group officially formed.

An organizational meeting has been called for 4 p.m. next Sunday at the VFW Post 3862 on Loon Lake Road.

Residents are encouraged to attend the meeting, at which a board of directors, including a representative from each city charter, evaluating candidates' qualifications and investigating rumors, according to Cronin.

The organization will push for citizen involvement in the betterment of Wixom, including reviewing and updating the city charter, evaluating candidates' qualifications and investigating rumors, according to Cronin.

Water in Emergency Line Still Fouled, Tests Show

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Laboratory tests of water from the temporary emergency water line in the Woodhull Lake area indicated contamination again last week.

Tests taken by the Oakland County Department of Health repeatedly have showed contaminants in the more than two weeks of testing.

Township Clerk Howard Altman indicated yesterday that the township has nearly run its limit on expenditures during the water dilemma. "I am going to write a letter to residents in the affected area and have them come in and talk this thing over. We are not definitely sure where we can go from here," Altman said.

WELLS WENT DRY

The township's water problems started in early September when wells at numerous homes on Crestview, Clinton and Pinedale, on the north side of Woodhull Lake went dry due to nearby excavation for an interceptor sewer project.

Altman estimated the township has expended an estimated $10,000 during the water crisis.

He said he plans to ask the Oakland County Department of Public Works (DPW) to pick up at least part of the tab.

The County DPW has assumed some of the costs for similar water problems in Waterford Township. A tank truck furnished by the County DPW has been supplying Independence residents.

TAP-INS REPORTED

Reports persist that several residents have been tapping onto the temporary line containing the contaminated water.

Altman said all residents have been warned that the water is not for public consumption until the county health department approves the water in the laboratory tests.

He said he knows of one or two instances where families used the water, but does not believe the use is widespread.

Altman said water samples probably will be taken again today in an attempt to get a regular water supply to the affected residences.

Lenka Expresses Ideas On Communism

Are you willing to let the United Fund fail in Pontiac?

God help you if one of your kids is born crippled here. Or becomes mentally ill here.

God help you if you go blind here.

Because the people you could turn to for help—Pontiac's United Fund organizations—are rapidly going out of business.

And it's because we good citizens of Pontiac don't even come close to giving them enough money to keep going. We haven't for the past two years.

And the true tragedy is, our United Fund is something worth saving. By combining many charities and other agencies into one, the UF has made it possible for us to put the most money to the most good: 90¢ out of every $1 goes directly to help our sick, our blind, our deaf, our crippled, our aged, our kids.

Yet lately, it's tough to even be a decent Boy Scout in this town. Because of lack of money.

The United Fund does too much good for us to let it fail.

If you didn't give last year, give this year. If you gave last year, give more this year.

Care. If we don't, nobody will.

Reach out and care.

Pontiac Area United Fund.

Chief Tells Army: Heed Blacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley Resor, expressing concern about the state of race relations in the service, said today military commanders must pay more attention to the sensitivities of black soldiers.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Army Association, Resor said the military has to "reexamine our policies and practices in terms of their impact on the soldier as an individual."

"We believe," he said, "that one way to minimize racial tensions in the Army is to make the Army as responsive as it can be to the needs of all its which are directly tied to their race."

The black soldier "needs to know from his leaders where they stand, whether he can expect help from them, whether they are willing to accept him fact that he has a long military heritage."

Among other things, Resor said, the Army "will give more recognition to the Negro's presence in the Army and the fact that he has a long military heritage."

LEADWAY EXPECTED

The secretary also made it clear he expects officers and noncommissioned officers to be less rigid and to give leadway to the yearnings of both black and white soldiers for some individuality.

Resor added that the black soldier needs a commander who recognizes such slogans as "Black is beautiful" as a gesture of pride, comradeship and solidarity for most Negroes.

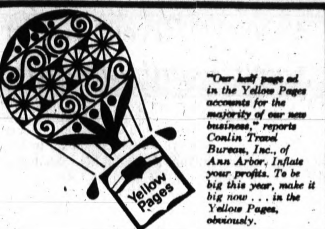

"The commander must understand his men before he writes off the spirited ones, who may be potential leaders, as troublemakers or militants," Resor said.

"On the other hand, he must be firm and ensure that his troops realize that discipline is not discrimination."

RACE DIFFICULTIES

While stating the Army let the way in breaking down racial barriers, Resor acknowledged that black soldiers "clearly have difficulties in the Army."

In the death of WALTER HAGEN at 76, golfdom lost one of its most eminent practitioners and colorful personalities.

Probably the game's greatest shotmaker whose sartorial splendor matched his links prowess, "the Haig's" competitive star ascended when at 21 he captured his first U.S. Open championship, and repeated the feat five years later. Additionally, he collected a string of tournament victories that included four British Opens, the same number of U.S. Western Opens and five Professional Golfers Association titles, four of them in a row.

Hagen scorned the accepted rules for athletic fitness, lavishly bestowing his estimated golf winnings of a million dollars on friends and followers as he made his convivial way through life, living and enjoying each day to the fullest.

A frequent golfing partner of presidents and kings, he aptly summed up his philosophy of life when he said, "I never wanted to be a millionaire, I just wanted to live like one."

HAGEN quit competitive golf in 1940 when "he just couldn't bear to shoot another 80." He retired 11 years ago to a small estate near Traverse City where for the past five years he fought a losing battle against throat cancer.

A multitude of friends and former galleryites mourn the passing of the man who opened country club doors to professional golfers and became a sports legend during his time. "The Haig" shot par for his course of life.

HAGEN

Seven Plagues!

Ralph de Toledano

'Ship-Jumper' Hullabaloo Silly

"Pious" is the word for it. With a great wringing of hands and freshets of tears over "ethics," one minor Washington reporter has been creating a tizzy in the Senate over what the headlines call "Chinese ship jumpers."

DE TOLEDANO

What is the big "Chinese ship jumper" hullabaloo about?

The Chinese come here, usually escaping from harsh circumstances in Hong Kong or Taiwan, to settle permanently.

They come to the United States and lead frugal, hard-working lives. According to the U.S. Immigration Service, they "must be clean" before they can ship aboard in Hong Kong or Taiwan, with neither criminal nor Communist records. They make good citizens.

HIRE LAWYERS

Because they are in the country illegally, however, they are subject to deportation. To prevent this, they hire lawyers who in turn seek the help of men in Washington who know their way around Capitol Hill.

The next step is to get a friendly senator to introduce a private bill to allow the "Chinese ship jumpers" to remain in the country. These bills are never passed, but while they are technically under study, there can be no deportation.

This gives the illegal immigrant a chance to get on the quota of some country, which has not used up all its visas. He then flies to that country and returns to the United States legally.

By innuendo, those who have been making a big issue of the "Chinese ship-jumpers" have convinced at least part of the reading public here that large sums of money are changing hands and that the Senate has been subverted. The Senate Ethics Committee has been brought into the picture to investigate.

LITTLE DOUBT

There seems little doubt that the lawyers in these cases have charged their clients and that the Washington agents involved have been paid for their time. But the private bills have not converted immigration policy. They have merely bought time for those caught in the coils of red tape to legalize their status.

There are, perhaps, a thousand Chinese a year who jump ship and find employment in the United States. They are needed labor. No laws are broken in helping them out. Why, then, the artificially created hullabaloo?

It is ridiculous that once here, these Chinese should have to go to the expense of flying to quota-heavy countries, applying at U.S. consulates for entry visas, and then flying back. It could all be done administratively.

Original Big Spender Was 'Diamond Jim'

Jackie Gleason will play "Diamond Jim Brady," for film producer Joe Levine. If he doesn't lose too much weight that is.

Half a century after his death, Brady remains the American archetype of the opulent spender and flashy bon vivant. He big, entertained like a maharajah, and ate like — well, like Gleason once did.

Generally forgotten is that Diamond Jim was a salesman. He hustled railroad cars for the Pressed Steel Car Co., working on a commission.

If reincarnated, he would find things a little different around Pressed Steel today. It evolved into U.S. Industries some years ago and now is a billion-dollar diversified corporation. In addition to railroad cars, Diamond Jim might be asked to sell furniture, stereo sets, speed boats, fashion textiles.

He'd be one of more than 40 U.S. managers who are millionaires. His swashbuckling would come to the immediate attention of I. John Billera, president of the conglomerate — a man who does not wear diamonds or have a girl named Lillian Russell.

Brady wouldn't like it. Neither would Gleason.

Dwight D. Eisenhower would have been 79 this week. Five hundred of his old friends in all fields of endeavor will gather in Washington tomorrow for a dinner arranged by the Tribute to a Great Nation Committee.

A prime objective is the raising of funds for the development of Eisenhower College, a coeducational liberal arts institute located in Seneca Falls, N.Y. It is now in its second year. Congress has appropriated a $5-million matching gift in tribute to the general, to create a "distinguished and permanent living memorial to his life and deeds."

When the general and his good friend Bob Hope attended the groundbreaking ceremonies at Seneca Falls a few years ago, he said: "This is an honor that will be prized by me every day of my life, for I can think of no greater monument to any man than a college bearing his name."

Inflation Sets Clock Back

There is not much that ordinary Americans can do to fight inflation, beyond voting down bond issues—a resort that is ultimately injurious to society—or writing their congressmen.

They can, of course, refuse to pay high prices for goods or services that are not absolute necessities.

But in this age of affluence, few things are not considered necessities. For many families, two cars have become the essential minimum. Few people, even on the tightest budget, deprive themselves of a television set.

Or Americans could bank what excess money they have each month, earning interest on their savings while awaiting the day when prices come down, or at least stabilize. This would take some heat off the economy.

But working against this is the conviction that prices will never be lower than they are today. Thus it is better to spend now. Better yet—borrow now, even with high interest rates, for the debt you take on today will be paid off with cheaper dollars tomorrow.

There is another defense against inflation, and this is the one that more and more Americans are being forced to adopt: to fight fire with fire; to beat inflation at its own game by bringing in more income, either by negotiating higher wages (thus fueling inflation), by moonlighting on a second job, by adding additional bread winners to the family, or by a combination of the three.

A team of financial writers recently epitomized the current socio-economic phenomenon with the assertion: "Our society, thanks to inflation, seems to be coming full circle back to the 19th century and the burden of work from which the social reformers thought they had delivered us."

The worries expressed by sociologists only a few years ago about what Americans were going to do with all their leisure time when automation took over and the three-day work week became the norm would seem to have been a bit premature.

South Korea's Economy Is Booming

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The current stir in South Korea over President Park Chung Hee's steamroller move for a constitutional amendment to allow him to serve beyond the present eight-year limit reminds the western world that Korean democracy is still highly imperfect.

BISSOST

But these imperfections should not cast too large a shadow over the recent gains in political stability and, particularly, economic development. The economy's growth is startling.

In 1961, eight years after the armistice in the costly Korean war, the country—nearly barren of natural resources—exported just $41 million worth of goods and materials. Last year the total was $500 million; this year it should reach $700 million and in 1970 the estimate for exports is a flat $1 billion. Moreover, its imports already are approaching $1 billion annually and South Korea is perhaps the 20th largest market in the world.

PER CAPITA INCOME

Its 1968 growth was 13.1 percent. By 1971 it is expected to have doubled the 1966 industrial level, which itself was twice that of 1961. Per capita income, still a painfully low $140 a year, could bound up by a third in the next two years.

Fed by stability and growth, a mood of rising self-confidence runs through the tough South Korean people today and it has proved infectious.

Foreign capital is being attracted on an increasing scale. In 1968 the inflow was almost $1.4 billion. The 1967 total of $978 million included $451 million in private loans, mostly from Japan and West Germany. America accounted for most of the $428.7 million in public loans.

Equity investments by foreigners are just now reaching sizable proportions ($92 million in 1968). A nation that once had to import all refined oil products today has two refineries in operation and two more building.

POWER PLANT

Petro-chemical derivatives (including synthetic alcohol), cars, trucks, agricultural machinery and pianos are being produced or soon will be. A big power plant will rise near Seoul.

It pains some simplistic observers of the world scene to see such progress in a nation whose democratic processes still leave something to be desired.

To the extent that they must accept it as a fact, these observers seek solace in ascribing the economic gains almost wholly to American largesse doled out to a "client state" (which presumably does U.S. bidding at the flick of a finger).

In Korea's case, U.S. aid has been real enough. Since the 1953 armistice, the U.S. government has pumped in $1.5 billion in aid. But by 1971 South Korea is expected to end its dependence on U.S. government aid.

Economic growth rates in the 1970s are counted on to average 10 per cent a year, and foreign trade may triple the 1965 levels. More and more investment from abroad is expected. Self-reliance is the new watchword.

Answers Recent Letter About Adult Education

A letter from "Second Time Dropout" indicated that his community adult education program required that he go to full-time day school in order to graduate. In addition he stated his school would not issue a diploma after he had been out five years. Neither of these statements is true in our adult education programs.

Schools in this area will issue diplomas to adults regardless of the length of time they have been away from school. Adults only need to complete missing credits for graduation. Many adult programs offer day classes exclusively for adults who may take a part-time or full-time load.

Questions and Answers

(Q) I have considered taking courses to complete missing credits I need for a high school diploma. I have been away from school for some time and wonder if I might also encounter problems mentioned in a recent letter from "Second Time Dropout." Whom do I contact for information?

ANOTHER SORRY DROPOUT

(A) The following adult education directors would be happy to answer questions of any adult interested in completing requirements for a diploma: Don Arsen, Waterford, 674-3145; Walt Cooper, Rochester, 651-6215; Tom Everitt, Pontiac, 332-0235; Ron Morse, Troy, 689-4135.

(Q) I'm trying to make my folks stop smoking, and they know they could get cancer, but they still won't stop. I've heard there are other things you can get from smoking. Can you tell me some so I can see if they'll quit then?

PRE-TEEN

(A) Besides contributing to lung, mouth and throat cancer, smoking brings greater risk of heart disease, emphysema, hardening of the arteries, spontaneous abortion in expectant mothers and lower birth weight for babies of smoking mothers. New evidence shows smokers are also more apt to have periodontal (gum) diseases and tooth loss. Just having a child as concerned as you should be enough to make them quit, but it can be a very hard habit to break! Remember that if you're ever tempted to smoke yourself, And good luck with your parents.

Michiganders Play Big Roles on Capitol's Political Stage

Michigan is assuming an increasingly important role in the administration of our Federal Government. Several citizens have risen to leadership positions and we are taking our rightful spot in the consideration of national and international problems.

We've been there in the past. Our representatives have commanded top respect and their opinions have been deciding factors in governmental activities.

Congressman Gerald R. Ford has been the House minority leader for some time now and is a significant figure in Congressional matters and decisions. In fact, it was Representative Griffin who helped place Ford in his current spot four years ago when he himself was in the House. Now we find Senator Robert P. Griffin moving swiftly upward in the Upper Chamber.

In spite of his obvious boo-boo in the confirmation of HAYNESWORTH, he has been a leading figure for many years and Congress accepts him accordingly in his new role as Senator.

GRIFFIN becomes the new Senate whip which means that one of our citizens is accorded a top honor. He defeated the son-in-law of the late Senator EVERETT M. DIRKSEN, minority leader from Illinois.

Both of these two Michiganders will henceforth appear at the regular Tuesday morning GOP policy meetings with President Nixon in the White House. Not since the days of the all-powerful Arthur Vandenberg has Michigan been so recognized so importantly in the Senate, and that was two decades back.

Also, Michigan can justly be proud of Oakland County's own GEORGE ROMNEY, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development in the President's cabinet. The former Governor was an early choice and will remain there unless he decides to run for the Senate himself against PHILIP HART in 1972. If the current trend across the nation continues, many GOP political candidates are going to sidetrack current Democrat office holders.

Mrs. Elly Peterson, a familiar figure in Oakland County, is assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee. John A. Hannah whom most Oakland County residents have come to accept as a part of our own life because of his leadership at MSU and indirectly Oakland University, is now head of the Agency for International Development.

And there are others.

Michigan figures in Washington and national politics are again fulfilling our rightful place as one of the most important commonwealths in the Union. This Great Lakes State has sufficient accomplishments and the financial importance to rank at the top. We ask odds of no one.

We have top industries.
We have top businessmen.
We have top union leaders.
On with the dance. Let's find a few more.

Second Highest...

According to the trustworthy and reliable U.S. News and World Report, right now individual incomes in the Great Lakes area stand second in eight divisions in the United States. Our $156 billion per year is exceeded only by the Mideast.

This total won't expand as rapidly as some of the others in the next ten years because of our gigantic size right now. But in 1979 our gross income will still be second. The forecasts indicate we'll stand at $283.2 against Mideast's $310.3.

The Great Lakes area includes: Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Illinois.

And in Conclusion...

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

I'm still fascinated by that Pennsylvania quarterback's name: BERNIE ZBREZENJ. Let's hear you pronounce it.

Public Leading Congress to Clean Water

By DON GRAFF
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Striking while the iron is hot is a maxim that has political as much as, if not more than, any other application.

In American politics, this would appear to be a vintage year for striking on some long-standing and basic issues.

Currently we have the drive to abolish the Electoral College in favor of direct popular election still reasonably fresh in the public mind and the political climate therefore favorable as perhaps never before, the House has passed and President Nixon has now come out in favor of the proposed constitutional amendment.

There is now just the faintest chance that the procedure for electing the American president may be rescued from the 18th century and brought into the 20th by 1972.

Earlier we had taxes, the rare spectacle of congressmen in numbers exercising themselves not as usual, over raising more but over simplifying, even easing, the citizen's burden. With signals of an imminent taxpayers' revolt flashing all over the horizon, it was clear that the time for tax reform had clearly come.

The final results aren't in yet, but both Congress and the administration have taken advantage of the mood of the moment to tackle the most far-reaching overhaul of the tax system in recent history.

In this grab bag of issues, there is yet another item, not as exciting perhaps but probably even more important in the long run, where, hopefully, Washington will show itself equally willing to follow where public opinion leads.

For a long time now pollution has rivaled the weather as a subject generating a great deal of talk but precious little action. We all know by now what we are doing to our environment, the dire predictions for the future and how far we are falling short in taking the steps necessary to prevent them from coming to pass.

The public is clearly in favor of action. A recent Gallup Poll reported 85 per cent of the population concerned about water pollution and 73 per cent ready to spend money — i.e., taxes — to combat it.

Washington also seemed to be in step with the passage of the Clean Water Act back in 1966, which was supposed to channel a steady flow of federal funds into state and local pollution control programs.

Unfortunately, the flow has been more of a trickle. Actual fund appropriations have consistently fallen short of clean-water authorizations. In 1968, $450 million was authorized and $203 million finally appropriated. In 1969, it was $214 million appropriated against $700 million authorized.

In the current budget, the administration has again asked for $214 million, while Congress authorized a round billion. It appears, however, that public sentiment, as expressed through a Crusade for Clean Water waged by a coalition of national organizations ranging from the League of Women Voters to the United Steel Workers, instead of the administration may have its way on this one.

It is sorely needed. Without the promised federal funds, the cleanup program would eventually collapse despite efforts by local governments, which have passed bond issues to raise their share of needed funds, and even, increasingly,

Viet War Lull Called Prelude to New Red Drive

SAIGON (AP) — The lull in the Vietnam war, now in its sixth week, is expected to continue, a U.S. estimate said today, but only until the winter-spring campaign begins in November.

An official assessment for the 3rd Military Corps Zone, which includes Saigon, reported: "Except for scattered attacks by fire rockets and mortars and light ground probes, the enemy is expected to prolong his period of reorganization and retreating while awaiting political developments and preparing for his next campaign."

The estimate gave no timetable for the start of the next campaign, but some U.S. officers have said the Vietcong and North Vietnamese plan a winter-spring campaign beginning in November.

"Intelligence obtained from prisoners and documents has consistently indicated that the objective of the enemy's falling campaign was to prepare for the winter-spring offensive," the assessment continued. "The enemy's actions to date seem to bear out these intentions."

"The low level of infiltration during August and September and lack of indications of sizeable numbers of arrivals suggests that the enemy may be forced to hold his main force units back in order to maintain hours largely inactive. It appears that he is attempting to use his subregional and local forces to maintain a semblance of pressure while preserving his main force units for the winter-spring campaign."

Other sources said the enemy troops are being extensively resupplied with weapons and ammunition. Paratroopers from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division uncovered one stockpile Sunday night 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Underground tunnels yielded 90 Chinese rifles, 21 light machine guns and more than 200 mortar shells. Only small fights were reported during the past 24 hours.

Educational Reform Seen as Equalizer

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Gov. William Milliken says his education reforms aim to give a black child from the Detroit ghetto or an Upper Peninsula farm child "the same chance to learn as a college-bound white suburbanite from Birmingham."

"Our purpose is not to centralize, not to standardize textbooks, not to dictate curricula, not to impose a schedule of teacher salaries on school boards," Milliken said in a speech Sunday to the Technicians' annual meeting at Congregation Shaary Zedek in this Detroit suburb.

Describing his own hopes for the education reform proposals being introduced today in the Michigan Legislature, Milliken said:

"Our purpose is to see that the poor as well as the rich, the black as well as the white, the dull as well as the bright all have an equal chance to learn to the best of their potential, regardless of where they live or how much money their parents earn."

TECHNICAL CAPACITY

"Perhaps that sounds hopelessly idealistic," Milliken said, "but idealism should be the hallmarks of our efforts."

"My own view is that in order to produce a healthy society, a nation must... give its youth the technical capacity to earn a livelihood and the foundation in human values essential to their happiness."

Alluding to his own education at Yale University, Milliken admitted "if asked to design an

5 Girls, Boy Held in Philly Gang Killing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Five teen-age girls and a boy were charged Sunday with the knifing death of a 15-year-old girl who was the city's 33rd victim of juvenile gang violence this year.

Police said a group of about 20 teen-agers—girls and boys—attacked Linda Rountree Saturday night while she was walking home in the Tioga section after leaving a restaurant with three friends.

Two of the friends fled. The third fought his way to the wounded girl, picked her up and carried her one block to where he hailed a policeman, police said.

Linda died Sunday of stab wounds of the back and chest.

The six arrested were charged with murder and conspiracy. Police said the girls in custody were associated with a gang and that four of them were students at a disciplinary school for girls. The other girl, a 19-year-old, was unemployed, they said.

"We believe this is the first time that females ever have been the doers in a gang job," said Detective Harry Press.

An autumn mood of fashion freshness and promise is created in this "Art Deco" rain and stain resistant velveteen print, the new direction for prints. Styled by Max Adler for Count Romi with a close fitting bodice leading gracefully into the classic A line skirt.

The beautiful, shining "wet look" takes on added practicality in a newly developed polyurethane version that is both breathable and dry-cleanable. Here, it's beautifully adapted in Naman's sporty, double-breasted, close-fitting Raincheetah with raglan sleeves, trimly belted waist and large flapped pockets.

A bold fashion statement is the message of this all-weather coat by Max Adler for Count Romi. The wood print is set off by the latest fashion accessory, a chain belt, water and stain resistant. All lines shown available in the area.

Rain Beaus Everywhere When You Look This Good

Mini-splendored styles are natural "put-togethers" with the "frilly mini," a charming new creation by Polan Katz, umbrella fashion-pacesetter. The pretty nylon mini-sized umbrella with its ruffle-frosted edging gives a dainty, feminine accent to dressy or romantic clothes. It's unusually practical and easy to carry — when not in use it never drags on the ground even when the arm is fully extended.

Multi-hued stripes in a Polan Katz umbrella add spice to a rainy day costume, complement the haberdashery look and blend with or accent a variety of new fall colors. In this "put-together" season when textures, colors and patterns are used in startling new combinations for dramatic effect, stripes are newly important. Here, fresh sharp tones of lilac, green and brown on an imported nylon add a dashing note to a raincape and brighten a dreary day.

Fruit, Candy With a Note Show Thanks

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute
The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Alma Paulson.

Dear Mrs. Post: About four months ago I became very ill and was in the hospital for 25 days. The doctors were all so nice — also the nurses and nurses aides. I thanked them all personally, but I didn't think of sending one (thank-you card to all the nurses and aides, since I don't know their names, I also thought of sending each doctor a thank-you card or note.

Personally, I think we forget these people too fast even when they have, as in cases like mine and others, given us our life. Would it be proper to remember these people on leaving the hospital, or on special holidays? — Alma Paulson.

Dear Mrs. Paulson: So many people tend to take the services of professional people for granted that it is a delight to receive a letter such as yours. There are, of course, varying degrees of care and sympathy extended by different individuals.

But when the care has been excellent and the sympathy unstinting, as was true in your case, your appreciation is richly deserved.

The nicest thing you can do for the nurses and aides who took care of you is to send a "joint" card addressed to "Nursing staff and aides, sixth floor," accompanied by a gift of a box of candy, a basket of fruit, or homemade cake or cookies, which can be shared by all. Write a personal note on the card, expressing your thanks and gratitude.

In the case of the doctors, a personal note to each one who assisted your family doctor would be the most appropriate "thanks."

Tiny Not So Teeny Now, but His Clothes Are

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In the 25 years "Tiny" and I have been married, he has gained and lost the same 90 pounds at least five times.

Each time Tiny has a weight loss he is so proud, he treats himself to a new wardrobe. But he doesn't wear it long because he puts the weight back in no time.

He has two closets filled with practically brand-new suits to fit a 160-pounder, a 190-pounder, a 220-pounder, and right now he is wearing suits to fit a 250-pounder — because that's what he weighs!

When I tell him I want to give away some of those suits he's had hanging in his closet for 15 years, he blows his top. I think it's a crime to let perfectly good suits hang there when somebody could get some use out of them. The same goes for shirts and shoes. What do you think?

TINY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I'm with you. Call the Goodwill Industries and let them pick up Tiny's "outgrown" wardrobes. Their resale shops put money back into the Goodwill organization whose policy it is to employ the handicapped, and teach them to recondition furniture, appliances and clothing, thus becoming employable, self-respecting wage earners.

Now if that isn't more important than hoarding clothes (That are going out of style anyway), I don't know what is!

DEAR ABBY: This is to "Faithful Reader" who thinks he is possibly the oldest person ever to write to Dear Abby.

You say you were 81 in September? Well, I was 91 in August, so stop your bragging, young fellow. I have written to Dear Abby several times over the years and listen to her on radio.

Your story on how your mother discouraged unbidden guests reminded me of a similar experience. We had a beautiful cherry tree which bore delicious fruit. One day a city friend, learning of the cheeriness exclaimed, "Oh how wonderful! I am coming out to get some."

"Fine," said my wife. "We sell them to help pay off the mortgage."

The lady never came. Sincerely yours,

An "M.D." IN WASHINGTON, D.C.
DEAR "M.D.": Thank you for your warm letter. I see by your signature that you are a doctor. You could make me give up eating apples.

DEAR ABBY: The other night my husband and I were invited to my mother's house for supper. My husband's brother and his wife were also invited and they were there when we arrived. My mother-in-law had the table set with her good china and silver.

Just as we were about to sit down, my sister-in-law got an emergency-type telephone call, and she and her husband had to leave without eating.

All of a sudden the good dishes and silver disappeared, and on went the chipped, old everyday stuff!

I felt like I'd been slapped in the face. If you had been in my place, what would your feelings have been? Sign this...

"NOBODY"
DEAR NOBODY: I'd probably have felt like "disappearing" with the "good dishes and silver."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NO SAINT" IN SAINT JOSEPH, MISSOURI: I'll say you're not. Your letter reminded me of the prayer St. Augustine addressed to heaven when he was a young man: "O, Lord, make me chaste — but not yet."

Studio Group Takes to Stage

The Studio Company of Oakland University's Academy of Dramatic Art will move into Meadow Brook Theatre four nights during each week that the John Fernald Company is performing in Detroit. This will be the first week of each month except January and April.

Five plays will be presented, starting Nov. 5 through 8 and concluding in early May.

The Studio Company is composed of graduating members of the Academy, which is the acting school that shares directors, artists and teachers with the repertory company. Both are directed by John Fernald, former principal of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London.

TRIPLE BILL

After the November production of UNDER MILK WOOD, the season's schedule will follow with a triple bill of one acts (THE BALD SOPRANO by Ionesco, THE HAPPY JOURNEY by Wilder and WHITE LIES by Shaffer) Dec. 3 through 6, Shakespeare's TWELFTH NIGHT Feb. 4 through 7 and AS YOU LIKE IT March 4 through 7, and finally THE CONTRAST April 29-30, May 1-2.

Season tickets orders for the five productions now are being taken. Theatre parties for clubs, organizations and schools can be arranged. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m. for each performance, and tickets may be purchased at the door. All seats are unreserved.

To order season tickets or to obtain further information about theatre parties contact the Studio Company office, 282 Hannah Hall, Oakland University, Rochester.

Organists Meet

The first fall meeting of the Pontiac Area Hammond Organ Society takes place Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the downtown Grinnell's store.

Performing will be Janet Maseng, John Hausner, and Lillian Holman. A specially printed Society invitation to the annual internationally known Artists' Organ Concert in Detroit will be given those attending.

Tax losses last year of $594 million were caused by the fact that one out of every 8.5 bottles of liquor consumed in the U.S. was illegally produced.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Figure molding and spot reducing exercises provide magic help for figure defects. However, few women realize that careless posture the rest of the day and evening can partly cancel out the benefit of these special exercises. You probably exercise only 30 to 45 minutes a day, while the way you carry yourself when walking, sitting or standing the rest of the time constantly molds your figure.

Your carriage not only affects your silhouette but also the way you feel. Poor posture is fatiguing and often causes real discomfort or even pain. "My poor aching back" is very real to many people. This is usually due to poor posture or to lifting something the wrong way. The "something" may be a heavy bag of groceries, a piece of furniture, or a baby.

When picking something up, place one foot back of the other and bend your knees. This forces the muscles of the legs and thighs to do part of the job. Otherwise the muscles of the lower back must do all of the work of lifting.

Many women who have a graceful walk appear extremely awkward when sitting down in a chair or getting up out of one, and also when going up stairs or coming down. Today let me review the correct techniques. Then check yourself to see how you are doing.

It is easy to become careless and slump into a chair or pull yourself out of one, or practically crawl up the steps or bounce down them.

When seating yourself, don't bend at the waist and reach backward with your hips. Instead keep your trunk fairly erect, place one foot behind the other. Tuck your hips under. You lower yourself smoothly to the chair. This is not only graceful but it will firm the legs, thighs and hips.

When rising from a chair place one foot back of the other (a few inches) and push from the back foot, back erect and hips under. Make this a smooth continuous push, not a sudden shove.

When going upstairs assume the correct posture with your back straight, abdomen in, chin at right angles to your neck and hips tucked under. Knees should be relaxed, not hyper-extended.

When coming down steps, assume the same posture and try to glide smoothly rather than hop down. It is fun to practice these activities which we engage in many times a day. You may be surprised to discover how you have been doing them after a check on yourself. If done properly, they are splendid exercises for improving your figure. I have often written that good posture alone is a wonderful exercise, but you may have to break some bad habits.

Their candlelight ceremony in St. Michael's Catholic Church was followed by a reception in the Pontiac Metropolitan Club.

Joining them as they greeted guests were their honor attendants, Mrs. Donna J. Allen and the bridegroom's brother, Robert.

Sales to Begin

Today marks the start of calendar sales for Northern Oakland County Girl Scouts and their leaders. The sale, under chairmanship of Mrs. George Harshbarger in Pontiac, will continue through Nov. 14.

Colorful pictorial coverage of typical Girl Scout activities is featured on the calendar which can be used on wall or desk.

Profits are divided between each selling troop and the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

Banta-Edwards

The H. James Bantas (Catherine R. Edwards) were feted at a reception in Bloomfield Centre following their marriage Friday in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Ann Edwards attended her sister as maid of honor in the candlelight ceremony. John Willson performed the duties of best man.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William G. Edwards of Motorway Drive, Mrs. George Jenko of East Columbia Street and Harry M. Banta of Indianapolis, Ind.

The bride chose a gown of peau de sole trimmed with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of carnations, roses and ivy.

Decor, Fashion Use Patchwork

The patchwork look is going great guns in both the decorating and fashion fields, says the National Cotton Council.

Patchwork cottons are the rage for long hostess skirts and short gypsy vests. They also turn up as tablecloths and bedspreads.

This fall, the patchwork trend moves to children's wear. It's especially popular in sleepwear such as cotton culotte pants and long robes.

Polly's Pointers

Just Wash in Machine

DEAR POLLY — Marguerite should find it very simple to launder her crocheted bedspread. All you do is put it in the washing machine and wash like anything else. Crochet is not as fragile as many people think. A crocheted tablecloth that my mother made 30 years ago has always been laundered like any other white item and is as good today as when it was first made. — RUBY

DEAR POLLY — The use of a sandpaper block makes preparation for painting much easier. Synthetic household sponges, about the size of one's hand, make excellent bases for such blocks, and the firmer the sponge, the better.

Divide a sheet of sandpaper into four pieces which will be about right to fit the flat side of the sponge and fold up around the longer edges. This "block" makes it easier to grip the sandpaper and acts much like a plane to level off the minute irregularities of the surface being worked on. The sponge allows sufficient flexibility to follow the larger contours of a curved surface, such as a chair seat, etc., without losing the smoothing action. — KRISTI

Heat Kills Toxin

NEW YORK (UPI) — Botulism is a serious illness usually resulting from eating home canned foods that are not processed safely. But the toxin is not heat stable, experts say, so that boiling the food for 15 to 20 minutes will make it safe.

DEAR POLLY — We applied a line of rubberized calking where our bathtub and tile meet. This calking has now

Problems Can Be Remedied

Sun and Snacks Ruin Skin

By LINDA CARRAL.

"Mirror, mirror on the wall, tell me you're kidding!"

It is terrible, but true. Popular eating habits and exposure to the summer sun can make keeping a lovely, clear skin a real project.

To get expert advice on a problem faced by many girls and women at this time of year, I contacted a pair of professionals.

Mary and Sol Glanz, owners of a facial salon in Birmingham, gave generously of their time and knowledge about skin care at home.

The Glanzes got their training in cosmetology in Europe. Their first rule is that clean skin is a must. This starts from the inside with a good diet the key.

Unfortunately, teenagers and adults alike, will not be happy with their recommendations. Cola drinks should be strictly avoided and coffee drinking kept to a minimum.

NO PORK, POTATO CHIPS

They also advise elimination of pork, potato chips and french fried potatoes. Carrot juice, foods supplying vitamin A and fresh fruits, they say, are all excellent treatment for less than perfect skin.

"Exercise is so important to skin care," Mary said. And to look at her clear, smooth face, it is easy to see that she practices what she preaches.

"Walking daily is a good way to stimulate the blood and to get a refreshing amount of air," she continued.

Skin problems can also be related to unclear or unkempt hair, and hands that tend to roam from scalp to face.

Hair should be washed often and combed back from the forehead and face, to avoid skin trouble.

For those regularly afflicted with troubled skin, a medical examination is advised. Hormonal imbalance or food or makeup allergies may be discovered to be factors in the problem.

MEDICAL HELP

The great variety of medicinal preparations and prescriptions available today offer help to most every skin disorder.

Diet and regular cleansing still may not be able to affect the wounds inflicted by a long summer of exposure to the sun's drying rays.

"Sun is absolutely the worst thing for a woman's face," Mary said.

"I can't understand why women lie out in the sun for hours, just ruining their skin," she said, shaking her head.

Moisture creams may be needed to soften toughened skin, and to help ease creases. These must be used moderately, however, so as not to counteract the cleansing process.

Mary gives facial treatments and Sol prepares the cosmetics, creams and lotions used in their salon.

Steam, a hand-operated vacuum cleaner-like device to cleanse pores and rich beauty masks are all used to restore the skin.

She showed me a little of what she does and gave me a few products to try. But I'm not a very good example. After a while, I get forgetful. However, the Glanzes would approve of the fact that I'm not a heavy coffee drinker.

Ironing Is Worst

When Westinghouse asked investigative journalists the most that she hates ironing the most. Then, the most obnoxious chores, in order, are cleaning the stove, scrubbing floors, cleaning closets, washing windows, scrubbing bathrooms, animal shapes or in baby's washing walls, and cleaning the refrigerator.

Among the tools Mary Glanz uses in her facial treatments for troubled skin in this soft-bristled cleaning brush that cleans and massages the skin through its rotating head. Beauty masques and steam also are used.

Those Laundry Blues Can Get Anyone

By ANNE TAYLOR AP News Feature

All of us from time to time envy our friends who don't own washing machines, never go near coin-operated laundries and yet look spic and span because they send everything to a commercial laundry.

For them, we say, the drudgery of washday is a thing of the past. Or is it? Judging from conversations with people who send everything out, washday often can mean just another set of problems.

The laundry industry itself admits that everything isn't exactly coming out brighter than bright these days. Poor shirt laundering is cited by the Association of Laundry and Dry Cleaning as having cut into industry profits.

Not only are many customers angry about poor shirt laundering, but other customers have expressed dissatisfaction with the quality and price of work involved in the laundering of other items as well.

Buttons sometimes are crushed or ripped from the fabric. Cuffs and collars come back frayed and sometimes soiled. Laundry ink may be splattered on highly visible areas of the garment.

ALTERNATIVES

What should you do if you are one of these disgruntled customers? Let me preface my answer by saying I would perish the thought of trying to do all my own laundry. That's a big chore, especially since it involves ironing too.

You can avoid some work on men's shirts, however, by purchasing durable press fabrics. They can be washed at night, place on a hanger and be suitable for wearing the next day. They are getting better all the time.

However, be prepared to pull out the iron if your family is fussy about being absolutely wrinkle-free and if the shirt or other garment has been through a number of washings.

There is another way of maintaining some small bit of quality control in advance of the laundering, thus avoiding some headaches.

When shopping for bed linens or towel sets, for example, you may look for the "Certified Washable" seal of the American Institute of Laundering. This means the article has been tested for shrinkage, color fastness, reaction to chemicals, fabric strength and ability to withstand repeated washings.

What about damage to your clothes? To get better service on complaints, and perhaps compensation also, you may want to deal with a laundry that is small in size and owner-managed. But size alone is no certification of quality.

Some of the biggest laundries are the best as well. And if a laundry is a member of the American Institute of Laundering, you may find your complaints handled in an objective manner. Laundries belonging to this association send articles to the institute's laboratory for a free damage analysis.

Regardless of the present state of the laundering art, we're assured of innovations in the near future. Many commercial laundries are out to develop new areas of business and, conceivably, these additional services could mean savings or satisfaction for you.

For example, some laundries now provide steam sterilizing services for pillows and "health treatments" for blankets and sheets. These services could possibly save you some medical bills during the cold and influenza seasons.

Some laundries also provide rental lines, a service that very young and rather old couples as well as singles, can use to advantage. And the savings are obvious when used to accommodate house guests.

Schools Need Volunteer Aid

The educational field is becoming a challenging field for lay citizens. Busy teachers need the help of reliable volunteers.

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau can place you in a school near your home where you may tutor children on a one-to-one basis. You do not have to be a scholastic expert, but a patient, understanding attitude is most important in helping a child improve in his weaker areas.

You can learn more about serving as a teacher's aide by making an appointment with the Bureau in Birmingham. The Bureau is a division of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

Welfare Roll Call Lists GI Families

WASHINGTON (AP) — ranks receive less than that of more married men, many of whom have children.

The Nixon proposals, however, specifically exclude servicemen from coverage. Poverty in the military, reasons a federal welfare official, should be taken care of under the military pay act, not agencies are supplementing allotment checks from Vietnam, paying the rent of married draftsmen, or buying groceries for families whose breadwinners serve overseas.

The problem is compounded in many areas by a shortage of on-base quarters for military families. The shortage results in part from a sharp increase in the number of married men in uniform—in the Army's lower ranks, for example, the number of married men has jumped 37 per cent in three years.

The precise number of military families on welfare isn't known — their names are hidden in the bureaucratic morass of state and local welfare departments.

50,000 ELIGIBLE

But Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird recently estimated that 50,000 service families could qualify for public assistance under President Nixon's proposed welfare program.

Laird, under congressional prodding, has ordered a nationwide survey to determine the number of military welfare cases.

The last Pentagon report, made four years ago, disclosed 20,000 military families were receiving some sort of public assistance, and that more than a third of all men — including officers — moonlighted at some time during the year.

The Nixon welfare plan, now before Congress, sets $3,920 a year as the poverty level for a family of four. Pentagon figures show that 1.2 million men in the armed forces' lowest three

At an Army base near Washington, a military family service agency put together a sample budget to meet the minimum needs of a corporal with a wife and child. Despite the low prices available in commissaries and post exchange stores, the agency concluded the family "must live below the poverty level in this area."

The Defense Department bans use of food stamps in its 315 commissaries.

In a rundown, trailer camp in Browns Mills, N.J., for example, a 20-year-old Air Force enlisted man lives with his wife and infant son. They tried getting by on the $265 a month in pay and allowances he earns as an airman first class at nearby McGuire Air Force Base, but couldn't make it.

New Jersey welfare officials figured the family needed $400 a month to live on, so the state gives it a $135 monthly welfare grant.

OK, WITHOUT WOES

"The money would be okay if no problems came up, but once in a while you get hit with some bills and you're stuck," said the airman, who pays $115 rent for his shabby four-room trailer.

He says he'd rather live on base, but there's not enough free housing for the lower ranking men. "They tell me it's a privilege to live off base," he said.

A few miles away lives a mother and eight children whose father, an Army sergeant, ramrode an infantry company in Vietnam. He sends home $400 of his $595 monthly pay and allowances.

Burlington County welfare officials, who give the family $158 a month, say the mother had been working but became sick and was forced to quit before turning to welfare.

30 CASES A MONTH

At Ft. Dix, located in Burlington County, the Army says that 100 families are eligible for welfare. About 30 cases a month are referred to welfare agencies, says a community service officer at the base.

New York City reports more than 300 military welfare cases.

Virginia and California are among several states that grant welfare payments to a serviceman's wife and children when his pay and allowances are cut off, as happens when he goes AWOL or is disciplined for other reasons. The military makes provisions for families in these cases.

The Defense Department, at the request of Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., has asked the states how many servicemen are on their relief rolls. Many states told the Pentagon it's impossible to come up with a figure without going through their welfare rolls, case by case, a Pentagon source said.

There have been four military pay increases since 1965, raising a private's base pay from $78 a month to $123. But there's also been a 17 per cent increase in the cost of living.

PORT AUSTIN (UPI) — After a 19-hour search, four Detroit youngsters were found today about a half-mile from their cottage at Oak Beach, near here.

State Police at the Bad Axe post said the four, aged 8 to 13, were "pretty wet, but in pretty good shape."

They were spending the weekend at a cottage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kroll when they walked away in the direction of Port Austin, about nine miles to the northeast.

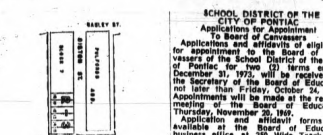

IN SHELTER — They were discovered in a shelter, constructed with branches by David, a Boy Scout, in a marshy, wooded area near the shore of Saginaw Bay. They had last been seen hiking along U.S. 23 which hugs the shoreline at the tip of the Thumb area.

Also involved in the search were Huron County sheriff's deputies and State Police from Bridgeport, Sandusky and Bay City.

The only one of the children familiar with the area, police said, was Geraldine, a deaf mute.

A recent study found that the average American between the ages of 2 and 65 of age spends 3,000 full days, about nine years of his life, watching TV.

Heavy Snow Hits 2 States

DENVER (AP) — Drifts 12 feet deep piled up today in parts of Colorado and Wyoming hit by the second autumn snowstorm in eight days.

Colorado state highway patrolmen reported five dead in weather-caused traffic accidents.

Nearly 60 persons stranded in high country were rescued in the two states, including 38 Girl Scouts in camps near Denver and Fort Collins.

Snowfall, already up to 39 inches since Saturday and continuing, made highway travel hazardous. Denver's Stapleton International Airport was closed periodically because of snow on the runways.

Two teen-age boys who became lost while hunting near Pueblo were expected in serious condition by a search party of 20. Both were expected to survive.

Power and telephone service were disrupted in a wide area.

INGENUITY PAYS OFF — How do you get a new car to an eighth floor New York television studio when it doesn't fit in the elevator? Pontiac Motor Division solved the problem; employees cut this 1970 LeMans Sport convertible and took it up the elevator in two pieces. Standing between the two sections is Paul Mosher, director of program merchandising for NBC Television. When the car was put together in the studio it looked as if it hadn't been touched. The car, purchased by NBC, was among the prizes for the daytime show "Sale of the Century." The winner received a new Pontiac in one piece.

How 'Handler' Quits Smoking

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Here is the 13th in a 14-part series on how to stop smoking and not gain weight. The Newspaper Enterprise Association series offers a double-pronged solution to the problem. It is written by Julius Fast, novelist, medical editor and mystery writer.)

By JULIUS FAST
NEA Publications

The "handling" smoker is rarely an addicted smoker and may, very often, smoke so little that he decides, after all the evidence is carefully weighed, that there is no point in giving up cigarettes — for him at least.

However, I believe this is a serious mistake. For one thing, the "handling" smoker can easily change to a "habit" smoker, and what is merely a source of tactile pleasure can change to addiction.

If the "handling" smoker gives up cigarettes, he can do it in three ways, cold turkey, tapering off or switching to cigars or a pipe.

Tapering off works well with "handling" smokers. If the "handling" smoker spaces his allowance over a definite time period, each lighting up becomes a little ceremony. The next week there are fewer ceremonies, but there is time to adjust.

'WORRY BEADS'

Along with this tapering off, the "handling" smoker should switch to some other habit that will give him the same "ceremony."

He can try "Worry Beads." Toying with a fountain pen can also satisfy him, and coins in his pocket or silverware at the table are other tactile possibilities. Women can easily manage to substitute rings or pins or other jewelry for their cigarettes.

Group to Seek Millage Okay in Waterford

Professional data processing workers in Waterford Township are trying to organize their support of the one-year, 8-mill property tax increase which goes to the polls Nov. 25.

Art Daniels, a former IBM data processing marketing representative who's now a Pontiac fishing rod manufacturer's plant manager, is calling the workers together.

"I'm trying to determine if there is enough data processing workers interested in supporting the millage issue, going door-to-door for it," he commented.

"I'm asking data processing people to join me in the millage fight because they are an educated group interested in school affairs although they have been uninvolved up until now. They have a marketing awareness to sell the millage issue."

He asks that "professionals associated with data processing interested in improving education opportunities for Waterford students" to contact him at home, 4837 Motorway.

If enough interest is shown, Daniels said he will set up a dinner meeting to organize the millage support.

Market Advance Continuing

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a wide-ranging advance in moderate trading early this afternoon. It was a continuation of the rally that got under way Friday as the market backed away from the 1969 low.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks had gained 2.04 to 809.60. The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had risen 1.3 to 283.3, with industrials up 1.5,

Gun-Transfer Story Disputed

'Gen. Turner Wanted Records Destroyed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chicago's police superintendent, denying he had given confidential informant to Maj. Gen. Carl O. Turner for personal use, said today Turner urged him to destroy records of the transfer when federal investigators started checking.

Turner, who was the Army's provost marshal general at the time, shook his head in denial as Supt. James B. Conlisk Jr. gave that testimony before the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Turner has testified that although he signed receipts stating he was receiving the weapons for Army use, they actually were given to him for his personal use. He said Conlisk told him the receipt was only a means of clearing police records.

But Conlisk testified today: "I want to stress that at no time in any of the conversations with Gen. Turner did I say, or imply, that the weapons he had selected were for his private use, or for the private use of any other person."

IRS INVESTIGATED

Conlisk said he first learned the guns were not used for an Army museum when Internal Revenue Service investigators asked to examine police records.

"On at least two occasions subsequent to the first visit by Internal Revenue Service investigators," Conlisk said, "Gen. Turner telephoned me and asked that I order the receipts of the transfer of weapons to him destroyed. I informed Gen. Turner that this would not be done."

Called to the witness table alongside Conlisk after the police officer had finished his prepared statement, Turner repeated his earlier assertions that the guns were given him for his personal use.

Conlisk was asked about Turner's statement.

IT'S NOT TRUE

"Gen. Turner and I did not have any such conversation. His quoting me as saying that is the way we clear our records—that is not true," said Conlisk.

Both men were testifying under oath.

Senator Hits Criticism of Haynsworth

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate defender of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth said today critics of the Supreme Court nominee have produced only "a mousetrap of justification" for opposition to his confirmation.

Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., a key administration spokesman in the Haynsworth battle, said while the opposition has accused Haynsworth of conflict of interest, in fact he has motivated "far more by disagreement with some of the decisions he has rendered as a judge of the court of appeals."

In Senate speech that dealt with the cases and holdings of the Supreme Court, Haynsworth said "I am left with the firm feeling that any lack of candor there may be is not that of Judge Haynsworth."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who the only Haynsworth opponent to challenge Cook.

"REQUIRES MORE CARE"

He commented that he feels more care must be exercised on lifetime judicial appointments than for example, on Cabinet selections which usually are subject to the term of the President.

Haynsworth's supporters claimed a major asset for the American Bar Association's federal judiciary committee, which has reviewed and reaffirmed its support of the nominee.

However, Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the Republican whip, noted that "the Constitution calls for the advice and consent of the Senate."

Griffin said there are still too many undecided senators to make any firm prediction of the outcome.

Man Tackles Giants Over Patent Claims

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK — Who is Peter James, the man who has a $2-billion suit pending against American Telephone & Telegraph and International Business Machines, and who hundreds of other companies have infringed on his patents?

James is a balding, somewhat portly, 38-year-old father of five children, a scripture-quoting Southern Baptist, stolid and tenacious in his business affairs.

James was the ninth of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. James Tsakanikas, Greek immigrants who settled in White Plains, N.Y.

Education and experience: Bachelor of science in economics from Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, law degree from George Washington University, engineer with International Business Machines for several years.

Businessman: Founder and president of Photo Magnetic Systems Inc., a publicly held company based in Beltsville, Md., which reported its first profit in the sixth month ended April 30—some $45,000.

The politician: Announced candidate for the governorship of Maryland. "Having reached a significant plateau in business, I look for a new challenge," Calls himself a progressive Republican.

The patent holder: Possessor of a basic patent—No. 3,381,276—covering a concept that permits two of the great technological advances of mankind, the computer and the telephone, to communicate with each other.

The plaintiff: He claims that AT&T, IBM, Western Electric, Chesapeake & Potomac Electric Co. and at least 300 other firms could be paying him royalties for their telephone computer communications devices and concepts.

Called to the witness table alongside Conlisk after the police officer had finished his prepared statement, Turner repeated his earlier assertions that the guns were given him for his personal use.

Conlisk was asked about Turner's statement.

IT'S NOT TRUE

"Gen. Turner and I did not have any such conversation. His quoting me as saying that is the way we clear our records—that is not true," said Conlisk.

Lennon-Case Suspect Dead in Auto Trunk

SONORA, Calif. (AP) — That of a man sought in the Tuolumne County sheriff's investigation of the slaying of the father of the singing Lennon Sisters.

Marvin Major, 38, had shot himself with a rifle after trying unsuccessfully to commit suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning. Sheriff Miller Sorells said Major, a former member of the Beatles, wrote a letter to Peggy Lennon proposing marriage.

The Los Angeles police department had issued a first-degree murder warrant for him 10 days after William Herbert Lennon, 54, was shot and killed at the Marina Dey Rey Golf Range Aug. 12.

The car containing the body was spotted Saturday by two hunters in a patch of brush off a logging road 24 miles east of here.

IDENTIFICATION COMPLETE

Sunday through a fingerprint check.

Papers found in Major's car included a letter to Peggy Lennon and a large number of newspaper and magazine clippings about the Lennon Sisters and members of their family, Coroner Ray Antonioni reported.

Among papers found was a letter addressed "to whom it may concern" in which Major said "he shot Bill Lennon," Antonioni said.

Sheila Sorells said Major apparently climbed into the trunk and committed suicide a week ago, probably Oct. 5, the date of the last letter.

The name Chet W. H. Young of Alameda was found on the dead man's driver's license. Major was known to have used the aliases Chet Young and C. W. Young.

Sorells said pictures furnished by Los Angeles police aided in the identification, and said that the erratic behavior of the man used in the suicide established it as the weapon used to shoot Lennon.

Successful Investing

Yet with all these bullish developments share price dropped two points following the auction. If your temperament is such that the erratic action of the stock market is more acceptable than the unpredictable behavior of tenants and taxes then I would endorse the change.

Q. I'm a greenhorn at investing but would like to put $200 a month into stocks. My first investment, Chadbourne Inc., was made a week ago. What is your opinion on this company? —T.B.

A. Chadbourne's management has estimated that results for the year ended July 31 were up sharply. Sales are projected at $67 million from $40 million and earnings at 70 cents a share from 39 cents. The pace of acquisition shows signs of abating. Acquired companies have fallen into major categories: yarn consumers and yarn producers. Additional purchases in the 13-14 range are suggested.

AT&T MONOPOLY

AT&T, he states, is a regulatory body for the telephone monopoly granted companies for free rights to provide telephone service rather than competition.

AT&T might have considered James a gnat on its elephant hide, its approach being that it had no validity. This has not deterred James who has another quest in regard to AT&T. He wants the regulatory bodies in Washington to decide where AT&T's activities should end and his begin.

Hodges' Moves Outwit Weaver

BALTIMORE (AP) — When the history of the 1969 World Series is written it may turn on the dramatic chess game played on the green grass of Memorial Stadium in the ninth inning of Sunday's second game.

Gil Hodges, the master technician of the New York Mets, made all the right moves in a 2-1 thriller that squared the series with the Baltimore Orioles and left 50,859 fans clinging to the edge of their seats.

Manager Earl Weaver's decision to pitch to Al Weis, an American League

'I never thought of walking him,' said Orioles' manager Earl Weaver about .215 hitter Al Weis, hero of the Mets' 2-1 World Series victory yesterday.

Weis, walked intentionally in the seventh, strode to the plate in the ninth with men on first and third on singles by Ed Charles and Jerry Grote and two out.

Although Kossman was the next batter, Weaver chose to have Dave McNally pitch to Weis.

"I never thought of walking him," said Weaver. "I knew that Hodges could get a better hitter up for Kossman."

BIGGEST RUN

Weis stroked the first pitch, a slider, to left and Charles scored the biggest run the Mets have ever scored.

But that was just the beginning of the Lions 'Rough It' Then Lose It in Rain

Packers Again Capitalize as in '62 Clash

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"You can't make unintelligent mistakes against the team like the Packers," said linebacker Wayne Walker, "you can be sure they will capitalize."

That's just what the Detroit Lions did yesterday in losing 28-17 to the Packers and it brought back the memory of that big error in 1962 in Green Bay on a similar muddy gridiron.

Before 58,384 drenched fans, the Lions had a chance for victory and saw it disappear with a 15-yard penalty for roughing the kicker thereby giving the Packers control of the ball and eventually their clinching touchdown.

'I sent an extra man in to put pressure on the punter. I take the blame for that penalty which resulted.'

Joe Schmidt,
Lions' Head Coach

With 7:38 remaining in the game, and the Packers on their own 29, Donnie Anderson came in to punt, holding a 21-17 lead.

Lem Barney, one of the most prolific return artists in football was waiting on the Lions' 40.

Putting an extra rush on the punter, hoping Anderson would get off a bad kick, Phil Ode and Bobby Williams raced in from the side and Ed Mooney down the middle.

Werner crashed into the punter and penalty for roughing gave Green Bay the ball back for a first down on the Lions 44, from where the Packers proceeded to add the final drive and the victory.

In 1962, the Lions gambled also and lost, not only the game but at least a tie for the divisional title. Quarterback Milt Plum threw the third down pass which was intercepted by Herb Adderley, ultimately resulting in the game winning field goal as the Lions fell, 9-7.

Coach George Wilson took the blame for that call as did coach Joe Schmidt, take the blame yesterday.

"I wanted to put pressure on the kicker so I sent in an extra man," said Schmidt, "I take the blame for that."

As often is the case for the pro griders from Green Bay, the Packers happened to be in the right places when the breaks came.

Two passes which bounced out of the arms of receivers and into the hands of Packer defenders helped set up touchdowns.

Bart Starr, who was victimized several times by Pontiac's Jerry Rush, still hit 13 of 20 passes, two of them for 41 and four yard passes to Carroll Dale.

Dale helped set up all four TD's with his pass receiving of seven catches for 167 yards.

Travis Williams went two yards after 9-49 of the first period and Dale came with only 13 seconds remaining in the period.

Mel Farr put the Lions in range on the final play of the first quarter when he raced 52 yards to Green Bay 18 where Doug Hart caught him from behind. Chuck Walton threw the key block on Ray Nitsche on the run.

With Walton again opening the hole, Farr went over his left side to make it 14-7 with Errol Mann's kick.

After Mercer missed his second field goal try of the game, a 36 yarder, which was partially blocked, Barney grabbed it on the 16, ran to the 24 where he fumbled and Green Bay again had the ball.

The Lions' defense then smeared Starr, led by Rush and finally when Alex Karras hit the Packer QB, Starr fumbled and Rush recovered on the Packer 48.

The Lions moved to the 17 with 16 seconds left in the half and Mann then made it 14-10 with a 24 yard field goal.

In the third quarter a pass bounced out of Nick Eddy's arms and linebacker Lee Roy Caffey grabbed it.

Three long penalties, two for interference and one for roughing accounted for 45 yards and a first down on the Detroit 4 from where Dale took a pass from Starr.

After hitting Charley Sanders on key passes, the Lions moved to the two and with one second left in the third period, Farr went over Walton again for the TD to make it 21-17 with the kick.

The Lions' defense held firm in the 4th period until the roughing penalty ended their hopes for staying in a tie with Minnesota in the Central Division.

SIDELINED — Bill Munson, who had the Lions moving in the second half of the game yesterday against the Packers, suffered a broken hand after completing a pass to Charley Sanders and will be out for possibly six weeks. He hit his hand on the helmet of linebacker Dave Robinson on the follow through.

Barton Battles for QB Job With Munson Out of Action

Quarterback Greg Barton, a member of the taxi-squad for the second year, says he's "ready" to battle for the starting job with Greg Landry now that starter Bill Munson has been lost for possibly six weeks.

Munson was injured in the third period of yesterday's game with the Green Bay Packers, and Landry replaced him for the final 10 minutes of the game.

"I just finished throwing a pass to Charley Sanders and on the follow through my hand hit the helmet of Dave Robinson," said Munson.

The hand was fractured between the middle and ring finger, and was swelled badly.

Even after sustaining the fracture,

Munson stayed in the game and while Landry was warming up, Munson ran on a keeper to the Packers' 9 just before the Lions' final TD to make the score read 21-17.

Barton, who was the Lions' No. 9 draft choice out of Tulsa in 1968, was placed on the inactive list just two weeks ago. He has been working out with the Lions and has been helping to chart plays along the sidelines during the games.

"It's really too bad it had to be this way," said Barton, referring to Munson's injury, "but I hope to make the best of the opportunity."

When Barton arrived early in 1968 he was the lone quarterback in camp because Munson was out during the players dispute with the NFL owners, and Landry was in the College All-Star camp.

Barton immediately impressed everyone with his arm and has been regarded as the longest thrower ever in Lions camp.

EX-CHIEF SHINES

Former Pontiac Central griddier Jerry Rush was the defensive star for the Lions. Rush smeared Bart Starr for two long losses and then recovered a fumble on the same series which finally forced the Packers back from the 11 to their own 48.

"They were double teaming Alex (Karras) and that gave me the chance to get through," said Rush.

Karras, angry at the loss, said, "There are 10 big games left, we're not out of it by no means. We'll come back."

Runback of Punt Triggers Rams' Victory Over 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 49ers to the Rams' 12 but Alvin Haymond returned a San Francisco punt 40 yards to the 49ers' 12-yard line, setting up a late Los Angeles touchdown that enabled the undefeated Rams to survive a scare and beat the winless 49ers 27-21 Sunday.

Morton Hits With Accuracy

Cowboys Gain Fourth Over Falcons

ATLANTA (AP) — Quarterback Craig Morton, hitting passes with pinpoint accuracy, led unbeaten Dallas to its fourth straight victory Sunday, a 24-17 conquest of Atlanta.

With Morton cleverly mixing his running and passing game, the Cowboys scored on their first three possessions and had the game in control all the way. The Falcons, sputtering offensively in the first half, swept 70 yards behind quarterback Randy Johnson, filling in for the injured Bob Berry, in the third quarter but did little else until the final minute.

Morton hit on 15 of 20 passes for 239 yards, an eight-yard touchdown toss to Lance Rentzel that put the Cowboys ahead 24-0 early in the fourth quarter.

Taxi Squad Back Helps Bills, 23-16

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Preston Ridenhuber, activated only hours earlier, tossed a 45-yard touchdown pass Saturday night to give the Buffalo Bills a 23-16 American Football League victory over the Boston Patriots.

Ridenhuber, cast off by the Oakland Raiders and on the Bills' taxi squad for four weeks, was pressed into duty Saturday morning when Buffalo's team physician decided that O.J. Simpson should sit out the game. Simpson had been bothered with headaches most of the week after landing on his head in last Sunday's Houston game.

Pass Interception Ends Dolphin Bid

MIAMI (AP) — Kenny Graham's dazzling 65-yard interception return Saturday night and San Diego held off the winless Dolphins 21-14 in the Orange Bowl.

Miami gained a final chance when linebacker Ed Weisacosky stole a John Hadji pass at the San Diego 27 with 5:06 to go. But the threat died when Speedy Duncan intercepted at the 11 yard line.

The tough Dolphin rushing defense stymied the Chargers, but elusive Gary Garrison picked on a Dolphin rookie defender to take touchdown strikes of 40 and 26 yards from Hadji in the first half.

LATE RALLY

The Rams, whose National Football League record is 4-0 while the 49ers' dropped to 0-3-1, scored twice in the last five minutes of the game after San Francisco had taken a 21-13 lead on three touchdown passes by Brodie. First, Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel marched the team 78 yards on 15 plays and went over himself on a one-foot plunge to narrow the score to 21-20 with 4:55 remaining.

Then, after three incomplete passes by Brodie forced the 49ers to punt, Haymond took Tommy Davis' kick at his own 48 and got to the San Francisco 12 before 49er defensive end Tommy Hart pulled him down from behind.

Tommy Mason scored the go-ahead TD from the one, four plays later with 2:37 left in the game.

The 49ers, trailing 13-7 at the half, went ahead in the third quarter on a 33-yard touchdown pass from Brodie to rookie receiver Gene Washington, his second scoring catch of the day.

The 49ers increased their lead to 21-13 early in the fourth period on a brilliant touchdown reception by McNeil, who juggled the ball at the six, grabbed it out of the hands of Ram cornerback Ron Smith and trotted into the end zone untouched for a 39-yard score.

Bruce Gossett kicked Ram field goals of 27 and 31 yards in the first half.

Giants Hold Early Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants rode early passing accuracy by Fran Tarkenton to a 10-7 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday in a National Football League defensive struggle.

Pittsburgh got on the board following Gogolak's field goal by marching 80 yards in 12 plays. Quarterback Dick Shiner, unable to find any receivers open, dashed 18 yards down the middle of the field for the touchdown.

The Giant's touchdown was the result of a nine-play, 80-yard drive in the first period during which Tarkenton completed six of seven passes for 77 yards. The score came on a 7-yard accuracy by Fran Tarkenton to strike to running back Joe Morris and added a pylon.

Saint Fumbles Help Browns

NEW ORLEANS (AP) Cleveland's first and final plays of the day forged ahead in the first period.

COMPLETE MARCH Cleveland completed an 84-yard, 12-play march on the quarter's first play, with Leroy Kelly catching a four-yard toss thrown by quarterback Bill Nelson.

A defensive holding penalty against Cleveland kept the winless Saints from stalling at the start of New Orleans' ensuing possession. With Andy Livingston gaining 30 yards on five carries, including the last one into the Cleveland end-zone, the Saints drove from their 20 to tie it 7-7 halfway through the period.

Don Crockett's 28-yard goal put the Browns ahead 10-7 a few minutes later and then Kelly's two fumbles led to two more Cleveland scores.

First Shutout for Minnesota in 9 Years

CHICAGO (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings converted a blocked punt, a blocked field goal and an intercepted pass into touchdowns Sunday to defeat the Chicago Bears for the first time since 1965 by 31-0.

The most sensational orthodox play of the game came in the final two minutes when the Vikings' Dave Osborn broke loose for a 58-yard touchdown gallop. The Vikings' hiked their National Football League record to 3-1 in their Central Division tie bid and reduced the inept Bears to 0-4. It was the first shutout by the Vikings in 116 regular-season games since they entered the league in 1961.

The spooked Bears were haunted in the first quarter by former linebacker Mike Reilly, whom they had traded to Dallas early in the season for an undisclosed draft choice. The Cowboys waived him and the former Iowa star wound up with Minnesota as a free agent.

Rookie Helps Skins With 4 Field Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rookie Curt Knight kicked four field goals Sunday as the Washington Redskins capitalized on early mistakes by St. Louis and then stood off the Cardinals' second-half comeback for a 33-17 National Football League victory.

Knight kicked field goals of 37, 28 twice and eight yards and three extra points to give the Redskins the margin they needed to make a success of Coach Vince Lombardi's home debut in RFK Stadium.

The Redskins took advantage of the 95 yards the Cardinals were penalized in the first half and three interceptions to build up a 23-0 lead after the first 30 minutes.

In addition to Knight's three first-half field goals, rookie Larry Brown ran over from the 12 on the last play of the first quarter and Sonny Jurgensen hit Charlie Taylor on an 11-yard touchdown pass in the second period.

Raiders Corral Broncos, 24-14

DENVER (AP) — Daryl Lamonica's passing in freezing weather was too much for the Denver Broncos Sunday as the Oakland Raiders swept to a 24-14 triumph and remain the only undefeated team in the American Football League.

The veteran quarterback's passing seemed to get better as the game went on in a field left in miserable condition by the second weekend snowstorm to hit Colorado in a week.

Intermittent snow showers fell through most of the game.

Lamonica passed for all three Oakland touchdowns and 42-year-old George Blanda chipped in with a 24-yard field goal.

other team had dared with it on the seven passes caught by

"On the first touchdown, (a 40 yard to Dale) I just didn't get back on that," he said, "and on the second one, the short one I moved towards him and saw Lucci there so I slowed up."

Barney went high up into the air, but his timing was just off as the ball went over his finger tips into Dale's waiting hands for the touchdown.

On another play, Barney picked up a blocked field goal which stopped a Packers threat and he went from the 10 to the 24 where he was hit and fumbled, giving the Packers possession again.

Coach Phil Bengtson of the Packers said that throwing against Barney wasn't "the plan" devised. "We just set our patterns according to the defenses we saw in the film."

Both Bart Starr and Dale were having an outstanding day.

Dale did a juggling act on a 27 yard pass early in the game after getting hit hard by Barney, but he held on to the ball and subsequently it led to the first Packers TD.

The Packers had an unusual day in being called for 11 penalties most of them for offside and motion.

ANXIOUS "I guess we were a little anxious, it had nothing to do with the cadence of the quarterback," said Bengtson.

Penalties did hurt the Lions, three of which led to the third touchdown. Two were for interference and another for roughing the passer.

The one that hurt most of all was the roughing the kicker with 7:38 left, allowing the Packers a first down and five more minutes with the ball and the touchdown which iced it.

LEM'S STRUGGLE — It was a bad day for Lem Barney in his battle with Green Bay's Carroll Dale. Dale caught seven passes on Barney, two for touchdowns, as the Packers defeated the Lions, 28-17. Barney missed an interception on one of the TD passes to Dale and he recovered a blocked field goal and then fumbled it on the 24. The talented cornerback called it his "poorest" game but coach Joe Schmidt lauded Barney, saying "He gives everything and doesn't have too many bad days."

Central's Rally Downs NMU 11

By United Press International
 Eastern Michigan rolled up the mightily, Central Michigan ran at the last minute and Alma jogged into first place in its conference in some of the best Michigan college football games during the weekend.

The Pennsylvania Dutch probably didn't know what hit them as the EMU Hurons scored three times on passes, twice on long runs and twice on pass interceptions to wallop Waynesburg Pa. College, 49-0. Don Stewart passed 12 yards to Gary Matsche for the first score and then hit Matsche again for 34 yards to make it 21-0 — and it was still the first quarter. Pete Kalogeras, John Hicks, Pete Yorloda and Dennis Hewitts handled the rest of the scoring for Eastern.

Northern Michigan was startled right out of its No. 13 small college ranking by United Press International when a sophomore tailback Jesse Lakes darted 20 yards for a touchdown in the last 48 seconds to give Central a 40-37 win.

The Chippewas were trailing 23-9 at the half but came roaring back to hand the Wildcats their second loss of the season against three wins. Lakes, who has pulled his way to 834 yards for the season, had 41 carries for 227 yards. Central is now 4-1.

Alma showed Chris Clark and Tom Jakovac all over Hope as the Scots came up with a 42-18 victory and the lead in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Clark drove for three TDs and Jakovac broke loose on a 52-yard scoring run and passed for another touchdown. Alma is now 2-0 in the conference while Hope is 0-2.

Hillsdale college, ranked 19th in NAIA standings, shut out Southwest Missouri State 9-0 for its fourth win against one loss. But it was a victory without pride as Hillsdale fumbled five times and the losers twice more.

New Haven's Ace Outscores Rivals

Tyrone Moore scored four of five touchdowns in leading New Haven to a 34-18 victory over league rival Cap Saturday night.

The Rockets second league win tosses the Southern Thumb title race into a three way tie with New Haven, Cap and Dryden all possess 2-1 league standings.

Moore's touchdowns were scored on runs of five and eight yards or less along with teammate Bill Sims who tallied for 45 yards.

Dave Behnke and Ron Revizger each scored twice for the losers while Tom Murphy added two more touchdowns also.

Ferris State rolled up the same score, 9-0, as it scored all its points in the second quarter for a victory over the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Tom Hamlett scored the Bulldogs' touchdown on a 57 yard run and gained 139 yards rushing in 23 carries.

HUSKIES NIPPED
 Trampled under the 413 yards Mankato State ran up, the Michigan Tech Huskies sank to 2-3 for the season in their 43-21 loss. It was their own fault as the Huskies fumbled four times with Mankato State scoring on each mistake.

Kalamazoo scored a field goal in the first quarter and then watched the rest of the game go by as Albion screamed back for 28 points and the win the battle of Wayne State's running game against Bradley University's passing fell in favor of the fleet-footed as the Tartars triumphed 47-21. Olivett nipped Adrian 30-27 as Gary Cummings ran for two touchdowns and caught a pass for a third in the MIAA showdown.

Second-ranked Texas won the annual Battle of Dallas from arch-rival Oklahoma 27-17, snapping a tie on Happy Feller's 21-yard field goal and cementing the victory on Steve Worster's one-yard plunge after the eighth-rated Sooners fumbled a punt late in the game.

Some of the other top teams weren't as fortunate. Sixth-ranked Georgia lost to Mississippi 25-17 with the Rebels' Cloyce Hinton booting a major college record 59-yard field goal. Michigan stunned ninth-ranked Purdue and Mike Phipps 30-21 and Vanderbilt posted what may go down as the upset of the year, a 14-10 shocker over No. 13 Alabama.

Young Allison Edges Brother

Donnie Earns $20,380 in National '500'

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Donnie Allison, the youngest of two racing brothers from Alabama, headed home today with a $20,380 check and plans to bail his wife out of a hospital.

Allison beat his 31-year-old brother Bobby to the finish line after a torrid duel in the National 500 stock car race Sunday. His wife, Patti, ill with pneumonia, listened by radio from her hospital bed. His mother, in the crowd of 57,000 and celebrated her 64th birthday rooting impartially for both her sons.

It was Donnie Allison's first victory of the season—brother Bobby has won four—and it was the second time in two years that the two have come up with a one-two finish in a big race, with Donnie on top both times.

"It's getting to be a habit, I guess," said Donnie, "but I wish it would happen more often. The money's good and you always want to beat big brother. It's the only time I've been able to do it since we were kids."

With the two brothers—Donnie in a team Ford and Bobby in a team Dodge—dominating the race, third place went to Buddy Baker in a Dodge, fourth place to Charlie Glotzbach in another Dodge, and fifth to David Pearson in a Ford.

Charles Wins World Match on Extra Hole

VIRGINIA WATER, England for a deuce but dropped back again by three-putting the 25th.

The New Zealander struck back immediately with a 35-footer for a birdie on the 18th and went 1 up on the 27th with a 30-footer for another birdie.

Charles got a third birdie at the short 28th but Littler squared the match by taking the 31st and 34th holes.

Charles wound it up on the first extra by sending his approach to about 4 feet from the stick and then sank the putt.

After the match Charles said that he didn't know about Littler's family tragedy.

"He never mentioned it and for that everybody on the golf course should give him their highest regard," he said. "He certainly played marvelous golf. But he never really got any putts down and perhaps now on reflection his family problems could have been the reason."

Littler finished the day's play 7 under par while Charles was 9 under.

The winner of this unique tournament — one of the last match play championships in the world — collected $13,800 with $8,280 going to the runner-up and $5,520 to each of the semifinals.

Littler took the lead with a birdie 4 at the 19th hole after a crowd of about 6,000, Charles came back immediately by sinking a 20-foot putt at the 23rd.

Controllers Tell Deadly Choice

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Air demands since the change in controllers may have only one alternative, either strike and jolt the system or keep killing people in plane crashes," said a spokesman for them.

The governing board of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization met over the weekend and repeated in a letter to the Federal Aviation Administration demands for more controllers and better equipment at airports.

"We've held off pressing our

TOT ON A TOOT — There's something about a tuba that fascinates kids, as 18-month-old Robert Southcott of Queensbury, York, England, indicates. As Robert puffs on the steps of London's Royal Albert Hall, daddy puffs inside. Daddy's with the Black Dyke Mills Band, which was competing for both national and world championships.

West German Urges N-Unity

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Franz Josef Strauss, West Germany's finance minister, has renewed his appeal for Britain and France to pool nuclear arms.

He said at ceremonies dedicating the new Coliseum of South Carolina Sunday such a pooling would produce the core of an effective European atomic force.

Strauss, a former defense minister, also proposed that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization be transformed into an American-European defense grouping.

He said there is no room in Europe today "for a purely national defense policy. That is why in the long run we need a European defense organization."

Strauss said authority over European nuclear arms could be held by the president of a European federation.

Waterford Township's fire chief is expected to recommend to Township Board members tonight that Oakland County and the township share the cost of moving the township's central fire station to the Pontiac-Oakland Airport.

Total costs of the new fire station on airport property on Air Port Road north of Highland Road is estimated at $547,591. The fire station would also serve the airport.

The fire station discussion will be at tonight's regular board meeting at 7:30 at Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

246 Call In Sick

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday was a beautiful Indian summer day here. The second game of the World Series was on television. And 248 Long Island Rail Road crewmen called in sick. Trains were delayed up to 45 minutes.

"Whenever the nice weather comes, the boys don't show up, and we've had this problem every year for a long time," said Hank Boerner, director of public relations for the LIRR.

George Clark, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said Sunday that good weather and baseball might have contributed to the plague.

"They're out for the reasons best known to them personally," he said. "But nobody is acting in concert. There's no sinister reason behind it."

Man, 24, Jailed in City Shooting

A Pontiac man was in jail and a River Rouge man was in serious condition this morning at Pontiac General Hospital following a shooting incident early yesterday on Pontiac's South Side.

Shot was Johnnie Jackson, 31, of River Rouge, who is in the intensive care unit of Pontiac General Hospital with wounds in the hip and stomach.

Police arrested Maro Otis, 24, of 189 Hughes and charged him with attempted murder. The incident occurred at the home of Silas Brent, 239 Rapid, at 1:45 a.m. yesterday.

According to police, witnesses said Jackson and Otis were arguing in the house and Jackson struck Otis in the mouth with his fist. Allegedly, Otis then pulled a 22-caliber revolver from his coat and shot Jackson twice, police said.

A Look at TV

58 Million Watch Game

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK — More than one quarter of the nation watched on television all or part of Sunday's World Series baseball game, the NBC Research Department estimated — and that did not include an additional million listening on radio.

The Mets-Orleans game with its cliff-hanger ninth inning attracted an audience of 58.5 million, the network's statisticians estimated, and some 51.5 million watched the televised action Saturday.

"The FBI" on ABC is back for another season with the blessing and cooperation of the agency. With that kind of assistance, it seems a shame the series cannot rise — in plot, scripts or attitude — above the level of a grade C cops-and-robbers feature film of the 1940s.

The subject Sunday night was jury tampering and the Mafia, almost incidentally. The way "The FBI" told it, the Mafia was handing out money and bullets lavishly to protect one of its chieftains. There was little to suggest the far-reaching operations of the crime syndicate.

The story was simple. A worried, broke young student was moonlighting as a gas station attendant, and picked for jury duty, was offered a $10,000 bribe to win two $5,000 installments to find the Mafia man, named Earl Torrance, innocent. The money exchange was seen by a fellow employee who put the bite on him for the second $5,000 and which was to have been handed over after the not guilty verdict.

A Mafia lieutenant — you knew he was sinister because he wore dark glasses all the time — got rid of the blackmailer. Meanwhile the stalwarts of the FBI were closing in, and were helped immeasurably by the worried young man. He was so overcome and happy by the birth of his first child that he broke down and told all.

ENDS AFTER CHASE
The show wound up with a chase around a busy air terminal and, as always, the bad guy in custody.

The show tends not only to be corny but to stick to clichés. Eileen Zimbalist Jr. plays the cool, calm, Inspector Erskine with a brisk familiarity of long and uninspired practice.

NBC will preempt the "Tonight Show" Wednesday for a 90-minute, special late night edition on that day's nationwide moratorium calling for withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's former secretary-traveling companion, beauty queen Corinne A. Huff, is reported planning to marry Patrick Brown, a salvage boat captain, Saturday.

Brown, 25, and Huff, Miss Ohio and Miss U.S. of 1960, both live in Bimbal, which used to be a vacation spot for the New York Democratic representative.

A Miami florist who said he had received an order for the wedding flowers said the ceremony would take place at Bimbal's Our Lady in St. Stephen's Anglican church.

Nixon and Pope Paul to Keep in Touch
John A. Volpe, secretary of transportation, says Pope Paul VI plans to send emissaries to Washington to keep in touch with the Nixon administration.

Volpe, in Doylestown, Pa., to receive a Catholic Man of Action Award yesterday from the Delaware Valley Knights of Columbus, said he discussed communications between Washington and the Vatican during a recent visit to Rome.

The secretary said he told the Pope that President Nixon planned frequent visits to the Vatican by Cabinet officials.

Georgia Writers Honor Erskine Caldwell
Erskine Caldwell, author of "God's Little Acre," and "Tobacco Road," has been honored for "four decades as Georgia's most productive and creative writer."

Caldwell, who no longer lives in his home state, was one of four authors receiving a special award Saturday as the Georgia Writers Association held its annual awards dinner in Atlanta.

Other honorees were Dr. Paul M. Coors, Paul Dancy Boles and Harry Paul. Coors, Paul Dancy Boles and Harry Paul. Coors, Paul Dancy Boles and Harry Paul.

What to Give for Christmas: a London Taxi
American millionaire Franklin L. Blower has solved the problem of what to buy his friends for Christmas. He's giving each a London taxi — a total of 32 cars.

And a special friend will receive a 1932 London fire engine, complete with bells and siren.

The whole consignment cost Blower, a glass importer from Jacksonville, Fla., $48,000.

Timing Off as State School Board Battles Governor on Reforms

LANSING (AP) — Timing couldn't be worse for the State Board of Education as it battles Gov. William Milliken for its very existence.

Embroidered in long and divisive infighting, the board finally got rid of the state's chief school officer last week — just as Milliken proposed abolishing the board and the superintendency.

Dr. Ira Polley — named superintendent of public instruction 3½ years ago by the board, praised by Milliken, school administrators and teachers alike — quit suddenly rather than face the ever-increasing probability that he would be fired.

A majority of board members reportedly pushed Polley to be until the political parties take educational posts seriously.

But Polley refused, saying he could not "in conscience" do so.

ONE AGREES

At least one member seems to agree. It's not an effective instrument, he says, "and won't be until the political parties take educational posts seriously."

Another member says: "Unless we buckle down at the next meeting and bring our calendar up to date, and unless we are prepared to wrestle with the elements of the governor's reform package on an urgent basis, then I propose we all resign as soon as feasible."

Under those conditions, and faced with individual theories on the politically fiery issues of sex education and parochialism, board members tried to pick a successor to Polley.

After 2½ hours of closed-door discussion, they failed to agree on an acting superintendent.

The Michigan Education Association, representing more than 50,000 of the state's teachers, called board actions a "debacle."

"Leadership must replace confusion and the public spectacle that has characterized our system in recent years and recent days," Milliken told lawmakers as he unveiled his reform proposals.

Auditions Near for Youth Tour

Auditions for membership in the Discovery Youth Choral for the 1970 European Tour will be held on Saturdays, Oct. 18 and 25, at the First Baptist Church, Royal Oak.

Choral membership will be limited to 60 high school students from Detroit and Macomb and Oakland counties.

John Tousey, choral director at Pontiac Northern High School, will serve as assistant director of the choral.

The Discovery Tour will also include a symphonic wind ensemble.

Next summer's tour will leave Detroit July 3 and return July 31. The itinerary includes England, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria and Germany.

The Navajo Indian Reservation encompasses about 14.5 million acres and includes parts of the states of Arizona, New Mexico and Utah.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS

1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... only parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... small, easy-to-take tablets... special sizes for children and adults.

Sonja Henie Dies of Leukemia

SONJA HENIE

OSLO, Norway (U)—Sonja Henie, who put ice skating into show business and made millions, will be buried in her native Norway.

Miss Henie died last night aboard an ambulance plane bringing her home from a vacation in France with her third husband, shipping magnate Niels Onstad. She was 57 and had been suffering from leukemia for nine months, but the public and many friends did not know.

The condition of the three-time Olympic gold medalist suddenly worsened in Paris, and a doctor advised Onstad to take her home.

RETIRED IN MID-'50s

Miss Henie kept up her skating—and her 110-pound, 5-foot-2 figure—after she stopped performing in the mid-1950s, but after her marriage to Onstad in 1956 she devoted increasing time to the collection of modern art he had started.

In 1958, the Onstads gave Norway 250 of their paintings, housing them in the $3.5 million Hoivikodden Art Center they built outside Oslo.

An American citizen since 1941, Miss Henie kept a mansion in Holmby Hills in Los Angeles and she and Onstad maintained an estate near Oslo and an apartment in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Her success story began with a family Christmas gift of skates in 1920, when she was a chubby 8-year-old.

She won her first world figure skating championship in 1927, her first Olympics gold medal in 1928, again in 1932 and 1936; the European championship every year from 1929 through 1935.

She turned professional in 1936, touring the United States in an ice show. Her skill and showmanship, her smile and brilliant technique, and her lavish productions of dance on ice captivated the public.

When her show reached Hollywood, the story goes, her manager breathlessly reported that producer Darryl Zanuck was at the arena.

"What shall I do?" he asked.

"Sell him a ticket," Miss Henie answered.

SHE HELD OUT

Zanuck offered her $10,000 a picture, but she held out for $100,000. Negotiations stalled briefly, then Zanuck's aide let her know that the producer wanted to see her.

"Then let Mr. Zanuck call me," she replied.

They finally got together, and her films reportedly grossed $25 million.

Miss Henie's first husband was millionaire sportsman Dan Topping, whom she divorced in 1946 after a 5½-year marriage. She married Winthrop Gardner Jr., son of an old New York family, in 1949. They were divorced in May 1956, and she married Onstad the next month.

Tear Gas Repels Ft. Dix Protest

FT. DIX, N. J. (U)—Some 5,000 demonstrators against the Vietnam war, Army justices and the treatment of racial militants swarmed on this post yesterday in a confrontation with 1,000 military policemen.

The impromptu invasion was finally repulsed with jets of tear gas which drove the racially mixed group, many coughing and wheezing, off a field near the base family housing area.

There were no arrests and, except for the effects of the gas, no reported injuries.

The demonstration brought together members of such varied organizations as the Catholic Peace Fellowship, the Black Panther party, the Puerto Rican Young Lords and students from Princeton, Columbia, New York and other universities in the area.

While military police barricaded road entrances to the base, the demonstrators, mostly young and including a number of helmeted young women, veered off the highway into the empty field.

Within minutes hundreds of gas-masked MPs arrived to repel the marchers.

The two groups confronted each other at close quarters with the demonstrators inches away from the troops.

After repeated appeals to the demonstrators to leave, Col. Bernard Carr, post provost marshal, gave the order to fire the tear gas.

Despite a wind which blew much of the gas back toward the troops, the stinging smoke took effect, and the protesters retreated across the field to the public highway.

Fall to Don Chill; We'll Wear Coats

Get that topcoat out of the mothballs. You're going to need it. Weather prognosticators are anticipating temperatures 10 to 15 degrees below the normal October highs for the next five days.

Showers will continue to dampen the area through tomorrow. Wednesday skies are due to clear somewhat with temperatures remaining unseasonably cool.

Service to Start War Protests Here

A midnight mourners' service tomorrow in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church will initiate a daylong observance set by Pontiac area residents participating in Wednesday's national Vietnam moratorium activities.

Called the Ecumenical service for Peace in Vietnam, it is being supported by the Pontiac Area Pastors' Association.

According to Father Charles Rooney of St. Michael's Catholic Church, who is organizing the Pontiac Coalition to End the War, the service will include scripture readings and folk singing.

Wednesday's main demonstration in the city is planned for 4:30 p.m. at the north side parking lot of St. Vincent's, 150 E. Wide Track.

SPEAKERS AT RALLY

Speakers will include Prof. James R. Ozinga, assistant professor of political science at Oakland University, Dr. William J. Donnelly, Pontiac pediatrician, and Father Rooney.

Preceding the main rally the public is invited to assemble for a Mourners' March beginning at the municipal lot located next to the Detroit Edison Co., 58 W. Huron, at 3:30.

There, women cloaked in mourning shrouds and bearing a black coffin will lead marchers east on Huron to the Federal Building, Perry and Huron. After picketing for a half-hour, the marchers will proceed to St. Vincent's via Wide Track.

According to Dorothy Shankler, 547 Ottawa, a member of the Pontiac Coalition, the coffin will symbolize the 40,000 Americans who have already given their lives in Vietnam.

FORMING FOR THE FRAY — Club-carrying military police at Ft. Dix, N. J., leap a ditch, headed for a skirmish line to confront some 5,000 protesters who marched onto the post yesterday. The troops are wearing gas masks, steel helmets and flak vests.

Rogers Carps at Viet Dissenters

WASHINGTON (U)—The Nixon administration, facing a new wave of protests breaking across the nation Wednesday says chances of a quick negotiated Vietnam peace have been shattered by the noise of dissent.

"There is so much dissent here, and there are so many voices being heard that I think they (the North Vietnamese) must have the feeling that the President doesn't have the amount of support necessary to carry on for a long time," Secretary of State William P. Rogers said yesterday.

"There hasn't been any progress in Paris for the last two or three months," he said, "and I would doubt very much that there would be any progress unless it is clear that President Nixon's policy is supported by the American people."

However, there were challenges to Rogers' position.

"For years we've heard the repetition of this same old fallow argument," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho said yesterday.

But, if there had been no dissent, Church said, "I don't think that the policy of accelerating the war would ever have been reversed. . . . had it not been for that we could easily be engaged today in a catastrophic unlimited war with China on the mainland of Asia."

And Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., said, "the purpose of our dissent is not to destroy a president. The purpose of

High Court to Mull ADC Limits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to hear arguments on whether states can set limits on a family's welfare assistance.

The court will consider an appeal from Maryland, where a $250-a-month family maximum was ruled illegal last March by a federal court in Baltimore.

At the same time the high court took on an appeal that questions a $10-million a month reduction in welfare assistance to families in New York state.

Attorneys for 10 welfare clients say the reduction began last summer, conflicts with a congressional command that Aid to families with Dependent Children payments be increased to reflect an increase in welfare living costs.

Traffic Mishaps Kill 2 Area Men

An 80-year-old Waterford Township man and a Lapeer resident died in separate traffic mishaps Saturday night, police report.

Waterford Township police said a pedestrian, Anthony J. Barnowsky, 451 S. Hospital, died when he was struck by a vehicle on E. Main Road at Norway about 10:58 p.m.

A witness told police the man was walking on the road against traffic as he was struck by a vehicle driven by Roger S. Sheffrey, 20, of Ann Arbor.

Sheffrey is not being charged by police for any traffic offenses, according to a police spokesman. Sheffrey told police his car rounded a curve at about 40 miles per hour when he saw the man in the middle of his lane. He said he hit the brakes but could not stop in time.

Police said his car skidded 90 feet and threw the victim 170 feet from the point of impact. Barnowsky was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Davison Township police in Genesee County report that Verne Elston, 49, of 2921 Miles died in a two-car crash on M20 at Belle Mead Drive. No other details were available.

Platform Start Hinted

7 Soviets in Orbit

MOSCOW (U)—Two veteran Soviet cosmonauts blasted into space today to chase five orbiting comrades in what may be the most complex earth-orbit mission yet.

Tass news agency said all seven cosmonauts feel fine and that equipment aboard the three Soyuz (Union) spacecraft is working normally.

Soyuz 7 and Soyuz 8 were expected to dock soon while Soyuz 6 maneuvers around them. The mission apparently is a step toward construction of an orbital space station.

Cosmonauts Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev, veteran of a Soviet manned space shot nine months ago,

PLATFORM MISSION

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, known for its reliable informants in Moscow, reported the cosmonauts will construct a platform that will be used as an orbiting laboratory and possible launch pad for deep space probes.

Tanjug said informants hinted some of the spacemen would be brought down while the rest would stay for a time to carry out more construction and experiments.

Aloft, waiting for them, were Georgy Shonin and Valery Kubasov in Soyuz 6, launched Saturday; and Anatoly Filipchenko, Vladimir Volkov and Viktor Gorbato, put into orbit yesterday.

Official announcements indicated today's launching was the last planned in this experiment. How much equipment will be left in space remains a mystery.

Each Soyuz spacecraft is believed capable of carrying four men, allowing for the possibility one ship could be left in orbit while four men return in one craft and three in the other.

The Soviet Union's last major first in manned space flight was Alexei Leonov's space walk in March 1965. The United States does not plan to put up a floating platform until mid-1972.

GOP Governors Spurning President's Economy Plea

WASHINGTON (U)—President Nixon's plea to the states to trim spending to combat inflation is running into trouble at the statehouse level, and to the administration's embarrassment, some of it is coming from Republicans.

Last week, Govs. Harold LeVander of Minnesota and Tom McCall of Oregon, both Republicans, announced they were rejecting Nixon's request.

LeVander said he would not curtail highway spending and added there appeared little to be done in reducing other types of public construction in his state.

McCall said Oregon will make no cuts until the federal government begins its own.

On the Democratic side, Connecticut Gov. John N. Dempsey said he is "not going to take it sitting down," and Virginia's Mills E. Godwin Jr., declared, "there will be no cutbacks on highway funds."

'NOT NECESSARILY EFFICIENT'

Nebraska's Republican Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann said state level cutbacks are "not necessarily the most efficient way to fight inflation."

Alaska "absolutely will not cut back" on its spending for highways and airports, said Republican Gov. Keith Miller. The state simply has too much catching up to do, he said.

The governors also said cutbacks would do no good unless all the states join in.

"If no other state did it, and Nebraska cut back everything, it would have no impact whatsoever," Tiemann said.

Florida's Republican Gov. Claude Kirk, who cut federally funded construction 75 per cent, hinted he may reconsider his own stand if other states don't go along.

McCall said he has learned the U.S. Bureau of the Budget may be reevaluating a cutback of federal assistance.

Damage Linked to Sewer Work

By JEAN SAILLE

The Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor, under construction in this area, has run into trouble again.

A claim for damages — "substantially in excess of $50,000" — has been filed against Greenfield Construction Co. of Bloomfield Township, one of the contractors for the county's giant interceptor.

The suit, due for a hearing next Monday in Circuit Judge William J. Beasley's court, has been filed by Lakewood Realty Co. of Pontiac, according to its attorney, Irving Kenee.

The suit claims payment for the repair of damages occurring to a 4-year-old building at 3377 Elizabeth Lake, near M59.

'FLOOR IS SAGGING'

The building housing Oakland Child Guidance Clinics Inc., Vocational Rehabilitation of Michigan, and a Martinizing cleaning plant. All the tenants had to find temporary quarters as early as last August, Kenee said.

The suit charges that construction of the sewer has succeeded in lowering the water table causing the floor of the building to sag as much as 25 inches.

The pumping operation used to dry the sewer installation site is blamed, even as it has been blamed for drying up shallow wells farther north in Waterford and Independence townships.

Nixon Hits Partisanship

Congress Is Wooed

WASHINGTON (U) — President Nixon has asked the Democratic-controlled Congress to put aside partisanship and produce a legislative record which would make the administration and lawmakers proud.

In a message aimed at quieting the combat that has been growing between Republicans and Democrats over the pace of legislation, Nixon promised to meet Congress "more than half-way" to accomplish what needs to be done.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield praised Nixon's statement as "temperate, restrained, understanding, in good taste and good form."

But House Majority Leader Carl Albert spiced his comment with some peppery phrases accusing the administration of being slow to get its legislative program before Congress and of having divided views on many important issues.

A DAY EARLY

The message was set for formal reading to Congress today but was released to the nation yesterday.

In it, Nixon stressed the idea of a working partnership between the administration and Congress to enact a program that will launch a new era of government reform.

"Let us resolve," he said, "to make the legislative issue of the 1970 campaign the question of who deserves the greater credit for the 51st Congress's record of accomplishment, not which of us should be held accountable because it did nothing."

Nixon acknowledged that partisans in both parties have been trying to blame each other for what the Republicans, at least, regard as the meager achievements of Congress to date.

'BOTH GUILTY'

"There may be merit in both charges," Nixon said. "Neither the Democratic Congress or the Republican administration is without fault for the delay of vital legislation."

This was not the kind of message the Democrats had expected, and some sharply worded replies that had been prepared had to be softened.

But the House feels it has a far more impressive record so far than the Senate, and Albert declined to drop all the counter-charges he had readied.

demonstration, indications point to a coordinating the Birmingham turnout of somewhere between 2,000 and 5,000 persons.

URGE IMMEDIATE PULLOUT

Demonstrators are calling for an immediate withdrawal of all troops and not token withdrawal procedures as the present administration is practicing, Hopkin said.

Participants in the march are asked to assemble at Harmony Park near the Oak and Woodward intersection at 3:30 p.m.

The demonstrators will then march south to Merrill and west to Shain Park. At 4 p.m. members of the Quaker faith in Birmingham will begin reading off names of the Michigan war dead.

TO SPEAK AT RALLY

Stanley Stefanski, assistant pastor at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, will speak at a rally in Shain Park.

The 18th Congressional District New Democratic Coalition is organizing the demonstration.

Two Lapeer housewives are organizing a memorial service which will begin at noon in front of the Lapeer County Courthouse on Napeessing.

From there participants will walk down Napeessing to Monroe, the site of the Lapeer War Memorial, where the program will conclude with a prayer to those who have died in Vietnam.

British Troops Fight off 1,000 Irish Protestants

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops fought 1,000 rioting Protestants in an exchange of tear gas and sporadic shooting in Belfast early today.

All the shooting came from the rioters. One soldier was slightly wounded, adding to a weekend casualty list of at least three dead and scores injured.

The Protestants threw a triple barricade across Shankill Road and for more than four hours faced the strongest force assembled since the British Army began policing Northern Ireland during the Catholic-Protestant warfare in August.

Armored cars spearheaded the force of several hundred troops with automatic and semiautomatic weapons. But the army used only tear gas on the crowd, which was protesting the shakeup of the weekend of the police force and the appointment of a Briton, Sir Arthur Young, as police chief.

MOB STORMS APARTMENTS

A Protestant mob raged down Shankill Road Saturday night toward a Catholic apartment block. British soldiers opened fire after they were the target of snipers and bomb throwers.

The government said three persons were killed, including one policeman. But some soldiers said seven persons were killed.

Most of the shooting at the army was the work of a single sniper. "He shoots to kill and he does not miss," said one soldier.

WORST SINCE AUGUST

The weekend rioting was the worst since last Aug. 15-16, when eight persons were killed. But this time no Catholics were involved.

In a television broadcast, Prime Minister James Chichester Clark said the Protestant community feared the reorganization of the police force would weaken the defense of Northern Ireland. "Nothing is further from the truth," he said.

Looking tired and worried, Chichester Clark said it was an absolute tragedy that some of the people had gotten involved in shooting incidents with British troops.

"Let us not forget that they are our troops," he said. "Let us at all times remember that they are here to help us."

Early this morning, after 48 hours of continual duty, the soldiers on Shankill Road were bedded down in damp, windswept streets with only a sleeping bag between them and the sidewalk or the concrete floors of makeshift helters. Many of them are griping about their routine—nine days of duty followed by three days in the barracks with no leisure time.

People's Food Market, located at 3415 Elizabeth Lake, reported a newly cracked floor, but so far no sinking ground.

R. J. Alexander, director of the County Department of Public Works which has contracted for the sewer, maintains any construction damage is solely the contractor's responsibility and that the contractor must carry insurance to meet any such responsibility.

Another referendum on Daylight Savings would end in a victory for fast time, Dzenzel predicted. "Because of the confusion on the last ballot and the errors in recount, I believe another vote would change it."

Milliken to Get Stadium Pitch

Gov. William Milliken is expected to attend a meeting at 10 a.m. tomorrow in Detroit to hear Pontiac's side of the professional sports stadium controversy.

State Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, called the meeting. Also expected to attend are Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. and Harold Cousins, chairman of the Pontiac Stadium Authority. The meeting is set in the State Urban Affairs office.

Law said he intends to oppose the proposal to locate a new stadium for the Lions and Tigers sports teams on the Detroit riverfront west of Cobo Hall.

This proposal was called feasible by a study paid for by the Detroit Board of Commerce. Law said it is not feasible because of the expense involved. He said it would cost millions to relieve the crowded expressways in Detroit.

The Pontiac site is more relevant to population centers in the state, and its location would not create the massive traffic and parking problems that it would in downtown Detroit, Law said.

Teachers Put New Team in Pact Talks

BIRMINGHAM — The new Birmingham Education Association (BEA) negotiating team met twice last week with the board of education, the first sessions in more than two weeks.

At the first session Wednesday, the BEA submitted a preliminary list of teacher demands. Friday's meeting established ground rules for negotiation procedure.

The BEA team met all day Saturday and yesterday working on specific contract language and incorporating teacher demands into contract language and a formal package, for presentation at the next negotiating session.

The Birmingham Fire Department reported its monthly activity recently, revealing a $550,180 total in property endangerment and a $19,000 toll in building and contents loss during September's 34 fire runs.

The executive board of the 18th District Democratic Committee has endorsed the Vietnam Moratorium march and rally to be held in Birmingham Wednesday at 4 p.m.

"We urge all who are able to take part in the Birmingham march. It is vital that the President Nixon be made fully aware of the growing public disenchantment with government policies in Vietnam," said Allen Zemo, Democratic district chairman.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Miss Lola Belle Holmes, former FBI undercover agent, will speak on "The Revolution is Planned!" at Bloomfield Center Hall, 1565 Woodward, Oct. 23 at 8 p.m. From 1956-63, Miss Holmes was a member of the Communist party at the request of the FBI.

The talk by Miss Holmes is sponsored by the Greater Pontiac Support Your Local Police Committee formed to encourage local police personnel in their assignments.

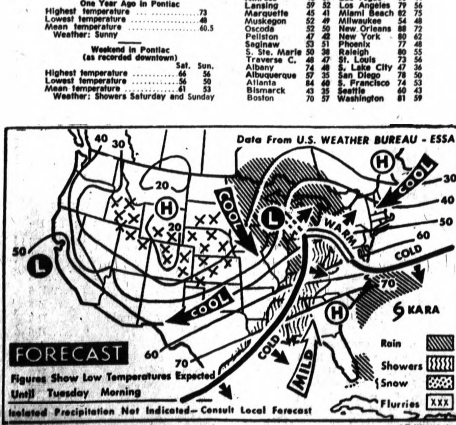

Tickets for Miss Holmes' talk are available in advance by writing Box 734, Pontiac, or may be purchased for $2 at the door.

State Time Issue Springs Up Again

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's annual time problem appears to be winding up again.

Last November, voters turned down a referendum which would have put the state on Daylight Savings Time along with the rest of the nation. A recount dug up widespread inaccuracies in the voting tally but did not change the results.

So in April, when New York and the rest of the Eastern Standard Zone moved their clocks ahead an hour, Michigan time remained the same, falling in line with the new times of Chicago and the Central Standard Zone.

Yesterday one Michigan lawmaker brought up the whole issue again. "I have introduced a constitutional amendment to the Legislature which, if it passes by a two-thirds vote, would be put on the ballot in November 1970, to let the voters decide again to put Michigan in step with the rest of the country," said Sen. Raymond Dzenzel of Detroit.

PETITION DRIVE

If the Legislature refuses to approve his amendment, the Detroit Democrat said his next move would be to gather 300,000 signatures in a petition drive for a time referendum.

Dzenzel indicated he expected support from businessmen and suburban communities who value the extra hour of evening daylight.

He would have until the end of December for his referendum effort, since the petitions have to be presented to the Legislature 10 days before the start of the 1970 session.

Charles Walter Hagen

In the death of WALTER HAGEN at 76, golfdom lost one of its most eminent practitioners and colorful personalities.

Probably the game's greatest shotmaker whose sartorial splendor matched his links prowess, "the Haig's" competitive star ascended when at 21 he captured his first U.S. Open championship, and repeated the feat five years later. Additionally, he collected a string of tournament victories that included four British Opens, the same number of U.S. Western Opens and five Professional Golfers Association titles, four of them in a row.

HAGEN

Hagen scorned the accepted rules for athletic fitness, lavishly bestowing his estimated golf winnings of a million dollars on friends and followers as he made his convivial way through life, living and enjoying each day to the fullest.

A frequent golfing partner of presidents and kings, he aptly summed up his philosophy of life when he said, "I never wanted to be a millionaire, I just wanted to live like one."

HAGEN quit competitive golf in 1940 when "he just couldn't bear to shoot another 80." He retired 11 years ago to a small estate near Traverse City where for the past five years he fought a losing battle against throat cancer.

A multitude of friends and former galleryites mourn the passing of the man who opened country club doors to professional golfers and became a sports legend during his time. "The Haig" shot par for his course of life.

Inflation Sets Clock Back

There is not much that ordinary Americans can do to fight inflation, beyond voting down bond issues—a resort that is ultimately injurious to society—or writing their congressmen.

They can, of course, refuse to pay high prices for goods or services that are not absolute necessities.

But in this age of affluence, few things are not considered necessities. For many families, two cars have become the essential minimum. Few people, even on the tightest budget, deprive themselves of a television set.

Or Americans could bank what excess money they have each month, earning interest on their savings while awaiting the day when prices come down, or at least stabilize. This would take some heat off the economy.

But working against this is the conviction that prices will never be lower than they are today. Thus it is better to spend now. Better yet—borrow now, even with high interest rates, for the debt you take on today will be paid off with cheaper dollars tomorrow.

There is another defense against inflation, and this is the one that more and more Americans are being forced to adopt: to fight fire with fire; to beat inflation at its own game by bringing in more income, either by negotiating higher wages (thus fueling inflation), by moonlighting on a second job, by adding additional bread winners to the family, or by a combination of the three.

A team of financial writers recently epitomized the current socio-economic phenomenon with the assertion: "Our society, thanks to inflation, seems to be coming full circle back to the 19th century and the burden of work from which the social reformers thought they had delivered us."

The worries expressed by sociologists only a few years ago about what Americans were going to do with all their leisure time when automation took over and the three-day work week became the norm would seem to have been a bit premature.

South Korea's Economy Is Booming

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The current stir in South Korea over President Park Chung Hee's steamroller move for a constitutional amendment to allow him to serve beyond the present eight-year limit reminds the western world that Korean democracy is still highly imperfect.

But these imperfections should not cast too large a shadow over the recent gains in political stability and, particularly, economic development. The economy's growth is startling.

In 1961, eight years after the armistice in the costly Korean war, the country—nearly barren of natural resources—exported just $41 million worth of goods and materials. Last year the total was $500 million; this year it should reach $700 million and in 1970 the estimate for exports is a flat $1 billion. Moreover, its imports already are approaching $1 billion annually and South Korea is perhaps the 20th largest market in the world.

PER CAPITA INCOME

Its 1968 growth was 13.1 per cent. By 1971 it is expected to have doubled the 1966 industrial level, which itself was twice that of 1961. Per capita income, still a painfully low $140 a year, could bound up by a third in the next two years.

Fed by stability and growth, a mood of rising self-confidence runs through the tough South Korean people today and it has proved infectious.

Foreign capital is being attracted on an increasing scale. In 1968 the inflow was almost $1.4 billion. The 1967 total of $278 million included $451 million in private loans, mostly from Japan and West Germany. America accounted for most of the $426.7 million in public loans.

Equity investments by foreigners are just now reaching sizable proportions ($92 million in 1968). A nation that once had to import all refined oil products today has two refineries in operation and two more building.

POWER PLANT

Petro-chemical derivatives (including synthetic alcohol), cars, trucks, agricultural machinery and pianos are being produced or soon will be. A big power plant will rise near Seoul.

It pains some simplistic observers of the world scene to see such progress in a nation whose democratic processes still leave something to be desired.

To the extent that they must accept it as a fact, these observers seek solace in ascribing the economic gains almost wholly to American largesse doled out to a "client state" (which presumably does U.S. bidding at the flick of a finger).

In Korea's case, the U.S. has been real enough. Since the 1953 armistice, the U.S. government has pumped in $3.6 billion in aid. But by 1971 South Korea is expected to end its dependence on U.S. government aid.

Economic growth rates in the 1970's are counted on to average 10 per cent a year, and foreign trade may triple the 1965 levels. More and more investment from abroad is expected. Self-reliance is the new watchword.

'Ship-Jumper' Hullabaloo Silly

"Pious" is the word for it. With a great wringing of hands and freshets of tears over "ethics," one minor Washington reporter has been creating a tizzy in the Senate over what the headlines call "Chinese ship jumpers."

DE TOLEDANO

What is the big "Chinese ship jumper" about?

usually escaping from harsh circumstances in Hong Kong or Taiwan, to settle permanently. They come to the United States and lead frugal, hard-working lives. According to the U.S. Immigration Service, they "must be clean" before they can ship aboard in Hong Kong or Taiwan, with neither criminal nor Communist records. They make good citizens.

Because they are in the country illegally, however, they are subject to deportation. To prevent this, they hire lawyers who in turn seek the help of men in Washington who know their way around Capitol Hill.

The next step is to get a friendly senator to introduce a private bill to allow the "Chinese ship jumpers" to remain in the country. These bills are never passed, but while they are technically under study, there can be no deportation.

This gives the illegal immigrant a chance to get on the quota of some country which has not used up all its visas. He then flies to that country and returns to the United States legally.

By inuendo, those who have been making a big issue of the "Chinese ship jumpers" have convinced at least part of the reading public here that large sums of money are changing hands and that the Senate has been subverted. The Senate Ethics Committee has been brought into the picture to investigate.

LITTLE DOUBT

There seems little doubt that the lawyers in these cases have charged their clients and that the Washington agents involved have been paid for their time. But the private bills have not contravened immigration policy. They have merely bought time for those caught in the coils of red tape to legalize their status.

There are, perhaps, a thousand Chinese a year who jump ship and find employment in the United States. They are needed labor. No laws are broken in helping them out. Why, then, the artificially created hullabaloo?

It is ridiculous that once here, these Chinese should have to go to the expense of flying to quota-heavy countries, applying at U.S. consulates for entry visas, and then flying back. It could all be done administratively.

Original Big Spender Was 'Diamond Jim'

Jackie Gleason will play "Diamond Jim Brady," for film producer Joe Levine. If he doesn't lose too much weight that is.

Half a century after his death, Brady remains the American archetype of the opulent spender and flashy bon vivant. He bet big, entertained like a maharajah, and ate like—well, like Gleason once did.

Generally forgotten is that Diamond Jim was a salesman. He hustled railroad cars for the Pressed Steel Car Co., working on a commission.

If reincarnated, he would find things a little different around Pressed Steel today. It evolved into U.S. Industries some years ago and now is a billion-dollar diversified corporation. In addition to railroad cars, Diamond Jim might be asked to sell furniture, stereo sets, speed boats, fashion textiles.

He'd be one of more than 40 U.S. managers who are millionaires. His swashbuckling would come to the immediate attention of J. John Billera, president of the conglomerate—a man who does not wear diamonds or have a girl named Lillian Russell.

Brady wouldn't like it. Neither would Gleason.

Dwight D. Eisenhower would have been 79 this week. Five hundred of his old friends in all fields of endeavor will gather in Washington tomorrow for a dinner arranged by the Tribute to a Grateful Nation Committee.

A prime objective is the raising of funds for the development of Eisenhower College, a coeducational liberal arts institute located in Seneca Falls, N.Y. It is now in its second year. Congress has appropriated a $5-million matching gift in tribute to the general, to create a "distinguished and permanent living memorial to his life and deeds."

When the general and his good friend Bob Hope attended the groundbreaking ceremonies at Seneca Falls a few years ago, he said: "This is an honor that will be prized by me every day of my life, for I can think of no greater monument to any man than a college bearing his name."

Answers Recent Letter About Adult Education

A letter from "Second Time Dropout" indicated that his community adult education program required that he go to full-time day school in order to graduate. In addition he stated his school would not issue a diploma after he had been out five years. Neither of these statements is true in our adult education programs.

Schools in this area will issue diplomas to adults regardless of the length of time they have been away from school. Adults only need to complete missing credits for graduation. Many adult programs offer day classes exclusively for adults who may take a part-time or full-time load.

New evidence shows smokers are also more apt to have periodontal (gum) diseases and tooth loss. Just having a child as concerned as you should be enough to make them quit, but it can be a very hard habit to break. Remember that if you're ever tempted to smoke yourself. And good luck with your parents.

Man Tackles Giants Over Patent Claims

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK — Who is Peter James, the man who has a $2-billion suit pending against puter data services. Telephone companies, he states, are unknowingly subsidizing AT&T activities outside its regulated monopoly area.

James claims that with its enormous financial power, AT&T can frustrate competition and thwart the innovation that sometimes results in better products and lower prices.

James claims that his ultimate goal is to see his corporation grow, and that he is in the market to acquire other corporations. At the same time, however, he concedes he is willing to listen to acquisition offers.

Even, he says, from AT&T and IBM.

He is balding, somewhat paunchy, 36-year-old father of five children, a scripture-quoting southern Baptist, stolid and tenacious in his business affairs.

James was the ninth of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. James C. James, a scripture-quoting southern Baptist, stolid and tenacious in his business affairs.

Education and experience: Bachelor of science in economics from Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, law degree based in Belleville, Md., which reported its first patent in the six months ended April 30—some $43,000.

The politician: Announced candidate for the governorship of Maryland. "Having reached a significant plateau in business," he said, "I am now looking for a new challenge." Calls himself a progressive Republican.

The patent holder: Possessor of a basic patent—No. 3,381,276—covering a concept that permits two of the great technological advances of mankind, the computer and the telephone, to communicate with each other.

The plaintiff: He claims that AT&T, IBM, Western Electric, Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. and at least 200 other firms should be paying him royalties for their telephone computer communications devices and concepts.

Also figuring in the investigation are weapons Turner said he got from the Kansas City and Fort Bliss, Tex., Police Departments.

Turner has already testified he disassembled some of the weapons for parts, destroyed others, sold "the cream of the crop" to a North Carolina gun dealer, pocketed the money and did not mention it in his 1968 income tax return.

MEDAL REVOKED
In separate development last Wednesday, the Army announced it had revoked its award of the Distinguished Service Medal to Turner in the face of "new information" that he did not merit the honor.

By using various combinations of letters and numerals, distinctive sounds are sent over telephone wires. At the other end, a translator decodes the message to make it understandable to the computer.

Salaries of computer operators directly to the computer. Small companies can maintain their records on computers miles away. Housewives can order merchandise merely by pressing buttons on their telephones.

COULD BE CHEAPER
So convinced is he of the possibilities of applying computer technology to problems that he believes he could reduce government expenditures 30 percent and still improve the quality of services—if he is elected.

Sometimes James' story leaves listeners incredulous. At AT&T might have considered James a great on his elephant hide, its approach being that its claims had no validity.

This has not deterred James, who has another quest in regard to AT&T. He wants the regulatory bodies in Washington to decide where AT&T's activities should end and his begin.

AT&T MONOPOLY
AT&T, he states, is a regulated monopoly granted competition-free rights to provide telephone service rather than com-

SONORA, Calif. (AP) — Tulumene County sheriff's investigators have identified a body found in a car trunk as

Marvin Major, 38, had shot himself with a rifle after trying unsuccessfully to commit suicide by carbon monoxide poisoning, Sheriff Miller Sardella said. Major, a former mental patient, once wrote a letter to Peggy Lennon proposing marriage.

The Los Angeles police department had issued a first-degree murder warrant for him 10 days after William Herbert Lennon, 54, was shot and killed at the Marina Del Rey Golf Range Aug. 12.

The car containing the body was spotted Saturday by two hunters in a patch of brush off a logging road 24 miles east of here.

Identification was completed Sunday through a fingerprint check.

Papers found in Major's car included a letter to Peggy Lennon and a large number of newspaper and magazine clippings about the Lennon Sisters and members of their family, Coroner Ray Antonini reported.

Among papers found was a letter addressed "to whom it may concern" in which Major said "I shot Bill Lennon," Antonini added.

Sherriff Sardella said Major apparently climbed into the trunk and committed suicide a week ago, probably Oct. 5, the date of the last letter.

The name Cecil W. H. Young of Alameda was found on the dead man's driver's license. Major was known to have used the aliases Chet Young and C. W. Young.

Sardella said pictures furnished by Los Angeles police aided in the identification, and a ballistics check on the rifle used in the suicide established it as the weapon used to kill Lennon.

The 1964 German measles epidemic, the greatest in a generation, has killed an estimated 10 million Americans.

Successful Investing

Yet with all these bullish developments share price dropped two points following the auction. If your temperament is such that the erratic action of the stock market is more acceptable than the unpredictable behavior of taxes and taxes then I would endorse the change.

I'm a greenhorn at investing but would like to put $200 a month into stocks. My first investment, Chabourn Inc., was made a week ago. What is your opinion on this company? — T.B.

A. Chabourn's management has estimated that results for the year ended July 31 were up sharply. Sales are projected at $27 million, an increase from $24 million in 1968. The pace of acquisition shows no sign of abating. Acquired companies have fallen into major categories: yarn consumers and yarn producers. Additional purchases in the 13-14 range are suggested.

Chicago Police Head, Turner Testify Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's wide-ranging probe into military graft turned again today to the police. James C. Turner, the Army's former provost marshal charged with using his position to improperly obtain confiscated guns from civilian police departments.

Along with Turner, the Senate investigations subcommittee scheduled testimony from Chicago Police Supt. James Conlik, who said last week the retired general had lied when claiming the guns were personally given to him for his personal use.

Conlik Had Said Turner Told Him at the Time He Wanted the Weapons for Army Training and Museum Display and Signed Receipts Stating They Would Be Destroyed When No Longer of Use to the Service.

Conlik's remarks followed earlier testimony by Turner that Chicago Police Supt. James Conlik, who said last week the retired general had lied when claiming the guns were personally given to him for his personal use.

TURNER'S TALE
They were going to destroy them and they gave them to me personally. Turner told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Turner, who was appointed chief U.S. Marshal before he was forced to resign last month in the face of the impending Senate hearings, went to Chicago last year to represent the Army chief of staff during the rioting.

Also figuring in the investigation are weapons Turner said he got from the Kansas City and Fort Bliss, Tex., Police Departments.

Turner has already testified he disassembled some of the weapons for parts, destroyed others, sold "the cream of the crop" to a North Carolina gun dealer, pocketed the money and did not mention it in his 1968 income tax return.

MEDAL REVOKED
In separate development last Wednesday, the Army announced it had revoked its award of the Distinguished Service Medal to Turner in the face of "new information" that he did not merit the honor.

Lawyer Unit Again Backs Haynsworth
WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth's nomination to the Supreme Court has been boosted by a second endorsement from the American Bar Association's Judicial Committee.

The influential committee, a group of 12 lawyers, announced in New York Sunday night it had respected Haynsworth's nomination in the light of conflict of interest charges and found no reason to change his earlier endorsement.

The exact vote was not disclosed. Committee Chairman Lawrence E. Walsh, noting the original report favoring Haynsworth had been unanimous, said only that a substantial majority voted to reaffirm the original finding. He testified at Senate Judiciary Committee hearings Sept. 18 the ABA considered Haynsworth to be "highly qualified."

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., a chief supporter of the nomination, said the continued approval of the bar committee "will be a tremendous boost to the confirmation of Judge Haynsworth" to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas.

"INCONSISTENT" POSITION

However, a leading critic of Haynsworth, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., maintained the outcome of the bar committee's reassessment "is not particularly surprising or unexpected, but I think it puts the bar association in a very unfortunate and inconsistent position."

The other victims were David Price and Wayne Dixon, both of Elkhardt.

West German Urges N-Unity

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Franz Josef Strauss, West Germany's finance minister, has renewed his appeal for Britain and France to pool nuclear arms.

He said at ceremonies dedicating the new Coliseum of South Carolina Sunday such a pooling would produce the core of an effective European atomic force.

Strauss, a former defense minister, also proposed that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization be transformed into an American-European defense grouping.

He said there is no room in Europe today "for a purely national defense policy. That is why in the long run we need a European defense organization."

Strauss said authority over European nuclear arms could be held by the president of a European federation.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday was a beautiful Indian summer day here. The second game of the World Series was on television. And 246 Long Island Railroad crewmen called in sick. Trains were delayed up to 45 minutes.

"They're out for the reasons best known to them personally," he said. "But nobody is acting in concert. There's no sinister reason behind it."
